Gen 1:1 In the beginning, when God created the heavens and the earth,
Gen 1:2 the earth was a formless wasteland, and darkness covered the abyss, while a mighty wind swept over the waters.
Gen 1:3 Then God said, "Let there be light," and there was light.
Gen 1:4 God saw how good the light was. God then separated the light from the darkness.
Gen 1:5 God called the light "day," and the darkness he called "night." Thus evening came, and morning followed-- the first day.
Gen 1:6 Then God said, "Let there be a dome in the middle of the waters, to separate one body of water from the other." And so it happened:
Gen 1:7 God made the dome, and it separated the water above the dome from the water below it.
Gen 1:8 God called the dome "the sky." Evening came, and morning followed-- the second day.
Gen 1:9 Then God said, "Let the water under the sky be gathered into a single basin, so that the dry land may appear." And so it happened: the water under the sky was gathered into its basin, and the dry land appeared.
Gen 1:10 God called the dry land "the earth," and the basin of the water he called "the sea." God saw how good it was.
Gen 1:11 Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth vegetation: every kind of plant that bears seed and every kind of fruit tree on earth that bears fruit with its seed in it." And so it happened:
Gen 1:12 the earth brought forth every kind of plant that bears seed and every kind of fruit tree on earth that bears fruit with its seed in it. God saw how good it was.
Gen 1:13 Evening came, and morning followed-- the third day.
Gen 1:14 Then God said: "Let there be lights in the dome of the sky, to separate day from night. Let them mark the fixed times, the days and the years,
Gen 1:15 and serve as luminaries in the dome of the sky, to shed light upon the earth." And so it happened:
Gen 1:16 God made the two great lights, the greater one to govern the day, and the lesser one to govern the night; and he made the stars.
Gen 1:17 God set them in the dome of the sky, to shed light upon the earth,
Gen 1:18 to govern the day and the night, and to separate the light from the darkness. God saw how good it was.
Gen 1:19 Evening came, and morning followed-- the fourth day.
Gen 1:20 Then God said, "Let the water teem with an abundance of living creatures, and on the earth let birds fly beneath the dome of the sky." And so it happened:
Gen 1:21 God created the great sea monsters and all kinds of swimming creatures with which the water teems, and all kinds of winged birds. God saw how good it was,
Gen 1:22 and God blessed them, saying, "Be fertile, multiply, and fill the water of the seas; and let the birds multiply on the earth."
Gen 1:23 Evening came, and morning followed-- the fifth day.
Gen 1:24 Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth all kinds of living creatures: cattle, creeping things, and wild animals of all kinds." And so it happened:
Gen 1:25 God made all kinds of wild animals, all kinds of cattle, and all kinds of creeping things of the earth. God saw how good it was.
Gen 1:26 Then God said: "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness. Let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, and the cattle, and over all the wild animals and all the creatures that crawl on the ground."
Gen 1:27 God created man in his image; in the divine image he created him; male and female he created them.
Gen 1:28 God blessed them, saying: "Be fertile and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it. Have dominion over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, and all the living things that move on the earth."
Gen 1:29 God also said: "See, I give you every seed-bearing plant all over the earth and every tree that has seed-bearing fruit on it to be your food;
Gen 1:30 and to all the animals of the land, all the birds of the air, and all the living creatures that crawl on the ground, I give all the green plants for food." And so it happened.
Gen 1:31 God looked at everything he had made, and he found it very good. Evening came, and morning followed-- the sixth day.

Gen 2:1 Thus the heavens and the earth and all their array were completed.

Gen 2:2 Since on the seventh day God was finished with the work he had been doing, he rested on the seventh day from all the work he had undertaken.

Gen 2:3 So God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, because on it he rested from all the work he had done in creation.

Gen 2:4 Such is the story of the heavens and the earth at their creation. At the time when the LORD God made the earth and the heavens--

Gen 2:5 while as yet there was no field shrub on earth and no grass of the field had sprouted, for the LORD God had sent no rain upon the earth and there was no man to till the soil,

Gen 2:6 but a stream was welling up out of the earth and was watering all the surface of the ground--

Gen 2:7 the LORD God formed man out of the clay of the ground and blew into his nostrils the breath of life, and so man became a living being.

Gen 2:8 Then the LORD God planted a garden in Eden, in the east, and he placed there the man whom he had formed.

Gen 2:9 Out of the ground the LORD God made various trees grow that were delightful to look at and good for food, with the tree of life in the middle of the garden and the tree of the knowledge of good and bad.

Gen 2:10 A river rises in Eden to water the garden; beyond there it divides and becomes four branches.

Gen 2:11 The name of the first is the Pishon; it is the one that winds through the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold.

Gen 2:12 The gold of that land is excellent; bdellium and lapis lazuli are also there.

Gen 2:13 The name of the second river is the Gihon; it is the one that winds all through the land of Cush.

Gen 2:14 The name of the third river is the Tigris; it is the one that flows east of Asshur. The fourth river is the Euphrates.

Gen 2:15 The LORD God then took the man and settled him in the garden of Eden, to cultivate and care for it.

Gen 2:16 The LORD God gave man this order: "You are free to eat from any of the trees of the garden

Gen 2:17 except the tree of knowledge of good and bad. From that tree you shall not eat; the moment you eat from it you are surely doomed to die."

Gen 2:18 The LORD God said: "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a suitable partner for him."

Gen 2:19 So the LORD God formed out of the ground various wild animals and various birds of the air, and he brought them to the man to see what he would call them; whatever the man called each of them would be its name.

Gen 2:20 The man gave names to all the cattle, all the birds of the air, and all the wild animals; but none proved to be the suitable partner for the man.

Gen 2:21 So the LORD God cast a deep sleep on the man, and while he was asleep, he took out one of his ribs and closed up its place with flesh.

Gen 2:22 The LORD God then built up into a woman the rib that he had taken from the man. When he brought her to the man,

Gen 2:23 the man said: "This one, at last, is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh; This one shall be called 'woman,' for out of 'her man' this one has been taken."

Gen 2:24 That is why a man leaves his father and mother and clings to his wife, and the two of them become one body.

Gen 2:25 The man and his wife were both naked, yet they felt no shame.

Gen 3:1 Now the serpent was the most cunning of all the animals that the LORD God had made. The serpent asked the woman, "Did God really tell you not to eat from any of the trees in the garden?"

Gen 3:2 The woman answered the serpent: "We may eat of the fruit of the trees in the garden;

Gen 3:3 it is only about the fruit of the tree in the middle of the garden that God said, "You shall not eat it or even touch it, lest you die."

Gen 3:4 But the serpent said to the woman: "You certainly will not die!

Gen 3:5 No, God knows well that the moment you eat of it your eyes will be opened and you will be like gods who know what is good and what is bad."

Gen 3:6 The woman saw that the tree was good for food, pleasing to the eyes, and desirable for gaining wisdom. So she took some of its fruit and ate it; and she also gave some to her husband, who was with her, and he ate it.

Gen 3:7 Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they realized that they were naked; so they sewed fig leaves together and made loincloths for themselves.

Gen 3:8 When they heard the sound of the LORD God moving about in the garden at the breezy time of the day, the man and his wife hid themselves from the LORD God among the trees of the garden.

Gen 3:9 The LORD God then called to the man and asked him, "Where are you?"

Gen 3:10 He answered, "I heard you in the garden; but I was afraid, because I was naked, so I hid myself."

Gen 3:11 Then he asked, "Who told you that you were naked? You have eaten, then, from the tree of which I had forbidden you to eat!"

Gen 3:12 The man replied, "The woman whom you put here with me-- she gave me fruit from the tree, so I ate it."

Gen 3:13 The LORD God then asked the woman, "Why did you do such a thing?" The woman answered, "The serpent tricked me into it, so I ate it."

Gen 3:14 Then the LORD God said to the serpent: "Because you have done this, you shall be banned from all the animals and from all the wild creatures; On your belly shall you crawl, and dirt shall you eat all the days of your life.

Gen 3:15 I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and hers; He will strike at your head, while you strike at his heel."

Gen 3:16 To the woman he said: "I will intensify the pangs of your childbearing; in pain shall you bring forth children. Yet your urge shall be for your husband, and he shall be your master."

Gen 3:17 To the man he said: "Because you listened to your wife and ate from the tree of which I had forbidden you to eat, "Cursed be the ground because of you! In toil shall you eat its yield all the days of your life.

Gen 3:18 Thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to you, as you eat of the plants of the field.

Gen 3:19 By the sweat of your face shall you get bread to eat, Until you return to the ground, from which you were taken; For you are dirt, and to dirt you shall return."

Gen 3:20 The man called his wife Eve, because she became the mother of all the living.

Gen 3:21 For the man and his wife the LORD God made leather garments, with which he clothed them.

Gen 3:22 Then the LORD God said: "See! The man has become like one of us, knowing what is good and what is bad! Therefore, he must not be allowed to put out his hand to take fruit from the tree of life also, and thus eat of it and live forever."

Gen 3:23 The LORD God therefore banished him from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from which he had been taken.

Gen 3:24 When he expelled the man, he settled him east of the garden of Eden; and he stationed the cherubim and the fiery revolving sword, to guard the way to the tree of life.

Gen 4:1 The man had relations with his wife Eve, and she conceived and bore Cain, saying, "I have produced a man with the help of the LORD."

Gen 4:2 Next she bore his brother Abel. Abel became a keeper of flocks, and Cain a tiller of the soil.

Gen 4:3 In the course of time Cain brought an offering to the LORD from the fruit of the soil,

Gen 4:4 while Abel, for his part, brought one of the best firstlings of his flock. The LORD looked with favor on Abel and his offering,

Gen 4:5 but on Cain and his offering he did not. Cain greatly resented this and was crestfallen.

Gen 4:6 So the LORD said to Cain: "Why are you so resentful and crestfallen?

Gen 4:7 If you do well, you can hold up your head; but if not, sin is a demon lurking at the door: his urge is toward you, yet you can be his master."

Gen 4:8 Cain said to his brother Abel, "Let us go out in the field." When they were in the field, Cain attacked his brother Abel and killed him.

Gen 4:9 Then the LORD asked Cain, "Where is your brother Abel?" He answered, "I do not know. Am I my brother's keeper?"

Gen 4:10 The LORD then said: "What have you done! Listen: your brother's blood cries out to me from the soil!

Gen 4:11 Therefore you shall be banned from the soil that opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand.

Gen 4:12 If you till the soil, it shall no longer give you its produce. You shall become a restless wanderer on the earth."

Gen 4:13 Cain said to the LORD: "My punishment is too great to bear.

Gen 4:14 Since you have now banished me from the soil, and I must avoid your presence and become a restless wanderer on the earth, anyone may kill me at sight."

Gen 4:15 "Not so!" the LORD said to him. "If anyone kills Cain, Cain shall be avenged sevenfold." So the LORD put a mark on Cain, lest anyone should kill him at sight.

Gen 4:16 Cain then left the LORD'S presence and settled in the land of Nod, east of Eden.

Gen 4:17 Cain had relations with his wife, and she conceived and bore Enoch. Cain also became the founder of a city, which he named after his son Enoch.

Gen 4:18 To Enoch was born Irad, and Irad became the father of Mehujael; Mehujael became the father of Methusael, and Methusael became the father of Lamech.

Gen 4:19 Lamech took two wives; the name of the first was Adah, and the name of the second Zillah.

Gen 4:20 Adah gave birth to Jabal, the ancestor of all who dwell in tents and keep cattle.

Gen 4:21 His brother's name was Jubal; he was the ancestor of all who play the lyre and the pipe.

Gen 4:22 Zillah, on her part, gave birth to Tubalcain, the ancestor of all who forge instruments of bronze and iron. The sister of Tubalcain was Naamah.

Gen 4:23 Lamech said to his wives: "Adah and Zillah, hear my voice; wives of Lamech, listen to my utterance: I have killed a man for wounding me, a boy for bruising me.

Gen 4:24 If Cain is avenged sevenfold, then Lamech seventy-sevenfold."

Gen 4:25 Adam again had relations with his wife, and she gave birth to a son whom she called Seth. "God has granted me more offspring in place of Abel," she said, "because Cain slew him."

Gen 4:26 To Seth, in turn, a son was born, and he named him Enosh. At that time men began to invoke the LORD by name.

Gen 5:1 This is the record of the descendants of Adam. When God created man, he made him in the likeness of God;

Gen 5:2 he created them male and female. When they were created, he blessed them and named them "man."

Gen 5:3 Adam was one hundred and thirty years old when he begot a son in his likeness, after his image; and he named him Seth.

Gen 5:4 Adam lived eight hundred years after the birth of Seth, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:5 The whole lifetime of Adam was nine hundred and thirty years; then he died.

Gen 5:6 When Seth was one hundred and five years old, he became the father of Enosh.

Gen 5:7 Seth lived eight hundred and seven years after the birth of Enosh, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:8 The whole lifetime of Seth was nine hundred and twelve years; then he died.

Gen 5:9 When Enosh was ninety years old, he became the father of Kenan.

Gen 5:10 Enosh lived eight hundred and fifteen years after the birth of Kenan, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:11 The whole lifetime of Enosh was nine hundred and five years; then he died.

Gen 5:12 When Kenan was seventy years old, he became the father of Mahalalel.

Gen 5:13 Kenan lived eight hundred and forty years after the birth of Mahalalel, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:14 The whole lifetime of Kenan was nine hundred and ten years; then he died.

Gen 5:15 When Mahalalel was sixty-five years old, he became the father of Jared.

Gen 5:16 Mahalalel lived eight hundred and thirty years after the birth of Jared, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:17 The whole lifetime of Mahalalel was eight hundred and ninety-five years; then he died.

Gen 5:18 When Jared was one hundred and sixty-two years old, he became the father of Enoch.

Gen 5:19 Jared lived eight hundred years after the birth of Enoch, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:20 The whole lifetime of Jared was nine hundred and sixty-two years; then he died.

Gen 5:21 When Enoch was sixty-five years old, he became the father of Methuselah.

Gen 5:22 Enoch lived three hundred years after the birth of Methuselah, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:23 The whole lifetime of Enoch was three hundred and sixty-five years.

Gen 5:24 Then Enoch walked with God, and he was no longer here, for God took him.

Gen 5:25 When Methuselah was one hundred and eighty-seven years old, he became the father of Lamech.

Gen 5:26 Methuselah lived seven hundred and eighty-two years after the birth of Lamech, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:27 The whole lifetime of Methuselah was nine hundred and sixty-nine years; then he died.

Gen 5:28 When Lamech was one hundred and eighty-two years old, he begot a son

Gen 5:29 and named him Noah, saying, "Out of the very ground that the LORD has put under a curse, this one shall bring us relief from our work and the toil of our hands."

Gen 5:30 Lamech lived five hundred and ninety-five years after the birth of Noah, and he had other sons and daughters.

Gen 5:31 The whole lifetime of Lamech was seven hundred and seventy-seven years; then he died.

Gen 5:32 When Noah was five hundred years old, he became the father of Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Gen 6:1 When men began to multiply on earth and daughters were born to them,

Gen 6:2 the sons of heaven saw how beautiful the daughters of man were, and so they took for their wives as many of them as they chose.

Gen 6:3 Then the LORD said: "My spirit shall not remain in man forever, since he is but flesh. His days shall comprise one hundred and twenty years."

Gen 6:4 At that time the Nephilim appeared on earth (as well as later), after the sons of heaven had intercourse with the daughters of man, who bore them sons. They were the heroes of old, the men of renown.

Gen 6:5 When the LORD saw how great was man's wickedness on earth, and how no desire that his heart conceived was ever anything but evil,

Gen 6:6 he regretted that he had made man on the earth, and his heart was grieved.

Gen 6:7 So the LORD said: "I will wipe out from the earth the men whom I have created, and not only the men, but also the beasts and the creeping things and the birds of the air, for I am sorry that I made them."

Gen 6:8 But Noah found favor with the LORD.

Gen 6:9 These are the descendants of Noah. Noah, a good man and blameless in that age,

Gen 6:10 for he walked with God, begot three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Gen 6:11 In the eyes of God the earth was corrupt and full of lawlessness.

Gen 6:12 When God saw how corrupt the earth had become, since all mortals led depraved lives on earth,

Gen 6:13 he said to Noah: "I have decided to put an end to all mortals on earth; the earth is full of lawlessness because of them. So I will destroy them and all life on earth.

Gen 6:14 "Make yourself an ark of gopherwood, put various compartments in it, and cover it inside and out with pitch.

Gen 6:15 This is how you shall build it: the length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, its width fifty cubits, and its height thirty cubits.

Gen 6:16 Make an opening for daylight in the ark, and finish the ark a cubit above it. Put an entrance in the side of the ark, which you shall make with bottom, second and third decks.

Gen 6:17 I, on my part, am about to bring the flood (waters) on the earth, to destroy everywhere all creatures in which there is the breath of life; everything on earth shall perish.

Gen 6:18 But with you I will establish my covenant; you and your sons, your wife and your sons' wives, shall go into the ark.

Gen 6:19 Of all other living creatures you shall bring two into the ark, one male and one female, that you may keep them alive with you.

Gen 6:20 Of all kinds of birds, of all kinds of beasts, and of all kinds of creeping things, two of each shall come into the ark with you, to stay alive.

Gen 6:21 Moreover, you are to provide yourself with all the food that is to be eaten, and store it away, that it may serve as provisions for you and for them."

Gen 6:22 This Noah did; he carried out all the commands that God gave him.

Gen 7:1 Then the LORD said to Noah: "Go into the ark, you and all your household, for you alone in this age have I found to be truly just.

Gen 7:2 Of every clean animal, take with you seven pairs, a male and its mate; and of the unclean animals, one pair, a male and its mate;

Gen 7:3 likewise, of every clean bird of the air, seven pairs, a male and a female, and of all the unclean birds, one pair, a male and a female. Thus you will keep their issue alive over all the earth.

Gen 7:4 Seven days from now I will bring rain down on the earth for forty days and forty nights, and so I will wipe out from the surface of the earth every moving creature that I have made."

Gen 7:5 Noah did just as the LORD had commanded him.

Gen 7:6 Noah was six hundred years old when the flood waters came upon the earth.

Gen 7:7 Together with his sons, his wife, and his sons' wives, Noah went into the ark because of the waters of the flood.

Gen 7:8 Of the clean animals and the unclean, of the birds, and of everything that creeps on the ground,

Gen 7:9 (two by two) male and female entered the ark with Noah, just as the LORD had commanded him.

Gen 7:10 As soon as the seven days were over, the waters of the flood came upon the earth.

Gen 7:11 In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month: it was on that day that All the fountains of the great abyss burst forth, and the floodgates of the sky were opened.

Gen 7:12 For forty days and forty nights heavy rain poured down on the earth.

Gen 7:13 On the precise day named, Noah and his sons Shem, Ham, and Japheth, and Noah's wife, and the three wives of Noah's sons had entered the ark,

Gen 7:14 together with every kind of wild beast, every kind of domestic animal, every kind of creeping thing of the earth, and every kind of bird.

Gen 7:15 Pairs of all creatures in which there was the breath of life entered the ark with Noah.

Gen 7:16 Those that entered were male and female, and of all species they came, as God had commanded Noah. Then the LORD shut him in.

Gen 7:17 The flood continued upon the earth for forty days. As the waters increased, they lifted the ark, so that it rose above the earth.

Gen 7:18 The swelling waters increased greatly, but the ark floated on the surface of the waters.

Gen 7:19 Higher and higher above the earth rose the waters, until all the highest mountains everywhere were submerged,

Gen 7:20 the crest rising fifteen cubits higher than the submerged mountains.

Gen 7:21 All creatures that stirred on earth perished: birds, cattle, wild animals, and all that swarmed on the earth, as well as all mankind.

Gen 7:22 Everything on dry land with the faintest breath of life in its nostrils died out.

Gen 7:23 The LORD wiped out every living thing on earth: man and cattle, the creeping things and the birds of the air; all were wiped out from the earth. Only Noah and those with him in the ark were left.

Gen 7:24 The waters maintained their crest over the earth for one hundred and fifty days,

Gen 8:1 and then God remembered Noah and all the animals, wild and tame, that were with him in the ark. So God made a wind sweep over the earth, and the waters began to subside.

Gen 8:2 The fountains of the abyss and the floodgates of the sky were closed, and the downpour from the sky was held back.

Gen 8:3 Gradually the waters receded from the earth. At the end of one hundred and fifty days, the waters had so diminished

Gen 8:4 that, in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, the ark came to rest on the mountains of Ararat.

Gen 8:5 The waters continued to diminish until the tenth month, and on the first day of the tenth month the tops of the mountains appeared.

Gen 8:6 At the end of forty days Noah opened the hatch he had made in the ark,

Gen 8:7 and he sent out a raven, to see if the waters had lessened on the earth. It flew back and forth until the waters dried off from the earth.

Gen 8:8 Then he sent out a dove, to see if the waters had lessened on the earth.

Gen 8:9 But the dove could find no place to alight and perch, and it returned to him in the ark, for there was water all over the earth. Putting out his hand, he caught the dove and drew it back to him inside the ark.

Gen 8:10 He waited seven days more and again sent the dove out from the ark.

Gen 8:11 In the evening the dove came back to him, and there in its bill was a plucked-off olive leaf! So Noah knew that the waters had lessened on the earth.

Gen 8:12 He waited still another seven days and then released the dove once more; and this time it did not come back.

Gen 8:13 In the six hundred and first year of Noah's life, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the water began to dry up on the earth. Noah then removed the covering of the ark and saw that the surface of the ground was drying up.

Gen 8:14 In the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth was dry.

Gen 8:15 Then God said to Noah:

Gen 8:16 "Go out of the ark, together with your wife and your sons and your sons' wives.

Gen 8:17 Bring out with you every living thing that is with you-- all bodily creatures, be they birds or animals or creeping things of the earth-- and let them abound on the earth, breeding and multiplying on it."

Gen 8:18 So Noah came out, together with his wife and his sons and his sons' wives;

Gen 8:19 and all the animals, wild and tame, all the birds, and all the creeping creatures of the earth left the ark, one kind after another.

Gen 8:20 Then Noah built an altar to the LORD, and choosing from every clean animal and every clean bird, he offered holocausts on the altar.

Gen 8:21 WHEN the LORD smelled the sweet odor, he said to himself: "Never again will I doom the earth because of man, since the desires of man's heart are evil from the start; nor will I ever again strike down all living beings, as I have done.

Gen 8:22 As long as the earth lasts, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, Summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease."

Gen 9:1 God blessed Noah and his sons and said to them: "Be fertile and multiply and fill the earth.

Gen 9:2 Dread fear of you shall come upon all the animals of the earth and all the birds of the air, upon all the creatures that move about on the ground and all the fishes of the sea; into your power they are delivered.

Gen 9:3 Every creature that is alive shall be yours to eat; I give them all to you as I did the green plants.

Gen 9:4 Only flesh with its lifeblood still in it you shall not eat.

Gen 9:5 For your own lifeblood, too, I will demand an accounting: from every animal I will demand it, and from man in regard to his fellow man I will demand an accounting for human life.

Gen 9:6 If anyone sheds the blood of man, by man shall his blood be shed; For in the image of God has man been made.

Gen 9:7 Be fertile, then, and multiply; abound on earth and subdue it."

Gen 9:8 God said to Noah and to his sons with him:

Gen 9:9 "See, I am now establishing my covenant with you and your descendants after you

Gen 9:10 and with every living creature that was with you: all the birds, and the various tame and wild animals that were with you and came out of the ark.

Gen 9:11 I will establish my covenant with you, that never again shall all bodily creatures be destroyed by the waters of a flood; there shall not be another flood to devastate the earth."

Gen 9:12 God added: "This is the sign that I am giving for all ages to come, of the covenant between me and you and every living creature with you:

Gen 9:13 I set my bow in the clouds to serve as a sign of the covenant between me and the earth.

Gen 9:14 When I bring clouds over the earth, and the bow appears in the clouds,

Gen 9:15 I will recall the covenant I have made between me and you and all living beings, so that the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all mortal beings.

Gen 9:16 As the bow appears in the clouds, I will see it and recall the everlasting covenant that I have established between God and all living beings-- all mortal creatures that are on earth."

Gen 9:17 God told Noah: "This is the sign of the covenant I have established between me and all mortal creatures that are on earth."

Gen 9:18 The sons of Noah who came out of the ark were Shem, Ham and Japheth. (Ham was the father of Canaan.)

Gen 9:19 These three were the sons of Noah, and from them the whole earth was peopled.

Gen 9:20 Now Noah, a man of the soil, was the first to plant a vineyard.

Gen 9:21 When he drank some of the wine, he became drunk and lay naked inside his tent.

Gen 9:22 Ham, the father of Canaan, saw his father's nakedness, and he told his two brothers outside about it.

Gen 9:23 Shem and Japheth, however, took a robe, and holding it on their backs, they walked backward and covered their father's nakedness; since their faces were turned the other way, they did not see their father's nakedness.

Gen 9:24 When Noah woke up from his drunkenness and learned what his youngest son had done to him,

Gen 9:25 he said: "Cursed be Canaan! The lowest of slaves shall he be to his brothers."

Gen 9:26 He also said: "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Shem! Let Canaan be his slave.

Gen 9:27 May God expand Japheth, so that he dwells among the tents of Shem; and let Canaan be his slave."

Gen 9:28 Noah lived three hundred and fifty years after the flood.

Gen 9:29 The whole lifetime of Noah was nine hundred and fifty years; then he died.

Gen 10:1 These are the descendants of Noah's sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth, to whom sons were born after the flood.

Gen 10:2 The descendants of Japheth: Gomer, Magog, Madai, Javan, Tubal, Meshech, and Tiras.

Gen 10:3 The descendants of Gomer: Ashkenaz, Riphath, and Togarmah.

Gen 10:4 The descendants of Javan: Elishah, Tarshish, the Kittim, and the Rodanim.

Gen 10:5 These are the descendants of Japheth, and from them sprang the maritime nations, in their respective lands-- each with its own language-- by their clans within their nations.

Gen 10:6 The descendants of Ham: Cush, Mizraim, Put, and Canaan.

Gen 10:7 The descendants of Cush: Seba, Havilah, Sabtah, Raamah, and Sabteca. The descendants of Raamah: Sheba and Dedan.

Gen 10:8 Cush became the father of Nimrod, who was the first potentate on earth.

Gen 10:9 He was a mighty hunter by the grace of the LORD; hence the saying, "Like Nimrod, a mighty hunter by the grace of the LORD."

Gen 10:10 The chief cities of his kingdom were Babylon, Erech, and Accad, all of them in the land of Shinar.

Gen 10:11 From that land he went forth to Asshur, where he built Nineveh, Rehoboth-Ir, and Calah, Gen 10:12 as well as Resen, between Nineveh and Calah, the latter being the principal city.

Gen 10:13 Mizraim became the father of the Ludim, the Anamim, the Lehabim, the Naphtuhim, Gen 10:14 the Pathrusim, the Casluhim, and the Caphtorim from whom the Philistines sprang.

Gen 10:15 Canaan became the father of Sidon, his first-born, and of Heth;

Gen 10:16 also of the Jebusites, the Amorites, the Girgashites,

Gen 10:17 the Hivites, the Arkites, the Sinites,

Gen 10:18 the Arvadites, the Zemarites, and the Hamathites. Afterward, the clans of the Canaanites spread out,

Gen 10:19 so that the Canaanite borders extended from Sidon all the way to Gerar, near Gaza, and all the way to Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, near Lasha.

Gen 10:20 These are the descendants of Ham, according to their clans and languages, by their lands and nations.

Gen 10:21 To Shem also, Japheth's oldest brother and the ancestor of all the children of Eber, sons were born.

Gen 10:22 The descendants of Shem: Elam, Asshur, Arpachshad, Lud, and Aram.

Gen 10:23 The descendants of Aram: Uz, Hul, Gether, and Mash.

Gen 10:24 Arpachshad became the father of Shelah, and Shelah became the father of Eber.

Gen 10:25 To Eber two sons were born: the name of the first was Peleg, for in his time the world was divided; and the name of his brother was Joktan.

Gen 10:26 Joktan became the father of Almodad, Sheleph, Hazarmaveth, Jerah,

Gen 10:27 Hadoram, Uzal, Diklah,
Gen 10:28 Obal, Abimael, Sheba,
Gen 10:29 Ophir, Havilah, and Jobab. All these were descendants of Joktan.
Gen 10:30 Their settlements extended all the way to Sephar, the eastern hill country.
Gen 10:31 These are the descendants of Shem, according to their clans and languages by their lands and nations.
Gen 10:32 These are the groupings of Noah's sons, according to their origins and by their nations. From these the other nations of the earth branched out after the flood.
Gen 11:1 The whole world spoke the same language, using the same words.
Gen 11:2 While men were migrating in the east, they came upon a valley in the land of Shinar and settled there.
Gen 11:3 They said to one another, "Come, let us mold bricks and harden them with fire." They used bricks for stone, and bitumen for mortar.
Gen 11:4 Then they said, "Come, let us build ourselves a city and a tower with its top in the sky, and so make a name for ourselves; otherwise we shall be scattered all over the earth."
Gen 11:5 The LORD came down to see the city and the tower that the men had built.
Gen 11:6 Then the LORD said: "If now, while they are one people, all speaking the same language, they have started to do this, nothing will later stop them from doing whatever they presume to do.
Gen 11:7 Let us then go down and there confuse their language, so that one will not understand what another says."
Gen 11:8 Thus the LORD scattered them from there all over the earth, and they stopped building the city.
Gen 11:9 That is why it was called Babel, because there the LORD confused the speech of all the world. It was from that place that he scattered them all over the earth.
Gen 11:10 This is the record of the descendants of Shem. When Shem was one hundred years old, he became the father of Arpachshad, two years after the flood.
Gen 11:11 Shem lived five hundred years after the birth of Arpachshad, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:12 When Arpachshad was thirty-five years old, he became the father of Shelah.
Gen 11:13 Arpachshad lived four hundred and three years after the birth of Shelah, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:14 When Shelah was thirty years old, he became the father of Eber.
Gen 11:15 Shelah lived four hundred and three years after the birth of Eber, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:16 When Eber was thirty-four years old, he became the father of Peleg.
Gen 11:17 Eber lived four hundred and thirty years after the birth of Peleg, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:18 When Peleg was thirty years old, he became the father of Reu.
Gen 11:19 Peleg lived two hundred and nine years after the birth of Reu, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:20 When Reu was thirty-two years old, he became the father of Serug.
Gen 11:21 Reu lived two hundred and seven years after the birth of Serug, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:22 When Serug was thirty years old, he became the father of Nahor.
Gen 11:23 Serug lived two hundred years after the birth of Nahor, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:24 When Nahor was twenty-nine years old, he became the father of Terah.
Gen 11:25 Nahor lived one hundred and nineteen years after the birth of Terah, and he had other sons and daughters.
Gen 11:26 When Terah was seventy years old, he became the father of Abram, Nahor and Haran.
Gen 11:27 This is the record of the descendants of Terah. Terah became the father of Abram, Nahor, and Haran, and Haran became the father of Lot.
Gen 11:28 Haran died before his father Terah, in his native land, in Ur of the Chaldeans.
Gen 11:29 Abram and Nahor took wives; the name of Abram's wife was Sarai, and the name of Nahor's wife was Milcah, daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah and Iscah.
Gen 11:30 Sarai was barren; she had no child.
Gen 11:31 Terah took his son Abram, his grandson Lot, son of Haran, and his daughter-in-law Sarai, the wife of his son Abram, and brought them out of Ur of the Chaldeans, to go to the land of Canaan. But when they reached Haran, they settled there.
Gen 11:32 The lifetime of Terah was two hundred and five years; then Terah died in Haran.
Gen 12:1 The LORD said to Abram: "Go forth from the land of your kinsfolk and from your father's house to a land that I will show you.
Gen 12:2 "I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you; I will make your name great, so that you will be a blessing.

Gen 12:3 I will bless those who bless you and curse those who curse you. All the communities of the earth shall find blessing in you."

Gen 12:4 Abram went as the LORD directed him, and Lot went with him. Abram was seventy-five years old when he left Haran.

Gen 12:5 Abram took his wife Sarai, his brother's son Lot, all the possessions that they had accumulated, and the persons they had acquired in Haran, and they set out for the land of Canaan. When they came to the land of Canaan,

Gen 12:6 Abram passed through the land as far as the sacred place at Shechem, by the terebinth of Moreh. (The Canaanites were then in the land.)

Gen 12:7 The LORD appeared to Abram and said, "To your descendants I will give this land." So Abram built an altar there to the LORD who had appeared to him.

Gen 12:8 From there he moved on to the hill country east of Bethel, pitching his tent with Bethel to the west and Ai to the east. He built an altar there to the LORD and invoked the LORD by name.

Gen 12:9 Then Abram journeyed on by stages to the Negeb.

Gen 12:10 There was famine in the land; so Abram went down to Egypt to sojourn there, since the famine in the land was severe.

Gen 12:11 When he was about to enter Egypt, he said to his wife Sarai: "I know well how beautiful a woman you are.

Gen 12:12 When the Egyptians see you, they will say, 'She is his wife'; then they will kill me, but let you live.

Gen 12:13 Please say, therefore, that you are my sister, so that it may go well with me on your account and my life may be spared for your sake."

Gen 12:14 When Abram came to Egypt, the Egyptians saw how beautiful the woman was; and when Pharaoh's courtiers saw her,

Gen 12:15 they praised her to Pharaoh. So she was taken into Pharaoh's palace.

Gen 12:16 On her account it went very well with Abram, and he received flocks and herds, male and female slaves, male and female asses, and camels.

Gen 12:17 But the LORD struck Pharaoh and his household with severe plagues because of Abram's wife Sarai.

Gen 12:18 Then Pharaoh summoned Abram and said to him: "How could you do this to me! Why didn't you tell me she was your wife?"

Gen 12:19 Why did you say, 'She is my sister,' so that I took her for my wife? Here, then, is your wife. Take her and be gone!"

Gen 12:20 Then Pharaoh gave men orders concerning him, and they sent him on his way, with his wife and all that belonged to him.

Gen 13:1 From Egypt Abram went up to the Negeb with his wife and all that belonged to him, and Lot accompanied him.

Gen 13:2 Now Abram was very rich in livestock, silver, and gold.

Gen 13:3 From the Negeb he traveled by stages toward Bethel, to the place between Bethel and Ai where his tent had formerly stood,

Gen 13:4 the site where he had first built the altar; and there he invoked the LORD by name.

Gen 13:5 Lot, who went with Abram, also had flocks and herds and tents,

Gen 13:6 so that the land could not support them if they stayed together; their possessions were so great that they could not dwell together.

Gen 13:7 There were quarrels between the herdsmen of Abram's livestock and those of Lot's. (At this time the Canaanites and the Perizzites were occupying the land.)

Gen 13:8 So Abram said to Lot: "Let there be no strife between you and me, or between your herdsmen and mine, for we are kinsmen.

Gen 13:9 Is not the whole land at your disposal? Please separate from me. If you prefer the left, I will go to the right; if you prefer the right, I will go to the left."

Gen 13:10 Lot looked about and saw how well watered the whole Jordan Plain was as far as Zoar, like the LORD'S own garden, or like Egypt. (This was before the LORD had destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah.)

Gen 13:11 Lot, therefore, chose for himself the whole Jordan Plain and set out eastward. Thus they separated from each other;

Gen 13:12 Abram stayed in the land of Canaan, while Lot settled among the cities of the Plain, pitching his tents near Sodom.

Gen 13:13 Now the inhabitants of Sodom were very wicked in the sins they committed against the LORD.

Gen 13:14 After Lot had left, the LORD said to Abram: "Look about you, and from where you are, gaze to the north and south, east and west;

Gen 13:15 all the land that you see I will give to you and your descendants forever.

Gen 13:16 I will make your descendants like the dust of the earth; if anyone could count the dust of the earth, your descendants too might be counted.

Gen 13:17 Set forth and walk about in the land, through its length and breadth, for to you I will give it."

Gen 13:18 Abram moved his tents and went on to settle near the terebinth of Mamre, which is at Hebron. There he built an altar to the LORD.

Gen 14:1 In the days of..., Amraphel king of Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chedorlaomer king of Elam, and Tidal king of Goiim

Gen 14:2 made war on Bera king of Sodom, Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of Admah, Shemeber king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar).

Gen 14:3 All the latter kings joined forces in the Valley of Siddim (that is, the Salt Sea).

Gen 14:4 For twelve years they had been subject to Chedorlaomer, but in the thirteenth year they rebelled.

Gen 14:5 In the fourteenth year Chedorlaomer and the kings allied with him came and defeated the Rephaim in Ashteroth-karnaim, the Zuzim in Ham, the Emim in Shaveh-kiriathaim,

Gen 14:6 and the Horites in the hill country of Seir, as far as Elparan, close by the wilderness.

Gen 14:7 They then turned back and came to Enmishpat (that is, Kadesh), and they subdued the whole country both of the Amalekites and of the Amorites who dwelt in Hazazon-tamar.

Gen 14:8 Thereupon the king of Sodom, the king of Gomorrah, the king of Admah, the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar) marched out, and in the Valley of Siddim they went into battle against them:

Gen 14:9 against Chedorlaomer king of Elam, Tidal king of Goiim, Amraphel king of Shinar, and Arioch king of Ellasar-- four kings against five.

Gen 14:10 Now the Valley of Siddim was full of bitumen pits; and as the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah fled, they fell into these, while the rest fled to the mountains.

Gen 14:11 The victors seized all the possessions and food supplies of Sodom and Gomorrah and then went their way,

Gen 14:12 taking with them Abram's nephew Lot, who had been living in Sodom, as well as his possessions.

Gen 14:13 A fugitive came and brought the news to Abram the Hebrew, who was camping at the terebinth of Mamre the Amorite, a kinsman of Eshcol and Aner; these were in league with Abram.

Gen 14:14 When Abram heard that his nephew had been captured, he mustered three hundred and eighteen of his retainers, born in his house, and went in pursuit as far as Dan.

Gen 14:15 He and his party deployed against them at night, defeated them, and pursued them as far as Hobah, which is north of Damascus.

Gen 14:16 He recovered all the possessions, besides bringing back his kinsman Lot and his possessions, along with the women and the other captives.

Gen 14:17 When Abram returned from his victory over Chedorlaomer and the kings who were allied with him, the king of Sodom went out to greet him in the Valley of Shaveh (that is, the King's Valley).

Gen 14:18 Melchizedek, king of Salem, brought out bread and wine, and being a priest of God Most High, he blessed Abram with these words:

Gen 14:19 "Blessed be Abram by God Most High, the creator of heaven and earth;

Gen 14:20 And blessed be God Most High, who delivered your foes into your hand." Then Abram gave him a tenth of everything.

Gen 14:21 The king of Sodom said to Abram, "Give me the people; the goods you may keep."

Gen 14:22 But Abram replied to the king of Sodom: "I have sworn to the LORD, God Most High, the creator of heaven and earth,

Gen 14:23 that I would not take so much as a thread or a sandal strap from anything that is yours, lest you should say, 'I made Abram rich.'

Gen 14:24 Nothing for me except what my servants have used up and the share that is due to the men who joined me-- Aner, Eshcol and Mamre; let them take their share."

Gen 15:1 Some time after these events, this word of the LORD came to Abram in a vision: "Fear not, Abram! I am your shield; I will make your reward very great."

Gen 15:2 But Abram said, "O Lord GOD, what good will your gifts be, if I keep on being childless and have as my heir the steward of my house, Eliezer?"

Gen 15:3 Abram continued, "See, you have given me no offspring, and so one of my servants will be my heir."

Gen 15:4 Then the word of the LORD came to him: "No, that one shall not be your heir; your own issue shall be your heir."

Gen 15:5 He took him outside and said: "Look up at the sky and count the stars, if you can. Just so," he added, "shall your descendants be."

Gen 15:6 Abram put his faith in the LORD, who credited it to him as an act of righteousness.

Gen 15:7 He then said to him, "I am the LORD who brought you from Ur of the Chaldeans to give you this land as a possession."

Gen 15:8 "O Lord GOD," he asked, "How am I to know that I shall possess it?"

Gen 15:9 He answered him, "Bring me a three-year-old heifer, a three-year-old she-goat, a three-year-old ram, a turtle-dove, and a young pigeon."

Gen 15:10 He brought him all these, split them in two, and placed each half opposite the other; but the birds he did not cut up.

Gen 15:11 Birds of prey swooped down on the carcasses, but Abram stayed with them.

Gen 15:12 As the sun was about to set, a trance fell upon Abram, and a deep, terrifying darkness enveloped him.

Gen 15:13 Then the LORD said to Abram: "Know for certain that your descendants shall be aliens in a land not their own, where they shall be enslaved and oppressed for four hundred years.

Gen 15:14 But I will bring judgment on the nation they must serve, and in the end they will depart with great wealth.

Gen 15:15 You, however, shall join your forefathers in peace; you shall be buried at a contented old age.

Gen 15:16 In the fourth time-span the others shall come back here; the wickedness of the Amorites will not have reached its full measure until then."

Gen 15:17 When the sun had set and it was dark, there appeared a smoking brazier and a flaming torch, which passed between those pieces.

Gen 15:18 It was on that occasion that the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying: "To your descendants I give this land, from the Wadi of Egypt to the Great River (the Euphrates),

Gen 15:19 the land of the Kenites, the Kenizzites, the Kadmonites,

Gen 15:20 the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Rephaim,

Gen 15:21 the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Girgashites, and the Jebusites."

Gen 16:1 Abram's wife Sarai had borne him no children. She had, however, an Egyptian maidservant named Hagar.

Gen 16:2 Sarai said to Abram: "The LORD has kept me from bearing children. Have intercourse, then, with my maid; perhaps I shall have sons through her." Abram heeded Sarai's request.

Gen 16:3 Thus, after Abram had lived ten years in the land of Canaan, his wife Sarai took her maid, Hagar the Egyptian, and gave her to her husband Abram to be his concubine.

Gen 16:4 He had intercourse with her, and she became pregnant. When she became aware of her pregnancy, she looked on her mistress with disdain.

Gen 16:5 So Sarai said to Abram: "You are responsible for this outrage against me. I myself gave my maid to your embrace; but ever since she became aware of her pregnancy, she has been looking on me with disdain. May the LORD decide between you and me!"

Gen 16:6 Abram told Sarai: "Your maid is in your power. Do to her whatever you please." Sarai then abused her so much that Hagar ran away from her.

Gen 16:7 The LORD'S messenger found her by a spring in the wilderness, the spring on the road to Shur,

Gen 16:8 and he asked, "Hagar, maid of Sarai, where have you come from and where are you going?" She answered, "I am running away from my mistress, Sarai."

Gen 16:9 But the LORD'S messenger told her: "Go back to your mistress and submit to her abusive treatment.

Gen 16:10 I will make your descendants so numerous," added the LORD'S messenger, "that they will be too many to count.

Gen 16:11 Besides," the LORD'S messenger said to her: "You are now pregnant and shall bear a son; you shall name him Ishmael, For the LORD has heard you, God has answered you.

Gen 16:12 He shall be a wild ass of a man, his hand against everyone, and everyone's hand against him; In opposition to all his kin shall he encamp."

Gen 16:13 To the LORD who spoke to her she gave a name, saying, "You are the God of Vision"; she meant, "Have I really seen God and remained alive after my vision?"

Gen 16:14 That is why the well is called Beer-lahai-roi. It is between Kadesh and Bered.

Gen 16:15 Hagar bore Abram a son, and Abram named the son whom Hagar bore him Ishmael.

Gen 16:16 Abram was eighty-six years old when Hagar bore him Ishmael.

Gen 17:1 When Abram was ninety-nine years old, the LORD appeared to him and said: "I am God the Almighty. Walk in my presence and be blameless.

Gen 17:2 Between you and me I will establish my covenant, and I will multiply you exceedingly."

Gen 17:3 When Abram prostrated himself, God continued to speak to him:

Gen 17:4 "My covenant with you is this: you are to become the father of a host of nations.

Gen 17:5 No longer shall you be called Abram; your name shall be Abraham, for I am making you the father of a host of nations.

Gen 17:6 I will render you exceedingly fertile; I will make nations of you; kings shall stem from you.

Gen 17:7 I will maintain my covenant with you and your descendants after you throughout the ages as an everlasting pact, to be your God and the God of your descendants after you.

Gen 17:8 I will give to you and to your descendants after you the land in which you are now staying, the whole land of Canaan, as a permanent possession; and I will be their God."

Gen 17:9 God also said to Abraham: "On your part, you and your descendants after you must keep my covenant throughout the ages.

Gen 17:10 This is my covenant with you and your descendants after you that you must keep: every male among you shall be circumcised.

Gen 17:11 Circumcise the flesh of your foreskin, and that shall be the mark of the covenant between you and me.

Gen 17:12 Throughout the ages, every male among you, when he is eight days old, shall be circumcised, including houseborn slaves and those acquired with money from any foreigner who is not of your blood.

Gen 17:13 Yes, both the houseborn slaves and those acquired with money must be circumcised. Thus my covenant shall be in your flesh as an everlasting pact.

Gen 17:14 If a male is uncircumcised, that is, if the flesh of his foreskin has not been cut away, such a one shall be cut off from his people; he has broken my covenant."

Gen 17:15 God further said to Abraham: "As for your wife Sarai, do not call her Sarai; her name shall be Sarah.

Gen 17:16 I will bless her, and I will give you a son by her. Him also will I bless; he shall give rise to nations, and rulers of peoples shall issue from him."

Gen 17:17 Abraham prostrated himself and laughed as he said to himself, "Can a child be born to a man who is a hundred years old? Or can Sarah give birth at ninety?"

Gen 17:18 Then Abraham said to God, "Let but Ishmael live on by your favor!"

Gen 17:19 God replied: "Nevertheless, your wife Sarah is to bear you a son, and you shall call him Isaac. I will maintain my covenant with him as an everlasting pact, to be his God and the God of his descendants after him.

Gen 17:20 As for Ishmael, I am heeding you: I hereby bless him. I will make him fertile and will multiply him exceedingly. He shall become the father of twelve chieftains, and I will make of him a great nation.

Gen 17:21 But my covenant I will maintain with Isaac, whom Sarah shall bear to you by this time next year."

Gen 17:22 When he had finished speaking with him, God departed from Abraham.

Gen 17:23 Then Abraham took his son Ishmael and all his slaves, whether born in his house or acquired with his money-- every male among the members of Abraham's household-- and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskins on that same day, as God had told him to do.

Gen 17:24 Abraham was ninety-nine years old when the flesh of his foreskin was circumcised,

Gen 17:25 and his son Ishmael was thirteen years old when the flesh of his foreskin was circumcised.

Gen 17:26 Thus, on that same day Abraham and his son Ishmael were circumcised;

Gen 17:27 and all the male members of his household, including the slaves born in his house or acquired with his money from foreigners, were circumcised with him.

Gen 18:1 The LORD appeared to Abraham by the terebinth of Mamre, as he sat in the entrance of his tent, while the day was growing hot.

Gen 18:2 Looking up, he saw three men standing nearby. When he saw them, he ran from the entrance of the tent to greet them; and bowing to the ground,

Gen 18:3 he said: "Sir, if I may ask you this favor, please do not go on past your servant.

Gen 18:4 Let some water be brought, that you may bathe your feet, and then rest yourselves under the tree.

Gen 18:5 Now that you have come this close to your servant, let me bring you a little food, that you may refresh yourselves; and afterward you may go on your way." "Very well," they replied, "do as you have said."

Gen 18:6 Abraham hastened into the tent and told Sarah, "Quick, three seahs of fine flour! Knead it and make rolls."

Gen 18:7 He ran to the herd, picked out a tender, choice steer, and gave it to a servant, who quickly prepared it.

Gen 18:8 Then he got some curds and milk, as well as the steer that had been prepared, and set these before them; and he waited on them under the tree while they ate.

Gen 18:9 "Where is your wife Sarah?" they asked him. "There in the tent," he replied.

Gen 18:10 One of them said, "I will surely return to you about this time next year, and Sarah will then have a son." Sarah was listening at the entrance of the tent, just behind him.

Gen 18:11 Now Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in years, and Sarah had stopped having her womanly periods.

Gen 18:12 So Sarah laughed to herself and said, "Now that I am so withered and my husband is so old, am I still to have sexual pleasure?"

Gen 18:13 But the LORD said to Abraham: "Why did Sarah laugh and say, 'Shall I really bear a child, old as I am?'

Gen 18:14 Is anything too marvelous for the LORD to do? At the appointed time, about this time next year, I will return to you, and Sarah will have a son."

Gen 18:15 Because she was afraid, Sarah dissembled, saying, "I didn't laugh." But he said, "Yes you did."

Gen 18:16 The men set out from there and looked down toward Sodom; Abraham was walking with them, to see them on their way.

Gen 18:17 The LORD reflected: "Shall I hide from Abraham what I am about to do,

Gen 18:18 now that he is to become a great and populous nation, and all the nations of the earth are to find blessing in him?

Gen 18:19 Indeed, I have singled him out that he may direct his sons and his posterity to keep the way of the LORD by doing what is right and just, so that the LORD may carry into effect for Abraham the promises he made about him."

Gen 18:20 Then the LORD said: "The outcry against Sodom and Gomorrah is so great, and their sin so grave,

Gen 18:21 that I must go down and see whether or not their actions fully correspond to the cry against them that comes to me. I mean to find out."

Gen 18:22 While the two men walked on farther toward Sodom, the LORD remained standing before Abraham.

Gen 18:23 Then Abraham drew nearer to him and said: "Will you sweep away the innocent with the guilty?"

Gen 18:24 Suppose there were fifty innocent people in the city; would you wipe out the place, rather than spare it for the sake of the fifty innocent people within it?

Gen 18:25 Far be it from you to do such a thing, to make the innocent die with the guilty, so that the innocent and the guilty would be treated alike! Should not the judge of all the world act with justice?"

Gen 18:26 The LORD replied, "If I find fifty innocent people in the city of Sodom, I will spare the whole place for their sake."

Gen 18:27 Abraham spoke up again: "See how I am presuming to speak to my Lord, though I am but dust and ashes!

Gen 18:28 What if there are five less than fifty innocent people? Will you destroy the whole city because of those five?" "I will not destroy it," he answered, "if I find forty-five there."

Gen 18:29 But Abraham persisted, saying, "What if only forty are found there?" He replied, "I will forbear doing it for the sake of the forty."

Gen 18:30 Then he said, "Let not my Lord grow impatient if I go on. What if only thirty are found there?" He replied, "I will forbear doing it if I can find but thirty there."

Gen 18:31 Still he went on, "Since I have thus dared to speak to my Lord, what if there are no more than twenty?" "I will not destroy it," he answered, "for the sake of the twenty."

Gen 18:32 But he still persisted: "Please, let not my Lord grow angry if I speak up this last time. What if there are at least ten there?" "For the sake of those ten," he replied, "I will not destroy it."

Gen 18:33 The LORD departed as soon as he had finished speaking with Abraham, and Abraham returned home.

Gen 19:1 The two angels reached Sodom in the evening, as Lot was sitting at the gate of Sodom. When Lot saw them, he got up to greet them; and bowing down with his face to the ground,

Gen 19:2 he said, "Please, gentlemen, come aside into your servant's house for the night, and bathe your feet; you can get up early to continue your journey." But they replied, "No, we shall pass the night in the town square."

Gen 19:3 He urged them so strongly, however, that they turned aside to his place and entered his house. He prepared a meal for them, baking cakes without leaven, and they dined.

Gen 19:4 Before they went to bed, all the townsmen of Sodom, both young and old-- all the people to the last man-- closed in on the house.

Gen 19:5 They called to Lot and said to him, "Where are the men who came to your house tonight? Bring them out to us that we may have intimacies with them."

Gen 19:6 Lot went out to meet them at the entrance. When he had shut the door behind him,

Gen 19:7 he said, "I beg you, my brothers, not to do this wicked thing.

Gen 19:8 I have two daughters who have never had intercourse with men. Let me bring them out to you, and you may do to them as you please. But don't do anything to these men, for you know they have come under the shelter of my roof."

Gen 19:9 They replied, "Stand back! This fellow," they sneered, "came here as an immigrant, and now he dares to give orders! We'll treat you worse than them!" With that, they pressed hard against Lot, moving in closer to break down the door.

Gen 19:10 But his guests put out their hands, pulled Lot inside with them, and closed the door;

Gen 19:11 at the same time they struck the men at the entrance of the house, one and all, with such a blinding light that they were utterly unable to reach the doorway.

Gen 19:12 Then the angels said to Lot: "Who else belongs to you here? Your sons (sons-in-law) and your daughters and all who belong to you in the city-- take them away from it!

Gen 19:13 We are about to destroy this place, for the outcry reaching the LORD against those in the city is so great that he has sent us to destroy it."

Gen 19:14 So Lot went out and spoke to his sons-in-law, who had contracted marriage with his daughters. "Get up and leave this place," he told them; "the LORD is about to destroy the city." But his sons-in-law thought he was joking.

Gen 19:15 As dawn was breaking, the angels urged Lot on, saying, "On your way! Take with you your wife and your two daughters who are here, or you will be swept away in the punishment of the city."

Gen 19:16 When he hesitated, the men, by the LORD'S mercy, seized his hand and the hands of his wife and his two daughters and led them to safety outside the city.

Gen 19:17 As soon as they had been brought outside, he was told: "Flee for your life! Don't look back or stop anywhere on the Plain. Get off to the hills at once, or you will be swept away."

Gen 19:18 "Oh, no, my lord!" replied Lot.

Gen 19:19 "You have already thought enough of your servant to do me the great kindness of intervening to save my life. But I cannot flee to the hills to keep the disaster from overtaking me, and so I shall die.

Gen 19:20 Look, this town ahead is near enough to escape to. It's only a small place. Let me flee there-- it's a small place, isn't it?-- that my life may be saved."

Gen 19:21 "Well, then," he replied, "I will also grant you the favor you now ask. I will not overthrow the town you speak of.

Gen 19:22 Hurry, escape there! I cannot do anything until you arrive there." That is why the town is called Zoar.

Gen 19:23 The sun was just rising over the earth as Lot arrived in Zoar;

Gen 19:24 at the same time the LORD rained down sulphurous fire upon Sodom and Gomorrah (from the LORD out of heaven).

Gen 19:25 He overthrew those cities and the whole Plain, together with the inhabitants of the cities and the produce of the soil.

Gen 19:26 But Lot's wife looked back, and she was turned into a pillar of salt.

Gen 19:27 Early the next morning Abraham went to the place where he had stood in the LORD'S presence.

Gen 19:28 As he looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah and the whole region of the Plain, he saw dense smoke over the land rising like fumes from a furnace.

Gen 19:29 Thus it came to pass: when God destroyed the Cities of the Plain, he was mindful of Abraham by sending Lot away from the upheaval by which God overthrew the cities where Lot had been living.

Gen 19:30 Since Lot was afraid to stay in Zoar, he and his two daughters went up from Zoar and settled in the hill country, where he lived with his two daughters in a cave.

Gen 19:31 The older one said to the younger: "Our father is getting old, and there is not a man on earth to unite with us as was the custom everywhere.

Gen 19:32 Come, let us ply our father with wine and then lie with him, that we may have offspring by our father."

Gen 19:33 So that night they plied their father with wine, and the older one went in and lay with her father; but he was not aware of her lying down or her getting up.

Gen 19:34 Next day the older one said to the younger: "Last night it was I who lay with my father. Let us ply him with wine again tonight, and then you go in and lie with him, that we may both have offspring by our father."

Gen 19:35 So that night, too, they plied their father with wine, and then the younger one went in and lay with him; but again he was not aware of her lying down or her getting up.

Gen 19:36 Thus both of Lot's daughters became pregnant by their father.

Gen 19:37 The older one gave birth to a son whom she named Moab, saying, "From my father." He is the ancestor of the Moabites of today.

Gen 19:38 The younger one, too, gave birth to a son, and she named him Ammon, saying, "The son of my kin." He is the ancestor of the Ammonites of today.

Gen 20:1 Abraham journeyed on to the region of the Negeb, where he settled between Kadesh and Shur. While he stayed in Gerar, Gen 20:2 he said of his wife Sarah, "She is my sister." So Abimelech, king of Gerar, sent and took Sarah.

Gen 20:3 But God came to Abimelech in a dream one night and said to him, "You are about to die because of the woman you have taken, for she has a husband."

Gen 20:4 Abimelech, who had not approached her, said: "O Lord, would you slay a man even though he is innocent?"

Gen 20:5 He himself told me, 'She is my sister,' and she herself also stated, 'He is my brother.' I did it in good faith and with clean hands."

Gen 20:6 God answered him in the dream: "Yes, I know you did it in good faith. In fact, it was I who kept you from sinning against me; that is why I did not let you touch her.

Gen 20:7 Therefore, return the man's wife-- as a spokesman he will intercede for you-- that your life may be saved. If you do not return her, you can be sure that you and all who are yours will certainly die."

Gen 20:8 Early the next morning Abimelech called all his court officials and informed them of everything that had happened, and the men were horrified.

Gen 20:9 Then Abimelech summoned Abraham and said to him: "How could you do this to us! What wrong did I do to you that you should have brought such monstrous guilt on me and my kingdom? You have treated me in an intolerable way.

Gen 20:10 What were you afraid of," he asked him, "that you should have done such a thing?"

Gen 20:11 "I was afraid," answered Abraham, "because I thought there would surely be no fear of God in this place, and so they would kill me on account of my wife.

Gen 20:12 Besides, she is in truth my sister, but only my father's daughter, not my mother's; and so she became my wife.

Gen 20:13 When God sent me wandering from my father's house, I asked her: 'Would you do me this favor? In whatever place we come to, say that I am your brother.'

Gen 20:14 Then Abimelech took flocks and herds and male and female slaves and gave them to Abraham; and after he restored his wife Sarah to him,

Gen 20:15 he said, "Here, my land lies at your disposal; settle wherever you please."

Gen 20:16 To Sarah he said: "See, I have given your brother a thousand shekels of silver. Let that serve you as a vindication before all who are with you; your honor has been preserved with everyone."

Gen 20:17 Abraham then interceded with God, and God restored health to Abimelech, that is, to his wife and his maidservants, so that they could bear children;

Gen 20:18 for God had tightly closed every womb in Abimelech's household on account of Abraham's wife Sarah.

Gen 21:1 The LORD took note of Sarah as he had said he would; he did for her as he had promised.

Gen 21:2 Sarah became pregnant and bore Abraham a son in his old age, at the set time that God had stated.

Gen 21:3 Abraham gave the name Isaac to this son of his whom Sarah bore him.

Gen 21:4 When his son Isaac was eight days old, Abraham circumcised him, as God had commanded.

Gen 21:5 Abraham was a hundred years old when his son Isaac was born to him.

Gen 21:6 Sarah then said, "God has given me cause to laugh, and all who hear of it will laugh with me.

Gen 21:7 Who would have told Abraham," she added, "that Sarah would nurse children! Yet I have borne him a son in his old age."

Gen 21:8 Isaac grew, and on the day of the child's weaning, Abraham held a great feast.

Gen 21:9 Sarah noticed the son whom Hagar the Egyptian had borne to Abraham playing with her son Isaac;

Gen 21:10 so she demanded of Abraham: "Drive out that slave and her son! No son of that slave is going to share the inheritance with my son Isaac!"

Gen 21:11 Abraham was greatly distressed, especially on account of his son Ishmael.

Gen 21:12 But God said to Abraham: "Do not be distressed about the boy or about your slave woman. Heed the demands of Sarah, no matter what she is asking of you; for it is through Isaac that descendants shall bear your name.

Gen 21:13 As for the son of the slave woman, I will make a great nation of him also, since he too is your offspring."

Gen 21:14 Early the next morning Abraham got some bread and a skin of water and gave them to Hagar. Then, placing the child on her back, he sent her away. As she roamed aimlessly in the wilderness of Beer-sheba,

Gen 21:15 the water in the skin was used up. So she put the child down under a shrub,

Gen 21:16 and then went and sat down opposite him, about a bowshot away; for she said to herself, "Let me not watch to see the child die." As she sat opposite him, he began to cry.

Gen 21:17 God heard the boy's cry, and God's messenger called to Hagar from heaven: "What is the matter, Hagar? Don't be afraid; God has heard the boy's cry in this plight of his.

Gen 21:18 Arise, lift up the boy and hold him by the hand; for I will make of him a great nation."

Gen 21:19 Then God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water. She went and filled the skin with water, and then let the boy drink.

Gen 21:20 God was with the boy as he grew up. He lived in the wilderness and became an expert bowman,

Gen 21:21 with his home in the wilderness of Paran. His mother got a wife for him from the land of Egypt.

Gen 21:22 About that time Abimelech, accompanied by Phicol, the commander of his army, said to Abraham: "God is with you in everything you do.

Gen 21:23 Therefore, swear to me by God at this place that you will not deal falsely with me or with my progeny and posterity, but will act as loyally toward me and the land in which you stay as I have acted toward you."

Gen 21:24 To this Abraham replied, "I so swear."

Gen 21:25 Abraham, however, reproached Abimelech about a well that Abimelech's men had seized by force.

Gen 21:26 "I have no idea who did that," Abimelech replied. "In fact, you never told me about it, nor did I ever hear of it until now."

Gen 21:27 Then Abraham took sheep and cattle and gave them to Abimelech and the two made a pact.

Gen 21:28 Abraham also set apart seven ewe lambs of the flock,
Gen 21:29 and Abimelech asked him, "What is the purpose of these seven ewe lambs that you have set apart?"
Gen 21:30 Abraham answered, "The seven ewe lambs you shall accept from me that thus I may have your acknowledgment that the well was dug by me."
Gen 21:31 This is why the place is called Beer-sheba; the two took an oath there.
Gen 21:32 When they had thus made the pact in Beer-sheba, Abimelech, along with Phicol, the commander of his army, left and returned to the land of the Philistines.
Gen 21:33 Abraham planted a tamarisk at Beer-sheba, and there he invoked by name the LORD, God the Eternal.
Gen 21:34 Abraham resided in the land of the Philistines for many years.
Gen 22:1 Some time after these events, God put Abraham to the test. He called to him, "Abraham!" "Ready!" he replied.
Gen 22:2 Then God said: "Take your son Isaac, your only one, whom you love, and go to the land of Moriah. There you shall offer him up as a holocaust on a height that I will point out to you."
Gen 22:3 Early the next morning Abraham saddled his donkey, took with him his son Isaac, and two of his servants as well, and with the wood that he had cut for the holocaust, set out for the place of which God had told him.
Gen 22:4 On the third day Abraham got sight of the place from afar.
Gen 22:5 Then he said to his servants: "Both of you stay here with the donkey, while the boy and I go on over yonder. We will worship and then come back to you."
Gen 22:6 Thereupon Abraham took the wood for the holocaust and laid it on his son Isaac's shoulders, while he himself carried the fire and the knife.
Gen 22:7 As the two walked on together, Isaac spoke to his father Abraham. "Father!" he said. "Yes, son," he replied. Isaac continued, "Here are the fire and the wood, but where is the sheep for the holocaust?"
Gen 22:8 "Son," Abraham answered, "God himself will provide the sheep for the holocaust." Then the two continued going forward.
Gen 22:9 When they came to the place of which God had told him, Abraham built an altar there and arranged the wood on it. Next he tied up his son Isaac, and put him on top of the wood on the altar.
Gen 22:10 Then he reached out and took the knife to slaughter his son.
Gen 22:11 But the LORD'S messenger called to him from heaven, "Abraham, Abraham!" "Yes, Lord," he answered.
Gen 22:12 "Do not lay your hand on the boy," said the messenger. "Do not do the least thing to him. I know now how devoted you are to God, since you did not withhold from me your own beloved son."
Gen 22:13 As Abraham looked about, he spied a ram caught by its horns in the thicket. So he went and took the ram and offered it up as a holocaust in place of his son.
Gen 22:14 Abraham named the site Yahweh-yireh; hence people now say, "On the mountain the LORD will see."
Gen 22:15 Again the LORD'S messenger called to Abraham from heaven
Gen 22:16 and said: "I swear by myself, declares the LORD, that because you acted as you did in not withholding from me your beloved son,
Gen 22:17 I will bless you abundantly and make your descendants as countless as the stars of the sky and the sands of the seashore; your descendants shall take possession of the gates of their enemies,
Gen 22:18 and in your descendants all the nations of the earth shall find blessing-- all this because you obeyed my command."
Gen 22:19 Abraham then returned to his servants, and they set out together for Beer-sheba, where Abraham made his home.
Gen 22:20 Some time afterward, the news came to Abraham: "Milcah too has borne sons, to your brother Nahor:
Gen 22:21 Uz, his first-born, his brother Buz, Kemuel (the father of Aram),
Gen 22:22 Chesed, Hazo, Pildash, Jidlaph, and Bethuel."
Gen 22:23 Bethuel became the father of Rebekah. These eight Milcah bore to Abraham's brother Nahor.
Gen 22:24 His concubine, whose name was Reumah, also bore children: Tebah, Gaham, Tahash, and Maacah.
Gen 23:1 The span of Sarah's life was one hundred and twenty-seven years.
Gen 23:2 She died in Kiriatharba (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan, and Abraham performed the customary mourning rites for her.
Gen 23:3 Then he left the side of his dead one and addressed the Hittites:
Gen 23:4 "Although I am a resident alien among you, sell me from your holdings a piece of property for a burial ground, that I may bury my dead wife."
Gen 23:5 The Hittites answered Abraham: "Please, sir,

Gen 23:6 listen to us! You are an elect of God among us. Bury your dead in the choicest of our burial sites. None of us would deny you his burial ground for the burial of your dead."

Gen 23:7 Abraham, however, began to bow low before the local citizens, the Hittites,

Gen 23:8 while he appealed to them: "If you will allow me room for burial of my dead, listen to me! Intercede for me with Ephron, son of Zohar, asking him

Gen 23:9 to sell me the cave of Machpelah that he owns; it is at the edge of his field. Let him sell it to me in your presence, at its full price, for a burial place."

Gen 23:10 Now Ephron was present with the Hittites. So Ephron the Hittite replied to Abraham in the hearing of the Hittites who sat on his town council:

Gen 23:11 "Please, sir, listen to me! I give you both the field and the cave in it; in the presence of my kinsmen I make this gift. Bury your dead!"

Gen 23:12 But Abraham, after bowing low before the local citizens, addressed Ephron in the hearing of these men:

Gen 23:13 "Ah, if only you would please listen to me! I will pay you the price of the field. Accept it from me, that I may bury my dead there."

Gen 23:14 Ephron replied to Abraham, "Please,

Gen 23:15 sir, listen to me! A piece of land worth four hundred shekels of silver-- what is that between you and me, as long as you can bury your dead?"

Gen 23:16 Abraham accepted Ephron's terms; he weighed out to him the silver that Ephron had stipulated in the hearing of the Hittites, four hundred shekels of silver at the current market value.

Gen 23:17 Thus Ephron's field in Machpelah, facing Mamre, together with its cave and all the trees anywhere within its limits, was conveyed

Gen 23:18 to Abraham by purchase in the presence of all the Hittites who sat on Ephron's town council.

Gen 23:19 After this transaction, Abraham buried his wife Sarah in the cave of the field of Machpelah, facing Mamre (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan.

Gen 23:20 Thus the field with its cave was transferred from the Hittites to Abraham as a burial place.

Gen 24:1 Abraham had now reached a ripe old age, and the LORD had blessed him in every way.

Gen 24:2 Abraham said to the senior servant of his household, who had charge of all his possessions: "Put your hand under my thigh,

Gen 24:3 and I will make you swear by the LORD, the God of heaven and the God of earth, that you will not procure a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites among whom I live,

Gen 24:4 but that you will go to my own land and to my kindred to get a wife for my son Isaac."

Gen 24:5 The servant asked him: "What if the woman is unwilling to follow me to this land? Should I then take your son back to the land from which you migrated?"

Gen 24:6 "Never take my son back there for any reason," Abraham told him.

Gen 24:7 "The LORD, the God of heaven, who took me from my father's house and the land of my kin, and who confirmed by oath the promise he then made to me, 'I will give this land to your descendants'-- he will send his messenger before you, and you will obtain a wife for my son there.

Gen 24:8 If the woman is unwilling to follow you, you will be released from this oath. But never take my son back there!"

Gen 24:9 So the servant put his hand under the thigh of his master Abraham and swore to him in this undertaking.

Gen 24:10 The servant then took ten of his master's camels, and bearing all kinds of gifts from his master, he made his way to the city of Nahor in Aram Naharaim.

Gen 24:11 Near evening, at the time when women go out to draw water, he made the camels kneel by the well outside the city.

Gen 24:12 Then he prayed: "LORD, God of my master Abraham, let it turn out favorably for me today and thus deal graciously with my master Abraham.

Gen 24:13 While I stand here at the spring and the daughters of the townsmen are coming out to draw water,

Gen 24:14 if I say to a girl, 'Please lower your jug, that I may drink,' and she answers, 'Take a drink, and let me give water to your camels, too,' let her be the one whom you have decided upon for your servant Isaac. In this way I shall know that you have dealt graciously with my master."

Gen 24:15 He had scarcely finished these words when Rebekah (who was born to Bethuel, son of Milcah, the wife of Abraham's brother Nahor) came out with a jug on her shoulder.

Gen 24:16 The girl was very beautiful, a virgin, untouched by man. She went down to the spring and filled her jug. As she came up,

Gen 24:17 the servant ran toward her and said, "Please give me a sip of water from your jug."

Gen 24:18 "Take a drink, sir," she replied, and quickly lowering the jug onto her hand, she gave him a drink.

Gen 24:19 When she had let him drink his fill, she said, "I will draw water for your camels, too, until they have drunk their fill."

Gen 24:20 With that, she quickly emptied her jug into the drinking trough and ran back to the well to draw more water, until she had drawn enough for all the camels.

Gen 24:21 The man watched her the whole time, silently waiting to learn whether or not the LORD had made his errand successful.

Gen 24:22 When the camels had finished drinking, the man took out a gold ring weighing half a shekel, which he fastened on her nose, and two gold bracelets weighing ten shekels, which he put on her wrists.

Gen 24:23 Then he asked her: "Whose daughter are you? Tell me, please. And is there room in your father's house for us to spend the night?"

Gen 24:24 She answered: "I am the daughter of Bethuel the son of Milcah, whom she bore to Nahor.

Gen 24:25 There is plenty of straw and fodder at our place," she added, "and room to spend the night."

Gen 24:26 The man then bowed down in worship to the LORD,

Gen 24:27 saying: "Blessed be the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who has not let his constant kindness toward my master fail. As for myself also, the LORD has led me straight to the house of my master's brother."

Gen 24:28 Then the girl ran off and told her mother's household about it.

Gen 24:29 Now Rebekah had a brother named Laban.

Gen 24:30 As soon as he saw the ring and the bracelets on his sister Rebekah and heard her words about what the man had said to her, Laban rushed outside to the man at the spring. When he reached him, he was still standing by the camels at the spring.

Gen 24:31 So he said to him: "Come, blessed of the LORD! Why are you staying outside when I have made the house ready for you, as well as a place for the camels?"

Gen 24:32 The man then went inside; and while the camels were being unloaded and provided with straw and fodder, water was brought to bathe his feet and the feet of the men who were with him.

Gen 24:33 But when the table was set for him, he said, "I will not eat until I have told my tale." "Do so," they replied.

Gen 24:34 "I am Abraham's servant," he began.

Gen 24:35 "The LORD has blessed my master so abundantly that he has become a wealthy man; he has given him flocks and herds, silver and gold, male and female slaves, and camels and asses.

Gen 24:36 My master's wife Sarah bore a son to my master in her old age, and he has given him everything he owns.

Gen 24:37 My master put me under oath, saying: 'You shall not procure a wife for my son among the daughters of the Canaanites in whose land I live;

Gen 24:38 instead, you shall go to my father's house, to my own relatives, to get a wife for my son.'

Gen 24:39 When I asked my master, 'What if the woman will not follow me?,'

Gen 24:40 he replied: 'The LORD, in whose presence I have always walked, will send his messenger with you and make your errand successful, and so you will get a wife for my son from my own kindred of my father's house.

Gen 24:41 Then you shall be released from my ban. If you visit my kindred and they refuse you, then, too, you shall be released from my ban.'

Gen 24:42 "When I came to the spring today, I prayed: 'LORD, God of my master Abraham, may it be your will to make successful the errand I am engaged on!

Gen 24:43 While I stand here at the spring, if I say to a young woman who comes out to draw water, Please give me a little water from your jug,

Gen 24:44 and she answers, Not only may you have a drink, but I will give water to your camels, too-- let her be the woman whom the LORD has decided upon for my master's son.'

Gen 24:45 "I had scarcely finished saying this prayer to myself when Rebekah came out with a jug on her shoulder. After she went down to the spring and drew water, I said to her, 'Please let me have a drink.'

Gen 24:46 She quickly lowered the jug she was carrying and said, 'Take a drink, and let me bring water for your camels, too.' So I drank, and she watered the camels also.

Gen 24:47 When I asked her, 'Whose daughter are you?' she answered, 'The daughter of Bethuel, son of Nahor, borne to Nahor by Milcah.' So I put the ring on her nose and the bracelets on her wrists.

Gen 24:48 Then I bowed down in worship to the LORD, blessing the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who had led me on the right road to obtain the daughter of my master's kinsman for his son.

Gen 24:49 If, therefore, you have in mind to show true loyalty to my master, let me know; but if not, let me know that, too. I can then proceed accordingly."

Gen 24:50 Laban and his household said in reply: "This thing comes from the LORD; we can say nothing to you either for or against it.

Gen 24:51 Here is Rebekah, ready for you; take her with you, that she may become the wife of your master's son, as the LORD has said."

Gen 24:52 When Abraham's servant heard their answer, he bowed to the ground before the LORD.

Gen 24:53 Then he brought out objects of silver and gold and articles of clothing and presented them to Rebekah; he also gave costly presents to her brother and mother.

Gen 24:54 After he and the men with him had eaten and drunk, they spent the night there. When they were up the next morning, he said, "Give me leave to return to my master."

Gen 24:55 Her brother and mother replied, "Let the girl stay with us a short while, say ten days; after that she may go."

Gen 24:56 But he said to them, "Do not detain me, now that the LORD has made my errand successful; let me go back to my master."

Gen 24:57 They answered, "Let us call the girl and see what she herself has to say about it."

Gen 24:58 So they called Rebekah and asked her, "Do you wish to go with this man?" She answered, "I do."

Gen 24:59 At this they allowed their sister Rebekah and her nurse to take leave, along with Abraham's servant and his men.

Gen 24:60 Invoking a blessing on Rebekah, they said: "Sister, may you grow into thousands of myriads; And may your descendants gain possession of the gates of their enemies!"

Gen 24:61 Then Rebekah and her maids started out; they mounted their camels and followed the man. So the servant took Rebekah and went on his way.

Gen 24:62 Meanwhile Isaac had gone from Beer-lahai-roi and was living in the region of the Negeb.

Gen 24:63 One day toward evening he went out... in the field, and as he looked around, he noticed that camels were approaching.

Gen 24:64 Rebekah, too, was looking about, and when she saw him, she alighted from her camel

Gen 24:65 and asked the servant, "Who is the man out there, walking through the fields toward us?" "That is my master," replied the servant. Then she covered herself with her veil.

Gen 24:66 The servant recounted to Isaac all the things he had done.

Gen 24:67 Then Isaac took Rebekah into his tent; he married her, and thus she became his wife. In his love for her Isaac found solace after the death of his mother Sarah.

Gen 25:1 Abraham married another wife, whose name was Keturah.

Gen 25:2 She bore him Zimran, Jokshan, Medan, Midian, Ishbak, and Shuah.

Gen 25:3 Jokshan became the father of Sheba and Dedan. The descendants of Dedan were the Asshurim, the Letushim, and the Leummim.

Gen 25:4 The descendants of Midian were Ephah, Epher, Hanoah, Abida, and Eldaah. All of these were descendants of Keturah.

Gen 25:5 Abraham deeded everything that he owned to his son Isaac.

Gen 25:6 To his sons by concubinage, however, he made grants while he was still living, as he sent them away eastward, to the land of Kedem, away from his son Isaac.

Gen 25:7 The whole span of Abraham's life was one hundred and seventy-five years.

Gen 25:8 Then he breathed his last, dying at a ripe old age, grown old after a full life; and he was taken to his kinsmen.

Gen 25:9 His sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron, son of Zohar the Hittite, which faces Mamre,

Gen 25:10 the field that Abraham had bought from the Hittites; there he was buried next to his wife Sarah.

Gen 25:11 After the death of Abraham, God blessed his son Isaac, who made his home near Beer-lahai-roi.

Gen 25:12 These are the descendants of Abraham's son Ishmael, whom Hagar the Egyptian, Sarah's slave, bore to Abraham.

Gen 25:13 These are the names of Ishmael's sons, listed in the order of their birth: Nebaioth (Ishmael's firstborn), Kedar, Adbeel, Mibsam,

Gen 25:14 Mishma, Dumah, Massa,

Gen 25:15 Hadad, Tema, Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah.

Gen 25:16 These are the sons of Ishmael, their names by their villages and encampments; twelve chieftains of as many tribal groups.

Gen 25:17 The span of Ishmael's life was one hundred and thirty-seven years. After he had breathed his last and died, he was taken to his kinsmen.

Gen 25:18 The Ishmaelites ranged from Havilah-by-Shur, which is on the border of Egypt, all the way to Asshur; and each of them pitched camp in opposition to his various kinsmen.

Gen 25:19 This is the family history of Isaac, son of Abraham; Abraham had begotten Isaac.

Gen 25:20 Isaac was forty years old when he married Rebekah, the daughter of Bethuel the Aramean of Paddan-aram and the sister of Laban the Aramean.

Gen 25:21 Isaac entreated the LORD on behalf of his wife, since she was sterile. The LORD heard his entreaty, and Rebekah became pregnant.

Gen 25:22 But the children in her womb jostled each other so much that she exclaimed, "If this is to be so, what good will it do me!" She went to consult the LORD,

Gen 25:23 and he answered her: "Two nations are in your womb, two peoples are quarreling while still within you; But one shall surpass the other, and the older shall serve the younger."

Gen 25:24 When the time of her delivery came, there were twins in her womb.

Gen 25:25 The first to emerge was reddish, and his whole body was like a hairy mantle; so they named him Esau.

Gen 25:26 His brother came out next, gripping Esau's heel; so they named him Jacob. Isaac was sixty years old when they were born.

Gen 25:27 As the boys grew up, Esau became a skillful hunter, a man who lived in the open; whereas Jacob was a simple man, who kept to his tents.

Gen 25:28 Isaac preferred Esau, because he was fond of game; but Rebekah preferred Jacob.

Gen 25:29 Once, when Jacob was cooking a stew, Esau came in from the open, famished.

Gen 25:30 He said to Jacob, "Let me gulp down some of that red stuff; I'm starving." (That is why he was called Edom.)

Gen 25:31 But Jacob replied, "First give me your birthright in exchange for it."

Gen 25:32 "Look," said Esau, "I'm on the point of dying. What good will any birthright do me?"

Gen 25:33 But Jacob insisted, "Swear to me first!" So he sold Jacob his birthright under oath.

Gen 25:34 Jacob then gave him some bread and the lentil stew; and Esau ate, drank, got up, and went his way. Esau cared little for his birthright.

Gen 26:1 There was a famine in the land (distinct from the earlier one that had occurred in the days of Abraham), and Isaac went down to Abimelech, king of the Philistines in Gerar.

Gen 26:2 The LORD appeared to him and said: "Do not go down to Egypt, but continue to camp wherever in this land I tell you.

Gen 26:3 Stay in this land, and I will be with you and bless you; for to you and your descendants I will give all these lands, in fulfillment of the oath that I swore to your father Abraham.

Gen 26:4 I will make your descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky and give them all these lands, and in your descendants all the nations of the earth shall find blessing--

Gen 26:5 this because Abraham obeyed me, keeping my mandate (my commandments, my ordinances, and my instructions)."

Gen 26:6 So Isaac settled in Gerar.

Gen 26:7 When the men of the place asked questions about his wife, he answered, "She is my sister." He was afraid, if he called her his wife, the men of the place would kill him on account of Rebekah, since she was very beautiful.

Gen 26:8 But when he had been there for a long time, Abimelech, king of the Philistines, happened to look out of a window and was surprised to see Isaac fondling his wife Rebekah.

Gen 26:9 He called for Isaac and said: "She must certainly be your wife! How could you have said, 'She is my sister'?" Isaac replied, "I thought I might lose my life on her account."

Gen 26:10 "How could you do this to us!" exclaimed Abimelech. "It would have taken very little for one of the men to lie with your wife, and you would have thus brought guilt upon us!"

Gen 26:11 Abimelech therefore gave this warning to all his men: "Anyone who molests this man or his wife shall forthwith be put to death."

Gen 26:12 Isaac sowed a crop in that region and reaped a hundredfold the same year. Since the LORD blessed him,

Gen 26:13 he became richer and richer all the time, until he was very wealthy indeed.

Gen 26:14 He acquired such flocks and herds, and so many work animals, that the Philistines became envious of him.

Gen 26:15 (The Philistines had stopped up and filled with dirt all the wells that his father's servants had dug back in the days of his father Abraham.)

Gen 26:16 So Abimelech said to Isaac, "Go away from us; you have become far too numerous for us."

Gen 26:17 Isaac left there and made the Wadi Gerar his regular campsite.

Gen 26:18 (Isaac reopened the wells which his father's servants had dug back in the days of his father Abraham and which the Philistines had stopped up after Abraham's death; he gave them the same names that his father had given them.)

Gen 26:19 But when Isaac's servants dug in the wadi and reached spring water in their well,

Gen 26:20 the shepherds of Gerar quarreled with Isaac's servants, saying, "The water belongs to us!" So the well was called Esek, because they had challenged him there.

Gen 26:21 Then they dug another well, and they quarreled over that one too; so it was called Sitnah.

Gen 26:22 When he had moved on from there, he dug still another well; but over this one they did not quarrel. It was called Rehoboth, because he said, "The LORD has now given us ample room, and we shall flourish in the land."

Gen 26:23 From there Isaac went up to Beer-sheba.

Gen 26:24 The same night the LORD appeared to him and said: "I am the God of your father Abraham. You have no need to fear, since I am with you. I will bless you and multiply your descendants for the sake of my servant Abraham."

Gen 26:25 So he built an altar there and invoked the LORD by name. After he had pitched his tent there, his servants began to dig a well nearby.

Gen 26:26 Abimelech had meanwhile come to him from Gerar, accompanied by Ahuzzath, his councilor, and Phicol, the general of his army.

Gen 26:27 Isaac asked them, "Why have you come to me, seeing that you hate me and have driven me away from you?"

Gen 26:28 They answered: "We are convinced that the LORD is with you, so we propose that there be a sworn agreement between our two sides-- between you and us. Let us make a pact with you:

Gen 26:29 you shall not act unkindly toward us, just as we have not molested you, but have always acted kindly toward you and have let you depart in peace. Henceforth, 'The LORD'S blessing be upon you!'"

Gen 26:30 Isaac then made a feast for them, and they ate and drank.

Gen 26:31 Early the next morning they exchanged oaths. Then Isaac bade them farewell, and they departed from him in peace.

Gen 26:32 That same day Isaac's servants came and brought him news about the well they had been digging; they told him, "We have reached water!"

Gen 26:33 He called it Shibah; hence the name of the city, Beer-sheba, to this day.

Gen 26:34 When Esau was forty years old, he married Judith, daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and Basemath, daughter of Elon the Hivite.

Gen 26:35 But they became a source of embitterment to Isaac and Rebekah.

Gen 27:1 When Isaac was so old that his eyesight had failed him, he called his older son Esau and said to him, "Son!" "Yes, father!" he replied.

Gen 27:2 Isaac then said, "As you can see, I am so old that I may now die at any time.

Gen 27:3 Take your gear, therefore-- your quiver and bow-- and go out into the country to hunt some game for me.

Gen 27:4 With your catch prepare an appetizing dish for me, such as I like, and bring it to me to eat, so that I may give you my special blessing before I die."

Gen 27:5 Rebekah had been listening while Isaac was speaking to his son Esau. So when Esau went out into the country to hunt some game for his father,

Gen 27:6 Rebekah said to her son Jacob, "Listen! I overheard your father tell your brother Esau,

Gen 27:7 'Bring me some game and with it prepare an appetizing dish for me to eat, that I may give you my blessing with the LORD'S approval before I die.'

Gen 27:8 Now, son, listen carefully to what I tell you.

Gen 27:9 Go to the flock and get me two choice kids. With these I will prepare an appetizing dish for your father, such as he likes.

Gen 27:10 Then bring it to your father to eat, that he may bless you before he dies."

Gen 27:11 "But my brother Esau is a hairy man," said Jacob to his mother Rebekah, "and I am smooth-skinned!

Gen 27:12 Suppose my father feels me? He will think I am making sport of him, and I shall bring on myself a curse instead of a blessing."

Gen 27:13 His mother, however, replied: "Let any curse against you, son, fall on me! Just do as I say. Go and get me the kids."

Gen 27:14 So Jacob went and got them and brought them to his mother; and with them she prepared an appetizing dish, such as his father liked.

Gen 27:15 Rebekah then took the best clothes of her older son Esau that she had in the house, and gave them to her younger son Jacob to wear;

Gen 27:16 and with the skins of the kids she covered up his hands and the hairless parts of his neck.

Gen 27:17 Then she handed her son Jacob the appetizing dish and the bread she had prepared.

Gen 27:18 Bringing them to his father, Jacob said, "Father!" "Yes?" replied Isaac. "Which of my sons are you?"

Gen 27:19 Jacob answered his father: "I am Esau, your first-born. I did as you told me. Please sit up and eat some of my game, so that you may give me your special blessing."

Gen 27:20 But Isaac asked, "How did you succeed so quickly, son?" He answered, "The LORD, your God, let things turn out well with me."

Gen 27:21 Isaac then said to Jacob, "Come closer, son, that I may feel you, to learn whether you really are my son Esau or not."

Gen 27:22 So Jacob moved up closer to his father. When Isaac felt him, he said, "Although the voice is Jacob's, the hands are Esau's."

Gen 27:23 (He failed to identify him because his hands were hairy, like those of his brother Esau; so in the end he gave him his blessing.)

Gen 27:24 Again he asked him, "Are you really my son Esau?" "Certainly," he replied.

Gen 27:25 Then Isaac said, "Serve me your game, son, that I may eat of it and then give you my blessing."

Jacob served it to him, and Isaac ate; he brought him wine, and he drank.

Gen 27:26 Finally his father Isaac said to him, "Come closer, son, and kiss me."

Gen 27:27 As Jacob went up and kissed him, Isaac smelled the fragrance of his clothes. With that, he blessed him, saying, "Ah, the fragrance of my son is like the fragrance of a field that the LORD has blessed!

Gen 27:28 "May God give to you of the dew of the heavens And of the fertility of the earth abundance of grain and wine.

Gen 27:29 "Let peoples serve you, and nations pay you homage; Be master of your brothers, and may your mother's sons bow down to you. Cursed be those who curse you, and blessed be those who bless you."

Gen 27:30 Jacob had scarcely left his father, just after Isaac had finished blessing him, when his brother Esau came back from his hunt.

Gen 27:31 Then he too prepared an appetizing dish with his game, and bringing it to his father, he said, "Please, father, eat some of your son's game, that you may then give me your special blessing."

Gen 27:32 "Who are you?" his father Isaac asked him. "I am Esau," he replied, "your first-born son."

Gen 27:33 With that, Isaac was seized with a fit of uncontrollable trembling. "Who was it, then," he asked, "that hunted game and brought it to me? I finished eating it just before you came, and I blessed him. Now he must remain blessed!"

Gen 27:34 On hearing his father's words, Esau burst into loud, bitter sobbing. "Father, bless me too!" he begged.

Gen 27:35 When Isaac explained, "Your brother came here by a ruse and carried off your blessing,"

Gen 27:36 Esau exclaimed, "He has been well named Jacob! He has now supplanted me twice! First he took away my birthright, and now he has taken away my blessing." Then he pleaded, "Haven't you saved a blessing for me?"

Gen 27:37 Isaac replied: "I have already appointed him your master, and I have assigned to him all his kinsmen as his slaves; besides, I have enriched him with grain and wine. What then can I do for you, son?"

Gen 27:38 But Esau urged his father, "Have you only that one blessing, father? Bless me too!" Isaac, however, made no reply; and Esau wept aloud.

Gen 27:39 Finally Isaac spoke again and said to him: "Ah, far from the fertile earth shall be your dwelling; far from the dew of the heavens above!

Gen 27:40 "By your sword you shall live, and your brother you shall serve; But when you become restive, you shall throw off his yoke from your neck."

Gen 27:41 Esau bore Jacob a grudge because of the blessing his father had given him. He said to himself, "When the time of mourning for my father comes, I will kill my brother Jacob."

Gen 27:42 When Rebekah got news of what her older son Esau had in mind, she called her younger son Jacob and said to him: "Listen! Your brother Esau intends to settle accounts with you by killing you.

Gen 27:43 Therefore, son, do what I tell you: flee at once to my brother Laban in Haran,

Gen 27:44 and stay with him a while until your brother's fury subsides

Gen 27:45 (until your brother's anger against you subsides) and he forgets what you did to him. Then I will send for you and bring you back. Must I lose both of you in a single day?"

Gen 27:46 Rebekah said to Isaac: "I am disgusted with life because of the Hittite women. If Jacob also should marry a Hittite woman, a native of the land, like these women, what good would life be to me?"

Gen 28:1 Isaac therefore called Jacob, greeted him with a blessing, and charged him: "You shall not marry a Canaanite woman!

Gen 28:2 Go now to Paddan-aram, to the home of your mother's father Bethuel, and there choose a wife for yourself from among the daughters of your uncle Laban.

Gen 28:3 May God Almighty bless you and make you fertile, multiply you that you may become an assembly of peoples.

Gen 28:4 May he extend to you and your descendants the blessing he gave to Abraham, so that you may gain possession of the land where you are staying, which he assigned to Abraham."

Gen 28:5 Then Isaac sent Jacob on his way; he went to Paddan-aram, to Laban, son of Bethuel the Aramean, and brother of Rebekah, the mother of Jacob and Esau.

Gen 28:6 Esau noted that Isaac had blessed Jacob when he sent him to Paddan-aram to get himself a wife there, charging him, as he gave him his blessing, not to marry a Canaanite woman,

Gen 28:7 and that Jacob had obeyed his father and mother and gone to Paddan-aram.

Gen 28:8 Esau realized how displeasing the Canaanite women were to his father Isaac,

Gen 28:9 so he went to Ishmael, and in addition to the wives he had, married Mahalath, the daughter of Abraham's son Ishmael and sister of Nebaioth.

Gen 28:10 Jacob departed from Beer-sheba and proceeded toward Haran.

Gen 28:11 When he came upon a certain shrine, as the sun had already set, he stopped there for the night. Taking one of the stones at the shrine, he put it under his head and lay down to sleep at that spot.

Gen 28:12 Then he had a dream: a stairway rested on the ground, with its top reaching to the heavens; and God's messengers were going up and down on it.

Gen 28:13 And there was the LORD standing beside him and saying: "I, the LORD, am the God of your forefather Abraham and the God of Isaac; the land on which you are lying I will give to you and your descendants.

Gen 28:14 These shall be as plentiful as the dust of the earth, and through them you shall spread out east and west, north and south. In you and your descendants all the nations of the earth shall find blessing.

Gen 28:15 Know that I am with you; I will protect you wherever you go, and bring you back to this land. I will never leave you until I have done what I promised you."

Gen 28:16 When Jacob awoke from his sleep, he exclaimed, "Truly, the LORD is in this spot, although I did not know it!"

Gen 28:17 In solemn wonder he cried out: "How awesome is this shrine! This is nothing else but an abode of God, and that is the gateway to heaven!"

Gen 28:18 Early the next morning Jacob took the stone that he had put under his head, set it up as a memorial stone, and poured oil on top of it.

Gen 28:19 He called that site Bethel, whereas the former name of the town had been Luz.

Gen 28:20 Jacob then made this vow: "If God remains with me, to protect me on this journey I am making and to give me enough bread to eat and clothing to wear,

Gen 28:21 and I come back safe to my father's house, the LORD shall be my God.

Gen 28:22 This stone that I have set up as a memorial stone shall be God's abode. Of everything you give me, I will faithfully return a tenth part to you."

Gen 29:1 After Jacob resumed his journey, he came to the land of the Easterners.

Gen 29:2 Looking about, he saw a well in the open country, with three droves of sheep huddled near it, for droves were watered from that well. A large stone covered the mouth of the well.

Gen 29:3 Only when all the shepherds were assembled there could they roll the stone away from the mouth of the well and water the flocks. Then they would put the stone back again over the mouth of the well.

Gen 29:4 Jacob said to them, "Friends, where are you from?" "We are from Haran," they replied.

Gen 29:5 Then he asked them, "Do you know Laban, son of Nahor?" "We do," they answered.

Gen 29:6 He inquired further, "Is he well?" "He is," they answered; "and here comes his daughter Rachel with his flock."

Gen 29:7 Then he said: "There is still much daylight left; it is hardly the time to bring the animals home. Why don't you water the flocks now, and then continue pasturing them?"

Gen 29:8 "We cannot," they replied, "until all the shepherds are here to roll the stone away from the mouth of the well; only then can we water the flocks."

Gen 29:9 While he was still talking with them, Rachel arrived with her father's sheep; she was the one who tended them.

Gen 29:10 As soon as Jacob saw Rachel, the daughter of his uncle Laban, with the sheep of his uncle Laban, he went up, rolled the stone away from the mouth of the well, and watered his uncle's sheep.

Gen 29:11 Then Jacob kissed Rachel and burst into tears.

Gen 29:12 He told her that he was her father's relative, Rebekah's son, and she ran to tell her father.

Gen 29:13 When Laban heard the news about his sister's son Jacob, he hurried out to meet him. After embracing and kissing him, he brought him to his house. Jacob then recounted to Laban all that had happened,

Gen 29:14 and Laban said to him, "You are indeed my flesh and blood." After Jacob had stayed with him a full month,

Gen 29:15 Laban said to him: "Should you serve me for nothing just because you are a relative of mine? Tell me what your wages should be."

Gen 29:16 Now Laban had two daughters; the older was called Leah, the younger Rachel.

Gen 29:17 Leah had lovely eyes, but Rachel was well formed and beautiful.

Gen 29:18 Since Jacob had fallen in love with Rachel, he answered Laban, "I will serve you seven years for your younger daughter Rachel."

Gen 29:19 Laban replied, "I prefer to give her to you rather than to an outsider. Stay with me."

Gen 29:20 So Jacob served seven years for Rachel, yet they seemed to him but a few days because of his love for her.

Gen 29:21 Then Jacob said to Laban, "Give me my wife, that I may consummate my marriage with her, for my term is now completed."

Gen 29:22 So Laban invited all the local inhabitants and gave a feast.

Gen 29:23 At nightfall he took his daughter Leah and brought her to Jacob, and Jacob consummated the marriage with her.

Gen 29:24 (Laban assigned his slave girl Zilpah to his daughter Leah as her maidservant.)

Gen 29:25 In the morning Jacob was amazed: it was Leah! So he cried out to Laban: "How could you do this to me! Was it not for Rachel that I served you? Why did you dupe me?"

Gen 29:26 "It is not the custom in our country," Laban replied, "to marry off a younger daughter before an older one.

Gen 29:27 Finish the bridal week for this one, and then I will give you the other too, in return for another seven years of service with me."

Gen 29:28 Jacob agreed. He finished the bridal week for Leah, and then Laban gave him his daughter Rachel in marriage.

Gen 29:29 (Laban assigned his slave girl Bilhah to his daughter Rachel as her maidservant.)

Gen 29:30 Jacob then consummated his marriage with Rachel also, and he loved her more than Leah. Thus he remained in Laban's service another seven years.

Gen 29:31 When the LORD saw that Leah was unloved, he made her fruitful, while Rachel remained barren.

Gen 29:32 Leah conceived and bore a son, and she named him Reuben; for she said, "It means, 'The LORD saw my misery; now my husband will love me.'"

Gen 29:33 She conceived again and bore a son, and said, "It means, 'The LORD heard that I was unloved,' and therefore he has given me this one also"; so she named him Simeon.

Gen 29:34 Again she conceived and bore a son, and she said, "Now at last my husband will become attached to me, since I have now borne him three sons"; that is why she named him Levi.

Gen 29:35 Once more she conceived and bore a son, and she said, "This time I will give grateful praise to the LORD"; therefore she named him Judah. Then she stopped bearing children.

Gen 30:1 When Rachel saw that she failed to bear children to Jacob, she became envious of her sister. She said to Jacob, "Give me children or I shall die!"

Gen 30:2 In anger Jacob retorted, "Can I take the place of God, who has denied you the fruit of the womb?"

Gen 30:3 She replied, "Here is my maidservant Bilhah. Have intercourse with her, and let her give birth on my knees, so that I too may have offspring, at least through her."

Gen 30:4 So she gave him her maidservant Bilhah as a consort, and Jacob had intercourse with her.

Gen 30:5 When Bilhah conceived and bore a son,

Gen 30:6 Rachel said, "God has vindicated me; indeed he has heeded my plea and given me a son." Therefore she named him Dan.

Gen 30:7 Rachel's maidservant Bilhah conceived again and bore a second son,

Gen 30:8 and Rachel said, "I engaged in a fateful struggle with my sister, and I prevailed." So she named him Naphtali.

Gen 30:9 When Leah saw that she had ceased to bear children, she gave her maidservant Zilpah to Jacob as a consort.

Gen 30:10 So Jacob had intercourse with Zilpah, and she conceived and bore a son.

Gen 30:11 Leah then said, "What good luck!" So she named him Gad.

Gen 30:12 Then Leah's maidservant Zilpah bore a second son to Jacob;

Gen 30:13 and Leah said, "What good fortune!"-- meaning, "Women call me fortunate." So she named him Asher.

Gen 30:14 One day, during the wheat harvest, when Reuben was out in the field, he came upon some mandrakes which he brought home to his mother Leah. Rachel asked Leah, "Please let me have some of your son's mandrakes."

Gen 30:15 Leah replied, "Was it not enough for you to take away my husband, that you must now take my son's mandrakes too?" "Very well, then!" Rachel answered. "In exchange for your son's mandrakes, Jacob may lie with you tonight."

Gen 30:16 That evening, when Jacob came home from the fields, Leah went out to meet him. "You are now to come in with me," she told him, "because I have paid for you with my son's mandrakes." So that night he slept with her,

Gen 30:17 and God heard her prayer; she conceived and bore a fifth son to Jacob.

Gen 30:18 Leah then said, "God has given me my reward for having let my husband have my maidservant"; so she named him Issachar.

Gen 30:19 Leah conceived again and bore a sixth son to Jacob;

Gen 30:20 and she said, "God has brought me a precious gift. This time my husband will offer me presents, now that I have borne him six sons"; so she named him Zebulun.

Gen 30:21 Finally, she gave birth to a daughter, and she named her Dinah.

Gen 30:22 Then God remembered Rachel; he heard her prayer and made her fruitful.

Gen 30:23 She conceived and bore a son, and she said, "God has removed my disgrace."

Gen 30:24 So she named him Joseph, meaning, "May the LORD add another son to this one for me!"

Gen 30:25 After Rachel gave birth to Joseph, Jacob said to Laban: "Give me leave to go to my homeland.

Gen 30:26 Let me have my wives, for whom I served you, and my children, too, that I may depart. You know very well the service that I have rendered you."

Gen 30:27 Laban answered him: "If you will please.... "I have learned through divination that it is because of you that God has blessed me.

Gen 30:28 So," he continued, "state what wages you want from me, and I will pay them."

Gen 30:29 Jacob replied: "You know what work I did for you and how well your livestock fared under my care;

Gen 30:30 the little you had before I came has grown into very much, since the LORD'S blessings came upon you in my company. Therefore I should now do something for my own household as well."

Gen 30:31 "What should I pay you?" Laban asked. Jacob answered: "You do not have to pay me anything outright. I will again pasture and tend your flock, if you do this one thing for me:

Gen 30:32 go through your whole flock today and remove from it every dark animal among the sheep and every spotted or speckled one among the goats. Only such animals shall be my wages.

Gen 30:33 In the future, whenever you check on these wages of mine, let my honesty testify against me: any animal in my possession that is not a speckled or spotted goat, or a dark sheep, got there by theft!"

Gen 30:34 "Very well," agreed Laban. "Let it be as you say."

Gen 30:35 That same day Laban removed the streaked and spotted he-goats and all the speckled and spotted she-goats, all those with some white on them, as well as the fully dark-colored sheep; these he left... in charge of his sons.

Gen 30:36 Then he put a three days' journey between himself and Jacob, while Jacob continued to pasture the rest of Laban's flock.

Gen 30:37 Jacob, however, got some fresh shoots of poplar, almond and plane trees, and he made white stripes in them by peeling off the bark down to the white core of the shoots.

Gen 30:38 The rods that he had thus peeled he then set upright in the watering troughs, so that they would be in front of the animals that drank from the troughs. When the animals were in heat as they came to drink,

Gen 30:39 the goats mated by the rods, and so they brought forth streaked, speckled and spotted kids.

Gen 30:40 The sheep, on the other hand, Jacob kept apart, and he set these animals to face the streaked or fully dark-colored animals of Laban. Thus he produced special flocks of his own, which he did not put with Laban's flock.

Gen 30:41 Moreover, whenever the hardier animals were in heat, Jacob would set the rods in the troughs in full view of these animals, so that they mated by the rods;

Gen 30:42 but with the weaker animals he would not put the rods there. So the feeble animals would go to Laban, but the sturdy ones to Jacob.

Gen 30:43 Thus the man grew increasingly prosperous, and he came to own not only large flocks but also male and female servants and camels and asses.

Gen 31:1 Jacob learned that Laban's sons were saying, "Jacob has taken everything that belonged to our father, and he has accumulated all this wealth of his by using our father's property."

Gen 31:2 Jacob perceived, too, that Laban's attitude toward him was not what it had previously been.

Gen 31:3 Then the LORD said to Jacob, "Return to the land of your fathers, where you were born, and I will be with you."

Gen 31:4 So Jacob sent for Rachel and Leah to meet him where he was in the field with his flock.

Gen 31:5 There he said to them: "I have noticed that your father's attitude toward me is not as it was in the past; but the God of my father has been with me.

Gen 31:6 You well know what effort I put into serving your father;

Gen 31:7 yet your father cheated me and changed my wages time after time. God, however, did not let him do me any harm.

Gen 31:8 Whenever your father said, 'The speckled animals shall be your wages,' the entire flock would bear speckled young; whenever he said, 'The streaked animals shall be your wages,' the entire flock would bear streaked young.

Gen 31:9 Thus God reclaimed your father's livestock and gave it to me.

Gen 31:10 Once, in the breeding season, I had a dream in which I saw mating he-goats that were streaked, speckled and mottled.

Gen 31:11 In the dream God's messenger called to me, 'Jacob!' 'Here!' I replied.

Gen 31:12 Then he said: 'Note well. All the he-goats in the flock, as they mate, are streaked, speckled and mottled, for I have seen all the things that Laban has been doing to you.

Gen 31:13 I am the God who appeared to you in Bethel, where you anointed a memorial stone and made a vow to me. Up, then! Leave this land and return to the land of your birth.'

Gen 31:14 Rachel and Leah answered him: "Have we still an heir's portion in our father's house?"

Gen 31:15 Are we not regarded by him as outsiders? He not only sold us; he has even used up the money that he got for us!

Gen 31:16 All the wealth that God reclaimed from our father really belongs to us and our children. Therefore, do just as God has told you."

Gen 31:17 Jacob proceeded to put his children and wives on camels,

Gen 31:18 and he drove off with all his livestock and all the property he had acquired in Paddan-aram, to go to his father Isaac in the land of Canaan.

Gen 31:19 Now Laban had gone away to shear his sheep, and Rachel had meanwhile appropriated her father's household idols.

Gen 31:20 Jacob had hoodwinked Laban the Aramean by not telling him of his intended flight.

Gen 31:21 Thus he made his escape with all that he had. Once he was across the Euphrates, he headed for the highlands of Gilead.

Gen 31:22 On the third day, word came to Laban that Jacob had fled.

Gen 31:23 Taking his kinsmen with him, he pursued him for seven days until he caught up with him in the hill country of Gilead.

Gen 31:24 But that night God appeared to Laban the Aramean in a dream and warned him, "Take care not to threaten Jacob with any harm!"

Gen 31:25 When Laban overtook Jacob, Jacob's tents were pitched in the highlands; Laban also pitched his tents there, on Mount Gilead.

Gen 31:26 "What do you mean," Laban demanded of Jacob, "by hoodwinking me and carrying off my daughters like war captives?"

Gen 31:27 Why did you dupe me by stealing away secretly? You should have told me, and I would have sent you off with merry singing to the sound of tambourines and harps.

Gen 31:28 You did not even allow me a parting kiss to my daughters and grandchildren! What you have now done is a senseless thing.

Gen 31:29 I have it in my power to harm all of you; but last night the God of your father said to me, 'Take care not to threaten Jacob with any harm!'

Gen 31:30 Granted that you had to leave because you were desperately homesick for your father's house, why did you steal my gods?"

Gen 31:31 "I was frightened," Jacob replied to Laban, "at the thought that you might take your daughters away from me by force.

Gen 31:32 But as for your gods, the one you find them with shall not remain alive! If, with my kinsmen looking on, you identify anything here as belonging to you, take it." Jacob, of course, had no idea that Rachel had stolen the idols.

Gen 31:33 Laban then went in and searched Jacob's tent and Leah's tent, as well as the tents of the two maidservants; but he did not find the idols. Leaving Leah's tent, he went into Rachel's.

Gen 31:34 Now Rachel had taken the idols, put them inside a camel cushion, and seated herself upon them. When Laban had rummaged through the rest of her tent without finding them,

Gen 31:35 Rachel said to her father, "Let not my lord feel offended that I cannot rise in your presence; a woman's period is upon me." So, despite his search, he did not find his idols.

Gen 31:36 Jacob, now enraged, upbraided Laban. "What crime or offense have I committed," he demanded, "that you should hound me so fiercely?"

Gen 31:37 Now that you have ransacked all my things, have you found a single object taken from your belongings? If so, produce it here before your kinsmen and mine, and let them decide between us two.

Gen 31:38 "In the twenty years that I was under you, no ewe or she-goat of yours ever miscarried, and I have never feasted on a ram of your flock.

Gen 31:39 I never brought you an animal torn by wild beasts; I made good the loss myself. You held me responsible for anything stolen by day or night.

Gen 31:40 How often the scorching heat ravaged me by day, and the frost by night, while sleep fled from my eyes!

Gen 31:41 Of the twenty years that I have now spent in your household, I slaved fourteen years for your two daughters and six years for your flock, while you changed my wages time after time.

Gen 31:42 If my ancestral God, the God of Abraham and the Awesome One of Isaac, had not been on my side, you would now have sent me away empty-handed. But God saw my plight and the fruits of my toil, and last night he gave judgment."

Gen 31:43 Laban replied to Jacob: "The women are mine, their children are mine, and the flocks are mine; everything you see belongs to me. But since these women are my daughters, I will now do something for them and for the children they have borne.

Gen 31:44 Come, then, we will make a pact, you and I; the LORD shall be a witness between us."

Gen 31:45 Then Jacob took a stone and set it up as a memorial stone.

Gen 31:46 Jacob said to his kinsmen, "Gather some stones." So they got some stones and made a mound; and they had a meal there at the mound.

Gen 31:47 Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha, but Jacob named it Galeed.

Gen 31:48 "This mound," said Laban, "shall be a witness from now on between you and me." That is why it was named Galeed--

Gen 31:49 and also Mizpah, for he said: "May the LORD keep watch between you and me when we are out of each other's sight.

Gen 31:50 If you mistreat my daughters, or take other wives besides my daughters, remember that even though no one else is about, God will be witness between you and me."

Gen 31:51 Laban said further to Jacob: "Here is this mound, and here is the memorial stone that I have set up between you and me.

Gen 31:52 This mound shall be witness, and this memorial stone shall be witness, that, with hostile intent, neither may I pass beyond this mound into your territory, nor may you pass beyond it into mine.

Gen 31:53 May the God of Abraham and the god of Nahor (their ancestral deities) maintain justice between us!" Jacob took the oath by the Awesome One of Isaac.

Gen 31:54 He then offered a sacrifice on the mountain and invited his kinsmen to share in the meal. When they had eaten, they passed the night on the mountain.

Gen 32:1 Early the next morning, Laban kissed his grandchildren and his daughters goodbye; then he set out on his journey back home,

Gen 32:2 while Jacob continued on his own way. Then God's messengers encountered Jacob.

Gen 32:3 When he saw them he said, "This is God's encampment." So he named that place Mahanaim.

Gen 32:4 Jacob sent messengers ahead to his brother Esau in the land of Seir, the country of Edom,

Gen 32:5 with this message: "Thus shall you say to my lord Esau: 'Your servant Jacob speaks as follows: I have been staying with Laban and have been detained there until now.

Gen 32:6 I own cattle, asses and sheep, as well as male and female servants. I am sending my lord this information in the hope of gaining your favor.'"

Gen 32:7 When the messengers returned to Jacob, they said, "We reached your brother Esau. He is now coming to meet you, accompanied by four hundred men."

Gen 32:8 Jacob was very much frightened. In his anxiety, he divided the people who were with him, as well as his flocks, herds and camels, into two camps.

Gen 32:9 "If Esau should attack and overwhelm one camp," he reasoned, "the remaining camp may still survive."

Gen 32:10 Then he prayed: "O God of my father Abraham and God of my father Isaac! You told me, O LORD, 'Go back to the land of your birth, and I will be good to you.'

Gen 32:11 I am unworthy of all the acts of kindness that you have loyally performed for your servant: although I crossed the Jordan here with nothing but my staff, I have now grown into two companies.

Gen 32:12 Save me, I pray, from the hand of my brother Esau! Otherwise I fear that when he comes he will strike me down and slay the mothers and children.

Gen 32:13 You yourself said, 'I will be very good to you, and I will make your descendants like the sands of the sea, which are too numerous to count.'"

Gen 32:14 After passing the night there, Jacob selected from what he had with him the following presents for his brother Esau:

Gen 32:15 two hundred she-goats and twenty he-goats; two hundred ewes and twenty rams;

Gen 32:16 thirty milch camels and their young; forty cows and ten bulls; twenty she-asses and ten he-asses.

Gen 32:17 He put these animals in charge of his servants, in separate droves, and he told the servants, "Go on ahead of me, but keep a space between one drove and the next."

Gen 32:18 To the servant in the lead he gave this instruction: "When my brother Esau meets you, he may ask you, 'Whose man are you? Where are you going? To whom do these animals ahead of you belong?'

Gen 32:19 Then you shall answer, 'They belong to your brother Jacob, but they have been sent as a gift to my lord Esau; and Jacob himself is right behind us.'"

Gen 32:20 He gave similar instructions to the second servant and the third and to all the others who followed behind the droves, namely: "Thus and thus shall you say to Esau, when you reach him;

Gen 32:21 and be sure to add, 'Your servant Jacob is right behind us.'" For Jacob reasoned, "If I first appease him with gifts that precede me, then later, when I face him, perhaps he will forgive me."

Gen 32:22 So the gifts went on ahead of him, while he stayed that night in the camp.

Gen 32:23 In the course of that night, however, Jacob arose, took his two wives, with the two maidservants and his eleven children, and crossed the ford of the Jabbok.

Gen 32:24 After he had taken them across the stream and had brought over all his possessions,

Gen 32:25 Jacob was left there alone. Then some man wrestled with him until the break of dawn.

Gen 32:26 When the man saw that he could not prevail over him, he struck Jacob's hip at its socket, so that the hip socket was wrenched as they wrestled.

Gen 32:27 The man then said, "Let me go, for it is daybreak." But Jacob said, "I will not let you go until you bless me."

Gen 32:28 "What is your name?" the man asked. He answered, "Jacob."

Gen 32:29 Then the man said, "You shall no longer be spoken of as Jacob, but as Israel, because you have contended with divine and human beings and have prevailed."

Gen 32:30 Jacob then asked him, "Do tell me your name, please." He answered, "Why should you want to know my name?" With that, he bade him farewell.

Gen 32:31 Jacob named the place Peniel, "Because I have seen God face to face," he said, "yet my life has been spared."

Gen 32:32 At sunrise, as he left Peniel, Jacob limped along because of his hip.

Gen 32:33 That is why, to this day, the Israelites do not eat the sciatic muscle that is on the hip socket, inasmuch as Jacob's hip socket was struck at the sciatic muscle.

Gen 33:1 Jacob looked up and saw Esau coming, accompanied by four hundred men. So he divided his children among Leah, Rachel and the two maidservants, Gen 33:2 putting the maids and their children first, Leah and her children next, and Rachel and Joseph last.

Gen 33:3 He himself went on ahead of them, bowing to the ground seven times, until he reached his brother.

Gen 33:4 Esau ran to meet him, embraced him, and flinging himself on his neck, kissed him as he wept.

Gen 33:5 When Esau looked about, he saw the women and children. "Who are these with you?" he asked.

Jacob answered, "They are the children whom God has graciously bestowed on your servant."

Gen 33:6 Then the maidservants and their children came forward and bowed low;

Gen 33:7 next, Leah and her children came forward and bowed low; lastly, Rachel and her children came forward and bowed low.

Gen 33:8 Then Esau asked, "What did you intend with all those droves that I encountered?" Jacob answered, "It was to gain my lord's favor."

Gen 33:9 "I have plenty," replied Esau; "you should keep what is yours, brother."

Gen 33:10 "No, I beg you!" said Jacob. "If you will do me the favor, please accept this gift from me, since to come into your presence is for me like coming into the presence of God, now that you have received me so kindly.

Gen 33:11 Do accept the present I have brought you; God has been generous toward me, and I have an abundance." Since he so urged him, Esau accepted.

Gen 33:12 Then Esau said, "Let us break camp and be on our way; I will travel alongside you."

Gen 33:13 But Jacob replied: "As my lord can see, the children are frail. Besides, I am encumbered with the flocks and herds, which now have sucklings; if overdriven for a single day, the whole flock will die.

Gen 33:14 Let my lord, then, go on ahead of me, while I proceed more slowly at the pace of the livestock before me and at the pace of my children, until I join my lord in Seir."

Gen 33:15 Esau replied, "Let me at least put at your disposal some of the men who are with me." But Jacob said, "For what reason? Please indulge me in this, my lord."

Gen 33:16 So on the same day that Esau began his journey back to Seir,

Gen 33:17 Jacob journeyed to Succoth. There he built a home for himself and made booths for his livestock. That is why the place was called Succoth.

Gen 33:18 Having thus come from Paddan-aram, Jacob arrived safely at the city of Shechem, which is in the land of Canaan, and he encamped in sight of the city.

Gen 33:19 The plot of ground on which he had pitched his tent he bought for a hundred pieces of bullion from the descendants of Hamor, the founder of Shechem.

Gen 33:20 He set up a memorial stone there and invoked "El, the God of Israel."

Gen 34:1 Dinah, the daughter whom Leah had borne to Jacob, went out to visit some of the women of the land.

Gen 34:2 When Shechem, son of Hamor the Hivite, who was chief of the region, saw her, he seized her and lay with her by force.

Gen 34:3 Since he was strongly attracted to Dinah, daughter of Jacob, indeed was really in love with the girl, he endeavored to win her affection.

Gen 34:4 Shechem also asked his father Hamor, "Get me this girl for a wife."

Gen 34:5 Meanwhile, Jacob heard that Shechem had defiled his daughter Dinah; but since his sons were out in the fields with his livestock, he held his peace until they came home.

Gen 34:6 Now Hamor, the father of Shechem, went out to discuss the matter with Jacob,

Gen 34:7 just as Jacob's sons were coming in from the fields. When they heard the news, the men were shocked and seethed with indignation. What Shechem had done was an outrage in Israel; such a thing could not be tolerated.

Gen 34:8 Hamor appealed to them, saying: "My son Shechem has his heart set on your daughter. Please give her to him in marriage.

Gen 34:9 Intermarry with us; give your daughters to us, and take our daughters for yourselves.

Gen 34:10 Thus you can live among us. The land is open before you; you can settle and move about freely in it, and acquire landed property here."

Gen 34:11 Then Shechem, too, appealed to Dinah's father and brothers: "Do me this favor, and I will pay whatever you demand of me.

Gen 34:12 No matter how high you set the bridal price, I will pay you whatever you ask; only give me the maiden in marriage."

Gen 34:13 Jacob's sons replied to Shechem and his father Hamor with guile, speaking as they did because their sister Dinah had been defiled.

Gen 34:14 "We could not do such a thing," they said, "as to give our sister to an uncircumcised man; that would be a disgrace for us.

Gen 34:15 We will agree with you only on this condition, that you become like us by having every male among you circumcised.

Gen 34:16 Then we will give you our daughters and take yours in marriage; we will settle among you and become one kindred people with you.

Gen 34:17 But if you do not comply with our terms regarding circumcision, we will take our daughter and go away."

Gen 34:18 Their proposal seemed fair to Hamor and his son Shechem.

Gen 34:19 The young man lost no time in acting in the matter, since he was deeply in love with Jacob's daughter. Moreover he was more highly respected than anyone else in his clan.

Gen 34:20 So Hamor and his son Shechem went to their town council and thus presented the matter to their fellow townsmen:

Gen 34:21 "These men are friendly toward us. Let them settle in the land and move about in it freely; there is ample room in the country for them. We can marry their daughters and give our daughters to them in marriage.

Gen 34:22 But the men will agree to live with us and form one kindred people with us only on this condition, that every male among us be circumcised as they themselves are.

Gen 34:23 Would not the livestock they have acquired-- all their animals-- then be ours? Let us, therefore, give in to them, so that they may settle among us."

Gen 34:24 All the able-bodied men of the town agreed with Hamor and his son Shechem, and all the males, including every able-bodied man in the community, were circumcised.

Gen 34:25 On the third day, while they were still in pain, Dinah's full brothers Simeon and Levi, two of Jacob's sons, took their swords, advanced against the city without any trouble, and massacred all the males.

Gen 34:26 After they had put Hamor and his son Shechem to the sword, they took Dinah from Shechem's house and left.

Gen 34:27 Then the other sons of Jacob followed up the slaughter and sacked the city in reprisal for their sister Dinah's defilement.

Gen 34:28 They seized their flocks, herds and asses, whatever was in the city and in the country around.

Gen 34:29 They carried off all their wealth, their women, and their children, and took for loot whatever was in the houses.

Gen 34:30 Jacob said to Simeon and Levi: "You have brought trouble upon me by making me loathsome to the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites and the Perizzites. I have so few men that, if these people unite against me and attack me, I and my family will be wiped out."

Gen 34:31 But they retorted, "Should our sister have been treated like a harlot?"

Gen 35:1 God said to Jacob: "Go up now to Bethel. Settle there and build an altar there to the God who appeared to you while you were fleeing from your brother Esau."

Gen 35:2 So Jacob told his family and all the others who were with him: "Get rid of the foreign gods that you have among you; then purify yourselves and put on fresh clothes.

Gen 35:3 We are now to go up to Bethel, and I will build an altar there to the God who answered me in my hour of distress and who has been with me wherever I have gone."

Gen 35:4 They therefore handed over to Jacob all the foreign gods in their possession and also the rings they had in their ears.

Gen 35:5 Then, as they set out, a terror from God fell upon the towns round about, so that no one pursued the sons of Jacob.

Gen 35:6 Thus Jacob and all the people who were with him arrived in Luz (that is, Bethel) in the land of Canaan.

Gen 35:7 There he built an altar and named the place Bethel, for it was there that God had revealed himself to him when he was fleeing from his brother.

Gen 35:8 Death came to Rebekah's nurse Deborah; she was buried under the oak below Bethel, and so it was called Allonbacuth.

Gen 35:9 On Jacob's arrival from Paddan-aram, God appeared to him again and blessed him.

Gen 35:10 God said to him: "You whose name is Jacob shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel shall be your name." Thus he was named Israel.

Gen 35:11 God also said to him: "I am God Almighty; be fruitful and multiply. A nation, indeed an assembly of nations, shall stem from you, and kings shall issue from your loins.

Gen 35:12 The land I once gave to Abraham and Isaac I now give to you; And to your descendants after you will I give this land."

Gen 35:13 Then God departed from him.

Gen 35:14 On the site where God had spoken with him, Jacob set up a memorial stone, and upon it he made a libation and poured out oil.

Gen 35:15 Jacob named the site Bethel, because God had spoken with him there.

Gen 35:16 Then they departed from Bethel; but while they still had some distance to go on the way to Ephrath, Rachel began to be in labor and to suffer great distress.

Gen 35:17 When her pangs were most severe, her midwife said to her, "Have no fear! This time, too, you have a son."

Gen 35:18 With her last breath-- for she was at the point of death-- she called him Ben-oni; his father, however, named him Benjamin.

Gen 35:19 Thus Rachel died; and she was buried on the road to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem).

Gen 35:20 Jacob set up a memorial stone on her grave, and the same monument marks Rachel's grave to this day.

Gen 35:21 Israel moved on and pitched his tent beyond Migdal-eder.

Gen 35:22 While Israel was encamped in that region, Reuben went and lay with Bilhah, his father's concubine. When Israel heard of it, he was greatly offended. The sons of Jacob were now twelve.

Gen 35:23 The sons of Leah: Reuben, Jacob's first-born, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun;

Gen 35:24 the sons of Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin;

Gen 35:25 the sons of Rachel's maid Bilhah: Dan and Naphtali;

Gen 35:26 the sons of Leah's maid Zilpah: Gad and Asher. These are the sons of Jacob who were born to him in Paddan-aram.

Gen 35:27 Jacob went home to his father Isaac at Mamre, in Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), where Abraham and Isaac had stayed.

Gen 35:28 The lifetime of Isaac was one hundred and eighty years;

Gen 35:29 then he breathed his last. After a full life, he died as an old man and was taken to his kinsmen. His sons Esau and Jacob buried him.

Gen 36:1 These are the descendants of Esau (that is, Edom).

Gen 36:2 Esau took his wives from among the Canaanite women: Adah, daughter of Elon the Hittite; Oholibamah, granddaughter through Anah of Zibeon the Hivite;

Gen 36:3 and Basemath, daughter of Ishmael and sister of Nebaioth.

Gen 36:4 Adah bore Eliphaz to Esau; Basemath bore Reuel;

Gen 36:5 and Oholibamah bore Jeush, Jalam and Korah. These are the sons of Esau who were born to him in the land of Canaan.

Gen 36:6 Esau took his wives, his sons, his daughters, and all the members of his household, as well as his livestock comprising various animals and all the property he had acquired in the land of Canaan, and went to the land of Seir, out of the way of his brother Jacob.

Gen 36:7 Their possessions had become too great for them to dwell together, and the land in which they were staying could not support them because of their livestock.

Gen 36:8 So Esau settled in the highlands of Seir. (Esau is Edom.)

Gen 36:9 These are the descendants of Esau, ancestor of the Edomites, in the highlands of Seir.

Gen 36:10 These are the names of Esau's sons: Eliphaz, son of Esau's wife Adah; and Reuel, son of Esau's wife Basemath.

Gen 36:11 The sons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Zepho, Gatam, and Kenaz.

Gen 36:12 (Esau's son Eliphaz had a concubine Timna, and she bore Amalek to Eliphaz.) These are the descendants of Esau's wife Adah.

Gen 36:13 The sons of Reuel were Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These are the descendants of Esau's wife Basemath.

Gen 36:14 The descendants of Esau's wife Oholibamah-- granddaughter through Anah of Zibeon-- whom she bore to Esau were Jeush, Jalam, and Korah.

Gen 36:15 The following are the clans of Esau's descendants. The descendants of Eliphaz, Esau's first-born: the clans of Teman, Omar, Zepho, Kenaz, Gen 36:16 Korah, Gatam, and Amalek. These are the clans of Eliphaz in the land of Edom; they are descended from Adah.

Gen 36:17 The descendants of Esau's son Reuel: the clans of Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These are the clans of Reuel in the land of Edom; they are descended from Esau's wife Basemath.

Gen 36:18 The descendants of Esau's wife Oholibamah: the clans of Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These are the clans of Esau's wife Oholibamah, daughter of Anah.

Gen 36:19 Such are the descendants of Esau (that is, Edom) according to their clans.

Gen 36:20 The following are the descendants of Seir the Horite, the original settlers in the land: Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah,

Gen 36:21 Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan; they are the Horite clans descended from Seir, in the land of Edom.

Gen 36:22 Lotan's descendants were Hori and Hemam, and Lotan's sister was Timna.

Gen 36:23 Shobal's descendants were Alvan, Mahanath, Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.

Gen 36:24 Zibeon's descendants were Aiah and Anah. (He is the Anah who found water in the desert while he was pasturing the asses of his father Zibeon.)

Gen 36:25 The descendants of Anah were Dishon and Oholibamah, daughter of Anah.

Gen 36:26 The descendants of Dishon were Hemdan, Eshban, Ithran, and Cheran.

Gen 36:27 The descendants of Ezer were Bilhan, Zaavan, and Akan.

Gen 36:28 The descendants of Dishan were Uz and Aran.

Gen 36:29 These are the Horite clans: the clans of Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah,

Gen 36:30 Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan; they were the clans of the Horites, clan by clan, in the land of Seir.

Gen 36:31 The following are the kings who reigned in the land of Edom before any king reigned over the Israelites.

Gen 36:32 Bela, son of Beor, became king in Edom; the name of his city was Dinhabah.

Gen 36:33 When Bela died, Jobab, son of Zerah, from Bozrah, succeeded him as king.

Gen 36:34 When Jobab died, Husham, from the land of the Temanites, succeeded him as king. He defeated the Midianites in the country of Moab; the name of his city was Avith.

Gen 36:35 When Husham died, Hadad, son of Bedad, succeeded him as king.

Gen 36:36 When Hadad died, Samlah, from Masrekah, succeeded him as king.

Gen 36:37 When Samlah died, Shaul, from Rehoboth-on-the-River, succeeded him as king.

Gen 36:38 When Shaul died, Baal-hanan, son of Achbor, succeeded him as king.

Gen 36:39 When Baal-hanan died, Hadar succeeded him as king; the name of his city was Pau. (His wife's name was Mehetabel; she was the daughter of Matred, son of Mezahab.)

Gen 36:40 The following are the names of the clans of Esau individually according to their subdivisions and localities: the clans of Timna, Alvah, Jetheth,

Gen 36:41 Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon,

Gen 36:42 Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar,

Gen 36:43 Magdiel, and Iram. These are the clans of the Edomites, according to their settlements in their territorial holdings. (Esau was the father of the Edomites.)

Gen 37:1 Jacob settled in the land where his father had stayed, the land of Canaan.

Gen 37:2 This is his family history. When Joseph was seventeen years old, he was tending the flocks with his brothers; he was an assistant to the sons of his father's wives Bilhah and Zilpah, and he brought his father bad reports about them.

Gen 37:3 Israel loved Joseph best of all his sons, for he was the child of his old age; and he had made him a long tunic.

Gen 37:4 When his brothers saw that their father loved him best of all his sons, they hated him so much that they would not even greet him.

Gen 37:5 Once Joseph had a dream, which he told to his brothers:

Gen 37:6 "Listen to this dream I had.

Gen 37:7 There we were, binding sheaves in the field, when suddenly my sheaf rose to an upright position, and your sheaves formed a ring around my sheaf and bowed down to it."

Gen 37:8 "Are you really going to make yourself king over us?" his brothers asked him. "Or impose your rule on us?" So they hated him all the more because of his talk about his dreams.

Gen 37:9 Then he had another dream, and this one, too, he told to his brothers. "I had another dream," he said;

"this time, the sun and the moon and eleven stars were bowing down to me."

Gen 37:10 When he also told it to his father, his father reproved him. "What is the meaning of this dream of yours?" he asked. "Can it be that I and your mother and your brothers are to come and bow to the ground before you?"

Gen 37:11 So his brothers were wrought up against him but his father pondered the matter.

Gen 37:12 One day, when his brothers had gone to pasture their father's flocks at Shechem,

Gen 37:13 Israel said to Joseph, "Your brothers, you know, are tending our flocks at Shechem. Get ready; I will send you to them." "I am ready," Joseph answered.

Gen 37:14 "Go then," he replied; "see if all is well with your brothers and the flocks, and bring back word." So he sent him off from the valley of Hebron. When Joseph reached Shechem,

Gen 37:15 a man met him as he was wandering about in the fields. "What are you looking for?" the man asked him.

Gen 37:16 "I am looking for my brothers," he answered. "Could you please tell me where they are tending the flocks?"

Gen 37:17 The man told him, "They have moved on from here; in fact, I heard them say, 'Let us go on to Dothan.'" So Joseph went after his brothers and caught up with them in Dothan.

Gen 37:18 They noticed him from a distance, and before he came up to them, they plotted to kill him.

Gen 37:19 They said to one another: "Here comes that master dreamer!

Gen 37:20 Come on, let us kill him and throw him into one of the cisterns here; we could say that a wild beast devoured him. We shall then see what comes of his dreams."

Gen 37:21 When Reuben heard this, he tried to save him from their hands, saying: "We must not take his life.

Gen 37:22 Instead of shedding blood," he continued, "just throw him into that cistern there in the desert; but don't kill him outright." His purpose was to rescue him from their hands and restore him to his father.

Gen 37:23 So when Joseph came up to them, they stripped him of the long tunic he had on;

Gen 37:24 then they took him and threw him into the cistern, which was empty and dry.

Gen 37:25 They then sat down to their meal. Looking up, they saw a caravan of Ishmaelites coming from Gilead, their camels laden with gum, balm and resin to be taken down to Egypt.

Gen 37:26 Judah said to his brothers: "What is to be gained by killing our brother and concealing his blood?

Gen 37:27 Rather, let us sell him to these Ishmaelites, instead of doing away with him ourselves. After all, he is our brother, our own flesh." His brothers agreed.

Gen 37:28 They sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of silver. Some Midianite traders passed by, and they pulled Joseph up out of the cistern and took him to Egypt.

Gen 37:29 When Reuben went back to the cistern and saw that Joseph was not in it, he tore his clothes,

Gen 37:30 and returning to his brothers, he exclaimed: "The boy is gone! And I-- where can I turn?"

Gen 37:31 They took Joseph's tunic, and after slaughtering a goat, dipped the tunic in its blood.

Gen 37:32 Then they sent someone to bring the long tunic to their father, with the message: "We found this. See whether it is your son's tunic or not."

Gen 37:33 He recognized it and exclaimed: "My son's tunic! A wild beast has devoured him! Joseph has been torn to pieces!"

Gen 37:34 Then Jacob rent his clothes, put sackcloth on his loins, and mourned his son many days.

Gen 37:35 Though his sons and daughters tried to console him, he refused all consolation, saying, "No, I will go down mourning to my son in the nether world." Thus did his father lament him.

Gen 37:36 The Midianites, meanwhile, sold Joseph in Egypt to Potiphar, a courtier of Pharaoh and his chief steward.

Gen 38:1 About that time Judah parted from his brothers and pitched his tent near a certain Adullamite named Hirah.

Gen 38:2 There he met the daughter of a Canaanite named Shua, married her, and had relations with her.

Gen 38:3 She conceived and bore a son, whom she named Er.

Gen 38:4 Again she conceived and bore a son, whom she named Onan.

Gen 38:5 Then she bore still another son, whom she named Shelah. They were in Chezib when he was born.

Gen 38:6 Judah got a wife named Tamar for his first-born, Er.

Gen 38:7 But Er, Judah's first-born, greatly offended the LORD; so the LORD took his life.

Gen 38:8 Then Judah said to Onan, "Unite with your brother's widow, in fulfillment of your duty as brother-in-law, and thus preserve your brother's line."

Gen 38:9 Onan, however, knew that the descendants would not be counted as his; so whenever he had relations with his brother's widow, he wasted his seed on the ground, to avoid contributing offspring for his brother.

Gen 38:10 What he did greatly offended the LORD, and the LORD took his life too.

Gen 38:11 Thereupon Judah said to his daughter-in-law Tamar, "Stay as a widow in your father's house until my son Shelah grows up"-- for he feared that Shelah also might die like his brothers. So Tamar went to live in her father's house.

Gen 38:12 Years passed, and Judah's wife, the daughter of Shua, died. After Judah completed the period of mourning, he went up to Timnah for the shearing of his sheep, in company with his friend Hirah the Adullamite.

Gen 38:13 When Tamar was told that her father-in-law was on his way up to Timnah to shear his sheep,

Gen 38:14 she took off her widow's garb, veiled her face by covering herself with a shawl, and sat down at the entrance to Enaim, which is on the way to Timnah; for she was aware that, although Shelah was now grown up, she had not been given to him in marriage.

Gen 38:15 When Judah saw her, he mistook her for a harlot, since she had covered her face.

Gen 38:16 So he went over to her at the roadside, and not realizing that she was his daughter-in-law, he said, "Come, let me have intercourse with you." She replied, "What will you pay me for letting you have intercourse with me?"

Gen 38:17 He answered, "I will send you a kid from the flock." "Very well," she said, "provided you leave a pledge until you send it."

Gen 38:18 Judah asked, "What pledge am I to give to you?" She answered, "Your seal and cord, and the staff you carry." So he gave them to her and had intercourse with her, and she conceived by him.

Gen 38:19 When she went away, she took off her shawl and put on her widow's garb again.

Gen 38:20 Judah sent the kid by his friend the Adullamite to recover the pledge from the woman; but he could not find her.

Gen 38:21 So he asked the men of the place, "Where is the temple prostitute, the one by the roadside in Enaim?" But they answered, "There has never been a temple prostitute here."

Gen 38:22 He went back to Judah and told him, "I could not find her; and besides, the men of the place said there was no temple prostitute there."

Gen 38:23 "Let her keep the things," Judah replied; "otherwise we shall become a laughingstock. After all, I did send her the kid, even though you were unable to find her."

Gen 38:24 About three months later, Judah was told that his daughter-in-law Tamar had played the harlot and was then with child from her harlotry. "Bring her out," cried Judah; "she shall be burned."

Gen 38:25 But as they were bringing her out, she sent word to her father-in-law, "It is by the man to whom these things belong that I am with child. Please verify," she added, "whose seal and cord and whose staff these are."

Gen 38:26 Judah recognized them and said, "She is more in the right than I am, since I did not give her to my son Shelah." But he had no further relations with her.

Gen 38:27 When the time of her delivery came, she was found to have twins in her womb.

Gen 38:28 While she was giving birth, one infant put out his hand; and the midwife, taking a crimson thread, tied it on his hand, to note that this one came out first.

Gen 38:29 But as he withdrew his hand, his brother came out; and she said, "What a breach you have made for yourself!" So he was called Perez.

Gen 38:30 Afterward his brother came out; he was called Zerah.

Gen 39:1 When Joseph was taken down to Egypt, a certain Egyptian (Potiphar, a courtier of Pharaoh and his chief steward) bought him from the Ishmaelites who had brought him there.

Gen 39:2 But since the LORD was with him, Joseph got on very well and was assigned to the household of his Egyptian master.

Gen 39:3 When his master saw that the LORD was with him and brought him success in whatever he did,

Gen 39:4 he took a liking to Joseph and made him his personal attendant; he put him in charge of his household and entrusted to him all his possessions.

Gen 39:5 From the moment that he put him in charge of his household and all his possessions, the LORD blessed the Egyptian's house for Joseph's sake; in fact, the LORD'S blessing was on everything he owned, both inside the house and out.

Gen 39:6 Having left everything he owned in Joseph's charge, he gave no thought, with Joseph there, to anything but the food he ate. Now Joseph was strikingly handsome in countenance and body.

Gen 39:7 After a time, his master's wife began to look fondly at him and said, "Lie with me."

Gen 39:8 But he refused. "As long as I am here," he told her, "my master does not concern himself with anything in the house, but has entrusted to me all he owns.

Gen 39:9 He wields no more authority in this house than I do, and he has withheld from me nothing but yourself, since you are his wife. How, then, could I commit so great a wrong and thus stand condemned before God?"

Gen 39:10 Although she tried to entice him day after day, he would not agree to lie beside her, or even stay near her.

Gen 39:11 One such day, when Joseph came into the house to do his work, and none of the household servants were then in the house,

Gen 39:12 she laid hold of him by his cloak, saying, "Lie with me!" But leaving the cloak in her hand, he got away from her and ran outside.

Gen 39:13 When she saw that he had left his cloak in her hand as he fled outside,

Gen 39:14 she screamed for her household servants and told them, "Look! my husband has brought in a Hebrew slave to make sport of us! He came in here to lie with me, but I cried out as loud as I could.

Gen 39:15 When he heard me scream for help, he left his cloak beside me and ran away outside."

Gen 39:16 She kept the cloak with her until his master came home.

Gen 39:17 Then she told him the same story: "The Hebrew slave whom you brought here broke in on me, to make sport of me.

Gen 39:18 But when I screamed for help, he left his cloak beside me and fled outside."

Gen 39:19 As soon as the master heard his wife's story about how his slave had treated her, he became enraged.

Gen 39:20 He seized Joseph and threw him into the jail where the royal prisoners were confined. But even while he was in prison,

Gen 39:21 the LORD remained with Joseph; he showed him kindness by making the chief jailer well-disposed toward him.

Gen 39:22 The chief jailer put Joseph in charge of all the prisoners in the jail, and everything that had to be done there was done under his management.

Gen 39:23 The chief jailer did not concern himself with anything at all that was in Joseph's charge, since the LORD was with him and brought success to all he did.

Gen 40:1 Some time afterward, the royal cupbearer and baker gave offense to their lord, the king of Egypt.

Gen 40:2 Pharaoh was angry with his two courtiers, the chief cupbearer and the chief baker,

Gen 40:3 and he put them in custody in the house of the chief steward (the same jail where Joseph was confined).

Gen 40:4 The chief steward assigned Joseph to them, and he became their attendant. After they had been in custody for some time,

Gen 40:5 the cupbearer and the baker of the king of Egypt who were confined in the jail both had dreams on the same night, each dream with its own meaning.

Gen 40:6 When Joseph came to them in the morning, he noticed that they looked disturbed.

Gen 40:7 So he asked Pharaoh's courtiers who were with him in custody in his master's house, "Why do you look so sad today?"

Gen 40:8 They answered him, "We have had dreams, but there is no one to interpret them for us." Joseph said to them, "Surely, interpretations come from God. Please tell the dreams to me."

Gen 40:9 Then the chief cupbearer told Joseph his dream. "In my dream," he said, "I saw a vine in front of me,

Gen 40:10 and on the vine were three branches. It had barely budded when its blossoms came out, and its clusters ripened into grapes.

Gen 40:11 Pharaoh's cup was in my hand; so I took the grapes, pressed them out into his cup, and put it in Pharaoh's hand."

Gen 40:12 Joseph said to him: "This is what it means. The three branches are three days;

Gen 40:13 within three days Pharaoh will lift up your head and restore you to your post. You will be handing Pharaoh his cup as you formerly used to do when you were his cupbearer.

Gen 40:14 So if you will still remember, when all is well with you, that I was here with you, please do me the favor of mentioning me to Pharaoh, to get me out of this place.

Gen 40:15 The truth is that I was kidnaped from the land of the Hebrews, and here I have not done anything for which I should have been put into a dungeon."

Gen 40:16 When the chief baker saw that Joseph had given this favorable interpretation, he said to him: "I too had a dream. In it I had three wicker baskets on my head;

Gen 40:17 in the top one were all kinds of bakery products for Pharaoh, but the birds were pecking at them out of the basket on my head."

Gen 40:18 Joseph said to him in reply: "This is what it means. The three baskets are three days;

Gen 40:19 within three days Pharaoh will lift up your head and have you impaled on a stake, and the birds will be pecking the flesh from your body."

Gen 40:20 And in fact, on the third day, which was Pharaoh's birthday, when he gave a banquet to all his staff, with his courtiers around him, he lifted up the heads of the chief cupbearer and chief baker.

Gen 40:21 He restored the chief cupbearer to his office, so that he again handed the cup to Pharaoh;

Gen 40:22 but the chief baker he impaled-- just as Joseph had told them in his interpretation.

Gen 40:23 Yet the chief cupbearer gave no thought to Joseph; he had forgotten him.

Gen 41:1 After a lapse of two years, Pharaoh had a dream. He saw himself standing by the Nile,

Gen 41:2 when up out of the Nile came seven cows, handsome and fat; they grazed in the reed grass.

Gen 41:3 Behind them seven other cows, ugly and gaunt, came up out of the Nile; and standing on the bank of the Nile beside the others,

Gen 41:4 the ugly, gaunt cows ate up the seven handsome, fat cows. Then Pharaoh woke up.

Gen 41:5 He fell asleep again and had another dream. He saw seven ears of grain, fat and healthy, growing on a single stalk.

Gen 41:6 Behind them sprouted seven ears of grain, thin and blasted by the east wind;

Gen 41:7 and the seven thin ears swallowed up the seven fat, healthy ears. Then Pharaoh woke up, to find it was only a dream.

Gen 41:8 Next morning his spirit was agitated. So he summoned all the magicians and sages of Egypt and recounted his dreams to them; but no one could interpret his dreams for him.

Gen 41:9 Then the chief cupbearer spoke up and said to Pharaoh: "On this occasion I am reminded of my negligence.

Gen 41:10 Once, when Pharaoh was angry, he put me and the chief baker in custody in the house of the chief steward.

Gen 41:11 Later, we both had dreams on the same night, and each of our dreams had its own meaning.

Gen 41:12 There with us was a Hebrew youth, a slave of the chief steward; and when we told him our dreams, he interpreted them for us and explained for each of us the meaning of his dream.

Gen 41:13 And it turned out just as he had told us: I was restored to my post, but the other man was impaled."

Gen 41:14 Pharaoh therefore had Joseph summoned, and they hurriedly brought him from the dungeon. After he shaved and changed his clothes, he came into Pharaoh's presence.

Gen 41:15 Pharaoh then said to him: "I had certain dreams that no one can interpret. But I hear it said of you that the moment you are told a dream you can interpret it."

Gen 41:16 "It is not I," Joseph replied to Pharaoh, "but God who will give Pharaoh the right answer."

Gen 41:17 Then Pharaoh said to Joseph: "In my dream, I was standing on the bank of the Nile,

Gen 41:18 when up from the Nile came seven cows, fat and well-formed; they grazed in the reed grass.

Gen 41:19 Behind them came seven other cows, scrawny, most ill-formed and gaunt. Never have I seen such ugly specimens as these in all the land of Egypt!

Gen 41:20 The gaunt, ugly cows ate up the first seven fat cows.

Gen 41:21 But when they had consumed them, no one could tell that they had done so, because they looked as ugly as before. Then I woke up.

Gen 41:22 In another dream I saw seven ears of grain, fat and healthy, growing on a single stalk.

Gen 41:23 Behind them sprouted seven ears of grain, shriveled and thin and blasted by the east wind;

Gen 41:24 and the seven thin ears swallowed up the seven healthy ears. I have spoken to the magicians, but none of them can give me an explanation."

Gen 41:25 Joseph said to Pharaoh: "Both of Pharaoh's dreams have the same meaning. God has thus foretold to Pharaoh what he is about to do.

Gen 41:26 The seven healthy cows are seven years, and the seven healthy ears are seven years-- the same in each dream.

Gen 41:27 So also, the seven thin, ugly cows that came up after them are seven years, as are the seven thin, wind-blasted ears; they are seven years of famine.

Gen 41:28 It is just as I told Pharaoh: God has revealed to Pharaoh what he is about to do.

Gen 41:29 Seven years of great abundance are now coming throughout the land of Egypt;

Gen 41:30 but these will be followed by seven years of famine, when all the abundance in the land of Egypt will be forgotten. When the famine has ravaged the land,

Gen 41:31 no trace of the abundance will be found in the land because of the famine that follows it-- so utterly severe will that famine be.

Gen 41:32 That Pharaoh had the same dream twice means that the matter has been reaffirmed by God and that God will soon bring it about.

Gen 41:33 "Therefore, let Pharaoh seek out a wise and discerning man and put him in charge of the land of Egypt.

Gen 41:34 Pharaoh should also take action to appoint overseers, so as to regiment the land during the seven years of abundance.

Gen 41:35 They should husband all the food of the coming good years, collecting the grain under Pharaoh's authority, to be stored in the towns for food.

Gen 41:36 This food will serve as a reserve for the country against the seven years of famine that are to follow in the land of Egypt, so that the land may not perish in the famine."

Gen 41:37 This advice pleased Pharaoh and all his officials.

Gen 41:38 "Could we find another like him," Pharaoh asked his officials, "a man so endowed with the spirit of God?"

Gen 41:39 So Pharaoh said to Joseph: "Since God has made all this known to you, no one can be as wise and discerning as you are.

Gen 41:40 You shall be in charge of my palace, and all my people shall do at your command. Only in respect to the throne shall I outrank you.

Gen 41:41 Herewith," Pharaoh told Joseph, "I place you in charge of the whole land of Egypt."

Gen 41:42 With that, Pharaoh took off his signet ring and put it on Joseph's finger. He had him dressed in robes of fine linen and put a gold chain about his neck.

Gen 41:43 He then had him ride in the chariot of his vizier, and they shouted "Abrek!" before him. Thus was Joseph installed over the whole land of Egypt.

Gen 41:44 "I, Pharaoh, proclaim," he told Joseph, "that without your approval no one shall move hand or foot in all the land of Egypt."

Gen 41:45 Pharaoh also bestowed the name of Zaphnath-paneah on Joseph, and he gave him in marriage Asenath, the daughter of Potiphara, priest of Heliopolis.

Gen 41:46 Joseph was thirty years old when he entered the service of Pharaoh, king of Egypt. After Joseph left Pharaoh's presence, he traveled throughout the land of Egypt.

Gen 41:47 During the seven years of plenty, when the land produced abundant crops,

Gen 41:48 he husbanded all the food of these years of plenty that the land of Egypt was enjoying and stored it in the towns, placing in each town the crops of the fields around it.

Gen 41:49 Joseph garnered grain in quantities like the sands of the sea, so vast that at last he stopped measuring it, for it was beyond measure.

Gen 41:50 Before the famine years set in, Joseph became the father of two sons, borne to him by Asenath, daughter of Potiphara, priest of Heliopolis.

Gen 41:51 He named his first-born Manasseh, meaning, "God has made me forget entirely the sufferings I endured at the hands of my family";

Gen 41:52 and the second he named Ephraim, meaning, "God has made me fruitful in the land of my affliction."

Gen 41:53 When the seven years of abundance enjoyed by the land of Egypt came to an end,

Gen 41:54 the seven years of famine set in, just as Joseph had predicted. Although there was famine in all the other countries, food was available throughout the land of Egypt.

Gen 41:55 When hunger came to be felt throughout the land of Egypt and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread, Pharaoh directed all the Egyptians to go to Joseph and do whatever he told them.

Gen 41:56 When the famine had spread throughout the land, Joseph opened all the cities that had grain and rationed it to the Egyptians, since the famine had gripped the land of Egypt.

Gen 41:57 In fact, all the world came to Joseph to obtain rations of grain, for famine had gripped the whole world.

Gen 42:1 When Jacob learned that grain rations were available in Egypt, he said to his sons: "Why do you keep gaping at one another?"

Gen 42:2 I hear," he went on, "that rations of grain are available in Egypt. Go down there and buy some for us, that we may stay alive rather than die of hunger."

Gen 42:3 So ten of Joseph's brothers went down to buy an emergency supply of grain from Egypt.

Gen 42:4 It was only Joseph's full brother Benjamin that Jacob did not send with the rest, for he thought some disaster might befall him.

Gen 42:5 Thus, since there was famine in the land of Canaan also, the sons of Israel were among those who came to procure rations.

Gen 42:6 It was Joseph, as governor of the country, who dispensed the rations to all the people. When Joseph's brothers came and knelt down before him with their faces to the ground,

Gen 42:7 he recognized them as soon as he saw them. But he concealed his own identity from them and spoke sternly to them. "Where do you come from?" he asked them. They answered, "From the land of Canaan, to procure food."

Gen 42:8 When Joseph recognized his brothers, although they did not recognize him,

Gen 42:9 he was reminded of the dreams he had about them. He said to them: "You are spies. You have come to see the nakedness of the land."

Gen 42:10 "No, my lord," they replied. "On the contrary, your servants have come to procure food.

Gen 42:11 All of us are sons of the same man. We are honest men; your servants have never been spies."

Gen 42:12 But he answered them: "Not so! You have come to see the nakedness of the land."

Gen 42:13 "We your servants," they said, "were twelve brothers, sons of a certain man in Canaan; but the youngest one is at present with our father, and the other one is gone."

Gen 42:14 "It is just as I said," Joseph persisted; "you are spies.

Gen 42:15 This is how you shall be tested: unless your youngest brother comes here, I swear by the life of Pharaoh that you shall not leave here.

Gen 42:16 So send one of your number to get your brother, while the rest of you stay here under arrest. Thus shall your words be tested for their truth; if they are untrue, as Pharaoh lives, you are spies!"

Gen 42:17 With that, he locked them up in the guardhouse for three days.

Gen 42:18 On the third day Joseph said to them: "Do this, and you shall live; for I am a God-fearing man.

Gen 42:19 If you have been honest, only one of your brothers need be confined in this prison, while the rest of you may go and take home provisions for your starving families.

Gen 42:20 But you must come back to me with your youngest brother. Your words will thus be verified, and you will not die." To this they agreed.

Gen 42:21 To one another, however, they said: "Alas, we are being punished because of our brother. We saw the anguish of his heart when he pleaded with us, yet we paid no heed; that is why this anguish has now come upon us."

Gen 42:22 "Didn't I tell you," broke in Reuben, "not to do wrong to the boy? But you wouldn't listen! Now comes the reckoning for his blood."

Gen 42:23 They did not know, of course, that Joseph understood what they said, since he spoke with them through an interpreter.

Gen 42:24 But turning away from them, he wept. When he was able to speak to them again, he had Simeon taken from them and bound before their eyes.

Gen 42:25 Then Joseph gave orders to have their containers filled with grain, their money replaced in each one's sack, and provisions given them for their journey. After this had been done for them,

Gen 42:26 they loaded their donkeys with the rations and departed.

Gen 42:27 At the night encampment, when one of them opened his bag to give his donkey some fodder, he was surprised to see his money in the mouth of his bag.

Gen 42:28 "My money has been returned!" he cried out to his brothers. "Here it is in my bag!" At that their hearts sank. Trembling, they asked one another, "What is this that God has done to us?"

Gen 42:29 When they got back to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan, they told him all that had happened to them.

Gen 42:30 "The man who is lord of the country," they said, "spoke to us sternly and put us in custody as if we were spying on the land.

Gen 42:31 But we said to him: 'We are honest men; we have never been spies.

Gen 42:32 There were twelve of us brothers, sons of the same father; but one is gone, and the youngest one is at present with our father in the land of Canaan.'

Gen 42:33 Then the man who is lord of the country said to us: 'This is how I shall know if you are honest men: leave one of your brothers with me, while the rest of you go home with rations for your starving families.

Gen 42:34 When you come back to me with your youngest brother, and I know that you are honest men and not spies, I will restore your brother to you, and you may move about freely in the land.'"

Gen 42:35 When they were emptying their sacks, there in each one's sack was his moneybag! At the sight of their moneybags, they and their father were dismayed.

Gen 42:36 Their father Jacob said to them: "Must you make me childless? Joseph is gone, and Simeon is gone, and now you would take away Benjamin! Why must such things always happen to me?"

Gen 42:37 Then Reuben told his father: "Put him in my care, and I will bring him back to you. You may kill my own two sons if I do not return him to you."

Gen 42:38 But Jacob replied: "My son shall not go down with you. Now that his full brother is dead, he is the only one left. If some disaster should befall him on the journey you must make, you would send my white head down to the nether world in grief."

Gen 43:1 Now the famine in the land grew more severe.

Gen 43:2 So when they had used up all the rations they had brought from Egypt, their father said to them, "Go back and procure us a little more food."

Gen 43:3 But Judah replied: "The man strictly warned us, 'You shall not appear in my presence unless your brother is with you.'

Gen 43:4 If you are willing to let our brother go with us, we will go down to procure food for you.

Gen 43:5 But if you are not willing, we will not go down, because the man told us, 'You shall not appear in my presence unless your brother is with you.'"

Gen 43:6 Israel demanded, "Why did you bring this trouble on me by telling the man that you had another brother?"

Gen 43:7 They answered: "The man kept asking about ourselves and our family: 'Is your father still living? Do you have another brother?' We had to answer his questions. How could we know that he would say, 'Bring your brother down here'?"

Gen 43:8 Then Judah urged his father Israel: "Let the boy go with me, that we may be off and on our way if you and we and our children are to keep from starving to death.

Gen 43:9 I myself will stand surety for him. You can hold me responsible for him. If I fail to bring him back, to set him in your presence, you can hold it against me forever.

Gen 43:10 Had we not dilly-dallied, we could have been there and back twice by now!"

Gen 43:11 Their father Israel then told them: "If it must be so, then do this: Put some of the land's best products in your baggage and take them down to the man as gifts: some balm and honey, gum and resin, and pistachios and almonds.

