Vers. 43. Shout joyfully] or sing: in Greek, rejoice. nations] or Gentiles. with his people] the Greek addeth this word with, which the Apostle alloweth in Rom. 15. 10. So, he followeth not us, Mar. 9. 38. is explained, he followeth not with us, Lu. 9. 49. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Land ye people's, the judgment of his people. It is an exhortatiō to the Gentiles, to sing praises unto God, for his mercy to thē & to the Jews; as the Apostle saith, That the Gentiles might glorify God for mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name. And again he saith, Rejoice ye Gentiles with his people, Rom. 15. 9, 10. the blood of his servants] in Greek, of his sons. So in Rev. 19. 1, 2. much people in heaven say All 〈...〉, and glorify God, for judging the great Whore, and avenging the blood of his servants at her hand: meaning the blood that was shed, as in Psal. 79. 10. make atonement] and so be reconciled unto: in Greek, will purge the land, to wit, from the sin and uncleanness thereof; as the high Priest on Atonement day did make atonement for the holy place, because of the uncleanness of the sons of Israel, and because of their transgressions, in all their sins, Lev. 16. 16. So it is a prophesy of grace in Christ, who should make expiation for his Church and people; for him God fore-ordained to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, Rom. 3. 25. for his people] the Greek translath it, the land of his people: the Chaldee better, for his land and for his people, speaking according to the types of old; where the Land of Canaan was the inheritance, the people of Israel the heirs, that was called, the Lord's land, Hos. 9. 3. and they the Lord's people.

Vers. 44. Moses came] the Greek addeth, unto the people; and Jonathan in his Targum addeth, from the tabernacle the house of doctrine. this song] in Greek, this Law, as in v. 46. So Asaph called his song, a Law, Psal. 78. 1. Hosheah] in Greek, Jesus: elsewhere called after the Hebrew, Joshua: see Num. 13. 17. and Deut. 31. 14, 19.

Vers. 46. set your heart] that is, your hearts; as, harden not your heart, Ps. 95. 8. is interpreted, your hearts, Heb. 3. 8. in Greek, attend with your heart. It meaneth a diligent consideration & application, which elsewhere God explaineth thus, Behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall show thee, Ezek. 40. 4. and 44. 5.

Vers. 47. a vain word] or, a vain thing; that in doing thereof you should lose your labor; but in keeping it, there is great reward, Psal. 19. 12. your life] so Paul saith, Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the Law, that the man which doth those things shall live by them, Rom. 10. 5, 6. where he opposeth it to the righteousness of faith. And by life is meant eternal life, as our Savior answered the Lawyer, asking what he should do to inherit eternal life, &c. Do this and thou shalt live, Luk. 10. 25,—28.

Vers. 48. in that self same day] Hebr. in the body (or strength) of this day. See this phrase in Gen. 7. 13. and 17. 23.

Vers. 49. Nebo] the performance of this commandment, see in Deut. 34. 1. &c. See also Num. 27. 12.

Vers. 50. unto thy people's] thy godly forefathers: in Greek, thy people. See the Annotations on Gen. 25. 8. mount Hor] whereof see Numb. 20. 23. &c.

Vers. 51. trespassed] in Greek, disobeyed my word. Of this trespass, see Num. 20. 10, 11, 12. Here Moses at his death maketh a commemoration of his sin, for an acknowledgment of God's justice against him, and a warning to all people, not to disobey by his example. Meribah] or, contention of Cadesh: so the Greek translateth it, contradiction.

Vers. 52. before thee] or, over against thee, that is, a far off, for so this phrase often signifieth, as is noted on Numb. 2. 2. So that may be said here of Moses, which Paul speaketh of the godly fathers, These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and saluted them, &c. Heb. 11. 13.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Moses blessing Israel before his death, showeth the Majesty of God, and his love to the people, in giving them his Law, and guiding them thorough the wilderness. 6 The blessing of Reuben; 7 Of Judah; 8 Of Levi; 12 Of Benjamin; 13 Of Joseph; 18 Of Zebulon and Issachar; 20 Of Gad; 22 Of Dan; 23 Of Naphtali; 24 and of Aser. 26 The excellency of God, and of Israel under his protection, who should dwell in a fruitful land, and through his help subdue their enemies.

〈 in non-Latin alphabet 〉

AND this is the blessing wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the sons of Israel, before his death. And he said, Jehovah came from Sinai, and rose up from Seir unto them; he shined forth from mount Pharan, and he came with ten thousands of Saints: from his right hand the fire of the Law for them. Yea, the lover of the people's, all his Saints, are in thine hand, and they sate down at thy feet, everyone shall receive of thy words. Moses commanded us a Law, the inheritance of the Church of Jacob. And he was in Ieshurun a King when the heads of the people gathered themselves together, the tribes of Israel.

Let Reuben live, and not die, and his men be a number.

And this (is the blessing) of Judah: and he said, Hear, Jehovah, the voice of Judah, and unto his people bring thou him: his hands be enough for him, and an help from his distressers be thou.

And of Levi he said, Thy Thummim and thy Vrim, with the man thy gracious saint, whom thou temptedst in Massah, contendedst with him at the waters of Meribah. Who said of his father, and of his mother, I respect him not, and his brethren he acknowledgeth not, and his sons he knoweth not, for they observe thy saying, and keep thy Covenant. They shall teach thy judgments unto Jacob, and thy Law unto Israel: they shall put incense in thy nostrill, and the whole burnt-sacrifice upon thine Altar. Bless, O Jehovah, his power, and the work of his hands favourably accept thou: smite thorough the loins of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not again.

Of Benjamin he said, The beloved of Jehovah shall dwell in confident safety by him: he shall cover him all the day, and between his shoulders he shall dwell.

And of Joseph he said, Blessed of Jehovah be his land: for the precious things of the heavens, for the dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath. And for the precious things, the revenues of the Sun; and for the precious things, the thrusting forth of the Moons; And for the chief things of the ancient mountains; and for the precious things of the everlasting hills. And for the precious things of the earth, and the plenty thereof; and the favorable acceptance of him that dwelt in the bramble-bush, let it come on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of the head of the separated among his brethren. His glory (be like) the firstling of his bullock, and his horns the horns of an Unicorn: with them he shall push the people's together, to the ends of the land; and they are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and they are the thousands of Manasseh.

And of Zebulon he said, Rejoice Zebulon in thy going out, and Issachar in thy tents. They shall call the people's to the mountain, there they shall sacrifice the sacrifices of Justice, 19 for they shall suck the abundance of the seas, and treasures hid in the sand.

And of Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlargeth Gad; as a courageous Lyon he dwelleth and teareth the arm with the crown of the head. And he provided the first part for him, because there in a portion of the Law-giver was he protected; and he came with the heads of the people, he did the justice of Jehovah, and his judgments with Israel.

And of Dan he said, Dan is a renting Lions whelp, he shall leap from Bashan.

And of Naphtali he said, Naphtali satisfied with favorable acceptation, and full with the blessing of Jehovah, possess thou the Sea and the South.

And of Aser he said, Blessed with sons be Aser, let him be favourably accepted of his brethren, and dipping his foot in oil. Iron and brass thy shoes, and as thy days thy strength.

There is none like God, Ieshurun, who rideth upon the heavens for thy help, and in his excellency on the skies. The God of antiquity is thy mansion, and underneath are the arms of eternity, and he will thrust out the enemy from before thee, and will say destroy. And Israel shall dwell in confident safety alone, the fountain of Jacob, upon a land of corn and new wine, also his heavens shall drop down dew. O happy art thou Israel! who is like thee ô people? Saved by Jehovah the shield of thy help, and whose sword is thy excellency, and thine enemies shall falsely deny unto thee, and thou shalt tread upon their high places.

Annotations.

〈 in non-Latin alphabet 〉

Here beginneth the 54. and last Section, or Lecture of the Law: see Gen. 6. 9.

The man of God] which the Chaldee expoundeth, the Prophet of the Lord. So Samuel is called a man of God, 1 Sam. 9. 6, 7. and in v. 9. he is also called a Seer, and this is added, he that is now (called) a Prophet, was before time called a Seer. So these three names are one: though a man of God is so named in respect of his divine calling to the ministry (wherefore the minister of the New Testament is also called, a man of God, 1 Tim. 6. 11. 2 Tim. 3. 17.) a Seer is in respect of the Visions which they saw, Isaiah 1. 1. and a Prophet, for uttering the things seen and taught of God. See Gen. 20. 7. Exod. 7. 1.

Vers. 2. from Sinai] or, as the Greek translateth it, unto Sinai: for the Hebrew Min, which usually signifieth From, is sometime put for unto, by the interpretation of the Holy Ghost himself, as, from Baale of Judah, 2 Sam. 6. 2. is by another Prophet explained to Baalah, 1 Chron. 13. 6. So the Deliverer shall come from (or out of) Zion, Rom. 11. 26. is the same that he shall come unto Zion, Isaiah 59. 20. Min hashamajim, from heaven, 2 Chron. 6. 21. is El hashamajim, unto (or in) heaven, 1 King. 8. 30. Thus Mikkedem is to the East, or Eastward, Gen. 13. 11. Mitsts•phon is Northward, 1 Sam. 14. 5. and sundry the like. Sinai is a mountain in Arabia, Gal. 4. 25. where God gave his Law, Exod. 19. from (or out of) that mountain, God came unto Israel, and (as the Chaldee interpreteth) was revealed there unto them; and from thence came with his people to conduct them towards Canaan. Or came unto Sinai, and to his people there. And this is the first chief blessing unto Israel, God's Law, Tabernacle, Statutes, and Iudgments given them at Sinai: after which he called them to journey towards the Land of promise, Deut. 2. 6, 7. rose up] as the Sun ariseth; for of that rising the Hebrew word is properly used. The Chaldee translateth it, the brightness of his glory from Seir appeared unto us. So Isaiah prophesying grace to the Church, saith, The glory of Jehovah is risen (as the Sun) upon thee. And of the heavenly Jerusalem which Christ hath built, it is said, The City hath no need of the Sun, neither of the Moon to shine in it; for the glory of God doth lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof, Rev. 21. 23. from Seir] the mountain of the Edomites, Deut. 2. 4. 5. As Israel compassed Edoms land, they were stung with fiery serpents for their murmuring: then God appointed the Brazen serpent (a figure of Christ) to be set up to heal them, Num. 21 4.—9. And here was a second degree of grace, whereby God shined unto them, as he doth unto us by his Gospel, after we have been under the Schoolmaster of his Law, Rom. 7. 4,—25. Gal. 3. 23, 24, 26. unto them] or, unto him, meaning Israel; therefore the Chaldee expoundeth it, unto us. shined forth] or, shined bright and clear, as the Sun shineth in his strength. This word is used for the clear manifestation of God's power, in saving his people, or punishing their enemies, Psal. 82. and 94. 1. and 50. 2. The Greek here translateth, he hastened from mount Pharan; the Chaldee, he was revealed in his might upon mount Paran. Pharan] or Paran, the name of a mount, and of the wilderness [unspec] of the Ishmaelites, Gen. 21. 21. thorough which Israel travelled, Num. 10. 12. Neere it, Moses by the Spirit of God explained the law more clearly, & repeated this book of Deuteron. Deut. 1. 1, &c. So the Prophet after speaketh, the Holy one (came) from mount Pharan Selah, Habak. 3. 3. Some of the Hebrews understand these things otherwise thus, He rose up from Seir unto them, that is, to the sons of Esau, that they might receive the Law, but they would not. From thence he went to the sons of Ishmael, that they might receive it, but they would not. And then he came unto Israel. R. Sol. Rashi on Deut. 33. So Jonathan in his Targum on this place, and R. Eliezer in Pirkei, chap. 41. But unto us it showeth the third degree of God's grace, who after we are come unto Christ by faith, doth sanctify us by his Spirit, informing us in his truth and ways, and so prepareth us to enter into his heavenly rest, as by Moses he prepared Israel to enter into the Land of Canaan, Rom. 8. 2, 3,—11. Gal. 3. 2, 14. and 4. 6. and 5. 16, 18, of Saints] Hebr. of sanctity; meaning spirits of sanctity, which Jonathan in his Targum expoundeth, holy Angels. So Stephen saith, that Israel received the Law by thy disposition of Angels, Act. 7. 53. and Paul calleth the Law, the word spoken by Angels, Heb. 2. 2. So we by grace in Christ are come to ten thousands of Angels, Heb. 12. 22. which are all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation, Heb. 1. 14. Compare Psal. 68. 18. Or by Saints we may understand the Israelites, (as in v. 3.) with whom, or for whom God came from Sinai. from his right hand] to wit, went, or, at his right hand was. the fire of the Law] or, of the ordinance; Hebr. Esh dath (of which word Dath, the Greeks borrowed their word Tatto, to order, or ordain the Legal fire, or the fiery Law) and it is so called, because the Lord spake those words out of the midst of the fire, Deut. 5. 22. and to show the nature and effect of the Law, which is like fire, Ier. 23. 29. The Greek translateth it, Angels Angels with him: the Chaldee thus, his right hand wrote out of the midst of fire, the Law he gave unto us. Answerable to this Legal fire is that fire of the Law of the Spirit, which was given with cloven tongues like fire, Act. 2. 3, 4. The Hebrews say by tradition, that the Law appeared, written with black fire upon white fire, before the Lord. R. Moses Gerundens. and Sol. Rashi on Deut. 33. which seemeth to be either mystical or fabulous. Unto us the fire of the Law is the Spirit of God, whiles we being baptized with the holy Spirit, and with fire, Matth. 3. 11. are by the Law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus, made free from the Law of sin and death, Rom. 8. 2.

Vers. 3. Yea the lover of the people's] that is, yea (or certainly) he loveth, or thou (O God) lovest the people's, or protectest them. The Hebrew Chobeb signifieth a loving embracing, or hiding, as in the bosom; and so implieth Love and Protection. And the people's are meant of the tribes of Israel, as in Judge. 5. 14. after thee Benjamin, among thy people's; and in Act. 4. 27. the people's of Israel. The Greek translatheth, And he spared his people: the Chaldee, yea, he loved them for tribes, that is, of his love chose and disposed them to be tribes. It may imply also the strangers converted unto God. And now in Christ there is neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free, for we are all one in him, Gal. 3. 28. all his Saints that is, the Saints of Israel, as the Chaldee expoundeth, all the Saints of the house of Israel. Or, the Saints of God, as in Psal. 34. 10. Fear Jehovah ye his Saints. So his Saints may be used for thy Saints; as his commandments, Dan. 9. 4. for thy commandments: see the notes on Deut. 5. 10. in thine hand] in thy power and custody, under thy guidance, care, and protection. Hand is often for power: so the Chaldee here translatheth, with power he brought them out of Egypt: and in the hand, is under the guidance and direction, Num. 4. 28, 33. so the Greek here translatheth, and all the sanctified ones are under thine hand. It noteth the safety of God's people, as Christ saith of his sheep, none shall pluck them out of mine hand, my Father which gave them me is greater than all, and none is able to pluck them out of my fathers hand, John. 10. 28, 29. sate down] or, were set down, were joined: the Hebrew word T ⟨...⟩ here used, is not found else-where; but after the Arabic, it signifieth to sit down; and the Greek word Thake to sit, seemeth to be borrowed of it. And it hath reference here to the Israelites, abiding at the foot of mount Sinai, to receive the Law, Exod. 19. and to the manner of Disciples sitting at their Masters feet, to be taught; as Paul saith, he was brought up at the feet of Gamaliel, Act. 22. 3. The Greek translatheth, and they are under thee: the Chaldee, and they were led under thy cloud; respecting the guidance of Israel thorough the wilderness, Num. 10. 1, 12. Other Hebrews refer it to the people's coming into the Sanctuary, to learn God's commandments, for that is called the footstool of his feet, (Psalms 99. 5. Ezek. 43. 7.) Chazkuni on Deut. 33. everyone shall receive] or, he (speaking of the people) shall receive: which the Greek translatheth, he received: the Chaldee, they received.

Vers. 4. Moses commanded us] these are the words of the people, therefore Jonathan in his Targum prefixeth, The sons of Israel said, Moses commanded, &c. The Law was first and properly of God; but being given by Moses ministry, it is called The Law of the Lord by the hand of Moses, 2 Chron. 34. 14. and thereupon the Law of Moses, 2 King. 14. 6. La. 24. 44. John. 7. 23. 1. Cor. 9. 9. And the particular things commanded of God in the Law, are said to be commanded by Moses, Mar. 1. 44. and 10. ⟨◇⟩. The Scripture it self openeth this phrase, for that which in 2 King. 21. 8. is written, Moses commanded them, is in 2 Chron. 33. 8. expounded, by the hand of Moses. inheritance] or, possession, to have and enjoy it to them and their posterity, as a thing of worth and excellency. Hereupon David saith, Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage forever, for they are the joy of mine heart, Psal. 119. 111. So men are said to inherit the premises, Heb. 6. 12. to inherit the blessing, Heb. 12. 17. 1 Pet. 3. 9. to inherit eternal life and salvation, Mat. 19. 29. Heb. 1. 14. the Church] or congregation; in Greek, the Synagogue of Jacob, that is, of the posterity of Jacob, the twelve tribes; as Jonathan in his Targum saith, The Church of the tribes of Jacob.

Vers. 5. he was] Moses was in Iesurun a King; which the Greek translatheth, a Prince. So the Hebrews (as Chazkuni on this place) say, Moses was the King: and Maimonides in Misn. in Beth habchirah, chap. 6. sect. 11. Moses our master was a King. So Princes are called Kings, in Psal. 105. 30. Ier. 19. 3. Or it may be understood of God himself, that he was their King, as 1 Sam. 12. 12. Ieshurun] in the Chaldee, Israel; see Deut. 32. 15. the heads] that is, the chief, the Governors, together with the people, as was at the giving of the Law, Exod. 19. 7,—17.

Vers. 6. Let Reuben live] the Chaldee addeth, to life eternal. This blessing may respect Reuben's sin with his fathers Concubine, for which he lost his birthright of his father, Gen. 35. 22. and 49. 4. and the sin of the Princes of that tribe, which rebelled with Korah, Num. 16. 1. &c. But mercy is here promised in Christ, that he should live before God among his brethren. So he went armed before them against the Canaanites, Ios. 4. 12. and not die] the Chaldee expounds it, and let him not die the second death; (by which name the Scripture calleth eternal damnation, Revel. 20. 6. 14.) So Jonathan in his Targum paraphraseth, Let Reuben live in this world, and not die with the death wherewith the wicked shall die in the world that is to come. It is very usual in the Scripture, to set down things of importance and earnestness, by affirmation of the one part, and denial of the other; as in Isaiah 38. 1. thou shalt die and not live, Num. 4. 14. that they may live & not die, Ps. 118. 17. I shall not die but live, Gen. 43. ׀ . that we may live and not die, Ier. 20. 14. Cursed be the day, &c. Let not that day be blessed, 1 John. 2. 27. it is true, and is not lying, 1 John. 2. 4. he is a liar, and the truth is not in him, John. 1. 20. he confessed and denied not, 1 Sam. 1. 11. and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, Deut. 9. 7. Remember, forget not, Deut. 32. 7. O people foolish, and not wise; and many the like. a number] by a number may be understood few: as in Deut. 4. 27. Gen. 34 30. men of number is a few men, so one numbered; and in Isaiah 10. 19. a number meaneth few; and then the former denial not, is again to be repeated to this sense, and his men be not few in number. Examples of such understanding the word not are shown in the Annotations upon Num. 4. 15. Otherwise, by a number is meant a great number; as the Greek translath, many in number. Onkelos the Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth it, and let his sons receive their inheritance by their number: and Jonathan paraphraseth, Let his young men be numbered with the young men of his brethren of the house of Israel.

Vers. 7. the blessing of Judah] the word blessing is to be understood from v. 1. And Jonathan in his Targum supplieth it. So doth the Scripture often, as in 1 King. 22. 24. which way went the spirit? the word way is supplied from 2 Chron. 18. 23. and sundry the like, as is noted on Ger. 4. 20. and 24. 33. Here Judah the fourth brother is in the second place, for the honor of the kingdom which was to be in this tribe, Gen. 4. 9. and he marched foremost of all the tribes, Num. 10. 14. so he is set before Levi here, (as he is also by his precious stone, in Revel. 21. 19.) Simeon his name is quite omitted in this blessing, for by his sin of old he lost his honor, and was to be scattered in Israel, Gen. 49. 5. 7. and his posterity for their sin in the wilderness were greatly diminished, that being at the first muster fifty nine thousand and three hundred men, Num. 1. he was at the latter muster but twenty two thousand and two hundred, Num. 26. 14. Neither were there any Judges of his tribe, as God raised up of sundry others, Judge. 2. 16. &c. Yet forasmuch as Simeons inheritance was in the midst of the inheritance of the sons of Judah, Ios. 19. 1. and he went with his brother Judah to fight against the Canaanites, Judge. 1. 3. it is thought that his blessing was implied in Judah's; and so Jonathan in his Targum coupleth Simeon with Judah, in this place. Howbeit the Greek in many copies join Simeon with Reuben in the former blessing thus; Let Reuben live and not die, and let Simeon be many in number. the voice] when he prayeth, as the Chaldee translath, Receive, O Lord, the prayer of Judah, when he goeth forth to war. This blessing is to be compared with Jacob's, who likeneth Judah to a Lions whelp, gone up from the prey, &c. Gen. 49. 9. and it had accomplishment in David, who was of Judah, and a fighter of the Lord's battles; in which he often prayed, as his Psalms testify. Likewise in Abijah and the Jews against Israel, 2 Chron. 13. 14,—18. in Asa, warring against the Ethiopians, 2 Chron. 14. 11, 12, 13. in Jehoshaphat fighting against the Ammonites, 2 Chron. 20. 5, 6,—18. in Hezekiah against the Assyrians, 2 Chron. 32. 20, 21, 22. and others. But chiefly in Christ, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, Revel. 5. 5. him God did hear always, John. 11. 42. bring thou him] the Chaldee addeth, in peace; and Targum Jonathan addeth, from the battle in peace. This had accomplishment, as otherwise, so in David's return to his people and kingdom, 2 Sam. 19. 11,—15. and Christ's return unto Israel, whereof see Rom. 11. 26,—31. be enough for him] when he fighteth, as God taught David's hands to war, and his fingers to fight, Psalms 144. 1. and girded him with strength to battle, 2 Sam. 22. 35, 40. The Greek translateth, judge for him; the Chaldee. execute vengeance for him on them that hate him. So in Gen. 49. 8. thine hand (Judah) shall be in the neck of thine enemies. be thou] for by his own strength no man shall prevail, 1 Sam. 2. 9. Therefore David often acknowledged God to be his helper, Psalms 28. 7. and 40. 17. and 54. 4. and 63. 7. and 118. 7. &c.

Vers. 8. of Levi] or, unto Levi, that is, the tribe or posterity of Levi: as in Targum Jonathan it is said, And Moses the Prophet blessed the tribe of Levi, and said. thy Thummim and thy Vrim] by interpretation, thy perfections and thy Lights: these were mysteries put into the high Priests breast-plate; whereof see the Annotations on Exod. 28. 30. so they signify here the graces and office of the Priesthood, which was committed to Aaron and his seed, till Christ came, who had the Priest-hood forever, after a more excellent order, Heb. 6. 20. And the speech here may be directed unto God, who gave these mysteries to the Priest: and so the Chaldee explaineth it, Thummim & Vrim thou didst put upon the man that was found holy before thee: and Sol. Rashi saith, He speaketh as to the Majesty of God. Or it may be spoken to the tribe of Levi, who had the Vrim and Thummim among them, but appropriate to one mā only, who was the high Priest, a figure of Christ. with the man] understand, be with the man, or, to the man, that is, they belong to him, with him they are, and so let them remain. thy gracious saint] thy merciful, pious, or holy one; or, of thy holy one: which title is given to God himself, (Ier. 3. 12.) to Christ, (Psal. 16. 10. with Act. 13. 35, 36, 37.) and to all godly men (Psal. 149. 5.) And here referring it to Aaron, or to Christ, the man thy holy one, may mean one thing, thy holy man, (as a man a Prince, in Exod. 2. 14.) or, if we read it, the man of thine holy one, it is meant the man of God: and in Psal. 106. 16. Aaron is called the Saint of the LORD. temptedst] or triedst. This word is sometime spoken of God, as he tempted Abraham, Gen. 22. 1. and the Israelites in the wilderness, Deut. 8. 2, 15, 16. Sometime of men who are said to have tempted God and Christ, Exod. 17. 2. 1 Cor. 10. 9. in Massah] or, in the temptation; a place so called because there Israel tempted God, Exod. 17. 7. or, with temptation, and so it is no proper name. contendedst] or strive•st, pleadedst: this also is sometime spoken of God, whose contending with men, is the blaming and punishing of them, Isaiah 49. 25. Job 10. 2. Ier. 2. 9. sometime of men's contending, as Israel did with the Lord at the waters of Meribah (or of Contention) Numb. 20. 13. By reason of this diversuse of these words, the understanding of this blessing is also divers, thus; Thy Thummim and thy Vrim (O God) be with the man thy gracious Saint, (Aaron and his seed) whom thou temptedst with temptation; contendedst with him (for his sin) at the waters of Meribah, Num. 20. 12, 13. Or, thy Thummim and thy Vrim (O Levi) be with (Aaron and his seed) the man of thy gracious (God) whom thou (with the other Israelites) temptedst in Massah, &c. Exod. 17. 2. Numb. 20. Or thus, Thy Thummim and thy Vrim (O Levi) is with (or •e longs unto) the man thy gracious Saint (Christ Jesus) whom thou temptedst in Massah, &c. 1 Cor. 10. 9. In this last sense, the weakness of the Levitical Priesthood is implied, which kept not Vrim and Thummim, but lost them at the captivity of Babylon, Ezra 2. 63. and it is not known that they ever had them more, until by Christ (our High Priest after the order of Melchizedek) they were restored by the Light and Truth of the Gospel. The Chaldee interpreteth it in Aaron's or Levies praise, Thummim and Vrim thou didst put upon the man (or clothedst with them the man) that was found holy before thee, whom thou temptedst with temptation, and he was perfect; thou provedst him at the waters of contention, and he was found faithful. This may seem not well to accord with the history in Num. 20. touching Aaron's person: yet the Hebrews (as Sol. Rashi on this place) say of the Levites, that they murmured not with the other murmurers. And of Levi God saith by his Prophet, My covenant was with him, life and peace, and I gave them to him for the fear where with he feared me, &c. Mal. 2. 5. And again, They kept his testimonies and the ordinance that he gave them, Psal. 99. 7. The Greek translateth, And of Levi he said, Give ye Levi his Manifest-ones and his Truth, (that is, his Vrim and his Thummim) to the holy man whom they tempted in temptation, they reviled him at the water of Contradiction. This interpretation may well be applied unto Christ also, as before is shown.

Vers. 9. who saith] or, who said. of his] or, unto his father, &c. I respect him not] I see not, or, look not upon him. The Greek translateth, That saith to his father and to his mother, I have not seen (or, I respect not) thee. This is meant either of the Priests continual duty, who by the Law, if his father, mother, brother, or child did die, he might not mourn for them, but carry himself as if he did not respect, know, or care for them; as is said of the High Priest, that was anointed and clothed with the ornaments, and had Vrim and Thummim upon his heart; for his father or for his mother he shall not be defiled, neither shall he go out of the Sanctuary, &c. Levite. 21. 11, 12. Neither might Aaron mourn for his sons, or E•azar and Ithamar for their brethren Nadab and Abihu that were slain, neither might they go out from the door of the Tabernacle, on pain of death, Lev. 10. 2,—7. For God would have them more to regard their function, and duty in his service, than any natural affection whatsoever. And herein Christ was figured, (unto whom this blessing chiefly belongeth) who when he was told, that his mother and his brethren stood without to speak with him, he answered, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? &c. whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother, Mat. 12. 46,—50. This may also have reference to the Levites fact, who being commanded or Moses, killed every man his brother, friend, neighbor, and son, that had sinned in making and worshipping the golden Calf, & so filled their hand (or consecrated themselves) unto the LORD, that he might give upon them a blessing, Exod. 32. 26,—29. acknowledgeth not] or, acknowledged not: the first respecteth the Law, Lev. 21. the other their fact, Exod. 32. To this latter the Chaldee referreth it, translating thus, Who had no compassion on his father, or on his mother, when they were guilty of judgment; and accepted not the faces (or persons) of his brother, or of his son. his sons] or, his son, that is, any of his sons or children: see the notes on Deut. 2. 33. knoweth not] or, knew not. Here knowledge is used for care or regard, as in Job 9. 21. knowing is opposed to disposing; and in 1 Thess. 5. 12. know them which labor among you, that is, regard them: and in Prov. 12. 10. a righteous man knoweth (that is, regardeth, or hath care of) the life of his beast. for they observe] that is, by Law are bound to observe, Levite. 21. or, they have observed in their practice, Exod. 32. The Greek translateth it singularly, He hath observed thine oracles, and kept thy covenant.

Vers. 10. They shall teach] or, Let them teach. As in v. 8. he mentioned their gifts and calling, in v. 9. their sanctification; so here he teacheth their administration in the Word, Prayer, and other ministerial duties. For it is said, They shall teach my people (the difference) between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean; and in controversy they shall stand in judgment, and they shall judge it according to my judgments &c. Ezek. 44. 23, 24. Compare also Levite. 10. 11. Deut. 17. 9, 10, 11. and 24. 8. and the commendation which God giveth of Levi, in Mal. 2. 6, 7. The Law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity. For the Priests lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the Law at his mouth, for he is the Angel of the LORD of Hosts. unto Jacob] by Jacob and Israel, are meant, all the posterity of Jacob, and the weak with the strong: for the Church in respect of her infirmity is called Jacob, Amos 7. 2. 5. 8. and for her valor by faith is surnamed Israel: see the Annotations on Gen. 32. 28. Thus Christ commanded Peter to feed both his Lambes and his Sheep, John. 21. 15, 16. incense] the sweet perfume which the Priests burnt daily upon the golden Altar; a figure of Christ's mediation with the prayers of the Saints, Revel. 8. 3. 4. See the notes on Exod. 30. This was the peculiar work of the Priests, wherefore it is written, It pertaineth not unto the Uzziah, to burn incense unto the Lord, but to the Priests, the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense, 2 Chron. 26. 18. in thy nostrill] or nose, that is, before the; or, as the Greek translateth, in thine anger: for the Hebrew Aph signifieth both Nose and Anger: and both agree well with the Priests work; for when God in anger sent a plague among the people, Aaron put incense in his censor, and made atonement for the people, so the plague was stayed, Num. 16. 46, 47, 48. the whole burnt-offering] Hebr. the Calil; whee of see Lev. 6. 22, 23. the Greek here translateth it the continual (oblation.) Hereby all other sacrifices are meant, which the Priests offered on the Lord's Altar, Levite. 1. and 2. and 3. wherein the work of Christ, offering himself for his Church, was figured.

Vers. 11. his power] so the Greek translateth, his strength; By power, is meant sometime an army of men, as Ezek. 37. 10. so here the first prayer is for a blessing upon the persons which administered, that they might be increased and strengthened in number and in knowledge. Wherefore the company of Levites is called an host or army, Num. 4. 3. &c. In this sense Maimonides (in treat. of the Release and Jubilee, chap. 13. sect. 12.) expoundeth it, saying, The Levites are separated from the ways of the world, they wage not war like the other Israelites, neither have they inheritance, &c. but they are the power (or army) of God, as it is written, Bless Lord his power. Sometime by power, riches and substance is meant, as in Deut. 8. 18. and so the Chaldee expoundeth it here. For whereas Levi had no inheritance among the tribes, but had the Lord, and his first-fruits, tithes, and offerings for their inheritance and livelihood, Num. 18. 20. 21. &c. Moses prayeth for a blessing on this means of theirs. work of his hands] all his administration, in doctrine, burning incense, sacrificing, &c. Compare Ezek. 43. 27. that rise against him] as Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, that rose up against Moses and Aaron, were all destroyed with their assistants, Num. 16.

Vers. 12. Of Benjamin] or, Unto Benjamin, who is blessed here before the other Tribes, and before his elder brother Joseph, because the lot of his inheritance was between the sons of Judah and the sons of Joseph; and Jerusalem (where the Levites after administered in the Temple) belonged to Benjamin, Ios. 18. 11. 28. And in the heavenly Jerusalem (the Church of Christ) the first foundation is a Jasper, which was Benjamins stone, Rev. 21. 19. Exod. 28. 30. And when the other Tribes fell away from the Kingdom of Judah, and Priesthood of Levi, Benjamin continued with them in the truth, 2 Chron. 11. 1. 3. 12, 13. Beloved] meaning the tribe of Benjamin, who as their father was beloved of Jacob, Gen. 44. 20. 22. 29. 30. so his posterity should be beloved of the Lord. shall dwell] or prayer-wise, let him dwell. inconfident safety] that is, boldly, securely, safely. by him] by the Lord, who would tender this little tribe, as Jacob tendered Benjamin, whom he kept at home with him, Gen. 42. 4. So Benjamins posterity dwelt in Jerusalem and the coasts thereabout, by the Temple of God. he shall cover him] or let him, meaning God, cover him: so the Greek translatheth, God overshadoweth him. The word meaneth a covering or protection from evil, as in Isaiah 4. 6. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he shall be a shield over him. all the day] or, every day; in Greek, all days, that is, continually and forever. his shoulders] that is, Benjamins; & by shoulders are meant the coasts of his land, as Num. 34. 11. the shoulder of the sea of Chinnereth is the side or coast thereof. So this is a prophesy, that the temple (wherein God dwelt amongst his people) should be built in Benjamins lot, and in the head or chief city, which was Jerusalem. he shall] that is, God shall dwell: so the Chaldee translatheth, and in his land the divine Majesty shall dwell. And when God had chosen mount Zion for his habitation, he said, This is my rest forever, here will I dwell, Psal. 132. 14.

Vers. 13. of Joseph] or, unto Joseph. He is next blessed, because the first birthright was derived unto him, 1 Chron. 5. 2. And his posterity were many and great in Israel, Ios. 17. 14,—18. his land] Joseph's inheritance in Canaan. And as the Land which the Lord curseth, yieldeth not fruit, or bringeth forth thorns and briars, Gen. 4. 11, 12. and 3. 17, 18. so the land which he blesseth, bringeth forth much and good increase, Psal. 65. 10,—14. The Hebrews say, There was not of all the inheritance of the tribes, a land so full of all good things as Joseph's was. Sol. Iarchion Deut. 33. for the precious things] or, with dainty fruits. Of this word, see the Annotations on Gen. 24. 53. of the heavens] which God by the influences and moisture of the heaven and air causeth the land to bring forth. And these were figures of spiritual blessings in heavenly things by Christ, whereby the barren nature of man is made fruitful. for the dew] or, by the dew, and rain which maketh the earth to fructify. So Isaac blessing Jacob, said, God give thee of the dew of the heavens, Gen. 27. 28. On the contrary, David said for a curse, ye mountains of Gilboa, let there be no dew, neither let there be rain upon you, 2 Sam. 1. 21. that coucheth beneath] or, that lieth under; whence waters spring out of the earth: so the Greek translatheth, of the deeps of the fountains beneath. Likewise the Chaldee, for the welling fountains and deeps that proceed from the deep places of the earth beneath. See Gen. 7. 11. and Deut. 8. 7. This is another mean of fruitfulness, as in Ezek. 31. 4. The waters made him great, the deep set him up on high, with her rivers running about his plants. And with this blessing Jacob blessed Joseph, in Gen. 49. 25. but Moses here enlargeth it.

Vers. 14. the revenues] that is, the fruits which by the warmth of the Sun are brought forth. It is said by the Hebrews, that Joseph's land lay open to the Sun, which made the fruits sweet. Sol. Rashi on Deut. 33. the thrusting forth of the Moons] that is, fruits which every Moon thrusteth forth, or causeth to grow every month: for all fruits grew not at once; in one month they gathered summer fruits, in another Olives, in the third Dates, saith Chazkuni; and Sol. Rashi addeth, There are some fruits which the Moon ripeneth, as Cucumbers, and Gourds. As the Sun by warmth, so the Moon by moisture maketh the earth fruitful.

Vers. 15. chief things] Hebr. the head, that is, principal; the Greek translatheth it, the top of the mountains. There fruits are first ripe. ancient mounts] Hebr. mountains of antiquity, or, of priority, which were from the beginning: so after, hills of eternity, that is, everlasting hills; which are so called, because they are immovable and lasting, have been from the beginning, and shall continue to the end of the world; or because of their continual fruitfulness. So in Habak. 3. 6. Compare this with Jacob's blessing, Gen. 49. 26. Joseph's heritage in Canaan had many fertile mountains and hills often mentioned, as Mount Ephraim, Judge. 17. 1. the mountains of Samaria, Amos 3. 9. and 4. 1. and 6. 1.

Vers. 16. the plenty thereof] all creatures that fill the same, Psal. 24. 1. the favorable acceptance] or, the good will, favor. The Greek translatheth, and the things acceptable unto him that appeared in the Bramble-bush: the Chaldee thus, and the good will of him whose dwelling is in heaven, and unto Moses he appeared in the Bramble-bush. of him that dwelt] or, of my dweller, that is, of my God that dwelt in the bramble, that is, God wth appeared unto Moses there, Ex. 3. 2. where the Angel Christ appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bramble-bush, which burned, but was not consumed: a figure of Christ's presence with his people in afflictions, that they perish not in them. let it] that is, let this blessing come, or, it shall come; the Greek saith, let them come; the Chaldee, let all these things come: and the original word come, implieth an abundant and speedy coming. Compare Gen. 49. 26. from whence Moses taketh this blessing. the crown of the head] whereby is meant an open, apparent, and plentiful pouring out of these blessings, as the like phrase is used also in curses, Psal. 7. 17. the separated among his brethren] or, the Nazirite of his brethren, meaning Joseph, who was separated and exempted to be a choice and chief man among his brethren: as the Greek translatheth it, the honored (or glorified) among his brethren: see the notes on Gen. 49. 26. So Chazkuni here explaineth it, Joseph that was prince of all his brethren.

Vers. 17. His glory] or, He hath glory (or beauty, comeliness) like his first-borne bullock. The Chaldee expounds it, The chief of his sons, his glory, &c. And Chazkuni applieth it to Joshua, The first King which the holy blessed (God) chose him of Joseph's seed, was Joshua, &c. and a king is likened to a bullock, which is king of beasts. horns] which signify strength, and glory, and kingdom, Psal. 75. 5, 11. and 112. 9. and 89. 18. 25. Luk. 1. 69. whereupon horns are used to denote kings, Dan. 8. Revel. 17. of an Unicorn] that is, of Unicorns, the singular put for the plural: it is a beast which will not be tamed, Job 39. 9, 10, 11. See the notes on Num. 23. 22. push] in Chaldee, kill. So in Psal. 44. 6. ends of the land] or, of the earth, to wit, the land of Canaan, for Joshua with his horns and armies conquered all that land. and they.] the horns forementioned. So Chazkuni on this place saith, the horns are the ten thousands of Ephraim, &c. And here he giveth to Ephraim the younger, ten thousands, & to Manasseh the elder but thousands, according to Jacob's prophesy, that Ephraim should be greatest, Gen. 48. 19. and so was his increase greater than his brothers, in Num. 1. 33. 35. though in the last mustering of them, and now when Moses blessed them, the men of Manasseh were many more than of Ephraim, Num. 26. 34. 37. See the notes on Gen. 48. 19. The ten thousands of Ephraim, are referred to Joshua and his men that conquered Canaan; the thousands of Manasseh, to Gideon and his men, (Judge. 7.) by Sol. Rashi, on Deut. 33.

Vers. 18. of Zebulon] or, to Zebulon; and with him he joineth Issachar his brother, (both sons of Lea,) as partner of his blessing. So these two joined in one, and the four next (the sons of the handmaids;) are set and blessed together next after Joseph. And it is a tradition of the Hebrews, that these five, Zebulon, Gad, Dan, Naphtali and Aser, were those five mentioned in Gen. 47. 2. when Joseph took of his brethren five men, and presented them before Pharaoh. Sol. Rashi on Deut. 33. and Targum Jonathan on Gen. 47. 2.

Rejoice Zebulon] that is, God so bless thee, as thou mayest have cause to rejoice in thy prosperity. thy going out] to trade in merchandise by shipping; for Zebulon, by Jacob's blessing, was to  dwell at the haven of the Seas, &c. Gen. 49. 13. so here Moses blesseth him with good success in his traffic, or going out to wars, as Gen. 14. 8. 2 Sam. 11. 1. and so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, in thy going out to war against thine enemies. And in Judge. 5. 18. Zebulon is commended for jeoparding their lives unto the death, in the high places of the field. and Issachar] to wit, rejoice thou also. Issachar was elder brother to Zebulon, Gen. 30. 18. 20. yet Jacob blessed Zebulon first, Gen. 49. 13, 14. and so doth Moses here; and God in parting their inheritance preferreth Zebulon, giving him the third lot, and Issachar the fourth, Ios. 19. 10. 17. in thy tents] that is, in thy dwelling at rest, or tarrying at home; for so the remaining in tents, is opposed unto going forth to wars, or traffic, or hunting abroad, Ios. 22. 4. Judge. 7. 8. and 5. 24. Gen. 25. 27. And tent is often used for ones home, house or city; as, the tents of Jacob, Mal. 2. 12. where the Chaldee translateth, the cities of Jacob: so these tents of Issachar, mean his quiet life at home, differing from Zebulons going abroad to trade. Chazkuni (on this place) noteth, that Issachars land was good to sow, and he sate in tents to keep his fields; and Moses prayeth that he might prosper and rejoice in his fields. And so Jacob said unto him (in Gen. 49. 14.) couching between two bounds; between the limits, to keep his fields. The Chaldee translateth, and Issachar in thy going to appoint the times of the solemn feasts in Israel: having reference to that which is written in 1 Chron. 12. 32. of the sons of Issachar, that had understanding for the times, to know what Israel ought to do, &c. which some of the Hebrews understand of the times and seasons of the year, new moons, and feasts. So Sol. Rashi here expoundeth it, and Issachar, prosper in thy sitting in tents, for the Law, sitting and making intercalation of the years, & appointing the new moons; as it is said (in 1 Chron. 12. 32.) And of the sons of Issachar, that knew understanding for the times, &c. the heads of them were 200. they were heads of the Counsel, employed hereabouts &c.

Vers. 19. They shall call] or, let them call, and so show their thankfulness to God, by inviting others to God's house, and showing them a good example, by their own frequenting the Lord's mountain. the mountain] mount Zion, where Moses by the Spirit, foresaw God's Temple should be built. The Chaldee paraphraseth, They shall gather the tribes of Israel to the mountain of the house of the Sanctuary. Though by people's the Gentiles also may be implied, whom they having occasion to trade with, should provoke to true religion, as in Isaiah. 2. 2, 3. All nations shall flow unto it, and many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the house of the Lord, &c. of justice] that is, just, righteous and acceptable sacrifices, offered in faith, according to God's Law: as the way of justice, is a just and righteous way, Matt. 21. 32. So David exhorteth, Sacrifice ye the sacrifices of justice, and trust unto Jehovah, Psal. 4. 6. the abundance] in Greek, the riches of the Sea; which the Chaldee expoundeth, they shall •at the riches of the people's: taking seas figuratively for people's, as is often in the Prophets. So in Isaiah 60. 5. 16. The abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, &c. & thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles. treasures hid in the sand] or, hidden treasures of the sand. The Greek translatheth, the merchandise of the nations, that dwell by the sea coast.

Vers. 20. enlargeth Gad] this may be understood of Gads inheritance, which the blessed God would enlarge, as he promised Israel, I will enlarge thy border, Exod 34. 24. Or understood of his person, and then his enlarging is his deliverance out of distress, as in Psal. 4. 2. thou hast enlarged me, when I was in distress. So it hath reference to Gads troubles, prophesied in Gen. 49. 19. see the Annotations there; and the history of Gads enlargement by Iephtah, in Judge. 11. a courageous Lion] see this word in Gen. 49. 9. There were of the Gadites in David's time mighty warriors, whose faces were like the faces of Lions, and were as swift as the Roes upon the mountains, 1 Chron. 12. 8. the arm] this noteth strength, as the crown of the head, principality; meaning that none should be so strong or excellent, but Gad should overcome them. The Greek translatheth, he shall break the arm and the Ruler: the Chaldee, he shall kill rulers with kings. This may have reference both to his wars in subduing the Canaanites, going armed before his brethren, Ios. 1. 12, 13, 14. and to that famous victory which he got over the Hagarims, 1 Chron. 5. 18, 19, 21, 22. as also to the courageous acts of Jehu, 1 King. 9. and 10. chapters.

Vers. 21. he provided the first part for him] or, as the Greek translatheth, he saw his first-fruits: or, he provided in the beginning (at the first) for himself. Gad, with Reuben, saw the Land of Iazer and Gilead, that it was a place for cattle; and the sons of Gad and of Reuben asked of Moses and of the Princes, that the land might be given them for a possession, Num. 32. 1,—5. It may also be understood of the Lord, that he provided this first portion for Gad; or, that Gad himself saw, that is, enjoyed (as the Chaldee expoundeth it, received) his first part. Sol. Rashi openeth it thus, He saw (or provided) to receive his portion in the land of Sihon and Ogh, which was the first-fruits (or beginning) of subduing the land. in a portion of the Law-giver] the portion which God by Moses the Law-giver gave unto Gad, Num. 32. 33. prectected] or, hidden, covered, sieled: there in the fenced Cities they left their wives and children under God's protection, whiles they went to war before their brethren, Num. 32. 26, 34, 35, &c. Ios. 1. 14. he came] that is, Gad came. with the heads] that is, the Princes and Captains of the people, with whom Gad went to war, Ios. 1. 14. and so it is a prophesy of a thing to come, as already done. Or, he came to the heads, to the Princes, when he desired to have that land given him, Numb. 32. 2. But the former seemeth fittest; and so Sol. Rashi explaineth it, They went armed before them when they conquered the land. justice] that which was just and right in the Lord's eyes, and his judgments upon the Canaanites in destroying them: so Joshua commendeth their obedience, Ios. 22. 1, 2, 3. It may also have reference to other judgments, as those executed by Jehu, 2 King. 9. and 10. and by Elias the Prophet upon Baals Priests, 1 King. 18.

Vers. 22. Lions whelp] in Chaldee, strong as a Lions whelp. In Gen. 49. 17. Jacob likened Dan to a Serpent, for his subtle and secret undermining of his enemies: Moses here likeneth him to a Lion, which signified his strength and prowess, shown when this tribe fought against Leshem, and smote it with the edge of the sword, Ios. 19. 47. Iud. 18. 27. 29. he shall leap] or, that leapeth; referring it to the Lion leaping from mount Basan, where Lions kept: for Basan was not Dans possession, but Manassehs, Deut. 3. 13. Numb. 32. 33. Ios. 13. 7, 8, 11. Chazkuni here saith, because Basan was a place of Lions and wild beasts, he likeneth him to a Lion. The Chaldee expoundeth it, his land shall be watered with the rivers that run from Bashan.

Vers. 23. Naphtali] in Greek Nepthaleim. He was Dans brother, both of them borne of Bilbah Rachel's handmaid; but God and Aser were of Zilpha, Leah's maid. Moses keepeth not Jacob's order (Gen. 49.) in blessing the tribes. satisfied with favorable acceptation] in Greek, the satiety (or abundance) of acceptable things: he meaneth, that the tribe of Naphtali should have in their land many good and acceptable fruits, through God's favor and blessing. There also the light of God's favor in Christ abundantly appeared, Matth. 4. 13, 15, 16. and Capernaum in this tribe was Christ's City, Mar. 2. 1. Matth. 9. 1. wherein he did many mighty works, Matth. 11. 23. the blessing of Jehovah] blessings given of him; and, as Chazkuni expoundeth it, Whosoever cometh into his land, and seeth the first ripe fruits, shall bless the Lord for them. But the Greek translateth, let him be filled with blessing of (or from) the Lord. the sea] this the Chaldee interpreteth, the sea of Ginosar, called in the New Testament the lake of Gennesaret, Luke 5. 1. in Hebrew Chinnereth, Numb. 34. 11. Deut. 3. 17. R. Sol. Rashi here saith, The sea of Cinnereth fell to his portion.

Vers. 24. with sons] or, for sons, for multitude of children; the Chaldee saith, with the blessing of sons: as in Asers tribe there were now 53. thousand and four hundred men of war, Num. 26. 47. let him be] in Greek, he shall be acceptable to his brethren. dipping] in Greek, he shall dip his foot in oil, that is, shall have plenty of oil, that he may set his feet therein: according to Jacob's blessing, that his bread should be fat, Genes. 49. 20.

Vers. 25. thy shoes] that is, the ground under thee shall have Mines of iron and brass, that thy feet may seem to be shod with them. This also may signify his strength, to tread down his enemies; as Christ's feet were of fine brass, Rev. 1. 15. thy strength] or, thy old age. The Hebrew Dobee (here only used,) is in Greek translated strength: and so the Chaldee expoundeth it, as the days of thy youth, thy strength. The Latin version, and others expound it old age, so named of weakness; meaning that his old age should be strong and lusty, as the days of his youth. Others, fame, or report; that as his days were, so his fame should be as long as he lived. Chazkuni saith, Daba is the same that Daab, weakness or debility, (as Cebes is the same that Ceseb a Lamb) and that it meaneth the days of old age in which a man is weak; as if he should say, even in the time of their old age they shall be strong.

Vers. 26. Ieshurun] that is, O Israel: see Deut. 32. 15. The Greek translatheth, There is none like the God of the Beloved-one: the Chaldee saith, there is no God like the God of Israel. This conclusion concerneth all the tribes of Israel in general, celebrating the glory and goodness of God, communicated with his Church; and their participation of his graces, to their perpetual happiness. rideth] which is a sign of honor, and of his speedy coming to help his people: so in Psal. 68. 34. For which cause he is said also to ride upon the Cherub, 2 Sam. 22. 11. and to ride upon his horses and chariots of salvation, Hab. 3. 8. This was fulfilled in the wars against the Canaanites, Ios. 10. 10, 11, 13. and before, against the Egyptians, Exod. 9. 23. and 14. 24, 25. And Christ still rideth in heaven upon a white horse, to conquer the enemies, for his Churches sake, Rev. 6. 2. and 19. 11,—16. The Chaldee translatheth, whose habitation (or divine majesty) is in the heavens. in thy help] or, for thy help: in Greek, thine helper. in his excellency] or, for his high majesty, magnificence; in Chaldee, strength. So in Psal. 68. 35. God's works are for the manifestation of his excellent glory, in the help and salvation of his people. skies] the highest heavens, which the Greek calleth the firmament; the Chaldee, the heavens of heavens.

Vers. 27. The God of antiquity] that is, the ancient (or eternal) God; which the Chaldee interpreteth, God that was from the beginning. Hereupon David intituleth him the God that sitteth from antiquity, (or abideth of old) Psal. 55. 20. and Asaph saith, God is my King from antiquity, Ps. 74. 12. And he is before all things, and by him all things consist, Coloss. 1. 17. is thy mansion] or, will be thy habitation: or, prayer-wise, be thy mansion, that is, thy protection; as the Greek translatheth, will protect thee. So Moses saith, Lord, thou hast been our mansion (or habitation,) in every generation and generation, Psal. 90. 1. Under this name Mansion, all things needful are implied, both for life and salvation in this world, and in that which is to come, John 14. 2. arms of eternity] that is, eternal (or everlasting) arms: or, arms of the world. Israel is protected under God's everlasting arms or power; God is their defense over and under: his left hand is under the head of his Church, and his right hand doth embrace her, Song 2. 6. The Greek translatheth, under the strength of the everlasting arms: the Chaldee expoundeth it, and by his Word the world was made. Sol. Rashi explaineth it thus, and underneath his Mansion do all strong armed dwell. The arms of the world were Sihon and Ogh, and the Kings of Canaan, which were the strength and power of the world, &c. but their strength was weakened before him. But the arms of eternity are rather meant here of the arms of the eternal God, who is most ancient without beginning; and eternal, without ending; who saith, I am the first, and I am the last: and besides me there is no God, Isaiah 44. 6. destroy] speaking to Israel, whom he would enable to destroy their enemies: the Greek translatheth, Perish, speaking to the enemy. So God by Christ, not only preserveth his people from harm, but destroyeth him that hath the power of death, that is, the devil, Heb. 2. 14. and with him all other enemies perish.

Vers. 28. alone] secure from enemies, as Ier. 49. 31. or, alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations, as Num. 23. 9. This dwelling in safety had accomplishment under Christ, of whom it is said, In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely, Ier. 23. 6. the fountain] that is, the people which flow out of Jacob, as out of a well or fountain: so that fountain is here used for a river or stream issuing from a fountain, as in Psal. 104. 10. and waters often signify people's, Rev. 17. 15. Thus David calleth them of the fountain of Israel, Psal. 68. 27. and Isaiah saith, which are come forth out of the waters of Judah, Isaiah 48. 1. The Hebrew word sometime signifieth a fountain, sometime an eye; in which latter sense some interpret it here, the eye of Jacob, shall look unto a land of corn, &c. his heavens] the heaven or air over the land of Israel, shall drop down dew, whereby it shall be fruitful. Thus Moses confirmeth to Jacob's seed the blessing which Isaac gave unto Jacob, Gen. 27. 28. Spiritually heavens signify the ecclesiastical estate, Revel. 4. 1. dew and rain signify heavenly doctrine, as Deuter. 32. 2.

Vers. 29. who is like thee] not any people. So David said, What one nation in the earth is like thy people, like Israel, 2 Sam. 7. 23. See also Deut. 4. 7. by Jehovah] or, in Jehovah, that is, Christ, called Jehovah our righteousness, Ier. 23. 6. shield of thy help] that is, thine helpful shield, which aideth thee against thine enemies; the Chaldee saith, strong for thine help; the Greek, thy helper will shield (or protect) thee. sword, is thy excellency] in Greek, thy glory (or boasting;) that thou mayest truly glory in his sword, not in thine own: as the Church doth in Psa. 44. 4, 7. they inherited not the land by their own sword: and, my sword shall not save me. Christ appeared with a two-edged sword in his mouth, Rev. 1. 16. and with a sword in his hand, as Prince of the Lord's host, Ios. 5. 13, 14. and the sword of the spirit is the word of God, Ephes. 6. 17. shall falsely deny] shall dissemble that they were thine enemies, and fain to be friends for fear. This David acknowledged, the sons of the stranger falsely deny unto me, Psal. 18. 45. The Greek translatheth, shall lie unto thee. Chazkuni explaineth it thus, They that are enemies to thee in their heart, shall falsely deny unto thee through fear, & shall show themselves thy friends, & shall be obedient to do thy pleasure. And Sol. Rashi giveth an example, as the Gibeonites which said, From a very far country thy servants are come, &c. tread on their high places] or, on their heights: in Greek, thou shalt ride upon their neck: see a like phrase in Psal. 66. 12. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thou shalt tread on the joints of the necks of their Kings: which thing was fulfilled in Joshua's time, Ios. 10. 24, 25. By heights or high places, are meant all the high and fortified places, wherein the enemies kept for their safety; as mountains, high walled Cities, &c. as David when he was safe from his enemies, rejoiceth that God had set him upon his high places, 2 Sam. 22. 34. And as it is the glory of God, that he treadeth upon the high places of the earth, Amos 4. 13. Mich. 1. 3. and upon the high places (or heights) of the sea, Job 9. 8. so he communicateth this glory to his people, that should vanquish all their enemies; as was also said in Deut. 32. 13. he made him ride on the high places of the earth. And by the weapons of their war-fare, which are mighty through God, they pull down strong holds, and cast down every high thing that exalteth it self against the knowledge of God, 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. Death shall be swallowed up in victory, 1 Cor. 15. and Satan himself shall be trodden underneath their feet, Rom. 16.

CHAP. XXXIV.

1 Moses from mount Nebo vieweth the land. 5 He dieth there, and is buried of God. 7 His age and vigor when he died. 8 The Israelites mourn for him thirty days. 9 Joshua succeedeth him. 10 The praise of Moses.

AND Moses went up from the plains of Moab unto mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, which is over against Jericho: and Jehovah caused him to see all the land from Gilead unto Dan. And all Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah, unto the hindmost sea. And the South, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the City of Palme-trees, unto Zoar. And Jehovah said unto him, This is the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, saying; unto thy seed will I give it: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither. And Moses the servant of Jehovah died there in the land of Moab, according to the mouth of Jehovah. And he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor, and no man knoweth of his Sepulcher unto this day. And Moses was an hundred and twenty years old when he died, his eye was not dim, nor his natural moisture fled. And the sons of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab, thirty days: and the days of weeping, of mourning for Moses, were ended. And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the Spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands upon him, & the sons of Israel hearkened unto him, and did as Jehovah commanded Moses. And there arose not a Prophet since in Israel like Moses, whom Jehovah knew face to face. In all the signs and the wonders which Jehovah sent him to do in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh, and to all his servants, and to all his land. And in all the mighty hand, and in all the great terror which Moses did in the eyes of all Israel.

Annotations.

MOses went up] as God commanded him, Deu. 32. 49. plains of Moab] in the wilderness where Israel pitched, and where Moses had explained all this Law unto them. See Num. 22. 1. Deut. 1. 5. The Greek retaineth the Hebrew name, Araboth Moab. mount Nebo] or, of Nebo, that from thence he might view the holy land, as John from an high mountain was shown the holy Jerusalem, Rev. 21. 10. and Ezekiel likewise before him, Ezek. 40. 2. Nebo was the name of a mountain, and of a City by it, which was given for a possession to the Reubenites, Numb. 32. 37, 38. 1 Chron. 5. 3, 8. Pisgah] in Greek, Phasga: in Chaldee, Ramatha: so named of the highness of it: See Deut. 3. 27. Ierecho] in Greek Jericho, a City within the land of Canaan, which the Israelites first conquered, by faith causing the wall to fall down, Ios. 6. Heb. 11. 30. See after on verse. 3. caused him to see] as in verse. 4. or, shown him, as the Greek translatheth. from Gilead] in Greek, the land of Galaad: But Galead was on the outside of Jordan, and given to Reuben, Gad, and half Manasseh, Deut. 3. 12. 13. being conquered by Moses himself; so that there was no need to view that, but from that Country forward he viewed all the rest. Therefore the Hebrews expound the word Eth, by Min, From; saying, From Gilead which was on the outside of Jordan, towards the Sun rising, where in Moses was standing; unto Dan, which is the border of the land of Israel, as it is written, from Dan even to Beersheba, (1 Sam. 3. 20.) Chazkuni on Deut. 34. Others refer it to a spiritual vision of things to be done after in this Country; as Jonathan in his Targum paraphraseth, The Word of the Lord shown him all the Mighties of the land; the valiant acts which should be done by Iephthe of Gilead, and the victories of Samson son of Manoah of the tribe of Dan. Likewise Sol. Rashi expoundeth it, He shown him the sons of Dan committing idolatry, as it is written (in Judge. 18. 30.) and the sons of Dan set up the graven image: and he shewod him Samson, that should come out of him for a Savior. By Dan here we are to understand Leshem or Laish, a City in the furthest part of the land Northward, called also Dan, Ios. 19. 47. Judge. 18. 27, 29.

Vers. 2. all Naphthali] in Greek, all the land of Nephthali, which lay also Northward in Galilee, Matth. 4. 15. of Ephraim and Manasseh] meaning the half tribe of Manasseh that dwelt within Jordan; this was in the midst of the land in Samaria: see Ios. 16. and 17. 7,—11. of Judah] which was the Southerne part of the Country, Ios. 15. 1. &c. for the land was far more long than broad: and by naming these few chief countries, he implieth all the rest with them. These also in Targum Jonathan, and Sol. Rashi, are applied to the captains of the house of Naphtali, that were joined with Barak, and the Kings which Joshua the son of Nun, of the tribe of Ephraim, should kill; and the valiant acts of Gideon son of Joash, of the tribe of Manasseh, and all the Kings of Israel, and kingdom of the house of Judah, that should rule in the land, until the Sanctuary should be destroyed at the last. the hindmost] or, utmost sea, that is, the main sea, which was the Western coast: see the notes on Deut. 11. 24.

Vers. 3. the south] in Greek, the wilderness: the utmost Cities of the tribe of the sons of Judah, towards the coast of Edom, described in Ios. 15. 21. &c. So in Num. 34. 3. your south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zin, along by the coast of Edom, &c. Thus Moses viewed the land after the order that Abraham did at the first: see Genes. 12. 6, 7, 8, 9. with the Annotations there. God here showeth Moses all the kingdoms, and glory of Canaan, from an high mountain, for his comfort and strengthening of his faith, who saw the promises a far off, saluted them, and died, as did his godly forefathers, Heb. 11. 9. 13. On the contrary, the Devii taketh Christ up into an exceeding high mountain, & showeth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them, to draw him (if he had been able) from the faith and service of God, unto the worship of Satan, Matth. 4. 8, 9. the plain of the valley of Jericho] in Greek, the regions about Jericho: this last part which Moses viewed, was the first which the Israeliees possessed, Ios. 2. 1. and 3. 16. and 4. 13, 19. Sol. Rashi here saith, God shown to Moses, Solomon casting the vessels of the sanctuary, as it is said, In the plain of Jordan did the King cast them, 2 Chron. 4. 17. City of palm-trees] so Jericho is called here, and in 2 Chron. 28. 15. Judge. 1. 16. and 3. 13. and of them and other fragrant fruits there growing, as Balsam and the like; the City had the name Ierecho, by interpretation, Odoriferous, or Fragrant. unto Zoar] in Greek, Segor. Thus the last part which Moses viewed, was both nearest unto him, and the pleasantest of all the land of Canaan: for all the plain of Jordan was well watered, it was as the garden of the Lord, Gen. 13. 10.

Vers. 4. I swear] that is, I promised by oath: see Gen. 12. 7. and 22. 16, 17. Psal. 105. 9, 10, 11. thy seed] in Greek, your seed: in Chaldee, thy sons. caused thee to see] in Greek, I have shown it to thine eyes. This view was by the marvelous work and grace of God towards his servant, that in one place and time he should behold so large a Country; and in it (by the eye of his spirit) so many mysteries as in that holy-land (so called in Zuch. 2. 12.) were comprehended: and it being the land of Immanuel, (or of Christ) Esa. 8. 8. the beholding thereof was the beholding of the blessings to be enjoyed by Christ Jesus; unto whō Moses and his Law is a Schoolmaster, Gal. 3. 24. not go over] to wit, over the river Jordan, because Moses had not believed to sanctify the Lord in the eyes of the sons of Israel, Numb. 20. 12. And as he and others could not enter into the good land, because of their unbelief, Heb. 3. 19. so all that are of the works of the Law, and not of the saith of Christ, though they may behold the blessing a far off, yet shall they not enter in to enjoy the same, Gal. 3. 9,—12. Rom. 9. 31. 32.

Vers. 5. servant] so he is often called, even of God himself, Ios. 1. 2. and in the New Testament, as Rev. 15. 3. the song of Moses the servant of God. This title he had in respect of his office, being governor of Israel: as David also had, in Psal. 18. 1. and 36. 1. See Numb. 12. died there] in the mountain, Deut. 32. 50. as Aaron died on the top of mount Hor, Num. 20. 28. In that the death of Moses immediately followed after his viewing of the promised land, it foreshowed the end and abrogation of Moses Law, when men are come to the Gospel of Christ: for, after that Faith is come, we are no longer under the Schoolmaster, Gal. 3. 25. The Law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth: for the woman which hath an husband is bound by the Law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of the husband: So we also are become dead to the Law, by the body of Christ, that we should be to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, Rom. 7. 1, 2, 4. Therefore upon this death of Moses, God speaketh unto Israel, to go over Jordan into the Land, Ios. 1. according to the mouth] in Greek and Ghaldee, by the word. The day of his death, by the Jews tradition, was the seventh of Adar, (which we call February:) so Jonathan in his Targum on this place saith; On the seventh day of the month of Adar, Moses the Master of Israel was borne; and on the seventh day of the month of Adar he was taken out of the world.

Vers. 6. he buried him] that is, Jehovah buried him, or Michael (that is, Christ, who is Jehovah, one with the Father,) Jude verse. 9. Signifying that none but Christ should abolish the Law and Ordinances given by Moses, Rom. 8. 3. Gal. 3. 13, 14. Coloss. 2. 14, 16, 17. Heb. 9. 9, 10, 11, &c. and 10. 1,—9. And this was a special honor unto Moses person, whom the Lord loved when he was dead, and buried his corps (which we find not done to any man else in the world,) which he will also raise up incorruptible and glorious, at the day of his appearing. in a valley] he died in the mountain, Deut. 32. 50. but was buried in a valley. over against Beth-Pehor] the Greek saith, near to the house of Phogor; of which place, see Deut. 3. 28. no man knoweth] God would not have Moses Sepulcher to be known, (though the devil contended with him hereabout, Jude verse. 9.) because there should be no occasion of superstition or idolatry thereby, as is thought of some. Chazkuni saith, that none which inquire of the dead (as Deut. 18. 11.) might seek unto him. The chief cause seemeth to be a mystery, that the Law (whereof Moses was the minister) being once dead and abrogated by Christ, should never more be sought after, but quite abolished out of the conscience of sinners, that the grace of Christ may live & reign alone. See Gal. 4. 9, 10, 11. and 5. 4. Also that the legal rudiments should by the coming of the Gospel be taken away from Israel, never to be found or enjoyed by them anymore. For Christ destroyed both their City and Sanctuary, as was foretold in Dan. 9. and they have been many days without a King, and without a Prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an Ephod, and without Teraphim; and so shall be until they return and seek the Lord their God, and [the son of] David their King, Hos. 3. 4, 5.

Vers. 7. years old] Hebr. son of 120. years: so the year of his death fell out in the 2553. year of the world: and his years accord with Noes preaching and preparing of the Ark, Genes. 6. 3. his eye] in Greek, his eyes: his eye-sight failed him not, as did Isaac's, Gen. 27. 1. The eye is also used for the outward appearance and color of a thing, as Exod. 10. 5. Numb. 11. 7. so it may be meant here also, his visage was not wrinkled. Chazkuni here expoundeth it, the shining of his face, mentioned in Ex. 34. 30. his natural moisture] his radical humor, wherein the life and strength of the body consisteth, which when it is spent and dried up, a man dieth. The Greek translatheth, his lips were not corrupted: the Chaldee saith, the brightness of the glory of his face was not changed: having reference to Exod. 34. 30, &c. sled] that is, departed from him. Thus outwardly and inwardly Moses retained his vigor, beauty and natural strength; that he died not through feebleness, or defect of nature, as most men did at his age, though he had been a man of sorrows, and broken with many cares for the people. And hereby the continual force of the Law is signified; the power whereof decaieth not in the conscience of sinners by number of days, or multitude of works, till God take it away, and abolish it by grace in Christ. The Law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth: whiles we are in the flesh, the passions of sins which are by the Law, do work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death, Rom. 7. 1, 5.

Vers. 8. the plains of Moab] in Greek, Araboth Moab by Jordan, over against Jericho; as v. 1. thirty days] so long they mourned also for Aaron: see Num. 20. 28.

Vers. 9. Joshua] in Greek, Jesus the son of Nave. of wisdom] in Greek, of understanding the spirit of wisdom, meaneth wisdom ministered by the spirit of God, wherein he was a figure of Jesus Christ, who being full of the holy Spirit, entered upon the work of his ministration here on earth, Luke 4. 1, &c. On him the spirit of the Lord rested, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the Lord, Esa. 11. 2. laid] or, imposed his hands upon him: of this see Numb. 27. 18,—23. As Moses by imposition of hands authorized Jesus the son of Nun, and bare record unto him: so the Law of Moses which was in the heart and bowels of Jesus the son of God, gave authority and bare record unto him, Heb. 7. Acts 26. 22, 23. & Moses himself appeared talking with Jesus, and speaking of his decease, which he should accomplish at Jerusalem, Luke 9. 30, 31. hearkened unto him] that is, obeyed him: as after also they promised, in Ios. 1. 16. 17, 18. See the notes on Num. 27. 20.

Vers. 10. knew face to face] the Chaldee saith, was revealed unto him face to face. So in Exod. 33. 11. it is said, Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend: and in Num. 12. 8. he said, with him will I speak mouth to mouth. See the Annotations there.

Vers. 12. the mighty hand] that is, works wrought with a mighty hand, and powerful government, and administration; according to that which is said, Humble yourselves therefore, under the mighty hand of God, &c. 1 Pet. 5. 6. great terror] that is, works done with great terror; which the Greek translath, great marvels: the Chaldee, great visions. These things do magnify Moses office and administration, that the Laws which he hath written & confirmed by such signs and wonders might be acknowledged to be of God; wherefore he and his writings are worthily celebrated throughout the world, confirmed of God himself, Numb. 12. 7, 8. approved and expounded by all the Prophets after him, by Christ himself and his Apostles; so that they which hear not him, will not be persuaded, though one rose from the dead, Luk. 16. 31. But unto us God hath raised up a Prophet like unto Moses, as he promised, Deu. 18. 18. Act. 3. 21. even Jesus the son of the Most high, a man approved of God among the Israelites, by miracles, wonders, and signs, which God did by him in the midst of them, Act. 2. 22. Heb. 2. 4. in whom God was reconciling the world unto himself, 2 Cor. 5. 19. whō God buried not, as he did Moses, but raised him frō the dead, that he saw no corruption. Of him Moses wrote, and to him give all the Prophets witness, that through his name, whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins, Act. 10. 40. 43. And by him, all that believe are justified from all things, from which we could not be justified by the law of Moses, Act. 13. 39. This is the true God, & eternal life, 1 John. 5. 20. To him be honor, and glory, and praise, throughout all generations; and let all the earth be filled with his glory, Amen, and Amen.

A TABLE OF SOME PRINCIPALL THINGS OBSERVED IN THE ANNOTATIONS ON THE FIVE BOOKES OF MOSES.

A

- AAaron and his sons made Priests, Exod. 28. their first offerings, Lev. 9. Aaron's death, Num. 21. 24. 28.
- Abib, the month which we call March, Exod. 13. 4. and 23. 15. Deut. 16. 1.
- Abraham's name interpreted, Gen. 17. 5.
- Accepting the face what it is, Gen. 19. 21.
- Adultery punished with death, Lev. 20. 10. Deut. 22. 22.
- Afflicting of the soul, by fasting, &c. commanded unto all Israel one day in the year, Lev. 16. 29. It was to be from evening to evening, Lev. 23. 32.
- All, or every, for all sorts, Exod. 9. 6, 25.
- Almighty, or All-sufficient, Shaddai, God's name, Gen. 17. 1.
- Altar, Gen. 8. 20. Altar of incense, Exod. 30. 1. &c. called the Altar of gold, Exod. 40. 26. Altar of Burnt-offering, or Brazen Altar, Exod. 27. 1, &c. and 40. 29. The Princes Offerings at the dedication of the Altar, Num. 7.
- Amalek, Gen. 36. 12. His destruction commanded, Exod. 17. 16. Deut. 25. 19.
- Amen, what it signifieth, Num. 5. 22.
- Amids, for within, Gen. 2. 9.
- Ammonites, Gen. 19. 38. Israel might not fight with them, Deut. 2. 19.
- Amorites, used for all heathens in Canaan, Gen. 48. 22.
- And for but, Gen. 2. 17. for that, Gen. 12. 12. and 27. 4. Exod. 8. 29. for for, Gen. 12. 19. Exod. 15. 2. for or, Gen. 13. 8. and 19. 12. for then, Gen. 3. 5. for that is, Gen. 13. 15. or namely, 1 Chron. 1. 36. for a passion of the mind, Gen. 27. 28. And for both: (or superfluous) Gen. 36. 24. and 40. 9. (and 8. 6.) for who, which, &c. Gen. 49. 25. or that which, Deut. 32. 1. for therefore, Gen. 31. 44. for if, or and if, Gen. 18. 30. Exod. 4. 23. Levite. 26. 40.
- Angel, what it signifieth, Genes. 16. 7. and 32. 1. Christ called an Angel, Gen. 26. 24. and 48. 16. Exo. 3 2. and 14. 19. and 23. 20. The heathens opinion of Angels, Gen. 32. 1.
- Anointing what it signified, Exod. 29. 7. and 30. 26. The Anointing oil described, Exod. 30. 3, &c. who were anointed therewith, Ex. 30. 33.

- Answering, what it is from God, Gen. 36. 3.
- Appearing before God with three things, Exod. 23. 15.
- Ark, Teba, Gen. 6. 14. Ark, Aron, Exod. 25. 10.
- Arabia, whereof it was named, Gen. 10. 7.
- Aram, called Syria, Gen. 24. 10. and 25. 20.
- Armies or hosts of Israel, Exod. 6. 26.
- Arrows for plagues, Deut. 32. 23.
- Asses, of what use, Gen. 49. 11.
- Assembly, or Church, for multitude, Gen. 28. 3.
- Ascending, for burning, Exod. 27. 20.
- Assured saying, Gen. 22. 16.
- Atonement, Exod. 29. 36. Lev. 1. 4. Atonement day, with the Law for making reconciliation for the Church, once in the year, Levite. 16.
- Avenging, and bearing grude, forbidden, Levite. 19. 18.

B

- BAal-peor, the Idol wherewith Israel joined, Num. 25.
- Babylon, Gen. 10. 10. and 11. 9.
- Back-parts of God, what they mean, Ex. 33. 23.
- Balaam and Balak with their story, Numb. 23. &c. Balaam's prophesies, Num. 24. his death, Num. 31. 8.
- Baldness made for sorrow for the dead, forbidden, Lev. 21. 5.
- Banquet, named of drinking, Gen. 19. 3.
- Battlements to be made on houses, Deut. 22. 8.
- Beersheba, The Well of the oath, Gen. 21. 31. and 26. 33.
- Before one, i. exposed to him, Gen. 13. 9. and 20. 15. and 34. 10.
- Begin, how it is used for the doing of anything, Gen. 9. 20.
- Bekah, an half shekel, Exod. 38. 26.

- Belial, what it signifieth, Deut. 13. 13.
- Bels on the High Priests garments, Ex. 28. 34, 35.
- Belief, or faith, what it meaneth, Gen. 15. 6. Exod. 17. 12.
- Bending the head, what it meaneth, Exod. 4. 31.
- Benjamin, Benoni, Gen. 35. 18. set before the children of the bondwoman, Exod. 1. 3. Shoulders of Benjamin what they mean, Deut. 33. 12.
- Bethel, a City, Gen. 12. 8. and 28. 19.
- Bethlehem, Gen. 35. 16, 19.
- Betrothing of a wife, the manner of it among the Jews, Deut. 22. 23. The punishment for lying with a betrothed woman, Deut. 22. 24, &c.
- Binding a Chariot, for making ready, Gen. 46. 29.
- Bishops, where of named, Num. 3. 32.
- Biting usury forbidden, but allowed upon strangers, Exod. 22. 25. Deut. 23. 19, 20.
- Blasphemers to be put to death, Lev. 24. 16.
- Blemishes might not be in any sacrifice, Lev. 1. &c. Deut. 17. 1.
- Bless, what it meaneth, Gen. 1. 22. and 2. 3. and 12. 2. and 14. 19, 20. and 27. 4. Blessing for gift, 33. 11. for salvation, Gen. 47. 7. Blessings for them that keep God's commandments, and curses for the transgressors, Lev. 26. Deut. 28. The Priests blessing of Israel, Numb. 6. 23, &c. Blessing God for meat, drink, &c. Deut. 8. 10. Blessings and Curses, where to be pronounced, Deut. 27. Moses Blessings of the tribes, Deu. 33.
- Blew, what color it was, Exod. 25. 4.
- Blood, for life, Gen. 9. 4. Blouds for murder, Gen. 4. 10. Blood of the sacrifice put on the Priests ear, thumb and toe, Exod. 29. 20. Blood of fowls and beasts might not be eaten, Lev. 7. 26. & 17. 10, 11, 12. Blood of wild beasts and fowls must be covered with dust, Lev. 17. 13.
- Book of God, or of life, Exod. 32. 32.
- The feast of Boothes, or Tabernacles, Lev. 23. 34.
- Borrowing, and laws concerning it, Ex. 22. 14, 15.
- Bowing down for worship, Gen. 22. 5. Ex. 4. 31.

- Brasse, what it signifieth, Exod. 27. 2.
- Bread for all food, Gen. 3. 19. and 21. 14. & 31. 54.
- Breath, Neshamah, what, Gen. 2. 7.
- Brestplate of the high Priest, Exod. 28. 15.
- Bribes forbidden, Exod. 23. 8.
- Bringing near, and offering, used for the same, Lev. 1. 2.
- Brother, for kinsman, Gen. 13. 8. for the same human nature, Gen. 19. 7.
- Building, how used, Gen. 2. 22. Building for having children, Gen. 16. 2. and 30. 3.
- Bullock, of the second year, as a Calf of the first, Exod. 29. 1.
- Burnt-offering, Gen. 8. 20. The Law concerning it, whether it were of the herd, flock, or fowls, with the signification, Lev. 1. and 6. 9, &c.
- Butter, what it signified, Deut. 32. 14.

C

- A Cake of the first of the dough to be given to the Lord, Num. 15. 20.
- Calf of the first year, a bullock of the second year, Exod. 29. 1.
- Calling for praying, Gen. 12. 8.
- Campe of Israel described, Num. 2. Burning of some sacrifices without the Campe, what it signified, Levite. 4. 12. Jerusalem answerable to the Campe of Israel, Num. 2. 27.
- Canaan, Chams son cursed, Gen. 9. 25. Canaanites with their brethren to be rooted out, Exod. 22. 20. Deut. 7. 1. Canaans land described, Genes. 12. 5. Deut. 8. 7, &c. and 11. 10, 11, 12. The Canaanites smite Israel, Numb. 14. 45. and 21. 1. The borders of the land of Canaan which Israel should inherit, Num. 34.
- Candlestick in the Tabernacle, Exod. 25. 31, &c. the order of trimming the lamps thereof daily, Exod. 27. 21.
- The captive woman how to be used, Deut. 21. 10. &c. Captivity for captives, Numb. 21. 1. Deut. 32. 42.
- Carkasses and torn things might not be eaten, Levite. 17. 15.
- Chaldees, Gen. 11. 28.
- Change of garments, Gen. 45. 22.

- Charming forbidden, Deut. 18. 11.
- Chebron a City called Kirjath Arba, Gen. 13. 18. and 23. 2.
- Cherubims, Gen. 3. 24. Exod. 25. 18.
- The Church or Congregation of Israel, who might and might not enter into it, Deut. 23. 1, 2, &c.
- Choosing for loving, Gen. 6. 2.
- Cinamon, Exod. 30. 23.
- Circumcising, what it was, Gen. 17. 10. Circumcising the heart, Deut. 30. 6.
- A City revolting to Idols, to be destroyed, Deut. 13. 12, &c.
- Cleaving to the Lord, what it meaneth, Deu. 10. 20.
- Clouds signify troubles, Gen. 9. 14. Cloud, a token of God's presence, Exod. 40. 34. 38. The Cloud conducting the Israelites, Num. 9. 17, &c.
- Commanding, how used, Gen. 50. 16. Lev. 25. 21. Commandments imply also forbiddings, Deut. 2. 37. and 4. 23.
- Compassing for honor, Gen. 37. 7.
- Conceiving of child, Gen. 4. 1.
- Concubine, what it meaneth, Gen. 22. 23.
- The Congregations offering for their sin, Levite. 4. 13, &c.
- Consecration of the Priests, with the rites thereof, Exod. 29. Lev. 8.
- Continuall or daily sacrifice, Exod. 29. 42.
- Corners of the field to be left for the poor, Levite. 19. 9. Corners of the head and beard not to be marred, Lev. 19. 27.
- Corrupting, for sinning, especially idolatry, Gen. 6. 11. for destroying, Gen. 6. 13.
- Covenant, Gen. 6. 18. The covenant of the Law at mount Sinai, Exod. 19, &c. The renewing of the Covenant before Moses death, Deut. 29. 10, &c.
- Covering mercy-seat, what it signified, Ex. 25. 17.
- Coveting forbidden; Exod. 20. 17.
- Court of God's Tabernacle, Exod. 27. 9. and 40. 33.

- Create, what it meaneth, Gen. 1. 1.
- Cubit, what measure it is, Gen. 6. 15.
- Cunning workman, Exod. 26. 1.
- Cursing, what it meaneth, Gen. 3. 14. and 4. 11. and 12. 3. Curses pronounced upon the transgressors of the Law, Deut. 27.
- Cush, father of Ethiopians, Gen. 2. 13. and 10. 6.
- Cutting of a covenant, for making, Gen. 15. 18. Cutting off, Gen. 17. 14. Lev. 20. 3. Cutting of the sacrifices into pieces, and what it signified, Lev. 1. 6. Cutting in the flesh may not be made for the dead, Lev. 19. 28. Deut. 14. 1.

D

- DAMascus, Gen. 14. 15.
- The Dam and the young may not be taken together, Deut. 22. 6.
- Dan, a place called Leshem, Gen. 14. 14.
- Dan, son of Jacob, Gen. 30.
- Darkness, Gen. 1. 2. Darke, for not seen, Exo. 9. 32.
- Daughters for women, Gen. 30. 13. for branches, Genes. 49. 22. for towns or villages, Numb. 21. 25.
- Day, Gen. 1. 5. Day for time, Deut. 27. 2. Daies for a year, Gen. 4. 3. Exod. 13. 10. or an exact time, Gen. 29. 14. The eighth day mystical, Gen. 17. 12. The third day mystical, Gen. 22. 4. Exod. 19. 11.
- The Deafe not to be cursed, Lev. 19. 14.
- Desireable, i. precious, &c. Gen. 27. 15.
- Devils were sacrificed unto by the Jews, Lev. 17. 7. Deut. 32. 17.
- Devoted things, Lev. 27. 28, 29.
- Dew a blessing, Gen. 27. 28. Exod. 16. 3. a figure of heavenly doctrine, Deut. 32. 2.
- Diviners and divination forbidden, Deuteronom.
- Dying, what it implieth, Gen. 2. 17. Of the four deaths that malefactors were put unto in Israel, Exod. 21. 12. No atonement for the dead, Num. 16. 48. Asking of the dead forbidden, Deut. 18. 11.

- Of Divorce, Deut. 24. 1. the copy of the Bill of divorce, Ibidem.
- Do, for labor or work, Exod. 5. 9. Do, for sacrifice, Exod. 10. 25. Do, for observe, Exod. 34. 22. Doings of Egypt and Canaan may not be followed, Lev. 18. 3.
- Door of the Tabernacle, what it signified, Le. 1. 3. Door of the Tabernacle for all the Court-yard, Levite. 8. 3. Writing the Law on the Door-posts, Deut. 6. 9.
- Dragon, Tanin, Exod. 7. 9.
- Dreams, of what sort and esteem they were, Gen. 20. 3. and 37. 5.
- Drink largely, or drunken, how used sometime, Gen. 43. 34.
- Dukes, Genes. 36. 15.
- Dust for innumerable, Gen. 13. 16. and 28. 14. for base and vile, Gen. 18. 27.
- Dwelling, for sojourning, Exod. 2. 15. and 12. 40.

E

- EAgles wings, a similitude of God's government of Israel, Exod. 19. 4. The similitude of an Eagle more fully expressed, Deut. 32. 11.
- Earth what, and whereof named, Gen. 1. 10. Earth, for the inhabitants of it, Gen. 11. 1.
- East-wind, Exod. 10. 13. and 14. 21.
- Eat for consume, Gen. 31. 40. Deut. 7. 16.
- Edom, why so named, Genes. 25. 30. he denieth Israel passage thorough his land, Numb. 20. 18, &c. Israel might not war with Edom, Deut. 2. 4, 5, &c. nor abhor an Edomite, Deut. 23. 7.
- Eden a country, Gen. 2. 8.
- Egypt, for the land of Egypt, or Mizraim, Genes. 12. 10.
- Eizop, or byssope, Exod. 12. 22.
- Elder, Hebr. greater, Gen. 10. 21. and 27. 1. Elders for chief officers, Gen. 50. 7. Exod. 3. 16. Seventy Elders assistance to Moses, Numb. 11. 16, &c. The Elders prophesy, Num. 11. 25.
- Embroiderer, Exod. 26. 36.
- Ensigns of the tribes, Num. 2. 2.
- Ephah, a measure or bushel, Exod. 16. 36.
- Ephod, a Priests garment, Exod. 28. 6.

- Ephraim, why so named, Gen. 41. 52.
- Esau, why so called, Genes. 25. 25. he is surnamed Edom, Ibid. ver. 30.
- Estimation or valuation of persons at their several ages, how much it was, Lev. 27. 3, &c.
- Evening and Morning, put for the whole day, Gen. 1. 5. Evening for latter times, Gen. 49. 27. The two evenings, Exod. 12. 6. Uncleaness till the evening, what it signified, Lev. 11. 24.
- Ever, for till the year of Jubilee, Exod. 21. 6.
- Everyone, Gen. 15. 10.
- Evil, for affliction, or sin causing it, Exod. 10. 10. for displeasing, Gen. 28. 8. and 48. 17.
- Evites, Gen. 10. 17.
- Eunuch, what it signifieth, Gen. 37. 36.
- Euphrates, a river, Gen. 2. 14.
- Eye for the whole face, Exod. 10. 5. Setting the eye on one, what it meaneth, Genes. 44. 21. An evil eye, what it meaneth, Deut. 15. 9.

F

- Face, for the upmost part of a thing, Genes. 1. 2.
- Face of God, what it meaneth, Gen. 4. 16. Exo. 33. 20. Setting of the face, what it signifieth, Gen. 31. 21. Face for anger, Gen. 32. 20. To accept the face, what it is, Gen. 19. 21. and 32. 20. Face to face, what it meaneth, Exod. 33. 11. Hiding God's face, what it is, Deut. 32. 20.
- Falling for slain, Gen. 14. 10. for lighting down, Gen. 24. 64. for dwelling, Gen. 25. 18.
- False Prophets, and their punishments, Deut. 13. 1. and 18. 20.
- Fainting of the heart, Gen. 45. 26.
- Families of beasts, Gen. 8. 19. Family for kindred, Gen. 24. 38. Lev. 20. 5.
- Familiar spirit, Ob, forbidden, Levite. 19. 31. Deut. 18. 11.
- Far be it, Gen. 18. 25.
- Fat of sacrifices, Gen. 4. 4. that is the best, so Gen. 27. 28. Fat, what it signified, Exod. 29. 13. Deut. 32. 15. Fat of Bullockes, Sheep and Goats might not be eaten, Lev. 7. 23. Fat of the Peace-offerings burnt to the Lord, Lev. 3. 3.

- Father, for author, inventer, &c. Genes. 4. 20. for King or Ruler, Gen. 20. 2. for grandfather or ancestor, Ex. 2. 18. Fathers not to die for their children, nor children for the fathers, Deut. 24. 16.
- Fear, the title of God, Gen. 31 42, 53. Fear of God, what it effecteth, Lev. 25. 17.
- Feast, what it meaneth, Exod. 5. 1. Of the three Feasts which Israel kept in a year, Exod. 23. 14.15, 16. Of keeping the Lord's Feasts, Lev. 23. Deut. 16. 1, 2, &c.
- Field for Country, Gen. 14. 7.
- Filling the hand, for consecrating, Exod. 29. 9.
- Finding, for coming upon one, Gen. 44. 34.
- Fine limen, or bysse. Gen. 41. 42. Exod. 25. 4.
- Finger of God, for his Spirit, Exo. 8. 19. and 31. 18.
- First birth-right, and first horn, Gen. 25. 31. Exod. 13. Deut. 21. 15, &c.
- First-fruits, and laws for them, Exod. 22. 29. and 23. 19. First-fruits with profession presented to the Lord, Deut. 26. 2, &c. Firstlings of beasts sanctified to the Lord, Exod. 13. Deut. 15. 19, &c. Meat-offering of First-fruits, Lev. 2. 14.
- Flesh opposed to Spirit, Gen. 6. 3. Flesh, for the privic members, Gen. 17. 13.
- Flock, comprehendeth sheep and goats, Le. 1. 10.
- Folly, nehalah, Gen. 34. 7.
- Forgetting of God, what it meaneth, Deut. 32. 18. Forgotten sheaf, &c. to be left for the poor, Deut. 24. 19, &c.
- Form, what fairness it meaneth, Gen. 29. 17.
- Found, for present, Gen. 19. 15.
- Forty, a mystical number, Deut. 25. 3. not above forty stripes to be given an offender, Ibidem.
- Frankincense with the Meat-offerings, Lev. 2. 1, 2.
- Fraudulent oppression forbidden, Levite. 19. 13. Deut. 24. 14.
- Fringes commanded to be worn, Numb. 15. 38. Deut. 22. 12.
- Frontlets, Exod. 13. 15. 9.

- Fire, what it signifieth, Exod. 12. 9. Fire-offering, Exod. 29. 18. Fire always burning on the Altar, Lev. 6. 13. Fire cometh from the Lord upon the Altar, Levite. 9. 24. For offering strange Fire the Priests are burnt, Lev. 10. 1, 2.

G

- GAll and wormwood, what they signify, Deut. 29. 18.
- Garden for Paradise, Gen. 2. 8.
- Garments of Priests, what they signified, Exod. 28. 2. &c. Garments of men and women are to be distinguished, Deut. 22. 5. The linen garments which the high Priest was to wear on Atonement day, Lev. 16. 4.
- Gate for City, Strength, &c. Gen. 22. 17. for place of assembling, Gen. 34. 20. The Gate of the Temple, which was called the gate of Nicanor, Num. 2. 27.
- Gathering for taking away, Gen. 30. 23. Gathering to ones people, what it meaneth, Gen. 25. 8.
- Gealous, why God is so called, Exod. 20. 5.
- Gealousie in men, the Law thereof, Numb. 5. 14, &c.
- Gelding of any creature held unlawful among the Jews, Deut. 23. 1.
- Generation, how used, Gen. 2. 4. and 5. 1. Generation for people, Gen. 6. 9.
- Gentiles esteemed no people, Deut. 32. 21.
- Gerah, a piece of money, the twentieth part of a shekle, Exod. 30. 13.
- Gerizim, the mount of blessing, Deut. 11. 29, 30.
- Giants, Nephilim, Gen. 6. 4.
- Giants, Rephaim, Gen. 14. 5. Deut. 2. 11.
- Gilead, or Galaad, amount and country, Gen. 31. 21. 47.
- Girdle, Exod. 28. 39.
- Giving, for setting or putting, Gen. 1. 17. and 9. 12. and 17. 5. for suffering, Genes. 20. 6. for taking, Genes. 42. 30. Giving forth the voice, for loud speaking, Gen. 45. 2. Gift or bribe forbidden, Exod. 23. 8. The 24. gifts which the Priests had for their maintenance, Num. 18. 19.
- Girding for readiness, Exod. 12. 11.
- Gleanings to be left for the poor, Levite. 19. 9. and 23. 22.

- Glory, whereof named, Gen. 31. 1. Glory for glorious work, Exod. 16. 7. God's Glory, what it signified, Exod. 33. 18.
- Goats used for sacrifice, Lev. 1. 10. and 3. 12. and 4. 23. 28. The two goats wherewith expiation was made for the Church on Atonement day, with their rites and signification, Levite. 16. 5, 7, 8, &c.
- God, Elohim, Gen. 1. 1. God, Ael, Gen. 14. 18. The name God added to things for excellency, Gen. 23. 6. and 30. 8. To be a God to any, what it is, Gen. 17. 7. and 28. 13. 21. God's for images, or representations of God, Gen. 31. 30. Strange gods, Gen. 35. 2. God, for a Master, &c. Exod. 4. 16. & 7. 1. God's for Judges, Exod. 21. 6. Why God is called the Living God, Deut. 5. 26. How God is said to repent, be sorry, &c. Gen. 6. 6. and 11. 4. Deut. 32. 56. How God is our life, Deut. 30. 20. God liveth, an oath, Deut. 32. 40.
- Go, for die, Gen. 15. 2. Go in, for companying or lying with, Gen. 6. 4. and 16. 2. Going out of the Sanctuary was unlawful for the Priests in the time of their service, Lev. 21. 12.
- Good, and goodness, what it signifieth, Genes. 1. 4. Good for fine, Gen. 2. 12. for pleasing, Gen. 16. 6. for fair, goodly, Gen. 24. 16. Exod. 2. <math>\langle \diamond \rangle.
- Goshen, a country in Egypt, Gen. 45. 10.
- Grace, Gen. 6. 8. Finding grace, what it is, Gen. 35. 15. and 34. 11.
- Grapes to be left for the poor, Lev. 19. 10. Of eating grapes in another man's vineyard, Deut. 23. 24.
- Graven images for bidden, Exod. 20. 4. Deut. 4. 16. &c. they are to be destroyed, Deut. 7. 25.
- Greater, for older, Gen. 27. 1. and 10. 21.
- Grove or tree for religious use, Exod. 4. 13. Deut. 7. 5. and 16. 21.

H

- HAnd, for Ministry, Exod. 9. 35. A high hand, what it meaneth. Exod. 14. 8. Hand on the throne, what? Exod. 17. 16. Hands lifted up, or spread in prayer, Exod. 17. 11. and 9. 29. See Lifting. Hand for work or plague, Exod. 9. 3. and 14. 31. Hand for power, Num. 11. 23. Handfull of the Meat-offering was burnt on the Altar, Lev. 2. 2.
- The Hanged are cursed of God, and may not abide all night on the tree, Deut. 21. 22, 23.
- Speaking to the heart, Genes. 34. 3. Setting of the heart, Exod. 7. 23. and 9. 21.
- Hating, for, less loving, Gen. 29. 31.
- Hear, for understand, Genes. 11. 7. for hearkening gladly, Exod. 4. 31.

- Hearesay, for tidings, Gen. 29. 13.
- Heavens, what they are, Gen. 1. 7.
- Heavy, applied to dim eyes, deaf ears, &c. Gen. 48. ⟨◇⟩ . to riches, Gen. 13. 2. ⟨◇⟩ › slowness, Exod. 4. 10. to hardness of heart, Exod. 7. 14.
- Heave-offering, how it was used, Exod. 29. 27.
- Hebrew, why so called, Gen. 14. 13.
- Hell, what it signifieth, Gen. 37. 35.
- Hin, a measure, how much it contained, Exod. 29. 40. and 30. 24.
- To the Hoary head men should rise up, Lev. 19. 32.
- Holy of Holies, a place in the Sanctuary, Exod. 26. 33. The high Priest might not enter into it, but one day in the year, and how, Le. 16. 2, 3, &c.
- Honey, unlawful in the sacrifices, Lev. 2. 11. Honey a figure of heavenly graces, Deut. 32. 13.
- Honor, what it signifieth, and to whom it is due, Exod. 20. 12.
- Horeb, a mount called also Sinai, Exod. 3. 1. 12.
- Host, Saba, what it implieth, Gen. 2. 1. The Host or Campe of Israel must be clean, Deu. 23. 9. &c.
- Houre for time, Exod. 9. 18.
- Humbling a woman, for defiling, Gen. 34. 2.
- Hur, a man in Israel, Exod. 17. 10.

I

- IAakob, why so named, Gen. 25. 26. and 27. 36.
- Yah, the name of God, Exod. 15. 2.
- Idols forbidden, Lev. 19. 4. Idolatry with the monuments thereof to be destroyed, Deut. 12. 2. Enticers and revolters to Idolatry to die, Deut. 13. and 17. 2. &c.
- Jehovah, what it signifieth, Gen. 2. 4. Exod. 6. 3. Jehovah, Gen. 15. 2.
- Iesurun the name of Israel, Deut. 32. 15.
- Jesus, or Joshua, Exod. 17. 8. he was first named Hosea's, Num. 13. 16. he is appointed Governor after Moses, Num. 27. 18. &c.

- Jethro, Iether, Exod. 3. 1.
- If, used in swearing, Gen. 14. 23. and 21. 23. in praying, Gen. 24. 42. in vewing, Gen. 28. 20. for that, Gen. 31. 52.
- Iles for Countries, Gen. 10. 5.
- Image of God, what it meaneth, Gen. 1. 26. and 9. 6.
- Imbalming, what it was, Gen. 50. 2.
- Imposition of hands, what it signified, Exod. 29. 10. The manner of Imposition, Lev. 1. 4.
- Incense, how it was made, Exod. 30. 35. &c. how offered, Exod. 30. 8. Incense altar, Exod. 30. 1.
- Ingendering with divers kinds forbidden, Levite. 19. 19.
- Inheritance, what it signified, Gen. 21. 10. Inheritances might not pass from tribe to tribe, Nu. 36.
- Iniquity, for punishment, Gen. 19. 15.
- In, for After, Exod. 2. 23. In, for because, or for, Deut. 9. 4.
- Inwards, for heart, Exod. 29. 13.
- Jordan, or Iarden, a river, Gen. 13. 10. Num. 34. 12.
- Joshua: see Jesus.
- The Journeys of Israel from Egypt to Canaan' Num. 33. The sanctifying of their Journeys by Moses, Num. 10. 35.
- Is, for is become, Gen. 3. 22.
- Isaac his name interpreted, Gen. 17. 19.
- Ishmael his name, Gen. 16. 11. for Ishmaelites, Genes. 28. 9.
- Israel, why so named, Gen. 32. 28.
- Issachar, why so called, Gen. 30. 18. why put in the fifth place before his elder brethren, Gen. 35. 23.
- Issues that defile men and women, with the cleansing of them, Lev. 15.
- The Jubilee or fiftieth year, Lev. 25. 8. &c.
- Judging for delivering, Deut. 10. 18.

- Judgments, or judicial laws, Exod. 21. 1, &c.
- Judges and Officers to be set up, with their duty, Deut. 16. 18, &c. The supreme Judges in the place which God shall choose, and their authority, Deut. 17. 8, &c.
- Just, Gen. 6. 9. Justice, Gen. 15. 6. Justice in weights and measure, Lev. 19. 36. Just judgment required, Deut. 25. 1, &c. Lev. 19. 15.

K

- KAdesh, the name of a place, Gen. 16. 14. called Enmishpat, Gen. 14. 7.
- Keeping, and Keepers, of divers sorts, Ex. 22. 10.
- Kidneyes, what they signified, Ex. 29. 13.
- Killing of sacrifices, and who did it, Lev. 1. 5.
- The Kings authority and duty, Deut. 17. 14, &c.
- Kissing, how used, Gen. 31. 28. and 41. 40.
- Know, for accompany, Gen. 4. 1, 17. and 19. 5. for care, or regard, Exod. 2. 25.
- Korahs rebellion and punishment, Num. 16.

L

- LAmbs of the first year, as Ram of the second, Lev. 2. 10. Lamb is the young of sheep, or of goats, Ex. 12. 4, 5. Deut. 14. 4.
- Land of Canaan was the Lord's, and might not be sold forever, Lev. 25. 23. what it figured, Genes. 12. 5, 7.
- Land-marks not to be removed, Deut. 19. 14.
- Latter days, what they are, Gen. 49. 1.
- Laver, and the signification thereof, Exod. 30. 18. the manner of the Priests sanctifying there-from, ibid. verse. 19. It was made of the women's looking-glasses, Exod. 38. 8.
- Laughing, for joy, Gen. 17. 17. and 21. 6. through weakness, Gen. 18. 12. in mockage, Gen. 21. 9.
- The Law the inheritance of the Church, Deut. 33. 4. Law-giver, Gen. 49. 10. Law, how it was given, with what preparation of the people, and with how great terror, Exod. 19. and 20. chap. The Law delivered to the Priests, Deut. 31. 9. Of reading it publicly at the end of seven years, Deut. 31. 10, 11, &c. The fire of the Law, Esh dath, Deut. 33. 2.
- Laying on hands: see Imposition.

- Leading, for feeding, Gen. 47. 17.
- Left hand, for North, Gen. 14. 15.
- Leprosy, a plague, Exod. 4. 6. The Law for Leprosies, and their cleansing: whether on men's persons, garments, or houses, Levite. 13. and 14. chap.
- Lest, a word of affirming, Gen. 3. 3.
- Leven, what it signified, Exod. 12. 15. what it was, Exod. 12. 20.
- Levites given to assist the Priests, instead of the first-borne of Israel, Num. 3. 12, 45. and 8. 16. The number of the Levites, Num. 3. 15, &c. The age and time of the Levites service, Numb. 4. 3, &c. and 8. 24. The Levites charges when the Tabernacle removed, Num. 4. 15 &c. The manner of consecrating the Levites, Numb. 8. The 48. Cities and Suburbs which should be given to the Levites, Num. 35. Levites were to teach the Law, Deut. 33. 10. Levies power, what it meaneth, Deut. 33. 11.
- Life, in Hebrew Lives: and why, Gen. 2. 7.
- Lifting up the hand, for swearing, Gen. 14. 22. for doing anything, Gen. 41. 44. for praying, Exod. 17. 11. Lifting up the head, diversely used, Gen. 40. 13. 19. Lifting up the eyes, for looking about, Gen. 30. 10.
- Light, Ge. 1. 3. Lights, for light some bodies, Ge. 1. 14.
- Linsey-woolsey forbidden, Deu. 22. 11. Lev. 19. 19.
- Lions of divers names, and why, Gen. 49. 9.
- Lip for language, Gen. 11. 1.
- Life, or liveth, used in swearing, Gen. 42. 15.
- Living water, what it meaneth, Ge. 26. 19. Le. 14. 5.
- Log, what measure it was, Le. 14. 10. & Ex. 30. 24.
- Looking forth of the evening or morning, Gen. 24. 63. Exod. 14. 27.
- Locusts, or grasshoppers, Exod. 10. 4.
- Lord, Adonai, Gen. 15. 2. and 18. 3.
- Love, the sum and end of the Law, Exod. 20. 6. Deut. 6. 5. To love ones neighbor as himself, Lev. 19. 18.

M

- MAgicians, Gen. 41. 8.

- Magistrates or Rulers, what manner of men they should be, Exod. 18. 21. Deut. 1. 13.
- Making for yielding or bearing, Gen. 1. 11. for perfecting, polishing, &c. Gen. 2. 3. for getting, winning, Gen. 12. 5.
- Making frustrate, Gen. 17. 14.
- Males bound to appear before God thrice a year, Exod. 23. 17.
- Man, Ish, Gen. 2. 23. Earthly man, Adam, Gen. 1. 26. Man and wife, for male and female, Gen. 7. 2. Man added to words, Genes. 9. 20. and 13. 8. Man, for everyone, Gen. 10. 5. and 15. 10. for any man, Gen. 24. 16. Lev. 21. 9. Men of number, i. few, Gen. 34. 30. Man Adullamite, for Man of Adullam, Gen. 38. 1. Man of words, &c. Exod. 4. 10. Man of war, Exod. 15. 3. Man-slayer, with the Cities of refuge, Numb. 35. 11, &c. Man stealer to die, Deut. 24. 7.
- Manasseh, why so named, Gen. 41. 51.
- Manna described, Exod. 16. 14. Num. 11. 7.
- Manna loathed of Israel, Num. 11. 6. and 21. 5.
- Marah, a place, Exod. 15. 23.
- Marie, or Miriam, Moses sister, Exod. 15. 20. her murmuring and leprosy, Num. 12. her death, Num. 21. 1.
- Marriage, the manner of it among the Jews, Deu. 22. 13. Of marrying the brothers wife, Deut. 25. 5, &c.
- Marvelous, for impossible, Gen. 18. 14.
- Marvellously sever, Exod. 8. 22.
- Massah, a place of Tentation, Exod. 17. 7.
- Meat-offering, the Law, sorts, and signification thereof, Lev. 2. and 6. 14. &c.
- Meats clean and unclean, with their signification, Lev. 11. Deut. 14.
- The measure of Meat and Drink-offerings, with the sacrifices, Num. 15. 4. &c.
- Meribah, a place of Contention, Exod. 17. 7. Num. 20. 13.
- Mesopotamia, Gen. 24. 10. and 25. 20.
- Midian, Madianites, Gen. 25. 2. and 37. 28. Israel's conquest over the Madianites, Num. 31.
- Midst for within, or in, or with, Gen. 2. 9. Ex. 39. 3. Deut. 19. 2.

- Might, or able strength, what it is, Gen. 49. 3.
- Milk and honey, what they signify, Exod. 3. 8.
- Miter of the high Priest, Exod. 28. 39.
- Mizpah, Gen. 31. 49.
- Mizraim, father of the Egyptians, Gen. 10. 6. and 12. 10.
- Moab, and Moabites, Gen. 19. 37. Israel might not war against them, Deut. 2. 9. &c.
- Moon, whereof named, Gen. 1. 16.
- Molech the idol described, Lev. 18. 21.
- Morijah, what place, Gen. 22. 2.
- To Morrow, for time to come, Gen. 30. 33. Exod. 13. 14.
- Morning, for first times, Gen. 49. 27. for opportunity, &c. Exod. 12. 10.
- Moses, why so named, Exod. 2. 10. his beauty, Exod. 2. 2. his meekness, Num. 12. 3. his sin and Aaron's at the waters of Meribah, Numb. 20. 12. he might not therefore enter into the promised land, Deut. 3. 24. &c. but he vieweth it before his death, Deut. 34.
- Moving thing, Sherets, what it meaneth, Ge. 1. 20.
- Mouth, for words, Gen. 24. 57. and 41. 40. and 45. 21. Mouth for interpreter, Gen. 45. 12. Ex. 4. 16.
- Mules, how invented, Gen. 36. 24.
- Murder, how to be expiated when the author is unknowen, Deut. 21. 1, &c. The murderer must die, Deut. 19. 11. Lev. 24. 17.
- Murmurings of the Israelites, Num. 14. 22.
- Muzzeling the Ox forbidden, when he treadeth out the corn, Deut. 25. 4.
- Myrrh, what it was, Exod. 30. 23.

N

- NAked, what it meaneth, Gen. 3. 7. Nakednesse, for weak places, Gen. 42. 9. Naked flesh, for the privities, Exod. 28. 42. Nakednesses, for unlawful copulations, & what they were, Lev. 18. 6, 7, &c.
- Nazirite, or Separated, Gen. 49. 26. The law for Nazarites, Num. 6. 2, &c.
- Nebo, a Mountain from whence Moses viewed the promised Land, Deut. 32. 49.

- Necromancy, or asking of the dead, forbidden, Deu. 18. 11.
- Neighbor, who he is, Exod. 20. 16.
- North-side of the Altar, the place of killing the sacrifices, Lev. 1. 11.
- Number, for few, Deut. 33. 6.

O

- OBserving of times forbidden, Deut. 18. 10.
- Observing of fortunes forbidden, Deut. 18. 10.
- Og King of Basan vanquished, Numb. 21. 33. &c. he was of the remnant of the Giants, Deut. 3. 11.
- Oile for spiritual anointing, Gen. 28. 18. Oile for the Lamps in the Sanctuary, Lev. 24. 2. &c.
- Okes religiously respected, Gen 21. 33. & 35. 4.
- One, for first, Gen. 1. 5. Exod. 26. 4. for everyone, Exod. 26. 2.
- Opening of the womb, or first-borne, sanctified, Exod. 13. 2. 12.
- Over the house, i. the Steward, Gen. 41. 40. & 43. 16. 19.
- Outspred-firmament, whereof named, Gen. 1. 6.

P

- PAdan Aram, called Mesopotamia, Gen. 25. 20.
- Palme tree, Exod. 15. 27. Boughes of Palm-trees and other the like used at the feast of Tabernacles, Lev. 23. 40.
- Passover, what it signifieth, Exod. 12. 11. the manner of eating it, Exod. 12. 8, 9, 10. the sacrifices appointed for this Feast, Numb. 28. 16, 19, &c. The Passover of sheep and oxen, differing from the Paschal Lamb, Deut. 16. 2. The Passover in the second month with the rites of it, Numb. 9. 11, 12, 13.
- Peace for salvation, Gen. 29. 6. for welfare, Gen. 37. 14. & 41. 16. & 43. 27. Peace-offerings with the Law, and signification of them, Lev. 3. & 7. 11, &c. The shoulder and breast of the Peace-offerings, were the Priests, Levite. 7. 34.
- Peculiar treasure, Exod. 19. 5.
- Pentecost, a Feast of the Jews, called weeks, Lev. 23. 15. Deut. 16. 9.

- Perfect, Gen. 6. 9. & 25. 27. Perfect or unblemished, for sacrifice, Exod. 12. 5. Lev. 1. 3. Perfection required in Israel, Deut. 18. 13.
- Pestilence described by the Hebrews, Exod. 5. 3.
- Pharan, the wilderness, Gen. 21. 21.
- Pharaoh, Gen. 12. 15.
- Philistines, Gen. 10. 14.
- Phinehas his zeal and reward, Numb. 25. 7, &c.
- Phylacteries or frontlets, what they were, and upon what ground they were used, Exod. 13. 9. 15.
- Pillar, or Statue, Matsebah, Gen. 28. 18. Lev. 26. 1. Deut. 16. 22. Pillar of cloud and fire, Exod. 13. 21. Pillars a sign of stability, Exod. 27. 10.
- Pledges or Pawnes, of their taking and restoring, Exod. 22. 26. Deut. 24. 6, 10, 17.
- Plenty for multitude, Gen. 48. 19.
- Polluted thing, Pigul, what it was, Lev. 7. 18.
- Possession, what it meaneth, Gen. 22. 17. Deut. 9. 1.
- Plowing with an Ox and an Ass for bidden, Deut. 22. 10.
- Poor to be relieved, Deut. 15. 7, &c.
- Praying, what it signifieth, Gen. 20. 7. Prayer is the service of God, Deut. 6. 13.
- Priest, what it signifieth, Gen. 14. 18. Priest or Prince, Gen. 41. 45. The high Priests offering for his sin, Lev. 4. 3, &c. The high Priests daily oblation, Lev. 6. 20. Laws for the Priests mourning, and for their holiness and marriage, Lev. 21. 1, &c. Of their blemishes, Lev. 21. 17, &c. How in their uncleanness they must abstain from the holy things, Lev. 22. 2, &c. The Priests portion of the people's offerings, Numb. 18. 9. Four and twenty gifts for the Priests, Numb. 18. 19. Priests and Levites had no part or inheritance with Israel, Deut. 10. 8, 9. & 18. 1, 2, &c.
- Prince of slaughter-men, what officer, Gen. 37. 36.
- Prophaning of God's Name forbidden, Lev. 18. 21. & 19. 12.
- Prophet, what it signifieth, Gen. 20. 7. Exod. 7. 1. A Prophet promised to Israel, and their duty to hear him, Deut. 18. 25, &c.
- Purple, Exod. 25. 4.

- Put, for Make, Gen. 13. 16. & 21. 13. & 27. 37.

Q

- QVails sent unto Israel, Exod. 16. 13. Numb. 11. 31.

R

- RAamses, a City, Exod. 1. 11.
- Rameses, a City, Gen. 47. 11. Exod. 12. 37.
- Ram, a sheep of two years, Lev. 1. 10.
- Rain signifieth Doctrine, Deut. 32. 2. Of the first and latter Rain, Deut. 11. 14.
- Rebellious son, how to be punished, Deut. 21. 18, &c.
- Red sea, whereof named, Exod. 10. 19.
- Redeeming of the first borne son, Exod. 13. 13.
- Cities of Refuge, with their privileges, Numb. 35. 11, &c. Deut. 19. 1, &c.
- Renting of clothes, a sign of sorrow, Gen. 37. 29, 34. For what causes garments were to be rent, Lev. 10. 6.
- Rephaims, Gen. 14. 5.
- Rest for sweetness, evodia, Gen. 8. 21.
- Reuben's sin and punishment, Gen. 49. 3, 4. the blessing of that Tribe, Deut. 33. 6. The inheritance of Reuben, Gad, and half the Tribe of Manasseh on the outside of Jordan, with the conditions thereof, Numb. 32.
- Reverencing the Sanctuary, and how it was observed, Lev. 19. 30.
- Rigour over servants forbidden, and what it is, Lev. 25. 43, 46.
- Robbery forbidden, Lev. 19. 13.
- Rock yielding water, and the signification thereof, Exod. 17. Numb. 21. 8, &c. Rock, the title of God, Deut. 32. 4.
- Rod of Moses, Exod. 4. 2. Rod of Aaron buddeth and beareth fruit, and is kept in the Tabernacle, Numb. 17.
- A Rulers offering for his sin, Lev. 4. 22, &c.

S

- Sabbath, what it signifieth, Gen. 2. 2. how to be sanctified, Exod. 20. 8, 9. & 31. 13, 15, 17. no fire then to be kindled, Exod. 35. 3. Sabbatism, Exod. 16. 23.
- Sackcloth, Gen. 37. 34.
- Sacrifice must be offered only in the sanctuary, Lev. 17. 3, 4, &c. Sacrifice used for peace-offerings, Numb. 15. 3. Sacrifices for sins of ignorance, but none for sins done with an high hand, Numb. 15. 22,—30. Sacrifices to be offered daily, weekly, monthly and yearly at the solemn feasts, Numb. 28. and 29. chapters.
- Sale of persons, houses, lands in Israel, with laws concerning them, Lev. 25. 25, &c.
- Salting of the Sacrifices, Lev. 2. 13. Saltness for barrenness, Deut. 29. 23.
- Sanctifying, Gen. 2. 3. Exod. 13. 2. and 19. 10. Lev. 22. 32. Sanctify for prepare, Numb. 11. 18. The Law for sanctifying houses, fields, &c. Lev. 27. 14, &c. Of sanctifying the first borne, Exod. 13. 2.
- Sarah's name interpreted, Gen. 17. 15.
- Say, for command, Exod. 4. 23.
- Scarlet, Exod. 25. 4.
- Scepter, Rod, Tribe, Gen. 49. 10, 16, 28.
- Search diligently, Gen. 44. 5.
- Seas what they are, Gen. 1. 10. Sea for the West, Gen. 12. 8.
- Secret, for Assembly, Council, Gen. 49. 6.
- See, diversely used, Gen. 16. 13.
- Seed for posterity, Gen. 3. 15. and 13. 15. Sowing divers Seeds in the vineyard forbidden, Deut. 22. 9. Seed of copulation how it defileth, Lev. 15. 16, 17, 18.
- Seir, a mount possessed by Esau, Gen. 14. 6. and 32. 3. named of a man, Gen. 36. 8, 20.
- Self-same, Gen. 7. 13. and 17. 23.
- Selling corn, called breaking, and why, Gen. 41. 56.
- Send away, what it meaneth, Exod. 4. 23.
- Serpent that beguiled Eve, Gen. 3. 1, &c. Firie Serpents bite the Israelites, Numb. 21. 6. the brazen Serpent (a figure of Christ) healeth them, Ibid. ver. 9.
- Servant, servitude, what it meaneth, Gen. 9. 25. and 25. 23. Exod. 21. 2, &c. Of smiting servants, Exod. 21. 26. Of delivering a servant to his master, Deut. 23. 15.

- Service comprehendeth prayer unto God, Deut. 6. 13.
- Seven, what it signifieth, Gen. 2. 2. Exod. 12. 15. Lev. 4. 6. Seven for a Weeke, Gen. 29. 27. Seven for many, Gen. 33. 3. The seventh year a Sabbath and year of Release, Exod. 23. 11. Lev. 25. 4. and Deut. 15. 2, &c. No beast might be sacrificed till after seven days age, Lev. 22. 27.
- Shame, what it meaneth, Gen. 2. 25.
- Shaving the hair what it signified, Gen. 41. 14.
- Shekel, what it weighed, Gen. 20. 16.
- Sheep or Flock. How sheep and goats, Gen. 4. 4. and 12. 13. Sheep of the first year, as Ram of the second, Lev. 1, 10.
- Shew-bread, why so called, Exod. 25. 30.
- Shinar, Gen. 10. 10.
- Shining of Moses face, what it signified, Exod. 34. 29, 30.
- Shoes put off, Exod. 3. 5. put on, Exod. 12. 11.
- Shortnesse of spirit, Exod. 6. 9. Shortned for lessened, Numb. 11. 23.
- Shur, a city and wilderness, Gen. 16. 7.
- Sihon vanquished, Numb. 21. 21, &c.
- Sinai, Exod. 19. 1.
- Sitting on the throne, for reigning, Exod. 11. 5.
- Smell, Gen. 8. 21.
- Smiting, for killing, Gen. 14. 17.
- Sware, what it signifieth, Exod. 23. 33.
- Sojourning, Gen. 17. 8.
- Sons, for children of all sorts, Gen. 3. 16. Son for old, and otherwise, Gen. 5. 32. Sons of God, Gen. 6. 2. Son of the house, for a home-borne slave, Gen. 15. 3. Son of the herd, for a Calse, &c. Gen. 18. 7. Son for branch of a tree, Gen. 49. 22. Sons of rebellion, that is, rebellious persons, Numb. 17. 10.
- The Song of Moses and Israel at the red Sea, Exod. 15. The Song of Moses before his death, Deut. 32

- Sorcerers, Exod. 7. 11. see Witch.
- Soul, called of breathing, and of large use, Gen. 1. 20. and 9. 4. for our natural state, Gen. 2. 7. for person, Gen. 12. 5. and 14. 21. for life, Gen. 19. 17. and 37. 21. Exod. 4. 19. for mind or will, Gen. 23. 8. for I, Thou, He, &c. Gen. 27. 4. for ones self, Deut. 4. 9. for a dead body, Lev. 19. 28. Numb. 5. 2.
- South, what it signifieth, Gen. 12. 9.
- Sowing the field with divers kinds forbidden, Lev. 19. 19.
- Spies, Gen. 42. 9. Twelve Spies sent to search the land of Canaan, Numb. 13. their evil report, Ibid. ver. 31. Deut. 1. 28.
- Spirit called the same that wind or breath, Gen. 1. 2.
- Sprinkling what it signified, Exod. 29. 21. Lev. 1. 5.
- Stablishing a covenant, what it meaneth, Gen. 6. 18.
- Striking a covenant, Gen. 15. 18.
- Standing for ministering, Gen. 18. 8. Deut. 10. 8. for continuing, tarrying, Exod. 8. 22. and 9. 28. for praying, Gen. 18. 22. for being made sure, Gen. 23. 17.
- Stiffe-necked, what it meaneth, Exod. 32. 9.
- Stirring anger, Gen. 45. 24.
- Stone, a name of honor, Gen. 49. 24. Stony tables, what they signified, Exod. 31. 18. Of Stoning to death, and the manner of it, Lev. 24. 23. The twelve precious Stones in the high Priests Ephod, Exod. 28. 17, &c.
- Strayed things and lost, are to be restored to the owners, Deut. 22. 1, &c.
- Strangers of three sorts, Exod. 12. 43, 45, 48.
- Strength for Kingdom, Gen. 49. 3.
- Strong for hard, Exod. 4. 21.
- Subduing, what it meaneth, Gen. 1. 28.
- Subtile, what it meaneth, Gen. 3. 1.
- Succoth, boothes, Gen. 33. 17. Exod. 12. 37.
- Sun, called by sundry names, and what, Gen. 1. 16.
- Superfluous foreskin, what it meaneth, Gen. 17. 11.

- Swearing, what it signifieth, Gen. 21. 31. wherefore it is used, Gen. 22. 16.
- Sword for wars, Gen. 27. 40. Exod. 5. 3.
- Synagogues and Schools of the Jews, Lev. 26. 31.
- Sin, what it is, Gen. 4. 7. Sinners for notorious wicked ones, Gen. 13. 13. Sinner unto any, for guilty, blame-worthy, &c. Gen. 43. 9. Sin, for sin-offering, Exod. 29. 14. for punishment, Lev. 22. 9.
- Sin-offerings, with their sorts and signification, Lev. 4. and 6. 25, &c.
- Syria, whereof named, Gen. 10. 22. and 24. 10. and 25. 20.
- Syrian, or Aramite, Gen. 10. 22. and 28. 5.

T

- TABernacle, what it signified, Exod. 25. 9. it is called the Tabernacle of the Tent, Exod. 40. 6. The feast of Tabernacles or Boothes, Lev. 23. 34, &c. Deut. 16. 13.
- Take, for offer, or give, bring, Gen. 15. 9. and 34. 4. and 48. 9.
- Talent, what it weighed, Exod. 25. 39.
- Tale-bearing forbidden, Lev. 19. 16.
- Task-masters, Exod. 1. 11.
- Tempting, what it signifieth, Gen. 22. 1. Exod. 15. 25.
- Ten words or commandments, Deut. 10. 4.
- Ten, for many, Gen. 31. 7. Lev. 26. 26.
- Tents and dwelling in them, what it meaneth, Gen. 4. 20. and 25. 27. Numb. 24. 5. The Tent of the Lord, Exod. 40. 19.
- Teraphims, images, Gen. 31. 19.
- Testimony for the Tables of the Law, Exod. 25. 16.
- Theft, with the punishments therefore, Exo. 20. 15. and 22. 1, &c.
- Three, and third, a mystical number, Gen. 22. 4.
- Timbrel, an instrument of mirth, Gen. 31. 27.
- Tithe, Gen. 14. 20. Laws concerning Tithes, Lev. 27. 30, &c. Tithes for the Levites, Numb. 18. 21, &c. Tithe of the Tithes given to the Priests, Numb. 18. 26. The second Tithes to be eaten by the owners before the Lord, Deut. 14. 22, 23. Those second Tithes every third year were to be given to the poor, Deut. 14. 28, 29. The confession made by him that hath given his third years Tithe, Deut. 26. 12.

- To, or Unto, for From, Gen. 36. 6. Exod. 13. 15.
- Torne things not to be eaten, Exod. 22. 31.
- Touching, for companying with a woman, Gen. 20. 4, 6 for hurting, Gen. 26. 11.
- Tree, for gallows or gybbet, Gen. 40. 19.
- Trees for special use, Gen. 21. 33.
- Trespass more than sin, Gen. 31. 36.
- Trespass-offerings, with their signification, Lev. 5. the Law thereof, Lev. 7. 1, &c.
- Tribes, whereof named, Gen. 49. 16. The mustering of the Tribes, Numb. 1. their next mustering and numbers in the fortieth year of their travel, Numb. 26. The order of the Tribes about the Tabernacle, Numb. 2.
- Trouble, Gen. 34. 30.
- Sudden trouble, Gen. 45. 3.
- Trumpets of silver, with their use, Numb. 10. 2, &c. The feast of blowing of Trumpets, Lev. 23. 23, 24
- Turtle-doves, and Pigeons, allowed for sacrifices, Lev. 1. 14.
- Twelve, the number of the Patriarchs and Apostles, Gen. 35. 22.

V

- VEile on Moses face, what it signified, Exod. 34. 33, 34, 35.
- Vessels, for all things of use, Gen. 24. 53.
- Virginity, if the want of it be laid to a woman's charge, what law is therefore, Deut. 22. 13, &c. The high Priest was to marie a wife in her Virginitie, Lev. 21. 13, 14.
- Vision, Gen. 15. 1.
- Visiting, what it meaneth, Gen. 21. 1.
- V•circumcised fruits, and the Law concerning them, Lev. 19. 23.
- The Uncleane put out of the Campe of Israel, Numb. 5. 2, &c.
- The Unicorn described, Num. 23. 22. Deut. 33. 17.

- Vnleavened cakes, what they signified, Exod. 12. 8.
- Unto and to, for from, or out of, Gen. 36. 6. Numb. ⟨◊⟩ 31. 21.
- Vowes and vowing, what? Gen. 28. 20. Vowes and voluntary offerings, wherein they differed, Lev. 7. 16. The Law for Vowes, Lev. 27 2, &c. Num. 30. Of Vowes which Parents or Husbands might break or confirm, Numb. 30. Vowes to be paid without delay, Deut. 23. 21, &c.
- Voice for fame, rumor, Ge. 45. 16. Voice attributed to blood, Gen. 4. 10. to signs, Exod. 4. 8. to thunder, Exod. 9. 23.
- Vr, what place it was, Gen. 11. 28.
- Vrim and Thummim, Exod. 28. 30.
- Usury, and laws against it, Exod. 22. 25. Lev. 25. 36.

W

- WAlking with God, what it meaneth, Gen. 5. 20. and before God, Gen. 17. 1.
- Wars of Israel, and the courage that they should have in them, Deut. 20. The new married man was not to go to war, Deut. 24. 5.
- Warfare of the Sanctuary by the Levites, why so called, Numb. 4. 3, 23.
- Washing of clothes, what it signified, Lev. 11. 25.
- Washing the inwards of the sacrifices, Lev. 1. 9.
- Water of purification with the ashes of a red Heiffer, the law and use thereof, Numb. 19.
- Watch of the night, what? Exod. 14. 24.
- Waving, what it was, and meant, Exod. 29. 24. Lev. 3. 5. The Wave sheaf, or Omer, that was to be offered at harvest, with the rites thereof, Lev. 23. 10, 11, &c.
- Way, what it signifieth, Gen. 6. 12. and 18. 19.
- Way, for custom of Women, Gen. 18. 11. God's ways what they are, Deut. 8<sup>a</sup> 6.
- Weaning, Gen. 21. 8.
- Weeks, a feast called Pentecost, Lev. 23. 15. Deut. 16. 9.
- Weighty for rich, Gen. 13. 2.
- Weights and measures to be just, Deut. 25. 13, 14, &c. Lev. 19. 35, 36.

- Whales, Gen. 1. 21.
- Whordome for idolatry, Exod. 34. 15. Lev. 17. 7.
- Wife, the same that woman, Gen. 2. 23, 24. The duties between man and wife, Exod. 21. 10.
- Wilde Ass, what kind of beast it is, Gen. 16. 12.
- Wilde beast, why so called, Gen. 1. 24.
- Wilderness, what it signifieth, Gen. 21. 14. Exod. 3. 1, 18. and 16. 1. Deut. 8. 15. The Israelites condemned to die in the wilderness, Numb. 14. 29.
- Wine forbidden the Priests in their ministration, Lev. 10. 9, 10.
- Wisemen, Philosophers, Gen. 41. 8.
- Witch or Sorburer described, Exo. 7. 11. Deut. 18. 10
- Wizards forbidden, Deut. 18. 11.
- Two Witnesses to confirm every matter, Deut. 19. 15. The punishment of the false Witness, Deut. 19. 16, &c.
- Wrestling or perverting of judgment forbidden, Exod. 23. 2.
- Woman whereof named, Gen. 2. 23.
- Womens purification after childbirth, Lev. 12.
- Wonders, whereof named, Exod. 7. 3, 9.
- Wood for the sacrifices, Lev. 1. 7.
- Words for things, Gen. 15. 1.
- Words for Commandments, Exo. 34. 28. Deu. 10. 4.

Y

- AYeere, whereof named, Gen. 1. 14. The seventh year a year of rest to the land, Lev. 25. 2. &c. The year of Jubilee, or fiftieth year, Lev. 25. 10, &c. The seventh year, debts were to be released, Deut. 15. 1, &c. In the seventh year Hebrew servants were to be set free, Deut. 15. 12, &c.
- Yesterday, for all time past, Gen. 31. 2.
- Young-men, for servants, ministers, Gen. 14. 24. Exo. 33. 11. for first-borne, Exod. 24. 5.
- Yoke, for servitude, Gen. 27. 40.

Z

- ZElophah's daughters claim their inheritance, and obtain it, Num. 27.
- Zogar, a City, why so named, Gen. 13. 10. and 19. 22.
- Zuz, a kind of money, how much, Eev. 19. 10.

Other Hebrew phrases and figures observed.

- DEfect or want of words to be supplied: as,
- Of a verb substantive, Gen. 1. 2.
- Of a verb generally, Gen. 13. 9. and 11. 4. and 23. 13. and 24. 67.
- Of a Pronoun, showing the person wanting in a verb indefinite, Gen. 6. 19. and 19. 20. and 23. 8. and 47. 29.
- A Pronoun after a verb personal, Gen. 31. 42. and 2. 19.
- Of a noun substantive, Gen. 24. 33. Deut. 33. 7.
- Of a noun substantive after an adjective, Gen. 4. 10. and 24. 32. and 25. 8. Numb. 1. 1.
- Of a noun substantive before another substantive, Gen. 11. 1. and 6. 11. and 42. 33. Exod. 25. 4.
- Of an adjective of comparing, Gen. 3. 1.
- Of a Preposition, Numb. 10. 36. Deut. 32. 43.
- Of a part of a sentence, Gen. 19. 4. Exod. 4. 5. and 13. 8. Lev. 24. 8.
- Of a Conjunction, as And, Exod. 22. 30. Or, Deut. 24. 17.
- Of a Preposition in a compounded verb, Ex. 9. 16.
- Of an Adverb of denial; not, Numb. 4. 15.

Overplus or redundancy of words, which in other languages may be omitted: as

- Of a Preposition, to, Gen. 2. 7. for, Gen. 17. 4. Gen. 7. 17. and 13. 9.
- Of a Noun, as men brethren, for brethren, Gen. 13. 8. Exod. 27. 14.
- Of a Pronoun, It, Gen. 5. 29. Me, Gen. 45. 4.
- Of a Conjunction, Gen. 8. 6. and 36. 24.

Change or putting one for another: as,

- Of Number, Singular for plural, Gen. 2. 2. and 3. 2. and 4. 20. and 10. 16. and 12. 5. Plural for singular, Gen. 21. 7. and 46. 7. 23.
- Of Gender, Gen. 4. 7. Exod. 1. 21. and 2. 17.
- Of Person, Gen. 49. 4.
- Of Time, participle present, for future, Gen. 7. 4. Pretertense, for present, or to come, Gen. 15. 18. and 17. 20.
- Of Preposition, Gen. 17. 21.
- Of Letters, Gen. 4. 18. and 10. 3. Exod. 2. 21.
- Of Order of words, Gen. 5. 6. Numb. 21. 17.
- Of Order of letters in words, Gen. 10. 3.
- Of a Pronoun, Deut. 9. 25.
- Imperative for Indicative, Gen. 20. 7.
- Indefinite for Imperative, Exod. 13. 3.
- Indefinite, for that which went before, as Indicative, &c. Gen. 6. 19.
- Indefinite, implying a person, Gen. 6. 19.
- Active Impersonally and passive, Gen. 2. 20. and 6. 20. and 16. 14. Exod. 15. 23.
- Dukes for dukedomes, Gen. 36. 30.
- Escaping, or Evasion, for a company escaped, Gen. 45. 7.
- House for household, Gen. 45. 11. 18.
- A Collective noun, with Verbe singular or plural, Gen. 22. 17. and 24. 6.
- In speech of many where one is principal, it is singular or plural, Numb. 21. 21.
- A thing generally set down, meaneth all particulars, Gen. 6. 22.
- A thing general, meaneth but some of each sort, Gen. 7. 14.
- Things denied to be done, often mean that they could not be done, Gen. 13. 6.
- Plural words and singular, note exactness, Gen. 27. 29.
- Plural words, restrained to the number before, Gen. 2. 24. they, that is, they two.
- Singular words restrained to one, Gen. 1. 27. and 3. 11.

- Questions: for
  - Affirmations, Gen. 4. 7 and 13. 9.
  - Denials, Gen. 18. 17.
  - Earnest prayers, Exod. 32. 11.
  - Deprecations, Numb. 17. 13.
- Doubling of words diversely used, as in Gen. 7. 29. 19. and 14. 10. and 14. 10. and 17. 2. and 32. 16. Exod. 8. 14. Lev. 15. 2.
- How men are said to do that which they endeavor to do, Exod. 8. 18. or, to do that which they prophesy shall be done, Gen. 49. 7. and 48. 22.

AN ADVERTISEMENT TO THE READER, TOVCHING SOME OBJECTIONS MADE against the sincerity of the Hebrew Text, and Allegation of the Rabbins, in these former ANNOTATIONS.

AMongst other vanities and vexations of spirit, Solomon observed all travel, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbor, Eccles. 4. 4. And against this kind of work of interpreting the Scriptures, there have at all times been Carpers and Opposers, of whom God's Laborers have complained. To me therefore it is not strange, that being the least of God's servants, and having so many ignorances and infirmities, such things have befallen me. And had the exceptions been against my labor only, I would have made use of them, and kept silence: but when the Adversarie (besides the wounds which thorough my sides he giveth unto many worthy men) striketh at the very Text it self, so weakening our common faith, I could not but speak, and help to remove the stumbling blocks, whereat the ignorant might be offended.

There are above eight hundred words in the Hebrew Bible, which have marginal readings, differing from the words in the line, some of great and good use in all translations, other some of special use for the Hebrew Tongue and Grammar. The words in the line have usually the pricks or vowels of the words in the margin, and so the marginal words are noted to be read. Some have judged this to be a corruption of the Text through negligence or oversight of the Seribes that wrote out Copies, whiles Printing was unknown: others of better judgment (as I suppose) esteem both line and margin to be of divine Authority.

Upon this occasion, difference and seeming contrariety sometimes are to be seen in translations, while some follow the line, some the margin, as they think best, and sometime note 〈...〉 th, yea, and translate both as the authentic text: and the same Interpreters (revising their own labors) do change the one for the other, otherwise than they did at first. To be 〈...〉 with our own; In Exod. 21. 8. our ancient English Bibles read, If she please not her Ma 〈...〉 , and he give her to no man to wife; where they followed the Hebrew in the line: but the o 〈...〉 , called the Geneva version, and the last set forth by authority, translate according to the 〈...〉 gine, If she please not her Master, who hath betrothed her to himself: The ancient English in 2 Sam. 22. 51. readeth, Which showeth great salvation for his King: The Geneva, and our latest version read, He is the tower of salvation for his King. In Job 6. 21. the Geneva saith, Surely now you are like unto it, following the Hebrew margin: but our late version, according to the line, rendereth it thus, For now ye are nothing (or are nos.) In 1 Chron. 11. 11. the Geneva version, following the margin, saith, the chief among thirty, as the Greek also of old translated it: our latter Bibles respecting the Hebrew in the line, say, the chief of the Captains; which may be confirmed by 2 Sam. 23. 8. In Dan. 9. 24. the Geneva translating the line, saith, and to seal up the sins: our new version, according to the Hebrew margin, giveth it thus; and to make an end of sins: yet noteth in the margin, Or, to seal up; and sundry the like. Examples in the same translators, are these. Tremeilius and Junius, who jointly labored in setting over the Hebrew into Latin, and are esteemed among the best; in their first Edition, following the margin, say, Abi, dic ei, &c. Go, say unto him, thou mayest certainly recover, 2 King. 8. 10. but Junius in his latter work, chooseth rather the line, saying, Abi dic non, &c. Go say, thou shalt not certainly recover. So in Ezra 4. 2. their first version hath, & eidem sacrificamus; and we sacrifice unto him: the latter thus, non enim (alteri) sacrificamus; for we sacrifice not to any other: that, according to the margin; this, to the line. In 1 Chron. 11. 20. it was first rendered, erat{que} nominatissimus, and he had a name among these three: in the last edition, Sednon (fuitei) nomen, but he had no name among these three. In 1 King. 22. 48. they first followed the margin, Iehoschaphas paravit classem, Jehoshaphat made ships: afterward Junius keepeth the line, Iehoshaphato decem (fuerunt) naves, Jehoshaphat had tenships: and sundry other of like sort, where the latter version differeth from the former, by reason of the difference between the line and the margin in the Hebrew Text.

These things, not commonly known, may cause the Readers to marvel and be offended at such variety and seeming contrariety, both in these and other common versions set forth in vulgar tongues: for no traslation almost in any language, but followeth sometimes the one, and sometimes the other; and afterward sometime varieth from it self, upon this occasion. Now I, (without prejudice to any of better judgment) setting down both, as the Reader may see, in Exod. 21. 8. Lev. 11. 21. and 25. 30. and elsewhere: and according to the measure of knowledge which God hath given me, endeavoring in the Annotations to clear the Scripture of that seeming contradiction, am publicly taxed, as setting down that which the Hebrew hath not; as making God like unto Ianus Bifrons, the Idol with twofaces, to look two divers ways at once; with other like hard imputations: and this diversity of writing and reading, is from the authority of some late Rabbin's, said to arise from corruption, confusion, doubting and uncertainty of Scribes, &c.

I will set down the reasons of my contrary judgment, without purpose of further contention; let the discreet Reader approve of what liketh him best.

If those divers readings, which the Hebrews call Keri and Cethib, be corruptions of the Scripture, they have been many of them done voluntarily and purposely, as is apparent to all of understanding that look upon them. For beside that the affirmative and the negative in this word Lo, are not one like another to deceive the eye, so often in Moses & the Prophets; it could not arise from mistaking of letters, to write Gnapholim, for Techorim, the Emrods, as in

Deut. 28. 27. & 1 Sam. 5 or Shagal for Shacab, as in Deut. 28. 30. Isaiah 13. 16. and Zach. 14. 2. Chore jonim, for Dib jonim, as in 2 King. 6. 25. Chorachem for Tsoatham; and Shenehem, for Meme raglehem, as in Isaiah 36. 12. and 2 King. 18. 27. Macharaoth, for Motsaoth, as in 2 King. 10. 27. And when Naarah a Young woman, is but 22 times used by Moses, that it should 21. times be written with want of the last letter, so that in copies wanting pricks (as many have done, and do) it might be read Naar, a young man: that these and sundry the like should be of negligence or oversight, cannot with reason be supposed. Besides that those words in the line, have there & usually the pricks or vowels of the words in the margin, after which they were read.

1 It standeth not with the wisdom, goodness and providence of God, who preserveth all his creatures, and hath magnified his Word above all his name, Psal. 138 2. that he should suffer his Word, in the original and fountain thereof, left for a peculiar treasure to his Church in all ages, to be corrupted and depraved, and that in many hundred places, to the scorn of Infidels, and offense of his weak people. The Jews which hold that God hath more care of the letters and syllables of the Law, than of the stars of heaven, will loath them that shall seek so to disgrace the holy Scripture.

2 It is noted by the Apostle, for a chief privilege of the Jews, that unto them were come <...> ted the Oracles of God, Rom. 3. 1, 2. And from them we Christians have received them. But this is no praise or advantage (as the Apostle attributeth unto them) if they have through negligence and of purpose corrupted so many places: so that the corruption (if such it be) hath spread as a Leprosy over all the Bible; there being scarce any one little book, but hath the marks of their violent hands upon it. Not any one of Moses books; not Joshua, Judges, Ruth, Samuel, or the Kings: not Job, the Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, or the Song of Songs: <...> ot Isaiah, Ezekiel, Jeremiah, the Lamentations, or almost any of the small Prophets. Not the books written after the captivity of Babylon, as the Chronicles, Ezra, Esther, Daniel, Hag <...> gai, Zaccharie: no not so much but the ten Commandments (as in Deu. 5. 10.) are tainted with this pollution. Where then is the praise of the Jew? Or where is the faithfulness of the Church of God, (the Pillar and Stay of Truth, 1 Tim. 3. 15.) if we cannot have the Oracles of God from them, with so much fidelity as we have human writings from many heathens.

3. These sixteen hundred years, whiles the Jews have been cast off from being the Church of God, and have been scattered for their sins upon the face of the earth, and have bent their studies to disprove Christianitiy; yet can they not justly be charged (to my knowledge) <...> t they have corrupted the Scripture, but the Hebrew text remaineth as it was in the Apostles days; and may we think that they were less careful or conscionable in former times, <...> iles they were God's Church, and had always some good people among them, that would have care of the Law? They have been these many years so watchful, that if any fault escape <...> e Scribe, the book is not allowable to be read in their Synagogues till it be corrected. They <...> ave these rules, that if the book of the Law do want but a letter; or, if it have but one letter <...> re than it should; or, if one letter touch another; or, if the form of any letter be so corrupted that <ϕ> cannot be read; it is a book which Children may learn on, but it may not be read publicly. 〈...〉 aimony in Sepher Torah, c. 10. And for these divers readings called Keri and Cethib (which 〈◇〉 them are accounted of Divine Authority) they say, If the word which is full be written de 〈...〉 ; or that which is defective, full: or if a word which is to be read (in the margin) be writ 〈...〉 (in the line) as it is to be read; as, if Iishcabennah be written in the place of lishgalennah (Deut. 28. 20.) or Techorim, in the place of Gnapholim (Deut. 28. 27.) or the like; the book is not allow 〈...〉 neither hath in it the holiness of the book of the Law at all; but is as a book on which children 〈◇〉 . Maim. ibidem, c. 7. s. 11. Yea so far hath their diligence extended this way, that they •ave reckoned every letter how often it is found throughout the Bible: no people on earth •ave shown like religious care of any book, as they have of the holy Scripture: that we have no reason to suspect them in former ages, whiles they inhabited Zion, out of which the Law •as to come forth unto all nations, Isaiah 2. 3.

4. Kimchi, Arias Montanus, and such as think that these divers readings were occasioned by the captivity of Babylon and calamities then upon the Jews, have little show of reason. For •beside that Kimchi himself sometimes allegeth both readings without condemning of either and showeth the meaning of both, as is to be seen in his Commentaries on Isaiah 9. 3. Ios. 19. •3. Isaiah 61. 1, &c. and Arias translateth now the line, and then the margin, and sometimes •oteth both) what are 70 years to corrupt all Copies? When as a Copy written on Parch 〈...〉 (as was their manner) will endure many 70. years entire. Jeremiah with some Jews re•amed a while in the land; Ezekiel, Daniel, and many godly men were in Babylon: may we suppose that none of them would keep the Scriptures pure? Ezra, the learned Priest and Scribe, came with the people out of Babylon; they also had Prophets, Haggai, Zecharie, and Malachi, by whom these errors (if they had been such) might have been corrected, and a 〈◇〉 Bible preserved for the Churches use. Yea, even the Books which Ezra, Danie•, Zacha 〈...〉 &c. wrote, have divers readings, as hath Moses and the former Prophets.

5. Our Savior blameth the Priests, Scribes and Pharisees, for corrupting the Law by wrong 〈...〉 pretation, Mat. 5. & 15. & 23. if they had violated and falsified the writing of the Scrip 〈...〉 would he have spared them? Or, would not he, by himself, or by his Apostles, have pro 〈...〉 a perfect canon of the Word to be left unto his Church? But we find no blame laid ••on them, for marring the Text: yea, Christ and his Apostles send all to read the Scrip 〈...〉 Luk. 16. 29. Job. 5. 39. 2 Pet. 1. 19. and our Savior confirmeth the Law unto every jot ••d little, Ma. 5. 18. all which things do persuade that the holy Text was not then corrup 〈...〉 d: and they that most labor to discredit it, cannot show how it should be corrupted since, there being besides the Apostles, many thousands of the Jews, and Churches of the Jews, that came to the Christian faith, Act. 21. 20. I am. 1. 1. and so could bring uncorrupted copies of the Scriptures with them, unto the Christian Gentiles.

6 The divers readings fore-spoken of, are such as savor not of human superstition, but to men of understanding, do show God's wisdom, as the residue of the Scripture; and good reasons have been rendered by many, as well Christian as Jewish Expositors, of both line and margin, being instead of brief Commentaries one to another: and if we cannot do the like of all, yet ought we not to condemn that we know not, but in humility to seek for further light.

7. The holy Ghost in many places approveth the Keties or readings in the margin, as where one Prophet writeth Tamor, 1 King. 9. 18. (in Greek Thamor) and noteth in the margin to read it Tadmor; another Prophet after confirmeth it, writing only Tadmor, 2 Chron. 8. 4. and there the Greek also hath Thedmor. Ieish in Gen. 36. 5. 14. is noted in the margin to be read Ieush, and so the line writeth his name in Gen. 36. 18. and in 1 Chron. 1. 35. When one writeth Ish chai, a lively man (as Vatablus noteth and interpreteth it) but warneth in the margin to read Ish chajil, a valiant man, 2 Sam. 23. 20. another Prophet writeth this marginal text only, Ish chajil, 1 Chron. 11. 22. When in speech of the first person, there is a sudden change to the third, as in 2 Sam. 22. 33, 34. his way, and his feet: that this should not seem strange, the Hebrew margin there readeth it, my way, and my feet: and this is confirmed by the Hebrew line in Psal. 18. 33, 34. Neither may we say that the former place is corrupted, seeing the Scripture useth such change of person other where, as in Deut. 5. 10. Job 18. 4. Mit. 1. 2. Psal. 59. 10. and 65. 7. Dan. 9. 4. So Duke Aljah in 1 Chron. 1. 51. is there in the margin to to be read Alvah; and so Moses wrote his name in Gen. 36. 40. Hezrai in the Hebrew margin, 2 Sam. 23. 35. is by the letters in the line Hezro, and in 1 Chron. 11. 37. only Hezro, Zaanaim in Judge. 4. 11. is read in the Hebrew margin Zaananim, and so the name is written in Ios. 19. 33. In 2 Sam. 23. 13. whereby the letters in the line, Shalishim, the Captains of the thirty went down, the margin and vowels read it Sheloshah, three of the thirty; and so it is after written Sheloshah, three, in 1 Chron. 11. 15. So, he shall take, 2 King. 20. 18. is by the vowels and margin read, they shall take; and approved in Isaiah 39. 7. He had not the name, 1 Chron. 11. 20. is read in the Hebrew margin, He had the name: and so it is written affirmatively in 2 Sam. 23. 18. In 1 Chron. 11. 11. where the Hebrew letters in the line say, Chief of the thirty, and so it is translated in the Greek Bible, and in our first English, and the Geneva verlion after it, and in the old Latin and the Spanish translations, and by Pagnine; there by the vowels, and by the Keri in the margin, it is read Chief of the Captains: for confirmation of this, another Prophet writeth it Chief of the Captains, or the Chief Captain, 2 Sam. 23. 8. and sundry other examples might be shown. The New Testament approveth also the marginal readings, for whereas Gnanijim, that is, Poor or afflicted, in Prov. 3. 34. is to be read in the margin Gnanavim, that is, Lowly, or Humble; the Holy Ghost translatheth according to the margin, in I am. 4. 6. and in 1 Pet. 5. 5. giveth grace to the Humble. Where Chas ⟨...⟩ is written in the line with † jod, a sign of the plural number, Psal. 16. 10. (so that in Bibles unvowelled it may be taken for Chadsideca, thine Holy ones; which in sundry other examples may also be observed, as in Psal. 145. 6. Eccles. 5. 1. Judge. 13. 17. 1 Sam. 24. 5. and 26. 8. D ⟨...⟩ 3. 12, 18. Ezra 10. 12. Isaiah 26. 20. Ezek. 9. 5.) there in the margin, that sign of the plur ⟨...⟩ number jod is noted to be redundant: and accordingly it is interpreted by the Spirit of God, in Act. 2. 27. and 13. 35. ton Hosion son, thine Holy one.

8. As the Jewish nation (a few late men excepted) approve of those readings in the margin, and yet hold the word in the line uncorrupted: so among Christians of all languages they have been revered, & Translatours from the Hebrew have at their discretion taken sometimes the one, sometimes the other, without condemning that which they omit. Out ‹◊

› English version translath the margin commonly, yet often noteth the other; someti <...
 › the line, and noteth also that which is in the margin, as is to be seen in 1 King. 22. 48. Ios. <
 ◇> . 12. & 15. 53. 2. King. 20. 4. & 23. 33. 2 Sam. 14. 20. Psal. 100. 3: Pro. 17. 27. Ier. 2. 20. Dan. 9. <
 › Isaiah 9. 3. and 30. 32. and suudry other places. The French version set out by the Pastors a <...> Doctors of Geneva, in Exod. 21. 8. readeth the negative, and in the margin noteth the affir <...> tive: also in Prov. 26. 2. and Psal. 100. 3. Again, in Lev. 11. 21. & 1 Sam. 2. 3. and Isaiah 63 <◇> reads the affirmative, & in the margin noteth the negative; and often other where transl <...> the one, noting the other in the margin: as in 2 Sam. 22. 51. Eccl. 9. 4. Ier. 2.
 20. & other plac <...>

The ancient Dutch version likewise observeth these readings by noting the different in <◇> <◇> , as in 1 Sam. 2. 3. 1 King. 22. 48. 2 King. 20. 4, &c. The Germane Bible set forth by <◇> , followeth sometime the line, as in Lev. 11. 21. 2 Sam. 22. 51. Psal. 100. 3. 2 King. 20. <◇> . Isaiah 9.
 3. and 49. 5. and 63. 9. Job. 6. 21, &c. sometime the margin, as in Exod. 21. 8. Lev. 2. 30. Job 13. 15.
 2 Sam. 23. 13, &c. sometimes by the annotations explaineth both, as in Ier. 2. 20. 2 Sam. 14. 21. and 18. 13. Dam. 3. 12. Nehem. 3. 30, 31. The Spanish translation also followeth the line, in Exod. 21. 8. Ps <...> 100. 3. 2 Sam. 14. 22. Isaiah 9. 3. and 49. 5. and 63. 9, &c. <◇> it followeth the Hebrew margin, 10 Lev. 11. 21. and 25. 30. 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 King 8. 10. <◇> 4: Job 6. 21. and sometime by marginal annotation also toucheth them both, as Job 13. 15. Ezek. 32. 32.

The Latin versions differ not from this. Tremellius and Junius follow the one, or the o•her indifferently, as they like best, and sometimes note both, as in Psal. 11. 1. Flee thou, or, Flee ye:
 and Junius afterward changeth the one for the other, as in some instances is before shown, and moe might be produced.

The Tigurine Latin version dealeth as the former, but more frequently noteth the other <...
 › eading, as in Dan. 9. 24. ad consummandum, to make an end: or, ad obsignandum, to seal up: in Job. 13. 15. non expectarem; or, eum expeotarem: so in Isaiah 63. 9. 1 Sam. 2. 3. Pro. 17. 27. and other places.

Pagnine followeth the line in Exod. 21. 8. Ios. 8. 12, 16. 2 King. 8. 10. Psal. 100. 3. Pro. 19. 7. <...> des.
 9. 4. and 12. 6. Isaiah 49. 5. Ier. 2. 20. again he leaveth the line, and followeth the He <...> in the margin, in Lev. 11. 21. Ios. 5. 1. 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 Sam. 16. 18. Dan. 9. 24. 2 King. 20. 4. 1 King. 22. 48.
 Pro. 17. 27. Ezek. 42. 16. and 3. 15, &c. Arias Montanus and his assistants that <...> boured to reduce Pagnines version to a more exact agreement with the Hebrew; do with <◇> sometime translate the line, as in Psal. 100. 3. 2 King. 8. 10. Pro. 19. 7. Eccl. 9. 4. Isaiah 49. 5. <◇> .
 <◇> . 20. sometime they render the margin, not the line, as in Lev. 11. 21. 1 King. 22. 48. <◇> .
 17. 27. 1 King. 12. 33. Ezek. 3. 15. & 42. 10. Sometime they change the one for the other, <◇◇>
 Lev. 25. 30. 1 Sam. 2. 3. & 20. 2. 2 Sam. 16. 18. Dan. 9. 24. and often. Yet sometime they <...> e by a marginal note warn of both readings, as in Exod. 21. 8. Eccles. 12. 6. 2 Sam. 12. 9.

Vatablus in his Latin annotations giveth notice often of these divers readings, as may be 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 Sam. 23. 20. Psal. 11. 1. Ezra 4. 2. Job 13. 15. Eccles. 9. 4. and 12. 6. Isaiah
 17. 27, &c.

Expositors in their Commentaries do the like. Calvin in his Comment on Moses, on Exod. . 8. seanneth the two contrary senses of Lo the affirmative, and Lo the negative; showing the ing if it be taken affirmatively, or if it be taken negatively, which latter he liketh best. Like in his Prelections on Isaiah 63. 9. reading the affirmative, he noteth in the margin the ne : and on Ier. 2. 20. I will not serve, or, I will not transgress, for there is (saith he) a dou reading. Peter Martyr in his Commentary on 1 Sam. 2. 3. saith, Sed quantum ex Hebraeo li , &c. It appeareth by the Hebrew, that this clause may be read both affirmatively and negatively, of the word Lo. If it affirmeth, it must be referred unto God, whose works are firm and : but if it denieth, it respecteth men's endeavors, which come to naught, &c. Jerome the dest of the Fathers in his age, reading that in Isaiah 63. 9. according to the line, In all their he was not afflicted, saith in his Commentary on that place, Lo, is an adverb of deny , and may be read Not, and also He: that the meaning may be, In all their affliction he was afflicted, to wit, God: so that he should bear not our sins only, but also our afflictions.

Now if these (and other Interpreters which might further be alleged) had judged these di s readings in the Hebrew, to be Jewish corruptions, they might not, and it is to be thought would not have taught men sometime the one, sometime the other, and sometime either , for the pure Word of God, and Text of holy Scripture.

• the we to the ancient versions, and we shall see the like. The old Latin, though in sun y places of these divers readings it followeth the word in the Hebrew line, as in Isaiah 9. 3. 49. 5. and 63. 9. Psal. 100. 3. Pro. 19. 7. 2 Sam. 22. 51. Ier. 2. 20. 2 King. 5. 12. yet doth it commonly translate the word that now standeth in the Hebrew margin, as in Exod. 18. 8. Lev. 11. 21. 1 Sam. 2. 3. 2 King. 8. 10. Job 13. 15. Prov. 26. 2. Ios. 5. 1. and 8 12. and 15. •7. 1 King. 22. 48. 2 King. 20. 4. Ier. 21. 12. Ezek. 3. 15. and 25. 7. and 42. 16. and in many places.

The Chaldee Interpreters (of whom Jonathan that translated the Prophets, is as ancient as Apostles days, if not more) they likewise sometime express the word in the line, as in Ios. 9. 7. & 18. 24. 2 Sam. 22. 51. 2 King. 20. 18. Job 6. 21. Prov. 26. 2. & 19. 7. Isaiah 63. 9. but usually they follow the Hebrew margin, as in Exod. 21. 8. Lev. 11. 21. & 25. 30. Gen. 30. 11. Deut. 28. 27• 30. Ios. 5. 1. & 8. 12. 16. & 15. 47. 2 Sam. 16. 18. & 23. 21. Psal. 100. 3. Eccles. 9. 4. 2 King. 8. 10. Isaiah 9. 2. & 49. 5. Job 13. 15. Ier. 2. 20. & 21. 12. Ezek. 3. 15. & 25. 7. & 42. 16. and in most other places.

Likewise the Greek Bible, as now we have it, translateth according to the line, in Exod. 21. 8. Ios. 9• 7. Psal. 100. 3. 2. Sam. 22. 51. 1 King. 9. 18. King. 5. 12. Isaiah 63. 9. Prov. 17. 27. & 19. 7. Ier. 2. 20. and in any places according to the margin, as Lev. 11. 21. & 25. 30. Ezra 4. 2. 2 King. 20. 4. & 8. 10. 1 Sam. 20. 2. 1 King. 1. 47. & 22. 48. Isaiah 9. 3. & 49. 5. 2 Sam. 23. 18, 21, 35.

and elsewhere. So that whether we respect the latter, or the most ancient Translators, we shall find these marginal readings to be many of them regarded as the authentic text: and if we may not refuse them all (except we will go against all that ever interpreted Scripture) what warrant have we to condemn any, being all of like authority?

Object. But if these translate according to the margin only, or according to the Text only, then do they afford unto us not both the divers readings, but one only, &c.

Answ. Were it so, that they never yielded us but one only, yet seeing they take that one sometime from the Text in the line, but most commonly from the margin, it may teach us not to reject those marginal notes, as the Rabbin's fictions; unless we will say, that all men, in all ages, have delivered the Rabbin's traditions instead of the pure Word of God. And it would be known of this Excepter (for he hath not shown his mind) whether he would have men always to follow the word in the line, or that in the margin, or to take that which they think best of either, and to condemn the other; and what warrant men have so to do. But many of the best translations do afford us both, if not in the line (which is not easy to be done) yet by an or in the margin, as may be seen in our last Englished Bible, where in many of the places before alleged they do by a marginal note compared with a line, give us a different, and sometimes (in seeming) a contrary reading: and the like (though perhaps not so frequently) is done by Bibles in other languages. Yea sometimes (when both readings may be joined in one) they do give us both jointly for the Text of Scripture. Witness our last English Bible, which in Prov. 19. 7. rendereth both negative and affirmative (according both to the Hebrew line and margin) they are wanting to him: whereas our former version was only after the negative in the line, they will not. And before them, the Pastors of Geneva in their French version, translate both line and margin in the same place, though in another sense, •la'y a que paroles pour lui. Likewise in Isaiah 9. 3. reading in French according to the Hebrew margin, Tului as accreu la joy: they note thereby another translation implying both line and margin, Ou, ma is tu ne lui as point baill'e plus grande joy. Again, in 2 Sam. 23. 13. they first translate according to the margin reading, trois d'entreles trente capitaines: and by it they note, according to both margin and line, Ou, les trois principaux capitaines par dessus les trente.

Tremellius and Junius, besides that they translate either indifferently (as is before shown) and sometime note the Masorites observation, as on 1 Sam. 27. 8. Girzeum, pro Gezer, transposit is liter is, literis, ut nota Massoritae; and likewise express the Hebrew line in their line, and the margin in their margin, as Abana and Amana in 2 King. 5. 12. and read the word which is written in the margin, and hath but the vowels only in the line, as in 2 King. 19. 31. Ie 〈...〉 of hosts; and in Ruth 3. 5. & 3. 17. 2 Sam. 16. 23. 2 King. 19. 37. they also join both line and margin in their text, when commodiously they can; as in Ios. 8. 12. where the line hath is, the City; and the margin Ai, the proper name; they put both in their Text, the city Ai: and so again in v. 16. In Prov. 23. 26. where the word in the line is derived of Ratsah to be will 〈...〉 and that in the margin noted to be read, is of Natsar to keep; they join both in their version studiose custodiant, studiously (or willingly) keep: where the Greek and Chaldee, and 〈◇〉 translations follow the margin only. In 1 King. 16. 26. where the line hath the form plural, in his sins, and the margin the singular, in his sin; they render both in their translation, in singulis peccatis ejus, in all or every of his sins. So in Dan. 9. 12. every of his words where both line and margin are joined in one. Likewise in Eccles. 5. 1. Keep thy foot, or, ⟨◇⟩ feet: they express it, Pedem utrumque tuum. Also in Ezek. 42. 16. where the margin ⟨◇⟩ Meoth, hundred; and the line ammoth, cubits; Tremellius and Junius give these both as ⟨◇⟩ Text of God, Quingent•ru• cubitorum calamis, reeds of five hundred cubits.

The Tigurine Latin version, in 1 King. 22. 48. where the marginal Hebrew is Asah, ⟨◇⟩ ⟨...⟩ de; and the lineal Asar, ten; putteth these both for divine Scripture, Fecit decem naves, ⟨...⟩ de ten ships. Again in 2 Sam. 23. 13. from the marginal word Sheloshah, three; and the other in the line Shalishim, Princes or Captains; it giveth a translation compounded of both, ⟨...⟩ istiprincipes, these three Princes. There also our last English Interpreters translating And three of the thirty, put in their margin, Or, the three captains over the thirty. Moreover in Isaiah 61. 2. where Pekach koach in two words, or Pekachkoach in one word, is referred to the release of prisoners, or opening of the eyes of the blind; the said Tigurine version following the Evangelist Luke 4. 18. rendereth both, vincis apertionem, & (caecis) visum: opening (or deliverance) to the captives, and recovery of sight to the blind. And those two interpretations of the Evangelist, may give light to this controversy: and by this means (rather than by any other that I know) may that place in the New Testament be cleared. Zwingli in his Latin version of the Psalms, expresseth both the marginal Hebrew Caris, and the word in the line Caari, in Psal. 22. 17. translating frangit man us & pedes meos instar leonis, breaketh my hands •nd my feet like a Lion. And Arias Montanus (one whom my adversary citeth on his side) in his poetical Psalms, doth the like, Perfod•re meas cum pedibus manus Frenuens unguibus ut leo.

Munster on 2 Sam. 23. 13. giveth both readings together, as doth the Tigurine version, of Sheloshah and Shall•shim, saying, Descenderunt vero tres isti principes, &c. And in 1 King. 22. 48. fecit decem naves. The Greek Bible in Dan. 9. 24. rendereth first the line, Kai tou sphragisai ha ⟨...⟩ as, and to seal up sins; then the margin, Kai apaleipsai tas anomias, and to wipe out (or ⟨◇⟩ away) iniquities: and then proceedeth with the sentence following, and to make reconciliation for iniquity. So it seemeth to have reference unto both readings in Judge. 19. 3. & Pro. 26. 2.

The Chaldee paraphrast in Psal. 22. 17. translateth both Caru the margin, and Caari the ⟨◇⟩ , saying, Nichthin hec cearja, they did bite like a Lion: and in 2 Sam. 23. 13. (the place before mentioned) by Tlatha gibbaraja, three mighty men, it expresseth both readings. Now seeing all these have thus done before me, how is it that I only should have such blame imputed •nto me?

Object. You make God like unto Janus Bifrons, the idol with two faces, to look two divers ways at once, in these divers and contrary readings of the same Text.

Answ. 1. A Turk or Infidel might thus object against all Christian translations, which sometime read one contrary to another, sometime contrary to themselves, and sometime give both readings, as before is shown.

2. A Jew may so object against the New Testament, which alleging the testimony of the Prophet, thou Bethlehem Ephratah art little, Mic. 5. 2. expresseth it by the negative, thou Bethlehem art not the least, Mat. 2. 6.

3. If it please God in the same speech to look divers or contrary ways, in divers respects; What is man that he should plead against the Lord? There is no absurdity, to a modest mind, whether with the Greek and other common Interpreters we read the negative in the line, He hath made us, and not we: or, the affirmative in the margin, He hath made us, and his ⟨◇⟩ are, Psal. 100. 3. as the Chaldee, Jerome, and some other do explain it. Whether according to the line, we read Though he slay me, should I not trust? or after the margin, Though he slay me, I will trust in him, Job 13. 15. for both these are one in effect; as, hath not my hand ••de all these things? Act. 7. 50. is the same that My hand hath made all these things, Isaiah 66. 2. So in 1 Sam. 2. 3. the negative in the line may be referred unto men, the affirmative in the margin unto God, as Peter Martyr accordeth them. So other seeming contrarieties in Isaiah 9. 3. & 49. 5. & 63. 9. and other places have been both by Christian and Jewish Expositors reconciled by referring them to divers things or persons. Yea thus the Holy Ghost himself teacheth us: for in 2 Sam. 23. 18. Abishai is said to have the name among the three: but after in ⟨◇⟩ Chron. 11. 20. it is written, that he had not the name among the three: and so Junius and A ⟨◇⟩ Montanus translate it. The reason hereof is, that the Scripture speaketh of two threes, the first and the second: among the second he had the name, Howbeit he attained not unto the (first) ••ree, as is expressly said in 2 Sam. 23. 19. To signify this, God by the latter Prophet saith, he ⟨◇⟩ ••t the name; yet noteth therewith in the margin, that he had the name, 1 Chron. 20. and showeth the reason in verse. 21. Of the three (to wit, the latter three) he was more honorable ⟨◇⟩ the two, and was their captain; howbeit he attained not to the three, to wit, the first three. Thus we see how both readings are approved of God himself, and even such as in show may ⟨...⟩ me one repugnant to another. The like I have before shown in sundry other places.

Object. many Hebrew Bibles want thes readings you speak of; as that by Sebast. Munster; the great Edition by Plantine; those by Rob. Stephanus, Raphelengius, and R. Isaac bar Shim•on: so that we may say with as good reason as you, that the Hebrew hath them not.

Answ. It followeth not, because some have printed the Bible without these marginal notes, therefore they were not in the original Copies. Some of our latter small English Editions have none of the marginal notes, or signification of both readings: to say therefore that the Translators affixed no notes of those divers readings, (as in the former Editions are to be seen,) were to do them wrong. 2 Many Hebrew Bibles are printed also, and heretofore written without any pricks, vowels, or accents: if we shall hereupon conclude, therefore the Hebrew hath them not, and they are not of Divine authority; we magnify the Jewish Rabbins greatly, in accepting their expositions for Scripture. For all men that know that tongue, know also, that without the vowels and accents, many words and sentences may otherwise be interpreted than they are. And all Translators in all languages do now follow the Hebrew as it is vowelled. 3. The Editions spoken of by Munster, Plantine, and the rest, such of them as I have seen, have the vowels which properly belong to the words in the margin, and agree not with the words in the line, as in 2 King. 6. 25. and 10. 27. and 18. 27. and many other places, which argue those books to be imperfect, which have vowels to be read with consonants that are not expressed, or fit for them. 4 If the marginal readings be omitted, some Scriptures will not easily be read with any true and perfect sense, as in Ezek. 42. 16. five cubits, for five hundred: so 2 Chron. 11. 18. 1 King. 12. 33. Psal. 22. 17. 1 Sam. 4. 13. and other like, which no Interpreter that ever I saw hath expounded without the margin. 5 Munster (who is first named) omitteth not the marginal readings wholly; for in the Hebrew Bible which he set forth with his Latin version and annotations, there he conjoineth both line and margin in his translation, 2 Sam. 23. 13. and 1 King. 22. 48. and often he expresseth both the line and margin in his Hebrew, and translateth after the margin, as in 2 Sam. 23. 18, 20, 21. 2 King. 19. 31, 37. and elsewhere.

Object. But the Masorites Bible have a thousand superstitions more, which by like warrant are there recorded unto us as divine traditions, &c. The Thalmudists also have another vile practice, their all tikri, in changing and altring the reading of the Scripture according to their lust, as in Gen. 2. 4. Psal. 3. 7. and 68. 18. &c.

Answ. It cannot be shown (for ought that I know) that ever the Jewish nation received the other Masoritically notes, or the all tikries, for part of the Canon, or text of Scriptures, as they have done all the books of the Old Testament, with the Keries in the margin, which they reckon 848 in number. Neither can it be shown that Translators old or new, have rendered them for divine Scripture, as I have before shown all of them to have translated the Keries, or marginal readings in very many, yea in the most places. Neither are those notes and all tikries approved by the Holy Ghost in other Scriptures, as sundry of the marginal readings are before shown to be. Neither have the Thalmudists, or any Jew (to my knowledge) put the all tikri for the word in the Text: but leave the Scripture entire as it is, & give the other but as their gloss or exposition, after that their manner of phrase, which is not to be approved. And the Masorites many notes, have their Grammatical use for the Hebrew tongue: though the Bible is perfect without them, and translations in other languages need them not.

Object. If these (divers readings) were written by the Spirit of God as you will have it, then must they be for our learning and instruction, for increase of our comfort and hope, Rom. 15. 4 but if you cannot show that there is a certain and sure way to gather necessary doctrine from the• for our edification, then have we no reason to think with you, that they are any part of the Scriptures of God, or written by the Spirit of God.

Answ. All Translators old and new will have many of them to be written by the Spirit of God, as by their versions and notes hath been manifested; yea, and the Spirit of God him-self by other Prophets hath confirmed sundry of them: and they are all (for ought that hath been yet shown) of equal authority. 2 If I, or another man cannot show a sure way to gather necessary doctrine from everyone of them, it followeth not that therefore a sure way could not heretofore, or cannot now, or shall not here after be shown by any. 3 From many of them, both doctrine and comfort hath soundly been gathered by sundry men: the like (I doubt not) may be done from the rest, as God shall furnish men with more abundan•• of his Spirit.

Object. If it were true, that Keri and Chethib were both written by the Spirit of God, &c. then do you herein declare yourself to be guilty of great sin, treachery and unfaithful dealing with the Scriptures, in that you do leave out divers parts of the same at your pleasure, &c. as in Gen. 8. 17. and 10. 19. and 25. 23. and 27. 3, &c.

Answ. 1. This reason (if it be of weight) woundeth not me alone, but thorough my sides, all ancient and latter Interpreters, that have read, noted, or expounded some of them, as is formerly manifested; for none hath ever read or noted them all. Though this be no excuse for me, wherein I have done amiss.

2 Those marginal readings do many of them concern the Hebrew tongue and Grammar, which however they may be of great and good use for the Hebrews, and such as know that tongue; yet are they not of such use in other languages. When Arjeh a Lion, is noted to be read Ari a Lion, in 2 Sam. 23. 20. it showeth in the Hebrew tongue an agreement with 1 Chron. 11. 22. where it is written only Ari: but in other tongues which write the name of a Lion but one way, it hath not such use. When Shenajim (in statu absoluto, as Grammarians call it) is noted to be read Shene (in statu constructo,) 2 King. 17. 16. both which in English signify two, which word with us varieth not the form as doth the Hebrew: when Anu is by the margin to be read Anachnu in Ier. 42. 6. both which in our language signify We: when in the night, Lam. 2. 19. is by the letters in the line belel, and by the vowels and margin ballajlab, both which signify one thing; and many the like; as in 1. King. 18. 5. and 19. 4. and 21: 8. 2 King. 7. 12. and 11. 20. and 15. 25. Isaiah 54<sup>a</sup> 16, &c. these differences may be profitably observed by them that know that first tongue; but in other speeches cannot so be discerned. So the order of the Hebrew Alphabet is set down of God in some Psalms, and in Jeremiah's Lamentations: which when the Hebrew is turned into other tongues, will not so appear. And thus Hotse in Gen. 8. 17. being to be read by the vowels and margin Hojtse, bring forth; Gojim, nations, being written in the line with jod, and read in the margin with vau, in Gen. 25. 23. and sundry the like; because they so specially belong to the Hebrew tongue, and vary not in our English, I have therefore omitted to speak of. And if this reason be not of weight, let me bear my deserved blame: but let not the book of God be accused of corruption. And let the judicious and learned Reader judge of that which hath been said.

Of the Hebrew Records.

WHiles the Jews Common-wealth did stand, they had besides the writings of Moses and the Prophets, (which were of Public and Divine authority) other civil Monuments, and private Records, (as all Kingdoms for the most part have,) for their use; some of which are mentioned in the holy Scriptures, Ios. 10. 13. 1 Kin. 11. 41. and 14. 19, 29. But those ancient stories are now lost; some that were written between the times of the last Prophets, and the Apostles, yet remain; as the two books of the Maccabees, and that which Junius calleth the book of Simeon (others, the third of the Maccabees,) the writings of Josephus, Philo, and the like. When the second Temple was destroyed by the Romans, and the Jews Common-wealth overthrown, and their people scattered, about the year of Christ 150. R. Judah hannasi began to gather the private writings, notes, records and observations which were in the hands of the Doctors of his time, and to compile them in one volume: others after him added moe unto them, with their own Commentaries; which work they called the Talmud, or Doctrinal. In which they have recorded the practice of the Law from old time, in their Common-wealth and Church, according to their understanding: but so, as many Jewish fables, vain traditions received from their fathers, and false expositions of the Scriptures, are mixed with other things of better note and use. The Talmud called Ieruselemi, was finished about the year of our Lord 230. and the other called Babeli, about the year 500. according to the Canons and constitutions whereof the Jews live to this day. These longsome volumes were after abridged by Moses son of Maimon, (called Maimonides, and Rambam) who lived 1200. years after our Lord's birth; and he set down in plainer Hebrew, the expositions, canons and traditions according to which they had interpreted the Law of God given by Moses, and practiced the same: omitting the discourses, fables, disputes, &c. wherewith the Talmud is re•erced And this Maimonides is of such esteem among the Jewish nation, that of him it is said, From Moses (the Prophet) to Moses (son of Maimon) there was none like this Moses. Other Expositors they have, some ancient as the Chaldee paraphrasts, of which Jonathan that interpreted the Prophets, is reported to be the Scholar of Gamaliel, at whose feet our Apostle Paul learned the Law: and Onkelos who paraphrased on the Law, was not long after him. Their latter Writers follow for the most part the Thalmuds: and notwithstanding the many fables and falsehoods that are found generally in them, yet for the many good things and probable truths which from elder days they do record, they have been and are regarded of Christian Writers heretofore, and at this day: that of them it is said, When they do well, they are the best Expositors; and when they do evil, they are the worst.

Now whereas I have alleged many of their interpretations, especially from the Greek and Chaldee, and Maimonides the chiefest of esteem among them; I am for this blamed, those Writers generally condemned; and to make them the more odious, their heresies, fables, falsehoods are displayed, by him, that from two or three late Rabbin's, and one Papist, disputed against the sincerity of the Hebrew Text, as before is to be seen. I will not speak of the things by me noted, but leave them to the judgment of the indifferent Reader; nor justify myself for all their allegations, because they being taken from that confused heap of the Jews traditions, some of them may haply savor too much of their leaven: They that have labored in this kind before me, have had their second thoughts, & altered both their own Annotations and translations in sundry points, as their public writings manifest. But that such a general censure should pass upon them all, (for my sake) and the Wheat should be plucked up because of the Tares, seemeth not to proceed from love, nor from, a sound judgment.

And first, the esteem which all Christian Churches have had, and yet have, of such books of the Jewish Rabbin's as were written in Greek, and so came to be known more easily than other Chaldee and Hebrew works, might somewhat allay the rigor of this sentence. For the story of the Maccabees, Ecclesiasticus, Wisdom, and the other Apocryphal writings of the Jews, notwithstanding the evils in them, have been, and are translated, commented upon, and commended to be read for instruction.

2 Other of the Rabbin's, as the Talmud, Maimonides, and the like, have been also by Expositors of the Scriptures (and those of the best esteem) occasionally alleged: as Tremellius in his notes upon his version of the New Testament out of Syriac, sundry times produceth them. Beza in his large Annotations on Matth. 26. noteth from Josephus, Paulus Burgensis, Tremellius, and Scaliger, sundry rituals of the Jews about the Passover, and some such as I am taxed for, because I name them on Exod. 12. Vatablus often recordeth the expositions of the Chaldee and learned Hebrews. And how many other have done the like in their Notes and Commentaries, all men of learning and reading do well know.

3 To object the Jews heresies, fables, and false expositions of many Scriptures, is no sound reason to condemn the good things which are found in them. For even among Christian writers (and those of the ancients) sundry such things are to be seen: yet many profitable things are found in them for the opening of the Scriptures. In the Apostles days the Jews were guilty of these sins, Matth. 15. and 23. chap. Rom. 10. 3. Tit. 1. 14. 2 Pet. 1. 16. Yet Christ commanded to hear the Scribes & Pharisees sitting in Moses chair, Mat. 23. 1, 2. Now the ear trieth words, as the mouth tasteth meat, Job 34. 3. and as by hearing their speeches, the godly wise might discern when they taught according to Moses, and when they spake of themselves; so by reading their writings, men of understanding may do the like at this day.

4 The Apostles also in alleging sometimes the testimonies of the Rabbin's, do teach us that their writings are not wholly to be despised. Paul nameth Iannes and Jambres the chief sorcerers of Egypt, 2 Tim. 3. 8. out of the private Records of the Jews, as may yet be read in their Talmud. He rehearseth the persecutions of the godly under Antiochus, recorded in the book of the Maccabees, Heb. 11. 35, &c. Others speak of the contention between Michael and the devil, about the body of Moses; and of the prophesy of Enoch, Jude v. 9. 14, 15. of the marriage between Salmon and Rachab, Matth. 1. 5. and the like, Acts 5. 36. 37.

5. The Gentiles were fallen from God, and turned his truth into a lie, and corrupted religion with their fables and vanities, Rom. 1. yet the Holy Ghost citeth and maketh use of 〈◊〉 sayings in the Scriptures, Acts 1. 7. 28. 29. 1 Cor. 15. 33. Tit. 1. 12. And who hath ever interpreted the visions of Daniel, and of the Apostle John in the Revelation, without the help of the stories of the Maccabees, Josephus, Polybius, Eusebius, & other human Writers? Wherefore, as I myself have reaped light and profit by the things which I have read in such, so have I noted sundry of them, for the good of others. As for the Exceptions taken against the Greek version of the Bible, (so much approved by the holy Ghost in the New Testament) and the Chaldee paraphrases, they are such, as before men of knowledge and understanding need no further reply.

Of the interpretation of the stone Iahalom, in Exod. 28. 18.

I Will only annex a few words about a place of Scripture, for the interpretation whereof I am specially blamed. It is for expressing the Hebrew Iahalom, in Exod. 28. 18. by the Greek name Sardonix, as I understand the Holy Ghost to expound it, in Revel. 21. 20. I am asked for proof or show of proof, that John did translate all the 12. stones from Aaron's breast, 〈◊〉 the heavenly Jerusalem, (in Rev. 21.) and am charged with presumption in obtruding my conceits upon the Holy Ghost, and taking the name of God in vain: & it is affirmed, that Iahalom should be translated the Adamant or Diamond, according to the example of the best Translators both new and old.

All men of any reading do know how diversely those 12. stones in Exod. 28. are expressed by Interpreters, that scarcely any two agree together; if then among many I have somewhere missed in interpreting them, it might be imputed to human infirmity, rather than to presumption, especially seeing I ground my exposition upon that other Scripture, Revel. 21. My proof, or show of proof, that the holy Ghost there translateth the 12. stones from Exod 28. is this:

1. The continual course of the Spirit of God throughout that book of the Revelation, which is to take matters, words and phrases, from Moses and the Prophets, and apply them to the things there prophesied. As in Revel. 4. the Church is described from the ancient figure the Tabernacle of Moses, and from the visions of other Prophets, Isaiah. 6. Ezek. 1. The number of 24. Elders, according to the lots and divisions of the Priests and Levites by David, in 1 Chron. 24. 3,—19. and 25. 7,—31. The four living creatures answerable in number to the four standards in the campe of Israel, Numb. 2. in shape, to the living creatures, in Ezek. 1. In Rev. 5. Christ is shown like a Lamb slain, according to the sacrifice under the Old Testament. In Revel. 6. God's administration is set forth by the similitude of horses and riders, as in Zach. 1. and 6. and with such judgment as the Prophets threatened of old, Isaiah. 34. 4. In Revel. 7. God's people are sealed on their foreheads, according to Eze. 9. 4. and the twelve tribes of Israel are expressed by their names. And so in other things throughout that book, as the studious Reader may observe, which for brevity I will now omit. If then the whole tenor of that Revelation be to prophesy of matters from former types and predictions, it is consonant and proportionable that the like is done in Revel. 21.

2. And that 21. Chapter foretelling the restauration of the Church, after the fall of Antichrist, and withal (as the best Expositors have opened it) of the calling again of the Jews, according to the prophesies of old, and of our Apostle in Rom. 11. it is not likely, but the holy Ghost, who throughout those visions, and in matters concerning the Gentiles, alludeth to the Old Testament, would much rather do the like where he prophesieth of the Jews.

3. Many particulars in that Chapter confirm this; as when the Church is called by the ⟨◇⟩ name Jerusalem, Revel. 21. verse. 2, 10. and the Tabernacle of God, verse. 3. when express mention is made of the names of the ⟨◇⟩ tribes of Israel, to be at the twelve gates, v. 12. when the City is measured (according to the visions of old, Ezek. 40. 3.) with a reed, ver. 1. when God and the Lamb are called the Temple of it, verse. 22. and sundry the like.

4. It will not be denied (I suppose) by men of under standing which compare the Scriptures, that these last visions of John have reference in many things to the last visions of Ezekiel. As the gates of the City have their names of the tribes of Israel, which there are expressed, one of Reuben, one of Judah, one of Levi, &c. ⟨◇⟩ 48. 31, &c. so the gates of this C ⟨...⟩ which John saw, have at them the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel, Rev. 21. 12. There, waters issue out of God's house, Ezek. 47. ⟨◇⟩ so here is a pure river of water of life, Rev. 22: 1. There, trees grow by the river, Ezek. 47. 12. here, the tree of life, Rev. 22. 2. with other things concordant. So that the state of the Church there being described from Israel, and the possession of the tribes by name, Ezek. 48. yieldeth strong probability of the like allusions here; and consequently of the twelve precious stones, to the stones of the tribes, which are nowhere named but by Moses in Exodus.

5. And this the rather, because as Aaron's ornaments were for glory and beauty, Exod. 28. 2. so these stones are for garnishment to the foundations of the walls of the City, Rev. 21. 19. And the Tabernacle of Moses was walled (as we may say) with the twelve Tribes which compassed it in a square, Numb. 2. Now, seeing the Saints are compared to precious stones, Lam. 4. 1, 2, 7. 1 Pet. 2. 5. unto what company rather than to the twelve tribes, described by their precious stones in Aaron's Ephod, may we think hath the Lord reference in Rev. 21.

6. Again, seeing the names of the Lambes twelve Apostles are in the foundations of this wall, Rev. 21. 14. which Apostles are answer able to the twelve Patriarchs of the tribes, both in number (so noted by the Spirit of God, v. 12. 14.) and in propagation of the Church spiritually by the Gospel, 1 Cor. 4. 15. Gal. 4. 19. 3 John. v. 4. as the Patriarchs were fathers of the ancient Church, both in the flesh, and in the Lord; and in government, as the other governed the Tribes, Psal. 45. 16. Matth. 19. 28. 1 Cor. 4. 19, 21. besides other things wherein they may be compared, it seemeth most fit, and according to the things both in this Chapter, & whole Book, that the precious stones by which these twelve foundations are described, should be answerable to the twelve precious stones whereon the names of the Patriarchs were graved, Exod. 28. for there is no place else in the Scripture whereto they can have reference.

7. Moreover, there is in the Prophets another name of the Adamant, or Diamond, called in Hebrew Shamir, which is noted of the Holy Ghost to be hard, even harder than flint, Zach. 7. 12. Ezek. 3. 9. and to be of use for graving, Ier. 17. 1. so that the special things which mine Opposite observeth from Pliny an heathen writer, of the nature of the Adamant, are by the testimony of God found in this Shamir. And it is translated the Adamant, by consent of the most Interpreters both old and new, and by the Greek version in Ier. 17. 1. that if the voices of learned men may end this controversy, there be as many or moe for Shamir to be the Adamant, than can (I suppose) be brought for Iahalom. And the same Prophet which useth Shamir for the Adamant, when he hath reference to the stones on the Ephod, retaineth the names in Exodus, & the Iahalom among them, Ezek. 3. 9. and 28. 13. Wherefore if Shamir be the Hebrew name of the Adamant, the stone Iabal'm in Exo. 28. may well be another than it; and if another, where may we safer seek it than in Rev. 21. for the reasons before shown?

That which is alleged for the contrary, from the notation of the word Iahalom, and consent of many Interpreters, and the like, hath (I confess) probability; and were it not for the causes above shown, I would think it to be the Adamant, though the notation likewise of Shamir, and agreement of Interpreters, may also persuade it to be the Adamant; and for Pliny's testimony of the Adamants, that they are desired of engravers, it accordeth to this Shamir, as we may learn of the Prophet Ier. 17. 1. And for the price of the Adamant above the Sardonyx, or any gem, or other human things, as the same Pliny reporteth, it will not (though so it be) end this question; seeing it is not necessary to conclude, that God would choose the most precious thing to signify grace in men, which have it but in part; especially, seeing he putteth this stone not in the first, but in the sixth place, as the Iahalom is ordered in Exo. 28. 18. Yea, it is plainly without likelihood, that God would impart the most precious thing among the Patriarchs, and take it away from among the Apostles, (for it is sure, no Adamant is to be found in Rev. 21.) This were to prefer the old Testament before the New, the Law before the Gospel, Moses before Christ, contrary to the Apostles doctrine in 2 Cor. 3. and to make the holy Jerusalem, the Bride the Lambs wife, (which is said to have the glory of God, and her walls garnished with all manner of precious stones, and many other like excellencies, Revel. 21. 9, 10, 19. &c.) to be inferior in glory to Moses Sanctuary, and the earthly Jerusalem, and those that ministered in the same; which a man of sound judgment will not easily believe. And whatsoever Pliny saith of the preciousness of the Adamant, we are assured from God that the Sardonix is precious, Revel. 21. 19, 20. and Pliny himself confirmeth it, by the example of the Tyrant Polycrates, who so greatly esteemed the Sardonix in his Ring, that he valued the loss thereof, with all his wealth and felicity, which he confessed to be exceeding great, Nat. Hist. l. 37. c. 1. And Claudius the Roman Emperor used to wear Emeralds and Sardonyches, Plin. ibidem c. 6. so that the Latin Poets when they noted men for their stateliness, spake of their hands garnished with Sardonyches, Martial. l. 3. Iuvenal. Sat. 6. and show of what esteem they were, in saying, gemma princeps Sardonychus, oculis quae custoditur eburnis, Iuvenal. Sat. 13.