Gen 43:12 Also take extra money along, for you must return the amount that was put back in the mouths of your bags; it may have been a mistake.

Gen 43:13 Take your brother, too, and be off on your way back to the man.

Gen 43:14 May God Almighty dispose the man to be merciful toward you, so that he may let your other brother go, as well as Benjamin. As for me, if I am to suffer bereavement, I shall suffer it."

Gen 43:15 So the men got the gifts, took double the amount of money with them, and, accompanied by Benjamin, were off on their way down to Egypt to present themselves to Joseph.

Gen 43:16 When Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he told his head steward, "Take these men into the house, and have an animal slaughtered and prepared, for they are to dine with me at noon."

Gen 43:17 Doing as Joseph had ordered, the steward conducted the men to Joseph's house.

Gen 43:18 But on being led to his house, they became apprehensive. "It must be," they thought, "on account of the money put back in our bags the first time, that we are taken inside; they want to use it as a pretext to attack us and take our donkeys and seize us as slaves."

Gen 43:19 So they went up to Joseph's head steward and talked to him at the entrance of the house.

Gen 43:20 "If you please, sir," they said, "we came down here once before to procure food.

Gen 43:21 But when we arrived at a night's encampment and opened our bags, there was each man's money in the mouth of his bag-- our money in the full amount! We have now brought it back.

Gen 43:22 We have brought other money to procure food with. We do not know who put the first money in our bags."

Gen 43:23 "Be at ease," he replied; "you have no need to fear. Your God and the God of your father must have put treasures in your bags for you. As for your money, I received it." With that, he led Simeon out to them.

Gen 43:24 The steward then brought the men inside Joseph's house. He gave them water to bathe their feet, and got fodder for their donkeys.

Gen 43:25 Then they set out their gifts to await Joseph's arrival at noon, for they had heard that they were to dine there.

Gen 43:26 When Joseph came home, they presented him with the gifts they had brought inside, while they bowed down before him to the ground.

Gen 43:27 After inquiring how they were, he asked them, "And how is your aged father, of whom you spoke? Is he still in good health?"

Gen 43:28 "Your servant our father is thriving and still in good health," they said, as they bowed respectfully.

Gen 43:29 When Joseph's eye fell on his full brother Benjamin, he asked, "Is this your youngest brother, of whom you told me?" Then he said to him, "May God be gracious to you, my boy!"

Gen 43:30 With that, Joseph had to hurry out, for he was so overcome with affection for his brother that he was on the verge of tears. He went into a private room and wept there.

Gen 43:31 After washing his face, he reappeared and, now in control of himself, gave the order, "Serve the meal."

Gen 43:32 It was served separately to him, to the brothers, and to the Egyptians who partook of his board. (Egyptians may not eat with Hebrews; that is abhorrent to them.)

Gen 43:33 When they were seated by his directions according to their age, from the oldest to the youngest, they looked at one another in amazement;

Gen 43:34 and as portions were brought to them from Joseph's table, Benjamin's portion was five times as large as anyone else's. So they drank freely and made merry with him.

Gen 44:1 Then Joseph gave his head steward these instructions: "Fill the men's bags with as much food as they can carry, and put each man's money in the mouth of his bag.

Gen 44:2 In the mouth of the youngest one's bag put also my silver goblet, together with the money for his rations." The steward carried out Joseph's instructions.

Gen 44:3 At daybreak the men and their donkeys were sent off.

Gen 44:4 They had not gone far out of the city when Joseph said to his head steward: "Go at once after the men! When you overtake them, say to them, 'Why did you repay good with evil? Why did you steal the silver goblet from me?'

Gen 44:5 It is the very one from which my master drinks and which he uses for divination. What you have done is wrong.'"

Gen 44:6 When the steward overtook them and repeated these words to them,

Gen 44:7 they remonstrated with him: "How can my lord say such things? Far be it from your servants to do such a thing!

Gen 44:8 We even brought back to you from the land of Canaan the money that we found in the mouths of our bags. Why, then, would we steal silver or gold from your master's house?

Gen 44:9 If any of your servants is found to have the goblet, he shall die, and as for the rest of us, we shall become my lord's slaves."

Gen 44:10 But he replied, "Even though it ought to be as you propose, only the one who is found to have it shall become my slave, and the rest of you shall be exonerated."

Gen 44:11 Then each of them eagerly lowered his bag to the ground and opened it;

Gen 44:12 and when a search was made, starting with the oldest and ending with the youngest, the goblet turned up in Benjamin's bag.

Gen 44:13 At this, they tore their clothes. Then, when each man had reloaded his donkey, they returned to the city.

Gen 44:14 As Judah and his brothers reentered Joseph's house, he was still there; so they flung themselves on the ground before him.

Gen 44:15 "How could you do such a thing?" Joseph asked them. "You should have known that such a man as I could discover by divination what happened."

Gen 44:16 Judah replied: "What can we say to my lord? How can we plead or how try to prove our innocence? God has uncovered your servants' guilt. Here we are, then, the slaves of my lord-- the rest of us no less than the one in whose possession the goblet was found."

Gen 44:17 "Far be it from me to act thus!" said Joseph. "Only the one in whose possession the goblet was found shall become my slave; the rest of you may go back safe and sound to your father."

Gen 44:18 Judah then stepped up to him and said: "I beg you, my lord, let your servant speak earnestly to my lord, and do not become angry with your servant, for you are the equal of Pharaoh.

Gen 44:19 My lord asked your servants, 'Have you a father, or another brother?'

Gen 44:20 So we said to my lord, 'We have an aged father, and a young brother, the child of his old age. This one's full brother is dead, and since he is the only one by that mother who is left, his father dotes on him.'

Gen 44:21 Then you told your servants, 'Bring him down to me that my eyes may look on him.'

Gen 44:22 We replied to my lord, 'The boy cannot leave his father; his father would die if he were to leave him.'

Gen 44:23 But you told your servants, 'Unless your youngest brother comes back with you, you shall not come into my presence again.'

Gen 44:24 When we returned to your servant our father, we reported to him the words of my lord.

Gen 44:25 "Later, our father told us to come back and buy some food for the family.

Gen 44:26 So we reminded him, 'We cannot go down there; only if our youngest brother is with us can we go, for we may not see the man if our youngest brother is not with us.'

Gen 44:27 Then your servant our father said to us, 'As you know, my wife bore me two sons.

Gen 44:28 One of them, however, disappeared, and I had to conclude that he must have been torn to pieces by wild beasts; I have not seen him since.

Gen 44:29 If you now take this one away from me too, and some disaster befalls him, you will send my white head down to the nether world in grief.'

Gen 44:30 "If then the boy is not with us when I go back to your servant my father, whose very life is bound up with his, he will die as soon as he sees that the boy is missing;

Gen 44:31 and your servants will thus send the white head of our father down to the nether world in grief.

Gen 44:32 Besides, I, your servant, got the boy from his father by going surety for him, saying, 'If I fail to bring him back to you, father, you can hold it against me forever.'

Gen 44:33 Let me, your servant, therefore, remain in place of the boy as the slave of my lord, and let the boy go back with his brothers.

Gen 44:34 How could I go back to my father if the boy were not with me? I could not bear to see the anguish that would overcome my father."

Gen 45:1 Joseph could no longer control himself in the presence of all his attendants, so he cried out, "Have everyone withdraw from me!" Thus no one else was about when he made himself known to his brothers.

Gen 45:2 But his sobs were so loud that the Egyptians heard him, and so the news reached Pharaoh's palace.

Gen 45:3 "I am Joseph," he said to his brothers. "Is my father still in good health?" But his brothers could give him no answer, so dumbfounded were they at him.

Gen 45:4 "Come closer to me," he told his brothers. When they had done so, he said: "I am your brother Joseph, whom you once sold into Egypt.

Gen 45:5 But now do not be distressed, and do not reproach yourselves for having sold me here. It was really for the sake of saving lives that God sent me here ahead of you.

Gen 45:6 For two years now the famine has been in the land, and for five more years tillage will yield no harvest.

Gen 45:7 God, therefore, sent me on ahead of you to ensure for you a remnant on earth and to save your lives in an extraordinary deliverance.

Gen 45:8 So it was not really you but God who had me come here; and he has made of me a father to Pharaoh, lord of all his household, and ruler over the whole land of Egypt.

Gen 45:9 "Hurry back, then, to my father and tell him: 'Thus says your son Joseph: God has made me lord of all Egypt; come to me without delay.'

Gen 45:10 You will settle in the region of Goshen, where you will be near me-- you and your children and grandchildren, your flocks and herds, and everything that you own.

Gen 45:11 Since five years of famine still lie ahead, I will provide for you there, so that you and your family and all that are yours may not suffer want.'

Gen 45:12 Surely, you can see for yourselves, and Benjamin can see for himself, that it is I, Joseph, who am speaking to you.

Gen 45:13 Tell my father all about my high position in Egypt and what you have seen. But hurry and bring my father down here."

Gen 45:14 Thereupon he flung himself on the neck of his brother Benjamin and wept, and Benjamin wept in his arms.

Gen 45:15 Joseph then kissed all his brothers, crying over each of them; and only then were his brothers able to talk with him.

Gen 45:16 When the news reached Pharaoh's palace that Joseph's brothers had come, Pharaoh and his courtiers were pleased.

Gen 45:17 So Pharaoh told Joseph: "Say to your brothers: 'This is what you shall do: Load up your animals and go without delay to the land of Canaan.

Gen 45:18 There get your father and your families, and then come back here to me; I will assign you the best land in Egypt, where you will live off the fat of the land.'

Gen 45:19 Instruct them further: 'Do this. Take wagons from the land of Egypt for your children and your wives and to transport your father on your way back here.

Gen 45:20 Do not be concerned about your belongings, for the best in the whole land of Egypt shall be yours.'" Gen 45:21 The sons of Israel acted accordingly. Joseph gave them the wagons, as Pharaoh had ordered, and he supplied them with provisions for the journey.

Gen 45:22 He also gave to each of them fresh clothing, but to Benjamin he gave three hundred shekels of silver and five sets of garments.

Gen 45:23 Moreover, what he sent to his father was ten jackasses loaded with the finest products of Egypt and ten jennies loaded with grain and bread and other provisions for his journey.

Gen 45:24 As he sent his brothers on their way, he told them, "Let there be no recriminations on the way."

Gen 45:25 So they left Egypt and made their way to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan.

Gen 45:26 When they told him, "Joseph is still alive-- in fact, it is he who is ruler of all the land of Egypt," he was dumbfounded; he could not believe them.

Gen 45:27 But when they recounted to him all that Joseph had told them, and when he saw the wagons that Joseph had sent for his transport, the spirit of their father Jacob revived.

Gen 45:28 "It is enough," said Israel. "My son Joseph is still alive! I must go and see him before I die."

Gen 46:1 Israel set out with all that was his. When he arrived at Beer-sheba, he offered sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac.

Gen 46:2 There God, speaking to Israel in a vision by night, called, "Jacob! Jacob!" "Here I am," he answered.

Gen 46:3 Then he said: "I am God, the God of your father. Do not be afraid to go down to Egypt, for there I will make you a great nation.

Gen 46:4 Not only will I go down to Egypt with you; I will also bring you back here, after Joseph has closed your eyes."

Gen 46:5 So Jacob departed from Beer-sheba, and the sons of Israel put their father and their wives and children on the wagons that Pharaoh had sent for his transport.

Gen 46:6 They took with them their livestock and the possessions they had acquired in the land of Canaan. Thus Jacob and all his descendants migrated to Egypt.

Gen 46:7 His sons and his grandsons, his daughters and his granddaughters-- all his descendants-- he took with him to Egypt.

Gen 46:8 These are the names of the Israelites, Jacob and his descendants, who migrated to Egypt. Reuben, Jacob's first-born,

Gen 46:9 and the sons of Reuben: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

Gen 46:10 The sons of Simeon: Nemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar, and Shaul, son of a Canaanite woman.

Gen 46:11 The sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

Gen 46:12 The sons of Judah: Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez, and Zerah-- but Er and Onan had died in the land of Canaan; and the sons of Perez were Hezron and Hamul.

Gen 46:13 The sons of Issachar: Tola, Puah, Jashub, and Shimron.

Gen 46:14 The sons of Zebulun: Sered, Elon, and Jahleel.

Gen 46:15 These were the sons whom Leah bore to Jacob in Paddan-aram, along with his daughter Dinah-- thirty-three persons in all, male and female.

Gen 46:16 The sons of Gad: Zephon, Haggi, Shuni, Ezbon, Eri, Arod, and Areli.

Gen 46:17 The sons of Asher: Imnah, Ishvah, Ishvi, and Beriah, with their sister Serah; and the sons of Beriah: Heber and Malchiel.

Gen 46:18 These were the descendants of Zilpah, whom Laban had given to his daughter Leah; these she bore to Jacob-- sixteen persons in all.

Gen 46:19 The sons of Jacob's wife Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin.

Gen 46:20 In the land of Egypt Joseph became the father of Manasseh and Ephraim, whom Asenath, daughter of Potiphera, priest of Heliopolis, bore to him.

Gen 46:21 The sons of Benjamin: Bela, Becher, Ashbel, Gera, Naaman, Ahran, Shupham, Hupham, and Ard.

Gen 46:22 These were the sons whom Rachel bore to Jacob-- fourteen persons in all.

Gen 46:23 The sons of Dan: Hushim.

Gen 46:24 The sons of Naphtali: Jahzeel, Guni, Jezer, and Shillem.

Gen 46:25 These were the sons of Bilhah, whom Laban had given to his daughter Rachel; these she bore to Jacob-- seven persons in all.

Gen 46:26 Jacob's people who migrated to Egypt-- his direct descendants, not counting the wives of Jacob's sons-- numbered sixty-six persons in all.

Gen 46:27 Together with Joseph's sons who were born to him in Egypt-- two persons-- all the people comprising Jacob's family who had come to Egypt amounted to seventy persons in all.

Gen 46:28 Israel had sent Judah ahead to Joseph, so that he might meet him in Goshen. On his arrival in the region of Goshen,

Gen 46:29 Joseph hitched the horses to his chariot and rode to meet his father Israel in Goshen. As soon as he saw him, he flung himself on his neck and wept a long time in his arms.

Gen 46:30 And Israel said to Joseph, "At last I can die, now that I have seen for myself that Joseph is still alive."

Gen 46:31 Joseph then said to his brothers and his father's household: "I will go and inform Pharaoh, telling him: 'My brothers and my father's household, whose home is in the land of Canaan, have come to me.

Gen 46:32 The men are shepherds, having long been keepers of livestock; and they have brought with them their flocks and herds, as well as everything else they own.'

Gen 46:33 So when Pharaoh summons you and asks what your occupation is,

Gen 46:34 you must answer, 'We your servants, like our ancestors, have been keepers of livestock from the beginning until now,' in order that you may stay in the region of Goshen, since all shepherds are abhorrent to the Egyptians."

Gen 47:1 Joseph went and told Pharaoh, "My father and my brothers have come from the land of Canaan, with their flocks and herds and everything else they own; and they are now in the region of Goshen."

Gen 47:2 He then presented to Pharaoh five of his brothers whom he had selected from their full number.

Gen 47:3 When Pharaoh asked them what their occupation was, they answered, "We, your servants, like our ancestors, are shepherds.

Gen 47:4 We have come," they continued, "in order to stay in this country, for there is no pasture for your servants' flocks in the land of Canaan, so severe has the famine been there. Please, therefore, let your servants settle in the region of Goshen."

Gen 47:5 Pharaoh said to Joseph, "They may settle in the region of Goshen; and if you know any of them to be qualified, you may put them in charge of my own livestock." Thus, when Jacob and his sons came to Joseph in Egypt, and Pharaoh, king of Egypt, heard about it, Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Now that your father and brothers have come to you,

Gen 47:6 the land of Egypt is at your disposal; settle your father and brothers in the pick of the land."

Gen 47:7 Then Joseph brought his father Jacob and presented him to Pharaoh. After Jacob had paid his respects to Pharaoh,

Gen 47:8 Pharaoh asked him, "How many years have you lived?"

Gen 47:9 Jacob replied: "The years I have lived as a wayfarer amount to a hundred and thirty. Few and hard have been these years of my life, and they do not compare with the years that my ancestors lived as wayfarers."

Gen 47:10 Then Jacob bade Pharaoh farewell and withdrew from his presence.

Gen 47:11 As Pharaoh had ordered, Joseph settled his father and brothers and gave them holdings in Egypt on the pick of the land, in the region of Rameses.

Gen 47:12 And Joseph sustained his father and brothers and his father's whole household, down to the youngest, with food.

Gen 47:13 Since there was no food in any country because of the extreme severity of the famine, and the lands of Egypt and Canaan were languishing from hunger,

Gen 47:14 Joseph gathered in, as payment for the rations that were being dispensed, all the money that was to be found in Egypt and Canaan, and he put it in Pharaoh's palace.

Gen 47:15 When all the money in Egypt and Canaan was spent, all the Egyptians came to Joseph, pleading, "Give us food or we shall perish under your eyes; for our money is gone."

Gen 47:16 "Since your money is gone," replied Joseph, "give me your livestock, and I will sell you bread in return for your livestock."

Gen 47:17 So they brought their livestock to Joseph, and he sold them food in return for their horses, their flocks of sheep and herds of cattle, and their donkeys. Thus he got them through that year with bread in exchange for all their livestock.

Gen 47:18 When that year ended, they came to him in the following one and said: "We cannot hide from my lord that, with our money spent and our livestock made over to my lord, there is nothing left to put at my lord's disposal except our bodies and our farm land.

Gen 47:19 Why should we and our land perish before your very eyes? Take us and our land in exchange for food, and we will become Pharaoh's slaves and our land his property; only give us seed, that we may survive and not perish, and that our land may not turn into a waste."

Gen 47:20 Thus Joseph acquired all the farm land of Egypt for Pharaoh, since with the famine too much for them to bear, every Egyptian sold his field; so the land passed over to Pharaoh,

Gen 47:21 and the people were reduced to slavery, from one end of Egypt's territory to the other.

Gen 47:22 Only the priests' lands Joseph did not take over. Since the priests had a fixed allowance from Pharaoh and lived off the allowance Pharaoh had granted them, they did not have to sell their land.

Gen 47:23 Joseph told the people: "Now that I have acquired you and your land for Pharaoh, here is your seed for sowing the land.

Gen 47:24 But when the harvest is in, you must give a fifth of it to Pharaoh, while you keep four-fifths as seed for your fields and as food for yourselves and your families (and as food for your children)."

Gen 47:25 "You have saved our lives!" they answered. "We are grateful to my lord that we can be Pharaoh's slaves."

Gen 47:26 Thus Joseph made it a law for the land in Egypt, which is still in force, that a fifth of its produce should go to Pharaoh. Only the land of the priests did not pass over to Pharaoh.

Gen 47:27 Thus Israel settled in the land of Egypt, in the region of Goshen. There they acquired property, were fertile, and increased greatly.

Gen 47:28 Jacob lived in the land of Egypt for seventeen years; the span of his life came to a hundred and forty-seven years.

Gen 47:29 When the time approached for Israel to die, he called his son Joseph and said to him: "If you really wish to please me, put your hand under my thigh as a sign of your constant loyalty to me; do not let me be buried in Egypt.

Gen 47:30 When I lie down with my ancestors, have me taken out of Egypt and buried in their burial place."

Gen 47:31 "I will do as you say," he replied. But his father demanded, "Swear it to me!" So Joseph swore to him. Then Israel bowed at the head of the bed.

Gen 48:1 Some time afterward, Joseph was informed, "Your father is failing." So he took along with him his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim.

Gen 48:2 When Jacob was told, "Your son Joseph has come to you," he rallied his strength and sat up in bed.

Gen 48:3 Jacob then said to Joseph: "God Almighty appeared to me at Luz in the land of Canaan, and blessing me,

Gen 48:4 he said, 'I will make you fertile and numerous and raise you into an assembly of tribes, and I will give this land to your descendants after you as a permanent possession.'

Gen 48:5 Your two sons, therefore, who were born to you in the land of Egypt before I joined you here, shall be mine; Ephraim and Manasseh shall be mine as much as Reuben and Simeon are mine.

Gen 48:6 Progeny born to you after them shall remain yours; but their heritage shall be recorded in the names of their two brothers.

Gen 48:7 I do this because, when I was returning from Paddan, your mother Rachel died, to my sorrow, during the journey in Canaan, while we were still a short distance from Ephrath; and I buried her there on the way to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem)."

Gen 48:8 When Israel saw Joseph's sons, he asked, "Who are these?"

Gen 48:9 "They are my sons," Joseph answered his father, "whom God has given me here." "Bring them to me," said his father, "that I may bless them."

Gen 48:10 (Now Israel's eyes were dim from age, and he could not see well.) When Joseph brought his sons close to him, he kissed and embraced them.

Gen 48:11 Then Israel said to Joseph, "I never expected to see your face again, and now God has allowed me to see your descendants as well!"

Gen 48:12 Joseph removed them from his father's knees and bowed down before him with his face to the ground.

Gen 48:14 But Israel, crossing his hands, put out his right hand and laid it on the head of Ephraim, although he was the younger, and his left hand on the head of Manasseh, although he was the first-born.

Gen 48:15 Then he blessed them with these words: "May the God in whose ways my fathers Abraham and Isaac walked, The God who has been my shepherd from my birth to this day,

Gen 48:16 The Angel who has delivered me from all harm, bless these boys That in them my name be recalled, and the names of my fathers, Abraham and Isaac, And they may become teeming multitudes upon the earth!"

Gen 48:17 When Joseph saw that his father had laid his right hand on Ephraim's head, this seemed wrong to him; so he took hold of his father's hand, to remove it from Ephraim's head to Manasseh's,

Gen 48:18 saying, "That is not right, father; the other one is the first-born; lay your right hand on his head!"

Gen 48:19 But his father resisted. "I know it, son," he said, "I know. That one too shall become a tribe, and he too shall be great. Nevertheless, his younger brother shall surpass him, and his descendants shall become a multitude of nations."

Gen 48:20 So when he blessed them that day and said, "By you shall the people of Israel pronounce blessings; may they say, 'God make you like Ephraim and Manasseh,'" he placed Ephraim before Manasseh.

Gen 48:21 Then Israel said to Joseph: "I am about to die. But God will be with you and will restore you to the land of your fathers.

Gen 48:22 As for me, I give to you, as to the one above his brothers, Shechem, which I captured from the Amorites with my sword and bow."

Gen 49:1 Jacob called his sons and said: "Gather around, that I may tell you what is to happen to you in days to come.

Gen 49:2 "Assemble and listen, sons of Jacob, listen to Israel, your father.

Gen 49:3 "You, Reuben, my first-born, my strength and the first fruit of my manhood, excelling in rank and excelling in power!

Gen 49:4 Unruly as water, you shall no longer excel, for you climbed into your father's bed and defiled my couch to my sorrow.

Gen 49:5 "Simeon and Levi, brothers indeed, weapons of violence are their knives.

Gen 49:6 Let not my soul enter their council, or my spirit be joined with their company; For in their fury they slew men, in their willfulness they maimed oxen.

Gen 49:7 Cursed be their fury so fierce, and their rage so cruel! I will scatter them in Jacob, disperse them throughout Israel.

Gen 49:8 "You, Judah, shall your brothers praise-- your hand on the neck of your enemies; the sons of your father shall bow down to you.

Gen 49:9 Judah, like a lion's whelp, you have grown up on prey, my son. He crouches like a lion recumbent, the king of beasts-- who would dare rouse him?

Gen 49:10 The scepter shall never depart from Judah, or the mace from between his legs, While tribute is brought to him, and he receives the people's homage.

Gen 49:11 He tethers his donkey to the vine, his purebred ass to the choicest stem. In wine he washes his garments his robe in the blood of grapes.

Gen 49:12 His eyes are darker than wine, and his teeth are whiter than milk.

Gen 49:13 "Zebulun shall dwell by the seashore (This means a shore for ships), and his flank shall be based on Sidon.

Gen 49:14 "Issachar is a rawboned ass, crouching between the saddlebags.

Gen 49:15 When he saw how good a settled life was, and how pleasant the country, He bent his shoulder to the burden and became a toiling serf.

Gen 49:16 "Dan shall achieve justice for his kindred like any other tribe of Israel.

Gen 49:17 Let Dan be a serpent by the roadside, a horned viper by the path, That bites the horse's heel, so that the rider tumbles backward.

Gen 49:18 "(I long for your deliverance, O LORD!)

Gen 49:19 "Gad shall be raided by raiders, but he shall raid at their heels.

Gen 49:20 "Asher's produce is rich, and he shall furnish dainties for kings.

Gen 49:21 "Naphtali is a hind let loose which brings forth lovely fawns.

Gen 49:22 "Joseph is a wild colt, a wild colt by a spring, a wild ass on a hillside.

Gen 49:23 Harrying and attacking, the archers opposed him;

Gen 49:24 But each one's bow remained stiff, as their arms were unsteady, By the power of the Mighty One of Jacob, because of the Shepherd, the Rock of Israel,

Gen 49:25 The God of your father, who helps you, God Almighty, who blesses you, With the blessings of the heavens above, the blessings of the abyss that crouches below, The blessings of breasts and womb,

Gen 49:26 the blessings of fresh grain and blossoms, The blessings of the everlasting mountains, the delights of the eternal hills. May they rest on the head of Joseph, on the brow of the prince among his brothers.

Gen 49:27 "Benjamin is a ravenous wolf; mornings he devours the prey, and evenings he distributes the spoils."

Gen 49:28 All these are the twelve tribes of Israel, and this is what their father said about them, as he bade them farewell and gave to each of them an appropriate message.

Gen 49:29 Then he gave them this charge: "Since I am about to be taken to my kindred, bury me with my fathers in the cave that lies in the field of Ephron the Hittite,

Gen 49:30 the cave in the field of Machpelah, facing on Mamre, in the land of Canaan, the field that Abraham bought from Ephron the Hittite for a burial ground.

Gen 49:31 There Abraham and his wife Sarah are buried, and so are Isaac and his wife Rebekah, and there, too, I buried Leah--

Gen 49:32 the field and the cave in it that had been purchased from the Hittites."

Gen 49:33 When Jacob had finished giving these instructions to his sons, he drew his feet into the bed, breathed his last, and was taken to his kindred.

Gen 50:1 Joseph threw himself on his father's face and wept over him as he kissed him.

Gen 50:2 Then he ordered the physicians in his service to embalm his father. When they embalmed Israel,

Gen 50:3 they spent forty days at it, for that is the full period of embalming; and the Egyptians mourned him for seventy days.

Gen 50:4 When that period of mourning was over, Joseph spoke to Pharaoh's courtiers. "Please do me this favor," he said, "and convey to Pharaoh this request of mine.

Gen 50:5 Since my father, at the point of death, made me promise on oath to bury him in the tomb that he had prepared for himself in the land of Canaan, may I go up there to bury my father and then come back?"

Gen 50:6 Pharaoh replied, "Go and bury your father, as he made you promise on oath."

Gen 50:7 So Joseph left to bury his father; and with him went all of Pharaoh's officials who were senior members of his court and all the other dignitaries of Egypt,

Gen 50:8 as well as Joseph's whole household, his brothers, and his father's household; only their children and their flocks and herds were left in the region of Goshen.

Gen 50:9 Chariots, too, and charioteers went up with him; it was a very large retinue.

Gen 50:10 When they arrived at Goren-ha-atad, which is beyond the Jordan, they held there a very great and solemn memorial service; and Joseph observed seven days of mourning for his father.

Gen 50:11 When the Canaanites who inhabited the land saw the mourning at Goren-ha-atad, they said, "This is a solemn funeral the Egyptians are having." That is why the place was named Abel-mizraim. It is beyond the Jordan.

Gen 50:12 Thus Jacob's sons did for him as he had instructed them.

Gen 50:13 They carried him to the land of Canaan and buried him in the cave in the field of Machpelah, facing on Mamre, the field that Abraham had bought for a burial ground from Ephron the Hittite.

Gen 50:14 After Joseph had buried his father he returned to Egypt, together with his brothers and all who had gone up with him for the burial of his father.

Gen 50:15 Now that their father was dead, Joseph's brothers became fearful and thought, "Suppose Joseph has been nursing a grudge against us and now plans to pay us back in full for all the wrong we did him!"

Gen 50:16 So they approached Joseph and said: "Before your father died, he gave us these instructions:

Gen 50:17 'You shall say to Joseph, Jacob begs you to forgive the criminal wrongdoing of your brothers, who treated you so cruelly.' Please, therefore, forgive the crime that we, the servants of your father's God, committed." When they spoke these words to him, Joseph broke into tears.

Gen 50:18 Then his brothers proceeded to fling themselves down before him and said, "Let us be your slaves!"

Gen 50:19 But Joseph replied to them: "Have no fear. Can I take the place of God?"

Gen 50:20 Even though you meant harm to me, God meant it for good, to achieve his present end, the survival of many people.

Gen 50:21 Therefore have no fear. I will provide for you and for your children." By thus speaking kindly to them, he reassured them.

Gen 50:22 Joseph remained in Egypt, together with his father's family. He lived a hundred and ten years.

Gen 50:23 He saw Ephraim's children to the third generation, and the children of Manasseh's son Machir were also born on Joseph's knees.

Gen 50:24 Joseph said to his brothers: "I am about to die. God will surely take care of you and lead you out of this land to the land that he promised on oath to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob."

Gen 50:25 Then, putting the sons of Israel under oath, he continued, "When God thus takes care of you, you must bring my bones up with you from this place."

Gen 50:26 Joseph died at the age of a hundred and ten. He was embalmed and laid to rest in a coffin in Egypt.

Exo 1:1 These are the names of the sons of Israel who, accompanied by their households, migrated with Jacob into Egypt:

Exo 1:2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi and Judah;

Exo 1:3 Issachar, Zebulun and Benjamin;

Exo 1:4 Dan and Naphtali; Gad and Asher.

Exo 1:5 The total number of the direct descendants of Jacob was seventy. Joseph was already in Egypt.

Exo 1:6 Now Joseph and all his brothers and that whole generation died.

Exo 1:7 But the Israelites were fruitful and prolific. They became so numerous and strong that the land was filled with them.

Exo 1:8 Then a new king, who knew nothing of Joseph, came to power in Egypt.

Exo 1:9 He said to his subjects, "Look how numerous and powerful the Israelite people are growing, more so than we ourselves!

Exo 1:10 Come, let us deal shrewdly with them to stop their increase; otherwise, in time of war they too may join our enemies to fight against us, and so leave our country."

Exo 1:11 Accordingly, taskmasters were set over the Israelites to oppress them with forced labor. Thus they had to build for Pharaoh the supply cities of Pithom and Raamses.

Exo 1:12 Yet the more they were oppressed, the more they multiplied and spread. The Egyptians, then, dreaded the Israelites

Exo 1:13 and reduced them to cruel slavery,

Exo 1:14 making life bitter for them with hard work in mortar and brick and all kinds of field work-- the whole cruel fate of slaves.

Exo 1:15 The king of Egypt told the Hebrew midwives, one of whom was called Shiphrah and the other Puah,

Exo 1:16 "When you act as midwives for the Hebrew women and see them giving birth, if it is a boy, kill him; but if it is a girl, she may live."

Exo 1:17 The midwives, however, feared God; they did not do as the king of Egypt had ordered them, but let the boys live.

Exo 1:18 So the king summoned the midwives and asked them, "Why have you acted thus, allowing the boys to live?"

Exo 1:19 The midwives answered Pharaoh, "The Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women. They are robust and give birth before the midwife arrives."

Exo 1:20 Therefore God dealt well with the midwives. The people, too, increased and grew strong.

Exo 1:21 And because the midwives feared God, he built up families for them.

Exo 1:22 Pharaoh then commanded all his subjects, "Throw into the river every boy that is born to the Hebrews, but you may let all the girls live."

Exo 2:1 Now a certain man of the house of Levi married a Levite woman,

Exo 2:2 who conceived and bore a son. Seeing that he was a goodly child, she hid him for three months.

Exo 2:3 When she could hide him no longer, she took a papyrus basket, daubed it with bitumen and pitch, and putting the child in it, placed it among the reeds on the river bank.

Exo 2:4 His sister stationed herself at a distance to find out what would happen to him.

Exo 2:5 Pharaoh's daughter came down to the river to bathe, while her maids walked along the river bank.

Noticing the basket among the reeds, she sent her handmaid to fetch it.

Exo 2:6 On opening it, she looked, and lo, there was a baby boy, crying! She was moved with pity for him and said, "It is one of the Hebrews' children."

Exo 2:7 Then his sister asked Pharaoh's daughter, "Shall I go and call one of the Hebrew women to nurse the child for you?"

Exo 2:8 "Yes, do so," she answered. So the maiden went and called the child's own mother.

Exo 2:9 Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Take this child and nurse it for me, and I will repay you." The woman therefore took the child and nursed it.

Exo 2:10 When the child grew, she brought him to Pharaoh's daughter, who adopted him as her son and called him Moses; for she said, "I drew him out of the water."

Exo 2:11 On one occasion, after Moses had grown up, when he visited his kinsmen and witnessed their forced labor, he saw an Egyptian striking a Hebrew, one of his own kinsmen.

Exo 2:12 Looking about and seeing no one, he slew the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

Exo 2:13 The next day he went out again, and now two Hebrews were fighting! So he asked the culprit, "Why are you striking your fellow Hebrew?"

Exo 2:14 But he replied, "Who has appointed you ruler and judge over us? Are you thinking of killing me as you killed the Egyptian?" Then Moses became afraid and thought, "The affair must certainly be known."

Exo 2:15 Pharaoh, too, heard of the affair and sought to put him to death. But Moses fled from him and stayed in the land of Midian. As he was seated there by a well,

Exo 2:16 seven daughters of a priest of Midian came to draw water and fill the troughs to water their father's flock.

Exo 2:17 But some shepherds came and drove them away. Then Moses got up and defended them and watered their flock.

Exo 2:18 When they returned to their father Reuel, he said to them, "How is it you have returned so soon today?"

Exo 2:19 They answered, "An Egyptian saved us from the interference of the shepherds. He even drew water for us and watered the flock!"

Exo 2:20 "Where is the man?" he asked his daughters. "Why did you leave him there? Invite him to have something to eat."

Exo 2:21 Moses agreed to live with him, and the man gave him his daughter Zipporah in marriage.

Exo 2:22 She bore him a son, whom he named Gershom; for he said, "I am a stranger in a foreign land."

Exo 2:23 A long time passed, during which the king of Egypt died. Still the Israelites groaned and cried out because of their slavery. As their cry for release went up to God,

Exo 2:24 he heard their groaning and was mindful of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Exo 2:25 He saw the Israelites and knew....

Exo 3:1 Meanwhile Moses was tending the flock of his father-in-law Jethro, the priest of Midian. Leading the flock across the desert, he came to Horeb, the mountain of God.

Exo 3:2 There an angel of the LORD appeared to him in fire flaming out of a bush. As he looked on, he was surprised to see that the bush, though on fire, was not consumed.

Exo 3:3 So Moses decided, "I must go over to look at this remarkable sight, and see why the bush is not burned."

Exo 3:4 When the LORD saw him coming over to look at it more closely, God called out to him from the bush, "Moses! Moses!" He answered, "Here I am."

Exo 3:5 God said, "Come no nearer! Remove the sandals from your feet, for the place where you stand is holy ground.

Exo 3:6 I am the God of your father," he continued, "the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, the God of Jacob." Moses hid his face, for he was afraid to look at God.

Exo 3:7 But the LORD said, "I have witnessed the affliction of my people in Egypt and have heard their cry of complaint against their slave drivers, so I know well what they are suffering.

Exo 3:8 Therefore I have come down to rescue them from the hands of the Egyptians and lead them out of that land into a good and spacious land, a land flowing with milk and honey, the country of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.

Exo 3:9 So indeed the cry of the Israelites has reached me, and I have truly noted that the Egyptians are oppressing them.

Exo 3:10 Come, now! I will send you to Pharaoh to lead my people, the Israelites, out of Egypt."

Exo 3:11 But Moses said to God, "Who am I that I should go to Pharaoh and lead the Israelites out of Egypt?"

Exo 3:12 He answered, "I will be with you; and this shall be your proof that it is I who have sent you: when you bring my people out of Egypt, you will worship God on this very mountain."

Exo 3:13 "But," said Moses to God, "when I go to the Israelites and say to them, 'The God of your fathers has sent me to you,' if they ask me, 'What is his name?' what am I to tell them?"

Exo 3:14 God replied, "I am who am." Then he added, "This is what you shall tell the Israelites: I AM sent me to you."

Exo 3:15 God spoke further to Moses, "Thus shall you say to the Israelites: The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, the God of Jacob, has sent me to you. "This is my name forever; this is my title for all generations.

Exo 3:16 "Go and assemble the elders of the Israelites, and tell them: The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, has appeared to me and said: I am concerned about you and about the way you are being treated in Egypt;

Exo 3:17 so I have decided to lead you up out of the misery of Egypt into the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Exo 3:18 "Thus they will heed your message. Then you and the elders of Israel shall go to the king of Egypt and say to him: The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has sent us word. Permit us, then, to go a three days' journey in the desert, that we may offer sacrifice to the LORD, our God.

Exo 3:19 "Yet I know that the king of Egypt will not allow you to go unless he is forced.

Exo 3:20 I will stretch out my hand, therefore, and smite Egypt by doing all kinds of wondrous deeds there. After that he will send you away.

Exo 3:21 I will even make the Egyptians so well-disposed toward this people that, when you leave, you will not go empty-handed.

Exo 3:22 Every woman shall ask her neighbor and her house guest for silver and gold articles and for clothing to put on your sons and daughters. Thus you will despoil the Egyptians."

Exo 4:1 "But," objected Moses, "suppose they will not believe me, nor listen to my plea? For they may say, 'The LORD did not appear to you.'"

Exo 4:2 The LORD therefore asked him, "What is that in your hand?" "A staff," he answered.

Exo 4:3 The LORD then said, "Throw it on the ground." When he threw it on the ground it was changed into a serpent, and Moses shied away from it.

Exo 4:4 "Now, put out your hand," the LORD said to him, "and take hold of its tail." So he put out his hand and laid hold of it, and it became a staff in his hand.

Exo 4:5 "This will take place so that they may believe," he continued, "that the LORD, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, the God of Jacob, did appear to you."

Exo 4:6 Again the LORD said to him, "Put your hand in your bosom." He put it in his bosom, and when he withdrew it, to his surprise his hand was leprous, like snow.

Exo 4:7 The LORD then said, "Now, put your hand back in your bosom." Moses put his hand back in his bosom, and when he withdrew it, to his surprise it was again like the rest of his body.

Exo 4:8 "If they will not believe you, nor heed the message of the first sign, they should believe the message of the second.

Exo 4:9 And if they will not believe even these two signs, nor heed your plea, take some water from the river and pour it on the dry land. The water you take from the river will become blood on the dry land."

Exo 4:10 Moses, however, said to the LORD, "If you please, LORD, I have never been eloquent, neither in the past, nor recently, nor now that you have spoken to your servant; but I am slow of speech and tongue."

Exo 4:11 The LORD said to him, "Who gives one man speech and makes another deaf and dumb? Or who gives sight to one and makes another blind? Is it not I, the LORD?"

Exo 4:12 Go, then! It is I who will assist you in speaking and will teach you what you are to say."

Exo 4:13 Yet he insisted, "If you please, Lord, send someone else!"

Exo 4:14 Then the LORD became angry with Moses and said, "Have you not your brother, Aaron the Levite? I know that he is an eloquent speaker. Besides, he is now on his way to meet you.

Exo 4:15 When he sees you, his heart will be glad. You are to speak to him, then, and put the words in his mouth. I will assist both you and him in speaking and will teach the two of you what you are to do.

Exo 4:16 He shall speak to the people for you: he shall be your spokesman, and you shall be as God to him.

Exo 4:17 Take this staff in your hand; with it you are to perform the signs."

Exo 4:18 After this Moses returned to his father-in-law Jethro and said to him, "Let me go back, please, to my kinsmen in Egypt, to see whether they are still living." Jethro replied, "Go in peace."

Exo 4:19 In Midian the LORD said to Moses, "Go back to Egypt, for all the men who sought your life are dead."

Exo 4:20 So Moses took his wife and his sons, and started back to the land of Egypt, with them riding the ass. The staff of God he carried with him.

Exo 4:21 The LORD said to him, "On your return to Egypt, see that you perform before Pharaoh all the wonders I have put in your power. I will make him obstinate, however, so that he will not let the people go.

Exo 4:22 So you shall say to Pharaoh: Thus says the LORD: Israel is my son, my first-born.

Exo 4:23 Hence I tell you: Let my son go, that he may serve me. If you refuse to let him go, I warn you, I will kill your son, your first-born."

Exo 4:24 On the journey, at a place where they spent the night, the Lord came upon Moses and would have killed him.

Exo 4:25 But Zipporah took a piece of flint and cut off her son's foreskin and, touching his person, she said, "You are a spouse of blood to me."

Exo 4:26 Then God let Moses go. At that time she said, "A spouse of blood," in regard to the circumcision.

Exo 4:27 The LORD said to Aaron, "Go into the desert to meet Moses." So he went, and when they met at the mountain of God, Aaron kissed him.

Exo 4:28 Moses informed him of all the LORD had said in sending him, and of the various signs he had enjoined upon him.

Exo 4:29 Then Moses and Aaron went and assembled all the elders of the Israelites.

Exo 4:30 Aaron told them everything the LORD had said to Moses, and he performed the signs before the people.

Exo 4:31 The people believed, and when they heard that the LORD was concerned about them and had seen their affliction, they bowed down in worship.

Exo 5:1 After that, Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Let my people go, that they may celebrate a feast to me in the desert."

Exo 5:2 Pharaoh answered, "Who is the LORD, that I should heed his plea to let Israel go? I do not know the LORD; even if I did, I would not let Israel go."

Exo 5:3 They replied, "The God of the Hebrews has sent us word. Let us go a three days' journey in the desert, that we may offer sacrifice to the LORD, our God; otherwise he will punish us with pestilence or the sword."

Exo 5:4 The king of Egypt answered them, "What do you mean, Moses and Aaron, by taking the people away from their work? Off to your labor!"

Exo 5:5 Look how numerous the people of the land are already," continued Pharaoh, "and yet you would give them rest from their labor!"

Exo 5:6 That very day Pharaoh gave the taskmasters and foremen of the people this order:

Exo 5:7 "You shall no longer supply the people with straw for their brickmaking as you have previously done. Let them go and gather straw themselves!"

Exo 5:8 Yet you shall levy upon them the same quota of bricks as they have previously made. Do not reduce it. They are lazy; that is why they are crying, 'Let us go to offer sacrifice to our God.'

Exo 5:9 Increase the work for the men, so that they keep their mind on it and pay no attention to lying words."

Exo 5:10 So the taskmasters and foremen of the people went out and told them, "Thus says Pharaoh: I will not provide you with straw.

Exo 5:11 Go and gather the straw yourselves, wherever you can find it. Yet there must not be the slightest reduction in your work."

Exo 5:12 The people, then, scattered throughout the land of Egypt to gather stubble for straw,

Exo 5:13 while the taskmasters kept driving them on, saying, "Finish your work, the same daily amount as when your straw was supplied."

Exo 5:14 The foremen of the Israelites, whom the taskmasters of Pharaoh had placed over them, were beaten, and were asked, "Why have you not completed your prescribed amount of bricks yesterday and today, as before?"

Exo 5:15 Then the Israelite foremen came and made this appeal to Pharaoh: "Why do you treat your servants in this manner?"

Exo 5:16 No straw is supplied to your servants, and still we are told to make bricks. Look how your servants are beaten! It is you who are at fault."

Exo 5:17 Pharaoh answered, "It is just because you are lazy that you keep saying, 'Let us go and offer sacrifice to the LORD.'

Exo 5:18 Off to work, then! Straw shall not be provided for you, but you must still deliver your quota of bricks."

Exo 5:19 The Israelite foremen knew they were in a sorry plight, having been told not to reduce the daily amount of bricks.

Exo 5:20 When, therefore, they left Pharaoh and came upon Moses and Aaron, who were waiting to meet them,

Exo 5:21 they said to them, "The LORD look upon you and judge! You have brought us into bad odor with Pharaoh and his servants and have put a sword in their hands to slay us."

Exo 5:22 Moses again had recourse to the LORD and said, "Lord, why do you treat this people so badly? And why did you send me on such a mission?"

Exo 5:23 Ever since I went to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has maltreated this people of yours, and you have done nothing to rescue them."

Exo 6:1 Then the LORD answered Moses, "Now you shall see what I will do to Pharaoh. Forced by my mighty hand, he will send them away; compelled by my outstretched arm, he will drive them from his land."

Exo 6:2 God also said to Moses, "I am the LORD.

Exo 6:3 As God the Almighty I appeared to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, but my name, LORD, I did not make known to them.

Exo 6:4 I also established my covenant with them, to give them the land of Canaan, the land in which they were living as aliens.

Exo 6:5 And now that I have heard the groaning of the Israelites, whom the Egyptians are treating as slaves, I am mindful of my covenant.

Exo 6:6 Therefore, say to the Israelites: I am the LORD. I will free you from the forced labor of the Egyptians and will deliver you from their slavery. I will rescue you by my outstretched arm and with mighty acts of judgment.

Exo 6:7 I will take you as my own people, and you shall have me as your God. You will know that I, the LORD, am your God when I free you from the labor of the Egyptians Exo 6:8 and bring you into the land which I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. I will give it to you as your own possession-- I, the LORD!"

Exo 6:9 But when Moses told this to the Israelites, they would not listen to him because of their dejection and hard slavery.

Exo 6:10 Then the LORD said to Moses,
Exo 6:11 "Go and tell Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to let the Israelites leave his land."
Exo 6:12 But Moses protested to the LORD, "If the Israelites would not listen to me, how can it be that Pharaoh will listen to me, poor speaker that I am!"
Exo 6:13 Still, the LORD, to bring the Israelites out of Egypt, spoke to Moses and Aaron and gave them his orders regarding both the Israelites and Pharaoh, king of Egypt.
Exo 6:14 These are the heads of the ancestral houses. The sons of Reuben, the first-born of Israel, were Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron and Carmi; these are the clans of Reuben.
Exo 6:15 The sons of Simeon were Jenuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar and Shaul, who was the son of a Canaanite woman; these are the clans of Simeon.
Exo 6:16 The names of the sons of Levi, in their genealogical order, are Gershon, Kohath and Merari. Levi lived one hundred and thirty-seven years.
Exo 6:17 The sons of Gershon, as heads of clans, were Libni and Shimei.
Exo 6:18 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel. Kohath lived one hundred and thirty-three years.
Exo 6:19 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. These are the clans of Levi in their genealogical order.
Exo 6:20 Amram married his aunt Jochebed, who bore him Aaron, Moses and Miriam. Amram lived one hundred and thirty-seven years.
Exo 6:21 The sons of Izhar were Korah, Nepheg and Zichri.
Exo 6:22 The sons of Uzziel were Mishael, Elzaphan and Sithri.
Exo 6:23 Aaron married Amminadab's daughter, Elisheba, the sister of Nahshon; she bore him Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.
Exo 6:24 The sons of Korah were Assir, Elkanah and Abiasaph. These are the clans of the Korahites.
Exo 6:25 Aaron's son, Eleazar, married one of Putiel's daughters, who bore him Phinehas. These are the heads of the ancestral clans of the Levites.
Exo 6:26 This is the Aaron and this the Moses to whom the LORD said, "Lead the Israelites from the land of Egypt, company by company."
Exo 6:27 These are the ones who spoke to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to bring the Israelites out of Egypt-- the same Moses and Aaron.
Exo 6:28 On the day the LORD spoke to Moses in Egypt
Exo 6:29 he said, "I am the LORD. Repeat to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, all that I tell you."
Exo 6:30 But Moses protested to the LORD, "Since I am a poor speaker, how can it be that Pharaoh will listen to me?"
Exo 7:1 The LORD answered him, "See! I have made you as God to Pharaoh, and Aaron your brother shall act as your prophet.
Exo 7:2 You shall tell him all that I command you. In turn, your brother Aaron shall tell Pharaoh to let the Israelites leave his land.
Exo 7:3 Yet I will make Pharaoh so obstinate that, despite the many signs and wonders that I will work in the land of Egypt,
Exo 7:4 he will not listen to you. Therefore I will lay my hand on Egypt and by great acts of judgment I will bring the hosts of my people, the Israelites, out of the land of Egypt,
Exo 7:5 so that the Egyptians may learn that I am the LORD, as I stretch out my hand against Egypt and lead the Israelites out of their midst."
Exo 7:6 Moses and Aaron did as the LORD had commanded them.
Exo 7:7 Moses was eighty years old and Aaron eighty-three when they spoke to Pharaoh.
Exo 7:8 The LORD told Moses and Aaron,
Exo 7:9 "If Pharaoh demands that you work a sign or wonder, you shall say to Aaron: Take your staff and throw it down before Pharaoh, and it will be changed into a snake."
Exo 7:10 Then Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and did as the LORD had commanded. Aaron threw his staff down before Pharaoh and his servants, and it was changed into a snake.
Exo 7:11 Pharaoh, in turn, summoned wise men and sorcerers, and they also, the magicians of Egypt, did likewise by their magic arts.
Exo 7:12 Each one threw down his staff, and it was changed into a snake. But Aaron's staff swallowed their staffs.
Exo 7:13 Pharaoh, however, was obstinate and would not listen to them, just as the LORD had foretold.
Exo 7:14 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh is obdurate in refusing to let the people go.
Exo 7:15 Tomorrow morning, when he sets out for the water, go and present yourself by the river bank, holding in your hand the staff that turned into a serpent.
Exo 7:16 Say to him: The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, sent me to you with the message: Let my people go to worship me in the desert. But as yet you have not listened.

Exo 7:17 The LORD now says: This is how you shall know that I am the LORD. I will strike the water of the river with the staff I hold, and it shall be changed into blood.

Exo 7:18 The fish in the river shall die, and the river itself shall become so polluted that the Egyptians will be unable to drink its water."

Exo 7:19 The LORD then said to Moses, "Say to Aaron: Take your staff and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt-- their streams and canals and pools, all their supplies of water-- that they may become blood. Throughout the land of Egypt there shall be blood, even in the wooden pails and stone jars."

Exo 7:20 Moses and Aaron did as the LORD had commanded. Aaron raised his staff and struck the waters of the river in full view of Pharaoh and his servants, and all the water of the river was changed into blood.

Exo 7:21 The fish in the river died, and the river itself became so polluted that the Egyptians could not drink its water. There was blood throughout the land of Egypt.

Exo 7:22 But the Egyptian magicians did the same by their magic arts. So Pharaoh remained obstinate and would not listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the LORD had foretold.

Exo 7:23 He turned away and went into his house, with no concern even for this.

Exo 7:24 All the Egyptians had to dig in the neighborhood of the river for drinking water, since they could not drink the river water.

Exo 7:25 Seven days passed after the LORD had struck the river.

Exo 7:26 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and tell him: Thus says the LORD: Let my people go to worship me.

Exo 7:27 If you refuse to let them go, I warn you, I will send a plague of frogs over all your territory.

Exo 7:28 The river will teem with frogs. They will come up into your palace and into your bedroom and onto your bed, into the houses of your servants, too, and your subjects, even into your ovens and your kneading bowls.

Exo 7:29 The frogs will swarm all over you and your subjects and your servants."

Exo 8:1 The LORD then told Moses, "Say to Aaron: Stretch out your hand and your staff over the streams and canals and pools, to make frogs overrun the land of Egypt."

Exo 8:2 Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up and covered the land of Egypt.

Exo 8:3 But the magicians did the same by their magic arts. They, too, made frogs overrun the land of Egypt.

Exo 8:4 Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Pray the LORD to remove the frogs from me and my subjects, and I will let the people go to offer sacrifice to the LORD."

Exo 8:5 Moses answered Pharaoh, "Do me the favor of appointing the time when I am to pray for you and your servants and your subjects, that the frogs may be taken away from you and your houses and be left only in the river."

Exo 8:6 "Tomorrow," said Pharaoh. Then Moses replied, "It shall be as you have said, so that you may learn that there is none like the LORD, our God.

Exo 8:7 The frogs shall leave you and your houses, your servants and your subjects; only in the river shall they be left."

Exo 8:8 After Moses and Aaron left Pharaoh's presence, Moses implored the LORD to fulfill the promise he had made to Pharaoh about the frogs;

Exo 8:9 and the LORD did as Moses had asked. The frogs in the houses and courtyards and fields died off.

Exo 8:10 Heaps and heaps of them were gathered up, and there was a stench in the land.

Exo 8:11 But when Pharaoh saw that there was a respite, he became obdurate and would not listen to them, just as the LORD had foretold.

Exo 8:12 Thereupon the LORD said to Moses, "Tell Aaron to stretch out his staff and strike the dust of the earth, that it may be turned into gnats throughout the land of Egypt."

Exo 8:13 They did so. Aaron stretched out his hand, and with his staff he struck the dust of the earth, and gnats came upon man and beast. The dust of the earth was turned into gnats throughout the land of Egypt.

Exo 8:14 Though the magicians tried to bring forth gnats by their magic arts, they could not do so. As the gnats infested man and beast, Exo 8:15 the magicians said to Pharaoh, "This is the finger of God." Yet Pharaoh remained obstinate and would not listen to them, just as the LORD had foretold.

Exo 8:16 Again the LORD told Moses, "Early tomorrow morning present yourself to Pharaoh when he goes forth to the water, and say to him: Thus says the LORD: Let my people go to worship me.

Exo 8:17 If you will not let my people go, I warn you, I will loose swarms of flies upon you and your servants and your subjects and your houses. The houses of the Egyptians and the very ground on which they stand shall be filled with swarms of flies.

Exo 8:18 But on that day I will make an exception of the land of Goshen: there shall be no flies where my people dwell, that you may know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth.

Exo 8:19 I will make this distinction between my people and your people. This sign shall take place tomorrow."

Exo 8:20 This the LORD did. Thick swarms of flies entered the house of Pharaoh and the houses of his servants; throughout Egypt the land was infested with flies.

Exo 8:21 Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said to them, "Go and offer sacrifice to your God in this land."

Exo 8:22 But Moses replied, "It is not right to do so, for the sacrifices we offer to the LORD, our God, are an abomination to the Egyptians. If before their very eyes we offer sacrifices which are an abomination to them, will not the Egyptians stone us?"

Exo 8:23 We must go a three days' journey in the desert to offer sacrifice to the LORD, our God, as he commands us."

Exo 8:24 "Well, then," said Pharaoh, "I will let you go to offer sacrifice to the LORD, your God, in the desert, provided that you do not go too far away and that you pray for me."

Exo 8:25 Moses answered, "As soon as I leave your presence I will pray to the LORD that the flies may depart tomorrow from Pharaoh and his servants and his subjects. Pharaoh, however, must not play false again by refusing to let the people go to offer sacrifice to the LORD."

Exo 8:26 When Moses left Pharaoh's presence, he prayed to the LORD;

Exo 8:27 and the LORD did as Moses had asked. He removed the flies from Pharaoh and his servants and subjects. Not one remained.

Exo 8:28 But once more Pharaoh became obdurate and would not let the people go.

Exo 9:1 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and tell him: Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews: Let my people go to worship me.

Exo 9:2 If you refuse to let them go and persist in holding them,

Exo 9:3 I warn you, the LORD will afflict all your livestock in the field-- your horses, asses, camels, herds and flocks-- with a very severe pestilence.

Exo 9:4 But the LORD will distinguish between the livestock of Israel and that of Egypt, so that none belonging to the Israelites will die."

Exo 9:5 And setting a definite time, the LORD added, "Tomorrow the LORD shall do this in the land."

Exo 9:6 And on the next day the LORD did so. All the livestock of the Egyptians died, but not one beast belonging to the Israelites.

Exo 9:7 But though Pharaoh's messengers informed him that not even one beast belonging to the Israelites had died, he still remained obdurate and would not let the people go.

Exo 9:8 Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "Take a double handful of soot from a furnace, and in the presence of Pharaoh let Moses scatter it toward the sky.

Exo 9:9 It will then turn into fine dust over the whole land of Egypt and cause festering boils on man and beast throughout the land."

Exo 9:10 So they took soot from a furnace and stood in the presence of Pharaoh. Moses scattered it toward the sky, and it caused festering boils on man and beast.

Exo 9:11 The magicians could not stand in Moses' presence, for there were boils on the magicians no less than on the rest of the Egyptians.

Exo 9:12 But the LORD made Pharaoh obstinate, and he would not listen to them, just as the LORD had foretold to Moses.

Exo 9:13 Then the LORD told Moses, "Early tomorrow morning present yourself to Pharaoh and say to him: Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews: Let my people go to worship me,

Exo 9:14 or this time I will hurl all my blows upon you and your servants and your subjects, that you may know that there is none like me anywhere on earth.

Exo 9:15 For by now I would have stretched out my hand and struck you and your subjects with such pestilence as would wipe you from the earth.

Exo 9:16 But this is why I have spared you: to show you my power and to make my name resound throughout the earth!

Exo 9:17 Will you still block the way for my people by refusing to let them go?

Exo 9:18 I warn you, then, tomorrow at this hour I will rain down such fierce hail as there has never been in Egypt from the day the nation was founded up to the present.

Exo 9:19 Therefore, order all your livestock and whatever else you have in the open fields to be brought to a place of safety. Whatever man or beast remains in the fields and is not brought to shelter shall die when the hail comes upon them."

Exo 9:20 Some of Pharaoh's servants feared the warning of the LORD and hurried their servants and livestock off to shelter.

Exo 9:21 Others, however, did not take the warning of the LORD to heart and left their servants and livestock in the fields.

Exo 9:22 The LORD then said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky, that hail may fall upon the entire land of Egypt, on man and beast and every growing thing in the land of Egypt."

Exo 9:23 When Moses stretched out his staff toward the sky, the LORD sent forth hail and peals of thunder. Lightning flashed toward the earth, and the LORD rained down hail upon the land of Egypt;

Exo 9:24 and lightning constantly flashed through the hail, such fierce hail as had never been seen in the land since Egypt became a nation.

Exo 9:25 It struck down every man and beast that was in the open throughout the land of Egypt; it beat down every growing thing and splintered every tree in the fields.

Exo 9:26 Only in the land of Goshen, where the Israelites dwelt, was there no hail.

Exo 9:27 Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said to them, "I have sinned again! The LORD is just; it is I and my subjects who are at fault.

Exo 9:28 Pray to the LORD, for we have had enough of God's thunder and hail. Then I will let you go; you need stay no longer."

Exo 9:29 Moses replied, "As soon as I leave the city I will extend my hands to the LORD; the thunder will cease, and there will be no more hail. Thus you shall learn that the earth is the LORD'S.

Exo 9:30 But you and your servants, I know, do not yet fear the LORD God."

Exo 9:31 Now the flax and the barley were ruined, because the barley was in ear and the flax in bud.

Exo 9:32 But the wheat and the spelt were not ruined, for they grow later.

Exo 9:33 When Moses had left Pharaoh's presence and had gone out of the city, he extended his hands to the LORD. Then the thunder and the hail ceased, and the rain no longer poured down upon the earth.

Exo 9:34 But Pharaoh, seeing that the rain and hail and thunder had ceased, sinned again: he with his servants became obdurate,

Exo 9:35 and in his obstinacy he would not let the Israelites go, as the LORD had foretold through Moses.

Exo 10:1 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, for I have made him and his servants obdurate in order that I may perform these signs of mine among them

Exo 10:2 and that you may recount to your son and grandson how ruthlessly I dealt with the Egyptians and what signs I wrought among them, so that you may know that I am the LORD."

Exo 10:3 So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and told him, "Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews: How long will you refuse to submit to me? Let my people go to worship me.

Exo 10:4 If you refuse to let my people go, I warn you, tomorrow I will bring locusts into your country.

Exo 10:5 They shall cover the ground, so that the ground itself will not be visible. They shall eat up the remnant you saved unhurt from the hail, as well as all the foliage that has since sprouted in your fields.

Exo 10:6 They shall fill your houses and the houses of your servants and of all the Egyptians; such a sight your fathers or grandfathers have not seen from the day they first settled on this soil up to the present day." With that he turned and left Pharaoh.

Exo 10:7 But Pharaoh's servants said to him, "How long must he be a menace to us? Let the men go to worship the LORD, their God. Do you not yet realize that Egypt is being destroyed?"

Exo 10:8 So Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh, who said to them, "You may go and worship the LORD, your God. But how many of you will go?"

Exo 10:9 "Young and old must go with us," Moses answered, "our sons and daughters as well as our flocks and herds must accompany us. That is what a feast of the LORD means to us."

Exo 10:10 "The LORD help you," Pharaoh replied, "if I ever let your little ones go with you! Clearly, you have some evil in mind.

Exo 10:11 No, no! Just you men can go and worship the LORD. After all, that is what you want." With that they were driven from Pharaoh's presence.

Exo 10:12 The LORD then said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt, that locusts may swarm over it and eat up all the vegetation and whatever the hail has left."

Exo 10:13 So Moses stretched out his staff over the land of Egypt, and the LORD sent an east wind blowing over the land all that day and all that night. At dawn the east wind brought the locusts.

Exo 10:14 They swarmed over the whole land of Egypt and settled down on every part of it. Never before had there been such a fierce swarm of locusts, nor will there ever be.

Exo 10:15 They covered the surface of the whole land, till it was black with them. They ate up all the vegetation in the land and the fruit of whatever trees the hail had spared. Nothing green was left on any tree or plant throughout the land of Egypt.

Exo 10:16 Hastily Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "I have sinned against the LORD, your God, and against you.

Exo 10:17 But now, do forgive me my sin once more, and pray the LORD, your God, to take at least this deadly pest from me."

Exo 10:18 When Moses left the presence of Pharaoh, he prayed to the LORD,

Exo 10:19 and the LORD changed the wind to a very strong west wind, which took up the locusts and hurled them into the Red Sea. But though not a single locust remained within the confines of Egypt,

Exo 10:20 the LORD made Pharaoh obstinate, and he would not let the Israelites go.

Exo 10:21 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the sky, that over the land of Egypt there may be such intense darkness that one can feel it."

Exo 10:22 So Moses stretched out his hand toward the sky, and there was dense darkness throughout the land of Egypt for three days.

Exo 10:23 Men could not see one another, nor could they move from where they were, for three days. But all the Israelites had light where they dwelt.

Exo 10:24 Pharaoh then summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Go and worship the LORD. Your little ones, too, may go with you. But your flocks and herds must remain."

Exo 10:25 Moses replied, "You must also grant us sacrifices and holocausts to offer up to the LORD, our God.

Exo 10:26 Hence, our livestock also must go with us. Not an animal must be left behind. Some of them we must sacrifice to the LORD, our God, but we ourselves shall not know which ones we must sacrifice to him until we arrive at the place itself."

Exo 10:27 But the LORD made Pharaoh obstinate, and he would not let them go.

Exo 10:28 "Leave my presence," Pharaoh said to him, "and see to it that you do not appear before me again! The day you appear before me you shall die!"

Exo 10:29 Moses replied, "Well said! I will never appear before you again."

Exo 11:1 Then the LORD told Moses, "One more plague will I bring upon Pharaoh and upon Egypt. After that he will let you depart. In fact, he will not merely let you go; he will drive you away.

Exo 11:2 Instruct your people that every man is to ask his neighbor, and every woman her neighbor, for silver and gold articles and for clothing."

Exo 11:3 The LORD indeed made the Egyptians well-disposed toward the people; Moses himself was very highly regarded by Pharaoh's servants and the people in the land of Egypt.

Exo 11:4 Moses then said, "Thus says the LORD: At midnight I will go forth through Egypt.

Exo 11:5 Every first-born in this land shall die, from the first-born of Pharaoh on the throne to the first-born of the slave-girl at the handmill, as well as all the first-born of the animals.

Exo 11:6 Then there shall be loud wailing throughout the land of Egypt, such as has never been, nor will ever be again.

Exo 11:7 But among the Israelites and their animals not even a dog shall growl, so that you may know how the LORD distinguishes between the Egyptians and the Israelites.

Exo 11:8 All these servants of yours shall then come down to me, and prostrate before me, they shall beg me, 'Leave us, you and all your followers!' Only then will I depart." With that he left Pharaoh's presence in hot anger.

Exo 11:9 The LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh refuses to listen to you that my wonders may be multiplied in the land of Egypt."

Exo 11:10 Thus, although Moses and Aaron performed these various wonders in Pharaoh's presence, the LORD made Pharaoh obstinate, and he would not let the Israelites leave his land.

Exo 12:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt,

Exo 12:2 "This month shall stand at the head of your calendar; you shall reckon it the first month of the year.

Exo 12:3 Tell the whole community of Israel: On the tenth of this month every one of your families must procure for itself a lamb, one apiece for each household.

Exo 12:4 If a family is too small for a whole lamb, it shall join the nearest household in procuring one and shall share in the lamb in proportion to the number of persons who partake of it.

Exo 12:5 The lamb must be a year-old male and without blemish. You may take it from either the sheep or the goats.

Exo 12:6 You shall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month, and then, with the whole assembly of Israel present, it shall be slaughtered during the evening twilight.

Exo 12:7 They shall take some of its blood and apply it to the two doorposts and the lintel of every house in which they partake of the lamb.

Exo 12:8 That same night they shall eat its roasted flesh with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

Exo 12:9 It shall not be eaten raw or boiled, but roasted whole, with its head and shanks and inner organs.

Exo 12:10 None of it must be kept beyond the next morning; whatever is left over in the morning shall be burned up.

Exo 12:11 "This is how you are to eat it: with your loins girt, sandals on your feet and your staff in hand, you shall eat like those who are in flight. It is the Passover of the LORD.

Exo 12:12 For on this same night I will go through Egypt, striking down every first-- born of the land, both man and beast, and executing judgment on all the gods of Egypt-- I, the LORD!

Exo 12:13 But the blood will mark the houses where you are. Seeing the blood, I will pass over you; thus, when I strike the land of Egypt, no destructive blow will come upon you.

Exo 12:14 "This day shall be a memorial feast for you, which all your generations shall celebrate with pilgrimage to the LORD, as a perpetual institution.

Exo 12:15 For seven days you must eat unleavened bread. From the very first day you shall have your houses clear of all leaven. Whoever eats leavened bread from the first day to the seventh shall be cut off from Israel.

Exo 12:16 On the first day you shall hold a sacred assembly, and likewise on the seventh. On these days you shall not do any sort of work, except to prepare the food that everyone needs.

Exo 12:17 "Keep, then, this custom of the unleavened bread. Since it was on this very day that I brought your ranks out of the land of Egypt, you must celebrate this day throughout your generations as a perpetual institution.

Exo 12:18 From the evening of the fourteenth day of the first month until the evening of the twenty-first day of this month you shall eat unleavened bread.

Exo 12:19 For seven days no leaven may be found in your houses. Anyone, be he a resident alien or a native, who eats leavened food shall be cut off from the community of Israel.

Exo 12:20 Nothing leavened may you eat; wherever you dwell you may eat only unleavened bread."

Exo 12:21 Moses called all the elders of Israel and said to them, "Go and procure lambs for your families, and slaughter them as Passover victims.

Exo 12:22 Then take a bunch of hyssop, and dipping it in the blood that is in the basin, sprinkle the lintel and the two doorposts with this blood. But none of you shall go outdoors until morning.

Exo 12:23 For the LORD will go by, striking down the Egyptians. Seeing the blood on the lintel and the two doorposts, the LORD will pass over that door and not let the destroyer come into your houses to strike you down.

Exo 12:24 "You shall observe this as a perpetual ordinance for yourselves and your descendants.

Exo 12:25 Thus, you must also observe this rite when you have entered the land which the LORD will give you as he promised.

Exo 12:26 When your children ask you, 'What does this rite of yours mean?'

Exo 12:27 you shall reply, 'This is the Passover sacrifice of the LORD, who passed over the houses of the Israelites in Egypt; when he struck down the Egyptians, he spared our houses.'" Then the people bowed down in worship,

Exo 12:28 and the Israelites went and did as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron.

Exo 12:29 At midnight the LORD slew every first-born in the land of Egypt, from the first-born of Pharaoh on the throne to the first-born of the prisoner in the dungeon, as well as all the first-born of the animals.

Exo 12:30 Pharaoh arose in the night, he and all his servants and all the Egyptians; and there was loud wailing throughout Egypt, for there was not a house without its dead.

Exo 12:31 During the night Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Leave my people at once, you and the Israelites with you! Go and worship the LORD as you said.

Exo 12:32 Take your flocks, too, and your herds, as you demanded, and be gone; and you will be doing me a favor."

Exo 12:33 The Egyptians likewise urged the people on, to hasten their departure from the land; they thought that otherwise they would all die.

Exo 12:34 The people, therefore, took their dough before it was leavened, in their kneading bowls wrapped in their cloaks on their shoulders.

Exo 12:35 The Israelites did as Moses had commanded: they asked the Egyptians for articles of silver and gold and for clothing.

Exo 12:36 The LORD indeed had made the Egyptians so well-disposed toward the people that they let them have whatever they asked for. Thus did they despoil the Egyptians.

Exo 12:37 The Israelites set out from Rameses for Succoth, about six hundred thousand men on foot, not counting the children.

Exo 12:38 A crowd of mixed ancestry also went up with them, besides their livestock, very numerous flocks and herds.

Exo 12:39 Since the dough they had brought out of Egypt was not leavened, they baked it into unleavened loaves. They had been rushed out of Egypt and had no opportunity even to prepare food for the journey.

Exo 12:40 The time the Israelites had stayed in Egypt was four hundred and thirty years.

Exo 12:41 At the end of four hundred and thirty years, all the hosts of the LORD left the land of Egypt on this very date.

Exo 12:42 This was a night of vigil for the LORD, as he led them out of the land of Egypt; so on this same night all the Israelites must keep a vigil for the LORD throughout their generations.

Exo 12:43 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "These are the regulations for the Passover. No foreigner may partake of it.

Exo 12:44 However, any slave who has been bought for money may partake of it, provided you have first circumcised him.

Exo 12:45 But no transient alien or hired servant may partake of it.

Exo 12:46 It must be eaten in one and the same house; you may not take any of its flesh outside the house. You shall not break any of its bones.

Exo 12:47 The whole community of Israel must keep this feast.

Exo 12:48 If any aliens living among you wish to celebrate the Passover of the LORD, all the males among them must first be circumcised, and then they may join in its observance just like the natives. But no man who is uncircumcised may partake of it.

Exo 12:49 The law shall be the same for the resident alien as for the native."

Exo 12:50 All the Israelites did just as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron.

Exo 12:51 On that same day the LORD brought the Israelites out of Egypt company by company.

Exo 13:1 The LORD spoke to Moses and said,

Exo 13:2 "Consecrate to me every first-born that opens the womb among the Israelites, both of man and beast, for it belongs to me."

Exo 13:3 Moses said to the people, "Remember this day on which you came out of Egypt, that place of slavery. It was with a strong hand that the LORD brought you away. Nothing made with leaven must be eaten.

Exo 13:4 This day of your departure is in the month of Abib.

Exo 13:5 Therefore, it is in this month that you must celebrate this rite, after the LORD, your God, has brought you into the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Hivites and Jebusites, which he swore to your fathers he would give you, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Exo 13:6 For seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and the seventh day shall also be a festival to the LORD.

Exo 13:7 Only unleavened bread may be eaten during the seven days; no leaven and nothing leavened may be found in all your territory.

Exo 13:8 On this day you shall explain to your son, 'This is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.'

Exo 13:9 It shall be as a sign on your hand and as a reminder on your forehead; thus the law of the LORD will ever be on your lips, because with a strong hand the LORD brought you out of Egypt.

Exo 13:10 Therefore, you shall keep this prescribed rite at its appointed time from year to year.

Exo 13:11 "When the LORD, your God, has brought you into the land of the Canaanites, which he swore to you and your fathers he would give you,

Exo 13:12 you shall dedicate to the LORD every son that opens the womb; and all the male firstlings of your animals shall belong to the LORD.

Exo 13:13 Every first-born of an ass you shall redeem with a sheep. If you do not redeem it, you shall break its neck. Every first-born son you must redeem.

Exo 13:14 If your son should ask you later on, 'What does this mean?' you shall tell him, 'With a strong hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt, that place of slavery.'

Exo 13:15 When Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the LORD killed every first-born in the land of Egypt, every first-born of man and of beast. That is why I sacrifice to the LORD everything of the male sex that opens the womb, and why I redeem every first-born of my sons.'

Exo 13:16 Let this, then, be as a sign on your hand and as a pendant on your forehead: with a strong hand the LORD brought us out of Egypt."

Exo 13:17 Now, when Pharaoh let the people go, God did not lead them by way of the Philistines' land, though this was the nearest; for he thought, should the people see that they would have to fight, they might change their minds and return to Egypt.

Exo 13:18 Instead, he rerouted them toward the Red Sea by way of the desert road. In battle array the Israelites marched out of Egypt.

Exo 13:19 Moses also took Joseph's bones along, for Joseph had made the Israelites swear solemnly that, when God should come to them, they would carry his bones away with them.

Exo 13:20 Setting out from Succoth, they camped at Etham near the edge of the desert.

Exo 13:21 The LORD preceded them, in the daytime by means of a column of cloud to show them the way, and at night by means of a column of fire to give them light. Thus they could travel both day and night.

Exo 13:22 Neither the column of cloud by day nor the column of fire by night ever left its place in front of the people.

Exo 14:1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

Exo 14:2 "Tell the Israelites to turn about and camp before Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea. You shall camp in front of Baal-zephon, just opposite, by the sea.

Exo 14:3 Pharaoh will then say, 'The Israelites are wandering about aimlessly in the land. The desert has closed in on them.'

Exo 14:4 Thus will I make Pharaoh so obstinate that he will pursue them. Then I will receive glory through Pharaoh and all his army, and the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD." This the Israelites did.

Exo 14:5 When it was reported to the king of Egypt that the people had fled, Pharaoh and his servants changed their minds about them. "What have we done!" they exclaimed. "Why, we have released Israel from our service!"

Exo 14:6 So Pharaoh made his chariots ready and mustered his soldiers--

Exo 14:7 six hundred first-class chariots and all the other chariots of Egypt, with warriors on them all.

Exo 14:8 So obstinate had the LORD made Pharaoh that he pursued the Israelites even while they were marching away in triumph.

Exo 14:9 The Egyptians, then, pursued them; Pharaoh's whole army, his horses, chariots and charioteers, caught up with them as they lay encamped by the sea, at Pi-hahiroth, in front of Baal-zephon.

Exo 14:10 Pharaoh was already near when the Israelites looked up and saw that the Egyptians were on the march in pursuit of them. In great fright they cried out to the LORD.

Exo 14:11 And they complained to Moses, "Were there no burial places in Egypt that you had to bring us out here to die in the desert? Why did you do this to us? Why did you bring us out of Egypt?"

Exo 14:12 Did we not tell you this in Egypt, when we said, 'Leave us alone. Let us serve the Egyptians'? Far better for us to be the slaves of the Egyptians than to die in the desert."

Exo 14:13 But Moses answered the people, "Fear not! Stand your ground, and you will see the victory the LORD will win for you today. These Egyptians whom you see today you will never see again.

Exo 14:14 The LORD himself will fight for you; you have only to keep still."

Exo 14:15 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Why are you crying out to me? Tell the Israelites to go forward.

Exo 14:16 And you, lift up your staff and, with hand outstretched over the sea, split the sea in two, that the Israelites may pass through it on dry land.

Exo 14:17 But I will make the Egyptians so obstinate that they will go in after them. Then I will receive glory through Pharaoh and all his army, his chariots and charioteers.

Exo 14:18 The Egyptians shall know that I am the LORD, when I receive glory through Pharaoh and his chariots and charioteers."

Exo 14:19 The angel of God, who had been leading Israel's camp, now moved and went around behind them. The column of cloud also, leaving the front, took up its place behind them,

Exo 14:20 so that it came between the camp of the Egyptians and that of Israel. But the cloud now became dark, and thus the night passed without the rival camps coming any closer together all night long.

Exo 14:21 Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the LORD swept the sea with a strong east wind throughout the night and so turned it into dry land. When the water was thus divided,

Exo 14:22 the Israelites marched into the midst of the sea on dry land, with the water like a wall to their right and to their left.

Exo 14:23 The Egyptians followed in pursuit; all Pharaoh's horses and chariots and charioteers went after them right into the midst of the sea.

Exo 14:24 In the night watch just before dawn the LORD cast through the column of the fiery cloud upon the Egyptian force a glance that threw it into a panic;

Exo 14:25 and he so clogged their chariot wheels that they could hardly drive. With that the Egyptians sounded the retreat before Israel, because the LORD was fighting for them against the Egyptians.

Exo 14:26 Then the LORD told Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea, that the water may flow back upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots and their charioteers."

Exo 14:27 So Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and at dawn the sea flowed back to its normal depth. The Egyptians were fleeing head on toward the sea, when the LORD hurled them into its midst.

Exo 14:28 As the water flowed back, it covered the chariots and the charioteers of Pharaoh's whole army which had followed the Israelites into the sea. Not a single one of them escaped.

Exo 14:29 But the Israelites had marched on dry land through the midst of the sea, with the water like a wall to their right and to their left.

Exo 14:30 Thus the LORD saved Israel on that day from the power of the Egyptians. When Israel saw the Egyptians lying dead on the seashore

Exo 14:31 and beheld the great power that the LORD had shown against the Egyptians, they feared the LORD and believed in him and in his servant Moses.

Exo 15:1 Then Moses and the Israelites sang this song to the LORD: I will sing to the LORD, for he is gloriously triumphant; horse and chariot he has cast into the sea.

Exo 15:2 My strength and my courage is the LORD, and he has been my savior. He is my God, I praise him; the God of my father, I extol him.

Exo 15:3 The LORD is a warrior, LORD is his name!

Exo 15:4 Pharaoh's chariots and army he hurled into the sea; the elite of his officers were submerged in the Red Sea.

Exo 15:5 The flood waters covered them, they sank into the depths like a stone.

Exo 15:6 Your right hand, O LORD, magnificent in power, your right hand, O LORD, has shattered the enemy.

Exo 15:7 In your great majesty you overthrew your adversaries; you loosed your wrath to consume them like stubble.

Exo 15:8 At a breath of your anger the waters piled up, the flowing waters stood like a mound, the flood waters congealed in the midst of the sea.

Exo 15:9 The enemy boasted, "I will pursue and overtake them; I will divide the spoils and have my fill of them; I will draw my sword; my hand shall despoil them!"

Exo 15:10 When your wind blew, the sea covered them; like lead they sank in the mighty waters.

Exo 15:11 Who is like to you among the gods, O LORD? Who is like to you, magnificent in holiness? O terrible in renown, worker of wonders, Exo 15:12 when you stretched out your right hand, the earth swallowed them!

Exo 15:13 In your mercy you led the people you redeemed; in your strength you guided them to your holy dwelling.

Exo 15:14 The nations heard and quaked; anguish gripped the dwellers in Philistia.

Exo 15:15 Then were the princes of Edom dismayed; trembling seized the chieftains of Moab; All the dwellers in Canaan melted away;

Exo 15:16 terror and dread fell upon them. By the might of your arm they were frozen like stone, while your people, O LORD, passed over, while the people you had made your own passed over.

Exo 15:17 And you brought them in and planted them on the mountain of your inheritance-- the place where you made your seat, O LORD, the sanctuary, O LORD, which your hands established.

Exo 15:18 The LORD shall reign forever and ever.

Exo 15:19 They sang thus because Pharaoh's horses and chariots and charioteers had gone into the sea, and the LORD made the waters of the sea flow back upon them, though the Israelites had marched on dry land through the midst of the sea.

Exo 15:20 The prophetess Miriam, Aaron's sister, took a tambourine in her hand, while all the women went out after her with tambourines, dancing;

Exo 15:21 and she led them in the refrain: Sing to the LORD, for he is gloriously triumphant; horse and chariot he has cast into the sea.

Exo 15:22 Then Moses led Israel forward from the Red Sea, and they marched out to the desert of Shur. After traveling for three days through the desert without finding water, Exo 15:23 they arrived at Marah, where they could not drink the water, because it was too bitter. Hence this place was called Marah.

Exo 15:24 As the people grumbled against Moses, saying, "What are we to drink?"

Exo 15:25 he appealed to the LORD, who pointed out to him a certain piece of wood. When he threw this into the water, the water became fresh. It was here that the LORD, in making rules and regulations for them, put them to the test.

Exo 15:26 "If you really listen to the voice of the LORD, your God," he told them, "and do what is right in his eyes: if you heed his commandments and keep all his precepts, I will not afflict you with any of the diseases with which I afflicted the Egyptians; for I, the LORD, am your healer."

Exo 15:27 Then they came to Elim, where there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, and they camped there near the water.

Exo 16:1 Having set out from Elim, the whole Israelite community came into the desert of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departure from the land of Egypt.

Exo 16:2 Here in the desert the whole Israelite community grumbled against Moses and Aaron.

Exo 16:3 The Israelites said to them, "Would that we had died at the LORD'S hand in the land of Egypt, as we sat by our fleshpots and ate our fill of bread! But you had to lead us into this desert to make the whole community die of famine!"

Exo 16:4 Then the LORD said to Moses, "I will now rain down bread from heaven for you. Each day the people are to go out and gather their daily portion; thus will I test them, to see whether they follow my instructions or not.

Exo 16:5 On the sixth day, however, when they prepare what they bring in, let it be twice as much as they gather on the other days."

Exo 16:6 So Moses and Aaron told all the Israelites, "At evening you will know that it was the LORD who brought you out of the land of Egypt;

Exo 16:7 and in the morning you will see the glory of the LORD, as he heeds your grumbling against him. But what are we that you should grumble against us?"

Exo 16:8 When the LORD gives you flesh to eat in the evening," continued Moses, "and in the morning your fill of bread, as he heeds the grumbling you utter against him, what then are we? Your grumbling is not against us, but against the LORD."

Exo 16:9 Then Moses said to Aaron, "Tell the whole Israelite community: Present yourselves before the LORD, for he has heard your grumbling."

Exo 16:10 When Aaron announced this to the whole Israelite community, they turned toward the desert, and lo, the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud!

Exo 16:11 The LORD spoke to Moses and said,

Exo 16:12 "I have heard the grumbling of the Israelites. Tell them: In the evening twilight you shall eat flesh, and in the morning you shall have your fill of bread, so that you may know that I, the LORD, am your God."

Exo 16:13 In the evening quail came up and covered the camp. In the morning a dew lay all about the camp,

Exo 16:14 and when the dew evaporated, there on the surface of the desert were fine flakes like hoarfrost on the ground.

Exo 16:15 On seeing it, the Israelites asked one another, "What is this?" for they did not know what it was. But Moses told them, "This is the bread which the LORD has given you to eat.

Exo 16:16 "Now, this is what the LORD has commanded. So gather it that everyone has enough to eat, an omer for each person, as many of you as there are, each man providing for those of his own tent."

Exo 16:17 The Israelites did so. Some gathered a large and some a small amount.

Exo 16:18 But when they measured it out by the omer, he who had gathered a large amount did not have too much, and he who had gathered a small amount did not have too little. They so gathered that everyone had enough to eat.

Exo 16:19 Moses also told them, "Let no one keep any of it over until tomorrow morning."

Exo 16:20 But they would not listen to him. When some kept a part of it over until the following morning, it became wormy and rotten. Therefore Moses was displeased with them.

Exo 16:21 Morning after morning they gathered it, till each had enough to eat; but when the sun grew hot, the manna melted away.

Exo 16:22 On the sixth day they gathered twice as much food, two omers for each person. When all the leaders of the community came and reported this to Moses,

Exo 16:23 he told them, "That is what the LORD prescribed. Tomorrow is a day of complete rest, the sabbath, sacred to the LORD. You may either bake or boil the manna, as you please; but whatever is left put away and keep for the morrow."

Exo 16:24 When they put it away for the morrow, as Moses commanded, it did not become rotten or wormy.

Exo 16:25 Moses then said, "Eat it today, for today is the sabbath of the LORD. On this day you will not find any of it on the ground.

Exo 16:26 On the other six days you can gather it, but on the seventh day, the sabbath, none of it will be there."

Exo 16:27 Still, on the seventh day some of the people went out to gather it, although they did not find any.

Exo 16:28 Then the LORD said to Moses, "How long will you refuse to keep my commandments and laws?"

Exo 16:29 Take note! The LORD has given you the sabbath. That is why on the sixth day he gives you food for two days. On the seventh day everyone is to stay home and no one is to go out."

Exo 16:30 After that the people rested on the seventh day.

Exo 16:31 The Israelites called this food manna. It was like coriander seed, but white, and it tasted like wafers made with honey.

Exo 16:32 Moses said, "This is what the LORD has commanded. Keep an omerful of manna for your descendants, that they may see what food I gave you to eat in the desert when I brought you out of the land of Egypt."

Exo 16:33 Moses then told Aaron, "Take an urn and put an omer of manna in it. Then place it before the LORD in safekeeping for your descendants."

Exo 16:34 So Aaron placed it in front of the commandments for safekeeping, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 16:35 The Israelites ate this manna for forty years, until they came to settled land; they ate manna until they reached the borders of Canaan.

Exo 16:36 (An omer is one tenth of an ephah.)

Exo 17:1 From the desert of Sin the whole Israelite community journeyed by stages, as the LORD directed, and encamped at Rephidim. Here there was no water for the people to drink.

Exo 17:2 They quarreled, therefore, with Moses and said, "Give us water to drink." Moses replied, "Why do you quarrel with me? Why do you put the LORD to a test?"

Exo 17:3 Here, then, in their thirst for water, the people grumbled against Moses, saying, "Why did you ever make us leave Egypt? Was it just to have us die here of thirst with our children and our livestock?"

Exo 17:4 So Moses cried out to the LORD, "What shall I do with this people? A little more and they will stone me!"

Exo 17:5 The LORD answered Moses, "Go over there in front of the people, along with some of the elders of Israel, holding in your hand, as you go, the staff with which you struck the river.

Exo 17:6 I will be standing there in front of you on the rock in Horeb. Strike the rock, and the water will flow from it for the people to drink." This Moses did, in the presence of the elders of Israel.

Exo 17:7 The place was called Massah and Meribah, because the Israelites quarreled there and tested the LORD, saying, "Is the LORD in our midst or not?"

Exo 17:8 At Rephidim, Amalek came and waged war against Israel.

Exo 17:9 Moses, therefore, said to Joshua, "Pick out certain men, and tomorrow go out and engage Amalek in battle. I will be standing on top of the hill with the staff of God in my hand."

Exo 17:10 So Joshua did as Moses told him: he engaged Amalek in battle after Moses had climbed to the top of the hill with Aaron and Hur.

Exo 17:11 As long as Moses kept his hands raised up, Israel had the better of the fight, but when he let his hands rest, Amalek had the better of the fight.

Exo 17:12 Moses' hands, however, grew tired; so they put a rock in place for him to sit on. Meanwhile Aaron and Hur supported his hands, one on one side and one on the other, so that his hands remained steady till sunset.

Exo 17:13 And Joshua mowed down Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

Exo 17:14 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Write this down in a document as something to be remembered, and recite it in the ears of Joshua: I will completely blot out the memory of Amalek from under the heavens."

Exo 17:15 Moses also built an altar there, which he called Yahweh-nissi;

Exo 17:16 for he said, "The LORD takes in hand his banner; the LORD will war against Amalek through the centuries."

Exo 18:1 Now Moses' father-in-law Jethro, the priest of Midian, heard of all that God had done for Moses and for his people Israel: how the LORD had brought Israel out of Egypt.

Exo 18:2 So his father-in-law Jethro took along Zipporah, Moses' wife, whom Moses had sent back to him,

Exo 18:3 and her two sons. One of these was called Gershom; for he said, "I am a stranger in a foreign land."

Exo 18:4 The other was called Eliezer; for he said, "My father's God is my helper; he has rescued me from Pharaoh's sword."

Exo 18:5 Together with Moses' wife and sons, then, his father-in-law Jethro came to him in the desert where he was encamped near the mountain of God,

Exo 18:6 and he sent word to Moses, "I, Jethro, your father-in-law, am coming to you, along with your wife and her two sons."

Exo 18:7 Moses went out to meet his father-in-law, bowed down before him, and kissed him. Having greeted each other, they went into the tent.

Exo 18:8 Moses then told his father-in-law of all that the LORD had done to Pharaoh and the Egyptians for the sake of Israel, and of all the hardships they had had to endure on their journey, and how the LORD had come to their rescue.

Exo 18:9 Jethro rejoiced over all the goodness that the LORD had shown Israel in rescuing them from the hands of the Egyptians.

Exo 18:10 "Blessed be the LORD," he said, "who has rescued his people from the hands of Pharaoh and the Egyptians.

Exo 18:11 Now I know that the LORD is a deity great beyond any other; for he took occasion of their being dealt with insolently to deliver the people from the power of the Egyptians."

Exo 18:12 Then Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, brought a holocaust and other sacrifices to God, and Aaron came with all the elders of Israel to participate with Moses' father-in-law in the meal before God.

Exo 18:13 The next day Moses sat in judgment for the people, who waited about him from morning until evening.

Exo 18:14 When his father-in-law saw all that he was doing for the people, he inquired, "What sort of thing is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you sit alone while all the people have to stand about you from morning till evening?"

Exo 18:15 Moses answered his father-in-law, "The people come to me to consult God.

Exo 18:16 Whenever they have a disagreement, they come to me to have me settle the matter between them and make known to them God's decisions and regulations."

Exo 18:17 "You are not acting wisely," his father-in-law replied.

Exo 18:18 "You will surely wear yourself out, and not only yourself but also these people with you. The task is too heavy for you; you cannot do it alone.

Exo 18:19 Now, listen to me, and I will give you some advice, that God may be with you. Act as the people's representative before God, bringing to him whatever they have to say.

Exo 18:20 Enlighten them in regard to the decisions and regulations, showing them how they are to live and what they are to do.

Exo 18:21 But you should also look among all the people for able and God-fearing men, trustworthy men who hate dishonest gain, and set them as officers over groups of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens.

Exo 18:22 Let these men render decisions for the people in all ordinary cases. More important cases they should refer to you, but all the lesser cases they can settle themselves. Thus, your burden will be lightened, since they will bear it with you.

Exo 18:23 If you do this, when God gives you orders you will be able to stand the strain, and all these people will go home satisfied."

Exo 18:24 Moses followed the advice of his father-in-law and did all that he had suggested.

Exo 18:25 He picked out able men from all Israel and put them in charge of the people as officers over groups of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties, and of tens.

Exo 18:26 They rendered decisions for the people in all ordinary cases. The more difficult cases they referred to Moses, but all the lesser cases they settled themselves.

Exo 18:27 Then Moses bade farewell to his father-in-law, who went off to his own country.

Exo 19:1 In the third month after their departure from the land of Egypt, on its first day, the Israelites came to the desert of Sinai.

Exo 19:2 After the journey from Rephidim to the desert of Sinai, they pitched camp. While Israel was encamped here in front of the mountain,

Exo 19:3 Moses went up the mountain to God. Then the LORD called to him and said, "Thus shall you say to the house of Jacob;

Exo 19:4 tell the Israelites: You have seen for yourselves how I treated the Egyptians and how I bore you up on eagle wings and brought you here to myself.

Exo 19:5 Therefore, if you hearken to my voice and keep my covenant, you shall be my special possession, dearer to me than all other people, though all the earth is mine.

Exo 19:6 You shall be to me a kingdom of priests, a holy nation. That is what you must tell the Israelites."

Exo 19:7 So Moses went and summoned the elders of the people. When he set before them all that the LORD had ordered him to tell them,

Exo 19:8 the people all answered together, "Everything the LORD has said, we will do." Then Moses brought back to the LORD the response of the people.

Exo 19:9 The LORD also told him, "I am coming to you in a dense cloud, so that when the people hear me speaking with you, they may always have faith in you also." When Moses, then, had reported to the LORD the response of the people,

Exo 19:10 the LORD added, "Go to the people and have them sanctify themselves today and tomorrow. Make them wash their garments

Exo 19:11 and be ready for the third day; for on the third day the LORD will come down on Mount Sinai before the eyes of all the people.

Exo 19:12 Set limits for the people all around the mountain, and tell them: Take care not to go up the mountain, or even to touch its base. If anyone touches the mountain, he must be put to death.

Exo 19:13 No hand shall touch him; he must be stoned to death or killed with arrows. Such a one, man or beast, must not be allowed to live. Only when the ram's horn resounds may they go up to the mountain."

Exo 19:14 Then Moses came down from the mountain to the people and had them sanctify themselves and wash their garments.

Exo 19:15 He warned them, "Be ready for the third day. Have no intercourse with any woman."

Exo 19:16 On the morning of the third day there were peals of thunder and lightning, and a heavy cloud over the mountain, and a very loud trumpet blast, so that all the people in the camp trembled.

Exo 19:17 But Moses led the people out of the camp to meet God, and they stationed themselves at the foot of the mountain.

Exo 19:18 Mount Sinai was all wrapped in smoke, for the LORD came down upon it in fire. The smoke rose from it as though from a furnace, and the whole mountain trembled violently.

Exo 19:19 The trumpet blast grew louder and louder, while Moses was speaking and God answering him with thunder.

Exo 19:20 When the LORD came down to the top of Mount Sinai, he summoned Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up to him.

Exo 19:21 Then the LORD told Moses, "Go down and warn the people not to break through toward the LORD in order to see him; otherwise many of them will be struck down.

Exo 19:22 The priests, too, who approach the LORD must sanctify themselves; else he will vent his anger upon them."

Exo 19:23 Moses said to the LORD, "The people cannot go up to Mount Sinai, for you yourself warned us to set limits around the mountain to make it sacred."

Exo 19:24 The LORD repeated, "Go down now! Then come up again along with Aaron. But the priests and the people must not break through to come up to the LORD; else he will vent his anger upon them."

Exo 19:25 So Moses went down to the people and told them this.

Exo 20:1 Then God delivered all these commandments:

Exo 20:2 "I, the LORD, am your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that place of slavery.

Exo 20:3 You shall not have other gods besides me.

Exo 20:4 You shall not carve idols for yourselves in the shape of anything in the sky above or on the earth below or in the waters beneath the earth;

Exo 20:5 you shall not bow down before them or worship them. For I, the LORD, your God, am a jealous God, inflicting punishment for their fathers' wickedness on the children of those who hate me, down to the third and fourth generation;

Exo 20:6 but bestowing mercy down to the thousandth generation, on the children of those who love me and keep my commandments.

Exo 20:7 "You shall not take the name of the LORD, your God, in vain. For the LORD will not leave unpunished him who takes his name in vain.

Exo 20:8 "Remember to keep holy the sabbath day.

Exo 20:9 Six days you may labor and do all your work,

Exo 20:10 but the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD, your God. No work may be done then either by you, or your son or daughter, or your male or female slave, or your beast, or by the alien who lives with you.

Exo 20:11 In six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all that is in them; but on the seventh day he rested. That is why the LORD has blessed the sabbath day and made it holy.

Exo 20:12 "Honor your father and your mother, that you may have a long life in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you.

Exo 20:13 "You shall not kill.

Exo 20:14 "You shall not commit adultery.

Exo 20:15 "You shall not steal.

Exo 20:16 "You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor.

Exo 20:17 "You shall not covet your neighbor's house. You shall not covet your neighbor's wife, nor his male or female slave, nor his ox or ass, nor anything else that belongs to him."

Exo 20:18 When the people witnessed the thunder and lightning, the trumpet blast and the mountain smoking, they all feared and trembled. So they took up a position much farther away

Exo 20:19 and said to Moses, "You speak to us, and we will listen; but let not God speak to us, or we shall die."

Exo 20:20 Moses answered the people, "Do not be afraid, for God has come to you only to test you and put his fear upon you, lest you should sin."

Exo 20:21 Still the people remained at a distance, while Moses approached the cloud where God was.

Exo 20:22 The LORD told Moses, "Thus shall you speak to the Israelites: You have seen for yourselves that I have spoken to you from heaven.

Exo 20:23 Do not make anything to rank with me; neither gods of silver nor gods of gold shall you make for yourselves.

Exo 20:24 "An altar of earth you shall make for me, and upon it you shall sacrifice your holocausts and peace offerings, your sheep and your oxen. In whatever place I choose for the remembrance of my name I will come to you and bless you.

Exo 20:25 If you make an altar of stone for me, do not build it of cut stone, for by putting a tool to it you desecrate it.

Exo 20:26 You shall not go up by steps to my altar, on which you must not be indecently uncovered.

Exo 21:1 "These are the rules you shall lay before them.

Exo 21:2 When you purchase a Hebrew slave, he is to serve you for six years, but in the seventh year he shall be given his freedom without cost.

Exo 21:3 If he comes into service alone, he shall leave alone; if he comes with a wife, his wife shall leave with him.

Exo 21:4 But if his master gives him a wife and she bears him sons or daughters, the woman and her children shall remain the master's property and the man shall leave alone.

Exo 21:5 If, however, the slave declares, 'I am devoted to my master and my wife and children; I will not go free,'

Exo 21:6 his master shall bring him to God and there, at the door or doorpost, he shall pierce his ear with an awl, thus keeping him as his slave forever.

Exo 21:7 "When a man sells his daughter as a slave, she shall not go free as male slaves do.

Exo 21:8 But if her master, who had destined her for himself, dislikes her, he shall let her be redeemed. He has no right to sell her to a foreigner, since he has broken faith with her.

Exo 21:9 If he destines her for his son, he shall treat her like a daughter.

Exo 21:10 If he takes another wife, he shall not withhold her food, her clothing, or her conjugal rights.
Exo 21:11 If he does not grant her these three things, she shall be given her freedom absolutely, without cost to her.
Exo 21:12 "Whoever strikes a man a mortal blow must be put to death.
Exo 21:13 He, however, who did not hunt a man down, but caused his death by an act of God, may flee to a place which I will set apart for this purpose.
Exo 21:14 But when a man kills another after maliciously scheming to do so, you must take him even from my altar and put him to death.
Exo 21:15 Whoever strikes his father or mother shall be put to death.
Exo 21:16 "A kidnaper, whether he sells his victim or still has him when caught, shall be put to death.
Exo 21:17 "Whoever curses his father or mother shall be put to death.
Exo 21:18 "When men quarrel and one strikes the other with a stone or with his fist, not mortally, but enough to put him in bed,
Exo 21:19 the one who struck the blow shall be acquitted, provided the other can get up and walk around with the help of his staff. Still, he must compensate him for his enforced idleness and provide for his complete cure.
Exo 21:20 "When a man strikes his male or female slave with a rod so hard that the slave dies under his hand, he shall be punished.
Exo 21:21 If, however, the slave survives for a day or two, he is not to be punished, since the slave is his own property.
Exo 21:22 "When men have a fight and hurt a pregnant woman, so that she suffers a miscarriage, but no further injury, the guilty one shall be fined as much as the woman's husband demands of him, and he shall pay in the presence of the judges.
Exo 21:23 But if injury ensues, you shall give life for life,
Exo 21:24 eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,
Exo 21:25 burn for burn, wound for wound, stripe for stripe.
Exo 21:26 "When a man strikes his male or female slave in the eye and destroys the use of the eye, he shall let the slave go free in compensation for the eye.
Exo 21:27 If he knocks out a tooth of his male or female slave, he shall let the slave go free in compensation for the tooth.
Exo 21:28 "When an ox gores a man or a woman to death, the ox must be stoned; its flesh may not be eaten. The owner of the ox, however, shall go unpunished.
Exo 21:29 But if an ox was previously in the habit of goring people and its owner, though warned, would not keep it in; should it then kill a man or a woman, not only must the ox be stoned, but its owner also must be put to death.
Exo 21:30 If, however, a fine is imposed on him, he must pay in ransom for his life whatever amount is imposed on him.
Exo 21:31 This law applies if it is a boy or a girl that the ox gores.
Exo 21:32 But if it is a male or a female slave that it gores, he must pay the owner of the slave thirty shekels of silver, and the ox must be stoned.
Exo 21:33 "When a man uncovers or digs a cistern and does not cover it over again, should an ox or an ass fall into it,
Exo 21:34 the owner of the cistern must make good by restoring the value of the animal to its owner; the dead animal, however, he may keep.
Exo 21:35 "When one man's ox hurts another's ox so badly that it dies, they shall sell the live ox and divide this money as well as the dead animal equally between them.
Exo 21:36 But if it was known that the ox was previously in the habit of goring and its owner would not keep it in, he must make full restitution, an ox for an ox; but the dead animal he may keep.
Exo 21:37 "When a man steals an ox or a sheep and slaughters or sells it, he shall restore five oxen for the one ox, and four sheep for the one sheep.
Exo 22:1 "(If a thief is caught in the act of housebreaking and beaten to death, there is no bloodguilt involved.
Exo 22:2 But if after sunrise he is thus beaten, there is bloodguilt.) He must make full restitution. If he has nothing, he shall be sold to pay for his theft.
Exo 22:3 If what he stole is found alive in his possession, be it an ox, an ass or a sheep, he shall restore two animals for each one stolen.
Exo 22:4 "When a man is burning over a field or a vineyard, if he lets the fire spread so that it burns in another's field, he must make restitution with the best produce of his own field or vineyard.
Exo 22:5 If the fire spreads further, and catches on to thorn bushes, so that shocked grain or standing grain or the field itself is burned up, the one who started the fire must make full restitution.
Exo 22:6 "When a man gives money or an article to another for safekeeping and it is stolen from the latter's house, the thief, if caught, must make twofold restitution.

Exo 22:7 If the thief is not caught, the owner of the house shall be brought to God, to swear that he himself did not lay hands on his neighbor's property.

Exo 22:8 In every question of dishonest appropriation, whether it be about an ox, or an ass, or a sheep, or a garment, or anything else that has disappeared, where another claims that the thing is his, both parties shall present their case before God; the one whom God convicts must make twofold restitution to the other.

Exo 22:9 "When a man gives an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any other animal to another for safekeeping, if it dies, or is maimed or snatched away, without anyone witnessing the fact,

Exo 22:10 the custodian shall swear by the LORD that he did not lay hands on his neighbor's property; the owner must accept the oath, and no restitution is to be made.

Exo 22:11 But if the custodian is really guilty of theft, he must make restitution to the owner.

Exo 22:12 If it has been killed by a wild beast, let him bring it as evidence, and he need not make restitution for the mangled animal.

Exo 22:13 "When a man borrows an animal from his neighbor, if it is maimed or dies while the owner is not present, the man must make restitution.

Exo 22:14 But if the owner is present, he need not make restitution. If it was hired, this was covered by the price of its hire.

Exo 22:15 "When a man seduces a virgin who is not betrothed, and lies with her, he shall pay her marriage price and marry her.

Exo 22:16 If her father refuses to give her to him, he must still pay him the customary marriage price for virgins.

Exo 22:17 "You shall not let a sorceress live.

Exo 22:18 "Anyone who lies with an animal shall be put to death.

Exo 22:19 "Whoever sacrifices to any god, except to the LORD alone, shall be doomed.

Exo 22:20 "You shall not molest or oppress an alien, for you were once aliens yourselves in the land of Egypt.

Exo 22:21 You shall not wrong any widow or orphan.

Exo 22:22 If ever you wrong them and they cry out to me, I will surely hear their cry.

Exo 22:23 My wrath will flare up, and I will kill you with the sword; then your own wives will be widows, and your children orphans.

Exo 22:24 "If you lend money to one of your poor neighbors among my people, you shall not act like an extortioner toward him by demanding interest from him.

Exo 22:25 If you take your neighbor's cloak as a pledge, you shall return it to him before sunset;

Exo 22:26 for this cloak of his is the only covering he has for his body. What else has he to sleep in? If he cries out to me, I will hear him; for I am compassionate.

Exo 22:27 "You shall not revile God, nor curse a prince of your people.

Exo 22:28 "You shall not delay the offering of your harvest and your press. You shall give me the first-born of your sons.

Exo 22:29 You must do the same with your oxen and your sheep; for seven days the firstling may stay with its mother, but on the eighth day you must give it to me.

Exo 22:30 "You shall be men sacred to me. Flesh torn to pieces in the field you shall not eat; throw it to the dogs.

Exo 23:1 "You shall not repeat a false report. Do not join the wicked in putting your hand, as an unjust witness, upon anyone.

Exo 23:2 Neither shall you allege the example of the many as an excuse for doing wrong, nor shall you, when testifying in a lawsuit, side with the many in perverting justice.

Exo 23:3 You shall not favor a poor man in his lawsuit.

Exo 23:4 "When you come upon your enemy's ox or ass going astray, see to it that it is returned to him.

Exo 23:5 When you notice the ass of one who hates you lying prostrate under its burden, by no means desert him; help him, rather, to raise it up.

Exo 23:6 "You shall not deny one of your needy fellow men his rights in his lawsuit.

Exo 23:7 You shall keep away from anything dishonest. The innocent and the just you shall not put to death, nor shall you acquit the guilty.

Exo 23:8 Never take a bribe, for a bribe blinds even the most clear-sighted and twists the words even of the just.

Exo 23:9 You shall not oppress an alien; you well know how it feels to be an alien, since you were once aliens yourselves in the land of Egypt.

Exo 23:10 "For six years you may sow your land and gather in its produce.

Exo 23:11 But the seventh year you shall let the land lie untilled and unharvested, that the poor among you may eat of it and the beasts of the field may eat what the poor leave. So also shall you do in regard to your vineyard and your olive grove.

Exo 23:12 "For six days you may do your work, but on the seventh day you must rest, that your ox and your ass may also have rest, and that the son of your maidservant and the alien may be refreshed.

Exo 23:13 Give heed to all that I have told you. "Never mention the name of any other god; it shall not be heard from your lips.

Exo 23:14 "Three times a year you shall celebrate a pilgrim feast to me.

Exo 23:15 You shall keep the feast of Unleavened Bread. As I have commanded you, you must eat unleavened bread for seven days at the prescribed time in the month of Abib, for it was then that you came out of Egypt. No one shall appear before me empty-handed.

Exo 23:16 You shall also keep the feast of the grain harvest with the first of the crop that you have sown in the field; and finally, the feast at the fruit harvest at the end of the year, when you gather in the produce from the fields.

Exo 23:17 Thrice a year shall all your men appear before the Lord GOD.

Exo 23:18 "You shall not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; nor shall the fat of my feast be kept overnight till the next day.

Exo 23:19 The choicest first fruits of your soil you shall bring to the house of the LORD, your God. "You shall not boil a kid in its mother's milk.

Exo 23:20 "See, I am sending an angel before you, to guard you on the way and bring you to the place I have prepared.

Exo 23:21 Be attentive to him and heed his voice. Do not rebel against him, for he will not forgive your sin. My authority resides in him.

Exo 23:22 If you heed his voice and carry out all I tell you, I will be an enemy to your enemies and a foe to your foes.

Exo 23:23 "My angel will go before you and bring you to the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hivites and Jebusites; and I will wipe them out.

Exo 23:24 Therefore, you shall not bow down in worship before their gods, nor shall you make anything like them; rather, you must demolish them and smash their sacred pillars.

Exo 23:25 The LORD, your God, you shall worship; then I will bless your food and drink, and I will remove all sickness from your midst;

Exo 23:26 no woman in your land will be barren or miscarry; and I will give you a full span of life.

Exo 23:27 "I will have the fear of me precede you, so that I will throw into panic every nation you reach. I will make all your enemies turn from you in flight,

Exo 23:28 and ahead of you I will send hornets to drive the Hivites, Canaanites and Hittites out of your way.

Exo 23:29 But not in one year will I drive them all out before you; else the land will become so desolate that the wild beasts will multiply against you.

Exo 23:30 Instead, I will drive them out little by little before you, until you have grown numerous enough to take possession of the land.

Exo 23:31 I will set your boundaries from the Red Sea to the sea of the Philistines, and from the desert to the River; all who dwell in this land I will hand over to you to be driven out of your way.

Exo 23:32 You shall not make a covenant with them or their gods.

Exo 23:33 They must not abide in your land, lest they make you sin against me by ensnaring you into worshipping their gods."

Exo 24:1 Moses himself was told, "Come up to the LORD, you and Aaron, with Nadab, Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel. You shall all worship at some distance, Exo 24:2 but Moses alone is to come close to the LORD; the others shall not come too near, and the people shall not come up at all with Moses."

Exo 24:3 When Moses came to the people and related all the words and ordinances of the LORD, they all answered with one voice, "We will do everything that the LORD has told us."

Exo 24:4 Moses then wrote down all the words of the LORD and, rising early the next day, he erected at the foot of the mountain an altar and twelve pillars for the twelve tribes of Israel.

Exo 24:5 Then, having sent certain young men of the Israelites to offer holocausts and sacrifice young bulls as peace offerings to the LORD,

Exo 24:6 Moses took half of the blood and put it in large bowls; the other half he splashed on the altar.

Exo 24:7 Taking the book of the covenant, he read it aloud to the people, who answered, "All that the LORD has said, we will heed and do."

Exo 24:8 Then he took the blood and sprinkled it on the people, saying, "This is the blood of the covenant which the LORD has made with you in accordance with all these words of his."

Exo 24:9 Moses then went up with Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and seventy elders of Israel,

Exo 24:10 and they beheld the God of Israel. Under his feet there appeared to be sapphire tilework, as clear as the sky itself.

Exo 24:11 Yet he did not smite these chosen Israelites. After gazing on God, they could still eat and drink.

Exo 24:12 The LORD said to Moses, "Come up to me on the mountain and, while you are there, I will give you the stone tablets on which I have written the commandments intended for their instruction."

Exo 24:13 So Moses set out with Joshua, his aide, and went up to the mountain of God.

Exo 24:14 The elders, however, had been told by him, "Wait here for us until we return to you. Aaron and Hur are staying with you. If anyone has a complaint, let him refer the matter to them."

Exo 24:15 After Moses had gone up, a cloud covered the mountain.

Exo 24:16 The glory of the LORD settled upon Mount Sinai. The cloud covered it for six days, and on the seventh day he called to Moses from the midst of the cloud.

Exo 24:17 To the Israelites the glory of the LORD was seen as a consuming fire on the mountaintop.

Exo 24:18 But Moses passed into the midst of the cloud as he went up on the mountain; and there he stayed for forty days and forty nights.

Exo 25:1 This is what the LORD then said to Moses:

Exo 25:2 "Tell the Israelites to take up a collection for me. From every man you shall accept the contribution that his heart prompts him to give me.

Exo 25:3 These are the contributions you shall accept from them: gold, silver and bronze;

Exo 25:4 violet, purple and scarlet yarn; fine linen and goat hair;

Exo 25:5 rams' skins dyed red, and tahash skins; acacia wood;

Exo 25:6 oil for the light; spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense;

Exo 25:7 onyx stones and other gems for mounting on the ephod and the breastpiece.

Exo 25:8 "They shall make a sanctuary for me, that I may dwell in their midst.

Exo 25:9 This Dwelling and all its furnishings you shall make exactly according to the pattern that I will now show you.

Exo 25:10 "You shall make an ark of acacia wood, two and a half cubits long, one and a half cubits wide, and one and a half cubits high.

Exo 25:11 Plate it inside and outside with pure gold, and put a molding of gold around the top of it.

Exo 25:12 Cast four gold rings and fasten them on the four supports of the ark, two rings on one side and two on the opposite side.

Exo 25:13 Then make poles of acacia wood and plate them with gold.

Exo 25:14 These poles you are to put through the rings on the sides of the ark, for carrying it;

Exo 25:15 they must remain in the rings of the ark and never be withdrawn.

Exo 25:16 In the ark you are to put the commandments which I will give you.

Exo 25:17 "You shall then make a propitiatory of pure gold, two cubits and a half long, and one and a half cubits wide.

Exo 25:18 Make two cherubim of beaten gold for the two ends of the propitiatory, Exo 25:19 fastening them so that one cherub springs direct from each end.

Exo 25:20 The cherubim shall have their wings spread out above, covering the propitiatory with them; they shall be turned toward each other, but with their faces looking toward the propitiatory.

Exo 25:21 This propitiatory you shall then place on top of the ark. In the ark itself you are to put the commandments which I will give you.

Exo 25:22 There I will meet you and there, from above the propitiatory, between the two cherubim on the ark of the commandments, I will tell you all the commands that I wish you to give the Israelites.

Exo 25:23 "You shall also make a table of acacia wood, two cubits long, a cubit wide, and a cubit and a half high.

Exo 25:24 Plate it with pure gold and make a molding of gold around it.

Exo 25:25 Surround it with a frame, a handbreadth high, with a molding of gold around the frame.

Exo 25:26 You shall also make four rings of gold for it and fasten them at the four corners, one at each leg,

Exo 25:27 on two opposite sides of the frame as holders for the poles to carry the table.

Exo 25:28 These poles for carrying the table you shall make of acacia wood and plate with gold.

Exo 25:29 Of pure gold you shall make its plates and cups, as well as its pitchers and bowls for pouring libations.

Exo 25:30 On the table you shall always keep showbread set before me.

Exo 25:31 "You shall make a lampstand of pure beaten gold-- its shaft and branches-- with its cups and knobs and petals springing directly from it.

Exo 25:32 Six branches are to extend from the sides of the lampstand, three branches on one side, and three on the other.

Exo 25:33 On one branch there are to be three cups, shaped like almond blossoms, each with its knob and petals; on the opposite branch there are to be three cups, shaped like almond blossoms, each with its knob and petals; and so for the six branches that extend from the lampstand.

Exo 25:34 On the shaft there are to be four cups, shaped like almond blossoms, with their knobs and petals,

Exo 25:35 including a knob below each of the three pairs of branches that extend from the lampstand.
Exo 25:36 Their knobs and branches shall so spring from it that the whole will form but a single piece of pure beaten gold.
Exo 25:37 You shall then make seven lamps for it and so set up the lamps that they shed their light on the space in front of the lampstand.
Exo 25:38 These, as well as the trimming shears and trays, must be of pure gold.
Exo 25:39 Use a talent of pure gold for the lampstand and all its appurtenances.
Exo 25:40 See that you make them according to the pattern shown you on the mountain.
Exo 26:1 "The Dwelling itself you shall make out of sheets woven of fine linen twined and of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, with cherubim embroidered on them.
Exo 26:2 The length of each shall be twenty-eight cubits, and the width four cubits; all the sheets shall be of the same size.
Exo 26:3 Five of the sheets are to be sewed together, edge to edge; and the same for the other five.
Exo 26:4 Make loops of violet yarn along the edge of the end sheet in one set, and the same along the edge of the end sheet in the other set.
Exo 26:5 There are to be fifty loops along the edge of the end sheet in the first set, and fifty loops along the edge of the corresponding sheet in the second set, and so placed that the loops are directly opposite each other.
Exo 26:6 Then make fifty clasps of gold, with which to join the two sets of sheets, so that the Dwelling forms one whole.
Exo 26:7 "Also make sheets woven of goat hair, to be used as a tent covering over the Dwelling.
Exo 26:8 Eleven such sheets are to be made; the length of each shall be thirty cubits, and the width four cubits: all eleven sheets shall be of the same size.
Exo 26:9 Sew five of the sheets, edge to edge, into one set, and the other six sheets into another set. Use the sixth sheet double at the front of the tent.
Exo 26:10 Make fifty loops along the edge of the end sheet in one set, and fifty loops along the edge of the end sheet in the second set.
Exo 26:11 Also make fifty bronze clasps and put them into the loops, to join the tent into one whole.
Exo 26:12 There will be an extra half sheet of tent covering, which shall be allowed to hang down over the rear of the Dwelling.
Exo 26:13 Likewise, the sheets of the tent will have an extra cubit's length to be left hanging down on either side of the Dwelling to protect it.
Exo 26:14 Over the tent itself you shall make a covering of rams' skins dyed red, and above that, a covering of tahash skins.
Exo 26:15 "You shall make boards of acacia wood as walls for the Dwelling.
Exo 26:16 The length of each board is to be ten cubits, and its width one and a half cubits.
Exo 26:17 Each board shall have two arms that shall serve to fasten the boards in line. In this way all the boards of the Dwelling are to be made.
Exo 26:18 Set up the boards of the Dwelling as follows: twenty boards on the south side,
Exo 26:19 with forty silver pedestals under the twenty boards, so that there are two pedestals under each board, at its two arms;
Exo 26:20 twenty boards on the other side of the Dwelling, the north side,
Exo 26:21 with their forty silver pedestals, two under each board;
Exo 26:22 six boards for the rear of the Dwelling, to the west;
Exo 26:23 and two boards for the corners at the rear of the Dwelling.
Exo 26:24 These two shall be double at the bottom, and likewise double at the top, to the first ring. That is how both boards in the corners are to be made.
Exo 26:25 Thus, there shall be in the rear eight boards, with their sixteen silver pedestals, two pedestals under each board.
Exo 26:26 Also make bars of acacia wood: five for the boards on one side of the Dwelling,
Exo 26:27 five for those on the other side, and five for those at the rear, toward the west.
Exo 26:28 The center bar, at the middle of the boards, shall reach across from end to end.
Exo 26:29 Plate the boards with gold, and make gold rings on them as holders for the bars, which are also to be plated with gold.
Exo 26:30 You shall erect the Dwelling according to the pattern shown you on the mountain.
Exo 26:31 "You shall have a veil woven of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, and of fine linen twined, with cherubim embroidered on it.
Exo 26:32 It is to be hung on four gold-plated columns of acacia wood, which shall have hooks of gold and shall rest on four silver pedestals.
Exo 26:33 Hang the veil from clasps. The ark of the commandments you shall bring inside, behind this veil which divides the holy place from the holy of holies.

Exo 26:34 Set the propitiatory on the ark of the commandments in the holy of holies.

Exo 26:35 "Outside the veil you shall place the table and the lampstand, the latter on the south side of the Dwelling, opposite the table, which is to be put on the north side.

Exo 26:36 For the entrance of the tent make a variegated curtain of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and of fine linen twined.

Exo 26:37 Make five columns of acacia wood for this curtain; have them plated with gold, with their hooks of gold; and cast five bronze pedestals for them.

Exo 27:1 "You shall make an altar of acacia wood, on a square, five cubits long and five cubits wide; it shall be three cubits high.

Exo 27:2 At the four corners there are to be horns, so made that they spring directly from the altar. You shall then plate it with bronze.

Exo 27:3 Make pots for removing the ashes, as well as shovels, basins, forks and fire pans, all of which shall be of bronze.

Exo 27:4 Make a grating of bronze network for it; this to have four bronze rings, one at each of its four corners.

Exo 27:5 Put it down around the altar, on the ground. This network is to be half as high as the altar.

Exo 27:6 You shall also make poles of acacia wood for the altar, and plate them with bronze.

Exo 27:7 These poles are to be put through the rings, so that they are on either side of the altar when it is carried.

Exo 27:8 Make the altar itself in the form of a hollow box, just as it was shown you on the mountain.

Exo 27:9 "You shall also make a court for the Dwelling. On the south side the court shall have hangings a hundred cubits long, woven of fine linen twined, Exo 27:10 with twenty columns and twenty pedestals of bronze; the hooks and bands on the columns shall be of silver.

Exo 27:11 On the north side there shall be similar hangings, a hundred cubits long, with twenty columns and twenty pedestals of bronze; the hooks and bands on the columns shall be of silver.

Exo 27:12 On the west side, across the width of the court, there shall be hangings, fifty cubits long, with ten columns and ten pedestals.

Exo 27:13 The width of the court on the east side shall be fifty cubits.

Exo 27:14 On one side there shall be hangings to the extent of fifteen cubits, with three columns and three pedestals;

Exo 27:15 on the other side there shall be hangings to the extent of fifteen cubits, with three columns and three pedestals.

Exo 27:16 "At the entrance of the court there shall be a variegated curtain, twenty cubits long, woven of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and of fine linen twined. It shall have four columns and four pedestals.

Exo 27:17 "All the columns around the court shall have bands and hooks of silver, and pedestals of bronze.

Exo 27:18 The enclosure of the court is to be one hundred cubits long, fifty cubits wide, and five cubits high. Fine linen twined must be used, and the pedestals must be of bronze.

Exo 27:19 All the fittings of the Dwelling, whatever be their use, as well as all its tent pegs and all the tent pegs of the court, must be of bronze.

Exo 27:20 "You shall order the Israelites to bring you clear oil of crushed olives, to be used for the light, so that you may keep lamps burning regularly.

Exo 27:21 From evening to morning Aaron and his sons shall maintain them before the LORD in the meeting tent, outside the veil which hangs in front of the commandments. This shall be a perpetual ordinance for the Israelites throughout their generations.

Exo 28:1 "From among the Israelites have your brother Aaron, together with his sons Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar, brought to you, that they may be my priests.

Exo 28:2 For the glorious adornment of your brother Aaron you shall have sacred vestments made.

Exo 28:3 Therefore, to the various expert workmen whom I have endowed with skill, you shall give instructions to make such vestments for Aaron as will set him apart for his sacred service as my priest.

Exo 28:4 These are the vestments they shall make: a breastpiece, an ephod, a robe, a brocaded tunic, a miter and a sash. In making these sacred vestments which your brother Aaron and his sons are to wear in serving as my priests,

Exo 28:5 they shall use gold, violet, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen.

Exo 28:6 "The ephod they shall make of gold thread and of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, embroidered on cloth of fine linen twined.

Exo 28:7 It shall have a pair of shoulder straps joined to its two upper ends.

Exo 28:8 The embroidered belt of the ephod shall extend out from it and, like it, be made of gold thread, of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, and of fine linen twined.

Exo 28:9 "Get two onyx stones and engrave on them the names of the sons of Israel:
Exo 28:10 six of their names on one stone, and the other six on the other stone, in the order of their birth.
Exo 28:11 As a gem-cutter engraves a seal, so shall you have the two stones engraved with the names of the sons of Israel and then mounted in gold filigree work.
Exo 28:12 Set these two stones on the shoulder straps of the ephod as memorial stones of the sons of Israel. Thus Aaron shall bear their names on his shoulders as a reminder before the LORD.
Exo 28:13 Make filigree rosettes of gold,
Exo 28:14 as well as two chains of pure gold, twisted like cords, and fasten the cordlike chains to the filigree rosettes.
Exo 28:15 "The breastpiece of decision you shall also have made, embroidered like the ephod with gold thread and violet, purple and scarlet yarn on cloth of fine linen twined.
Exo 28:16 It is to be square when folded double, a span high and a span wide.
Exo 28:17 On it you shall mount four rows of precious stones: in the first row, a carnelian, a topaz and an emerald;
Exo 28:18 in the second row, a garnet, a sapphire and a beryl;
Exo 28:19 in the third row, a jacinth, an agate and an amethyst;
Exo 28:20 in the fourth row, a chrysolite, an onyx and a jasper. These stones are to be mounted in gold filigree work,
Exo 28:21 twelve of them to match the names of the sons of Israel, each stone engraved like a seal with the name of one of the twelve tribes.
Exo 28:22 "When the chains of pure gold, twisted like cords, have been made for the breastpiece,
Exo 28:23 you shall then make two rings of gold for it and fasten them to the two upper ends of the breastpiece.
Exo 28:24 The gold cords are then to be fastened to the two rings at the upper ends of the breastpiece,
Exo 28:25 the other two ends of the cords being fastened in front to the two filigree rosettes which are attached to the shoulder straps of the ephod.
Exo 28:26 Make two other rings of gold and put them on the two lower ends of the breastpiece, on its edge that faces the ephod.
Exo 28:27 Then make two more rings of gold and fasten them to the bottom of the shoulder straps next to where they join the ephod in front, just above its embroidered belt.
Exo 28:28 Violet ribbons shall bind the rings of the breastpiece to the rings of the ephod, so that the breastpiece will stay right above the embroidered belt of the ephod and not swing loose from it.
Exo 28:29 "Whenever Aaron enters the sanctuary, he will thus bear the names of the sons of Israel on the breastpiece of decision over his heart as a constant reminder before the LORD.
Exo 28:30 In this breastpiece of decision you shall put the Urim and Thummim, that they may be over Aaron's heart whenever he enters the presence of the LORD. Thus he shall always bear the decisions for the Israelites over his heart in the LORD'S presence.
Exo 28:31 "The robe of the ephod you shall make entirely of violet material.
Exo 28:32 It shall have an opening for the head in the center, and around this opening there shall be a selvage, woven as at the opening of a shirt, to keep it from being torn.
Exo 28:33 All around the hem at the bottom you shall make pomegranates, woven of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen twined, with gold bells between them;
Exo 28:34 first a gold bell, then a pomegranate, and thus alternating all around the hem of the robe.
Exo 28:35 Aaron shall wear it when ministering, that its tinkling may be heard as he enters and leaves the LORD'S presence in the sanctuary; else he will die.
Exo 28:36 "You shall also make a plate of pure gold and engrave on it, as on a seal engraving, 'Sacred to the LORD.'
Exo 28:37 This plate is to be tied over the miter with a violet ribbon in such a way that it rests on the front of the miter,
Exo 28:38 over Aaron's forehead. Since Aaron bears whatever guilt the Israelites may incur in consecrating any of their sacred gifts, this plate must always be over his forehead, so that they may find favor with the LORD.
Exo 28:39 "The tunic of fine linen shall be brocaded. The miter shall be made of fine linen. The sash shall be of variegated work.
Exo 28:40 "Likewise, for the glorious adornment of Aaron's sons you shall have tunics and sashes and turbans made.
Exo 28:41 With these you shall clothe your brother Aaron and his sons. Anoint and ordain them, consecrating them as my priests.
Exo 28:42 You must also make linen drawers for them, to cover their naked flesh from their loins to their thighs.
Exo 28:43 Aaron and his sons shall wear them whenever they go into the meeting tent or approach the altar to minister in the sanctuary, lest they incur guilt and die. This shall be a perpetual ordinance for him and for his descendants.

Exo 29:1 "This is the rite you shall perform in consecrating them as my priests. Procure a young bull and two unblemished rams.

Exo 29:2 With fine wheat flour make unleavened cakes mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers spread with oil,

Exo 29:3 and put them in a basket. Take the basket of them along with the bullock and the two rams.

Exo 29:4 Aaron and his sons you shall also bring to the entrance of the meeting tent, and there wash them with water.

Exo 29:5 Take the vestments and clothe Aaron with the tunic, the robe of the ephod, the ephod itself, and the breastpiece, fastening the embroidered belt of the ephod around him.

Exo 29:6 Put the miter on his head, the sacred diadem on the miter.

Exo 29:7 Then take the anointing oil and anoint him with it, pouring it on his head.

Exo 29:8 Bring forward his sons also and clothe them with the tunics,

Exo 29:9 gird them with the sashes, and tie the turbans on them. Thus shall the priesthood be theirs by perpetual law, and thus shall you ordain Aaron and his sons.

Exo 29:10 "Now bring forward the bullock in front of the meeting tent. There Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on its head.

Exo 29:11 Then slaughter the bullock before the LORD, at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Exo 29:12 Take some of its blood and with your finger put it on the horns of the altar. All the rest of the blood you shall pour out at the base of the altar.

Exo 29:13 All the fat that covers its inner organs, as well as the lobe of its liver and its two kidneys, together with the fat that is on them, you shall take and burn on the altar.

Exo 29:14 But the flesh and hide and offal of the bullock you must burn up outside the camp, since this is a sin offering.

Exo 29:15 "Then take one of the rams, and after Aaron and his sons have laid their hands on its head, Exo 29:16 slaughter it. The blood you shall take and splash on all the sides of the altar.

Exo 29:17 Cut the ram into pieces; its inner organs and shanks you shall first wash, and then put them with the pieces and with the head.

Exo 29:18 The entire ram shall then be burned on the altar, since it is a holocaust, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Exo 29:19 "After this take the other ram, and when Aaron and his sons have laid their hands on its head,

Exo 29:20 slaughter it. Some of its blood you shall take and put on the tip of Aaron's right ear and on the tips of his sons' right ears and on the thumbs of their right hands and the great toes of their right feet. Splash the rest of the blood on all the sides of the altar.

Exo 29:21 Then take some of the blood that is on the altar, together with some of the anointing oil, and sprinkle this on Aaron and his vestments, as well as on his sons and their vestments, that his sons and their vestments may be sacred.

Exo 29:22 "Now, from this ram you shall take its fat: its fatty tail, the fat that covers its inner organs, the lobe of its liver, its two kidneys with the fat that is on them, and its right thigh, since this is the ordination ram;

Exo 29:23 then, out of the basket of unleavened food that you have set before the LORD, you shall take one of the loaves of bread, one of the cakes made with oil, and one of the wafers.

Exo 29:24 All these things you shall put into the hands of Aaron and his sons, so that they may wave them as a wave offering before the LORD.

Exo 29:25 After you have received them back from their hands, you shall burn them on top of the holocaust on the altar as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Exo 29:26 Finally, take the breast of Aaron's ordination ram and wave it as a wave offering before the LORD; this is to be your own portion.

Exo 29:27 "Thus shall you set aside the breast of whatever wave offering is waved, as well as the thigh of whatever raised offering is raised up, whether this be the ordination ram or anything else belonging to Aaron or to his sons.

Exo 29:28 Such things are due to Aaron and his sons from the Israelites by a perpetual ordinance as a contribution. From their peace offerings, too, the Israelites shall make a contribution, their contribution to the LORD.

Exo 29:29 "The sacred vestments of Aaron shall be passed down to his descendants, that in them they may be anointed and ordained.

Exo 29:30 The descendant who succeeds him as priest and who is to enter the meeting tent to minister in the sanctuary shall be clothed with them for seven days.

Exo 29:31 "You shall take the flesh of the ordination ram and boil it in a holy place.

Exo 29:32 At the entrance of the meeting tent Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram and the bread that is in the basket.

Exo 29:33 They themselves are to eat of these things by which atonement was made at their ordination and consecration; but no layman may eat of them, since they are sacred.

Exo 29:34 If some of the flesh of the ordination sacrifice or some of the bread remains over on the next day, this remnant must be burned up; it is not to be eaten, since it is sacred.

Exo 29:35 Carry out all these orders in regard to Aaron and his sons just as I have given them to you. "Seven days you shall spend in ordaining them,

Exo 29:36 sacrificing a bullock each day as a sin offering, to make atonement. Thus also shall you purge the altar in making atonement for it; you shall anoint it in order to consecrate it.

Exo 29:37 Seven days you shall spend in making atonement for the altar and in consecrating it. Then the altar will be most sacred, and whatever touches it will become sacred.

Exo 29:38 "Now, this is what you shall offer on the altar: two yearling lambs as the sacrifice established for each day;

Exo 29:39 one lamb in the morning and the other lamb at the evening twilight.

Exo 29:40 With the first lamb there shall be a tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a fourth of a hin of oil of crushed olives and, as its libation, a fourth of a hin of wine.

Exo 29:41 The other lamb you shall offer at the evening twilight, with the same cereal offering and libation as in the morning. You shall offer this as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Exo 29:42 Throughout your generations this established holocaust shall be offered before the LORD at the entrance of the meeting tent, where I will meet you and speak to you.

Exo 29:43 "There, at the altar, I will meet the Israelites; hence, it will be made sacred by my glory.

Exo 29:44 Thus I will consecrate the meeting tent and the altar, just as I also consecrate Aaron and his sons to be my priests.

Exo 29:45 I will dwell in the midst of the Israelites and will be their God.

Exo 29:46 They shall know that I, the LORD, am their God who brought them out of the land of Egypt, so that I, the LORD, their God, might dwell among them.

Exo 30:1 "For burning incense you shall make an altar of acacia wood,

Exo 30:2 with a square surface, a cubit long, a cubit wide, and two cubits high, with horns that spring directly from it.

Exo 30:3 Its grate on top, its walls on all four sides, and its horns you shall plate with pure gold. Put a gold molding around it.

Exo 30:4 Underneath the molding you shall put gold rings, two on one side and two on the opposite side, as holders for the poles used in carrying it.

Exo 30:5 Make the poles, too, of acacia wood and plate them with gold.

Exo 30:6 This altar you are to place in front of the veil that hangs before the ark of the commandments where I will meet you.

Exo 30:7 "On it Aaron shall burn fragrant incense. Morning after morning, when he prepares the lamps, Exo 30:8 and again in the evening twilight, when he lights the lamps, he shall burn incense. Throughout your generations this shall be the established incense offering before the LORD.

Exo 30:9 On this altar you shall not offer up any profane incense, or any holocaust or cereal offering; nor shall you pour out a libation upon it.

Exo 30:10 Once a year Aaron shall perform the atonement rite on its horns. Throughout your generations this atonement is to be made once a year with the blood of the atoning sin offering. This altar is most sacred to the LORD."

Exo 30:11 The LORD also said to Moses,

Exo 30:12 "When you take a census of the Israelites who are to be registered, each one, as he is enrolled, shall give the LORD a forfeit for his life, so that no plague may come upon them for being registered.

Exo 30:13 Everyone who enters the registered group must pay a half-shekel, according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel, twenty gerahs to the shekel. This payment of a half-shekel is a contribution to the LORD.

Exo 30:14 Everyone of twenty years or more who enters the registered group must give this contribution to the LORD.

Exo 30:15 The rich need not give more, nor shall the poor give less, than a half-shekel in this contribution to the LORD to pay the forfeit for their lives.

Exo 30:16 When you receive this forfeit money from the Israelites, you shall donate it to the service of the meeting tent, that there it may be the Israelites' reminder before the LORD, of the forfeit paid for their lives."

Exo 30:17 The LORD said to Moses,

Exo 30:18 "For ablutions you shall make a bronze laver with a bronze base. Place it between the meeting tent and the altar, and put water in it.

Exo 30:19 Aaron and his sons shall use it in washing their hands and feet.

Exo 30:20 When they are about to enter the meeting tent, they must wash with water, lest they die. Likewise when they approach the altar in their ministry, to offer an oblation to the LORD,

Exo 30:21 they must wash their hands and feet, lest they die. This shall be a perpetual ordinance for him and his descendants throughout their generations."
Exo 30:22 The LORD said to Moses,
Exo 30:23 "Take the finest spices: five hundred shekels of free-flowing myrrh; half that amount, that is, two hundred and fifty shekels, of fragrant cinnamon; two hundred and fifty shekels of fragrant cane;
Exo 30:24 five hundred shekels of cassia—all according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel; together with a hin of olive oil;
Exo 30:25 and blend them into sacred anointing oil, perfumed ointment expertly prepared.
Exo 30:26 With this sacred anointing oil you shall anoint the meeting tent and the ark of the commandments,
Exo 30:27 the table and all its appurtenances, the lampstand and its appurtenances, the altar of incense
Exo 30:28 and the altar of holocausts with all its appurtenances, and the laver with its base.
Exo 30:29 When you have consecrated them, they shall be most sacred; whatever touches them shall be sacred.
Exo 30:30 Aaron and his sons you shall also anoint and consecrate as my priests.
Exo 30:31 To the Israelites you shall say: As sacred anointing oil this shall belong to me throughout your generations.
Exo 30:32 It may not be used in any ordinary anointing of the body, nor may you make any other oil of a like mixture. It is sacred, and shall be treated as sacred by you.
Exo 30:33 Whoever prepares a perfume like this, or whoever puts any of this on a layman, shall be cut off from his kinsmen."
Exo 30:34 The LORD told Moses, "Take these aromatic substances: storax and onycha and galbanum, these and pure frankincense in equal parts;
Exo 30:35 and blend them into incense. This fragrant powder, expertly prepared, is to be salted and so kept pure and sacred.
Exo 30:36 Grind some of it into fine dust and put this before the commandments in the meeting tent where I will meet you. This incense shall be treated as most sacred by you.
Exo 30:37 You may not make incense of a like mixture for yourselves; you must treat it as sacred to the LORD.
Exo 30:38 Whoever makes an incense like this for his own enjoyment of its fragrance, shall be cut off from his kinsmen."
Exo 31:1 The LORD said to Moses,
Exo 31:2 "See, I have chosen Bezalel, son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah,
Exo 31:3 and I have filled him with a divine spirit of skill and understanding and knowledge in every craft:
Exo 31:4 in the production of embroidery, in making things of gold, silver or bronze,
Exo 31:5 in cutting and mounting precious stones, in carving wood, and in every craft.
Exo 31:6 As his assistant I have appointed Oholiab, son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan. I have also endowed all the experts with the necessary skill to make all the things I have ordered you to make:
Exo 31:7 the meeting tent, the ark of the commandments with the propitiatory on top of it, all the furnishings of the tent,
Exo 31:8 the table with its appurtenances, the pure gold lampstand with all its appurtenances, the altar of incense,
Exo 31:9 the altar of holocausts with all its appurtenances, the laver with its base,
Exo 31:10 the service cloths, the sacred vestments for Aaron the priest, the vestments for his sons in their ministry,
Exo 31:11 the anointing oil, and the fragrant incense for the sanctuary. All these things they shall make just as I have commanded you."
Exo 31:12 The LORD said to Moses,
Exo 31:13 "You must also tell the Israelites: Take care to keep my sabbaths, for that is to be the token between you and me throughout the generations, to show that it is I, the LORD, who make you holy.
Exo 31:14 Therefore, you must keep the sabbath as something sacred. Whoever desecrates it shall be put to death. If anyone does work on that day, he must be rooted out of his people.
Exo 31:15 Six days there are for doing work, but the seventh day is the sabbath of complete rest, sacred to the LORD. Anyone who does work on the sabbath day shall be put to death.
Exo 31:16 So shall the Israelites observe the sabbath, keeping it throughout their generations as a perpetual covenant.
Exo 31:17 Between me and the Israelites it is to be an everlasting token; for in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, but on the seventh day he rested at his ease."
Exo 31:18 When the LORD had finished speaking to Moses on Mount Sinai, he gave him the two tablets of the commandments, the stone tablets inscribed by God's own finger.

Exo 32:1 When the people became aware of Moses' delay in coming down from the mountain, they gathered around Aaron and said to him, "Come, make us a god who will be our leader; as for the man Moses who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him."

Exo 32:2 Aaron replied, "Have your wives and sons and daughters take off the golden earrings they are wearing, and bring them to me."

Exo 32:3 So all the people took off their earrings and brought them to Aaron,

Exo 32:4 who accepted their offering, and fashioning this gold with a graving tool, made a molten calf. Then they cried out, "This is your God, O Israel, who brought you out of the land of Egypt."

Exo 32:5 On seeing this, Aaron built an altar before the calf and proclaimed, "Tomorrow is a feast of the LORD."

Exo 32:6 Early the next day the people offered holocausts and brought peace offerings. Then they sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to revel.

Exo 32:7 With that, the LORD said to Moses, "Go down at once to your people, whom you brought out of the land of Egypt, for they have become depraved.

Exo 32:8 They have soon turned aside from the way I pointed out to them, making for themselves a molten calf and worshiping it, sacrificing to it and crying out, 'This is your God, O Israel, who brought you out of the land of Egypt!'

Exo 32:9 I see how stiff-necked this people is," continued the LORD to Moses.

Exo 32:10 "Let me alone, then, that my wrath may blaze up against them to consume them. Then I will make of you a great nation."

Exo 32:11 But Moses implored the LORD, his God, saying, "Why, O LORD, should your wrath blaze up against your own people, whom you brought out of the land of Egypt with such great power and with so strong a hand?

Exo 32:12 Why should the Egyptians say, 'With evil intent he brought them out, that he might kill them in the mountains and exterminate them from the face of the earth'? Let your blazing wrath die down; relent in punishing your people.

Exo 32:13 Remember your servants Abraham, Isaac and Israel, and how you swore to them by your own self, saying, 'I will make your descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky; and all this land that I promised, I will give your descendants as their perpetual heritage.'"

Exo 32:14 So the LORD relented in the punishment he had threatened to inflict on his people.

Exo 32:15 Moses then turned and came down the mountain with the two tablets of the commandments in his hands, tablets that were written on both sides, front and back;

Exo 32:16 tablets that were made by God, having inscriptions on them that were engraved by God himself.

Exo 32:17 Now, when Joshua heard the noise of the people shouting, he said to Moses, "That sounds like a battle in the camp."

Exo 32:18 But Moses answered, "It does not sound like cries of victory, nor does it sound like cries of defeat; the sounds that I hear are cries of revelry."

Exo 32:19 As he drew near the camp, he saw the calf and the dancing. With that, Moses' wrath flared up, so that he threw the tablets down and broke them on the base of the mountain.

Exo 32:20 Taking the calf they had made, he fused it in the fire and then ground it down to powder, which he scattered on the water and made the Israelites drink.

Exo 32:21 Moses asked Aaron, "What did this people ever do to you that you should lead them into so grave a sin?" Aaron replied, "Let not my lord be angry.

Exo 32:22 You know well enough how prone the people are to evil.

Exo 32:23 They said to me, 'Make us a god to be our leader; as for the man Moses who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him.'

Exo 32:24 So I told them, 'Let anyone who has gold jewelry take it off.' They gave it to me, and I threw it into the fire, and this calf came out."

Exo 32:25 When Moses realized that, to the scornful joy of their foes, Aaron had let the people run wild,

Exo 32:26 he stood at the gate of the camp and cried, "Whoever is for the LORD, let him come to me!" All the Levites then rallied to him,

Exo 32:27 and he told them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Put your sword on your hip, every one of you! Now go up and down the camp, from gate to gate, and slay your own kinsmen, your friends and neighbors!"

Exo 32:28 The Levites carried out the command of Moses, and that day there fell about three thousand of the people.

Exo 32:29 Then Moses said, "Today you have been dedicated to the LORD, for you were against your own sons and kinsmen, to bring a blessing upon yourselves this day."

Exo 32:30 On the next day Moses said to the people, "You have committed a grave sin. I will go up to the LORD, then; perhaps I may be able to make atonement for your sin."

Exo 32:31 So Moses went back to the LORD and said, "Ah, this people has indeed committed a grave sin in making a god of gold for themselves!

Exo 32:32 If you would only forgive their sin! If you will not, then strike me out of the book that you have written."

Exo 32:33 The LORD answered, "Him only who has sinned against me will I strike out of my book.

Exo 32:34 Now, go and lead the people whither I have told you. My angel will go before you. When it is time for me to punish, I will punish them for their sin."

Exo 32:35 Thus the LORD smote the people for having had Aaron make the calf for them.

Exo 33:1 The LORD told Moses, "You and the people whom you have brought up from the land of Egypt, are to go up from here to the land which I swore to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob I would give to their descendants.

Exo 33:2 Driving out the Canaanites, Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites, I will send an angel before you

Exo 33:3 to the land flowing with milk and honey. But I myself will not go up in your company, because you are a stiff-necked people; otherwise I might exterminate you on the way."

Exo 33:4 When the people heard this bad news, they went into mourning, and no one wore his ornaments.

Exo 33:5 The LORD said to Moses, "Tell the Israelites: You are a stiff-necked people. Were I to go up in your company even for a moment, I would exterminate you. Take off your ornaments, therefore; I will then see what I am to do with you."

Exo 33:6 So, from Mount Horeb onward, the Israelites laid aside their ornaments.

Exo 33:7 The tent, which was called the meeting tent, Moses used to pitch at some distance away, outside the camp. Anyone who wished to consult the LORD would go to this meeting tent outside the camp.

Exo 33:8 Whenever Moses went out to the tent, the people would all rise and stand at the entrance of their own tents, watching Moses until he entered the tent.

Exo 33:9 As Moses entered the tent, the column of cloud would come down and stand at its entrance while the LORD spoke with Moses.

Exo 33:10 On seeing the column of cloud stand at the entrance of the tent, all the people would rise and worship at the entrance of their own tents.

Exo 33:11 The LORD used to speak to Moses face to face, as one man speaks to another. Moses would then return to the camp, but his young assistant, Joshua, son of Nun, would not move out of the tent.

Exo 33:12 Moses said to the LORD, "You, indeed, are telling me to lead this people on; but you have not let me know whom you will send with me. Yet you have said, 'You are my intimate friend,' and also, 'You have found favor with me.'

Exo 33:13 Now, if I have found favor with you, do let me know your ways so that, in knowing you, I may continue to find favor with you. Then, too, this nation is, after all, your own people."

Exo 33:14 "I myself," the LORD answered, "will go along, to give you rest."

Exo 33:15 Moses replied, "If you are not going yourself, do not make us go up from here.

Exo 33:16 For how can it be known that we, your people and I, have found favor with you, except by your going with us? Then we, your people and I, will be singled out from every other people on the earth."

Exo 33:17 The LORD said to Moses, "This request, too, which you have just made, I will carry out, because you have found favor with me and you are my intimate friend."

Exo 33:18 Then Moses said, "Do let me see your glory!"

Exo 33:19 He answered, "I will make all my beauty pass before you, and in your presence I will pronounce my name, 'LORD'; I who show favors to whom I will, I who grant mercy to whom I will.

Exo 33:20 But my face you cannot see, for no man sees me and still lives.

Exo 33:21 Here," continued the LORD, "is a place near me where you shall station yourself on the rock.

Exo 33:22 When my glory passes I will set you in the hollow of the rock and will cover you with my hand until I have passed by.

Exo 33:23 Then I will remove my hand, so that you may see my back; but my face is not to be seen."

Exo 34:1 The LORD said to Moses, "Cut two stone tablets like the former, that I may write on them the commandments which were on the former tablets that you broke.

Exo 34:2 Get ready for tomorrow morning, when you are to go up Mount Sinai and there present yourself to me on the top of the mountain.

Exo 34:3 No one shall come up with you, and no one is even to be seen on any part of the mountain; even the flocks and the herds are not to go grazing toward this mountain."

Exo 34:4 Moses then cut two stone tablets like the former, and early the next morning he went up Mount Sinai as the LORD had commanded him, taking along the two stone tablets.

Exo 34:5 Having come down in a cloud, the LORD stood with him there and proclaimed his name, "LORD."

Exo 34:6 Thus the LORD passed before him and cried out, "The LORD, the LORD, a merciful and gracious God, slow to anger and rich in kindness and fidelity,

Exo 34:7 continuing his kindness for a thousand generations, and forgiving wickedness and crime and sin; yet not declaring the guilty guiltless, but punishing children and grandchildren to the third and fourth generation for their fathers' wickedness!"

Exo 34:8 Moses at once bowed down to the ground in worship.

Exo 34:9 Then he said, "If I find favor with you, O Lord, do come along in our company. This is indeed a stiff-necked people; yet pardon our wickedness and sins, and receive us as your own."

Exo 34:10 "Here, then," said the LORD, "is the covenant I will make. Before the eyes of all your people I will work such marvels as have never been wrought in any nation anywhere on earth, so that this people among whom you live may see how awe-inspiring are the deeds which I, the LORD, will do at your side.

Exo 34:11 But you, on your part, must keep the commandments I am giving you today. "I will drive out before you the Amorites, Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.

Exo 34:12 Take care, therefore, not to make a covenant with these inhabitants of the land that you are to enter; else they will become a snare among you.

Exo 34:13 Tear down their altars; smash their sacred pillars, and cut down their sacred poles.

Exo 34:14 You shall not worship any other god, for the LORD is 'the Jealous One'; a jealous God is he.

Exo 34:15 Do not make a covenant with the inhabitants of that land; else, when they render their wanton worship to their gods and sacrifice to them, one of them may invite you and you may partake of his sacrifice.

Exo 34:16 Neither shall you take their daughters as wives for your sons; otherwise, when their daughters render their wanton worship to their gods, they will make your sons do the same.

Exo 34:17 "You shall not make for yourselves molten gods.

Exo 34:18 "You shall keep the feast of Unleavened Bread. For seven days at the prescribed time in the month of Abib you are to eat unleavened bread, as I commanded you; for in the month of Abib you came out of Egypt.

Exo 34:19 "To me belongs every first-born male that opens the womb among all your livestock, whether in the herd or in the flock.

Exo 34:20 The firstling of an ass you shall redeem with one of the flock; if you do not redeem it, you must break its neck. The first-born among your sons you shall redeem. "No one shall appear before me empty-handed.

Exo 34:21 "For six days you may work, but on the seventh day you shall rest; on that day you must rest even during the seasons of plowing and harvesting.

Exo 34:22 "You shall keep the feast of Weeks with the first of the wheat harvest; likewise, the feast at the fruit harvest at the close of the year.

Exo 34:23 Three times a year all your men shall appear before the Lord, the LORD God of Israel.

Exo 34:24 Since I will drive out the nations before you to give you a large territory, there will be no one to covet your land when you go up three times a year to appear before the LORD, your God.

Exo 34:25 "You shall not offer me the blood of sacrifice with leavened bread, nor shall the sacrifice of the Passover feast be kept overnight for the next day.

Exo 34:26 "The choicest first fruits of your soil you shall bring to the house of the LORD, your God. "You shall not boil a kid in its mother's milk."

Exo 34:27 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Write down these words, for in accordance with them I have made a covenant with you and with Israel."

Exo 34:28 So Moses stayed there with the LORD for forty days and forty nights, without eating any food or drinking any water, and he wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.

Exo 34:29 As Moses came down from Mount Sinai with the two tablets of the commandments in his hands, he did not know that the skin of his face had become radiant while he conversed with the LORD.

Exo 34:30 When Aaron, then, and the other Israelites saw Moses and noticed how radiant the skin of his face had become, they were afraid to come near him.

Exo 34:31 Only after Moses called to them did Aaron and all the rulers of the community come back to him. Moses then spoke to them.

Exo 34:32 Later on, all the Israelites came up to him, and he enjoined on them all that the LORD had told him on Mount Sinai.

Exo 34:33 When he finished speaking with them, he put a veil over his face.

Exo 34:34 Whenever Moses entered the presence of the LORD to converse with him, he removed the veil until he came out again. On coming out, he would tell the Israelites all that had been commanded.

Exo 34:35 Then the Israelites would see that the skin of Moses' face was radiant; so he would again put the veil over his face until he went in to converse with the LORD.

Exo 35:1 Moses assembled the whole Israelite community and said to them, "This is what the LORD has commanded to be done.

Exo 35:2 On six days work may be done, but the seventh day shall be sacred to you as the sabbath of complete rest to the LORD. Anyone who does work on that day shall be put to death.

Exo 35:3 You shall not even light a fire in any of your dwellings on the sabbath day."

Exo 35:4 Moses told the whole Israelite community, "This is what the LORD has commanded:

Exo 35:5 Take up among you a collection for the LORD. Everyone, as his heart prompts him, shall bring, as a contribution to the LORD, gold, silver and bronze;

Exo 35:6 violet, purple and scarlet yarn; fine linen and goat hair;

Exo 35:7 rams' skins dyed red, and tahash skins; acacia wood;

Exo 35:8 oil for the light; spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense;

Exo 35:9 onyx stones and other gems for mounting on the ephod and on the breastpiece.

Exo 35:10 "Let every expert among you come and make all that the LORD has commanded: the Dwelling,

Exo 35:11 with its tent, its covering, its clasps, its boards, its bars, its columns and its pedestals;

Exo 35:12 the ark, with its poles, the propitiatory, and the curtain veil;

Exo 35:13 the table, with its poles and all its appurtenances, and the showbread;

Exo 35:14 the lampstand, with its appurtenances, the lamps, and the oil for the light;

Exo 35:15 the altar of incense, with its poles; the anointing oil, and the fragrant incense; the entrance curtain for the entrance of the Dwelling;

Exo 35:16 the altar of holocausts, with its bronze grating, its poles, and all its appurtenances; the laver, with its base;

Exo 35:17 the hangings of the court, with their columns and pedestals; the curtain for the entrance of the court;

Exo 35:18 the tent pegs for the Dwelling and for the court, with their ropes;

Exo 35:19 the service cloths for use in the sanctuary; the sacred vestments for Aaron, the priest, and the vestments worn by his sons in their ministry."

Exo 35:20 When the whole Israelite community left Moses' presence,

Exo 35:21 everyone, as his heart suggested and his spirit prompted, brought a contribution to the LORD for the construction of the meeting tent, for all its services, and for the sacred vestments.

Exo 35:22 Both the men and the women, all as their heart prompted them, brought brooches, earrings, rings, necklaces and various other gold articles. Everyone who could presented an offering of gold to the LORD.

Exo 35:23 Everyone who happened to have violet, purple or scarlet yarn, fine linen or goat hair, rams' skins dyed red or tahash skins, brought them.

Exo 35:24 Whoever could make a contribution of silver or bronze offered it to the LORD; and everyone who happened to have acacia wood for any part of the work, brought it.

Exo 35:25 All the women who were expert spinners brought hand-spun violet, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen thread.

Exo 35:26 All the women who possessed the skill, spun goat hair.

Exo 35:27 The princes brought onyx stones and other gems for mounting on the ephod and on the breastpiece;

Exo 35:28 as well as spices, and oil for the light, anointing oil, and fragrant incense.

Exo 35:29 Every Israelite man and woman brought to the LORD such voluntary offerings as they thought best, for the various kinds of work which the LORD had commanded Moses to have done.

Exo 35:30 Moses said to the Israelites, "See, the LORD has chosen Bezalel, son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah,

Exo 35:31 and has filled him with a divine spirit of skill and understanding and knowledge in every craft:

Exo 35:32 in the production of embroidery, in making things of gold, silver or bronze,

Exo 35:33 in cutting and mounting precious stones, in carving wood, and in every other craft.

Exo 35:34 He has also given both him and Oholiab, son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, the ability to teach others.

Exo 35:35 He has endowed them with skill to execute all types of work: engraving, embroidering, the making of variegated cloth of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and fine linen thread, weaving, and all other arts and crafts.

Exo 36:1 "Bezalel, therefore, will set to work with Oholiab and with all the experts whom the LORD has endowed with skill and understanding in knowing how to execute all the work for the service of the sanctuary, just as the LORD has commanded."

Exo 36:2 Moses then called Bezalel and Oholiab and all the other experts whom the LORD had endowed with skill, men whose hearts moved them to come and take part in the work.

Exo 36:3 They received from Moses all the contributions which the Israelites had brought for establishing the service of the sanctuary. Still, morning after morning the people continued to bring their voluntary offerings to Moses.

Exo 36:4 Thereupon the experts who were executing the various kinds of work for the sanctuary, all left the work they were doing,

Exo 36:5 and told Moses, "The people are bringing much more than is needed to carry out the work which the LORD has commanded us to do."

Exo 36:6 Moses, therefore, ordered a proclamation to be made throughout the camp: "Let neither man nor woman make any more contributions for the sanctuary." So the people stopped bringing their offerings;

Exo 36:7 there was already enough at hand, in fact, more than enough, to complete the work to be done.

Exo 36:8 The various experts who were executing the work, made the Dwelling with its ten sheets woven of fine linen twined, having cherubim embroidered on them with violet, purple and scarlet yarn.

Exo 36:9 The length of each sheet was twenty-eight cubits, and the width four cubits; all the sheets were of the same size.

Exo 36:10 Five of the sheets were sewed together, edge to edge; and the same for the other five.

Exo 36:11 Loops of violet yarn were made along the edge of the end sheet in the first set, and the same along the edge of the end sheet in the second set.

Exo 36:12 Fifty loops were thus put on one inner sheet, and fifty loops on the inner sheet in the other set, with the loops directly opposite each other.

Exo 36:13 Then fifty clasps of gold were made, with which the sheets were joined so that the Dwelling formed one whole.

Exo 36:14 Sheets of goat hair were also woven as a tent over the Dwelling. Eleven such sheets were made.

Exo 36:15 The length of each sheet was thirty cubits and the width four cubits; all eleven sheets were the same size.

Exo 36:16 Five of these sheets were sewed edge to edge into one set; and the other six sheets into another set.

Exo 36:17 Fifty loops were made along the edge of the end sheet in one set, and fifty loops along the edge of the corresponding sheet in the other set.

Exo 36:18 Fifty bronze clasps were made with which the tent was joined so that it formed one whole.

Exo 36:19 A covering for the tent was made of rams' skins dyed red, and above that, a covering of tahash skins.

Exo 36:20 Boards of acacia wood were made as walls for the Dwelling.

Exo 36:21 The length of each board was ten cubits, and the width one and a half cubits.

Exo 36:22 Each board had two arms, fastening them in line. In this way all the boards of the Dwelling were made.

Exo 36:23 They were set up as follows: twenty boards on the south side,

Exo 36:24 with forty silver pedestals under the twenty boards, so that there were two pedestals under each board, at its two arms;

Exo 36:25 twenty boards on the other side of the Dwelling, the north side,

Exo 36:26 with their forty silver pedestals, two under each board;

Exo 36:27 six boards at the rear of the Dwelling, to the west;

Exo 36:28 and two boards at the corners in the rear of the Dwelling.

Exo 36:29 These were double at the bottom, and likewise double at the top, to the first ring. That is how both boards in the corners were made.

Exo 36:30 Thus, there were in the rear eight boards, with their sixteen silver pedestals, two pedestals under each board.

Exo 36:31 Bars of acacia wood were also made, five for the boards on one side of the Dwelling,

Exo 36:32 five for those on the other side, and five for those at the rear, to the west.

Exo 36:33 The center bar, at the middle of the boards, was made to reach across from end to end.

Exo 36:34 The boards were plated with gold, and gold rings were made on them as holders for the bars, which were also plated with gold.

Exo 36:35 The veil was woven of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, and of fine linen twined, with cherubim embroidered on it.

Exo 36:36 Four gold-plated columns of acacia wood, with gold hooks, were made for it, and four silver pedestals were cast for them.

Exo 36:37 The curtain for the entrance of the tent was made of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, and of fine linen twined, woven in a variegated manner.

Exo 36:38 Its five columns, with their hooks as well as their capitals and bands, were plated with gold; their five pedestals were of bronze.

Exo 37:1 Bezalel made the ark of acacia wood, two and a half cubits long, one and a half cubits wide, and one and a half cubits high.

Exo 37:2 The inside and outside were plated with gold, and a molding of gold was put around it.

Exo 37:3 Four gold rings were cast and put on its four supports, two rings for one side and two for the opposite side.

Exo 37:4 Poles of acacia wood were made and plated with gold;

Exo 37:5 these were put through the rings on the sides of the ark, for carrying it.

Exo 37:6 The propitiatory was made of pure gold, two and a half cubits long and one and a half cubits wide.

Exo 37:7 Two cherubim of beaten gold were made for the two ends of the propitiatory,

Exo 37:8 one cherub fastened at one end, the other at the other end, springing directly from the propitiatory at its two ends.

Exo 37:9 The cherubim had their wings spread out above, covering the propitiatory with them. They were turned toward each other, but with their faces looking toward the propitiatory.

Exo 37:10 The table was made of acacia wood, two cubits long, one cubit wide, and one and a half cubits high.

Exo 37:11 It was plated with pure gold, and a molding of gold was put around it.

Exo 37:12 A frame a handbreadth high was also put around it, with a molding of gold around the frame.

Exo 37:13 Four rings of gold were cast for it and fastened, one at each of the four corners.

Exo 37:14 The rings were alongside the frame as holders for the poles to carry the table.

Exo 37:15 These poles were made of acacia wood and plated with gold.

Exo 37:16 The vessels that were set on the table, its plates and cups, as well as its pitchers and bowls for pouring libations, were of pure gold.

Exo 37:17 The lampstand was made of pure beaten gold-- its shaft and branches as well as its cups and knobs and petals springing directly from it.

Exo 37:18 Six branches extended from its sides, three branches on one side and three on the other.

Exo 37:19 On one branch there were three cups, shaped like almond blossoms, each with its knob and petals; on the opposite branch there were three cups, shaped like almond blossoms, each with its knob and petals; and so for the six branches that extended from the lampstand.

Exo 37:20 On the shaft there were four cups, shaped like almond blossoms, with their knobs and petals,

Exo 37:21 including a knob below each of the three pairs of branches that extended from the lampstand.

Exo 37:22 The knobs and branches sprang so directly from it that the whole formed but a single piece of pure beaten gold.

Exo 37:23 Its seven lamps, as well as its trimming shears and trays, were made of pure gold.

Exo 37:24 A talent of pure gold was used for the lampstand and its various appurtenances.

Exo 37:25 The altar of incense was made of acacia wood, on a square, a cubit long, a cubit wide, and two cubits high, having horns that sprang directly from it.

Exo 37:26 Its grate on top, its walls on all four sides, and its horns were plated with pure gold; and a molding of gold was put around it.

Exo 37:27 Underneath the molding gold rings were placed, two on one side and two on the opposite side, as holders for the poles to carry it.

Exo 37:28 The poles, too, were made of acacia wood and plated with gold.

Exo 37:29 The sacred anointing oil and the fragrant incense were prepared in their pure form by a perfumer.

Exo 38:1 The altar of holocausts was made of acacia wood, on a square, five cubits long and five cubits wide; its height was three cubits.

Exo 38:2 At the four corners horns were made that sprang directly from the altar. The whole was plated with bronze.

Exo 38:3 All the utensils of the altar, the pots, shovels, basins, forks and fire pans, were likewise made of bronze.

Exo 38:4 A grating of bronze network was made for the altar and placed round it, on the ground, half as high as the altar itself.

Exo 38:5 Four rings were cast for the four corners of the bronze grating, as holders for the poles,

Exo 38:6 which were made of acacia wood and plated with bronze.

Exo 38:7 The poles were put through the rings on the sides of the altar for carrying it. The altar was made in the form of a hollow box.

Exo 38:8 The bronze laver, with its bronze base, was made from the mirrors of the women who served at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Exo 38:9 The court was made as follows. On the south side of the court there were hangings, woven of fine linen twined, a hundred cubits long,

Exo 38:10 with twenty columns and twenty pedestals of bronze, the hooks and bands of the columns being of silver.

Exo 38:11 On the north side there were similar hangings, one hundred cubits long, with twenty columns and twenty pedestals of bronze, the hooks and bands of the columns being of silver.

Exo 38:12 On the west side there were hangings, fifty cubits long, with ten columns and ten pedestals, the hooks and bands of the columns being of silver.

Exo 38:13 On the east side the court was fifty cubits long.

Exo 38:14 Toward one side there were hangings to the extent of fifteen cubits, with three columns and three pedestals; toward the other side,

Exo 38:15 beyond the entrance of the court, there were likewise hangings to the extent of fifteen cubits, with three columns and three pedestals.

Exo 38:16 The hangings on all sides of the court were woven of fine linen twined.

Exo 38:17 The pedestals of the columns were of bronze, while the hooks and bands of the columns were of silver; the capitals were silver-plated, and all the columns of the court were banded with silver.

Exo 38:18 At the entrance of the court there was a variegated curtain, woven of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and of fine linen twined, twenty cubits long and five cubits wide, in keeping with the hangings of the court.

Exo 38:19 There were four columns and four pedestals of bronze for it, while their hooks were of silver.

Exo 38:20 All the tent pegs for the Dwelling and for the court around it were of bronze.

Exo 38:21 The following is an account of the various amounts used on the Dwelling, the Dwelling of the commandments, drawn up at the command of Moses by the Levites under the direction of Ithamar, son of Aaron the priest.

Exo 38:22 However, it was Bezalel, son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, who made all that the Lord commanded Moses,

Exo 38:23 and he was assisted by Oholiab, son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, who was an engraver, an embroiderer, and a weaver of variegated cloth of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and of fine linen.

Exo 38:24 All the gold used in the entire construction of the sanctuary, having previously been given as an offering, amounted to twenty-nine talents and seven hundred and thirty shekels, according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel.

Exo 38:25 The amount of the silver received from the community was one hundred talents and one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels, according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel;

Exo 38:26 one bekah apiece, that is, a half-shekel apiece, according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel, was received from every man of twenty years or more who entered the registered group; the number of these was six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty men.

Exo 38:27 One hundred talents of silver were used for casting the pedestals of the sanctuary and the pedestals of the veil, one talent for each pedestal, or one hundred talents for the one hundred pedestals.

Exo 38:28 The remaining one thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels were used for making the hooks on the columns, for plating the capitals, and for banding them with silver.

Exo 38:29 The bronze, given as an offering, amounted to seventy talents and two thousand four hundred shekels.

Exo 38:30 With this were made the pedestals at the entrance of the meeting tent, the bronze altar with its bronze gratings and all the appurtenances of the altar,

Exo 38:31 the pedestals around the court, the pedestals at the entrance of the court, and all the tent pegs for the Dwelling and for the court around it.

Exo 39:1 With violet, purple and scarlet yarn were woven the service cloths for use in the sanctuary, as well as the sacred vestments for Aaron, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:2 The ephod was woven of gold thread and of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and of fine linen twined.

Exo 39:3 Gold was first hammered into gold leaf and then cut up into threads, which were woven with the violet, purple and scarlet yarn into an embroidered pattern on the fine linen.

Exo 39:4 Shoulder straps were made for it and joined to its two upper ends.

Exo 39:5 The embroidered belt on the ephod extended out from it, and like it, was made of gold thread, of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, and of fine linen twined, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:6 The onyx stones were prepared and mounted in gold filigree work; they were engraved like seal engravings with the names of the sons of Israel.

Exo 39:7 These stones were set on the shoulder straps of the ephod as memorial stones of the sons of Israel, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:8 The breastpiece was embroidered like the ephod, with gold thread and violet, purple and scarlet yarn on cloth of fine linen twined.

Exo 39:9 It was square and folded double, a span high and a span wide in its folded form.

Exo 39:10 Four rows of precious stones were mounted on it: in the first row a carnelian, a topaz and an emerald;

Exo 39:11 in the second row, a garnet, a sapphire and a beryl;

Exo 39:12 in the third row a jacinth, an agate and an amethyst;

Exo 39:13 in the fourth row a chrysolite, an onyx and a jasper. They were mounted in gold filigree work.

Exo 39:14 These stones were twelve, to match the names of the sons of Israel, and each stone was engraved like a seal with the name of one of the twelve tribes.

Exo 39:15 Chains of pure gold, twisted like cords, were made for the breastpiece,

Exo 39:16 together with two gold filigree rosettes and two gold rings. The two rings were fastened to the two upper ends of the breastpiece.

Exo 39:17 The two gold chains were then fastened to the two rings at the ends of the breastpiece.

Exo 39:18 The other two ends of the two chains were fastened in front to the two filigree rosettes, which were attached to the shoulder straps of the ephod.

Exo 39:19 Two other gold rings were made and put on the two lower ends of the breastpiece, on the edge facing the ephod.

Exo 39:20 Two more gold rings were made and fastened to the bottom of the two shoulder straps next to where they joined the ephod in front, just above its embroidered belt.

Exo 39:21 Violet ribbons bound the rings of the breastpiece to the rings of the ephod, so that the breastpiece stayed right above the embroidered belt of the ephod and did not swing loose from it. All this was just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:22 The robe of the ephod was woven entirely of violet yarn,

Exo 39:23 with an opening in its center like the opening of a shirt, with selvage around the opening to keep it from being torn.

Exo 39:24 At the hem of the robe pomegranates were made of violet, purple and scarlet yarn and of fine linen twined;

Exo 39:25 bells of pure gold were also made and put between the pomegranates all around the hem of the robe:

Exo 39:26 first a bell, then a pomegranate, and thus alternating all around the hem of the robe which was to be worn in performing the ministry-- all this, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:27 For Aaron and his sons there were also woven tunics of fine linen;

Exo 39:28 the miter of fine linen; the ornate turbans of fine linen; drawers of linen (of fine linen twined);

Exo 39:29 and sashes of variegated work made of fine linen twined and of violet, purple and scarlet yarn, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:30 The plate of the sacred diadem was made of pure gold and inscribed, as on a seal engraving: "Sacred to the LORD."

Exo 39:31 It was tied over the miter with a violet ribbon, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:32 Thus the entire work of the Dwelling of the meeting tent was completed. The Israelites did the work just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:33 They then brought to Moses the Dwelling, the tent with all its appurtenances, the clasps, the boards, the bars, the columns, the pedestals,

Exo 39:34 the covering of rams' skins dyed red, the covering of tahash skins, the curtain veil;

Exo 39:35 the ark of the commandments with its poles, the propitiatory,

Exo 39:36 the table with all its appurtenances and the showbread,

Exo 39:37 the pure gold lampstand with its lamps set up on it and with all its appurtenances, the oil for the light,

Exo 39:38 the golden altar, the anointing oil, the fragrant incense; the curtain for the entrance of the tent,

Exo 39:39 the altar of bronze with its bronze grating, its poles and all its appurtenances, the laver with its base,

Exo 39:40 the hangings of the court with their columns and pedestals, the curtain for the entrance of the court with its ropes and tent pegs, all the equipment for the service of the Dwelling of the meeting tent;

Exo 39:41 the service cloths for use in the sanctuary, the sacred vestments for Aaron the priest, and the vestments to be worn by his sons in their ministry.

Exo 39:42 The Israelites had carried out all the work just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 39:43 So when Moses saw that all the work was done just as the LORD had commanded, he blessed them.

Exo 40:1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

Exo 40:2 "On the first day of the first month you shall erect the Dwelling of the meeting tent.

Exo 40:3 Put the ark of the commandments in it, and screen off the ark with the veil.

Exo 40:4 Bring in the table and set it. Then bring in the lampstand and set up the lamps on it.

Exo 40:5 Put the golden altar of incense in front of the ark of the commandments, and hang the curtain at the entrance of the Dwelling.

Exo 40:6 Put the altar of holocausts in front of the entrance of the Dwelling of the meeting tent.

Exo 40:7 Place the laver between the meeting tent and the altar, and put water in it.

Exo 40:8 Set up the court round about, and put the curtain at the entrance of the court.

Exo 40:9 "Take the anointing oil and anoint the Dwelling and everything in it, consecrating it and all its furnishings, so that it will be sacred.

Exo 40:10 Anoint the altar of holocausts and all its appurtenances, consecrating it, so that it will be most sacred.

Exo 40:11 Likewise, anoint the laver with its base, and thus consecrate it.

Exo 40:12 "Then bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the meeting tent, and there wash them with water.

Exo 40:13 Clothe Aaron with the sacred vestments and anoint him, thus consecrating him as my priest.

Exo 40:14 Bring forward his sons also, and clothe them with the tunics.

Exo 40:15 As you have anointed their father, anoint them also as my priests. Thus, by being anointed, shall they receive a perpetual priesthood throughout all future generations."

Exo 40:16 Moses did exactly as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:17 On the first day of the first month of the second year the Dwelling was erected.

Exo 40:18 It was Moses who erected the Dwelling. He placed its pedestals, set up its boards, put in its bars, and set up its columns.

Exo 40:19 He spread the tent over the Dwelling and put the covering on top of the tent, as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:20 He took the commandments and put them in the ark; he placed poles alongside the ark and set the propitiatory upon it.

Exo 40:21 He brought the ark into the Dwelling and hung the curtain veil, thus screening off the ark of the commandments, as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:22 He put the table in the meeting tent, on the north side of the Dwelling, outside the veil,

Exo 40:23 and arranged the bread on it before the LORD, as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:24 He placed the lampstand in the meeting tent, opposite the table, on the south side of the Dwelling,

Exo 40:25 and he set up the lamps before the LORD, as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:26 He placed the golden altar in the meeting tent, in front of the veil,

Exo 40:27 and on it he burned fragrant incense, as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:28 He hung the curtain at the entrance of the Dwelling.

Exo 40:29 He put the altar of holocausts in front of the entrance of the Dwelling of the meeting tent, and offered holocausts and cereal offerings on it, as the LORD had commanded him.

Exo 40:30 He placed the laver between the meeting tent and the altar, and put water in it for washing.

Exo 40:31 Moses and Aaron and his sons used to wash their hands and feet there,

Exo 40:32 for they washed themselves whenever they went into the meeting tent or approached the altar, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Exo 40:33 Finally, he set up the court around the Dwelling and the altar and hung the curtain at the entrance of the court. Thus Moses finished all the work.

Exo 40:34 Then the cloud covered the meeting tent, and the glory of the LORD filled the Dwelling.

Exo 40:35 Moses could not enter the meeting tent, because the cloud settled down upon it and the glory of the LORD filled the Dwelling.

Exo 40:36 Whenever the cloud rose from the Dwelling, the Israelites would set out on their journey.

Exo 40:37 But if the cloud did not lift, they would not go forward; only when it lifted did they go forward.

Exo 40:38 In the daytime the cloud of the LORD was seen over the Dwelling; whereas at night, fire was seen in the cloud by the whole house of Israel in all the stages of their journey.

Lev 1:1 The LORD called Moses, and from the meeting tent gave him this message:

Lev 1:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When any one of you wishes to bring an animal offering to the LORD, such an offering must be from the herd or from the flock.

Lev 1:3 "If his holocaust offering is from the herd, it must be a male without blemish. To find favor with the LORD, he shall bring it to the entrance of the meeting tent

Lev 1:4 and there lay his hand on the head of the holocaust, so that it may be acceptable to make atonement for him.

Lev 1:5 He shall then slaughter the bull before the LORD, but Aaron's sons, the priests, shall offer up its blood by splashing it on the sides of the altar which is at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Lev 1:6 Then he shall skin the holocaust and cut it up into pieces.

Lev 1:7 After Aaron's sons, the priests, have put some burning embers on the altar and laid some wood on them,

Lev 1:8 they shall lay the pieces of meat, together with the head and the suet, on top of the wood and embers on the altar.

Lev 1:9 The inner organs and the shanks, however, the offerer shall first wash with water. The priest shall then burn the whole offering on the altar as a holocaust, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 1:10 "If his holocaust offering is from the flock, that is, a sheep or a goat, he must bring a male without blemish.

Lev 1:11 This he shall slaughter before the LORD at the north side of the altar. Then Aaron's sons, the priests, shall splash its blood on the sides of the altar.

Lev 1:12 When the offerer has cut it up into pieces, the priest shall lay these, together with the head and suet, on top of the wood and the fire on the altar.

Lev 1:13 The inner organs and the shanks, however, the offerer shall first wash with water. The priest shall offer them up and then burn the whole offering on the altar as a holocaust, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 1:14 "If he offers a bird as a holocaust to the LORD, he shall choose a turtledove or a pigeon as his offering.

Lev 1:15 Having brought it to the altar where it is to be burned, the priest shall snap its head loose and squeeze out its blood against the side of the altar.

Lev 1:16 Its crop and feathers shall be removed and thrown on the ash heap at the east side of the altar.

Lev 1:17 Then, having split the bird down the middle without separating the halves, the priest shall burn it on the altar, over the wood on the fire, as a holocaust, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 2:1 "When anyone wishes to bring a cereal offering to the LORD, his offering must consist of fine flour. He shall pour oil on it and put frankincense over it.

Lev 2:2 When he has brought it to Aaron's sons, the priests, one of them shall take a handful of this fine flour and oil, together with all the frankincense, and this he shall burn on the altar as a token offering, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 2:3 The rest of the cereal offering belongs to Aaron and his sons. It is a most sacred oblation to the LORD.

Lev 2:4 "When the cereal offering you present is baked in an oven, it must be in the form of unleavened cakes made of fine flour mixed with oil, or of unleavened wafers spread with oil.

Lev 2:5 If you present a cereal offering that is fried on a griddle, it must be of fine flour mixed with oil and unleavened.

Lev 2:6 Such a cereal offering must be broken into pieces, and oil must be poured over it.

Lev 2:7 If you present a cereal offering that is prepared in a pot, it must be of fine flour, deep-fried in oil.

Lev 2:8 A cereal offering that is made in any of these ways you shall bring to the LORD, offering it to the priest, who shall take it to the altar.

Lev 2:9 Its token offering the priest shall then lift from the cereal offering and burn on the altar as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 2:10 The rest of the cereal offering belongs to Aaron and his sons. It is a most sacred oblation to the LORD.

Lev 2:11 "Every cereal offering that you present to the LORD shall be unleavened, for you shall not burn any leaven or honey as an oblation to the LORD.

Lev 2:12 Such you may indeed present to the LORD in the offering of first fruits, but they are not to be placed on the altar for a pleasing odor.

Lev 2:13 However, every cereal offering that you present to the LORD shall be seasoned with salt. Do not let the salt of the covenant of your God be lacking from your cereal offering. On every offering you shall offer salt.

Lev 2:14 "If you present a cereal offering of first fruits to the LORD, you shall offer it in the form of fresh grits of new ears of grain, roasted by fire.

Lev 2:15 On this cereal offering you shall put oil and frankincense.

Lev 2:16 For its token offering the priest shall then burn some of the grits and oil, together with all the frankincense, as an oblation to the LORD.

Lev 3:1 "If someone in presenting a peace offering makes his offering from the herd, he may offer before the LORD either a male or a female animal, but it must be without blemish.

Lev 3:2 He shall lay his hand on the head of his offering, and then slaughter it at the entrance of the meeting tent; but Aaron's sons, the priests, shall splash its blood on the sides of the altar.

Lev 3:3 From the peace offering he shall offer as an oblation to the LORD the fatty membrane over the inner organs, and all the fat that adheres to them,

Lev 3:4 as well as the two kidneys, with the fat on them near the loins, and the lobe of the liver, which he shall sever above the kidneys.

Lev 3:5 All this Aaron's sons shall then burn on the altar with the holocaust, on the wood over the fire, as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 3:6 "If the peace offering he presents to the LORD is from the flock, he may offer either a male or a female animal, but it must be without blemish.

Lev 3:7 If he presents a lamb as his offering, he shall bring it before the LORD,

Lev 3:8 and after laying his hand on the head of his offering, he shall slaughter it before the meeting tent; but Aaron's sons shall splash its blood on the sides of the altar.

Lev 3:9 As an oblation to the LORD he shall present the fat of the peace offering: the whole fatty tail, which he must sever close to the spine, the fatty membrane over the inner organs, and all the fat that adheres to them,

Lev 3:10 as well as the two kidneys, with the fat on them near the loins, and the lobe of the liver, which he must sever above the kidneys.

Lev 3:11 All this the priest shall burn on the altar as the food of the LORD'S oblation.

Lev 3:12 "If he presents a goat, he shall bring it before the LORD,

Lev 3:13 and after laying his hand on its head, he shall slaughter it before the meeting tent; but Aaron's sons shall splash its blood on the sides of the altar.

Lev 3:14 From it he shall offer as an oblation to the LORD the fatty membrane over the inner organs, and all the fat that adheres to them,

Lev 3:15 as well as the two kidneys, with the fat on them near the loins, and the lobe of the liver, which he must sever above the kidneys.

Lev 3:16 All this the priest shall burn on the altar as the food of the sweet-smelling oblation. All the fat belongs to the LORD.

Lev 3:17 This shall be a perpetual ordinance for your descendants wherever they may dwell. You shall not partake of any fat or any blood."

Lev 4:1 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 4:2 "Tell the Israelites: When a person inadvertently commits a sin against some command of the LORD by doing one of the forbidden things,
Lev 4:3 if it is the anointed priest who thus sins and thereby makes the people also become guilty, he shall present to the LORD a young, unblemished bull as a sin offering for the sin he committed.
Lev 4:4 Bringing the bullock to the entrance of the meeting tent, before the LORD, he shall lay his hand on its head and slaughter it before the LORD.
Lev 4:5 The anointed priest shall then take some of the bullock's blood and bring it into the meeting tent,
Lev 4:6 where, dipping his finger in the blood, he shall sprinkle it seven times before the LORD, toward the veil of the sanctuary.
Lev 4:7 The priest shall also put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of fragrant incense which is before the LORD in the meeting tent. The rest of the bullock's blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of holocausts which is at the entrance of the meeting tent.
Lev 4:8 From the sin-offering bullock he shall remove all the fat: the fatty membrane over the inner organs, and all the fat that adheres to them,
Lev 4:9 as well as the two kidneys, with the fat on them near the loins, and the lobe of the liver, which he must sever above the kidneys.
Lev 4:10 This is the same as is removed from the ox of the peace offering; and the priest shall burn it on the altar of holocausts.
Lev 4:11 The hide of the bullock and all its flesh, with its head, legs, inner organs and offal,
Lev 4:12 in short, the whole bullock, shall be brought outside the camp to a clean place where the ashes are deposited and there be burned up in a wood fire. At the place of the ash heap, there it must be burned.
Lev 4:13 "If the whole community of Israel inadvertently and without even being aware of it does something that the LORD has forbidden and thus makes itself guilty,
Lev 4:14 should it later on become known that the sin was committed, the community shall present a young bull as a sin offering. They shall bring it before the meeting tent,
Lev 4:15 and here, before the LORD, the elders of the community shall lay their hands on the bullock's head. When the bullock has been slaughtered before the LORD,
Lev 4:16 the anointed priest shall bring some of its blood into the meeting tent,
Lev 4:17 and dipping his finger in the blood, he shall sprinkle it seven times before the LORD, toward the veil.
Lev 4:18 He shall also put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of fragrant incense which is before the LORD in the meeting tent. The rest of the blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of holocausts which is at the entrance of the meeting tent.
Lev 4:19 All of its fat he shall take from it and burn on the altar,
Lev 4:20 doing with this bullock just as he did with the other sin-offering bullock. Thus the priest shall make atonement for them, and they will be forgiven.
Lev 4:21 This bullock must also be brought outside the camp and burned, just as has been prescribed for the other one. This is the sin offering for the community.
Lev 4:22 "Should a prince commit a sin inadvertently by doing one of the things which are forbidden by some commandment of the LORD, his God, and thus become guilty,
Lev 4:23 if later on he learns of the sin he committed, he shall bring as his offering an unblemished male goat.
Lev 4:24 Having laid his hands on its head, he shall slaughter the goat as a sin offering before the LORD, in the place where the holocausts are slaughtered.
Lev 4:25 The priest shall then take some of the blood of the sin offering on his finger and put it on the horns of the altar of holocausts. The rest of the blood he shall pour out at the base of this altar.
Lev 4:26 All of the fat he shall burn on the altar like the fat of the peace offering. Thus the priest shall make atonement for the prince's sin, and it will be forgiven.
Lev 4:27 "If a private person commits a sin inadvertently by doing one of the things which are forbidden by the commandments of the LORD, and thus becomes guilty,
Lev 4:28 should he later on learn of the sin he committed, he shall bring an unblemished she-goat as the offering for his sin.
Lev 4:29 Having laid his hand on the head of the sin offering, he shall slaughter it at the place of the holocausts.
Lev 4:30 The priest shall then take some of its blood on his finger and put it on the horns of the altar of holocausts. The rest of the blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar.
Lev 4:31 All the fat shall be removed, just as the fat is removed from the peace offering, and the priest shall burn it on the altar for an odor pleasing to the LORD. Thus the priest shall make atonement for him, and he will be forgiven.
Lev 4:32 "If, however, for his sin offering he presents a lamb, he shall bring an unblemished female.
Lev 4:33 Having laid his hand on its head, he shall slaughter this sin offering in the place where the holocausts are slaughtered.

Lev 4:34 The priest shall then take some of the blood of the sin offering on his finger and put it on the horns of the altar of holocausts. The rest of the blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar.

Lev 4:35 All the fat shall be removed, just as the fat is removed from the peace-offering lamb, and the priest shall burn it on the altar with the other oblations of the LORD. Thus the priest shall make atonement for the man's sin, and it will be forgiven.

Lev 5:1 "If any person refuses to give the information which, as a witness of something he has seen or learned, he has been adjured to give, and thus commits a sin and has guilt to bear;

Lev 5:2 or if someone, without being aware of it, touches any unclean thing, as the carcass of an unclean wild animal, or that of an unclean domestic animal, or that of an unclean swarming creature, and thus becomes unclean and guilty;

Lev 5:3 or if someone, without being aware of it, touches some human uncleanness, whatever kind of uncleanness this may be, and then recognizes his guilt;

Lev 5:4 or if someone, without being aware of it, rashly utters an oath to do good or evil, such as men are accustomed to utter rashly, and then recognizes that he is guilty of such an oath;

Lev 5:5 then whoever is guilty in any of these cases shall confess the sin he has incurred,

Lev 5:6 and as his sin offering for the sin he has committed he shall bring to the LORD a female animal from the flock, a ewe lamb or a she-goat. The priest shall then make atonement for his sin.

Lev 5:7 "If, however, he cannot afford an animal of the flock, he shall bring to the LORD as the sin offering for his sin two turtledoves or two pigeons, one for a sin offering and the other for a holocaust.

Lev 5:8 He shall bring them to the priest, who shall offer the one for the sin offering first. Snapping its head loose at the neck, yet without breaking it off completely,

Lev 5:9 he shall sprinkle some of the blood of the sin offering against the side of the altar. The rest of the blood shall be squeezed out against the base of the altar. Such is the offering for sin.

Lev 5:10 The other bird shall be offered as a holocaust in the usual way. Thus the priest shall make atonement for the sin the man committed, and it will be forgiven.

Lev 5:11 "If he is unable to afford even two turtledoves or two pigeons, he shall present as a sin offering for his sin one tenth of an ephah of fine flour. He shall not put oil or frankincense on it, because it is a sin offering.

Lev 5:12 When he has brought it to the priest, the latter shall take a handful of this flour as a token offering, and this he shall burn as a sin offering on the altar with the other oblations of the LORD.

Lev 5:13 Thus the priest shall make atonement for the sin that the man committed in any of the above cases, and it will be forgiven. The rest of the flour, like the cereal offerings, shall belong to the priest."

Lev 5:14 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 5:15 "If someone commits a sin by inadvertently cheating in the LORD'S sacred dues, he shall bring to the LORD as his guilt offering an unblemished ram from the flock, valued at two silver shekels according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel.

Lev 5:16 He shall also restore what he has sinfully withheld from the sanctuary, adding to it a fifth of its value. This is to be given to the priest, who shall then make atonement for him with the guilt-offering ram, and he will be forgiven.

Lev 5:17 "If someone, without being aware of it, commits such a sin by doing one of the things which are forbidden by some commandment of the LORD, that he incurs guilt for which he must answer,

Lev 5:18 he shall bring as a guilt offering to the priest an unblemished ram of the flock of the established value. The priest shall then make atonement for the fault which was unwittingly committed, and it will be forgiven.

Lev 5:19 Such is the offering for guilt; the penalty of the guilt must be paid to the LORD."

Lev 5:20 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 5:21 "If someone commits a sin of dishonesty against the LORD by denying his neighbor a deposit or a pledge for a stolen article, or by otherwise retaining his neighbor's goods unjustly,

Lev 5:22 or if, having found a lost article, he denies the fact and swears falsely about it with any of the sinful oaths that men make in such cases,

Lev 5:23 he shall therefore, since he has incurred guilt by his sin, restore the thing that was stolen or unjustly retained by him or the deposit left with him or the lost article he found

Lev 5:24 or whatever else he swore falsely about; on the day of his guilt offering he shall make full restitution of the thing itself, and in addition, give the owner one fifth of its value.

Lev 5:25 As his guilt offering he shall bring to the LORD an unblemished ram of the flock of the established value. When he has presented this as his guilt offering to the priest,

Lev 5:26 the latter shall make atonement for him before the LORD, and he will be forgiven whatever guilt he may have incurred."

Lev 6:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 6:2 "Give Aaron and his sons the following command: This is the ritual for holocausts. The holocaust is to remain on the hearth of the altar all night until the next morning, and the fire is to be kept burning on the altar.

Lev 6:3 The priest, clothed in his linen robe and wearing linen drawers on his body, shall take away the ashes to which the fire has reduced the holocaust on the altar, and lay them at the side of the altar.

Lev 6:4 Then, having taken off these garments and put on other garments, he shall carry the ashes to a clean place outside the camp.

Lev 6:5 The fire on the altar is to be kept burning; it must not go out. Every morning the priest shall put firewood on it. On this he shall lay out the holocaust and burn the fat of the peace offerings.

Lev 6:6 The fire is to be kept burning continuously on the altar; it must not go out.

Lev 6:7 "This is the ritual of the cereal offering. One of Aaron's sons shall first present it before the LORD, in front of the altar.

Lev 6:8 Then he shall take from it a handful of its fine flour and oil, together with all the frankincense that is on it, and this he shall burn on the altar as its token offering, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 6:9 The rest of it Aaron and his sons may eat; but it must be eaten in the form of unleavened cakes and in a sacred place: in the court of the meeting tent they shall eat it.

Lev 6:10 It shall not be baked with leaven. I have given it to them as their portion from the oblations of the LORD; it is most sacred, like the sin offering and the guilt offering.

Lev 6:11 All the male descendants of Aaron may partake of it as their rightful share in the oblations of the LORD perpetually throughout your generations. Whatever touches the oblations becomes sacred."

Lev 6:12 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 6:13 "This is the offering that Aaron and his sons shall present to the LORD (on the day he is anointed): one tenth of an ephah of fine flour for the established cereal offering, half in the morning and half in the evening.

Lev 6:14 It shall be well kneaded and fried in oil on a griddle when you bring it in. Having broken the offering into pieces, you shall present it as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 6:15 Aaron's descendant who succeeds him as the anointed priest shall do likewise. This is a perpetual ordinance: for the Lord the whole offering shall be burned.

Lev 6:16 Every cereal offering of a priest shall be a whole burnt offering; it may not be eaten."

Lev 6:17 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 6:18 "Tell Aaron and his sons: This is the ritual for sin offerings. At the place where holocausts are slaughtered, there also, before the LORD, shall the sin offering be slaughtered. It is most sacred.

Lev 6:19 The priest who presents the sin offering may partake of it; but it must be eaten in a sacred place, in the court of the meeting tent.

Lev 6:20 Whatever touches its flesh shall become sacred. If any of its blood is spilled on a garment, the stained part must be washed in a sacred place.

Lev 6:21 A clay vessel in which it has been cooked shall thereafter be broken; if it is cooked in a bronze vessel, this shall be scoured afterward and rinsed with water.

Lev 6:22 All the males of the priestly line may partake of the sin offering, since it is most sacred.

Lev 6:23 But no one may partake of any sin offering of which some blood has been brought into the meeting tent to make atonement in the sanctuary; such an offering must be burned up in the fire.

Lev 7:1 "This is the ritual for guilt offerings, which are most sacred.

Lev 7:2 At the place where the holocausts are slaughtered, there also shall the guilt offering be slaughtered. Its blood shall be splashed on the sides of the altar.

Lev 7:3 All of its fat shall be taken from it and offered up: the fatty tail, the fatty membrane over the inner organs,

Lev 7:4 as well as the two kidneys with the fat on them near the loins, and the lobe of the liver, which must be severed above the kidneys.

Lev 7:5 All this the priest shall burn on the altar as an oblation to the LORD. This is the guilt offering.

Lev 7:6 All the males of the priestly line may partake of it; but it must be eaten in a sacred place, since it is most sacred.

Lev 7:7 "Because the sin offering and the guilt offering are alike, both having the same ritual, the guilt offering likewise belongs to the priest who makes atonement with it.

Lev 7:8 Similarly, the priest who offers a holocaust for someone may keep for himself the hide of the holocaust that he has offered.

Lev 7:9 Also, every cereal offering that is baked in an oven or deep-fried in a pot or fried on a griddle shall belong to the priest who offers it,

Lev 7:10 whereas all cereal offerings that are offered up dry or mixed with oil shall belong to all of Aaron's sons without distinction.

Lev 7:11 "This is the ritual for the peace offerings that are presented to the LORD.

Lev 7:12 When anyone makes a peace offering in thanksgiving, together with his thanksgiving sacrifice he shall offer unleavened cakes mixed with oil, unleavened wafers spread with oil, and cakes made of fine flour mixed with oil and well kneaded.

Lev 7:13 His offering shall also include loaves of leavened bread along with the victim of his peace offering for thanksgiving.

Lev 7:14 From each of his offerings he shall present one portion as a contribution to the LORD; this shall belong to the priest who splashes the blood of the peace offering.

Lev 7:15 "The flesh of the thanksgiving sacrifice shall be eaten on the day it is offered; none of it may be kept till the next day.

Lev 7:16 However, if the sacrifice is a votive or a free-will offering, it should indeed be eaten on the day the sacrifice is offered, but what is left over may be eaten on the next day.

Lev 7:17 Should any flesh from the sacrifice be left over on the third day, it must be burned up in the fire.

Lev 7:18 If, therefore, any of the flesh of the peace offering is eaten on the third day, it shall not win favor for him nor shall it be reckoned to his credit; rather, it shall be considered as refuse, and anyone who eats of it shall have his guilt to bear.

Lev 7:19 Should the flesh touch anything unclean, it may not be eaten, but shall be burned up in the fire. "All who are clean may partake of this flesh.

Lev 7:20 If, however, someone while in a state of uncleanness eats any of the flesh of a peace offering belonging to the LORD, that person shall be cut off from his people.

Lev 7:21 Likewise, if someone touches anything unclean, whether the uncleanness be of human or of animal origin or from some loathsome crawling creature, and then eats of a peace offering belonging to the LORD, that person, too, shall be cut off from his people."

Lev 7:22 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 7:23 "Tell the Israelites: You shall not eat the fat of any ox or sheep or goat.

Lev 7:24 Although the fat of an animal that has died a natural death or has been killed by wild beasts may be put to any other use, you may not eat it.

Lev 7:25 If anyone eats the fat of an animal from which an oblation is made to the LORD, such a one shall be cut off from his people.

Lev 7:26 Wherever you dwell, you shall not partake of any blood, be it of bird or of animal.

Lev 7:27 Every person who partakes of any blood shall be cut off from his people."

Lev 7:28 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 7:29 "Tell the Israelites: He who presents a peace offering to the LORD shall bring a part of it as his special offering to him,

Lev 7:30 carrying in with his own hands the oblations to the LORD. The fat is to be brought in, together with the breast, which is to be waved as a wave offering before the LORD.

Lev 7:31 The priest shall burn the fat on the altar, but the breast belongs to Aaron and his sons.

Lev 7:32 Moreover, from your peace offering you shall give to the priest the right leg as a raised offering.

Lev 7:33 The descendant of Aaron who offers up the blood and fat of the peace offering shall have the right leg as his portion,

Lev 7:34 for from the peace offerings of the Israelites I have taken the breast that is waved and the leg that is raised up, and I have given them to Aaron, the priest, and to his sons by a perpetual ordinance as a contribution from the Israelites."

Lev 7:35 This is the priestly share from the oblations of the LORD, allotted to Aaron and his sons on the day he called them to be the priests of the LORD;

Lev 7:36 on the day he anointed them the LORD ordered the Israelites to give them this share by a perpetual ordinance throughout their generations.

Lev 7:37 This is the ritual for holocausts, cereal offerings, sin offerings, guilt offerings, (ordination offerings) and peace offerings,

Lev 7:38 which the LORD enjoined on Moses at Mount Sinai at the time when he commanded the Israelites in the wilderness of Sinai to bring their offerings to the LORD.

Lev 8:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 8:2 "Take Aaron and his sons, together with the vestments, the anointing oil, the bullock for a sin offering, the two rams, and the basket of unleavened food.

Lev 8:3 Then assemble the whole community at the entrance of the meeting tent."

Lev 8:4 And Moses did as the LORD had commanded. When the community had assembled at the entrance of the meeting tent,

Lev 8:5 Moses told them what the LORD had ordered to be done.

Lev 8:6 Bringing forward Aaron and his sons, he first washed them with water.

Lev 8:7 Then he put the tunic on Aaron, girded him with the sash, clothed him with the robe, placed the ephod on him, and girded him with the embroidered belt of the ephod, fastening it around him.

Lev 8:8 He then set the breastpiece on him, with the Urim and Thummim in it,

Lev 8:9 and put the miter on his head, attaching the gold plate, the sacred diadem, over the front of the miter, at his forehead, as the LORD had commanded him to do.

Lev 8:10 Taking the anointing oil, Moses anointed and consecrated the Dwelling, with all that was in it.

Lev 8:11 Then he sprinkled some of this oil seven times on the altar, and anointed the altar, with all its appurtenances, and the laver, with its base, thus consecrating them.

Lev 8:12 He also poured some of the anointing oil on Aaron's head, thus consecrating him.

Lev 8:13 Moses likewise brought forward Aaron's sons, clothed them with tunics, girded them with sashes, and put turbans on them, as the LORD had commanded him to do.

Lev 8:14 When he had brought forward the bullock for a sin offering, Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.

Lev 8:15 Then Moses slaughtered it, and taking some of its blood, with his finger he put it on the horns around the altar, thus purifying the altar. He also made atonement for the altar by pouring out the blood at its base when he consecrated it.

Lev 8:16 Taking all the fat that was over the inner organs, as well as the lobe of the liver and the two kidneys with their fat, Moses burned them on the altar.

Lev 8:17 The bullock, however, with its hide and flesh and offal he burned in the fire outside the camp, as the LORD had commanded him to do.

Lev 8:18 He next brought forward the holocaust ram, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.

Lev 8:19 When he had slaughtered it, Moses splashed its blood on all sides of the altar.

Lev 8:20 After cutting up the ram into pieces, he burned the head, the cut-up pieces and the suet;

Lev 8:21 then, having washed the inner organs and the shanks with water, he also burned these remaining parts of the ram on the altar as a holocaust, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD, as the LORD had commanded him to do.

Lev 8:22 Then he brought forward the second ram, the ordination ram, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.

Lev 8:23 When he had slaughtered it, Moses took some of its blood and put it on the tip of Aaron's right ear, on the thumb of his right hand, and on the big toe of his right foot.

Lev 8:24 Moses had the sons of Aaron also come forward, and he put some of the blood on the tips of their right ears, on the thumbs of their right hands, and on the big toes of their right feet. The rest of the blood he splashed on the sides of the altar.

Lev 8:25 He then took the fat: the fatty tail and all the fat over the inner organs, the lobe of the liver and the two kidneys with their fat, and likewise the right leg;

Lev 8:26 from the basket of unleavened food that was set before the LORD he took one unleavened cake, one loaf of bread made with oil, and one wafer; these he placed on top of the portions of fat and the right leg.

Lev 8:27 He then put all these things into the hands of Aaron and his sons, whom he had wave them as a wave offering before the LORD.

Lev 8:28 When he had received them back, Moses burned them with the holocaust on the altar as the ordination offering, a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 8:29 He then took the breast and waved it as a wave offering before the LORD; this was Moses' own portion of the ordination ram. All this was in keeping with the LORD'S command to Moses.

Lev 8:30 Taking some of the anointing oil and some of the blood that was on the altar, Moses sprinkled with it Aaron and his vestments, as well as his sons and their vestments, thus consecrating both Aaron and his vestments and his sons and their vestments.

Lev 8:31 Finally, Moses said to Aaron and his sons, "Boil the flesh at the entrance of the meeting tent, and there eat it with the bread that is in the basket of the ordination offering, in keeping with the command I have received: 'Aaron and his sons shall eat of it.'

Lev 8:32 What is left over of the flesh and the bread you shall burn up in the fire.

Lev 8:33 Moreover, you are not to depart from the entrance of the meeting tent for seven days, until the days of your ordination are completed; for your ordination is to last for seven days.

Lev 8:34 The LORD has commanded that what has been done today be done to make atonement for you.

Lev 8:35 Hence you must remain at the entrance of the meeting tent day and night for seven days, carrying out the prescriptions of the LORD; otherwise, you shall die; for this is the command I have received."

Lev 8:36 So Aaron and his sons did all that the LORD had commanded through Moses.

Lev 9:1 On the eighth day Moses summoned Aaron and his sons, together with the elders of Israel,

Lev 9:2 and said to Aaron, "Take a calf for a sin offering and a ram for a holocaust, both without blemish, and offer them before the LORD.

Lev 9:3 Tell the elders of Israel, too: Take a he-goat for a sin offering, a calf and a lamb, both unblemished yearlings, for a holocaust,

Lev 9:4 and an ox and a ram for a peace offering, to sacrifice them before the LORD, along with a cereal offering mixed with oil; for today the LORD will reveal himself to you."

Lev 9:5 So they brought what Moses had ordered. When the whole community had come forward and stood before the LORD,

Lev 9:6 Moses said, "This is what the LORD orders you to do, that the glory of the LORD may be revealed to you.

Lev 9:7 Come up to the altar," Moses then told Aaron, "and offer your sin offering and your holocaust in atonement for yourself and for your family; then present the offering of the people in atonement for them, as the LORD has commanded."

Lev 9:8 Going up to the altar, Aaron first slaughtered the calf that was his own sin offering.

Lev 9:9 When his sons presented the blood to him, he dipped his finger in the blood and put it on the horns of the altar. The rest of the blood he poured out at the base of the altar.

Lev 9:10 He then burned on the altar the fat, the kidneys and the lobe of the liver that were taken from the sin offering, as the LORD had commanded Moses;

Lev 9:11 but the flesh and the hide he burned up in the fire outside the camp.

Lev 9:12 Then Aaron slaughtered his holocaust. When his sons brought him the blood, he splashed it on all sides of the altar.

Lev 9:13 They then brought him the pieces and the head of the holocaust, and he burned them on the altar.

Lev 9:14 Having washed the inner organs and the shanks, he burned these also with the holocaust on the altar.

Lev 9:15 Thereupon he had the people's offering brought up. Taking the goat that was for the people's sin offering, he slaughtered it and offered it up for sin as before.

Lev 9:16 Then he brought forward the holocaust, other than the morning holocaust, and offered it in the usual manner.

Lev 9:17 He then presented the cereal offering; taking a handful of it, he burned it on the altar.

Lev 9:18 Finally he slaughtered the ox and the ram, the peace offering of the people. When his sons brought him the blood, Aaron splashed it on all sides of the altar.

Lev 9:19 The portions of fat from the ox and from the ram, the fatty tail, the fatty membrane over the inner organs, the two kidneys, with the fat that is on them, and the lobe of the liver,

Lev 9:20 he placed on top of the breasts and burned them on the altar,

Lev 9:21 having first waved the breasts and the right legs as a wave offering before the LORD, in keeping with the LORD'S command to Moses.

Lev 9:22 Aaron then raised his hands over the people and blessed them. When he came down from offering the sin offering and holocaust and peace offering,

Lev 9:23 Moses and Aaron went into the meeting tent. On coming out they again blessed the people. Then the glory of the LORD was revealed to all the people.

Lev 9:24 Fire came forth from the LORD'S presence and consumed the holocaust and the remnants of the fat on the altar. Seeing this, all the people cried out and fell prostrate.

Lev 10:1 During this time Aaron's sons Nadab and Abihu took their censers and, strewing incense on the fire they had put in them, they offered up before the LORD profane fire, such as he had not authorized.

Lev 10:2 Fire therefore came forth from the LORD'S presence and consumed them, so that they died in his presence.

Lev 10:3 Moses then said to Aaron, "This is as the LORD said: Through those who approach me I will manifest my sacredness; In the sight of all the people I will reveal my glory." But Aaron said nothing.

Lev 10:4 Then Moses summoned Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Aaron's uncle Uzziel, with the order, "Come, remove your kinsmen from the sanctuary and carry them to a place outside the camp."

Lev 10:5 So they went in and took them, in their tunics, outside the camp, as Moses had commanded.

Lev 10:6 Moses said to Aaron and his sons Eleazar and Ithamar, "Do not bare your heads or tear your garments, lest you bring not only death on yourselves but God's wrath also on the whole community. Your kinsmen, the rest of the house of Israel, shall mourn for those whom the LORD'S fire has smitten;

Lev 10:7 but do not you go beyond the entry of the meeting tent, else you shall die; for the anointing oil of the LORD is upon you." So they did as Moses told them.

Lev 10:8 The LORD said to Aaron,

Lev 10:9 "When you are to go to the meeting tent, you and your sons are forbidden under pain of death, by a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations, to drink any wine or strong drink.

Lev 10:10 You must be able to distinguish between what is sacred and what is profane, between what is clean and what is unclean;

Lev 10:11 you must teach the Israelites all the laws that the LORD has given them through Moses."

Lev 10:12 Moses said to Aaron and his surviving sons, Eleazar and Ithamar, "Take the cereal offering left over from the oblations of the LORD, and eat it beside the altar in the form of unleavened cakes. Since it is most sacred,

Lev 10:13 you must eat it in a sacred place. This is your due from the oblations of the LORD, and that of your sons; such is the command I have received.

Lev 10:14 With your sons and daughters you shall also eat the breast of the wave offering and the leg of the raised offering, in a clean place; for these have been assigned to you and your children as your due from the peace offerings of the Israelites.

Lev 10:15 The leg of the raised offering and the breast of the wave offering shall first be brought in with the oblations, the fatty portions, that are to be waved as a wave offering before the LORD. Then they shall belong to you and your children by a perpetual ordinance, as the LORD has commanded."

Lev 10:16 When Moses inquired about the goat of the sin offering, he discovered that it had all been burned. So he was angry with the surviving sons of Aaron, Eleazar and Ithamar, and said,

Lev 10:17 "Why did you not eat the sin offering in the sacred place, since it is most sacred? It has been given to you that you might bear the guilt of the community and make atonement for them before the LORD.

Lev 10:18 If its blood was not brought into the inmost part of the sanctuary, you should certainly have eaten the offering in the sanctuary, in keeping with the command I had received."

Lev 10:19 Aaron answered Moses, "Even though they presented their sin offering and holocaust before the LORD today, yet this misfortune has befallen me. Had I then eaten of the sin offering today, would it have been pleasing to the LORD?"

Lev 10:20 On hearing this, Moses was satisfied.

Lev 11:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Lev 11:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: Of all land animals these are the ones you may eat:

Lev 11:3 any animal that has hoofs you may eat, provided it is cloven-footed and chews the cud.

Lev 11:4 But you shall not eat any of the following that only chew the cud or only have hoofs: the camel, which indeed chews the cud, but does not have hoofs and is therefore unclean for you;

Lev 11:5 the rock badger, which indeed chews the cud, but does not have hoofs and is therefore unclean for you;

Lev 11:6 the hare, which indeed chews the cud, but does not have hoofs and is therefore unclean for you; and the pig,

Lev 11:7 which does indeed have hoofs and is cloven-footed, but does not chew the cud and is therefore unclean for you.

Lev 11:8 Their flesh you shall not eat, and their dead bodies you shall not touch; they are unclean for you.

Lev 11:9 "Of the various creatures that live in the water, you may eat the following: whatever in the seas or in river waters has both fins and scales you may eat.

Lev 11:10 But of the various creatures that crawl or swim in the water, whether in the sea or in the rivers, all those that lack either fins or scales are loathsome for you,

Lev 11:11 and you shall treat them as loathsome. Their flesh you shall not eat, and their dead bodies you shall loathe.

Lev 11:12 Every water creature that lacks fins or scales is loathsome for you.

Lev 11:13 "Of the birds, these you shall loathe and, as loathsome, they shall not be eaten: the eagle, the vulture, the osprey,

Lev 11:14 the kite, the various species of falcons,

Lev 11:15 the various species of crows,

Lev 11:16 the ostrich, the nightjar, the gull, the various species of hawks,

Lev 11:17 the owl, the cormorant, the screech owl,

Lev 11:18 the barn owl, the desert owl, the buzzard,

Lev 11:19 the stork, the various species of herons, the hoopoe, and the bat.

Lev 11:20 "The various winged insects that walk on all fours are loathsome for you.

Lev 11:21 But of the various winged insects that walk on all fours you may eat those that have jointed legs for leaping on the ground;

Lev 11:22 hence of these you may eat the following: the various kinds of locusts, the various kinds of grasshoppers, the various kinds of katydids, and the various kinds of crickets.

Lev 11:23 All other winged insects that have four legs are loathsome for you.

Lev 11:24 "Such is the uncleanness that you contract, that everyone who touches their dead bodies shall be unclean until evening,

Lev 11:25 and everyone who picks up any part of their dead bodies shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening.

Lev 11:26 All hooved animals that are not cloven-footed or do not chew the cud are unclean for you; everyone who touches them becomes unclean.

Lev 11:27 Of the various quadrupeds, all those that walk on paws are unclean for you; everyone who touches their dead bodies shall be unclean until evening,

Lev 11:28 and everyone who picks up their dead bodies shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening.

Such is their uncleanness for you.

Lev 11:29 "Of the creatures that swarm on the ground, the following are unclean for you: the rat, the mouse, the various kinds of lizards,

Lev 11:30 the gecko, the chameleon, the agama, the skink, and the mole.

Lev 11:31 Among the various swarming creatures, these are unclean for you. Everyone who touches them when they are dead shall be unclean until evening.

Lev 11:32 Everything on which one of them falls when dead becomes unclean. Any such article that men use, whether it be an article of wood, cloth, leather or goat hair, must be put in water and remain unclean until evening, when it again becomes clean.

Lev 11:33 Should any of these creatures fall into a clay vessel, everything in it becomes unclean, and the vessel itself you must break.

Lev 11:34 Any solid food that was in contact with water, and any liquid that men drink, in any such vessel become unclean.

Lev 11:35 Any object on which one of their dead bodies falls, becomes unclean; if it is an oven or a jar-stand, this must be broken to pieces; they are unclean and shall be treated as unclean by you.

Lev 11:36 However, a spring or a cistern for collecting water remains clean; but whoever touches the dead body becomes unclean.

Lev 11:37 Any sort of cultivated grain remains clean even though one of their dead bodies falls on it;

Lev 11:38 but if the grain has become moistened, it becomes unclean when one of these falls on it.

Lev 11:39 "When one of the animals that you could otherwise eat, dies of itself, anyone who touches its dead body shall be unclean until evening;

Lev 11:40 and anyone who eats of its dead body shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening; so also, anyone who removes its dead body shall wash his garments and be unclean until evening.

Lev 11:41 "All the creatures that swarm on the ground are loathsome and shall not be eaten.

Lev 11:42 Whether it crawls on its belly, goes on all fours, or has many legs, you shall eat no swarming creature: they are loathsome.

Lev 11:43 Do not make yourselves loathsome or unclean with any swarming creature through being contaminated by them.

Lev 11:44 For I, the LORD, am your God; and you shall make and keep yourselves holy, because I am holy. You shall not make yourselves unclean, then, by any swarming creature that crawls on the ground.

Lev 11:45 Since I, the LORD, brought you up from the land of Egypt that I might be your God, you shall be holy, because I am holy.

Lev 11:46 "This is the law for animals and birds and for all the creatures that move about in the water or swarm on the ground,

Lev 11:47 that you may distinguish between the clean and the unclean, between creatures that may be eaten and those that may not be eaten."

Lev 12:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 12:2 "Tell the Israelites: When a woman has conceived and gives birth to a boy, she shall be unclean for seven days, with the same uncleanness as at her menstrual period.

Lev 12:3 On the eighth day, the flesh of the boy's foreskin shall be circumcised,

Lev 12:4 and then she shall spend thirty-three days more in becoming purified of her blood; she shall not touch anything sacred nor enter the sanctuary till the days of her purification are fulfilled.

Lev 12:5 If she gives birth to a girl, for fourteen days she shall be as unclean as at her menstruation, after which she shall spend sixty-six days in becoming purified of her blood.

Lev 12:6 "When the days of her purification for a son or for a daughter are fulfilled, she shall bring to the priest at the entrance of the meeting tent a yearling lamb for a holocaust and a pigeon or a turtledove for a sin offering.

Lev 12:7 The priest shall offer them up before the LORD to make atonement for her, and thus she will be clean again after her flow of blood. Such is the law for the woman who gives birth to a boy or a girl child.

Lev 12:8 If, however, she cannot afford a lamb, she may take two turtledoves or two pigeons, the one for a holocaust and the other for a sin offering. The priest shall make atonement for her, and thus she will again be clean."

Lev 13:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Lev 13:2 "If someone has on his skin a scab or pustule or blotch which appears to be the sore of leprosy, he shall be brought to Aaron, the priest, or to one of the priests among his descendants,

Lev 13:3 who shall examine the sore on his skin. If the hair on the sore has turned white and the sore itself shows that it has penetrated below the skin, it is indeed the sore of leprosy; the priest, on seeing this, shall declare the man unclean.

Lev 13:4 If, however, the blotch on the skin is white, but does not seem to have penetrated below the skin, nor has the hair turned white, the priest shall quarantine the stricken man for seven days.

Lev 13:5 On the seventh day the priest shall again examine him. If he judges that the sore has remained unchanged and has not spread on the skin, the priest shall quarantine him for another seven days,
Lev 13:6 and once more examine him on the seventh day. If the sore is now dying out and has not spread on the skin, the priest shall declare the man clean; it was merely eczema. The man shall wash his garments and so become clean.
Lev 13:7 But if, after he has shown himself to the priest to be declared clean, the eczema spreads at all on his skin, he shall once more show himself to the priest.
Lev 13:8 Should the priest, on examining it, find that the eczema has indeed spread on the skin, he shall declare the man unclean; it is leprosy.
Lev 13:9 "When someone is stricken with leprosy, he shall be brought to the priest.
Lev 13:10 Should the priest, on examining him, find that there is a white scab on the skin which has turned the hair white and that there is raw flesh in it,
Lev 13:11 it is skin leprosy that has long developed. The priest shall declare the man unclean without first quarantining him, since he is certainly unclean.
Lev 13:12 If leprosy breaks out on the skin and, as far as the priest can see, covers all the skin of the stricken man from head to foot,
Lev 13:13 should the priest then, on examining him, find that the leprosy does cover his whole body, he shall declare the stricken man clean; since it has all turned white, the man is clean.
Lev 13:14 But as soon as raw flesh appears on him, he is unclean;
Lev 13:15 on observing the raw flesh, the priest shall declare him unclean, because raw flesh is unclean; it is leprosy.
Lev 13:16 If, however, the raw flesh again turns white, he shall return to the priest;
Lev 13:17 should the latter, on examining him, find that the sore has indeed turned white, he shall declare the stricken man clean, and thus he will be clean.
Lev 13:18 "If a man who had a boil on his skin which later healed,
Lev 13:19 should now in the place of the boil have a white scab or a pink blotch, he shall show himself to the priest.
Lev 13:20 If the latter, on examination, sees that it is deeper than the skin and that the hair has turned white, he shall declare the man unclean; it is the sore of leprosy that has broken out in the boil.
Lev 13:21 But if the priest, on examining him, finds that there is no white hair in it and that it is not deeper than the skin and is already dying out, the priest shall quarantine him for seven days.
Lev 13:22 If it has then spread on the skin, the priest shall declare him unclean; the man is stricken.
Lev 13:23 But if the blotch remains in its place without spreading, it is merely the scar of the boil; the priest shall therefore declare him clean.
Lev 13:24 "If a man had a burn on his skin, and the proud flesh of the burn now becomes a pink or a white blotch,
Lev 13:25 the priest shall examine it. If the hair has turned white on the blotch and this seems to have penetrated below the skin, it is leprosy that has broken out in the burn; the priest shall therefore declare him unclean and stricken with leprosy.
Lev 13:26 But if the priest, on examining it, finds that there is no white hair on the blotch and that this is not deeper than the skin and is already dying out, the priest shall quarantine him for seven days.
Lev 13:27 Should the priest, when examining it on the seventh day, find that it has spread at all on the skin, he shall declare the man unclean and stricken with leprosy.
Lev 13:28 But if the blotch remains in its place without spreading on the skin and is already dying out, it is merely the scab of the burn; the priest shall therefore declare the man clean, since it is only the scar of the burn.
Lev 13:29 "When a man or a woman has a sore on the head or cheek,
Lev 13:30 should the priest, on examining it, find that the sore has penetrated below the skin and that there is fine yellow hair on it, the priest shall declare the person unclean, for this is scall, a leprous disease of the head or cheek.
Lev 13:31 But if the priest, on examining the scall sore, finds that it has not penetrated below the skin, though the hair on it may not be black, the priest shall quarantine the person with scall sore for seven days,
Lev 13:32 and on the seventh day again examine the sore. If the scall has not spread and has no yellow hair on it and does not seem to have penetrated below the skin,
Lev 13:33 the man shall shave himself, but not on the diseased spot. Then the priest shall quarantine him for another seven days.
Lev 13:34 If the priest, when examining the scall on the seventh day, finds that it has not spread on the skin and that it has not penetrated below the skin, he shall declare the man clean; the latter shall wash his garments, and thus he will be clean.
Lev 13:35 But if the scall spreads at all on his skin after he has been declared clean, Lev 13:36 the priest shall again examine it. If the scall has indeed spread on the skin, he need not look for yellow hair; the man is surely unclean.

Lev 13:37 If, however, he judges that the scall has remained in its place and that black hair has grown on it, the disease has been healed; the man is clean, and the priest shall declare him clean.

Lev 13:38 "When the skin of a man or a woman is spotted with white blotches,

Lev 13:39 the priest shall make an examination. If the blotches on the skin are white and already dying out, it is only tetter that has broken out on the skin, and the person therefore is clean.

Lev 13:40 "When a man loses the hair of his head, he is not unclean merely because of his bald crown.

Lev 13:41 So too, if he loses the hair on the front of his head, he is not unclean merely because of his bald forehead.

Lev 13:42 But when there is a pink sore on his bald crown or bald forehead, it is leprosy that is breaking out there.

Lev 13:43 The priest shall examine him; and if the scab on the sore of the bald spot has the same pink appearance as that of skin leprosy of the fleshy part of the body,

Lev 13:44 the man is leprous and unclean, and the priest shall declare him unclean by reason of the sore on his head.

Lev 13:45 "The one who bears the sore of leprosy shall keep his garments rent and his head bare, and shall muffle his beard; he shall cry out, 'Unclean, unclean!'

Lev 13:46 As long as the sore is on him he shall declare himself unclean, since he is in fact unclean. He shall dwell apart, making his abode outside the camp.

Lev 13:47 "When a leprous infection is on a garment of wool or of linen,

Lev 13:48 or on woven or knitted material of linen or wool, or on a hide or anything made of leather,

Lev 13:49 if the infection on the garment or hide, or on the woven or knitted material, or on any leather article is greenish or reddish, the thing is indeed infected with leprosy and must be shown to the priest.

Lev 13:50 Having examined the infection, the priest shall quarantine the infected article for seven days.

Lev 13:51 "On the seventh day the priest shall again examine the infection. If it has spread on the garment, or on the woven or knitted material, or on the leather, whatever be its use, the infection is malignant leprosy, and the article is unclean.

Lev 13:52 He shall therefore burn up the garment, or the woven or knitted material of wool or linen, or the leather article, whatever it may be, which is infected; since it has malignant leprosy, it must be destroyed by fire.

Lev 13:53 But if the priest, on examining the infection, finds that it has not spread on the garment, or on the woven or knitted material, or on the leather article,

Lev 13:54 he shall give orders to have the infected article washed and then quarantined for another seven days.

Lev 13:55 "Then the priest shall again examine the infected article after it has been washed. If the infection has not changed its appearance, even though it may not have spread, the article is unclean and shall be destroyed by fire.

Lev 13:56 But if the priest, on examining the infection, finds that it is dying out after the washing, he shall tear the infected part out of the garment, or the leather, or the woven or knitted material.

Lev 13:57 If, however, the infection again appears on the garment, or on the woven or knitted material, or on the leather article, it is still virulent and the thing infected shall be destroyed by fire.

Lev 13:58 But if, after the washing, the infection has left the garment, or the woven or knitted material, or the leather article, the thing shall be washed a second time, and thus it will be clean.

Lev 13:59 This is the law for leprous infection on a garment of wool or linen, or on woven or knitted material, or on any leather article, to determine whether it is clean or unclean."

Lev 14:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 14:2 "This is the law for the victim of leprosy at the time of his purification. He shall be brought to the priest,

Lev 14:3 who is to go outside the camp to examine him. If the priest finds that the sore of leprosy has healed in the leper,

Lev 14:4 he shall order the man who is to be purified, to get two live, clean birds, as well as some cedar wood, scarlet yarn, and hyssop.

Lev 14:5 The priest shall then order him to slay one of the birds over an earthen vessel with spring water in it.

Lev 14:6 Taking the living bird with the cedar wood, the scarlet yarn and the hyssop, the priest shall dip them all in the blood of the bird that was slain over the spring water,

Lev 14:7 and then sprinkle seven times the man to be purified from his leprosy. When he has thus purified him, he shall let the living bird fly away over the countryside.

Lev 14:8 The man being purified shall then wash his garments and shave off all his hair and bathe in water; only when he is thus made clean may he come inside the camp; but he shall still remain outside his tent for seven days.

Lev 14:9 On the seventh day he shall again shave off all the hair of his head, his beard, his eyebrows, and any other hair he may have, and also wash his garments and bathe his body in water; and so he will be clean.

Lev 14:10 "On the eighth day he shall take two unblemished male lambs, one unblemished yearling ewe lamb, three tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering, and one log of oil.

Lev 14:11 The priest who performs the purification ceremony shall place the man who is being purified, as well as all these offerings, before the LORD at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Lev 14:12 Taking one of the male lambs, the priest shall present it as a guilt offering, along with the log of oil, waving them as a wave offering before the LORD.

Lev 14:13 (This lamb he shall slaughter in the sacred place where the sin offering and the holocaust are slaughtered; because, like the sin offering, the guilt offering belongs to the priest and is most sacred.)

Lev 14:14 Then the priest shall take some of the blood of the guilt offering and put it on the tip of the man's right ear, the thumb of his right hand, and the big toe of his right foot.

Lev 14:15 The priest shall also take the log of oil and pour some of it into the palm of his own left hand;

Lev 14:16 then, dipping his right forefinger in it, he shall sprinkle it seven times before the LORD.

Lev 14:17 Of the oil left in his hand the priest shall put some on the tip of the man's right ear, the thumb of his right hand, and the big toe of his right foot, over the blood of the guilt offering.

Lev 14:18 The rest of the oil in his hand the priest shall put on the head of the man being purified. Thus shall the priest make atonement for him before the LORD.

Lev 14:19 Only after he has offered the sin offering in atonement for the man's uncleanness shall the priest slaughter the holocaust

Lev 14:20 and offer it, together with the cereal offering, on the altar before the LORD. When the priest has thus made atonement for him, the man will be clean.

Lev 14:21 "If a man is poor and cannot afford so much, he shall take one male lamb for a guilt offering, to be used as a wave offering in atonement for himself, one tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering, a log of oil,

Lev 14:22 and two turtledoves or pigeons, which he can more easily afford, the one as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust.

Lev 14:23 On the eighth day of his purification he shall bring them to the priest, at the entrance of the meeting tent before the LORD.

Lev 14:24 Taking the guilt-offering lamb, along with the log of oil, the priest shall wave them as a wave offering before the LORD.

Lev 14:25 When he has slaughtered the guilt-offering lamb, he shall take some of its blood, and put it on the tip of the right ear of the man being purified, on the thumb of his right hand, and on the big toe of his right foot.

Lev 14:26 The priest shall then pour some of the oil into the palm of his own left hand

Lev 14:27 and with his right forefinger sprinkle it seven times before the LORD.

Lev 14:28 Some of the oil in his hand the priest shall also put on the tip of the man's right ear, the thumb of his right hand, and the big toe of his right foot, over the blood of the guilt offering.

Lev 14:29 The rest of the oil in his hand the priest shall put on the man's head. Thus shall he make atonement for him before the LORD.

Lev 14:30 Then, of the turtledoves or pigeons, such as the man can afford,

Lev 14:31 the priest shall offer up one as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust, along with the cereal offering. Thus shall the priest make atonement before the LORD for the man who is to be purified.

Lev 14:32 This is the law for one afflicted with leprosy who has insufficient means for his purification."

Lev 14:33 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Lev 14:34 "When you come into the land of Canaan, which I am giving you to possess, if I put a leprous infection on any house of the land you occupy,

Lev 14:35 the owner of the house shall come and report to the priest, 'It looks to me as if my house were infected.'

Lev 14:36 The priest shall then order the house to be cleared out before he goes in to examine the infection, lest everything in the house become unclean. Only after this is he to go in to examine the house.

Lev 14:37 If the priest, on examining it, finds that the infection on the walls of the house consists of greenish or reddish depressions which seem to go deeper than the surface of the wall,

Lev 14:38 he shall close the door of the house behind him and quarantine the house for seven days.

Lev 14:39 On the seventh day the priest shall return to examine the house again. If he finds that the infection has spread on the walls,

Lev 14:40 he shall order the infected stones to be pulled out and cast in an unclean place outside the city.

Lev 14:41 The whole inside of the house shall then be scraped, and the mortar that has been scraped off shall be dumped in an unclean place outside the city.

Lev 14:42 Then new stones shall be brought and put in the place of the old stones, and new mortar shall be made and plastered on the house.

Lev 14:43 "If the infection breaks out once more after the stones have been pulled out and the house has been scraped and replastered,

Lev 14:44 the priest shall come again; and if he finds that the infection has spread in the house, it is corrosive leprosy, and the house is unclean.

Lev 14:45 It shall be pulled down, and all its stones, beams and mortar shall be hauled away to an unclean place outside the city.

Lev 14:46 Whoever enters a house while it is quarantined shall be unclean until evening.

Lev 14:47 Whoever sleeps or eats in such a house shall also wash his garments.

Lev 14:48 If the priest finds, when he comes to examine the house, that the infection has in fact not spread after the plastering, he shall declare the house clean, since the infection has been healed.

Lev 14:49 To purify the house, he shall take two birds, as well as cedar wood, scarlet yarn, and hyssop.

Lev 14:50 One of the birds he shall slay over an earthen vessel with spring water in it.

Lev 14:51 Then, taking the cedar wood, the hyssop and the scarlet yarn, together with the living bird, he shall dip them all in the blood of the slain bird and the spring water, and sprinkle the house seven times.

Lev 14:52 Thus shall he purify the house with the bird's blood and the spring water, along with the living bird, the cedar wood, the hyssop, and the scarlet yarn.

Lev 14:53 He shall then let the living bird fly away over the countryside outside the city. When he has thus made atonement for it, the house will be clean.

Lev 14:54 "This is the law for every kind of human leprosy and scall,

Lev 14:55 for leprosy of garments and houses,

Lev 14:56 as well as for scabs, pustules and blotches,

Lev 14:57 so that it may be manifest when there is a state of uncleanness and when a state of cleanness. This is the law for leprosy."

Lev 15:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Lev 15:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: Every man who is afflicted with a chronic flow from his private parts is thereby unclean.

Lev 15:3 Such is his uncleanness from this flow that it makes no difference whether the flow drains off or is blocked up; his uncleanness remains.

Lev 15:4 Any bed on which the man afflicted with the flow lies, is unclean, and any piece of furniture on which he sits, is unclean.

Lev 15:5 Anyone who touches his bed shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:6 Whoever sits on a piece of furniture on which the afflicted man was sitting, shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:7 Whoever touches the body of the afflicted man shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:8 If the afflicted man spits on a clean man, the latter shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:9 Any saddle on which the afflicted man rides, is unclean.

Lev 15:10 Whoever touches anything that was under him shall be unclean until evening; whoever lifts up any such thing shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:11 Anyone whom the afflicted man touches with unrinsed hands shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:12 Earthenware touched by the afflicted man shall be broken; and every wooden article shall be rinsed with water.

Lev 15:13 "When a man who has been afflicted with a flow becomes free of his affliction, he shall wait seven days for his purification. Then he shall wash his garments and bathe his body in fresh water, and so he will be clean.

Lev 15:14 On the eighth day he shall take two turtledoves or two pigeons, and going before the LORD, to the entrance of the meeting tent, he shall give them to the priest,

Lev 15:15 who shall offer them up, the one as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust. Thus shall the priest make atonement before the LORD for the man's flow.

Lev 15:16 "When a man has an emission of seed, he shall bathe his whole body in water and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:17 Any piece of cloth or leather with seed on it shall be washed with water and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:18 "If a man lies carnally with a woman, they shall both bathe in water and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:19 "When a woman has her menstrual flow, she shall be in a state of impurity for seven days. Anyone who touches her shall be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:20 Anything on which she lies or sits during her impurity shall be unclean.

Lev 15:21 Anyone who touches her bed shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:22 Whoever touches any article of furniture on which she was sitting, shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:23 But if she is on the bed or on the seat when he touches it, he shall be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:24 If a man dares to lie with her, he contracts her impurity and shall be unclean for seven days; every bed on which he then lies also becomes unclean.

Lev 15:25 "When a woman is afflicted with a flow of blood for several days outside her menstrual period, or when her flow continues beyond the ordinary period, as long as she suffers this unclean flow she shall be unclean, just as during her menstrual period.

Lev 15:26 Any bed on which she lies during such a flow becomes unclean, as it would during her menstruation, and any article of furniture on which she sits becomes unclean just as during her menstruation.

Lev 15:27 Anyone who touches them becomes unclean; he shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

Lev 15:28 "If she becomes freed from her affliction, she shall wait seven days, and only then is she to be purified.

Lev 15:29 On the eighth day she shall take two turtledoves or two pigeons and bring them to the priest at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Lev 15:30 The priest shall offer up one of them as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust. Thus shall the priest make atonement before the LORD for her unclean flow.

Lev 15:31 "You shall warn the Israelites of their uncleanness, lest by defiling my Dwelling, which is in their midst, their uncleanness be the cause of their death.

Lev 15:32 "This is the law for the man who is afflicted with a chronic flow, or who has an emission of seed, and thereby becomes unclean;

Lev 15:33 as well as for the woman who has her menstrual period, or who is afflicted with a chronic flow; the law for male and female; and also for the man who lies with an unclean woman."

Lev 16:1 After the death of Aaron's two sons, who died when they approached the LORD'S presence, the LORD spoke to Moses

Lev 16:2 and said to him, "Tell your brother Aaron that he is not to come whenever he pleases into the sanctuary, inside the veil, in front of the propitiatory on the ark; otherwise, when I reveal myself in a cloud above the propitiatory, he will die.

Lev 16:3 Only in this way may Aaron enter the sanctuary. He shall bring a young bullock for a sin offering and a ram for a holocaust.

Lev 16:4 He shall wear the sacred linen tunic, with the linen drawers next his flesh, gird himself with the linen sash and put on the linen miter. But since these vestments are sacred, he shall not put them on until he has first bathed his body in water.

Lev 16:5 From the Israelite community he shall receive two male goats for a sin offering and one ram for a holocaust.

Lev 16:6 "Aaron shall bring in the bullock, his sin offering to atone for himself and for his household.

Lev 16:7 Taking the two male goats and setting them before the LORD at the entrance of the meeting tent,

Lev 16:8 he shall cast lots to determine which one is for the LORD and which for Azazel.

Lev 16:9 The goat that is determined by lot for the LORD, Aaron shall bring in and offer up as a sin offering.

Lev 16:10 But the goat determined by lot for Azazel he shall set alive before the LORD, so that with it he may make atonement by sending it off to Azazel in the desert.

Lev 16:11 "Thus shall Aaron offer up the bullock, his sin offering, to atone for himself and for his family. When he has slaughtered it,

Lev 16:12 he shall take a censer full of glowing embers from the altar before the LORD, as well as a double handful of finely ground fragrant incense, and bringing them inside the veil,

Lev 16:13 there before the LORD he shall put incense on the fire, so that a cloud of incense may cover the propitiatory over the commandments; else he will die.

Lev 16:14 Taking some of the bullock's blood, he shall sprinkle it with his finger on the fore part of the propitiatory and likewise sprinkle some of the blood with his finger seven times in front of the propitiatory.

Lev 16:15 "Then he shall slaughter the people's sin-offering goat, and bringing its blood inside the veil, he shall do with it as he did with the bullock's blood, sprinkling it on the propitiatory and before it.

Lev 16:16 Thus he shall make atonement for the sanctuary because of all the sinful defilements and faults of the Israelites. He shall do the same for the meeting tent, which is set up among them in the midst of their uncleanness.

Lev 16:17 No one else may be in the meeting tent from the time he enters the sanctuary to make atonement until he departs. When he has made atonement for himself and his household, as well as for the whole Israelite community,

Lev 16:18 he shall come out to the altar before the LORD and make atonement for it also. Taking some of the bullock's and the goat's blood, he shall put it on the horns around the altar,

Lev 16:19 and with his finger sprinkle some of the blood on it seven times. Thus he shall render it clean and holy, purged of the defilements of the Israelites.
Lev 16:20 "When he has completed the atonement rite for the sanctuary, the meeting tent and the altar, Aaron shall bring forward the live goat.
Lev 16:21 Laying both hands on its head, he shall confess over it all the sinful faults and transgressions of the Israelites, and so put them on the goat's head. He shall then have it led into the desert by an attendant.
Lev 16:22 Since the goat is to carry off their iniquities to an isolated region, it must be sent away into the desert.
Lev 16:23 "After Aaron has again gone into the meeting tent, he shall strip off and leave in the sanctuary the linen vestments he had put on when he entered there.
Lev 16:24 After bathing his body with water in a sacred place, he shall put on his vestments, and then come out and offer his own and the people's holocaust, in atonement for himself and for the people,
Lev 16:25 and also burn the fat of the sin offering on the altar.
Lev 16:26 "The man who has led away the goat for Azazel shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water; only then may he enter the camp.
Lev 16:27 The sin-offering bullock and goat whose blood was brought into the sanctuary to make atonement, shall be taken outside the camp, where their hides and flesh and offal shall be burned up in the fire.
Lev 16:28 The one who burns them shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water; only then may he enter the camp.
Lev 16:29 "This shall be an everlasting ordinance for you: on the tenth day of the seventh month every one of you, whether a native or a resident alien, shall mortify himself and shall do no work.
Lev 16:30 Since on this day atonement is made for you to make you clean, so that you may be cleansed of all your sins before the LORD,
Lev 16:31 by everlasting ordinance it shall be a most solemn sabbath for you, on which you must mortify yourselves.
Lev 16:32 "This atonement is to be made by the priest who has been anointed and ordained to the priesthood in succession to his father. He shall wear the linen garments, the sacred vestments,
Lev 16:33 and make atonement for the sacred sanctuary, the meeting tent and the altar, as well as for the priests and all the people of the community.
Lev 16:34 This, then, shall be an everlasting ordinance for you: once a year atonement shall be made for all the sins of the Israelites." Thus was it done, as the LORD had commanded Moses.
Lev 17:1 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 17:2 "Speak to Aaron and his sons, as well as to all the Israelites, and tell them: This is what the LORD has commanded.
Lev 17:3 Any Israelite who slaughters an ox or a sheep or a goat, whether in the camp or outside of it,
Lev 17:4 without first bringing it to the entrance of the meeting tent to present it as an offering to the LORD in front of his Dwelling, shall be judged guilty of bloodshed; and for this, such a man shall be cut off from among his people.
Lev 17:5 Therefore, such sacrifices as they used to offer up in the open field the Israelites shall henceforth offer to the LORD, bringing them to the priest at the entrance of the meeting tent and sacrificing them there as peace offerings to the LORD.
Lev 17:6 The priest shall splash the blood on the altar of the LORD at the entrance of the meeting tent and there burn the fat for an odor pleasing to the LORD.
Lev 17:7 No longer shall they offer their sacrifices to the satyrs to whom they used to render their wanton worship. This shall be an everlasting ordinance for them and their descendants.
Lev 17:8 "Tell them, therefore: Anyone, whether of the house of Israel or of the aliens residing among them, who offers a holocaust or sacrifice
Lev 17:9 without bringing it to the entrance of the meeting tent to offer it to the LORD, shall be cut off from his kinsmen.
Lev 17:10 And if anyone, whether of the house of Israel or of the aliens residing among them, partakes of any blood, I will set myself against that one who partakes of blood and will cut him off from among his people.
Lev 17:11 Since the life of a living body is in its blood, I have made you put it on the altar, so that atonement may thereby be made for your own lives, because it is the blood, as the seat of life, that makes atonement.
Lev 17:12 That is why I have told the Israelites: No one among you, not even a resident alien, may partake of blood.
Lev 17:13 "Anyone hunting, whether of the Israelites or of the aliens residing among them, who catches an animal or a bird that may be eaten, shall pour out its blood and cover it with earth.
Lev 17:14 Since the life of every living body is its blood, I have told the Israelites: You shall not partake of the blood of any meat. Since the life of every living body is its blood, anyone who partakes of it shall be cut off.

Lev 17:15 "Everyone, whether a native or an alien, who eats of an animal that died of itself or was killed by a wild beast, shall wash his garments, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening, and then he will be clean.
Lev 17:16 If he does not wash or does not bathe his body, he shall have the guilt to bear."
Lev 18:1 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 18:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: I, the LORD, am your God.
Lev 18:3 You shall not do as they do in the land of Egypt, where you once lived, nor shall you do as they do in the land of Canaan, where I am bringing you; do not conform to their customs.
Lev 18:4 My decrees you shall carry out, and my statutes you shall take care to follow. I, the LORD, am your God.
Lev 18:5 Keep, then, my statutes and decrees, for the man who carries them out will find life through them. I am the LORD.
Lev 18:6 "None of you shall approach a close relative to have sexual intercourse with her. I am the LORD.
Lev 18:7 You shall not disgrace your father by having intercourse with your mother. Besides, since she is your own mother, you shall not have intercourse with her.
Lev 18:8 You shall not have intercourse with your father's wife, for that would be a disgrace to your father.
Lev 18:9 You shall not have intercourse with your sister, your father's daughter or your mother's daughter, whether she was born in your own household or born elsewhere.
Lev 18:10 You shall not have intercourse with your son's daughter or with your daughter's daughter, for that would be a disgrace to your own family.
Lev 18:11 You shall not have intercourse with the daughter whom your father's wife bore to him, since she, too, is your sister.
Lev 18:12 You shall not have intercourse with your father's sister, since she is your father's relative.
Lev 18:13 You shall not have intercourse with your mother's sister, since she is your mother's relative.
Lev 18:14 You shall not disgrace your father's brother by being intimate with his wife, since she, too, is your aunt.
Lev 18:15 You shall not have intercourse with your daughter-in-law; she is your son's wife, and therefore you shall not disgrace her.
Lev 18:16 You shall not have intercourse with your brother's wife, for that would be a disgrace to your brother.
Lev 18:17 You shall not have intercourse with a woman and also with her daughter, nor shall you marry and have intercourse with her son's daughter or her daughter's daughter; this would be shameful, because they are related to her.
Lev 18:18 While your wife is still living you shall not marry her sister as her rival; for thus you would disgrace your first wife.
Lev 18:19 "You shall not approach a woman to have intercourse with her while she is unclean from menstruation.
Lev 18:20 You shall not have carnal relations with your neighbor's wife, defiling yourself with her.
Lev 18:21 You shall not offer any of your offspring to be immolated to Molech, thus profaning the name of your God. I am the LORD.
Lev 18:22 You shall not lie with a male as with a woman; such a thing is an abomination.
Lev 18:23 You shall not have carnal relations with an animal, defiling yourself with it; nor shall a woman set herself in front of an animal to mate with it; such things are abhorrent.
Lev 18:24 "Do not defile yourselves by any of these things by which the nations whom I am driving out of your way have defiled themselves.
Lev 18:25 Because their land has become defiled, I am punishing it for its wickedness, by making it vomit out its inhabitants.
Lev 18:26 You, however, whether natives or resident aliens, must keep my statutes and decrees forbidding all such abominations
Lev 18:27 by which the previous inhabitants defiled the land;
Lev 18:28 otherwise the land will vomit you out also for having defiled it, just as it vomited out the nations before you.
Lev 18:29 Everyone who does any of these abominations shall be cut off from among his people.
Lev 18:30 Heed my charge, then, not to defile yourselves by observing the abominable customs that have been observed before you. I, the LORD, am your God."
Lev 19:1 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 19:2 "Speak to the whole Israelite community and tell them: Be holy, for I, the LORD your God, am holy.
Lev 19:3 Revere your mother and father, and keep my sabbaths. I, the LORD, am your God.
Lev 19:4 "Do not turn aside to idols, nor make molten gods for yourselves. I, the LORD, am your God.
Lev 19:5 "When you sacrifice your peace offering to the LORD, if you wish it to be acceptable, Lev 19:6 it must be eaten on the very day of your sacrifice or on the following day. Whatever is left over until the third day shall be burned up in the fire.

Lev 19:7 If any of it is eaten on the third day, the sacrifice will be unacceptable as refuse;

Lev 19:8 whoever eats of it then shall pay the penalty for having profaned what is sacred to the LORD. Such a one shall be cut off from his people.

Lev 19:9 "When you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not be so thorough that you reap the field to its very edge, nor shall you glean the stray ears of grain.

Lev 19:10 Likewise, you shall not pick your vineyard bare, nor gather up the grapes that have fallen. These things you shall leave for the poor and the alien. I, the LORD, am your God.

Lev 19:11 "You shall not steal. You shall not lie or speak falsely to one another.

Lev 19:12 You shall not swear falsely by my name, thus profaning the name of your God. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:13 "You shall not defraud or rob your neighbor. You shall not withhold overnight the wages of your day laborer.

Lev 19:14 You shall not curse the deaf, or put a stumbling block in front of the blind, but you shall fear your God. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:15 "You shall not act dishonestly in rendering judgment. Show neither partiality to the weak nor deference to the mighty, but judge your fellow men justly.

Lev 19:16 You shall not go about spreading slander among your kinsmen; nor shall you stand by idly when your neighbor's life is at stake. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:17 "You shall not bear hatred for your brother in your heart. Though you may have to reprove your fellow man, do not incur sin because of him.

Lev 19:18 Take no revenge and cherish no grudge against your fellow countrymen. You shall love your neighbor as yourself. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:19 "Keep my statutes: do not breed any of your domestic animals with others of a different species; do not sow a field of yours with two different kinds of seed; and do not put on a garment woven with two different kinds of thread.

Lev 19:20 "If a man has carnal relations with a female slave who has already been living with another man but has not yet been redeemed or given her freedom, they shall be punished but not put to death, because she is not free.

Lev 19:21 The man, moreover, shall bring to the entrance of the meeting tent a ram as his guilt offering to the LORD.

Lev 19:22 With this ram the priest shall make atonement before the LORD for the sin he has committed, and it will be forgiven him.

Lev 19:23 "When you come into the land and plant any fruit tree there, first look upon its fruit as if it were uncircumcised. For three years, while its fruit remains uncircumcised, it may not be eaten.

Lev 19:24 In the fourth year, however, all of its fruit shall be sacred to the LORD as a thanksgiving feast to him.

Lev 19:25 Not until the fifth year may you eat its fruit. Thus it will continue its yield for you. I, the LORD, am your God.

Lev 19:26 "Do not eat meat with the blood still in it. Do not practice divination or soothsaying.

Lev 19:27 Do not clip your hair at the temples, nor trim the edges of your beard.

Lev 19:28 Do not lacerate your bodies for the dead, and do not tattoo yourselves. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:29 "You shall not degrade your daughter by making a prostitute of her; else the land will become corrupt and full of lewdness.

Lev 19:30 Keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:31 "Do not go to mediums or consult fortune-tellers, for you will be defiled by them. I, the LORD, am your God.

Lev 19:32 "Stand up in the presence of the aged, and show respect for the old; thus shall you fear your God. I am the LORD.

Lev 19:33 "When an alien resides with you in your land, do not molest him.

Lev 19:34 You shall treat the alien who resides with you no differently than the natives born among you; have the same love for him as for yourself; for you too were once aliens in the land of Egypt. I, the LORD, am your God.

Lev 19:35 "Do not act dishonestly in using measures of length or weight or capacity.

Lev 19:36 You shall have a true scale and true weights, an honest ephah and an honest hin. I, the LORD, am your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.

Lev 19:37 Be careful, then, to observe all my statutes and decrees. I am the LORD."

Lev 20:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 20:2 "Tell the Israelites: Anyone, whether an Israelite or an alien residing in Israel, who gives any of his offspring to Molech shall be put to death. Let his fellow citizens stone him.

Lev 20:3 I myself will turn against such a man and cut him off from the body of his people; for in giving his offspring to Molech, he has defiled my sanctuary and profaned my holy name.

Lev 20:4 Even if his fellow citizens connive at such a man's crime of giving his offspring to Molech, and fail to put him to death,

Lev 20:5 I myself will set my face against that man and his family and will cut off from their people both him and all who join him in his wanton worship of Molech.

Lev 20:6 Should anyone turn to mediums and fortune-tellers and follow their wanton ways, I will turn against such a one and cut him off from his people.

Lev 20:7 Sanctify yourselves, then, and be holy; for I, the LORD, your God, am holy.

Lev 20:8 Be careful, therefore, to observe what I, the LORD, who make you holy, have prescribed.

Lev 20:9 "Anyone who curses his father or mother shall be put to death; since he has cursed his father or mother, he has forfeited his life.

Lev 20:10 If a man commits adultery with his neighbor's wife, both the adulterer and the adulteress shall be put to death.

Lev 20:11 If a man disgraces his father by lying with his father's wife, both the man and his stepmother shall be put to death; they have forfeited their lives.

Lev 20:12 If a man lies with his daughter-in-law, both of them shall be put to death; since they have committed an abhorrent deed, they have forfeited their lives.

Lev 20:13 If a man lies with a male as with a woman, both of them shall be put to death for their abominable deed; they have forfeited their lives.

Lev 20:14 If a man marries a woman and her mother also, the man and the two women as well shall be burned to death for their shameful conduct, so that such shameful conduct may not be found among you.

Lev 20:15 If a man has carnal relations with an animal, the man shall be put to death, and the animal shall be slain.

Lev 20:16 If a woman goes up to any animal to mate with it, the woman and the animal shall be slain; let them both be put to death; their lives are forfeit.

Lev 20:17 If a man consummates marriage with his sister or his half-sister, they shall be publicly cut off from their people for this shameful deed; the man shall pay the penalty of having had intercourse with his own sister.

Lev 20:18 If a man lies in sexual intercourse with a woman during her menstrual period, both of them shall be cut off from their people, because they have laid bare the flowing fountain of her blood.

Lev 20:19 You shall not have intercourse with your mother's sister or your father's sister; whoever does so shall pay the penalty of incest.

Lev 20:20 If a man disgraces his uncle by having intercourse with his uncle's wife, the man and his aunt shall pay the penalty of dying childless.

Lev 20:21 If a man marries his brother's wife and thus disgraces his brother, they shall be childless because of this incest.

Lev 20:22 "Be careful to observe all my statutes and all my decrees; otherwise the land where I am bringing you to dwell will vomit you out.

Lev 20:23 Do not conform, therefore, to the customs of the nations whom I am driving out of your way, because all these things that they have done have filled me with disgust for them.

Lev 20:24 But to you I have said: Their land shall be your possession, a land flowing with milk and honey. I am giving it to you as your own, I, the LORD, your God, who have set you apart from the other nations.

Lev 20:25 You, too, must set apart, then, the clean animals from the unclean, and the clean birds from the unclean, so that you may not be contaminated with the uncleanness of any beast or bird or of any swarming creature in the land that I have set apart for you.

Lev 20:26 To me, therefore, you shall be sacred; for I, the LORD, am sacred, I, who have set you apart from the other nations to be my own.

Lev 20:27 "A man or a woman who acts as a medium or fortune-teller shall be put to death by stoning; they have no one but themselves to blame for their death."

Lev 21:1 The LORD said to Moses, "Speak to Aaron's sons, the priests, and tell them: None of you shall make himself unclean for any dead person among his people,

Lev 21:2 except for his nearest relatives, his mother or father, his son or daughter, his brother

Lev 21:3 or his maiden sister, who is of his own family while she remains unmarried; for these he may make himself unclean.

Lev 21:4 But for a sister who has married out of his family he shall not make himself unclean; this would be a profanation.

Lev 21:5 "The priests shall not make bare the crown of the head, nor shave the edges of the beard, nor lacerate the body.

Lev 21:6 To their God they shall be sacred, and not profane his name; since they offer up the oblations of the LORD, the food of their God, they must be holy.

Lev 21:7 "A priest shall not marry a woman who has been a prostitute or has lost her honor, nor a woman who has been divorced by her husband; for the priest is sacred to his God.

Lev 21:8 Honor him as sacred who offers up the food of your God; treat him as sacred, because I, the LORD, who have consecrated him, am sacred.

Lev 21:9 "A priest's daughter who loses her honor by committing fornication and thereby dishonors her father also, shall be burned to death.

Lev 21:10 "The most exalted of the priests, upon whose head the anointing oil has been poured and who has been ordained to wear the special vestments, shall not bare his head or rend his garments,

Lev 21:11 nor shall he go near any dead person. Not even for his father or mother may he thus become unclean

Lev 21:12 or leave the sanctuary; otherwise he will profane the sanctuary of his God, for with the anointing oil upon him, he is dedicated to his God, to me, the LORD.

Lev 21:13 "The priest shall marry a virgin.

Lev 21:14 Not a widow or a woman who has been divorced or a woman who has lost her honor as a prostitute, but a virgin, taken from his own people, shall he marry;

Lev 21:15 otherwise he will have base offspring among his people. I, the LORD, have made him sacred."

Lev 21:16 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 21:17 "Speak to Aaron and tell him: None of your descendants, of whatever generation, who has any defect shall come forward to offer up the food of his God.

Lev 21:18 Therefore, he who has any of the following defects may not come forward: he who is blind, or lame, or who has any disfigurement or malformation,

Lev 21:19 or a crippled foot or hand,

Lev 21:20 or who is hump-backed or weakly or walled, or who is afflicted with eczema, ringworm or hernia.

Lev 21:21 No descendant of Aaron the priest who has any such defect may draw near to offer up the oblations of the LORD; on account of his defect he may not draw near to offer up the food of his God.

Lev 21:22 He may, however, partake of the food of his God: of what is most sacred as well as of what is sacred.

Lev 21:23 Only, he may not approach the veil nor go up to the altar on account of his defect; he shall not profane these things that are sacred to me, for it is I, the LORD, who make them sacred."

Lev 21:24 Moses, therefore, told this to Aaron and his sons and to all the Israelites.

Lev 22:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 22:2 "Tell Aaron and his sons to respect the sacred offerings which the Israelites consecrate to me; else they will profane my holy name. I am the LORD.

Lev 22:3 "Tell them: If any one of you, or of your descendants in any future generation, dares, while he is in a state of uncleanness, to draw near the sacred offerings which the Israelites consecrate to the LORD, such a one shall be cut off from my presence. I am the LORD.

Lev 22:4 "No descendant of Aaron who is stricken with leprosy, or who suffers from a flow, may eat of these sacred offerings, unless he again becomes clean. Moreover, if anyone touches a person who has become unclean by contact with a corpse, or if anyone has had an emission of seed,

Lev 22:5 or if anyone touches any swarming creature or any man whose uncleanness, of whatever kind it may be, is contagious,

Lev 22:6 the one who touches such as these shall be unclean until evening and may not eat of the sacred portions until he has first bathed his body in water,

Lev 22:7 then, when the sun sets, he again becomes clean. Only then may he eat of the sacred offerings, which are his food.

Lev 22:8 He shall not make himself unclean by eating of any animal that has died of itself or has been killed by wild beasts. I am the LORD.

Lev 22:9 "They shall keep my charge and not do wrong in this matter; else they will die for their profanation. I am the LORD who have consecrated them.

Lev 22:10 "Neither a lay person nor a priest's tenant or hired servant may eat of any sacred offering.

Lev 22:11 But a slave whom a priest acquires by purchase or who is born in his house may eat of his food.

Lev 22:12 A priest's daughter who is married to a layman may not eat of the sacred contributions.

Lev 22:13 But if a priest's daughter is widowed or divorced and, having no children, returns to her father's house, she may then eat of her father's food as in her youth. No layman, however, may eat of it.

Lev 22:14 If such a one eats of a sacred offering through inadvertence, he shall make restitution to the priest for the sacred offering, with an increment of one fifth of the amount.

Lev 22:15 The sacred offerings which the Israelites contribute to the LORD the priests shall not allow to be profaned

Lev 22:16 nor in the eating of the sacred offering shall they bring down guilt that must be punished; it is I, the LORD, who make them sacred."

Lev 22:17 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 22:18 "Speak to Aaron and his sons and to all the Israelites, and tell them: When anyone of the house of Israel, or any alien residing in Israel, who wishes to offer a sacrifice, brings a holocaust as a votive offering or as a free-will offering to the LORD,

Lev 22:19 if it is to be acceptable, the ox or sheep or goat that he offers must be an unblemished male.

Lev 22:20 You shall not offer one that has any defect, for such a one would not be acceptable for you.

Lev 22:21 When anyone presents a peace offering to the LORD from the herd or the flock in fulfillment of a vow, or as a free-will offering, if it is to find acceptance, it must be unblemished; it shall not have any defect.

Lev 22:22 One that is blind or crippled or maimed, or one that has a running sore or mange or ringworm, you shall not offer to the LORD; do not put such an animal on the altar as an oblation to the LORD.

Lev 22:23 An ox or a sheep that is in any way ill-proportioned or stunted you may indeed present as a free-will offering, but it will not be acceptable as a votive offering.

Lev 22:24 One that has its testicles bruised or crushed or torn out or cut off you shall not offer to the LORD. You shall neither do this in your own land

Lev 22:25 nor receive from a foreigner any such animals to offer up as the food of your God; since they are deformed or defective, they will not be acceptable for you."

Lev 22:26 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 22:27 "When an ox or a lamb or a goat is born, it shall remain with its mother for seven days; only from the eighth day onward will it be acceptable, to be offered as an oblation to the LORD.

Lev 22:28 You shall not slaughter an ox or a sheep on one and the same day with its young.

Lev 22:29 Whenever you offer a thanksgiving sacrifice to the LORD, so offer it that it may be acceptable for you;

Lev 22:30 it must, therefore, be eaten on the same day; none of it shall be left over until the next day. I am the LORD.

Lev 22:31 "Be careful to observe the commandments which I, the LORD, give you,

Lev 22:32 and do not profane my holy name; in the midst of the Israelites I, the LORD, must be held as sacred. It is I who made you sacred

Lev 22:33 and led you out of the land of Egypt, that I, the LORD, might be your God."

Lev 23:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 23:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: The following are the festivals of the LORD, my feast days, which you shall celebrate with a sacred assembly.

Lev 23:3 "For six days work may be done; but the seventh day is the sabbath rest, a day for sacred assembly, on which you shall do no work. The sabbath shall belong to the LORD wherever you dwell.

Lev 23:4 "These, then, are the festivals of the LORD which you shall celebrate at their proper time with a sacred assembly.

Lev 23:5 The Passover of the LORD falls on the fourteenth day of the first month, at the evening twilight.

Lev 23:6 The fifteenth day of this month is the LORD'S feast of Unleavened Bread. For seven days you shall eat unleavened bread.

Lev 23:7 On the first of these days you shall hold a sacred assembly and do no sort of work.

Lev 23:8 On each of the seven days you shall offer an oblation to the LORD. Then on the seventh day you shall again hold a sacred assembly and do no sort of work."

Lev 23:9 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 23:10 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When you come into the land which I am giving you, and reap your harvest, you shall bring a sheaf of the first fruits of your harvest to the priest,

Lev 23:11 who shall wave the sheaf before the LORD that it may be acceptable for you. On the day after the sabbath the priest shall do this.

Lev 23:12 On this day, when your sheaf is waved, you shall offer to the LORD for a holocaust an unblemished yearling lamb.

Lev 23:13 Its cereal offering shall be two tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil, as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD; and its libation shall be a fourth of a hin of wine.

Lev 23:14 Until this day, when you bring your God this offering, you shall not eat any bread or roasted grain or fresh kernels. This shall be a perpetual statute for you and your descendants wherever you dwell.

Lev 23:15 "Beginning with the day after the sabbath, the day on which you bring the wave-offering sheaf, you shall count seven full weeks,

Lev 23:16 and then on the day after the seventh week, the fiftieth day, you shall present the new cereal offering to the LORD.

Lev 23:17 For the wave offering of your first fruits to the LORD, you shall bring with you from wherever you live two loaves of bread made of two tenths of an ephah of fine flour and baked with leaven.

Lev 23:18 Besides the bread, you shall offer to the LORD a holocaust of seven unblemished yearling lambs, one young bull, and two rams, along with their cereal offering and libations, as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Lev 23:19 One male goat shall be sacrificed as a sin offering, and two yearling lambs as a peace offering.
Lev 23:20 The priest shall wave the bread of the first fruits and the two lambs as a wave offering before the LORD; these shall be sacred to the LORD and belong to the priest.
Lev 23:21 On this same day you shall by proclamation have a sacred assembly, and no sort of work may be done. This shall be a perpetual statute for you and your descendants wherever you dwell.
Lev 23:22 "When you reap the harvest of your land, you shall not be so thorough that you reap the field to its very edge, nor shall you glean the stray ears of your grain. These things you shall leave for the poor and the alien. I, the LORD, am your God."
Lev 23:23 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 23:24 "Tell the Israelites: On the first day of the seventh month you shall keep a sabbath rest, with a sacred assembly and with the trumpet blasts as a reminder;
Lev 23:25 you shall then do no sort of work, and you shall offer an oblation to the LORD."
Lev 23:26 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 23:27 "The tenth of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement, when you shall hold a sacred assembly and mortify yourselves and offer an oblation to the LORD.
Lev 23:28 On this day you shall not do any work, because it is the Day of Atonement, when atonement is made for you before the LORD, your God.
Lev 23:29 Anyone who does not mortify himself on this day shall be cut off from his people,
Lev 23:30 and if anyone does any work on this day, I will remove him from the midst of his people.
Lev 23:31 This is a perpetual statute for you and your descendants wherever you dwell: you shall do no work,
Lev 23:32 but shall keep a sabbath of complete rest and mortify yourselves. Beginning on the evening of the ninth of the month, you shall keep this sabbath of yours from evening to evening."
Lev 23:33 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 23:34 "Tell the Israelites: The fifteenth day of this seventh month is the LORD'S feast of Booths, which shall continue for seven days.
Lev 23:35 On the first day there shall be a sacred assembly, and you shall do no sort of work.
Lev 23:36 For seven days you shall offer an oblation to the LORD, and on the eighth day you shall again hold a sacred assembly and offer an oblation to the LORD. On that solemn closing you shall do no sort of work.
Lev 23:37 "These, therefore, are the festivals of the LORD on which you shall proclaim a sacred assembly, and offer as an oblation to the LORD holocausts and cereal offerings, sacrifices and libations, as prescribed for each day,
Lev 23:38 in addition to those of the LORD'S sabbaths, your donations, your various votive offerings and the free-will offerings that you present to the LORD.
Lev 23:39 "On the fifteenth day, then, of the seventh month, when you have gathered in the produce of the land, you shall celebrate a pilgrim feast of the LORD for a whole week. The first and the eighth day shall be days of complete rest.
Lev 23:40 On the first day you shall gather foliage from majestic trees, branches of palms and boughs of myrtles and of valley poplars, and then for a week you shall make merry before the LORD, your God.
Lev 23:41 By perpetual statute for you and your descendants you shall keep this pilgrim feast of the LORD for one whole week in the seventh month of the year.
Lev 23:42 During this week every native Israelite among you shall dwell in booths,
Lev 23:43 that your descendants may realize that, when I led the Israelites out of the land of Egypt, I made them dwell in booths. I, the LORD, am your God."
Lev 23:44 Thus did Moses announce to the Israelites the festivals of the LORD.
Lev 24:1 The LORD said to Moses,
Lev 24:2 "Order the Israelites to bring you clear oil of crushed olives for the light, so that you may keep lamps burning regularly.
Lev 24:3 In the meeting tent, outside the veil that hangs in front of the commandments, Aaron shall set up the lamps to burn before the LORD regularly, from evening till morning. Thus, by a perpetual statute for you and your descendants,
Lev 24:4 the lamps shall be set up on the pure gold lampstand, to burn regularly before the LORD.
Lev 24:5 "You shall take fine flour and bake it into twelve cakes, using two tenths of an ephah of flour for each cake.
Lev 24:6 These you shall place in two piles, six in each pile, on the pure gold table before the LORD.
Lev 24:7 On each pile put some pure frankincense, which shall serve as an oblation to the LORD, a token offering for the bread.
Lev 24:8 Regularly on each sabbath day this bread shall be set out afresh before the LORD, offered on the part of the Israelites by an everlasting agreement.
Lev 24:9 It shall belong to Aaron and his sons, who must eat it in a sacred place, since, as something most sacred among the various oblations to the LORD, it is his by perpetual right."

Lev 24:10 Among the Israelites there was a man born of an Israelite mother (Shelomith, daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan) and an Egyptian father.

Lev 24:11 This man quarreled publicly with another Israelite and cursed and blasphemed the LORD'S name. So the people brought him to Moses,

Lev 24:12 who kept him in custody till a decision from the LORD should settle the case for them.

Lev 24:13 The LORD then said to Moses,

Lev 24:14 "Take the blasphemer outside the camp, and when all who heard him have laid their hands on his head, let the whole community stone him.

Lev 24:15 Tell the Israelites: Anyone who curses his God shall bear the penalty of his sin;

Lev 24:16 whoever blasphemes the name of the LORD shall be put to death. The whole community shall stone him; alien and native alike must be put to death for blaspheming the LORD'S name.

Lev 24:17 "Whoever takes the life of any human being shall be put to death;

Lev 24:18 whoever takes the life of an animal shall make restitution of another animal. A life for a life!

Lev 24:19 Anyone who inflicts an injury on his neighbor shall receive the same in return.

Lev 24:20 Limb for limb, eye for eye, tooth for tooth! The same injury that a man gives another shall be inflicted on him in return.

Lev 24:21 Whoever slays an animal shall make restitution, but whoever slays a man shall be put to death.

Lev 24:22 You shall have but one rule, for alien and native alike. I, the LORD, am your God."

Lev 24:23 When Moses told this to the Israelites, they took the blasphemer outside the camp and stoned him; they carried out the command that the LORD had given Moses.

Lev 25:1 The LORD said to Moses on Mount Sinai,

Lev 25:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When you enter the land that I am giving you, let the land, too, keep a sabbath for the LORD.

Lev 25:3 For six years you may sow your field, and for six years prune your vineyard, gathering in their produce.

Lev 25:4 But during the seventh year the land shall have a complete rest, a sabbath for the LORD, when you may neither sow your field nor prune your vineyard.

Lev 25:5 The aftergrowth of your harvest you shall not reap, nor shall you pick the grapes of your untrimmed vines in this year of sabbath rest for the land.

Lev 25:6 While the land has its sabbath, all its produce will be food equally for you yourself and for your male and female slaves, for your hired help and the tenants who live with you,

Lev 25:7 and likewise for your livestock and for the wild animals on your land.

Lev 25:8 "Seven weeks of years shall you count-- seven times seven years-- so that the seven cycles amount to forty-nine years.

Lev 25:9 Then, on the tenth day of the seventh month let the trumpet resound; on this, the Day of Atonement, the trumpet blast shall re-echo throughout your land.

Lev 25:10 This fiftieth year you shall make sacred by proclaiming liberty in the land for all its inhabitants. It shall be a jubilee for you, when every one of you shall return to his own property, every one to his own family estate.

Lev 25:11 In this fiftieth year, your year of jubilee, you shall not sow, nor shall you reap the aftergrowth or pick the grapes from the untrimmed vines.

Lev 25:12 Since this is the jubilee, which shall be sacred for you, you may not eat of its produce, except as taken directly from the field.

Lev 25:13 "In this year of jubilee, then, every one of you shall return to his own property.

Lev 25:14 Therefore, when you sell any land to your neighbor or buy any from him, do not deal unfairly.

Lev 25:15 On the basis of the number of years since the last jubilee shall you purchase the land from him; and so also, on the basis of the number of years for crops, shall he sell it to you.

Lev 25:16 When the years are many, the price shall be so much the more; when the years are few, the price shall be so much the less. For it is really the number of crops that he sells you.

Lev 25:17 Do not deal unfairly, then; but stand in fear of your God. I, the LORD, am your God.

Lev 25:18 "Observe my precepts and be careful to keep my regulations, for then you will dwell securely in the land.

Lev 25:19 The land will yield its fruit and you will have food in abundance, so that you may live there without worry.

Lev 25:20 Therefore, do not say, 'What shall we eat in the seventh year, if we do not then sow or reap our crop?'

Lev 25:21 I will bestow such blessings on you in the sixth year that there will then be crop enough for three years.

Lev 25:22 When you sow in the eighth year, you will continue to eat from the old crop; and even into the ninth year, when the crop comes in, you will still have the old to eat from.

Lev 25:23 "The land shall not be sold in perpetuity; for the land is mine, and you are but aliens who have become my tenants.

Lev 25:24 Therefore, in every part of the country that you occupy, you must permit the land to be redeemed.

Lev 25:25 When one of your countrymen is reduced to poverty and has to sell some of his property, his closest relative, who has the right to redeem it, may go and buy back what his kinsman has sold.

Lev 25:26 If, however, the man has no relative to redeem his land, but later on acquires sufficient means to buy it back in his own name,

Lev 25:27 he shall make a deduction from the price in proportion to the number of years since the sale, and then pay back the balance to the one to whom he sold it, so that he may thus regain his own property.

Lev 25:28 But if he does not acquire sufficient means to buy back his land, what he has sold shall remain in the possession of the purchaser until the jubilee, when it must be released and returned to its original owner.

Lev 25:29 "When someone sells a dwelling in a walled town, he has the right to buy it back during the time of one full year from its sale.

Lev 25:30 But if such a house in a walled town has not been redeemed at the end of a full year, it shall belong in perpetuity to the purchaser and his descendants; nor shall it be released in the jubilee.

Lev 25:31 However, houses in villages that are not encircled by walls shall be considered as belonging to the surrounding farm land; they may be redeemed at any time, and in the jubilee they must be released.

Lev 25:32 "In levitical cities the Levites shall always have the right to redeem the town houses that are their property.

Lev 25:33 Any town house of the Levites in their cities that had been sold and not redeemed, shall be released in the jubilee; for the town houses of the Levites are their hereditary property in the midst of the Israelites.

Lev 25:34 Moreover, the pasture land belonging to their cities shall not be sold at all; it must always remain their hereditary property.

Lev 25:35 "When one of your fellow countrymen is reduced to poverty and is unable to hold out beside you, extend to him the privileges of an alien or a tenant, so that he may continue to live with you.

Lev 25:36 Do not exact interest from your countryman either in money or in kind, but out of fear of God let him live with you.

Lev 25:37 You are to lend him neither money at interest nor food at a profit.

Lev 25:38 I, the LORD, am your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to give you the land of Canaan and to be your God.

Lev 25:39 "When, then, your countryman becomes so impoverished beside you that he sells you his services, do not make him work as a slave.

Lev 25:40 Rather, let him be like a hired servant or like your tenant, working with you until the jubilee year,

Lev 25:41 when he, together with his children, shall be released from your service and return to his kindred and to the property of his ancestors.

Lev 25:42 Since those whom I brought out of the land of Egypt are servants of mine, they shall not be sold as slaves to any man.

Lev 25:43 Do not lord it over them harshly, but stand in fear of your God.

Lev 25:44 "Slaves, male and female, you may indeed possess, provided you buy them from among the neighboring nations.

Lev 25:45 You may also buy them from among the aliens who reside with you and from their children who are born and reared in your land. Such slaves you may own as chattels,

Lev 25:46 and leave to your sons as their hereditary property, making them perpetual slaves. But you shall not lord it harshly over any of the Israelites, your kinsmen.

Lev 25:47 "When one of your countrymen is reduced to such poverty that he sells himself to a wealthy alien who has a permanent or a temporary residence among you, or to one of the descendants of an immigrant family,

Lev 25:48 even after he has thus sold his services he still has the right of redemption; he may be redeemed by one of his own brothers,

Lev 25:49 or by his uncle or cousin, or by some other relative or fellow clansman; or, if he acquires the means, he may redeem himself.

Lev 25:50 With his purchaser he shall compute the years from the sale to the jubilee, distributing the sale price over these years as though he had been hired as a day laborer.

Lev 25:51 The more such years there are, the more of the sale price he shall pay back as ransom;

Lev 25:52 the fewer years there are left before the jubilee year, the more he has to his credit; in proportion to his years of service shall he pay his ransom.

Lev 25:53 The alien shall treat him as a servant hired on an annual basis, and he shall not lord it over him harshly under your very eyes.

Lev 25:54 If he is not thus redeemed, he shall nevertheless be released, together with his children, in the jubilee year.

Lev 25:55 For to me the Israelites belong as servants; they are servants of mine, because I brought them out of the land of Egypt, I, the LORD, your God.

Lev 26:1 "Do not make false gods for yourselves. You shall not erect an idol or a sacred pillar for yourselves, nor shall you set up a stone figure for worship in your land; for I, the LORD, am your God.

Lev 26:2 Keep my sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuary. I am the LORD.

Lev 26:3 "If you live in accordance with my precepts and are careful to observe my commandments,

Lev 26:4 I will give you rain in due season, so that the land will bear its crops, and the trees their fruit;

Lev 26:5 your threshing will last till vintage time, and your vintage till the time for sowing, and you will have food to eat in abundance, so that you may dwell securely in your land.

Lev 26:6 I will establish peace in the land, that you may lie down to rest without anxiety. I will rid the country of ravenous beasts, and keep the sword of war from sweeping across your land.

Lev 26:7 You will rout your enemies and lay them low with your sword.

Lev 26:8 Five of you will put a hundred of your foes to flight, and a hundred of you will chase ten thousand of them, till they are cut down by your sword.

Lev 26:9 I will look with favor upon you, and make you fruitful and numerous, as I carry out my covenant with you.

Lev 26:10 So much of the old crops will you have stored up for food that you will have to discard them to make room for the new.

Lev 26:11 I will set my Dwelling among you, and will not disdain you.

Lev 26:12 Ever present in your midst, I will be your God, and you will be my people;

Lev 26:13 for it is I, the LORD, your God, who brought you out of the land of the Egyptians and freed you from their slavery, breaking the yoke they had laid upon you and letting you walk erect.

Lev 26:14 "But if you do not heed me and do not keep all these commandments,

Lev 26:15 if you reject my precepts and spurn my decrees, refusing to obey all my commandments and breaking my covenant,

Lev 26:16 then I, in turn, will give you your deserts. I will punish you with terrible woes-- with wasting and fever to dim the eyes and sap the life. You will sow your seed in vain, for your enemies will consume the crop.

Lev 26:17 I will turn against you, till you are beaten down before your enemies and lorded over by your foes. You will take to flight though no one pursues you.

Lev 26:18 "If even after this you do not obey me, I will increase the chastisement for your sins sevenfold,

Lev 26:19 to break your haughty confidence. I will make the sky above you as hard as iron, and your soil as hard as bronze,

Lev 26:20 so that your strength will be spent in vain; your land will bear no crops, and its trees no fruit.

Lev 26:21 "If then you become defiant in your unwillingness to obey me, I will multiply my blows another sevenfold, as your sins deserve.

Lev 26:22 I will unleash the wild beasts against you, to rob you of your children and wipe out your livestock, till your population dwindles away and your roads become deserted.

Lev 26:23 "If, with all this, you still refuse to be chastened by me and continue to defy me,

Lev 26:24 I, too, will defy you and will smite you for your sins seven times harder than before.

Lev 26:25 I will make the sword, the avenger of my covenant, sweep over you. Though you then huddle together in your walled cities, I will send in pestilence among you, till you are forced to surrender to the enemy.

Lev 26:26 And as I cut off your supply of bread, ten women will need but one oven for baking all the bread they dole out to you in rations-- not enough food to still your hunger.

Lev 26:27 "If, despite all this, you still persist in disobeying and defying me,

Lev 26:28 I, also, will meet you with fiery defiance and will chastise you with sevenfold fiercer punishment for your sins,

Lev 26:29 till you begin to eat the flesh of your own sons and daughters.

Lev 26:30 I will demolish your high places, overthrow your incense stands, and cast your corpses on those of your idols. In my abhorrence of you,

Lev 26:31 I will lay waste your cities and devastate your sanctuaries, refusing to accept your sweet-smelling offerings.

Lev 26:32 So devastated will I leave the land that your very enemies who come to live there will stand aghast at the sight of it.

Lev 26:33 You yourselves I will scatter among the nations at the point of my drawn sword, leaving your countryside desolate and your cities deserted.

Lev 26:34 Then shall the land retrieve its lost sabbaths during all the time it lies waste, while you are in the land of your enemies; then shall the land have rest and make up for its sabbaths

Lev 26:35 during all the time that it lies desolate, enjoying the rest that you would not let it have on the sabbaths when you lived there.

Lev 26:36 "Those of you who survive in the lands of their enemies I will make so fainthearted that, if leaves rustle behind them, they will flee headlong, as if from the sword, though no one pursues them;

Lev 26:37 stumbling over one another as if to escape a weapon, while no one is after them-- so helpless will you be to take a stand against your foes!

Lev 26:38 You will be lost among the Gentiles, swallowed up in your enemies' country.

Lev 26:39 Those of you who survive in the lands of their enemies will waste away for their own and their fathers' guilt.

Lev 26:40 "Thus they will have to confess that they and their fathers were guilty of having rebelled against me and of having defied me,

Lev 26:41 so that I, too, had to defy them and bring them into their enemies' land. Then, when their uncircumcised hearts are humbled and they make amends for their guilt,

Lev 26:42 I will remember my covenant with Jacob, my covenant with Isaac, and my covenant with Abraham; and of the land, too, I will be mindful.

Lev 26:43 But the land must first be rid of them, that in its desolation it may make up its lost sabbaths, and that they, too, may make good the debt of their guilt for having spurned my precepts and abhorred my statutes.

Lev 26:44 Yet even so, even while they are in their enemies' land, I will not reject or spurn them, lest, by wiping them out, I make void my covenant with them; for I, the LORD, am their God.

Lev 26:45 I will remember them because of the covenant I made with their forefathers, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt under the very eyes of the Gentiles, that I, the LORD, might be their God."

Lev 26:46 These are the precepts, decrees and laws which the LORD had Moses promulgate on Mount Sinai in the pact between himself and the Israelites.

Lev 27:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Lev 27:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When anyone fulfills a vow of offering one or more persons to the LORD, who are to be ransomed at a fixed sum of money,

Lev 27:3 for persons between the ages of twenty and sixty, the fixed sum, in sanctuary shekels, shall be fifty silver shekels for a man,

Lev 27:4 and thirty shekels for a woman;

Lev 27:5 for persons between the ages of five and twenty, the fixed sum shall be twenty shekels for a youth, and ten for a maiden;

Lev 27:6 for persons between the ages of one month and five years, the fixed sum shall be five silver shekels for a boy, and three for a girl;

Lev 27:7 for persons of sixty or more, the fixed sum shall be fifteen shekels for a man, and ten for a woman.

Lev 27:8 However, if the one who took the vow is too poor to meet the fixed sum, the person must be set before the priest, who shall determine the sum for his ransom in keeping with the means of the one who made the vow.

Lev 27:9 "If the offering vowed to the LORD is an animal that may be sacrificed, every such animal, when vowed to the LORD, becomes sacred.

Lev 27:10 The offerer shall not present a substitute for it by exchanging either a better for a worse one or a worse for a better one. If he attempts to offer one animal in place of another, both the original and its substitute shall be treated as sacred.

Lev 27:11 If the animal vowed to the LORD is unclean and therefore unfit for sacrifice, it must be set before the priest,

Lev 27:12 who shall determine its value in keeping with its good or bad qualities, and the value set by the priest shall stand.

Lev 27:13 If the offerer wishes to redeem the animal, he shall pay one fifth more than this valuation.

Lev 27:14 "When someone dedicates his house as sacred to the LORD, the priest shall determine its value in keeping with its good or bad points, and the value set by the priest shall stand.

Lev 27:15 If the one who dedicated his house wishes to redeem it, he shall pay one fifth more than the price thus established, and then it will again be his.

Lev 27:16 "If the object which someone dedicates to the LORD is a piece of his hereditary land, its valuation shall be made according to the amount of seed required to sow it, the acreage sown with a homer of barley seed being valued at fifty silver shekels.

Lev 27:17 If the dedication of a field is made at the beginning of a jubilee period, the full valuation shall hold;

Lev 27:18 but if it is some time after this, the priest shall estimate its money value according to the number of years left until the next jubilee year, with a corresponding rebate on the valuation.

Lev 27:19 If the one who dedicated his field wishes to redeem it, he shall pay one fifth more than the price thus established, and so reclaim it.

Lev 27:20 If, instead of redeeming such a field, he sells it to someone else, it may no longer be redeemed;

Lev 27:21 but at the jubilee it shall be released as sacred to the LORD; like a field that is doomed, it shall become priestly property.

Lev 27:22 "If the field that some man dedicates to the LORD is one he had purchased and not a part of his hereditary property,

Lev 27:23 the priest shall compute its value in proportion to the number of years until the next jubilee, and on the same day the price thus established shall be given as sacred to the LORD;

Lev 27:24 at the jubilee, however, the field shall revert to the hereditary owner of this land from whom it had been purchased.

Lev 27:25 "Every valuation shall be made according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel. There are twenty gerahs to the shekel.

Lev 27:26 "Note that a first-born animal, which as such already belongs to the LORD, may not be dedicated by vow to him. If it is an ox or a sheep, it shall be ceded to the LORD;

Lev 27:27 but if it is an unclean animal, it may be redeemed by paying one fifth more than its fixed value. If it is not redeemed, it shall be sold at its fixed value.

Lev 27:28 "Note, also, that any one of his possessions which a man vows as doomed to the LORD, whether it is a human being or an animal or a hereditary field, shall be neither sold nor ransomed; everything that is thus doomed becomes most sacred to the LORD.

Lev 27:29 All human beings that are doomed lose the right to be redeemed; they must be put to death.

Lev 27:30 "All tithes of the land, whether in grain from the fields or in fruit from the trees, belong to the LORD, as sacred to him.

Lev 27:31 If someone wishes to buy back any of his tithes, he shall pay one fifth more than their value.

Lev 27:32 The tithes of the herd and the flock shall be determined by ceding to the LORD as sacred every tenth animal as they are counted by the herdsman's rod.

Lev 27:33 It shall not matter whether good ones or bad ones are thus chosen, and no exchange may be made. If any exchange is attempted, both the original animal and its substitute shall be treated as sacred, without the right of being bought back."

Lev 27:34 These are the commandments which the LORD gave Moses on Mount Sinai for the Israelites.

Num 1:1 In the year following that of the Israelites' departure from the land of Egypt, on the first day of the second month, the LORD said to Moses in the meeting tent in the desert of Sinai:

Num 1:2 "Take a census of the whole community of the Israelites, by clans and ancestral houses, registering each male individually.

Num 1:3 You and Aaron shall enroll in companies all the men in Israel of twenty years or more who are fit for military service.

Num 1:4 "To assist you there shall be a man from each tribe, the head of his ancestral house.

Num 1:5 These are the names of those who are to assist you: from Reuben: Elizur, son of Shedeur;

Num 1:6 from Simeon: Shelumiel, son of Zurishaddai;

Num 1:7 from Judah: Nahshon, son of Amminadab;

Num 1:8 from Issachar: Nethanel, son of Zuar;

Num 1:9 from Zebulun: Eliab, son of Helon;

Num 1:10 from Ephraim: Elishama, son of Ammihud, and from Manasseh: Gamaliel, son of Pedahzur, for the descendants of Joseph;

Num 1:11 from Benjamin: Abidan, son of Gideon;

Num 1:12 from Dan: Ahiezer, son of Ammishaddai;

Num 1:13 from Asher: Pagiel, son of Ochran;

Num 1:14 from Gad: Eliasaph, son of Reuel;

Num 1:15 from Naphtali: Ahira, son of Enan."

Num 1:16 These were councilors of the community, princes of their ancestral tribes, chiefs of the troops of Israel.

Num 1:17 So Moses and Aaron took these men who had been designated,

Num 1:18 and assembled the whole community on the first day of the second month. Every man of twenty years or more then declared his name and lineage according to clan and ancestral house,

Num 1:19 as the LORD had commanded Moses. This is their census as taken in the desert of Sinai.

Num 1:20 Of the descendants of Reuben, the first-born of Israel, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,

Num 1:21 forty-six thousand five hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Reuben.

Num 1:22 Of the descendants of Simeon, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,

Num 1:23 fifty-nine thousand three hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Simeon.

Num 1:24 Of the descendants of Gad, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,

Num 1:25 forty-five thousand six hundred and fifty were enrolled in the tribe of Gad.

Num 1:26 Of the descendants of Judah, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:27 seventy-four thousand six hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Judah.
Num 1:28 Of the descendants of Issachar, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:29 fifty-four thousand four hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Issachar.
Num 1:30 Of the descendants of Zebulun, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:31 fifty-seven thousand four hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Zebulun.
Num 1:32 Of the descendants of Joseph-- Of the descendants of Ephraim, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:33 forty thousand five hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Ephraim.
Num 1:34 Of the descendants of Manasseh, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:35 thirty-two thousand two hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Manasseh.
Num 1:36 Of the descendants of Benjamin, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:37 thirty-five thousand four hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Benjamin.
Num 1:38 Of the descendants of Dan, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:39 sixty-two thousand seven hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Dan.
Num 1:40 Of the descendants of Asher, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:41 forty-one thousand five hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Asher.
Num 1:42 Of the descendants of Naphtali, registered by lineage in clans and ancestral houses: when all the males of twenty years or more who were fit for military service were polled,
Num 1:43 fifty-three thousand four hundred were enrolled in the tribe of Naphtali.
Num 1:44 It was these who were registered, each according to his ancestral house, in the census taken by Moses and Aaron and the twelve princes of Israel.
Num 1:45 The total number of the Israelites of twenty years or more who were fit for military service, registered by ancestral houses,
Num 1:46 was six hundred and three thousand, five hundred and fifty.
Num 1:47 The Levites, however, were not registered by ancestral tribe with the others.
Num 1:48 For the LORD had told Moses,
Num 1:49 "The tribe of Levi alone you shall not enroll nor include in the census along with the other Israelites.
Num 1:50 You are to give the Levites charge of the Dwelling of the commandments with all its equipment and all that belongs to it. It is they who shall carry the Dwelling with all its equipment and who shall be its ministers. They shall therefore camp around the Dwelling.
Num 1:51 When the Dwelling is to move on, the Levites shall take it down; when the Dwelling is to be pitched, it is the Levites who shall set it up. Any layman who comes near it shall be put to death.
Num 1:52 While the other Israelites shall camp by companies, each in his own division of the camp,
Num 1:53 the Levites shall camp around the Dwelling of the commandments. Otherwise God's wrath will strike the Israelite community. The Levites, then, shall have charge of the Dwelling of the commandments."
Num 1:54 All this the Israelites fulfilled as the LORD had commanded Moses.
Num 2:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron:
Num 2:2 "The Israelites shall camp, each in his own division, under the ensigns of their ancestral houses. They shall camp around the meeting tent, but at some distance from it.
Num 2:3 "Encamped on the east side, toward the sunrise, shall be the divisional camp of Judah, arranged in companies. (The prince of the Judahites was Nahshon, son of Amminadab, Num 2:4 and his soldiers amounted in the census to seventy-four thousand six hundred.)
Num 2:5 With Judah shall camp the tribe of Issachar (Their prince was Nethanel, son of Zuar, Num 2:6 and his soldiers amounted in the census to fifty-four thousand four hundred.)
Num 2:7 and the tribe of Zebulun. (Their prince was Eliab, son of Helon,
Num 2:8 and his soldiers amounted in the census to fifty-seven thousand four hundred.
Num 2:9 The total number of those registered by companies in the camp of Judah was one hundred and eighty-six thousand four hundred.) These shall be first on the march.
Num 2:10 "On the south side shall be the divisional camp of Reuben, arranged in companies. (Their prince was Elizur, son of Shedeur, Num 2:11 and his soldiers amounted in the census to forty-six thousand five hundred.)

Num 2:12 Beside them shall camp the tribe of Simeon (Their prince was Shelumiel, son of Zurishaddai, Num 2:13 and his soldiers amounted in the census to fifty-nine thousand three hundred.)
Num 2:14 and next the tribe of Gad. (Their prince was Eliasaph, son of Reuel,
Num 2:15 and his soldiers amounted in the census to forty-five thousand six hundred and fifty.
Num 2:16 The total number of those registered by companies in the camp of Reuben was one hundred and fifty-one thousand four hundred and fifty.) These shall be second on the march.
Num 2:17 "Then the meeting tent and the camp of the Levites shall set out in the middle of the line. As in camp, so also on the march, every man shall be in his proper place, with his own division.
Num 2:18 "On the west side shall be the divisional camp of Ephraim, arranged in companies. (Their prince was Elishama, son of Ammihud, Num 2:19 and his soldiers amounted in the census to forty thousand five hundred.)
Num 2:20 Beside them shall camp the tribe of Manasseh (Their prince was Gamaliel, son of Pedahzur, Num 2:21 and his soldiers amounted in the census to thirty-two thousand two hundred.)
Num 2:22 and the tribe of Benjamin. (Their prince was Abidan, son of Gideoni,
Num 2:23 and his soldiers amounted in the census to thirty-five thousand four hundred.
Num 2:24 The total number of those registered by companies in the camp of Ephraim was one hundred and eight thousand one hundred.) These shall be third on the march.
Num 2:25 "On the north side shall be the divisional camp of Dan, arranged in companies. (Their prince was Ahiezer, son of Ammishaddai, Num 2:26 and his soldiers amounted in the census to sixty-two thousand seven hundred.)
Num 2:27 Beside them shall camp the tribe of Asher (Their prince was Pagiel, son of Ochran, Num 2:28 and his soldiers amounted in the census to forty-one thousand five hundred.)
Num 2:29 and next the tribe of Naphtali. (Their prince was Ahira, son of Enan,
Num 2:30 and his soldiers amounted in the census to fifty-three thousand four hundred.
Num 2:31 The total number of those registered by companies in the camp of Dan was one hundred and fifty-seven thousand six hundred.) These shall be the last of the divisions on the march."
Num 2:32 This was the census of the Israelites taken by ancestral houses. The total number of those registered by companies in the camps was six hundred and three thousand five hundred and fifty.
Num 2:33 The Levites, however, were not registered with the other Israelites, for so the LORD had commanded Moses.
Num 2:34 The Israelites did just as the LORD had commanded Moses; both in camp and on the march they were in their own divisions, every man according to his clan and his ancestral house.
Num 3:1 The following were the descendants of Aaron and Moses at the time that the LORD spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai.
Num 3:2 The sons of Aaron were Nadab his first-born, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.
Num 3:3 These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the anointed priests who were ordained to exercise the priesthood.
Num 3:4 But when Nadab and Abihu offered profane fire before the LORD in the desert of Sinai, they met death in the presence of the LORD, and left no sons. Thereafter only Eleazar and Ithamar performed the priestly functions under the direction of their father Aaron.
Num 3:5 Now the LORD said to Moses:
Num 3:6 "Summon the tribe of Levi and present them to Aaron the priest, as his assistants.
Num 3:7 They shall discharge his obligations and those of the whole community before the meeting tent by serving at the Dwelling.
Num 3:8 They shall have custody of all the furnishings of the meeting tent and discharge the duties of the Israelites in the service of the Dwelling.
Num 3:9 You shall give the Levites to Aaron and his sons; they have been set aside from among the Israelites as dedicated to me.
Num 3:10 But only Aaron and his descendants shall you appoint to have charge of the priestly functions. Any layman who comes near shall be put to death."
Num 3:11 The LORD said to Moses,
Num 3:12 "It is I who have chosen the Levites from the Israelites in place of every first-born that opens the womb among the Israelites. The Levites, therefore, are mine, Num 3:13 because every first-born is mine. When I slew all the first-born in the land of Egypt, I made all the first-born in Israel sacred to me, both of man and of beast. They belong to me; I am the LORD."
Num 3:14 The LORD said to Moses in the desert of Sinai,
Num 3:15 "Take a census of the Levites by ancestral houses and clans, registering every male of a month or more."
Num 3:16 Moses, therefore, took their census in accordance with the command the LORD had given him.

Num 3:17 The sons of Levi were named Gershon, Kohath and Merari.

Num 3:18 The descendants of Gershon, by clans, were named Libni and Shimei.

Num 3:19 The descendants of Kohath, by clans, were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Uzziel.

Num 3:20 The descendants of Merari, by clans, were Mahli and Mushi. These were the clans of the Levites by ancestral houses.

Num 3:21 To Gershon belonged the clan of the Libnites and the clan of the Shimeites; these were the clans of the Gershonites.

Num 3:22 When all their males of a month or more were registered, they numbered seven thousand five hundred.

Num 3:23 The clans of the Gershonites camped behind the Dwelling, to the west.

Num 3:24 The prince of their ancestral house was Eliasaph, son of Lael.

Num 3:25 At the meeting tent they had charge of whatever pertained to the Dwelling, the tent and its covering, the curtain at the entrance of the meeting tent,

Num 3:26 the hangings of the court, the curtain at the entrance of the court enclosing both the Dwelling and the altar, and the ropes.

Num 3:27 To Kohath belonged the clans of the Amramites, the Izharites, the Hebronites, and the Uzzielites; these were the clans of the Kohathites.

Num 3:28 When all their males of a month or more were registered, they numbered eight thousand three hundred. They had charge of the sanctuary.

Num 3:29 The clans of the Kohathites camped at the south side of the Dwelling.

Num 3:30 The prince of their ancestral house was Elizaphan, son of Uzziel.

Num 3:31 They had charge of whatever pertained to the ark, the table, the lampstand, the altars, the utensils with which the ministry of the sanctuary was exercised, and the veil.

Num 3:32 The chief prince of the Levites, however, was Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest; he was supervisor over those who had charge of the sanctuary.

Num 3:33 To Merari belonged the clans of the Mahlites and the Mushites; these were the clans of Merari.

Num 3:34 When all their males of a month or more were registered, they numbered six thousand two hundred.

Num 3:35 The prince of the ancestral house of the clans of Merari was Zuriel, son of Abihail. They camped at the north side of the Dwelling.

Num 3:36 The Merarites were charged with the care of whatever pertained to the boards of the Dwelling, its bars, columns, pedestals, and all its fittings,

Num 3:37 as well as the columns of the surrounding court with their pedestals, pegs and ropes.

Num 3:38 East of the Dwelling, that is, in front of the meeting tent, toward the sunrise, were camped Moses and Aaron and the latter's sons. They discharged the obligations of the sanctuary for the Israelites. Any layman who came near was to be put to death.

Num 3:39 The total number of male Levites a month old or more whom Moses had registered by clans in keeping with the LORD'S command, was twenty-two thousand.

Num 3:40 The LORD then said to Moses, "Take a census of all the first-born males of the Israelites a month old or more, and compute their total number.

Num 3:41 Then assign the Levites to me, the LORD, in place of all the first-born of the Israelites, as well as their cattle in place of all the first-born among the cattle of the Israelites."

Num 3:42 So Moses took a census of all the first-born of the Israelites, as the LORD had commanded him.

Num 3:43 When all the first-born males of a month or more were registered, they numbered twenty-two thousand two hundred and seventy-three.

Num 3:44 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 3:45 "Take the Levites in place of all the first-born of the Israelites, and the Levites' cattle in place of their cattle, that the Levites may belong to me. I am the LORD.

Num 3:46 As ransom for the two hundred and seventy-three first-born of the Israelites who outnumber the Levites,

Num 3:47 you shall take five shekels for each individual, according to the standard of the sanctuary shekel, twenty gerahs to the shekel.

Num 3:48 Give this silver to Aaron and his sons as ransom for the extra number."

Num 3:49 So Moses took the silver as ransom from those who were left when the rest had been redeemed by the Levites.

Num 3:50 From the first-born of the Israelites he received in silver one thousand three hundred and sixty-five shekels according to the sanctuary standard.

Num 3:51 He then gave this ransom silver to Aaron and his sons, as the LORD had commanded him.

Num 4:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron:

Num 4:2 "Among the Levites take a total of the Kohathites, by clans and ancestral houses, all the men of the

Kohathites

Num 4:3 between thirty and fifty years of age; these are to undertake obligatory tasks in the meeting tent.

Num 4:4 "The service of the Kohathites in the meeting tent concerns the most sacred objects.

Num 4:5 In breaking camp, Aaron and his sons shall go in and take down the screening curtain and cover the ark of the commandments with it.

Num 4:6 Over these they shall put a cover of tahash skin, and on top of this spread an all-violet cloth. They shall then put the poles in place.

Num 4:7 On the table of the Presence they shall spread a violet cloth and put on it the plates and cups, as well as the bowls and pitchers for libations; the established bread offering shall remain on the table.

Num 4:8 Over these they shall spread a scarlet cloth and cover all this with tahash skin. They shall then put the poles in place.

Num 4:9 They shall use a violet cloth to cover the lampstand with its lamps, trimming shears, and trays, as well as the various containers of oil from which it is supplied.

Num 4:10 The lampstand with all its utensils they shall then enclose in a covering of tahash skin, and place on a litter.

Num 4:11 Over the golden altar they shall spread a violet cloth, and cover this also with a covering of tahash skin. They shall then put the poles in place.

Num 4:12 Taking the utensils of the sanctuary service, they shall wrap them all in violet cloth and cover them with tahash skin. They shall then place them on a litter.

Num 4:13 After cleansing the altar of its ashes, they shall spread a purple cloth over it.

Num 4:14 On this they shall put all the utensils with which it is served: the fire pans, forks, shovels, basins, and all the utensils of the altar. They shall then spread a covering of tahash skin over this, and put the poles in place.

Num 4:15 "Only after Aaron and his sons have finished covering the sacred objects and all their utensils on breaking camp, shall the Kohathites enter to carry them. But they shall not touch the sacred objects; if they do they will die. These, then, are the objects in the meeting tent that the Kohathites shall carry.

Num 4:16 "Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest, shall be in charge of the oil for the light, the fragrant incense, the established cereal offering, and the anointing oil. He shall be in charge of the whole Dwelling with all the sacred objects and utensils that are in it."

Num 4:17 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron:

Num 4:18 "Do not let the group of Kohathite clans perish from the body of the Levites.

Num 4:19 That they may live and not die when they approach the most sacred objects, this is what you shall do for them: Aaron and his sons shall go in and assign to each of them his task and what he must carry;

Num 4:20 but the Kohathites shall not go in to look upon the sacred objects, even for an instant; if they do, they will die."

Num 4:21 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 4:22 "Take a total among the Gershonites also, by ancestral houses and clans,

Num 4:23 of all the men between thirty and fifty years of age; these are to undertake obligatory tasks in the meeting tent.

Num 4:24 This is the task of the clans of the Gershonites, what they must do and what they must carry:

Num 4:25 they shall carry the sheets of the Dwelling, the meeting tent with its covering and the outer wrapping of tahash skin, the curtain at the entrance of the meeting tent,

Num 4:26 the hangings of the court, the curtain at the entrance of the court that encloses both the Dwelling and the altar, together with their ropes and all other objects necessary in their use. Whatever is to be done with these things shall be their task.

Num 4:27 The service of the Gershonites shall be entirely under the direction of Aaron and his sons, with regard to what they must do and what they must carry; you shall make each man of them responsible for what he is to carry.

Num 4:28 This, then, is the task of the Gershonites in the meeting tent; and they shall be under the supervision of Ithamar, son of Aaron the priest.

Num 4:29 "Among the Merarites, too, you shall enroll by clans and ancestral houses

Num 4:30 all their men between thirty and fifty years of age; these are to undertake obligatory tasks in the meeting tent.

Num 4:31 This is what they shall be responsible for carrying, all the years of their service in the meeting tent: the boards of the Dwelling with its bars, columns and pedestals,

Num 4:32 and the columns of the surrounding court with their pedestals, pegs and ropes. You shall designate for each man of them all the objects connected with his service, which he shall be responsible for carrying.

Num 4:33 This, then, is the task of the clans of the Merarites during all their service in the meeting tent under the supervision of Ithamar, son of Aaron the priest."

Num 4:34 So Moses and Aaron and the princes of the community made a registration among the Kohathites, by clans and ancestral houses,

Num 4:35 of all the men between thirty and fifty years of age. These were to undertake obligatory tasks in the meeting tent;

Num 4:36 as registered by clans, they numbered two thousand seven hundred and fifty.

Num 4:37 Such was the census of all the men of the Kohathite clans who were to serve in the meeting tent, which Moses took, together with Aaron, as the LORD bade him.

Num 4:38 The registration was then made among the Gershonites, by clans and ancestral houses,

Num 4:39 of all the men between thirty and fifty years of age. These were to undertake obligatory tasks in the meeting tent;

Num 4:40 as registered by clans and ancestral houses, they numbered two thousand six hundred and thirty.

Num 4:41 Such was the census of all the men of the Gershonite clans who were to serve in the meeting tent, which Moses took, together with Aaron, at the LORD'S bidding.

Num 4:42 Then the registration was made among the Merarites, by clans and ancestral houses,

Num 4:43 of all the men from thirty up to fifty years of age. These were to undertake obligatory tasks in the meeting tent;

Num 4:44 as registered by clans, they numbered three thousand two hundred.

Num 4:45 Such was the census of the men of the Merarite clans which Moses took, together with Aaron, as the LORD bade him.

Num 4:46 Therefore, when Moses and Aaron and the Israelites princes had completed the registration among the Levites, by clans and ancestral houses,

Num 4:47 of all the men between thirty and fifty years of age who were to undertake tasks of service or transport of the meeting tent,

Num 4:48 the total number registered was eight thousand five hundred and eighty.

Num 4:49 According to the LORD'S bidding to Moses, they gave them their individual assignments for service and for transport; so the LORD had commanded Moses.

Num 5:1 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 5:2 "Order the Israelites to expel from camp every leper, and everyone suffering from a discharge, and everyone who has become unclean by contact with a corpse.

Num 5:3 Male and female alike, you shall compel them to go out of the camp; they are not to defile the camp in which I dwell."

Num 5:4 The Israelites obeyed the command that the LORD had given Moses; they expelled them from the camp.

Num 5:5 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 5:6 "Tell the Israelites: If a man (or a woman) commits a fault against his fellow man and wrongs him, thus breaking faith with the LORD,

Num 5:7 he shall confess the wrong he has done, restore his ill-gotten goods in full, and in addition give one fifth of their value to the one he has wronged.

Num 5:8 However, if the latter has no next of kin to whom restoration of the ill-gotten goods can be made, the goods to be restored shall be the LORD'S and shall fall to the priest; this is apart from the atonement ram with which the priest makes amends for the guilty man.

Num 5:9 Likewise, every sacred contribution that the Israelites are bound to make shall fall to the priest.

Num 5:10 Each Israelite man may dispose of his own sacred contributions; they become the property of the priest to whom he gives them."

Num 5:11 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 5:12 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: If a man's wife goes astray and becomes unfaithful to him

Num 5:13 by having intercourse with another man, though her husband has not sufficient evidence of the fact, so that her impurity remains unproved for lack of a witness who might have caught her in the act;

Num 5:14 or if a man is overcome by a feeling of jealousy that makes him suspect his wife, whether she was actually impure or not:

Num 5:15 he shall bring his wife to the priest and shall take along as an offering for her a tenth of an ephah of barley meal. However, he shall not pour oil on it nor put frankincense over it, since it is a cereal offering of jealousy, a cereal offering for an appeal in a question of guilt.

Num 5:16 "The priest shall first have the woman come forward and stand before the LORD.

Num 5:17 In an earthen vessel he shall meanwhile put some holy water, as well as some dust that he has taken from the floor of the Dwelling.

Num 5:18 Then, as the woman stands before the LORD, the priest shall uncover her head and place in her hands the cereal offering of her appeal, that is, the cereal offering of jealousy, while he himself shall hold the bitter water that brings a curse.

Num 5:19 Then he shall adjure the woman, saying to her, 'If no other man has had intercourse with you, and you have not gone astray by impurity while under the authority of your husband, be immune to the curse brought by this bitter water.

Num 5:20 But if you have gone astray while under the authority of your husband and have acted impurely by letting a man other than your husband have intercourse with you'--

Num 5:21 so shall the priest adjure the woman with this oath of imprecation-- 'may the LORD make you an example of malediction and imprecation among your people by causing your thighs to waste away and your belly to swell!

Num 5:22 May this water, then, that brings a curse, enter your body to make your belly swell and your thighs waste away!' And the woman shall say, 'Amen, amen!'

Num 5:23 The priest shall put these imprecations in writing and shall then wash them off into the bitter water, Num 5:24 which he is to have the woman drink, so that it may go into her with all its bitter curse.

Num 5:25 But first he shall take the cereal offering of jealousy from the woman's hand, and having waved this offering before the LORD, shall put it near the altar,

Num 5:26 where he shall take a handful of the cereal offering as its token offering and burn it on the altar. Only then shall he have the woman drink the water.

Num 5:27 Once she has done so, if she has been impure and unfaithful to her husband, this bitter water that brings a curse will go into her, and her belly will swell and her thighs will waste away, so that she will become an example of imprecation among her people.

Num 5:28 If, however, the woman has not defiled herself, but is still pure, she will be immune and will still be able to bear children.

Num 5:29 "This, then, is the law for jealousy: When a woman goes astray while under the authority of her husband and acts impurely,

Num 5:30 or when such a feeling of jealousy comes over a man that he becomes suspicious of his wife, he shall have her stand before the LORD, and the priest shall apply this law in full to her.

Num 5:31 The man shall be free from guilt, but the woman shall bear such guilt as she may have."

Num 6:1 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 6:2 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When a man (or a woman) solemnly takes the nazirite vow to dedicate himself to the LORD,

Num 6:3 he shall abstain from wine and strong drink; he may neither drink wine vinegar, other vinegar, of any kind of grape juice, nor eat either fresh or dried grapes.

Num 6:4 As long as he is a nazirite he shall not eat anything of the produce of the vine; not even unripe grapes or grapeskins.

Num 6:5 While he is under the nazirite vow, no razor shall touch his hair. Until the period of his dedication to the LORD is over, he shall be sacred, and shall let the hair of his head grow freely.

Num 6:6 As long as he is dedicated to the LORD, he shall not enter where a dead person is.

Num 6:7 Not even for his father or mother, his sister or brother, should they die, may he become unclean, since his head bears his dedication to God.

Num 6:8 As long as he is a nazirite he is sacred to the LORD.

Num 6:9 "If someone dies very suddenly in his presence, so that his dedicated head becomes unclean, he shall shave his head on the day of his purification, that is, on the seventh day.

Num 6:10 On the eighth day he shall bring two turtledoves or two pigeons to the priest at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Num 6:11 The priest shall offer up the one as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust, thus making atonement for him for the sin he has committed by reason of the dead person. On the same day he shall reconsecrate his head

Num 6:12 and begin anew the period of his dedication to the LORD as a nazirite, bringing a yearling lamb as a guilt offering. The previous period is not valid, because his dedicated head became unclean.

Num 6:13 "This is the ritual for the nazirite: On the day he completes the period of his dedication he shall go to the entrance of the meeting tent,

Num 6:14 bringing as his offering to the LORD one unblemished yearling lamb for a holocaust, one unblemished yearling ewe lamb for a sin offering, one unblemished ram as a peace offering, along with their cereal offerings and libations,

Num 6:15 and a basket of unleavened cakes of fine flour mixed with oil and of unleavened wafers spread with oil.

Num 6:16 The priest shall present them before the LORD, and shall offer up the sin offering and the holocaust for him.

Num 6:17 He shall then offer up the ram as a peace offering to the LORD, with its cereal offering and libation, and the basket of unleavened cakes.

Num 6:18 Then at the entrance of the meeting tent the nazirite shall shave his dedicated head, collect the hair, and put it in the fire that is under the peace offering.

Num 6:19 After the nazirite has shaved off his dedicated hair, the priest shall take a boiled shoulder of the ram, as well as one unleavened cake and one unleavened wafer from the basket, and shall place them in the hands of the nazirite.

Num 6:20 The priest shall then wave them as a wave offering before the LORD. They become sacred and shall belong to the priest, along with the breast of the wave offering and the leg of the raised offering. Only after this may the nazirite drink wine.

Num 6:21 "This, then, is the law for the nazirite; this is the offering to the LORD which is included in his vow of dedication apart from anything else which his means may allow. Thus shall he carry out the law of his dedication in keeping with the vow he has taken."

Num 6:22 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 6:23 "Speak to Aaron and his sons and tell them: This is how you shall bless the Israelites. Say to them:

Num 6:24 The LORD bless you and keep you!

Num 6:25 The LORD let his face shine upon you, and be gracious to you!

Num 6:26 The LORD look upon you kindly and give you peace!

Num 6:27 So shall they invoke my name upon the Israelites, and I will bless them."

Num 7:1 Now, when Moses had completed the erection of the Dwelling and had anointed and consecrated it with all its equipment (as well as the altar with all its equipment),

Num 7:2 an offering was made by the princes of Israel, who were heads of ancestral houses; the same princes of the tribes who supervised the census.

Num 7:3 The offering they brought before the LORD consisted of six baggage wagons and twelve oxen, that is, a wagon for every two princes, and an ox for every prince. These they presented as their offering before the Dwelling.

Num 7:4 The LORD then said to Moses,

Num 7:5 "Accept their offering, that these things may be put to use in the service of the meeting tent. Assign them to the Levites, to each group in proportion to its duties."

Num 7:6 So Moses accepted the wagons and oxen, and assigned them to the Levites.

Num 7:7 He gave two wagons and four oxen to the Gershonites in proportion to their duties,

Num 7:8 and four wagons and eight oxen to the Merarites in proportion to their duties, under the supervision of Ithamar, son of Aaron the priest.

Num 7:9 He gave none to the Kohathites, because they had to carry on their shoulders the sacred objects which were their charge.

Num 7:10 For the dedication of the altar also, the princes brought offerings before the altar on the day it was anointed.

Num 7:11 But the LORD said to Moses, "Let one prince a day present his offering for the dedication of the altar."

Num 7:12 The one who presented his offering on the first day was Nahshon, son of Amminadab, prince of the tribe of Judah.

Num 7:13 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;

Num 7:14 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;

Num 7:15 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;

Num 7:16 one goat for a sin offering;

Num 7:17 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Nahshon, son of Amminadab.

Num 7:18 On the second day Nethanel, son of Zuar, prince of Issachar, made his offering.

Num 7:19 He presented as his offering one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;

Num 7:20 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;

Num 7:21 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;

Num 7:22 one goat for a sin offering;

Num 7:23 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Nethanel, son of Zuar.

Num 7:24 On the third day it was the turn of Eliab, son of Helon, prince of the Zebulunites.

Num 7:25 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;

Num 7:26 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:27 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:28 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:29 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Eliab, son of Helon.
Num 7:30 On the fourth day it was the turn of Elizur, son of Shedeur, prince of the Reubenites.
Num 7:31 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;
Num 7:32 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:33 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:34 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:35 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Elizur, son of Shedeur.
Num 7:36 On the fifth day it was the turn of Shelumiel, son of Zurishaddai, prince of the Simeonites.
Num 7:37 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;
Num 7:38 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:39 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:40 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:41 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Shelumiel, son of Zurishaddai.
Num 7:42 On the sixth day it was the turn of Eliasaph, son of Reuel, prince of the Gadites.
Num 7:43 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;
Num 7:44 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:45 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:46 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:47 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Eliasaph, son of Reuel.
Num 7:48 On the seventh day it was the turn of Elishama, son of Ammihud, prince of the Ephraimites.
Num 7:49 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;
Num 7:50 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:51 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:52 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:53 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Elishama, son of Ammihud.
Num 7:54 On the eighth day it was the turn of Gamaliel, son of Pedahzur, prince of the Manassehites.
Num 7:55 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;
Num 7:56 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:57 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:58 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:59 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Gamaliel, son of Pedahzur.
Num 7:60 On the ninth day it was the turn of Abidan, son of Gideon, prince of the Benjaminites.
Num 7:61 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;
Num 7:62 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;
Num 7:63 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;
Num 7:64 one goat for a sin offering;
Num 7:65 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Abidan, son of Gideon.