The reason alleged from Rev. 7. 5, 8. that the tribes are there reckoned up by the Holy Ghost, with omission of Dan, otherwise than they are reckoned in any place of the Old Testament; weakeneth not, but rather confirmeth that which I have said. For as there is no new person put instead of any tribe, or new name given to any tribe, but such as was given before in the Old Testament: so neither is it likely that in Rev. 21. any other new stone should be placed, than such as agreeth with the description of Moses; so that the Sardonyx should be looked for in Exo. 28. among the rest. Again, the omission of Dan in Rev. 7. accordeth very well with the Old Testament; for though Joseph's sons Ephraim and Manasseh made two tribes, Genes. 48. 5, 6. Num. 1. 10, 33, 35. so that after a sort there were thirteen; yet the Scripture usually nameth and reckoneth them but twelve, that the name of the twelve tribes is famous also in the New Testament, Luke 22. 30. Act. 26. 7. I am. 1. 1. Rev. 21. 12. And when they are reckoned by the Prophets, one commonly is omitted; for either Joseph is named instead of his two sons, as in Gen. 49. or if they two be mentioned, Levi (for his separation to the Lord's service in the Tabernacle) is omitted, as in Num. 13. and often; or if both he and they be expressed, someone of the other is let pass, as Simeon is unnamed in the blessing of the tribes, Deut. 33. Accordingly the Spirit of God in Rev. 7. naming Levi, and Manasseh, and Joseph for his son Ephraim, was to omit the name of some other; unless he should have counted 13. tribes, contrary to the course of the Scriptures, and scope of the matter there in hand. Why Dan is not named in Revel. 7. or Simeon in Deut. 33. belongeth not to this question; it sufficeth that there is no new practice in Rev. 7. differing from the Prophets; neither need we look for any innovation among the precious stones, Rev. 21.

Thus have I, according to the measure of knowledge which God hath given me, and as the extreme infirmity of my body would permit, made answer to the chief matters objected, especially such as concern the Scriptures, and may by them be decided. Other things wherein I have shown either mine own, or other men's judgment, I will not contend about.

Let not anything which I have written be accepted without trial, or further than it agreeth with the truth. The learned which have interpreted and opened the Scriptures, have had their second thoughts, and altered both their versions and Expositions in sundry 〈◇〉, as all men know but in part. For things wherein I have missed, I humbly crave pardon of God, and of his people; to such as have the spirit in them that lusteth after envy, I wish a better mind; to such as love the truth, increase of knowledge and grace: and for ought that is good and profitable in my labors, the praise therefore be unto him that is Author of every good gift and work; the benefit thereof unto those that love his Name, which be blessed forever, Amen.

ANNOTATIONS UPON THE BOOKE OF PSALMES.

WHEREIN THE HEBREW WORDS and sentences are compared with, and explained by the ancient Greek and Chaldee versions: but chiefly by conference with the Holy Scriptures.

BY HENRY AINSWORTH.

2 SAM. 23. 1, 2.

David the son of Jesse said; And the man who was raised up on high, the anointed of the God of Jacob, and the sweet Psalmist of Israel said; The Spirit of Jehovah spake by me, and his word was in my tongue.

LUKE 24. 44.

All things must be fulfilled, which are written in the Law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalms.

[illustration] [printer's or publisher's device]

LONDON, Printed by John Haviland for John Bellamie, and are to be sold at his shop near the ROYALL EXCHANGE. 1626.

A PREFACE CONCERNING DAVID, his Life and Acts.

DAVID the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah, of the lineage of Abraham in thefourteenth generation, was borne in Bethlehem (a town in the tribe of Judah, in the land of Canaan,) about 2917 years after the creation of the world, in the days when Samuel the Prophet was Judge of Israel. He was theseventh and youngest of all Iesses sons, of least esteem among them, and set to keep his fatherssheepe. In the three and twentieth year of his life, he was by Samuel the Prophet privately in Bethlehem anointedKing over Israel, in the midst of his brethren, and the Spirit of the Lord came upon him from that day forward. He wasruddy, of a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look to; acunning player on the Harp, a mighty valiant man of war, and prudent in speech, and a comely person, and the Lord was with him: Who also gave him these testimonies and promises;I have found David, the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfill 〈◇〉 my will.I have laid help on one that is mighty, I have exalted one chosen out of the people, with whom my hand shall be established, mine arm also shall strengthen him; I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him. In my name shall his horn be exalted; I will set his hand in the sea, and his right hand in the rivers; I will make him my first-borne, higher than the Kings of the earth. My mercy will I keep for him forever, and my covenant shall stand fast with him; his seed will I make to endure forever, and his throne as the days of heaven, &c.

After David's anointing in Bethlehem, he went again and fed his fathers' sheep: but the Spirit of God wrought mightily in him. He killed Goliath, the Philistian Giant, from whose face all the men of Israel fled away for fear: David overcame him (in the name of the Lord of hosts) with a sling and with a stone. He was a cunning Musician; and playing on his Harp with his hand, he refreshed King Saul, though he was vexed with an evil spirit from the Lord. He was employed in wars against the Philistians: and whither soever Saul sent him, he behaved himself wisely and prospered, and was accepted in the eyes of all the people; so that the women of Israel sang of him, Saul hath slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands. But that procured him envy from Saul ever after, and he sought to slay him: but all Israel loved him. And though he after took to wife Michal, Saul's daughter; yet Saul continued his hatred against his son-in-law; and first secretly, then openly sought his life: so that David was fain to flee and hide himself in the land of Israel, and in strange countries, to the great affliction of his soul.

When Saul was dead, and David thirtie years of age, the men of Judah anointed him King the second time, in Hebron, over the house of Judah. Ishbosheth, Saul's son, resisted him; but David waxed stronger and stronger. Then all Israel anointed him King over them, and he reigned in Jerusalem. So the time of all his reign was forty years. In Hebron he reigned over Judah seven years and six months, and in Jerusalem he reigned 33. years over all Israel and Judah. During which space, the Lord still exercised him with many wars abroad, and troubles at home; as by the defiling of his daughter Tamar, the killing of his son Amnon, the treason and death of his son Absalom, the rebellion of Sheba, and other like sorrows which God for his sins chastised him with, so many and so great, that the pangs of death compassed him about, the floods of Belial (the ungodly men) made him afraid, the cords of hell compassed him, the snares of death prevented him; his heart was sore pained within him, and the terrors of death fell upon him; fearfulness and trembling came upon him, and horror overwhelmed him. His life was spent with grief, his years with sighing, his strength failed, and his bones were consumed.

But always in his distress he trusted in God, and was not afraid what flesh could do unto him; in his distress he called upon the Lord, and cried to his God, who heard his voice out of his Temple, and drew him out of many waters, from his strong enemy, and from them that hated him, and brought him forth into a large place, and delivered him, because he delighted in him. He gave him the shield of his salvation, and girded him with strength to battle, and gave him the necks of his enemies, that he destroyed those that hated him. Therefore he gave thanks unto the Lord among the nations, and sang praises unto his name, awaking up his glory, awaking up his Psaltery and Harp, awaking himself early, to praise the Lord among the people's, and to sing unto him among the nations: so he sang of his power, he sang loud of his mercy in the morning, that God had been his defense and refuge in the day of his distress.

And hereof this book of Psalms (most whereof David made) is a glorious testimony; wherein by manifold Psalms, and Hymns, and spiritual Songs, he set forth the praises of God, his own faith in his Word, exercise and delight in his Law, with narrations of God's former and present mercies, and prophecies of future graces to be fulfilled in Christ, whom he (being a Prophet) knew that he should be the fruit of his loins concerning the flesh, and should sit upon his throne; whose incarnation, afflictions, death, resurrection, ascension, and eternal glorious kingdom and priesthood, he sang by the Spirit, with such heavenly melody, as may not only delight, but draw into admiration every understanding heart, and comfort the afflicted soul with such consolation as David himself was comforted of the Lord.

And these his Psalms have ever since, by the Church of Israel, by Christ and his Apostles, and by the Saints in all ages, been received and honored as the oracles of God, cited for confirmation of true religion, & sung in the public assemblies, as in God's Tabernacle and Temple, where they sang praise unto the Lord, with the words of David and with the instruments which he had made over their burnt-offerings & sacrifices

Now because many things, both for phrase and matter, are difficult to such as are not acquainted with David's language, I have (out of my slender store) annexed <...> few brief notes, comparing the Scriptures, and conferring the best Expositors, especially <...> ally the ancient Greek and Chaldee versions, whereby if any help of understanding <...> may arise, the praise be to God, the comfort to his people.

THE BOOKE OF Psalms, or Hymns.

PSALM I.

1 The happiness of the godly, whose conversation is described, and their prosperity like a fruitful tree. 4 The contrary course of the wicked, for which they and their way do perish.

O Blessed is the man that doth not walk in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seat of the scornful. But, hath his delight in the law of Jehovah, and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be as a tree planted by brooks of waters, which shall give his fruit in his time, and his leaf shall not fade, and whatsoever he shall do, shall prosper. Not so the wicked; but as the chaff which the wind driveth it away.

Therefore the wicked shall not stand up <◇> judgment, and sinners in the assembly of the just. For Jehovah knoweth the way of the just, and the way of the wicked shall perish.
[unspec]

Annotations.

THE Book of Psalms] so our Lord himself [unspec] <◇> it, Luke 20. 42. but the Hebrew title <◇> , signifieth Hymns or Praises. According to the Greek, it is called the Psalter.

Vers <◇> . O Blessed] or O Happy, or Well fares <◇◇> ▪ <◇> joyful <...> mation for the man's welf•• and <...> cities, as going right forward, and so having good success. Contrary hereunto is Woe, or Alas, Eccles. 10. 16, 17. Luke 6. 20, 24. This word Ashrei in the Hebrew, is always applied to men, and so differeth from another word, Baruc, blessed; which is ascribed both to God and men, Psal. 115. 15, 18. the contrary whereto is, cursed, Psal. 37. 22. doth not walk] or, hath not walked. But the time past, and time to come, are in the Hebrew often used for to express continued actions: Walking signifieth one•conversation, both touching faith and works, Psal. 119. 1. Gen. 5. 24. compared with Hebr. 11. 5, 6. 2 Pet. 2. 10. Iud. 11. To walk in the counsel of any, is either to do as they advise and suggest, as did Ahaziah, 2 Chron. 22. 3, 4, 5. or by imitation to do like others before, as did Israel, Mich. 6. 16. But in every respect the counsel of the wicked should be far from us, Job 21. 16. and 22. 18. Wicked] that is, ungodly: so our English word meaneth, being made of the old Danish wgudelig; or we may call them according to the original, Restlesse, turbulem, unjust, ungracious. The Hebrew rashangh, signifieth restlessness, and is opposed to quietness, Job 34. 29. Such men are without peace in themselves, and seek to disturb and molest others, Prov. 4. 16. likened therefore to the raging sea, Isaiah 57. 20, 21. And because for their evil deeds they are often brought forth to judgment, and condemned; therefore is this name given to condemned persons, Psal. 109. 7. Job 27. 7. And as to make just, or justify, is to acquit or absolve in judgment, Psal. 82. 3. so, to make or pronounce wicked, is to condemn, Psal. 37. 33. and 94. 21. D•ut. 2•. 1. Way] track or  $\langle \diamond \rangle$ . This word also signifieth any religion, doctrine, manners, actions, administration, o•course of life, Psal. 5. 9. and 25. 4. and 86. 11. Act. 18. 25, 26. and 22. 4.  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  Pet. 2. 2, 15, 21. sinner] or misdoers erroneous  $\langle \diamond \rangle$ . Though there is no man jaston earth, that doth good and sinneth not, Eccle. 7. 22. yet such are usually called sinner, as be given to vice, add have the course of their life, evil, Gen. 13. 13. 1 Sam. 15. 18. Psal. 26. 9. and 104. 36. Matth. 26. 45. Luke 7. 37. John. 9. 16, 31. In this respect, they that are borne of God, are said not to sin, 1 Joh. 3. 9. and Solomon opposeth the sinner to the good man, Eccles. 9. 2. See the note on Psal. 4. 5. not sit in the seat] or, and hath not sitten, &c. To sit is to abide, continue,  dwell, Psal. 2. 4. and 101. 6, 7. and 132. 14. or to company, and have familiarity with any, Psal. 26. 4, 5. And the original mo•hab, here Englished seat, is diversely used, as, for a seat or chair to sit on, 1 Sam. 20. 25. Job 29. 7. (which noteth authority;) sometime, an habitation or dwelling, Psal. 107. 4, 7. and 132. 13. sometime an assise, session, or assembly, Psalm. 107. 32. And so may it be here taken for the assembly of the scornful, and their society, as the Chaldee version explaineth it. The scornful] Proud rhetorical mockers, Losels. The word importeth pride, as, the Lord scorneth the scorners, Prov. 3. 34, that is, resisteth the proud, I am. 4. 6. 1 Pet. 5. 5. It implieth also eloquence, often used in mocks, Job 16. 20. The Greek translatheth them pestilent; they are of the worst sort of sinners, which admit of no reproof: therefore it is said, Rebuke not a scorner, lest he hate thee, Prov. 9. 7, 8.

Vers. 2. Hath his delight] or his pleasure is. law] or doctrine. See the notes on Psal. 19. 8. Jehovah] or the Lord, as the Greek and the New Testament usually expresseth it. The opening of this name, see on Psal. 83. 19. and Gen. 2. 4. d•th meditate] or shall meditate, that is, usually meditateth. This word importeth study and exercise of the mind, which often bursteth out into voice. It is used for musings in the mind or heart, Prov. 24. 2. Isaiah 33. 18. for muttering with the mouth, that which the heart mindeth, Psal. 2. 1. and 37. 30. Prov. 8. 2. Isa. 59. 3. but with a low imperfect voice, Isaiah. 8. 19. day and night] or, by day and by night, that is, continually.

Vers. 3. Brookes] or, beckes, riverets; in Hebrew called Plagim, that is, divisions or partitions, being little streams derived either from a great river, as Psal. 46. 5. or from a well or fountain, as Prov. 5. 16. or from any other head, Job 29. 6. In hot countries they use to plant gardens near wellsprings of water, from which the husband-man deriveth many little becks or riverers, to run on the roots of the trees set in a row, whereby they are moistened and made fruitful. See Ezek. 31. 3, 4. Eccles. 2. 6. According to this, Christ is called the fountain of the gardens, that is, of the Churches, Song▪ 4. 15. Also in Ier. 17. 8. the godly man is likened to a tree planted by waters, which thrusteth out his roots by the river, and feelth not when the hear cometh, and careth not for the year of drought, nor ceaseth from making (or yielding) fruit. in his time] that is, in due time or season; so Psal. 104. 27. and 145. 15. Levite. 26. 4. The Chaldee translatheth, whose fruit is ripe in his time. whatsoever he shall do] or all that is shall make or yield, meaning the tree, the resemblance of the man. For a tree is said to make fruit, when it bearth or yieldeth it, Jer. 17. 8. So in Matth. 3. 8, 10. where men are trees, and their works fruits, which they make or yield. Shall prosper] or thrive, and so be of good use. And this is in a tree, when the fruit is for meat, and the leaf for medicine; as Ezek. 47. 12. The just man's fruit, is the fruit of the tree of life, Prov. 11. 30. So the Chaldee (in the Masorites Bible) calleth this tree here spoken of, the tree of life.

Vers. 4. driveth it away] or tosseth away; therefore the Chaldee, for wind, translatheth whirl-wind or tempest; and in Job 21. 18. it is said, such are as chaff, that the tempest stealeth away. Compare also Psal. 35. 5. Hos. 13. 3. The word it is added for vehemency sake, and may be omitted in our English, as it is sometime in the Hebrew, 2 Chro. 28. 3. compared with 2 King. 16. 3. yet such manner of speeches the Greek also in the New Testament useth, Rev. 7. 2, 9.

Vers. 5. stand up] or rise up, consist, stand sure; opposed to bending or falling down, Psal. 18. 39. and 20. 9. God is he that riseth up to judgment, Psal. 76. 10. and men do stand or fall therein, when they are justified or condemned. See Mat. 12. 1. Rev. 6. 16. So the Chaldee (in the Masorites Bible) expoundeth it, they shall not be justified in the great day of judgment. and sinners] to wit, shall not stand up. The former denial, not, is again to be understood, as in Psal. 9. 19.

Vers. 6. knoweth] or acknowledgeth. This word also importeth regard and care of; as, the just man knoweth (that is, regardeth) his beasts life, Prov. 12. 10. so Job 9. 21. 1 Theff. 5. 12. Also to approve, or allow, as Psal. 10 1. 4. Rom. 7. 15. 1 Joh. 3. 2. And as God's knowledge of his, implieth their election, 2 Tim. 2. 19. so his not knowing of the wicked, implieth their rejection, Mat. 25. 12. and 7. 23. shall perish] or, be done away, decay, be lost. To this way of the wicked, which perisheth, is opposed the good way, which is everlasting; wherein David desired God to lead him, Psal. 139. 24.

PSALM II.

1 David prophesieth of the rage of Jews and Gentiles against Christ. 4 God's wrath against them for it. 6 Christ is established King, 7 declared to be the Son of God, 8 heir and ruler of the world. 10 Kings are exhorted to submit unto him.

WHY do the heathens tumultuously rage, and the people's meditate vanity? The Kings of the earth set themselves, and the Princes do plot together against Jehovah, and against his Christ.

Let us break their bands, and cast their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens laugheth, the Lord mocketh at them.

Then will he speak unto them in his anger, and in his wrath he will suddenly trouble them. And I have anointed my King upon Zion, the mountain of my holiness.

I will tell the decree; Jehovah said unto me, thou art my son; I this day begat thee.

Ask of me and I will give the Heathens for thine inheritance, & the ends of the earth for thy firm possession. Thou shalt roughly rule them with a rod of iron, as the vessel of a pottter thou shalt scatter them in pieces.

And now, O ye Kings, be prudent, be nurtured ye Judges of the earth. Serve ye Jehovah with fear, and be glad with trembling. Kiss ye the son lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his anger shall burn suddenly; O blessed are all that hope for safety in him.

Annotations.

WHY] or, For what? David was the writer of this Psalm, (as the Greek prefixeth this title, A Psalm of David:) and he beginneth with marvelling at the rage and folly of the Jews and Gentiles, in persecuting Christ and his Church, Acts 4. 25, &c. And as David himself was a figure of Christ in his kingdom, and a father of him according to the flesh: so suffered he the like opposition at the hands of his own people, and of the nations round about him, 2 Sam. 2. 10. and 3. 1. and 5. 17. and 10. 6, 7, &c. Tumultuously rage] or, burtle together, conven• with rage and uproar mutinously. This word is also used in Daniel's case; Dan. 6. 6. 11. and after in Psal. 64. 3. The Greek eph•axan, whereby the holy Ghost tranflateth it, Act. 4• 25. denoteth rage, pride, and fierceness, as of horses that neigh and rush into the battle. people's] or nations: under these names are comprehended the Jews with the Gentiles, Act. 4. 27, 28. meditate vanity] mutter a vain or empty thing, which shall have no effect. And here the Hebrew changeth the time (as it doth very often elsewhere•) will meditate• noting by such phrase a continuance of the action, as they that did still or usually meditate vain things. But the holy Ghost in Act. 4. 25. keepeth like time here as before: whose example I follow, according to the propriety of our tongue. So after in this Psalm and many other. The Hebrew text it self sometime doth the like, as Isai. 37. 3• compared with 2 Kings 19. 33. See the notes on Psal. 18. 7.

Vers. 2. Set themselves] or present themselves, will stand up, noting a settled purpose in the heart, with a standing up in person to act the same, 1 Chr. 1• 14. princes] rulers, or pri•e counsellors, subtle, prudent, and employed in making decrees, Prov. 8. 15. next therefore in place to Kings, and joined with them, as here, so in Judge. 5. (ϕ) . Hab. 1. 10. Prov. 31. 4. plot] conspire, or, are founded, that is, have their foundation, plot, or ground-work laid, as, Exod. 9. 1•. Is•. 44. 28. and this by assembling and consulting, and is therefore interpreted, gathered together, Act. 4. 26. So the Chaldee translatheth it, consociate (or joined together) to rebel before the Lord, & to fight against his anointed. Christ] or Anointed, in Hebrew, Mashiach or Messias, which word, though it be general for the ancient Kings, and Priests, and Prophets that were anointed with oil, (Psal. 89. 31. and 105. 15. Isa. 45. 1. Num. 3. 3. 1 King. 19. 16.) yet is it principally the name of the Son of God, our Savior, Dan. 9. 25, 26. who was known in Israel by the name Messias, John. 1. 41. and 4. 25. and among Greeks, by the name Christ; of whom we that believe in his name, are also called Christians, Act. 11. 26. because we have an Anointing from him that is holy, 1 John. 2. 20. 27. himself being first anointed with the Spirit, and with the oil of gladness above his fellows, Luke 4. 18. Psal. 45. 8. Of him is this Psalm interpreted by his Apostles, saying; Of a truth, Lord, against thy holy Child Jesus, whom thou anointedst, gathered were both Herod and Pontius Pilate, with the nations and people's of Israel, to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel had fore-determined to be done, Act. 4. 27, 28.

Vers. 3. their bands] These were signs of subjection, Ier. 27. 2, 3. 6, 7. And thus the Kings and nations speak, refusing to serve Christ, though his yoke be easy, Matth. 11. 29, 30. Ier. 5. 5. The Hebrew phrase mo, importeth their bands and his; speaking of the Father and the Son jointly, and of the Son in special: but he that honoreth not the Son, honoreth not the Father which sent him, John. 5. 23. So in the verse following, the Lord mocketh at them and at him; meaning them all jointly, and each severally. The like manner of speech see in Isaiah 53. 8. and 44. 15. Lam. 4. 10. Psal. 5. 12. and 11. 7. and 49. 14. and 59. 9. Job 22. 19. Exod. 15. 15. Deut. 32. 23. 32. 35. 37. cords] or ropes, thick twisted bands: signs also of subjection and restraint, Job 39. 13. Ezek. 4. 8. and sometime of love, Hos. 11. 4.

Vers. 4. The Lord] in Hebrew, Adonai; which in this form is the peculiar title of God; having the form plural, and vowels of Jehovah, mystically signifying my stays, or my sustainers, my pillars. And where in one place Adonai is used, another speaking of the same thing hath sometime Jehovah: See Psal. 57. 10. with Psal. 108. 4. It cometh of Aeden, a hase or pillar which sustaineth anything. The Chaldee translatheth it, the Word of the Lord, that is, the title of Christ, John. 1. 1. Rev. 19. 13. Our English word Lord hath much like force, being contracted of the old Saxon Laford, or Hlafford, which cometh of Laef, to sustain, refresh, cherish▪ mocketh] will mock, deride. This implieth both their folly, their punishment for it, and how God will leave them helpless in their misery, Psal. 59. 9. Prov. 1. 26. 28. It is spoken of God, after the manner of men, that he laugheth, mocketh, is angry, and the like, not that he hath such passions as men, but because he doth such things as men use to do when they are moved with such passions: and as the Hebrew Doctors say, The law speaketh (of God) according to the language of the sons of Adam. See the Annotations on Gen. 6. 6.

Vers. 5. anger] ire, outward in the face, grame, grimnesse or fierceness of countenance. The original aph signifieth both the Nose by which one breatheth, Psal. 115. 6. and Anger which appeareth in the snuffing or breathing of the nose; as Saul is said to breathe out threatenings and slaughter, Act 91. The circumstances of the Text will show which of the two is meant: though sometime it is doubtful, as Psal. 138. 7. wrath] fervent ire, inflamed displeasure. This word Charon, noteth burning or inflammation of choler, sometime of griese, Gen. 4. 5. Ior. 4. 10.

sometime of other affections, Nehem. 3. 20. suddenly trouble] or vex, apall fright, make them to start. It noteth hastiness of sear and trouble: opposed to firm staidness.

Vers. 6. And I] The word And is here a sign of indignation stirred, as was in the Apostle, when he said, And sittest thou to judge me, &c. Act. 23. 3. or and may be used here for but, as in Gen. 42. 10. Isa. 10. 20. and often elsewhere. have anointed] or poured out, that is, ordained, authorized: by pouring out the oil of the spirit, the oil of gladness, as is noted on verse. 2. Of this word Nasac that signifieth to shed or pour out, Nasick is used for a governor, or one in authority, Psal. 83. 12. Ios. 13. 21. Mic. 5. 5. Dan. 11. 8. According hereto, the wisdom of God saith, Prov. 8. 23. I was anointed (or authorized) from everlasting. In David Christ's figure, this was outwardly performed, when he was anointed King, with oil, 1 Sam. 16. 1. 13. and 2. Sam. 2. 4. and 5. 3. upon Si·n] or, over Tsijon, the name of an high mountain in Jerusalem, on top whereof was a strong fort, which the heathen Jebusites kept by force from Israel, till David's days, Ios. 15. 63. 2 Sam. 5. 6, 7. but he took it from them, fortified it, and called it David's city, 1 Chro. 11. 4 5 7. Neere unto this was mount Morijah, whereon Solomon built the Temple; 2 Chron. 3. 1. Hereupon Jerusalem was called the holy city, Nehem. 11. 1. Isa. 52. 1. and 48. 2. Mat. 4. 5. with Luk. 4. 9. and Zion is named the Lord's holy mountain, Joel 3. 17. which he loved, Psa. 78. 68. from which the law should come forth, Isa. 2. 3. and where he would dwell forever, Psal. 132. 13, 14. Therefore was it a figure of Christ's Church, Heb. 12. 22. Rev. 14. 1. Isa. 60. 14. mountain of my holiness] or my mount of holiness, that is, my holy mount, as the Greek turneth it. So the Temple of God's holiness, Psal. 79. 1. and people of his holiness, Esa. 63. 18. And in speech to Daniel, Jerusalem is called, the city of his holiness, that is, his holy city, by him so esteemed and regarded, Dan. 9. 24. Such Hebrew phrases, because they are more forcible, the Apostles often used in Greek, to inure the Gentiles with them: as Christ is called the Son of God's love, that is, his beloved son, Col. 1. 13. our Lord Jesus Christ of glory, that is, our glorious Lord, I am. 2. 1. and many the like.

Vers. 7. I will tell] telling is often used for preaching, declaring, showing, as Psal. 22. 23. with Heb. 2. 12. Exod. 9. 16. with Rom. 9. 17. So hereby Christ noteth his prophetic office. the decree] Here the Hebrew el seemeth to be used for eth: as cl haderech; 2 Chror. 6. 27. is the same that eth hoderech, 1 King. 8. 36. we may also read it thus, I will tell of the decree; cl being many times used for of, as Gen. 20. 2. Job 42. 7. 2 King. 19. 32. Ier. 51. 60. So the Greek pros (answering to the Hebrew el) is used for of, or concerning, Heb. 1. 7. and 4. 13. decree] prescript, law or statute: the Greek translatheth it, the ordinance of the Lord; the Chaldee, the Covenant of God. The Hebrew Chok usually denoteth the rules, decrees, and ordinances about God's worship, as the decree of the passover, Exod. 12. 24. 43. the decree of dressing the lamps, Exod. 27. 21. of the Priests office and garments, Exod. 29. 9. of their washing, Exod. 30. 21. of the sacrifices, Lev. 3. 17. and 6. 18. 22. and many other things about God's service. So may it here be taken, that Christ preacheth the decree or rule of his calling to the office of priesthood, as the Apostle gathereth from this place, Hebr. 5. 5. or of serving God, fulfilled of us by faith and obedience to his Gospel, when these legal ordinances had an end, John. 4. 21. &c. thou art my son] Though holy men be called the sons of God, Deut. 14. 1. 1 John 3. 1. and likewise Angels, Job 1. 6. and 38. 7. yet is this title natural and peculiar to our Lord Jesus, the only begotten of the Father; whereupon the Apostle saith, to which of the Angels said he this at any time? Heb. 1. 5. The word art is supplied by the Apostle, in Act. 13. 33. the like is sometime in the Hebrew Text it self; as, True was the word, 1 King. 10. 6. which in 2 Chron. 9. 5. is, True the word: so, Thou leading out, 1 Chron. 11. 2. Thou wast leading out, 2 Sam. 5. 2. Also in the Greek of the New Testament, Summer near, Mat. 24. 32. Summer is near, Luke 21. 30. I, this day] or, today begat thee. The word this is often omitted in the Hebrew; as Deut. 4. 4. 8. 39. and 5. 1. 3. and 26. 17, 18. and often is expressed, as Deut. 2. 25. 30. and 4. 20. and 26. 16. and 27. 9. Of this point, thus speaketh the Apostle: Touching the promise made to the Fathers, God hath fulfilled it unto us their children, in that he raised up Jesus, as it is written in the second Psalm, Thou art my son, I this day begat thee, Act. 13. 32, 33. See also Rom. 1. 4. and Heb. 5. 5. where Christ's calling to be our High Priest, is from hence proved.

Vers. 8. for thine inheritance] or, to bethine inheritance. This noteth the subjection of the nations to the Son of God; as the like manner of speech importeth, Isaiah 14. 2. Zeph. 2. 9. Levite. 25. 46. Hereupon Christ is called heir, that is, Lord of all, Hebr. 1. 2. See Psal. 82. 8. Ier. 49. 2. for thy firm possession] or, to be thy tenement, to have and to hold. It implieth Christ's government of the world; and so the Chaldee expoundeth it, the dominion of the ends of the earth for thy possession. The word for, or some such like, is here to be understood, and sometime the Hebrew expresseth it: as the house, 1 King. 7. 51. instead of for the house, 2 Chron. 5. 1. servants, 1 Chron. 18. 6. instead of for servants, 2 Sam. 8. 6. and sundry the like.

Vers. 9. roughly rule them] or, bruise, crush them. The word signifieth to entreat evil, or rigorously: and this is meant of Christ's enemies. potter] or former of the clay: this signifieth their utter destruction; for a potter's vessel broken cannot be made whole again, Ier. 9. 11. Isaiah 30. 14. So in Dan. 2. 44. it is prophesied, that Christ's kingdom should break in pieces and consume all those kingdoms, and it shall stand forever.

Vers. 10. be prudent] be skillful, or, behave yourselves skillfully, prudently, wisely. be nurtured] or, restrained, chastised, disciplined: and so the Chaldee translateth, receive chastisement ye governors (the Greek saith, all ye Judges) of the earth.

Vers. 11. be glad] This word signifieth open and manifest joy, exultation, or outward glee. Gladness and trembling are here joined together, as fear and joy, Matth. 28. 8. The Greek showeth in whom this gladness should be, saying, show gladness unto him; the Chaldee translateth, pray with trembling.

Vers. 12. Kiss the son] Kissing was used in sign of love and of obedience, Gen. 41. 40. 1 Sam. 10. 1. it was used also in religion and divine worship, 1 Kings 19. 18. Hos. 13. 2. Job 31. 27. All these are due to Christ: but Judas betrayed the Son of man with a kiss, Luke 22. 48. The Greek translateth, Receive nurture (or instruction) and the Chaldee, receive doctrine; both are implied in kissing of the Son, Prov. 24. 26. perish in the way] or, from the way. To perish or be lost in the way, importeth sudden destruction, whiles they are doing their actions: to perish from the way, is to wander or lose the right way, and not know whither to go. So Deut. 32. 28. perishing in (or from) counsels, is to be void of counsel, not knowing what to deliberate. The Chaldee translateth it, and ye lose the way: the Greek, and ye perish from the just way. when his anger shall] or for his anger will burn; or, his angry countenance. suddenly] or very soon, or a very little: this manner of speech sometime meaneth a short time, speedily, Psal. 81. 15. Isa. 26. 20. 2 Chron. 12. 7. sometime, a little deal, as Isa. 1. 9. The Greek here turneth it, soon or suddenly. See also Psal. 8. 6. that hope for safety] or, that shroud, that rely confidently, that betake themselves for refuge and safety unto him. For, he is made the author of eternal salvation to all that obey him, Hebr. 5. 9.

PSAL. III.

1 David in Absalom's rebellion complaineth to God of his many enemies: 4 Comforteth himself in God's protection: 6 Testifieth his security therein. 8 Prayeth for full deliverance, 9 and a blessing upon God's people.

A Psalm of David when he fled from the face of Absalom his son.

Jehovah, how many are my distressers? many that rise up against me. Many, saying of my soul, There is no salvation for him in God, Selah. But thou Jehovah art a shield about me, my glory, and the lifter up of my head. With my voice I called unto Jehovah, and he answered me from the mountain of his holiness, Selah. I lay down and slept, I waked up, for Jehovah sustained me. I will not fear for ten thousands of people, which round about do set against me. Rise up, Jehovah, save me, O my God; for thou hast smitten all mine enemies on the cheek bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked. To Jehovah the salvation: upon thy people thy blessing, Selah.

Annotations.

APsalme] called in Hebrew Mizmor, which hath the signification of pruning or cutting off superfluous twigs, and is applied to songs made of short sentences or verses; where many superfluous words are cut away. There be three kinds of songs mentioned in this book; 1 Mizmor, in Greek Psalmos, a Psalm: 2 Tehillah, in Greek hymnos, a hymn or praise: 3 and Shir, in Greek Ode, a song or Laie. All these three the Apostle mentioneth together, where he willeth us to speak to ourselves with Psalms, and Hymns, and spiritual Songs, Ephe. 5. 19. of David] or to David: and so after in this book usually. But the Hebrew speech useth these indifferently; as lasderoth. 2 Kings 11. 15. and hasderoth, 2 Chron. 23. 14. lammaghnaloth and hammaghnaloth, Psal. 120. 1. and 121. 1. So the sword of Jehovah, Ier. 47. 6. the Prophet of Jehovah, 1 Kings 22. 7. 2 Kings 3. 11. and many the like. So in the Greek, Disciples to thee, Mark. 2. 18. and Disciples of thee, Matth. 9 14. are one and the same. from the face] or presence, or for fear of. So the woman fled from the face of the serpent, Rev. 12. 14. Of David's flight it is thus written; Then David said to all his servants that were with him in Jerusalem, Rise up and let us flee, for we shall not escape else from the face of Absalom; make speed to depart, lest he come suddenly and take us, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword. So the King departed, and all his household after him, 2 Sam. 15. 14. 16. his son] David having sinned in defiling Bathsheba, and killing her husband Uriah, 2 Sam. 11. was threatened therefore of God, that he would raise up evil against him, out of his own house, 2 Sam. 12. 11. which was fulfilled in this rebellion of Absalom.

Vers. 2. how many are] or, how multiplied are. For, the conspiracy was great, and the people multiplied still with Absalom, 2 Sam. 15. 12.

Vers. 3. Many saying] or how many do say? of my soul] that is, of me, of my life, concerning me; or, to my soul, and so the Greek translatheth it. no salvation] or, no manner salvation; no health, help or deliverance at all. The Hebrew hath a letter more than ordinary, to increase the signification. The like is in many other places, as Psal. 44. 27. and 92. 16. and 94. 17. and 63. 8. and 125. 3. Job. 5. 16. God] in Hebrew Elohim, which is the first name whereby the Creator of all is called in Scripture, Gen. 1. 1. See the Annotations there. And it is in the plural number, to signify the mystery of the Trinity in the Unity of the God head; and therefore is joined commonly with other words of the singular number, and sometime of the plural, indifferently; as Elohim, he went, 1 Chr. 17 21. and Elohim, they went. 2 Sā. 7. 23. See Psal. 58. 12. It is sometime used (though more seldom) in the form singular, Aeloah, Psal. 18. 32. &c. And it may be derived either from Ael, which signifieth mighty; and so by increase of the word, the signification is increased, most mighty, or the Almighty: or from Alah, to adjure; because of the covenant, oath, and execration, wherewith we are bound unto God; according to that in Deut. 29. 12. 14. 19. Nehem. 10. 29 Eccle. 8. 2. This honorable name is also given to Angels, Psal. 8. 6. and to Magistrates Psal. 82. 1. 6. because God hath communicated with them his word, John 10. 34. 25. Selah] This Hebrew word signifieth elevation, or lifting up, whether of the mind, to mark, or of the voice to strain it, or of both. And for the matter, it seemeth to import an asseveration of a thing so to be and an admiration thereat. For the manner, it is a note of singing high, and therefore is used only in Psalms and Songs, and always at the end of verses, excepting some few places, Psal. 55. 20. and 57. 4. Hab. 3. 3. 9. where it is set in the midst. The Chaldee Paraphrast, and some other Hebrews have turned it, For ever. Our Doctors of blessed memory have said, that every place where it is written, Netsach, Selah, and Ghned, there is no ceasing (or end) of that thing, saith R. Menachem on Lev. 25. The Greek version makes it a musical notion, Diapsalma.

Vers. 4. a shield about me] or for me, that is, a protector, a defender. So Gen. 15. 1. Deut. 33. 29. Psal. 84. 12. glory] or honor, which in the Hebrew hath the signification of weightiness or gravity; which the Apostle seemeth to respect, mentioning the eternal weight of glory, 2 Cor. 4. 17. David here calleth God his glory, who had advanced him to kingly dignity; such as our Savior calleth glory, Mat. 6 29. the lifter up] or exalter of my head, that is, givest me victory, honor and triumph. So Psal. 27. 6. and 110. 7.

Vers. 5. he answered] or heard: but to answer is to certify by some means, that he heareth; as by help or deliverance from danger, Psal. 22. 22. Isa. 41. 17. (so to answer by fire, 1 Kings 18. 24.) therefore it importeth more than bare hearing, Isa. 30. 19. and 58. 9. The Chaldee translatheth, he received my prayer, from the mountain of the house of his Sanctuary forever.

Vers. 6. I lay down, &c.] This speech denoteth safety and security from danger and dread of evil, Lev. 26. 6. Job 11. 19. Ps. 4. 9. Ezek. 34. 25. Pro. 3. 24.

Vers. 7. do set] to wit, themselves in leager, or in battle-ray, or set their engines. So Esa. 22. 7.

Vers. 8. on the cheek-bone] a sign also of reproach, as Job 16. 10.

Vers. 9. To Jehovah the salvation] to wit, is, or belongeth; or, Of Jehovah is salvation, help, or deliverance. So Prov. 21. 31. Ion. 2. 29. Also Rev. 7. 10. and 19. 1. The salvation to our God. Like speeches are, Holiness to Jehovah, Exod. 28. 36. To Jehovah the war, 1 Sam. 17. 47. To Jehovah the earth. Psal. 24. 1. and many the like. The Chaldee saith, From before the Lord is redemption: the Greek, Of the Lord, thy blessing] This word when it is spoken of God towards man, (as in this place) signifieth a plentiful bestowing of good things, earthly or heavenly, Gen. 24. 35. Deu. 28. 2, 3, 4. &c. Eph. 1. 3. Gal. 3. 8. When it is spoken of men towards God, it betokeneth praise or thanksgiving, by word or deed, Deut. 8. 10. Psal. 103. 1, 2. Luk. 1. 64. and 2. 28. And that which in Matth. 26. 26. is called blessing, in Luke 22. 19. is called thanksgiving. When it is spoken of men towards men, it signifieth sometime salutation, as Gen. 47. 7. 1 Sam. 13. 10. sometime a gift, or a benevolence, as 1 Sam. 25. 27. 2 Cor. 9. 5. 2 Kings 5. 15. sometime a pronouncing (by way of prayer or prophesy) of good things in the name of God, as Gen. 14. 19, 20. Num. 6. 23, 24. In this signification, the less is blessed of the greater, Heb. 7. 7.

PSAL. IV.

2 David prayeth to God for audience; 3 Reproveth his enemies for opposing him in vain; 5 Exhorteth them to repent and trust in the Lord, 7 God's favor more joyeth the heart than all riches: 9 therein David secureth himself.

To the master of the music on Neginoth, a Psalm of David.

WHen I call answer me, O God of my justice; in distress thou hast made roomth for me: be gracious to me, and hear my prayer. Sons of men, how long shall my glory be to ignominy; will ye love vanity? will ye seek a lie Selah? But know ye that Jehovah hath marvelously separated a gracious Saint to him: Jehovah will hear when I call unto him. Be stirred and sin not, say in your heart upon your bed and be still, Selah. Sacrifice ye the sacrifices of justice, and trust unto Jehovah. Many do say, Who will cause us to see good? lift thou up over us the light of thy face Jehovah. Thou hast given joy in my heart, more than of the time when their corn and their new wine were multiplied. In peace together will I lie down and sleep, for thou Jehovah alone wilt seat me in confidence.

Annotations.

TO the master of the music] or, To the over-seer, to him that excelleth: the Chaldee translatheth it, to sing. The original word Menatseach signifieth one that urgeth the continuance of anything unto the end, or the going forward with a work till it be overcome, 2 Chron. 2. 2. 18. and 34. 12, 13. Ezra. 3. 8, 9. and such as in 2 Chron. 2. 18. are called Menatschim, masters, are in 1 Kings 5. 16. called Rodim, rulers. And in music, there were Levites appointed for several duties, and some lenatseach, to plie, or to set forward, and be over the rest, 1 Chro. 15. 21. and these were such as excelled in the art of singing & playing on instruments, to whom sundry Psalms are entitled, that by their care and direction they might be sung excellently unto the end. There were in Israel some Levites singers that attended thereunto, & had no other charge, 1 Chr. 9. 33. on Neginoth] that is, stringed instruments of music, played on with the hand. See the note on Psal. 33. 3.

Vers. 2. when I call] or, in my calling; which the Chaldee expoundeth, In the time of my prayer, receive thou it of me. God of my justice] that is, my just God, author of my justice, and avenger of my just cause, in distress] or in straightness, thou hast widened or enlarged for me. prayer] appeal, interpellation or intercession, whereby we refer the cause of ourselves or others to the judgment of God, calling upon him, appealing to him for right, praying against condemnation, or the like. For the Hebrew word Tephillah cometh of Pillel to judge or determine causes for W<sup>ch</sup> appeals are made, 1 Sam. 2. 25. and Pelilim, are Judges or Arbiters, Exod. 21. 22. whereupon to pray, is in Hebrew, hithpallel, as it were to appeal or present himself and his cause unto the Judge, or to judge ones self.

Vers. 3. Sons of men] Hereby is meant, Great men, the Hebrew being Ish, which is the name of man in respect of his power and aignitie, as appeareth after in Psal. 49 3. shall my glory be to ignominy] or, will ye turn my honor to defamation, slander, and calumny. God had promised David the honor of the kingdom, which Saul with his Nobles sought to defame and calumniate, and so turn it to shame and reproach. will ye seek a lie?] or, ye seek a lie, or deceivable falsehood; ye seek that which shall not come to pass. The Hebrew Cazab (here used) is such a lie as deceiveth men's expectation, Job 40. 28. Psal. 89. 36. Isa. 58. 11. 2. Kings 4. 16.

Vers. 4. marvelously separated] or selected in wondrous sort, exempted as with some sign of excellency, culled out. So God marvelously severed the Israelites from the Egyptians, Exod. 8. 22. and 9. 4. and 11. 7. See also Psal. 17. 7, Exod. 33. 16. a gracious Saint] or, pious, holy, merciful one, meaning himself. The Hebrew Chasid, (w<sup>ch</sup> the New Testament in Greek calleth hosios, that is, pious or holy, Act. 13. 35.) signifieth one that hath obtained mercy, goodness, piety, grace and benignitie from the Lord, and is again (after God's example) pious, kind, gracious and merciful to others, Neh. 13. 14. See Psal. 13. 6. 1. to him] that is, his gracious Saint, as the Greek explaineth it; or referring it to the former, he hath separated to himself a gracious man.

Vers. 5. Be stirred] or Be commoved, which may be understood, Be angry, be grieved, or tremble: and the Chaldee addeth for him, meaning God. The original word Ragaz noteth and stirring or moving, Job 9. 6. as to be moved or tremble with fear, Psal. 18. 8. Deut. 2. 25. Isa. 14. 9. to be moved with grief, 2 Sam. 18. 33. to be stirred with anger, Prov. 29. 9. 2 Kings 19. 27, 28. Ezek. 16. 43. This latter the Greek here followeth, saying, Be angry and sin not, and the Apostle hath the same words, Eph. 4. 26. sin not] or misdoe not. This word signifieth to miss of the way or mark: as in Iud. 20. 16. men could sling stones at an hairs breadth and not sin, that is, not miss: and Pro. 19. 2. he that is hasty with his foot sinneth, that is, misseth or swarveth. In religion God's law is our way and mark, from which when we swerve we sin. Therefore sin is defined to be transgression of law, or unlawfulness, 1 Job. 3. 4. say in your heart] that is, mind seriously what you do, and what the end will be; Consider with yourselves. The like phrase is in Psa. 14. 1. and 35. 25. Mat. 24. 48. Rom. 10. 6. Rev. 18. 7. be still] or silent, stay, pause; as 1 Sam. 14. 9. Ios. 10. 12, 13. By this word is often meant in Scripture a modest quietness of the mind, the troubled affections being allayed. See Psal. 131 2, and 37. 7. and 62. 2. Lam. 3. 26. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus; Say your request with your mouth, and your petition with your heart, and pray upon your bed, and remember the day of death forever.

Vers. 6. Sacrifice] The word signifieth killing or slaughtering; as beasts were killed for offerings to God, figuring man's mortification, or dying to sin, Ps. 51. 19. sacrifices of justice] such Moses speaketh of, Deut. 33. 19. and David afterward, Psal. 51. 21. meaning sacrifices just and right, and in faith, according to the intendment of God's law: contrary to those which the Prophet reproveth, Mal. 1. 14. So sacrifices of triumph or joy, Psal. 27. 6. are joyful sacrifices offered with gladness. And the way of justice, Mat. 21 32. for a just or right way. The Chaldee giveth this sense, Subdue your lusts, and it shall be counted unto you as a sacrifice of justice. trust] or, be confident, have steadfast hope, secure and firm confidence; and it is opposed to feebleness of mind, fear and doubt, Isa. 12. 2. Prov. 28. 1.

Vers. 7. Many do say] Hebr. are saying: which may be turned, do say, as in Mat. 22. 23. hot legontes, saying, is in Mark. 12. 18. heitines legousi, which say. who will cause us to see] that is, to enjoy, or have the fruiton of good, Psal. 50. 23. And this is the form of a wish; as David desired and said, Who will give me drink of the water, &c. 1 Chro. 11. 17. and, who will give me wings as a dove, Psal. 55. 7. and many the like. the light of thy face] that is, thy light some cheerful face or looks, meaning God's favor, grace, and the blessings of knowledge, comfort, joy, &c. that flow therefrom. This is in Christ, who is both the Light and the Face or Presence of God, Luke 2. 32. Exod. 33. 14. and the Angel of his face, Isa. 63. 9. According to this phrase Solomon saith, In the light of the Kings face is life, and his favor is as a cloud of the latter rain, Prov. 16. 15. See also Psal. 44. 4. and 31. 17. 21. and 67. 2. Job 29. 3.

Vers. 8. hast given joy] or shalt give or put joy: so giving is used for putting, often times, Psal. 8. 2. and 40. 4. and 33. 7. and 69. 12. and 89. 20. and 39. 6. and 119. 110. more than of the time] or from of the time. An Hebrew phrase, where the sign of comparison is wanting; as Gen. 38. 26. Psal. 19. 11. and 130. 6. The like is also in the Greek tongue; as Luk. 15. 7. and 18. 4. And of joy in harvest when corn is increased: see Isa. 9. 3. Joel 1. 11, 12.

Vers. 9. together] that is, I will lie down and sleep both together, not being disquieted with fear or care: see Ps. 3. 6. or together, I and others with me: or, I myself wholly & alone. See the note on Ps. 33. 15. alone] The Hebrew phrase is, in lomedom, or in solitariness; and may be referred (by the distinction) to the Lord, who alone seateth his in safety: as Deut. 32. 12. or, to that which followeth, Thou wilt seat me alone in safety. Herein looking to Moses blessing, Deut. 33. 28. where Israel dwelleth safely, alone; and so in Num. 23. 9. Ier. 49. 41. Thus it is a blessing to be alone from enemies: otherwise to be alone from friends, is a note of affliction; as Psal. 102. 8. Lam. 1. 1. wilt seat me] that is, cause me to sit, dwell, or remain. in confidence] or, trustfulness, with hope: that is, confidently or trustfully; w<sup>ch</sup> by cōsequence meaneth, securely, safely. And this was a blessing promised in the law, Lev. 26. 5. Deu. 12. 10.

PSAL. V.

David prayeth, and profeseth his study in prayer. 5 God favoereth not the wicked. 8 David professing his faith, prayeth God to guide him: 11 To destroy his enemies, and to preserve the godly.

To the master of the music on Nechiloth; a Psalm of David.

HEare thou my words Jehovah, understand my meditation. Attend to the voice of my cry, my King and my God, for unto thee will I pray. Jehovah, at morning thou shalt hear my voice, at morning will I orderly address unto thee, and will look out. For thou art not a God delighting wickedness, the evil shall not sojourn with thee. Vain-glorious fools shall not set themselves before thine eyes, thou hatest all that work painful iniquity. Thou wilt bring to perdition them that speak a lie, the man of bloods, and of deceit, Jehovah doth abhor. But I, in the multitude of thy mercy, will come into thy house, will do worship toward the palace of thy holiness, in the fear of thee. Jehovah lead me in thy justice, because of my enviers, make straight thy way before me. For in his mouth is no certainty; their inward part is woeful evils: their throat is an open grave, their tongue they make smooth. Condemne thou them as guilty, O God, let them fall, from their consultations: with the multitude of their trespasses, drive thou them away, for they are turned rebellious against thee. And rejoice shall all that hope for safety in thee, forever shall they showt, and thou shalt cover them: and they that love thy name, shall be glad in thee. For thou, Jehovah, wilt bless the just one: as with a buckler, with favorable acceptation thou wilt crown him about.

Annotations.

NEchiloth] These (by the name) seem to be wind instruments, as flutes, trumpets, cornets, &c. as Neginoth are stringed instruments, Psal. 4. 1. For Chalil is a Pipe, Isa. 5. 12.

Vers. 2. my meditation] in Greek, my cry. [unspec 3]

Vers. 3. Attend] or In•line, namely, thine ear, as is expressed, Ps. 10. 17. Pro. 2. 2. but often the word ear is omitted, as here, so Ps. 61. 2. and 66. 19. and 86. 6. and 142. 7, &c. will I pray] or I do pray; meaning still and usually.

Vers. 4. at morning] or, in the morning: which hath the name in the original tongue, of inquiring, looking and seeking early, and is therefore used for every first opportune or fit time, both to pray for, and to receive blessings, Psal. 88. 14. and 92. 3. and 90. 14. and 143. 8. Here also the word at or in is to be supplied; as Beith a house, 2 Chron. 26. 21. for bebeith, in a house, 2 King. 15. 5. and many the like. orderly address] prepare, or settle in order; meaning either his person, as Job 33. 5. or his speeches, as Job 32. 14. look out] or espy; as he that keeps watch and ward, expecting what God will answer, as is explained in Hab. 2. 1. This noteth diligence, hope, and patience: So Mic. 7. 7.

Vers. 5. a God] or, a mighty one: in Hebrew Ael, the name of God, denoting his might or puissance: which therefore the Greek sometime translath Ischuros, Mightie, Psal. 7. 12. sometime Mighty God, Isa. 9. 6. but most commonly God: which the holy Ghost alloweth, Mat. 27. 46. and 1. 23. delighting wickedness] or, that takest pleasure in wickedness. By wickedness and evil, may here be meant also (by figure of speech,) wicked and evil persons. See Psal. 36. 12. sojourn] or, be a guest with thee, meaning that an evil man should have no entertainment to be harboured as a guest, much less to have any abiding, or settled habitation with God. Here the word with, is to be supplied; as in the like Hebrew phrase, Ps. 94. 20. Gē. 30. 20. So in Ex. 9. 16 that I might show thee; for, show in thee; as the Apostle citeth it, Rom. 9. 17. the like is in Psal. 42. 5.

Vers. 6. Vainglorious fools] or, mad boasting fools: called Holelim of halal, to extol, praise, glorify: w<sup>ch</sup> when it is of ones self, and immoderate, is dotage, folly, and madness. Hence is the word used, for mad, or raving with folly, Eccles. 2. 2. 12. and 7. 9. and 10. 13. Isa. 44. 25. So after in Psal. 75. 5. and 10. 9. and 73. 3. The Chaldee calleth them mockers. that work] so the holy Ghost translateth it, Act. 13. 41. from Hab. 1. 5. The Hebrew word signifying a willing working out, perfecting and practicing: as Psal. 7. 14. painful iniquity] or, sorrowful sin, vain unlawfulness. The original word Aven, which hath the signification of pain or sorrow, is of large use, denoting all sinful and unjust affections, actions, or endeavors, which cause pain or sorrow, or be painfully done, and is applied in special to idolatry, joined with Teraphim or images, 1 Sam. 15. 22. And Beth-el, that is, God's house, is called of the Prophets Beth-aven, an Idols house, or place of iniquity, Hos. 4. 15. and 10. 5. because Jeroboam had there set up false worship, 1 Kings 12. 29. And in Isa. 66. 3. he that blesseth Aven, or an Idol, is turned in Greek, a blasphemer. Thus Poghnaiei-aven, be such as work, practice, or commit idolatry, superstition, or other sin and iniquity, whereof comes sorrow, grief, misery, and at last confusion, however such evil workers do polish and trim their actions; for they shall be rejected that work unlawfulness (hoi ergazomenoi ten anomian) Mat. 7. 23. or are workers of iniquity, (hoi ergatai tes adiktas,) Luke 13. 27. as this Hebrew phrase is by the Evangelists interpreted. The phrase is taken from Job ch. 31. 3. and 34. 8. 22. The Chaldee translateth, them that do falsehood.

Vers. 7. Thou wilt bring to perdition] or wilt do quite away, wilt fordoe, or make perish. man of bloods] that is, bloody man, or murderer, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the man that sheddeth innocent blood. When blood is used in the plural number, it usually noteth murder or manslaughter, and the guilt following it: as Gen. 4. 11. the voice of thy brothers bloods crieth, 1 Chr. 22. 8. thou hast shed many bloods: so after in Ps. 9. 13. and 106. 38. and 51. 16. Sometime it signifieth natural uncleanness, as, we are borne in sin, or sin deserving death, Ezek. 16. 6. 9. I saw thee polluted in thine own bloods, &c. Hereto we may compare the Apostles speech, John 1. 13. which are borne not of bloods, &c. A man of bloods, is one that is defiled therewith, or given thereto, 2 Sam. 16. 7. Psal. 16. 9. and 55. 24. and 59. 3. and 139. 19. See the like phrase opened, Psal. 140. 12. and of deceit] that is, man of deceit, (as is expressed, Psal. 43. 1.) meaning the deceitful man, faytor, or impostor: so noting hereby the secret sinner, as by the former speech the open and violent. Deceit, dole or guile, called in Hebrew Mirmah, is named of Ramah, to heave, or cast, or shoot with bow. And as warpen bows do cast and shoot awry, and deceive the archer, Psal. 78. 57. so impostors or men of guile do first as it were lift up a man with vain hope, that being disappointed he may have the more heavy overthrow. See 1 Chr. 12. 17. Gen. 29. 25. So in another phrase, to lift up the soul, signifieth, to deceive with vain hope, Ier. 37. 9.

Vers. 8. mercy] or kindness, benignitie: in Chaldee, goodness. See the note on Psal. 136. 1. thy house] or edifice, named in the Hebrew of building, beith: in Greek, of dwelling, oikos: in English, of tuition, and custody, a house: of the Almein huis, which is of hu, to defend. By house here is meant God's tabernacle, called his house, 1 Chron. 9. 23. Mark. 2. 26. for the temple was not built in David's days. will do worship] or bow down myself, in sign of honor. toward the palace] for the worshippers entered not into the Sanctuary it self, but into the court-yard, and at the door offered their gifts, Psal. 116. 19. Lev. 1. 3. Heb. 9. 6. A palace (Heical) is the name of Kings houses, Psal. 45. 9. 16. Prov. 30. 28. attributed to the places where God's Majesty was said to dwell, as the tabernacle, 1 Sam. 1. 9. and 3. 3. the temple, 1 Kings 6. 17. and heaven it self, Psal. 11. 4. Mic. 1. 2.

Vers. 9. in thy justice] that is, in the religion and conversation set forth in thy law, called the paths of justice, Ps. 23. 3. or, for thy justice sake. enviers] or spials, observers that pry for evil. So Psal. 27. 11.

Vers. 10. no certainty] no certain stable thing, no firm truth, which one may trust unto: or no true word. his mouth] that is, the mouth of any of them; which the Chaldee explaineth thus, the mouth of the wicked men. inward part] properly, that which is nearest unto them: this the Greek translatheth heart. And these in parts, are put for the thoughts, affections, purposes in them: as Psal. 49. 12. woeful evils] hawoth the original signifieth woes, sorrows, heavy annoyances, mischiefs and woeful events: so named of hoi or hovah, w<sup>ch</sup> signifieth woe, Ezek. 7. 26. they make smooth] or make flattering, and consequently deceitful, as the Greek translatheth, w<sup>ch</sup> the Apostle followeth, Rom. 3. 13.

Vers. 11. Condemne them as guilty] Asham, is a guilt, sin or trespass, Lev. 5. 19. whereof the word here used, is to make guilty, or damn of trespass: and so the Greek here hath it, Judge or damn, and the Chaldee, make guilty (or condemn.) And because destruction and desolation abideth such as are damned for crime, therefore is this word used also for desolating, abolishing, destroying, Ezek. 6. 6. Joel 1. 18. And so may it be here meant, punish, or make them desolate, O God. So Psal. 34. 22, 23. and 69. 6. with the multitude] or for the multitude, the many. trespasses] or sedition iniquities, defections, done purposely and disloyally, and are therefore heinous and criminal. The Greek often translatheth it unlawfulness, or transgression of law, which the Apostle following, Rom. 4. 7. from Psal. 32. 1. It is more than sin, as may be gathered by Gen. 31. 36. Exod. 34. 7. and Job 34. 37. he addeth trespass to his sin. drive them away] or drive him, that is, each of them. A like phrase as was before, Psal. 2. 3. So after in verse. 12. upon them and him. turned rebellious] or turned bitter, and so are very distasteful unto thee, by reason of their disobedience and stubbornness, and consequently do provoke to bitterness and wrath, do exasperate. The Hebrew word Marah hath properly the signification of changing and of bitterness, applied to apostasy, rebellion, and disobedience, Deut. 1. 26. and 21. 7. 20. Ios. 1. 18. against thee] which the Chaldee expoundeth, against thy word.

Vers. 12. forever] or to eternity. showt] or shrill out, sing joyfully, for so commonly the Hebrew Ranan signifieth; and is therefore by the holy Ghost interpreted, to be merry or joyful, Rom. 15. 10. from Deut. 32. 43. & Gal. 4. 27. from Isa. 54. 1. yet sometime this word is to showt, shrill, or cry aloud for sorrow; as Psal. 142. 7. A loud shrill noise or showting was used in thanksgivings and prayers, Levite. 9. 24. 1 King. 8. 28. Psal. 17. 1. and 118. 15. and 126. 2. and 33. 1. and thou shalt cover] or, for thou wilt cover, protect, or cast a covering over them: and this is answerable to their hope or seeking covert in God before mentioned, and signifieth a safe protection from all hurt or evil; as Exod. 33. 22. Psal. 140. 8. be glad] or leap for joy, exult. The word signifieth outward gladness in gesture and countenance. So also doth the Greek answerable hereto: that where one Evangelist writeth, Rejoice and be glad, Mat. 5. 12. another saith, Rejoice and leap, Luke 6. 23. The Chaldee here again translatheth, they shall be glad in thy word.

Vers. 13. buckler] a picked shield called tsinnah, of the sharp pickednesse: as another kind of Scutchion is called Magen, Psal. 3. 4. of fencing or protecting. favorable acceptance] or goodwill, gracious liking or acceptance. So the Hebrew Ratson meaneth, derived of a word which by the Apostle signifieth to accept, Heb. 12. 6. from Prov. 3. 12. and to be well pleased or delighted, Mat. 12. 18. from Isa. 42 1. So the year of acceptation is the acceptable year, Luke 4. 19. from Isa. 61. 2. and the time of acceptation, is the acceptable time, 2 Cor. 6. 2. from Isa. 49. 8 It is also interpreted will or pleasure, Heb. 10. 7. from Psal. 40. 9.

PSAL. VI.

David's complaint in his sickness, with prayer for release. 9 By faith he triumpheth over his enemies.

To the master of the music on Neginoth, upon the eight; a Psalm of David.

Jehovah, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastise me in thy wrathful heat. Be gracious to me, Jehovah, for I am weak; heal me, Jehovah, for my bones are troubled. And my soul is troubled vehemently: and thou Jehovah, how long? Return Jehovah, release my soul: save me for thy mercies sake. For in the death is no memory of thee: in hell who shall confess to thee? I faint with my sighing, I make my bed to swim in every night, I water my bedstead with my tears. Mine eye is gnawne with indignation: it is waxen old, because of all my distressers. Away from me, all ye that work painful iniquity, for Jehovah hath heard the voice of my weeping. Jehovah hath heard my supplication for grace, Jehovah hath accepted my prayer. All my enemies let be abashed and troubled vehemently; let them return, be abashed in a moment.

Annotations.

V[Pon the eight] or after the eight: meaning the eight tunc, which was grave, as that which we call the base. So David fetching home God's Ark, appointed some Levites with harps upon the eighth, for the honor and service of God, 1 Chron. 15. 21. And so the Chaldee here translateth, To sing with playing upon the harp of eight strings.

Vers. 2. wrathful heat] or choler. This word noteth the inward affection, as the former doth the outward appearance. David prayeth not simply against correction, (for as many as God loveth, he doth rebuke and chastise, Rev. 3. 19. but would have his nurture with moderation, lest it broke him in pieces; as Jeremiah likewise prayeth, Ier. 10. 24. So after in Psal. 38. 2.

Vers. 3. heal me] recure me. Though this may have reference here to bodily sickness, Psal. 107. 18. 20. yet is it also applied to soul-sickness, and curing of it; as Psal. 41. 5. heal thou my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

Vers. 4. how long?] or till when? An imperfect speech, through trouble of mind, which may thus be supplied: how long wilt thou cease, or defer to help, or, how long wilt thou afflict me? So Psal. 90. 13. The Chaldee supplieth the want thus, Let me have a refreshing.

Vers. 5. release] loosen, or deliver my soul or me; meaning from death, as is expressed, Psal. 116. 8.

Vers. 6. for in the death] This doctrine King Hezekiah explaineth thus; For hell shall not confess thee, death shall not praise thee; they that go down the pit shall not hope for thy truth: the living the living, he shall confess thee as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth, Isa.

38. 18, 19. So after in Psal. 115. 17, 18. •ell] or the grave, the place or state of the dead. See the note on Psal. 16. 10. confess] or, give thanks, celebrate with praise & commendation. This same word is also used for confessing of sins, Psal. 32. 5.

Vers. 7. I faint] or am over awed with my sighing; the like speech Baruch useth, Ier. 45. 3. The original word Iagaghn, signifieth awing, toile, turmoile and sore labor of body or mind, and consequently fainting through weariness, and is opposed to rest or quietness, Lam. 5. 5. every night] or, the whole night. The Chaldee expoundeth it, I speak in my sorrow all the night (or every night) upon my bed. I water] that is, bathe, or dissolve into water; or I melt my bedstead. These are excessive figurative speeches, to express the greatness of his sorrow. In the Hebrew they are also in the future time, I shall melt, I shall make swim, that is, I usually melt & bathe, noting the continuance of his affliction.

Vers. 8. mine eye] This may be taken for the [unspec] whole face or visage: as in Num. 11. 7. the eye is used for the color or appearance. gnawne] in Greek, troubled. The Hebrew, Ghnashash, is to gnaw and fret, and so to make deformed and ugly, and to consume. Hereof Ghnash is a moth-worm, Ps. 39. 12. that fretteth garments. A like speech Job useth, mine eye is dimmed with indignation, Job 17. 7. but gnawne here, is a word more vehement. So after in Psal. 31. 10, 11. with indignation] for grief that I take, being provoked by the enemies.

Vers. 11. let be abashed] or, shall be abashed, The Hebrew Bosh signifieth to be abashed, wax pale & wan; as when the color fadeth and withereth; and noteth both disappointment of ones expectation, Job 6. 20. and confusion or destruction, Ier. 48. 1. 20. opposed unto joy, Esa. 65. 13. let them return] or, recoile; a sign also of discomfiture and shame: so Psal. 56. 10. in a moment] or in a minute, that is, a short space, or suddenly.

PSAL. VII.

David prayeth against the malice of his enemies, professing his innocence. 11 By faith he seeth his defense, and the destruction of his enemies.

Shigajon of David, which he sang to Jehovah, upon the words of Cush, son of Iemini.

Jehovah my God, in thee I hope for safety: save thou me from all that persecute me, and deliver thou me. Lest he tear in pieces my soul like a Lion; breaking, while there is none delivering. Jehovah my God, if I have done this, if there be injurious evil in my hands: If I have rewarded evil to him that had peace with me: (yea, I have released my distresser without cause:) Let the enemy pursue my soul and take it, and tread down my life on the earth, and my glory let him make it dwell in the dust Selah.

Rise up Jehovah in thy anger, be thou lifted up, for the rages of my distressers, and wake thou up unto me, the judgment thou hast commanded. And the congregation of people's shall compass thee about, and for it return thou to the high place. Jehovah will judge the people's: judge thou me Jehovah according to my justice, and according to my perfection in me. Oh let the malice of the wicked be at an end, and stablish thou the just: for thou triest the hearts and reins, just God. My shield is in God, the Savior of the upright in heart. God is a just Judge, and God angrily threateneth every day. If he turn not, he will whet his sword: he hath bent his bow and made it ready. And for him he hath made ready the instruments of death: his arrows he worketh for the hot persecutors. Lo he shall be in travel of painful iniquity; for he hath conceived molestation, and shall bring forth a lie. He hath digged a pit and delved it, and is fallen into the corrupting ditch he wrought. His molestation shall return upon his head, and upon his crown shall his violent wrong descend. I will confess Jehovah according to his justice, and will sing Psalm to the name of Jehovah most High.

Annotations.

SHigajon] An artificial song of David, or David's delight. The word properly signifieth Aberration, or Ignorance; & is here, and in Heb. 3. 1. only used in the title of songs, which seem to be made of sundry variable and wandering verses, which being composed by art, cause the more delight. The Hebrew word (Shagah) whereof this is derived, is used for delight, or wandering in pleasure, Prov. 5. 19, 20. According to which we may name this song, David's delight, or solace. Or in the other signification, David's error; as setting forth the sum of his cares, which made him almost to go astray. The Chaldee expoundeth it, David's interpretation of the Law. upon the words] or concerning the words, or matters, affairs. Word, is both in Hebrew and Greek often used for a thing or matter, Exod. 18. 16. Deut. 17. 1. 1 King. 14. 13. Luk. 1. 65. Of Cush] This may be meant of K. Saul him-self, who was of Kish, and of Iemini, 1 Sam. 9. 1. called closely Cush, that is, an Ethiopian, or Blackmoore, for his black and ill conditions, his heart not being changed, as the Blackmoore changeth not his skin, Ier. 13. 22. Or else it might be one of Saul's retinue; whose name indeed was Cush, but we find no mention of him elsewhere. The Chaldee saith plainly thus, upon the destruction of Saul the son of Kish, which was of the tribe of Benjamin.

Vers. 3. Lion] called here in Hebrew, Arjch, that is, a renter or Tearer; and elsewhere, L•by, that is, hearty and courageous, Psal. 57. 5. and Kephir, that is, lurking, or couchant, Ps. 91. 13. the reason of these names is shown, Ps. 17. 12. The renting Lion (Arjeh) as greedy to tear; and the lurking Lion (Kephir,) as biding in covert places. Other names are also given to this kind, as Shachal, of ramping, or fierce nature, Ps. 91. 13. and Lajish, of subduing his prey, Pro. 30. 30. my soul] that is, me, or my life. breaking] this may be referred to the Lion, breaking asunder, or renting his prey: the word also is used for breaking of yokes of affliction, that is, saving, rescuing, redeeming, or delivering; as, Psal. 136. 24. Lam. 5. 8. The Greek so turneth it here, there being none redeeming nor saving. Thus the denial none set after in the Hebrew, serveth for both words; (as after in Psal. 9. 19.) And it is the propriety of this tongue sometime to want, sometime to abound with words; as in 1 King. 10. 21. there be two denials, when in 2 Chron. 9. 20. there is but one, in the same narration.

Vers. 4. done this] which Cush accuseth me of He speaketh of some common slander. injurious evil in my hands] or, in my palms, that is, bad, dishonest dealings in secret: the palm or hollow of the hand, being a place where filthiness may be hidden: the hand also is put for the actions. So Io. 3. 8. Psal. 109. 27. and 78. 42.

Vers. 5. that had peace with me] my friend and confederate. Such treachery David much blameth in his foes, that in time of peace made war, Psa. 41. 10. and 55. 13. 15. 21. yea] Hebr. and I; which may be resolved; yea, or when I released my distresser: which may have reference to his sparing of Saul, & delivering him from death, 1 Sam. 24. 6, 7, 8. 11, 12. and 26. 9, 10, 11, &c. without cause] or without effect, and fruit in vain.

Vers. 6. my life] in Hebrew, lives; so usually called for the many faculties and operations that are in life; the many years, degrees, estates thereof. The Apostles in Greek retain the singular number life, Act. 2. 28. from Psal. 16. 11. 1 Pet. 3. 10. from Psal. 34. 13. my glory] or honor; meaning either his honorable estate, renown, and posterity, as Hos 9. 11. Job 19. 9. or his soul, as Gen. 49. 6. in the dust] that is, in base estate and ignominy, as Ps. 113. 7. Job 16. 5. or, the dust of death, the grave, as Psal. 22. 16. Isa. 26. 19.

Vers. 7. in the rages] or, because of the outrages, surpassing indignations, so called of the passing out of the heat and choler. wake up] or, raise up, to wit, thyself, and come unto me; for judgment thou hast commanded or appointed. It may also be read, raise up to me the judgment which thou hast commanded: so the Chaldee paraphrase here supplieth the word which, saying; Hasten unto me, (or for me) the judgment which thou hast commanded: the Hebrew it self sometime doth the like; as 1 Kin. 9. 8. this house is high, 2 Chr. 7. 21. this house which is high.

Vers. 8. for it] for the same congregations sake, w<sup>ch</sup> cometh about thee expecting judgment. to the high place, or to the height, that is, the throne of Judgment, for throns were set high, 1 Kin. 10. 19. This word heighth is also used for heaven, Psal. 93. 4. and there God's throne is, Ps. 11. 4. The Chaldee saith, return to the house of thy divine habitation (or Majesty).

Vers. 9. Jehovah] The Chaldee translateth it, The word of the Lord shall judge, &c. judge] two words are here used in Hebrew for judging, 1 Dan, & 2 Shaphat; the first is more special to give doom or sentence in controversies: the latter more general, for judging or doing right in all causes. The Apostles express these two by one Greek word krino, judge, as Heb. 10. 30. from Deut. 32. 36. & Rom. 3. 4. from Psal. 51. 6. my justice] the justice and equity of my cause, in respect of my persecutors. So Psal. 18. 21,—25. Elsewhere he appealeth to God's justice, Psal. 35. 24. my perfection] or integrity, the simplicity of my ways, and simplicity of my heart. See Psal. 26. 1. in me] or unto me, to wit, reward thou, as the Chaldee explaineth it.

Vers. 10. for thou triest] or, he trieth. God who is possessor of the reins, Psal. 139. 13. doth also try them as metal in the fire. The heart may signify the cogitations, and the reins the affections. So Ps. 26. 2. Ier. 11. 20. and. 20. 12. Rev. 2. 23.

Vers. 12. angrily threateneth] or detesteth, disdaineth in wrath, namely the wicked, and menaceth their destruction. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, he is mightily angry against the wicked every day.

Vers. 13. If he] that is, If the wicked turn not, as the Chaldee explaineth it, If he turn not unto his fear. The Greek translateth, if ye turn not.

Vers. 14. he worketh for the hot persecutors] or polisheth, to wit, to shoot at them that fervently persecute, namely the just, as the Chaldee addeth. The Hebrew dalak, which signifieth burning, Ezek. 24. 10. is applied to hot persecution: see Psal. 10. 2. Gen. 31. 35. Lam. 4. 19.

Vers. 15. he shall be in travel] or, continually travelleth, that is, taketh great pains to accomplish iniquity, as a woman with child to be delivered. molestation] or moil, misery. The Hebrew ghnamal signifieth toilsome labor and molestation, both w<sup>ch</sup> a man endureth himself, Psa. 25. 18. and 73. 5. and which he causeth another to endure, Psal. 94. 20. and 55. 11. And thus it is here meant, as the 17 verse showeth. bring forth a lie] or falsehood, meaning either calumny and slander of others, (which in verse 17 seemeth to be called violent wrong;) or a deceit of himself, frustrating his own expectation. This similitude of the conception, travel, and birth of sin, is memorable, mentioned also in Job 15. 35. Isa. 59. 4. I am. 1. 15. much like another simile of ploughing, sowing, and reaping iniquity, Job 4. 8.

Vers. 16. is fallen] to wit, unto his own perdition, as Prov. 26. 27. Eccles. 10. 8. or, to lurk there for the perdition of others: See Psal. 10. 10. the corrupting ditch he wrought] or, pit of corruption which he made. The original Shachath signifieth corruption, Psal. 16. 10. and is applied to any pit or ditch where one perisheth and corrupteth, Psal. 57. 7. and 94. 13. and sometime the word pit is plainly added, as in Psal. 55. 24. the pit of corruption.

Vers. 17. his crown] the scalp, or heads top: meaning also abundantly, and apparently in the view of all. See Esth. 9. 25. Violent wrong] The word Chamas signifieth injury done by force and rapine, violation of right and justice.

Vers. 18. sing Psalm to] or praise with Psalm, and this importeth a song artificial and skillfully composed. See Psal. 3. 1.

PSAL. VIII.

God's glory is magnified by his works. 6 A prophesy of Christ his humiliation, glory and dominion.

To the master of the music upon Gittith; a Psalm of David.

Jehovah our Lord, how wondrous excellent is thy name in all the earth, which hast given thy glorious Majesty above the heavens. Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast founded strength, because of thy distressers, to make cease the enemy and self-avenger. When I behold thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars which thou hast stably constituted; What is sorry man that thou rememberest him, and the son of Adam that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him lesser a little than the God's, and crowned him with glory and comely honor. Thou gavest him dominion over the works of thy hands: all thou didst set under his feet. Sheep and oxen all of them, and also the beasts of the field. The fowl of the heavens, and the fishes of the sea, that which passeth thorough the paths of the seas. Jehovah our Lord, how wondrous excellent is thy name in all the earth.

Annotations.

Gittith] or the Gittith, which title is also given to the 81 and 84 Psalms. Gath in Hebrew is a wine-press, Isa. 63. 2. It is also the name of a city of the Philistines, 1 Sam. 17. 4. A city also of the Levites was called Gath-rimmon, Ios. 21. 25. whereupon Obed-Edom the son of Ieduthun, a Levite and singer in Israel, was called a Gittite, 2 Sam. 6. 10. So by Gittith here may be meant, either such instruments as were used by the posterity of Obed-Edom the Gittite, or that these Psalms were made upon occasion of transporting God's ark from the house of that Obed-Edom, the history whereof is in 2 Sā. 6. 6. 10. 11, 12, &c. or that these Psalms were to be sung for praise of God at the Vintage when grapes were pressed. And according to this the Greek translatheth it the wine-presses. Or it may be the name of some musical instrument; and so the Chaldee Paraphrast translatheth it, To sing upon the harp that came from Gath.

Vers. 2. our Lord] or, our sustainers: See the note on Psal. 2. 4 wondrous excellent] or wondrous ample, illustrious and magnificent. The original word signifieth ample or large, and excellent withal, clear and splendent in glory: The Greek turneth it wonderful: the Chaldee, high and landable. So in v. 10. name] this word is often used for renown or glory, Gen. 6 4 Eccle. 7. 3. Phil. 2. 9. as on the contrary, vile persons are called men without name, Job 30 8. God's name is also used for his kingdom and Gospel, Mat. 19. 29. compared with Luk. 18. 29. Mar. 10. 29. And this Psalm treateth of the spreading of Christ's Kingdom and Gospel, as after is manifested. hast given] that is, put or set; as, I have given, Isa. 42. 1. is by the Evangelist in Greek, I will put, Mat. 12. 18. and in the Hebrew text, as, he hath given thee over them for king, 2 Chr. 9. 8. for which is written in 1 Kings 10 9. he hath set (or put.) It may also import a setting sure or stablishing; as, thou hast given thy people, 1 Chr. 17. 22. that is, thou hast stablished thy people, 2 Sam. 7. 24. Here also is a grammatical change in the Hebrew; to give, for thou hast given. glorious majesty] venerable or praise-worthy glory. The word Hodh, is general for any laudable grace or virtue for which one is celebrated, reverenced and commended. above] or over, or upon the heavens. This phrase is used of God, Num. 27. 20. where he willeth Moses to give of his glorious majesty upon Joshua: and may have use in the mystical applying of this Psalm to Christ's kingdom, as Mat. 21. 26. teacheth us: heaven; being also often used in Scripture for the Church of Christ, Isa. 65. 17. and 66. 22. Rev. 21. 1.

Vers. 3. hast founded] that is, firmly decreed, appointed, [unspec] and consequently fitted and perfected, as the Greek katertiso (which the Apostle useth) signifieth, Mat. 21. 16. So in Esth. 1. 8. the king had founded, that is, decreed, appointed. See also before, Psal. 2. 2. strength] that is, strong praise, for so this word seemeth often to be used, as Ps. 29. 1. and 96. 7. and 118. 14. therefore the Greek which the Apostle followeth, Mat. 21. 16. translatheth it praise. This word strength or firmness, may be taken for kingdom firmly strengthened, as in this place, so in Ps. 110. 2. and 86. 16. and 89. 11. to make cease] that is, put to silence, or do away, abolish, and destroy. So after in Psal. 119. 119. and 89. 45. and 46. 10. self-avenger] or, him that avengeth himself; the proud and mighty which will not suffer his honor or gain to be diminished. So Ps. 44. 17. This was fulfilled, when children crying Hosanna to welcome Christ, the chief Priests and Scribes disdained, & sought to destroy him: but he stopped their mouths by alleging this Scripture, Mat. 21. 15, 16. Mark. 11. 18. God's people are taught though they suffer wrong, not to avenge themselves, but to give place unto wrath, Rom. 12. 19.

Vers. 5. what is sorry man] to wit, thus think I with myself, what is man, &c. Here man is called Aenosh, (the name of Adams nephew, Gen. 4. 26.) which signifieth doleful, sorry, sorrowful, wretched, and sick incurably. And this name is given to all men, to put them in mind of their misery and mortality; as Ps. 9. 21. let the heathens know that they be Aenosh. son of Adam] or, of earthly man. As before men are called Aenosh for their doleful estate by sin; so are they called Adam, and sons of Adam, that is, earthly, to put them in mind of their original and end, which were made of Adamah the earth, even of the dust, and to dust shall again return, Gen. 27. and 3. •9. Adam was the name both of man and woman, Gen. 5. 2. and is also the name of all their children, Ps. 22. 7. and 36. 7. and 39. 6. and in many other places. See the note on Psal. 49 3. visitest him] that is, hast care of, providest for, and lookest to him. The original word thus largely signifieth, and is used indifferently for visiting with favor, as Ps. 65. 10. or with displeasure, as Psal. 59. 6. Here it is meant for good; for God's providence is singular towards man, and his visitation preserveth our spirit, Job 10. 12. Compare also herewith, Psal. 144. 3. Job 7. 17, 18.

Vers. 6. For thou madest him lesser] or, And thou madest him lack; or, Though thou madest him to want a little of the God's. a little] The original word signifieth either a little while, Psal. 37. 10. or a little deal, Ps. 37. •6. 1 Sam. 14. 29. The Greek brachuti (which the Apostle useth) also signifieth both, Act. 5. 34. John. 6. 7. howbeit, by his applying this to Christ, he seemeth to mean a little or short time, Heb. 2. 7. 9. than the God's] or than God; but by God's here is meant the Angels, as the Apostle expoundeth it, according both to the Greek version & Chaldee paraphrase. And those heavenly spirits are for their office and service called Angels, that is, messengers; but for their honorable dignity they are called God's, here & in Ps 97. 7. & the sons of God, Job 1. 6. & 38. 7. The Princes of the earth are named God's, Psal. 82. 6. how much more may the Angels be called so, that are Chief Princes, Dan. 10. 13. and crownedst him] This may be understood of man as he was first made in God's image, and Lord of the world, Gen. 1. 26. but since the transgression, it is peculiar to Christ and to Christian men that have their dignity restored by Christ. Unto him the Apostle applieth this Psalm, thus: We see Jesus crowned with glory and honor, which was a little made lesser than the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by the grace of God he might taste death for all, Hebr. 2. 9. Glory seemeth to respect inward virtues, as wisdom, holiness, &c. and Honor for his outward good estate in ruling over the creatures, as verse. 7, 8, 9. comely honor] The Hebrew hadar denoteth all honorable comeliness, honest, grave, adorned decency.

Vers. 7. all, didst thou set] in the first creation God gave man rule over fishes, fowls, beasts, and all that moveth on the earth, Gen. 1. 26. but after, for his sake and sin, the earth was cursed, and he enjoyed it with sorrow, Gen. 3. 17. But the Son of man, who is heir of all things, Hebr. 1. 2. restoreth our loss, and will cause the remnant of the people, even who-soever overcometh, to inherit all things, Zach. 8. 12. Rev. 21. 7. though unto man living here in sorrows, we yet see not all things subdued, Hebr. 2. 8.

Vers. 8. Sheep and oxen] or Flocks and herds; the flock comprehending both sheep and goats, Levite. 1. 10.

Vers. 9. The fowl] that is, fowls or birds; one is used for many or all; so the Hebrew often speaketh of other things, as ship, for ships, 1 King. 10. 22. with 2 Chron. 9. 21. spear, for spears, 2 King. 11. 10. with 2 Chro. 23. 9. So Psal. 20. 8. and 34. 8. of the heavens] that is, of the air, for all this Outspred or firmament spread over the face of the earth, God called Heavens, Gen. 1. 17. the place also above where the Sun and stars are, be called heavens, Gen. 1. 17. and the highest place where the Angels dwell, (and God himself is said to sit in,) is likewise called heaven, Matth. 5. 9. and 24. 36. and by the Apostle named the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. So other Scriptures mention the birds of heaven, Matth. 13. 32. the winds of heaven, Dan. 7. 2. the clouds of heaven, Dan. 7. 13. the dew of heaven, Dan. 4. 12, &c. The Hebrew name Shamajim, hath the form of the duall number: but the Evangelists express it indifferently by the singular or plural; as where one saith, your reward is great in the heavens, Mat. 5. 12. another saith, it is much in heaven, Luk. 6. 23.

PSAL. IX.

David praiseth God for executing of judgment. 12 He inciteth others to praise him. 14 He prayeth that he may have cause to praise him. 16 The judgments that shall come upon the wicked.

To the Master of the Music upon Muth labben; a Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

I Will confess Jehovah with all my heart, I will tell all thy marvelous works. I will rejoyce and show gladness in thee, I will sing Psalm to thy name, O most high.

When mine enemies turned backward, they stumbled and perished from thy face.

For thou hast done my judgment and my doom, hast sitten on the throne, judge of justice. Thou hast rebuked the heathens, hast brought to perdition the wicked one; their name thou hast wiped out forever and aye.

The desolations of the enemy are wholly ended to perpetuity, and the cities thou hast pulled up, perished is the memorial of them of them. And Jehovah shall sit forever, he hath prepared his throne for judgment.

And he will judge the world with justice, will judge the people's with righteousneses.

And Jehovah will be an high refuge for the oppressed, an high refuge at times in distress. And they that know thy name will trust in thee, for thou for sakest not them that seek thee Jehovah. Sing Psalm to Jehovah that dwelleth in Zion, show forth among the people's his doings. For he that seeketh out bloods remembereth them, forgetteth not the cry of the meek afflicted. Be gracious to me, Jehovah, see mine affliction from my haters, lifting up me from the gates of death. That I may tell all thy praises in the gates of the daughter of Zion, may be glad in thy salvation. The heathens are sunk down in the corrupting pit that they made; in the net that they hid caught is their foot.

Knowne is Jehovah, judgment he hath done: in the work of his hands ensnared is the wicked one: Meditation Selah. The wicked shall turn into hell, all the heathens that forget God. For not to perpetuity forgotten shall be the needy one, nor the expectation of the poor afflicted ones perish for aye. Rise up Jehovah, let not sory man be strong; let the heathens be judged before thy face. Put thou, Jehovah, a fear in them, let the heathens know that they be sory men Selah.

Annotations.

Vpon Muth labben] This, if it be referred to the music, seemeth to be a kind of tune like that we call the Counter-tenor. Otherwise it may be read, For the death of Labben; but who he was, is uncertain: some think it was Goliath; the Chaldee saith, for the death of the Son. It seemeth to me, as the former Psalm was of the propagation of Christ's kingdom, so this is of the destruction of Antichrists.

Vers. 2. marvelous works] or wonderful things, miracles. The original word signifieth high and hidden, such as man's power cannot perform, nor reason reach unto, and therefore are admired.

Vers. 3. in thee] the Chaldee saith, in thy word. [unspec 3]

Vers. 4. when my enemies turned] This may be taken for a sum of his praise for deliverances past, or, in faith for like to come, and may be read, when my foes turn back, they shall stumble and perish. from thy face] from before thee, because of thy presence, that is, for fear of thee, and shut out from thy face or presence. So after, Psal. 68. 2, 3, 9. So the Apostle speaketh of the wicked's perdition from the face of the Lord, 2 Thess. 1. 9.

Vers. 5. done my judgment] that is, given sentence, and executed according to the right of my cause: See Psal. 7. 9. The Chaldee expoundeth it, my vengeance. sitten on the throne] or set thee down on the throne, the seat of judgment or tribunal. This noteth both kingly authority, Psal. 132. 11, 12. and the acting or executing of the same, 2 Chron. 18. 18. Isaiah 6. 1. Dan. 7. 9. Rev. 20. 11.

Vers. 6. hast rebuked] with rough and severe words: but this, when God doth it, commonly importeth confusion, as being to his enemies, and therefore joined with the curse, Psalm. 119. 21. and 68. 31. and 76. 7. and 18. 16. Zach. 3. 2. So else-where he saith, at the rebuke of thy face they perish, Psalm. 80. 17. wiped out] or, wiped away, as with the hand. And this wiping out the name, noteth an utter abolishing with great wrath, Deut. 9. 14. and 29. 20. Psal. 109. 13. forever and aye] or, forever and yet; or, to eternity and perpetuity. The Hebrew Ghned, yet, is added to eternity or ever, to increase the durance of it, and to note all eternities, Psal. 10. 16. and 21. 5. and 104. 5. and 145. 1, 2. taken from Moses, Exod. 15. 18.

Vers. 7. The desolations] which the enemy made in spoiling our land; or the desolate places which the enemy built for himself, as in Job 3. 14. great men are said to build themselves desolate places. of the enemy] So the Greek turned it. We may also read it, O enemy, the desolations are quite ended (which thou madest;) or, are they ended? to perpetuity] or, to victory, that is, so as it continueth forever. Ever or Eternity hath the name Ghnolam in Hebrew, of being hid, and so unknown: perpetuity, Net sach, is so named of prevailing and getting victory by perpetual durance. Hereupon that speech of the Prophet, he hath swallowed up death to perpetuity, or victorious aye, I say 25. 8. is translated by the Apostle, Death is swallowed up to victory, that is, forever, as the same word in Amos 8. 7. and Lam. 5. 20. is also turned into Greek by the LXXij. Interpreters. Pulled up] a similitude taken from trees, applied here to the pulling down of cities: so planting and pulling up of a people, are set one against another, Ier. 24. 6. and 42. 10. and 45. 4. of them] twice repeated, for more vehemency; meaning, all and every of them:

or, with themselves, their memory is gone: the Greek translath, their memorial is perished with a sound.

Vers. 9. will judge] or give doom unto. Two several words for judging are here used, as before, Psal. 7. 9. with righteousnesses] that is, all manner righteousness and equity, or, most righteously, most equally. See the like speech after, Psal. 98. 9. and 96. 13. and often other where.

Vers. 10. an high refuge] in Hebrew Misgab, which is, an exaltation, that is, an high place, tower, or fort to resist the enemy, Jer. 48. 1. wherein men are protected, and escape their foes invasion, Deut. 2. 36. for the oppressed] or, to the beaten down; the poor is so called, as being pounded or samped by the adversary. So Psal. 10. 18. and 74. 21. at times] or in seasons, that is, seasonably at all times when they be in distress. So Psal. 10. 1.

Vers. 11. that know] or that acknowledge thy name: such are God's people, Isaiah 52. 6. and shall by him be delivered and advanced, Psal. 91. 14.

Vers. 12. dwelleth in Zion] or sitteth in Zion. The Chaldee saith, hath placed his divine habitation (or majesty) in Zion. Sitting is often used for dwelling, as is noted, Psal. 1. 1. The word in is many times omitted in Hebrew, but necessarily to be understood, as the text it self showeth, as beth, house, for bebeth, in the house, 2 King. 14. 14. compared with 2 Chron. 25. 24. and 2 Chron. 26. 21. with 2 King. 15. 5. and 2 Chron. 34. 30. with 2 King. 23. 2. his doings] his practices, or wonted works. The original word signifieth actions done naturally, or purposely and studiously; designs, gests, or exercises enterprised advisedly, and prosecuted studiously, of natural disposition and inclination, as Prov. 20. 11. 1 Sam. 25. 3.

Vers. 13. seeketh out] or requireth bloods, that is, God, who followeth, findeth out, punisheth and avengeth bloodshed or murder, according to the law, Gen. 9. 5, 6. See the Annotations there. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he that requireth the blood of the innocent, remembereth his just ones. meek afflicted] The original here hath a double reading, Ghnanajm, that is, afflicted, poor; and Ghnanavim, meek, modest, lowly: for affliction often causeth meekness. Therefore also Ghnani, that is, afflicted, is translated. Praus, Meeke, Matth. 21. 5. from Zach. 9. 9.

Vers. 14. from my haters] that is, which cometh upon me from them. lifting up] or, ô lifter up (exalter) of me. gates of death] This noteth present peril and fear of death, as being now near at the very door or gate thereof, Gen. 4. 7. Judge. 5. 8. It noteth also power, strength, and jurisdiction which death hath; (even reigning, as the Apostle saith, Rom. 5. 14.) because Magistrates sate, and judgments were executed at the gates of cities, Deut. 22. 15. Job 31. 21. Amos 5. 10, 15. So in other Scriptures the gates of death and of hell denote their peril, strength and horror, Psal. 107. 18. Isaiah 38. 10. Matth. 16. 18. Job 38. 17.

Vers. 15. gates of the daughter of Zion] these are opposed to the former gates of death, and mean the public places where God's people came together at Zion gates, where God sate, verse. 12. and which he loved most, Psal. 87. 2. The daughter of Zion signifieth the Church or Congregation there gathered; as also the Chaldee Paraphrase here showeth, translating it the congregation of Zion, for every chief city was counted as a mother, 2 Sam. 20. 19. (whereupon the Apostle calleth Jerusalem, the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26.) the villages that were near and pertained unto such cities, are called daughters, Ios. 15. 45. 2 Chron. 13. 19. Psal. 48. 12. and the inhabitants there seated, or assemblies of people resorting thither, are likewise named daughters; as being bred, borne, nourished there, and subject thereto. Such speeches are often in the Scripture, as, daughter of Jerusalem, Lam. 2. 19. daughter of Zion, Mat. 21. 5. from Zach. 9. 9. daughter of my people, Ier. 4. 11. daughter of Tirus, Psalm. 45. 13. daughter of Babel, Psal. 137. 8. and the like.

Vers. 17. Judgment he hath done] or, by the judgment that he hath executed. his hands] or his palms, the wicked's own hands, called the palms or hollowes, for the secret manner of working. So Psal. 7. 4. Meditation Selah] meaning that this is a matter of deep meditation, worthy to be well minded, and spoken or sung with earnest consideration always. Some retain the Hebrew word, Higgajon Selah, for that it may import a kind of Song or tune, (as the Greek turneth it,) being found in this form, only here, and in Psal. 92. 4. The Chaldee interpreteth it, the just shall joyfully shout forever.

Vers. 18. into hell] into hell it self: for the word into is in effect twice put in the Hebrew for more vehemency. forget God] the Chaldee addeth, that forget the fear of God.

Vers. 19. needy one] two names are here given to the poor, Aebjon, needy and desirous, which importeth want of things needful, to be supplied by liberality, Psal. 132. 15. and 112. 9. Ghnani, poor afflicted, which need help and deliverance from vexation, as before, verse. 13. yet this precise difference is not always observed in Scripture. perish for aye] that is, shall never perish. Here the word not, set in the beginning, serveth for a denial of all that followeth, shall not be forgotten, shall not perish, or be lost; So in Job 30. 20, 25. and 31. 20. And the Chaldee here repeateth the word not, for more plainness. Contrary to this is the wicked's hope and expectation, which shall perish, Prov. 10. 28. Job 8. 13. and 11. 20. be strong] or, strengthen, confirm and harden himself, and so prevail. This is fitly opposed both to the name and nature of man, which is infirm, sorrowful, and mortal.

Vers. 21. Put a fear in them] The original morah (used in this place only) seemeth to be put for Mora, which is Fear or Terror, Psal. 76. 12. these two Hebrew letters being often put one for another, as Amon, Ier. 52. 15. for Hamon, 2 King. 25. 11. Shinna, 2 King. 25. 29. for Shinnab, Ier. 52. 33. Or according to the Letters it may come of Horah, to teach, and signify a law or doctrine, and this the Greek favoeth, translating set a lawgiver (or teacher) over them. sory men] in Hebrew Aenossh, the proper name of Adams nephew, Gen. 4. 26. signifying Sorrowfull; and is after commonly given to every man for his doleful state and mortality, Psal. 8. 5. and here collectively is the name of mankind.

PSAL. X.

1 The Prophet complaineth to God of the outrage of the wicked against God himself and his poor people. 12 He prayeth for remedy. 16 He profeseth his confidence.

WHerefore Jehovah dost thou stand in a place far off, dost thou hide at times in distress? In the haughtiness of the wicked, he hotly pursueth the poor afflicted, let them be taken in the crafty purposes that they have thought. For praise doth the wicked for the desire of his soul, and the covetous he blesseth, he despiteth Jehovah. The wicked, such is the loftiness of his nose, that he seeketh not: there is no God, in all his crafty purposes. His ways do well succeed in all time, thy judgments are on high above his sight, all his distresses he puffeth at them. He saith in his heart, I shall not be removed, for that I shall not be in evil to generation and generation. His mouth is full of cursing, and of deceits and fraud; under his tongue is molestation and painful iniquity. He sitteth in the waiting place of the villages, in the secret places doth he murder the innocent, his eyes lurk for the poor.

He lieth in wait in the secret place, as a Lion in his den he lieth in wait to snatch away the poor afflicted, he snatcheth away the poor afflicted, in drawing him into his net.

He croucheth, he boweth down, that fall may into his strong paws a troop of poor.

He saith in his heart, God hath forgotten, he hideth his face, he will not see to perpetuity. Rise up Jehovah, ô God lift up thy hand, forget not the meek afflicted. Wherefore doth the wicked despite God? he saith in his heart, thou wilt not enquire. Thou seest, for thou beholdest molestation and indignation, to give it into thy hand, unto thee the poor doth leave it: thou art the helper of the fatherless. Break thou the arm of the wicked one, and of the evil man; seek out his wickedness, till thou findest none. Jehovah is King for ever and aye; perished are the heathens out of his land. Jehovah thou hast heard the desire of the meek, thou preparest firm their heart, thou makest attentive thine ear. To judge the fatherless and the oppressed, that he add not anymore to daunt with terror sory man out of the earth.

Annotations.

THis Psalm is in the Greek version a continuance and part of the former ninth. Whereupon the count of the Psalms following, doth in the Greek books, and such as follow them, differ from the Hebrew; the 11. Psalm being reckoned for the 10. the 12. for the 11. and so forward. Yet to make up the number of 150. Psalms, they divide the 147. into two. Likewise the 114 and 115. Psalms they make one, and the 116. they part in two.

Vers. 1. wherefore dost thou stand] or, wilt thou stand? This form of expostulation implieth an earnest prayer, Lord stand not far off. For questions may be resolved into plain affirmations, or denials: as where one Evangelist saith, why diseasest thou the Master, Mark. 5. 35. another saith, Disease not the Master, Luke 8. 49. See the notes on Exod. 32. 11. dost thou hide] to wit, thine eyes, as Isaiah 1. 15. or, thine ear, as Lam. 3. 56. or thyself. times in distress] that is, when we are in distress. So Psal. 9. 10. Times, may specially note troublous times. See Psal. 31. 16.

Vers. 2. he hotly pursueth] or, burn doth the poor, doth broile in afflictions, is hotly persecuted. See Psal. 7. 14. The Apostle useth like speech for exceeding grief, 2 Cor. 11. 19. Who is offended and I burn not? crafty purposes] or, devices, policies; The word noting sometime good purposes, and sometime evil. See also Psal. 26. 10. The Greek translatheth, they are taken in the counsels.

Vers. 3. praise doth the wicked] to wit, himself, or his fortune, for that he hath what his soul desireth. And the soul of the wicked desireth evil, Prov. 21. 10. the covetous] or gain-thirsty, he blesseth, to wit, himself, and his fortune. The covetous hath his name of a word which sometime signifieth to pierce or wound, Joel 2. 8. And fitly is the gain-thirsty so called, both for the hurt he doth to others, whose life off he would take away, Prov. 1. 19. and for that he woundeth himself with his greedy cark; the holy Ghost testifying that such as lust after gain, do pierce themselves thorough with many sorrows, 1 Tim. 6. 10. he despighteth] or contemptuously provoketh with evil words or carriage, and so incenseth or stirreth him to wrath. So verse. 13. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus, he that blesseth the unrighteous man, abhorreth the word of the Lord.

Vers. 4. such is the loftiness of his nose] or, according to the height of his countenance, or, of his anger. The nose and casting up of it, signifieth a proud, scornful, and sometime an angry countenance; For as the highness of the heart, Psal. 131. 1. and of the spirit, Prov. 16. 18. noteth inward pride: so the loftiness of the eyes, Psal. 101. 5. and here of the nose, noteth outward pride and disdainful behavior. The Hebrew hath one word, for the nose, and for anger, (as is observed, Psal. 2. 5.) the Greek here saith, according to the multitude of his anger, meaning that whereby he persecuteth the poor. The Chaldee translateth it, in the pride of his spirit. he seeketh not] nothing regardeth or careth, to wit, for God, or his will. Or it may be translated, The wicked inquireth not into the height of his anger, that is, into God's anger, he careth not, nor feareth his wrath. in all his crafty purposes] or, be all his presumptuous cogitations; meaning that he doth not once think of God, whiles so he purposeth against the poor; or he presumeth in heart, and fain would so persuade himself that there is no God. He studieth Atheism, as Psal. 14. 1. The Chaldee expounds it, He saith in his heart, that all his cogitations are not manifest before the Lord.

Vers. 5. His ways, &c.] or, bring forth do his ways; a similitude from bringing forth children with pain, which being effected, causeth joy, John. 16. 21. Therefore here, (as in Job 20. 21.) it is used for good success and (as the Chaldee explaineth it,) prosperity. Or referring it to the poor whom he persecuteth, we may read, his ways make sorrowful, or are grievous; the Greek saith, are polluted. in all time] or, in every time, that is, always continually. So Psal. 34. 2. and 62. 9. and 106. 3. so the Apostle in Greek saith, praying in all time, that is, always, Ephes. 6. 18. like phrase is, in all day, that is, daily, Psal. 145. 2. above his sight] or out of his presence, from before him. he puffeth] that is, defieth & setteth them at naught, dominiers over them (as the Greek translateth it) as if he could overthrow them with his breath. Or he puffeth, bloweth, and consequently setteth them on fire, and consumeth them: as, scornful men puff, (that is, inflame, or as the Greek saith, burn) the city, Prov. 29. 8. So Ezek. 21. 31. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he is angry at them.

Vers. 6. I shall not be in evil:] or, that am not in evil; that is, I who am not now in evil, shall never be; meaning by evil, trouble or affliction; as the Israelites saw themselves in evil, Exod. 5. 19. Or, perhaps, by evil, he meaneth sin and maliciousness, (as when Aaron said, the people were in evil, Exod. 32. 22.) and then he boasteth here of his innocence, for which he promiseth to himself a settled estate. The Chaldee giveth this sense; I will not be moved from generation to generation, from doing evil.

Vers. 7. of cursing] or, of execration or adjuration. The Hebrew Alah signifieth an oath with execration or cursing, Numb. 5. 21. for cursing was added to an oath, for to confirm it the more, Nehem. 10. 29. Deut. 29. 12, 21. therefore one and the same thing is called both an oath, and a curse, Gen. 24. 8. 41. This here the Apostle calleth in Greek Ara, Cursing, Rom. 3. 14. deceits and fraud] or impostures and inward guile, that is, outward deceitful shows and promises, and privy guile lurking in the heart.

Vers. 8. in the waiting place of the villages] or, the ambush of the court-yards, both which have their name in Hebrew of the grass that groweth in them, as it were grass-yards. And because such places commonly are rich men's possessions, therefore (it seemeth) the Greek translatheth, in the waiting place with the rich.

Vers. 10. He croucheth] or, And he crusheth, to wit, himself, lest he should be espied. See this spoken of the Lion, Job 39. 2. that fall may int<sup>o</sup> his strong paws a troop] or, and he falleth with his strong paws on the troop of poor. Strong paws] or, Strong members; Here wanteth a word to be supplied, as often in this and other tongues; as, a full, for a full cup, Psal. 73. 10. a new, for a new sword, 2 Sam. 21. 16. cold, for cold water, Matth. 10. 42. This want sometime the Scripture it self supplieth in repe•ting histories; as, he set in Aram, 1 Chro. 18. 6. for he set garrisons in Aram, 2 Sam. 8. 6. the first of the feast, Matth. 26. 17. for the first day of the feast, Mark. 14. 12. So after, Psal. 22. 13. and 27. 4. troop of poor] or, the weak, the poor; called here by a name that noteth their power, wealth, and faculty, to be dimmed or decayed, or, a company of obscure persons. This word is nowhere found, but thrice in this Psalm, in the eight verse before, in this, and again in the fourteenth.

Vers. 11. he will not see] or, not at all respect. The like profane speeches of the wicked are set down, Psalm. 94. 7. Ezek. 8. 12. and 9. 9. Isaiah 29. 15.

Vers. 12. lift up thy hand] that is, show openly thy power for help of thy people, and confusion of thy foes. Lifting up the hand is applied to the publishing and manifesting of the Gospel, Isaiah 49. 22. sometime for sign of help, Ezek. 20. 5. sometime for hurt, 2 Sam. 18. 28. and sometime for sign of an oath, as Ps. 106. 26. Deut. 32. 40. In this latter sense the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it here, Confirme the oath of thy hand.

Vers. 14. to give it into thine hand] that is to take the matter into thy hand, to menage it, or, to give with thy hand, that is, liberally to recompense the evil that is done. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, It is manifest before thee, that thou wilt send upon the wicked sorrow and wrath, thou lookest to pay a good reward to the just with thy hand. unto thee] or, upon thee the poor leaveth, to wit, his cause, or him-self. To leave, is to commit unto ones fidelity, Gen. 39. 6. Esa. 10. 3. Job 39. 14. And so the Chaldee saith, thy poor trust in thee. See also 2 Tim. 1. 12.

Vers. 15. Break the arm] the arm noteth strength, means, power, and help, Ezek. 30. 21, 25. Isa. 33. 2. Dan. 11. 6. 22. also violence, Job 35. 9. I respect of all these, the arms of the wicked men shall be broken, Psal. 37. 17. till thou findest none.] In Ier. 50. 20. the sins of God's people being sought for, are not found, because of his mercy in pardoning them: but here of the wicked they are not found, because of his judgment in consuming them, as he saith in Ezek. 23. 48. thus will I cause wickedness to cease out of the land.

Vers. 16. heathens out of his land] the land of Canaan, whose people's the Lord drove out, Psal. 44. 3. and of which he said, the land is mine, Levite. 25. 23. It may also be understood of the wicked Israelites, which in conditions were like the heathens, and borne of them, Ezek. 16. 3. such were also called heathens, Psal. 2. 1. as appeareth by Act. 4. 27.

Vers. 17. thou preparest firm] to wit, by thy Spirit, which helpeth the infirmities of men that know not what to pray as they ought, Rom. 8. 26. Or we may read it prayer-wise, prepare thou their heart, apply &c. for prayers are often made in faith, as if they were already done; as, where one saith, it hath pleased thee to bless, 1 Chron. 17. 27. another saith, let it please thee to bless, 2 Sam. 7. 29. thine ear the Chaldee addeth, to their prayers. The Greek thus, to the preparation of their heart thine care attendeth.

Vers. 18. that he add not] he, that is, the wicked man spoken of before, verse. 15. unless we refer it to that which followeth, the man of the earth. to daunt with terror] or, to break with fear, to dismay or terrify. The word is indifferent, applied sometime to God, Psalms. 89. 8. sometime to wicked men, Psal. 37. 35. The Apostle following the Greek version, saith, be not troubled, 1 Pet. 3. 14. for, be not daunted with fear, Isaiah 8. 12. but morefully the word is opened by Paul, saying, in nothing be terrified (or daunted) of your adversaries, Philip. 1. 28. pturómenoi. sory man, out of the earth] or sory men, (Aenosh,) as P. 9 21. This may be referred to the fatherless and oppressed, whom the wicked would daunt and skere out of the earth, or land. Or, changing the order of the words, thus, that man of the earth (that is, earthly man,) do no more terrify the meek. The Chaldee explaineth it thus, Let the sons of men not anymore be broken (or daunted) from before the wicked of the earth.

PSAL. XI.

David being counseled to flee, encourageth him-self in God against his enemies. 4 He showeth the providence and justice of God.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

IN Jehovah do I hope for safety; how say ye to my soul, flee to your mountain as a bird? For loe the wicked bend the bow, they prepare their arrow upon the string to shoot in the darkness at them that are upright in heart. For the foundations are cast down, the just what hath he done? Jehovah in the palace of his holiness, Jehovah in the heavens his throne; his eyes will view, his eye-lids will prove the sons of Adam. Jehovah will prove the just one, and the wicked one; and him that loveth violent wrong his soul doth hate. He will rain upon the wicked, snares, fire and brimstone, and wind of burning storms shall be the portion of their cup. For just Jehovah he loveth justices, his face will view the righteous.

Annotations.

A Psalm of David: I this word Psalm wanting in the Hebrew, is supplied in the Greek. So in Psal. 14. and 25. and 26. and 27. and many other. See the note on Psal. 10. 10. flee] or flit. In the Hebrew there is a double reading, flee thou, and flee ye, meaning David in special, and his retinew with him. to your mount] or, from your mount; but the Greek and Chaldee supplieth the word to. In mounts, rocks, and caves, David hid himself from Saul's persecution, 1 Sam. 23. 14. and 24. 3, 4. as a bird] This noteth his danger, who was hunted as a partrich on the mountains, 1 Sam. 26. 20. and his fear, as in Isa. 16. 2. Hereupon is that proverb, As a bird fleeing from her nest, so is a man fleeing from his place, Prov. 27. 8.

Vers. 3. For the foundations] or the things set up. The original word Shathoth signifieth things orderly set and disposed, and may be applied to many things; as in buildings, to the foundation; in hunting, unto nets or snares; in the common-wealth, unto constitutions or positive laws; in wars, unto engins or leagers, as Psal. 3. 7. in the mind of man, unto purposes, plots, deliberations; in religion, unto faith, which is the foundation and beginning of the hypostasis, or the hypostasis (that is, the subsistence and expectation) of things hoped for, Hebr. 3. 14. and 11. 1. According to all, or most of these, may this sentence be applied, either to the plots, purposes, snares, set for David's ruin, but pulled down by the Lord; or to Saul's estate and kingdom which seemed settled, but by the Lord was overthrown; or, to David's estate and faith, which the enemies boasted to be come to naught. The Greek version of the Lxx. translath thus, for the things that thou hast perfected, they have destroyed. are cast down] or, shall be broken down, destroyed. The Chaldee giveth this interpretation, For if the foundations be destroyed, why doth the just do innocence?

Vers. 4. Palace of his holiness] or, his holy palace or Temple, which here may be taken for very heaven, as also in Hab. 2. 20. for the holy places made with hands, were antitypes (or answerable similitudes) of the true Sanctuary, Hebr. 9. 24.

Vers. 5. prove the just] or try them; by the persecution of the wicked, as well as by other afflictions, Psal. 66. 10, 11, 12. his soul] that is, God's soul doth hate. This is attributed to God after the manner of men; as he is also said to have eyes, hands, ears, &c. So Levite. 26. 11. my soul shall not loath you.

Vers. 6. snares] hereby is often meant in Scripture, strange, sudden, and inevitable judgments, Job 22. 10. and 18 9, 10. Isa. 8. 14. and 24. 17, 18. The Chaldee expounds it, He will send down the rain of vengeance on the wicked that breathe fire, &c. fire and brimstone] such was the wrath that fell on Sodom and the cities by it, Gen. 19. 24. and was threatened unto Gog, Ezek. 38. 22. and figureth the vengeance of eternal fire, Jude 7. Rev. 20. 10. wind of burning storms] or, of blasting tempests, that is, a horrible blasting whirlwind. David felt such from his persecutors, Psalm. 119. 53. and here they feel such from God, for persecuting him. Jeremiah applieth this word to the burning storm of hunger, Lam. 5. 10. but it is properly a hideous burning tempest, rushing out of the darksome cloud; such as the Evangelist calleth •emos tuphonicos, a smouldry burning wind, named in Greek Euroclydon, Act. 27. 14. the portion of their cup] that is, the due measure of their punishment. See Psal. 75. 9 and 16. 5.

Vers. 7. loveth justices] that is, all manner justice, both to punish the evil, and preserve the good, both just causes and persons. his face] or their faces, in mystery of the holy Trinity; as often in the Scripture. See Psal. 149. 2. The Hebrew here may be Englished, the face (the aspects) of them, or of him: See the note on Psal. 2. 3. will view the righteous] usually vieweth the right. And this noteth the manifesting of God's care and favor towards the righteous, both cause and person. The Greek translath, His face seeth righteousnesses: the Chaldee thus, The just shall see the sight of his face.

PSAL. XII.

David destitute of human comfort, craveth help of God. 4 He comforteth himself with God's judgments on the wicked, and confidence in God's tried promises.

To the Master of the Music upon the eight, a Psalm of David.

SAve O Jehovah, for the gracious Saint is ended, for the faithful are diminished from the sons of Adam. They speak false vanity, each man with his next friend, with lip of flatteries; with a heart and a heart they speak. Jehovah cut off all lips of flatteries, the tongue that speaketh great things.

Which have said, with our tongue we will prevail, our lips are with us, who is Lord over us? For the wasteful spoil of the poor afflicted, for the groaning of the needy ones: now will I rise up, saith Jehovah; I will set in salvation, he shall have breathing. The sayings of Jehovah are pure sayings: as silver tried in a subliming furnace of earth, fined seven times. Thou Jehovah wilt keep them, wilt preserve him from this generation forever. The wicked walk on every side, when vileness is exalted of the sons of Adam.

Annotations.

Vers. 1. upon the eight] which the Chaldee expoundeth, upon the eight stringed harp: See Psal. 6. 1.

SAve] or help. This word is largely used, for all manner saving, helping, delivering, preserving, &c. as to help or defend from injury, Exod. 2. 17. 2 King. 6. 26, 27. to deliver from all adversities, Psal. 34. 7. as from sickness, Mat. 9. 21. Mark. 6. 56. from drowning, Mat. 8. 25. from shipwreck, Act. 27. 31. from hands of enemies, Psal. 18. 4. Jude 5. from sin, Mat. 1. 21. from death, Mat. 27. 40. from wrath, Rom. 5. 9. and infinite the like. And is not only a helping in trouble, but a riddance out of it, as one Evangelist saith, Let us see if Elias will come and save him, Mat. 27. 49. another saith, if Elias will come and take him down, Mark. 15. 36. the faithful are diminished] or faiths, fidelities are ceased. The original word is used both for true and faithful persons, 2 Sam. 20. 19. and for truths or fidelities, Isaiah 26. 2. The Greek translateth, the truths.

Vers. 3. false vanity] or vain falsehood; in Greek, vain things. This word (shav) noteth vanity both of words and deeds, Exod. 20. 7. Jer. 2. 30. and often that which is also false, Exo. 23. 1. as that which Moses in Exod. 20. 16. calleth witness of falsehood, (Sheker,) relating it he calleth false vanity, (Shav) Deut. 5. 20. with his next friend] or his neighbor, his friend with whom he is associate. Sometime this word is used for a special friend, 2 Sam. 13. 3. Psal. 35. 14. Prov. 17. 17. but often generally for a neighbor, or next, as the New Testament translateth it in Greek, Mat. 19. 19. from Levite. 19. 18. And who is our neighbor, our Lord teacheth us, Luke 10. 29,—36. with lip of flatteries] that is, smooth deceitful speeches, as the Greek translateth, deceitful lips, a lip being sometime put for a speech or language, Gen. 11. 1. Of such deceivers, that had taught their tongues to speak lies, Jeremiah also complaineth, Chap. 9. verse. 4, 5. a heart and a heart] that is, a double heart, and deceitful. So stone and stone, Ephah and Ephah, Deut. 23. 13, 14. meaning double and deceitful weights and measures. The men of Zabulun are commended for that they were not thus of a heart and a heart, 1 Chron. 12. 33. The Greek translath, with a heart and a heart he speaketh evil things.

Vers. 5. our lips are with us] or, are ours, that is, we have skill, power, and liberty to speak; who shall control us?

Vers. 6. I will rise up] the Chaldee addeth, will rise up to judgment. set in salvation] that is, deliver out of all misery, and safely settle in health and prosperous estate. he shall have breathing] or, he (meaning God) will give breathing, or respiration to him, that is, to every poor man, (as after in verse. 8.) or, he will breath out, that is, speak plainly to him. The Greek, changing the person, translath parrhesiásomai, that is, I will speak plainly with him. So it noteth the bold assured comfort which God by promise giveth to the afflicted, whose faithful word is therefore commended in the verse following. This word sometime is used for plain and confident breathing out, or uttering of the truth, Habak. 2. 3. Prov. 12. 17. Or we may understand it of the wicked, thus, I will set in salvation him whom he puffeth at, that is, whom the wicked boldly defieth, (as this word was used before, Psal. 10. 5.) or, whom he hath insured. The Chaldee expoundeth it, I will appoint salvation for my people, but against the wicked I will testify evil.

Vers. 7. The sayings] or, the words, promises. tried] examined, fined, as in fire. The like praise of God's pure word is in Psalm. 18. 31. and 119. 140. Prov. 30. 5. a subliming furnace of earth] This furnace, called Ghnalil, a sublimatorie, of subliming or causing to ascend upward, is the best and choicest vessel for trying and subliming of metal, called therefore in Greek Dokimion, a Trial. And the Apostle hath the like word for a Trial of faith, better than gold, 1 Pet. 1. 7. seven times] or seven fold, that is, many times, fully and sufficiently. Seven is a perfect number used for many, 1 Sam. 2. 5. Prov. 24. 16. and 26. 25.

Vers. 8. preserve him] that is, everyone of them: so before in the end of the sixth verse, and often in the Scripture, like sudden change of number may be observed. It may also be read prayer-wise, keep them, preserve him. The Greek changeth person also, saying, wilt keep us, and preserve us. from this generation] that is, from the men of this generation; as when Christ said, Whereto shall I liken this generation? Mat. 11. 16. he meant, Whereto shall I liken the men of this generation? Luke 7. 31. The like may be seen in Mat. 12. 42. compared with Luke 11. 31. The original word Dor, that is, generation, race or age, hath the signification of durance, or durable dwelling and abiding, Psal. 84. 11. and so noteth the whole age or time that a man dureth in this world, Eccles. 1. 4. and so consequently for a multitude of men that live together in any age, as here, and Deut. 1. 35. and in many other places.

Vers. 9. vileness] or, vile luxuriousness, riotize. The word Zulluth here used, is derived from Zolel, that is, a rioter, glutton, or luxurious person, Deut. 21. 20. Prov. 23. 21. and consequently one vile, contemptible and naught worth, opposed unto the precious, Ier. 15. 19. And here vileness or riotize may either be meant of the vice it self, or of vicious doctrine, opposed to God's precious word, before spoken of, verse. 7. or a vile and riotous person may so be called, for more vehemency sake, as Pride for the proud man, Psalm. 36. 12. The Greek translath thus; according to thine highness, thou hast much increased (or made abundant) the sons of men. The Chaldee thus; the wicked walk round about, as an horsleech that sucketh the blood of the sons of men.

PSAL. XIII.

David complaineth of delay in help; 4 prayeth for mercy, 6 and glorieth therein.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

How long Jehovah wilt thou forget me for ever: how long wilt thou hide thy face from me? How long shall I set counsels in my soul, sorrow in my heart by day: how long shall my enemy be exalted above me? Behold, answer thou me, Jehovah my God; lighten thou mine eyes, lest I sleep the death. Lest my enemy say, I have prevailed against him; my distressers be glad when I am moved. But I, in thy mercy do I trust, my heart shall be glad in thy salvation: I will sing to Jehovah, for he hath bounteously rewarded unto me.

Annotations.

Hide thy face] that is, withdraw thy favorable countenance and comfort; which the Chaldee expoundeth, the brightness of thy face. This is contrary to the lifting up of the light of God's face, Psal. 4. 7. and importeth trouble and grief, and is caused by sin, and is the cause of many adversities and discomforts, Deut. 31. 17. 18. Isa. 59. 2. Ezek. 39. 23, 24, 29. therefore this Prophet doth often complain hereof, and pray against it, Psal. 30. 8. and 104. 29. and 88. 15. and 69. 18. and 102. 3. and 143. 7. and 27. 9.

Vers. 3. set counsels] that is, consult and devise with myself how to escape. by day] that is, daily; in Greek, day and night.

Vers. 4. lighten my eyes] that is, make them see clear, and consequently, make me joyful; for, the light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart, Prov. 15. 30. Or, keep me alive: which sense the words following seem to imply, and the like speeches in Prov. 29. 13. Eccles. 11. 7, 8. The eyes are said to be enlightened, when penury, sorrow, sickness, or other affliction whereby they were dulled, is done away, and the senses by some means refreshed, 1 Sam. 14. 27. 29. Esr. 9. 8. also when ignorance is by God's Word and Spirit done out of the mind, Psal 19. 9. Ephes. 1. 18. See also Psal. 38. 11. left I sleep] or, that I sleep not the death, meaning the sleep of death, that is, lest I die. For death is often called sleep in the Scripture, Psal. 76. 6. Job 3. 13. and 14. 12. Act. 7. 60. and 13. 6. the sleep of eernitie, Jer. 51. 39. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Enlighten mine eyes in thy Law, lest I sin, and sleep with them which are guilty of death.

Vers. 6. But I,] or, And I, as for me. bounteously rewarded.] The original word Gamal signifieth to give one thing for another; as prosperity, after one hath been in adversity, &c. And though it be sometime used for rewarding evil for good, Psal. 7. 5. or evil for evil, Psal. 137. 8. yet from God to his people, it commonly signifieth a bountiful rewarding of good things, instead of evil, which we rather do deserve. So Psal. 116. 7. and 119. 17. and 142. 8. and 103. 2. 10. The Greek translateth dealt bounteously; the Chaldee, rewarded me good.

PSAL. XIV.

David describeth the corruption of all natural men; 4 and convinceth them by the light of their consciences. 6 He showeth their enmity against God's people, who wish for, and glory in his salvation.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

THE fool saith in his heart, there is no God: they have corrupted, they have made abominable their practice; there is none that doth good. Jehovah from the heavens looked down upon the sons of Adam, to see if there were any that understandeth, any that seeketh God. All is departed, together they are become unprofitable: there is none that doth good, none, not one. Do they not know, all that work painful iniquity, that eat my people as they eat bread; they call not on Jehovah. There dread they a dread, because God is in the just generation.

The counsel of the poor afflicted ye would make abashed, because Jehovah is his hope. Who will give out of Zion the salvation of Israel? when Jehovah returneth the captivity of his people, •akob shall be glad, Israel shall rejoice.

Annotations.

The fool] Nabal (which hath the signification of jading, dying, or falling away, as doth a leaf or flower, Isa. 40. 8. 1 Pet. 1. 24.) is a title given to the foolish man, as having lost the juice and sap of wisdom, reason, honesty, godliness; being fallen from grace, ungrateful, and without the life of God; as a dead carcass, (which of this word is called Neba•ah, Levite. 11. 40.) and therefore ignoble, and of vile esteem; opposed to the noble man, Isa. 32. 5. The Apostle in Greek turneth it imprudent or without understanding, Rom. 10. •9. from Deut. 32. 21. saith in his heart] that is, mindeth, and persuadeth himself in secret. So Psalm. 10. 4. and 53. 2. no God] the Chaldee expoundeth it, no power (or dominion) of God in the earth. they have corrupted] marred, to wit, themselves; therefore the Greek saith, they are corrupted; the Chaldee saith, corrupted their works. This word is used for corruption both of religion and manners, by idolatry and other vices, Exod. 32. 7. Deut. 31. 29. Gen. 6. 12. And that which he spake before as of one man, he now applieth to all mankind. made abominable] or made loathsome, to wit, their action or themselves; as the Greek faith, they are abominable, or become loathsome. So in 1 King. 21. 26. The Chaldee interpreteth, they abhor good. practice] meaning their evil actions: therefore in Psal. 53. 2. it is gnavel, evil; which here is gnal•lah, action.

Vers. 3. All is] or the all, that is, the whole universal multitude is departed; all in general, and everyone in particular, as is expressed, Psalm. 53. 4. become unprofitable] or fit for no use; so the Apostle expresseth it in Greek: the word here used, being rare, and taken from Job 15. 16. and betokeneth a thing loathsome, stinking, and so unfit for use.

Vers. 4. Do they not know?] meaning, doubtless they know, and cannot plead ignorance. A question hath often the force of an earnest asseveration. eat my people] that is, the poor, as is added for explanation in Exod. 22. 25. for God's people commonly are the poorer sort, I am. 2. 5, 6. Luke 6. 20. and such are eaten or devoured of the wicked, Psal. 79. 7. who eat their flesh, and flay off their skin, and chop them in pieces as flesh for the cauldron, Mic. 3. 3. as they eat bread] the word as seemeth here to be understood; or without it, we may read, they eat bread, that is, are secure, and without remorse, do give themselves to eating and drinking. So eating of bread is used for banqueting, Exod. 18. 12.

Vers. 5. There dread they a dread] that is, they are sore adread, or fear a great fear, as Luke 2. 9. So, hath sinned a sin, Lam. 1. 8. that is, hath grievously sinned. And by there, he meaneth the suddenness of it, as also in Psal. 36. 13. or, there, that is, in their heart and conscience. The Greek translatheth, they dreaded with fear, where no fear was: the Chaldee, they feared with a false fear, with which it was not meet to fear. because God is] this may be taken as a cause of their foresaid fear, as Saul was afraid of David, 1 Sam. 18. 14, 15. or it is an opposition to their dread, but God is in the just generation, and therefore they dread not, but are defended from the siege of their enemies, as Psal. 53. 6. The Chaldee saith, because the word of the Lord is in the generation of the just.

Vers. 6. ye would make abashed] that is, ye reproach it, and would confound, frustrate, and bring it to nothing. So abashing and shame is often used for frustration of ones purpose and hope, Psal. 6. 11. because Jehovah] or, but Jehovah is his shelter and hope, therefore he shall not be abashed, Psal. 25. 3. Contrariwise, the wicked shall be abashed, because God refuseth them, Psal. 53. 6.

Vers. 7. Who will give] or, O that some would give! it is a form of wishing often used in the Scripture, as Ps. 55. 7. Deut. 5. 29. Job 6. 8. out of Zion] this is meant of Christ the salvation of God to Israel, who was expected out of Zion; as it is written, the Redeemer shall come out of Zion, and shall turn away impieties from Jacob, Rom. 11. 26. returneth the captivity] that is, bringeth again those that were led captives: according to the promise, Deut. 30. 3. and this was performed by Christ, Luke 4. 18. Eph. 4. 8. Captivity, or Leading away, is here used for the people led away; as another word of like signification is so used, Ezek. 11. 24, 25. So Psal. 126. Jacob, Israel] that is, God's people, the posterity of Jacob, who also was called Israel. (So Aaron is put for his posterity, the Aaronites, 1 Chron. 12. 27. and 27. 17. and David, for his children, 1 Chron. 4. 31.) Jacob is a name that noteth infirmity; for he strove for the first birth-right, but obtained it not, when he took his brother by the heel in the womb; and thereupon was called Jacob, Gen. 25. 22, 26. But Israel is a name of power and principality; for after he had wrestled with the Angel, behaved him-self princely, wept, prayed, and prevailed, his name was changed from Jacob to Israel, as a Prince or prevailer with God, Gen. 32. 24, 26, 28. Hos. 12. 3, 4. Therefore is the name Israel given to all God's people, even the Gentiles also that have Jacob's faith, Gal. 6. 16. as long before Iether, who was by nature an Ismaelite, 1 Chron. 7. 17. was for his faith and religion called an Israelite, 2 Sam. 17. 25. It may also be observed, how in this word ISRAEL are contained the first letters of the names of Abraham and Sarah his wife, of Isaac and Rebekah his wife, of Jacob and of both his wives, Leah and Rachel: all which persons (except Rachel,) were also buried together in one cave, Gen. 49. 29, 31.

PSAL. XV.

David describeth a citizen of Zion, by his godly and righteous conversation.

A Psalm of David; Jehovah, who shall sojourn in thy tent, who shall dwell in the mountain of thy holiness? He that walketh perfect, and worketh justice, and speaketh truth in his heart.

Slandereth not with his tongue, doth not evil to his next friend, and taketh not up a reproach against his neighbor. In whose eyes an abject is contemned, but he honoreth them that fear Jehovah: sweareth to his hurt, and changeth not. Giveth not his money to biting usury, and taketh not a bribe against the innocent: he that doth these things shall not be moved forever.

Annotations.

IN thy tent] or pavilion, called in Hebrew Ohel, of spreading over. God caused an habitation to be made in the wilderness, wherein he dwelt among men, Exod. 26. Psal. 78. 60. that mansion, made of ten curtains, he called Mishcan, an Habitacle, or Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 1. Psal. 26. 8. over which, other curtains were made and cast for a covering, called Ohel, a Tent or covering, Exod. 26. 7. Hereupon the whole place is called sometime Ohel, a Tent, sometime Mishcan, a Tabernacle. To this Tent all God's people were to come for his public worship, Lev. 17. 4, 5. Deut. 12. 5, 6. It was a moveable place, and so differed from an house or settled habitation, 2 Sam. 7. 1, 6. 1 Chron. 17. 5. yet for the use, it is sometime called a house, as is noted on Psal. 5. 8. mountain] the mount Zion, whereof see Psal. 2. 6. The Chaldee calleth it, the mount of the house of thy holiness.

Vers. 2. walketh perfect] that is, leadeth his life [unspec] perfect, entire, simple, sincere, and unblemished. It noteth the integrity that is before God, in heart and spirit; according to the covenant, walk before me, and be perfect, Gen. 17. 1. and, thou shalt be perfect with Jehovah thy God, Deut. 18. 13. Mat. 5. 48. Therefore this perfectness must first be in the heart, Psal. 119. 80. then in the ways, Psal. 18. 33. and 119. 1. worketh] or effecteth justice; this is wrought by faith, Hebr. 11. 33. and such a man is acceptable to God, Act. 10. 35.

Vers. 3. Slandereth not] or defameth not, backbiteth not. This word Ragal, (from whence Regel, a foot, is derived) properly noteth a going to and fro, prying and spying, and carrying tales and rumors, and is used for defaming, or calumniating by craft and guile, 2 Sam. 19. 27. and here generally for all busy, crafty, deceitful or malicious abuse of the tongue: which the Greek expresseth by using fraud or dole. taketh not up a reproach] or layeth not on, or beareth not a reproach. This importeth both the first raising, and the after receiving and reporting of a reproachful tale, Exod. 23. 1. Levite. 19. 16. The like phrase is used sometime for bearing or suffering reproach, Psal. 69. 8. Ezek. 36. 15. that sense is not amiss here; beareth not reproach upon his neighbor, that is, suffereth not his neighbor to be reproached: as else-where he saith, bear not sin upon thy neighbor, or suffer him not to sin, Levite. 19. 17.

Vers. 4. In whose eyes an abject] or, In his eyes a reprobate is contemned. The order also may be changed thus, in whose eyes the contemptible (or vile person, as Dan. 11. 21.) is rejected. See examples of such carriage, 2 King. 3. 14. Esth. 3. 2. Luke 23. 9. The Greek translatheth it, an evil doer is set at naught before him: the Chaldee thus, He that is despised in his own eyes, and contemned. sweareth to his hurt,] or to his evil, his hindrance, or to afflict himself. Which may be understood of oaths to men, turning to his own loss and damage, which yet he keepeth; or of oaths to God, vowing to afflict himself, by abstinence. The Hebrew word which signifieth evil, is often used for affliction; as in Ruth. 1. 21. the Almighty hath done evil unto me, that is, hath afflicted me. Otherwise if we understand it of doing evil to another, the meaning is, swaereth to do evil, but doth not recompense it; that is, performeth it not: for the word change, here used, sometime signifieth recompense, as Job 15. 31. compare this place with the Law for swearing to do evil, or good, Levite. 5. 4. The Greek translatheth swaereth to his neighbor: for rangh, evil, reading reangh, a neighbor: this sense is good. And rangh, though not usual, may be taken for a neighbor here, and in Prov. 6. 24.

Vers. 5. money] Hebr. silver, that is, money usually made of silver. to biting usury] or with biting, that is, usury, fitly so called, because it biteth and consumeth the borrower and his substance. See the notes on Exod. 22. 25. be moved] or shaken, removed. And commonly it implieth in it some evil to the thing moved, Psal. 38. 17. and 94. 18. and 13. 5. and 60. 4. and often in the Psalms; therefore the just have this privilege of God, never to be moved, Psal. 55. 23. Prov. 10. 30. and 12. 3.

PSAL. XVI.

David prophesieth of Christ's confidence in God, and love to the Saints on earth. 4 The sorrows of Idolaters, with whom he hath no communion. 5 He is content with his lot and heritage, 7 blesseth God in his afflictions, 9 professeth his hope of resurrection from the dead, and eternal joys at the right hand of God.

Michtam of David: Preserve me O God, for I hope for safety in thee. Thou hast said to Jehovah, thou art my Lord; my good not unto thee. To the Saints which are in earth, and the excellent, all my delight in them. Their sorrows shall be multiplied that endow another: I will not pour out their poured out oblations of blood, neither will I take up their names upon my lips. Jehovah the portion of my part and of my cup, thou sustainest my lot. The lines are fallen to me in the pleasant places, yea the heritage is fair for me.

I will bless Jehovah, which hath counseled me, yea in the nights my reins do chastise me. I have proposed Jehovah before me continually, for he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. Therefore my heart rejoiceth, and my glory is glad; also my flesh shall dwell in confidence. For thou wilt not leave my soul to hell, thou wilt not give thy gracious Saint to see corruption. Thou wilt make me know the way of life: satiety of joys before thy face; pleasures at thy right hand to perpetuity.

Annotations.

Michtam of David:] David's jewel, or not able song. Cethem is fine glistening gold, Psal. 45. 10. of that this Michtam may be derived, for a golden jewel: and so note the excellency of this Psalm. The like title is before the 56. 57. 58. 59. and 60. Psalms. Preserve me O God.] Christ speaketh this Psalm by David his figure, as we are taught in the New Testament, Act. 2. 25, 31. and 13. 35. and here is handled his mediatorship, death, resurrection and ascension. in thee] Chaldee, in thy word.

Vers. 2. Thou hast said] he speaketh this to him-self; Thou ô my soul sayest: so the Chaldee Paraphrase explaineth it; and the Greek to make it plainer, translatheth, I have said. Or, it may be spoken to the Spouse or Church of Christ. my good not unto thee] understand, extendeth not, or pertaineth not to thee, or is not for thee; which the Greek expoundeth thus, of my goods thou hast no need. For, if man be just, what giveth he to God: or what receiveth he at his hand? Job 35. 7. The Chaldee saith, my good is not given but of thee.

Vers. 3. To the Saints] to wit, my good extendeth, as else-where Christ saith, for their sakes sanctify I myself, that they also may be sanctified through the truth, John. 17. 19. are in earth] such is the meaning of the Hebrew phrase, in earth they; the relative being put for the verb, which sometime the Hebrew it self explaineth: as, he not the King of Israel, 1 King. 22. 33. for, it was not the King, 2 Chro. 18. 32. so he overseer, 2 King. 25. 19. for, was over-seer, Ier. 52. 25. and sundry the like. excellent] or noble, glorious, wonderful: an honorable title givē to Christians. See Ps. 8. 2. The Chaldee addeth, excellent in good works. all my delight in them] or, in whom all my pleasure is; Heb. Chephtsibam, that is, my pleasure in them; so in Isaiah 62. 4. the Church is called Chephtsi-bah, that is, my pleasure in her.

Vers. 4. Their sorrows shall be multiplied.] This is meant of Idolaters, who hastily endow. that is, offer sacrifice to another God, and so increase their griefs; which may be understood of afflictions, or of grievous idols: for the Hebrew ghnatsabim, sorrows, is often used for idols, as in Psal. 115. 4. and so the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it here, saying, the wicked multiply their idols, and after they hasten to offer their gifts. Accordingly the sense may be this, They whose grievous idols are multiplied, they that endow another God; I will not pour out their oblations, that is, I will not partake with them, or be a mediator for them. endow another] or hasten to another. A similitude from dowries given in marriages, meaning gifts and oblations hastily brought for divine worship. poured out oblations] or shed-offerings; effusions properly, put by figure of speech for effused or poured out liquor, commonly called Drink-offerings, which were wont to be poured out upon the sacrifices, and by God's law were to be of wine or Shecar, Numb. 15. 5, 7, 10. and 28. 7. but among idolaters were of blood. The Chaldee giveth this sense, I will not receive with favor their drink-offerings, nor the blood of their sacrifices. take up their names] that is, not mention or speak of them, according to the law, Exod. 23. 13. Ios. 23. 7.

Vers. 5. of my part] or, of my partage, that is, of the inheritance parted, shared, and dealt unto me. So the Greek turneth it, of mine nheritance. The word is generally used for lands, cities, goods, spoils, &c. that are shared out. And this here hath reference to the law of the Priests, which had no part among the people, for that the Lord was their part and inheritance, Numb. 18. 20. The Lord is his people's part, Ier. 10. 16. and 51. 19. and again, his people are called his part, Deut. 32. 9. my cup] that is, measure and portion of joys or afflictions, Psal. 23. 5. and 11. 6. my lot] this also is used for an inheritance obtained by lot, Ios. 18. 11. Judge. 1. 3. The Apostle calleth Christ's Church by this name, 1 Pet. 5. 3. The Greek translateth, thou art he that restorest mine inheritance to me.

Vers. 6. The lines] or Cords, such were used in measuring of lands or heritages, Psal. 105. 11. and 78. 55. 2 Sam. 8. 2. and figuratively a line is put for the portion measured, Jos. 17. 5, 14. ﴿ϕ﴾ is fair for me] or, which is fair unto me, that is, which pleaseth me well.

Vers. 7. counseled me] given me counsel by his word and Spirit, touching my sufferings, and the glory that shall follow, 1 Pet. 1. 11. Luke 24. 25, 26. God is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in work, Isaiah 28. 29.

Vers. 8. I have proposed] or equally set: the Greek (which the Apostle followeth) saith, I beheld before, Act. 1. 25. he is at my right hand] The word is is supplied, Act. 2. 25. For God to be at the right hand, is powerfully to assist and comfort: as on the contrary, for Satan to be there, is greatly to resist and annoy, Psal. 109. 6. Zech. 3. 1. I shall not be moved] or, that I be not moved, Act. 2. 25.

Vers. 9. my glory] This by the Apostle is applied to the tongue, Act. 2. 26. which is the instrument wherewith we glorify God. See Psal. 30. 13. and 57. 9. Gen. 49. 6. dwell in confidence] or, abide with hope, that is, boldly, safely, and securely; meaning that his flesh (his body) should abide (or rest) in the grave, with sure hope of rising again from death the third day.

Vers. 10. my soul] The Hebrew Nephesh, and Greek Psuchee, which we call soul, hath the name of breathing or respiring, and is therefore sometime used for the breath, Job 41. 12. it is the vital spirit that all quick things move by; therefore beasts, birds, fish and creeping things, are called in Scripture, living souls, Gen. 1. 20. 24. And this soul is sometime called the blood, Gen. 9. 4. because it is in the blood of all quick things, Lev. 17. 11. it is often put for the life of creatures; as, keep his soul, Job 2. 6. that is, spare his life: a righteous man regardeth the soul of his beast, Prov. 12. 10. that is, the life: so to seek the soul, is to seek ones life, to take it away, Psal. 54. 5. Mat. 2. 20. It is also many times used for ones self; as, Job justified his soul, that is, himself, Job 32. 2. Take heed to your souls, that is, to yourselves, Deut. 4. 15. so Gen. 19. 20. Luke 12. 19. And thus it is put for the person, or whole man; as, give me the souls, that is, the persons, Gen. 14. 21. so an hungry soul, Psal. 107. 9. a full soul, Prov. 27. 7. a weary soul, Prov. 25. 25. eight souls, 1 Pet. 3. 20. seventy five souls, Act. 7. 14. and many the like. It is used also for the lust, will or desire, as Psal. 41. 3. Exod. 15. 9. for the affections of the heart, Psal. 25. 1. for the body of man that hath life and sense, Psal. 105. 18. and 35. 13. and finally it is sometime a dead body or corps, Numb. 5. 2. and 9. 10. and 19. 11. 13. though this be figurative and very unproper, for at ones death the soul goeth out, Gen. 35. 18. The word being thus largely used, is to be weighed according to the matter and circumstances of each text. For this here in the Psalm, compare it with the like in other places, Psal. 30. 4. and 116. 8. and 89. 49. and 88. 4. and 94. 17. Christ gave his soul for the ransom of the world, and poured it out unto death, Isa. 53. 12. Matth. 20. 28. John. 10. 11, 15, 17. and 15. 13. to hell] or in hell, in deaths estate, or deadly-hed. This word hell properly signifieth deep, whether it be high or low; and though by custom it is usually taken for the place of devils and damned wights; yet the word is more large: and as heaven is not only the dwelling place of God and his Saints, but generally all places above us, where the stars, the clouds, the winds, the birds, &c. are, as is shown, Psal. 8. 9. so hell is all places beneath. Wherefore it may in this large sense serve to express the Hebrew word Sheol here used; which Sheol is a deep place, Job 11. 8. Prov. 9. 18. and said in Scripture to be beneath, Psal. 86. 13. Deut. 32. 22. Isa. 14. 9. as heaven is above, and it, with the Greek word haides, is opposed to heaven, Psal. 139. 8. Amos 9. 2. Mat. 11. 23. it cometh of Shaal, to crave, ask, or require, because it requireth all men to come unto it, and is never satisfied, Psal. 89. 49. Prov. 30. 15, 16. and 27. 20. It is a place or estate which all men, even the best, come unto; for Jacob made account to go thither, Gen. 37. 35. and Job desired to be there, Job 14. 13. (for he knew it should be his house, Job 17. 13.) and our Lord Christ was there, as this Psalm with Act. 2. 31. showeth; and Solomon telleth, that all go thither, Eccles. 9. 10. It is usually joined with grave, pit, corruption, destruction, and the like words pertaining to death, with which Sheol or haides is joined as a companion thereof, Rev. 1. 18. and 6. 8. Dathan and Abiram, when the earth swallowed them up, are said to go down quick into Sheol, Numb. 16. 30, 32, 33. Jonah in the Whales belly, was in the belly of Sheol, Jon. 2. 3. and other holy men that were delivered from great miseries and perils of death, are said to be delivered from Sheol or hell. Psal. 86. 13. and 30. 4. and 18. 6. and 116. 3. and those that are dead, are gone to Sheol, Ezech. 32. 21. 27. And as death is said figuratively to have gates, Psal. 9. 14. so Sheol, haides, hell, hath gates, Isa. 38. 10. Mat. 16. 18. and a soul, Isa. 5. 14. and a hand, Psal. 49. 16. and 89. 49. and a mouth, Psal. 141. 7. and a sting, which by Christ is done away, 1 Cor. 15. 55. so that as he was not left to Sheol, but rose from death (from the heart of the earth, Matth. 12. 40.) the third day: so all the Saints shall likewise be delivered from Sheol, or haides, Psal. 49. 16. Hos. 13. 14. and it with death shall be abolished, Rev. 20. 14. So by the Hebrew word Sheol, the Greek haides, and our English hell, we are to understand the place, estate, or depth of death, deadlied. See the Annotations on Gen. 37. 35. And these words, thou wilt not leave my soul to hell, teach us Christ's resurrection; as if he should say, thou wilt not leave me to the power of death or grave to be consumed, but wilt raise me from the dead, as the words following, and the Apostles explanation do manifest, Act. 2. 24. 31. and 13. 34, 35. thou wilt not give] not grant, or suffer. An Hebrew phrase often used, as, I gave thee not to touch her, Gen. 20. 6. God gave thee not to hurt me, Gen. 31. 7. he will not give you to go, Exod. 3. 19. So Psal. 55. 23. and 66. 9. and 118. 18. and many the like. to see corruption] that is, to feel corruption, or, to corrupt, to rot. As to see death, is to die, Psal. 89. 49. Luke 2. 26. Joh. 8. 51, 52. so, to see evil, Psal. 90. 15. and to see good, Psal. 34. 13. is to feel and enjoy it, and to see the grave, Psal. 49. 10. corruption] the Hebrew Shachath properly signifieth corruption or rottenness; and is so to be taken here, as the Apostle urgeth the force of the word, Act. 13. 36, 37. David saw corruption, but he whom God raised up, saw not corruption. Yet often the word is used for a pit or ditch, wherein carcasses do corrupt. See the note on Psal. 7. 16.

Vers. 11. Thou wilt make me know] or, hast made me know, (as Act. 2. 28.) that is, givest me experience of. the way of life] or journey of lives: the way or course to life from death, and to continue in life eternal; the Apostle saith, ways of life, Act. 2. 28. And hereby, life in heaven with God is implied; as, to enter into life, Matth. 18. 9. is to enter into the kingdom of God, Mark. 9. 47. before thy face] or, with thy face, that is, in thy presence I shall have fullness of joys. The Greek, which the Apostle followeth, Act. 2. 28. saith, Thou wilt fill me with joy, with thy face. The Hebrew eth penei and liphnet, with or before the face, are both one, and sometime put one for another; as 1 King. 12. 6. with 2 Chron. 10. 6. God's face or presence, as it is our greatest joy in this life, Exod. 33. 14, 15, 16. so shall it be in the next, Psalm. 17. 15. Wherefore the wicked shall then be punished, from his presence, 2 Thess. 1. 9. pleasures] or pleasantnesses, (that is, pleasant joys) at thy right hand, the place of honor, delights and joys eternal, Matth. 25. 33, 34, 46.

PSAL. XVII.

David in confidence of his integrity, craveth defense of God against his enemies. 10 He showeth their pride craft and eagerness. 13 He prayeth to be delivered from them who have their portion in this life; but his hope is for the life to come.

A Prayer of David.

HEare thou Jehovah, justice; attend to my shrill cry: hearken to my prayer, without lips of deceit. From before thy face, let my judgment come forth; let thine eyes view righteousnesses. Thou hast proved my heart, hast visited by night; thou hast tried me, but hast not found: I have purposed, my mouth shall not transgress. For the works of men by the word of thy lips, I have observed the paths of the breaker thorough. Sustaine thou my steps in thy beaten paths, that my foot-steps be not removed. I call upon thee, for thou wilt answer me, O God: bow thine ear to me, hear my saying. Marvellously separate thy mercies, O Savior of them that hope for safety; from them that raise up themselves with thy right hand. Keep thou me as the black of the apple of the eye; in the shadow of thy wings hide thou me. From faces of the wicked that waste me, my enemies in soul, that inviron round against me. With their fat they have closed up, with their mouth they speak in pride. In our steps now they compass us; their eyes they set bending down into the earth. His likeness is as a renting Lion that is greedy to tear, and as a lurking Lion sitting in secret places. Rise up Jehovah, prevent thou his face, make him bow down, deliver my soul from the wicked one with thy sword. From mortal men with thine hand, Jehovah, from mortal men of the transitory world, who have their part in this life, and their belly thou fillest with thine hid treasure; satisfied are the sons, and they lay up their overplus for their babes. I, in justice shall view thy face, shall be satisfied when I awake with thine image.

Annotations.

IVstice] that is, my justice, as the Greek explaineth it, my just cause and complaint. The Chaldee saith, accept Lord my prayer in justice. shrill cry] or showting, that is, loud complaint: See Psalm. 5. 12. without lips] or, not with lips of deceit, that is, which prayer is unfeigned, not uttered with guile.

Vers. 2. come forth] or proceed, that is, let my judgment be clearly pronounced and executed. Therefore in Hos. 6. 5. he addeth the similitude of the light or Sun. righteousnesses] or equities: this is all righteous causes and persons, or my most righteous cause.

Vers. 3. hast tried] or, examined me, to wit, as metal in the fire: So Psal. 66. 10. hast not found] or shalt not at all find, to wit, any dross, or deceit, or, as the Chaldee addeth, corruption. The Greek translatheth, iniquity was not found in me. shall not transgress] or, transgresseth not, that is, I purposed not to transgress with my mouth, by murmuring against thy fiery trial of me; or, that which I purposed, my mouth transgresseth not, but my thoughts and words agree. The Chaldee thus, I have thought evil, it hath not passed my mouth.

Vers. 4. For the works] or concerning the works of men: Adam is here used for all earthly men. have observed] or taken heed of, to wit, lest they should heart me, or, that I should not walk in them, as the next verse showeth: otherwise, sometime to observe ways, is to walk in them, Psalm. 18. 22. the breaker thorough] that is, the robber or thief, as this word is expounded in Greek, Mat. 21. 13. from Ier. 7. 11. one that breaketh bounds or limits, houses, hedges, laws, &c. So Ezek. 18. 10.

Vers. 5. Sustaine] Hold up, or contain; this is spoken prayer wise to God, as the next verse manifesteth: The Greek turneth it, Make perfect. It may also be read, Sustaining, or To sustain; and so have reference to the former verse, I observed the robbers paths, not to walk in them, but to sustain (or sustaining, holding fast) my steps in thy paths. The Hebrew Tamoch may be Englished Sustaine thou; as Zachor is remember thou, Exod. 20. 8. Shamor, observe thou, Deut. 5. 12. Haloc, is Go thou, 2 Sam. 24. 12. for which in 1 Chron. 21. 10. is written Lec, Go thou. my steps] or, my steppings forward, my right-forth steps. So Psal. 37. 31. and 40. 3. beaten paths] or round paths; properly the word signifieth paths beaten with wagon wheels; here used generally for strait, direct, and beaten ways. So Psal. 23. 3. and 65. 12. and 140. 6.

Vers. 7. marvelously separate] or make marvelous, that is, in wondrous and excellent sort show me thy mercies, which are common unto all, let them now peculiarly be bestowed on me. See Psal. 4. 4. The Greek saith, Make marvelous. When Christ cometh, he will be made marvelous in them that believe, 2 Thess. 1. 10. hope for safety] or, trust, to wit, in thee, as the Greek explaineth it, or in thy right hand, as is after expressed. God is Savior of all men, specially of them that believe, 1 Tim. 4. 10. with thy right hand] this seemeth to have reference to the first, O Savior (or thou which savest) with thy right hand; as Psal. 138. 7. and 60. 7. It may also be referred to the second, them that hope in thy right hand; or to the last, them that raise up themselves against thy right hand: And thus the Greek turneth it. But the Chaldee otherwise, Avenge them on those which rise up against them, with thy right hand.

Vers. 8. the black] that is, the sight in the midst of the eye, wherein appeareth the resemblance of a little man; and thereupon seemeth to be called in Hebrew, Ishon, of Ish, which is a man. And as that part is blackish; so this word is also used for other black things, as the blackness of the night, Prov. 7. 9. and blackness of darkness, Prov. 20. 20. of the apple] so we call that which the Hebrew here calleth bath; and in Zach. 2. 8. babath, that is, the little image appearing in the eye, as before is noted. The word bath also signifieth a daughter, whereto the Greek coree doth agree. By this is meant the tender care of God for his people: and David here useth both words for more vehemency; whereas else-where one of them only is used, Isho, the black, in Deut. 32. 10. Prov. 7. 2. babath and bath, the apple, in Zach. 2. 8. Lam. 2. 18. hide thou me] Heb. thou shalt hide, or, keep me secret. It is the property of the Hebrew tongue, often to set down a prayer in this form, especially in the end of a sentence, as noting some assurance to have the request fulfilled. So in Psal. 54. 3. and 59. 2. and 64. 2. Job 6. 23. and 21. 3. and 40. 5. See also the note on Psal. 10. 17.

Vers. 9. from faces] or because of the wicked. See Psal. 3. 1. enemies in soul] or, for the soul; meaning deadly enemies, that seek the soul or life. See Psal. 35 4. The Chaldee expoundeth it, in the will (or desire) of their soul.

Vers. 10. They have closed up] to wit, their face or body; (much like that speech in Job 15. 27. he hath covered his face with his fatness,) or their fat they close up, meaning that they pamper and harden themselves. in pride] that is, proudly or haughtily.

Vers. 11. In our steps] or in our going, that is, [unspec 11]wheresoever we go, they trace our footing, they compose me and us: the Hebrew hath both these readings, meaning David, with his company. they set] to wit, upon us. bending down] to wit, themselves, that they be not espied: as Psal. 10. 10. or to bend down, to wit, us, to overthrow us, or to set down their nets and snares.

Vers. 12. His likeness] that is, the likeness (or •iew) of everyone of them; or he may mean someone principal, as Saul.

Vers. 13. prevent his face] that is, first come to help me, and suddenly and unlookt for come upon him, and disappoint him. with thy sword] that is, thy judgment and vengeance, for all means of destruction are the Lord's sword, Isa. 66. 16. and 27. 1. Jer. 47. 6. Zeph. 2. 12. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the wicked which deserveth to be killed with thy sword; or understand, which wicked man is thy sword, as Asshur is called the rod of his wrath, Isaiah 10. 5. and so in the verse following, from mortal men, which are thy hand; or with thy hand, that is, thy judgment or plague, for so God's hand often signifieth, Exod. 7. 4. Act. 13. 11.

Vers. 14. of the transitory world] that is, worldlings, as they of the city are citizens, Psalm. 72. 16. The word Cheled is used also for the short time of man's age and durance, Psal. 39. 6. and 89. 48. Here and in Psal. 49. 2. it is the world, named of the transitorinesse, for the fashion of this world passeth away, 1 Cor. 7. 31. in this life] according to Abraham's speech, Son remember that thou in thy life time receivedst thy good things, Luke 16. 25. Of the wicked's prosperity here, see Job 21. 78. &c. the sons] to wit, of those worldlings, meaning that both they and their children have their fill. Or, satisfied are they with sons, as in Job 21. 11. they send forth their children like a flock. their overplus,] the residue of their store, or their excellency. For this word Iether is used sometime for overplus in quantity, Exod. 23. 11. 1 King. 11. 41. sometime it noteth also the excellency or dignity, Gen. 49. 3.

Vers. 15. in justice] meaning in the justice (or righteousness) which is of God by faith in Christ, as Phil. 3. 9. View thy face] that is, enjoy thy comfortable favor, as Psal. 4. 7. and 16. 11. or shall see and know thee plainly and perfectly, as 1 Cor. 13. 12. 2 Cor. 3. 18. 1 John. 3. 2. when I awake] to wit, out of the dust of the earth, from the sleep of death; as Isaiah 26. 19. with thy image] to wit, I shall be satisfied with it; so meaning by image, God's glory, or, with thy image; that is, having it upon me: for, as we have borne the image of the earthly man, so shall we bear the image of the heavenly, 1 Cor. 15. 49. Compare herewith Psal. 73. 20. The Hebrew Doctors expound this in justice, to be meant of the garden of Eden (the heavenly Paradise,) called justice, and that in the world to come, which is after the raising of the dead to life: it is in the light stored up, called the Image; and this is that (in Psal. 17.) I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thine Image, saith R. Menachem on Deut. 4. But the same Rabbine on Levite. 10. giveth a better exposition of this word justice, saying, For there is no coming before the most high and blessed King, without the Shekhinah, (that is, the divine Majesty of God in Christ,) to signify which thing (it is said) I in justice shall view thy face.

PSAL. XVIII.

David having been delivered from all his enemies, professeth his love unto God therefore. 5 He remembereth the great dangers wherein he had been, 7 his cries unto God, 8 the Lord's wonderful judgments upon his enemies, 17 and deliverance of David. 21 He showeth his integrity of life, 27 God's justice towards all men, 33 the victories which he gave unto David, 44 and dominion over people's. 50 The glory of God's name among the Gentiles, for his salvation of Christ, (whom David figured,) and of all nations by him.

To the Master of the Music a Psalm of the servant of Jehovah, of David, which spake to Jehovah the words of this song, in the day that Jehovah had delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. And he said;

I Will dearly love thee, Jehovah my firm strength. Jehovah, my rock and my sortresse, and my deliverer, my God, my rock, in whom I hope for shelter, my shield and horn of my salvation, mine high defense. I called upon the praised Jehovah, and from mine enemies I was saved. The pangs of death compassed me, and the streams of Belial frightened me. The pangs of hell went round about me, the snares of death prevented me. In the distress upon me, I called on Jehovah, and unto my God I cried out: he heard my voice out of his Palace, and my out-cry before him entered into his ears. And the earth shook and quaked, and the foundations of the mountains were stirred; and they shook themselves, because he was wroth. Smoke ascended in his anger, and fire out of his mouth did eat; coals burned from it. And he bowed the heavens and came down, and gloomy darkness was under his feet. And he rode upon the Cherub, and did fly; and he flew swiftly upon the wings of the wind. He set darkness his secret place, round about him his pavilion: darkness of waters, thick clouds of the skies.

From the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed away, hail, and coals of fire. And Jehovah thundered in the heavens, and the Most high gave his voice, hail and coals of fire. And he sent his arrows, and scattered them afunder: and lightnings he hurled forth, and terribly struck them down. And the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were revealed: at thy rebuke, Jehovah, at the breath of the wind of thine anger. He sent from the high place, he took me, he drew me out of many waters▪ He rid me from my strong enemy, and from my haters, for they were mightier than I. They prevented me in the day of my cloudy calamity: and Jehovah was for a staff unto me. And he brought me forth to a large roomth: he released me because he delighted in me.

Jehovah rewarded me according to my justice: according to the pureness of my hands rendered he unto me. Because I observed the ways of Jehovah, and did not wickedly from my God. For all his judgments were before me, and his decrees I did not turn away from me. And I was perfect with him, and kept myself from mine iniquity. And Jehovah rendered to me according to my justice, according to the pureness of my hands before his eyes.

With the gracious Saint thou wilt show thy self gracious: with the perfect man thou wilt show thyself perfect. With the pure thou will▪ show thyself pure: and with the froward thou wilt show thyself wry. For thou wilt save the poor afflicted people, and wilt bring low the lofty eyes. For thou hast lighted my candle, Jehovah my God hath brightned my darkness.

For by thee I have broken thorough an host, and by my God I have leaped over a wall. God his way is perfect, the saying of Jehovah is tried, he is a shield to all that hope for safety in him. For who is God besides Jehovah? and who is a rock except our God? God that girdeth me with valor, and giveth my way perfect. He matcheth my feet as Hindes feet: and upon my high places he maketh me stand. He learneth my hands to the war, and a bow of brass is broken with mine arms. And thou hast given to me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath upheld me, and thy meekness hath made me to increase. Thou hast widened my passage under me: and my legs have not staggered. I followed mine enemies, and over took them, and turned not till I had consumed them. I wounded them, and they could not rise up: they fell under my feet. And thou hast girded me with valor to the war: them that rose against me thou hast made to stoop down under me.

And thou hast given to me the neck of mine enemies: and them that hated me I have, suppressed. They cried out, but there was none to save; unto Jehovah, but he answered them not. And I did beat them small as dust before the wind: as the clay of the streets, I did pour them out. Thou hast delivered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast put me for the head of the heathens: a people whō I have not known do serve me. At the hearing of the ear they obey me: the sons of the stranger falsely deny unto me. The sons of the stranger fade away and shrink for fear, out of their closets. Jehovah live, & blessed be my rock, and exalted be the God of my salvation. The God that giveth vengeance to me, and subdueth people's under me. My deliverer from mine enemies, also from them that rose up against me, thou hast exalted me, from the man of violent wrong thou hast rid me. Therefore I will confess thee among the heathens, Jehovah, and to thy name I will sing Psalm. He maketh great the salvations of his King, and doth mercy to his anointed; to David and to his seed forever.

Annotations.

The servant of Jehovah] So he intituleth him-self here, and in Psal. 36. 1. for his service in administering the kingdom. This song is also written in 2 Sam. 22. with some little change of a few words which shall be observed. hand of Saul] which noteth the power of the King, above that which is noted by the hand or palm of other enemies: yet for this word hand, in 2 Sam. 22. 1. is used palm: the Chaldee expoundeth it, the sword of Saul.

Vers. 2. I will dearly love] or, I love heartily with my inmost bowels. The original word is in this place for entire love; but otherwhere is often used for tender mercy, or bowels of compassion, Psal. 25. 6. and 102. 14. and 103. 13. This verse is added here, more than in 1 Sam. 22.

Vers. 3. fortress] or, muniton, a place or hold to flee unto, when one is hunted and chased. See Ps. 31. 3. rock] Two names of a Rock are in this verse; the first Selangh, a firm stony Rock or cliffe; the latter, Tsur, a strong or sharp rock, and is often the title of God himself, and turned in Greek, Theos, that is, God, as in the 32 and 47 verses of this Psalm, Deut. 32. 4. 18. 30, 31. Psal. 71. 3. and in many other places. horn of my salvation] that is, the horn that saveth me. A horn signifieth power and glory, Psal. 92. 11. Amos 6. 13. Hab. 3. 4. therefore horns are used to signify Kings, Dan 8. ﴿ϕ﴾ . R.v 7. 12. And Christ is called the horn of salvation, Luke 1. 69. high defense] or tower, <...> ▪ See Psal. 9. 10. In 2. Sa. 2. <◇> ▪ there is added more, and my refuge▪ my Savior from violent wrong <◇> savest <◇> .

Vers. 4. P•ified] that is, glorious, excellent praise <...> ▪ and accordingly for his <◇> usually <◇> of his people. So Psal. 48. <◇> . The Chaldee <...> death it, with a praise (o•Hy•ne) I prayed before the Lord. And the Greek, praising I will call upon the Lord.

Vers. 5. the pangs] pains, throws▪ sorrows, as of a woman in childbirth; so the original word signifieth, Hos. 13. 13. Isaiah 13. 8. and 66. 7. and so the Chaldee explaineth it, Anguish compassed me as of a woman which sit•th in the birth, and hath no strength to bring forth, and she is in danger of death. Or, The •ands, the <◇> : (as the word also signifieth, Job 36. 8. Prov. 5. 22.) For this in <◇> Sam. 22. 5. another word is used, that signifieth breaches; which also is applied to the breaking forth of children at the birth, H•s. 13. 13. E•• 37. 3. and to the <◇> of the sea, Psal. 42. 8. streams] or brooks, bournes. The original word Nachal is used as our English bourne, both for a brook or stream running in a valley, and for the valley it self, 1 Kings 17▪ 3, 4. Waters do often figure out afflictions, Psal. 69. 2. 3. •ournes or stre••• of waters, mean vehement and violent afflictions, Psal. 124. 4. Ier. 47. 2. Belial] or <◇> . The Hebrew Bel <...> (which the Apostle in Greek calleth Belial, <◇> Cor. 6. 15.) i• used <◇> extreme mischief and wickedness, or most impious and mischie•ous persons, called sons of Belial, Deut. 13. 13▪ daughters of B•lial, 1 Sam. <◇> ▪ <◇> ▪ men of Belial, 1. Sam. 25. 25. and sometime B <...> it self, as in Nah. 1. 15. *Belial shall no more pass th <...> thee; and 2 Sam. 23. 6. Belial shall be everyone as thorns thrust away: and Job 34. 18. Wilt <◇> say to a King▪ Belial? It is also applied to special sins and sinners, as a witness of Belial, Prov. 19. 28. a counselor of Beli•l, Nah. 1. 15. Also to mischievous thoughts, words or things. De•t. 15. 9. Psal. 41. 9. and 101. 3. The Apostle opposeth Belial to Christ, 2 C•. 6. 15. and it seemeth to be put for the Devil or Satan, (as the Sy••• and Arabic translations there explain Paul's <◇◇> for Antichrist; for so Belial is opposed to Christ and his kingdom, 2 Sam. 23. 6. By interpretation, Belial signifieth an *Unthrif*t, or *Without <◇> lawless; <◇> Antichrist is named the lawless man, <◇> Thess. 2. 8. and in this Psalm the Greek <◇> streams of lawlesnesse, or iniquity: which the Chaldee Paraphrast calleth the company of the unrighteous▪ frighted me] skar•d, or vexed <◇◇> . This word is used of Saul's vexation by a• <◇> spirit, <◇◇> . 16. 14▪ 15.

Vers. 6. of hell] which the Chaldee expoundeth, a company of ••ked persons. snares of death] deadly sha••, <◇◇> for my death; a similitude <◇> from <◇◇> , Eccles. 9. 12. So <◇> . 13. 14. and 14. •7. The Chaldee explaineth <◇◇> •rmed with weapons of s•aughter. Pre <...> me] that is, were ready to take hold on me <...> denly and unawares.

Vers. 7. distress upon me] or to me, that is, in that my distress, or while it was upon me. So Psal. •6. 1•. be heard] The Hebrew properly is, will hear; but the time to come is often put for the time past; therefore in 2 Sam. 22. 7. it is plainly written, and •e heard: so after in the 12. verse, •ee will set, which in Samuel is written, and •ee set: again in the 14▪ verse, thundered; for which in Samuel is written, will thunder: the like may be observed of the Hebrew phrase, in the 16. 39. 41. <◇> 44. verses of this Psalm, compared with the same in 2 Sam. 22. So often in other scriptures, which the Hebrew text it self sometime showeth, as hikki... they smote him, 2 Chron. 22. 6. for which in 2 King. 8. 29. is written, jakkuh. See also the note on Psal. ⟨ϕ⟩ . 1. his palace] or his Temple: which the Chaldee explaineth thus; He received my prayer from the Palace of his sanctuarie which is in heaven. entered] or came into; this word is omitted in 2 Sam. ⟨ϕ⟩ . ⟨ϕ⟩ . supplied here; as oftentimes there want words, which are to be understood. So verse. ⟨ϕ⟩ and Psal. 69. 11.

Vers. 8. foundations of the mounts] that is, the roots and ⟨ϕ⟩ of the mountains. By these and the words following, under the similitude of a sore tempestuous weather, God's judgments against the wicked are excellently set forth. Compare herewith Psal. 82. 5. and Deut. 32. ⟨ϕ⟩ . where the foundations of the mountains are set on fire. For mount•ine in 2 Sam. 2. 8. is written heavens, either for that the mountains reaching high, seem to be the foundation, and as they are called in Job 26. 11▪ the pillars of heaven; or in a mystical sense, as the shaking of heaven and earth▪ signifieth the changing of civil polities and of religions, Heb. 12. 6▪ 27. he was wroth] or kindled to him was his anger; or b•ne did his nose: for in the Hebrew another word is sometimes added, which signifieth anger or nose, Deut. 6. 15. Exod. 32. 11. See the notes on Psal. 2. 5. and the note here following. The Greek translateth, for God was angry with them.

Vers. 9. in his anger] or, in his nose: the like speech is in Esa. 65. 5. these are a smoke in my anger; or, for these a smoke is in my nose: and it noteth sore indignation ⟨...⟩ ▪ for smoke is a sign of vehement anger, Psal. 74. 1. and 80. 5. Deut. 29. 20. This narration here may be compared with the giving of the Law, Exod. 19. 18, &c. where was smoke, fire, earthquake, thunder, lightning, and the like. For these with the speeches following of clouds, winds, tempests, thunderbolts, hail, &c. do lively describe God's Majesty, appearing in his works, & for punishment of his enemies, as Exod. 9. 23, 24. Josh. 10. 11. Judge. 5. 20. 1 Sam. 2. 10. and 7. 10. and 12. 17. Rev. 16. 18. 21. did eat] that is, consume. See Psal. 50. 3. The Chaldee expoundeth it, he sent his wrath like-burning fire▪ coles of fire were kindled at his word.

Vers. 10. he bowed the heavens] This was for the help of David, and discomfiture of his enemies: therefore the Prophet prayeth for the like again, Psal. 144. 5, 6. Isaiah. 64. 1, 2. and came down] that is, as the Chaldee openeth it, his glory appeared. gloomie darkness] myrke and thick darkness, or a dark cloud: as a Chron. 6. 1. Job. 22. 13. such as was on mount Sinar, when God came down on it, Deut. 4. 11. and 5. 22. a sign of terror, as the Apostle showeth, Heb. 12. 18. ⟨ϕ⟩ Psal. 97. 2.

Vers. 11. on the Cherub] a Cherub, and the plural number, Cherubim of Cherubines, is a name given to the Angeli▪ Gen. 3. 25. and to the golden winged images which were in the tabernacle and temple, Exod. 25. 18, 19, 20. 1 King. 6. 23, 24, 25, 29. 32. The living creatures also which Ezekiel saw in vision, Ezech. 1. 5. are called Cherubines, Ezek. 10. 1. 1▪ Likewise the king of Tyre is called an anointed and a covering Cherub, Ezek. 28. 14. 16. The Hebrew name hath affinity with Rechub a Cha ⟨...⟩ , used in Psal. 104. 3. almost in like sense as Cherub is here; and the Cherubines are called a Chariot, 1 Chron. 28. 18. and God's Angels are his Chariots, Psal. 68. 18. and they seem to be meant in this place; for as the Angels are said to fly, Dan. 9. 21. so the Cherubines had wings, Exod. 25. 2. and are of the Apostle called Cherubines of glory, Heb. 9. 5. In Psal. 80. 2. God is said to sit on the Cherubines; as here, to ride and a Cherub may be put for many or all the Cherubims, as chariot for chariots, Psal. 68. 18. See the note on Psal. 8. 9. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus; And he was seen in his strength upon the light Cherubims; and brought his power upon the wings of the Whirle-wind. slew swiftly] or glansed; a similitude taken from Eagles and like swift fowls that fly with aswinge, Deut. 28. 49. Ier. 48. 40. For this, in 2 Sam. 22. 11. is written jera<sup>a</sup> that is, he was seen: which here with little difference of one letter is jede, that is, he flew switly. So in Psal. 104. 3. God is said to walk upon the wings of the wind.

Vers. 12. his pavilion] or covert, tabernacle. In the Chaldee it is explained thus; He placed his divine presence in the darkness, and his glory was compassed with clouds as a pavilion: and he made rain to come down upon his people, and mighty waters from the moving of the dark clouds upon the wicked, from the height of the world. darkness of waters] that is, dark black waters: meaning watrie clouds, as Psal. 104. 3. & 29. 3. In 2 Sam. 22. 12. this is thus set down: and he set darkness round about him, for boothes<sup>a</sup> blackness of waters, &c. the skies] that is, the heavens, named in Hebrew Shechakim, of their thin fine and subtle substance.

Vers. 13. passed away] that is, vanished; for God's brightness expelled them. So passing away, is used for vanishing, Isaiah. 29. 5. hail and coles] that is, there was, or there came hail, to wit, from his brightness, as in 2 Sam. 22. 13. it is written, From the brightness before him there burned coles of fire. Hail and fire are instruments of God's war and punishment, Job. 38. 22, 23. Josh. 10. 11. Rev. 16. 21. Zach. 12. 6. Ezek. 10. 2.

Vers. 14. thundered] this also is a sign of God's anger, 1 Sam. 2. 10. and 7. 10. Isa. 29. 6. and of his power and glory, Psal. 29. 3. and 77. 19. Job 26. 14. and 37. 4, 5. and 40. 4. gave his voice] a common phrase for all loud and high speech<sup>a</sup> cry, noise, thundering, &c. Psal. 46. 7. and 68. 34. and 77. 18. and 104. <...> . Num. 14. 1. 2 Chron. 24. 9. Hab. 3. 10. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus, the most high lifted up his word, he cast hail and coles of fire. <ϕ> of fire] that is, fiery vapors, lightnings, &c. This sentence is omitted, in 2 Sam. 22. 14. and is wanting also in the Greek verson here.

Vers. 15. <ϕ> arrows] the instruments of his wrath and judgments; for God hath arrows of pestilence, Psal. 91. 5<sup>a</sup> of samine, Ezek. 5. 16. and other arrows to wound the hearts of his enemies, Psal. 45. 6. and 64. 8. or to afflict his children, Psal. 38. 3. Job 6. 4. Here and in Psal. 144. 6. by arrows may be meant thunderbolts, or the hailestones forementioned; as the hailestones that fell, Ios. 10. 11. are called arrows, Hab. 3. 11. The Chaldee saith, he sent his word as arrows. he hurled] or, he shot, as the word signifieth, Gen. 49. 23. it may also be turned, he multiplied. This is omitted in 2 Sam. 22. 15. terribly struck them down] discomfited troubled, and felled them down with dread, noise and tumu <...> . This word is used in the examples of his wrath, Exod. 14. 24. Josh. 10. 10. Judge. 4. 15. 1 Sam. 7. 10. Deut. 7. 23.

Vers. 16. channels of water.] that is, of the sea, 2 Sam. 22. 16. channels signify violent currents, or forcible streams, running rivers. So Psal. 42. 2. and 126. 4. The Greek here translatheth them, fountains of waters. foundations of the world] that is, the deep waters and main <ϕ> whereon the world is founded, Psal. 24. 2. ⟨ϕ⟩ . wind of thine anger] or, of thy nose, as before, verse. 9. meaning a blast, storm, or whirl wind, which God in anger sent forth. This manner of speech is taken from Job 4. 9.

Vers. 17. drew me out, &c.] this hath reference to Moses case, who was drawn out of the water, and thereupon called Mosheh, Exod. 2. 10. that word Mashah is used here by David; and nowhere else in Scripture. Waters signify troubles, as is noted verse. 5. and sometime multitudes of people's, Rev. 17. 15. so the Chaldee turneth it here, he delivered me from many people's.

Vers. 19. cloudy calamity] The Hebrew Aeid is a fog, vapor, or misty cloud, Gen. 2. 6. Job. 36. 27. by figure it is put for calamity or misery of man, Deut. 32. 35. As elsewhere, the cloudy and dark day, Ezek. 34. 12.

Vers. 22. from my God] meaning by swerving, or turning away from him; which the Chaldee expresseth thus, I walked not in wickedness before my God.

Vers. 23. not turn away from me] in 2 Sam. 22, 23. it is, turned not away from it, that is, from any of his statutes. The Greek translateth, they departed not fro ⟨...⟩ .

Vers. 24. from mine iniquity] that is, from the iniquity that I am prone to fall into. The Hebrew word signifieth that which is unright, unequal, crooked or perverse; opposed to that which is right; and is fitly applied. to sin, and so translated by the Apostle, Rom. 4. 8. from Psal. 32. 2. In this estate we all are borne, Psal. 51. 7. so it noteth the viciousitie or crookedness of nature and original sin, which the Apostle called the sin dwelling in him, Rom. 7. 17. and he that was first borne, first applied this word to himself, Gen. 4. 13. It is figuratively used oft times for punishment due to sin: whereof see Psal. 31. 11. The Chaldee openeth this verse thus; And I was perfect in his fear, and he was the the saver of my soul from sins.

Vers. 25. pureness of my hands] in 2 Sam. 22. 25. my pureness. [unspec 25]

Vers. 26. gracious] or merciful, pious, godly. See Psal. 4. 4. man] or mighty one; called Geber, of his strength, valor, and superiority: for which in 2 Sam. 22. 26. is put Gibbor, that is, Strong, or a champion: a mighty man, Psal. 19. 6. and 45. 4. with the froward thou wilt show thy selfewry] A like speech is used in Moses, Levite. 26. 27, 28. if ye walk stubbornly against me, I will walk stubbornly in anger against you: But here David useth two words, whereof the first, froward or crooked, is always spoken of doing evil and wrong; the latter word wry, not so, but is a similitude taken from •rastlers, and noteth a writhing of ones self against an adversary. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth this gracious saint to Abraham; the perfect man, to Isaac; the pure, unto Jacob; and the froward, unto Pharaoh and the Egyptians.

Vers. 28. the lofty eyes] In 2 Sam. 22. 28. it is thus set down: and thine eyes are upon the lofty, that thou mayest bring them low.

Vers. 29. hast lighted my candle] or, doest lighten my lamp, that is, givest me comfort, joy, prosperity after troubles; as on the contrary, the wicked's candle shall be put out, Job 18. 6. and 21. 17. Prov. 13. 9. and 24. 20. and 20. 20. In 2 Sam. 22. 29. this word lighted is left out to be understood, as before in the 7. verse. Sometime the eye is called the candle of the body, Mat. 6. 22. and Solomon saith, that a man's mind (or soul) is the candle of the Lord, Prov. 20. 27. sometime ones child succeeding him in government, is his candle, Psal. 132. 17. 1 King. 11. 36. and 15. 4. Num. 21. 30. All these in David were lighted; and Christ his son according to the flesh, is the candle of the new Jerusalem. Rev. 21. 23. the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world, John. 1. 9. brightned my darkness] that is, turned my grief and affliction into joy and comfort, Job 29. 3. Esth. 8. 16. Luk. 1. 79.

Vers. 30. broken thorough an host] Hebr. shall break, or run thorough an host, or troop. This, and the leaping over a wall which followeth, may be understood both of escaping danger himself, and of quelling his foes, and winning their walled cities, and both these speedily. The Chaldee explaineth it thus; For by thy word I shall multiply armies, and by the word of my God subdue fenced towers.

Vers. 31. in him] the Chaldee saith, in his word. [unspec 32]

Vers. 32. who is a rock] that is, a mighty savior and defender. The Greek here for Rock hath a God; and in 2 Sam. 22. 32. a Greater. And this hath reference to the words of Anna, there is no rock like our God, 1 Sam. 2. 2.

Vers. 33. that girdeth me] that is, prepareth and strengtheneth me: therefore in 2 Sam. 22. 33. it is written, my strength: elsewhere he speaketh of being girded with joy, Psal. 30. 12. valor] or power, force, prowess. And this word is used both for valor, activity and courage of body & ruinde; also for a power, or army of men, Ps. 33. 16. and 136. 15. and also for wealth gotten by industry, whereby men are able to do much, Psal. 49. 7. 11. and 62. 11. and giveth] that is, maketh or disposeth my way to be perfect, that is, without impediment or, as the Greek translateth, without blemish. For giveth, in 2 Sam. 22. is, looseneth, which also freeth from let.

Vers. 34. He matcheth my feet as hinds] that is, maketh me swift to run like the Hindes, and so to escape danger, and stand safe upon my high places; which usually denoteth security, honor and prosperity, Deut. 32. 13. and 33. 29. Isa. 58. 14. The like speech Habakuk hath in the end of his song, Hab. 3. 19.

Vers. 35. bow of brass] or of steel; and this is observed to be stronger than iron, Job 20. 24.

Vers. 36. thy right hand hath upheld me] or, firmly stayed (and strengthened) me. This sentence is added here, more than in 2 Sam. 22. 36. thy meekness] or modesty, lenity, humility, whereby thou abasest thyself to regard me, and deal meekly with me; even gently chastising and un••uring me. Wherefore the Greek turneth it thus, thy chastisement hath rectified me. The Chaldee saith, and by thy word thou hast made me to increase.

Vers. 37. hast widened my passage] or enlarged my pase, that is, given me roomth to walk steadily and safe. Contrary to that which is said of the wicked, that his strong (or violent) passages are straightened, (or made narrow) Job 18. 7.

Vers. 38. overtooke them] and consequently quelled, or cut them off, as is expressed 2 Sam. 22. 38.

Vers. 39. I wounded them] or struck thorough, embrewed with blood. This verse in 2 Sam. 22. 39. is read thus; And I consumed them, and wounded them, and they rose not, but fell under my feet.

Vers. 41. the neck of mine enemies] that is, put them to flight, and subdued them, 2 Chr. 29. 6. Ger. 49. 8. And this respecteth God's promise, Exod. 23. 27.

Vers. 42. They cried out] for an helper, as the Chaldee addeth. For this, in 2 Sam. 22. 42. is, They looked. answered] in Chaldee, they prayed to the Lord, and he received not their prayer.

Vers. 43. pour them out] or empty them, that is, tumble them down, to be trodden as dirt; I spread them abroad; as in 2 Sam. 22. this verse is written, And I did beat them small as the dust of the earth: as the clay of the streets I pounded them, I spread them abroad.

Vers. 44. of the people] in 2 Sam. 22. it is, the contentions of my people, hast kept me for the head, &c. and hereby Christ's headship over the Church of the Gentiles is signified, and the contradiction of his own people the Jews, Rom. 10. 20, 21. See after in verse 50.

Vers. 45. *At the hearing of the ear] that is, speedily, so soon as they hear, without further ado; or By the hearing of the ear, that is, with diligent hearkening and attendance. sons of the stranger] <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> the •iant, or of alienation; that is, aliens, <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> , stranger• from the common-wealth of Israel, they and their progenitors. So Psal. 144. 7. Isa. 6•. 8. *falsely deny] or dissemble. In the Greek, they lie: <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> meaning, they feinedly submit themselves, for fear or other sinister respect, against their wills. And this agreeth with the last promise of Moses, Deut. 33. 29. thy enemies shall falsely deny to thee. The original word is used both for denying, Gen. 18. 15. and for lying or falsifying, 1 Kin. 13. 18. See after, Psal. 59. •3. and 66. 3.

Vers. 46. fade away] or fall, to wit, as leaves of trees that wither.

Vers. 47. my Rock] in Greek, my God.

Vers. 48. that giveth vengeance to me] that is, giveth me power to be avenged of my foes; or, giveth vengeance for me, that is, avengeth and punisheth for my sake. Whereupon he is called the God of vengeance. Psal. 94. 1. So to give vengeance, is to execute it, Nū. 31. 3. subdueth] bringeth into good order and subjection, therefore in 2 Sam. 22. it is said, subjecteth or bringeth down. And sometime this word signifieth a subduing by overthrow and destruction; as 2 Chron. 22. 10. she subdued: for which in 2 King. 11. 1. is written, she brought to perdition, or destroyed.

Vers. 50. I will confess thee] that is, give thee public and solemn praise and thanks. This verse is applied in Rom. 15. 9. to the calling of the Gentiles unto the faith of Christ, and praise unto God therefore. By which we are taught, that of Christ and his kingdom this Psalm is chiefly intended.

Vers. 51. He maketh great] or magnifieth; He is the magnifier of the salvations, that is, of the full salvation and deliverance. Instead of Magdil, that is, magnifier, in 2 Sam. 22. 51. there is Migdol, which is so written, as by the vowels signifieth a tower of salvations, and by the consonants a magnifier. Hereupon the Hebrew Doctors (in Midras tillin upon this place) say, One Scripture saith, MAGNIFIER, and another, saith. TOWER: and what tower is made for them? The King Christ is as a tower, as it is said, the tower of salvations: it is also written, The name of the LORD ⟨ϕ⟩ a strong tower, &c. Prov. 18. 10. it ⟨ϕ⟩ anointed] or his Messias, his Christ, as ⟨ϕ⟩ in Psal. 2. 2. David and his seed] this may be referred both to the first Dividend his posterity, on whom God shown great mercy; and also to our Lord Christ, who is called by the Prophets, David, Ezek. 34. 23, 24. Hos. 3. 5. and his seed are his disciples, the children which God hath given him, Heb. 2. 13. or himself is the seed here mentioned, Act. 13. 23. Rom. 1. 3. as he also is called Abraham's seed, Gal. 3. 16.

PSAL. XIX.

2 The creatures show God's glory. 8 The law more clearly revealeth his will. 13. His grace cleanseth and sanctifieth through Christ the Redeemer.

To the master of the music, a Psalm of David.

The heavens do tell the glory of God, and the out-spread firmament showeth the work of his hands. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night manifesteth knowledge. There is no speech, and no words; not heard is their voice. Thorow all the earth gone out is their line, and to the utmost end of the world their speakings; he hath put a tent in them for the Sun. And he is as a bridgeroome, going forth out of his privy chamber; joyeth as a mighty man to run a race. From the utmost end of the heavens is his egress, and his compassing regresse is unto the utmost ends of them, and none is hid from his heat.

The law of Jehovah is perfect, returning the soul: the testimony of Jehovah is faithful, making wise the simple. The precepts of Jehovah are right, giving joy to the heart: the commandment of Jehovah is pure, giving light to the eyes. The fear of Jehovah is clean; standing to perpetuallie; the judgments of Jehovah are truth, just they are together. To be desired more than gold, and than much fine gold, and sweeter than honey and liquor of the honey combs. Also thy servant is clearly admonished by them; in keeping of them there is much reward. Vn advised errors who doth understand? from secret faults cleanse thou me. Also from presumptuous sins withhold thou thy servant, let them not have dominion in me, then shall I be perfect and made clean from much trespass. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart before thee, be to favorable acceptation, Jehovah my Rock and my Redeemer.

Annotations.

DOe tell] to wit, unto men, and so give occasion unto them to tell; as the Chaldee translateth, They that look upon the heavens do tell, &c. the glory] that is, the glorious work; so in Ex. 16. 7. Num. 14. 21, 22. John. 11. 40. the out-spread firmament] the whole cope of heaven with the air, as the Chaldee saith, they that behold the air: which though it be soft and liquid, and spread over the earth, yet is it fast and firm, and therefore called of us according to the common Greek version, a firmament, the holy Ghost expreseth it by another term, Mid-heaven, Rev. 8. 13. and 14. 6. and 19. 17. This out-spread firmament, or expansion, God made a mids the waters for a separation, and named it Heavens, Gen. 1. 7, 8. which of David is said to be stretched out ⟨ϕ⟩ a curtain or tent, Psal. 104. 2. and elsewhere is said to be firm, as molten glass, Job 37. 18. So under this name Firmament, be comprised the orbs of the heavens, and the air, and the whole spacious roomth above the earth.

Vers. 3. Day unto day] one day unto and after another: so unto is used for after, in Exod. 16. 1. and 19. 1. Vttereth] or welleth ⟨ϕ⟩, as a fountain, continually and plenteously. manifesteth] or showeth lively.