Num 7:66 On the tenth day it was the turn of Ahiezer, son of Ammishaddai, prince of the Danites.

Num 7:67 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;

Num 7:68 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;

Num 7:69 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;

Num 7:70 one goat for a sin offering;

Num 7:71 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Ahiezer, son of Ammishaddai.

Num 7:72 On the eleventh day it was the turn of Pagiel, son of Ocran, prince of the Asherites.

Num 7:73 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing one hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;

Num 7:74 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;

Num 7:75 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;

Num 7:76 one goat for a sin offering;

Num 7:77 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Pagiel, son of Ocran.

Num 7:78 On the twelfth day it was the turn of Ahira, son of Enan, prince of the Naphtalites.

Num 7:79 His offering consisted of one silver plate weighing a hundred and thirty shekels according to the sanctuary standard and one silver basin weighing seventy shekels, both filled with fine flour mixed with oil for a cereal offering;

Num 7:80 one gold cup of ten shekels' weight filled with incense;

Num 7:81 one young bull, one ram, and one yearling lamb for a holocaust;

Num 7:82 one goat for a sin offering;

Num 7:83 and two oxen, five rams, five goats, and five yearling lambs for a peace offering. This was the offering of Ahira, son of Enan.

Num 7:84 These were the offerings for the dedication of the altar, given by the princes of Israel on the occasion of its anointing: twelve silver plates, twelve silver basins, and twelve gold cups.

Num 7:85 Each silver plate weighed a hundred and thirty shekels, and each silver basin seventy, so that all the silver of these vessels amounted to two thousand four hundred shekels, according to the sanctuary standard.

Num 7:86 The twelve gold cups that were filled with incense weighed ten shekels apiece, according to the sanctuary standard, so that all the gold of the cups amounted to one hundred and twenty shekels.

Num 7:87 The animals for the holocausts were, in all, twelve young bulls, twelve rams, and twelve yearling lambs, with their cereal offerings; those for the sin offerings were twelve goats.

Num 7:88 The animals for the peace offerings were, in all, twenty-four oxen, sixty rams, sixty goats, and sixty yearling lambs. These, then, were the offerings for the dedication of the altar after it was anointed.

Num 7:89 When Moses entered the meeting tent to speak with him, he heard the voice addressing him from above the propitiatory on the ark of the commandments, from between the two cherubim; and it spoke to him....

Num 8:1 The LORD spoke to Moses, and said,

Num 8:2 "Give Aaron this command: When you set up the seven lamps, have them throw their light toward the front of the lampstand."

Num 8:3 Aaron did so, setting up the lamps to face toward the front of the lampstand, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Num 8:4 The lampstand was made of beaten gold in both its shaft and its branches, according to the pattern which the LORD had shown Moses.

Num 8:5 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 8:6 "Take the Levites from among the Israelites and purify them.

Num 8:7 This is what you shall do to them to purify them. Sprinkle them with the water of remission; then have them shave their whole bodies and wash their clothes, and so purify themselves.

Num 8:8 They shall take a young bull, along with its cereal offering of fine flour mixed with oil; you shall take another young bull for a sin offering.

Num 8:9 Then have the Levites come forward in front of the meeting tent, where you shall assemble also the whole community of the Israelites.

Num 8:10 While the Levites are present before the LORD, the Israelites shall lay their hands upon them.

Num 8:11 Let Aaron then offer the Levites before the LORD as a wave offering from the Israelites, thus devoting them to the service of the LORD.

Num 8:12 The Levites in turn shall lay their hands on the heads of the bullocks, which shall then be immolated, the one as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust to the LORD, in atonement for the Levites.

Num 8:13 Thus, then, shall you have the Levites stand before Aaron and his sons, to be offered as a wave offering to the LORD;

Num 8:14 and thus shall you set aside the Levites from the rest of the Israelites, that they may be mine.

Num 8:15 "Only then shall the Levites enter upon their service in the meeting tent. You shall purify them and offer them as a wave offering;

Num 8:16 because they, among the Israelites, are strictly dedicated to me; I have taken them for myself in place of every first-born that opens the womb among the Israelites.

Num 8:17 Indeed, all the first-born among the Israelites, both of man and of beast, belong to me; I consecrated them to myself on the day I slew all the first-born in the land of Egypt.

Num 8:18 But in place of all the first-born Israelites I have taken the Levites;

Num 8:19 and I have given these dedicated Israelites to Aaron and his sons to discharge the duties of the Israelites in the meeting tent and to make atonement for them, so that no plague may strike among the Israelites should they come near the sanctuary."

Num 8:20 Thus, then, did Moses and Aaron and the whole community of the Israelites deal with the Levites, carrying out exactly the command which the LORD had given Moses concerning them.

Num 8:21 When the Levites had cleansed themselves of sin and washed their clothes, Aaron offered them as a wave offering before the LORD, and made atonement for them to purify them.

Num 8:22 Only then did they enter upon their service in the meeting tent under the supervision of Aaron and his sons. The command which the LORD had given Moses concerning the Levites was carried out.

Num 8:23 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 8:24 "This is the rule for the Levites. Each from his twenty-fifth year onward shall perform the required service in the meeting tent.

Num 8:25 When he is fifty years old, he shall retire from the required service and work no longer.

Num 8:26 His service with his fellow Levites shall consist in sharing their responsibilities in the meeting tent, but he shall not do the work. This, then, is how you are to regulate the duties of the Levites."

Num 9:1 In the first month of the year following their departure from the land of Egypt, the Lord said to Moses in the desert of Sinai, Num 9:2 "Tell the Israelites to celebrate the Passover at the prescribed time.

Num 9:3 The evening twilight of the fourteenth day of this month is the prescribed time when you shall celebrate it, observing all its rules and regulations."

Num 9:4 Moses, therefore, told the Israelites to celebrate the Passover.

Num 9:5 And they did so, celebrating the Passover in the desert of Sinai during the evening twilight of the fourteenth day of the first month, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Num 9:6 There were some, however, who were unclean because of a human corpse and so could not keep the Passover that day. These men came up to Moses and Aaron that same day

Num 9:7 and said, "Although we are unclean because of a corpse, why should we be deprived of presenting the LORD'S offering at its proper time along with the other Israelites?"

Num 9:8 Moses answered them, "Wait until I learn what the LORD will command in your regard."

Num 9:9 The LORD then said to Moses:

Num 9:10 "Speak to the Israelites and say: If any one of you or of your descendants is unclean because of a corpse, or if he is absent on a journey, he may still keep the LORD'S Passover.

Num 9:11 But he shall keep it in the second month, during the evening twilight of the fourteenth day of that month, eating it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs,

Num 9:12 and not leaving any of it over till morning, nor breaking any of its bones, but observing all the rules of the Passover.

Num 9:13 However, anyone who is clean and not away on a journey, who yet fails to keep the Passover, shall be cut off from his people, because he did not present the LORD'S offering at the prescribed time. That man shall bear the consequences of his sin.

Num 9:14 "If an alien who lives among you wishes to keep the LORD'S Passover, he too shall observe the rules and regulations for the Passover. You shall have the same law for the resident alien as for the native of the land."

Num 9:15 On the day when the Dwelling was erected, the cloud covered the Dwelling, the tent of the commandments; but from evening until morning it took on the appearance of fire over the Dwelling.

Num 9:16 It was always so: during the day the Dwelling was covered by the cloud, which at night had the appearance of fire.

Num 9:17 Whenever the cloud rose from the tent, the Israelites would break camp; wherever the cloud came to rest, they would pitch camp.

Num 9:18 At the bidding of the LORD the Israelites moved on, and at his bidding they encamped. As long as the cloud stayed over the Dwelling, they remained in camp.

Num 9:19 Even when the cloud tarried many days over the Dwelling, the Israelites obeyed the LORD and would not move on;

Num 9:20 yet sometimes the cloud was over the Dwelling only for a few days. It was at the bidding of the LORD that they stayed in camp, and it was at his bidding that they departed.

Num 9:21 Sometimes the cloud remained there only from evening until morning; and when it rose in the morning, they would depart. Or if the cloud lifted during the day, or even at night, they would then set out.

Num 9:22 Whether the cloud tarried over the Dwelling for two days or for a month or longer, the Israelites remained in camp and did not depart; but when it lifted, they moved on.

Num 9:23 Thus, it was always at the bidding of the LORD that they encamped, and at his bidding that they set out; ever heeding the charge of the LORD, as he had bidden them through Moses.

Num 10:1 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 10:2 "Make two trumpets of beaten silver, which you shall use in assembling the community and in breaking camp.

Num 10:3 When both are blown, the whole community shall gather round you at the entrance of the meeting tent;

Num 10:4 but when one of them is blown, only the princes, the chiefs of the troops of Israel, shall gather round you.

Num 10:5 When you sound the first alarm, those encamped on the east side shall set out;

Num 10:6 when you sound the second alarm, those encamped on the south side shall set out; when you sound the third alarm, those encamped on the west side shall set out; when you sound the fourth alarm, those encamped on the north side shall set out. Thus shall the alarm be sounded for them to depart.

Num 10:7 But in calling forth an assembly you are to blow an ordinary blast, without sounding the alarm.

Num 10:8 "It is the sons of Aaron, the priests, who shall blow the trumpets; and the use of them is prescribed by perpetual statute for you and your descendants.

Num 10:9 When in your own land you go to war against an enemy that is attacking you, you shall sound the alarm on the trumpets, and the LORD, your God, will remember you and save you from your foes.

Num 10:10 On your days of celebration, your festivals, and your new-moon feasts, you shall blow the trumpets over your holocausts and your peace offerings; this will serve as a reminder of you before your God. I, the LORD, am your God."

Num 10:11 In the second year, on the twentieth day of the second month, the cloud rose from the Dwelling of the commandments.

Num 10:12 The Israelites moved on from the desert of Sinai by stages, until the cloud came to rest in the desert of Paran.

Num 10:13 The first time that they broke camp at the bidding of the LORD through Moses,

Num 10:14 the camp of the Judahites, under its own standard and arranged in companies, was the first to set out. Nahshon, son of Amminadab, was over their host,

Num 10:15 and Nethanel, son of Zuar, over the host of the tribe of Issachar,

Num 10:16 and Eliab, son of Helon, over the host of the tribe of Zebulun.

Num 10:17 Then, after the Dwelling was dismantled, the clans of Gershon and Merari set out, carrying the Dwelling.

Num 10:18 The camp of the Reubenites, under its own standard and arranged in companies, was the next to set out, with Elizur, son of Shedeur, over their host,

Num 10:19 and Shelumiel, son of Zurishaddai, over the host of the tribe of Simeon,

Num 10:20 and Eliasaph, son of Reuel, over the host of the tribe of Gad.

Num 10:21 The clan of Kohath then set out, carrying the sacred objects for the Dwelling, which was to be erected before their arrival.

Num 10:22 The camp of the Ephraimites next set out, under its own standard and arranged in companies, with Elishama, son of Ammihud, over their host,

Num 10:23 and Gamaliel, son of Pedahzur, over the host of the tribe of Manasseh,

Num 10:24 and Abidan, son of Gideoni, over the host of the tribe of Benjamin.

Num 10:25 Finally, as rear guard for all the camps, the camp of the Danites set out, under its own standard and arranged in companies, with Ahiezer, son of Ammishaddai, over their host,

Num 10:26 and Pagiel, son of Ochran, over the host of the tribe of Asher,

Num 10:27 and Ahira, son of Enan, over the host of the tribe of Naphtali.

Num 10:28 This was the order of departure for the Israelites, company by company. As they were setting out,

Num 10:29 Moses said to his brother-in-law Hobab, son of Reuel the Midianite, "We are setting out for the place which the LORD has promised to give us. Come with us, and we will be generous toward you, for the LORD has promised prosperity to Israel."

Num 10:30 But he answered, "No, I will not come. I am going instead to my own country and to my own kindred."

Num 10:31 Moses said, "Please, do not leave us; you know where we can camp in the desert, and you will serve as eyes for us.

Num 10:32 If you come with us, we will share with you the prosperity the LORD will bestow on us."

Num 10:33 They moved on from the mountain of the LORD, a three days' journey, and the ark of the covenant of the LORD which was to seek out their resting place went the three days' journey with them.

Num 10:34 And when they set out from camp, the cloud of the LORD was over them by day.

Num 10:35 Whenever the ark set out, Moses would say, "Arise, O LORD, that your enemies may be scattered, and those who hate you may flee before you."

Num 10:36 And when it came to rest, he would say, "Return, O LORD, you who ride upon the clouds, to the troops of Israel."

Num 11:1 Now the people complained in the hearing of the LORD; and when he heard it his wrath flared up so that the fire of the LORD burned among them and consumed the outskirts of the camp.

Num 11:2 But when the people cried out to Moses, he prayed to the LORD and the fire died out.

Num 11:3 Hence that place was called Taberah, because there the fire of the LORD burned among them.

Num 11:4 The foreign elements among them were so greedy for meat that even the Israelites lamented again, "Would that we had meat for food!

Num 11:5 We remember the fish we used to eat without cost in Egypt, and the cucumbers, the melons, the leeks, the onions, and the garlic.

Num 11:6 But now we are famished; we see nothing before us but this manna."

Num 11:7 Manna was like coriander seed and had the appearance of bdellium.

Num 11:8 When they had gone about and gathered it up, the people would grind it between millstones or pound it in a mortar, then cook it in a pot and make it into loaves, which tasted like cakes made with oil.

Num 11:9 At night, when the dew fell upon the camp, the manna also fell.

Num 11:10 When Moses heard the people, family after family, crying at the entrance of their tents, so that the LORD became very angry, he was grieved.

Num 11:11 "Why do you treat your servant so badly?" Moses asked the LORD. "Why are you so displeased with me that you burden me with all this people?

Num 11:12 Was it I who conceived all this people? or was it I who gave them birth, that you tell me to carry them at my bosom, like a foster father carrying an infant, to the land you have promised under oath to their fathers?

Num 11:13 Where can I get meat to give to all this people? For they are crying to me, 'Give us meat for our food.'

Num 11:14 I cannot carry all this people by myself, for they are too heavy for me.

Num 11:15 If this is the way you will deal with me, then please do me the favor of killing me at once, so that I need no longer face this distress."

Num 11:16 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Assemble for me seventy of the elders of Israel, men you know for true elders and authorities among the people, and bring them to the meeting tent. When they are in place beside you,

Num 11:17 I will come down and speak with you there. I will also take some of the spirit that is on you and will bestow it on them, that they may share the burden of the people with you. You will then not have to bear it by yourself.

Num 11:18 "To the people, however, you shall say: Sanctify yourselves for tomorrow, when you shall have meat to eat. For in the hearing of the LORD you have cried, 'Would that we had meat for food! Oh, how well off we were in Egypt!' Therefore the LORD will give you meat for food,

Num 11:19 and you will eat it, not for one day, or two days, or five, or ten, or twenty days,

Num 11:20 but for a whole month-- until it comes out of your very nostrils and becomes loathsome to you. For you have spurned the LORD who is in your midst, and in his presence you have wailed, 'Why did we ever leave Egypt?'"

Num 11:21 But Moses said, "The people around me include six hundred thousand soldiers; yet you say, 'I will give them meat to eat for a whole month.'

Num 11:22 Can enough sheep and cattle be slaughtered for them? If all the fish of the sea were caught for them, would they have enough?"

Num 11:23 The LORD answered Moses, "Is this beyond the LORD'S reach? You shall see now whether or not what I have promised you takes place."

Num 11:24 So Moses went out and told the people what the LORD had said. Gathering seventy elders of the people, he had them stand around the tent.

Num 11:25 The LORD then came down in the cloud and spoke to him. Taking some of the spirit that was on Moses, he bestowed it on the seventy elders; and as the spirit came to rest on them, they prophesied.

Num 11:26 Now two men, one named Eldad and the other Medad, were not in the gathering but had been left in the camp. They too had been on the list, but had not gone out to the tent; yet the spirit came to rest on them also, and they prophesied in the camp.

Num 11:27 So, when a young man quickly told Moses, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp,"

Num 11:28 Joshua, son of Nun, who from his youth had been Moses' aide, said, "Moses, my lord, stop them."

Num 11:29 But Moses answered him, "Are you jealous for my sake? Would that all the people of the LORD were prophets! Would that the LORD might bestow his spirit on them all!"

Num 11:30 Then Moses retired to the camp, along with the elders of Israel.

Num 11:31 There arose a wind sent by the LORD, that drove in quail from the sea and brought them down over the camp site at a height of two cubits from the ground for the distance of a day's journey all around the camp.

Num 11:32 All that day, all night, and all the next day the people gathered in the quail. Even the one who got the least gathered ten homers of them. Then they spread them out all around the camp.

Num 11:33 But while the meat was still between their teeth, before it could be consumed, the LORD'S wrath flared up against the people, and he struck them with a very great plague.

Num 11:34 So that place was named Kibroth-hattaavah, because it was there that the greedy people were buried.

Num 11:35 From Kibroth-hattaavah the people set out for Hazeroth.

Num 12:1 While they were in Hazeroth, Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses on the pretext of the marriage he had contracted with a Cushite woman.

Num 12:2 They complained, "Is it through Moses alone that the LORD speaks? Does he not speak through us also?" And the LORD heard this.

Num 12:3 Now, Moses himself was by far the meekest man on the face of the earth.

Num 12:4 So at once the LORD said to Moses and Aaron and Miriam, "Come out, you three, to the meeting tent." And the three of them went.

Num 12:5 Then the LORD came down in the column of cloud, and standing at the entrance of the tent, called Aaron and Miriam. When both came forward,

Num 12:6 he said, "Now listen to the words of the LORD: Should there be a prophet among you, in visions will I reveal myself to him, in dreams will I speak to him;

Num 12:7 Not so with my servant Moses! Throughout my house he bears my trust:

Num 12:8 face to face I speak to him, plainly and not in riddles. The presence of the LORD he beholds. Why, then, did you not fear to speak against my servant Moses?"

Num 12:9 So angry was the LORD against them that when he departed,

Num 12:10 and the cloud withdrew from the tent, there was Miriam, a snow-white leper! When Aaron turned and saw her a leper,

Num 12:11 "Ah, my lord!" he said to Moses, "please do not charge us with the sin that we have foolishly committed!

Num 12:12 Let her not thus be like the stillborn babe that comes forth from its mother's womb with its flesh half consumed."

Num 12:13 Then Moses cried to the LORD, "Please, not this! Pray, heal her!"

Num 12:14 But the LORD answered Moses, "Suppose her father had spit in her face, would she not hide in shame for seven days? Let her be confined outside the camp for seven days; only then may she be brought back."

Num 12:15 So Miriam was confined outside the camp for seven days, and the people did not start out again until she was brought back.

Num 12:16 After that the people set out from Hazeroth and encamped in the desert of Paran.

Num 13:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 13:2 "Send men to reconnoiter the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the Israelites. You shall send one man from each ancestral tribe, all of them princes."

Num 13:3 So Moses dispatched them from the desert of Paran, as the LORD had ordered. All of them were leaders among the Israelites;

Num 13:4 by name they were: Shammua, son of Zaccur, of the tribe of Reuben;

Num 13:5 Shaphat, son of Hori, of the tribe of Simeon;

Num 13:6 Caleb, son of Jephunneh, of the tribe of Judah;

Num 13:7 Igal (son of Joseph), of the tribe of Issachar;

Num 13:8 Hoshea, son of Nun, of the tribe of Ephraim;

Num 13:9 Palti, son of Raphu, of the tribe of Benjamin;

Num 13:10 Gaddiel, son of Sodi, of the tribe of Zebulun;

Num 13:11 Gaddi, son of Susi, of the tribe of Manasseh, for the Josephites, with

Num 13:12 Ammiel, son of Gemalli, of the tribe of Dan;

Num 13:13 Sethur, son of Michael, of the tribe of Asher;
Num 13:14 Nahbi, son of Vophsi, of the tribe of Naphtali;
Num 13:15 Geuel, son of Machi, of the tribe of Gad.
Num 13:16 These are the names of the men whom Moses sent out to reconnoiter the land. But Hoshea, son of Nun, Moses called Joshua.
Num 13:17 In sending them to reconnoiter the land of Canaan, Moses said to them, "Go up here in the Negeb, up into the highlands,
Num 13:18 and see what kind of land it is. Are the people living there strong or weak, few or many?
Num 13:19 Is the country in which they live good or bad? Are the towns in which they dwell open or fortified?
Num 13:20 Is the soil fertile or barren, wooded or clear? And do your best to get some of the fruit of the land." It was then the season for early grapes.
Num 13:21 So they went up and reconnoitered the land from the desert of Zin as far as where Rehob adjoins Labo of Hamath.
Num 13:22 Going up by way of the Negeb, they reached Hebron, where Ahiman, Sheshai and Talmi, descendants of the Anakim, were living. (Hebron had been built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)
Num 13:23 They also reached the Wadi Eshcol, where they cut down a branch with a single cluster of grapes on it, which two of them carried on a pole, as well as some pomegranates and figs.
Num 13:24 It was because of the cluster the Israelites cut there that they called the place Wadi Eshcol.
Num 13:25 After reconnoitering the land for forty days they returned,
Num 13:26 met Moses and Aaron and the whole community of the Israelites in the desert of Paran at Kadesh, made a report to them all, and showed them the fruit of the country.
Num 13:27 They told Moses: "We went into the land to which you sent us. It does indeed flow with milk and honey, and here is its fruit.
Num 13:28 However, the people who are living in the land are fierce, and the towns are fortified and very strong. Besides, we saw descendants of the Anakim there.
Num 13:29 Amalekites live in the region of the Negeb; Hittites, Jebusites and Amorites dwell in the highlands, and Canaanites along the seacoast and the banks of the Jordan."
Num 13:30 Caleb, however, to quiet the people toward Moses, said, "We ought to go up and seize the land, for we can certainly do so."
Num 13:31 But the men who had gone up with him said, "We cannot attack these people; they are too strong for us."
Num 13:32 So they spread discouraging reports among the Israelites about the land they had scouted, saying, "The land that we explored is a country that consumes its inhabitants. And all the people we saw there are huge men,
Num 13:33 veritable giants (the Anakim were a race of giants); we felt like mere grasshoppers, and so we must have seemed to them."
Num 14:1 At this, the whole community broke out with loud cries, and even in the night the people wailed.
Num 14:2 All the Israelites grumbled against Moses and Aaron, the whole community saying to them, "Would that we had died in the land of Egypt, or that here in the desert we were dead!
Num 14:3 Why is the LORD bringing us into this land only to have us fall by the sword? Our wives and little ones will be taken as booty. Would it not be better for us to return to Egypt?"
Num 14:4 So they said to one another, "Let us appoint a leader and go back to Egypt."
Num 14:5 But Moses and Aaron fell prostrate before the whole assembled community of the Israelites;
Num 14:6 while Joshua, son of Nun, and Caleb, son of Jephunneh, who had been in the party that scouted the land, tore their garments
Num 14:7 and said to the whole community of the Israelites, "The country which we went through and explored is a fine, rich land.
Num 14:8 If the LORD is pleased with us, he will bring us in and give us that land, a land flowing with milk and honey.
Num 14:9 But do not rebel against the LORD! You need not be afraid of the people of that land; they are but food for us! Their defense has left them, but the LORD is with us. Therefore, do not be afraid of them."
Num 14:10 In answer, the whole community threatened to stone them. But then the glory of the LORD appeared at the meeting tent to all the Israelites.
Num 14:11 And the LORD said to Moses, "How long will this people spurn me? How long will they refuse to believe in me, despite all the signs I have performed among them?
Num 14:12 I will strike them with pestilence and wipe them out. Then I will make of you a nation greater and mightier than they."
Num 14:13 But Moses said to the LORD: "Are the Egyptians to hear of this? For by your power you brought out this people from among them.

Num 14:14 And are they to tell of it to the inhabitants of this land? It has been heard that you, O LORD, are in the midst of this people; you, LORD, who plainly reveal yourself! Your cloud stands over them, and you go before them by day in a column of cloud and by night in a column of fire.

Num 14:15 If now you slay this whole people, the nations who have heard such reports of you will say,

Num 14:16 'The LORD was not able to bring this people into the land he swore to give them; that is why he slaughtered them in the desert.'

Num 14:17 Now then, let the power of my Lord be displayed in its greatness, even as you have said,

Num 14:18 'The LORD is slow to anger and rich in kindness, forgiving wickedness and crime; yet not declaring the guilty guiltless, but punishing children to the third and fourth generation for their fathers' wickedness.'

Num 14:19 Pardon, then, the wickedness of this people in keeping with your great kindness, even as you have forgiven them from Egypt until now."

Num 14:20 The LORD answered: "I pardon them as you have asked.

Num 14:21 Yet, by my life and the LORD'S glory that fills the whole earth,

Num 14:22 of all the men who have seen my glory and the signs I worked in Egypt and in the desert, and who nevertheless have put me to the test ten times already and have failed to heed my voice,

Num 14:23 not one shall see the land which I promised on oath to their fathers. None of these who have spurned me shall see it.

Num 14:24 But because my servant Caleb has a different spirit and follows me unreservedly, I will bring him into the land where he has just been, and his descendants shall possess it.

Num 14:25 But now, since the Amalekites and Canaanites are living in the valleys, turn away tomorrow and set out in the desert on the Red Sea road."

Num 14:26 The LORD also said to Moses and Aaron:

Num 14:27 "How long will this wicked community grumble against me? I have heard the grumbings of the Israelites against me.

Num 14:28 Tell them: By my life, says the LORD, I will do to you just what I have heard you say.

Num 14:29 Here in the desert shall your dead bodies fall. Of all your men of twenty years or more, registered in the census, who grumbled against me,

Num 14:30 not one shall enter the land where I solemnly swore to settle you, except Caleb, son of Jephunneh, and Joshua, son of Nun.

Num 14:31 Your little ones, however, who you said would be taken as booty, I will bring in, and they shall appreciate the land you spurned.

Num 14:32 But as for you, your bodies shall fall here in the desert,

Num 14:33 here where your children must wander for forty years, suffering for your faithlessness, till the last of you lies dead in the desert.

Num 14:34 Forty days you spent in scouting the land; forty years shall you suffer for your crimes: one year for each day. Thus you will realize what it means to oppose me.

Num 14:35 I, the LORD, have sworn to do this to all this wicked community that conspired against me: here in the desert they shall die to the last man."

Num 14:36 And so it happened to the men whom Moses had sent to reconnoiter the land and who on returning had set the whole community grumbling against him by spreading discouraging reports about the land;

Num 14:37 these men who had given out the bad report about the land were struck down by the LORD and died.

Num 14:38 Of all the men who had gone to reconnoiter the land, only Joshua, son of Nun, and Caleb, son of Jephunneh, survived.

Num 14:39 When Moses repeated these words to all the Israelites, the people felt great remorse.

Num 14:40 Early the next morning they started up into the foothills, saying, "Here we are, ready to go up to the place that the LORD spoke of: for we were indeed doing wrong."

Num 14:41 But Moses said, "Why are you again disobeying the LORD'S orders? This cannot succeed.

Num 14:42 Do not go up, because the LORD is not in your midst; if you go, you will be beaten down before your enemies.

Num 14:43 For there the Amalekites and Canaanites face you, and you will fall by the sword. You have turned back from following the LORD; therefore the LORD will not be with you."

Num 14:44 Yet they dared to go up into the foothills, even though neither the ark of the covenant of the LORD nor Moses left the camp.

Num 14:45 And the Amalekites and Canaanites who dwelt in that hill country came down and defeated them, beating them back as far as Hormah.

Num 15:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 15:2 "Give the Israelites these instructions: When you have entered the land that I will give you for your homesteads,

Num 15:3 if you make to the LORD a sweet-smelling oblation from the herd or from the flock, in holocaust, in fulfillment of a vow, or as a freewill offering, or for one of your festivals,

Num 15:4 whoever does so shall also present to the LORD a cereal offering consisting of a tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a fourth of a hin of oil,

Num 15:5 as well as a libation of a fourth of a hin of wine, with each lamb sacrificed in holocaust or otherwise.

Num 15:6 With each sacrifice of a ram you shall present a cereal offering of two tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a third of a hin of oil,

Num 15:7 and a libation of a third of a hin of wine, thus making a sweet-smelling offering to the LORD.

Num 15:8 When you sacrifice an ox as a holocaust, or in fulfillment of a vow, or as a peace offering to the LORD,

Num 15:9 with it you shall present a cereal offering of three tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with half a hin of oil,

Num 15:10 and a libation of half a hin of wine, as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 15:11 The same is to be done for each ox, ram, lamb or goat.

Num 15:12 Whatever the number you offer, do the same for each of them.

Num 15:13 "All the native-born shall make these offerings in the same way, whenever they present a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 15:14 Likewise, in any future generation, any alien residing with you permanently or for a time, who presents a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD, shall do as you do.

Num 15:15 There is but one rule for you and for the resident alien, a perpetual rule for all your descendants. Before the LORD you and the alien are alike,

Num 15:16 with the same law and the same application of it for the alien residing among you as for yourselves."

Num 15:17 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 15:18 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When you enter the land into which I will bring you

Num 15:19 and begin to eat of the food of that land, you shall offer the LORD a contribution

Num 15:20 consisting of a cake of your first batch of dough. You shall offer it just as you offer a contribution from the threshing floor.

Num 15:21 Throughout your generations you shall give a contribution to the LORD from your first batch of dough.

Num 15:22 "When through inadvertence you fail to carry out any of these commandments which the LORD gives to Moses,

Num 15:23 and through Moses to you, from the time the LORD first issues the commandment down through your generations:

Num 15:24 if the community itself unwittingly becomes guilty of the fault of inadvertence, the whole community shall offer the holocaust of one young bull as a sweet-smelling oblation pleasing to the LORD, along with its prescribed cereal offering and libation, as well as one he-goat as a sin offering.

Num 15:25 Then the priest shall make atonement for the whole Israelite community; thus they will be forgiven the inadvertence for which they have brought their holocaust as an oblation to the LORD.

Num 15:26 Not only the whole Israelite community, but also the aliens residing among you, shall be forgiven, since the fault of inadvertence affects all the people.

Num 15:27 "However, if it is an individual who sins inadvertently, he shall bring a yearling she-goat as a sin offering,

Num 15:28 and the priest shall make atonement before the LORD for him who sinned inadvertently; when atonement has been made for him, he will be forgiven.

Num 15:29 You shall have but one law for him who sins inadvertently, whether he be a native Israelite or an alien residing with you.

Num 15:30 "But anyone who sins defiantly, whether he be a native or an alien, insults the LORD, and shall be cut off from among his people.

Num 15:31 Since he has despised the word of the LORD and has broken his commandment, he must be cut off. He has only himself to blame."

Num 15:32 While the Israelites were in the desert, a man was discovered gathering wood on the sabbath day.

Num 15:33 Those who caught him at it brought him to Moses and Aaron and the whole assembly.

Num 15:34 But they kept him in custody, for there was no clear decision as to what should be done with him.

Num 15:35 Then the LORD said to Moses, "This man shall be put to death; let the whole community stone him outside the camp."

Num 15:36 So the whole community led him outside the camp and stoned him to death, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Num 15:37 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 15:38 "Speak to the Israelites and tell them that they and their descendants must put tassels on the corners of their garments, fastening each corner tassel with a violet cord.

Num 15:39 When you use these tassels, let the sight of them remind you to keep all the commandments of the LORD, without going wantonly astray after the desires of your hearts and eyes.

Num 15:40 Thus you will remember to keep all my commandments and be holy to your God.

Num 15:41 I, the LORD, am your God who, as God, brought you out of Egypt that I, the LORD, may be your God."

Num 16:1 Korah, son of Izhar, son of Kohath, son of Levi, (and Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab, son of Pallu, son of Reuben) took

Num 16:2 two hundred and fifty Israelites who were leaders in the community, members of the council and men of note. They stood before Moses,

Num 16:3 and held an assembly against Moses and Aaron, to whom they said, "Enough from you! The whole community, all of them, are holy; the LORD is in their midst. Why then should you set yourselves over the LORD'S congregation?"

Num 16:4 When Moses heard this, he fell prostrate.

Num 16:5 Then he said to Korah and to all his band, "May the LORD make known tomorrow morning who belongs to him and who is the holy one and whom he will have draw near to him! Whom he chooses, he will have draw near him.

Num 16:6 Do this: take your censers (Korah and all his band)

Num 16:7 and put fire in them and place incense in them before the LORD tomorrow. He whom the LORD then chooses is the holy one. Enough from you Levites!"

Num 16:8 Moses also said to Korah, "Listen to me, you Levites!

Num 16:9 Is it too little for you that the God of Israel has singled you out from the community of Israel, to have you draw near him for the service of the LORD'S Dwelling and to stand before the community to minister for them?

Num 16:10 He has allowed you and your kinsmen, the descendants of Levi, to approach him, and yet you now seek the priesthood too.

Num 16:11 It is therefore against the LORD that you and all your band are conspiring. For what has Aaron done that you should grumble against him?"

Num 16:12 Moses summoned Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab, but they answered, "We will not go.

Num 16:13 Are you not satisfied with having led us here away from a land flowing with milk and honey, to make us perish in the desert, that you must now lord it over us?

Num 16:14 Far from bringing us to a land flowing with milk and honey, or giving us fields and vineyards for our inheritance, will you also gouge out our eyes? No, we will not go."

Num 16:15 Then Moses became very angry and said to the LORD, "Pay no heed to their offering. I have never taken a single ass from them, nor have I wronged any one of them."

Num 16:16 Moses said to Korah, "You and all your band shall appear before the LORD tomorrow-- you and they and Aaron too.

Num 16:17 Then each of your two hundred and fifty followers shall take his own censer, put incense in it, and offer it to the LORD; and you and Aaron, each with his own censer, shall do the same."

Num 16:18 So they all took their censers, and laying incense on the fire they had put in them, they took their stand by the entrance of the meeting tent along with Moses and Aaron.

Num 16:19 Then, when Korah had assembled all his band against them at the entrance of the meeting tent, the glory of the LORD appeared to the entire community,

Num 16:20 and the LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Num 16:21 "Stand apart from this band, that I may consume them at once."

Num 16:22 But they fell prostrate and cried out, "O God, God of the spirits of all mankind, will one man's sin make you angry with the whole community?"

Num 16:23 The LORD answered Moses,

Num 16:24 "Speak to the community and tell them: Withdraw from the space around the Dwelling" (of Korah, Dathan and Abiram).

Num 16:25 Moses, followed by the elders of Israel, arose and went to Dathan and Abiram.

Num 16:26 Then he warned the community, "Keep away from the tents of these wicked men and do not touch anything that is theirs: otherwise you too will be swept away because of all their sins."

Num 16:27 When Dathan and Abiram had come out and were standing at the entrances of their tents with their wives and sons and little ones,

Num 16:28 Moses said, "This is how you shall know that it was the LORD who sent me to do all I have done, and that it was not I who planned it:

Num 16:29 if these men die an ordinary death, merely suffering the fate common to all mankind, then it was not the LORD who sent me.

Num 16:30 But if the LORD does something entirely new, and the ground opens its mouth and swallows them alive down into the nether world, with all belonging to them, then you will know that these men have defied the LORD."

Num 16:31 No sooner had he finished saying all this than the ground beneath them split open,

Num 16:32 and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them and their families (and all of Korah's men) and all their possessions.

Num 16:33 They went down alive to the nether world with all belonging to them; the earth closed over them, and they perished from the community.

Num 16:34 But all the Israelites near them fled at their shrieks, saying, "The earth might swallow us too!"

Num 16:35 So they withdrew from the space around the Dwelling (of Korah, Dathan and Abiram). And fire from the LORD came forth which consumed the two hundred and fifty men who were offering the incense.

Num 17:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 17:2 "Tell Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest, to remove the censers from the embers; and scatter the fire some distance away,

Num 17:3 for these sinners have consecrated the censers at the cost of their lives. Have them hammered into plates to cover the altar, because in being presented before the LORD they have become sacred. In this way they shall serve as a sign to the Israelites."

Num 17:4 So Eleazar the priest had the bronze censers of those burned during the offering hammered into a covering for the altar,

Num 17:5 in keeping with the orders which the LORD had given him through Moses. This cover was to be a reminder to the Israelites that no layman, no one who was not a descendant of Aaron, should approach the altar to offer incense before the LORD, lest he meet the fate of Korah and his band.

Num 17:6 The next day the whole Israelite community grumbled against Moses and Aaron, saying, "It is you who have slain the LORD'S people."

Num 17:7 But while the community was deliberating against them, Moses and Aaron turned toward the meeting tent, and the cloud now covered it and the glory of the LORD appeared.

Num 17:8 Then Moses and Aaron came to the front of the meeting tent,

Num 17:9 and the LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Num 17:10 "Depart from this community, that I may consume them at once." But they fell prostrate.

Num 17:11 Then Moses said to Aaron, "Take your censer, put fire from the altar in it, lay incense on it, and bring it quickly to the community to make atonement for them; for wrath has come forth from the LORD and the blow is falling."

Num 17:12 Obeying the orders of Moses, Aaron took his censer and ran in among the community, where the blow was already falling on the people. Then, as he offered the incense and made atonement for the people,

Num 17:13 standing there between the living and the dead, the scourge was checked.

Num 17:14 Yet fourteen thousand seven hundred died from the scourge, in addition to those who died because of Korah.

Num 17:15 When the scourge had been checked, Aaron returned to Moses at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Num 17:16 The LORD now said to Moses,

Num 17:17 "Speak to the Israelites and get one staff from them for each ancestral house, twelve staffs in all, one from each of their tribal princes. Mark each man's name on his staff;

Num 17:18 and mark Aaron's name on Levi's staff, for the head of Levi's ancestral house shall also have a staff.

Num 17:19 Then lay them down in the meeting tent, in front of the commandments, where I meet you.

Num 17:20 There the staff of the man of my choice shall sprout. Thus will I suppress from my presence the Israelites' grumbling against you."

Num 17:21 So Moses spoke to the Israelites, and their princes gave him staffs, twelve in all, one from each tribal prince; and Aaron's staff was with them.

Num 17:22 Then Moses laid the staffs down before the LORD in the tent of the commandments.

Num 17:23 The next day, when Moses entered the tent, Aaron's staff, representing the house of Levi, had sprouted and put forth not only shoots, but blossoms as well, and even bore ripe almonds!

Num 17:24 Moses thereupon brought out all the staffs from the LORD'S presence to the Israelites. After each prince identified his own staff and took it,

Num 17:25 the LORD said to Moses, "Put back Aaron's staff in front of the commandments, to be kept there as a warning to the rebellious, so that their grumbling may cease before me; if it does not, they will die."

Num 17:26 And Moses did as the LORD had commanded him.

Num 17:27 Then the Israelites cried out to Moses, "We are perishing; we are lost, we are all lost!

Num 17:28 Every time anyone approaches the Dwelling of the LORD, he dies! Are we to perish to the last man?"

Num 18:1 The LORD said to Aaron, "You and your sons as well as the other members of your ancestral house shall be responsible for the sanctuary; but the responsibility of the priesthood shall rest on you and your sons alone.

Num 18:2 Bring with you also your other kinsmen of the tribe of Levi, your ancestral tribe, as your associates and assistants, while you and your sons are in front of the tent of the commandments.

Num 18:3 They shall look after your persons and the whole tent; however, they shall not come near the sacred vessels or the altar, lest both they and you die.

Num 18:4 As your associates they shall have charge of all the work connected with the meeting tent. But no layman shall come near you.

Num 18:5 You shall have charge of the sanctuary and of the altar, that wrath may not fall again upon the Israelites.

Num 18:6 "Remember, it is I who have taken your kinsmen, the Levites, from the body of the Israelites; they are a gift to you, dedicated to the LORD for the service of the meeting tent.

Num 18:7 But only you and your sons are to have charge of performing the priestly functions in whatever concerns the altar and the room within the veil. I give you the priesthood as a gift. Any layman who draws near shall be put to death."

Num 18:8 The LORD said to Aaron, "I myself have given you charge of the contributions made to me in the various sacred offerings of the Israelites; by perpetual ordinance I have assigned them to you and to your sons as your priestly share.

Num 18:9 You shall have the right to share in the oblations that are most sacred, in whatever they offer me as cereal offerings or sin offerings or guilt offerings; these shares shall accrue to you and to your sons.

Num 18:10 In eating them you shall treat them as most sacred; every male among you may partake of them. As sacred, they belong to you.

Num 18:11 "You shall also have what is removed from the gift in every wave offering of the Israelites; by perpetual ordinance I have assigned it to you and to your sons and daughters. All in your family who are clean may partake of it.

Num 18:12 I have also assigned to you all the best of the new oil and of the new wine and grain that they give to the LORD as their first fruits;

Num 18:13 and likewise, of whatever grows on their land, the first products that they bring in to the LORD shall be yours; all of your family who are clean may partake of them.

Num 18:14 Whatever is doomed in Israel shall be yours.

Num 18:15 Every living thing that opens the womb, whether of man or of beast, such as are to be offered to the LORD, shall be yours; but you must let the first-born of man, as well as of unclean animals, be redeemed.

Num 18:16 The ransom for a boy is to be paid when he is a month old; it is fixed at five silver shekels according to the sanctuary standard, twenty gerahs to the shekel.

Num 18:17 But the first-born of cattle, sheep or goats shall not be redeemed; they are sacred. Their blood you must splash on the altar and their fat you must burn as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 18:18 Their meat, however, shall be yours, just as the breast and the right leg of the wave offering belong to you.

Num 18:19 By perpetual ordinance I have assigned to you and to your sons and daughters all the contributions from the sacred gifts which the Israelites make to the LORD; this is an inviolable covenant to last forever before the LORD, for you and for your descendants."

Num 18:20 Then the LORD said to Aaron, "You shall not have any heritage in the land of the Israelites nor hold any portion among them; I will be your portion and your heritage among them.

Num 18:21 "To the Levites, however, I hereby assign all tithes in Israel as their heritage in recompense for the service they perform in the meeting tent.

Num 18:22 The Israelites may no longer approach the meeting tent; else they will incur guilt deserving death.

Num 18:23 Only the Levites are to perform the service of the meeting tent, and they alone shall be held responsible; this is a perpetual ordinance for all your generations. The Levites, therefore, shall not have any heritage among the Israelites,

Num 18:24 for I have assigned to them as their heritage the tithes which the Israelites give as a contribution to the LORD. That is why I have ordered that they are not to have any heritage among the Israelites."

Num 18:25 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 18:26 "Give the Levites these instructions: When you receive from the Israelites the tithes I have assigned you from them as your heritage, you are to make a contribution from them to the LORD, a tithe of the tithes;

Num 18:27 and your contribution will be credited to you as if it were grain from the threshing floor or new wine from the press.

Num 18:28 Thus you too shall make a contribution from all the tithes you receive from the Israelites, handing over to Aaron the priest the part to be contributed to the LORD.

Num 18:29 From all the gifts that you receive, and from the best parts, you are to consecrate to the LORD your own full contribution.

Num 18:30 "Tell them also: Once you have made your contribution from the best part, the rest of the tithes will be credited to you Levites as if it were produce of the threshing floor or of the winepress.

Num 18:31 Your families, as well as you, may eat them anywhere, since they are your recompense for service at the meeting tent.

Num 18:32 You will incur no guilt so long as you make a contribution of the best part. Do not profane the sacred gifts of the Israelites and so bring death on yourselves."

Num 19:1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron:

Num 19:2 "This is the regulation which the law of the LORD prescribes. Tell the Israelites to procure for you a red heifer that is free from every blemish and defect and on which no yoke has ever been laid.

Num 19:3 This is to be given to Eleazar the priest, to be led outside the camp and slaughtered in his presence.

Num 19:4 Eleazar the priest shall take some of its blood on his finger and sprinkle it seven times toward the front of the meeting tent.

Num 19:5 Then the heifer shall be burned in his sight, with its hide and flesh, its blood and offal;

Num 19:6 and the priest shall take some cedar wood, hyssop and scarlet yarn and throw them into the fire in which the heifer is being burned.

Num 19:7 The priest shall then wash his garments and bathe his body in water. He remains unclean until the evening, and only afterward may he return to the camp.

Num 19:8 Likewise, he who burned the heifer shall wash his garments, bathe his body in water, and be unclean until evening.

Num 19:9 Finally, a man who is clean shall gather up the ashes of the heifer and deposit them in a clean place outside the camp. There they are to be kept for preparing lustral water for the Israelite community. The heifer is a sin offering.

Num 19:10 He who has gathered up the ashes of the heifer shall also wash his garments and be unclean until evening. This is a perpetual ordinance, both for the Israelites and for the aliens residing among them.

Num 19:11 "Whoever touches the dead body of any human being shall be unclean for seven days;

Num 19:12 he shall purify himself with the water on the third and on the seventh day, and then he will be clean again. But if he fails to purify himself on the third and on the seventh day, he will not become clean.

Num 19:13 Everyone who fails to purify himself after touching the body of any deceased person, defiles the Dwelling of the LORD and shall be cut off from Israel. Since the lustral water has not been splashed over him, he remains unclean: his uncleanness still clings to him.

Num 19:14 "This is the law: When a man dies in a tent, everyone who enters the tent, as well as everyone already in it, shall be unclean for seven days;

Num 19:15 likewise, every vessel that is open, or with its lid unfastened, shall be unclean.

Num 19:16 Moreover, everyone who in the open country touches a dead person, whether he was slain by the sword or died naturally, or who touches a human bone or a grave, shall be unclean for seven days.

Num 19:17 For anyone who is thus unclean, ashes from the sin offering shall be put in a vessel, and spring water shall be poured on them.

Num 19:18 Then a man who is clean shall take some hyssop, dip it in this water, and sprinkle it on the tent and on all the vessels and persons that were in it, or on him who touched a bone, a slain person or other dead body, or a grave.

Num 19:19 The clean man shall sprinkle the unclean on the third and on the seventh day; thus purified on the seventh day, he shall wash his garments and bathe his body in water, and in the evening he will be clean again.

Num 19:20 Any unclean man who fails to have himself purified shall be cut off from the community, because he defiles the sanctuary of the LORD. As long as the lustral water has not been splashed over him, he remains unclean.

Num 19:21 This shall be a perpetual ordinance for you. "One who sprinkles the lustral water shall wash his garments, and anyone who comes in contact with this water shall be unclean until evening.

Num 19:22 Moreover, whatever the unclean person touches becomes unclean itself, and anyone who touches it becomes unclean until evening."

Num 20:1 The whole Israelite community arrived in the desert of Zin in the first month, and the people settled at Kadesh. It was here that Miriam died, and here that she was buried.

Num 20:2 As the community had no water, they held a council against Moses and Aaron.

Num 20:3 The people contended with Moses, exclaiming, "Would that we too had perished with our kinsmen in the LORD'S presence!

Num 20:4 Why have you brought the LORD'S community into this desert where we and our livestock are dying?

Num 20:5 Why did you lead us out of Egypt, only to bring us to this wretched place which has neither grain nor figs nor vines nor pomegranates? Here there is not even water to drink!"

Num 20:6 But Moses and Aaron went away from the assembly to the entrance of the meeting tent, where they fell prostrate. Then the glory of the LORD appeared to them,

Num 20:7 and the LORD said to Moses,

Num 20:8 "Take the staff and assemble the community, you and your brother Aaron, and in their presence order the rock to yield its waters. From the rock you shall bring forth water for the community and their livestock to drink."

Num 20:9 So Moses took the staff from its place before the LORD, as he was ordered.

Num 20:10 He and Aaron assembled the community in front of the rock, where he said to them, "Listen to me, you rebels! Are we to bring water for you out of this rock?"

Num 20:11 Then, raising his hand, Moses struck the rock twice with his staff, and water gushed out in abundance for the community and their livestock to drink.

Num 20:12 But the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "Because you were not faithful to me in showing forth my sanctity before the Israelites, you shall not lead this community into the land I will give them."

Num 20:13 These are the waters of Meribah, where the Israelites contended against the LORD, and where he revealed his sanctity among them.

Num 20:14 From Kadesh Moses sent men to the king of Edom with the message: "Your brother Israel has this to say: You know of all the hardships that have befallen us,

Num 20:15 how our fathers went down to Egypt, where we stayed a long time, how the Egyptians maltreated us and our fathers,

Num 20:16 and how, when we cried to the LORD, he heard our cry and sent an angel who led us out of Egypt. Now here we are at the town of Kadesh at the edge of your territory.

Num 20:17 Kindly let us pass through your country. We will not cross any fields or vineyards, nor drink any well water, but we will go straight along the royal road without turning to the right or to the left, until we have passed through your territory."

Num 20:18 But Edom answered him, "You shall not pass through here; if you do, I will advance against you with the sword."

Num 20:19 The Israelites insisted, "We want only to go up along the highway. If we or our livestock drink any of your water, we will pay for it. Surely there is no harm in merely letting us march through."

Num 20:20 But Edom still said, "No, you shall not pass through," and advanced against them with a large and heavily armed force.

Num 20:21 Therefore, since Edom refused to let them pass through their territory, Israel detoured around them.

Num 20:22 Setting out from Kadesh, the whole Israelite community came to Mount Hor.

Num 20:23 There at Mount Hor, on the border of the land of Edom, the LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

Num 20:24 "Aaron is about to be taken to his people; he shall not enter the land I am giving to the Israelites, because you both rebelled against my commandment at the waters of Meribah.

Num 20:25 Take Aaron and his son Eleazar and bring them up on Mount Hor.

Num 20:26 Then strip Aaron of his garments and put them on his son Eleazar; for there Aaron shall be taken in death."

Num 20:27 Moses did as the LORD commanded. When they had climbed Mount Hor in view of the whole community,

Num 20:28 Moses stripped Aaron of his garments and put them on his son Eleazar. Then Aaron died there on top of the mountain. When Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain,

Num 20:29 all the community understood that Aaron had passed away; and for thirty days the whole house of Israel mourned him.

Num 21:1 When the Canaanite king of Arad, who lived in the Negeb, heard that the Israelites were coming along the way of Atharim, he engaged them in battle and took some of them captive.

Num 21:2 Israel then made this vow to the LORD: "If you deliver this people into my hand, I will doom their cities."

Num 21:3 Later, when the LORD heeded Israel's prayer and delivered up the Canaanites, they doomed them and their cities. Hence that place was named Hormah.

Num 21:4 From Mount Hor they set out on the Red Sea road, to bypass the land of Edom. But with their patience worn out by the journey,

Num 21:5 the people complained against God and Moses, "Why have you brought us up from Egypt to die in this desert, where there is no food or water? We are disgusted with this wretched food!"

Num 21:6 In punishment the LORD sent among the people saraph serpents, which bit the people so that many of them died.

Num 21:7 Then the people came to Moses and said, "We have sinned in complaining against the LORD and you. Pray the LORD to take the serpents from us." So Moses prayed for the people,

Num 21:8 and the LORD said to Moses, "Make a saraph and mount it on a pole, and if anyone who has been bitten looks at it, he will recover."

Num 21:9 Moses accordingly made a bronze serpent and mounted it on a pole, and whenever anyone who had been bitten by a serpent looked at the bronze serpent, he recovered.

Num 21:10 The Israelites moved on and encamped in Oboth.

Num 21:11 Setting out from Oboth, they encamped in Iye-abarim in the desert fronting Moab on the east.

Num 21:12 Setting out from there, they encamped in the Wadi Zered.

Num 21:13 Setting out from there, they encamped on the other side of the Arnon, in the desert that extends from the territory of the Amorites; for the Arnon forms Moab's boundary with the Amorites.

Num 21:14 Hence it is said in the "Book of the Wars of the LORD": "Waheb in Suphah and the wadies, Num 21:15 Arnon and the wadi gorges That reach back toward the site of Ar and slant to the border of Moab."

Num 21:16 From there they went to Beer, where there was the well of which the LORD said to Moses, "Bring the people together, and I will give them water."

Num 21:17 Then it was that Israel sang this song: "Spring up, O well!-- so sing to it--

Num 21:18 The well that the princes sank, that the nobles of the people dug, with their scepters and their staffs." From Beer they went to Mattanah,

Num 21:19 from Mattanah to Nahaliel, from Nahaliel to Bamoth,

Num 21:20 from Bamoth to the cleft in the plateau of Moab at the headland of Pisgah that overlooks Jeshimon.

Num 21:21 Now Israel sent men to Sihon, king of the Amorites, with the message,

Num 21:22 "Let us pass through your country. We will not turn aside into any field or vineyard, nor will we drink any well water, but we will go straight along the royal road until we have passed through your territory."

Num 21:23 Sihon, however, would not let Israel pass through his territory, but mustered all his forces and advanced into the desert against Israel. When he reached Jahaz, he engaged Israel in battle.

Num 21:24 But Israel defeated him at the point of the sword, and took possession of his land from the Arnon to the Jabbok and as far as the country of the Ammonites, whose boundary was at Jazer.

Num 21:25 Israel seized all the towns here and settled in these towns of the Amorites, in Heshbon and all its dependencies.

Num 21:26 Now Heshbon was the capital of Sihon, king of the Amorites, who had fought against the former king of Moab and had seized all his land from Jazer to the Arnon.

Num 21:27 That is why the poets say: "Come to Heshbon, let it be rebuilt, let Sihon's capital be firmly constructed.

Num 21:28 For fire went forth from Heshbon and a blaze from the city of Sihon; It consumed the cities of Moab and swallowed up the high places of the Arnon.

Num 21:29 Woe to you, O Moab! You are ruined, O people of Chemosh! He let his sons become fugitives and his daughters be taken captive by the Amorite king Sihon.

Num 21:30 Their plowland is ruined from Heshbon to Dibon; Ar is laid waste; fires blaze as far as Medeba."

Num 21:31 When Israel had settled in the land of the Amorites,

Num 21:32 Moses sent spies to Jazer; Israel then captured it with its dependencies and dispossessed the Amorites who were there.

Num 21:33 Then they turned and went up along the road to Bashan. But Og, king of Bashan, advanced against them with all his people to give battle at Edrei.

Num 21:34 The LORD, however, said to Moses, "Do not be afraid of him; for into your hand I will deliver him with all his people and his land. Do to him as you did to Sihon, king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon."

Num 21:35 So they struck him down with his sons and all his people, until not a survivor was left to him, and they took possession of his land.

Num 22:1 Then the Israelites moved on and encamped in the plains of Moab on the other side of the Jericho stretch of the Jordan.

Num 22:2 Now Balak, son of Zippor, saw all that Israel did to the Amorites.

Num 22:3 Indeed, Moab feared the Israelites greatly because of their numbers, and detested them.

Num 22:4 So Moab said to the elders of Midian, "Soon this horde will devour all the country around us as an ox devours the grass of the field." And Balak, Zippor's son, who was king of Moab at that time,

Num 22:5 sent messengers to Balaam, son of Beor, at Pethor on the Euphrates, in the land of the Amawites, summoning him with these words, "A people has come here from Egypt who now cover the face of the earth and are settling down opposite us!

Num 22:6 Please come and curse this people for us; they are stronger than we are. We may then be able to defeat them and drive them out of the country. For I know that whoever you bless is blessed and whoever you curse is cursed."

Num 22:7 Then the elders of Moab and of Midian left with the divination fee in hand and went to Balaam. When they had given him Balak's message,

Num 22:8 he said to them in reply, "Stay here overnight, and I will give you whatever answer the LORD gives me." So the princes of Moab lodged with Balaam.

Num 22:9 Then God came to Balaam and said, "Who are these men visiting you?"

Num 22:10 Balaam answered God, "Balak, son of Zippor, king of Moab, sent me the message:

Num 22:11 'This people that came here from Egypt now cover the face of the earth. Please come and lay a curse on them for us; we may then be able to give them battle and drive them out.'

Num 22:12 But God said to Balaam, "Do not go with them and do not curse this people, for they are blessed."

Num 22:13 The next morning Balaam arose and told the princes of Balak, "Go back to your own country, for the LORD has refused to let me go with you."

Num 22:14 So the princes of Moab went back to Balak with the report, "Balaam refused to come with us."

Num 22:15 Balak again sent princes, who were more numerous and more distinguished than the others.

Num 22:16 On coming to Balaam they told him, "This is what Balak, son of Zippor, has to say: Please do not refuse to come to me.

Num 22:17 I will reward you very handsomely and will do anything you ask of me. Please come and lay a curse on this people for me."

Num 22:18 But Balaam replied to Balak's officials, "Even if Balak gave me his house full of silver and gold, I could not do anything, small or great, contrary to the command of the LORD, my God.

Num 22:19 But, you too shall stay here overnight, till I learn what else the LORD may tell me."

Num 22:20 That night God came to Balaam and said to him, "If these men have come to summon you, you may go with them; yet only on the condition that you do exactly as I tell you."

Num 22:21 So the next morning when Balaam arose, he saddled his ass, and went off with the princes of Moab.

Num 22:22 But now the anger of God flared up at him for going, and the angel of the LORD stationed himself on the road to hinder him as he was riding along on his ass, accompanied by two of his servants.

Num 22:23 When the ass saw the angel of the LORD standing on the road with sword drawn, she turned off the road and went into the field, and Balaam had to beat her to bring her back on the road.

Num 22:24 Then the angel of the LORD took his stand in a narrow lane between vineyards with a stone wall on each side.

Num 22:25 When the ass saw the angel of the LORD there, she shrank against the wall; and since she squeezed Balaam's leg against it, he beat her again.

Num 22:26 The angel of the LORD then went ahead, and stopped next in a passage so narrow that there was no room to move either to the right or to the left.

Num 22:27 When the ass saw the angel of the LORD there, she cowered under Balaam. So, in anger, he again beat the ass with his stick.

Num 22:28 But now the LORD opened the mouth of the ass, and she asked Balaam, "What have I done to you that you should beat me these three times?"

Num 22:29 "You have acted so willfully against me," said Balaam to the ass, "that if I but had a sword at hand, I would kill you here and now."

Num 22:30 But the ass said to Balaam, "Am I not your own beast, and have you not always ridden upon me until now? Have I been in the habit of treating you this way before?" "No," replied Balaam.

Num 22:31 Then the LORD removed the veil from Balaam's eyes, so that he too saw the angel of the LORD standing on the road with sword drawn; and he fell on his knees and bowed to the ground.

Num 22:32 But the angel of the LORD said to him, "Why have you beaten your ass these three times? It is I who have come armed to hinder you because this rash journey of yours is directly opposed to me.

Num 22:33 When the ass saw me, she turned away from me these three times. If she had not turned away from me, I would have killed you; her I would have spared."

Num 22:34 Then Balaam said to the angel of the LORD, "I have sinned. Yet I did not know that you stood against me to oppose my journey. Since it has displeased you, I will go back home."

Num 22:35 But the angel of the LORD said to Balaam, "Go with the men; but you may say only what I tell you." So Balaam went on with the princes of Balak.

Num 22:36 When Balak heard that Balaam was coming, he went out to meet him at the boundary city Ir-Moab on the Arnon at the end of the Moabite territory.

Num 22:37 And he said to Balaam, "I sent an urgent summons to you! Why did you not come to me? Did you think I could not reward you?"

Num 22:38 Balaam answered him, "Well, I have come to you after all. But what power have I to say anything? I can speak only what God puts in my mouth."

Num 22:39 Then Balaam went with Balak, and they came to Kiriath-huzoth.

Num 22:40 Here Balak slaughtered oxen and sheep, and sent portions to Balaam and to the princes who were with him.

Num 22:41 The next morning Balak took Balaam up on Bamoth-baal, and from there he saw some of the clans.

Num 23:1 Then Balaam said to Balak, "Build me seven altars, and prepare seven bullocks and seven rams for me here."

Num 23:2 So he did as Balaam had ordered, offering a bullock and a ram on each altar. And Balak said to him, "I have erected the seven altars, and have offered a bullock and a ram on each."

Num 23:3 Balaam then said to him, "Stand here by your holocaust while I go over there. Perhaps the LORD will meet me, and then I will tell you whatever he lets me see." He went out on the barren height,

Num 23:4 and God met him.

Num 23:5 When he had put an utterance in Balaam's mouth, the LORD said to him, "Go back to Balak, and speak accordingly."

Num 23:6 So he went back to Balak, who was still standing by his holocaust together with all the princes of Moab.

Num 23:7 Then Balaam gave voice to his oracle: From Aram has Balak brought me here, Moab's king, from the Eastern Mountains: "Come and lay a curse for me on Jacob, come and denounce Israel."

Num 23:8 How can I curse whom God has not cursed? How denounce whom the LORD has not denounced?

Num 23:9 For from the top of the crags I see him, from the heights I behold him. Here is a people that lives apart and does not reckon itself among the nations.

Num 23:10 Who has ever counted the dust of Jacob, or numbered Israel's wind-borne particles? May I die the death of the just, may my descendants be as many as theirs!

Num 23:11 "What have you done to me?" cried Balak to Balaam. "It was to curse my foes that I brought you here; instead, you have even blessed them."

Num 23:12 Balaam replied, "Is it not what the LORD puts in my mouth that I must repeat with care?"

Num 23:13 Then Balak said to him, "Please come with me to another place from which you can see only some and not all of them, and from there curse them for me."

Num 23:14 So he brought him to the lookout field on the top of Pisgah, where he built seven altars and offered a bullock and a ram on each of them.

Num 23:15 Balaam then said to Balak, "Stand here by your holocaust, while I seek a meeting over there."

Num 23:16 Then the LORD met Balaam, and having put an utterance in his mouth, he said to him, "Go back to Balak, and speak accordingly."

Num 23:17 So he went back to Balak, who was still standing by his holocaust together with the princes of Moab. When Balak asked him, "What did the LORD say?"

Num 23:18 Balaam gave voice to his oracle: Be aroused, O Balak, and hearken; give ear to my testimony, O son of Zippor!

Num 23:19 God is not man that he should speak falsely, nor human, that he should change his mind. Is he one to speak and not act, to decree and not fulfill?

Num 23:20 It is a blessing I have been given to pronounce; a blessing which I cannot restrain.

Num 23:21 Misfortune is not observed in Jacob, nor misery seen in Israel. The LORD, his God, is with him; with him is the triumph of his King.

Num 23:22 It is God who brought him out of Egypt, a wild bull of towering might.

Num 23:23 No, there is no sorcery against Jacob, nor omen against Israel. It shall yet be said of Jacob, and of Israel, "Behold what God has wrought!"

Num 23:24 Here is a people that springs up like a lioness, and stalks forth like a lion; It rests not till it has devoured its prey and has drunk the blood of the slain.

Num 23:25 "Even though you cannot curse them," said Balak to Balaam, "at least do not bless them."

Num 23:26 But Balaam answered Balak, "Did I not warn you that I must do all that the LORD tells me?"

Num 23:27 Then Balak said to Balaam, "Come, let me bring you to another place; perhaps God will approve of your cursing them for me from there."

Num 23:28 So he took Balaam to the top of Peor, that overlooks Jeshimon.

Num 23:29 Balaam then said to him, "Here build me seven altars; and here prepare for me seven bullocks and seven rams."

Num 23:30 And Balak did as Balaam had ordered, offering a bullock and a ram on each altar.

Num 24:1 Balaam, however, perceiving that the LORD was pleased to bless Israel, did not go aside as before to seek omens, but turned his gaze toward the desert.

Num 24:2 When he raised his eyes and saw Israel encamped, tribe by tribe, the spirit of God came upon him,

Num 24:3 and he gave voice to his oracle: The utterance of Balaam, son of Beor, the utterance of the man whose eye is true,

Num 24:4 The utterance of one who hears what God says, and knows what the Most High knows, Of one who sees what the Almighty sees, enraptured, and with eyes unveiled:

Num 24:5 How goodly are your tents, O Jacob; your encampments, O Israel!

Num 24:6 They are like gardens beside a stream, like the cedars planted by the LORD.

Num 24:7 His wells shall yield free-flowing waters, he shall have the sea within reach; His king shall rise higher than.... and his royalty shall be exalted.

Num 24:8 It is God who brought him out of Egypt, a wild bull of towering might. He shall devour the nations like grass, their bones he shall strip bare.

Num 24:9 He lies crouching like a lion, or like a lioness; who shall arouse him? Blessed is he who blesses you, and cursed is he who curses you!

Num 24:10 Balak beat his palms together in a blaze of anger at Balaam and said to him, "It was to curse my foes that I summoned you here; yet three times now you have even blessed them instead!

Num 24:11 Be off at once, then, to your home. I promised to reward you richly, but the LORD has withheld the reward from you!"

Num 24:12 Balaam replied to Balak, "Did I not warn the very messengers whom you sent to me,

Num 24:13 'Even if Balak gave me his house full of silver and gold, I could not of my own accord to anything, good or evil, contrary to the command of the LORD'? Whatever the LORD says I must repeat.

Num 24:14 "But now that I am about to go to my own people, let me first warn you what this people will do to your people in the days to come."

Num 24:15 Then Balaam gave voice to his oracle: The utterance of Balaam, son of Beor, the utterance of the man whose eye is true,

Num 24:16 The utterance of one who hears what God says, and knows what the Most High knows, Of one who sees what the Almighty sees, enraptured and with eyes unveiled.

Num 24:17 I see him, though not now; I behold him, though not near: A star shall advance from Jacob, and a staff shall rise from Israel, That shall smite the brows of Moab, and the skulls of all the Shuthites,

Num 24:18 Till Edom is dispossessed, and no fugitive is left in Seir. Israel shall do valiantly, Num 24:19 and Jacob shall overcome his foes.

Num 24:20 Upon seeing Amalek, Balaam gave voice to his oracle: First of the peoples was Amalek, but his end is to perish forever.

Num 24:21 Upon seeing the Kenites, he gave voice to his oracle: Your abode is enduring, O smith, and your nest is set on a cliff;

Num 24:22 Yet destined for burning-- even as I watch-- are your inhabitants.

Num 24:23 Upon seeing.... he gave voice to his oracle: Alas, who shall survive of Ishmael,

Num 24:24 to deliver his people from the hands of the Kittim? When they have conquered Asshur and conquered Eber, He too shall perish forever.

Num 24:25 Then Balaam set out on his journey home; and Balak also went his way.

Num 25:1 While Israel was living at Shittim, the people degraded themselves by having illicit relations with the Moabite women.

Num 25:2 These then invited the people to the sacrifices of their god, and the people ate of the sacrifices and worshiped their god.

Num 25:3 When Israel thus submitted to the rites of Baal of Peor, the LORD'S anger flared up against Israel,

Num 25:4 and he said to Moses, "Gather all the leaders of the people, and hold a public execution of the guilty ones before the LORD, that his blazing wrath may be turned away from Israel."

Num 25:5 So Moses told the Israelite judges, "Each of you shall kill those of his men who have submitted to the rites of Baal of Peor."

Num 25:6 Yet a certain Israelite came and brought in a Midianite woman to his clansmen in the view of Moses and of the whole Israelite community, while they were weeping at the entrance of the meeting tent.

Num 25:7 When Phinehas, son of Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest, saw this, he left the assembly, and taking a lance in hand,

Num 25:8 followed the Israelite into his retreat where he pierced the pair of them, the Israelite and the woman. Thus the slaughter of Israelites was checked;

Num 25:9 but only after twenty-four thousand had died.

Num 25:10 Then the LORD said to Moses,

Num 25:11 "Phinehas, son of Eleazar, son of Aaron the priest, has turned my anger from the Israelites by his zeal for my honor among them; that is why I did not put an end to the Israelites for the offense to my honor.

Num 25:12 Announce, therefore, that I hereby give him my pledge of friendship,

Num 25:13 which shall be for him and for his descendants after him the pledge of an everlasting priesthood, because he was zealous on behalf of his God and thus made amends for the Israelites."

Num 25:14 The Israelite slain with the Midianite woman was Zimri, son of Salu, prince of an ancestral house of the Simeonites.

Num 25:15 The slain Midianite woman was Cozbi, daughter of Zur, who was head of a clan, an ancestral house, in Midian.

Num 25:16 The LORD then said to Moses,

Num 25:17 "Treat the Midianites as enemies and crush them,

Num 25:18 for they have been your enemies by their wily dealings with you as regards Peor and as regards their kinswoman Cozbi, the daughter of a Midianite prince, who was killed at the time of the slaughter because of Peor."

Num 25:19 After the slaughter

Num 26:1 the LORD said to Moses and Eleazar; son of Aaron the priest,

Num 26:2 "Take a census, by ancestral houses, throughout the community of the Israelites of all those of twenty years or more who are fit for military service in Israel."

Num 26:3 So on the plains of Moab along the Jericho stretch of the Jordan, Moses and the priest Eleazar registered

Num 26:4 those of twenty years or more, as the LORD had commanded Moses. The Israelites who came out of the land of Egypt were as follows:

Num 26:5 Of Reuben, the first-born of Israel, the Reubenites by clans were: through Hanoch the clan of the Hanochites, through Pallu the clan of the Palluites,

Num 26:6 through Hezron the clan of the Hezronites, through Carmi the clan of the Carmites.

Num 26:7 These were the clans of the Reubenites, of whom forty-three thousand seven hundred and thirty men were registered.

Num 26:8 From Pallu descended Eliab,

Num 26:9 and the descendants of Eliab were Dathan and Abiram-- the same Dathan and Abiram, councilors of the community, who revolted against Moses and Aaron (like Korah's band when it rebelled against the LORD).

Num 26:10 The earth opened its mouth and swallowed them as a warning (Korah too and the band that died when the fire consumed two hundred and fifty men.

Num 26:11 The descendants of Korah, however, did not die out).

Num 26:12 The Simeonites by clans were: through Nemuel the clan of the Nemuelites, through Jamin the clan of the Jaminites, through Jachin the clan of the Jachinites,

Num 26:13 through Sohar the clan of the Soharites, through Shaul the clan of the Shaulites.

Num 26:14 These were the clans of the Simeonites, of whom twenty-two thousand two hundred men were registered.

Num 26:15 The Gadites by clans were: through Zephon the clan of the Zephonites, through Haggi the clan of the Haggites, through Shuni the clan of the Shunites,

Num 26:16 through Ozni the clan of the Oznites, through Eri the clan of the Erites,

Num 26:17 through Arod the clan of the Arodites, through Areli the clan of the Arelites.

Num 26:18 These were the clans of the Gadites, of whom forty thousand five hundred men were registered.

Num 26:19 The sons of Judah who died in the land of Canaan were Er and Onan.

Num 26:20 The Judahites by clans were: through Shelah the clan of the Shelahites, through Perez the clan of the Perezites, through Zerah the clan of the Zerahites.

Num 26:21 The Perezites were: through Hezron the clan of the Hezronites, through Hamul the clan of the Hamulites.

Num 26:22 These were the clans of Judah, of whom seventy-six thousand five hundred men were registered.

Num 26:23 The Issacharites by clans were: through Tola the clan of the Tolaites, through Puvah the clan of the Puvahites,

Num 26:24 through Jashub the clan of the Jashubites, through Shimron the clan of the Shimronites.

Num 26:25 These were the clans of Issachar, of whom sixty-four thousand three hundred men were registered.

Num 26:26 The Zebulunites by clans were: through Sered the clan of the Seredites, through Elon the clan of the Elonites, through Jahleel the clan of the Jahleelites.

Num 26:27 These were the clans of the Zebulunites, of whom sixty thousand five hundred men were registered.

Num 26:28 The sons of Joseph were Manasseh and Ephraim.

Num 26:29 The Manassehites by clans were: through Machir the clan of the Machirites, through Gilead, a descendant of Machir, the clan of the Gileadites.

Num 26:30 The Gileadites were: through Abiezer the clan of the Abiezrites, through Helek the clan of the Helekites,

Num 26:31 through Asriel the clan of the Asrielites, through Shechem the clan of the Shechemites,

Num 26:32 through Shemida the clan of the Shemidaites, through Hephher the clan of the Hephherites.

Num 26:33 Zelophehad, son of Hephher, had no sons, but only daughters, whose names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah.

Num 26:34 These were the clans of Manasseh, of whom fifty-two thousand seven hundred men were registered.

Num 26:35 The Ephraimites by clans were: through Shuthelah the clan of the Shuthelahites, through Becher the clan of the Bechrites, through Tahan the clan of the Tahanites.

Num 26:36 The Shuthelahites were: through Eran the clan of the Eranites.

Num 26:37 These were the clans of the Ephraimites, of whom thirty-two thousand five hundred men were registered. These were the descendants of Joseph by clans.

Num 26:38 The Benjaminites by clans were: through Bela the clan of the Belaites, through Ashbel the clan of the Ashbelites, through Ahiram the clan of the Ahiramites, Num 26:39 through Shupham the clan of the Shuphamites, through Hupham the clan of the Huphamites.

Num 26:40 The descendants of Bela were Arad and Naaman: through Arad the clan of the Aradites, through Naaman the clan of the Naamanites.

Num 26:41 These were the Benjaminites by clans, of whom forty-five thousand six hundred men were registered.

Num 26:42 The Danites by clans were: through Shuham the clan of the Shuhamites. These were the clans of Dan,

Num 26:43 of whom sixty-four thousand four hundred men were registered.

Num 26:44 The Asherites by clans were: through Imnah the clan of the Imnites, through Ishvi the clan of the Ishvites, through Beriah the clan of the Beriites,

Num 26:45 through Heber the clan of the Heberites, through Malchiel the clan of the Malchielites.

Num 26:46 The name of Asher's daughter was Serah.

Num 26:47 These were the clans of Asher, of whom fifty-three thousand four hundred men were registered.

Num 26:48 The Naphtalites by clans were: through Jahzeel the clan of the Jahzeelites, through Guni the clan of the Gunites,

Num 26:49 through Jezer the clan of the Jezerites, through Shillem the clan of the Shillemites.

Num 26:50 These were the clans of Naphtali, of whom forty-five thousand four hundred men were registered.

Num 26:51 These six hundred and one thousand seven hundred and thirty were the Israelites who were registered.

Num 26:52 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 26:53 "Among these groups the land shall be divided as their heritage in keeping with the number of individuals in each group.

Num 26:54 To a large group you shall assign a large heritage, to a small group a small heritage, each group receiving its heritage in proportion to the number of men registered in it.

Num 26:55 But the land shall be divided by lot, as the heritage of the various ancestral tribes.

Num 26:56 As the lot falls shall each group, large or small, be assigned its heritage."

Num 26:57 The Levites registered by clans were: through Gershon the clan of the Gershonites, through Kohath the clan of the Kohathites, through Merari the clan of the Merarites.

Num 26:58 These also were clans of Levi: the clan of the Libnites, the clan of the Hebronites, the clan of the Mahlites, the clan of the Mushites, the clan of the Korahites. Among the descendants of Kohath was Amram,

Num 26:59 whose wife was named Jochebed. She also was of the tribe of Levi, born to the tribe in Egypt. To Amram she bore Aaron and Moses and their sister Miriam.

Num 26:60 To Aaron were born Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

Num 26:61 But Nadab and Abihu died when they offered profane fire before the LORD.

Num 26:62 The total number of male Levites one month or more of age, who were registered, was twenty-three thousand. They were not registered with the other Israelites, however, for no heritage was given them among the Israelites.

Num 26:63 These, then, were the men registered by Moses and the priest Eleazar in the census of the Israelites taken on the plains of Moab along the Jericho stretch of the Jordan.

Num 26:64 Among them there was not a man of those who had been registered by Moses and the priest Aaron in the census of the Israelites taken in the desert of Sinai.

Num 26:65 For the LORD had told them that they would surely die in the desert, and not one of them was left except Caleb, son of Jephunneh, and Joshua, son of Nun.

Num 27:1 Zelophehad, son of Hopher, son of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh, son of Joseph, had daughters named Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah and Tirzah. They came forward,

Num 27:2 and standing in the presence of Moses, the priest Eleazar, the princes, and the whole community at the entrance of the meeting tent, said:

Num 27:3 "Our father died in the desert. Although he did not join those who banded together against the LORD (in Korah's band), he died for his own sin without leaving any sons.

Num 27:4 But why should our father's name be withdrawn from his clan merely because he had no son? Let us, therefore, have property among our father's kinsmen."

Num 27:5 When Moses laid their case before the LORD,

Num 27:6 the LORD said to him,

Num 27:7 "The plea of Zelophehad's daughters is just; you shall give them hereditary property among their father's kinsmen, letting their father's heritage pass on to them.

Num 27:8 Therefore, tell the Israelites: If a man dies without leaving a son, you shall let his heritage pass on to his daughter;

Num 27:9 if he has no daughter, you shall give his heritage to his brothers;

Num 27:10 if he has no brothers, you shall give his heritage to his father's brothers;

Num 27:11 if his father had no brothers, you shall give his heritage to his nearest relative in his clan, who shall then take possession of it." This is the legal norm for the Israelites, as the LORD commanded Moses.

Num 27:12 The LORD said to Moses, "Go up here into the Abarim Mountains and view the land that I am giving to the Israelites.

Num 27:13 When you have viewed it, you too shall be taken to your people, as was your brother Aaron,

Num 27:14 because in the rebellion of the community in the desert of Zin you both rebelled against my order to manifest my sanctity to them by means of the water." (This is the water of Meribah of Kadesh in the desert of Zin.)

Num 27:15 Then Moses said to the LORD,

Num 27:16 "May the LORD, the God of the spirits of all mankind, set over the community a man

Num 27:17 who shall act as their leader in all things, to guide them in all their actions; that the LORD'S community may not be like sheep without a shepherd."

Num 27:18 And the LORD replied to Moses, "Take Joshua, son of Nun, a man of spirit, and lay your hand upon him.

Num 27:19 Have him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, and commission him before their eyes.

Num 27:20 Invest him with some of your own dignity, that the whole Israelite community may obey him.

Num 27:21 He shall present himself to the priest Eleazar, to have him seek out for him the decisions of the Urim in the LORD'S presence; and as he directs, Joshua, all the Israelites with him, and the community as a whole shall perform all their actions."

Num 27:22 Moses did as the LORD had commanded him. Taking Joshua and having him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community,

Num 27:23 he laid his hands on him and gave him his commission, as the LORD had directed through Moses.

Num 28:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 28:2 "Give the Israelites this commandment: At the times I have appointed, you shall be careful to present to me the food offerings that are offered to me as sweet-smelling oblations.

Num 28:3 "You shall tell them therefore: This is the oblation which you shall offer to the LORD: two unblemished yearling lambs each day as the established holocaust,

Num 28:4 offering one lamb in the morning and the other during the evening twilight,

Num 28:5 each with a cereal offering of one tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a fourth of a hin of oil of crushed olives.

Num 28:6 This is the established holocaust that was offered at Mount Sinai as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 28:7 And as the libation for the first lamb, you shall pour out to the LORD in the sanctuary a fourth of a hin of wine.

Num 28:8 The other lamb, to be offered during the evening twilight, you shall offer with the same cereal offering and the same libation as in the morning, as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 28:9 "On the sabbath day you shall offer two unblemished yearling lambs, with their cereal offering, two tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil, and with their libations.

Num 28:10 Each sabbath there shall be the sabbath holocaust in addition to the established holocaust and its libation.

Num 28:11 "On the first of each month you shall offer as a holocaust to the LORD two bullocks, one ram, and seven unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 28:12 with three tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil as the cereal offering for each bullock, two tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil as the cereal offering for the ram,

Num 28:13 and one tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil as the cereal offering for each lamb, that the holocaust may be a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 28:14 Their libations shall be half a hin of wine for each bullock, a third of a hin for the ram, and a fourth of a hin for each lamb. This is the new moon holocaust for every new moon of the year.

Num 28:15 Moreover, one goat shall be sacrificed as a sin offering to the LORD. These are to be offered in addition to the established holocaust and its libation.

Num 28:16 "On the fourteenth day of the first month falls the Passover of the LORD,

Num 28:17 and the fifteenth day of this month is the pilgrimage feast. For seven days unleavened bread is to be eaten.

Num 28:18 On the first of these days you shall hold a sacred assembly, and do no sort of work.

Num 28:19 As an oblation you shall offer a holocaust to the LORD, which shall consist of two bullocks, one ram, and seven yearling lambs that you are sure are unblemished,

Num 28:20 with their cereal offerings of fine flour mixed with oil; offering three tenths of an ephah for each bullock, two tenths for the ram,

Num 28:21 and one tenth for each of the seven lambs;

Num 28:22 and offer one goat as a sin offering in atonement for yourselves.

Num 28:23 These offerings you shall make in addition to the established morning holocaust:

Num 28:24 you shall make exactly the same offerings each day for seven days as food offerings, in addition to the established holocaust with its libation, for a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 28:25 On the seventh day you shall hold a sacred assembly, and do no sort of work.

Num 28:26 "On the day of first fruits, on your feast of Weeks, when you present to the LORD the new cereal offering, you shall hold a sacred assembly, and do no sort of work.

Num 28:27 You shall offer as a sweet-smelling holocaust to the LORD two bullocks, one ram, and seven yearling lambs that you are sure are unblemished,

Num 28:28 with their cereal offerings of fine flour mixed with oil; offering three tenths of an ephah for each bullock, two tenths for the ram,

Num 28:29 and one tenth for each of the seven lambs.

Num 28:30 Moreover, one goat shall be offered as a sin offering in atonement for yourselves.

Num 28:31 You shall make these offerings, together with their libations, in addition to the established holocaust with its cereal offering.

Num 29:1 "On the first day of the seventh month you shall hold a sacred assembly, and do no sort of work; it shall be a day on which you sound the trumpet.

Num 29:2 You shall offer as a sweet-smelling holocaust to the LORD one bullock, one ram, and seven unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:3 with their cereal offerings of fine flour mixed with oil; offering three tenths of an ephah for the bullock, two tenths for the ram,

Num 29:4 and one tenth for each of the seven lambs.

Num 29:5 Moreover, one goat shall be offered as a sin offering in atonement for yourselves.

Num 29:6 These are to be offered in addition to the ordinary new-moon holocaust with its cereal offering, and in addition to the established holocaust with its cereal offering, together with the libations prescribed for them, as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD.

Num 29:7 "On the tenth day of this seventh month you shall hold a sacred assembly, and mortify yourselves, and do no sort of work.

Num 29:8 You shall offer as a sweet-smelling holocaust to the LORD one bullock, one ram, and seven yearling lambs that you are sure are unblemished,

Num 29:9 with their cereal offerings of fine flour mixed with oil; offering three tenths of an ephah for the bullock, two tenths for the ram,

Num 29:10 and one tenth for each of the seven lambs.

Num 29:11 Moreover, one goat shall be sacrificed as a sin offering. These are to be offered in addition to the atonement sin offering, the established holocaust with its cereal offering, and their libations.

Num 29:12 "On the fifteenth day of the seventh month you shall hold a sacred assembly, and do no sort of work; then, for seven days following, you shall celebrate a pilgrimage feast to the LORD.

Num 29:13 You shall offer as a sweet-smelling holocaust to the LORD thirteen bullocks, two rams, and fourteen yearling lambs that are unblemished,

Num 29:14 with their cereal offerings of fine flour mixed with oil; offering three tenths of an ephah for each of the thirteen bullocks, two tenths for each of the two rams,

Num 29:15 and one tenth for each of the fourteen lambs.

Num 29:16 Moreover, one goat shall be sacrificed as a sin offering. These are to be offered in addition to the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:17 "On the second day you shall offer twelve bullocks, two rams, and fourteen unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:18 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:19 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:20 "On the third day you shall offer eleven bullocks, two rams, and fourteen unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:21 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:22 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:23 "On the fourth day you shall offer ten bullocks, two rams, and fourteen unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:24 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:25 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:26 "On the fifth day you shall offer nine bullocks, two rams, and fourteen unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:27 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:28 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:29 "On the sixth day you shall offer eight bullocks, two rams, and fourteen unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:30 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:31 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:32 "On the seventh day you shall offer seven bullocks, two rams, and fourteen unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:33 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:34 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:35 "On the eighth day you shall hold a solemn meeting, and do no sort of work.

Num 29:36 You shall offer up in holocaust as a sweet-smelling oblation to the LORD one bullock, one ram, and seven unblemished yearling lambs,

Num 29:37 with their cereal offerings and libations as prescribed for the bullocks, rams and lambs in proportion to their number,

Num 29:38 as well as one goat for a sin offering, besides the established holocaust with its cereal offering and libation.

Num 29:39 "These are the offerings you shall make to the LORD on your festivals, besides whatever holocausts, cereal offerings, libations, and peace offerings you present as your votive or freewill offerings."

Num 30:1 Moses then gave the Israelites these instructions, just as the LORD had ordered him.

Num 30:2 Moses said to the heads of the Israelite tribes, "This is what the LORD has commanded:

Num 30:3 When a man makes a vow to the LORD or binds himself under oath to a pledge of abstinence, he shall not violate his word, but must fulfill exactly the promise he has uttered.

Num 30:4 "When a woman, while still a maiden in her father's house, makes a vow to the LORD, or binds herself to a pledge,

Num 30:5 if her father learns of her vow or the pledge to which she bound herself and says nothing to her about it, then any vow or any pledge she has made remains valid.

Num 30:6 But if on the day he learns of it her father expresses to her his disapproval, then any vow or any pledge she has made becomes null and void; and the LORD releases her from it, since her father has expressed to her his disapproval.

Num 30:7 "If she marries while under a vow or under a rash pledge to which she bound herself,

Num 30:8 and her husband learns of it, yet says nothing to her that day about it, then the vow or pledge she had made remains valid.

Num 30:9 But if on the day he learns of it her husband expresses to her his disapproval, he thereby annuls the vow she had made or the rash pledge to which she had bound herself, and the LORD releases her from it.

Num 30:10 The vow of a widow or of a divorced woman, or any pledge to which such a woman binds herself, is valid.

Num 30:11 "If it is in her husband's house that she makes a vow or binds herself under oath to a pledge,

Num 30:12 and her husband learns of it yet says nothing to express to her his disapproval, then any vow or any pledge she has made remains valid.

Num 30:13 But if on the day he learns of them her husband annuls them, then whatever she has expressly promised in her vow or in her pledge becomes null and void; since her husband has annulled them, the LORD releases her from them.

Num 30:14 "Any vow or any pledge that she makes under oath to mortify herself, her husband can either allow to remain valid or render null and void.

Num 30:15 But if her husband, day after day, says nothing at all to her about them, he thereby allows as valid any vow or any pledge she has made; he has allowed them to remain valid, because on the day he learned of them he said nothing to her about them.

Num 30:16 If, however, he countermands them some time after he first learned of them, he is responsible for her guilt."

Num 30:17 These are the statutes which the LORD prescribed through Moses concerning the relationship between a husband and his wife, as well as between a father and his daughter while she is still a maiden in her father's house.

Num 31:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 31:2 "Avenge the Israelites on the Midianites, and then you shall be taken to your people."

Num 31:3 So Moses told the people, "Select men from your midst and arm them for war, to attack the Midianites and execute the LORD'S vengeance on them.

Num 31:4 From each of the tribes of Israel you shall send a band of one thousand men to war."

Num 31:5 From the clans of Israel, therefore, a thousand men of each tribe were levied, so that there were twelve thousand men armed for war.

Num 31:6 Moses sent them out on the campaign, a thousand from each tribe, with Phinehas, son of Eleazar, the priest for the campaign, who had with him the sacred vessels and the trumpets for sounding the alarm.

Num 31:7 They waged war against the Midianites, as the LORD had commanded Moses, and killed every male among them.

Num 31:8 Besides those slain in battle, they killed the five Midianite kings: Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur and Reba; and they also executed Balaam, son of Beor, with the sword.

Num 31:9 But the Israelites kept the women of the Midianites with their little ones as captives, and all their herds and flocks and wealth as spoil,

Num 31:10 while they set on fire all the towns where they had settled and all their encampments.

Num 31:11 Then they took all the booty, with the people and beasts they had captured, and brought the captives, together with the spoils and booty,

Num 31:12 to Moses and the priest Eleazar and to the Israelite community at their camp on the plains of Moab, along the Jericho stretch of the Jordan.

Num 31:13 When Moses and the priest Eleazar, with all the princes of the community, went outside the camp to meet them,

Num 31:14 Moses became angry with the officers of the army, the clan and company commanders, who were returning from combat.

Num 31:15 "So you have spared all the women!" he exclaimed.

Num 31:16 "Why, they are the very ones who on Balaam's advice prompted the unfaithfulness of the Israelites toward the LORD in the Peor affair, which began the slaughter of the LORD'S community.

Num 31:17 Slay, therefore, every male child and every woman who has had intercourse with a man.

Num 31:18 But you may spare and keep for yourselves all girls who had no intercourse with a man.

Num 31:19 "Moreover, you shall stay outside the camp for seven days, and those of you who have slain anyone or touched anyone slain in battle shall purify yourselves on the third and on the seventh day. This applies both to you and to your captives.

Num 31:20 You shall also purify every article of cloth, leather, goats' hair, or wood."

Num 31:21 Eleazar the priest told the soldiers who had returned from combat: "This is what the law, as prescribed by the LORD to Moses, ordains:

Num 31:22 Whatever can stand fire, such as gold, silver, bronze, iron, tin and lead,

Num 31:23 you shall put into the fire, that it may become clean; however, it must also be purified with lustral water. But whatever cannot stand fire you shall put into the water.

Num 31:24 On the seventh day you shall wash your clothes, and then you will again be clean. After that you may enter the camp."

Num 31:25 The LORD said to Moses:

Num 31:26 "With the help of the priest Eleazar and of the heads of the ancestral houses, count up all the human captives and the beasts that have been taken;

Num 31:27 then divide them evenly, giving half to those who took active part in the war by going out to combat, and half to the rest of the community.

Num 31:28 You shall levy a tax for the LORD on the warriors who went out to combat: one out of every five hundred persons, oxen, asses and sheep

Num 31:29 in their half of the spoil you shall turn over to the priest Eleazar as a contribution to the LORD.

Num 31:30 From the Israelites' half you shall take one out of every fifty persons, and the same from the different beasts, oxen, asses and sheep, and give them to the Levites, who have charge of the LORD'S Dwelling."

Num 31:31 So Moses and the priest Eleazar did this, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Num 31:32 This booty, what was left of the loot which the soldiers had taken, amounted to six hundred and seventy-five thousand sheep,

Num 31:33 seventy-two thousand oxen,
Num 31:34 sixty-one thousand asses,
Num 31:35 and thirty-two thousand girls who were still virgins.
Num 31:36 The half that fell to those who had gone out to combat was: three hundred and thirty-seven thousand five hundred sheep,
Num 31:37 of which six hundred and seventy-five fell as tax to the LORD;
Num 31:38 thirty-six thousand oxen, of which seventy-two fell as tax to the LORD;
Num 31:39 thirty thousand five hundred asses, of which sixty-one fell as tax to the LORD;
Num 31:40 and sixteen thousand persons, of whom thirty-two fell as tax to the LORD.
Num 31:41 The taxes contributed to the LORD, Moses gave to the priest Eleazar, as the LORD had commanded him.
Num 31:42 The half for the other Israelites, which fell to the community when Moses had taken it from the soldiers, was:
Num 31:43 three hundred and thirty-seven thousand five hundred sheep,
Num 31:44 thirty-six thousand oxen,
Num 31:45 thirty thousand five hundred asses,
Num 31:46 and sixteen thousand persons.
Num 31:47 From this, the Israelites' share, Moses, as the LORD had ordered, took one out of every fifty, both of persons and of beasts, and gave them to the Levites, who had charge of the LORD'S Dwelling.
Num 31:48 Then the officers who had been clan and company commanders of the army came up to Moses Num 31:49 and said to him, "Your servants have counted up the soldiers under our command, and not one is missing.
Num 31:50 So, to make atonement for ourselves before the LORD, each of us will bring as an offering to the LORD some gold article he has picked up, such as an anklet, a bracelet, a ring, an earring, or a necklace."
Num 31:51 Moses and the priest Eleazar accepted this gold from them, all of it in well-wrought articles.
Num 31:52 The gold that they gave as a contribution to the LORD amounted in all to sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels. This was from the clan and company commanders;
Num 31:53 what the common soldiers had looted each one kept for himself.
Num 31:54 Moses, then, and the priest Eleazar accepted the gold from the clan and company commanders, and put it in the meeting tent as a memorial for the Israelites before the LORD.
Num 32:1 Now the Reubenites and Gadites had a very large number of livestock. Noticing that the land of Jazer and of Gilead was grazing country,
Num 32:2 they came to Moses and the priest Eleazar and to the princes of the community and said,
Num 32:3 "The region of Ataroth, Dibon, Jazer, Nimrah, Heshbon, Elealeh, Sebam, Nebo and Baal-meon, Num 32:4 which the LORD has laid low before the community of Israel, is grazing country. Now, since your servants have livestock,"
Num 32:5 they continued, "if we find favor with you, let this land be given to your servants as their property. Do not make us cross the Jordan."
Num 32:6 But Moses answered the Gadites and Reubenites: "Are your kinsmen, then, to engage in war, while you remain here?
Num 32:7 Why do you wish to discourage the Israelites from crossing to the land the LORD has given them?
Num 32:8 That is just what your fathers did when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to reconnoiter the land.
Num 32:9 They went up to the Wadi Eshcol and reconnoitered the land, then so discouraged the Israelites that they would not enter the land the LORD had given them.
Num 32:10 At that time the wrath of the LORD flared up, and he swore,
Num 32:11 'Because they have not followed me unreservedly, none of these men of twenty years or more who have come up from Egypt shall ever see this country I promised under oath to Abraham and Isaac and Jacob,
Num 32:12 except the Kenizzite Caleb, son of Jephunneh, and Joshua, son of Nun, who have followed the LORD unreservedly.'
Num 32:13 So in his anger with the Israelites the LORD made them wander in the desert forty years, until the whole generation that had done evil in the sight of the LORD had died out.
Num 32:14 And now here you are, a brood of sinners, rising up in your fathers' place to add still more to the LORD'S blazing wrath against the Israelites.
Num 32:15 If you turn away from following him, he will make them stay still longer in the desert, and so you will bring about the ruin of this whole nation."
Num 32:16 But they were insistent with him: "We wish only to build sheepfolds here for our flocks, and towns for our families;
Num 32:17 but we ourselves will march as troops in the van of the Israelites, until we have led them to their destination. Meanwhile our families can remain here in the fortified towns, safe from attack by the natives.

Num 32:18 We will not return to our homes until every one of the Israelites has taken possession of his heritage,

Num 32:19 and will not claim any heritage with them once we cross the Jordan, so long as we receive a heritage for ourselves on this eastern side of the Jordan."

Num 32:20 Moses said to them in reply: "If you keep your word to march as troops in the LORD'S vanguard

Num 32:21 and to cross the Jordan in full force before the LORD until he has driven his enemies out of his way

Num 32:22 and the land is subdued before him, then you may return here, quit of every obligation to the LORD and to Israel, and this region shall be your possession before the LORD.

Num 32:23 But if you do not do this, you will sin against the LORD, and you can be sure that you will not escape the consequences of your sin.

Num 32:24 Build the towns, then, for your families, and the folds for your flocks, but also fulfill your express promise."

Num 32:25 The Gadites and Reubenites answered Moses, "Your servants will do as you command, my lord.

Num 32:26 While our wives and children, our herds and other livestock remain in the towns of Gilead,

Num 32:27 all your servants will go across as armed troops to battle before the LORD, just as your lordship says."

Num 32:28 Moses, therefore, gave this order in their regard to the priest Eleazar, to Joshua, son of Nun, and to the heads of the ancestral tribes of the Israelites:

Num 32:29 "If all the Gadites and Reubenites cross the Jordan with you as combat troops before the LORD, you shall give them Gilead as their property when the land has been subdued before you.

Num 32:30 But if they will not go across with you as combat troops before the LORD, you shall bring their wives and children and livestock across before you into Canaan, and they shall have their property with you in the land of Canaan."

Num 32:31 To this the Gadites and Reubenites replied, "We will do what the LORD has commanded us, your servants.

Num 32:32 We ourselves will go across into the land of Canaan as troops before the LORD, but we will retain our hereditary property on this side of the Jordan."

Num 32:33 So Moses gave them (the Gadites and Reubenites, as well as half the tribe of Manasseh, son of Joseph, the kingdom of Sihon, king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og, king of Bashan,) the land with its towns and the districts that surrounded them.

Num 32:34 The Gadites rebuilt the fortified towns of Dibon, Ataroth, Aroer,

Num 32:35 Atroth-shophan, Jazer, Jogbehah,

Num 32:36 Beth-nimrah and Beth-haran, and they built sheepfolds.

Num 32:37 The Reubenites rebuilt Heshbon, Elealeh, Kiriathaim,

Num 32:38 Nebo, Baal-meon (names to be changed!), and Sibmah. These towns, which they rebuilt, they called by their old names.

Num 32:39 The descendants of Machir, son of Manasseh, invaded Gilead and captured it, driving out the Amorites who were there.

Num 32:40 (Moses gave Gilead to Machir, son of Manasseh, and he settled there.)

Num 32:41 Jair, a Manassehite clan, campaigned against the tent villages, captured them and called them Havvoth-jair.

Num 32:42 Nobah also campaigned against Kenath, captured it with its dependencies and called it Nobah after his own name.

Num 33:1 The following are the stages by which the Israelites journeyed up by companies from the land of Egypt under the guidance of Moses and Aaron.

Num 33:2 By the LORD'S command Moses recorded the starting places of the various stages. The starting places of the successive stages were:

Num 33:3 They set out from Rameses in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month. On the Passover morrow the Israelites went forth in triumph, in view of all Egypt,

Num 33:4 While the Egyptians buried their first-born all of whom the LORD had struck down; on their gods, too, the LORD executed judgments.

Num 33:5 Setting out from Rameses, the Israelites camped at Succoth.

Num 33:6 Setting out from Succoth, they camped at Etham near the edge of the desert.

Num 33:7 Setting out from Etham, they turned back to Pi-hahiroth, which is opposite Baal-zephon, and they camped opposite Migdol.

Num 33:8 Setting out from Pi-hahiroth, they crossed over through the sea into the desert, and after a three days' journey in the desert of Etham, they camped at Marah.

Num 33:9 Setting out from Marah, they came to Elim, where there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, and they camped there.

Num 33:10 Setting out from Elim, they camped beside the Red Sea.

Num 33:11 Setting out from the Red Sea, they camped in the desert of Sin.

Num 33:12 Setting out from the desert of Sin, they camped at Dophkah.

Num 33:13 Setting out from Dophkah, they camped at Alush.

Num 33:14 Setting out from Alush, they camped at Rephidim, where there was no water for the people to drink.

Num 33:15 Setting out from Rephidim, they camped in the desert of Sinai.

Num 33:16 Setting out from the desert of Sinai, they camped at Kibroth-hattaavah.

Num 33:17 Setting out from Kibroth-hattaavah, they camped at Hazeroth.

Num 33:18 Setting out from Hazeroth, they camped at Rithmah.

Num 33:19 Setting out from Rithmah, they camped at Rimmon-perez.

Num 33:20 Setting out from Rimmon-perez, they camped at Libnah.

Num 33:21 Setting out from Libnah, they camped at Rissah.

Num 33:22 Setting out from Rissah, they camped at Kehelathah.

Num 33:23 Setting out from Kehelathah, they camped at Mount Shepher.

Num 33:24 Setting out from Mount Shepher, they camped at Haradah.

Num 33:25 Setting out from Haradah, they camped at Makheloth.

Num 33:26 Setting out from Makheloth, they camped at Tahath.

Num 33:27 Setting out from Tahath, they camped at Terah.

Num 33:28 Setting out from Terah, they camped at Mithkah.

Num 33:29 Setting out from Mithkah, they camped at Hashmonah.

Num 33:30 Setting out from Hashmonah,-They camped at Moseroth.

Num 33:31 Setting out from Moseroth, they camped at Bene-jaakan.

Num 33:32 Setting out from Bene-jaakan, they camped at Mount Gidgad.

Num 33:33 Setting out from Mount Gidgad, they camped at Jotbathah.

Num 33:34 Setting out from Jotbathah, they camped at Abronah.

Num 33:35 Setting out from Abronah, they camped at Ezion-geber.

Num 33:36 Setting out from Ezion-geber,-They camped in the desert of Zin, at Kadesh.

Num 33:37 Setting out from Kadesh, they camped at Mount Hor on the border of the land of Edom.

Num 33:38 (Aaron the priest ascended Mount Hor at the LORD'S command, and there he died in the fortieth year from the departure of the Israelites from the land of Egypt, on the first day of the fifth month.

Num 33:39 Aaron was a hundred and twenty-three years old when he died on Mount Hor.

Num 33:40 Now, when the Canaanite king of Arad, who lived in the Negeb in the land of Canaan, heard that the Israelites were coming....)

Num 33:41 Setting out from Mount Hor,-They camped at Zalmonah.

Num 33:42 Setting out from Zalmonah, they camped at Punon.

Num 33:43 Setting out from Punon, they camped at Oboth.

Num 33:44 Setting out from Oboth, they camped at Iye-abarim on the border of Moab.

Num 33:45 Setting out from Iye-abarim, they camped at Dibon-gad.

Num 33:46 Setting out from Dibon-gad, they camped at Almon-diblathaim.

Num 33:47 Setting out from Almon-diblathaim, they camped in the Abarim Mountains opposite Nebo.

Num 33:48 Setting out from the Abarim Mountains, they camped on the plains of Moab along the Jericho stretch of the Jordan.

Num 33:49 Their camp along the Jordan on the plains of Moab extended from Beth-jeshimoth to Abelshittim.

Num 33:50 The LORD spoke to Moses on the plains of Moab beside the Jericho stretch of the Jordan and said to him:

Num 33:51 "Tell the Israelites: When you go across the Jordan into the land of Canaan,

Num 33:52 drive out all the inhabitants of the land before you; destroy all their stone figures and molten images, and demolish all their high places.

Num 33:53 "You shall take possession of the land and settle in it, for I have given you the land as your property.

Num 33:54 You shall apportion the land among yourselves by lot, clan by clan, assigning a large heritage to a large group and a small heritage to a small group. Wherever anyone's lot falls, there shall his property be within the heritage of his ancestral tribe.

Num 33:55 "But if you do not drive out the inhabitants of the land before you, those whom you allow to remain will become as barbs in your eyes and thorns in your sides, and they will harass you in the country where you live,

Num 33:56 and I will treat you as I had intended to treat them."

Num 34:1 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 34:2 "Give the Israelites this order: When you enter the land of Canaan, this is the territory that shall fall to you as your heritage-- the land of Canaan with its boundaries:

Num 34:3 "Your southern boundary shall be at the desert of Zin along the border of Edom; on the east it shall begin at the end of the Salt Sea,

Num 34:4 and turning south of the Akrabbim Pass, it shall cross Zin, and extend south of Kadesh-barnea to Hazar-addar; thence it shall cross to Azmon,

Num 34:5 and turning from Azmon to the Wadi of Egypt, shall terminate at the Sea.

Num 34:6 "For your western boundary you shall have the Great Sea with its coast; this shall be your western boundary.

Num 34:7 "The following shall be your boundary on the north: from the Great Sea you shall draw a line to Mount Hor,

Num 34:8 and shall continue it from Mount Hor to Labo in the land of Hamath, with the boundary extending through Zedad.

Num 34:9 Thence the boundary shall reach to Ziphron and terminate at Hazar-enan. This shall be your northern boundary.

Num 34:10 "For your eastern boundary you shall draw a line from Hazar-enan to Shepham.

Num 34:11 From Shepham the boundary shall go down to Ar-Baal, east of Ain, and descending further, shall strike the ridge on the east side of the Sea of Chinnereth;

Num 34:12 thence the boundary shall continue along the Jordan and terminate with the Salt Sea. "This is the land that shall be yours, with the boundaries that surround it."

Num 34:13 Moses also gave this order to the Israelites: "This is the land, to be apportioned among you by lot, which the LORD has commanded to be given to the nine and one half tribes.

Num 34:14 For all the ancestral houses of the tribe of Reuben, and the ancestral houses of the tribe of Gad, as well as half of the tribe of Manasseh, have already received their heritage;

Num 34:15 these two and one half tribes have received their heritage on the eastern side of the Jericho stretch of the Jordan, toward the sunrise."

Num 34:16 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 34:17 "These are the names of the men who shall apportion the land among you: Eleazar the priest, and Joshua, son of Nun,

Num 34:18 and one prince from each of the tribes whom you shall designate for this task.

Num 34:19 These shall be as follows: from the tribe of Judah: Caleb, son of Jephunneh,

Num 34:20 from the tribe of Simeon: Samuel, son of Ammihud;

Num 34:21 from the tribe of Benjamin: Elidad, son of Chislon;

Num 34:22 from the tribe of Dan: Bukki, son of Jogli;

Num 34:23 from the tribe of Manasseh: Hanniel, son of Ephod; and

Num 34:24 from the tribe of Ephraim: Kemuel, son of Shiphtan, for the descendants of Joseph;

Num 34:25 from the tribe of Zebulun: Elizaphan, son of Parnach;

Num 34:26 from the tribe of Issachar: Paltiel, son of Azzan;

Num 34:27 from the tribe of Asher: Ahihud, son of Shelomi;

Num 34:28 from the tribe of Naphtali: Pedahel, son of Ammihud."

Num 34:29 These are they whom the LORD commanded to assign the Israelites their heritage in the land of Canaan.

Num 35:1 The LORD gave these instructions to Moses on the plains of Moab beside the Jericho stretch of the Jordan:

Num 35:2 "Tell the Israelites that out of their hereditary property they shall give the Levites cities for homes, as well as pasture lands around the cities.

Num 35:3 The cities shall serve them to dwell in, and the pasture lands shall serve their herds and flocks and other animals.

Num 35:4 The pasture lands of the cities to be assigned the Levites shall extend a thousand cubits from the city walls in each direction.

Num 35:5 Thus you shall measure out two thousand cubits outside the city along each side-- east, south, west and north-- with the city lying in the center. This shall serve them as the pasture lands of their cities.

Num 35:6 "Now these are the cities you shall give to the Levites: the six cities of asylum which you must establish as places where a homicide can take refuge, and in addition forty-two other cities--

Num 35:7 a total of forty-eight cities with their pasture lands to be assigned the Levites.

Num 35:8 In assigning the cities from the property of the Israelites, take more from a larger group and fewer from a smaller one, so that each group will cede cities to the Levites in proportion to its own heritage."

Num 35:9 The LORD said to Moses,

Num 35:10 "Tell the Israelites: When you go across the Jordan into the land of Canaan,

Num 35:11 select for yourselves cities to serve as cities of asylum, where a homicide who has killed someone unintentionally may take refuge.

Num 35:12 These cities shall serve you as places of asylum from the avenger of blood, so that a homicide shall not be put to death unless he is first tried before the community.

Num 35:13 Six cities of asylum shall you assign:

Num 35:14 three beyond the Jordan, and three in the land of Canaan.

Num 35:15 These six cities of asylum shall serve not only the Israelites but all the resident or transient aliens among them, so that anyone who has killed another unintentionally may take refuge there.

Num 35:16 "If a man strikes another with an iron instrument and causes his death, he is a murderer and shall be put to death.

Num 35:17 If a man strikes another with a death-dealing stone in his hand and causes his death, he is a murderer and shall be put to death.

Num 35:18 If a man strikes another with a death-dealing club in his hand and causes his death, he is a murderer and shall be put to death.

Num 35:19 The avenger of blood may execute the murderer, putting him to death on sight.

Num 35:20 "If a man pushes another out of hatred, or after lying in wait for him throws something at him, and causes his death,

Num 35:21 or if he strikes another out of enmity and causes his death, he shall be put to death as a murderer. The avenger of blood may execute the murderer on sight.

Num 35:22 "However, if a man pushes another accidentally and not out of enmity, or if without lying in wait for him he throws some object at him,

Num 35:23 or without seeing him throws a death-dealing stone which strikes him and causes his death, although he was not his enemy nor seeking to harm him:

Num 35:24 then the community, deciding the case between the slayer and the avenger of blood in accordance with these norms,

Num 35:25 shall free the homicide from the avenger of blood and shall remand him to the city of asylum where he took refuge; and he shall stay there until the death of the high priest who has been anointed with sacred oil.

Num 35:26 If the homicide of his own accord leaves the bounds of the city of asylum where he has taken refuge,

Num 35:27 and the avenger of blood finds him beyond these bounds and kills him, the avenger incurs no bloodguilt;

Num 35:28 the homicide was bound to stay in his city of asylum until the death of the high priest. Only after the death of the high priest may the homicide return to his own district.

Num 35:29 "These shall be norms for you and all your descendants, wherever you live, for rendering judgment.

Num 35:30 "Whenever someone kills another, the evidence of witnesses is required for the execution of the murderer. The evidence of a single witness is not sufficient for putting a person to death.

Num 35:31 "You shall not accept indemnity in place of the life of a murderer who deserves the death penalty; he must be put to death.

Num 35:32 Nor shall you accept indemnity to allow a refugee to leave his city of asylum and again dwell elsewhere in the land before the death of the high priest.

Num 35:33 You shall not desecrate the land where you live. Since bloodshed desecrates the land, the land can have no atonement for the blood shed on it except through the blood of him who shed it.

Num 35:34 Do not defile the land in which you live and in the midst of which I dwell; for I am the LORD who dwells in the midst of the Israelites."

Num 36:1 The heads of the ancestral houses in the clan of descendants of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh-- one of the Josephite clans-- came up and laid this plea before Moses and the priest Eleazar and before the princes who were the heads of the ancestral houses of the other Israelites.

Num 36:2 They said: "The LORD commanded you, my lord, to apportion the land by lot among the Israelites; and you, my lord, were also commanded by the LORD to give the heritage of our kinsman Zelophehad to his daughters.

Num 36:3 But if they marry into one of the other Israelite tribes, their heritage will be withdrawn from our ancestral heritage and will be added to that of the tribe into which they marry; thus the heritage that fell to us by lot will be diminished.

Num 36:4 When the Israelites celebrate the jubilee year, the heritage of these women will be permanently added to that of the tribe into which they marry and will be withdrawn from that of our ancestral tribe."

Num 36:5 So Moses gave this regulation to the Israelites according to the instructions of the LORD: "The tribe of the Josephites are right in what they say.

Num 36:6 This is what the LORD commands with regard to the daughters of Zelophehad: They may marry anyone they please, provided they marry into a clan of their ancestral tribe,

Num 36:7 so that no heritage of the Israelites will pass from one tribe to another, but all the Israelites will retain their own ancestral heritage.

Num 36:8 Therefore, every daughter who inherits property in any of the Israelite tribes shall marry someone belonging to a clan of her own ancestral tribe, in order that all the Israelites may remain in possession of their own ancestral heritage.

Num 36:9 Thus, no heritage can pass from one tribe to another, but all the Israelite tribes will retain their own ancestral heritage."

Num 36:10 The daughters of Zelophehad obeyed the command which the LORD had given to Moses.

Num 36:11 Mahlah, Tirzah, Hoglah, Milcah and Noah, Zelophehad's daughters, married relatives on their father's side

Num 36:12 within the clans of the descendants of Manasseh, son of Joseph; hence their heritage remained in the tribe of their father's clan.

Num 36:13 These are the commandments and decisions which the LORD prescribed for the Israelites through Moses, on the plains of Moab beside the Jericho stretch of the Jordan.

Deu 1:1 These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel beyond the Jordan ( in the desert, in the Arabah, opposite Suph, between Paran and Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth and Dizahab; Deu 1:2 it is a journey of eleven days from Horeb to Kadesh-barnea by way of the highlands of Seir).

Deu 1:3 In the fortieth year, on the first day of the eleventh month, Moses spoke to the Israelites all the commands that the LORD had given him in their regard.

Deu 1:4 After he had defeated Sihon, king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and Og, king of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth and in Edrei,

Deu 1:5 Moses began to explain the law in the land of Moab beyond the Jordan, as follows:

Deu 1:6 "The LORD, our God, said to us at Horeb, 'You have stayed long enough at this mountain.

Deu 1:7 Leave here and go to the hill country of the Amorites and to all the surrounding regions, the land of the Canaanites in the Arabah, the mountains, the foothills, the Negeb and the seacoast; to Lebanon, and as far as the Great River (the Euphrates).

Deu 1:8 I have given that land over to you. Go now and occupy the land I swore to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, I would give to them and to their descendants.'

Deu 1:9 "At that time I said to you, 'Alone, I am unable to carry you.

Deu 1:10 The LORD, your God, has so multiplied you that you are now as numerous as the stars in the sky.

Deu 1:11 May the LORD, the God of your fathers, increase you a thousand times over, and bless you as he promised!

Deu 1:12 But how can I alone bear the crushing burden that you are, along with your bickering?

Deu 1:13 Choose wise, intelligent and experienced men from each of your tribes, that I may appoint them as your leaders.'

Deu 1:14 You answered me, 'We agree to do as you have proposed.'

Deu 1:15 So I took outstanding men of your tribes, wise and experienced, and made them your leaders as officials over thousands, over hundreds, over fifties and over tens, and other tribal officers.

Deu 1:16 I charged your judges at that time, 'Listen to complaints among your kinsmen, and administer true justice to both parties even if one of them is an alien.

Deu 1:17 In rendering judgment, do not consider who a person is; give ear to the lowly and to the great alike, fearing no man, for judgment is God's. Refer to me any case that is too hard for you and I will hear it.'

Deu 1:18 Thereupon I gave you all the commands you were to fulfill.

Deu 1:19 "Then, in obedience to the command of the LORD, our God, we set out from Horeb and journeyed through the whole desert, vast and fearful as you have seen, in the direction of the hill country of the Amorites. We had reached Kadesh-barnea

Deu 1:20 when I said to you, 'You have come to the hill country of the Amorites, which the LORD, our God, is giving us.

Deu 1:21 The LORD, your God, has given this land over to you. Go up and occupy it, as the LORD, the God of your fathers, commands you. Do not fear or lose heart.'

Deu 1:22 Then all of you came up to me and said, 'Let us send men ahead to reconnoiter the land for us and report to us on the road we must follow and the cities we must take.'

Deu 1:23 Agreeing with the proposal, I chose twelve men from your number, one from each tribe.

Deu 1:24 They set out into the hill country as far as the Wadi Eshcol, and explored it.

Deu 1:25 Then, taking along some of the fruit of the land, they brought it down to us and reported, 'The land which the LORD, our God, gives us is good.'

Deu 1:26 "But you refused to go up, and after defying the command of the LORD, your God,

Deu 1:27 you set to murmuring in your tents, 'Out of hatred for us the LORD has brought us up out of the land of Egypt, to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites and destroy us.

Deu 1:28 What shall we meet with up there? Our kinsmen have made us fainthearted by reporting that the people are stronger and taller than we, and their cities are large and fortified to the sky; besides, they saw the Anakim there.'

Deu 1:29 "But I said to you, 'Have no dread or fear of them.

Deu 1:30 The LORD, your God, who goes before you, will himself fight for you, just as he took your part before your very eyes in Egypt,

Deu 1:31 as well as in the desert, where you saw how the LORD, your God, carried you, as a man carries his child, all along your journey until you arrived at this place.'

Deu 1:32 Despite this, you would not trust the LORD, your God,

Deu 1:33 who journeys before you to find you a resting place-- by day in the cloud, and by night in the fire, to show the way you must go.

Deu 1:34 When the LORD heard your words, he was angry;

Deu 1:35 and he swore, 'Not one man of this evil generation shall look upon the good land I swore to give to your fathers,

Deu 1:36 except Caleb, son of Jephunneh; he shall see it. For to him and to his sons I will give the land he trod upon, because he has followed the LORD unreservedly.'

Deu 1:37 "The LORD was angered against me also on your account, and said, 'Not even you shall enter there,

Deu 1:38 but your aide Joshua, son of Nun, shall enter. Encourage him, for he is to give Israel its heritage.

Deu 1:39 Your little ones, who you said would become booty, and your children, who as yet do not know good from bad-- they shall enter; to them I will give it, and they shall occupy it.

Deu 1:40 But as for yourselves: turn about and proceed into the desert on the Red Sea road.'

Deu 1:41 "In reply you said to me, 'We have sinned against the LORD. We will go up ourselves and fight, just as the LORD, our God, commanded us.' And each of you girded on his weapons, making light of going up into the hill country.

Deu 1:42 But the LORD said to me, 'Warn them: Do not go up and fight, lest you be beaten down before your enemies, for I will not be in your midst.'

Deu 1:43 I gave you this warning but you would not listen. In defiance of the LORD'S command you arrogantly marched off into the hill country.

Deu 1:44 Then the Amorites living there came out against you and, like bees, chased you, cutting you down in Seir as far as Hormah.

Deu 1:45 On your return you wept before the LORD, but he did not listen to your cry or give ear to you.

Deu 1:46 That is why you had to stay as long as you did at Kadesh.

Deu 2:1 "When we did turn and proceed into the desert on the Red Sea road, as the LORD had commanded me, we circled around the highlands of Seir for a long time.

Deu 2:2 Finally the LORD said to me,

Deu 2:3 'You have wandered round these highlands long enough; turn and go north.

Deu 2:4 Give this order to the people: You are now about to pass through the territory of your kinsmen, the descendants of Esau, who live in Seir. Though they are afraid of you, be very careful

Deu 2:5 not to come in conflict with them, for I will not give you so much as a foot of their land, since I have already given Esau possession of the highlands of Seir.

Deu 2:6 You shall purchase from them with silver the food you eat and the well water you drink.

Deu 2:7 The LORD, your God, has blessed you in all your undertakings; he has been concerned about your journey through this vast desert. It is now forty years that he has been with you, and you have never been in want.'

Deu 2:8 "Then we left behind us the Arabah route, Elath, Ezion-geber, and Seir, where our kinsmen, the descendants of Esau, live; and we went on toward the desert of Moab.

Deu 2:9 And the LORD said to me, 'Do not show hostility to the Moabites or engage them in battle, for I will not give you possession of any of their land, since I have given Ar to the descendants of Lot as their own.

Deu 2:10 (Formerly the Emim lived there, a people strong and numerous and tall like the Anakim;

Deu 2:11 like them they were considered Rephaim. It was the Moabites who called them Emim.

Deu 2:12 In Seir, however, the former inhabitants were the Horites; the descendants of Esau dispossessed them, clearing them out of the way and taking their place, just as the Israelites have done in the land of their heritage which the LORD has given them.)

Deu 2:13 Get ready, then, to cross the Wadi Zered.' So we crossed it.

Deu 2:14 Thirty-eight years had elapsed between our departure from Kadesh-barnea and that crossing; in the meantime the whole generation of soldiers had perished from the camp, as the LORD had sworn they should.

Deu 2:15 For it was the LORD'S hand that was against them, till he wiped them out of the camp completely.

Deu 2:16 "When at length death had put an end to all the soldiers among the people,

Deu 2:17 the LORD said to me,

Deu 2:18 'You are now about to leave Ar and the territory of Moab behind.

Deu 2:19 As you come opposite the Ammonites, do not show hostility or come in conflict with them, for I will not give you possession of any land of the Ammonites, since I have given it to the descendants of Lot as their own.

Deu 2:20 (This also was considered a country of the Rephaim from its former inhabitants, whom the Ammonites called Zamzummim, Deu 2:21 a people strong and numerous and tall like the Anakim. But these, too, the LORD cleared out of the way for the Ammonites, who ousted them and took their place.

Deu 2:22 He had done the same for the descendants of Esau, who dwell in Seir, by clearing the Horites out of their way, so that the descendants of Esau have taken their place down to the present.

Deu 2:23 So also the Caphtorim, migrating from Caphtor, cleared away the Avvim, who once dwelt in villages as far as Gaza, and took their place.)

Deu 2:24 "Advance now across the Wadi Arnon. I now deliver into your hands Sihon, the Amorite king of Heshbon, and his land. Begin the occupation; engage him in battle.

Deu 2:25 This day I will begin to put a fear and dread of you into every nation under the heavens, so that at the mention of your name they will quake and tremble before you.'

Deu 2:26 "So I sent messengers from the desert of Kedemoth to Sihon, king of Heshbon, with this offer of peace:

Deu 2:27 'Let me pass through your country by the highway; I will go along it without turning aside to the right or to the left.

Deu 2:28 For the food I eat which you will supply, and for the water you give me to drink, you shall be paid in silver. Only let me march through,

Deu 2:29 as the descendants of Esau who dwell in Seir and the Moabites who dwell in Ar have done, until I cross the Jordan into the land which the LORD, our God, is about to give us.'

Deu 2:30 But Sihon, king of Heshbon, refused to let us pass through his land, because the LORD, your God, made him stubborn in mind and obstinate in heart that he might deliver him up to you, as indeed he has now done.

Deu 2:31 "Then the LORD said to me, 'Now that I have already begun to hand over to you Sihon and his land, begin the actual occupation.'

Deu 2:32 So Sihon and all his people advanced against us to join battle at Jahaz;

Deu 2:33 but since the LORD, our God, had delivered him to us, we defeated him and his sons and all his people.

Deu 2:34 At that time we seized all his cities and doomed them all, with their men, women and children; we left no survivor.

Deu 2:35 Our only booty was the livestock and the loot of the captured cities.

Deu 2:36 From Aroer on the edge of the Wadi Arnon and from the city in the wadi itself, as far as Gilead, no city was too well fortified for us to whom the LORD had delivered them up.

Deu 2:37 However, in obedience to the command of the LORD, our God, you did not encroach upon any of the Ammonite land, neither the region bordering on the Wadi Jabbok, nor the cities of the highlands.

Deu 3:1 "Then we turned and proceeded toward Bashan. But Og, king of Bashan, advanced against us with all his people to give battle at Edrei.

Deu 3:2 The LORD, however, said to me, 'Do not be afraid of him, for I have delivered him into your hand with all his people and his land. Do to him as you did to Sihon, king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon.'

Deu 3:3 And thus the LORD, our God, delivered into our hands Og, king of Bashan, with all his people. We defeated him so completely that we left him no survivor.

Deu 3:4 At that time we captured all his cities, none of them eluding our grasp, the whole region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan: sixty cities in all,

Deu 3:5 to say nothing of the great number of unwallied towns. All the cities were fortified with high walls and gates and bars.

Deu 3:6 As we had done to Sihon, king of Heshbon, so also here we doomed all the cities, with their men, women and children;

Deu 3:7 but all the livestock and the loot of each city we took as booty for ourselves.

Deu 3:8 "And so at that time we took from the two kings of the Amorites beyond the Jordan the territory from the Wadi Arnon to Mount Hermon

Deu 3:9 (which is called Sirion by the Sidonians and Senir by the Amorites),

Deu 3:10 comprising all the cities of the plateau and all Gilead and all the cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan including Salecah and Edrei.

Deu 3:11 (Og, king of Bashan, was the last remaining survivor of the Rephaim. He had a bed of iron, nine regular cubits long and four wide, which is still preserved in Rabbah of the Ammonites.)

Deu 3:12 "When we occupied the land at that time, I gave Reuben and Gad the territory from Aroer, on the edge of the Wadi Arnon, halfway up into the highlands of Gilead, with the cities therein.

Deu 3:13 The rest of Gilead and all of Bashan, the kingdom of Og, the whole Argob region, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh. (All this region of Bashan was once called a land of the Rephaim.

Deu 3:14 Jair, a Manassehite clan, took all the region of Argob as far as the border of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and called it after his own name Bashan Havvoth-jair, the name it bears today.)

Deu 3:15 To Machir I gave Gilead,

Deu 3:16 and to Reuben and Gad the territory from Gilead to the Wadi Arnon-- including the wadi bed and its banks-- and to the Wadi Jabbok, which is the border of the Ammonites,

Deu 3:17 as well as the Arabah with the Jordan and its eastern banks from Chinnereth to the Salt Sea of the Arabah, under the slopes of Pisgah.

Deu 3:18 "At that time I charged them as follows: 'The LORD, your God, has given you this land as your own. But all you troops equipped for battle must cross over in the vanguard of your brother Israelites.

Deu 3:19 Only your wives and children, as well as your livestock, of which I know you have a large number, shall remain behind in the towns I have given you,

Deu 3:20 until the LORD has settled your kinsmen as well, and they too possess the land which the LORD, your God, will give them on the other side of the Jordan. Then you may all return to the possessions I have given you.'

Deu 3:21 "It was then that I instructed Joshua, 'Your eyes have seen all that the LORD, your God, has done to both these kings; so, too, will the LORD do to all the kingdoms which you will encounter over there.

Deu 3:22 Fear them not, for the LORD, your God, will fight for you.'

Deu 3:23 "And it was then that I besought the LORD,

Deu 3:24 'O Lord GOD, you have begun to show to your servant your greatness and might. For what god in heaven or on earth can perform deeds as mighty as yours?

Deu 3:25 Ah, let me cross over and see this good land beyond the Jordan, this fine hill country, and the Lebanon!'

Deu 3:26 But the LORD was angry with me on your account and would not hear me. 'Enough!' the LORD said to me. 'Speak to me no more of this.

Deu 3:27 Go up to the top of Pisgah and look out to the west, and to the north, and to the south, and to the east. Look well, for you shall not cross this Jordan.

Deu 3:28 Commission Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, for he shall cross at the head of this people and shall put them in possession of the land you are to see.'

Deu 3:29 This was while we were in the ravine opposite Beth-peor.

Deu 4:1 "Now, Israel, hear the statutes and decrees which I am teaching you to observe, that you may live, and may enter in and take possession of the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, is giving you.

Deu 4:2 In your observance of the commandments of the LORD, your God, which I enjoin upon you, you shall not add to what I command you nor subtract from it.

Deu 4:3 You have seen with your own eyes what the LORD did at Baal-peor: the LORD, your God, destroyed from your midst everyone that followed the Baal of Peor;

Deu 4:4 but you, who clung to the LORD, your God, are all alive today.

Deu 4:5 Therefore, I teach you the statutes and decrees as the LORD, my God, has commanded me, that you may observe them in the land you are entering to occupy.

Deu 4:6 Observe them carefully, for thus will you give evidence of your wisdom and intelligence to the nations, who will hear of all these statutes and say, 'This great nation is truly a wise and intelligent people.'

Deu 4:7 For what great nation is there that has gods so close to it as the LORD, our God, is to us whenever we call upon him?

Deu 4:8 Or what great nation has statutes and decrees that are as just as this whole law which I am setting before you today?

Deu 4:9 "However, take care and be earnestly on your guard not to forget the things which your own eyes have seen, nor let them slip from your memory as long as you live, but teach them to your children and to your children's children.

Deu 4:10 There was the day on which you stood before the LORD, your God, at Horeb, and he said to me, 'Assemble the people for me; I will have them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me as long as they live in the land and may so teach their children.'

Deu 4:11 You came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, which blazed to the very sky with fire and was enveloped in a dense black cloud.

Deu 4:12 Then the LORD spoke to you from the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of the words, but saw no form; there was only a voice.

Deu 4:13 He proclaimed to you his covenant, which he commanded you to keep: the ten commandments, which he wrote on two tablets of stone.

Deu 4:14 The LORD charged me at that time to teach you the statutes and decrees which you are to observe over in the land you will occupy.

Deu 4:15 "You saw no form at all on the day the LORD spoke to you at Horeb from the midst of the fire. Be strictly on your guard, therefore,

Deu 4:16 not to degrade yourselves by fashioning an idol to represent any figure, whether it be the form of a man or a woman,

Deu 4:17 of any animal on the earth or of any bird that flies in the sky,

Deu 4:18 of anything that crawls on the ground or of any fish in the waters under the earth.

Deu 4:19 And when you look up to the heavens and behold the sun or the moon or any star among the heavenly hosts, do not be led astray into adoring them and serving them. These the LORD, your God, has let fall to the lot of all other nations under the heavens;

Deu 4:20 but you he has taken and led out of that iron foundry, Egypt, that you might be his very own people, as you are today.

Deu 4:21 Since the LORD was angered against me on your account and swore that I should not cross the Jordan nor enter the good land which he is giving you as a heritage,

Deu 4:22 I myself shall die in this country without crossing the Jordan; but you will cross over and take possession of that good land.

Deu 4:23 Take heed, therefore, lest, forgetting the covenant which the LORD, your God, has made with you, you fashion for yourselves against his command an idol in any form whatsoever.

Deu 4:24 For the LORD, your God, is a consuming fire, a jealous God.

Deu 4:25 "When you have children and grandchildren, and have grown old in the land, should you then degrade yourselves by fashioning an idol in any form and by this evil done in his sight provoke the LORD, your God,

Deu 4:26 I call heaven and earth this day to witness against you, that you shall all quickly perish from the land which you will occupy when you cross the Jordan. You shall not live in it for any length of time but shall be promptly wiped out.

Deu 4:27 The LORD will scatter you among the nations, and there shall remain but a handful of you among the nations to which the LORD will lead you.

Deu 4:28 There you shall serve gods fashioned by the hands of man out of wood and stone, gods which can neither see nor hear, neither eat nor smell.

Deu 4:29 Yet there too you shall seek the LORD, your God; and you shall indeed find him when you search after him with your whole heart and your whole soul.

Deu 4:30 In your distress, when all these things shall have come upon you, you shall finally return to the LORD, your God, and heed his voice.

Deu 4:31 Since the LORD, your God, is a merciful God, he will not abandon and destroy you, nor forget the covenant which under oath he made with your fathers.

Deu 4:32 "Ask now of the days of old, before your time, ever since God created man upon the earth; ask from one end of the sky to the other: Did anything so great ever happen before? Was it ever heard of?

Deu 4:33 Did a people ever hear the voice of God speaking from the midst of fire, as you did, and live?

Deu 4:34 Or did any god venture to go and take a nation for himself from the midst of another nation, by testings, by signs and wonders, by war, with his strong hand and outstretched arm, and by great terrors, all of which the LORD, your God, did for you in Egypt before your very eyes?

Deu 4:35 All this you were allowed to see that you might know the LORD is God and there is no other.

Deu 4:36 Out of the heavens he let you hear his voice to discipline you; on earth he let you see his great fire, and you heard him speaking out of the fire.

Deu 4:37 For love of your fathers he chose their descendants and personally led you out of Egypt by his great power,

Deu 4:38 driving out of your way nations greater and mightier than you, so as to bring you in and to make their land your heritage, as it is today.

Deu 4:39 This is why you must now know, and fix in your heart, that the LORD is God in the heavens above and on earth below, and that there is no other.

Deu 4:40 You must keep his statutes and commandments which I enjoin on you today, that you and your children after you may prosper, and that you may have long life on the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you forever."

Deu 4:41 Then Moses set apart three cities in the region east of the Jordan,

Deu 4:42 that a homicide might take refuge there if he unwittingly killed his neighbor to whom he had previously borne no malice, and that he might save his life by fleeing to one of these cities:

Deu 4:43 Bezer in the desert, in the region of the plateau, for the Reubenites; Ramoth in Gilead for the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan for the Manassehites.

Deu 4:44 This is the law which Moses set before the Israelites.

Deu 4:45 These are the ordinances, statutes and decrees which he proclaimed to them when they had come out of Egypt

Deu 4:46 and were beyond the Jordan in the ravine opposite Beth-peor, in the land of Sihon, king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Heshbon and whom Moses and the Israelites defeated after coming out of Egypt.

Deu 4:47 They occupied his land and the land of Og, king of Bashan, as well-- the land of these two kings of the Amorites in the region east of the Jordan:

Deu 4:48 from Aroer on the edge of the Wadi Arnon to Mount Sion (that is Hermon)

Deu 4:49 and all the Arabah east of the Jordan, as far as the Arabah Sea under the slopes of Pisgah.

Deu 5:1 Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, "Hear, O Israel, the statutes and decrees which I proclaim in your hearing this day, that you may learn them and take care to observe them.

Deu 5:2 The LORD, our God, made a covenant with us at Horeb;

Deu 5:3 not with our fathers did he make this covenant, but with us, all of us who are alive here this day.

Deu 5:4 The LORD spoke with you face to face on the mountain from the midst of the fire.

Deu 5:5 Since you were afraid of the fire and would not go up the mountain, I stood between the LORD and you at that time, to announce to you these words of the LORD:

Deu 5:6 'I, the LORD, am your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that place of slavery.

Deu 5:7 You shall not have other gods besides me.

Deu 5:8 You shall not carve idols for yourselves in the shape of anything in the sky above or on the earth below or in the waters beneath the earth;

Deu 5:9 you shall not bow down before them or worship them. For I, the LORD, your God, am a jealous God, inflicting punishments for their fathers' wickedness on the children of those who hate me, down to the third and fourth generation

Deu 5:10 but bestowing mercy, down to the thousandth generation, on the children of those who love me and keep my commandments.

Deu 5:11 'You shall not take the name of the LORD, your God, in vain. For the LORD will not leave unpunished him who takes his name in vain.

Deu 5:12 'Take care to keep holy the sabbath day as the LORD, your God, commanded you.

Deu 5:13 Six days you may labor and do all your work;

Deu 5:14 but the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD, your God. No work may be done then, whether by you, or your son or daughter, or your male or female slave, or your ox or ass or any of your beasts, or the alien who lives with you. Your male and female slave should rest as you do.

Deu 5:15 For remember that you too were once slaves in Egypt, and the LORD, your God, brought you from there with his strong hand and outstretched arm. That is why the LORD, your God, has commanded you to observe the sabbath day.

Deu 5:16 'Honor your father and your mother, as the LORD, your God, has commanded you, that you may have a long life and prosperity in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you.

Deu 5:17 'You shall not kill.

Deu 5:18 'You shall not commit adultery.

Deu 5:19 'You shall not steal.

Deu 5:20 'You shall not bear dishonest witness against your neighbor.

Deu 5:21 'You shall not covet your neighbor's wife. 'You shall not desire your neighbor's house or field, nor his male or female slave, nor his ox or ass, nor anything that belongs to him.'

Deu 5:22 "These words, and nothing more, the LORD spoke with a loud voice to your entire assembly on the mountain from the midst of the fire and the dense cloud. He wrote them upon two tablets of stone and gave them to me.

Deu 5:23 But when you heard the voice from the midst of the darkness, while the mountain was ablaze with fire, you came to me in the person of all your tribal heads and elders,

Deu 5:24 and said, 'The LORD, our God, has indeed let us see his glory and his majesty! We have heard his voice from the midst of the fire and have found out today that a man can still live after God has spoken with him.

Deu 5:25 But why should we die now? Surely this great fire will consume us. If we hear the voice of the LORD, our God, any more, we shall die.

Deu 5:26 For what mortal has heard, as we have, the voice of the living God speaking from the midst of fire, and survived?

Deu 5:27 Go closer, you, and hear all that the LORD, our God, will say, and then tell us what the LORD, our God, tells you; we will listen and obey.'

Deu 5:28 "The LORD heard your words as you were speaking to me and said to me, 'I have heard the words these people have spoken to you, which are all well said.

Deu 5:29 Would that they might always be of such a mind, to fear me and to keep all my commandments! Then they and their descendants would prosper forever.

Deu 5:30 Go, tell them to return to their tents.

Deu 5:31 Then you wait here near me and I will give you all the commandments, the statutes and decrees you must teach them, that they may observe them in the land which I am giving them to possess.'

Deu 5:32 "Be careful, therefore, to do as the LORD, your God, has commanded you, not turning aside to the right or to the left,

Deu 5:33 but following exactly the way prescribed for you by the LORD, your God, that you may live and prosper, and may have long life in the land which you are to occupy.

Deu 6:1 "These then are the commandments, the statutes and decrees which the LORD, your God, has ordered that you be taught to observe in the land into which you are crossing for conquest,

Deu 6:2 so that you and your son and your grandson may fear the LORD, your God, and keep, throughout the days of your lives, all his statutes and commandments which I enjoin on you, and thus have long life.

Deu 6:3 Hear then, Israel, and be careful to observe them, that you may grow and prosper the more, in keeping with the promise of the LORD, the God of your fathers, to give you a land flowing with milk and honey.

Deu 6:4 "Hear, O Israel! The LORD is our God, the LORD alone!

Deu 6:5 Therefore, you shall love the LORD, your God, with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength.

Deu 6:6 Take to heart these words which I enjoin on you today.

Deu 6:7 Drill them into your children. Speak of them at home and abroad, whether you are busy or at rest.

Deu 6:8 Bind them at your wrist as a sign and let them be as a pendant on your forehead.

Deu 6:9 Write them on the doorposts of your houses and on your gates.

Deu 6:10 "When the LORD, your God, brings you into the land which he swore to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, that he would give you, a land with fine, large cities that you did not build,

Deu 6:11 with houses full of goods of all sorts that you did not garner, with cisterns that you did not dig, with vineyards and olive groves that you did not plant; and when, therefore, you eat your fill,

Deu 6:12 take care not to forget the LORD, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that place of slavery.

Deu 6:13 The LORD, your God, shall you fear; him shall you serve, and by his name shall you swear.

Deu 6:14 You shall not follow other gods, such as those of the surrounding nations,

Deu 6:15 lest the wrath of the LORD, your God, flare up against you and he destroy you from the face of the land; for the LORD, your God, who is in your midst, is a jealous God.

Deu 6:16 "You shall not put the LORD, your God, to the test, as you did at Massah.

Deu 6:17 But keep the commandments of the LORD, your God, and the ordinances and statutes he has enjoined on you.

Deu 6:18 Do what is right and good in the sight of the LORD, that you may, according to his word, prosper, and may enter in and possess the good land which the LORD promised on oath to your fathers,

Deu 6:19 thrusting all your enemies out of your way.

Deu 6:20 "Later on, when your son asks you what these ordinances, statutes and decrees mean which the LORD, our God, has enjoined on you,

Deu 6:21 you shall say to your son, "We were once slaves of Pharaoh in Egypt, but the LORD brought us out of Egypt with his strong hand

Deu 6:22 and wrought before our eyes signs and wonders, great and dire, against Egypt and against Pharaoh and his whole house.

Deu 6:23 He brought us from there to lead us into the land he promised on oath to our fathers, and to give it to us.

Deu 6:24 Therefore, the LORD commanded us to observe all these statutes in fear of the LORD, our God, that we may always have as prosperous and happy a life as we have today;

Deu 6:25 and our justice before the LORD, our God, is to consist in carefully observing all these commandments he has enjoined on us.'

Deu 7:1 "When the LORD, your God, brings you into the land which you are to enter and occupy, and dislodges great nations before you-- the Hittites, Girgashites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites: seven nations more numerous and powerful than you--

Deu 7:2 and when the LORD, your God, delivers them up to you and you defeat them, you shall doom them. Make no covenant with them and show them no mercy.

Deu 7:3 You shall not intermarry with them, neither giving your daughters to their sons nor taking their daughters for your sons.

Deu 7:4 For they would turn your sons from following me to serving other gods, and then the wrath of the LORD would flare up against you and quickly destroy you.

Deu 7:5 "But this is how you must deal with them: Tear down their altars, smash their sacred pillars, chop down their sacred poles, and destroy their idols by fire.

Deu 7:6 For you are a people sacred to the LORD, your God; he has chosen you from all the nations on the face of the earth to be a people peculiarly his own.

Deu 7:7 It was not because you are the largest of all nations that the LORD set his heart on you and chose you, for you are really the smallest of all nations.

Deu 7:8 It was because the LORD loved you and because of his fidelity to the oath he had sworn to your fathers, that he brought you out with his strong hand from the place of slavery, and ransomed you from the hand of Pharaoh, king of Egypt.

Deu 7:9 Understand, then, that the LORD, your God, is God indeed, the faithful God who keeps his merciful covenant down to the thousandth generation toward those who love him and keep his commandments,

Deu 7:10 but who repays with destruction the person who hates him; he does not dally with such a one, but makes him personally pay for it.

Deu 7:11 You shall therefore carefully observe the commandments, the statutes and the decrees which I enjoin on you today.

Deu 7:12 "As your reward for heeding these decrees and observing them carefully, the LORD, your God, will keep with you the merciful covenant which he promised on oath to your fathers.

Deu 7:13 He will love and bless and multiply you; he will bless the fruit of your womb and the produce of your soil, your grain and wine and oil, the issue of your herds and the young of your flocks, in the land which he swore to your fathers he would give you.

Deu 7:14 You will be blessed above all peoples; no man or woman among you shall be childless nor shall your livestock be barren.

Deu 7:15 The LORD will remove all sickness from you; he will not afflict you with any of the malignant diseases that you know from Egypt, but will leave them with all your enemies.

Deu 7:16 "You shall consume all the nations which the LORD, your God, will deliver up to you. You are not to look on them with pity, lest you be ensnared into serving their gods.

Deu 7:17 Perhaps you will say to yourselves, 'These nations are greater than we. How can we dispossess them?'

Deu 7:18 But do not be afraid of them. Rather, call to mind what the LORD, your God, did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt:

Deu 7:19 the great testings which your own eyes have seen, the signs and wonders, his strong hand and outstretched arm with which the LORD, your God, brought you out. The same also will he do to all the nations of whom you are now afraid.

Deu 7:20 Moreover, the LORD, your God, will send hornets among them, until the survivors who have hidden from you are destroyed.

Deu 7:21 Therefore, do not be terrified by them, for the LORD, your God, who is in your midst, is a great and awesome God.

Deu 7:22 He will dislodge these nations before you little by little. You cannot exterminate them all at once, lest the wild beasts become too numerous for you.

Deu 7:23 The LORD, your God, will deliver them up to you and will rout them utterly until they are annihilated.

Deu 7:24 He will deliver their kings into your hand, that you may make their names perish from under the heavens. No man will be able to stand up against you, till you have put an end to them.

Deu 7:25 The images of their gods you shall destroy by fire. Do not covet the silver or gold on them, nor take it for yourselves, lest you be ensnared by it; for it is an abomination to the LORD, your God.

Deu 7:26 You shall not bring any abominable thing into your house, lest you be doomed with it; loathe and abhor it utterly as a thing that is doomed.

Deu 8:1 "Be careful to observe all the commandments I enjoin on you today, that you may live and increase, and may enter in and possess the land which the LORD promised on oath to your fathers.

Deu 8:2 Remember how for forty years now the LORD, your God, has directed all your journeying in the desert, so as to test you by affliction and find out whether or not it was your intention to keep his commandments.

Deu 8:3 He therefore let you be afflicted with hunger, and then fed you with manna, a food unknown to you and your fathers, in order to show you that not by bread alone does man live, but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of the LORD.

Deu 8:4 The clothing did not fall from you in tatters, nor did your feet swell these forty years.

Deu 8:5 So you must realize that the LORD, your God, disciplines you even as a man disciplines his son.

Deu 8:6 "Therefore, keep the commandments of the LORD, your God, by walking in his ways and fearing him.

Deu 8:7 For the LORD, your God, is bringing you into a good country, a land with streams of water, with springs and fountains welling up in the hills and valleys,

Deu 8:8 a land of wheat and barley, of vines and fig trees and pomegranates, of olive trees and of honey,

Deu 8:9 a land where you can eat bread without stint and where you will lack nothing, a land whose stones contain iron and in whose hills you can mine copper.

Deu 8:10 But when you have eaten your fill, you must bless the LORD, your God, for the good country he has given you.

Deu 8:11 Be careful not to forget the LORD, your God, by neglecting his commandments and decrees and statutes which I enjoin on you today:

Deu 8:12 lest, when you have eaten your fill, and have built fine houses and lived in them,

Deu 8:13 and have increased your herds and flocks, your silver and gold, and all your property,

Deu 8:14 you then become haughty of heart and unmindful of the LORD, your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that place of slavery;

Deu 8:15 who guided you through the vast and terrible desert with its saraph serpents and scorpions, its parched and waterless ground; who brought forth water for you from the flinty rock

Deu 8:16 and fed you in the desert with manna, a food unknown to your fathers, that he might afflict you and test you, but also make you prosperous in the end.

Deu 8:17 Otherwise, you might say to yourselves, 'It is my own power and the strength of my own hand that has obtained for me this wealth.'

Deu 8:18 Remember then, it is the LORD, your God, who gives you the power to acquire wealth, by fulfilling, as he has now done, the covenant which he swore to your fathers.

Deu 8:19 But if you forget the LORD, your God, and follow other gods, serving and worshiping them, I forewarn you this day that you will perish utterly.

Deu 8:20 Like the nations which the LORD destroys before you, so shall you too perish for not heeding the voice of the LORD, your God.

Deu 9:1 "Hear, O Israel! You are now about to cross the Jordan to enter in and dispossess nations greater and stronger than yourselves, having large cities fortified to the sky,

Deu 9:2 the Anakim, a people great and tall. You know of them and have heard it said of them, 'Who can stand up against the Anakim?'

Deu 9:3 Understand, then, today that it is the LORD, your God, who will cross over before you as a consuming fire; he it is who will reduce them to nothing and subdue them before you, so that you can drive them out and destroy them quickly, as the LORD promised you.

Deu 9:4 After the LORD, your God, has thrust them out of your way, do not say to yourselves, 'It is because of my merits that the LORD has brought me in to possess this land'; for it is really because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is driving them out before you.

Deu 9:5 No, it is not because of your merits or the integrity of your heart that you are going in to take possession of their land; but the LORD, your God, is driving these nations out before you on account of their wickedness and in order to keep the promise which he made on oath to your fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Deu 9:6 Understand this, therefore: it is not because of your merits that the LORD, your God, is giving you this good land to possess, for you are a stiff-necked people.

Deu 9:7 "Bear in mind and do not forget how you angered the LORD, your God, in the desert. From the day you left the land of Egypt until you arrived in this place, you have been rebellious toward the LORD.

Deu 9:8 At Horeb you so provoked the LORD that he was angry enough to destroy you,

Deu 9:9 when I had gone up the mountain to receive the stone tablets of the covenant which the LORD made with you. Meanwhile I stayed on the mountain forty days and forty nights without eating or drinking,

Deu 9:10 till the LORD gave me the two tablets of stone inscribed, by God's own finger, with a copy of all the words that the LORD spoke to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly.

Deu 9:11 Then, at the end of the forty days and forty nights, when the LORD had given me the two stone tablets of the covenant,

Deu 9:12 he said to me, 'Go down from here now, quickly, for your people whom you have brought out of Egypt have become depraved; they have already turned aside from the way I pointed out to them and have made for themselves a molten idol.

Deu 9:13 I have seen now how stiff-necked this people is,' the LORD said to me.

Deu 9:14 'Let me be, that I may destroy them and blot out their name from under the heavens. I will then make of you a nation mightier and greater than they.'

Deu 9:15 "When I had come down again from the blazing, fiery mountain, with the two tablets of the covenant in both my hands,

Deu 9:16 I saw how you had sinned against the LORD, your God: you had already turned aside from the way which the LORD had pointed out to you by making for yourselves a molten calf!

Deu 9:17 Raising the two tablets with both hands I threw them from me and broke them before your eyes.

Deu 9:18 Then, as before, I lay prostrate before the LORD for forty days and forty nights without eating or drinking, because of all the sin you had committed in the sight of the LORD and the evil you had done to provoke him.

Deu 9:19 For I dreaded the fierce anger of the LORD against you: his wrath would destroy you. Yet once again the LORD listened to me.

Deu 9:20 With Aaron, too, the LORD was deeply angry, and would have killed him had I not prayed for him also at that time.

Deu 9:21 Then, taking the calf, the sinful object you had made, and fusing it with fire, I ground it down to powder as fine as dust, which I threw into the wadi that went down the mountainside.

Deu 9:22 "At Taberah, at Massah, and at Kibroth-hattaavah likewise, you provoked the LORD to anger.

Deu 9:23 And when he sent you up from Kadesh-barnea to take possession of the land he was giving you, you rebelled against this command of the LORD, your God, and would not trust or obey him.

Deu 9:24 Ever since I have known you, you have been rebels against the LORD.

Deu 9:25 "Those forty days, then, and forty nights, I lay prostrate before the LORD, because he had threatened to destroy you.

Deu 9:26 This was my prayer to him: O Lord GOD, destroy not your people, the heritage which your majesty has ransomed and brought out of Egypt with your strong hand.

Deu 9:27 Remember your servants, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Look not upon the stubbornness of this people nor upon their wickedness and sin,

Deu 9:28 lest the people from whose land you have brought us say, 'The LORD was not able to bring them into the land he promised them'; or 'Out of hatred for them, he brought them out to slay them in the desert.'

Deu 9:29 They are, after all, your people and your heritage, whom you have brought out by your great power and with your outstretched arm.

Deu 10:1 "At that time the LORD said to me, 'Cut two tablets of stone like the former; then come up the mountain to me. Also make an ark of wood.'

Deu 10:2 I will write upon the tablets the commandments that were on the former tablets that you broke, and you shall place them in the ark.'

Deu 10:3 So I made an ark of acacia wood, and cut two tablets of stone like the former, and went up the mountain carrying the two tablets.

Deu 10:4 The LORD then wrote on them, as he had written before, the ten commandments which he spoke to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly. After the LORD had given them to me,

Deu 10:5 I turned and came down the mountain, and placed the tablets in the ark I had made. There they have remained, in keeping with the command the LORD gave me.

Deu 10:6 (The Israelites set out from Beeroth Bene-jaakan for Moserah, where Aaron died and was buried, his son Eleazar succeeding him in the priestly office.

Deu 10:7 From there they set out for Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah for Jotbathah, a region where there is water in the wadies.)

Deu 10:8 "At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to be in attendance before the LORD and minister to him, and to give blessings in his name, as they have done to this day.

Deu 10:9 For this reason, Levi has no share in the heritage with his brothers; the LORD himself is his heritage, as the LORD, your God, has told him.

Deu 10:10 "After I had spent these other forty days and forty nights on the mountain, and the LORD had once again heard me and decided not to destroy you,

Deu 10:11 he said to me, 'Go now and set out at the head of your people, that they may enter in and occupy the land which I swore to their fathers I would give them.'

Deu 10:12 "And now, Israel, what does the LORD, your God, ask of you but to fear the LORD, your God, and follow his ways exactly, to love and serve the LORD, your God, with all your heart and all your soul,

Deu 10:13 to keep the commandments and statutes of the LORD which I enjoin on you today for your own good?

Deu 10:14 Think! The heavens, even the highest heavens, belong to the LORD, your God, as well as the earth and everything on it.

Deu 10:15 Yet in his love for your fathers the LORD was so attached to them as to choose you, their descendants, in preference to all other peoples, as indeed he has now done.

Deu 10:16 Circumcise your hearts, therefore, and be no longer stiff-necked.

Deu 10:17 For the LORD, your God, is the God of gods, the LORD of lords, the great God, mighty and awesome, who has no favorites, accepts no bribes;

Deu 10:18 who executes justice for the orphan and the widow, and befriends the alien, feeding and clothing him.

Deu 10:19 So you too must befriend the alien, for you were once aliens yourselves in the land of Egypt.

Deu 10:20 The LORD, your God, shall you fear, and him shall you serve; hold fast to him and swear by his name.

Deu 10:21 He is your glory, he, your God, who has done for you those great and terrible things which your own eyes have seen.

Deu 10:22 Your ancestors went down to Egypt seventy strong, and now the LORD, your God, has made you as numerous as the stars of the sky.

Deu 11:1 "Love the LORD, your God, therefore, and always heed his charge: his statutes, decrees and commandments.

Deu 11:2 It is not your children, who have not known it from experience, but you yourselves who must now understand the discipline of the LORD, your God; his majesty, his strong hand and outstretched arm;

Deu 11:3 the signs and deeds he wrought among the Egyptians, on Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and on all his land;

Deu 11:4 what he did to the Egyptian army and to their horses and chariots, engulfing them in the water of the Red Sea as they pursued you, and bringing ruin upon them even to this day;

Deu 11:5 what he did for you in the desert until you arrived in this place;

Deu 11:6 and what he did to the Reubenites Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab, when the ground opened its mouth and swallowed them up out of the midst of Israel, with their families and tents and every living thing that belonged to them.

Deu 11:7 With your own eyes you have seen all these great deeds that the LORD has done.

Deu 11:8 Keep all the commandments, then, which I enjoin on you today, that you may be strong enough to enter in and take possession of the land into which you are crossing,

Deu 11:9 and that you may have long life on the land which the LORD swore to your fathers he would give to them and their descendants, a land flowing with milk and honey.

Deu 11:10 "For the land which you are to enter and occupy is not like the land of Egypt from which you have come, where you would sow your seed and then water it by hand, as in a vegetable garden.

Deu 11:11 No, the land into which you are crossing for conquest is a land of hills and valleys that drinks in rain from the heavens,

Deu 11:12 a land which the LORD, your God, looks after; his eyes are upon it continually from the beginning of the year to the end.

Deu 11:13 If, then, you truly heed my commandments which I enjoin on you today, loving and serving the LORD, your God, with all your heart and all your soul,

Deu 11:14 I will give the seasonal rain to your land, the early rain and the late rain, that you may have your grain, wine and oil to gather in;

Deu 11:15 and I will bring forth grass in your fields for your animals. Thus you may eat your fill.

Deu 11:16 But be careful lest your heart be so lured away that you serve other gods and worship them.

Deu 11:17 For then the wrath of the LORD will flare up against you and he will close up the heavens, so that no rain will fall, and the soil will not yield its crops, and you will soon perish from the good land he is giving you.

Deu 11:18 "Therefore, take these words of mine into your heart and soul. Bind them at your wrist as a sign, and let them be a pendant on your forehead.

Deu 11:19 Teach them to your children, speaking of them at home and abroad, whether you are busy or at rest.

Deu 11:20 And write them on the doorposts of your houses and on your gates,

Deu 11:21 so that, as long as the heavens are above the earth, you and your children may live on in the land which the LORD swore to your fathers he would give them.

Deu 11:22 "For if you are careful to observe all these commandments I enjoin on you, loving the LORD, your God, and following his ways exactly, and holding fast to him,

Deu 11:23 the LORD will drive all these nations out of your way, and you will dispossess nations greater and mightier than yourselves.

Deu 11:24 Every place where you set foot shall be yours: from the desert and from Lebanon, from the Euphrates River to the Western Sea, shall be your territory.

Deu 11:25 None shall stand up against you; the LORD, your God, will spread the fear and dread of you through any land where you set foot, as he promised you.

Deu 11:26 "I set before you here, this day, a blessing and a curse:

Deu 11:27 a blessing for obeying the commandments of the LORD, your God, which I enjoin on you today;

Deu 11:28 a curse if you do not obey the commandments of the LORD, your God, but turn aside from the way I ordain for you today, to follow other gods, whom you have not known.

Deu 11:29 When the LORD, your God, brings you into the land which you are to enter and occupy, then you shall pronounce the blessing on Mount Gerizim, the curse on Mount Ebal.

Deu 11:30 (Are they not beyond the Jordan, on the other side of the western road in the country of the Canaanites who live in the Arabah, opposite the Gilgal beside the terebinth of Moreh?)

Deu 11:31 For you are about to cross the Jordan to enter and occupy the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you. When, therefore, you take possession of it and settle there,

Deu 11:32 be careful to observe all the statutes and decrees that I set before you today.

Deu 12:1 "These are the statutes and decrees which you must be careful to observe in the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you to occupy, as long as you live on its soil.

Deu 12:2 Destroy without fail every place on the high mountains, on the hills, and under every leafy tree where the nations you are to dispossess worship their gods.

Deu 12:3 Tear down their altars, smash their sacred pillars, destroy by fire their sacred poles, and shatter the idols of their gods, that you may stamp out the remembrance of them in any such place.

Deu 12:4 "That is not how you are to worship the LORD, your God.

Deu 12:5 Instead, you shall resort to the place which the LORD, your God, chooses out of all your tribes and designates as his dwelling

Deu 12:6 and there you shall bring your holocausts and sacrifices, your tithes and personal contributions, your votive and freewill offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and flocks.

Deu 12:7 There, too, before the LORD, your God, you and your families shall eat and make merry over all your undertakings, because the LORD, your God, has blessed you.

Deu 12:8 You shall not do as we are now doing; here, everyone does what seems right to himself,

Deu 12:9 since you have not yet reached your resting place, the heritage which the LORD, your God, will give you.

Deu 12:10 But after you have crossed the Jordan and dwell in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you as a heritage, when he has given you rest from all your enemies round about and you live there in security,

Deu 12:11 then to the place which the LORD, your God, chooses as the dwelling place for his name you shall bring all the offerings I command you: your holocausts and sacrifices, your tithes and personal contributions, and every special offering you have vowed to the LORD.

Deu 12:12 You shall make merry before the LORD, your God, with your sons and daughters, your male and female slaves, as well as with the Levite who belongs to your community but has no share of his own in your heritage.

Deu 12:13 Take care not to offer up your holocausts in any place you fancy,

Deu 12:14 but offer them up in the place which the LORD chooses from among your tribes; there you shall make whatever offerings I enjoin upon you.

Deu 12:15 "However, in any of your communities you may slaughter and eat to your heart's desire as much meat as the LORD, your God, has blessed you with; and the unclean as well as the clean may eat it, as they do the gazelle or the deer.

Deu 12:16 Only, you shall not partake of the blood, but must pour it out on the ground like water.

Deu 12:17 Moreover, you shall not, in your own communities, partake of your tithe of grain or wine or oil, of the first-born of your herd or flock, of any offering you have vowed, of your freewill offerings, or of your personal contributions.

Deu 12:18 These you must eat before the LORD, your God, in the place he chooses, along with your son and daughter, your male and female slave, and the Levite who belongs to your community; and there, before the LORD, you shall make merry over all your undertakings.

Deu 12:19 Take care, also, that you do not neglect the Levite as long as you live in the land.

Deu 12:20 "After the LORD, your God, has enlarged your territory, as he promised you, when you wish meat for food, you may eat it at will, to your heart's desire;

Deu 12:21 and if the place which the LORD, your God, chooses for the abode of his name is too far, you may slaughter in the manner I have told you any of your herd or flock that the LORD has given you, and eat it to your heart's desire in your own community.

Deu 12:22 You may eat it as you would the gazelle or the deer: the unclean and the clean eating it alike.

Deu 12:23 But make sure that you do not partake of the blood; for blood is life, and you shall not consume this seat of life with the flesh.

Deu 12:24 Do not partake of the blood, therefore, but pour it out on the ground like water.

Deu 12:25 Abstain from it, that you and your children after you may prosper for doing what is right in the sight of the LORD.

Deu 12:26 However, any sacred gifts or votive offerings that you may have, you shall bring with you to the place which the LORD chooses,

Deu 12:27 and there you must offer both the flesh and the blood of your holocausts on the altar of the LORD, your God; of your other sacrifices the blood indeed must be poured out against the altar of the LORD, your God, but their flesh may be eaten.

Deu 12:28 Be careful to heed all these commandments I enjoin on you, that you and your descendants may always prosper for doing what is good and right in the sight of the LORD, your God.

Deu 12:29 "When the LORD, your God, removes the nations from your way as you advance to dispossess them, be on your guard! Otherwise, once they have been wiped out before you and you have replaced them and are settled in their land,

Deu 12:30 you will be lured into following them. Do not inquire regarding their gods, 'How did these nations worship their gods? I, too, would do the same.'

Deu 12:31 You shall not thus worship the LORD, your God, because they offered to their gods every abomination that the LORD detests, even burning their sons and daughters to their gods.

Deu 13:1 "Every command that I enjoin on you, you shall be careful to observe, neither adding to it nor subtracting from it.

Deu 13:2 "If there arises among you a prophet or a dreamer who promises you a sign or wonder,

Deu 13:3 urging you to follow other gods, whom you have not known, and to serve them: even though the sign or wonder he has foretold you comes to pass,

Deu 13:4 pay no attention to the words of that prophet or that dreamer; for the LORD, your God, is testing you to learn whether you really love him with all your heart and with all your soul.

Deu 13:5 The LORD, your God, shall you follow, and him shall you fear; his commandment shall you observe, and his voice shall you heed, serving him and holding fast to him alone.

Deu 13:6 But that prophet or that dreamer shall be put to death, because, in order to lead you astray from the way which the LORD, your God, has directed you to take, he has preached apostasy from the LORD, your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and ransomed you from that place of slavery. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.

Deu 13:7 "If your own full brother, or your son or daughter, or your beloved wife, or your intimate friend, entices you secretly to serve other gods, whom you and your fathers have not known,

Deu 13:8 gods of any other nations, near at hand or far away, from one end of the earth to the other:

Deu 13:9 do not yield to him or listen to him, nor look with pity upon him, to spare or shield him,

Deu 13:10 but kill him. Your hand shall be the first raised to slay him; the rest of the people shall join in with you.

Deu 13:11 You shall stone him to death, because he sought to lead you astray from the LORD, your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that place of slavery.

Deu 13:12 And all Israel, hearing of it, shall fear and never again do such evil as this in your midst.

Deu 13:13 "If, in any of the cities which the LORD, your God, gives you to dwell in, you hear it said

Deu 13:14 that certain scoundrels have sprung up among you and have led astray the inhabitants of their city to serve other gods whom you have not known,

Deu 13:15 you must inquire carefully into the matter and investigate it thoroughly. If you find that it is true and an established fact that this abomination has been committed in your midst,

Deu 13:16 you shall put the inhabitants of that city to the sword, dooming the city and all life that is in it, even its cattle, to the sword.

Deu 13:17 Having heaped up all its spoils in the middle of its square, you shall burn the city with all its spoils as a whole burnt offering to the LORD, your God. Let it be a heap of ruins forever, never to be rebuilt.

Deu 13:18 You shall not retain anything that is doomed, that the blazing wrath of the LORD may die down and he may show you mercy and in his mercy for you may multiply you as he promised your fathers on oath;

Deu 13:19 because you have heeded the voice of the LORD, your God, keeping all his commandments which I enjoin on you today, doing what is right in his sight.

Deu 14:1 "You are children of the LORD, your God. You shall not gash yourselves nor shave the hair above your foreheads for the dead.

Deu 14:2 For you are a people sacred to the LORD, your God, who has chosen you from all the nations on the face of the earth to be a people peculiarly his own.

Deu 14:3 "You shall not eat any abominable thing.

Deu 14:4 These are the animals you may eat: the ox, the sheep, the goat,

Deu 14:5 the red deer, the gazelle, the roe deer, the ibex, the addax, the oryx, and the mountain sheep.

Deu 14:6 Any animal that has hoofs you may eat, provided it is cloven-footed and chews the cud.

Deu 14:7 But you shall not eat any of the following that only chew the cud or only have cloven hoofs: the camel, the hare and the rock badger, which indeed chew the cud, but do not have hoofs and are therefore unclean for you;

Deu 14:8 and the pig, which indeed has hoofs and is cloven-footed, but does not chew the cud and is therefore unclean for you. Their flesh you shall not eat, and their dead bodies you shall not touch.

Deu 14:9 "Of the various creatures that live in the water, whatever has both fins and scales you may eat,

Deu 14:10 but all those that lack either fins or scales you shall not eat; they are unclean for you.

Deu 14:11 "You may eat all clean birds.

Deu 14:12 But you shall not eat any of the following: the eagle, the vulture, the osprey,

Deu 14:13 the various kites and falcons,

Deu 14:14 all the various species of crows,

Deu 14:15 the ostrich, the nightjar, the gull, the various species of hawks,

Deu 14:16 the owl, the screech owl, the ibis,

Deu 14:17 the desert owl, the buzzard, the cormorant,

Deu 14:18 the stork, the various species of herons, the hoopoe, and the bat.

Deu 14:19 All winged insects, too, are unclean for you and shall not be eaten.

Deu 14:20 But you may eat any clean winged creatures.

Deu 14:21 "You must not eat any animal that has died of itself, for you are a people sacred to the LORD, your God. But you may give it to an alien who belongs to your community, and he may eat it, or you may sell it to a foreigner. "You shall not boil a kid in its mother's milk.

Deu 14:22 "Each year you shall tithe all the produce that grows in the field you have sown;

Deu 14:23 then in the place which the LORD, your God, chooses as the dwelling place of his name you shall eat in his presence your tithe of the grain, wine and oil, as well as the firstlings of your herd and flock, that you may learn always to fear the LORD, your God.

Deu 14:24 If, however, the journey is too much for you and you are not able to bring your tithe, because the place which the LORD, your God, chooses for the abode of his name is too far for you, considering how the LORD has blessed you,

Deu 14:25 you may exchange the tithe for money and, with the purse of money in hand, go to the place which the LORD, your God, chooses.

Deu 14:26 You may then exchange the money for whatever you desire, oxen or sheep, wine or strong drink, or anything else you would enjoy, and there before the LORD, your God, you shall partake of it and make merry with your family.

Deu 14:27 But do not neglect the Levite who belongs to your community, for he has no share in the heritage with you.

Deu 14:28 "At the end of every third year you shall bring out all the tithes of your produce for that year and deposit them in community stores,

Deu 14:29 that the Levite who has no share in the heritage with you, and also the alien, the orphan and the widow who belong to your community, may come and eat their fill; so that the LORD, your God, may bless you in all that you undertake.

Deu 15:1 "At the end of every seven-year period you shall have a relaxation of debts,

Deu 15:2 which shall be observed as follows. Every creditor shall relax his claim on what he has loaned his neighbor; he must not press his neighbor, his kinsman, because a relaxation in honor of the LORD has been proclaimed.

Deu 15:3 You may press a foreigner, but you shall relax the claim on your kinsman for what is yours.

Deu 15:4 Nay, more! since the LORD, your God, will bless you abundantly in the land he will give you to occupy as your heritage, there should be no one of you in need.

Deu 15:5 If you but heed the voice of the LORD, your God, and carefully observe all these commandments which I enjoin on you today,

Deu 15:6 you will lend to many nations, and borrow from none; you will rule over many nations, and none will rule over you, since the LORD, your God, will bless you as he promised.

Deu 15:7 If one of your kinsmen in any community is in need in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you, you shall not harden your heart nor close your hand to him in his need.

Deu 15:8 Instead, you shall open your hand to him and freely lend him enough to meet his need.

Deu 15:9 Be on your guard lest, entertaining the mean thought that the seventh year, the year of relaxation, is near, you grudge help to your needy kinsman and give him nothing; else he will cry to the LORD against you and you will be held guilty.

Deu 15:10 When you give to him, give freely and not with ill will; for the LORD, your God, will bless you for this in all your works and undertakings.

Deu 15:11 The needy will never be lacking in the land; that is why I command you to open your hand to your poor and needy kinsman in your country.

Deu 15:12 "If your kinsman, a Hebrew man or woman, sells himself to you, he is to serve you for six years, but in the seventh year you shall dismiss him from your service, a free man.

Deu 15:13 When you do so, you shall not send him away empty-handed,

Deu 15:14 but shall weight him down with gifts from your flock and threshing floor and wine press, in proportion to the blessing the LORD, your God, has bestowed on you.

Deu 15:15 For remember that you too were once slaves in the land of Egypt, and the LORD, your God, ransomed you. That is why I am giving you this command today.

Deu 15:16 If, however, he tells you that he does not wish to leave you, because he is devoted to you and your household, since he fares well with you,

Deu 15:17 you shall take an awl and thrust it through his ear into the door, and he shall then be your slave forever. Your female slave, also, you shall treat in the same way.

Deu 15:18 You must not be reluctant to let your slave go free, since the service he has given you for six years was worth twice a hired man's salary; then also the LORD, your God, will bless you in everything you do.

Deu 15:19 "You shall consecrate to the LORD, your God, all the male firstlings of your herd and of your flock.

You shall not work the firstlings of your cattle, nor shear the firstlings of your flock.

Deu 15:20 Year after year you and your family shall eat them before the LORD, your God, in the place he chooses.

Deu 15:21 If, however, a firstling is lame or blind or has any other serious defect, you shall not sacrifice it to the LORD, your God,

Deu 15:22 but in your own communities you may eat it, the unclean and the clean eating it alike, as you would a gazelle or a deer.

Deu 15:23 Only, you shall not partake of its blood, which must be poured out on the ground like water.

Deu 16:1 "Observe the month of Abib by keeping the Passover of the LORD, your God, since it was in the month of Abib that he brought you by night out of Egypt.

Deu 16:2 You shall offer the Passover sacrifice from your flock or your herd to the LORD, your God, in the place which he chooses as the dwelling place of his name.

Deu 16:3 You shall not eat leavened bread with it. For seven days you shall eat with it only unleavened bread, the bread of affliction, that you may remember as long as you live the day of your departure from the land of Egypt; for in frightened haste you left the land of Egypt.

Deu 16:4 Nothing leavened may be found in all your territory for seven days, and none of the meat which you sacrificed on the evening of the first day shall be kept overnight for the next day.

Deu 16:5 "You may not sacrifice the Passover in any of the communities which the LORD, your God, gives you;

Deu 16:6 only at the place which he chooses as the dwelling place of his name, and in the evening at sunset, on the anniversary of your departure from Egypt, shall you sacrifice the Passover.

Deu 16:7 You shall cook and eat it at the place the LORD, your God, chooses; then in the morning you may return to your tents.

Deu 16:8 For six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh there shall be a solemn meeting in honor of the LORD, your God; on that day you shall not do any sort of work.

Deu 16:9 "You shall count off seven weeks, computing them from the day when the sickle is first put to the standing grain.

Deu 16:10 You shall then keep the feast of Weeks in honor of the LORD, your God, and the measure of your own freewill offering shall be in proportion to the blessing the LORD, your God, has bestowed on you.

Deu 16:11 In the place which the LORD, your God, chooses as the dwelling place of his name, you shall make merry in his presence together with your son and daughter, your male and female slave, and the Levite who belongs to your community, as well as the alien, the orphan and the widow among you.

Deu 16:12 Remember that you too were once slaves in Egypt, and carry out these statutes carefully.

Deu 16:13 "You shall celebrate the feast of Booths for seven days, when you have gathered in the produce from your threshing floor and wine press.

Deu 16:14 You shall make merry at your feast, together with your son and daughter, your male and female slave, and also the Levite, the alien, the orphan and the widow who belong to your community.

Deu 16:15 For seven days you shall celebrate this pilgrim feast in honor of the LORD, your God, in the place which he chooses; since the LORD, your God, has blessed you in all your crops and in all your undertakings, you shall do nought but make merry.

Deu 16:16 "Three times a year, then, every male among you shall appear before the LORD, your God, in the place which he chooses: at the feast of Unleavened Bread, at the feast of Weeks, and at the feast of Booths. No one shall appear before the LORD empty-handed,

Deu 16:17 but each of you with as much as he can give, in proportion to the blessings which the LORD, your God, has bestowed on you.

Deu 16:18 "You shall appoint judges and officials throughout your tribes to administer true justice for the people in all the communities which the LORD, your God, is giving you.

Deu 16:19 You shall not distort justice; you must be impartial. You shall not take a bribe; for a bribe blinds the eyes even of the wise and twists the words even of the just.

Deu 16:20 Justice and justice alone shall be your aim, that you may have life and may possess the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you.

Deu 16:21 "You shall not plant a sacred pole of any kind of wood beside the altar of the LORD, your God, which you will build;

Deu 16:22 nor shall you erect a sacred pillar, such as the LORD, your God, detests.

Deu 17:1 "You shall not sacrifice to the LORD, your God, from the herd or from the flock an animal with any serious defect; that would be an abomination to the LORD, your God.

Deu 17:2 "If there is found among you, in any one of the communities which the LORD, your God, gives you, a man or a woman who does evil in the sight of the LORD, your God, and transgresses his covenant,

Deu 17:3 by serving other gods, or by worshipping the sun or the moon or any of the host of the sky, against my command;

Deu 17:4 and if, on being informed of it, you find by careful investigation that it is true and an established fact that this abomination has been committed in Israel:

Deu 17:5 you shall bring the man (or woman) who has done the evil deed out to your city gates and stone him to death.

Deu 17:6 The testimony of two or three witnesses is required for putting a person to death; no one shall be put to death on the testimony of only one witness.

Deu 17:7 At the execution, the witnesses are to be the first to raise their hands against him; afterward all the people are to join in. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.

Deu 17:8 "If in your own community there is a case at issue which proves too complicated for you to decide, in a matter of bloodshed or of civil rights or of personal injury, you shall then go up to the place which the LORD, your God, chooses,

Deu 17:9 to the levitical priests or to the judge who is in office at that time. They shall study the case and then hand down to you their decision.

Deu 17:10 According to this decision that they give you in the place which the LORD chooses, you shall act, being careful to do exactly as they direct.

Deu 17:11 You shall carry out the directions they give you and the verdict they pronounce for you, without turning aside to the right or to the left from the decision they hand down to you.

Deu 17:12 Any man who has the insolence to refuse to listen to the priest who officiates there in the ministry of the LORD, your God, or to the judge, shall die. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.

Deu 17:13 And all the people, on hearing of it, shall fear, and never again be so insolent.

Deu 17:14 "When you have come into the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you, and have occupied it and settled in it, should you then decide to have a king over you like all the surrounding nations,

Deu 17:15 you shall set that man over you as your king whom the LORD, your God, chooses. He whom you set over you as king must be your kinsman; a foreigner, who is no kin of yours, you may not set over you.

Deu 17:16 But he shall not have a great number of horses; nor shall he make his people go back again to Egypt to acquire them, against the LORD'S warning that you must never go back that way again.

Deu 17:17 Neither shall he have a great number of wives, lest his heart be estranged, nor shall he accumulate a vast amount of silver and gold.

Deu 17:18 When he is enthroned in his kingdom, he shall have a copy of this law made from the scroll that is in the custody of the levitical priests.

Deu 17:19 He shall keep it with him and read it all the days of his life that he may learn to fear the LORD, his God, and to heed and fulfill all the words of this law and these statutes.

Deu 17:20 Let him not become estranged from his countrymen through pride, nor turn aside to the right or to the left from these commandments. Then he and his descendants will enjoy a long reign in Israel.

Deu 18:1 "The whole priestly tribe of Levi shall have no share in the heritage with Israel; they shall live on the oblations of the LORD and the portions due to him.

Deu 18:2 Levi shall have no heritage among his brothers; the LORD himself is his heritage, as he has told him.

Deu 18:3 The priests shall have a right to the following things from the people: from those who are offering a sacrifice, whether the victim is from the herd or from the flock, the priest shall receive the shoulder, the jowls and the stomach.

Deu 18:4 You shall also give him the first fruits of your grain and wine and oil, as well as the first fruits of the shearing of your flock;

Deu 18:5 for the LORD, your God, has chosen him and his sons out of all your tribes to be always in attendance to minister in the name of the LORD.

Deu 18:6 "When a Levite goes from one of your communities anywhere in Israel in which he ordinarily resides, to visit, as his heart may desire, the place which the LORD chooses,

Deu 18:7 he may minister there in the name of the LORD, his God, like all his fellow Levites who are in attendance there before the LORD.

Deu 18:8 He shall then receive the same portions to eat as the rest, along with his monetary offerings and heirlooms.

Deu 18:9 "When you come into the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you, you shall not learn to imitate the abominations of the peoples there.

Deu 18:10 Let there not be found among you anyone who immolates his son or daughter in the fire, nor a fortune-teller, soothsayer, charmer, diviner,

Deu 18:11 or caster of spells, nor one who consults ghosts and spirits or seeks oracles from the dead.

Deu 18:12 Anyone who does such things is an abomination to the LORD, and because of such abominations the LORD, your God, is driving these nations out of your way.

Deu 18:13 You, however, must be altogether sincere toward the LORD, your God.

Deu 18:14 Though these nations whom you are to dispossess listen to their soothsayers and fortune-tellers, the LORD, your God, will not permit you to do so.

Deu 18:15 "A prophet like me will the LORD, your God, raise up for you from among your own kinsmen; to him you shall listen.

Deu 18:16 This is exactly what you requested of the LORD, your God, at Horeb on the day of the assembly, when you said, 'Let us not again hear the voice of the LORD, our God, nor see this great fire any more, lest we die.'

Deu 18:17 And the LORD said to me, 'This was well said.

Deu 18:18 I will raise up for them a prophet like you from among their kinsmen, and will put my words into his mouth; he shall tell them all that I command him.

Deu 18:19 If any man will not listen to my words which he speaks in my name, I myself will make him answer for it.

Deu 18:20 But if a prophet presumes to speak in my name an oracle that I have not commanded him to speak, or speaks in the name of other gods, he shall die.'

Deu 18:21 "If you say to yourselves, 'How can we recognize an oracle which the LORD has spoken?'

Deu 18:22 know that, even though a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, if his oracle is not fulfilled or verified, it is an oracle which the LORD did not speak. The prophet has spoken it presumptuously, and you shall have no fear of him.

Deu 19:1 "When the LORD, your God, removes the nations whose land he is giving you, and you have taken their place and are settled in their cities and houses,

Deu 19:2 you shall set apart three cities in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you to occupy.

Deu 19:3 You shall thereby divide into three regions the land which the LORD, your God, will give you as a heritage, and so arrange the routes that every homicide will be able to find a refuge.

Deu 19:4 "It is in the following case that a homicide may take refuge in such a place to save his life: when someone unwittingly kills his neighbor to whom he had previously borne no malice.

Deu 19:5 For example, if he goes with his neighbor to a forest to cut wood, and as he swings his ax to fell a tree, its head flies off the handle and hits his neighbor a mortal blow, he may take refuge in one of these cities to save his life.

Deu 19:6 Should the distance be too great, the avenger of blood may in the heat of his anger pursue the homicide and overtake him and strike him dead, even though he does not merit death since he had previously borne the slain man no malice.

Deu 19:7 That is why I order you to set apart three cities.

Deu 19:8 "But if the LORD, your God, enlarges your territory, as he swore to your fathers, and gives you all the land he promised your fathers he would give Deu 19:9 in the event that you carefully observe all these commandments which I enjoin on you today, loving the LORD, your God, and ever walking in his ways: then add three cities to these three.

Deu 19:10 Thus, in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you as a heritage, innocent blood will not be shed and you will not become guilty of bloodshed.

Deu 19:11 "However, if someone lies in wait for his neighbor out of hatred for him, and rising up against him, strikes him mortally, and then takes refuge in one of these cities,

Deu 19:12 the elders of his own city shall send for him and have him taken from there, and shall hand him over to be slain by the avenger of blood.

Deu 19:13 Do not look on him with pity, but purge from Israel the stain of shedding innocent blood, that you may prosper.

Deu 19:14 "You shall not move your neighbor's landmarks erected by your forefathers in the heritage you receive in the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you to occupy.

Deu 19:15 "One witness alone shall not take the stand against a man in regard to any crime or any offense of which he may be guilty; a judicial fact shall be established only on the testimony of two or three witnesses.

Deu 19:16 "If an unjust witness takes the stand against a man to accuse him of a defection from the law,

Deu 19:17 the two parties in the dispute shall appear before the LORD in the presence of the priests or judges in office at that time;

Deu 19:18 and if after a thorough investigation the judges find that the witness is a false witness and has accused his kinsman falsely,

Deu 19:19 you shall do to him as he planned to do to his kinsman. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.

Deu 19:20 The rest, on hearing of it, shall fear, and never again do a thing so evil among you.

Deu 19:21 Do not look on such a man with pity. Life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, and foot for foot!

Deu 20:1 "When you go out to war against your enemies and you see horses and chariots and an army greater than your own, do not be afraid of them, for the LORD, your God, who brought you up from the land of Egypt, will be with you.

Deu 20:2 "When you are about to go into battle, the priest shall come forward and say to the soldiers:

Deu 20:3 'Hear, O Israel! Today you are going into battle against your enemies. Be not weakhearted or afraid; be neither alarmed nor frightened by them.

Deu 20:4 For it is the LORD, your God, who goes with you to fight for you against your enemies and give you victory.'

Deu 20:5 "Then the officials shall say to the soldiers, 'Is there anyone who has built a new house and not yet had the housewarming? Let him return home, lest he die in battle and another dedicate it.

Deu 20:6 Is there anyone who has planted a vineyard and never yet enjoyed its fruits? Let him return home, lest he die in battle and another enjoy its fruits in his stead.

Deu 20:7 Is there anyone who has betrothed a woman and not yet taken her as his wife? Let him return home, lest he die in battle and another take her to wife.'

Deu 20:8 In fine, the officials shall say to the soldiers, 'Is there anyone who is afraid and weakhearted? Let him return home, lest he make his fellows as fainthearted as himself.'

Deu 20:9 "When the officials have finished speaking to the soldiers, military officers shall be appointed over the army.

Deu 20:10 "When you march up to attack a city, first offer it terms of peace.

Deu 20:11 If it agrees to your terms of peace and opens its gates to you, all the people to be found in it shall serve you in forced labor.

Deu 20:12 But if it refuses to make peace with you and instead offers you battle, lay siege to it,

Deu 20:13 and when the LORD, your God, delivers it into your hand, put every male in it to the sword;

Deu 20:14 but the women and children and livestock and all else in it that is worth plundering you may take as your booty, and you may use this plunder of your enemies which the LORD, your God, has given you.

Deu 20:15 "That is how you shall deal with any city at a considerable distance from you, which does not belong to the peoples of this land.

Deu 20:16 But in the cities of those nations which the LORD, your God, is giving you as your heritage, you shall not leave a single soul alive.

Deu 20:17 You must doom them all-- the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites-- as the LORD, your God, has commanded you,

Deu 20:18 lest they teach you to make any such abominable offerings as they make to their gods, and you thus sin against the LORD, your God.

Deu 20:19 "When you are at war with a city and have to lay siege to it for a long time before you capture it, you shall not destroy its trees by putting an ax to them. You may eat their fruit, but you must not cut down the trees. After all, are the trees of the field men, that they should be included in your siege?

Deu 20:20 However, those trees which you know are not fruit trees you may destroy, cutting them down to build siegeworks with which to reduce the city that is resisting you.

Deu 21:1 "If the corpse of a slain man is found lying in the open on the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you to occupy, and it is not known who killed him,

Deu 21:2 your elders and judges shall go out and measure the distances to the cities that are in the neighborhood of the corpse.

Deu 21:3 When it is established which city is nearest the corpse, the elders of that city shall take a heifer that has never been put to work as a draft animal under a yoke,

Deu 21:4 and bringing it down to a wadi with an everflowing stream at a place that has not been plowed or sown, they shall cut the heifer's throat there in the wadi.

Deu 21:5 The priests, the descendants of Levi, shall also be present, for the LORD, your God, has chosen them to minister to him and to give blessings in his name, and every case of dispute or violence must be settled by their decision.

Deu 21:6 Then all the elders of that city nearest the corpse shall wash their hands over the heifer whose throat was cut in the wadi,

Deu 21:7 and shall declare, 'Our hands did not shed this blood, and our eyes did not see the deed.

Deu 21:8 Absolve, O LORD, your people Israel, whom you have ransomed, and let not the guilt of shedding innocent blood remain in the midst of your people Israel.' Thus they shall be absolved from the guilt of bloodshed,

Deu 21:9 and you shall purge from your midst the guilt of innocent blood, that you may prosper for doing what is right in the sight of the LORD.

Deu 21:10 "When you go out to war against your enemies and the LORD, your God, delivers them into your hand, so that you take captives,

Deu 21:11 if you see a comely woman among the captives and become so enamored of her that you wish to have her as wife,

Deu 21:12 you may take her home to your house. But before she may live there, she must shave her head and pare her nails

Deu 21:13 and lay aside her captive's garb. After she has mourned her father and mother for a full month, you may have relations with her, and you shall be her husband and she shall be your wife.

Deu 21:14 However, if later on you lose your liking for her, you shall give her her freedom, if she wishes it; but you shall not sell her or enslave her, since she was married to you under compulsion.

Deu 21:15 "If a man with two wives loves one and dislikes the other; and if both bear him sons, but the first-born is of her whom he dislikes:

Deu 21:16 when he comes to bequeath his property to his sons he may not consider as his first-born the son of the wife he loves, in preference to his true first-born, the son of the wife whom he dislikes.

Deu 21:17 On the contrary, he shall recognize as his first-born the son of her whom he dislikes, giving him a double share of whatever he happens to own, since he is the first fruits of his manhood, and to him belong the rights of the first-born.

Deu 21:18 "If a man has a stubborn and unruly son who will not listen to his father or mother, and will not obey them even though they chastise him,

Deu 21:19 his father and mother shall have him apprehended and brought out to the elders at the gate of his home city,

Deu 21:20 where they shall say to those city elders, 'This son of ours is a stubborn and unruly fellow who will not listen to us; he is a glutton and a drunkard.'

Deu 21:21 Then all his fellow citizens shall stone him to death. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst, and all Israel, on hearing of it, shall fear.

Deu 21:22 "If a man guilty of a capital offense is put to death and his corpse hung on a tree,

Deu 21:23 it shall not remain on the tree overnight. You shall bury it the same day; otherwise, since God's curse rests on him who hangs on a tree, you will defile the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you as an inheritance.

Deu 22:1 "You shall not see your kinsman's ox or sheep driven astray without showing concern about it; see to it that it is returned to your kinsman.

Deu 22:2 If this kinsman does not live near you, or you do not know who he may be, take it to your own place and keep it with you until he claims it; then give it back to him.

Deu 22:3 You shall do the same with his ass, or his garment, or anything else which your kinsman loses and you happen to find; you may not be unconcerned about them.

Deu 22:4 You shall not see your kinsman's ass or ox foundering on the road without showing concern about it; see to it that you help him lift it up.

Deu 22:5 "A woman shall not wear an article proper to a man, nor shall a man put on a woman's dress; for anyone who does such things is an abomination to the LORD, your God.

Deu 22:6 "If, while walking along, you chance upon a bird's nest with young birds or eggs in it, in any tree or on the ground, and the mother bird is sitting on them, you shall not take away the mother bird along with her brood;

Deu 22:7 you shall let her go, although you may take her brood away. It is thus that you shall have prosperity and a long life.

Deu 22:8 "When you build a new house, put a parapet around the roof; otherwise, if someone falls off, you will bring bloodguilt upon your house.

Deu 22:9 "You shall not sow your vineyard with two different kinds of seed; if you do, its produce shall become forfeit, both the crop you have sown and the yield of the vineyard.

Deu 22:10 You shall not plow with an ox and an ass harnessed together.

Deu 22:11 You shall not wear cloth of two different kinds of thread, wool and linen, woven together.

Deu 22:12 "You shall put twisted cords on the four corners of the cloak that you wrap around you.

Deu 22:13 "If a man, after marrying a woman and having relations with her, comes to dislike her,

Deu 22:14 and makes monstrous charges against her and defames her by saying, 'I married this woman, but when I first had relations with her I did not find her a virgin,'

Deu 22:15 the father and mother of the girl shall take the evidence of her virginity and bring it to the elders at the city gate.

Deu 22:16 There the father of the girl shall say to the elders, 'I gave my daughter to this man in marriage, but he has come to dislike her,

Deu 22:17 and now brings monstrous charges against her, saying: I did not find your daughter a virgin. But here is the evidence of my daughter's virginity!' And they shall spread out the cloth before the elders of the city.

Deu 22:18 Then these city elders shall take the man and chastise him,

Deu 22:19 besides fining him one hundred silver shekels, which they shall give to the girl's father, because the man defamed a virgin in Israel. Moreover, she shall remain his wife, and he may not divorce her as long as he lives.

Deu 22:20 "But if this charge is true, and evidence of the girl's virginity is not found,
Deu 22:21 they shall bring the girl to the entrance of her father's house and there her townsmen shall stone her to death, because she committed a crime against Israel by her unchasteness in her father's house. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.
Deu 22:22 "If a man is discovered having relations with a woman who is married to another, both the man and the woman with whom he has had relations shall die. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.
Deu 22:23 "If within the city a man comes upon a maiden who is betrothed, and has relations with her,
Deu 22:24 you shall bring them both out to the gate of the city and there stone them to death: the girl because she did not cry out for help though she was in the city, and the man because he violated his neighbor's wife. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.
Deu 22:25 "If, however, it is in the open fields that a man comes upon such a betrothed maiden, seizes her and has relations with her, the man alone shall die.
Deu 22:26 You shall do nothing to the maiden, since she is not guilty of a capital offense. This case is like that of a man who rises up against his neighbor and murders him:
Deu 22:27 it was in the open fields that he came upon her, and though the betrothed maiden may have cried out for help, there was no one to come to her aid.
Deu 22:28 "If a man comes upon a maiden that is not betrothed, takes her and has relations with her, and their deed is discovered,
Deu 22:29 the man who had relations with her shall pay the girl's father fifty silver shekels and take her as his wife, because he has deflowered her. Moreover, he may not divorce her as long as he lives.
Deu 23:1 "A man shall not marry his father's wife, nor shall he dishonor his father's bed.
Deu 23:2 "No one whose testicles have been crushed or whose penis has been cut off may be admitted into the community of the LORD.
Deu 23:3 No child of an incestuous union may be admitted into the community of the LORD, nor any descendant of his even to the tenth generation.
Deu 23:4 No Ammonite or Moabite may ever be admitted into the community of the LORD, nor any descendants of theirs even to the tenth generation,
Deu 23:5 because they would not succor you with food and water on your journey after you left Egypt, and because Moab hired Balaam, son of Beor, from Pethor in Aram Naharaim, to curse you;
Deu 23:6 though the LORD, your God, would not listen to Balaam and turned his curse into a blessing for you, because he loves you.
Deu 23:7 Never promote their peace and prosperity as long as you live.
Deu 23:8 But do not abhor the Edomite, since he is your brother, nor the Egyptian, since you were an alien in his country.
Deu 23:9 Children born to them may in the third generation be admitted into the community of the LORD.
Deu 23:10 "When you are in camp during an expedition against your enemies, you shall keep yourselves from everything offensive.
Deu 23:11 If one of you becomes unclean because of a nocturnal emission, he shall go outside the camp, and not return until,
Deu 23:12 toward evening, he has bathed in water; then, when the sun has set, he may come back into the camp.
Deu 23:13 Outside the camp you shall have a place set aside to be used as a latrine.
Deu 23:14 You shall also keep a trowel in your equipment and with it, when you go outside to ease nature, you shall first dig a hole and afterward cover up your excrement.
Deu 23:15 Since the LORD, your God, journeys along within your camp to defend you and to put your enemies at your mercy, your camp must be holy; otherwise, if he sees anything indecent in your midst, he will leave your company.
Deu 23:16 "You shall not hand over to his master a slave who has taken refuge from him with you.
Deu 23:17 Let him live with you wherever he chooses, in any one of your communities that pleases him. Do not molest him.
Deu 23:18 "There shall be no temple harlot among the Israelite women, nor a temple prostitute among the Israelite men.
Deu 23:19 You shall not offer a harlot's fee or a dog's price as any kind of votive offering in the house of the LORD, your God; both these things are an abomination to the LORD, your God.
Deu 23:20 "You shall not demand interest from your countrymen on a loan of money or of food or of anything else on which interest is usually demanded.
Deu 23:21 You may demand interest from a foreigner, but not from your countryman, so that the LORD, your God, may bless you in all your undertakings on the land you are to enter and occupy.
Deu 23:22 "When you make a vow to the LORD, your God, you shall not delay in fulfilling it; otherwise you will be held guilty, for the LORD, your God, is strict in requiring it of you.

Deu 23:23 Should you refrain from making a vow, you will not be held guilty.

Deu 23:24 But you must keep your solemn word and fulfill the votive offering you have freely promised to the LORD.

Deu 23:25 "When you go through your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat as many of his grapes as you wish, but do not put them in your basket.

Deu 23:26 When you go through your neighbor's grainfield, you may pluck some of the ears with your hand, but do not put a sickle to your neighbor's grain.

Deu 24:1 "When a man, after marrying a woman and having relations with her, is later displeased with her because he finds in her something indecent, and therefore he writes out a bill of divorce and hands it to her, thus dismissing her from his house:

Deu 24:2 if on leaving his house she goes and becomes the wife of another man,

Deu 24:3 and the second husband, too, comes to dislike her and dismisses her from his house by handing her a written bill of divorce; or if this second man who has married her, dies;

Deu 24:4 then her former husband, who dismissed her, may not again take her as his wife after she has become defiled. That would be an abomination before the LORD, and you shall not bring such guilt upon the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you as a heritage.

Deu 24:5 "When a man is newly wed, he need not go out on a military expedition, nor shall any public duty be imposed on him. He shall be exempt for one year for the sake of his family, to bring joy to the wife he has married.

Deu 24:6 "No one shall take a hand mill or even its upper stone as a pledge for debt, for he would be taking the debtor's sustenance as a pledge.

Deu 24:7 "If any man is caught kidnaping a fellow Israelite in order to enslave him and sell him, the kidnaper shall be put to death. Thus shall you purge the evil from your midst.

Deu 24:8 "In an attack of leprosy you shall be careful to observe exactly and to carry out all the directions of the levitical priests. Take care to act in accordance with the instructions I have given them.

Deu 24:9 Remember what the LORD, your God, did to Miriam on the journey after you left Egypt.

Deu 24:10 "When you make a loan of any kind to your neighbor, you shall not enter his house to receive a pledge from him,

Deu 24:11 but shall wait outside until the man to whom you are making the loan brings his pledge outside to you.

Deu 24:12 If he is a poor man, you shall not sleep in the mantle he gives as a pledge,

Deu 24:13 but shall return it to him at sunset that he himself may sleep in it. Then he will bless you, and it will be a good deed of yours before the LORD, your God.

Deu 24:14 "You shall not defraud a poor and needy hired servant, whether he be one of your own countrymen or one of the aliens who live in your communities.

Deu 24:15 You shall pay him each day's wages before sundown on the day itself, since he is poor and looks forward to them. Otherwise he will cry to the LORD against you, and you will be held guilty.

Deu 24:16 "Fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor children for their fathers; only for his own guilt shall a man be put to death.

Deu 24:17 "You shall not violate the rights of the alien or of the orphan, nor take the clothing of a widow as a pledge.

Deu 24:18 For, remember, you were once slaves in Egypt, and the LORD, your God, ransomed you from there; that is why I command you to observe this rule.

Deu 24:19 "When you reap the harvest in your field and overlook a sheaf there, you shall not go back to get it; let it be for the alien, the orphan or the widow, that the LORD, your God, may bless you in all your undertakings.

Deu 24:20 When you knock down the fruit of your olive trees, you shall not go over the branches a second time; let what remains be for the alien, the orphan and the widow.

Deu 24:21 When you pick your grapes, you shall not go over the vineyard a second time; let what remains be for the alien, the orphan, and the widow.

Deu 24:22 For remember that you were once slaves in Egypt; that is why I command you to observe this rule.

Deu 25:1 "When men have a dispute and bring it to court, and a decision is handed down to them acquitting the innocent party and condemning the guilty party,

Deu 25:2 if the latter deserves stripes, the judge shall have him lie down and in his presence receive the number of stripes his guilt deserves.

Deu 25:3 Forty stripes may be given him, but no more; lest, if he were beaten with more stripes than these, your kinsman should be looked upon as disgraced because of the severity of the beating.

Deu 25:4 "You shall not muzzle an ox when it is treading out grain.

Deu 25:5 "When brothers live together and one of them dies without a son, the widow of the deceased shall not marry anyone outside the family; but her husband's brother shall go to her and perform the duty of a brother-in-law by marrying her.

Deu 25:6 The first-born son she bears shall continue the line of the deceased brother, that his name may not be blotted out from Israel.

Deu 25:7 If, however, a man does not care to marry his brother's wife, she shall go up to the elders at the gate and declare, 'My brother-in-law does not intend to perform his duty toward me and refuses to perpetuate his brother's name in Israel.'

Deu 25:8 Thereupon the elders of his city shall summon him and admonish him. If he persists in saying, 'I am not willing to marry her,'

Deu 25:9 his sister-in-law, in the presence of the elders, shall go up to him and strip his sandal from his foot and spit in his face, saying publicly, 'This is how one should be treated who will not build up his brother's family!'

Deu 25:10 And his lineage shall be spoken of in Israel as 'the family of the man stripped of his sandal.'

Deu 25:11 "When two men are fighting and the wife of one intervenes to save her husband from the blows of his opponent, if she stretches out her hand and seizes the latter by his private parts,

Deu 25:12 you shall chop off her hand without pity.

Deu 25:13 "You shall not keep two differing weights in your bag, one large and the other small;

Deu 25:14 nor shall you keep two different measures in your house, one large and the other small.

Deu 25:15 But use a true and just weight, and a true and just measure, that you may have a long life on the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you.

Deu 25:16 Everyone who is dishonest in any of these matters is an abomination to the LORD, your God.

Deu 25:17 "Bear in mind what Amalek did to you on the journey after you left Egypt,

Deu 25:18 how without fear of any god he harassed you along the way, weak and weary as you were, and cut off at the rear all those who lagged behind.

Deu 25:19 Therefore, when the LORD, your God, gives you rest from all your enemies round about in the land which he is giving you to occupy as your heritage, you shall blot out the memory of Amalek from under the heavens. Do not forget!

Deu 26:1 "When you have come into the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you as a heritage, and have occupied it and settled in it,

Deu 26:2 you shall take some first fruits of the various products of the soil which you harvest from the land which the LORD, your God, gives you, and putting them in a basket, you shall go to the place which the LORD, your God, chooses for the dwelling place of his name.

Deu 26:3 There you shall go to the priest in office at that time and say to him, 'Today I acknowledge to the LORD, my God, that I have indeed come into the land which he swore to our fathers he would give us.'

Deu 26:4 The priest shall then receive the basket from you and shall set it in front of the altar of the LORD, your God.

Deu 26:5 Then you shall declare before the LORD, your God, 'My father was a wandering Aramean who went down to Egypt with a small household and lived there as an alien. But there he became a nation great, strong and numerous.

Deu 26:6 When the Egyptians maltreated and oppressed us, imposing hard labor upon us,

Deu 26:7 we cried to the LORD, the God of our fathers, and he heard our cry and saw our affliction, our toil and our oppression.

Deu 26:8 He brought us out of Egypt with his strong hand and outstretched arm, with terrifying power, with signs and wonders;

Deu 26:9 and bringing us into this country, he gave us this land flowing with milk and honey.

Deu 26:10 Therefore, I have now brought you the first fruits of the products of the soil which you, O LORD, have given me.' And having set them before the LORD, your God, you shall bow down in his presence.

Deu 26:11 Then you and your family, together with the Levite and the aliens who live among you, shall make merry over all these good things which the LORD, your God, has given you.

Deu 26:12 "When you have finished setting aside all the tithes of your produce in the third year, the year of the tithes, and you have given them to the Levite, the alien, the orphan and the widow, that they may eat their fill in your own community,

Deu 26:13 you shall declare before the LORD, your God, 'I have purged my house of the sacred portion and I have given it to the Levite, the alien, the orphan and the widow, just as you have commanded me. In this I have not broken or forgotten any of your commandments:

Deu 26:14 I have not eaten any of the tithe as a mourner; I have not brought any of it out as one unclean; I have not offered any of it to the dead. I have thus hearkened to the voice of the LORD, my God, doing just as you have commanded me.

Deu 26:15 Look down, then, from heaven, your holy abode, and bless your people Israel and the soil you have given us in the land flowing with milk and honey which you promised on oath to our fathers.'

Deu 26:16 "This day the LORD, your God, commands you to observe these statutes and decrees. Be careful, then, to observe them with all your heart and with all your soul.

Deu 26:17 Today you are making this agreement with the LORD: he is to be your God and you are to walk in his ways and observe his statutes, commandments and decrees, and to hearken to his voice.

Deu 26:18 And today the LORD is making this agreement with you: you are to be a people peculiarly his own, as he promised you; and provided you keep all his commandments,

Deu 26:19 he will then raise you high in praise and renown and glory above all other nations he has made, and you will be a people sacred to the LORD, your God, as he promised."

Deu 27:1 Then Moses, with the elders of Israel, gave the people this order: "Keep all these commandments which I enjoin on you today.

Deu 27:2 On the day you cross the Jordan into the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you, set up some large stones and coat them with plaster.

Deu 27:3 Also write on them, at the time you cross, all the words of this law, that you may thus enter into the land flowing with milk and honey, which the LORD, your God, and the God of your fathers, is giving you as he promised you.

Deu 27:4 When, moreover, you have crossed the Jordan, besides setting up on Mount Ebal these stones concerning which I command you today, and coating them with plaster,

Deu 27:5 you shall also build to the LORD, your God, an altar made of stones that no iron tool has touched.

Deu 27:6 You shall make this altar of the LORD, your God, with undressed stones, and shall offer on it holocausts to the LORD, your God.

Deu 27:7 You shall also sacrifice peace offerings and eat them there, making merry before the LORD, your God.

Deu 27:8 On the stones you shall inscribe all the words of this law very clearly."

Deu 27:9 Moses, with the levitical priests, then said to all Israel: "Be silent, O Israel, and listen! This day you have become the people of the LORD, your God.

Deu 27:10 You shall therefore hearken to the voice of the LORD, your God, and keep his commandments and statutes which I enjoin on you today."

Deu 27:11 That same day Moses gave the people this order:

Deu 27:12 "When you cross the Jordan, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph and Benjamin shall stand on Mount Gerizim to pronounce blessings over the people,

Deu 27:13 while Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan and Naphtali shall stand on Mount Ebal to pronounce curses.

Deu 27:14 "The Levites shall proclaim aloud to all the men of Israel:

Deu 27:15 'Cursed be the man who makes a carved or molten idol-- an abomination to the LORD, the product of a craftsman's hands-- and sets it up in secret!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:16 'Cursed be he who dishonors his father or his mother!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:17 'Cursed be he who moves his neighbor's landmarks!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:18 'Cursed be he who misleads a blind man on his way!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:19 'Cursed be he who violates the rights of the alien, the orphan or the widow!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:20 'Cursed be he who has relations with his father's wife, for he dishonors his father's bed!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:21 'Cursed be he who has relations with any animal!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:22 'Cursed be he who has relations with his sister or his half-sister!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:23 'Cursed be he who has relations with his mother-in-law!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:24 'Cursed be he who slays his neighbor in secret!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:25 'Cursed be he who accepts payment for slaying an innocent man!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 27:26 'Cursed be he who fails to fulfill any of the provisions of this law!' And all the people shall answer, 'Amen!'

Deu 28:1 "Thus, then, shall it be: if you continue to heed the voice of the LORD, your God, and are careful to observe all his commandments which I enjoin on you today, the LORD, your God, will raise you high above all the nations of the earth.

Deu 28:2 When you hearken to the voice of the LORD, your God, all these blessings will come upon you and overwhelm you:

Deu 28:3 "May you be blessed in the city, and blessed in the country!

Deu 28:4 "Blessed be the fruit of your womb, the produce of your soil and the offspring of your livestock, the issue of your herds and the young of your flocks!

Deu 28:5 "Blessed be your grain bin and your kneading bowl!

Deu 28:6 "May you be blessed in your coming in, and blessed in your going out!

Deu 28:7 "The LORD will beat down before you the enemies that rise up against you; though they come out against you from but one direction, they will flee before you in seven.

Deu 28:8 The LORD will affirm his blessing upon you, on your barns and on all your undertakings, blessing you in the land that the LORD, your God, gives you.

Deu 28:9 Provided that you keep the commandments of the LORD, your God, and walk in his ways, he will establish you as a people sacred to himself, as he swore to you;

Deu 28:10 so that, when all the nations of the earth see you bearing the name of the LORD, they will stand in awe of you.

Deu 28:11 The LORD will increase in more than goodly measure the fruit of your womb, the offspring of your livestock, and the produce of your soil, in the land which he swore to your fathers he would give you.

Deu 28:12 The LORD will open up for you his rich treasure house of the heavens, to give your land rain in due season, blessing all your undertakings, so that you will lend to many nations and borrow from none.

Deu 28:13 The LORD will make you the head, not the tail, and you will always mount higher and not decline, as long as you obey the commandments of the LORD, your God, which I order you today to observe carefully;

Deu 28:14 not turning aside to the right or to the left from any of the commandments which I now give you, in order to follow other gods and serve them.

Deu 28:15 "But if you do not hearken to the voice of the LORD, your God, and are not careful to observe all his commandments which I enjoin on you today, all these curses shall come upon you and overwhelm you:

Deu 28:16 "May you be cursed in the city, and cursed in the country!

Deu 28:17 "Cursed be your grain bin and your kneading bowl!

Deu 28:18 "Cursed be the fruit of your womb, the produce of your soil and the offspring of your livestock, the issue of your herds and the young of your flocks!

Deu 28:19 "May you be cursed in your coming in, and cursed in your going out!

Deu 28:20 "The LORD will put a curse on you, defeat and frustration in every enterprise you undertake, until you are speedily destroyed and perish for the evil you have done in forsaking me.

Deu 28:21 The LORD will bring a pestilence upon you that will persist until he has exterminated you from the land you are entering to occupy.

Deu 28:22 The LORD will strike you with wasting and fever, with scorching, fiery drought, with blight and searing wind, that will plague you until you perish.

Deu 28:23 The sky over your heads will be like bronze and the earth under your feet like iron.

Deu 28:24 For rain the LORD will give your land powdery dust, which will come down upon you from the sky until you are destroyed.

Deu 28:25 The LORD will let you be beaten down before your enemies; though you advance against them from one direction, you will flee before them in seven, so that you will become a terrifying example to all the kingdoms of the earth.

Deu 28:26 Your carcasses will become food for all the birds of the air and for the beasts of the field, with no one to frighten them off.

Deu 28:27 The LORD will strike you with Egyptian boils and with tumors, eczema and the itch, until you cannot be cured.

Deu 28:28 And the LORD will strike you with madness, blindness and panic,

Deu 28:29 so that even at midday you will grope like a blind man in the dark, unable to find your way. "You will be oppressed and robbed continually, with no one to come to your aid.

Deu 28:30 Though you betroth a wife, another man will have her. Though you build a house, you will not live in it. Though you plant a vineyard, you will not enjoy its fruits.

Deu 28:31 Your ox will be slaughtered before your eyes, and you will not eat of its flesh. Your ass will be stolen in your presence, but you will not recover it. Your flocks will be given to your enemies, with no one to come to your aid.

Deu 28:32 Your sons and daughters will be given to a foreign nation while you look on and grieve for them in constant helplessness.

Deu 28:33 A people whom you do not know will consume the fruit of your soil and of all your labor, and you will be oppressed and crushed at all times without surcease,

Deu 28:34 until you are driven mad by what your eyes must look upon.

Deu 28:35 The LORD will strike you with malignant boils of which you cannot be cured, on your knees and legs, and from the soles of your feet to the crown of your head.

Deu 28:36 "The LORD will bring you, and your king whom you have set over you, to a nation which you and your fathers have not known, and there you will serve strange gods of wood and stone,

Deu 28:37 and will call forth amazement, reproach and barbed scorn from all the nations to which the LORD will lead you.

Deu 28:38 "Though you spend much seed on your field, you will harvest but little, for the locusts will devour the crop.

Deu 28:39 Though you plant and cultivate vineyards, you will not drink or store up the wine, for the grubs will eat the vines clean.

Deu 28:40 Though you have olive trees throughout your country, you will have no oil for ointment, for your olives will drop off unripe.

Deu 28:41 Though you beget sons and daughters, they will not remain with you, but will go into captivity.

Deu 28:42 Buzzing insects will infest all your trees and the crops of your soil.

Deu 28:43 The alien residing among you will rise higher and higher above you, while you sink lower and lower.

Deu 28:44 He will lend to you, not you to him. He will become the head, you the tail.

Deu 28:45 "All these curses will come upon you, pursuing you and overwhelming you, until you are destroyed, because you would not hearken to the voice of the LORD, your God, nor keep the commandments and statutes he gave you.

Deu 28:46 They will light on you and your descendants as a sign and a wonder for all time.

Deu 28:47 Since you would not serve the LORD, your God, with joy and gratitude for abundance of every kind,

Deu 28:48 therefore in hunger and thirst, in nakedness and utter poverty, you will serve the enemies whom the LORD will send against you. He will put an iron yoke on your neck, until he destroys you.

Deu 28:49 "The LORD will raise up against you a nation from afar, from the end of the earth, that swoops down like an eagle, a nation whose tongue you do not understand,

Deu 28:50 a nation of stern visage, that shows neither respect for the aged nor pity for the young.

Deu 28:51 They will consume the offspring of your livestock and the produce of your soil, until you are destroyed; they will leave you no grain or wine or oil, no issue of your herds or young of your flocks, until they have brought about your ruin.

Deu 28:52 They will besiege you in each of your communities, until the great, unscalable walls you trust in come tumbling down all over your land. They will so besiege you in every community throughout the land which the LORD, your God, has given you,

Deu 28:53 that in the distress of the siege to which your enemy subjects you, you will eat the fruit of your womb, the flesh of your own sons and daughters whom the LORD, your God, has given you.

Deu 28:54 The most refined and fastidious man among you will begrudge his brother and his beloved wife and his surviving children,

Deu 28:55 any share in the flesh of his children that he himself is using for food when nothing else is left him in the straits of the siege to which your enemy will subject you in all your communities.

Deu 28:56 The most refined and delicate woman among you, so delicate and refined that she would not venture to set the sole of her foot on the ground, will begrudge her beloved husband and her son and daughter

Deu 28:57 the afterbirth that issues from her womb and the infant she brings forth when she secretly uses them for food for want of anything else, in the straits of the siege to which your enemy will subject you in your communities.

Deu 28:58 "If you are not careful to observe every word of the law which is written in this book, and to revere the glorious and awesome name of the LORD, your God,

Deu 28:59 he will smite you and your descendants with severe and constant blows, malignant and lasting maladies.

Deu 28:60 He will again afflict you with all the diseases of Egypt which you dread, and they will persist among you.

Deu 28:61 Should there be any kind of sickness or calamity not mentioned in this book of the law, that too the LORD will bring upon you until you are destroyed.

Deu 28:62 Of you who were numerous as the stars in the sky, only a few will be left, because you would not hearken to the voice of the LORD, your God.

Deu 28:63 "Just as the LORD once took delight in making you grow and prosper, so will he now take delight in ruining and destroying you, and you will be plucked out of the land you are now entering to occupy.

Deu 28:64 The LORD will scatter you among all the nations from one end of the earth to the other, and there you will serve strange gods of wood and stone, such as you and your fathers have not known.

Deu 28:65 Among these nations you will find no repose, not a foot of ground to stand upon, for there the LORD will give you an anguished heart and wasted eyes and a dismayed spirit.

Deu 28:66 You will live in constant suspense and stand in dread both day and night, never sure of your existence.

Deu 28:67 In the morning you will say, 'Would that it were evening!' and in the evening you will say, 'Would that it were morning!' for the dread that your heart must feel and the sight that your eyes must see.

Deu 28:68 The LORD will send you back in galleys to Egypt, to the region I told you that you were never to see again; and there you will offer yourselves for sale to your enemies as male and female slaves, but there will be no buyer."

Deu 28:69 These are the words of the covenant which the LORD ordered Moses to make with the Israelites in the land of Moab, in addition to the covenant which he made with them at Horeb.

Deu 29:1 Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, "You have seen all that the LORD did in the land of Egypt before your very eyes to Pharaoh and all his servants and to all his land;

Deu 29:2 the great testings your own eyes have seen, and those great signs and wonders.

Deu 29:3 But not even at the present day has the LORD yet given you a mind to understand, or eyes to see, or ears to hear.

Deu 29:4 'I led you for forty years in the desert. Your clothes did not fall from you in tatters nor your sandals from your feet;

Deu 29:5 bread was not your food, nor wine or beer your drink. Thus you should know that I, the LORD, am your God.'

Deu 29:6 When we came to this place, Sihon, king of Heshbon, and Og, king of Bashan, came out to engage us in battle, but we defeated them

Deu 29:7 and took over their land, which we then gave as a heritage to the Reubenites, Gadites, and half the tribe of Manasseh.

Deu 29:8 Keep the terms of this covenant, therefore, and fulfill them, that you may succeed in whatever you do.

Deu 29:9 "You are all now standing before the LORD, your God-- your chiefs and judges, your elders and officials, and all of the men of Israel,

Deu 29:10 together with your wives and children and the aliens who live in your camp, down to those who hew wood and draw water for you--

Deu 29:11 that you may enter into the covenant of the LORD, your God, which he concluded with you today under this sanction of a curse;

Deu 29:12 so that he may now establish you as his people and he may be your God, as he promised you and as he swore to your fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Deu 29:13 But it is not with you alone that I am making this covenant, under this sanction of a curse;

Deu 29:14 it is just as much with those who are not here among us today as it is with those of us who are now here present before the LORD, our God.

Deu 29:15 "You know in what surroundings we lived in the land of Egypt and what we passed by in the nations we traversed,

Deu 29:16 and you saw the loathsome idols of wood and stone, of gold and silver, that they possess.

Deu 29:17 Let there be, then, no man or woman, no clan or tribe among you, who would now turn away their hearts from the LORD, our God, to go and serve these pagan gods! Let there be no root that would bear such poison and wormwood among you.

Deu 29:18 If any such person, upon hearing the words of this curse, should beguile himself into thinking that he can safely persist in his stubbornness of heart, as though to sweep away both the watered soil and the parched ground,

Deu 29:19 the LORD will never consent to pardon him. Instead, the LORD'S wrath and jealousy will flare up against that man, and every curse mentioned in this book will alight on him. The LORD will blot out his name from under the heavens

Deu 29:20 and will single him out from all the tribes of Israel for doom, in keeping with all the curses of the covenant inscribed in this book of the law.

Deu 29:21 "Future generations, your own descendants who will rise up after you, as well as the foreigners who will come here from far-off lands, when they see the calamities of this land and the ills with which the LORD has smitten it--

Deu 29:22 all its soil being nothing but sulphur and salt, a burnt-out waste, unsown and unfruitful, without a blade of grass, destroyed like Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, which the LORD overthrew in his furious wrath--

Deu 29:23 they and all the nations will ask, 'Why has the LORD dealt thus with this land? Why this fierce outburst of wrath?'

Deu 29:24 And the answer will be, 'Because they forsook the covenant which the LORD, the God of their fathers, had made with them when he brought them out of the land of Egypt,

Deu 29:25 and they went and served other gods and adored them, gods whom they did not know and whom he had not let fall to their lot:

Deu 29:26 that is why the LORD was angry with this land and brought on it all the imprecations listed in this book;

Deu 29:27 in his furious wrath and tremendous anger the LORD uprooted them from their soil and cast them out into a strange land, where they are today.'

Deu 29:28 (Both what is still hidden and what has already been revealed concern us and our descendants forever, that we may carry out all the words of this law.)

Deu 30:1 "When all these things which I have set before you, the blessings and the curses, are fulfilled in you, and from among whatever nations the LORD, your God, may have dispersed you, you ponder them in your heart:

Deu 30:2 then, provided that you and your children return to the LORD, your God, and heed his voice with all your heart and all your soul, just as I now command you,

Deu 30:3 the LORD, your God, will change your lot; and taking pity on you, he will again gather you from all the nations wherein he has scattered you.

Deu 30:4 Though you may have been driven to the farthest corner of the world, even from there will the LORD, your God, gather you; even from there will he bring you back.

Deu 30:5 The LORD, your God, will then bring you into the land which your fathers once occupied, that you too may occupy it, and he will make you more prosperous and numerous than your fathers.

Deu 30:6 The LORD, your God, will circumcise your hearts and the hearts of your descendants, that you may love the LORD, your God, with all your heart and all your soul, and so may live.

Deu 30:7 But all those curses the LORD, your God, will assign to your enemies and the foes who persecuted you.

Deu 30:8 You, however, must again heed the LORD'S voice and carry out all his commandments which I now enjoin on you.

Deu 30:9 Then the LORD, your God, will increase in more than goodly measure the returns from all your labors, the fruit of your womb, the offspring of your livestock, and the produce of your soil; for the LORD, your God, will again take delight in your prosperity, even as he took delight in your fathers',

Deu 30:10 if only you heed the voice of the LORD, your God, and keep his commandments and statutes that are written in this book of the law, when you return to the LORD, your God, with all your heart and all your soul.

Deu 30:11 "For this command which I enjoin on you today is not too mysterious and remote for you.

Deu 30:12 It is not up in the sky, that you should say, 'Who will go up in the sky to get it for us and tell us of it, that we may carry it out?'

Deu 30:13 Nor is it across the sea, that you should say, 'Who will cross the sea to get it for us and tell us of it, that we may carry it out?'

Deu 30:14 No, it is something very near to you, already in your mouths and in your hearts; you have only to carry it out.

Deu 30:15 "Here, then, I have today set before you life and prosperity, death and doom.

Deu 30:16 If you obey the commandments of the LORD, your God, which I enjoin on you today, loving him, and walking in his ways, and keeping his commandments, statutes and decrees, you will live and grow numerous, and the LORD, your God, will bless you in the land you are entering to occupy.

Deu 30:17 If, however, you turn away your hearts and will not listen, but are led astray and adore and serve other gods,

Deu 30:18 I tell you now that you will certainly perish; you will not have a long life on the land which you are crossing the Jordan to enter and occupy.

Deu 30:19 I call heaven and earth today to witness against you: I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse. Choose life, then, that you and your descendants may live,

Deu 30:20 by loving the LORD, your God, heeding his voice, and holding fast to him. For that will mean life for you, a long life for you to live on the land which the LORD swore he would give to your fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob."

Deu 31:1 When Moses had finished speaking these words to all Israel,

Deu 31:2 he said to them, "I am now one hundred and twenty years old and am no longer able to move about freely; besides, the LORD has told me that I shall not cross this Jordan.

Deu 31:3 It is the LORD, your God, who will cross before you; he will destroy these nations before you, that you may supplant them. (It is Joshua who will cross before you, as the LORD promised.)

Deu 31:4 The LORD will deal with them just as he dealt with Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites whom he destroyed, and with their country.

Deu 31:5 When, therefore, the LORD delivers them up to you, you must deal with them exactly as I have ordered you.

Deu 31:6 Be brave and steadfast; have no fear or dread of them, for it is the LORD, your God, who marches with you; he will never fail you or forsake you."

Deu 31:7 Then Moses summoned Joshua and in the presence of all Israel said to him, "Be brave and steadfast, for you must bring this people into the land which the LORD swore to their fathers he would give them; you must put them in possession of their heritage.

Deu 31:8 It is the LORD who marches before you; he will be with you and will never fail you or forsake you. So do not fear or be dismayed."

Deu 31:9 When Moses had written down this law, he entrusted it to the levitical priests who carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and to all the elders of Israel,

Deu 31:10 giving them this order: "On the feast of Booths, at the prescribed time in the year of relaxation which comes at the end of every seven-year period,

Deu 31:11 when all Israel goes to appear before the LORD, your God, in the place which he chooses, you shall read this law aloud in the presence of all Israel.

Deu 31:12 Assemble the people-- men, women and children, as well as the aliens who live in your communities-- that they may hear it and learn it, and so fear the LORD, your God, and carefully observe all the words of this law.

Deu 31:13 Their children also, who do not know it yet, must hear it and learn it, that they too may fear the LORD, your God, as long as you live on the land which you will cross the Jordan to occupy."

Deu 31:14 The LORD said to Moses, "The time is now approaching for you to die. Summon Joshua, and present yourselves at the meeting tent that I may give him his commission." So Moses and Joshua went and presented themselves at the meeting tent.

Deu 31:15 And the LORD appeared at the tent in a column of cloud, which stood still at the entrance of the tent.

Deu 31:16 The LORD said to Moses, "Soon you will be at rest with your fathers, and then this people will take to rendering wanton worship to the strange gods among whom they will live in the land they are about to enter. They will forsake me and break the covenant which I have made with them.

Deu 31:17 At that time my anger will flare up against them; I will forsake them and hide my face from them, so that they will become a prey to be devoured, and many evils and troubles will befall them. At that time they will indeed say, 'Is it not because our God is not among us that these evils have befallen us?'

Deu 31:18 Yet I will be hiding my face from them at that time only because of all the evil they have done in turning to other gods.

Deu 31:19 Write out this song, then, for yourselves. Teach it to the Israelites and have them recite it, so that this song may be a witness for me against the Israelites.

Deu 31:20 For when I have brought them into the land flowing with milk and honey which I promised on oath to their fathers, and they have eaten their fill and grown fat, if they turn to other gods and serve them, despising me and breaking my covenant;

Deu 31:21 then, when many evils and troubles befall them, this song, which their descendants will not have forgotten to recite, will bear witness against them. For I know what they are inclined to do even at the present time, before I have brought them into the land which I promised on oath to their fathers."

Deu 31:22 So Moses wrote this song that same day, and he taught it to the Israelites.

Deu 31:23 Then the LORD commissioned Joshua, son of Nun, and said to him, "Be brave and steadfast, for it is you who must bring the Israelites into the land which I promised them on oath. I myself will be with you."

Deu 31:24 When Moses had finished writing out on a scroll the words of the law in their entirety,

Deu 31:25 he gave the Levites who carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD this order:

Deu 31:26 "Take this scroll of the law and put it beside the ark of the covenant of the LORD, your God, that there it may be a witness against you.

Deu 31:27 For I already know how rebellious and stiff-necked you will be. Why, even now, while I am alive among you, you have been rebels against the LORD! How much more, then, after I am dead!

Deu 31:28 Therefore, assemble all your tribal elders and your officials before me, that I may speak these words for them to hear, and so may call heaven and earth to witness against them.

Deu 31:29 For I know that after my death you are sure to become corrupt and to turn aside from the way along which I directed you, so that evil will befall you in some future age because you have done evil in the LORD'S sight, and provoked him by your deeds."

Deu 31:30 Then Moses recited the words of this song from beginning to end, for the whole assembly of Israel to hear:

Deu 32:1 Give ear, O heavens, while I speak; let the earth hearken to the words of my mouth!

Deu 32:2 May my instruction soak in like the rain, and my discourse permeate like the dew, Like a downpour upon the grass, like a shower upon the crops.

Deu 32:3 For I will sing the LORD'S renown. Oh, proclaim the greatness of our God!

Deu 32:4 The Rock-- how faultless are his deeds, how right all his ways! A faithful God, without deceit, how just and upright he is!

Deu 32:5 Yet basely has he been treated by his degenerate children, a perverse and crooked race!

Deu 32:6 Is the LORD to be thus repaid by you, O stupid and foolish people? Is he not your father who created you? Has he not made you and established you?

Deu 32:7 Think back on the days of old, reflect on the years of age upon age. Ask your father and he will inform you, ask your elders and they will tell you:

Deu 32:8 When the Most High assigned the nations their heritage, when he parceled out the descendants of Adam, He set up the boundaries of the peoples after the number of the sons of God;

Deu 32:9 While the LORD'S own portion was Jacob, His hereditary share was Israel.

Deu 32:10 He found them in a wilderness, a wasteland of howling desert. He shielded them and cared for them, guarding them as the apple of his eye.

Deu 32:11 As an eagle incites its nestlings forth by hovering over its brood, So he spread his wings to receive them and bore them up on his pinions.

Deu 32:12 The LORD alone was their leader, no strange god was with him.

Deu 32:13 He had them ride triumphant over the summits of the land and live off the products of its fields, Giving them honey to suck from its rocks and olive oil from its hard, stony ground;

Deu 32:14 Butter from its cows and milk from its sheep, with the fat of its lambs and rams; Its Bashan bulls and its goats, with the cream of its finest wheat; and the foaming blood of its grapes you drank.

Deu 32:15 (So Jacob ate his fill,) the darling grew fat and frisky; you became fat and gross and gorged. They spurned the God who made them and scorned their saving Rock.

Deu 32:16 They provoked him with strange gods and angered him with abominable idols.

Deu 32:17 They offered sacrifice to demons, to "no-gods," to gods whom they had not known before, To newcomers just arrived, of whom their fathers had never stood in awe.

Deu 32:18 You were unmindful of the Rock that begot you, You forgot the God who gave you birth.

Deu 32:19 When the LORD saw this, he was filled with loathing and anger toward his sons and daughters.

Deu 32:20 "I will hide my face from them," he said, "and see what will then become of them. What a fickle race they are, sons with no loyalty in them!

Deu 32:21 "Since they have provoked me with their 'no-god' and angered me with their vain idols, I will provoke them with a 'no-people'; with a foolish nation I will anger them.

Deu 32:22 "For by my wrath a fire is enkindled that shall rage to the depths of the nether world, Consuming the earth with its yield, and licking with flames the roots of the mountains.

Deu 32:23 I will spend on them woe upon woe and exhaust all my arrows against them:

Deu 32:24 "Emaciating hunger and consuming fever and bitter pestilence, And the teeth of wild beasts I will send among them, with the venom of reptiles gliding in the dust.

Deu 32:25 "Snatched away by the sword in the street and by sheer terror at home Shall be the youth and the maiden alike, the nursing babe as well as the hoary old man.

Deu 32:26 "I would have said, 'I will make an end of them and blot out their name from men's memories,' Deu 32:27 Had I not feared the insolence of their enemies, feared that these foes would mistakenly boast, 'Our own hand won the victory; the LORD had nothing to do with it.'"

Deu 32:28 For they are a people devoid of reason, having no understanding.

Deu 32:29 If they had insight they would realize what happened, they would understand their future and say,

Deu 32:30 "How could one man rout a thousand, or two men put ten thousand to flight, Unless it was because their Rock sold them and the LORD delivered them up?"

Deu 32:31 Indeed, their "rock" is not like our Rock, and our foes are under condemnation.

Deu 32:32 They are a branch of Sodom's vinestock, from the vineyards of Gomorrah. Poisonous are their grapes and bitter their clusters.

Deu 32:33 Their wine is the venom of dragons and the cruel poison of cobras.

Deu 32:34 "Is not this preserved in my treasury, sealed up in my storehouse, Deu 32:35 Against the day of vengeance and requital, against the time they lose their footing?" Close at hand is the day of their disaster and their doom is rushing upon them!

Deu 32:36 Surely, the LORD shall do justice for his people; on his servants he shall have pity. When he sees their strength failing, and their protected and unprotected alike disappearing,

Deu 32:37 He will say, "Where are their gods whom they relied on as their 'rock'?"

Deu 32:38 Let those who ate the fat of your sacrifices and drank the wine of your libations Rise up now and help you! Let them be your protection!

Deu 32:39 "Learn then that I, I alone, am God, and there is no god besides me. It is I who bring both death and life, I who inflict wounds and heal them, and from my hand there is no rescue.

Deu 32:40 "To the heavens I raise my hand and swear: As surely as I live forever, Deu 32:41 I will sharpen my flashing sword, and my hand shall lay hold of my quiver. "With vengeance I will repay my foes and requite those who hate me.

Deu 32:42 I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall gorge itself with flesh-- With the blood of the slain and the captured, Flesh from the heads of the enemy leaders."

Deu 32:43 Exult with him, you heavens, glorify him, all you angels of God; For he avenges the blood of his servants and purges his people's land.

Deu 32:44 So Moses, together with Joshua, son of Nun, went and recited all the words of this song for the people to hear.

Deu 32:45 When Moses had finished speaking all these words to all Israel,

Deu 32:46 he said, "Take to heart all the warning which I have now given you and which you must impress on your children, that you may carry out carefully every word of this law.

Deu 32:47 For this is no trivial matter for you; rather, it means your very life, since it is by this means that you are to enjoy a long life on the land which you will cross the Jordan to occupy."

Deu 32:48 On that very day the LORD said to Moses,

Deu 32:49 "Go up on Mount Nebo, here in the Abarim Mountains (it is in the land of Moab facing Jericho), and view the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the Israelites as their possession.

Deu 32:50 Then you shall die on the mountain you have climbed, and shall be taken to your people, just as your brother Aaron died on Mount Hor and there was taken to his people;

Deu 32:51 because both of you broke faith with me among the Israelites at the waters of Meribath-kadesh in the desert of Zin by failing to manifest my sanctity among the Israelites.

Deu 32:52 You may indeed view the land at a distance, but you shall not enter that land which I am giving to the Israelites."

Deu 33:1 This is the blessing which Moses, the man of God, pronounced upon the Israelites before he died.

Deu 33:2 He said: "The LORD came from Sinai and dawned on his people from Seir; He shone forth from Mount Paran and advanced from Meribath-kadesh, While at his right hand a fire blazed forth and his wrath devastated the nations.

Deu 33:3 But all his holy ones were in his hand; they followed at his feet and he bore them up on his pinions.

Deu 33:4 A law he gave to us; he made the community of Jacob his domain,

Deu 33:5 and he became king of his darling. When the chiefs of the people assembled and the tribes of Israel came together.

Deu 33:6 "May Reuben live and not die out, but let his men be few."

Deu 33:7 The following is for Judah. He said: "The LORD hears the cry of Judah; you will bring him to his people. His own hands defend his cause and you will be his help against his foes."

Deu 33:8 Of Levi he said: "To Levi belong your Thummim, to the man of your favor your Urim; For you put him to the test at Massah and you contended with him at the waters of Meribah.

Deu 33:9 He said of his father, 'I regard him not'; his brothers he would not acknowledge, and his own children he refused to recognize. Thus the Levites keep your words, and your covenant they uphold.

Deu 33:10 They promulgate your decisions to Jacob and your law to Israel. They bring the smoke of sacrifice to your nostrils, and burnt offerings to your altar.

Deu 33:11 Bless, O LORD, his possessions and accept the ministry of his hands. Break the backs of his adversaries and of his foes, that they may not rise."

Deu 33:12 Of Benjamin he said: "Benjamin is the beloved of the LORD, who shelters him all the day, while he abides securely at his breast."

Deu 33:13 Of Joseph he said: "Blessed by the LORD is his land with the best of the skies above and of the abyss crouching beneath;

Deu 33:14 With the best of the produce of the year, and the choicest sheaves of the months;

Deu 33:15 With the finest gifts of the age-old mountains and the best from the timeless hills;

Deu 33:16 With the best of the earth and its fullness, and the favor of him who dwells in the bush. These shall come upon the head of Joseph and upon the brow of the prince among his brothers,

Deu 33:17 The majestic bull, his father's first-born, whose horns are those of the wild ox With which to gore the nations, even those at the ends of the earth." (These are the myriads of Ephraim, and these the thousands of Manasseh.)

Deu 33:18 Of Zebulun he said: "Rejoice, O Zebulun, in your pursuits, and you, Issachar, in your tents!

Deu 33:19 You who invite the tribes to the mountains where feasts are duly held, Because you suck up the abundance of the seas and the hidden treasures of the sand."

Deu 33:20 Of Gad he said: "Blessed be he who has made Gad so vast! He lies there like a lion that has seized the arm and head of the prey.

Deu 33:21 He saw that the best should be his when the princely portion was assigned, while the heads of the people were gathered. He carried out the justice of the LORD and his decrees respecting Israel."

Deu 33:22 Of Dan he said: "Dan is a lion's whelp, that springs forth from Bashan!"

Deu 33:23 Of Naphtali he said: "Naphtali is enriched with favors and filled with the blessings of the LORD; The lake and south of it are his possession!"

Deu 33:24 Of Asher he said: "More blessed than the other sons be Asher! May he be the favorite among his brothers, as the oil of his olive trees runs over his feet!

Deu 33:25 May your bolts be of iron and bronze; may your strength endure through all your days!"

Deu 33:26 "There is no god like the God of the darling, who rides the heavens in his power, and rides the skies in his majesty;

Deu 33:27 He spread out the primeval tent; he extended the ancient canopy. He drove the enemy out of your way and the Amorite he destroyed.

Deu 33:28 Israel has dwelt securely, and the fountain of Jacob has been undisturbed In a land of grain and wine, where the heavens drip with dew.

Deu 33:29 How fortunate you are, O Israel! Where else is a nation victorious in the LORD? The LORD is your saving shield, and his sword is your glory. Your enemies fawn upon you, as you stride upon their heights."

Deu 34:1 Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab to Mount Nebo, the headland of Pisgah which faces Jericho, and the LORD showed him all the land-Gilead, and as far as Dan,

Deu 34:2 all Naphtali, the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah as far as the Western Sea,

Deu 34:3 the Negeb, the circuit of the Jordan with the lowlands at Jericho, city of palms, and as far as Zoar.

Deu 34:4 The LORD then said to him, "This is the land which I swore to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob that I would give to their descendants. I have let you feast your eyes upon it, but you shall not cross over."

Deu 34:5 So there, in the land of Moab, Moses, the servant of the LORD, died as the LORD had said;

Deu 34:6 and he was buried in the ravine opposite Beth-peor in the land of Moab, but to this day no one knows the place of his burial.

Deu 34:7 Moses was one hundred and twenty years old when he died, yet his eyes were undimmed and his vigor unabated.

Deu 34:8 For thirty days the Israelites wept for Moses in the plains of Moab, till they had completed the period of grief and mourning for Moses.

Deu 34:9 Now Joshua, son of Nun, was filled with the spirit of wisdom, since Moses had laid his hands upon him; and so the Israelites gave him their obedience, thus carrying out the LORD'S command to Moses.

Deu 34:10 Since then no prophet has arisen in Israel like Moses, whom the LORD knew face to face.

Deu 34:11 He had no equal in all the signs and wonders the LORD sent him to perform in the land of Egypt against Pharaoh and all his servants and against all his land,

Deu 34:12 and for the might and the terrifying power that Moses exhibited in the sight of all Israel.

Jos 1:1 After Moses, the servant of the LORD, had died, the LORD said to Moses' aide Joshua, son of Nun:

Jos 1:2 "My servant Moses is dead. So prepare to cross the Jordan here, with all the people into the land I will give the Israelites.

Jos 1:3 As I promised Moses, I will deliver to you every place where you set foot.

Jos 1:4 Your domain is to be all the land of the Hittites, from the desert and from Lebanon east to the great river Euphrates and west to the Great Sea.

Jos 1:5 No one can withstand you while you live. I will be with you as I was with Moses: I will not leave you nor forsake you.

Jos 1:6 Be firm and steadfast, so that you may give this people possession of the land which I swore to their fathers I would give them.

Jos 1:7 Above all, be firm and steadfast, taking care to observe the entire law which my servant Moses enjoined on you. Do not swerve from it either to the right or to the left, that you may succeed wherever you go.

Jos 1:8 Keep this book of the law on your lips. Recite it by day and by night, that you may observe carefully all that is written in it; then you will successfully attain your goal.

Jos 1:9 I command you: be firm and steadfast! Do not fear nor be dismayed, for the LORD, your God, is with you wherever you go."

Jos 1:10 So Joshua commanded the officers of the people:

Jos 1:11 "Go through the camp and instruct the people, 'Prepare your provisions, for three days from now you shall cross the Jordan here, to march in and take possession of the land which the LORD, your God, is giving you.'"

Jos 1:12 Joshua reminded the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh:

Jos 1:13 "Remember what Moses, the servant of the LORD, commanded you when he said, 'The LORD, your God, will permit you to settle in this land.'

Jos 1:14 Your wives, your children, and your livestock shall remain in the land Moses gave you here beyond the Jordan. But all the warriors among you must cross over armed ahead of your kinsmen and you must help them

Jos 1:15 until the LORD has settled your kinsmen, and they like you possess the land which the LORD, your God, is giving them. Afterward you may return and occupy your own land, which Moses, the servant of the LORD, has given you east of the Jordan."

Jos 1:16 "We will do all you have commanded us," they answered Joshua, "and we will go wherever you send us. We will obey you as completely as we obeyed Moses.

Jos 1:17 But may the LORD, your God, be with you as he was with Moses.

Jos 1:18 If anyone rebels against your orders and does not obey every command you give him, he shall be put to death. But be firm and steadfast."

Jos 2:1 Then Joshua, son of Nun, secretly sent out two spies from Shittim, saying, "Go, reconnoiter the land and Jericho." When the two reached Jericho, they went into the house of a harlot named Rahab, where they lodged.

Jos 2:2 But a report was brought to the king of Jericho that some Israelites had come there that night to spy out the land.

Jos 2:3 So the king of Jericho sent Rahab the order, "Put out the visitors who have entered your house, for they have come to spy out the entire land."

Jos 2:4 The woman had taken the two men and hidden them, so she said, "True, the men you speak of came to me, but I did not know where they came from.

Jos 2:5 At dark, when it was time for the gate to be shut, they left, and I do not know where they went. You will have to pursue them immediately to overtake them."

Jos 2:6 Now, she had led them to the roof, and hidden them among her stalks of flax spread out there.

Jos 2:7 But the pursuers set out along the way to the fords of the Jordan, and once they had left, the gate was shut.

Jos 2:8 Before the spies fell asleep, Rahab came to them on the roof

Jos 2:9 and said: "I know that the LORD has given you the land, that a dread of you has come upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land are overcome with fear of you.

Jos 2:10 For we have heard how the LORD dried up the waters of the Red Sea before you when you came out of Egypt, and how you dealt with Sihon and Og, the two kings of the Amorites beyond the Jordan, whom you doomed to destruction.

Jos 2:11 At these reports, we are disheartened; everyone is discouraged because of you, since the LORD, your God, is God in heaven above and on earth below.

Jos 2:12 Now then, swear to me by the LORD that, since I am showing kindness to you, you in turn will show kindness to my family; and give me an unmistakable token

Jos 2:13 that you are to spare my father and mother, brothers and sisters, and all their kin, and save us from death."

Jos 2:14 "We pledge our lives for yours," the men answered her. "If you do not betray this errand of ours, we will be faithful in showing kindness to you when the LORD gives us the land."

Jos 2:15 Then she let them down through the window with a rope; for she lived in a house built into the city wall.

Jos 2:16 "Go up into the hill country," she suggested to them, "that your pursuers may not find you. Hide there for three days, until they return; then you may proceed on your way."

Jos 2:17 The men answered her, "This is how we will fulfill the oath you made us take:

Jos 2:18 When we come into the land, tie this scarlet cord in the window through which you are letting us down; and gather your father and mother, your brothers and all your family into your house.

Jos 2:19 Should any of them pass outside the doors of your house, he will be responsible for his own death, and we shall be guiltless. But we shall be responsible if anyone in the house with you is harmed.

Jos 2:20 If, however, you betray this errand of ours, we shall be quit of the oath you have made us take."

Jos 2:21 "Let it be as you say," she replied, and bade them farewell. When they were gone, she tied the scarlet cord in the window.

Jos 2:22 They went up into the hills, where they stayed three days until their pursuers, who had sought them all along the road without finding them, returned.

Jos 2:23 Then the two came back down from the hills, crossed the Jordan to Joshua, son of Nun, and reported all that had befallen them.

Jos 2:24 They assured Joshua, "The LORD has delivered all this land into our power; indeed, all the inhabitants of the land are overcome with fear of us."

Jos 3:1 Early the next morning, Joshua moved with all the Israelites from Shittim to the Jordan, where they lodged before crossing over.

Jos 3:2 Three days later the officers went through the camp

Jos 3:3 and issued these instructions to the people: "When you see the ark of the covenant of the LORD, your God, which the levitical priests will carry, you must also break camp and follow it,

Jos 3:4 that you may know the way to take, for you have not gone over this road before. But let there be a space of two thousand cubits between you and the ark. Do not come nearer to it."

Jos 3:5 Joshua also said to the people, "Sanctify yourselves, for tomorrow the LORD will perform wonders among you."

Jos 3:6 And he directed the priests to take up the ark of the covenant and go on ahead of the people; and they did so.

Jos 3:7 Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Today I will begin to exalt you in the sight of all Israel, that they may know I am with you, as I was with Moses.

Jos 3:8 Now command the priests carrying the ark of the covenant to come to a halt in the Jordan when they reach the edge of the waters."

Jos 3:9 So Joshua said to the Israelites, "Come here and listen to the words of the LORD, your God."

Jos 3:10 He continued: "This is how you will know that there is a living God in your midst, who at your approach will dispossess the Canaanites, Hittites, Hivites, Perizzites, Girgashites, Amorites and Jebusites.

Jos 3:11 The ark of the covenant of the LORD of the whole earth will precede you into the Jordan.

Jos 3:12 (Now choose twelve men, one from each of the tribes of Israel.)

Jos 3:13 When the soles of the feet of the priests carrying the ark of the LORD, the Lord of the whole earth, touch the water of the Jordan, it will cease to flow; for the water flowing down from upstream will halt in a solid bank."

Jos 3:14 The people struck their tents to cross the Jordan, with the priests carrying the ark of the covenant ahead of them.

Jos 3:15 No sooner had these priestly bearers of the ark waded into the waters at the edge of the Jordan, which overflows all its banks during the entire season of the harvest,

Jos 3:16 than the waters flowing from upstream halted, backing up in a solid mass for a very great distance indeed, from Adam, a city in the direction of Zarethan; while those flowing downstream toward the Salt Sea of the Arabah disappeared entirely. Thus the people crossed over opposite Jericho.

Jos 3:17 While all Israel crossed over on dry ground, the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD remained motionless on dry ground in the bed of the Jordan until the whole nation had completed the passage.

Jos 4:1 After the entire nation had crossed the Jordan,

Jos 4:2 the LORD said to Joshua, "Choose twelve men from the people, one from each tribe,

Jos 4:3 and instruct them to take up twelve stones from this spot in the bed of the Jordan where the priests have been standing motionless. Carry them over with you, and place them where you are to stay tonight."

Jos 4:4 Summoning the twelve men whom he had selected from among the Israelites, one from each tribe,

Jos 4:5 Joshua said to them: "Go to the bed of the Jordan in front of the ark of the LORD, your God; lift to your shoulders one stone apiece, so that they will equal in number the tribes of the Israelites.

Jos 4:6 In the future, these are to be a sign among you. When your children ask you what these stones mean to you,

Jos 4:7 you shall answer them, 'The waters of the Jordan ceased to flow before the ark of the covenant of the LORD when it crossed the Jordan.' Thus these stones are to serve as a perpetual memorial to the Israelites."

Jos 4:8 The twelve Israelites did as Joshua had commanded: they took up as many stones from the bed of the Jordan as there were tribes of the Israelites, and carried them along to the camp site, where they placed them, according to the LORD'S direction.

Jos 4:9 Joshua also had twelve stones set up in the bed of the Jordan on the spot where the priests stood who were carrying the ark of the covenant. They are there to this day.

Jos 4:10 The priests carrying the ark remained in the bed of the Jordan until everything had been done that the LORD had commanded Joshua to tell the people. The people crossed over quickly,

Jos 4:11 and when all had reached the other side, the ark of the LORD, borne by the priests, also crossed to its place in front of them.

Jos 4:12 The Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of Manasseh, armed, marched in the vanguard of the Israelites, as Moses had ordered.

Jos 4:13 About forty thousand troops equipped for battle passed over before the LORD to the plains of Jericho.

Jos 4:14 That day the LORD exalted Joshua in the sight of all Israel, and thenceforth during his whole life they respected him as they had respected Moses.

Jos 4:15 Then the LORD said to Joshua,

Jos 4:16 "Command the priests carrying the ark of the commandments to come up from the Jordan."

Jos 4:17 Joshua did so,

Jos 4:18 and when the priests carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD had come up from the bed of the Jordan, as the soles of their feet regained the dry ground, the waters of the Jordan resumed their course and as before overflowed all its banks.

Jos 4:19 The people came up from the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month, and camped in Gilgal on the eastern limits of Jericho.

Jos 4:20 At Gilgal Joshua set up the twelve stones which had been taken from the Jordan,

Jos 4:21 saying to the Israelites, "In the future, when the children among you ask their fathers what these stones mean,

Jos 4:22 you shall inform them, 'Israel crossed the Jordan here on dry ground.'

Jos 4:23 For the LORD, your God, dried up the waters of the Jordan in front of you until you crossed over, just as the LORD, your God, had done at the Red Sea, which he dried up in front of us until we crossed over;

Jos 4:24 in order that all the peoples of the earth may learn that the hand of the LORD is mighty, and that you may fear the LORD, your God, forever."

Jos 5:1 When all the kings of the Amorites to the west of the Jordan and all the kings of the Canaanites by the sea heard that the LORD had dried up the waters of the Jordan before the Israelites until they crossed over, they were disheartened and lost courage at their approach.

Jos 5:2 On this occasion the LORD said to Joshua, "Make flint knives and circumcise the Israelite nation for the second time."

Jos 5:3 So Joshua made flint knives and circumcised the Israelites at Gibeath-haaraloth,

Jos 5:4 under these circumstances: Of all the people who came out of Egypt, every man of military age had died in the desert during the journey after they left Egypt.

Jos 5:5 Though all the men who came out were circumcised, none of those born in the desert during the journey after the departure from Egypt were circumcised.

Jos 5:6 Now the Israelites had wandered forty years in the desert, until all the warriors among the people that came forth from Egypt died off because they had not obeyed the command of the LORD. For the LORD swore that he would not let them see the land flowing with milk and honey which he had promised their fathers he would give us.

Jos 5:7 It was the children whom he raised up in their stead whom Joshua circumcised, for these were yet with foreskins, not having been circumcised on the journey.

Jos 5:8 When the rite had been performed, the whole nation remained in camp where they were, until they recovered.

Jos 5:9 Then the LORD said to Joshua, "Today I have removed the reproach of Egypt from you." Therefore the place is called Gilgal to the present day.

Jos 5:10 While the Israelites were encamped at Gilgal on the plains of Jericho, they celebrated the Passover on the evening of the fourteenth of the month.

Jos 5:11 On the day after the Passover they ate of the produce of the land in the form of unleavened cakes and parched grain. On that same day

Jos 5:12 after the Passover on which they ate of the produce of the land, the manna ceased. No longer was there manna for the Israelites, who that year ate of the yield of the land of Canaan.

Jos 5:13 While Joshua was near Jericho, he raised his eyes and saw one who stood facing him, drawn sword in hand. Joshua went up to him and asked, "Are you one of us or of our enemies?"

Jos 5:14 He replied, "Neither. I am the captain of the host of the LORD and I have just arrived." Then Joshua fell prostrate to the ground in worship, and said to him, "What has my lord to say to his servant?"

Jos 5:15 The captain of the host of the LORD replied to Joshua, "Remove your sandals from your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy." And Joshua obeyed.

Jos 6:1 Now Jericho was in a state of siege because of the presence of the Israelites, so that no one left or entered.

Jos 6:2 And to Joshua the LORD said, "I have delivered Jericho and its king into your power.

Jos 6:3 Have all the soldiers circle the city, marching once around it. Do this for six days,

Jos 6:4 with seven priests carrying ram's horns ahead of the ark. On the seventh day march around the city seven times, and have the priests blow the horns.

Jos 6:5 When they give a long blast on the ram's horns and you hear that signal, all the people shall shout aloud. The wall of the city will collapse, and they will be able to make a frontal attack."

Jos 6:6 Summoning the priests, Joshua, son of Nun, then ordered them to take up the ark of the covenant with seven of the priests carrying ram's horns in front of the ark of the LORD.

Jos 6:7 And he ordered the people to proceed in a circle around the city, with the picked troops marching ahead of the ark of the LORD.

Jos 6:8 At this order they proceeded, with the seven priests who carried the ram's horns before the LORD blowing their horns, and the ark of the covenant of the LORD following them.

Jos 6:9 In front of the priests with the horns marched the picked troops; the rear guard followed the ark, and the blowing of horns was kept up continually as they marched.

Jos 6:10 But the people had been commanded by Joshua not to shout or make any noise or outcry until he gave the word: only then were they to shout.

Jos 6:11 So he had the ark of the LORD circle the city, going once around it, after which they returned to camp for the night.

Jos 6:12 Early the next morning, Joshua had the priests take up the ark of the LORD.

Jos 6:13 The seven priests bearing the ram's horns marched in front of the ark of the LORD, blowing their horns. Ahead of these marched the picked troops, while the rear guard followed the ark of the LORD, and the blowing of horns was kept up continually.

Jos 6:14 On this second day they again marched around the city once before returning to camp; and for six days in all they did the same.

Jos 6:15 On the seventh day, beginning at daybreak, they marched around the city seven times in the same manner; on that day only did they march around the city seven times.

Jos 6:16 The seventh time around, the priests blew the horns and Joshua said to the people, "Now shout, for the LORD has given you the city

Jos 6:17 and everything in it. It is under the LORD'S ban. Only the harlot Rahab and all who are in the house with her are to be spared, because she hid the messengers we sent.

Jos 6:18 But be careful not to take, in your greed, anything that is under the ban; else you will bring upon the camp of Israel this ban and the misery of it.

Jos 6:19 All silver and gold, and the articles of bronze or iron, are sacred to the LORD. They shall be put in the treasury of the LORD."

Jos 6:20 As the horns blew, the people began to shout. When they heard the signal horn, they raised a tremendous shout. The wall collapsed, and the people stormed the city in a frontal attack and took it.

Jos 6:21 They observed the ban by putting to the sword all living creatures in the city: men and women, young and old, as well as oxen, sheep and asses.

Jos 6:22 Joshua directed the two men who had spied out the land, "Go into the harlot's house and bring out the woman with all her kin, as you swore to her you would do."

Jos 6:23 The spies entered and brought out Rahab, with her father, mother, brothers, and all her kin. Her entire family they led forth and placed them outside the camp of Israel.

Jos 6:24 The city itself they burned with all that was in it, except the silver, gold, and articles of bronze and iron, which were placed in the treasury of the house of the LORD.

Jos 6:25 Because Rahab the harlot had hidden the messengers whom Joshua had sent to reconnoiter Jericho, Joshua spared her with her family and all her kin, who continue in the midst of Israel to this day.

Jos 6:26 On that occasion Joshua imposed the oath: Cursed before the LORD be the man who attempts to rebuild this city, Jericho. He shall lose his first-born when he lays its foundation, and he shall lose his youngest son when he sets up its gates.

Jos 6:27 Thus the LORD was with Joshua so that his fame spread throughout the land.

Jos 7:1 But the Israelites violated the ban; Achan, son of Carmi, son of Zerah, son of Zara of the tribe of Judah, took goods that were under the ban, and the anger of the LORD flared up against the Israelites.

Jos 7:2 Joshua next sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is near Bethel on its eastern side, with instructions to go up and reconnoiter the land. When they had explored Ai,

Jos 7:3 they returned to Joshua and advised, "Do not send all the people up; if only about two or three thousand go up, they can overcome Ai. The enemy there are few; you need not call for an effort from all the people."

Jos 7:4 About three thousand of the people made the attack, but they were defeated by those at Ai,

Jos 7:5 who killed some thirty-six of them. They pressed them back across the clearing in front of the city gate till they broke ranks, and defeated them finally on the descent, so that the confidence of the people melted away like water.

Jos 7:6 Joshua, together with the elders of Israel, rent his garments and lay prostrate before the ark of the LORD until evening; and they threw dust on their heads.

Jos 7:7 "Alas, O Lord GOD," Joshua prayed, "why did you ever allow this people to pass over the Jordan, delivering us into the power of the Amorites, that they might destroy us? Would that we had been content to dwell on the other side of the Jordan.

Jos 7:8 Pray, Lord, what can I say, now that Israel has turned its back to its enemies?

Jos 7:9 When the Canaanites and the other inhabitants of the land hear of it, they will close in around us and efface our name from the earth. What will you do for your great name?"

Jos 7:10 The LORD replied to Joshua: "Stand up. Why are you lying prostrate?

Jos 7:11 Israel has sinned: they have violated the covenant which I enjoined on them. They have stealthily taken goods subject to the ban, and have deceitfully put them in their baggage.

Jos 7:12 If the Israelites cannot stand up to their enemies, but must turn their back to them, it is because they are under the ban. I will not remain with you unless you remove from among you whoever has incurred the ban.

Jos 7:13 Rise, sanctify the people. Tell them to sanctify themselves before tomorrow, for the LORD, the God of Israel, says: You are under the ban, O Israel. You cannot stand up to your enemies until you remove from among you whoever has incurred the ban.

Jos 7:14 In the morning you must present yourselves by tribes. The tribe which the LORD designates shall come forward by clans; the clan which the LORD designates shall come forward by families; the family which the LORD designates shall come forward one by one.

Jos 7:15 He who is designated as having incurred the ban shall be destroyed by fire, with all that is his, because he has violated the covenant of the LORD and has committed a shameful crime in Israel."

Jos 7:16 Early the next morning Joshua had Israel come forward by tribes, and the tribe of Judah was designated.

Jos 7:17 Then he had the clans of Judah come forward, and the clan of Zerah was designated. He had the clan of Zerah come forward by families, and Zabdi was designated.

Jos 7:18 Finally he had that family come forward one by one, and Achan, son of Carmi, son of Zabdi, son of Zerah of the tribe of Judah, was designated.

Jos 7:19 Joshua said to Achan, "My son, give to the LORD, the God of Israel, glory and honor by telling me what you have done; do not hide it from me."

Jos 7:20 Achan answered Joshua, "I have indeed sinned against the LORD, the God of Israel. This is what I have done:

Jos 7:21 Among the spoils, I saw a beautiful Babylonian mantle, two hundred shekels of silver, and a bar of gold fifty shekels in weight; in my greed I took them. They are now hidden in the ground inside my tent, with the silver underneath."

Jos 7:22 The messengers whom Joshua sent hastened to the tent and found them hidden there, with the silver underneath.

Jos 7:23 They took them from the tent, brought them to Joshua and all the Israelites, and spread them out before the LORD.

Jos 7:24 Then Joshua and all Israel took Achan, son of Zerah, with the silver, the mantle, and the bar of gold, and with his sons and daughters, his ox, his ass and his sheep, his tent, and all his possessions, and led them off to the Valley of Achor.

Jos 7:25 Joshua said, "The LORD bring upon you today the misery with which you have afflicted us!" And all Israel stoned him to death

Jos 7:26 and piled a great heap of stones over him, which remains to the present day. Then the anger of the LORD relented. That is why the place is called the Valley of Achor to this day.

Jos 8:1 The LORD then said to Joshua, "Do not be afraid or dismayed. Take all the army with you and prepare to attack Ai. I have delivered the king of Ai into your power, with his people, city, and land.

Jos 8:2 Do to Ai and its king what you did to Jericho and its king; except that you may take its spoil and livestock as booty. Set an ambush behind the city."

Jos 8:3 So Joshua and all the soldiers prepared to attack Ai. Picking out thirty thousand warriors, Joshua sent them off by night

Jos 8:4 with these orders: "See that you ambush the city from the rear, at no great distance; then all of you be on the watch.

Jos 8:5 The rest of the people and I will come up to the city, and when they make a sortie against us as they did the last time, we will flee from them.

Jos 8:6 They will keep coming out after us until we have drawn them away from the city, for they will think we are fleeing from them as we did the last time. When this occurs,

Jos 8:7 rise from ambush and take possession of the city, which the LORD, your God, will deliver into your power.

Jos 8:8 When you have taken the city, set it afire in obedience to the LORD'S command. These are my orders to you."

Jos 8:9 Then Joshua sent them away. They went to the place of ambush, taking up their position to the west of Ai, toward Bethel. Joshua, however, spent that night in the plain.

Jos 8:10 Early the next morning Joshua mustered the army and went up to Ai at its head, with the elders of Israel.

Jos 8:11 When all the troops he led were drawn up in position before the city, they pitched camp north of Ai, on the other side of the ravine.

Jos 8:12 (He took about five thousand men and set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai, west of the city.)

Jos 8:13 Thus the people took up their stations, with the main body north of the city and the ambush west of it, and Joshua waited overnight among his troops.

Jos 8:14 The king of Ai saw this, and he and all his army came out very early in the morning to engage Israel in battle at the descent toward the Arabah, not knowing that there was an ambush behind the city.

Jos 8:15 Joshua and the main body of the Israelites fled in seeming defeat toward the desert,

Jos 8:16 till the last of the soldiers in the city had been called out to pursue them.

Jos 8:17 Since they were drawn away from the city, with every man engaged in this pursuit of Joshua and the Israelites, not a soldier remained in Ai (or Bethel), and the city was open and unprotected.

Jos 8:18 Then the LORD directed Joshua, "Stretch out the javelin in your hand toward Ai, for I will deliver it into your power." Joshua stretched out the javelin in his hand toward the city,

Jos 8:19 and as soon as he did so, the men in ambush rose from their post, rushed in, captured the city, and immediately set it on fire.

Jos 8:20 By the time the men of Ai looked back, the smoke from the city was already sky-high. Escape in any direction was impossible, because the Israelites retreating toward the desert now turned on their pursuers;

Jos 8:21 for when Joshua and the main body of Israelites saw that the city had been taken from ambush and was going up in smoke, they struck back at the men of Ai.

Jos 8:22 Since those in the city came out to intercept them, the men of Ai were hemmed in by Israelites on either side, who cut them down without any fugitives or survivors

Jos 8:23 except the king, whom they took alive and brought to Joshua.

Jos 8:24 All the inhabitants of Ai who had pursued the Israelites into the desert were slain by the sword there in the open, down to the last man. Then all Israel returned and put to the sword those inside the city.

Jos 8:25 There fell that day a total of twelve thousand men and women, the entire population of Ai.

Jos 8:26 Joshua kept the javelin in his hand stretched out until he had fulfilled the doom on all the inhabitants of Ai.

Jos 8:27 However, the Israelites took for themselves as booty the livestock and the spoil of that city, according to the command of the LORD issued to Joshua.

Jos 8:28 Then Joshua destroyed the place by fire, reducing it to an everlasting mound of ruins, as it remains today.

Jos 8:29 He had the king of Ai hanged on a tree until evening; then at sunset Joshua ordered the body removed from the tree and cast at the entrance of the city gate, where a great heap of stones was piled up over it, which remains to the present day.

Jos 8:30 Later Joshua built an altar to the LORD, the God of Israel, on Mount Ebal,

Jos 8:31 of unhewn stones on which no iron tool had been used, in keeping with the command to the Israelites of Moses, the servant of the LORD, as recorded in the book of the law. On this altar they offered holocausts and peace offerings to the LORD.

Jos 8:32 There, in the presence of the Israelites, Joshua inscribed upon the stones a copy of the law written by Moses.

Jos 8:33 And all Israel, stranger and native alike, with their elders, officers and judges, stood on either side of the ark facing the levitical priests who were carrying the ark of the covenant of the LORD. Half of them were facing Mount Gerizim and half Mount Ebal, thus carrying out the instructions of Moses, the servant of the LORD, for the blessing of the people of Israel on this first occasion.

Jos 8:34 Then were read aloud all the words of the law, the blessings and the curses, exactly as written in the book of the law.

Jos 8:35 Every single word that Moses had commanded, Joshua read aloud to the entire community, including the women and children, and the strangers who had accompanied Israel.

Jos 9:1 When the news reached the kings west of the Jordan, in the mountain regions and in the foothills, and all along the coast of the Great Sea as far as Lebanon: Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites,

Jos 9:2 they all formed an alliance to launch a common attack against Joshua and Israel.

Jos 9:3 On learning what Joshua had done to Jericho and Ai, the inhabitants of Gibeon

Jos 9:4 put into effect a device of their own. They chose provisions for a journey, making use of old sacks for their asses, and old wineskins, torn and mended.

Jos 9:5 They wore old, patched sandals and shabby garments; and all the bread they took was dry and crumbly.

Jos 9:6 Thus they journeyed to Joshua in the camp at Gilgal, where they said to him and to the men of Israel, "We have come from a distant land to propose that you make an alliance with us."

Jos 9:7 But the men of Israel replied to the Hivites, "You may be living in land that is ours. How, then, can we make an alliance with you?"

Jos 9:8 But they answered Joshua, "We are your servants." Then Joshua asked them, "Who are you? Where do you come from?"

Jos 9:9 They answered him, "Your servants have come from a far-off land, because of the fame of the LORD, your God. For we have heard reports of all that he did in Egypt

Jos 9:10 and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites beyond the Jordan, Sihon, king of Heshbon, and Og, king of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth.

Jos 9:11 So our elders and all the inhabitants of our country said to us, 'Take along provisions for the journey and go to meet them. Say to them: We are your servants; we propose that you make an alliance with us.'

Jos 9:12 This bread of ours was still warm when we brought it from home as provisions the day we left to come to you, but now it is dry and crumbled.

Jos 9:13 Here are our wineskins, which were new when we filled them, but now they are torn. Look at our garments and sandals, which are worn out from the very long journey."

Jos 9:14 Then the Israelite princes partook of their provisions, without seeking the advice of the LORD.

Jos 9:15 So Joshua made an alliance with them and entered into an agreement to spare them, which the princes of the community sealed with an oath.

Jos 9:16 Three days after the agreement was entered into, the Israelites learned that these people were from nearby, and would be living in Israel.

Jos 9:17 The third day on the road, the Israelites came to their cities of Gibeon, Chephirah, Beeroth and Kiriath-jearim,

Jos 9:18 but did not attack them, because the princes of the community had sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel. When the entire community grumbled against the princes, Jos 9:19 these all remonstrated with the people, "We have sworn to them by the LORD, the God of Israel, and so we cannot harm them.

Jos 9:20 Let us therefore spare their lives and so deal with them that we shall not be punished for the oath we have sworn to them."

Jos 9:21 Thus the princes recommended that they be let live, as hewers of wood and drawers of water for the entire community; and the community did as the princes advised them.

Jos 9:22 Joshua summoned the Gibeonites and said to them, "Why did you lie to us and say that you lived at a great distance from us, when you will be living in our very midst?

Jos 9:23 For this are you accursed: every one of you shall always be a slave (hewers of wood and drawers of water) for the house of my God."

Jos 9:24 They answered Joshua, "Your servants were fully informed of how the LORD, your God, commanded his servant Moses that you be given the entire land and that all its inhabitants be destroyed before you. Since, therefore, at your advance, we were in great fear for our lives, we acted as we did.

Jos 9:25 And now that we are in your power, do with us what you think fit and right."

Jos 9:26 Joshua did what he had decided: while he saved them from being killed by the Israelites,

Jos 9:27 at the same time he made them, as they still are, hewers of wood and drawers of water for the community and for the altar of the LORD, in the place of the LORD'S choice.

Jos 10:1 Now Adonizedek, king of Jerusalem, heard that, in the capture and destruction of Ai, Joshua had done to that city and its king as he had done to Jericho and its king. He heard also that the inhabitants of Gibeon had made their peace with Israel, remaining among them,

Jos 10:2 and that there was great fear abroad, because Gibeon was large enough for a royal city, larger even than the city of Ai, and all its men were brave.

Jos 10:3 So Adonizedek, king of Jerusalem, sent for Hoham, king of Hebron, Piram, king of Jarmuth, Japhia, king of Lachish, and Debir, king of Eglon,

Jos 10:4 to come to his aid for an attack on Gibeon, since it had concluded peace with Joshua and the Israelites.

Jos 10:5 The five Amorite kings, of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish and Eglon, united all their forces and marched against Gibeon, where they took up siege positions.

Jos 10:6 Thereupon, the men of Gibeon sent an appeal to Joshua in his camp at Gilgal: "Do not abandon your servants. Come up here quickly and save us. Help us, because all the Amorite kings of the mountain country have joined forces against us."

Jos 10:7 So Joshua marched up from Gilgal with his picked troops and the rest of his soldiers.

Jos 10:8 Meanwhile the LORD said to Joshua, "Do not fear them, for I have delivered them into your power. Not one of them will be able to withstand you."

Jos 10:9 And when Joshua made his surprise attack upon them after an all-night march from Gilgal,

Jos 10:10 the LORD threw them into disorder before him. The Israelites inflicted a great slaughter on them at Gibeon and pursued them down the Beth-horon slope, harrassing them as far as Azekah and Makkedah.

Jos 10:11 While they fled before Israel along the descent from Beth-horon, the LORD hurled great stones from the sky above them all the way to Azekah, killing many. More died from these hailstones than the Israelites slew with the sword.

Jos 10:12 On this day, when the LORD delivered up the Amorites to the Israelites, Joshua prayed to the LORD, and said in the presence of Israel: Stand still, O sun, at Gibeon, O moon, in the valley of Aijalon!

Jos 10:13 And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, while the nation took vengeance on its foes. Is this not recorded in the Book of Jashar? The sun halted in the middle of the sky; not for a whole day did it resume its swift course.

Jos 10:14 Never before or since was there a day like this, when the LORD obeyed the voice of a man; for the LORD fought for Israel.

Jos 10:15 (Then Joshua and all Israel returned to the camp at Gilgal.)

Jos 10:16 Meanwhile the five kings who had fled, hid in a cave at Makkedah.

Jos 10:17 When Joshua was told that the five kings had been discovered hiding in a cave at Makkedah,

Jos 10:18 he said, "Roll large stones to the mouth of the cave and post men over it to guard them.

Jos 10:19 But do not remain there yourselves. Pursue your enemies, and harry them in the rear. Do not allow them to escape to their cities, for the LORD, your God, has delivered them into your power."

Jos 10:20 Once Joshua and the Israelites had finally inflicted the last blows in this very great slaughter, and the survivors had escaped from them into the fortified cities,

Jos 10:21 all the army returned safely to Joshua and the camp at Makkedah, no man uttering a sound against the Israelites.
Jos 10:22 Then Joshua said, "Open the mouth of the cave and bring out those five kings to me."
Jos 10:23 Obediently, they brought out to him from the cave the five kings, of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish and Eglon.
Jos 10:24 When they had done so, Joshua summoned all the men of Israel and said to the commanders of the soldiers who had marched with him, "Come forward and put your feet on the necks of these kings." They came forward and put their feet upon their necks.
Jos 10:25 Then Joshua said to them, "Do not be afraid or dismayed, be firm and steadfast. This is what the LORD will do to all the enemies against whom you fight."
Jos 10:26 Thereupon Joshua struck and killed them, and hanged them on five trees, where they remained hanging until evening.
Jos 10:27 At sunset they were removed from the trees at the command of Joshua and cast into the cave where they had hidden; over the mouth of the cave large stones were placed, which remain until this very day.
Jos 10:28 Makkedah, too, Joshua captured and put to the sword at that time. He fulfilled the doom on the city, on its king, and on every person in it, leaving no survivors. Thus he did to the king of Makkedah what he had done to the king of Jericho.
Jos 10:29 Joshua then passed on with all Israel from Makkedah to Libnah, which he attacked.
Jos 10:30 Libnah also, with its king, the LORD delivered into the power of Israel. He put it to the sword with every person there, leaving no survivors. Thus he did to its king what he had done to the king of Jericho.
Jos 10:31 Joshua next passed on with all Israel from Libnah to Lachish, where they set up a camp during the attack.
Jos 10:32 The LORD delivered Lachish into the power of Israel, so that on the second day Joshua captured it and put it to the sword with every person in it, just as he had done to Libnah.
Jos 10:33 At that time Horam, king of Gezer, came up to help Lachish, but Joshua defeated him and his people, leaving him no survivors.
Jos 10:34 From Lachish, Joshua passed on with all Israel to Eglon; encamping near it, they attacked it
Jos 10:35 and captured it the same day, putting it to the sword. He fulfilled the doom that day on every person in it, just as he had done at Lachish.
Jos 10:36 From Eglon, Joshua went up with all Israel to Hebron, which they attacked
Jos 10:37 and captured. They put it to the sword with its king, all its towns, and every person there, leaving no survivors, just as Joshua had done to Eglon. He fulfilled the doom on it and on every person there.
Jos 10:38 Then Joshua and all Israel turned back to Debir and attacked it,
Jos 10:39 capturing it with its king and all its towns. They put them to the sword and fulfilled the doom on every person there, leaving no survivors. Thus was done to Debir and its king what had been done to Hebron, as well as to Libnah and its king.
Jos 10:40 Joshua conquered the entire country; the mountain regions, the Negeb, the foothills, and the mountain slopes, with all their kings. He left no survivors, but fulfilled the doom on all who lived there, just as the LORD, the God of Israel, had commanded.
Jos 10:41 Joshua conquered from Kadesh-barnea to Gaza, and all the land of Goshen to Gibeon.
Jos 10:42 All these kings and their lands Joshua captured in a single campaign, for the LORD, the God of Israel, fought for Israel.
Jos 10:43 Thereupon Joshua with all Israel returned to the camp at Gilgal.
Jos 11:1 When Jabin, king of Hazor, learned of this, he sent a message to Jobab, king of Madon, to the king of Shimron, to the king of Achshaph,
Jos 11:2 and to the northern kings in the mountain regions and in the Arabah near Chinneroth, in the foothills, and in Naphath-dor to the west.
Jos 11:3 These were Canaanites to the east and west, Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites and Jebusites in the mountain regions, and Hivites at the foot of Hermon in the land of Mizpah.
Jos 11:4 They came out with all their troops, an army numerous as the sands on the seashore, and with a multitude of horses and chariots.
Jos 11:5 All these kings joined forces and marched to the waters of Merom, where they encamped together to fight against Israel.
Jos 11:6 The LORD said to Joshua, "Do not fear them, for by this time tomorrow I will stretch them slain before Israel. You must hamstring their horses and burn their chariots."
Jos 11:7 Joshua with his whole army came upon them at the waters of Merom in a surprise attack.
Jos 11:8 The LORD delivered them into the power of the Israelites, who defeated them and pursued them to Greater Sidon, to Misrephoth-maim, and eastward to the valley of Mizpeh. They struck them all down, leaving no survivors.

Jos 11:9 Joshua did to them as the LORD had commanded: he hamstrung their horses and burned their chariots.

Jos 11:10 At that time Joshua, turning back, captured Hazor and slew its king with the sword; for Hazor formerly was the chief of all those kingdoms.

Jos 11:11 He also fulfilled the doom by putting every person there to the sword, till none was left alive. Hazor itself he burned.

Jos 11:12 Joshua thus captured all those kings with their cities and put them to the sword, fulfilling the doom on them, as Moses, the servant of the LORD, had commanded.

Jos 11:13 However, Israel did not destroy by fire any of the cities built on raised sites, except Hazor, which Joshua burned.

Jos 11:14 The Israelites took all the spoil and livestock of these cities as their booty; but the people they put to the sword, until they had exterminated the last of them, leaving none alive.

Jos 11:15 As the LORD had commanded his servant Moses, so Moses commanded Joshua, and Joshua acted accordingly. He left nothing undone that the LORD had commanded Moses should be done.

Jos 11:16 So Joshua captured all this land: the mountain regions, the entire Negeb, all the land of Goshen, the foothills, the Arabah, as well as the mountain regions and foothills of Israel,

Jos 11:17 from Mount Halak that rises toward Seir as far as Baal-gad in the Lebanon valley at the foot of Mount Hermon. All their kings he captured and put to death.

Jos 11:18 Joshua waged war against all these kings for a long time.

Jos 11:19 With the exception of the Hivites who lived in Gibeon, no city made peace with the Israelites; all were taken in battle.

Jos 11:20 For it was the design of the LORD to encourage them to wage war against Israel, that they might be doomed to destruction and thus receive no mercy, but be exterminated, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Jos 11:21 At that time Joshua penetrated the mountain regions and exterminated the Anakim in Hebron, Debir, Anab, the entire mountain region of Judah, and the entire mountain region of Israel. Joshua fulfilled the doom on them and on their cities,

Jos 11:22 so that no Anakim were left in the land of the Israelites. However, some survived in Gaza, in Gath, and in Ashdod.

Jos 11:23 Thus Joshua captured the whole country, just as the LORD had foretold to Moses. Joshua gave it to Israel as their heritage, apportioning it among the tribes. And the land enjoyed peace.

Jos 12:1 The kings of the land east of the Jordan, from the River Arnon to Mount Hermon, including all the eastern section of the Arabah, whom the Israelites conquered and whose lands they occupied, were:

Jos 12:2 First, Sihon, king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon. His domain extended from Aroer, which is on the bank of the Wadi Arnon, to include the wadi itself, and the land northward through half of Gilead to the Wadi Jabbok,

Jos 12:3 as well as the Arabah from the eastern side of the Sea of Chinnereth, as far south as the eastern side of the Salt Sea of the Arabah in the direction of Beth-jeshimoth, to a point under the slopes of Pisgah.

Jos 12:4 Secondly, Og, king of Bashan, a survivor of the Rephaim, who lived at Ashtaroth and Edrei.

Jos 12:5 He ruled over Mount Hermon, Salecah, and all Bashan as far as the boundary of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and over half of Gilead as far as the territory of Sihon, king of Heshbon.

Jos 12:6 After Moses, the servant of the LORD, and the Israelites conquered them, he assigned their land to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, as their property.

Jos 12:7 This is a list of the kings whom Joshua and the Israelites conquered west of the Jordan and whose land, from Baal-gad in the Lebanon valley to Mount Halak which rises toward Seir, Joshua apportioned to the tribes of Israel.

Jos 12:8 It included the mountain regions and foothills, the Arabah, the slopes, the desert, and the Negeb, belonging to the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.

Jos 12:9 They were the kings of Jericho, Ai (which is near Bethel),

Jos 12:10 Jerusalem, Hebron,

Jos 12:11 Jarmuth, Lachish,

Jos 12:12 Eglon, Gezer,

Jos 12:13 Debir, Geder,

Jos 12:14 Hormah, Arad,

Jos 12:15 Libnah, Adullam,

Jos 12:16 Makkedah, Bethel,

Jos 12:17 Tappuah, Hopher,

Jos 12:18 Aphek, Lasharon,

Jos 12:19 Madon, Hazor,

Jos 12:20 Shimron, Achshaph,
Jos 12:21 Taanach, Megiddo,
Jos 12:22 Kedesh, Jokneam (at Carmel),
Jos 12:23 and Dor (in Naphath-dor), the foreign king at Gilgal,
Jos 12:24 and the king of Tirzah: thirty-one kings in all.
Jos 13:1 When Joshua was old and advanced in years, the LORD said to him: "Though now you are old and advanced in years, a very large part of the land still remains to be conquered.
Jos 13:2 This additional land includes all Geshur and all the districts of the Philistines
Jos 13:3 (from the stream adjoining Egypt to the boundary of Ekron in the north is reckoned Canaanite territory, though held by the five lords of the Philistines in Gaza, Ashdod, Ashkelon, Gath and Ekron); also where the Avvim are in the south;
Jos 13:4 all the land of the Canaanites from Mearah of the Sidonians to Aphek, and the boundaries of the Amorites;
Jos 13:5 and the Gebalite territory; and all the Lebanon on the east, from Baal-gad at the foot of Mount Hermon to Labo in the land of Hamath.
Jos 13:6 At the advance of the Israelites I will drive out all the Sidonian inhabitants of the mountain regions between Lebanon and Misrephoth-maim; at least include these areas in the division of the Israelite heritage, just as I have commanded you.
Jos 13:7 Now, therefore, apportion among the nine tribes and the half-tribe of Manasseh the land which is to be their heritage."
Jos 13:8 Now the other half of the tribe of Manasseh as well as the Reubenites and Gadites, had received their heritage which Moses, the servant of the LORD, had given them east of the Jordan:
Jos 13:9 from Aroer on the bank of the Wadi Arnon and the city in the wadi itself, through the tableland of Medeba and Dibon,
Jos 13:10 with the rest of the cities of Sihon, king of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon, to the boundary of the Ammonites;
Jos 13:11 also Gilead and the territory of the Geshurites and Maacathites, all Mount Hermon, and all Bashan as far as Salecah,
Jos 13:12 the entire kingdom in Bashan of Og, a survivor of the Rephaim, who reigned at Ashtaroth and Edrei. Though Moses conquered and occupied these territories,
Jos 13:13 the Israelites did not dislodge the Geshurites and Maacathites, so that Geshur and Maacath survive in the midst of Israel to this day.
Jos 13:14 However, to the tribe of Levi Moses assigned no heritage since, as the LORD had promised them, the LORD, the God of Israel, is their heritage.
Jos 13:15 What Moses gave to the Reubenite clans:
Jos 13:16 Their territory reached from Aroer, on the bank of the Wadi Arnon, and the city in the wadi itself, through the tableland about Medeba,
Jos 13:17 to include Heshbon and all its towns which are on the tableland, Dibon, Bamoth-baal, Beth-baal-meon,
Jos 13:18 Jahaz, Kedemoth, Mephaath,
Jos 13:19 Kiriathaim, Sibmah, Zereth-shahar on the knoll within the valley,
Jos 13:20 Beth-peor, the slopes of Pisgah, Beth-jeshimoth,
Jos 13:21 and the other cities of the tableland and, generally, of the kingdom of Sihon. This Amorite king, who reigned in Heshbon, Moses had killed, with his vassals, the princes of Midian, who were settled in the land: Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur and Reba;
Jos 13:22 and among their slain followers the Israelites put to the sword also the soothsayer Balaam, son of Beor.
Jos 13:23 The boundary of the Reubenites was the bank of the Jordan. These cities and their villages were the heritage of the clans of the Reubenites.
Jos 13:24 What Moses gave to the Gadite clans:
Jos 13:25 Their territory included Jazer, all the cities of Gilead, and half the land of the Ammonites as far as Aroer, toward Rabbah (that is, Jos 13:26 from Heshbon to Ramath-mizpeh and Betonim, and from Mahanaim to the boundary of Lodebar);
Jos 13:27 and in the Jordan valley: Beth-haram, Beth-nimrah, Succoth, Zaphon, the other part of the kingdom of Sihon, king of Heshbon, with the bank of the Jordan to the southeastern tip of the Sea of Chinnereth.
Jos 13:28 These cities and their villages were the heritage of the clans of the Gadites.
Jos 13:29 What Moses gave to the clans of the half-tribe of Manasseh:
Jos 13:30 Their territory included Mahanaim, all of Bashan, the entire kingdom of Og, king of Bashan, and all the villages of Jair, which are sixty cities in Bashan.

Jos 13:31 Half of Gilead, with Ashtaroth and Edrei, once the royal cities of Og in Bashan, fell to the descendants of Machir, son of Manasseh, for half the clans descended from Machir.

Jos 13:32 These are the portions which Moses gave when he was in the plains of Moab, beyond the Jordan east of Jericho.

Jos 13:33 However, Moses gave no heritage to the tribe of Levi, since the LORD himself, the God of Israel, is their heritage, as he promised.

Jos 14:1 Here follow the portions which the Israelites received in the land of Canaan. Eleazar the priest, Joshua, son of Nun, and the heads of families in the tribes of the Israelites determined

Jos 14:2 their heritage by lot, in accordance with the instructions the LORD had given through Moses concerning the remaining nine and a half tribes.

Jos 14:3 For to two and a half tribes Moses had already given a heritage beyond the Jordan; and though the Levites were given no heritage among the tribes,

Jos 14:4 the descendants of Joseph formed two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim. The Levites themselves received no share of the land except cities to live in, with their pasture lands for the cattle and flocks.

Jos 14:5 Thus, in apportioning the land, did the Israelites carry out the instructions of the LORD to Moses.

Jos 14:6 When the Judahites came up to Joshua in Gilgal, the Kenizzite Caleb, son of Jephunneh, said to him: "You know what the LORD said to the man of God, Moses, about you and me in Kadesh-barnea.

Jos 14:7 I was forty years old when the servant of the LORD, Moses, sent me from Kadesh-barnea to reconnoiter the land; and I brought back to him a conscientious report.

Jos 14:8 My fellow scouts who went up with me discouraged the people, but I was completely loyal to the LORD, my God.

Jos 14:9 On that occasion Moses swore this oath, 'The land where you have set foot shall become your heritage and that of your descendants forever, because you have been completely loyal to the LORD, my God.'

Jos 14:10 Now, as he promised, the LORD has preserved me while Israel was journeying through the desert, for the forty-five years since the LORD spoke thus to Moses; and although I am now eighty-five years old,

Jos 14:11 I am still as strong today as I was the day Moses sent me forth, with no less vigor whether for war or for ordinary tasks.

Jos 14:12 Give me, therefore, this mountain region which the LORD promised me that day, as you yourself heard. True, the Anakim are there, with large fortified cities, but if the LORD is with me I shall be able to drive them out, as the LORD promised."

Jos 14:13 Joshua blessed Caleb, son of Jephunneh, and gave him Hebron as his heritage.

Jos 14:14 Therefore Hebron remains the heritage of the Kenizzite Caleb, son of Jephunneh, to the present day, because he was completely loyal to the LORD, the God of Israel.

Jos 14:15 Hebron was formerly called Kiriath-arba, for Arba, the greatest among the Anakim. And the land enjoyed peace.

Jos 15:1 The lot for the clans of the Judahite tribe fell in the extreme south toward the boundary of Edom, the desert of Zin in the Negeb.

Jos 15:2 The boundary there ran from the bay that forms the southern end of the Salt Sea,

Jos 15:3 southward below the pass of Akrabbim, across through Zin, up to a point south of Kadesh-barnea, across to Hezron, and up to Addar; from there, looping around Karka,

Jos 15:4 it crossed to Azmon and then joined the Wadi of Egypt before coming out at the sea. (This is your southern boundary.)

Jos 15:5 The eastern boundary was the Salt Sea as far as the mouth of the Jordan.

Jos 15:6 The northern boundary climbed from the bay where the Jordan meets the sea, up to Beth-hoglah, and ran north of Beth-arabah, up to Eben-Bohan-ben-Reuben.

Jos 15:7 Thence it climbed to Debir, north of the vale of Achor, in the direction of the Gilgal that faces the pass of Adummim, on the south side of the wadi; from there it crossed to the waters of En-shemesh and emerged at En-rogel.

Jos 15:8 Climbing again to the Valley of Ben-hinnom on the southern flank of the Jebusites (that is, Jerusalem), the boundary rose to the top of the mountain at the northern end of the Valley of Rephaim, which bounds the Valley of Hinnom on the west.

Jos 15:9 From the top of the mountain it ran to the fountain of waters of Nephtoah, extended to the cities of Mount Ephron, and continued to Baalah, or Kiriath-jearim.

Jos 15:10 From Baalah the boundary curved westward to Mount Seir and passed north of the ridge of Mount Jearim (that is, Chesalon); thence it descended to Beth-shemesh, and ran across to Timnah.

Jos 15:11 It then extended along the northern flank of Ekron, continued through Shikkeron, and across to Mount Baalah, thence to include Jabneel, before it came out at the sea.

Jos 15:12 The western boundary was the Great Sea and its coast. This was the complete boundary of the clans of the Judahites.

Jos 15:13 As the LORD had commanded, Joshua gave Caleb, son of Jephunneh, a portion among the Judahites, namely, Kiriath-arba (Arba was the father of Anak), that is, Hebron.

Jos 15:14 And Caleb drove out from there the three Anakim, the descendants of Anak: Sheshai, Ahiman and Talmi.

Jos 15:15 From there he marched up against the inhabitants of Debir, which was formerly called Kiriath-sepher.

Jos 15:16 Caleb said, "I will give my daughter Achsah in marriage to the one who attacks Kiriath-sepher and captures it."

Jos 15:17 Othniel, son of Caleb's brother Kenaz, captured it, and so Caleb gave him his daughter Achsah in marriage.

Jos 15:18 On the day of her marriage to Othniel, she induced him to ask her father for some land. Then, as she alighted from the ass, Caleb asked her, "What is troubling you?"

Jos 15:19 She answered, "Give me an additional gift! Since you have assigned to me land in the Negeb, give me also pools of water." So he gave her the upper and the lower pools.

Jos 15:20 This is the heritage of the clans of the tribe of Judahites:

Jos 15:21 The cities of the tribe of the Judahites in the extreme southern district toward Edom were: Kabzeel, Eder, Jagur,

Jos 15:22 Kinah, Dimonah, Adadah,

Jos 15:23 Kedesh, Hazor and Ithnan;

Jos 15:24 Ziph, Telem, Bealoth,

Jos 15:25 Hazor-hadattah, and Kerioth-hezron (that is, Hazor);

Jos 15:26 Amam, Shema, Moladah,

Jos 15:27 Hazar-gaddah, Heshmon, Beth-pelet,

Jos 15:28 Hazar-shual, Beer-sheba and Biziothiah;

Jos 15:29 Baalah, Iim, Ezem,

Jos 15:30 Eltolad, Chesil, Hormah,

Jos 15:31 Ziklag, Madmannah, Sansannah,

Jos 15:32 Lebaoth, Shilhim and En-rimmon; a total of twenty-nine cities with their villages.

Jos 15:33 In the foothills: Eshtaol, Zorah, Ashnah,

Jos 15:34 Zanoah, Engannim, Tappuah, Enam,

Jos 15:35 Jarmuth, Adullam, Socoh, Azekah,

Jos 15:36 Shaaraim, Adithaim, Gederah, and Gederothaim; fourteen cities and their villages.

Jos 15:37 Zenan, Hadashah, Migdal-gad,

Jos 15:38 Dilean, Mizpeh, Joktheel,

Jos 15:39 Lachish, Bozkath, Eglon,

Jos 15:40 Cabbon, Lahmam, Chitlish,

Jos 15:41 Gederoth, Beth-dagon, Naamah and Makkedah; sixteen cities and their villages.

Jos 15:42 Libnah, Ether, Ashan,

Jos 15:43 Iphtah, Ashnah, Nezib,

Jos 15:44 Keilah, Achzib and Mareshah; nine cities and their villages.

Jos 15:45 Ekron and its towns and villages;

Jos 15:46 from Ekron to the sea, all the towns that lie alongside Ashdod, and their villages;

Jos 15:47 Ashdod and its towns and villages; Gaza and its towns and villages, as far as the Wadi of Egypt and the coast of the Great Sea.

Jos 15:48 In the mountain regions: Shamir, Jattir, Socoh,

Jos 15:49 Dannah, Kiriath-sannah (that is, Debir),

Jos 15:50 Anab, Eshtemoh, Anim,

Jos 15:51 Goshen, Holon and Giloh; eleven cities and their villages.

Jos 15:52 Arab, Dumah, Eshan,

Jos 15:53 Janim, Beth-tappuah, Aphekah,

Jos 15:54 Humtah, Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), and Zior; nine cities and their villages.

Jos 15:55 Maon, Carmel, Ziph, Juttah,

Jos 15:56 Jezreel, Jokdeam, Zanoah,

Jos 15:57 Kain, Gibbeah and Timnah; ten cities and their villages.

Jos 15:58 Halhul, Beth-zur, Gedor,

Jos 15:59 Maarath, Beth-anoth and Eltekon; six cities and their villages. Tekoa, Ephrathah (that is, Bethlehem), Peor, Etam, Kulom, Tatam, Zores, Karim, Gallim, Bether and Manoko; eleven cities and their villages.

Jos 15:60 Kiriath-baal (that is, Kiriath-jearim) and Rabbah; two cities and their villages.

Jos 15:61 In the desert: Beth-arabah, Middin, Secacah,

Jos 15:62 Nibshan, Ir-hamelah and En-gedi; six cities and their villages.

Jos 15:63 (But the Jebusites who lived in Jerusalem the Judahites could not drive out; so the Jebusites dwell in Jerusalem beside the Judahites to the present day.)

Jos 16:1 The lot that fell to the Josephites extended from the Jordan at Jericho to the waters of Jericho east of the desert; then the boundary went up from Jericho to the heights at Bethel.

Jos 16:2 Leaving Bethel for Luz, it crossed the ridge to the border of the Archites at Ataroth,

Jos 16:3 and descended westward to the border of the Japhletites, to that of the Lower Beth-horon, and to Gezer, ending thence at the sea.

Jos 16:4 Within the heritage of Manasseh and Ephraim, sons of Joseph,

Jos 16:5 the dividing line for the heritage of the clans of the Ephraimites ran from east of Ataroth-addar to Upper Bethhoron

Jos 16:6 and thence to the sea. From Michmethath on the north, their boundary curved eastward around Taanath-shiloh, and continued east of it to Janoah;

Jos 16:7 from there it descended to Ataroth and Naarah, and skirting Jericho, it ended at the Jordan.

Jos 16:8 From Tappuah the boundary ran westward to the Wadi Kanah and ended at the sea. This was the heritage of the clans of the Ephraimites,

Jos 16:9 including the villages that belonged to each city set aside for the Ephraimites within the territory of the Manassehites.

Jos 16:10 But they did not drive out the Canaanites living in Gezer, who live on within Ephraim to the present day, though they have been impressed as laborers.

Jos 17:1 Now as for the lot that fell to the tribe of Manasseh as the first-born of Joseph: since his eldest son, Machir, the father of Gilead, was a warrior, who had already obtained Gilead and Bashan,

Jos 17:2 the allotment was now made to the other descendants of Manasseh, the clans of Abiezer, Helek, Asriel, Shechem, Hephher and Shemida, the other male children of Manasseh, son of Joseph.

Jos 17:3 Furthermore, Zelophehad, son of Hephher, son of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh, had had no sons, but only daughters, whose names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.

Jos 17:4 These presented themselves to Eleazar the priest, to Joshua, son of Nun, and to the princes, saying, "The LORD commanded Moses to give us a heritage among our kinsmen." So in obedience to the command of the LORD a heritage was given to each of them among their father's kinsmen.

Jos 17:5 Thus ten shares fell to Manasseh apart from the land of Gilead and Bashan beyond the Jordan,

Jos 17:6 since these female descendants of Manasseh received each a portion among his sons. The land of Gilead fell to the rest of the Manassehites.

Jos 17:7 Manasseh bordered on Asher. From Michmethath near Shechem, another boundary ran southward to include the natives of En-Tappuah, Jos 17:8 because the district of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, although Tappuah itself was an Ephraimite city on the border of Manasseh.

Jos 17:9 This same boundary continued down to the Wadi Kanah. The cities that belonged to Ephraim from among the cities in Manasseh were those to the south of that wadi; thus the territory of Manasseh ran north of the wadi and ended at the sea.

Jos 17:10 The land on the south belonged to Ephraim and that on the north to Manasseh; with the sea as their common boundary, they reached Asher on the north and Issachar on the east.

Jos 17:11 Moreover, in Issachar and in Asher Manasseh was awarded Beth-shean and its towns, Ibleam and its towns, Dor and its towns and the natives there, Endor and its towns and natives, Taanach and its towns and natives, and Megiddo and its towns and natives (the third is Naphath-dor).

Jos 17:12 Since the Manassehites could not conquer these cities, the Canaanites persisted in this region.

Jos 17:13 When the Israelites grew stronger they impressed the Canaanites as laborers, but they did not drive them out.

Jos 17:14 The descendants of Joseph said to Joshua, "Why have you given us only one lot and one share as our heritage? Our people are too many, because of the extent to which the LORD has blessed us."

Jos 17:15 Joshua answered them, "If you are too many, go up to the forest and clear out a place for yourselves there in the land of the Perizzites and Rephaim, since the mountain regions of Ephraim are so narrow."

Jos 17:16 For the Josephites said, "Our mountain regions are not enough for us; on the other hand, the Canaanites living in the valley region all have iron chariots, in particular those in Beth-shean and its towns, and those in the valley of Jezreel."

Jos 17:17 Joshua therefore said to Ephraim and Manasseh, the house of Joseph, "You are a numerous people and very strong. You shall have not merely one share, Jos 17:18 for the mountain region which is now forest shall be yours when you clear it. Its adjacent land shall also be yours if, despite their strength and iron chariots, you drive out the Canaanites."

Jos 18:1 After they had subdued the land, the whole community of the Israelites assembled at Shiloh, where they set up the meeting tent.

Jos 18:2 Seven tribes among the Israelites had not yet received their heritage.

Jos 18:3 Joshua therefore said to the Israelites, "How much longer will you put off taking steps to possess the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given you?"

Jos 18:4 Choose three men from each of your tribes; I will commission them to begin a survey of the land, which they shall describe for purposes of inheritance. When they return to me

Jos 18:5 you shall divide it into seven parts. Judah is to retain its territory in the south, and the house of Joseph its territory in the north.

Jos 18:6 You shall bring here to me the description of the land in seven sections. I will then cast lots for you here before the LORD, our God.

Jos 18:7 For the Levites have no share among you, because the priesthood of the LORD is their heritage; while Gad, Reuben, and the half-tribe of Manasseh have already received the heritage east of the Jordan which Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave them."

Jos 18:8 When those who were to map out the land were ready for the journey, Joshua instructed them to survey the land, prepare a description of it, and return to him; then he would cast lots for them there before the LORD in Shiloh.

Jos 18:9 So they went through the land, listed its cities in writing in seven sections, and returned to Joshua in the camp at Shiloh.

Jos 18:10 Joshua then divided up the land for the Israelites into their separate shares, casting lots for them before the LORD in Shiloh.

Jos 18:11 One lot fell to the clans of the tribe of Benjaminites. The territory allotted them lay between the descendants of Judah and those of Joseph.

Jos 18:12 Their northern boundary began at the Jordan and went over the northern flank of Jericho, up westward into the mountains, till it reached the desert of Beth-aven.

Jos 18:13 From there it crossed over to the southern flank of Luz (that is, Bethel). Then it ran down to Ataroth-addar, on the mountaintop south of Lower Beth-horon.

Jos 18:14 For the western border, the boundary line swung south from the mountaintop opposite Bethhoron till it reached Kiriath-baal (that is, Kiriath-jearim), which city belonged to the Judahites. This was the western boundary.

Jos 18:15 The southern boundary began at the limits of Kiriath-jearim and projected to the spring at Nephtoah.

Jos 18:16 It went down to the edge of the mountain on the north of the Valley of Rephaim, where it faces the Valley of Ben-hinnom; and continuing down the Valley of Hinnom along the southern flank of the Jebusites, reached En-rogel.

Jos 18:17 Inclining to the north, it extended to En-shemesh, and thence to Geliloth, opposite the pass of Adummim. Then it dropped to Eben-Bohan-ben-Reuben, Jos 18:18 across the northern flank of the Arabah overlook, down into the Arabah.

Jos 18:19 From there the boundary continued across the northern flank of Beth-hoglah and extended to the northern tip of the Salt Sea, at the southern end of the Jordan. This was the southern boundary.

Jos 18:20 The Jordan bounded it on the east. This was how the heritage of the clans of the Benjaminites was bounded on all sides.

Jos 18:21 Now the cities belonging to the clans of the tribe of the Benjaminites were: Jericho, Beth-hoglah, Emek-keziz,

Jos 18:22 Beth-arabah, Zemaraim, Bethel,

Jos 18:23 Avvim, Parah, Ophrah,

Jos 18:24 Chephar-ammoni, Ophni and Geba; twelve cities and their villages.

Jos 18:25 Also Gibeon, Ramah, Beeroth,

Jos 18:26 Mizpeh, Chephirah, Mozah,

Jos 18:27 Rekem, Irpeel, Taralah,

Jos 18:28 Zela, Haeleph, the Jebusite city (that is, Jerusalem), Gibeah and Kiriath; fourteen cities and their villages. This was the heritage of the clans of Benjaminites.

Jos 19:1 The second lot fell to Simeon. The heritage of the clans of the tribe of Simeonites lay within that of the Judahites.

Jos 19:2 For their heritage they received Beer-sheba, Shema, Moladah,

Jos 19:3 Hazar-shual, Balah, Ezem,

Jos 19:4 Eltolad, Bethul, Hormah,

Jos 19:5 Ziklag, Bethmar-caboth, Hazar-susah,

Jos 19:6 Beth-lebaoth and Sharuhem; thirteen cities and their villages.

Jos 19:7 Also En-rimmon, Ether and Ashan; four cities and their villages,

Jos 19:8 besides all the villages around these cities as far as Baalath-beer (that is, Ramoth-negeb). This was the heritage of the clans of the tribe of the Simeonites.

Jos 19:9 This heritage of the Simeonites was within the confines of the Judahites; for since the portion of the latter was too large for them, the Simeonites obtained their heritage within it.

Jos 19:10 The third lot fell to the clans of the Zebulunites. The limit of their heritage was at Sarid.

Jos 19:11 Their boundary went up west... and through Mareal, reaching Dabbesheth and the wadi that is near Jokneam.

Jos 19:12 From Sarid eastward it ran to the district of Chisloth-tabor, on to Daberath, and up to Japhia.

Jos 19:13 From there it continued eastward to Gath-hepher and to Eth-kazin, extended to Rimmon, and turned to Neah.

Jos 19:14 Skirting north of Hannathon, the boundary ended at the valley of Iphtahel.

Jos 19:15 Thus, with Kattath, Nahalal, Shimron, Idalah and Bethlehem, there were twelve cities and their villages

Jos 19:16 to comprise the heritage of the clans of the Zebulunites.

Jos 19:17 The fourth lot fell to Issachar. The territory of the clans of the Issacharites

Jos 19:18 included Jezreel, Chesulloth, Shunem,

Jos 19:19 Hapharaim, Shion, Anaharath,

Jos 19:20 Rabbith, Kishion, Ebez,

Jos 19:21 Remeth, En-gannim, En-haddah and Beth-pazzez.

Jos 19:22 The boundary reached Tabor, Shahazumah and Beth-shemesh, ending at the Jordan. These sixteen cities and their villages

Jos 19:23 were the heritage of the clans of the Issacharites.

Jos 19:24 The fifth lot fell to the clans of the tribe of the Asherites.

Jos 19:25 Their territory included Helkath, Hali, Beten, Achshaph,

Jos 19:26 Allammelech, Amad and Mishal, and reached Carmel on the west, and Shihor-libnath.

Jos 19:27 In the other direction, it ran eastward of Beth-dagon, reached Zebulun and the valley of Iphtahel; then north of Beth-emek and Neiel, it extended to Cabul, Jos 19:28 Mishal, Abdon, Rehob, Hammon and Kanah, near Greater Sidon.

Jos 19:29 Then the boundary turned back to Ramah and to the fortress city of Tyre; thence it cut back to Hosah and ended at the sea. Thus, with Mahalab, Achzib,

Jos 19:30 Ummah, Acco, Aphek and Rehob, there were twenty-two cities and their villages

Jos 19:31 to comprise the heritage of the clans of the tribe of the Asherites.

Jos 19:32 The sixth lot fell to the Naphtalites. The boundary of the clans of the Naphtalites

Jos 19:33 extended from Heleph, from the oak at Zaananim to Lakkum, including Adami-nekeb and Jabneel, and ended at the Jordan.

Jos 19:34 In the opposite direction, westerly, it ran through Aznoth-tabor and from there extended to Hukkok; it touched Zebulun on the south, Asher on the west, and the Jordan on the east.

Jos 19:35 The fortified cities were Ziddim, Zer, Hammath, Rakkath, Chinnereth,

Jos 19:36 Adamah, Ramah, Hazor,

Jos 19:37 Kedesh, Edrei, En-hazor,

Jos 19:38 Yiron, Migdal-el, Horem, Beth-anath and Beth-shemesh; nineteen cities and their villages,

Jos 19:39 to comprise the heritage of the clans of the tribe of the Naphtalites.

Jos 19:40 The seventh lot fell to the clans of the tribe of Danites.

Jos 19:41 Their heritage was the territory of Zorah, Eshtaol, Ir-shemesh,

Jos 19:42 Shaalabbin, Aijalon, Ithlah,

Jos 19:43 Elon, Timnah, Ekron,

Jos 19:44 Eltekoh, Gibbethon, Baalath,

Jos 19:45 Jehud, Bene-berak, Gath-rimmon,

Jos 19:46 Me-jarkon and Rakkon, with the coast at Joppa.

Jos 19:47 But the territory of the Danites was too small for them; so the Danites marched up and attacked Leshem, which they captured and put to the sword. Once they had taken possession of Leshem, they renamed the settlement after their ancestor Dan.

Jos 19:48 These cities and their villages were the heritage of the clans of the tribe of the Danites.

Jos 19:49 When the last of them had received the portions of the land they were to inherit, the Israelites assigned a heritage in their midst to Joshua, son of Nun.

Jos 19:50 In obedience to the command of the LORD, they gave him the city which he requested, Timnah-serah in the mountain region of Ephraim. He rebuilt the city and made it his home.

Jos 19:51 These are the final portions into which Eleazar the priest, Joshua, son of Nun, and the heads of families in the tribes of the Israelites divided the land by lot in the presence of the LORD, at the door of the meeting tent in Shiloh.

Jos 20:1 The LORD said to Joshua:

Jos 20:2 "Tell the Israelites to designate the cities of which I spoke to them through Moses,
Jos 20:3 to which one guilty of accidental and unintended homicide may flee for asylum from the avenger of blood.
Jos 20:4 To one of these cities the killer shall flee, and standing at the entrance of the city gate, he shall plead his case before the elders, who must receive him and assign him a place in which to live among them.
Jos 20:5 Though the avenger of blood pursues him, they are not to deliver up the homicide who slew his fellow man unintentionally and not out of previous hatred.
Jos 20:6 Once he has stood judgment before the community, he shall live on in that city till the death of the high priest who is in office at the time. Then the killer may go back home to his own city from which he fled."
Jos 20:7 So they set apart Kedesh in Galilee in the mountain region of Naphtali, Shechem in the mountain region of Ephraim, and Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron) in the mountain region of Judah.
Jos 20:8 And beyond the Jordan east of Jericho they designated Bezer on the open tableland in the tribe of Reuben, Ramoth in Gilead in the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan in the tribe of Manasseh.
Jos 20:9 These were the designated cities to which any Israelite or stranger living among them who had killed a person accidentally might flee to escape death at the hand of the avenger of blood, until he could appear before the community.
Jos 21:1 The heads of the Levite families came up to Eleazar the priest, to Joshua, son of Nun, and to the heads of families of the other tribes of the Israelites
Jos 21:2 at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, and said to them, "The LORD commanded, through Moses, that cities be given us to dwell in, with pasture lands for our livestock."
Jos 21:3 Out of their own heritage, in obedience to this command of the LORD, the Israelites gave the Levites the following cities with their pasture lands.
Jos 21:4 When the first lot among the Levites fell to the clans of the Kohathites, the descendants of Aaron the priest obtained thirteen cities by lot from the tribes of Judah, Simeon and Benjamin.
Jos 21:5 The rest of the Kohathites obtained ten cities by lot from the clans of the tribe of Ephraim, from the tribe of Dan, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh.
Jos 21:6 The Gershonites obtained thirteen cities by lot from the clans of the tribe of Issachar, from the tribe of Asher, from the tribe of Naphtali, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh.
Jos 21:7 The clans of the Merarites obtained twelve cities from the tribes of Reuben, Gad and Zebulun.
Jos 21:8 These cities with their pasture lands the Israelites allotted to the Levites in obedience to the LORD'S command through Moses.
Jos 21:9 From the tribes of the Judahites and Simeonites they designated the following cities,
Jos 21:10 and assigned them to the descendants of Aaron in the Kohathite clan of the Levites, since the first lot fell to them:
Jos 21:11 first, Kiriath-arba (Arba was the father of Anak), that is, Hebron, in the mountain region of Judah, with the adjacent pasture lands,
Jos 21:12 although the open country and villages belonging to the city had been given to Caleb, son of Jephunneh, as his property.
Jos 21:13 Thus to the descendants of Aaron the priest were given the city of asylum for homicides at Hebron, with its pasture lands; also, Libnah with its pasture lands,
Jos 21:14 Jattir with its pasture lands, Eshtemoa with its pasture lands,
Jos 21:15 Holon with its pasture lands, Debir with its pasture lands,
Jos 21:16 Ashan with its pasture lands, Juttah with its pasture lands, and Beth-shemesh with its pasture lands: nine cities from the two tribes mentioned.
Jos 21:17 From the tribe of Benjamin they obtained the four cities of Gibeon with its pasture lands, Geba with its pasture lands,
Jos 21:18 Anathoth with its pasture lands, and Almon with its pasture lands.
Jos 21:19 These cities which with their pasture lands belonged to the priestly descendants of Aaron, were thirteen in all.
Jos 21:20 The rest of the Kohathite clans among the Levites obtained by lot, from the tribe of Ephraim, four cities.
Jos 21:21 They were assigned, with its pasture lands, the city of asylum for homicides at Shechem in the mountain region of Ephraim; also Gezer with its pasture lands,
Jos 21:22 Kibzaim with its pasture lands, and Beth-horon with its pasture lands.
Jos 21:23 From the tribe of Dan they obtained the four cities of Elteke with its pasture lands, Gibbethon with its pasture lands,
Jos 21:24 Aijalon with its pasture lands, and Gath-rimmon with its pasture lands;
Jos 21:25 and from the half-tribe of Manasseh the two cities of Taanach with its pasture lands and Ibleam with its pasture lands.

Jos 21:26 These cities which with their pasture lands belonged to the rest of the Kohathite clans were ten in all.

Jos 21:27 The Gershonite clan of the Levites received from the half-tribe of Manasseh two cities: the city of asylum for homicides at Golan, with its pasture lands; and also Beth-ashtaroth with its pasture lands.

Jos 21:28 From the tribe of Issachar they obtained the four cities of Kishion with its pasture lands, Daberath with its pasture lands,

Jos 21:29 Jarmuth with its pasture lands, and En-gannim with its pasture lands; from the tribe of Asher,

Jos 21:30 the four cities of Mishal with its pasture lands, Abdon with its pasture lands,

Jos 21:31 Helkath with its pasture lands, and Rehob with its pasture lands;

Jos 21:32 and from the tribe of Naphtali, three cities: the city of asylum for homicides at Kedesh in Galilee, with its pasture lands; also Hammath with its pasture lands, and Rakkath with its pasture lands.

Jos 21:33 These cities which with their pasture lands belonged to the Gershonite clans were thirteen in all.

Jos 21:34 The Merarite clans, the last of the Levites, received from the tribe of Zebulun the four cities of Jokneam with its pasture lands, Kartah with its pasture lands,

Jos 21:35 Rimmon with its pasture lands, and Nahalal with its pasture lands;

Jos 21:36 also, across the Jordan, from the tribe of Reuben, four cities: the city of asylum for homicides at Bezer with its pasture lands, Jahaz with its pasture lands,

Jos 21:37 Kedemoth with its pasture lands, and Mephaath with its pasture lands;

Jos 21:38 and from the tribe of Gad a total of four cities: the city of asylum for homicides at Ramoth in Gilead with its pasture lands, also Mahanaim with its pasture lands,

Jos 21:39 Heshbon with its pasture lands, and Jazer with its pasture lands.

Jos 21:40 The cities which were allotted to the Merarite clans, the last of the Levites, were therefore twelve in all.

Jos 21:41 Thus the total number of cities within the territory of the Israelites which, with their pasture lands, belonged to the Levites, was forty-eight.

Jos 21:42 With each and every one of these cities went the pasture lands round about it.

Jos 21:43 And so the LORD gave Israel all the land he had sworn to their fathers he would give them. Once they had conquered and occupied it,

Jos 21:44 the LORD gave them peace on every side, just as he had promised their fathers. Not one of their enemies could withstand them; the LORD brought all their enemies under their power.

Jos 21:45 Not a single promise that the LORD made to the house of Israel was broken; every one was fulfilled.

Jos 22:1 At that time Joshua summoned the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh

Jos 22:2 and said to them: "You have done all that Moses, the servant of the LORD, commanded you, and have obeyed every command I gave you.

Jos 22:3 For many years now you have not once abandoned your kinsmen, but have faithfully carried out the commands of the LORD, your God.