Vers. 4. not heard is their voice] that is, whose voice is not heard or understood: meaning that they are no mute or obscure speeches, whereby the heavens preach to the world, but manifest to all, as the next verse showeth, and Paul plainly confirmeth, Rom. 1. 19, 20. and the Greek version here leadeth us so to understand this sentence, together with the Apostles allegation, Rom. 10. 19. and the like Hebraisms are usual, as Job 3. 3. Let the day perish, I was borne in it, that is, wherein I was borne: and hearing is often put for understanding, Gen. 11. 7. 2. Kings 18. 26. 1 Corin. 14. 2. Compare also herewith that Hebrew phrase in Jer. 38. 5. Or we may read it thus: There is no speech nor words: not heard is their voice: that is, the heavens make no speech, or Sermon; nor utter any reasonable words, nor any voice (or s ⟨...⟩ d) ⟨...⟩ of theirs is heard: but their line is gone forth, &c. Or, (taking words for people's that speak them,) there is ⟨ϕ⟩ speech no words, where the voice of the heavens is not heard ⟨...⟩ d.

V. 5. their line] or, their ⟨ϕ⟩, their delineation: w<sup>ch</sup> is a mean to teach the rude and simple; as Esa. 28. 10. or by line is mean a building, frame or edifice, which is made by line and rule, Zach. 1. 16. Job 38. 5. The Greek translateth it, their sound; which word the Apostle also useth, Rom. 10. 18. where he speaketh of the preaching of the Gospel, by which the Church is taught and edified. their speakings] or, their words: but this is used sometime generally for signification any manner of way: as Prov. 6. 13. he speaketh (that is, signifieth) with his feet. And taking him before to have shown how the heavens have no speeches, words nor voice; this here may be meant of their significations, by the wonderful frame, course, order, &c. that all men may see in them. he hath put a tent] God hath put (or set) in the heavens a tabernacle, that is, a flitting habitation: for that the sun never stayeth in one place. The Sun is in Hebrew called Shemesh, that is, a minister or servant; which very name should have kept the nations from worshipping and serving it, which God hath distributed to all people under the whole heaven; as Deut. 4. 19.

Vers. 6. as a bridegroom] the Chaldee addeth, [unspec] in the morning as a bridegroom. The Sun when he riseth is gloriously adorned with beautiful rays, and seemeth most cheerful; which two things are set forth by similitude of a bridegroom, Esa. 61. 10: & 62. 5. to run a race] a long way, journey, or, course. The swift course of the Sun is joyfully performed, as when a Champion runneth for a game.

Vers. 8. Th ⟨...⟩ ] or Doctrine ⟨...⟩ ▪ an orderly manner of instruction, an institution or disposition, called in Hebrew Torah, which implieth both doctrine, and an orderly disposition of the same; therefore, where one Prophet relating David's words, saith, the law of man, 2 Sam. 7. 19. another saith, the orderly estate (or course) of man, 1 Chron. 17. 17. The holy Ghost in Greek calleth it Nomos, a Law, Heb. 8. 10. from Ier. 31. 33. This name is most commonly ascribed to the precepts given by Moses at Mount Sinai; Deut. 33. 4. Mal. 4. 4. John. 1. 17. and 7. 19. it is also largely used for all his writings. For the history of Genesis is called Law, Gal. 4. 21. from Gen. 16. And though sometime the Law be distinguished from the Psalms and Prophets, Luke 16. 16. and 24. 44. yet the other Prophets books are called Law, 1 Cor. 14. 21. from Isaiah. 28. 11. the Psalms are also thus named, John. 10. 24. and 15. 25. from Psal. 8<sup>o</sup>. 6. and 35. 19. Yea one Psalm is called a Law, Psal. 78. 1. and the many branches of Moses doctrine; as the Law of the sinoffering, &c. Lev. 6. 25. and generally it is used for any doctrine; as, the Law of works, the Law of faith, &c. Rom. 3. 27. is perfect] or, is a perfect Law. The word before is again understood here and in the speeches following: as sometime it is fully expressed, Psal. 12. 7. returning the soul] or, restoring the life. To return the soul, is sometime to deliver it from evils, Ps. 35. 17. Job 33. 30. sometime to refresh it as with food that keepeth in life, Lam. 1. 11. 19. to refresh it with rest, come 〈...〉 t, and the like, R<sup>o</sup>th 4. 15. Psal. 23. 3. Prov. 25. 13. All which may be found in the law of God. the testimony] God called the two tables of his law, the Testimony, Exod. 25. 16. 21. and 31. 18. and the Ark wherein they were kept, had thereupon the like name, Num. 17. 4. Exod. 25. 22. and so the tabernacle wherein the Ark was, Exod. 38. 21. Rev. 15. 5. God's Law hath this title because of the testification, contestation, and earnest charge w<sup>ch</sup> he and his Prophets gave concerning it, as Ps. 81. 9. 2 Kin. 17. 15. Neh. 9. 29, 30. Deut. 31. 28. and 32. 4. and as a record it testifieth what is God's will and covenant, John. 5. 39. And as the Law, so the Gospel (yea Christ himself) is called a testimony, 1 Cor. 2. 1. 2 Thes. 1. 10. 1 Tim. 2. 6. faithful] or, a faithful testimony: this word meaneth also, sure, certain, firm and constant; as faithful plagues, Deut. 28. 59. are sure and durable: a faithful house, 2 Sam. 7. 16. is settled, firm & stable, &c. God's word hath like commendations, Ps. 93. 5. and 111. 7. the simple] or silly. The original pethi, meaneth one that is easily persuaded or enticed, credulous and light of belief, according to the proverb, Pethi, The simple believeth everything, Prov. 14. 15. Consequently it is used for Unskilfull, and applied sometime to evil foolish persons, Prov. 9. 6. and 22. 3. sometime to the good and simple; as Psal. 116. 6. The Greek often translateth it, a babe, and so Christ calleth such, Mat. 11. 25. This verse and the two next following, which treat of God's law, are in Hebrew written every of them with ten words, according to the number of the ten commandments, which are called ten words, Exod. 34. 28.

Vers. 9. The Precepts] or, Commissions, Changes. This word is by David only applied to God's commandments, called of him Pikkudim; of Pukad to 〈ϕ〉 ; as if we should say Visitations, or precepts, the transgressions whereof God hath threatened to visit or punish; as Exod. 20. 5. and 32. 34. Or of hiphkid, to commend or commit unto ones charge and custody▪ because these are committed unto men, carefully to be observed; as it is written, Thou hast commanded thy precepts to be kept 〈ϕ〉 mently, Ps. 119. 4. the commandment] that is, the commandments: one put for all; as judgment, 2. King. 25. 6. for judgments, Ier. 52. 9. and many the like.

Vers. 10. The fear] or reverence, that is, the religion and worship prescribed of God; as in Matth. 15. 9. that is called Worship, which in Isa. 29. 13. is named Fear; and this is said to be clean from all filthiness, because he requireth to be worshipped in spirit and truth; and with pure hands, John. 4. 24. 1 Tim. 2. 8. Or, as God himself is called Fear, Psal. 76. 12. so his law may also here be called Peare, for that it was given with fearful majesty, and worketh in men the fear and reverence of God, Exod. 20. 18, 19, 20. Deut. 5. 24,—29. standing] or abiding, continuing firm, yet and perpetually. judgments] Such laws as were annexed to the ten commandments, for punishing the offenders, have this title prefixed; as Exod. 21. 1. These are the judgments which thou shalt set before them, &c. And as decrees or statutes are often put for the ordinances of God's worship; (as is noted on Psal. 2. 7.) instead whereof David here seemeth to use the former word fear; so judgments are laws and rites for human duties. These two Moses often joineth together, saying; Hearken O Israel to the statutes and to the judgments, &c. Deut. 4. 1. 5. 8. 14. 45▪ and 5. 1. 31. and 6. 1. 20. and 7. 11. and 8. 11, &c. just together] that is, all of them together, and each of them apart, is just, or justified.

Vers. 11. fine gold] or solid gold, called Paz, which hath the name of strength, fastnesse, or solidity: such gold was rare and precious, Isa. 13. 12. Lam. 4. 2. The Arabians now call gold Phes. It was very fine: therefore when one Prophet calleth it gold. Muphaz, 2 Kin. 10. 18. another calleth it tahor, that is, fine or clean gold, 2 Chron. 9. 17. liquor of the honey combs] or, liquid honey of the comb▪. Each of these words is used by Solomon for the dropting honey comb▪ Prov. 5. 3. and 16. 24. and both are joined for more vehemency.

Vers. 12. clearly admonished] The word signifieth illustrating, making bright or shining, Dan. 12. 3. and so by warning, or. information to make the soul clear and circumstect. Exod. 18. 20. 2 King: 6. 10. Eccles. 4. 13. Ezek. 3. 17. 18, 19, 20. much reward] or much end, that is, great profit or reward, as the Greek translate that. The Chaldee applieth this peculiarly to David, saying, and because he kept them, he was made the Prince of Israel. The Hebrew Ghnekeb, signifying the heela or seetsole, is used figuratively for the end of a thing, (as the head, for the beginning, Psal. 119. 160.) and so for the sarcisse, event and recampence that followeth thereupon. As another word, acharith, which signifieth end, is used also for reward, Prove. 23. 18. and 1▪ Pet. 1. 9.

Vers. 23. Vnadviced errors] or, Ignorant saults, Vnwitting. and inconsiderate sins. The law for which is given, Lev. 4. 2. &c. who dotn understand] or, who candiscerne? meaning, no man can. So Psal. 7. 7. 5. I spake not. for, I could not speak. See the Annorations there. cleanse thou me] or, make me innocent, free, guiltless, empty. The word is also used for exempting, or absolving, free from punishment due to sin, Exod. 20. 6. and 34. 7.

Vers. 15. be to favor able acceptation] that is, be acceptable or well pleasing; or, as before, they shall be acceptable. For the Hebrew will bear either interpretation. Therefore also in the Greek, these two phrases are used as one, He shall be, Mark 10. 44. and Let him be, Mat. 20. 27. Of the word at, ceptation, see the note on Psal. 5. 13. my redeemer] or deliverer; the Hebrew Goel is interpreted in the Greek by both these, Rō. 11. 26. frō Isa. 59. 20. Act. 7. 35. The word is of large use, for redeeming of things sold or mortgaged, Lev. 25. but applied to redemption or deliverance from danger, Psal. 69. 19 from violence, Psal. 72. 14. from corruption, Psal. 103. 4. from the enemies hand, Psal. 106. 10. from death, Hos. 13. 14. and from all evil, Gen. 48. 16. And in special, one that challengeth or redeemeth any person, or thing that was before alienated, and restoreth it to the first estate, by right of kindred, is called by this name, 1 Kings 16. 11. Ruth 39. 12, 13. and 4. 1. 3. &c. Therefore is this title given to God and Christ, who is our redeemer, and allied unto us, as concerning the flesh, Isa. 43. 14. and 44. 6. and 47 4. 1 Thess. 1. 10. Heb. 2. 14, 15.

PSAL. XX.

The Church blesseth the King in his exploits: 6 Promiseth thankfulness, 7 testifieth confidence in God's succor; 8 and triumpheth by faith in Christ.

To the master of the music, a Psalm of David.

Jehovah answer thee in day of distress, the name of the God of Jacob set thee on high. Send thy help from the Sanctuary, and uphold thee out of Zion. He remember all thy oblations, and thy burnt-offering he turn to ashes Selah. He give to thee, according to thy heart, and fulfill all thy counsel. We will shout in thy salvation, and in the name of our God set up the banner; Jehovah fulfill all thy petitions. Now I know that Jehovah saveth his Anointed, answereth him out of the Heavens of his holiness, with powers the salvation of his right hand. These (make mention) of chariots, and these of horses: but we make mention of the name of Jehovah our God. They stoop down and fall, but we rise up and stand upright. Jehovah save thou the King, he answer us in the day we call.

Annotations.

ANSWER thee] thee O King, whom after he calleth Messiah, or Anointed, verse. 7. And this sentence is set down in Iakobs words, Gen. 35. 3. as after he mentioneth the God of Jacob. And the whole Psalm is a prophesy of Christ's sufferings, and his deliverances out of them, for which the Church with him triumpheth. For answer, the Chaldee saith, accept thy prayer. set thee on high] in a high refuge, and so defend and keep thee safe: see Psal. 9. 10. As God's name, even his only is advanced high, Psal. 148. 13. so is it also a strong tower which the righteous runneth unto, and is set on high, Prov. 18. 10.

Vers. 3. from the Sanctuary] or sanctity; Thus the tabernacle was called, Lev. 16. 2. and the temple, 1 King. 8. 10. as being the place of holiness, for the presence of God there.

Vers. 4. remember all thy oblations] This hath respect to the law, which appointed part of the oblation (or meat-offering) to be burnt on the altar unto God, with oil and incense for a memorial, Levite. 2. 2. The Hebrew Minchah, is generally a gift or present carried to any, Psal. 45. 13. and 72. 10. Gen. 32. 13. and in special, a gift or oblation presented to God, Gen. 4. 3, 4, 5. Psal. 96. 8. most specially the oblation of corn or flower, called the meat-offering, Lev. 2. Num. 29. The Apostle in Greek turneth it Prosphora, an oblation, Heb. 10. 5. 8. 10. from Psal. 40. 6. burnt-offering] which according to the original word Ghnolah, signifieth an ascension, because this kind of sacrifice was wholly given up to God in fire, Lev. 1. 3,—9. 13. Therefore in Greek it is translated holocaustoma, that is, a whole burnt-offering. turn to ashes] that is, consume to ashes with heavenly fire: for so God approved and accepted the sacrifices of his people, Lev. 9. 24 1 Kings 18. 28.

Vers. 5. fulfill all thy counsel] or accomplish it: Counsel is as empty if it be not effected and accomplished; and the performance is as the filling thereof. So to fill or accomplish petitions in the verse following: to fulfill joy, John. 3. 29. and 15. 11. to fulfill words, is to confirm them, 1 Kings 1. 14. and to perform or effect them, 1 Kings 2. 27.

Vers. 6. We will showt] or, that we may showt, or shrill. For these two phrases are used in differently: See the note on Psal. 43. 4. thy salvation] which thou (O King) hast received; or which thou (O God) hast given. set up the banner] or, display the slag or ensign, which was for triumph and victory, to honor God, and to terrify the enemies, Song 6. 3. 9.

Vers. 7. his anointed] or Messias, that is, his King, verse. 10. Psal. 2. 6. with powers the salvation] that is, with full power (or puissance,) even with the salvation of his right hand. For God's right hand is of wondrous excellent force, and doth valiantly, Exod. 15 6. Psal. 118. 16. and 89 14.

Vers. 8. These] that is, Some mention chariots and some horses. Chariot is used for chariots; as also in Psal. 68. 18. so bird for birds, Psal. 8. 9. Angel for Angels, Psal. 34. 8. make mention of the name] that is, make it to be known and to be remembered with honor, Psal. 45. 18. Esa. 49. 1. 2 Sam. 18. 18.

Vers. 9. stand upright] or, set ourselves sure to continue yet. So after in Psal. 146. 9. and 147. 6.

Vers. 10. the King, he answer us] By the King here seemeth to be meant Christ, of whom this whole Psalm is composed: as also the Chaldee Paraphrast understood it, and therefore explained this verse thus; O word of the Lord, redeem us; O mighty King, receive our prayer in the day of our invocation. But the Seventie (not keeping the distinctions) turn it in Greek thus; Lord save the king, and here us in the day that we call upon thee.

PSAL. XXI.

The King giveth thanks for many blessings received. 8 He professeth his confidence of further grace, and prophesieth the destruction of the wicked.

To the master of the music, a Psalm of David.

Jehovah, in thy strength the King shall rejoyce, and in thy salvation how vehement glad shall he be! Thou hast given to him his hearts desire, and the earnest request of his lips thou hast not kept back Selah. For thou preventest him with blessings of goodness, thou settest on his head a crown of fine gold. Life he asked of thee, thou gavest it him; length of days, ever and aye.

Great is his honor in thy salvation; glorious Majesty and comely honor hast thou put upon him. For thou hast set him to be blessings to perpetual aye; thou hast made him cheerful with joy, with thy face. For the King trusteth in Jehovah, and through the mercy of the most high he shall not be moved. Thy hand shall find out all thine enemies; thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee. Thou wilt set them as an oven of fire at the time of thy face; Jehovah in his anger will swallow them up, & fire shall eat them. Their fruit from the earth thou wilt destroy, and their seed from the sons of Adam. For they have intended evil against thee: they have thought a crafty purpose, but they shall not be able. For thou wilt set them as a Butt, with thy strings thou wilt make ready against their faces. Be thou exalted Jehovah in thy strength, we will sing and praise with Psalm thy power.

Annotations.

IN thy strength] or, for thy strength, thy kingdom, strong help and deliverance. This Psalm, as the former, gratulateth the victory and salvation of Christ, and is by the Chaldee Paraphrast applied to the reign of King Messias. Also the Hebrew Iismach, (Shall rejoice,) hath the letters (being transplaced,) of the name Mashiach, Christ. shall rejoice] or rejoiceth continually.

Vers. 4. a crown] a sign of glorious victory, and of the Kingdom.

V. 5. length of days] that is, a long continued life time, Isa. 53. 10. Job 12. 12. So Ps. 23. 6. & 93. 5. and 91. 16. On the contrary, short of days, is short lived, Job 14. 1. ever and aie] to eternal and perpetual aie. Christ being raised from death, dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him, Rom. 6. 9 But behold he is alive for evermore, Amen, Rev. 1. 18. and ever liveth to make intercession for them that come to God by him, Hebr. 7. 25.

Vers. 7. hast set him blessings] that is, made him to abound with all manner blessings himself, & to be an example of, or to impart blessings unto others. So to Abram it was said, be thou a blessing, Gen. 12. 2. the like promise is to his children, Ezek. 24. 36. Isa. 19. 20. with thy face] or before thy face, in thy presence as Psal. 16. 11.

Vers. 9. shall find out all thy enemies] to wit, to punish them, as ⟨ϕ⟩ like phrase importeth, Isa. 10. 10. or, shall find for all, that is, shall be enough for all thy foes, that is, sufficiently able to overcome them: so finding is used for sufficiency, Num. 11. 22. Judge. 21. 14. For hand, the Chaldee saith, the stroke of thine hand.

Vers. 10. ⟨ϕ⟩ set them] or put them all and everyone, ⟨ϕ⟩ is noted on Psal. 2. 3. So also after in verse. 11. and 13. ⟨ϕ⟩ of fire] a fiery furnace; meaning in ⟨ϕ⟩ affliction, Lam. 5. 10. the time of thy face] that is of thine anger, as the Chaldee Paraphrast explaineth it; for the face showeth forth pleasure or displeasure, favor or wrath: so face is used for anger, Psal. 34 17. Lev. 20. 6. Gen. 32. 20. Lam. 4. ⟨ϕ⟩ .er. 3. 12. swallow them] that is, destroy or d ⟨...⟩ sh, them: so Psal. 35. 25. and 52. 6. and 55. ⟨ϕ⟩ ⟨ϕ⟩ ] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the fire of Ge ⟨...⟩ (or of Hell.)

Vers. 11. Their fruit] that is, their children, called the fruit of the body and womb, Psal. 127. 3. and 132. 11. Deut. 28. 4. or their labor and that which comes thereof; as Prov. 31. 16. 31. their seed] that is, children, or posterity, Psal. 22. 24. 31. and •7. 25. Gen. •7. 7. 10.

Vers. 12. shall not be able] to wit, to stablish, (as the Greek explaineth) or, to effect it. After this word can, or able, there often wanteth a word to be understood: see Psal. 101. 5.

Vers. 13. a Butt] to shoot at; Hebr. a shoulder; because the earth is heaped up like shoulders. The Chaldee paraphraseth, thou hast set them to thy people as one shoulder. make ready] or fit, namely thine arrows against their faces. The Chaldee otherwise, in the cords of thy Tent thou wilt order thy law before them.

PSAL. XXII.

David as a figure of Christ complaineth of his many afflictions; 10 Prayeth with faith for deliverance; 13 Foresheiweth the sundry evils which the wicked would do unto Christ at his death. 23 After deliverance, Christ declareth God's name and praises to his brethren; 27

Communicateth the fruits of his death and resurrection to the ends of the earth: 31
Whereupon they show forth their obedience, and preach his justice.

To the master of the music, concerning the Hind of the morning; a Psalm of David.

MY God, my God, wherefore hast thou forsaken me, art far off from my salvation, from the words of my roaring. My God, I call by day, & thou answerest not; and by night, and there is no silence to me. And thou art holy, sitting, the praises of Israel. In thee our fathers trusted, they trusted, & thou deliveredst them. Unto thee they cried out and were safe delivered; in thee they trusted and were not abashed. But I am a worm, and not a man; the reproach of men, and despised of the people.

All they that see me do scoff at me, they make a mow with the lip, they wag the head.

He confidently turned unto Jehovah, let him deliver him, let him rid him, because he delighteth in him. But thou art the drawer of me forth out of the belly, the maker of me to trust, even at my mothers breasts. Upon thee I have been cast from the womb; from my mothers belly, thou art my God.

Be not thou gone far off from me, for distress is near; for there is no helper. Many bullocks have compassed me about; mighty bulls of Bashan have environed me.

They have wide opened upon me their mouth, as a renting and roaring Lion. I am poured out as waters, and all my bones dispart themselves; my heart is as wax, it is molten in the midst of my bowels. My able strength is dried up like a pot-sheard, and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws, and thou hast brought me down to the dust of death. For dogs have compassed me; the assembly of evil doers have enclosed me, they Lion-like pierced my hands and my feet. I may tell all my bones: they did behold, they did view me. They parted my garments among thē, & for my coat they cast a lot. And thou Jehovah be not far off: my fortitude, hasten to my help. Rid my soul from the sword, my alonely soul from the hand of the dog. Save me from the mouth of the Lion, and from the horns of Unicorns, thou hast answered me. I will tell thy name to my brethren; in the midst of the Church I will praise thee. Ye that fear Jehovah, praise him; all ye seed of Jacob, honor him; and be afraid of him all ye seed of Israel. For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the poor afflicted, nor hid his face from him: and when he cried out unto him he heard. Of thee shall be my praise in the great Church, my vows I will pay before them that fear him. The meek shall eat and be satisfied, they shall praise Jehovah that seek him, your heart shall live to perpetual aye. All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn unto Jehovah, and all families of the heathens shall bow down themselves before thee.

For to Jehovah pertains the Kingdom: & he is ruler among the nations. All the fat ones of the earth shall eat and bow down themselves, all that go down to the dust, shall bend down before him: and he that quickeneth not his soul. A seed shall serve him, it shall be accounted to the LORD for a generation. They shall come and shall declare his justice to a people that shall be borne, that he hath done this.

Annotations.

The Hind of the morning] meaning Christ, who as a Hind was by Jews and Gentiles, the dogs, verse. 7. hunted and worroughed in the morning, John 18. 28. and also rose from death the third day early in the morning, John. 20. 1. when God had made his feet like Hindes feet, and set him on his high places, Psal. 18 34. Compare with this, Song 2. 9. 17. and 8. 14. where Christ is also likened to a young Hart. And in Psal. 49. 15. the resurrection is called, the morning; for then the true light of comfort and salvation shall appear. A Hind called in Hebrew Ajeleth, hath the name of prowess or fortitude, (as in the 20 verse of this Psalm, Aejaluth is fortitude;) and so it may be understood for the strength (or fortitude) of the morning, that is, the help and power of God to raise up Christ from the dead; which may be the meaning of the Greek translation, for the morning help. Some of the Jews have interpreted it, the morning star; which (although the word be nowhere else found in Scripture, for a star;) agreeth also to our Lord Christ, who is entitled, the bright morning star, Rev. 20. 16. Others, applying this title to the Music, retain the Hebrew words still; A ⟨...⟩ eleth hasshachar. The Chaldee expoundeth it, To praise (God) for the mighty continual sacrifice.

Vers. 2. My God, my God, &c.] Christ speaketh this Psalm to God his Father. The Hebrew is, Aeli, Aeli, lammah ghnazabtani; which words our Lord uttered on the cross, Mat. 27. 46. (save for the later, he used the Syriac, sabachtani, of the same signification.) At which the profane Jews mocked, saying that he called for Elias, Mat. 27. 47. 49. Wherefore hast thou forsaken me] or, why leavest thou me? They are the words of saith, striving in temptation, and do imply both a hope of, and a prayer for deliverance, as it is noted on Psal. 10. 1. See the like also in Psal. 42. 10. and 43. 2. my roaring] this argueth great grief of heart, uttered with loud complaint: So Psal. 38. 9. and 32. 3. Job 3. 24. And Christ, in the days of his flesh, offered up prayers, with strong crying and tears, to him that was able to save him from death, Heb. 5. 7.

Vers. 3. no silence to me] or, but I have no silence: and consequently, no rest or ease. So Job 30. 20. 27.

Vers. 4. sitting] or sittest, that is, abidest still one and the same; as Psal. 9. 8. and 55. 20. and 102. 13. or fittest, to wit, still; as Ruth. 3. 18. that is, risest not up to help me: or sittest, that is, inhabitest, as Psal. 9. 12. and 132. 15. The Chaldee translateth, which stablisheth the world for the praises of Israel. the praises] in Greek, the praise of Israel; that is, art he to whom Israel singeth all praises for deliverances, and of whom Israel gloryth in all time of need. So Moses said to Israel, he is thy praise, Deut. 10. 21. and Ier. 17. 14.

Vers. 7. a worm] that is, weak, (as the Chaldee explaineth it) wretched, and trodden underfoot. So Job 25. 6. Isa. 41. 14.

Vers. 8. make a mow] make an opening with the lip; which may be taken both for mowing or thrusting out of the lip, and for licentious opening thereof to speak reproach. wag the head] a sign also of scorn, Esa. 37 22. Mat. 27. 39. Job 16. 4. Psal. 44. 15. Lam. 2. 15.

Vers. 9. He confidently turned] or rolled; that is, trusted, as in the New Testament this phrase is explained, Mat. 27. 43. where they mock at Christ. The Hebrew applieth this word roll or turn, figuratively to a confident committing of ones self, ways, or actions unto another; as here, so in Psal. 37. 5. Prov. 16. 3. and Gol, properly is Roll thou, but put for he rolled, or trusted; as the like phrase, make the heart of this people fat, &c. Esa. 6. 10. is thus resolved, this people's heart is waxed fat, &c. Mat. 13. 15. or it is the indefinite, to turn, for he turned; as in Esth. 9. 16. to stand, is used for they stood.

Vers. 11. been cast from the womb] that is, from my infancy committed to thy care and custody. So elsewhere he faith, the Lord hath called me from the womb, &c. Esa. 49. 1. Contrariwise, the wicked are estranged from the womb, Psal. 58. 4.

Vers. 13. bullocks] chat is, strong and lusty persons, such as were the high Priests, scribes, &c. that set against Christ. So the Chaldee expoundeth, people's like pushing bulls. mighty bulls of Basan] which was a fertile country, good to feed cattle, Num. 32. 4. and such as there fed, were fat and strong, Deu. 32. 14. Ezech. 39. 18. The Jews were the bulls of Basan, as the Prophets foretold, Deut. 32. 15. Amos 4. 1. Hos. 4. 16. and the history showeth, Mat. 27. Here the word bulls is to be supplied unto the word mighty, as also in Psal. 50. 13. and 68. 31. See the notes on Psal. 10. 10.

Vers. 14. wide opened] or, gaped; and this also is a sign of reproach and contempt, Job 16. 10. Lam. 3. 46. and 2. 16.

Vers. 15. dispart themselves] or, are sundered, that is, out of joint. as wax] that is, tender, and melting through faintness and fear, Psal. 68. 3. and 57. 5. Like this is Job's complaint, God hath softened my heart, Job 23. 16. So the word following molten, noteth fear and discouragement, Josh. 7. 5. and 14. 8. Deut. 20. 8. The Greek translateth, as molten wax.

Vers. 16. cleaveth] or, is made cleave to my jaws, which phrase meaneth inability to speak, Psal. 137. 6. Job 29. 10. Ezek. 3. 25. and sometime extremity of thirst, Lam. 4. 4. and so may have reference here to that thirst which our Savior felt, John. 19. 28. hast brought me down] or set and bounded me in the dust of death, meaning death it self, or the grave which turneth men to dust, Gen. 3. 19. the Chaldee turneth it, the house of the grave. See Psal. 7. 6.

Vers. 17. dogs] the Greek addeth, many dogs, that is, base and vile persons of rancorous disposition, Job 30. 1. Prov. 26. 11. Rev. 22. 15. Mat. 7. 6. Phil. 3. 2. Psal. 59. 7. 15. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, a company of wicked sinners which are like to many dogs. These were the high Priests and rulers of Israel, of whom it is said, that Pilate knew well that for envy they had delivered Jesus, Mat. 27. 18. they Lion-like pierced] The original hath a double reading, Caari, like a lion, and Caru, they digged or pierced. This latter the Greek followeth: but the Chaldee in the Masorites Bible keepeth both readings, they did •ite like a Lion. This was fulfilled in the nailing of our Lord to the cross, by his feet and hands, Mat. 27. 35. John. 20. 25.

Vers. 18. did view me] or see in me; namely, their desire or lust, or the affliction upon me, they saw with delight. See the like phrase, Psal. 54. 9. and 59. 11. and 118. 7.

Vers. 19. for my coat] or, my vesture: The Soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments (and made four parts, to every Soldier a part) and his coat; and the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. Therefore they said one to another, Let us not divide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, &c. Job. 19. 23, 24.

Vers. 21. from the sword] the Chaldee saith, from them that kill with the sword. my lonely soul] which is one alone, solitary and desolate. So after in Psal. 35. 17. and 25. 16. and 68. 7. the Chaldee expounds it, the spirit of my body. hand of the dog] the power of the devil, the prince of this world, who then came to Christ, but had naught in him, Job 14. 30. Or dog is put for dogs, meaning the malicious Jews spoken of before, verse 17. and hand is often put for power: see Psal. 63. 11.

Vers. 22. mouth of the Lion] to the Devil is named, 1 Pet. 5. 8. and wicked rulers, Pro. 28. 15. Ier. 50. 17. The Chaldee here saith, from the mouth of him that is strong as a Lion, and from Kings mighty and proud like Unicorns. horns of Unicorns] the Devils Angels, principalities, powers, worldly governors, princes of the darkness of this world, &c. Ephe. 6. 12. The Unicorn is so fierce and wild, that he will not be tamed, Job 39. 12, 13. &c. and his strength and pride is in his horn. See Psal. 92. 11. Num. 23. 22. Deut. 33. 17. Esa. 34. 7. thou hast answered] for, answer thou me; a speech of faith, inserted in his prayer; therefore next followeth thanksgiving. Answering is here used for safe delivering upon prayer: as the Chaldee translateth, hast accepted my prayer.

Vers. 23. to my brethren] the disciples and believers of Christ: for he that sanctifieth, and we which are sanctified, are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call us brethren, Heb. 2. 11, 12. John. 20. 17. the Church] or Convocation, Assembly, Congregation.

Vers. 26. Of thee, my praise] or From with thee, shall be my praise: it shall begin and continue of thee, thou art the cause and ground thereof. the great Church] either that assembly where Christ after his resurrection personally appeared to more than five hundred brethren at once, 1 Cor. 15. 6. or the great Church of the Gentiles, with whom Christ is spiritually present, Mat. 28. 19, 20. So after in Psal. 40. 10, 11.

Vers. 27. and be satisfied] It was a curse of the Law, that men should eat and not be satisfied, Levite. 26. 26. Mic. 6. 14. but it is a blessing of the Gospel, that the meek and needy shall eat and have enough, Psal. 132. 15. God filleth the hungry with good things, and sends away the rich empty, Luke 1. 53. The meek meaneth the regenerate, who are mortified with Christ, and their fierce nature made meek and humble. your heart shall live] he turneth his speech to the meek and seekers of God, who should eat of Christ's flesh that was given for the life of the world, and thereby live forever, John. 6. 51. The living of the heart, importeth also the cheering, comfort and solace of the same, Gen. 45. 27. the contrary whereof is in the dying of the heart, 1 Sam. 25. 37. See also the like promise, Psal. 69. 33. The Chaldee yieldeth this sense, The spirit of prophesy shall rest in the thoughts of their heart forever.

Vers. 28. All the ends, &c.] that is, the dwellers in the utmost parts and ends of the world. A prophesy of the calling of the Gentiles, by the preaching of the Gospel; Rom. 16. 26. Eph. 2. 1, 2, &c. remember] the Chaldee addeth, remember his miracles. families of the heathens] or, kindreds of the nations; whereof see Gen. 10. 5, 18, 20, 31, 32.

Vers. 29. ruler among the heathens] to reign over them by his Word and Spirit, and so to be God, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles, Rom. 3. 29, 30.

Vers. 30. All the fat ones] that is, the rich and mighty personages, fat with plenty, Deut. 31. 20. For, Kings and Queens, and men of authority and wealth, are also called to the participati• of Christ's grace in his Church, Isaiah 60. 3, 5, 10. Rev. 21. 24. 1 Tim. 2. 1, 2. Sometime fatness is used to note out God's spiritual blessings, Psal. 36. 9. and 63. 6. and 65. 12. and 92. 15. Prov. 28. 25. all that go down to the dust] this is, the poor base and wretched people, which for their misery and affliction, are said to go down and sit in the dust, as Psal. 113. 7. Isaiah 47. 1. and 29. 4. Job 30. 19. Lament. 3. 29. but the Chaldee expounds it, the house of the grave. that quickeneth not] or cannot quicken; that is, the poor wretched man, that doth not, (or cannot, as Psal. 77. 5.) keep alive his soul; that cannot nourish him-self, he shall eat. So to keep alive, is to nourish, Esa. 7. 21. Or, he that revived, that is, cheered not, nor refreshed his soul with comfort, as before, verse. 27. or, he that cannot keep alive his soul, that is, not save it from wrath and eternal death, by his own works, he shall live by faith in Christ. So this phrase to keep the soul alive, is used, Ezek. 18. 27. The Chaldee giveth this sense, and he will not keep alive the soul of the wicked.

Vers. 31. A seed] The posterity of those godly forementioned, for God chooseth the seed with the parents, Deut. 10. 15. and 30. 6, 19. Psal. 69. 37. and 102. 29. Isaiah 43. 5. and 44. 3. Or the seed of Christ, the children which God giveth him, as Esa. 53. 10. Hebr. 2. 13. Or a seed, that is, a small remnant, as Rom. 9. 29. the Chaldee saith, the seed of Abraham. for a generation] a race of God's children, as Psal. 73. 15. and 24. 6. or, to generation, that is, forever, through all ages.

Vers. 32. They shall come] The Chaldee explaineth it, Their sons shall come. his justice] the justice of God, which is by faith in Christ, Psal. 71. 〈◇〉, 16, 24. Rom. 10. 3, 4. people that shall be 〈◇〉 ] hereafter to come; or, a people borne, that is, regenerate, Psal. 87. 4 5. John. 1. 13. 1 Pet. 1. 33. So, people created, Psal. 102. 19. that he hath done] hath performed, or accomplished that justice, and all things appertaining to it. The Greek referreth it to the people, whom the Lord hath made: the Chaldee, to the marvelous works which he hath done.

PSAL. XXIII.

David under the similitude of a Shepherd showeth 〈◇〉 love and mercies to his people, whereby their 〈...〉 is confirmed.

A Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

Jehovah feedeth me, I shall not lack. In folds of budding grass he maketh me lie down; he easily leadeth me by the waters of rests. He returneth my soul, he leadeth me in the beaten paths of justice, for his Name sake. Yea, though I should walk in the valley of the shade of death, I will not fear evil, for thou wilt be with me; thy rod and thy staff, they shall comfort me. Thou furnishest before me a table in presence of my distressers: thou makest fat my head with oil, my cup is abundant. Doubtless, good and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I shall converse in the house of Jehovah to length of days.

Annotations.

Feedeth me] or, is my Feeder, my Pastor. The word comprehendeth all duties of a good Herd, as together feeding, guiding, governing, and defending his flock. Therefore Kings also have this title, and are said to feed their people, Psal. 78. 71, 72. 2 Sam. 5. 2. Hereupon it is attributed to God, and to Christ, feeding his Church, as the Shepherd of their souls, Psal. 80. 2. Ezek. 34. 12, 14, 15. Isaiah 40. 11. John. 10. 11. 1 Pet. 2. 25. The Chaldee referreth this to a former work, saying▪ The Lord fed his people in the wilderness, they lacked nothing.

Vers. 2. of budding grass] pleasant pastures and leas, where green and tender herbs do spring. he maketh me] or, will make me lie down, to wit, for rest from heat. This also is another duty of a good Herder, as, I will feed my flock, and I will make them lie down, saith the Lord, Ezek. 34. 15. and, Shew me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest lie down at noon, Song 1. 6. easily leadeth] or comfortably •uideth me; it noteth a soft and gentle leading, with sustaining of infirmity, as Gen. 33. 14. Isaiah 40. 11. Therefore the Greek turneth it, he nourisheth me. So Psal. 31. 4. by waters] or unto waters of rests, that is, most quiet (or calm) waters, and such as give rest and refreshing. All these things Christ performeth to his flock, as it is written, They shall hunger no more, neither thirst anymore, neither shall the Sun light on them, nor any heat; for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them to the lively fountains of waters, Revel. 7. 16, 17.

Vers. 3. returneth my soul] or, will return or restore it, and consequently give it rest. See Psalm. 19. 8.

Vers. 4. shade of death] that is, dark and dreadful shadow; and in a manner, the very state of death. This speech denoteth imminent danger, Jer. 2. 6. sore affliction, Psal. 44. 20. and 107. 10. 14. fear and terror, Job 24. 17. and dreadful darkness, Job 10. 21, 22. whereto spiritually is opposed the light and comfort of the Gospel and grace of Christ, Mat. 4. 16. Luke 1. 79. wilt be with me] or, art with me: and this implieth his good, safety, and protection. As when God said, I will be with thee, Gen. 31. 3. Jacob understood it thus, I will do thee good, Gen. 32. 9. for God's presence is a singular favor, and our preeminence, Exod. 33. 15, 16. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thy Word shall be for my help. thy rod] with such shepherds use to guide and rule their flocks, Levite. 27. 32. and with such the Lord is said to rule his people, Ezek. 20. 37. Wherefore the Prophet prayeth, feed thy people with thy rod, Mic. 7. 14. The rod is also for chastening and punishment, Psal. 89. 33. And for the rebellious God hath a rod of iron and indignation, Psal. 2. 9. Lam. 3. 1. Of Christ's rods or staves wherewith he feeds his flock, see Zach. 11. 7. &c. The Chaldee translateth thy rod and thy law.

Vers. 5. Thou furnishest] or wilt furnish, and make ready a table. This and the things following, note the abundant supply of all good things, for necessity and for delight, as at a sumptuous banquet, Prov. 9. 2, &c. So by Christ the good shepherd, his sheep find pasture, have life, and have it in abundance, John. 10. 9, 10. in presence] or before them, which causeth the enemies that see, to grieve, as Psal. 112. 10. maketh fat] that is, plenteously m•istenest and supplest with oil or balsam. In those countries they used to welcome and cheare their guests with pouring out precious sweet oyles or balsam upon their heads, Luke 7. 46. John. 12. 3. It signifieth joy, Eccles. 9. 8. Isaiah 61. 3. The Chaldee applieth it to the Priests of Israel, thou hast made the Priests heads fat with the anointing oil. is abundant] to wit, with liquor, (as the word importeth) for to drink my fill.

Vers. 6. converse] or quietly repose myself, and dwell, as the Greek translateth it. Likewise the Chaldee, saying, I shall dwell in the house of the Lord's Sanctuary. to length of days] that is, a long life-time, or forever. See Psal. 21. 5. and 93. 5.

PSAL. XXIV.

God's Lordship in the world. 3 The citizens of his spiritual kingdom. 7 An exhortation to receive him.

A Psalm of David.

THE earth is Jehovah's, and the plenty thereof; the world, and they that sit therein. For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the rivers.

Who shall ascend into the mountain of Jehovah, and who shall stand in the place of his holiness? The clean in hands, and pure in heart, which lifteth not up his soul to false vanity, neither sweareth to deceit.

He shall receive a blessing from Jehovah, and justice from the God of his salvation. This is the generation of them that enquire for him, of them that seek thy face, of Jacob Selah.

Lift up ye gates your heads, and be lifted up ye doors of eternity, that the King of glory may come in. Who is this King of glory? Jehovah, strong and valiant; Jehovah valiant in battle. Lift up ye gates your heads, and lift up ye doors of eternity, that the King of glory may come in. Who is he this King of glory? Jehovah of hosts, he is the King of glory Selah.

Annotations.

APsalme of David] unto this title the Greek addeth, of the first day of the week: meaning that this Psalm was wont to be sung in the Temple every first day of the week, which now with us is the Lord's day, the Christians Sabbath: and of Christ his Church and kingdom, and the entertaining of his Gospel, doth this Psalm treat. In Solomon's Temple God ordained Levites with Cymbals, Psalteries and Harps, and Priests with Trumpets, and other Levites that were singers, and in the time that the burnt-offering began, the song of the Lord began with trumpets and instruments, and they sang praises with the words of David, and of Asaph, 2 Chron. 29. 25,—30. The Hebrew Doctors recording their daily service in the Sanctuary, write thus; They said not the Song, but over the burnt-offerings of the Congregation, and the sacrifices of their peace-offerings that are spoken of in the Law, &c. The Song which the Levites said in the first day, was (Psalm. 24.) The earth is the LORD'S, and the plenty thereof. In the second (day) they said (the 48. Psalm.) Great is the LORD, and praised vehemently in the city of our God, &c. In the third they said (the 82. Psalm,) God standeth in the assembly of God, he judgeth in the midst of the gods. In the fourth they said (the 94. Psalm) O God of vengeance, &c. In the fifth they said (the 81. Psalm,) Shout joyfully unto God our strength, &c. In the sixth they said (the 93. Psalm,) The Lord reigneth, is clothed with high Majesty, &c. In the Sabbath they said (the 92. Psalm,) A Psalm, a Song for the Sabbath day.

Maimonides in Misneh, tom. 3. in Tamidin, (or Treat. of the Daily sacrifices,) chap. 6. sect. 7, 8, 9. The earth is Jehovah's] or To Jehovah the earth belongeth. Of him, and by him, and for him are all things; yet in special he hath chosen Jacob's posterity for to be his people, verse. 6. Thus David maketh use of Moses doctrine, who said, Loe, to Jehovah thy God pertain the heavens, and the heavens of heavens, the earth and all that therein is: notwithstanding, Jehovah set his delight in thy fathers to love them, and did choose their seed after them, even you above all people's, as appeareth this day, Deut. 10. 14, 15. See also another use of this doctrine, in 1 Cor. 10. 26, 28. where the Apostle proveth, that every creature in the earth may be used of Christians for food, or otherwise, because all is the Lord's, and in Christ ours. plenty] or, fullness, that is, all contained therein, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the creatures thereof. So, the plenty of the sea, Isaiah 42. 10. the plenty of the city, Amos. 6. 8. and sundry the like. that sit] that is, dwelt or inhabit, as it is noted on Psal. 1. 1. The like manner of speaking the holy Ghost useth also in Greek, Luke 21. 35. on all them that sit on the face of the whole earth. So Psal. 69. 36. and often elsewhere.

Vers. 2. upon the seas] or above them. The earth is said to be founded (or fast settled) upon the seas, (the heaps of waters were called seas, Gen. 1. 10.) because the waters which naturally would stand above the high mountains, Psal. 104. 6. are by the word of God gathered together, and thrust under the earth, that the dry land might appear and be inhabited, Exod. 20. 4. Gen. 1. 9. And these which may seem a most weak and flitting foundation, yet are firm bases, and mighty foundations, Psal. 104. 5. Mic. 6. 2. to magnify God's power, who as he brought light out of darkness, so setteth he the solid earth on the liquid waters; yea, hangereth the earth upon nothing, Job 26. 7.

Vers. 3. Who shall ascend] The Chaldee paraphraseth, Who shall be worthy to ascend unto the mountain of the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord?

Vers. 4. The clean in hands] He whose hands or palms are clean, or free of evil. So Job 17. 9. This noteth good works, as pureness of heart meaneth holy faith and affections, Act. 15. 9. not lifted up his soul] or, my soul. The Hebrew hath two readings; by the letters in the line, his soul, and in the margin, my soul; as if this were spoken in the person of God, and of him; which then may be understood of swearing. For this form of words is used in the third Commandment, Exod. 20. Thou shalt not lift up (or take up) the name of Jehovah thy God to false vanity. But for Name, here is put Soul. And God is said to swear by his soul, that is, by himself, or his life, Ier. 51. 14. Amos 6. 8. It was also the wont in Israel to take an oath thus, As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, 1 Sam. 20. 3. 2 King. 2. 2, 4, 6. Also concerning a man's own soul, in swearing this form was used, I call God for a record against my soul, 2 Cor. 1. 23. And thus the Chaldee expounds it, which hath not sworn in vain to the condemnation of his soul. Otherwise, if this be not understood of vain swearing, the meaning is, he that affecteth not, or regardeth not vanity; for so the lifting up of the soul also signifieth; see Psal. 25. 1. to deceit] or, deceitfully.

Vers. 5. He shall receive] or shall take up, or bear away a blessing. justice] or righteousness; whereof see Phil. 3. 9. Psal. 69. 28. Hereby also may be meant a benefit, the fruit or reward of righteousness. The Greek turneth it mercy, or alms: and by justice, mercies and benefits are sometimes meant, Judge. 5. 11. Psal. 112. 9. Dan. 4. 24.

Vers. 6. of Jacob] understand, this is the generation of Jacob, or, this is Jacob; these are true Israelites, whom God will acknowledge for his, John. 1. 47. Rom. 9. 6. Jacob when he wrestled with an Angel, saw God face to face, and called the place Peniel, that is, God's face or presence; there he wept and prayed, and bare away a blessing, Gen. 32. 24, 26, 29, 30. Hos. 12. 4. That history hath use here.

Vers. 7. Lift up ye gates &c.] This may first have reference to the gates and doors of the Temple, into which the Ark (the glory of Israel, 1 Sam. 4. 21.) should enter; on which Ark, between the Cherubims, God was said to dwell, 1 Sam. 4. 4. 1 King. 8. 1, &c. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, gates of the house of the Sanctuary; though in the 9. verse otherwise, saying, Lift up, O ye gates of the garden of Eden, your heads. Secondly, it may be referred to Christian men, which are the true temple of God, 1 Cor. 3. 17. at the door of whose hearts he knocketh to have entrance, Rev. 3. 20. doors of eternity] that is, strong durable, everlasting doors: which being referred to the doors of Solomon's Temple, note the perpetual abiding of God's Ark therein, as 1 King. 9. 3. Psal. 132. 13, 14. whereas before the Ark was removed from place to place, 1 Chron. 17. 5. Or being applied to Christians, it noteth the eternal durance of the Church. that enter may] or, and enter shall the King of glory, that is, the glorious King; So Christ is called the Lord of glory, 1 Cor. 2. 8. I am. 2. 1. and the opening of the doors before him, signifieth his entrance into, and administration of the Kingdom, as Isa. 45. 1.

Vers. 10. Jehovah of hosts] or, as the Hebrew is, Jehovah Tsebaoth, for so the word is used by the Apostles, untranslated in the Greek, Sabaoth, Rom. [unspec] 9. 29. Jam. 5. 4. It signifieth hosts or armies standing ready in martial order, and in battle ray, and comprehendeth all creatures in heaven and in earth, which are pressed to do the will of God, Gen. 2. 1. [unspec] 1. King. 22. 19. Exod. 12. 41.

PSAL. XXV.

David's desire and confidence in God. 4 He prayeth [unspec] for instruction; 7 and for remission of sins. 8 He celebrateth God's goodness and mercy to such as fear [unspec] him. 15 He prayeth for deliverance out of his afflictions, and for the redemption of Israel.

1. A Psalm of David. [unspec 8]

VNto thee, Jehovah, lift I up my soul.

2. My God, in thee do I trust, let [unspec 2] me not be abashed; let not my enemies show gladness over me.

3. Yea all that earnestly expect thee, shall [unspec 3] not be abashed; they shall be abashed, that unfaithfully transgress in vain.

4. Thy ways, Jehovah, make thou me to [unspec 7] know; learn me thy paths.

5. Make me to tread in thy truth, & learn [unspec 7] me, for thou art the God of my salvation; [unspec 1] thee do I earnestly expect all the day.

[unspec ַ] 6. Remember thy tender mercies, Jehovah, and thy kind mercies, for they are from eternity.

7. The sins of my youth, and my trespasses, [unspec ַ] remember thou not: according to thy mercy do thou remember me, for thy goodness sake, Jehovah.

8. Good and righteous Jehovah is, therefore [unspec ַ] will he teach sinners in the way.

9. He will make the meek to tread in [unspec ַ] judgment, and will learn the meek his way.

10. All the paths of Jehovah are mercy and truth, to them that keep his covenant, [unspec ַ] and his testimonies.

11. For thy Name sake, Jehovah, even [unspec ַ] mercifully pardon wilt thou my iniquity, for it is much.

12. Who is the man that feareth Jehovah? [unspec ַ] he will teach him in the way that he shall choose.

13. His soul shall lodge in good, and his [unspec ַ] seed shall inherit the land.

14. The secret of Jehovah is to them that [unspec ַ] fear him, and his covenant to make them for to know.

15. Mine eyes are continually unto Jehovah, [unspec ַ] for he will bring forth my feet out of the net.

16. Turn the face unto me, and be [unspec ַ] gracious to me, for I am solitary and poor afflicted.

17. The distresses of my heart are enlarged; [unspec ַ] bring thou me forth out of my vexations.

18. See mine affliction, and my molestation, [unspec ַ] and forgive all my sins.

19. See mine enemies, for they are multiplied, [unspec ַ] and with hatred of violent wrong have they hated me.

20. Keep thou my soul, and deliver me; [unspec ַ] let me not be ashamed, for I hope for safety in thee.

21. Let perfection and righteousness preserve [unspec ַ] me, for I earnestly expect thee.

22 Redeem Israel, O God, from all his distresses.

Annotations.

OF David] This Psalm is composed after the order of the Hebrew letters or Alphabet: which care denoteth the weight and excellency of the matter in it. The same is to be observed of some other Psalms, as the 34. and 37. and 111. and 112. and 119. and 145. Lift I up my soul] The Chaldee addeth, in prayer. This signifieth an earnest desire, with delight and expectation or hope to have what he would. For to lift up the soul, is to desire, Ier. 22. 27. and 44. 14. and a like phrase in Ezek. 24. 25. implieth both desire and delight; and in Deut. 24. 15. the poor man is said to lift up his soul unto his hire or wages, hoping by it to have his life sustained. In this place, every of these hath use, and so in Psal. 86. 4.

Vers. 2. In thee] the Chaldee expoundeth it, In thy Word: so in verse. 3. not be abashed] that is, not disappointed of my hope, nor vanquished by my foes. See Psal. 6. 11. show gladness] insult or triumph for joy, as having got the victory, 2 Chron. 20. 27.

Vers. 3. yea all] or, Yea any: for, whosoever believeth in God shall not be ashamed, Rom. 10. 10. earnestly expect] or patiently hope. they shall be] or prayer-wise, let them be. Unfaithfully transgress] that deal disloyally, contrary to duty, promise, and trust reposed in them. So elsewhere he prayeth, that no grace be shown to such, Psa. 59. 6. in vain] or without cause, and without fruit, Psal. 7. 5.

Vers. 4. Thy ways] that is, thy true faith and religion, as Act. 18. 25, 26. and thy guidance of me therein. So Moses prayed, Exod. 33. 13. learn me thy paths,] inure me with thy paths, or journeys. Learning implieth are and exercise, and informing by customable practice.

Vers. 5. Make me to tread] or to go; guide my way in thy truth, that is, in thy word, for that is the truth, John. 17. 17. 3 Joh. 3. So after, verse. 9.

Vers. 6. tender mercies] or bowels of compassion: See Psal. 18. 2. This word noteth the inward affections, as the next, kind mercies, imply the actions or effects of love. from eternity] or, from ever. This in human affairs sometime meaneth but of old, or a long while, Gen. 6. 4. Isaiah 42. 14. But here and else-where it noteth the eternity of God's love, which was firm unto his before the world was, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Eph. 1. 4. so shown throughout all generations, and is in like sort forever, or to eternity, Psal. 100. 5. because our firm happiness shall have no end, Dan. 12. 3. 1 Pet. 1. 4. And these both are conjoined, Psal. 103. 17.

Vers. 7. Sins of my youth] The imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth, Gen. 8. 21. and of all man's life, youth commonly is most vain, Eccles. 11. 9, 10. for which God often punisheth men in their age, so making them (as Job saith) to inherit the iniquities of their youth, Job 13. 26. Ier. 3. 25.

Vers. 8. will he teach] or inform with the law; for of this word the Law is derived, Psal. 19. 8. sinner in the way] that is, such as sin and miss the right way, God will teach and reduce them: thus the Greek interpreteth it. Or, those that are sinners he will teach and inform in the way that is right, or in his way, as verse. 9.

Vers. 9. to tread in judgment] to walk judiciously, and as is right and fit.

Vers. 10. his covenant] his testament all bond or league, called in Hebrew Brith, w<sup>ch</sup> hath the signification of brotherly or friendly parting, & of explaining the conditions of agreement. For at the making of solemn covenants, beasts were killed and parted asunder, and the covenant-makers went between the parts, Gen. 15. 9, 10. 17. Ier. 34. 18. Hereupon is the phrase of cutting (or striking) a covenant, Psal. 50. 5. and 83. 6. and 89. 4. The Apostles in Greek call it diatheke, a testament, a testamentall covenant or disposing of things, Heb. 8. 8. from Ier. 31. 31. And there be two principal covenants or testaments; the first, that which God made with our fathers, when he brought them out of Egypt; the sum whereof was contained in the ten commandments written by the finger of God, Deut. 4. 13. Exod. 24. 28. 1 King. 8. 21. & the other laws written by Moses in a book, called the book of the covenant, 2 King. 23. 2. Exod. 24. 4. 7. The second covenant is that new testament all bond, which God hath made with us in Christ, established upon better promises, and confirmed by the blood and death of Christ the testator, as the first was by the blood and death of beasts, Luke 22. 20. Heb. 8. 6. 8. and 9. 16, 17, 18, &c.

Vers. 11. even mercisully pardon] or, therefore thou wilt mercifully forgive. This David taketh from Moses, who first used this word in a case of great offense, Exod. 34. 9. and it betokeneth to spare or pardon upon pacification, of grace and mercy; and is interpreted by the Apostle in Greek, to be mercicifull, propitious or appeased, Heb. 8. 12. from Ier. 31. 34. Often used in the Law, for forgiveness upon oblation or intercession made by the Priest, Lev. 4. 20. 26. 31. 35. and 5. 10. 13. 16. 18. &c.

Vers. 12. Who is the man] or, What manner of man shall he be? The Hebrew phrase is, Who this the man: which also may be resolved, Whosoever is the man. he shall choose] that is, which he shall love and like; or, which he loveth. So chosen, Isa. 42. 1. is translated in Greke, beloved, Matt. 12. 18. Or, which he shall require and command; for so choosing sometime signifieth, 2 Sam. 19. 38. and 15. 15.

Vers. 13. lodge in good] that is, continue in good estate, case and prosperity. So lodging is for continuance, Job 17. 2. Prov. 19. 23. and for good, the Chaldee saith, the blessedness of the world to come: the Greek translateth, in good things. the land] meaning Canaan, the land promised for a possession to Abraham and his seed, Gen. 15. 7. and 12. 7. called therefore the land of promise, Heb. 11. 9. & elsewhere, the holy land, Zach. 2. 12. the Lord's land, Ps. 10. 16. the land of Immanuel, that is, of Christ, Isa. 8. 8. a land flowing with milk & honey, and the pleasantast of all lands, Ezek. 20. 6. the seat of God's ancient Church, and figure of his Kingdom.

Vers. 14. The secret] or The mystery of the Lord; meaning that his secret favor is towards them, and his secret counsel and mystery of the faith is revealed unto them: for so this word noteth, as when Job saith, God's secret was upon his tabernacle, meaning his favor and providence, Job 29. 4. and God's secret is his counsel, Job 15. 8. Ier. 23. 18. 22. and the hid thing of Christ are often called a mystery, Rom. 16. 25. 1 Cor. 2. 7. and 4. 1. 1 Tim. 3. 9. 16. Eph. 3. 3. 4. 9. Col. 1. 26, 27. So Prov. 3. 32.

Vers. 16. turn the face] or Have respect unto me. This was a blessing promised in the law, Levite. 26. 9. I will turn the face unto you, and make you increase. Contrary to this is the hiding of God's face, Psal. 69. 17, 18. solitary] alone or desolate; see Psal. 22. 21.

Vers. 17. are enlarged] or do enlarge themselves, do make wide roomth. He showeth his heart to be penned in with straights and distressing sorrows, which largely spread themselves overall. vexations] or anguishes, tribulations, which press and wring.

Vers. 18. See my affliction] This phrase is taken from Deut. 26. 7. he saw our affliction. And it here meaneth, a seeing and regarding with compassion, and so, a redress and help, Gen. 29. 22. Exod. 3, 7, 8. Psal. 31. 8. and 119. 153. and 106. 44. Sometime it meaneth otherwise, as in the next verse, See my enemies. forgive] or lift up, take away. This word which properly signifieth to take up or bear, is applied to forgiveness of sins, Rom. 4. 7. from Psal. 32. 1. and the phrase hath reference to Christ, who bare and took away the sins of the world, John. 1. 29. For when it is applied to a man himself, bearing his own sin, it meaneth guilt and punishment, Num 5. 31.

Vers. 19. of violent wrong] that is, most violent or wrongful hatred.

Vers. 22. his distresses] or their distresses, for Israel being put for the whole people, may have with it a word singular or plural, which the Hebrew text also often showeth; as, all Edom was, 2 Sam. 8. 14. or all Edom were, 1 Chron. 18. 13. The like is in 2 King. 23. 30. with 2 Chron. 36. 1. He took, or they took, speaking of the people.

PSAL. XXVI.

David committeth the trial of himself unto God, in confidence of his integrity and good conversation. 9 He prayeth for mercy, 11. and promiseth upright walking and thankfulness.

A Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

IVdge me, Jehovah, for I walk in my perfection, and do trust in Jehovah I shall not stagger. Prove me, Jehovah, and tempt me: try my reins and my heart. For thy mercy is before mine eyes, and I walk in thy truth. I do not sit with mortal men of false vanity, and with the hidden I enter not. I hate the Church of evil doers, and with the wicked I sit not. I will wash my hands with cleanness, and compass thine altar, Jehovah. To cause to hear with voice of confession, and to tell all thy marvelous works. Jehovah, I love the mansion of thy house, and the place of the habitation of thy glory. Gather not my soul with sinners, and my life with men of bloods. In whose hands is a mischievous purpose, & their right hand is full of bribes. And I do walk in my perfection, redeem thou me, and be gracious to me. My foot standeth in righteousness, in the Churches I will bless Jehovah.

Annotations.

IN my perfection] or, integrity, simplicity: and that is, when a man meaneth not, nor witteth of any evil, 2 Sam. 15. 11. Such a walker walketh confidently, and blessed shall be his children after him, Prov. 10. 9. and 20. 7. in Jehovah] Chaldee, in the word of the Lord.

Vers. 2. try my reins] examine as in the fire my inmost affections. Thus Job also offered himself to trial, Job. 31. 6.

Vers. 3. I walk] to wit, continually, (as the form of this word importeth,) or converse. The Greek saith, I have pleased: so to walk with God, is to please God, Heb. 11. 5.

Vers. 4. men of false vanity] that is, vain mortal men, or false persons, Job 11. 11. So Jeremiah saith, he sate not in the secret assembly of mockers, Ier. 15. 17. the hidden] that is, hypocrites, dissemblers, secret evil doers: as the Chaldee saith, with them that hide themselves to do evil. I enter not] or come not, that is, have no company, or conversation. So the word is also used, Ios 23. 7.

Vers. 5. church of evil doers] the malignant church; or congregation.

Vers. 6. my hands with cleanness] or palms in innocence. He hath respect to the washing which God appointed for such as came to his altar, Exod. 40 32. Hereupon we are willed to lift up pure hands when we pray unto God, 1 Tim. 2. 8. See also Isaiah. 1. 15, 16.

Vers. 7. To cause to hear] that is, to sound forth, or proclaim so as may be heard. So Psal. 66. 8. and 106. 2. And in 1 Chron. 15. 16. David appointed Levites with instruments, to cause to hear, or to resound, lifting up the voice with joy.

Vers. 8. mansion] or habitation. This name is given to the tabernacle which Moses made, and God dwelt in, 1 Sā 2. 29. 32. & afterward to Solomon's temple, 2 Chron. 36. 15. And heaven it self is also thus called, Deut. 26. 15. where there are many mansions, John. 14. 2. of the habitation] or the habitacle, the tabernacle. The tent which Moses made, was thus called, Exod. 26. 1. 6. and Solomon's house, 2 Chron. 29. 6. In Exod. 40. 34, 35. it is shown, how God's glory filled that tabernacle, when he first took possession of it; whereupon it is here called the habitacle of his glory (or honor:) and elsewhere, the habitacle of the Lord, Levite. 17. 4. and of his name, Psal. 74. 7.

Vers. 9 Gather not my soul] Gathering is used for taking away, as Ier. 16. 5. Esa. 4. 1. and so for death, Esa. 57. 1. 1 Sam. 15. 6. Ezek. 34. 29. and sometime is expressed, to whom they are gathered; as, to their fathers, to their people, to the grave, 2 King. 22. 20. Num. 20. 24. 26. and what is gathered, the soul, as here; or the ghost, the spirit, as Psal. 104. 29. So David here desireth that God would not take away his life among sinners, that is, with such as for their crimes deserve to die: as 1 King. 1. 21. Contrariwise, gathering is sometime used for gracious receiving or succouring, as Psal. 27. 10. men of bloods] blood-guilty persons. See Psal. 5. 7. The Chaldee expoundeth it, with men that shed innocent blood.

Vers. 10. a mischievous purpose] craftily devised evil. The Chaldee translateth it, counsel of sin; the Greek, iniquities. See Psal. 10. 2. Sometime this word is generally used for any abominable evil, Levite. 18. 17. and 19. 29. and 20. 14. full of bribes] and consequently, of injustice; for bribes cause justice to be perverted, Deut. 16. 19. Contrariwise, God's right hand is full of justice, Psal. 48. 11.

Vers. 12. in righteousness] or, in a right, even and plain place, as the word signifieth, Deut. 3. 10. Ier. 21. 13. the Apostle expresseth the word by righteousness, Heb. 1. 8. from Ps. 45. 7. it is opposed to crookedness, Esa. 40. 4. See also Ps. 27. 11. in the churches] or cōgregations, assemblies, church-meetings, called in Greek ecclesiās; and so in the new testament, 1 Cor. 14. 34. So also Psal. 68. 27. The Chaldee translateth, the congregation of just men.

PSAL. XXVII.

David sustaineth his faith by the power of God: 4 by his love to the service of God: 9 by prayer for God's assistance and instruction. 13 The fruits of faith and patience.

APsalme of David; Jehovah is my light and my salvation, for whom should I fear? Jehovah is the strength of my life, for whom should I dread? When evil doers made battle against me to eat my flesh, my distressers and my enemies to me; themselves stumbled and fell. If a pitched host shall pitch against me, my heart shall not fear: if war shall rise up against me, in this, I trust.

One thing I have asked of Jehovah, the same I will request, that I may sit in the house of Jehovah all the days of my life, to view the pleasantness of Jehovah, and to inquire in his Palace. For he will keep me privily in his pavilion, in the day of evil: he will keep me secret, in the secret place of his tent; on a rock he will exalt me. And now shall mine head be lifted up above my enemies round about me; and I will sacrifice in his tent, sacrifices of shouting: I will sing, and sing Psalm to Jehovah. Hear, Jehovah, my voice when I call, and be gracious to me, and answer me.

To thee, said my heart, seek ye my face; thy face, Jehovah, I do seek. Hide thou not thy face from me, turn not aside in anger thy servant: thou hast been my succor, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation. Though my father and my mother should forsake me, yet Jehovah would gather me. Teach me, Jehovah, thy way, and lead me in the path of righteousness, because of my enviers. Give me not to the soul of my distressers, for witnesses of falsehood do stand up against me, and he that breatheth violent wrong. Except I had believed to see the goodness of Jehovah in the land of the living. Earnestly expect thou for Jehovah, be confirmed, and let thine heart wax strong; and earnestly expect thou for Jehovah.

Annotations.

OF David] the Greek addeth, before he was anointed. my light] that is, my comfort, joy, &c. So God and Christ are often called the light or illumination of his people, Mic. 7. 8. Esas. 16. 19, 20. and 10. 17. Luk. 1. 79. and 2. 32. Rev. 21. 23. John. 1. 4. and 8. 12. The Chaldee expoundeth it, The word of the Lord is my light. the strength] or strong fort, fortification: see Psal. 28. 8.

Vers. 2. made battle] or came near against me, to wit, in fight. So this word is used for battle, Psal. 55. 19, 22. my enemies to me] a vehement manner of speech (as 2 Sam. 22. 2. my deliverer to me:] noting against whom in special their hatred was bent.

Vers. 3. if war] that is, warriors, or an-army, as the word is used, Josh. 8. 11. See also Psal. 76. 4.

Vers. 4. One thing] or One request, as is expressed, 1 King. 2. 20. 1 Sam. 2. 20. For such want of words to be supplied, see the notes on Psal. 10. 10. that I may sit] that is,  dwell, or abide. to view the pleasantness] to see the pleasantness or amenitie of Jehovah, and consequently to enjoy it. The Tabernacle had the figure and pattern of heavenly things in Christ, Hebr. 8. 5. which David in spirit here desireth to contemplate. The Hebrew phrase is, view in the pleasantness; and after in the 13. verse. see in the goodness; which signifieth to have the fruition, use, and enjoying of pleasure and goodness, Eccles. 2. 1. And as to seek in Jehovah, 2 Chron. 34. 26. is to seek Ichovah, 2 King. 22. 18. so to see in the good, is to see the good, and enjoy it. So in Psal. 106. 5. and 128. 5. and 50. 23. to inquire] or seek early, that is, diligently.

Vers. 5. will keep privily] or hide me, that is, keep me safe as in the most holy of his Sanctuary, into which none might enter, Levite. 16. 2. called therefore God's hidden place, Ezek. 7. 22. and his Saints are his hidden ones, Psal. 83. 4.

Vers. 6. sacrifices of shouting] or of triumph, of joyful sounding and alarm. This hath respect to the law, which appointed over the sacrifices, trumpets to be sounded, Numb. 10. 10. whose chiefest, most loud, joyful and triumphant sound was called Trughnah, Triumph, alarm or Iubilation; Numb. 10. 5, 6, 7. So to other instruments this triumphant noise is adjoined, Psal. 33. 3. and is applied sometime to man's voice or shouting, Ios. 6. 5. 1 Sam. 4. 5. Ezra 3. 11. See also Psal. 89. 16. and 47. 6. and 81. 2. and 100. 1.

Vers. 8. seek ye my face] an imperfect speech, which we may supply and explain thus, (thou saidest) seek ye my face; and this thy commandment my heart minded, and spake of to thee in my temptations; and I made it a ground of my action and request following. See a much like defect of a word, in 1 King. 20. 34. To seek the face, is of desire to see, hear, and know, 1 King. 10. 24. and to pray and ask counsel in doubts and distresses, &c. 2 Sam. 21. 1. Hos. 5. 15. So Psal. 105. 4.

Vers. 10. Though my father &c. should] see the like in Isaiah 49. 15. Or, For my father &c. have forsaken me, but Jehovah will gather me, that is, receive and take me to him. So the word gathering is also used, Judge. 19. 15. Ios. 20. 4. Mat. 23. 37. He meaneth that God would be a father unto him.

Vers. 12. to the soul] that is, to the will, lust, or desire. So Soul is for will, Psal. 41. 3. and 105. 22. Ezek. 16. 27. and for lust, Psal. 78. 18. the Chaldee expoundeth it the will. that breatheth] or puffeth out. See Psal. 10. 5.

Vers. 13. Except I had believed] an imperfect speech; where we may understand, I should have fainted, or They had overthrown me, if I had not believed: but the Greek saith, I believe to see the good things of the Lord. Land of the living] that is, where men live in this world, and in special, the land of Canaan, the seat of God's Church, Ezek. 26. 20. So Psal. 52. 7. and 116. 9. and 142. 6. Job 28. 13. For by death, men are said to be cut out of the land of the living, Isaiah 53. 8. and 38. 11. Jer. 11. 19. but the Chaldee expounds it, the land of life eternal: and that was figured by the land of Canaan.

Vers. 14. be confirmed] be comfortable, hold fast, (as the Greek hath) be manly, or, quit thee as a man; which word the Apostle useth, 1 Cor. 16. 13. These are the words of encouragement against remissness, fear, faintness of heart, or other infirmities, as Deut. 31. 6, 7. Ios. 10. 25. 1 Chron. 22. 13. Dan. 10. 19. let thy heart wax strong] so also the Greek turneth it: or we may read it, he will strengthen thy heart. So after in Psal. 31. 25.

PSAL. XXVIII.

David prayeth for deliverance from his enemies. 6 He blesseth God for hearing and helping him. 9 He prayeth for the Lord's people.

APsalme of David. Unto thee Jehovah do I call; my rock, cease not as deaf from me, lest thou be silent from me, and I be made like to them that go down the pit. Hear thou the voice of my supplications for grace, when I cry out unto thee, whē I lift up my hands unto the oracle of thine holiness. Draw me not with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity, that speak peace with their neighbors, and malice is in their heart. Give thou to them according to their work, and according to the evil of their practices; according to the deed of their hands give thou to them; tender their reward unto them. Because they will not discreetly attend unto the works of Jehovah, and to the deed of his hands, he will break them down, and will not build them up. Blessed be Jehovah, for he hath heard the voice of my supplications for grace. Jehovah is my strength and my shield, in him my heart trusted, and I was holpen, and my heart showeth gladsomenesse; and with my song will I confess him. Jehovah is a strength to them, and he is the strong sort of the salvations of his Anointed. Save thou thy people, and bless thy inheritance, and feed them and advance them even forever.

Annotations.

CEase not &c.] that is, cease not to speak unto and answer me, be not silent as turned away from me; so the like phrase meaneth, Job 13. 13. Ier. 38. 27. or, cease not to speak for me, as the phrase also importeth, 1 Sam. 7. 8. and so by the Rock fore-mentioned he may mean Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. who is our Advocate with the Father, 1 John. 2. 1. And to be silent (or still) is not in words only, but deeds, as in Judge. 18. 9. 1 King. 22. 3.

Vers. 2. oracle of thy holiness] thy holy oracle: The inmost, and most holy place of the Temple was thus named, 1 King. 6. 5, 16, 19, 20. called the Holy of Holies, 1 King. 8. 6. and that which one Prophet calleth the Oracle, 2 King. 6. 23. another calleth the house of the Holy of holies, 2 Chron. 3. 10. The Hebrew Debir hath the signification of Speaking; for from the most holy place God spake to his people, Num. 7. 89. The Apostle seemeth to express it by that which is within the veil, Hebr. 6. 19.

Vers. 3. Draw me not] to wit, unto death, that is, destroy me not. So drawing is used, Ezek. 32. 20. Job 21 33. and 24. 20. an example whereof see in Sisera, Jud. 4. 7.

Vers. 4. the evil of their practices] This hath reference to the curse denounced against sinners, Deut. 28. 20.

Vers. 5. not discreetly attend] or, consider, so as to discern and understand them. The like sin is blamed, Isa. 5. 12. break them down] or, destroy: opposed to building up or edifying; and applied figuratively to men: so Ier. 1. 10. and 42. 10. 2 Cor. 13. 10. build] that is, conserve, exalt, prosper them. See the like phrase, Job 22. 23. Mal. 3. 15. Ier. 12. 16.

Vers. 8. strength to them] or, to him, as Psal. 2. 3. meaning, his people, (as the Greek expresseth,) and his anointed King: both which follow. Or, Jehovah strength is his, that is, kingdom and power belong to him. the strong fort] or fortification. The former word strength is in Hebrew G•oz; and this strong fort, Maghnoz; by addition of a letter, adding to the force of the signification. And this is often used for a fortification or strong defended place, Dan. 11. 10. Judge. 6. 26. of the salvations of his anointed] or of the deliverances (the victories) of his anointed, that is, of me his anointed King. This sentence may also be turned thus: and the strong fort of salvations, his Anointed (Christ) is; meaning that the Christ of God is the saving strength of his people. The last word He is often put for Is, sometime in the Hebrew text it self, as is noted in Psal. 16. 3.

Vers. 9. inheritance] that is, people or Church, Deut. 4. 20. and 32 9. Psal. 33. 12. and 94. 5. 1 Pet. 5. 3. Sometime it is the land where they dwelt, Psal. 79. 1. advance them] or bear them up, relieve them. The word is used for advancing to honor, Est. 3. 1. and 9. 3. and for bearing up, supporting, helping, as 1 King. 9. 11. Esr. 1. 4. and 8. 36.

PSAL. XXIX.

David exhorteth Princes to give glory to God. 3 The marvelous effects of the Lord's Voice. 10 His providence at the Flood, 11 and protection of his people.

A Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

Give ye to Jehovah, sons of the mighties, give ye to Jehovah glory and strength. Give ye to Jehovah the glory of his Name: bow down yourselves to Jehovah, in the comely honor of the Sanctuary. The voice of Jehovah is upon the waters, the God of glory thundereth: Jehovah, upon many waters. The voice of Jehovah is with able power; the voice of Jehovah with comely honor. The voice of Jehovah breaketh the Cedars; and Jehovah breaketh asunder the Cedars of Lebanon. And he maketh them leap like a calf: Lebanon and Shirjon like a young Unicorn. The voice of Jehovah striketh flames of fire. The voice of Jehovah maketh the wilderness to tremble: Jehovah maketh the wilderness of Kadesh to tremble. The voice of Jehovah maketh the Hindes tremblingly to travel, and maketh bare the forests, and in his Palace everyone faith glory. Jehovah sate at the Flood, and Jehovah shall sit King forever. Jehovah will give strength to his people; Jehovah will bless his people with peace.

Annotations.

A Psalm of David] The Greek addeth to this [unspec] title, Exodiou skenes, that is, of the solemn assembly of the Tabernacle, (or Booth.) for the solemn assembly at the Feast of Tabernacles, mentioned in Levite. 23. 36, called in Hebrew Ghnat s'reth, is there and in other places translated in Greek Exodon: so this title intimateth that this Psalm was sung at the feast of Tabernacles. And so Maimonides in Misneh, tom. 3. in Tamidin, chap. 10. sect. 11. saith that every day of the days of that feast they said a peculiar song for the addition of the day; and in the first of the working days of the solemn feast, they said (Psalm. 29.) Give ye unto the LORD, sons of the mighties, &c. Sons of the mighties] that is, ye mighty men, or potentates. So Psal. 89. 7. The Chaldee referreth it to the company of Angels. strength] or strong praise. See Psal. 8. 3. and 1 Tim. 6. 16.

Vers. 2. honor of the Sanctuary] that is, the honorable Sanctuary, (as the Greek explaineth it, in his holy court) or, with honor of sanctuy, that is, with holy honor. So Psal. 96. 9. 1 Chron. 16. 29. This phrase is sometime used of God's holy Majesty, 2 Chron. 20. 21.

Vers. 3. The voice] that is, the thunder, as Exod. 20. 18. called God's voice, Exod. 9. 28, 29. Yet voices and thunderings are sometimes distinct, as Revel. 4. 5. and 8. 5. and 11. 19. and 16. 18. This word voice is generally used for all noise or sound, 2 King. 7. 6. 1 Cor. 14. 10. upon the waters] which are above the firmament, Gen. 7. where the thunder is heard. So waters mean watery clouds, in Psalm. 18. 12. Or above the waters, that is, a louder voice than the roaring of the waters; whereof see Ezek. 1. 24. and 43. 2. Rev. 1. 15. and 14. 2. and 19. 6. God's voice shaketh heavens and earth, Hebr. 12. 26. Jehovah upon] that is, thundereth upon, or, his voice is above many waters.

Vers. 5. Cedars of Lebanon] The Cedar is a tree tall, strong and durable; and for the dryness of it, the timber rotteth not. They are called Cedars of God, Psal. 80. 11. and by him planted, Psal. 104. 16. Lebanon is a mountain in Canaan, high, pleasant, and fruitful, full of Cedars and other trees, the glory of that mount, 2 Chron. 2. 8. Song 3. 9. and 5. 15. Isa. 60. 13. Hos. 14. 6, 7, 8. It is called Lebanon, of whiteness, for the snow that lieth on it, Ier. 18. 14. To this mount, and to the goodly trees thereon, great kingdoms and personages are compared, Ezek. 31. 3. and 17. 3. Ier. 22. 23. Judge. 9. 15. 2 King. 14. 9. And the just man's estate in special, Psal. 92. 14.

Vers. 6. Shirjon] this is mount Hermon, called of the Sidonians, Shirjon, and of the Amorites, Shenir, Deut. 3. 9. and by another name Zion, (not Tsijon, spoken of in Psal. 2. 6.) Deut. 4. 48. for this Shirjon or Hermon lay without the river Iarden, where Ogh reigned, Ios. 12. 1, 5. 1 Chron. 5. 23. Here also grew goodly trees, and many wild beasts kept in it, Ezek. 27. 5. Song 4. 8. Of Hermon see more in Psal. 89. 13. and 133. 3. and 42. 7. a young Unicorne] a fierce untamed beast; see Psal. 22. 22. The Hebrew phrase is, son of the Unicorns; the like is also, Psal. 114. 4. All young creatures, and things that come of, or belong to another, are in Hebrew called sons: so the sons of the cole, are sparks, Job 5. 7. the sons of the quiver, are arrows, Lam. 3. 13. the son of the morne, is the morning star, Isa. 14. 12. the sons of S <...>, are the Citizens there, Psal. 149. 2. the sons of the wedding chamber, are the Bridegroom's friends, Matth. 9. 15. and many the like.

Vers. 7. strikereth] or cutteth •••mes, as the flashes of lightning with the thunder.

Vers. 8. maketh tremble] or quake, or paineth the wilderness, that is, the wild beasts there, which being frightened by God's voice or thunder, do travel and bring forth their young with pain and trembling. Kadesh] called also Paran and Zin, a desert thorough which the Israelites passed from Egypt to Canaan, Numb. 13. 27. and 33. 36. and had the name of the city Kadesh by which it lay, Numb. 20. 1, 16. The beasts of this wilderness were cruel, Deut. 8. 15. and 32. 10.

Vers. 9. the hindes] though of all other creatures they bring forth with great trouble, bowing themselves, bruising their young, and casting out their sorrows, Job 39. 4, 6. maketh bare] by driving the beasts with the thunder into their dens; as the Chaldee addeth, the beasts of the forest; or, by beating off the leaves and fruits of the trees. So the fig-tree is said to be made bare, Joel 1. 7. everyone] so the Greek turneth it: or it may be read, every whit, or all of it, meaning of his people, verse. 11. which saith, glory to God, or all of it, that is, of his glory, he saith (that is, God declareth) in his Temple. The Chaldee saith, and in the Temple of the house of his Sanctuary which is above, all his ministers do say his glory.

Vers. 10. at the flood] meaning Noah's flood, Gen. 6. and 7. for to that only both the Hebrew and Greek word is applied. And here the Chaldee paraphraseth thus, The Lord at the generation of the s•oud, sate on the seat of judgment, to take vengeance on them: he sate also upon the seat of mercies, and delivered Noah, and reigneth over his sons forever and ever.

Vers. 11. with peace] or in peace; which word betokeneth integrity, perfection, a making whole and absolute; opposed both to war and sword, Psalm. 120. 7. Matth. 10. 34. and to division, confusion, and •umu•uous disorder, Luke 12. 51. 1 Cor. 14. 33. It denoteth all prosperity, safety, and welfare of soul and body, and specially that spoken of in Eph. 2. 14, 15. where Christ is our peace, which hath made of both one, and hath broken the stop of the partition wall, &c. to make of twain, one new man in himself, so making peace.

PSAL. XXX.

David praiseth God for his deliverance. 5 He exhorteth others to praise him by example of God's dealing with him.

APsalme, a song of the dedication of the house of David. I will exalt thee Jehovah, for thou hast drawn up me, and hast not made my enemies to rejoice at me. Jehovah my God, I cried out unto thee, and thou healedst me. Jehovah, thou hast brought up my soul from hell, thou hast kept me alive from them that go down the pit. Sing Psalm to Jehovah, ye his gracious Saints, and confess ye to the remembrance of his holiness. For a moment is in his anger, life in his favorable acceptation; in the evening lodgeth weeping, and at the morning shouting joy. And I, I said in my safe quietness, I shall not be moved forever. Jehovah, in thy favorable acceptation thou hast settled strength to my mountain: thou didst hide thy face, I was suddenly troubled. Unto thee Jehovah I called, and unto Jehovah supplicated for grace. What profit is in my blood, when I go down unto corruption? shall dust confess thee? shall it show forth thy truth? Hear thou Jehovah, and be gracious to me; Jehovah, be thou an helper to me. Thou hast turned my mourning to a dance to me: thou hast loosed my sackcloth, and hast girded me with joy. That my glory may sing Psalm to thee, and not be silenced: Jehovah my God, I will confess thee forever.

Annotations.

DEdication] or initiation, which is, when a new thing is first employed and put to that use for which it was made. It is applied to houses, as here, and Deut. 20. 5. to altars, as Num. 7. 84, 88. to walls, as Nehem. 12. 27. to images, as Dan 3. 2. and to men, and then it meaneth instruction, or training up, as Prov. 22. 6. Gen. 14. 14. It is recorded by the Hebrews, that when the Israelites brought their baskets of first-fruits into the Sanctuary, according to the Law in Dent. 26. and came thither in companies, as their manner was, they sang by the way the 122. Psalm, and when they came to the Sanctuary, with every man his basket on his shoulder, they sang the 150. Psalm; and when they were come into the court-yard, the Levites said this 30. Psalm, I will exalt thee, &c. Maimonides in Misn. tom. 3. in Biccurim (or Treat. of First-fruits) chap. 4. sect. 17. And the Chaldee expoundeth this title, For the dedication of the house of the Sanctuary an Hymn of David.

Vers. 2. hast drawn up me] as out of a pit of waters; for this word is used for drawing of waters, Exod. 2. 16, 17. waters signifying troubles. at me] or over me, for my ruin. Or, my enemies to me, that is, my utter enemies, as Psal. 27. 2.

Vers. 3. healedst me] that is, helpedst me out of trouble: So Psal 41. 5. and 60. 4. Hos. 7. 1. 2 Chron. 7. 14. my soul from hell] me, or my life from the peril and state of death. So Psal. 86. 13. Jonah meant the same, when he said, thou hast brought out my life from the pit, Ion. 2. 6. Of hell, See Psal. 16. 10. them that go down] that is, which die, that I should not be among them: The Hebrew also hath another reading, that I should not go down the pit. The meaning is the same.

Vers. 5. to the remembrance] or for it, that is, that his holiness may be had in remembrance, as Isa. 26. 17. So Psal. 97. 12.

Vers. 6. a moment] or little while. For God's anger towards his, and their affliction, is short and moment any, as Isa. 54. 7, 8. 2 Cor. 4. 17. life] or lives, meaning a blessing and the continuance of it, as Psal. 133. 3. and 21. 5. Life is here opposed to a moment. So years of life, mean many good years, Prov. 3. 2. and the Chaldee here for life, saith life eternal. lodgeth] that is, abideth: or he (meaning God) causeth weeping to lodge, as if it should be an abiding guest. So another Prophet saith, At even tide loe there is trouble, but afore the morning it is gone, Isa. 17. 14. The Chaldee here translateth the latter part thus, in the morning he raiseth up with song.

Vers. 7. in my safe quietness] or tranquility. God's children have so great infirmities, that in prosperity they are too secure, (as David showeth here, and Job, in chap. 29. 18, 19, 20.) and in adversity they are too fearful, as David elsewhere doth confess, Psal. 31. 23. and 116. 11.

Vers. 8. settled] or made stand, that is, reared up, constituted and stablished sure. So this phrase importeth, Psal. 107. 25. and 31. 9. to my mountain] that is, mount Zion, where David's house or court was: or, figuratively, he meaneth his kingdom, as Isa. 2. 2. Dan. 2. 35, 44. See Psal. 65. 7. thy face] thy favorable countenance; the Chaldee calleth it Shekhinah, the divine Majesty of God.

Vers. 10. what profit] what gain (or use) will there be in my blood; which here may mean his violent death, as in Psal. 72. 14. unto corruption] the grave, or place where the body rotteth. See Psal. 16. 10. shall dust] that is, my body when it is turned to dust. The Chaldeesaith, they that lie in the dust. See the like in Psal. 6. 6. and 88. 11. and 115. 17. Isa. 38. 18.

Vers. 12. to a dance] which is a sign of joy, Jer. 31. 4, 13. therefore the Greek turneth it here, joy. The contrary is in Lam. 5. 15. where their dance is turned into mourning. loosed my sack] or, done off my sackcloth; which was wont to be worn in time of sorrow, Esth. 4. 1. Ion. 3. 6. Psal. 35. 13.

Vers. 13. my glory] so the Greek putteth to the word my; by glory, meaning the tongue or soul: See Psal. 16. 9. But the Chaldee translateth, That the glorious ones of the world may praise thee. silenced] or made silent, which is, when men are cut off by death, as Psal. 31. 18.

PSAL. XXXI.

David showing his confidence in God, craveth his help; 8 rejoiceth in his mercies, 10 prayeth in his calamities, 20 professeth God's goodness to such as fear him: 22 blesseth him for the mercies that he had found, 24 and encourageth all the Saints.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

IN thee Jehovah do I hope for safety, let me not be abashed forever: in thy justice deliver me. Bow unto me thine ear, speedily rid me: be thou to me for a rock of firm strength, for a house of fortresses, to save me. For thou art my firm rock and my fortress, and for thy Names sake wilt guide me and lead me. Thou wilt bring me forth out of the net that they have hid for me, for thou art my firm strength. Into thy hand do I commit my spirit; thou hast redeemed me, Jehovah, God of truth. I have hated them that observe vanities of vain falsehood; and I, unto Jehovah do I trust. I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy, which hast seen my affliction, hast known my soul in distresses. And hast not shut me up in the hand of the enemy, hast made my feet stand in a large roomth. Be gracious to me, Jehovah, for distress is on me: gnawne is with indignation mine eye, my soul, and my belly.

For my life is quite spent with pensiveness, and my years with sighing: my able strength is decayed with my iniquity, and my bones are gnawne. With all my distressers I am a reproach, and to my neighbors vehemently, and a dread to my known acquaintance; seeing me in the street they fled from me. I am forgotten, as a dead man out of heart; I am as a vessel of perdition. For I hear the infamy of many; fearfulness from every side; when they plot together against me, they craftily purpose to take my soul. But I, unto thee do I trust, Jehovah, I said thou art my God. In thy hand are my times, rid thou me from the hand of my enemies, and from my persecutors. Make thy face to shine upon thy servant; save me through thy mercy. Jehovah, let me not be abashed, for I do call upon thee; let the wicked be abashed, let them be silenced to hell. Let the lips of falsehood be mute, that speak against the just an hard word in haughtiness and despite. How much is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee, hast wrought for them that hope for safety in thee before the sons of Adam! Thou keepest them secret, in the secret of thy face, from the rough prides of man; dost lay them up in a pavilion from the strife of tongues. Blessed be Jehovah, for he hath made marvelous his mercy to me in a city of strong defense. And I said in my hastening away, I am cut down from before thine eyes; yet certainly thou heardest the voice of my supplications for grace, when I cried out unto thee. Love ye Jehovah, all his gracious Saints: Jehovah keepeth the faithful, and repayeth abundantly him that doth haughtiness. Be ye confirmed, and let your heart wax strong, all that hopefully wait for Jehovah.

Annotations.

IN thee] the Chaldee saith, in thy word. [unspec 3]

Vers. 3. a house of fortresses] a place of defences, a most safe hold. David being often forced to take such forts for his safety, did not make them, but God his strength: See 1 Sam. 22. 4. and 23. 14, 19. and 24. 1, 23. 2 Sam. 5. 7. 9.

Vers. 6. commit my spirit] or commend, depose, of trust to be kept. Such words our Lord Christ uttered on the Cross to his Father, Luke 23. 46.

Vers. 7. I have hated] in Greek, Thou hast hated. Compare Psal. 139. 21. Vanities of vain falsehood] that is, most vain, false, and lying vanities. The word vanity (Hebel) here used, besides vain worldly things against which Solomon writeth, Eccles. 1, &c. meaneth in special idolatry, for Idols are often called vanities, as being light, vile, and things of naught, Deut. 32. 21. 1 King. 16. 26. 2 King. 17. 15. Ier. 2. 5. and 8. 19. and 10. 15. and 14. 22, &c. They that observe lying vanities, forsake their own mercy, Jonah 2. 8.

Vers. 8. hast known my soul] that is, acknowledged, cared for, and (as the Greek translath) saved it. See Psal. 1. 6.

Vers. 9. not shut me up] or closed me, that is, not given me into their power: So Psal. 78. 48, 50, 62. Deut. 23. 15. and 32. 30.

Vers. 10. gnawen] that is, fretted, and consumed as with worms: in Greek, troubled: see Psal. 6. 8.

Vers. 11. decayed,] or weakened, so as one stumbleth and falleth down through weakness, Psal. 27. 2. So Psal. 109. 24. and 105. 17. with my iniquity] that is, punishment due for iniquity; so the word often is used; Gen. 19. 15. 2 King. 7. 9. So, whoredom, for the punishment of whoredom, Numb. 14 33.

Vers. 12. known acquaintance] that is; such as I knew, respected, and favored, and to whom I made known my mind, estate, &c. my familiars.

Vers. 13. out of heart] that is, out of mind, ot memory; for the remembrance of the dead is forgotten, Eccles. 9. 5. therefore the grave is the land of forgetfulness, Psal. 88. 13. vessel of perdition] that is, a lost or broken vessel, or instrument. So Paul mentioneth vessels of perdition, Rom. 9. 22. Or, a vessel perishing, that is, ready to perish and be lost; as a perishing sheep, Psal. 119. 176.

Vers. 14. the infamy of many] or the diffamation (the ill report) of mighty men. The like complaint Jeremiah maketh in his troubles, Ier. 20. 10. fearfulness from every side] or terror round about. In Hebrew, Magor missabib, which name Jeremiah gave to Pashur the Priest, signifying that he should be a terror to himself, and to all his friends, Ier. 20. 3, 4. This phrase Jeremiah often useth, Ier. 6. 25. and 46. 5. and 49. 29. Lam. 2. 22. when they plot] or whiles they consult: See Psal. 2. 2.

Vers. 16. my times] Hereby he meaneth, that his many and sundry events, troubles, deliverances, prosperities, adversities, life and death, (for all things have their appointed time, Eccles. 3. 1, 2.) were in the hand and disposition of God. Though times here, (as days in Psal. 119. 84.) may chiefly be meant of his troubles, as Psal. 9. 10. and 10. 1. but the Chaldee expoundeth it, the times of my redemption. So in 1 Chron. 29. 30. mention is made of the times that went over David, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the lands.

Vers. 17. Make thy face to shine] that is, cause thy favorable countenance to appear. This is taken from the blessing prescribed, Numb. 6. 25. and is often used in requests for grace. See Psal. 4. 7. and 67. 2. and 80. 4, 8, 20. and 119. 135.

Vers. 18. silenced] that is, through shame and fear be confounded, tamed, quieted, and made still. The word is sometime used for cut off, or destroyed, and so may here be taken. So Psal. 49. 13, 21. The Greek translath, let them be brought down. to hell] understand, thrust down to hell, or, to the grave; as the Chaldee calleth it, the house (or place) of burial.

Vers. 19. an hard word] or durable speech; a reproach which lasteth long to a man's infamy. The Hebrew Ghnathak signifieth durance, hardness, and antiquity, Psal. 6. 8, and respecteth both antique things long ago, 1 Chron. 4. 22. and things lasting or durable for time to come, Prov. 8. 18. Isaiah 23. 18. And in speeches, it is put for an old said saw, takē up and applied to ones reproach, and so during long; and generally for any hard or stout speech, 1 Sam. 2. 3. Psal. 94. 4. and 75. 6. The Greek here expoundeth it, iniquity.

Vers. 21. Thou keepest them secret] or, hidest them in the hiding place of thy presence, where thou always lookest unto them, in secret favor, which the world knoweth not of. rough prides] or knots, knobs, rough troubles. The Hebrew Racas signifieth Knitting or binding with knots, Exod. 28. 28. and 39. 21. from which a word is derived, in Isa. 40. 4. signifying knotty, knobby, or rough places, opposed to smooth or plain. Here David useth it figuratively for rough affections or actions of men, meaning their pride, conspiracies, or molestations, as the Greek translateth, from the trouble of men. lay them up] or hide them. Hereupon God's people are called, his stored or hidden ones, Psal. 83. 4. the strife of tongues] plea, or contradiction, as the Greek turneth it, and the Apostle, Jude verse. 11.

Vers. 22. made marvelous his mercy] or marvelously severed it, as Psalm. 4. 4. shown his mercy in marvelous and hidden manner. As contrariwise God threatened to make marvelous the plagues of sinners, Deut. 28. 59. of strong defense] or of siege, that is, a fortified, defended city, as 2 Chron. 8. 5. or a besieged city, as 2 King. 24. 10. The Hebrew Matso signifieth both a fort or sconce, and a siege or leager, Deut. 20. 20. and 28. 53.

Vers. 23. my hastening away] namely through amazement or fear, as the word commonly intendeth, Deut. 20. 3. Psal. 48. 6. 2 Sam. 4. 4. The Greek calleth it an ecstasy (or trance.) And that David hastened him away for fear, is recorded 1 Sam. 23. 26. So Psal. 116. 11. cut down] Jonah in his affliction respected this speech of David, and changing a letter, for Nigrashti, saith, Nigrashti, I am driven away from before thy face, &c. Jonah 2. 4. So the Greek here translateth it, I am cast away.

Vers. 24. the faithful] or, keepeth fidelities, as Isa. 26. 2. The original word signifieth either faithful persons, or truths, fidelities, as Psal. 12. 2. The Greek here hath truths. payeth abundantly] or to abundance, with surplusage. that doth haughtiness] This sense the Greek giveth. The Hebrew may also thus be Englished, he (that is, God) doth haughtiness, that is, high magnificent acts. For the original word Gaavah sometime noteth God's high magnificence, Psalm. 68. 35. sometime man's haughty pride, Psal. 10. 2.

Vers. 25. wax strong] or, he will strengthen, See Psal. 27. 14. hopefully wait] or persevere with hope and patience. The word jachal implieth both a patient waiting, Gen. 8. 10. and a hope or trusting, as the holy Ghost expoundeth it, Mat. 12. 21. from Isa. 42. 4. for Jehovah] which the Chaldee expoundeth, the word of the Lord.

PSAL. XXXII.

David teacheth that blessedness consisteth in remission of sins. 3 Hiding of sins causeth trouble, but confession giveth ease to the conscience. 8 An instruction unto voluntary obedience. 10 The different ends of the wicked and of the just.

An instructing Psalm of David: [unspec 1]

O Blessed he whose trespass is forgiven, whose sin is covered. O blessed is the man, to whom Jehovah imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit is no deceit. Because I ceased speaking, my bones wore away with age in my roaring all the day. For day & night thy hand was heavy upō me; my moisture was turned into the droughts of summer Selah. My sin I acknowledged to thee, and my iniquity I covered not; I said, I will confess against me my trespasses to Jehovah: and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin Selah. For this shall every gracious Saint pray unto thee at the time of finding: surely, at the flood of many waters, unto him they shall not reach. Thou art a secret place to me, from distress thou wilt preserve me; with shouting songs of deliverance thou wilt compass me Selah. I will make thee prudent, and will teach thee in the way that thou shalt go: I will give counsel, mine eye shall be upon thee. Be not ye as the horse, as the mule, without understanding, whose mouth must be stopped with bit and bridle, which come not near unto thee. Many pains are for the wicked, but he that trusteth in Jehovah, mercy shall compass him. Rejoice ye in Jehovah, and be glad ye just, and shout joyfully all ye upright of heart.

Annotations.

AN instructing Psalm] or, A Psalm that maketh prudent, that causeth understanding. As in the 8. verse of this psalm he saith, I will make thee prudent, or instruct thee. This title is set before sundry other Psalms. whose sin is covered] meaning, by the Lord, Psal. 85. 3. not by a man himself, who must not cover, but acknowledge sin, Psal. 32. 5. otherwise, he shall not prosper, Prov. 28. 13. Now God covereth sin, when he imputeth it not, as the verse following showeth: and as this is man's happiness, so for God not to cover it, is woe and misery, Nehem. 4. 5.

Vers. 2. not impute] not think, count, or reckon. And this is an effect of his grace in Christ, as it is written, God was in Christ, and reconciled the world to himself, not imputing their sins unto them, 2 Cor. 5. 19. And hereunto the Apostle applieth this Psalm thus; David saith, blessedness is the man's unto whom God imputeth justness without works; saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord shall not impute sin, Rom. 4. 6, 7, 8.

Vers. 3. because I ceased speaking] or, when I [unspec] kept silence, forbearing to confess my sins, as after, verse. 5. Like doctrine Elih• teacheth, Job 33. 19,—22.

Vers. 4. thy haud] in Chaldee, thy plague. moisture] the chief sap, or radical moisture, which is an airy and oily substance, dispreed through the body, whereby the life is fostered, and which being spent, death ensueth. This word is used only here and in Num. 11. 8. where it is applied to the best moisture (or cream) of oil.

Vers. 5. confess] Confessing of sins is when one freely manifesteth them, accusing himself, and praising God's mercy, which he expecteth in faith: see Ios. 7. 19. against me my trespasses] or, concerning my trespasses; but both the Greek version plainly hath, against me, and elsewhere the Hebrew ghnalai (here used) seemeth to be put for ghnalai: as Psal. 108. 10. compared with Psal. 60. 10. the iniquity of my sin] that is, the guilt and punishment of it; as Psal. 31. 11. And thus he that confesseth and forsaketh sin, shall have mercy, Prov. 28. 13. for if we acknowledge our sins, God is faithful and just, to forgive us them, 1 John. 1. 9 See also Job 33. 27, 28.

Vers. 6. the time of finding] or, time to find: which may be meant of the time when afflictions shall find, that is, shall come upon him; as Psal. 116. 3, 4. or the time when God may be found, as Isa. 55. 6. and that time is, when he is sought with the whole heart, Deut. 4. 29. Ier. 29. 13. 2 Chron. 15. 15. To this latter the Chaldee applieth it, saying, of favor. flood] or inundation. As waters signify afflictions, Psal. 69. 2. so a flood of waters denoteth great troubles and persecutions, Dan. 9. 26. and 11. 22. Nahum 1. 8. Isa. 59. 19. Rev. 12. 15, 16. The Chaldee paraphraseth, in the time when many people's come as waters, they shall not come near him to do him evil.

Vers. 7. shouting songs of deliverance] or, of evasion, that is, thou wilt give me occasion by deliverance of me, to sing many songs of praise unto thee.

Vers. 8. mine eye shall be upon thee] or, mine eye I will set upon thee, that is, I will have care of, and look well unto thee, as Ier. 40. 4. Ezra. 5. 5. Deut. 11. 12. Psal. 34. 16. So the Chaldee explaineth it, I will counsel thee, and set mine eye upon thee for good. Or thus, I will give counsel unto thee with mine eye, that is, with my care and providence. Thus Christ counseled Peter with his eye, Luk. 22. 61. So the eye is said to mock, Prov. 30. 17.

Vers. 9. as the horse, &c.] that is, be not fools, and brutish, so as ye must be ruled by force and rigor, not by reason. For unto the horse belongs a whip, unto the asse a bridle, and a rod to the fools back, Prov. 26. 3. mouth must be stopped] or, jaw is to be tied. Hebr. to stop; for, to be stopped: active for passive; as after Ps. 36. 3. which come not near] that is, which will not obey or do thee service, unless they be forced and ruled by the bridle: according to the saying of the Apostle, Behold, we put bits into the horses mouths that they should obey us, I am. 3. 3.

Vers. 10. Many pains] or, Great smarts (or sores) are for the wicked: So Solomon saith, Affliction followeth sinners, &c. Prov. 13. 21. and 19. 29. and 24. 20.

PSAL. XXXIII.

God is to be praised for his goodness, 6 for his powerful works, 12 and for his providence. 20 Confidence is to be placed in God.

SHout joyfully ye just in Jehovah, praise becometh the righteous. Confess ye to Jehovah with harp, with Psaltery with ten stringed instrument, sing Psalm unto him. Sing ye to him a new Song, do well playing on the instrument, with triumphant noise. For righteous is the word of Jehovah, and all his work in faith. He loveth justice and judgment, the earth is full of the mercy of Jehovah. By the word of Jehovah the heavens were made, and all the host of them by the spirit of his mouth. He gathereth together as an heap, the waters of the Sea; he giveth the deeps into treasuries. Let all the earth be in fear of Iehovan, let all the Inhabitants of the world shrink with fear for him. For he said, and it was; he commanded, and it stood. Jehovah dissipateth the counsel of the Nations, he bringeth to naught the cogitations of the people's. The counsel of Jehovah shall stand forever, the cogitations of his heart to generation and generation. O blessed is the Nation whereof Jehovah is God, the people that he hath chosen for a possession to himself. From the heavens Jehovah doth behold, doth see all the sons of Adam. From the firm place of his dwelling he looketh forth unto all the inhabitants of the earth. He formeth altogether their heart, he discreetly attendeth unto all their works.

There is no King saved by multitude of a power; a mighty man shall not be delivered by multitude of able strength. A horse is falsehood for salvation, and shall not deliver by multitude of his power. Loe the eye of Jehovah is unto them that fear him, to them that hopefully wait for his mercy. To rid free their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine. Our soul earnestly waiteth for Jehovah, he is our help and our shield. For in him our heart shall rejoice, for in the name of his holiness do we trust. Let thy mercy Jehovah be upon us, even as we hopefully wait for thee.

Annotations.

BEcommeth] the word denoteth a fair and comely grace, for which a thing is to be liked and desired. So Psal. 93. 5. and 147. 1. The Apostle expresseth it in Greek, by fair or beautiful, Rom. 10. 15. from Esa. 52. 7.

Vers. 2. with harp] or, with sitherne; in Hebrew, Kinnor: a musical instrument invented by Iubal, Gen. 4. 21. used for mirth and joy, Psal. 137. 1, 2. Esa. 24. 8. Gen. 31. 27. and therefore is called the pleasant harp, Psal. 81. 3. opposed unto mourning, Job 30. 31. in skill on this instrument David excelled, 1 Sam. 16. 16. 23. and with this and other they used in Israel to celebrate the Lord with gladness, 1 Chron. 13. 8. and 15. 16. 28. and 25. 1. Nehem. 12. 27. So spiritually in the New Testament, Rev. 14. 2. with Psalterie] or Lute, or Uioll: In Hebrew Nebel; an instrument so called of the form, which (as seemeth) was with a round hollow bulk, much like a bottle: (fo•Nebel is also a bottle or pitcher, 1 Sam. 10. 3. Lam. 4. 2.) and of this the Greeks and Latins had their instruments named Nable, Naulon, Nablium. The Greek here calleth it Psalterion. ten stringed instrument] this differed from the Psalterie, Psal. 92. 4. therefore the word with is here supplied.

Vers. 3. a new song] A thing is said to be new which is always fresh, renewed upon new occasions, and so permanent; as Job saith, my glory was new with me. So Love is both an old and a new commandment, 1 John. 2. 7, 8. Or these new songs (mentioned here, and Psal. 40. 4. and 96. 1. and 98. 1. and 144. 9. Isaiah. 42. 10.) may have reference to the state of things under the Gospel where there is a new covenant, Heb. 8. 8. 13. new heavens and new earth, Rev. 21. 1. a new man, Ephes. 2. 15. and 4. 24. a new Jerusalem, Revel. 21. 2. and all things new, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Rev. 21. 5. See also Rev. 5. 9. and 14. 3. do well playing, &c.] that is, make good music, or melody. So 1 Sam. 16. 17. 18. Esa. 23. 16. And this melody we are now willed to make to the Lord in our hearts, Ephes. 5. 19. The Hebrew Nagan, (whereof cometh Neginoth, Psal. 4. 1.) properly is to play with the hand upon an instrument, 1 Sam. 19. 9.

Vers. 4. in faith] that is, faithful, true, and constant: for so this word is often used, as Exod. 17. 12. Moses hands were with faith, that is, steady, firm, constant.

Vers. 5. the earth is full] the like is said, Ps. 119. 64. For God doth good unto all, both just and unjust, Matth. 5. 45. and saveth man and beast, Psal. 36. 7.

V. 6. the host of them] that is, the many creatures in them; as Angels, Suune, Moon, Stars, &c. Ps. 148. 1, 2, 3, 5. Gen. 2. 1. So mention is made of the powers or hosts of heaven, Matt. 24. 29. Spirit] or breath; thus Jehovah his Word and his Spirit are noted to be the maker of the world, as in Gen. 1.

Vers. 7. giveth the deeps] that is, putteth or disposeth the deep waters into treasuries, or in cellars & secret store-houses, hidden from the eye of man, called elsewhere the secret room of the deep, Job 38. 16. So God is said to have treasuries or store-houses of wind, Psal. 135. 7. of snow and hail, Job 38. 22. of darkness, Isa. 45. 3. and the like. The Chaldee translateth, he putteth (the waters) into the treasuries of the deeps.

Vers. 9. it stood] that is, existed firm and stable, and so continued. So Psal. 119. 91.

Vers. 10. dissipateth] or maketh frustrate, undoeth, abrogateth; a word opposed to ratifying, confirming, stablishing, Isa. 8. 10. and 19. 3. bringeth to naught] annihilateth, and breaketh.

Vers. 11. shall stand] that is, continue and have effect, whatsoever men purpose to the contrary. See Isa. 14. 24. 27. and 46. 10. Prov. 19. 21.

Vers. 12. is God] to wit, by special covenant and favor, though all the earth be his, Gen. 17. 7. Exod. 19. 5. and this is by the new Covenant, Heb. 8. 10. So Psal. 144. 15.

Vers. 15. altogether] or alone. The Hebrew jachad sometime signifieth alone without others, Job 34. 29. Ezra 4. 3. (and so the Greek Interpreters took it here, translating it kata monas, alone, or, by himself;) sometime it signifieth wholly, or every whit, Job 10. 8. sometime together, or, in one, Ps. 2. 2. All these agree well here; for God only and wholly formeth every man's heart and spirit, Zach. 12. 1. whereupon he is called the Father of spirits, Hebr. 12. 9. and the God of the spirits of all flesh, Num. 16. 22.

Vers. 16. Of a power] that is, of an army; so called, because there are strong, valiant, and active men, Psal. 136. 15.

Vers. 17. A horse is falsehood] that is, a false and deceitful help cannot save a man, but faileth those that trust in him, Zach. 10. 5. Ps. 76. 6. The horse is here used for all warlike furniture; this being above other creatures, strong, fierce, and courageous, Job 39. 22,—28. and therefore is prepared for the day of battle, but salvation is of the Lord, Pro. 21. 31.

Vers. 18. The eye of Jehovah] that is, his care and providence for good, as the next verse showeth, and as Ps 32. 8. Zach. 12 4. 1 Pet. 3. 12. Sometime the Lord's eye is on men for evil, Amos 9. 4. 8.

Vers. 20. for Jehovah] in Chaldee, for the redemption of the Lord. [unspec 20]

Vers. 21. in him] Chaldee, in his word. [unspec 21]

PSAL. XXXIV.

David praiseth God for his deliverance, and exhorteth others thereto by his experience. 9 They are blessed that trust in God. 12 He exhorteth to the fear of God. 16 The privileges of the righteous, and miseries of the wicked.

1. A Psalm of David, when he had changed his behavior before Abimelech, and he had driven him away, and he was gone.
2. I Will bless Jehovah in all time, continually [unspec 8] his praise shall be in my mouth.
3. In Jehovah my soul shall glory, the [unspec 9] meek shall hear and shall rejoice.
4. Magnifie ye Jehovah with me, and let [unspec 10] us extol his name together.
5. I sought Jehovah, and he answered me, [unspec 11] and rid me free from all my fears.
6. They looked to him and flowed, and [unspec 12] [unspec 13] their faces be not ashamed.
[unspec 14] 7. This poor afflicted man called, and Jehovah heard, and saved him out of all his distresses.
8. The Angel of Jehovah pitcheth a [unspec 15] campe about them that fear him, and releaseth them.
9. Taste ye and see, that Jehovah is good: [unspec 16] O blessed is the man that hopeth for safety in him.
10. Fear Jehovah ye his Saints, for there [unspec 17] is no want to them that fear him.
11. The Lions are impoverished and an [unspec 18] hungered, but they that seek Jehovah shall not want any good.
12. Come sons, hearken to me, I will [unspec 19] learn you the fear of Jehovah.
13. Who is the man that willeth life, that [unspec 20] loveth days to see good?
14. Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy [unspec 21] lips from speaking guile.
15. Eschew evil, and do good; seek [unspec 22] peace and pursue it.
16. The eyes of Jehovah are unto the just, [unspec 23] and his ears unto their outcry.
17. The face of Jehovah is against them [unspec 24] that do evil, to cut off their memorial from the earth.
18. They cried, and Jehovah heard, and [unspec 25] rid them free out of all their distresses.
19. Jehovah is near to the broken of [unspec 26] heart, and the contrite of spirit he will save.
20. Many are the evils of the just, and out [unspec 27] of them all Jehovah will rid him free.
21. He keepeth all his bones, one of them [unspec 28] is not broken.
22. Evil shall slay the wicked, and they [unspec 29] that hate the just shall be condemned as guilty.

23. Jehovah redeemeth the soul of his servants, and they shall not be condemned as guilty, all that hope for safety in him.

Annotations.

HIs behavior] or his sense, reason, properly the taste, as in verse 9. Job 6. 6. and often other- where, which is used both for ones inward sense or reason, and outward gesture and demeanour, (as the Greek here translateth it, face,) because by it a man is discerned and judged to be wise or foolish, as meats are discerned by the taste. David when he was afraid of the King of Gath, changed his behavior before them, and sained himself mad in their hands, & scrabbled on the doors of the gate, and let his spittle fall down upon his beard, 1 Sam. 21. 12, 13. Abimelech] whose proper name was Achish King of Gath, a city of the Philistines, 1 Sam. 21. 10. and as every King of Egypt was called Pharaoh, Gen. 41. 1. Exod. 5. 1. 1 King. 11. 18. so every King of the Philistines was called Abimelech, that is, Father King, Gen. 20. 2. and 26. 1. had driven] or expelled. For Achish said to his servants which had taken and brought David to him, Loe ye see the man is beside himself, wherefore have ye brought him to me? have I need of mad men? &c. So David departed thence, 1 Sam. 21. 14, 15. and 22. 1. Upon that he made this Psalm.

Vers. <math>\langle \diamond \rangle \langle \diamond \rangle</math> ] or, in every seaso•. See Psal. <math>\langle \diamond \diamond \rangle</math> T <math>\langle \dots \rangle \langle \diamond \rangle</math> is also composed according to the order <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> the Hebr e•• Alphabet, as it observed on Psal. 25. 1.

Vers. 3 shall glgrie] or joyfully boast. For so the Apostie expoundeth this word, which properly signifieth to praise ones self, 1 Cor. 1. 31. from Ier. 9. 23, 24. So in Psal. 52. 3. and 97. 7. and 105. 3. and 106. 5.

Vers. 4. Magnifie] or, Make gr•at, to wit, by praising. So Deut. <math>\langle \diamond \diamond \rangle</math> 3. Give ye greatness unto our God.

Vers. 6. They looked] to wit, the meek, mentioned before, verse. 3. or generally, they that look and flow unto him. flowed] ran as a river; the like similitude is, Isa. 2. 2. and 60. 5. Ier. 31. 12. and 51. 44. be not ashamed] or, shall not be ashamed; which word in the original signifieth digging; as Psal. 35. 7. applied to shame, which causeth men to seek to hide themselves, as is lively described, Rev. 6. 15, 16.

Vers. 8. The Angel] that is, the Angels; for he speaketh of an host: And often in the Hebrew, one is put for a muititude; as the inhabitant, for, the inhabitants, 2 Sam. 5. 6. with 1 Chron. 11. 4. So, frog for <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math>, Psal. 78. 45. tree for troes, quail for quail, Psal. 105. 33. 40. See the note on Psal. 8. 9. pitcheth a campe] a similitude taken from wars; as Psal. 27. 3. So Jacob, when the Angels of God met him, said, This is God's campe (or host) Gen. 32. 1, 2. Likewise about Elishah, the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire, 2 Kings 6. 17. See also Psal. 91. 11, 12.

Vers. 9. Taste and see] that is, make trial and you shall find that God is good, sweet and delectable; and you will the more desire him. Thus the Apostle applieth these words, saying; as new borne babes desire ye the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby, if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is good, 1 Pet. 2. 2, 3. <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> in him] The Chaldee expoundeth it, in his word.

Vers. 10. Fear Jehovah] under this word Fear, is comprehended God's whole worship, as is shown on Psal. 19. 10. and the walking in his ways, as it is expounded in 2 Chr. 6. 31. compared with 1 King. 8. 40. and Psal. 128. 1.

Vers. 11. Lions] Lurking lions (whereof see Psal. 7. 3.) which are lustly, strong toothed, fierce, roaring, ravenous, as appeareth by Psal. 58. 7. and 104. 21. Mic. 5. 8. Ezek. 19. 3. 5, 6. 7. Job•9. 1, 2. And hereby may be meant the rich and mighty of the world, whom God often bringeth to misery; and so the Greek for Lions, putteth here the rich. Tyrants and strong men are sometime called Lions, Ier. 2. 15. 1 Chr. 11. 22. Nahum 2. 13. See Luke 1. 53. are impoverished] or suffer penury. See Job 4. 10, 11. Prov. 10. 3. that seek Jehovah] Chaldee, that seek the doctrine of the Lord.

Vers. 13. that willeth] that is, fain would have and delighteth. days to see good] that is, to enjoy good many days; which the Apostle (following the Seventie) expresseth thus, to see good days, 1 Pet. 3. 10. that is, days of prosperity, pleasure, comfort.

Vers. 14. Keep thy tongue] to wit, by restraining and making it cease from evil, as the Apostle teacheth, 1 Pet. 3. 10.

Vers. 16. their outcry:] or, their deprecation, their prayer for need, as the Greek (which the Apostle followeth) expresseth it.

Vers. 17. The face] that is, open anger, Lev. 17. 10. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, The face of the Lord is angry against evil doers: See Psal. 21. 10.

Vers. 18. They cried] that is, as the Greek faith, The just cried: and the Chaldee, the just prayed.

Vers. 19. the broken of heart] them that have their hearts broken and their spirits contrite (or humble) for their sins. See the like speeches, Psal. 51. 19. and 147. 3. Isa. 57. 15. and 61. 1. Ier. 23. 9. Luke 4. 18.

Vers. 20. the evils] that is, griefs and afflictions; as Deut. 31. 17. Psal. 27. 5. and 88. 4. Mat. 6. 34. the word also may import sins and vices, as Psal. 28. 3. and 94. 23. So after in verse 22.

Vers. 22. slay the wicked] or, do him die, kill him; because he shall not be delivered there-from, as the just man is, verse. 20. The Greek and Chaldee expound it, The death of sinners (of the wicked) is evil. condemned as guilty] and consequently perish. See Psal. 5. 11.

Vers. 23. all that hope] that is, any one of them. So all is used for any, Psal. 147. 20.

PSAL. XXXV.

David prayeth for his own safety, and his enemies confusion. 11 He complaineth of their wrongful dealing, and showeth his contrary carriage. 22 Therby he inciteth God against them.

A Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

PLead thou Jehovah with them that plead with me, war thou against them that war against me. Lay hold on the shield and buckler, and stand up for my help. And draw out the spear and sword to meet with my persecutors; say to my soul I am thy salvation. Let them be abashed and ashamed that seek my soul, let them be turned backward and confounded that think mine evil. Let them be as chaff before the wind, and the Angel of Jehovah driving them. Let their way be darkness and slippernesses, and the Angel of Jehovah pursuing them. For without cause they have hid for me the corruption of their net, without cause they have digged for my soul. Let tumultuous ruin come on him, he not aware; and let his net which he hath hidden catch him; with tumultuous ruin let him fall thereinto. And my soul shall be glad in Jehovah, shall joy in his salvation. All my bones shall say; Jehovah, who is like thee, that riddest free the poor afflicted from the stronger than himself, and the poor afflicted and needy from the spoiler of him? Witnesses of cruel wrong did rise up, things that I knew not they did ask of me. They repaid me evil for good, the bereaving of my soul. And I, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth; I afflicted my soul with fasting, and my prayer returned upon my bosom. I walked as if he had been a fellow-friend, as if he had been a brother to me: I bowed down sad as he that bewaileth his mother. But in my halting they rejoiced and were gathered together, the smiters were gathered together against me, and I knew it not: they rent and were not silent. With hypocrites, scoffers for a cake of bread, gnashing their teeth against me. Lord, how long wilt thou see? return my soul from their tumultuous ruins, my lonely soul from the Lions. I will confess thee in the great Church, I will praise thee among a mighty people. Let not them that are my enemies with falsity, rejoice at me, them that are my haters without cause wink with the eye. For they speak not peace, and against the quiet ones of the earth they imagine words of deceits. And they have enlarged their mouth against me; they have said, aha, aha, our eye hath seen. Jehovah thou hast seen, cease not as deaf: O Lord, be not far off from me. Stir up and awake to my judgment, my God and my Lord, to my plea. Judge me according to thy justice, Jehovah my God, and let them not rejoice at me. Let them not say in their heart, aha our soul: let them not say, we have swallowed him up. Let them be abashed and confounded together that rejoice at mine evil; let them be clothed with bashfulness and shame that magnify against me. Let them shout joyfully and rejoice that delight my justice; and let them say continually, magnified be Jehovah, that delighteth the peace of his servant. And my tongue shall meditate thy justice, all the day thy praise.

Annotations.

PLead] This properly is to contend or debate a matter with many words, as the next word, war or fight, is with deeds. But God's pleading o ⟨...⟩ imes is in action; as he pleaded David's cause against Nabal, when he slew him, 1 Sam. 25. 39. And as here David prayeth, so God elsewhere promiseth to plead with those that plead with his people, Isa. 49. 25. war] which in the original tongue hath the name of cutting, biting or devouring, for wars devour and consume many. So the sword is said to have a mouth, that is, an edge, Job 1. 15. Heb. 11. 34. and to eat, that is, to kill and consume, 2 Sam. 11. 25.

Vers. 3. drawout] or, as the Hebrew phrase is, empty, that is, unshad; the like is of the sword, Exod. 15. 9. Levite. 26. 33. sword] or close weapon, as the name signifieth. This interpretation seemeth best, because of the Hebrew pause, which joineth this word with the former, spear:

thus also these two weapons of offense are answerable to the former two of defense, the shield and buckler: and of this Hebrew name Segor, the Greek Sagaris (and perhaps the Latin Securis,) seemeth to be borrowed, for a sword or axe. And in Job 28. 15. this word is used for a close treasure, or stored gold; as here for a close weapon. Otherwise we may read according to the Greek, and other versions, close thou, or stop, to wit, the way or passage.

Vers. 4. that seek my soul] that is, my life to take it away: for so this phrase commonly meaneth, as Psal. 38. 13. and 54. 5. and 70. 3. Exod. 4. 19. Mat. 2. 20. and sometime is so explained, as Psal. 63. 10. 1 King. 19. 10. they seek my soul to take it away. Yet sometime this phrase intendeth seeking the soul for ones good, as Psal. 142. 5. turned backward] a token of fear, shame, and discomfiture, as Psal. 129. 5. and 40. 15. and 70. 3. and 9. 4. Isa. 42. 17. Ier. 46. 5.

Vers. 6. Darkness, &c.] that is, most dark and slippery: meaning, fearful, dangerous, troublesome, &c. Nahum 1. 8. Psal. 88. 7. and 107. 9. Prov. 4. 19. So elsewhere it is said, their way shall be unto them us slippernesses in the darkness; they shall be driven and fall therein, Ier. 23. 12.

Vers. 7. the corruption, &c.] that is, their corrupting pernicious net, or their insnaring corruption: or understanding the word in, we may read, they hid their not for me in a pit, (or, in a corrupting ditch;) as Psal. 7. 16. have digged] to wit, a pit to fallin; so Job 6. 27. Or, have diligently searched, and laid wait. So digging is used for seeking, Job 3. 21. and 39. 32.

Vers. 8. tumultuous ruin] calamity, wasting or desolation that is with noise and sonnd as of waters, Isa. 17. 12, 13. So Psal. 63. 10. Prov. 1. 27.

Vers. 10. my bones] that is, my strong and solid members (as the Chaldee translatheth it members,) delivered out of danger: meaning that with all his strength he would praise God: So the bones are said to rejoice, Psal. 51. 10. the loins to bless, Job 31. 20. the spoiler] or robber, that by open violence taketh away. Compare Job 5. 15.

Vers. 11. of cruellwrong] that is, cruel, violent, or (as the Greek saith,) unjust witnesses. So Exod. 23. 1. Deut. 19. 16.

Vers. 12. the bereaving of] that is, to deprive, bereave or rob me of my soul or life; or, to bereave my soul of comfort. The word properly signifieth the bereaving or loss of children.

Vers. 13. s•ck•loath] used to be worn in sign of sorrow, Psal. 69. 12. Gen. 37. 34. Mat. 11. 21. Rev. 11. 3. Here ⟨ϕ⟩ are to understand the word was, on gave, as is expressed, Psal. 69. 12. even as the word afflicted, here expressed, is there understood, Psal. 69. 11. with fasting] another sign and cause of sorrow: wherefore mourning & fasting are used for the same, Matt. 9. 15. with Mark. 2. 19. returned up on ⟨ϕ⟩ bosom] or, into my bosom. The meaning may be, I prayed •ften for them, secretly, and with hearty laving affection. For, the returning of the prayer seemeth to mean the often minding and repeating of it; the bosom signifieth secrecy, Prov. 21. 14. and 17. 23. Psal. 89. 51. and inward affection, Num. 11. 12. John. 1. 18. Or we may read it thus; Let my prayer return into thy bosom, that is, I wished no worse to them than to myself, let me receive of God such good as I prayed for them. See Psal. 79. 12.

Vers. 14. sad] or black, to wit, in black and mournful attire, and with sad and heavy countenance, as the Greek here translateth it, Scuthropazon, which word the new testament also useth, Matt. 6. 16. Luke. 24. 17. So after in Psal. 38. 7. and 42. 10. and 43. 2. bewaileth his mother] mourneth at her funeral. In this case the affections are most strong. Therefore the Priests were permitted to mourn for such, Levite. 21. 1, 2, 3.

Vers. 15. my halting] that is, my calamity and infirmity, whereby I seemed ready to fall. So in Psal. 38. 18. Ier. 20. 10. the smiters] that smote me with the tongue, as Ier. 18. 18. and as here followeth, they rent, &c. The Seventy in Greek turn it Scourges, alluding (as I think) to the scourge of the tongue, as Job 5. 21. and another Greek version hath plectai, smiters. It may also be read the smitten, that is, abjects, vile persons, Job 30. 8. (as the Chaldee expresseth it, the wicked;) or understand smitten on their feet, as 2 Sam. 4. 4. that is, lame, so feigning themselves: or smitten in spirit, as Isaiah. 66. 2. that is, grieved in outward show. they rent] to wit, me with reproaches, as Matt. 7. 6. or rent their garments, counterfeiting sorrow for me, Job 2. 12.

Vers. 16. hypocrites] or, close dissemblers, which outwardly cover and cloke their wickedness, wherewith inwardly they are defiled, Matt. 23. 27, 28. or which have their hearts covered, Job 36. 13. The Greek also (from whence our English word hypocrisy is borrowed,) signifieth an under judgment, that is, dissimulation. scoffers] or, of scoffs, that is, men that make scoffs; as in Psal. 36. 12. pride is for proud persons. for a cake of bread] that is, for good cheare, for their bellies: or, at their belly cheare, at banquets. So Solomon speaketh of some that will transgress for a piece of bread, Prov. 28. 21. The original word Mag•nog is a cake, 1 King. 17. 12. and as bread is used for all food, Psal. 136. 25. so a cake seemeth to be used for all juncates or dainty meats; as in Hos. 7. Ephraim is likened to a cake, and their enemies to banketters that greedily eat them up, verse 8, 9. so here David matcheth his adversaries with hypocritical and scoffing parasites, whose God was their belly, as Phil. 3. 19. Or we may figuratively take this word for a mock jest, or mer•meant, and so read it, with hypocritical jesting scoffers: and this the Greek favoereth, saying, they mocked me with mockage. gnashing] or, they gnashed: Hebr. to gnash; but a word thus indefinite, following another with person, is it self of the same, by propriety of the Hebrew tongue. So Psal. 49. 15. their teeth] the teeth of them and him, that is, of every of them. See Psal. 2. 3.

Vers. 17. return] or, reduce, restore stay my soul or life: so Job 33. 30. alonely] or solitary, desolate soul: See Psal. 23. 21,—23.

Vers. 18. a mighty people] or, a strong, to wit, in number, that is, a great multitude. The word Ghnatsum, as it is mighty in strength, Psal. 135. 10. Prov. 30. 26. so is it many in number, Psal. 40. 6. 13. and 105. 24. and 137. 17.

Vers. 19. enemies with falsitie] that is, for a false cause; or (as the Greek explaineth it) unjustly. wink] make secret signs by the winking of the eye, which argueth both privy and scoruefull gesture; therefore this always is a sign of evil, Prov. 10. 10. and 6. 13. not peace] that is, not peaceably or friendly, which yet some hypocrites do, Psal. 28. 3. or, not speak to come to any sound composition, or peaceable end which one may trust unto. But God speaketh peace to his people, Psal. 85. 9. words of deceits] deceitful words or things.

Vers. 21. hath seen] or, seeth, to wit, the evil of David, or, that which we desired. In speeches of evil cases, often the Hebrew useth silence. So after in Psal. 54. 9. and 59. 11. and 118. 7.

Vers. 23. to my judgment] that is, to judge and avenge me of mine enemies: so after, to my plea, is, to plead my cause, as verse. 1.

Vers. 25. aha our soul] that is, aba•• have our desire. Soul is sometime put for desire, Psal. 41. 3.

Vers. 26. clothed with bashfulness] meaning their confusion on every side, when nothing but their shame appeareth and so continueth. So Psal. 109. 29. and 132. 18. Job 8. 22. that magnify] to wit, their mouths, as is expressed, Hobad. 1. 12. Ezek. 35. 13. that is, speak great things and boastfully, as the Greek explaineth. So after in Psal. 38. 17. and 55. 13. delight my justice] whom my justice and innocence pleaseth or delighteth, and the defense thereof.

PSAL. XXXVI.

The grievous estate of the wicked. 6 The excellency of God's mercies to such as trust in him. 11 A prayer for the righteous, 13 and prophesy of the wicked's fall.

To the master of the music, a Psalme of David, the servant of Jehovah.

The trespass of the wicked assuredly saith in the inmost of my heart, no dread of God is before his eyes. For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, to find his iniquity which he ought to hate. The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit; he hath left off to be prudent, to do good. He thinketh iniquity upon his bed, he setteth himself on a way not good, he refuseth not evil. Jehovah, thy mercy is in the heavens, thy faithfulness unto the skies. Thy justice as the mountains of God, thy judgments a great depth: Jehovah thou savest man and beast. How precious is thy mercy, O God, and the sons of Adam hope for safety in the shadow of thy wings. They shall be plenteously moistened with the fatness of thy house, and the stream of thy pleasures thou wilt give them to drink. Because with thee is the well of life: in thy light we see light. Extend thy mercy to them that know thee, and thy justice to the right of heart. Let not the foot of pride come on me; and the hand of the wicked, let it not make me flee. There have they fallen, that work painful iniquity: they have been thrust down, and have not been able to rise.

Annotations.

The trespass of the wicked] or Trespass saith to the wicked, that is, persuadeth, imboldneth, hardeneth him. assuredly saith] or, it is an assured saying, a faithful affirmation. This word is peculiar to the oracles of God, which are sure and faithful, (as the Apostle sometime mentioneth faithful sayings, 1 Tim. 1. 15. and 3. 1. and 4. 9.) In the New Testament it is interpreted, said, Mat. 22. 44. from Psal. 110. 1. And David by the spirit here testifieth that the wicked man's trespass is such, as assuredly saith (or avoucheth) even in his heart and conscience, that he dreadeth not God. in the inmost of my heart] in the mids, or within my heart: meaning that he certainly knew it, and was much affected with it.

Vers. 3. to find] that is, *to perform, or accomplish; as to find the will, is to perform or do the same, Isa. 58. 13. So in Rom. 7. 18. Or, to find, that is, to obtain and get, as Gen. 6. 8. Mat. 11. 29. Rom. 4. 1. Or, to find, that is, to invent or devise new mischiefs; as the Apostle speaking of inventers (or finders out) of evil things, Rom. 1. 30. which he ought to hate] or, which is to be hated, is odious. So, to keep, Psal. 119. 4. that is, to be kept: to stop, Psal. 32. 9. for, to be stopped: to do, Esth. 6. 6. for, is to be done. So Psal. 49. 15. Ios. 2. 5. See also the verb active expounded passively, by the Apostles authority, Psal. 51. 6. But the Chaldee expoundeth it, *he hateth doctrine.

Vers. 5. he setteth himself] namely, to stand or walk continually in a way not good, as Isa. 65. 2. or, he standeth still, as Exod. 14. 13.

Vers. 6. in the heavens] elsewhere it is said, unto the heavens, Psal. 57. 11. so here in may be used for unto: sometime it is, above the heavens, as Psal. 108. 5.

Vers. 7. mountains of God] that is, high, mighty or excellent mountains. The Hebrew useth to note excellent things, by adding the name of God; as Cedars of God, Psal. 80. 11. Mount of God, Psal. 68. 16. river of God, Psal. 65. 10. wrestlings of God, Gen. 30. 5. harps of God, Rev. 15. 2. and sundry the like. So the Chaldee here saith, high as the strong mountains.

Vers. 8. How precious] that is, honorable and much to be esteemed; sometime the word signifieth bright and glorious, Job 31. 26. Zach. 14. 6. which also agreeth well here. and the sons] or, when, or therefore the sons. shadow of thy wings] that is, thy protection, so Psal. 63. 8. and 91. 4. called sometime, the secret of God's wings, Psal. 61. 5.

Vers. 10. Well of life] or, as the Chaldee translatheth, well of living waters, that is, an ever-springing fountain, from whom life & all graces spring and flow. So God is called the Well of living waters, Ier. 2. 13. and 17. 13. Song 4. 15. we see light] or enjoy light, that is, knowledge, comfort, joy, &c. See Job 29. 3. Isa. 9. 2. I am. 1 17. Psal. 27. 1.

Vers. 11. Extend thy mercy] or draw it, meaning, exercise and show it; as Psal. 109. 12. also prolong or continue it; as Psal. 85. 6. Eccles. 2. 3.

Vers. 12. foot of pride] or of haughtiness, that is, (as the Chaldee translatheth) of the proud man, as Ier. 50. 31, 32. the thing being put for the person in whom it is. As deceit, for a deceitful man, Prov. 12. 27. Poverty, for poor people, 2 King 24. 14. habitation, for inhabitants, 2 Sam. 9. 12. Circumcision, for circumcised, Rom. 2. 26. Helpings, governings, for, helpers, governors, 1 Cor. 12. 28. dreams, for dreamers, Ier. 27. 9. sin, for sinner, Prov. 13. 6. and many the like. See also Psal. 5. 5. and 12. 9. and 55. 21. and 109. 4. and 78. 31.

Vers. 13. There] to wit, in the very enterprise, while they labored to remove me.

PSAL. XXXVII.

David persuadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different estate of the godly and wicked.

1 A Psalm of David.

Fret not thyself for the evil doers; envy [unspec 𐤍] not for them that do injurious evil. 2 For they shall soon be cut down as grass, and shall fade as the greenness of the budding herb.

3 Trust thou in Jehovah, and do good; [unspec 𐤃] dwell in the land, and feed on faith. 4 And delight thyself in Jehovah, and he will give thee the petitions of thy heart.

5 Turn confidently thy way upon Jehovah, [unspec 𐤅] and trust upon him, and he will do. 6. And will bring forth thy justice as the light, and thy judgment as the noon brightness.

7. Be silent for Jehovah, and wait still patiently [unspec 𐤆] for him; fret not thyself for him that prospereth in his way, for the man that effecteth devices.

8. Surcease from anger and leave off [unspec 𐤇] wrath, fret not thyself also to do evil. 9. For evil doers shall be cut down, and they that earnestly wait on Jehovah, they shall inherit the land.

10. And yet a little while, and the wicked [unspec 𐤈] shall not be: and thou shalt consider his place and he shall not be. 11. And the meek shall inherit the land, and shall delight themselves in the multitude of peace.

12. The wicked deviseth against the just, [unspec 𐤉] and gnasheth his teeth against him. 13. The Lord laugheth at him, for he seeth that his day doth come.

14. The wicked have drawn the sword, [unspec 𐤊] and bent their bow, to fell down the poor afflicted and needy one, to slay them that be right of way. 15. Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16. Better is the little of a just man, than [unspec 𐤋] the plenteous mammon of many wicked men. 17. For the arms of wicked men shall be broken; but Jehovah upholdeth the just.

18. Jehovah knoweth the days of perfect [unspec 𐤌] men, and their inheritance shall be forever. 19. They shall not be abashed in time of evil and in the days of famine they shall have enough.

20. But the wicked shall perish, and the [unspec 𐤍] enemies of Jehovah, as the precious fat of rams; they are consumed, with the smoke they are consumed.

21. The wicked borroweth and repayeth [unspec 𐤎] not, and the just showeth grace and giveth. 22. For his blessed ones shall inherit the land, and his accursed ones shall be cut off.

23. By Jehovah the steps of the man are [unspec 𐤏] established, and his way he delighteth. 24. When he shall fall he shall not be cast off, for Jehovah upholdeth his hand.

25. I have been young, also I am waxed [unspec 𐤐] old, and I have not seen the just man forsaken; and his seed seeking bread. 26. All the day he showeth grace and lendeth, and his seed are in the blessing.

27. Eschew▪ evil and do good, and [unspec օ] dwell forever. 28. For Jehovah loveth judgment, and will not forsake his gracious Saints▪ they are kept forever, and the seed of the wicked is cut off.

29. Just men shall inherit the land, and [unspec ֎] shall dwell thereon to perpetual aye.

30. The mouth of the just will utter wisdom, [unspec ֍] and his tongue speak judgment. 31. The Law of his God is in his heart, it shall not stagger in his steps.

32. The wicked spieth for the just, and [unspec ֎] seeketh to work his death. 33. Jehovah will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him for wicked when he is judged.

34. Wait thou earnestly for Jehovah, and [unspec ֎] keep his way, and he will exalt thee for to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

35. I have seen the wicked daunting terrible, [unspec ֎] and spreading himself bare, as a green self-growing lawrell. 36. And he passed away, and loe he was not, and I sought him and he was not found.

37. Observe the perfect man▪ and see the [unspec ֎] righteous, for the after end of the man shall be peace. 38 And trespassers shall be destroyed together, the after end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39. And the salvation of just men is of Jehovah, [unspec ֎] their strength in time of distress. 40 And Jehovah will help them, and deliver them: he will deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they hope for safety in him.

Annotations.

THIS is the third Psalm penned Alphabetwise; there being two verses allowed to every letter, except four, in verse 7. 20. 29. 34. See Psal. 25. 1.

Vers. 1. Fret] or, Inslame not, burn not thyself with anger or grief. So after, verse 7. and 8. Pro. 24. 19. evil doers] to be like unto them, as the Chaldee addeth; which accordeth with verse 8. envy not] or, have not envious zeal or emulation. This word is general for all hot and fervent zeal, whether good or evil; emulation, jealousy, envy, and the like, Psal. 106. 16. and 69. 10.

Vers. 3. Dwell in the land] This may be taken either for a commandment, to dwell in the land of Canaan, which God had given them to possess, Num. 33. 53. though troubles and wants should arise therein, as did the Patriarchs by faith, Gen. 37. 1. and 26. 3. 12. Heb. 11. 9. Or, for a promise, dwell, that is, thou shalt dwell, that is, abide long, as after in v. 27. So, see, for thou shalt see, Psal. 128. 5, 6. Seek me and live, Amos. 5. 4. that is, ye shall live▪ feed on faith;] to wit, which shall gr•w out of the land, Psal. 85. 12. that is, of the fruits which the land truly and faithfully bringeth forth. Or, as a promise, thou shalt feed on faith, that is, on the faithful constant increase; and thus the Greek explaineth it, thou shalt be fed with the riches thereof, meaning, of the land. Or, feed on faith, that is, nourish thyself and live by it; for the just man liveth by his faith, Habak. 2. 4. and walketh by it, not by sight, 2 Cor. 5. 7. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Study (or exercise thyself) in the faith. Or, feed in faith, that is, thou shalt be fed faithfully and assuredly. Contrary hereunto, is to feed on the wind, Hos. 12. 1. and on ashes, Isa. 44. 20.

Vers. 4. delight thyself] or, thou shalt delight, or solace thee: so verse. 11. and Job 22. 26.

Vers. 5. Turn confidently] Commit of trust: in Hebrew, Roll; in Chaldee, Reveale before the Lord: see Psal. 22. 9. So Prov. 16. 3. Roll (or Commit) thy works unto Jehovah. will do] that which thou desirest; or will execute, to wit, thy judgment, as the next verse showeth, and as elsewhere is expressed, Mic. 7. 9.

Vers. 6. as the light] to wit, of the morning, or sun: (for so light sometime signifieth, Nehem. 8. 3. Job 31. 26.) that is, clearly, manifestly. So Hos. 6. 5. Compare also Job. 11. 17.

Vers. 7. be silent] or, be still, stay and tarry silently. See Psal. 4. 5. The Greek saith, be subject. wait still patiently] or, pain thyself, that is, set thyself with earnestness and patience to wait for.

Vers. 8. Surcease] or, Slake, Let go. A word contrary to holding fast, applied here to the shaking or abating of anger; so Judge. 8. 3. also to do] or, which is but to do; or, at least to do evil.

Vers. 9. inherit] or possess. So Isa. 57. 13. He that trusteth in me (saith the Lord) shall inherit the land, and possess my holy mountain.

Vers. 11. And the meek] or But the meek. From hence our Lord saith, Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the land, Mat. 5. 5.

Vers. 13. his day] that is, his dismal day, the time appointed for his affliction and destruction, 1 Sam. 26. 10. Ezek. 21. 25. 29. So the Chaldee explaineth it, the day of his calamity. Day is often used for the time of punishment; as, The posterity shall be astonied at his day, Job 18. 20. Woe unto them, for their day is come, Ier. 50. 27. So, the day of Madian, Isa. 9. 4. the day of Jezreel, Hos. 1. 11. the day of Jerusalem, Psal. 137. 7.

Vers. 14. drawn] Hebrew, opened, or loosed, meaning out of the shed. A like phrase is, the emptying of the sword, Psal. 35. 3.

Vers. 16. the little of a just man] or, a little (a small portion) to the just. See Prov. 15. 16. and 16. 8. plenteous mammon] The Hebrew hamon signifieth multitude, plenty or store, of riches, or any other thing. Here the Greek translateth it riches. From this Hebrew word, riches are called mammon▪ Luk. 16. 9. 11. 13. many wicked] or great (mighty) wicked.

Vers. 17. arms] that is, power, help, &c. See Psal. 10. 15.

Vers. 18. knoweth] that is; acknowledgeth and regardeth, as Psal. 1. 6. the days] that is, the [unspec] •vents, good or evil, estates, calamities that at any time befall them, as verse. 13. Psal. 116. 2. and 119. 84. See also Psal. 31. 16. shall be forever] meaning, that they and their seed after them should inherit the land, as Exod. 32. 13. Ios. 14. 9. 1 Chron. 28. 8. Prov. 13. 22. Isa. 60. 21. and then come to their immortal inheritance, 1 Pet. 1. 4.

Vers. 20. the precious fat] that which is precious in the rams, the best, and that was the fat, all which was the Lord's, and might not therefore be eaten by any man, but was burned upon the altar, and so consumed away in smoke, Levite. 3. 15, 16, 17. So, the precious fruit of the earth, I am. 5. 7. The Hebrew Carim, elsewhere used for fields or pastures, Psal. 65. 14. is here fat pastured rams or muttons: so Deut. 32. 14. Isa. 34. 6. Amos 6. 4. with the smoke] which vanisheth in the air; therefore the Greek saith, as the smoke: so Psal. 102. 4. The Chaldee paraphraseth, they shall be consumed in the smoke of Gehenna, (or of Hell.)

Vers. 21. repaieth not] shall not, or will not pay again. It may intend both his inability that he cannot, and his unconscionableness that he will not pay. Borrowing in the Law is noted for a curse; as lending, for a blessing, Deut. 28. 12. 44. for the borrower is servant to the lender, Prov. 22. 7. showeth grace] or, doth graciously, that is, is liberal and bountiful. So the Apostle calleth liberality, grace, 1 Cor. 16. 3. 2 Cor. 8. 4. 19.

Vers. 22. his blessed ones] or ••y that are blessed of him, that is, of God. The Chaldee addeth, they that are blessed by his Word: and after, they that are cursed by his oath.

Vers. 23. steps of the man] the gate, or ways of such a man as is before shoken of; or as after followeth, whose way God delighteth; called here Geber, a valiant man. A like phrase is in Esa. 60. 12. the nations, that is, those nations, such as are there before mentioned. stablished] or firmly directed and perfected. The word noteth the ordering, perfecting and fast stablishing of anything. and his way] or thus, to wit, whose way he delighteth (or affecteth.) So Gideon & his house, Judge. 8. 27. for, Gideon, to wit, (or that is to say) his house.

Vers. 24. shall fall] to wit, into sin, by occasion or infirmity, Gal. 6. 1. or into affliction and trouble, Mic. 7. 9. Thus the Chaldee• expoundeth it, if he fall into sickness, he shall not die. For, the just man falleth seven times, and riseth again, Prov. 24. 16. upholdeth his hand] and consequently; raiseth him up. A like phrase is of strengthening the hand, Isa 8. 11. 1 Sam. 23. 16.

Vers. 26. his seed] that is, his children or posterity are in the blessing, or, are appointed to the blessing, as the heirs thereof, Gen. 28. 4. 1 Pet. 3. 9. and have still abundance, though they give to others▪ For, the blessing of the Lord maketh rich, Prov. 10. 22. And, there is that scattereth, and is more increased, Prov. 11. 24.

Vers. 27.  dwell forever] that is, thou shalt dwell; as verse. 3. The like promise is in Ier. 7. 5▪—7.

V. 28. ⟨ϕ⟩ cut off] a like judgment is in Job 18. 19. He shall have neither son nor nephew among his people, nor any posterity in his dwellings. See also Psal. 21. 11. and 109. 13. and the contrary, Psal. 102. 29.

Vers. 30. will meditate] usually meditateth, that is, resoundeth, uttereth, as Psal. 35. 28.

Vers. 31. in his heart] so God commanded, Deut. 6. 6. and there hath he promised to write his law, Hebr. 8. 10. See also Psal. 40. 9. Isa. 51. 7. it shall not stagger] understand, his foot shall not stagger, or, falter, Job 12. 5. Or, any one of his steps (or feet) shall not stagger or slide.

Vers. 33. condemn him for wicked] make (or pronounce) him wicked, that is, condemn him. Opposed to justifying: so Psal. 94. 21. Job 9. 20.

Vers. 35. daunting terrible] sorely dismaying others with his terror: in Greek, lifted very high. See Psal. 10. 18. spreading bare] making bare, that is, thrusting forth and showing himself. green] that is, fresh and flourishing, as Dan. 4 1. It is not meant for color only, but for juice and vigor. So Psal. 52. 10. self-growing lawrell] a tree that groweth in his natural place, which commonly sprout and thrive better than such as are removed to another soil: therefore the Greek explaineth it, as the Cedars of Lebanon.

Vers. 37. the after end] or, the last, or the posterity. This word is sometimes used for the end, as Deut. 11. 12. and 32. 20. 29. Ier. 29. 11. sometime for posterity of children left behind, as Ps. 109. 13. Dan. 11. 4. And thus it may be understood here, specially in the verse following. The Greek translatheth, there is a remnant to the peaceable man.

Vers. 40. in him] Chaldee in his word. [unspec 40]

PSAL. XXXVIII.

David in sore afflictions, entreateth God not to be angry with him, 5 complaineth of his sins, and chastisements, 11 of his own weakness, 12 of his friends forsaking him, 13 and his enemies malice: 16 yet his faith is in God, whose help he desireth.

A Psalm of David, for to record. [unspec 1]

Jehovah, rebuke me not in thy fervent anger, neither chastise me in thy wrathful heat. For thy arrows are stuck in me, and thou lettest down thy hand upon me. No soundness is in my flesh because of thy angry threat, no peace is in my bones, because of my sin. For my iniquities are gone over my head: as a heavy burden, they are too heavy for me. My stripes do stink, are putrefied, because of my foolishness. I am crooked, I am bowed down very vehemently, all the day I walk sad. For my flankes are full of parching, and there is no soundness in my flesh. I am weakened and crushed very sore, I roar out for the groaning of my heart. Lord before thee is all my desire, and my sighing is not hid from thee. My heart panteth, my able strength forsaketh me, and the light of mine eyes even they are not with me. My lovers and my nearest friends stand from before my stroke, and my neighbors stand a far off. And they that seek my soul, set snares; and they that seek my evil, speak woeful evils, and all the day they meditate deceits. And I as a deaf man hear not, and as a mute man openeth not his mouth.

And I am as a man which heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs. Because for thee Jehovah I do hopefully wait, thou wilt answer, O Lord my God. For I said, lest they rejoice at me, and when my foot is moved do magnify against me. For I am ready to halting, and my pain is before me continually. For I do declare my iniquity, I am careful for my sin. And my enemies are alive mighty, and multiplied are they that hate me falsely. And they that repay evil for good, are my adversaries, for that I follow good. Forsake me not, Jehovah; my God, be not far off from me. Hasten to my help, Lord, my salvation.

Annotations.

For to record] or to cause remembrance for commemoration, to wit, of David's troubles, as Psal. 132. 1. and of God's mercies, deliverances, and prais's for the same, as Isa. 63. 7. The like title is of the 70 Psalm. David appointed before the Ark, singers of the Levites for to record, and to confess, and to praise Jehovah the God of Israel, 1 Chron. 16. 4. The Greek addeth to the title, A Psalm of David for remembrance concerning the Sabbath.

Vers. 2. neither] Hebr. and, where the word not is again to be repeated, as is noted, Psal. 9. 19. and as is expressed, Psal. 6. 2. where the like prayer is made.

Vers. 3. thy arrows] so Job saith, the arrows of the Almighty are in me, the venom whereof drinketh up my spirit, Job 6. 4. Arrows are sicknesses, or plagues of body or mind, Psal. 18. 15. and 91. 5. thy hand] in Chaldee, the stroke of thy hand.

Vers. 4. no soundness] or, there is nothing sound, or whole. So Isaiah. 1. 6. angry throat] or, detestation, indignation. See Psal. 7. 12.

Vers. 6. my stripes] or skarres: properly such sore marks, wounds or stripes, as wherein the blood and humors are gathered and do appear after beating; named in English, wails. foolishness] The Hebrew, sweleth, meaneth rash and unadvised folly, through want of prudence. Therefore though commonly in Greek it is turned imprudencie, yet sometime it is called unadvised rashness, Prov. 14. 17. and Aevil the Fool, is named rash or heady, Prov. 10. 14. And by foolishness is meant usually viciousness or sin, and is so expressed by the Greeks, Prov. 13. 16. and 15. 2. and 26. 11. and our Savior numbereth foolishness among other evils that defile a man, Mark 7. 22.

Vers. 7. sad] mournfully. See Psal. 35. 14.

Vers. 8. my flancks] or loins. parching] or, burning, roasting: so elsewhere he complaineth of the burning of his bones, Psal. 102. 4. and so the Chaldee Paraphrast here taketh this word, which may also be translated, vile matter: meaning a vile or loathsome disease, full of burning pain. The Greek turneth it, mockings.

Vers. 9. the gro•ing] or rumbling, roaring noise.

Vers. 11. panteth] throbbeth, beateth about, through trouble and distemperature. able strength] force and ability that is in the heart and bowels; as elsewhere he saith, my heart forsaketh me, Psal. 40. 13. are not with me] that is, I have no use of them; I cannot see, Psal. 40. 13. Through faintness oft times the eye-sight faileth, 1 Sam. 14. 28. 29. Psal. 13. 4.

Vers. 12. my plague] or, stroke, touch, hurt. The Hebrew useth touching, for striking, or hurting any manner of way, Psal. 105. 15.

Vers. 13. seek my soul] to kill me. See Psal. 35. 4. woeful evils] in Greek, vanities; in Chaldee, falsehood.

Vers. 15. no reprehensions] no arguments, or convictions.

Vers. 16. thou wilt answer] or, that thou make answer, that is, hear and deliver me, Psal. 3. 5.

Vers. 17. I said, lest] or, I say, (I think) it is to be feared, lest, &c. An imperfect speech through passion. my foot is moved] that is, slip. This is always in the evil part, when ones state is changed to worse, Deut. 32. 35. Psal. 66. 9. and 94. 18. and 121. 3. A like phrase is of moving of the hand, Lev. 25. 35. magnify] vaunt themselves: in Greek, speak great things: See Psal. 35. 26.

Vers. 18. to halting] to show my infirmity in my trials and afflictions; as Jacob halted after his wrestling with God, Gen. 32. 31. See Psal. 35. 15. In the Greek, I am ready for scourges, that is, to suffer correction and punishment for my sins: so the Chaldee saith, for calamity.

Vers. 19. am careful] or, will show care, taking thought as for fear of some evil or danger to come. So the original word importeth, Josh. 22. 24. 1 Sam. 9. 5. and 10. 2. Isa. 57. 11.

Vers. 20. are alive] or living, that is, lively, lusty, cheerful, hail, and sound. Or rich, as the word seemeth to mean in Eccles. 6. 8. are mighty] or strengthened, compacted, by power, riches, number, &c. See Psal. 35. 18. falsely] or in falsitie, that is, for a false untrue and unjust cause, Ps. 35. 19. So the Greek translateth it, unjustly.

Vers. 21. my adversaries] or, are adverse to me, opposite, to let and hinder me. The Hebrew Satan is hereupon applied to the Devil, who is an adversary to hinder all goodness, Zach. 3. 1. Mar. 1. 13. Rev. 12. 9. So after, Psal. 71. 13. and 109. 4. 6. 20. 29.

PSAL. XXXIX.

David's care of his words: 5 his consideration of the brevity and vanity of life; 8 his hope in God, 10 patience and prayer in affliction. 12 He confesseth man's weakness, and in respect of his short pilgrimage desireth refreshing.

To the master of the music to Ieduthun; a Psalm of David.

I Said I will take heed to my ways from sinning with my tongue: I will keep a bridle on my mouth, while the wicked is before me. I was dumb with stillness, I was silent from good, and my pain was troubled. Mine heart was hot within me, in my meditation the fire burned, I spake with my tongue. Jehovah, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days what it is: let me know how soon ceasing I am. Loe, thou hast given my days of hand bredths, and my worldly time is as nothing before thee; surely all vanity is every man, though settled Selah. Surely in an image walketh each man, surely in vanity do they make a stir, he heapeth up, and knoweth not who shall gather them. And now what expect I Lord? my hopeful expectation it is for thee. Deliver me from all my trespasses, put me not the reproach of the fool. I am dumb, I will not open my mouth, because thou hast done it. Turn away thy plague from me; by the striking of thine hand I am consumed. With reproofs for iniquity thou chastisest a man, and makest that which is to be desired of his, to melt away as a moth: surely vanity is every man Selah. Hear my prayer, Jehovah, and mine out-cry, give ear unto my tears; cease not as deaf, for a stranger I am with thee, a sojourner as all my fathers. Stay from me, and let me refresh myself before I go, and I be not.

Annotations.

TO Ieduthun] or, for him: and it may be meant not only for his person, but for his posterity, as Aaron is put for the Aaronites, 1 Chron. 12. 27. This Ieduthun and his sons were singers in Israel with the harp: he prophesied for the confessing and giving praise to Jehovah, 1 Chron. 25. 3. So Psal. 77. 1. The Chaldee addeth to the title thus: To praise for the keeping of the house of the Sanctuary, by the mouth of Ieduthun.

Vers. 2. take heed] or, beware, observe. The like speech is used, 1 King. 2. 4. from sinning] that is, as the Greek translatheth, that I sin not, or miss not. If any man sin not in word, he is a perfect man and able to bridle all the body, I am. 3. 2. a bridle] or moussell: the Greek turneth it a ward: by this the untamednesse of the tongue is noted, which must by force and watchfulness be restrained. See I am. 3. 3,—8.

Vers. 3. with stillness] or, silentnesse, tamed subjection; as the word often signifieth, Psal. 4. 5. Wherefore the Greek here turneth it, I was humbled. from good] in Greek, from good things, which the Chaldee explaineth, the words of the Law. my pain was troubled] my sore was exulcerate, renewed (as the Greek saith,) and increased.

Vers. 4. fire burned] with this speech of David we may compare that of Jeremiah; And I said I will not mention him, nor speak anymore in his name: but it was in my heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and could no longer, Ier. 20. 9.

Vers. 5. how soon ceasing] how temporary, frail, brittle and short-lived; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, when I shall cease out of the world; or, how defective I am: so the Greek saith, what I lack, to wit, of the end of my days; what is the term and period of my life.

Vers. 6. of hand bredths] that is, thou hast exactly measured them out, and they are but short. A hand breadth is a short measure, the breadth of four fingers. my worldly time] my life-time, my temporary age. The Greek translatheth it, my substance; the Chaldee, my body. The Hebrew Cheled, is the world; Psal. 17. 14. used here for man's life-time in this world. So Psal. 89. 48. Job 11. 17. surely] or, but only. all vanity] or, a mere vapor, all manner vanity, and nothing else. Whatsoever vanity is in the world, may all be seen in man. The Hebrew Hebel is a soon-vanishing vapor, as the breath of ones mouth. To this the Apostle hath reference, saying; What is your life? it is even a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and afterward vanisheth away, I am. 4. 14. every man] or, all mankind, Hebr. all Adam. Adam called his second son Hebel, that is, vanity, Gen. 4. 2. and here David saith, that all Adam (every man) is Hebel, vanity. Solomon in Ecclesiastes declareth this at large. See also Psal. 62. 10. though settled] or standing, steadfast, and in good estate: in Greek, living. The Chaldee saith, but all just ones live forever.

Vers. 7. walketh in an image] or, in a shadow, that is, obscurely, changeth daily, leadeth an imaginary life, rather than a life it self, and so soon passeth hence; He fleeth as a shadow, and abideth not, Job 14. 2. So Paul saith, the fashion (or hiew) of this world goeth away, 1 Cor. 7. 31. The Chaldee explaineth it otherwise, walketh in the image of the Lord. make a sturre] or a tumult, disquieting themselves and one another. he heapeth] that is, any one heapeth up, to wit, goods, and knows not who shall enjoy them. See Eccles. 2. 18, 19.

Vers. 9. put me not] or, expose, make me not to be the reproach of the fool, of Nabal; whereof see Psal. 14. 1.

Vers. 10. I am dumb] or tongue-tied. This is a profession of his patient sufferance of the things laid upon him by God. And so did David carry himself, 2 Sam. 16. 10. and Aaron, Levite. 10. 3.

Vers. 11. the striking] or buffeting: this noteth the greatness and oft reiteration of his trouble.

Vers. 12. melt] that is, consume away. as a moth] to wit, as a moth-worm consumeth, or perisheth, which is suddenly, as Job 4. 19. they are destroyed before the moth. Or, as the moth consumeth garments, so thou with thy rebukes consumest them, as Hos. 5. 12. Job 13. 28. Isa. 50. 9. and 51. 8. that which is to be desired of his] or his desirable; meaning his beauteous grace, best strength, dignity, and every whit of him, that is amiable, to be desired, or liked: which the Greek expoundeth to be his soul; the Chaldee, his body.

Vers. 13. unto my tears] which cry unto God, (as blood is said to cry, Gen. 4. 10.) or, which are joined with earnest prayers, as Heb. 5. 7. a stranger with thee] This is taken from the Law, Levite. 25. 23. The land is mine, ye are but strangers and sojourners with me. The like acknowledgement is also in 1 Chron. 29. 15. Hence saith the Apostle, They confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth, and, they that say such things, declare plainly that they seek a country, to wit, an heavenly, Hebr. 11. 13, 14, 16.

Vers. 14. Stay] or Leave off, to wit, thine anger, or affliction: or, Look away, shut the eye, as this word sometime signifieth, Isa. 6. 10. and let me refresh) or, that I may recover strength. This speech is taken from Job 10. 20, 21. Igoe] to wit, unto death: See Gen. 15. 2. and 25. 32. and 5. 24.

PSAL. XL.

David prophesieth of Christ's afflictions and deliverance; 7 the abolishing of leg all sacrifices, and the oblation of himself. 10 Whereupon the righteousness of God is preached unto the Church. 13 His many troubles, against which he prayeth. 15 The confusion of his enemies: and joy of these that love his salvation.

To the Master of the Music, David's Psalm.

Waiting, I waited for Jehovah, and he bended unto me, and heard my cry. And he brought me up out of the pit of sounding calamity, out of the mire of mud, and set up my feet upon a rock; he ordered steadily my steps.

And he hath given into my mouth a new song, a praise to our God: many shall see and fear, and shall trust in Jehovah. O blessed is the man that putteth Jehovah his secure trust, and respecteth not unto the proud, and them that turn aside unto a lie. Thou Jehovah, my God, hast made many thy marvelous works and thy thoughts towards us; none can count them in order unto thee: would I declare and speak of them, they are mightily increased, more than can be told. Sacrifice and oblation thou wouldest not; mine cares hast thou digged open: burnt-offering and sin-offering thou askedst not. Then said I, loe I come; in the roll of the book it is written of me. My God, I delight to do thy acceptable will, and thy law is within my bowels. I have preached the glad tidings of justice in the great Church; loe I close not up my lips, Jehovah thou knowest. Thy justice I have not covered within my heart, thy faith and thy salvation have I said: I have not concealed thy mercy and thy truth to the great Church. Thou Jehovah, close not up thy tender mercies from me: let thy bounteous mercy and thy truth continually preserve me.

For innumerable evils have assailed me round about: my iniquities have taken hold on me, and I am not able to see; they are mightily increased, moe than the hairs of my head, and my heart forsaketh me. Vouchsafe, Jehovah, to deliver me: Jehovah, make haste to my help. Let them be abashed and ashamed together, that seek my soul, to make an end of it: let them be turned backward, and blush, that delight mine evil. Let them be made desolate, for a reward of their shame, that say to me, aha aha. Let all that seek thee, be joyful and rejoice in thee; let them say continually, magnified be Jehovah; they that love thy salvation. And I, poor afflicted and needy, the Lord thinketh on me: thou art my help and my deliverer; my God, delay not.

Annotations.

DAvids Psalm] or, a Psalm of David; but David's name is here fet first, which elsewhere commonly is last: or, a Psalm concerning David that is, Christ, who is called David in the Prophets, Hos. 3. 5. Jer. 30. 9. Ezek. 34. 23. and 37 24. Of him this Psalm entreateth, as the Apostle teacheth, Hebr. 10. 5, 6, &c.

Vers. 2. Waiting] or, expecting; the doubling of this word noteth earnestness, constancy, patience. bended] to wit, his ear, as is expressed, Psal. 17. 6.

Vers. 3. pit of sounding calamity] or, dungeon of tumultuous desolation, which ecchoed and resounded with dreadful noises, denoting hereby the greatness of Christ's afflictions. mire of mud] that is, muddy (or dirty) mire, or clay, signifying fast cleaving afflictions. So Psal. 69. 3. set up] or stablished, set fast my feet on a rock, that is, on firm ground, opposed to the former mud.

Vers. 5. respecteth not] or turneth not the face; which implieth liking, or inclination of the mind and affections, Job 36. 21. the proud] or stout, that in confidence of their strength carry themselves insolently. turn aside to a lie] swerve (or revolt) to deceiveable falsehood; meaning Heretics and Idolaters.

Vers. 6. thy thoughts] thy good meanings, or purposes. none can count in order] or, they cannot be orderly counted, or propounded. The Chaldee paraphraseth, it is not possible for to order unto thee thy praise. Here the word is used for ordering of speech, as in Job 32. 14. Sometime it is used for matching, or comparing; so the Greek turneth it here, in thy thoughts there is not any that can be likened to thee. would I] or, if I would declare mightily increase] or, strong, to wit, in number many: so after in verse. 13. see Psal. 35. 18. above telling] that is, moe than I or any can tell; or, moe than can be told.

Vers. 7. thou wouldest not] or delightedst not; Christ was to cause the sacrifice and oblation to cease, D. 9. 27. because it was impossible that they should purge sins, Hebr. 10. 4. therefore speaketh he thus to God his Father, Heb. 10. 5. mine ears] or, ears to me: see Psal. 3. 1. digged open] or pierced, that is, thou hast made me obedient to thy voice, (contrary to which is the stopping of the ear, Psal. 58. 5.) so the Chaldee explaineth it, thou hast digged open mine ears, to hearken unto thy commandments: Or, mine ears thou hast bored, as thy servant forever, according to the law, Exod. 21. 6. The Greek Interpreters, to make the sense plainer, say, but a body hast thou fitted to me; meaning that his body was ordained and fitted to be a sacrifice for the sins of the world, when the other legal sacrifices were refused as unprofitable. And thus the Apostle allegeth the words, following the Greek, Hebr. 10. 5, 10. burnt-offering] sacrifice that goeth all up in fire: See Psal. 20. 4. sin-offering] or, expiation, oblation for sin, as the Apostle calleth it, Hebr. 10. The word Sin is often in the Law put for the sin-offering, Levite. 4. 24, &c. Exod. 29. 14 So the Apostle saith, Him that knew no sin, he made sin (that is, a sin-offering) for us, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

Vers. 8. Loe I come] or, am come, to wit, into the world, Hebr. 10. 5. and particularly, to Jerusalem to give myself a sacrifice for sin. See Mark. 10. 32, 33, 34. The Chaldee, not understanding this mystery, paraphraseth, Loe I enter into life eternal, when I have studied (or exercised myself) in the roll of the book of the law, which is written for me: alluding as it seemeth to Deut. 17. verse. 18, 19, 20. the roll] or volume of the book, that is, a book or scroll of paper or parchment rolled up. The like phrase is used, Ier. 36. 2, &c. Ezek. 2. 9. &c. The Hebrew Sepher, book, is used generally for any writings, evidences, bills, court-rolls, &c. Deut. 24. 1. 2 King. 5. 5, 6. Ier. 32. 11. and the books in Israel were written in long scrolles, and folden or wrapped up. Hence is that phrase, the heavens shall be folden up like a book, Isa. 34. 4. Rev. 6. 14. it is written] So Christ saith, The son of man goeth as it is written of him, Mat. 26. 24. and Moses wrote of me, John. 5. 46. See also Luk. 24. 44. 46. Act. 13. 29.

Vers. 9. thy acceptable will] by the which will we are sanctified, even by the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once, Heb. 10. 10. See also John. 6. 38. Luk. 22. 42.

Vers. 10. I have preached the glad tidings of] or, I have evangelized justice; of this word, the Evangelie or Gospel hath the name, the Greek signifying Good tidings, and the English also to like effect, made of the Saxon godspell, that is, a good speech. And the justice here meant is thus set forth by the Apostle; Now is the justice of God made manifest without the law, having witness of the law and of the Prophets; namely the justice of God, by the faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all that believe, &c. Rom. 3. 21, 22. the great church] or, assembly, congregation. So Psal. 22. 23. close not up] restrain not, as in a prison, that words should not be uttered, Ier. 32. 2, 3.

Vers. 11. I said] that is, mentioned, and spoke of, as 2 Sam. 6. 22. to the great church] the word to is referred to God's mercy and truth extended to the church. The Greek referreth it to concealed, and translateth, from the great church. And the Hebrew elsewhere usually speaketh, Psal. 69. 6. and 78. 4. and 139. 15.

Vers. 13. iniquities] this word as the former evils, is sometime used for sin, sometime for the punishment of sin. See Psal. 31. 11.

Vers. 14. Vouchsafe] or, Let it please thee. [unspec 15]

Vers. 15. to make an end of it] to consume or destroy it. Compare this conclusion with the 70. Psalm.

Vers. 16. made desolate] or, wondrously wasted, unto amazedness and astonishment. So after in Psal. 46. 9. and 69. 26. and 73. 19. and 79. 7. for a reward] or, an end of their shame, that they would bring upon me. End is used for reward, as Psal. 19. 12. or, For because of their shame. The Hebrew word sometime signifieth because, Isa. 5. 23. Genes. 22. 18. Deut. 7. 12. aha] the Chaldee openeth it with this paraphrase, we are glad at (his) destruction.

Vers. 18. thinketh on me] in Greek, hath care of me: in Chaldee, thinketh good for me. delay not] prolong not the time till the last, and consequently, fail not. The word is so to tarry or linger, as to disappoint one of his expectation, as Habak. 2. 3. Though it tarry, wait thou; for it shall surely come, and shall not delay, that is, not fail. And thus may we understand other like Scriptures, as Deut. 7. 10. God will not delay (that is, not fail) to reward him that hateth him, Deut. 23. 21. when thou vowest a vow to the Lord, thou shalt not delay (that is, not fail) to pay it. So Exod. 22. 29. and sundry the like.

PSAL. XLI.

David prophesieth of Christ's poverty and afflictions. 5 His prayer, and complaint of his enemies. 10 Judas his treachery. 11 Christ's resurrection and glory, for which he blesseth God.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

O Blessed is he that prudently attendeth unto the poor weakling: in the day of evil, Jehovah will deliver him. Jehovah will keep him and preserve him alive, he shall be made blessed in the earth; and give thou him not to the soul of his enemies. Jehovah will uphold him on the bed-stead of languishing sorrow; all his bed thou hast turned in his sickness. I did say, Jehovah be gracious to me; heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee. My enemies said evil of me; when shall he die, and his name perish? And if he come to see, he speaketh false vanity in his heart, he heapeth up painful iniquity to him self: he goeth forth, abroad he speaketh it. Together against me whisper do all that hate me; against me, they think evil to me. A mischievous thing is fastened in him, and he that lieth down, shall no more rise up. Also the man of my peace, he whom I trusted in, that eateth my bread, he hath greatly lifted up the heel against me.

And thou Jehovah be gracious to me, and raise me up, and I shall repay them. By this I know that thou delightest in me, because my enemy shall not shout triumphantly over me. And me, thou hast sustained me in mine integrity, and hast settled me before thy face forever. Blessed is Jehovah, the God of Israel, from eternity, and unto eternity: Amen, and Amen.

Annotations.

THat prudently attendeth] or, skillfully carrieth himself; it implieth both a skillful minding or judging, and a carriage according, in word and deed: therefore the Chaldee paraphraseth, attendeth to the affairs of the poor to have pity on him. the poor weakling] The Hebrew Dal hath the signification of drawing out, or emptying, and is applied to the weak, lean, sickly, whose flesh and health is spent, Gen. 41. 19. 2 Sam. 13. 4. and to the poor, whose wealth is wasted, Psal. 72. 13. and 113. 7. opposed to the rich, Exod. 30. 15. And as the poor are thus called weak, thin, or lean; so rich and great men, are called thick, or fat, Psal. 78. 31. The poor weakling treated of here, was David and his son Christ, as appeareth by the 10. verse, compared with John. 13. 18.

Vers. 3. preserve him alive] conserve his life and health, as Deut. 20. 16. or restore him to health from sickness, as Hezekiah is said to live, when he recovered his health, Isa. 38. 9. 21. give thou him not] he turneth his speech to the Lord: and so again in the next verse. to the soul] that is, to the lust or will, as Luke 23. 25. see Psal. 27. 12. The Greek saith, into the hands: the Chaldee, to the will.

Vers. 4. languishing sorrow] or, of sickness, feebleness. The Chaldee expoundeth it thus; The Word of the Lord will help him in his life, and will appear unto him on the bed of his sickness. thou hast turned] or, hast changed. It may be understood either of making his bed easy, that is, comfortable in his sickness, or of changing his estate from lying sick, to sitting up in health.

Vers. 5. heal my soul] that is, heal me, who now am sick: or, heal my soul, of sins, infirmities, &c. so God healed the people, when he pardoned their uncleanness, 2 Chron. 30. 20. and healeth the broken hearted, Psal. 147. 3. And that which the Prophet speaketh of healing of the people, the Evangelist expoundeth of forgiving them their sins, Isa. 6. 10. Mark. 4. 12. Mat. 13. 15.

Vers. 7. abroad] or, in the street. [unspec 9]

Vers. 9. A mischievous thing] or, Some devilish matter; Heb. a word of Belial. See word for thing, in Psal. 7. 1. and Belial, (which the Chaldee here translateth perverse and wicked,) in Psal. 18. 5. And both joined as here, in Psal. 101. 3. Deut. 15. 9. It may be understood of some odious sin and wicked vice, or, of some grievous punishment for the same. is fastened] or, is poured into him. The original word signifieth both, and may denote the greatness and fast cleaving of his sin, and likewise of his punishment: for plagues are said to be poured out, Rev. 16. 1. &c. (⊖) shall no more rise] or, shall not add to rise.

Vers. 10. the man of my peace] that is, my familiar friend, which was at peace with me, as Judas, Christ's own disciple. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the man that should have sought my peace. greatly lifted up] or, magnified the heel, or the foot-sole: that is, hath insolently and contumeliously abused me, seeking my overthrow. And this Christ applied to himself, John. 13. 18. He that eateth bread with me, hath lift up the heel against me.

Vers. 12. shout triumphantly] this word noteth any loud sound with voice or trumpet, as Josh. 6. 5. 20. Numb. 10. 7. sometime a sorrowful crying out, as Ierem. 20. 16. but commonly joyful shouting, as here, and after, Psal. 81. 2. and 47. 2. and 66. 1.

Vers. 13. And I,] or, As for me. [unspec 14]

Vers. 14. Amen] or, as the Greek translateth, So be it. But the Hebrew word Amen is used in the Greek, English, and all other languages, to betoken unity of faith and spirit: and it implieth both a wishing of the thing so to be, and a persuasion in faith, that so it shall be, when it is added in the end of blessings, prayers, or imprecations, Num. 5. 22. Deut. 27. 15, &c. Matth. 6. 13. 1 Cor. 14. 16. It is used also in the beginning of speeches, and then it is an earnest asserveration, as John. 6. 26. Amen, Amen, that is, Verily, Verily. For so else-where, when one Evangelist saith Amen, Mat. 24. 47. another, (speaking of the same thing) saith Verily, or, truly, Luk. 12. 44. Sometime it is the title of God himself, Isa. 65. 16. and of Christ, Revel. 3. 14. because of his faithfulness and truth in performing all promises. The Chaldee paraphraseth upon this verse thus, Blessed be the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, from this world, and unto the world to come: and let the just say,

Amen and Amen.

The second Book.

PSAL. XLII.

The Prophet showeth his desire to appear before God; 4 his tears for his absence; 6 he checketh himself for his weakness, 8 complaineth of his troubles, 12 and encourageth his soul to trust in God.

To the Master of the Music; an instructing Psalms to the sons of Korach.

AS the Hind desirously brayeth for the streams of waters; so my soul desirously brayeth unto thee O God. My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before the face of God! My tears have been to me bread day and night, while they say unto me all the day, where is thy God? These things I remember, and pour out upon me my soul, because I had passed with the throng, had resorted with them unto the house of God, with voice of shouting and confession, a multitude keeping festivitie. Why bowest thou down thyself, my soul, and makest thou a tumultuous stir within me? wait hopefully for God, for yet I shall confess him: the salvations of his face. My God, within me my soul boweth down it self, for that I remember thee from the land of Jordan and Hermonim, from the little mountain. Deepe unto deep calleth, at the voice of thy water-spouts; all thy billows and thy waves do pass over me. By day, Jehovah will command his mercy, and in the night his song with me; a prayer to the God of my life. I will say to God my Rock, why hast thou forgotten me; why go I sad for the oppression of the enemy? With a murdering weapon in my bones, my distressers do reproach me; when they say unto me all the day, where is thy God? Why bowest thou down thyself, my soul; and why makest thou a tumultuous stir within me? wait hopefully for God, for yet I shall confess him; the salvations of my face, and my God.

Annotations.

The second book] to wit, of Psalms. For though they be all compiled in one volume, (as were also the small Prophets) which thereupon is called The book of the Psalms, Act. 1. 20. (as, The book of the Prophets, Act. 7. 42.) yet in the Hebrew there are five books; the first reacheth to the end of the 41. Psalm fore-going, which is concluded with Amen and Amen. The second, to the 72. Psalm, concluded also with Amen Amen, and the end of David's Prayers. The third reacheth to the 89. Psalm, concluded likewise with Amen and Amen. The fourth unto the 106.

Psalms, whose conclusion is Amen, Hallelujah. The fifth, unto the 150 Psalm, ended with Hallelujah.

Vers. 1. Korach] this was the Levite that rose up and rebelled against Moses and Aaron, for which God destroyed him and his family, and all that took part with him, Numb. 16. Howbeit, there were of his sons that died not, Numb. 26. 11. departing (as it seemeth) from their fathers tents, as all were counseled, Numb. 16. 24, 26. Of his race came Samuel the Prophet, and Heman his nephew was a singer, 1 Chron. 6. 33. To those sons of Korah, this and sundry other Psalms are commended; which for the most part are songs of comfort, against afflictions and sorrows. The Chaldee expoundeth the title thus, To laud with good understanding by the hands of the sons of Korah.

Vers. 2. As the Hind] or the Hart, a beast thirsty by nature, and whose thirst is increased when she is hunted. The Hind, the female is here meant, as the word annexed, she brayeth, and the Greek article heel 〈...〉 manifest. And in females the passions are stronger than in males. desirously brayeth] in Greek, desireth. This word is used but here, and in Joel 1. 20. O Lord, the beasts of the field bray also unto thee.

Vers. 3. thirsteth] that is, earnestly desireth: So Psal. 63. 2. Of thirst for God's grace and spirit, see Isa. 55. 1. John. 7. 37. Rev. 22. 17. the living God] so called here, because he is the well of living (that is, of continual springing) waters, Ier. 17. 13. abundantly refreshing those that come to him. Or, living, is opposed to the dead, that is, false God's, Psal. 106. 28. 1 Thess. 1. 9. ye turned from idols to serve the living and true God. Or living, that is, lively, powerful, effectual; as Psalm. 38. 20. Hebr. 10. 31. the Chaldee saith, living and permanent. before the face of God] that is, before his Ark or Tabernacle wherein he dwelt among men. So, that which in 1 Chron. 13. 10. is before God; in 2 Sam. 6. 7. is, with the Ark of God. And there all men were bound to appear (or be seen) before God three times a year, Exod. 23. 17. and 34. 23, 24. And here the word before or unto, is to be understood, as often in the Hebrew, which sometime is supplied; as may be seen by comparing 2 Sam. 10. 2. with 1 Chron. 19. 2. and 1 King. 22. 29. with 2 Chron. 18. 28. The Chaldee expoundeth it, when shall I go in to see the brightness of the Majesty (or Divine presence) of the LORD.

Vers. 4. to me bread] that is, my bread, my food. So, bread of tears, Psal. 80. 6. they say] my foes, as verse. 11. or while it is said. all the day] or, every day, as the Greek turneth it.

Vers. 5. These things] namely my absence from God's face, verse. 3. and my adversaries reproach, verse. 4. The Chaldee addeth, These signs I remember. pour out upon me] or shed within me, or by myself. This noteth exceeding sorrow, or fainting, like that in Job 30. 16. And now my soul poureth out it self upon me, and the days of affliction have took bold on me. So 1 Sam. 1. 15. Lam. 2. 12. throng] a multitude preasing to go before God: the Chaldee expoundeth it a shadow, saying, When shall I go under the shadow, shall I together be strengthened in the tents of the just, in the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, &c. keeping festivitie] or, with a multitude dancing, or keeping a feast. For at their solemn assemblies they kept feasts, Exod. 23. 14. with dancing, eating, drinking and joy, Exod. 32. 5, 6, 19. Judge. 21. 19, 21. Deu. 16. 14, 15.

Vers. 6. Why lowest thou down] to wit, with sorrow; and therefore the Greek turneth it, why art thou sorrowful? For Sorrow or Care in a man's heart boweth it down, but a good word rejoiceth it, Prov. 12. 25. the salvations] understand, and, or for the salvations, that is, the full salvation, or perfect deliverance: So the Chaldee saith, for the redemption which is from his face. of his face] that is, which his face, favor, and gracious presence giveth unto me. The Greek readeth thus; the salvation of my face and my God; transplacing the Hebrew letters, as in the last verse. Compare Psal. 59. 10, 18.

Vers. 7. for that I remember] and cannot come before thee; as, verse. 3. or, therefore I will mind thee, seeing I have no way else to comfort me in my absence from thee. The Chaldee referreth it to others, therefore they remember thee which dwell on the other side of Jordan. the land of Jordan] which lay eastward from Jerusalem where God's Sanctuary was, and Hermonim] that is, the inhabitants, (or the mountains) of Hermon, which was a high mount in the North parts of the land, called also mount Shirjon: See Psal. 29. 6. the little mount] so is the Greek: others make it a proper name, Mount Mitsar. He may mean the southern mountains, that were small in respect of Hermon. Mount being put for mounts, as chariot, for chariots, Psal. 20. 8. But the Chaldee much differeth, saying, and the people which received the law at mount Sinai (wich is) low and little. But that seemeth not to be meant here.

Vers. 8. Deepe unto deep calleth] that is, one Affliction (or temptation) followeth and occasioneth another, without intermission of trouble. A deep abisme, or Gulf, is a place of many waters, signifying great afflictions, Ezek. 26. 19. Ion. 2. 5. The Chaldee translateth, the higher deep calleth the lower deep. billows] such are most dangerous to drown: they have their name of breaking as the next word waves, of wallowing or tumbling; both signify afflictions. So Psal. 88. 8. Ion. 2. 3.

Vers. 9. command his mercy] that is, appoint, or send it with speed, power, and authority: a phrase taken from the Law, and often used for more vehemency: or because God by his Angels procureth good to his people, Deut. 28. 8. Levite. 25. 21. 2 Sam. 17. 14. So after, in Psal. 44. 5. and 133. 3. and 71. 3. and 68. 29. and 7. 7. and 91. 11. his song] that is, cause and matter for me to sing him praise. So God is said to give songs in the night, Job 35. 10. See also Isa. 30. 29. a prayer] to wit, I shall make a prayer. And some Psalms are entitled prayers, as Psal. 17. 1. and 90. 1. and 102. 1. and 142. 1. Habak. 3. 1.

Vers. 10. sad] mournful. See Psal. 35. 14. [unspec 11]

Vers. 11. with a murdering weapon] Retsach, murder, seemeth here to be a sword or weapon of murdering; (as pride is a proud person, Psalm. 36. 12.) meaning that his adversaries words did sorely affect and grieve him, as if a dagger had been thrust into his bones. For, reproachful words are piercing like swords, Psal. 57. 5. and 59. 8.

Vers. 12. salvations of my face] that is, he which [unspec] giveth me full manifest and apparent salvation, or present deliverance. See before, verse. 6. according to which the Chaldee translateth it here, for the redemption which is from his face.

PSAL. XLIII.

He prayeth to be delivered from the wicked, and restored to God's Sanctuary. 5 He encourageth his  $\langle\phi\rangle$  trust in God.

IVdge me O God, and plead my plea, from the nation unmerciful, from the man of deceit, and injurious evil, do thou deliver me. For thou art the God of my strength, why thrustest thou me away: why go I still sad, for the oppression of the enemy? Send thy light and thy truth, let them lead me, let  $\langle\phi\rangle$  bring me unto the mountain of thy holiness, and unto thy dwelling places. And I will come unto the Altar of God; unto God, the joy of my gladness; and confess thee with harp. O God my God. Why bowest thou down thyself, my soul, and why makest thou a tumultuous stir within me? wait hopefully for God, for yet I shall confess him; the salvations of my face, and my God.

Annotations.

IVdge me] This meaneth an examination of the cause, giving sentence, and executing of it, by delivering the oppressed: so judging is used for delivering, 1 Sam. 24. 15. 2 Sam. 18. 19, 31. Judge. 3. 10. Pleading also ones plea is of like meaning: see Psal. 35. 1. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Judge me O God with judgment of truth, for it is thy part to plead my plea.

Vers. 2. my strength] or my strong fort, as Psal. 28. 8. for which in Psal. 42. 10. he useth the word Rock.

Vers. 3. dwelling places] meaning the holy Tabernacle or Sanctuary, which had several rooms, holy and most holy, parted by veils; as also the Apostle observeth, Hebr. 9. 2, 3, 6, 7. or, the high place at Gibeon where the tabernacle was, & in Jerusalem where the Ark was, 2 Chro. 1. 3, 4. for in both those places God dwelt, and was worshipped. But the first seemeth most proper, because of Psal. 132. 5. See also Psal. 46. 5. and 84. 2. The Chaldee explaineth the former to be the mount of the house of thy Sanctuary; and these latter, the Schools of the house of thy divine Majesty. By Schools meaning such places about the Sanctuary as the Doctors sate in, Luk. 2. 46.

Vers. 4. And I will come] or, That I may come, for so the Hebrew phrase may often be resolved; and the New Testament useth both indifferently in the Greek, as Luk. 6. 37. and ye shall not be judged; for which in Matth. 7. 1. it is, that ye be not judged. to the Altar] Chaldee, to offer an offering upon the Altar. the joy of my gladness] that is, author of my gladsome joy, meaning inward joy, outwardly showing it self in gladsome gesture.

Vers. 5. why bowest &c.] This verse is the same with Psal. 42. 12. of my face] the Chaldee explaineth it, for the redemption which is from his face, for he is my God.

PSAL. XLIV.

The Church in memory of former favors when they inherited the Land, 10 complaineth of her present evils, being subject to persecutors. 18 Professing her integrity in greatest afflictions, 24 she fervently prayeth for succor.

To the Master of the Music, to the sons of Korach, an instructing Psalm.

O God, with our ears we have heard, our fathers have told to us the work thou wroughtest in their days, in days of old. Thou with thy hand didst dispossess the heathens, and didst plant them: thou didst evil to the people's, and didst propagate them. For, not by their own sword inherited they the land, and their arm saved them not; but thy right hand, and thy arm, and the light of thy face, because thou didst favor them. Thou art he my King, O God; command the salvations of Jacob. In thee we shall push with the horn our distressers, in thy name we shall tread down them that rise up against us. For I will not trust in my bow, and my sword shall not save me. For thou hast saved us from our distressers, and our haters thou didst make ashamed. In God we praised all the day, and thy name forever we will confess Selah.