Jos 22:4 Since, therefore, the LORD, your God, has settled your kinsmen as he promised them, you may now return to your tents beyond the Jordan; to your own land, which Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave you.

Jos 22:5 But be very careful to observe the precept and law which Moses, the servant of the LORD, enjoined upon you: love the LORD, your God; follow him faithfully; keep his commandments; remain loyal to him; and serve him with your whole heart and soul."

Jos 22:6 Joshua then blessed them and sent them away to their own tents.

Jos 22:7 (For, to half the tribe of Manasseh Moses had assigned land in Bashan; and to the other half Joshua had given a portion along with their kinsmen west of the Jordan.) What Joshua said to them when he sent them off to their tents with his blessing was,

Jos 22:8 "Now that you are returning to your own tents with great wealth, with very numerous livestock, with silver, gold, bronze and iron, and with a very large supply of clothing, divide these spoils of your enemies with your kinsmen there."

Jos 22:9 So the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh left the other Israelites at Shiloh in the land of Canaan and returned to the land of Gilead, their own property, which they had received according to the LORD'S command through Moses.

Jos 22:10 When the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh came to the region of the Jordan in the land of Canaan, they built there at the Jordan a conspicuously large altar.

Jos 22:11 The other Israelites heard the report that the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh had built an altar in the region of the Jordan facing the land of Canaan, across from them,

Jos 22:12 and therefore they assembled their whole community at Shiloh to declare war on them.

Jos 22:13 First, however, they sent to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead an embassy consisting of Phinehas, son of Eleazar the priest,

Jos 22:14 and ten princes, one from every tribe of Israel, each one being both prince and military leader of his ancestral house.

Jos 22:15 When these came to the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead, they said to them:

Jos 22:16 "The whole community of the LORD sends this message: What act of treachery is this you have committed against the God of Israel? You have seceded from the LORD this day, and rebelled against him by building an altar of your own!

Jos 22:17 For the sin of Peor, a plague came upon the community of the LORD.

Jos 22:18 We are still not free of that; must you now add to it? You are rebelling against the LORD today and by tomorrow he will be angry with the whole community of Israel!

Jos 22:19 If you consider the land you now possess unclean, cross over to the land the LORD possesses, where the Dwelling of the LORD stands, and share that with us. But do not rebel against the LORD, nor involve us in rebellion, by building an altar of your own in addition to the altar of the LORD, our God.

Jos 22:20 When Achan, son of Zerah, violated the ban, did not wrath fall upon the entire community of Israel? Though he was but a single man, he did not perish alone for his guilt!"

Jos 22:21 The Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh replied to the military leaders of the Israelites: "The LORD is the God of gods.

Jos 22:22 The LORD, the God of gods, knows and Israel shall know. If now we have acted out of rebellion or treachery against the LORD, our God,

Jos 22:23 and if we have built an altar of our own to secede from the LORD, or to offer holocausts, grain offerings or peace offerings upon it, the LORD himself will exact the penalty.

Jos 22:24 We did it rather out of our anxious concern lest in the future your children should say to our children: 'What have you to do with the LORD, the God of Israel?'

Jos 22:25 For the LORD has placed the Jordan as a boundary between you and us. You descendants of Reuben and Gad have no share in the LORD.' Thus your children would prevent ours from revering the LORD.

Jos 22:26 So we decided to guard our interests by building this altar of our own: not for holocausts or for sacrifices,

Jos 22:27 but as evidence for you on behalf of ourselves and our descendants, that we have the right to worship the LORD in his presence with our holocausts, sacrifices, and peace offerings. Now in the future your children cannot say to our children, 'You have no share in the LORD.'

Jos 22:28 Our thought was, that if in the future they should speak thus to us or to our descendants, we could answer: 'Look at the model of the altar of the LORD which our fathers made, not for holocausts or for sacrifices, but to witness between you and us.'

Jos 22:29 Far be it from us to rebel against the LORD or to secede now from the LORD by building an altar for holocaust, grain offering, or sacrifice in addition to the altar of the LORD, our God, which stands before his Dwelling."

Jos 22:30 When Phinehas the priest and the princes of the community, the military leaders of the Israelites, heard what the Reubenites, the Gadites and the Manassehites had to say, they were satisfied.

Jos 22:31 Phinehas, son of Eleazar the priest, said to the Reubenites, the Gadites and the Manassehites, "Now we know that the LORD is with us. Since you have not committed this act of treachery against the LORD, you have kept the Israelites free from punishment by the LORD."

Jos 22:32 Phinehas, son of Eleazar the priest, and the princes returned from the Reubenites and the Gadites in the land of Gilead to the Israelites in the land of Canaan, and reported the matter to them.

Jos 22:33 The report satisfied the Israelites, who blessed God and decided against declaring war on the Reubenites and Gadites or ravaging the land they occupied.

Jos 22:34 The Reubenites and the Gadites gave the altar its name as a witness among them that the LORD is God.

Jos 23:1 Many years later, after the LORD had given the Israelites rest from all their enemies round about them, and when Joshua was old and advanced in years,

Jos 23:2 he summoned all Israel (including their elders, leaders, judges and officers) and said to them: "I am old and advanced in years.

Jos 23:3 You have seen all that the LORD, your God, has done for you against all these nations; for it has been the LORD, your God, himself who fought for you.

Jos 23:4 Bear in mind that I have apportioned among your tribes as their heritage the nations that survive (as well as those I destroyed) between the Jordan and the Great Sea in the west.

Jos 23:5 The LORD, your God, will drive them out and dislodge them at your approach, so that you will take possession of their land as the LORD, your God, promised you.

Jos 23:6 Therefore strive hard to observe and carry out all that is written in the book of the law of Moses, not straying from it in any way,

Jos 23:7 or mingling with these nations while they survive among you. You must not invoke their gods, or swear by them, or serve them, or worship them,

Jos 23:8 but you must remain loyal to the LORD, your God, as you have been to this day.

Jos 23:9 At your approach the LORD has driven out large and strong nations, and to this day no one has withstood you.

Jos 23:10 One of you puts to flight a thousand, because it is the LORD, your God, himself who fights for you, as he promised you.

Jos 23:11 Take great care, however, to love the LORD, your God.

Jos 23:12 For if you ever abandon him and ally yourselves with the remnant of these nations while they survive among you, by intermarrying and intermingling with them,

Jos 23:13 know for certain that the LORD, your God, will no longer drive these nations out of your way. Instead they will be a snare and a trap for you, a scourge for your sides and thorns for your eyes, until you perish from this good land which the LORD, your God, has given you.

Jos 23:14 "Today, as you see, I am going the way of all men. So now acknowledge with your whole heart and soul that not one of all the promises the LORD, your God, made to you has remained unfulfilled. Every promise has been fulfilled for you, with not one single exception.

Jos 23:15 But just as every promise the LORD, your God, made to you has been fulfilled for you, so will he fulfill every threat, even so far as to exterminate you from this good land which the LORD, your God, has given you.

Jos 23:16 If you transgress the covenant of the LORD, your God, which he enjoined on you, serve other gods and worship them, the anger of the LORD will flare up against you and you will quickly perish from the good land which he has given you."

Jos 24:1 Joshua gathered together all the tribes of Israel at Shechem, summoning their elders, their leaders, their judges and their officers. When they stood in ranks before God,

Jos 24:2 Joshua addressed all the people: "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: In times past your fathers, down to Terah, father of Abraham and Nahor, dwelt beyond the River and served other gods.

Jos 24:3 But I brought your father Abraham from the region beyond the River and led him through the entire land of Canaan. I made his descendants numerous, and gave him Isaac.

Jos 24:4 To Isaac I gave Jacob and Esau. To Esau I assigned the mountain region of Seir in which to settle, while Jacob and his children went down to Egypt.

Jos 24:5 "Then I sent Moses and Aaron, and smote Egypt with the prodigies which I wrought in her midst.

Jos 24:6 Afterward I led you out of Egypt, and when you reached the sea, the Egyptians pursued your fathers to the Red Sea with chariots and horsemen.

Jos 24:7 Because they cried out to the LORD, he put darkness between your people and the Egyptians, upon whom he brought the sea so that it engulfed them. After you witnessed what I did to Egypt, and dwelt a long time in the desert,

Jos 24:8 I brought you into the land of the Amorites who lived east of the Jordan. They fought against you, but I delivered them into your power. You took possession of their land, and I destroyed them (the two kings of the Amorites) before you.

Jos 24:9 Then Balak, son of Zippor, king of Moab, prepared to war against Israel. He summoned Balaam, son of Beor, to curse you;

Jos 24:10 but I would not listen to Balaam. On the contrary, he had to bless you, and I saved you from him.

Jos 24:11 Once you crossed the Jordan and came to Jericho, the men of Jericho fought against you, but I delivered them also into your power.

Jos 24:12 And I sent the hornets ahead of you which drove them (the Amorites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hittites, Girgashites, Hivites and Jebusites) out of your way; it was not your sword or your bow.

Jos 24:13 "I gave you a land which you had not tilled and cities which you had not built, to dwell in; you have eaten of vineyards and olive groves which you did not plant.

Jos 24:14 "Now, therefore, fear the LORD and serve him completely and sincerely. Cast out the gods your fathers served beyond the River and in Egypt, and serve the LORD.

Jos 24:15 If it does not please you to serve the LORD, decide today whom you will serve, the gods your fathers served beyond the River or the gods of the Amorites in whose country you are dwelling. As for me and my household, we will serve the LORD."

Jos 24:16 But the people answered, "Far be it from us to forsake the LORD for the service of other gods.

Jos 24:17 For it was the LORD, our God, who brought us and our fathers up out of the land of Egypt, out of a state of slavery. He performed those great miracles before our very eyes and protected us along our entire journey and among all the peoples through whom we passed.

Jos 24:18 At our approach the LORD drove out (all the peoples, including) the Amorites who dwelt in the land. Therefore we also will serve the LORD, for he is our God."

Jos 24:19 Joshua in turn said to the people, "You may not be able to serve the LORD, for he is a holy God; he is a jealous God who will not forgive your transgressions or your sins.

Jos 24:20 If, after the good he has done for you, you forsake the LORD and serve strange gods, he will do evil to you and destroy you."

Jos 24:21 But the people answered Joshua, "We will still serve the LORD."

Jos 24:22 Joshua therefore said to the people, "You are your own witnesses that you have chosen to serve the LORD." They replied, "We are, indeed!"

Jos 24:23 "Now, therefore, put away the strange gods that are among you and turn your hearts to the LORD, the God of Israel."

Jos 24:24 Then the people promised Joshua, "We will serve the LORD, our God, and obey his voice."

Jos 24:25 So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day and made statutes and ordinances for them at Shechem,

Jos 24:26 which he recorded in the book of the law of God. Then he took a large stone and set it up there under the oak that was in the sanctuary of the LORD.

Jos 24:27 And Joshua said to all the people, "This stone shall be our witness, for it has heard all the words which the LORD spoke to us. It shall be a witness against you, should you wish to deny your God."

Jos 24:28 Then Joshua dismissed the people, each to his own heritage.

Jos 24:29 After these events, Joshua, son of Nun, servant of the LORD, died at the age of a hundred and ten.

Jos 24:30 He was buried within the limits of his heritage at Timnath-serah in the mountain region of Ephraim north of Mount Gaash.

Jos 24:31 Israel served the LORD during the entire lifetime of Joshua and that of the elders who outlived Joshua and knew all that the LORD had done for Israel.

Jos 24:32 The bones of Joseph, which the Israelites had brought up from Egypt, were buried in Shechem in the plot of ground Jacob had bought from the sons of Hamor, father of Shechem, for a hundred pieces of money. This was a heritage of the descendants of Joseph.

Jos 24:33 When Eleazar, son of Aaron, also died, he was buried on the hill which had been given to his son Phinehas in the mountain region of Ephraim.

Jdg 1:1 After the death of Joshua the Israelites consulted the LORD, asking, "Who shall be first among us to attack the Canaanites and to do battle with them?"

Jdg 1:2 The LORD answered, "Judah shall attack: I have delivered the land into his power."

Jdg 1:3 Judah then said to his brother Simeon, "Come up with me into the territory allotted to me, and let us engage the Canaanites in battle. I will likewise accompany you into the territory allotted to you." So Simeon went with him.

Jdg 1:4 When the forces of Judah attacked, the LORD delivered the Canaanites and Perizzites into their power, and they slew ten thousand of them in Bezek.

Jdg 1:5 It was in Bezek that they came upon Adonibezek and fought against him. When they defeated the Canaanites and Perizzites, Jdg 1:6 Adonibezek fled. They set out in pursuit, and when they caught him, cut off his thumbs and his big toes.

Jdg 1:7 At this Adonibezek said, "Seventy kings, with their thumbs and big toes cut off, used to pick up scraps under my table. As I have done, so has God repaid me." He was brought to Jerusalem, and there he died.

Jdg 1:8 (The Judahites fought against Jerusalem and captured it, putting it to the sword; then they destroyed the city by fire.)

Jdg 1:9 Afterward the Judahites went down to fight against the Canaanites who lived in the mountain region, in the Negeb, and in the foothills.

Jdg 1:10 Judah also marched against the Canaanites who dwelt in Hebron, which was formerly called Kiriath-arba, and defeated Sheshai, Ahiman and Talmai.

Jdg 1:11 From there they marched against the inhabitants of Debir, which was formerly called Kiriath-sepher.

Jdg 1:12 And Caleb said, "I will give my daughter Achsah in marriage to the one who attacks Kiriath-sepher and captures it."

Jdg 1:13 Othniel, son of Caleb's younger brother Kenaz, captured it; so Caleb gave him his daughter Achsah in marriage.

Jdg 1:14 On the day of her marriage to Othniel she induced him to ask her father for some land. Then, as she alighted from the ass, Caleb asked her, "What is troubling you?"

Jdg 1:15 Give me an additional gift," she answered. "Since you have assigned land in the Negeb to me, give me also pools of water." So Caleb gave her the upper and the lower pool.

Jdg 1:16 The descendants of the Kenite, Moses' father-in-law, came up with the Judahites from the city of palms to the desert at Arad (which is in the Negeb). But they later left and settled among the Amalekites.

Jdg 1:17 Judah then went with his brother Simeon, and they defeated the Canaanites who dwelt in Zephath. After having doomed the city to destruction, they renamed it Hormah.

Jdg 1:18 Judah, however, did not occupy Gaza with its territory, Ashkelon with its territory, or Ekron with its territory.

Jdg 1:19 Since the LORD was with Judah, he gained possession of the mountain region. Yet he could not dislodge those who lived on the plain, because they had iron chariots.

Jdg 1:20 As Moses had commanded, Hebron was given to Caleb, who then drove from it the three sons of Anak.

Jdg 1:21 The Benjaminites did not dislodge the Jebusites who dwelt in Jerusalem, with the result that the Jebusites live in Jerusalem beside the Benjaminites to the present day.

Jdg 1:22 The house of Joseph, too, marched up against Bethel, and the LORD was with them.

Jdg 1:23 The house of Joseph had a reconnaissance made of Bethel, which formerly was called Luz.

Jdg 1:24 The scouts saw a man coming out of the city and said to him, "Show us a way into the city, and we will spare you."

Jdg 1:25 He showed them a way into the city, which they then put to the sword; but they let the man and his whole clan go free.

Jdg 1:26 He then went to the land of the Hittites, where he built a city and called it Luz, as it is still called.

Jdg 1:27 Manasseh did not take possession of Beth-shean with its towns or of Taanach with its towns. Neither did he dislodge the inhabitants of Dor and its towns, those of Ibleam and its towns, or those of Megiddo and its towns. The Canaanites kept their hold in this district.

Jdg 1:28 When the Israelites grew stronger, they impressed the Canaanites as laborers, but did not drive them out.

Jdg 1:29 Similarly, the Ephraimites did not drive out the Canaanites living in Gezer, and so the Canaanites live in Gezer in their midst.

Jdg 1:30 Zebulun did not dislodge the inhabitants of Kitron or those of Nahalol; the Canaanites live among them, but have become forced laborers.

Jdg 1:31 Nor did Asher drive out the inhabitants of Acco or those of Sidon, or take possession of Mahaleb, Achzib, Helbah, Aphik or Rehob.

Jdg 1:32 The Asherites live among the Canaanite natives of the land, whom they have not dislodged.

Jdg 1:33 Naphtali did not drive out the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh or those of Beth-anath, and so they live among the Canaanite natives of the land. However, the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and Beth-anath have become forced laborers for them.

Jdg 1:34 The Amorites hemmed in the Danites in the mountain region, not permitting them to go down into the plain.

Jdg 1:35 The Amorites had a firm hold in Harheres, Aijalon and Shaalbim, but as the house of Joseph gained the upper hand, they were impressed as laborers.

Jdg 1:36 The territory of the Amorites extended from the Akrabbim pass to Sela and beyond.

Jdg 2:1 An angel of the LORD went up from Gilgal to Bochim and said, "It was I who brought you up from Egypt and led you into the land which I promised on oath to your fathers. I said that I would never break my covenant with you, Jdg 2:2 but that you were not to make a pact with the inhabitants of this land, and you were to pull down their altars. Yet you have not obeyed me. What did you mean by this?"

Jdg 2:3 For now I tell you, I will not clear them out of your way; they shall oppose you and their gods shall become a snare for you."

Jdg 2:4 When the angel of the LORD had made these threats to all the Israelites, the people wept aloud;

Jdg 2:5 and so that place came to be called Bochim. They offered sacrifice there to the LORD.

Jdg 2:6 When Joshua dismissed the people, each Israelite went to take possession of his own hereditary land.

Jdg 2:7 The people served the LORD during the entire lifetime of Joshua, and of those elders who outlived Joshua and who had seen all the great work which the LORD had done for Israel.

Jdg 2:8 Joshua, son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, was a hundred and ten years old when he died;

Jdg 2:9 and they buried him within the borders of his heritage at Timnath-heres in the mountain region of Ephraim north of Mount Gaash.

Jdg 2:10 But once the rest of that generation were gathered to their fathers, and a later generation arose that did not know the LORD, or what he had done for Israel,

Jdg 2:11 the Israelites offended the LORD by serving the Baals.

Jdg 2:12 Abandoning the LORD, the God of their fathers, who had led them out of the land of Egypt, they followed the other gods of the various nations around them, and by their worship of these gods provoked the LORD.

Jdg 2:13 Because they had thus abandoned him and served Baal and the Ashtaroth, Jdg 2:14 the anger of the LORD flared up against Israel, and he delivered them over to plunderers who despoiled them. He allowed them to fall into the power of their enemies round about whom they were no longer able to withstand.

Jdg 2:15 Whatever they undertook, the LORD turned into disaster for them, as in his warning he had sworn he would do, till they were in great distress.

Jdg 2:16 Even when the LORD raised up judges to deliver them from the power of their despoilers,

Jdg 2:17 they did not listen to their judges, but abandoned themselves to the worship of other gods. They were quick to stray from the way their fathers had taken, and did not follow their example of obedience to the commandments of the LORD.

Jdg 2:18 Whenever the LORD raised up judges for them, he would be with the judge and save them from the power of their enemies as long as the judge lived; it was thus the LORD took pity on their distressful cries of affliction under their oppressors.

Jdg 2:19 But when the judge died, they would relapse and do worse than their fathers, following other gods in service and worship, relinquishing none of their evil practices or stubborn conduct.

Jdg 2:20 In his anger toward Israel the LORD said, "Inasmuch as this nation has violated my covenant which I enjoined on their fathers, and has disobeyed me, Jdg 2:21 I for my part will not clear away for them any more of the nations which Joshua left when he died."

Jdg 2:22 Through these nations the Israelites were to be made to prove whether or not they would keep to the way of the LORD and continue in it as their fathers had done;

Jdg 2:23 therefore the LORD allowed them to remain instead of expelling them immediately, or delivering them into the power of Israel.

Jdg 3:1 The following are the nations which the LORD allowed to remain, so that through them he might try all those Israelites who had no experience of the battles with Canaan

Jdg 3:2 training them in battle, those generations only of the Israelites who would not have had that previous experience):

Jdg 3:3 the five lords of the Philistines; and all the Canaanites, the Sidonians, and the Hivites who dwell in the mountain region of Lebanon between Baal-hermon and the entrance to Hamath.

Jdg 3:4 These served to put Israel to the test, to determine whether they would obey the commandments the LORD had enjoined on their fathers through Moses.

Jdg 3:5 Besides, the Israelites were living among the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites and Jebusites.

Jdg 3:6 In fact, they took their daughters in marriage, and gave their own daughters to their sons in marriage, and served their gods.

Jdg 3:7 Because the Israelites had offended the LORD by forgetting the LORD, their God, and serving the Baals and the Asherahs, Jdg 3:8 the anger of the LORD flared up against them, and he allowed them to fall into the power of Cushan-rishathaim, king of Aram Naharaim, whom they served for eight years.

Jdg 3:9 But when the Israelites cried out to the LORD, he raised up for them a savior, Othniel, son of Caleb's younger brother Kenaz, who rescued them.

Jdg 3:10 The spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he judged Israel. When he went out to war, the LORD delivered Cushan-risha-thaim, king of Aram, into his power, so that he made him subject.

Jdg 3:11 The land then was at rest for forty years, until Othniel, son of Kenaz, died.

Jdg 3:12 Again the Israelites offended the LORD, who because of this offense strengthened Eglon, king of Moab, against Israel.

Jdg 3:13 In alliance with the Ammonites and Amalekites, he attacked and defeated Israel, taking possession of the city of palms.

Jdg 3:14 The Israelites then served Eglon, king of Moab, for eighteen years.

Jdg 3:15 But when the Israelites cried out to the LORD, he raised up for them a savior, the Benjaminite Ehud, son of Gera, who was left-handed. It was by him that the Israelites sent their tribute to Eglon, king of Moab.

Jdg 3:16 Ehud made himself a two-edged dagger a foot long, and wore it under his clothes over his right thigh.

Jdg 3:17 He presented the tribute to Eglon, king of Moab, who was very fat,

Jdg 3:18 and after the presentation went off with the tribute bearers.

Jdg 3:19 He returned, however, from where the idols are, near Gilgal, and said, "I have a private message for you, O king." And the king said, "Silence!" Then when all his attendants had left his presence,

Jdg 3:20 and Ehud went in to him where he sat alone in his cool upper room, Ehud said, "I have a message from God for you." So the king rose from his chair,

Jdg 3:21 and then Ehud with his left hand drew the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into Eglon's belly.

Jdg 3:22 The hilt also went in after the blade, and the fat closed over the blade because he did not withdraw the dagger from his body.

Jdg 3:23 Then Ehud went out into the hall, shutting the doors of the upper room on him and locking them.

Jdg 3:24 When Ehud had left and the servants came, they saw that the doors of the upper room were locked, and thought, "He must be easing himself in the cool chamber."

Jdg 3:25 They waited until they finally grew suspicious. Since he did not open the doors of the upper room, they took the key and opened them. There on the floor, dead, lay their lord!

Jdg 3:26 During their delay Ehud made good his escape and, passing the idols, took refuge in Seirah.

Jdg 3:27 On his arrival he sounded the horn in the mountain region of Ephraim, and the Israelites went down from the mountains with him as their leader.

Jdg 3:28 "Follow me," he said to them, "for the LORD has delivered your enemies the Moabites into your power." So they followed him down and seized the fords of the Jordan leading to Moab, permitting no one to cross.

Jdg 3:29 On that occasion they slew about ten thousand Moabites, all of them strong and valiant men. Not a man escaped.

Jdg 3:30 Thus was Moab brought under the power of Israel at that time; and the land had rest for eighty years.

Jdg 3:31 After him there was Shamgar, son of Anath, who slew six hundred Philistines with an oxgoad. He, too, rescued Israel.

Jdg 4:1 After Ehud's death, however, the Israelites again offended the LORD.

Jdg 4:2 So the LORD allowed them to fall into the power of the Canaanite king, Jabin, who reigned in Hazor. The general of his army was Sisera, who dwelt in Harosheth-ha-goiim.

Jdg 4:3 But the Israelites cried out to the LORD; for with his nine hundred iron chariots he sorely oppressed the Israelites for twenty years.

Jdg 4:4 At this time the prophetess Deborah, wife of Lappidoth, was judging Israel.

Jdg 4:5 She used to sit under Deborah's palm tree, situated between Ramah and Bethel in the mountain region of Ephraim, and there the Israelites came up to her for judgment.

Jdg 4:6 She sent and summoned Barak, son of Abinoam, from Kedesh of Naphtali. "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, commands," she said to him; "go, march on Mount Tabor, and take with you ten thousand Naphtalites and Zebulunites.

Jdg 4:7 I will lead Sisera, the general of Jabin's army, out to you at the Wadi Kishon, together with his chariots and troops, and will deliver them into your power."

Jdg 4:8 But Barak answered her, "If you come with me, I will go; if you do not come with me, I will not go."

Jdg 4:9 "I will certainly go with you," she replied, "but you shall not gain the glory in the expedition on which you are setting out, for the LORD will have Sisera fall into the power of a woman." So Deborah joined Barak and journeyed with him to Kedesh.

Jdg 4:10 Barak summoned Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh, and ten thousand men followed him. Deborah also went up with him.

Jdg 4:11 Now the Kenite Heber had detached himself from his own people, the descendants of Hobab, Moses' brother-in-law, and had pitched his tent by the tere-binth of Zaanannim, which was near Kedesh.

Jdg 4:12 It was reported to Sisera that Barak, son of Abinoam, had gone up to Mount Tabor.

Jdg 4:13 So Sisera assembled from Harosheth-ha-goiim at the Wadi Kishon all nine hundred of his iron chariots and all his forces.

Jdg 4:14 Deborah then said to Barak, "Be off, for this is the day on which the LORD has delivered Sisera into your power. The LORD marches before you." So Barak went down Mount Tabor, followed by his ten thousand men.

Jdg 4:15 And the LORD put Sisera and all his chariots and all his forces to rout before Barak. Sisera himself dismounted from his chariot and fled on foot.

Jdg 4:16 Barak, however, pursued the chariots and the army as far as Harosheth-ha-goiim. The entire army of Sisera fell beneath the sword, not even one man surviving.

Jdg 4:17 Sisera, in the meantime, had fled on foot to the tent of Jael, wife of the Kenite Heber, since Jabin, king of Hazor, and the family of the Kenite Heber were at peace with one another.

Jdg 4:18 Jael went out to meet Sisera and said to him, "Come in, my lord, come in with me; do not be afraid." So he went into her tent, and she covered him with a rug.

Jdg 4:19 He said to her, "Please give me a little water to drink. I am thirsty." But she opened a jug of milk for him to drink, and then covered him over.

Jdg 4:20 "Stand at the entrance of the tent," he said to her. "If anyone comes and asks, 'Is there someone here?' say, 'No!'"

Jdg 4:21 Instead Jael, wife of Heber, got a tent peg and took a mallet in her hand. While Sisera was sound asleep, she stealthily approached him and drove the peg through his temple down into the ground, so that he perished in death.

Jdg 4:22 Then when Barak came in pursuit of Sisera, Jael went out to meet him and said to him, "Come, I will show you the man you seek." So he went in with her, and there lay Sisera dead, with the tent peg through his temple.

Jdg 4:23 Thus on that day God humbled the Canaanite king, Jabin, before the Israelites;

Jdg 4:24 their power weighed ever heavier upon him, till at length they destroyed the Canaanite king, Jabin.

Jdg 5:1 On that day Deborah (and Barak, son of Abinoam,) sang this song:
Jdg 5:2 Of chiefs who took the lead in Israel, of noble deeds by the people who bless the LORD,
Jdg 5:3 Hear, O kings! Give ear, O princes! I to the LORD will sing my song, my hymn to the LORD, the God of Israel.
Jdg 5:4 O LORD, when you went out from Seir, when you marched from the land of Edom, The earth quaked and the heavens were shaken, while the clouds sent down showers.
Jdg 5:5 Mountains trembled in the presence of the LORD, the One of Sinai, in the presence of the LORD, the God of Israel.
Jdg 5:6 In the days of Shamgar, son of Anath, in the days of slavery caravans ceased: Those who traveled the roads went by roundabout paths.
Jdg 5:7 Gone was freedom beyond the walls, gone indeed from Israel. When I, Deborah, rose, when I rose, a mother in Israel,
Jdg 5:8 New gods were their choice; then the war was at their gates. Not a shield could be seen, nor a lance, among forty thousand in Israel!
Jdg 5:9 My heart is with the leaders of Israel, nobles of the people who bless the LORD;
Jdg 5:10 They who ride on white asses, seated on saddlecloths as they go their way;
Jdg 5:11 Sing of them to the strains of the harpers at the wells, where men recount the just deeds of the LORD, his just deeds that brought freedom to Israel.
Jdg 5:12 Awake, awake, Deborah! awake, awake, strike up a song. Strength! arise, Barak, make despoilers your spoil, son of Abinoam.
Jdg 5:13 Then down came the fugitives with the mighty, the people of the LORD came down for me as warriors.
Jdg 5:14 From Ephraim, princes were in the valley; behind you was Benjamin, among your troops. From Machir came down commanders, from Zebulun wielders of the marshal's staff.
Jdg 5:15 With Deborah were the princes of Issachar; Barak, too, was in the valley, his course unchecked. Among the clans of Reuben great were the searchings of heart.
Jdg 5:16 Why do you stay beside your hearths listening to the lowing of the herds? Among the clans of Reuben great were the searchings of heart!
Jdg 5:17 Gilead, beyond the Jordan, rests; why does Dan spend his time in ships? Asher, who dwells along the shore, is resting in his coves.
Jdg 5:18 Zebulun is the people defying death; Naphtali, too, on the open heights!
Jdg 5:19 The kings came and fought; then they fought, those kings of Canaan, At Taanach by the waters of Megiddo; no silver booty did they take.
Jdg 5:20 From the heavens the stars, too, fought; from their courses they fought against Sisera.
Jdg 5:21 The Wadi Kishon swept them away; a wadi..., the Kishon.
Jdg 5:22 Then the hoofs of the horses pounded, with the dashing, dashing of his steeds.
Jdg 5:23 "Curse Meroz," says the LORD, "hurl a curse at its inhabitants! For they came not to my help, as warriors to the help of the LORD."
Jdg 5:24 Blessed among women be Jael, blessed among tent-dwelling women.
Jdg 5:25 He asked for water, she gave him milk; in a princely bowl she offered curds.
Jdg 5:26 With her left hand she reached for the peg, with her right, for the workman's mallet. She hammered Sisera, crushed his head; she smashed, stove in his temple.
Jdg 5:27 At her feet he sank down, fell, lay still; down at her feet he sank and fell; where he sank down, there he fell, slain.
Jdg 5:28 From the window peered down and wailed the mother of Sisera, from the lattice: "Why is his chariot so long in coming? why are the hoofbeats of his chariots delayed?"
Jdg 5:29 The wisest of her princesses answers her, and she, too, keeps answering herself:
Jdg 5:30 "They must be dividing the spoil they took: there must be a damsel or two for each man, Spoils of dyed cloth as Sisera's spoil, an ornate shawl or two for me in the spoil."
Jdg 5:31 May all your enemies perish thus, O LORD! but your friends be as the sun rising in its might! And the land was at rest for forty years.
Jdg 6:1 The Israelites offended the LORD, who therefore delivered them into the power of Midian for seven years,
Jdg 6:2 so that Midian held Israel subject. For fear of Midian the Israelites established the fire signals on the mountains, the caves for refuge, and the strongholds.
Jdg 6:3 And it used to be that when the Israelites had completed their sowing, Midian, Amalek and the Kedemites would come up,
Jdg 6:4 encamp opposite them, and destroy the produce of the land as far as the outskirts of Gaza, leaving no sustenance in Israel, nor sheep, oxen or asses.
Jdg 6:5 For they would come up with their livestock, and their tents would become as numerous as locusts; and neither they nor their camels could be numbered, when they came into the land to lay it waste.

Jdg 6:6 Thus was Israel reduced to misery by Midian, and so the Israelites cried out to the LORD.

Jdg 6:7 When Israel cried out to the LORD because of Midian,

Jdg 6:8 he sent a prophet to the Israelites who said to them, "The LORD, the God of Israel, says: I led you up from Egypt; I brought you out of the place of slavery.

Jdg 6:9 I rescued you from the power of Egypt and of all your other oppressors. I drove them out before you and gave you their land.

Jdg 6:10 And I said to you: I, the LORD, am your God; you shall not venerate the gods of the Amorites in whose land you are dwelling. But you did not obey me."

Jdg 6:11 Then the angel of the LORD came and sat under the terebinth in Ophrah that belonged to Joash the Abiezrite. While his son Gideon was beating out wheat in the wine press to save it from the Midianites,

Jdg 6:12 the angel of the LORD appeared to him and said, "The LORD is with you, O champion!"

Jdg 6:13 "My Lord," Gideon said to him, "if the LORD is with us, why has all this happened to us? Where are his wondrous deeds of which our fathers told us when they said, 'Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt?' For now the LORD has abandoned us and has delivered us into the power of Midian."

Jdg 6:14 The LORD turned to him and said, "Go with the strength you have and save Israel from the power of Midian. It is I who send you."

Jdg 6:15 But he answered him, "Please, my lord, how can I save Israel? My family is the meanest in Manasseh, and I am the most insignificant in my father's house."

Jdg 6:16 "I shall be with you," the LORD said to him, "and you will cut down Midian to the last man."

Jdg 6:17 He answered him, "If I find favor with you, give me a sign that you are speaking with me.

Jdg 6:18 Do not depart from here, I pray you, until I come back to you and bring out my offering and set it before you." He answered, "I will await your return."

Jdg 6:19 So Gideon went off and prepared a kid and an ephah of flour in the form of unleavened cakes. Putting the meat in a basket and the broth in a pot, he brought them out to him under the terebinth and presented them.

Jdg 6:20 The angel of God said to him, "Take the meat and unleavened cakes and lay them on this rock; then pour out the broth." When he had done so,

Jdg 6:21 the angel of the LORD stretched out the tip of the staff he held, and touched the meat and unleavened cakes. Thereupon a fire came up from the rock which consumed the meat and unleavened cakes, and the angel of the LORD disappeared from sight.

Jdg 6:22 Gideon, now aware that it had been the angel of the LORD, said, "Alas, Lord GOD, that I have seen the angel of the LORD face to face!"

Jdg 6:23 The LORD answered him, "Be calm, do not fear. You shall not die."

Jdg 6:24 So Gideon built there an altar to the LORD and called it Yahweh-shalom. To this day it is still in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

Jdg 6:25 That same night the LORD said to him, "Take the seven-year-old spare bullock and destroy your father's altar to Baal and cut down the sacred pole that is by it.

Jdg 6:26 You shall build, instead, the proper kind of altar to the LORD, your God, on top of this stronghold. Then take the spare bullock and offer it as a holocaust on the wood from the sacred pole you have cut down."

Jdg 6:27 So Gideon took ten of his servants and did as the LORD had commanded him. But through fear of his family and of the townspeople, he would not do it by day, but did it at night.

Jdg 6:28 Early the next morning the townspeople found that the altar of Baal had been destroyed, the sacred pole near it cut down, and the spare bullock offered on the altar that was built.

Jdg 6:29 They asked one another, "Who did this?" Their inquiry led them to the conclusion that Gideon, son of Joash, had done it.

Jdg 6:30 So the townspeople said to Joash, "Bring out your son that he may die, for he has destroyed the altar of Baal and has cut down the sacred pole that was near it."

Jdg 6:31 But Joash replied to all who were standing around him, "Do you intend to act in Baal's stead, or be his champion? If anyone acts for him, he shall be put to death by morning. If he whose altar has been destroyed is a god, let him act for himself!"

Jdg 6:32 So on that day Gideon was called Jerubbaal, because of the words, "Let Baal take action against him, since he destroyed his altar."

Jdg 6:33 Then all Midian and Amalek and the Kedemites mustered and crossed over into the valley of Jezreel, where they encamped.

Jdg 6:34 The spirit of the LORD enveloped Gideon; he blew the horn that summoned Abiezer to follow him.

Jdg 6:35 He sent messengers, too, throughout Manasseh, which also obeyed his summons; through Asher, Zebulun and Naphtali, likewise, he sent messengers and these tribes advanced to meet the others.

Jdg 6:36 Gideon said to God, "If indeed you are going to save Israel through me, as you promised,

Jdg 6:37 I am putting this woolen fleece on the threshing floor. If dew comes on the fleece alone, while all the ground is dry, I shall know that you will save Israel through me, as you promised."

Jdg 6:38 That is what took place. Early the next morning he wrung the dew from the fleece, squeezing out of it a bowlful of water.

Jdg 6:39 Gideon then said to God, "Do not be angry with me if I speak once more. Let me make just one more test with the fleece. Let the fleece alone be dry, but let there be dew on all the ground."

Jdg 6:40 That night God did so; the fleece alone was dry, but there was dew on all the ground.

Jdg 7:1 Early the next morning Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) encamped by Enharod with all his soldiers. The camp of Midian was in the valley north of Gibeath-hammoreh.

Jdg 7:2 The LORD said to Gideon, "You have too many soldiers with you for me to deliver Midian into their power, lest Israel vaunt itself against me and say, 'My own power brought me the victory.'"

Jdg 7:3 Now proclaim to all the soldiers, 'If anyone is afraid or fearful, let him leave.'" When Gideon put them to this test on the mountain, twenty-two thousand of the soldiers left, but ten thousand remained.

Jdg 7:4 The LORD said to Gideon, "There are still too many soldiers. Lead them down to the water and I will test them for you there. If I tell you that a certain man is to go with you, he must go with you. But no one is to go if I tell you he must not."

Jdg 7:5 When Gideon led the soldiers down to the water, the LORD said to him, "You shall set to one side everyone who laps up the water as a dog does with its tongue; to the other, everyone who kneels down to drink."

Jdg 7:6 Those who lapped up the water raised to their mouths by hand numbered three hundred, but all the rest of the soldiers knelt down to drink the water.

Jdg 7:7 The LORD said to Gideon, "By means of the three hundred who lapped up the water I will save you and will deliver Midian into your power. So let all the other soldiers go home."

Jdg 7:8 Their horns, and such supplies as the soldiers had with them, were taken up, and Gideon ordered the rest of the Israelites to their tents, but kept the three hundred men. Now the camp of Midian was beneath him in the valley.

Jdg 7:9 That night the LORD said to Gideon, "Go, descend on the camp, for I have delivered it up to you.

Jdg 7:10 If you are afraid to attack, go down to the camp with your aide Purah.

Jdg 7:11 When you hear what they are saying, you will have the courage to descend on the camp." So he went down with his aide Purah to the outposts of the camp.

Jdg 7:12 The Midianites, Amalekites, and all the Kedemites lay in the valley, as numerous as locusts. Nor could their camels be counted, for these were as many as the sands on the seashore.

Jdg 7:13 When Gideon arrived, one man was telling another about a dream. "I had a dream," he said, "that a round loaf of barley bread was rolling into the camp of Midian. It came to our tent and struck it, and as it fell it turned the tent upside down."

Jdg 7:14 "This can only be the sword of the Israelite Gideon, son of Joash," the other replied. "God has delivered Midian and all the camp into his power."

Jdg 7:15 When Gideon heard the description and explanation of the dream, he prostrated himself. Then returning to the camp of Israel, he said, "Arise, for the LORD has delivered the camp of Midian into your power."

Jdg 7:16 He divided the three hundred men into three companies, and provided them all with horns and with empty jars and torches inside the jars.

Jdg 7:17 "Watch me and follow my lead," he told them. "I shall go to the edge of the camp, and as I do, you must do also.

Jdg 7:18 When I and those with me blow horns, you too must blow horns all around the camp and cry out, 'For the LORD and for Gideon!'"

Jdg 7:19 So Gideon and the hundred men who were with him came to the edge of the camp at the beginning of the middle watch, just after the posting of the guards. They blew the horns and broke the jars they were holding.

Jdg 7:20 All three companies blew horns and broke their jars. They held the torches in their left hands, and in their right the horns they were blowing, and cried out, "A sword for the LORD and Gideon!"

Jdg 7:21 They all remained standing in place around the camp, while the whole camp fell to running and shouting and fleeing.

Jdg 7:22 But the three hundred men kept blowing the horns, and throughout the camp the LORD set the sword of one against another. The army fled as far as Beth-shittah in the direction of Zarethan, near the border of Abelmeholah at Tabbath.

Jdg 7:23 The Israelites were called to arms from Naphtali, from Asher, and from all Manasseh, and they pursued Midian.

Jdg 7:24 Gideon also sent messengers throughout the mountain region of Ephraim to say, "Go down to confront Midian, and seize the water courses against them as far as Beth-barah, as well as the Jordan." So all the Ephraimites were called to arms, and they seized the water courses as far as Beth-barah, and the Jordan as well.

Jdg 7:25 They captured the two princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb, killing Oreb at the rock of Oreb and Zeeb at the wine press of Zeeb. Then they pursued Midian and carried the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon beyond the Jordan.

Jdg 8:1 But the Ephraimites said to him, "What have you done to us, not calling us when you went to fight against Midian?" And they quarreled bitterly with him.

Jdg 8:2 "What have I accomplished now in comparison with you?" he answered them. "Is not the gleanings of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abiezer?"

Jdg 8:3 Into your power God delivered the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb. What have I been able to do in comparison with you?" When he said this, their anger against him subsided.

Jdg 8:4 When Gideon reached the Jordan and crossed it with his three hundred men, they were exhausted and famished.

Jdg 8:5 So he said to the men of Succoth, "Will you give my followers some loaves of bread? They are exhausted, and I am pursuing Zebah and Zalmunna, kings of Midian."

Jdg 8:6 But the princes of Succoth replied, "Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your possession, that we should give food to your army?"

Jdg 8:7 Gideon said, "Very well; when the LORD has delivered Zebah and Zalmunna into my power, I will grind your flesh in with the thorns and briers of the desert."

Jdg 8:8 He went up from there to Penuel and made the same request of them, but the men of Penuel answered him as had the men of Succoth.

Jdg 8:9 So to the men of Penuel, too, he said, "When I return in triumph, I will demolish this tower."

Jdg 8:10 Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor with their force of about fifteen thousand men; these were all who were left of the whole Kedemite army, a hundred and twenty thousand swordsmen having fallen.

Jdg 8:11 Gideon went up by the route of the nomads east of Nobah and Jogbehah, and attacked the camp when it felt secure.

Jdg 8:12 Zebah and Zalmunna fled. He pursued them and took the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, captive, throwing the entire army into panic.

Jdg 8:13 Then Gideon, son of Joash, returned from battle by the pass of Heres.

Jdg 8:14 He captured a young man of Succoth, who upon being questioned listed for him the seventy-seven princes and elders of Succoth.

Jdg 8:15 So he went to the men of Succoth and said, "Here are Zebah and Zalmunna, with whom you taunted me, 'Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna already in your possession, that we should give food to your weary followers?'"

Jdg 8:16 He took the elders of the city, and thorns and briers of the desert, and ground these men of Succoth into them.

Jdg 8:17 He also demolished the tower of Penuel and slew the men of the city.

Jdg 8:18 Then he said to Zebah and Zalmunna, "Where now are the men you killed at Tabor?" "They all resembled you," they replied. "They appeared to be princes."

Jdg 8:19 "They were my brothers, my mother's sons," he said. "As the LORD lives, if you had spared their lives, I should not kill you."

Jdg 8:20 Then he said to his first-born, Jether, "Go, kill them." Since Jether was still a boy, he was afraid and did not draw his sword.

Jdg 8:21 Zebah and Zalmunna said, "Come, kill us yourself, for a man's strength is like the man." So Gideon stepped forward and killed Zebah and Zalmunna. He also took the crescents that were on the necks of their camels.

Jdg 8:22 The Israelites then said to Gideon, "Rule over us-- you, your son, and your son's son-- for you rescued us from the power of Midian."

Jdg 8:23 But Gideon answered them, "I will not rule over you, nor shall my son rule over you. The LORD must rule over you."

Jdg 8:24 Gideon went on to say, "I should like to make a request of you. Will each of you give me a ring from his booty?" (For being Ishmaelites, the enemy had gold rings.)

Jdg 8:25 "We will gladly give them," they replied, and spread out a cloak into which everyone threw a ring from his booty.

Jdg 8:26 The gold rings that he requested weighed seventeen hundred gold shekels, in addition to the crescents and pendants, the purple garments worn by the kings of Midian, and the trappings that were on the necks of their camels.

Jdg 8:27 Gideon made an ephod out of the gold and placed it in his city Ophrah. However, all Israel paid idolatrous homage to it there, and caused the ruin of Gideon and his family.

Jdg 8:28 Thus was Midian brought into subjection by the Israelites; no longer did they hold their heads high. And the land had rest for forty years, during the lifetime of Gideon.

Jdg 8:29 Then Jerubbaal, son of Joash, went back home to stay.

Jdg 8:30 Now Gideon had seventy sons, his direct descendants, for he had many wives.

Jdg 8:31 His concubine who lived in Shechem also bore him a son, whom he named Abimelech.

Jdg 8:32 At a good old age Gideon, son of Joash, died and was buried in the tomb of his father Joash in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

Jdg 8:33 But after Gideon was dead, the Israelites again abandoned themselves to the Baals, making Baal of Berith their god

Jdg 8:34 and forgetting the LORD, their God, who had delivered them from the power of their enemies all around them.

Jdg 8:35 Nor were they grateful to the family of Jerubbaal (Gideon) for all the good he had done for Israel.

Jdg 9:1 Abimelech, son of Jerubbaal, went to his mother's kinsmen in Shechem, and said to them and to the whole clan to which his mother's family belonged,

Jdg 9:2 "Put this question to all the citizens of Shechem: 'Which is better for you: that seventy men, or all Jerubbaal's sons, rule over you, or that one man rule over you?' You must remember that I am your own flesh and bone."

Jdg 9:3 When his mother's kin repeated these words to them on his behalf, all the citizens of Shechem sympathized with Abimelech, thinking, "He is our kinsman."

Jdg 9:4 They also gave him seventy silver shekels from the temple of Baal of Berith, with which Abimelech hired shiftless men and ruffians as his followers.

Jdg 9:5 He then went to his ancestral house in Ophrah, and slew his brothers, the seventy sons of Jerubbaal, on one stone. Only the youngest son of Jerubbaal, Jotham, escaped, for he was hidden.

Jdg 9:6 Then all the citizens of Shechem and all Beth-millo came together and proceeded to make Abimelech king by the terebinth at the memorial pillar in Shechem.

Jdg 9:7 When this was reported to him, Jotham went to the top of Mount Gerizim, and standing there, cried out to them in a loud voice: "Hear me, citizens of Shechem, that God may then hear you!

Jdg 9:8 Once the trees went to anoint a king over themselves. So they said to the olive tree, 'Reign over us.'

Jdg 9:9 But the olive tree answered them, 'Must I give up my rich oil, whereby men and gods are honored, and go to wave over the trees?'

Jdg 9:10 Then the trees said to the fig tree, 'Come; you reign over us!'

Jdg 9:11 But the fig tree answered them, 'Must I give up my sweetness and my good fruit, and go to wave over the trees?'

Jdg 9:12 Then the trees said to the vine, 'Come you, and reign over us.'

Jdg 9:13 But the vine answered them, 'Must I give up my wine that cheers gods and men, and go to wave over the trees?'

Jdg 9:14 Then all the trees said to the buckthorn, 'Come; you reign over us!'

Jdg 9:15 But the buckthorn replied to the trees, 'If you wish to anoint me king over you in good faith, come and take refuge in my shadow. Otherwise, let fire come from the buckthorn and devour the cedars of Lebanon.'

Jdg 9:16 "Now then, if you have acted in good faith and honorably in appointing Abimelech your king, if you have dealt well with Jerubbaal and with his family, and if you have treated him as he deserved--

Jdg 9:17 for my father fought for you at the risk of his life when he saved you from the power of Midian;

Jdg 9:18 but you have risen against his family this day and have killed his seventy sons upon one stone, and have made Abimelech, the son of his handmaid, king over the citizens of Shechem, because he is your kinsman--

Jdg 9:19 if, then, you have acted in good faith and with honor toward Jerubbaal and his family this day, rejoice in Abimelech and may he in turn rejoice in you.

Jdg 9:20 But if not, let fire come forth from Abimelech to devour the citizens of Shechem and Beth-millo, and let fire come forth from the citizens and from Beth-millo to devour Abimelech."

Jdg 9:21 Then Jotham went in flight to Beer, where he remained for fear of his brother Abimelech.

Jdg 9:22 When Abimelech had ruled Israel for three years,

Jdg 9:23 God put bad feelings between Abimelech and the citizens of Shechem, who rebelled against Abimelech.

Jdg 9:24 This was to repay the violence done to the seventy sons of Jerubbaal and to avenge their blood upon their brother Abimelech, who killed them, and upon the citizens of Shechem, who encouraged him to kill his brothers.

Jdg 9:25 The citizens of Shechem then set men in ambush for him on the mountaintops, and these robbed all who passed them on the road. But it was reported to Abimelech.

Jdg 9:26 Now Gaal, son of Ebed, came over to Shechem with his kinsmen. The citizens of Shechem put their trust in him,

Jdg 9:27 and went out into the fields, harvested their grapes and trod them out. Then they held a festival and went to the temple of their god, where they ate and drank and cursed Abimelech.

Jdg 9:28 Gaal, son of Ebed, said, "Who is Abimelech? And why should we of Shechem serve him? Were not the son of Jerubbaal and his lieutenant Zebul once subject to the men of Hamor, father of Shechem? Why should we serve him?"

Jdg 9:29 Would that this people were entrusted to my command! I would depose Abimelech. I would say to Abimelech, 'Get a larger army and come out!'"

Jdg 9:30 At the news of what Gaal, son of Ebed, had said, Zebul, the ruler of the city, was angry

Jdg 9:31 and sent messengers to Abimelech in Arumah with the information: "Gaal, son of Ebed, and his kinsmen have come to Shechem and are stirring up the city against you.

Jdg 9:32 Now rouse yourself; set an ambush tonight in the fields, you and the men who are with you.

Jdg 9:33 Promptly at sunrise tomorrow morning, make a raid on the city. When he and his followers come out against you, deal with him as best you can."

Jdg 9:34 During the night Abimelech advanced with all his soldiers and set up an ambush for Shechem in four companies.

Jdg 9:35 Gaal, son of Ebed, went out and stood at the entrance of the city gate. When Abimelech and his soldiers rose from their place of ambush,

Jdg 9:36 Gaal saw them and said to Zebul, "There are men coming down from the hilltops!" But Zebul answered him, "You see the shadow of the hills as men."

Jdg 9:37 But Gaal went on to say, "Men are coming down from the region of Tabbur-Haares, and one company is coming by way of Elon-Meonenim."

Jdg 9:38 Zebul said to him, "Where now is the boast you uttered, 'Who is Abimelech that we should serve him?' Are these not the men for whom you expressed contempt? Go out now and fight with them."

Jdg 9:39 So Gaal went out at the head of the citizens of Shechem and fought against Abimelech.

Jdg 9:40 But Abimelech routed him, and he fled before him; and many fell slain right up to the entrance of the gate.

Jdg 9:41 Abimelech returned to Arumah, but Zebul drove Gaal and his kinsmen from Shechem, which they had occupied.

Jdg 9:42 The next day, when the people were taking the field, it was reported to Abimelech,

Jdg 9:43 who divided the men he had into three companies, and set up an ambush in the fields. He watched till he saw the people leave the city, and then rose against them for the attack.

Jdg 9:44 Abimelech and the company with him dashed in and stood by the entrance of the city gate, while the other two companies rushed upon all who were in the field and attacked them.

Jdg 9:45 That entire day Abimelech fought against the city, and captured it. He then killed its inhabitants and demolished the city, sowing the site with salt.

Jdg 9:46 When they heard of this, all the citizens of Migdal-shechem went into the crypt of the temple of El-berith.

Jdg 9:47 It was reported to Abimelech that all the citizens of Migdal-shechem were gathered together.

Jdg 9:48 So he went up Mount Zalmon with all his soldiers, took his axe in his hand, and cut down some brushwood. This he lifted to his shoulder, then said to the men with him, "Hurry! Do just as you have seen me do."

Jdg 9:49 So all the men likewise cut down brushwood, and following Abimelech, placed it against the crypt. Then they set the crypt on fire over their heads, so that every one of the citizens of Migdal-shechem, about a thousand men and women, perished.

Jdg 9:50 Abimelech proceeded to Thebez, which he invested and captured.

Jdg 9:51 Now there was a strong tower in the middle of the city, and all the men and women, in a word all the citizens of the city, fled there, shutting themselves in and going up to the roof of the tower.

Jdg 9:52 Abimelech came up to the tower and fought against it, advancing to the very entrance of the tower to set it on fire.

Jdg 9:53 But a certain woman cast the upper part of a millstone down on Abimelech's head, and it fractured his skull.

Jdg 9:54 He immediately called his armor-bearer and said to him, "Draw your sword and dispatch me, lest they say of me that a woman killed me." So his attendant ran him through and he died.

Jdg 9:55 When the Israelites saw that Abimelech was dead, they all left for their homes.

Jdg 9:56 Thus did God requite the evil Abimelech had done to his father in killing his seventy brothers.

Jdg 9:57 God also brought all their wickedness home to the Shechemites, for the curse of Jotham, son of Jerubbaal, overtook them.

Jdg 10:1 After Abimelech there rose to save Israel the Issacharite Tola, son of Puah, son of Dodo, a resident of Shamir in the mountain region of Ephraim.

Jdg 10:2 When he had judged Israel twenty-three years, he died and was buried in Shamir.

Jdg 10:3 Jair the Gileadite came after him and judged Israel twenty-two years.

Jdg 10:4 He had thirty sons who rode on thirty saddle-asses and possessed thirty cities in the land of Gilead; these are called Havvoth-jair to the present day.

Jdg 10:5 Jair died and was buried in Kamon.

Jdg 10:6 The Israelites again offended the LORD, serving the Baals and Ashtaroths, the gods of Aram, the gods of Sidon, the gods of Moab, the gods of the Ammonites, and the gods of the Philistines. Since they had abandoned the LORD and would not serve him,

Jdg 10:7 the LORD became angry with Israel and allowed them to fall into the power of (the Philistines and) the Ammonites.

Jdg 10:8 For eighteen years they afflicted and oppressed the Israelites in Bashan, and all the Israelites in the Amorite land beyond the Jordan in Gilead.

Jdg 10:9 The Ammonites also crossed the Jordan to fight against Judah, Benjamin, and the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was in great distress.

Jdg 10:10 Then the Israelites cried out to the LORD, "We have sinned against you; we have forsaken our God and have served the Baals."

Jdg 10:11 The LORD answered the Israelites: "Did not the Egyptians, the Amorites, the Ammonites, the Philistines,

Jdg 10:12 the Sidonians, the Amalekites, and the Midianites oppress you? Yet when you cried out to me, and I saved you from their grasp,

Jdg 10:13 you still forsook me and worshiped other gods. Therefore I will save you no more.

Jdg 10:14 Go and cry out to the gods you have chosen; let them save you now that you are in distress."

Jdg 10:15 But the Israelites said to the LORD, "We have sinned. Do to us whatever you please. Only save us this day."

Jdg 10:16 And they cast out the foreign gods from their midst and served the LORD, so that he grieved over the misery of Israel.

Jdg 10:17 The Ammonites had gathered for war and encamped in Gilead, while the Israelites assembled and encamped in Mizpah.

Jdg 10:18 And among the people the princes of Gilead said to one another, "The one who begins the war against the Ammonites shall be leader of all the inhabitants of Gilead."

Jdg 11:1 There was a chieftain, the Gileadite Jephthah, born to Gilead of a harlot.

Jdg 11:2 Gilead's wife had also borne him sons, and on growing up the sons of the wife had driven Jephthah away, saying to him, "You shall inherit nothing in our family, for you are the son of another woman."

Jdg 11:3 So Jephthah had fled from his brothers and had taken up residence in the land of Tob. A rabble had joined company with him, and went out with him on raids.

Jdg 11:4 Some time later, the Ammonites warred on Israel.

Jdg 11:5 When this occurred the elders of Gilead went to bring Jephthah from the land of Tob.

Jdg 11:6 "Come," they said to Jephthah, "be our commander that we may be able to fight the Ammonites."

Jdg 11:7 "Are you not the ones who hated me and drove me from my father's house?" Jephthah replied to the elders of Gilead. "Why do you come to me now, when you are in distress?"

Jdg 11:8 The elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "In any case, we have now come back to you; if you go with us to fight against the Ammonites, you shall be the leader of all of us who dwell in Gilead."

Jdg 11:9 Jephthah answered the elders of Gilead, "If you bring me back to fight against the Ammonites and the LORD delivers them up to me, I shall be your leader."

Jdg 11:10 The elders of Gilead said to Jephthah, "The LORD is witness between us that we will do as you say."

Jdg 11:11 So Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him their leader and commander. In Mizpah, Jephthah settled all his affairs before the LORD.

Jdg 11:12 Then he sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites to say, "What have you against me that you come to fight with me in my land?"

Jdg 11:13 He answered the messengers of Jephthah, "Israel took away my land from the Arnon to the Jabbok and the Jordan when they came up from Egypt. Now restore the same peaceably."

Jdg 11:14 Again Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites, Jdg 11:15 saying to him, "This is what Jephthah says: Israel did not take the land of Moab or the land of the Ammonites.

Jdg 11:16 For when they came up from Egypt, Israel went through the desert to the Red Sea and came to Kadesh.

Jdg 11:17 Israel then sent messengers to the king of Edom saying, 'Let me pass through your land.' But the king of Edom did not give consent. They also sent to the king of Moab, but he too was unwilling. So Israel remained in Kadesh.

Jdg 11:18 Then they went through the desert, and bypassing the land of Edom and the land of Moab, went east of the land of Moab and encamped across the Arnon. Thus they did not go through the territory of Moab, for the Arnon is the boundary of Moab.

Jdg 11:19 Then Israel sent messengers to Sihon, king of the Amorites, king of Heshbon. Israel said to him, 'Let me pass through your land to my own place.'

Jdg 11:20 But Sihon refused to let Israel pass through his territory. On the contrary, he gathered all his soldiers, who encamped at Jahaz and fought Israel.

Jdg 11:21 But the LORD, the God of Israel, delivered Sihon and all his men into the power of Israel, who defeated them and occupied all the land of the Amorites dwelling in that region,

Jdg 11:22 the whole territory from the Arnon to the Jabbok, from the desert to the Jordan.

Jdg 11:23 If now the LORD, the God of Israel, has cleared the Amorites out of the way of his people, are you to dislodge Israel?

Jdg 11:24 Should you not possess that which your god Chemosh gave you to possess, and should we not possess all that the LORD, our God, has cleared out for us?

Jdg 11:25 Again, are you any better than Balak, son of Zippor, king of Moab? Did he ever quarrel with Israel, or did he war against them

Jdg 11:26 when Israel occupied Heshbon and its villages, Aroer and its villages, and all the cities on the banks of the Arnon? Three hundred years have passed; why did you not recover them during that time?

Jdg 11:27 I have not sinned against you, but you wrong me by warring against me. Let the LORD, who is judge, decide this day between the Israelites and the Ammonites!"

Jdg 11:28 But the king of the Ammonites paid no heed to the message Jephthah sent him.

Jdg 11:29 The spirit of the LORD came upon Jephthah. He passed through Gilead and Manasseh, and through Mizpah-Gilead as well, and from there he went on to the Ammonites.

Jdg 11:30 Jephthah made a vow to the LORD. "If you deliver the Ammonites into my power," he said,

Jdg 11:31 "whoever comes out of the doors of my house to meet me when I return in triumph from the Ammonites shall belong to the LORD. I shall offer him up as a holocaust."

Jdg 11:32 Jephthah then went on to the Ammonites to fight against them, and the LORD delivered them into his power,

Jdg 11:33 so that he inflicted a severe defeat on them, from Aroer to the approach of Minnith (twenty cities in all) and as far as Abel-keramin. Thus were the Ammonites brought into subjection by the Israelites.

Jdg 11:34 When Jephthah returned to his house in Mizpah, it was his daughter who came forth, playing the tambourines and dancing. She was an only child: he had neither son nor daughter besides her.

Jdg 11:35 When he saw her, he rent his garments and said, "Alas, daughter, you have struck me down and brought calamity upon me. For I have made a vow to the LORD and I cannot retract."

Jdg 11:36 "Father," she replied, "you have made a vow to the LORD. Do with me as you have vowed, because the LORD has wrought vengeance for you on your enemies the Ammonites."

Jdg 11:37 Then she said to her father, "Let me have this favor. Spare me for two months, that I may go off down the mountains to mourn my virginity with my companions."

Jdg 11:38 "Go," he replied, and sent her away for two months. So she departed with her companions and mourned her virginity on the mountains.

Jdg 11:39 At the end of the two months she returned to her father, who did to her as he had vowed. She had not been intimate with man. It then became a custom in Israel

Jdg 11:40 for Israelite women to go yearly to mourn the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite for four days of the year.

Jdg 12:1 The men of Ephraim gathered together and crossed over to Zaphon. They said to Jephthah, "Why do you go on to fight with the Ammonites without calling us to go with you? We will burn your house over you."

Jdg 12:2 Jephthah answered them, "My soldiers and I were engaged in a critical contest with the Ammonites. I summoned you, but you did not rescue me from their power.

Jdg 12:3 When I saw that you would not effect a rescue, I took my life in my own hand and went on to the Ammonites, and the LORD delivered them into my power. Why, then, do you come up against me this day to fight with me?"

Jdg 12:4 Then Jephthah called together all the men of Gilead and fought against Ephraim, whom they defeated; for the Ephraimites had said, "You of Gilead are Ephraimite fugitives in territory belonging to Ephraim and Manasseh."

Jdg 12:5 The Gileadites took the fords of the Jordan toward Ephraim. When any of the fleeing Ephraimites said, "Let me pass," the men of Gilead would say to him, "Are you an Ephraimite?" If he answered, "No!"

Jdg 12:6 they would ask him to say "Shibboleth." If he said "Sibboleth," not being able to give the proper pronunciation, they would seize him and kill him at the fords of the Jordan. Thus forty-two thousand Ephraimites fell at that time.

Jdg 12:7 After having judged Israel for six years, Jephthah the Gileadite died and was buried in his city in Gilead.

Jdg 12:8 After him Ibzan of Bethlehem judged Israel.
Jdg 12:9 He had thirty sons. He also had thirty daughters married outside the family, and he brought in as wives for his sons thirty young women from outside the family. After having judged Israel for seven years,
Jdg 12:10 Ibzan died and was buried in Bethlehem.
Jdg 12:11 After him the Zebulunite Elon judged Israel. When he had judged Israel for ten years,
Jdg 12:12 the Zebulunite Elon died and was buried in Elon in the land of Zebulun.
Jdg 12:13 After him the Pirathonite Abdon, son of Hillel, judged Israel.
Jdg 12:14 He had forty sons and thirty grandsons who rode on seventy saddle-asses. After having judged Israel for eight years,
Jdg 12:15 the Pirathonite Abdon, son of Hillel, died and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim on the mountain of the Amalekites.
Jdg 13:1 The Israelites again offended the LORD, who therefore delivered them into the power of the Philistines for forty years.
Jdg 13:2 There was a certain man from Zorah, of the clan of the Danites, whose name was Manoah. His wife was barren and had borne no children.
Jdg 13:3 An angel of the LORD appeared to the woman and said to her, "Though you are barren and have had no children, yet you will conceive and bear a son.
Jdg 13:4 Now, then, be careful to take no wine or strong drink and to eat nothing unclean.
Jdg 13:5 As for the son you will conceive and bear, no razor shall touch his head, for this boy is to be consecrated to God from the womb. It is he who will begin the deliverance of Israel from the power of the Philistines."
Jdg 13:6 The woman went and told her husband, "A man of God came to me; he had the appearance of an angel of God, terrible indeed. I did not ask him where he came from, nor did he tell me his name.
Jdg 13:7 But he said to me, 'You will be with child and will bear a son. So take neither wine nor strong drink, and eat nothing unclean. For the boy shall be consecrated to God from the womb, until the day of his death.'
Jdg 13:8 Manoah then prayed to the LORD. "O LORD, I beseech you," he said, "may the man of God whom you sent, return to us to teach us what to do for the boy who will be born."
Jdg 13:9 God heard the prayer of Manoah, and the angel of God came again to the woman as she was sitting in the field. Since her husband Manoah was not with her,
Jdg 13:10 the woman ran in haste and told her husband. "The man who came to me the other day has appeared to me," she said to him;
Jdg 13:11 so Manoah got up and followed his wife. When he reached the man, he said to him, "Are you the one who spoke to my wife?" "Yes," he answered.
Jdg 13:12 Then Manoah asked, "Now, when that which you say comes true, what are we expected to do for the boy?"
Jdg 13:13 The angel of the LORD answered Manoah, "Your wife is to abstain from all the things of which I spoke to her.
Jdg 13:14 She must not eat anything that comes from the vine, nor take wine or strong drink, nor eat anything unclean. Let her observe all that I have commanded her."
Jdg 13:15 Then Manoah said to the angel of the LORD, "Can we persuade you to stay, while we prepare a kid for you?"
Jdg 13:16 But the angel of the LORD answered Manoah, "Although you press me, I will not partake of your food. But if you will, you may offer a holocaust to the LORD." Not knowing that it was the angel of the LORD,
Jdg 13:17 Manoah said to him, "What is your name, that we may honor you when your words come true?"
Jdg 13:18 The angel of the LORD answered him, "Why do you ask my name, which is mysterious?"
Jdg 13:19 Then Manoah took the kid with a cereal offering and offered it on the rock to the LORD, whose works are mysteries. While Manoah and his wife were looking on,
Jdg 13:20 as the flame rose to the sky from the altar, the angel of the LORD ascended in the flame of the altar. When Manoah and his wife saw this, they fell prostrate to the ground;
Jdg 13:21 but the angel of the LORD was seen no more by Manoah and his wife. Then Manoah, realizing that it was the angel of the LORD,
Jdg 13:22 said to his wife, "We will certainly die, for we have seen God."
Jdg 13:23 But his wife pointed out to him, "If the LORD had meant to kill us, he would not have accepted a holocaust and cereal offering from our hands! Nor would he have let us see all this just now, or hear what we have heard."
Jdg 13:24 The woman bore a son and named him Samson. The boy grew up and the LORD blessed him;
Jdg 13:25 the spirit of the LORD first stirred him in Mahaneh-dan, which is between Zorah and Eshtaol.
Jdg 14:1 Samson went down to Timnah and saw there one of the Philistine women.
Jdg 14:2 On his return he told his father and mother, "There is a Philistine woman I saw in Timnah whom I wish you to get as a wife for me."

Jdg 14:3 His father and mother said to him, "Can you find no wife among your kinsfolk or among all our people, that you must go and take a wife from the uncircumcised Philistines?" But Samson answered his father, "Get her for me, for she pleases me."

Jdg 14:4 Now his father and mother did not know that this had been brought about by the LORD, who was providing an opportunity against the Philistines; for at that time they had dominion over Israel.

Jdg 14:5 So Samson went down to Timnah with his father and mother. When they had come to the vineyards of Timnah, a young lion came roaring to meet him.

Jdg 14:6 But the spirit of the LORD came upon Samson, and although he had no weapons, he tore the lion in pieces as one tears a kid.

Jdg 14:7 However, on the journey to speak for the woman, he did not mention to his father or mother what he had done.

Jdg 14:8 Later, when he returned to marry the woman who pleased him, he stepped aside to look at the remains of the lion and found a swarm of bees and honey in the lion's carcass.

Jdg 14:9 So he scooped the honey out into his palms and ate it as he went along. When he came to his father and mother, he gave them some to eat, without telling them that he had scooped the honey from the lion's carcass.

Jdg 14:10 His father also went down to the woman, and Samson gave a banquet there, since it was customary for the young men to do this.

Jdg 14:11 When they met him, they brought thirty men to be his companions.

Jdg 14:12 Samson said to them, "Let me propose a riddle to you. If within the seven days of the feast you solve it for me successfully, I will give you thirty linen tunics and thirty sets of garments.

Jdg 14:13 But if you cannot answer it for me, you must give me thirty tunics and thirty sets of garments."

"Propose your riddle," they responded; "we will listen to it."

Jdg 14:14 So he said to them, "Out of the eater came forth food, and out of the strong came forth sweetness."

After three days' failure to answer the riddle,

Jdg 14:15 they said on the fourth day to Samson's wife, "Coax your husband to answer the riddle for us, or we will burn you and your family. Did you invite us here to reduce us to poverty?"

Jdg 14:16 At Samson's side, his wife wept and said, "You must hate me; you do not love me, for you have proposed a riddle to my countrymen, but have not told me the answer." He said to her, "If I have not told it even to my father or my mother, must I tell it to you?"

Jdg 14:17 But she wept beside him during the seven days the feast lasted. On the seventh day, since she importuned him, he told her the answer, and she explained the riddle to her countrymen.

Jdg 14:18 On the seventh day, before the sun set, the men of the city said to him, "What is sweeter than honey, and what is stronger than a lion?" He replied to them, "If you had not plowed with my heifer, you would not have solved my riddle."

Jdg 14:19 The spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he went down to Ashkelon, where he killed thirty of their men and despoiled them; he gave their garments to those who had answered the riddle. Then he went off to his own family in anger,

Jdg 14:20 and Samson's wife was married to the one who had been best man at his wedding.

Jdg 15:1 After some time, in the season of the wheat harvest, Samson visited his wife, bringing a kid. But when he said, "Let me be with my wife in private," her father would not let him enter,

Jdg 15:2 saying, "I thought it certain you wished to repudiate her; so I gave her to your best man. Her younger sister is more beautiful than she; you may have her instead."

Jdg 15:3 Samson said to them, "This time the Philistines cannot blame me if I harm them."

Jdg 15:4 So Samson left and caught three hundred foxes. Turning them tail to tail, he tied between each pair of tails one of the torches he had at hand.

Jdg 15:5 He then kindled the torches and set the foxes loose in the standing grain of the Philistines, thus burning both the shocks and the standing grain, and the vineyards and olive orchards as well.

Jdg 15:6 When the Philistines asked who had done this, they were told, "Samson, the son-in-law of the Timnite, because his wife was taken and given to his best man." So the Philistines went up and destroyed her and her family by fire.

Jdg 15:7 Samson said to them, "If this is how you act, I will not stop until I have taken revenge on you."

Jdg 15:8 And with repeated blows, he inflicted a great slaughter on them. Then he went down and remained in a cavern of the cliff of Etam.

Jdg 15:9 The Philistines went up and, from a camp in Judah, deployed against Lehi.

Jdg 15:10 When the men of Judah asked, "Why have you come up against us?" they answered, "To take Samson prisoner; to do to him as he has done to us."

Jdg 15:11 Three thousand men of Judah went down to the cavern in the cliff of Etam and said to Samson, "Do you not know that the Philistines are our rulers? Why, then, have you done this to us?" He answered them, "As they have done to me, so have I done to them."

Jdg 15:12 They said to him, "We have come to take you prisoner, to deliver you over to the Philistines." Samson said to them, "Swear to me that you will not kill me yourselves."

Jdg 15:13 "No," they replied, "we will certainly not kill you but will only bind you and deliver you over to them." So they bound him with two new ropes and brought him up from the cliff.

Jdg 15:14 When he reached Lehi, and the Philistines came shouting to meet him, the spirit of the LORD came upon him: the ropes around his arms became as flax that is consumed by fire and his bonds melted away from his hands.

Jdg 15:15 Near him was the fresh jawbone of an ass; he reached out, grasped it, and with it killed a thousand men.

Jdg 15:16 Then Samson said, "With the jawbone of an ass I have piled them in a heap; With the jawbone of an ass I have slain a thousand men."

Jdg 15:17 As he finished speaking he threw the jawbone from him; and so that place was named Ramath-lehi.

Jdg 15:18 Being very thirsty, he cried to the LORD and said, "You have granted this great victory by the hand of your servant. Must I now die of thirst or fall into the hands of the uncircumcised?"

Jdg 15:19 Then God split the cavity in Lehi, and water issued from it, which Samson drank till his spirit returned and he revived. Hence that spring in Lehi is called En-hakkore to this day.

Jdg 15:20 Samson judged Israel for twenty years in the days of the Philistines.

Jdg 16:1 Once Samson went to Gaza, where he saw a harlot and visited her.

Jdg 16:2 Informed that Samson had come there, the men of Gaza surrounded him with an ambush at the city gate all night long. And all the night they waited, saying, "Tomorrow morning we will kill him."

Jdg 16:3 Samson rested there until midnight. Then he rose, seized the doors of the city gate and the two gateposts, and tore them loose, bar and all. He hoisted them on his shoulders and carried them to the top of the ridge opposite Hebron.

Jdg 16:4 After that he fell in love with a woman in the Wadi Sorek whose name was Delilah.

Jdg 16:5 The lords of the Philistines came to her and said, "Beguile him and find out the secret of his great strength, and how we may overcome and bind him so as to keep him helpless. We will each give you eleven hundred shekels of silver."

Jdg 16:6 So Delilah said to Samson, "Tell me the secret of your great strength and how you may be bound so as to be kept helpless."

Jdg 16:7 "If they bind me with seven fresh bowstrings which have not dried," Samson answered her, "I shall be as weak as any other man."

Jdg 16:8 So the lords of the Philistines brought her seven fresh bowstrings which had not dried, and she bound him with them.

Jdg 16:9 She had men lying in wait in the chamber and so she said to him, "The Philistines are upon you, Samson!" But he snapped the strings as a thread of tow is severed by a whiff of flame; and the secret of his strength remained unknown.

Jdg 16:10 Delilah said to Samson, "You have mocked me and told me lies. Now tell me how you may be bound."

Jdg 16:11 "If they bind me tight with new ropes, with which no work has been done," he answered her, "I shall be as weak as any other man."

Jdg 16:12 So Delilah took new ropes and bound him with them. Then she said to him, "The Philistines are upon you, Samson!" For there were men lying in wait in the chamber. But he snapped them off his arms like thread.

Jdg 16:13 Delilah said to Samson again, "Up to now you have mocked me and told me lies. Tell me how you may be bound." He said to her, "If you weave my seven locks of hair into the web and fasten them with the pin, I shall be as weak as any other man."

Jdg 16:14 So while he slept, Delilah wove his seven locks of hair into the web, and fastened them in with the pin. Then she said, "The Philistines are upon you, Samson!" Awakened from his sleep, he pulled out both the weaver's pin and the web.

Jdg 16:15 Then she said to him, "How can you say that you love me when you do not confide in me? Three times already you have mocked me, and not told me the secret of your great strength!"

Jdg 16:16 She importuned him continually and vexed him with her complaints till he was deathly weary of them.

Jdg 16:17 So he took her completely into his confidence and told her, "No razor has touched my head, for I have been consecrated to God from my mother's womb. If I am shaved, my strength will leave me, and I shall be as weak as any other man."

Jdg 16:18 When Delilah saw that he had taken her completely into his confidence, she summoned the lords of the Philistines, saying, "Come up this time, for he has opened his heart to me." So the lords of the Philistines came and brought up the money with them.

Jdg 16:19 She had him sleep on her lap, and called for a man who shaved off his seven locks of hair. Then she began to mistreat him, for his strength had left him.

Jdg 16:20 When she said, "The Philistines are upon you, Samson!", and he woke from his sleep, he thought he could make good his escape as he had done time and again, for he did not realize that the LORD had left him.

Jdg 16:21 But the Philistines seized him and gouged out his eyes. Then they brought him down to Gaza and bound him with bronze fetters, and he was put to grinding in the prison.

Jdg 16:22 But the hair of his head began to grow as soon as it was shaved off.

Jdg 16:23 The lords of the Philistines assembled to offer a great sacrifice to their god Dagon and to make merry. They said, "Our god has delivered into our power Samson our enemy."

Jdg 16:24 When the people saw him, they praised their god. For they said, "Our god has delivered into our power our enemy, the ravager of our land, the one who has multiplied our slain." Then they stationed him between the columns.

Jdg 16:25 When their spirits were high, they said, "Call Samson that he may amuse us." So they called Samson from the prison, and he played the buffoon before them.

Jdg 16:26 Samson said to the attendant who was holding his hand, "Put me where I may touch the columns that support the temple and may rest against them."

Jdg 16:27 The temple was full of men and women: all the lords of the Philistines were there, and from the roof about three thousand men and women looked on as Samson provided amusement.

Jdg 16:28 Samson cried out to the LORD and said, "O Lord GOD, remember me! Strengthen me, O God, this last time that for my two eyes I may avenge myself once and for all on the Philistines."

Jdg 16:29 Samson grasped the two middle columns on which the temple rested and braced himself against them, one at his right hand, the other at his left.

Jdg 16:30 And Samson said, "Let me die with the Philistines!" He pushed hard, and the temple fell upon the lords and all the people who were in it. Those he killed at his death were more than those he had killed during his lifetime.

Jdg 16:31 All his family and kinsmen went down and bore him up for burial in the grave of his father Manoah between Zorah and Eshtaol. He had judged Israel for twenty years.

Jdg 17:1 There was a man in the mountain region of Ephraim whose name was Micah.

Jdg 17:2 He said to his mother, "The eleven hundred shekels of silver over which you pronounced a curse in my hearing when they were taken from you, are in my possession. It was I who took them; so now I will restore them to you."

Jdg 17:3 When he restored the eleven hundred shekels of silver to his mother, she took two hundred of them and gave them to the silversmith, who made of them a carved idol overlaid with silver.

Jdg 17:4 Then his mother said, "May the LORD bless my son! I have consecrated the silver to the LORD as my gift in favor of my son, by making a carved idol overlaid with silver." It remained in the house of Micah.

Jdg 17:5 Thus the layman Micah had a sanctuary. He also made an ephod and household idols, and consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest.

Jdg 17:6 In those days there was no king in Israel; everyone did what he thought best.

Jdg 17:7 There was a young Levite who had resided within the tribe of Judah at Bethlehem of Judah.

Jdg 17:8 From that city he set out to find another place of residence. On his journey he came to the house of Micah in the mountain region of Ephraim.

Jdg 17:9 Micah said to him, "Where do you come from?" He answered him, "I am a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah, and am on my way to find some other place of residence."

Jdg 17:10 "Stay with me," Micah said to him. "Be father and priest to me, and I will give you ten silver shekels a year, a set of garments, and your food."

Jdg 17:11 So the young Levite decided to stay with the man, to whom he became as one of his own sons.

Jdg 17:12 Micah consecrated the young Levite, who became his priest, remaining in his house.

Jdg 17:13 Therefore Micah said, "Now I know that the LORD will prosper me, since the Levite has become my priest."

Jdg 18:1 At that time there was no king in Israel. Moreover the tribe of Danites were in search of a district to dwell in, for up to that time they had received no heritage among the tribes of Israel.

Jdg 18:2 So the Danites sent from their clan a detail of five valiant men of Zorah and Eshtaol, to reconnoiter the land and scout it. With their instructions to go and scout the land, they traveled as far as the house of Micah in the mountain region of Ephraim, where they passed the night.

Jdg 18:3 Near the house of Micah, they recognized the voice of the young Levite and turned in that direction. "Who brought you here and what are you doing here?" they asked him. "What is your interest here?"

Jdg 18:4 "This is how Micah treats me," he replied to them. "He pays me a salary and I am his priest."

Jdg 18:5 They said to him, "Consult God, that we may know whether the undertaking we are engaged in will succeed."

Jdg 18:6 The priest said to them, "Go and prosper: the LORD is favorable to the undertaking you are engaged in."

Jdg 18:7 So the five men went on and came to Laish. They saw that the people dwelling there lived securely after the manner of the Sidonians, quiet and trusting, with no lack of any natural resources. They were distant from the Sidonians and had no contact with other people.

Jdg 18:8 When the five returned to their kinsmen in Zorah and Eshtaol and were asked for a report,

Jdg 18:9 they replied, "Come, let us attack them, for we have seen the land and it is very good. Are you going to hesitate? Do not be slothful about beginning your expedition to possess the land.

Jdg 18:10 Those against whom you go are a trusting people, and the land is ample. God has indeed given it into your power: a place where no natural resource is lacking."

Jdg 18:11 So six hundred men of the clan of the Danites, fully armed with weapons of war, set out from where they were in Zorah and Eshtaol,

Jdg 18:12 and camped in Judah, up near Kiriath-jearim; hence to this day the place, which lies west of Kiriath-jearim, is called Mahaneh-dan.

Jdg 18:13 From there they went on to the mountain region of Ephraim and came to the house of Micah.

Jdg 18:14 The five men who had gone to reconnoiter the land of Laish said to their kinsmen, "Do you know that in these houses there are an ephod, household idols, and a carved idol overlaid with silver? Now decide what you must do!"

Jdg 18:15 So turning in that direction, they went to the house of the young Levite at the home of Micah and greeted him.

Jdg 18:16 The six hundred men girt with weapons of war, who were Danites, stood by the entrance of the gate, and the priest stood there also.

Jdg 18:17 Meanwhile the five men who had gone to reconnoiter the land went up and entered the house of Micah.

Jdg 18:18 When they had gone in and taken the ephod, the household idols, and the carved idol overlaid with silver, the priest said to them, "What are you doing?"

Jdg 18:19 They said to him, "Be still: put your hand over your mouth. Come with us and be our father and priest. Is it better for you to be priest for the family of one man or to be priest for a tribe and a clan in Israel?"

Jdg 18:20 The priest, agreeing, took the ephod, household idols, and carved idol and went off in the midst of the band.

Jdg 18:21 As they turned to depart, they placed their little ones, their livestock, and their goods at the head of the column.

Jdg 18:22 The Danites had already gone some distance, when those in the houses near that of Micah took up arms and overtook them.

Jdg 18:23 They called to the Danites, who turned about and said to Micah, "What do you want, that you have taken up arms?"

Jdg 18:24 "You have taken my god, which I made, and have gone off with my priest as well," he answered. "What is left for me? How, then, can you ask me what I want?"

Jdg 18:25 The Danites said to him, "Let us hear no further sound from you, lest fierce men fall upon you and you and your family lose your lives."

Jdg 18:26 The Danites then went on their way, and Micah, seeing that they were stronger than he, returned home.

Jdg 18:27 Having taken what Micah had made, and the priest he had had, they attacked Laish, a quiet and trusting people; they put them to the sword and destroyed their city by fire.

Jdg 18:28 No one came to their aid, since the city was far from Sidon and they had no contact with other people. The Danites then rebuilt the city, which was in the valley that belongs to Beth-rehob, and lived there.

Jdg 18:29 They named it Dan after their ancestor Dan, son of Israel. However, the name of the city was formerly Laish.

Jdg 18:30 The Danites set up the carved idol for themselves, and Jonathan, son of Gershom, son of Moses, and his descendants were priests for the tribe of the Danites until the time of the captivity of the land.

Jdg 18:31 They maintained the carved idol Micah had made as long as the house of God was in Shiloh.

Jdg 19:1 At that time, when there was no king in Israel, there was a Levite residing in remote parts of the mountain region of Ephraim who had taken for himself a concubine from Bethlehem of Judah.

Jdg 19:2 His concubine was unfaithful to him and left him for her father's house in Bethlehem of Judah, where she stayed for some four months.

Jdg 19:3 Her husband then set out with his servant and a pair of asses, and went after her to forgive her and take her back. She brought him into her father's house, and on seeing him, the girl's father joyfully made him welcome.

Jdg 19:4 He was detained by the girl's father, and so he spent three days with this father-in-law of his, eating and drinking and passing the night there.

Jdg 19:5 On the fourth day they rose early in the morning and he prepared to go. But the girl's father said to his son-in-law, "Fortify yourself with a little food; you can go later on."

Jdg 19:6 So they stayed and the two men ate and drank together. Then the girl's father said to the husband, "Why not decide to spend the night here and enjoy yourself?"

Jdg 19:7 The man still made a move to go, but when his father-in-law pressed him he went back and spent the night there.

Jdg 19:8 On the fifth morning he rose early to depart, but the girl's father said, "Fortify yourself and tarry until the afternoon." When he and his father-in-law had eaten,

Jdg 19:9 and the husband was ready to go with his concubine and servant, the girl's father said to him, "It is already growing dusk. Stay for the night. See, the day is coming to an end. Spend the night here and enjoy yourself. Early tomorrow you can start your journey home."

Jdg 19:10 The man, however, refused to stay another night; he and his concubine set out with a pair of saddled asses, and traveled till they came opposite Jebus, which is Jerusalem.

Jdg 19:11 Since they were near Jebus with the day far gone, the servant said to his master, "Come, let us turn off to this city of the Jebusites and spend the night in it."

Jdg 19:12 But his master said to him, "We will not turn off to a city of foreigners, who are not Israelites, but will go on to Gibeah.

Jdg 19:13 Come," he said to his servant, "let us make for some other place, either Gibeah or Ramah, to spend the night."

Jdg 19:14 So they continued on their way till the sun set on them when they were abreast of Gibeah of Benjamin.

Jdg 19:15 There they turned off to enter Gibeah for the night. The man waited in the public square of the city he had entered, but no one offered them the shelter of his home for the night.

Jdg 19:16 In the evening, however, an old man came from his work in the field; he was from the mountain region of Ephraim, though he lived among the Benjaminite townspeople of Gibeah.

Jdg 19:17 When he noticed the traveler in the public square of the city, the old man asked where he was going, and whence he had come.

Jdg 19:18 He said to him, "We are traveling from Bethlehem of Judah far up into the mountain region of Ephraim, where I belong. I have been to Bethlehem of Judah and am now going back home; but no one has offered us the shelter of his house.

Jdg 19:19 We have straw and fodder for our asses, and bread and wine for the woman and myself and for our servant; there is nothing else we need."

Jdg 19:20 "You are welcome," the old man said to him, "but let me provide for all your needs, and do not spend the night in the public square."

Jdg 19:21 So he led them to his house and provided fodder for the asses. Then they washed their feet, and ate and drank.

Jdg 19:22 While they were enjoying themselves, the men of the city, who were corrupt, surrounded the house and beat on the door. They said to the old man whose house it was, "Bring out your guest, that we may abuse him."

Jdg 19:23 The owner of the house went out to them and said, "No, my brothers; do not be so wicked. Since this man is my guest, do not commit this crime.

Jdg 19:24 Rather let me bring out my maiden daughter or his concubine. Ravish them, or do whatever you want with them; but against the man you must not commit this wanton crime."

Jdg 19:25 When the men would not listen to his host, the husband seized his concubine and thrust her outside to them. They had relations with her and abused her all night until the following dawn, when they let her go.

Jdg 19:26 Then at daybreak the woman came and collapsed at the entrance of the house in which her husband was a guest, where she lay until the morning.

Jdg 19:27 When her husband rose that day and opened the door of the house to start out again on his journey, there lay the woman, his concubine, at the entrance of the house with her hands on the threshold.

Jdg 19:28 He said to her, "Come, let us go"; but there was no answer. So the man placed her on an ass and started out again for home.

Jdg 19:29 On reaching home, he took a knife to the body of his concubine, cut her into twelve pieces, and sent them throughout the territory of Israel.

Jdg 19:30 Everyone who saw this said, "Nothing like this has been done or seen from the day the Israelites came up from the land of Egypt to this day. Take note of it, and state what you propose to do."

Jdg 20:1 So all the Israelites came out as one man: from Dan to Beer-sheba, and from the land of Gilead, the community was gathered to the LORD at Mizpah.

Jdg 20:2 The leaders of all the people and all the tribesmen of Israel, four hundred thousand foot soldiers who were swordsmen, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God.

Jdg 20:3 Meanwhile, the Benjaminites heard that the Israelites had gone up to Mizpah. The Israelites asked to be told how the crime had taken place, Jdg 20:4 and the Levite, the husband of the murdered woman, testified: "My concubine and I went into Gibeah of Benjamin for the night.

Jdg 20:5 But the citizens of Gibeah rose up against me by night and surrounded the house in which I was. Me they attempted to kill, and my concubine they abused so that she died.

Jdg 20:6 So I took my concubine and cut her up and sent her through every part of the territory of Israel, because of the monstrous crime they had committed in Israel.

Jdg 20:7 Now that you are all here, O Israelites, state what you propose to do."

Jdg 20:8 All the people rose as one man to say, "None of us is to leave for his tent or return to his home.

Jdg 20:9 Now as for Gibeah, this is what we will do: We will proceed against it by lot,

Jdg 20:10 taking from all the tribes of Israel ten men for every hundred, a hundred for every thousand, a thousand for every ten thousand, and procuring supplies for the soldiers who will go to deal fully and suitably with Gibeah of Benjamin for the crime it committed in Israel."

Jdg 20:11 When, therefore, all the men of Israel without exception were leagued together against the city,

Jdg 20:12 the tribes of Israel sent men throughout the tribe of Benjamin to say, "What is this evil which has occurred among you?

Jdg 20:13 Now give up these corrupt men of Gibeah, that we may put them to death and thus purge the evil from Israel." But the Benjaminites refused to accede to the demand of their brothers, the Israelites.

Jdg 20:14 Instead, the Benjaminites assembled from their other cities to Gibeah, to do battle with the Israelites.

Jdg 20:15 The number of the Benjaminite swordsmen from the other cities on that occasion was twenty-six thousand, in addition to the inhabitants of Gibeah.

Jdg 20:16 Included in this total were seven hundred picked men who were left-handed, every one of them able to sling a stone at a hair without missing.

Jdg 20:17 Meanwhile the other Israelites who, without Benjamin, mustered four hundred thousand swordsmen ready for battle,

Jdg 20:18 moved on to Bethel and consulted God. When the Israelites asked who should go first in the attack on the Benjaminites, the LORD said, "Judah shall go first."

Jdg 20:19 The next day the Israelites advanced on Gibeah with their forces.

Jdg 20:20 On the day the Israelites drew up in battle array at Gibeah for the combat with Benjamin,

Jdg 20:21 the Benjaminites came out of the city and felled twenty-two thousand men of Israel.

Jdg 20:22 But though the Israelite soldiers took courage and again drew up for combat in the same place as on the previous day,

Jdg 20:23 Then the Israelites went up and wept before the LORD until evening. "Shall I again engage my brother Benjamin in battle?" they asked the LORD; and the LORD answered that they should.

Jdg 20:24 when they met the Benjaminites for the second time,

Jdg 20:25 once again the Benjaminites who came out of Gibeah against them felled eighteen thousand Israelites, all of them swordsmen.

Jdg 20:26 So the entire Israelite army went up to Bethel, where they wept and remained fasting before the LORD until evening of that day, besides offering holocausts and peace offerings before the LORD.

Jdg 20:27 When the Israelites consulted the LORD (for the ark of the covenant of God was there in those days, Jdg 20:28 and Phinehas, son of Eleazar, son of Aaron, was ministering to him in those days), and asked, "Shall I go out again to battle with Benjamin, my brother, or shall I desist?" the LORD said, "Attack! for tomorrow I will deliver him into your power."

Jdg 20:29 So Israel set men in ambush around Gibeah.

Jdg 20:30 The Israelites went up against the Benjaminites for the third time and formed their line of battle at Gibeah as on other occasions.

Jdg 20:31 The Benjaminites went out to meet them, and in the beginning they killed off about thirty of the Israelite soldiers in the open field, just as on the other occasions.

Jdg 20:32 Therefore the Benjaminites thought, "We are defeating them as before"; not realizing that disaster was about to overtake them. The Israelites, however, had planned the flight so as to draw them away from the city onto the highways. They were drawn away from the city onto the highways, of which the one led to Bethel, the other to Gibeon.

Jdg 20:33 And then all the men of Israel rose from their places. They re-formed their ranks at Baal-tamar, and the Israelites in ambush rushed from their place west of Gibeah,

Jdg 20:34 ten thousand picked men from all Israel, and advanced against the city itself. In a fierce battle,

Jdg 20:35 the LORD defeated Benjamin before Israel; and on that day the Israelites killed twenty-five thousand one hundred men of Benjamin, all of them swordsmen.

Jdg 20:36 To the Benjaminites it had looked as though the enemy were defeated, for the men of Israel gave ground to Benjamin, trusting in the ambush they had set at Gibeah.

Jdg 20:37 But then the men in ambush made a sudden dash into Gibeah, overran it, and put the whole city to the sword.

Jdg 20:38 Now, the other Israelites had agreed with the men in ambush on a smoke signal they were to send up from the city.

Jdg 20:39 And though the men of Benjamin had begun by killing off some thirty of the men of Israel, under the impression that they were defeating them as surely as in the earlier fighting, the Israelites wheeled about to resist

Jdg 20:40 as the smoke of the signal column began to rise up from the city. It was when Benjamin looked back and saw the whole city in flames against the sky

Jdg 20:41 that the men of Israel wheeled about. Therefore the men of Benjamin were thrown into confusion, for they realized the disaster that had overtaken them.

Jdg 20:42 They retreated before the men of Israel in the direction of the desert, with the fight being pressed against them. In their very midst, meanwhile, those who had been in the city were spreading destruction.

Jdg 20:43 The men of Benjamin had been surrounded, and were now pursued to a point east of Gibeah, Jdg 20:44 while eighteen thousand of them fell, warriors to a man.

Jdg 20:45 The rest turned and fled through the desert to the rock Rimmon. But on the highways the Israelites picked off five thousand men among them, and chasing them up to Gidom, killed another two thousand of them there.

Jdg 20:46 Those of Benjamin who fell on that day were in all twenty-five thousand swordsmen, warriors to a man.

Jdg 20:47 But six hundred others who turned and fled through the desert reached the rock Rimmon, where they remained for four months.

Jdg 20:48 The men of Israel withdrew through the territory of the Benjaminites, putting to the sword the inhabitants of the cities, the livestock, and all they chanced upon. Moreover they destroyed by fire all the cities they came upon.

Jdg 21:1 Now the men of Israel had sworn at Mizpah that none of them would give his daughter in marriage to anyone from Benjamin.

Jdg 21:2 So the people went to Bethel and remained there before God until evening, raising their voices in bitter lament.

Jdg 21:3 They said, "LORD, God of Israel, why has it come to pass in Israel that today one tribe of Israel should be lacking?"

Jdg 21:4 Early the next day the people built an altar there and offered holocausts and peace offerings.

Jdg 21:5 Then the Israelites asked, "Are there any among all the tribes of Israel who did not come up to the LORD for the assembly?" For they had taken a solemn oath that anyone who did not go up to the LORD at Mizpah should be put to death without fail.

Jdg 21:6 The Israelites were disconsolate over their brother Benjamin and said, "Today one of the tribes of Israel has been cut off.

Jdg 21:7 What can we do about wives for the survivors, since we have sworn by the LORD not to give them any of our daughters in marriage?"

Jdg 21:8 And when they asked whether anyone among the tribes of Israel had not come up to the LORD in Mizpah, they found that none of the men of Jabesh-gilead had come to the encampment for the assembly.

Jdg 21:9 A roll call of the army established that none of the inhabitants of that city were present.

Jdg 21:10 The community, therefore, sent twelve thousand warriors with orders to go to Jabesh-gilead and put those who lived there to the sword, including the women and children.

Jdg 21:11 They were told to include under the ban all males and every woman who was not still a virgin.

Jdg 21:12 Finding among the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead four hundred young virgins, who had had no relations with men, they brought them to the camp at Shiloh in the land of Canaan.

Jdg 21:13 Then the whole community sent a message to the Benjaminites at the rock Rimmon, offering them peace.

Jdg 21:14 When Benjamin returned at that time, they gave them as wives the women of Jabesh-gilead whom they had spared; but these proved to be not enough for them.

Jdg 21:15 The people were still disconsolate over Benjamin because the LORD had made a breach among the tribes of Israel.

Jdg 21:16 And the elders of the community said, "What shall we do for wives for the survivors? For every woman in Benjamin has been put to death."

Jdg 21:17 They said, "Those of Benjamin who survive must have heirs, else one of the Israelite tribes will be wiped out.

Jdg 21:18 Yet we cannot give them any of our daughters in marriage, because the Israelites have sworn, 'Cursed be he who gives a woman to Benjamin!'"

Jdg 21:19 Then they thought of the yearly feast of the LORD at Shiloh, north of Bethel, east of the highway that goes up from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah.

Jdg 21:20 And they instructed the Benjaminites, "Go and lie in wait in the vineyards.

Jdg 21:21 When you see the girls of Shiloh come out to do their dancing, leave the vineyards and each of you seize one of the girls of Shiloh for a wife, and go to the land of Benjamin.

Jdg 21:22 When their fathers or their brothers come to complain to us, we shall say to them, 'Release them to us as a kindness, since we did not take a woman apiece in the war. Had you yourselves given them these wives, you would now be guilty.'"

Jdg 21:23 The Benjaminites did this; they carried off a wife for each of them from their raid on the dancers, and went back to their own territory, where they rebuilt and occupied the cities.

Jdg 21:24 Also at that time the Israelites dispersed; each of them left for his own heritage in his own clan and tribe.

Jdg 21:25 In those days there was no king in Israel; everyone did what he thought best.

Rut 1:1 Once in the time of the judges there was a famine in the land; so a man from Bethlehem of Judah departed with his wife and two sons to reside on the plateau of Moab.

Rut 1:2 The man was named Elimelech, his wife Naomi, and his sons Mahlon and Chilion; they were Ephrathites from Bethlehem of Judah. Some time after their arrival on the Moabite plateau,

Rut 1:3 Elimelech, the husband of Naomi, died, and she was left with her two sons,

Rut 1:4 who married Moabite women, one named Orpah, the other Ruth. When they had lived there about ten years,

Rut 1:5 both Mahlon and Chilion died also, and the woman was left with neither her two sons nor her husband.

Rut 1:6 She then made ready to go back from the plateau of Moab because word reached her there that the LORD had visited his people and given them food.

Rut 1:7 She and her two daughters-in-law left the place where they had been living. Then as they were on the road back to the land of Judah, Rut 1:8 Naomi said to her two daughters-in-law, "Go back, each of you, to your mother's house! May the LORD be kind to you as you were to the departed and to me!

Rut 1:9 May the LORD grant each of you a husband and a home in which you will find rest." She kissed them good-bye, but they wept with loud sobs, Rut 1:10 and told her they would return with her to her people.

Rut 1:11 "Go back, my daughters!" said Naomi. "Why should you come with me? Have I other sons in my womb who may become your husbands?

Rut 1:12 Go back, my daughters! Go, for I am too old to marry again. And even if I could offer any hopes, or if tonight I had a husband or had borne sons,

Rut 1:13 would you then wait and deprive yourselves of husbands until those sons grew up? No, my daughters! my lot is too bitter for you, because the LORD has extended his hand against me."

Rut 1:14 Again they sobbed aloud and wept; and Orpah kissed her mother-in-law good-bye, but Ruth stayed with her.

Rut 1:15 "See now!" she said, "your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and her god. Go back after your sister-in-law!"

Rut 1:16 But Ruth said, "Do not ask me to abandon or forsake you! for wherever you go I will go, wherever you lodge I will lodge, your people shall be my people, and your God my God.

Rut 1:17 Wherever you die I will die, and there be buried. May the LORD do so and so to me, and more besides, if aught but death separates me from you!"

Rut 1:18 Naomi then ceased to urge her, for she saw she was determined to go with her.

Rut 1:19 So they went on together till they reached Bethlehem. On their arrival there, the whole city was astir over them, and the women asked, "Can this be Naomi?"

Rut 1:20 But she said to them, "Do not call me Naomi. Call me Mara, for the Almighty has made it very bitter for me.

Rut 1:21 I went away with an abundance, but the LORD has brought me back destitute. Why should you call me Naomi, since the LORD has pronounced against me and the Almighty has brought evil upon me?"

Rut 1:22 Thus it was that Naomi returned with the Moabite daughter-in-law, Ruth, who accompanied her back from the plateau of Moab. They arrived in Bethlehem at the beginning of the barley harvest.

Rut 2:1 Naomi had a prominent kinsman named Boaz, of the clan of her husband Elimelech.

Rut 2:2 Ruth the Moabite said to Naomi, "Let me go and glean ears of grain in the field of anyone who will allow me that favor." Naomi said to her, "Go, my daughter,"

Rut 2:3 and she went. The field she entered to glean after the harvesters happened to be the section belonging to Boaz of the clan of Elimelech.

Rut 2:4 Boaz himself came from Bethlehem and said to the harvesters, "The LORD be with you!" and they replied, "The LORD bless you!"

Rut 2:5 Boaz asked the overseer of his harvesters, "Whose girl is this?"

Rut 2:6 The overseer of the harvesters answered, "She is the Moabite girl who returned from the plateau of Moab with Naomi.

Rut 2:7 She asked leave to gather the gleanings into sheaves after the harvesters; and ever since she came this morning she has remained here until now, with scarcely a moment's rest."

Rut 2:8 Boaz said to Ruth, "Listen, my daughter! Do not go to glean in anyone else's field; you are not to leave here. Stay here with my women servants.

Rut 2:9 Watch to see which field is to be harvested, and follow them; I have commanded the young men to do you no harm. When you are thirsty, you may go and drink from the vessels the young men have filled."

Rut 2:10 Casting herself prostrate upon the ground, she said to him, "Why should I, a foreigner, be favored with your notice?"

Rut 2:11 Boaz answered her: "I have had a complete account of what you have done for your mother-in-law after your husband's death; you have left your father and your mother and the land of your birth, and have come to a people whom you did not know previously.

Rut 2:12 May the LORD reward what you have done! May you receive a full reward from the LORD, the God of Israel, under whose wings you have come for refuge."

Rut 2:13 She said, "May I prove worthy of your kindness, my lord: you have comforted me, your servant, with your consoling words; would indeed that I were a servant of yours!"

Rut 2:14 At mealtime Boaz said to her, "Come here and have some food; dip your bread in the sauce." Then as she sat near the reapers, he handed her some roasted grain and she ate her fill and had some left over.

Rut 2:15 She rose to glean, and Boaz instructed his servants to let her glean among the sheaves themselves without scolding her,

Rut 2:16 and even to let drop some handfuls and leave them for her to glean without being rebuked.

Rut 2:17 She gleaned in the field until evening, and when she beat out what she had gleaned it came to about an ephah of barley,

Rut 2:18 which she took into the city and showed to her mother-in-law. Next she brought out and gave her what she had left over from lunch.

Rut 2:19 So her mother-in-law said to her, "Where did you glean today? Where did you go to work? May he who took notice of you be blessed!" Then she told her mother-in-law with whom she had worked. "The man at whose place I worked today is named Boaz," she said.

Rut 2:20 "May he be blessed by the LORD, who is ever merciful to the living and to the dead," Naomi exclaimed to her daughter-in-law; and she continued, "He is a relative of ours, one of our next of kin."

Rut 2:21 "He even told me," added Ruth the Moabite, "that I should stay with his servants until they complete his entire harvest."

Rut 2:22 "You would do well, my dear," Naomi rejoined, "to go out with his servants; for in someone else's field you might be insulted."

Rut 2:23 So she stayed gleaning with the servants of Boaz until the end of the barley and wheat harvests.

Rut 3:1 When she was back with her mother-in-law, Naomi said to her, "My daughter, I must seek a home for you that will please you.

Rut 3:2 Now is not Boaz, with whose servants you were, a relative of ours? This evening he will be winnowing barley at the threshing floor.

Rut 3:3 So bathe and anoint yourself; then put on your best attire and go down to the threshing floor. Do not make yourself known to the man before he has finished eating and drinking.

Rut 3:4 But when he lies down, take note of the place where he does so. Then go, uncover a place at his feet, and lie down. He will tell you what to do."

Rut 3:5 "I will do whatever you advise," Ruth replied.

Rut 3:6 So she went down to the threshing floor and did just as her mother-in-law had instructed her.

Rut 3:7 Boaz ate and drank to his heart's content. Then when he went and lay down at the edge of the sheaves, she stole up, uncovered a place at his feet, and lay down.

Rut 3:8 In the middle of the night, however, the man gave a start and turned around to find a woman lying at his feet.

Rut 3:9 He asked, "Who are you?" And she replied, "I am your servant Ruth. Spread the corner of your cloak over me, for you are my next of kin."

Rut 3:10 He said, "May the LORD bless you, my daughter! You have been even more loyal now than before in not going after the young men, whether poor or rich.

Rut 3:11 So be assured, daughter, I will do for you whatever you say; all my townspeople know you for a worthy woman.

Rut 3:12 Now, though indeed I am closely related to you, you have another relative still closer.

Rut 3:13 Stay as you are for tonight, and tomorrow, if he wishes to claim you, good! let him do so. But if he does not wish to claim you, as the LORD lives, I will claim you myself. Lie there until morning."

Rut 3:14 So she lay at his feet until morning, but rose before men could recognize one another. Boaz said, "Let it not be known that this woman came to the threshing floor."

Rut 3:15 Then he said to her, "Take off your cloak and hold it out." When she did so, he poured out six measures of barley, helped her lift the bundle, and left for the city.

Rut 3:16 Ruth went home to her mother-in-law, who asked, "How have you fared, my daughter?" So she told her all the man had done for her,

Rut 3:17 and concluded, "He gave me these six measures of barley because he did not wish me to come back to my mother-in-law emptyhanded!"

Rut 3:18 Naomi then said, "Wait here, my daughter, until you learn what happens, for the man will not rest, but will settle the matter today."

Rut 4:1 Boaz went and took a seat at the gate; and when he saw the closer relative of whom he had spoken come along, he called to him by name, "Come and sit beside me!" And he did so.

Rut 4:2 Then Boaz picked out ten of the elders of the city and asked them to sit nearby. When they had done this,

Rut 4:3 he said to the near relative: "Naomi, who has come back from the Moabite plateau, is putting up for sale the piece of land that belonged to our kinsman Elimelech.

Rut 4:4 So I thought I would inform you, bidding you before those here present, including the elders of my people, to put in your claim for it if you wish to acquire it as next of kin. But if you do not wish to claim it, tell me so, that I may be guided accordingly, for no one has a prior claim to yours, and mine is next." He answered, "I will put in my claim."

Rut 4:5 Boaz continued, "Once you acquire the field from Naomi, you must take also Ruth the Moabite, the widow of the late heir, and raise up a family for the departed on his estate."

Rut 4:6 The near relative replied, "I cannot exercise my claim lest I depreciate my own estate. Put in a claim yourself in my stead, for I cannot exercise my claim."

Rut 4:7 Now it used to be the custom in Israel that, to make binding a contract of redemption or exchange, one party would take off his sandal and give it to the other. This was the form of attestation in Israel.

Rut 4:8 So the near relative, in saying to Boaz, "Acquire it for yourself," drew off his sandal.

Rut 4:9 Boaz then said to the elders and to all the people, "You are witnesses today that I have acquired from Naomi all the holdings of Elimelech, Chilion and Mahlon.

Rut 4:10 I also take Ruth the Moabite, the widow of Mahlon, as my wife, in order to raise up a family for her late husband on his estate, so that the name of the departed may not perish among his kinsmen and fellow citizens. Do you witness this today?"

Rut 4:11 All those at the gate, including the elders, said, "We do so. May the LORD make this wife come into your house like Rachel and Leah, who between them built up the house of Israel. May you do well in Ephrathah and win fame in Bethlehem.

Rut 4:12 With the offspring the LORD will give you from this girl, may your house become like the house of Perez, whom Tamar bore to Judah."

Rut 4:13 Boaz took Ruth. When they came together as man and wife, the LORD enabled her to conceive and she bore a son.

Rut 4:14 Then the women said to Naomi, "Blessed is the LORD who has not failed to provide you today with an heir! May he become famous in Israel!

Rut 4:15 He will be your comfort and the support of your old age, for his mother is the daughter-in-law who loves you. She is worth more to you than seven sons!"

Rut 4:16 Naomi took the child, placed him on her lap, and became his nurse.

Rut 4:17 And the neighbor women gave him his name, at the news that a grandson had been born to Naomi. They called him Obed. He was the father of Jesse, the father of David.

Rut 4:18 These are the descendants of Perez: Perez was the father of Hezron,

Rut 4:19 Hezron was the father of Ram, Ram was the father of Amminadab,

Rut 4:20 Amminadab was the father of Nahshon, Nahshon was the father of Salmon,

Rut 4:21 Salmon was the father of Boaz, Boaz was the father of Obed,

Rut 4:22 Obed was the father of Jesse, and Jesse became the father of David.

1Sa 1:1 There was a certain man from Rama-thaim, Elkanah by name, a Zuphite from the hill country of Ephraim. He was the son of Jeroham, son of Elihu, son of Tohu, son of Zuph, an Ephraimite.

1Sa 1:2 He had two wives, one named Hannah, the other Peninnah; Peninnah had children, but Hannah was childless.

1Sa 1:3 This man regularly went on pilgrimage from his city to worship the LORD of hosts and to sacrifice to him at Shiloh, where the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were ministering as priests of the LORD.

1Sa 1:4 When the day came for Elkanah to offer sacrifice, he used to give a portion each to his wife Peninnah and to all her sons and daughters, 1Sa 1:5 but a double portion to Hannah because he loved her, though the LORD had made her barren.

1Sa 1:6 Her rival, to upset her, turned it into a constant reproach to her that the LORD had left her barren.

1Sa 1:7 This went on year after year; each time they made their pilgrimage to the sanctuary of the LORD, Peninnah would approach her, and Hannah would weep and refuse to eat.

1Sa 1:8 Her husband Elkanah used to ask her: "Hannah, why do you weep, and why do you refuse to eat? Why do you grieve? Am I not more to you than ten sons?"

1Sa 1:9 Hannah rose after one such meal at Shiloh, and presented herself before the LORD; at the time, Eli the priest was sitting on a chair near the doorpost of the LORD'S temple.

1Sa 1:10 In her bitterness she prayed to the LORD, weeping copiously,

1Sa 1:11 and she made a vow, promising: "O LORD of hosts, if you look with pity on the misery of your handmaid, if you remember me and do not forget me, if you give your handmaid a male child, I will give him to the LORD for as long as he lives; neither wine nor liquor shall he drink, and no razor shall ever touch his head."

1Sa 1:12 As she remained long at prayer before the LORD, Eli watched her mouth,

1Sa 1:13 for Hannah was praying silently; though her lips were moving, her voice could not be heard. Eli, thinking her drunk,

1Sa 1:14 said to her, "How long will you make a drunken show of yourself? Sober up from your wine!"

1Sa 1:15 "It isn't that, my lord," Hannah answered. "I am an unhappy woman. I have had neither wine nor liquor; I was only pouring out my troubles to the LORD.

1Sa 1:16 Do not think your handmaid a ne'er-do-well; my prayer has been prompted by my deep sorrow and misery."

1Sa 1:17 Eli said, "Go in peace, and may the God of Israel grant you what you have asked of him."

1Sa 1:18 She replied, "Think kindly of your maidservant," and left. She went to her quarters, ate and drank with her husband, and no longer appeared downcast.

1Sa 1:19 Early the next morning they worshiped before the LORD, and then returned to their home in Ramah. When Elkanah had relations with his wife Hannah, the LORD remembered her.

1Sa 1:20 She conceived, and at the end of her term bore a son whom she called Samuel, since she had asked the LORD for him.

1Sa 1:21 The next time her husband Elkanah was going up with the rest of his household to offer the customary sacrifice to the LORD and to fulfill his vows,

1Sa 1:22 Hannah did not go, explaining to her husband, "Once the child is weaned, I will take him to appear before the LORD and to remain there forever; I will offer him as a perpetual nazirite."

1Sa 1:23 Her husband Elkanah answered her: "Do what you think best; wait until you have weaned him. Only, may the LORD bring your resolve to fulfillment!" And so she remained at home and nursed her son until she had weaned him.

1Sa 1:24 Once he was weaned, she brought him up with her, along with a three-year-old bull, an ephah of flour, and a skin of wine, and presented him at the temple of the LORD in Shiloh.

1Sa 1:25 After the boy's father had sacrificed the young bull, Hannah, his mother, approached Eli

1Sa 1:26 and said: "Pardon, my lord! As you live my lord, I am the woman who stood near you here, praying to the LORD.

1Sa 1:27 I prayed for this child, and the LORD granted my request.

1Sa 1:28 Now I, in turn, give him to the LORD; as long as he lives, he shall be dedicated to the LORD." She left him there;

1Sa 2:1 and as she worshiped the LORD, she said: "My heart exults in the LORD, my horn is exalted in my God. I have swallowed up my enemies; I rejoice in my victory.

1Sa 2:2 There is no Holy One like the LORD; there is no Rock like our God.

1Sa 2:3 "Speak boastfully no longer, nor let arrogance issue from your mouths. For an all-knowing God is the LORD, a God who judges deeds.

1Sa 2:4 The bows of the mighty are broken, while the tottering gird on strength.

1Sa 2:5 The well-fed hire themselves out for bread, while the hungry batten on spoil. The barren wife bears seven sons, while the mother of many languishes.

1Sa 2:6 "The LORD puts to death and gives life; he casts down to the nether world; he raises up again.

1Sa 2:7 The LORD makes poor and makes rich, he humbles, he also exalts.

1Sa 2:8 He raises the needy from the dust; from the ash heap he lifts up the poor, To seat them with nobles and make a glorious throne their heritage. He gives to the vower his vow, and blesses the sleep of the just. "For the pillars of the earth are the LORD'S, and he has set the world upon them.

1Sa 2:9 He will guard the footsteps of his faithful ones, but the wicked shall perish in the darkness. For not by strength does man prevail;

1Sa 2:10 the LORD'S foes shall be shattered. The Most High in heaven thunders; The LORD judges the ends of the earth, Now may he give strength to his king, and exalt the horn of his anointed!"

1Sa 2:11 When Elkanah returned home to Ramah, the child remained in the service of the LORD under the priest Eli.

1Sa 2:12 Now the sons of Eli were wicked; they had respect neither for the LORD

1Sa 2:13 nor for the priests' duties toward the people. When someone offered a sacrifice, the priest's servant would come with a three-pronged fork, while the meat was still boiling,

1Sa 2:14 and would thrust it into the basin, kettle, caldron, or pot. Whatever the fork brought up, the priest would keep. That is how all the Israelites were treated who came to the sanctuary at Shiloh.

1Sa 2:15 In fact, even before the fat was burned, the priest's servant would come and say to the man offering the sacrifice, "Give me some meat to roast for the priest. He will not accept boiled meat from you, only raw meat."

1Sa 2:16 And if the man protested to him, "Let the fat be burned first as is the custom, then take whatever you wish," he would reply, "No, give it to me now, or else I will take it by force."

1Sa 2:17 Thus the young men sinned grievously in the presence of the LORD; they treated the offerings to the LORD with disdain.

1Sa 2:18 Meanwhile the boy Samuel, girt with a linen apron, was serving in the presence of the LORD.

1Sa 2:19 His mother used to make a little garment for him, which she would bring him each time she went up with her husband to offer the customary sacrifice.

1Sa 2:20 And Eli would bless Elkanah and his wife, as they were leaving for home. He would say, "May the LORD repay you with children from this woman for the gift she has made to the LORD!"

1Sa 2:21 The LORD favored Hannah so that she conceived and gave birth to three more sons and two daughters, while young Samuel grew up in the service of the LORD.

1Sa 2:22 When Eli was very old, he heard repeatedly how his sons were treating all Israel (and that they were having relations with the women serving at the entry of the meeting tent).

1Sa 2:23 So he said to them: "Why are you doing such things?"

1Sa 2:24 No, my sons, you must not do these things! It is not a good report that I hear the people of the LORD spreading about you.

1Sa 2:25 If a man sins against another man, one can intercede for him with the LORD; but if a man sins against the LORD, who can intercede for him?" But they disregarded their father's warning, since the LORD had decided on their death.

1Sa 2:26 Meanwhile, young Samuel was growing in stature and in worth in the estimation of the LORD and of men.

1Sa 2:27 A man of God came to Eli and said to him: "This is what the LORD says: 'I went so far as to reveal myself to your father's family when they were in Egypt as slaves to the house of Pharaoh.

1Sa 2:28 I chose them out of all the tribes of Israel to be my priests, to go up to my altar, to burn incense, and to wear the ephod before me; and I assigned all the oblations of the Israelites to your father's family.

1Sa 2:29 Why do you keep a greedy eye on my sacrifices and on the offerings which I have prescribed? And why do you honor your sons in preference to me, fattening yourselves with the choicest part of every offering of my people Israel?'

1Sa 2:30 This, therefore, is the oracle of the LORD, the God of Israel: 'I said in the past that your family and your father's family should minister in my presence forever. But now,' the LORD declares, 'away with this! for I will honor those who honor me, but those who spurn me shall be accursed.

1Sa 2:31 Yes, the time is coming when I will break your strength and the strength of your father's family, so that no man in your family shall reach old age.

1Sa 2:32 You shall witness as a disappointed rival all the benefits enjoyed by Israel, but there shall never be an old man in your family.

1Sa 2:33 I will permit some of your family to remain at my altar, to wear out their eyes in consuming greed; but the rest of the men of your family shall die by the sword.

1Sa 2:34 You shall have a sign in what will happen to your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas: both shall die on the same day.

1Sa 2:35 I will choose a faithful priest who shall do what I have in heart and mind. I will establish a lasting house for him which shall function in the presence of my anointed forever.

1Sa 2:36 Then whoever is left of your family will come to grovel before him for a piece of silver or a loaf of bread, and will say: Appoint me, I beg you, to a priestly function, that I may have a morsel of bread to eat.'"

1Sa 3:1 During the time young Samuel was minister to the LORD under Eli, a revelation of the LORD was uncommon and vision infrequent.

1Sa 3:2 One day Eli was asleep in his usual place. His eyes had lately grown so weak that he could not see.

1Sa 3:3 The lamp of God was not yet extinguished, and Samuel was sleeping in the temple of the LORD where the ark of God was.

1Sa 3:4 The LORD called to Samuel, who answered, "Here I am."

1Sa 3:5 He ran to Eli and said, "Here I am. You called me." "I did not call you," Eli said. "Go back to sleep." So he went back to sleep.

1Sa 3:6 Again the LORD called Samuel, who rose and went to Eli. "Here I am," he said. "You called me." But he answered, "I did not call you, my son. Go back to sleep."

1Sa 3:7 At that time Samuel was not familiar with the LORD, because the LORD had not revealed anything to him as yet.

1Sa 3:8 The LORD called Samuel again, for the third time. Getting up and going to Eli, he said, "Here I am. You called me." Then Eli understood that the LORD was calling the youth.

1Sa 3:9 So he said to Samuel, "Go to sleep, and if you are called, reply, 'Speak, LORD, for your servant is listening.'" When Samuel went to sleep in his place,

1Sa 3:10 the LORD came and revealed his presence, calling out as before, "Samuel, Samuel!" Samuel answered, "Speak, for your servant is listening."

1Sa 3:11 The LORD said to Samuel: "I am about to do something in Israel that will cause the ears of everyone who hears it to ring.

1Sa 3:12 On that day I will carry out in full against Eli everything I threatened against his family.

1Sa 3:13 I announce to him that I am condemning his family once and for all, because of this crime: though he knew his sons were blaspheming God, he did not reprove them.

1Sa 3:14 Therefore, I swear to the family of Eli that no sacrifice or offering will ever expiate its crime."

1Sa 3:15 Samuel then slept until morning, when he got up early and opened the doors of the temple of the LORD. He feared to tell Eli the vision,

1Sa 3:16 but Eli called to him, "Samuel, my son!" He replied, "Here I am."

1Sa 3:17 Then Eli asked, "What did he say to you? Hide nothing from me! May God do thus and so to you if you hide a single thing he told you."

1Sa 3:18 So Samuel told him everything, and held nothing back. Eli answered, "He is the LORD. He will do what he judges best."

1Sa 3:19 Samuel grew up, and the LORD was with him, not permitting any word of his to be without effect.

1Sa 3:20 Thus all Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba came to know that Samuel was an accredited prophet of the LORD.

1Sa 3:21 The LORD continued to appear at Shiloh; he manifested himself to Samuel at Shiloh through his word, 1Sa 4:1 and Samuel spoke to all Israel. At that time, the Philistines gathered for an attack on Israel. Israel went out to engage them in battle and camped at Ebenezer, while the Philistines camped at Aphek.

1Sa 4:2 The Philistines then drew up in battle formation against Israel. After a fierce struggle Israel was defeated by the Philistines, who slew about four thousand men on the battlefield.

1Sa 4:3 When the troops retired to the camp, the elders of Israel said, "Why has the LORD permitted us to be defeated today by the Philistines? Let us fetch the ark of the LORD from Shiloh that it may go into battle among us and save us from the grasp of our enemies."

1Sa 4:4 So the people sent to Shiloh and brought from there the ark of the LORD of hosts, who is enthroned upon the cherubim. The two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, were with the ark of God.

1Sa 4:5 When the ark of the LORD arrived in the camp, all Israel shouted so loudly that the earth resounded.

1Sa 4:6 The Philistines, hearing the noise of shouting, asked, "What can this loud shouting in the camp of the Hebrews mean?" On learning that the ark of the LORD had come into the camp, 1Sa 4:7 the Philistines were frightened. They said, "Gods have come to their camp." They said also, "Woe to us! This has never happened before.

1Sa 4:8 Woe to us! Who can deliver us from the power of these mighty gods? These are the gods that struck the Egyptians with various plagues and with pestilence.

1Sa 4:9 Take courage and be manly, Philistines; otherwise you will become slaves to the Hebrews, as they were your slaves. So fight manfully!"

1Sa 4:10 The Philistines fought and Israel was defeated; every man fled to his own tent. It was a disastrous defeat, in which Israel lost thirty thousand foot soldiers.

1Sa 4:11 The ark of God was captured, and Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, were among the dead.

1Sa 4:12 A Benjaminite fled from the battlefield and reached Shiloh that same day, with his clothes torn and his head covered with dirt.

1Sa 4:13 When he arrived, Eli was sitting in his chair beside the gate, watching the road, for he was troubled at heart about the ark of God. The man, however, went into the city to divulge his news, which put the whole city in an uproar.

1Sa 4:14 Hearing the outcry of the men standing near him, Eli inquired, "What does this commotion mean?"

1Sa 4:15 (Eli was ninety-eight years old, and his eyes would not focus, so that he could not see.)

1Sa 4:16 The man quickly came up to Eli and said, "It is I who have come from the battlefield; I fled from there today." He asked, "What happened, my son?"

1Sa 4:17 And the messenger answered: "Israel fled from the Philistines; in fact, the troops suffered heavy losses. Your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, are among the dead, and the ark of God has been captured."

1Sa 4:18 At this mention of the ark of God, Eli fell backward from his chair into the gateway; since he was an old man and heavy, he died of a broken neck. He had judged Israel for forty years.

1Sa 4:19 His daughter-in-law, the wife of Phinehas, was with child and at the point of giving birth. When she heard the news concerning the capture of the ark and the deaths of her father-in-law and her husband, she was seized with the pangs of labor, and gave birth.

1Sa 4:20 She was about to die when the women standing around her said to her, "Never fear! You have given birth to a son." Yet she neither answered nor paid any attention.

1Sa 4:21 (She named the child Ichabod, saying, "Gone is the glory from Israel," with reference to the capture of the ark of God and to her father-in-law and her husband.)

1Sa 4:22 She said, "Gone is the glory from Israel," because the ark of God had been captured.

1Sa 5:1 The Philistines, having captured the ark of God, transferred it from Ebenezer to Ashdod.

1Sa 5:2 They then took the ark of God and brought it into the temple of Dagon, placing it beside Dagon.

1Sa 5:3 When the people of Ashdod rose early the next morning, Dagon was lying prone on the ground before the ark of the LORD. So they picked Dagon up and replaced him.

1Sa 5:4 But the next morning early, when they arose, Dagon lay prone on the ground before the ark of the LORD, his head and hands broken off and lying on the threshold, his trunk alone intact.

1Sa 5:5 For this reason, neither the priests of Dagon nor any others who enter the temple of Dagon tread on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod to this very day; they always step over it.

1Sa 5:6 Now the LORD dealt severely with the people of Ashdod. He ravaged and afflicted the city and its vicinity with hemorrhoids; he brought upon the city a great and deadly plague of mice that swarmed in their ships and overran their fields.

1Sa 5:7 On seeing how matters stood, the men of Ashdod decided, "The ark of the God of Israel must not remain with us, for he is handling us and our god Dagon severely."

1Sa 5:8 So they summoned all the Philistine lords and inquired of them, "What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel?" The men of Gath replied, "Let them move the ark of the God of Israel on to us."

1Sa 5:9 So they moved the ark of the God of Israel to Gath! But after it had been brought there, the LORD threw the city into utter turmoil: he afflicted its inhabitants, young and old, and hemorrhoids broke out on them.

1Sa 5:10 The ark of God was next sent to Ekron; but as it entered that city, the people there cried out, "Why have they brought the ark of the God of Israel here to kill us and our kindred?"

1Sa 5:11 Then they, too, sent a summons to all the Philistine lords and pleaded: "Send away the ark of the God of Israel. Let it return to its own place, that it may not kill us and our kindred." A deadly panic had seized the whole city, since the hand of God had been very heavy upon it.

1Sa 5:12 Those who escaped death were afflicted with hemorrhoids, and the outcry from the city went up to the heavens.

1Sa 6:1 The ark of the LORD had been in the land of the Philistines seven months

1Sa 6:2 when they summoned priests and fortune-tellers to ask, "What shall we do with the ark of the LORD? Tell us what we should send back with it."

1Sa 6:3 They replied: "If you intend to send away the ark of the God of Israel, you must not send it alone, but must, by all means, make amends to him through a guilt offering. Then you will be healed, and will learn why he continues to afflict you."

1Sa 6:4 When asked further, "What guilt offering should be our amends to him?", they replied: "Five golden hemorrhoids and five golden mice to correspond to the number of Philistine lords, since the same plague has struck all of you and your lords."

1Sa 6:5 Therefore, make images of the hemorrhoids and of the mice that are infesting your land and give them as a tribute to the God of Israel. Perhaps then he will cease to afflict you, your gods, and your land.

1Sa 6:6 Why should you become stubborn, as the Egyptians and Pharaoh were stubborn? Was it not after he had dealt ruthlessly with them that the Israelites were released and departed?

1Sa 6:7 So now set to work and make a new cart. Then take two milch cows that have not borne the yoke; hitch them to the cart, but drive their calves indoors away from them.

1Sa 6:8 You shall next take the ark of the LORD and place it on the cart, putting in a box beside it the golden articles that you are offering, as amends for your guilt. Start it on its way, and let it go.

1Sa 6:9 Then watch! If it goes to Beth-shemesh along the route to his own territory, he has brought this great calamity upon us; if not, we will know it was not he who struck us, but that an accident happened to us."

1Sa 6:10 They acted upon this advice. Taking two milch cows, they hitched them to the cart but shut up their calves indoors.

1Sa 6:11 Then they placed the ark of the LORD on the cart, along with the box containing the golden mice and the images of the hemorrhoids.

1Sa 6:12 The cows went straight for the route to Beth-shemesh and continued along this road, mooing as they went, without turning right or left. The Philistine lords followed them as far as the border of Beth-shemesh.

1Sa 6:13 The people of Beth-shemesh were harvesting the wheat in the valley. When they looked up and spied the ark, they greeted it with rejoicing.

1Sa 6:14 The cart came to the field of Joshua the Beth-shemite and stopped there. At a large stone in the field, the wood of the cart was split up and the cows were offered as a holocaust to the LORD.

1Sa 6:15 The Levites, meanwhile, had taken down the ark of God and the box beside it, in which the golden articles were, and had placed them on the great stone. The men of Beth-shemesh also offered other holocausts and sacrifices to the LORD that day.

1Sa 6:16 After witnessing this, the five Philistine lords returned to Ekron the same day.

1Sa 6:17 The golden hemorrhoids the Philistines sent back as a guilt offering to the LORD were as follows: one for Ashdod, one for Gaza, one for Ashkelon, one for Gath, and one for Ekron.

1Sa 6:18 The golden mice, however, corresponded to the number of all the cities of the Philistines belonging to the five lords, including fortified cities and open villages. The large stone on which the ark of the LORD was placed is still in the field of Joshua the Beth-shemite at the present time.

1Sa 6:19 The descendants of Jeconiah did not join in the celebration with the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh when they greeted the ark of the LORD, and seventy of them were struck down. The people went into mourning at this great calamity with which the LORD had afflicted them.

1Sa 6:20 The men of Beth-shemesh asked, "Who can stand in the presence of this Holy One? To whom shall he go from us?"

1Sa 6:21 They then sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-jearim, saying, "The Philistines have returned the ark of the LORD; come down and get it."

1Sa 7:1 So the inhabitants of Kiriath-jearim came for the ark of the LORD and brought it into the house of Abinadab on the hill, appointing his son Eleazar as guardian of the ark of the LORD.

1Sa 7:2 From the day the ark came to rest in Kiriath-jearim a long time—twenty years—elapsed, and the whole Israelite population turned to the LORD.

1Sa 7:3 Samuel said to them: "If you wish with your whole heart to return to the LORD, put away your foreign gods and your Ashtaroath, devote yourselves to the LORD, and worship him alone. Then he will deliver you from the power of the Philistines."

1Sa 7:4 So the Israelites put away their Baals and Ashtaroath, and worshiped the LORD alone.

1Sa 7:5 Samuel then gave orders, "Gather all Israel to Mizpah, that I may pray to the LORD for you."

1Sa 7:6 When they were gathered at Mizpah, they drew water and poured it out on the ground before the LORD, and they fasted that day, confessing, "We have sinned against the LORD." It was at Mizpah that Samuel began to judge the Israelites.

1Sa 7:7 When the Philistines heard that the Israelites had gathered at Mizpah, their lords went up against Israel. Hearing this, the Israelites became afraid of the Philistines

1Sa 7:8 and said to Samuel, "Implore the LORD our God unceasingly for us, to save us from the clutches of the Philistines."

1Sa 7:9 Samuel therefore took an unweaned lamb and offered it entire as a holocaust to the LORD. He implored the LORD for Israel, and the LORD heard him.

1Sa 7:10 While Samuel was offering the holocaust, the Philistines advanced to join battle with Israel. That day, however, the LORD thundered loudly against the Philistines, and threw them into such confusion that they were defeated by Israel.

1Sa 7:11 Thereupon the Israelites sallied forth from Mizpah and pursued the Philistines, harrying them down beyond Beth-car.

1Sa 7:12 Samuel then took a stone and placed it between Mizpah and Jeshanah; he named it Ebenezer, explaining, "To this point the LORD helped us."

1Sa 7:13 Thus were the Philistines subdued, never again to enter the territory of Israel, for the LORD was severe with them as long as Samuel lived.

1Sa 7:14 The cities from Ekron to Gath which the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to them. Israel also freed the territory of these cities from the dominion of the Philistines. Moreover there was peace between Israel and the Amorites.

1Sa 7:15 Samuel judged Israel as long as he lived.

1Sa 7:16 He made a yearly journey, passing through Bethel, Gilgal and Mizpah and judging Israel at each of these sanctuaries.

1Sa 7:17 Then he used to return to Ramah, for that was his home. There, too, he judged Israel and built an altar to the LORD.

1Sa 8:1 In his old age Samuel appointed his sons judges over Israel.

1Sa 8:2 His first-born was named Joel, his second son, Abijah; they judged at Beer-sheba.

1Sa 8:3 His sons did not follow his example but sought illicit gain and accepted bribes, perverting justice.

1Sa 8:4 Therefore all the elders of Israel came in a body to Samuel at Ramah

1Sa 8:5 and said to him, "Now that you are old, and your sons do not follow your example, appoint a king over us, as other nations have, to judge us."

1Sa 8:6 Samuel was displeased when they asked for a king to judge them. He prayed to the LORD, however,

1Sa 8:7 who said in answer: "Grant the people's every request. It is not you they reject, they are rejecting me as their king.

1Sa 8:8 As they have treated me constantly from the day I brought them up from Egypt to this day, deserting me and worshiping strange gods, so do they treat you too.

1Sa 8:9 Now grant their request; but at the same time, warn them solemnly and inform them of the rights of the king who will rule them."

1Sa 8:10 Samuel delivered the message of the LORD in full to those who were asking him for a king.

1Sa 8:11 He told them: "The rights of the king who will rule you will be as follows: He will take your sons and assign them to his chariots and horses, and they will run before his chariot.

1Sa 8:12 He will also appoint from among them his commanders of groups of a thousand and of a hundred soldiers. He will set them to do his plowing and his harvesting, and to make his implements of war and the equipment of his chariots.

1Sa 8:13 He will use your daughters as ointment-makers, as cooks, and as bakers.

1Sa 8:14 He will take the best of your fields, vineyards, and olive groves, and give them to his officials.

1Sa 8:15 He will tithe your crops and your vineyards, and give the revenue to his eunuchs and his slaves.

1Sa 8:16 He will take your male and female servants, as well as your best oxen and your asses, and use them to do his work.

1Sa 8:17 He will tithe your flocks and you yourselves will become his slaves.

1Sa 8:18 When this takes place, you will complain against the king whom you have chosen, but on that day the LORD will not answer you."

1Sa 8:19 The people, however, refused to listen to Samuel's warning and said, "Not so! There must be a king over us.

1Sa 8:20 We too must be like other nations, with a king to rule us and to lead us in warfare and fight our battles."

1Sa 8:21 When Samuel had listened to all the people had to say, he repeated it to the LORD,

1Sa 8:22 who then said to him, "Grant their request and appoint a king to rule them." Samuel thereupon said to the men of Israel, "Each of you go to his own city."

1Sa 9:1 There was a stalwart man from Benjamin named Kish, who was the son of Abiel, son of Zeror, son of Becorath, son of Aphiah, a Benjaminite.

1Sa 9:2 He had a son named Saul, who was a handsome young man. There was no other Israelite handsomer than Saul; he stood head and shoulders above the people.

1Sa 9:3 Now the asses of Saul's father, Kish, had wandered off. Kish said to his son Saul, "Take one of the servants with you and go out and hunt for the asses."

1Sa 9:4 Accordingly they went through the hill country of Ephraim, and through the land of Shalishah. Not finding them there, they continued through the land of Shaalim without success. They also went through the land of Benjamin, but they failed to find the animals.

1Sa 9:5 When they came to the land of Zuph, Saul said to the servant who was with him, "Come, let us turn back, lest my father forget about the asses and become anxious about us."

1Sa 9:6 The servant replied, "Listen! There is a man of God in this city, a man held in high esteem; all that he says is sure to come true. Let us go there now! Perhaps he can tell us how to accomplish our errand."

1Sa 9:7 But Saul said to his servant, "If we go, what can we offer the man? There is no bread in our bags, and we have no present to give the man of God. What have we?"

1Sa 9:8 Again the servant answered Saul, "I have a quarter of a silver shekel. If I give that to the man of God, he will tell us our way."

1Sa 9:9 (In former times in Israel, anyone who went to consult God used to say, "Come, let us go to the seer." For he who is now called prophet was formerly called seer.)

1Sa 9:10 Saul then said to his servant, "Well said! Come on, let us go!" And they went to the city where the man of God lived.

1Sa 9:11 As they were going up the ascent to the city, they met some girls coming out to draw water and inquired of them, "Is the seer in town?"

1Sa 9:12 The girls answered, "Yes, there-- straight ahead. Hurry now; just today he came to the city, because the people have a sacrifice today on the high place.

1Sa 9:13 When you enter the city, you may reach him before he goes up to the high place to eat. The people will not eat until he arrives; only after he blesses the sacrifice will the invited guests eat. Go up immediately, for you should find him right now."

1Sa 9:14 So they went up to the city. As they entered it, Samuel was coming toward them on his way to the high place.

1Sa 9:15 The day before Saul's arrival, the LORD had given Samuel the revelation:

1Sa 9:16 "At this time tomorrow I will send you a man from the land of Benjamin whom you are to anoint as commander of my people Israel. He shall save my people from the clutches of the Philistines, for I have witnessed their misery and accepted their cry for help."

1Sa 9:17 When Samuel caught sight of Saul, the LORD assured him, "This is the man of whom I told you; he is to govern my people."

1Sa 9:18 Saul met Samuel in the gateway and said, "Please tell me where the seer lives."

1Sa 9:19 Samuel answered Saul: "I am the seer. Go up ahead of me to the high place and eat with me today. In the morning, before dismissing you, I will tell you whatever you wish.

1Sa 9:20 As for the asses you lost three days ago, do not worry about them, for they have been found. Whom does Israel desire ardently if not you and your father's family?"

1Sa 9:21 Saul replied: "Am I not a Benjaminite, of one of the smallest tribes of Israel, and is not my clan the least among the clans of the tribe of Benjamin? Why say such things to me?"

1Sa 9:22 Samuel then took Saul and his servant and brought them to the room, where he placed them at the head of the guests, of whom there were about thirty.

1Sa 9:23 He said to the cook, "Bring the portion I gave you and told you to put aside."

1Sa 9:24 So the cook took up the leg and what went with it, and placed it before Saul. Samuel said: "This is a reserved portion that has been set before you. Eat, for it was kept for you until your arrival; I explained that I was inviting some guests." Thus Saul dined with Samuel that day.

1Sa 9:25 When they came down from the high place into the city, a mattress was spread for Saul on the roof,

1Sa 9:26 and he slept there. At daybreak Samuel called to Saul on the roof, "Get up, and I will start you on your journey." Saul rose, and he and Samuel went outside the city together.

1Sa 9:27 As they were approaching the edge of the town, Samuel said to Saul, "Tell the servant to go on ahead of us, but stay here yourself for the moment, that I may give you a message from God."

1Sa 10:1 Then, from a flask he had with him, Samuel poured oil on Saul's head; he also kissed him, saying: "The LORD anoints you commander over his heritage. You are to govern the LORD'S people Israel, and to save them from the grasp of their enemies round about. "This will be the sign for you that the LORD has anointed you commander over his heritage:

1Sa 10:2 When you leave me today, you will meet two men near Rachel's tomb at Zelzah in the territory of Benjamin, who will say to you, 'The asses you went to look for have been found. Your father is no longer worried about the asses, but is anxious about you and says, What shall I do about my son?'

1Sa 10:3 Farther on, when you arrive at the terebinth of Tabor, you will be met by three men going up to God at Bethel; one will be bringing three kids, another three loaves of bread, and the third a skin of wine.

1Sa 10:4 They will greet you and offer you two wave offerings of bread, which you will take from them.

1Sa 10:5 After that you will come to Gibeath-elohim, where there is a garrison of the Philistines. As you enter that city, you will meet a band of prophets, in a prophetic state, coming down from the high place preceded by lyres, tambourines, flutes and harps.

1Sa 10:6 The spirit of the LORD will rush upon you, and you will join them in their prophetic state and will be changed into another man.

1Sa 10:7 When you see these signs fulfilled, do whatever you judge feasible, because God is with you.

1Sa 10:8 Now go down ahead of me to Gilgal, for I shall come down to you, to offer holocausts and to sacrifice peace offerings. Wait seven days until I come to you; I shall then tell you what you must do."

1Sa 10:9 As Saul turned to leave Samuel, God gave him another heart. That very day all these signs came to pass....

1Sa 10:10 When they were going from there to Gibeah, a band of prophets met him, and the spirit of God rushed upon him, so that he joined them in their prophetic state.

1Sa 10:11 When all who had known him previously saw him in a prophetic state among the prophets, they said to one another, "What has happened to the son of Kish? Is Saul also among the prophets?"

1Sa 10:12 And someone from that district added, "And who is their father?" Thus the proverb arose, "Is Saul also among the prophets?"

1Sa 10:13 When he came out of the prophetic state, he went home.

1Sa 10:14 Saul's uncle inquired of him and his servant, "Where have you been?" Saul replied, "To look for the asses. When we could not find them, we went to Samuel."

1Sa 10:15 Then Saul's uncle said, "Tell me, then, what Samuel said to you."

1Sa 10:16 Saul said to his uncle, "He assured us that the asses had been found." But he mentioned nothing to him of what Samuel had said about the kingship.

1Sa 10:17 Samuel called the people together to the LORD at Mizpah

1Sa 10:18 and addressed the Israelites: "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, 'It was I who brought Israel up from Egypt and delivered you from the power of the Egyptians and from the power of all the kingdoms that oppressed you.'

1Sa 10:19 But today you have rejected your God, who delivers you from all your evils and calamities, by saying to him, 'Not so, but you must appoint a king over us.' Now, therefore, take your stand before the LORD according to tribes and families."

1Sa 10:20 So Samuel had all the tribes of Israel come forward, and the tribe of Benjamin was chosen.

1Sa 10:21 Next he had the tribe of Benjamin come forward in clans, and the clan of Matri was chosen, and finally Saul, son of Kish, was chosen. But they looked for him in vain.

1Sa 10:22 Again they consulted the LORD, "Has he come here?" The LORD answered, "He is hiding among the baggage."

1Sa 10:23 They ran to bring him from there; and when he stood among the people, he was head and shoulders above all the crowd.

1Sa 10:24 Samuel said to all the people, "Do you see the man whom the LORD has chosen? There is none like him among all the people!" Then all the people shouted, "Long live the king!"

1Sa 10:25 Samuel next explained to the people the law of royalty and wrote it in a book, which he placed in the presence of the LORD. This done, Samuel dismissed the people, each to his own place.

1Sa 10:26 Saul also went home to Gibeah, accompanied by warriors whose hearts the LORD had touched.

1Sa 10:27 But certain worthless men said, "How can this fellow save us?" They despised him and brought him no present.

1Sa 11:1 About a month later, Nahash the Ammonite went up and laid siege to Jabesh-gilead. All the men of Jabesh begged Nahash, "Make a treaty with us, and we will be your subjects."

1Sa 11:2 But Nahash the Ammonite replied, "This is my condition for a treaty with you: I must gouge out every man's right eye, that I may thus bring ignominy on all Israel."

1Sa 11:3 The elders of Jabesh said to him: "Give us seven days to send messengers throughout the territory of Israel. If no one rescues us, we will surrender to you."

1Sa 11:4 When the messengers arrived at Gibeah of Saul, they related the news to the people, all of whom wept aloud.

1Sa 11:5 Just then Saul came in from the field, behind his oxen. "Why are the people weeping?" he asked. The message of the inhabitants of Jabesh was repeated to him.

1Sa 11:6 As he listened to this report, the spirit of God rushed upon him and he became very angry.

1Sa 11:7 Taking a yoke of oxen, he cut them into pieces, which he sent throughout the territory of Israel by couriers with the message, "If anyone does not come out to follow Saul (and Samuel), the same as this will be done to his oxen!" In dread of the LORD, the people turned out to a man.

1Sa 11:8 When he reviewed them in Bezek, there were three hundred thousand Israelites and seventy thousand Judahites.

1Sa 11:9 To the messengers who had come he said, "Tell the inhabitants of Jabeshgilead that tomorrow, while the sun is hot, they will be rescued." The messengers came and reported this to the inhabitants of Jabesh, who were jubilant,

1Sa 11:10 and said to Nahash, "Tomorrow we will surrender to you, and you may do whatever you please with us."

1Sa 11:11 On the appointed day, Saul arranged his troops in three companies and invaded the camp during the dawn watch. They slaughtered Ammonites until the heat of the day; by then the survivors were so scattered that no two were left together.

1Sa 11:12 The people then said to Samuel: "Who questioned whether Saul should rule over us? Hand over the men and we will put them to death."

1Sa 11:13 But Saul broke in to say, "No man is to be put to death this day, for today the LORD has saved Israel."

1Sa 11:14 Samuel said to the people, "Come, let us go to Gilgal to inaugurate the kingdom there."

1Sa 11:15 So all the people went to Gilgal, where, in the presence of the LORD, they made Saul king. They also sacrificed peace offerings there before the LORD, and Saul and all the Israelites celebrated the occasion with great joy.

1Sa 12:1 Samuel addressed all Israel: "I have granted your request in every respect," he said. "I have set a king over you

1Sa 12:2 and now the king is your leader. As for me, I am old and gray, and have sons among you. I have lived with you from my youth to the present day.

1Sa 12:3 Here I stand! Answer me in the presence of the LORD and of his anointed. Whose ox have I taken? Whose ass have I taken? Whom have I cheated? Whom have I oppressed? From whom have I accepted a bribe and overlooked his guilt? I will make restitution to you."

1Sa 12:4 They replied, "You have neither cheated us, nor oppressed us, nor accepted anything from anyone."

1Sa 12:5 So he said to them, "The LORD is witness against you this day, and his anointed as well, that you have found nothing in my possession." "He is witness," they agreed.

1Sa 12:6 Continuing, Samuel said to the people: "The LORD is witness, who appointed Moses and Aaron, and who brought your fathers up from the land of Egypt.

1Sa 12:7 Now, therefore, take your stand, and I shall arraign you before the LORD, and shall recount for you all the acts of mercy the LORD has done for you and your fathers.

1Sa 12:8 When Jacob and his sons went to Egypt and the Egyptians oppressed them, your fathers appealed to the LORD, who sent Moses and Aaron to bring them out of Egypt, and he gave them this place to live in.

1Sa 12:9 But they forgot the LORD their God; and he allowed them to fall into the clutches of Sisera, the captain of the army of Jabin, king of Hazor, into the grasp of the Philistines, and into the grip of the king of Moab, who made war against them.

1Sa 12:10 Each time they appealed to the LORD and said, 'We have sinned in forsaking the LORD and worshiping Baals and Ashtaroth; but deliver us now from the power of our enemies, and we will worship you.'

1Sa 12:11 Accordingly, the LORD sent Jerubbaal, Barak, Jephthah, and Samuel; he delivered you from the power of your enemies on every side, so that you were able to live in security.

1Sa 12:12 Yet, when you saw Nahash, king of the Ammonites, advancing against you, you said to me, 'Not so, but a king must rule us,' even though the LORD your God is your king.

1Sa 12:13 "Now you have the king you want, a king the LORD has given you.

1Sa 12:14 If you fear the LORD and worship him, if you are obedient to him and do not rebel against the LORD'S command, if both you and the king who rules you follow the LORD your God-- well and good.

1Sa 12:15 But if you do not obey the LORD and if you rebel against his command, the LORD will deal severely with you and your king, and destroy you.

1Sa 12:16 Now then, stand ready to witness the great marvel the LORD is about to accomplish before your eyes.

1Sa 12:17 Are we not in the harvest time for wheat? Yet I shall call to the LORD, and he will send thunder and rain. Thus you will see and understand how greatly the LORD is displeased that you have asked for a king."

1Sa 12:18 Samuel then called to the LORD, and the LORD sent thunder and rain that day. As a result, all the people dreaded the LORD and Samuel.

1Sa 12:19 They said to Samuel, "Pray to the LORD your God for us, your servants, that we may not die for having added to all our other sins the evil of asking for a king."

1Sa 12:20 "Do not fear," Samuel answered them. "It is true you have committed all this evil; still, you must not turn from the LORD, but must worship him with your whole heart.

1Sa 12:21 Do not turn to meaningless idols which can neither profit nor save; they are nothing.

1Sa 12:22 For the sake of his own great name the LORD will not abandon his people, since the LORD himself chose to make you his people.

1Sa 12:23 As for me, far be it from me to sin against the LORD by ceasing to pray for you and to teach you the good and right way.

1Sa 12:24 But you must fear the LORD and worship him faithfully with your whole heart; keep in mind the great things he has done among you.

1Sa 12:25 If instead you continue to do evil, both you and your king shall perish."

1Sa 13:1 (Saul was... years old when he became king and he reigned... (two) years over Israel.)

1Sa 13:2 Saul chose three thousand men of Israel, of whom two thousand remained with him in Michmash and in the hill country of Bethel, and one thousand were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin. He sent the rest of the people back to their tents.

1Sa 13:3 Now Jonathan overcame the Philistine garrison which was in Gibeah, and the Philistines got word of it. Then Saul sounded the horn throughout the land, with a proclamation, "Let the Hebrews hear!"

1Sa 13:4 Thus all Israel learned that Saul had overcome the garrison of the Philistines and that Israel had brought disgrace upon the Philistines; and the soldiers were called up to Saul in Gilgal.

1Sa 13:5 The Philistines also assembled for battle, with three thousand chariots, six thousand horsemen, and foot soldiers as numerous as the sands of the seashore. Moving up against Israel, they encamped in Michmash, east of Beth-aven.

1Sa 13:6 Some Israelites, aware of the danger and of the difficult situation, hid themselves in caves, in thickets, among rocks, in caverns, and in cisterns, 1Sa 13:7 and other Hebrews passed over the Jordan into the land of Gad and Gilead. Saul, however, held out at Gilgal, although all his followers were seized with fear.

1Sa 13:8 He waited seven days-- the time Samuel had determined. When Samuel did not arrive at Gilgal, the men began to slip away from Saul.

1Sa 13:9 He then said, "Bring me the holocaust and peace offerings," and he offered up the holocaust.

1Sa 13:10 He had just finished this offering when Samuel arrived. Saul went out to greet him,

1Sa 13:11 and Samuel asked him, "What have you done?" Saul replied: "When I saw that the men were slipping away from me, since you had not come by the specified time, and with the Philistines assembled at Michmash, 1Sa 13:12 I said to myself, 'Now the Philistines will come down against me at Gilgal, and I have not yet sought the LORD'S blessing.' So in my anxiety I offered up the holocaust."

1Sa 13:13 Samuel's response was: "You have been foolish! Had you kept the command the LORD your God gave you, the LORD would now establish your kingship in Israel as lasting;

1Sa 13:14 but as things are, your kingdom shall not endure. The LORD has sought out a man after his own heart and has appointed him commander of his people, because you broke the LORD'S command."

1Sa 13:15 Then Samuel set out from Gilgal and went his own way; but the rest of the people went up after Saul to meet the soldiers, going from Gilgal to Gibeah of Benjamin. Saul then numbered the soldiers he had with him, who were about six hundred.

1Sa 13:16 Saul, his son Jonathan, and the soldiers they had with them were now occupying Geba of Benjamin, and the Philistines were encamped at Michmash.

1Sa 13:17 Meanwhile, raiders left the camp of the Philistines in three bands. One band took the Ophrah road toward the district of Shual;

1Sa 13:18 another turned in the direction of Beth-horon; and the third took the road for Geba that overlooks the Valley of the Hyenas toward the desert.

1Sa 13:19 Not a single smith was to be found in the whole land of Israel, for the Philistines had said, "Otherwise the Hebrews will make swords or spears."

1Sa 13:20 All Israel, therefore, had to go down to the Philistines to sharpen their plowshares, mattocks, axes, and sickles.

1Sa 13:21 The price for the plowshares and mattocks was two-thirds of a shekel, and a third of a shekel for sharpening the axes and for setting the ox-goads.

1Sa 13:22 And so on the day of battle neither sword nor spear could be found in the possession of any of the soldiers with Saul or Jonathan. Only Saul and his son Jonathan had them.

1Sa 13:23 An outpost of the Philistines had pushed forward to the pass of Michmash.

1Sa 14:1 One day Jonathan, son of Saul, said to his armor-bearer, "Come let us go over to the Philistine outpost on the other side." But he did not inform his father.

1Sa 14:2 (Saul's command post was under the pomegranate tree near the threshing floor on the outskirts of Geba; those with him numbered about six hundred men.

1Sa 14:3 Ahijah, son of Ahitub, brother of Ichabod, who was the son of Phinehas, son of Eli, the priest of the LORD at Shiloh, was wearing the ephod.) Nor did the soldiers know that Jonathan had gone.

1Sa 14:4 Flanking the ravine through which Jonathan intended to get over to the Philistine outpost there was a rocky crag on each side, one called Bozez, the other Seneh.

1Sa 14:5 One crag was to the north, toward Michmash, the other to the south, toward Geba.

1Sa 14:6 Jonathan said to his armor-bearer: "Come let us go over to that outpost of the uncircumcised. Perhaps the LORD will help us, because it is no more difficult for the LORD to grant victory through a few than through many."

1Sa 14:7 His armor-bearer replied, "Do whatever you are inclined to do; I will match your resolve."

1Sa 14:8 Jonathan continued: "We shall go over to those men and show ourselves to them.

1Sa 14:9 If they say to us, 'Stay there until we can come to you,' we shall stop where we are; we shall not go up to them.

1Sa 14:10 But if they say, 'Come up to us,' we shall go up, because the LORD has delivered them into our grasp. That will be our sign."

1Sa 14:11 Accordingly, the two of them appeared before the outpost of the Philistines, who said, "Look, some Hebrews are coming out of the holes where they have been hiding."

1Sa 14:12 The men of the outpost called to Jonathan and his armor-bearer. "Come up here," they said, "and we will teach you a lesson." So Jonathan said to his armor-bearer, "Climb up after me, for the LORD has delivered them into the grasp of Israel."

1Sa 14:13 Jonathan clambered up with his armor-bearer behind him; as the Philistines turned to flee him, he cut them down, and his armor-bearer followed him and finished them off.

1Sa 14:14 In this first exploit Jonathan and his armor-bearer slew about twenty men within half a furlong.

1Sa 14:15 Then panic spread to the army and to the countryside, and all the soldiers, including the outpost and the raiding parties, were terror-stricken. The earth also shook, so that the panic was beyond human endurance.
1Sa 14:16 The lookouts of Saul in Geba of Benjamin saw that the enemy camp had scattered and were running about in all directions.

1Sa 14:17 Saul said to those around him, "Count the troops and find out if any of us are missing." When they had investigated, they found Jonathan and his armor-bearer missing.

1Sa 14:18 Saul then said to Ahijah, "Bring the ephod here." (Ahijah was wearing the ephod in front of the Israelites at that time.)

1Sa 14:19 While Saul was speaking to the priest, the tumult in the Philistine camp kept increasing. So he said to the priest, "Withdraw your hand."

1Sa 14:20 And Saul and all his men shouted and rushed into the fight, where the Philistines, wholly confused, were thrusting swords at one another.

1Sa 14:21 In addition, the Hebrews who had previously sided with the Philistines and had gone up with them to the camp, turned to join the Israelites under Saul and Jonathan.

1Sa 14:22 Likewise, all the Israelites who were hiding in the hill country of Ephraim, on hearing that the Philistines were fleeing, pursued them in the rout.

1Sa 14:23 Thus the LORD saved Israel that day. The battle continued past Beth-horon;

1Sa 14:24 the whole people, about ten thousand combatants, were with Saul, and there was scattered fighting in every town in the hill country of Ephraim. And Saul swore a very rash oath that day, putting the people under this ban: "Cursed be the man who takes food before evening, before I am able to avenge myself on my enemies." So none of the people tasted food.

1Sa 14:25 Indeed, there was a honeycomb lying on the ground,

1Sa 14:26 and when the soldiers came to the comb the swarm had left it; yet no one would raise a hand to his mouth from it, because the people feared the oath.

1Sa 14:27 Jonathan, who had not heard that his father had put the people under oath, thrust out the end of the staff he was holding and dipped in into the honey. Then he raised it to his mouth and his eyes lit up.

1Sa 14:28 At this one of the soldiers spoke up: "Your father put the people under a strict oath, saying, 'Cursed be the man who takes food this day!' As a result the people are weak."

1Sa 14:29 Jonathan replied: "My father brings trouble to the land. Look how bright my eyes are from this small taste of honey I have had.

1Sa 14:30 What is more, if the people had eaten freely today of their enemy's booty when they came across it, would not the slaughter of the Philistines by now have been the greater for it?"

1Sa 14:31 After the Philistines were routed that day from Michmash to Aijalon, the people were completely exhausted.

1Sa 14:32 So they pounced upon the spoil and took sheep, oxen and calves, slaughtering them on the ground and eating the flesh with blood.

1Sa 14:33 Informed that the people were sinning against the LORD by eating the flesh with blood, Saul said: "You have broken faith. Roll a large stone here for me."

1Sa 14:34 He continued: "Mingle with the people and tell each of them to bring his ox or his sheep to me. Slaughter it here and then eat, but you must not sin against the LORD by eating the flesh with blood." So everyone brought to the LORD whatever ox he had seized, and they slaughtered them there;

1Sa 14:35 and Saul built an altar to the LORD-- this was the first time he built an altar to the LORD.

1Sa 14:36 Then Saul said, "Let us go down in pursuit of the Philistines by night, to plunder among them until daybreak and to kill them all off." They replied, "Do what you think best." But the priest said, "Let us consult God."

1Sa 14:37 So Saul inquired of God: "Shall I go down in pursuit of the Philistines? Will you deliver them into the power of Israel?" But he received no answer on this occasion.

1Sa 14:38 Saul then said, "Come here, all officers of the army. We must investigate and find out how this sin was committed today.

1Sa 14:39 As the LORD lives who has given victory to Israel, even if my son Jonathan has committed it, he shall surely die!" But none of the people answered him.

1Sa 14:40 So he said to all Israel, "Stand on one side, and I and my son Jonathan will stand on the other." The people responded, "Do what you think best."

1Sa 14:41 And Saul said to the LORD, the God of Israel: "Why did you not answer your servant this time? If the blame for this resides in me or my son Jonathan, LORD, God of Israel, respond with Urim; but if this guilt is in your people Israel, respond with Thummim." Jonathan and Saul were designated, and the people went free.

1Sa 14:42 Saul then said, "Cast lots between me and my son Jonathan." And Jonathan was designated.

1Sa 14:43 Saul said to Jonathan, "Tell me what you have done." Jonathan replied, "I only tasted a little honey from the end of the staff I was holding. Am I to die for this?"

1Sa 14:44 Saul said, "May God do thus and so to me if you do not indeed die, Jonathan!"

1Sa 14:45 But the army said to Saul: "Is Jonathan to die, though it was he who brought Israel this great victory? This must not be! As the LORD lives, not a single hair of his head shall fall to the ground, for God was with him in what he did today!" Thus the soldiers were able to rescue Jonathan from death.

1Sa 14:46 After that Saul gave up the pursuit of the Philistines, who returned to their own territory.

1Sa 14:47 After taking over the kingship of Israel, Saul waged war on all their surrounding enemies-- Moab, the Ammonites, Aram, Beth-rehob, the king of Zobah, and the Philistines. Wherever he turned, he was successful

1Sa 14:48 and fought bravely. He defeated Amalek and delivered Israel from the hands of those who were plundering them.

1Sa 14:49 The sons of Saul were Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchishua; his two daughters were named, the elder, Merob, and the younger, Michal.

1Sa 14:50 Saul's wife, who was named Ahinoam, was the daughter of Ahimaaz. The name of his general was Abner, son of Saul's uncle, Ner; 1Sa 14:51 Kish, Saul's father, and Ner, Abner's father, were sons of Abiel.

1Sa 14:52 An unremitting war was waged against the Philistines during Saul's lifetime. When Saul saw any strong or brave man, he took him into his service.

1Sa 15:1 Samuel said to Saul: "It was I the LORD sent to anoint you king over his people Israel. Now, therefore, listen to the message of the LORD.

1Sa 15:2 This is what the LORD of hosts has to say: 'I will punish what Amalek did to Israel when he barred his way as he was coming up from Egypt.

1Sa 15:3 Go, now, attack Amalek, and deal with him and all that he has under the ban. Do not spare him, but kill men and women, children and infants, oxen and sheep, camels and asses."

1Sa 15:4 Saul alerted the soldiers, and at Telaim reviewed two hundred thousand foot soldiers and ten thousand men of Judah.

1Sa 15:5 Saul went to the city of Amalek, and after setting an ambush in the wadi,

1Sa 15:6 warned the Kenites: "Come! Leave Amalek and withdraw, that I may not have to destroy you with them, for you were kind to the Israelites when they came up from Egypt." After the Kenites left, 1Sa 15:7 Saul routed Amalek from Havilah to the approaches of Shur, on the frontier of Egypt.

1Sa 15:8 He took Agag, king of Amalek, alive, but on the rest of the people he put into effect the ban of destruction by the sword.

1Sa 15:9 He and his troops spared Agag and the best of the fat sheep and oxen, and the lambs. They refused to carry out the doom on anything that was worthwhile, dooming only what was worthless and of no account.

1Sa 15:10 Then the LORD spoke to Samuel:

1Sa 15:11 "I regret having made Saul king, for he has turned from me and has not kept my command." At this Samuel grew angry and cried out to the LORD all night.

1Sa 15:12 Early in the morning he went to meet Saul, but was informed that Saul had gone to Carmel, where he erected a trophy in his own honor, and that on his return he had passed on and gone down to Gilgal.

1Sa 15:13 When Samuel came to him, Saul greeted him: "The LORD bless you! I have kept the command of the LORD."

1Sa 15:14 But Samuel asked, "What, then, is the meaning of this bleating of sheep that comes to my ears, and the lowing of oxen that I hear?"

1Sa 15:15 Saul replied: "They were brought from Amalek. The men spared the best sheep and oxen to sacrifice to the LORD, your God; but we have carried out the ban on the rest."

1Sa 15:16 Samuel said to Saul: "Stop! Let me tell you what the LORD said to me last night." "Speak!" he replied.

1Sa 15:17 Samuel then said: "Though little in your own esteem, are you not leader of the tribes of Israel? The LORD anointed you king of Israel

1Sa 15:18 and sent you on a mission, saying, 'Go and put the sinful Amalekites under a ban of destruction. Fight against them until you have exterminated them.'

1Sa 15:19 Why then have you disobeyed the LORD? You have pounced on the spoil, thus displeasing the LORD."

1Sa 15:20 Saul answered Samuel: "I did indeed obey the LORD and fulfill the mission on which the LORD sent me. I have brought back Agag, and I have destroyed Amalek under the ban.

1Sa 15:21 But from the spoil the men took sheep and oxen, the best of what had been banned, to sacrifice to the LORD their God in Gilgal."

1Sa 15:22 But Samuel said: "Does the LORD so delight in holocausts and sacrifices as in obedience to the command of the LORD? Obedience is better than sacrifice, and submission than the fat of rams.

1Sa 15:23 For a sin like divination is rebellion, and presumption is the crime of idolatry. Because you have rejected the command of the LORD, he, too, has rejected you as ruler."

1Sa 15:24 Saul replied to Samuel: "I have sinned, for I have disobeyed the command of the LORD and your instructions. In my fear of the people, I did what they said.

1Sa 15:25 Now forgive my sin, and return with me, that I may worship the LORD."

1Sa 15:26 But Samuel said to Saul, "I will not return with you, because you rejected the command of the LORD and the LORD rejects you as king of Israel."

1Sa 15:27 As Samuel turned to go, Saul seized a loose end of his mantle, and it tore off.

1Sa 15:28 So Samuel said to him: "The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel from you this day, and has given it to a neighbor of yours, who is better than you.

1Sa 15:29 The Glory of Israel neither retracts nor repents, for he is not man that he should repent."

1Sa 15:30 But he answered: "I have sinned, yet honor me now before the elders of my people and before Israel. Return with me that I may worship the LORD your God."

1Sa 15:31 And so Samuel returned with him, and Saul worshiped the LORD.

1Sa 15:32 Afterward Samuel commanded, "Bring Agag, king of Amalek, to me." Agag came to him struggling and saying, "So it is bitter death!"

1Sa 15:33 And Samuel said, "As your sword has made women childless, so shall your mother be childless among women." Then he cut Agag down before the LORD in Gilgal.

1Sa 15:34 Samuel departed for Ramah, while Saul went up to his home in Gibeah of Saul.

1Sa 15:35 Never again, as long as he lived, did Samuel see Saul. Yet he grieved over Saul, because the LORD regretted having made him king of Israel.

1Sa 16:1 The LORD said to Samuel: "How long will you grieve for Saul, whom I have rejected as king of Israel? Fill your horn with oil, and be on your way. I am sending you to Jesse of Bethlehem, for I have chosen my king from among his sons."

1Sa 16:2 But Samuel replied: "How can I go? Saul will hear of it and kill me." To this the LORD answered: "Take a heifer along and say, 'I have come to sacrifice to the LORD.'

1Sa 16:3 Invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I myself will tell you what to do; you are to anoint for me the one I point out to you."

1Sa 16:4 Samuel did as the LORD had commanded him. When he entered Bethlehem, the elders of the city came trembling to meet him and inquired, "Is your visit peaceful, O seer?"

1Sa 16:5 He replied: "Yes! I have come to sacrifice to the LORD. So cleanse yourselves and join me today for the banquet." He also had Jesse and his sons cleanse themselves and invited them to the sacrifice.

1Sa 16:6 As they came, he looked at Eliab and thought, "Surely the LORD'S anointed is here before him."

1Sa 16:7 But the LORD said to Samuel: "Do not judge from his appearance or from his lofty stature, because I have rejected him. Not as man sees does God see, because man sees the appearance but the LORD looks into the heart."

1Sa 16:8 Then Jesse called Abinadab and presented him before Samuel, who said, "The Lord has not chosen him."

1Sa 16:9 Next Jesse presented Shammah, but Samuel said, "The LORD has not chosen this one either."

1Sa 16:10 In the same way Jesse presented seven sons before Samuel, but Samuel said to Jesse, "The LORD has not chosen any one of these."

1Sa 16:11 Then Samuel asked Jesse, "Are these all the sons you have?" Jesse replied, "There is still the youngest, who is tending the sheep." Samuel said to Jesse, "Send for him; we will not begin the sacrificial banquet until he arrives here."

1Sa 16:12 Jesse sent and had the young man brought to them. He was ruddy, a youth handsome to behold and making a splendid appearance. The LORD said, "There-- anoint him, for this is he!"

1Sa 16:13 Then Samuel, with the horn of oil in hand, anointed him in the midst of his brothers; and from that day on, the spirit of the LORD rushed upon David. When Samuel took his leave, he went to Ramah.

1Sa 16:14 The spirit of the LORD had departed from Saul, and he was tormented by an evil spirit sent by the LORD.

1Sa 16:15 So the servants of Saul said to him: "Please! An evil spirit from God is tormenting you.

1Sa 16:16 If your lordship will order it, we, your servants here in attendance on you, will look for a man skilled in playing the harp. When the evil spirit from God comes over you, he will play and you will feel better."

1Sa 16:17 Saul then told his servants, "Find me a skillful harpist and bring him to me."

1Sa 16:18 A servant spoke up to say: "I have observed that one of the sons of Jesse of Bethlehem is a skillful harpist. He is also a stalwart soldier, besides being an able speaker, and handsome. Moreover, the LORD is with him."

1Sa 16:19 Accordingly, Saul dispatched messengers to ask Jesse to send him his son David, who was with the flock.

1Sa 16:20 Then Jesse took five loaves of bread, a skin of wine, and a kid, and sent them to Saul by his son David.

1Sa 16:21 Thus David came to Saul and entered his service. Saul became very fond of him, made him his armor-bearer,
1Sa 16:22 and sent Jesse the message, "Allow David to remain in my service, for he meets with my approval."
1Sa 16:23 Whenever the spirit from God seized Saul, David would take the harp and play, and Saul would be relieved and feel better, for the evil spirit would leave him.
1Sa 17:1 The Philistines rallied their forces for battle at Socoh in Judah and camped between Socoh and Azekah at Ephes-dammim.
1Sa 17:2 Saul and the Israelites also gathered and camped in the Vale of the Terebinth, drawing up their battle line to meet the Philistines.
1Sa 17:3 The Philistines were stationed on one hill and the Israelites on an opposite hill, with a valley between them.
1Sa 17:4 A champion named Goliath of Gath came out from the Philistine camp; he was six and a half feet tall.
1Sa 17:5 He had a bronze helmet on his head and wore a bronze corselet of scale armor weighing five thousand shekels,
1Sa 17:6 and bronze greaves, and had a bronze scimitar slung from a baldric.
1Sa 17:7 The shaft of his javelin was like a weaver's heddle-bar, and its iron head weighed six hundred shekels. His shield-bearer went before him.
1Sa 17:8 He stood and shouted to the ranks of Israel: "Why come out in battle formation? I am a Philistine, and you are Saul's servants. Choose one of your men, and have him come down to me."
1Sa 17:9 If he beats me in combat and kills me, we will be your vassals; but if I beat him and kill him, you shall be our vassals and serve us."
1Sa 17:10 The Philistine continued: "I defy the ranks of Israel today. Give me a man and let us fight together."
1Sa 17:11 Saul and all the men of Israel, when they heard this challenge of the Philistine, were dismayed and terror-stricken.
1Sa 17:12 (David was the son of an Ephrathite named Jesse, who was from Bethlehem in Judah. He had eight sons, and in the days of Saul was old and well on in years.
1Sa 17:13 The three oldest sons of Jesse had followed Saul to war; these three sons who had gone off to war were named, the first-born Eliab, the second son Abinadab, and the third Shammah.
1Sa 17:14 David was the youngest. While the three oldest had joined Saul, 1Sa 17:15 David would go and come from Saul to tend his father's sheep at Bethlehem.
1Sa 17:16 (Meanwhile the Philistine came forward and took his stand morning and evening for forty days.
1Sa 17:17 (Now Jesse said to his son David: "Take this ephah of roasted grain and these ten loaves for your brothers, and bring them quickly to your brothers in the camp.
1Sa 17:18 Also take these ten cheeses for the field officer. Greet your brothers and bring home some token from them.
1Sa 17:19 Saul, and they, and all Israel are fighting against the Philistines in the Vale of the Terebinth."
1Sa 17:20 Early the next morning, having left the flock with a shepherd, David set out on his errand, as Jesse had commanded him. He reached the barricade of the camp just as the army, on their way to the battleground, were shouting their battle cry.
1Sa 17:21 The Israelites and the Philistines drew up opposite each other in battle array.
1Sa 17:22 David entrusted what he had brought to the keeper of the baggage and hastened to the battle line, where he greeted his brothers.
1Sa 17:23 While he was talking with them, the Philistine champion, by name Goliath of Gath, came up from the ranks of the Philistines and spoke as before, and David listened.
1Sa 17:24 When the Israelites saw the man, they all retreated before him, very much afraid.
1Sa 17:25 The Israelites had been saying: "Do you see this man coming up? He comes up to insult Israel. If anyone should kill him, the king would give him great wealth, and his daughter as well, and would grant exemption to his father's family in Israel."
1Sa 17:26 David now said to the men standing by: "What will be done for the man who kills this Philistine and frees Israel of the disgrace? Who is this uncircumcised Philistine in any case, that he should insult the armies of the living God?"
1Sa 17:27 They repeated the same words to him and said, "That is how the man who kills him will be rewarded."
1Sa 17:28 When Eliab, his oldest brother, heard him speaking with the men, he grew angry with David and said: "Why did you come down? With whom have you left those sheep in the desert meanwhile? I know your arrogance and your evil intent. You came down to enjoy the battle!"
1Sa 17:29 David replied, "What have I done now?-- I was only talking."
1Sa 17:30 Yet he turned from him to another and asked the same question; and everyone gave him the same answer as before.

1Sa 17:31 The words that David had spoken were overheard and reported to Saul, who sent for him.)

1Sa 17:32 Then David spoke to Saul: "Let your majesty not lose courage. I am at your service to go and fight this Philistine."

1Sa 17:33 But Saul answered David, "You cannot go up against this Philistine and fight with him, for you are only a youth, while he has been a warrior from his youth."

1Sa 17:34 Then David told Saul: "Your servant used to tend his father's sheep, and whenever a lion or bear came to carry off a sheep from the flock, 1Sa 17:35 I would go after it and attack it and rescue the prey from its mouth. If it attacked me, I would seize it by the jaw, strike it, and kill it.

1Sa 17:36 Your servant has killed both a lion and a bear, and this uncircumcised Philistine will be as one of them, because he has insulted the armies of the living God."

1Sa 17:37 David continued: "The LORD, who delivered me from the claws of the lion and the bear, will also keep me safe from the clutches of this Philistine." Saul answered David, "Go! the LORD will be with you."

1Sa 17:38 Then Saul clothed David in his own tunic, putting a bronze helmet on his head and arming him with a coat of mail.

1Sa 17:39 David also girded himself with Saul's sword over the tunic. He walked with difficulty, however, since he had never tried armor before. He said to Saul, "I cannot go in these, because I have never tried them before." So he took them off.

1Sa 17:40 Then, staff in hand, David selected five smooth stones from the wadi and put them in the pocket of his shepherd's bag. With his sling also ready to hand, he approached the Philistine.

1Sa 17:41 With his shield-bearer marching before him, the Philistine also advanced closer and closer to David.

1Sa 17:42 When he had sized David up, and seen that he was youthful, and ruddy, and handsome in appearance, he held him in contempt.

1Sa 17:43 The Philistine said to David, "Am I a dog that you come against me with a staff?" Then the Philistine cursed David by his gods

1Sa 17:44 and said to him, "Come here to me, and I will leave your flesh for the birds of the air and the beasts of the field."

1Sa 17:45 David answered him: "You come against me with sword and spear and scimitar, but I come against you in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel that you have insulted.

1Sa 17:46 Today the LORD shall deliver you into my hand; I will strike you down and cut off your head. This very day I will leave your corpse and the corpses of the Philistine army for the birds of the air and the beasts of the field; thus the whole land shall learn that Israel has a God.

1Sa 17:47 All this multitude, too, shall learn that it is not by sword or spear that the LORD saves. For the battle is the LORD'S, and he shall deliver you into our hands."

1Sa 17:48 The Philistine then moved to meet David at close quarters, while David ran quickly toward the battle line in the direction of the Philistine.

1Sa 17:49 David put his hand into the bag and took out a stone, hurled it with the sling, and struck the Philistine on the forehead. The stone embedded itself in his brow, and he fell prostrate on the ground.

1Sa 17:50 (Thus David overcame the Philistine with sling and stone; he struck the Philistine mortally, and did it without a sword.)

1Sa 17:51 Then David ran and stood over him; with the Philistine's own sword (which he drew from its sheath) he dispatched him and cut off his head. When they saw that their hero was dead, the Philistines took to flight.

1Sa 17:52 Then the men of Israel and Judah, with loud shouts, went in pursuit of the Philistines to the approaches of Gath and to the gates of Ekron, and Philistines fell wounded along the road from Shaaraim as far as Gath and Ekron.

1Sa 17:53 On their return from the pursuit of the Philistines, the Israelites looted their camp.

1Sa 17:54 David took the head of the Philistine and brought it to Jerusalem; but he kept Goliath's armor in his own tent.

1Sa 17:55 (When Saul saw David go out to meet the Philistine, he asked his general Abner, "Abner, whose son is that youth?" Abner replied, "As truly as your majesty is alive, I have no idea."

1Sa 17:56 And the king said, "Find out whose son the lad is."

1Sa 17:57 So when David returned from slaying the Philistine, Abner took him and presented him to Saul. David was still holding the Philistine's head.

1Sa 17:58 Saul then asked him, "Whose son are you, young man?" David replied, "I am the son of your servant Jesse of Bethlehem."

1Sa 18:1 (By the time David finished speaking with Saul, Jonathan had become as fond of David as if his life depended on him; he loved him as he loved himself.

1Sa 18:2 Saul laid claim to David that day and did not allow him to return to his father's house.

1Sa 18:3 And Jonathan entered into a bond with David, because he loved him as himself.

1Sa 18:4 Jonathan divested himself of the mantle he was wearing and gave it to David, along with his military dress, and his sword, his bow and his belt.

1Sa 18:5 David then carried out successfully every mission on which Saul sent him. So Saul put him in charge of his soldiers, and this was agreeable to the whole army, even to Saul's own officers.)

1Sa 18:6 At the approach of Saul and David (on David's return after slaying the Philistine), women came out from each of the cities of Israel to meet King Saul, singing and dancing, with tambourines, joyful songs, and sistrums.

1Sa 18:7 The women played and sang: "Saul has slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands."

1Sa 18:8 Saul was very angry and resentful of the song, for he thought: "They give David ten thousands, but only thousands to me. All that remains for him is the kingship."

1Sa 18:9 (And from that day on, Saul was jealous of David.)

1Sa 18:10 (The next day an evil spirit from God came over Saul, and he raged in his house. David was in attendance, playing the harp as at other times, while Saul was holding his spear.)

1Sa 18:11 Saul poised the spear, thinking to nail David to the wall, but twice David escaped him.)

1Sa 18:12 Saul then began to fear David, (because the LORD was with him, but had departed from Saul himself.)

1Sa 18:13 Accordingly, Saul removed him from his presence by appointing him a field officer. So David led the people on their military expeditions, 1Sa 18:14 and prospered in all his enterprises, for the LORD was with him.

1Sa 18:15 Seeing how successful he was, Saul conceived a fear of David:

1Sa 18:16 on the other hand, all Israel and Judah loved him, since he led them on their expeditions.

1Sa 18:17 (Saul said to David, "There is my older daughter, Merob, whom I will give you in marriage if you become my champion and fight the battles of the LORD." Saul had in mind, "I shall not touch him; let the Philistines strike him.")

1Sa 18:18 But David answered Saul: "Who am I? And who are my kin or my father's clan in Israel that I should become the king's son-in-law?"

1Sa 18:19 However, when it was time for Saul's daughter Merob to be given to David, she was given in marriage to Adriel the Meholathite instead.)

1Sa 18:20 Now Saul's daughter Michal loved David, and it was reported to Saul, who was pleased at this,

1Sa 18:21 for he thought, "I will offer her to him to become a snare for him, so that the Philistines may strike him." (Thus for the second time Saul said to David, "You shall become my son-in-law today.")

1Sa 18:22 Saul then ordered his servants to speak to David privately and to say: "The king is fond of you, and all his officers love you. You should become the king's son-in-law."

1Sa 18:23 But when Saul's servants mentioned this to David, he said: "Do you think it easy to become the king's son-in-law? I am poor and insignificant."

1Sa 18:24 When his servants reported to him the nature of David's answer,

1Sa 18:25 Saul commanded them to say this to David: "The king desires no other price for the bride than the foreskins of one hundred Philistines, that he may thus take vengeance on his enemies." Saul intended in this way to bring about David's death through the Philistines.

1Sa 18:26 When the servants reported this offer to David, he was pleased with the prospect of becoming the king's son-in-law. (Before the year was up,)

1Sa 18:27 David made preparations and sallied forth with his men and slew two hundred Philistines. He brought back their foreskins and counted them out before the king, that he might thus become the king's son-in-law. So Saul gave him his daughter Michal in marriage.

1Sa 18:28 Saul thus came to recognize that the LORD was with David; besides, his own daughter Michal loved David.

1Sa 18:29 Therefore Saul feared David all the more (and was his enemy ever after).

1Sa 18:30 (The Philistine chiefs continued to make forays, but each time they took the field, David was more successful against them than any other of Saul's officers, and as a result acquired great fame.)

1Sa 19:1 Saul discussed his intention of killing David with his son Jonathan and with all his servants. But Saul's son Jonathan, who was very fond of David,

1Sa 19:2 told him: "My father Saul is trying to kill you. Therefore, please be on your guard tomorrow morning; get out of sight and remain in hiding."

1Sa 19:3 I, however, will go out and stand beside my father in the countryside where you are, and will speak to him about you. If I learn anything, I will let you know."

1Sa 19:4 Jonathan then spoke well of David to his father Saul, saying to him: "Let not your majesty sin against his servant David, for he has committed no offense against you, but has helped you very much by his deeds."

1Sa 19:5 When he took his life in his hands and slew the Philistine, and the LORD brought about a great victory for all Israel through him, you were glad to see it. Why, then, should you become guilty of shedding innocent blood by killing David without cause?"

1Sa 19:6 Saul heeded Jonathan's plea and swore, "As the LORD lives, he shall not be killed."

1Sa 19:7 So Jonathan summoned David and repeated the whole conversation to him. Jonathan then brought David to Saul, and David served him as before.

1Sa 19:8 When war broke out again, David went out to fight against the Philistines and inflicted a great defeat upon them, putting them to flight.

1Sa 19:9 Then an evil spirit from the LORD came upon Saul as he was sitting in his house with spear in hand and David was playing the harp nearby.

1Sa 19:10 Saul tried to nail David to the wall with the spear, but David eluded Saul, so that the spear struck only the wall, and David got away safe.

1Sa 19:11 The same night, Saul sent messengers to David's house to guard it, that he might kill him in the morning. David's wife Michal informed him, "Unless you save yourself tonight, tomorrow you will be killed."

1Sa 19:12 Then Michal let David down through a window, and he made his escape in safety.

1Sa 19:13 Michal took the household idol and laid it in the bed, putting a net of goat's hair at its head and covering it with a spread.

1Sa 19:14 When Saul sent messengers to arrest David, she said, "He is sick."

1Sa 19:15 Saul, however, sent the messengers back to see David and commanded them, "Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may kill him."

1Sa 19:16 But when the messengers entered, they found the household idol in the bed, with the net of goat's hair at its head.

1Sa 19:17 Saul therefore asked Michal: "Why did you play this trick on me? You have helped my enemy to get away!" Michal answered Saul: "He threatened me, 'Let me go or I will kill you.'"

1Sa 19:18 Thus David got safely away; he went to Samuel in Ramah, informing him of all that Saul had done to him. Then he and Samuel went to stay in the sheds.

1Sa 19:19 When Saul was told that David was in the sheds near Ramah, 1Sa 19:20 he sent messengers to arrest David. But when they saw the band of prophets, presided over by Samuel, in a prophetic frenzy, they too fell into the prophetic state.

1Sa 19:21 Informed of this, Saul sent other messengers, who also fell into the prophetic state. For the third time Saul sent messengers, but they too fell into the prophetic state.

1Sa 19:22 Saul then went to Ramah himself. Arriving at the cistern of the threshing floor on the bare hilltop, he inquired, "Where are Samuel and David?", and was told, "At the sheds near Ramah."

1Sa 19:23 As he set out from the hilltop toward the sheds, the spirit of God came upon him also, and he continued on in a prophetic condition until he reached the spot. At the sheds near Ramah

1Sa 19:24 he, too, stripped himself of his garments and he, too, remained in the prophetic state in the presence of Samuel; all that day and night he lay naked. That is why they say, "Is Saul also among the prophets?"

1Sa 20:1 David fled from the sheds near Ramah, and went to Jonathan. "What have I done?" he asked him. "What crime or what offense does your father hold against me that he seeks my life?"

1Sa 20:2 Jonathan answered him: "Heaven forbid that you should die! My father does nothing, great or small, without disclosing it to me. Why, then, should my father conceal this from me? This cannot be so!"

1Sa 20:3 But David replied: "Your father is well aware that I am favored with your friendship, so he has decided, 'Jonathan must not know of this lest he be grieved.' Nevertheless, as the LORD lives and as you live, there is but a step between me and death."

1Sa 20:4 Jonathan then said to David, "I will do whatever you wish."

1Sa 20:5 David answered: "Tomorrow is the new moon, when I should in fact dine with the king. Let me go and hide in the open country until evening.

1Sa 20:6 If it turns out that your father misses me, say, 'David urged me to let him go on short notice to his city Bethlehem, because his whole clan is holding its seasonal sacrifice there.'

1Sa 20:7 If he says, 'Very well,' your servant is safe. But if he becomes quite angry, you can be sure he has planned some harm.

1Sa 20:8 Do this kindness for your servant because of the LORD'S bond between us, into which you brought me: if I am guilty, kill me yourself! Why should you give me up to your father?"

1Sa 20:9 But Jonathan answered: "Not!! If ever I find out that my father is determined to inflict injury upon you, I will certainly let you know."

1Sa 20:10 David then asked Jonathan, "Who will tell me if your father gives you a harsh answer?"

1Sa 20:11 (Jonathan replied to David, "Come, let us go out into the field." When they were out in the open country together, 1Sa 20:12 Jonathan said to David: "As the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, I will sound out my father about this time tomorrow. Whether he is well disposed toward David or not, I will send you the information.

1Sa 20:13 Should it please my father to bring any injury upon you, may the LORD do thus and so to Jonathan if

I do not apprise you of it and send you on your way in peace. May the LORD be with you even as he was with my father.

1Sa 20:14 Only this: if I am still alive, may you show me the kindness of the LORD. But if I die,

1Sa 20:15 never withdraw your kindness from my house. And when the LORD exterminates all the enemies of David from the surface of the earth,

1Sa 20:16 the name of Jonathan must never be allowed by the family of David to die out from among you, or the LORD will make you answer for it."

1Sa 20:17 And in his love for David, Jonathan renewed his oath to him, because he loved him as his very self.)

1Sa 20:18 Jonathan then said to him: "Tomorrow is the new moon; and you will be missed, since your place will be vacant.

1Sa 20:19 On the following day you will be missed all the more. Go to the spot where you hid on the other occasion and wait near the mound there.

1Sa 20:20 On the third day of the month I will shoot arrows, as though aiming at a target.

1Sa 20:21 I will then send my attendant to go and recover the arrows. If in fact I say to him, 'Look, the arrow is this side of you; pick it up,' come, for you are safe. As the LORD lives, there will be nothing to fear.

1Sa 20:22 But if I say to the boy, 'Look, the arrow is beyond you,' go, for the LORD sends you away.

1Sa 20:23 However, in the matter which you and I have discussed, the LORD shall be between you and me forever."

1Sa 20:24 So David hid in the open country. On the day of the new moon, when the king sat at table to dine, 1Sa 20:25 taking his usual place against the wall, Jonathan sat facing him, while Abner sat at the king's side, and David's place was vacant.

1Sa 20:26 Saul, however, said nothing that day, for he thought, "He must have become unclean by accident, and not yet have been cleansed."

1Sa 20:27 On the next day, the second day of the month, David's place was vacant. Saul inquired of his son Jonathan, "Why has the son of Jesse not come to table yesterday or today?"

1Sa 20:28 Jonathan answered Saul: "David urgently asked me to let him go to his city, Bethlehem.

1Sa 20:29 'Please let me go,' he begged, 'for we are to have a clan sacrifice in our city, and my brothers insist on my presence. Now, therefore, if you think well of me, give me leave to visit my brothers.' That is why he has not come to the king's table."

1Sa 20:30 But Saul was extremely angry with Jonathan and said to him: "Son of a rebellious woman, do I not know that, to your own shame and to the disclosure of your mother's shame, you are the companion of Jesse's son?"

1Sa 20:31 Why, as long as the son of Jesse lives upon the earth, you cannot make good your claim to the kingship! So send for him, and bring him to me, for he is doomed."

1Sa 20:32 But Jonathan asked his father Saul: "Why should he die? What has he done?"

1Sa 20:33 At this Saul brandished his spear to strike him, and thus Jonathan learned that his father was resolved to kill David.

1Sa 20:34 Jonathan sprang up from the table in great anger and took no food that second day of the month, for he was grieved on David's account, since his father had railed against him.

1Sa 20:35 The next morning Jonathan went out into the field with a little boy for his appointment with David.

1Sa 20:36 There he said to the boy, "Run and fetch the arrow." And as the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him in the direction of the city.

1Sa 20:37 When the boy made for the spot where Jonathan had shot the arrow, Jonathan called after him, "The arrow is farther on!"

1Sa 20:38 Again he called to his lad, "Hurry, be quick, don't delay!" Jonathan's boy picked up the arrow and brought it to his master.

1Sa 20:39 The boy knew nothing; only Jonathan and David knew what was meant.

1Sa 20:40 Then Jonathan gave his weapons to this boy of his and said to him, "Go, take them to the city."

1Sa 20:41 When the boy had left, David rose from beside the mound and prostrated himself on the ground three times before Jonathan in homage. They kissed each other and wept aloud together.

1Sa 20:42 At length Jonathan said to David, "Go in peace, in keeping with what we two have sworn by the name of the LORD: 'The LORD shall be between you and me, and between your posterity and mine forever.'"

1Sa 21:1 Then David departed on his way, while Jonathan went back into the city.

1Sa 21:2 David went to Ahimelech, the priest of Nob, who came trembling to meet him and asked, "Why are you alone? Is there no one with you?"

1Sa 21:3 David answered the priest: "The king gave me a commission and told me to let no one know anything about the business on which he sent me or the commission he gave me. For that reason I have arranged a meeting place with my men.

1Sa 21:4 Now what have you on hand? Give me five loaves, or whatever you can find."

1Sa 21:5 But the priest replied to David, "I have no ordinary bread on hand, only holy bread; if the men have abstained from women, you may eat some of that."

1Sa 21:6 David answered the priest: "We have indeed been segregated from women as on previous occasions. Whenever I go on a journey, all the young men are consecrated-- even for a secular journey. All the more so today, when they are consecrated at arms!"

1Sa 21:7 So the priest gave him holy bread, for no other bread was on hand except the showbread which had been removed from the LORD'S presence and replaced by fresh bread when it was taken away.

1Sa 21:8 One of Saul's servants was there that day, detained before the LORD; his name was Doeg the Edomite, and he was Saul's chief henchman.

1Sa 21:9 David then asked Ahimelech: "Do you have a spear or a sword on hand? I brought along neither my sword nor my weapons, because the king's business was urgent."

1Sa 21:10 The priest replied: "The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you killed in the Vale of the Terebinth, is here (wrapped in a mantle) behind an ephod. If you wish to take that, take it; there is no sword here except that one." David said: "There is none to match it. Give it to me!"

1Sa 21:11 That same day David took to flight from Saul, going to Achish, king of Gath.

1Sa 21:12 But the servants of Achish said, "Is this not David, the king of the land? During their dances do they not sing, 'Saul has slain his thousands, but David his ten thousands'?"

1Sa 21:13 David took note of these remarks and became very much afraid of Achish, king of Gath.

1Sa 21:14 So, as they watched, he feigned insanity and acted like a madman in their hands, drumming on the doors of the gate and drooling onto his beard.

1Sa 21:15 Finally Achish said to his servants: "You see the man is mad. Why did you bring him to me?"

1Sa 21:16 Do I not have enough madmen, that you bring in this one to carry on in my presence? Should this fellow come into my house?"

1Sa 22:1 David left Gath and escaped to the cave of Adullam. When his brothers and the rest of his family heard about it, they came down to him there.

1Sa 22:2 He was joined by all those who were in difficulties or in debt, or who were embittered, and he became their leader. About four hundred men were with him.

1Sa 22:3 From there David went to Mizpeh of Moab and said to the king of Moab, "Let my father and mother stay with you, until I learn what God will do for me."

1Sa 22:4 He left them with the king of Moab, and they stayed with him as long as David remained in the refuge.

1Sa 22:5 But the prophet Gad said to David: "Do not remain in the refuge. Leave, and go to the land of Judah." And so David left and went to the forest of Hereth.

1Sa 22:6 Now Saul heard that David and his men had been located. At the time he was sitting in Gibeah under a tamarisk tree on the high place, holding his spear, while all his servants were standing by.

1Sa 22:7 So he said to them: "Listen, men of Benjamin! Will the son of Jesse give all of you fields and vineyards? Will he make each of you an officer over a thousand or a hundred men,

1Sa 22:8 that you have all conspired against me and no one tells me that my son has made an agreement with the son of Jesse? None of you shows sympathy for me or discloses to me that my son has stirred up my servant to be an enemy against me, as is the case today."

1Sa 22:9 Then Doeg the Edomite, who was standing with the officers of Saul, spoke up: "I saw the son of Jesse come to Ahimelech, son of Ahitub, in Nob.

1Sa 22:10 He consulted the LORD for him and gave him supplies, and the sword of Goliath the Philistine as well."

1Sa 22:11 At this the king sent a summons to Ahimelech the priest, son of Ahitub, and to all his family who were priests in Nob; and they all came to the king.

1Sa 22:12 Then Saul said, "Listen, son of Ahitub!" He replied, "Yes, my lord."

1Sa 22:13 Saul asked him, "Why did you conspire against me with the son of Jesse by giving him food and a sword and by consulting God for him, that he might rebel against me and become my enemy, as is the case today?"

1Sa 22:14 Ahimelech answered the king: "And who among all your servants is as loyal as David, the king's son-in-law, captain of your bodyguard, and honored in your own house?"

1Sa 22:15 Is this the first time I have consulted God for him? No indeed! Let not the king accuse his servant or anyone in my family of such a thing. Your servant knows nothing at all, great or small, about the whole matter."

1Sa 22:16 But the king said, "You shall die, Ahimelech, with all your family."

1Sa 22:17 The king then commanded his henchmen standing by: "Make the rounds and kill the priests of the LORD, for they assisted David. They knew he was a fugitive and yet failed to inform me." But the king's servants refused to lift a hand to strike the priests of the LORD.

1Sa 22:18 The king therefore commanded Doeg, "You make the rounds and kill the priests!" So Doeg the Edomite went from one to the next and killed the priests himself, slaying on that day eighty-five who wore the linen ephod.

1Sa 22:19 Saul also put the priestly city of Nob to the sword, including men and women, children and infants, and oxen, asses and sheep.

1Sa 22:20 One son of Ahimelech, son of Ahitub, named Abiathar, escaped and fled to David.

1Sa 22:21 When Abiathar told David that Saul had slain the priests of the LORD,

1Sa 22:22 David said to him: "I knew that day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would surely tell Saul. I am responsible for the death of all your family.

1Sa 22:23 Stay with me. Fear nothing; he that seeks your life must seek my life also. You are under my protection."

1Sa 23:1 David received information that the Philistines were attacking Keilah and plundering the threshing floors.

1Sa 23:2 So he consulted the LORD, inquiring, "Shall I go and defeat these Philistines?" The LORD answered, "Go, for you will defeat the Philistines and rescue Keilah."

1Sa 23:3 But David's men said to him: "We are afraid here in Judah. How much more so if we go to Keilah against the forces of the Philistines!"

1Sa 23:4 Again David consulted the LORD, who answered, "Go down to Keilah, for I will deliver the Philistines into your power."

1Sa 23:5 David then went with his men to Keilah and fought with the Philistines. He drove off their cattle and inflicted a severe defeat on them, and thus rescued the inhabitants of Keilah.

1Sa 23:6 Abiathar, son of Ahimelech, who had fled to David, went down with David to Keilah, taking the ephod with him.

1Sa 23:7 When Saul was told that David had entered Keilah, he said: "God has put him in my grip. Now he has shut himself in, for he has entered a city with gates and bars."

1Sa 23:8 Saul then called all the people to war, in order to go down to Keilah and besiege David and his men.

1Sa 23:9 When David found out that Saul was planning to harm him, he said to the priest Abiathar, "Bring forward the ephod."

1Sa 23:10 David then said: "O LORD God of Israel, your servant has heard a report that Saul plans to come to Keilah, to destroy the city on my account.

1Sa 23:11 Will they hand me over? And now: will Saul come down as your servant has heard? O LORD God of Israel, tell your servant." The LORD answered, "He will come down."

1Sa 23:12 David then asked, "Will the citizens of Keilah deliver me and my men into the grasp of Saul?" And the LORD answered, "Yes."

1Sa 23:13 So David and his men, about six hundred in number, left Keilah and wandered from place to place. When Saul was informed that David had escaped from Keilah, he abandoned the expedition.

1Sa 23:14 David now lived in the refuges in the desert, or in the barren hill country near Ziph. Though Saul sought him continually, the LORD did not deliver David into his grasp.

1Sa 23:15 David was apprehensive because Saul had come out to seek his life; but while he was at Horesh in the barrens near Ziph, 1Sa 23:16 Saul's son, Jonathan, came down there to David and strengthened his resolve in the LORD.

1Sa 23:17 He said to him: "Have no fear, my father Saul shall not lay a hand to you. You shall be king of Israel and I shall be second to you. Even my father Saul knows this."

1Sa 23:18 They made a joint agreement before the LORD in Horesh, where David remained, while Jonathan returned to his home.

1Sa 23:19 Some of the Ziphites went up to Saul in Gibeah and said, "David is hiding among us, now in the refuges, and again at Horesh, or on the hill of Hachilah, south of the wasteland.

1Sa 23:20 Therefore, whenever the king wishes to come down, let him do so. It will be our task to deliver him into the king's grasp."

1Sa 23:21 Saul replied: "The LORD bless you for your sympathy toward me.

1Sa 23:22 Go now and make sure once more! Take note of the place where he sets foot" (for he thought, perhaps they are playing some trick on me).

1Sa 23:23 "Look around and learn in which of all the various hiding places he is holding out. Then come back to me with sure information, and I will go with you. If he is in the region, I will search him out among all the families of Judah."

1Sa 23:24 So they went off to Ziph ahead of Saul. At this time David and his men were in the desert below Maon, in the Arabah south of the wasteland.

1Sa 23:25 When Saul and his men came looking for him, David got word of it and went down to the gorge in the desert below Maon. Saul heard of this and pursued David into the desert below Maon.

1Sa 23:26 As Saul moved along one rim of the gorge, David and his men took to the other. David was in anxious flight to escape Saul, and Saul and his men were attempting to outflank David and his men in order to capture them,

1Sa 23:27 when a messenger came to Saul, saying, "Come quickly, because the Philistines have invaded the land."

1Sa 23:28 Saul interrupted his pursuit of David and went to meet the Philistines. This is how that place came to be called the Gorge of Divisions.

1Sa 24:1 David then went up from there and stayed in the refuges behind Engedi.

1Sa 24:2 And when Saul returned from the pursuit of the Philistines, he was told that David was in the desert near Engedi.

1Sa 24:3 So Saul took three thousand picked men from all Israel and went in search of David and his men in the direction of the wild goat crags.

1Sa 24:4 When he came to the sheepfolds along the way, he found a cave, which he entered to ease nature. David and his men were occupying the inmost recesses of the cave.

1Sa 24:5 David's servants said to him, "This is the day of which the LORD said to you, 'I will deliver your enemy into your grasp; do with him as you see fit.'" So David moved up and stealthily cut off an end of Saul's mantle.

1Sa 24:6 Afterward, however, David regretted that he had cut off an end of Saul's mantle.

1Sa 24:7 He said to his men, "The LORD forbid that I should do such a thing to my master, the LORD'S anointed, as to lay a hand on him, for he is the Lord's anointed."

1Sa 24:8 With these words David restrained his men and would not permit them to attack Saul. Saul then left the cave and went on his way.

1Sa 24:9 David also stepped out of the cave, calling to Saul, "My lord the king!" When Saul looked back, David bowed to the ground in homage

1Sa 24:10 and asked Saul: "Why do you listen to those who say, 'David is trying to harm you'?"

1Sa 24:11 You see for yourself today that the LORD just now delivered you into my grasp in the cave. I had some thought of killing you, but I took pity on you instead. I decided, 'I will not raise a hand against my lord, for he is the LORD'S anointed and a father to me.'

1Sa 24:12 Look here at this end of your mantle which I hold. Since I cut off an end of your mantle and did not kill you, see and be convinced that I plan no harm and no rebellion. I have done you no wrong, though you are hunting me down to take my life.

1Sa 24:13 The LORD will judge between me and you, and the LORD will exact justice from you in my case. I shall not touch you.

1Sa 24:14 The old proverb says, 'From the wicked comes forth wickedness.' So I will take no action against you.

1Sa 24:15 Against whom are you on campaign, O king of Israel? Whom are you pursuing? A dead dog, or a single flea!

1Sa 24:16 The LORD will be the judge; he will decide between me and you. May he see this, and take my part, and grant me justice beyond your reach!"

1Sa 24:17 When David finished saying these things to Saul, Saul answered, "Is that your voice, my son David?" And he wept aloud.

1Sa 24:18 Saul then said to David: "You are in the right rather than I; you have treated me generously, while I have done you harm.

1Sa 24:19 Great is the generosity you showed me today, when the LORD delivered me into your grasp and you did not kill me.

1Sa 24:20 For if a man meets his enemy, does he send him away unharmed? May the LORD reward you generously for what you have done this day.

1Sa 24:21 And now, since I know that you shall surely be king and that sovereignty over Israel shall come into your possession,

1Sa 24:22 swear to me by the LORD that you will not destroy my descendants and that you will not blot out my name and family."

1Sa 24:23 David gave Saul his oath and Saul returned home, while David and his men went up to the refuge.

1Sa 25:1 Samuel died, and all Israel gathered to mourn him; they buried him at his home in Ramah. Then David went down to the desert of Maon.

1Sa 25:2 There was a man of Maon who had property in Carmel; he was very wealthy, owning three thousand sheep and a thousand goats. At this time he was present for the shearing of his flock in Carmel.

1Sa 25:3 The man was named Nabal, his wife, Abigail. The woman was intelligent and attractive, but Nabal himself, a Calebite, was harsh and ungenerous in his behavior.

1Sa 25:4 When David heard in the desert that Nabal was shearing his flock, 1Sa 25:5 he sent ten young men, instructing them: "Go up to Carmel. Pay Nabal a visit and greet him in my name.

1Sa 25:6 Say to him, 'Peace be with you, my brother, and with your family, and with all who belong to you.

1Sa 25:7 I have just heard that shearers are with you. Now, when your shepherds were with us, we did them no injury, neither did they miss anything all the while they were in Carmel.

1Sa 25:8 Ask your servants and they will tell you so. Look kindly on these young men, since we come at a festival time. Please give your servants and your son David whatever you can manage."

1Sa 25:9 When David's young men arrived, they delivered this message fully to Nabal in David's name, and then waited.

1Sa 25:10 But Nabal answered the servants of David: "Who is David? Who is the son of Jesse? Nowadays there are many servants who run away from their masters.

1Sa 25:11 Must I take my bread, my wine, my meat that I have slaughtered for my own shearers, and give them to men who come from I know not where?"

1Sa 25:12 So David's young men retraced their steps and on their return reported to him all that had been said.

1Sa 25:13 Thereupon David said to his men, "Let everyone gird on his sword." And so everyone, David included, girded on his sword. About four hundred men went up after David, while two hundred remained with the baggage.

1Sa 25:14 But Nabal's wife Abigail was informed of this by one of the servants, who said: "David sent messengers from the desert to greet our master, but he flew at them screaming.

1Sa 25:15 Yet these men were very good to us. We were done no injury, neither did we miss anything all the while we were living among them during our stay in the open country.

1Sa 25:16 For us they were like a rampart night and day the whole time we were pasturing the sheep near them.

1Sa 25:17 Now, see what you can do, for you must realize that otherwise evil is in store for our master and for his whole family. He is so mean that no one can talk to him."

1Sa 25:18 Abigail quickly got together two hundred loaves, two skins of wine, five dressed sheep, five seahs of roasted grain, a hundred cakes of pressed raisins, and two hundred cakes of pressed figs, and loaded them on asses.

1Sa 25:19 She then said to her servants, "Go on ahead; I will follow you." But she did not tell her husband Nabal.

1Sa 25:20 As she came down through a mountain defile riding on an ass, David and his men were also coming down from the opposite direction. When she met them, 1Sa 25:21 David had just been saying: "Indeed, it was in vain that I guarded all this man's possessions in the desert, so that he missed nothing. He has repaid good with evil.

1Sa 25:22 May God do thus and so to David, if by morning I leave a single male alive among all those who belong to him."

1Sa 25:23 As soon as Abigail saw David, she dismounted quickly from the ass and, falling prostrate on the ground before David, did him homage.

1Sa 25:24 As she fell at his feet she said: "My lord, let the blame be mine. Please let your handmaid speak to you, and listen to the words of your handmaid.

1Sa 25:25 Let not my lord pay attention to that worthless man Nabal, for he is just like his name. Fool is his name, and he acts the fool. I, your handmaid, did not see the young men whom my lord sent.

1Sa 25:26 Now, therefore, my lord, as the LORD lives, and as you live, it is the LORD who has kept you from shedding blood and from avenging yourself personally. May your enemies and those who seek to harm my lord become as Nabal!

1Sa 25:27 Accept this present, then, which your maidservant has brought for my lord, and let it be given to the young men who follow my lord.

1Sa 25:28 Please forgive the transgression of your handmaid, for the LORD shall certainly establish a lasting dynasty for my lord, because your lordship is fighting the battles of the LORD, and there is no evil to be found in you your whole life long.

1Sa 25:29 If anyone rises to pursue you and to seek your life, may the life of my lord be bound in the bundle of the living in the care of the LORD your God; but may he hurl out the lives of your enemies as from the hollow of a sling.

1Sa 25:30 And when the LORD carries out for my lord the promise of success he has made concerning you, and appoints you as commander over Israel,

1Sa 25:31 you shall not have this as a qualm or burden on your conscience, my lord, for having shed innocent blood or for having avenged yourself personally. When the LORD confers this benefit on your lordship, remember your handmaid."

1Sa 25:32 David said to Abigail: "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who sent you to meet me today.

1Sa 25:33 Blessed be your good judgment and blessed be you yourself, who this day have prevented me from shedding blood and from avenging myself personally.

1Sa 25:34 Otherwise, as the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, who has restrained me from harming you, if you had not come so promptly to meet me, by dawn Nabal would not have had a single man or boy left alive."

1Sa 25:35 David then took from her what she had brought him and said to her: "Go up to your home in peace! See, I have granted your request as a personal favor."

1Sa 25:36 When Abigail came to Nabal, there was a drinking party in his house like that of a king, and Nabal was merry because he was very drunk. So she told him nothing at all before daybreak the next morning.

1Sa 25:37 But then, when Nabal had become sober, his wife told him what had happened. At this his courage died within him, and he became like a stone.

1Sa 25:38 About ten days later the LORD struck him and he died.

1Sa 25:39 On hearing that Nabal was dead, David said: "Blessed be the LORD, who has requited the insult I received at the hand of Nabal, and who restrained his servant from doing evil, but has punished Nabal for his own evil deeds." David then sent a proposal of marriage to Abigail.

1Sa 25:40 When David's servants came to Abigail in Carmel, they said to her, "David has sent us to you that he may take you as his wife."

1Sa 25:41 Rising and bowing to the ground, she answered, "Your handmaid would become a slave to wash the feet of my lord's servants."

1Sa 25:42 She got up immediately, mounted an ass, and followed David's messengers, with her five maids following in attendance upon her. She became his wife, 1Sa 25:43 and David also married Ahinoam of Jezreel. Thus both of them were his wives; but Saul gave David's wife Michal, Saul's own daughter, to Palti, son of Laish, who was from Gallim.

1Sa 26:1 Men from Ziph came to Saul in Gibeah, reporting that David was hiding on the hill of Hachilah at the edge of the wasteland.

1Sa 26:2 So Saul went off down to the desert of Ziph with three thousand picked men of Israel, to search for David in the desert of Ziph.

1Sa 26:3 Saul camped beside the road on the hill of Hachilah, at the edge of the wasteland. David, who was living in the desert, saw that Saul had come into the desert after him

1Sa 26:4 and sent out scouts, who confirmed Saul's arrival.

1Sa 26:5 David himself then went to the place where Saul was encamped and examined the spot where Saul and Abner, son of Ner, the general, had their sleeping quarters. Saul's were within the barricade, and all his soldiers were camped around him.

1Sa 26:6 David asked Ahimelech the Hittite, and Abishai, son of Zeruah and brother of Joab, "Who will go down into the camp with me to Saul?" Abishai replied, "I will."

1Sa 26:7 So David and Abishai went among Saul's soldiers by night and found Saul lying asleep within the barricade, with his spear thrust into the ground at his head and Abner and his men sleeping around him.

1Sa 26:8 Abishai whispered to David: "God has delivered your enemy into your grasp this day. Let me nail him to the ground with one thrust of the spear; I will not need a second thrust!"

1Sa 26:9 But David said to Abishai, "Do not harm him, for who can lay hands on the LORD'S anointed and remain unpunished?"

1Sa 26:10 As the LORD lives," David continued, "it must be the LORD himself who will strike him, whether the time comes for him to die, or he goes out and perishes in battle.

1Sa 26:11 But the LORD forbid that I touch his anointed! Now take the spear which is at his head and the water jug, and let us be on our way."

1Sa 26:12 So David took the spear and the water jug from their place at Saul's head, and they got away without anyone's seeing or knowing or awakening. All remained asleep, because the LORD had put them into a deep slumber.

1Sa 26:13 Going across to an opposite slope, David stood on a remote hilltop at a great distance from Abner, son of Ner, and the troops.

1Sa 26:14 He then shouted, "Will you not answer, Abner?" And Abner answered, "Who is it that calls me?"

1Sa 26:15 David said to Abner: "Are you not a man whose like does not exist in Israel? Why, then, have you not guarded your lord the king when one of his subjects went to kill the king, your lord?"

1Sa 26:16 This is no creditable service you have performed. As the LORD lives, you people deserve death because you have not guarded your lord, the LORD'S anointed. Go, look: where are the king's spear and the water jug that was at his head?"

1Sa 26:17 Saul recognized David's voice and asked, "Is that your voice, my son David?" David answered, "Yes, my lord the king."

1Sa 26:18 He continued: "Why does my lord pursue his servant? What have I done? What evil do I plan?"

1Sa 26:19 Please, now, let my lord the king listen to the words of his servant. If the LORD has incited you against me, let an offering appease him; but if men, may they be cursed before the LORD, because they have exiled me so that this day I have no share in the LORD'S inheritance, but am told: 'Go serve other gods!'

1Sa 26:20 Do not let my blood flow to the ground far from the presence of the LORD. For the king of Israel has come out to seek a single flea as if he were hunting partridge in the mountains."

1Sa 26:21 Then Saul said: "I have done wrong. Come back, my son David, I will not harm you again, because you have held my life precious today. Indeed, I have been a fool and have made a serious mistake."

1Sa 26:22 But David answered: "Here is the king's spear. Let an attendant come over to get it."

1Sa 26:23 The LORD will reward each man for his justice and faithfulness. Today, though the LORD delivered you into my grasp, I would not harm the LORD'S anointed.

1Sa 26:24 As I valued your life highly today, so may the LORD value my life highly and deliver me from all difficulties."

1Sa 26:25 Then Saul said to David: "Blessed are you, my son David! You shall certainly succeed in whatever you undertake." David went his way, and Saul returned to his home.

1Sa 27:1 But David said to himself: "I shall perish some day at the hand of Saul. I have no choice but to escape to the land of the Philistines; then Saul will give up his continual search for me throughout the land of Israel, and I shall be out of his reach."

1Sa 27:2 Accordingly, David departed with his six hundred men and went over to Achish, son of Maoch, king of Gath.

1Sa 27:3 David and his men lived in Gath with Achish; each one had his family, and David had his two wives, Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel.

1Sa 27:4 When Saul was told that David had fled to Gath, he no longer searched for him.

1Sa 27:5 David said to Achish: "If I meet with your approval, let me have a place to live in one of the country towns. Why should your servant live with you in the royal city?"

1Sa 27:6 That same day Achish gave him Ziklag, which has, therefore, belonged to the kings of Judah up to the present time.

1Sa 27:7 In all, David lived a year and four months in the country of the Philistines.

1Sa 27:8 David and his men went up and made raids on the Geshurites, Girzites, and Amalekites-- peoples living in the land between Telam, on the approach to Shur, and the land of Egypt.

1Sa 27:9 In attacking the land David would not leave a man or woman alive, but would carry off sheep, oxen, asses, camels, and clothes. On his return he brought these to Achish,

1Sa 27:10 who asked, "Whom did you raid this time?" And David answered, "The Negeb of Judah," or "The Negeb of Jerahmeel," or "The Negeb of the Kenites."

1Sa 27:11 But David would not leave a man or woman alive to be brought to Gath, fearing that they would betray him by saying, "This is what David did." This was his custom as long as he lived in the country of the Philistines.

1Sa 27:12 And Achish trusted David, thinking, "He must certainly be detested by his people Israel. I shall have him as my vassal forever."

1Sa 28:1 In those days the Philistines mustered their military forces to fight against Israel. So Achish said to David, "You realize, of course, that you and your men must go out on campaign with me to Jezreel."

1Sa 28:2 David answered Achish, "Good! Now you shall learn what your servant can do." Then Achish said to David, "I shall appoint you my permanent bodyguard."

1Sa 28:3 Now Samuel had died and, after being mourned by all Israel, was buried in his city, Ramah.

Meanwhile Saul had driven mediums and fortune-tellers out of the land.

1Sa 28:4 The Philistine levies advanced to Shunem and encamped. Saul, too, mustered all Israel; they camped on Gilboa.

1Sa 28:5 When Saul saw the camp of the Philistines, he was dismayed and lost heart completely.

1Sa 28:6 He therefore consulted the LORD; but the LORD gave no answer, whether in dreams or by the Urim or through prophets.

1Sa 28:7 Then Saul said to his servants, "Find me a woman who is a medium, to whom I can go to seek counsel through her." His servants answered him, "There is a woman in Endor who is a medium."

1Sa 28:8 So he disguised himself, putting on other clothes, and set out with two companions. They came to the woman by night, and Saul said to her, "Tell my fortune through a ghost; conjure up for me the one I ask you to."

1Sa 28:9 But the woman answered him, "You are surely aware of what Saul has done, in driving the mediums and fortune-tellers out of the land. Why, then, are you laying snares for my life, to have me killed?"

1Sa 28:10 But Saul swore to her by the LORD, "As the LORD lives, you shall incur no blame for this."

1Sa 28:11 Then the woman asked him, "Whom do you want me to conjure up?" and he answered, "Samuel."

1Sa 28:12 When the woman saw Samuel, she shrieked at the top of her voice and said to Saul, "Why have you deceived me? You are Saul!"

1Sa 28:13 But the king said to her, "Have no fear. What do you see?" The woman answered Saul, "I see a preternatural being rising from the earth."

1Sa 28:14 "What does he look like?" asked Saul. And she replied, "It is an old man who is rising, clothed in a mantle." Saul knew that it was Samuel, and so he bowed face to the ground in homage.

1Sa 28:15 Samuel then said to Saul, "Why do you disturb me by conjuring me up?" Saul replied: "I am in great straits, for the Philistines are waging war against me and God has abandoned me. Since he no longer answers me through prophets or in dreams, I have called you to tell me what I should do."

1Sa 28:16 To this Samuel said: "But why do you ask me, if the LORD has abandoned you and is with your neighbor?"

1Sa 28:17 The LORD has done to you what he foretold through me: he has torn the kingdom from your grasp and has given it to your neighbor David.

1Sa 28:18 "Because you disobeyed the LORD'S directive and would not carry out his fierce anger against Amalek, the LORD has done this to you today.

1Sa 28:19 Moreover, the LORD will deliver Israel, and you as well, into the clutches of the Philistines. By tomorrow you and your sons will be with me, and the LORD will have delivered the army of Israel into the hands of the Philistines."

1Sa 28:20 Immediately Saul fell full length on the ground, for he was badly shaken by Samuel's message. Moreover, he had no bodily strength left, since he had eaten nothing all that day and night.

1Sa 28:21 Then the woman came to Saul, and seeing that he was quite terror-stricken, said to him:

"Remember, your maidservant obeyed you: I took my life in my hands and fulfilled the request you made of me.

1Sa 28:22 Now you, in turn, please listen to your maidservant. Let me set something before you to eat, so that you may have strength when you go on your way."

1Sa 28:23 But he refused, saying, "I will not eat." However, when his servants joined the woman in urging him, he listened to their entreaties, got up from the ground, and sat on a couch.

1Sa 28:24 The woman had a stall-fed calf in the house, which she now quickly slaughtered. Then taking flour, she kneaded it and baked unleavened bread.

1Sa 28:25 She set the meal before Saul and his servants, and they ate. Then they stood up and left the same night.

1Sa 29:1 Now the Philistines had mustered all their forces in Aphek, and the Israelites were encamped at the spring of Harod near Jezreel.

1Sa 29:2 As the Philistine lords were marching their groups of a hundred and a thousand, David and his men were marching in the rear guard with Achish.

1Sa 29:3 The Philistine chiefs asked, "What are those Hebrews doing here?" And Achish answered them: "Why, that is David, the officer of Saul, king of Israel. He has been with me now for a year or two, and I have no fault to find with him from the day he came over to me until the present."

1Sa 29:4 But the Philistine chiefs were angered at this and said to him: "Send that man back! Let him return to the place you picked out for him. He must not go down into battle with us, lest during the battle he become our enemy. For how else can he win back his master's favor, if not with the heads of these men of ours?"

1Sa 29:5 Is this not the David of whom they sing during their dances, 'Saul has slain his thousands, but David his ten thousands'?"

1Sa 29:6 So Achish summoned David and said to him: "As the LORD lives, you are honest, and I should be pleased to have you active with me in the camp, for I have found nothing wrong with you from the day of your arrival to this day. But you are not welcome to the lords.

1Sa 29:7 Withdraw peaceably, now, and do nothing that might displease the Philistine lords."

1Sa 29:8 But David said to Achish: "What have I done? Or what have you against your servant from the first day I have been with you to this day, that I cannot go to fight against the enemies of my lord the king?"

1Sa 29:9 "You know," Achish answered David, "that you are acceptable to me. But the Philistine chiefs have determined you are not to go up with us to battle.

1Sa 29:10 So the first thing tomorrow, you and your lord's servants who came with you, go to the place I picked out for you. Do not decide to take umbrage at this; you are as acceptable to me as an angel of God. But make an early morning start, as soon as it grows light, and be on your way."

1Sa 29:11 So David and his men left early in the morning to return to the land of the Philistines. The Philistines, however, went on up to Jezreel.

1Sa 30:1 Before David and his men reached Ziklag on the third day, the Amalekites had raided the Negeb and Ziklag, had stormed the city, and had set it on fire.

1Sa 30:2 They had taken captive the women and all who were in the city, young and old, killing no one; they had carried them off when they left.

1Sa 30:3 David and his men arrived at the city to find it burned to the ground and their wives, sons and daughters taken captive.

1Sa 30:4 Then David and those who were with him wept aloud until they could weep no more.

1Sa 30:5 David's two wives, Ahinoam of Jezreel and Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel, had also been carried off with the rest.

1Sa 30:6 Now David found himself in great difficulty, for the men spoke of stoning him, so bitter were they over the fate of their sons and daughters. But with renewed trust in the LORD his God,

1Sa 30:7 David said to Abiathar, the priest, son of Ahimelech, "Bring me the ephod!" When Abiathar brought him the ephod,

1Sa 30:8 David inquired of the LORD, "Shall I pursue these raiders? Can I overtake them?" The LORD answered him, "Go in pursuit, for you shall surely overtake them and effect a rescue."

1Sa 30:9 So David went off with his six hundred men and came as far as the Wadi Besor, where those who were to remain behind halted.

1Sa 30:10 David continued the pursuit with four hundred men, but two hundred were too exhausted to cross the Wadi Besor and remained behind.

1Sa 30:11 An Egyptian was found in the open country and brought to David. He was provided with food, which he ate, and given water to drink;

1Sa 30:12 a cake of pressed figs and two cakes of pressed raisins were also offered to him. When he had eaten, he revived; he had not taken food nor drunk water for three days and three nights.

1Sa 30:13 Then David asked him, "To whom do you belong, and where do you come from?" He replied: "I am an Egyptian, the slave of an Amalekite. My master abandoned me because I fell sick three days ago today.

1Sa 30:14 We raided the Negeb of the Cherethites, the territory of Judah, and the Negeb of Caleb; and we set Ziklag on fire."

1Sa 30:15 David then asked him, "Will you lead me down to this raiding party?" He answered, "Swear to me by God that you will not kill me or deliver me to my master, and I will lead you to the raiding party."

1Sa 30:16 He did lead them, and there were the Amalekites scattered all over the ground, eating, drinking, and in a festive mood because of all the rich booty they had taken from the land of the Philistines and from the land of Judah.

1Sa 30:17 From dawn to sundown David attacked them, putting them under the ban so that none escaped except four hundred young men, who mounted their camels and fled.

1Sa 30:18 David recovered everything the Amalekites had taken, and rescued his two wives.

1Sa 30:19 Nothing was missing, small or great, booty or sons or daughters, of all that the Amalekites had taken. David brought back everything.

1Sa 30:20 Moreover, David took all the sheep and oxen, and as they drove these before him, they shouted, "This is David's spoil!"

1Sa 30:21 When David came to the two hundred men who had been too exhausted to follow him, and whom he had left behind at the Wadi Besor, they came out to meet David and the men with him. On nearing them David greeted them.

1Sa 30:22 But all the stingy and worthless men among those who had accompanied David spoke up to say, "Since they did not accompany us, we will not give them anything from the booty, except to each man his wife and children. Let them take those along and be on their way."

1Sa 30:23 But David said: "You must not do this, my brothers, after what the LORD has given us. He has protected us and delivered into our grip the band that came against us.

1Sa 30:24 Who could agree with this proposal of yours? Rather, the share of the one who goes down to battle and that of the one who remains with the baggage shall be the same; they shall share alike."

1Sa 30:25 And from that day forward he made it a law and a custom in Israel, as it still is today.

1Sa 30:26 When David came to Ziklag, he sent part of the spoil to the elders of Judah, city by city, saying, "This is a gift to you from the spoil of the enemies of the LORD":

1Sa 30:27 to those in Bethel, to those in Ramoth-negeb, to those in Jattir,

1Sa 30:28 to those in Aroer, to those in Siphmoth, to those in Eshtemoa,

1Sa 30:29 to those in Racal, to those in the Jerahmeelite cities, to those in the Kenite cities,

1Sa 30:30 to those in Hormah, to those in Borashan, to those in Athach, 1Sa 30:31 to those in Hebron, and to all the places frequented by David and his men.

1Sa 31:1 As they pressed their attack on Israel, with the Israelites fleeing before them and falling mortally wounded on Mount Gilboa, 1Sa 31:2 the Philistines pursued Saul and his sons closely, and slew Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua, sons of Saul.

1Sa 31:3 The battle raged around Saul, and the archers hit him; he was pierced through the abdomen.

1Sa 31:4 Then Saul said to his armor-bearer, "Draw your sword and run me through, lest these uncircumcised come and make sport of me." But his armor-bearer, badly frightened, refused to do it. So Saul took his own sword and fell upon it.

1Sa 31:5 When the armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he too fell upon his sword and died with him.

1Sa 31:6 Thus Saul, his three sons, and his armor-bearer died together on that same day.

1Sa 31:7 When the Israelites on the slope of the valley and those along the Jordan saw that the men of Israel had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they too abandoned their cities and fled. Then the Philistines came and lived in those cities.

1Sa 31:8 The day after the battle the Philistines came to strip the slain, and found Saul and his three sons lying on Mount Gilboa.

1Sa 31:9 They cut off Saul's head and stripped him of his armor, and then sent the good news throughout the land of the Philistines to their idols and to the people.

1Sa 31:10 They put his armor in the temple of Astarte, but impaled his body on the wall of Bethshan.

1Sa 31:11 When the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul, 1Sa 31:12 all their warriors set out, and after marching throughout the night, removed the bodies of Saul and his sons from the wall of Beth-shan, and brought them to Jabesh, where they cremated them.

1Sa 31:13 Then they took their bones and buried them under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh, and fasted for seven days.

2Sa 1:1 After the death of Saul, David returned from his defeat of the Amalekites and spent two days in Ziklag.

2Sa 1:2 On the third day a man came from Saul's camp, with his clothes torn and dirt on his head. Going to David, he fell to the ground in homage.

2Sa 1:3 David asked him, "Where do you come from?" He replied, "I have escaped from the Israelite camp."

2Sa 1:4 "Tell me what happened," David bade him. He answered that the soldiers had fled the battle and that many of them had fallen and were dead, among them Saul and his son Jonathan.

2Sa 1:5 Then David said to the youth who was reporting to him, "How do you know that Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?"

2Sa 1:6 The youthful informant replied: "It was by chance that I found myself on Mount Gilboa and saw Saul leaning on his spear, with chariots and horsemen closing in on him.

2Sa 1:7 He turned around and, seeing me, called me to him. When I said, 'Here I am,'

2Sa 1:8 he asked me, 'Who are you?' and I replied, 'An Amalekite.'

2Sa 1:9 Then he said to me, 'Stand up to me, please, and finish me off, for I am in great suffering, yet fully alive.'

2Sa 1:10 So I stood up to him and dispatched him, for I knew that he could not survive his wound. I removed the crown from his head and the armlet from his arm and brought them here to my lord."

2Sa 1:11 David seized his garments and rent them, and all the men who were with him did likewise.

2Sa 1:12 They mourned and wept and fasted until evening for Saul and his son Jonathan, and for the soldiers of the LORD of the clans of Israel, because they had fallen by the sword.

2Sa 1:13 Then David said to the young man who had brought him the information, "Where are you from?" He replied, "I am the son of an Amalekite immigrant."

2Sa 1:14 David said to him, "How is it that you were not afraid to put forth your hand to desecrate the LORD'S anointed?"

2Sa 1:15 David then called one of the attendants and said to him, "Come, strike him down"; and the youth struck him a mortal blow.

2Sa 1:16 Meanwhile David said to him, "You are responsible for your own death, for you testified against yourself when you said, 'I dispatched the LORD'S anointed.'"

2Sa 1:17 Then David chanted this elegy for Saul and his son Jonathan,

2Sa 1:18 which is recorded in the Book of Jashar to be taught to the Judahites. He sang:

2Sa 1:19 "Alas! the glory of Israel, Saul, slain upon your heights; how can the warriors have fallen!

2Sa 1:20 "Tell it not in Gath, herald it not in the streets of Ashkelon, Lest the Philistine maidens rejoice, lest the daughters of the strangers exult!

2Sa 1:21 Mountains of Gilboa, may there be neither dew nor rain upon you, nor upsurgings of the deeps! Upon you lie begrimed the warriors' shields, the shield of Saul, no longer anointed with oil.

2Sa 1:22 "From the blood of the slain, from the bodies of the valiant, The bow of Jonathan did not turn back, or the sword of Saul return unstained.

2Sa 1:23 Saul and Jonathan, beloved and cherished, separated neither in life nor in death, swifter than eagles, stronger than lions!

2Sa 1:24 Women of Israel, weep over Saul, who clothed you in scarlet and in finery, who decked your attire with ornaments of gold.

2Sa 1:25 "How can the warriors have fallen-- in the thick of the battle, slain upon your heights!

2Sa 1:26 "I grieve for you, Jonathan my brother! most dear have you been to me; More precious have I held love for you than love for women.

2Sa 1:27 "How can the warriors have fallen, the weapons of war have perished!"

2Sa 2:1 After this David inquired of the LORD, "Shall I go up into one of the cities of Judah?" The LORD replied to him, "Yes." Then David asked, "Where shall I go?" He replied, "To Hebron."

2Sa 2:2 So David went up there accompanied by his two wives, Ahinoam of Jezreel and Abigail, the widow of Nabal of Carmel.

2Sa 2:3 David also brought up his men with their families, and they dwelt in the cities near Hebron.

2Sa 2:4 Then the men of Judah came there and anointed David king of the Judahites. A report reached David that the men of Jabesh-gilead had buried Saul.

2Sa 2:5 So David sent messengers to the men of Jabesh-gilead and said to them: "May you be blessed by the LORD for having done this kindness to your lord Saul in burying him.

2Sa 2:6 And now may the LORD be kind and faithful to you. I, too, will be generous to you for having done this.

2Sa 2:7 Take courage, therefore, and prove yourselves valiant men, for though your lord Saul is dead, the Judahites have anointed me their king."

2Sa 2:8 Abner, son of Ner, Saul's general, took Ishbaal, son of Saul, and brought him over to Mahanaim, 2Sa 2:9 where he made him king over Gilead, the Ashurites, Jezreel, Ephraim, Benjamin, and the rest of Israel.

2Sa 2:10 Ishbaal, son of Saul, was forty years old when he became king over Israel, and he reigned for two years. The Judahites alone followed David.

2Sa 2:11 In all, David spent seven years and six months in Hebron as king of the Judahites.

2Sa 2:12 Now Abner, son of Ner, and the servants of Ishbaal, Saul's son, left Mahanaim for Gibeon.

2Sa 2:13 Joab, son of Zeruiah, and David's servants also set out and met them at the pool of Gibeon. And they sat down, one group on one side of the pool and the other on the opposite side.

2Sa 2:14 Then Abner said to Joab, "Let the young men rise and perform for us." Joab replied, "All right!"

2Sa 2:15 So they rose and were counted off: twelve of the Benjaminites of Ishbaal, son of Saul, and twelve of David's servants.

2Sa 2:16 Then each one grasped his opponent's head and thrust his sword into his opponent's side, and all fell down together. And so that place, which is in Gideon, was named the Field of the Sides.

2Sa 2:17 After a very fierce battle that day, Abner and the men of Israel were defeated by David's servants.

2Sa 2:18 The three sons of Zeruiah were there-- Joab, Abishai, and Asahel. Asahel, who was as fleet of foot as a gazelle in the open field, 2Sa 2:19 set out after Abner, turning neither right nor left in his pursuit.

2Sa 2:20 Abner turned around and said, "Is that you, Asahel?" He replied, "Yes."

2Sa 2:21 Abner said to him, "Turn right or left; seize one of the young men and take what you can strip from him." But Asahel would not desist from his pursuit.

2Sa 2:22 Once more Abner said to Asahel: "Stop pursuing me! Why must I strike you to the ground? How could I face your brother Joab?"

2Sa 2:23 Still he refused to stop. So Abner struck him in the abdomen with the heel of his javelin, and the weapon protruded from his back. He fell there and died on the spot. And all who came to the place where Asahel had fallen and died, came to a halt.

2Sa 2:24 Joab and Abishai, however, continued the pursuit of Abner. The sun had gone down when they came to the hill of Ammah which lies east of the valley toward the desert near Geba.

2Sa 2:25 Here the Benjaminites rallied around Abner, forming a single group, and made a stand on the hilltop.

2Sa 2:26 Then Abner called to Joab and said: "Must the sword destroy to the utmost? Do you not know that afterward there will be bitterness? How much longer will you refrain from ordering the people to stop the pursuit of their brothers?"

2Sa 2:27 Joab replied, "As God lives, if you had not spoken, the soldiers would not have been withdrawn from the pursuit of their brothers until morning."

2Sa 2:28 Joab then sounded the horn, and all the soldiers came to a halt, pursuing Israel no farther and fighting no more.

2Sa 2:29 Abner and his men marched all night long through the Arabah, crossed the Jordan, marched all through the morning, and came to Mahanaim.

2Sa 2:30 Joab, after interrupting the pursuit of Abner, assembled all the men. Besides Asahel, nineteen other servants of David were missing.

2Sa 2:31 But David's servants had fatally wounded three hundred and sixty men of Benjamin, followers of Abner.

2Sa 2:32 They took up Asahel and buried him in his father's tomb in Bethlehem. Joab and his men made an all-night march, and dawn found them in Hebron.

2Sa 3:1 There followed a long war between the house of Saul and that of David, in which David grew stronger, but the house of Saul weaker.

2Sa 3:2 Sons were born to David in Hebron: his first-born, Amnon, of Ahinoam from Jezreel;

2Sa 3:3 the second, Chileab, of Abigail the widow of Nabal of Carmel; the third, Absalom, son of Maacah the daughter of Talmai, king of Geshur;

2Sa 3:4 the fourth, Adonijah, son of Haggith; the fifth, Shephatiah, son of Abital;

2Sa 3:5 and the sixth, Ithream, of David's wife Eglah. These were born to David in Hebron.

2Sa 3:6 During the war between the house of Saul and that of David, Abner was gaining power in the house of Saul.

2Sa 3:7 Now Saul had had a concubine, Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah. And Ishbaal, son of Saul, said to Abner, "Why have you been intimate with my father's concubine?"

2Sa 3:8 Enraged at the words of Ishbaal, Abner said, "Am I a dog's head in Judah? At present I am doing a kindness to the house of your father Saul, to his brothers and his friends, by keeping you out of David's clutches; yet this day you charge me with a crime involving a woman!"

2Sa 3:9 May God do thus and so to Abner if I do not carry out for David what the LORD swore to him--

2Sa 3:10 that is, take away the kingdom from the house of Saul and establish the throne of David over Israel and over Judah from Dan to Beersheba."

2Sa 3:11 In his fear of Abner, Ishbaal was no longer able to say a word to him.

2Sa 3:12 Then Abner sent messengers to David in Telam, where he was at the moment, to say, "Make an agreement with me, and I will aid you by bringing all Israel over to you."

2Sa 3:13 He replied, "Very well, I will make an agreement with you. But one thing I require of you. You must not appear before me unless you bring back Michal, Saul's daughter, when you come to present yourself to me."

2Sa 3:14 At the same time David sent messengers to Ishbaal, son of Saul, to say, "Give me my wife Michal, whom I espoused by paying a hundred Philistine foreskins."

2Sa 3:15 Ishbaal sent for her and took her away from her husband Paltiel, son of Laish, 2Sa 3:16 who followed her weeping as far as Bahurim. But Abner said to him, "Go back!" And he turned back.

2Sa 3:17 Abner then said in discussion with the elders of Israel: "For a long time you have been seeking David as your king.

2Sa 3:18 Now take action, for the LORD has said of David, 'By my servant David I will save my people Israel from the grasp of the Philistines and from the grasp of all their enemies.'"

2Sa 3:19 Abner also spoke personally to Benjamin, and then went to make his own report to David in Hebron concerning all that would be agreeable to Israel and to the whole house of Benjamin.

2Sa 3:20 When Abner, accompanied by twenty men, came to David in Hebron, David prepared a feast for Abner and for the men who were with him.

2Sa 3:21 Then Abner said to David, "I will now go to assemble all Israel for my lord the king, that they may make an agreement with you; you will then be king over all whom you wish to rule." So David bade Abner farewell, and he went away in peace.

2Sa 3:22 Just then David's servants and Joab were coming in from an expedition, bringing much plunder with them. Abner, having been dismissed by David, was no longer with him in Hebron but had gone his way in peace.

2Sa 3:23 When Joab and the whole force he had with him arrived, he was informed, "Abner, son of Ner, came to David; he has been sent on his way in peace."

2Sa 3:24 So Joab went to the king and said: "What have you done? Abner came to you. Why did you let him go peacefully on his way?"

2Sa 3:25 Are you not aware that Abner came to deceive you and to learn the ins and outs of all that you are doing?"

2Sa 3:26 Joab then left David, and without David's knowledge sent messengers after Abner, who brought him back from the cistern of Sirah.

2Sa 3:27 When Abner returned to Hebron, Joab took him aside within the city gate as though to speak with him privately. There he stabbed him in the abdomen, and he died in revenge for the killing of Joab's brother Asahel.

2Sa 3:28 Later David heard of it and said: "Before the LORD; I and my kingdom are forever innocent.

2Sa 3:29 May the full responsibility for the death of Abner, son of Ner, be laid to Joab and to all his family. May the men of Joab's family never be without one suffering from a discharge, or a leper, or one unmanly, one falling by the sword, or one in need of bread!"

2Sa 3:30 (Joab and his brother Abishai had lain in wait for Abner because he killed their brother Asahel in battle at Gibeon.)

2Sa 3:31 Then David said to Joab and to all the people who were with him, "Rend your garments, gird yourselves with sackcloth, and mourn over Abner." King David himself followed the bier.

2Sa 3:32 When they had buried Abner in Hebron, the king wept aloud at the grave of Abner, and the people also wept.

2Sa 3:33 And the king sang this elegy over Abner: "Would Abner have died like a fool?"

2Sa 3:34 Your hands were not bound with chains, nor your feet placed in fetters; As men fall before the wicked, you fell." And all the people continued to weep for him.

2Sa 3:35 Then they went to console David with food while it was still day. But David swore, "May God do thus and so to me if I eat bread or anything else before sunset."

2Sa 3:36 All the people noted this with approval, just as they were pleased with everything that the king did.

2Sa 3:37 So on that day all the people and all Israel came to know that the king had no part in the killing of Abner, son of Ner.

2Sa 3:38 The king then said to his servants: "You must recognize that a great general has fallen today in Israel.

2Sa 3:39 Although I am the anointed king, I am weak this day, and these men, the sons of Zeruiah, are too ruthless for me. May the LORD requite the evildoer in accordance with his evil deed."

2Sa 4:1 When Ishbaal, son of Saul, heard that Abner had died in Hebron, he ceased to resist and all Israel was alarmed.

2Sa 4:2 Ishbaal, son of Saul, had two company leaders named Baanah and Rechab, sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, of the tribe of Benjamin. (Beeroth, too, was ascribed to Benjamin:

2Sa 4:3 the Beerothites fled to Gittaim, where they have been resident aliens to this day.

2Sa 4:4 Jonathan, son of Saul, had a son named Meribbaal with crippled feet. He was five years old when the news about Saul and Jonathan came from Jezreel, and his nurse took him up and fled. But in their hasty flight, he fell and became lame.)

2Sa 4:5 The sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, Rechab and Baanah, came into the house of Ishbaal during the heat of the day, while he was taking his siesta.

2Sa 4:6 The portress of the house had dozed off while sifting wheat, and was asleep. So Rechab and his brother Baanah slipped past

2Sa 4:7 and entered the house while Ishbaal was lying asleep in his bedroom. They struck and killed him, and cut off his head. Then, taking the head, they traveled on the Arabah road all night long.

2Sa 4:8 They brought the head of Ishbaal to David in Hebron and said to the king: "This is the head of Ishbaal, son of your enemy Saul, who sought your life. Thus has the LORD this day avenged my lord the king on Saul and his posterity."

2Sa 4:9 But David replied to Rechab and his brother Baanah, sons of Rimmon the Beerothite: "As the LORD lives, who rescued me from all difficulty,

2Sa 4:10 in Ziklag I seized and put to death the man who informed me of Saul's death, thinking himself the bearer of good news for which I ought to give him a reward.

2Sa 4:11 How much more now, when wicked men have slain an innocent man in bed at home, must I hold you responsible for his death and destroy you from the earth!"

2Sa 4:12 So at a command from David, the young men killed them and cut off their hands and feet, hanging them up near the pool in Hebron. But he took the head of Ishbaal and buried it in Abner's grave in Hebron.

2Sa 5:1 All the tribes of Israel came to David in Hebron and said: "Here we are, your bone and your flesh.

2Sa 5:2 In days past, when Saul was our king, it was you who led the Israelites out and brought them back. And the LORD said to you, 'You shall shepherd my people Israel and shall be commander of Israel.'"

2Sa 5:3 When all the elders of Israel came to David in Hebron, King David made an agreement with them there before the LORD, and they anointed him king of Israel.

2Sa 5:4 David was thirty years old when he became king, and he reigned for forty years:

2Sa 5:5 seven years and six months in Hebron over Judah, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem over all Israel and Judah.

2Sa 5:6 Then the king and his men set out for Jerusalem against the Jebusites who inhabited the region. David was told, "You cannot enter here: the blind and the lame will drive you away!" which was their way of saying, "David cannot enter here."

2Sa 5:7 But David did take the stronghold of Zion, which is the City of David.

2Sa 5:8 On that day David said: "All who wish to attack the Jebusites must strike at them through the water shaft. The lame and the blind shall be the personal enemies of David." That is why it is said, "The blind and the lame shall not enter the palace."

2Sa 5:9 David then dwelt in the stronghold, which was called the City of David; he built up the area from Millo to the palace.

2Sa 5:10 David grew steadily more powerful, for the LORD of hosts was with him.

2Sa 5:11 Hiram, king of Tyre, sent ambassadors to David; he furnished cedar wood, as well as carpenters and masons, who built a palace for David.

2Sa 5:12 And David knew that the LORD had established him as king of Israel and had exalted his rule for the sake of his people Israel.

2Sa 5:13 David took more concubines and wives in Jerusalem after he had come from Hebron, and more sons and daughters were born to him in Jerusalem.

2Sa 5:14 These are the names of those who were born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,

2Sa 5:15 Ibhaz, Elishua, Nepheg, Japhia,

2Sa 5:16 Elishama, Baaliada, and Eliphelet.

2Sa 5:17 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king of Israel, they all took the field in search of him. On hearing this, David went down to the refuge.

2Sa 5:18 The Philistines came and overran the valley of Rephaim.

2Sa 5:19 David inquired of the LORD, "Shall I attack the Philistines-- will you deliver them into my grip?" The LORD replied to David, "Attack, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into your grip."

2Sa 5:20 David then went to Baal-perazim, where he defeated them. He said, "The LORD has scattered my enemies before me like waters that have broken free." That is why the place is called Baal-perazim.

2Sa 5:21 They abandoned their gods there, and David and his men carried them away.

2Sa 5:22 But the Philistines came up again and overran the valley of Rephaim.

2Sa 5:23 So David inquired of the LORD, who replied: "You must not attack frontally, but circle their rear and meet them before the mastic trees.

2Sa 5:24 When you hear a sound of marching in the tops of the mastic trees, act decisively, for the LORD will have gone forth before you to attack the camp of the Philistines."

2Sa 5:25 David obeyed the LORD'S command and routed the Philistines from Gibeon as far as Gezer.

2Sa 6:1 David again assembled all the picked men of Israel, thirty thousand in number.

2Sa 6:2 Then David and all the people who were with him set out for Baala of Judah to bring up from there the ark of God, which bears the name of the LORD of hosts enthroned above the cherubim.

2Sa 6:3 The ark of God was placed on a new cart and taken away from the house of Abinadab on the hill.

Uzzah and Ahio, sons of Abinadab, guided the cart,

2Sa 6:4 with Ahio walking before it,

2Sa 6:5 while David and all the Israelites made merry before the LORD with all their strength, with singing and with citharas, harps, tambourines, sistrums and cymbals.

2Sa 6:6 When they came to the threshing floor of Nodan, Uzzah reached out his hand to the ark of God and steadied it, for the oxen were making it tip.

2Sa 6:7 But the LORD was angry with Uzzah; God struck him on that spot, and he died there before God.

2Sa 6:8 David was disturbed because the LORD had vented his anger on Uzzah. (The place has been called Perez-uzzah down to the present day.)

2Sa 6:9 David feared the LORD that day and said, "How can the ark of the LORD come to me?"

2Sa 6:10 So David would not have the ark of the LORD brought to him in the City of David, but diverted it to the house of Obed-edom the Gittite.

2Sa 6:11 The ark of the LORD remained in the house of Obed-edom the Gittite for three months, and the LORD blessed Obed-edom and his whole house.

2Sa 6:12 When it was reported to King David that the LORD had blessed the family of Obed-edom and all that belonged to him, David went to bring up the ark of God from the house of Obed-edom into the City of David amid festivities.

2Sa 6:13 As soon as the bearers of the ark of the LORD had advanced six steps, he sacrificed an ox and a fattling.

2Sa 6:14 Then David, girt with a linen apron, came dancing before the LORD with abandon,

2Sa 6:15 as he and all the Israelites were bringing up the ark of the LORD with shouts of joy and to the sound of the horn.

2Sa 6:16 As the ark of the LORD was entering the City of David, Saul's daughter Michal looked down through the window and saw King David leaping and dancing before the LORD, and she despised him in her heart.

2Sa 6:17 The ark of the LORD was brought in and set in its place within the tent David had pitched for it. Then David offered holocausts and peace offerings before the LORD.

2Sa 6:18 When he finished making these offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of hosts.

2Sa 6:19 He then distributed among all the people, to each man and each woman in the entire multitude of Israel, a loaf of bread, a cut of roast meat, and a raisin cake. With this, all the people left for their homes.

2Sa 6:20 When David returned to bless his own family, Saul's daughter Michal came out to meet him and said, "How the king of Israel has honored himself today, exposing himself to the view of the slave girls of his followers, as a commoner might do!"

2Sa 6:21 But David replied to Michal: "I was dancing before the LORD. As the LORD lives, who preferred me to your father and his whole family when he appointed me commander of the LORD'S people, Israel, not only will I make merry before the LORD,

2Sa 6:22 but I will demean myself even more. I will be lowly in your esteem, but in the esteem of the slave girls you spoke of I will be honored."

2Sa 6:23 And so Saul's daughter Michal was childless to the day of her death.

2Sa 7:1 When King David was settled in his palace, and the LORD had given him rest from his enemies on every side,

2Sa 7:2 he said to Nathan the prophet, "Here I am living in a house of cedar, while the ark of God dwells in a tent!"

2Sa 7:3 Nathan answered the king, "Go, do whatever you have in mind, for the LORD is with you."

2Sa 7:4 But that night the LORD spoke to Nathan and said:

2Sa 7:5 "Go, tell my servant David, 'Thus says the LORD: Should you build me a house to dwell in?"

2Sa 7:6 I have not dwelt in a house from the day on which I led the Israelites out of Egypt to the present, but I have been going about in a tent under cloth.

2Sa 7:7 In all my wanderings everywhere among the Israelites, did I ever utter a word to any one of the judges whom I charged to tend my people Israel, to ask: 'Why have you not built me a house of cedar?'

2Sa 7:8 "Now then, speak thus to my servant David, 'The LORD of hosts has this to say: It was I who took you from the pasture and from the care of the flock to be commander of my people Israel.

2Sa 7:9 I have been with you wherever you went, and I have destroyed all your enemies before you. And I will make you famous like the great ones of the earth.

2Sa 7:10 I will fix a place for my people Israel; I will plant them so that they may dwell in their place without further disturbance. Neither shall the wicked continue to afflict them as they did of old,

2Sa 7:11 since the time I first appointed judges over my people Israel. I will give you rest from all your enemies. The LORD also reveals to you that he will establish a house for you.

2Sa 7:12 And when your time comes and you rest with your ancestors, I will raise up your heir after you, sprung from your loins, and I will make his kingdom firm.

2Sa 7:13 It is he who shall build a house for my name. And I will make his royal throne firm forever.

2Sa 7:14 I will be a father to him, and he shall be a son to me. And if he does wrong, I will correct him with the rod of men and with human chastisements;

2Sa 7:15 but I will not withdraw my favor from him as I withdrew it from your predecessor Saul, whom I removed from my presence.

2Sa 7:16 Your house and your kingdom shall endure forever before me; your throne shall stand firm forever."

2Sa 7:17 Nathan reported all these words and this entire vision to David.

2Sa 7:18 Then King David went in and sat before the LORD and said, "Who am I, Lord GOD, and who are the members of my house, that you have brought me to this point?

2Sa 7:19 Yet even this you see as too little, Lord GOD; you have also spoken of the house of your servant for a long time to come: this too you have shown to man, Lord GOD!

2Sa 7:20 What more can David say to you? You know your servant, Lord GOD!

2Sa 7:21 For your servant's sake and as you have had at heart, you have brought about this entire magnificent disclosure to your servant.

2Sa 7:22 And so-- "Great are you, Lord GOD! There is none like you and there is no God but you, just as we have heard it told.

2Sa 7:23 What other nation on earth is there like your people Israel, which God has led, redeeming it as his people; so that you have made yourself renowned by doing this magnificent deed, and by doing awe-inspiring things as you cleared nations and their gods out of the way of your people, which you redeemed for yourself from Egypt?

2Sa 7:24 You have established for yourself your people Israel as yours forever, and you, LORD, have become their God.

2Sa 7:25 And now, LORD God, confirm for all time the prophecy you have made concerning your servant and his house, and do as you have promised.

2Sa 7:26 Your name will be forever great, when men say, 'The LORD of hosts is God of Israel,' and the house of your servant David stands firm before you.

2Sa 7:27 It is you, LORD of hosts, God of Israel, who said in a revelation to your servant, 'I will build a house for you.' Therefore your servant now finds the courage to make this prayer to you.

2Sa 7:28 And now, Lord GOD, you are God and your words are truth; you have made this generous promise to your servant.

2Sa 7:29 Do, then, bless the house of your servant that it may be before you forever; for you, Lord GOD, have promised, and by your blessing the house of your servant shall be blessed forever."

2Sa 8:1 After this David attacked the Philistines and conquered them, wresting... from the Philistines.

2Sa 8:2 He also defeated Moab and then measured them with a line, making them lie down on the ground. He told off two lengths of line for execution, and a full length to be spared. Thus the Moabites became tributary to David.

2Sa 8:3 Next David defeated Hadadezer, son of Rehob, king of Zobah, when he went to reestablish his dominion at the Euphrates River.

2Sa 8:4 David captured from him one thousand seven hundred horsemen and twenty thousand foot soldiers. And he hamstringed all the chariot horses, preserving only enough for a hundred chariots.

2Sa 8:5 When the Arameans of Damascus came to the aid of Hadadezer, king of Zobah, David slew twenty-two thousand of them.

2Sa 8:6 David then placed garrisons in Aram of Damascus, and the Arameans became subjects, tributary to David. The LORD brought David victory in all his undertakings.

2Sa 8:7 David also took away the golden shields used by Hadadezer's servants and brought them to

Jerusalem. (These Shishak, king of Egypt, took away when he came to Jerusalem in the days of Rehoboam, son of Solomon.)

2Sa 8:8 From Tebah and Berothai, towns of Hadadezer, King David removed a very large quantity of bronze.

2Sa 8:9 When Toi, king of Hamath, heard that David had defeated all the forces of Hadadezer, 2Sa 8:10 he sent his son Hadoram to King David to greet him and to congratulate him for his victory over Hadadezer in battle, because Toi had been in many battles with Hadadezer. Hadoram also brought with him articles of silver, gold, and bronze.

2Sa 8:11 These, too, King David consecrated to the LORD, together with the silver and gold he had taken from every nation he had conquered:

2Sa 8:12 from Edom and Moab, from the Ammonites, from the Philistines, from the Amalekites, and from the plunder of Hadadezer, son of Rehob, king of Zobah.

2Sa 8:13 On his return, David became famous for having slain eighteen thousand Edomites in the Salt Valley;

2Sa 8:14 after which he placed garrisons in Edom. Thus all the Edomites became David's subjects, and the LORD brought David victory in all his undertakings.

2Sa 8:15 David reigned over all Israel, judging and administering justice to all his people.

2Sa 8:16 Joab, son of Zeruiah, was in command of the army. Jehoshaphat, son of Ahilud, was chancellor.

2Sa 8:17 Zadok, son of Ahitub, and Ahimelech, son of Abiathar, were priests. Shawsha was scribe.

2Sa 8:18 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, was in command of the Cherethites and Pelethites. And David's sons were priests.

2Sa 9:1 David asked, "Is there any survivor of Saul's house to whom I may show kindness for the sake of Jonathan?"

2Sa 9:2 Now there was a servant of the family of Saul named Ziba. He was summoned to David, and the king asked him, "Are you Ziba?" He replied, "Your servant."

2Sa 9:3 Then the king inquired, "Is there any survivor of Saul's house to whom I may show God's kindness?"

Ziba answered the king, "There is still Jonathan's son, whose feet are crippled."

2Sa 9:4 The king said to him, "Where is he?" and Ziba answered, "He is in the house of Machir, son of Ammiel, in Lodebar."

2Sa 9:5 So King David sent for him and had him brought from the house of Machir, son of Ammiel, in Lodebar.

2Sa 9:6 When Meribbaal, son of Jonathan, son of Saul, came to David, he fell prostrate in homage. David said, "Meribbaal," and he answered, "Your servant."

2Sa 9:7 "Fear not," David said to him, "I will surely be kind to you for the sake of your father Jonathan. I will restore to you all the lands of your grandfather Saul, and you shall always eat at my table."

2Sa 9:8 Bowing low, he answered, "What is your servant that you should pay attention to a dead dog like me?"

2Sa 9:9 The king then called Ziba, Saul's attendant, and said to him: "I am giving your lord's son all that belonged to Saul and to all his family.

2Sa 9:10 You and your sons and servants must till the land for him. You shall bring in the produce, which shall be food for your lord's family to eat. But Meribbaal, your lord's son, shall always eat at my table." Ziba, who had fifteen sons and twenty servants,

2Sa 9:11 said to the king, "Your servant shall do just as my lord the king has commanded him." And so Meribbaal ate at David's table like one of the king's sons.

2Sa 9:12 Meribbaal had a young son whose name was Mica; and all the tenants of Ziba's family worked for Meribbaal.

2Sa 9:13 But Meribbaal lived in Jerusalem, because he always ate at the king's table. He was lame in both feet.

2Sa 10:1 Some time later the king of the Ammonites died, and his son Hanun succeeded him as king.

2Sa 10:2 David thought, "I will be kind to Hanun, son of Nahash, as his father was kind to me." So David sent his servants with condolences to Hanun for the loss of his father. But when David's servants entered the country of the Ammonites,

2Sa 10:3 the Ammonite princes said to their lord Hanun: "Do you think that David is honoring your father by sending men with condolences? Is it not rather to explore the city, to spy on it, and to overthrow it, that David has sent his messengers to you?"

2Sa 10:4 Hanun, therefore, seized David's servants and, after shaving off half their beards and cutting away the lower halves of their garments at the buttocks, sent them away.

2Sa 10:5 When he was told of it, King David sent out word to them, since the men were quite ashamed. "Stay in Jericho until your beards grow," he said, "and then come back."

2Sa 10:6 In view of the offense they had given to David, the Ammonites sent for and hired twenty thousand Aramean foot soldiers from Beth-rehob and Zobah, as well as the king of Maacah with one thousand men, and twelve thousand men from Tob.

2Sa 10:7 On learning this, David sent out Joab with the entire levy of trained soldiers.

2Sa 10:8 The Ammonites came out and drew up in battle formation at the entrance of their city gate, while the Arameans of Zobah and Rehob and the men of Tob and Maacah remained apart in the open country.

2Sa 10:9 When Joab saw the battle lines drawn up against him, both front and rear, he made a selection from all the picked troops of Israel and arrayed them against the Arameans.

2Sa 10:10 He placed the rest of the soldiers under the command of his brother Abishai, who arrayed them against the Ammonites.

2Sa 10:11 Joab said, "If the Arameans are stronger than I, you shall help me. But if the Ammonites are stronger than you, I will come to help you.

2Sa 10:12 Be brave; let us prove our valor for the sake of our people and the cities of our God; the LORD will do what he judges best."

2Sa 10:13 When Joab and the soldiers who were with him approached the Arameans for battle, they fled before him.

2Sa 10:14 The Ammonites, seeing that the Arameans had fled, also fled from Abishai and withdrew into the city. Joab then ceased his attack on the Ammonites and returned to Jerusalem.

2Sa 10:15 Then the Arameans responded to their defeat by Israel with a full mustering of troops;

2Sa 10:16 Hadadezer sent for and enlisted Arameans from beyond the Euphrates. They came to Helam, with Shobach, general of Hadadezer's army, at their head.

2Sa 10:17 On receiving this news, David assembled all Israel, crossed the Jordan, and went to Helam. The Arameans drew up in formation against David and fought with him.

2Sa 10:18 But the Arameans gave way before Israel, and David's men killed seven hundred charioteers and forty thousand of the Aramean foot soldiers. Shobach, general of the army, was struck down and died on the field.

2Sa 10:19 All of Hadadezer's vassal kings, in view of their defeat by Israel, then made peace with the Israelites and became their subjects. And the Arameans were afraid to give further aid to the Ammonites.

2Sa 11:1 At the turn of the year, when kings go out on campaign, David sent out Joab along with his officers and the army of Israel, and they ravaged the Ammonites and besieged Rabbah. David, however, remained in Jerusalem.

2Sa 11:2 One evening David rose from his siesta and strolled about on the roof of the palace. From the roof he saw a woman bathing, who was very beautiful.

2Sa 11:3 David had inquiries made about the woman and was told, "She is Bathsheba, daughter of Eliam, and wife of (Joab's armor-bearer) Uriah the Hittite."

2Sa 11:4 Then David sent messengers and took her. When she came to him, he had relations with her, at a time when she was just purified after her monthly period. She then returned to her house.

2Sa 11:5 But the woman had conceived, and sent the information to David, "I am with child."

2Sa 11:6 David therefore sent a message to Joab, "Send me Uriah the Hittite." So Joab sent Uriah to David.

2Sa 11:7 When he came, David questioned him about Joab, the soldiers, and how the war was going, and Uriah answered that all was well.

2Sa 11:8 David then said to Uriah, "Go down to your house and bathe your feet." Uriah left the palace, and a portion was sent out after him from the king's table.

2Sa 11:9 But Uriah slept at the entrance of the royal palace with the other officers of his lord, and did not go down to his own house.

2Sa 11:10 David was told that Uriah had not gone home. So he said to Uriah, "Have you not come from a journey? Why, then, did you not go down to your house?"

2Sa 11:11 Uriah answered David, "The ark and Israel and Judah are lodged in tents, and my lord Joab and your majesty's servants are encamped in the open field. Can I go home to eat and to drink and to sleep with my wife? As the LORD lives and as you live, I will do no such thing."

2Sa 11:12 Then David said to Uriah, "Stay here today also, I shall dismiss you tomorrow." So Uriah remained in Jerusalem that day. On the day following,

2Sa 11:13 David summoned him, and he ate and drank with David, who made him drunk. But in the evening he went out to sleep on his bed among his lord's servants, and did not go down to his home.

2Sa 11:14 The next morning David wrote a letter to Joab which he sent by Uriah.

2Sa 11:15 In it he directed: "Place Uriah up front, where the fighting is fierce. Then pull back and leave him to be struck down dead."

2Sa 11:16 So while Joab was besieging the city, he assigned Uriah to a place where he knew the defenders were strong.

2Sa 11:17 When the men of the city made a sortie against Joab, some officers of David's army fell, and among them Uriah the Hittite died.

2Sa 11:18 Then Joab sent David a report of all the details of the battle,

2Sa 11:19 instructing the messenger, "When you have finished giving the king all the details of the battle,

2Sa 11:20 the king may become angry and say to you: 'Why did you go near the city to fight? Did you not know that they would shoot from the wall above?

2Sa 11:21 Who killed Abimelech, son of Jerubbaal? Was it not a woman who threw a millstone down on him from the wall above, so that he died in Thebez? Why did you go near the wall?' Then you in turn shall say, 'Your servant Uriah the Hittite is also dead.'

2Sa 11:22 The messenger set out, and on his arrival he relayed to David all the details as Joab had instructed him.

2Sa 11:23 He told David: "The men had us at a disadvantage and came out into the open against us, but we pushed them back to the entrance of the city gate.

2Sa 11:24 Then the archers shot at your servants from the wall above, and some of the king's servants died, among them your servant Uriah."

2Sa 11:25 David said to the messenger: "This is what you shall convey to Joab: 'Do not be chagrined at this, for the sword devours now here and now there. Strengthen your attack on the city and destroy it.' Encourage him."

2Sa 11:26 When the wife of Uriah heard that her husband had died, she mourned her lord.

2Sa 11:27 But once the mourning was over, David sent for her and brought her into his house. She became his wife and bore him a son. But the LORD was displeased with what David had done.

2Sa 12:1 The LORD sent Nathan to David, and when he came to him, he said: "Judge this case for me! In a certain town there were two men, one rich, the other poor.

2Sa 12:2 The rich man had flocks and herds in great numbers.

2Sa 12:3 But the poor man had nothing at all except one little ewe lamb that he had bought. He nourished her, and she grew up with him and his children. She shared the little food he had and drank from his cup and slept in his bosom. She was like a daughter to him.

2Sa 12:4 Now, the rich man received a visitor, but he would not take from his own flocks and herds to prepare a meal for the wayfarer who had come to him. Instead he took the poor man's ewe lamb and made a meal of it for his visitor."

2Sa 12:5 David grew very angry with that man and said to Nathan: "As the LORD lives, the man who has done this merits death!

2Sa 12:6 He shall restore the ewe lamb fourfold because he has done this and has had no pity."

2Sa 12:7 Then Nathan said to David: "You are the man! Thus says the LORD God of Israel: 'I anointed you king of Israel. I rescued you from the hand of Saul.

2Sa 12:8 I gave you your lord's house and your lord's wives for your own. I gave you the house of Israel and of Judah. And if this were not enough, I could count up for you still more.

2Sa 12:9 Why have you spurned the LORD and done evil in his sight? You have cut down Uriah the Hittite with the sword; you took his wife as your own, and him you killed with the sword of the Ammonites.

2Sa 12:10 Now, therefore, the sword shall never depart from your house, because you have despised me and have taken the wife of Uriah to be your wife.'

2Sa 12:11 Thus says the LORD: 'I will bring evil upon you out of your own house. I will take your wives while you live to see it, and will give them to your neighbor. He shall lie with your wives in broad daylight.

2Sa 12:12 You have done this deed in secret, but I will bring it about in the presence of all Israel, and with the sun looking down.'"

2Sa 12:13 Then David said to Nathan, "I have sinned against the LORD." Nathan answered David: "The LORD on his part has forgiven your sin: you shall not die.

2Sa 12:14 But since you have utterly spurned the LORD by this deed, the child born to you must surely die."

2Sa 12:15 Then Nathan returned to his house. The LORD struck the child that the wife of Uriah had borne to David, and it became desperately ill.

2Sa 12:16 David besought God for the child. He kept a fast, retiring for the night to lie on the ground clothed in sackcloth.

2Sa 12:17 The elders of his house stood beside him urging him to rise from the ground; but he would not, nor would he take food with them.

2Sa 12:18 On the seventh day, the child died. David's servants, however, were afraid to tell him that the child was dead, for they said: "When the child was alive, we spoke to him, but he would not listen to what we said.

How can we tell him the child is dead? He may do some harm!"

2Sa 12:19 But David noticed his servants whispering among themselves and realized that the child was dead.

He asked his servants, "Is the child dead?" They replied, "Yes, he is."

2Sa 12:20 Rising from the ground, David washed and anointed himself, and changed his clothes. Then he went to the house of the LORD and worshiped. He returned to his own house, where at his request food was set before him, and he ate.

2Sa 12:21 His servants said to him: "What is this you are doing? While the child was living, you fasted and wept and kept vigil; now that the child is dead, you rise and take food."

2Sa 12:22 He replied: "While the child was living, I fasted and wept, thinking, 'Perhaps the LORD will grant me the child's life.'

2Sa 12:23 But now he is dead. Why should I fast? Can I bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he will not return to me."

2Sa 12:24 Then David comforted his wife Bathsheba. He went and slept with her; and she conceived and bore him a son, who was named Solomon. The LORD loved him

2Sa 12:25 and sent the prophet Nathan to name him Jedidiah, on behalf of the LORD.

2Sa 12:26 Joab fought against Rabbah of the Ammonites and captured this royal city.

2Sa 12:27 He sent messengers to David with the word: "I have fought against Rabbah and have taken the water-city.

2Sa 12:28 Therefore, assemble the rest of the soldiers, join the siege against the city and capture it, lest it be I that capture the city and it be credited to me."

2Sa 12:29 So David assembled the rest of the soldiers and went to Rabbah. When he had fought against it and captured it,

2Sa 12:30 he took the crown from Milcom's head. It weighed a talent, of gold and precious stones; it was placed on David's head. He brought out immense booty from the city,

2Sa 12:31 and also led away the inhabitants, whom he assigned to work with saws, iron picks, and iron axes, or put to work at the brickmold. This is what he did to all the Ammonite cities. David and all the soldiers then returned to Jerusalem.

2Sa 13:1 Some time later the following incident occurred. David's son Absalom had a beautiful sister named Tamar, and David's son Amnon loved her.

2Sa 13:2 He was in such straits over his sister Tamar that he became sick; since she was a virgin, Amnon thought it impossible to carry out his designs toward her.

2Sa 13:3 Now Amnon had a friend named Jonadab, son of David's brother Shimeah, who was very clever.

2Sa 13:4 He asked him, "Prince, why are you so dejected morning after morning? Why not tell me?" So Amnon said to him, "I am in love with Tamar, my brother Absalom's sister."

2Sa 13:5 Then Jonadab replied, "Lie down on your bed and pretend to be sick. When your father comes to visit you, say to him, 'Please let my sister Tamar come and encourage me to take food. If she prepares something appetizing in my presence, for me to see, I will eat it from her hand.'"

2Sa 13:6 So Amnon lay down and pretended to be sick. When the king came to visit him, Amnon said to the king, "Please let my sister Tamar come and prepare some fried cakes before my eyes, that I may take nourishment from her hand."

2Sa 13:7 David then sent home a message to Tamar, "Please go to the house of your brother Amnon and prepare some nourishment for him."

2Sa 13:8 Tamar went to the house of her brother Amnon, who was in bed. Taking dough and kneading it, she twisted it into cakes before his eyes and fried the cakes.

2Sa 13:9 Then she took the pan and set out the cakes before him. But Amnon would not eat; he said, "Have everyone leave me." When they had all left him,

2Sa 13:10 Amnon said to Tamar, "Bring the nourishment into the bedroom, that I may have it from your hand."

So Tamar picked up the cakes she had prepared and brought them to her brother Amnon in the bedroom.

2Sa 13:11 But when she brought them to him to eat, he seized her and said to her, "Come! Lie with me, my sister!"

2Sa 13:12 But she answered him, "No my brother! Do not shame me! That is an intolerable crime in Israel. Do not commit this insensate deed.

2Sa 13:13 Where would I take my shame? And you would be a discredited man in Israel. So please, speak to the king; he will not keep me from you."

2Sa 13:14 Not heeding her plea, he overpowered her; he shamed her and had relations with her.

2Sa 13:15 Then Amnon conceived an intense hatred for her, which far surpassed the love he had had for her. "Get up and leave," he said to her.

2Sa 13:16 She replied, "No, brother, because to drive me out would be far worse than the first injury you have done me." He would not listen to her,

2Sa 13:17 but called the youth who was his attendant and said, "Put her outside, away from me, and bar the door after her."

2Sa 13:18 Now she had on a long tunic, for that is how maiden princesses dressed in olden days. When his attendant put her out and barred the door after her,

2Sa 13:19 Tamar put ashes on her head and tore the long tunic in which she was clothed. Then, putting her hands to her head, she went away crying loudly.

2Sa 13:20 Her brother Absalom said to her: "Has your brother Amnon been with you? Be still now, my sister; he is your brother. Do not take this affair to heart." But Tamar remained grief-stricken and forlorn in the house of her brother Absalom.

2Sa 13:21 King David, who got word of the whole affair, became very angry. He did not, however, spark the resentment of his son Amnon, whom he favored because he was his first-born.

2Sa 13:22 Absalom, moreover, said nothing at all to Amnon, although he hated him for having shamed his sister Tamar.

2Sa 13:23 After a period of two years, Absalom had shearers in Baalhazor near Ephraim, and he invited all the princes.

2Sa 13:24 Absalom went to the king and said: "Your servant is having shearers. Please, your majesty, come with all your retainers to your servant."

2Sa 13:25 But the King said to Absalom, "No, my son, all of us should not go lest we be a burden to you." And though Absalom urged him, he refused to go and began to bid him good-bye.

2Sa 13:26 Absalom then said, "If you will not come yourself, please let my brother Amnon come to us." The king asked him, "Why should he go to you?"

2Sa 13:27 At Absalom's urging, however, he sent Amnon and all the other princes with him. Absalom prepared a banquet fit for royalty.

2Sa 13:28 But he had instructed his servants: "Now watch! When Amnon is merry with wine and I say to you, 'Kill Amnon,' put him to death. Do not be afraid, for it is I who order you to do it. Be resolute and act manfully."

2Sa 13:29 When the servants did to Amnon as Absalom had commanded, all the other princes rose, mounted their mules, and fled.

2Sa 13:30 While they were still on the road, a report reached David that Absalom had killed all the princes and that not one of them had survived.

2Sa 13:31 The king stood up, rent his garments, and then lay on the ground. All his servants standing by him also rent their garments.

2Sa 13:32 But Jonadab, son of David's brother Shimeah, spoke up: "Let not my lord think that all the young princes have been killed! Amnon alone is dead, for Absalom was determined on this ever since Amnon shamed his sister Tamar.

2Sa 13:33 So let not my lord the king put faith in the report that all the princes are dead. Amnon alone is dead."

2Sa 13:34 Meanwhile, Absalom had taken flight. Then the servant on watch looked about and saw a large group coming down the slope from the direction of Bahurim. He came in and reported this, telling the king that he had seen some men coming down the mountainside from the direction of Bahurim.

2Sa 13:35 So Jonadab said to the king: "There! The princes have come. It is as your servant said."

2Sa 13:36 No sooner had he finished speaking than the princes came in, weeping aloud. The king, too, and all his servants wept very bitterly.

2Sa 13:37 But Absalom, who had taken flight, went to Talmi, son of Ammihud, king of Geshur, 2Sa 13:38 and stayed in Geshur for three years.

2Sa 13:39 The king continued during all that time to mourn over his son; but his longing reached out for Absalom as he became reconciled to the death of Amnon.

2Sa 14:1 When Joab, son of Zeruiah, observed how the king felt toward Absalom, 2Sa 14:2 he sent to Tekoa and brought from there a gifted woman, to whom he said: "Pretend to be in mourning. Put on mourning apparel and do not anoint yourself with oil, that you may appear to be a woman who has been long in mourning for a departed one.

2Sa 14:3 Then go to the king and speak to him in this manner." And Joab instructed her what to say.

2Sa 14:4 So the woman of Tekoa went to the king and fell prostrate to the ground in homage, saying, "Help, your majesty!"

2Sa 14:5 The king said to her, "What do you want?" She replied: "Alas, I am a widow; my husband is dead.

2Sa 14:6 Your servant had two sons, who quarreled in the field. There being no one to part them, one of them struck his brother and killed him.

2Sa 14:7 Then the whole clan confronted your servant and demanded: 'Give up the one who killed his brother. We must put him to death for the life of his brother whom he has slain; we must extinguish the heir also.' Thus they will quench my remaining hope and leave my husband neither name nor posterity upon the earth."

2Sa 14:8 The king then said to the woman: "Go home. I will issue a command on your behalf."

2Sa 14:9 The woman of Tekoa answered him, "Let me and my family be to blame, my lord king; you and your throne are innocent."

2Sa 14:10 Then the king said, "If anyone says a word to you, have him brought to me, and he shall not touch you again."

2Sa 14:11 But she went on to say, "Please, your majesty, keep in mind the LORD your God, that the avenger of blood may not go too far in destruction and that my son may not be done away with." He replied, "As the LORD lives, not a hair of your son shall fall to the ground."

2Sa 14:12 The woman continued, "Please let your servant say still another word to my lord the king." He replied, "Speak."

2Sa 14:13 So the woman said: "Why, then, do you think of this same kind of thing against the people of God? In pronouncing as he has, the king shows himself guilty, for not bringing back his own banished son.

2Sa 14:14 We must indeed die; we are then like water that is poured out on the ground and cannot be gathered up. Yet, though God does not bring back life, he does take thought how not to banish anyone from him.

2Sa 14:15 And now, if I have presumed to speak of this matter to your majesty, it is because the people have given me cause to fear. And so your servant thought: 'Let me speak to the king. Perhaps he will grant the petition of his maidservant.

2Sa 14:16 For the king must surely consent to free his servant from the grasp of one who would seek to destroy me and my son as well from God's inheritance."

2Sa 14:17 And the woman concluded: "Let the word of my lord the king provide a resting place; indeed, my lord the king is like an angel of God, evaluating good and bad. The LORD your God be with you."

2Sa 14:18 The king answered the woman, "Now do not conceal from me anything I may ask you!" The woman said, "Let my lord the king speak."

2Sa 14:19 So the king asked, "Is Joab involved with you in all this?" And the woman answered: "As you live, my lord the king, it is just as your majesty has said, and not otherwise. It was your servant Joab who instructed me and told your servant all these things she was to say.

2Sa 14:20 Your servant Joab did this to come at the issue in a roundabout way. But my lord is as wise as an angel of God, so that he knows all things on earth."

2Sa 14:21 Then the king said to Joab: "I hereby grant this request. Go, therefore, and bring back young Absalom."

2Sa 14:22 Falling prostrate to the ground in homage and blessing the king, Joab said, "This day I know that I am in good favor with you, my lord the king, since the king has granted the request of his servant."

2Sa 14:23 Joab then went off to Geshur and brought Absalom to Jerusalem.

2Sa 14:24 But the king said, "Let him go to his own house; he shall not appear before me." So Absalom went off to his house and did not appear before the king.

2Sa 14:25 In all Israel there was not a man who could so be praised for his beauty as Absalom, who was without blemish from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head.

2Sa 14:26 When he shaved his head-- which he used to do at the end of every year, because his hair became too heavy for him-- the hair weighed two hundred shekels according to the royal standard.

2Sa 14:27 Absalom had three sons born to him, besides a daughter named Tamar, who was a beautiful woman.

2Sa 14:28 Absalom lived in Jerusalem for two years without appearing before the king.

2Sa 14:29 Then he summoned Joab to send him to the king, but Joab would not come to him. Although he summoned him a second time, Joab refused to come.

2Sa 14:30 He therefore instructed his servants: "You see Joab's field that borders mine, on which he has barley. Go, set it on fire." And so Absalom's servants set the field on fire. Joab's farmhands came to him with torn garments and reported to him what had been done.

2Sa 14:31 At this, Joab went to Absalom in his house and asked him, "Why have your servants set my field on fire?"

2Sa 14:32 Absalom answered Joab: "I was summoning you to come here, that I may send you to the king to say: 'Why did I come back from Geshur? I would be better off if I were still there!' Now, let me appear before the king. If I am guilty, let him put me to death."

2Sa 14:33 Joab went to the king and reported this. The king then called Absalom, who came to him and in homage fell on his face to the ground before the king. Then the king kissed him.

2Sa 15:1 After this Absalom provided himself with chariots, horses, and fifty henchmen.

2Sa 15:2 Moreover, Absalom used to rise early and stand alongside the road leading to the gate. If someone had a lawsuit to be decided by the king, Absalom would call to him and say, "From what city are you?" And when he replied, "Your servant is of such and such a tribe of Israel,"

2Sa 15:3 Absalom would say to him, "Your suit is good and just, but there is no one to hear you in the king's name."

2Sa 15:4 And he would continue: "If only I could be appointed judge in the land! Then everyone who has a lawsuit to be decided might come to me and I would render him justice."

2Sa 15:5 Whenever a man approached him to show homage, he would extend his hand, hold him, and kiss him.

2Sa 15:6 By behaving in this way toward all the Israelites who came to the king for judgment, Absalom was stealing away the loyalties of the men of Israel.

2Sa 15:7 After a period of four years, Absalom said to the king: "Allow me to go to Hebron and fulfill a vow I made to the LORD.

2Sa 15:8 For while living in Geshur in Aram, your servant made this vow: 'If the LORD ever brings me back to Jerusalem, I will worship him in Hebron.'"

2Sa 15:9 The king wished him a safe journey, and he went off to Hebron.

2Sa 15:10 Then Absalom sent spies throughout the tribes of Israel to say, "When you hear the sound of the horn, declare Absalom king in Hebron."

2Sa 15:11 Two hundred men had accompanied Absalom from Jerusalem. They had been invited and went in good faith, knowing nothing of the plan.

2Sa 15:12 Absalom also sent to Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counselor, an invitation to come from his town, Giloh, for the sacrifices he was about to offer. So the conspiracy gained strength, and the people with Absalom increased in numbers.

2Sa 15:13 An informant came to David with the report, "The Israelites have transferred their loyalty to Absalom."

2Sa 15:14 At this, David said to all his servants who were with him in Jerusalem: "Up! Let us take flight, or none of us will escape from Absalom. Leave quickly, lest he hurry and overtake us, then visit disaster upon us and put the city to the sword."

2Sa 15:15 The king's officers answered him, "Your servants are ready, whatever our lord the king chooses to do."

2Sa 15:16 Then the king set out, accompanied by his entire household, except for ten concubines whom he left behind to take care of the palace.

2Sa 15:17 As the king left the city, with all his officers accompanying him, they halted opposite the ascent of the Mount of Olives, at a distance,

2Sa 15:18 while the whole army marched past him. As all the Cherethites and Pelethites, and the six hundred men of Gath who had accompanied him from that city, were passing in review before the king,

2Sa 15:19 he said to Ittai the Gittite: "Why should you also go with us? Go back and stay with the king, for you are a foreigner and you, too, are an exile from your own country."

2Sa 15:20 You came only yesterday, and shall I have you wander about with us today, wherever I have to go? Return and take your brothers with you, and may the LORD be kind and faithful to you."

2Sa 15:21 But Ittai answered the king, "As the LORD lives, and as my lord the king lives, your servant shall be wherever my lord the king may be, whether for death or for life."

2Sa 15:22 So the king said to Ittai, "Go, then, march on." And Ittai the Gittite, with all his men and all the dependents that were with him, marched on.

2Sa 15:23 Everyone in the countryside wept aloud as the last of the soldiers went by, and the king crossed the Kidron Valley with all the soldiers moving on ahead of him by way of the Mount of Olives, toward the desert.

2Sa 15:24 Zadok, too (with all the Levite bearers of the ark of the covenant of God), and Abiathar brought the ark of God to a halt until the soldiers had marched out of the city.

2Sa 15:25 Then the king said to Zadok: "Take the ark of God back to the city. If I find favor with the LORD, he will bring me back and permit me to see it and its lodging."

2Sa 15:26 But if he should say, 'I am not pleased with you,' I am ready; let him do to me as he sees fit."

2Sa 15:27 The king also said to the priest Zadok: "See to it that you and Abiathar return to the city in peace, and both your sons with you, your own son Ahimaaz, and Abiathar's son Jonathan."

2Sa 15:28 Remember, I shall be waiting at the fords near the desert until I receive information from you."

2Sa 15:29 So Zadok and Abiathar took the ark of God back to Jerusalem and remained there.

2Sa 15:30 As David went up the Mount of Olives, he wept without ceasing. His head was covered, and he was walking barefoot. All those who were with him also had their heads covered and were weeping as they went.

2Sa 15:31 When David was informed that Ahithophel was among the conspirators with Absalom, he said, "O LORD, turn the counsel of Ahithophel to folly!"

2Sa 15:32 When David reached the top, where men used to worship God, Hushai the Archite was there to meet him, with rent garments and dirt upon his head.

2Sa 15:33 David said to him: "If you come with me, you will be a burden to me."

2Sa 15:34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'Let me be your servant, O king; I was formerly your father's servant, but now I will be yours,' you will undo for me the counsel of Ahithophel."

2Sa 15:35 You will have the priests Zadok and Abiathar there with you. If you hear anything from the royal palace, you shall report it to the priests Zadok and Abiathar,

2Sa 15:36 who have there with them both Zadok's son Ahimaaz and Abiathar's son Jonathan. Through them you shall send on to me whatever you hear."

2Sa 15:37 So David's friend Hushai went into the city of Jerusalem as Absalom was about to enter it.

2Sa 16:1 David had gone a little beyond the top when Ziba, the servant of Meribbaal, met him with saddled asses laden with two hundred loaves of bread, an ephah of cakes of pressed raisins, an ephah of summer fruits, and a skin of wine.

2Sa 16:2 The king said to Ziba, "What do you plan to do with these?" Ziba replied: "The asses are for the king's household to ride on. The bread and summer fruits are for your servants to eat, and the wine for those to drink who are weary in the desert."

2Sa 16:3 Then the king said, "And where is your lord's son?" Ziba answered the king, "He is staying in Jerusalem, for he said, 'Now the Israelites will restore to me my father's kingdom.'

2Sa 16:4 The king therefore said to Ziba, "So! Everything Meribbaal had is yours." Then Ziba said: "I pay you homage, my lord the king. May I find favor with you!"

2Sa 16:5 As David was approaching Bahurim, a man named Shimei, the son of Gera of the same clan as Saul's family, was coming out of the place, cursing as he came.

2Sa 16:6 He threw stones at David and at all the king's officers, even though all the soldiers, including the royal guard, were on David's right and on his left.

2Sa 16:7 Shimei was saying as he cursed: "Away, away, you murderous and wicked man!"

2Sa 16:8 The LORD has requited you for all the bloodshed in the family of Saul, in whose stead you became king, and the LORD has given over the kingdom to your son Absalom. And now you suffer ruin because you are a murderer."

2Sa 16:9 Abishai, son of Zeruiah, said to the king: "Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Let me go over, please, and lop off his head."

2Sa 16:10 But the king replied: "What business is it of mine or of yours, sons of Zeruiah, that he curses?"

Suppose the LORD has told him to curse David; who then will dare to say, 'Why are you doing this?'"

2Sa 16:11 Then the king said to Abishai and to all his servants: "If my own son, who came forth from my loins, is seeking my life, how much more might this Benjaminite do so! Let him alone and let him curse, for the LORD has told him to.

2Sa 16:12 Perhaps the LORD will look upon my affliction and make it up to me with benefits for the curses he is uttering this day."

2Sa 16:13 David and his men continued on the road, while Shimei kept abreast of them on the hillside, all the while cursing and throwing stones and dirt as he went.

2Sa 16:14 The king and all the soldiers with him arrived at the Jordan tired out, and stopped there for a rest.

2Sa 16:15 In the meantime Absalom, accompanied by Ahithophel, entered Jerusalem with all the Israelites.

2Sa 16:16 When David's friend Hushai the Archite came to Absalom, he said to him: "Long live the king! Long live the king!"

2Sa 16:17 But Absalom asked Hushai: "Is this your devotion to your friend? Why did you not go with your friend?"

2Sa 16:18 Hushai replied to Absalom: "On the contrary, I am his whom the LORD and all this people and all Israel have chosen, and with him I will stay.

2Sa 16:19 Furthermore, as I was in attendance upon your father, so will I be before you. Whom should I serve, if not his son?"

2Sa 16:20 Then Absalom said to Ahithophel, "Offer your counsel on what we should do."

2Sa 16:21 Ahithophel replied to Absalom: "Have relations with your father's concubines, whom he left behind to take care of the palace. When all Israel hears how odious you have made yourself to your father, all your partisans will take courage."

2Sa 16:22 So a tent was pitched on the roof for Absalom, and he visited his father's concubines in view of all Israel.

2Sa 16:23 Now the counsel given by Ahithophel at that time was as though one had sought divine revelation. Such was all his counsel both to David and to Absalom.

2Sa 17:1 Ahithophel went on to say to Absalom: "Please let me choose twelve thousand men, and be off in pursuit of David tonight.

2Sa 17:2 If I come upon him when he is weary and discouraged, I shall cause him panic. When all the people with him flee, I shall strike down the king alone.

2Sa 17:3 Then I can bring back the rest of the people to you, as a bride returns to her husband. It is the death of only one man you are seeking; then all the people will be at peace."

2Sa 17:4 This plan was agreeable to Absalom and to all the elders of Israel.

2Sa 17:5 Then Absalom said, "Now call Hushai the Archite also; let us hear what he too has to say."

2Sa 17:6 When Hushai came to Absalom, Absalom said to him: "This is what Ahithophel proposed. Shall we follow his proposal? If not, speak up."

2Sa 17:7 Hushai replied to Absalom, "This time Ahithophel has not given good counsel."

2Sa 17:8 And he went on to say: "You know that your father and his men are warriors, and that they are as fierce as a bear in the wild robbed of her cubs. Moreover, since your father is skilled in warfare, he will not spend the night with the people.

2Sa 17:9 Even now he lies hidden in one of the caves or in some other place. And if some of our soldiers should fall at the first attack, whoever hears of it will say, 'Absalom's followers have been slaughtered.'

2Sa 17:10 Then even the brave man with the heart of a lion will lose courage. For all Israel knows that your father is a warrior and that those who are with him are brave.

2Sa 17:11 "This is what I counsel: Let all Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba, who are as numerous as the sands by the sea, be called up for combat; and go with them yourself.

2Sa 17:12 We can then attack him wherever we find him, settling down upon him as dew alights on the ground. None shall survive-- neither he nor any of his followers.

2Sa 17:13 And if he retires into a city, all Israel shall bring ropes to that city and we can drag it into the gorge, so that not even a pebble of it can be found."

2Sa 17:14 Then Absalom and all the Israelites pronounced the counsel of Hushai the Archite better than that of Ahithophel. For the LORD had decided to undo Ahithophel's good counsel, in order thus to bring Absalom to ruin.

2Sa 17:15 Then Hushai said to the priests Zadok and Abiathar: "This is the counsel Ahithophel gave Absalom and the elders of Israel, and this is what I counseled.

2Sa 17:16 So send a warning to David immediately, not to spend the night at the fords near the desert, but to cross over without fail. Otherwise the king and all the people with him will be destroyed."

2Sa 17:17 Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz were staying at En-rogel, since they could not risk being seen entering the city. A maidservant was to come with information for them, and they in turn were to go and report to King David.

2Sa 17:18 But an attendant saw them and informed Absalom. They sped on their way and reached the house of a man in Bahurim who had a cistern in his courtyard. They let themselves down into this,

2Sa 17:19 and the housewife took the cover and spread it over the cistern, strewing ground grain on the cover so that nothing could be noticed.

2Sa 17:20 When Absalom's servants came to the woman at the house, they asked, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" The woman replied, "They went by a short while ago toward the water." They searched, but found no one, and so returned to Jerusalem.

2Sa 17:21 As soon as they left, Ahimaaz and Jonathan came up out of the cistern and went on to inform King David. They said to him: "Leave! Cross the water at once, for Ahithophel has given the following counsel in regard to you."

2Sa 17:22 So David and all his people moved on and crossed the Jordan. By daybreak, there was no one left who had not crossed.

2Sa 17:23 When Ahithophel saw that his counsel was not acted upon, he saddled his ass and departed, going to his home in his own city. Then, having left orders concerning his family, he hanged himself. And so he died and was buried in his father's tomb.

2Sa 17:24 Now David had gone to Mahanaim when Absalom crossed the Jordan accompanied by all the Israelites.

2Sa 17:25 Absalom had put Amasa in command of the army in Joab's place. Amasa was the son of an Ishmaelite named Ithra, who had married Abigail, daughter of Jesse and sister of Joab's mother Zeruihah.

2Sa 17:26 Israel and Absalom encamped in the territory of Gilead.

2Sa 17:27 When David came to Mahanaim, Shobi, son of Nahash from Rabbah of the Ammonites, Machir, son of Ammiel from Lodebar, and Barzillai, the Gileadite from Rogelim,

2Sa 17:28 brought couches, coverlets, basins and earthenware, as well as wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,

2Sa 17:29 honey, butter and cheese from the flocks and herds, for David and those who were with him to eat; for they said, "The people have been hungry and tired and thirsty in the desert."

2Sa 18:1 After mustering the troops he had with him, David placed officers in command of groups of a thousand and groups of a hundred.

2Sa 18:2 David then put a third part of the soldiers under Joab's command, a third under command of Abishai, son of Zeruihah and brother of Joab, and a third under command of Ittai the Gittite. The king then said to the soldiers, "I intend to go out with you myself."

2Sa 18:3 But they replied: "You must not come out with us. For if we should flee, we shall not count; even if half of us should die, we shall not count. You are equal to ten thousand of us. Therefore it is better that we have you to help us from the city."

2Sa 18:4 So the king said to them, "I will do what you think best"; and he stood by the gate as all the soldiers marched out in units of a hundred and of a thousand.

2Sa 18:5 But the king gave this command to Joab, Abishai and Ittai: "Be gentle with young Absalom for my sake." All the soldiers heard the king instruct the various leaders with regard to Absalom.

2Sa 18:6 David's army then took the field against Israel, and a battle was fought in the forest near Mahanaim.

2Sa 18:7 The forces of Israel were defeated by David's servants, and the casualties there that day were heavy-- twenty thousand men.

2Sa 18:8 The battle spread out over that entire region, and the thickets consumed more combatants that day than did the sword.

2Sa 18:9 Absalom unexpectedly came up against David's servants. He was mounted on a mule, and, as the mule passed under the branches of a large terebinth, his hair caught fast in the tree. He hung between heaven and earth while the mule he had been riding ran off.

2Sa 18:10 Someone saw this and reported to Joab that he had seen Absalom hanging from a terebinth.

2Sa 18:11 Joab said to his informant: "If you saw him, why did you not strike him to the ground on the spot? Then it would have been my duty to give you fifty pieces of silver and a belt."

2Sa 18:12 But the man replied to Joab: "Even if I already held a thousand pieces of silver in my two hands, I would not harm the king's son, for the king charged you and Abishai and Ittai in our hearing to protect the youth Absalom for his sake.

2Sa 18:13 Had I been disloyal and killed him, the whole matter would have come to the attention of the king, and you would stand aloof."

2Sa 18:14 Joab replied, "I will not waste time with you in this way." And taking three pikes in hand, he thrust for the heart of Absalom, still hanging from the tree alive.

2Sa 18:15 Next, ten of Joab's young armor-bearers closed in on Absalom, and killed him with further blows.

2Sa 18:16 Joab then sounded the horn, and the soldiers turned back from the pursuit of the Israelites, because Joab called on them to halt.

2Sa 18:17 Absalom was taken up and cast into a deep pit in the forest, and a very large mound of stones was erected over him. And all the Israelites fled to their own tents.

2Sa 18:18 During his lifetime Absalom had taken a pillar and erected it for himself in the King's Valley, for he said, "I have no son to perpetuate my name." The pillar which he named for himself is called Yadabshalom to the present day.

2Sa 18:19 Then Ahimaaz, son of Zadok, said, "Let me run to take the good news to the king that the LORD has set him free from the grasp of his enemies."

2Sa 18:20 But Joab said to him: "You are not the man to bring the news today. On some other day you may take the good news, but today you would not be bringing good news, for in fact the king's son is dead."

2Sa 18:21 Then Joab said to a Cushite, "Go, tell the king what you have seen." The Cushite bowed to Joab and sped away.

2Sa 18:22 But Ahimaaz, son of Zadok, said to Joab again, "Come what may, permit me also to run after the Cushite." Joab replied: "Why do you want to run, my son? You will receive no reward."

2Sa 18:23 But he insisted, "Come what may, I want to run." Joab said to him, "Very well." Ahimaaz sped off by way of the Jordan plain and outran the Cushite.

2Sa 18:24 Now David was sitting between the two gates, and a lookout mounted to the roof of the gate above the city wall, where he looked about and saw a man running all alone.

2Sa 18:25 The lookout shouted to inform the king, who said, "If he is alone, he has good news to report." As he kept coming nearer,

2Sa 18:26 the lookout spied another runner. From his place atop the gate he cried out, "There is another man running by himself." And the king responded, "He, too, is bringing good news."

2Sa 18:27 Then the lookout said, "I notice that the first one runs like Ahimaaz, son of Zadok." The king replied, "He is a good man; he comes with good news."

2Sa 18:28 Then Ahimaaz called out and greeted the king. With face to the ground he paid homage to the king and said, "Blessed be the LORD your God, who has delivered up the men who rebelled against my lord the king."

2Sa 18:29 But the king asked, "Is the youth Absalom safe?" And Ahimaaz replied, "I saw a great disturbance when the king's servant Joab sent your servant on, but I do not know what it was."

2Sa 18:30 The king said, "Step aside and remain in attendance here." So he stepped aside and remained there.

2Sa 18:31 When the Cushite came in, he said, "Let my lord the king receive the good news that this day the LORD has taken your part, freeing you from the grasp of all who rebelled against you."

2Sa 18:32 But the king asked the Cushite, "Is young Absalom safe?" The Cushite replied, "May the enemies of my lord the king and all who rebel against you with evil intent be as that young man!"

2Sa 19:1 The king was shaken, and went up to the room over the city gate to weep. He said as he wept, "My son Absalom! My son, my son Absalom! If only I had died instead of you, Absalom, my son, my son!"

2Sa 19:2 Joab was told that the king was weeping and mourning for Absalom;

2Sa 19:3 and that day's victory was turned into mourning for the whole army when they heard that the king was grieving for his son.

2Sa 19:4 The soldiers stole into the city that day like men shamed by flight in battle.

2Sa 19:5 Meanwhile the king covered his face and cried out in a loud voice, "My son Absalom! Absalom! My son, my son!"

2Sa 19:6 Then Joab went to his residence and said: "Though they saved your life and your sons' and daughters' lives, also the lives of your wives and those of your concubines, you have put all your servants to shame today

2Sa 19:7 by loving those who hate you and hating those who love you. For you have shown today that officers and servants mean nothing to you. Indeed I am now certain that if Absalom were alive today and all of us dead, you would think that more suitable.

2Sa 19:8 Now then, get up! Go out and speak kindly to your servants. I swear by the LORD that if you do not go out, not a single man will remain with you overnight, and this will be a far greater disaster for you than any that has afflicted you from your youth until now."

2Sa 19:9 So the king stepped out and sat at the gate. When all the people were informed that the king was sitting at the gate, they came into his presence. Now the Israelites had fled to their separate tents,

2Sa 19:10 but throughout the tribes of Israel all the people were arguing among themselves, saying to one another: "The king delivered us from the clutches of our enemies, and it was he who rescued us from the grip of the Philistines. But now he has fled from the country before Absalom, 2Sa 19:11 and Absalom, whom we anointed over us, died in battle. Why, then, should you remain silent about restoring the king to his palace?" When the talk of all Israel reached the king, 2Sa 19:12 David sent word to the priests Zadok and Abiathar: "Say to the elders of Judah: 'Why should you be last to restore the king to his palace?

2Sa 19:13 You are my brothers, you are my bone and flesh. Why should you be last to restore the king?'

2Sa 19:14 Also say to Amasa: 'Are you not my bone and flesh? May God do thus and so to me, if you do not become my general permanently in place of Joab.'"

2Sa 19:15 He won over all the Judahites as one man, and so they summoned the king to return, with all his servants.

2Sa 19:16 When the king, on his return, reached the Jordan, Judah had come to Gilgal to meet him and to escort him across the Jordan.

2Sa 19:17 Shimei, son of Gera, the Benjaminite from Bahurim, hurried down with the Judahites to meet King David,

2Sa 19:18 accompanied by a thousand men from Benjamin. Ziba, too, the servant of the house of Saul, accompanied by his fifteen sons and twenty servants, hastened to the Jordan before the king.

2Sa 19:19 They crossed over the ford to bring the king's household over and to do whatever he wished. When Shimei, son of Gera, crossed the Jordan, he fell down before the king

2Sa 19:20 and said to him: "May my lord not hold me guilty, and may he not remember and take to heart the wrong that your servant did the day my lord the king left Jerusalem.

2Sa 19:21 For your servant knows that he has done wrong. Yet realize that I have been the first of the whole house of Joseph to come down today to meet my lord the king."

2Sa 19:22 But Abishai, son of Zeruiah, countered: "Shimei must be put to death for this. He cursed the LORD'S anointed."

2Sa 19:23 David replied: "What has come between you and me, sons of Zeruiah, that you would create enmity for me this day? Should anyone die today in Israel? Am I not aware that today I am king of Israel?"

2Sa 19:24 Then the king said to Shimei, "You shall not die." And the king gave him his oath.

2Sa 19:25 Meribbaal, son of Saul, also went down to meet the king. He had not washed his feet nor trimmed his mustache nor washed his clothes from the day the king left until he returned safely.

2Sa 19:26 When he came from Jerusalem to meet the king, the king asked him, "Why did you not go with me, Meribbaal?"

2Sa 19:27 He replied: "My lord the king, my servant betrayed me. For your servant, who is lame, said to him, 'Saddle the ass for me, that I may ride on it and go with the king.'

2Sa 19:28 But he slandered your servant before my lord the king. But my lord the king is like an angel of God. Do what you judge best.

2Sa 19:29 For though my father's entire house deserved only death from my lord the king, yet you placed your servant among the guests at your table. What right do I still have to make further appeal to the king?"

2Sa 19:30 But the king said to him: "Why do you go on talking? I say, 'You and Ziba shall divide the property.'"

2Sa 19:31 Meribbaal answered the king, "Indeed let him have it all, now that my lord the king has returned safely to his palace."

2Sa 19:32 Barzillai the Gileadite also came down from Rogelim and escorted the king to the Jordan for his crossing, taking leave of him there.

2Sa 19:33 It was Barzillai, a very old man of eighty and very wealthy besides, who had provisioned the king during his stay in Mahanaim.

2Sa 19:34 The king said to Barzillai, "Cross over with me, and I will provide for your old age as my guest in Jerusalem."

2Sa 19:35 But Barzillai answered the king: "How much longer have I to live, that I should go up to Jerusalem with the king?"

2Sa 19:36 I am now eighty years old. Can I distinguish between good and bad? Can your servant taste what he eats and drinks, or still appreciate the voices of singers and songstresses? Why should your servant be any further burden to my lord the king?

2Sa 19:37 In escorting the king across the Jordan, your servant is doing little enough! Why should the king give me this reward?

2Sa 19:38 Please let your servant go back to die in his own city by the tomb of his father and mother. Here is your servant Chimham. Let him cross over with my lord the king. Do for him whatever you will."

2Sa 19:39 Then the king said to him, "Chimham shall come over with me, and I will do for him as you would wish. And anything else you would like me to do for you, I will do."

2Sa 19:40 Then all the people crossed over the Jordan but the king remained; he kissed Barzillai and bade him Godspeed as he returned to his own district.

2Sa 19:41 Finally the king crossed over to Gilgal, accompanied by Chimham. All the people of Judah and half of the people of Israel had escorted the king across.

2Sa 19:42 But all these Israelites began coming to the king and saying, "Why did our brothers the Judahites steal you away and escort the king and his household across the Jordan, along with all David's men?"

2Sa 19:43 All the Judahites replied to the men of Israel: "Because the king is our relative. Why are you angry over this affair? Have we had anything to eat at the king's expense? Or have portions from his table been given to us?"

2Sa 19:44 The Israelites answered the Judahites: "We have ten shares in the king. Also, we are the first-born rather than you. Why do you slight us? Were we not first to speak of restoring the king?" Then the Judahites in turn spoke even more fiercely than the Israelites.

2Sa 20:1 Now a rebellious individual from Benjamin named Sheba, the son of Bichri, happened to be there. He sounded the horn and cried out, "We have no portion in David, nor any share in the son of Jesse. Every man to his tent, O Israel!"

2Sa 20:2 So all the Israelites left David for Sheba, son of Bichri. But from the Jordan to Jerusalem the Judahites remained loyal to their king.

2Sa 20:3 When King David came to his palace in Jerusalem, he took the ten concubines whom he had left behind to take care of the palace and placed them in confinement. He provided for them, but had no further relations with them. And so they remained in confinement to the day of their death, lifelong widows.

2Sa 20:4 Then the king said to Amasa: "Summon the Judahites for me within three days. Then present yourself here."

2Sa 20:5 Accordingly Amasa set out to summon Judah, but delayed beyond the time set for him by David.

2Sa 20:6 Then David said to Abishai: "Sheba, son of Bichri, may now do us more harm than Absalom did. Take your lord's servants and pursue him, lest he find fortified cities and take shelter while we look on."

2Sa 20:7 So Joab and the Cherethites and Pelethites and all the warriors marched out behind Abishai from Jerusalem to campaign in pursuit of Sheba, son of Bichri.

2Sa 20:8 They were at the great stone in Gibeon when Amasa met them. Now Joab had a belt over his tunic, from which was slung, in its sheath near his thigh, a sword that could be drawn with a downward movement.

2Sa 20:9 And Joab asked Amasa, "How are you, my brother?" With his right hand Joab held Amasa's beard as if to kiss him.

2Sa 20:10 And since Amasa was not on his guard against the sword in Joab's other hand, Joab stabbed him in the abdomen with it, so that his entrails burst forth to the ground, and he died without receiving a second thrust. Then Joab and his brother Abishai pursued Sheba, son of Bichri.

2Sa 20:11 One of Joab's attendants stood by Amasa and said, "Let him who favors Joab and is for David follow Joab."

2Sa 20:12 Amasa lay covered with blood in the middle of the highroad, and the man noticed that all the soldiers were stopping. So he removed Amasa from the road to the field and placed a garment over him, because all who came up to him were stopping.

2Sa 20:13 When he had been removed from the road, everyone went on after Joab in pursuit of Sheba, son of Bichri.

2Sa 20:14 Sheba passed through all the tribes of Israel to Abel Beth-maacah. Then all the Bichrites assembled and they too entered the city after him.

2Sa 20:15 So David's servants came and besieged him in Abel Beth-maacah. They threw up a mound against the city, and all the soldiers who were with Joab began battering the wall to throw it down.

2Sa 20:16 Then a wise woman from the city stood on the outworks and called out, "Listen, listen! Tell Joab to come here, that I may speak with him."

2Sa 20:17 When Joab had come near her, the woman said, "Are you Joab?" And he replied, "Yes." She said to him, "Listen to what your maidservant has to say." He replied, "I am listening."

2Sa 20:18 Then she went on to say: "There is an ancient saying, 'Let them ask if they will in Abel

2Sa 20:19 or in Dan whether loyalty is finished or ended in Israel.' You are seeking to beat down a city that is a mother in Israel. Why do you wish to destroy the inheritance of the LORD?"

2Sa 20:20 Joab answered, "Not at all, not at all! I do not wish to destroy or to ruin anything.

2Sa 20:21 That is not the case at all. A man named Sheba, son of Bichri, from the hill country of Ephraim has rebelled against King David. Surrender him alone, and I will withdraw from the city." Then the woman said to Joab, "His head shall be thrown to you across the wall."

2Sa 20:22 She went to all the people with her advice, and they cut off the head of Sheba, son of Bichri, and threw it out to Joab. He then sounded the horn, and they scattered from the city to their own tents, while Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

2Sa 20:23 Joab was in command of the whole army of Israel. Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, was in command of the Cherethites and Pelethites.

2Sa 20:24 Adoram was in charge of the forced labor. Jehoshaphat, son of Ahilud, was the chancellor.

2Sa 20:25 Shawsha was the scribe. Zadok and Abiathar were priests.

2Sa 20:26 Ira the Jairite was also David's priest.

2Sa 21:1 During David's reign there was a famine for three successive years. David had recourse to the LORD, who said, "There is bloodguilt on Saul and his family because he put the Gibeonites to death."

2Sa 21:2 So the king called the Gibeonites and spoke to them. (Now the Gibeonites were not Israelites, but survivors of the Amorites; and although the Israelites had given them their oath, Saul had attempted to kill them off in his zeal for the men of Israel and Judah.)

2Sa 21:3 David said to the Gibeonites, "What must I do for you and how must I make atonement, that you may bless the inheritance of the LORD?"

2Sa 21:4 The Gibeonites answered him, "We have no claim against Saul and his house for silver or gold, nor is it our place to put any man to death in Israel." Then he said, "I will do for you whatever you propose."

2Sa 21:5 They said to the king, "As for the man who was exterminating us and who intended to destroy us that we might have no place in all the territory of Israel,

2Sa 21:6 let seven men from among his descendants be given to us, that we may dismember them before the LORD in Gibeon, on the LORD'S mountain." The king replied, "I will give them up."

2Sa 21:7 The king, however, spared Meribbaal, son of Jonathan, son of Saul, because of the LORD'S oath that formed a bond between David and Saul's son Jonathan.

2Sa 21:8 But the king took Armoni and Meribbaal, the two sons that Aiah's daughter Rizpah had borne to Saul, and the five sons of Saul's daughter Merob that she had borne to Adriel, son of Barzillai the Meholathite, 2Sa 21:9 and surrendered them to the Gibeonites. They then dismembered them on the mountain before the LORD. The seven fell at the one time; they were put to death during the first days of the harvest-- that is, at the beginning of the barley harvest.

2Sa 21:10 Then Rizpah, Aiah's daughter, took sackcloth and spread it out for herself on the rock from the beginning of the harvest until rain came down on them from the sky, fending off the birds of the sky from settling on them by day, and the wild animals by night.

2Sa 21:11 When David was informed of what Rizpah, Aiah's daughter, the concubine of Saul, had done,

2Sa 21:12 he went and obtained the bones of Saul and of his son Jonathan from the citizens of Jabesh-gilead, who had carried them off secretly from the public square of Beth-shan, where the Philistines had hanged them at the time they killed Saul on Gilboa.

2Sa 21:13 When he had brought up from there the bones of Saul and of his son Jonathan, the bones of those who had been dismembered were also gathered up.

2Sa 21:14 Then the bones of Saul and of his son Jonathan were buried in the tomb of his father Kish at Zela in the territory of Benjamin. After all that the king commanded had been carried out, God granted relief to the land.

2Sa 21:15 There was another battle between the Philistines and Israel. David went down with his servants and fought the Philistines, but David grew tired.

2Sa 21:16 Dadu, one of the Rephaim, whose bronze spear weighed three hundred shekels, was about to take him captive. Dadu was girt with a new sword and planned to kill David,

2Sa 21:17 but Abishai, son of Zeruiah, came to his assistance and struck and killed the Philistine. Then David's men swore to him, "You must not go out to battle with us again, lest you quench the lamp of Israel."

2Sa 21:18 After this there was another battle with the Philistines in Gob. On that occasion Sibbecai, from Husha, killed Saph, one of the Rephaim.

2Sa 21:19 There was another battle with the Philistines in Gob, in which Elhanan, son of Jair from Bethlehem, killed Goliath of Gath, who had a spear with a shaft like a weaver's heddle-bar.

2Sa 21:20 There was another battle at Gath in which there was a man of large stature with six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot-- twenty-four in all. He too was one of the Rephaim.

2Sa 21:21 And when he insulted Israel, Jonathan, son of David's brother Shimei, killed him.

2Sa 21:22 These four were Rephaim in Gath, and they fell at the hands of David and his servants.

2Sa 22:1 David sang the words of this song to the LORD when the LORD had rescued him from the grasp of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul.