But now thou thrustest away, and makest us ashamed, and goest not forth with our armies. Thou makest us turn backward from the distresser, and they that hate us do spoil for themselves. Thou givest us as sheep for meat, and fannest us in the nations. Thou sellest thy people for no wealth, and increasest not by the prizes of them. Thou exposest us a reproach to our neighbors, a scoff and a scorn to them that be round about us. Thou puttest us for a parable among the heathens, a nodding of the head among the nations. All the day my ignominy is before me, and the abashing of my face covereth me. For the voice of the reproacher and taunter, for the face of the enemy and self avenger.

All this is come on us, and we have not forgotten thee, not dealt falsely against thy covenant. Our heart hath not turned backward, nor our stepping swarved from thy path. Though thou hast crushed us in the place of Dragons, and hast covered over us with the shadow of death. If we have forgotten the name of our God, and spread out our hands to a strange god. Shall not God search out this? for he knoweth the hid things of the heart. But for thee we are killed all the day, are counted as sheep of slaughter.

Stitire up, why sleepest thou, Lord? awake, thrust not away forever. Wherefore hidest thou thy face, forgettest thou our affliction and our oppression? For our soul is bowed down to the dust, our belly cleaveth unto the earth. Rise up, for an helpfulness to us, and redeem us for thy mercy sake.

Annotations.

Dispossesse] or disinherit the nations, meaning the Canaanites as the Chaldee explaneth it, Thou by thy strong hand didst cast out the people's of Canaan, and plantedst the house of Israel. See examples hereof in the Amorites, Numb. 21. 32. and the other Kings of Canaan, Ios. 12. seven nations greater and mightier than Israel, Deut. 7. 1. plantedst them] to wit, our fathers, the Israelites, as Exod. 15. 17. a figure taken from the planting of vines, whereof see Psal. 80. 9, &c. the people's] that dwelt before in Canaan. So Psal. 106. 34. didst propagate] or send forth, make spread, as the vine sendeth out or disspreadeth the branches, Psal. 80. 12. Ezek. 17. 6.

Vers. 4. light of thy face] thy favorable countenance in Christ: See the note on Psal. 4. 7. and 89. 16.

Vers. 5. thou art he] that is, Thou art the same my King, (as the Greek expresseth it:) this noteth God's unchangeableness. See Psal. 102. 28. command] procure by thy commandment. See Psal. 42.

9. salvations of Jacob] that is, the full salvation (the absolute deliverance) of thy weak people the posterity of Jacob. See Psal. 14. 7.

Vers. 6. push with the horn] a speech taken from Moses, Deut. 33. 17. and meaneth a vanquishing or subduing, 1 King. 22. 11. Dan. 84. tread down] or tread underfoot, which signifieth both a subduing or destroying, 2 Chron. 22. 7. and a contempt or setting them at naught, Prov. 17. 7. and so the Greek here translateth it, we shall set at naught. So after in Psal. 60. 14. and 108. 14.

Vers. 9. In God, we praised] to wit, his actions, salvations &c. See a like phrase in Psal. 56. 5. 11. and Psal. 71. 6. Or understand, we praised ourselves, that is, gloried, triumphed. And thus the Greek, In God we shall be praised; the Chaldee saith, In the word of our God.

Vers. 12. sheep for meat] or, of meat, that is, to be eaten. So after, verse. 23. sheep of slaughter, that is, to be slain. fannest] or dispersest, strowest abroad, as the fan that winnoweth, Ier. 4. 11. and 51. 2. So after in Psal. 106. 27.

Vers. 13. for no wealth] that is, for a vile price, without gain. God is said to sell his people, when he delivereth them into their enemies hands, as out of his own possession. So Deut. 32. 30. Likewise in Isaiah 52. 3. the Lord saith, ye have been sold for naught, and ye shall be redeemed without money. increasest not] or gainest not by the prices of them; takest no other people in their stead: or increasest, that is, hightenest not their price.

Vers. 15. a parable] a by-word, or proverb. This is often used for grave, wise, and princely sentences; as Psal. 49. 5. here in the ill part for a by-word, reproach and fable: so Psal. 69. 12. Job 17. 6. And thus is fulfilled that which was threatened, Deut. 28. 37. 1 King. 9. 7. Jer. 24. 9. nodding of the head] that is, a mockage, Psal. 22. 8. 9.

Vers. 17. taunter] or blasphemer, Num. 15. 30. [unspec]

Vers. 20. of Dragons] or, of whale fishes. For the Hebrew word is common both for land and water-dragons or whales. So Psal. 148. 7. And hereby is meant the place of desolation and affliction, as the Greek here translateth it: See Mal. 1. 3. Isa. 34. 13. Ier. 9. 11. and 10. 22. Job 30. 29. with the shade] or, in the shade: see Psal. 23. 4.

Vers. 20. spread out our hands] or our palms, that is, have prayed unto: for in prayer they spread out the palms of their hands, as to receive a blessing from God, 1 King. 8. 22. Exod. 9. 29. Psal. 143. 6. So the Chaldee explaineth it, spread out our hands in prayer, to the idols of other people's.

Vers. 23. But for thee] or, For, for thy sake, that is, so far we be from following strange gods, as that for thy sake we are killed daily. And this also is a comfort in affliction. See Rom. 8. 36.

Vers. 24. Stir up] to wit, thyself. These things are spoken of God after the manner of men, for properly, he that keepeth Israel, slumbereth not, nor sleepeth, Psal. 121. 4.

Vers. 26. to the dust] this noteth a base and abject state, Psal. 113. 7. like this is the soul cleaving to the dust, Psal. 119. 25. and putting the mouth in the dust, Lam. 3. 29.

Vers. 27. an helpfulness] that is, a full help. The Hebrew hath a letter more than ordinary, to increase the signification. So Psal. 63. 8. and 94. 17. See the notes on Psal. 3. 3.

PSAL. XLV.

The Majesty and grace of Christ and his kingdom. 11 The duty of the Church, and the benefits thereof. 14 The glory of Christians.

To the master of the music upon Shoshannim, to the sons of Korach, an instructing Psalm; a song of the well-beloved virgins.

Mine heart hath boiled a good word; I do say my works to the King, my tongue the pen of a speedy writer. Thou art much fairer than the sons of Adam; grace is poured out in thy lips, therefore God hath blessed thee forever. Gird thy sword upon the thigh, O mighty one, thy glorious majesty and thy comely honor. And in thy comely honor, prosper ride on word of truth, and of meekness and of justice: and thy right hand shall teach thee fearful things. Thy arrows are sharp, people's shall fall under thee, in the heart of the Kings enemies. Thy throne, O God, is ever and perpetual, the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness. Thou lovest justice, and hatest wickedness, therefore God thy God hath anointed thee with oil of joyfulness above thy fellows. Myrrh and Aloes Cassia all thy garments, out of the Ivorie palaces, more than they that make thee joyful. Kings daughters are among thy precious ones, set is the Queen at thy right hand, in fine gold of Ophir. Hear O daughter, and see and bend thine care, and forget thy people and thy fathers house. And the King will covet thy beauty, for he is thy Lord, and bow down thyself to him.

And the daughter of Tyrus with oblation shall earnestly beseeke thy face, even the rich of the people. The Kings daughter is all glorious within, her clothing is of purled works of gold. In embroideries she shall be led along to the King, virgins after her, her fellow-friends brought in to thee. They shall be led along with joys and gladness, they shall enter into the Kings palace. In stead of thy fathers shall be thy sons, thou shalt put them for princes in all the earth. I will make memory of thy name in every generation and generation, therefore people's shall confess thee forever and a••.

Annotations.

SHoshannim] that is, Six-stringed instruments: for so by comparison with other titles it seemeth here to be meant of musical instruments: as Shalishim, be ••••e-stranged instruments, 1 Sā. 18. 6. Else-where it signifieth six-leaved flowers, that is, Lilies, as Song 2. 6. w<sup>ch</sup> may also be minded here. The Hebrew word is derived of S••••, that is, Six••ke title is in Psal. 69. 1. & 80. 1. The Chaldee expoundeth it, for them that sit in the Synedron (or Council) of Moses, which was spoken in prophesy by th• (ϕ) of Korah. of the well-beloved virgins] Kings daughters and other honorable damosels attending upon and coming with the Queen; the friends of the bridegroom and bride, verse 10. 15. who should sing this marriage-song in praise of them. Therefore this Hymn setteth forth Christ in his glory, and his Spouse the Church in her beauty. For Christis the Bridegroom, and Jerusalem the Bride, John. 3. 29. Rev. 21. 9, 10. all true Christians are Virgins, for their spiritual chastity, Rev. 14. 1, 4. following and loving the Lamb, for the sweet odour of his Name or Gospel, Song 1. 2. and are beloved of him, and have this new song of praise put into their mouths. Of him is this Psalm, as the Apostle expoundeth it, Heb. 1. 8.

Vers. 2. hath boiled] or frieth, boileth as in a frying pan, that is, hath studied and prepared by servant meditation. A similitude taken from the Mincah or meat-offering in the law which was dressed in the frying pan, Levite. 7. 9. and there boiled in oil, being made of fine flower unleavened, mingled with oil, Levite. 2. 5. and after was presented to the Lord by the Priest, verse. 8. &c. Here the matter of this Psalm is as the Mincah or oblation, which with the oil, the grace of the spirit, was boiled and prepared in the Prophets heart, and now presented. So the Psal. 141. is likewise compared to the Mincah or oblation presented at evening, Ps. 141. 2. This word is not elsewhere read in the scripture. a good word] an excellent, sweet and pleasant matter. A word is used often for a thing or matter, Psal. 41. 9. here it is for the whole argument of this Psalm, I do say] or, I am saying, that which fervently boyleth in me. For of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. my works to the King] or my poems of the King; that is, of Christ; concerning him, and dedicated to him is this Psalm, or Dittie. my tongue, the pen] understand, it is as the pen; or prayer wise, be it as the pen. The Chaldee addeth, my tongue shall speak swiftly, as the pen, &c. of a speedy writer] or, of a swift (a ready) Scribe. So Ezra was called not only for writing, but also for interpreting the law, Ezr. 7. 6. Scribes were both Scriveners or Notaries, 2 King. 12. 10. and 22. 3. and expositors of the Law, or Counsellors, Mat. 23. 2. 1 Chron. 27. 32.

Vers. 3. thou art much fairer] The Hebrew word is of double form, to note out double, that is, very excellent beauty. This fairness is not of body only, but of mind, in wisdom, holiness, &c. as in Ezek. 28. 7. there is mentioned beauty of wisdom. Here the Psalmist beginneth his speech to Christ and of his praises: which the Chaldee paraphrast explaineth thus; thy fairness O King Christ, exceedeth the sons of men. See the description of Christ's spiritual beauty in Song 5. 10,—16. grace is poured out in thy lips] that is, thou speakest gracious words abundantly. Christ's lips were like lilies dropping down pure myrrh, Song 5. 13. all that heard him speak wondered at the words of grace that proceeded out of his mouth, Luk. 4. 22. The Chaldee expoundeth it, The Spirit of prophesy is given into thy lips. therefore] to the end that thou shouldest pour out thy gracious words to men: or because God hath blessed thee.

Vers. 4. Gird thy sword] that is, make ready to the fight, Exod. 32. 27. 1 Sam. 25. 13. Song 3. 8. The spiritual sword is the word of God, Eph. 6. 17. Therefore Christ's sword properly cometh out of his mouth, Rev. 1. 16. and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked, Isa. 11. 4. upon the thigh] understand thy thigh. The Hebrew often omitteth words of this sort easy to be understood; so the Greek in the New Testament, as mending the nets, Mark. 1. 19. or mending their nets, Mat. 4. 21. to put away, Mark. 10. 4. for, to put her away, Mat. 19. 7. and many the like. O mighty one] or Champion; Heb. Gibbor, one of the titles of Christ, Isa. 9. 6. The Chaldee paraphraseth, as a mighty one to kill kings and rulers. thy glorious Majesty] this showeth of what manner sword he speaketh, called glory and comliness, or magnificence, because of the powerful effects. Of these words, see Psal. 8. 2. 6.

Vers. 5. prosper ride] that is, ride prosperously: see the like phrase, Psal. 51. 4. The Chaldee openeth it thus; Thine honor is great, therefore thou shalt prosper, to ride upon the throne of the kingdom. on word of truth] which is the Gospel of our salvation, Eph. 1. 13. the white Horse whereon Christ rideth, Rev. 19. 11. or because of truth; for the truths sake. The Hebrew all debar is often used for because, Psal. 79. 9. Gen. 43. 18. Deut. 22. 24. and so the Greek version hath it here. of meekness] so Christ came riding meek, Mat. 21. 5. and his word is both to be taught and to be received with meekness, 2 Tim. 2. 25. I am. 1. 21. and of justice] or, meekness of justice, that is, justice meekly administered: but the Greek supplieth the word and. shall teach thee] or, let it teach thee fearful things. In the Greek it is, thy right hand will guide thee marvelously.

Vers. 6. Thy arrows] that is, thy words whereby thou convincest and beatest down sin and sinners. So the rider on the white Horse hath a bow when he goeth to conquer, Rev. 6. 2. Arrows are words, Psal. 64. 4. or judgments, Deut. 32. 23. and the Chaldee here addeth, Thine arrows are drawn out to kill multitudes. in the heart] understand, they pierce the heart of the kings enemies. And this noteth the efficacy of these words or judgments, as elsewhere he saith, I will send all my plagues upon thy heart, Exod. 9. 14. also their inward operation which is mighty, dividing asunder the soul & the spirit, discerning the intents of the heart, casting down imaginations & bringing into captivity every thought, Heb. 4. 12. 2 Cor. 10. 4. 5.

Vers. 7. Thy throne O God] The Chaldee addeth, in heaven. Here Christ our King is magnified as God above the Angels, as the Apostle showeth, Heb. 1. 8. But unto the Son he saith, thy throne O God is forever. &c. Hereby also is meant the perpetuity of Christ's kingdom. So 1 Chron. 22. 10. 2. Sam. 7. 16. a scepter of righteousness] or, a rod (a mace) of equity, plain and righteous in administration. hath anointed thee] of this Hebrew Mashach, hath anointed, our Lord is called Mashiach or Messias, and in Greek Christ, that is, Anointed: see Psal. 2. 2. oil of joy] the holy Ghost which joyeth the heart, Luk. 4. 18. 1 Thes. 1. 6. above thy fellows] that is, above all Christians who are thy fellows, consorts, and partners in the anointing, 1 John. 2. 20, 27. who are also made Kings and Priests, Rev. 5. 10. and with whom thou hast taken part of flesh and blood, Heb. 2. 14. Or by fellows, may be meant all kings and potentates whom he excelleth, Psal. 89. 28.

Vers. 9. Myrrh] named of the Hebrew word Mor, and is the gum or liquor of a tree, in taste bitter, in smell odoriferous; therefore it was used in the precious ointment of the high priest, and Tabernacle, Exod. 30. 21. and in other sweet perfumes. Est. 2. 12. Prov. 7. 17. See Song 4. 14. and 5. 1. 13. Aloes] of the Hebrew name Ahaloth, a sweet wood wherewith perfumes were also made, Num. 21. 7. Song 4. 14. The Arabians call it, tsandal. Cassia] or Cassies, also of the Hebrew Ketsioth, elsewhere it is not found in Scripture. It seemeth to be the barks or skins of that sweet shrub Casia mentioned in Pliny, lib. 12. cap. 20. all thy garments] that is, they be of them, or smell of them, or are anointed with them: or, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, are perfected with them. out of the Ivory palaces] or palaces of Elephants tooth; as the Chaldee here addeth the name of the Elephant, meaning that either the King cometh out of them, or, the garments were taken out of such palaces or costers. Kings palaces were sometime made of Ivorie or tooth, 2 King. 22. 39. more than they that make thee joyful] or, than theirs that make thee glad: that is, thy garments are more odoriferous, than the garments of thy fellows, forementioned verse 8. For though the Spouse or Church hath the savor of her odors, better than all spices, & the smell of her garments as the odour of Lebanon, she being perfumed with myrrh, and incense, and all spices of the merchant, Song 4. 10, 11. and 3. 6. yet Christ himself is more odoriferous, even wholly delectable, for God hath not given him the spirit by measure, Song 1. 2. and 5. 16. John. 3. 34. And the Saints are said to make Christ joyful, for all his delight is in them, Psal. 16. 3. Song 7. 6.

Vers. 10. Kings daughters] These the Chaldee interpreteth Countries of Kingdoms. among thy precious ones] that is, with thy honorable women: or, in thy preciousness, that is, are in thy precious honorable ornaments, or palaces. set is the Queen] or, married Queen (the wife) is placed at thy right hand, that is, in the most honorable place, 1 King. 2. 19. The Chaldee referreth this to the Book of the Law, at the right hand of the King. The word Shegal is used here, and Neh. 2. 6. Dan. 5. 23. for the Kings wife, the Queen. in fine gold] that is, as the Greek explaineth it, cloth of fine (or glistening) gold, called Cethem; a special name for the most pure and splendid gold, Job 28. 16. 19. and 31. 24. Song 5. 11. Daniel 10. 5. Her of is Mictam, Ps. 16. 1. of Ophir] that is, out of the land of Ophir, who was the son of Iektan, the son of Shē, the son of Noach, Gen. 10. 29. who dwelt in a part of India, & of him the country was called Ophir: from thence was much Cethem or fine gold brought to Judea and other coasts, as appeareth 1 King. 9. 28. and 10. 11. and 22. 48. 1 Chron. 29. 4. The gold it self was called by his name Ophir: Job 22. 24.

Vers. 11. Hear O daughter] He speaketh to the Queen fore-mentioned, siguring the church, or heavenly Jerusalem, the Lambs wife, Rev. 21. 9, 10, &c. And so the Chaldee paraphraseth, Hear O congregation of Israel, the law of his mouth, and see his marvelous works: and bow thine ear to the words of the Law, and forget the evil works of the wicked of thy people, and the house of Idols whom thou servedst in thy fathers house. and thy fathers house] As man and wife must leave their parents, to cleave each to other, Gen. 4. 24. and 31. 14. so must we leave all, to cleave unto Christ, Matt. 10. 37. Luk. 14. 26.

Vers. 12. will covet thy beauty] will delight him-self in thy fairness, (thy sanctity;) set forth in Song 1. 14. and 2. 14. and 4. 1, &c. So the King is tied in the rafters, Song 7. 5. and bow down] or, therefore worship thou him.

Vers. 13. the daughter of Tyrus] that is, the people, or Common-wealth of Tyre; as daughter of Zion, Psal. 9. 15. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, They that dwell in the fort of Tyrus. Tyre or Tyrus (in Hebrew Tsor, which signifieth a Rock or Fortress;) was a strong city appertaining to the tribe of Aser, Ios. 19. 29. but possessed still by the heathens, whose King Hiram became friend to David, 2 Sam. 5. 11. and to Solomon his son, 1 King. 5. 1, 2, &c. yet afterwards Tyrus remembered not the brotherly covenant, Amos 1. 9. but rejoiced at the desolation of Jerusalem, Ezek. 26. 2. banded it self with other enemies against Israel, Psal. 83. 8. & was wasted of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel, by God's judgment, 70. years, Isaiah. 23. 15. Ezek. 26. 7. It continued under idols till the Maccabees times, and then had still Hercules for their chief God, 2 Mac. 4. 18, 19. This one city Tyre is here named instead of other nations, because it was the chief city of traffic in the world, being an Ile in the sea, whose merchandize and magnificence the Prophet largely describeth, Ezek. 27. her merchants were princes, her chapmen the nobles of the world, Isaiah. 23. 8. she heaped up silver as dust, and gold as the mire of the streets, Zach. 9. 3. Of the subjection here prophesied, which they should yield unto the Church, we may see it fulfilled in the New Testament, where many that dwelt about Tyre and Sidon flocked after Christ, Mark. 3. 8. and he resorted into their borders, Mark. 7. 24. and by their readiness, he upbraided the backwardness of the Jews, Mat. 11. 20, 21. and afterwards in the Apostle's days there was a Church of zealous Christians in that city, Act. 21. 3, 4, 5, &c. See also Psal. 87. 4. earnestly beseeke thy face] shall instantly pray (or sue) unto thee O Queen. The original word naturally signifieth to make sick or sorry, and being joined with the word face (which oft is used for anger) it meaneth, to abate the anger by importunate prayer and by humble suit to prevail. So after, Psal. 119. 58. rich of the people] the wealthy among them, meaning of the Tyrians, which were a wealthy nation, and generally other people's. See Esa. 60. 1, 3, 5, 11. and 49. 23. Rev. 21. 24, 26. where the riches and honor of the Gentiles are brought to the Church.

Vers. 14. glorious within] or, honorable inward, in the heart adorned with faith, hope, love, &c. or in the inner man, as Eph. 3. 16. Here the Chaldee maketh this paraphrase; Every thing that is praise-worthy, fair & to be desired, the wealth of countries and treasuries of Kings, which are laid up within, shall they offer for oblations before the King, and gifts unto the Priests, whose garments are woven with fine gold. purled works] or grounds, closures of gold, such as precious stones are set in, Exod. 28. 11, 14. Compare also herewith, Ezek. 16. 13.

Vers. 15. In embroideries] with broidered (or needle wrought) garments. Hereby is meant the variety of graces, and embroidery of the spirit. So Ezek. 16. 10.

Vers. 17. Instead of thy fathers.] Here the Hebrew is of the masculine gender: so these words are spoken to the King. Though sometime the masculine is used in speech of women, as Num. 27. 7. So lahem 1 King. 22. 17. lahen 2 Chron. 18. 16. shall be thy sons] thy children shall succeed, meaning either all Christians, that by the immortal seed of the word are begotten to Christ & his Church, he being the father, this the mother of us all, Isa. 9. 6. Gal. 4. 26. or in special, the Apostles may be intended. See Heb. 2. 13. shalt put them] shalt place, constitute, or appoint them for Princes: As all Christians are called Kings, Rev. 1. 6. and 5. 10. Or in special, by the Fathers may be meant the 12 Patriarchs, by the sons, the 12 Apostles succeeding them, as the heavenly Jerusalem hath at the 12 gates, the names of the 12 tribes, and in the foundations of the wall, the names of the 12 Apostles, Rev. 21. 12, 14. which Apostles were sent into all the nations of the world, Mat. 28. 19. to go and bring forth fruit, and their fruit to remain, John. 15. 16. Like this is the promise made for Sarah, that Kings of people's should come of her, Gen. 17. 16.

Vers. 18. I will make memory] will mention and make to be remembered. The inditer of this Psalm speaketh this to Christ, and of his eternal kingdom and glory. shall confess thee] shall celebrate, or praise thee. The Hebrew is Iehodu, of it Iehudah had his name, Gen. 29. 35. from which name his blessing was derived, thou art Judah thy brethren (Iodu) shall confess thee, Gen. 49. 8. This here is fitly applied to Christ the Lion of the tribe Judah, Revel. 5. 5. and aye] or, and to perpetuity.

PSAL. XLVI.

The confidence which the Church hath in God. 5 The river that maketh glad the city of God. 6 His presence and help from enemies. 9 An exhortation to behold his works.

To the master of the music, to the sons of Korach, upon Alamothe a song.

God will be to us an hopeful shelter and a strength, a help in distresses we shall find very great. Therefore we will not fear though the earth change, and though the mountains be moved into the heart of the seas. Though the waters thereof make a noise, be muddy, though the mountains quake for the haughtiness thereof Selah. A river, the streams thereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy, the dwelling places of the most high. God in the mids of it, it shall not be moved, God will help it at the looking forth of the morning.

The nations made a noise, the Kingdoms were moved, he gave his voice, the earth melted. Jehovah of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob a high refuge for us Selah. Come on, behold the works of Jehovah, who putteth wondrous desolations in the earth. He maketh wars to cease unto the utmost end of of the earth, he breaketh the bow and cutteth the spear, the charriots he burneth in fire. Surcease and know that I am God: I will be exalted in the nations, I will be exalted in the earth. Jehovah of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob, a high refuge for us Selah.

Annotations.

ON Alamothe] This seemeth to be some musical instrument, or tune, 1 Chron. 15. 20. ⟨◇⟩ We may call it Uirginals, or Virgin tunes having high and shrill voices or notes: for Alamothe signifieth also Virgins, Song 1. 2. The original word Alam signifieth Hid: whereupon the Greek translatheth it here, kruphioon, hidden ones, or hid things. And the Chaldee after mention of the sons of Korah, addeth, by their hand was it spoken in prophesy, at what time their father was hidden from them, but they were delivered and said this song. If it be not referred to the music, it seemeth rather to intend the hid counsels of God appertaining to his Church in Christ.

Vers. 2. we shall find] to wit, an help: or in distresses that we shall find; as in Ps. 116. 3. distress and sorrow I did find; that is, did feel, or fall into. And thus the Greek saith here, in tribulations that have found us vehemently. Or we may translate it, he is found, that is, God is present, at hand; as in Gen. 19. 15. thy daughters which are found, that is, which are present. very great] or very mighty, vehement.

Vers. 3. though the earth] or, when the earth change, to wit, her place. By the changing of the earth, and removing of the mounts, are often meant the alteration of states and polities, Hag. 2. 22, 23. Revel. 6. 14. Ier. 51. 25. heart of the seas] that is, the midst, or deepest bottoms of them; as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the gulf of the great sea. The like phrase is in Exod. 15. 8. Io. 2. 3. Prov. 23. 34.

Vers. 4. be muddy] or cast up mud, that is, rage, or be troubled, as the Greek translatheth it, Waters, are people's, Rev. 17. 15. Ier. 47. 2. and their restless stir is likened to the seas that cast up mire and dirt, and foam out their own shame, Isa. 57. 20. Jude verse 13. for the haughtiness] the proud swelling rage and surges.

Vers. 5. A river, the streams thereof] or, There is a flood, whose riverets (or streams.) In the earthly Jerusalem this may be meant of the river Kidron, 2 Sam. 15. 23. Job 18. 1. and the streams or lesser rivers of Gibon and Shiloah, 2 Chron. 32. 4, 30. Isa. 8. 6. In the heavenly Jerusalem, there is a pure river of the water of life, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb, Rev. 22. 1. Ezek. 47. 1. &c. See also Joel 3. 18. Gen. 2. 10. Psal. 65. 10. But as waters sometimes signifieth people's, so here the Chaldee paraphraseth, people's as floods, & the streams of them shall come & make glad the city of God, and shall pray in the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, in the tabernacles of the most high. the city of God] that is, Jerusalem; called also the city of the great King, Psal. 48. 3. the city of Jehovah, Isa. 60. 14. the holy city, Isaiah 52. 1. Matth. 4. 5 the holy] meaning the holy place Zion, or the Sanctuary there. dwelling places] or habitaclcs; see Psal. 43. 3. Isaiah 4. 5.

Vers. 6. at the looking forth of the morning] that is, as the Greek explaineth it, very early, when the morning peereth, or showeth the face. The like phrase is in Exod. 14. 27. Judge. 19. 26. and so of the looking forth of the evening, Gen. 24. 63. Deut. 23. 11.

Vers. 7. gave his voice] that is, spake aloud, or thundered; See Psal. 18. 14. or, gave with his voice: but the word with or in, seemeth to be superfluous in the Hebrew, as else-where, Ier. 12. 8. Psal. 68. 34. So to seek in Jehovah, 2 Chron. 34. 26. is to seek Jehovah, 2. King. 22. 18. The Chaldee referreth it to God's voice on mount Sinai; whē the gave the Law to his people, the nations were troubled, the kingdoms trembled. melted] that is, was dismayed with fear. So Psal. 75. 4. and 107. 26. Exod. 15. 15. Amos 9. 5, 13. Ios. 2. 9.

Vers. 10. chariots] or round shields, as both the Greek and Chaldee Paraphrast here taketh it: but else-where it is not to found, but for wagons very often.

Vers. 11. Surcease] or, Leave off: see Psal. 37. 8. The Chaldee expounds it of Surceasing from wars. [unspec 11]

PSAL. XLVII.

The nations are exhorted cheerfully to entertain the kingdom of Christ.

To the Master of the Music, to the sons of Korach a Psalm.

All people's clap ye hands, shout triumphantly to God with voice of shrilling. For Jehovah is high, fearful, a great King over all the earth. He hath subdued people's under us, and nations under our feet.

He hath chosen for us our inheritance, the high excellency of Jacob, whom he loveth Selah. God is gone up with triumph, Jehovah with voice of trumpet. Sing Psalm to God sing Psalm; sing Psalm to our King sing Psalm. For God is King of all the earth; sing an instructing Psalm. God reigneth over the heathens, God sitteth on the throne of his holiness. The bounteous Princes of the people's are gathered, the people of the God of Abraham, for the shields of the earth God's; vehemently is he exalted.

Annotations.

CLap hands] or the Palms; Hebrew, the palm: a sign of joyful approbation, used as at other times, so at the coronation of Kings, 2 King. 11. 12. So after Psal. 98. 8. voice of <...> ing] that is, a shrill voice and joyful. See the notes on Psal. 5. 12. and 41. 12.

Vers. 4. He hath subdued, or, will subdue: So in the next verse, He will choose; but the time to come is often used for the time past or continued. And here it seemeth to be spoken of the subduing of the Canaanites, and the 〈◊〉 subduing of nations to Christ, by preaching of the Gospel. Of subduing, see Psal. 18. 48. the Chaldee here translateth it, kill.

Vers. 5. our inheritance] the land of Canaan, Psal. 78. 55. and that immortal undefiled heritage reserved in heaven for us, 1 Pet. 1. 4. high excellency] or glorious highness; meaning the kingdom, priest-hood, Temple, &c. (as the Chaldee mentioneth, the house of the Sanctuary;) whereby Jacob's posterity excelled, Ezek. 24. 21. Amos 6. 8. and 8. 7. Nahum 2. 2. and all the heavenly promises given to the Church in Christ.

Vers. 6. God is gone up] as when the •rke went up from Ki 〈...〉 th-j•arim to Jerusalem, 2 Sam. 6. 15. 1 Chron. 13. 8. and 15. 28. when the Ark was carried by Solomon into the Temple, 2 Chron. 5. when Christ ascended with triumph into heaven, Luke 24 51, 52. and with like glory shall he come again, 1 Thess. 4. 16. Act. 1. 9, 11. The Chaldee referreth this Going up, to the Exalting of God's name.

Vers. 7. an instructing Psalm] Maschil, the title of Psal. 32. and many others, here used in like sense for a Psalm to give instruction; or, as in Psal. 14. 2. for a prudent understanding person; in this sense, sing Psalm everyone that is prudent; or, as the Greek explaineth it, sing prudently; the Chaldee, with good understanding.

Vers. 9. throne of his holiness] Greek, his holy throne. See Psal. 9. 5. Revel. 4. 2. The Chaldee calleth it, the throne of his glory.

Vers. 10. The bounteous Princes] or, the voluntaries, Nobles: A name given to the liberal and free hearted, Isa. 32. 5. 8. Exod. 35. 21, 29. and to Princes or Nobles, Numb. 21. 18. Psal. 113. 8. and 118. 8. Job 12. 21. So here the Greek hath Princes. are God's] or, to God (belong) the shields of the earth: He is the great conquer our and protector of all, Gen. 15. 1. Shields also are Magistrates and Governors, that protect the Common-weales, Hos. 4. 18. Psal. 89. 19. So the Greek here hath, the strong men of the earth.

PSAL. XLVIII.

God is magnified for the ornaments, privileges, and protection of the Church.

A song a Psalm, to the sons of Korach. [unspec 2]

Great is Jehovah, & praised vehemently in the city of our God, the mountain of his holiness. Faire in situation, the joy of all the earth is mount Zion, in the sides of the North; it is the City of the great King. God in the lofty palaces thereof, known he is for an high refuge. For loe the Kings were assembled, they went together. Themselves saw, so they wondered; they were suddenly 〈...〉 ubled, they were frighted away. Trembling took hold on them there; pain, as of her that travelleth with child. With an east wind thou wilt break asunder the ships of Tarshish. Even as we have heard, so have we seen; in the city of Jehovah of hosts, in the city of our God; God will establish it forever Selah. We have quietly minded thy mercy, O God, in midst of thy Palace.) As thy name, O God, so thy praise is unto the ends of the earth; thy right hand is full of justice. Let mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments. Compass ye Zion, and go round about it; tell the towers thereof. Set your heart on the fort thereof, distinctly view the lofty Palaces thereof, that ye may tell to the generation after. That this God is our God, ever and aye; he will guide us until death.

Annotations.

SOnnes of Korach] See the notes on Psal. 42. 1. Here the Greek addeth, for the second (day) of the W ⟨...⟩, that this Psalm was then to be sung in the Temple, as is before noted on Psal. 24. 1.

Vers. 2. the mountain] in the Greek, his holy mountain; in Chaldee, the mount of the house of his Sanctuary. This was mount Zion, verse. 3. a figure of the Church of Christ, Hebr. 12. 22. Rev. 14. 1.

Vers. 3. Faire in situation] or, Beautiful of coast, or climate, situate in a fair climate or region. The Chaldee expounds •t, Faire as a Bridegroom, the joy of all that dwell on the earth. the sides of the North] the place where the Temple was built. So Isa. 14. 13. of the great King] that is, of God, who dwelt in this city, verse. 9. Zach. 8. 3. Hereupon Christ said, swear not by Jerusalem, for it is the ⟨ϕ⟩ of the great King, Mat. 5. 35.

Vers. 4. lofty Palaces] or, high bowers, or steeples. So verse. 14. and Psal. 122. 7.

Vers. 5. the Kings] we may refer this either to the Kings of Moab and Ammon, in the days of Jehoshaphat, 2 Chro. 20. or to Sanacherib and his Captains in the days of Hezekiah, 2 King. 18. 19. or to the Philistian Princes, 2 Sam. 5. were assembled] or came together, to wit, by agreement at an appointed time and place; so the original word impor ⟨...⟩ .

Vers 7. that travelleth with child] or, that bringeth forth. And this pain is great, and sudden, an inevitable. See Mic. 4. 9. 1 Thess. 5. 3.

Vers. 8. an east wind] which is strong and boisterous; also dry and parching, Isa. 27. 8. Ier. 18. 17. Exod. 14. 21. and 10. 13. Gen. 41. 7. Ezek. 19. 12. Ion. 4. 8. Hereupon the Greek translateth it, violent wind; and the Chaldee, a strong East wind, as a fire from before the Lord. of Tarshish] or, of the Ocean sea. Tarshish was the name of the son of Iavan, the son of Japheth, the son of Noah, Ger. 10. 4. of whom Tarsus (mentioned in Act. 21. 34.) the chief city of Silicia in Syria had the n•m•. From thence they went by shipping into far countries, Africa, India, Ophir, &c. 1 King. 22. 48. and 10. 22. Hereupon that Sea was called Tarshish; and generally the name is applied to every Ocean, or main sea.

Vers. 10. we have quietly winded] or, in silence thought upon, and consequently, waited for.

Vers. 12. daughters of Judah] the lesser cities of that tribe, which were as daughters to the mother city Jerusalem, as the lesser cities of the Ammonites were daughters to Rabbah, Ier. 49. 3. So Ekron with her daughters, Ios. 15. 45. and many the like. So Psal. 97. 8.

Vers. 13. tell the towers] number, count them: These things seem to intend not only a taking notice, but also a care and fortification of Jerusalem against all enemies. See Isaiah 33. 18.

Vers. 14. Set your heart] mind earnestly, set your affections on, as Psal. 62. 11. the fort] or *strong frontier, *konce, rampart*, made for strength and safeguard of the city, 1 King. 21. 23. 2 Sam. 20. 15. So Psal. 122. 7. The Chaldee understands it of the strength of people, the multitude. disti•tly view] or, lift up, meaning the eyes to behold, or rear up the banks of buildings. The Hebrew Pasgu is here only used; of it is Pisgah, the name of an hill or mount, Numb. 21. 20. and 23. 14. Deut. 3. 17. and 34. 1. The Greek translatheth here, distinguish or distribute, following the Chaldee Passeg, which is to distribute or divide.

Vers. 15. ever and aye] ever and yet, to eternity and perpetuity. will guide us] or lead us, to wit, as a flock of sheep, Psal. 78. 52. 72. therefore the Greek turneth it, poimanei, he will f•d, or rule as a shepherd. A like phrase is also used in speech of defense from enemies, 2 Chron. 32. 22. until death] in Greek, forever. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, For this God is our God, his divine Majesty is within it, and his dwelling is in the heavens forever and ever; he will lead us in the days of our youth.

PSAL. XLIX.

All are exhorted to hear Christ's wisdom and parables. 7 To build the faith of Resurrection from the dead, not on worldly power, but on God. 17 Worldly prosperity is not to be admind, for man without understanding perisheth like the beast.

To the Master of the Music, to the sons of Korach a Psalm.

HEare ye this, all people's; hearken ye• all inhabitants of the transitory world. Both sons of base man, and sons of noble man, together rich and poor.

My mouth shall speak wisdoms; and the meditation of my heart, prudencies. I will incline min• ear to a parable, I will open with harp mine hidden matter. Why should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my foot-steps shall compass me? They that trust in their wealthy power, and glory in the multitude of their riches. A man shall not redeeming redeem his brother, shall not give to God his ransom. So precious shall be the redemption of their soul, and it shall cease forever. That he may live yet to continual aye, may not see the pit of corruption.

For he seeth the wise do die, together the inconstant fool and brutish do perish, and leave to others their wealthy power. Their inward thought is that their houses shall be forever, their dwelling places to generation and generation; they proclaim their names on lands. But man in honor doth not lodge a night; he is likened to beasts that are silenced.

This their way is inconstant folly to them, and their posterity like well of their mouth Selah. As sheep they are put in hell, death shall feed them, and righteous men shall have rule over them at the morning, & their form wear away in hell, from his dwelling place.

But God will redeem my soul from the hand of hell, for he will receive me Selah. Fear thou not when a man shall grow rich, when the glory of his house shall be multiplied. For he shall not when he die take any thing, his glory shall not descend after him.

Though in his life he blesseth his soul, and they will confess thee, when thou doest good to thyself. It shall come unto the generation of his fathers, unto continual aye, they shall not see the light. Man in honor, and understandeth not, he is likened to beasts that are silenced.

Annotations.

The transitory world] see Psal. 17. 14. [unspec 3]

Vers. 3. base man] in Hebrew Adam, who was so called of Adamah the earth, whereupon this title is given to the baser sort of people. The Greek translateth it here earth-borne. So the Apostle saith, the first man of the earth, earthly, 1 Cor. 15. 47. noble man] in Hebrew Ish, which is the name of man in respect of heat, valor, nobleness and dignity, whereby man is, and excelleth; and in opposition to the former word Adam, it meaneth the great or nobler sort of people. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Both sons of Adam the first, and sons of Jacob, together righteous and sinner.

Vers. 4. wisdoms] that is, excellent and manifold wisdom; so after, prudencies, for very excellent prudence, and of sundry sorts. So Solomon calleth the chief and most excellent wisdom, wisdoms, Prov. 1. 20. and 9. 1.

Vers. 5. a parable] or a proverb: in Hebrew Mashal, which denoteth rule, superiority or excellency because such speeches prevail much in the minds of men, and are in esteem. The New Testament in Greek translateth it, a parable, Matth. 13. 35. from Psa. 78. 2. of the Latin, we name it a Proverb: in old English or Saxon, it was called a big-spel. Sometime it is used in the evil part, for a by-word, Psal. 44. 15. and 69. 12. mine hidden matter] my dark question, or grave doctrine, my riddle. The Hebrew Chidah, riddle, hath the name of sharpness, as proceeding from a sharp wit, and needing the like to expound it. See Judge. 14. 12, 18. Num. 12. 8. 1 King. 10. 1. Prov. 1. 6. The holy Ghost expresseth it in Greek by hidden things, Matth. 13. 35. from Psal. 78. 2.

Vers. 6. Why should I fear] This is the hidden doctrine or riddle which the Prophet propoundeth, as in his own name, and therefore also called it a parable. By fear, he meaneth dismay or discouragement. See verse. 17. the iniquity] that is, punishment or death, which is the wages of sin; see Psal. 31. 11. and by foot-steps or foot-soles, he meaneth his ways or works. Or, he may call death the punishment of his heels or feet, because the Serpent bruisseth Christ and his people but in the heel, Gen. 3. 15. the sting of death being done away, and it made a passage into life and glory, 1 Cor. 15. 55. 57.

Vers. 7. their wealthy power] their riches; which are thus called, because they are gotten by power given of God, Deut. 8. 18. with labor and industry; and to the rich, their goods are their strong city, Prov. 10. 15. therefore here they are said to trust in them: contrary to 1 Tim. 6. 17. Job 31. 24. Mark. 10. 24. glory] or praise themselves, vaunt, contrary to Ier. 9. 23.

Vers. 8. not redeeming redeem] that is, shall in no wise, or not at all redeem. The Chaldee expoundeth it, a wicked man cannot redeeming redeem his captived brother.

Vers 9. So precious shall be] or, And dear (costly) is: and consequently rare and hard to obtain, as Dan. 2. 11. 1 Sam. 3. 1. of their soul] that is, of their life. So Exod. 21. 30. cease forever] that is, it shall never be accomplished. So ceasing is used for the not doing of a thing, Deut. 23. 22. Zach. 11. 12.

Vers. 10. That he may live] this is referred to the end of the eight verse, not give his ransom, and so live. And, is here for That; see Psal. 43. 4. The Chaldee expoundeth live, to be the life eternal; & the pi, to be the judgment of Gehenna (or hell.)

Vers. 11. the wise] The Chaldee saith, For he shall see wicked wise men that die the second death, and are adjudged to Gehenna. inconstant fool and brutish] these two names are often joined together, as Psal. 92. 7. and 94. 8. the one noting fickleness and mutability, called Cesil, which is both the name of a fool and of a star that causeth change of weather and tempests: (whereupon Solomon speaketh of the restlessness of this kind of folly, Eccles. 7. 27. and of the tumultuousnesse and light behavior of such fools, as having their eyes wandering unto the ends of the earth, Prov. 9. 13. and 17. 24.) the other, noting want of discretion, at brute beasts led with sensuality, and carried with ardent furious affections, 2 Pet. 2. 12. Jude 10. See Psal. 73. 22.

Vers. 12. Their inward thought] or, their meaning purpose. This word signifieth the nearest and most secret thought or purpose, the heart. See Psal. 5. 10. and 55. 5. and 64. 7. their houses forever] to wit, shall continue: by houses, meaning their children or posterity, as Psal. 115. 12. which they that want, are said to be barren of house, Psal. 113. 9. they proclaim their names on lands] or, they call lands, (their lands, as the Greek explaineth it) by their own names. As the land of Canaan, of Mitsraim, (that is, Egypt) of Asshur, &c. So Absalom called his pillar by his own name, 2 Sam. 18. 18. Cain, his city by his sons name, Gen. 4. 17 thus thinking to make their memory everlasting. Or, they proclaim their names (seeking to be famous) throughout the lands or countries. The Chaldee expoundeth it, they were proud, and got themselves an evil name on earth.

Vers. 13. But man] or And Adam and this may be minded both for the first man Adam, who continued not in his dignity, & so for all his children: as the Chaldee saith, And the son of man a sinner, abideth not in honor. in honor] being in honor, dignity, or estimation, not lodge a night] or, not continue. The word though it properly signifieth a nights lodging, or abiding, Gen. 28. 11. Exod. 23. 18. yet is used also for longer continuance, Psal. 25. 13. and 55. 8. Zach. 5. 4. The Greek translateth, understandeth not, as the Hebrew also is in verse. 21. are silenced] that is, are cut off, die, or perish: the Greek translateth, are like unto them. The Hebrew word signifieth silence or stillness, not only in speech, but in motion: as, the Sun was still, or silent, when it moved not, Ios. 10. 12, 13. and people destroyed, are said to be silenced, Isa. 15. 1. and the grave or death is called silence, Psal. 115. 17. and things without life are in the Hebrew phrase, dumb, or silent, Hab. 2. 19. Exod. 15. 16.

Vers. 14. inconstant folly to them] that is, is their folly: or, a constant hope to them, that is, is their confidence. The original word hath contrary significations: inconstant folly, Eccles. 7. 27. and constant hope, Psal. 78. 7. Job. 31. 24. both ways it may here be taken: confident hope, in their own conceit, but indeed folly. The Greek turneth it a seandall, (or stumbling block.) to them and their posterity] or, yet those after them, their successors. their mouth] that is, their words, doctrine, counsel, precepts. The mouth is figuratively used for whatsoever cometh out of the same; as word, or commandment, 1 Sam. 12. 15. Job 39. 30. Num. 9. 20. Deut. 1. 26. Mat. 18. 16. Luke 19. 22. The Chaldee here differeth much, saying, This their way occasioneth folly to them, and in their end with their mouth they shall manifest their sins to the world that is to come.

Vers. 15. they are put] or laid: or, they put, that is, men put them. An Hebrew phrase, as Luke 12. 20. they shall fetch away thy soul, that is, it shall be fetched away. The like is often used, Psal. 105. 28. and 141. 6. The Hebrew Text it self sometime explaineth this; as, they had anointed David, 2 Sam. 5. 17. that is, David was anointed, 1 Chron. 14. 8. Howbeit the Chaldee taketh it actively, saying, Like sheep they put the just to death and kill them, and crush the Saints, &c. in hell] into a ditch: to the lowest grave or state of death, called Sheol. See the notes on Ps. 16. 10. death shall feed them] as a shepherd shall feed and rule them, as Psal. 78. 72. or death shall feed on them to devour them, as Ier. 50. 19. at the morning] the last day of judgment, for then all that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake and rise, and the new day of eternal life shall begin. their form] their figure, shape, or image, with all their beauty and proportion: or their rock, that is, their strength, or, (as the Greek saith) their help, that wherein they trust: in Chaldee, their body. The Hebrew Tsur is usually a rock; here it seemeth to be all one with Tsurah, a form or figure: and this is confirmed by the writing, for though by the vowels and reading it is Tsur, yet by the letters it is Tsir, which is an image, Isa. 45. 16. And Tsurum, is for Tsuratham, as tebunam, is for tebunatham, in Hos. 13. 2. wear away in hell] or, wax old in the grave; understanding the word in, which is expressed in the Greek: or without it thus, Hell (the grave) shall wear away (shall consume) their form. The Hebrew leballoth, being indefinite, to wear out with age, is here of like signification as that which went before, shall have rule. The like Hebraism is in Ier. 14. 5. Zach. 12. 10. and 3. 4. See also Psal. 65. 11. and 56. 14. and by this their affliction in hell is meant; as that which one Prophet calleth wearing out (or wasting) 1 Chron. 17. 9. another calleth afflicting, 2 Sam. 7. 10. from his dwelling place] that is, every of them, coming from, (or being thrust out of) his dwelling, or home: as the Greek saith, they are thrust from their glory. It may also be Englished, for his dwelling place; and so the Chaldee understood it, saying, Therefore their bodies shall wax old in Gehenna, because they stretched out their hand and destroyed the dwelling place of the house of his divine Majesty.

Vers. 16. from the hand of hell] that is, from the power of the grave, death, and damnation. So of all the faithful he saith, I will redeem them from the hand of hell, Hos. 13. 14. but so can no man redeem himself, Psal. 89. 49. Hand is put for power, as Ps. 22. 21. And this is meant of the resurrection and redemption of body and soul from damnation by Christ. for he will receive me] or, when he shall receive, or take me: meaning, up into heaven, where God himself is, 1 Thess. 4. 14. John. 14. 3. This manner of speech is used in Gen. 5. 24. Enoch was no more, for God received him. The Chaldee explaineth this verse thus, But God will redeem my soul from Gehenna for he will teach me his Law, and will lead me to his portion in the world to come.

Vers. 17. Fear thou not] that is, be not dismayed, or overcome with fear. The Hebrew phrase usually when it counselleth or prayeth against a thing, meaneth the height & full measure of it. So fear not, Gen. 50. 19. and grieve not, Gen. 45. 5. that is, be not overcome with grief. So, lead us not into temptation, Mat. 6. 13. that is, let us not be overcome with temptation, 1 Cor. 10. 13.

Therefore that which one Evangelist writeth, Fear not, Mat. 28. 5. another writeth, be not astonished, Mark. 16. 6. nothing the excess of fear.

Vers. 18. take anything] Hebr. take of all; that is, ought of all that he hath. For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certain that we can carry nothing out, 1 Tim. 6. 7. Job 1. 21.

Vers. 19. Though in his life] that is, whiles he liveth. So Psal. 63. 5. and 104. 33. and 146. 2. he blesseth his soul] that is, himself: as it is written, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years, live at ease, eat, drink, and take thy pastime, Luke 12. 19. will confess thee] will commend, laud, and celebrate thee. doest good to thyself] that is, makest much of, cherishest, pamperest thyself. So good is used for worldly pleasure and emoluments, Psal. 4. 7.

Vers. 20. It shall come] to wit, the soul foreshadowed of, or the person: or, Thou shalt come. to the generation of his fathers] that is, to his wicked predecessors that are dead and gone; as the godly also at their death are gathered to their fathers and people, Judge. 2. 10. Deut. 32. 50. Or, to the habitation of his fathers, their house, or lodge: for so Dor is used for an habitation, Esa. 38. 12. The Chaldee applieth this first branch to the just, the latter to the wicked. The memory of the just shall come to the generation of the fathers, but the wicked forever and ever shall not see the light. to continual aye they shall not see] or, which forever shall not see the light, to wit, the light of the living here on earth, as Psal. 56. 14. Job 33. 28, 30. nor the light of joy in the world to come, being cast out into the utter darkness, Matth. 8. 12.

Vers. 21. understandeth not] or discerneth not, wanting prudence. A repetition of the 13. verse, with a little change of jalin, lodgeth, into jabin, understandeth; which the Chaldee openeth thus; A man, a sinner, when he is in honor and understandeth not; when his honor is taken away, he is like a beast and brought to nothing.

PSAL. L.

The Majesty of God in the Church. 5 His order to gather Saints. 7. The pleasure of God is not in legal sacrifices; 14 but in sincerity of obedience. 16 The wicked are shut out from God's Covenant. 21 They abuse God's patience to their destruction, 23 but the godly shall see his salvation.

A Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 1]

THE God of gods, Jehovah speaketh and calleth the earth, from the rising up of the Sun, unto the going down thereof. Out of Zion the whole perfection of beauty God shineth clearly. Our God come and not keep silence, a fire shall eat before him, and round about him shall a storm be moved vehemently. He will call to the heavens from above, and to the earth to judge his people. Gather ye to me my gracious Saints, that have stricken my covenant with sacrifice. And the heavens shall openly show his justice, for God he is judge Selah. Hear O my people, and I will speak, O Israel, and I will testify to thee; I am God thy God. I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices, for thy burnt offerings are before me continually. I will not take a bullock out of thine house; goat buckes out of thy folds. For every wild beast of the wood is mine; the beasts that be on a thousand mountains. I know all the fowl of the mountains, and the store of beasts of the field is with me. If I were hungry I would not tell it thee, for mine is the world, and the plenty thereof. Will I eat the flesh of mighty bulls, and drink the blood of goat-bucks? Sacrifice thou to God a confession, and pay thy vows to the most high. And call on me in day of distress, I will release thee, and thou shalt glorify me.

But to the wicked saith God, what hast thou to do to tell my statutes, and that thou shouldst take up my covenant on thy mouth. And thou hatest nurture, and castest my words behind thee. If thou seest a thief, then thou runnest with him, and thy part is with the adulterers. Thy mouth thou sendest out in evil, and thy tongue joineth together deceit. Thou sittest, thou speakest against thy brother, against thy mothers son thou givest ill report. These things thou hast done, and I kept silence, thou didst think that I was surely like thee; I will reprove thee and set in order to thine eyes. O now consider this ye that forget God, lest I tear, and there be no reskewer. He that sacrificeth confession, honoreth me, and he that disposeth his way, I will cause him to see the salvation of God.

Annotations.

A Psalm of Asaph] that is, made by him, as the Chaldee saith, An hymn by the hand of Asaph; or to Asaph, that is, committed unto him to sing. For Asaph was a Seer or Prophet, which made Psalms as did David, 2 Chron. 29. 30. Also he and his sons, were singers in Israel, 1 Chron. 25. 2. The God of God's] that is, God of all Angels, Judges and Rulers of the world: or as the Chaldee saith, The mighty (God) the God of Jehovah. Three titles of God here used together, Ael, Elohim, Jehovah. So in Josh. 22. 22. the going down] that is, the West, where the Sun setteth, or (after the Hebrew phrase) goeth in, as at the rising, it is said to go out, or come forth, Gen. 19. 23.

Vers. 2. Out of Zion] the state of the Church under the Gospel, Heb. 12. 18. 22. Psal. 2. 6. therefore in this Psalm, the legal sacrifices appointed at mount Sinai, are reprov'd, and the worship of God in spirit and truth commended. the whole perfection] or, the Universality of beauty, that is, which is wholly and perfectly beautiful. See the like praise of Zion, Psal. 48. 3. Lam. 2. 15. shineth clearly] as the Sun shineth in his strength: that is, appeareth in glorious majesty. This also is a sign of favor, Job. 10. 3. Psal. 80. 2. So God shined from mount Paran, Deut. 33. 3.

Vers. 3. Our God come] a prayer to hasten his coming, as in Rev. 22. 20. or, as the former, our God will come. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, The just shall say, In the day of the great judgment, our God will come, and not silent, to execute the vengeance of his people. fire shall eat] that is, consume, devour. So God is called an eating fire, Deut. 4. 24. that is, as the Apostle expoundeth it, a consuming fire, Heb. 12. 29. and the sight of his glory on mount Sinai, was like eating (consuming) fire, Exod. 24. 17. and fire out of his mouth eateth, Psal. 18. 9. a storm be moved] a tempest raised: which maketh fire the more fierce and forcible. And these things signify Christ's judgments against hypocritical carnal worshippers: see Mal. 3. 1, 2, 3. Mat. 3. 12.

Vers. 4. call to the heavens &c.] that heaven and earth may bear record; as in Deut. 31. 28. and 32. 1. Isa. 1. 2. The Chaldee expoundeth it, He will call the high Angels from above, and the just of the earth from beneath.

Vers. 5. have stricken my covenant] or have cut, that is, made covenant with me with sacrifice. For at holy covenants, the sacrifices were cut asunder, and they went between the parts, Gen. 15.

10, 13, 18. Ier. 34. 18. See Psal. 25. 10. See also a covenant between God and his people with sacrifice, Exod. 24. 4,—8. The Chaldee openeth it thus; which have stricken the covenant, and confirmed the Law, and been busied in prayer, which is like to sacrifices.

Vers. 6. And the heavens] hereby may be meant the heavenly Angels, as in Job 15. 15. and so the Chaldee translateth, high Angels, or the meteors in the air, thunder, lightning, &c. Exod. 19. 16. 18. See also Psal. 97. 6. and 89. 6. he is Judge] himself in his own person, and not by his servants only, as afore time, Heb. 1. 1, 2. 2 Tim. 4. 1.

Vers. 7. testify to thee] that is, give thee contestations, admonitions, charges, &c. to cause the more obedience, as Nehem. 9. 29. 2 King. 17. 15. Exod. 19. 21. 23. or, testify against thee, (as this phrase sometime signifieth, Deut. 4. 26. and 31. 28.) that is, convince thee of disobedience: Both these are done in this Psalm, verse 14, 15, 18, 19. &c.

Vers. 8. for thy sacrifices] so elsewhere he saith, I spake not to your fathers, &c. concerning sacrifices, Ier. 7. 22. are before me] so the Greek explaineth it; and so Israel used to weary God with outward offerings, Isa. 1. 11. 14, Mic. 6. 6, 7. Amos 4. 4, 5.

Vers. 9. goat-buckles] the he-goats; such with bullocks were principal in the sacrifices, Num. 7. 17. 23, &c. Psal. 66. 15.

Vers 11. store of beasts] all sorts of beasts that range about. So Psal. 80. 14.

Vers. 12. If I were hungry] This the Chaldee expoundeth, If the time come of the continual sacrifice, I will not tell thee. So it may be a prophesy of Christ's abolishing the daily sacrifice, as in Dan. 9. 27.

Vers. 14. a confession] a thank-offering. There was an oblation in the law thus called, Levite. 7. 12, 15. mentioned also in Ps. 116. 17. and 107. 22. which the Apostle openeth, exhorting to offer the sacrifice of praise continually to God, that is, the fruit of the lips, confessing to his name, Heb. 13. 15. See also Psal. 95. 2. The Chaldee saith, Subdue evil concupiscence, and it shall be counted before the Lord as a sacrifice of confession. vows to the most high] that is, to God, Gen. 14. 18. so he that in Luke 6. 35. is the Most high, in Matth. 5. 45. is our Father which is in heaven. To him vows were made with prayers, Gen. 28. 20. Psal. 61. 6. and paid with thanksgiving, Psal. 65. 2. and 66. 13, 14. and by law their payment was required, Deut. 23. 23. Eccles. 5. 5. Psal. 76. 12. and there were sacrifices for vows, Levite. 7. 16. But the Chaldee referreth this here to the vow which they made at mount Sinai, to confirm the commandments, (Exod. 19.)

Vers. 16. what hast thou to do] the Hebrew phrase is, what to thee? the Greek, wherefore doest thou?

Vers. 17. nurture] or restraint, chastisement; which is the way of life, Prov. 6. 23. and 12. 1. The Chaldee addeth, nurture of wise men. behind thee] or after thee. See a like speech, Neh. 9. 26.

Vers. 18. then thou] Hebr. and thou runnest, or readily consentest, takest pleasure. And, may be omitted in our English; it serveth to increase the readiness & earnestness of the affections. He that partaketh with a thief, hateth his soul, Prov. 29. 24.

Vers. 19. thou sendest out] that is, usest and appliest it. thy tongue joineth] or, with thy tongue thou joynest, framest, compactest.

Vers. 20. ill report] or infamy, offensive scandalous speech; (as the Greek turneth it, scandal) a word not found but in this place.

Vers. 21. I was surely] Hebrew, I being had b••ee, or was. set in order] to wit, thy faults; as the Greek explaineth it, I will set thy sins before thy face. The Chaldee giveth this paraphrase, Thou thoughtest to be forever; thou saidst in thy heart, I shall be like God: but I in powerful wrath will take vengeance on thee, I will rebuke thee in this world, and order the judgment of Gehenna in the world to come, before thee.

Vers. 22. no reskuer] or no deliverer. A similitude taken from Lions, which catch and tear their prey, from whose jaws none can reskue. See the like in Hos. 5. 14.

Vers. 23. he that sacrificeth confession] that is, which giveth confession (or thanks) as a sacrifice, the Greek translatheth, The sacrifice of praise shall glorify me; the Chaldee, He that slayeth evil concupiscence, and subdueth it, it shall be counted to him as a sacrifice of confession. disposeth his way] composeth and ordereth it according to these directions: or, he that putteth this way before him. to see the salvation] that is, to enjoy it; or, I will show it him. In Hebrew the word in redoundeth. See Psal. 27. 4. So Psal. 91. 16. and 85. 8.

PSAL. LI.

David prayeth for remission of sins, whereof he maketh a deep confession. 8 He prayeth for sanctification. 18 God delighteth not in sacrifice, but in a broken spirit. 20 A prayer for the Church.

To the master of the music, a Psalm of David. When Nathan the Prophet came unto him after he had gone in unto Bathsheba.

BE gracious to me, O God, according to thy kind mercy, according to the multitude of thy tender mercies wipe away my trespasses. Much wash me from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. [unspec 4]

For I know my trespasses, and my sin is before me continually. Against thee, against thee only have I sinned, and have done that which is evil in thine eyes, that thou mayest be just when thou speakest, mayest be pure when thou judgest. Loe in iniquity was I painfully brought forth, and in sin my mother conceived me. Loe the truth thou delightest in the inward parts, and in the secret thou hast made me know wisdom. Thou wilt purge me from sin with Hyssop, and I shall be clean, wilt wash me and I shall be whiter than snow. Thou wilt make me to hear joy and gladness, the bones that thou hast crushed, shall be gladsome. Hide thy face from my sins, and wipe away all my iniquities. A clean heart create thou to me, O God, & a firm spirit renew thou within me. Cast me not from thy face, and take not from me thy spirit of holiness. Restore to me the joy of thy salvation, and firmly sustain me with a free spirit. I will teach trespassers thy ways, and sinners shall convert unto thee. Deliver me from bloods, O God, the God of my salvation, my tongue shall shout thy justice. Lord thou shalt open my lips, and my mouth shall show forth thy praise.

For thou delightest not sacrifice, else would I give it; burnt offering thou wilt not contentedly accept. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit, a heart broken and contrite, O God, thou wilt not despise. Do well in thy good pleasure unto Zion, build thou the walls of Jerusalem. Then shalt thou delightfully accept the sacrifices of justice, the burnt offering and the whole oblation: then shall they offer up bullocks upon thine Altar.

Annotations.

HE had gone in] to wit, into the chamber, as Judge. 15. 1. that is, had lien with, as the phrase importeth, Gen. 6. 4. and is expressed, 2 Sam. 11. 4. Bathsheba] the daughter of Eliam, 2 Sam. 11. 3. called also Bathshua daughter of Ammiel, 1 Chron. 3. 5. She was wife to Captain Urijah the Hittite, and whiles her husband was at the leager of Rabbah, David lay with her; and she being with child, he first sought to cover his fault by sending for Vrijah home, that he might be esteemed the father; which not succeeding, he sent him back with privy letters to Joab the General for to procure his death. Which being done, David married his wife Bathshebah, so thinking to cloak his sin. But God was displeased, and sent Nathan to reprove David; whereupon he repented and made this Psalm, for an example unto, and comfort of sinners. See the history at large, 2 Sam. 11. and 12.

Vers. 4. much wash me] or, multiply wash me, that is, thoroughly wash me, again and again. He applieth the washings used in the Law, (Lev. 11. 25. 32. Exod. 19. 10. Num. 19. 19.) to the spiritual washing from sin in the blood of Christ, Rev. 7. 14. 1 John. 1. 7. So after in verse 9. and Ier. 4. 14. The Hebrew Hereb (or Harbeh) multiply, is used for much, as 2 King. 10. 18. where it is opposed to little. And that which in one place is written harboh, multiply: in another is la-rob, and rabbah, much, as 1 King. 10. 10. with 2 Chron. 9. 9. 2 Sam. 8. 8. with 1 Chron. 18. 8.

Vers. 5. I know] or acknowledge. So Isa. 59. 12. Ier. 3. 13. [unspec 5]

Vers. 6. Against thee] or, Unto thee only. This is either because he concealed his sin from men, but could not from God, 2 Sam. 12. 12. or, that only God could remit the punishment of his sin, Isa. 43. 25. So Psal. 41. 5. I have sinned] and so am deprived of the glory of God, as Rom. 3. 23. that which is evil, &c.] which displeaseth thee. This hath reference to 2 Sam. 11. 9. and 11. 27. that thou mayest be just] that is, thou hast suffered me to fall into sin, that thou mayest be just, (or justified,) in whatsoever thou hast spoken for the salvation of thy servant, or punishment of my sin, 2 Sam. 12. 10. For the injustice of man, commendeth the justice of God, Rom. 3. 4, 5. or it may have reference to the former words, I know (and acknowledge) my sin, that thou mayest be just. when thou speakest] or in thy speaking, that is, in thy words, as Rom. 3. 4. so after, in thy judging. mayest be pure] or clear, sincere, unreprouable, and consequently mayest win the victorin in judgment: whereupon the Apostle (according to the Greek version) saith, mayest overcome, Rom. 3. 4. The Hebrew Zacah also in the Syriac tongue is used for overcoming.

Vers. 7. in iniquity] the perverseness or vitiosity of nature, commonly called original, & by the Apostle, inhabiting sin, Rom. 7. 17. whereby all men are carnal, sold under sin, John. 3. 6. Rom. 7.

14. The Chaldee calleth it, the sin of evil concupiscence. This David maketh the fountain of all his actual sins. painfully brought forth] borne with sorrow. The Hebrew signifieth, the painful travel of child-birth, Isa. 26. 17, 18. and 51. 2. Psal. 29. 9. conceived] or was warm in heat, as Gen. 30. 38. 39, 41.

Vers. 8. the inward parts] or the covered parts, the heart roots where wisdom is seated of God, Job 38. 36. named in Hebrew of covering, plaistering, or pargetting. the secret] or, the closed place; which being referred to the person, meaneth the heart, which God reneweth, Ezek. 36. 26. and wherein he writeth his laws, Heb. 8. 10. And thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, the close place of the heart, which the Apostle calleth the hid man of the heart, 1 Pet. 3. 4. or, if it be referred to the thing, it meaneth the secrets of wisdom; Job 11. 6. the wisdom of God in a mystery, the hid wisdom manifested by the Gospel, 1 Cor. 2. 7. And thus the Greek applieth it, saying, the unmanifest and hid things of wisdom thou hast manifested to me. hast made] or wilt make me know; thus he riseth by faith out of his sin, being taught wisdom of God.

Vers. 9. Thou wilt purge me from sin] or prayer-wise, Purge thou me from sin, or, make me sinless, expiate or purify my sin. Prayers are often made in this manner, as with assurance that they shall be performed. See the note on Psal. 17. 8. Eizop] or hyssop, of the Hebrew Ezob, and Greek hyssopos, an herb or tree growing out of the wall, 1 King 4. 33. appointed in the law for to sprinkle and cleanse with, Exod. 12. 22. Num. 19. 6. 18. Lev. 14. 4. 6. 49. Heb. 9. 19. and the sprinkling with it, was the last part of the purification of the unclean, here used to signify the full cleansing from sin by the blood of Christ, Heb. 9. 13, 14. whether it were that herb which we now call eizop, or no, is uncertain. The Childee paraphraseth, Thou wilt sprinkle me like a Priest, which sprinkleth the unclean with the purifying waters, with hyssop, with the asbes of a heifer, and I shall be clean. wash me] another legal rite for purifying the unclean, Lev. 14. 8. and 15. 5. 8. 13. 22. figuring our sanctification, Heb. 10. 22. Tit. 3. 5. Isa. 4. 4.

Vers. 10. to hear joy] the joyful tidings of the forgiveness of my sins. bones that thou hast crushed] or brayed: nothing hereby the greatness of his grief and affliction, Job 2. 2. 5. and 30. 17. and 33. 19. 21. Psal. 38. 4.

Vers. 11. Hide thy face] that is, regard not my finhes to visit them on me. See the contrary, Psal. 90. 5. and 109. 14, 15. Ier. 16. 17.

Vers. 12. firm spirit] a spirit ready prepared, steadfast and certain. The like is applied to the heart, Psal. 11 2. 7. and 57. 8.

Vers. 13. from thy face] or from thy presence: This was an effect of God's utmost anger against sinners, 2 Kings 24. 20. Ier. 7. 15. and 52. 3. Gen. 4. 16. thy spirit of holiness] thy holy Ghost: which the Chaldee expoundeth, thy holy spirit of Prophecy.

Vers. 14. the joy of thy salvation] the joy which proceedeth from thy salvation and deliverance of me from sin. a free spirit] a voluntary, free willing spirit, or a princely ruling spirit, as the Greek turneth it. See this word, Psal. 47. 10. by a free or princely spirit, he meaneth a spirit not in bondage to sin, called elsewhere the spirit of adoption, Rom. 8. 15, 16. whereby a man is made willing to obey the Lord, as Exod. 35. 21.

Vers. 16. from bloods] that is, from the guilt of my murder in shedding the blood of Uriah; as the Chaldee saith, from the judgment of murder; or, from my native corruption. See the note on Isal. 5. 7. shall shout] or shrill, sing joyfully and proclaim thy justice; such as Paul speaketh of, Phil. 3. 9.

Vers. 17. shalt open my lips] shalt give me occasion to speak freely and boldly: the Chaldee addeth, in thy law. This phrase is used Job 11. 5. and 32. 20.

Vers. 18. else I would give it] or, for else I would give it: as the Greek turneth it, if thou wouldst sacrifice, I had given it.

Vers. 19. The sacrifices of God] that is, which please God; or, as the Chaldee saith, holy to God. So, the works of God, John. 6. 28. heart broken] to wit, with sorrow for sin. So Isa. 61. 1. Luke 4. 18. Compare with this, Rom. 12. 1. also Isa. 57. 15. and 66. 2.

Vers. 20. Do well] or Do good, deal bounteously: it comprehendeth all things needful for profit or pleasure. unto Zion] the Church and place of public worship. See Psal. 2. 6. walls of Jerusalem] or, of Ierushalaim, as the Hebrew writeth it in the duall form, as it were the double Jerusalem, to wit, the higher and the lower: from which the Apostle gathereth an allegory, Gal. 4. 25, 26. This city was first called Salem, that is, Peace, where Melchizedek was King, Gen. 14. 18. Heb. 7. 2. It was named also Iebus, Judge. 19. 10. of one Iebusi son of Canaan, Gen. 10. 16. and was possessed by his seed the Jebusites, who held therein the fort of Zion, till David wanne it from them, 1 Chron. 11. 4, 5, 7. Here also was the mount Morijah, whereon Solomon built the Temple, 2 Chron. 3. 1. where Abraham offered his son Isaac, Gen. 22. 2. And because there God's providence was seen, he named the place Jehovah-jireh, Gen. 22. 14. which Iireh, put to the former name Salem, maketh it Jerusalem, where Peace is seen: and as the city was enlarged by taking in mount Iireh or Morijah, so is the name: yet sometime (though very rare) it is called by the first name Salem; as Psal. 76. 3. This city God chose to be the place of his public worship, and there to dwell, 2 Chron. 7. 12. Psal. 132. 13, 14. and honorable things are spoken of this city, Psal. 87. 3. and of the walls thereof, which in the Jerusalem from above are of Jasper stone, with 12 foundations, garnished with all manner precious stones, and having the names of the Lambes 12 Apostles, Rev. 21. 10, 14, 18, 19. &c. the walls are called Salvation, and the gates Praise, and they are ever in God's sight, Isa. 60. 18. and 49. 16. For the building up of these doth David here pray.

Vers. 21. Then shalt thou accept] when the place is built which thou hast chosen; for he bade his people to offer in every place, Levite. 17. 5 8 9. Deut. 12. 11, 13. and promised to accept their sacrifices on his holy mountain, Ezek. 20. 40. Therefore Israel was in great affliction and reproach, when the walls of Jerusalem were unbuilt, Neb. 1. 3. and the people's negligence in building God's house was sharply blamed, Hag. 1. 2, 4, 8, 9. and 2. 15. &c. of justice] that is, sacrifices offered in faith, and according to the will of God. See Psal. 4. 6. the whole oblation] the Calil: a kind of oblation that was wholly and every whit given up in fire unto God: and differed from the Gnolah, or Burnt-offering, which was only of beasts or birds, Lev. 1. whereas the Calil was also of flower, called the Meat-offering, but burned all together, which the common Meat-offerings were not, Lev. 6. 20, 22, 23. It was also of beasts, 1 Sam. 7. 9.

PSAL. LII.

David condemning the shightfulnesse of Doeg prophesieth his destruction; 8 at which the just shall rejoyce. 10 David upon confidence of God's mercy, giveth thanks.

To the master of the music, an instructing Psalm of David. When Doeg the Adomite came and shown to Saul, and said to him, David came unto the house of Achimelech.

WHy boastest thou in evil, O mighty man? the mercy of God endureth all the day. Thy tongue thinketh woeful evils, as a sharp rasour doing deceit. Thou lovest evil more than good; falsehood more than to speak justice Selah. Thou lovest all words of swallowing; the tongue of deceit. Also God will destroy thee to perpetuity, he will pull thee away and pluck thee out of the tent, and will root thee up, out of the land of the living Selah. And the just shall see and fear, and shall laugh at him. Behold the man that put not God for his strength, but trusted in the multitude of his riches; he was strong in his woeful evil. But I, as a green Olive in the house of God, I trust in the mercy of God ever and aye. I will confess thee forever, for thou hast done this; and will patiently expect thy name, for it is good before thy gracious Saints.

Annotations.

DOeg] a servant of King Saul, and master of his herdmen, 1 Sam. 21. 7. the Adomite] that is, an Aedomite, or, Idumean, as the Greek here translath: or a man of Adamah a city of the tribe of Naphtali, Ios. 19. 36. of Achimelech] David flying from Saul's tyranny, came for comfort to the house of God in Nob, where Achimelech the Priest administered. He gave unto David and his company the showbread •o ⟨◇⟩ armed him with the sword of Goljath the Philistian, and asked counsel of the Lord for him. Dōg saw this, and told King Saul, and after (when no other man would) himself at the Kings commandment, ran upon Achimelech and the Priests, and killed 85 persons: and Nob the city of the Priests he smote with the edge of the sword, both man, woman, child and beast. But Abj•thar Achimelechs son escaped unto David, and told him, who there upon made this Psalm. See 1 Sam. 21. and 22. Matth. 12. 3 4.

Vers. 3. in evil] the Chaldee expounds it, in an evil tongue. O mighty man] or, Potentate, Doëg is thus named, for his chief place over King Saul's herdmen, 1 Sam. 21. 7 and his killing of so many Priests of the Lord, 1 Sam. 22. 18. 19. in which mischievous prowess he vaunted himself.

Vers. 4. thinketh] or understand, Why thinketh thy tongue? that is, uttereth the evils thought and premeditated. doing deceit] that is, as a rasour which instead of cutting the hair, cutteth the throat. Or it may be referred to the man, O doer of deceit, as the Greek saith, thou hast done deceit.

Vers. 5. justice] that is, truth or faithfulness. [unspec 6]

Vers. 6. words of swallowing] or of devouring, of perniciousness, that is, pernicious words which cause destruction.

Vers. 7. destroy] or pull thee down: a similitude taken from buildings pulled down, Levite. 14. 45. applied here to man's overthrow. So Job 19. 10. pull thee away] or take thee hence, as a coal of fire is taken with the rongs, Esa. 30. 4. pluck thee] as the stakes are plucked up when the tent is removed. This is applied to expulsion out of ones settled place; and is opposed to stablishing, Deut. 28. 63. Prov. 2. 22. and 15. 5. root thee up] as a tree plucked up by the roots, Jude 12. So Job 31. 12. land of the living] that is, this world. See Psal. 27. 13.

Vers. 8. shall see] the Chaldee paraphraseth, shalt see thy punishment, and fear before the Lord.

Vers. 9. the man] the mighty <ϕ> It hath reference to verse 3. he was strong] or, would be strong, and prevail; as Psal. 9. 20. or; strengthened and hardened himself. his woeful evil] or, in that he hath, that is, his substance; the Greek saith, in his vanity.

Vers. 10. green olive] always fresh and flourishing. See Psal. 37. 35. Ier. 11. 1. aye] continually: see Psal. 9. 6.

Vers. 11. hast done] the Chaldee addeth, hast done the vengeance of my judgment. [unspec 11]

PSAL. LIII.

David describeth the corruption of a natural man, 5 and convinceth them by the light of their consciences. 7 He glorieth in the salvation of God.

To the master of the music on Machalath, an instructing Psalm of David.

The fool saith in his heart there is no God: they have corrupted, and have made themselves abominable with injurious evil; there is none that doth good.

God from the heavens looked down upon the sons of Adam, to see if there were any that understandeth, that seeketh God. Everyone is gone back, together they are become unprofitable: there is none that doth good, none, not one. Do they not know, that work painful iniquity, that eat my people as they eat bread, they call not upon God. There they dreaded a dread where no dread was, for God hath scattered the bones of him that besiegeth thee; thou hast made them abashed, for God hath contemptuously cast them off. Who will give out of Zion the salvations of Israel? when God returneth the captivity of his people, Jacob shall be glad, Israel shall rejoice.

Annotations.

MAchalath] this seemeth to be a kind of instrument much like Nechiloth, Psal. 5. 1. It may also be interpreted sickness or infirmity. So in the title of Psal. 88. an instructing Psalm] Maskil: see Psal. 32. 1. This Psalm is the same in effect, and almost in words, with the 14 Psalm, some few things changed. See the notes there.

Vers. 2. with injurious evil] so the Greek saith, with iniquities they are made abominable. Or, we may read, they have done abominable <...> .

Vers. 4. everyone is gone back] Hebr. All he, that is, Each one, or whosoever he be, in particular. In Psalm. 14. 3. he speaketh generally, all is departed.

Vers. 6. where no dread was] that is, no cause of dread. God giveth to the wicked a trembling heart, Deut. 28. 65. and a sound of fear is in their ears, Job 15. 21. yea the sound of a lease chaseth them, and they flee when none pursueth, Lev. 26. 36. Prov. 28. 1. of him that besiegeth thee] or, that pitcheth c•pe against thee, speaking to the godly man. The Greek turneth it, of men-pleas•rs. hast made them abashed] or, shalt make abashed, (for it is a promise, but set down as already performed, for the more assurance,) or, shalt put to confusion, to wit, them, or their counsel, as they would have confounded thine. See Psal. 14. 6.

Vers. 7. who will give] a wish; O that therewere given, &c. See the notes on Psal. 14. 7. salvations] that is, full salvation, health or deliverance.

PSAL. LIV.

David complaining of the Ziphims, prayeth for salvation. 6 Upon his confidence in God's help he promiseth sacrifice.

To the master of the music on Neginoth, an instructing Psalm of David. When the Ziphims came and said unto Saul, doth not David hide himself with us?

O God, in thy name save me, and in thy power judge me. O God, hear my prayer, hearken to the words of my mouth. For strangers are risen up against me, and daunting tyrants seek my soul, they have not set God before them Selah. Lo• God is mine helper, the Lord is with them that uphold my soul. He will turn the evil to my enviers: in thy truth suppress thou them. With voluntariness I will sacrifice unto thee, I will confess thy Name Jehovah, because it is good. For he hath freely rid me out of all distress, and mine eye hath seen on mine enemies.

Annotations.

Ziphi•s] or Zipheans. the Inhabitants of Ziph, [unspec] a city in the tribe of Judah, Ios. 15. 24. by which there was a wilderness and wood, wherein David hid himself when he fled from Ke•ah for fear of King Saul, and was bewrayed by these Ziphims unto the King, once and the second time, whereupon he made this Psalm. See the history, 1 Sam. 23. 14, 15. 19, &c. and 26 1, 2.

Vers. 5. strangers] the Ziphims, estranged from God, and alienated from his people, Psal. 58. 4. Isa. 1. 4. So wicked men are called Heathens, Psal. 59. 6. In Psal. 86. 14. his is repeated by David: but for Zarim, strangers, there he calleth them Zedim, proud. daunting tyrants] terrible dismayers, as Saul and his retinue, whose terror daunted many. See Psal. 10. 18. seek my soul] my life, to take it away: see the note on Psal. 35. 4.

Vers. 6. with them that uphold] or, among the upholders, the valiant soldiers that helped David in his battles: as 1 Chron. 12. 1. &c. a like manner of speech is, Judge. 11. 35. thou art among them that trouble me.

Vers. 7. return the evil] to wit, which they intend against me. For the righteous escapeth out of trouble, and the wicked shall come in his stead, Prov. 11. 8. suppress them] restrain them, or cut them off. Compare Psal. 143. 12.

Vers. 8. With voluntariness] or, In freeness; that is, freely, liberally, of a willing mind. Such sacrifices the law mentioneth, Levite. 7. 16.

Vers. 9. eye hath seen] to wit, the work, or reward of God; in Chaldee, the vengeance on mine enemies, mentioned before in verse. 7. and as is expressed in Psal. 91. 8. but often this word is concealed, as Psal. 35. 21. and 92. 12. or hath viewed them with delight: see Psal. 22. 18.

PSAL. LV.

David in his prayer complaineth of his fearful case. 10 He prayeth against his enemies, of whose wickedness and treachery he complaineth. 17 He comforteth himself in God's preservation of him, and confusion of his enemies.

To the master of the music, on Neginoth, an instructing Psalm of David.

HEare thou, O God, my prayer, and hide not thyself from my supplication for grace. Attend to me, and answer me; I mourn in my meditatiō, & make a troubled noise. For the voice of the enemy, because of the vexation of the wicked; for they bring upon me painful iniquity, and in anger they spitefully hate me. My heart is pained within me, and the terrors of death are fallen upon me. Fear and trembling is come into me, and horror hath covered me. So that I say, who will give me a wing as a dove, that I might fly and dwell. Loe, I would make far off my wandering flight, I would lodge in the wilderness Selah. I would hasten my safe escaping from the wind of driving forward, from the tempest. Swallow them, Lord, divide their tongue, for I see violent wrong and strife in the city. Day and night, they compass it upon the walls thereof, and painful iniquity and molestation are within it. Woeful evils are within it, and fraud and guile departeth not from the street thereof. For not an enemy reproached me, for I could bear it: not my hater magnified against me, for I could be hidden from him. But it was thou O man esteemed of as myself, my guide and my known acquaintance. We which together made sweet secret counsel, went into God's house with the society. Let death seize upon them, let them go down quick to hell; for evil are in their dwelling place in their in most part. I will call unto God, and Jehovah will save me. Evening, and morning, and at no one, will I meditate and make a noise, and he heard my voice. He hath redeemed my soul in peace from the battle against me, for with many were they with me. God will hear and afflict them, even he that sitteth from antiquity Selah, for that they have no changes, neither fear they God. He sent forth his hand on his peaceable friends, he profaned his covenant. The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but battle was in his heart; his words were softer than oil, but they were drawn swords. Cast thou thy careful burden upon Jehovah, and he will sustain thee; he will not give the just man forever to be moved. But thou, O God, wilt make them go down to the pit of corruption; men of bloods and of deceit, shall not live half their days, but I will trust in thee.

Annotations.

VERs. 3. I mourn] as one cast down with sorrow, making a doleful noise. meditation] or, discoursing talk, prayer, complaint. The Hebrew Siach signifieth any large discourse or exercise of the mind or mouth, by busy musing, talking, praying, communing with ones self or others.

Vers. 4. they bring] they make move or turn upon me iniquity; both by unjust imputation of evil, and inflicting of punishment. For the word is used both for iniquity and the punishment thereof, as is noted Psal. 5. 6. The Chaldee saith, they testify falsehood against me. spitefully hate me] or, bear me a privy grud•e, with a purpose to avenge, as the word signifieth, Gen. 27. 41. and 50. 15.

Vers. 5. is pained] or, trembleth with pain. The word usually meaneth such pains as a woman feeleth in her travel.

Vers. 6. horror] or, amazed quaking; when the senses are smitten with astonishment. Therefore the Greek, turns it, darkness.

Vers. 7. who will give] a wish, O that I had, or, O that some would give. See Psal. 14. 7. wing as a dove] which being a fearful bird, flieth fast to deserts and rocks to hide it self, Ier. 48. 28. wing is put for wings, as fowl for fowls, Psal 8. 9. that I might fly] or, I would fly, and dwell, to wit, somewhere, where I can find safety; but no place is named, to note the more uncertainty.

Vers. 8. in the wilderness] the place whither the woman (the Church) also flieth in her persecution, Rev. 12. 6. 14.

Vers. 9. hasten safe escaping, &c.] or, I would speed my evasion, hasten any deliverance. So David hastened his flight from Absalom, 2 Sam. 15. 14▪ &c. from wind of driving forward] that is, from the driving (stormy) wind, that beareth all things away before it. meaning the storm of persecution, which forced him to fly. The Greek turneth it, from pusillanimitie (or seebleness of spirit;) intimating his inly fears driving him to this flight.

Vers. 10. Swallow] that is, destroy. It hath respect to Dathan and Abirams death, who with their company were swallowed alive into the earth, Numb. 16. 32. as after in the 16 verse here is explained. divide their tongue] for, their tongues, that is, their language, counsels, plots, &c. As at Babel tongues were confounded, Gen. 11. 7. so tongues of Absalom's Counsellors (that persecuted David) were divided, 2 Sam. 17. 1,—5,—14.

Vers. 11. they compass it] to wit, violent wrong and strife before mentioned, which were as walls about the town: or they, that is, those wicked persons.

Vers. 13. For, not an enemy] or, Because it was no enemy that reproached me: the Greek turneth it thus, for if an enemy reproached me, I could suffer it, &c. for I could bear] Hebr. and I could bear it: and being instead of for, or otherwise, as in Psal. 60. 13. and 51. 18. magnified] that is, spake great and boastfull words: See before, Psal. 35. 26.

Vers. 14. But thou] Hebr. And thou; and is often used for but, as Gen. 42. 10. Isa. 10. 20. So in Greek, Rom. 1. 13. and often in the Psalms. The Chaldee addeth, But thou Achi•ophel a man like to me, &c. esteemed of as myself] or, according to mine order, or estimation, that is, my very equal, my p•re: of as much regard and worth as myself. The Greek turneth it, like minded: a word which the Apostle useth, Phil. 2. 20. my guide] or, my Duke, my Chiefetaine, or master. So the Hebrew All•ph is used generally for a Duke or Chief governor▪ Gen. 36. •5. &c. and so the Greek turneth it here. It is also used in special for •hiefe friend, P•. 16. 28. and 17. 9. Mic. 7. 5. which sense is good in this place. A ⟨...⟩ I may be the man here aimed at, as the Chaldee nameth him, who was one of David's Princes and friends, even his chief counselor, and became a traitor, 2 Sam. 15. 12. 31. and 16. 23. my known acquaintance] or, my familiar whom I acquainted with my counsels, purposes, &c. as Psal. 31. 12.

Vers. 15. made sweet secret counsel] that is, sweetly communicated our secret affairs each to other, or the mystery of god ⟨...⟩ ▪ whereof see Psal. 25. 14. These were fulfilled between David and Ach•tophel, Christ and Judas the traitor. with the ⟨ϕ⟩ or, in the concourse, company, that is, the multitude that run together, frequenting the public assemblies. And this was done with cutward haste and hurtling together, and with ⟨ϕ⟩ minds: wherefore the Greek hereturneth it unanimitie or concord. This word is after used for a company or concourse, Psalm. 64. 3. and hath the name of tumultuous running together, Psal. 2. 1.

Vers. 16. Let death seize] o•, Death shall seize, exact his due as a creditor on his debtor. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Let sentence of death make them guilty. upon them] and, on him, as the Hebrew form noteth, that is, on every of them. to hell] to the place and state of death, Psal. 16. 10. as the conspirators with Korah went down quick into hell, Numb. 16. 30, 33. in their dwelling place] or, in their •journing place; for this life is a pilgrimage where men are but guests. in their inmost part] or, within them, in the midst of them, meaning their heart.

Vers. 18. and at noon] These three times in the day they used to pray in Israel, as David here practiced, and Daniel afterwards, Dan. 6. 10. and at the sixth hour (which was their •oone tide) Peter ⟨ϕ⟩ to prayer, Act. 10. 9. Though the day was then divided into twelve hours, John. 11. 9. yet of old they had but these three times or hours▪ meditate] or pray: see the note on verse 3. and Psal▪ 77. 4.

Vers. 19. from the battle against me] from the ⟨ϕ⟩ sigh• (the conflict) with me: the Greek saith, from them that ⟨ϕ⟩ near to me, meaning his foes; as Psal, 27. 2. with many] or, in many were they with me. This is doubtful whether it be meant of foes, or friends. If of ⟨ϕ⟩, it may be resolved thus, for with many (with a great multitude) they were fighters with me. If of friends, it may be understood of God's Angels, that in a great number were with him, pitching campe for his aid, Psal. 34. 8. as Elishah said, many moe are with us than with them, 2 Kings 6. 16, 17. The Chaldee explaineth it, for in many afflictions his word was for my help.

Vers. 20. even he that sitteth] that is, the eternal, that abideth one and the same, in counsel, power, &c. no changes] or alterations from evil to good, and are not bettered. Thus the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it, of sinner which change not their evilway. It may also be meant no alterations of their good estate, that is, no adversities, as Io• 10. 17.

Vers. 21. He sent forth his hand] that is, laid violent hands: as Nehem. 13. 21. his peaceable friends] or, them that were at peace with him.

Vers. 22. drawn swords] that is, wounding deadly. A like similitude Solomon useth, Prov. 12. 18. There is that speaketh words like the prickings of a sword. See also Psal. 57. 5.

Vers. 23. thy careful burden] or thy gift, that is, whatsoever thou art careful to have given thee in all thy wants and need, or whatsoever he giveth thee to exercise thy faith & patience, by adverse enemies. The Greek well turneth it, thy care: which phrase the Apostle useth, 1 Pet. 5. 7. Cast all your care upon him, &c. The Chaldee saith, Cast thy hope on the Lord. Compare also herewith Mat. 6. 25. Luke 12. 22. Psal. 37. 5. Sustaine thee] or, foster and nourish thee, with food and all other necessaries. The word though it be general, yet is often used for nourishing, Gen. 45. 11. and 47. 12. 1 King. 18. 4. So the Greek also turneth it here. not give] that is, not suffer, as Psal. 16. 10.

Vers. 24. pit of corruption] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the deep Gehenna. men of bloods, &c.] that is, bloody men; as Psalm. 5. 7. not live half] Heb. not halven their days, that is, not come to half the days of their life, but be cut off by untimely death. So Job. 15. 32.

PSAL. LVI.

David praying to God in confidence of his word, complaineth of his enemies. 10 He professeth his confidence in God's word, and promiseth to praise him.

To the master of the music, concerning the dumb dove in fair places, Michtam of David, when the Philistines took him in Gath.

BE gracious to me, O God, for sorry man would swallow me up; all the day, warring he oppresseth me. Mine enviers would swallow me up all the day, for many do warre with me, O most high. In the day I shall fear, I will trust unto thee.

In God, I will praise his word; in God do I trust, I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. All the day my words they grievously wrest; against me all their thoughts be for evil. They draw together, they keep close themselves, they do observe my steps, because they earnestly expect my soul. For painful iniquity shall they escape safe? in anger cast down the people's, O God. Thou hast counted my wandering; put thou my tears in thy bottle: are they not in thy register? Then shall mine enemies turn back in the day that I call; this I know, that God will be for me. In God, I will praise the word; in Jehovah, I will praise the word.

In God do I trust, I will not fear what earthly man can do unto me. Thy vows are upon me, O God; I will pay confessions unto thee. For thou hast delivered my soul from death; hast thou not also my feet from sliding? for to walk on, before God, in the light of the living.

Annotations.

Concerning the dumb dove] or after the Hebrew phrase, the dove of dumbnesse; thus David speaketh of himself, as of a dove subject to vexation among the venous kites the Philistines, which were far disoyned from God's people in faith, though near in habitation; as the Greek translateth it, the people far off from the Saints. Or Aelem, interpreted dumbnesse, may also be turned, a Congregation, as in Psalm. 58. 2. and so the meaning is, the dove of the Congregation of them that be far of, that is, of the Philistines. And thus the Chaldee expoundeth it, To praise for the congregation, which is like to a silent dove, in the time when they are driven far from their cities, &c. Michtam] a Jewel, or golden Psalm▪ See Psalm. 16. 1. took him in Gath] David fleeing from Saul to Achish King of Gath, and being there known, changed his behavior, and feigned him-self foolish, and was so dismissed, 1 Sam. 21. 10, &c. whereupon he made the 4. Psalm. After that he fled again to K. Achish, and dwelt there with him, he and his company, 1 Sam. 27. 1, 2, 3, &c.

Vers. 2. would swallow me up] or, breatheth after me, to take and devoure me. The word Shaaph is used for sooping in of drink, Job 5. 5. also, of the wind or breath, Ier. 2. 4. and 14. 6. and so for breathing after anything to come thereto, John 7. 2. Eccles. 1. 5. So after, in Psal 57 4. and 119. 131. O most high] O high God, as the Chaldee explaineth it. The Greek saith, from the height; we may also translate it, in height, that is, highly (proudly) they war against me. But Marom Height, is sometime God's attribute, as Mich. 6. 6. Psal. 92. 9.

Vers. 4. In the day] or, what day, that is, whensoever I shall be afraid.

Vers. 5. what flesh can do] or, question-wise, what can flesh do unto me? by flesh, meaning corrupt and weak man, as is expressed, verse. 12. The like title is given to men, in Psal. 78. 9. Gen. 6. 3. Isaiah 40. 6.

Vers. 6. they grievously wrest] they pairfully form, and frame my words (or my matters) perverting them, and giving them another figure or fashion. So the Hebrew word is used for fashioning, Job 10. 8. It signifieth also, grieving, Esa. 63. 9.

Vers. 7. They draw together] or, gather, that is, convene and combine together, or, gather wars, as is expressed, Psal. 140. 3. So Psal. 59. 4. my steps] or my heels or *foots*les, after the manner of that old Serpent, Gen. 3. 15.

Vers. 8. cast down] or make descend, to wit, to the pit of corruption, as Psal. 55. 24. or nether parts of the earth, as Ezek. 32. 18.

Vers. 9. my wandering] my flitting to and fro, as from Saul's presence to Gath, 1 Sa. 21. 10. from thence to the cave of Adullam, 1 Sam. 22. 1. from thence to Mispeh in Moab, verse. 3. then to the forest of Hareth in Judah; verse. 5. then to Keilah, 1 Sam. 23. 5. thence to the wilderness of Ziph, verse. 14. thence to the wilderness of Maon, ver. 25. then to Eugedi, 1 Sam. 24. 1, <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> . and so from place to place, as a partrich on the mountains: in all which David acknowledged God's care and providence towards him. in thy bottle] that is, reserve them diligently. Bottles were used to put in milk and wine, Judge. 4. 19. 1 Sam. 16. 20. In the Hebrew there is an allusion to the former word wandering, called Nod, a bottle being also in that tongue called Nod, having difference in writing, but none in sound. are they not in thy register?] or, in thy book and reckoning? meaning, doubtless they are. A question is often used for an earnest affirmation or denial. As when one Evangelist saith, Do ye not err? Mar. 12. 24. another saith, ye do err, Mat. 22. 29.

Vers. 10. that God will be for me] or, with me, or, that God is mine: as the Greek saith, thou art my God.

Vers. 13. Thy vows are upon me] that is, I have thank-offerings ready, wherewith to pay my vows which I made unto thee. A like phrase is in Prov. 7. 14. Upon me are peace-offerings. See also how vows were paid with peace or thank-offerings, Lev. 7. 15, 16. Psal. 66. 13. Or, they are upon me, that is, I am bound to pay them, or, do now bind myself and take them upon me. The Chaldee saith, O me I have received, O God, thy vows. confessions] that is, as the Chaldee saith, sacrifices of confession, or thanks: which were distinguished from vows, Lev. 7. 12, 15, 16.

Vers. 14. hast thou not also] meaning, surely thou hast: as before in verse. 9. and Psal. 116. 9. from sliding] or, from driving, from thrust, that is, from sliding by the thrust of my enemies. to walk on] or converse: it noteth a continual and pleasing carriage of ones self acceptable to God: therefore the Greek expresseth it by well-pleasing; and the Apostle followeth the same, in Heb. 11. 5. from Gen. 5. 24. So in Psal. 116. 9. The meaning also of the phrase here is, that I may walk: as that which one Prophet saith, lashabeth, to dwell, 1 Chron. 17 4. another saith, leshibti, that I may dwell, 2 Sam. 7 5. the light of the living] or, light of life: meaning the vital of lively light which men here on earth do enjoy: and therefore in Job 33. 28, 30. this is opposed to the pit or grave; and in Psal. 116. 9. it is called the land of the living; whereof see Psal. 27. 13. This also respecteth the better light of life, mentioned by our Savior, John. 8. 12.

PSAL. LVII.

David in prayer flying unto God, complaineth of his dangerous case. 8 He encourageth himself to praise God.

To the master of the music, Corrupt not, Michtam of David, when he fled from the face of Saul into the cave.

BE gracious to me, O God, be gracious to me, for in thee my soul hopeth for safety, and in the shadow of thy wings will I hope for safety, till the woeful evils passeth over. I will call unto God most high, to the God that perfectly accomplisheth towards me. He will send from heavens, and save me; he hath put to reproach him that would swallow me up Selah: God will send his mercy and his truth. My soul is among Lions; I lie among inflamers, the sons of Adam; their teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword. Be exalted over the heavens, O God, over all the earth be thy glory. They prepared a net for my steps, he bowed down my soul; they digged a pit before me; they are fallen into the midst of it Selah. Firmly prepared is my heart, O God, firmly prepared is my heart; I will sing and praise with Psalm. Raise up my glory, raise up Psalterie and Harp, I will raise up at the day dawning. I will confess thee among the people's, O Lord, I will praise thee with Psalm among the nations. That thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the skies. Be exalted over the heavens, O God, over all the earth be thy glory.

Annotations.

Corrupt not] or, Bring not to corruption, or perdition. This word sometime importeth corruption of faith and manners, by sin, as is noted on Psal. 14. 1. sometime perdition, or utter destruction, the punishment of sin, Ps. 78. 38. 45. Gen. 6. 13 and 9. 11. 15. it is a more vehement word than killing, Ezek. 9. 6, 8. This word is also in the title of the 58, 59, and 75. Psalms. Michtam] a golden song. See Psal. 16. 1. from face] or, for fear of Saul. See Psal. 3. 1. into the cave] Saul sought David in the wilderness of Engedi, upon the rocks, among the wild goats; and being there in a cave,

David cut off the lap of Saul's coat, and would not kill him. Which when Saul after perceived, his heart relented for David's kindness, and he wept, acknowledging his fault. And taking an oath of David that he should not destroy his seed, he ceased his persecuting for a time, 1 Sam. 24. David in that distress made this Psalm.

Vers. 2. evils passeth] that is, every evil; or, the whole heap of evils passeth.

Vers. 3. perfectly accomplisheth] or performeth, to wit, his grace, or his promise; or my affairs, bringing them to a full end and stay. So Psal. 138. 8. A like speech the Apostle useth, Phil. 1. 6.

Vers. 4. He will send] or usually sendeth, to wit, his hand, as Psal. 144. 7. or, his Angel, as Dan. 3. 27. and so the Chaldee explaineth it; or, his mercy and truth, as after here followeth. swallow me] or, breatheth after me. See Psalm. 56. 2.

Vers. 5. Lions] called here Lebaim, heartie, stout, courageous Lions; of Leb, that is, heart, courage. As there be sundry sorts of Lions, so have they sundry names; see Psal. 7. 3. Lions are mentioned in the Scriptures for the stoutness of their heart, 2 Sam. 17. 10. boldness, Prov. 28. 1. and grimnesse of their countenance, 1 Chron. 12. 8. Saul and his Courtiers are here Lions to David, as were the Kings of Asshur and Babel after unto Israel, Ier. 50. 17. the Roman Emperor to Paul, 2 Tim. 4. 17. and all wicked rulers over the poor people, Prov. 28. 15. inflamers] boutefeus, meaning fiery, fierce, and raging persons, that flamed with wrath and envy, and inflamed others. Of such David did complain to Saul, 1 Sam. 24. 10. spears] Hebr. the spear; as chariot for chariots, Psal. 8. 18. So Agur speaketh of a generation whose teeth are swords, and their jaws knives, to eat up the afflicted out of the earth, Prov. 30. 14. See also Psalm. 55. 22. and 59. 8.

Vers. 6. over the heavens] the Chaldee expoundeth it, over the Angels of heaven: so in verse. 12. [unspec 6]

Vers. 9. Raise up] or Stir up, to wit, thyself, or Awake. A word of exciting, Judge. 5. 12. Compare this with Psal. 108. 2, 3, &c. my glory] my tongue or soul. See Psal. 16. 9. and 30. 13. at the day dawning] I will rouse up myself with my instruments. Or, I will raise up the day dawning, that is, I will prevent the early morning, and be up before it, and so stir it up. A figurative speech.

Vers. 11. That thy mercy] or, For thy mercy is great, &c. Compare Psal. 36. 6. [unspec 11]

PSAL. LVIII.

David reproveth wicked Judges: 4 describeth the nature of the wicked; 7 devoteth them to God's judgments: 11. Whereat the just shall rejoice.

To the Master of the Music Corrupt not; Michtam of David. [unspec 1]

INdeed, O assembly, speak ye justice? judge ye righteousnesses, O sons of Adam? Yea in heart ye work injurious evils in the land, ye weigh the violent wrong of your hands. The wicked are estranged from the womb, they err from the belly, speaking a lie. Hot poison they have, like as the hot poison of a Serpent, as of the deaf Asp, that stoppeth his ear. Which will not hear the voice of charmers, of him that inchanteth, enchantments of him that is made wise. O God, break their teeth in their mouth; burst out the Lions tushes, O Jehovah. Let them be refused as waters that pass away: bend he his arrows, be they as cut off. As a snail that melteth, let him go away; as the untimely birth of a woman; as they that have not seen the Sun. Ere that they shall perceive your thorns of the Bramble: even alive, even in wrath, he will tempestuously whirl it away. The just shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance; he shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked. And earthly man shall say, Surely there is fruit for the just; surely there is a God that judge in the earth.

Annotations.

[Corrupt not] Bring not to perdition, &c. See Psal. 57. 1. and 16. 1.

Vers. 2. O assembly] O band, Company or congregation. The Hebrew Aelem. which hath the signification of binding as a sheaf or bundle, seemeth here to be a company that are combined, and confederate. Or, it may be taken for the binding of the tongue, that is, dumbnesse, (as before in Psal. 56. 1.) and be read thus; Of a truth, do ye speak dumb justice? or, mutenesse of justice? As blaming them for speaking and boasting of justice, when indeed justice was dumb, and opened not her mouth, but they gave most unjust sentence. righteousnesses, or equities, that is, righteous, plain, and equal things. Judges are called God's, Psal. 82. 6. and therefore should imitate God, who saith, I do speak justice, and declare righteousnesses, Isa. 45. 19.

Vers. 3. ye weigh] or, ye balasse, (of the Hebrew Palas) ye peise. A similitude taken from the weighing of things which should be in even peise and proportion, Prov. 16. 11. so justice should weigh all words and works in equity, and reward them accordingly: but these weighed out wrong for right.

Vers. 4. from the womb] that is, even from their mothers womb, the wicked are estranged (do alienate themselves) from God, justice, and virtue. This noteth man's natural corruption. So in Esa. 48. 8.

Vers. 5. Hot poison they have] or, Hot wrath is to them. The Hebrew Chamath signifieth both poison and rage or fury, each of them being hot. The Greek here turneth it rage; the similitude of a serpent rather giveth it to be poison, as Psal. 140. 3. Rom. 3. 13. Deut. 32. 24. Though both are fitly applied to the wicked, who like serpents in fury spit out their venom and malice. like as] or, according to the likeness. It maketh an exact comparison, as no whit inferior to the serpent, which was the instrument to poison mankind, Gen. 3. serpent] or snake, called in Hebrew Nachash, of expertnesse, for it was more subtle than any beast of the field, Gen. 3. 1. deaf asp] or cockatrice, or the serpent Python. called in Hebrew Pethen, which name noteth (by the contrary) the unperswadednesse which this Psalm showeth to be naturally in that beast. And so the wicked have the title of Apeitheis, Unperswaded, or Disobedient, Tit. 1. 16. Ephes. 2. 2. stoppeth] Hebr. will stop, that is, usually stoppeth his ear, with his tail (as human writers report) whiles the other he layeth on the ground; or, is naturally deaf of it.

Vers. 6. the voice of charmers] which with words use to charm serpents, that they can neither bite nor sting, as may be gathered both by this place, and by Eccles. 10. 11. Ier. 8. 17. And these Charmers have their name in Hebrew of whispering, or, soft, sweet, and eloquent speaking, Psal. 41. 8 Isa. 3. 3. of him that inchanteth] or that conjureth, conjoineth, associateth. Enchanters have this title here, and in Deut. 18. 11. either because by sorcery they associate serpents, making them tame & familiar, that they hurt not; or because such persons use to bind and tie bands or things about the body, to heal or hurt by sorcery; or because by their conjuring art, they have society and fellowship with Devils. And that these evil arts are not here approved, the Law showeth, Deut. 18. Only similitudes are taken from them, as elsewhere from the thief, Rev. 16. 15. the unrighteous Judge, Luk. 18. 1, 2, 6, 7. the unjust Steward, Luke 16, &c. of him that is made wise] of the wised, that is, the learned, expert, the cunning mage.

Vers. 8. refused as waters] that is, (as the Greek explaineth,) set at naught, nothing esteemed; as waters that pass away and are not regarded. bend he his arrows] or, his arrow, (for the Hebrew hath a double reading;) that is, every of his arrows. And this may be meant of the wicked man, whose arrows bent at the just, shall be broken: or, of God, who shooteth at the wicked, and cutteth them off. be they as cut off] or, let them be as if they were cut off, or, even as staws: meaning it of the wicked's arrows: or if of their own persons, let them be even cut off, as the Greek saith, until they be weakened.

Vers. 9. snail that melteth] or, snail of melting, that is, a consuming snail; which creeping out of the shell, casteth her moistures, and so wasteth to death. Also with salt, a snail melteth into water. let him go away] or, walk meaning, let him die. So where one Prophet saith, to go with thy fathers, 1 Chron. 17. 11. another saith for it, sleep, that is, die, 2 Sam. 7. 12. the untimelybirth] or fallen birth, meaning fallen before due time. So Job. 3. 19. Eccles. 6. 3. 5.

Vers. 10. Ere that they shall perceive] or, Before men shall understand. He speaketh to the wicked of their sudden destruction. The meaning seemeth to be this: Ere men shall perceive (or feel,) the pricking of your thorns, which are thorns of the Bramble, God will as with a whirlwind destroy every of them. The bramble or brier (mentioned also in Iotha's parable, Judge. 9. 14, 15.) hath strong and sharp thorns, fit to resemble the evil counsels and deeds of the wicked. The Hebrew Sir is used both for a thorn, and a pot: wherefore some here translate po's, yet yielding the same sense. The Greek turneth it thorns. as alive] or even quick; which noteth sudden destruction, as Psal. 55. 16. let them go down to hell alive, or their lively vigor, which made them fear no destruction, as Psal. 38. 20. my enemies are alive are mighty. This word is sometime used for raw flesh 1 Sam. 2. 15, which some that translate the former word pots, retain also here. even in wrath, or, a with burning anger. We may also understand the word thorn thus: as well the living thorn, (that is, fresh and green,) as the thorn of burning, that is, the burnt or sear thorn: because on the bramble, some of the thorns are parched and arie, when others are young and green. he will tempestuously whirl it away] God will take away, (or skare away) it, that is, every thorn, as with a whirlwind or tempest. For, as with a whirlwind that passeth, the wicked is no more, Prov. 10. 25.

Vers. 11. his feet in blood] This noteth both the greatness of the slaughter, and comfortable use which the just shall make hereof. Compare Psalms, 68. 24. Isaiah 63. 3. Rev. 14. 20.

Vers. 12. earthly man] Hebr. Adam, put here for men in general: as son for sons, 2 King, 21. 6. with 2 Chr. 33. 6. See also Ps. 8. 9. fruit] that is, a comfortable reward, after their labors and troubles. As Heb. 12. 11. Jam. 3. 18. So the Chaldee translateth it, a good reward. God that judge] or God's judging. A mystery of the holy Trinity, used sundry times in the Scripture, as, God's caused me to wander, Gen. 20. 13. he is holy God's, Ios. 24. 19. he is living God's, Ier. 10. 10. though most commonly it is otherwise. See the note on Psal. 3. 3.

PSAL. LIX.

David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies. 7 He complaineth of their cruelty. 9 He trusteth in God. 12 He prayeth against them. 17 He praiseth God.

To the Master of the Music, Corrupt not; Michtam of David, when Saul sent, and they kept the house for to kill him.

DEliver me from mine enemies, O my God: from them that rise up against me, set thou me on high. Deliver me from the workers of painful iniquity, and save thou me from the men of bloods.

For loe they lay wait for my soul, the strong do draw together against me: not for my trespass, nor for my sin, Jehovah.

Without iniquity in me, they run and make ready: raise thee up to meet me, and see. And thou Jehovah God of hosts, God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathens: be not gracious to any that unfaithfully work iniquity Selah. They return at evening, they make noise as a dog, and compass the City. Loe, they utter with their mouth; swords are in their lips: for who heareth? But thou Jehovah wilt laugh at them, thou wilt mock at all the heathens. His strength, unto thee will I take heed, for God is mine high defense. The God of my mercy will prevent me, God will let me see on mine enviers. Slay them not, lest my people forget; make them wander abroad in thy power, and bring them down, our shield, Lord. The sin of their mouth, the word of their lips; when they shall be taken in their haughtiness; and of cursing, and of false denial, let them tell. Consume in wrath, consume and let them be no more; and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob, to the ends of the earth Selah. And they shall return at evening, make noise as a dog, and compass the city. They shall wander abroad for to eat, and shall howl if they be not satisfied. But I will sing thy strength, and will shout at morning thy mercy; for thou hast been an high defense to me, and a refuge in day of my distress. My strength, unto thee will I sing Psalm, for God is mine high defense, the God of my mercy.

Annotations.

COrrupt not] or bring not to perdition. See Plasm. 57. 1. Michtam] a notable song: see Psalm. 16. 1. to kill him] or to do him die. Saul having cast his spear at David, and missed him, sent messengers after unto David's house, for to keep (or watch) him, and to kill him. But his wife Michal (Saul's daughter,) bewrayed the matter, let David down at a window, and so he escaped, 1 Sam. 19. 10, 11, 12. Hereupon he made this Psalm.

Vers. 2. set me on high] set me aloft, where I may be safe, that my foes reach not to me.

Vers. 4. not for my trespass] to wit, against them; as else-where David professeth, 1 Sam. 24. 10, 12.

Vers. 5. without iniquity] to wit, of me, or on my part, understanding it of sin, as in the former verse: or without punishment (understanding it of the enemies) they run. &c. Iniquity is often used for Punishment: See Psalm. 69. 28. Or, without iniquity, (without blame) in their own conceit; as in Ierem 50. 7. their enemies said we offend not, because they have sinned, &c. to meet me] meaning, for good, that is, to assist me. For sometime meeting is to oppose and resist, Psal. 35. 3.

Vers. 6. to visit] namely, with punishment, as Exod. 20. 5. See otherwise, in Psal. 8. 5. the heathens] that is, the wicked mine enemies, called here heathens, as elsewhere strangers, Psal. 54. 5. unfaithfully work] or, distoyally commit. See this word, Psal. 25. 3.

Vers. 7. They return at evening] The enemies, like hungry dogs, come at evening, secretly to surprise and devour me. So wicked persecutors are likened to dogs, Psal. 22. 17. or it may be a prophesy of their extreme poverty, that when others go to rest, they go about howling for meat. make noise as a dog] barking, grinning, howling, as a dog for his meat; as after, verse. 15, 16. therefore the Greek turneth it, they are hungry.

Vers. 8. utter] or well out, as from a fountain; belch or babble, as Prov. 15. 2, 28. This similitude is explained, Ierem. 6. 7. As the fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice. swords &c.] that is, they speak sharp devouring words. So the Chaldee interpreteth it, words that are sharp like a sword. See Psal. 57. 5. who heareth] These are the adversaries words, who thought that none did hear, or (as the Chaldee addeth) would punish them.

Vers. 10. His strength] understand, O God that art his strength: and it may be meant of himself, though he speak as of another: 1. Because in the Hebrew there is sometime a sudden change of the person, as Dan. 9. 4. thou keepest covenant towards them which love him, that is, which love thee, Deut. 5. 10. that love me, and keep his Commandments; for, my commands, Mic. 1. 2. Hear ye people all they, for all ye. 2. Because in the last verse of this Psalm it is repeated, My strength. 3. Also in this place, both the Greek and Chaldee turn it My strength. 4. Because in the next verse it is written in the Hebrew text letters, his mercy, but by the vowels and margin, read, my mercy; which giveth occasion to suppose the like meaning here. Howbeit the sense is good, if we understand it of the enemy Saul, thus, O God that art his strength, and hast given him the kingdom, and this power. For even wicked rulers have no power, except it be given them from above, John. 19. 11. And David much respected Saul, as God's Anointed, 1 Sam 26. 11. 2 Sam. 1. 14. I take heed] or, will I keep, observe, that is, wait upon thee, or keep thanks and praises for thee, as verse. 18.

Vers. 11. God of my mercy] or, of his mercy, (as is observed on the former verse;) or, my God of mercy, that is, my merciful God. prevent me] to wit, with mercy, or blessings, as Psal. 21. 4. let me see] to wit, vengeance, Psalm. 54. 9. as the Chaldee also here explaineth it.

Vers. 12. people forget] to wit, their sin, and punishment for the same. Dead men are forgotten, Psal. 31. 13. Eccles. 9. 5. so their punishment whiles they live, is the more memorable. make them wander] to wit, as vagabonds. The word hath reference to Cain's judgment, who was not killed, but marked for a vagabond, Gen. 4. 14, 15. Some punishments are less tolerable than death it self, Revelat. 9. 6.

Vers. 13. The sin of their mouth, &c.] This sentence is difficult; for, 1. It may have reference to the former, that my people forget not their sins and punishments, but may tell of them: or, 2. It may respect themselves; let them tell (or confess) their own sins and punishments, as did Cain, Judas, &c. Gen. 4. 13, 14. Mat. 27. 4. Or, 3. It may show the cause of their judgments, For the sin of their mouth, &c. and so the Chaldee expoundeth it. when they shall.] or, and let them be taken. and of cursing] or, for the curse, (the execration,) which may be understood of the sin, according to Psal. 10. 7. or, of the punishment thereof, as Deut. 30. 7. of false denial] of their lying, or of their leanness. The original signifieth either, and may also be meant of sin, or the punishment thereof. let them tell] or, they shall tell, speaking of his people, or of the wicked themselves.

Vers. 14. Consume] to wit, them, as Loose, Mat. 21. 2. for, loose him, Mark. 11. 2.

Vers. 15. And they shall return] or, let them return &c. a prophesy of, or prayer for their punishment answerable to their sin, as before, verse. 7.

Vers. 16. They shall wander] or, make themselves wander, scatter themselves abroad. The Hebrew hath a double reading, to include both these: so 2 Sam. 15. 20. See a like punishment of the wicked, Job 15. 23. The Chaldee addeth, They shall wander abroad, that they may take a prey for to eat. shall howl] or, shall tarry all night, to wit, hungry and unsatisfied. The Hebrew signifieth either of these: but the Greek chooseth the former, they shall murmur, howling for hunger.

Vers. 17. sing thy strength] that is, praise with song thy strength, who canst defeat my soes, and protect me.

PSAL. LX.

David complaining to God of former afflictions, now upon better hope prayeth for deliverance. 8 Comforting himself in God's promises, he craveth that help wherein he trusteth.

To the Master of the Music, upon Shushan eduth, Michtam of David, for to teach.

When he fought with Aram of Mesopotamia, and with Aram of Zobah: and Joab turned, & smote Aedom in the valley of salt, twelve thousand.

O God, thou didst cast us away, thou didst break us, thou wast angry; turn again unto us. Thou didst make the land to quake, didst rive it; heal thou the breaches thereof, for it is moved. Thou didst show thy people a hard thing; thou diddest give us to drink the wine of astonishing horror. Thou hast given to them that fear thee, a banner to be high displayed, because of the certain truth Selah. That thy beloved may be delivered; save thou with thy right hand, and answer me. God spake by his holiness, I will be glad: I shall divide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth. Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh mine, and Ephraim the strength of mine head; Iehudah shall be my law-giver. Moab my washing pot: over Aedom I shall cast my shoe: Palestine shout thou over me. Who will lead me along to the city of strong defense, who will lead me unto Aedom? Is it not thou, O God, that hadst cast us away, and wouldest not go forth, O God, in our hosts? O give thou us help from distress, for vain falsehood is the salvation of earthly man. Through God we shall do valiantness, and he will tread down our distressers.

Annotations.

SHushan] that is, the six-stringed instrument, (or Lily.) See Psal. 45. 1. eduth] that is, the testimony; which here either belongeth to the music now unknown to us, or meaneth the Psalm to be a testimony of David's faith & thankfulness; or to be sung by the Priests before the Ark of God in the Sanctuary; which Ark and Tables of the covenant in it, was called the Testimony, Exod. 40. 5, 20. Michtam] a golden song: See Psal. 16. 1.

Vers. 2. Aram] that is, the Aramites, or Syrians; the posterity of Aram, the son of Shem, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 22. Mesopotamia] a country so commonly called of the Greek, Act. 7. 2. in Hebrew Naharajim, that is, of (or between) the two rivers, meaning Tygris and Euphrates, between which this land lay. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, Aram which is by Euphrates. Zobah] a country near the other, called of Greek Writers Syria Saphena. Aedom in the valley of salt] that is, the Aedomites, or Idumeans in the salt valley, a place in that country, whereof mention is also made, 2 King. 14. 7. twelve thousand] in the history, 2 Sam. 8. 13. this victory is ascribed to David, in 1 Chron. 18. 12. it is ascribed to Abishai, Joab's brother, and there also the number is eighteen thousand. It seemeth that Captain Abishai first set on them, and slew 6000. after him followed Joab, and slew 12000 more, here mentioned. And to David is this victory attributed, because he was King.

Vers. 3. cast us away] This complaint seemeth to have reference unto that miserable state wherein Israel was, 1 Sam. 13. 19, &c. and 31. 7. turn] The Chaldee addeth, turn thy glory to us.

Vers. 4. the land quake] that is, change the state thereof; as Hag. 2. 7. compared with Hebr. 12. 26, 27, 28. also Ezek. 31. 16. This land, the Chaldee expoundeth the land of Israel. rive it] as at earthquakes rifs and chinks appear. This word is not else-whereused in Scripture. heal] that is, repair: See the like phrase, 2 Chron. 7. 14.

Vers. 5. astonishing horror] or reeling, giddiness: meaning, they were drunken with afflictions, which caused horror, as drunkenness with wine causeth giddiness. This word is also used, Isaiah 51. 17, 20, 21, 22.

Vers. 6. a banner] or ensign. This word is applied to the flag or ensign of the Gospel, Isaiah 11. 12. and 49. 22. and 62. 10. here, to David and his victory. to be high displayed] or, to use for a banner, which hath the name of lifting high. the certain truth] of thy promises.

Vers. 7. answer me] or us, me and my people. The Hebrew hath both readings. The Chaldee explaineth it, Receive my prayer.

Vers. 8. shall divide] this meaneth a full possession after conquest, Ios. 1. 6. and 13. 7. Shechem] a city in the tribe of Ephraim, not far from Samaria, Gen. 33. 18. Ios. 20. 7. Succoth] a city in the tribe of Gad, beyond the river Iarden, Ios. 13. 27.

Vers. 9. Gilead] and Manasseh: These were the utmost borders of the land of Canaan without Iarden: which howsoever for a time they resisted David, and clave to Ishbosheth Saul's son, 2 Sam. 2. 8, 9. &c. yet were by God's promise to be subjected unto David. strength of my head] that is, my horns wherewith I shall smite the people together, according to that promised blessing, Deut. 33. 17. or by head, may be meant headship, kingdom or principality. law-giver] or statute-maker, a title of authority; therefore the Greek translateth here, King. This also accordeth to the promise made to Judah, Gen. 49. 10. 1 Chron. 5. 2.

Vers. 10. Moab] the land or people of the Moabites, near to the land of Israel; these were the posterity of Lot, Abraham's nephew, begotten by Lot in his drunkenness, of his own daughters, Gen. 19. 33,—36, 37. they had now forsaken the true God, and worshipped Baal-pehor and Chemosh, Numb. 25. 1, 3. and 21. 29. were enemies to Israel, Numb. 22. Judge. 3. 12. and subdued by David, 2 Sam. 8. 2. washing pot] that is, used for base services, as a vessel to wash my feet in. over Aedom shall I cast my shoe] that is, I shall walk thorough, possess, and tread down the land of Aedom (or Idumea,) whose inhabitants were Aedomites, the posterity of Aedom, that is, Esau the elder brother of Jacob, who profanely selling his birth-right for a mess of red pottage, (called in Hebrew Adom,) had his name therefore Aedom, to the perpetual shame of him and his seed, Gen. 25. 30. and 36. 8 9. Heb. 12. 16. as Jakob by faith obtained the glorious name of Israel; see Psal. 14. 7. Palestine shout thou] for this, in Psal. 108. 10. it is said, over Palestine I will shout. So here it seemeth to be spoken in mockage; intimating, that howsoever the Philistines dominiered and triumphed for a while, (as appeareth, Judge. 10. 7. and 13. 1. 1 Sam. 4. 10. and 31. 1.) yet should they by David be subdued; as came to pass, 2 Sam. 8. 1. Therefore the Greek turneth it, the aliens are subject to me: the Chaldee thus, concerning the Philistines, shout and be strong, O congregation of Israel. Palestine (called in Hebrew Pelesheth,) was a part of the land of Canaan, westward by the sea, inhabited by the Philistines, which came of the Casluhims nephewes of Mizraim the son of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 14. These with the Caphtorims, first inhabited Caphtor, & from thence came to Palestine, Amos 9. 7. where they drove out the Avims, (the ancient inhabitants of the land) and dwelt in their stead, Deut. 2. 23. And this seemeth to be the reason why usually the Philistines are called in Greek Allophyloi, Aliens, (of another tribe or nation;) because they were not the first natural inhabitants.

Vers. 11. Who will lead] it is a kind of wish, as Psal. 14. 7. yet implying also some difficulty, as the next verse here showeth. of strong defense] that is, defensed or fortified: see Ps. 31. 22. This may be meant generally of all strong cities that resisted David; or specially of Rabbah, the chief city of the Ammonites, whereof see 2 Sam. 12. 26, 29, &c.

Vers. 13. from distress] or from the distresser, the adversary. for vain] Hebr. and vain: but and is often used for because, or for; as 2 Sam. 22. 28. with Psal. 18. 28. so Isa. 64. 5.

Vers. 14. do valiantness] or valor, that is, valiant acts: according to the prophesy, Num. 24. 19. or make a power, that is, gather an army, as the phrase is used, 1 Sam. 14. 48. and in Ezek. 28. 4. it is used for gathering of wealth. See the Notes on Psal. 18. 33. will tread down] in Greek, will set at naught, or contemn.

PSAL. LXI.

David flieth to God upon his former experience. 5 He voweth perpetual service unto him, because of his promises.

To the Master of the Music, upon Neginath, a Psalm of David.

HEare thou, O God, my shouting, attend to my prayer. From the end of the land unto thee do I call when my heart is overwhelmed: lead thou me unto the rock that is higher than I. For thou hast been a safe hope to me, a tower of strength from the face of the enemy. I will sojourne in thy tent for ever, I will hope for safety in the secret of thy wings Selah. For thou, O God, hast heard my vows, hast given inheritance to them that fear thy name. Thou wilt add days unto the days of the King, his years shall be as generation and generation.

He shall sit for ever before God; prepare thou mercy & truth, which may keep him. So will I sing Psalm to thy name, unto perpetuity, that I may pay my vows day by day.

Annotations.

VPon Neginath] or with neginath, that is, the playing on the strings of the instrument: meaning that this Psalm was to be sung with music of stringed instruments. See Psal. 4. 1.

Vers. 3. end of the land] the utmost border of the land of Canaan, where David sometime was driven to abide, 2 Sam. 17. 24. or, end of the earth. is overwhelmed] or covered over, to wit, with grief, (as the Greek explaineth it,) whereby it fainteth; oppressed with sorrow. So Psal. 102. 1. and 77. 4. and 107. 5. and 142. 4. lead thou] or, thou wilt lead: a speech of faith, from former deliverances, as the next verse showeth. higher than I] which I cannot get up on, unless thou lead me.

Vers. 4. a safe hope] or, shrowding place, where he hoped for, and had found safe shelter.

Vers. 5. I will sojourn] or shall abide. See Psal. 15. 1. in the secret] or, the hiding place, called elsewhere the shadow of his wings, Psal. 36. 8. and 63. 8. See Psal. 91. 1,—4.

Vers. 6. my vows] that is, my prayers made with vows, as the Saints used, Gen. 28. 20. Judge. 11. 30, 31. Hereupon, prayer is called in Greek Proseuche, of pouring out vows to God. inheritance to them] so the Greek also hath it; or, given me the inheritance of them; that is, such a blessing as usually thou bestowest on such as fear thee. The Chaldee paraphraseth, thou hast given an inheritance in the world to come to them that fear thy name.

Vers. 7. Thou wilt add] or prayer-wise, add thou &c. so the rest. days unto days] or, upon days, that is, a long life. of the King] meaning himself, and specially Christ, who was to be his Son after the flesh. So the Chaldee saith, of the King Christ. See Psalm. 72. and 89. 21, 30, 37, 38.

Vers. 8. He shall sit] to wit, on the throne, that is, reign, or sit, that is,  dwell, or abide, as Psalm. 140. 14. prepare] or, appoint, as his due and ready portion. The Heb•. is Man, a name whereby that prepared meat was called, which God gave his people from heaven, Psal. 78. 24.

Vers. 9. day by day] or day and day, that is, daily. The Hebrew usual phrase is, day day, so Psal. 68 20. Gen. 39. 10. Isa. 58. 2. Exod. 16. 5. sometime day and day, as Hest. 3. 4. 2 Cor. 4. 16. So two two, Mark. 6. 7. for, two and two. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, when I pay my vows in the day of the redemption of Israel, and in the day when the King Christ shall be anointed to reign.

PSAL. LXII.

David professing his confidence in God, discourageth his enemies, 6 repeateth his assured confidence. Teacheth the people to trust in God, not in worldly things. 12 Power and mercy belong to God.

To the Master of the Music over Ieduthun, a Psalm of David.

YEt surely unto God my soul keepeth silence; from him is my salvation. Surely he is my rock, and my salvation, mine high defense, I shall not be moved much. How long will ye endeavor mischief against a man? ye shall be killed all of you; ye shall be as a bowed wall, as a fence that is shooed at. Surely they consult to thrust him down from his high dignity, they delight in a lie: with his mouth each of them blesseth, & with their inward part they curse Selah. Yet unto God, my soul keep thou silence: for from him is my expectation. Surely he is my rock and my salvation; mine high defense, I shall not be moved. In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, my safe hope, is in God. Trust ye in him in all time, O people; pour out your heart before him; God is a safe hope for us Selah. Surely the sons of base man are vanity, the sons of noble man are a lie; in balances to mount up, they together are lighter than vanity. Trust not ye in oppression, and in robbery become not vain: if powerful wealth do increase, set not the heart theron. Once did God speak, twice heard I this same: that strength pertaineth to God. And to thee O Lord mercy, for thou wilt pay to man according to his work.

Annotations.

Over Ieduthun]•hat is, over Ieduthuns posterity, who was a singer in Israel, 1 Chron. 25. 3. or, to Ieduthun: See also Psal. 39. 1.

Vers. 2. Yet surely] or Only. It is an earnest affirmation, against some contrary temptation or speech, and excludeth also other things. So verse. 3, 5, 6, 7, 10. keepeth silence] or is sile•, or still, that is, quiet, submisse, and (as the Greek explaineth it) subject; the rebellious affections being tamed and subdued. See also Psal. 4. 5.

Vers. 3. moved much] or, moved with a great moving. Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but  $\langle\phi\rangle$  perish not, as 2 Cor. 4. 9. for God giveth the issue with the temptation, 1 Cor. 10. 1•3. The Chaldee expounds it, I shall not be moved in the day of great affliction.

Vers. 4. endeavor mischief] this word is not found elsewhere in the Scripture. It denoteth both a purpose in mind, and a thrusting forward in act of any mischievous deed. against a man] in Chaldee, against a gracious man. So man here is used as in Jer. 5. 1. if ye can find a man, that is, a just and godly man. ye shall be killed] or will ye be murdered? violently killed. Some Hebrew copies varying a point or vowell, give it an active signification, will ye murder? This the Greek followeth; but the former sense here fitteth best. a fence] wall, or mure, another word than the former. shooved at] or thrust, namely, for to fall, as is expressed, Psal. 118. 13. Hereby is meant a great and sudden ruin, as Isa. 30. 13. Ezek. 13. 13, 14.

Vers. 5. from his high dignity] or excellency [unspec] whereunto he was exalted of God. David speaketh this of himself, (therefore the Greek hath, mine honor;) and blameth them here for opp•gning his dignity, as he did before in Psal. 4. 3. they d•light] or readily like of▪ and accept o• a deceivable, lie▪ each of them blesseth] Hebr. they bless: but his mouth leadeth us to mind it of all in general, & everyone in particular. Compare Psal. 5. 10. Blessing is used for fair words, and sometimes flattery, Rom. 16. 18.

Vers. 6. my expectation] that is, my salvation expected, and hoped for, as verse. 2. [unspec 6]

Vers. 9. in all time] that is, always: See Psal. 34▪ 2. pour out your heart] that is, the desires of your heart, your prayers with tears. A similitude taken from pouring out of waters, as is expressed, Lam. 2. 19. pour out thy heart like water before the face of the Lord. This was practiced in Israel when they drew water (from their heart) and poured it out (by their eyes) before the Lord, 1 Sam. 7. 6. A like phrase is of pouring out the soul, Psal. 42. 5. 1 Sam. 1. 15. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, Cast down before him the prides of your heart, & pray before him with all your heart, and say, God is our hope forever.

Vers. 10. noble man] hereby is meant men of all degrees, high and low. See the notes on Ps. 49. 3. in balances to mount up] or, to ascend: meaning that all men together, if they be put in one ballāce, and vanity in another, they will mount up, that is, be lighter than vanity it self. And the word hebel, vanity, here used, denoteth a vain light thing, as the breath of ones mouth, or bubble on the water.

Vers. 11. in oppress•an] that is, in goods gotten by oppression, extortion, or fraudulent inj••••• this word importeth guileful wrong, as the next, more open violent robbery. See also Isa. 30. 12. become not vain] that is, foolish and vile in respect of others, and deceiving yourselves. For to make vain, is to deceive, Ier. 23. 16. and to wax vain, is to be vile and come to nothing, Job 27. 12. Ier.

⟨ϕ⟩ . 5. Rom. 1. 21. This instruction which concerneth all men, David applieth to his soldiers, that they should not give themselves to the spoil. Compare Luke. 3. 14. powerful wealth] riches; see Psal. 49. 7. set not the heart] that is, do not affect it, or carefully regard it, but use this world as though you used it not, 1 Cor. 7. 31. So, to set the heart, is to regard or care for a thing, 1 Sam. 4. 20. and 9. 20. 2 Sam. 18. 3. Exod. 7. 23. Prov. 22. 17.

Vers. 12. Once] Hebrew One, meaning one time, as Exod. 30. 10. and as is expressed, Ios. 6. 3. So twice, or two times. Though it may also be interpreted one thing, two things, (as achath is one thing, Psal. 27. 4.) The Greek here saith, Once spake God, these two things have I heard.

Vers. 13. to man] that is, to everyone, as this phrase is opened, Matth. 16. 27. Rom. 2. 6. Rev. 22. 12. to his work] whether it be good or evil. See the like in Prov. 24. 12. Ier. 32. 19. Job 34. 11. Ezek. 7. 27. 2 Cor. 5. 10. Ephes. 6. 8. Coloss. 3. 25. 1•er. 1. 17.

PSAL. LXIII.

David under persecution showeth his thirst for God, and comforts that he had found in him.
10 His confidence of his enemies destruction, and his own safety.

A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah.

O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee; my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth ardently for thee in a land of drought, & weary without waters.

So as I did view thee in the sanctuary, for to see thy strength, and thy glory. Because thy mercy is better than life, my lips shall celebrate thee. So will I bless thee in my life, in thy name will I lift up my palms. My soul shall be satisfied as with fat and •atnesse, and my mouth shall praise with lips of shouting joy. When I remember thee on my beds, meditate on thee in the night-watches. That thou hast been a helpfulness to me, and in the shadow of thy wings I shouted. My soul cleaveth after thee, thy right hand upholdeth me. But they that seek my soul for tumultuous ruin, shall go into the lower parts of the earth. They shall make him run out by the hands of the sword, they shall be the portion of Foxes. But the King shall rejoice in God; everyone that sweareth by him shall glory, but stopped shall be the mouth of them that speak a lie.

Annotations.

Wilderness of •dah] the forest of Hareth, 1 Sam. 22. 5. or, the wilderness of Ziph, 1 Sam. 23. 14. both which were in the tribe of Judah.

Vers. 2. early] this noteth care and diligence, Job 8. 5. Hos. 5. 15. Psal. 78. 34. Prov. 1. 28. Luk. 21. 38. longeth ardently] this word (which is here only found) seemeth to denote an earnest or hot appetite for meat, as the former thirst is for drink. land of drought] that is, dry land, for so the wilds or deserts were usually waterless, Psal. 107. 33, 35. Exod. 17. 1. Num. 20. 1, 2. Ie. 〈ϕ〉 . 6. weary] and consequently thirsty, which is caused by weariness. So Psal. 143. 6. Or wearisome to travel, as the Greek translatheth it, waillesse, which none can go in.

Vers. 3. the sanctuary] or, the sanctity▪ the holy place, so called for the more reverence, and because holiness became that house, Psal. 93. 5. for to see] this may be meant of his present desire to behold it as in time past: or as a continued speech of his passed comfort, when I did behold thy strength. thy strength and thy glory] both these were seen in the Ark of the testimony, whence God's oracles were uttered, Exod. 25. 22. Num. 7. 89. called therefore the ark of God's strength, Ps. 132. 8. & also his glory, 1 Sam. 4. 21, 22. See also Ps. 78. 61. and 105. 4.

Vers. 4. celebrate] land, 〈ϕ〉 glorify thee. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this verse thus: because thy mercy which thou wilt do to the just in the world to come, is better than the life which thou hast given to the wicked in this world, therefore my lips shall land thee.

Vers. 5. So will I bless thee] to wit, when th•• restorest me again 〈ϕ〉 sanctuary therefore 〈...〉 so it may be taken for• 〈ϕ〉 , S•••• me bless thee. in my life] that i• 〈ϕ〉 I live 〈...〉 i as the Chaldee saith, in my life in this world. So Psal. 49. 19. and 104. 33. and 146. 2. lift up my hands] that is, pray: which was with this gesture of holding up the palms of the hands towards heaven, as looking to receive a blessing. So Job 11. 13. Lam. 2. 19. and 3. 41. Psal. 141. 2. It is called also the lifting up of the hands, Psal. 8. 2. and spreading out of the palms; Psal. 44. 21. and 88. 10.

Vers. 6. fat] or s•w•t and fatness. Both words in the original signify fatness: and hereby is meant satiety of pleasures; so Ier. 31. 14. Psal. 36. 9. The Chaldee expoundeth it, satisfied with thy law.

Vers. 7. when I remember] or, if I remember, ⟨ϕ⟩, so oft as. The Hebrew ⟨ϕ⟩, if, is here used for when: as also 1 Sam. 15. 17. So in Greek, e ⟨...⟩, of, Matth. 6. 22. i ⟨...⟩ an, when, Luke 11. 34. watches, or oust•dies, observations, which were in the night, as is expressed, Psal. 90. 4. See the notes there.

Vers. 8. helpfulness] that is, a full help, as Psal. 44. 27. of thy ⟨...⟩ gs] which the Chaldee translateth, of thy divine majesty. So Psal. 57. 2.

Vers. 9. cleaveth after thee] this noteth love, constancy, and humility, and union in the spirit: for as man and wife cleaving together, are one flesh, Gen. 2. 24. so he that cleaveth to the Lord, is one spirit. 1 Cor. 6. 17. And this union cometh of the Lord, who saith by the Prophet, a the girdle cleaveth to the loins of ⟨ϕ⟩ man, so have I tied to me the whole house of Israel, that they might be my people, Ier. 13. 11.

Vers. 10. for tumultuous ruin] that is, to bring my soul unto destruction, or ruin. See this word, Psalms 35. 8.

Vers. 11. They shall make him run out] or, They (the enemies) shall pour out him, meaning some principal, as Saul, or every of his sees: or He (everyone that seeks my soul) shall be made run out, that is, his blood shall be shed, as waters, Psal. 79. 3. A like phrase is used Ier. 18. 21. Ezek. 35. 5. The Greek translateth, They shall be delivered unto the hands of the sword. hands] that is, the edge, or force of the sword, as Job 5. 20. Ier. 18. 21. portion of foxes] that is, left unburied, for foxes and other wild beasts to prey upon & devour. So Saul's blood flowed ⟨ϕ⟩ by the sword, and his company slain on mo ⟨...⟩ G ⟨...⟩, lay for a prey to the beasts, 1 Sam. 31. So Christ's enemies slain with the sword are eaten of ravenous fowls, Rev. 19. 21.

Vers. 12. But the King] that is, I who am King by God• anointing, ⟨ϕ⟩ Sam. 16. 12▪ 13. and Christ the son of David. 8. sweareth by him] that is, by God; the Chaldee saith, by his word: by swearing, meaning God's whole worship, whereof swearing was a part, Deut. 6. 13. Esa. 45. 23. and 65. 16. Ier. 4. 2. Therefore that which the Prophet calleth Swearing, Esa. 45. 23. the Apostle calleth Confessing to God, Rom. 14. 11.

PSAL. LXIV.

David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies. 8▪ He prophesieth their destruction, whereat all man shall fear.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

HEare my voice, O God, in my prayer; preserve my life from dread of the enemy. Hide me from the secret of evil doers, from the tumultuous rage of them that work painful iniquity. Which have whetted their tongue as a sword, have bent their arrow, even a bitter word. To shoot in secret places at the perfect; suddenly will they shoot at him, and fear not. They confirm to themselves an evil word; they tell to hide snares: they say, who shall see them? They search out injurious evils, they accomplish an exquisite search, even the inmost of each man, & the deep heart. But God hath shot at them an arrow, suddenly their strokes have been. And when they have caused them everyone to fall upon themselves by their own tongue, they shall betake themselves to flight, whosoever seeth them.

And all men shall fear, and declare the work of God, and prudently consider his deed. The just man shall rejoice in Jehovah, and hope for safety in him, and glory shall all the upright of heart.

Annotations.

PRayer] or meditation: see Psa. 55. 3. the Greek saith, when I pray unto thee.

Vers. 3. the secret] or secrecy, mystery, that is, council, or assembly of evil doers, that is, the malignant Church, as the holy Church is called the secrecy (or mystery) of the righteous, Psal. 111. 1.

Vers. 4. bent their arrow] that is, laid their arrow ready on their bended bow. The like phrase was in Psal. 58. 8. See also Psal. 11. 2. bitter word] or bitter thing, as the Greek explaineth it. So after in verse. 6. an evil word, or thing. See the notes on Psal. 7. 1. A bitter word is here called an arrow; and in Ier. 9. 3. their tongue is called their bow.

Vers. 6. they tell, to hide] or, of hiding, that is, impart their counsel one to another, how to hide snares. they accomplish an exquisite search] or, a search searched out, that is, a curious diligent search. The Greek translateth, they are consumed searching out searches: meaning that they spend both their time and themselves, in searching out evils against the just. It may also be read, we are consumed by the search searched out, meaning that in their judgment we cannot escape their snares. even the inmost] Hebr. and the inmost, that is, whatsoever any man's wit and deep heart can find out: or, So deep (is) the inward part and heart of man.

Vers. 8. have been] or, assuredly shall be: the time past being used for more certainty, as in Isa. 9. 6. And by have been, is meant the sure event and accomplishment of God's judgments on them, with the continuance of the same. As the Hebrew word of being, signifieth to come to pass, or have event, 1 Sam. 4. 1. Job 37. 6. and to continue to be, Dan. 1. 21. Isaiah. 66. 2. Ruth 1. 2.

Vers. 9. they have caused them everyone] Hebr. caused him: which being spoken of many, as in this place, meaneth them all severally, to one man. to fall, &c.] or to stumble down: signifying, that God's strokes should have effect to overthrow them by their own devices. betake themselves to flight] or, shall wander about in their flight; which noteth great fear and unstaiednesse, (which the Greek therefore turneth, are troubled) and is meant of the wicked, their favorites.

PSAL. LXV.

God's praises in Zion for hearing prayer, 4 for pardoning sins, 6 for his just administration in the world, 10 and for his manifold blessings upon his land and people.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm, a Song of David.

PRaise, silent waiteth for thee, O God, in Zion; and to thee shall the vow be paid. Thou hearest prayer, unto thee all flesh shall come. Words of iniquities have prevailed against me; our trespasses, thou wilt mercifully cover them. O blessed is he whom thou chooseth and takest near, that he may dwell in thy courts; we shall be satisfied with the good things of thine house, with the holy things of thy Palace. Fearefull things in justice thou wilt answer us, O God of our salvation, the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of those far off by sea. O he that stablisheth the mountains by his able might, is girded about with strength. Which appeaseth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumultuous noise of the people's. And fear do they that dwell in the utmost parts, for thy signs; the out-goings of morning and evening, thou makest shout. Thou visitest the land, and plenteously moistenest it; very much thou enrichest it, with the stream of God full of waters; thou preparest their corn, when so thou hast prepared it. Thou waterest abundantly the ridges of it, thou setlest the furrows of it, thou makest it soft with showers, thou blessest the bud of it. Thou crownest the year of thy goodness, and thy paths drop fatness. They drop on the pastures of the wilderness, and the hills are girded about with gladness. The pastures are clad with sheep, and the valleys are covered with Corn; they shout, they also sing.

Annotations.

PRaise, silent waiteth] or, is silent, that is, submissly and quietly expecteth thee: see Psal. 62. 2. or, Unto thee there is silence and praise, that is, silence looking to receive mercies, and praise for them being received. The Greek saith, praise becometh thee. The Hebrew also may imply the same, though it be more significant. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, The praise of the Angels is counted as silence before thee, O God, whose majesty (is) in Zion.

Vers. 3. Thou hearest] or, O thou that hearest, or, he that heareth: see after in verse. 7. all flesh] that is, all sorts of men; as Gen. 6. 12. Psal. 145. 21. Act. 2. 17. This is a prophesy of all Nations converted unto Christ.

Vers. 4. words of iniquities] or, of perversities, that is, perverse things, or words, unrighteous deeds. Words are often put for things, as Psal. 7. 1. mercifully cover] or expiate, propitiate, purge away, and so cover, and forgive. Of the Hebrew Capbar, which signifieth to cover, the Cover of the Ark was called Caporeth, Exod. 25. 17. in Greek hilasterion, that is, the propitiatory, or mercy-seat, Heb. 9. 5. which name Paul giveth to Christ, Rom. 3. 25. who is the true propitiation for our sins, 1 Job. 2. 2.

Vers. 5. takest near] or, causest to approach, to wit, unto thyself; the Greek saith, takest unto thee. thy courts] or, court-yards, the open places of the Tabernacle and Temple. There was an inner court and an outward, 1 King. 7. 12. one for the Priests, another for the people, called the great court, 2 Chron. 4. 9. 2 King. 21. 5. good things] so the Greek explaineth it well: the Hebrew speaking of the good thing in general, comprehending the wholestore of pleasures and commodities, ⟨◇⟩ . Deu. 6. 11. Ge. 45. 23. The like here followeth, holy, for all holy things. And among good things, understand the principal, the gift of the holy Ghost: as that which in Matth. 7. 11. is good things, in Luk. 11. 13. is called the holy Ghost.

Vers. 6. Fearefull things, &c.] God out of his Tabernacle gave oracles and answers to his people, Numb. 7. 89. and from Heaven he answered to their prayers against their adversaries, Psal. 3. 5. he answered always things reverend and fearful. those far off by sea] whereby is meant, not only those upon the sea, whose hope God is, Psal. 107. 23. 28, &c. but those also that dwell far asunder disjoined by the sea, as in Islands, which wait for his law, Isa. 42. 4. So the Chaldee interpreteth it, and of the Iles of the sea which are disjoined from the dry land (or continent.)

Vers. 7. O he that stablisheth] or, which setteth fast: it is a continued speech to God, as the words before and after manifest, but the person changed for more passion, like that in Job 18. 4. O he that teareth his soul, for, O thou that tearest thy soul. See the notes on Psal. 59. 10. mountains] hereby is often meant kingdoms, polities, and commonweales, Ier. 51. 25. See Psal. 30. 8. The Chaldee understands it here, of God's preparing food for the wild Goats of the mountains.

Vers. 8. of the seas] waters signify people's, Rev. 17. 15. and seas are the huge armies of people's, Ier. 51. 42. Isaiah. 17. 12, 13. All such, as well as the natural seas, God asswageth. See also Psal. 46. 7.

Vers. 9. And they] or, When they fear. utmost parts] or borders, to wit, of the earth, as is expressed, Isa. 41. 5. the out-goings of morning, &c.] This may be meant both of the successive course of day and night, and of them that go out at morning and evening, which be men to their labor, and beasts for their prey, as is shown, Psal. 104. 20,—23. and of people, inhabiting the East and West parts of the world.

Vers. 10. plenteously moistenest it] This sense the Greek yieldeth: the Hebrew also may be turned, when thou hadst made it to desire rain: or, and givest it the desire thereof. These things are spoken first of the land of Canaan; (as the Chaldee expoundeth, thou rememberest the land of Israel;) which God visited and blessed continually, as Moses telleth, Deut. 11. 12. and spiritually are meant of Christ's Church, Ezek. 36. 8. 9, &c. very much] or, with multitude, to wit, of riches, (or good things.) the stream] or brook, riveret. See Psal. 1. 3. and 46. 5. The Chaldee paraphraseth, from the fountain of God which is in heaven, which is full of the showers of blessing. of God] that is, with heavenly, sweet and wholesome streams of waters, not as Egypt, watered with man's labor, but drinking waters of the rain of heaven, Deut. 11. 10, 11. The stream of God may here be taken for an excellent stream, as mountains of God, Psal. 36. 7. and the word with is to be supplied. Compare herewith Joel. 3. 18. Rev. 22. 1. where a fountain, and pure river of water of life, come forth from the Lord's house and throne, their corn] theirs that dwell in thy land, and house: after that thou hast thus prepared the land, and watered it, thou makest it fruitful.

Vers. 11. set lest the furrows] or, the clods, that is, with rain thou causest the clods to lie close to cover the seed. The Hebrew words being indefinite, to settle, &c. have like signification with the former. See Psal. 49. 15. and 77. 2. and 103. 20. makest it soft] or meltest, resolvest, makest it moist, with drops of rain, that fall many. See Psal. 72. 6. the bud] or branch, that which springeth up out of the earth. This name is given to Christ himself, Isaiah. 4. 2. Zach. 3. 8. and 6. 12.

Vers. 12. year of thy goodness] that is, thy good year, which thou honourest with singular blessings. So God commanding the Sabbath year, promised to bless the sixth year, that it should bring forth fruit for three years, Lev. 25. 20, 21. But the good year is that acceptable yere of the Lord, which Christ preached, Isaiah. 61. 2. Luke 4. 19. thy paths drop] the clouds which are God's chariot, Psal. 104. 3. in which water is bound, Job 26. 8. and from which rain is dropped, to cause the earth to fructify, Job 36. 28. and 38. 26, 27. And paths here are properly such trackes as are made by chariot wheels.

Vers. 13. of the wilderness] where there is no man, Job 38. 26. that grass may grow for beasts, Psal. 104. 14. Though sometime shepherds there feed their flocks, as Exo. 3. 1. girded with gladness] rejoicing for the store of grass that grow on them on every side. Things are figuratively said to be glad, when they attain unto & abide in their natural perfection: so light is said to rejoice when it shineth clear and continually, Prov. 13. 9.

Vers. 14. the pastures] or fields, are clothed, that is, covered, abundantly stored with flocks of sheep. For fields, the Greek putteth Rams of the sheep: the Hebrew Carim signifieth both, Isaiah. 30. 23. and 34. 6. but the grammaticall construction and coherence here showeth it rather to be fields or pastures.

PSAL. LXVI.

An exhortation to praise God, 5 to observe his works, 8 to bless him for his gracious benefits. 13 The Prophet voweth religious service to God. 16 He declareth God's special goodness to him-self.

To the Master of the Music, a Song, a Psalm.

SHout ye unto God all the earth. With Psalm sing the glory of his name, put glory to his praise. Say unto God, how fearful is every of thy works! through the greatness of thy strength, thine enemies shall falsely deny to thee. Let all the earth bow down themselves to thee, and sing Psalm to thee; let them sing Psalm to thy name Selah.

Come and see the works of God; he is fearful in his doing toward the sons of Adam. He turned sea to dry land, they passed thorough the River on foot, there did we rejoice in him. He ruleth with his power for ever, his eyes espy among the nations; the rebellious, let them not exalt themselves Selah.

Ye people's, bless our God, and make the voice of his praise to be heard. That putteth our soul in life, and hath not given our foot to be moved. For thou, O God, hast proved us, thou hast tried us as silver is tried. Thou hast brought us into the net, thou hast laid straitness on our loins. Thou hast caused men to ride upon our head, we came into fire and into waters, and thou hast brought us out to an abundant place. I will come into thine house with burnt-offerings, I will pay to thee my vows. Which my lips have opened, and my mouth hath spoken in the distress upon me. Burnt offerings of marrowed rams I will offer up to thee with incense; I will make ready beeves, with goat-bucks Selah. Come hear ye and I will tell, all ye that fear God, what he hath done to my soul. Unto him I called with my mouth, and he was extolled under my tongue. If I had seen in my heart painful iniquity, the Lord would not have heard. But surely God hath heard, hath attended to the voice of my prayer. Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer and his mercy from me.

Annotations.

SHout] to wit, with a joyful or triumphant noise: see Psal. 41. 12. all the earth] or, all the land, that is, the inhabitants thereof, as the Chaldee explaineth. So verse. 4. and Psal. 98. 4. and 100. 1. and often in the Scripture.

Vers. 2. put glory] in Greek, give glory to his praise, that is, make his praise glorious and honorable. A like phrase is in Ios. 7. 19. put glory to Jehovah, that is, give him glory.

Vers. 3. fearful is every, &c.] or, fearful art thou in thy works. One word singular, and another plural, meaneth exactly all and everyone, as Psal. 57. 2. and 62. 5. falsely deny] or l. e. that is, feinedly submit: See Psal. 18. 45.

Vers. 4. Let all] or, All shall. [unspec 5]

Vers. 5. in his doing] or, in practice; the Greek translateth, in counsels: See Psal. 9. 12.

Vers. 6. sea to dry land] the red sea God turned to dry land by a strong east wind, dividing the waters, that Israel might go thorough it, Exod. 14. 21, 22. thorough the river] Iarden, when the banks thereof were full, was dried; the waters stood still on an heap till all the people went thorough it, Ios. 3. 13, 14,—17. So the Chaldee explaineth it, ⟨ϕ⟩ the river ⟨ϕ⟩ the sons of Israel went on their feet. there did we rejoice] he teacheth them to apply their fathers deliverances to themselves: for all things fore-written are for our learning and use, Rom. 15. 4. Alike speech another Prophet useth, he found him in Rethel, and there he spake with us, Hos. 12. 4. The Chaldee paraphraseth, I will lead them to the mount of the house of the Sanctuary, there we will rejoice in his Word.

Vers. 7. espy] that is, watchfully view in the nations, that is, (as Solomon expoundeth it) in every place, both the evil (persons) and the good, Prov. 15. 3. the rebellious] or, the off-fallen, froward and refractarie persons, which exasperate and provoke the Lord to bitterness, as the Greek here translateth. exalt] or, be exalted (puffed up) in themselves.

Vers. 8. people's] tribes of Israel, called also peoples, Act. 4. 27. make to be heard] or, cause (men) to hear, sound forth audibly: See Psal. 26. 7.

Vers. 9. That putteth our soul in life] that is, first giveth, then preserveth life, and finally, restoreth our dead souls unto life. Saving from dangers of death, Psal. 30. 4. quickening them that were dead in sins. Ephes. 2. 1. The Chaldee expounds it, the life of the world to come, given our foot to be moved] that is, suffered our estate to be changed to our ruin: So Psal. 38. 17. and 121. 3. See Psal. 15. 5.

Vers. 10. as silver is tried] Hebr. as to try silver; and this meaneth sore afflictions, as at large is shown, Ezek. 22. 19, 20, 21, 22. wherefore when God mentioneth lesser trials, he saith, Loe, I have tried thee, but not as silver, Isa. 48. 10. Hereby also is meant a purifying from dross and corruption by afflictions. See Mal. 3. 3. Zach. 13. 9. 1 Pet. 1. 7.

Vers. 11. straitness] or affliction, as the Greek also turneth it; but hereby a strait chain or wringing girt may be meant, such as burdens are tied with to beasts backs.

Vers. 12. upon our head] to use us as beasts for to carry them; it meaneth servile subjection: See the like in Isa. 51. 23. came into fire and into waters] that is, passed thorough afflictions of sundry sorts, Psal. 32. 6. Ezek. 15. 6, 7. Also in Num. 31. 23. those things are said to come into (or pass thorough) fire, which would abide the same without being consumed, as metals. That sense hath also use here, as after is shown. an abundant place] or, a moist, a well watered land, where we may drink our fill. The Greek calleth it a refreshing; which well fitteth with the comforts of the Gospel, as Act. 3. 29.

Vers. 14. opened] that is, uttered, or promised distinctly and seriously, as the Greek saith, distinguished: for the mouth being opened in vows, signifieth that they may not be called back, Judge. 11. 35, 36. distress upon me] or in my distress: so Psal. 18. 7. and 59. 17.

Vers. 15. marrowed rams] that is, fat and lusty. The word rams is in Hebrew set after the word incense: which may therefore be read, the incense (or perfume) of rams, meaning the fat which was burned on the altar. And so it may intend peace offerings, as before he mentioned burnt offerings: See Levite. 3. 9, 10, 11. compared with Levite. 1. 10,—13. The Chaldee expoundeth it, incense of spices, and sacrifices of Rams. make ready] or offer, as the Greek interpreteth it. The Hebrew word to make or do, is used for dress or making ready of meat, or sacrifices, Gen. 18. 8. Judge. 6. 19. Exod. 10. 25. and 29. 36. Levite. 16. 24. and 22. 23. beeves] the Hebrew bakar is the Beefe generally; one for many, as in Psal. 8. 9. These were the principal sacrifices, Lev. 1. 2, 10.

Ver. 17. under my tongue] that is, with my tongue: or it may be meant of the heart and inward parts, which are under the tongue.

Vers. 18. If I had seen in my heart] that is, had regarded with it: so to see, is to behold with a corrupt affection, Job 31. 26. Thus God cannot see evil, Habak. 1. 13. would not have heard] for, God heareth not sinners, John 9. 31. nor hypocrites, Job 27. 8 9. Prov. 15. 29. The Greek maketh it a wish, Let not the Lord hear me.

PSAL. LXVII.

A Prayer for the enlargement of God's kingdom, to the joy of all people's, and increase of God's blessings.

To the Master of the Music on Neginoth, a Psalm, a Song. [unspec 1]

God be gracious unto us, and bless us, he make his face to shine with us Selah. That they may know in the earth thy way, thy salvation among all the Heathens. Peoples shall confess thee, O God, people's all of them shall confess thee. The nations shall rejoice and shout, for thou wilt judge the people's with righteousness, and the nations in the earth, thou wilt guide them Selah. Peoples shall confess thee, O God, people's all of them shall confess thee. The earth yieldeth her increase, God our God will bless us. God will bless us, and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

Annotations.

*FA*ce to shine] or, to be light, that is, cheerful and favorable. See Psal. 4. 7. and 31. 17.

Vers. 3. That they may know] meaning men, indefinitely: or, that thy way may be known. God's way is generally his administration in the world, specially his Gospel, Act. 18. 25, 26. as his salvation is Christ, Luke 2. 30.

Vers. 4. shall confess] or, let them confess and so af <...> [unspec 4]

Vers. 7. The earth] or land of Canaan, (as the Chaldee explains it, the hand of Israel) the seat of God's Church; whose fruitful increase God promised in the Law, Levite. 25. 19. and •6. 4, and the Prophets apply it to the spiritual graces of the Gospel, Ezek. 34. 27. Zach. 8. 12. Isaiah 45. 8. and our land or earth is our hearts regenerate, to bear fruits to the Lord, Matth. 13. 19,—23. Heb. 6. 7.

PSAL. LXVIII.

A Prayer at the removing of the Ark, with a Prophecy of Christ's resurrection. 5 An exhortation to praise God for his mercies, 8 and for his care of the Church. 19 A prophesy of Christ's ascension and benefits following, for which God is to be blessed; 32 and of the conversion of the Gentiles unto his further praise.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm, a Song of David.

LEt God arise, let his enemies be scattered, and they that hate him flee from his face. As smoke is driven away, so drive thou them away; as wax is melted at the face of fire, so let the wicked perish from the face of God. And let the just rejoice, let them show gladsonnesse before the face of God, and let them joy with rejoicing. Sing ye to God, sing Psalm to his name; make an high way for him that rideth in the deserts, in Yah his name, and show gladness before his face. He is a father of the fatherless, and a Judge of the widows; even God, in the mansion of his holiness. God seateth the solitary in house, bringeth forth those that are bound in chains; but the rebellious dwell in a dry land. O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou marchedst in the wilderness Selah. The earth quaked, also the heavens dropped, at the face of God: Sinai it self at the face of God, the God of Israel. A rain of liberalities thou didst shake out, O God; thine inheritance when it was wearied, thou didst confirm it. Thy company do dwell in it, thou doest prepare in thy goodness for the poor afflicted, O God.

The Lord will give the speech of those that publish glad tidings to the great army. The Kings of the armies shall flee, and she that remaineth in the house shall divide the spoil. Though ye lie between the pot ranges, ye shall be as the wings of a Dove, which is decked with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold. When the Almighty scattereth abroad Kings in it, it shall be snow white in Tsalmon. A mountain of God mount Bashan is, an hilly mountain mount Bashan. Why leap ye, O hilly mountains? this is the mountain God desireth for his seat; yea, Jehovah will dwell in it to perpetual aye. God's Chariot, twice ten thousand thousands of Angels; the Lord is with them, as in Sinai in the Sanctuary. Thou art ascended to on high, thou hast led captive a captivity, thou hast taken gifts unto men, and also the rebellious to dwell, O Yah God. Blessed be the Lord, which day by day lodeth us: the God our salvation Selah. Our God is a God of salvations, and to Jehovah the Lord belong the issues of death.

But surely God will wound the head of his enemies, the hairie scalpe of him that goeth on in his guiltinesses. The Lord hath said, I will bring again from Bashan: I will bring again from the gulfs of the sea. That thy foot may embrew it self in blood, the tongue of thy dogs in blood of thine enemies, even of every of them. They have seen thy goings, O God, the goings of my God, my King, in the Sanctuary. The singers went before, the plaiers on instruments after: amongst them the Damosels beating on Timbrels. In the Churches bless ye God, even the Lord, ye of the fountain of Israel. There little Benjamin with their ruler, the Princes of Judah with their assembly, the Princes of Zebulun, the Princes of Naphtali. Thy God hath commanded thy strength; strengthen, O God, that thou hast wrought for us. For thy Palace in Jerusalem, Kings shall bring thee a present. Rebuke the company of spear-men, the congregation of mighty bulls, with the calves of the people's, and him that submitteth himself with pieces of silver: he hath scattered abroad the people's that delight in wars.

Princely Ambassadors shall come out of Egypt: Ethiopia shall hastily stretch her hands unto God. Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth: sing Psalm to the Lord Selah. To him that rideth in the heavens of heavens of antiquity: loe, he will give his voice a voice of strength. Give the strength to God, his high Majesty is upon Israel, and his strength in the skies. Fearefull art thou, O God, out of thy Sanctuaries: the God of Israel he giveth strength and forces to the people; blessed be God.

Annotations.

LEt God arise] or stand up. By God here is meant Christ our Lord; for of him is this Psalm interpreted by the Apostle, Ephes. 4. 8, 9, 10. This entrance is taken from Moses, Numb. 10. 35. where when the host of Israel rose up from mount Sinai to journey towards Canaan, the Ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them three days journey, to search out a resting place for them. And when the Ark went forward, Moses said, Rise up Jehovah, and let thine enemies be scattered, &c. where Moses respected not only the Ark, (the figure of Christ) but the promise of God: Behold, I send an Angel before thee to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee to the place which I have prepared; beware of him and hear his voice, &c. for my name is in him, &c. Exod. 23. 20, 21. This was the Angel of the covenant, Mal. 3. 1. the Angel of God's face or presence, which saved the people, Isa. 63. 9. even Christ, whom they tempted in the wilderness, 1 Cor. 10. 9. in whom God was, 2 Cor. 5. 19. and who himself is God our all blessed forever, Amen, Rom. 9. 5. David applieth these things to his own time and action of bringing home the Ark, 1 Chro. 13. and prophesieth also of things to come, as Act. 2. 30, 31.

Vers. 4. let them joy] to wit, inwardly, with delight, (as the Greek explaineth it) as the former word signifieth, outward joyful carriage and exultation.

Vers. 5. make an high way] or, exalt: but that this is meant of a way, or causie, first the Hebrew word Sollu naturally beareth, as Isa. 62. 10. and 57. 14. secondly, the Greek version hodopoiesate, make way, confirmeth it; thirdly, the scope of this place showeth it, compared with Isaiah 40. 3. where the Voice in the wilderness crieth to prepare the way of the Lord Christ, Matt. 3. 2. deserts] places where things are mixed and confused, as the word Ghnaraboth properly signifieth. So Gnarabah is a desert or wilderness, Isa. 40. 2. and there is a declaration of this place, that valleys should be exalted, mountains debased, crooked things made strait, and rough places smooth, Isa. 40. 3. Luk. 3. 5. The Greek version here, epi dusmoon, meaneth also the same: for though the word be ambiguous, and signifieth the west parts, yet is it often used for the deserts or plains of the wilderness, Numb. 33. 48, 50. and 36. 13. Deut. 1. 1. Josh. 5. 10. 2 Sam. 4. 7. in Yah his name] or by Yah his name, to wit, sing and praise him. Yah is the proper name of God in respect of being or existence, for he is of himself, Exo. 3. 14. giveth to all life and breath, and all things, and in him we live, and move, and have our being, Act. 17. 25. 28. It is the same in effect with Jehovah, but more seldom used: of which see Psal. 83. 19.

Vers. 6. a Judge] that is, a defense and avenger of their wrongs: See Exod. 21. 22, 23, 24. Isa. 1. 17. I am. 1. 27. mansion of his holiness] or, his holy mansion, whereof see Psal. 26. 8.

Vers. 7. the solitary] them which are alone, or desolate, meaning without children. in house] that is, giveth them children: See Psal. 113. 9. in chains] or, in conveniences, that is, in convenient and commodious sort; or, into fit (and commodious) places. The Greek saith, in fortitude. The Chaldee thus, he brought forth the sons of Israel, which were bound in Egypt. dry land] or, barren ground, named in the original of the bleaknesse or whiteness, as whereon nothing groweth. This the Chaldee referreth to Pharaoh and his host, which were obstinate, and would not send away Israel, that they dwelt in a dry land.

Vers. 9. Sinai it self] or, this Sinai, to wit, quaked, when God came down upon it to give his law: see Exod. 19. 16, 18. Heb. 12. 18. The Chaldee saith, Sinai, the smoke thereof ascended like the smoke of a furnace, because the majesty of God, the God of Israel, was revealed upon it. These words David borrowed from Deborahs song, Judge. 5. 4, 5. Sina is a mountain in Arabia, Gal. 4. 25. in the wilderness, thorough which Israel passed, Exod. 19. 1. It was called also Hereb: see Psal. 106. 19.

Vers. 10. rain of liberalities] that is, a liberal, plentiful, free and bountiful rain, proceeding of God's free grace. So elsewhere is mentioned the rain of blessing, Ezek 34. 26. Spiritually this meaneth the doctrine of the Gospel, Deu. 32. 2. Isa. 45. 8. Hes. 14. 6, 7. and 6. 3. Heb. 6. 7. See Psal. 65. 10. shake out] or, shed and sprinkle abroad, as with the waving of the hand; the Greek turneth it, separate. God divideth the spouts for the rain, Job 38. 25, 26, 28. and 37. 6. when it, &c.] Hebr. and wearied, that is, dry, fainting for want of water, as Psal. 63. 2.

Vers. 11. Thy company] the host of Israel, seated in Canaan. The Hebrew word Chj•h signifying Life, is used for all living creatures, commonly beasts, and among them wild beasts, in which most life appeareth, Gen. 1. 24, 25, &c. also for fishes, Psal. 104. •5. Applied to men, it meaneth a company or society, either good, as in this place, or evil, as after in verse 31. It is used for an host of men, as 2 Sam. 23. •3• instead whereof, in 1 Chron. 11. 15. is written Machan•h, a Campe or Leager. The Greek here turneth it Zoa, Living wights: which word is used in Revel. 4. 6. and 5. 8, 9. where mystical speech is of Christ's Church. prepare•] to wit, thine inheritance (or, fruitful blessings therein) for the poor (or afflicted) that is, the Church. This every man was to acknowledge when he brought the first fruits unto God: See Deut. 26. 5, 6,—9. 10. The Chaldee expoundeth it, thou preparedst the hosts of the companies of Angels for to do good to the poor afflicted.

Vers. 12. will give the speech] or, gave the word; but it may be taken for a prophesy. And by giving the speech (or word) is meant either the ministering of matter and speech unto them, or the confirming and performing of that which they have spoken. So Paul desired the prayers of the Churches, that speech might be given him, Ep•s. 6. 19. Col. 4. 3. But the Chaldee referreth this to the Law, The Word of God gave the words of the Law to his people. of those that (ϕ) gl•d tidings] or, (applying it to Christ's time) of the Evang•l•sts, of the souls that preach the G•stell, or carry good news. Such are in armies, they that carry tidings of victory, as 2 Sam. 18, 19. Such in Christ's army are the Preachers of the Gospel, Rom. 10. 15. The original word here mebassroth, is of the feminine gender, usually understood therefore of women, such as sung songs of victory, as Exod. 15. 20. 1 Sam. 18. 6, 7. but the Scripture nowhere calleth such the publishers of glad tidings: we may therefore understand it of men; for, 1. as Solomon called him-self Koheleth, that is, a Preacher, (in the feminine gender) or a preaching soul, Eccles. 1. 1. so may any Evangelist in like sort be called Mebassereth. 2. Also the Greek version maketh it the masculine, the Lord will give the word (•ois euaggelizome•ois) to the men that evangelize. 3. And in Isai. 40. 9. such are spoken to in this sort and form as did preach good tidings to S••n and Jerusalem; which seemeth to be principally meant of the Apostles. 4. The Chaldet Paraphrast also applieth it to men, though past, as to Moses and Aaron, which evangelized the Word of God to the many companies of Israel. to the great army] meaning the Church, of whose warfare see Isa. 40. 2. Rev. 19. 14. 2 Cor. 10. 4. or if we refer it to the Evangelists, there is a great host of them: or to the tidings that they tell, it is of much war. The Chaldee refers it to Moses and Aaron, that evangelized God▪ Word to the great hosts of Israel.

Vers. 13. shall flee] this is meant of Christ's enemies, as in verse 2. though here is another word, signifying a wandering flight, seeking where to hide them, as Rev. 6. 15. So five Kings fled from Joshua and hid them in a cave, Josh. 10. 16. See also Josh. 11. 1, 4, 5, 8. she that remaineth] Heb. the mansion (or habitation) that is, the woman or women, who go not out to war, but keep at home, as Judge. 5. 24. Tit. 2. 5. As the Church is sometime likened to a Woman, Rev. 12. 1. so the Chaldee applieth this here to the congregation of Israel, that divided the spoil from heaven. divide the spoil] this is a blessing, Isa. 53. 12. done after victory, Judge. 5. 30. Luk. 11. 22. and with joy, Isa. 9. 3. For spoils are used to denote riches, Pro. 1. 13. and 31. 11. and 16. 19.

Vers. 14. between the pot-raunges] or, between the two banks or rewes, to wit, of stones made to hang pots and kettles on in the campe or leager: places where scullions lie, and so are black; meaning hereby affliction and misery; as on the contrary, by the doves silver wings is meant prosperity. Or, we may understand it of the two bounds and limits of the enemies, where they are continually assailed and endangered. And this the Greek seemeth to favor, turning it, [ana meson •oe• cleroon] amidst (or between) the inheritances; even as they also translate the two burdens or limits between which Isac•r couched, Ger. 49. 14. which tribe had the Philistians at one end, and Ammonites on the other, that vexed them. The Chaldee giveth this paraphrase, The God of Israel said, Though ye kings lie (or sleep) between the curtains, behold the Church of Israel, which is like unto a dove, covered with clouds of glory, divideth the spoil of the Egyptians. with yellow gold] understand again, decked with yellow (or greenish) gold, that is, of a golden colour and green, as the original word importeth, Levite. 13. 49. and 14. 57.

Vers. 15. the Almighty] or Al-sufficient, that is, God, named in Hebrew Shaddai, of his power and sufficiency to go thorough with all things, and for wasting and destroying his enemies, as at the drowning of the world. To this the Prophets have reference, saying, that shod (destruction) shall come from Shaddai, (the Almighty) Isa. 13. 6. Joel 1. 15. scattereth] or spreadeth abroad, having discomfited the kings, his enemies, in that his inheritance, verse 10. 11. So spreading is used for scattering, Zach. 2. 6. it shall be snow-white] or, thou shalt be snowy, speaking to the Church, or of it. Whitenesse denoteth victory, joy, glory, Rev. 2. 17. and 3. 5. Luk. 9. 29. and whiteness as snow, is a resemblance of purifying from sin, Psal. 51. 9. Isa. 1. 18. Tsalmon] in Greek, Selmon, a mount of Samaria, in the Tribe of Ephraim near the City Shechem, as appeareth Judge. 9. 47, 48. situate in the heart of the Country. Tsalmon signifieth shady, or dark, and so it seemeth this mount was, with caves, glinns, and trees that grew thereon; but with snow upon it was made lightsome. So to be snow white in Tsalm•n, is to have light in darkness, joy in tribulation.

Vers. 16. A mount of God] that is, high, large, and full of divine blessings; for Basan was a fat and fruitful mountain: See Psal. 22. 13. and 36. 7. an hilly mount] or, a mount of hill•ks or knobs, having many tops. This seemeth to be a comparison; Basan is a goodly large mountain, but this Zion doth excel it, for here God dwelleth with his Angels, &c.

Vers. 17. leap ye] insult ye proudly, or lay ye wait for. The original Ratsad is nowhere found in Hebrew but here only. In Arabic it signifieth to espy and lie in wait for the hurt of others, which agreeth well with the argument here. for his seat] to  dwell in it. The Lord chose Zion, and desired it for his seat: this shall be my rest forever, Psal. 132. 13, 14. So, the Lamb Christ is on mount Sio•, Rev. 14. 1. But the Chaldee referreth this also to mount Sinai, upon which the Word of God desired to place his divine presence.

Vers. 18. God's chariot] which he useth for his own service, for defense of his Church, and destruction of his foes: see Psal. 18. 11. Chariot is put for Chariots (as ship, 1 King. 10. 22. for ships, 2 Chron. 9. 21.) or to note out the joint service of all the Angels, as of one. twice ten thousand] or double myriads, that is, innumerable; in the Greek, ten thousand fld; meaning, innumerable. Angels] the Hebrew Shinan, translated Angels, is not elsewhere found in Scripture. It seemeth to come of Shanah, to second, as being second or next to God; the chief Princes, Da•. 10. 13. as those in place next Kings are called the second unto them, 2 Chron. 28. 7. Esth. 10. 3. If we refer it to the number, we may turn it redoubled or manifold. If to the Chariots, and derive it of Shanan, to sharpen, it may note a kind of Chariots with sharp hooks used in wars, as many human writers record, 2 Mecca•. 13. 2. Statius lib. 10. Thebaid. Macro•ius, &c. How ever the word be doubtful, the meaning seemeth to be of Angels (as the Chaldee plainly expresseth) which the Greeks here translate cheerful ones, as of the Hebrew Shaan, to be in tranquility and joy: and the Apostle seemeth to have reference to this place, where he mentioneth mount Si'n, the celestial Jerusalem, and the company of ten thousands of Angels, which now we are come unto in Christ, Heb. 12. 22. And Angels have appeared like fiery Chariots, 2 King. 6. 17. with them] or in them] as in Sinai] as God was in Sinai, with ten thousands of holy ones, when he gave the fiery Law, Deut. 33. 2. so is he in Zion with ten thousands of Angels, Heb. 12. 22. Here the words as in, seem necessarily to be supplied; or the word Lord, as the Lord of Sinai, with like meaning as before.

Vers. 19. Thou art ascended, &c.] Thou (Lord Jesus) art gone up to the highest Heaven, having first descended to the lowest earth. So the Apostle teacheth us to understand this place, Eph. 4 8, 9. to on high] or to the high place: see Psal. 7. 8. The Chaldee translateth it, to the firmament. led captive] or, captured a captivity, that is, a company of captives, a prey of people taken in war: See the like phrase, 2 Chron. 28. 5. 11. Judge. 5. 12. Numb. 21. 1. Deut. 21. 10. So poverty is used for a company of poor people, 2 King. 24. 14. Christ's enemies, Satan, sin, death, hell, &c. were by him subdued, Colos. 2. 15. his Elect captured by Satan, were by him redeemed; of whom also this may be meant, as Psal. 126. 1, 4. hast taken gifts unto] that is, hast given (and distributed) gifts among men. An Hebrew phrase often used, as, Take me a sword, 1 King. 3. 24. that is, give or bring it me. Take her me to wife, Judge. 14. 2. Take me an offering, Exod. 25. 2. Take me a little water, 1 King. 17. 10. that is, Give. Giving also is sometime used for taking, as Gen. 42. 30. he gave (that is, took) us for spies. Rightly therefore doth the Apostle turn this in Greek, given, Ephes. 4. 8. and the next words •Adam, is unto men, as Paul explaineth it, or among men, as Jeremiah 49. 15. And the gifts are the Ministers of the Gospel, given for the good of the Church, Ephes. 4. 11, 12. So the Chaldee here addeth, thou hast taught the words of the Law, hast given gifts to the sons of men. and also the rebellious] or disobedient, to wit, thou hast led captive. They that continue rebellious are subdued to destruction, Psal. 2. 9. Isa. 11. 4. others by conversion, as Saul, breathing out threatenings and slaughter, was by Christ subdued, Act. 9. And after spake of himself and others, we ourselves were in times past unwise, disobedient, &c. but when the bountifulness and love of God our Savior towards man appeared, he saved us, &c. Tit. 3. 3, 4, 5. to dwell] understand, in God's mount, as verse. 17. or, with Yah God, meaning it of the captives. Or, that thou, O Yah God, mayest dwell, to wit, in men's hearts by faith, Ephes. 3. 17. or in the Church, which by those thy gifts (the Ministers) is built as a spiritual house for God to dwell in, 1 Cor. 3. 9, 10, 16. 1 Pet. 2. 5. So God dwelt among the Israelites, Num. 5. 3. and 35. 34.

Vers. 20. day by day] or daily: see Psal. 61. 9. •odeth us] to wit, with his blessings or gifts, verse 19. or with afflictions, wherewith the Saints are burdened, and yet bless him for his comforts in them, 2 Cor. 5. 4. and 1. 3, 4, 8. and 6. 4,—6. The Chaldee understandeth it of such l•ding as is by adding precepts upon precepts.

Vers. 21. Our God, &c.] or, God to us is a God for salvations, that is, all manner health, help and deliverance that fully saveth. Jehovah] so the name of God is written usually, when Adonai, Lord, next followeth it, as here and Psal. 109. 21. or goeth before it, as Gen. 15. 2. having the vowels of Elohim, God, and so is by the Jews pronounced; as other times having the vowels of Adonai, it is so pronounced, Lord. So, for Adonai, Iehovaih, 2 Sam. 7. 18. is written, Jehovah Elohim, 1 Chron. 17. 16. See Psal. 83. 19. issues] or passages, that is, ways and means of death or to death: meaning that he hath many ways to bring his enemies to death, and to deliver his people out of it. For, he hath the keys of death, Rev. 1. 18. •e killeth and giveth life, woundeth and healeth, and none can deliver out of his hand, Deut. 32. 39. So issues of life, Prov. 4. 23.

Vers. 22. hairie scalpe] Hebr. the crown (or scalpe) of hair, meaning open and inevitable judgment on the chiefest and most fierce enemies. guiltinesses] guilty sins, impieties: So Psal. 69. 6.

Vers. 23. I will bring again] or, will return, reduce, to wit, thee my people, as I brought thee from the peril of Ogh in Bashan, Numb. 21. 23, 35. and of Pharaoh at the red sea, Exod. 14. 22, 23, 28, 29. Former deliverances are often by the Prophets applied to the times and works of Christ: See Isa. 11. 1, 11, 15, 16. and 51. 10, 11. gulfs] or deeps, bottoms: See Psal. 69. 3.

Vers. 24. That thy foot may embrew] that is, •e embrewed, or, That thou mayest embrew thy foot. It is the same word which before in verse 22. is Englished wound, and signifieth, to make gor• bloody; and is here by consequence put for embrewing or dipping in gor• blood: as the Greek turneth it, That thy foot may be dipped. And this noteth a great slaughter of the enemies; as the dipping of the foot in oil, Deut. 33. 24. meaneth abundance thereof. in blood of thine enemies] or, which floweth from thine enemies from him, that is, from each of them, or from the greatest of them, Antichrist: or, of the same blood. Compare herewith the slaughter of Christ's enemies, Rev. 19. 17, 18,—21.

Vers. 25. They have seen] that is, Men have seen (not naming any special persons) thy goings, or ways, and administration. The Chaldee saith, The house of Israel have seen the going of thy Majesty upon the Sea, O God. in the] that is, which art in the Sanctuary, or into the Sanctuary, referring it to David's carrying of the A•ke into the holy Tent, 1 Chron▪ 13. 6. 8. and 15. 28.

Vers. 26. beating on timbrels] or on Tabers, to wit, with the hand; so in the triumph at the red sea, Mary the sister of Aaron, and all the women after her with timbrels and pip•s, sung praise to God, Exod. 15. 20, 21. unto that the Chaldee here referreth it. So at the slaughter of the Philistines, 1 Sam. 18. 6, 7. and at the slaughter of the Ammonites, Judge. 11. 34. A timbrel (or taber) is in Hebrew named Toph, of the like sound that it maketh when it is stricken.

Vers. 27. In the Churches] or congregations: see Psal. 26. 12. ye of the fountain] that come out of Israel, as out of a well or fountain; a phrase taken from Deut. 33. 28. Isaiah hath also one much like it, Isa. 48. 1. It seemeth to be meant of the people, though it may also be referred to Christ: bless the Lord, who is of the fountain of Israel. For, of the Israelites, concerning the flesh, Christ came, who is God over all, blessed forever, Amen, Rom. 9. 5.

Vers. 28. There] in the Churches be little Benjamin, the tribe or posterity of Benjamin, who was himself little, that is, youngest of all Israel's children; and his tribe little, that is, few in number, being almost all destroyed for the sin of Gibeon, Judge. 20. 1, &c. their ruler] the Prince of that Tribe. The Greek version saith, in a trance; taking the Hebrew Rodem to be of radam, though it be not found elsewhere in this form; yet rare words but once used are sundry times found in this and other Psalms. These things applied to Christ's times and after, are very mystical. Benjamin the least is here put first; so in the heavenly Jerusalem, the first foundation is a Jasper, Rev. 21. 19. which was the last precious stone in Aaron's Brest plate, on which Benjamins name was graven, Exod▪ 28. 20. 10. 21. In this Tribe Paul excelled as a Prince of God, though one of the last Apostles, 1 Cor. 15. 8, 9, 10. who was converted in a trance or ecstasy, Act. 9. 3, 4, &c. and in ex•asies he and other Apostles saw the mysteries of Christ's Kingdom, Act. 10. 10, 11, &c. 2 Cor. 12. 1, 2, 3, 4. their assembly] in Greek, their governors; the Hebrew word Regamah but once used, causeth this ambiguity: for coming of Ragam, to throw an heap of stones, Lev. 24. 14. may either be taken for an heap or assembly, or for a stone, that is, a ruler; as elsewhere a stone signifieth, Gen. 49. 24. Of this Tribe of Judah were the Apostle James, and other our Lord's brethren, Gal. 1. 19. Act. 1. 14. Zebulu•, Naphtal•] these Tribes were situate in the •arthest parts of Canaan, as Judah and Benjamin were in the first and chiefest parts; meaning by these few all other Tribes gathered to praise God. In these coasts Christ called to Apostleship Simon Peter, And•ew, &c. fishers of Galilee.

Vers. 29. commanded thy strength] that is, powerfully appointed it, speaking to the Church. See the like phrase, Psal. 133. 3. and 44. 5. By strength also, Kingdom is often meant. strengthen] the Chaldee paraphraseth,  dwell in this house of the Sanctuary which thou hast made for us.

Vers. 30. For thy Palace] or temple, which was after David's days to be buil• in the heavenly Jerusalem, the Lord and the Lamb are the Temple of it, Rev. 21. 22. bring a present] or, lead along a gift• that is, gifts• or presents. So Psal. 76. 12. which pres•nts are sometimes of the persons of men. See Isa. 18. 7. & 66. 20. Rom. 〈ϕ〉 . 16. & 12. 1.

Vers. 31. Rebuke] that is, Destroy: See Psal. 9. 6. •ompany of spear-men] or of archers, the ••ut (or 〈ϕ〉 ) of the cane, that is, such as use canes or reeds, whereof spears or arrows were made. Of this word company, see before, verse. 11. It may also be read, the wild beasts of the reeds, meaning the savage wicked people. So the Chaldee turneth it, the armies of sinners. mighty bulls] the high Priests and great personages: see Psal. 2•. 13. that submitteth] that is, the Hypocrite which •aineth subjection, (as the former were professed enemies) or, till •e (that is, everyone) submit, as Deut. 33. 29• The word signifieth such submission, as when one casts down himself at the feet, as to be trodden on: so Prov. 6. 3. he hath scattered] this is spoken to the Church of God. The Greek turneth it as the former, Scatter thou.

Vers. 32. Princely Ambassadors] Heb. Chashmannim, a word not used but here. The Greek saith, Presbeis, Ambassadors. Egypt] in Hebrew called Mitsrajim, the name of the son of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 6. who called the country where he & his posterity dwelt by his own name. In Greek, and in the New Testament, it is always called Egypt. This is a prophesy of the calling of the Gentiles to the faith, as the Chaldee saith, that they may be made proselytes. Ethiopia] in Hebrew Cush, another son of Cham, brother to M•sraim and Canaan, Gen. 10. 6. the country where he and his children dwelt is called by his name Cush, in Greek Ethiopia. The people we call back Moors. hastily stretch] Hebr. make run: nothing the readiness of that nation to offer gifts and sacrifices, (or, as the Ch••dee explaineth it, to spread out their hands in prayer) and to receive the Gospel: See Act. 8. 27• &c.

Vers. 34. of heavens of antiquity] that is, the most ancient and highest heavens, which were since the world began, noting hereby God's powerful Majesty and help to his Church, as Deut. 33. 26. will give] or giveth usually his voice, that is, speaks aloud or thundereth: see the notes on Psal. 46. 7. and 29. 3. Some Apostles were called Sons of thunder, Mark▪ 3. 17. and Christ's powerful voice raiseth the dead, John. 5. 25.

Vers. 35. Give the strength] that is, strong praise, and the glory of the Kingdom: see Psal. 8. 3.

Vers. 36. Sanctuaries] the holy and most holy places of the Tabernacle, and Heaven it self: see Psal. 43. 3. the people] that is, as the Greek explaineth, his people. So the soul, Psal. 69. 2. fo•my soul: see Psal. 45. 4. Blessed be God] Hereupon God was called in Israel, the Blessed one, as Mark. 14. 61. Art thou Christ the son of the Blessed? that is, the son of God, Mat. 26. 63.

PSAL. LXIX.

David (the father and figure of Christ) complaineth of his great afflictions. 14 He prayeth for deliverance 23 He devoteth his enemies to destruction. 31 He praiseth God for the salvation of his Church.

To the Master of the Music, upon Shoshannim, a Psalme of David.

SAve me, O God, for waters are entered even to the soul. I sink down in the mud of the gulf, where no standing is; I am entered into the deeps of waters, and the streaming flood overfloweth me. I am weary with my crying; my throat is burnt, mine eyes fail, I attentively waiting for my God.

Many are, more than the hairs of my head, they that hate me without cause; mighty are they that would suppress me, mine enemies falsely: that which I took not away, then I restored. O God, thou knowest my foolishness, and my guiltinesses are not concealed from thee. Let not them be abashed for me that hopefully expect thee, Lord Jehovah of hosts: let them not be ashamed for me that seek thee, O God of Israel. For, for thy sake do I bear reproach, shame covereth my face. I am become a stranger to my brethren, and a foreigner to my mothers sons.

For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up: and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me. And I wept, with fasting afflicted my soul, and it was for reproache to me. And I made my raiment sack cloth, and I was to them for a Proverb.

They that sit in the gate spake against me, and they that drink strong drink made melodies. And I, my prayer is to thee, Jehovah, in time of acceptation; O God, in multitude of thy mercy answer thou me, in the truth of thy salvation. Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink down: let me be delivered from my haters, and out of the deeps of waters. Let not the streaming flood of waters overflow me, neither let the gulf swallow me, neither let the pit shut her mouth upon me. Answer me, Jehovah, for thy kind mercy is good; according to the multitude of thy tender mercies turn the face unto me. And hide not thy face from thy servant, for distress is on me; make haste, answer me. Draw near to my soul▪ redeem it; because of mine enemies, ransom thou me.

Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonor; before thee are all my distressers. Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness; and I looked for some to mone me, but none came; and for comforters, but I found none. But they gave me gall for my meat, and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink. Let their table be before them for a share, and for recompenses for a trap-fall. Let their eyes be darkened that they see not, and make their loins to shake continually. Pour out upon them thy detesting ire, and let the burning wrath of thine anger take them. Let their Castle be desolate; within their tents let there not be a dweller. For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and they tell of the sorrow of thy wounded ones. Give thou iniquity unto their iniquity, and let them not come into thy justice. Let them be wiped out of the Book of the living, and let them not be written with the just. And I, poor afflicted and sorrowing; let thy salvation, O God, lift me up. I will praise the Name of God with a song, and magnify him with confession. And it shall be better to Jehovah, than a young Bull that hath horns, that parteth the hoof. The meek shall see it, they shall rejoice; the seekers of God, and your heart shall live. For Jehovah heareth the needy, and despiseth not his prisoners. Praise him let heavens and earth, seas, and all that creepeth in them. For God will save Zion, and build the Cities of Judah; and they shall dwell there, and have it for inheritance.

And the seed of his servants shall possess it: and they that love his name, shall dwell therein.

Annotations.

SHoshannim] that is, six-stringed instruments, or, Lilies: see Psal. 45. 1. [unspec 1]

Vers. 2. Save me, &c.] David in his troubles, being a figure of Christ, prayeth for deliverance from temptations and persecutions, under the similitude of waters, mud, mire, pit, deeps, streams, &c. and that this Psalm had accomplishment in Christ, the Evangelists show, Mat. 27. 48. John. 19. 29. that the use hereof is for us, the Apostle showeth, Rom. 15. 3, 4. that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope. waters] The Chaldee expoundeth these, armies of sinners, which beset him like waters. the soul] to wit, of me, as the Greek explaineth it, that is, are ready to drown and choke me: so Ion. 2. 5. see also Psal. 45. 4.

Vers. 3. mud of the gulf] or, of the deep, that is, the deep or gulfie mud in the bottoms of the sea, as Psal. 68. 23. Ion. 2. 4. another sign of great calamity, as also in Psal. 88. 7. wherefore Babylon that held captive God's people, is called a Gulf, or Deepe, Isa. 44. 27. no standing] no stay or ground, but I sink more and more. deeps of waters] in Greek, deeps of the see.

Vers. 4. is burnt] that is, parched, dried, or (as the Greek explaineth it) hoarse. eyes fail] or, are consumed, to wit, with tears and earnest expectation, as Lam. 2. 11. and 4. 17. This was a curse of the Law, Lev. 26. 16. Deu. 28. 65. but Christ became a curse for us, Gal. 3. 13. So after, Psa. 119. 82.

Vers. 5. falsely] in Greek, unjustly. rock not away] or, which I robbed not, took not by force a• rapine. This though it may be taken for all •r just criminations, whereof David and Christ were innocent, yet in special it was verified in Christ, who being in the form of God thought it no robbery to be equal with God, Phil. 2. 6. notwithstanding for witnessing himself to be the Son of God, he was put to death by the Jews, John. 19. 7.

Vers. 6. my foolishness] that is, my sin: see the note on Psal. 38. 6. In David were sins properly; in Christ, by imputation: for God made him sin for us, which knew no sin, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Or this may be meant of false imputation, O God thou knowest my foolishness, if any such be, as my oes charge me with: So Psal. 7. 4, 5.

Vers. 7. abashed for me] for my sake, to wit, If I be not delivered. So of Christ, his Disciples hoped that he should be the Savior of Israel; but when he was killed, they began to doubt and fear, Satan winnowing their faith to make them ashamed; but Christ prayed for their confirmation, Luk. 24. 20, 21. and 22. 31, 32. So great are Christ's afflictions, that blessed is he that is not offended in him, Mat. 11. 6. Jehovah] or, God, it hath the vowels of Elohim: see Psal. 68. 21.

Vers. 8. bear reproach] that is, are reproached: contrary hereunto is, to bear grace and favor, that is, to be avored and well liked, Esth. 2. 15, 17. Compare herewith Psal. 44. 23. 16.

Vers. 9. forreinour] to wit, in their estimation and carriage towards me. This also was the case of Job and others, Job 19. 13. Gen. 31. 15. & of Christ the Jews said, they knew not whence he was, John. 9. 29. and his brethren believed not in him, John. 7. 5.

Vers. 10. zeal of thine house] or jealousy, indignation for the polluting of thine house, and studious fervent care to have it conserved holy. See this performed by Christ, when he whipped buyers and sellers out of the temple, John. 2. 15, 16, 17. eaten me up] devoured, or consumed. For love and jealousy are a fire and vehement flame, Song. 8. 6. See also Psal. 119. 139. are fallen on me] that is, I have taken them on me, and willingly bear them, as the Apostle gathereth from these words, that Christ pleased not himself, (that is, sought not his own pleasure or profit) but for his Fathers sake & his brethren's did bear all things: and this is an example for us to do the like: See Rom. 15. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Vers. 11. afflicted my soul] the word afflicted is here supplied from Psal. 35. 13. for often there is want of a word to be understood, which the Hebrew text sometime showeth; as 2 Chron. 10. 11, 14. I, with Scorpions, for which in 1 King. 12. 11, 14. is written, I will chastise you with Scorpions: see the notes on Psal. 18. 7, 29. and 27. it was for] or, it was turned to reproaches, that is, to much reproach and opprobrie. So John's fasting turned to his reproach; they said, he had a Devil, Luk. 7. 33.

Vers. 12. And I made] or, when I gave, that is, made, or put on. So giving is for putting, Psal. 8. 2.

Vers. 13. that sit in the gate] that is, great men in the public assemblies. The rulers of the Jews, Deut. 25. 7. Ruth 4. 1, 2, &c. spake] or talked and meditated, communed how to work me evil, Luk. 22. 2, 4. strong drink] Heb. S•eker, which is all manner strong drink which will make drunken, as ale, beer, wine, sider, methaglin, &c. The Greek here turneth it wine. melodies] or songs sung with instruments of music of me. So Job also complaineth, Job 30. 9.

Vers. 14. And I] that is, And (or but) as for me. time of acceptance] that is, an acceptable time, as the Apostle interpreteth this phrase, 2 Cor. 6. 2. from Isaiah 49. 8. in truth of thy salvation] that is, for thy saving truths sake, or faithful salvation.

Vers. 15. mire] the Chaldee expoundeth it, captivity, which is like unto mire. [unspec 15]

Vers. 16. shut her mouth] so that I cannot get out of misery; as Dathan, Abiram, &c. went down alive into the pit, and the earth covered over them, that no hope was left of their return, Numb. 16. 33. But Christ in all troubles had comfort, even in the grave his flesh rested in hope, Psal. 16. 9, 10. The Chaldee expoundeth this verse thus, Let not the strong king, which is li•e to a flood of waters, captivate me, neither let the mighty prince swallow me, &c.

Vers. 17. turn the face] or, respect, regard me with favor: See, Psal.•5. 16. [unspec 17]

Vers. 20. dishonor] or ignominy, slander, calumny: See Psal. 4. 3.

Vers. 21. full of heaviness] or, sick, sorrowful; of this word in Hebrew man hath his name Aenosh: see Psal. 8. 5. to mone] to pity, and solaoe me, or, to show compassion: So Job 42. 11. found none] in Christ's greatest need, all his Disciples forsook him and fled; Mat. 26. 56. and all his acquaintance stood a far off, Luk. 23. 49.

Vers. 22 gall] in Hebrew Rosh, an Herb bitter as wormwood, with which it is often joined, Deut. 29. 18. Am. 6. 12. Lam. 3. 19. It groweth in Corn fields, Hos. 10. 4. the water or juice hereof signifieth bitter affliction, Ier. 9. 15. These things were also actually done to Christ, whom the Jews refreshed with gall and vinegar, Mat. 27. 34. John. 19. 28, 29, 30.

Vers. 23. and for recompenses] that is, and for a full recompense of that which they did to me (let their table be) a trap unto them. Or, and for peaces, that is, and the things which they expect peace and welfare by, let become a trap unto them. But the first sense agreeth with the Apostles interpretation, Rom. 1•. 9. These are David's imprecations against the Jews, and prophesies of their rejection, as the Apostle showeth; and by their table we are to understand all means of comfort and refreshing both of body and soul, which turn to the ruin of the wicked, even an odour of death unto death, 2 Cor. 2. 15, 16.

Vers. 24. that they see not] so the Apostle explaineth the Hebrew phrase, from seeing Rom. 11. 10. The like is in Esa. 44. 28. And hereby is meant the eyes of their understanding, that seeing they see and perceive not, because a veil is over their hearts, John. 12. 39, 40. Act. 28. 26, 27. 2 Cor. 3. 14, 15. make their loins to sha•e] bow down their backs, saith the Apostle, Rom. 11. 10. and this meaneth bondage and misery, as appeareth by the contrary blessing of going upright, which God once vouched safe unto that people, Lev. 26. 13.

Vers. 26. their castle] or their tower, palace, habitation, fair and orderly built, Gen. 2•. 16. Numb. 31. 10. Song 8. 9. This which David speaketh of all Christ's enemies, Peter applieth to Judas that betrayed him, Let his habitation be desert, Act. 1. 20. but Christ threateneth the like to them all, Mat. 23. 38. Castle here is for Castles or Palaces, as Chariot for Chariots, Psal. 68. 18.

Vers. 27. whom thou hast smitten] Christ the shepherd, who was smitten of God, and wounded for our sins, Esa. 53. 4, 5. Mat. 26. 31. they tell of the sorrow, that is, tell one another vauntingly, of the sorrow (smart or pain) of thy wounded, thy servants who are wounded for thy sake; or, they preach hereof: see the like phrase, Psal. 2. 7. or, they tell to the sorrow, that is, add unto and increase it, as the Greek turneth it.

Vers. 28. Give thou iniquity, &c.] that is, Add sin unto their sin, give them over to a reprobate mind, which was God's heavy judgment first on the Gentiles, Rom. 1. 24, 28. afterward on the Jews, who fulfilled their sins when wrath came on them to the utmost, 1 Thes. 2. 16. Rom. 11. 8. Mat. 23. 32. Or by iniquity, may be understood punishment for it, as Psal. 31. 11. not come into thy justice] that is, not believe thy Gospel, and so come to the justice of God, which is by faith; as the Scriptures show, Rom. 10. 3, &c. Phil. 3. 9. John. 12. 39, 40. The Chaldee expounds it, let them not enter into the Church of thy just ones.

Vers. 29. book of the living] or, Book of life, wherein the just that live by saith are written, that is, let them be cut off from being any longer counted thy people, or registered in the writing of the house of Israel, as Ezek. 13. 9. Rom. 11. 20. Phil. 3. 2, 3. Psal. 87. 6.

Vers. 30. lift me up] or, set me on a high place, that is, safely defend me.

Vers. 32. better to] that is, more pleasing and acceptable. a young bull] so the Greek explaineth the Hebrew phrase, a bull a bullock, that is, a bull which is but young, or a bullock. So Judge. 6. 25. where the order is changed, take the bullock of the bull, that is, the young bull or bullock. Some understand it here of two, better than bull or bullock. that hath horns] Hebr. horneth, that is, brings forth or beareth horns, and parteth the hoof▪ for such were fittest for sacrifice; but confession and thanks are more pleasing to God, specially Christ's obedience: see Psal. 50. 13, 14, 15. and 40. 7.

Vers. 33. the seekers] or, ye seekers of God, to wit, shall see it, and your heart shall live; ye shall have inward life, joy and consolation: See Psal. 22. 27.

Vers. 34. his prisoners] such as are persecuted and bound in prisons for his truth: Thus Paul calleth himself the prisoner of Christ, Ephes. 3. 1.

Vers. 35. heavens] the Chaldee saith, Angels of Heaven, and the inhabitants of the earth.

Vers. 36. save Zion] that is, his Church, figured out by Zion and Judah: see Psal. 2. 6. and this building of Judah's cities is by preaching of the Gospel, 1 Cor. 3. 9, 10. a figure of this work was done by Jehoshaphat, 2 Chron. 17. 9, 12, 13. and Isaiah prophesieth the like, Isa. 44. 26.

PSAL. LXX.

David prayeth for speedy help, to the shame of the wicked, and joy of the godly.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David for to record.

O God, for to deliver me; Jehovah, to mine help make haste. Let them be abashed and ashamed that seek my soul; let them be turned backward and blush that delight mine evil: Let them turn back for a reward of their shame, that say, aha, aha. Let all that seek thee be joyful and rejoice in thee; and let them say continually, magnified be God; they that love thy salvation. And I, poor afflicted and needy, O God, make haste to me; thou art mine help and my deliverer; Jehovah, delay not.

Annotations.

TO record] or to cause remembrance: see Psal. 38. 1. [unspec 1]

Vers. 2. to deliver] or, to rid me free; understand, make haste, or vouchsafe, as is expressed in Psal. 40. 14. for this Psalm is the same in substance, and almost in words with the end of that Psalm: see the annotations there.

Vers. 3. that seek my soul] to make an end of it, as Psal. 40. 15.

Vers. 4. turn back] desolate or wasted, as Psal. 40. 16. [unspec 4]

Vers. 5. be God] in Psal. 40. 17. it is written, be Jehovah.

Vers. 6. O God, make haste to me] for this, in Psalm. 40. 18. is, the Lord thinketh on me. Jehovah] in Psal. 40. 18. my God.

PSAL. LXXI.

The Psalmist in confidence of faith and experience of God's favor, prayeth both for himself and against the enemies of his soul. 14 He promiseth constancy. 17 Prayeth for perseverance. 19 Praiseth God, and promiseth to do it cheerfully.

IN thee Jehovah do I hope for safety, let me not be abashed forever. In thy justice rid thou me, and deliver me; incline thine ear unto me, and save me. Be thou to me for a rock of habitation to enter continually; thou hast commanded to save me, for thou art my rock and my munition. My God, deliver me out of the hand of the wicked, out of the palm of the evil doer and the leavened. For thou art mine expectation, Lord Jehovah, my confidence from my child-hood. By thee have I been holden up from the womb; from my mothers bowels thou tookest me; of thee is my praise continually.

As a wonder I am unto many, but thou art my strong hope. Let my mouth be filled with thy praise, all the day with thy glory. Cast me not away at the time of old age; when mine able strength faileth, forsake not thou me. For mine enemies speak of me, and they that observe my soul consult together.

Saying, God hath forsaken him; pursue and take him, for there is none to reskue. O God, be not thou far away from me; my God, make haste to mine help. Let them be abashed and consumed that are adversaries of my soul: let them be covered with reproach and dishonor that seek mine evil. And I will patiently wait continually, and add unto all thy praise. My mouth shall tell thy justice, all the day thy salvation, though I know not the numbers. I will enter in the powers of the Lord Jehovah; I will record thy justice, thine only. O God, thou hast learned me from my child-hood, and hitherto have I shown thy marvelous works. And also unto old age and hoarinesse, O God forsake me not; until I show thine arm to this generation, thy power to everyone that shall come. And thy justice, O God, which is to on high, which hast done great things; O God, who is like thee? Which didst make me to see distresses many and evil, didst return and quicken me; and from the deeps of the earth didst return and bring me up. Thou didst much increase my greatness, & didst turn about and comfort me. Also, I will confess thee with the instrument of Psalterie, even thy faithfulness, my God; I will sing Psalm to thee with Harp, O holy One of Israel. My lips shall shout when I sing Psalm unto thee, and my soul which thou hast redeemed. Also, my tongue shall talk of thy justice all the day, for they are abashed, for they are ashamed that seek mine evil.

Annotations.

IN thee] Chaldee. In the Word of the Lord. This Psalm which hath no title in the Hebrew, is in Greek thus entitled: *Of David, a Psalm of the sons of Ionada*, and of them that were first captived.*

Vers. 2. deliver] or, make me to escape safe. [unspec 2]

Vers. 3. of habitation] or of mansion, a rock whereto I may fly and there dwell safe. God is often called a Rock, Psal. 18. 3. and a mansion (or habitation) to his people, Psal. 90. 1. The Greek here makes it plain thus, Be to me for a God protector. hast commanded] to wit, thine Angels, as Psal. 91. 11. or, hast effectually appointed: See Psal. 44 5.

Vers. 4. evil doer] or, injurious, wrong doer. the leavened] that is, the malicious: for maliciousness and wickedness is likened to leaven, 1 Cor. 5. 8. The Hebrew Chomets properly signifieth that which is leavened or sour, Exod. 12. 39. here used for the malicious or violent cruel man, as the Greek turneth it, the injurious, or Chomets may be used for Chomes, the violent.

Vers. 5. Jehovah] or God, for it hath the vowels of Elohim: so after, verse. 16. See Psal. 68. 21.

Vers. 6. tookest me] or, didst rid me, to wit, from danger: Compare this with Psal. 22. 10, 11. of thee] or in thee, but in is often used for of as Psal. 63. 7. and 87. 3. see the notes there.

Vers. 7. a wonder to many] or, a monster to the mighty: a sign whom the many (or mighty) do gaze upon, speak of, and show to others, and wonder at. A wonder and a sign are sometimes used as one, 2 Chron. 32. 24. with 2 King. 20. 8, 9. So, Christ and his Disciples were as signs and wonders in Israel, Isa. 8. 18. Heb. 2. 13. Iehoshuah and his fellows were monstrous persons, Zach. 3. 8. the Apostles agazing stock to the world, 1 Cor. 4. 9. hope] or refuge, a place where one hopeth for safety.

Vers. 8. with thy glory] or glory of thee, that is, with glorifying thee, honoring, beautifying, and commending thy Majesty.

Vers. 10. speak of] or say of me, that God hath forsaken me, verse. 11. or, they speak against me. observe] that is, lay wait for, it is meant here for evil: as is the observing of the steps, Psal. 56. 7. but often this phrase is used for good, to keep, regard, and preserve the soul or life, Psal. 97. 10. and 121. 7. Prov. 22. 5.

Vers. 14. add unto all thy praise] that is, increase it; I will praise thee more than I have done, or, more than others do, as 2 Chron. 10. 11. I will add unto your yoke, that is, increase it.

Vers. 15. though I know not] or, for I know not the numbers, to wit, of them. God's justice and salvation is innumerable ways administered, which are to be celebrated, but cannot be reckoned, Psal. 40. 6.

Vers. 16. I will enter] to wit, into this work of praising God in his power, not mine own: or, I will enter, that is, begin with his powerful works to praise them; or, I will enter, that is, go in hand, or go forward with my business through his power.

Vers. 18. unto old age] or, whiles old age is upon me, as verse. 9. So elsewhere God saith, that he had borne Israel from the womb and birth, and would bear them still unto old age and the hoary hairs, Isa. 46. 3, 4. thine arm] that is, strength, help, salvation. So Psal. 77. 16. Isa. 51. 5. and 53. 1. D•u. 33. 27. this generation] the men of this age. The word this (or present) is understood by that which followeth: see also Psal. 45. 4.

Vers. 19. And thy justice, O God, which is to on high] that is, which reacheth up to Heaven, viz. I will show it. Thus the Greek understandeth it. We may also translate, For thy justice is unto the high place, that is, to heaven, incomprehensible, as Psal. 36. 6, 7. And may be instead of For, as Psal. 60. 13. and the high place is by the Chaldee expounded, the high heavens: so Psa. 93. 4. Mat. 2•. 9

Vers. 20. didst make me see] or us see: shewest me and us; for the Hebrew hath a double reading, meaning David in special, and other God's people with him: so after, it is read in the margin, quicken me, bring me up, (as also the Greek ••th i•) but written in the line, quicken us, bring us up. By making see, is also meant experience and feeling, as Psal. 49. 10. and evil] or evils, that is, calamities. didst return] that is, didst again quicken, or, wilt again quicken me. So after. But the Greek turneth it in the time past. deeps] abyss's of the earth, gulfs of affliction and death, elsewhere called the lowest parts, Psal. 88. 7. such Christ in his humanity, sorrows and death, went down unto and returned, Eph. 4. 9. Rom. 10. 7.

Vers. 21. my greatness] or magnificence, majesty, honor; for Christ after afflictions entered into his glory, Luk. 24. 26. 1 Pet. 1. 11. Phil. 2 8, 9. and the godly must suffer with him, that they may also be glorified with him, Rom. 8. 17.

Vers. 22. psalterie] or lute: see Psal. 33. 2. even thy faith] or, for thy faithful truth. holy one] or Saint of Israel: God is so called, both for that he is holiness it self, and sanctifieth his people, Lev. 20. 8, 26. and again is sanctified, that is, holily praised and honored of them, Isa. 8. 13. So Psal. 78. 41. and 89. 19.

Vers. 24. talk of] or meditate, that is, speak advisedly and after due meditation: See Psal. 1. 2. for they] or when they are abashed, that is, destroyed: See Psal. 6. 11.

PSAL. LXXII.

David praying for Solomon, showeth the goodness and glory of his in type, and in truth of Christ's Kingdom. 18 He blesseth God.

For Solomon. [unspec 1]

O God, give thy judgments to the King, and thy justice to the Kings son. That he may judge thy people with justice, and thy poor afflicted ones with judgment. The mountains shall bring forth peace to the people, and the hills with justice. He shall judge the poor afflicted of the people, he shall save the sons of the needy, and shall break down the fraudulent oppressor. They shall fear thee with the Sun, and before the Moon, to generation of generations. He shall come down like the rain upon the mown grass; as the showers, the dispersed moisture of the earth.

In his days shall the just man flourish, and multitude of peace, until the Moon be not. [unspec 7]

And he shall have dominion from sea unto sea, and from the river unto the ends of the land. They that dwell in dry places shall kneel before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust. The kings of Tharshish and of the Iles shall render an oblation; the kings of Sheba & Seba shall offer a present. And all kings shall worship him, all nations shall serve him. [unspec 11]

For he shall deliver the needy that crieth out, and the poor afflicted, and him that hath no helper. He shall mercifully spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy. He shall redeem their soul from fraud and violent wrong, and precious shall their blood be in his eyes. And he shall live, and he shall give to him of the gold of Sheba, and shall pray for him continually, shall bless him all the day. There shall be a parcel of Corn in the land, in the top of the mountains; the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon, and flourish shall they of the City as the herb out of the earth. His name shall be forever, his name shall be continued before the Sun, and they shall bless themselves in him; all Nations shall call him blessed. Blessed be Jehovah God, the God of Israel, which doth marvelous things himself alone. And blessed be the name of his glory forever; and let all the earth be filled with his glory; Amen, and Amen.

Ended are the prayers of David son of Jesse.

Annotations.

FOr Solomon] the Greek addeth, a Psalm of David for Solomon; and the last verse showeth it to be made by David, and it concerneth Christ and his Kingdom, figured by Solomon, Song 3. 11. and therefore called by his name, as elsewhere he is called David, Hos. 3. 5. Such also is the title of the 127. Psalm. Kings son] to whom the right of the Kingdom belongeth by birth and inheritance. So Christ was King David's son, and borne King of the Jews, Mar. 11. 10. Mat. 2. 2. and 22. 42. to him the Father gave all judgment, John 5. 22. The Chaldee expoundeth the King to be Christ, and the Kings son to be King David's son.

Vers. 2. That he may] or, Let him judge, that is, govern thy people in justice, that is, justly, wherefore he is named Melchizedek, that is, King  $\langle \delta \rangle$  justico, Heb. 7. 2. of whom it was prophesied, behold a King shall reign in justice, Isa. 32. 1.

Vers. 3. The mountains shall bring forth] or, shall bear, to wit, as their fruit; for so this phrase importeth, Job 40. 15. This and the rest that follow, may also be read prayer-wise, let the mountains bear, &c. The Chaldee paraphraseth, The dwellers on the mountains shall bring peace to the people of the house of Israel. peace] that is, prosperity, plenty of fruits which should be enjoyed with peace, as all Solomon's days Israel dwelt without fear, every man under his vine and fig tree, 1 King. 4. 25. And under Christ, the work and effect of justice, is peace, quietness, and assurance forever, Isa. 32. 17. Rom. 5. 1. the mountains drop down new wine, and the hills flow with milk, Joel 3. 18. Amos 9. 13. hills with justice] that is, the hills also shall bear peace with justice; both peace and justice, as these two are said to kiss each other, Psal. 85. 11. and Christ is King both of justice and peace, Heb. 7. 2. his Kingdom is justice, peace, and joy, Rom. 14. 17. It may also be read for justice.

Vers. 4. shall judge] that is, shall deliver; see the notes on Psal. 43. 1. save the sons of the needy] that is, the needy persons; in Chaldee, shall redeem the sons of misery, that is, such as are in wretched case. the fraudulent oppressor] whom the Greek here calleth sycophant; which word is used for injuring by forged cavillation, Luk. 19. 8. and 3. 14. See before in Psal. 62. 11.

Vers. 5. They shall fear] men shall reverence, that is, worship and serve thee. So fear is used for worship, Isa. 29. 13. Mat. 15. 9. with the sun] or before the sun, as is after expressed, verse. 17. & as the Hebrew ghnim, with, is elsewhere used for before, Est. 7. 8. and before the sun and moon, meaneth continually, so long as they shine on the earth, which is, so long as the world endureth, Gen. 8. 22. Psal. 89. 37, 38. The Chaldee intrepeth it, with the rising of the sun, and in the light of the moon, that is, at morning and evening, day and night; as the twelve Tribes are said so instantly to serve, Act. 26. 7.

Vers. 6. the mown grass] the meadow, which being mown in the beginning of Summer, craveth rain that it may grow again. The originall word signifieth also a shorn fleece of wool; which sense some keep here, and refer it to the dew that fell on Gedeons fleece, when the land was dry, and again on the land when the fleece was dry, Judge. 6. 37,—40. Solomon and Christ are here said to come down as rain, in respect of the doctrine and administration of judgment by them. So Moses said, My doctrine shall drop as the rain, &c. Deut. 32. 2. and Job said, they waited for me as for the rain, &c. Job 29. 23. and the Lord shall come unto us as the rain, &c. Hos. 6. 3. the dispersed moisture] understand, which are the moisture, that is, which showers do moisten the earth. Zarziph, the Hebrew word used only in this place, hath the signification of dispersing moisture or water, as is by showers, God having divided spouts for the rain, whereby it is strowed abroad upon the earth, Job 38. 25. Wherefore the former word showers, implieth rain that falleth with manifold (or millions of) drops, as Psal. 65. 11.

Vers. 7. multitude of peace] to wit, shall be, or, shall flourish: and this Shalom, peace, may respect the name of Shelomoh or Solomon, which signifieth peaceable, as was promised to David, Behold, a son is borne to thee which shall be a man of rest, for I will give him rest from all his enemies round about, therefore his name is Solomon, and I will send (Salom) peace and quietness upon Israel in his days, 1 Chron. 22. 9. moon be not] or be taken away, as the Greek explaineth it, that is, till the worlds end, as before, verse. 5.

Vers. 8. from sea to sea] from the salt Sea, (the lake of Sodom, Gen. 14. 3.) to the main sea. See Numb. 34. 3,—6, &c. where the limits of the land are described. from the river] the great river Euphrates, Gen. 15. 18. Deut. 11. 24. In Solomon this was accomplished, when he reigned over all kingdoms, from the river to the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt, 1 King. 4. 21. in Christ, when all Nations were brought into his subjection by the Gospel, as Mat. 28. 18, 19. Act. 1. 8. Col. 1. 5, 6. Rev. 11. 15.

Vers. 9. in dry places] or, in deserts, which the Greek explaineth, the Ethiopians. The Hebrew Tsijim signifieth here, and Psal. 74. 14. people that dwell in dry desert places: sometime it is used for wild beasts that haunt such deserts, as Esa. 34. 14. and 13. 21. Ier. 50. 39. lick the dust] like a Serpent, as is expressed in Mic. 7. 16. noting hereby great fear and subjection, testified by bowing down their faces to the ground, as is the manner in the Eastern countries. In Esa. 49. 23. a like promise is made to the Church of Christ.

Vers. 10. Of Tharshish] or of the Ocean, that dwell by the main sea. See the Note on Psal. 48. 8. Sheba and Seba] that is, of Ethiopia and Arabia, far southern Countries, inhabited by the posterity of Sheba and Seba, the Nephew & son of Cush, the son of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 7. The Queen of Sheba (or of the South) came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, & gave him much gold, sweet odors, and precious stones, 1 King. 10. 1,—10. Mat. 12. 42.

Vers. 12. hath no helper] or, to whom no helper. See the like by Job, Job 29. 12.

Vers. 14. precious shall their blood be] that is, their death, meaning, that he regardeth their life, and will not easily suffer them to be killed, for that it is precious and dear unto him: as on the contrary Paul said, his life was not dear unto himself, when he was willing and ready to lose it for Christ's cause, Act. 20. 24. See Psal. 116. 15.

Vers. 15. he shall give] meaning man in general, or each one brought in subjection, as the Greek saith, to him shall be given, meaning to Solomon. gold of Sheba] the Greek saith, of Arabia: see verse. 10. all the day] or daily.

Vers. 16. There shall be a parcel, &c.] where a handful of corn shall be sown on the top of the mounts (the most barren places) there shall be such increase that the fruit shall shake and make a noise like the trees of Lebanon. shake] or stir with noise, rustle. Lebanon] that is, trees of Lebanon; as the earth, for the inhabitants of the earth, Psal. 66. 1. of this mount see the Note on Psal. 29. 5. they of the City] that is, the citizens, as, they of the world are worldlings, Psal. 17. 14. ye of the heavens, Psal. 148. 1. are the inhabitants there. The Chaldee addeth, of the City Jerusalem. Compare herewith Isa. 27. 6.

Vers. 17. continued] to wit, as a son continueth his fathers name, for the original jinnon (or janin) cometh of Nin, which is a Son: the Greek also turneth it, his name continueth; and Christ's name is continued in us that believe in him, called Christians, Act. 11. 26. and his children, Heb. 2. 13, 14. before the sun] that is, so long as it endureth, as verse. 5. So Psal. 102. 29. they shall bless] to wit, men of all nations shall count and speak of their blessedness in him. So Gen. 22. 18. call him blessed] or happy, shall beautify him.

Vers. 19. name of his glory] that is, his glorious (or honorable) name. So Lord of glory, I am. 2. 1. for glorious Lord. filled with his glory] that is, with the manifestation of his glorious works, and praising him for the same. See the like speeches, Numb. 14. 21. Isa. 6. 3. Rev. 18. 1. Ezek. 43. 2.

Amen] So beat. This second book of Psalms is concluded with twice Amen, as was the former: see Psal. 41. 14.

Vers. 20. Ended] or Compleat are, meaning that this Psalm was the last of David's prayers or hymns (as the Greek translatheth it) howsoever it is not set last in order as neither other be. Or, that this matter touching Christ's Kingdom is the last thing whereof David prophesied, and for which he prayed, as 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11. Jesse] or Iishai, as the Hebrew soundeth it, and sometime Ishai, 1 Chro. 2. 12, 13. which name signifieth strength and manhood, as David, amiable.

The third Book.

PSAL. LXXIII.

The Prophet prevailing in a temptation, showeth the occasion thereof, the prosperity of the wicked. 13 The wound given thereby, diffidence. 15 The victory over it, knowledge of God's purpose in destroying of the wicked, and sustaining the righteous.

A Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 1]

YEt surely God is good to Israel, to them that are pure in heart. And I, my feet almost swerved aside; my steps had well nigh slipped out. For I envied at vain-glorious fools, when I saw the peace of the wicked. For there are no bands in their death, and lusty is their strength. They are not in the molestation of sory man, and with earthly man they are not plagued. Therefore [unspec \2] pride compasseth them about as a chain, violence covereth them as a garment. Their eyes standeth out with fatness, they pass the imaginations of the heart. They do corrupt and speak with maliciousness of oppression, they speak from aloft. They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh thorough the earth. Therefore his people turneth hither, and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them. And they say, How doth God know, and is there knowledge in the most high? Loe, these are the wicked, and in tranquility ever; they increase wealthy power. Surely in vain have I cleansed mine heart, and washed my hands in innocence. And am plagued all the day, and my rebuke is in the mornings. If I say, I will tell thus; loe, I unfaithfully wrong the generation of thy sons. And I thought to know this, but it was a painful thing in mine eyes. Until I entered into the Sanctuaries of God, did prudently attend to their last end. Surely thou dost set them in slippery places, dost make them fall to desolations. How are they brought to wondrous desolation as in a moment? are they at an end, are they consumed with troublesome frights? As a dream after one waketh; O Lord, when thou raisest up, thou wilt despise their image. Surely mine heart was leavened, and I was pricked in my reins. And I was brutish and knew not; as the beasts was I with thee. Yet I continually was with thee, thou hast holden me fast by my right hand. Thou wilt guide me with thy counsel, and after wilt receive me to glory. Whom have I in the Heavens? and with thee I delight not any in earth. Wholly consumed is my flesh and my heart; the Rock of my heart and my portion is God forever. For loe, they that are gone far from thee shall perish, thou suppressest everyone that goeth a whoring from thee. And I, to draw nigh to God is good for me; I have set my hope for safety in the Lord Jehovah, for to tell all thy works.

Annotations.

The third Book] to wit, of Psalms. See the Note on Psal. 42.

Vers. 1. of Asaph] or, to Asaph, who was both a Prophet and a singer: see Psal. 50. 1. The like title is of the 10. Psalms following. These are for the most part complaints and meditations of the troubles of God's people.

Vers. 2. almost] or, a very little lacked, but my feet had swarved; so after, well nigh, or, almost nothing lacked, but my steps had been shed: noting hereby his great danger to have fallen through his infirmity, had not faith in God sustained him. swarved] or turned, declined. This and the next word slipped have a double reading in the Hebrew by the vowels, they had swar•d, they had slipped; by the consonants, it had swarved, it had slipped; meaning each of his feet, and every of his steps, to his utter ruin. slipped out] or been poured out, to wit, as water, and so I had been lost.

Vers. 3. envied] or was jealous, had envious zeal: See Psal. 37. 1.

Vers. 4. bands] or knots, that is, pains, sores, diseases, &c. in their death] or till their death, meaning that they live long in pleasure, & die at ease, as is explained, Job 21. 13. They spend their days i• wealth, and suddenly they go down to the grave. The Chaldee saith, For they are not terrified or troubled for the day of their death. but lusty] or, and fat is their fortitude (their firm strength of body) as Job saith, one dieth in his full strength, bring in all ease and prosperity, his breasts are full of milk, & his bones run full of marrow, Job 21. 23, 24.

Vers. 5. molestation of sory man] that is, such turmoile as other miserable men endure. See the like phrase in 2 Sam. 7. 14. Aenosh and Adam are here the names of all wretched mankind. See Psal. 8. 5. The Chaldee expoundeth it, They labor not in the labor of men that study in the Law, and with just men, &c.

Vers. 6. compasseth, &c.] or, is a chain to them and to him, that is, every of them; as a collar that is hanged for an ornament about the neck. And of this word Anak, to hang a chain, that Giant Anak had his name, whose children were called Anakims. men great of stature, proud and cruel. See Numb. 13. 23. 34. Ios. 15. 13, 14. a garment] a set habit or ornament finely fitted to the body; such was the harlots habit, Prov. 7. 10.

Vers. 7. eyes standeth] that is, Each eye standeth or starteth out of the hole for satnesse. In Chaldee, The similitude of their faces is changed for satnesse. So in Job 15. 27. he hath covered his face with his fatness. they pass the imaginations, &c.] that is, they exceed in prosperity above that they could imagine or think; or, they surpass in wickedness above that which man's heart can think, according to that which here followeth, and as in Ier. 5. 28. it is said, they are waxen fat and shining, they do pass the words (or deeds) of the wicked.

Vers. 8. They do corrupt] or consume, dissolve or make dissolute by their wicked speeches, and by their oppression of men. It may be understood of corrupting, or making rotten with sin themselves or others, or consuming and wasting with oppression. with maliciousness] or in evil, that is, maliciously or malignantly. from aloft] that is, loftily. Or, of the most High, that is, of God, as in the next verse: but the Chaldee expoundeth it, of the highness of their heart.

Vers. 9. against Heavens] that is, against God and his Saints whom they blaspheme, as it is written, he opened his mouth unto blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in Heaven, Rev. 13. 6. So elsewhere Heavens are used for God, Dan. 4. 23. L•k. 15. 18.

Vers. 10. his people] God's own people are by this afflicted. Therefore the Greek saith my people; the Psalmist speaking of his brethren, as after of himself, verse. 13. hither] to these thoughts and temptations, which follow in the next verses. a full] the word cup or bason is here to be understood; as strong, for strong paws, Psal. 10. 9. See the note there. By waters of a full cup, are meant abundance of tears, which they must drink, that is, of afflictions and temptations which they suffer; as in Psal. 80. 6. So the Chaldee explaineth it, and tears as many waters shall flow from them. wrung out to them] or drunk (sucked up) by them, as in Ps. 75. 9.

Vers. 12. in tranquility] or quiet, safe, wealthy, at ease. Compare herewith Ier. 12. 1. 2. wealthy power] ability by riches; see Psal. 49. 7.

Vers. 13. cleansed] that is, labored to cleanse and purge, by faith and continual sanctification, Acts 15. 9. 1 John. 3. 3. otherwise, who can say, I have made mine heart clean. Pro. 20. 9. innocence] or cleanness: see Psal. 26. 6. and 24. 4.

Vers. 14. ⊖] plagued] or touched with afflictions, punished, which the wicked are not, v. 5. my rebuke,] or blame, to wit, I bear the chastisement for my sins. in the mornings] that is, every morning, or early: the like phrase is Psal. 101. 8. Job 7. 18. Lam. 3. 23. Esa. 33. 2.

Vers. 15. I will tell thus] that is, if these temptations prevail against me, so that I should tell and declare for truth these my carnal thoughts. Telling is often used for publishing and preaching to others: See Psal. 2. 7. u•faithfully wrong] or faithlesly transgress against the generation of thy sons, (O God) that is, of thy people, called the sons of God, Deut. 14. 1. 1 John. 3. 1.

Vers. 17. prudently attend to] or, consider their latter end. A like speech Moses useth, Deu. 32. 29. [unspec 17]

V. 18. slippery places] where they suddenly fall to perdition. The Chaldee saith, in dark places.

Vers. 19. wondrous desolation] such as astonieth the beholders. Such sudden strange desolation God brought on Babylon of old, Ier. 51. 37. 41. and will again, Rev. 18. 10. 17.

V. 20. As a dream] to wit, so they are, or, so vanisheth their prosperity; which when one awaketh, is gone, as is plainly set forth in Esa. 29. 7▪ 8. So elsewhere it is said, he shall flee away as a dream▪ & not be found, & shall pass away as a vision of the night: the eye which saw him shall do so no more, &c. Job 20. 8, 9. The Chaldee explaineth it, as the dream of a drunken man. thou raisest up] to wit, thysself; that is, risest up to punish them, as Psal. 35. 23. or raisest up, to wit, them, at the last day of judgment. So the Chaldee Paraphrast turneth it, saying, in the day of the great judgment they shall rise up out of the house of the grave, in wrath thou wilt despise their image. The Greek saith, in thy city thou wilt despise their image: the Hebrew word baghnir being ambiguous▪ In this sense, compare herewith Eccles. 8. 10. despise their image] or their shadow, that is, destroy their transitory estate; for, man walketh in an image▪ Ps. 39. 7. Or, referring it to the last judgment, their image may mean their corrupt sinful state, Ge. 5. 3. and the despising of it, is their utter rejection; for then they shall rise to sheme and contempt eternal, Dan. 12. 2.

Vers. 21. was leavened] or lev•ned it self, that is, was vexed, grieved, swelled, was s•wre as leaven, with my fretting grief and anger. I was p•oked] or, sharpened (pricked) myself, that is, •lt sharp pains, to wit, with my •re•ting thoughts and desires.

Vers. 22. brutish] that is, foolish, sense•all, like a brute beast, not having the understanding of a man in me: as is explained, Pro. 30. 2. See also Psal. 49. 1•. as the beasts] that is, as one of them, or a great beast, Hebr. Beh•m•th; which is used for the vast Elephant, I•b 40. 10. The Greek here turneth it bestial, or brutish.

Vers. 24. to glory] or with glory, that is, gloriously, honourably. See 1 Tim. 3. 16. Phil. 3. 21. Heb. 2. 10. 1 Pet. 5. 1. 4. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Thou wilt guide me with thy counsel in this world; and after that the glory is accomplished, which thou hast said thou will• bring upon me, thou wilt receive me.

Vers. 25. whom have I] or, who is for me, but thee to trust in, or call upon. delight not] or take no pleasure, in any person, or thing.

Vers. 26. the R•cke] that is, the strength and hope; the Greek saith, the God of my heart.

Vers. 27. gone far▪ that is, the wicked who are here said to be far from God; and in Psal. 119. 150. are far from his Law, and therefore salvation is far from them, Psal. 119. 155. as here they perish, whereas the righteous are a people near God, Psal. 148. 14. that goeth a w•oring from thee] that is, go•th after idols, departing from the true God, as Hos. 1. 2. for idolatry or breach of God's covenant, is often called whoredom or fornication, •er. 3. 9. 20. Ezek. 23. 3▪ 5. 7. &c▪ Psal.•06. 39.

Vers. 28. to draw nigh] so both the Greek and Chaldee do explain the Hebrew phrase the drawing near of God; and thus it is also used in Isa. 58. 2. and is done by the faith of the Gospel, Heb. 7. 19. Iehov•h] or God: see Psal. 68. 21. The Chaldee saith, in the wrd of God. to tell] that I may tell, or declare, as the Greek explaineth it.

PSAL. LXXIV.

The Prophet complaineth of the desolation of the Sanctuary. 10 He moveth God to help in consideration of his power, 18 of his reprehachfull •nemies, of his children, and of his Covenant.

An instructing Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 1]

WHerefore, O God, hast thou cast us off to perpetuity: shall thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture? Remember thy congregatiō, which thou hast purchased of old, the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, this mount Zion wherein thou hast dwelt. Lift up thy feet to the desolatiōs of perpetuity, the enemy hath done evil to all things, in the Sanctuary. Thy distressers roar in the mids of thy synagogues; they have set their signs for signs. He was known, as he lifted on high, axes against the thicket of the wood. And now the carved works thereof all together they have beat down, with beetle and mallets.

They have cast into the fire thy sanctuaries, to the earth they have profaned the dwelling place of thy name. They said in their heart, let us make spoil of them altogether; they have burned all the synagogues of God in the land. We see not our signs, there is not any Prophet more, nor any with us that knoweth how long. How long, O God, shall the distresser reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name to perpetuity? Wherefore turnest thou away thine hand, even thy right hand? draw it out of the midst of thy bosom, make a full end. For God is my King from antiquity, he worketh salvations in the midst of the earth. Thou didst break asunder the sea by thy strength, didst break in pieces the heads of the dragons in the waters. Thou didst quite burst the heads of Livjathan, didst give him for meat to the people that dwell in dry deserts. Thou didst cleave the fountain and the stream, thou diddest dry up the rivers of strength. The day is thine, the night also is thine; thou hast prepared the light and the Sun. Thou hast constituted all the borders of the earth, the summer and the winter, them hast thou formed. Remember this, the enemy reproacheth Jehovah, and the foolish people blaspheme thy name. Give not the soul of thy turtle-dove to the wild company; the company of thy poor afflicted forget not to perpetuity. Have respect unto the covenant, for full are the darknesses of the earth, of the habitations of violent wrong. Let not the oppressed return ashamed; let the poor afflicted and needy praise thy name. Rise up, O God, plead thou thy plea, remember thy reproach from the fool all the day. Forget not the voice of thy distressers; the tumultuous noise of them that rise up against thee ascendeth continually.

Annotations.

OF Asaph] or, to Asaph; in Chaldee, by the hands of Asaph: see Psal. 50. 1. If Asaph (who lived in David's days) made this Psalm, it was a prophesy of troubles to come. If some other Prophet made it when calamities were on Israel, then was it committed to Asaphs posterity the singers, called by their fathers name; as Aaron's posterity, are called Aaron, 1 Chron. 12. 27. thine anger smoke] or, thy nose smoke, that is, burn, as was threatened, Deut. 29. 20. A manifestation of fore displeasure: see Psal. 18. 9. and 80. 5. sheep or flock, that is, us thy people, as Psal. 79. 13. The stock comprehendeth sheep and goats, Lev. 1. 10.

Vers. 2. purchased of old] or bought of y<sup>r</sup>e, when thou broughtest them out of Egypt, Exod. 15. 16. or understand, that thou hast purchased it, hast redeemed, &c. the rod of thine inheritance] that is, Israel, Ier. 10. 16. called elsewhere the line of God's inheritance, Deut. 32. 9. which he measured out for himself as land is meted with a rod or line. It may also be read the scepter, or the tribe of thine inheritance, as Esa. 63. 17. for the Hebrew Shebet, which properly is a rod or staff, is sometime a scepter, Psal. 45. 7. sometime a tribe, Psal. 78. 67.

Vers. 3. Lift up thy feet] or thy hammers, that is, thy strokes, to stamp or beat down the enemy unto perpetual desolations. Thus the feet are used to tread down with, Isa. 26. 6. and so the Greek taketh it here, changing the metaphor, and translating it, thy hands, which are also instruments to strike down with. Or lift up thy feet, that is, Come quickly to see the perpetual desolations which the enemy hath made. hath done evil] that is, broken, robbed, burned, wasted all things; as did Nebuchadnezzar in the Temple, 2 King. 24. 13. and 25. 9, 13, 14, &c.

Vers. 4. thy synagogues] or assemblies, either the courts and places about the temple, where the people assembled, or the other synagogues in Jerusalem, as after in verse. 8. he speaks of all the synagogues in the land, places where prayers and lectures of the law were used, Act. 16. 13. and 15. 21. The assembly of Christians is called also by this name synagogue, I am. 2. 2. their signs] or banners, which are signs of victory, or of idolatry. See after, verse. 9.

Vers. 5. He was known] He, that is, A man, or everyone of the enemies was known, that is, renowned, or famous, as having done some notable act. as he lifted on high] or, as he that bringeth aloft, that is, as a man brings the axe aloft over his head, to fell down the thick wood with might and main. They cut down the wood of the temple, as men do trees in a forest. thicket of the wood] that is, the thick wood or tree, whose boughs are wrapped one in another: or, (if we understand it of the wood-work in the Temple,) the infolded graven wood, which he that did most eagerly cut down, was most renowned.

Vers. 6. And now] or, And then, at the same time. So Ps. 27. 6. carved works] gravings, or (as the Hebrew phrase is) openings, used for graven or carved works, Exod. 28. 11. The Greek here turneth it, doors, which also have their name of opening.

Vers. 7. thy sanctuaries] the temple (which had divers holy places) was burned by Nebuzaradan, 2 King. 25. 9. to the earth] to wit, burning or rasing down to the ground.

Vers. 8. Let us make spoil] or, we will oppress, prey upon them. Of this Hebrew root, the Dove hath her name in that tongue, as being subject to the prey and spoil of Hawkes, &c. wherefore in verse. 19. he calleth the Church a turtle-dove.

Vers. 9. our signs] the testimonies of God's presence and favor, extraordinary or ordinary, as the sacrifices, &c. Dan. 11. 31. So Circumcision, the passover, the Sabbath, &c. were for signs to Israel, Gen. 17. 11. Exod. 12. 13. and 31. 13. or, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, the signs which the Prophets gave us. any Prophet] that could see and foretell by the spirit an end of these troubles, Lam. 2. 9. A Prophet (N•bi) is one that from the inward counsel of God uttereth oracles. In old time he was called a Seer, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Amos 7. 12. how long] to wit, this affliction shall endure. The like speech is in Psal. 6. 4.

Vers. 11. draw it, &c.] this word, or some such, seemeth here to be understood, as often in the Hebrew: see Psal. 69. 11. The drawing the hand out of the bosom denoteth a performance of the work without acknesse, as we may see by the contrary, Prov. 26. 15. full end] by consuming our enemies, and accomplishing our deliverance.

Vers. 13. the sea] in Chaldee, the waters of the red sea. of the dragons] or whales, meaning the noble men of Egypt, who pursuing the Israelites were drowned in the red sea, Exod. 14. 28. For great persons are likened to Dragons or Whale-fishes, as Ezek. 29. 3.

Vers. 14. the heads] that is, the head, as the Greek translatheth it, called heads for the excellency and principality. of Livjathan] or, of the whale, meaning Pharaoh king of Egypt, who was drowned with his Princes, Psal. 136. 15. Livjathan is the name of the great whale-fish, or sea Dragon, so called of the fast joining together of his scales; as he is described, Job 40. 20. and 41. 6, &c. and is used to resemble great tyrants, here, and in Isa. 27. 3. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the heads of Pharaoh mighty men. in dry deserts] that is, to the wild beasts of the wilderness, which might devour the Egyptians after they were drowned, and cast upon the shore, Exod. 14. 30. The beasts may be called a people, as Conies, Pismires, Locusts, &c. are called people's and nations, Prov 30. 25. 26. Joel 1. 6. See also the notes on Psal. 72. 9. unless by these dwellers in dry places, we understand the Israelites in the wilderness, to whom the spoil of the Egyptians was as meat; as elsewhere they said of the Canaanites, they are bread for us, Num. 14. 9. This the Chaldee favoereth.

Vers. 15. didst cleave the fountain] bringing a well and stream of water to thy people out of the rocks, Exod. 17. 6. Num. 20 11. Isa. 48. 21. Psal. 105. 41. rivers of strength] that is, strong, rough, or vehement rivers, as the waters of Iarden were dried up, that Israel might go thorough, Ios. 3. 15,—17. The Chaldee Paraphrast addeth also the rivers Arnon and Iabok; whereof see Num. 21. 14. Deut. 2. 37.

Vers. 16. the light] The Hebrew Maor is properly a lightsome body, as is the Sun, Moon, Stars. &c. Genes. 1. 14, 15. and here may be meant of the Moon, as the Chaldee translatheth it, for the S••e next followed. For these God is else-where also celebrated, Psal. 2, 6. 7. 8. 9.

Vers. 19. soul of thy turile-dove] that is, the life of thy Church, called a turtle-dove, for their danger to be pre•ed upon by the wicked, as before, v. 8. being of themselves weak, mo 〈...〉 ull, and ••morous; also for their faith and lo••lty towards God, and innocence of life. In these respects a••doves mentioned, Hos. 11. 11. Ezek. 7. 16. Isa. 38. 14. and 59. 11. Song 4. 1. and 6. 8. Matth. 10. 16. So the Chaldee explaineth it, Give not the souls of them that teach thy law, to the people which are like wild beasts. wild company] or wild beasts, as the Greek translatheth it, meaning the cruel people like wild beasts, as the Chaldee saith. The same word straight-way followeth for the Church, or lively stock of Christ. See the notes on Psal. 68. 11. 31.

V. 20. the covenant] which thou didst make with our fathers, (as the Chaldee addeth to explain it,) it may be meant of the covenant with Abraham and his seed, as is expressed, Psal. 105. 8, 9. 10. or, which was made with Noah, that the world should no more be drowned, as once it was, when it was full of cruelty, Genes. 6. 13. 17. 18. and 8. 21, 22. which covenant the Prophets apply to the Church after, Esa. 54. 9. the darkneses] that is, dark places, as in Ps. 88. 7. and 143. 3. he meaneth that the base obscure places werfull of violence, even folds or habitations of cruelty; no cottage being free from the rapine of the enemies. Darke places may be put for base or meare 〈◊〉 as in Prov. 22. 29. dark or obscure persons, are the base sort. The Greek here also translatheth it dark persons, meaning the vile graceless enemies.

Vers. 22. plead thy plea] defend thine own cause: see Psal. 35. 1. from the fool] understand, which thou sufferest from the fool, or impious, Nabal, which word was also before, v. 18. whereof see Psal. 14. 1. The Chaldee paraphraseth, from the foolish King.

Vers. 23. ascendeth] that is, cometh up unto thee, it is so great; as Iona. 1. 2. or, it increaseth, as the battle is said to ascend when it increased, 1 Kin. 22. 35.

PSAL. LXXV.

A confession to God, and promise to judge uprightly. 5 A rebuke of the proud, by consideration of God's providence.

To the Master of the Music, Corrupt not: a Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

WE confess to thee, O God, we confess, & near is thy name; they tell thy wondrous works. When I shall receive the appointment, I will judge righteousnesses. Dissolved is the earth and all the inhabitants thereof; I have set sure the pillars thereof Selah. I said to the vain-glorious fools, be not vain-gloriously foolish; and to the wicked, lift not up the horn. Lift not up your horn to on high, nor speak with a stiff neck.

For not from the East, or from the West, neither from the desert cometh promotion. [unspec 7]

But God is the judge, he abaseth one, and exalteth another. For a cup is in the hand of Jehovah, and the wine is red, it is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same; but the dregs thereof wring out and drink shall all the wicked of the earth. And I will show forever, will sing Psalm to the God of Jacob. And will hew off all the horns of the wicked; the horns of the just man shall be advanced.

Annotations.

COrrupt not] or, Destroy not; see Psal. 57. 1. The Chaldee addeth, in the time when David said, destroy not the people. of Asaph] or to Asaph; in Chaldee, by the hand of Asaph: see Psal. 50. 1.

Vers. 2. and near is] to wit, near in our mouths and hearts to celebrate it. Thus God's word is said to be near, Rom. 10. 8. and, thou art near in their mouth, Ier. 12. 2. In this sense the Greek also explaineth it, and we will call on thy name. they tell] that is, I and others with me: so the Greek saith, I will tell.

Vers. 3. receive the appointment] or, take the appointed thing, (or time, as the Chaldee translatheth it;) that is, the office appointed and promised. They seem to be the words of the Psalmist (as appeareth more plainly by verse. 10. and 11.) in person of Christ, to whom the kingdom of Israel was appointed in due time; whom David was a figure of, in taking and administering the kingdom when it was distracted with troubles. See 2 Sam. 3. 17. 19. and 5. 1, 2, 3. righteousnesses] that is, most righteously.

Vers. 4. dissolved] or melted, that is, faint with troubles, fears, &c. as Ios. 2. 9. set sure] or, will fitly fasten, artificially stablish, as by line and measure, that they fall not. Pillars] the mountains, which may also mean Governors; for great personages are likened to Pillars, Gal. 2 9.

Vers. 5. the horn] the sign of power and glory, Ps. 112. 9. and 89. 18. 25. Lu. 1. 69. In 1 Chr. 25. 5. mention is made of prophetesies, to lift up the horn.

Vers. 6. to on high] that is, aloft, or against the high God. with a stiff neck] like untamed oxen shaking off the yoke of obedience. Or, speak not a hard thing (as Psal. 31. 19.) with a neck stretched out, that is, arrogantly, or with one neck, that is, with joint force: as heart, in Psal. 83. 6. is for one heart.

Vers. 7. the desert] that is, the South or North: for deserts were on both ends of the land of Canaan. promotion] or exaltation; or, as the Greek translath, desert of the mountains, that is, the mountainy desert, meaning that preferment or deliverance comes not from any of the nations round about. The Hebrew Harim is ambiguous, signifying both exaltation, and mountains. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, For there is none besides me, from East to West from the North the place of the desert, or from the South the place of the mountains.

Ver. 8. abaseth one] Hebr. this man. another] Hebr. this man. It may also be read, He (this God) abaseth, and he advanceth.

Vers. 9. a cup] to measure out afflictions; as Psa. 11. 6. a similitude often used: see Hab. 2. 16. Ezz. 23. 31, 32. Ier. 25. 28. The Chaldee saith, a cup of curse. wine] that is, wrath or indignation, as is expressed, Ier. 25. 15. Job 21. 20. Revel. 14. 10. red] or thick, troubled, muddy, noting fierce indignation. The Greek turneth it, acratou, more, meaning strong wine, not alliaied. So in Revel. 14. 10. where mere, or pure wine, meaneth great afflictions. The Greek there is taken frō this Psalm. of mixture] that is, of liquor mixed, ready to be drunk: as wisdom is said to have mixed her wine, Prov. 9. 2. that is, tempered it ready. So Rev. 14. 10. The Chaldee addeth, mixture of bitterness. he poureth out] to wit, unto his own people, afflicting them, as is expressed, Ier. 25. 17, 18, 28. 29. the dregs] the most grievous afflictions; as Isaiah. 51. 17. 22. wring out] or suck up, that is, feel, and be affected with it. So Ezek. 23. 34. Esa. 51. 17.

Vers. 10. will show] to wit, this work of God his mercy, and judgment. The Chaldee explaineth it, will show thy miracles. horns of the wicked] their power, dominion, and pride, whereby they afflict and scatter God's people, Ier. 48. 25. Lam. 2. 3. Zach. 1. 21. Rev. 17. 12, 13. as by horns of the just man, is meant his power, dominion, glory, Psal. 132. 17. and 92. 11. and 148. 14. 1 Sam. 2. 10. So the Chaldee openeth it, And I will humble all kingdoms, the high strength of the wicked.

PSAL. LXXVI.

A declaration of God's majesty in the Church, against her enemies. 12 An exhortation to serve him reverently.

To the Master of the Music on Neginoth, a Psalm of Asaph, a Song.

GOd is known in Judah, his name is great in Israel. And in Shalem is his tabernacle, & his dwelling in Zion. There brake he the burning arrows of the bow, the shield & the sword, & the war Selah.

Bright, wondrous excellent art thou, more than the mountains of prey. The mighty of heart have yielded themselves to the spoil; they have slumbered their sleep, & none of the men of power have found their hands. At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both chariot and horse hath been cast asleep. Thou, thou art fearful, and who shall stand before thee when thou art angry? From the heavens thou causedst judgment to be heard; the earth feared, & was still. When God arose to judgment, to save all the meek of the earth Selah. Surely the wrathful heat of men shall confess thee, the remnant of the wrathful heats thou wilt gird. Vow ye, and pay to Jehovah your God: all they that be round about him, let them bring a present to the FEAR. To him that gathereth as grapes the spirit of the Governors, that is fearful to the Kings of the earth.

Annotations.

ON Neginoth] or, with stringed instruments: see Psal. 4. 1. of Asaph] or, to Asaph: see Psal. 50. 1.

Vers. 3. Shalem] or Salem, the City of Melchizedek, Gen. 14. 18. afterwards called Jerusalem; whereof see the notes on Psal. 51. 20. The Greek translatheth it, in Peace, which is the interpretation of the name Salem, as the Apostle showeth, Heb. 7. 2. The Chaldee paraphrase saith, Jerusalem. his tabernacle] or tent, pavilion, which is both a mean dwelling, and a moveable, Lev. 13. 42, 43. Heb. 11. 9 10. For both Moses Tabernacle and Solomon's Temple were mean cottages in respect of God's glory, 1 King. 8. 27.

Vers. 4. burning arrows] or fiery darts, (as the Apostle calleth the temptations of that wicked one, Ephes. 6. 16.) The Hebrew Ri•phei, is properly burning coles, Song 8. 6. figuratively here the glistening brass-beaded arrows, elsewhere the fiery thunder bolts, Psal. 78. 48. and burning plague, Deut. 32. 24. Habak. 3. 5. likened to arrows, Ps. 91. 5. Here it may lead us to mind this Psalm, to celebrate the victories against Satan, figured by the vanquishing of the Assyrians, and other enemies, 2 King. 19. 35. The Chaldee explaineth it thus, When the house of Israel did his will, he placed his divine majesty among them; there brake he the arrows and bows of people that warred; shield, and sword, and battle-ray, destroyed he forever. and the war] that is, the army of warriors, the battle-array. See Psal. 27. 3. And thus Shalem, or Peace, is maintained by breaking all warlike instruments: as Esa. 2. 4.

Vers. 5. Bright] made light, that is, Glorious: speaking to God, as verse. 7. wondrous excellent] magnificent: see Psal. 8. 2. mounts of prey] the mountains of the Lions and Leopards, Song 4. 8. meaning the kingdoms of this world, which make prey and spoil one of another, like wild beasts, Dan. 7. 4, 5, 6, 7. whom the Lamb on mount Zion excelleth in power and glory, Revel. 14. 1. and 17. 14. Or, from the mounts of prey, that is, when thou comest from conquering the enemies, which lie in the mountains to make prey of thy people.

V. 6. mighty of heart] or stout, stubborn-hearted; a title of the wicked that are far from justice, E (...) . 46. 12. called here in Greek unwise in heart. their sleep] their eternal sleep, Ier. 51. 39, 57. the sl•pe of death, Psa. 13. 4. So in the next verse. none of] Hebr. all (or any) have not found, that is, none found. So 1 John. 3. 15. every man-slayer hath not, that is, none hath life. See also Psa. 143. 2. men of power] able men, for strength, courage, and riches (in which last sense the Greek taketh it here) these did not resist, or could not, as Psal. 77. 5. They were not able (as the Chaldee saith) to take their weapons in their hands.

Vers. 7. thy rebuke] that is, punishment, destruction: see Ps. 9. 6. chariot] that is, Princes and Captains riding on chariots & horses, on which they were wont of old to fight, Judge. 4. 3. 1

King. 22. 31. 34. These all by God's rebuke have been slain, as in the campe of Asshur, 2 King. 19. 35. and the host of Antichrist, Rev. 19. 18,—21.

Vers. 8. when thou art angry] Hebr. from then (that is, from the time of) thine anger, after thine anger is once kindled.

Vers. 9. the earth] or, the land; which the Chaldee understandeth thus; the land of the heathens feared, the land of Israel was quiet.

V. 11. shall confess thee] that is, shall turn to thy praise, when thy people are delivered from the rage of their foes. the remnant] or, the remainder, that is, thy people which remain and perish not in the rages of the wicked. thou wilt gird] to wit, with joyfulness, that they shall sing praise to thee; as the Greek explaineth it, shall keep a feast to thee. As in Joel 1. 13. Gird ye, there is understood, with sorrow, or sackcloth: so here seemeth to be understood joy or gladness, wherewith persons (or things) are said to be girded Ps. 30. 12. and 65. 13. or, thou wilt gird with strength, as Ps. 18. 40. Or if we refer it to the hot rage of the wicked, the residue thereof thou wilt gird, that is, bind or restrain from attempting further evil.

Vers. 12. Vow ye] men in danger, or delivered from it, were wont to make vows unto God, Genes. 28. 20. Iona 1. 16. Psal. 66. 13, 14. round about him] a description of his people, as the twelve tribes pitched round about the Tabernacle, Numb. 2. 2. and the four and twenty Elders were round about God's throne, Revel. 4. 4. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, ye that dwell about his Sanctuary. to the fear] that is, the most fearful God, called Fear or Terror, for more reverence and excellency, unto whom all fear is due, as Isai. 8. 12. 13. Malachi. 1. 6. So Jacob called God the Fear of his father Isaac, Genes. 31. 53. And this was performed when after Asshurs overthrow, many brought offerings to the Lord, 2 Chron. 32. 21, 23.

Vers. 13. To him that gathereth] so the Greek, to him that taketh away: or we may read, He gathereth, (or Cutteth off as in vintage;) a similitude from grape-gatherers, which cut off the clusters of the vines; applied here to the cutting off the lives of men. The like is in Rev. 14. 18, 19, 20. also in Judge. 20. 45. The Chaldee explaineth it, To him that represseth the pride of the spirit of governors; God, to be feared above all Kings of the earth. ...Governors] or Princes, Captains, that lead and go before the people. So God's Angel destroyed all the valiant men, and Princes, and Captains in the Campe of the King of Asshur, 2 Chro. 32. 21.

PSAL. LXXVII.

The Psalmist showeth what fierce combat he had with diffidence. 11 The victory which he had by consideration of God's great and gracious works done of old.

To the Master of the Music, to Ieduthun, a Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 1]

MY voice was to God, and I cried out: my voice was to God, and he gave ear unto me. In day of my distress I sought the Lord, my hand by night reached out and ceased not, my soul refused to be comforted. I remembered God, and made a troubled noise; I meditated, and my spirit was overwhelmed Selah. Thou heldest the watches of mine eyes, I was stricken amazed and could not speak. I recounted the days of antiquity, the years of ancient times. I remembered my melody in the night; with my heart I meditated, and my spirit searched diligently. Will the Lord cast off to eternities, and not add favourably to accept anymore? Is his mercy ceased to perpetuity; is his word ended to generation and generation? Hath God forgotten to be gracious; hath he shut up in anger his tender mercy Selah? And I said, doth this make me sick, the change of the right hand of the most high?

I will record the actions of Yah; surely, I will remember thy miracle from antiquity. And I will meditate of all thy work, and will discourse of thy practices. O God, thy way is in the sanctuary; who is so great a God as God? Thou art the God that doest a marvelous work, thou hast made known thy strength among the people's. Thou hast redeemed thy people with arm, the sons of Jacob, and of Joseph Selah. The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee, they trembled, also the deeps were stirred. The clouds streamed down waters, the skies gave out a voice, also thine arrows walked about. The voice of thy thunder was in the round air; lightnings illuminated the world, the earth was stirred, and quaked. Thy way was in the sea, and thy paths in the many waters, & thy footsteps were not known. Thou didst lead thy people like a flock, by the hand of Moses and Aharon.

Annotations.

TO Ieduthun] or, for him: see Psal. 39. 1. and 62. 1.

Vers. 2. he gave ear] so the Greek explaineth the Hebrew phrase to give ear: see the like Psal. 65. 11.

Vers. 3. sought the Lord] in Chaldee, sought instruction from before the Lord, and the spirit of prophesy rested upon me. retched out] or, flowed, was poured out, that is, was stretched out in prayer: (a vehement figurative speech, like that of pouring out the heart, Psal. 62. 9.) or, was wet with continual wiping of mine eyes: or by hand may be meant plague or sore (as in Job 23. 2.) which continually ran. The Chaldee expoundeth it, by night mine eye dropped tears, and ceased not.

Vers. 4. meditated] or prayed. See Psal. 55. 3, 18. overwhelmed] or covered it self, that is, swowned or fainted with sorrow. So Psal. 142. 4. and 143. 4. and 107. 5. Lam. 2. 12.

Vers. 5. the watches] or the wards, custodies, (that is, as the Chaldee explaineth it, the lids) of mine eyes, so that I cannot sleep. stricken amazed] beaten with terror, as with a hammer; or, as the Greek saith, troubled. So Dan: 2. 1, 3. Gen. 41. 8. could not speak] so the Hebrew phrase spake not, is sometime to be intepreted: as, who shall judge, 2 Chron. 1. 10. for which in 1 King. 3. 9. is written, who can (or, is able to) judge. So Psalm 78. 20.

Vers. 6. of ancient times] or, of eternities, that is, of ages past. This he did according to the commandment, Deut. 32. 7. for former histories are written for our learning, Rom. 15. 4. 1 Cor. 10. 11.

Vers. 7. my melody] or musical play, to wit, how I had before time played, and sung songs of praise for thy benefits; (see Psal. 33. 2, 3.) or, I remembered my music, and took my instrument, and thus I sung. spirit searched] in Chaldee, the knowledge of my spirit searched marvelous things.

Vers. 11. doth this make me sick] doth it grieve and weaken me, that the right hand (the administration) of God is changed, and he keepeth not one constant course in his works? The Prophet seemeth to check himself for his infirmity. Or, (taking it not for a question) it maketh me sick; or, this is my infirmity. the change] or, that changed is; for so the Hebrew phrase, to change, may be resolved.

Vers. 12. will record] will remember for myself, and mention to others: The Hebrew implieth both these, by a double reading. miracle] that is, miracles or wondrous works (as the Greek explaineth it) all and every of them, done of old. So after in verse. 15.

Vers. 13. discourse] or meditate, entreat of, both in mind and talk.

Vers. 14. in the Sanctuary] or in sanctity, in the holy place, as the Greek turneth it: meaning, it is most holy, and secret, hidden from the eyes of the world, as holy things were hidden in the Sanctuary, especially the Ark and Cherubims where God sate. So as it was not lawful for people or Priests to see them, Num. 4. 6, 7, 15, 20. Levite. 16. 2. Compare also herewith, Psal. 73. 16, 17. The Chaldee translatheth, O God how holy are thy ways. a God] or a mighty one, a Potentate: Hebr. Ael. So in the next verse. as God] in Greek, as our God: in Chaldee, as the God of Israel.

Vers. 15. Marvelous work] that is, works, wonders. This is taken from Exod. 15. 11. [unspec 15]

Vers. 16. with arm] that is, with power: an arm stretched out, as Exod. 6. 6. in Greek, with thine arm. of Jacob] that is, the tribes of Israel, borne of him. of Joseph] this may be meant (as the Chaldee Paraphrast taketh it) of all the Israelites whom Joseph nourished, Gen. 45. 10. 11. and 50. 21. called therefore his sons; or in special of the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh, the sons of Joseph, noted from the rest, for more honor. Compare also herewith Psal. 80. 2, 3.

Vers. 17. The waters] of the red sea, Exod. 14. 21. Psal. 114. 3. The Chaldee paraphraseth, They saw thy divine Majesty from the midst of the sea, O God. trembled] or were pained, as a woman in travel. So Psal. 29. 8. and 97. 4.

Vers. 18. streamed] or gushed with a tempest. These things were when the Lord looked unto the host of the Egyptians out of the fiery and cloudy pillar, and so feared and hindered them with stormy tempests, that their chariot wheels fell off, &c. Exod. 14. 24. 25. And thus Israel was baptized in the cloud and in the sea, 1 Cor. 10. 1. 2. thine arrows] or stones (as this word also signifieth, Lam. 3. 16.) meaning hail-stones. See Psalm. 18. 15. Ios. 10. 11.

Vers. 19. in the round air] in the sphere or globe. The air is so called of the round form, which it (with all the heavens) hath. Of the thunder in the air, see Job 37. 2,—5. Psal. 29.

Vers. 20. Thy way] wherein thou wentest, and leddest thy people; confounding thy foes, Exod. 14. 19, 20, 22. Nehem. 9. 11. So elsewhere, his way is in the whilewind, Nahum 1. 3. were not known] to wit, before that time; nor after, for the waters returned to their force, and drowned the Egyptians: Exod. 14. 27. So his other ways are past finding out, Rom. 11. 33. that men must walk by faith, not by sight, 2 Cor. 5. 7.

Vers. 21. lead thy people] thorough the sea, and after thorough the wilderness towards Canaan; Moses being their King, and Aaron their Priest. The Memory of which mercy is often celebrated, Deut. 8. 2,—5. 15. and 32. 10. Ier. 2. 2, 6. Amos 2. 10. Mic. 6. 4. Psal. 136. 16. Act. 7. 35. 36.

PSAL. LXXVIII.

An exhortation both to learn and to preach the Law of God. 9 The story of God's wrath against the incredulous and disobedient Israelites. 67 Ephraim being refused, God chose Judah, Zion, and David.

An instructing Psalms of Asaph. [unspec 1]

Give ear my people to my law, incline your ear to the words of my mouth. I will open my mouth in a parable, I will utter hid things, of antiquity. Which we have heard, and have known them, and our fathers have told us. We will not hide from their sons, to the generation after, telling the praises of Jehovah: his power also and his marvel which he hath done. How he stablished a testimony in Jacob, and put a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, to make them known to their sons.

That the generation after, sons that should be borne might know, might rise up and tell their sons. And they might put their constant hope in God, and not forget the acts of God, and might keep his commandments. And not be as their fathers, a generation perverse and rebellious: a generation that prepared not aright their heart, and whose spirit was not faithful, with God. The sons of Aephrajim armed shooting with bow, turned back in the day of battle.

They kept not the covenant of God, and in his Law they refused to walk. And forgot his actions, and his marvelous works which he had shown them. Before their fathers, he had done a miracle in the land of Egypt, the field of Tsoan. He cleft the sea and made them pass thorough, and made the waters to stand as an heap. And led them with a cloud by day, and all the night with a light of fire. He clave the Rocks in the wilderness, and gave drink as out of the great deeps. And brought forth streams out of the rock, & made waters descend like rivers.

And they added yet to sin against him, to provoke bitterly the most high in the dry desert. And tempted God in their heart, asking meat for their soul. And they spake, against God they said; Can God furnish a table in the wilderness? Loe he smote the Rock, and waters gushed out, and streams over-flowed: can he also give bread; or can he prepare flesh for his people? Therefore Jehovah heard, and was exceeding angry, and fire was kindled against Jacob; and also anger came up against Israel. Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation. Though he had commanded the skies from above, and opened the doors of heavens.

And rained upon them Manna to eat, and the wheat of heavens he gave to them. Man did eat the bread of the mighties, he sent them meat to satiety. He made an East-wind to pass forth in the heavens, and brought on a South-wind by his strength. And rained flesh upon them as dust; and fethered fowl, as the sand of the seas. And made it fall in the midst of his campe, round about his dwelling places. And they did eat and were filled vehemently, and their desire he brought unto them. They were not estranged from their desire, their meat was yet in their mouth. When the anger of God came up against them, and slew of the fat of them, and smote down the choice young men of Israel. For all this they sinned yet, and believed not for his marvelous works. And he consumed their days in vanity, and their years in hasty terror. When he slew them, then they sought him, and returned, and sought God early. And remembered that God was their Rock, and the most high God, their redeemer. But they flatteringly allured him with their mouth, and with their tongue they lied to him. For their heart was not firmly prepared with him, neither were they faithful in his covenant. And he being compassionate, mercifully covered iniquity, and corrupted not, but multiplied to turn away his anger, and did not stir up all his wrathful heat.

For he remembered that they were flesh, a wind that goeth, and shall not return. How oft did they bitterly provoke him in the wilderness, grieve him in the desert! For they returned and tempted God, and limited the holy one of Israel. They remembered not his hand, nor the day in which he had redeemed them from the distresser. When he put his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Tsoan. And turned their rivers into blood, and their streams, that they could not drink. He sent among them a mixed swarm which did eat them, and the frog which corrupted them. And he gave their fruit to the caterpillar, and their labor to the locust. He killed their vine with hail, and their wild fig-trees with the blasting hailestone. And he shut up their cattle to the hail, and their flocks of cattle to the lightnings. He sent among them the burning of his anger, exceeding wrath, and indignation, and distress, by the sending of the messengers of evils. He weighed out a path to his anger, he withheld not their soul from death, and their wild beast he shut up to the pestilence. And smote all the first-borne in Egypt, the beginning of strengths in the tents of Cham. And he made his people pass forth as sheep, and led them on as a flock in the wilderness. And led them in confident safety, and they dreaded not, and the sea covered their enemies. And he brought them to the border of his holiness: this mountain, which his right hand purchased. And he cast out the heathens from their faces, and made them fall in the line of possession, & made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents. And they tempted & bitterly provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies. But turned back and unfaithfully transgressed like their fathers; they were turned like a warping bow. And provoked him to anger by their high places, and by their graven idols they stirred him to jealousy. God heard, & was exceeding wroth, & vehemently abhorred Israel. And he forsook the dwelling place of Shilo, the tent he had placed for a dwelling among earthly men. And gave his strength into captivity, & his beauteous glory into the hand of the distresser. And shut up his people to the sword, & was exceeding wroth with his inheritance. The fire did eat their choice young men, & their virgins were not praised. Their Priests fell by the sword, and their widows wept not. And the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, as a mighty one shouting after wine. And smote his distressers behind, he gave them eternal reproach.

And he refused the tent of Joseph, & chose not the tribe of Aephrajim. But he chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved. And built his sanctuary like high places, like the earth which he founded forever. And he chose David his servant, and took him from the folds of sheep. From after the ewes with young brought he him, to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his possession. And he fed them according to the perfection of his heart, and by the discretions of his hands led he them.

Annotations.

MY Law] or doctrine, for of it the Law hath the name in Hebrew; see Psal. 19. 8. Christ speaketh in this Psalm to his people, as the next verse showeth. So Isa. 1. 4.

Vers. 2. in a parable] that is, in (or with) parables, as the holy Ghost expoundeth it, Mat. 13. 34, 35. All these things spake Jesus to the multitude in parables, &c. that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables &c. Here the narration and applying of ancient histories are called Parables, because all these things came unto our fathers as types, and were written to admonish us, 1 Cor. 10. 11. What a Parable meaneth, see Psal. 49. 5. will utter] or well out, as from a spring or fountain. hid things] so the holy Ghost expoundeth it in Greek, Mat. 13. 35. the Hebrew word signifying sharp or obscure speeches, or riddles: see Psal. 49. 5. of antiquity] understand, which are of antiquity, that is, ancient things since the foundation of the world, Mat. 13. 35.

Vers. 5. stablished] or reared up. testimony] or witness, meaning the Covenant: see Psal. 19. 8. in Jacob] among the Israelites, the children of Jacob. to their sons] all their posterity, as Deut. 4. 9. teach them thy sons, and thy sons sons. So Deut. 6. 6, 7, 21.

Vers. 8. perverse] or froward, stubborn. So Israel is noted to be, Exod. 32. 9. Deut. 31. 27. [unspec 8]

Vers. 9. Aephraim] The ten tribes of Israel, of which Ephraim was chief, though they were valiant warriors, yet for their sins fell before their enemies, 1 King. 17. Hos. 10. 11, 14. Some understand it of that slaughter of Ephraim's sons mentioned, 1 Chron. 7. 21, 22, 23. which was while their father lived in Egypt.

Vers. 10. refused to walk] as 2 King. 17. 14, 15. they would not obey, but hardened their necks, &c. and refused his statutes and his covenant, which he made with their fathers &c.

Vers. 12. a miracle] that is, miracles, marvels, as in verse. 2. parable is for parables. of Tsoan] or of Tanis, as the Greek and Chaldee calleth it. It was a chief city in Egypt, and the Kings Court or palace, and a place of great antiquity, Isa. 30. 3, 4. Num. 13. 23. And the field of Tsoan, is the country or territories of that city, as the field of Edom, Gen. 32. 3. the field of Moab, Gen. 36. 35. Num. 21. 20. So after, verse. 43.

Vers. 13. cl•t the sea] the red sea, where the Israelites were baptized, Exod. 14. 1 Cor. 10. 2.

Vers. 14. a cloud] to shadow them from the Sun; and to guide them in their journeys: a figure of God's protection over his Church, and guidance of the same, Exod. 13. 21. and 40. 38. Num. 9. 17,—22. Nehem. 9. 19. Isa 4. 5.

Vers. 15. the Rocks] once at Horeb, Exod. 17. 6. and again at Cadesh, Num. 20. 1. 11. The Rock was spiritually Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. great deep's] that is, the great deep, as the Greek turneth it:

the phrase is taken from Gen. 7. 11. though here deeps is put for deep, for the more vehemency, or, for every of the great deeps. Or we may turn it, as in deeps very much, to wit, drink.

Vers. 17. to provoke bitterly] by rebellion, exasperating and causing wrath and bitterness, as both the Hebrew and Greek words signify, Psal. 5. 11. Hebr. 3. 16.

Vers. 18. for their soul] that is, their lust, their appetite: See Psal. 27. 12.

Vers. 20. bread] that is generally, food, Psalm. 136. 25. and in special flesh, as after is explained, and the Hebrew lechem sometime signifieth, Eev. 3. 11. Numb. 28. 2. Of this their lufting, see Num. 11. 4, &c. can he prepare] The word can is again to be repeated from the former sentence. See also the note on Psal. 77. 5.

Vers. 21. ascended] that is, burned: for fire mounteth upward: so verse. 31.

Vers. 24. Manna] or as in Hebrew, Man, a small round thing like Coriander seed, coloured like Bdelium, (that is, like wax, & clear, but white,) hard, to be ground in milles, or pounded; of it cakes were made, whose taste was like the best fresh oil, and like wafers made with honey. When the dew fell on the host by night, the Manna fell with it; when the dew was ascended, the Manna appeared like the hoare frost on the earth; then the people gathered it, for when the heat of the Sun came, it was melted. It was a meat which they knew not, nor their fathers: when they saw it, they said, It is Manna (that is, a ready meat, or What is this?) for they wist not what it was: and Moses said, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat, Numb. 11. 7, 8, 9. Exod. 16. 14, 15. 31. Deut. 8. 3. Of this they had to eat forty years in the wilderness, till they came into Canaan, Exod. 16. 35. Ios. 5. 12: It was a figure of Christ, and his spiritual graces, Joh. 6. 31, 32, 33. Revel. 2. 17.

Vers. 25. man did eat] or Everyone did eat. bread of the Mighties] that is, of the Angels, (as the Chaldee and Greek explaineth it,) which are mighty in strength, Psal. 103. 20. and Manna is called their bread, either because by their ministry God sent it, or because it came from heaven, the habitation of Angels, as the Chaldee paraphraseth; or because it was excellent, so as the Angels (if they needed any food) might eat it. So the tongue of Angels, 1 Cor. 13. 1. is the most sweet and excellent tongue: Or by mighties, we may understand the mighty heavens. meat] The Hebrew tsedah properly signifieth venison, that is, meat caught with hunting; but generally is used for all food. So Psal. 132. 15. to satiety] or enough: for every man had an Omer full (that is, the tenth part of an Ephah or Bushel) of Manna for a day, Exod. 16. 16, 36. and of flesh they had store, till it came out at their nostrills, and was loath some unto them, Numb. 11. 19, 20.

Vers. 26. brought on] led or drove forward; as Numb. 11. 31. Then there went forth a wind from the Lord, and brought quail from the sea &c.

Vers. 27. flesh as dust] that is, quail in great abundance; so that he that gathered least, gathered ten Homers full, (that is, an hundred Ephahs or Bishels:) for one Homer contained ten Ephahs, Numb. 11. 32. Ezek. 45. 11.

Vers. 28. made it fall] the flesh, the quail; being fat and heavy fowl, and by the moist south-east wind made more heavy, fell upon the campe a days journey on each side, round about the host, and they were about two cubits above the earth, Numb. 11. 31. his campe] the Lord's, because he dwelt among them, Num. 5. 3. called elsewhere the hosts of the Lord, Exod. 12. 41. or his, that is, Israel's: so verse. 63, 64.

Vers. 30. They were not estranged] that is, (as the Greek explaineth it) they were not deprived, their desired meat was not taken away from them; as it is written, the flesh was yet between their teeth, it was not yet cut off: (that is, taken from them, as Joel 1. 5.) and the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the people, Numb. 11. 33. Or it may be understood of their affections and lust not yet changed.

Vers. 31. ascended] that is, burned, as verse. 21. This is meant of the plague wherewith God smote the people, Numb. 11. 33, 34. fat] that is, the chief and strongest, as Judge. 3. 29. So weak, poor, or base men, are called lean or thin, Psal. 41. 2. Fat, (or fatnesses,) is here figuratively put for fat persons. See the notes on Psal. 36. 12. and 106. 15. choice young men] young men are called chosen, because they are selected for wars, and other serviceable affairs, when ancient men are let rest, Numb. 1. 3. and 8. 24, 25, 26. Exod. 24. 5.

Vers. 33. hasty terror] or, a sudden plague; as was threatened, Levite. 26. 16. [unspec 33]

Vers. 36. flatteringly allured] or deceived, that is, went about to deceive, by persuading flattering words.

Vers. 37. firmly prepared] aright settled ready and stable, as is the heart of the godly, Psal. 112. 7 and 57. 8.

Vers. 38. mercifully covered] made expiation, and forgave: So Psal. 65. 4. and 79. 9. corrupted] that is, destroyed utterly: so Deut. 4. 31. multiplied to turn] that is, much and often turned away his anger.

Vers. 39. flesh] that is, weak, and corrupt. See Psal. 56. 5. a wind] man's life is a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and afterward vanisheth away, I am. 4. 14.

Vers. 40. How oft] ten times (as the Lord said, Numb. 14. 22.) this people tempted him, and obeyed not his voice. 1. At the red sea, for fear of the Egyptians, Exod. 14. 11, 12. 2. At Marah, where they wanted drink, Exod. 15. 23, 24. 3. In the wilderness of Sin, where they wanted meat, Exod. 16. 2. 4. In keeping Manna till the morrow, which God had forbidden, Exod. 16. 20. 5. In going out for Manna on the Sabbath day, Exod. 16. 27, 28. 6. At Rephidim, murmuring for lack of water, Exod. 17. 1, 2, 3. 7. At Horeb, where they make the golden calf, Exod. 32. 8. In Taberah, murmuring for tediousness of their way, Numb. 11. 1. 9. At Kibroth hattaavah, where they lusted for flesh, Numb. 11. 4. 10. In Paran, where they refuse the land of Canaan, being discouraged by their spies, Num. 14. 1, 2, &c. And after this they sinned seven times; as 1. In pressing to go fight, when God forbade them, Num. 14. 44, 45. 2. In the rebellion of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, Numb. 16. 1, &c. 3. In the murmuring for the death of Korah and his company, Numb. 16. 41, &c. 4. At Meribah, murmuring for lack of water, Numb. 20. 2, 3, &c. 5. For grief of their way, murmuring and loathing Manna, Numb. 21. 4, 5, &c. 6. At Shittim, committing whoredom with the daughters of Moab; 7. And in the same place, coupling themselves to Baal-peor, and eating the sacrifices of the dead, Numb. 25. 1, 2, 3, &c.

Vers. 41. returned and tempted] that is, efisoones, again and again tempted; contrary to the law, Deut. 6. 16. limited] prescribed limits, bounds, or marks; as before, verse. 20.

Vers. 44. to blood] The first of the ten plagues, wherewith God smote the Egyptians, which had drowned his children in their rivers, Exod. 7. 19. 20, 21. and 1. 22. whereto agreeth the third vial of wrath poured out on Antichrists kingdom, spiritually called Egypt, Rev. 16. 4. 6. and 11. 8.

Vers. 45. a mixed swarm] a mixture, sundry sorts of flies, vermin, or hurtful beasts: by the Greek they were flies; by the Chaldee, mixtures of wild beasts. It was the fourth plague of Egypt: See Exod. 8. 24. the frog] that is, frogs, (as afterward caterpillar, locust, for locusts, &c.) The second plague of Egypt, Exod. 8. 6. figures of unclean spirits, which gather the Kings of the world to the battle of the great day of God, Rev. 16. 13, 14. corrupted] that is, marred and destroyed.

Vers. 46. their fruit] all that grows out of the earth. caterpillar] a worm that consumeth and spoileth grass & fruits, Joel 1. 4. Locust] or grashopper, (which have their name of their multitude, for they fly many together, Prov. 30. 27. Nahum. 3. 15. Judge. 6. 5.) Locusts in those countries fly in the air multitudes together; and wheresoever they fall, they devour every green thing. This was the eighth plague of Egypt, whereby all herbs and fruits were consumed, Exod. 10. 14, 15. Figures of Antichrists ministers, Rev. 9. 3, 4, &c.

Vers. 47. blasting hailestone] a word nowhere found but in this place. The seventh plague of Egypt was grievous hail mixed with fire, that killed men, beasts, herbs and trees, Exod. 9. 24, 25. So in Revel. 16. 21. baile of talent weight falleth on blasphemers.

Vers. 48. he shut up] that is, gave: See Psal. 31. 6. so verse. 50. lightnings] or, the flying firecoles, thunderbolts: see this word, Psal. 76. 4. The Greek here turneth it, fire.

Vers. 49. messengers] or Angels of evils, or as the Greek saith, evil Angels: such indeed God useth to punish men by, Job 1. 12, 16, &c. The Chaldee also translateth, sent by the hand of them that do evil. But hereby may be meant Moses and Aaron, whom the Lord sent to denounce these plagues before they came, & by their hand brought them on Egypt, Exod. 7. 1, 2, 19. and 8. 1, 2, 5, 16, 21. and 9. 14, 15, &c.

Vers. 50. He weighed] to wit, making his punishments proportionable to their sins and obstinacy: for as men increase sin, so doth God judgment, Levite. 26. 21, 23, 24, 27, 28. Wilde beast] that is, beasts, which have their name of liveliness (as is noted, Psal. 68. 11.) therefore some turn it here, life; but the Greek plainly saith cattle. The fifth plague of Egypt, was the pest or murraine of all beasts and cattle, Exod. 9. 3.

Vers. 51. the first-borne] the tenth and last plague was the death of all the firstlings of Egypt, in the night that Israel kept the Passover, and departed the land, Exod. 12. 27, 29, 30. The first-borne usually ministered to God: but God smote all such idolatrous ministers in Egypt, and upon their gods also he did execution, Numb. 33. 4. but, spared the first borne of Israel, by the blood of the Lamb; and after chose the tribe of Levi to minister in their stead, Num. 3. 40, 41, 45. and 8. 16,—19. beginning of strengths] or chiefest of painful might: so the eldest child is named, Gen. 49. 3. Deut. 21. 17. Therefore were they to be given to the Lord. tents of Cham] the dwellings of the Egyptians, which were the posterity of Cham, the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 6. See the Note on Psalms 68. 32.

Vers. 52. his people pass forth] the Israelites took their journeys from Rameses, Exod. 12. 37. See Psal. 77. 21.

Vers. 54. border of his holiness] his holy border; meaning the land of Canaan, sanctified to be the possession of his people, and limited in all the borders of it, as Num. 34. 2, 3,—12. or, border of his Sanctuary. this mountain] that is, mountainy country Canaan, called a land of mountains and valleys, Deut. 11. 11. So Exod. 15. 17. Or in special he may mean mount Zion: whereof after in verse 68.

Vers. 55. the Heathens] the seven mighty Nations of Canaan, where Joshua and Israel killed one and thirty kings, Deut. 7. 1. Josh. 12. 7,—24. made them fall in the line] that is, made their country fall out by line and measure, to be the inheritance of Israel, Josh. 15 and 16 and 17 chapters. tribes] the posterity of the 12 sons of Israel, called tribes, after the Roman name, where at first the whole multitude was divided into three parts, called thereof tribes: but the Hebrew name signifieth Staves or rods, as growing out of one stock or tree, and these were twelve, Num. 13. 3, 5,—16.

Vers. 56. And they tempted] The Israelites notwithstanding all former mercies, tempted God and sinned in Canaan their possession, as is manifested in the book of Judges.

Vers. 57. like their fathers] whose carcasses fell in the wilderness. For of six hundred thousand men that came out of Egypt, not any one came into Canaan, save Caleb and Joshua, Exod. 38. 26. Num. 14. 29, 30. and 26. 64, 65. a warping bow] or, bow of deceit, that shooteth awry, and so deceiveth. So Hos. 7. 16.

Vers. 58. high places] Temples, Chapels, & consecrated places on mountains, where the nations used to sacrifice, and Israel imitated them, Num. 33. 52. Deut. 12. 2. 1 Kings 11. 7. and 12. 31, 32. and 14. 23. to jealousy] to jealous anger, for which a man will not spare in the day of vengeance, nor can bear the sight of any ransom, Prov. 6. 34, 35. unto this, God is moved by idolatry, which is spiritual fornication, Exod. 20. 4, 5. Deut. 31. 16, 17. and 32. 21.

Vers. 59. abhorred] or refused, with loathsomeness and contempt. So after, verse. 67.

Vers. 60. the dwelling place] the tabernacle set in Shilo, 1 Sam. 1. 3. There God dwelt among men, Exod. 29. 44. 45, 46.

Vers. 61. his strength] the Ark of his covenant, (called the Ark of his strength, Psal. 132. 8.) this was captived by the Philistines, 1 Sam. 4. 11. The Chaldee translateth it, his Law. beauteous glory or fatrenesse, magnificence; meaning the Ark fore-mentioned, as Phineas wife said, the glory is departed from Israel, for the Ark of God is taken, 1 Sam. 4. 20, 22.

Vers. 62. shut up] that is, delivered his people to the sword of the Philistines, who killed thirty thousand Israelites, 1 Sam. 4. 10.

Vers. 63. The fire] that is, God's wrath, by the sword of the Philistines, as verse 21. So in Ezek. 30. 8. a fire in Egypt, signifieth (as the Chaldee there expoundeth it) a people strong like fire. were not praised] by hymns, and songs, as was the wont at their espousals and marriages; that is, they were not married.

Vers. 64. Their Priests] Hophni and Phineas, 1 Sam. 4. 11. The Hebrew is singularly, His Priests, and so before and after, his choice young men, &c. meaning Israel's, who is spoken of, as of one man. But the Scripture useth these phrases indifferently; as, All Aedom was servants, 2 Sam. 8. 14. for which in 1 Chron. 18. 13. is written, All Aedom were servants. Of this name Priests, see Psal. 99. 6. wept not] that is, lamented not at their funeral; for Phineas wife her self died in travel, 1 Sam. 4. 19, 20.

Vers. 65. awaked] stirred up himself to punish the Philistines, where as before he seemed to sleep, as Psal. 44: 24. after wine] or, by reason of wine, that is, when he hath drunk wine, which cheereth and encourageth the heart; so did God behave him-self.

Vers. 66. behind] that is, in the hinder secret parts; (as the Chaldee addeth, with emerods in their hinder parts:) for so God smote the Philistines with pilos or hemoroids for abusing his Ark, 1 Sam. 5. 1, 6. 9, 12. eternal reproach] by this punishment, and the monuments thereof; for the Philistines were forced to make similitudes of their hemoroids and secret parts, of gold, and send with the Ark home to Israel, as an oblation for their sin, 1 Sam. 6. 4, 5, 11, 15, 17.

Vers. 67. hererefused] or, abhorred, despised, as verse 59. the tent of Joseph] that is, the tribe of Ephraim the son of Joseph, where the Tabernacle and Ark had remained many years in Shiloh: God returned not the Ark thither, but to Bethshemesh and Kirjathjearim, cities of Judah, 1 Sam. 6. 12. and 7. 1, 2. Wherefore Shiloh is used after for an example of judgment, Ier. 7. 12, 14. and 26. 6, 9. Or this may be meant of the ten tribes of Israel, (of whom Ephraim of Joseph was chief) which were cast off for idolatry, and captived by the Assyrians, 2 Kings 17.

Vers. 69. built his Sanctuary] the glorious temple by Solomon son of David, 1 King. 6. 1, 2, 3, &c. like high places] Kings palaces or towers. The Greek and Chaldee turn it, Unicornes, whose horns are high, Psal. 92. 11. For Ramim, high places, they read Remim, Unicornes.

Vers. 70. from the fold of sheep] that is, from base estate. For David keeping his fathers sheep, was by Samuel anointed King over Israel, 1 Sam. 16. 11. 13. 2 Sam. 7. 8. So Amos 7. 14, 15.

Vers. 71. to feed Jacob] so the Greek well explaineth the Hebrew phrase, to feed in Jacob; where in is to be omitted in English, as the like phrase showeth, 1 Sam. 16. 11. & 17. 34. & the Hebrew it self often omitteth it, as 2 Sam. 5. 2. and 7. 7. So here in the former verse, he chose in David, that is, he chose David. Kings are said to feed their people, because their office is like to the good shepherds, in guiding and governing. See Psal. 23. 1. And Pastors are Princes, Ier. 6. 3. and 12. 10.

Vers. 72. discretion of his hands] or Prudencies of his palms, that is, with most prudent and discreet administration managed he them; figuring Christ herein, who is called David, and the great and good Pastor of his flock, Ezek. 34. 23. John. 10. 11. Heb. 13. 20.

PSAL. LXXIX.

The Psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance, 13 and promiseth thankfulness.

A Psalm of Asaph.

O God, the heathens are come into thine inheritance; they have defiled the Palace of thine Holiness, they have laid Jerusalem on heaps. They have given the carcass of thy servants, for meat, to the fowl of the heavens; the flesh of thy gracious Saints to the wild beast of the earth. They have shed their blood like waters round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them. We are a reproach to our neighbors, a scoff and a scorn to them that are round about us. How long, Jehovah, wilt thou be angry to perpetuity; shall thy jealousy burn as fire? Pour out thy wrathful heat upō the heathens which know thee not, and upon the kingdoms which call not on thy Name. For he hath eaten up Jacob, and his habitation they have wonderously desolated. Remember not against us former iniquities; make haste, let thy tender mercies prevent us, for we are brought very low. Help us, O God of our salvation, because of the glory of thy Name, and rid us free, and mercifully cover our sins for thy names sake. Why shall the heathens say, where is their God? known be among the heathens before our eyes, the vengeance of the blood of thy servants that is shed. Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thy face; according to the greatness of thine arm, reserve thou the sons of death. And render to our neighbors seven-fold into their bosom, their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord. And we thy people, and sheep of thy pasture, will confess to thee forever; to generation and generation, we will tell thy praise.

Annotations.

OF Asaph] or to him: see Ps. 50. 1. thine inheritance] or possession; the land of Canaan invaded by the Gentiles, Exod. 15. 17. 2 Sam. 20. 19. Ier. 50. 10, 11. Lam. 1. 10. heaps] that is, ruins, Mic. 1. 6. and 3. 12.

Vers. 2. carcass] for carcasses, as after, beast, for beasts; and prisoner, verse. 11. for prisoners: See Psal. 34. 8.

Vers. 3. none to bury] which is a thing most dishonorable, Eccl. 6. 3. Cōpare herewith, Rev. 11. 2, 9.

Vers. 5. jealousy] that is, hot wrath burn, as Psal. 89. 47. So Ezek. 36. 5. elsewhere it is said to smoke, Deut. 29. 19. this fire is the flame of Yah. Song 8. 6.

Vers. 6. which call not &c.] a note of profaneness, Psal. 14. 4. This sentence Jeremiah useth, Ier. 10. 25.

Vers. 8. former iniquities] iniquities of former times (or persons;) done by us, or our fathers, as Psal. 25. 7. both are joined together, Lev. 26. 40. Lam. 5. 7. Former, and iniquities, differ in gender, yet many times such are coupled, the sense being regarded more than strict form of words; which the Hebrew text sometime manifesteth, as tabo, 2. Sam. 8. 5. for which in 1 Chron. 18. 5. is jabo; lahen. 2 Chron. 18. 16. lahem, 1 King. 22. 17. So again in this Psalm, verse. 10. brought low] or, weakened, emptied, impoverished. See this word, Psal. 41. 2. and 116. 6.

Vers. 10. known be] to wit, the vengeance, let it be open and manifest. The Chaldee translatheth, Let him be revealed among the people's, that we may see the vengeance of thy servants blood that is shed. Here again the words differ in gender, (as was noted before, verse. 8.) wherefore some turn it, let him (that is, God) be known, by the vengeance, &c. Compare herewith Deut. 32. 42, 43. Jer. 51. 36, 37.

Vers. 11. the sighing] or the groaning mournful cry: So Psal. 102. 21. reserve] or make to remain, that is, keep alive from destruction; which if God had not done, they had been as Gomorrah, Isa. 1. 9. And this God promised to do, Ezek. 6. 7, 8. and 12. 16. sons of death] that is, persons appointed to die, or worthy of death; in Chaldee, delivered to death: as 1 Sam. 20. 31. Deut. 25. 2. So Psal. 102. 21. and, Son of perdition, 2 Thes. 2. 3.

Vers. 12. seven-fold] that is, fully and abundantly. See Psal. 12. 7. into their bosom] that is, largely, and that it may affect, & cleave unto them; so Isa. 65. 7. Ier. 32. 18. See also Luk. 6. 38.

PSAL. LXXX.

The Psalmist complaineth of the miseries of the Church. 9 God's former favors are turned into judgments. 15 He prayeth for deliverance.

To the master of the music on Shoshannim, Eduth, a Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 1]

O Thou that feddest Israel, give ear; thou that ledest Joseph as a flock, thou that sittest on the Cherubims, shine bright. Before Ephraim, and Benjamin, and Manasseh, stir up thy strength, and come for salvation to us. O God, return us, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

Jehovah God of hosts, how long wilt thou smoke against the prayer of thy people? Thou makest them eat the bread of tears, and makest them drink of tears a great measure. Thou puttest us a strife to our neighbors, and our enemies mock among themselves. O God of hosts return us, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

Thou removedst a Vine out of Egypt, thou drovest out the heathens and plantedst it. Thou preparedst the way before it, and rootedst [unspec \2] in the roots of it, and it filled the land. The mountains were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs of it were like the Cedars of God. It sent out the branches thereof unto the Sea, and the sucking sprigs thereof unto the river. Why hast thou burst down the hedges of it, so that all which pass by the way have plucked it? The boar out of the wood hath rooted it up, and the store of beasts of the field have fed it up. O God of hosts return, O now; behold from heavens and see, and visit this Vine. And the stock which thy right hand planted, and the son whom thou madest strong for thyself. It is burned with fire, it is cut down; at the rebuke of thy face they perish. Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of Adam, whom thou madest strong for thyself. And we will not go back from thee; quicken thou us, and we will call on thy Name.

Jehovah God of hosts return us; cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

Annotations.

SHoshannim] that is, six-stringed instruments, or Lilies: see Psal. 45. 1. Eduth] that is, a Testimony, or Ornament. An excellent testimonial of the faith of God's people in afflictions. The Chaldee applieth it to them that sate in the Synedrion, that studied in the testimony of the Law. See also Psal. 60. 1.

Vers. 2. feedest Israel] O God, Pastor of the Israelites. See Psal. 23. 1. Joseph] the posterity of Joseph, and with them the other tribes. Joseph is named as principal, the first birth-right being taken from Reuben, and given to him, 1 Chr. 5. 1, 2. So Psal. 77. 16, 21. on the Cherubims] which were upon the Ark of the Covenant, in the Sanctuary from whence God gave Oracles to his people, when they sought unto him, Exod. 25. 22. Num. 7. 89. 1 Sam. 4. 4. 2 Sam. 6. 2. 2 Kin. 19. 15. Of these Cherubs, see the Note on Psalm. 18. 11. shine bright] that is, show thy glory, and thr favor to us, as Psal. 50. 2. and Job 10. 3. where shining is favor. This is taken from Deut. 33. 2. So after in Psal. 94. 1.

Vers. 3. Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh] that is, the tribes, or posterity of these three Patriarchs, which were all joined together in one quarter, on the West side of God's Tabernacle; and when it removed, they went next after it, Num. 2. 17. 18, 20, 22. and 10. 21. 22, 23. 24. After the captivity of Babylon also, the remnants of these tribes dwelled in Jerusalem, for which they were thanked by the people, 1 Chron. 9. 3. Nehem. 11. 2. a salvation] or full salvation and deliverance. By adding a letter, the signification is increased, as in Psal. 3. 3.

Vers. 4. return us] or restore us, to wit, from sorrow to joy, from captivity to liberty, &c. Psalm. 126. 1. and 23. 3. So the Chaldee saith, return us from our captivity. face to shine] or, to be light, that is, cheerful, comfortable. See Psal. 4. 7. and 31. 17 and 67. 2. Dan. 9. 17. and we shall] or, that we may be saved: as Psal. 43. 4. so verse. 8. and 20.

Vers. 5. smake] be very angry against the prayer, that is, not hear, but shut it out, as Habak. 1. 2. Lam. 3. 8. So the Chaldee expoundeth it wilt thou not receive the prayer. See smoke for anger, Psal. 74. 1.

Vers. 6. bread of tears] bread steeped in tears, as the Chaldee saith, or tears instead of bread, as Psal. 42. 4. meaning great afflictions, a great measure] The Hebrew Shalish is the name of a measure, so called of three, as containing a third part of the greatest measure, four times as big as the usual cup to drink in.

Vers. 7. a strise] contention, or contradiction, that our neighbors contend and speak against us, or strive who shall vanquish and possess us. among themselves] for their pleasure; or, mock at them, (as Psal. 2. 4.) that is, at thy people, as verse 6. that is, at us, as the Greek translate it.

This may be the meaning, though us went before; for the Hebrew sometime changeth person, though it mean the same; as Deut. 5. 10. that love me, and keep his (that is, my) commandments. See also Psal. 59. 10. and 65. 7. and 115. 9.

Vers. 8. and we shall] or, that we may be saved. This verse is the same with the fourth, save that there was only God; here is added, God of hosts; and in verse. 20, (where it is the third time repeated,) is added, Jehovah, God of hosts; thus increasing saith and earnestness in their prayers.

Vers. 9. removedst a Ui••] that is, a Church, the Common-wealth of Israel; as it is written, the Vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are his pleasant plant, Isa. 5. 7. Jer. 2. 21. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, the house of Israel, which is likened to to a Vine. And removing or translating, is the word so often used in Num. 33. where all the journeys of Israel are rehearsed. the heathens] the seven Nations of Canaan. See Psal. 78. 55.

Vers. 10. preparedst] or madest ready: so this word is translated in Greek, Mat. 3. 3. from Isa. 40. 3. and Mat. 11. 10. from Mal. 3. 1. where the word way is expressed; and here also the Greek saith, thou madest way; properly it signifieth to take away all impediments, that the plain way may appear. The Chaldee explaineth it, thou removedst the Canaanites from before it. rootedst in] that is, madest to take deep root.

Vers. 11. Cedars of God] that is, the great and goodly Cedars, as Psal. 36. 7. or, Cedars planted of God, as Psal. 104. 16. These the Chaldee expoundeth to be Teachers (of the Law) likened to strong Cedars.

Vers. 12. the river] Euphrates: see the notes on Psal. 72. 8. [unspec 12]

Vers. 13. the hedges] the fences; whereupon the spoil of it followeth, as Isa. 5. 5. So after, Psal. 89. 41, 42.

Vers. 14. boar] beastly tyrants, like swine; as the Assyrians, Babylonians, &c. which wasted the land of Canaan, 2 King. 17. 6. and 25. 1, 2, &c. store of beasts] as Psal. 50. 11. So the law threatened, I will send wild beasts upon you, which shall spoil you, &c. Levite. 26. 22. But here beasts are wicked people.

Vers. 16. the stock] or vine-yard; the base or place which beareth up the vine-branches. and the son] or branch: understand again, visit him, or look upon him. By the son may be meant Christ, as the Chaldee Paraphrast plainly saith, the King Messias, (called in verse 18. the son of man, and so here also in the Greek version:) who is the true Uine, his Father the husbandman, his disciples the branches, John. 15. 1, 5. who taketh part with the afflictions of his people, was himself called out of Egypt, Mat. 2. 15. and when his servants are vexed, it is done unto him, Act. 9. 4. Otherwise by the son may be understood a young Vine, or branch, as elsewhere boughs are called daughters, Gen. 49. 22. And so by the son be meant Israel, as Exod. 4. 22. the Lord's plant, Isa. 5. 7.

Vers. 18. man of thy right hand] whom thou lovest, honourest, and powerfully helpst. So Jacob called the son whom he loved, Benjamin, that is, the Son of the right hand, Gen. 35. 18. Hereby also is meant Christ, called the son of God's love, Colos. 1. 13. and the Church his body, translated into his Kingdom. The Chaldee expoundeth it, the man to whom thou hast sworn by thy right hand.

PSAL. LXXXI.

An Exhortation to a solemn praising of God. 5 God challengeth that duty by reason of his benefits. 9 Exhorting to obedience, he complaineth of the disobedience, which turneth to their own hurt.

To the master of the music upon Gittith, A Psalm of Asaph.

SHout joyfully unto God our strength, shout triumphantly unto the God of Jacob. Take up a Psalm and give the timbrell, the pleasant harp with the psalterie. Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, in the appointed time, at the day of our feast. For it is a statute to Israel, a judgment due to the God of Jacob. He put it in Joseph for a testimony, when he went forth from the land of Egypt, where I heard a language that I knew not. I removed his shoulder from the burden; his hands passed from the basket. Thou calledst in distress, and I released thee: I answered thee in the secret place of thunder, I proved thee at the waters of Meribah Selah. Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee, O Israel, if thou wilt hearken to me. If there shall not be in thee a foreign God, neither thou bow down thyself to a strange God.

I am Jehovah thy God, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, open wide thy mouth, and I will fill it. But my people hearkened not to my voice, and Israel was not well affected to me. And I sent him away in the perverse intendment of their own heart, let them walk in their own counsels. O that my people had been obedient to me, that Israel had walked in my ways. Even soon would I have humbled their enemies, and turned my hand upon their distressers. The haters of Jehovah should have falsely denied to him, and their time should have been forever. And he would have fed him with the fat of wheat, and out of the rock, with honey would I have sufficed thee.

Annotations.

Gittith] see the Note on Psal. 8. 1. [unspec 3]

Vers. 3. Take up] to wit, in your mouths, or lift up your voice with Psalm or song. So in Esa. 42. 2. to lift up, is meant the voice. give] that is, bring the timbrel, &c. of these instruments, see Psal. 68. 26. and 33. 2.

Vers. 4. Blow the trumpet] or, the Cornet, (whereof see Psal. 98. 6.) this was done both to proclaim the solemnity unto men, and to be a memorial for them before God, Levite. 23. 4. Num. 10. 10. for in their public worship, the Israelites used trumpets, with other musical instruments, 2 Chron. 5. 12, 13. and 29. 27. the new moon] when a solemn feast, with special worship was appointed of God, Num. 28. 11, 14. and at these times (as on the Sabbaths) they used to assemble to worship, and hear God's word, 2 King. 4. 23. Ezek. 46. 3. Esa. 66. 23. these feasts were a shadow of things to come, but the body is in Christ, Col. 2. 16, 17. the appointed time] or, the solemnity, solemn feast, which was thrice in the year, 1 at the Passover, 2 at Pentecost, and 3 at the feast of Tabernacles, Deut. 16. 26. of which last, some understand this festivitie, Ceseh, as having the name of covering in boothes: others of the covering, that is, the change of the moon when it is hid by the Sun. feast] or dance; see Psal. 42. 5. This may be meant of all feasts; or in special of the feast of blowing trumpets, in the first day of the seventh month, Levite. 23. 24. or of the Passover, as after, verse 6.

Vers. 5. a judgment] that is, a rite, or ordinance, made by God, and a duty to be performed to him. So judgment is for duty, Deut. 18. 3.

Vers. 6. in Joseph] among the posterity of Joseph, and the other tribes of Israel. Joseph is named as principal, having the birth-right, 1 Chron. 5. 1, 2. So Psal. 80. 2. from the land] so the Greek turneth it, the Hebrew ghnal, being here for meghnal, the same that min, from, as 2 Chro. 33. 8. with 2 King. 21. 8. Zach. 4. 3. At their going out of Egypt, the feast of the Passover was appointed, Exod. 12. after in the wilderness, the other feasts, Levite. 23. or we may read it, against the land, viz. to destroy it, and the first-borne, Exod. 11. 4, 5. The Chaldee applieth this to Joseph when he went out of prison and ruled over the land of Egypt. I heard a language] Hebr. a lip, used for the speech or language, as Gen. 11. 1.

Vers. 7. from the burden] that is, burdens, wherewith they were vexed in Egypt, making bricks, building cities, &c. Exod. 1. 11. and 5. 4, 5, 7, 8. basket] or pot; such vessels as wherein they carried straw, mortar, brick, &c.

Vers. 8. Thou calledst] Israel having left Egypt, Pharaoh with his host pursued them, and they were sore afraid and cried to the Lord, Exo. 14. 10, 15. secret place of thunder] out of the black cloud, wherewith God guided and protected Israel; but with thunder, rain, &c. dismayed the Egyptians, Exod. 14. 19, 20, 24, 25. See also Psal. 77. 18, 19. of Meribah] that is, of Strife; so named because Israel there strove with Moses, and almost stoned him, Ex. 17. 1, 2, 3 4—7. There God proved thē, to know what was in their heart, whether they would keep his commandments or no, Deut. 8. 2. Exod. 15. 25. and there they proved God, Ps. 95. 9.

Vers. 9. testify] or protest, take to witness, namely the heavens and earth, &c. as Deut. 31. 28. and 32. 1 46. and 30. 19. and deeply charge thee. Compare herewith Exod. 19. 3, 4, 5, &c. and 20. 22, 23. Ier. 11. 7, 8, 8.

V. 11. open wide] that is, speak and ask freely. This sentence our Savior openeth thus, If ye abide in m• and my words abide in you, ask what ye will, and it shall be done to you, John. 15. 7. and the Apostle thus, Whatsoever we ask of God we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, &c. 1 John. 3. 22. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Open thy mouth to the words of the law, and I will fill it with all good.

Vers. 12. not well affected] had no will, or good inclination; which they shown presently after the giving of the Law, by making themselves gods of gold, and by their continual rebellions afterward, Exod. 32. 1,—31.

Vers. 13. perverse intendment] or, stubborn opinion, writhing and obstinate intention, which they looked after in their erroneous heart. This word is taken from Deut. 29. 19. and after often objected to them by Jeremiah, Ier. 3. 17. and 7. 24. and 9. 14. and 11. 8. And this is noted for a judgment of God, when he suffereth people to walk in their own ways, Act. 14. 16.

Vers. 15. humbled] and so have given them rest from their enemies, as in 1 Chron. 17. 10. compared with 2 Sam. 7. 11.

Vers. 16. falsely denied] or, feinedly submitted: see Psal. 18. 45. and 66. 3. their time] if this be referred to the enemies, it is meant their time of distress, as Ps. 10. 1. and 31. 16. so time is used, Ier. 27. 7. Isa. 13. 22. if to God's people, it meaneth their continued settled state, which the Chaldee translateth, their strength.

Vers. 17. fed him] that is, his people, verse 14. fat of wheat] the principal, or flower of corn: so Deut. 32. 14. Psal. 147. 14. out of the rock] out of which God had made his people suck honey and oil, Deut. 32. 13. Spiritually, the Rock is Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 4. the honey is the gracious words that flow from him; sweetness to the soul, and health to the bones, Prov. 16. 24. Psal. 19. 11. Song. 4. 11.

PSAL. LXXXII.

An exhortation to the Judges, and reproof of their negligence.

A Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 2]

GOd standeth in the assembly of God, he judgeth in the midst of the God's. How long will ye judge injurious evil, and accept the faces of the wicked Selah? Judge ye the poor weakling and the fatherless: justify the afflicted and the poor. Deliver the poor weakling and the needy, •id free out of the hand of the wicked.

They know not, neither will they understand; they will walk on in darkness: moved shall be all the foundations of the earth. I have said ye are God's, and ye all are sons of the most high. But surely ye shall die as men, and as one of the Princes shall ye fall. Rise up, O God, judge thou the earth, for thou shalt inherit in all nations.

Annotations.

The assembly of God] that is, the assise (or session) of Magistrates; whose office is the ordinance of god, Rom. 13. 1, 2. Deut. 16. 18. and who are to execute not the judgments of man, but of the Lord, who is with them in the cause and judgment, 2 Chron. 19. 6. Deut. 1. 17. in the mids of the God's] that is, among the Judges (as the Chaldee translateth) or Magistrates, (v. 6) who in the Law are called God's, Exod. 22. 8, 9, 28. because the word of God was given to them, John. 10. 34, 35.

Vers. 2. How long, &c.] Thus God by his Prophet judgeth and reproveth the God's or Judges for unrighteous judgment. The Chaldee addeth, How long ye wicked will ye judge, &c. accept the faces] respect the persons, lift up, admire, honor or favor the faces; a thing forbidden both concerning rich and poor, Deut. 1. 17. and 16. 19. Lev. 19. 15. Prov. 18. 5. Lam. 2. 1,—9.

Vers. 3. Judge ye] that is, defend, deliver; see Psal. 43. 1. Esa. 1. 17. justify] that is, do justice, as 2 Sam. 15. 4. and acquitt or absolve him, his cause being right, Deut. 25. 1. Ier. 22. 3.

Vers. 5. They know not] The Judges are ignorant of their duty, Mic. 3. 1. Ier. 10. 21. Prov. 29. 7. The Chaldee paraphraseth, The are not wise to do good, and they understand not the Law. they will walk on] that is, continue willfully ignorant, and sinful in perverting justice, Mic. 3. 9. To walk in darkness, is to live in sin, 1 John. 1. 6. Ephe. 4. 17, 18. and 5. 8. moved shall be] to wit, therefore moved, as the Chaldee explaineth it; or though moved be all the foundations; though all laws and orders be violated, all estates disturbed, and strongest helps come to ruin, Esa. 24. 18, 19.

Vers. 6. sons of the most high] the Chaldee paraphraseth, as the Angels of the high. And Magistrates should be as Angels for wisdom, 2 Sam. 14. 20.

Vers. 7. as earthly men] as Adam, that is, as any other mortal man: so after, as one of the Princes, that is, of the other Princes of the world: see the like in Judge. 16. 7. 11. 17. Ge. 49. 16. for this Psalm was spoken to the Magistrates of Israel: for whatsoever the law saith, it saith it to them that are under the Law, Rom. 3. 19.

Vers. 8. inherit] that is, have sovereignty and dominion. So this word meaneth, Lev. 25. 45 46. Ier. 49. 2. And Christ is called heir (that is, Lord) of all, Heb. 1. 2. See Psal. 2. 8.

PSAL. LXXXIII.

A complaint to God of the enemies conspiracy. 10 A prayer against them that oppress the Church.

A Song, a Psalm of Asaph. [unspec 1]

O God, keep not thou silence, cease not as dease, and be not still, O God. For loe, thine enemies make a tumultuous noise, and thy haters lift up the head. Against thy people they have craftily taken secret counsel, and consulted against thine hidden ones. They have said, Come and let us cut them off from being a nation, that the name of Israel may be remembered no more. For they have consulted in heart together, against thee they have stricken a covenant. The tents of Edom, and the Ishmaelites; Moab and the Hagarens. Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek: the Philistines, with them that dwell in Tyrus. Also Ashshur is joined with them: they have been an arm to the sons of Lot Selah. Do thou to them as to Midian, as to Sisera, as to Iabin, at the brook of Kishon. Which were abolished in Endor, they became dung for the earth. Put them even their Nobles, as Oreb and as Zeeb, and as Zebach, and as Salmunnah, all their authorized Princes. Who said, Let us possess to our selves the habitations of God. My God, set them as a rolling thing, as stubble before the wind. As the fire burneth a wood, and as the flame seareth the mountains; So pursue them with thy tempest, and suddenly trouble them with thy storm. Fill their faces with shame, that they may seek thy name Jehovah. Let them be abashed and suddenly troubled unto perpetuity; and let them be ashamed and perish. That they may know that thou whose name is JEHOVAH, only thou art the most high over all the earth.

Annotations.

KEepe not silence, &c.] Hebr. let not silen•e (or stillness) be to thee, that is, sit not still, but stir up thyself to help and avenge us on our enemies. So silence is used for sitting still, Judge. 18. 9.

Vers. 3. lift up the head] insolently and boldly, vaunting themselves, and warring against us. So Judge. 8. 28. On the contrary, God's people shall lift up their heads, that is, be of good comfort and courage, when their redemption draweth near, Luk. 21. 28.

Vers. 4. thine hidden ones] that is, as the Greek explaineth it, thy Saints, which are hidden of God in his tabernacle in the day of evil, from the strife of tongues, Psal. 27. 5. and 31. 21. whose life is hid with Christ in God, Col. 3. 3.

Vers. 5. from being] or, that they be no more a nation; Moab and others consult thus against Israel; after, the like is against Moab, and effected, Ier. 48. 2.

Vers. 6. in heart together] this noteth their earnestness, craftiness, and joint consent in evil.

Vers. 7. the tents] that is, armies with their Kings and Captains, Judge. 7. 13, 15. 2 Kings 7 7 10. Ier. 6. 3. Hab. 3. 7. Edom] the Edomites, or Idumeans, which were the sons of Esau, named Aedom: the brother of Israel; see the Notes on Psal. 60. 10. the Ishmaelites] children of Ishmael. the son of Abraham, who was (with the bondwoman Hagar his mother,) cast out of his fathers house for persecuting his brother Isaac, in whose evil ways his children here walk, Gen. 16. 1. 15. and 21. 9 10. 14. Gal. 4. 22, 29, 30. Moab] the Moabites, the posterity of Lot; see Psal. 60. 10. the Hagarens] the Chaldee Paraphrast calleth them Hungarians. They were the posterity of Ietur, Maphish, and other like children of Ishmael, son of Hagar, of whom came twelve Princes of their nations, Gen. 25. 12, 15, 16. some of which were called by their fathers name Ishmaelites, (as before) some by their grandmothers name Hagarens, and dwelt in Arabia, Eastward from Gilead, near to the Israelites, 1 Chron. 5. 10, 19. The word Hagarims, signifieth fugitives, or strangers, (as the Greek turneth them, paroikous, 1 Chron. 5. 10.) they were after called Saracens, which in the Arabic tongue is thieves.

Vers. 8. Gebal] that is, the Gebalites, or Gibleans, that dwelt in the Province or City Gebal (or Gabala) in Phoenicia near Sidon, whence Solomon had Masons, or stone-hewers, 1 Kings 5. 18. Ezek. 27. 9. Ammon] the Ammonites, that came of Lot, as did the Moabites, Gen. 19. 37. 38. These nations which were nearest allied unto Israel, and whom God would not suffer the Israelites to molest, when they came out of Egypt, Deut. 2. 4 5. 9, 19. combine here together against Israel to cast them out of God's inheritance, so evil did they reward them, as King Jehoshaphat complained, 2 Chron. 20. 10, 11, 12. Amalek] the Amalekites which were of Eliphaz the son of Esau, the brother of Israel, Gen. 36. 12, 16. they dwelt in the South country near Ganaan, Num. 13. 30. were the first that fought against Israel, Exod. 17. 8. &c. for which God would have had their remembrance put out frō under heaven, Deut. 25. 17, 18, 19. and King Saul was sent to perform it, but did it not fully, 1 Sam. 15. 2, 3, 9. and 28. 18. and was himself slain by an Amalekite, 2 Sā. 1. 8, 9, 10. the Philistines] or Palestine: see the Note on Ps. 60. 10. Tyrus] the Tyrians, w<sup>ch</sup> remembered not the brotherly covenant that had been between thē & Israel, Amos 1. 9. See the Note on Ps. 45. 13.

Vers. 9. Ashur] the Assyrians, the posterity of Shem the son of Noah, Gen. 10. 22. This nation was the rod of God's wrath against Israel, who in the end captived ten tribes, Isaiah. 10. 5, 6. 2 King. 15. 29. and 18. 9, 11, 13. &c. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Sennacherib also the King of Ashur, &c. an arm] that is, an help, (as the Greek saith,) & a strength to Lots sons, the Moabites &

Ammonites. Thus were here ten people's, confederates against God & his people. So in Gen. 15. 19. 20. 21. there are ten wicked nations, whose land is given upon conquest to Abraham's seed.

Vers. 10. as to Midian] the Midianites, the posterity of Abraham, by his concubine Keturah, 1 Chron. 1. 32. who being turned I do later, drew Israel to sin in the wilderness, for which Moses revenged the Israelites of them, by the slaughter of all their males, and their five Kings, and a wonderful great spoil, Nū. 31. 1, 7, 8, 16. 32, &c. but after that recovering and oppressing Israel in their own land, were by Gideon and 300 men, vanquished, when they lay in the valley like grasshoppers in multitude, Judge. 6. 1. and 7. 7. 12. 22. &c. and to this victory hath the Psalmist here reference. as to Sisera] the Captain in the host of Iabin, King of the Canaanites; he had nine hundred chariots of Iron, and vexed Israel sore, but by Deborah a Prophetess, and Barak a Captain of Naphtali, the Lord destroyed Sisera, with all his host and chariots; there was not a man left, and Sisera flying, was killed by Iael, Hebers wife, who drove a nail into the temples of his head, Judge. 4. 2, 3,—21. Iabin] the King of Canaan, who upon the death of his Captain Sisera forementioned, was subdued and destroyed before the Israelites, Judge. 4. 23, 24. at the brook] or in the bourn, that is, the valley of Kishon: the Hebrew Nachal (as our English bourne,) signifieth both a valley and a river running in it. Kishon was a river at the foot of mount Carmel; by it Sisera & the Kings of Canaan fought, & were vanquished; and the bourn Kishon swept them away, Judge. 4. 13. and 5. 19. 21. Endor] a city by Kishon, near unto Taanach and Megiddo, where the Canaanites perished, Josh. 17. 11. Judge. 5. 19. dung for the earth] that is, lay rotting above ground unburied, as is explained, Ier. 8. 2. and 16. 4.

Vers. 12. Put them] or him, that is, everyone of their nobles, and all jointly. See the Notes on Psal. 2. 3. Oreb and Zeeb] two Princes of the Madianites whom Gideon slew, Judge. 7. 25. Zebach and Salmunach] two kings of the Madianites, whom Gideon also pursued and killed, Judge. 8. 12, 21. authorised] or anointed, that is, Princes, as the Greek expresseth, and the Chaldee translatheth them Kings. See the Notes on Psal. 2. 6.

Vers. 14. as a rolling thing] or wheel; but here is meant a light thing, as chaff or straw, that rolleth or turneth round before the whirlwind, as the next words show, and a like speech in Isa. 17. 13. plainly manifest. Elsewhere the word signifieth also a wheel, Isa. 28. 28: and the sphere or round orbe of the air, Psal. 77. 19.

Vers. 15. sear] or burn up. See the like similitudes, Deut. 32. 22.

Vers. 17. with shame] or dishonor, contempt: the Hebrew word properly signifieth lightness; as the contrary honor is so called of weightiness, Psa. 3. 4. that they may seek] or, and let them seek: it may be meant of the enemies forementioned, forced to seek and call on God, as Psal. 18. 42. or indefinitely, that men may seek. So after in verse 19.

Vers. 19. Jehovah] This is the chiefest name of the eternal and most blessed God, so called of his essence, being or existence, which is simply one, Deut. 6. 4. The force of this name the holy Ghost openeth by He that is, that was, & that will be, or, is to come, Rev. 1. 4. 8. and 4. 8. & 11. 17. and 16. 5. and the form of the Hebrew name implieth so much; Ie, being a sign of the time to come, Iehovah, he will be, ⟨ϑ⟩, of the time present; Hoveh, he that is; and vah, of the time past; Havah, he was. It importeth that God Is, & hath his being of himself fr̄ before all worlds, Isa. 44. 6. that he giveth being or existēce unto all things, and in him all are and consist, Act. 17. 25. that he giveth being unto his word, effecting whatsoever he hath spoken, whether promises, Exod. 6. 3. Isa. 45. 2, 3. or threanings, Ezek. 5. 17. and 7. 27. It is in effect the same that Ehjeh, I will be, or I am, as God calleth himself, Exod. 3. 14. Of this the Gentiles named the greatest God, love, and Iu-piter, that is, Yah father, (of the shorter name Yah, mentioned Psal. 68. 5.) and Varro the learnedest of the Romans, thought love to be the god of the Jews. August. l. 1. de consens. evan. c. 22. Hereof also in Greek writers he is called Iao, Diodorus. Sicul. l. 2. c. 5. Clem. Alex. strom. l. 5. Macrob. l. 1. Saturnal. c. 18. But in the Greek tongue the name Jehovah cannot rightly be pronounced; and for it the Greek Bibles have Lord, which the New Testament followeth, as Mark. 12. 29. from Deut. 6. 4. and elsewhere usually; and the Hebrew Text sometime putteth Adonai, Lord, or Elohim, God, for Jehovah; as Psal. 57. 10. compared with Psal. 108. 4. 2 Chron. 25. 24. with 2 King. 14. 14. When Adonai, Lord, is joined with it. it is written Jehovah, as Psal. 68. 21. then the Jews read it Elohim, God, as at other times they read it Adonai, Lord; and pronounce not Jehovah at all at this day; though in ancient days it appeareth to be otherwise. The Greek history of Baruch, seemeth to use instead of it, Aionios, that is, the eternal, or, everlasting, Bar. 4. 10, 14, 20, 32, 24, 35. and 5. 2. See the Annotations on Gen. 2. 4. only thou] or, only thine, that is, which only hast Jehovah for thy name; for the true God hath only being, and Idols are nothing in the world, 1 Cor. 8. 4. and Angels, and Magistrates are called Elohim God's, Psal. 8. and 82. but Jehovah is peculiar to very God alone. And this is that name (I suppose) which the author of the book of Wisdom calleth incommunicable, Wisd. 14. 21. Yet this is the name of Christ, called Jehovah our justice, Ier. 23. 6. for God's name is in him, Exod. 23. 21. and he is very God, and eternal life, 1 John. 5. 20.

PSAL. LXXXIV.

The Prophet longing for the communion of the Sanctuary, showeth how blessed they are that dwell therein. 9 He prayeth to be restored unto it.

To the master of the music upon Gittith, a Psalm to the sons of Korach. [unspec 1]

How amiable are thy dwelling places, O Jehovah of hosts! My soul longeth and also fainteth for the courts of Jehovah; my heart and my flesh do shout unto the living God. Yea the sparrow findeth a house, and the swallow a nest for her, where she layeth heryoung: thine altars Jehovah of hosts, my King and my God. O blessed are they that abide in thine house, still they shall praise thee Selah. O blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, they in whose heart, are the high-ways. They that passing thorough the vale of Baca, put him for a well-spring, also with blessings the rain covereth. They shall go from power to power, he shall appear unto God in Zion. Jehovah God of hosts, hear thou my prayer: give year, O God of Jacob, Selah. See thou, O God, our shield, and look upon the face of the Anointed. For, better is a day in thy courts than a thousand: I have chosen to sit at the threshold in the house of my God, rather than to remain in the tents of wickedness. For Jehovah God is a Sun and a shield, Jehovah will give grace and glory, he will not withhold good from them that walk in perfection. Jehovah of hosts, O blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

Annotations.

Gittith] see Psal. 8. 1. [unspec 2]

Vers. 2. dwelling places] or habitaclcs;: see the Notes on Psal. 43. 3.

Vers. 3. for the courts] that I may come into them: for the Priests only went into the Temple, the people stood in the courtyards which were two, 2 Kings 21. 5. See Psal. 65. 5. shout] to wit, for desire to come unto God.

Vers. 4. the sparrow] or bird, in Chaldee, the dove; the Hebrew tsippor is generally any bird, Psal. 11. 1. Gen. 7. 14. specially the sparrow, when other birds are named, as here and Psal. 102. 8. for such haunt men's houses. swallow] or, free bird, called in Hebrew dror, of liberty which this bird seemeth to have above others, flying boldly and nestling about houses: so Prov. 26. 2. The Greek takes it here for the turtle dove, (which hath in Hebrew another name, Psal. 74. 19.) so also doth the Chaldee, adding this reason, because her young are lawful to be offered on thine altar. thine altars] to wit, are the places where the birds nestle near unto them, in houses or trees, which sometime were by God's tabernacle, Ios. 24. 26. or understand as before, (I long for) thine altars.

Vers. 6. the high ways] or causeyes; namely, which lead to thy house: that is, they which affect heartily, long after, and delight to go up to thy house. Spiritually these ways or paths are made by preaching of the Gospel, Esa. 40. 3. and 35. 8. and 11. 16.

Vers. 7. They that passing] or, of them that pass. of Baca] that is, of mulberie trees; which use to grow in dry places. The Greek saith, vales of tears. Both mean that through wants and afflictions we must come into the kingdom of God. This valley was near unto Jerusalem, as may be gathered by 2 Sam. 5. 22, 23. Ios. 15. 8. put him or set him, that is, God, making him by faith a well of life unto them; for he is the fountain of living waters, Ier. 2. 13. Or, set it, that is, the valley, making it a fountain by digging wels therein. And this may be an allusion to that well, digged by the Princes and Captains of Israel, Num. 21. 16, 18. also with blessings, &c.] that is, bountifully & abundantly the rain shall cover them. Rain figureth out the doctrine of the Gospel, Deut. 32. 2. Isa. 45. 8. Joel 2. 23. Revel. 11. 6. the rain of blessings is a bountiful abundant rain, Ezek. 34. 26. (as to sow with blessings, 2 Cor. 9. 6. is to sow abundantly, or liberally; and blessing is liberality, 2 Cor. 9. 5. Prov. 11. 25.) So God would cause a bountiful rain of grace and comfort, to cover them that go up to his house in Jerusalem; as elsewhere he is said to refresh his inheritance with the rain of liberalities strowed upon it, Psal. 68. 10. whereas on the contrary, who so will not go up to Jerusalem, to worship the King the Lord of hosts, upon them shall come no rain, Zach. 14. 17. The Greek turneth this sentence thus, the Lawgiver (or Teacher) shall give blessings; the original Moreh being ambiguous, sometime signifying a Teacher, Job 36. 22. sometime rain, Joel 2. 23. Isa. 30. 20. so that from the Hebrew it may also be interpreted, with blessings the teacher shall cover them; the meaning much like the former; the Teacher being God or Christ, in whom we are blessed with all spiritual blessings in heavenly things, Eph. 1. 3. The Chaldee expounds it, with blessings he will cover them that continue in the doctrine of his Law. Some understand bracoth, blessings, to be here as brecoth, pools digged and filled with rain. Both mean one thing.

Vers. 8. from power to power] that is, increasing their power (or strength) daily more and more; as the Apostle saith, we are changed into God's image, from glory to glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18. and God's justice is revealed from faith to faith, Rom. 1. 17. our faith and glory increasing more and more, Prov. 4. 18. Or from army to army, (from troupe to troupe) respecting the troupes of Israel, which went all the males thrice every year to appear before the Lord, Exod. 23. 14,—17. The Hebrew Chajil, power, is used sometime for an army of men, Psal. 33. 16. and sometime for riches, Psal. 49. 7. which also may be implied here. he shall appear] or, till he, that is, everyone of them appears; according to the law, Exod. 34. 23. Zach. 14. 16.

Vers. 10. of thine anointed] or Messiah, our Lord Christ, in whom God respecteth us; or David, his figure, and father in the flesh, called also God's anointed, 2 Sam. 23. 1.

Vers. 11. than a thousand] to wit, in any other place. sit at the threshold] that is, be in the lowest room and basest estate; as the Greek saith, be cast down, (or an abject) And by God's house may be meant his tabernacle; as Luk. 11. 51. with Mat. 23. 35. to remain] or abide my whole life long.

Vers. 12. is a Sun] or, will be a Sun, that is, a light, Isa. 60. 19. Rev. 21. 23. understanding hereby all blessings and comforts, by Christ the Sun of righteousness, Mal. 4. 2.

PSAL. LXXXV.

The Psalmist out of the experience of former mercies, prayeth for the continuance thereof. 9 He promiseth to wait thereon out of confidence of God's goodness.

To the master of the music, a Psalm to the sons of Korach.

THou hast been favorable to thy land, O Jehovah; thou hast returned the captivity of Jacob. Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin Selah. Thou hast gathered away all thine exceeding anger, thou hast turned from the fervency of thine anger. Turn thou us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine indignation against us to cease. Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger, to generation and generation? Wilt not thou turn and revive us, that thy people may rejoice in thee? Shew us, Jehovah, thy mercy, and give us thy salvation. I will hear what God Jehovah will speak, for he will speak peace unto his people, and unto his gracious Saints; and let them not return to inconstant folly. Surely his salvation is near to them that fear him, that glory may dwell in our land. Mercy and truth are met, justice and peace have kissed. Faithfulness springeth out of the earth, and justice looketh down from heaven. Also Jehovah will give the good, and our land shall give her fruit. Justice shall go before his face, and he will put her footsteps in the way.

Annotations.

TO the sons] or, of them. See Psal. 42. 1. [unspec 2]

Vers. 2. hast been favorable to] or, hast favourably accepted, been well pleased, to wit, in times past. This also respecteth the promise, Levite. 26. 42. captivity] that is, the company of captives, or prisoners; as Psal. 68. 19. See also Psal. 14. 7.

Vers. 4. gathered away] that is, withdrawn, ceased, or asswaged, as the Greek interpreteth it. So in Joel 2. 10. the stars gather away (that is, withdraw) their shining.

Vers. 5. Turn us] to our former estate. cause to cease] or dissipate; as Psal. 33. 10.

Vers. 6. wilt thou draw] that is, continue: see Ps. 36. 11.

Vers. 7. wilt not thou turn and revive] that is, again revive us. See Psal. 71. 20. The Greek saith, O God, thou turning wilt revive us. For halo, they read ha-all, the letters transplaced.

Vers. 8. Shew us] or, Let us see, that is, enjoy. S• Psal. 50. 23.

Vers. 9. the God] or, the Almighty, Ael. and let them not] or, that they turn not to folly, that is, to sin: see Psal. 125. 3. The Greek saith, and to them that turn the heart to him.

Vers. 10. that glory may dwell] or, glory shall dwell; meaning that glory of God, which we are destitute of by sin, Rom. 3. 23. shall be restored by grace in Christ, and God will dwell among men, and communicate with them his glory, Rev. 21. 3, 11. Isa. 60. 1. & they are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, as by the Spirit of the Lord, 2 Cor. 3. 18. Or, by glory is meant, Christ the salvation of God, who dwelt in our land, when the word was made flesh, and men saw the glory thereof as the glory of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, John. 1. 14.

Vers. 11. are met] that is, come together, which before seemed asunder; and they have mutual society; (so meeting importeth, Prov. 22. 2. Isa. 34. 14.) The truth of God's promises are in Christ fulfilled, Luke 1. 68, 69, &c. Act. 13. 32, 33. have kissed] as friends use when they meet, Exod. 4. 27. and 18. 7. a sign of concord, love and joy. So Christ is King of justice, and of peace, Heb. 7. 2. and the work of justice by him is peace, Isa. 32. 17. for, being justified by faith, men have peace towards God, Rom. 5. 1. Luke 2. 14.

Vers. 12. Faithfulness springeth] or, Truth buddeth out of the earth (or land) that is, the land bringeth forth faithful increase, answerable to God's blessings upon it. The land figuring the minds of men, Hebr. 6. 6, 7, 8. which by faith apprehend God's mercy in Christ. from heaven] the justice of God through faith, not our own justice, which is of the Law, Philip. 3. 9.

Vers. 13. the good] or good things, that is, the good gift of the holy Ghost, to sanctify his people, as Luk. 11. 13. compared with Matth. 7. 11. See also the Note on Psal. 65. 5. our land] our earthly nature sanctified, brings forth good fruits in Christ, Mat. 13. 23. See Psal. 67. 7.

Vers. 14. Justice shall go] or, He will cause justice to go before him. will put her footsteps] or, will set (her,) in the way of his footsteps: which seemeth to mean a settled course of walking in virtue. Or, when he shall put his footsteps into the way.

PSAL. LXXXVI.

David strengtheneth his prayer by the conscience of his religion, 5 by the goodness and power of God. 11 Her desireth the continuance of former grace. 14 Complaining of the proud, he craveth some token of God's goodness.

A Prayer of David. [unspec 1]

BOw down thine ear Jehovah, answer me, for I am poor, afflicted, and needy. Keep my soul, for I am merciful; thou my God save thy servant, that trusleth unto thee. Be gracious unto me, Jehovah, for unto thee do I call all the day. Rejoice the soul of thy servant, for unto thee Lord lift I up my soul. For thou Jehovah art good, and mercifully pardonest, and much of mercy to all that call upon thee. Give ear Jehovah to my prayer, and attend to the voice of my supplications for grace. In the day of my distress will I call unto thee, for thou wilt answer me. There is none like thee among the gods, O Lord, and none like thy works. All nations whom thou hast made, shall come and bow down themselves before thee, O Lord, & shall glorify thy Name. For great art thou, and dost marvelous things; thou art God thyself alone. Teach me, O Jehovah, thy way, I will walk in thy truth; unite my heart for to fear thy Name. I will confess thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart, and will glorify thy Name forever. For thy mercy is great toward me, and thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest hell. O God, the proud are risen up against me, and the assembly of violent men seek my soul, and they have not set thee before them. But thou Lord art a God, pitiful and gracious, long suffering, and much of mercy and truth. Turn the face unto me, and be gracious to me; give thy strength to thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid. Do with me a sign for good, and let my haters see and be abashed, because thou, Jehovah, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

Annotations.

A Prayer] the like title is of Psalms 17. To Christ may this Psalms fitly be applied.

Vers. 2. merciful] or, a gracious Saint, pious, holy. See Psal. 4. 4. This time God taketh to himself, Ier. 3. 12.

Vers. 4. Lift I up] See the Notes on Psal. 25. 1. The Chaldee saith, lift I up my soul in prayer.

Vers. 5. mercifully pardonest] or, art propitious, a forgiver: the Chaldee addeth, of them which turn to the Law. See Psal. 25. 11.

Vers. 8. among the gods] Though there be that are called God's, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be many gods, and many Lord's;) yet unto us there is but one God, &c. 1 Cor. 8. 5, 6. all the gods of the people's are idols, Psal. 96. 5. Or, by gods may be meant Angels, as the Chaldee here explaineth it, and the Princes of the world. and none] to wit, can do works like thine; or, no works are like thy works, Psal. 136. 4.

Vers. 11. Unite my heart] apply and knit it to thy fear only, and that with simplicity.

Vers. 13. hell] or grave, the state of death: see Ps. 16. 10.

Vers. 14. the proud] Compare this with Psalms 54. 5.

Vers. 15. pitiful] or, full of ruth, mercy, and tender love. When God's name was proclaimed before Moses, this title with other was in it, Exo. 34. 5, 6. long suffering] Hebr. long of nostrils, that is, of anger; long ere thou be angry. The nose and anger have one name in Hebrew: see Psalms. 2. 5.

Vers. 16. son of thine handmaid] that is, borne thy servant, of godly parents that were thy servitors. Of Christ, this also was true, the son of Mary the Virgin, the handmaid of the Lord, Luke. 1. 48. See the like speech, Psal. 116. 16.

Vers. 17. Do with me a sign] or, Shew it me: that is, So deal with me, in my deliverance and preservation, that I may have myself, and may be to others a sign, for good. Korah and his company were for a sign to the Israelites, Num. 16. 38. & 26. 10. Jonah a sign to the Ninevites, and Christ to the Jews, Luke 11. 30.

PSAL. LXXXVII.

The nature and glory of the Church. 4 The increase, honor and comfort of the members thereof.

To the sons of Korah, a Psalm, a Song.

His foundation among the mountains of holiness. Jehovah loveth the gates of Zion above all the dwelling places of Jacob. Glorious things spoken is of thee, O City of God Selah. I will make mention of Rahab and Babel, to them that know me; loe Palestine and Tyrus with Cush; this man was borne there. And of Zion it shall be said, man and man was borne in her, and he the most High shall establish her. Jehovah will recount when he writeth the people's; this man was borne there Selah. And singers, as players on flutes; all my well-springs in thee.

Annotations.

His foundation] or, The foundation thereof, God's ground-work of the Temple which was built upon the mountains, Morijah and Zion, 2 Chron. 3. 1. Ps. 2. 6. Some refer it to the Psalm, the foundation (or argument) whereof is of the Church of Christ. The Chaldee saith, By the hands of the sons of Korah the Psalm was said, and the Song founded in the mouth of the ancient fathers.

Vers. 2. gates of Zion] the public assemblies of the people: see the Notes on Psal. 9. 15. The Law was to come out of Zion, Mich. 4. 2. and the Scepter of Christ's Kingdom, Psal. 110. 2. dwelling places] these the Chaldee expoundeth, Synagogues of the house of Jacob, which were in all the Cities of Israel.

Vers. 3. spoken is] that is, are particularly spoken, all and every of them. of thee City of God] that is, Jerusalem: so called also, Psal. 46. 5. and 48. 2. a figure of the Church. What honorable things are spoken of this City, see Isa. 54. and 60. and 62. and 65. Rev. 21. and 22 chapters. The Hebrew phrase, in thee, is rightly turned according to the Greek, of thee, or concerning thee: which many times hath such signification, as Psal. 63. 7. and 71. 6. and 119. 46. 1 Sam. 19. 4. so also in the Greek, as Rom. 11. 2.

Vers. 4. Rahab] that is, as the Chaldee Paraphrast saith, the Egyptians. So Egypt is called Rahab, in Psal. 89. 11. Isa. 51. 9. either for the strength and pride of Egypt, (which the word Rahab signifieth;) or of some chief city so named; as elsewhere Tsoan, Psal. 78. 12. The calling of Egypt to the fellowship of the Church is also prophesied, Isa. 19. 19, 21, 25. And for I will mention, the Chaldee translatheth, the Egyptians and Babylonians, they shall mention thy praises. Babel] the Babylonians: see Psal. 137. 1. their chief city was Babel. Of a Christian Church there, mention is made, 1 Pet. 5. 13. to them] or, among them that know me, to wit, my familiars. Palestine] the Philistines: see Psal. 60. 10. Tyrus] the Tyrians: see Psal. 45. 13. Of them were Christian disciples, Acts 21. 3, 4. Cush] the Ethiopians, as the Greek translatheth; see Psal. 68. 32. this man] that is, (as the Greek saith) these men; meaning all before mentioned. So the Hebrew often speaketh of a whole nation, as of one man. See Psal. 25. 22. and 130. 8. But the Chaldee expoundeth it, where this kingdom is borne. was borne there] in the city of God, aforesaid. There, of immortal seed by the word and Spirit of God, are men borne anew, 1 Pet. 1. 23. I am. 1. 18. A thing to come is here set down as already done: so in Isa. 9. 6.

Vers. 5. man and man] so the Greek also expresseth the Hebraism. Hereby seemeth to be meant, every man, successively, as Hest. 1. 8. For Jerusalem is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. (So day and day, is every day, Hest. 3. 4. Psal. 61. 9.) Or, man and man, is many men, of this and that Nation, of each estate and degree. stablish her] that the gates of hell shall not prevail against her, Mat. 16. 18. Therefore this city lieth foursquare settled in all changes, Revel. 21. 16. Ezek. 48. 16,—20. It may also be read, and he will stablish her on high: and so the Chaldee expoundeth it; and Jerusalem is said to be above, Gal. 4. 26.

Vers. 6. writing the people's] in the writing of the house of Israel, that is, the Church, Ezek. 13. 9. Isa. 4. 3.

V. 7. And singers] or, And singing are, &c. This may have reference to the solemn worship of God used in the Church of Israel, where singers & players on instruments had in charge continually to laud the Lord, &c. 1 Chron. 9. 33. and 25. 1, 2, &c. and dances were used at their holy feasts, to honor him with▪ Judge. 21. 19, 21. So Christ the Lamb hath harpers with him on mount Zion, that sing as it were a new song before the throne, Rev. 14. 1, 2, 3. Or it may respect that which followeth, all my springs in thee (or of thee) are singing (that is, do sing) as also dance, (or as they that dance,) that is, show joyfulness. players on flutes] or, dancers, for so this word may also be taken for dancing, (to wit, at the sound of the flute or pipe;) as Judge. 21. 21. Compare herewith Isa. 30. 29. The Greek here turneth it, rejoycers; and it may foretell the joy that should be in the world for the conversion of the Gentiles. my well-springs] or fountains, (streams of water, as Psal. 104. 10) that is, all gifts and graces, which the Scripture noteth by lively fountains of waters, wherewith they are refreshed that serve God in his Temple day and night, Rev. 7. 15, 17. and wellsprings of salvation, Isa. 12. 3. And as Christ is called a fountain, so is his Church, Song 4. 15, 12. in thee] for now, unto principalities and powers in heavenly places, is known by the Church, the manifold wisdom of God, Eph. 3. 10. 1 Pet. 1. 12. Or we may read it, as before in the third verse, of thee all my springs do sing, &c.

PSAL. LXXX VIII.

A prayer containing a grievous complaint of manifold miseries.

A Song, a Psalm to the sons of Korach: to the master of the music, on Machalath leannoth; an instructing Psalm, of Heman the •zrachite.

O Jehovah, God of my salvation, by day I cry out, & in the night before thee. Let my prayer come before thee; bow thine ear to my shrill cry. For my soul is filled with evils, and my life draweth near to hell. I am counted with them that go down the pit; I am as a man that hath no strength. Among the dead, free like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou rememberest no more; and they are cut away from thine hand. Thou hast put me in the pit of the lowest places; in darkneses, in the deep places. Thy wrathful heat stayeth upon me; and with all thy billows thou afflictest me Selah. My known acquaintance thou hast put far away from me, hast see me for abominations to thē; I am shut up & cannot get out. Mine eye languisheth through mine affliction; I call on thee Jehovah, all the day; I spread out my hands unto thee.

Wilt thou do a miraculous work to the dead, or shall the deceased rise up, shall they confess thee Selah? Shall thy mercy be told in the grave, thy faithfulness in perdition? Shall thy miraculous work be known in the darkness, and thy justice in the land of oblivion? But I, unto thee Jehovah do I cry out, and in the morning my prayer shall prevent thee. Wherefore Jehovah, dost thou reject my soul; doest thou hide thy face from me? I am poor afflicted, and breathing out the ghost from my youth; I bear thine affrightings, I am doubtfully troubled. Thy wraths pass over me, thy terrors do dismay me. They compass me about as waters, all the day; they are gone about against me together. Thou hast put far away from me, lover & fellow friend, my known acquaintance are in darkness.

Annotations.

MAchalath] a kind of wind instrument; or, by interpretatiō, infirmity: see Ps. 53. 1. leannoth] or, to sing by turns, which is, when one part answereth another in singing; it may also be interpreted to afflict (or humble.) This Psalm is the most doleful of all the Bible, full of complaints even to the end. Heman the Aezrachite] so the next Psalm is entitled of Aethan the Ezrachite: there were two of this name, Heman and Aethan, sons of Zerach the son of Judah the Patriarch, ⟨◇⟩ Chron. 2. 4, 6. men renowned for their wisdom▪ 1. King. 4. 31. also Heman and Aethan, singers and musicians of the posterity of Levithe Patriarch, 1 Chr. 15. 17, 19. and 16. 42. Heman being son of Joel the son Samuel the Prophet, 1 Sam. 6. 33. himself being also a Seer or Prophet in King David's days, 1 Chron. 25. 5. And of the kingdom promised to David, doth Aethan entreat, Psal. 89. 4. &c. Christ's afflictions and kingdom are in these Psalms fore-told; he was the true David, Hos. 3. 5.

Vers. 4. draweth near] or toucheth hell, or the grave. So, to touch (or come near to) the gates of death, Psal. 107. 18.

Vers. 5. a man] Hebr. geber, that is, a strong man, but without ability or power to help myself; as the Greek saith, helpless.

Vers. 6 free] that is, acquitted, or discharged from the troubles and affairs of this life; for in death, the prisoners rest together, and the servant is free from his master, Job. 3. 18. 19. or free, that is, sequestered, apart from others; as King Azariah being leprous, dwelt in an house of freedom, that is, alone, apart from other men, 2 King. 15. 5. from thine hand] that is, from thy care, help, guidance, &c. as King Azariah before said, was cut off from the house of the Lord, 2 Chr. 26. 21. or by thine hand; and so understand from the land of the living, as Isa. 53. 8.

Vers. 7. pit of the lowest places] the nether most pit, as the Greek saith; w<sup>ch</sup> the Chaldee paraphraseth thus; in captivity, which is like to the nether pit. darknesses] or dark places: so Psal. 143. 3. deep places] or gulses: see Psal. 69. 3.

Vers. 8. stayeth] or, is imposed, and lieth hard. billows] breaking waves of the sea: see Psal. 42. 8.

Vers. 9. set me abominations] that is, made me most abominable (or loathsome,) to every of them. can not get out] so Lam. 3. 7. Job 19. 8. Of this phrase see the Note on Psal. 77. 5.

Vers. 10. languisheth] or pineth away; the Chaldee saith, droppeth tears. Compare herewith, Lev. 25. 16.

Vers. 11. the deceased] Hebr. Rephaim; dead men are so called, as being incurable or unrecoverable to life; so Isa. 14. 9 and 26. 14, 19. Prov. 2. 18. and 9. 18. and 21. 16. See also Psal. 6. 6. The Chaldee expoundeth, shall the bodies which are delivered to the dust rise up?

Vers. 12. perdition] Hebr. Abaddon, the grave where bodies perish, and seem to be lost. So Job 28. 22. and 26. 6.

Vers. 13. darkness] that is, the place and state of the dead, called the land of darkness, and shadow of death, Job 10. 21, 22. So Eccles. 6. 4. Note here the sundry titles given to the state of death. land of oblivion] where dead men are, (as is before noted;) which also are forgotten out of mind, Psal. 31. 13. Eccles. 8. 10. and 9. 5.

Vers. 16. breathing out the ghost] that is, ready to die, expiring, through continual miseries. The Greek saith, in labors from my youth. from the youth] or, for the shaking off, that is, the affliction. am doubtfully troubled] or distracted for fear lest evils should befall me.

Vers. 17. dismay] suppress, or cut me off. The Hebrew word is larger than usual, to increase the signification. The Greek turneth it trouble.

Vers. 19. my known acquaintance are in darkness] that is, withdraw and hide them from my sight; and (as Job complaineth,) are strangers unto me. See Job 19. 13, 14. Or as the Greek referreth it to the former, and my known friends (to wit, thou hast put far) from calamity; or for the calamity that is upon me. Or, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, and to my known friends, dark I am in their sight.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

The Psalmist praiseth God for his covenant, 6 for his wonderful power, 16 for the care of his Church, 20 and for his favor to the kingdom of David. 39 He complaineth of contrary events, 47 expostulateth, prayeth, and blesseth God.

An instructing Psalm, of Aethan the Aezrachite.

I Will sing the mercies of Jehovah for ever, to generation and generation will I make known thy faithfulness with my mouth. For I said, mercy shall be built up for ever; the heavens, thou wilt stablish thy faithfulness in them. I have stricken a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn to David my servant. I will stablish thy seed unto eternity; to generation and generation will I build up thy throne Selah. And the heavens shall confess thy marvelous work, Jehovah, also thy faithfulness in the Church of the Saints. For who in the sky may be compared to Jehovah, may be likened to Jehovah among the sons of the mighties? God is daunting terrible in the secret of the Saints, very much; & fearful over all round about him. Jehovah, God of hosts, who is like thee mighty Yah? and thy faithfulness is round about thee. Thou rulest over the swelling of the sea; when the waves there of rise high, thou stillest them. Thou hast beaten down Rahab as a wounded man, thou hast scattered thine enemies with the arm of thy strength. Thine are the heavens, thine also is the earth; the world and plenty thereof, thou hast founded thē. The North and the right side, thou createdst them; Tabor and Hermon, in thy name they shall shout. Thou hast an arm with might; strong is thy hand, exalted is thy right hand. Justice and judgment are the prepared place of thy throne; mercy and truth go before thy face. O blessed are the people that know the shouting sound; Jehovah, in the light of thy face they shall walk on. In thy name they shall be glad all the day, and in thy justice shall they be exalted. For thou art the glory of their strength; and in thy favorable acceptance, our horn shall be exalted. For of Jehovah is our shield, and of the holy one of Israel our King. Then spakest thou in a vision to thy gracious Saint, and saidst, I have put help upon a mighty one, I have exalted one chosen out of the people. I have found David my servant; with oil of mine holiness have I anointed him. With whom mine hand shall be established; also mine arm shall strengthen him. The enemy shall not exact upon him, & the son of injurious evil shall not afflict him. And his distressers I will beat down from his face, and them that hate him I will plague. And my faithfulness & my mercy shall be with him, & in my name shall his horn be exalted. And I will set his hand in the sea, & his right hand in the rivers. He shall call on me, my father thou; my God and Rock of my salvation. I also will give him to be the first borne, high above the kings of the earth. For ever will I keep for him my mercy, and my covenant shall be faithful to him. And his seed I will put to perpetuity, and his throne as the days of heavens. If his sons shall leave my law, and shall not walk in my judgments. If they shall profane my statutes, and not keep my commandments. Then will I visit their trespass with the rod, & their iniquity with stripes. But my mercy I will not make frustrate from with him, nor deal falsely against my faithfulness. I will not profane my covenant, and that which is goe out of my lips, I will not change. Once I have sworn by my holiness, if I lie unto David. His seed shall be forever, and his throne as the Sun before me. As the Moon it shall be stablished for ever, and a witness in the sky faithful Selah. But thou hast cast off and refused, hast been exceeding wroth with thine Anointed. Hast abolished the covenant of thy servant, hast profaned his crown to the earth. Hast burst down all his hedges, hast put his fortresses a ruin. All that pass by the way rob him, he is a reproach to his neighbors. Thou hast exalted the right hand of his distressers, hast rejoiced all his enemies. Also thou hast turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle. Thou hast made his brightness to cease, and his throne thou hast cast down to the earth. Thou hast shortened the days of his youth, hast enwrapped him with shame Selah.

How long Jehovah wilt thou hide thyself to perpetuity? shall thy hot wrath burn like the fire? Remember how transitory I am; unto what vanity thou hast created all the sons of Adam. What strong man shall live and not see death; shall deliver his soul from the hand of hell Selah?

Where be those thy former mercies, Lord, thou swarest to David by thy faithfulness?

Remember Lord the reproach of thy servants, that I bear in my bosom, of all great people's. Wherewith thine enemies, Jehovah, do reproach; wherewith they do reproach the footsteps of thine Anointed.

Blessed be Jehovah forever, Amen, and Amen. [unspec 53]

Annotations.

OF Aethan] see the Note on Psal. 88. 1.

V. 3. I said] to wit, by thy spirit, therefore the Greek changeth the person, and translateth, thou (Lord) saidest. built up] that is, conserved, propagated, increased continually. in them] or with them, that so long as the heavens endure, thy faithfulness shall continue; as verse. 30. 37, 38. Ps. 72. 5. and 119. 89. or by heavens may spiritually be meant the Church, called often heaven, and the kingdom of heaven, Esa. 66. 22. Revel. 4. 1, 2. and 12. 1. and 15. 1. Math. 3. 2. and 13. 24 31. and the planting of the Church is called the planting of the heavens, Esa. 51. 16.

Vers. 4. my chosen] mine elect people. Therefore the Greek changeth the number, my chosen ones: but the Chaldee translateth, with Abraham my chosen. David] the figure and father of Christ, according to the flesh; who also is called David, Ezek. 34. 23. Ier. 30. 9. Hos. 3. 5. of him is this and other Psalms chiefly to be understood, Act. 2. 30. and 13. 36 &c.

Vers. 5. thy seed] Christ and Christians, the children of Christ, the Son of David, Heb. 2. 13. Rev. 22. 16. thy throne] the kingdom of Christ, unto whom God gave the throne of his father David, to reign over the house of Jacob forever, Luke. 1. 32, 33. 69. Jerusalem is this throne, Ier. 3. 17. which is continually built of God, Psal. 147. 2.

Vers. 6. the heavens] the heavenly creatures, Angels and godly men, Luk. 2. 13, 14. Phil. 3. 20. Rev. 7. 9, 10, 11, 12. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the Angels of heaven. See also Ps. 50. 6. in the church] or in the congregation, to wit, shall be confessed, or celebrated.

Vers. 7. sons of the mighties] or of the God's, that is, Princes of the world. See Psal. 29. 1. and 82. 1. 6. The Greek saith, sons of God, whereby also Angels may be meant, as Job 1. 6. and so the Chaldee here paraphraseth.

Vers. 8. daunting terrible] in Greek, glorified. See Psa. 10. 18. the secret] or mystery, or (as the Greek turneth it) council: meaning the Church or Congregation, where the secrets or mysteries of God's kingdom are manifested, Mat. 13. 11. Rom. 16. 25. 1 Cor. 4. 1. Eph. 3. 4. This word is sundry times used for a Council or Congregation, Ps. 111. 1. Ezek. 13. 9. Ier. 6. 11. and 15. 17. or it may here be understood of the company of Angels, as 1 King. 22. 19. very much] to wit, terrible, or, referring it to the latter, in the great secret council. over all] or, above all; see Psal. 76. 12. The Chaldee paraphraseth, above all the Angels which stand round about him.

Vers. 11. Rahab] in Greek, the proud; hereby may be meant the Egyptians, as Psal. 87. 4. (and so the Chaldee expounds it of Pharaoh the wicked;) or, the proud sea, as Job 26. 12. both were subdued when Israel came out of Egypt, Exod. 14. and 15. See Isa. 51. 9. The raging sea, and swelling waters, do also signify wicked enemies of God and his people, Isaiah. 57. 20. Jude 13. Psal. 124. 4, 5. thine] or, to thee the earth, to wit, belongeth. See Psal. 24. 1, 2.

Vers. 13. The North] w<sup>ch</sup> God hath stretched out over the empty place, Job 26. 7. the right side] that is, the South (as the Chaldee Paraphrast explaineth,) so called because a man standing with his face to the East, (as they were wont when they prayed, the South is on his right hand. So the East is called Kedem, before; and the West achor, that is, behind, John. 23. 8. Isaiah. 9. 12. It seemeth that this turned to superstition and idolatry, that men prayed towards the East; therefore God so ordered his Tabernacle and Temple, that all worshipped there with their faces to the West, Ezek. 8. 16. Exo. 27. Num. 3. Tabor] a goodly mountain in Galilee, Ios. 19. 22. Judge. 4 6, 12. Hermon] another fair mountain eastward without Iarden, called also Shirion: See Psal. 42. 7. and 29. 6. by these are meant the East and West parts, answerable to the former North and South: as the Chaldee Paraphrast saith, Tabor in the West, and Chermon that is in the East.

Vers. 15. the prepared place] establishment, or base, on which the throne is settled; so the word sometime signifieth, as Ezra 3. 3. Psal. 104. 5. So Psal. 97. 2. go before] or come before, prevent, as pressed and ready at hand.

Vers. 16. the shouting sound] or the alarm, the shrill clanging sound of the trumpet, which was blown at the wars, journeys, assemblies, solemn feasts, and over the sacrifices of Israel, Psal. 81. 4. and 27. 6. Numb. 10. 3, 9, 10. Joel, 2. 1, 15. or the shouting, the jubilation, to wit, of the King that is among his people, as Numb. 23. 21. who by the sound of his word, as of a trumpet, warneth, informeth and guideth his people, Isa. 58. 1. Ezek. 33. 3,—7, 8. Hos. 8. 1. Ier. 6. 17. 2 Chron. 13. 12. 15. Zach. 9. 14. Revel. 1. 10. and 4. 1. light of thy face] the favor of God shining in the Gospel, and light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ, John. 12. 35. 2 Cor. 4. 6. See also the notes on Psal. 4. 7. and 44. 4.

Vers. 18. the glory] or beauty, by whom they conquer and triumph over their enemies. our horn] a sign of honor, strength, kingdom, glory and salvation, Psal. 112. 9. and 92. 11. and 148. 14. 1 Chron. 25. 5. Luke. 1. 69. So after, in verse. 25.

Vers. 19. of Jehovah] or to him, to wit, pertaineth. our shield] that is, our protection, or protector, meaning David and Christ: See Psal. 47. 10.

Vers. 20. in a vision] by the spirit of prophesy, Isa. 1. 1. Lam. 2. 9. to thy gracious Saint] that is, Saints, (for so the Greek changeth the number,) meaning the Prophets Samuel and Nath 〈...〉, the one of which anointed David, the other fore-told of the perpetuity of his kingdom, 1. Sam. 16. 2 Sam. 7. 4, 5, &c. put help] the Chaldee addeth, for my people. upon a mighty one] or a Worthy, a Champion, meaning David, who help God's people in fighting the battles of the Lord,

1 Sam. 18, 13, 14. 30. But chiefly these things are meant of Christ. The Chaldee expoundeth it, one mighty in the Law. chosen] and consequently beloved, as Mat. 1•. 18. from Isaiah 42. 1.

Vers. 21. oil of mine holiness] that is, mine holy oil, poured on David by Samuel, on Christ by the Holy Ghost, 1 Sam. 16. 1, 13. Luke 4. 18, 21. John. 3. 34.

Vers. 23. the enemy shall not exact] or not seize, at a creditour doth on the debtor. Satan and death prevailed not against Christ, though he became surety for our debts, John. 14. 30. 1 Cor. 15. 26. Heb. 2. 14. See this word, Psal. 55. 16. son of injurious evil] that is, the injurious, wicked person: this promise is in 2 Sam. 7. 10. applied in this phrase to all God's people. A son of evil is one addicted and given over to it, Deut. 13. 13. So sons of death, Psal. 79. 11. son of perdition, 2 Thess. 2. 3.

Vers. 26. set his ha•d] that is, give him power and dominion over them that dwell by the sea and rivers; whereof see the notes on Psal. 72.

Vers. 27. my father] so God promised, I will be his father, and he shall be my son, 2 Sam. 7. 14. The Apostle applieth this to Christ, and proveth hereby that he is greater than the Angels, Heb. 1. 4, 5.

Vers. 28. first-borne] or first-begotten, that is, the principal, as is after explained. For the first-borne had three prerogatives, a double portion of goods, Deut. 21. 17. the government or chieftly, 2 Chron. 21. 3. and the priesthood, Numb. 8. 14, 15, 16, 17. Mal. 2. 5, 6, 7. and 3. 3. See the notes on Psal. 78 51. This honor is peculiar to Christ, who is said to be the first-borne of every creature, and the first-borne of the dead, that in all things he might have the preeminence, Coloss. 2. 15, 18. to be worshipped therefore of all the Angels of God, Heb. 1. 6. and Prince of the Kings of the earth, Rev. 1. 5. The Chaldee addeth, the first-borne of the Kings of the house of Judah.

Vers. 30. his seed] Christians borne of God, are called Christ's seed and children, Isa. 53. 10. Heb. 2. 13. and Christ is called the Everlasting Father, Isa. 9. 6. his throne] that is, kingdom, which shall be perpetual, 2 Sam. 7. 13. Heb. 1. 8. Dan. 2. 44. and 7. 14. The accomplishment of these promises cannot be found in Solomon, whose seed & throne was overthrown, Ier. 22. 30. Ezek. 21. 25, 26, 27.

Vers. 31. If his sons &c.] This explaineth the promise, If he sin &c. 2 Sam. 7. 14, 15. for being understood of Christ, he properly sinned not, 1 Pet. 2. 22. but was made sin for us, 2 Cor. 5. 21. and the sins of his sons or people are counted his, for God laid on him the iniquity of us all, Isa. 53. 6.

Vers. 33. with the rod] the rod of men, 2 Sam. 7. 14. that is, with moderate correction; and for their profit, that they may be partakers of my holiness, Hebr. 12. 6. 10.

Vers. 34. not make frustrate] not break off, or cease, (as Psal. 85. 5.) that is, not utterly take: for, the mountains shall sooner remove, Isa. 54. 10. and no afflictions can separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord, Rom. 8. 35,—39. See the fulfilling of this touching David, in 1 King. 11. 6, 12, 13, 36, 39.

Vers. 36. Once] or One time: See Psal. 62. 12. by my holiness] by myself, who am the holy God, Gen. 22. 16. Isaiah 5. 16. Because he hath no greater to swear by, God sweareth by himself; and willing more abundantly to show the heirs of promise the stablesse of his counsel, bindeth himself with an oath, Hebr. 6. 13, 17, 18. if I lie] that is, surely I will not lie: for so the Hebrew phrase is sometime explained, as Mark. 8. 12. if a sign be given to this generation, for which in Matth. 16. 4. is written, a sign shall not be given. So, if they shall enter into my rest, Psal. 95. 11. Heb. 3. 11. which the Apostle openeth thus, he sware that they should not enter, Hebr. 3. 18. An oath usually implieth an imprecation, which for the most part is concealed. See 1 Sam. 14. 44. 1 King. 20. 10.

Vers. 37. as the Sun] that is perpe••all and glorious (as the Chaldee explaineth it, shall shine as the Sun.) See Psal. 72. 5.

Vers. 38. it shall be sta•lished] or, which is stable, referring it (as doth the Greek,) to the Moon, which although it sometime wexeth and sometime waneth, and seemeth to be gone, yet is continually renewed, and so stable; a fit resemblance of the throne or Church of Christ, which hath not always one face or appearance in the world, though it be perpetuall▪ and a witness] the Moon and perpetuity of it, with the successive course of night and day, is made a witness of God's faithfulness in his covenant, Ierem. 33. 20, 21. Christ also himself is called a faithful witness, Rev. 1. 5. Isaiah 55. 4. and faithful meaneth Stedfast▪ as 2 Sam. 7. 16. compared with 1 Chron. 17. 14. and that lieth not, Prov. 14. 5.

Vers. 39. But thou] or, And thou, a word of grie•e and indignation, as Psal. 2. 6. ••tha• complaineth of the miseries of the Church, whereby all the former promises seem to be frustrated.

Vers. 40. his crown] or diademe, profaned by casting to the ground. Nezer, a separation, is figuratively used for a crown or garland, such as Kings wore, 2 Sam. 1. 10. and high Priests, Exod. 29. 6. as being a sign of their separation from others, in respect of some dignity or holiness; and hereof the Nazarites had their name, Numb. 6. 2▪ 5, 7. So Psal. 132. 18▪

Vers. 42. rob] or rifle him, meaning Christ in his members: for that which is done to any one of them, is done unto him, Act. 9. 4. Mat. 25. 40, 45.

Vers. 4•. his brightness] or puriti•, that is, the splendent glory and dignity of the kingdom, defiled and profaned by the enemies.

Vers. 46. days of his youth] of his strength and vigor, hastening old age and misery upon him, Hos. 7. 9. See the contrary, Psal. 103. 5. Io•• 〈◇〉 . 25.

Vers. 48. how transitory] or, of what worldly time, of what short durance: See Psal. 39. 6. the Greek turneth it, what my substance is. Compare herewith▪ John 10. 9▪ 1•, &c.

Vers. 49. see death] that is, die, So Luke 2. 26. Psal. 16. 10. The Chaldee saith, see the Angel of death. the hand of hell] the power of the grave, or of death: See Psal. 49. 16. 10.

Vers. 51. of all great people's] or, of all the many (the multitudes of) people's.

Vers. 52. the foot-steps] or foot-soles, that is, the ways, life, actions▪ and sufferings, Psal. 56. 7. and 49. 6. This referred to Christ, respecteth the oracle, Gen▪ 3. 15. that the Serpent should bruise the foot-sole of the woman's seed. Referred to Christians▪ which follow his foot-steps, in suffering and dying with him, that we may be glorified with him, (1▪ Pet. 2. 21. Rom. 8. 17.) it noteth the scandal of the cross of Christ to the Jews a stumbling block, and to the Greeks foolishness▪ 1 Cor. 1. 23. 1 Pet. 4. 13, 14. The Chaldee understands it of the sacknesse of the foot-steps.

Vers. 53. Blessed be] These be words of faith and joy, as finding an issue out of the temptation, and rejoicing in the midst of tribulation, as Rom. 7. 24, 25. 2 Cor. 1. 3, 4, &c. and Amen] Thus is this third Book of the Psalms also concluded. See the notes on Psal. 41. 14. and 72. 19.

The fourth Book.

PSAL. XC.

Moses setting forth God's providence, 3 complaineth of human fragility; 7 divine chastisements, 10 and brevity of life. 12 He prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of God's good providence.

A prayer of Moses the man of God. [unspec 1]

LOrd, thou hast been to us an habitation in generation and generation.

Before the mountains were borne, and thou hadst brought forth the earth and the world; even from eternity unto eternity thou art God. Thou turnest sory man unto contrition; and sayest, return ye sons of Adam. For a thousand years, in thine eyes, are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. Thou carriest them away with a flood, they are as a sleep in the morning, as the grass that is changed. In the morning it flourisheth and is changed; at the evening it is cut down and witheth.

For we are consumed in thine anger, and in thy wrathful heat we are suddenly troubled. Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our hidden sins to the light of thy face.

For all our days do turn away in thine exceeding wrath; we have consumed our years as a thought. The days of our years, in them are threescore and ten years; and if they be in strengths, fourscore years; and their pride is molestation and painful iniquity; for it is cut down speedily, and we fly away. Who knoweth the strength of thine anger, and according to thy fear, thine exceeding wrath? To number our days, so make thou us to know, that we may apply the heart to wildome. Return, Jehovah, how long! and let it repent thee concerning thy servants. Satisfie us in the morning with thy mercy, that we may shout and rejoice in all our days. Make thou us rejoice, according to the days thou hast afflicted us, the years wherein we have seen evil. Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy comely honor into their sons. And let the pleasantness of Jehovah our God be upon us, and the work of our hands establish thou upon us; yea the work of our hands, establish thou it.

Annotations.

The man of God] that is, the Prophet, as Deut. 33. 1. For a Prophet, a Seer, and a man of God, were all one, 1 Sam. 9. 6, 8, 9, 10, 11. The Chaldee Paraphrast showeth it here, saying, A Prayer that Moses the Prophet of the Lord prayed, when the people of the house of Israel had sinned in the wilderness. This Psalm hath reference to that history in Numb. 14. an habitation] or mansion, in all our travels in this terrible wilderness, Exod. 33. 14. Deut. 8. 15. and 33. 27.

Vers. 2. were borne] this and the next word, brought forth, are similitudes taken from procreation of children, to signify the creation of the world. Like speeches are in Job. 38. 28, 29. of the rain, dew, ice, and frost.

Vers. 3. unto contrition] till he be contrite, or broken, that is, even to death; as the Chaldee explaineth it, Thou turnest man for his sin unto death. return] the body to the earth, Psal. 146. 4. and the spirit to God, Eccles. 12. 7.

Vers. 4. a watch] a ward or custody, which is about three hours space: for the Jews divided the day into twelve hours, John. 11. 9. and so the night, which they subdivided into four watches, Matt. 14. 15. named the evening midnight, cock-crowing▪ and dawning, Mark. 13. 35. Luke▪ 12. 38, 39. Mat. 24. 43. See also Exod. 14. 24. 1 Sam. 11. 11.

Vers. 5. a sleep] the Chaldee paraphraseth, If they turn not, thou wilt bring death upon them, which is like a sleep unto them, and in the world to come they shall be changed, as the grass which is cut down.

Vers. 6. is changed] or changeth, to wit, the estate thereof, that is, sprouteth or groweth, as the Chaldee explaineth it. And so the Hebrew (which generally signifieth a change, passage, or shifting,) is sometime used for the better, to sprout, John. 14. 7▪ So to change the strength, Isaiah 40▪ 31. is to renew▪ increase it.

Vers. 8. our hidden sins] or, sins of our youth▪ as the Chaldee here taketh it. The Hebrew word will bear both; so also the sense, for we have both secret sins, Psal. 19. 13. and sins of our youth, Psal. 25. 7. which God often punisheth us for, John. 20. 11. to the light of thy face] that is, knowing, remembering, manifesting, and punishing them, Ier. 16. 7▪ 109. 14. 15. For the Lord lightneth things that are •i• in darkness, and maketh the counsell of the heart manifest, 1 Cor. 4. 5. he is of pure eyes, and cannot s••evil, H•b. 1. 13. therefore David prayeth, hide thy face from my sins▪ Psal. 5•. 1•.

Vers. 9. do turn away] or, turn the face, decline, as the day drawing to an •nd▪ 〈ϕ〉 . 〈ϕ〉 . 4. 〈ϕ〉 〈ϕ〉 as a thought] or 〈…〉 word, a sound that passeth out of the mouth, as I•b 37. 〈ϕ〉 . as a ta•e that i• told, for man's life is a breath or ••pour▪ Psal. 39. 6. 〈…〉 . 4. 14. and so the Chaldee translateth it, as the breath of the mouth in winter. Moses bewaileth the decaying of the people in the wilderness, for they came out of Egypt six hundred thousand men, Exod. 12. 37. and not one feeble among them, Psalm. 105. 37. and being mustered at mount Sina, from twenty years old and above, they were 603 550. men, besides the tribe of Levi, Numb. 1. 46, 47. but for their sin, at Kadesh God sware their carcasses should fall in the wilderness, Numb. 14. 28, 29. which came so to pass. For being •ustered about 38. years after, there was of all that army not left a man alive, save Caleb and Josua, Numb. 26. 63, 64, 65.

Vers. 10. if they] (the years) be in str•ngths, that is, most strong and valid; or, if by reason of great strength. their pride] or prowess, that is, the excellency, or lustihead of those years, the bravest of them is but misery. painful iniquity] pain and misery, the punishment of sin. Iniquity is often put for the punishment of it, Psal. 32. 5.

Vers. 11. according to thy fear] or, as thy fear, that is, who knoweth (or acknowledgeth) thy wrath, so as thy fear teacheth men to do? meaning by fear, either God's law, as Psal. 19. 10. or his fearful judgments upon sinners, which should strike a fear into men's hearts, De••. 13. 11. Psal•. 119. 120. Ion. 1. 16. Or, as thy fear, that is, so as to fear thee for thy wrath, and by it to depart from evil▪ as Prov. 16. 6. 2 Co•• 5. 10, 11. or, even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath. The Chaldee paraphraseth, who knoweth to turn away the strength of thy anger; but the just which fear thee, appeasing thy wrath.

Vers. 12. may apply] or, may bring, may make come. to wisdom] or, may get a heart of wisdom, that is, a wise hear; and so may bring it to thee, when we shall come to judgment.

Vers. 13. how long?] wilt thou afflict us? as the Chaldee paraphraseth; or, wilt thou defer to help us? See Psal• 6. 4. repent thee] to wit, of the evil▪ intended or inflicted upon thy servants, as Deut. 32. 36. I•e• 2. 13. Ion. 3. 10. Ier. 18. 8.

Vers. 14. in the morning] that is, early▪ after the dark night of afflictions; see Psal•m. 5▪ 4. and 30. 6.

Vers. 15. the years &c] that is, as we have been many days and years afflicted, so let us have many years of comfort.

Vers. 16. thy comely honor] or magnificence, in releasing us from trouble, and refreshing us with mercy.

Vers. 17. the pleasantness] or beauty, that is, the accomplishness of th• co•enant and promise to our fathers, let now be seen upon us. So the staff beauty (or pleasantness) in the Lord's hand, signified his cove•n• with them, Z•ch. 11. 7. 10. or generally it 〈◊◊〉 God's •••ble grate and favor: See 〈◊〉 . 27. 4. The Ch•ldee exp•unds it, the pleasantness of Paradise. stablish] or direct▪ 〈◊〉 and ••re. For the Lord worketh all our actions f 〈...〉 Isaiah 26. 12. and without him we can do nothing, Job. 15. 5.

PSAL. XCI.

The state of the godly. 3 Their safety. 9 Their habitation. 11 Their keepers. 14 Their friend, with the effects of them all.

HEe that sitteth in the secret of the most high, shall lodge himself in the shadow of the Almighty. I will say, of Jehovah, my safe hope & my fortress, my God, in him will I trust: For he will deliver thee from the snare of the Fowler, from the woeful pestilence. He will cover thee with his wing, & under his feathers thou shalt hope for safety; his truth shall be a buckler and a shield. Thou shalt not fear for the dread of the night, for the arrow that flieth by day. [unspec 5]

For the pestilence that walketh in the darkness; for the stinging plague that wasteth at noon-day. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; unto thee it shall not come near. Only, with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and shalt see the reward of the wicked. Because thou Jehovah my safe hope, the most high, thou hast put for thy mansion. There shall not befall unto thee any evil, and the plague shall not come nigh thy tent. For his Angels will he command for thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

Upon their hands shall they bear thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. Thou shalt tread upon the fierce Lion & the Asp, thou shalt tread down the lurking Lion and the Dragon. Because he cleaveth unto me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he knoweth my name. He shall call on me, and I will answer him; with him will I be in distress; I will release him, and will honor him. With length of days will I satisfy him, and will make him to see my salvation.

Annotations.

SEcret] in Greek, help. shall lodge] or, that lodgeth, (ϕ) . shadow] that is, defense, as Numb. 14. 9. So the Greek saith, protection; the Chaldee addeth, shadow of the clouds of the glory of the A (… ) ghtie.

Vers. 2. I will ay] or, do say, namely, to th (… ) man for his further co••ort and assurance; as verse. 3, &c. o, in his na••, p••ting myself for an example. The Greek for more plainness changeth the person, thus; He shall say to the Lord, thou art mine helper▪ &c. The Chaldee addeth, David said, I will say, &c. of Jehovah] or, to him, that he is my safe hope, (or my shelter.)

Vers. 3. of the fowler,] as Psal. 124. 7. or hunter, meaning the devil that hath the power of death, and seeketh to destroy, Heb. 2. 14. 1 Pet. 5. 8. the woeful pestilence] Hebr. the pest of woeful evils, that is, the most woeful, noisome and contagious pest.

Vers. 5. the dread of the night] the dreadful evil that terrifieth in the night, Prov. 3. 25. Song 3. 8. arrow] so the pestilence is called, Deut. 32. Ezek. 5. 16. The Chaldee calleth it, the arrow of the Angel of death.

Vers. 6. the stinging plague] the murreine (or pest) that suddenly pricketh and destroyeth, Deut. 32. 24. The Apostle in Greek calleth it a sting or prick, 1 Cor. 15. 55. from Hos. 13. 14. as there the Lxx. turned it. The Chaldee here expounds it, the company of Devils. at noon-day] that is, openly: So Ier. 15. 8.

Vers. 8. shalt thou behold] or, regard, consider, as the Greek turneth it.

Vers. 9. Because thou Jehovah] an imperfect speech, as in verse. 2. understand, Because thou sayest, thou Jehovah art &c. or, because thou hast put Jehovah who is my covert: even the most high hast thou put for thy mansion, or dwelling place.

Vers. 10. befall unto thee] or occasionally be sent, be thrust upon thee, or caused to come unto thee: so Prov. 12. 21.

Vers. 12. upon their hands] or, their palms; which the Chaldee expoundeth, their strength. This Scripture the Devil alleged, when he tempted Christ to throw down himself head-long, Matt. 4. 6. Luke 4. 10, 11. but some of these words are there omitted. lest thou dash] or, that thou dash (or hurt) not. The Angels are all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for their sakes which shall be heirs of salvation, Heb. 1. 14. See also Psal. 34. 8. a stone] the Chaldee interprets it, evil concupiscence, which is like unto a stone.

Vers. 13. the fierce Lion] or Libbard, in Hebrew Shachal. Of Lions there be divers kinds; see Psal. 7. 3. asp] or, Cockatrice, Basilisk, as the Greek Here turneth it: See Psal. 58. 5. under these names are meant all other things dangerous, or adverse to the life of man, which by faith are overcome; as Mark. 16. 17, 18. Heb. 11. 33, 34.

Vers. 14. He cleaveth to me] or, is fastened, that is, affected to me, in faith, hope, love, delight, &c. The Chaldee expounds it, to my word. God cleaveth in love to his people, Deut. 7. 7. so they also unto him: The Greek here turneth it, he hoped in me. Else-where it is commonly used for fast-love and pleasure, Gen. 34. 8. Isaiah 38. 17. Deut. 21. 11. se• him on high] to wit, in a safe defended place, as the word importeth: therefore the Greek saith, I will protect him. See the notes on Psal. 20. 2.

Vers. 15. honor him] give him honor, or glory: Else-where his people are said to honor or glorify him, Psal. 50. 15. See 1 Sam. 2. 30.

Vers. 16. satisfy] or give him his fill. So Abraham, Is•ak, David, Job, &c. are said to be full or sa (ϕ) with (ϕ) , Gen. 25. 8. and 35. 29. 1 Chron. •3. (ϕ) . Job 42. 17. make him to see] that is, to enjoy, or show him: See Psal. 50. 23.

PSAL. XCII.

The Prophet teacheth how good it is to praise God, 5. for his great works, 7 for his judgments on the wicked, 11 and for his goodness to the godly.

A Psalm, a song for the day of Sabbath. [unspec 1]

IT is good to confess to Jehovah, and to sing Psalm to thy Name, O most high.

To show forth thy mercy in the morning, and thy faithfulness in the nights. Upon the ten-stringed instrument, and upon the Psaltery, with meditation upon the Harp.

For thou hast rejoiced me, O Jehovah, with thy work; in the acts of thy hands will I shout. How great are thine acts, Jehovah! very deep are thy thoughts. A brutish man knoweth not, and an inconstant fool understandeth not this. When wicked men spring up as the grass, and all that work iniquity do flourish; that they shall be abolished unto perpetuity. But thou art high forever, Jehovah. For loe thine enemies, Jehovah; for loe thine enemies shall perish: they shall be scattered, all that work iniquity. And my horn shall be exalted as the Unicorns; mine old age shall be anointed with fresh oil. And mine eye shall behold on mine enviers; of evil doers that rise up against me, mine ears shall hear. The just, he shall spring up as a Palme-tree, as a Cedar in Lebanon shall he grow. They that are planted in the house of Jehovah, in the courts of our God shall they flourish. Yet shall they sprout in grainesse: they shall be fat and green. To show that Jehovah is righteous; my Rock, and no injurious evil is in him.

Annotations.

OF Sabbath] that is, of Cessation, or Resting, to wit, from our own works, wills, ways, and words, Exod. 20. 10. Isaiah 58. 13. Heb. 4. 10. which day was the seventh from the creation, wherein God rested from all his work, and blessed and sanctified it, and commanded it to be kept holy unto him, Gen. 2. 2, 3. Exod. 20. 8. which was a token of his mercy unto, and sanctification of his people, Nehem. 9. 14. Exod. 31. 13, 14. This day was sanctified by an holy convocation or assembly of the people, Levite. 23. 3. offering of sacrifices, Numb. 28. 9, 10. singing of Psalms, as this title showeth, with 2 Chron. 29. 26, 27. reading and expounding the Scriptures, Act. 13. 15. and 15. 21. praying, Act. 16. 13. disputing, conferring, meditating of God's word and works, Act. 17. 2. and 18. 4. and doing works of mercy to them that were in need, Matth. 12. 2,—7, 8, 11, 12. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, An hymn, a song which the first man Adam said for the Sabbath day.

Vers. 3. in the nights] see Psal. 134. 1. [unspec 4]

Vers. 4. with meditation] or meditated song, or upon Higgajon with the harp. The word signifieth meditation, as Psal. 9. 17. Here some think it to be the name of an instrument, or a solemn sound: the Greek turneth it a song.

Vers. 5. with thy work] which is all done well and perfectly, Gen. 1. 31. and 2. 2, 3. Deut. 32. 4.

Vers. 10. shall be scattered] or shall dispart themselves: The Chaldee Paraphrast saith, shall be separated from the congregation of the just in the world to come.

Vers. 11. shall be exalted] or, thou wilt exalt as the Unicorns, therewith to smite mine enemies, as Deut. 33. 17. The horn signifieth kingdom, and strength, and glory: and the Chaldee here translateth it strength. See Psal. 75. 5, 11. Psal. 22. 22. mine old age] so also the Greek translateth it: or, when I am old. After which seemeth to be understood, shall be anointed (or, as before, shall be exalted) with oil. Oftentimes words are not expressed, which are understood; as is observed on Psal. 69. 11. and 18. 7, 29. Others, for mine old age, do turn it, I shall be anointed. fresh] or, green oil.

Vers. 12. mine eye shall view] to wit, evil, or destruction, as the Chaldee explaineth, or the reward of my foes. See Psal. 54. 9. and 91. 8. shall hear] the Chaldee addeth, the voice of their breakings.

Vers. 13. palm-tree] or date-tree, which groweth not in these cold parts: it is a tree of tall and upright stature, whereto the Scripture hath reference, Song 7. 7. the branches fair and green, wherewith they made booties at their solemn feasts, Levite. 23. 40. the fruit pleasant to eat, Song 7. 8. Exod. 15. 27. This tree, though loaden and pressed, yet endureth and prospereth; therefore the branches carried in the hand, or worn in garlands, were signs of victory, Revel.

7. 9. With such graven trees, the walls of God's house, and other holy things were beautified, 1 King. 6. 29. and 7. 36. figures of the flourishing estate of the godly always, as this Psalm showeth, with Ezek. 40. 16, 26, 31. and 41. 18, 19, 20. whereas the wicked's prosperity is momentary as grass, verse. 8. a Cedar] see the note on Psal. 29. 5.

V. 15. sprout] or grow, waxing in stature and fruitfulness, through the blessing of God, in whose house they are planted, 1 Cor. 3. 6. Unto this are all God's people exhorted, Ephes. 4. 15, 16. Colos. 1. 10. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Yet, as their fathers shall they procreate children. in grainesse] or hoary age, when natural strength decayeth; God ministereth vigor above nature. See Psal. 71. 9. 18. Isaiah 65. 22. Heb. 11. 11, 12.

Vers. 16. no injurious evil] no manner of injustice, for the Hebrew hath a letter more than ordinary, to increase the signification, as Psalm. 3. 3. and 125. 3. And this respecteth Moses speech, Deut. 32. 4: where injurious evil is opposed to God's faithfulness in his administration.

PSAL. XCIII.

The Majesty, power and holiness of Christ's kingdom.

Jehovah reigneth, is clothed with high majesty; clothed is Jehovah, hath girded himself with strength: the world also is established, it shall not be moved. Stable is thy throne from then; thou art from eternity. The floods have lifted up, O Jehovah, the floods have lifted up their voice, the floods lift up their dashing noise. Than the voices of many waters, the wondrous strong billows of the sea; more wondrous strong is Jehovah in the high place. Thy testimonies are very faithful; holiness becometh thine house, Jehovah, to length of days.

Annotations.

IS clothed] or hath put on, to wit, as an ornament, and in abundant measure: for so clothing doth signify, Psalm. 65. 14. girded himself] that is in a readiness to perform his work, Isaiah 8. 9. Luke 12. 35.

Vers. 2. from then] that is, from the time that thou hast been; which is, from eternity: Or, before then; which the Chaldee expoundeth, the beginning: this phrase spoken of God or Christ, meaneth eternity, Prov. 8. 22. in respect of the creatures, it is the beginning of time, Isaiah 44. 8.

Vers. 3. The floods] these are often put for the tumultuous rage and tyranny of people's, Psal. 65. 8. and 18. 5. Isaiah. 17. 12, 13. but here the Chaldee explaineth it of their lifting up their voice with song.

Vers. 4. wondrous strong] excellent, or magnificent billows: this phrase is taken from Exod. 15. 10. See also this word, Psalm. 8. 2. the high place] or height, that is, heaven. So Psal. 71. 19.

Vers. 5. faithful] or, made sure, constant, See the note on Psal. 19. 8. to length of days] that is, forever. See Psal. 21. 5. and 23. 6.

PSAL. XCIV.

The Prophet calling for justice, complaineth of tyranny and impiety. 8. He teacheth God's providence. 12 He showeth the blessedness of chastisements. 16 God is the defender of the afflicted.

O God of vengeance, Jehovah; O God of vengeance, shine thou clearly. Be thou lifted up, O Judge of the earth; render a reward unto the proud. How long shall the wicked, O Jehovah; how long shall the wicked show gladness? Shall they utter, shall they speak a hard word; shall they boast themselves, all that work iniquity?

Thy people, Jehovah, they bruise in pieces, and afflict thine heritage. They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless. And say, Yah shall not see, nor Jacob's God understand. Understand ye brutish among the people; and inconstant fools, when will ye be prudent? He that planted the ear, shall not he hear? or he that formed the eye, shall not he see? He that chastiseth the heathens, shall not he rebuke? he that teacheth man knowledge? Jehovah knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity. O blessed is the man, he whom thou chastenest, O Yah, and teachest him out of thy law. To give him quietness from the days of evil, until a pit of corruption be digged for the wicked. For Jehovah will not leave his people, and will not forsake his inheritance. But judgment shall return unto justice; and after it, all the upright in heart. Who will rise up for me against evil doers? who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity? Unless Jehovah had been an helpfulness unto me, my soul had almost dwelt in silence. When I said, my foot is moved, thy mercy, Jehovah, stayed me up. When many were my cogitations within me, thy consolations delighted my soul. Shall the throne of woeful evils have fellowship with thee, which frameth molestation by a decree? They run by troupes against the soul of the just, and condemn as wicked the innocent blood. But Jehovah is to me for an high refuge; and my God, for the rock of my safe hope. And he will return upon them their iniquity, and in their malice he will suppress them: Jehovah our God will suppress them.

Annotations.

GOd of vengeance] to whom vengeance belongeth, as Deut. 32. 35. and which punisheth evils. So elsewhere he is called the God of recompenses, Ier. 51. 56. shine clear] to our comfort, and our foes terror. See Psal. 50. 2. and 80. 2.

Vers. 2. be lifted up] on thy throne, and in thy just judgment. So Psal. 7. 7, 8.

Vers. 4. Vtter] or talk lavishly, well out as a fountain: see Ps. 19. 3. I am. 3. 11. a hard word] hard things, durable reproaches: See Psal. 31. 19. boast] or exalt themselves with speaking & applying things to their own praise. This word is used in the good part, Esa. 61. 6.

Vers. 9. that planted the ear] that is, made and set it in the body. So in Esa. 51. 16. he is said to plant the heavens.

Vers. 10. man knowledge] here is to be understood, shall not he know? Such imperfect speeches through passion of mind, are often in Scripture, Psal. 6. 4. 2 Sam. 5. 8. supplied in 1 Chro. 11. 6. The Chaldee maketh this paraphrase, Is it possible that he hath given the Law to his people, and they not be rebuked when they sin? Did not God teach the first man knowledge?

Vers. 11. the thoughts of men] the inward disceptations and reasonings of all men, even the wisest. This sentence Paul allegeth against the wisdom of the world, 1 Cor. 3. 20. and as an expositor, instead of men, he putteth the wise.

Vers. 12. the man] Hebr. geber, the mighty. shastenest] or nurturest, instructest, as this word is Englished, Deut. 4. 36. which this place seemeth to have reference unto. For chastisement or restraint is by word or deed. And here the doctrine of God's Law is opposed to all wise men's cogitations.

Vers. 14. not leave his people] not give them over, or reject them, (as the Greek turneth it,) to wit, those whom he hath foreknown and chosen, because it hath pleased the Lord to make them his people; as 1 Sam. 12. 22. Rom. 11. 1, 2, &c.

Vers. 15. judgment shall return to justice] that is, severity to mercy: the rigor of the Law changed to the clemency of the Gospel. So judgment is often used for sentence of punishment, as Ier. 52. 9. and justice for grace and mercy: see Psal. 24. 5. Or, judgment, which in the affliction of God's people, and prosperity of the wicked, seemeth to be parted from justice, shall return unto it, when the godly are delivered, and the wicked punished. after it] so the Greek turneth it; or, after him, meaning God.

Vers. 16. who will rise up] or, who standeth up, namely, to assist me? meaning, no man doth.

Vers. 17. an helpfulness] that is, a full help: see Psal. 44. 17. in silence] the place of stillness and silence, that is, the grave, as the Greek explaineth it: so Psal. 115. 17. see also Psal. 49. 13.

Vers. 18. is moved] or slippeth: see Ps. 38. 17. [unspec 19]

Vers. 19. my cogitations] my careful troubled thoughts, perplexed as the branches of a tree, (for so the word properly signifieth,) therefore the Greek turneth it sorrows. So Ps. 139. 23.

Vers. 20. of woeful evils] or of mischiefs, the mischievous tyrannous throne of the unrighteous Judge, shall it have fellowship (or be joined) with thee (O God) meaning, it shall not: as, Shalt thou build? 2 Sam. 7. 5. is, Thou shalt not build, 1 Chr. 17. 4. See also Psal. 5. 5. which frameth] or, he that frameth, or formeth. by a decree] or, for a statute, a law.

V. 21. run by troupes] combine and gather together as banded to fight: in Greek, they hunt for.

V. 23. will turn] Hebr. hath turned, that is, will assuredly turn. in their malice] or, for their evil.

PSAL. XCV.

An exhortation to praise God, 3 for his greatness, 6 and for his goodness. 8 A warning not to harden the heart against God's word, as Israel had done, who therefore entered not into his rest.

COme, let us shout joyfully to Jehovah, let us shout triumphantly to the Rock of our salvation. Let us prevent his face with confession, with Psalms let us shout triumphantly to him. For Jehovah is a great God, and a great King above all gods. In whose hand are the deep places of the earth, and the strong heights of the mountains are his. Whose the sea is, for he made it, and the dry land his hands have formed. Come, let us bow down ourselves, & bend down: let us kneel before Jehovah our maker. For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and sheep of his hand; today if ye shall hear his voice: Harden not your heart, as in Meribah, as in the day of Massah in the wilderness. Where your fathers tempted me, proved me, also saw my work.

Fortie years I was irked with' that generation, and said, they are a people erring in heart, and they know not my ways. So that I sware in mine anger, if they shall enter into my rest.

Annotations.

COme] or Go to. The holy Ghost by David thus exhorteth Israel to laud the Lord, and obey his voice. For he penned this Psalm, Heb. 3. 7. and 4. 7. the Rock] meaning Christ, as the Apostle showeth, Heb. 3. 6, 7. the Greek translateth it, God our Savior.

Vers. 2. prevent] come first, and speedily. [unspec 3]

Vers. 3. great God] or great Potentate, Ael. So Christ is also entitled, Tit. 2. 13. All God's] Angels, Princes, or false gods, Psa. 8. 6. and 82. 6. and 96. 4, 5.

Vers. 4. deep places] or, deep closets; Hebr. searchings, that is, deep secret places for which search is made, Job 28. 1, 2, &c. and which cannot by man's search be found, Job 38. 4, 5, 6, 18. strong heights] or, wearisome heights, high mounts which weary men to climb them: but the word hath also a signification of strong, and not being wearied, Numb. 23. 22.

Vers. 7. of his hand] that is, of his guidance, Psal. 77. 21. See also Psal. 100. 3. today] hereby is meant the whole time wherein Christ speaketh by his Gospel, Heb. 3. 7, 13, 15. and 4. 7, 8.

Vers. 8. in Meribah] that is, in the Contention (or Provocation, as the Greek turneth it.) The name of a place in the wilderness, where Israel contended with Moses, and tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord among us or no? because there was no water for the people to drink. Therefore he called the place Massah (Tentation) and Meribah (Contention) Exod. 17. 1, 2,—7. Also another place, where again they contended with Moses, & with the Lord, Num. 20. 1, 3, 13. day of Massah] that is, of Tentation: by day again we may understand the whole space wherein they tempted God ten times, as is said, Num. 14. 22. (so the day of salvation, 2 Cor. 6. 2. is the time thereof.) Yet there was a special day and place of Tentation named Massah, Ex. 17. 2, 7. whereupon Moses warned the people, Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye tempted him in Massah, Deut. 6. 16.

Vers. 9. tempted me] hereupon the Apostle saith, they tempted Christ, 1 Cor. 10. 9. my work] that is, works, Heb. 3. 9. both in miraculous mercies giving them bread from heaven, and waters out of the rocks, &c. Psal. 78. 15,—23, &c. and in punishments for their rebellions, Psal. 78. 31, 33, &c. Heb. 3. 17. For work sometime signifieth reward, Psal. 109. 20. Job 7. 2. Lev. 19. 13.

Vers. 11. if they shall enter] that is, they shall not enter, Heb. 3. 11. 18. a part of the oath is not uttered; see Psal. 89. 36. This oath was made at Cadesh, where the people through unbelief refused to enter the promised land, Num. 14. 21, 22, 23, 30, 32. Heb. 3. 17. 19. my rest] the land of Canaan, Deut. 12. 9. 1 Chron. 23. 25. a figure of a better rest which we that have believed the word do enter into, Heb. 4. 3. for if that land (wherein now they were) had been their rest, David would not have spoken of another; there remaineth therefore a Rest for the people of God; let us study to enter into it, Heb. 4. 8, 9, 11.

PSAL. XCVI.

An exhortation to praise God for his greatness. 5 The vanity of Idols. 8 God only is to be served. 9 His reign and judgment is to be shown to the Gentiles.

SING ye to Jehovah a new song, sing ye to Jehovah all the earth. Sing ye to Jehovah, bless ye his name, preach the good tidings of his salvation from day today. Tell among the nations his glory, among all people's his marvelous works. For great is Jehovah, and praised vehemently, fearful he is above all God's. For all the gods of the people's are vain idols, but Jehovah made the heavens. Glorious majesty and comely honor are before him, strength and beauteous glory in his sanctuary. Give to Jehovah, ye kindreds of the people's, give to Jehovah glory and strength. Give to Jehovah the glory of his name; take up an oblation, and come into his courts. Bow down yourselves to Jehovah in the comely honor of the sanctuary, tremble ye at his feet all the earth. Say ye among the nations, Jehovah reigneth, the world also shall be stablished, it shall not be moved, he will judge the people's with righteousness. Let the heavens rejoice, and the earth be glad: roar let the sea, and the plenty thereof. Let the field show gladness, and all that therein is: then let all the trees of the wood shout joyfully. Before Jehovah, for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he will judge the world with justice, & the people's with his faithfulness.

Annotations.

A New song &c.] see Psal. 33. 3. This Psalm is a part of that song wherewith God was celebrated when the Ark of his covenant was brought with joy into David's city from Obed-edom's house, 1 Chron. 16. 23, &c. And it containeth a prophesy of Christ's kingdom, and of the calling of the Gentiles from Idols to serve & praise the living God.

Vers. 2. preach the good tidings] or Evangelize: see Psal. 40. 10.

Vers. 4. praised] and praise-worthy: see Ps. 18. 4. [unspec 5]

Vers. 5. Vain idols] or things of naught, as the Apostle openeth this word, saying, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, 1 Cor. 8. 4. Elim and Elohim, in Hebrew are God's; of Strength. Elilim, idols; as being Al-Elim not God's, without strength. So elsewhere they are plainly called lo Elohim, no God's, 2 Chron. 13. 9. unable to do good or evil, and unprofitable, Ier. 10. 5. Esa. 44. 9. 10. And as the name of God is joined with things to show their excellency, Psal. 36. 7. so is this contrariwise, to show their vanity; as of Physicians, Job 13. 4. of shepherds, Zach. 11. 17. of false doctrine, Ier. 14. 14. The Greek here turneth it daimonia, devils, by which name idols are called, 1 Cor. 10. 19, 20. Rev. 9. 30. 2 Chron. 11. 15.

Vers. 6. beateous glory] for this in 1 Chron. 16. 27. is written joyfulness.

Vers. 7. Give, &c.] Compare Psal. 29. 1, 2. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Bring a new song to God.

Vers. 8. to his courts] to his face, or presence, as 1 Chron. 16. 29.

Vers. 9. of the sanctuary] or, of sanctity; see Psal. 29. 2. tremble] or be pained, as in travel of child-birth.

Vers. 10. with righteousnesses] that is, most righteously. [unspec 10]

Vers. 11. Let rejoice] or shall rejoice; and so the rest. So Psal. 98. 7, 8, 9. The Chaldee paraphraseth, Let the hosts of heaven rejoice, and the just of the earth be glad.

Vers. 13. with justice] or, in justice, that is, justly; so Rev. 19. 11. Act. 17. 31. Psal. 9. 9.

PSAL. XCVII.

The majesty of God's kingdom. 7 The Church rejoiceth at God's judgments upon idolaters. 10 An exhortation to godliness and gladness.

Jehovah reigneth, let the earth be glad, let the many isles rejoice. Cloud and gloomy darkness are round about him, justice and judgment are the stable-place of his throne. Fire goeth before him, and flameth round about his distressers. His lightnings illuminate the world, the earth seeth and trembleth. The mountains like wax melt at the presence of Jehovah, at the presence of the Lord of all the earth. The heavens declare his justice, and all people's see his glory. Abashed be all they that serve a graven thing, that gloriously boast themselves in vain idols; bow down yourselves to him all ye God's. Zion heareth and rejoiceth, and glad are the daughters of Judah, because of thy judgments Jehovah. For thou Jehovah art high above all the earth, vehemently art thou exalted above all God's. Ye lovers of Jehovah, hate evil; he keepeth the souls of his gracious Saints, he will deliver them from the hand of the wicked. Light is sown for the just, and joy for the right of heart. Rejoice ye just in Jehovah, and confess to the remembrance of his holiness.

Annotations.

Jehovah] that is, Christ, called Jehovah our justice, Jer. 23. 5. 6. of him and his reign is this Psalm, as the 7. verse manifesteth. the many isles] that is, nations or gentiles dwelling in the isles: as, the isles shall wait for his Law, Esa. 42. 4. which is expounded thus, the Gentiles shall trust in his name, Matth. 12. 21. So Esa. 60. 9.

Vers. 2. gloomy darkness] see Psal. 18. 10. this noteth the terror of his doctrine and administration, Mal. 3. 2. Matth. 3. 12. as at the law giving, Deut. 4. 11. The Chaldee saith, A cloud of glory and gloomy darkness. stable-place] establishment, or base: see Psal. 89. 15.

Vers. 3. Fire] severe judgments for Christ's enemies, as Esa. 42. 25. and 66. 15, 16. Ps. 50. 3.

Vers. 4. illuminate] or have illumined: as at the giving of the law, there were thunders, lightnings, voices, earthquakes, &c. Exod. 19. so the like proceed from the throne of Christ, Rev. 4. 5. trembleth] or is pained; see Psal. 77. 17.

Vers. 5. at the presence] or, from the face. [unspec 6]

Vers. 6. The heavens] heavenly creatures, as thunder, lightning, tempest, &c. or the Angels, as the Chaldee interpreteth. See Psal. 50. 6.

Vers. 7. vain idols] see Ps. 96. 5. allye God's] that is, as the Greek saith, all ye his Angels; see Psal. 8. 6. Unto this the Apostle seemeth to have reference, saying, when he bringeth in his first begotten son into the world, he saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him, Heb. 1. 6. Although the very words of the Apostle are found in the Greek version of Deut. 32. 43. but the Hebrew there hath none such. See the fulfilling of this, Luk. 2. 13, 14. Mark. 1. 13. Rev. 5. 11, 12.

Vers. 8. daughters] that is, cities of Judah, the Christian Churches: see Psal. 48. 12.

Vers. 11. Light is sown] that is comfort and joy is reserved after trouble, as Esth. 8. 16. but hidden for the present, as seed in the ground; for, we are dead, & our life is hid with Christ in God, Col. 3. 3. 4. & it doth not yet appear what we shall be, 1 John. 3. 2.

Vers. 12. confess to] that is, celebrate it. See Psal. 30. 5.

PSAL. XCVIII.

The Psalmist exhorteth the Jews, 4 the Gentiles, 7 and all creatures to praise God for his salvation by Christ.

A Psalm. [unspec 1]

SING ye to Jehovah a new song, for he hath done marvelous things: his right hand hath saved him, and the arm of his holiness. Jehovah hath made known his salvation, to the eyes of the nations he hath revealed his justice. He hath remēbred his mercy, and his faithfulness to the house of Israel; all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God. Shout triumphantly to Jehovah, all the earth shout cheerfully, & shout joyfully, & sing Psalms. Sing Psalms to Jehovah with harp, with harp and voice of a Psalm.

With trumpets, and voice of the cornet, shout triumphantly before the King Jehovah.

Let the sea roar, and the plenty thereof, the world, and they that sit therein. Let the rivers clap the hands together, let the mountains shout joyfully. Before Jehovah, for he is come to judge the earth; he will judge the world in justice, and the people's in righteousnesses.

Annotations.

A New song] see Psal. 33. 3. saved him] or, got him salvation, and victory over all his enemies. See Esa. 59. 16. and 63. 5.

Vers. 2. his salvation] the redemption by Christ, as Luke. 2. 30, 31, 32. so his justice is that which is by faith in Christ, Rom. 10. 3, 4, 6, 10.

Vers. 3. remembered] and consequently, performed his mercy, &c. so Luk. 1. 54, 55, 72, 73, 74. all the ends] that is, the dwellers in the ends of the earth: so Esa. 52. 10.

V. 6. voice of the cornet] or, sound of the trumpet: for here are two several words for trumpets, some of which were made of metal, as silver, &c. Num. 10. 2. some of horn, Ios. 6. 4. and these were used both in wars, and in the worship of God: see Psal. 81. 4.

V. 8. clap the hands] or, clap palms: a sign of joy; as Isa. 55. 12. Psal. 47. 2.

V. 9. in justice] that is, justly. So Psal. 96. 13. in righteousnesses] that is, most righteously. So Psal. 9. 9.

PSAL. XCIX.

The Prophet setting forth the kingdom of God in Zion, 5 exhorteth all by the example of fore fathers, to worship God at his holy mountain.

Jehovah reigneth, the people's are stirred: he sitteth on the Cherubims, the earth is moved. Jehovah is great in Zion, and high he is above all the people's. Let thē confess thy name, great and fearful, holy it is. And the strength of the King loveth judgment: thou hast stablished righteousnesses, thou hast done in Jacob judgment and justice. Exalt ye Jehovah our God, and bow down yourselves at the footstool of his feet, holy he is. Moses and Aaron, with his Priests, and Samuel, with them that call on his name: they called upon Jehovah, and he answered them. In the pillar of a cloud he spake unto them; they kept his testimonies, & the decree he gave them. Jehovah our God, thou answeredst them, a God forgiving thou wast unto them, and taking vengeance on their practices. Exalt ye Jehovah our God, and bow down yourselves at the mountain of his holiness, for Jehovah our God is holy.

Annotations.

ARestirred] or, though they be stirred, to wit, with anger; as the Greek translatheth, be angry: see Psal. 4. 5. This is opened in Rev. 11. 17, 18. thou (Lord) reignest, and the nations are angry. Thus the wicked are affected, but the godly do rejoice, Psal. 97. 1. he sitteth] or, even he that sitteth on the Cherubims, reigneth: see Psal. 80. 2. is moved] with indignation, stirred up to resist, as Act. 17. 13.

Vers. 4. the strength] this is joined with God's wrath, Ezr. 8. 22. and here seemeth to have like meaning, that God is strong to punish in judgment the rebellious, and defend his people.

V. 5. at the footstool] or toward it, meaning the Sanctuary and Ark there, Esa. 60. 13. 1 Chron. 28. 2. Lam. 2. 1. Psal. 132. 7. Ezek. 43. 7. he is] as is expressed, verse. 8. or it (the temple) is holy.

V. 6. with his Priests] or, among his principal officers; see the like phrase in Ps. 54. 6. The Hebrew Cohen, w<sup>ch</sup> we call a Priest. or Saerificer, is the name of the kings chief officer, as in 2 Sa. 8. 18. David's sons were Cohens (chief Rulers, Aularchai as the Greek termeth them) which is expounded in 1 Chro. 18. 17. to be the first (or Chief) at the Kings hand. It hath the name of ministration, Esa. 61. 6. 10. & was a title specially given to Aaron and his sons, that ministered unto God in the Sanctuary, Exod. 28. 3, 4, 41. called] or were calling, that is, prayed for the people, as Exod. 32. 11, &c. Numb. 14 17, 19. and 16. 22, 46. 1 Sam. 7. 9. and 12. 19, 23. Hereupon Moses and Samuel were noted for chief intercessors with God, Ier. 15. 1. So the Chaldee here expounds it, his Priests which gave their lives for the Lord's people; and Samuel prayed to the Lord for them, as the fathers of old, which prayed in his name.

V. 7. of a cloud] as Exod. 33. 9. Num. 16. 42. and this noteth God's favor, but with some obscurity; and so is inferior to the mediation of Christ, who hath without clouds or shadows obtained eternal redemption for us, that we may go boldly to the throne of grace, for to receive mercy & find grace to help in time of need, Heb. 4. 14, 16. and 7. 25. and 9. 11, 12.

Vers. 8. a God for giving] a mighty God that pardonedst or tookest away, to wit, the punishment of their sin: see Psal. 25. 18. and taking] or though thou tookest vengeance. on their practices] theirs, that is, the people's, for whom Moses prayed, as Num. 14. 20, 21, 23. Exod. 32. 14, 34, 35. or theirs, that is, Moses and Aaron's sins, which God punished, and would not be entreated, as Num. 20. 12. Deut. 3. 23, 24, 25, 26.

PSAL. C.

An exhortation to praise God cheerfully for his grace, goodness, and fidelity.

A Psalm for confession.

SHout ye triumphantly to Jehovah, all the earth. Serve ye Jehovah with gladness, come before him with singing joy. Know ye that Jehovah he is God, he made us, and not we, his people, and sheep of his pasture. Enter ye his gates with confession, his courts with praise; confess ye to him, bless ye his name. For Jehovah is good, his mercy is forever, and his faith unto generation and generation.

Annotations.

FOr confession] for the public praise of God, with thanks for his mercies. all the earth] that is, as the Chaldee translateth, all inhabitants of the earth.

Vers. 2. singing] or shrilling, shouting mirth. [unspec 2]

Vers. 3. made us] this word is used both for our first creation in nature, Gen. 1. 26. and for the making of us high and excellent with graces and blessings, as 1 Sam. 12. 6. Deut. 32. 6. Esa. 43. 7. and 29. 23. Ephes. 2. 10. and not we] or, and his we are: as the Hebrew in the margin readeth it. Both senses are good: and the Chaldee keepeth this latter, his we are. sheep] or flock which he seedeth. See Ezek. 34. 30. 31. Psal. 95. 7.

V. 4. confession] the sacrifice of thanks was thus named, 2 Chron. 29. 31. Ier. 17. 26. [unspec 4]

Vers. 5. faith] or, faithfulness: truth, in performing his promises. [unspec 5]

PSAL. CI.

David maketh a profession of godliness touching his own person, his house, and the City of God, in cherishing the good, and suppressing the wicked.

A Psalm of David.

Mercy and judgment I will sing to thee, Jehovah will I sing Psalm. I will do wisely in the perfect way, when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk in the perfection of mine heart, in the midst of mine house. I will not set before mine eyes any word of Belial: I hate the doing of them that turn aside, it shall not cleave unto me. A froward heart shall depart from me, I will know none evil. he that in secret hurteth with tongue his fellow-friend, him will I suppress: the haughty of eyes, and large of heart, him I cannot suffer. Mine eyes shall be on the faithful of the land, for to sit with me; he that walketh in the perfect way, he shall minister to me. He shall not sit within my house that doth deceit, he that speaketh lies shall not be established before mine eyes.

In the mornings I will suppress all the wicked of the land, for to cut off from the City of Jehovah all the workers of iniquity.

Annotations.

Mercy and judgment] This may be meant of David's own administration: howbeit the Chaldee understandeth it of God's, saying, If thou dealest mercifully with me, if thou dost judgment with me, for all, I will sing praise.

Vers. 3. do wisely] behave my seife prudently; as David is said to do, 1 Sam. 18. 14. when wilt thou come] namely, to assist me in the performance hereof: or, when thou shalt come] namely, to call me unto an account of my life, &c.

Vers. 3. of Belial] that is, mischievous (or wicked) word or thing. See Psal. 41. 9. [unspec 3]

Vers. 4. know] or acknowledge, that is, regard, or approve; so Psal. 1. 6. [unspec 4]

Vers. 5. hurteth with tongue] that traduceth, or (as the Hebrew phrase is) betongueth. Hereupon a man of tongue, is for a pratler or calumniator, Psa. ⟨◇⟩ . ⟨◇⟩ . 12. The Chaldee paraphraseth, He that speaketh with a third (or threefold) tongue, against his neighbor; meaning a back-biter or calumniator, which is said of the Hebrew Doctors to have a three sold tongue, because he hurteth three therewich, both himself by his sin, and his neighbor whom he backbiteth, and the receiver of his tale whom he corrupteth. Hereupon is that saying of Ben Sirach, A third tongue hath disquieted many, Eclus. 28. 14. and a third tongue hath cast out virtuous women, Eclus. 28 15. meaning the back biter, or tale-bearer. See the Annotations on Levite. 19. 16. large] or wide, broad of heart; meaning proud, as Prov. 21. 4. So, large of soul, Prov. 28. 25. is proud in mind. I cannot] here the word hear, or suffer is to be understood, as is expressed, Prov. 30 21. So John. 31. 23. and in Greek, 1 Cor. 3. 2.

Vers. 8. In the mornings] that is, every morning, or early: see Psal. 73. 14.

PSAL. CII.

The Prophet in his prayer complaineth of his miseries. 13 He taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God. 19 The record hereof is for posterity. 24 He sustaineth his weakness by the unchangeableness of Christ.

A prayer for the poor afflicted when he shall be overwhelmed, and shall pour forth his meditation before Jehovah.

Jehovah hear my prayer, and let my cry come unto thee. Hide not thy face from me in the day of distress upon me, incline thine ear unto me; in the day I call, make haste, answer me. For my days are consumed as smoke, and my bones are burnt as an hearth. Mine heart is smitten as grass and withered, that I forget to eat my bread. For the voice of groaning, my bone cleaveth to my flesh. I am like to a Pelican of the wilderness: I am as an Owl of the deserts. I watch and am as a Sparrow, solitary upon the house roof. All the day mine enemies do reproach me, they that rage against me, have sworn against me. For I eat ashes as bread, and mingle my drinks with weeping. Because of thine angry threat and thy fervent wrath, for thou hast heaved me up, and cast me down. My days are as a shadow declined, and I am withered as grass. And thou Jehovah sittest forever, and thy memorial to generation and generation. Thou wilt arise, wilt have tender mercy upon Zion, for the time to be gracious unto it, for the appointed time is come.

For thy servants delight in the stones thereof, and do pity the dust thereof. And the heathens shall fear the name of Jehovah, and all the Kings of the earth thy glory. When Jehovah shall build up Zion, shall appear in his glory. Shall turn unto the prayer of the lowly, and not despise their prayer. This shall be written for the generation after, and the people created shall praise Yah.

For he hath looked down from the height of his holiness, Jehovah from the heavens did behold the earth. To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose the sons of death.

To tell in Zion the name of Jehovah, and his praise in Jerusalem. When the people's shall be gathered together, & the kingdoms to serve Jehovah. He hath afflicted my strength in the way, he hath shortened my days. I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days, thy years are through generation of generations. Afore-time thou hast founded the earth, and the heavens are the work of thine hands. They shall perish, but thou shalt stand; and they all shall wax old as a garment, as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed. But thou art the same, and thy years shall not be ended. The sons of thy servants shall dwell, and their seed shall be established before thee.

Annotations.

For the poor] agreeing to his estate; or, of the poor. overwhelmed] with fears, cares, sorrows, &c. see Psal. 61. 3.

Vers. 4. as smoke] or, with the smoke, vanishing in the air, so Psal. 37. 20. The Hebrew letters beth, with, and caph, as, are one like another, & sometime put one for another, as 2 Sam. 5. 24. with 1 Chron. 14. 15. an hearth] the place whereon fire burneth. Compare Job 30. 30.

Vers. 5. as grass] or as the herbs smitten with blasting, Amos 4. 9. to eat my bread] The Chaldee applieth this to the bread of the soul, the Law of God.

Vers. 6. to my flesh] that is, my skin, as Job 19. 20. so elsewhere skin is put for flesh, Job 18. 13. See also Lam. 4. 8.

V. 7. a Pelican] a bird living in wild & desolate places, Zeph. 2. 14. Esa. 34. 11. It seemeth to have the name in Hebrew of vomiting, and to be that fowl which we call the shovelard, which swalloweth shell-fishes, and after vomiteth them to get the fish. It was a bird unclean by the law, Levite. 11. 18. Some think it to be the bittour, which maketh a loud and doleful noise. Compare Job 30. 29.

Vers. 9. rage against me] or vaunt against; or, would make a fool of me: the Greek saith, that praise me; meaning feinedly. The word signifieth to lift up with praise and glory; and also ingloriously to vaunt, rage, or be mad: see Psal. 5. 6. and 75. 5. The word against is here to be understood: as in Prov. 8. 35. he that sinneth against me. An example of such raging madness, see against Christ, Luke 6. 11.

Vers. 12. declined] or stretched out; as the shadow of the Sun, when it is near down, which though it seem longer, yet soon passeth away. So Psal. 109. 23. and 144. 4.

Vers. 13. sittest] that is, continuest, as the Greek explaineth it: for sitting and standing (as after in verse. 27.) are often used for sure and settled abiding. The Chaldee addeth, sittest forever in heaven. thy memorial] or remembrance of thee: so Psa. 135. 13. from Exod. 3. 15.

Vers. 14. the appointed time] promised for restauration of the Church, as Dan. 9. 2. 24, 25. &c. Ier. 29. 10.

Vers. 15. delight] or do favor the stones, though ruinous: as Nehem. 2. 13, &c. and 4. 2. Zach. 1. 12.

Vers. 18. the lowly] so the Greek here turneth it, which elsewhere we call heath, that groweth in the wilderness, Ier. 17. 6. and 48. 6. by the name in Hebrew, it seemeth to be some naked shrub, and so a fit resemblance of God's afflicted people, made low, naked, and desolate by their enemies. Or we may turn it, the broken down, or ruined, from Ier. 51. 58.

Vers. 19. This shall be] or, Let this be written, to wit, for remembrance to ages after, as Ex. 17. 14. Deut. 31. 19. 21. This showeth these to be prophesses for our times. created] that is, restored and made a new; as Ps. 104. 30. Esa. 65. 18. created in Christ Jesus unto good works, Eph. 2. 10. So, a people borne, Psal. 22. 32.

Vers. 20. the height of his holiness] that is, his holy high place, or his high sanctuary, meaning heaven. This is taken from Deut. 26. 15.

Vers. 21. groaning] or mournful cry: so Psal. 79. 11. sons of death] appointed to die, as Psal. 79. 11.

Vers. 24. in the way] in the course of my life; see Psal. 2. 12. He respecteth the affliction of Israel, in the way that God led them thorough the wilderness, Deut. 8. 2, 3.

Vers. 25. take me not away] or, make me not ascend: see John 12. 32. The Chaldee addeth, take me not away out of this world, bring me unto the world that is to come.

Vers. 26. Afore-time] that is, At the beginning, as Heb. 1. 10. where these things spoken to God, are applied to Christ, to prove his god head.

Vers. 27. shalt stand] that is, endure or continue, as the Greek expresseth it, Heb. 1. 11. change them] by folding them up, as the Greek explaineth, Heb. 1. 12. for the heavens when they are changed shall be folden like a book, Esa. 34. 4.

V. 28. art the same] or, art he, that is, unchangeable, Mal. 3. 6. I am. 1. 17.

Vers. 29. shall dwell] to wit, in Zion, verse. 14. 22. as is also expressed, Psal. 69. 36, 37. before thee] that is, so long as thou dost dure, meaning forever, as the Greek well explaineth it. So, before the Moon and Sun, Psal. 72. 5. 17. is so long as the Moon and Sun endure.

PSAL. CIII.

David stirreth up his soul to bless God for his mercies. 6 He remembereth God's former actions to his people, 8 His pity, 9 Patience, 10 Clemency. 15 Mans frailty. 17 God's constancy in his graces, for which all are to bless him.

A Psalm of David.

MY soul, bless thou Jehovah, and all my inward parts the Name of his Holiness. My soul, bless thou Jehovah, & forget not all his rewards. That mercifully pardoneth all thine iniquities, that healeth all thy sicknesses. That redeemeth thy life from the pit of corruption, that crowneth thee with mercy and tender pitities. That satiateth thy mouth with good things, thy youth is renewed as an Eagles. Jehovah doth justices and judgments to all oppressed.

He made known his ways to Moses, his actions to the sons of Israel. Iehovan is pitiful and gracious, long suffering, and much of mercy. He will not contend to continual aye, neither keep (his anger) for ever. He hath not done to us according to our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. But as is the height of the heavens above the earth, so strong is his mercy over them that fear him. As far remote as the East is from the West, so far hath he removed our trespasses from us. As a father hath pity on his sons, Jehovah hath pity on them that fear him. For he knoweth our forming, remembering that we are dust. Sorry man, his days are as grass, as a flower of the field so flourisheth he. For a wind passeth over it, and it is not, and the place thereof shall not know it anymore. But the mercy of Jehovah endureth from eternity and unto eternity, upon them that fear him, and his justice to the children's children. To them that keep his covenant, and that remember his precepts for to do them. Jehovah hath firmly prepared his throne in the Heavens, and his Kingdom ruleth over all. Bless Jehovah, ye his Angels; mighty of strength doing his Word, hearkening to the voice of his Word. Bless Jehovah, all ye his hosts, his ministers, doing his pleasure. Bless Jehovah, all ye his works, in all places of his domination, my soul, bless thou Jehovah.

Annotations.

All his rewards] that is, any of his benefits. All is often used for any, Psal. 147. 20. 1 King. 10. 20. and rewards for benefits: see Psal. 13. 6.

Vers. 3. sicknesses] all diseases, griefs and punishments in soul or body (and spiritually sins) are meant by the word sicknesses, Exod. 15. 26. Deut. 28. 59, 61. Esa. 33. 24. See also Psal. 41. 5. and 147. 3.

Vers. 4. pit of corruption] death and the grave; the Chaldee saith, from Gehenna (or Hell) whither men hasten by their sins, till God by chastisement bringeth them to repentance, and then spareth them. See this at large handled, Job 33. 19, 23, 24, 27, 28, 30.

Vers. 5. good things] Hebr. the good thing: see the Notes on Psal. 65. 5. is renewed] or, thou renewest thyself as an Eagle, as thy youth, thy flesh being  fresher than in childhood, thou returning to the days of thy youth, as is said, Job 33. 25. This change is by the renewing of the mind, Rom. 12. 2. wrought by the holy Ghost, Tit. 3. 5. The Chaldee applieth it to renewing in the world to come. as an eagles] which casteth her feathers yearly, and new grow up, whereby she seemeth fresh and young, flieth high, and liveth long. Compare Esa. 40. 31.

Vers. 6. justices] that is, all manner justice, and that which is chiefest. Things are often spoken of plurally for their excellency. So wisdoms, Pro. 9. 1.

Vers. 7. his ways] wherein men ought to walk, as Exod. 18. 20. Psal. 25. 4, 5. or, wherein him-self walketh, his administration, his works, as Psal. 77. 20. Job 40. 14. This latter seemeth most meant here by comparing it with Exod. 33. 13. and 34. 6, 7.

Vers. 8. long suffering] or slow to anger: see Psal. 86. 15.

Vers. 9. contend] or chide; compare Esa. 7. 16. keep] understand his anger. as both Greek and Chaldee do explain it; sometime the Hebrew it self manifesteth the defect, as he set, 1 Chron. 18. 6. that is, he set garrisons, 2 Sam. 8. 6. This phrase is taken from the Law, Lev. 19. 18. So Ier. 3. 5. Nahum 1. 2. See also Psal. 109. 21.

Vers. 13. Jehovah hath pity] the Chaldee expounds it, the Word of the Lord hath pity. So in verse 19. for Jehovah is the Word of the Lord.

Vers. 14. our forming] that is, our formed nature and condition, our matter and form; the original word properly is a formed vessel of earth, applied to our frail estate, Rom. 9. 20, 21. sometime this is spoken of our fictions and sinful imaginations, Gen. 6. 5. Deut. 31. 21. and so the Chaldee interpreteth it here, our evil concupiscence which carrieth us into error.

Vers. 15. as the grass, &c.] that is, few and transitory, though making a fair show. Compare Psal. 90. 5, 6. Job 14. 1, 2. I am. 1. 10, 11. 1 Pet. 1. 24.

Vers. 16. not know it] or know him, that is, he shall have no more place here. So Job 7. 10.

Vers. 18. to do them] this noteth the outward practice and operation of the Law, whereas keeping or observing is with the heart and spirit of man, Prov. 3. 1, 3. and 4. 4, 21. Psal. 78. 8.

Vers. 19. prepared his throne] or stab...he it, a sign of dominion and gover <...> be administered in heaven, whereby the Church is figured, Rev. 4. 1. 2. See also Psal. 9. 5, 8, 9. and 11. 4.

Vers. 20. hearkening] or to hearken; to obey, and this noteth a willing and ready mind in the Angels, and our Lord teacheth us to pray for the like, Mat. 6. 10. The Hebrew phrase to obey, may be Englished obeying, as the like in Psal. 104. 15, 21. and 105. 11. See also Psal. 49. 15. and 65. 11.

Vers. 21. his hosts] or armies, the thrones, principalities, powers &c. that are in the heavenly places, Eph. 3. 10. Col. 1. 16. for they are his hosts, 1 King. 22. 19. Gen. 32. 2. and generally all creatures are his hosts: see Psal. 24. 10. ministers] the Angels which minister unto him, Psal. 104. 4. Dan. 7. 10. the same title is given also to men, Esa. 61. 6.

PSAL. CIV.

A meditation upon God's powerful works and wonderful providence in creating and governing the world and creatures therein. 31 God's glory is eternal. 33 The Prophet voweth perpetually to praise him.

MY soul, bless thou Jehovah; Jehovah, my God, thou art vehemently great: thou araiest thyself with Majesty and comely honor. Deeking him-self with light as with a garment, stretching out the heavens as a curtain. Planchering his lofts in the waters, making the clouds his Chariot, walking upon the wings of the wind.

Making his Angels spirits, his Ministers a flaming fire. He hath founded the earth upon her bases, it shall not be moved for ever and aye. Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a raiment, the waters stood above the mountains. At thy rebuke they fled, at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away. The mountains they went up, the valleys they went down to the place which thou foundest for them. Thou didst set a bound, they shall not pass, they shall not return to cover the earth. That sendeth well-springs in the valleys, they walk between the mountains.

They give drink to all the wild beasts of the field, the wild asses break their thirst. By them the fowl of the Heaven dwelleth, from between the branches they give the voice. That watreth the mountains from his lofts, the earth is filled with the fruit of thy works. That maketh grass to grow for cattle, and the herb for the use of man, bringing forth bread out of the earth. And wine that rejoiceth the heart of sorry man, making the face cheerful with osle; and bread that upholdeth the heart of sorry man. Tilled are the trees of Jehovah, the Cedars of Lebanon which he planted. That there the birds may make their nest; the Stork, the Fir trees are her house. The high mountains for the wild goats, the rocks a shelter for the conies.

He made the Moon for appointed times, the Sun knoweth his going down. Thou puttest darkness and it is night, in it do creep forth all wild beasts of the wood. The lurking Lions roaring for the prey, and seeking their meat of God. The Sun riseth, they gather them away, and couch down in their dens. Out goeth man unto his work, and to his labor till evening. How many are thy works, Jehovah! all of them hast thou done in wisdom, the earth is full of thy riches. This Sea: great and wide of spaces, there are creeping things even innumerable, small wild beasts with great. There go the ships. Levjathan whom thou hast formed to play therein. They all look attentively unto thee, to give them their food in his time. Thou givest it to them, they gather it, thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.

Thou hidest thy face, they are suddenly troubled; thou gatherest their spirit, they breath out the ghost, and return unto their dust. Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created, and thou renewest the face of the earth. The glory of Jehovah be forever, rejoice let Jehovah in his deeds. He looketh upon the earth and it trembleth, he toucheth the mountains and they smoke. I will sing to Jehovah in my life; I will sing Psalms to my God while I am. Sweet shall my meditation be of him; I will rejoice in Jehovah. Consumed be sinners out of the earth, and wicked men be they no more; my soul, bless thou Jehovah, Hallelujah.

Annotations.

And comely honor] that is, showest thyself by all thy works to be God over all, to whom glory and honor is due. Therefore God challengeth Job (and so all men) to do thus if they can, and they shall be celebrated of him, Job 40 4, 5.—9. Of these words, see Psal. 8. 2,—6.

Vers. 2. Decking] or clothing, or He clotheth, to wit, himself with light, dwelling in the light that none can attain unto, 1 Tim. 6. 16. and at first commanding the light to shine out of darkness, wherewith he decked the world, Gen. 1. 3. 2 Cor. 4. 6. as a curtain] that is, as a canopie, or tent, Song 1. 5. Ier. 49. 29. when he spread out the firmament by himself alone, Gen. 1. 6. Esa. 44. 24. and 51. 13. Job 37. 18.

Vers. 3. Planchering] He plancketh or planchereth his lofts, (or upper chambers) that is, the clouds aloft or upper regions of the air, as after in verse. 13. in the waters] among them, or with waters, which are above in the firmament, Gen. 1. 7. where God bindeth the waters in the clouds, and the cloud is not broken under them, Job 26. 8. making] or putting, that is, disposing them his Chariot to sit and ride on, as Esa. 19. 1. Rev. 14. 14. Compare Psal. 18. 11.

Vers. 4. spirits] that is, spiritual substances, so differing from Christ who is no made or created spirit, but the maker of all things, Psal. 102. 26. and from men made of flesh and blood, Luk. 24. 39. The original word also signifieth winds, and Angels by interpretation are messengers; whereupon some translate, he maketh the winds his messengers: but the Holy Ghost in Heb. 1. 7. showeth this to be spoken of Angels properly, who are named also ministering spirits, Heb. 1. 14. flaming fire] effectual in their administration, the Angels therefore have appeared like horses and Chariots of fire, 2 King. 6. 17. and 2. 11.

Vers. 5. bases] firm and fit groundsels: see Psal. 24. 2. and 78. 69. Job 38. 4. 6. [unspec 5]

Vers. 6. the deep] or depth of waters, which hid all the earth till God separated them, Gen. 1. 2. 9. [unspec 6]

Vers. 8. they went up] that is, the mounts shown themselves on high, when the waters of the deep were gathered into the channels of the sea, Gen. 1. 9. and 8. 5, &c. Or, They (that is, the waters) went up the mounts and down the dales when they were parted from the dry land, as if that thing were effected by thunder, wind and tempest, called here God's rebuke driving the waters, verse. 7. see Psal. 18 16.

Vers. 9. abound] or limit, shutting up the sea with doors and bars, saying, hitherto shalt thou come, but no further, and here shall it stay thy proud waves, as Job 38. 8. 10, 11. So Psal. 148. 6.

Vers. 10. That sendeth] or He sendeth: so after. well-springs] or fountains, meaning rivers flowing from such, as the next words show. they walk] that is, run: so Psal. 105. 41.

Vers. 11. break] that is, slake or quench their thirst. So we say, to brake ones fast.

Vers. 12. give the voice] the Chaldee addeth, the voice of singing, that is, sing loud and cheerfully: see Psal. 68. 34.

Vers. 13. his lofts] or his high chambers, the skies that give rain. the fruit] that is, the rain which God only giveth, Ier. 14. 22. and 10. 13. and consequently, the corn and herbs that grow after rain. Compare Job 38. 26, 27, 28. Deut. 11. 14, 15.

Vers. 14. the use] or service. bringing] or to bring, but this is referred still to God so after, to make, that is, making faces, &c. see Psal. 103. 20. bread] that is, bread-corn: so Esa. 28. 28. and 30. 23. Job 28. 5. Eccles. 11. 1.

Vers. 15. cheerful] or merry, so the Greek turneth it, so also the Hebrew signifieth, as Est. 8. 15. or, to shine. with oil] wherewith they used to anoint them, Psal. 23. 5. or more than oil, that is, wine makes the face seem more cheerful than if it were ointed. upholdeth] that is, comforteth: so Gen. 18. 5.

Vers. 16. trees of Jehovah] this is after expounded, which he planted. So the Chaldee expoundeth, Trees which the Lord created.

Vers. 17. the stroke] a bird somewhat like a crane, named in Hebrew Chasidah, of mercy or kindness, which is said to be in this fowl, that the young will nourish their dams when they are old.

Vers. 18. wild goats] or roes, named of climbing rocks, for they haunt high hills and rocks, where they are safe from dogs that hunt them, 1 Sam. 24. 3. Job 39. 4. conies] commended for wisdom, that being a people not mighty, they make their houses in the rock, Prov. 30. 24, 26.

Vers. 19. appointed times] seasons of the year, as the Chaldee paraphraseth, for times to be counted by it: or certain times, for that the moon is not always seen. knoweth] to wit, by God's commandment the time and place for to sit and rise: see Job 38. 12.

Vers. 21. for the prey] or at it: see Esa. 31. 4. Job 4. 11. and 39. 1, 2.

Vers. 23. labor] or his tilth, service, husbandry, as Gen. 2. 5.

Vers. 24. riches] or possessions. [unspec 25]

Vers. 25. wide of spaces] or of hands, that is, broad and spacious, reaching out his arms on every side, Job 11. 9. A like phrase is of other spacious things, Gen. 34. 21. Nehem. 7. 4. Isa. 33. 21.

Vers. 26. Livjathan] or the whale, or the seadragon: see Psal. 74. 14. Job 40. 20, &c. to play] or playing in it, as Behemoth and the beasts are said to play on the mountains, Job 40. 15. which word is also used for conflict or fight, 2 Sam. 2. 14.

Vers. 27. look attentively] or, wait with hope, so Psal. 145. 15. in his time] that is, in due season: see Psal. 1. 3.

Vers. 28. openest, &c.] that is, givest freely, as Deut. 15. 11.

Vers. 29. gatherest] that is, takest away: see Psal. 30. 9. to their dust] their earth whereof they were made, Gen. 1. 24. and 3. 19. Psal. 146. 4. This is taken from Job 34. 14, 15.

Vers. 30. renewest] by causing new creatures to come in place of the old, Eccles. 1. 4. and restoring the estate of things decayed, Ezek. 37.

Vers. 31. be] or shall be forever. rejoice] in beholding the holy order and obedience of his creatures, and not repent or be sorry for the work of his hands and destroy them, Esa. 65. 19. Gen. 6. 5, 6.

Vers. 32. they smoke] a sign of fear, Exod. 19. 18. so Psal. 144. 5.

Vers. 33. in my life] so long as I live: so Psal. 63. 5. and 146. 2.

Vers. 34. Sweet shall be] that is, delightful to me, or, be it sweet, that is, acceptable to God.

Vers. 35. Consumed be sinners] or, they shall be [unspec 35] consumed; by sinners, meaning men given to sin: See Ps. 1. 1. Hallelu-jah] that is, Praise ye Yah; an Hebrew phrase kept in the Greek, Rev. 19. 3, 6. and in other languages, set sometime in the beginning, sometime in the end of Psalms; but first used in this place, where consuming of sinners is mentioned, as in the New Testament it is first used in Rev. 19. where the destruction of Antichrist, the man of sin is foretold.

PSAL. CV.

An exhortation to praise God, and to seek out his works. 7 The story of God's providence over Abraham; 16 Over Joseph; 23 Over Jacob in Egypt; 26 Over Moses delivering the Israelites; 37 Over the Israelites brought out of Egypt, fed in the wilderness and planted in Canaan.

Confesse ye to Jehovah, call on his Name, make known his actions among the people's. Sing ye to him, sing Psalm to him, discourse of all his marvelous works. Glory ye in the Name of his holiness, let the heart of them that seek Jehovah rejoice. Seek Jehovah and his strength, seek ye his face continually. Remember ye his marvelous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth. Seed of Abraham his servant, sons of Jacob his chosen ones. He is Jehovah our God, his judgments are in all the earth. He remembereth his covenant forever, the word that he commanded to the thousand generation. Which he stroke with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac. And stablished it to Jacob for a decree, to Israel for a covenant of eternity. Saying, To thee will I give the land of Canaan, the line of your inheritance. When they were men (few) of number, very few, and strangers in it. And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people. He suffered not any man to do them wrong, but reproved kings for them. Touch not mine anointed, and to my Prophets do no evil. And he called a famine upon the land, he brake all the staff of bread. He sent before them a man, Joseph was sold for a servant. They afflicted his feet with fetters, his soul entered the iron. Until the time his word came, the saying of Jehovah tried him. The King sent and loosed him, the ruler of the people, and released him. He put him Lord of his house, and ruler of all his possession. To bind his Princes to his soul, and make wise his Elders. And Israel came into Egypt, and Jacob sojourned in the land of Cham. And he increased his people greatly, and made them stronger than their distressers. He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal craftily with his servants. He sent Moses his servant, Aaron whom he had chosen. They put among them the words of his signs, and wonders in the land of Cham. He sent darkness and made it dark, and they turned not rebellious against his word. He turned their waters to blood, and slew their fish. Their land abundantly brought forth frogs, in the privy Chambers of their kings.

He said, and there came a mixed swarm, lice in all their border. He gave their showers to be hail, fire of flames in their land. And smote their Vine and their Fig-tree, and brake the trees of their border. He said, and the Grasshopper came, and the Caterpillar, even without number. And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and did eat up the fruit of their ground. And he smote all the first-borne in their land, the beginning of all their strength. And he brought forth them with silver and gold, and none among their Tribes was feeble. Egypt rejoiced when they went out, for the dread of them had fallen upon them. He spread a cloud for a covering, and a fire to enlighten the night. They asked, and he brought the Quail, and with the Bread of Heavens he satisfied them. He opened the Rock, and the waters flowed out, they went in dry places like a river. For he remembered the Word of his Holiness to Abraham his servant. And brought forth his people with joy, his chosen with shouting joy. And gave to them the lands of the Heathens, and they possessed the labor of the people's. That they might observe his statutes and keep his laws, Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

Call on his name] or proclaim, that is, preach his name. The first part of this Psalm is part of that which David appointed to laud the Lord with, when his Ark was seated in Jerusalem, 1 Chron. 16. 7, 8,—22.

Vers. 2. discourse] or talk, meditate. [unspec 3]

Vers. 3. Glory] or Praise yourselves: see Psal. 34. 3.

Vers. 4. his strength] that is, his Ark, from whence God gave his Oracles, Numb. 7. 89 See Psal. 78. 61. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus, Seek ye the doctrine of the Lord and his Law. his face] his counsel and Oracle: see the notes on Psal. 27. 8.

Vers. 6. of Abraham] in 1 Chron. 16. 13. it is [unspec 6]of Israel. his servant] this is meant of the seed as well as of Abraham, as the next words show: therefore the Greek turneth it servants.

Vers. 8. He remembereth] therefore also Remember ye, as it is written, 1 Chro. 16. 15. the word] or the matter, the conditions of the Covenant, and so the promises which for the more certainty are said to be commanded, as in Psal. 133. 3.

Vers. 11. land of Canaan] the son of Cham, the son of Noah, who was cursed by his Grandfather, and made a servant to his brethren, Gen. 9. 18, 22, 25. This Canaan had eleven sons, heads of their families, Gen. 10. 15, 20. they seated in the lesser Asia in a goodly Country, having the great sea Westward, the river Iarden, Syria, and Arabia Eastward, the Wilderness on the South, and the mounts of Lebanon on the North. It was the pleasantest of all lands, and flowed with milk and honey, Ezek. 20. 6. it had store of rivers and fountains, of Corn, and Wine, and Oile, and Mines; of mountains and valleys, watered with the rain of heaven, and cared for of God continually, Deu. 8. 7, 8, 9. and 11. 10, 11, 12. This land God promised Abraham to give unto his seed, Gen. 12. 6, 7. and 13. 15, 17. See also the Notes on Psal. 25. 13. the line] that is, the portion of your patrimony measured as by line. See Psal. 16. 6.

Vers. 12. When they were] in 1 Chron. 16. 19. it is, when ye were. men of number] that is, a few men, soon numbered: so Gen. 34. 30. Deut. 4. 27. The contrary is, without number, or innumerable, Psal. 147. 5.

Vers. 13. from nation to nation] up and down in the land of Canaan, where were seven mighty nations, Deut. 7. 1. How there the Patriarchs walked as strangers, see Gen. 12. 8, 9, 10. and 13. 18. and 20. 1. and 23. 4. and 26. 1. 23. and 33. 19. and 35. 1, &c. Heb. 11. 9, 13.

Vers. 14. wrong] or to oppress them. reprov'd Kings] plaguing Pharaoh, Gen. 12. 17. threatening Abimelech, Gen. 20. 3.

Vers. 15. anointed] men consecrated to me by the oil of the spirit: see 1 John. 2. 20, 27. Prophets] so Abraham is called, Gen. 20. 7. See Psal. 74. 9.

Vers. 16. called famine] that is, effectually brought it; so 2 King. 8. 1. The contrary hereof is, to call for corn, Ezek. 36. 29. the land] of Canaan, Egypt, and other countries, Gen. 41. 54, &c. staff] or stay, stabiliment: so bread is called, Lev. 26. 26. Ezek. 4. 16. for it upholdeth man's heart, Psal. 104. 15.

Vers. 17. a man] Heb. Ish, a noble man: see Psal. 49. 3. The Chaldee saith, a wise man. for a servant] for a slave, by his brethren to the Ishmaelites, & by them to the Egyptians, Gen. 37. 28, 36.

Vers. 18. his soul entered] or, as the Greek saith, passed thorough the iron, that is, he (his body) was laid in irons when he was cast into prison most unjustly, Gen. 39. 20. and there he was in peril of his life. Of soul, see Psal. 16. 10.

Vers. 19. his word came] that is, the word spoken of him was fulfilled, which God had shown Joseph in a dream touching his advancement, Gen. 36. 5,—8, 9, 10. and 42. 9. So coming is for fulfilling, Ier. 17. 15. 1 Sam. 9. 6. Job 6. 8. tried] or fin'd him, by trying as in fire, his faith and patience in afflictions, as 1 Pet. 1. 7. see Psal. 12. 7.

Vers. 20. The King] Pharaoh (for that Joseph interpreted his dream) set him out of prison, a ruler over the land. See Gen. 41. 14, &c. and 45. 8.

Vers. 22. To bind] that is, inform, and govern as subjects: see Psal. 2. 3. to his soul] to his will or pleasure, (as Psal. 27. 12.) so as without him no man should lift up his hand or his foot (that is, attempt to do anything) in all the land of Egypt, Gen. 41. 44, 40. Or, with his soul, that is, with him-self, as the Greek expoundeth it, to nurture his Princes as himself, which may mean to inform them in virtue, wisdom, &c. wherein himself excelled, Gen. 41. 38, 39. With is sometime used for as, Psal. 102. 4. and the soul for ones self; see Psal. 16. 10. The words following seem to favor this exposition. his elders] or Senators, the Kings Nobles and Counsellors, Gen. 50. 7.

Vers. 23. came into Egypt] being sent for by Pharaoh, and encouraged thereto by God him-self, Gen. 45. 17,—20. and 46. 3, 4. of Cham] the father of Mizraim, or Egypt: see Psal. 78. 51.

Vers. 24. increased] made them fructify, that the land was soon full of them, Exod. 1. 7, 9.

Vers. 25. to deal craftily] or, conspire guile fully for their destruction, as Gen. 37. 18. Pharaoh and his people fretting at Israel's prosperity, thought to work wisely with them when they plotted their ruin, Exod. 1. 9, 10, 12, &c.

Vers. 26. had chosen] to be Moses his mouth to the people, and Prophet to Pharaoh, Exod. 4. 12, 14, 16. and 7. 1, 2, &c.

Vers. 27. words of his signs] the signs which he spake and commanded, together with the doctrine and use of them for letting of Israel go: See Exod. 7. 1, 2, 3, &c. Or words of signs, as words of song, Psal. 137. 3. are signs and songs. So Psal. 145. 5.

Vers. 28. darkness] the ninth plague of Egypt, where was black darkness in all the land for three days, that no man saw another, nor rose from the place where he was, Exod. 10. 22, 23. turned not rebellious] or, they disobeyed not: (see Psal. 5. 11.) that is, his words (or word) were not disobeyed or changed, but effected as God had spoken: see a like phrase noted on Psal. 49. 15. Or, they may be referred to Moses and Aaron, who performed the things commanded them, though with danger to them.

Vers. 29. to blood] the first of the ten plagues, Exod. 7. See Psal. 78. 44.

Vers. 30. frogs] the second plague, Exod. 8. 3, 6. Psal. 78. 45. Kings] Pharaoh and his Princes: so Esa. 19. 2.

Vers. 31. swarm] of flies or beasts: see Psal. 78. 45. This was the fourth plague, Exod. 8. 24. lice] the third plague. All the dust of the land was lice, and went upon man and beast, Exod. 8. 17.

Vers. 32. showers] of rain, instead whereof they had hail, the seventh plague, Exod. 9. See Psal. 78. 47. of flames] that is, sorely flaming and blasting; never was the like there seen, Exod. 9. 24.

Vers. 33. tree] for trees; so after, verse 34. 40. and often. See Psal. 34. 8.

Vers. 34. grasshopper] or locust, the eighth plague, Exod. 10. see Psal. 78. 46.

Vers. 36. the first-borne] the tenth plague, whereof see Psal. 78. 51.

Vers. 37. feeble] ready to fall through weakness, there being an army of six hundred thousand men, Exod. 12. 37. and 13. 18. A like promise is made to the Church, Esa. 33. 24.

Vers. 38. dread of them] that is, of death for their sakes, so that they forced them out, and gave them treasures, Exod. 12. 33, 35. See the like speech, Esth. 8. 17. and 9. 2.

Vers. 39. a fire] that they might travel night and day towards the promised land, Exod. 13. 21. Psa. 78. 14.

Vers. 40. quail] that is, quail which for their lust he gave them, Numb. 11. Compare Psal. 78. 27, 28. bread] Manna, whereof see Psal. 78. 24, 25. and Exod. 16.

Vers. 41. the Rock] at Rephidim, Exod. 17. and at Kadesh, Numb. 20. a river] so that the people and their beasts drank, Numb. 20. 11. and for this the wild beasts, Dragons, Ostriches, honored God, Esa. 43. 20. this mercy is applied to other times, Isa. 48. 21.

Vers. 44. heathens] the seven nations: whereof see Psal. 78. 55. [unspec 44]

Vers. 45. keep his laws] The end of all God's mercies was, that he might be glorified in his people's obedience: see Exod. 19. 4, 5, 6. Deut. 4. 1, 40. and 6. 21,—24, 25.

PSAL. CVI.

The Psalmist exhorteth to praise God. 4 He prayeth for pardon of sin, as God did with the fathers. 7 The story of the people's rebellion and God's mercies. 47 He concludeth with prayer and praise.

HAlelu-jah; Confess ye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever. Who can express the powers of Jehovah, can cause to hear all his praise? O blessed are they that keep judgment, is he that doth justice in all time. Remember me, Jehovah, with the favorable acceptance of thy people; visit me with thy salvation. To see the good of thy chosen, to rejoice with the joy of thy nation, to glory with thy inheritance. We have sinned with our fathers, we have done crookedly, we have done wickedly.

Our fathers in Egypt did not prudently mind thy marvelous works; they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies, but turned rebellious at the sea, at the red sea. Yet he saved them for his Name sake, to make known his power. And he rebuked the red sea, and it was dried up; and he led them in the deeps as in the wilderness. And he saved them from the hand of the hater, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy. And the waters covered their distressers, one of them was not left. And they believed in his words, they sang his praise.

They made haste, they forgot his works, they waited not for his counsel. But lusted with lust in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert. And he gave to them their request, and sent leanness into their soul.

And they envied at Moses in the campe, at Aharon the holy one of Jehovah. The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered over the congregation of Abiram. And a fire burned in their congregation, a flame burnt up the wicked.

They made a calf in Horeb, and bowed themselves to a molten Idol. And turned their glory into the form of an Ox that eateth grass. They forgot God their Savior, that did great things in Egypt. Marvelous works in the land of Cham, fearful things by the red sea. And he said, to abolish them; had not Moses, his chosen, stood in the breach before him, to turn his wrathful heat from destroying them.

And they contemptuously refused the land of desire, they believed not his Word. But murmured in their tents; they heard not the voice of Jehovah. And he lifted up his hand to them, to fell them in the wilderness.

And to fell their seed among the heathens, and to fan them in the lands.

And they were joined to Baal-pehor, and did eat the sacrifices of the dead. And moved indignation by their actions, and the plague brake in upon them. And Phineas stood and executed judgment, and the plague was restrained. And it was counted to him for justice to generation and generation forever.

And they caused servant wrath at the waters of Meribah, and evil was to Moses for their sake. For they bitterly provoked his spirit, and he pronounced it with his lips.

They abolished not the people's which Jehovah had said unto them. But mixed themselves among the heathens, and learned their works.

And served their Idols, & they were to them for a snare. And they sacrificed their sons and their daughters to Devils. And shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed to the Idols of Canaan; and the land was impiously distained with bloods. And they defiled themselves by their works, and whored by their practices. And the anger of Jehovah was kindled against his people, and he abhorred his inheritance. And he gave them into the hand of the heathens, and their haters ruled over them. And their enemies oppressed them, and they were humbled under their hand. Many times did he deliver them, and they bitterly provoked by their counsel; and were brought down by their iniquity. Yet he saw when distress was on them, when he heard their cry. And he remembered toward them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies. And gave them to tender mercies, before all that led them captives.

Save thou us, Jehovah our God, and gather us from the heathens, for to confess unto the Name of thine holiness, to glory in thy praise. Blessed be Jehovah, God of Israel, from eternity and unto eternity; and let all the people say, Amen, Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

The powers] that is, the powerful works, such as after follow, verse 8, &c. Thus also were Christ's miracles named, Mat. 11. 20, 21. So after, praise for praise-worthy acts. cause to hear that is, sound forth, or display, so as it may be heard: so Psal. 26. 7.

Vers. 4. visit me] that is, come and bestow thy salvation (help or deliverance) upon me: See Psal. 8. 5. and compare herewith. Luke 1. 68, 69.

Vers. 5. To see] That I may see or enjoy; See the Notes on Psal. 27. 4. to glory] or boast joyfully; see Psal. 34. 3. thy inheritance] that is, the people whom thou inheritest see Psal. 28. 9.

Vers. 6. sinned with our fathers] This confession agreeth with the law, Leviticus 26. 40. and with the practices of other godly, Jeremiah. 3. 25. Dan. 9. 5.

Vers. 7. turned rebellious] the Greek salth, provoked to bitteruesses; see Psal. 5. 11. By the red sea the Israelites distrusted God, and murmured against Moses, Exod. 14. 11, 12. yet there he saved them, verse. 15. 16, &c. thered Sea] so the New Testament calleth it in Greek, Heb. 11. 29. but the Hebrew is the sea Suph, that is, the sea of sedge or sea weeds which grew therein.

Vers. 9. (ϕ) reb•ked] that is, powerfully repressed the waves, &c. See the like, Nahum 1. 4. Isa. 50. 2. Mat. 8. 26. Psal. 18. 16. in the deeps] Israel went in the bottom of the red sea on dry ground, the deep waters being as walls on each hand of them, Exod. 14. 21, 22, 29 See also Isa. 63. 11, 12, 13.

Vers. 10. the hater] Pharaoh and his host that pursued them, Exod. 14. 23, 24, 30.

Vers. 12. they sang] as is expressed, Exod. 15. [unspec 14]

Vers. 14. with lust] that is, greedily, even weeping for desire of flesh to eat, and loathing Manna, Numb. 11. 4. 6.

Vers. 15. leanness] a sudden plague, whereby the souls or lives of the fatrest of them were taken away: see Psal. 78. 30, 31. also Isa. 10. 16.

Vers. 16. the holy one] sanctified of the Lord to the work of the Priesthood, Exodus 29. 44. Levite. 8. 12, &c. which Korah with other Levites envied, opposing their own holiness, Num. 16. 1, 3, 5.

Vers. 17. Dathan] and Abiram, princes with their families and all their goods went down alive into hell, Numb. 16. 32, 33.

Vers. 18. the wicked] 200 men that would burn incense to the Lord, were burnt with fire from the Lord, Numbers 16. 35. Korach was the chief of them.

Vers. 19. in Hereb] a mount in the wilderness, called the mountain of God, Exod. 3. 1. 1 King. 19. 8. for there God gave his Law, and made a covenant with them, Deut. 4. 10. and 5. 2. but while Moses was with God on the Mount, they made themselves a god of gold, Deuteronomy 9. 8, 9,—12. Exodus 32. 1, 4, 31. It was called also Sinai, Psal. 68. 9. of bushes that there grew, and Horeb of the dryness, for it was a waterless desert, Deut. 8. 15.

Vers. 20. their glory] that is, their God: so Ier. 2. 11. Thus did they like the heathens, Rom. 1. 23. for me •pattern, structure, or type, as the Apostle calleth it in Greek, Heb. 8. 5. from Exodus 25. 40.

Vers. 23. to abolish] or, that he would destroy them, and put out their name from under Heaven, as is expressed, Deut. 9. 13, 14. in the breach] in the gap which their sin had opened, for God as an enemy to enter and destroy them. A similitude taken from war, when by a breach in the wall, the enemy entereth the city: so Ezek. 13. 5. and 22. 30. But Moses earnest prayer stopped this breach, Exodus 32. 11,—14. destroying] Heb. corrupting, that is, consuming them: See Psal. 57. 1.

Vers. 24. land of desire] the pleasant land of Canaan, which was to be desired for the pleasures and profits of it above all other Countries, Ezek. 20. 6. Deut. 11. 11 22. This land they through unbelief refused to take possession of, Num. 14. 1, 2, 3, &c. Heb. 3. 19. So meat of desire is dainty meat, Job 33. 20.

Vers. 26. his hand] that is, sware (as the Chaldee explaineth) for so lifting up the hand often signifieth, as Gen. 14. 22. Rev. 10. 5, 6. Deut. 32. 40. Nehem. 9. 15. How God sware against this people, see Numbers 14. 21, 23. Psalm 95. 11.

Vers. 27. to fan] that is, scatter: see Psal. 44. 12. Ezek. 20. 23. [unspec 27]

Vers. 28. were joined] or coupled, yoked unequally with infidels, which the Apostle forbiddeth, 2 Cor. 6. 14. Baal-pehor] the God of Moab and Madian, to whom by Balaam's counsel Israel joined, Numb. 25. 3. and 31. 16. Revel. 2. 14. Baal signifieth a Lord, master, husband or patron: Pehor was the name of a mountain where this god was worshipped, and had a temple called Beth-pehor, Numb. 23. 28. Deut. 3. 29. Baal was a common name whereby the heathens called their gods, 2 King. 1. 2. Judge. 8. 33. and so Israel also called the true God, Hos. 2. 16. but for the shameful abuse of God's worship, the Scriptures turn Baal, a Lord, into bosheth, a shame; as Ierub-besheth, 2 Sam. 11. 21. for Ierub-baal (or Gideon) Judge. 8. 35. and 9. 1. Ish-bosheth, 2 Sam. 2. 10. or Esh-baal, 1 Chron. 8. 33. Mephi-bosheth, 2 Sam. 9. 10. or Merib-baal, 1 Chron. 8. 34. So the Greek in 1 King. 18. 25. for Baal hath Aischunes, that is, Shame. Hereupon the Prophet saith, they went to Baal-pehor, and separated themselves unto that Shame (Bosheth) Hos. 9. 10. and so Jeremiah calleth the Idols Shame or Confusion, Ier. 3. 24. and 11. 13. the dead] idols that have no life or breath, and so are opposed to the living God, Ier. 10. 5, 10. 1 Thes. 1. 9.

Vers. 29. brake in] with violence killing 24. thousand men, Numb. 25. 9. [unspec 29]

Vers. 30. Phineas] nephew of Aaron the Priest, he being zealous for the Lord, thrust thorough with a spear Zimri and Cozbi, that wrought abomination, Numb. 25. 7, 8, &c.

Vers. 31. for justice] for a just action, though done without ordinary authority, and God rewarded him for it, Numb. 25. 11, 12, 13.

Vers. 32. Meribah] that is, Contention, where they strove with the Lord, Numb. 20. 13. See Psal. 95. 8. evil was] God's displeasure towards Moses, who uttering his anger, was for it deprived of coming into the land of Canaan, Num. 20. 12. Deut. 3. 25, 26.

Vers. 34. the people's] the heathens in Canaan, as is noted, Iud. 1. 21. 27, 29, 30, 31, 33. though God commanded them, Exod. 23. 32, 33.

Vers. 36. idols] or images, named in Hebrew of the curious labor spent in framing and serving them, Ier. 10. 9. Isa. 44, 9, 12, 13, 15. or of sorrows that they bring to such as worship them, Psal. 16. 4. sometime they are called gods, 2 Sam. 5. 21. compared with 1 Chro. 14. 12. a snare] a scandal (as the Greek saith) whereby they fell into miseries; Judge. 2. 12, 13, 14, 15. Exod. 23. 33.

Vers. 37. devils] the Idols forementioned, whereby devils are worshipped and not God, as 1 Cor. 10. 19, 20. Rev. 9. 20. 2 Chron. 11. 15. Deut. 32. 17. Lev. 17. 7. Devils here are called Shedim, Wasters, in opposition to Shaddas, God Almighty, Psal. 68. 15.

Vers. 38. with bloods] that is, with blood-shed, as the Chaldee expounds it, with sins of murder.

Vers. 39. whored] committed spiritual whoredom, that is, idolatry: see Psal. 73. 27. Judge. 2. 17. Ezek. 23. 7, 37.

Vers. 42. their haters] the heathens round about, as was prophesied, Levite. 26. 17. and fulfilled, Judge. 3. 8, 14. and 4. 2. and 6. 1. and 10. 7, 8, 9. and 13. 1.

Vers. 43. Many times] by Ehud, Barak, Gideon, Iephtah, Samson, &c. Iud. 3. and 4. and 7. and 11. and 15. Nehem. 9. 28, 30. by their counsel] that is, purposely and advisedly, as 1 Chronicles 12. 19.

Vers. 46. gave them] that is, procured mercy (or favor) towards them.

Vers. 47. from the heathens] among whom divers Israelites were scattered by reason of their often troubles at home. So 1 Chron. 16. 35, 36. to glory] that we may glory or commend ourselves.

The fifth Book.

PSAL. CVII.

The Psalmist exhorteth the redeemed, in praising God to observe his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over sick men, 23 over sea men, 33 and in divers varieties of life.

Confesse ye to Jehovah, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever. Let the redeemed of Jehovah say it, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the distresser. And gathered them out of the lands, from East and from West, from North and from the sea. They wandered in the wilderness, in the desert without way; they found not a dwelling City. Hungry and also thirsty, their soul was overwhelmed in them. And they cried unto Jehovah in their distress; he rid them free out of their anguishes.

And he led them in a right way, for to come unto a dwelling City. Let them confess to Jehovah his mercy, and his marvelous works to the sons of Adam. For he hath satisfied the thirsty soul, and filled the hungry soul with good.

They that sit in darkness and the shadow of death, bound in affliction and iron. Because they turned rebellious against the Words of God, and despised the counsel of the most high. And he humbled their heart with molestation; they stumbled down, and there was no helper. And they cried unto Jehovah in their distress; he saved them out of their anguishes. He brought them forth from darkness and shadow of death, and brake their bands. Let them confess to Jehovah his mercy, and his marvelous works to the sons of Adam. For he hath broken the doors of brass, and hewed asunder the bars of iron.

Fools, for the way of their trespass, and for their iniquities are afflicted. Their soul abhorreth all meat, and they approach to the gates of death. And they cry unto Jehovah in their distress; he saveth them out of their anguishes. He sendeth his word and healeth them, and delivereth from their corruptions. Let them confess to Jehovah his mercy, and his marvelous works to the sons of Adam. And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of confession, and tell his works with shouting.

They that go down to the sea in ships, that do their labor in the many waters; They do see the works of Jehovah, and his marvelous acts in the deep. For he saith, and raiseth up the stormy wind; and it lifteth up the waves thereof. They mount up to the Heavens, they go down to the deeps; their soul in evil melteth away. They reel and stagger like a drunken man; and all their wisdom is swallowed up. And they cry unto Jehovah in their distress, and he bringeth them out from their anguishes. He setteth the storm to a silent calm, and the waves thereof are quiet. And they rejoice because they are stilled, and he leads them unto the haven of their desire. Let them confess to Jehovah his mercy, and his marvelous works to the sons of Adam. And let them exalt him in the Church of the people, and praise him in the sitting of the Elders.

He putteth rivers to a wilderness, and issues of waters to a thirstinesse. A land of fruit to saltness, for the evil of them that dwell therein. He putteth the wilderness to a pool of waters, and the land of drought to issues of waters. And seateth there the hungry, and they firmly prepare a dwelling City. And sow the fields, and plant Vineyards; and they yield fruitful revenue. And he blesseth them, and they are multiplied greatly; and their cattle he diminisheth not. And they are diminished and bowed down, by restraint, evil and sorrow. He poureth contempt on bounteous Princes, and maketh them err in deformed wilderness without way. And raiseth up the needy from afflicting poverty, and putteth his families as a flock. The righteous shall see and rejoice, and all injurious evil stop her mouth. Who is wise and will observe these things; and they shall understand the mercies of Jehovah.

Annotations.

The fifth book] see Psal. 42 1. [unspec 2]

Vers. 2. whom he hath] or, that he hath redeemed them. of the distresser] or of distress.

Vers. 3. the sea] that is, the south, where the red sea was situate from Judea (as the Chaldee explaineth it, the southern sea,) for the main sea was westward, Ios. 23. 4. and so is often used for the West.

Vers. 4. desert way] Heb. desert of way, meaning where no way was, as verse. 40. see also Esa. 43. 19. This estate figureth out men's dispersion among the people's of the world, Ezek. 20. 35, 36. when men are without the law, Rom. 2. 14. dwelling city] Heb. city of habitation or seating; so verse 7 36. that is, no harbor or place of refreshing, for wild and venomous beasts only haunted there, Ier. 2. 6. Deut. 8. 15. Compare also Eccles. 10. 15. Gen. 21. 14, 15, 16.

Vers. 5. overwhelmed] fainted: see Psal. 61. 3. [unspec 7]

Vers. 7. city] this the Chaldee expoundeth of Jerusalem.

Vers. 9. with good] or good things, as the Greek explaineth it: see Psal. 65. 5. Luk. 1. 53.

Vers. 10. shadow of death] that is, terrible darkness, meaning hereby sore afflictions in body and soul. See Psal. 23. 4. Esa. 49. 9. and 9. 2. Mat. 4. 15. Luk. 1. 79. affliction] as with cords and fetters: see Job 36. 8, 9, &c.

Vers. 16. bars] that is, all the most strong hindrances: so Isa. 45. 2.

Vers. 17. Fools] evil disposed persons, so named of their unadvised rashness: see Psal. 38. 6. are afflicted] or, bring affliction on themselves.

Vers. 18. soul] that is, appetite: see the like in Job 33. 20. and the contrary in Psal. 78. 18. gates] that is, imminent peril of death: see Psal. 9. 14. Job 33. 22.

Vers. 20. healeth them] example in Hezekiah, 2 King. 20. 1. 4, 5, 7. and the contrary in Asa, 2 Chron. 16. 12, 13. for God woundeth and healeth, Deut. 32. 39. Hos. 6. 1. Job 33. 19, 24. corruptions] that is, corrupting diseases, or corrupting graves whereinto they are ready to come: see Psal. 7. 16. Job 33. 28, 30.

Vers. 22. of confession] that is, thank-offerings: see Psal. 50. 14.

Vers. 23. do labor] that is, occupy or get their living: so Rev. 18. 17.

Vers. 25. raiseth up] or maketh stand, which noteth also the continuance of the storm. See an example, Ion. 1. 4.

Vers. 29. he setteth] or restoreth firm. See Mat. 8. 26. Ion. 1. 15.

Vers. 30. because they] or, when they, that is, the waves.

Vers. 32. the sitting] or the Assise (session) of the Elders or Senators, the governors of the people, whom the Chaldee calleth Wise men. And from this Psalm, and this verse of it, the Hebrews have this Canon: Four must confess (unto God;) The sick when he is healed, the prisoner when he is released out of bonds; they that go down to sea, when they are come up (to land;) and waifaring men, when they are come to the inhabited land. And they must make confession before ten men, and two of them wise men, Psal. 107. 32. And the manner of confessing and blessing is thus; He standeth among them, and blesseth the Lord, the King eternal, that bounteously rewardeth good things unto sinners, &c. Maimonides in Misr. treat. of Blessings, chap. 10. sect. 8.

Vers. 33. He putteth rivers] that is, he turneth watery fruitful places to a dry barren desert. Rivers here (as waters in Isa. 32. 20. Eccles. 11. 1.) are put for most fertile grounds, as wilderness for a dry barren ground, Deut. 8. 15. issues] that is, places where water-springs are. thirstinesse] that is, a thirsty dry land.

Vers. 34. saltness] that is, a salt barren land: so Ier. 17. 6. Job 39. 6. for salt causeth barrenness, Deu. 29. 23. Judge. 9. 45. The Chaldee paraphraseth, The fruitful land of Israel he layeth waste like Sodom, which was overthrown for the evil of them that dwelt therein.

Vers. 35. land of drought] that is, a dry barren land: compare Isa. 41. 18. [unspec 35]

Vers. 37. yield fruitful revenue] Heb. make fruit of revenue (or increase.) see Psal. 1. 3. [unspec 37]

Vers. 39. And they are] that is, And again, when he curseth them, they are minished, &c. the contrary to the former blesseth is to be understood, as in the Law, Deut. 28. 4, 18. Or, as the Chaldee expoundeth it, And when they sin, they are diminished. restraint] either of liberty by imprisonment, as Isa. 53. 8. or of any blessing.

Vers. 40. contempt] a base contemptible estate: so Job 12. 21. deformed wilderness] or wild ground, unordered: so Job 12. 24.

Vers. 41. raiseth up] or setteth in a high place safely; so 1 Sam. 2. 8. Psal. 1▪ 13. 7, 8. [unspec 41]

Vers. 42. all injurious evil] that is, all evil persons that deny God's providence, or blame his administration, shall have their mouths stopped: so Job 5. 16. and so pride is for proud persons, Psal. 36. 12.

Vers. 43. Who is wise?] a complaint how few there be that mark these things, and an intimation that every wise man will observe them: so Hos. 14. 10. Ier. 9. 12. and they shall] or, as before, who will understand.

PSAL. CVIII.

David encourageth himself to praise God. 6 He prayeth for God's assistance according to his promise. 11 His confidence in God's help.

A Song, a Psalm of David.

O God, mine heart is firmly prepared; I will sing and sing Psalm, yea with my glory. Raise up Psalterie and Harp; I will raise up at the day dawning. I will confess thee among the people's, O Tehovah, and will sing Psalms to thee among the Nations. That thy mercy is great above the heavens, and thy truth unto the skies. Be thou exalted over the Heavens, O God, and over all the earth thy glory. That thy beloved may be delivered; save thou with thy right hand, and answer me. God spake by his holiness, I will be glad; I shall divide Shechem, and measure the valley of Succoth.

Gilead shall be mine, Manasseh mine, and Aephrajim the strength of mine head; Iehudah shall be my law-giver. Moab my washing pot, over Edom I shall cast my shoe, over Palestine I will shout. Who will lead me along to the city of strong defense? who will conduct me into Edom?

Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us away; and wouldst not go forth, O God, in our hosts? O give thou us help from distress, for false vanity is the salvation of man. Through God we shall do valiantness; and he will tread down our distressers.

Annotations.

YEa with my glory] that is, with my soul and tongue (as Psal. 16. 9.) or, Yea my glory, to wit, shall sing. This Psalm is composed of the 57. Psal., from the 8. verse to the end, and of the 60. Psal., from the 7. verse to the end: see the Annotations there.

Vers. 7. answer me] or us: see Psal. 60. 7, &c. [unspec 14]

Vers. 14. valiantness] that is, valiantly, and so prevail, as Balaam prophesied, Numb. 24. 18.

PSAL. CIX.

David complaining of his slanderous enemies, under the person of Judas devoteth them. 16 He showeth their sin. 21 Complaining of his own misery, he prayeth for help. 29 He promiseth thankfulness.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

O God of my praise, cease not as deaf. For the mouth of the wicked one and the mouth of deceit are opened against me; they have spoken with me with a tongue of falsehood. And with words of hatred have they compassed me about, and warred against me without cause. For my love they are adversaries to me, and I (give myself to) prayer. And they put upon me evil for good, and hatred for my love. Set in office over him the wicked one, and let the adversary stand at his right hand. When he shall be judged, let him go forth wicked, and his prayer be to sin. Let his days be few, his office let another take. Let his sons be fatherless, and his wife a widow. And let his sons wandering wander and beg, and seek out of their desolate places. Let the Creditor ensnare all that he hath, and let strangers make spoil of his labor. Let there be none extending mercy to him, and let there be none showing favor to his fatherless children. Let his posterity be (appointed) to cutting off: in the generation next after let his name be wiped out. Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered of Jehovah, and the sin of his mother be not wiped out.

Let them be before Jehovah continually, and he cut off the memory of them from the earth. Because that he remembered not to do mercy, but persecuted the poor afflicted and needy man, and the smitten in heart, to slay him. And he loved cursing, and let it come unto him; and he delighted not in blessing, and let it be far from him. And he clothed himself with cursing as his raiment, and let it enter as waters into his inward part, and as oil into his bones. Let it be to him as a garment wherewith he may cover himself, and for a girdle wherewith he may gird himself continually. This be the work of mine adversaries from Jehovah, and of them that speak evil against my soul. And thou Jehovah, Lord, do with me for thy Name sake; for good is thy mercy, deliver thou me.

For I am poor afflicted and needy, and mine heart is wounded within me. As a shadow when it declineth I am gone away, I am tossed as the Grasshopper. My knees are feeble through fasting, and my flesh is lean for fatness. And I was a reproach to them; they saw me, they shook their head. Help thou me Jehovah, my God; save me according to thy mercy. And let them know that this is thine hand, thou Jehovah hast done it.

Let them curse, and do thou bless; rise they up and be abashed, and let thy servant rejoice. Let mine adversaries be clothed with ignominy, and let them cover themselves with their shame as with a cloke. I will confess Jehovah vehemently with my mouth, and in the midst of many will I praise him. For he will stand at the right hand of the needy, to save him from them that judge his soul.

Annotations.

OF my praise] that is, which art praised of me, as Psal. 22. 4. or, which praisest and justifiest me against the calumnies of mine enemies, 2 Cor. 10. 18. Rom. 2. 29. Numb. 12. 7, 8. cease not] or be not silent: see Psalm 28. 1. of deceit] that is, the deceitful men, as the Greek explaineth it: so pride for proud person, Psalm 36. 12. are] or have opened, to wit, themselves.

Vers. 4. and I prayer] to wit, I made or give my self to prayer (as the Greek and Chaldee saith) I prayed, or, I am a man of prayer. So I peace, Psal. 120. 7. See also 1 Cor. 14. 33.

Vers. 6. Set in office] or Make visiter, or over-seer: see verse 8. the wicked one] the devil, as 1 John. 2. 13, 14. and 3. 12. and 5. 18. or generally, wicked rulers. the adversary] in Hebrew Satan, in Greek the Devil, who is an adversary to mankind, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Rev. 12. 9. at his right hand] to resist and overcome him, Zach. 3. 1. and this is spoken of all his foes as of one man, or of someone special, as Doeg enemy to David, 1 Sam. 22. 9, &c. Judas to Christ, John. 13. 2. But God is at the right hand of the poor, verse. 31. Psal. 16. 8.

Vers. 7. wicked] that is (as the Greek saith) condemned: See the Notes on Psal. 1. 1. to sin] that is, turned to sin, and so abominable, Prov. 28. 9. and 15. 8.

Vers. 8. his office] or charge, visitation, bishopric, (Episcopee:) and this is applied to Judas, whose office was derived to Matthias, Act. 1. 16, 20, 26. A Bishop and bishops charge (so called of visitation) is a common name to all overseers and offices, Numb. 4. 16. and 31. 14. Ezek. 44. 11. 2 King. 11. 15. 2 Chron. 34. 12, 17. Nehem. 11. 9.

Vers. 9. fatherless] or orphans and this is a curse of the law, Exod. 22. 24. Ier. 18. 21.

Vers. 10. wander] rogue about as vagabonds, Gen. 4. 12.

Vers. 11. the Creditor] he to whom he is indebted, or the extortioner, let him seise on all his goods. his labor] goods gotten by his labor.

Vers. 13. posterity] or his last end: see Psal. 37. 37. to cutting off] or, appointed to be cut off, to perdition or to destruction, as the Greek explaineth. The verb active is of passive signification, as Psal. 32. 9. and 36. 3.

Vers. 15. memory] or memorial, Psal. 34. 17. Job 18. 17.

Vers. 16. smitten] with grief, that is, sorrowful, or as the Greek saith, pricked in heart. So verse 22. See Psal. 102. 5. and 34. 19.

Vers. 17. let it come] or, it shall come: and so after.

Vers. 18. his raiment] or a mantell. let it enter] or, it entered. It may be understood of his delight in cursing, which pleased him as water and oil, or of the efficacy of the curse that should pierce his own bowels and bones, as Num. 5. 22.

Vers. 20. the work] that is, the wage or reward due for his work: so Lev. 19. 13. Isa. 49. 4. Job 7. 2. Ezek. 29. 20.

Vers. 21. Jehovah] the Name of God: see Psal. 68. 21. do] to wit, mercy, as the next words show, and is expressed, Psal. 18. 51. See also Psal. 103. 9. where the word anger is omitted.

Vers. 23. I am gone] or am made to go (or depart) namely towards my grave, as Psal. 58. 9. See also Psal. 102. 12. 1 Chron. 17. 11. tossed as the grasshopper] or, shaken off as the Locust, which hath no nest or biding place, but is driven to and fro, being a fearful creature, Nahum 3. 17. Job 39. 23. or which is carried away with the wind, Exodus 10. 1•.

Vers. 24. feeble] or loosened, so that I am ready to stumble and fall. So Paul calleth them loose or feeble knees, Heb. 12. 12. from Isa. 35. 3. for fatness] or for oil, that is, for want of fat or oil: as for the fruits, is for want of the fruits, Lam. 4. 9. for five, is for want of five, Gen. 18. 28. for fornication, 1 Cor. 7. 2. is, for to avoid fornication. Or we may turn it without fat, for the Hebrew min, sometime signifieth without, Job 21. 9.

Vers. 25. shaked] or wagged, a sign of scorn, Psal. 22. 8. [unspec 25]

Vers. 27. thine hand] that is, thy handy work. [unspec 28]

Vers. 28. rise they up] to wit, against me (as the Greek explaineth it) and be they abashed as disappointed of their purpose.

Vers. 30. of many] or, of the mighties, of great men, as the Chaldee saith, of wise men; but the Greek translateth, of many.

Vers. 31. at the right hand] to assist, contrary to Satan, verse 6. that judge] that is, condemn and persecute him to death.

PSAL. CX.

David prophesieth of Christ's Kingdom, 4 his eternal Priesthood, 5 his Conquest, 7 and his Passion.

A Psalm of David.

Jehovah assuredly said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand until I put thine enemies the footstool of thy feet. Jehovah will send out of Zion the rod of thy strength; rule thou in the middles of thine enemies. Thy people shall be voluntaries in the day of thy power; in the beauties of holiness, of the womb of the early morning; to thee the dew of thy youth. Jehovah sware, and will not repent, thou art a Priest forever, according to the order of Malchisedek. The Lord at thy right hand, he hath wounded Kings in the day of his wrath. He shall judge among the heathens; he hath filled with corpses, he hath wounded the head over a great land. Of the brook in the way shall he drink, therefore he shall lift up the head.

[unspec 7]

Annotations.

Jehovah] that is, God the Father. assuredly said] see Psal. 36. 2. to my Lord] that is, to Christ, whom David here calleth his Lord, though he was also his son according to the flesh, Mat. 22. 42, 45. Rom. 1. 3. Act. 2. 34. So the Chaldee, The Lord said unto his Word, meaning Christ, John. 1. 1. sit at my right hand] sitting noteth reigning with continuance, 1 Cor. 15. 25. Heb. 10. 12, 13. So sitting on his throne, 1 King. 3. 6. is expounded, reigning in his stead, 2 Chron. 1. 8. God's right hand meaneth his power and majesty in the Heavens, Luk. 22. 69. Mark. 16. 19. Heb. 1. 3. and 8. 1. and this above all Angels, Heb. 1. 13. thine enemies] even all of them, the last whereof is death, 1 Cor. 15. 25, 26. Of this place the Apostle giveth this exposition, Every Priest standeth daily ministering, and oft times offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: but this man having offered one sacrifice for sin, fitteth forever at God's right hand, henceforth expecting till his enemies be put the footstool of his feet, Heb. 10. 11, 12, 13.

Vers. 2. the rod] or staff (scepter) of thy strength; thy strong staff (O Christ) that is, the powerful word of thy Kingdom, Isa. 11. 4. Mat. 13. 19. which was to come out of Zion and Jerusalem, Isa. 2. 3. Luk. 24. 49. Acts 1. 4. and 2. 1, 2, &c. For in Zion Christ reigneth, Psal. 2. 6. Rev. 14. 1. rule thou] that is, thou shalt surely rule or have dominion: see the Notes on Psal. 37. 3.

Vers. 3. voluntaries] a people of voluntarinesses, or of liberalities (as Psal. 68. 10.) that is, shall most freely, willingly, and liberally present themselves and their oblations to thee, as Judge. 5. 9. Act. 2. 41. Exod. 25. 2. Rom. 12. 1. Psal. 47. 10. and 119. 108. Song 6. 11. of thy power] or army (as Psal. 33. 16.) that is, when thou sendest forth thy powerful Gospel and Preachers of the same to conquer the world, Rom. 1. 16. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5. Rev. 6. 2. Psal. 45. 4, 5, 6. in the beauties of bolinesse] or in the comely honors of the Sanctuary; meaning either the comely (or honorable) places of holiness, (or of the Sanctuary) as Psal. 29. 2. that is, the Church; or rather, in the beautiful ornaments of holiness, that is, holy graces and virtues, wherewith Christ and his people are adorned, as the Priests and Levites of old with Vrim, Thummim, and holy garments, Exod. 28. 2, 40. Isa. 52. 1. So the Warriors in heaven are clothed with fine linen, white and pure, the righteousness of the Saints, Rev. 19. 14. 8. of the womb, &c.] This place is difficult, and may diversely be understood, either of Christ himself, or of his people: and again, if of Christ, either in respect of his Godhead or of his Manhood. Of his Godhead, that the Father saith unto him, of the womb (that is, of mine own essence) before the early morning (that is, before the world was) to thee was (or thou hadst) the dew of thy youth; (or birth) so noting the eternal generation of Christ before all worlds, as is shown, Prov. 8. 22, 23. 24, 25. And this sense the Lxx. Greek Interpreters seem to follow, translating, Of the womb before the morning star begat I thee. If it be meant of Christ's manhood, we may take it thus, of the womb of the dark morning (or of the obscure womb of the virgin) thou hadst the dew of thy birth. If of Christ's people before mentioned, it may thus be read; Of the womb of the morning to thee shall be (or shall come) the dew of thy youth, that is, thy youth (thy young or newborne people) shall be to thee as the morning dew, which falleth secretly from heaven, and abundantly covereth the earth: For so the dew is sometime used, 2 Sam. 17. 12. and unto rain, dew, ice, &c. the Scripture applieth the names of womb and begetting, Job 38. 28, 29. and the increase of the Church is by this figure described, as, The remnant of Jacob shall be among many people, as, a dew from the Lord, as showers upon the grass, that waiteth not for man, &c. Mic. 5. 7. This last sense accordeth best with the beginning of the verse. of the womb] or from the womb of the morning. of the early morning,] or, before the dawning: the morning (or day-dawning) in Hebrew Mishchar, is named of the blackness or darkness, which also the Scripture showeth, John. 20. 1. and the letter M. is either a preposition, signifying from, or before, as Isa. 43. 13. or, but a part of the word, here meaning, of. to thee] understand was, or shall be; that is, thou hast, or shalt have. dew of thy youth] or, of thy birth, that is, thy youth which is like the dew. Youth or nativity, may either be taken properly for young age, as Eccles. 11. 9. or figuratively, for young persons, meaning the regenerate, which are as new borne babes, John. 1. 13. and 3. 3. 1 Pet. 2. 2.

Vers. 4. *sware] For as much (saith the Apostle) as it is not without an oath, &c. by so much is Jesus made surety of a better Testament, Heb. 7. 20. 22. a Priest] or Sacrificer; see Psal. 99. 6. forever,] Among the Levites, many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure by reason of death: but this man because he endureth ever, hath an ever lasting priesthood. Wherefore he is able also perfectly to save them that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them, Heb. 7. 23, 24, 25. to the order] or according to my speech: both these interpretations are good, the one from the Apostles authority, Heb. 7. 17. the other from the Hebrew propriety dibrathi, as Job 5. 8. meaning the manner and order of Melchizedek, as God speaketh of him in the history, where he is brought in without father, mother kindred, beginning of days, or end of life, continuing a Priest forever, as the Apostle gathereth, Heb. 7. 1, 3. from the narration, Gen. 14. 18, &c. of Melchisedek] the King of Salem, and Priest of the most high God, whose name and office is opened, Heb. 7. 1, 2, &c. from which he inferreth, *If perfection had been by the Priesthood of the Levites, &c. what needed it that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchizedek, and not to be called after the order of Aaron? Heb. 7. 11.

Vers. 5. The Lord] Christ, as in verse. 1. which the Chaldee calleth Shekinah] (the divine presence) of the LORD. at thy right hand] this may be spoken to God the Father, at whose right hand Christ sitteth, as verse. 1. or to the people of God, at whose right hand he standeth, as Psal. 109. 31. hath wounded] or shall wound, or embrew in blood, as Psal. 68. 22, 24. a prophesy spoken as of a thing done. So usually in the Prophets, Isa. 9. 6. and 53. 4, 5, &c. See this fulfilled, Rev. 19. 18.

Vers. 6. hath filled] or shall fill, to wit, all places with dead bodies, slain and unburied, as Ier. 16. 4. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, he hath filled the land with carcasses of the wicked which are slain. the head] Antichrist the man of sin, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, 2 Thes. 2. 3, 8. or head for heads, and land for lands; that is, all wicked governors wheresoever.

Vers. 7. of the brook] or stream, to wit, of afflictions (as waters usually signify, Ps. 18. 5.) Christ was to drink, that is, to suffer, and so to enter into his glory, Matth. 26. 39 42. Luke 24. 26. 1 Pet. 1. 11. Philip. 2. 8, 9. Or, drinking of the brook in the way, may mean a short refreshing of himself, and then a hot pursuit of his enemies without delay, till he hath got a full conquest of them. Compare herewith the history of Gedeons soldiers, Judge. 7. 4, 5, 6, &c. As waters sometimes signify doctrine; so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, From the mouth of the Prophet he shall receive doctrine in the way.

PSAL. CXI.

The praises of God for his glorious and gracious works.

1 Halelu-jah. [unspec א]

I Will confess Jehovah, with all the heart: in the secret of the righteous, and assembly. [unspec ב]

2 Great are the actions of Jehovah, sought [unspec ג] out of all that delight in them. [unspec ד]

[unspec ה] 3 Glorious majesty, and comely honor is his work, and his justice standeth to perpetual aye. [unspec ו]

4 He hath made a memorial of his marvelous [unspec ז] works; gracious and pitiful is Jehovah. [unspec ח]

5 He hath given a prey to them that fear [unspec ט] him: he will remember his covenant forever. [unspec י]

6 He hath shown to his people the able [unspec כ] power of his actions, in giving to them the inheritance of the heathens. [unspec ל]

7 The actions of his hands are truth and [unspec מ] judgment; faithful are all his precepts. [unspec נ]

8 Stablished they are for aye [unspec ס] forever, done in truth and righteousness. [unspec ע]

9 He sent redemption to his people, he [unspec פ] hath commanded his covenant forever; holy [unspec צ] and fearful is his name. [unspec ק]

10 The beginning [unspec ר] of wisdom is the fear of Jehovah; good prudence have [unspec ש] all they that do them: his praise standeth to perpetual aye. [unspec ת]

Annotations.

HAlelu-jah] Praiseye Yah. This Psalm setteth forth the praises of God, and is composed after the order of the Hebrew Alphabet, every sentence beginning with a several letter. So also the Psalm following. See Psal. 25. 1. the secret] or Council; see Psal. 64. 3. and 89. 8.

Vers. 2. sought out] that is, regarded and cared for; so Isa. 62. 12. a city sought out, that is, cared for, as Deut. 11. 12. Or sought out, that is, found, or manifested unto, as Isa. 65. 1. compared with Rom. 10. 20. Or sought, that is, worthy to be sought, as Praised, Psal. 18. 4. for praise-worthy. of all that delight] or for all their delights, that is, the delights and pleasures of God's works are such, as they are worthy to be sought into. The original may bear either sense.

Vers. 3. Majesty] that is, most majesticall and honorable. standeth] that is, continueth, or abideth firm, as 1 Sam. 16. 22, Psal. 102. 27. and 33. 11. 2 Cor. 9. 9. from Psal. 112. 9.

Vers. 5. a prey] that is, a portion of meat, or food, as the Greek and Chaldee explain it. So Prov. 31. 15. Mal. 3. 10.

Vers. 6. in giving] or, to give unto them. [unspec 6]

Vers. 7. faithful] or sure, constant: see Ps. 19. 8.

Vers. 9. redemption] or deliverance; which meaneth both a riddance from the evils wherein they have been, Deut. 7. 8. and 15. 15. Psal. 25. 22. and 130. 8. and a preservation from the evils whereinto the wicked fall, Exod. 8. 23. Psal. 49. 7, 16. and 119. 134.

Vers. 10. beginning] the first, chief and principal, either in time or dignity. So, the first, Mark 12. 28. for the great commandment, Matth. 22. 36. prudenci▪] understanding, or success and felicity, which commonly followeth prudency, Prov. 3. 4. have all] or, shall be to all. do them] the precepts mentioned, verse. 7. or, these things generally. The Greek saith, do it, meaning the covenant, verse. 9. his] that is, God's praise, of whom this Psalm is composed, verse. 1, &c. standeth] that is, abideth or continueth, as verse. 3.

PSAL. CXII.

The praises of the godly man, who hath the promises of this life, and of that which is to come. His prosperity shall be an eye-sore to the wicked.

Halelu-jah.

1 OBlessed is the man that feareth Jehovah; [unspec 8] that delighteth greatly in his [unspec 9] commandments.

2 His seed shall be mighty in the earth: [unspec 10] the generation of the righteous shall be blessed. [unspec 11]

3 Wealthy store and riches shall be in [unspec 12] his house: and his justice standeth to perpetual aye. [unspec 13]

4 Unto the righteous light ariseth in darkness: [unspec 14] gracious, and pitiful, and just. [unspec 15]

5 A good man doth graciously and lendeth: [unspec 16] he will moderate his words in judgment. [unspec 17]

6 Surely he shall not be moved forever: [unspec כ] the just man shall be to everlasting momorie. [unspec ל]

7 He will not fear for evil hear-say: his [unspec נ] heart is fixed, trusting in Jehovah. [unspec י]

8 His heart is stablished, [unspec ו] he will not fear; until he see, upon his distresses. [unspec ע]

9 He hath scattered abroad, [unspec פ] he hath given to the poor; his justice standeth to perpetual aye: [unspec צ] his horn shall be exalted with honor. [unspec ק]

10 The wicked shall see, and be angry; he [unspec ר] shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: [unspec ש] the desire of the wicked shall perish. [unspec ת]

Annotations.

HAlelu-jah] or, Praise ye the LORD. This Psalm setteth out the praises of the godly man; and is composed after the order of the Hebrew Alphabet, even as the former 111. Psalm, with which in many things it is to be compared.

Vers. 2. his seed] his children, as Psal. 21. 11. Levite. 21. 17. So the Chaldee saith, his sons shall be mighty in the Law. the generation] their progeny, as Deut. 29. 22. Job 42. 16. or, the nation, (the multitude) of righteous men: see Psal. 12. 8. and 14. 5.

Vers. 3. Wealth] or store of riches, sufficiency of wealth gathered with labor and industry: the Hebrew Hon signifieth also sufficiency, Prov. 30. 15. standeth] that is, continueth, abideth, as Psal. 111. 3. where the very same is spoken of God. So after, verse. 9.

Vers. 4. light ariseth] or springeth up, properly as the Sun riseth, Mal. 4. 2. Light signifieth comfort, peace, joy, &c. as darkness, affliction, Job 30. 26. Esth. 8. 16. Psal. 107. 10. Lam. 3. 2. And so in Religion, Act. 26. 18, 23. Rom. 2. 19. 2 Cor. 4. 6. Compare this sentence with Esa. 58. 10. Exod. 10. 23. and the contrary, Job 38. 15. gracious] this may be understood of God, thus; from him that is gracious, &c. as Psal. 111. 4. or of the godly man, that he is gracious, &c. as the next verse showeth: or, of the light, that it is gracious, &c. meaning it of God, who is our light, as Psal. 27. 1.

Vers. 5. will moderate] or measure out, or carry and dispense them, as the Greek explaineth it, by the similitude of a steward. his words] or, affairs, matters. en-judgment] or, with discretion▪ as is fit and right, Psal. 25. 9. Ezek. 34. 16.

Vers. 6. Surely] or For▪ compare Psal. 15. 5. [unspec ז]

Vers. 7. hear-say] or hearing, that is, tidings, fame, rumour or report, which he heareth, as the word signifieth, Rom. 10. 16, 17. So that which one Evangelist calleth akoe, hearing, Mark. 1. 28. another calleth echos, sound or ecchoe, Luke 4. 37. both meaning fame or rumour. See the contrary to this in the wicked, Ier. 49. 23. fixed] or firmly prepared, not to be moved with ill tidings.

Vers. 8. he see] to wit, God's work, or reward; see Psal. 54. 9. The Chaldee otherwise, thus, till he see redemption in distress.

Vers. 9. scatt•red] to wit, his riches (as the Chaldee explaineth it) that is, given and lent it freely, without looking for anything thereof, as Luke. 6. 35. though thereby he is more increased, Prov. 11. 24. See 2 Cor. 9. 9. justice] this generally is all righteousness, sometime alms; see Psal. 24. 5. his horn] that is, power and glory: so the Chaldee saith, his strength: see Ps. 75. 5. 11. and 92. 11. and 89. 18, 25. 1 Sam. 2. 1.

Vers. 10. the desire] that is, the thing that he desireth shall not be granted him. Compare Prov. 10. 24, 28. and 13. 12.

PSAL. CXIII.

An exhortation to praise God for his excellency, 6 for his mercy.

Halelu-jah.

PRaise ye servants of Jehovah: praise ye the name of Jehovah. Blessed be the name of Jehovah, from this time, and forever. From the rising of the Sun, unto the going in of the same: praised be the name of Jehovah. Jehovah is high, above all nations. his glory is above the heavens. Who is like Jehovah our God, that lifteth himself high, to sit? That debaseth himself low to see, in the heavens, and in the earth. He raiseth the poor from the dust: he lifteth up the needy from the dung. To set him with bounteous Princes, with the bounteous Princes of his people. He maketh the barren of house to dwell, a joyful mother of children; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

FRom this time] or, from now, henceforth. So Psa. 115. 18. and 121. 8. and 131. 3. [unspec 2]

Vers. 3. rising] that is, the east part of the world; as Psal. 103. 12. going in] or going down, that is, the west, where the Sun is said to go in, as when it riseth, to come out, Gen. 19. 28. meaning by east and west, all the world over: so Mal. 1. 11.

Vers. 5. lifteth high to sit] or, to dwell, that is, (as the Greek explaineth it) dwelleth on high: and so after, seeth the things below.

Vers. 7. from the dust] that is, from base estate, as 1 King. 16. 2. So after, from dung, as Lam. 4. 5. This speech is taken from 1. Sam ⟨...⟩

Vers. 9. the barren of house] that is, the woman which never had children; as on the contrary, fruit full women are said to build their husbands houses, Ruth 4. 11. so house is used for children or ⟨...⟩, Psal. 115. 10. 12. Exod. 1. 21. See also Psal. 68 7. The Scriptures apply this to the Church of the Gentiles; as, Rejoice O barren that diddest not bear, &c. Esa. 54. 1. Gal. 4. 26, 27.

PSAL. CXIV.

The deliverance of Israel out of Egypt affected the dumb creatures: all the earth are thereupon exhorted to fear God.

WHen Israel went out from Egypt, the house of Jacob from the people of a barbarous speech; Judah was for his sanctuary, Israel his dominions. The sea saw, and fled: the Iarden turned about backward. The Mountains leaped like Rams: the hills like younglings of the flock. What ailed thee, O sea, that thou fleddest; O Iarden, that thou turnedst about backward? O mountains, that ye leaped like Rams: ye hills, like younglings of the flock?

At the presence of the Lord tremble thou earth; at the presence of the God of Jacob. That turneth the rock to a lake of waters, the flint to a fountain of waters.

Annotations.

Barbarous speech] or, speaking barbarously, of a strange, rude, uncouth language. This word is here only used, and meaneth all speech that was not understood of God's people; which he that speaketh, is called of the Apostle, a Barbarian, that is, a stranger, 1 Cor. 14. 11. even as here also the Chaldee turneth it. Spiritually it meaneth such as speak against the faith, the language of Canaan, Isa. 19. 18.

Vers. 2. Judah] that is, the congregation of that tribe, which was most principal, Num. <math>\langle \diamond \rangle</math> . 3. and 7. 12. and 10. 14. was] or became; and it is of the feminine gender, to signify the Congregation, usually named a daughter, as Ps. 9. 15. his sanctuary] sanctity, or sanctification, which God had sanctified to dwell among them, Levite. 19. 2. and 20. 7, 26. and 26. 11, 12. 2 Cor. 6. 16. The Chaldee explaineth it thus, The Church of the house of Judah was united to his holiness, Israel to his dominions. dominions] or dominations (seigniories) ruling over the tribes by his laws and spirit.

Vers. 3. The sea] the red sea, thorough which Israel passed, Exod. 14. 21. Psal. 77. 17. and 78. 13. and 66. 6. and 136. 13. the Iarden] the great river in the land of Canaan, Ios. 3. Psal. 66. 6.

Vers. 4. The mountains] Sinai, Horeb, and other hills in the wilderness quaked, Exod. 19. 18. Hab. 3. 6, 10. Psal. 68. 9. So leaping is used also in Psal. 29. 6. The Chaldee paraphraseth, When he gave his law to his people, the mountains leaped, &c. younglings] Hebr. sons; meaning Lambs: so verse. 6.

Vers. 5. What ailed thee] or, what was to thee? [unspec 5]

Vers. 7. At the presence] or, At the face, or Before the Lord. For these phrases are used indifferently; as milliphnei, at the presence, 1 Chron. 16. 33. is liphnei, before, Psal. 96. 13. So Milliphnei, before, or from the face, 1 Chro. 19. 18. for which in 2 Sam. 10. 18. is Miphnei, before. tromble thou] with pain as a woman in travel; see Psal. 29. 8. It is an answer to the former question, and therefore may also be turned, the earth trembled, (as the like is observed in Psal. 22. 9.) and so the Greek here translateth, the earth was shaken.

Vers. 8. the flint] that is, hard flinty rock, as is explained, Deut. 8. 15. Compare Isa. 41. 18.

PSAL. CXV.

Because God is truly glorious, and idols are vanity, 9 he exhorteth to confidence in God, who is to be blessed for his blessings.

NOt unto us, Jehovah, not unto us, but unto thy name give the glory, for thy merey, for thy truth. Wherefore should the heathens say, Where is now their God? And our God is in the heavens: whatsoever pleaseth him, he doth. Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands. A mouth they have, and speak not: eyes they have, and see not. Ears they have, and hear not: a nose they have, and smell not. Hands they have, and feel not; feet they have, and walk not: they make no sound with their throat. Like them be they that make them: everyone that trusteth in them.

O Israel, trust thou in Jehovah: he is their help, and their shield. O house of Aaron, trust ye in Jehovah: he is their help, and their shield. Ye that fear Jehovah, trust in Jehovah: he is their help, and their shield. Jehovah hath remembered us, he will bless us: he will bless the house of Israel, he will bless the house of Aaron. He will bless them that fear Jehovah; the small with the great.

Jehovah will add unto you; unto you, and unto your sons. Blessed shall you be of Jehovah, which made the heavens, and earth. The heavens are Jehovah's; and the earth he hath given to the sons of Adam. Not the dead shall praise Yah; neither any that go down to silence. But we will bless Yah, from this time, and forever; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

NOt to us] or, for us; the Chaldee addeth, not for our desert. This Psalm the Greek joineth with the former, and maketh it a part of the 114. Psalm. See the notes on Psal. 10. 1.

Vers. 2. now] or, I pray. A word of entreating, but used here in mockage. See Ps. 79. 10.

Vers. 3. And] or, But our God. It is a sign of indignation, as Psal. 2. 6.

Vers. 5. They have] Hebr. is to them, speak not] or, cannot speak, as Psal. 77. 5. and so the rest. Compare herewith Ier. 10. 3, 4, 5, 9, &c. Deut. 4. 28.

Vers. 7. sound] or matter, meditate; see Psal. 1. 2.

Vers. 9. Israel] the Church is here distinguished into three parts: 1 Israel, or the body of the Common-wealth: 2 Aaron's house the Ministers; and 3 the fearers of Jehovah, that is, strangers, converts of all nations, Acts 2. 5. and 10. 35. So after in verse. 12, 13. and Psal. 118. 2, 3, 4. trust thou] the Greek saith, hath trusted; and so the rest. See the notes on Psal. 22. 9. and 114. 7. their help] to wit, which trust in him. Or it may be for your help; one person put for another, as often is. See Psal. 59. 10. 65. 7. and 80. 7.

Vers. 10. House] that is, children or posterity. See Psa. 113. 9.

Vers. 12. hath remembered] The Chaldee explaineth it, The word of the Lord hath remembered us for good, will bless] to wit, us; as the Greek turneth it, being mindful of us, hath blessed us. See the like want, in Ps. 59. 14. and 69. 2. and 45. 4.

Vers. 13. small] or little, in age or degree. So Rev. 11. 18.

Vers. 14. will add unto] or add upon you, that is, increase you, as Deut. 1. 11. Esa. 26. 15. or, add his blessings.

Vers. 15. shall you be of] or, are you to Jehovah, that is, by him. See the like phrase, Gen. 14. 19. 2. Sam. 2. 5.

Vers. 16 he hath given] or understand, which he hath given: for, the earth also is his, Psal. 24. 1. though heaven properly is his dwelling place, yet not able to contain him, 1 King. 8. 30. 27.

Vers. 17. to silence] the grave, the place of silence & quierness: as Job 3. 17, 18. See Ps. 94. 17. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the place of burial in the earth.

PSAL. CXVI.

The Psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankful.

I Love, because Jehovah heareth my voice, my supplications. Because he bowed his ear unto me, and in my days I will call. The pangs of death compassed me, and the straight afflictions of hell found me: I found distress and sorrow. And I called on the name of Jehovah: O Jehovah, deliver my soul. Gracious is Jehovah, and just: and our God is merciful. Jehovah keepeth the simple; I was brought low, and he saved me. Return, O my soul, unto thy rest, for Jehovah hath bounteously rewarded unto thee. Because thou hast released my soul from death, mine eye from tears, my foot from sliding. I will walk on before Jehovah, in the lands of the living. I believed, therefore did I speak; I was afflicted vehemently. I did say in my hastening away, every man is a liar. What shall I render to Jehovah, for all his bountiful rewards unto me? I will take up the cup of salvations, and will call on the name of Jehovah. My vows to Jehovah I will pay, in the presence now of all his people. Precious in the eyes of Jehovah, is the death of his gracious Saints. O Jehovah, surely I am thy servant, I am thy servant, the son of thine hand-maid; thou hast unloosed my bands. To thee will I sacrifice a sacrifice of confession, and will call on the name of Jehovah. My vows to Jehovah will I pay, in the presence now of all his people. In the courts of the house of Jehovah; in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

I Love] to wit, the Lord: or, I am lovingly affected, and well pleased. The Greek here beginneth the 114. Psalm; see the note on Psal. 10. 1. and after, verse. 10. heareth] or will hear, to wit, continually.

Vers. 2. and] that is, therefore will I call, or, when I did call. my days] that is, whiles I live: or days of affliction, as Job 30. 16. See Ps. 119. 84. & 37. 12.

Vers. 3. pangs] or pains: compare Psa. 18. 5. & hell] the state of death, or grave: see Ps. 16. 10. found] that is, came upon me. So 1 Chron. 10. 3. Nehem. 9. 32. Esth. 8. 6. Psal. 119. 143.

Vers. 5. Oh] or, I beseech thee, O now! The Hebrew Anna and Na, are words of entreating; as the Greek Nai, Philem. 1. 20. Rev. 1. 7.

Vers. 6. brought low] draws dry, weakened, and afflicted: see Psal. 41. 2. and 79. 8.

Vers. 7. thy rest] thy quiet comfortable estate in God, without trouble of conscience. This Christ giveth, Matth. 11. 29. but sin taketh away, Deu. 28. 65. rewarded] or, as the Greek saith, been beneficial; the Chaldee explaineth it, the word of the Lord hath rewarded good unto thee: See Psal. 13. 6.

Vers. 8. sliding] or thrust, fall: See Psal. 56. 14. 1 Sam. 2. 9.

Vers. 9. walk on] to wit, pleasingly, as the Greek explaineth; or, pleasingly administer: so 1 Sam. 2. 30, 35. Psal. 86. 14. the living] in this world: see Psal. 27. 13.

Vers. 10. therefore] the Hebrew Ki, For, is here used for therefore, as the Greek translatheth, and the Apostle alloweth, 2 Cor. 4. 13. So may it also be taken, 1 Sam. 2. 21. so the Greek ho; as Luke 7. 47. for she loved, that is, therefore she loved much. Here the Greek version beginneth the 115 Psalm.

Vers. 11. my hastening] through fear; in Greek my ecstasy (or trance;) see Psal. 31. 23. hereto is opposed his quietness, Psal. 30. 7. every man] even the Prophets, which have promised me the kingdom, &c. and thus it might be David's infirmity: or indeed, every man (in respect of God) is alier, and unable to help in time of need, Numb. 23. 19. Rom. 3. 4. Psal. 33. 17.

Vers. 12. for all] so the Greek supplieth the word for: and by rewards, he meaneth benefits, as verse. 7. Compare 1 Thes. 3. 9. 2 Chron. 32. 25.

Vers. 13. the cup of salvations] or, of healths, that is, of thanksgiving for God's saving health and deliverance of me. For mercies received, the Israelites used to offer peace (or thank offerings); whereof they did eat, and rejoice before the Lord; and at their bankers, took up the cup of wine in their hands, and blessed God: called thereupon the cup of blessing, 1 Cor. 10. 16. So our Lord, at the feast of the Passover, took the cup, and gave thanks, Luk. 22. 17. call on] that is, pray, and praise God: or call in, that is, proclaim and preach God's mercies: so verse. 17.

Vers. 15. Precious, &c.] that is, God will not easily suffer his Saints to be slain: see Psal. 72. 14. So the soul is said to be precious, when the life is spared, 1 Sam. 26. 31. 2 King. 1. 13.

Vers. 16. handmaid] borne thy servant in thy house: see Psal. 86. 16. bands] that is, hast set me at liberty; (as Job 39. 8.) from afflictions, Esa. 28. 22. a similitude taken from captives, Esa. 52. 2.

Vers. 17. confession] that is, a thank-offering: see Psal. 50. 14.

PSAL. CXVII.

The Gentiles are exhorted to praise God for his mercy and truth.

Praise Jehovah all ye Gentiles; laud him all ye people's. For his mercy is mighty towards us; and the faithfulness of Jehovah endureth forever; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

Gentiles] or nations; all which are exhorted to glorify God, for obtaining mercy by Christ, who hath received us into the glory of God; as the Apostle showeth from this Scripture, Rom. 15. 7.—11.

PSAL. CXVIII.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy. 5 The Psalmist by his experience showeth how good it is to trust in God. 19 Under the type of the Psalmist, the coming of Christ in his kingdom is expressed.

Confesse ye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever. Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth forever. Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth forever. Let them that fear Jehovah, now say, that his mercy endureth forever. Out of straight affliction I called on Yah; Yah answered me with a large roomth. Jehovah is for me, I will not fear what man can do unto me. Jehovah is for me with them that help me, and I shall see on them that hate me. It is better to hope for safety in Jehovah, than to trust in man. It is better to hope for safety in Jehovah, than to trust in bounteous Princes. All nations compassed me, but in the name of Jehovah I cut them off. They compassed me, yea they compassed me, but in the name of Jehovah I cut them off. They compassed me as Bees, they were quenched as a fire of thorns; but in the name of Jehovah I cut thē off. Thrusting thou thrustedst me to fall, and Jehovah helped me. Yah is my strength and song, and he hath been to me for a salvation.

A voice of shouting & of salvation is in the tents of the just; the right hand of Jehovah doth valiantness. The right hand of Jehovah is exalted; the right hand of Jehovah doth valiantness. I shall not die but live, and shall tell the works of Yah. Yah chastising chastised me, and gave me not to the death. Open ye unto me the gates of justice, that I may enter into them, may confess Yah. This gate of Jehovah, into which the just shall enter. I will confess thee because thou hast answered me, and hast been to me for a salvation. The stone which the builders refused, is become for head of the corner. This was of Jehovah, it is marvelous in our eyes. This is the day Jehovah made, let us be glad and rejoice in it.

Oh Jehovah save now, oh Jehovah prosper now. Blessed be he that cometh in the name of Jehovah; we bless you out of the house of Jehovah. God is Jehovah, and hath given light unto us: bind ye the feast offerings with cords, unto the horns of the Altar. Thou art my God, and I will confess thee; my God, I will exalt thee. Confess ye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever.

Annotations.

FOr he] or, that he is good: so verse. 29. [unspec 4]

Vers. 4. that fear] strangers of all nations, as before he mentioned the Church and Ministers: see Psal. 115. 9.

Vers. 5. with a large roomth] that is, by bringing me into it, as is expressed, Ps. 18. 20. and 4. 2.

Vers. 6. for me] to wit, an helper, as the Greek explaineth; which the Apostle followeth, Heb. 13. 6. So the Chaldee saith, the word of the Lord is for mine help: so in verse. 7. See also Ps. 56. 5, 12.

Vers. 7. with them that help me] instead of all helpers: see a like phrase, Psal. 54. 6. The Greek saith, mine helper. see on them] to wit, their reward, or vengeance, as the Chaldee explaineth. See Psal. 54. 9. and 91. 8.

Vers. 10. but in, &c.] or, in the name of Jehovah, (I trust) that I shall cut them off. The Greek agreeth with the former; the Chaldee with this latter: and so in the verses following.

Vers. 12. were quenched] or (on the contrary) were kindled, as both the Greek and Chaldee do translate it. Sundry words signify contraries, as barac to bless and to curse, 1 King. 21. 13. The fire of thorns is both soon kindled, and soon quenched: so Christ's enemies. for] or, but in the name, &c.

Vers. 13. Thrusting, &c.] that is, Thou diddest sorely thrust, speaking to the enemy: the Chaldee explaineth it, my sin thrust me to fall. Thrusting thrust, is an Hebraism often used; as after, verse. 18. So Cutting shall be cut off, Numb. 15. 30. that is, shall die without mercy, Heb. 10. 28.

Vers. 14. song] or melody, that is, whom I sing laud unto. This is taken from Exod. 15. 2. so Isa. 12. 3. for a salvation] or, a salvation, that is, hath saved or rescued me against mine enemies, as 2 Sam. 10. 11. where the like phrase is used: so after, verse. 21. the word for may be omitted, as sometime in the Hebrew it self, 2 Chron. 18. 21. compared with 1 King. 22. 22.

Vers. 15. salvation] that is, victory, as Psal. 98. 1. or thanks for salvation, as Psal. 116. 13. See Rev. 19. 1. tents] that is, dwelling places; but spoken of as in wars, or for short continuance; as Heb. 11. 9. So tents of the Saints, Rev. 20. 9. See also 2 Chron. 31. 2.

Vers. 18. gave] or delivered; so Ezek. 31. 14. [unspec 19]

Vers. 19. gates of justice] that is, of God's Sanctuary, the gates whereof were to be opened by the Priests and Levites, for men to come and serve the Lord, 1 Sam. 3. 15. called gates of justice, because only the just and clean might enter into them, as verse. 20. Isa. 26. 2. 2 Chron. 23. 19. Rev. 21. 27.

Vers. 20. gate of Jehovah] this the Chaldee expoundeth, the gate of the Sanctuary of the Lord.

Vers. 22. The stone, &c.] By this stone is meant David himself, and his Son Christ; by the builders, are meant the chief men of Israel, that refused David and Christ to reign over them, Matth. 21. 42. Act. 4. 11. Of David, the Chaldee expoundeth it, The builders despised the young man, which among the sons of Jesse was worthy to be made King and Ruler. for head] that is, the chief corner stone, which coupleth and fasteneth the building: See also Isa. 28. 16. 1 Pet. 2. 6, 7, 8. Ephes. 2. 20. 21.

Vers. 24. made] that is, preferred in honor above others; so making sometime signifieth, as 1 Sam. 12. 6. and the making of a day, is the sanctifying and observing of it, Deut. 5. 15. Exod. 34. 21. Also day is the whole time of grace in Christ, 2 Cor. 6. 2.

Vers. 25. save now] or, I beseech thee save: in Hebrew, Hoshiah-na, or Hosanna, as it is sounded in Greek, Matth. 21. 9, 15. where the people and children welcome Christ into Jerusalem, singing Hosanna the Son of David, that is, praying God most high, to save the King (Christ) who then came in the name of the Lord.

Vers. 26. he that cometh] that is, the King (Christ) that cometh in the name (power, and authority) of the Lord, Luke 19. 38. we bless you] these seem to be the Priests words, whose office was to bless God's people in his house, Num. 6. 23. Deut. 10. 8. 1 Chron. 23. 13.

Vers. 27. the feast-offerings] or festivitie. This word often used for a festival day, as Psal. 81. 4. is sometime figuratively used for the sacrifices offered at those feasts, as Exod. 23. 18. Isa. 29. 1. and so the Chaldee explaineth it here. Thus Christ is called our Passover, 1 Cor. 5. 7. that is, our Paschal lamb. with cords] This word is sometime used for thick twisted cords, Judge. 15. 13. sometime for thick branches of trees, used at some feasts, Ezek. 19. 11. Levite. 23. 40. Hereupon this sentence may two ways be read; bind the feast with thick branches, or bind the sacrifices with cords; both mean one thing, that men should keep the festivitie with joy and thanks to God, as Israel used at their solemnities. unto the horns] that is, all the Court over, until you come even to the horns of the altar: intending hereby many sacrifices or boughs. The Chaldee interpreteth it, till he have offered him, and poured the blood at the horns of the Altar.

PSAL. CXIX.

This Psalm containeth manifold praises of the Law of God, and effects of the same; with sundry prayers, and professions of obedience.

[unspec 8] O Blessed are they that are perfect in way, they that walk in the law of Jehovah. 2. O blessed are they that keep his testimonies, they that seek him with all the heart. 3. Also, they that work not iniquity, but walk in his ways. 4. Thou hast commanded thy precepts to be observed vehemently. 5. Oh that my ways were directed to observe thy statutes. 6. Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments. 7. I will confess thee with righteousness of heart, when I shall learn the judgments of thy justice. 8. I will observe thy statutes, forsake thou me not very much.

[unspec 9] 9. Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed, according to thy word. 10. With all my heart have I sought thee, let me not wander from thy commandments. 11. In mine heart have I hid thy sayings, that I might not sin against thee.

12. Blessed art thou, Jehovah, learn me thy statutes. 13. With my lips have I told all the judgments of thy mouth. 14. In the way of thy testimonies have I joyed, as above all store of riches. 15. In thy precepts will I meditate, and will have respect unto thy ways. 16. In thy statutes will I delight myself, I will not forget thy words.

[unspec 1] 17. Bounteously reward unto thy servant, that I may live and observe thy word. 18. Uncover mine eyes, that I may see the marvelous things of thy law. 19. A stranger I am in the earth, hide not thou from me thy commandments. 20. My soul is broken small with desire unto thy judgments in all time.

21. Thou hast rebuked the proud accursed, that wander from thy commandments.

22. Turn thou from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies. 23. Princes also did sit, they spake against me, thy servant meditateth in thy statutes. 24. Also thy testimonies are my delights; the men of my counsel.

[unspec 7] 25. My soul cleaveth to the dust, quicken thou me according to thy word. 26. I told my ways, and thou answeredst me; teach me thy statutes. 27. Make me to understand the way of thy precepts, and I will meditate on thy marvelous works. 28. My soul droppeth for heaviness; raise thou me up, according to thy word. 29. Take away from me the way of falsehood, and graciously give me thy law. 30. The way of faithfulness I have chosen, thy judgments I have proposed. 31. I have cleaved to thy testimonies; Jehovah, let me not be abashed. 32. I will run the way of thy Commandments, when thou shalt enlarge mine heart.

[unspec 7] 33. Teach me, O Jehovah, the way of thy statutes, that I may keep it unto the end.

34. Make me to understand, that I may keep  $\langle\phi\rangle$  law, and observe it with all the heart.

35. Make me to tread in the path of thy commandments, for in it I take pleasure.

36. Incline mine heart unto thy testimonies, and not unto covetousness. 37. Turn away mine eyes from seeing false vanity; quicken me in thy ways. 38. Confirme to thy servant thy saying, which is given to the fear of thee. 39. Turn away my reproach, which I am afraid of, for thy judgments are good.

40. Loe I have a desire to thy precepts; in thy justice quicken thou me.

[unspec 1] 41. And let thy mercies come to me, O Jehovah; thy salvation, according to thy saying. 42. And I shall answer him that reproacheth me, because I have trusted in thy word. 43. And pull not thou out of my mouth the word of truth very much, because I have hopefully waited for thy judgments.

44. And I will observe thy law continually, forever and perpetual aye. 45. And I shall walk in a large roomth, because I have sought thy precepts. 46. And I will speak of thy testimonies in the presence of Kings, and not be ashamed. 47. And I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved. 48. And I will lift up my hands to thy commandments which I have loved, and will meditate on thy statutes.

[unspec 1] 49. Remember the word to thy servant, for which thou hast made me hopefully to wait. 50. This is my comfort in mine affliction, that thy saying quickeneth me.

51. The proud have scorned me very greatly; from thy law I have not declined. 52. I remembered thy judgments of old, O Jehovah, and comforted myself. 53. A burning horror hath taken hold on me for the wicked, the forsakers of thy law. 54. Thy statutes have been songs to me, in the house of my pilgrimages. 55. I remembered in the night thy name, O Jehovah, and observed thy law.

56. This was to me, because I kept thy precepts.

[unspec ן] 57. My portion, Jehovah, I have said, to observe thy words. 58. I have earnestly besought thy face with all the heart; be gracious to me according to thy saying. 59. I thought upon my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. 60. I made haste, and delayed not, to observe thy commandments. 61. Bands of the wicked have robbed me; thy law I have not forgotten. 62. At mid-night will I rise to confess unto thee, for the judgments of thy justice. 63. I am a companion to all that fear thee, and that observe thy precepts. 64. The earth is full of thy mercy, Jehovah; learn me thy statutes.

[unspec ם] 65. Thou hast done good with thy servant, Jehovah, according to thy word. 66. Learn me goodness of reason and knowledge, for I have believed in thy commandments. 67. Before I was afflicted, I was astray; but now I observe thy saying. 68. Good art thou, and doest good; learn me thy statutes. 69. The proud have forged against me falsehood; I, with all the heart, do keep thy precepts. 70. Their heart is gross as fat; I, in thy law have delighted myself

71. It is good for me that I was afflicted, that I may learn thy statutes. 72. The law of thy mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver.

[unspec ך] 73. Thine hands have made me, and fashioned me; make me to understand, that I may learn thy commandments. 74. They that fear thee, shall see me and rejoice, because I have hopefully waited for thy word. 75. I know, Jehovah, that thy judgments are justice, and with faithfulness thou hast afflicted me. 76. Oh let thy mercy be to comfort me, according to thy saying unto thy servant. 77. Let thy tender mercies come to me, that I may live, for thy law is my delights. 78. Let the proud be abashed, for with falsehood they have depraved me: I do meditate in thy precepts. 79. Let those turn to me that fear thee, and that know thy testimonies. 80. Let my heart be perfect in thy statutes, that I be not abashed.

[unspec ם] 81. My soul fainteth for thy salvation, I hopefully wait for thy word. 82. Mine eyes fail for thy word, saying, when wilt thou comfort me? 83. Though I am like a bottle in the smoke, I have not forgotten thy statutes. 84. How many are the days of thy servant? When wilt thou do judgment on my persecutors? 85. The proud have digged for me pits of corruption, which are not according to thy law. 86. All thy commandments are faithfulness; with falsehood do they persecute me, help thou me.

87. Almost they had consumed me in the earth, but I have not forsaken thy precepts. 88. According to thy mercy quicken thou me, and I will observe the testimony of thy mouth.

[unspec ן] 89. For ever, O Jehovah, thy word is steadfast in the heavens. 90. Thy faithfulness is to generation and generation; thou hast stablished the earth, and it shall stand. 91. To thy judgments they stand this day, for they all are thy servants. 92. Unless thy law had been my delights, then had I perished in mine affliction. 93. For ever I will not forget thy precepts, for by them thou hast quickened me. 94. I am thine, save thou me, for I have sought thy precepts. 95. The wicked have waited for me to destroy me; I consider thy testimonies. 96. Of all perfection I have seen an end; large is thy commandment vehemently.

[unspec 𐤒] 97. O how I love thy law! all the day it is my meditation. 98. Thou makest me wiser than mine enemies, by thy commandments; for, forever it is with me. 99. I am more prudent than all my teachers, for thy testimonies are my meditation. 100. I am of more understanding than the Elders, because I have kept thy precepts. 101. I have restrained my feet from every evil way, that I may observe thy word. 102. I have not departed from thy judgments, for thou hast taught me. 103. How sweet are thy sayings to my palate! more than honey to my mouth. 104. By thy precepts I have gotten understanding, therefore I hate every path of falsehood.

[unspec 𐤓] 105. Thy word is a lamp to my foot, and a light to my path. 106. I have sworn, and will ratify it, to observe the judgments of thy justice. 107. I am afflicted very vehemently; Jehovah, quicken thou me according to thy word. 108. The free-offerings of my mouth, favourably accept thou, oh Jehovah; and learn me thy judgments. 109. My soul is in my hand continually, and thy law I have not forgotten. 110. The wicked have laid a snare for me, and from thy precepts I have not strayed. 111. I possess for heritage thy testimonies forever, for they are the joy of mine heart. 112. I have inclined mine heart to do thy statutes, forever to the end.

[unspec 𐤔] 113. I hate vain thoughts, and I love thy law. 114. Thou art my secret place, and my shield, I hopefully wait for thy word. 115. Depart from me ye evil doers, that I may keep the commandments of my God.

116. Uphold me according to thy saying, that I may live; and let me not be abashed for my hope. 117. Sustaine me, and I shall be saved, and I will delight in thy statutes continually. 118. Thou hast trodden down all them that stray from thy statutes, for their deceit is falsehood. 119. Like dross thou makest cease all the wicked of the earth, therefore I love thy testimonies. 120. My flesh feeleth horror for dread of thee, and I fear for thy judgments.

[unspec 𐤕] 121. I have done judgment and justice, leave me not to mine oppressors. 122. Be surety for thy servant, for good; let not the proud oppress me. 123. Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, and for the sayings of thy justice. 124. Do with thy servant according to thy mercy, and learn me thy statutes. 125. I am thy servant, give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies.

126. It is time for Jehovah to do, they have made frustrate thy law. 127. Therefore I love thy commandments, above gold, and above fine gold. 128. Therefore, all thy precepts of every thing I hold righteous; I hate every way of falsehood.

[unspec 𐤖] 129. Marvelous are thy testimonies, therefore doth my soul keep them. 130. The opening of thy words giveth light, giving understanding to the simple. 131. I opened wide my mouth and panted, for I longed for thy commandments. 132. Turn the face unto me, and be gracious to me, according to the judgment towards those that love thy name. 133. Firmly direct my steps in thy saying, and let not any iniquity have dominion over me. 134. Redeem me from the oppression of men, and I will observe thy precepts. 135. Make thy face to shine upon thy servant, and learn me thy statutes. 136. Rivers of waters run down mine eyes, because they observe not thy law.

[unspec ז] 137. Just art thou Jehovah, and righteous thy judgments. 138. Thou hast commanded the justice of thy testimonies, and faithfulness vehemently. 139. My zeal suppresseth me, because my distressers have forgotten thy words. 140. Thy saying is fined vehemently, and thy servant loveth it.

141. I am small and despised, thy precepts I have not forgotten. 142. Thy justice is a justice forever, and thy law is the truth. 143. Distress and anguish have found me, thy commandments are my delights. 144. The justice of thy testimonies is forever; make me to understand, that I may live.

[unspec ח] 145. I have called with the whole heart: answer me, Jehovah; I will keep thy statutes. 146. I have called upon thee, save thou me, and I will observe thy testimonies. 147. I have prevented in the twilight, and cried; I hopefully waited for thy word. 148. Mine eyes have prevented the night-watches, to meditate in thy saying. 149. Hear my voice, according to thy mercy, Jehovah; according to thy judgment quicken thou me. 150. They draw near that follow after a mischievous purpose, they are far off from thy law. 151. Neare art thou, Jehovah, and all thy commandments are truth. 152. Of old I have known of thy testimonies, that thou hast founded them forever.

[unspec ט] 153. See mine affliction, and release me, for I have not forgotten thy law. 154. Plead my plea and redeem me, according to thy saying quicken thou me. 155. Salvation is far from the wicked, because they seek not thy statutes. 156. Thy tender mercies are many, O Jehovah; according to thy judgments quicken thou me. 157. Many are my persecutors, and my distressers; from thy testimonies I have not declined. 158. I saw unfaithful transgressors, and was grieved, for that they observed not thy saying. 159. See, that I love thy precepts; Jehovah, according to thy mercy quicken thou me. 160. The beginning of thy word is truth, and forever is every judgment of thy justice.

[unspec י] 161. Princes have persecuted me without cause, & for thy word mine heart doth stand in awe. 162. I am joyful for thy saying, as one that findeth much spoil. 163. Falsehood I hate, and I abhor; thy law I do love. 164. Seven times in a day do I praise thee, for the judgments of thy justice. 165. Much peace is to them that love thy law, and to them is no stumbling-block. 166. I have hoped for thy salvation, Jehovah, and have done thy commandments. 167. My soul hath observed thy testimonies, and I love them vehemently. 168. I have observed thy precepts and thy testimonies, for all my ways are before thee.

[unspec יא] 169. Let my shouting cry come near before thee, Jehovah; according to thy word give thou me understanding. 170. Let my supplication for grace come before thee; according to thy saying, deliver thou me. 171. My lips shall utter praise, when thou hast learned me thy statutes. 172. My tongue shall resound thy saying, for all thy commandments are justice. 173. Let thine hand be to help me, for I have chosen thy precepts.

174. I have longed for thy salvation, Jehovah, and thy law is my delights. 175. Let my soul live, that it may praise thee; and let thy judgments help me. 176. I have strayed like a lost sheep; seek thou thy servant, for I have not forgotten thy commandments.

Annotations.

Perfect in way] entire (or unblemished) in their state or conversation: See Ezek. 28. 15. Psalm. 1. 1.

Vers. 2. seek him] with hope and trust, as the word also importeth, Isaiah 11. 10. with Rom. 15. 12. See also Deut. 4. 29. Jer. 29. 13. 2 Chron. 15. 15. The Chaldee translateth, seek his doctrine.

Vers. 3. Also they &c.] the Greek turneth it thus; For, not they that work iniquity, do walk in his ways.

Vers. 4. to be observed] or, for men to observe. See the notes on Psal. 36. 3.

Vers. 5. O that] or, My wishes are that &c. The Chaldee expounds it, It is good for me that I have directed my ways.

Vers. 8. very much] or unto vehemency, vehemently, that is, utterly: a like prayer is against God's anger, Isaiah 64. 9. Or, it may here have reference to the former, I will keep thy statutes with vehemency, if thou forsake me not.

Vers. 10. let me not wander] o•make me not to err; in Greek, repel me not.

Vers. 14. as above] as that which is superior to all riches; or, as for all abundant wealth.

Vers. 16. delight] or solace, recreate myself. [unspec 18]

Vers. 18. Vncover] or unweile. that I may] or, and I shall: so after in this and other Psalms often. See Psal. 43. 4.

Vers. 19. in the earth] or in the land: See Psal. 39. 13.

Vers. 20. sor desire] or, with desiring, or to desire; as the Greek saith, my soul coveteth to desire. A like form of the Hebrew word is in Jerem. 31. 12.

Vers. 23. spake] or talked of me; spake largely and freely: See the word in this form, Ezek. 33. 30.

Vers. 24. men of my counsel] that is, my counselors, they with whom I consult. So in Isaiah 40. 13. man of his counsel, is turned in Greek Sumbo•los, Rom. 11. 34. that is, Counselor.

Vers. 25. quicken me] or, spare my life, as Ios. 9. 15.

Vers. 26. answeredst me] which the Chaldee expoundeth, acceptedst my prayer.

Vers. 27. and I will] or, that I may; as verse. 18. and 33.

Vers. 28. droppeth] to wit, tears, that is, weepeth: as Job 16. 20. raise up] or, confirm, stablish, as verse. 38. and 106.

Vers. 30. of faithfulness] or faith, that is, a sure and faithful way. proposed] to wit, before me, as Psal. 16. 8.

Vers. 32. enlarge] that is, amplify and increase with wisdom, as 1 King. 4. 29. (as to want an heart, is to be foolish, Prov. 9. 4.) or, with comfort, as Isa. 60. 5. or love, as 2 Cor. 6. 11.

Vers. 33. to the end] Greek, continually; some turn it, for rewards, as after the Greek doth, verse. 112. The Hebrew properly is the heel or foot-sole; figuratively the end, and sometime reward: see Psal. 19. 12. that I may] or, and I shall keep &c. So verse. 34.

Vers. 37. Turn away] or Make pass, transfer: so verse. 39. from seeing] or, that they see not, Psal. 69. 24. and 66. 18.

Vers. 38. Confirme] or raise up, that is, perform and do it, as 2 Sam. 7. 25. and that continually, as Deut. 27. 26. with Gal. 3. 10. So, to confirm words, 2 King. 23. 3. is •o do them, 2 Chron. 34. 31. which] that is, which servant is given (or addicted) to thy fear, or which word is given for the fear of thee, that thou mayest be feared.

Vers. 41. come] that is, be performed, as Judge. 13. 12.

Vers. 42. answer] Hebr. answer him word, that is, return him answer, as this phrase importeth, 2 Sam. •4. 13. 1 King. 20. 9. and 12. 16. so Prov. 27. 11. Or, answer him the matter.

Vers. 43. very much] or, unto vehemency, vehemently, as verse. 8. and it may be referred to the word, vehemently true; or to the former, pull not utterly.

Vers. 45. in a large roomth] or, in wideness, that is, at liberty, cheerfully, free from fears, distresses, &c. Psal. 4. 2. and 18. 20. and 118. 5.

Vers. 48. lift my hands] that is, put my hands to the practice of thy law with earnestness.

Vers. 53. A burning horror] a storm of terror and dismay, as the Greek saith, swow•ing or fainting: see Psal. 11. 6. for] or from the wicked; a storm of trouble raised by them.

Vers. 54. songs] theames, or arguments of singing. the house] the earthly house of this tabernacle, where man sojourneth in his body; as 2 Cor. 5. 1, &c. in Greek, the place, that is, wheresoever I sojourn.

Vers. 56. This was] Thus ordered I the course of my life; or, this variety of estate, persecution, consolation, &c. befell me.

Vers. 57. my portion] that is, as the Greek explaineth, O Lord thou art my portion, as Psal. 142. 6. and 16. 5. Ier. 10. 16. or, my portion, O Lord, shall be to keep thy words.

Vers. 58. besought] or entreated: see Psal. 45. 13. [unspec 58]

Vers. 59. thought upon] considered and counted; the Chaldee saith, I thought to make good my ways.

Vers. 60. delayed not] or, distracted not myself, to wit, with worldly cares, fears, pleasures, &c. [unspec 60]

Vers. 61. Bands] or Cords, as the Greek also turneth it, or Companies, as the Chaldee explaineth it: so a band of Prophets, for a company of them, 1 Sam. 10. 10.

Vers. 66. reason] or behavior: Hebr. taste or savor: see Psal. 34. 1.

Vers. 67. afflicted] or answered, cried, to wit, for my affliction.

Vers. 69. forged] or composed, adjoined: so Job 13. 4.

Vers. 70. gross] congealed, and so made hard and senseless; in Greek, crudled as milk. Compare Act. 28. 27. Ephes. 4. 18.

Vers. 72. thousands] to wit, of pieces, as is expressed, Psal. 68. 31. the Chaldee expoundeth it, of talents.

Vers. 73. fashioned] or fitted, composed. Compare Job 10. 8.

Vers. 75. with faithfulness] or in faith, or truth. God is faithful, which will not suffer us to be tempted above that we are able, but will give the issue with the temptation, &c. 1 Cor. 10. 13.

Vers. 78. depraved] perverted, wronged me, dealt perversely with me; or, would pervert me from the right way.

Vers. 79. turn to me] in Chaldee, turn to my doctrine.

Vers. 80. perfect] sincere, in Greek, without spot, unblemished, as verse. 1.

Vers. 81. fainteth] faileth, or, is consumed, to wit, with desire. So Psal. 84. 2. fail] or, are consumed, as before, and verse. 123. See Psal. 69. 4. 1 Sam. 2. 33.

Vers. 83. in the smoke] that is, dry and wrinckled. Compare Psal. 32. 4. and 102. 4.

Vers. 84. days] to wit, of affliction: see Psal. 37. 12. and 116. 2.

Vers. 85. digged pits] to take away my life, Psal. 35. 7. the Greek saith, told me tales, to entrap me with errors.

Vers. 86. faithfulness] or faith, that is, faithful, true.

Vers. 89. is steadfast] or, standeth fast, abideth: compare Isa. 40. 8.

Vers. 90. stablished] or fitly settled: See Eccles. 1. 4.

Vers. 91. To thy] that is, According to thy ordinations; or, For thy judgments; in the manner and to the ends that thou appointedst them, they stand and continue, as Psal. 33. 9.

Vers. 96. of all perfection] or consummation, that is, of every most perfect thing. large] or broad, wide, meaning infinite.

Vers. 98. thou makest] or it maketh. it is with me] or, it is mine, that is, thy law (or everyone of thy commandments,) is mine.

Vers. 103. my palate] that is, my taste. [unspec 193] [unspec 105]

Vers. 105. a lamp] or, a candle, lantern: so Prov. 6. 23. Compare Job 19. 8.

Vers. 106. sworn] making covenant to walk [unspec 106] in thy law, as Nehem. 10. 29. ratify] perform, or stablish.

Vers. 108. free-offerings] or, voluntaries: see [unspec 108] Psal. 54. 8.

Vers. 109. in my hand] or palm, that is, I go [unspec 109] in danger of my life. See the like phrase, Judge. 12. 3. 1 Sam. 19. 5. and 28. 21. So the Chaldee explaineth it, my soul is in danger, as if it were upon my hand.

Vers. 112. to the end] as verse. 33. Here the Greek [unspec 112] turneth it, for reward, respecting the end and reward of faith and obedience, as Psal. 19. 12. Heb. 11. 26. 1 Pet. 1. 8, 9.

Vers. 113. vain thoughts] or wavering cogitations, [unspec 113] or vain thinkers, as the Chaldee explaineth it; the Greek also turning it, transgressors of law. It hath the name of top-branches of trees; figuratively applied to the thoughts or opinions of the mind, wavering and uncertain, as 1 King. 18. 21. or persons distracted with their own cogitations.

Vers. 117. delight] or, have respect, or contemplate, [unspec 117] meditate delightfully.

Vers. 119. Like dross] consumed with the fire [unspec 119] of thy wrath. See Ezek. 22. 18,—22. Prov. 25. 4, 5. makest cease] that is, removest, or takest away.

Vers. 120. feelet horror] as when the hair [unspec 120] stands up for fear; and by flesh, may be meant the hair of his flesh, as is expressed, Job 4. 15. from whence this phrase seemeth to be taken.

Vers. 121. Be surety] answering for, and defending [unspec 121] him. Or, give sweetness (or delight,) unto him.

Vers. 126. to do] or work, showing his power: [unspec 126] The Chaldee otherwise, It is time to do the will of the Lord. made frustrate] of none effect, or dissipated: See Psal. 33. 10.

Vers. 128. hold righteous] or make righteous, [unspec 128] that is, do esteem, and defend to be most right, and do rightly use them.

Vers. 130. The opening] or door, that is, the [unspec 130] declaration (as the Greek interpreteth it;) or the first entrance into them.

Vers. 132. according to the judgment] that is, [unspec 132] as is right and meet, and behooveth; or, after the manner, wont and custom that thou usest. So judgment is for manner, or custom, Gen. 40. 13. Ios. 6. 15. 1 Sam. 2. 13. and 27. 11.

Vers. 136. they] men in general, or the wicked; [unspec 136] as after, verse. 158.

Vers. 137. righteous] to wit, is every of thy judgments; or, upright art thou in thy judgments. [unspec 137]

Vers. 138. justice of thy testimonies] that is, thy just and very faithful testimonies. Or, justice, [unspec 138] thy testimonies and faith.

Vers. 139. suppresseth] or cutteth off, that is, consumeth. Compare Psal. 69. 10. [unspec 139]

Vers. 140. fined] purified as in fire, Psal. 12. 7. [unspec 140] [unspec 142]

Vers. 142. forever] that is, everlasting; so verse. 144.

Vers. 143. found] that is, come upon me, as Psal. 116. 3. [unspec 143]

Vers. 144. justice of &c.] or, Thy testimonies are just &c. [unspec 144]

Vers. 147. prevented] to wit, thee, with prayer, [unspec 147] as Psal. 88. 14. and 95. 2. twilight] the dawning of the morning, as the Chaldee explaineth it, and the Hebrew sometime signifieth, Job 7. 4.

Vers. 148. watches] see Psal. 63. 7. and 90. 4. [unspec 148] and 119. 62. The Chaldee saith, the morning and evening watches.

Vers. 149. judgment] equity, or custom, as [unspec 149] verse. 132.

Vers. 160. the beginning,] or, the head, but the [unspec 160] Greek and Chaldee do explain it, from the beginning thy word is truth; and so forever. Or, taking head for excellency, thy most excellent word is truth.

Vers. 164. Seven times] that is, often; for seven [unspec 164] is used for many, as Levite. 26. 18. Prov. 24. 16. and 26. 25. 1 Sam. 2. 5.

Vers. 165. is no stumbling block] or, they have [unspec 165] no offense, (or scandal.) So in 1 John. 2. 10. he that loveth his brother, there is no scandal in him. He walks without fear of falling.

Vers. 172. resound] or, sing; Hebr. answer. [unspec 172] [unspec 175]

Vers. 175. Let my soul live] that is, Let me wholly live: as on the contrary, let my soul die, Judge. 16. 30.

Vers. 176. a lost sheep] a sheep of perdition, or [unspec 176] perishing, that is, ready to perish. All we like sheep have gone astray, Isa. 53. 6.

PSAL. CXX.

The Prophet prayeth against, and reproveth the evil tongue: 5 and complaineth of his necessary conversation with the wicked.

A song of degrees. [unspec 1]

VNto Jehovah, in my distressednesse, I cried, and he answered me. Jehovah, deliver thou my soul from the lip of falsehood, from the tongue of deceit.

What shall it give thee, and what shall it add to thee, tongue of deceit. Sharpe arrows of a mighty one, with coals of Iuniper. Woe is me that I sojourn with Meshec, dwell with the tents of Kedar. My soul it hath much dwelt with him that hateth peace. I am for peace, and when I speak, they are for war.

Annotations.

OF degrees] or, of ascensions, of heights: (Hebr. ham-mahaloth,) that is, a Psalm to be sung with an high voice; as the Levites are said to praise God with a great voice on high, (Hebr. le-mahlah,) 2 Chron. 20. 19. Or, this title noteth the excellency of the song, for short, grave and pithy sentences; as Adam ham-mahalah, is a man of eminency, (or of high degree,) 1 Chron. 17. 17. Sundry other ways is this title understood, as of the stairs that went up to the house of the Lord, whereon the singers should stand; and this the Chaldee favoereth: also of the coming up from Babylon, (called mahalah, an a scension, Ezr. 7. 9,) &c. Fifteene Psalms together have this title prefixed. distressednesse] that is, sore distress: the Hebrew addeth a letter to increase the signification; so, helpfulness, for full help, Psal. 44. 27. cried] in Chaldee, prayed, and he received my prayer.

Vers. 3. What shall it give] or, (as the Greek hath) what shall be given, that is, what good, or profit shalt thou get? meaning, none at all. The verb active is often used passively; see Psal. 32. 9. and 36. 3. Or, what shall be (meaning God, or any one) give to thee, O deceitful tongue? it add] or be added, to wit, as good, or advantage: so Psal. 115. 14. tongue] this may also be read, what shall the tongue of deceit give to thee, that is, profit thee, speaking to the calumniator.

Vers. 4. arrows, &c.] This may note out the hurt of a guileful tongue, whose evil words are like arrows, Ps. 64. 4. Prov. 25. 18. or, the reward which God will give the deceitful tongue, his plagues, like arrows, Psal. 45. 6. Deut. 32. 23. Ezek. 5. 16. coals of Iuniper] which wood in burning smelleth sweet, but the coals thereof burn extremely, and last long; so that under the ashes the glowing coals may be kept (as some write) a year long. So it fitly noteth the long lasting infamy of an evil tongue. Or, if we refer it to God's judgments, they are severe and durable, as Deut. 28. 59. Ps. 18. 9. and 140. 11.

Vers. 5. sojourn] or am a pilgrim, a stranger. with Meshec] that is, with a profane and barbarous people, like the posterity of Meshec and Kedar, mentioned in Gen. 10. 2. and 21. 13. Meshec signifieth length or protraction, and so may here be taken for no proper name, but I sojourn so long; and thus the Greek turneth it, my peregrination is prolonged. Tents of Kedar] the son of Ishmael, Gen. 25. 13. whose children dwelt in Arabia, Esa. 21. 13,—17. therefore the Chaldee here turneth it Arabians, they dwelt in Tents or Cottages in the wilderness, as shepherds. See also Esa. 42. 11. Ier. 49. 28, 29. Ezek. 27. 21.

Vers. 6. it hath much] or, to it self (in it own seeming) hath long dwelt: so Psal. 123. 4.

Vers. 7. for peace] or, to peace (as after for or to war) that is, addicted thereto; or understand, a man of peace, that is, peaceful, as the Greek expoundeth it; so Job 5. 24. and 21. 9. 2 Sam, 17. 3. See the like phrase Psal. 109. 4. Also in Obad. 7. thy bread, for, men of thy bread.

PSAL. CXXI.

The great safety of those that trust in God's protection.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

I Lift up mine eyes unto the mountains, from whence shall come mine help. Mine help cometh from with Jehovah, which made heavens and earth. Let him not give thy foot to be moved, let him not slumber that keepeth thee. Loe he will not slumber nor sleep, that keepeth Israel. Jehovah is thy keeper, Jehovah thy shadow upon thy right hand. The Sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the Moon by night. Jehovah will keep thee from all evil, he will keep thy soul. Jehovah will keep thy going out and thy coming in, from this time and forever.

Annotations.

OF degrees] or, for-degrees, or, ascensions: see the first note on the former Psalm. the mountains] Zion and Merijah, where was the Sanctuary of God, who had his foundation in the holy mountains, Ps. 87. 1. w<sup>ch</sup> was a figure of the heavens, Heb. 9. 24. and sometime mountains and heavens are used for the same, as Ps. 18. 8. with 2 Sam. 22. 8. So the meaning is, that when he looked up to God for help, he received it. Or we may read it thus; Shall I lift up mine eyes to the mountains? that is, to the places where Idols are worshipped, Deut. 12. 2. as if he should say, far be it from me. For in vain is help expected from the hills, or the multitude of the mountains; but in Jehovah our God is the salvation of Israel, Ier. 3. 23. The lifting up of the eyes signifieth hope and expectation, Ezek. 18. 6. So Psal. 123. 1.

Vers. 3. to be moved] or, to slide, or to commotion, which meaneth a falling into evil: see Psal. 38. 17. not <...> ber] that is, not neglect any care or diligence for thy good, Psal. 132. 4. Prov. 6. 4. Isaiah. 5. 27.

Vers. 5. shadow] that is, protection, comfort and refreshing from heat, Esa, 25. 4. and 4. 6. Num. 14. 9. See also Psal. 1•9. 31.

Vers. 6. The Sun] which annoyeth with heat, as the Moon doth with cold vapors, Ion. 4. 8. Gen. 31. 40. And the Sun and Moon being rulers of day and night, Psal. 136. 8, 9. imply all other things whatsoever. But this hath reference to God's protection of Israel in the wilderness, Exod. 13. 21. Isaiah. 4. 5.

Vers. 8. Thy going out and oomming in] that is, all thy administration, affairs and actions. See the like phrase, Deut. 28. 6. 2 Chron. 1. 10. 2 Sam. 3. 25. Act. 1. 21. and 9. 28.

PSAL. CXXII.

David's joy for the Church, and prayer for the peace thereof.

A Song of degrees, of David. [unspec 1]

I Rejoyced in them that said unto me, We will go into the house of Jehovah. Our feet have been standing in thy gates, O Jerusalem. Jerusalem built as a city that is joined to it self together. Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of Yah, to the testimony of Israel, to confesse unto the name of Jehovah. For there are set thrones for judgment, thrones of the house of David. Ask ye the peace of Jerusalem; safe quietness have they that love thee. Peace be in thy fort, safe quietness in thy Palaces. Because of my brethren and my neighbors, I will speak, O peace be in thee. Because of the house of Jehovah our God, I will seek good for thee.

Annotations.

IN them] or, for them: Greek, for the things that were said. we will] or, let us go, exhorting one another, as Deut. 33. 19. house] which the Chaldee expoundeth, house of the Sanctuary of the Lord.

Vers. 3. joined to it self] compact, fitly framed and built together for an habitation of God through the spirit, Ephes. 2. 21, 22. so the curtains of the tabernacle were conjoined, Exod. 26. 3.

Vers. 4. to the testimony] that is, the Ark, wherein were the tables of testimony, and from whence God testified his presence by oracle, Exod. 25. 21, 22. or, by the testimony to Israel, that is, according to the charge given for their coming thither, Deut. 16. 16, 17.

Vers. 5. are set] or sit thrones; that is, they stand; or remain still, or; are set, active for passive, as Psal. 36. 3. of the house] or, for the house, that is, the posterity; as Psal. 115. 10. The Chaldee saith, for the Kings of the house of David.

Vers. 6. Ask] that is, Desire, or pray for the peace; in Greek, the things that belong to the peace: see the like speech, Luke 19. 42. Ier. 15. 5. safe quietness have] or, they shall have safe ease, or tranquility, prosperity: the word meaneth both quietness from troubles, and abundance of welfare: so Psal. 30. 7. and 73. 12.

Vers. 7. fort] or rampart. frontier; whereof he speaketh in Lam. 2. 8.

Vers. 9. good for thee] or, thy good: see Neh. 2. 10.

PSAL. CXXIII.

A profession of patient confidence in God, and prayer to be delivered from contempt.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

VN to thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that sittest in the heavens. Loe, as the eyes of servants are unto the hand of their Masters; as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress; so our eyes unto Jehovah our God, until that he be gracious unto us. Be gracious to us Jehovah, be gracious to us; for we are very much filled with contempt. Our soul it is very much filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, the contempt of the proud.

Annotations.

Sittest] that is, reignest, governest, judgest: for heaven is God's throne, Isaiah. 66. 1.

Vers. 2. that he be gracious] or show mercy; this noteth continual prayer without fainting, as Luke 18. 1,—7.

Vers. 4. it is or, to it self, as Psal. 120. 6. of the proud] or, be to the proud; as a Prayer that the evil may turn upon themselves.

PSAL. CXXIV.

David teacheth Israel to bless God for their deliverance.

A Song of degrees of David. [unspec 1]

EXcept Jehovah, that he had been for us, now let Israel say: Except Jehovah, that he had been for us, when men rose up against us: Then they had swallowed us up alive, when their anger was kindled against us. Then the waters had overflowed us, the stream had passed over our soul. Then the proud waters had passed over our soul. Blessed be Jehovah, who hath not given us for a prey unto their teeth. Our soul, as a bird is escaped out of the snare of the fowlers; the snare is broken, and we are escaped. Our help is in the name of Jehovah, the maker of heavens and earth.

Annotations.

EXcept Jehovah, that he] or, But for Jehovah who was. The Chaldee saith, Except the word of the Lord, &c.

Vers. 2. men] in Chaldee, sinful men. [unspec 4]

Vers. 4. waters] that is, sinful people, as Isa. 59. 19. Rev. 17. 15.

Vers. 5. proud waters] the Chaldee expoundeth it, the King whose Campe is like the high waters of the Sea.

PASL. CXXV.

The safety of such as trust in God. 4 A prayer for the godly, and against the wicked.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

THEy that trust in Jehovah, shall be as mount Zion which is not moved, but remaineth forever. Jerusalem, th<sup>e</sup> mountains are round about it, and Jehovah is round about his people, from this time and forever. For the rod of wickedness shall not rest upon the lot of the just; that the just put not forth their hands unto any injurious evil. Do good, O Jehovah, unto the good, and to the righteous in their hearts. But they that turn a side to their crookednesses, Jehovah will lead them away with the workers of painful iniquity: Peace shall be upon Israel.

Annotations.

They that crust] The Chaldee explaineth it, The just which trust in the Word of the Lord.

Vers. 2. and Jehovah] that is, and so Jehovah, which the Chaldee expoundeth, the divine presence (or majesty) of the Lord.

Vers. 3. of wickedness] that is, of the wicked, as pride, for proud men, Psal. 36. 12. and their rod meaneth their dominion, or power, as Psal. 2. 9. lot] that is, inheritance; as Ios. 18. 11. 1 Pet. 5. 3.

Vers. 5. crookednesses] crooked ways, or, vices. lead them away] or, make them go away, that is, to die, as 1 Chron. 17. 11. compared with 2 Sam. 7. 12. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, will lead them to Hell, and their part shall be with the workers of iniquity.

PSAL. CXXVI.

The Church celebrating her incredible return out of captivity, prayeth for, and prophesieth the good success thereof.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

WHen Jehovah returned the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream. Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with joyful shouting; then said they among the heathens, Jehovah hath done very great things with them. Jehovah hath done very great things with us, we are joyful. Turn thou, O Jehovah, our captivity, as the streams in the South. They that sow with tears, shall reap with joyful shouting. He going goeth, and weepeth, bearing the sowing seed: he coming cometh with joyful shouting, bearing his sheaves.

Annotations.

The captivity] or, the reversion, that is, the multitude of captives returning from bondage. See Psal. 14. 7. and 68. 19. Deut. 30. 3. The return from Babels bondage figured our redemption by Christ, Esa. 10. 21, 22. Rom. 9. 27. And to return the captivity, sometime is to restore all that was lost, Iok 42. 10. that dream] that felt joy and comfort incredible, which we doubted whether it were true or not; as did Peter, Act. 12. 9. See also Isaiah. 29. 7, 8. The Chaldee expoundeth it, like sleepers which wake from their dreams.

Vers. 2. joyful shout] or song, or shrill singing: so verse. 5, 6. Compare Job 8. 21. done very great things] or done magnificently, or magnified his doings, as the Greek translateth this phrase, in Joel 2. 20. the Hebraism being, he hath magnified to do, like that in 2 Chron. 33. 6. Manasseh multiplied to do (that is, did much) evil. with them] or with these men.

Vers. 4. our captivity] that is, the rest of the captives which remain yet behind, bring them also. So captivity is for captives, Ezek. 11. 24, 25. in the South] that is, in the dry ground; for so the Hebrew word signifieth, and so South lands were waterless, Judge. 1. 15. Here we may understand, this shall be to us as rivers in the South. The Chaldee paraphraseth, as the land is turned when water-springs break forth into it, in time of drought.

Vers. 5. shall reap] or, let them reap: as continuing the former prayer: so after.

Vers. 6. He going goeth] that is, every sower fore-mentioned: therefore the Greek saith, they did going go: which phrase meaneth a continual and diligent going. the sowing seed] the seed to be sown, Hebr. the drawing of the seed, that is, the seed of drawing, or, of sowing, as this phrase meaneth, Amos 9. 13. or, the dray of seed, that is, the seed-basket. Sometime drawing, is, purchasing, as Job 28. 18. which may also be minded here, the purchased (that is, precious) seed.

PSAL. CXXVII.

The virtue of God's blessings in all estates. 3 Good children are his gift.

A Song of degrees for Solomon. [unspec 1]

IF Jehovah build not the house, in vain do the builders thereof labor therein: if Jehovah keep not the city, in vain doth the keeper wake. It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows; so he will give his beloved sleep.

Loe, sons are an heritage of Jehovah; the fruit of the womb, his wages. As arrows in the hand of a mighty man, so are sons of the youth. O blessed is the man that hath filled his quiver with them: they shall not be abashed, when they shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

Annotations.

FOr Solomon] as Psal. 72. 1. or, of Solomon. the city] in Chaldee, the city Jerusalem.

Vers. 2. to rise early] or, to be early in rising, to be late in sitting, eating, &c. of sorrows] that is, gotten with much sorrow or pains: as bread of wickedness, Prov. 4. 17. is that which is wickedly gotten; or bread of sorrows, may mean course meat, as bread of pleasures, Dan. 10. 3. is dainty fine meat. so] by building, keeping and blessing their labors without sorrow; or surely he will give. his beloved] or dearling; the Hebrew Iedid, hath reference to Solomon's name Iedid-jah, 2 Sam. 12. 25. that is, Beloved of Yah: but the Greek turneth it plurally, his beloved ones. sleep] quiet rest without cark and sorrow. Therefore also the Hebrew word Shena is written with 〈 in non-Latin alphabet 〉 a quiet dumb letter, (otherwise than usual) to denote the more quietness.

Vers. 3. an heritage] that is, a reward (or blessing) given of the Lord: so Job 20. 29. Isa. 54. 17. Psal. 61. 6. wages] or reward, which sometime is of debt, for service, Num. 18. 31. Gen. 30. 28. sometime of favor, Rom. 4. 4. as God's rewards to his servants, Gen. 15. 1. Isa. 62. 11.

Vers. 4. sons of youth] that is, young men, who area help to their parents against the enemy, as arrows in the battle. Compare 1 John. 2. 14. Prov. 20. 29.

Vers. 5. his quiver with them] that is, his house full of children. when they shall speak] that is, plead in judgment; which was at the city gates; see the contrary, Job 5. 4. It may also be read, but they shall subdue the enemies in the gate. The Greek giveth the first interpretation. The Chaldee saith, when they contend with their adversaries in the gate of the judgment hall.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

The sundry blessings which follow them that fear God.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

O Happy is everyone that feareth Jehovah, that walketh in his ways. When thou shalt eat the labor of thy hands, O happy thou, and good shall it be unto thee. Thy wife shall be as a fruitful Vine by the sides of thine house, thy sons as Olive plants round about thy Table. Lo• surely thus shall the man be blessed that feareth Jehovah. Bless thee will Jehovah out of Zion, and see thou the good of Jerusalem, all the days of thy life. And see thou thy sons sons, peace upon Israel.

Annotations.

O Happy] or Blessed: as Psal. 1. 1. [unspec 2]

Vers. 2. When thou] or, For (surely) thou shalt eat. the labor] that is, things got with labor, according to the Law, Gen. 3. 19. and this is of God's hand, Eccle. 2. 24. the contrary whereof is a curse, Deut. 28. 30, 31, 33. good] profitable, and pleasing, as Deut. 23. 16. The Chaldee explaineth it, Happy thou in this world, and good (shall it be) unto thee in the world to come.

Vers. 3. fruitful] or, fructifying: see also this similitude, Ezek. 19. 10. Gen. 49. 22. Olive plants] always green, Psal. 52. 10. and legitimate, as the Olive admitteth no other graff.

Vers. 5. will Jehovah] or, prayer-wise (as the Greek hath it) Jehovah bless thee. see thou] or, thou shalt see, that is, enjoy: look the Notes on Psal. 27. 4. and 37. 3. the good] that is, the good things, as the Greek hath it: see Psal. 65. 5.

Vers. 6. thy sons sons] or, sons to (or of) thy sons. See this fulfilled in Job 42. 16. where Job saw his sons, and his sons sons, even four generations.

PSAL. CXXIX.

Many are the afflictions of Israel, but God delivereth them. 5 Their haters are cursed.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

OFTen have they afflicted me from my youth, may Israel now say. Often have they afflicted me from my youth, yet have they not prevailed against me. The plowers plowed upon my back, they made long their furrow. Jehovah just, he hath cut asunder the cord of the wicked. Let them be abashed and turned back, all that hate Zion. Let them be as the grass of the house tops, which afore one pulleth it off, is withered. Wherewith he that moweth, filleth not his hand; or he that bindeth sheaves, his bosom. Neither do they that pass by say, The blessing of Jehovah be upon you, we bless you in the Name of Jehovah.

Annotations.

OFTen] or Much, vehemently. from my youth] my first constitution, in Egypt, Ezek. 23. 3. not prevailed] in Chaldee, they could not do me evil.

Vers. 3. plowers] that plow iniquity, Job 4 8. the Greek saith, sinner. furrow] and furrows, that is, every of them; (for the Hebrew hath both readings) meaning their injuries, or iniquity, as the Greek turneth it.

Vers. 4. cord] for ords, or ropes; one put for many: see Psal. 8. 9. by ords, meaning counsels and enterprises, wherewith they drew the plough of their iniquity, Isaiah. 5. 18.

Vers. 5. Let them] or, They shall be abashed. [unspec 6]

Vers. 6. pulleth it off] or pulleth out, namely, the hook to cut it. The Chaldee explains it, which before it flourisheth, an East wind cometh and bloweth on it, and it withereth.

Vers. 7. his bosom] his arms; as Isaiah. 49. 22. or lap.

Vers. 8. we bless you] the Chaldee addeth, and they answer them not, we bless you, &c. taking this latter branch to be the harvest men's answer, as in Ruth 2. 4.

PSAL. CXXX.

The Psalmist praying out of deep afflictions, professeth his hope and patience, and exhorteth Israel to the like.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

Ovt of the deeps do I call unto thee Jehovah. Lord, hear my voice, let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications for grace. If thou shouldest observe iniquities, O Yah, Lord, who shall stand? But with thee is forgiveness, that thou mayest be feared. I earnestly expect Jehovah, my soul earnestly expecteth, and for his word do I hopefully wait. My soul for the Lord, more than watchmen for the morning, watchmen for the morning. Let Israel hopefully wait for Jehovah, for with Jehovah there is mercy, and with him is much redemption. And he will redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

Annotations.

DEeps] or low places, that is, great calamities, Psal. 69. 3. 15. with hearty deep affections, and lowliness of mind.

Vers. 3. shall stand] or can subsist? meaning, no man can. [unspec 3]

Vers. 6. watchmen] or, warders, keepers. Which the Chaldee explaineth thus, more than they which observe the morning watch, which they observe that they may offer the morning sacrifice. for] or to the morning.

Vers. 8. his] or their iniquities: see the note on Psal. 25. 22. [unspec 8]

PSAL. CXXXI.

David professeth his humility, and exhorteth Israel to hope in God.

A Song of degrees of David. [unspec 1]

Jehovah, mine heart is not haughty, neither are mine eyes lofty, neither walk I in great matters, and too marvelous for me. If I have not composed and stilled my soul, as a weaned child with his mother; as a weaned child with me is my soul. Let Israel hopefully wait for Jehovah, from this time and forever.

Annotations.

HAughty] or lifted up, with pride: see Deut. 17. 20. Prov. 16. 5. 2 Chron. 32. 25, 26. Psal. 101. 5. marvelous] that is, too hard for me, high and above my reach: as Psal. 139. 6.

Vers. 2. If I have not] that is, Surely I have: an oath, whereof part is concealed; see Psal. 95. 11. Ier. 49. 20. composed, or put fit and in order. The Chaldee expoundeth it, If I have not put my hand on my mouth, and silenced my soul, till it might hear the words of the Law, as a weaned child on his mothers breasts, &c. stilled] or, made silent, refraining it from noisome lusts. as a weaned child] that is, meek, modest, humble, submissive, simple, &c. See Mat. 18. 1, 2, 3, 4.

PSAL. CXXXII.

David's care to bring home the Ark of God. 8 His prayer at the removing thereof. 11 The Lord's oath and promises to David & to the Church.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

Jehovah, remember unto David all his affliction. How he sware unto Jehovah, vowed unto the Mightie one of Jacob. If I enter into the tent of mine house; If I go up on the pallet of my beds. If I give sleep to mine eyes, slumber to mine eye-lids. Until I find a place for Jehovah, dwelling places for the Mighty one of Jacob. Loe, we heard it was in Ephrathah, we found it in the fields of the wood. We will go into his dwelling places; we will bow down ourselves at the footstool of his feet. Arise Jehovah to thy rest, thou, and the Ark of thy strength. Let thy Priests be clothed with justice, and let thy gracious Saints joyfully shout. For thy servant David's sake, turn not away the face of thine Anointed. Jehovah sware unto David, truth; he will not turn from it; of the fruit of thy womb will I set upon thy throne. If thy sons keep my Covenant, and my Testimony that I shall teach them; also their sons even to perpetuity, shall sit upon thy throne. For Jehovah hath chosen Zion, hath desired it for his seat. This is my rest even to perpetuity, here will I sit, for I have desired it. Her victuals I will blessing bless, her poor I will satisfy with bread. And her Priests I will clothe with salvation, and her gracious Saints shall shouting shout joyfully. There will I make the horn of David to bud; I have ordained a lamp for mine Anointed. His enemies will I clothe with shame, and on him his crown shall flourish.

Annotations.

VNto David] or for him, that is, for good unto him: or, David with all his affliction. So Psal. 137. 7. affliction] or, humiliation, afflicting care, for to have the Ark brought home unto him, 1 Chron. 13. 1, 2, 3, 12. and 15. 1, 2. &c. or, to build God an house, 2 Sam. 7. 1, 2.

Vers. 2. the Mightie one] in Greek, the God of Jacob; so called first by Jacob himself, Gen. 49. 24. This title is also given to other things, as Psal. 78. 25. and 22. 13.

Vers. 3. If I enter] that is, surely I will not enter: see Psal. 95. 11. and 89. 36. Compare this care of David with the contrary negligence of the people, Hag. 1. 4. 2 Sam. 7. 1, 2. mine house] mentioned, 1 Chron. 15. 1.

Vers. 5. find] that is, prepare, or build: so Act. 7. 46. Also in Psal. 36. 3. finding is accomplishing. for Jehovah] that is, for his Ark to rest in, which the Chaldee explaineth, a place for the house of the Lord's Sanctuary. dwelling places] or, habitaclcs: see Psal. 43. 3.

Vers. 6. it] God's Ark, verse. 8. Ephra•hah] the country of Ephraim, the city Shilo, where God's house and Ark had long continued, Judge. 18. 31. and 21. 19. 1 Sam. 1. 3. therefore an Ephraimite is called an Ephrathite, Judge. 12. 5. the fields of the wood] in the city of Kirjath-jearim (that is, the City of the woods) where the Ark was twenty years, after it came home from the Philistines, 1 Sam. 6. 21. and 7. 1, 2. It was also called Balle (the plains) of Judah, 2 Sam. 6. 2.

Vers. 7. at the foot stool] or towards it, meaning the Sanctuary: see Psal. 99. 5.

Vers. 8. thy rest] the Sanctuary built for thy name, as 1 Chr. 28. 2. 2 Chr. 6. 41. Ark] or Christ, Coffer, w<sup>ch</sup> was made of Shittim (or Cedar) wood, overlaid with plates of gold, whose cover (called the Mercy-seat) was also of pure gold, on which were two glorious Cherubs of gold, from whence God gave his Oracle, Exod. 37. 1, 2,—6, 7. Num. 7. 89. In this Ark were the two Tables of the Law or Testimony, written with the finger of God, Deut. 10. 3, 4, 5. This Ark is called God's strength and glory, Psal. 78. 61. For Ark of thy strength, the Chaldee saith, the Ark wherein thy Law is.

Vers. 9. clothed with justice] that is, let them justly and holily administer their Priests office. So Job speaking of his just administration, saith, I put on justice, and it clothed me, my judgment was as a robe and crown, Job 29. 14. Therefore the Priests had holy garments to administer in, Exod. 28. 2, 3. In 2 Chron. 6. 41. and after here in verse. 16. the Priests are clothed with salvation: so Christ, and his people, Isa. 61. 10. Rev. 1. 13. and 19. 8. thy Saints] the people of Israel, 1 Chron. 15. 28. and specially the Levites which were singers in God's Sanctuary. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, Let thy Priests be clothed with the garments of justice, and let the Levites thy Saints say praises for the oblations.

Vers. 10. David's sake] for the promises made to David; or, for Christ's sake, called often David: see Psal. 18. 51. turn not away the face] that is, deny not the request: as 1 King. 2. 16, 17, 20.

Vers. 11. truth] that is, a true oath, a faithful promise. fruit of thy womb] or belly, that is, thy children: see 2 Sam. 7. 12. And this prophesy respecteth Christ, Act. 2. 30.

Vers. 13. his seat] or dwelling place; see Ps. 68. 17. [unspec 15]

Vers. 15. victuals] or meat: see Psal. 78. 25. blessing bless] this noteth certainty and abundance of blessing.

Vers. 16. with salvation] the ministration of the word, whereby they save themselves and those that hear them, Deut. 33. 10. 1 Tim. 4. 16. So God's ministers are called Savior's, Obad. 21. See before, verse. 9. The Chaldee translateth, with garments of salvation (or of redemption.)

Vers. 17. the horn to bud] or to grow, that is, the kingdom and power to increase, as the Chaldee saith, I will make a glorious King to bud in the house of David. See Psal. 75. 5. and 89. 18, 25. So Christ is called the horn of salvation, Luke 1. 69. ordained a lamp] or, prepared a candle, the bright glory of the kingdom by a successor; as 1 King. 11. 36. and 15. 4. 2 King. 8. 19. See Psal. 18. 29.

Vers. 18. clothe with shame] the Chaldee saith, with garments of shame. He meaneth they shall be disappointed and confounded in all their enterprises: So Psal. 35. 26. and 109. 29. crown] or diademe; a sign of government and sanctity: therefore the Greek turneth it, sanctification: see Psal. 89. 40.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

The benefit of the communion of Saints.

A Song of degrees of David. [unspec 1]

BEhold how good and how pleasant it is, for brethren to dwell even together! Like the good oil upon the head, which went down upon the beard, the beard of Aaron, which went down upon the collar of his garmens. Like the dew of Hermon which descendeth upon the mountains of Zion; for there Jehovah hath commanded the blessing, life unto eternity.

Annotations.

TOgether] in unity and concord. The Chaldee paraphraseth, to dwell in Zion and Jerusalem, like two brethren together.

Vers. 2. the good oil] the balsam, or oil of holy ointment, made of the principal spices, for the Lord's Tabernacle and Ministers; see Exod. 30. 23, 25, 26,—30. the collar] Hebr. the mouth, that is, the edge, the upper hole or border which was bound about that it should not rent, Exod. 39. 23.

Vers. 3. Hermon] an high and fertile mount without Jordan, watered with the dew of heaven: it was called also Shirion: see Psal. 29. 6. which descendeth] understand here again, and as the dew that descendeth: for Hermon and Zion were far asunder. there] where brethren dwell in unity. commanded] appointed, and sent effectually: see Psal. 42. 9.

PSAL. CXXXIV.

An exhortation to bless God.

A Song of degrees. [unspec 1]

BEhold, bless ye Jehovah all ye servants of Jehovah, that stand in the house of Jehovah in the nights. Lift up your hands in the Sanctuary, and bless Jehovah. Jehovah bless thee out of Zion: he that made heavens and earth. [unspec 3]

Annotations.

THat stand] that is, serve, or minister, as, which stood before the King, Ier. 51. 12. for which is written, in 2 King. 25 8. servant of the King. Here is meant chiefly the Priests and Levites, whose office was to stand and minister, Deut. 10. 8. and 17. 12. Ezek. 44. 11, 15. So Neh. 12. 44. the Priests and Levites that stood, that is, served. See also Psal. 13 5. 2. The Chaldee expoundeth it, that stand in the watches of the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, and do praise in the nights. in the nights] keeping the watch of the Lord. See Levite. 8. 35. 1 Chron. 9. 33.

Vers. 2. in the Sanctuary] or, towards the holiness, that is, the most holy place, where God dwelt between the Cherubims: or, in holiness, that is, holily.

Vers. 3. bless] or will bless thee, speaking to God's people. Compare Num. 6. 24. Psal. 128. 5. and the promise, Exod. 20. 24. In all places where I put the memory of my name, I will come unto thee, and bless thee.

PSAL. CXXXV.

God's servants are exhorted to praise him for his mercies to Israel, 5 his power, 8 his judgments on their enemies. 15 The vanity of Idols. 19 An exhortation to bless God.

Halel•jah. [unspec 1]

PRaise ye the Name of Jehovah, praise him, O ye servants of Jehovah. That stand in the house of Jehovah, in the courts of the house of our God. Praise ye Yah, for Jehovah is good; sign Psalm to his Name, for it is pleasant. For Yah hath chosen to him self Jacob, Israel for his peculiar treasure. For I do know that Jehovah is great, and our Lord is above all God's. All that pleaseth Jehovah he doth, in the heavens, & in the earth, in the seas, and all deep places. He causeth vapors to ascend from the end of the earth; he maketh lightnings with the rain; he bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures. Who smote the first-borne of Egypt, from man unto beast. Sent signs and wonders in mids of thee, O Egypt, on Pharaoh and on all his servants. Who smote many nations, and slew mighty Kings. Sihon King of the Amorites, and Ogh, King of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan. And gave their land for a possession, a possession to Israel his people. Jehovah, thy Name is forever; Jehovah, thy memory is to generation and generation. For Jehovah will judge his people, and for his servants he will repent himself. The idols of the heathens are silver and gold, the work of the hands of men. A mouth they have and speak not, eyes they have and see not. Ears they have and hear not, also there is no breath in their mouth. Like them be they that make them, everyone that trusteth in them. O house of Israel, bless ye Jehovah; O house of Aaron, bless ye Jehovah. O house of Levi, bless ye Jehovah; ye that fear Jehovah, bless Jehovah. Blessed be Jehovah out of Zion, which dwelleth in Jerusalem; Hallelujah.

Annotations.

HAlelu-jah] that is, praise, or glorify ye Yah▪ it is a word of joyful exhortation to sing praises to the Lord for his mercies, and in the end of Psalms, is added as Amen, for a cheerful acclamation: see Psal. 104. 35. and 106. 48. Rev. 19. 1, 3, 6.

Vers. 4. peculiar treasure] or precious and singular possession, propriety: so Deut. 7. 6. This was promised by the law, Exod. 19. 5. but performed by Christ his redeeming and purifying of his people, Tit. 2. 14. 1 Pet. 2. 9.

Vers. 7. vapors] or elevations; in Greek clouds: for by vaporous clouds drawn from the end of the earth or sea, cometh rain; as it is said, he calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out on the faoe of the earth. Amos 5. 8. So Ier. 10. 13. and 51. 16. with the rain] or, to the rain; so fire and water are mixed in one cloud. treasures] or cosfers, store-houses. see Psal. 33. 7.

Vers. 8. from man, &c.] that is, both men and beasts: see Psal. 78. 50, 51. Exod. 12. 12, 29.

Vers. 9. Pharaoh] the King who was plagued first in Egypt, and after drowned in the red sea, Exod. 7. and 8. and 9. and 10. and 14.

Vers. 10. Many] or ample, great nations, the Amorites, Canaanites, &c.

Vers. 11. Ogh] a giant whose bedstead was of iron, nine cubits long, and four broad. See Num. 21. 23, 35. Deut. 3. 11. kingdoms] thirty and one, as is reckoned, Josh. 12. 9,—24.

Vers. 12. a possession] or heritage: see Psal. 78. 55. [unspec 14]

Vers. 14. for] or concerning his servants: this is taken from Deut. 32. 36.

Vers. 15. idols] compare this that followeth, with Psal. 115. 4. &c.

Vers. 19. house of Israel] that is, the posterity of Israel; so after. of Aaron] to whom the Priesthood was committed, Exod. 28. 1.

Vers. 20. of Levi] which were taken from among the sons of Israel, and given and joined with the Priests to minister unto them, Num. 18. 2, 6. ye that fear.] all strangers converts, profelytes, Act. 2. 5. and 10. 35.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

An exhortation to confess God's goodness, power, and wisdom, shown in the creation of the world, the deliverance of Israel out of Egypt, and many other mercies.

COnfesse ye to Jehovah, for he is good, for his mercy endureth forever. Confess ye to the God of God's, for his mercy endureth forever. Confess ye to the Lord of Lord's, for his mercy endureth forever. To him that doth wondrous great things himself alone, for his mercy endureth forever. To him that made the heavens with prudency, for his mercy endureth for ever. To him that spread out the earth above the waters, for his mercy endureth forever. To him that made the great lights, for his meracle endureth forever. The Sun for dommion by day, for his mercy endureth forever. The Moon and stars for the dominions by night, for his mercy endureth for ever. To him that smote Egypt in their first-borne, for his mercy endureth forever. And brought forth Israel from mids of them, for his mercy endureth forever. With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, for his mercy endureth forever. To him that parted the red sea into parts, for his mercy endureth forever. And made Israel to pass thorough the mids of it, for his mercy endureth forever. And shook off Pharaoh and his power into the red sea, for his mercy endureth forever. To him which led his people in the wilderness, for his mercy endureth forever. To him which smote great Kings, for his mercy endureth forever. And killed magnificent Kings, for his mercy endureth forever. Sihon King of the Amorites, for his mercy endureth forever. And Ogh the King of Bashan, for his mercy endureth forever. And gave their land for a possession, for his mercy endureth forever. A possession to Israel his servant, for his mercy endureth forever. Which remembered us in our base estate, for his mercy endureth forever. And hath redeemed us from our distresser, for his mercy endureth forever. Which giveth bread to all flesh, for his mercy endureth forever. Confess ye to the God of heavens, for his mercy endureth forever.

Annotations.

MErcie] the Hebrew Chesed signifieth a sacred affection of mercy, piety, grace, benignitie, and bountiful good will towards any without respect of merit. In man sometime it is the pious benign affection wherewith he doth good: sometime the mercy or bountihed which he receiveth; as in Isa. 40. 6. it is the glorious grace which man hath from God, called by the holy Ghost in Greek, doxa, glory, 1 Pet. 1. 24. usually the Greek version hath for it eleos, mercy, which the New Testament alloweth, Mat. 9. 13. from Hos. 6. 6. Hereof a godly man is called Chasid, gracious, or merciful: see Psal. 4. 4.

Vers. 8. dominion] or rule, sovereignty: see Gen. 1. 16.

Vers. 10. Egypt] or, the Egyptians: see Psal. 78. 43,—51.

Vers. 13. parts] or divisions. By the Jews tradition, the red sea was parted into twelve several parts, for every of the twelve tribes to go thorough.

Vers. 15. shook off] that is, overthrew: so Exod. 14. 27.

Vers. 18. magnificent] mighty and excellent, mentioned after, and Psal. 135. 10, 11, 12.

Vers. 24. redeemed] or delivered, broken off, and pulled away, as by violence; for so also the word signifieth, Psal. 7. 3.

Vers. 25. bread] that is, food; Bread is used for all meats: so in the Greek, to buy bread, Mark. 6. 36. is, to buy meat, (or victuals) Mat. 14. 15. Therefore this word is used also for beasts food, Psal. 147. 9.

Vers. 8. make my bed] or spread my couch; in Greek, descend. Compare Amos 9. 2. [unspec 8]

Vers. 9. wings of the morning] or, day-dawning, which is said to have wings, for that it speedily flieth over all the air. of the sea] meaning the furthest parts of the world, for so the sea often signifieth, Psal. 65. 6. and 72. 8. Isa. 24. 14.

Vers. 11. shroud] over-dim me, as with the dark twilight; or shall bruise, shall crush me down, as Gen. 3. 15. so the Greek, shall tread me down.

Vers. 12. darkeneth] that is, hideth: Compare Job 34. 22. Ier. 23. 24. as is, &c.] or, like darkness, like light, that is, they are equal, as that which in Mat. 22. 30. is like, in Luk. 20. 36. is equal.

Vers. 13. covered] that is, safely kept and protected, as the Greek saith, holpen me, or covered me with skin and flesh, &c. as Job 10. 11.

Vers. 14. fearfully] or in fearful sorts, to wit, I am made: or, these are fearful things: the Chaldee saith, thou hast done fearful things. marvelously made] or excellently made; elsewhere this word is used for separated from, and excelling others: see Psal. 4. 4.

Vers. 15. my bone] that is, bones, any of them; or my substance or strength; for thereof the bone is named. embrodered] that is, cunningly wrought with Nerves, Sinewes, Veines, & variety of limbs. A similitude taken from broiderie work, Psal. 45. 15. nether places of the earth] so he calleth his mothers womb, because of God's secret and unknown making of men there, Eccles. 11. 5. And thus may the like phrase, Ephes. 4. 9. be understood of Christ's incarnation.

Vers. 16. My unformed substance] or, Mine embryo, which is the body in the womb before it hath perfect shape, or, unwrought up, as the Greek here translateth it. The Hebrew name is of wrapping or winding up like a bottom, my wound-up mass, or body. all of them] all my members wound up in that my embrion or unperfected substance. Or generally, all men. The Chaldee saith, all my days were written in the book of thy memorial. were written] Hebr. shall be written, which meaneth a continual act: see Psal. 2. 1. So after, shall be formed. in the days they were formed] or, what days they should be formed: meaning that all his members, in the days that they were in fashioning in his mothers womb, were written down of God: or, that the days of their forming were written. The Chaldee saith, in the day when the world was created, &c. and when not one] Hebr. and not one of them, or in them. Meaning that God had written down all parts of his body, not only when they were in forming, but long before. So commending his providence, who calleth things which be not as though they were, Rom. 4. 17.

Vers. 17. how precious are] that is, how rare are thy thoughts to me, how few of them can I speak of, how incomprehensible are thy cogitations! The words following show this to be the meaning: Compare Job 26. 14. And a thing is said to be precious which cannot be attained unto or effected; see Psal. 49. 9. Otherwise we may take it thus, Thy thoughts, that is, the thoughts that I have of thee, how precious, of how much esteem and worth are they to me? So precious is used, Psal. 36. 8. The Chaldee expoundeth it, How honorable are they that love thee, O God, and how are their princes fortified. mightily increased] many and strong: see Psal 40. 5. the sums] Hebr. heads, used for sums, and so the Greek, archee, Numb. 1. 2. and 26. 6. I awake and] or, when I awake I am still with thee, that is, still meditating of thee. The Chaldee referreth this to the last resurrection thus, I shall rise again in the world to come, and shall be still with thee. See Psal. 17. 15.

Vers. 19. If thou wouldest] or, O that thou wouldest, for it seemeth here to be a wish, as also in the Greek of the New Testament, Luk. 12. 49. what will I, if it were (that is, O that it were) already kindled. So in 1 Chron. 4. 10. If thou wilt bless me, that is, O that thou wouldest bless. Or, Surely thou wilt slay, &c. and men, &c.] this may also be referred to God thus, and wouldest say, Ye bloody men depart from me; or to David, who saith, depart ye from me. The Chaldee expoundeth it, & let the men addicted to the judgment of death depart from me.

Vers. 20. Speak of thee] or against thee, as the like Hebraism meaneth, 1 King. 21. 13. witnessed of (or against) him. See the notes on Psal. 5. 5. Or say thee, that is, mention or speak of, as Psal. 40. 11. 2 Sam. 6. 22. The Chaldee understands it of swearing, which swear in thy name deceitfully. to a mischievous purpose] or with a crafty intent, that is, craftily, wickedly. See Psal. 10. 2. lift up do thy foes. &c.] or, thy foes take up thy name to vanity; this sense the Chaldee paraphrase giveth, and the phrase is taken from Ex. 20. 7. the word name being understood, (as in Lev. 24. 11. the word Lord is understood) or, thy foes lift up their head (as is expressed, Psal. 83. 2.) in vain, that is, they are vainly proud and insolent. Often times words wanting are to be supplied: see the Notes on Psal. 103. 9. Or, they lift up thy foes in vain, that is, the wicked (which speak evil of thee) do vainly extollthine enemies. to false vanity] or in vain: see Psal. 12. 3. and 24. 4.

Vers. 21. am not I grieved] or grieve (irke) my self: so Psal. 119. 158. Compare also 2 Chron. 19. 2. Prov. 29. 27.

Vers. 23. Prove] or try me. Compare Psal. 26. 2. [unspec 24]

Vers. 24. way of sorrow] or of grief, that is, wicked way (purposes or actions) which are grievous to God and men; and in special, the way of idolatry; for of this word Idols have their name: see Psal. 16. 4. So a word of grief, Prov. 15. 1. is that which grieveth him to whom it is spoken. way of eternity] or of antiquity, the old way, as Ier. 6. 16. meaning the way of faith and godliness, which God taught from the beginning, and which continueth forever; contrary to the way of the wicked, which perisheth, Psal. 1. 6.

PSAL. CXL.

David prayeth for deliverance from the wicked. 9. He prayeth against them. 13 He comforteth him-self by confidence in God.

To the Master of the Music, a Psalm of David.

Release me, O Jehovah, from the evil man; from the man of violent wrongs preserve thou me. Which think evil things in heart; every day they gather wars. They sharpen their tongue like a serpent; the hot poison of the Asp is under their lips Selah.

Keep me, O Jehovah, from the hands of the wicked; from the man of violent wrongs preserve thou me, which think to thrust away my feet. The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords; they have spread a net by the paths side, they have set grinnets for me Selah.

I said to Jehovah, Thou art my God; hear, O Jehovah, the voice of my supplications for grace. Jehovah Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of arms. Grant not, O Jehovah, the desires of the wicked; further not his crafty device, lest they exalt themselves Selah.

The head of those that compass me about, the molestation of their lips shall cover them. They shall bring upon them coals; he shall fell them into the fire, into deep pits, that they rise not up. An ill-tongued man shall not be established in the earth; a man of violent wrong, evil shall hunt him to a sudden overthrow. I know that Jehovah will do the judgment of the poor afflicted; the doom of the needy. Surely the just shall confess to thy Name, the righteous shall sit before thy face.

Annotations.

They gather wars] or are gathered to wars, getting themselves and other together. The active is often used passively, Psal. 32. 9. and 109. 13.

Vers. 4. of the Asp] or Viper; Greek, of Asps: so Rom. 3. 13. Compare Psal. 58. 5. [unspec 4]

Vers. 5. to thrust away my feet] or, to overthrow my footsteps. [unspec 5]

Vers. 6. by the paths side] or, fast by my path; Heb. at the hand of the path. Compare Psal. 142. 4. Ier. 18. 22. Prov. 29. 5.

Vers. 8. Jehovah] or God: see Psal. 68. 21. of arms] or of armor, that is, of battle, (as the Greek translatheth it) when men harness themselves. This is that helmet, salvation, Eph. 6. 17.

Vers. 9. further not] or, bring not to pass. lest they] or, they will exalt themselves, that is, be proud or lofty. Compare Deut. 32. 27.

Vers. 10. the head] that is, As for the head (the chief) of those, &c. An head sometime signifieth a company of chief men, 1 Chron. 4. 42. though here perhaps someone man is meant, as the Chaldee nameth Achitophel. It is also used for a band of men, as Job 1. 17. Sometime the Hebrew word signifieth gall, as Psal. 69. 22. Which sense also is not amiss here. shall cover] or prayer-wise, let it cover them, and him (as Psal. 2. 3.) that is, every of them.

Vers. 11. They shall bring] or make move (as Psal. 55. 4.) upon themselves; or coals shall be moved (that is, thrown) upon them. The Hebrew hath a double reading, yielding both these senses; their judgments to be from God, but procured by themselves. he] that is, God shall fell them, or indefinitely, they shall be felled, or cast. deep pits] or sudden sorrows; the Greek saith calamities; the Chaldee, the fire of Gehenna.

Vers. 12. An ill-tongued man] Heb. a man of tongue, that is, a pratler or evil speaker, that hath tongue at will to use and abuse at his lust, and to smite therewith, as Ier. 18. 18. So a man of lips, Job 11. 2. is one talkative: a man of words, Exo. 4. 10. is one eloquent: a man of arm, Job 22. 8. is one mighty; and sundry the like. to a sudden overthrow] or, his utter ruin and misery. Hebrew, to (or with) thrustings down. The Chaldee paraphraseth, The Angel of death shall hunt him, and thrust him down into hell.

Vers. 14. sit before thy face] or  dwell with thy face, that is, in thy presence: see Psal. 16. 11. and 61. 8.

PSAL. CXLI.

David prayeth that his suit may be acceptable, his conscience sincere, and his life safe from snares.

A Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

Jehovah, I call upon thee, make haste unto me, give ear to my voice when I call unto thee. Let my prayer be firmly directed as incense before thee; the lifting up of my hands as the evening oblation. Set thou, Jehovah, a watch before my mouth, keep the door of my lips. Incline not my heart to an evil thing; to pretend pretences in wickedness, with men that work painful iniquity: and let me not eat their dainties. Let the just man smite me, it shall be a kindness, and let him reprove me; the headoile, let it not break mine head; for yet my prayer also shall be in their evils. Their Judges are thrown down by the Rock sides; and they shall hear my sayings, for they are pleasant. As when one cutteth and cleaveth on the earth, our bones are scattered at the mouth of hell. But mine eyes are unto thee, Jehovah Lord; in thee I hope for safety: pour not out my soul. Keep me from hands of the snare, which they have laid for me, and the grinnes of them that work painful iniquity. Let the wicked fall into his net, whiles I together pass over.

Annotations.

BE firmly directed] or prepared; and so acceptable. as incense] or perfume, which was a confection of sweet spices, made after the art of the Apothecary, pure and holy, and was by the Priests burned upon the golden altar, every morning before the Lord, Exod. 30. 34, 35, 36. 7. 8. a figure of the prayers of the Saints, acceptable to God, through Christ's mediation, as this place showeth, compared with Rev. 8. 3. my hands] or palms, lifted up in prayer: see Psal. 63. 5. evening oblation] the Manchah properly was the meatoffering, (which was fine flower mingled with oil) offered together with the Lamb every evening, before the Lord continually, as Exod. 29. 39, 40, 41, 42. Num. 28. 2, 3,—8. Here it is taken for the whole oblation, at the time of the offering whereof the godly used to pray, Exod. 9. 5. Dan. 9. 21. it was at the ninth hour of the day, (about three of the clock in the afternoon) called the hour of prayer, Acts 3. 1.

Vers. 3. a watch] or, a ward, custody, to keep me from speaking amiss. keep] observe thou: or, an observation, before the door. the door] or gate of my lips, by which my words pass out as at a door: so the doors of the womb, Job 3. 10. The original dal, is contracted for deleth, a door: though this be rare: yet the Hebrew text sometime doth the like, as Chaji, 2 Sam. 23. 20. for Chajil, 1 Chron. 11. 22.

Vers. 4. Incline not] to wit, by Satan, or mine own corruption: for God properly tempteth no man to evil, but the devil, and man's own concupiscence, I am. 1. 13, 14. 1 Cor. 7. 5. and by Satan, God moveth men's minds, as appeareth, 1 Chro. 21. 1. with 2 Sam. 24. 1. So Matt. 6. 13. evil thing] or word: see Psal. 7. 1. to pretend pretences] or, excuses; thus the Greek turneth it: the Hebrew also signifieth occasions pretended, as Deut. 22. 14, 17. Or we may read it, to practice practices in wickedness. with men that work] or, with men workers, that is, such as stoutly, boldly, and manfully work iniquity. their dainties] the Chaldee expoundeth it, of their songs at bankers.

Vers. 5. smite] or beat me; the word properly signifieth beating with an hammer, Psal. 74. 6. Judge. 5. 26. applied to sharp rebukes. So Prov. 23. 35. Compare also Prov. 9. 8. and 25. 12. and 28. 23. Zach. 13. 6. it shall be a kindness] a mercy, or, with kindness, that is, let him smite me kindly, and reprove me. the head-oil] that is, the chief or precious oil: (as head spices are chief and principal, Exod. 30. 23.) or oil of the head, which is to anoint the head with. Or, by head, understand the chiefest of his adversaries, as before, Ps. 140. 10. for this seemeth to be an opposition to the former thus, let the just smite me, but let not the precious oil (or the oil of the head) of the wicked break mine head: and this the Greek favoeth, saying, but let not the oil of the sinner supple mine head: by oil, meaning flattering words, as Psal. 55. 22. Otherwise we may refer it to the former just man's reproof, it shall be a precious oil, let him not make it fail my head. The Chaldee otherwise expoundeth it, and let the Priest reprove me, anointing me with the anointing oil of the Sanctuary: but let him not take the crown of the kingdom from mine head. let it not break my head] not distract or dazell my wits, not overcome me; the Hebrew word signifieth breaking and bringing to naught, Ps. 33. 10. and is applied to the breaking of the heart by discouragement, Num. 32. 7. and here to the breaking of the head, or bringing to naught of counsels, purposes, &c. by flattery. Or, if it be understood of the just, we may read it, let him not make it fail mine head, that is, let the oil of his reproof not be wanting upon mine head. in their evils] or, against their evils: which may be applied to the evil deeds of the wicked, or calamities of the just: and here understand, is or shall be in their evils: or, as the Chaldee explaineth it, is ordered against their evil.

Vers. 6. Their Judges] the Princes of mine adversaries. are thrown down] or, throw down themselves, that is, secretly pursue and beset me in the rocks and mountains whither I am forced to flee, 1 Sam. 24. 3. and 23. 26. The word may also bear their throwing down to destruction, as 1 Chro. 25. 12. by the rock sides] or, in rocky places; Hebr. in the hands of the rock; as Psal. 140. 6. and they shall hear] or, though they have heard.

Vers. 7. cutteth and cleaveth] to wit, wood, or the ground with the plough. of hell] or, the grave. Compare Ezek. 37. 1, 11, 12. Jehovah] or God: see Psal. 68. 21. pour not out my soul] to wit, unto death, as Esa. 53. 12. that is, kill me not: or, make not my soul bare, that is, leave it not destitute and helpless.

Vers. 10. Let the wicked fall] or, They shall fall. into his net] that is, every of them into his own net, or flue. together] namely, with their fall, or together with them that are with me: or, altogether (wholly) pass over, and escape: the Greek saith, alone I am, until I pass over. See this word, Psal. 33. 15.

PSAL. CXLII.

David showeth that in his troubles, when his own heart and all other help failed him, all his comfort was in faith and prayer unto God.

An instructing Psalm of David: a prayer when he was in the cave.

With my voice unto Jehovah did I cry, with my voice unto Jehovah did I supplicate for grace. I poured out before him my meditation, my distress I did show before him. When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path: in the way that I walked they privily laid a snare for me. I did look on the right hand and see, & no man acknowledged me; refuge is perished from me, no man seeketh for my soul. I cried unto thee, Jehovah; I said, thou art my hope for safety, my portion in the land of the living. Attend unto my shouting, for I am brought very low; deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I. Bring forth my soul out of the close prison, to confess thy name; the just shall environ me about, for thou wilt bounteously reward unto me.

Annotations.

IN the cave] fled thither from the persecution of Saul, 1 Sam. 24. 4, &c. [unspec 1]

Vers. 4. was overwhelmed] or, swowned, fainted: see Psal. 77. 4. then thou] Hebr. and thou: so, And he saith, Mark. 14. 34. is expounded, Then he saith, Matth. 26. 38.

Vers. 5. I did look] or, Look thou, &c. continuing his complaint to God. But the Greek turneth it, I considered: and the Hebrew Look thou, or To look, is often resolved by other definite persons: see the notes on Ps. 22. 9. and 49. 15. and 65. 11. & 77. 2. & 103. 20. and see] or, and behold, to wit, on the left hand. refuge] or flight. is perished frō me] that is, faileth me: I have no place to fly unto and escape. So Job 11. 20. Amos 2. 14. seeketh] that is, careth for: so Prov. 29. 10. usually to seek the soul, is in the ill part to destroy it: see Ps. 35. 4.

Vers. 7. brought low] or weakened: see Ps. 116. 6. [unspec 8]

Vers. 8. the prison] the cave wherein I am shut up close. environ] compass, as Psal. 22. 13. or, expect, as Job 36. 2. and so the Greek translatheth, the just shall wait for me, until thou reward me. See Psa. 13. 6. The Chaldee saith, for my sake the just shall make thee a crown of praise, because thou wilt render a good reward unto me.

PSAL. CXLIII.

David prayeth for favor in judgment. 3 He complaineth of his griefs. 5 He strengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer. 7 He prayeth for grace, 9 for deliverance, 10 for sanctification, 12 for destruction of his enemies.

A Psalm of David. [unspec 1]

Jehovah hear my prayer, give ear to my supplications for grace; in thy faithfulness answer me in thy justice. And enter not into judgment with thy servant, for before thee shall not any living be justified. For the enemy persecuteth my soul, smiteth down my life to the earth, maketh me sit in darkneses, as the dead for ever. And my spirit is overwhelmed in me, in midst of me my heart is wondrously amazed. I remember the days of old, I meditate on all thy work, I muse on the action of thy hands. I spread out my hands unto thee; my soul, as a weary land, thirsteth for thee Selah. Make speed, answer me Jehovah, my spirit faileth; hide not thy face from me, for I shall be made like to them that go down the pit. Cause me to hear thy mercy in the morning, for in thee do I trust; cause me to know the way that I should walk, for unto thee do I lift up my soul. Deliver me from mine enemies, O Jehovah; unto thee

I fly for covert. Learn me to do thine acceptable will, for thou art my God, thy good spirit shall lead me in the land of righteousness. For thy names sake Jehovah, thou wilt quicken me, in thy justice wilt bring forth my soul out of distress. And in thy mercy wilt suppress mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul, for I am thy servant.

Annotations.

ANd enter not into judgment] or, but go not to Law with me; by the deeds whereof no flesh shall be justified in thy sight, Rom. 3. 20. so Job 22. 4. & 14. 3. Esa. 3. 14. In Chaldee, go not into the judgment hall, namely, to judge with severity. not any] or, not all, that is, none living: so Matth. 24. 22. not all, that is, no flesh, 1 John. 2. 21. every lie is not, that is, no lie is of the truth; so 2 Pet. 1. 20. Ps. 76. 6.

Vers. 3. my life] or, my company; the Hebrew signifieth both, Job 33. 18. 22. Psal. 68. 11. darknesses] or, dark places: so Psal. 88. 7, 19. and 74. 20. for ever] or, of eternity, of old, meaning dead long since, and forever after: the word respecteth time past, and to come. So Lam. 3. 6.

Vers. 4. overwhelmed] fainteth, or, is perplexed: see Psal. 77. 4. wondrously amazed] astonished, or desolate. Gr. troubled. See this word, Esa. 59. 16. and 63. 5. Dan. 8. 27. Psal. 40. 16.

Vers. 5. of old] or, of antiquity; so Psal. 77. 6. [unspec 6]

Vers. 6. spread out] that is, pray; as the Chaldee saith, spread out my hands in prayer. See Psal. 44. 21. weary] that is, dry and thirsty: in Greek, waterless: see Psal. 63. 2.

Vers. 7. for I] or lest I; Hebr. and I; which may be supplied thus, left I perish, and be made like, &c. See Psal. 28. 1.

Vers. 8. in the morning] speedily: so Psal. 90. 14. [unspec 9]

Vers. 9. I fly for covert] or, I cover (I hide) myself, flying unto thee: or, to thee I covertly fly, secretly disclosing to thee that which I would hide from others: so the Greek, I fly to thee. The Chaldee expoundeth it, I have made thy Word my redeemer.

V. 10. thy good spirit shall lead me] so the Greek translateth this, and the rest, as assured: we may also read it prayer-wise, let thy good spirit lead me; or, thy spirit is good; let it lead me, &c. and so the rest. Compare Neh. 9. 20. in the land] or, into the land of righteousness; in a plain (or even) ground: see Psal. 26. 12. Esa. 26. 10.

Annotations.

HAlelu-jah] that is, Praise ye Yah; see Psalm. 135. 1.

Vers. 2. in my life] so long as I live: so Psalm. 104. 33.

Vers. 4. his spirit] man's ghost; so the soul is said to go forth, Gen. 35. 18. to his earth] whereof he was made; earth is in Hebrew Adamah; hereof man was called Adam, Earthly; compare Gen. 2. 7. and 3. 19. Ps. 104. 29. his thoughts] or purposes, the most excellent effects of the mind or spirit of man.

Vers. 7. the bound] or prisoners; but here it may be meant more largely; for sicknesses also are Satan's bonds, which our Lord Christ loosed, Luke 13. 16. See also Isa. 61. 1.

Vers. 8. openeth the eyes] or giveth sight to: compare Mat. 9. 29, 30. John. 9. 6, 7, 32. uprightneth] or maketh strait; as Psal. 145. 14. see this fulfilled, Luke 13. 13.

Vers. 9. setteh upright] maketh to continue sure: so Psal. 20. 9. and 147. 6. Compare Deut. 10. 18. and 27. 19. Ezod. 22. 22, 23, 24. Psal. 68. 6. overthroweth] or turneth up-side down: so Job 19. 6. see also Psal. 1. 6.

PSAL. CXLVII.

The Prophet exhorteth to praise God, for his care of the Church, wisdom, power, mercy and providence unto all. 12 To praise him for his blessings upon the kingdom, 15 for his works in nature, 19 and for his gracious word and ordinances given to his people.

PRaise ye Yah, for it is good to sing Psalms to our God, for it is pleasant, praise is comely. Jehovah buildeth Jerusalem, gathereth together the outcasts of Israel. He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their griefs. Counteth the number of the stars, calleth them all by names. Great is our Lord, and much in able might; of his understanding there is no number. Jehovah setteth upright the meek, debaseth the wicked unto the earth. Sing ye to Jehovah with confession, sing Psalms to our God with the harp. That covereth the heavens with clouds, that prepareth rain for the earth, that maketh the mountains to bud forth grass. That giveth to the beast his food, to the young ravens which cry. He delighteth not in the strength of the horse, he taketh not pleasure in the legs of man. Jehovah taketh pleasure in them that fear him, that patiently hope for his mercy. Laud Jehovah, O Jerusalem; praise thy God, O Zion. For he strengtheneth the bars of thy gates, he blesseth thy sons within thee. He putteth in thy border peace: he satisfieth thee with the fat of wheat. He sendeth his edict upon earth, his word runneth very swiftly. He giveth snow like wool, the hoare frost he scattereth abroad like ashes. He casteth forth his ice like morsels; who can stand before his cold? He sendeth his word and melteth them, he causeth his wind to blow, the waters flow. He showeth his words unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any Nation, and judgments they have not known them; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

OVtcasts] or driven out; in Greek, the dispersions, (that is, the di•ersed,) which word the Apostle useth, 1 Pet. 1. 1. I am. 1. 1. Compare Deut. 30. 4. Isa. 11. 12. and 56. 8. John. 11. 52.

Vers. 3. bindeth up their griefs] that is, healeth their wounds, as Luke 4. 18. with Isa. 61. 1. Compare also Ezek, 34. 16.

Vers. 4. Counteth] or Telleth, numbereth, which to man is impossible; see Gen. 15. 5. Ier. 33. 22. Isa. 40. 26.

Vers. 5. no number] nor searching out, Isa. 40. 28. [unspec 6]

Vers. 6. setteth upright] conserveth, to continue yet: see Psal. 146. 9.

Vers. 7. Sing] or, Answer, that is, Sing by turns, one after another: as Exod. 15. 21.

Vers. 8. with clouds] as in Elias time, 1 King. 18. 45. the mountains] and deserts where no man is, as Job 38. 26, 27. Psal. 104. 14.

Vers. 9. food] Hebr. bread, that is, the beasts their food, as the Greek hath it. young ravens] Hebr. sons (that is, younglings) of the ravens. So in Job 39. 3. who prepareth for the raven his meat, when his young ones call unto God, wandering for lack of meat?

Vers. 13. strengtheneth] or, hath made strong, a sign of God's favor and Zion's safety: see the contrary, Lam. 2 9. Ier. 51. 30. Amos 1. 5. Psal. 107. 16. Isa. 45. 2. These graces are to be referred unto the Church under the Gospel, called the heavenly Jerusalem, Rev. 21. 2. and which is above, Gal. 4. 26. So the Hebrew Doctors say, It is written, Land the Lord, O Jerusalem: and the Scripture speaketh of the Jerusalem that is above. R. Menache on Gen. 3.

Vers. 14. putteth in] or putteth thy border, &c. that is, maketh peace in thy borders. Compare Isa. 60. 17, 18. Ier. 12. 12. and 15. 13. and 17. 3. fat] that is, fine flower: so Psal. 81. 17.

Vers. 15. his edict] or saying, that is, commandment. [unspec 15]

Vers. 17. ice] or frost, the frozen hail stones. can stand] that is, endure it: so Pro. 27. 4. Nah. 1. 6.

V. 19. his words] the ten commandments (or moral law) Exo. 20. 1 called the ten words, Deut. 10. 4. statutes] decrees & constitutions of God's worship; see the note on Psal. 2. 7. judgments] the judicial laws for punishing offenders, Exod. 21. 1. Psal. 19. 10.

Vers. 20. any] or every; but in Hebrew, all is often used for any: see Psal. 103. 2. and 143. 2. judgments] the Greek saith, his judgments he hath not manifested to them; which sense the Hebrew also may bear, he hath not made known to them, as the Chaldee also interpreteth it.

PSAL. CXLVIII.

The Psalmist exhorteth all the heavenly, 7. the earthly, 11. and the reasonable creatures to praise God.

Halelu-jah. [unspec 1]

Praise ye Jehovah from the heavens, praise ye him in the high places. Praise ye him all his Angels, praise ye him all his hosts. Praise ye him Sun and Moon, praise ye him all stars of light. Praise ye him heavens of heavens, and the waters that be above the heavens. Let them praise the name of Jehovah, for he commanded, and they were created. And he stablished them for aye forever; a statute he gave, and it shall not pass. Praise ye Jehovah from the earth, Dragons, and all deeps.

Fire and hail, snow and vapor, stormy wind, doing his word. Mountains and all hills, fruitful tree and all cedars. The wild beast and all cattle, creeping thing and fethered fowl. Kings of the earth and all people's, Princes and all Judges of the earth. [unspec 11]

Young men and also maidens, old men with children. Let them praise the name of Jehovah, for high advanced is his Name, even his alone; his glorious Majesty is above earth and heavens. And he hath exalted the horn of his people, the praise of all his gracious Saints, the sons of Israel, a people near him; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

FRom the heavens] ye heavenly creatures; as the Chaldee, ye holy creatures of heaven: so after, from the earth, verse. 7. is earthly creatures. Compare Rev. 5. 13. in the high places] which the Chaldee expoundeth, high Angels.

Vers. 3. stars of light] bright shining stars, which praised God together, Job 38. 7. [unspec 3]

Vers. 4. above the heavens] in the clouds of the air, Gen. 1. 7. Job 26. 8. and 37. 11. [unspec 4]

Vers. 6. stablished] or, made them stand, Psalm. 119. 91. a statute] that is, statutes or decrees, rules, ordinances, whereby every creature is bounded to his set time and place, as Job 14. 5, 13. and 26. 10. whereupon mention is made of the statutes or ordinances of heaven, of the Moon and stars, &c. Job 38. 33. Jer. 31. 35. and 33. 25. it shall not pass] that is, not any of the things fore-mentioned shall pass the statute (or bound) set of God; or it, the statute shall not pass away, or fail, or, not be altered; as Esth. 1. 10. and 9. 27. 28.

Vers. 7. dragons] or whale-fishes.

Vers. 8. vapor] or smoke, exhalation, damp. As these and all other creatures are here stirred up to praise the Lord; so for our sakes are these things written, that we should learn by them to praise the Creator. And it is a rule in the Hebrew Canons, that for winds when they blow tempestuously, and for lightning & thunder, &c. for lights in the air which seem to be stars that fall, or run from place to place, or blazing stars, comets, &c. when a man seeth any of these, he is to bless God who hath filled the world with his power and might. Also, he that seeth the beautiful creatures, as going out into the fields or gardens in the spring time, seeth the trees sprouting and blossoming, he is to bless God, who hath not let his world lack anything, but hath created in it goodly creatures and saire trees. &c. for the use of the sons of Adam. So, for mountains and hills, seas and deserts, rivers, &c. if he see any of them from three days to three days, he is to bless the Creator of the world. Maimonides in Misneh, in Beracoth, chap. 10. sect. 14. 13. 15.

Vers. 10. fethered fowl] or winged bird: Hebr. bird of wing.

Vers. 13. high advanced] or set on high: so Isaiah 12. 4. It is a strong tower, into which the righteous runneth, and is also set on high in safety, Prov. 18. 10.

Vers. 14. the horn] the power and glory, as the Chaldee saith, the glory of the kingdom of his people: see Psal. 75. 10. This is accomplished in Christ, the horn of salvation, Luk. 1. 69. the praise] understand, which is the praise of his Saints, that is, their glory, or an argument of praise to them. near him] God's people are said to be near unto him, in respect of his covenant with them in Christ, Ephes. 2. 13. their service of him, Levite. 10. 3. and spiritual alliance in Christ, John. 20.

17. 1 Joh. 3. 1. For this word, nigh, is used for kindred, Lev. 21 3. Christ draweth near unto God for them, Jer. 30. 21. and they by him, Heb. 10. 19. 22.

PSAL. CXLIX.

God is publicly to be praised for his graces to his Church, and power given to the same.

Halelu-jah. [unspec 1]

Sing ye to Jehovah a new song, his praise in the Church of gracious Saints. Let Israel rejoice in his makers, let the sons of Zion be glad in their King. Let them praise his name with flute; with timbrell and harp, let them sing Psalms unto him. For Jehovah taketh pleasure in his people, he will beautify the meek with salvation. The gracious Saints shall be gladsome in glory, shall shout joyfully upon their beds. The exaltations of God in their throat, and a twoedged sword in their hand. To do vengeance on the heathens, reproofs in the nations.

To bind their Kings in chains, and their Nobles in fetters of iron. To do on them the judgment written, this comely honor is to all his gracious Saints; Halelu-jah.

Annotations.

His makers] the Father, the Word, and the Hely Ghost, which three are one, 1 John. 5. 7. The mystery of the Trinity is in the Hebrew phrase; so in many other, as, Let us make man in our image, Gen. 1. 26. Where is God my makers? Job 35. 10. Thy makers is thine husbands, Isaiah. 54. 5 Remember thy Creators, Eccles. 12. 1. and sundry the like. God also is our maker, both in nature and grace: see Psal. 100. 3. their King] Christ: as Matth. 21. 5. Song 14.

Vers. 3. with slate]s Psal. 150. 4. or, in a dance; as Ier. 31. 4. 13. Ps. 30. 12. One name is given both to the dance, and the pipe whereto they danced.

Vers. 4. ﴿ϕ﴾ ] or adorn, make glorious: so Esa. 60. 7. 9. 13. The Greek saith, exalt. [unspec 6]

Vers. 6. The exaltations] that is, exalting songs, high acts, high praises, or, lifting up of the voice, preachings. in their throat] that is, aloud spoken of, and proclaimed: so Esa. 58. 1. Cry with the throat, is, Cry aloud. two edged] Hebr. a sword of mouths, that is, of two mouths, as is expressed, Judge. 3. 16. in Greek two mouthed, that is, two edged, biting or cutting both ways. This sword is God's word, and cometh out of Christ's mouth, Ephes. 6. 17. Heb. 4. 12. Rev. 1. 16.

Vers. 7. on the beathens] by preaching against their idolatries, Act. 14. 15. and 17. 16, 17, 22, &c. Compare 2 Cor. 10. 4. 5. 6. Esa. 41. 15. reproofs] for sin, as John. 16. 8, &c.

Vers. 8. To bind their Kings] restraining their vices, and bringing them under the bonds and subjection of the gospel; see Ps. 2. 3. Mark. 6. 20. Acts 24. 26. Rev. 21. 24. Esa. 45. 14. a figure of captivity, Nahum 3. 10. 2 Cor. 10. 4, 5, 6. Matth. 16. 19. Nobles] or Honorable.

Vers. 9. written] in the book of God; see 1 Cor. 4. 6. Rev. 22. 18. So the Chaldee paraphraseth, written in the Law. And this may have reference to that law, Deut. 7. 1, 2, &c. honor is] or, this shall be the honor of all his Saints.

PSAL. CL.

An exhortation to praise God's holiness, power, & goodness, with all kind of instruments, and all breath.

Halelu-jah. [unspec 1]

PRaise ye God in his sanctity, praise him in the firmament of his strength. Praise him in his powers, praise him according to the multitude of his greatness. Praise him with the sound of the Trumpet, praise him with the psaltery and harp. Praise him with Timbrel and Flute, praise him with Virginals and Organ. Praise him with well sounding Cymbals, praise him with loud sounding Cymbals. Let all breath praise Yah; Halelu-jah. [unspec 6]

Annotations.

IN his sanctity] or, for his holiness; his most holy being, Isa. 6. 3. the first argument of praise from God's holy essence in himself: or, in his sanctity, (his sanctuary) his holy place, meaning heaven, in the firmament of his strength] that is, for his strong firmament, (called heaven, Gen. 1. 8.) the second argument of praise, from the frame of the world, whereof heaven is chiefest: see Psal. 19. 2. or for the out-spreading of his strength, that is, for his strength spread out as the firmament.

Vers. 2. in his powers] or, for his powerful acts, as Ps. 145. 4. the third argument of praise from God's mighty administration of all things since the creati on. of his greatness] or majesty, in special mercy towards his own people and against their enemies; which is the fourth argument of his praise. Compare Deut. 3. 24. and 9. 26. and 32. 3. Ex. 15. 16. 1 Chro. 17. 19. Luke 1. 46, 49, 58. Act. 2. 11. Psal. 79. 11. and 145. 3. 6. Majesty hath the name of greatness, and is applied to the greatest state of Polities or Common-weales; which is to be minded here.

Vers. 4. flute] or dance: Psal. 149. 3. Virginals] or, stringed instruments: this word is not elsewhere in Scripture. Organ] or, the Organon, as the Greek translath it: the Hebrew name signifieth a lovely (or delightful) instrument: it is one of the ancientest of the world, invented by Iubal, Gen. 4. 21. and an instrument of joy, Job 21. 12. & 30. 31. well sounding Cymbals] Hebr. Cymbals of hearing, that is, easy or delightful to be heard, which the Greek translath well sounding. The Cymbals were of metal, as bells, and have their name of their shrill tinkling sound. loud sounding] or, joyfully sounding, or tinkling; as 1 Cor. 13. 1. Hebr. Cymbals of shouting sound.

Vers. 6. all breath] or, every breath, that is, every thing that hath breath: this word is used for the breath that God inspired into man, Gen. 2. 7. and so for man's mind or immortal soul, Isa. 57. 16. and usually is applied to man, and to the breath of God, Psal. 18. 16. but in Gen. 7. 22. it seemeth to be spoken of all living things. Compare Rev. 5. 13. where every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, were heard, saying; Unto him that sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb, be blessing, and honor, and glory, and power forever and ever, Amen.

The end of the Book of Psalms.

A TABLE DIRECTING TO SOME principal things observed in the Annotations of the Psalms.

A

- ABashing, what it signifieth, Psal. 6. 11.
- Aedom described, Psal. 60. 10.
- Egypt, Psal. 68. 32. the plagues of Egypt described, Psal. 78. 44, &c. and 105, 28, &c.
- Ethiopia, Psal. 68. 32.
- Almighty, Shaddai, how God is so called, Psalm. 68. 15.
- Alone diversely taken, Psal. 4. 9.
- Amalek, Psal. 83. 8.
- Amen, what it signifieth, Psal. 41. 14.
- Ammonites, Psal. 83. 8.
- Angels, Psal. 68. 18. and 104. 4.
- And instead of For, Psalm. 1. 3. and 7. 10. and 55. 13.
- And for but, Psal. 55. 14.
- And for that, Psal. 43. 4. and 49. 10.
- And, a sign of passion, Psal. 2. 6. and 115. 3.
- Anger, outward, as wrath inward, Psal. 2. 5.
- Arrows, what they mean, Psal. 18. 15. and 45. 6.
- Asaph, who he was, Psal. 50. 1.

B

- BElial, what it meaneth, Psalm. 18. 5. and 41. 9.
- Baal, what it signifieth, and how it is turned into Bosheth, Psal. 106. 28.
- Bands, signs of subjection, Psal. 2. 3.
- Babel described, Psal. 1. 37. 1.
- Being, for continuing, Psal. 64. 8.
- Blessed, a title given to God, Psal. 68. 36.

- Blessing, diversely used, Psal. 3. 9.
- O Blessed, or Happy, how it differeth from the former, Psal. 1. 1.
- Blouds, and man of bloods, what they mean, Psal. 5. 7. and 51. 16.
- Bounteous Princes, Psal. 47. 10.
- Bounteous reward, Psal. 13. 6.
- Bread, for all food, Psal. 78. 20.
- Brookes, what they are, and of what use, Psalm. 1. 3.
- Burnt offering, what it was, Psal. 20. 4.

C

- CAptivity for captives. Psal. 14. 7. and 68. 19.
- Cedar-tree described, Psal. 29. 5.
- Cherub, Cherubims, what they were, Psalm. 18. 11.
- Christ, or Anointed, Psal. 2. 2.
- Commanding, diversely used, Psal. 42. 9.
- Condemne as guilty, Psal. 5. 11.
- Confession, diversely used, Psal. 6. 6. and 32. 5. and 50. 14.
- Corrupt not, a title of some Psalms, Psal. 57. 1.
- Corruption, Psal. 16. 10.
- Corrupting ditch, or pit, wherefore so called, Psal. 7. 16.
- Covenant, what it signifieth, Psal. 25. 10.
- Striking covenant, Psal. 50. 5.
- Covetous, or gain-thirsty, whereof it is named, Psal. 10. 3.
- Courts of God's house, Psal. 65. 5.
- Cursing, Psal. 10. 7.

D

- *DAught*er, for Congregation, Psal. 9. 15.

- Daughters, for Villages, Psal. 48. 12.
- David put for Christ, Psal. 18. 50. & 40. 1. & 89. 4.
- Day, for time of affliction, Psal. 37. 13. 18.
- Deceit, whereof named, Psal. 5. 7.
- Decree, or Statute, what it meaneth, Psal. 2. 7.
- Degrees, what they mean, Psal. 120. 1.
- Devils, whereof they are named, Psal. 106. 37.
- Doing, for yielding fruit, Psal. 1. 3.

E

- EDom described, Psal. 60. 10.
- Egypt, Misraim, Psal. 68. 32.

F

- FAce for anger, Ps. 21. 10.
- Face for grace, Psal. 27. 8. and 42. 6.
- Faithful, what it meaneth, Psal. 19. 8.
- False vanity, Psal. 12. 3.
- Falsly deny, Psal. 18. 45.
- Favourable acceptance, Psal. 5. 13.
- Fear, for God. Psal. 76. 12.
- Fear, for God's worship, &c. Psal. 19. 10. for walking in his ways, Psal. 34. 10. and 128. 1.
- Feeding, what it meaneth, Psal. 23. 1.
- Finding, diversely used, Psal. 36. 3. and 116. 3. and 132. 5. and 46. 2.
- First-borne, ministers of God, Psalm. 78. 51. the Chief over others, Psal. 89. 28.
- Fools vain-glorious, Psal. 5. 6.
- Fool Nabal, Psal. 14. 1.
- Fool, Aevil, Psal. 38. 6.

- Fool inconstant, Psal. 49. 11.
- Forgiving, what it meaneth, Psal: 25. 18.

G

- Gates of death, Psal. 9. 14.
- Gates of the daughter of Zion, Psal. 9. 15.
- Gates of justice, Psal. 118. 19.
- Gathering diversely used, Psal. 26. 9.
- Generation, what it meaneth, Psal. 12. 8.
- Girding, what it meaneth, Psal. 76. 11.
- Giving for putting, setting, &c. Psal. 4. 8. and 8. 2.
- Giving, for granting, suffering, Psal. 16. 10.
- Gladness, gladsomnesse, outward, as joy is inward, Psal. 2. 11.
- Glorious majesty, Psal. 8. 2.
- Glory or Honor, whereof it is named, Psal. 3. 4. & 85. 10.
- Glory, for the tongue, Psal. 16. 9.
- Glorying, or praising ones self, Psal. 34. 3.
- God, Elohim, what it meaneth, Psal. 3. 3.
- God, El, Psal. 5. 5.
- God's for Angels, Psal. 8. 6. and 97. 7.
- God's, for Magistrates, Psal. 82. 1, 6.
- God's name added to things for excellency, Psalm. 36. 7.
- The living God, Psal. 42. 3.
- Gospel or Evangelie, whereof it is named, Psalm. 40. 10.
- Gracious Saint, what it meaneth, Psal. 4. 4.

H

- HAlelu-jah, Psal. 104. 35. and 135. 1.

- Harp, Psal. 33. 2.
- Heavens, what they are, Psal. 8. 9.
- Hell, what it meaneth, Psal. 16. 10.
- Heritage, Heir, Inheritance, what they mean, Psal. 2. 8.
- Hiding the face, what it signifieth, Psal. 13. 2.
- High refuge, what it is, Psal. 9. 10.
- Hopefully wait, Psal. 31. 25.
- Horne for power, glory, Psal. 18. 3. and 75. 5, 11.
- Hosts, or Sabbath, God's title, Psal. 24. 12.
- House, whereof it is named, Psal. 5. 8.
- Hypocrites, why so called, Psal. 35. 16.

I

- IAakob, what it meaneth, Psal. 14. 7.
- Yah, the name of God, Psal. 68. 5.
- Idols, whereof they are named, Psal. 106. 36.
- Jehovah, the name of God and Christ opened, Psa. 83. 19. and 97. 1.
- Jehovah, or God, Psal. 68. 21.
- Jerusalem described, Psal. 51. 20.
- Iles, for Gentiles, Psal. 97. 1.
- In, often noteth the cause of a thing, Psal. 31. 2.
- In, for of, Psal. 87. 3.
- Incense, what it signified, Psal. 141. 2.
- Inheritance, for land, or people, Psal. 79. 1. and 28. 9. and 2. 8. and 47. 5.
- Iniquity, Psal. 18. 24. it is sometime put for punishment, Psal. 31. 11. and 40. 13. and 59. 5.
- Israel, what it meaneth, Psal. 14. 7.
- Iudging, what it is, Psal. 43. 1.

- Judging expressed by two words usually, Psalms. 7. 9.
- Judgments, for laws, Psalms. 19. 10. for rites, Psalms. 81. 5.
- Justice, for benefits, Psalms. 24. 5.

K

- KNowing, what it meaneth, Psalms. 1. 6.
- Korach and his sons, who they were, Psalms. 42. 1.
- Kissing, what it signifieth, Psalms. 2. 12.

L

- LAnd of Canaan, Psalms. 25. 13. described, Psalms. 105. 11. the land of desire, Psalms. 106. 24.
- Law, whereof it is named, Psalms. 19. 8.
- Leading, gentle guiding, Psalms. 23. 2.
- Lebanon, a mount, Psalms. 29. 5.
- Life, Psalms. 7. 6. and 30. 6.
- Lifting up the soul, Psalms. 25. 1.
- Light, what it meaneth, Psalms. 27. 1. and 97. 5. and 112. 4.
- Light of the face, Psalms. 4. 7. and 31. 17.
- Lightening of the eyes, Psalms. 13. 4.
- Lightening the lamp, Psalms. 18. 29.
- Lions of sundry kinds, have sundry names, Psalms. 7. 3. and 57. 5.
- Livjathan, the Whale, Psalms. 74. 14.
- Lodge, for continue, Psalms. 49. 13.
- Lord, Adonai, what it meaneth, Psalms. 2. 4.
- Lot, what it meaneth, Psalms. 16. 5.

M

- MAking, diversely used, Psalms. 100. 3.
- Man, Ish, of his excellency so named, Psalms. 4. 3. and 49. 3.

- Sorry man, Enoch; and earthly Man, Adam, Psal. 8. 5. and strong Man, geber, Psal. 18. 26.
- Man of tongue, what it meaneth, Psal. 140. 12.
- Man of bloods, Psal. 5. 7.
- Mansion, or dwelling place, Psal. 26. 8.
- Master of the Music, who he was, Psal. 4. 1.
- Meditate, is not only to think, but to speak, Psal. 1. 2. and 55. 3.
- Mercy, what it signifieth, Psal. 136. 1.
- Mercifully cover, Psal. 65. 4.
- Michtam, what it meaneth, Psal. 16. 1.
- Moab described, Psal. 60. 10.
- Molestation, what it is, Psal. 7. 15.
- Morning, what it meaneth, Psal. 5. 4 and 49. 15.
- Moving, implieth often evil, Psal. 15. 5.
- Moving of the foot, also is evil, Psal. 38. 17. and 66. 9.
- Mountains; diversely used, Psal. 121. 1.

N

- NAMe, how it is used, Psal. 8. 2.
- Neere, or nigh, what it meaneth, Psal. 148. 14.
- Negineth, stringed instruments, Psal. 4. 1. and 33. 3.
- New song, what it meaneth, Psal. 33. 3.
- Nose, and anger, have one name in Hebrew, Psal. 10. 4.

O

- OBlation, what it was, Psal. 20. 4.
- Out spread firmament, what it is, Psal. 19. 2.

P

- PAinfull iniquity, why so called, Psal. 5. 6.

- Palace, what it is, Psal. 5. 8.
- Palestine, Philistinis, Psal. 60. 10.
- Palms and hands lifted up, and spread in prayer, Psal. 63. 5.
- Palme-tree described, Psal. 92. 13.
- Parable diversely used, Psal. 44. 15. and 49. 5. and 78. 2.
- Part for inheritance, Psal. 16. 5.
- Peace, what it signifieth, Psal. 29. 11. of it Solomon was named, Psal. 72. 7.
- Perpetuity, victory of time, Psal. 9. 7.
- Pit of corruption: see Corruption, and Psal. 7. 16.
- Pleading, what it is, Psal. 35. 1.
- Prayer, whereof it is named, Psal. 4. 2.
- Precepts, why so called, Psal. 19. 9.
- Precious, diversely used, Psal. 36. 8. and 116. 15. and 72. 14. and 49. 9. and 139. 17.
- Priest, what it signifieth, Psal. 99. 6.
- Prophet, what it meaneth, Psal. 74. 9.
- Psalm, whereof it is named, Psal. 3. 1. and 7. 18.
- Psaltery, Psal. 33. 2.

R

- REbell, or, turn rebellious, whereof it is named, Psal. 5. 11.
- Rebuke, for destruction, Psal. 9. 6.
- Redeemer, whereof named, Psal. 19. 15.
- Redemption, Psal. 111. 9.
- Reward, Psal. 19. 12.
- Rock, the title of God often, Psal. 18. 3, 32.
- Rod of God, what, Psal. 23. 4.

S

- Sabbath, day of Rest, Psal. 92. 1.
- Sacrifice, and sacr. of justice, what it is, Psal. 4. 6. of shouting, Psal. 27. 6.
- Salvation, and saving, largely used, for help, victory, deliverance, &c. Psal. 12. 2. and 98. 1. and 118. 15.
- Scornefull, proud, Psal. 1. 1.
- Seat, sometime is a hair, sometime a dwelling, Ps. 1. 1. and 107. 4.
- Secret or mystery, Psal. 25. 14.
- Secret, for Counsel, Psal. 64. 3. and 89. 8.
- Seed, for children, Psal. 21. 11.
- Seeking, is for good or evil, Psal. 35. 4.
- Selah, what it signifieth, Psal. 3. 3.
- Shadow, Psal. 121. 5.
- Shadow of death, Psal. 23. 4. and 107. 10.
- Shout joyfully, Psal. 5. 12.
- Shout triumphantly, Psal. 41. 12.
- Silence, for submission, Psal. 62. 2.
- Silence, for destruction, Psal. 31. 18. and 49. 13.
- Simple, why so called, Psal. 19. 8.
- Zion, the mount, Psal. 2. 6.
- Sitting, diversely used, Psal. 1. 1. and 102. 13.
- Skies, Psal. 18. 12.
- Sleep, for death, Psal. 13. 4.
- Sleep, for rest, Psal. 127. 2.
- Son, diversely used, Psal. 79. 11. and 80. 16. and 89. 23.
- Son, for every young thing, Psal. 114. 4. and 147. 9.
- Soul, what it is, Psal. 16. 10.
- Soul, for life, Psal. 35. 4. for will, Psal. 26. 12.

- Standing, for continuing, Psal. 33. 11. and •11. 3. for ministering, Psal. 134. 1.
- Statute or Decree, what it meaneth, Psal. 2. 7. and 148. 6.
- Strength, for praise, Psal. 8. 3.
- Strength, for kingdom, Psal. 21. 2.
- Strength, for God's Ark, Psal. 78. 61.
- Stilnesse, what it meaneth, Psal. 4. 5.
- Stirring, Psal. 4. 5.
- Sun, whereof it is named, Psal. 19. 5.
- Sin, properly is missing, or miss-doing, Psal. 4. 5.
- Sinners, who they are, Psal. 1. 1.
- Swallowing, for destroying, Psal. 21. 10.

T

- TARshish, for the Ocean sea, Psal. 48. 8.
- Tell, for preach, Psal. 2. 7.
- Tent, what it is, Psal. 15. 1.
- Testimonies of God, what they are, Psal. 19. 8.
- Together, diversely used, Psal. 33. 15. and 141. 10.
- Trespases, what they are, Psal. 5. 11.
- Tribes of Israel, whereof named, Psal. 78. 55.
- Tyrus the City described, Psal. 45. 13.

V

- VAINe idols, Aelim, whereof named, Ps. 96. 5.
- Vanities, for idols, Psal. 31. 7.
- Vnconstant fool, Psal. 49. 11.
- Unicorn, Psal. 22. 22.
- Voice, for thunder, Psal. 29. 3.

- To give the voice, what it meaneth, Ps. 18. 14.
- Vowes, Psal. 50. 14.

W

- Walking, for conversation, Ps. 1. 1. and 56. 14.
- War. whereof it is named, Ps. 35. 1.
- Waters, for troubles, and people's, Ps. 18. 5, 17. and 124. 4.
- Way, for course of life, or religion, Ps. 1. 1. & 25. 4.
- Wicked, what it signifieth, Psal. 1. 1.
- Woeful evils, whereof so called, Psal. 5. 10.
- Wondrous excellent, Psal. 8. 2.
- Word, for thing, or matter, Psal. 7. 1.
- Work, for wages, or reward, Ps. 109. 20. & 95. 9.

Hebrew phrases observed, which are somewhat hard and figurative.

1 DEfect or want of words; as,

Of a Verbe substantive, am. art, is, &c. Psal. 2. 7. and often.

Of a Noun substantive after a Verbe, Psal. 103. 9. and 109. 21. and 137. 5. & 139. 20.

Of a Noun substantive after an adjective, Psalm 10. 10.

Of a Verbe generally, Psal. 69. 11. and 18. 7, 29.

Of a Pronoun, Psal. 45. 4. and 59. 14. and 68. 36. and 69. 2. and 71. 18. and 115. 12.

Of a Preposition, Psal. 5. 4. and 2. 8. and 9. 12. and 42. 3.

Of a part of a sentence, Psal. 6. 4. and 89. 36.

2 Overplus or redundance of some small words, Psal. 1. 4. and 46. 7. and 118. 14. and 137. 3.

3 Change, or putting one for another; as,

Of number, fowl for fowls, Angel for Angels, &c. Psal. 8. 9. and 34. 8. and 78. 2, 45. and 79. 2. and often.

Of person, Psal. 59. 10. and 65. 7. and 80. 7. and 115. 9. and 144. 10.

Of time, Psal. 2. 1. and 18. 7. and often.

Of gender; Psal. 45. 17. and 79. 8.

Of an active Verbe for a passive, Psal. 32. 9. and 36. 3. and 109. 13. and 49. 15.

4 Questions or expostulations, used

For affirmations, Psal. 56. 9. and 14. 4.

For denials, Psal. 94. 20.

For prayers, Psal. 10. 1.

For wishes, Psal. 4. 7. and 14. 7.

5 Words used in the plural number for excellency, &c. Psal. 103. 6.

One word singular and another plural, used for exactness, Psal. 66. 3.

6 The mystery of the holy Trinity, Psal. 11. 7. and 3. 3. and 149. 2.

7 A Verbe indefinite, of like signification with that which went before, Psal. 49. 15.

General observations touching the Psalms.

The Psalter is in the Hebrew divided into five books.

- 1 The first containeth the 41. first Psalms.
- 2 The second containeth the next 31. Psalms to the 73.
- 3 The third hath the next 17. Psalms, unto the 90.
- 4 The fourth containeth the next 17. Psalms, to the 107.
- 5 The fifth containeth the 44. last Psalms.

Every of these Books is ended with Amen or Halelu-jah. But being all joined together, they are usually counted one Book, and so the Apostle Peter speaketh of them, Act. 1. 20.

The Inditers of these Psalms are expressed five; Moses, David, Asaph, Heman and Aethan.

Of the titles of the Psalms.

The Psalms, many of them have no title at all; others have titles, but very divers. Some signify the writers, as David, Asaph, &c. some the singers, as the sons of Korach, Ieduthun, &c. some the instruments whereto they were sung, as Neginoth, Nechiloth, &c. some the nature of the Ditty, as, a Psalm, an Hymn, &c. some the use of it, as, an instructing Psalm, &c. some the occasion of making it, as David's fleeing from Absalom, his going in to Bathshebah, &c.

Five and twenty Psalms are without any title, namely, the 1. 2. 10. 33. 43. 71. 91. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 99. 104. 105. 107. 114. 115. 116. 117. 118. 119. 136. 137. & 147. Yet of some of these the holy Ghost witnesseth that David wrote them, Act. 4. 25. Heb. 4. 7. and so we may judge of the rest.

David's name is prefixed unto 74. Psalms, but diversely.

Five and thirty are entitled, a Psalm of David, as the 3. 4. 5. 6. 8. 9. 11. 12. 13. 14. 15. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 29. 31. 38. 39. 40. 41. 51. 62. 63. 64. 70. 101. 109. 110. 139. 140. 141. 143.

Three are entitled, A Psalm a song of David, Psal. 30. and 65. and 68.

One is entitled, A song, a Psalm of David, Psal. 108.

Fourteene are entitled, Of David, understanding the word Psalm or Song, as the 18. 25. 26. 27. 28. 34. 35. 36. 37. 61. 69. 103. 138. 144.

One is entitled, An hymn of David, Psal. 145.

Two are entitled, A prayer of David, Psal. 17. and 86.

Six are entitled, Miehtam of David, Psal. 16. 56. 57. 58. 59. and 60.

Five are named, Instructing psalms of David, Psal. 32. 52. 53. 54. 55.

One is called, An instructing psalm of David, a prayer, &c. Psal. 142.

One is entitled, Shigajon of David, Psal. 7.

Five are entitled, A song of degrees of David, Psal. 132. 124. 126. 131. 133.

Asaphs name is set to 12. Psalms, as written by him, or at least committed unto him.

Seven are entitled, A psalm of Asaph, Psal. 50. 73. 77. 79. 80. 81. and 82.

Two are entitled, A psalm of Asaph, a song, Psal. 75. and 76.

One is named, A song a psalm of Asaph, Psal. 83.

Two are called, Instructing psalms of Asaph, Psal. 74. and 78.

One is named, An instructing psalm of Heman, Psal. 88.

And one, An instructing psalm of Aethan, Psal. 89.

Fourteene other have this title, An instructing psalm, or Maskel, Psal. 42. 44. 45. 46. 32. 52. 53. 54. 55. 142. 74. 78. 88. 89.

One of these is called, An instructing psalm, a song of the well-beloved virgins, Psal. 45. So the title of Instruction is set in all over 24. Psalms.

Four have this title before them, Corrupt not, or Al-Tashchith, Psal. 57. 58. 59. 75.

Two are entitled, for to record, Psal. 38. and 70.

One is entitled, A prayer of Moses the man of God, Psal. 90.

One is entitled only, A psalm, Psal. 98.

Two have this title, A psalm a song, Psal. 67. and 87.

One is entitled, A song a psalm, Psal. 66.

One is entitled, A psalm for Confession, Psal. 100.

One, A psalm a song for the Sabbath day, Psal. 92.

One, A prayer for the afflicted, &c. Psal. 102.

Fifteene are entitled, Songs of degrees, as from Psal. 120. to 134.

Two have the titles, For Solomon, Psal. 72. & 127.

Five and fifty are entitled, To the Master of the Music, as Psal. 4. 5. 6. 8. 9. 11. 12. 13. 14. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 31. 36. 39. 40. 41. 42. 44. 45. 46. 47. 49. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 75. 76. 77. 80. 81. 84. 85. 88. 109. 139. 140.

Two are entitled, To Ieduthun, Psal. 39. and 77.

The sons of Korach have eleven Psalms directed unto them. Of which,

Four are entitled, A psalm to the sons of Korach, Psal. 47. 49. 84. 85.

Two thus, A song a psalm to the sons of Korach, Psal. 48. 88.

One thus, To the sons of Korach, a psalm a song, Psal. 87.

One thus, To the sons of Korach on Alamothe, a song, Psal. 46.

Three are named, Instructing psalms to the sons of Korach, Psal. 42. 44. 45.

Nine Psalms have before them Halelu-Yah, Psal. 106. 111. 112. 113. 135. 146. 148. 149. 150.

Of the Music that Israel had in the Temple.

AS musical Instruments were used with songs of old when Israel first came out of Egypt, Ex. 15. 20. and Trumpets were appointed of God at mount Sinai, which the Priests should blow over the Burnt-offerings and Sacrifices, which was an ordinance forever, Numb. 10. 8, 10. so David, the sweet Psalmist of Israel, by the Spirit of God made Hymns and Songs, with Cymbals, Harps and Psalteries, which the Levites in their courses should sing and play upon continually in the Sanctuary. Which melody was heard when the Ark of God was brought into the Tent which David had pitched for it, 1 Chron. 15. 1, 16, 19, 20, 21. then all Israel brought up the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord with shouting, and with sound of the Cornet, and with Trumpets, and with Cymbals, making a noise with Psalteries and Harps, 1 Chro. 15. 28. The Trumpets which Moses made were of silver, Numb. 10. 2. David's Cymbals were of brass, 1 Chron. 15. 19. the Harps and Psalteries were of fine wood, 2 Chro. 9. 11. These are called the instruments of music (or of the song) of the Lord, 2 Chron. 7. 6. and David appointed them to be used continually before the Ark, 1 Chron. 16. 4, 5, 6. and divided by lot the Levites which were Musicians into four and twenty wards, 1 Chron. 25. and they were by their courses to stand every morning to confess and to praise the Lord, and likewise at evening, 1 Chron. 23. 30. And when Solomon had built the Temple, he continued therein the order set by David his father; so that the Levites, Singers, and Musicians being arrayed in white linen, having Cymbals, and Psalteries and Harps, stood at the end of the Altar, and with them an hundred and twenty Priests sounding with Trumpets; and the Trumpeters and Singers were as one, to make one sound to be heard in praising and confessing to the Lord, 2 Chron. 5. 12, 13. and 7. 6. and 8. 14. This order when it was interrupted by the sin of the Jews, King Hezekiah restored, 2 Chron. 30. 21. that when the Burnt-offering began, the song of the Lord began also, with the Trumpets and with the Instruments ordained by David King of Israel; and all the Congregation worshipped, and the Singers sang, and the Trumpeters sounded: all this continued until the Burnt-offering was finished, 2 Chron. 29. 27, 28. The same order of song and music continued in the second Temple after their return from Babylon, as appeareth by Ezra 3. 10, 11. and Nehem. 12. 24, 27, 35, 36, 42, 45. In the Psalms of David we find mention also of Flutes (or Pipes) and Timbrels, and other Instruments used with songs of praise unto God, Psal. 149. 3. and 150. 3, 4, 5. The Hebrew Doctors have recorded some things more particularly thus, They said the song over all the Burnt-offerings of the Congregation, which they were bound (to offer;) and over the Peace-offerings of the solemn assembly, at the time when the wine [the Drink-offering] was poured out. But the voluntary Burnt-offerings which the congregation offered, and the Drink-offerings brought for them, they said not the song over them. A Levite that mourned, might not serve or sing. And there might not be fewer then twelve Levites standing upon the bank (or stage) every day to say the song over the sacrifice; but they might always have moe so many as they would. And they said not the song, but by mouth, without instrument. For the root (or foundation) of the Music is, that it be a service by mouth. And there were others standing there playing with instruments of Music. And they played on Psalteries, and Pipes, and Harps, and Trumpets, and Cymball. There might not be fewer than two Psalteries, nor moe than six: not fewer than two Pipes, nor moe than twelve: not fewer than two Trumpets, nor moe than an hundred and twenty; [so many as were at the dedication of the Temple, 2 Chron. 5. 12.] Not fewer than nine Harps, but as many moe as they would: and but one Cymball only. In all the days of the solemn feasts, and at the new Moons, there were Priests blowing with Trumpets in the hour of the sacrifice, Numb. 10. 10. and the Levites said the song. The Trumpets were of silver, and it was not lawful to have them of other metal. The Pipes which they played on were of Cane (or Reed.) The Psalterie (Nebel) was an instrument like a bottle, and it had strings, and they played thereon. Twelve days in the year they played on the Pipe before the Altar; at the killing of the first Passover, and at the killing of the second Passover, and in the first good day of the Passover, and in the first good day of the Retention (or Pentecost) and in the eight days of the Feast (of Tabernacles.) Maimonides in Misn. tom. 3. in Cle hammikdash, chap. 3. and Talmud Bab. in Erachin. chap. 2. These ordinances being ended by the coming of Christ, (who was to destroy the City and the Sanctuary, and to cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, Dan. 9. 26, 27.) it remaineth that now the Word of Christ dwell in us richly in all wisdom, and that we be filled with the Spirit, speaking to ourselves, teaching and admonishing one another in Psalms, and Hymns, and spiritual Songs, singing with grace, and making melody in our hearts to the Lord, Coloss. 3. 16. Ephesians 5. 18, 19.

SOLOMONS SONG OF SONGS IN ENGLISH METRE: WITH ANNOTATIONS AND REFERENCES TO OTHER SCRIPTURES, FOR THE EASIER VNDERSTANDING OF IT.

BY HENRY AINSWORTH.

PSAL. 45. 11. 12.

11 Hear ô daughter and see, and bend thine ear: and forget thy people, and thy fathers house.

12 And the King will covet thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and bow-down thyself to him.

EPHES. 5. 32. 23. 25. 26. 27.

32 This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and concerning the Church.

23—Christ is the head of the Church: and he is the Savior of the body.

25—Christ also loved the Church, and gave himself for it:

26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word:

27 That he might present it to himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy and without blemish.

[illustration] [printer's or publisher's device]

Imprinted in the year, 1626.

THE SONG OF SONGS.

CHAPTER I.

The Song of Songs, which is Solomon's. [unspec 1]

LET him kiss me, with the kisses of his mouth, for thy loves are better, then wine. For the savor, of thy good ointments; thy name, is an ointment poured-forth: therefore, the Virgins love thee. Draw me, we will run after thee: the King hath brought me into his chambers; we will be glad, and rejoice in thee, we will remember thy loves, more then wine; the upright, love thee.

I am black, and comely; ô ye daughters of Jerusalem: as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon. Look not upon me, because I am blackish; because the Sun hath looked down upon me: the sons of my mother have been angry with me; they made me the keeper of the Vineyards, my Vineyard which is mine, I have not kept.

Tell me, ô thou, whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest to rest at noon: for why should I be, as one that turneth-aside, unto the flocks of thy companions.

If thou know not, ô thou fairest among women: go thy way forth, by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kiddes, besides thy shepherds tents. I have compared thee, ô my love, to the company-of-horses in the chariots of Pharaoh. Thy cheeks are comely with rouse, thy neck with chains. We will make for thee rouse of gold; with speckes of silver.

While the King sitteth at his roundtable, my spikenard, giveth forth the smell thereof. A bundle of myrrh, is my well-beloved unto me: he shall lyeall-night, betwixt my breasts. A cluster of Cypres is my well-beloved unto me; in the Vineyards of Engedi.

Behold thou art fair, my love; behold thou art fair, thine eyes are as doves.

Behold thou art fair, my beloved, yea pleasant; also our bed is green. The beams of our houses, are Cedars; our galleries, of Brutin-trees.

CHAPTER I.

This may be sung as the 55 or 86 Psalm.

With kisses of his mouth, let him kiss me;

Because thy loves, then wine much-better be.

For thy good ointments odoriferous-sent; [unspec 3]

Thy name, it is a poured-forth ointment:

Therefore, the Virgins they have loved thee.

Do thou me draw, run after thee will we: [unspec 4]

Into his chambers brought me hath the King;

We will be glad in thee, and joyful-sing:

We will record thy loves, the wine above.

They that are upright, do thee dearly-love.

O daughters of Jerusalem, I am

Black, but am pleasing-comely with the same: [unspec 5]

Like to the tabernacles of Kedar,

Like to the curtains Solomon's which are.

Look not on me because that I am brown; [unspec 6]

Because the Sun hath on me looked-down:

The children of my mother they have been

Incensed against me with angry-teene;

To keep the Vineyards they did me assign,

I have not kept my Vineyard which is mine.

O my souls love, tell me where thou feedest, [unspec 7]

Where thou dost make (thy flock) at noon to rest.
For why should I be like to one that goes-
Aside, unto the flocks of thy fellows?
If thou thyself know not, ô fairest one [unspec 8]
Of womankind, then forth get thou thee gone,
By footsteps of the flock, and thy young-goats
Feed thou, besides the shepherds dwelling-cotes.
I have compared thee, my love, unto
The horses. troop in Charrets of Phar'oh. [unspec 9]
Thy cheeks with rouse, thy neck with chains are decked.
We will make thee, gold rouse; with silver speckt. [unspec 11]
At his round. table while the King doth sit; [unspec 12]
My spikenard giveth-forth the smell of it. [unspec 13]
A bag of myrrh my Loved is to me.
Betwixt my breasts, lie-all-the-night shall he.
My Lov'd to me a cluster of Cypres; [unspec 14]
That in the vineyards of Engedi is.
Lee thou art fair, ô thou my dearest love; [unspec 15]
Loe thou art fair, thine eyes are as the dove.
Loe thou art fair, ô thou my dear-loved, [unspec 16]
Yea pleasant art, green also is our bed.
Beams of our houses, of the Cedars be;
Our galleries, are of the Brutin-tree.

Annotations.

The Song of Songs] Songs and Psalms are for the most part arguments of joy and gladness in them that sing, and of their praises, whom the songs concern, I am. 5. 13. Ephes. 5. 19. Exod. 15. Judge. 5. Isaiah 26. 2 Sam. 22. Psal. 66. 1. 2. 3. &c. So this book treating of man's reconciliation unto God, and peace by Jesus Christ, with joy in the Holy Ghost; is called a Song: which therefore the faithful should learn to sing with understanding, making melody in their hearts to the Lord, when they feel themselves made partakers of his joy. And it is entitled the Song of Songs, that is, the chiefest and most excellent Song: as Christ, whom it concerneth, is called the King of Kings, and Lord of Lord's, Rev. 19. 16. and 17. 14. that is, the most high and mighty King, and supreme Lord of all. Solomon made a thousand Songs and five, 1 King. 4. 32. of all which this was most excellent; yea, and of all the Songs in the Scripture: for this celebrateth the mysteries of Christ and his Church, and the communion between them, more amply and excellently than any other. which is Solomon's] It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, then for a man to hear the song of fools, Eccles. 7. 5. but Solomon who made this Song in praise of Christ and of his Church, surpassed all the Kings of the earth in riches and wisdom, 2 Chron. 9. 22. he was wiser then all men; for God gave him wisdom and understanding exceeding much, and largeness of heart, even as the sand that is on the sea shoore, 1 King. 4. 31. 29. and all the earth sought the face of Solomon, to hear his wisdom, which God had put in his heart, 1 King. 10. 24. There was none like him before him, neither after him shall any arise like unto him, 1 King. 3. 12. It may also be interpreted, which belongeth to (or concerneth) Solomon: understanding hereby Christ himself whom Solomon prefigured in Kingdom, wisdom, and glory. And Solomon (called in Hebrew Shelomoh, but after the Greek, Solomon, Matthew 1. 6.) had his name of peace; because he was a man of rest; and God said of him, Solomon shall be his name, and I will give (salom, that is) peace and quietness unto Israel in his days, 1 Chronic. 22. 9, so he had peace on all sides round about him, 1 King. 4. 24. Now Christ is our peace, Ephes. 2. 14. even the Prince of peace, Isaiah 9. 6. and he is called Solomon in this Song, Chapter 3. 11. and David prophesying of Christ's Kingdom, entitled his Psalm, For Solomon, Psalm 72. Thus the penman of this book, being the wisest of all the Prophets, and Christ whom it concerneth, being the very wisdom of God, 1 Cor. 1. 24. and greater then Solomon, Matthew 12. 42. this Song is commended unto us by the Holy Ghost, in the highest degree of excellency. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this title thus; Songs and hymns, which Solomon the Prophet, the King of Israel, uttered by the Spirit of prophesy, before the Lord, the Lord of all the world.

V. 2. Let him kiss me] As the Scripture mentioneth the Bride, the Bridegroom, and the friends of them both, the children of the bride chamber, John. 3. 29. Matthew 9. 15. so in this Song all these, (especially the two former) are brought in as speakers, everyone of and unto other, so declaring their mutual desires, loves and affections. The Bride is the Church espoused to Christ, and called the wife of the Lamb, Rev. 21. 9. to whom she is to be presented a chaste virgin, 2 Cor. 11. 2. and this Church Christ loved, and gave himself for it, that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water, by the Word; that he might present it to himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such things; but that (ϕ) should be holy, and without blemish: Ephes. 5. 25. 26. 27. How be it before Christ came in our humanity, the Church (according to the •conomical dispenlatio of God) was as a child in her non age, under tutors and governors, until the time appointed of the Father, Gal. 4. 1. 2. kept under the Law, shut up unto the faith, which should afterwards be revealed; which law was a Schoolmaster unto Christ, Gal. 3. 23. 24. In this estate she continued till faith came, and then she being dead to the Law, by the body of Christ, was to be married unto another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that she might bring forth fruit unto God, Rom. 7. 1.—4. So though our godly forefathers in the days of the Prophets, saw the promises a far off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and did all obtain testimony (and were glorious) through faith; yet they received not the promise, God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us, should not be perfected, Heb. 11. 13. 39. 40. Now in Solomon's days, the Church before Christ's coming had greatest glory, having the Temple built, living under that most wise, rich, and peaceable King: the Israelites being many, as the sand which is by the sea in multitude; eating and drinking, and making merry; and dwelling safely, every man under his vine, and under his fig-tree, 1 King. 4. 20. 25. notwithstanding Solomon being a Prophet, foresaw the ruin of his house and kingdom, and in his book of Ecclesiastes proclaimed all things under the Sun, to be vanity; and in this Song prophesieth of the Church and Kingdom of Christ. And as he with many other Prophets, and Kings, and righteous men, desired to see Christ, and to hear his words, but did not, Luke 10. 24. Mat. 13. 17. so here he manifesteth the desire of him-self and of all the faithful to enjoy the blessings and graces of Christ; saying, Let him kiss me. Whereby the Church desireth to have Christ manifested in the flesh, and to have the loving and comfortable doctrines of his Gospel, applied unto her conscience; that she might not be always under the Schoolmaster of the Law, (which worketh wrath, Rom. 4. 15.) but might be prevented with the grace of Christ, be reconciled unto God, united unto Christ, and have the feeling of his love towards her. For, kissing is a token of love, 1 Pet. 5. 14. Luke 7. 45. was used at the meeting and salutation of friends, Exod. 4. 27. and 18. 7. 1 Thess. 5. 26. and David kissed Absalom, in sign of favor and reconciliation, 2 Sam. 14. 33. And as we are willed to kiss the Son, Psal. 2. 12. that is, lovingly and gladly to submit unto and obey his commandments: so the Church here prayeth first, that the Son would kiss her; that is, in love and kindness teach, and apply unto her the grace of his Gospel. For, herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins, 1 John 4. 10. Afterward, we love him, because he first loved us, 1 John 4. 19. and we kiss him, Song. 8. 1. The Hebrew expositors, as the Chaldee Paraphrast and others, do for the most part, apply these things to the giving of the Law by Moses: For they being ignorant of the righteousness of God, have gone about to establish their own righteousness, Rom. 10. 3. Howbeit, some of them in ancient time, saw better, as appeiteth by their Midrash, (an Hebrew commentary on this book) which here saith; Moses taught them the Law, and whatsoever they learned they forgot again. Then they said unto Moses, ô that God would show himself again, and kiss us with the kisses of his mouth, that his doctrine might be fastened in our hearts. Moses said unto them. This cannot be done now, but it shall be in the days of Christ; as it is said; I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts: Ier. 31. 33. kisses of his mouth] his own lovely and gracious doctrines. As in Prov. 27. 6. the wounds of a friend, signify sharp reproofs, and are opposed to the deceitful kisses, that is, the flattering speeches of an enemy: so here the kisses desired of this friend, are the comfortable words of the doctrine of salvation; opposed to the severe rebukes which the Law giveth for our sins, condemning and cursing everyone that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the Law to do them, Gal. 3. 10. But Christ (into whose lips grace is poured, Psal. 45. 3.) openeth his mouth, and uttereth Blessings, Matth. 5. 2. 3. &c. for thy loves] She turneth her speech unto Christ, and showeth a reason of her former desire. By loves, are meant graces, and the fruits of them, here first from Christ to his Church; afterward, from her unto Christ: which he acknowledgeth, saying, How much better are thy loves than wine! Song. 4. 10. These she perceiveth from Christ, by the works of Adoption, Redemption, Justification and Sanctification through Christ and his Spirit; as in 1 John 3. 1. 16 and 4. 9. 10. John 15. 13.

Rom. 5. 1 5. Ephes. 5. 25. 26. 27. So on the contrary, Antichrists allurements to communion with his impiety, are with these words, Come let us take our fill of loves until the morning, Prov. 7. 18. and Israel's communion with Babylon's idolatry is thus sh<sup>w</sup>ed, The sons of Babylon came to her, into the bed of loves, Ezek. 23. 17. better then wine] or, good more then wine. The word good, is of large use, for profitable, pleasing, sweet, comfortable, joyful, &c. as is noted on Gen. 1. 4. Wine is one of the most comfortable creatures, rejoicing the heart of man, Psal. 104. 15. and wine maketh the life (or living) joyful, Eccles. 10. 19. it causeth to forget affliction, poverty, misery, Prov. 31. 6. 7. It was also used in the legal sacrifices and service of God, Num. 15. 5. Hos. 9 4. But the graces of Christ, and comforts of his Spirit (wherewith the Saints are to be filled, Ephes. 5. 18.) do far excel all worldly pleasure, and do cause such as drink of them, to forget their bitterness poverty, sorrows, which by the terrors of the Law, and guilt of conscience for sin, did before afflict them, Rom. 7. 10. 15. 18. 24. 25. and 8. 2. And the service of God now in spirit and truth, John 4. 23. 24. and consolation which aboundeth by Christ, 2 Cor. 1. 5. is much more comfortable then were all the ordinances of divine service in the worldly Sanctuary, which could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience: Heb. 9. 1.—9. and 10. 1. 2. 3. 4.

Vers. 3. For the favor] or, For thy odour (swell) of thy good ointments. By savor or smell, is meant knowledge, understanding, sense or feeling; as the Apostle expoundeth it, the savor of his knowledge, 2 Cor. 2. 14. So a tree is said to bud through the smell (or <...>) of water, Job 14. 9. and tow is broken when it smelleth the fire, that is, feeleth it, Judge. 16. 9. Good ointments (or good oiles) are precious and sweet ointments, wherewith special persons were anointed of old: as the holy anointing oil made of principal spices, (Exod. 30. 23. 25.) is called the good ointment, Psal. 133. 2. and of the precious things which King Hezekiah shown to the Ambassadors of the King of Babylon, the good ointment was one, 2 King. 20. 13. and with such they were wont to be anointed at feasts, Amos 6. 6. Luke 7. 36. 46. and it was a sign of joy and cheerfulness, Eccles. 9. 7. 8. for sweet odors revive and comfort the spirits in man, when they are dulled with sorrow, or much meditation; wherefore it is said, Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart, Prov. 27. 9. But in fasting or mourning, they used not to anoint themselves, Dan. 10. 3. 2 Sam. 14. 2. By this similitude the Church here commendeth the graces of Christ, which he had, being full of the Holy Ghost; for his God had anointed him with the oil of gladness above his fellows, Heb. 1. 9. and of him it is said, The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the Gospel, &c. Luke 4. 18. Isaiah 61. 1. And the odour of these graces is smelt, when the Gospel preached, is by sense or judgment perceived, Phil. 1. 9. Luke 9. 45. Heb. 5. 14. thy name is an ointment poured-forth] As Messias and Christ, is by interpretation Anointed; and he is called the Oile (or Ointment) in Isaiah 10. 27. so by his Name is meant his Law, the doctrine of grace, or Law of faith, Rom. 3. 27. as it is written, The Iles shall wait for his Law, Isaiah 42. 4. which is expounded, The Gentiles shall trust in his name, Matth. 12. 21. and the preaching of that grace, is called the bearing of Christ's Name before the Gentilis, Acts 9. 15. and as a good Name is better then a good ointment, Eccles. 7. 1. so the name and doctrine of Christ, excelleth all other, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, Phil. 2. 10. This name is as a precious ointment poured forth by the preaching of the Gospel, and by the miracles confirming the same: accomplished not only by Christ himself, (a man approved of God among the Israelites by miracles, wonders and signs, which God did by him, Act. 2. 22. so that there went out a fame of him through all the region round about, and he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all, Luke 4. 14. 15.) but also by his Apostles; who were to preach on the house tops, that which they heard in the ear, Matth. 10. 27. which also they performed, Rom. 15. 19. and 16. 25. 26. and therein rejoiced, and said, Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savor of his knowledge by us, in every place. For we are unto God, a sweet-savor in Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish: to the one, the savor of death unto death: and to the other, the savor of life unto life, 2 Cor. 2. 2. 14. 15. 16. And as the box of ointment when it was broken and poured forth on Christ's head, the house was filled with the savor of it, Mark 14. 3. John 12. 3. so when his Name and Gospel is preached abroad, it giveth the odour thereof into all Christian hearts; so that by the preaching of faith, they also receive the Spirit, Gal. 3. 2. 5. and are anointed of God, 2 Cor. 1. 21. and have an unction from the Holy-one, and know all things, 1 John 2. 20. that whereas before they mourned for their sins and miseries, they now are comforted, and have the oil of joy given unto them, Isaiah 61. 3. the Virgins love thee] These are the fellow friends of the Spouse, Ps. 45. 15. By Virgins are meant all such as are chosen and called of God, and faithful (whether whole Churches, as 2 Cor. 11. 2. or particular persons,) who with chaste and pure minds serve the Lord only, and worship him in spirit and truth, and stand with Christ on the mount Zion, having his Fathers name written in their foreheads; of whom it is said, These are they which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins; these are they which follow the Lamb whither soever he goeth: these were bought from among men, being the first fruits unto God and to the Lamb; and in their mouth was found no guile for they are without fault before the throne of God, Rev. 14. 1 4. 5. And these love the Lord, for the odour of his good ointments which they perceive by his word and Spirit, though they see him not, 1 Pet. 1. 8. they love him, because he first loved them, 1 John 4. 19. and hath shed abroad his love in their hearts, by the Holy Ghost which is given unto them, Rom. 5. 5. and this is love, that they walk after his commandments, and keep them, 2 John. v. 6. John 14. 15.

Vers. 4. Draw me] A second request of the Spouse unto Christ, that he would not only call her outwardly, by the voice of his Gospel, but (forasmuch as the word preached profiteth not, if it be not mixed with faith in them that hear it, Heb. 4. 2. and faith is not of ourselves, it is the gift of God, Eph. 2. 8. who worketh in us both to will and to do, of his good pleasure, Phil. 2. 13.) that he would also open her heart, Acts 16. 14. effectually work in her by his Spirit, and continue and increase his grace towards her. For drawing, implieth power in him that draweth; as, He draweth the mighty with his power, Job 24. 22. and when it is unto good, it argueth grace and good will, as, I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love, Hos. 11. 4. and continuance of grace; as, O draw (that is, continue) thy loving kindness, to them that know thee, Psal. 26. 10. and in them that are drawn, it is a sign of infirmity: as, No man can come unto me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him, John 6. 44. And this is a fruit and effect of Christ's death, as himself saith, And I, if I be lifted up, (or taken away) from the earth, will draw all men unto me, John 12. 32. This drawing is by being effectually taught of God, as again he saith, It is written in the Prophets, And they shall be all taught of God: every man therefore that hath heard and hath learned of the Father, cometh to me: John 6. 45. and is a sign of God's everlasting love towards such, as it was said unto Israel, Yea I have loved thee with an everlasting love, therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee, Ier. 31. 3. we will run] I, and the Virgins fore-mentioned will run after thee: for they follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth, Rev. 14. 4. Christ is our Fore runner, gone before us into heaven, Heb. 6. 20. Our Christian conversation is called a running, Gal. 2. 2. and 5. 7. and our life is likened to a course (or race) which is run, as John fulfilled his course (or race) Acts 13. 25. and Paul saith, I have finished my course, 2 Tim. 4. 7. Running, signifieth readiness of affection, and speedy performance in action, Hag. 1. 9. 1 King. 19. 19. 20. Psal. 147. 15. it argueth also strength in the runner, Dan. 8. 6. all which are here implied as an effect of Christ's grace drawing her, according to the Prophecy; Behold thou shalt call a nation that thou knewest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee, &c. Isaiah 55. 5. And again, They that wait on the Lord shall renew strength, &c. they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk, and not faint, Isaiah 40. 31. Now the way which we are to run, is his commandments, of which David saith, I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge my heart, Psal. 119. 32. Under this promise of the Church, is contained also the constant suffering of afflictions, for and with Christ; who being our Fore-runner, and being consecrated through sufferings, and so entering into his glory, Heb. 2. 9. 10. Luke 24. 26. hath herein left us an example, that we should follow his steps, 1 Pet. 2. 21. and hath said, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily and follow me, Luke 9. 23. Therefore it is written, Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us; and let us run with patience, unto the race that is set before us; looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, Heb. 12. 1. 2. into his chambers] This showeth the benefits which they find that follow Christ, they are brought not only into the Kings palace, as in Psal. 45. 16. but into his privy chambers, the most secret, safe, and quiet rooms of his Palace. Chambers are places of greatest secrecy, 2 King. 6. 12. Luke 12. 3. Matth. 6. 6. and of most safety, Deut. 32. 25. Ezek. 21. 14. and in such the Bridegroom and Bride used to rejoice together, Joel 2. 16. Judge. 15. 1. Hereby is signified the revelation of the mystery of the Gospel, the Secret of the Lord, which is revealed to them that fear him, Psal. 25. 14 and the spiritual comforts which they reap thereby: for, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him: but God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea the deep things of God; and thus, we have the mind of Christ, 1 Cor. 2. 9. 10. 16. and are brought into such chambers, as by knowledge are filled with all precious and pleasant riches: Prov. 24. 4. Into them Paul (as a friend of the Bridegroom) endeavored with great strift to bring the Church; that their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the fullness of understanding; to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ; in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge; Coloss. 2. 1. 2. 3. In these chambers also, the Saints are kept safe from evil, Psal. 27. 5. delivered from the wrath and judgments of God due for their sins, and comforted by the words of Christ against the persecution of men; that in him they may have peace, though in the world they have tribulation, John. 16. 33. Therefore unto them he saith, Come my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee; hide thyself for a very little moment, until the indignation be overpast, Esa. 26. 20. Be glad and rejoice] be glad inwardly, and rejoice outwardly: these comforts they find in the Kings chambers, whose Kingdom is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost, Rom. 14. 17. Wherefore they say, I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness; as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth her self with jewels, Isaiah 61. 10. and thus they rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory, receiving the end of their faith, even the salvation of their souls, 1 Pet. 1. 8. 9. will remember thy loves] or, will record, rehearse, make-mention of thy loves, more then wine; or, which are better then wine, as in verse. 2. The foresaid joy of the Saints, redoundeth to the praise and glory of Christ; whose loves, manifested by his sufferings, death, resurrection, ascension, and the graces and benefits flowing from them to his Church, are remembered inwardly, recorded and mentioned outwardly. For they with joy, drawing water out of the wells of salvation, do say in that day, Praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings, among the people; make mention, that his name is exalted, Isaiah 12. 3. 4. I will mention the loving kindnesses of the Lord, the praises of the Lord, according to all that the Lord hath bestowed on us; and the great goodness towards the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them, according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses, Isaiah 63. 7. I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only, Psal. 71. 16. I will make thy name to be remembered in every generation and generation: therefore people's shall confess thee, forever and aye. Psalm 45. 18. The upright love thee] Hebr. uprightnesses (or righteousnesses) love thee; whereby righteous or upright persons are meant (the virgins fore-mentioned in verse. 3.) who have upright hearts, and righteous conversation: as pride, in Ier. 50. 31. is for a proud person; sin, in Prov. 13. 6. is for a sinner; thanksgivings, in Nehem. 12. 31. for, companies of thanksgivers; and many the like. So this fruit cometh by remembering and mentioning Christ's loves, that the righteous are confirmed and increased in love towards him, more and more: as the Apostle wrote to them that believed on the name of the Son of God, that they might believe on the name of the Son of God; that is, might be confirmed, continued, and increased in their belief, 1 John 5. 13. The Hebrews, ignorant of Christ, have applied these things, unto God's ancient mercies towards them, in the giving of his Law; as the Chaldee paraphrast saith; When the people of the house of Israel, was come out of Egypt, the divine-presence of the Lord of the world, was their guide, by the pillar of a cloud by day, and by the pillar of fire by night. The just men of that generation said; O Lord of all the world, Draw us after thee, and we will run after the way of thy goodness; and bring us near to the bottom of the mount Sinai, and give us thy Law out of thy treasure-house which is in the Firmament; and we will be glad and rejoice in the 22 letters with which it is written: and we will remember them, and will love thy Godhead, and will depart from after the idols of the people's; and all just men which do that which is right before thee, shall fear thee, and love thy commandments. But the Law, being the ministration of death, though it was glorious, hath no glory in respect of the ministration of the Spirit, and of righteousness, which exceedeth in glory, 2 Cor. 3. 7.—10. Therefore the New Testament being now confirmed in Christ, those former things (which were figures and shadows) are no more remembered: as was prophesied in Ier. 3. 16.

Vers. 5. I am black] Hitherto hath been the Churches first speech unto Christ, testifying her faith and love: now follow her words to the daughters of Jerusalem, against the scandals and offenses that might arise for the Churches afflictions and infirmities which appear in this life. Blackness signifieth tribulation, as Job complaineth: My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burnt with heat, Job 30. 30. and Jeremiah lamenteth the blackness of the Nazerites visage, Lam. 4. 8. And here in the verse following, the Church showeth her blackness to be because the Sun had looked down upon her; and the scorching of the Sun, is by our Savior expounded tribulation or persecution arising because of the word, Matth. 13. 6. 20. 21. It may also imply her blackness by sin, in respect of her own negligence which she acknowledgeth in the end of the 6. verse: and in respect of both, her blackness by sorrow and mourning for her present miseries; as black color, was the habit of mourners: For the hurt of the daughter of my people, am I hurt; I am black: astonishment hath taken hold on me, Ier. 8. 21. Thus the Church is partaker of the afflictions of Christ, at whom many were astonished, his visage was so marred more then any man; and his form more then the sons of men, Isaiah 52. 14. and comely] or, but comely: and is here by way of opposition; though I am black, yet am I comely also. The Hebrew Navah, signifieth comely, beautiful, amiable, and to be desired. The Greek here translateth it goodly or fair, and in verse. 10. beautiful. So the Apostle in Rom. 10. 15. expoundeth it beautiful, from Isaiah 52 7. This comeliness of the Spouse, is after shown to be both in her sight or countenance, Song. 2. 14. and in her speech, Song. 4. 3. And as blackness is in the color and skin; so comeliness is in the parts, features, and proportion of the body, which the Church hath by her creation or new birth, as she is the workmanship of God, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, Eph. 2. 10. Thus was she black in her self, but comely in Christ; for God's strength is made perfect in weakness: therefore the Apostle said, Most gladly will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me (or dwell in me;) therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake, for when I am weak, then am I strong; 2 Cor. 12. 9. 10. And again, We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed; always bearing about in the body, the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of the Lord Jesus, might be made manifest in our body, 2 Cor. 4. 8. 9. 10. daughters of Jerusalem] to these she speaketh again in ch. 2. 7. and 3. 5. 10. and 5. 8. 16. and 8. 4. so they were the friends of Christ and his Church the elect of God, though not yet perfectly instructed in the way of the Lord: as may be gathered by Song. 5. 8. 9. and 6. 1. As the villages belonging to a City, are usually called the daughters of that City, 1 Chr. 7. 28. Num. 21. 25. so Jerusalem which is above, is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. whose daughters are the particular Churches and Christians, called Virgins, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Rev. 14. 4. And Sodom and Samaria are prophesied of, that they should be given to Jerusalem for daughters, Ezek. 16. 61. And thus in Psalm. 45. 13. 14. the Kings daughter (the Church) is brought unto the King in raiment of needle works; and virgins her friends after her. Such are here comforted against the scandal of the Cross, and infirmities which accompany the Church in this world. tents of Kedar] Kedar was the second son of Ishmael, Gen. 25. 13. His posterity (which were still called by his name) dwelt in Tents in the deserts of Arabia; fed cattle, and were given to their bow, and wars: see Isaiah 21. 13.—17. and 42. 11. Ezek. 27. 21. And the Psalmist lamenteth his state, that he dwelt with the tents of Kedar; which he after explaineth, with him that hateth peace, Psal. 120. 5. 6. And Kedar by interpretation signifieth Black: and the Kedarenes that dwelt in tents, had thereof their name Scenites (as if we should say Tentaries,) and their tents were of hair cloth, made of goats hair, and in them they dwelt, and had no other houses, as is reported by Pliny lib. 6. cap. 28. and Solinus Polyhist. in cap. 36. Here therefore the Church (which is called the Tents of Jacob, Ier. 30. 18. and the tents of Judah, Zach. 12. 7.) is for her afflictions, persecutions, pilgrimage, and many infirmities; in outward view of the world, like to the black and hairy tents of Kedar, or such as dwelt in them. curtains of Solomon] these are to set forth her comeliness; as Kedars tents did her blackness. And though curtains sometimes signify tents, as the Ark of the Lord remained under curtains, 1 Chron. 17. 1. and, Eenlarge the place of thy tents, and let them stretch forth the curtains, Isaiah 54. 2. yet Solomon's curtains here seem rather to mean the goodly hangings that were in his house, and about his bed. For Solomon dwelt not in tents, but having riches and wealth and honor, such as no Kings had; 2 Chron. 1. 12. built him houses, Eccles. 2. 4. and one which was thirteen years in building, 1 King. 7. 1. and for his Queen Pharaoh's daughter, he built an house, 1 King. 9. 24. So though the Church be outwardly black like Kedar's tents; yet is she inwardly beautiful as Solomon's curtains: for, The Kings daughter is all glorious within, Psalm. 45. 14. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this verse thus: When the house of Israel made the Calf, (Exod. 32.) their faces were black, like the sons of Cush (the Ethiopians) which remain in the tabernacles of Kedar: and when they turned by repentance, and were forgiven, the brightness of the glory of their faces was increased, like the Angels; for that they made the curtains for the Tabernacle, and the divine majesty dwelt among them: and Moses their master went up to the firmament, and made peace between them and their King.

Vers. 6. Look not upon me] or, Behold me not, to weet, with contempt for my blackness; that is, Despise me not: as in Job 41. 34. He beholdeth all high things, that is, despiseth them. Or, Look not upon me, with delight and gladness for my affliction: as in Obad. v. 12. thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother. Or, Look not upon me with astonishment, as the Apostle teacheth, That no man should be moved for these afflictions; for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto, 1 Thess. 3. 3. blackish] or, somewhat-black; in Greek, made black: the old Latin version translateth it, brown. The form of the Hebrew word here, differing from the former, seemeth to diminish the signification: as in Levite. 13. 19. a word in the like form meaneth, somewhat reddish. By this, she would teach not to judge of her estate by her skin, by the outward appearance; where afflictions and infirmities only are to be seen. the Sun hath looked down] Hereby afflictions and persecutions are meant; as that in the Parable, When the Sun was up, they were scorched; is expounded, when tribulation or persecution ariseth, because of the word, they are offended, Matth. 13. 6. 21. So •he signifieth that this her black hue was not her proper color, who is fair in Christ her beloved, Song. 1. 8. 15. but by accident; God from heaven thus chastising her sins, and exercising her faith and patience, Lam. 1. 6. 13. 14. &c. the sons of my mother] that is, either the children of the Church, false brethren, false Prophets, and deceivers: or, inordinate lusts, and sins which dwelt in her, and were conceived with her in the womb; for with both these is the Spouse of Christ afflicted. Of the first, David complaineth, I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alliant unto my mothers sons, Psalm. 69. 9. And the Apostle saith, Of your own selves shall men arise speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them, Acts 20. 30. Such are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness, for they call themselves of the holy City, &c. Isaiah 48. 1. 2. Such might be called the children of her mother, (though not of her father) false brethren, among whom the Saints are often in peril, Gal. 2. 4. 2 Cor. 11. 26. who pretending faith and godliness, do dangerously oppose the same: as the true Church, Prophets, Christ himself, and his Disciples have found in all ages. Of the second, the Apostles tell us of lusts that war in our members, James 4. 1. of fleshly lusts, which war against the soul, 1 Per. 2. 11. and these may be called our mothers children, because in sin and in iniquity, we have been conceived and brought forth, Psalm 51. 7. which sin reviveth in us, when the commandment of God cometh, deceiveth us, and slayeth us, and under it we are sold; so that the good which we would, that do we not; but the evil which we would not, that do we: Rom. 7. 9. 11. 14. 19. angry with me] or, incensed against me, or inflamed in me, to weet, with wrath; to resist, fight, and war in me and against me: as the Greek version saith, fought in me (or against me.) So this phrase is used in Isaiah 41. 11 All they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed, &c. and in Isaiah 45. 24. all that are incensed against (the Lord) shall be ashamed: which being spoken there of outward enemies, may also be applied to our inward lusts, as in I am. 4. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 11. they made me] or, set, put, assigned me. the keeper of the vineyards] where the Sun hath burnt me; as in Matth. 20. 1. 12. they that labored in the vineyard do complain how they have borne the burden and heat of the day. So in the captivity of Babylon, the poor of the land of Israel, were left to be Vine dressers, and Husbandmen, 2 King. 25. 12. And spiritually it is said unto the Church, the sons of the alien, shall be your plowmen and your vine dressers, Isaiah 61. 5. and the Kingdom of God committed into the hands of the Jews, is likened to a Vineyard, let out unto Husbandmen, Matt. 21. 33. 43. and in Song. 8. 11. Solomon let out the vineyard unto keepers. But here the vineyards, opposed to her own vineyard, seem to mean false Churches, and in them the corruption of religion, whereunto her mothers sons sought to draw her: setting her to observe the ordinances and traditions of men, or otherwise to undergo their cruelty and wrath. Thus the Pharisees made the word of God of none effect, through their tradition which they had delivered, Mark 7. 13. and bound heavy burdens, and grievous to be borne, and laid them on men's shoulders, Matth. 23. 4. and so did false teachers in the Christian Churches, Acts 15. 1. 10. Gal. 6. 12. 13. Coloss. 2. 20.—23. my vineyard which is mine] or, which appertaineth to me: the keeping whereof is committed to me of God. This phrase is again used in Son. 8. 12. my vineyard which is mine, is before me. Spiritually the Vineyard is the Church, as in Isaiah 5. 7. the vineyard of the Lord of hosts, is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant, the keeping of, or laboring in this vineyard, is the performing of the charge and duty which God hath laid upon everyone therein: that so they may yield unto him the fruits of his own graces, Mat. 21. 33. 34. Isaiah 5. 2. 7. I have not kept] either through her own infirmity, or negligence, or others tyranny, or both. For as the Apostle complaineth, that he did not what he would, but what he hated: and found not how to perform that which is good, Rom. 7. 15. 18. so of the slothful man Solomon showeth, how he went by the vineyard of the man void of understanding, and loe it was all grown over with thorns, nettles had covered the face thereof, &c. Prov. 24. 30. 31. And by outward violence and persecution, the Church may be scattered abroad, Acts 8. 1. and when Judah was captived, the solemn feasts and sabbaths were forgotten in Zion, &c. Lam. 2. 6. &c. And oftentimes for the sins of his people God sendeth persecution and afflictions upon them, Isaiah 5. 2. 5. 6. Lam. 1. 14. 18. 22. The Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth this verse thus: The Congregation of Israel said before the people's, Despise me not because I am blacker then you, because I have done work like yours, and have worshipped the Sun and Moon; for false Prophets they have been the cause that the fierce wrath of the Lord hath come down upon me; and they learned me to serve your idols, and to walk in your statutes: but the Lord of the world, who is my God, him have I not served, nor walked in his statutes, neither have I kept his precepts and his Law.

Vers. 7. Tell me] or, Shew, declare unto me. A third request which the Church maketh unto Christ, for instruction in the administration of his Kingdom here on earth; that as he had formerly made her partaker of his heavenly calling, so he would direct her further unto the place where, and manner how he feedeth his flock, in his public Assembly the Church, (whereunto the Lord addeth daily such as shall be saved, Acts 2. 47.) that there she may be under his government, enjoy his ordinances, increase in knowledge, faith, and all other graces; may be strengthened against temptations, and afflictions. So men are commanded, Seek the Lord, and his strength; seek his face continually, Psalm 105. 4. And, Unto the place which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes, to put his name there; even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come, &c. Deut. 12. 5. That place is not always easy to be discerned; for many will falsely say, Lee here is Christ, or loe he is there, Mark 13. 21. 22. and sometimes Christ, for men's sins, withdraweth himself, Song. 5. 6. God hideth his face, Deut. 32. 20 and saith, I will not feed you, Zach. 11. 9. Sometime the Woman is forced to fly into the wilderness, where she is nourished of God many days, Rev. 12. 14. and sometime the state of the Church is such, as that it doth not for the present in joy the Pastors that should feed and guide the same, Acts 14. 21. 22. 23. Tit. 1. 5. my soul loveth] this signifieth unfeigned and fervent love, with a longing desire to enjoy the fellowship of her beloved: therefore she useth this phrase again, when in the absence of Christ, she earnestly seeketh for him in Chap. 3. verse. 1. 2. 3. 4. Like it, is the affecting or longing of the soul, in Gen. 34. 8. the knitting of the soul, 1 Sam. 18. 1. the delighting of the soul, Isaiah 42. 1. and sundry the like. where thou feedest] or, how thou feedest; how thou makest to rest. feedest] Hebr. wilt feed, that is, art wont to feed, or usually and continually feedest, to weet, thy flock; which word (as being easy to be understood) is often omitted; as in Gen. 37. 16. and 29. 7. Feeding implieth all the duties of a Pastor or Heirder, as to lead in and out, to give pasture and water, to govern with the rod and staff, &c. Psal. 23. Wherefore Kings are said to feed as Pastors, Psalm. 78. 70. 71. 72. So Christ, as King and great Pastor of the sheep, Heb. 13. 20. doth by his Ministry, with his Spirit, Word, Seals, Censures, &c. feed his people; for whom he laid down his life: he calleth them by name, leadeth them out, goeth before them, saveth them from wolves that would devour, giveth them eternal life, and they shall never perish: John. 10. Of him it is prophesied, He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; he shall gather the Lambes with his arm, and carry them in his bosom; he shall gently lead those that are with young, Isaiah 40. 11. Therefore she desireth to be under his guidance, and in his fold, that he feeding her she may not lack: or desireth to know the manner how Christ feedeth, that she likewise may so feed her kiddes: as verse. 8. makest to rest] or, makest to lie down, and so givest rest to thy flock. Both these works of grace God promiseth to his people, with other the like, saying, I will both search my sheep, and seek them out; I will feed them in a good pasture; I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord God; I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong, and will feed them with judgment, Ezek. 34. 11. 14. 15. 16. at noon] in the heat of the day; signifying the heat of persecution, tribulation, temptation; and whatsoever may cause the disquiet and grief of his flock. In the midst whereof Christ giveth safe repose unto his sheep: which have peace in him, though in the world they have affliction, for he hath overcome the world, John 16. 33. They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor Sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them, shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them, Isaiah 49. 10. that turneth aside] or, as one that enwrappeth, or that covereth her self, or, that is covered, or veiled: this latter sense the Greek version giveth, according to the usual signification of the Hebrew word. And this covering either is a sign of sorrow and shame; as mourners used to cover their faces, Ezek. 24. 17. or, of lightness and dishonesty, as Tamar was thought to be an harlot, because she had covered her face, Gen. 38. 14. 15. So here the Spouse desireth to know where Christ feedeth, left she should wander about and seek him with sorrow; and be by others reputed an harlot; for she would eschew all appearance of evil. Or, by saying, as one that turneth aside, she intimateth her peril, lest through want of him whom she loveth, she fall into the hands of others, which boast to be Christ's companions, and so in her faith and manners be corrupted: as were the Churches of Galatia, Gal. 1. 6. 7. For when men have not their abiding in the Lord's inheritance, they are in danger to be drawn unto the service of other gods; as David acknowledgeth in 1 Sam. 26. 19. flocks of thy companions] or, herds of thy fellows; for, Gneder, is both a flock and an herd, Joel 1. 18. It seemeth here to mean the congregations of false Christ's, and false Prophets, which come in his name, saying I am Christ, and do deceive many, Matth. 24. 5. 24. 2 Pet. 2. 1. 2. But Christ's sheep follow him, for they know his voice, and a stranger they will not follow, but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers, John. 10. 4. 5. but they all, have one shepherd, Ezek. 37. 24. And as other shepherds are not to be followed, so neither other flocks or herds: for God's elect shall inherit his mountain, and his servants shall dwell there, Isaiah 65. 9. In Ier. 6. 2. 3. the daughter of Zion is likened to a comely and delicate woman: her enemies are likened to shepherds with their flocks. Of the Hebrews, Sol. Rashi expoundeth this passage thus: Tell me ô thou whom my soul loveth: Now the Holy Ghost turneth and likeneth her to a flock, lovingly affected unto the Pastor. The Congregation of Israel saith before him, as a woman to her husband, Tell me ô thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest thy flock, among these wolves amidst whom they are: and where thou makest them to rest at noon, in this captivity, which is a time of tribulation unto them, as the noon-tide which is a time of tribulation unto the flock. And if thou sayest, Why art thou so careful? This is not for thine honor, that I should be like a mourner, covering the lip, weeping for my flock, by the flocks of other shepherds, which feed their flocks as thou dost; as if she should say, Among the troupes of the people's that are joined to other gods, and have Kings and Princes that menage (or govern) them. The Chaldee paraphrast explaineth it thus: When the time was come that Moses the Prophet should be dissolved out of the world, he said before the Lord; I know that this people will sin, and shall go into captivity; now show thou unto me, how they shall be governed, and dwell among the people's, whose decrees are grievous, as the heat and scorching of the Sun at noon in the midst of Summer. And why shall they wander up and down among the flocks of the sons of Esau and Ishmael, which do associate unto thee their errors (their idols) for companions.

Vers. 8. If thou know not] that is, Forasmuch as, or Seeing that thou knowest not; as in Num. 22. 20. If the men be come to call thee; that is; Forasmuch as they are come. Here Christ beginneth to speak unto his people, with words of comfort and instruction; and after proceedeth to show the power and glory of the Church adorned with his graces. Sol. Rashi saith, This is the answer of the Pastor. thou know not] or, thou thyself knowest not. Hebr. If thou know not to thee; or, for thyself; which latter words are thought to be redundant, and are therefore omitted in most translations; though here it may have a commodious sense; to signify the ignorance which she hath in her self, upon acknowledgement whereof Christ informeth her. Sol. Rashi expoundeth it, If thou know not whither thou shouldest go to feed thy flock, thou fairest among women; because the Pastor he hath ceased to govern (or menage) them. fairest] Hebr fair (or beautiful) among women; whereby is meant, more fair then other women, or, fairest of womankind: as the mother of our Lord, is called, Blessed among women, Luke 1. 28. 42. that is, most blessed, or more blessed then other women: so the Lyon is said to be strong among beasts, that is, strongest, Prov. 30. 30. The Hebrew Iaphab, signifieth fair or beautiful, not only in color, but in comely proportion, and elegancy, such as draweth love and liking: for the same word is attributed sometime to cattle, Gen. 41. 3. to trees, Ier. 11. 16. and to everything that God made, Eccles. 2. 11. And the Church is here called by Christ, (and after by her friends, Song. 5. 9. and 6. 1.) the fairest among women, by reason of the graces, the spiritual beauty of faith, hope, love, patience, &c. wherewith God in Christ hath beautified her, who by nature was deformed and loathsome, as is shown in Ezek. 16. where her nativity was of the land of Canaan, of Amorites and Hittites, verse. 3. she was cast out to the loathing of her person, in the day that she was borne, verse. 5. she was polluted in her own bloods, ver. 6. till God gave her life, and excellent ornaments, verse. 7. covered her nakedness, verse. 8. washed away her bloods, verse. 9. clothed, girded, decked her with ornaments, chains, jewels, &c. and so she became exceeding beautiful, verse. 10. 13. She being privy to her own infirmities, called her self black, verse. 5. but Christ here calleth her fair, and magnifieth her beauty in verse. 15. and often in this Song: because he hath sanctified and cleansed her, with the washing of water by the Word, that he might present her to himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that she should be holy and without blemish, Ephes. 5. 26. 27. Thus if we will condemn ourselves, God will justify us: and when we are weak, then are we strong, 2 Cor. 12. 10. And as we increase in obedience and sanctification, so doth the love of Christ increase towards us, Psal. 45. 11. 12. go thy way forth] or, get thee out, go forth thou. Heb. go out for thee, or, go forth for thyself. As God said to Abram, Go thou, or for thyself, Gen. 12. 1. so here Christ calleth forth his Church, from sitting still in her mournful estate, that she should not only wish and desire, but endeavor, and put forth her self to do the works of her calling, to feed her kids, and to go out to meet the Bridegroom, Matth. 25. 6. For, not every everyone that saith unto Christ, Lord, Lord; shall enter into the kingdom of heaven: but he that doth the will of his Father which is in heaven, Matt. 7. 21. by the footsteps of the flock] or, in the footsteps of the sheep: that is, go in those ways, and do those, works which the sheep or flock of Christ have gone in and done before thee. Footsteps are the print of the feet in the way that is trodden before us: and as Christ himself hath left us an example, in his doings and sufferings, that we should follow his footsteps, 1 Pet. 2. 21. and we are to be imitators (or followers) of God, Ephes. 5. 1. so should we be of the flock of God, and of godly pastors, in that faith and order which they have walked in before us: as it is said, Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ, 1 Cor. 11. 1. and, Remember; your guides, who have spoken unto you the word of God; whose faith imitate ye; considering the issue of their conversation, Heb. 13. 7. So likewise of the flock of Christ, as it is said, Ye brethren became imitators of the Churches of God, &c. 1 Thess. 2. 14. and we desire, &c. that ye be not slothful, but imitators of them, who through faith and patience inherit the promises, Heb. 6. 11. 12. The flock here spoken of seemeth to be opposed unto the flocks (or herds) in verse. 7. as Christ is to his companions (or fellows) there mentioned: who as he is the One great Pastor, so hath he generally one fold and flock, John 10. 16. Ezek. 34. 22. 23. which is his Church, as he saith, And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, Ezek. 34. 31. Their footsteps are their faith and works set forth in the Scriptures: as we are taught to walk in the footsteps of the faith of our father Abraham, Rom 4 12. and so of all other our godly predecessors, Heb. 11. 1. 2.—40. and 12. 1. after whom we should walk in the same spirit, in the same footsteps, 2 Cor. 12. 18. And thus the Hebrews also understand this place, as Rashi explaineth it: Consider the ways of thy first fathers, which received my Law, and kept my charge, and my commandments; and walk thou in their ways. Likewise the Chaldee paraphrast saith, The Congregation which is like to a fair damsel, and whom my soul loveth, let her walk in the ways of the just men, and order her prayer by the mouth of her governors, and let her lead her posterity, and learn her children which are like to the kiddes of the goats, to go unto the Synagogue, and unto the School, &c. feed thy kids] The flock in Scripture usually comprehendeth both sheep and goats, as in Levite. 1. 10. and though goats sometime being opposed to sheep, signify the wicked reprobates Matthew 25. 32. 33. &c. yet usually they figured in the Law, Christians given up as sacrifices to God: and Christ himself was figured by goats and kids, by the Apostles exposition, Heb. 9. 12. 13. 14. and 1 Cor. 5. 7. compared with Exod. 12. 5. So here the kids signify young and tender Christians, which are to be fed with the sincere milk of the word, that they may grow thereby, 1 Pet. 2. 2. And so Christ giveth charge, Feed my Lambs, Feed my Sheep, John 21. 15. 16. And this is the end, why the fairest among women is willed to go out, that she may find pasture for her kids: following herein the example of Christ, who leadeth out his sheep, and putteth them forth, that they may find pasture, John 10. 3. 4. 9. besides the tents] or, by the Tabernacles (the dwelling places) of the shepherds. By w<sup>ch</sup> those companions of Christ, v. 7. seem here to be meant, such as are transformed like the Ministers of righteousness, 2 Cor. 11. 15. and their flocks like the flock of Christ: beside their tents, (or, as may be translated, above them,) are the kids of Christ to be fed, whom he graciously preserveth even in the midst of wolves. Thus Sol. Rashi expoundeth it, by other people's: Otherwise it may be understood (as the former sentence) of the good shepherds tents, which of old fed the flock of God in faith and love, as their footsteps are left recorded in the Scriptures, Psal. 77. 21. and 78. 70. 71. 72. Isaiah 63. 1. Heb. 13. 7.

Ver. 9. I have compared] or, I have likened, thought thee to be like. The order of the words in the Hebrew is thus: To the company of-horses, in the chariots of Pharaoh I have compared thee, ô my Love. my love] or, my fellow friend, my companion, familiar: so named of feeding and conversing together, and so partaking each of others good or evil: in Greek, my neighbor or next. This title Christ giveth to his Spouse, often in this Song, as after in verse. 15. and ch. 2. 2. 10. 13. and ch. 4. 1. 7. and 5. 2. and 6. 4. and showeth the reason on both parties to his disciples, saying, I have called you friends, (not servants) for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you: and, Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you, John 15. 14. 15.

Sometime a husband is called by this name friend, as in Ier. 3. 20. Hos. 3. 1. to the company of horses] or, to my company of horses. The word Susah, which being the feminine of Sus, a horse, may in propriety signify a mare; is here usually taken of Christian interpreters, and of the Hebrews, to signify a company, or troop of horses: and so the Greek (which also is Tee hippo in the feminine gender) is sometimes used in Greek Authors, for a company of horses. And in the Scripture phrase, the names of beasts, birds, &c. are often used collectively; as in Exod. 15. 1. the horse and his rider, for, the horses and their riders. The Hebrew letter Iod, which usually signifieth mine, is sometime added in the end of words without signification, as in Lam. 1. 1. Howbeit the Greek version here translateth it, My company-of-horses: and it may have good use. The horse is a warlike beast, as God describeth him in Job 39. 19—25. and Solomon saith, The horse is prepared against the day of battle, Prov. 21. 31. in the chariots of Pharaoh] Pharaohs horses and chariots were of most request, as the Scripture often showeth; and therefore were sought after by Solomon in his trading with Egypt, 2 Chron. 1. 16. 17. And the Prophet saith, Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots because they are many, &c. Isaiah 31. 1. And in Ezek. 17. 15. the King of Judah sent his Ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses, and much people. For the meaning of this speech, it seemeth to be this; the Church being sent forth by Christ in the footsteps of the flock, to feed her kids besides the tents (or dwellings) of the shepherds; was presently to look for troubles in it self, Acts 20. 29. 30. and opposition at the hands of those companions, (forementioned in verse. 7.) and their flocks: as the Scripture often speaketh of contention among shepherds, about the feeding and watering of their flocks, Gen. 13. 6. 7. and 26. 14. 15. 20. 21. Exod. 2. 16. 17. and when God threateneth wars against the daughter of Zion, he saith, The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her, they shall pitch their tents against her round about, &c. Ier. 6. 2. 3. 4. To comfort her therefore against such troubles, the Lord compareth her to the troop of horses, in Pharaohs chariots, under this similitude, promising her victory: as in Zach. 10. 3. he saith (by a like simily) Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I punished the goats; for the Lord of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the battle, &c. And they shall be as mighty men which tread down (their enemies) in the mire of the streets in the battle, and they shall fight, because the Lord is with them, &c. verse. 5. And if we read it, my company of horses, it accordeth with Zachar. 10. 30. where the Lord likeneth them to his goodly horse; and of the Hebrews Sol. Rashi compareth it with the history in Exod. 14. where God by his power (as with horses) gave Israel the victory over Pharaohs horses and chariots; as the Prophet (speaking of that) saith unto God, Thou didst walk through the sea with thine horses, through the heap of great waters, Habak. 3. 15. See also Revel. 19. 11. 14. wherein the war against Antichrist, Christ (the Word of God) sitteth on a white horse, and the armies in heaven (his Church, whose conversation is heavenly,) followed him upon white horses.

Vers. 10. Thy cheeks are comely] or, are desirable, gracious, beautiful. The Greek translateth, How beautiful are thy cheeks! These words are continued unto the Bride or Church, from Christ showing how she is decked with his ordinances and graces, as his cheeks are afterwards likened to a bed of spices, Song 5. 13. But whether she be still compared hereby to a company of horses, as in verse. 9. or to a woman (as she was a shepherdesse in ver. 8.) is doubtful, for both similitudes do agree to the things here spoken of. The word cheeks is used sometime for the cheeks or jaws of beasts, and of horses, whose bridles are often adorned with rouse, especially in Kings Charets: as in Isaiah 30. 28. there shall be a bridle in the jaws (or cheeks) of the people. Also the next words, thy neck, with chains; may have like reference: for the kings of Midian when they went to war, had chains about their camels necks, Judge. 8. 26. Taking it thus, the Church compared to the Lord's company of horses, is said to have her cheeks comely, with rouse of jewels, or ornaments upon her bridle wherewith the Lord menageth and guideth her, as his goodly horse in the battle, Zach. 10. 3. Or, retaining the similitude of a woman, it is meant of ear-rings and jewels which hang down and adorn the face and cheeks; as it is written, I decked thee with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck; and I put a jewel on thy forehead, and ear-rings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head; thus wast thou decked with gold and silver: Ezek. 16. 11. 12. 13. The spiritual signification, according to either similitude, is one and the same, as after shall be shown. rouse] in Hebr. Torim: which being of the singular Tor, signifieth a disposition row, or orderly course of things: and hath affinity with Torah, which hath the name of the Law, in Hebrew: and the one is put as an explanation of the other; as David said, Is this the Law of man, ô Lord God, 2 Samuel. 7. 19. which another Prophet relateth thus, thou hast regarded me, according to the order (disposition or estate) of a man of high degree, ô Lord God 1 Chron. 17. 17. And indeed the Law of God, is his ordinance, or orderly disposition of his precepts, the rules and canons of our life. The same word Tor, is also used for a Turtle-dove, and Torim are Turtles, as in the law of sacrifices, Lev. 12. which some therefore take here to be jewels, or ornaments that had the figures of Turtle doves. And so the Greek version here translateth, How beautiful are thy cheeks, as of a turtle dove! But in the verse following, (where the same word is again used,) the Greek translateth, We will make for thee, similitudes of gold. chains] in Heb. Charuzim, a word not found but in this one place; translated in Gr. collars or chains; and is interpreted by the Hebrew Doctors chains or jewels hanged on a string like chains to put about the neck. These rouse and chains, signify the Laws and ordinances of God, wherewith he adorneth the face and neck of his Church, that in her profession, practice, and obedience, she may be comely and gracious in the sight of God and his people; and being guided by them, may vanquish her enemies. Thus Solomon elsewhere saith: there is gold and a multitude of rubies; but the lips of knowledge, are a precious jewel, Proverb. 20. 15. And again, My son hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother: for they shall be an ornament of grace unto thine head, and chains about thy neck, Proverb. 1. 8. 9. They mean also the gracious effects which the Law and doctrine of God worketh in his people, of humility, reverence, and other virtues: as on the contrary, pride, and other like vices, are said to compass evil men about as a chain, and violence to cover them as a garment, Psalm 73. 6. Likewise holy persons, that teach, instruct, reprove; and such as receive doctrine and reproof, Proverb. 25. 12. and reproofs themselves are pearls, Matth. 7. Thus also the Hebrews understood this Scripture, as the Chaldee paraphrase here saith: When (the Israelites) went forth into the Wilderness, the Lord said unto Moses, How fair is this people, that the words of the Law should be given unto them, that they may be as bridles in their jaws, that they depart not out of the good way: as an horse goeth not aside that hath a bridle in his jaws! and how fair is their neck to bear the yoke of my precepts; that they may be upon them as a yoke on the necke of a bullock that ploweth in the field, and feedeth both it self, and the master thereof.

Vers. 11. We will make for thee] A promise of increase of graces to the Church: by We, is understood the mystery of the Trinity, as in Genesis 1. 26. Let us make man. So in Rev. 1. 4. 5. Grace and peace is wished from the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost: and in 1 Corinth. 12. 4. 5. 6. the diversities of gifts are noted to be of the Spirit; the diversities of ministries (whereby those gifts are administered) to be of the Lord (Christ;) and the diversities of operations (effected by the gifts and ministries,) to be of God (the Father.) The Hebrews also (as Sol. larchi here, interpret it, I and my judgment hall: by which phrase the Trinity of old was implied, though now the faithless deny the same: for, a judgment hall in Israel consisted of three at the least: which in their close manner of speech they applied unto GOD: but their posterity understood it not. Christ here teacheth his Church, that every grace and good gift is from GOD, as also the increase thereof, James 1. 17. Ephes. 3. 16. that the spiritual ornaments are of his making, who worketh in us both to will, and to do, of his good pleasure, Phil. 2. 13. Also that to him that hath shall be given, and he shall have more abundance, Matth. 13. 12. As in our bodies we come naked into this world, without clothes or ornaments, so is the estate of our souls by nature, naked and bare, Ezek. 16. 4. 7. till Christ of his grace, by his Spirit, clotheth and adorneth us, Revelation 3. 18. rouse of gold] he spake before of rouse simply, now he addeth of gold; either to signify more excellent ordinances and graces under the Gospel, then under the Law, (as he promiseth, For brass I will bring gold, and for iron, I will bring silver, &c. Isaiah 60. 17.) that should proceed from faith and love, and not from fear, as when she was under the bridle of the Law; (for we should not be like horse and mule, whose jaw must be bound with bit and bridle, Psalm 32. 9. and yield obedience by constraint:) or, it meaneth a new supply of graces, so that we are changed into the image of God, from glory to glory, even as by the spirit of the Lord, 2 Corinth. 3. 18. These promises may respect both the rules, ordinances, gifts and graces bestowed on his people, Proverbs 20. 15. and the persons themselves that are furnished with those graces; as the precious sons of Zion, are said to be comparable to fine gold, Lament. 4. 1. speckes of silver] in Greek, marks of silver: which word marks (Stigmata,) Paul useth in Galatians 6. 17. speaking of the marks of the Lord Jesus, by suffering for his Gospel. Here it meaneth variety of graces, in the communion of the Saints, for their mutual help, comfort, and delight; as is opened in Proverb. 25. 11. 12. A word fitly spoken, is like Apples of gold, with pictures of silver. As an ear-ring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold: so is a wise reprove upon an obedient ear. Where we are taught, that both instructions and reproofs, are the ornaments of the Saints; when they are prudently uttered, and obediently received. Neither of which can be, without the special grace of God, who both maketh these ornaments for us, and maketh us fit to receive and put them on; for, The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them, Proverbs 20. 12. The Chaldee paraphrast expoundeth this verse, of the Law which God gave unto Israel on the two tables, by the hand of Moses. But though the ordinances of the Law, were likened to gold and silver, wherewith the Church then was decked, as God telleth them in Ezekiel 16. 13. and the law of his mouth was better to his people, then thousands of gold and silver, Psalm 119. 72. yet the doctrine of faith, and ordinances of the Gospel with the graces accompanying them (here promised) are much more excellent and glorious, 2 Corinthians 3. 7.—11.

Vers. 12. While the King] Here the Church speaketh of the fruits and effects of Christ's former graces; how in her and from her so adorned by her beloved, the odour of the spirit of God in her, flowed forth and spread abroad to the delight of her self and others. By the King is meant Christ, as in verse 4. by his round table (which the Greek translatheth his sitting down, which was wont to be in a round, or as in a ring, 1 Samuel. 16. 11.) may be understood the spiritual banquet of Christ with his Church, feeding her with his word and graces: as the table of the Lord, in Malachi 1. 12. and 1 Corinth. 10. 21. signify the communion between him and his people, as doth also the supping one with another, Revelat. 3. 20. The Spikenard is one of the pleasant fruits in the garden of the Church, Song 4. 13. 14. but here it seemeth to be the oil or ointment made of Spikenard, which is very precious, which they used to pour out, and anoint men with; such as Mary anointed our Lord Jesus with, as he sate at table with his friends, and the house was filled with the smell (or odour) of the ointment, John 12. 1. 2. 3. Spiritually it signifieth the sweet smelling fruits of repentance, faith, love, prayer, thanksgiving, &c. which the Church showeth forth by the communion of Christ with her; and in special of mortification, and communion with Christ's death, burial, and resurrection, Romans 6. 3. 4. 5. &c. as that which Marie did unto Christ, was to anoint his body to the burying, Mark 14. 8. John 12. 7.

Vers. 13. A bundle] or, A bag of myrrh: by myrrh is meant the sweet gum that issueth from the myrrh tree, which is gathered and bound up in bags: it was the first of the chief spices, whereof the holy anointing oil in the Sanctuary was made, Exodus 30. 23. and that holy ointment figured the graces of the Spirit, poured out upon Christ, and by him upon his Church, Isaiah 61. 1. Psalm 45. 8. 1 John 2. 20. See the annotations on Exodus 30. 26. With myrrh and aloes, the dead body of our Lord Jesus was embalmed, John 19. 39. and with it the wisemen honored him at his birth, Matt. 2. Hereby the Church professeth her spiritual comfort which she had in Christ, taking our humanity, filled with the Spirit of God without measure, dying for her sins, and rising again for her justification: the feeling whereof is as a sweet odour unto the believing heart. A bundle or bag, is for to keep safe, things that are of worth; as, The Joule of my Lord shall be bound in the bundle of life with Jehovah thy God, 1 Samuel 25. 29. So by this bag of myrrh, she signifieth her care to enjoy and possess the benefits of Christ and of his death, to the remission of her sins, which for his sake are all cast into the depths of the sea, Mic. 7. 19. which otherwise without him should be sealed up in a bag, and reserved against her for punishment, Job. 14. 17. my well-beloved] that is Christ; whom she thus calleth, not because she loved him, but he loved her, and gave himself to be the propitiation for her sins: whereupon she again loveth him, because he loved her first, 1 John 4. 10. 19. So she glorieth not in her own righteousness, but in that which her beloved is unto her: who of God is made unto her, wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption, 1 Cor. 1. 30. Welbeloved, in Hebrew Dod, is written with the same letters that David; whose name also signified Beloved: he was a figure of Christ, and his father after the flesh, Romans 1. 3. and Christ is often called David, as in Ier. 30. 9. Ezek. 34. 23. and 37. 24. Hos. 3. 5. unto me] A speech of faith, applying the promises and graces of Christ unto her own soul; as the Apostle also teacheth by his own example, Gal. 2. 19. 20. he shall lie all night] or, he shall lodge, shall abide. The night usually signifieth the time of darkness and affliction: wherefore she meaneth that Christ with his consolations, should be her continual joy and comfort, whom she would hold fast by faith, against all temptations and troubles of this present life; and solace her self in him. betwixt my breasts] dwelling in my heart by faith, Ephes. 3. 17. The breasts signify also the ministry of the Church, feeding the Saints with the sincere milk of the word, that they may grow thereby, 1 Peter 2. 2. whereupon the Prophet saith, Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, &c. that ye may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory, Isaiah 66. 10. 11.

Vers. 14. A cluster of Cypres] or, of Camphire; which is a sweet gum; but Cypres is a tree whose fruit groweth in clusters, and is also sweet. The Hebrew name Copher, (from which Caphura or Camphire, as also the Cypres tree seemeth to be derived,) usually signifieth Atonement, Propitiation, or Redemption: according to which interpretation the holy Ghost here may have reference to the work and fruit of Christ's death, whereby he became a cluster of redemption unto his Church, being a propitiation for the sins of the whole world, 1 John 2. 2. the sweetness whereof is resembled by a cluster (which is of many berries compact together) of the sweet Cypres: for that his blood cleanseth us from all sin, 1 John 1. 7. and is accompanied with all other graces. Engeds] the name of a place in the land of Cannan, which fell to the tribe of Judah: and being near the sea, and watered with springs, was a fruitful soil, for gardens and vineyards, Joshua 15. 62. Ezek. 47. 10. it was called also Hazazon Tamar, 2 Chr. 20. 2. where the enemies coming against Ichosaphat he prayed unto God, and was delivered. Which victory may also be respected here, as a figure of the victories which the Church obtaineth by faith in Christ.

Vers. 15. thou art fair] Christ here speaketh to his Church, commending her beauty, which she hath by his sanctification and cleansing, with the washing of the water by the word, Ephes. 5. 26. 27. as also by her constitution, and order, as mount Zion was beautiful for situation, Psalm. 48. 2. Of Tyrus (a city of merchandise) it is said, Thy builders have perfected thy beauty, Ezek. 27. 4. and of her Ancients, wisemen, mariners, merchants, men of war, &c. it is likewise said, they have made thy beauty perfect, Ezekiel 27. 9. 10. 11. and in Ezek. 28. 7. he mentioneth the beauty of wisdom. So the city and Church of God, being built by the doctrine of the Gospel, furnished with men of gifts and graces, and endued with wisdom from on high, is truly fair and beautiful in the eyes of Christ: and when she obeyeth the voice of God, and forgetteth and forsaketh her own natural corruptions, he taketh delight in her beauty, as it is said, Hearken ô daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear: forget also thine own people, and thy fathers house: so shall the King greatly desire thy beauty, &c. Psal. 45. 10. 11. Thus is the prophesy fulfilled, with the joy, of the Bridegroom over the Bride, thy God will rejoice over thee, Isaiah 62. 5. doves] so in Chap. 4. 1. These doves eyes wherewith the Spouse is beautified, do set forth the simplicity, sincerity, humility, meekness, but especially the spiritual chastity of the Church; whose eyes are unto Christ alone, looking unto him for life and salvation, Matth. 10. 16. Psalm 123. Philip. 3. 7.—10. Isaiah 17. 7. 8. Ezekiel 18. 6. and 20. 7. observing his ways, Prov. 23. 26. not beholding evil, nor looking on iniquity, Habak. 1. 13. Contrary to which are the lofty eyes, Proverb. 30. 13. eyes after idols, Ezekiel 20. 24. eyes full of adultery, 2 Peter 2. 14. eyes beholding strange women, Prov. 23. 33. and the like.

Vers. 16. Thou art fair] The Spouse returneth the praise of beauty unto her beloved: who is much fairer then the sons of Adam, Psalm 45. 2. 3. from whom all her fairness is derived, so that the praise thereof belongeth not to her but unto him, Psalm 115. 1. as the Apostle saith, I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me, Galat. 2. 20. Howbeit, though Christ be most fair, and beauty it self; yet such was his baseness and sufferings in the flesh, as his visage was marred more then any man, and his form, more then the sons of men, Isaiah 52. 14. and 53. 2. 3. and such he often appeareth unto the world, to be in the Church, partaker of his afflictions. But the eye of faith, beholdeth his spiritual beauty, through all tribulations, and glorieth therein, Roman. 8. 35.—39. 1 Peter 1. 5. 6 and 4. 12. 13. 14. And when the mysteries of the Gospel are opened, and the ordinances of Christ faithfully taught and practiced; then doth the Spouse behold the King in his beauty, Isaiah 33. 17. And of his fullness have we all received, and grace for grace, John 1. 16. yea pleasant] or, also pleasant, amiable, delightful, beautiful. This is an addition unto the beauty of Christ, in respect of his pleasant and gracious administration of his covenant, doctrines, reproofs, &c. For the Lord's staff called Beauty or Pleasantnesse, signifieth his Covenant made with the people, Zachar. 11 10. and David desired to remain in the Lord's house all the days of his life, that he might behold the pleasantness (or beauty) of the Lord, Psalm 27. 4. and Moses desireth that the pleasantness of the Lord might be upon them, in the performance of his covenant and promises, Psalm 90. 17. And Solomon showeth that pleasantness shall be unto them that rebuke the wicked, Proverb. 24. 24. 25. All which, and the like, have their accomplishment in Christ, teaching, admonishing, reproofing, comforting his people, with words of grace, whose pleasant words are as an honey comb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones, Prov. 16. 24. our bed] or, our bedstead. Beds were used either to rest and sleep upon, as Psal. 132. 3. 4. or to sit upon when they did eat and banquet, as we do at tables, Esth. 1. 5. 6. Amos 6. 4. Ezek. 23. 41. And figuratively the place of offering sacrifices, is called a bed, Isaiah 57. 7. green] or flourishing and fruitful: for it is not meant so much of color, as of flourishing growth and increase. This word applied unto men, meaneth prosperous and flourishing estate, as Nebuchadnezzar said, I was at rest in my house, and green (or flourishing) in my palace, Dan. 4. 4. and David likeneth himself to a green (or flourishing) olive tree, in the house of God, Psal. 52. 10. where the Greek translatheth it, a fruitful olive. Hereby then the Church signifieth, that by her communion with Christ (whether by the similitude of bed or board) she became flourishing and fruitful: as is said of them that are planted in the Lord's house, They shall still bring forth fruit in hoary age, they shall be fat and green, Psal. 92. 13. 14. And this is the nature of the Gospel, where it is received by faith, that it bringeth forth fruit, and maketh men fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God, Colos. 1. 6. 10. It may here also signify the increase of the children of the Church, which are begotten by the immortal seed of the word, through the power of Christ, giving a blessing to the ministry of the same: The Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth this speech thus: The congregation of Israel answered before the Lord of the world; how fair is the Majesty of thy holiness; in the time that thou dwellest amongst us, and in favorable acceptation receivest our prayers: and in the time that thou dwellest in our beloved bed, and our children are multiplied on the earth; and we do grow and multiply like a tree that is planted by a spring of waters, whose leaf is fair, and whose fruit is abundant.

Vers. 17. The beams] or, the rafters: it meaneth the timber whereof beams or rafters are made, which are called by this name, when they are cut down in the wood, as in 2 Kings 6. 2. 5. houses] or, adifices; so named of building. Such figured the Churches of Christ, as in a Timothy 3. 15. the house of God, is expounded the Church of the living God: and the faithful Hebrews were the house of Christ, Hebrews 3. 6. Cedars] trees strong, tall, and durable, the timber whereof is of sweet smell, and it rotteth not. To such Cedars the Saints of God are compared, Psalm 92. 13. and the Tabernacles of Israel, are by Balaam likened unto such, for goodliness, Numbers 24. 5. 6. This wood was used in Solomon's Temple, 1 King 6. 9. 36. and 7. 12. and he made it common in Israel, he made Cedars like the Sycomore trees which are in the vale, for abundance, 1 Kings 10. 27. prefiguring the graces which should abound under Christ. galleries] walking places, named of running, because they run along by the house sides. Elsewhere the word is used for gutters wherein waters run, Genesis 30. 38. 41. Exodus 2. 16. which may also have use here, to signify the pipes and conduits of God's graces, through which the waters of his Spirit are conveyed into their hearts. But because she spake of houses, this may rather be understood of galleries, signifying the means of conversing with Christ, in the communion of his graces. See the notes on Song 7. 5. Brutine trees] or, Boratine trees. The Hebrew Brothim is found only in this place, and seemeth to be that which in Latin is called Brute, which is a tree like Cypres, and of a pleasant smell like Cedar, as Pliny showeth, in Nat. hist. l. 12. c. 17. Hereupon the Greek translatheth it Cypresse-trees: but Aquila, an exact Greek translator, turneth it Boratine, as being of the tree named in Greek Boraton, which hath also affinity with the Hebrew name, and is a tree growing in Arabia: Diodorus. Sicul. biblioth l. 2. These Cedar and Brutine trees, may be applied both to the persons of men, as is foreshowed, and to the doctrines wherewith the Church is built upon the foundation Christ, 1 Corinth. 3. 9. 10. 11. 12. all which set forth by these similitudes, are strong and firm, and of sweet odour unto the comfort of the Saints, and glory of Christ. So the holy persons and graces wherewith the Church should be adorned, are by the Prophets likened to goodly trees, in Isaiah 41. 19. and 55. 13. and 60. 13. The Chaldee paraphraseth on this verse thus: Solomon the Prophet said, How fair is the house of the Sanctuary of the Lord, which is built by mine hands, of Cedar wood: but fairer shall be the house of the Sanctuary which shall be built in the days of the King Christ, the beams whereof shall be of the Cedars of the garden of Eden (or of Paradise) and the galleries thereof shall be of Brutine trees, &c.

CHAPTER II.

I, am the rose of Sharon; the lillie, of the valleys.

As the lillie, among the thorns; so is my love, among the daughters.

As the apple-tree, among the trees of the wood; so is my beloved, among the sons: in his shadow, I desired and sate-down; and his fruit, was sweet to my palate. He brought me, into the house of wine, and his banner over me, was love. Stay me, with flagons: strow me a bed, with apples: for I, am sick of love. His left hand, under mine head; and his right hand, embrace me. I adjure you, ô daughters 〈...〉 erusalem, by the Roes; or by the Hindes of the field: if 〈
 ◇〉 , and if ye stir-up the Love, until it please.

The voice of my beloved! behold he cometh: leaping upon the mountains; skipping, upon the hills. My Beloved is like a Roe, or a fawn of the Hindes: behold he is standing behind our wall, looking-forth, thorough the windows, flourishing thorough the lattesses. My beloved answered, & said unto me: Rise-up thou, my love my fair one, and come thou away. For loe, the winter is past: the rain is over, it is goneaway. The flowers, appear on the earth, the time of the singing (of birds) is come: and the voice of the Turtle, is heard in our land. The fig-tree, putteth-forth her green figs; and the Vines with the tender-grape, give a smell: Rise up thou my Love my fair one, and come thou away. My dove, that art in the clefts of the Rock, in the secret-place of the stairs; let me see thy countenāce, let me hear thy voice: for thy voice is sweet, and thy countenance is comely. Take ye for us, the foxes, the little foxes, that corrupt the vineyards: for our vineyards, have tender-grapes.

My beloved is mine, and I am his; he feedeth among, the Lilies. Until the day dawn, and the shadows flee-away: turn-about, and be thou like, ô my beloved, to a Roe; or, to a fawn of the Hindes, upon the mountains of Bether.

CHAPTER II.

I, am the rose that doth in Sharon grow; [unspec 1]

The lilie also of the valleys-low.

Like-as the lilie is, the thorns among; [unspec 2]

So is my Love among the daughters young.

As th'apple-tree, among trees of the grove, [unspec 3]

So is among the sons, he whom I love:

I in his shade desired and down sate;

And sweet his fruit was unto my palate.

Into the house of wine, he hath me led; [unspec 4]

And over me, love was his banner spread.

Stay me, with flagons; strow me a bed to lie, [unspec 5]

With apples: for even sick of love am I.

His left hand, underneath mine head (have place;) [unspec 6]

His right hand also, me about-embrace:

O daughters of Jerusalem, you by

The Roes, or by Hindes of the field, do I [unspec 7]

Adjure: if that ye stirring-do-disease,

And if the Love ye stir-up till it please.
My Loveds voice! behold he comes: he leapes [unspec 8]
Upon the mounts; upon the hills he skips.
Ly Lov'd is like a Roe, or fawn of th'Hind: [unspec 9]
Behold he standing is our wall behind;
Thorow the windows looking-forth he viewes
Thorow the lattesse flourishing: he shows.
My Loved spake, and unto me did say: [unspec 10]
My Love my fair one, rise and come thy way,
For winter, loe, is past: over is the rain, [unspec 12]
Its gone. The flowers, on earth appear again;
Come is the time of the (birds) singing-noise:
And in our land heard is the Turtles voice.
The fig-tree, with her green-figs forth doth sprout; [unspec 13]
And Vines with tender grapes a smell give out
My Love my fair one, rise and come thy way.
My dove, that in clefts of the rock doth stay; [unspec 14]
Within the stayers hiding place secret;
Sight of thy countenance ô let me get:
Let me thy voice hear: for thy voice sweet is,
Also thy countenance hath comeliness.
The foxes, little foxes for us take, [unspec 15]
That in the vineyards wasteful spoil do make:
Because the tender-grape is on our vine.
He that my well-beloved is, is mine, [unspec 16]
And I am his; 'meng lilies he feedeth,
Until the day with dawning light breaketh, [unspec 17]
And till the shadows fleeing hence be gone;

Turn thee about, ô my beloved one,
 And be thou like the young Hart, or the Roe,
 That doth upon the mounts of Bether go.

Annotations.

[I] This is thought of some to be the speech of Christ: of others to be spoken by the Church: which seemeth most probable, and is so expounded by the Chaldee Paraphrast. If we understand it of Christ, it signifieth the excellency of graces in himself, which he readily communicateth with his people: if of the Church, it showeth her graces received from Christ, whereby she is lovely and delightful, for sweet odour and beauty, Hos. 14. 7. the rose of Sharon] in Greek, the flower of the field: but Sharon is the name of a place or plain, which was very fruitful, wherein King David's herds of cattle were fed, 1 Chron. 27. 29. and the Prophet mentioneth the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, Isaiah 35. 2. and when he threateneth desolation, he saith, Sharon is like a wilderness, Isaiah 33. 9. but promising mercy to his people, he saith, Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, Isaiah 65. 10. The Rose is the Queen of flowers, most commendable for sweetness and beauty: so the Lilie (after mentioned) is glorious and amiable, even Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these, Matth. 6. 29. The Lily is next in nobility to the Rose, saith Pliny, hist. l. 21. c. 5. of the valleys] or, of the low (or deep) places. These also were fruitful places, where the Kings herds were fed, 1 Chron. 27. 29. And as roses and lilies growing in Sharon and these valleys, had more moisture then those that grew on hills and mountains: so hereby it signified the blessed estate of the Church in Christ, by whose grace it is in low and base estate made sweet and amiable like the rose and lilie; as the Prophet saith, The wilderness and the dry-place shall be glad for them: and the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the Rose; Isaiah 35. 1. And the Lord saith, I will be as the dew unto Israel, he shall blossom as the Lilie, and strike forth his roots as Lebanon; Hos. 14. 5. But as here is mentioned the plain of Sharon, and the valleys, which were open places where cattle fed, and not enclosed gardens: so by it may be signified, how the Church is exposed to persecution, to be plucked of all that pass by the way, and trodden down and eaten of beasts. And this the words following do more confirm. The Chaldee openeth these words thus: The congregation of Israel said, When the ruler of the world causeth his Divine majesty to dwell in the midst of me, I am like to a moist (or green) lilie out of the garden of Eden; and my works are fair as the Rose which is in the plain of the garden of Eden.

Vers. 2. among the thorns] These are the words of Christ concerning his Love the Church, where he confirmeth and amplifieth the former speech; preferring her above other people's, as the lilie is above thomes and thistles: and withal signifying how she is afflicted and pricked with them, as with thorns. This similitude the Scripture often useth; as, If ye will not drive out the Inhabitants, &c. those which ye let remain of them, shall be pricks in your eyes, and thorns in your sides, and shall vex you in the land wherein ye dwell, Numb. 33. 55. And again, There shall be no more a pricking bryer unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn, of all that are round about them, that despised them, Ezek. 28. 24 This similitude showeth also what the Church ought to be, harmless as Lilies among thorns; innocent as sheep among wolves; as doves, among ravenous birds, Matth. 10. 16. The Lily among thorns, may also in special be understood of that which we call the Wood-bind; which groweth and flourisheth in hedges and thorns. my love] or, my fellow friend; my companion: as in chap. 1. 9. the daughters] the congregations of people's; as the Scriptures mention, the daughter of Babylon, Psal. 137. the daughter of Tyrus, Psal. 45. and many the like.

Ves. 3. the apple-tree] The Church setteth forth the excellency of Christ by the similitude of an apple-tree, which the Scripture commendeth for three things, comfortable shadow, pleasant fruit, (both noted in this place) and sweet smell, Song. 7. 8. And as the apple-tree hath more variety of fruits, then any other tree that groweth; (that  $\langle\circ\rangle$  is not easy to reckon up the many sorts of apples of different taste) so Christ excelleth in variety of graces which he bestoweth on his Church. The Chaldee Paraphrast expoundeth this of the Pomecitron tree; but for the cause aforesaid, I would not restrain it to any one kind, that the fullness of grace and truth which was in Christ, might here be observed: of whose fullness all we have received, and grace for grace, John. 1. 14. 16. of the wood] or, of the forest or grove: which are wild trees, and without culture, bearing either none, or sour, bitter, and unsavory fruits. Such is the state of all the sons of men by nature, Rom. 11. 24. whom Christ far excelleth in beauty, fruit, and comfort, Psalm 45. 3. John. 15. 1. &c. my beloved] that is, Christ: in Hebrew Dod, the same in signification with David: see the notes on chap. 1. 13. the sons] of Adam, all whom Christ far excelleth, Psal. 45. 3. The Chaldee expoundeth it of Angels, which are the sons of God, John. 1. 6. But though it be true that Christ excelleth them also, Heb: 1. yet the former similitude of the trees of the wood, leadeth us rather to understand it here of earthly creatures, as the Kings and Potentates, and wise men of the world, called sons in comparison with their people's, before called daughters, in verse. 2. So in Rev. 1. 5 Christ is the Prince of the Kings of the earth: in Ezek. 31. 3. 6. the King of Assyria is likened to a Cedar in Lebanon, under whose shadow dwelt all great nations: in Dan. 4. 20. 21. 22. Nebuchadnezzar is likened to a tree strong, and high, under which the beasts of the field dwelt, &c. and Josiah King of Judah, under whose shadow the Jews hoped to live, Lam. 4. 20. and others. in his shadow] that is, in his protection, and defense. The tree shadoweth from the heat of the Sun; and Christ from the heat of the wrath of God, and from the persecutions of the world: as it is written, There shall be a Tabernacle for a shadow in the day time from the heat &c. Esa. 4. 6 and, Thou (Lord) hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress; a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat; when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall, Isaiah 25. 4. So the shadow of Egypt, Isaiah 30. 2. the shadow of Heshbon, Ierem. 48. 45. signify the defense wherein men trusted, which the faithful repose in God and Christ alone, as in Psalm 36. 8. 57. 2. and 17. 8. 63. 8. and 90. 1. And they that trust in him shall be safe from evil, as Jehovah is thy shadow upon thy right hand; the Sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the Moon by night; Jehovah will keep thee from all evil; Psal. 121. 5. 6. 7. I desired and sate] or, I much desired that I might sit. The form of the Hebrew word increaseth the signification, as noting a continual and fervent desire, of that which is pleasing, delightful, or profitable: and by sitting is meant abiding and resting, as in Psalm. 91. 1. The Church therefore being by sin under wrath reviled by the Law; and being maligned by the world, as a lilie among thorns; acknowledgeth her faith, hope, love and delight,  $\langle\circ\rangle$  be in Christ Jesus, who hath delivered us from the wrath to come, 1 Th  $\langle\circ\rangle$ ...

› through whom we have peace with God, Rom. 5. 1. and peace in him, though in the world we have tribulation, 1 John 16. 33. his fruit] another benefit which the Church reapeth by Christ, that she is not only delivered from evil, but made partaker of his goodness; in that the works of his Prophecy, Priesthood and Kingdom, his death, resurrection, and all fruits of them are communicated unto her by the Gospel, which she feedeth upon by faith, to the refreshing and life of her soul. Fruits signify graces and good works, which are to the benefit of ourselves and others, Matt. 3 8. 10. Gal. 5. 22. &c. and is also applied to the doctrine of the Gospel, John 15. 16. and signifieth a comfortable reward, Psal 58. 12. Prov. 27. 18. The Hebrews refer these things to the Law, which should better be applied to the Gospel: for the Chaldee paraphrast here saith, As the Pome-citrontree is fair and commendable, among the unfruitful trees, and all the world knoweth it; so the Lord of the world was fair and commendable among the Angels, when he was revealed upon Mount Sinai, at the time that he gave the Law unto his people: at that time I desired to sit in the shadow of his Divine majesty, and the words of his Law were sweet to my palate, and the reward of his precepts is reserved for me, in the world that is to come.

Vers. 4. the house of wine] that is, either the wine cellar, the place where wine is kept; or rather the banqueting house, where wine is drunk. For cellars are called the treasuries or store-houses of wine, in 1 Chron. 27. 27. Wine, besides that it slaketh thirst, cheereth also the heart of man, Psal. 104. 15. causeth him to forget his sorrow and misery, Prov. 31. 6, 7. comforteth the sick, by cherishing and augmenting the vital spirits. By this the Church signifieth increase of grace from Christ, as the fruit of the vine, excelleth the fruit of the apple tree, and is more comfortable unto the heart. And as her troubles and temptations were increased, so was his grace towards her; for spiritual consolations; for as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ, 2 Cor. 1. 5. This house of wine, is like that in Prov. 9. 1.—5. where wisdom having built her house, &c. inviteth the simple to come and eat of her bread, and drink of the wine which she hath mingled. Of the Hebrews, Rashi expoundeth this wine house to be the Tabernacle of the congregation, where the interpretation explanation of the Law is given: answerable to which now, is the assembly of the Saints, though it may also be understood of God's book or Scripture, the true wine-cellar that affordeth spiritual comforts. his banner] or, his standard, a flag or ensign spread abroad; a warlike sign, as in ch. 6. 4. 10. the Church is said to be terrible as an army with banners. And the banner lifted up, is a sign of fighting with joy and victory, as in Psal. 20. 6. We will shout-joyfully in thy salvation and in the name of our God, we will set up the banner. So Christ's banner over her, signified his defense and the victory which he giveth over all her enemies, Sin, Satan, and the world: also the sign, that as all soldiers do camp under their own standards, Num. 2. 2. so she under the Gospel, the ensign of Christ's love towards her, love] that wherewith Christ hath loved us, 1 John 4. 10. wherefore some read it thus, his standard was love toward me. By love, the Church is redeemed, Ephes. 5. 25 by it, everlasting consolation is given us, and good hope through grace, 2 Thess. 2. 16. And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto us, Romans 5. 5.

Vers. 5. Stay] or, Sustaine, Strengthen, Uphold ye me. The Church in her soul sickness speaketh to her friends (the Ministers of Christ, and other Christians) that they, with the comfortable doctrines and promises of the Gospel applied unto her conscience, would stay and uphold her ready to fall as into a swowne, through trouble of mind, because of her own infirmities, and want of feeling of Christ's grace, and blessing. Thus in figure, when Isaac had blessed Jacob, he saith, with corn and wine I have sustained him, Gen. 27. 37. Spiritually we are sustained and strengthened by the words and promises of Christ, which comfort the heart; quicken the spirit, and strengthen faith when it is weak; as it is said, Be ye also patient; stablish, (or strengthen) your hearts; for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh, I am. 5. 8. and I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established, Rom. 1. 11. And example may be seen in Judah, when Hezekiah spake unto their heart, and said, Bee strong and courageous, &c. for there be moe with us then with him: with him is an arm of flesh, but with us is Jehovah our God to help us, and to fight our battles. And the people stayed (or rested) themselves upon the words of Hezekiah King of Judah, 2 Chron. 32. 6. 7. 8. Likewise in the Apostles, who preaching the Gospel, confirmed (or stablished) the souls of the Disciples, Acts 14. 21. 22. and 18. 23. with flagons] to weer, of wine, which at banquets was wont to be distributed by flagons. When David had brought the Ark of God into his place, and had offered burnt-offerings and peaceofferings, and blessed the people, he dealt to every 〈...〉 of Israel, both man and woman, to everyone a loaf of 〈ϕ〉, and a good peace of flesh, and a flagon, 1 Chr. 〈...〉 2. 3 meaning a flagons (or pot) of wine; as flagons of grapes (that is, of wine made of grapes) are mentioned in Hos. 3. 1. So here, with flagons of the, 〈ϕ〉 of grace and consolation, which God's people have distributed among them in the spiritual banquet of the Gospel, doth the Church desire to be sustained. Flagon are named for the wine in them: as the cup for the wine therein, Luk. 22. 20. The Hebrews after their wonted manner, apply this to the doctrine of the Law; as the Chaldee paraphrast here saith, Receive ye (ô Moses and Aaron) the voice of the words of the Lord, out of the midst of the fire, and bring me into the house of doctrine, and sustain me with the words of the Law, wherewith the world is delighted. But it is the Law which causeth the sickness of the soul, as the Apostle showeth in Rom. 7. and the Gospel of Christ healeth it, Luke 4. 18. strow me a bed] or, spread me, make me a couch, boulder me up. The original Raphad, signifieth properly to spread abroad as a bed to lie on, Job 17. 13. and so it is translated by the Greek Stoibasate, which is, to strow a bed, as they were wont with herbs, or to stuff and boulder up. Thus it is of like meaning with the former word, for they used beds and couches at banquets, Amos 6. 4. Esth. 1. 5. 6. or it further signifieth her falling down as into a swowne▪ and as one not able to stand, is to lie down on her couch, which she desireth may be made and boulder with the apples, the comfortable doctrines and fruits of Christ forementioned in verse 3. which the Chaldee explaineth, the interpretation of the holy words, which are sweet like the apples of the garden of Eden. sick of love] in languishing with desire to enjoy the comforts of my beloved. The Greek translateth it, wounded of love. The original word signifieth also weakness, as in Judge. 16. 7. 11. This speech implieth a want of feeling and enjoying the presence and comforts of Christ, as by her after speech is manifest, when she saith, I adjure you, ô daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him that I am sick of love, Song. 5. 8. And that soth is the Churches estate sometimes, appeareth by Song. 3. 1. 2. &c. and 5. 6. And as love is one of the strongest affections, Song. 8. 6. 7. so the sickness which cometh it, doth sore afflict and weaken the person; as may be seen in that evil example of Amnon, sick of love for his sist 〈...〉 T 〈...〉 ar, 2 Sam. 13. 1. 2. 4. This sickness ariseth in the heart, by feeling the wrath of God due to us for sin; and curse of his law, Psal. 90. 8. and 38. 3. 5. 7. Dan. 9. 11. Rom. 7. 24. (whereupon it is said, The inhabitant shall not say I am sick; the people that dwell therein, shall be forgiven their iniquity, Isaiah 33. 24.) and afflictions laid upon us for our humiliation. Mic. 6. 13. Job. 7. 18. and 30. 15. 1. & 10. 6. Lament. 3. 17. 18. Amos 6. 6. in which Christ sometimes, as it were, hideth himself from us, Job 13. 24. Psal. 77. 6. 7. 8. and 80. 3. 7. 19. The Church feeling and acknowledging her self sick. seeking for the Physician, and is in the way to health: for they that are whole need not a Physician, but they that are sick, Matt. 9. 12. And such as feel not their death in sin, will not come unto Christ, that they may have life, John 5. 40. who healeth all our sicknesses, Psal. 103. 3. as he himself was a man of sorrows, and acquainted with sickness, Isaiah 53. 3.

Vers. 6. His left hand] understand, is under my head: or prayerwise, let it be under mine head. The Church by faith beholdeth the help of Christ himself, in the ministry of his Word and Spirit sustaining her, outwardly and inwardly, as with the left and right hand; upholding her head, folding about and comforting her heart, as a loving husband doth his wife in her sorrow and sickness, as the Apostle saith, the Lord doth nourish and cherish his Church, Ephes. 5. 29. The like speech is repeated in Song. 8. 3. under my head] as a pillow to rest upon. By sins and afflictions, the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint, Isaiah 1. 5 By the righteousness of Christ, and consolations of his Spirit, our  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  are forgiven, and our consciences comforted, 1 John 2. 12.  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  ,  $\langle \dots \rangle$  Rom. 14. 17. This grace is felt, when by the ministration of the Word, the flagons and apples forementioned (in verse. 5.) are applied to the repentant believing sinner: who saith, when his flesh and his heart is consumed and faileth; The Rock of my heart, and my portion, is God forever, Psalm 73. 26. his right hand] which teacheth him fearful things, Psalm 45. 5. so both his hands, even all that Christ is, his Godhead and Manhood, his life, death, resurrection, ascension; his weakness, power, and glory, are employed for the comfort and salvation of his Church. doth embrace me] or, let embrace me, or, will embrace me: it is a speech of faith, or prayer, (as in Chap. 1. 2. Let him kiss me.) concerning the fruition of Christ's love and graces. For to embrace or fould the arms about one, is (as kissing) a sign of love, Gen. 29. 13. and 48. 10. In this sense we are counseled to embrace the wisdom of God, Prov. 4. 78. This commendeth the love of Christ, that leaveth not his Church in her sickness, sins, and infirmities; but cometh to her, comforteth and sustaineth her with his own hands, in manifestation of all love, compassion and kindness: and joyeth in her, as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the Bride, Isaiah 62. 5. and keepeth her safe from evil. It setteth forth also the Churches faith and thankfulness, which seeth Christ present in his doctrine and ordinances, and his Ministry, as if he were crucified before her, Gal. 3. 1. and rejoiceth before others for his love and help, 2 Cor. 1. 3. 4. 5. &c.

Vers. 7. I adjure you] that is, I earnestly charge you with an oath, for which if you break it, you shall be guilty of punishment. This seemeth to be the speech of the Church here, as it is also after in ch. 3. verse. 5. and ch. 8. v. 4. to the daughters of Jerusalem, her friends, of whom see chap. 1. 5. An adjuration, and a curse, are much of like nature, and one is sometime put for another: see Gen. 24. 8. 41. Ios. 6. 26. 1 Sam. 14. 24. 27. 28. So it showeth the weightiness of this speech. by the Roes] here may be understood, ye that are by the Roes: ye which feed your flocks abroad in the fields, where the Roes and Hindes run: or, abide with the Roes, or with the

*Hind*es of the field. Some take it as if the oath were by them; which cannot be but improper and figurative, seeing oaths and adjurations are by the name of God only, Deut. 6. 13. Gen. 24. 3. The Roes and Hinds are wild beasts of the field, and have the notation of their names, of armies and powers: and by wild beasts, the nations of the world are often signified, which were not of the Lord's fold, among his sheep: so that the daughters of Jerusalem (God's elect) being with and among them, are charged (and it may be figuratively by them, as the instruments by whom God would punish them if they kept not this charge) to beware that they troubled not her Love. Moreover the Roe and the Hind are set forth in Scripture for examples of swiftness of foot, as in 2 Sam. 2. 18. and 22. 34. which being referred to the punishment for breaking this adjuration, may signify the swiftness of God's judgments on them that shall so do. These creatures are also mentioned when speech is of love between man and wife: as in Prov. 5. 19. Let her be as the loving Hind, and as the pleasant Roe, &c. that as the males and females of these beasts, do dearly love one another, so is the unfeigned love between man and wife, and between Christ and his Church. And hereunto this speech may have respect: the rather for that after in verse 9. she likeneth Christ to a Roe, or a young Hart. And as the heavens, earth, stones, &c. are called to witness against men if they sin, Deut. 30. 19. Ios. 24. 27. so the Roes and Hinds shall rise up and condemn such as break their faith and love unto Christ. if ye stir, and if ye stir up] or, if ye awake, and if ye wake up: they are both words of one signification, save that they differ in form; and being both referred to the Love after mentioned, they mean a stirring up or disquieting much or little. But the former may have reference to the daughters of Jerusalem, that they themselves stir not, in this peace and quietness of Christ and his Church: the latter, if ye stir up, is referred to the Love, that it be not disquieted. And the word If, used in oaths and adjurations, is a prohibition upon penalty, see that ye stir not, as in Gen. 21. 23. swear unto me here by God, if thou shalt lie unto me; that is, that thou wilt not lie: and in Mark 8. 12. if a sign be given: which is explained in Matt. 16. 4. a sign shall not be given. Stirring, is opposed unto quietness or sitting still, and unto sleep and rest, Psal. 80. 3. and 35. 23. Dan. 11. 25. Zach. 2. 13. & 4. 1. and the Lord is said then to stir up or awake, when he delivereth his Church out of troubles, Psalm 78. 65. 66. and the Church then stirreth up the Lord, when it earnestly prayeth for such deliverance, Psal. 44. 24. 25. The Chaldee Paraphrast and other Hebrews understand it so here; but apply it to the deliverance of Israel out of Egypt, which might not be until the time appointed of God: and if we take it in this sense, the daughters of Jerusalem are charged to suffer affliction, for and with Christ, in faith and patience, unto the coming of the Lord, I am. 5. 7. 1 Pet. 5. 6. 7. and not to provoke him by murmuring, or otherwise, through fear and unbelief: a figure whereof may be seen in Christ's sleeping in the storm, and the disciples waking him, Mark 4. 37.—40. But it may be applied unto the stirring and provoking of Christ by sin, for which he often departeth from his people, and chasteneth their transgressions, Exod. 23. 20. 21. Isaiah 59. 2. and 63. 10. that they should by no means grieve the holy Spirit of God, Ephes. 4. 30. the Love] understand, my Love, meaning Christ her beloved; who is called Love, for excellency sake (as in Song. 1. 4. righteousnesses were righteous persons:) because God is Love, 1 John 4. 8. most worthy to be loved, and loving his most dearly. So loves for lovers, in Hos. 8. 9. Afterward the Spouse her self is called by this name Love, in Song. 7. 6. until it please] or, until he please, speaking of Christ: and being understood of stirring or provoking him by sin, it meaneth never; for so the word until often signifieth: as Michal had no child until the day of her death, 2 Sam. 6. 23. that is, she never had any: and this iniquity shall not be purged from you, till ye die, Isaiah 22. 14. and, I will not leave thee, until I have done, that which I have spoken unto thee, Gen. 28. 15. and sundry the like.

Vers. 8. The voice.] Here the Spouse breaketh out and rejoiceth to hear the Bridegroom's voice; and signifieth to her friends, the comforts that she had thereby; as it was her souls sickness and grief, when he withdrew himself, and kept silence. By the voice is meant the word of his grace, the preaching of the Gospel: which she knoweth to be his, and receiveth with joy, as Christ's sheep are said to hear and to know the voice of the shepherd, and not a strangers, John 10. 3. 4. &c. In this sense, he said before Pilate, Everyone that is of the truth heareth my voice, John. 18. 37. and, they knew not the voices of the Prophets, Acts 13. 27. that is, their doctrines; and today if ye shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts, &c. Heb. 3. 7. This voice is heard before his coming, to prepare the hearers to receive him: as John the Baptist (who prepared the way before Christ) is called the Voice of a crier, &c. Mark 1. 2. 3. behold he cometh] A further degree of grace from him, and comfort in her, that she not only heareth his voice, but seeth him coming to save her, as is promised in Isaiah 35. 4. By the preaching of the Gospel, received with faith, Christ himself cometh, and is present with his people, John. 13. 20. Gal. 3. 1. And as the Church was sick of love, verse. 5. so Christ here answereth to her desire, fulfilling that which he promised, If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my Father will love him; and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him, John 14. 23. leaping] a similitude taken from the Roes and Harts, (whereunto Christ is likened in verse. 9.) which are swift in running, and skip upon mounts, hills and rocks: as in Isaiah 35. 6. the lame man shall leap as an Hart. Hereby therefore Christ's speed and readiness to help is signified. upon the mountains] that is openly and apparently to the eye of faith; as in Nahum. 1. 15. Behold upon the mountains, the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, &c. Spiritually by the mountains and hills, may be meant the Kingdoms and Nations of the world, subdued unto Christ by the preaching of the Gospel, Rev. 11. 15. Or, it may be translated, over the mountains, and over the hills; passing over all impediments which might seem to hinder him, as the sins of his people, the opposition of the world, and the like. So the adversaries of the Church, are likened to a mountain, in Zach. 4. 7. Who art thou, ô great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain. And, by the preaching of the Gospel, every mountain and hill shall be made low, Isaiah 40. 4. See also Isaiah 41. 15. and 42. 15. Habak. 3. 6.

Vers. 9. Like a Roe] for swiftness, 2 Sam. 2. 18. and for pleasantness, Prov. 5. 19. The same is meant by the next similitude of the Fawn or young Hart, 2 Sam. 22. 34. Prov. 5. 19. fawn of the Hindes] or, of the Harts, (for the original word implieth both males and females,) and she speaketh in the plural number, either because the Fawne is engendered of both male and female, which delight each in other; or for excellency, as Sol. Rashi expoundeth it, the Fawne of a choice Hind (or Hart.) Here the Church showeth the readiness of Christ to help her; as in verse 8. she saw him come leaping and skipping; so by these two creatures, most swift of •cot, she signifieth the speed he maketh; as in Chap. 8. 14. and the mutual love and delight between them, according to Prov. 5. 19. behind our wall] This signifieth a more near communion with Christ, then when he was farther off, leaping on the mountains; and yet not so near, but there was still a wall between her and him, which parted them: so the degrees of graces are here meant, whereby Christ manifesteth his love to his Church, not wholly at once, but as he seeth good for us; that by beholding and delighting in his goodness, we may be drawn to follow him, calling us after him, verse. 10. His standing behind our wall, if it be referred to Christ himself, may be understood of his incarnation, when he dwelt in our house of clay (as it is called in Job 4. 19.) and in our flesh, appeared, preached, suffered, &c. to draw us after him into the kingdom of his Father; as John 1. •4. the word was made flesh, and dwelt amongst us, and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. If it be referred to the wall, which God hath made for his Church, it may mean his holy ordinances (which in the time of the Law, were a middle wall of partition, as Paul nameth them, Ephes. 2. 14.) behind which Christ standeth, speaketh, and showeth himself though more obscurely. But we may best apply it to our own wall, meaning of the heart, (as the Prophet speaketh of the walls of his heart, Ier. 4. 19. which the Greek there translateth, the senses of his heart;) and it agreeth with that saying, Behold I stand at the door and knock, &c. Revel. 3. 20. For the natural senses and understanding of our hearts are as a wall to hinder us from Christ, till they be pulled down, & reformed according to the knowledge of God. And so it is prophesied of Christ, that he should unwall (or cast down the walls of) all the sons of Seth, Num. 24. 17. that is, (as the Apostle openeth) should by the preaching of the Gospel, pull down strong holds, cast down imaginings, and every high thing that exalteth it self against the knowledge of God; and bring into captivity every thought, to the obedience of Christ, 2 Cor. 10. 4. 5. looking through] or, looking in, at the windows: this word, used only here, and in Psal. 33. 14. and Isaiah 44. 16. signifieth a looking narrowly, and an intentive observation of that which is done or suffered by others: So it noteth Christ's providence and care of his Church, and all her ways; to see how she would accept of him and his word. flourishing] or, blossoming; that is, showing himself as a flour, sweet, pleasant, amiable: to teach, that Christ cometh not unto his, without profit and comfort to their souls. For as he is all gracious, so he profereth grace to his Church. The Greek translateth it, looking in; agreeable to the former word. lattesses] a word not elsewhere used in the Hebrew; but the Chaldee useth it for windows, as in Ios. 2. 21. And as windows and lattesses do both serve to let in light into the house: so (according to the former interpretation) they may here be applied to Christ, through whom grace shined in his human nature; or to his ordinances, through which the light of grace shineth unto us, as by his Word, Seals of the Covenant, &c. or to the hearts of his people, into which he conveyeth heavenly light. But his looking in to his Spouse through these, betokeneth also his secret observation of her, and all her doings; for things which one doth secretly unespied, are said to be by looking out at the window, as in Prov. 7. 6. &c. Ge. 26. 8. And as for her, she seeth him not plainly, but as through windows and lattesses; for in this life we know but in part; and now we see through a glass darkly, 1 Cor. 13. 12. The Chaldee referreth this speech to God's respect of his people, when they kept the Passover in Egypt, Exod. 12. which was a figure of Christ our Passover sacrificed for us, 1 Cor. 5. 7.

Vers. 10. answered] or, spake. She telleth here the end and fruit of Christ's swift coming, to call her by his Word and Spirit, from her present estate and place of affliction, unto a better; or from that slouth or security wherein she lay, to follow him in the faith and love of his Gospel: for when we with open face, behold as in a glass the glory of the Lord, we have also this grace added, that we are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord: 2 Cor. 3. 18. Rise up thou] or, Rise up for thyself, and for thy good: so after, Come away for thyself. Sitting or lying still fitteth not with a Christian in this life, who is called to run the way of God's commandments, Psal. 119. 32. and to follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth, Rev. 14. 4. By our own default and negligence, we want the comforts of Christ and his communion: but this our sin is reprov'd and made manifest by the light: Wherefore he saith; Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead; and Christ shall give thee light, Ephes. 5. 13. 14. Hereunto Christ calleth us, with words of love and kindness. come thou away] or, go thou, or, get thee away. Such words God used to Abraham, when he called him out of his Country, Genesis 12.

Vers. 11. Winter] a time of cold, hardness, storm and tempest; wherein flowers and fruits are consumed; travel is difficult: for then God casteth forth his ye like morsels; who can stand before his cold? Psal. 147. 17. Therefore Christ saith, Pray that your flight be not in the winter, Mat. 24. 20. rain is over] or, is changed, that is, past away, and fair wether come in the place. Rain in winter is an hindrance of travel or going abroad, as appeareth also by Ezr. 19. 9. 13. These things may be applied to outward troubles and grievances in this life, by the malice of the world: as when Israel was in the bondage of Egypt, and of Babylon; and after were released: likewise to the spiritual winter, rain and rage of Antichrist, after which the graces and fruits of the Gospel began to flourish again. May also signify the afflictions of soul, wherein fears and sorrows are stirred up like tempests; by the wrath of God, caused by sin, discovered and stirred up by the Law, Rom. 3. 20. and 4. 15. and 7. 5. 8. 23. 24. All which by Christ's coming are done away, Rom. 7. 25. For that man is an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest, Isaiah 32. 2. and through him we being justified by faith, have peace with God, Rom. 5. 1. and his Tabernacle is for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain, Isaiah 4. 6. The same thing is elsewhere signified by the scorching heat of the summer, Rev. 7. 16. 17.

Vers. 12. The flowers] or, The flourishing things, (the flowerings) appear. A description of a pleasant and fruitful Spring, after a doleful winter: signifying Christ's gracious and comfortable gifts, for the delight and benefit of his Church, after the removal of the former evils. These flowers may be understood, both of the Saints themselves which now began to hold up their heads: and of the graces of the spirit, wherewith they are adorned, for their mutual comfort: whiles the joyful tidings of the Gospel are discovered unto the consciences of afflicted sinners, to assure them of the favor of God. Thus unto Pharaohs Butler in prison, was signified his restoring to his former good estate, by a dream of vine branches that budded, blossomed, and brought forth grapes, Gen. 40. 9. 10.—13. And when God promiseth grace to his people, he saith, Israel shall blossom, and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Isaiah 27. 6. and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth, Psal. 72. 16. the earth] which being naturally dry and barren, (and cursed for man's sin, Gen. 3.) is by the blessing of God, and by means of the rain and dew of heaven, made fruitful: and this is applied unto our sinful barren nature, made fruitful by the blessing and Gospel of Christ, Heb. 6. 7. 8. 9. So God promising to heal the backsliding of his people, and to love them freely, after his anger is turned away, saith, I will be as the dew unto Israel, he shall grow as the Lillie, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon; his branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the Olive tree, &c. Hos. 14. 4. 5. 6. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth these flowers to Moses and Aaron, which were like unto Palme tree branches, and appeared to do miracles in the land of Egypt. singing] to weet, of birds, as after in special, he nameth the Turtle dove. This is both a sign and an effect of the Spring time, which cheereth all creatures, and causeth them in their kind, to sing praises unto God: and these birds and turtles, signify the Saints, who feeling the comforts of God's word and spirit, do sing his praise; and with Psalms and Hymns and spiritual songs, do sing and make melody in their heart to the Lord, Ephes. 5. 19. As it is written, They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the Lord, &c. From the utmost part of the earth, have we heard songs, Glory to the righteous, Isaiah 24. 14. 16. of the turtle] The Church it self, is sometime meant by the Turtle, Psal. 74. 19. and the Dove, Song 2. 14. and 5. 2. sometime the holy Ghost with his graces, is resembled by a dove, as at our Lord's baptism, Mat. 3. 16. and thus the Chaldee expoundeth it here, the voice of the holy Ghost. So it signifieth the voice of the Spirit, in the people of Christ, mutually comforting one another, and jointly praising God, with and for his graces. The Turtle dove casting her feathers, is said to hide her self in winter in holes of trees, her voice therefore being now heard, signifieth that Summer was come.

Vers. 13. her green figs] or, her unripe figs; such as the fig tree thrusteth out instead of flowers which appear on other trees. A sign not only of the Spring, but of a fruitful year. Our Savior saith, Learn a parable of the fig tree. When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that Summer is nigh, Matth. 24. 32. And the blessing of God upon his Church, is hereby signified: as on the contrary, when he threateneth to consume the same, he saith, there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, &c. Ier. 8. 13. tender grape] or, young small grape, called in Hebr. Smadar, a word used only in this Song, here, and in verse. 15. and c. 7. v. 12. By this variety of fruits, is figured the variety of graces the good works and sweet odour of them, which appear in the Saints after they are reconciled to God by Jesus Christ; who is the true vine, the faithful are the branches; who when they bear much fruit, the Father is glorified, John 15. 1. 5. 8. The people of God themselves are also likened to grapes, and figs; as, I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers, as the first ripe in the fig tree, &c. Hos. 9. 10. rise up thou] or, rise up for thyself, as in verse. 10. which exhortation is here again repeated.

Vers. 14. My dove] so Christ calleth here his Church. The dove is mournful, sociable, harmless, chaste, fearful, &c. as, I did mourn as a dove, Isaiah 38. 14. and, we mourn sore like doves, Isaiah 59. 11. Again, who are these, that fly as the doves to their windows (or lockers) Isaiah 60. 8. and in Ezek. 7. 16. they that escape of them, shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning everyone for his iniquity. And in Hos. 11. 11. they shall tremble as a dove, out of the land of Assyria: in Mat. 10. 16. be harmless as doves. All which properties agree with the Church in this her estate: especially fearfulness, and mourning for her iniquities, whereby she became sick of love, verse. 5. the clefts of the Rock] hidden there for fear of enemies; as it is written, O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the Rock; and be like the dove, that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth, Ier. 48. 28. The Rock whither this dove the Church was now fled, seemeth most properly to mean faith in Christ, as Mat. 16. 18. wherein she hid her self, for fear of God's wrath for her sin, and yet durst not show her self: or, the election of God, which as a sure and rocky foundation abideth forever. Herewith compare Exod. 32. 22. where Moses was put in a clift of the Rock, and covered with God's hand, while he passed by. secret place] or, hiding place: thus David often calleth God his secret or hiding place: as 〈◇〉 Psalm 32. 7. Thou art a secret place to me from distress thou wilt preserve me, &c. See also Psal. 61. 5. and 91. 1. stairs] Heb. stair, or, steep place. This as the Rock aforesaid may signify Christ; by 〈...〉 th in him, we ascend unto God, by degrees, as by stairs▪ he being the Ladder, which Jacob saw in vision, upon whom the Angels of God ascended and descended, Gen. 28 12. John. 1. 51. let me see thy countenance] or, cause me to see thy personage, thy visage, thy form, fashion, shape, sight, or appearance: (see chap. 5. 15.) that is, stir up thy faith and hold up thy face with comfort, come unto me walk before me, and be upright: as Gen. 17. 1. Present thy body, as a living sacrifice, holy, &c. Rom. 12. 1. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, Shew me thy countenance and thy righteous works. hear thy voice] that is, thy prayers, praises, songs, thanksgivings, &c. Psalm. 5. 3. and 26. 7. and 28. 2. and 42 5. call upon me, in all thy fears and troubles: as in Psal. 50. 15. Call on me, in the day of distress, &c. By these words Christ both showeth her the cause of her souls sickness, to be her own infirmities, and negligence in prayer and other holy duties, as also comforteth her, against her fears, and the conscience of her infirmities. Thus the Chaldee also explaineth it, Let me heart thy voice, for thy voice is sweet in prayer, in the house, of the little sanctuary, and thy countenance fair, in good works. 〈...〉 is sweet] that is, pleasing and acceptable, being uttered in faith and according to the will of God: as it is written, Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be sweet (that is, pleasing) unto the Lord, Malac. 3. 4. but unto the transgressors he saith, your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me, Ier. 6. 20. comely] or, to be desired, beautiful, as in Song. 1. 4. These praises of the Church are spiritual, and according to the esteem of God, not of men: for even Christ himself in respect of worldly reputation, had his visage and form so marred, that many were astonied at him: he had no form nor comeliness, Isaiah 52. 14. and 53. 2.

Vers. 15. Take ye for us the foxes] It is uncertain whether these words be spoken by Christ, or by the Church, or both: but they seem rather to be Christ's words, directed chiefly to the watch-men, and ministers of the Church. By Foxes are meant false prophets and heretics: as in Ezek. 13. 4. O Israel, thy prophets are like the Foxes in the deserts. Such are by Christ likened to wolves, Mat. 7. 12. And the Apostle to the Elders of Ephesus giveth warning of such, Acts 20. 28. 29. &c. and all Christians are to mark and espye such, Rom. 16. 17. The taking (or apprehending and holding fast) of these foxes, is the discovering and refuting of their errors, the judging, censuring, and casting them out of the Church, 1 Tim. 1. 3. 18. 19. 20. or avoiding them, if they be none of the Church, 2 John 10. And because the vine keepers knowing the malignity of Foxes, would destroy them, but by reason of their subtlety they often escape, and are not taken; therefore he saith, Take: meaning by consequence the rooting of them out. And as the Fox is famous for his craft and subtlety; so are false Teachers, called therefore deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the Apostles of Christ, 2 Cor. 11. 13. And not they only, but crafty tyrants, and other like enemies, may be meant by foxes; as Christ called Herod a Fox, Luke 13. 32. also sins of all sorts, may by reason of their deceitfulness (Heb. 3. 13) be here implied under the name of Foxes; whose property is to have holes in the earth, Matth. 8. 20. as sins are hidden in the fraudulent hearts of men. the little Foxes] the lesser sort of sins, errors, false teachers, &c. even in their beginning and first bud; when they may seem to be less hurtful: as is said of Babylon, Happy shall he be that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the rock: Psal. 137. 9. corrupt the vineyards] by devouring the grapes, the foxes corrupt, mar and destroy vines and vine-yards: so sins, sinners, and heretics, destroy the faith, doctrine, and Churches; making shipwreck of faith, 1 Tim. 1 19. their word eateth as doth a canker, 2 Tim. 2. 17. they are vain talkers, and deceivers of minds; who subvert whole houses Tit. 1. 10. 11. they privily bring in heresies of perdition: being as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, 2 Pet. 2. 1. 12. Of such, the Lord complaineth, Many Pastors have corrupted my Uineyard, Jer. 12. 10. for] Heb. and: which word is often used instead of for, as in Psalm. 60. 13. Isaiah 64. 7. Gen. 12. 19. have tender grapes] or, bring forth the tender grape. This reason showeth the love and care of God towards his Churches and people that are fruitful. If they bear wild grapes instead of wholesome fruit, he will take away the hedge of his vineyard, and it shall be eaten up, Isaiah 5. 4. 5. Every branch in Christ that beareth not fruit, his Father the Husbandman, taketh it away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit, John 15. 1. 2. and when the fruit is young and tender, he hath care to preserve and cherish the same.

Vers. 16. is mine] Here the Spouse professeth the joyful communion between Christ and her, which she now feeleth renewed after her soul sickness. Christ is ours, when by faith we apply him and all his graces, his death, resurrection, ascension, intercession &c. unto ourselves, as our own. Because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then are all dead; 2 Cor. 5. 14. I am crucified with Christ. Nevertheless I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me, &c. Gal. 2. 20. And we have known and believed, the love that God hath to us, 1 John. 4. 16. and I his] by the covenant of his grace: as it is written, I entered into covenant with thee, saith the Lord God, and thou becamest mine, Ezek. 168. Or, as the former branch signified her faith to justification, so this latter, her sanctification; whiles by holiness of life, she giveth her self to Christ in all obedience to do his will, Rom. 6. And, hereby we know that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit, 1 John. 4. 13. feedeth among the Lilies] this signifieth the continuance and increase of grace; for that faith and holiness might be increased daily, Christ by his Spirt, and by the ministry of his word, feedeth his flock among the fair, sweet and comfortable Lilies of the scriptures; and in the communion of the Saints, which are like Lilies among thorns, v. 2.

V. 17. Untill the day dawn] or, until the day blow, or, breath forth, to wit, light: as appeareth by that which followeth, the fleeing of shadows. Although it may have reference to the blowing of the wind at the break of the day. The like speech is used again in Son. 4. 6. the shadows fly] that is, the darkneses of the night flee: as on the contrary, when the day goeth away, the shadows of the evening are said to be stretched out, Jer. 6. 4. turn-about] to wit, unto me, have respect unto and care of me: it is a request of comfort from Christ, as David saith, Thou didst much increase my greatness, and didst turn about and comfort me, Psalm 71. 21. The Spouse here in the night and darkness of her tribulation and temptation, desireth Christ to be ready at hand for her help, by the comfort of his Word and Spirit. The night and shadows thereof, do signify either the darkness of ignorance and sin, when the truth and way of God is not known, Ephes. 5. 8. 1 John 1. 6. Mich. 3. 6. or the time of trouble and persecution, Lament. 3. 1. 2. the day is the time of knowledge, holiness, comfort, peace and joy, 1 Thessalonians 5. 5.

Rom. 13. 12. 13. Esther 8. 16. The dawning or break of this day, is the sense and feeling of inward joy and comfort by the Word and Spirit; as the Apostle willeth us to take heed unto the sure word of prophesy, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in our hearts, 2 Peter 1. 19. the fleeing of the shadows, is the removing away of blindness, ignorance, sinfulness, misery & trouble; which God beginneth to his people in this life, and continuing till the end; when the day of the Lord, and the day of Christ shall appear, 1 Thessalonians 5. 2. 2. 2 Thessalonians 2. 2. when there shall be eternity of light, and joy to the faithful. to a Roe] for swiftness to help me, and pleasantness to delight me▪ see the notes on verse. 9. fawn of the Hindes] or of the Harts, that is, a young Hart: see verse. 9. of Bether] or (by interpretation) of division, of partition. This seemeth to be the place called also Bithron, which was on the outside of Jordan, 2 Samuel 2. 29. called partition, because it was parted by the river Jordan from the land of Judea. And on those mountains (as by this Scripture appeareth) Hartes and Roes used to run, from whom the similitude is taken.

CHAPTER III.

VPon my bed, in the nights, I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not. I will rise now, and go about in the city, in the streets, and in the broadplaces, I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not. The watchmen that go-about in the City, found me: Saw ye, him whom my soul loveth? It was but a little that I had passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go: until I had brought him into my mothers house; and into the chamber, of her that conceived me. I adjure you, ô daughters of Jerusalem, by the Roes; or, by the Hindes of the field: if ye stir, and if ye stir-up the Love, until it please.

Who is this that cometh up, out of the wilderness, like pillars of smoakperfumed with myrrh, & frankincense, with all powder of the Merchant?

Behold, his bed which is Solomon's, threescore mighty-ones are about it: of the mighty ones of Israel. They all, hold the sword; being expert in war: every-man hath his sword upon his thigh, because of fear in the nights.

King Solomon, made him-self a chariot, of the wood of Lebanon. He made the pillars thereof, of silver; the bottom thereof, of gold, the covering thereof, of purple: the midst thereof, being paved with love, of the daughters of Jerusalem. Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and see King Solomon: with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him, in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CHAPTER III.

VPon my bed, I in the nights him sought [unspec 1]

Whom my soul loves: I sought, but found him not.

Now will I rise, and <...> bout the city go, [unspec 2]

Within the streets, in places-broad also,

I will seek him whom I do love in mind:
I did him seek, but him I did not find.
The watch that 'bout the City go found me: [unspec 3]
Whom my soul loves, (said I) did ye him see?
It was but even a little that from them [unspec 4]
I passed had, until that I found him
Whom my soul loveth: hold on him I caught,
And would not let him go, till I him brought Into my mothers house: and into the Chamber, of her that hath conceived me.
O daughters of Jerusalem, you by [unspec 5]
The Roes, or by Hindes of the field, do I
Adjure: if that ye stirring-do disease,
And if the Love ye stir-up, till it please.
Who is she this that maketh her egress, [unspec 6]
Like smoakie pillars, from the wilderness.
Perfum'd with myrrh and frankincense: with all
The merchants powder-aromatical?
Behold his bed that which is Solomon's, [unspec 7]
About the same are threescore mighty-ones:
Of mighty ones of Israel which are.
They all, do hold the sword, expert in war: [unspec 8]
Ech man his sword upon his thigh he dights,
Because of fearful-terror in the nights.
A chariot, of the wood of Lebanon, [unspec 9]
Make for himself did the King Solomon.
Of silver, he did pillars of it frame: [unspec 10]
Of gold, (he made) the bottom of the same:

Of purple, was the covering-above:
 The midst of it, being pav'd with, love:
 Of daughters of Jerusalem that be▪
 O Zion's daughters, get ye forth, and see [unspec 11]
 King Solomon with royal diademe,
 Even that wherewith his mother crowned him,
 The day wherein he his espousals had,
 And in the day wherein his heart was glad.

Annotations.

VPon my bed] The Church now showeth greater afflictions into which she fell, through want of feeling the presence and comforts of Christ. Whiles she thought her self sure of her Beloved, and laid her down as on the bed of ease; supposing him to be with her, she misseth his company: and seeking him by solitary meditation found him not. Thus may we understand this place comparing it with Chap. 5. verse. 2. 3. &c. The bed sometime signifieth tribulation, as in Rev. 2. 22. which may be also implied here; that the Church sought and waited for the Lord, in the way of his judgments, as in Isaiah 26. 8. the nights] the times of solitary & earnest meditation, as also of affliction, are signified by the nights: as in Ps▪ 63. 7. and 119. 55. and 77. 3. 4. 7. &c. So in Isaiah 26. 9. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my Spirit within me, will I seek thee early. I sought] by prayer, study, meditation; upon repentance of sins & negligences, in faith of God's promises &c. See Matt. 7. 7. 8. Ho•ea 3. 5. and 5. 15. Jeremiah. 50. 4. 〈◊〉 ▪ 2. 3. Deu• 〈◊〉 4. 29. my soul loveth] Christ whom before she called her Beloved, is here the love of liar soul; for by withdrawing the light of his face, & afflicting the conscience, the love, zeal and affections of the Christian heart are kindled and increased When he slew them th•n they sought him; and returned & sought God early, &c. Psal. 78. 34. 35. I found him not] to weet presently, till afterward, v. 4. For neglect of taking hold on grace when it is offered, or not keeping it when it is received, God often withdraweth the light of his countenance, to stir up zeal and fervency in his children, Prov. 1. 24. 28. Mic. 3. 4. Jer. 11. 10. 11.

V. 2. I will rise now] or, Let me rise now. This signifieth a stirring up of grace in her, an increase of faith, love, zeal and fervency in spirit: Neh. 2. 12. 18. Lam. 2. 19. Psal. 57. 6. Thus afflictions are profitable, that we may learn God's statutes, Ps. 119. 17. go about in the City] a sign of earnest desire to obtain that which one seeketh, whether it be for evil, as in Psal. 55. 11. and 59. 7. 15. or for good, as in this place. See also Isaiah 23. 16. By the City, understand Jerusalem the holy city, where Christ dwelt amongst men, and had seated his Temple, and the practice of his ordinances, wither all Israel repaired thrice every year; which was a figure of the Church, Eccl. 10. 15. Esa. 26. 1. So amongst the people of God, in his word and ordinances, she sought Christ for the comfort of her soul. streets and broad places] or, narrow streets, and broad streets, for both words are used for streets of a city; and the latter, for such broad places as oftentimes people met together in, as in 2 Chron. 32. 6. Neh. 8. 1. 3. 16. Job •9. 7. So this n•teth an exquisite search, as in another case it is said, Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, &c Ier. 5. 1. And she therefore seeketh him in the streets because there wisdom uttereth her voice, Pro. 1. 20. 22. there▪ Christ teacheth, Luk. •3. •6. yet now in them she cannot find him.

Vers. 3. The Watchmen] or, The Keepers, Warders. These signify the officers or Ministers of the Church and City of God for the Priests and Levi•es kept of old the watch for charge of the Lord, Numb. 3. 7. 8. So in Isaiah 62. 6 it is said, I have set watchmen upon thy walls, 〈ϕ〉 Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night, &c. found me] It is not said thee sought th•m, but they found her; which phrase signifieth diligence rather on their part, and 〈ϕ〉 thing unlooked for on hers. So God is said to find his people in the wilderness, Deut. 32. 10. and afflictions do find men, as Psal. 116. 3. and 18. And this accordeth with the Watch-men's duty, to find out such as wander about the city in the nights. After she sp•aketh of the like and more, that the Watchmen found her, and sm•e her, &c. Song. 5. 7. Saw ye him] She inquireth of them for Christ, but here is no mention of anything they said to her before; nor of any answer they gave to her demand after. It is probable by this their silence, and her words following, that they told her no tidings of her beloved. Whether the fault were in them, that they were such as are spoken of in Esa. 56. 10. blind watchmen, & dumb dogs that could not bark: or in her self, that could not by the doctrine of the Ministers, apprehend & apply Christ unto her conscience and comfort.

Ver. 4. but a little] or, a very little: meaning either time, or distance of place. passed from them] so she stayed not with them, because her beloved was not among them: but continued seeking elsewhere. For neither the society of brethren, or Church, or Ministers, can comfort the afflicted conscience, unless Christ himself be apprehended by faith. but I found] or, until I found: here, after much seeking, without fainting or discouragement, when means fail, she findeth Christ to the Comfort of her conscience. Thus the promise is fulfilled, Seek and ye shall find, Mat. 7. 7. not let him go] or, not leave him; showing herein Jacob's faith when he wrestled with the Angel, Gen. 32. 26. I will not let thee go, except thou bless me. This is done, when the doctrines & promises of the Gospel are by faith retained; as it is said, Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go, Pro. 4. 13. my mothers house] Hereby any chief City, Politie, or solemn place of assembly is signified, 2 Sam. 20. 19. Isaiah 50. 1. Ier. 50. 12. Ezek. 19. 10. The mother is Jerusalem which is above, the mother of us all; which is figured by Sarah the Freewoman, and signifieth the New Testament, or covenant of Grace, Gal. 4. 24.—26. The house and chamber wherein she conceiveth us by the preaching of the Gospel, is outwardly the Church, 1 Tim. 3. 5. inwardly the heart and conscience where faith dwelleth, Rom. 10. 16. Gal. 4. 19. Thus by the Spirit, she getteth unto her self more constant assurance of her election and salvation by Christ, and by his presence through his Word & Ordinances, her state & Church polity is set up and stablished. So after in Song. 8. 2.

Vers. 5. I adjure you, &c.] She having obtained Christ again, with constant purpose of heart to retain him; reneweth her contestation and charge of sanctification of life, such as becometh the Gospel; and of patient suffering adversity for his name: that Christ be not provoked by •inne to leave his people. For, as Moses said unto Israel, If ye turn away from after him, he will yet again leave them in the wilderness; and ye shall destroy all this people, Num. 32. 15. See the annotations on Song. 2. 7. where this charge was first given; in these same words.

Ver. 6. Who is this] this woman, speaking of the Church, by the example of Israel, who went up frō the wilderness unto Canaan the promised inheritance; Num. 10. 33. &c. This seemeth to imply a new company o• state of a Church rising up in the world: or it is the speech of strangers, admiring the glory of the Spouse of Christ: who was seen before of Christ by her faith, and is now beholden of others, by her order, (the two things most respected in the Church of God, Collossians 2. 5.) in which she marcheth through the widernesse of this world, towards her heavenly rest. So when Christ came riding into Jerusalem, all the City was moved, saying: Who is this? Mat. 21. 10. cometh up] or, ascendeth, as the going into Egypt, is called a descending, or going down, Genesis 42. 2. and 46. 3. 4. so the going out from thence, is called ascending, or going up Exod. 13. 18. and 33. 3. Deut. 9. 23. The way of life, is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath, Pro. 15. 24. from the wilderness] the wilderness of the land of Egypt was a figure of the world; as the Prophet teacheth us when he mentioneth the wilderness of people's, Ezek. 20. 35. 36. So Christians are not of the world, but he hath chosen them out of the world, John. 15. 19. pillars of smoke] or, vapors of smoke, as the Holy Ghost translateth it in Greek, Act. 2. 19. from Iocl 2. 30. In Hebrew it hath the name of Palme trees, (such as the stature of the Church is likened unto, in Song. 7. 7.) which are upright and tall like pillars: and smoky vapors mounting upright, are so called by similitude. The Spouse of Christ is here likened to pillars of smoke, because her journey tendeth right upward to heaven, moved by the fire of God's spirit. And whereas in Joel 2. 30. and Act. 2. 19. blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke, are signs of God's wrath against the contemners of his word and Church; (and smoke in the Scriptures is usually a sign of anger,) here also the like may be implied. Again, as smoke is dark and hindereth from seeing, and the cloudy pillar was dark to the Egyptians, Exo. 14. 20. so is the Church and glory thereof, obscure unto the world, by reason of her afflictions in this life, which were resembled unto Abraham by a smoking oven, Gen. 15. 17. But chiefly this seemeth to denote the sanctification of the Church, who as a spiritual sacrifice, ascendeth upto God, on the Altar Christ, by the fire of the spirit, resolving the earthly matter to ashes remaining beneath, and the other unto smoke mounting up unto God. perfumed] or, becensed with Myrrh; the Church is perfumed and made of sweet odout by Christ <◇> agge of myrrh that lodgeth between <◇> b••sts, Song, 1. •3.) whose death was like myrrh, bi•ter in taste, lot of sweet smell, with this she was perfumed by knowing him, and the power of his resurrection, & the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death. Phil. 3. 10. And with the odour of this incense, she is comforted; according to the Proverb, Ointment and perfume rejoyce the heart, Prov. 27. 9. and frankincense] Myrrh was used in the holy anointing oil; and frankincense in the sweet perfume, Exod. 30. which perfume figured the mediation of Christ, the Angel which offereth much incense w<sup>ch</sup> the prayers of all saints, Rev. 8. 3. So through his death and intercession the Church hath her sweet smell: and all her garments are Myrrh, aloes and Cassia, Psal. 45. with all powder] or, above all powder (that is powders or spices) of the Merchant. That is, with all other graces that Christ hath bestowed upon her by the preaching of his Gospel. Or, those forenamed Myrrh and Frankincense which she hath from Christ, are above all other graces and gifts which can be attained to in this word. of the merchant] or, of the spice merchant, as the word is englished in 1 Kin. 10. 15. But the Gr. interpreteth it Apothecary, or Ointment maker. Such were of the Priests, under the Law, which made the ointment of the spices, 1 Chron. 9. 30. and such now, are the Ministers of the Gospel, uttering the word and graces of the Spirit.

Ver. 7. Behold his bed, which is Solomon's] an Hebrew manner of speech, explained thus in Greek, Behold the bed of Solomon. Some understand here, his bed like that which was Solomon's: others, above (or better thē) that which was Solomon's. The Spirit here calleth us to behold the guard which was about Solomon's bed, for his safety and security frō fear. Solomon in his name Kingly office, wisdom and royalty, was a figure of Christ, (who is greater then Solomon, Mat. 12. 42.) and his bed is above Solomon's. Christ's bed here seemeth to mean the hearts of the elect, (as in Song. 1. 13. the Spouse said, he should lodge betwixt her breasts) in whose hearts Christ dwelleth by faith, Ephes. 3. 17. and there taketh his repose and rest. And this habitation or ledging, was figured by the Tabernacle and Temple of Solomon, 1 Cor. 6. 19. Therefore the Chaldee paraphrast (who saw not Christ but in shadows,) applied this bed, to the Temple which Solomon built. 60. mighty ones] or, 60. valiants, strong men. Solomon's bed was guarded with sixty of the Valiants, or mighty men of Israel, that he might be safe from peril, figuring the safe guarding and keeping of the hearts and minds of God's elect, both by their own diligent watch over their hearts and ways; (as it is written, Above all observation keep thy heart: for o• of it are the o•ssues of life, Pro. 4. 23. wherein whiles they keep sound wisdom and discretion, when they lie down, they shall not be afraid; yea they lie down, and their sleep is sweet, Pro. 3. 21. 24.) as also by the safe keeping and protection of God, by whose power, the Saints are guarded (or kept) through faith unto salvation, 1. Pet. 1. 5. so that they are not afraid for the terror of the night, or for the arrow that flieth by day, Psal. 91. 1. 5. & the peace of God, which passeth •l understanding, doth keep (or guard) their hearts and minds through Christ Jesus, Phil. 4. 7. And in special, this is done by the Ministers of Christ, that watch and wake for the souls of his people, Heb. 13. 17. Act. •0. 28. 31. as his servants of old, did stand in the house of the Lord, in the nights, Psal. 134. 1. might it ones of Israel] what mighty valiants, were in Israel, appeareth by David's Worthies, which helped him in his wars: and are mentioned in 1 Chron. 11 10. 47. and 12. 1. 38. They figured such strong men as have the word of God abiding in them, and do overcome the wicked one; 1 John. 2. 14.

V. 8. hold the sword] or, holden (apprehended) of the sword, that is, girded therewith. The word of God is the sword of the Spirit, Ephes. 6. 17. which men do then hold, when they hold forth the word of life, Phil. 2. 16. and therewith resist Satan and all enemies; and by faith do overcome, 1 John. 2. 14. and 5. 4. expert] or, learned, taught, (as the Greek translateth it) being taught of God, who teacheth the hands of his people to war, 2. Sam. 22. 35. so that they fight the good fight of faith, 1 Tim. 6. 12. and by long custom are inured and skillful in the Lord's battles, and have their senses exercised to discern good and evil, Heb. 5. 14. Such in figure, were the sons of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh, 1 Chron. 5. 18. his sword on his thigh] by his side prepared, and ready to fight, as Exod. 32. 27. So unto Christ it is said, Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O mighty one, Psal. 45. 4. fear in the nights] or, dread (terror) in the nights; the dreadful evils that are secret and unseen, and every night do endanger. For thefts, murders, treasons, and other mischiefs, are often done in the night; as experience, and the scriptures testify, Job 24. 14. Ier. 6. 5. Neh. 6. 10. Dan. 5. 30. 1 Cor. 11. 23. Mat. 13. 25. Prov. 7. 9. 22. and then it is needful to watch, & stand ready armed, Neh. 4. 22. Mat. 24. 43. and 26. 31. 41. So Christians which are to wrestle against manifold temptations, and against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickednesses in high places; are willed to take unto them the whole armor of God: and to stand, having their loins girded, &c. Ephes. 6. 12. 13. 14.

V. 9. a chariot] The Hebrew Apirjon is not found but in this one place, translated in the Greek Phoreion, which is a thing to carry upon, as a charet, lictor or the like; but after the Hebrew it hath the name of fairness or gloriousness, and of fruitfulness. Some take it be a throne, some a palace, some a bed: Sol. Rashi expounds it a secret chamber for honor, to wit, such as is made for the Bride & Bridegoome. The Chaldee expoundeth this of the temple which Solomon made of the wood of Lebanon, but that temple was a figure of Christ and of his Church: to which we may better refer it. Of Christ, it may be meant, in respect of his human nature, which was all glorious, without spot of sin; which humanity he made and assumed to himself with all the glorious graces of the spirit, for the salvation of his elect, the daughters of Jerusalem. Of the Ministers of Christ, or the Church (his mystical body) it may (as I think) rather here be spoken, which by the preaching, profession and practice of the Gospel, carrieth Christ as a chariot, holding forth the word of truth and of salvation, in the midst whereof Christ sitteth, teaching, governing and triumphing. So the former similitude of the Bed, signifieth the more secret state of the Church in times of danger: this of the chariot betokeneth the more open glory of the same, by the publishing and practicing of the Gospel. wood] or, trees of Lebanō, that is of Cedar wood that grew on Lebanō, figuring, the Saints likned to Cedars in Lebanon, Ps. 92. 12. 13. of which, as of the matter, Christ maketh his Church, Rom. 1. 7. 1 Cor. 1. 2.

Ver. 10. the pillars] This if it be referred to persons, meaneth the Ministers, who by the doctrine of the Gospel susteyned the Church; as James, Cephas and John seemed to be pillars, Gal. 2. 9. If unto other things, it may be understood of the words of God, (likened unto fined silver in Psal. 12.) with whose oracles, as with pillars the chariot of the Church is sustained. So Prov. 9. Wisdom built her house, and hewed out her seven pillars. A pillar signifieth constancy and stability, Rev. 3. 12. the bottom] or, the seat on which Solomon sitteth, resteth or lieth in his chariot: so the Greek translatheth it Anacliton, that which one sitteth or lieth down upon. This bottom or seat of gold, seemeth to have reference to the golden Mercy-seat over the Ark in the Temple; on which God is said to sit, Ps. 80. 2. And it signifieth the covenant of grace, apprehended by faith: (which is much more precious thē gold that pensheth, 1 Pet. 1. 7.) and the doctrines of the Law by faith, which are better then thousands of gold and silver, Psal. •19. 72. the covering] the top and hangings, which have the name here of riding, because it seemed as it were to ride upon the charter: so the Greek calleth it Epibasis, of ascending. It seemeth to signify the outward conversation and clothing of the Church, which being purple, is not only a Princely color, denoting heavenly life, but hath special reference to the blood and death of Christ, whereof the Church is made partaker, both for justification and sanctification, Rev. 1. 5. 6. and 7. 14. Rom. 6. 3. 4. And so the hope of heavenly glory is here also applied, and protection from Christ, till we come unto his glory. the midst] or, the inmost thereof, being paved with love: or he made a pavement of love. This in respect of Christ, signifieth his inmost and servant love towards us, even giving his life for us, and having us as it were written in his heart: in respect of his people it signifieth the sense and feeling of Christ's love towards them, as also their love unto Christ, and one to another. So the seat, the covering, and the pavement, are answerable to those three graces, faith, hope and love, spoken of in 1 Cor. 13. of the daughters of Jerusalem] these are the elect of God, the children of Jerusalem (the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26.) which being loved of Christ, are graven on the palms on his hands, Isaiah 49. 16. yea carried upon his heart, as the high Priest bare the names of the children of Israel, in the breast plate of judgment, upon his heart, Ex. 28. 29. And so of his Ministers, as it is said, Ye are our Epistle written in our hearts, 1 Cor. 3. 2. & you are in our hearts, to die, and live with you, <⋄> Cor. 7. 3. Such therefore, as the love of Christ, are the pavement of his Coach.

Ver. 11. daughters of Zion] Zion was a mount in Jerusalem and as that was called the holy City, Isaiah 52. 1. so Zion is called the Lord's holy mountain. Joel 3. 17. because of his Temple there. The daughters of Zion were the women dwelling therein, or belonging thereto, Isaiah 3. 16. 17. and 4. 4. But under the name daughters, all the inhabitants men and women, are comprised; and all Towns and Cities of Israel which were daughters (in Scripture phrase) to the mother Zion: and so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, Inhabitants of the Provinces of the land of Israel. This mount Zion figured the Christian Church, Heb. 12. 22. the daughters figured Christians, either persons or Churches, Isaiah 49. 14. 22. which are therefore said to be Virgins, and to follow the Lamb Christ, who standeth upon mount Zion, Rev. 14. 1. 4. These are called forth by the preaching of the Gospel, to behold Christ (the true Solomon) with his crown. So in Psal. 149. 2. Let the sons of Zion be gladin their King: and in Mat. 21. 5. Tell ye the daughter of Zion, behold thy King cometh, &c. see K. Solomon] the faitfull are called out of their former state, to a further degree of knowledge, to see Christ (whom Solomon figured in his kingdom) crowned with glory and honor in his Church. So unto John it was said, Come and see: Rev. 6. 1. 3. 5. 7. his mother crowned him] by the mother, seemeth to be meant the congregation of the faithful, (as also the Chaldee here expoundeth it, the people of the house of Israel,) called his mother, because by the doctrine of faith, they spiritually do conceive and bring forth Christ, Gal. 4. 19. and doing the will of his Father they are esteemed and loved of him, as his sister and mother, Mat. 12. 50. The crown is a sign of Kingdom, Dominion and Victory, Psal. 21. and Christ warring against his enemies, and overcoming, hath on his head many crowns (or ••ademes) Rev. 19. 11. 12. &c. and 6. 2. And the Kingdoms of this world, after the tyranny of Antichrist, do become the Kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ, Rev. 11. 15. When Christ therefore ruleth in his Church by the scepter of his Word, and his people submit unto his Law and Governement, then let they the Crown upon his head, acknowledging his sovereignty. day of his espousalls] when he was espoused unto his Bride the Church; this is the day of the Covenant made between Christ and his people, Ezek. 16. 8. &c. as he saith to Jerusalem, I <⋄⋄> thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, whē thou we <...> st after me in the wilderness, &c. Ier. 2. 2. For when a people are by the Gospel won unto the faith, and settled in the order of Christ, they are espoused unto him as to a husband, 2 Cor. 11. 2. And this is after called the day of the gladness of his heart, because as the Bridegroom (...) th ever the Bride, so God rejoiceth over his people, Isaiah 62. 5.

CHAPTER III.

BEhold, thou art fair, my love, behold thou art fair; thine eyes (are as) doves, within thy locks: thy hair, is as a flock of goats; that appear, from mount Gilead. Thy teeth, are like a flock (of sheep) even (shorn) which come-up from the washing: which all of them bear-twins, and none among them is bereaved-of-the-young. Thy lips, are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples, are like a piece of a pomegranate, within thy locks. Thy neck, is like the tower of David, built for an armory: a thousand bucklers hang thereon; all, shields of mighty men. Thy two breasts, are like two fawnes, twins of the Roe; which feed among the Lilies. Until the day dawn, and the shadows flee-away; I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of Frankincense. Thou art all fair, my love; and there is no blemish in thee. Come with me from Lebanon, my Spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amanah, from the top of Shenir, and Hermon; from the Dennes of the Lions, from the mountains of the Leopards. Thou hast ravished-my-heart, my sister my Spouse: thou hast ravished-myheart, with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck. How fair are thy loved, my sister, my spouse? how much better are thy loves then wine, and the savor of thine ointments, then all spices. Thy lips, drop the honycomb, ô spouse: honey and milk, are under thy tongue; and the savor of thy garments, is as the savor of Lebanon. A garden locked, my sister my spouse: a spring locked, a fountain sealed. Thy plants, are an o•tyard of Pomegranates; with fruit of preciousthings: Cypres, with Spikenard. Spikenard, and Saffran, Calamus and Cinamon; with all trees of Frankincense: Myrrh and Aoes, with all the chief spices.

Fountain of gardens, well of living waters: and streaming from Lebanon. Stir-up thou North-wind, and come thou South, blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow-out: let my beloved come into his garden, and eat the fruit of his precious things.

CHAPTER III.

LOE, thou art fair, ô thou my dearest-Love, [unspec 1]

Loe thou art fair; thine eyes are as the dove,

Within thy locks: as flock of goats thy hair;

That from the mount of Gilead do appear.

Thy teeth, are like a floke of sheep that are [unspec 2]

Even shorn, which from the washing up do fare:

Which equal twins do bring-forth, everyone,

And them among bereav'd-of-young is none.
Thy lips, are like unto a scarlet lace; [unspec 3]
Also thy speech, it is with comely-grace:
The temples-of-thine-head, thy locks within
Like to a piece of a pomgranate been.
Thy neck, is like unto the tourret-hye [unspec 4]
Of David, built for an armory:
A thousand bucklers on it-hanged are;
All, shields of men that mighty-are-in-war.
Thy two breasts, are like unto two fawnes young, [unspec 5]
Twinns of the Roe: which lilies feed among.
Until day dawn, and shadows do flee hence; [unspec 6]
To mount of myrrh, and hill of frankincense
Get met will. My love, thou art all fair; [unspec 8]
And blemish none in thee. With me repair
From Lebanon, from Lebanon with me
My spouse: from top of mount-Amanah see,
From Shenir top, and Hermon; from the denns
Of Lions, from the Leopards mountains.
My sister spouse, thou hast my heart away [unspec 9]
Even ravished: thou hast my heart (say)
Even ravished with one of those thine eyes,
With one chain that about thy neck implies.
How fair, my sister spouse, are loves, of thine!
How are thy loves much better then is wine! [unspec 10]
And of thine ointments th'odorifcrous-smell,
(The odour of) all spices doth excel.
Thy lips ô spouse do drop the honey-comb: [unspec 11]

Honey and milk, are underneath thy tongue,
And savor of the garments thee upon,
Is as the savor of (mount) Lebanon.
My sister spouse, a garden close-locked. [unspec 12]
A locked spring, a fountain fast sealed.
Thy plants are of pomegranates an ortyard; [unspec 13]
With fruit of precious things: Cypres with Nard.
Nard, Saffran, Calamus, and Cinamon, [unspec 14]
Trees of Frankincense every-one:
Myrrh Aloes, with all spices that surmount.
O thou that art the gardens welling-fount, [unspec 15]
The well of waters that do lively spring:
And that from Lebanon the streams-do-bring.
Stir-up thou North, & come thou South wind blow [unspec 16]
Upon my garden that her spice may flow:
Into his garden my beloved repair,
And eat his fruit of things that precious are.

Annotations.

THou art fair] As the Church before set forth the glory of Christ, by the similitudes of the guard about Solomon's bed, his Charret and his Crown: so here Christ setteth forth the graces of his Church; not by her ornaments only (as before in chap. 1. 10.) but by the parts and features of her body. And first he commendeth in general her spiritual beauty (which she had from him, Ezek. 10. 14.) through her perfect constitution, faith and holmesse; see the notes on Song 1. 15. eyes] he mentioneth seven particulars, the eyes, hair, teeth, lips, temples, neck, and breasts: that as seven is often the number of perfection, (Christ himself being likened to a Lamb with seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits of God, Revel. 5. 6.) so by these, the manifold graces bestowed on the Church might be signified; that in everything she is enriched by him, and cometh behind in no gift: as 1 Cor. 1. 5. 7. as doves] the word as, is after supplied, in Song 5. 12. and it meaneth, as doves eyes, that is, fair, full, clear, chaste; to see by faith him who is invisible, Hebr. 11. 27. and having the eyes of her understanding enlightened, to know what is the hope of his calling, Eph. 1. 18. so that she lifteth not up her eyes unto idols, Ezek. 18, 6. but to the Holy One of Israel, Esa. 17. 7. and her eyes observe his ways, Prov. 23. 26. See the notes on Song 1. 15. and 7. 4. where her eyes are like pools. within thy locks] or, from within (or through) thy locks; which are named in the original of binding or restraining; because a woman's locks are modestly and seemly tied up and covered: so that it was a sign of sorrow, misery, and captivity, to have such locks uncovered, Esa. 47. 2. But the Spouse of Christ freed by him from Satan's bondage, is decently dressed and covered in sign of her subjection (as 1 Cor. 11.) and of her chaste affection to him. So after in v. 3. and Song 6. 7. hair] this is the ornament and covering of the head, proceeding from moisture and strength of nature: likened here to the hair of a flock of goats, fed in fat pasture, as on mount Gilead; whose hair is long, rank and smooth: figuring the thoughts, purposes, devices, &c. which are ordered and composed aright, according unto God (as thoughts on the bed, and visions of the head are mentioned in Dan. 4. 5 and 7. 15. Job 4. 13.) Or, if we apply this unto persons, by hair may be meant the multitude of believers, (as by the hair, the people of Israel was signified, Ezek. 5. 1. 2. 12.) and by the eyes, the Guides of the Church, as in Numb. 10. 31 thou mayest be to us instead of eyes. And thus the Chaldee Paraphrast here, by the eyes, understandeth the Princes and Wise men of Israel; and by the hair the other people of the land. Other Hebrews expound the eyes to mean the Prophets, called Seers, (1 Sam. 9. 9.) and the hair, the Nazarites, which were to let their hair grow, Num. 6. 5. that appear] or, that appear smooth, that glisten; as the hair of fat cattle is smooth and shining. The Hebrew word Galash is not used but in this place, and again (in like sense) in Song 6. 4. The Greek here translateth it, are revealed (or appear;) but there, do come-up. Gilead] a mountain which bare good pasture for cattle; as appeareth by Num. 32. 1. Jer. 22. 6. and 50. 19.

Vers. 2. of (sheep) even shorn] or, (of sheep) made even, or equal, of the same size. The word sheep (or ewes) is after expressed in Song 6. 6. and is to be understood here. This is the first praise of the teeth of the Church, that they are cut of equal height; not one longer than another, which would both be unseemly, and an hindrance to the well eating and chewing of her spiritual food. from the washing] the second praise of her teeth, that they are white and clean, as washed sheep: which seemeth to respect (besides comeliness) the purity of the spiritual meat wherewith she is fed; as it is a part of Judah's blessing, that his teeth should be white with milk, Gen. 49. 12. bear twins] as fruitful ewes bring forth twins of equal bigness, so the teeth are set in double ranks, one answerable to another: which is the third property for which they are praised. bereaved of the young] or, robbed of the young, by miscarrying, or any other accident. Barren is that which beareth not, Esa. 54. 1. but the word here used, signifieth either miscarrying in the birth, or loss of that which is brought forth, by robbery, death, or the like: so this denoteth the steadfastness of every tooth in his place, after it is brought forth, against the inconveniences forementioned. These teeth of the Church which chiefly serve to eat with, may here mean her courage and strength against her enemies, as is prophesied of Israel, he shall eat up the Nations his enemies, Num. 24. 8. or rather, her judging, discerning, esteeming and applying of the word of God and seals of his Covenant, for the comfort and nourishing of her soul; so chewing the cudde, and feeding by faith upon the promises of God; which are often made under the similitude of eating and drinking; as in Psal. 22. 26. Prov. 9. 5. Esa. 65. 13. John. 6. 41. 50. 51. Some referring this to persons, understand by the teeth the Ministers of the word, that break and as it were chew the bread of life unto and for the people. So the Chaldee expoundeth these teeth, to be the Priests and Levites, that did offer and eat the sacrifices in Israel.

Vers. 3. a thread] or, a lace, a line, (aribband) of scarlet: that is, thin in substance, red of color, as scarlet double-died: which two things are the grace of the lips. Here by the lips of the Church are commended, her doctrines, reproofs, prayers, praises, &c. For the lips are the instruments wherewith words are uttered, whether in prayer, as Zeph. 3. 9. Psal. 21. 2, or praise and thanks, as Psal. 66. 3. Heb. 13. 15. or vows, as Psal. 66. 13. 14. or doctrine, Mal▪ 2. 6. 7. Psal. 119. 13. or pleading, as Job 13. 6. or comfort, as Job 16. 5. or any other speech. All these she uttereth not with swelling words of vanity, or taught by human wisdom; but by the Spirit of God, (who hath poured grace into her lips,) and by faith in the blood of Christ, wherein her doctrines, prayers, comforts are all died and coloured, 1 Cor. 2. 4. 12. 13. and 1. 17. 18. Or these things applied to persons, signify the administers of the word and prayer: as the Chaldee paraphrast applieth it to the high Priest in Israel, and his prayers for the reconciliation of the Church on Atonement day, Levite. 16. Other of the Jews expound it of the singers in Israel. comely] gracious, and to be desired: see the notes on Song 1. 5. So our praises of God, are said to be pleasant, and comely; Psal. 147. 1. and we are commanded that our speech be always with grace, Colos. 4. 6. thy temples] Hebr. thy temple, that is, each of the temples of thine head: Here by the cheeks also may be meant (as the Greek version here hath it) which are adjoined to the temples, whose red color (like a piece of pomegranate when it is cut) are a part of the beauty of the face, and a sign of modesty and shamefastness. So here in the Church it betokeneth her reverend and modest countenance; as fearing and taking heed lest she should speak or do amiss; or blushing if she hath failed. Some do explain this to signify the Governors of the Church, and the similitude of the pomegranate to denote the fruit and benefit that cometh by such. The Chaldee also expoundeth it of the King in Israel, and the lock (after mentioned) of the Governors under him.

Vers. 4. like the tower of David] whereof mention is made in Nehem. 3. 19. 25. or the fort of Zion, which David took, and built, 2 Sam. 5. 7. 9. Hereby is meant that her neck was upright, high and strong: for the neck is named in Hebrew Tsawaar, of firmness and strength; a Tower (Migdal) is a building great and high, Esa. 2. 15. This signifieth the magnanimity, and courage, the sure hope, the bold and comfortable carriage of the Church, whiles she being by faith united unto Christ her head, doth no longer bow down her neck to bear the yoke of her enemies, to serve Satan and sin anymore, or to be a servant unto men, Rom. 6. 17. 18. 1 Cor. 7. 23. but by the weapons of her warfare, (which are not carnal but mighty for God, 2 Cor. 10. 4.) she standeth, and withstandeth in the evil day, taking the shield of saith, the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, and other like armor, wherewith she defendeth her self, and discomfiteth all her enemies, Ephes. 6. 11.—17. so that her neck is like the horses, clothed with thunder (and terror) Job 39. 19. The contrary state of the Church was figured by the captivity of Babylon, when her neck was under persecution, and her transgressions (as ayoke) were wreathed, and come-up upon her neck; Lam. 5. 5. and 1. 14. See after, in Song 7. 4. The Hebrews in their Chaldee Paraphrase, expound this neck to mean the Chief of the Session (or great Council) in Israel. for an armory] to hang swords on, and other like weapons of war. The Hebrew word Talpijoth (used only in this place) is by the Greek left uninterpreted Thalpioth:

and seemeth to be derived of Thalah to hang, and pijoth two-edged swords; meaning all instruments to offend or wound the enemy: as the bucklers and shields after mentioned, were to defend her self. bucklers hang] or, are hanged: a buckler hath the name in the original of protection or defense: the word following, shields, (which seemeth to be borrowed from the Hebrew name Shiltei) hath the signification of power or dominion, as being used of great and mighty men. Such bucklers and shields of David, were sometime kept in the house of God, 2 Chro. 23. 9. and as the taking away of shields from the enemy, was a sign of victory, 2 Sam. 8. 7. so the hanging of them up on walls, was a sign of glory, Ezek. 27. 11. of mighty men] This hath reference to David's worthies or mighty men, who held strongly with him in his kingdom, and with all Israel, to make him King, whose names and heroical deeds are recorded in 1 Chro. 11. 10. 47. Their shields hanged up in David's tower for monuments, are here taken for figures and examples of all the mighty men of God, which by the shield of faith (in God and Christ the shield of his people) have done many great and mighty works; as the Apopostle bringeth a cloud of witnesses, in Hebr. 11. with all which the Spouse of Christ is adorned, whiles with courage & comfort she followeth the footsteps of their faith and works; and abideth constant, sustained by the promises of God.

Vers. 5. Thy two breasts] These are both for ornament and for use, as experience in nature, and the scriptures show: for God saith to his church, thou art come to excellent ornaments; thy breasts are fashioned, &c. Ezek. 16. 7. and showeth the use of them, that her children and lovers may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, &c. Esa. 66. 11. So here the breasts of Christ's spouse, are likened to Roes for pleasantness, to Fawnes, or young Roes for smallness, to twins for equalizing; & to Roes feeding among Lilies, as in fat and sweet pasture. Hereby is signified how the Church is fruitful in good works, and comfortable words, and communication of all God's blessings: so that by her loving affection, wholesome doctrines, sweet consolations, and gracious beneficence; her children are delighted; and sucking the sincere milk of the word, do grow thereby: Esa. 66. 11. 1 Pet. 2. 2. feed among the Lilies] in fat, sweet, and wholesome pasture. Hereby is signified, that the breasts of the Church, (that is, her doctrines, exhortations and consolations wherewith she nourisheth her children,) are fed and filled not with human traditions, but with the doctrines of Christ; whose lips are likened unto Lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh; Song 5. 13. So when the soul of the Priests, is satiate with fatness; the Lord's people are satisfied with goodness; as he promised, Ier. 31. 14.

Vers. 6. Until the day dawn] or blow: see before on chap. 2. 17. shadows] that is, darkenesses; meaning ignorances, infirmities, troubles, miseries, &c. as chap. 2. 17. I will get me] or, I will go for myself. It is not evident, whether these be the words of Christ, withdrawing himself for a time, or of his spouse, betaking her self to the mountain. Comparing this place with the former, chap. 2. 17. I understand it of the latter: that as the Spouse there requested, speedy help of Christ in the time of her sorrow; so here, in like temptation, she fleeth for refuge to the mount of myrrh, and hill of frankincense, where she hopeth for comfort. The speech hath reference to mount Morijah, whereon the Temple was built: 2 Chron. 3. 1. in which Temple was the holy anointing oil made of pure Myrrh and other chief spices; as also the incense made of pure frankincense and other sweet spices; which were to anoint and sanctify the holy things and persons; and to burn upon the golden Altar daily; Exod. 30. 23. 34. 1 Chro. 9. 29.

30. On which mount, Abraham long before, did offer his son Isaac for a sacrifice; and upon experience of God's grace and providence, this proverb was used, In the mountain of-Jehovah, it shall be seen: Gen. 22 2.—14. To the kingdom of Christ, figured by this mountain, people's should flow; for God's Law and word was to proceed from it, Mich. 4. 1. 2. The church therefore in the darkness of her temptations, fleeth to the Lord's mountain by faith in Christ, meditation in his promises, consolation by his graces, prayer, reading of the scriptures, and other like spiritual exercises, confirming by faith and hope, and waiting with patience, till the day should dawn, and the day star arise in her heart, as the Apostle speaketh, 2 Pet. 1. 19. So Christ himself, in the days of his flesh, used to go up into mountains to pray, and spent the whole night in prayer to God, Luk. 6. 12. and 9. 28. and preached the Gospel in such places, Mat. 5. 1. 2. &c.

Vers. 7. all fair] The Spouse was called fair, before in verse 1. and chap. 1. 15. now Christ saith, she is all fair; whereby he comforteth her against her fears, and infirmities, that in him she hath perfect beauty; for he loved her, and gave himself for her, that he might sanctify and cleanse her, with the washing of water by the word; that he might present her to himself glorious, a Church not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that she should be holy and without blemish; Eph. 5. 25. 26. 27. no blemish] or nospot, no fault, no blame-worthy thing; called in Hebrew Mum, and thereof in Greek, Momos, which meaneth first any blemish in the body, as blind, lame, or deformed in any limme or part, Lev. 21. 18. 21. Deut. 15. 21. and 17. 1. so is applied to blemishes, in the soul, that is, to sins and vices, from which Christ purgeth his people, that being reconciled unto God, in the body of his flesh, through faith, he might present them holy, and without blemish, and unreprouable in his sight; Colos. 1. 21. 22. Thus the 144. thousand that stand with the Lamb on mount Zion, &c. are said to be without blemish before the throne of God, Rev. 14. 1.—5.

Vers. 8. Come with me] or, Thou shalt come with me. Here Christ (having cleansed his Spouse by his death) calleth her to follow him, from the mountains of wild beasts, from the false Churches and societies of wicked people; that forsaking all corruption in her self and others, she may walk with him in newness and holiness of life, beholding and acknowledging God's mercy in her deliverance; Rom. 6. 6. 13. 22. 1 Pet. 2. 21.—24. and 4. 1. 2 3. 2 Pet. 1. 3. 4. Lebanon] in Gr. Libanus, a mountain in the north part of the land of Canaan, possessed of old by the Evites, Judge. 3. 3. afterward by the Israelites: on it grew many Cedar trees Song 3. 9. but in comparison with other places it was a forest or wilderness, Esa. 29. 17. and so the haunt of wild beasts, 2 King. 14. 9. which is respected here, as the end of the verse manifesteth. Sometime in respect of the largeness of the mount, and goodly trees thereon, it is used to signify glorious things: as in Song 5. 15. and 3. 9. Deut. 3. 25. my spouse] or, my bride; named in Hebrew Callah; (of the perfection of her attire, ornaments and beauty; Ier. 2. 32.) in Greek Nymphée, which name the Holy Ghost giveth to the Church, calling her the Nymphée, (or Bride,) the Lambs wife; who is prepared as a Bride adorned for her husband: Revelat. 21. 9. 2. Christ before had called her his Love or Friend; now when she is all fair, and without blemish, he calleth her Spouse; and in verse 9. both Sister and Spouse. look] or, thou shalt look, shalt see, mark and observe. top of Amanah] or, head of Amanah, which was a mountain in Syria, the valley and river in it was also called Amanah, and Abanah, in 2 King. 5. 12. and so the Chaldee here expoundeth it, the heads that is, the Princes of the people that dwell by the river of Amanah, shall offer a gift unto thee. Humane writers testify that Amanus was a mountain forcibly possessed by many tyrants, &c. Strabo l. 14. So the Holy Ghost here calleth these places dens of Lions, and mountains of Leopards. Shenir and Hermon] This Hermon was a goodly mountain possessed of old by Ogh King of Bashan, taken from him by the Israelites: and the Amorites called it Shenir, the Sidonians Shirion, as Moses telleth in Deut. 3. 9. dens of Lions] This openeth the former, and showeth the danger wherein Christ's spouse was, dwelling as among Lions and Leopards, that is among salvage, beastly and idolatrous people's, (as David complaineth, my soul is among Lions, Psal. 57. 4.) from which estate Christ calleth and delivereth his chosen; who being delivered do see and observe the perils wherein they were, and safe estate whereinto the Lord had brought them: So the Apostle writing to the converted Gentiles saith; Such were some of you; but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God: 1 Cor. 6. 9. 10. 11.

Vers. 9. hast ravished mine-heart] or hast-taken-away; or hast pierced (hast wounded) my heart: the original is but one word, and used only in this place twice; and meaneth the ravishing or drawing of the heart with love and delight. The Chaldee expoundeth it, Thy love is fixed in the table of mine heart. Christ speaketh here to his spouse, as a man overcome with love: as it is said, With the joy of the Bridegroom over the Bride; thy God will rejoice over thee: Esa. 62. 5. my sister] so he calleth her out of his love, in respect of her adoption and regeneration (being borne of God) and of her sanctifications; as it is written, Both he that sanctifieth, and they that are sanctified, are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren: Hebr. 2. 11. And, whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven: the same is my brother and sister, and mother, Matth. 12. 50. one of thine eyes] or, one look from thine eyes; which eyes were in verse 1. likened to doves, simple, chaste, pure: & mean here her faith, and the fruits thereof, as prayer, &c. wherewith Christ is greatly affected and delighted. chain of thy neck] Heb. of thy necks; that is, which hangeth on both sides of thy neck. The eye is a natural part of the body; the chain is an adjoynt and ornament of the body; figuring God's Laws and Ordinances, Pro. 10. 9. as also the graces of his spirit in his people. See the notes on chap. 1. 10.

Vers. 10. How fair] or, how beautiful; and consequently, how gracious, how lovely and delightful are thy loves! By loves are meant not only the affections, but the actions also and fruits of love, which the Church manifesteth towards Christ; by her work of faith, and labor of love and patience of hope; and by keeping his commandments, 1 Thes. 1. 3. 1 John. 5. 3. and these are fair and goodly in the eyes of Christ, causing him to covet her beauty, Psal. 45. 11. 12. how much better] or, how good are thy loves, better than wine: the meaning of this speech is opened in Song 1. 2. there the Church preferreth Christ's love above wine; here, he doth the like of her loves towards him: signifying how pleasant and acceptable the fruits of his own graces are in his Church; so that the Lord her God delighteth in her, and rejoiceth over her, Esa. 62. 4. 5. savor of thine ointments] that is, of the graces of the Spirit wherewith thou art anointed: see the annotations on chap. 1. 3. where the Church extolleth the savor of Christ's ointments, as here he doth hers. sp••es] sweet odors, or sweet smelling spices: for o• such the holy anointing oil was made, Exod. 30. 23. and with such sometime women were purified, Esth. 2. 12. and the dead imbalmed, 2 Chro. 16. 14. they were a present for a King, 2 Chro. 9. 1. 9.

Vers. 11. drop the honey comb] that is, utter sweet words: hereby the doctrines and prayers of the Church are commended, as sweet and pleasant to the hearers, like honey to the taste. By this similitude the words of God are praised in Psal. 119. 10. and 119. 103. As grace is poured into the lips of Christ, Ps. 45. 2. so by communication of his grace, the speech of his people is with grace, Colos. 4. 6. honey and milk under thy tongue] honey and milk both of them mean the sweet, easy, comfortable and nourishing words of faith, love, holiness, &c. the sincere milk of the word, whereby the babes in Christ may grow, 1 Pet. 2. 2. And plenty of grace is promised in Emmanuels days, under the simile of abundance of milk, so that everyone should eat butter and honey, Esa. 7. 22. By under the tongue, seemeth to be meant the secret and inward parts, as the heart and mind: (as David exalted God under his tongue, Psal. 66. 17.) to show her sincerity, and difference hereby from the lewd woman, whose lips also drop the honey comb, but her end is bitter as wormwood, Prov. 5. 3. 4. For some, by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple, Rom. 16. 18. the words of her mouth are smoother then butter, but war is in their heart, Psal. 55. 21. and adders poison is under their lips, Psalm 140. 3. the savor] or the smell, (the odour) of thy garments: these are the beautiful garments o• S•on, Esa. 52. 1. the fine linen, clean and bright, the righteousness of the Saints, Revel. 19. 8. who have put on the Lord Jesus Christ, Rom. 13. 14. Gal. 3. 27. and in their faith, doctrine, conversation and administration are holy, just and righteous, and clothed with salvation, Psal. 132. 9. 16. so that the savor, the fame and good report hereof is sweet, like the smell of Lebanon, where pleasant and odoriferous trees, herbs and spices grew in abundance, God maketh manifest the savor of his knowledge by them in every place; for they are unto God a sweet savor in Christ, 2 Cor. 2. 14. 15. Thus God promised unto Israel, that smell should be as Lebanon, through the dew of his grace, Hos. 14 5. 6. 7. as when he first received the blessing, the smell of his garments was such, that his father compared the smell of his son, to the smell of a field, which the Lord had blessed, Gen. 27. 27.

Vers. 12. A garden] understand from the verses before and after, Thou art a garden; which is (by signification) a place closed and fenced; and is sown and planted with herbs and trees, for use and pleasure. So in Esa. 5. the Church of Israel is likened to a fenced Vineyard. locked] or, barred: that is, close shut; as the Greek translateth it shut: which is for safety and defense, that no evil should come thereon, no enemies should enter. For walls, doors, locks, bars, &c. are means to preserve, secure and safe: so in figure, when the walls of Jerusalem were repaired, they were fortified with doors, locks, and bars, Nehem. 3. 3. 13. But when such fences are wanting, or broken down; all things lie open to the spoil, Esa. 5. 5. Psal. 80. 12. Hereby is signified on God's part, the protection of his Church, for he is unto Jerusalem a wall of fire round about, Zach. 2. 5. & strengtheneth the bars of her gates, Psal. 147. 13. he keepeth his Vineyard, and watereth it every moment, lest any hurt-it, he keepeth it night and day, Esa. 27. 3. Again, on the Churches part it signifieth her care to keep her self and all her plants and fruits holy, chaste and pure unto her beloved only; opening the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truths may enter in, Esa. 26. 2. but keeping watch lest the enemies should invade, lest the unclean, or anything that defileth should enter thereinto, 2 Chro. 23. 19. Revel. 21. 27. As on the contrary secure and careless people are said to dwell without walls, bars or gates; Ezek. 38. 11. Ier. 49. 31. a spring] to weet, a water-spring, in Hebrew Gal, so named of the rolling and waving of the waters that flow therefrom. This is to signify that the garden of Christ's Church, is watered with his graces, and so made fruitful, and joyful; Ezek. 31. 4. 5. John. 7. 38. 39. Esa. 44. 3. 4. as it is promised, the Lord will satisfy thy soul in droughts, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not, Esa. 58. 11. locked] or, barred, that is, kept close from enemies, that the waters of grace may be thine only. This signifieth (as before) God's special favor and protection for his Church; and her care to keep her self and hers, pure to the Lord. Wherefore Solomon to teach spiritual chastity, useth this parable; Drink water out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well. Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets. Let them be only thine own: and not strangers with thee. Let thy fountain be blessed, and rejoice with the wife of thy youth, &c. Pro. 5. 15.—18. sealed] Hereby is figured the confirmation of grace to Christ's people, as sealing meaneth in Ier. 32. 20. John. 3. 33. 2 Cor 1. 22. Ephes. 1. 13. and the deserving of this grace to them only, as that which is sealed is not communicated with others, nor known unto them, Esa. 29. 11. Dan. 12. 4. 9. and so it is said, Bind up the testimony, seal the Law, among my disciples, Esa. 8. 16.

Vers. 13. Thy plants] or, thy shoots: the Hebrew and Greek words have both of them the name of sending forth, that is of shooting or growing, and so of bringing forth leaves, flowers and fruits. Hereby the members of the Church are meant, planted and made fruitful by Christ: and here the garden of the Church, is like the garden in Eden: out of which ground, the Lord God made to grow every tree pleasant to sight, and good for food; Genes. 2. 8. 9. And this is the second blessing of the Church, that it is replenished with wholesome, sweet and precious plants. an ortyard] or, a paradise, so called of the Hebrew Pardes, and Greek Paradoisos: a place set with trees, as appeareth by Eccles. 2. 5. and is therefore sometime used for a Park, or Forest, Nehem. 2. 8. pomegranates] or, pomegranattrees, granate-apples, so named because they are full of granes or kernels: hereupon the Chaldee paraphraseth, The young men are filled with thy precepts, (or as Rashi explaineth it, full of good works) like pomegranates. precious-things] or, dainties, pleasant-things: with store of these, the land of Joseph was blessed, Deut. 33. 13.—16. The Holy Ghost seemeth to have respect unto this name, in Revel. 18. 14. fruits (or apples, in Greek, opora) that thy soul lusted after. Cypres] Cypres-clusters, (for the word is of the plural number) or Camphire fruits: see the notes on Song 1. 14. Spike-nard] this is also in the form plural Spikenards, or Nards; which is framed of the Hebrew name Nerd, whence the Greek Nardos, and Latin Nardus is also borrowed. And it is here used plurally (whereas in the next verse it is singular,) either to imply all sorts of Nard, (for there be divers kinds) or, the cares and leaves of Nard, both which are in use for sweet smell. The herb which we call Lavender, is named Pseudo-nard, as being a base kind of Nard, but nothing so sweet or precious as the true: see the notes on Song 1. 12.

Vers. 14. Saffron] in Hebrew Carcom: we call it Saffran, of the Arabic Tsaphran (or Zafran) so named of the yellow color: it is not mentioned in Scripture, but in this one place. Calamus] or, sweet Cane, or sweet Reed: this with the Cinamon following, were used in the composition of the holy anointing oil, Exod. 30. 23. see the Annotations there. Frankincense] this was used in the holy incense; as the Myrrh (following) was in the anointing oil; see Exod. 30 34. 23. Aloes] or, Lign-aloes: it was used also to perfume with, for the sweet smell thereof: see Numb. 24. 6.

Psal. 45. 9. Prov. 7. 17. chiese spices] or, heads of spices: see Exod. 30. 23. By these fruits are signified the manifold graces in Christians, which are precious and sweet before God and all good people: such are the fruits of the Spirit, mentioned in Gal. 5 22. 23. Contrary to these, are the roots of bitterness, that bear gall and wormwood; which are diligently to be looked unto, lest they spring up, and so trouble & defile the garden of the Church: Heb. 12. 15. Deut. 29. 18.

Vers. 15. Fountain of the gardens] This seemeth to be the speech of the Spouse unto Christ, O thou the Fountain, &c. whereby she acknowledgeth a third blessing to make her fruitful, abundance of water, and that all the former graces which he so praised her for, do proceed from him who is the fountain that watereth all the gardens (his Churches,) as in Ier. 2. 13. God calleth himself the fountain of living waters. From the fountain, rivers do run, (as in Psal. 104. 10.) which water the gardens and plants in them, so making them green and fruitful, as in Ezek. 31. 4. 5. The waters made him great; the deep set him up on high, with her rivers running about his plants, &c. But when the desolation of the Church is threatened, it is likened to a garden that hath no water, Esa 1. 30. Here Christ by his doctrine and spiritual graces, refresheth his Churches, and all their plants, satisfieth their soul in drought, and maketh fat their bones; that their soul is like a watered garden, and they shall not sorrow anymore at all. Ier. 31. 12. Esa. 58. 11. living waters] that is, springing and running waters, which dry not up with heat, nor putrefy: but are always wholesome, and give life. So Christ giveth living water, of which whosoever drinketh at shall be in him a well of water, springing up into everlasting life; John. 4. 10. 14. and saith, He that believeth on me, &c. out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water, speaking of the Spirit, which they that believe on him, should receive, John. 7. 38. 39. streaming] running, flowing: or, streams from Lebanon. It hath reference to the streams of Jordan, which river began at the foot of mount Lebanon, and ran along through the holy land, watering the same. This similitude is amplified in Ezek. 47. 6.—10. where waters issuing out of the Sanctuary (which was built of the Cedars of Lebanon) ran along Galilee, and to the plain, and into the sea, &c. and every living thing that moveth whithersoever the rivers come, shall live &c. and everything shall live, whither the river cometh. So in Revel. 22. 1. out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb (Christ,) a pure river of water of life proceedeth.

Vers. 16. Stir-up] or, Raise up (thyself) thou North wind. A fourth blessing upon the garden of Christ's Church, that it is blown upon by the winds, to refresh it, to cleanse the air of it, and to make it more fruitful. And though the North and South winds be of contrary qualities, as cold and hot, moist and dry, yet are they both fitting for her estate, which sometime needeth sharp reproof, and sometime calm and gentle consolation. But he mentioneth not the East wind; because that is often used in sign of wrath, to blast, burn and destroy the fruits; as Ezek. 17. 10. and 19. 12. Hos. 13. 15. Gen. 41. 6. blow upon my garden] The garden being Christ's (as the words following manifest) the Lord, who bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures; Psal. 135. 7. speaketh unto it to blow: signifying hereby the ministration of his word and spirit bestowed on his people for their further good, that they have not only the waters of holy Scripture, but the lively graces also of God's Spirit to quicken them. So in Ezek. 37. 9. the Prophet was willed to prophesy unto the wind, and say thereunto, Come from the four winds, O wind, and blow upon these slain, that they may live. And the efficacy of the Spirit of God is resembled by the wind, in John. 3. 8. and doctrines are winds, in Ephes. 4. 14. and the restraint of God's graces by wholesome doctrine, is signified by four Angels holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree, Rev. 7. 1. spices thereof may flow] that is, the fruits may ripen, and be abundant: for by the gracious gifts of the Spirit, breathing upon the Church, corruption is purged away, the souls are refreshed, quickened, comforted, and all graces do increase, 1 Cor. 2. come into his garden and eat] The faithful acknowledging both themselves and theirs to be Christ's, do desire that he would come and accept the fruits and graces of his own Spirit; with which and for which he is to be honored. So the offerings unto God, are called his bread; Num. 28. 2. the good works of Christians, are called fruits, John. 15. his acceptance of those fruits, and communication of further grace, is signified by mutual supping together, Rev. 3. 20. and thus the Lord rejoiceth in his works, Psal. 104. 31. fruit of his precious things] that is, the fruit of his precious graces; or, his precious fruits: so that now the Church is not like Israel of old, an empty vine, which brought forth fruit unto himself, Hos. 10. 1. or bare wild grapes, even grapes of gall, and bitter clusters, Esa. 5. 2. Deut. 32. 32. but is filled with the fruits of righteousness, Phil. 1. 11. and walketh worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, Col. 1. 10. and hath her fruit unto holiness, and the end, everlasting life: Rom 6. 22. The Chaldee paraphrast applieth this to the service of God under the Law, saying; Let the beloved God come into the house of the Sanctuary, and accept with favor the oblations of his people.

CHAPTER V.

I Am come to my garden, my sister my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice, I have eaten my honey-comb with my honey: I have drunk my wine, with my milk: eat O friends, drink, and drink-abundantly O beloved.

I sleep, and my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh: Open to me my sister, my love, my dove, my perfect-one: for my head is filled with dew; my locks with the drops of the night.

I have put-off my coat, how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

My beloved put in his hand by the hole (of the door;) and my bowels made a troubled-noise for him. I rose-up, to open to my beloved: and my hands dropped myrrh, and my fingers passing myrrh, upon the handles of the lock. I opened to my beloved, and my beloved had withdrawn himself, was passed away; my soul went-for•h because of his speech, I sought him, and I found him not; I called him, and he answered me not. The Watchmen that went about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me: the watchmen of the walls took my veil from on me. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem: if ye find my beloved, what shall ye tell him? that I am sick of love.

What is thy beloved more then another beloved, O thou fairest among women? What is thy beloved more then another beloved, that thou dost so adjure us?

My beloved is white and ruddie; having-the-banner, above ten-thousand. His head, the fine-gold, the solid-gold: his locks curled, black as a Raven. His eyes as doves, by the streams of water: washing in milk, sitting in fullness. His cheeks, as a bed of spice, flowers of sweet-odors: his lips Lilies; dropping passing myrrh. His hands rings of gold, filled with the Chrysolite; his bowels, bright yvorie, overlaid with Sapphires. His legs pillars of marble, founded upon sockets of solid-gold: his countenance as Lebanon, choice as the Cedars. His palate, sweetness; and he is altogether desires: This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CHAPTER V.

My sister O my Spouse, I am entered [unspec 1]
Into my garden: I have gathered
My Myrrh together with my spices-sweet,
My honey-comb did with my honey eat,
I drunk my wine, with my milk: friends eat ye,
Drink, O beloved, and drink-plenteously.
I am asleep, and yet my heart waketh: [unspec 2]
The voice of my Beloved that knocketh:
Open thou unto me my sister deer,
My love, my dove, my perfect-one sincere:
For my head is with dew replenished,
My locks, with drops that from the night proceed.
I dofft my coat, how shall it on again? [unspec 3]
I washed my feet, how shall I them distaine?
Put in his hand by'th hole did my beloved: [unspec 4]
And for him were my bowels troublous-moved.
To open to my Loved, I rose-up: [unspec 5]
And my hands myrrh, my fingers eke did drop
Passing-sweet myrrh, the lock handles upon.
Open I did to my beloved-one, [unspec 6]
And my beloved had himself drawn-back,
Was past: my soul went-forth for that he spake:
I did him seek, and yet I found him not,

I called him, yet I no answer-got.

The Watchmen that did go the city round, [unspec 7]

Did find me; they did smite me, did me wound:

The keepers that upon the walls did watch,

They from on me my veil away did catch.

O ye the daughters of Jerusalem,

I you adjuring charge if ye find him [unspec 8]

That my Beloved is, what shall ye say

To him? that I for love languish away.

What is thy Lief more then another Lief,

O thou that hast mong women beauty chief? [unspec 9]

Thy Lief then other Liefs what is he more,

That thou adjuring chargest us so sore?

My well-beloved white and red appears; [unspec 10]

Above ten-thousand he the banner bears.

His head, is fine gold solid-gold-of-Fess: [unspec 11]

His locks are curl'd, black as a Raven is.

His eyes, as doves, the streams of water by: [unspec 12]

Washing in milk, sitting in plenity.

His cheeks, as bed of spice flowers sweetly-smelling. [unspec 14]

His lips, like Lilies, passing myrrh distilling.

His hands gold rings, filled with the Chrysolite:

His bowels yv'rie bright with Sapphires dight.

His legs like Marble pillars, that have hold, [unspec 15]

Firmly on sockets of fine-solid gold,

His sight as Lebanon, choice as Ceders.

His palate, sweets; and he is all desires: [unspec 16]

This is my well-beloved and this same

My friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

Annotations.

I Am come] or, I have come: but the time passed, is often used for the present. Here Christ answereth to the prayer of the Spouse, being ready to fulfill the desire of them that fear him, Psal. 145. 19 God is said to Come unto men, when he manifesteth his presence by his works, either of mercy or judgment, Exod. 3. 7. 8. Gen. 11. 5. 7. Here he cometh to the garden of his Church with grace, acceptance, comfort and blessing, to keep a spiritual banquet there: as he promised, In every place where I shall make the memorial of my name, I will come unto thee, and I will bless thee, Exod. 20. 24. My sister, spouse] see the notes, on chap. 1. 4. verse. 8. 9. Myrrh with my spice] that is, with my other spices or aromatical-fruits: for myrrh was one of the chief spices, used in composition of sweet ointments, Exod. 30. 23. with such ointments they anointed them and their friends at feasts, see the annotations on ch. 1. 3. I have eaten] or, I do eat, for the words following show this to be spoken as at a banquet. my honey-comb] as the word and doctrine of Christ is likened to honey and the honey comb, to wine and milk, Psalm 19. 11. and 119. 103. Esa. 55. 1. 1 Pet. 2. 2. because it is sweet, comfortable and wholesome to nourish the soul, as these things do the body: so here the manifold fruits and graces which that word, by the Spirit, bringeth forth in Christians, are likened also to such things: whereof Christ is said to eat, that is, graciously to accept, and delight in them. On the contrary, the evil fruits of sinners, are likened to grapes of gall, and their wine, to the poison of dragons, Deuteronomy 32. 32. 33. eat O friends,] or, O neighbors. Christ speaketh, as at a feast, cheering up his friends, as partakers with him of his graces, and comforts aforesaid. They that do his commandments, are his friends, John. 15. 14. (as Abraham is called the friend of God, Esa. 41. 8. I am. 2. 23.) and these desire and delight to be partakers of the fruits of the saints, and rejoice in their obedience; Phil. 1. 9. 10. 11. and 41. 17. 18. • John. v. 4. 3 John. v. 3. 4. The Angels also are made joyful, at the conversion, sanctity and salvation of sinners by Christ, Luk. 15. 7. 10. and 2. 13. 14. The Chaldee expoundeth this of God's acceptance of his churches service under the Law, thus: The holy and blessed (God) said to his people the house of Israel: I am come to the house of my sanctuary, which thou buildest for me, my sister O congregation of Israel, which art likened to an honest spouse, and have caused my divine presence to dwell in the midst of thee: I accept thy incense of spices, which thou madest for my name I have sent fire from heaven, and it hath eaten the Burnt-offerings, and sacrifice of Peace-offerings: accepted with favor before me, is the drink-offering of red wine and of white wine which the Priests have poured out upon mine Altar. Now come ye Priests that love my precepts, eat that which is left of the oblations, and delight yourselves in the good that is prepared for you. drink abundantly O beloved] or; be drunken, (that is, be plenteously-filled) with loves. By Beloved, he meaneth his friends aforesaid: or by loves (for so the word may be interpreted) he meaneth the fruits of love, which his Spouse had brought forth unto him; which loves, he said, were much better then wine, c. 4. 10. In Esa. 25. 6. it is prophesied how the Lord of hosts would make (in the mountain of his church) unto all people, a feast of fat things, a feast of wine on the Lees, &c.

Vers. 2. I sleep] or, I sleeping, and my heart waking. The Spouse of Christ here telleth of a new and greater trouble that befell her, through her own negligence; and how she got out thereof. In chap. 3. she had a much like temptation, but not so heavy as this: for there she slept not; but upon her bed, in the nights, sought her beloved; here she sleepeth, her beloved seeketh her, knocketh, provoketh, but she maketh excuses for a while. There the watchmen though they tell her notidings of her beloved, yet they do her no farther har 〈...〉 e: here, they smite, wound, and unveile her. There, she soon findeth him, after she was past the watchmen: here, she findeth him not so soon, but languisheth with love, and complaineth to her friends, who (upon report of his praises) do help to seek him with her. Sleep is the rest or ceasing of the creature, from use of the outward senses, and from action: It is caused by vapor in the head, that arise from meat, drink, &c. which stop the passages of the spirits, and bind the senses. This sleep, as it is a refreshing, is sometime used in a good sense, for the repose and rest that the faithful have in God; Psalm 3. 5. and 4. 8. Prov. 3. 24. But more often it signifieth the neglect of holy duties, and a sinful kind of life, Esa. 56. 10. Rom. 13. 11. 1 Thes. 5. 6. 7. and this sleep is caused sometimes through sorrow, Luke 22. 45. sometime through weariness, Esa. 5. 27. sometime through slothfulness, and then it causeth spiritual beggary, Prov. 19. 15. and 20. 13. The Spouse here, having eaten and drunk largely of the blessings of Christ, beginneth to remit her zeal, and neglect the works of faith and love, wanting the presence of her beloved, and being pressed with the remnants of the flesh, so she gave place to ca•all case and security. Occasioned further hereunto by the time, the night; and by the wether which was rainy: that is, by ignorance and error prevailing, and by the opposition and persecution of enemies. and my hear aketh] or, but my heart watcheth, or is awake. The heart meaneth the inner man, the spirit, or man as he is regenerate, opposed to the flesh or outward man, Rom. 2. 28. 29. and the flesh and spirit (even in God's children) do lust one against another, that we cannot do the things that we would, Galat. 5. 17. and when the spirit is willing (to watch, pray, &c.) the flesh is weak, Mat. 26. 41. Whereas therefore her heart waked while she slept, it signified that she gave not her self wholly to this negligence, but as the wise virgins had their lamps burning whiles all slumbered and slept, when the lamps of the foolish were gone out, Mat. 25. 4. 5. 8. so she now had given her self to fleshly case, but had her heart and spirit otherwise disposed. For when the whole man addicteth it self to anything, the heart also is adjoined; as Solomon saith, I compassed about, I and my heart, to search and to seek out wisdom; Eccles. 7. 25. that knocketh] or, that beateth, to wit, at the door. She telleth the love and care of her beloved, who would not let her rest in the bed of worldly ease, but exciteth her to holy duties, by receiving him & the spirit of his grace. Christ's voice is uttered by preaching of his Gospel, calling to repentance, faith and obedience, Hebr. 3. 7. 8. 15. and 4. 2. His knocking, signifieth a more earnest provocation and desire to be let in, Matth. 7. 7. Luke 13. 25. and it may imply his chastisements also whereby he would call her •o repentance; as he saith to the Church in Laodicca, (when it was fallen to be neither cold nor hot.) As many as I love I rebuke and chasten, be zealous therefore and repent. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock; Revel. 3. 19. 20. open to me] God openeth doors to us, when he bestoweth his blessings on us, Psal. 78. 23. 24. Esa. 45. 1. 2. 3. and spiritually, when he giveth grace to utter his word, and to believe the same, Col. 4. 3. Act. 14. 27. So we open the door unto him, when we give him entrance into our hearts, he calling upon us by his word and works; when we repent, believe, and accept Christ with his graces, &c. Rev. 3. 20. my sister, my love, &c.] these titles given unto the Church, even in her infirmity, show what affection he bare unto her, and how he esteemed of her notwithstanding her sins; which he imputeth not, but looketh upon her graces which he had endued her with, as if she were perfect & undefiled. filled with dew] or, full of d.w. This head of Christ (which in verse 11. is l•ened to most fine gold,) here filled with dew, seemeth to mean his manifold troubles which he suffered for her sake, not only in his own person, while he was on earth, but in his Servants and Ministers, who are often troubled on every side, perplexed persecuted, cast down, always bearing about in the body, the dying of the Lord Jesus, &c. 2 Cor. 4. 8. 9. 10. Thus Christ cometh in the dark night of affliction to awake her, and to communicate himself and his graces with her. For a man to be wet with the dew of heaven, is a sign of misery, Dan. 4. 25. so is rain where there is no covert, Esa. 4. 6. and drops (or droppings) likewise signify troubles, Amos 6. 11. But dew and rain upon the land maketh it fruitful: so is Christ by his doctrine to his Church, Psal. 72. 6. Hos. 14. 5. Deut. 32. 2. And in this sense some take it here, as if Christ came unto her full of the dew of blessings to enrich her. The Chaldee paraphrast applieth this verse to the Jews captivity, and God's calling them to repentance, thus: After all these words, the people of the house of Israel sinned; and he delivered them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babylon, who led them into captivity: and in the captivity they were like to a man asleep, that cannot wake out of his sleep. And the voice of the Holy Ghost admonished them by the hand of the Prophets, and stirred them up from the sleep of their heart. The Lord of all the world spake, and thus he said; Turn by repentance, open thy mouth, and make request, and laud me, my sister, my love, the congregation of Israel, which art like a dove in perfection of thy works: for the hair of my head is filled with thy tears, as a man whose hair of his head is wet with the dew of heaven; and my hairy locks are filled with the drops of thine eyes, as a man whose hairy locks are full with the drops of rain that descend in the night.

Vers. 3. how shall I put it on?] that is, I cannot put it on, without trouble and reluctance of my flesh. The like phrase God used in Hos. 11. 8. How shall I give thee up, Ephraim, &c. how shall I make thee as Admah? &c. that is, I cannot utterly destroy thee, as I did those Cities, such is my compassion towards thee. The Spouse here telleth her answer to Christ how she made excuses and delays, and that she could not presently admit him: as the friend answereth (in Luke 11. 7.) Trouble me not, the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and give thee. The keeping on of clothes, is a sign of care and watchfulness, Neh. 4. 23. so she now (in the absence of her Lord) should have had her loins girded about, her light burning, her self waiting for his return; that when he came and knocked, she might open to him immediately, Luke 12. 35. 36. But she had not only ungirded, but put off her coat, and washed her feet, so composing her self to a settled rest in her bed; and instead of watching, sleepeth; instead opening the door, driveth him away through her neglect and sloth. washed my feet] another sign that she had betaken her self to rest: for in those hot countries (where usually they went bare footed) they washed their feet from soil and sweat after travel: which she now having done, could not (as she pretended) without fouling them again, open to her beloved. Such worthless excuses doth our flesh allege; the time is unseasonable, the night is cold and damp, the weather we, we cannot arise to entertain Christ, without trouble and detriment. So the people that dwelt in their sieled houses, said, the time is not come that the Lord's house should be built, Agg. 1. 4. 2. The slothful saith, A Lyon is in the way, a Lyon is in the streets, Prov. 26. 3. and The sluggard will not plow, by reason of the cold, Prov. 20. 4. The Chaldee here paraphraseth thus, The Congregation of Israel, answered before the Prophets; Loe now I have put off from me the yoke of his precepts, and have served the erroneous idols of the people's: and how can I have the face to turn again unto him? The Lord of the world answered them by the hand of the Prophets; And I also, Loe now I have taken away my divine-presence from mids of thee; and how shall I return? And thou hast done evil works, and I have sanctified my feet from thy uncleanness; and how shall I defile them in the mids of thee, by thy evil works?

Vers. 4. put in] Hebr. sent his hand, or, put it forth. by the hole] or, *from the hole, to weet, of the door, where he knocked; which some understand to be a withdrawing of the hand as purposing to leave off his calling of her: but the Greek translatheth by the hole; and the putting forth of the hand usually meaneth the enterprising of a work, rather than the leaving of it off, as in Gen. 3. 22. and 22. 10. 12. and 48. 14. Exod. 3. 20. 1 Chron. 13. 9. and the effects following, that her bowels were moved, that she rose up, &c. seem to confirm this. And an hole is a mean either to look in, or to put in the hand, or to make a wider entrance, Ezek. 8. 7. 8. 9. The Spouse of Christ here signifieth, that though the door was shut against him, that her Beloved could not enter; and though his voice (by the outward Ministry of his word, could not cause her to arise; yet he put forth his hand (by the inward working of his Spirit) and wrought more effectually in her. For, as the finger of God (in Luke •1. 20.) meaneth the Spirit of God. Mat. 12. 28. so doth his hand. Wherefore the disciples outwardly preaching the word; it is said, the hand of the Lord was with them, and a great number believed, and turned to the Lord, Acts 11 19. 21. my bowels made a troubled noise] or, my bowels sounded, rumbled. Hereby she signifieth her disquietness, hearty sorrow, and repentance, for her Beloved, who had suffered so many things for her sake, & whom she had so neglected and put from her, when he desired to come in. So the Prophet (to show his sorrow for Moabs calamity) saith, My bowels shall sound (or make-a-noise) like an harp for Moab, Isaiah 16. 11. and for the Jews another saith, My bowels, my bowels, I am pained at my very heart; my heart maketh-a-noise (or a troubled sound) I cannot hold my peace, I•r. 4. 19. Yea God himself, in commiseration of Ephraim's misery, saith, My bowels sound (or make-a-troubled noise) for him, I will surely have mercy on him, saith the Lord, Ier. 31. 20. So here the Spouse, by the sounding of her bowels, showeth the grief of her heart, which is one (and the chiefest) of the bowels, as is after noted on v. 14.*

Vers. 5. I rose up] or, I myself rose up. Unto her inward grief, she addeth outward acts of amendment, (fruits meet for repentance) rising, opening, seeking, calling for her Beloved now departed from her door, through her former negligence. dropped myrrh] that is, oil of myrrh. passing myrrh] that is, pure myrrh, which is of bitter taste, and sweet smelling savor: or currant myrrh, such as passeth from one to another, vendible to merchants because it is good: as passing money is currant money with Merchants, Gen. 23. 16. Passing myrrh dropping from Christ's lips, (Song. 5. 13.) signifieth the sweet odour of his doctrine; so the like here dropping from the hands and fingers of his Spouse, seemeth to denote the sweet odour of her works; that her godly sorrow, with faith and love unfained, might be acceptable to her beloved, and of sweet smell in his nostrils. In those countries, women (before they were brought to Kings) were purified with oil of myrrh, and sweet odors, Esth. 2. 12. and the garments of Christ's Spouse do smell of Myrrh, &c. Psalm 45. 9, here her hands, that is, her actions are anointed with oil of myrrh, that is, the grace of God's Spirit, as the holy oil in the Sanctuary (figuring grace) was made of pure myrrh, and other chief spices, Exod. 30. 23. &c. Otherwise we may understand it of the grace of Christ, which he left behind him as a sweet odour to allure her, when he put in his hand at the hole of the door; which he perceived now when she was risen from her bed of carnal security. handles of the lock] these handles (or hands) of the lock, were those that kept out Christ from entering; which now she anointeth with oil of myrrh, that her heart being ointed and suppled with grace, all bars and lets being removed, he might freely enter to reap the fruit of his own grace in her.

Vers. 6. I opened] or, I myself opened: this noteth a further degree of grace in her, who after she had risen, openeth the door, (putting away all excuses, delays, hindrances, admitting the word and work of Christ into her heart,) that the King of glory might come in. withdrawn him-self] or, turned-away. was passed-away] This doubling of the complaint for his departure, showeth her passion and grief, in that she enjoyed not his presence and favor, as in time past. But the narration telleth how even the righteous are (for their sins) recompensed in the earth, and scarcely saved; Prov. 11. 31. 1 Pet. 4. 18. if we refuse the grace of God proffered, he will hide his face from us, Mich. 3. 4. Hos. 5. 15. my soul went forth] or, was gone, departed; that is, failed, fainted. I was even a dead woman, through fear and grief: for death is the departing of the soul from the body, Genes. 35. 18. and as the heart is said to go-forth when men are astonished with fear, or the like passions, Gen. 42. 28. so here the soul is said to go-forth for like cause. because of his speech] for his words, which he had used, when so lovingly he entreateth me, in verse 2. The word spoken doth not always presently take effect in the hearers; but after, when they fall into temptation, the Spirit of God often bringeth things to their remembrance, that they do better understand and make use of that they heard; John. 14. 26. Matth. 26. 75. he answered me not] This is one of the greatest temptations, that God seemeth not to hear the prayers of his people, though they call day and night, Psal. 22. 3. he shutteth out their prayer, Lam. 3. 8. But here the spouse hath measure for measure; because he called and she would not obey, she also calleth and hath no answer. Howbeit his ear is not heavy, that it cannot hear: but (as it is written) Your iniquities have separated between you and your God: and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear; Esa. 59. 1. 2. The Hebrews (in their Chaldee paraphrase) apply the affliction here prophesied of, to the sins and captivity of Israel, mentioned in 1 Chro. 5. 25. 26. 2 King. 17. 6. at what time, though the Priests (as they say) offered oblations, and burnt incense, yet were they not accepted.

Vers. 7. The Watchmen] or, keepers, that keep watch and ward in the City by night: meaning the officers of the Church; see before on chap. 3. 3. found me] By this it appeareth, that she went not only to the door of her house to seek Christ, but did go about the city, in the streets, &c. as before in chap. 2. 3. they smote me] smiting is not only with the hand, or other like instrument, but with the tongue, as in Jer. 18. 18. Come and let us smite him with the tongue: and generally to smite, is to afflict by what means soever, Esa. 53. 4. Psal. 69. 27. Here the Watchmen are more injurious then before in chap. 3. neither inquireth she of these for her Beloved; but being by them found, out of the common course, is smitten and wounded as an evil doer, judged as a dishonest woman, whose feet would not abide in her house, no not by night, is rebuked, censured, &c. wounded me] drew blood of me, for it is a further degree of hurt then smiting, 1 King. 20. 37. Exod. 21. 25. So the husbandmen wounded the Lord's se•vant, Luk. 20. 17. watchmen of the walls] watch-men in the city are to look that order and peace be kept of those that are within; watchmen on the walls, are to look to enemies without, that they break not in, and to warn the city if •••s approach: so these were other then the former, from whom she escaping with stripes and wounds, passeth from the streets to the walls to seek Christ, but is there as evil entreated. These are in name the Ministers of Christ, supplying the place of such as are mentioned in Esa. 62. 6. but of another kind, not making mention of the Lord, but persecuting those that seek him. took my veil] or, my scarf; it hath the name in the original, of spreading, as being spread over her head to cover her. Such veils were worn of women, partly for ornament, as appeareth by Esa. 3. 23. partly for modesty, and in sign of subjection to men, especially their husbands, 1 Corinth. 11. 6. 7. 10. and an husband is to the wife a covering of the eyes, Genes. 20. 16. The taking away therefore of her veil, seemeth to be a note of infamy, disloyalty or dishonesty imputed unto her as of idolatry, heresy, schism and the like; so she was spoiled of her good name and reputation, and counted among the light and lewd women. For it appeareth by Ezek. 23. 25. 26. that they used to entreat dishonest women so; disfiguring their faces, stripping them out of their clothes, and taking away their fair jewels.

Vers. 8. I adjure you] I charge you by oath; Here the spouse (having with much ado escaped from the watchmen) meeteth with her friends the daughters of Jerusalem; of whom, see the notes on Song 2. 7. and 1. 5. where also she adjured them, upon other weighty cause. what shall ye tell him?] this is an earnest and passionate kind of speech, showing her great affection; and stirring up their care and diligence; that if they who had not for the present the knowledge of Christ by his graces clearly manifested unto them, (as appeareth by their answer in v. 9. &c. 6. v. 1.) should find him by being made partakers of his mercy through the revelation of his Gospel, (as in Rom. 10. 20.) then they should tell (or show) unto him in their prayers, the state of this his afflicted Spouse. sick of love] in Greek, wounded with love: languishing with desire of his mercy, of the forgiveness of my sins, of reconciliation, &c. See the notes on chap. 2. verse 5.

Vers. 9. more then another beloved] when God and Christ is preached, the wicked take occasion to mention and magnify other false gods, and erroneous services, Esa. 36. 18. 20. Act. 19. 26. 28. but they that belong to the heavenly Jerusalem, desire to be informed further in the truth, and to know the difference between true and false Christ's, worships, ordinances, &c. as these here, and so in Act. 17. 18. 19. 34. &c. 28. 22. 23. 24. fairest among women] See chap. 1. 8. Here the Spouse of Christ, though in her sorrows and miseries, though persecuted and abused by wicked watch-men, though in the dark night of tribulation; is notwithstanding discerned and professed to be fair and glorious; by such as belong unto Christ, Heb. 11. 24.—26. 1 Thes. 1. 5. 6.

Vers. 10. White and ruddy] She describeth Christ unto them in his beauty, to stir up both her own and their affections, and to draw them after him. For as the outward show of idolaters, allureth the unwise to affect and follow them, Ezek. 23. 5. 6. 12. 14. 15. 16. so the true knowledge of Christ with his graces, draweth the elect to seek and embrace him; Act. 2. 22. 37. 41. and 3. 12. 13. &c. and 4. 4. and 17. 11. 12. and by the Gospel preached, Christ with his sufferings is evidently set forth, Gal. 3. 1. Here as a goodly young man, he is as in an image portrayed by his visible qualities, his colors; and by the parts of his body White and red, as they show the best temperature of man, so here they may signify in Christ, First, his Godhead & Manhood: for God in vision hath appeared all white as snow, and as pure wool, Dan. 7. 9. and Christ in his glory had his face shining as the Sun, and his raiment white as the light, Matth. 17. 2. and in him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily, Colos. 2. 9. Man had his name Adam, of Adamah the red mould of the earth out of which he was taken, Genes. 2. 7. and Christ (who here is Adam red) is the last Adam, 1 Cor. 15. 45. and was partaker with his children of flesh and blood, Heb. 2. 14. Secondly, white denoteth his innocence in himself, without spot of sin: red, his sinful case by imputation, for God made him, who knew no sin, to be sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. 5. 21. and so these two colors are used to signify sinfulness and innocence, Esa. 1. 18. And consequently red betokeneth his sufferings to the shedding of his blood; as white doth his victory, peace, joy and comfort in God, Rev. 7. 9. 13.—17. Eccles. 9. 8. And in respect of his administration, white setteth forth his grace and mercy to repentant and believing sinners, whom he justifieth, sanctifieth and will bring into glory; who therefore are said to be clothed in bysse white and clean, which is the righteousness of the Saints, Revelation 19. 8. 14. and red, his justice in punishing and doing vengeance on his enemies, in token whereof his garments are said to be red, died and dipt in blood; Esa. 63. 1. 2. 3. Revel. 19. 13. having the banner, above ten thousand] or, having banners, of ten-thousand: Hebr. bannered, above (or of, or with) ten-thousand. Meaning either that he was the chiefest, valiantest and most excellent of all: or, that he had many banners and companies of warriors with him. In the first sense the Greek interpreteth it, the chosen (or choicest) of ten thousands: in the latter, the Chaldee Paraphrast, and other Hebrew expositors apply it to the ten-thousands of Angels that minister before him, (as in Daniel 7. 10.) The banner (or standard) is a warlike sign; and he that beareth it, is of the chiefest; and by it, other warriors do encamp, as appeareth in the armies of Israel, Number: 2. And there Judah was chief standard-bearer, and had under his banner the greatest number of warriors: so here Christ (the Lion of the Tribe of Judah, Revelation 5. 5.) is chief among many, yea above all; for he standeth for an ensign of the people, Isaiah 11. 10. (that is, ruleth over the Gentiles, Romans 15. 12.) and unto him both the Angels do minister, and worship him, Matth. 4. 11. Heb. 1. 6. and many ten thousands of people do believe in him, Act 21. 20. Rev. 7. 9. and (in his wars against his enemies) as armies in heave do follow him, Rev. 19. 11. 14.

Vers. 11. the fine gold, the solid gold] understand fine gold and solid gold, for this word and, is sometime not expressed in the Hebrew, though it be meant; as is noted on Exodus 22. 30. Deuteronomy 24. 17. Two names of the best gold are here joined; Cethem, and Paz (or Phaz;) the first is fine, notable and shining; the latter, solid, strong, and fast gold, or Fesse gold: (according to the Hebrew name.) Fine-gold is in Arabic called Fes; and the land of Fesse seemeth to be so named of such gold there. Both these together, set forth the glory of Christ's head here: which being taken either properly, or figuratively for the crown or ornament of the head; (as by the feet are implied the shoes on the feet, Deut. 8. 4. 29. 5.) seemeth to denote his headship, dignity or regiment; that his Kingdom is most glorious (like fine splendid gold,) because it is spiritual and heavenly; and most firm and durable (like pure solid gold) because it is eternal: John. 18. 36. 37. Luke 17. 20. 21 Dan. 7. 13. 14. For the Spouse calleth her Beloved King, in Song 1. 4. and David praising God, saith, thou hast set on his head, a crown of fine gold, Ps. 21. 4. And as Christ is here described, so is he in the administration and government of his Church: that when his Kingdom is powerful and glorious, and of large extent, it is like a golden head, as in Dan. 2. 37. 38. and when it is administered according to his laws and judgments, (which are more to be desired then much fine solid gold, Psal. 19. 11.) then is the street of Jerusalem (the Law wherein men walk,) pure gold, as in Revel. 21. 21. Hereby also his rich grace and bountifulness unto men, may be implied. his locks] his hairy-locks, of which before he complaineth in verse 2. that they were filled with drops of the night, curled] or, heaps, that is, are like heaps, curled and bushy. black] in Revel. 1. 14. Christ appeared as an Ancient, with his hayres white as wool; here he is described as a goodly young man, with curled locks, black as a raven: that white color shown him to be the Ancient of days, Dan. 7. 9. full of gravity, wisdom, justice, &c. but black and curled locks, as they are signs of heat and strength in nature, so here they seem to denote strength and vigor spiritual, as also the hidden mystery of his counsels, thoughts and purposes unsearchable. According to the variety of times, causes, and administrations, so things are spoken diversely of God and of Christ: as in 1 Tim, 6. 16. he dwelleth in the light which none can approach unto; in 2 Chro. 6. 1. he dwelleth in the thick darkness: his administration of mercy by the preaching of the Gospel is signified by a white horse, his judgment by a black horse, Revel. 6. 2. 5. And if we refer this here to Christ's administration, it may denote both his counsels unsearchable of any, and in special his judgments decreed for his enemies.

Vers. 12. as doves] in Revelation 1. 14. his eyes are as aflame of fire, and in Daniel 10. 6. as lamps of fire; to search and try all men's ways, and to set men's secret sins to the light of his countenance, Jeremiah 16. 17. Psalm 90. 8. and 11. 4. here, he hath doves eyes, to show that he is of purer eyes then to behold evil, and cannot look on iniquity, Habak. 1. 13. that he graciously beholdeth his people with mercy, and commiseration of their misery, Deut. 11. 12. Psal. 34. 16. and 33. 18. 19. and that he faithfully looketh to his covenant with his people; as the Spouse for her faith and loyalty is said also to have doves eyes, Song 1. 15. & 4. 1. by streams] or, by currents (rivers) of water that run violently: such waters are pure and clear, where doves delight to be, washing] to weat, themselves; which the Greek translateth washed in milk. As doves washing themselves in milk white water are cleansed from dust and soil: so the eyes of Christ are pure and clean, beholding his people in grace. sitting in fullness] if the similitude of waters be continued; then it meaneth full channels of water, by which doves delight to sit: or, if of the doves, it may be understood of sitting in their lockers, and so applied to the eyes in the holes of the head with fit and due proportion, neither sunk in; nor starting out; but as the precious filling stones, Exod. 25. 7. were embossed and fitly set in the hollow places of the golden Ephod: so were these pure and gracious eyes, in the head of Christ.

Vers. 13. bed of spice] meaning a garden-bed, wherein spice aromatical is set; as after in Song 6. 2. flowers] or, grown plants, so named of being grown great: the word also may be translated towers, which have their names of greatness. The cheeks (which are both sides of the face) are likened here to a garden bed of sweet spice; not barren or faded, but sprouting and grown up to blade and flower of sweet odors; whereby the beard also that groweth out of the cheeks or jaws, (Esa. 50. 6.) may be meant. These cheeks of Christ thus adorned, signify his manliness and co <...> eline: to all that by faith behold him, and the sweetn <...> of the graces that flow from his heavenly countenance; whiles being as a man grown up to years of discretion, he administereth all things discreetly, justly and comfortably to his people. The Hebrews in the Chaldee paraphrase on this book, understand by the head, the Law of God, which is to be desired more then gold: by the locks of hair, the interpretation of the words therein heaped together, which are black to those that keep them not: by the eyes, his providence to behold and bless his people, by means of Counsellors, Teachers, Judges, &c. by the cheeks, the two tables of stone, written with lines as with rewes of a garden of spices; and yielding acute and sweet senses. passing myrrh] that is, oil of myrrh of sweet savor, which passeth currant and is vendible among merchants, (as before in verse 5.) This signifieth that grace, (or words of grace, Luk. 4. 22.) which was poured out in the lips of Christ, Psal. 45. 3. which set forth by similitude of the pleasant lillie, and sweet myrrh-oil, do note out the comfort and sweetness of the Gospel, in the hearts of them that believe.

Vers. 14. The Chrysolite] in Hebrew Th <...> ; it is a precious stone of a golden sea-green color: see Exod. 28. 20. These hands of Christ, likened unto, or adorned with gold rings, whose hollow place of foil is set and filled with the Chrysolite, signify his precious, pure and glorious works; acceptable and honorable before God and men. his bowels] that is, his breast and belly, for in them the bowels are contained, as the heart, liver, &c. but he nameth bowels, to denote his inward affections outwardly manifested. So the heart is said to be among the bowels, in Psal. 22. 15. and the liver is joined therewith in Lam. 2. 11. where also the bowels are in Greek translated the heart. See before, on verse 4. bright yvorie] Hebr. brightness of yvorie; meaning, most bright, polished, fair and glorious. overlaid] or, which is covered, and so adorned with Sapphires: for in Gen. 38. 14. this word is used for covered, where the Greek and Chaldee expound it adorned. These bowels of Christ like burnisht yvorie decked with Sapphires (which are precious stones of a sea blew, or heavenly color) signify his hearty and heavenly affections, love, mercy, commiseration, &c. towards God, his Law, and his people; as he saith (in Psal. 40. 9.) thy Law is within my bowels; and bowels are inward-affections, in 2 Cor. 7. 15. and joined with mercies, in Phil. 2. 1. and used for tender-mercy, in Luk. 1. 78. and Paul's great longing after the Saints, is said to be in the bowels of Jesus Christ, Phil. 1. 8. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth these to the body of the Church of Is'ael, the twelve Tribes, who shined (as he saith) like lamps, were polished in their works like Elephants tooth (or yvorie,) and shone like Saphi's.

Vers. 15. His legs piliars of marble] under the name legs, the thighs also are comprehended, and all down to the feet: which are the instruments to bear, sustain and remove the body from place to place: so the legs of a man, and the strength of an horse are mentioned (in Psal. 147. 10.) to signify man's might and swiftness. And as iron legs denoted a strong Kingdom, Daniel 2. 33. 40. so the strength of Christ in his ways and government, is resembled by marble-pillars, and the uprightness and purity thereof, by the color of white-marble, or alabaster. founded] or grounded, set fast as on a foundation. sockets of solid gold] that is, Christ's feet, on which his legs are set, (as pillars on their sockets to sustain and stay them up,) are of solid gold, firm and stable, pure and glorious: so that his way is perfect, his ankles slip not, 2 Sam. 22. 33. 37.

his fo•t standeth in righteousness, Psal. 26. 12. he walketh safely in his way, and his foot stumbleth not, Prov. 3. 23. with these feet in justice he treadeth down his enemies, Psalm 110. 1. Isaiah 26 6 2 Sam. 22. 39. 43. but bringeth good tidings of peace to his people, Nahum. 1. 15. that all they are blessed which trust in him, Psal. 2. 12. whereas confidence in an unfaithful man in the day of trouble, is like a fo•t out of joint, Prov. 25. 19. his countenance] or, his sight, appearance, form; that is, his personage: for this word meaneth not his face only, but his whole person: to see to he is like Lebanon, goodly, great, high, glorious. So in 2 Sam. 23. 21 a man of countenance, (that is a goodly personable man) is by another Prophet called a man of measure, (that is of great and goodly stature,) 1 Chron. 11. 23. Lebanon] a goodly mountain in the North part of the land of Canaan, see Song. 4. 8. As Christ's large, glorious, and everlasting Kingdom was signified by a stone, that became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth, Dan. 2. 35. 44. and other kingdoms also are figured by mountains, Ier. 51. 25. so the largeness, eminency and glory of Christ in his Kingdom, is here resembled by mount Lebanon. choice] that is, goodly, excellent, for things that excel are chosen before other: and these words choice and good (or goodly) are joined together in the praise of men (as in 1 Sam. 9. 2.) or of trees, Ezek. 31. 16. and choice Cedars are mentioned in Ier. 22. 7. so here, Christ is choice as the Cedars, meaning, goodly, excellent, flourishing and continuing in vigor: the just man groweth as a Cedar in Lebanon, Psal. 92. 13.

Vers. 16. his palate] or, the roof of his mouth 〈◊〉 which (as the tongue and lips) is the instrument of speaking; and so figuratively used for speech or words, Prov. 5. 3. sweetnesses] or, sweets, sweet things: which properly is meant of sweet meats and drinks, as in Nehem. 8. 10. Prov. 24 13. but applied to the words of God, which are sweet to the soul, as honey, or other sweets to the taste, Psalm 19. 10. and 119. 103. Here the palat (or mouth) of Christ being likened to sweet things, signifieth his words, doctrines, promises, comforts proceeding from his spirit, and being plainly and powerfully uttered, to be pleasant, wholesome, comfortable to the souls of such as do discern and believe them; as the Spouse before said, his fruit was sweet unto her palat (or taste) Song. 2. 3. So the Wisdom of God saith, (in Prov. 8. 7.) my palate (that is, my mouth) shall speak the truth. And the Chaldee here paraphraseth, The words of his palate are sweet as honey. he is altogether] or, all (every whit) of him is desires; that is, much to be desired, he is wholly amiable: which the Chaldee expoundeth, all his commandments are to be desired. Thus Christ is both generally and in particulars commended and magnified, by the tongue of his Spouse unto the daughters of Jerusalem (as by the tongue of Paul he was crucified among the Galatians, Gal. 3. 〈◊〉 . when his sufferings were declared.) But as he is the power of God, and the wisdom of God, unto them which are called, when to others he is a stumbling block, and foolishness, 1 Cor. 1. 23. 24. so here he is to his Spouse and her friends glorious and beautiful; but to the world he is base and ignominious; a worm and not a man, the reproach of men, and contemned of the people: Psal. 22. 7 his visage marred more then any man, and his form, more then the sons of men: growing up as a root out of a dry ground: having no form nor comeliness; no beauty that we should desire him, Isaiah 52. 14. and 53. 2.

CHAPTER VI.

Whither is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among Women: whither is thy beloved turned-aside, that we may seek him with thee.

My beloved, is gone-down to his garden to the beds of spice: to feed in the gardens, and to gather Lilies. I am my beloveds, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the Lilies.

Thou art fair ô my Love, as Tirzah, comely, as Jerusalem: terrible, as armies with banners. Turn-about thine eyes, over-against me: for they, have lifted me up: thy hair is as a flock of Goats, that appear from Gilead. Thy teeth, are as a flock of sheep, which come-up from the washing: which all of them bear-twins, and none among them is bereaved-of the-young. As a piece of a pomegranate, are thy temples, within thy locks. There are threescore Queens, and fourscore Concubines: and Virgins, without number. My Dove my perfect-one, she is one, she is the only one of her mother; she is the choice-one of her that bare her: The daughters saw her, and they blessed her, the Queens and the Concubines, and praised her. Who is she that lookethforth as the morning: fair as the moon, clear as the Sun; terrible, as armies with banners.

I went-down to the nut garden, to see the fruits of the valley: to see whether the vine flourished, whether the Pomegranates blossomed. I knew not; my soul put me, the chariots of my willing people.

Return return, ô Shulammitesse, return return, that we may look upon thee: what shall we see in the Shulammitesse? as the company of two-armies.

CHAPTER VI.

O Whither is thy well-beloved gone, [unspec 1]

Thou that of women art the fairest one:

O whither may thy Loved turned be

Aside, that we may seek for him with thee.

My Welbeloved, he, descended is Unto his garden, to the beds of spice: [unspec 2]

Within the gardens that he food may get,

That also he may gather Lilies sweet.

I my Beloveds am, and my Loved [unspec 3]

Is mine, he doth among the Lilies feed.

My Love, thou art as Tirzah beautiful, [unspec 4]

Comely, as is Jerusalem: dreadful,

As are the warlike-bannered armies.

Over against me, turn about thine eyes: [unspec 5]
For they have lift me up: so is thine hair,
As flock of goats, from Gilead that appear.
Thy teeth as flock of sheep are, which be gone
Up from the washing: of which everyone [unspec 6]
Do bring-forth equal-twins, and them among
Is none that is bereaved-of the-young.
The temples-of-thine-head, thy locks within,
Like to a piece of a pomegranate been. [unspec 7]
Queens threescore are, and Concubines fourscore: [unspec 8]
Of Virgins eke innumerable store.
My Dove my undefiled, she is one:
She of her mother is the one-alone, [unspec 9]
Of her that bare her she the choice-one is:
The daughters they her saw, and did her bliss,
The Queens and Concubines, and did her praise.
Who is she that as morne her self displays?
Faire as the Moon is, as the Sun so clear, [unspec 10]
Dreadfull, as armies that do banners bear.
To the Nutgarden I went-down, to see
The valley fruits: to see if the vine-tree [unspec 11]
Flourisht, if blossom did the Pomgranets.
I knew not, my soul put me, the chariots
Of my free people. Turn ô turn (I say) [unspec 13]
Shulammitesse; turn turn, we view thee may:
What shall you see in the Shulammitesse▪
As company that of two-armies is.

Annotations.

TVrned aside] or, hath he turned his face, to wit, from thee to others; or, to another place. that we may seek] or, and we will seek him. The daughters of Jerusalem (God's elect) having heard from his Spouse, the praises of Christ; are moved earnestly to inquire after him, and promise (if they know where) to seek him with her, that they might be made partakers of his grace and blessings. Such is the effect of the preaching of the Gospel, in the hearts of the chosen, Acts 2. 37. and 4. 4. and 11. 20. 21. But the watchmen fore-mentioned (Song. 3. 3. and 5. 7.) had no such affection: that in them the saying was fulfilled: The Pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the Lord; therefore they shall not prosper; Jer. 10. 21.

Vers. 2. is gone-down to his garden] The garden of Christ is his Church, as in chap. 4. 16. and 5. 1. The Spouse which before missed and sought him, hath now intelligence, and informeth others where he is: so that this respecteth another time and state, and the promise is fulfilled, Seek, and ye shall find, Mat. 7. 7. If from thence thou shalt seek the Lord thy God, thou shalt find him; if thou seek him with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, Deut. 4. 29. bed of spice] ranks, rewes, or beds wherein spices were sown: which seemeth to mean companies of believers, in whose hearts (as in good earth) the sweet and precious word of the Gospel was sown, Mat. 13. 8. 23. For these beds are by Aquila a Greek interpreter translated Prasiai, which word is used in Mark 6. 40. for ranks of people sitting down to be fed of Christ. to feed] to associate himself and communicate with the graces of his people, eating his pleasant fruits, as in Song. 4. 16. as also to feed his friends and impart unto them the graces of his Spirit, in the gardens (his particular Churches) as in Song. 5. 1. to gather Lilies] to accept the sweet-smelling fruits of his own graces growing in his Churches: or to gather unto him his faithful people, which are as Lilies among thorns, Song. 2. 2. The Hebrews in their Chaldee paraphrase, apply this to God's returning of his people from the captivity of Babylon by Cyrus, Ezra, Nehemiah, Zerubbabel, &c. and the restoring of his worship in the Temple, reedified, and accepting their service, and nourishing them with dainties; and as a man that gathereth lilies out of the valleys, so gathereth he them out of Babylon.

Vers. 3. I am my Beloveds] The Spouse here glorieth in the peace renewed between Christ and her, and their mutual communion by his Spirit and her faith; notwithstanding her former infirmities and afflictions. The same words (but in other order) she used before, in Song. 2. 16. see the annotations there.

V. 4. Thou art fair] The Spouse having found, & being reconciled to Christ, is here commended by him for her manifold graces wherewith she was beautified. Compare these her graces with the former, in Son. 4. 1. &c. as Tirzah] This was a city in Canaan, not far from Samaria, wherein one of the 31 Kings whom Joshua conquered, did dwell; Ios. 12: 24. Afterward the Kings of Israel kept their Courts in it, 1 King. 14. 17. and 15. 21. 33: and 16. 6. 8. 23. By interpretation Tirzah signifieth grateful, well pleasing, or acceptable, and so the Greek here translateth it Good pleasure, or favorable acceptation: which showeth it to be a goodly pleasant place, such as Kings delight to dwell in. A like beauty is here ascribed to the Spouse, being made fair and acceptable by Christ her Beloved, as Ephes. 1. 6, and 5. 27. Jerusalem] a city renowned for glory, especially because God himself chose to dwell in it, having his Temple built there on mount Zion. It was fair in situation, the joy of all the earth, the City of the great King, Psal. 48. 2. 3. &c. Hereupon the Church under the Gospel, the Spouse and Wife of the Lamb Christ, is called Jerusalem, holy, and heavenly: whose glory from God, and excellent ornaments, are described at large, in Rev. 21. 2. 9. 10. 11. &c. Jerusalem by interpretation is the Sight of peace. as armies with banners] or, as bannered hosts; as armies ordered under their banners and ensigns, which are terrible to their enemies: So again in verse. 10. This showeth the peace of the Spouse to be in Christ, but from the world she is to look for affliction, and is to fight the good fight of faith, in the order appointed her of God. Thus when Israel abode in his tents, according to their tribes, encamping in the wilderness, his tents were goodly, his strength was as an Unicorns, he couched as a courageous Lion, whom none durst stir up, Num. 24. 2. 5. 8. 9.

Ver. 5. Turn about thine eyes] This word is used sometime for turning towards, as in 1 Chro. 12. 23. sometime for turning-away, as in Ezek. 7. 22. Here it seemeth to be meant in the first sense that the eyes of the Spouse (which were like doves, Song. 4. 1.) should now in her Beloveds absence, be turned to him, by faith; that he thereby might be encouraged & cheered in her love. over against me] towards me, though a far off: so the word is used sundry times, as is noted on Num. 2. 2. It may also be Englished from me, or, from before me▪ for they have lifted me up] or, that they may lift me up, to weat, with courage, strength, comfort, &c. as in Ps. 138. 3. thou hast encouraged, (or lifted-up, strengthened) me. In this sense the Greek here translareth figuratively, for they have lifted me up on wing, (or, have made me fly) that is, encouraged, cheered me. The Hebrews also in their Chaldee paraphrase apply this, to the restoring of the high Council or Senate in Jerusalem, after their return from Babylon. thy hair] thy thoughts, counsels, purposes, &c. are orderly composed, like the hair of fa goats: see the notes on Song. 4. 1.

Vers. 6. teeth] wherewith she eateth the spiritual food of the Word, &c. or, devoureth her enemies. See Song. 4. 2. from the washing] and so are white and clean.

Ver. 7. temples] signifying her modesty, shamefastness, &c. See Song. 4. 3.

Vers. 8. There are threescore Queens] Hebrew Sixtie, they Queens, and eighty Concubines: which may be understood either affirmatively; There are sixty, (as the Greek also translath) or by supposition, be there sixty Queens; that is, though there were sixty, &c. yet one is my dove. And for the numbers threescore and fourscore, it is uncertain whether the allusion be to Solomon's wives and concubines which he took at first, before he increased them to seven hundred wives, and three hundred concubines, 1 King. 11. 3▪ (as before we heard of threescore valiant men, about Solomon's bed, Son. 3. 7.) or, as the Hebrews conjecture, to the sons of Noah, Abraham, Esau, &c. or rather whether a certain number be not put for an uncertain; meaning many Queens, moe concubines, ⟨∅⟩ innumerable damsels: as seven shepherds and eight Princes, in Mic. 5. 5. signify many, and no definite number. So six troubles and seven, in Job 5. 19. and Other the like. Concubines] these were secondary wives, taken for propagation of children, but they bare no rule in the family as wives, neither had their children such right to inherit as had the others, but were sent away with gifts, as Abraham's practice showeth, Gen. 25. 1. 5. 6. See the annotations on Gen. 22. 24. Uirgines] or, maidens, damosels;

Such as are not married at all, but accompany and attend upon Queens, and other great women, as in Psal. 45. 15. Est. 2. 9.

V. 9. she is one] or, There is (but) one my do ve, &c. so this one only, is opposed to the many Queens, Concubines, &c. forementioned. Here the Spouse of Christ w<sup>ch</sup> is but one, (as there is one body, & one Spirit, one Hope, one Lord, one Faith, &c. Eph. 4. 45.) is preferred before the multitude of other, which in their own & the worlds esteem, are Queens, Ladies, &c. Rev. 18. 7. Isaiah 47. 7. Thus was it said of Israel, And who is like thy people, like Israel: one nation in the earth; whom God went to redeem for a people to himself, &c. 2 Sam. 7. 23. And when God entered into covenant with them, he said, If ye will obey my voice in deed, and keep my covenant; then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people's: for all the earth is mine, Exod. 19. 5. the only one of her mother] or, one she is to her mother, meaning by mother, Jerusalem which is above, which is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. which was prefigured by Sarah the freewoman, the only wife of Abraham, of whom he had his only son Isaac, the child of promise: though he had (by Agar and Keturah his Concubines) other children also, to whom he gave gifts, and sent them away; but gave all that he had into Isaac, Gen. 25. 5. 6. And Sarah was a type of the New Testament, and Isaac (in whom Abraham's seed was called) of the children of promise, which by faith in Christ are made heirs of salvation, Rom. 9. 7. 8. 9. Gal. 4. 22.—31. But here; the holy seed is likened to a daughter, espoused unto Christ, belonging to the heavenly Jerusalem, the mother of the faithful only the choice one] or, the clear (the pure) one, as after in v. 10. clear as the Sun. The Hebrew barah signifieth pure and clean from filthiness, purged, polished, severed and select from others; and so the Greek here expoundeth it elect or chosen; and the word is used for choice, in 1 Chron. 7. 40. Neh. 5. 18. & elsewhere, as also for purged by trials and afflictions, Dan. 11. 35. and 12. 10. which signification hath use in this place. the daughter] the virgins or damosels forementioned in v. 8. and such as were spoken of in Song. 2. 2. they blessed her] or, they called her blessed, they counted her happy, as in I am. 5. 11. We count them happy which endure. praised her] The Spouse here, as Israel of old, is praised & counted happy, for the great blessings of God upon her; whom he hath made high above all nations which he hath made, in praise and in name and in honor: Deut. 26. 19. So Moses said, This is your wisdom & your understanding, in the eyes of the people's; which shall hear all these statutes and say, surely this great nation, is a wise and understanding people; Deut. 4. 6. So the people magnified Christians, Act. 5. 13.

V. 10 Who is she] or, who is this; that is, what manner of one is this: as Tis, Who, in Mar. 4. 41. is Potapos, what manner of man, in Mat. 8. 27. So, whose son: that is, what manner of man's son is this youth? 1 Sam. 17. 55. Here the praises forespoken of, are set forth most gloriously: or a new state of the Church is described. as the morning] that is, lightsome, bright, cheerful; as the morning after the dark nigh, so the spouse after the darkness of affliction, error, ignorance, ariseth to her own and others comfort. Thus it is said to the Church, Arise, shine, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee: and the Gentiles shall come to thy light, & Kings to the brightness of thy rising, Isaiah 60. 1. 3. And to such as amend their ways, he promiseth, Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, &c. Isaiah 58. 8. fair as the Moon] which is called in Hebrew Lebanah of her whitenes and bright shining. When glory and prosperity is promised, God saith, Thy Sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy Moon withdraw it self, Isaiah

60. 20. The light of the Moon shall be as the light of the Sun; and the light of the Sun shall be seven fold, Isaiah 30. 26. but when affliction is threatened, he saith, The Sun and the Moon shall be darkened, &c. Joel. 3. 15. Ezek 32. 7. 8. Here therefore the glorious state of the Spouse is signified, to the admiration of others; as it is said, Thy renown went forth among the heathen, for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comliness which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord God: Ezek. 16. 14. clear as the Sun] or pure, (in Greek choice as the Sun, as v. 9.) Christ himself is the Sun of righteousness, Mal. 4. 2. the Woman (his Spouse) is clothed with the Sun, Rev. 12. 1. because by faith she hath put on Christ, Gal. 3. 27. by whose righteousness impured, she is purged from all sin, and so is made glorious. Here also we may observe in her the degrees of grace, her first light being like the morning or day dawning; her second beauty like the Moon; her third degree, like the Sun it self in brightness. And so it is said The path of the just is as the shining light; that shineth more and more, unto the perfect day, Prov. 4. 18. terrible] to the enemies, with whom she is to fight under the banner of Christ's Gospel & love, Song. 2. 4. having the weapons of her warfare, not carnal but mighty through God, to the pulling down of strong holds, &c. 2. Cor. 10. 4. So Israel, was a people saved by the Lord the shield of their help, and who was the sword of their excellency, Deut. 33. 29. God did put the dread of them, and the fear of them upon the nations, under the whole heaven: who heard the report of them, and trembled, Deut. 2. 25. The people's heard, and were afraid; sorrow took hold on the inhabitants of Palestine; the Dukes of Edom were amazed; the mighty men of Moab trembling took hold upon them; all the inhabitants of Canaan melted away; fear and dread fell upon them, &c. Exod. 15. 14. 15. 16. Psal. 48. 5. 6 See before on v. 4.

V. 11. I went down] The words of Christ, showing how he went to visit the garden of his Church. Nut garden] The original word Egoz is not sound but in this one place: the Gr. translatheth it the Nut, and most interpreters: the Arabike also agreeth, in which tongue Nuts are called Geuz. It meaneth aromatical trees & fruits (such as Christ's gardens are planted with, Song. 4. 12. 13. 14.) and so is to be understood of that fruit which we call Nutmegs, and the like. The Chaldee paraphrast applieth this Nutgarden to the second Temple, built by Cyrus commandment, and the state of the Church then: but these Prophecies seem rather to mean the time, under the Gospel, as before is shown. the fruits of the valley] fruits here properly mean the new, green or first ripe fruits, such as are tidie and forward in the beginning of the year. So, after the winter of tribulation and wrath, cometh the cheerful Spring of grace in the garden of the Church, situate low and base as in a valley or bourne, where it is watered with God's Word and Spirit, and made fruitful. The Greek translatheth it, fruits of the bourne (or stream.) In hot Countries, gardens and orchards were wont to be planted near bournes, streams and pools of water, to make them fruitful. Eccles. 2. 6. Ezek. 31. 4. 5. 7. the pomegranates] or, pomegranate trees: by these and the former vines, are meant the people called of God, and planted in the garden of his Church, which when they flourish in a good profession, do after bring forth the fruits of good works, to the glory of Christ. The Chaldee expoundeth these of the wise men of Israel, likened to a vine, and their plenty of good works, as the Pomegranate is full of juice and kernels. So in Song. 7. 12.

Vers. 12. I knew not] These words seem to be the continued speech of Christ, (though some think them spoken by his Spouse,) and by saying I knew not, he meaneth experimental knowledge or perceiving: for things are spoken of God after the manner of men, as in Gen. 18. •1. I will go down now and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me: and if not, (that) I may know. See also Exod. 33. 5. Gen. 22. 12. Now that which Christ here knew not, may be understood of the former things, that he perceived not the Vines to flourish, or the Pomegranate to blossom, and therefore calleth upon the Shulammitesse, (in verse. 13.) to Return: or, that he knew not, neither was aware of the frowardness of his people (which was beyond man's expectation,) and therefore he furthered them as with Chariots, to help and hasten them forward: For, Whosever hath, to him shall be given: and he shall have more abundance, Matthew 13. 12. my soul-put me] that is, I put myself; but the manner of speech noteth an earnest desire and hearty affection; as, my soul seeketh, Eccles. 7. 28. my soul loveth, Song. 1. 7. my soul is troubled, Psalm 6. 4. my soul hateth, Isaiah 1. 14. my soul is joyful, Isaiah 61. 10. and many the like. the chariots of my willing people, or, of my princely (or noble) people; in Hebrew ammi nadib: that is, my voluntary, free, bounteous or noble people. The Greek putting both words in one, make it a proper name, the chariots of A ⟨...⟩ adab: it rather denoteth the people of Christ, which are voluntaries in the day of his power, Psalm 110. 3. sustained with a free (or princely spirit, Psalm 51. 14. and receiving the word with all readiness (or willingness) of mind: as Acts 17. 11. and 2. 41. To such Christ is as Charrets, by the ministry of the Word, to help and hasten them forward in grace: and to defend them from their enemies. For Charrets were used in wars, Joshua 11. 4. 1 Samuel 13. 5. and when God threateneth vengeance unto the wicked, he saith, he will come with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger, &c. Isaiah 66. 15. And as the Prophets of old, were the chariot and horsemen of Israel, 2 King. 2. 12. and 13. 14. and people's conversion unto Christ, is called a bringing of them upon horses and in chariots, for an offering to the Lord, Isaiah 66. 20. so the Ministers of the New Testament, did so minister the Gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, Romans 15. 16. in which sense Christ here, is by his servants, as chariots for his voluntary & free people to be brought as an oblation to the Lord. The Chaldee paraph ⟨...⟩ eth on these words thus, I consulted with my soul to do them good, and to put them high in the chariots of Kings, &c.

Verse 13. O Shulammitesse] As Solomon (named in Hebrew Shelomoh) had his name of peace, 1 Chron. 22. 9. and Jerusalem was also called Shalem (or Salem) Psalm 76. 3. which signifieth Peace, Hebrews 7. 2. so here the Church or people called upon to return, is named Shulammitess (in Hebrew Shulamith) of her peace and perfection with God in Christ; and so in one Greek version, it is interpreted Eirenevousa, as being at peace. It may also have reference to Jerusalem, as being a daughter to that mother of us all. And this name hath occasioned some probably to apply this unto the recalling of the Jews, as was fore-told, Romans 11. 25. &c. which is yet to be fulfilled. return, return] this doubling of the word and that twice, showeth the earnest desire of her conversion, with the certainty thereof. that we may look upon thee] or, and let us see (or view) thee, and properly it meaneth a looking upon with delight. This seemeth to be spoken by her friends, desirous to see the graces in this Shulammitesse returned. For even the Angels desire to look into the things that are imparted to the Church by the Gospel, 1 Peter 1. 12. and it was David's one request, that he might view the pleasantness of the Lord, in his House or Temple, Psal. 27. 4. And the Prophet foretold how the watch-men should sing with a high voice, for that they should see eye to eye when the Lord returned Zion, Esa. 52. 8. The Chaldee. paraphrast explaineth the words thus, Return unto me O congregation of Israel; return unto Jerusalem; return unto the house of the doctrine of my law; return to receive Prophecy, from my Prophets, which prophesy in the name of the Word of the Lord. What shall ye see, in the Sulammitesse] or, Why look ye (or would ye look) upon the Sulammitesse? The question (which seemeth to be demanded by Christ) is to stir up attention and affection in the hearers. as the company] or, as the dance; that is, a company of dancers, that rejoice together, as they were wont after victories, Exod. 15. 20. And prophesying of the spiritual joy at the restoring of his people, God saith. O Virgin of Israel, &c. thou shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry: and, Then shall the Virgin rejoice in the dance: Ierem. 31. 4. 13. And at the return of the prodigal son, there were music and dances in his fathers house, Luk. 15. 25. This answer seemeth to be made by Christ himself that asked them: or it may be the question continued, thus: what look ye upon the Shulammitesse; which is, like the company (or dance) of two armies? of two armies] or, of two camps (two hosts) in Hebrew Machanaim: by which name the place was called, where an host (or troop) of Angels met Jacob with his troop, at his return out of servitude, Gen. 32. 1. 2. Hereby is signified both the deliverance of this Shulammitesse out of her miseries, and the joy of men and Angels for her victory. For there is joy also in the presence of the Angels of God, over one sinner that repenteth, Luke. 15. 10. and they pitch their camps about them that fear the Lord, for to deliver them, Psal. 34. 8.

CHAPTER VII.

How beautiful are thy feet with shoes, ô bounteous-princes daughter: the joints of thy thighs, are like jewels, the work of the hands of an Artificer. Thy navell, is like a round goblet; let there not want mixture: thy belly, is like an heap of wheat; set about with Lilies. Thy two breasts, are like two fawnes, twins of the Roe. Thy neck, is like a tower of yvorie: thine eyes, like the pools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath rabbim; thy nose, is like the Tower of Lebanon, looking toward Damascus. Thine head upon thee, is like Carmel, and the hair of thine head, like purple: the King, is bound in the galleries. How fair art thou, and how pleasant art thou; O Love, for delights! This thy stature, is like to a palm-tree; and thy breasts, to clusters. I said, I will go up to the Palme-tree, I will take-hold, of the boughs thereof: and now let thy breasts be, as clusters of the vine; and the smell of thy nose, like apples. And thy palate, like the good wine, that goeth to my beloved, to righteousness; causing-to-speak, the lips of those that are asleep.

I am my beloveds; and his desire is towards me. Come my Beloved, let us go-forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages. Let us get-up early, to the Vineyards; let us see whether the vine flourish, the tender-grape open it self, whether the Pomegranates blossom: there will I give my loves to thee. The Mandrakes give a smell, and at our doors, are all precious-things, new and old: O my Beloved, I have laid them up for thee.

CHAPTER VII.

Thy feet with shoes, how are they beautiful, [unspec 1]

O thou the daughter of Prince bountiful:

Ioynts of thy thy thighs, like unto jewes are,
Work of the hands of an artificer.
Thy navel, is like to a goblet round;
Of mixed color let no want-be-found: [unspec 2]
Thy belly is like to an heap of wheat;
That is with Lilies round about-beset.
Thy two breasts, like two fawnes, twins of the Roe. [unspec 4]
Thy neck, an yv'rie tower is like unto:
Thine eyes are like the pools in Hesebon,
By gate that haunted is of many a one:
Thy nose is like the tower of Libanus,
That looketh to the face of Damascus.
Like unto Carmel is, thine head on thee; [unspec 5]
The hayres eke of thine head, like purple be:
The King, he bound is in the galleries.
How fair art thou, how pleasant art likewise [unspec 6]
Thou ô dear Love for all delightfulness!
Like to a palm-tree this thy stature is, [unspec 7]
Like unto clusters are thy breasts also.
I said, I will up to the palm-tree go; [unspec 8]
Will of the boughs thereof fast-hold get me:
And now thy breasts like the Vine clusters be;
And of thy nose like apples be the smell.
Thy palate eke, like wine that doth excel, [unspec 9]
That goes to my Belov'd, to righteousness:
Causing the sleepers lips speech-to express.
I my Beloveds am; and his desire [unspec 11]
Is towards me. Come let us forth retire

Into the field ô my Belov'd, and let Vs in the villages a lodging-get.
 Unto the vineyards, let us rise-early; [unspec 12]
 Whether the vine do flourish let us set,
 The tender-grape if opening it appear;
 If the Pomegranate-trees do blossoms bear▪
 There will I give my dearest loves to thee.
 The Mandrakes give a smell, at our doors be [unspec 13]
 All precious things eke, new and old which I
 For thee, my Loved, laid-up warily.

Annotations.

How beautiful are] The Shulammitesse or Spouse of Christ, is here admired and praised for her graces, wherewith God had furnished her, and adorned her whole body: the particulars whereof are described in other order then before in Chap. 4. and 6. for here her feet are first mentioned, and then other parts upward, unto her head. This description seemeth to be made by her friends, that called upon her to return, Song, 6. 13. For Solomon (or Christ) is spoken of as another, or third person, after in v. 5. and 9. feet with shoes] or, steps (goings) in shoes: hereby is meant her obedient walking in the faith and Gospel of Christ; whereby she being freed from the misery and bondage of sin, made free by the truth (as John. 8. 32.) stood fast, and walked stedily in the liberty and grace of Christ, Gal. 5. 1. not going barefooted, as was the manner of captives, and others, in misery, Isaiah 20. 4. 2 Sam. 15. 30. but as God rehearsing his blessings upon his Church, saith I shod thee with Tachash skin, Ezek. 16. 10. so here the feet of his Spouse are shod with the preparation (or stability) of the Gospel of Peace; Ephes. 6. 15. with the knowledge▪ profession and obedience whereof, she being firmly settled and defended; her feet and steps were now beautiful; as the feet also of them that preach the Gospel of peace, are said to be beautiful: Rom. 10. 15. bounteous princes daughter] Hebrews: bath nadib, that is, daughter of the bountiful, (or of the Prince, the Noble) for Princes were styled Bountiful or Benefactors, Luke 22. 25. as being free, liberal, and willing to do good unto others: hereby is signified that she was of noble race and ingenuous disposition, ready and willing to serve the Lord, and propagate the grace of his Gospel unto others; as before Christ calleth them his willing (or noble) people: Song, 6. 12. And as a son or daughter of Belial, meaneth one of wicked disposition, Deuteronomy 13. 13. 1 Samuel 1. 16. and for a King to be the son of Nobles, Eccles. 10. 17. is to be of an ingenuous and noble disposition; so to be a daughter of Nadib, is to be nobly and bounteously affected. This title belongeth to such only as believe in Christ, which are borne not of bloods, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God; John 1. 13. Wherefore when Christ was promised to reign in justice, it was said, that then Nabal (the fool, or vile person) should no more be called (Nadib) Liberall, Noble or Bountiful, Isaiah 32. 1. 5.

joints] The original word, used only in this place, hath the signification of turning or going about; and seemeth to mean the bones that turn and move in the hollow of the thighs: these are likened to jewels or ornaments; signifying the firm, upright, goodly and glorious stature, gesture, walking and conversation of this Princes daughter, well beseeming the Gospel which she professeth: being in fit, orderly and due proportion, as the Greek version also implieth. artificer] or faithful craftsman, in Hebrew A man, of fidelity and skilfulnesse in his workmanship: meaning here God or Christ, for he is the Artificer in heavenly things, Hebrews 11 10. and the Church with her gracious blessings is the work of his hands, Isaiah 60. 21.

Verse 2. around goblet] or, a goblet (or cup) of roundness. The Spouse being prepared before for her ready receiving of, and holy steadfast walking in the Gospel of Christ: is now further commended for her propagating the truth unto others: likened to a mother conceiving and nourishing her children. For Zion or Jerusalem (named here the Shulammitesse, Song. 6. 13.) is likened to a woman with child, travelling, bringing forth children (or a man child) and after nursing them with the breasts of her consolation, Isaiah 66. 7.—11. So here first the navel (by which the child is nourished in the womb) is commended for the form, round as a goblet; and for the nourishment, which is as mixed liquor without scarcity, wherewith the goblet is full: and after her breasts (with which the child is nourished after it is brought forth) are praised in verse 3. Thus Paul preaching the Gospel to the Churches is likened sometime to a father that begetteth, sometime to a mother travelling in childbirth; sometime to a nurse cherishing her children, 1 Corinth. 4. 15. Galat. 4. 19. 1 Thessalonians 2. 7. let there not want] or, there wanteth not, or, shall not want: but the former is more pathetical, as wishing a continual supply of grace, for nourishment of the children of Christ: though a promise also is herewith implied. mixture] that is, liquor mixed and tempered, and so made fit to refresh and nourish. For they used to temper and mixe their wine, either with water or milk, to allay the heat; or with spices to make it more comfortable. So the wisdom of God is said to have mingled her wine, Proverbs 9. 2. Christ drank his wine with his milk, Song. 5. 1. and after here is mentioned spiced wine, Song. 8. 2. and mixture (or mixed wine) was sought for of drunkards, Proverbs 23. 29. 30. Isaiah 5. 22. The navel therefore, not wanting mixture, signifieth the juice of grace abundantly supplied of God, for the nourishing and cherishing of his young children, in the body of his Church, so that both mother and infant are in health and good plight, not destitute or any good: even as to them that remember and keep God's Law, it is promised, that health shall be to their navel, and marrow (or moystning to their bones, Proverbs 4. 18. an heap of wheat] The supply and growth of grace is here further commended, by likening her belly to an heap of wheat; for in their harvest, they gathered their come into floores, where it was stacked up on heaps, and after threshed, Ruth 3. 7. Hag. 2. 16. To such a stacke or heap, is her belly resembled: signifying that her spiritual harvest being come, she was ready to bring forth store of good issue, as wheat, fit for the Lord's Granary. set about with lilies] As the corn-floores in Israel being in the open fields, were hedged about for safe defense: so the belly of Christ's Spouse, big and ready to bring forth fruit unto him, is beset as with an hedge of Lilies, for her further comfort and glory. So that her way was not hedged up with thorns, as was the Harlots; Hosea 2. 5. 6. but set about with Lilies, denoting the graces wherewith the Spouse her self, and those about her are environed. The Jews applying these things to their Church estate, in their Chaldee paraphrase, understand by the Navel, the Chief of their Synedrion or high Council, governing all, as the child is nourished by the navell in the mothers womb: the round goblet, to signify his clear doctrine of the Law, as the round moon: so that the words of the Law are not wanting from his mouth, as the waters of the great River running out of Eden, do not fail: by the belly; they understand the 70. wisemen or Counselors that sate about him as a round floor, whose cellars are full of tithes, sanctified things &c. and by Lilies, the men of the great congregation as Ezra, Zerubbabel, Nehemiah, Joshua and the like, who had their employment in the Law, day and night.

V. 3. breasts] that minister sweet consolations to the children, sucking out of them the sincere milk of the Word, Isaiah 66. 11. 1 Pet. 2. 2. See the notes on Song. 4. 5. where this resemblance was formerly used.

V. 4. tower of yvorie] fair, strong and upright. In Song. 4. 4. the neck of the Spouse was likened to the tower of David built for an armory: here it is likened to a tower of yvory (or of Elephants tooth,) which the Chaldee paraphrast expoundeth the yvory tower that King Solomon made. But we read of no such tower made by him, unless it be meant of that great throne of yvory which he made. 2 Chron. 9. 17. and that may well be called a tower; even as the pulpit which was made for Ezra and others to stand upon when they read and expounded the Law unto the people, is called in Hebrew a tower. Neh. 8. 4. Thus, the neck of the Shulammitesse likened to Solomōs yvory thron, denoteth the power and glory of the Church, in her clear doctrine and upright judgments, whereby her children are guided and governed peaceably; freed from the servitude of men, of sin, Satan & all enemies, 1 Cor. 7. 23. Rom. 6. 6. Heb. 2. 14. 15. so that now, Jerusalem is loosed from the bands of her neck, as was promised in Isaiah 52. 2. and is made to inherit the throne of glory, 1 Sam. 2. 8. See the notes on Song. 4. 4. The Chaldee also by the neck here, understandeth the judge of Israel. the pools in Heshbon] or, Cheshbon, in Gr. the lakes in Essebon. As before her eyes were like doves, Song. 4. 1. so here they are like water pools, clear to see the truth, and to look unto the ways and actions of her self and others. It also may intend her watery eyes, weeping for her former sins: as Jeremiah lamenting the sins of his poeple, wisheth that his eyes were a fountain of tears, Ier. 9. 1. and prophesying their conversion, he saith they shall come with weeping▪ &c. Ier. 31. 9. Heshbon was a city where king Sihon sometime dwelt, Num. 21. 26. it was situate in a goodly fertile Country, which the Reubenites possessed, Num. 32. 34. 37. so it seemeth to have in it fair and clear pools or ponds of water, which beautified it, as eyes do the body. The Hebrew expositors understand by these eyes the Prophets, or (as the Chaldee Paraphrast saith) Scribes. Heshbon by interpretation signifieth a Count, computation, or artificial devise: and thus some expound it here, pools artificially made: and pools have their name of blessing; either because they were esteemed great blessings in those hot & dry countries, Judge. 1. 15. or because they were filled with rain the blessing of God, Ezek. 34. 26. Bath rabbim] or, (as the Greek interpreteth it) daughter of many; so that it was agate frequented of many, & it may be a gate where the Judges sate: for public judgments, and Assemblies were at the gates, Ruth 4. 1. 2 Sam. 19. 8. Lam. 5. 14. wherefore if Heshbon be not the proper name of a City, these pools may be thought to be at some gate of Jerusalem, where many people assembled; as in Neh. 8. 3. The Chaldee applieth it to the Governors that sate in gate of the house of the great Council. thy nose]

This is a principal ornamēt of the face; the instrument of smelling, & of drawing breath; sometime it is used for the whole face; and oftentime for anger, which appeareth by the face and breath. Here it seemeth to denote her spiritual courage & bold carriage against her enemies; because her nose is likened to the tower of Lebanon, w<sup>ch</sup> was high & lofty. For as in speech of the wicked the loftines of his nose, (or countenance) in Ps. 10. 4. signifieth his lofty, stout and proud carriage: so here contrariwise it being spoken for praise in the godly, her nose like an high tower, noteth her courage & magnanimity for the truth, manifested in her countenance and behavior, so that she discomfiteth all her enemies. On the contrary, when God threateneth the overthrow of Jerusalem for her adulteries, he saith that her lovers (turned to be her enemies) should take away her nose, and her ears, &c. Ezek. 23. 25. tower of Lebanon] or, of Libanus, which was a mountain in the north parts of the land. It may here be understood of the tower of the house, called the house of the forest of Lebanon, which Solomon built very stately, 1 King. 7. 2. in which he put 200. targets, and 300. shields made of beaten gold, 1 King. 10. 17. looking towards Damascus] or, espying, watching, beholding the face of Damascus; which was the chief City in Syria, Isaiah 7. 8. called in Hebrew Dammesek, sometime Darmesek, as in 1 Chron. 18. 5. and Dummesek, as 2 King 16. 10. in the Greek and in the New Testament Damascus, Act. 9. 2. it lay northward from mount Lebanon aforesaid, was a goodly city of praise and of joy, Ier. 49. 24. 25. The inhabitants were commonly enemies to Israel, and often wars were between God's people and them, as the story of Scriptures showeth, 1 Chron. 18. 5. 6. 1 King. 11. 24. 25. Isaiah 7. 5. 8. Amos 1. 3. Wherefore the tower of Lebanon, looking (or espying, watching) towards Damascus, may intimate here, besides the courage, the care also of the Spouse, for the safeguard of her self and her children, against the enemy. For in times of danger, they set on towers & high places watchmen, or spies, to give warning of what they saw; Isaiah 21. 6. 9. Ezek. 33. 2.—6. 2 Sam. 18. 24. 25.

Ver. 5. Thine head upon thee] This may be understood properly of her head itself, likened to mount Carmel: or, of the ornament upon her head. like Carmel] or, like crimson; but both the Greek version and Chaldee paraphrase, expound it Carmel, the name of a mountain where Elias killed the Baalists, and prayed for rain, 1 King. 18. 19. 20.—42. Carmel also was a place inhabited by Nabal, 1 Sam. 25. 2. 5. It seemeth to have been very fertile; Nahum. 1. 4. for a fruitful place is called Carmel, opposed to a barren wilderness, Isaiah 32. 15. and 29. 17. and 33. 9. Ierem. 4. 26. Thus her head likened to Carmel, may signify her mind filled with the knowledge of God, and fruitful in graces: so God promising the restauration of his Church, saith, Israel shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, &c. Ierem. 50. 19. and foretelling the glory of Christ's Kingdom, saith, the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, &c. Isaiah 35. 2. The Hebrew Carmil, is also used for crimson, or scarlet color, 2 Chron. 3. 14. which may also be meant here, seeing after her hair is likened to purple: and these were colors worn of Princes and great personages, and so meet for this Princes daughter (verse 1.) and for the attire of her head on which she weareth the hope of salvation (through the blood of Christ, which these colors also prefigured) for an helmet, 1 Thes. 5. 8. hair] The original word dallath is nowhere used for hair but in this one place, as the Greek also interpreteth it: properly it signifieth slenderness or tenuity; and so meaneth small and slender hair. Some take it for a small lace or head band, wherewith the attire of the head was tied. This her hair-like purple, denoteth her cogitations and purposes to be holy, heavenly, and as died in the blood of Christ. The Chaldee paraphrase applieth the head here spoken of to the King, the chief Governor in Israel; and the slender hair, to the poor of the people, which should be clad in purple, as was Daniel, Mordecai, &c. See the notes on Song. 4. 1. where the Spouses hair was likened to a flock of goats: that description differing from this, seemeth to imply a variety of estate; for God's people are not always of like condition in this world, though ever glorious in his eyes. the King is bound in the galleries] By the King, in this Song, is meant Solomon, that is, Christ. Re•atim which the Greek here likewise translatheth galleries, is in Genesis 30. 38. 41. and Exod. 2. 16. gutters wherein waters run, for the flock to drink, unto which some think this place hath reference: but in Song. 1. 17. rahitim are galleries that run along the house sides; and so it seemeth to mean here. To be bound in the galleries, is to have a fixed habitation in the house of his Church; where the King is retained, and as it were tied with the bands of love towards his Spouse so excellent in all her parts; that now is fulfilled that which is elsewhere said unto her, The King will covet thy beauty, Psalm 45. 12. and that which is spoken of the lewd woman, her hands are as bands, Eccles. 7. 26. may have use here of the chaste woman, that her graces are such as do not only delight the King, but hold him fast bound unto her in the bands of spiritual wedlock, no more to leave her, but to abide with her forever. For so he hath promised, I will betroth thee unto me forever, Hosea 2. 19. the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married; Isaiah 62. 4. my servant David shall be their Prince forever; and I will set my Sanctuary in the midst of them forever more: and the name of the City from that day, shall be The Lord is there▪ Ezek. 37. 25. 26. and 48. 35. The throne of God and of the Lamb, shall be in it, and his servants shall serve him▪ and they shall reign forever and ever, Rev. 22. 3. 5.

Vers. 6. and how pleasant] This admiration of her beauty and pleasantness, in all her parts, carriage and administration, showeth the reason of the former speech, why the King was bound in the galleries; for that he was delighted, and as it were ravished with her heavenly graces; as before in Son. 4. 9. 10. And as she admired Christ for his fairness and pleasantness; so now she is magnified for the like: see the notes on Song. 1. 15. 16. O love] that is, ô thou that art dearly loved: thus they call her, to signify Christ's great affection towards her: for it is another and more forceable word then was used before in Song. 1. 9. 15. and 2. 2. and 4. 1. 7. and 5. 2. and 6. 4. that, betokening loving society and outward friendship; this, signifying inward charity and loving affection, which is strong and servant, Song. 8. 6. 7. for delights] or, delicacies, or, with pleasures; meaning full delight, all manner pleasure: so that all that love her may rejoice with her, and delight themselves in the brightness of her glory, as Isaiah 66. 10. 11.

Vers. 7. thy stature] or, thy height: in Greek, thy greatness. a palm-tree] or, a date tree, called in Hebrew Tamar, in Greek Phoenix; it is of tall and upright stature, always green and flourishing, bearing pleasant fruit. Wherefore the just man's state is likened to this tree, Psalm 92. 13. and figures of Palme trees (signifying heavenly graces) were made in the Temple, 1 King. 6. 29. and 7. 36. and foretold to be also in the spiritual Temple under the Gospel, Ezek. 41. 18. 19. and palm-branches carried in the hand, or on the head, were signs of victory: wherefore the Saints (that by faith overcome the world) appeared with palm- branches in their hands, Rev. 7. 9. And the palm-tree is said to be of such a nature, that it will not bow downward or grow crooked, though heavy weights be laid upon it, but groweth still upright. So this stature of the Spouse likened to a palm-tree, showeth her spiritual growth in the faith (notwithstanding all her tribulations) tending always upward towards heaven, till she attain unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ, as Eph. 4. 13. For God hath now broken the slaves of her yoke, and made her go upright; Lev. 26. 13. So the Kingdom of Israel (whiles it flourished) is likened to a tree, whose stature was exalted among the thick branches, &c. Ezek. 19. 11. clusters] to wit, of the Vine, as in v. 8. signifying hereby that her breasts were not only fashioned, as in Ezek. 16. 7. but full of milk to nourish her children, and of the wine of heavenly consolations, which they that love her may suck and be satisfied as Isaiah 66. 11. So that now the state of the Church is not as when complaint was made, there is no cluster to eat, Mic. 7. 1. but as when new wine was found in the cluster: and he said, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it, Isaiah 65. 8.

Vers. 8. I will go-up to] or, I will climb-up on the palm-tree; meaning to gather the fruit thereof. This purpose and promise, if it be spoken in the person of Christ, implieth his acceptation of the fruits of the Spirit in his Spouse, as is noted on Son. 5. 1. But it seemeth (by that which followeth) to be the speech of her friends aforesaid, speaking collectively as one person, to note their unity and joint co 〈...〉 to communicate with her graces, as in Isaiah 66. 15. 11. For things of this sort, are spoken both of God, and of his people, Isaiah 62. 5. the boughs thereof] or, the branches of it: the Hebrew Sansinnim is nowhere used but in this place: the Greek translatheth it the heightes thereof, meaning the branches which are on high, and which bear the fruit. For the Palme-tree though it be very tall, hath no boughs growing out by the sides of the body, as other trees; but on the very top, the leaves (which are long like swords) spread abroad pleasant to behold; and the fruit groweth not among the leaves, but on the top of the branches; as historians do record, Pliny l. 13. c. 5. So Christ (if it be understood of him) going up and taking hold of the boughs, both signifieth it to be his own possession, and showeth his care and love to look unto it, and to purge the branches that they may bear more fruit, (as the Father doth the fruitful branches of the Vine, John. 15. 1. 2.) and likewise to enjoy and accept of the gracious fruits of his Spouse, with whom he will now continue. Or, taking it (as before) for the speech of the faithful Company, it meaneth their purpose and endeavor to partake of the heavenly fruits which this Church bringeth forth. be as clusters] or, shall be as clusters; and thus it is an assurance or promise of blessing to her from the Lord filling her with the juice or grace, that she shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of Christ, 〈◇〉 Pet. 1. 8. but as is promised, He will cause them that come of Jacob, to take root; Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Isaiah 27. 6. But it may be taken also as a wish, and let thy breasts I pray thee be as clusters of the Vine; that is, have not thou a miscarrying womb, and dry breasts (as Hos. 9. 14.) but grow in grace and in knowledge▪ be not an empty vine, as Israel was of old, Hos. 10. 1. Leave 〈◇〉 thy wine, which cheereth God and man, Judge. 13. but be filled with the Spirit; that we may suck and be satisfied with the breasts of thy consolations, Isaiah 66. 11. the smell of thy nose, 〈◇〉 apples] her nose, commended for the form, in verse. 4. denoted her good carriage, and courage for the truth. The smell, odour, or sent the 〈◇〉 meaneth the good report and fame thereof 〈◇〉 broad: which is comfortable as a sweet  $\langle\phi\rangle$  Or, by the smell of her nose, may be understood the breath coming out of her nostril, that it should be sweet. And so not only her outward behavior should be commendable, but the hidden man of the heart, uncorrupted: that the breath or spirit proceeding from within, be pure; and God may manifest the smell (or favor) of his knowledge by her in every place, 2 Cor. 2. 14. as the favor of life, unto life; and like the savor of apples, which refresh those that languish and are sick of the love of Christ; as Song.  $\langle\phi\rangle$  . 5.

Vers. 9. thy palate] or, the roof of thy mouth▪ in Greek, thy throat. The palate  $\langle\phi\rangle$  ones own use is to  $\langle\phi\rangle$  and discern,  $\langle\phi\rangle$  in Job 34. 3. the palate  $\langle\phi\rangle$  ▪ out for others it is the instrument of speech, as in Prov. 8. 7. my palate shall speak truth. This latter use seemeth here to be meant, that her palate, to weet, her speech and doctrine, should be like good wine, to comfort and revive bitter and heavy hearts, Prov. 31. 6. the good wine] that is, the best, most excellent, sweet and wholesome wine: as the good oil, (Psalm. 133. 2.) is the best, sweetest, and most precious oil. The comfortable doctrines of the Gospel, are likened to wine, Isaiah 55. 1. 2. 3. Prov. 9. 2. 5. See the notes on Song. 1. 2. that goeth to my beloved] a commendation of the good wine, from the effects: that it is pleasing unto God; and profitable unto men. For by the Beloved, usually in this Song is meant Christ: by going to righteousnesses (or according to righteousnesses) that is, going aright, straightly or directly, is signified the nature of pure wine, manifesting the goodness by the moving and springing in the cup, whereby it is discerned to be the right and natural wine, and is pleasing to them that drink it. The like phrase Solomon used in Prov. 23. 31. Look not on the wine when it is red, when it giveth his color in the cup, when it goeth (or walketh, that is, moveth it self) in righteousnesses: as there, the nature of the most pure and generous wine is described, whereby men are allured to drink thereof; so here the right wine, the pure and wholesome doctrine out of the mouth of the Spouse, is declared by the company of Believers, to be pleasing and right in the eyes of Christ their Beloved. It may also intimate, how the Spouse (filled with the Spirit, rather than with wine, Ephes. 5. 18.) her speeches should tend to lead all unto Christ, and unto righteousnesses: that is, faith in him, and righteous works which he requireth us to walk in. causing to speak] that maketh to speak, or giveth utterance, to the lips of those that are asleep: or, speaking in the tips, &c. This is the other effect of the Spirit, that as wine maketh men talkative, Prov. 23. 29. so the Spirit maketh men to utter the mysteries of God: as the disciples (when some thought they were full of new wine) prophesied and spake with other tongues, the great works of God, as the Spirit gave them utterance, Acts 2. 4. 11. 13. &c. By sleepers here are meant sinners, awaked and quickened by the word preached, as it is said, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead; and Christ shall give thee light, Ephes. 5. 14. And so it was promised, Thy dead men shall live, my dead bodies shall arise: awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust, Isaiah 26. 19. And Fzekiel by prophesying, raised to life the dead bones of the house of Israel, Ezek. 37 which also the Chaldee paraphrast alledged in opening this place. And not only dead men, (which are said to be asleep, Dan. 12. 2.) but others also that live, and through negligence or security fall asleep (as the Spouse acknowledgeth of her self, in Song. 5. 2.) are enabled by this spiritual wine, to speak: for having drink thereof, they forget their poverty, and remember their misery no more, as Prov. 31. 6. 7. So God promising to restore comforts unto Israel, and to his mourners, saith that he createth the fruit of the lips, peace, peace, &c. Isaiah 57. 18. 19.

Vers. 10. I am my Beloveds] Here the Spouse, as full of the wine of grace and consolation from the Lord, testifieth her assurance by faith, that she is Christ's; and so an heir of salvation by promise, Gal. 3. 19. See before in Song. 2. 16. and 6. 3. his desire] his desirous affection, the Greek interpreteth it▪ his conversion (or turning) is towards me. This manner of speech was used before, when God chastening the woman for her sin, said, thy desire shall be unto thy husband, Gen. 3. 16. but now this woman being renewed by grace, and espoused unto Christ, as to an husband, 2 Cor. 11. 2. rejoiceth that his desire is unto her. And this appeareth by the whole scope of this Song and especially by those words, in Chap. 2. 14. and 4. 9. 10. and 7. 5. So contrary each to other are our natural sinful state, and our estate by grace in Christ.

Verse 11. into the field] or, into the country: a place of corn, Vines, figtrees, Pome granat-trees, &c. as Joel 11. 12. in the villages] or, by the Cypress trees; for the Hebrew Cepharim may signify both: but the Greek also interpreteth it villages, and such country villages, are distinguished from fenced cities, 1 Sam. 6. 18. 1 Chron. 27. 25. The Spouse here desireth of Christ, that they may go together into the field and villages, to look unto their husbandry, how it prospered and whether the trees there planted did flourish and fructify, as the next words manifest. Hereby their desire and care is signified, for the increase and propagation of the gospel abroad in the world, (for the field in the parable is the world, Matth. 13. 38.) And as Christ himself in the days of his flesh went about all the cities and villages, preaching the gospel, Matt. 9. 35. Mark. 6. 6. and his disciples went abroad to teach all nations Matt. 28. 19. so afterward both he in spirit walked among the golden Candlesticks of his Churches, looking to their ways, Revel. 2. and 3. and his Apostles went again to visit their brethren in every City where they had preached the word of the Lord, and to see how they did; Act. 15. 36. Such a cate is here intimated, that the Lord's field might be visited, where he had (like a wise husband man) prepared and fitted his work, Prov. 24. 27.

Verse 12. Let us get up early] or, Let us rise betimes in the morning; another act of diligence and care, Psal. 127. 2. such as God performed to Israel of old, when he rose up early and sent his Prophets unto them, because he had compassion on them; and the Prophets rose-early and spake unto them, 2 Chron. 36. 15. Ierem. 25. 3. 4. to the vineyards] that is, the Churches▪ or places where the Gospel had been planted: so the house of Israel, was the Lord's Vineyard, Isaiah 5. 7. The Chaldee also expoundeth this of the house (or place) of assembly, for learning God's Law. the tender grape] the first small-grape; of this; see Song. 2. 13. 15. open it self] that is, appear and so give a sweet smell; the Greek interpreteth it, flourish: it meaneth the first appearance of fruit before the grapes be anything near ripe; a token that the Spring is come, and that Summer is nigh; as Song. 2. 12. 13. The Chaldee Paraphrast applieth it to the time of Israel's redemption. pomegranates] or, pomegranate-tres, such do signify the particular persons in the Churches, full of grace and good works; See Song. 4. 13. there will ( < o> give my loves] The Spouse promiseth to give unto Christ the fruition of her graces and fruits of her faith, confession, thanks, good works, &c. there in the Vineyards of the Churches, in the society of the Saints: For the Lord keepeth his Vineyard and watereth it every moment; he causeth them that come of Jacob to take root; Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit, Isaiah 27. 3. 6. And I will bring forth (saith the Lord) a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains; and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there. There shall the house of Israel all of them in the land serve me; there will I accept them; and there will I require your offerings, and the first fruits of your oblations, with all your holy things, I will accept you with your sweet savor, &c. Isaiah 65. 9. Ezek. 20. 40. 41.

Vers. 13. The Mandrakes] Dudaim (which the Greek also called Mandragoraes or Mandrakes) have allusion in name to Dodim, loves, forementioned: and Dod that is, Beloved, as she after calleth Christ. Mandrakes grew in the field, and were found in the days of wheat harvest, as the history showeth in Gen. 30. 14. &c. It appeareth by 〈◇〉▪ chels desire there of them, & by the smell that here they are said to give, that they were very lovely and pleasant, (differing from the Mandrakes that grow in these parts.) The Chaldee paraphrast calleth it Balsemon, Balsam. give a smell] or, an odour, that is, are fragrant and yield a pleasant savor: so the Uines are said before to give a smell, Song. 2. 13. and the Spikenard of the Spouse, Song. 1. 12. at our doors] or; by our doors: which seemeth to be opposed unto the fields where Mandrakes grew (as after new fruits are opposed unto the old;) signifying that both at home and abroad near & far, the fame and odour of graces in God's people, spread it self. For a thing is said to be at the doors when it is nigh at hand; Mat. 24. 53. precious things] or dainties, pleasant fruits, & delightful graces, see the notes on Song. 4. 13. 16. new and old] signifying here by variety and plenty, Lev. 26. 10. and old fruits are oft times better then new, as Luk. uk. 5 39. So •ow the state of the Church (instructed unto the Kingdom of heaven) is like the householder which bringeth forth out of his treasury, things new and old, Matt. 13. 52. laid them up] or hidden▪ treasured, stored-up, to be reserved & safely kept. The Chaldee paraphraseth thus: Now rise (O King Christ) receive the Kingdom 〈◇◇〉 have laid up for thee. As the goodness of God is great, which he hath laid up for them that fear him, Psal. 31. 20. so all the goodness and fruits of grace that flow from his people▪ are unto his honor and praise, consecrated unto him. For of him, and through him, and for him are all things: to him 〈◇〉 glory forever, Amen. Rom: 11. 3•.

CHAPTER VIII.

WHo will give thee, as a brother to me; sucking the breasts of my mother: I would find thee without, I would kiss thee; also, they should not despise me, I would lead thee, I would bring thee into my mothers house, thou shouldest instruct me: I would cause thee to drink, of spiced wine; of the juce, of my Pomegranate. His left hand, under mine head; and his right-hand, embrace me. [unspec 3]

I adjure you, ô daughters of Jerusalem: why should ye stir, and why should ye stir-up the Love, until it please▪

Who is this, that cometh-up out of the wilderness; that leaneth, upon her Beloved? Under the apple-tree, I stirred up; there, thy mother painfullybrought thee forth, there, she painfullybrought forth that bare thee. Set me, as a seal, upon thine heart; as a seal, upon thine 〈◇〉 ; for love, is strong as death, zeal, is hard as hell: the coals thereof are coals of fire, the flame of Yah. Many waters, cannot quench love; neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house, for love; contemning they would contemn it.

We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister, in the day when she shall be spoken of▪ If she be a wall; we will build upon her, a palace of silver: and if she be a door▪ we will inclose her, with boards of Cedar. I am a wall, and my breasts as to w 〈...〉 : then was I in his eyes, as one that findeth peace.

〈...〉 on had a Vineyard, in Baalhath on▪ he gave the Vineyard, to keepers: every man shall bring for the fruit thereof, a thousand (shekels) of silver▪ 〈◇〉 My Vineyard which is mine, is before 〈...〉 , ô So 〈◇〉 ▪ and two hundred, to those that keep the 〈◇〉 thereof.

Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions attending to thy voice 〈◇〉 thou me to hear.

He my beloved, and be thou like to a Roe, or to a 〈◇〉 of the Harts; upon, the mountains of spices.

CHAPTER VIII.

O Who will give thee, as to me a brother; [unspec 1]

Even he that sucked the breasts of my mother:

I would find thee without, I would kiss thee;

And also, I should not despised be.

I would thee lead, I would thee bring into [unspec 2]

My mothers house, instruct me shouldest thou:

I would cause thee to drink, wine mixed with spice,

Of my Pomegranate the delightful juice.

His left hand, underneath mine head (have place) [unspec 3]

His right hand also, me about embrace.

O daughters of Jerusalem that be, [unspec 4]

I do adjuring charge you: why should ye

Awaking-stir, and why should ye disease,

By stirring up the Love, until it please?

Who's this, that comes up from the desert wast [unspec 5]

That to her Loved, leaning cleaveth-fast?

I stirred thee up, under the Apple-tree:
Thy mother there with pain did bring-forth thee;
There, she that bare thee did bring-forth-with▪ smart.
O set me, as a seal upon thine heart; [unspec 6]
Upon thine arm (eke set me) as a seal;
For love is strong as death; and jealous-zeal,
Is hard as hell: the coals eke of the same
Are coals of fire, of Iahs consuming flame.
The many waters, love they cannot quench; [unspec 7]
Neither the floods, are able it to dre•ch:
If man would all wealth of his house expend,
For love; it would be utterly contemned.
We have a sister small, no breasts hath she: [unspec 8]
In day when she is spoke of, what shall we Do for our sister? If she be a wall; [unspec 9]
A silver palace, build on her we shall:
And if she be a door; inclose will we
Her round about, with boards of Cedar tree.
I am a wall, my breasts as towers likewise: [unspec 10]
Then was I as peace finding in her eyes.
In Baal-hamon, there a Vineyard was [unspec 11]
Of Solomon's; the Vineyard he did pass
In hire to keepers: every man he brings
For fruit thereof, a thousand silverlings.
My Vineyard which is mine, fore me remains: [unspec 12]
The thousand to thee, Solomon pertains;
Two hundred eke, be the fruit-keepers part.
O thou that dweller in the gardens art, [unspec 13]

Unto thy voice they that companions be Attending are to hear it cause thou me.

Flee, my Belov'd, and have a ••es likeness, [unspec 14]

⟨◊⟩ a young Hart; on ⟨◊⟩ of spices.

Annotations.

*W*ho will give thee] that is, O if some would give thee; or, O that thou wert: a form of wishing often used in the Scripture; see Deut. 5. 29. Psal. 14. 7. The faithful here desire the brotherhood, love and communion of Christ, for their further comfort, and that they might manifest their love and obedience unto him. as a brother] loving affected, conjoined, familiar and conversant with me. Brotherhood, signifieth near conjunction and consociation, whether by bond of nature, or otherwise by agreement and covenant, Zach. 11. 14 Wherefore things without life, coupled together, are called man and his brother; or, Woman and her sister; Exod. 25. 20. and 26. 3. and they that are companions in like estate (though differing in nature) are brethren; as Job was a brother to dragons, and a companion to Owls, Job 30. 29. and a man in quality, condition or action like another, is called his brother, Prov. 18. 9. Gen. 49. 5. and when Solomon persuadeth his son to affect, love, and associate himself unto Wisdom, he biddeth him say unto her, Thou art my sister, Prov. 7. 4. Although therefore Christ in his humanity was the brother of his people, taking part of the same flesh and blood with them, Heb. 2. 14. yet is he chiefly called our brother, because we are all of one Father by the Spirit of sanctification, Heb. 2. 11. 12. Matth. 12. 50. And this seemeth to be the desire of the godly here, that Christ would vouchsafe to enter into covenant with them, by his Word and Spirit, and to accompany them with his grace, for their mutual comfort, and fruition each of others love: that he would show himself as a brother, lovingly affectioned, merciful and compassionate in their troubles and miseries; as a brother is borne for adversity, Prov. 17. 13. sucking] or, that sucked the breasts of my mother, that is, every way most nearly conjoined, as having both one father and one mother, for so the band or kindred is more near, then if they had one father only, as Abraham said, she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother, Gen. 20. 12. Wherefore the child followed the mother, if she were a free or a bondwoman, the child was likewise, Exod. 21. 4. Gal. 4. 22. 30. And between brethren of the same mother, the affections and love are most vehement; as Joseph's carriage towards Benjamin manifesteth, Gen. 43. 29. 30. 34. The mother here is Jerusalem which is above, which is the mother of us all, and signifieth the New Testament or Covenant of grace and freedom, Gal. 4. 26. 24. To ⟨◊⟩ the breasts of this mother, is to participate of her grace and consolations, Esa. 66. 10. 11. and 60, 16. and Christ is then said to suck these breasts, when the Covenant or Testament is by him confirmed and stablished to and with his people, openly professed, and the communion of graces mutually doth grow. Which communion is figuratively signified by eating, drinking, sucking, supping together and the like. Song 5. 1. Luk. 22. 15. 16 John. 6. 51. Rev. 3. 20. The Hebrews in then Chaldee paraphrase give this exposition; In that time, the King Christ shall be revealed unto the Congregation of Israel; and the sons of Israel shall say unto him; Come, be thou with us for a brother, and let us go up to Jerusalem; and we will suck with thee, the senses (or meanings) of the Law, as a sucking child sucketh the breasts of his mother. It may also be observed, that things are sometime said to be done unto Christ, which are done unto his people, Matth. 25. 35.—40. Acts 9. 4. 5. Colos. 1. 24. As therefore Christians, when they are begotten or converted unto Christ by the Gospel, have Christ formed in them, Gal. 4. 19. so when such are nourished with the sincere milk of the word, (as 1 Pet. 2. 2.) it may be said that Christ himself is nourished in them; for he and his people are one body, and mystically called Christ, 1 Cor. 12. 12. Thus the things here spoken of as to be done unto Christ, may be fulfilled by the begetting, nourishing and cherishing of the elect, when the Covenant of life and peace is made, continued and confirmed among them. I would find thee without] Her fervent love and desire of Christ's communion and brotherly grace, is here accompanied with a promise of all careful and loving duty, acceptation and obedience on her part. For to find him without (or in the street;) where the Wisdom of God crieth, and teacheth, Pro. 1. 20. Luk. 13. 26. signifieth her ready mind to go forth to meet him (as the virgins should to the Bridegroom, Matth. 25. 6.) and both lovingly & boldly to entertain and welcome him, by receiving and obeying his Gospel, as the sequel sheweth <...>. See also Song 3. 2. 4. would kiss thee] a sign of love, honor, and of obedience; as all are exhorted to kiss the son, Psal. 2. 12. See Song 1. 2. they should not despise me] that is, men should not, or, I should not be despised, for so this manner of speech often importeth, as is noted on Gen. 16. 4. Persons are despised or contemned, when either they do, or are thought to do, that which is not honest or comely, Gen. 38. 23. 2 Sam. 6. 16. or, when they miss of their purpose, and are laughed to <◇> with contempt, Esa. 37. 22. Neither of these should befall her, doing but her duty in <◇> and modest sort, and obtaining Christ whom her soul desired. What the state of a people is without Christ, and how subject they are to shame and reproach; the Lord himself showeth in Esa. 54. 1. 4. 6. But them that honor God, he will honor; and they that despise him, shall be lightly-esteemed, 1 Sam. 2. 30. and if any man serve Christ, <◇> will the Father honor, John. 12. 26.

Vers. 2. I would leads thee] to weat, with honor and solemnity, with joy and gladness: for Kings and great personages are said to be sed & brought along, Esa. 60. 11. Psal. 45. 15. 16. Here, that which the faithful desire & receive of God & of Christ, to be led and to be brought to his holy mountain, <◇>. 43. 3. they promise to do unto Christ: but the Lord doth it by the sight of his Word and Spirit, Esa. 63. 14. Psal, 143. 10. they do it unto <◇>, by earnest prayers stirring-up themselves to take hold on him, Esa. 64. 1. 7. my mothers house] the state of Ecclesiastical policy, and public assembly, figured by the house or Temple of God in Jerusalem of old, (unto which the Chaldee paraphrase here referreth it,) but is fulfilled in Christian Churches, which are God's house and temple now, Heb. 3. 6. 2 Cor. 6. 16. especially in that Jerusalem, which is the mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26. See Song 3. 4. thou should instruct me] or, shalt teach, shalt learn me, speaking to Christ, whose instruction she would gladly receive. Thus also the Greek interpreteth it, thou shalt teach me; and the Chaldee, thou shalt teach me to fear before the Lord. It may also be referred to the mother aforesaid, she that instructeth her; but the former seemeth most agreeable, and showeth both her desire, and the end of bringing Christ unto her home, that she might be further taught and built up by the doctrines of his Gospel. And thus it is prophesied, how in the last days, many people should say, Come and let us go up, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths, &c. Esa. 2. 2. 3. Mich. 4. 1. 2. of spiced wine] wine sweetened with a mixture, or confection of spices; such (in the Law) were put into the holy incense, and oil, Exod. 30. 34. 35. 23. 25. such were also used at the burial of the dead, 2 Chronicles 16. 14. and for banqueting, as this place showeth. the juice] or, the new-liquor, the sweet-wine, which hath the name of treading or pressing out of the pomegranates or grapes. Hereby she signifieth that the word should not be fruitless in her; but that she would honor Christ with her graces, and render unto him such fruits of faith, as should be sweetened & spiced with his own Spirit in her, & wrung out of her by the same, whiles she hath fellowship in his afflictions. For when Christ administereth the comforts of his Word and Spirit, he giveth us wine to drink, Prov. 9. 1. 5. Esa. 55. 1. 3. and when we bring forth the fruits of his Spirit, and with them do glorify him, and edify our brethren, he counteth himself refreshed as with wine, and taketh pleasure in his people. See Song 4. 10. and 5. 1. This juice and wine, spiced with the truth, faith, grace, and spirit of the Lord; is contrary to that cup in the woman's hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication, the heresies, idolatries, and other fruits of the flesh, with which  $\langle \phi \rangle$ , the inhabitants of the earth were made drunk; Rev. 17. 2. 4.

Vers. 3. under mine head] understand it prayer-wise as before, let it be under: or, should be under my head. The Spouse privy to her own infirmities, and desirous of strength and comfort from Christ;  $\langle \dots \rangle$  eth that she may be sustained by him, and find rest to her soul in the feeling of his love, whose grace is sufficient for her, whose strength is made per  $\langle \dots \rangle$  weakness; 2 Cor. 12. 9. See before in Song 26. where the like words are used.

Vers. 4. I adjure you] or, I charge you by an oath.  $\langle \dots \rangle$  here enjoying Christ, desireth the continuance of his grace, and chargeth her friends that they should by no means, disquiet, provoke or grieve him: as she had adjured them twice before, Song 2. 7. and 3. 5. See the annotations there. why should ye stir] that is, do not stir, for it will not be for your profit▪ before it was said, if ye stir, in the like sense, and there (in Song 2. 7. and 3. 5.) the Roes, and Hindes of the field were mentioned, which are not here.

Vers. 5. Who is this] this woman. This either implieth the springing up of a new Church, conducted by Christ through the wilderness of this world: or, if it be understood of the former, it showeth the admiration of the daughters of Jerusalem, at her increase, strong faith, patience, holy order, &c. whiles she followeth and relieth upon Christ. So before, in Song 3. 6. the wilderness] the people's of this world, out of which the people of God are chosen, and called, Ezek. 20. 35. John. 15. 19. It signifieth also her former misery, under persecution; or under the bondage of sin and Satan, from which she escapeth by Christ; for the wilderness was a dry and thirsty land, a land of drought, and of the shadow of death; Ezek. 19. 13. Ier. 2. 6. that leaneth] or, leaning, cleaving to, adjoining, associating her self: it is a word, not elsewhere used in Scripture, and is borrowed from the Arabian language: the Greek translatheth it, confirming, or strengthening her self. It signifieth her weakness in her self, unable to sustain her steppes: but her strength in Christ her beloved, on whom she leaning by faith, is confirmed against all doubts, fears, dangers, difficulties, temptations, and by her union with him, is made partaker of all grace and comfort; for he that is joined to the Lord, is one Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 17. and is by him made perfect, stablished, strengthened, settled; as 1 Pet. 5. 10. This grace is foretold by the Prophet, according to God's first dealing with Israel, when he put his holy Spirit within his people, and led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness; they stumbled not. As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the Lord quietly led him: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name: Esa. 63. 11. 13. 14. I stirred thee up] or, I raised thee up. They by the words of the Spouse, speaking again to her Beloved; whom she stirred or raised up as out of sleep, by her earnest prayers, as in Psal. 44. 24. Stir up, why sleepest thou Lord? And they that give themselves to prayer, are said also to stir up themselves, Esa. 64. 7. This raising up, was under the Apple tree, the tree of life and grace, whose shadow and fruit had been delightful and sweet unto her; and to which tree, Christ himself was likened, Song 2. 3. So she by faith taking hold on the covenant of grace & promises of life in Christ, called on his name in her for owes, and stirred him up for her help & comfort. there] under the Apple tree, the faith and hope of salvation and life. thy mother] the faithful company, or the primitive Church, who brought forth Christ into the world, by preaching, professing, practicing and suffering for his Gospel. painfully brought thee forth] travelled of thee with sorrow▪ The bringing forth of Christ into the world, by the preaching and witnessing of the Gospel, (that the child might be borne unto us, Esa. 9. 6.) is set forth by the similitude of a woman in her painful-travel, Rev. 12. 1. 2. Gal. 4. 19. For as child-birth is accompanied with many pangs and sorrows, like bands that constrain forceably: so is the bringing forth of Christ into the hearts and minds of men, that they may believe in him, performed with much labor, sorrow and difficulty; In much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in imprisonments, in tossings to and fro, in labors, in watchings, in fastings, &c. 2 Cor. 6. 4. 5. and 4. 8. 11. Wherefore the Church signifying her sorrows, for the deliverance and salvation of her children, saith, Like as a woman with child that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, crieth out in her pangs; so have we been in thy sight O Lord. We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind; we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, &c. Esa. 26. 17. 18.

Vers. 6. Set me] or, Put me as a seal upon thine heart. The Spouse desireth of Christ, assurance and confirmation of his love towards her; that she may be graven as the engraving of a scale or signet, upon his heart. This hath reference to the high Priest of old, who having the names of the twelve Tribes of Israel, graven upon twelve precious stones, like the engravings of a signet (or seal) is said to bear the names of the sons of Israel, in the Breast-plate of judgment upon his heart; for a memorial before the Lord continually; Exod. 28. 21. 29. So she desireth Christ to be her merciful and faithful high Priest, in things pertaining to God, Heb. 2. 17. that he would have a continual care of her salvation, mindful of her himself, and making a memorial of her before God his Father; and that this affection of love, might not vanish away, but be as a deep impression in his heart forever. For a seal is used for a ratifying and confirming that which is spoken, that it may not be disannulled, Neh. 9. 38. Rom. 4. 11. And this God signified to Zerubbabel saying, I will set thee as a seal; for I have chosen thee; Hag. 2. 23. and again it is said, The foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal; the Lord knoweth them that are his: 2 Tim. 2. 19. a seal upon thine arm] The high Priest bare the names of the Tribes, not only upon his heart; but the same names he also bare (engraven like a seal) upon his shoulders before the Lord for a memorial, Exod. 28. 11. 12. And the Lord promising the daughter of Zion, that he would not forget her to have compassion on her, saith: Behold I have graven thee upon the plumes of my hands; thy walls, are continually before me, Esa. 49. 15. 16. But as the heart signifieth inward love, so the arm of Christ signifieth his outward manifestation of love, by helping, bearing and supporting her in all her infirmities, through his power: wherefor it is said, Thou redeemest thy people with the arm, Psal. 77. 16. and, thou hast scattered thine enemies, with the arm of thy strength, Psal. 89. 11. and unto Jerusalem he saith, Behold the Lord will come with strong (hand) and his arm shall rule for him: He will feed his flock like a shepherd, he will gather the Lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, Esa. 40. 10. 11. love is strong as death] as death is strong, and overcometh the strongest man, Psal. 89. 48. so the love which I bear towards thee, desiring to be united unto thee, is a strong affection which cannot be subdued in me by any trouble or temptation. zeal] or, gealousie: zeal is love inflamed and fervent: and is used sometime in good part, as John. 2. 17. sometime in the evil, called bitter zeal (or envying) I am. 3. 14. so is gealousie, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Here it seemeth to be meant of godly zeal, or gealousie, wherewith her heart was also affected towards Christ. hard as hell] cruel, fierce and inexorable, as is hell it self, that is, the grave or state of death, whereof see the notes on Gen. 37. 35. that as death and the grave devoureth all, so love and jealous-zeal consumeth and eateth up, not sparing: for the love of Christ constraineth, 2 Cor. 5. 14. and the zeal for his glory, eateth up the godly, Psal. 69. 9. the coals] the fiery coals, arrows, or fiery darts: properly the word signifieth that which flieth and burneth; & is applied sometimes to plagues & judgments, Deut. 32. 24. sometimes to arrows, Psal. 76. 3. here, to burning coals or darts of love, that pierce and inflame the heart, and cannot be quenched. flame of Yah] the consuming flame of God: Shalhebeth-jah, noteth a vehement or consuming flame of Yah (the Lord:) as the piercing and devouring lightning: but meaneth the fire of his Spirit, which is compared unto fire, Matth. 3. 11. for the power and efficacy thereof in the hearts of the children of God.

Vers. 7. many waters] By waters and floods are often meant, afflictions, troubles, wars, persecutions, temptations, wherewith the faith, love, patience of Christ's people are exercised & tried; Psal. 69. 2. Esa. 8. 7. 8. and 59. 19. Dan. 9. 26. and 11. 12. So here is signified that the love of Christ wherewith the minds of his people are inflamed, is such, as cannot be quenched with any calamities. And thus it is said, Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? (as it is written, for thy sake we are killed all the day long, we are accounted as sheep of slaughter:) nay in all these things we  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  more then conquerors, through him that loved us  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  I am persuaded that neither death, nor life, nor  $\langle \dots \rangle$  nor Principalities, nor powers, nor things present,  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  which is in Christ Jesus our Lord, Rom. 8.  $\langle \dots \rangle$  all the substance] or, all the riches (wealth)  $\langle \dots \rangle$  ver, gold, &c. that is in his house.  $\langle \diamond \rangle$  they would contemn it] that is, it would utterly (or altogether) be contemned; or, he would wholly be contemned. As the love between Christ and his Church cannot be separated, being united by the Holy Ghost so neither can love, nor other grace of God be bought for money, but is the free gift of God bestowed on whom he pleaseth▪

Act. 8. 18. 19. 20. Rom. 9. 11.—16. So wisdom cannot be go 〈...〉 for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof, &c. John. 28. 15.—19. Prov. 8. 11. 19.

Vers. 8. We have a little sister] The godly here consult about a new Church arising, whom they call a sister; in respect of the unity of faith; little (or small) as being young, newly converted, and nothing populous, without breasts, as having yet no stablished ministry, (for such is the state of the Churches in their beginning, as appeareth by Act. 14. 23. Tit. 1. 5.) so that her children could not suck out the sincere milk of the word, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, 1 Pet. 2. 2. Esa. 66. 11. for she was not yet come to the estate of Israel whose breasts were fashioned, and the Lord entered into covenant with her, and she became his, Ezek. 16. 7. 8. when she shall be spoken of] or, wherein speech shall be of her: when the fame of her calling and conversion shall come abroad, what furtherance shall we yield, to increase, settle, stablish her in the truth. This showeth the duty of love from one Church to another, in communicating their graces each to other, and praying one for another. See an example in Act. 11. 19. 22. 23. This Hebrew phrase of speech to be had of her (or in her,) may be understood two ways, for or against her: for her, when treaty shall be of her espousals unto Christ; thus David sent and spake of (or with) Abigail, to take her to him to wife, 1 Sam. 25. 39. against her, as the people spake against God, and against Moses, Numb. 21. 5. and Princes speak against me, Psal. 119. 23. For no sooner do a people turn to the Lord, but the wicked do oppose in word and work. And thus the Hebrews in their Chaldee Paraphrase expound it here, What shall we do for our sister, in the day when the nations shall speak to go up against her, unto war?

Vers. 9. If she be is wall] The answer to the thing proponed, made (as some think) by Christ, to which the Chaldee paraphrast agreeth, saying, Michael the Prince of Israel will say: or, by other her sister churches, desirous to procure her good. a wall] that is, strong and well grounded in the truth; and so become a city, which is often described by walls, gates, bars, &c. 2 Chron 8. 5. and 14. 7. Revel, 21. 12. Spiritually it meaneth her faith and hope of salvation in Christ, grounded on the doctrine of the twelve tribes of Israel, and twelve Apostles of Christ, Rev. 21. 14. 19. as, Thou shalt call thy walls salvation, Esa. 66. 18. and, we have a strong city, salvation will God appoint for walls and bulworkes, Esa. 26. 1. Moreover, when God signified the strength and courage of his Prophet against their enemies, he faith, I will make thee unto this people, a fenced brazen wall; and they shall fight against thee shall not prevail,•er. 15. 20. we will b 〈...〉 d] Here, by we, may be implied the Trinity in the Godhead, as Gen. 1. 26. Song 〈◇〉 . 11. or, we may mean Christ inwardly & effectually by his grace, and his people (her sisters) outwardly and ministerially by the word of the Gospel. a palace] or, 〈...〉 le, a tower, a fair and orderly building; such as were wont est times to be set on strong walls of cities: and this being of silver, noteth the purity, excellency and durableness of this palace, adorned with the graces of God's word and Spirit, that so she might be built for an habitation of God through the Spirit, Eph. 2. 22. and be able to resist the forces of her enemies. and if she be a door] if she go forward in the faith and practice of the Gospel, that she be not only built up as a wall, but as a gate and door, fully edified; as at the repairing of Jerusalem, when they sanctified the gates, and set up the doors of it, Nehem. 3. which gates, doors, bars, &c. were for the safeguard of the inhabitants, and shown their care to resist and keep out the enemies, (as appeareth by the contrary in Ier. 49. 31.) as also to open, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truths may enter in, Esa. 26. 2. Psal. 118. 20. Therefore Angels are at the gates of the heavenly City, to conduct God's people into it, Revel. 21. 12. 27. and 22. 14. we will inclose her] or, we will fence her about, with board of Cedar; which is fair, strong and durable, and of sweet savor: of such the Temple was built, 1 King. 6. 15.—18.

V. 10. I am a wall] or, I became a wall; that is, I grew up and waxed strong in the faith & love of Christ. The little sister showeth her readiness to receive and increase in the doctrine of the Gospel my breasts as towers] my breasts are fashioned, Ezek. 16. 7. the ministry of the word established in me, to nourish up children unto Christ. The similitude of towers, noteth also the strength, power, and glory of the administration of the Gospel: and the open preaching of it out of pulpits of high places, that all may hear. For Migdal, a tower, is used for a pulpit, in Neh. 8. 4. in his eyes] in Christ's sight. findeth peace] We all in our natural corruption are enemies to God, Rom. 5. 10. but being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, Rom. 5. 1. for the work of righteousness is peace, and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance forever, Esa. 32. 17. and this peace is enjoyed by the Holy Ghost, Rom. 8. 6. 9. and it is opposed to all the troubles, temptations, persecutions and afflictions in this life and world, John. 16. 33. and is that which guardeth our hearts and minds, through Christ Jesus, Phil. 4. 7.

Vers. 11. Solomon had a Vineyard, &c.] These words may be understood as spoken by Christ, or by his Spouse forementioned. If by Christ, then it is a comparison between Solomon with his vine-yard, and Christ with his. That Solomon (as his father David, 1 Chro. 27. 27.) could not himself look to his Vineyards, but appointed officers to look unto them, who yielded him a yearly tribute, and had themselves a part of the profit for their labor: but Christ (who is always with his Church, Matth. 28. 20. and walketh in the midst of the seven golden candle sticks, Revel. 2. 1.) looketh to his Vineyard himself, that unto him, all the fruit and benefit thereof belongeth alone. If it be spoken by his Spouse (which I rather incline unto,) then it showeth a greater care and diligence in her now then in former times, when she confessed, that she kept not the Vineyard which was hers; that is, which was committed to her custody, Song 1. 6. So by Solomon, she meaneth Christ, by the Vineyard, his church in general; for the house of Israel was the Lord's Vineyard, Esa. 5. 7. Baal hamon] that is by interpretation, the master (or owner) of a multitude; meaning hereby either the world, among the multitudes whereof Christ hath his Church; or in respect of the much fruit which it yielded unto God, or should yield, being situate in a fertile place, which he had blessed with his grace; such as in Isaiah. 5. 1. is called the horn of the son of oil, that is, a very fruitful hill. he gave the Vineyard] that is, he let it out, in farm; as it is said, There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, &c. and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country: Mat. 21. 33. Thus the Apostle saith to the Church of Corinth, We are laborers together with God, ye are God's husbandry, 1 Cor. 3. 9. a thousand shekels of silver] or, a thousand silverlings, meaning silver shekels: signifying hereby the great fertilitie of this Vineyard, that afforded so much to the owner, besides the laborers reward. So in Esa. 7. 23. threatening to make the most fruitful place desolate, he saith, Where there were a thousand vines, at a thousand silverlings (or silver shekels) it shall be for briars and thorns.

Vers. 12. My vineyard which is mine] that is, understanding it to be spoken by the Spouse, as in Song 1. 6. which is committed to my care and keeping. is before me] that is, I always look unto it, care for it, and am diligent to manure and dress it. As, all his judgments were before me; and his statutes I departed not from them; 2 Sam. 22. 23. to thee O Solomon] that is, thou shalt have thy full due for the fruit of thy vineyard, which is a 1000. silverlings, verse. 11. See Math. 21. 41. 200. to those that keep the fruit] that is, thy laborers shall receive also according to the agreement, everyone for his work: see Mat. 20. 1. 2. &c. So the Apostle saith, Every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labor; 1 Cor. 3. 8.

Vers. 13. Thou that dwellest] or, O inhabitresse: Christ speaketh to his Spouse, dwelling in the gardens, that is, in the Churches; teaching her continual duty, both to her neighbors, in constant witnessing of the truth; and to himself, in prayer and thanksgiving. the companions attending] or, do attend to thy voice. By companions, he seemeth to mean her fellow Christians, partakers of the same faith, spirit and grace: 2 Pet. 1. 1. By voice he understandeth the doctrine of the Church, whereunto all ought to attend. cause thou me to hear] to weet, thy voice; as he expressed before; in Song 2. 14. Let me hear thy voice; that is, thy prayers, praises, and thanksgivings: teaching her to call upon and to serve him continually. Or, cause to hear me, that is, preach me to thy companions that attend to thy voice; let thy doctrines be my Gospel, not men's traditions. These are the two main and permanent duties of all God's churches; that their doctrine be the true and uncorrupt word of Christ; & their prayers & service be directed to him alone, who is ready to hear and help in all time of need. To these two, prayer and the Ministry of the Word, the Apostles gave themselves continually, Act. 6. 4.

Vers. 14. Flee my Beloved] The prayer of the Spouse unto Christ, desiring the end of his Kingdom in this world, where he with his people are persecuted and afflicted; and the translating thereof into the highest heavens. For Christ now reigneth in the midst of his enemies, Psal. 110. 2. and so must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet: and at the end he shall deliver up the Kingdom to God, even the Father, 1 Cor. 15. 24. 25. Then the dead in Christ arising first, they also that live and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord, 1 Thes. 4. 16. 17. This day she desireth with speed: for though it be usually called the day of Christ's coming (or appearing,) yet because he shall not come here to remain, but to carry his elect away out of this world, she useth the word Flee, or Depart away. The Hebrews in their Chaldee paraphrast, though they apply not this to the end of the world, yet so speak as believing that Christ should ascend into heaven and from thence succor his church on earth; saying: At that time shall the Elders of the Congregation of Israel say, Flee thou O my Beloved, the Lord of the world, from this unclean earth, and let thy Majesty dwell in the highest heavens: and in tim<sup>e</sup> of tribulation when we shall pray before thee, be like a Roe, &c, or like a Fawne of the Harts, which when it fleeth, looketh behind it, so look thou upon us, and have respect to our tribulation and our affliction from the highest heavens, until the time that thou shalt take pleasure in us, and redeem us, and bring us unto the mountain of Jerusalem; and there the Priests shall burn before thee, the incense of sweet spices. be thou like] or, liken (resemble) thyself to a Roe; that is, be swift and make hast to flee away: see the notes on Song 29. 17. fawn of the Harts] that is, a young Hart. on the mountains of spices] This referred to the Roe or Hart, showeth that they used to flee for their succor to mountains where spices grew, as in Song 2. 17. she mentioned the mountains of Bether. Or, referring it to Christ himself, it may mean the very heavens, called mountains of spices, for the height and pleasures which are there at the right hand of God forever. And it may be interpreted, O thou that art on the mountains of spices, that is, in heaven; as, Hosanna in the highest, Matth. 21. 9. that is, thou which art in the highest heavens. Thus as this Song began with desire of Christ's first coming to kiss her with the kisses of his mouth, by preaching his Gospel: so it endeth with desire of his second coming, to remove his Church out of all misery, into the place of endless and incomprehensible glory, And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come; and let him that heareth, say, Come: and Christ himself saith, Surely, I come quickly, Amen; Even so, Come Lord Jesus, Revel. 22. 17 20.

FINIS.