2Sa 22:2 This is what he sang: I "O LORD, my rock, my fortress, my deliverer, 2Sa 22:3 my God, my rock of refuge! My shield, the horn of my salvation, my stronghold, my refuge, my savior, from violence you keep me safe.
2Sa 22:4 'Praised be the LORD,' I exclaim, and I am safe from my enemies. II
2Sa 22:5 "The breakers of death surged round about me, the floods of perdition overwhelmed me;
2Sa 22:6 The cords of the nether world enmeshed me, the snares of death overtook me.
2Sa 22:7 In my distress I called upon the LORD and cried out to my God; From his temple he heard my voice, and my cry reached his ears. III 2Sa 22:8 "The earth swayed and quaked; the foundations of the heavens trembled and shook when his wrath flared up.
2Sa 22:9 Smoke rose from his nostrils, and a devouring fire from his mouth; he kindled coals into flame.
2Sa 22:10 He inclined the heavens and came down, with dark clouds under his feet.
2Sa 22:11 He mounted a cherub and flew, borne on the wings of the wind.
2Sa 22:12 He made darkness the shelter about him, with spattering rain and thickening clouds.
2Sa 22:13 From the brightness of his presence coals were kindled to flame.
2Sa 22:14 "The LORD thundered from heaven; the Most High gave forth his voice.
2Sa 22:15 He sent forth arrows to put them to flight; he flashed lightning and routed them.
2Sa 22:16 Then the wellsprings of the sea appeared, the foundations of the earth were laid bare, At the rebuke of the LORD, at the blast of the wind of his wrath.
2Sa 22:17 "He reached out from on high and grasped me; he drew me out of the deep waters.
2Sa 22:18 He rescued me from my mighty enemy, from my foes, who were too powerful for me.
2Sa 22:19 They attacked me on my day of calamity, but the LORD came to my support.
2Sa 22:20 He set me free in the open, and rescued me, because he loves me. IV 2Sa 22:21 "The LORD rewarded me according to my justice; according to the cleanness of my hands he requited me.
2Sa 22:22 For I kept the ways of the LORD and was not disloyal to my God.
2Sa 22:23 For his ordinances were all present to me, and his statutes I put not from me;
2Sa 22:24 But I was wholehearted toward him, and I was on my guard against guilt.
2Sa 22:25 And the LORD requited me according to my justice, according to my innocence in his sight.
2Sa 22:26 "Toward the faithful you are faithful; toward the wholehearted you are wholehearted;
2Sa 22:27 Toward the sincere you are sincere; but toward the crooked you are astute.
2Sa 22:28 You save lowly people, though on the lofty your eyes look down.
2Sa 22:29 You are my lamp, O LORD! O my God, you brighten the darkness about me.
2Sa 22:30 For with your aid I run against an armed band, and by the help of my God I leap over a wall.
2Sa 22:31 God's way is unerring; the promise of the LORD is fire-tried; he is a shield to all who take refuge in him." I
2Sa 22:32 "For who is God except the LORD? Who is a rock save our God?
2Sa 22:33 The God who girded me with strength and kept my way unerring;
2Sa 22:34 Who made my feet swift as those of hinds and set me on the heights;
2Sa 22:35 Who trained my hands for war till my arms could bend a bow of brass. II
2Sa 22:36 "You have given me your saving shield, and your help has made me great.
2Sa 22:37 You made room for my steps; unwavering was my stride.
2Sa 22:38 I pursued my enemies and destroyed them, nor did I turn again till I made an end of them.
2Sa 22:39 I smote them and they did not rise; they fell beneath my feet. III
2Sa 22:40 "You girded me with strength for war; you subdued my adversaries beneath me.
2Sa 22:41 My enemies you put to flight before me and those who hated me I destroyed.
2Sa 22:42 They cried for help-- but no one saved them; to the LORD-- but he answered them not.
2Sa 22:43 I ground them fine as the dust of the earth; like the mud in the streets I trampled them down. IV
2Sa 22:44 "You rescued me from the strife of my people; you made me head over nations. A people I had not known became my slaves;
2Sa 22:45 as soon as they heard me, they obeyed.
2Sa 22:46 The foreigners fawned and cringed before me; they staggered forth from their fortresses."
2Sa 22:47 "The LORD live! And blessed be my Rock! Extolled be my God, rock of my salvation.
2Sa 22:48 O God, who granted me vengeance, who made peoples subject to me
2Sa 22:49 and helped me escape from my enemies, Above my adversaries you exalt me and from the violent man you rescue me.
2Sa 22:50 Therefore will I proclaim you, O LORD, among the nations, and I will sing praise to your name, 2Sa 22:51 You who gave great victories to your king and showed kindness to your anointed, to David and his posterity forever."

2Sa 23:1 These are the last words of David: "The utterance of David, son of Jesse; the utterance of the man God raised up, Anointed of the God of Jacob, favorite of the Mighty One of Israel.

2Sa 23:2 The spirit of the LORD spoke through me; his word was on my tongue.

2Sa 23:3 The God of Israel spoke; of me the Rock of Israel said, 'He that rules over men in justice, that rules in the fear of God,

2Sa 23:4 Is like the morning light at sunrise on a cloudless morning, making the greensward sparkle after rain.'

2Sa 23:5 Is not my house firm before God? He has made an eternal covenant with me, set forth in detail and secured. Will he not bring to fruition all my salvation and my every desire?

2Sa 23:6 But the wicked are all like thorns to be cast away; they cannot be taken up by hand.

2Sa 23:7 He who wishes to touch them must arm himself with iron and the shaft of a spear, and they must be consumed by fire."

2Sa 23:8 These are the names of David's warriors. Ishbaal, son of Hachamoni, was the first of the Three. It was he who brandished his battle-ax over eight hundred slain in a single encounter.

2Sa 23:9 Next to him, among the Three warriors, was Eleazar, son of Dodo the Ahohite. He was with David at Ephes-dammim when the Philistines assembled there for battle. The Israelites had retreated, 2Sa 23:10 but he stood his ground and fought the Philistines until his hand grew tired and became cramped, holding fast to the sword. The LORD brought about a great victory on that day; the soldiers turned back after Eleazar, but only to strip the slain.

2Sa 23:11 Next to him was Shammah, son of Agee the Hararite. The Philistines had assembled at Lehi, where there was a plot of land full of lentils. When the soldiers fled from the Philistines, 2Sa 23:12 he took his stand in the middle of the plot and defended it. He slew the Philistines, and the LORD brought about a great victory. Such were the deeds of the Three warriors.

2Sa 23:13 During the harvest three of the Thirty went down to David in the cave of Adullam, while a Philistine clan was encamped in the Vale of Rephaim.

2Sa 23:14 At that time David was in the refuge, and there was a garrison of Philistines in Bethlehem.

2Sa 23:15 Now David had a strong craving and said, "Oh, that someone would give me a drink of water from the cistern that is by the gate of Bethlehem!"

2Sa 23:16 So the Three warriors broke through the Philistine camp and drew water from the cistern that is by the gate of Bethlehem. But when they brought it to David he refused to drink it, and instead poured it out to the LORD, 2Sa 23:17 saying: "The LORD forbid that I do this! Can I drink the blood of these men who went at the risk of their lives?" So he refused to drink it.

2Sa 23:18 Abishai, brother of Joab, son of Zeruah, was at the head of the Thirty. It was he who brandished his spear over three hundred slain. He was listed among the Thirty 2Sa 23:19 and commanded greater respect than the Thirty, becoming their leader. However, he did not attain to the Three.

2Sa 23:20 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, a stalwart from Kabzeel, was a man of great achievements. It was he who slew the two lions in Moab. He also went down and killed the lion in the cistern at the time of the snow.

2Sa 23:21 It was he, too, who slew an Egyptian of large stature. Although the Egyptian was armed with a spear, he went against him with a club and wrested the spear from the Egyptian's hand, then killed him with his own spear.

2Sa 23:22 Such were the deeds performed by Benaiah, son of Jehoiada. He was listed among the Thirty warriors

2Sa 23:23 and commanded greater respect than the Thirty. However, he did not attain to the Three. David put him in command of his bodyguard.

2Sa 23:24 Asahel, brother of Joab....Among the Thirty were: Elhanan, son of Dodo, from Bethlehem;

2Sa 23:25 Shammah from En-harod; Elika from En-harod;

2Sa 23:26 Helez from Beth-pelet; Ira, son of Ikkesh, from Tekoa;

2Sa 23:27 Abiezer from Anathoth; Sibbecai from Hushah;

2Sa 23:28 Zalmon from Ahoh; Maharai from Netophah;

2Sa 23:29 Heled, son of Baanah, from Netophah; Ittai, son of Ribai, from Gibeah of the Benjaminites;

2Sa 23:30 Benaiah from Pirathon; Hiddai from Nahale-gaash;

2Sa 23:31 Abibaal from Beth-arabah; Azmaveth from Bahurim;

2Sa 23:32 Eliahba from Shaalbon; Jashen the Gunitite; Jonathan,

2Sa 23:33 son of Shammah the Hararite; Ahiam, son of Sharar the Hararite;

2Sa 23:34 Eliphelet, son of Ahasbai, from Beth-maacah; Eliam, son of Ahithophel, from Gilo;

2Sa 23:35 Hezrai from Carmel; Paarai the Arbite;

2Sa 23:36 Igal, son of Nathan, from Zobah; Bani the Gadite;

2Sa 23:37 Zelek the Ammonite; Naharai from Beeroth, armor-bearer of Joab, son of Zeruah;

2Sa 23:38 Ira from Jattir; Gareb from Jattir;

2Sa 23:39 Uriah the Hittite-- thirty-seven in all.

2Sa 24:1 The LORD'S anger against Israel flared again, and he incited David against the Israelites by prompting him to number Israel and Judah.

2Sa 24:2 Accordingly the king said to Joab and the leaders of the army who were with him, "Tour all the tribes in Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba and register the people, that I may know their number."

2Sa 24:3 But Joab said to the king: "May the LORD your God increase the number of people a hundredfold for your royal majesty to see it with his own eyes. But why does it please my lord the king to order a thing of this kind?"

2Sa 24:4 The king, however, overruled Joab and the leaders of the army, so they left the king's presence in order to register the people of Israel.

2Sa 24:5 Crossing the Jordan, they began near Aroer, south of the city in the wadi, and went in the direction of Gad toward Jazer.

2Sa 24:6 They continued on to Gilead and to the district below Mount Hermon. Then they proceeded to Dan; from there they turned toward Sidon, 2Sa 24:7 going to the fortress of Tyre and to all the cities of the Hivites and Canaanites, and ending up at Beer-sheba in the Negeb of Judah.

2Sa 24:8 Thus they toured the whole country, reaching Jerusalem again after nine months and twenty days.

2Sa 24:9 Joab then reported to the king the number of people registered: in Israel, eight hundred thousand men fit for military service; in Judah, five hundred thousand.

2Sa 24:10 Afterward, however, David regretted having numbered the people, and said to the LORD: "I have sinned grievously in what I have done. But now, LORD, forgive the guilt of your servant, for I have been very foolish."

2Sa 24:11 When David rose in the morning, the LORD had spoken to the prophet Gad, David's seer, saying:

2Sa 24:12 "Go and say to David, 'This is what the LORD says: I offer you three alternatives; choose one of them, and I will inflict it on you.'"

2Sa 24:13 Gad then went to David to inform him. He asked: "Do you want a three years' famine to come upon your land, or to flee from your enemy three months while he pursues you, or to have a three days' pestilence in your land? Now consider and decide what I must reply to him who sent me."

2Sa 24:14 David answered Gad: "I am in very serious difficulty. Let us fall by the hand of God, for he is most merciful; but let me not fall by the hand of man."

2Sa 24:15 Thus David chose the pestilence. Now it was the time of the wheat harvest when the plague broke out among the people. (The LORD then sent a pestilence over Israel from morning until the time appointed, and seventy thousand of the people from Dan to Beer-sheba died.)

2Sa 24:16 But when the angel stretched forth his hand toward Jerusalem to destroy it, the LORD regretted the calamity and said to the angel causing the destruction among the people, "Enough now! Stay your hand." The angel of the LORD was then standing at the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.

2Sa 24:17 When David saw the angel who was striking the people, he said to the LORD: "It is I who have sinned; it is I, the shepherd, who have done wrong. But these are sheep; what have they done? Punish me and my kindred."

2Sa 24:18 On the same day Gad went to David and said to him, "Go up and build an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite."

2Sa 24:19 Following Gad's bidding, David went up as the LORD had commanded.

2Sa 24:20 Now Araunah looked down and noticed the king and his servants coming toward him while he was threshing wheat. So he went out and paid homage to the king, with face to the ground.

2Sa 24:21 Then Araunah asked, "Why does my lord the king come to his servant?" David replied, "To buy the threshing floor from you, to build an altar to the LORD, that the plague may be checked among the people."

2Sa 24:22 But Araunah said to David: "Let my lord the king take and offer up whatever he may wish. Here are oxen for holocausts, and threshing sledges and the yokes of the oxen for wood.

2Sa 24:23 All this does Araunah give to the king." Araunah then said to the king, "May the LORD your God accept your offering."

2Sa 24:24 The king, however, replied to Araunah, "No, I must pay you for it, for I cannot offer to the LORD my God holocausts that cost nothing." So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty silver shekels.

2Sa 24:25 Then David built an altar there to the LORD, and offered holocausts and peace offerings. The LORD granted relief to the country, and the plague was checked in Israel.

1Ki 1:1 When King David was old and advanced in years, though they spread covers over him he could not keep warm.

1Ki 1:2 His servants therefore said to him, "Let a young virgin be sought to attend you, lord king, and to nurse you. If she sleeps with your royal majesty, you will be kept warm."

1Ki 1:3 So they sought for a beautiful girl throughout the territory of Israel, and found Abishag the Shunamite, whom they brought to the king.

1Ki 1:4 The maiden, who was very beautiful, nursed the king and cared for him, but the king did not have relations with her.

1Ki 1:5 Adonijah, son of Haggith, began to display his ambition to be king. He acquired chariots, drivers, and fifty henchmen.

1Ki 1:6 Yet his father never rebuked him or asked why he was doing this. Adonijah was also very handsome, and next in age to Absalom by the same mother.

1Ki 1:7 He conferred with Joab, son of Zeruiah, and with Abiathar the priest, and they supported him.

1Ki 1:8 However, Zadok the priest, Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, and Shimei and his companions, the pick of David's army, did not side with Adonijah.

1Ki 1:9 When he slaughtered sheep, oxen, and fatlings at the stone Zoheleth, near En-rogel, Adonijah invited all his brothers, the king's sons, and all the royal officials of Judah.

1Ki 1:10 But he did not invite the prophet Nathan, or Benaiah, or the pick of the army, or his brother Solomon.

1Ki 1:11 Then Nathan said to Bathsheba, Solomon's mother: "Have you not heard that Adonijah, son of Haggith, has become king without the knowledge of our lord David?"

1Ki 1:12 Come now, let me advise you so that you may save your life and that of your son Solomon.

1Ki 1:13 Go, visit King David, and say to him, 'Did you not, lord king, swear to your handmaid: Your son Solomon shall be king after me and shall sit upon my throne? Why, then, has Adonijah become king?'

1Ki 1:14 And while you are still there speaking to the king, I will come in after you and confirm what you have said."

1Ki 1:15 So Bathsheba visited the king in his room, while Abishag the Shunamite was attending him because of his advanced age.

1Ki 1:16 Bathsheba bowed in homage to the king, who said to her, "What do you wish?"

1Ki 1:17 She answered him: "My lord, you swore to me your handmaid by the LORD, your God, that my son Solomon should reign after you and sit upon your throne.

1Ki 1:18 But now Adonijah has become king, and you, my lord king, do not know it.

1Ki 1:19 He has slaughtered oxen, fatlings, and sheep in great numbers; he has invited all the king's sons, Abiathar the priest, and Joab, the general of the army, but not your servant Solomon.

1Ki 1:20 Now, my lord king, all Israel is waiting for you to make known to them who is to sit on the throne after your royal majesty.

1Ki 1:21 If this is not done, when my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, I and my son Solomon will be considered criminals."

1Ki 1:22 While she was still speaking to the king, the prophet Nathan came in.

1Ki 1:23 When he had been announced, the prophet entered the king's presence and, bowing to the floor, did him homage.

1Ki 1:24 Then Nathan said: "Have you decided, my lord king, that Adonijah is to reign after you and sit on your throne?"

1Ki 1:25 He went down today and slaughtered oxen, fatlings, and sheep in great numbers; he invited all the king's sons, the commanders of the army, and Abiathar the priest, and they are eating and drinking in his company and saying, 'Long live King Adonijah!'

1Ki 1:26 But me, your servant, he did not invite; nor Zadok the priest, nor Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, nor your servant Solomon.

1Ki 1:27 Was this done by my royal master's order without my being told who was to succeed to your majesty's kingly throne?"

1Ki 1:28 King David answered, "Call Bathsheba here." When she re-entered the king's presence and stood before him,

1Ki 1:29 the king swore, "As the LORD lives, who has delivered me from all distress,

1Ki 1:30 this very day I will fulfill the oath I swore to you by the LORD, the God of Israel, that your son Solomon should reign after me and should sit upon my throne in my place."

1Ki 1:31 Bowing to the floor in homage to the king, Bathsheba said, "May my lord, King David, live forever!"

1Ki 1:32 Then King David summoned Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah, son of Jehoiada. When they had entered the king's presence, 1Ki 1:33 he said to them: "Take with you the royal attendants. Mount my son Solomon upon my own mule and escort him down to Gihon.

1Ki 1:34 There Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet are to anoint him king of Israel, and you shall blow the horn and cry, 'Long live King Solomon!'

1Ki 1:35 When you come back in his train, he is to go in and sit upon my throne and reign in my place. I designate him ruler of Israel and of Judah."

1Ki 1:36 In answer to the king, Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, said: "So be it! May the LORD, the God of my lord the king, so decree!

1Ki 1:37 As the LORD has been with your royal majesty, so may he be with Solomon, and exalt his throne even more than that of my lord, King David!"

1Ki 1:38 So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and Pelethites went down, and mounting Solomon on King David's mule, escorted him to Gihon.

1Ki 1:39 Then Zadok the priest took the horn of oil from the tent and anointed Solomon. They blew the horn and all the people shouted, "Long live King Solomon!"

1Ki 1:40 Then all the people went up after him, playing flutes and rejoicing so much as to split open the earth with their shouting.

1Ki 1:41 Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it, just as they ended their banquet. When Joab heard the sound of the horn, he asked, "What does this uproar in the city mean?"

1Ki 1:42 As he was speaking, Jonathan, son of Abiathar the priest, arrived. "Come," said Adonijah, "you are a man of worth and must bring good news."

1Ki 1:43 "On the contrary!" Jonathan answered him. "Our lord, King David, has made Solomon king.

1Ki 1:44 The king sent with him Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, and the Cherethites and Pelethites, and they mounted him upon the king's own mule.

1Ki 1:45 Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anointed him king at Gihon, and they went up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar. That is the noise you heard.

1Ki 1:46 Besides, Solomon took his seat on the royal throne,

1Ki 1:47 and the king's servants went in and paid their respects to our lord, King David, saying, 'May God make Solomon more famous than you and exalt his throne more than your own!' And the king in his bed worshiped God,

1Ki 1:48 and this is what he said: 'Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who has this day seated one of my sons upon my throne, so that I see it with my own eyes.'

1Ki 1:49 All the guests of Adonijah left in terror, each going his own way.

1Ki 1:50 Adonijah, in fear of Solomon, also left; he went and seized the horns of the altar.

1Ki 1:51 It was reported to Solomon that Adonijah, in his fear of King Solomon, had seized the horns of the altar and said, "Let King Solomon first swear that he will not kill me, his servant, with the sword."

1Ki 1:52 Solomon answered, "If he proves himself worthy, not a hair shall fall from his head. But if he is found guilty of crime, he shall die."

1Ki 1:53 King Solomon sent to have him brought down from the altar, and he came and paid homage to the king. Solomon then said to him, "Go to your home."

1Ki 2:1 When the time of David's death drew near, he gave these instructions to his son Solomon:

1Ki 2:2 "I am going the way of all mankind. Take courage and be a man.

1Ki 2:3 Keep the mandate of the LORD, your God, following his ways and observing his statutes, commands, ordinances, and decrees as they are written in the law of Moses, that you may succeed in whatever you do, wherever you turn,

1Ki 2:4 and the LORD may fulfill the promise he made on my behalf when he said, 'If your sons so conduct themselves that they remain faithful to me with their whole heart and with their whole soul, you shall always have someone of your line on the throne of Israel.'

1Ki 2:5 You yourself know what Joab, son of Zeruah, did to me when he slew the two generals of Israel's armies, Abner, son of Ner, and Amasa, son of Jether. He took revenge for the blood of war in a time of peace, and put bloodshed without provocation on the belt about my waist and the sandal on my foot.

1Ki 2:6 Act with the wisdom you possess; you must not allow him to go down to the grave in peaceful old age.

1Ki 2:7 "But be kind to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite, and have them eat at your table. For they received me kindly when I was fleeing your brother Absalom.

1Ki 2:8 "You also have with you Shimei, son of Gera, the Benjaminite of Bahurim, who cursed me balefully when I was going to Mahanaim. Because he came down to meet me at the Jordan, I swore to him by the LORD that I would not put him to the sword.

1Ki 2:9 But you must not let him go unpunished. You are a prudent man and will know how to deal with him to send down his hoary head in blood to the grave."

1Ki 2:10 David rested with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David.

1Ki 2:11 The length of David's reign over Israel was forty years: he reigned seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

1Ki 2:12 When Solomon was seated on the throne of his father David, with his sovereignty firmly established,

1Ki 2:13 Adonijah, son of Haggith, went to Bathsheba, the mother of Solomon. "Do you come as a friend?" she asked. "Yes," he answered,

1Ki 2:14 and added, "I have something to say to you." She replied, "Say it."

1Ki 2:15 So he said: "You know that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel expected me to be king. But the kingdom escaped me and became my brother's, for the LORD gave it to him.

1Ki 2:16 But now there is one favor I would ask of you. Do not refuse me." And she said, "Speak on."

1Ki 2:17 He said, "Please ask King Solomon, who will not refuse you, to give me Abishag the Shunamite for my wife."

1Ki 2:18 "Very well," replied Bathsheba, "I will speak to the king for you."

1Ki 2:19 Then Bathsheba went to King Solomon to speak to him for Adonijah, and the king stood up to meet her and paid her homage. Then he sat down upon his throne, and a throne was provided for the king's mother, who sat at his right.

1Ki 2:20 "There is one small favor I would ask of you," she said. "Do not refuse me." "Ask it, my mother," the king said to her, "for I will not refuse you."

1Ki 2:21 So she said, "Let Abishag the Shunamite be given to your brother Adonijah for his wife."

1Ki 2:22 "And why do you ask Abishag the Shunamite for Adonijah?" King Solomon answered his mother. "Ask the kingdom for him as well, for he is my elder brother and has with him Abiathar the priest and Joab, son of Zeruiah."

1Ki 2:23 And King Solomon swore by the LORD: "May God do thus and so to me, and more besides, if Adonijah has not proposed this at the cost of his life.

1Ki 2:24 And now, as the LORD lives, who has seated me firmly on the throne of my father David and made of me a dynasty as he promised, this day shall Adonijah be put to death."

1Ki 2:25 Then King Solomon sent Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, who struck him dead.

1Ki 2:26 The king said to Abiathar the priest: "Go to your land in Anathoth. Though you deserve to die, I will not put you to death this time, because you carried the ark of the Lord GOD before my father David and shared in all the hardships my father endured."

1Ki 2:27 So Solomon deposed Abiathar from his office of priest of the LORD, thus fulfilling the prophecy which the LORD had made in Shiloh about the house of Eli.

1Ki 2:28 When the news came to Joab, who had sided with Adonijah, though not with Absalom, he fled to the tent of the LORD and seized the horns of the altar.

1Ki 2:29 King Solomon was told that Joab had fled to the tent of the LORD and was at the altar. He sent Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, with the order, "Go, strike him down."

1Ki 2:30 Benaiah went to the tent of the LORD and said to him, "The king says, 'Come out.'" But he answered, "No! I will die here." Benaiah reported to the king, "This is what Joab said to me in reply."

1Ki 2:31 The king answered him: "Do as he has said, Strike him down and bury him, and you will remove from me and from my family the blood which Joab shed without provocation.

1Ki 2:32 The LORD will hold him responsible for his own blood, because he struck down two men better and more just than himself, and slew them with the sword without my father David's knowledge: Abner, son of Ner, general of Israel's army, and Amasa, son of Jether, general of Judah's army.

1Ki 2:33 Joab and his descendants shall be responsible forever for their blood. But there shall be the peace of the LORD forever for David, and his descendants, and his house, and his throne."

1Ki 2:34 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, went back, struck him down and killed him; he was buried in his house in the desert.

1Ki 2:35 The king appointed Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, over the army in his place, and put Zadok the priest in place of Abiathar.

1Ki 2:36 Then the king summoned Shimei and said to him: "Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and live there. Do not go anywhere else.

1Ki 2:37 For if you leave, and cross the Kidron Valley, be certain you shall die without fail. You shall be responsible for your own blood."

1Ki 2:38 Shimei answered the king: "I accept. Your servant will do just as the king's majesty has said." So Shimei stayed in Jerusalem for a long time.

1Ki 2:39 But three years later, two of Shimei's servants ran away to Achish, son of Maacah, king of Gath, and Shimei was informed that his servants were in Gath.

1Ki 2:40 So Shimei rose, saddled his ass, and went to Achish in Gath in search of his servants, whom he brought back.

1Ki 2:41 When Solomon was informed that Shimei had gone from Jerusalem to Gath, and had returned,

1Ki 2:42 the king summoned Shimei and said to him: "Did I not have you swear by the LORD to your clear understanding of my warning that, if you left and went anywhere else, you should die without fail? And you answered, 'I accept and obey.'

1Ki 2:43 Why, then, have you not kept the oath of the LORD and the command that I gave you?"

1Ki 2:44 And the king said to Shimei: "You know in your heart the evil that you did to my father David. Now the LORD requites you for your own wickedness.

1Ki 2:45 But King Solomon shall be blessed, and David's throne shall endure before the LORD forever."
1Ki 2:46 The king then gave the order to Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, who struck him dead as he left.
1Ki 3:1 With the royal power firmly in his grasp, Solomon allied himself by marriage with Pharaoh, king of Egypt. The daughter of Pharaoh, whom he married, he brought to the City of David, until he should finish building his palace, and the temple of the LORD, and the wall around Jerusalem.
1Ki 3:2 However, the people were sacrificing on the high places, for up to that time no temple had been built to the name of the LORD.
1Ki 3:3 Solomon loved the LORD, and obeyed the statutes of his father David; yet he offered sacrifice and burned incense on the high places.
1Ki 3:4 The king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there, because that was the most renowned high place. Upon its altar Solomon offered a thousand holocausts.
1Ki 3:5 In Gibeon the LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream at night. God said, "Ask something of me and I will give it to you."
1Ki 3:6 Solomon answered: "You have shown great favor to your servant, my father David, because he behaved faithfully toward you, with justice and an upright heart; and you have continued this great favor toward him, even today, seating a son of his on his throne.
1Ki 3:7 O LORD, my God, you have made me, your servant, king to succeed my father David; but I am a mere youth, not knowing at all how to act.
1Ki 3:8 I serve you in the midst of the people whom you have chosen, a people so vast that it cannot be numbered or counted.
1Ki 3:9 Give your servant, therefore, an understanding heart to judge your people and to distinguish right from wrong. For who is able to govern this vast people of yours?"
1Ki 3:10 The LORD was pleased that Solomon made this request.
1Ki 3:11 So God said to him: "Because you have asked for this-- not for a long life for yourself, nor for riches, nor for the life of your enemies, but for understanding so that you may know what is right--
1Ki 3:12 I do as you requested. I give you a heart so wise and understanding that there has never been anyone like you up to now, and after you there will come no one to equal you.
1Ki 3:13 In addition, I give you what you have not asked for, such riches and glory that among kings there is not your like.
1Ki 3:14 And if you follow me by keeping my statutes and commandments, as your father David did, I will give you a long life."
1Ki 3:15 When Solomon awoke from his dream, he went to Jerusalem, stood before the ark of the covenant of the LORD, offered holocausts and peace offerings, and gave a banquet for all his servants.
1Ki 3:16 Later, two harlots came to the king and stood before him.
1Ki 3:17 One woman said: "By your leave, my lord, this woman and I live in the same house, and I gave birth in the house while she was present.
1Ki 3:18 On the third day after I gave birth, this woman also gave birth. We were alone in the house; there was no one there but us two.
1Ki 3:19 This woman's son died during the night; she smothered him by lying on him.
1Ki 3:20 Later that night she got up and took my son from my side, as I, your handmaid, was sleeping. Then she laid him in her bosom, after she had laid her dead child in my bosom.
1Ki 3:21 I rose in the morning to nurse my child, and I found him dead. But when I examined him in the morning light, I saw it was not the son whom I had borne."
1Ki 3:22 The other woman answered, "It is not so! The living one is my son, the dead one is yours." But the first kept saying, "No, the dead one is your child, the living one is mine!" Thus they argued before the king.
1Ki 3:23 Then the king said: "One woman claims, 'This, the living one, is my child, and the dead one is yours.' The other answers, 'No! The dead one is your child; the living one is mine.'"
1Ki 3:24 The king continued, "Get me a sword." When they brought the sword before him,
1Ki 3:25 he said, "Cut the living child in two, and give half to one woman and half to the other."
1Ki 3:26 The woman whose son it was, in the anguish she felt for it, said to the king, "Please, my lord, give her the living child-- please do not kill it!" The other, however, said, "It shall be neither mine nor yours. Divide it!"
1Ki 3:27 The king then answered, "Give the first one the living child! By no means kill it, for she is the mother."
1Ki 3:28 When all Israel heard the judgment the king had given, they were in awe of him, because they saw that the king had in him the wisdom of God for giving judgment.
1Ki 4:1 Solomon was king over all Israel,
1Ki 4:2 and these were the officials he had in his service: Azariah, son of Zadok, priest;
1Ki 4:3 Elihoreph and Ahijah, sons of Shisha, scribes; Jehoshaphat, son of Ahilud, chancellor;
1Ki 4:4 (Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, commander of the army; Zadok and Abiathar, priests;)
1Ki 4:5 Azariah, son of Nathan, chief of the commissaries; Zabud, son of Nathan, companion to the king;

1Ki 4:6 Ahishar, major-domo of the palace; and Adoniram, son of Abda, superintendent of the forced labor.

1Ki 4:7 Solomon had twelve commissaries for all Israel who supplied food for the king and his household, each having to provide for one month in the year.

1Ki 4:8 Their names were: the son of Hur in the hill country of Ephraim;

1Ki 4:9 the son of Deker in Makaz, Shaalvim, Beth-shemesh, Elon and Beth-hanan;

1Ki 4:10 the son of Hesus in Arubboth, as well as in Socoh and the whole region of Hephher;

1Ki 4:11 the son of Abinadab, who was married to Solomon's daughter Taphath, in all the Naphath-dor;

1Ki 4:12 Baana, son of Ahilud, in Taanach and Megiddo, and beyond Jokmeam, and in all Beth-shean, and in the country around Zarethan below Jezreel from Beth-shean to Abel-meholah;

1Ki 4:13 the son of Geber in Ramoth-gilead, having charge of the villages of Jair, son of Manasseh, in Gilead; and of the district of Argob in Bashan-- sixty large walled cities with gates barred with bronze;

1Ki 4:14 Ahinadab, son of Iddo, in Mahanaim;

1Ki 4:15 Ahimaaz, who was married to Basemath, another daughter of Solomon, in Naphtali;

1Ki 4:16 Baana, son of Hushai, in Asher and along the rocky coast;

1Ki 4:17 Jehoshaphat, son of Paruah, in Issachar;

1Ki 4:18 Shimei, son of Ela, in Benjamin;

1Ki 4:19 Geber, son of Uri, in the land of Gilead, the land of Sihon, king of the Amorites, and of Og, king of Bashan. There was one prefect besides, in the king's own land.

1Ki 4:20 Judah and Israel were as numerous as the sands by the sea; they ate and drank and made merry.

1Ki 5:1 Solomon ruled over all the kingdoms from the River to the land of the Philistines, down to the border of Egypt; they paid Solomon tribute and were his vassals as long as he lived.

1Ki 5:2 Solomon's supplies for each day were thirty kors of fine flour, sixty kors of meal, 1Ki 5:3 ten fatted oxen, twenty pasture-fed oxen, and a hundred sheep, not counting harts, gazelles, roebucks, and fatted fowl.

1Ki 5:4 He ruled over all the land west of the Euphrates, from Tiphseh to Gaza, and over all its kings, and he had peace on all his borders round about.

1Ki 5:5 Thus Judah and Israel lived in security, every man under his vine or under his fig tree from Dan to Beer-sheba, as long as Solomon lived.

1Ki 5:6 Solomon had four thousand stalls for his twelve thousand chariot horses.

1Ki 5:7 These commissaries, one for each month, provided food for King Solomon and for all the guests at the royal table. They left nothing unprovided.

1Ki 5:8 For the chariot horses and draft animals also, each brought his quota of barley and straw to the required place.

1Ki 5:9 Moreover, God gave Solomon wisdom and exceptional understanding and knowledge, as vast as the sand on the seashore.

1Ki 5:10 Solomon surpassed all the Cedemites and all the Egyptians in wisdom.

1Ki 5:11 He was wiser than all other men-- than Ethan the Ezrahite, or Heman, Chalcol, and Darda, the musicians-- and his fame spread throughout the neighboring nations.

1Ki 5:12 Solomon also uttered three thousand proverbs, and his songs numbered a thousand and five.

1Ki 5:13 He discussed plants, from the cedar on Lebanon to the hyssop growing out of the wall, and he spoke about beasts, birds, reptiles, and fishes.

1Ki 5:14 Men came to hear Solomon's wisdom from all nations, sent by all the kings of the earth who had heard of his wisdom.

1Ki 5:15 When Hiram, king of Tyre, heard that Solomon had been anointed king in place of his father, he sent an embassy to him; for Hiram had always been David's friend.

1Ki 5:16 Solomon sent back this message to Hiram:

1Ki 5:17 "You know that my father David, because of the enemies surrounding him on all sides, could not build a temple in honor of the LORD, his God, until such a time as the LORD should put these enemies under the soles of his feet.

1Ki 5:18 But now the LORD, my God, has given me peace on all sides. There is no enemy or threat of danger.

1Ki 5:19 So I purpose to build a temple in honor of the LORD, my God, as the LORD predicted to my father David when he said: 'It is your son whom I will put upon your throne in your place who shall build the temple in my honor.'

1Ki 5:20 Give orders, then, to have cedars from the Lebanon cut down for me. My servants shall accompany yours, since you know that there is no one among us who is skilled in cutting timber like the Sidonians, and I will pay you whatever you say for your servants' salary."

1Ki 5:21 When he had heard the words of Solomon, Hiram was pleased and said, "Blessed be the LORD this day, who has given David a wise son to rule this numerous people."

1Ki 5:22 Hiram then sent word to Solomon, "I agree to the proposal you sent me, and I will provide all the cedars and fir trees you wish.

1Ki 5:23 My servants shall bring them down from the Lebanon to the sea, and I will arrange them into rafts in the sea and bring them wherever you say. There I will break up the rafts, and you shall take the lumber. You, for your part, shall furnish the provisions I desire for my household."

1Ki 5:24 So Hiram continued to provide Solomon with all the cedars and fir trees he wished;

1Ki 5:25 while Solomon every year gave Hiram twenty thousand kors of wheat to provide for his household, and twenty thousand measures of pure oil.

1Ki 5:26 The LORD, moreover, gave Solomon wisdom as he promised him, and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, since they were parties to a treaty.

1Ki 5:27 King Solomon conscripted thirty thousand workmen from all Israel.

1Ki 5:28 He sent them to the Lebanon each month in relays of ten thousand, so that they spent one month in the Lebanon and two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of the draft.

1Ki 5:29 Solomon had seventy thousand carriers and eighty thousand stonecutters in the mountain, 1Ki 5:30 in addition to three thousand three hundred overseers, answerable to Solomon's prefects for the work, directing the people engaged in the work.

1Ki 5:31 By order of the king, fine, large blocks were quarried to give the temple a foundation of hewn stone.

1Ki 5:32 Solomon's and Hiram's builders, along with the Gebalites, hewed them out, and prepared the wood and stones for building the temple.

1Ki 6:1 In the four hundred and eightieth year from the departure of the Israelites from the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, in the month of Ziv, which is the second month, the construction of the temple of the LORD was begun.

1Ki 6:2 The temple which King Solomon built for the LORD was sixty cubits long, twenty wide, and twenty-five high.

1Ki 6:3 The porch in front of the temple was twenty cubits from side to side, along the width of the nave, and ten cubits deep in front of the temple.

1Ki 6:4 Splayed windows with trellises were made for the temple,

1Ki 6:5 and adjoining the wall of the temple, which enclosed the nave and the sanctuary, an annex of several stories was built.

1Ki 6:6 Its lowest story was five cubits wide, the middle one six cubits wide, the third seven cubits wide, because there were offsets along the outside of the temple so that the beams would not be fastened into the walls of the temple.

1Ki 6:7 (The temple was built of stone dressed at the quarry, so that no hammer, axe, or iron tool was to be heard in the temple during its construction.)

1Ki 6:8 The entrance to the lowest floor of the annex was at the right side of the temple, and stairs with intermediate landings led up to the middle story and from the middle story to the third.

1Ki 6:9 When the temple was built to its full height, it was roofed in with rafters and boards of cedar.

1Ki 6:10 The annex, with its lowest story five cubits high, was built all along the outside of the temple, to which it was joined by cedar beams.

1Ki 6:11 This word of the LORD came to Solomon:

1Ki 6:12 "As to this temple you are building-- if you observe my statutes, carry out my ordinances, keep and obey all my commands, I will fulfill toward you the promise I made to your father David.

1Ki 6:13 I will dwell in the midst of the Israelites and will not forsake my people Israel."

1Ki 6:14 When Solomon finished building the temple,

1Ki 6:15 its walls were lined from floor to ceiling beams with cedar paneling, and its floor was laid with fir planking.

1Ki 6:16 At the rear of the temple a space of twenty cubits was set off by cedar partitions from the floor to the rafters, enclosing the sanctuary, the holy of holies.

1Ki 6:17 The nave, or part of the temple in front of the sanctuary, was forty cubits long.

1Ki 6:18 The cedar in the interior of the temple was carved in the form of gourds and open flowers; all was of cedar, and no stone was to be seen.

1Ki 6:19 In the innermost part of the temple was located the sanctuary to house the ark of the LORD'S covenant, 1Ki 6:20 twenty cubits long, twenty wide, and twenty high.

1Ki 6:21 Solomon overlaid the interior of the temple with pure gold. He made in front of the sanctuary a cedar altar, overlaid it with gold, and looped it with golden chains.

1Ki 6:22 The entire temple was overlaid with gold so that it was completely covered with it; the whole altar before the sanctuary was also overlaid with gold.

1Ki 6:23 In the sanctuary were two cherubim, each ten cubits high, made of olive wood.

1Ki 6:24 Each wing of a cherub measured five cubits so that the space from wing tip to wing tip of each was ten cubits.

1Ki 6:25 The cherubim were identical in size and shape,

1Ki 6:26 and each was exactly ten cubits high.

1Ki 6:27 The cherubim were placed in the inmost part of the temple, with their wings spread wide, so that one wing of each cherub touched a side wall while the other wing, pointing toward the middle of the room, touched the corresponding wing of the second cherub.

1Ki 6:28 The cherubim, too, were overlaid with gold.

1Ki 6:29 The walls on all sides of both the inner and the outer rooms had carved figures of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers.

1Ki 6:30 The floor of both the inner and the outer rooms was overlaid with gold.

1Ki 6:31 At the entrance of the sanctuary, doors of olive wood were made; the doorframes had beveled posts.

1Ki 6:32 The two doors were of olive wood, with carved figures of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers. The doors were overlaid with gold, which was also molded to the cherubim and the palm trees.

1Ki 6:33 The same was done at the entrance to the nave, where the doorposts of olive wood were rectangular.

1Ki 6:34 The two doors were of fir wood; each door was banded by a metal strap, front and back, 1Ki 6:35 and had carved cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers, over which gold was evenly applied.

1Ki 6:36 The inner court was walled off by means of three courses of hewn stones and one course of cedar beams.

1Ki 6:37 The foundations of the LORD'S temple were laid in the month of Ziv 1Ki 6:38 in the fourth year, and it was completed in all particulars, exactly according to plan, in the month of Bul, the eighth month, in the eleventh year. Thus it took Solomon seven years to build it.

1Ki 7:1 His own palace Solomon completed after thirteen years of construction.

1Ki 7:2 He built the hall called the Forest of Lebanon one hundred cubits long, fifty wide, and thirty high; it was supported by four rows of cedar columns, with cedar capitals upon the columns.

1Ki 7:3 Moreover, it had a ceiling of cedar above the beams resting on the columns; these beams numbered forty-five, fifteen to a row.

1Ki 7:4 There were three window frames at either end, with windows in strict alignment.

1Ki 7:5 The posts of all the doorways were rectangular, and the doorways faced each other, three at either end.

1Ki 7:6 The porch of the columned hall he made fifty cubits long and thirty wide. The porch extended the width of the columned hall, and there was a canopy in front.

1Ki 7:7 He also built the vestibule of the throne where he gave judgment-- that is, the tribunal; it was paneled with cedar from floor to ceiling beams.

1Ki 7:8 His living quarters were in another court, set in deeper than the tribunal and of the same construction. A palace like this tribunal was built for Pharaoh's daughter, whom Solomon had married.

1Ki 7:9 All these buildings were of fine stones, hewn to size and trimmed front and back with a saw, from the foundation to the bonding course.

1Ki 7:10 (The foundation was made of fine, large blocks, some ten cubits and some eight cubits.

1Ki 7:11 Above were fine stones hewn to size, and cedar wood.)

1Ki 7:12 The great court was enclosed by three courses of hewn stones and a bonding course of cedar beams. So also were the inner court of the temple of the LORD and the temple porch.

1Ki 7:13 King Solomon had Hiram brought from Tyre.

1Ki 7:14 He was a bronze worker, the son of a widow from the tribe of Naphtali; his father had been from Tyre. He was endowed with skill, understanding, and knowledge of how to produce any work in bronze. He came to King Solomon and did all his metal work.

1Ki 7:15 Two hollow bronze columns were cast, each eighteen cubits high and twelve cubits in circumference; their metal was of four fingers' thickness.

1Ki 7:16 There were also two capitals cast in bronze, to place on top of the columns, each of them five cubits high.

1Ki 7:17 Two pieces of network with a chainlike mesh were made to cover the (nodes of the) capitals on top of the columns, one for each capital.

1Ki 7:18 Four hundred pomegranates were also cast; two hundred of them in a double row encircled the piece of network on each of the two capitals.

1Ki 7:19 The capitals on top of the columns were finished wholly in a lotus pattern

1Ki 7:20 above the level of the nodes and their enveloping network.

1Ki 7:21 The columns were then erected adjacent to the porch of the temple, one to the right, called Jachin, and the other to the left, called Boaz.

1Ki 7:22 Thus the work on the columns was completed.

1Ki 7:23 The sea was then cast; it was made with a circular rim, and measured ten cubits across, five in height, and thirty in circumference.

1Ki 7:24 Under the brim, gourds encircled it, ten to the cubit all the way around; the gourds were in two rows and were cast in one mold with the sea.

1Ki 7:25 This rested on twelve oxen, three facing north, three facing west, three facing south, and three facing east, with their haunches all toward the center, where the sea was set upon them.

1Ki 7:26 It was a handbreadth thick, and its brim resembled that of a cup, being lily-shaped. Its capacity was two thousand measures.

1Ki 7:27 Ten stands were also made of bronze, each four cubits long, four wide, and three high.

1Ki 7:28 When these stands were constructed, panels were set within the framework.

1Ki 7:29 On the panels between the frames there were lions, oxen, and cherubim; and on the frames likewise, above and below the lions and oxen, there were wreaths in relief.

1Ki 7:30 Each stand had four bronze wheels and bronze axles.

1Ki 7:31 This was surmounted by a crown one cubit high within which was a rounded opening to provide a receptacle a cubit and a half in depth. There was carved work at the opening, on panels that were angular, not curved.

1Ki 7:32 The four wheels were below the paneling, and the axletrees of the wheels and the stand were of one piece. Each wheel was a cubit and a half high.

1Ki 7:33 The wheels were constructed like chariot wheels; their axles, felloes, spokes, and hubs were all cast. The four legs of each stand had cast braces, which were under the basin; they had wreaths on each side.

1Ki 7:34 These four braces, extending to the corners of each stand, were of one piece with the stand.

1Ki 7:35 On top of the stand there was a raised collar half a cubit high, with supports and panels which were of one piece with the top of the stand.

1Ki 7:36 On the surfaces of the supports and on the panels, wherever there was a clear space, cherubim, lions, and palm trees were carved, as well as wreaths all around.

1Ki 7:37 This was how the ten stands were made, all of the same casting, the same size, the same shape.

1Ki 7:38 Ten bronze basins were then made, each four cubits in diameter with a capacity of forty measures, one basin for the top of each of the ten stands.

1Ki 7:39 The stands were placed, five on the south side of the temple and five on the north. The sea was placed off to the southeast from the south side of the temple.

1Ki 7:40 When Hiram made the pots, shovels, and bowls, he therewith completed all his work for King Solomon in the temple of the LORD:

1Ki 7:41 two columns, two nodes for the capitals on top of the columns, two pieces of network covering the nodes for the capitals on top of the columns,

1Ki 7:42 four hundred pomegranates in double rows on both pieces of network that covered the two nodes of the capitals where they met the columns,

1Ki 7:43 ten stands, ten basins on the stands,

1Ki 7:44 one sea, twelve oxen supporting the sea,

1Ki 7:45 pots, shovels, and bowls. All these articles which Hiram made for King Solomon in the temple of the LORD were of burnished bronze.

1Ki 7:46 The king had them cast in the neighborhood of the Jordan, in the clayey ground between Succoth and Zarethan.

1Ki 7:47 Solomon did not weigh all the articles because they were so numerous; the weight of the bronze, therefore, was not determined.

1Ki 7:48 Solomon had all the articles made for the interior of the temple of the LORD: the golden altar; the golden table on which the showbread lay;

1Ki 7:49 the lampstands of pure gold, five to the right and five to the left before the sanctuary, with their flowers, lamps, and tongs of gold;

1Ki 7:50 basins, snuffers, bowls, cups, and fire pans of pure gold; and hinges of gold for the doors of the inner room, or holy of holies, and for the doors of the outer room, the nave.

1Ki 7:51 When all the work undertaken by King Solomon in the temple of the LORD was completed, he brought in the dedicated offerings of his father David, putting the silver, gold, and other articles in the treasuries of the temple of the LORD.

1Ki 8:1 At the order of Solomon, the elders of Israel and all the leaders of the tribes, the princes in the ancestral houses of the Israelites, came to King Solomon in Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the LORD'S covenant from the city of David (which is Zion).

1Ki 8:2 All the men of Israel assembled before King Solomon during the festival in the month of Ethanim (the seventh month).

1Ki 8:3 When all the elders of Israel had arrived, the priests took up the ark;

1Ki 8:4 they carried the ark of the LORD and the meeting tent with all the sacred vessels that were in the tent. (The priests and Levites carried them.)

1Ki 8:5 King Solomon and the entire community of Israel present for the occasion sacrificed before the ark sheep and oxen too many to number or count.

1Ki 8:6 The priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place beneath the wings of the cherubim in the sanctuary, the holy of holies of the temple.

1Ki 8:7 The cherubim had their wings spread out over the place of the ark, sheltering the ark and its poles from above.

1Ki 8:8 The poles were so long that their ends could be seen from that part of the holy place adjoining the sanctuary; however, they could not be seen beyond. (They have remained there to this day.)

1Ki 8:9 There was nothing in the ark but the two stone tablets which Moses had put there at Horeb, when the LORD made a covenant with the Israelites at their departure from the land of Egypt.

1Ki 8:10 When the priests left the holy place, the cloud filled the temple of the LORD

1Ki 8:11 so that the priests could no longer minister because of the cloud, since the LORD'S glory had filled the temple of the LORD.

1Ki 8:12 Then Solomon said, "The LORD intends to dwell in the dark cloud;

1Ki 8:13 I have truly built you a princely house, a dwelling where you may abide forever."

1Ki 8:14 The king turned and greeted the whole community of Israel as they stood.

1Ki 8:15 He said to them: "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who with his own mouth made a promise to my father David and by his hand has brought it to fulfillment. It was he who said,

1Ki 8:16 'Since the day I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I have not chosen a city out of any tribe of Israel for the building of a temple to my honor; but I choose David to rule my people Israel.'

1Ki 8:17 When my father David wished to build a temple to the honor of the LORD, the God of Israel, 1Ki 8:18 the LORD said to him, 'In wishing to build a temple to my honor, you do well.

1Ki 8:19 It will not be you, however, who will build the temple; but the son who will spring from you, he shall build the temple to my honor.'

1Ki 8:20 And now the LORD has fulfilled the promise that he made: I have succeeded my father David and sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD foretold, and I have built this temple to honor the LORD, the God of Israel.

1Ki 8:21 I have provided in it a place for the ark in which is the covenant of the LORD, which he made with our fathers when he brought them out of the land of Egypt."

1Ki 8:22 Solomon stood before the altar of the LORD in the presence of the whole community of Israel, and stretching forth his hands toward heaven,

1Ki 8:23 he said, "LORD, God of Israel, there is no God like you in heaven above or on earth below; you keep your covenant of kindness with your servants who are faithful to you with their whole heart.

1Ki 8:24 You have kept the promise you made to my father David, your servant. You who spoke that promise, have this day, by your own power, brought it to fulfillment.

1Ki 8:25 Now, therefore, LORD, God of Israel, keep the further promise you made to my father David, your servant, saying, 'You shall always have someone from your line to sit before me on the throne of Israel, provided only that your descendants look to their conduct so that they live in my presence, as you have lived in my presence.'

1Ki 8:26 Now, LORD, God of Israel, may this promise which you made to my father David, your servant, be confirmed.

1Ki 8:27 "Can it indeed be that God dwells among men on earth? If the heavens and the highest heavens cannot contain you, how much less this temple which I have built!

1Ki 8:28 Look kindly on the prayer and petition of your servant, O LORD, my God, and listen to the cry of supplication which I, your servant, utter before you this day.

1Ki 8:29 May your eyes watch night and day over this temple, the place where you have decreed you shall be honored; may you heed the prayer which I, your servant, offer in this place.

1Ki 8:30 Listen to the petitions of your servant and of your people Israel which they offer in this place. Listen from your heavenly dwelling and grant pardon.

1Ki 8:31 "If a man sins against his neighbor and is required to take an oath sanctioned by a curse, when he comes and takes the oath before your altar in this temple,

1Ki 8:32 listen in heaven; take action and pass judgment on your servants. Condemn the wicked and punish him for his conduct, but acquit the just and establish his innocence.

1Ki 8:33 "If your people Israel sin against you and are defeated by an enemy, and if then they return to you, praise your name, pray to you, and entreat you in this temple, 1Ki 8:34 listen in heaven and forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land you gave their fathers.

1Ki 8:35 "If the sky is closed, so that there is no rain, because they have sinned against you and you afflict them, and if then they repent of their sin, and pray, and praise your name in this place,

1Ki 8:36 listen in heaven and forgive the sin of your servant and of your people Israel, teaching them the right way to live and sending rain upon this land of yours which you have given to your people as their heritage.

1Ki 8:37 "If there is famine in the land or pestilence; or if blight comes, or mildew, or a locust swarm, or devouring insects; if an enemy of your people besieges them in one of their cities; whatever plague or sickness there may be,

1Ki 8:38 if then any one (of your entire people Israel) has remorse of conscience and offers some prayer or petition, stretching out his hands toward this temple,

1Ki 8:39 listen from your heavenly dwelling place and forgive. You who alone know the hearts of all men, render to each one of them according to his conduct; knowing their hearts, so treat them

1Ki 8:40 that they may fear you as long as they live on the land you gave our fathers.

1Ki 8:41 "To the foreigner, likewise, who is not of your people Israel, but comes from a distant land to honor you

1Ki 8:42 (since men will learn of your great name and your mighty hand and your outstretched arm), when he comes and prays toward this temple,

1Ki 8:43 listen from your heavenly dwelling. Do all that the foreigner asks of you, that all the peoples of the earth may know your name, may fear you as do your people Israel, and may acknowledge that this temple which I have built is dedicated to your honor.

1Ki 8:44 "Whatever the direction in which you may send your people forth to war against their enemies, if they pray to you, O LORD, toward the city you have chosen and the temple I have built in your honor, 1Ki 8:45 listen in heaven to their prayer and petition, and defend their cause.

1Ki 8:46 "When they sin against you (for there is no man who does not sin), and in your anger against them you deliver them to the enemy, so that their captors deport them to a hostile land, far or near,

1Ki 8:47 may they repent in the land of their captivity and be converted. If then they entreat you in the land of their captors and say, 'We have sinned and done wrong; we have been wicked';

1Ki 8:48 if with their whole heart and soul they turn back to you in the land of the enemies who took them captive, pray to you toward the land you gave their fathers, the city you have chosen, and the temple I have built in your honor,

1Ki 8:49 listen from your heavenly dwelling.

1Ki 8:50 Forgive your people their sins and all the offenses they have committed against you, and grant them mercy before their captors, so that these will be merciful to them.

1Ki 8:51 For they are your people and your inheritance, whom you brought out of Egypt, from the midst of an iron furnace.

1Ki 8:52 "Thus may your eyes be open to the petition of your servant and to the petition of your people Israel. Hear them whenever they call upon you,

1Ki 8:53 because you have set them apart among all the peoples of the earth for your inheritance, as you declared through your servant Moses when you brought our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord GOD."

1Ki 8:54 When Solomon finished offering this entire prayer of petition to the LORD, he rose from before the altar of the LORD, where he had been kneeling with his hands outstretched toward heaven.

1Ki 8:55 He stood and blessed the whole community of Israel, saying in a loud voice:

1Ki 8:56 "Blessed be the LORD who has given rest to his people Israel, just as he promised. Not a single word has gone unfulfilled of the entire generous promise he made through his servant Moses.

1Ki 8:57 May the LORD, our God, be with us as he was with our fathers and may he not forsake us nor cast us off.

1Ki 8:58 May he draw our hearts to himself, that we may follow him in everything and keep the commands, statutes, and ordinances which he enjoined on our fathers.

1Ki 8:59 May this prayer I have offered to the LORD, our God, be present to him day and night, that he may uphold the cause of his servant and of his people Israel as each day requires, 1Ki 8:60 that all the peoples of the earth may know the LORD is God and there is no other.

1Ki 8:61 You must be wholly devoted to the LORD, our God, observing his statutes and keeping his commandments, as on this day."

1Ki 8:62 The king and all Israel with him offered sacrifices before the LORD.

1Ki 8:63 Solomon offered as peace offerings to the LORD twenty-two thousand oxen and one hundred twenty thousand sheep. Thus the king and all the Israelites dedicated the temple of the LORD.

1Ki 8:64 On that day the king consecrated the middle of the court facing the temple of the LORD; he offered there the holocausts, the cereal offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, because the bronze altar before the LORD was too small to hold these offerings.

1Ki 8:65 On this occasion Solomon and all the Israelites, who had assembled in large numbers from Labo of Hamath to the Wadi of Egypt, celebrated the festival before the LORD, our God, for seven days.

1Ki 8:66 On the eighth day he dismissed the people, who bade the king farewell and went to their homes, rejoicing and happy over all the blessings the LORD had given to his servant David and to his people Israel.

1Ki 9:1 After Solomon finished building the temple of the LORD, the royal palace, and everything else that he had planned,

1Ki 9:2 the LORD appeared to him a second time, as he had appeared to him in Gibeon.

1Ki 9:3 The LORD said to him: "I have heard the prayer of petition which you offered in my presence. I have consecrated this temple which you have built; I confer my name upon it forever, and my eyes and my heart shall be there always.

1Ki 9:4 As for you, if you live in my presence as your father David lived, sincerely and uprightly, doing just as I have commanded you, keeping my statutes and decrees,

1Ki 9:5 I will establish your throne of sovereignty over Israel forever, as I promised your father David when I said, 'You shall always have someone from your line on the throne of Israel.'

1Ki 9:6 But if you and your descendants ever withdraw from me, fail to keep the commandments and statutes which I set before you, and proceed to venerate and worship strange gods,

1Ki 9:7 I will cut off Israel from the land I gave them and repudiate the temple I have consecrated to my honor. Israel shall become a proverb and a byword among all nations,

1Ki 9:8 and this temple shall become a heap of ruins. Every passerby shall catch his breath in amazement, and ask, 'Why has the LORD done this to the land and to this temple?'

1Ki 9:9 Men will answer: 'They forsook the LORD, their God, who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt; they adopted strange gods which they worshiped and served. That is why the LORD has brought down upon them all this evil.'

1Ki 9:10 After the twenty years during which Solomon built the two houses, the temple of the LORD and the palace of the king--

1Ki 9:11 Hiram, king of Tyre, supplying Solomon with all the cedar wood, fir wood, and gold he wished-- King Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

1Ki 9:12 Hiram left Tyre to see the cities Solomon had given him, but was not satisfied with them.

1Ki 9:13 So he said, "What are these cities you have given me, my brother?" And he called them the land of Cabul, as they are called to this day.

1Ki 9:14 Hiram, however, had sent king Solomon one hundred and twenty talents of gold.

1Ki 9:15 This is an account of the forced labor which King Solomon levied in order to build the temple of the LORD, his palace, Millo, the wall of Jerusalem, Hazor, Megiddo, Gezer

1Ki 9:16 (Pharaoh, king of Egypt, had come up and taken Gezer and, after destroying it by fire and slaying all the Canaanites living in the city, had given it as dowry to his daughter, Solomon's wife;

1Ki 9:17 Solomon then rebuilt Gezer), Lower Beth-horon,

1Ki 9:18 Baalath, Tamar in the desert of Judah,

1Ki 9:19 all his cities for supplies, cities for chariots and for horses, and whatever else Solomon decided should be built in Jerusalem, in Lebanon, and in the entire land under his dominion.

1Ki 9:20 All the non-Israelite people who remained in the land, descendants of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites

1Ki 9:21 whose doom the Israelites had been unable to accomplish, Solomon conscripted as forced laborers, as they are to this day.

1Ki 9:22 But Solomon enslaved none of the Israelites, for they were his fighting force, his ministers, commanders, adjutants, chariot officers, and charioteers.

1Ki 9:23 The supervisors of Solomon's works who policed the people engaged in the work numbered five hundred and fifty.

1Ki 9:24 As soon as Pharaoh's daughter went up from the City of David to her palace, which he had built for her, Solomon built Millo.

1Ki 9:25 Three times a year Solomon used to offer holocausts and peace offerings on the altar which he had built to the LORD, and to burn incense before the LORD; and he kept the temple in repair.

1Ki 9:26 King Solomon also built a fleet at Ezion-geber, which is near Elath on the shore of the Red Sea in the land of Edom.

1Ki 9:27 In this fleet Hiram placed his own expert seamen with the servants of Solomon.

1Ki 9:28 They went to Ophir, and brought back four hundred and twenty talents of gold to King Solomon.

1Ki 10:1 The queen of Sheba, having heard of Solomon's fame, came to test him with subtle questions.

1Ki 10:2 She arrived in Jerusalem with a very numerous retinue, and with camels bearing spices, a large amount of gold, and precious stones. She came to Solomon and questioned him on every subject in which she was interested.

1Ki 10:3 King Solomon explained everything she asked about, and there remained nothing hidden from him that he could not explain to her.

1Ki 10:4 When the queen of Sheba witnessed Solomon's great wisdom, the palace he had built, 1Ki 10:5 the food at his table, the seating of his ministers, the attendance and garb of his waiters, his banquet service, and the holocausts he offered in the temple of the LORD, she was breathless.

1Ki 10:6 "The report I heard in my country about your deeds and your wisdom is true," she told the king.

1Ki 10:7 "Though I did not believe the report until I came and saw with my own eyes, I have discovered that they were not telling me the half. Your wisdom and prosperity surpass the report I heard.

1Ki 10:8 Happy are your men, happy these servants of yours, who stand before you always and listen to your wisdom.

1Ki 10:9 Blessed be the LORD, your God, whom it has pleased to place you on the throne of Israel. In his enduring love for Israel, the LORD has made you king to carry out judgment and justice."

1Ki 10:10 Then she gave the king one hundred and twenty gold talents, a very large quantity of spices, and precious stones. Never again did anyone bring such an abundance of spices as the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

1Ki 10:11 Hiram's fleet, which used to bring gold from Ophir, also brought from there a large quantity of cabinet wood and precious stones.

1Ki 10:12 With the wood the king made supports for the temple of the LORD and for the palace of the king, and harps and lyres for the chanters. No more such wood was brought or seen to the present day.

1Ki 10:13 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she desired and asked for, besides such presents as were given her from Solomon's royal bounty. Then she returned with her servants to her own country.

1Ki 10:14 The gold that Solomon received every year weighed six hundred and sixty-six gold talents,

1Ki 10:15 in addition to what came from the Tarshish fleet, from the traffic of merchants, and from all the kings of Arabia and the governors of the country.

1Ki 10:16 Moreover, King Solomon made two hundred shields of beaten gold (six hundred gold shekels went into each shield)

1Ki 10:17 and three hundred bucklers of beaten gold (three minas of gold went into each buckler); and he put them in the hall of the Forest of Lebanon.

1Ki 10:18 The king also had a large ivory throne made, and overlaid it with refined gold.

1Ki 10:19 The throne had six steps, a back with a round top, and an arm on each side of the seat. Next to each arm stood a lion;

1Ki 10:20 and twelve other lions stood on the steps, two to a step, one on either side of each step. Nothing like this was produced in any other kingdom.

1Ki 10:21 In addition, all King Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the utensils in the hall of the Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold. There was no silver, for in Solomon's time it was considered worthless.

1Ki 10:22 The king had a fleet of Tarshish ships at sea with Hiram's fleet. Once every three years the fleet of Tarshish ships would come with a cargo of gold, silver, ivory, apes, and monkeys.

1Ki 10:23 Thus King Solomon surpassed in riches and wisdom all the kings of the earth.

1Ki 10:24 And the whole world sought audience with Solomon, to hear from him the wisdom which God had put in his heart.

1Ki 10:25 Each one brought his yearly tribute: silver or gold articles, garments, weapons, spices, horses and mules.

1Ki 10:26 Solomon collected chariots and drivers; he had one thousand four hundred chariots and twelve thousand drivers; these he allocated among the chariot cities and to the king's service in Jerusalem.

1Ki 10:27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and cedars as numerous as the sycamores of the foothills.

1Ki 10:28 Solomon's horses were imported from Cilicia, where the king's agents purchased them.

1Ki 10:29 A chariot imported from Egypt cost six hundred shekels, a horse one hundred and fifty shekels; they were exported at these rates to all the Hittite and Aramean kings.

1Ki 11:1 King Solomon loved many foreign women besides the daughter of Pharaoh (Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites), 1Ki 11:2 from nations with which the LORD had forbidden the Israelites to intermarry, "because," he said, "they will turn your hearts to their gods." But Solomon fell in love with them.

1Ki 11:3 He had seven hundred wives of princely rank and three hundred concubines, and his wives turned his heart.

1Ki 11:4 When Solomon was old his wives had turned his heart to strange gods, and his heart was not entirely with the LORD, his God, as the heart of his father David had been.

1Ki 11:5 By adoring Astarte, the goddess of the Sidonians, and Milcom, the idol of the Ammonites, 1Ki 11:6 Solomon did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not follow him unreservedly as his father David had done.

1Ki 11:7 Solomon then built a high place to Chemosh, the idol of Moab, and to Molech, the idol of the Ammonites, on the hill opposite Jerusalem.

1Ki 11:8 He did the same for all his foreign wives who burned incense and sacrificed to their gods.

1Ki 11:9 The LORD, therefore, became angry with Solomon, because his heart was turned away from the

LORD, the God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice

1Ki 11:10 (for though the LORD had forbidden him this very act of following strange gods, Solomon had not obeyed him).

1Ki 11:11 So the LORD said to Solomon: "Since this is what you want, and you have not kept my covenant and my statutes which I enjoined on you, I will deprive you of the kingdom and give it to your servant.

1Ki 11:12 I will not do this during your lifetime, however, for the sake of your father David; it is your son whom I will deprive.

1Ki 11:13 Nor will I take away the whole kingdom. I will leave your son one tribe for the sake of my servant David and of Jerusalem, which I have chosen."

1Ki 11:14 The LORD then raised up an adversary to Solomon: Hadad the Edomite, who was of the royal line in Edom.

1Ki 11:15 Earlier, when David had conquered Edom, Joab, the general of the army, while going to bury the slain, put to death every male in Edom.

1Ki 11:16 Joab and all Israel remained there six months until they had killed off every male in Edom.

1Ki 11:17 Meanwhile, Hadad, who was only a boy, fled toward Egypt with some Edomite servants of his father.

1Ki 11:18 They left Midian and passing through Paran, where they picked up additional men, they went into Egypt to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, who gave Hadad a house, appointed him rations, and assigned him land.

1Ki 11:19 Hadad won great favor with Pharaoh, so that he gave him in marriage the sister of Queen Tahpenes, his own wife.

1Ki 11:20 Tahpenes' sister bore Hadad a son, Genubath. After his weaning, the queen kept him in Pharaoh's palace, where he then lived with Pharaoh's own sons.

1Ki 11:21 When Hadad in Egypt heard that David rested with his ancestors and that Joab, the general of the army, was dead, he said to Pharaoh, "Give me leave to return to my own country."

1Ki 11:22 Pharaoh said to him, "What do you lack with me, that you are seeking to return to your own country?" "Nothing," he said, "but please let me go!"

1Ki 11:23 God raised up against Solomon another adversary, in Rezon, the son of Eliada, who had fled from his lord, Hadadezer, king of Zobah, 1Ki 11:24 when David defeated them with slaughter. Rezon gathered men about him and became leader of a band, went to Damascus, settled there, and became king in Damascus.

1Ki 11:25 He was an enemy of Israel as long as Solomon lived; this added to the harm done by Hadad, who made a rift in Israel by becoming king over Edom.

1Ki 11:26 Solomon's servant Jeroboam, son of Nebat, an Ephraimite from Zeredah with a widowed mother, Zeruah, also rebelled against the king.

1Ki 11:27 This is why he rebelled. King Solomon was building Millo, closing up the breach of his father's City of David.

1Ki 11:28 Jeroboam was a man of means, and when Solomon saw that he was also an industrious young man, he put him in charge of the entire labor force of the house of Joseph.

1Ki 11:29 At that time Jeroboam left Jerusalem, and the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite met him on the road. The two were alone in the area, and the prophet was wearing a new cloak.

1Ki 11:30 Ahijah took off his new cloak, tore it into twelve pieces,

1Ki 11:31 and said to Jeroboam: "Take ten pieces for yourself; the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'I will tear away the kingdom from Solomon's grasp and will give you ten of the tribes.

1Ki 11:32 One tribe shall remain to him for the sake of David my servant, and of Jerusalem, the city I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

1Ki 11:33 The ten I will give you because he has forsaken me and has worshiped Astarte, goddess of the Sidonians, Chemosh, god of Moab, and Milcom, god of the Ammonites; he has not followed my ways or done what is pleasing to me according to my statutes and my decrees, as his father David did.

1Ki 11:34 Yet I will not take any of the kingdom from Solomon himself, but will keep him a prince as long as he lives for the sake of my servant David, whom I chose, who kept my commandments and statutes.

1Ki 11:35 But I will take the kingdom from his son and will give it to you-- that is, the ten tribes.

1Ki 11:36 I will give his son one tribe, that my servant David may always have a lamp before me in Jerusalem, the city in which I choose to be honored.

1Ki 11:37 I will take you; you shall reign over all that you desire and shall become king of Israel.

1Ki 11:38 If, then, you heed all that I command you, follow my ways, and please me by keeping my statutes and my commandments like my servant David, I will be with you. I will establish for you, as I did for David, a lasting dynasty; I will give Israel to you.

1Ki 11:39 I will punish David's line for this, but not forever."

1Ki 11:40 When Solomon tried to have Jeroboam killed for his rebellion, he escaped to King Shishak, in Egypt, where he remained until Solomon's death.

1Ki 11:41 The rest of the acts of Solomon, with all his deeds and his wisdom, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of Solomon.

1Ki 11:42 The time that Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel was forty years.

1Ki 11:43 Solomon rested with his ancestors; he was buried in his father's City of David, and his son Rehoboam succeeded him as king.

1Ki 12:1 Rehoboam went to Shechem, where all Israel had come to proclaim him king.

1Ki 12:2 Jeroboam, son of Nebat, who was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon, returned from Egypt as soon as he learned this.

1Ki 12:3 They said to Rehoboam:

1Ki 12:4 "Your father put on us a heavy yoke. If you now lighten the harsh service and the heavy yoke your father imposed on us, we will serve you."

1Ki 12:5 "Come back to me in three days," he answered them. When the people had departed,

1Ki 12:6 King Rehoboam consulted the elders who had been in his father's service while he was alive, and asked, "What answer do you advise me to give this people?"

1Ki 12:7 They replied, "If today you will be the servant of this people and submit to them, giving them a favorable answer, they will be your servants forever."

1Ki 12:8 But he ignored the advice the elders had given him, and consulted the young men who had grown up with him and were in his service.

1Ki 12:9 He said to them, "What answer do you advise me to give this people, who have asked me to lighten the yoke my father imposed on them?"

1Ki 12:10 The young men who had grown up with him replied, "This is what you must say to this people who have asked you to lighten the yoke your father put on them: 'My little finger is thicker than my father's body.

1Ki 12:11 Whereas my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will make it heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions.'"

1Ki 12:12 On the third day all Israel came back to King Rehoboam, as he had instructed them to do.

1Ki 12:13 Ignoring the advice the elders had given him, the king gave the people a harsh answer.

1Ki 12:14 He said to them, as the young men had advised: "My father put on you a heavy yoke, but I will make it heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions."

1Ki 12:15 The king did not listen to the people, for the LORD brought this about to fulfill the prophecy he had uttered to Jeroboam, son of Nebat, through Ahijah the Shilonite.

1Ki 12:16 When all Israel saw that the king did not listen to them, the people answered the king: "What share have we in David? We have no heritage in the son of Jesse. To your tents, O Israel! Now look to your own house, David." So Israel went off to their tents, 1Ki 12:17 but Rehoboam reigned over the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.

1Ki 12:18 King Rehoboam then sent out Adoram, superintendent of the forced labor, but all Israel stoned him to death. Rehoboam managed to mount his chariot to flee to Jerusalem, 1Ki 12:19 and Israel went into rebellion against David's house to this day.

1Ki 12:20 When all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they summoned him to an assembly and made him king over all Israel. None remained loyal to David's house except the tribe of Judah alone.

1Ki 12:21 On his arrival in Jerusalem, Rehoboam gathered together all the house of Judah and the tribe of Benjamin-- one hundred and eighty thousand seasoned warriors-- to fight against the house of Israel, to restore the kingdom to Rehoboam, son of Solomon.

1Ki 12:22 However, the LORD spoke to Shemaiah, a man of God:

1Ki 12:23 "Say to Rehoboam, son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to the house of Judah and to Benjamin, and to the rest of the people:

1Ki 12:24 'Thus says the LORD: You must not march out to fight against your brother Israelites. Let every man return home, for I have brought this about.'" They accepted this message of the LORD and gave up the expedition accordingly.

1Ki 12:25 Jeroboam built up Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and lived there. Then he left it and built up Penuel.

1Ki 12:26 Jeroboam thought to himself: "The kingdom will return to David's house.

1Ki 12:27 If now this people go up to offer sacrifices in the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem, the hearts of this people will return to their master, Rehoboam, king of Judah, and they will kill me."

1Ki 12:28 After taking counsel, the king made two calves of gold and said to the people: "You have been going up to Jerusalem long enough. Here is your God, O Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt."

1Ki 12:29 And he put one in Bethel, the other in Dan.

1Ki 12:30 This led to sin, because the people frequented these calves in Bethel and in Dan.

1Ki 12:31 He also built temples on the high places and made priests from among the people who were not Levites.

1Ki 12:32 Jeroboam established a feast in the eighth month on the fifteenth day of the month to duplicate in Bethel the pilgrimage feast of Judah, with sacrifices to the calves he had made; and he stationed in Bethel priests of the high places he had built.

1Ki 12:33 Jeroboam ascended the altar he built in Bethel on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, the month in which he arbitrarily chose to establish a feast for the Israelites; he was going to offer sacrifice.

1Ki 13:1 A man of God came from Judah to Bethel by the word of the LORD, while Jeroboam was standing at the altar to offer sacrifice.

1Ki 13:2 He cried out against the altar the word of the LORD: "O altar, altar, the LORD says, 'A child shall be born to the house of David, Josiah by name, who shall slaughter upon you the priests of the high places who offer sacrifice upon you, and he shall burn human bones upon you.'"

1Ki 13:3 He gave a sign that same day and said: "This is the sign that the LORD has spoken: The altar shall break up and the ashes on it shall be strewn about.

1Ki 13:4 When King Jeroboam heard what the man of God was crying out against the altar, he stretched forth his hand from the altar and said, "Seize him!" But the hand he stretched forth against him withered, so that he could not draw it back.

1Ki 13:5 Moreover, the altar broke up and the ashes from it were strewn about-- the sign the man of God had given as the word of the LORD.

1Ki 13:6 Then the king appealed to the man of God. "Entreat the LORD, your God," he said, "and intercede for me that I may be able to withdraw my hand." So the man of God entreated the LORD, and the king recovered the normal use of his hand.

1Ki 13:7 "Come home with me for some refreshment," the king invited the man of God, "and I will give you a present."

1Ki 13:8 "If you gave me half your kingdom," the man of God said to the king, "I would not go with you, nor eat bread or drink water in this place.

1Ki 13:9 For I was instructed by the word of the LORD not to eat bread or drink water and not to return by the way I came."

1Ki 13:10 So he departed by another road and did not go back the way he had come to Bethel.

1Ki 13:11 There was an old prophet living in the city, whose sons came and told him all that the man of God had done that day in Bethel. When they repeated to their father the words he had spoken to the king, 1Ki 13:12 the father asked them, "Which way did he go?" And his sons pointed out to him the road taken by the man of God who had come from Judah.

1Ki 13:13 Then he said to his sons, "Saddle the ass for me." When they had saddled it, he mounted

1Ki 13:14 and followed the man of God, whom he found seated under a terebinth. When he asked him, "Are you the man of God who came from Judah?" he answered, "Yes."

1Ki 13:15 Then he said, "Come home with me and have some bread."

1Ki 13:16 "I cannot go back with you, and I cannot eat bread or drink water with you in this place," he answered,

1Ki 13:17 "for I was told by the word of the LORD neither to eat bread nor drink water here, and not to go back the way I came."

1Ki 13:18 But he said to him, "I, too, am a prophet like you, and an angel told me in the word of the LORD to bring you back with me to my house and to have you eat bread and drink water." He was lying to him, however.

1Ki 13:19 So he went back with him, and ate bread and drank water in his house.

1Ki 13:20 But while they were sitting at table, the LORD spoke to the prophet who had brought him back,

1Ki 13:21 and he cried out to the man of God who had come from Judah: "The LORD says, 'Because you rebelled against the command of the LORD and did not keep the command which the LORD, your God, gave you,

1Ki 13:22 but returned and ate bread and drank water in the place where he told you to do neither, your corpse shall not be brought to the grave of your ancestors.'"

1Ki 13:23 After he had eaten bread and drunk water, the ass was saddled for him, and he again

1Ki 13:24 set out. But a lion met him on the road, and killed him. His corpse lay sprawled on the road, and the ass remained standing by it, and so did the lion.

1Ki 13:25 Some passers-by saw the body lying in the road, with the lion standing beside it, and carried the news to the city where the old prophet lived.

1Ki 13:26 On hearing it, the prophet who had brought him back from his journey said: "It is the man of God who rebelled against the command of the LORD. He has delivered him to a lion, which mangled and killed him, as the LORD predicted to him."

1Ki 13:27 Then he said to his sons, "Saddle the ass for me." When they had saddled it, 1Ki 13:28 he went off and found the body lying in the road with the ass and the lion standing beside it. The lion had not eaten the body nor had it harmed the ass.

1Ki 13:29 The prophet lifted up the body of the man of God and put it on the ass, and brought it back to the city to mourn over it and to bury it.

1Ki 13:30 He laid the man's body in his own grave, and they mourned over it: "Alas, my brother!"

1Ki 13:31 After he had buried him, he said to his sons, "When I die, bury me in the grave where the man of God is buried. Lay my remains beside his.

1Ki 13:32 For the word of the LORD which he proclaimed against the altar in Bethel and against all the shrines on the high places in the cities of Samaria shall certainly come to pass."

1Ki 13:33 Jeroboam did not give up his evil ways after this event, but again made priests for the high places from among the common people. Whoever desired it was consecrated and became a priest of the high places.

1Ki 13:34 This was a sin on the part of the house of Jeroboam for which it was to be cut off and destroyed from the earth.

1Ki 14:1 At that time Abijah, son of Jeroboam, took sick.

1Ki 14:2 So Jeroboam said to his wife, "Get ready and disguise yourself so that none will recognize you as Jeroboam's wife. Then go to Shiloh, where you will find the prophet Ahijah. It was he who predicted my reign over this people.

1Ki 14:3 Take along ten loaves, some cakes, and a jar of preserves, and go to him. He will tell you what will happen to the child."

1Ki 14:4 The wife of Jeroboam obeyed. She made the journey to Shiloh and entered the house of Ahijah who could not see because age had dimmed his sight.

1Ki 14:5 The LORD had said to Ahijah: "Jeroboam's wife is coming to consult you about her son, for he is sick. This is what you must tell her. When she comes, she will be in disguise."

1Ki 14:6 So Ahijah, hearing the sound of her footsteps as she entered the door, said, "Come in, wife of Jeroboam. Why are you in disguise? I have been commissioned to give you bitter news.

1Ki 14:7 Go, tell Jeroboam, 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I exalted you from among the people and made you ruler of my people Israel.

1Ki 14:8 I deprived the house of David of the kingdom and gave it to you. Yet you have not been like my servant David, who kept my commandments and followed me with his whole heart, doing only what pleased me.

1Ki 14:9 You have done worse than all who preceded you: you have gone and made for yourself strange gods and molten images to provoke me; but me you have cast behind your back.

1Ki 14:10 Therefore, I am bringing evil upon the house of Jeroboam: I will cut off every male in Jeroboam's line, whether slave or freeman in Israel, and will burn up the house of Jeroboam completely, as though dung were being burned.

1Ki 14:11 When one of Jeroboam's line dies in the city, dogs will devour him; when one of them dies in the field, he will be devoured by the birds of the sky. For the LORD has spoken!"

1Ki 14:12 So leave; go home! As you step inside the city, the child will die,

1Ki 14:13 and all Israel will mourn him and bury him, for he alone of Jeroboam's line will be laid in the grave, since in him alone of Jeroboam's house has something pleasing to the LORD, the God of Israel, been found.

1Ki 14:14 Today, at this very moment, the LORD will raise up for himself a king of Israel who will destroy the house of Jeroboam.

1Ki 14:15 The LORD will strike Israel like a reed tossed about in the water and will pluck out Israel from this good land which he gave their fathers, scattering them beyond the River, because they made sacred poles for themselves and thus provoked the LORD.

1Ki 14:16 He will give up Israel because of the sins Jeroboam has committed and caused Israel to commit."

1Ki 14:17 So Jeroboam's wife started back; when she reached Tirzah and crossed the threshold of her house, the child died.

1Ki 14:18 He was buried with all Israel mourning him, as the LORD had prophesied through his servant the prophet Ahijah.

1Ki 14:19 The rest of the acts of Jeroboam, with his warfare and his reign, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 14:20 The length of Jeroboam's reign was twenty-two years. He rested with his ancestors, and his son Nadab succeeded him as king.

1Ki 14:21 Rehoboam, son of Solomon, reigned in Judah. He was forty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city in which, out of all the tribes of Israel, the LORD chose to be honored. His mother was the Ammonite named Naamah.

1Ki 14:22 Judah did evil in the sight of the LORD, and by their sins angered him even more than their fathers had done.

1Ki 14:23 They, too, built for themselves high places, pillars, and sacred poles, upon every high hill and under every green tree.

1Ki 14:24 There were also cult prostitutes in the land. Judah imitated all the abominable practices of the nations whom the LORD had cleared out of the Israelites' way.

1Ki 14:25 In the fifth year of King Rehoboam, Shishak, king of Egypt, attacked Jerusalem.

1Ki 14:26 He took everything, including the treasures of the temple of the LORD and those of the royal palace, as well as all the gold shields made under Solomon.

1Ki 14:27 To replace them, King Rehoboam had bronze shields made, which he entrusted to the officers of the guard on duty at the entrance of the royal palace.

1Ki 14:28 Whenever the king visited the temple of the LORD, those on duty would carry the shields, and then return them to the guardroom.

1Ki 14:29 The rest of the acts of Rehoboam, with all that he did, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

1Ki 14:30 There was constant warfare between Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

1Ki 14:31 Rehoboam rested with his ancestors; he was buried with them in the City of David. His mother was the Ammonite named Naamah. His son Abijam succeeded him as king.

1Ki 15:1 In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam, son of Nebat, Abijam became king of Judah;

1Ki 15:2 he reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Maacah, daughter of Abishalom.

1Ki 15:3 He imitated all the sins his father had committed before him, and his heart was not entirely with the LORD, his God, like the heart of his grandfather David.

1Ki 15:4 Yet for David's sake the LORD, his God, gave him a lamp in Jerusalem, raising up his son after him and permitting Jerusalem to endure;

1Ki 15:5 because David had pleased the LORD and did not disobey any of his commands as long as he lived, except in the case of Uriah the Hittite.

1Ki 15:6 There was war between Abijam and Jeroboam.

1Ki 15:7 The rest of Abijam's acts, with all that he did, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

1Ki 15:8 Abijam rested with his ancestors; he was buried in the City of David, and his son Asa succeeded him as king.

1Ki 15:9 In the twentieth year of Jeroboam, king of Israel, Asa, king of Judah, began to reign;

1Ki 15:10 he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem. His grandmother's name was Maacah, daughter of Abishalom.

1Ki 15:11 Asa pleased the LORD like his forefather David,

1Ki 15:12 banishing the temple prostitutes from the land and removing all the idols his father had made.

1Ki 15:13 He also deposed his grandmother Maacah from her position as queen mother, because she had made an outrageous object for Asherah. Asa cut down this object and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

1Ki 15:14 The high places did not disappear; yet Asa's heart was entirely with the LORD as long as he lived.

1Ki 15:15 He brought into the temple of the LORD his father's and his own votive offerings of silver, gold, and various utensils.

1Ki 15:16 There was war between Asa and Baasha, king of Israel, as long as they both reigned.

1Ki 15:17 Baasha, king of Israel, attacked Judah and fortified Ramah to prevent communication with Asa, king of Judah.

1Ki 15:18 Asa then took all the silver and gold remaining in the treasuries of the temple of the LORD and of the royal palace. Entrusting them to his ministers, King Asa sent them to Ben-hadad, son of Tabrimmon, son of Hezion, king of Aram, resident in Damascus. He said:

1Ki 15:19 "There is a treaty between you and me, as there was between your father and my father. I am sending you a present of silver and gold. Go, break your treaty with Baasha, king of Israel, that he may withdraw from me."

1Ki 15:20 Ben-hadad agreed with King Asa and sent the leaders of his troops against the cities of Israel. They attacked Ijon, Dan, Abel-beth-maacah, and all Chinnereth, besides all the land of Naphtali.

1Ki 15:21 When Baasha heard of it, he left off fortifying Ramah, and stayed in Tirzah.

1Ki 15:22 Then King Asa summoned all Judah without exception, and they carried away the stones and beams with which Baasha was fortifying Ramah. With them King Asa built Geba of Benjamin and Mizpeh.

1Ki 15:23 The rest of the acts of Asa, with all his valor and accomplishments, and the cities he built, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah. In his old age, Asa had an infirmity in his feet.

1Ki 15:24 He rested with his ancestors; he was buried in his forefather's City of David, and his son Jehoshaphat succeeded him as king.

1Ki 15:25 In the second year of Asa, king of Judah, Nadab, son of Jeroboam, became king of Israel; he reigned over Israel two years.

1Ki 15:26 He did evil in the LORD'S sight, imitating his father's conduct and the sin which he had caused Israel to commit.

1Ki 15:27 Baasha, son of Ahijah, of the house of Issachar, plotted against him and struck him down at Gibbethon of the Philistines, which Nadab and all Israel were besieging.

1Ki 15:28 Baasha killed him in the third year of Asa, king of Judah, and reigned in his stead.

1Ki 15:29 Once he was king, he killed off the entire house of Jeroboam, not leaving a single soul to Jeroboam but destroying him utterly, according to the warning which the LORD had pronounced through his servant, Ahijah the Shilonite, 1Ki 15:30 because of the sins Jeroboam committed and caused Israel to commit, by which he provoked the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger.

1Ki 15:31 The rest of the acts of Nadab, with all that he did, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 15:32 (There was war between Asa and Baasha, king of Israel, as long as they lived.)

1Ki 15:33 In the third year of Asa, king of Judah, Baasha, son of Ahijah, began his twenty-four-year reign over Israel in Tirzah.

1Ki 15:34 He did evil in the LORD'S sight, imitating the conduct of Jeroboam and the sin he had caused Israel to commit.

1Ki 16:1 The LORD spoke against Baasha to Jehu, son of Hanani, and said:

1Ki 16:2 "Inasmuch as I lifted you up from the dust and made you ruler of my people Israel, but you have imitated the conduct of Jeroboam and have caused my people Israel to sin, provoking me to anger by their sins,

1Ki 16:3 I will destroy you, Baasha, and your house;

1Ki 16:4 I will make your house like that of Jeroboam, son of Nebat. If anyone of Baasha's line dies in the city, dogs shall devour him; if he dies in the field, he shall be devoured by the birds of the sky."

1Ki 16:5 The rest of the acts of Baasha, with all his valor and accomplishments, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 16:6 Baasha rested with his ancestors; he was buried in Tirzah, and his son Elah succeeded him as king.

1Ki 16:7 (Through the prophet Jehu, son of Hanani, the LORD had threatened Baasha and his house, because of all the evil Baasha did in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger by his evil deeds, so that he became like the house of Jeroboam; and because he killed Nadab.)

1Ki 16:8 In the twenty-sixth year of Asa, king of Judah, Elah, son of Baasha, began his two-year reign over Israel in Tirzah.

1Ki 16:9 His servant Zimri, commander of half his chariots, plotted against him. As he was in Tirzah, drinking to excess in the house of Arza, superintendent of his palace in Tirzah, 1Ki 16:10 Zimri entered; he struck and killed him in the twenty-seventh year of Asa, king of Judah, and reigned in his place.

1Ki 16:11 Once he was seated on the royal throne, he killed off the whole house of Baasha, not sparing a single male relative or friend of his.

1Ki 16:12 Zimri destroyed the entire house of Baasha, as the LORD had prophesied to Baasha through the prophet Jehu, 1Ki 16:13 because of all the sins which Baasha and his son Elah committed and caused Israel to commit, provoking the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger by their idols.

1Ki 16:14 The rest of the acts of Elah, with all that he did, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 16:15 In the twenty-seventh year of Asa, king of Judah, Zimri reigned seven days in Tirzah. The army was besieging Gibbethon of the Philistines

1Ki 16:16 when they heard that Zimri had formed a conspiracy and had killed the king. So that day in the camp all Israel proclaimed Omri, general of the army, king of Israel.

1Ki 16:17 Omri marched up from Gibbethon, accompanied by all Israel, and laid siege to Tirzah.

1Ki 16:18 When Zimri saw the city was captured, he entered the citadel of the royal palace and burned down the palace over him. He died

1Ki 16:19 because of the sins he had committed, doing evil in the sight of the LORD by imitating the sinful conduct of Jeroboam, thus causing Israel to sin.

1Ki 16:20 The rest of the acts of Zimri, with the conspiracy he carried out, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 16:21 At that time the people of Israel were divided, half following Tibni, son of Ginath, to make him king, and half for Omri.

1Ki 16:22 The partisans of Omri prevailed over those of Tibni, son of Ginath. Tibni died and Omri became king.

1Ki 16:23 In the thirty-first year of Asa, king of Judah, Omri became king; he reigned over Israel twelve years, the first six of them in Tirzah.

1Ki 16:24 He then bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two silver talents and built upon the hill, naming the city he built Samaria after Shemer, the former owner.

1Ki 16:25 But Omri did evil in the LORD'S sight beyond any of his predecessors.

1Ki 16:26 He closely imitated the sinful conduct of Jeroboam, son of Nebat, causing Israel to sin and to provoke the LORD, the God of Israel, to anger by their idols.

1Ki 16:27 The rest of the acts of Omri, with all his valor and accomplishments, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 16:28 Omri rested with his ancestors; he was buried in Samaria, and his son Ahab succeeded him as king.

1Ki 16:29 In the thirty-eighth year of Asa, king of Judah, Ahab, son of Omri, became king of Israel; he reigned over Israel in Samaria for twenty-two years.

1Ki 16:30 Ahab, son of Omri, did evil in the sight of the LORD more than any of his predecessors.

1Ki 16:31 It was not enough for him to imitate the sins of Jeroboam, son of Nebat. He even married Jezebel, daughter of Ethbaal, king of the Sidonians, and went over to the veneration and worship of Baal.

1Ki 16:32 Ahab erected an altar to Baal in the temple of Baal which he built in Samaria, 1Ki 16:33 and also made a sacred pole. He did more to anger the LORD, the God of Israel, than any of the kings of Israel before him.

1Ki 16:34 During his reign, Hiel from Bethel rebuilt Jericho. He lost his first-born son, Abiram, when he laid the foundation, and his youngest son, Segub, when he set up the gates, as the LORD had foretold through Joshua, son of Nun.

1Ki 17:1 Elijah the Tishbite, from Tishbe in Gilead, said to Ahab: "As the LORD, the God of Israel, lives, whom I serve, during these years there shall be no dew or rain except at my word."

1Ki 17:2 The LORD then said to Elijah:

1Ki 17:3 "Leave here, go east and hide in the Wadi Cherith, east of the Jordan.

1Ki 17:4 You shall drink of the stream, and I have commanded ravens to feed you there."

1Ki 17:5 So he left and did as the LORD had commanded. He went and remained by the Wadi Cherith, east of the Jordan.

1Ki 17:6 Ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning, and bread and meat in the evening, and he drank from the stream.

1Ki 17:7 After some time, however, the brook ran dry, because no rain had fallen in the land.

1Ki 17:8 So the LORD said to him:

1Ki 17:9 "Move on to Zarephath of Sidon and stay there. I have designated a widow there to provide for you."

1Ki 17:10 He left and went to Zarephath. As he arrived at the entrance of the city, a widow was gathering sticks there; he called out to her, "Please bring me a small cupful of water to drink."

1Ki 17:11 She left to get it, and he called out after her, "Please bring along a bit of bread."

1Ki 17:12 "As the LORD, your God, lives," she answered, "I have nothing baked; there is only a handful of flour in my jar and a little oil in my jug. Just now I was collecting a couple of sticks, to go in and prepare something for myself and my son; when we have eaten it, we shall die."

1Ki 17:13 "Do not be afraid," Elijah said to her. "Go and do as you propose. But first make me a little cake and bring it to me. Then you can prepare something for yourself and your son.

1Ki 17:14 For the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'The jar of flour shall not go empty, nor the jug of oil run dry, until the day when the LORD sends rain upon the earth.'"

1Ki 17:15 She left and did as Elijah had said. She was able to eat for a year, and he and her son as well;

1Ki 17:16 The jar of flour did not go empty, nor the jug of oil run dry, as the LORD had foretold through Elijah.

1Ki 17:17 Some time later the son of the mistress of the house fell sick, and his sickness grew more severe until he stopped breathing.

1Ki 17:18 So she said to Elijah, "Why have you done this to me, O man of God? Have you come to me to call attention to my guilt and to kill my son?"

1Ki 17:19 "Give me your son," Elijah said to her. Taking him from her lap, he carried him to the upper room where he was staying, and laid him on his own bed.

1Ki 17:20 He called out to the LORD: "O LORD, my God, will you afflict even the widow with whom I am staying by killing her son?"

1Ki 17:21 Then he stretched himself out upon the child three times and called out to the LORD: "O LORD, my God, let the life breath return to the body of this child."

1Ki 17:22 The LORD heard the prayer of Elijah; the life breath returned to the child's body and he revived.

1Ki 17:23 Taking the child, Elijah brought him down into the house from the upper room and gave him to his mother. "See!" Elijah said to her, "your son is alive."

1Ki 17:24 "Now indeed I know that you you are a man of God," the woman replied to Elijah. "The word of the LORD comes truly from your mouth."

1Ki 18:1 Long afterward, in the third year, the LORD spoke to Elijah, "Go, present yourself to Ahab," he said, "that I may send rain upon the earth."

1Ki 18:2 So Elijah went to present himself to Ahab.

1Ki 18:3 Now the famine in Samaria was bitter,

1Ki 18:4 and Ahab had summoned Obadiah, his vizier, who was a zealous follower of the LORD. When Jezebel was murdering the prophets of the LORD, Obadiah took a hundred prophets, hid them away fifty each in two caves, and supplied them with food and drink.

1Ki 18:5 Ahab said to Obadiah, "Come, let us go through the land to all sources of water and to all the streams. We may find grass and save the horses and mules, so that we shall not have to slaughter any of the beasts."

1Ki 18:6 Dividing the land to explore between them, Ahab went one way by himself, Obadiah another way by himself.

1Ki 18:7 As Obadiah was on his way, Elijah met him. Recognizing him, Obadiah fell prostrate and asked, "Is it you, my lord Elijah?"

1Ki 18:8 "Yes," he answered. "Go tell your master, 'Elijah is here!'"

1Ki 18:9 But Obadiah said, "What sin have I committed, that you are handing me over to Ahab to have me killed?"

1Ki 18:10 As the LORD, your God, lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my master has not sent in search of you. When they replied, 'He is not here,' he made each kingdom and nation swear they could not find you.

1Ki 18:11 And now you say, 'Go tell your master: Elijah is here!'

1Ki 18:12 After I leave you, the spirit of the LORD will carry you to some place I do not know, and when I go to inform Ahab and he does not find you, he will kill me. Your servant has revered the LORD from his youth.

1Ki 18:13 Have you not been told, my lord, what I did when Jezebel was murdering the prophets of the LORD-- that I hid a hundred of the prophets of the LORD, fifty each in two caves, and supplied them with food and drink?

1Ki 18:14 And now you say, 'Go tell your master: Elijah is here!' He will kill me!"

1Ki 18:15 Elijah answered, "As the LORD of hosts lives, whom I serve, I will present myself to him today."

1Ki 18:16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab and informed him. Ahab came to meet Elijah,

1Ki 18:17 and when he saw Elijah, said to him, "Is it you, you disturber of Israel?"

1Ki 18:18 "It is not I who disturb Israel," he answered, "but you and your family, by forsaking the commands of the LORD and following the Baals.

1Ki 18:19 Now summon all Israel to me on Mount Carmel, as well as the four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal and the four hundred prophets of Asherah who eat at Jezebel's table."

1Ki 18:20 So Ahab sent to all the Israelites and had the prophets assemble on Mount Carmel.

1Ki 18:21 Elijah appealed to all the people and said, "How long will you straddle the issue? If the LORD is God, follow him; if Baal, follow him." The people, however, did not answer him.

1Ki 18:22 So Elijah said to the people, "I am the only surviving prophet of the LORD, and there are four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal.

1Ki 18:23 Give us two young bulls. Let them choose one, cut it into pieces, and place it on the wood, but start no fire. I shall prepare the other and place it on the wood, but shall start no fire.

1Ki 18:24 You shall call on your gods, and I will call on the LORD. The God who answers with fire is God." All the people answered, "Agreed!"

1Ki 18:25 Elijah then said to the prophets of Baal, "Choose one young bull and prepare it first, for there are more of you. Call upon your gods, but do not start the fire."

1Ki 18:26 Taking the young bull that was turned over to them, they prepared it and called on Baal from morning to noon, saying, "Answer us, Baal!" But there was no sound, and no one answering. And they hopped around the altar they had prepared.

1Ki 18:27 When it was noon, Elijah taunted them: "Call louder, for he is a god and may be meditating, or may have retired, or may be on a journey. Perhaps he is asleep and must be awakened."

1Ki 18:28 They called out louder and slashed themselves with swords and spears, as was their custom, until blood gushed over them.

1Ki 18:29 Noon passed and they remained in a prophetic state until the time for offering sacrifice. But there was not a sound; no one answered, and no one was listening.

1Ki 18:30 Then Elijah said to all the people, "Come here to me." When they had done so, he repaired the altar of the LORD which had been destroyed.

1Ki 18:31 He took twelve stones, for the number of tribes of the sons of Jacob, to whom the LORD had said, "Your name shall be Israel."

1Ki 18:32 He built an altar in honor of the LORD with the stones, and made a trench around the altar large enough for two seahs of grain.

1Ki 18:33 When he had arranged the wood, he cut up the young bull and laid it on the wood.

1Ki 18:34 "Fill four jars with water," he said, "and pour it over the holocaust and over the wood." "Do it again," he said, and they did it again. "Do it a third time," he said, and they did it a third time.

1Ki 18:35 The water flowed around the altar, and the trench was filled with the water.

1Ki 18:36 At the time for offering sacrifice, the prophet Elijah came forward and said, "LORD, God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known this day that you are God in Israel and that I am your servant and have done all these things by your command.

1Ki 18:37 Answer me, LORD! Answer me, that this people may know that you, LORD, are God and that you have brought them back to their senses."

1Ki 18:38 The LORD'S fire came down and consumed the holocaust, wood, stones, and dust, and it lapped up the water in the trench.

1Ki 18:39 Seeing this, all the people fell prostrate and said, "The LORD is God! The LORD is God!"

1Ki 18:40 Then Elijah said to them, "Seize the prophets of Baal. Let none of them escape!" They were seized, and Elijah had them brought down to the brook Kishon and there he slit their throats.

1Ki 18:41 Elijah then said to Ahab, "Go up, eat and drink, for there is the sound of a heavy rain."

1Ki 18:42 So Ahab went up to eat and drink, while Elijah climbed to the top of Carmel, crouched down to the earth, and put his head between his knees.

1Ki 18:43 "Climb up and look out to sea," he directed his servant, who went up and looked, but reported, "There is nothing." Seven times he said, "Go look again!"

1Ki 18:44 And the seventh time the youth reported, "There is a cloud as small as a man's hand rising from the sea." Elijah said, "Go and say to Ahab, 'Harness up and leave the mountain before the rain stops you.'"

1Ki 18:45 In a trice, the sky grew dark with clouds and wind, and a heavy rain fell. Ahab mounted his chariot and made for Jezreel.

1Ki 18:46 But the hand of the LORD was on Elijah, who girded up his clothing and ran before Ahab as far as the approaches to Jezreel.

1Ki 19:1 Ahab told Jezebel all that Elijah had done-- that he had put all the prophets to the sword.

1Ki 19:2 Jezebel then sent a messenger to Elijah and said, "May the gods do thus and so to me if by this time tomorrow I have not done with your life what was done to each of them."

1Ki 19:3 Elijah was afraid and fled for his life, going to Beer-sheba of Judah. He left his servant there

1Ki 19:4 and went a day's journey into the desert, until he came to a broom tree and sat beneath it. He prayed for death: "This is enough, O LORD! Take my life, for I am no better than my fathers."

1Ki 19:5 He lay down and fell asleep under the broom tree, but then an angel touched him and ordered him to get up and eat.

1Ki 19:6 He looked and there at his head was a hearth cake and a jug of water. After he ate and drank, he lay down again,

1Ki 19:7 but the angel of the LORD came back a second time, touched him, and ordered, "Get up and eat, else the journey will be too long for you!"

1Ki 19:8 He got up, ate and drank; then strengthened by that food, he walked forty days and forty nights to the mountain of God, Horeb.

1Ki 19:9 There he came to a cave, where he took shelter. But the word of the LORD came to him, "Why are you here, Elijah?"

1Ki 19:10 He answered: "I have been most zealous for the LORD, the God of hosts, but the Israelites have forsaken your covenant, torn down your altars, and put your prophets to the sword. I alone am left, and they seek to take my life."

1Ki 19:11 Then the LORD said, "Go outside and stand on the mountain before the LORD; the LORD will be passing by." A strong and heavy wind was rending the mountains and crushing rocks before the LORD-- but the LORD was not in the wind. After the wind there was an earthquake-- but the LORD was not in the earthquake.

1Ki 19:12 After the earthquake there was fire-- but the LORD was not in the fire. After the fire there was a tiny whispering sound.

1Ki 19:13 When he heard this, Elijah hid his face in his cloak and went and stood at the entrance of the cave. A voice said to him, "Elijah, why are you here?"

1Ki 19:14 He replied, "I have been most zealous for the LORD, the God of hosts. But the Israelites have forsaken your covenant, torn down your altars, and put your prophets to the sword. I alone am left, and they seek to take my life."

1Ki 19:15 "Go, take the road back to the desert near Damascus," the LORD said to him. "When you arrive, you shall anoint Hazael as king of Aram.

1Ki 19:16 Then you shall anoint Jehu, son of Nimshi, as king of Israel, and Elisha, son of Shaphat of Abel-meholah, as prophet to succeed you.

1Ki 19:17 If anyone escapes the sword of Hazael, Jehu will kill him. If he escapes the sword of Jehu, Elisha will kill him.

1Ki 19:18 Yet I will leave seven thousand men in Israel-- all those who have not knelt to Baal or kissed him."

1Ki 19:19 Elijah set out, and came upon Elisha, son of Shaphat, as he was plowing with twelve yoke of oxen; he was following the twelfth. Elijah went over to him and threw his cloak over him.

1Ki 19:20 Elisha left the oxen, ran after Elijah, and said, "Please, let me kiss my father and mother good-bye, and I will follow you." "Go back!" Elijah answered. "Have I done anything to you?"

1Ki 19:21 Elisha left him and, taking the yoke of oxen, slaughtered them; he used the plowing equipment for fuel to boil their flesh, and gave it to his people to eat. Then he left and followed Elijah as his attendant.

1Ki 20:1 Ben-hadad, king of Aram, gathered all his forces, and accompanied by thirty-two kings with horses and chariotry, proceeded to invest and attack Samaria.

1Ki 20:2 He sent couriers to Ahab, king of Israel, within the city,

1Ki 20:3 and said to him, "This is Ben-hadad's message: 'Your silver and gold are mine, and your wives and your promising sons are mine.'"

1Ki 20:4 The king of Israel answered, "As you say, my lord king, I and all I have are yours."

1Ki 20:5 But the couriers came again and said, "This is Ben-hadad's message: 'I sent you word to give me your silver and gold, your wives and your sons.'

1Ki 20:6 Now, however, at this time tomorrow I will send my servants to you, and they shall ransack your house and the houses of your servants. They shall seize and take away whatever they consider valuable."

1Ki 20:7 The king of Israel then summoned all the elders of the land and said: "Understand clearly that this man wants to ruin us. When he sent to me for my wives and sons, my silver and my gold, I did not refuse him."

1Ki 20:8 All the elders and all the people said to him, "Do not listen. Do not give in."

1Ki 20:9 Accordingly he directed the couriers of Ben-hadad, "Say to my lord the king, 'I will do all that you demanded of your servant the first time. But this I cannot do.'" The couriers left and reported this.

1Ki 20:10 Ben-hadad then sent him the message, "May the gods do thus and so to me if there is enough dust in Samaria to make handfuls for all my followers."

1Ki 20:11 The king of Israel replied, "Tell him, 'It is not for the man who is buckling his armor to boast as though he were taking it off.'"

1Ki 20:12 Ben-hadad was drinking in the pavilions with the kings when he heard this reply. "Prepare the assault," he commanded his servants; and they made ready to storm the city.

1Ki 20:13 Then a prophet came up to Ahab, king of Israel and said: "The LORD says, 'Do you see all this huge army? When I deliver it up to you today, you will know that I am the LORD.'"

1Ki 20:14 But Ahab asked, "Through whom will it be delivered up?" He answered, "The LORD says, 'Through the retainers of the governors of the provinces.'" Then Ahab asked, "Who is to attack?" He replied, "You are."

1Ki 20:15 So Ahab called up the retainers of the governors of the provinces, two hundred thirty-two of them. Behind them he mustered all the Israelite soldiery, who numbered seven thousand.

1Ki 20:16 They marched out at noon, while Ben-hadad was drinking heavily in the pavilions with the thirty-two kings who were his allies.

1Ki 20:17 When the retainers of the governors of the provinces marched out first, Ben-hadad received word that some men had marched out of Samaria.

1Ki 20:18 He answered, "Whether they have come out for peace or for war, in any case take them alive."

1Ki 20:19 But when these had come out of the city-- the soldiers of the governors of the provinces with the army following them--

1Ki 20:20 each of them struck down his man. The Arameans fled with Israel pursuing them, while Ben-hadad, king of Aram, escaped on a chariot steed.

1Ki 20:21 The king of Israel went out, took the horses and chariots, and inflicted a severe defeat on Aram.

1Ki 20:22 Then the prophet went up to the king of Israel and said to him: "Go, regroup your forces. Mark well what you do, for at the beginning of the year the king of Aram will attack you."

1Ki 20:23 On the other hand, the servants of the king of Aram said to him: "Their gods are gods of mountains. That is why they defeated us. But if we fight them on level ground, we shall be sure to defeat them."

1Ki 20:24 This is what you must do: Take the kings from their posts and put prefects in their places.

1Ki 20:25 Mobilize an army as large as the army that has deserted you, horse for horse, chariot for chariot. Let us fight them on level ground, and we shall surely defeat them." He took their advice and did this.

1Ki 20:26 At the beginning of the year, Ben-hadad mobilized Aram and went up to Aphek to fight against Israel.

1Ki 20:27 The Israelites, too, were called to arms and supplied with provisions; then they went out to engage the foe. The Israelites, encamped opposite them, seemed like a couple of small flocks of goats, while Aram covered the countryside.

1Ki 20:28 A man of God came up and said to the king of Israel: "The LORD says, 'Because Aram has said the LORD is a god of mountains, not a god of plains, I will deliver up to you all this large army, that you may know I am the LORD.'"

1Ki 20:29 They were encamped opposite each other for seven days. On the seventh day battle was joined, and the Israelites struck down one hundred thousand foot soldiers of Aram in one day.

1Ki 20:30 The survivors, twenty-seven thousand of them, fled into the city of Aphek, and there the wall collapsed. Ben-hadad, too, fled, and took refuge within the city, in an inside room.

1Ki 20:31 His servants said to him: "We have heard that the kings of the land of Israel are merciful kings. Allow us, therefore, to garb ourselves in sackcloth, with cords around our heads, and go out to the king of Israel. Perhaps he will spare your life."

1Ki 20:32 So they dressed in sackcloth girded at the waist, and wearing cords around their heads, they went to the king of Israel. "Your servant Ben-hadad pleads for his life," they said. "Is he still alive?" the king asked. "He is my brother."

1Ki 20:33 Hearing this as a good omen, the men quickly took him at his word and said, "Ben-hadad is your brother." He answered, "Go and get him." When Ben-hadad came out to him, the king had him mount his chariot.

1Ki 20:34 Ben-hadad said to him, "I will restore the cities which my father took from your father, and you may make yourself bazaars in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria." "On these terms," Ahab replied, "I will set you free." So he made an agreement with him and then set him free.

1Ki 20:35 One of the guild prophets was prompted by the LORD to say to his companion, "Strike me." But he refused to strike him.

1Ki 20:36 Then he said to him, "Since you did not obey the voice of the LORD, a lion will kill you when you leave me." When they parted company, a lion came upon him and killed him.

1Ki 20:37 The prophet met another man and said, "Strike me." The man struck him a blow and wounded him.

1Ki 20:38 The prophet went on and waited for the king on the road, having disguised himself with a bandage over his eyes.

1Ki 20:39 As the king was passing, he called out to the king and said: "Your servant went into the thick of the battle, and suddenly someone turned and brought me a man and said, 'Guard this man. If he is missing, you shall have to pay for his life with your life or pay out a talent of silver.'

1Ki 20:40 But while your servant was looking here and there, the man disappeared." The king of Israel said to him, "That is your sentence. You have decided it yourself."

1Ki 20:41 He immediately removed the bandage from his eyes, and the king of Israel recognized him as one of the prophets.

1Ki 20:42 He said to him: "The LORD says, 'Because you have set free the man I doomed to destruction, your life shall pay for his life, your people for his people.'"

1Ki 20:43 Disturbed and angry, the king of Israel went off homeward and entered Samaria.

1Ki 21:1 Some time after this, as Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard in Jezreel next to the palace of Ahab, king of Samaria,

1Ki 21:2 Ahab said to Naboth, "Give me your vineyard to be my vegetable garden, since it is close by, next to my house. I will give you a better vineyard in exchange, or, if you prefer, I will give you its value in money."

1Ki 21:3 "The LORD forbid," Naboth answered him, "that I should give you my ancestral heritage."

1Ki 21:4 Ahab went home disturbed and angry at the answer Naboth the Jezreelite had made to him: "I will not give you my ancestral heritage." Lying down on his bed, he turned away from food and would not eat.

1Ki 21:5 His wife Jezebel came to him and said to him, "Why are you so angry that you will not eat?"

1Ki 21:6 He answered her, "Because I spoke to Naboth the Jezreelite and said to him, 'Sell me your vineyard, or, if you prefer, I will give you a vineyard in exchange.' But he refused to let me have his vineyard."

1Ki 21:7 "A fine ruler over Israel you are indeed!" his wife Jezebel said to him. "Get up. Eat and be cheerful. I will obtain the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite for you."

1Ki 21:8 So she wrote letters in Ahab's name and, having sealed them with his seal, sent them to the elders and to the nobles who lived in the same city with Naboth.

1Ki 21:9 This is what she wrote in the letters: "Proclaim a fast and set Naboth at the head of the people.

1Ki 21:10 Next, get two scoundrels to face him and accuse him of having cursed God and king. Then take him out and stone him to death."

1Ki 21:11 His fellow citizens-- the elders and the nobles who dwelt in his city-- did as Jezebel had ordered them in writing, through the letters she had sent them.

1Ki 21:12 They proclaimed a fast and placed Naboth at the head of the people.

1Ki 21:13 Two scoundrels came in and confronted him with the accusation, "Naboth has cursed God and king." And they led him out of the city and stoned him to death.

1Ki 21:14 Then they sent the information to Jezebel that Naboth had been stoned to death.

1Ki 21:15 When Jezebel learned that Naboth had been stoned to death, she said to Ahab, "Go on, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite which he refused to sell you, because Naboth is not alive, but dead."

1Ki 21:16 On hearing that Naboth was dead, Ahab started off on his way down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.

1Ki 21:17 But the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite:

1Ki 21:18 "Start down to meet Ahab, king of Israel, who rules in Samaria. He will be in the vineyard of Naboth, of which he has come to take possession.

1Ki 21:19 This is what you shall tell him, 'The LORD says: After murdering, do you also take possession? For this, the LORD says: In the place where the dogs licked up the blood of Naboth, the dogs shall lick up your blood, too.'"

1Ki 21:20 "Have you found me out, my enemy?" Ahab said to Elijah. "Yes," he answered. "Because you have given yourself up to doing evil in the LORD'S sight, 1Ki 21:21 I am bringing evil upon you: I will destroy you and will cut off every male in Ahab's line, whether slave or freeman, in Israel.

1Ki 21:22 I will make your house like that of Jeroboam, son of Nebat, and like that of Baasha, son of Ahijah, because of how you have provoked me by leading Israel into sin."

1Ki 21:23 (Against Jezebel, too, the LORD declared, "The dogs shall devour Jezebel in the district of Jezreel.")

1Ki 21:24 "When one of Ahab's line dies in the city, dogs will devour him; when one of them dies in the field, the birds of the sky will devour him."

1Ki 21:25 Indeed, no one gave himself up to the doing of evil in the sight of the LORD as did Ahab, urged on by his wife Jezebel.

1Ki 21:26 He became completely abominable by following idols, just as the Amorites had done, whom the LORD drove out before the Israelites.

1Ki 21:27 When Ahab heard these words, he tore his garments and put on sackcloth over his bare flesh. He fasted, slept in the sackcloth, and went about subdued.

1Ki 21:28 Then the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite,

1Ki 21:29 "Have you seen that Ahab has humbled himself before me? Since he has humbled himself before me, I will not bring the evil in his time. I will bring the evil upon his house during the reign of his son."

1Ki 22:1 Three years passed without war between Aram and Israel.

1Ki 22:2 In the third year, however, King Jehoshaphat of Judah came down to the king of Israel,

1Ki 22:3 who said to his servants, "Do you not know that Ramoth-gilead is ours and we are doing nothing to take it from the king of Aram?"

1Ki 22:4 He asked Jehoshaphat, "Will you come with me to fight against Ramoth-gilead?" Jehoshaphat answered the king of Israel, "You and I are as one, and your people and my people, your horses and my horses as well."

1Ki 22:5 Jehoshaphat also said to the king of Israel, "Seek the word of the LORD at once."

1Ki 22:6 The king of Israel gathered together the prophets, about four hundred of them, and asked, "Shall I go to attack Ramoth-gilead or shall I refrain?" "Go up," they answered. "The LORD will deliver it over to the king."

1Ki 22:7 But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there no other prophet of the LORD here whom we may consult?"

1Ki 22:8 The king of Israel answered, "There is one other through whom we might consult the LORD, Micaiah, son of Imlah; but I hate him because he prophesies not good but evil about me." Jehoshaphat said, "Let not your majesty speak of evil against you."

1Ki 22:9 So the king of Israel called an official and said to him, "Get Micaiah, son of Imlah, at once."

1Ki 22:10 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were seated, each on his throne, clothed in their robes of state on a threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets were prophesying before them.

1Ki 22:11 Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, made himself horns of iron and said, "The LORD says, 'With these you shall gore Aram until you have destroyed them.'"

1Ki 22:12 The other prophets prophesied in a similar vein, saying: "Go up to Ramoth-gilead; you shall succeed. The LORD will deliver it over to the king."

1Ki 22:13 The messenger who had gone to call Micaiah said to him, "Look now, the prophets are unanimously predicting good for the king. Let your word be the same as any of theirs; predict good."

1Ki 22:14 "As the LORD lives," Micaiah answered, "I shall say whatever the LORD tells me."

1Ki 22:15 When he came to the king, the king said to him, "Micaiah, shall we go to fight against Ramoth-gilead, or shall we refrain?" "Go up," he answered, "you shall succeed! The LORD will deliver it over to the king."

1Ki 22:16 But the king answered him, "How many times must I adjure you to tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?"

1Ki 22:17 So Micaiah said: "I see all Israel scattered on the mountains, like sheep without a shepherd, and the LORD saying, 'These have no master! Let each of them go back home in peace.'"

1Ki 22:18 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Did I not tell you he prophesies not good but evil about me?"

1Ki 22:19 Micaiah continued: "Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD seated on his throne, with the whole host of heaven standing by to his right and to his left.

1Ki 22:20 The LORD asked, 'Who will deceive Ahab, so that he will go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead?' And one said this, another that,

1Ki 22:21 until one of the spirits came forth and presented himself to the LORD, saying, 'I will deceive him.' The LORD asked, 'How?'

1Ki 22:22 He answered, 'I will go forth and become a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.' The LORD replied, 'You shall succeed in deceiving him. Go forth and do this.'

1Ki 22:23 So now, the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouths of all these prophets of yours, but the LORD himself has decreed evil against you."

1Ki 22:24 Thereupon Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, came up and slapped Micaiah on the cheek, saying, "Has the spirit of the LORD, then, left me to speak with you?"

1Ki 22:25 "You shall find out," Micaiah replied, "on that day when you retreat into an inside room to hide."

1Ki 22:26 The king of Israel then said, "Seize Micaiah and take him back to Amon, prefect of the city, and to Joash, the king's son,

1Ki 22:27 and say, 'This is the king's order: Put this man in prison and feed him scanty rations of bread and water until I return in safety.'"

1Ki 22:28 But Micaiah said, "If ever you return in safety, the LORD has not spoken through me."

1Ki 22:29 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead, 1Ki 22:30 and the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "I will disguise myself and go into battle, but you put on your own clothes." So the king of Israel disguised himself and entered the fray.

1Ki 22:31 In the meantime the king of Aram had given his thirty-two chariot commanders the order, "Do not fight with anyone at all except the king of Israel."

1Ki 22:32 When the chariot commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they cried out, "That must be the king of Israel!" and shifted to fight him. But Jehoshaphat shouted his battle cry, 1Ki 22:33 and the chariot commanders, aware that he was not the king of Israel, gave up pursuit of him.

1Ki 22:34 Someone, however, drew his bow at random, and hit the king of Israel between the joints of his breastplate. He ordered his charioteer, "Rein about and take me out of the ranks, for I am disabled."

1Ki 22:35 The battle grew fierce during the day, and the king, who was propped up in his chariot facing the Arameans, died in the evening. The blood from his wound flowed to the bottom of the chariot.

1Ki 22:36 At sunset a cry went through the army, "Every man to his city, every man to his land, 1Ki 22:37 for the king is dead!" So they went to Samaria, where they buried the king.

1Ki 22:38 When the chariot was washed at the pool of Samaria, the dogs licked up his blood and harlots bathed there, as the LORD had prophesied.

1Ki 22:39 The rest of the acts of Ahab, with all that he did, including the ivory palace and all the cities he built, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

1Ki 22:40 Ahab rested with his ancestors, and his son Ahaziah succeeded him as king.

1Ki 22:41 Jehoshaphat, son of Asa, began to reign over Judah in the fourth year of Ahab, king of Israel.

1Ki 22:42 Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah, daughter of Shilhi.

1Ki 22:43 He followed all the ways of his father Asa unswervingly, doing what was right in the LORD'S sight.

1Ki 22:44 Nevertheless, the high places did not disappear, and the people continued to sacrifice and to burn incense on the high places.

1Ki 22:45 Jehoshaphat also made peace with the king of Israel.

1Ki 22:46 The rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, with his prowess, what he did and how he fought, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

1Ki 22:47 He removed from the land the rest of the cult prostitutes who had remained in the reign of his father Asa.

1Ki 22:48 There was no king in Edom, but an appointed regent.

1Ki 22:49 Jehoshaphat made Tarshish ships to go to Ophir for gold; but in fact the ships did not go, because they were wrecked at Ezion-geber.

1Ki 22:50 Then Ahaziah, son of Ahab, said to Jehoshaphat, "Let my servants accompany your servants in the ships." But Jehoshaphat would not agree.

1Ki 22:51 Jehoshaphat rested with his ancestors; he was buried in his forefathers' City of David. His son Jehoram succeeded him as king.

1Ki 22:52 Ahaziah, son of Ahab, began to reign over Israel in Samaria in the seventeenth year of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah; he reigned two years over Israel.

1Ki 22:53 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, behaving like his father, his mother, and Jeroboam, son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin.

1Ki 22:54 He served and worshiped Baal, thus provoking the LORD, the God of Israel, just as his father had done.

2Ki 1:1 After Ahab's death, Moab rebelled against Israel.

2Ki 1:2 Ahaziah had fallen through the lattice of his roof terrace at Samaria and had been injured. So he sent out messengers with the instructions: "Go and inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, whether I shall recover from this injury."

2Ki 1:3 Meanwhile, the angel of the LORD said to Elijah the Tishbite: "Go, intercept the messengers of Samaria's king, and ask them, 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going to inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron?'"

2Ki 1:4 For this, the LORD says: 'You shall not leave the bed upon which you lie; instead, you shall die.'" And with that, Elijah departed.

2Ki 1:5 The messengers then returned to Ahaziah, who asked them. "Why have you returned?"

2Ki 1:6 "A man came up to us," they answered, "who said to us, 'Go back to the king who sent you and tell him: The LORD says, Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are sending to inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron? For this you shall not leave the bed upon which you lie; instead, you shall die.'"

2Ki 1:7 The king asked them, "What was the man like who came up to you and said these things to you?"

2Ki 1:8 "Wearing a hairy garment," they replied, "with a leather girdle about his loins." "It is Elijah the Tishbite!" he exclaimed.

2Ki 1:9 Then the king sent a captain with his company of fifty men after Elijah. The prophet was seated on a hilltop when he found him. "Man of God," he ordered, "the king commands you to come down."

2Ki 1:10 "If I am a man of God," Elijah answered the captain, "may fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men." And fire came down from heaven and consumed him and his fifty men.

2Ki 1:11 Ahaziah sent another captain with his company of fifty men after Elijah. "Man of God," he called out to Elijah, "the king commands you to come down immediately."

2Ki 1:12 "If I am a man of God," Elijah answered him, "may fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men." And divine fire came down from heaven, consuming him and his fifty men.

2Ki 1:13 Again, for the third time, Ahaziah sent a captain with his company of fifty men. When the third captain arrived, he fell to his knees before Elijah, pleading with him. "Man of God," he implored him, "let my life and the lives of these fifty men, your servants, count for something in your sight!

2Ki 1:14 Already fire has come down from heaven, consuming two captains with their companies of fifty men. But now, let my life mean something to you!"

2Ki 1:15 Then the angel of the LORD said to Elijah, "Go down with him; you need not be afraid of him."

2Ki 1:16 So Elijah left and went down with him and stated to the king: "Thus says the LORD: 'Because you sent messengers to inquire of Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, you shall not leave the bed upon which you lie; instead you shall die.'"

2Ki 1:17 Ahaziah died in fulfillment of the prophecy of the LORD spoken by Elijah. Since he had no son, his brother Joram succeeded him as king, in the second year of Jehoram, son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah.

2Ki 1:18 The rest of the acts of Ahaziah are recorded in the book of chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 2:1 When the LORD was about to take Elijah up to heaven in a whirlwind, he and Elisha were on their way from Gilgal.

2Ki 2:2 "Stay here, please," Elijah said to Elisha. "The LORD has sent me on to Bethel." "As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live," Elisha replied, "I will not leave you." So they went down to Bethel,

2Ki 2:3 where the guild prophets went out to Elisha and asked him, "Do you know that the LORD will take your master from over you today?" "Yes, I know it," he replied. "Keep still."

2Ki 2:4 Then Elijah said to him, "Stay here, please, Elisha, for the LORD has sent me on to Jericho." "As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live," Elisha replied, "I will not leave you."

2Ki 2:5 They went on to Jericho, where the guild prophets approached Elisha and asked him, "Do you know that the LORD will take your master from over you today?" "Yes, I know it," he replied. "Keep still."

2Ki 2:6 Elijah said to Elisha, "Please stay here; the LORD has sent me on to the Jordan." "As the LORD lives, and as you yourself live," Elisha replied, "I will not leave you." And so the two went on together.

2Ki 2:7 Fifty of the guild prophets followed, and when the two stopped at the Jordan, stood facing them at a distance.

2Ki 2:8 Elijah took his mantle, rolled it up and struck the water, which divided, and both crossed over on dry ground.

2Ki 2:9 When they had crossed over, Elijah said to Elisha, "Ask for whatever I may do for you, before I am taken from you." Elisha answered, "May I receive a double portion of your spirit."

2Ki 2:10 "You have asked something that is not easy," he replied. "Still, if you see me taken up from you, your wish will be granted; otherwise not."

2Ki 2:11 As they walked on conversing, a flaming chariot and flaming horses came between them, and Elijah went up to heaven in a whirlwind.

2Ki 2:12 When Elisha saw it happen he cried out, "My father! my father! Israel's chariots and drivers!" But when he could no longer see him, Elisha gripped his own garment and tore it in two.

2Ki 2:13 Then he picked up Elijah's mantle which had fallen from him, and went back and stood at the bank of the Jordan.

2Ki 2:14 Wielding the mantle which had fallen from Elijah, he struck the water in his turn and said, "Where is the LORD, the God of Elijah?" When Elisha struck the water it divided and he crossed over.

2Ki 2:15 The guild prophets in Jericho, who were on the other side, saw him and said, "The spirit of Elijah rests on Elisha." They went to meet him, bowing to the ground before him.

2Ki 2:16 "Among your servants are fifty brave men," they said. "Let them go in search of your master. Perhaps the spirit of the LORD has carried him away to some mountain or some valley." "Do not send them," he answered.

2Ki 2:17 However, they kept urging him, until he was embarrassed and said, "Send them." So they sent the fifty men, who searched for three days without finding him.

2Ki 2:18 When they returned to Elisha in Jericho, where he was staying, he said to them, "Did I not tell you not to go?"

2Ki 2:19 Once the inhabitants of the city complained to Elisha, "The site of the city is fine indeed, as my lord can see, but the water is bad and the land unfruitful."

2Ki 2:20 "Bring me a new bowl," Elisha said, "and put salt into it." When they had brought it to him,

2Ki 2:21 he went out to the spring and threw salt into it, saying, "Thus says the LORD, 'I have purified this water. Never again shall death or miscarriage spring from it.'"

2Ki 2:22 And the water has stayed pure even to this day, just as Elisha prophesied.

2Ki 2:23 From there Elisha went up to Bethel. While he was on the way, some small boys came out of the city and jeered at him. "Go up, baldhead," they shouted, "go up, baldhead!"

2Ki 2:24 The prophet turned and saw them, and he cursed them in the name of the LORD. Then two she-bears came out of the woods and tore forty-two of the children to pieces.

2Ki 2:25 From there he went to Mount Carmel, and thence he returned to Samaria.

2Ki 3:1 Joram, son of Ahab, became king of Israel in Samaria (in the eighteenth year of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, and he reigned for twelve years).

2Ki 3:2 He did evil in the LORD'S sight, though not as much as his father and mother. He did away with the pillar of Baal, which his father had made,

2Ki 3:3 but he still clung to the sin to which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had lured Israel; this he did not give up.

2Ki 3:4 Now Mesha, king of Moab, who raised sheep, used to pay the king of Israel as tribute a hundred thousand lambs and the wool of a hundred thousand rams.

2Ki 3:5 But when Ahab died, the king of Moab had rebelled against the king of Israel.

2Ki 3:6 Joram as king mustered all Israel, and when he set out on a campaign from Samaria,

2Ki 3:7 he sent the king of Judah the message: "The king of Moab is in rebellion against me. Will you join me in battle against Moab?" "I will," he replied. "You and I shall be as one, your people and mine, and your horses and mine as well."

2Ki 3:8 They discussed the route for their attack, and settled upon the route through the desert of Edom.

2Ki 3:9 So the king of Israel set out, accompanied by the king of Judah and the king of Edom. After their roundabout journey of seven days the water gave out for the army and for the animals with them.

2Ki 3:10 "Alas!" exclaimed the king of Israel. "The LORD has called together these three kings to put them in the grasp of Moab."

2Ki 3:11 But the king of Judah asked, "Is there no prophet of the LORD here through whom we may inquire of the LORD?" One of the officers of the king of Israel replied, "Elisha, son of Shaphat, who poured water on the hands of Elijah, is here."

2Ki 3:12 "He has the word of the LORD," the king of Judah agreed. So the kings of Israel, Judah, and Edom went down to Elisha.

2Ki 3:13 "What do you want with me?" Elisha asked the king of Israel. "Go to the prophets of your father and to the prophets of your mother." "No," the king of Israel replied. "The LORD has called these three kings together to put them in the grasp of Moab."

2Ki 3:14 Then Elisha said, "As the LORD of hosts lives, whom I serve, were it not that I respect the king of Judah, I should neither look at you nor notice you at all.

2Ki 3:15 Now get me a minstrel." When the minstrel played, the power of the LORD came upon Elisha 2Ki 3:16 and he announced: "Thus says the LORD, 'Provide many catch basins in this wadi.'

2Ki 3:17 For the LORD says, 'Though you will see neither wind nor rain, yet this wadi will be filled with water for you, your livestock, and your pack animals to drink.'

2Ki 3:18 And since the LORD does not consider this enough, he will also deliver Moab into your grasp.

2Ki 3:19 You shall destroy every fortified city, fell every fruit tree, stop up all the springs, and ruin every fertile field with stones."

2Ki 3:20 In the morning, at the time of the sacrifice, water came from the direction of Edom and filled the land.

2Ki 3:21 Meanwhile, all Moab heard that the kings had come to give them battle; every man capable of bearing arms was called up and stationed at the border.

2Ki 3:22 Early that morning, when the sun shone on the water, the Moabites saw the water at a distance as red as blood.

2Ki 3:23 "This is blood!" they exclaimed. "The kings have fought among themselves and killed one another. Quick! To the spoils, Moabites!"

2Ki 3:24 But when they reached the camp of Israel, the Israelites rose up and attacked the Moabites, who fled from them. They ranged through the countryside striking down the Moabites, and

2Ki 3:26 When he saw that he was losing the battle, the king of Moab took seven hundred swordsmen to break through to the king of Aram, but he failed.

2Ki 3:27 So he took his first-born, his heir apparent, and offered him as a holocaust upon the wall. The wrath against Israel was so great that they gave up the siege and returned to their own land.

2Ki 4:1 A certain woman, the widow of one of the guild prophets, complained to Elisha: "My husband, your servant, is dead. You know that he was a God-fearing man, yet now his creditor has come to take my two children as his slaves."

2Ki 4:2 "How can I help you?" Elisha answered her. "Tell me what you have in the house." "This servant of yours has nothing in the house but a jug of oil," she replied.

2Ki 4:3 "Go out," he said, "borrow vessels from all your neighbors-- as many empty vessels as you can.

2Ki 4:4 Then come back and close the door on yourself and your children; pour the oil into all the vessels, and as each is filled, set it aside."

2Ki 4:5 She went and did so, closing the door on herself and her children. As they handed her the vessels, she would pour in oil.

2Ki 4:6 When all the vessels were filled, she said to her son, "Bring me another vessel." "There is none left," he answered her. And then the oil stopped.

2Ki 4:7 She went and told the man of God, who said, "Go and sell the oil to pay off your creditor; with what remains, you and your children can live."

2Ki 4:8 One day Elisha came to Shunem, where there was a woman of influence, who urged him to dine with her. Afterward, whenever he passed by, he used to stop there to dine.

2Ki 4:9 So she said to her husband, "I know that he is a holy man of God. Since he visits us often,

2Ki 4:10 let us arrange a little room on the roof and furnish it for him with a bed, table, chair, and lamp, so that when he comes to us he can stay there."

2Ki 4:11 Sometime later Elisha arrived and stayed in the room overnight.

2Ki 4:12 Then he said to his servant Gehazi, "Call this Shunammite woman." He did so, and when she stood before Elisha,

2Ki 4:13 he told Gehazi, "Say to her, 'You have lavished all this care on us; what can we do for you? Can we say a good word for you to the king or to the commander of the army?'" She replied, "I am living among my own people."

2Ki 4:14 Later Elisha asked, "Can something be done for her?" "Yes!" Gehazi answered. "She has no son, and her husband is getting on in years."

2Ki 4:15 "Call her," said Elisha. When she had been called, and stood at the door,

2Ki 4:16 Elisha promised, "This time next year you will be fondling a baby son." "Please, my lord," she protested, "you are a man of God; do not deceive your servant."

2Ki 4:17 Yet the woman conceived, and by the same time the following year she had given birth to a son, as Elisha had promised.

2Ki 4:18 The day came when the child was old enough to go out to his father among the reapers.

2Ki 4:19 "My head hurts!" he complained to his father. "Carry him to his mother," the father said to a servant.

2Ki 4:20 The servant picked him up and carried him to his mother; he stayed with her until noon, when he died in her lap.

2Ki 4:21 The mother took him upstairs and laid him on the bed of the man of God. Closing the door on him, she went out

2Ki 4:22 and called to her husband, "Let me have a servant and a donkey. I must go quickly to the man of God, and I will be back."

2Ki 4:23 "Why are you going to him today?" he asked. "It is neither the new moon nor the sabbath." But she bade him good-bye,

2Ki 4:24 and when the donkey was saddled, said to her servant: "Lead on! Do not stop my donkey unless I tell you to."

2Ki 4:25 She kept going till she reached the man of God on Mount Carmel. When he spied her at a distance, the man of God said to his servant Gehazi: "There is the Shunammite!"

2Ki 4:26 Hurry to meet her, and ask if all is well with her, with her husband, and with the boy." "Greetings," she replied.

2Ki 4:27 But when she reached the man of God on the mountain, she clasped his feet. Gehazi came near to push her away, but the man of God said: "Let her alone, she is in bitter anguish; the LORD hid it from me and did not let me know."

2Ki 4:28 "Did I ask my lord for a son?" she cried out. "Did I not beg you not to deceive me?"

2Ki 4:29 "Gird your loins," Elisha said to Gehazi, "take my staff with you and be off; if you meet anyone, do not greet him, and if anyone greets you, do not answer. Lay my staff upon the boy."

2Ki 4:30 But the boy's mother cried out: "As the LORD lives and as you yourself live, I will not release you." So he started to go back with her.

2Ki 4:31 Meanwhile, Gehazi had gone on ahead and had laid the staff upon the boy, but there was no sound or sign of life. He returned to meet Elisha and informed him that the boy had not awakened.

2Ki 4:32 When Elisha reached the house, he found the boy lying dead.

2Ki 4:33 He went in, closed the door on them both, and prayed to the LORD.

2Ki 4:34 Then he lay upon the child on the bed, placing his mouth upon the child's mouth, his eyes upon the eyes, and his hands upon the hands. As Elisha stretched himself over the child, the body became warm.

2Ki 4:35 He arose, paced up and down the room, and then once more lay down upon the boy, who now sneezed seven times and opened his eyes.

2Ki 4:36 Elisha summoned Gehazi and said, "Call the Shunammite." She came at his call, and Elisha said to her, "Take your son."

2Ki 4:37 She came in and fell at his feet in gratitude; then she took her son and left the room.

2Ki 4:38 When Elisha returned to Gilgal, there was a famine in the land. Once, when the guild prophets were seated before him, he said to his servant, "Put the large pot on, and make some vegetable stew for the guild prophets."

2Ki 4:39 Someone went out into the field to gather herbs and found a wild vine, from which he picked a clothful of wild gourds. On his return he cut them up into the pot of vegetable stew without anybody's knowing it.

2Ki 4:40 The stew was poured out for the men to eat, but when they began to eat it, they exclaimed, "Man of God, there is poison in the pot!" And they could not eat it.

2Ki 4:41 "Bring some meal," Elisha said. He threw it into the pot and said, "Serve it to the people to eat." And there was no longer anything harmful in the pot.

2Ki 4:42 A man came from Baal-shalishah bringing the man of God twenty barely loaves made from the first fruits, and fresh grain in the ear. "Give it to the people to eat," Elisha said.

2Ki 4:43 But his servant objected, "How can I set this before a hundred men?" "Give it to the people to eat," Elisha insisted. "For thus says the LORD, 'They shall eat and there shall be some left over.'"

2Ki 4:44 And when they had eaten, there was some left over, as the LORD had said.

2Ki 5:1 Naaman, the army commander of the king of Aram, was highly esteemed and respected by his master, for through him the LORD had brought victory to Aram. But valiant as he was, the man was a leper.

2Ki 5:2 Now the Arameans had captured from the land of Israel in a raid a little girl, who became the servant of Naaman's wife.

2Ki 5:3 "If only my master would present himself to the prophet in Samaria," she said to her mistress, "he would cure him of his leprosy."

2Ki 5:4 Naaman went and told his lord just what the slave girl from the land of Israel had said.

2Ki 5:5 "Go," said the king of Aram. "I will send along a letter to the king of Israel." So Naaman set out, taking along ten silver talents, six thousand gold pieces, and ten festal garments.

2Ki 5:6 To the king of Israel he brought the letter, which read: "With this letter I am sending my servant Naaman to you, that you may cure him of his leprosy."

2Ki 5:7 When he read the letter, the king of Israel tore his garments and exclaimed: "Am I a god with power over life and death, that this man should send someone to me to be cured of leprosy? Take note! You can see he is only looking for a quarrel with me!"

2Ki 5:8 When Elisha, the man of God, heard that the king of Israel had torn his garments, he sent word to the king: "Why have you torn your garments? Let him come to me and find out that there is a prophet in Israel."

2Ki 5:9 Naaman came with his horses and chariots and stopped at the door of Elisha's house.

2Ki 5:10 The prophet sent him the message: "Go and wash seven times in the Jordan, and your flesh will heal, and you will be clean."

2Ki 5:11 But Naaman went away angry, saying, "I thought that he would surely come out and stand there to invoke the LORD his God, and would move his hand over the spot, and thus cure the leprosy.

2Ki 5:12 Are not the rivers of Damascus, the Abana and the Pharpar, better than all the waters of Israel? Could I not wash in them and be cleansed?" With this, he turned about in anger and left.

2Ki 5:13 But his servants came up and reasoned with him. "My father," they said, "if the prophet had told you to do something extraordinary, would you not have done it? All the more now, since he said to you, 'Wash and be clean,' should you do as he said."

2Ki 5:14 So Naaman went down and plunged into the Jordan seven times at the word of the man of God. His flesh became again like the flesh of a little child, and he was clean.

2Ki 5:15 He returned with his whole retinue to the man of God. On his arrival he stood before him and said, "Now I know that there is no God in all the earth, except in Israel. Please accept a gift from your servant."

2Ki 5:16 "As the LORD lives whom I serve, I will not take it," Elisha replied; and despite Naaman's urging, he still refused.

2Ki 5:17 Naaman said: "If you will not accept, please let me, your servant, have two mule-loads of earth, for I will no longer offer holocaust or sacrifice to any other god except to the LORD.

2Ki 5:18 But I trust the LORD will forgive your servant this: when my master enters the temple of Rimmon to worship there, then I, too, as his adjutant, must bow down in the temple of Rimmon. May the LORD forgive your servant this."

2Ki 5:19 "Go in peace," Elisha said to him.

2Ki 5:20 Naaman had gone some distance when Gehazi, the servant of Elisha, the man of God, thought to himself: "My master was too easy with this Aramean Naaman, not accepting what he brought. As the LORD lives, I will run after him and get something out of him."

2Ki 5:21 So Gehazi hurried after Naaman. Aware that someone was running after him, Naaman alighted from his chariot to wait for him. "Is everything all right?" he asked.

2Ki 5:22 "Yes," Gehazi replied, "but my master sent me to say, 'Two young men have just come to me, guild prophets from the hill country of Ephraim. Please give them a talent of silver and two festal garments.'"

2Ki 5:23 "Please take two talents," Naaman said, and pressed them upon him. He tied up these silver talents in bags and gave them, with the two festal garments, to two of his servants, who carried them before Gehazi.

2Ki 5:24 When they reached the hill, Gehazi took what they had, carried it into the house, and sent the men on their way.

2Ki 5:25 He went in and stood before Elisha his master, who asked him, "Where have you been, Gehazi?" He answered, "Your servant has not gone anywhere."

2Ki 5:26 But Elisha said to him: "Was I not present in spirit when the man alighted from his chariot to wait for you? Is this a time to take money or to take garments, olive orchards or vineyards, sheep or cattle, male or female servants?"

2Ki 5:27 The leprosy of Naaman shall cling to you and your descendants forever." And Gehazi left Elisha, a leper white as snow.

2Ki 6:1 The guild prophets once said to Elisha: "There is not enough room for us to continue to live here with you.

2Ki 6:2 Let us go to the Jordan, where by getting one beam apiece we can build ourselves a place to live." "Go," Elisha said.

2Ki 6:3 "Please agree to accompany your servants," one of them requested. "Yes, I will come," he replied.

2Ki 6:4 So he went with them, and when they arrived at the Jordan they began to fell trees.

2Ki 6:5 While one of them was felling a tree trunk, the iron axhead slipped into the water. "O master," he cried out, "it was borrowed!"

2Ki 6:6 "Where did it fall?" asked the man of God. When he pointed out the spot, Elisha cut off a stick, threw it into the water, and brought the iron to the surface.

2Ki 6:7 "Pick it up," he said. And the man reached down and grasped it.

2Ki 6:8 When the king of Aram was waging war on Israel, he would make plans with his servants to attack a particular place.

2Ki 6:9 But the man of God would send word to the king of Israel, "Be careful! Do not pass by this place, for Aram will attack there."

2Ki 6:10 So the king of Israel would send word to the place which the man of God had indicated, and alert it; then they would be on guard. This happened several times.

2Ki 6:11 Greatly disturbed over this, the king of Aram called together his officers. "Will you not tell me," he asked them, "who among us is for the king of Israel?"

2Ki 6:12 "No one, my lord king," answered one of the officers. "The Israelite prophet Elisha can tell the king of Israel the very words you speak in your bedroom."

2Ki 6:13 "Go, find out where he is," he said, "so that I may take him captive." Informed that Elisha was in Dothan, 2Ki 6:14 he sent there a strong force with horses and chariots. They arrived by night and surrounded the city.

2Ki 6:15 Early the next morning, when the attendant of the man of God arose and went out, he saw the force with its horses and chariots surrounding the city. "Alas!" he said to Elisha. "What shall we do, my lord?"

2Ki 6:16 "Do not be afraid," Elisha answered. "Our side outnumbers theirs."

2Ki 6:17 Then he prayed, "O LORD, open his eyes, that he may see." And the LORD opened the eyes of the servant, so that he saw the mountainside filled with horses and fiery chariots around Elisha.

2Ki 6:18 When the Arameans came down to get him, Elisha prayed to the LORD, "Strike this people blind, I pray you." And in answer to the prophet's prayer the LORD struck them blind.

2Ki 6:19 Then Elisha said to them: "This is the wrong road, and this is the wrong city. Follow me! I will take you to the man you want." And he led them to Samaria.

2Ki 6:20 When they entered Samaria, Elisha prayed, "O LORD, open their eyes that they may see." The LORD opened their eyes, and they saw that they were inside Samaria.

2Ki 6:21 When the king of Israel saw them, he asked, "Shall I kill them, my father?"

2Ki 6:22 "You must not kill them," replied Elisha. "Do you slay those whom you have taken captive with your sword or bow? Serve them bread and water. Let them eat and drink, and then go back to their master."

2Ki 6:23 The king spread a great feast for them. When they had eaten and drunk he sent them away, and they went back to their master. No more Aramean raiders came into the land of Israel.

2Ki 6:24 After this, Ben-hadad, king of Aram, mustered his whole army and laid siege to Samaria.

2Ki 6:25 Because of the siege the famine in Samaria was so severe that an ass's head sold for eighty pieces of silver, and a fourth of a kab of wild onion for five pieces of silver.

2Ki 6:26 One day, as the king of Israel was walking on the city wall, a woman cried out to him, "Help, my lord king!"

2Ki 6:27 "No," he replied, "the LORD help you! Where could I find help for you: from the threshing floor or the winepress?"

2Ki 6:28 Then the king asked her, "What is your trouble?" She replied: "This woman said to me, 'Give up your son that we may eat him today; then tomorrow we will eat my son.'

2Ki 6:29 So we boiled my son and ate him. The next day I said to her, 'Now give up your son that we may eat him.' But she hid her son."

2Ki 6:30 When the king heard the woman's words, he tore his garments. And as he was walking on the wall, the people saw that he was wearing sackcloth underneath, next to his skin.

2Ki 6:31 "May God do thus and so to me," the king exclaimed, "if the head of Elisha, son of Shaphat, stays on him today!"

2Ki 6:32 Meanwhile, Elisha was sitting in his house in conference with the elders. The king had sent a man ahead before he himself should come to him. Elisha had said to the elders: "Do you know that this son of a murderer is sending someone to cut off my head? When the messenger comes, see that you close the door and hold it fast against him. His master's footsteps are echoing behind him."

2Ki 6:33 While Elisha was still speaking, the king came down to him and said, "This evil is from the LORD. Why should I trust in the LORD any longer?"

2Ki 7:1 Elisha said: "Hear the word of the LORD! Thus says the LORD, 'At this time tomorrow a seah of fine flour will sell for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, in the market of Samaria.'"

2Ki 7:2 But the adjutant on whose arm the king leaned, answered the man of God, "Even if the LORD were to make windows in heaven, how could this happen?" "You shall see it with your own eyes," Elisha said, "but you shall not eat of it."

2Ki 7:3 At the city gate were four lepers who were deliberating, "Why should we sit here until we die?"

2Ki 7:4 If we decide to go into the city, we shall die there, for there is famine in the city. If we remain here, we shall die too. Come, let us desert to the camp of the Arameans. If they spare us, we live; if they kill us, we die."

2Ki 7:5 At twilight they left for the Arameans; but when they reached the edge of the camp, no one was there.

2Ki 7:6 The LORD had caused the army of the Arameans to hear the sound of chariots and horses, the din of a large army, and they had reasoned among themselves, "The king of Israel has hired the kings of the Hittites and the kings of the borderlands to fight us."

2Ki 7:7 Then in the twilight they fled, abandoning their tents, their horses, and their asses, the whole camp just as it was, and fleeing for their lives.

2Ki 7:8 After the lepers reached the edge of the camp, they went first into one tent, ate and drank, and took silver, gold, and clothing from it, and went out and hid them. Back they came into another tent, took things from it, and again went out and hid them.

2Ki 7:9 Then they said to one another: "We are not doing right. This is a day of good news, and we are keeping silent. If we wait until morning breaks, we shall be blamed. Come, let us go and inform the palace."

2Ki 7:10 They came and summoned the city gatekeepers. "We went to the camp of the Arameans," they said, "but no one was there-- not a human voice, only the horses and asses tethered, and the tents just as they were left."

2Ki 7:11 The gatekeepers announced this and it was reported within the palace.

2Ki 7:12 Though it was night, the king got up; he said to his servants: "Let me tell you what the Arameans have done to us. Knowing that we are in famine, they have left their camp to hide in the field, hoping to take us alive and enter our city when we leave it."

2Ki 7:13 One of his servants, however, suggested: "Since those who are left in the city are no better off than all the throng that has perished, let some of us take five of the abandoned horses and send scouts to investigate."

2Ki 7:14 They took two chariots, and horses, and the king sent them to reconnoiter the Aramean army. "Go and find out," he ordered.

2Ki 7:15 They followed the Arameans as far as the Jordan, and the whole route was strewn with garments and other objects that the Arameans had thrown away in their haste. The messengers returned and told the king.

2Ki 7:16 The people went out and plundered the camp of the Arameans; and then a seah of fine flour sold for a shekel and two seahs of barley for a shekel, as the LORD had said.

2Ki 7:17 The king put in charge of the gate the officer who was his adjutant; but the people trampled him to death at the gate, just as the man of God had predicted when the king visited him.

2Ki 7:18 Thus was fulfilled the prophecy of the man of God to the king, "Two seahs of barley will sell for a shekel, and one seah of fine flour for a shekel at this time tomorrow at the gate of Samaria."

2Ki 7:19 The adjutant had answered the man of God, "Even if the LORD were to make windows in heaven, how could this happen?" And Elisha had replied, "You shall see it with your own eyes, but you shall not eat of it."

2Ki 7:20 And that is what happened to him, for the people trampled him to death at the gate.

2Ki 8:1 Elisha once said to the woman whose son he had restored to life: "Get ready! Leave with your family and settle wherever you can, because the LORD has decreed a seven-year famine which is coming upon the land."

2Ki 8:2 The woman got ready and did as the man of God said, setting out with her family and settling in the land of the Philistines for seven years.

2Ki 8:3 At the end of the seven years, the woman returned from the land of the Philistines and went out to the king to claim her house and her field.

2Ki 8:4 The king was talking with Gehazi, the servant of the man of God. "Tell me," he said, "all the great things that Elisha has done."

2Ki 8:5 Just as he was relating to the king how his master had restored a dead person to life, the very woman whose son Elisha had restored to life came to the king to claim her house and field. "My lord king," Gehazi said, "this is the woman, and this is that son of hers whom Elisha restored to life."

2Ki 8:6 The king questioned the woman, and she told him her story. With that the king placed an official at her disposal, saying, "Restore all her property to her, with all that the field produced from the day she left the land until now."

2Ki 8:7 Elisha came to Damascus at a time when Ben-hadad, king of Aram, lay sick. When he was told that the man of God had come there,

2Ki 8:8 the king said to Hazael, "Take a gift with you and go call on the man of God. Have him consult the LORD as to whether I shall recover from this sickness."

2Ki 8:9 Hazael went to visit him, carrying a present, and with forty camel loads of the best goods of Damascus. On his arrival, he stood before the prophet and said, "Your son Ben-hadad, king of Aram, has sent me to ask you whether he will recover from his sickness."

2Ki 8:10 "Go and tell him," Elisha answered, "that he will surely recover. However, the LORD has showed me that he will in fact die."

2Ki 8:11 Then he stared him down until Hazael became ill at ease. The man of God wept,

2Ki 8:12 and Hazael asked, "Why are you weeping, my lord?" Elisha replied, "Because I know the evil that you will inflict upon the Israelites. You will burn their fortresses, you will slay their youth with the sword, you will dash their little children to pieces, you will rip open their pregnant women."

2Ki 8:13 Hazael exclaimed, "How can a dog like me, your servant, do anything so important?" "The LORD has showed you to me as king over Aram," replied Elisha.

2Ki 8:14 Hazael left Elisha and returned to his master. "What did Elisha tell you?" asked Ben-hadad. "He told me that you would surely recover," replied Hazael.

2Ki 8:15 The next day, however, Hazael took a cloth, dipped it in water, and spread it over the king's face, so that he died. And Hazael reigned in his stead.

2Ki 8:16 In the fifth year of Joram, son of Ahab, king of Israel, Jehoram, son of Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, became king.

2Ki 8:17 He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

2Ki 8:18 He conducted himself like the kings of Israel of the line of Ahab, since the sister of Ahab was his wife; and he did evil in the LORD'S sight.

2Ki 8:19 Even so, the LORD was unwilling to destroy Judah, because of his servant David. For he had promised David that he would leave him a lamp in the LORD'S presence for all time.

2Ki 8:20 During Jehoram's reign, Edom revolted against the sovereignty of Judah and chose a king of its own.

2Ki 8:21 Thereupon Jehoram with all his chariots crossed over to Zair. He arose by night and broke through the Edomites when they had surrounded him and the commanders of his chariots. Then his army fled homeward.

2Ki 8:22 To this day Edom has been in revolt against the rule of Judah. Libnah also revolted at that time.

2Ki 8:23 The rest of the acts of Jehoram, with all that he did, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 8:24 Jehoram rested with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Ahaziah succeeded him as king.

2Ki 8:25 Ahaziah, son of Jehoram, king of Judah, became king in the twelfth year of Joram, son of Ahab, king of Israel.

2Ki 8:26 He was twenty-two years old when he began his reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Athaliah; she was daughter of Omri, king of Israel.

2Ki 8:27 He conducted himself like the house of Ahab, doing evil in the LORD'S sight as they did, since he was related to them by marriage.

2Ki 8:28 He joined Joram, son of Ahab, in battle against Hazael, king of Aram, at Ramoth-gilead, where the Arameans wounded Joram.

2Ki 8:29 King Joram returned to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds which the Arameans had inflicted on him at Ramah in his battle against Hazael, king of Aram. Then Ahaziah, son of Jehoram, king of Judah, went down to Jezreel to visit him there in his illness.

2Ki 9:1 The prophet Elisha called one of the guild prophets and said to him: "Gird your loins, take this flask of oil with you, and go to Ramoth-gilead.

2Ki 9:2 When you get there, look for Jehu, son of Jehoshaphat, son of Nimshi. Enter and take him away from his companions into an inner chamber.

2Ki 9:3 From the flask you have, pour oil on his head, and say, 'Thus says the LORD: I anoint you king over Israel.' Then open the door and flee without delay."

2Ki 9:4 The young man (the guild prophet) went to Ramoth-gilead.

2Ki 9:5 When he arrived, the commanders of the army were in session. "I have a message for you, commander," he said. "For which one of us?" asked Jehu. "For you, commander," he answered.

2Ki 9:6 Jehu got up and went into the house. Then the young man poured the oil on his head and said, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'I anoint you king over the people of the LORD, over Israel.

2Ki 9:7 You shall destroy the house of Ahab your master; thus will I avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the other servants of the LORD shed by Jezebel, 2Ki 9:8 and by all the rest of the family of Ahab. I will cut off every male in Ahab's line, whether slave or freeman in Israel.

2Ki 9:9 I will deal with the house of Ahab as I dealt with the house of Jeroboam, son of Nebat, and with the house of Baasha, son of Ahijah.

2Ki 9:10 Dogs shall devour Jezebel at the confines of Jezreel, so that no one can bury her.'" Then he opened the door and fled.

2Ki 9:11 When Jehu rejoined his master's servants, they asked him, "Is all well? Why did that madman come to you?" You know that kind of man and his talk, he replied.

2Ki 9:12 But they said, "Not at all! Come, tell us." So he told them what the young man had said to him, and finally, "Thus says the LORD: 'I anoint you king over Israel.'"

2Ki 9:13 At once each took his garment, spread it under Jehu on the bare steps, blew the trumpet, and cried out, "Jehu is king!"

2Ki 9:14 Thus Jehu, son of Jehoshaphat, son of Nimshi, formed a conspiracy against Joram. Joram, with all Israel, had been besieging Ramoth-gilead against Hazael, king of Aram,

2Ki 9:15 but had returned to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds the Arameans had inflicted on him in the battle against Hazael, king of Aram. "If you are truly with me," Jehu said, "see that no one escapes from the city to report in Jezreel."

2Ki 9:16 Then Jehu mounted his chariot and drove to Jezreel, where Joram lay ill and Ahaziah, king of Judah, had come to visit him.

2Ki 9:17 The watchman standing on the tower in Jezreel saw the troop of Jehu coming and reported, "I see chariots." "Get a driver," Joram said, "and send him to meet them and to ask whether all is well."

2Ki 9:18 So a driver went out to meet him and said, "The king asks whether all is well." "What does it matter to you how things are?" Jehu said. "Get behind me." The watchman reported to the king, "The messenger has reached them, but is not returning."

2Ki 9:19 Joram sent a second driver, who went to them and said, "The king asks whether all is well." "What does it matter to you how things are?" Jehu replied. "Get behind me."

2Ki 9:20 The watchman reported, "The messenger has reached them, but is not returning. The driving is like that of Jehu, son of Nimshi, in its fury."

2Ki 9:21 "Prepare my chariot," said Joram. When they had done so, Joram, king of Israel, and Ahaziah, king of Judah, set out, each in his own chariot, to meet Jehu. They reached him near the field of Naboth the Jezreelite.

2Ki 9:22 When Joram recognized Jehu, he asked, "Is all well, Jehu?" "How can all be well," Jehu replied, "as long as the many fornications and witchcrafts of your mother Jezebel continue?"

2Ki 9:23 Joram reined about and fled, crying to Ahaziah, "Treason, Ahaziah!"

2Ki 9:24 But Jehu drew his bow and shot Joram between the shoulders, so that the arrow went through his heart and he collapsed in his chariot.

2Ki 9:25 Then Jehu said to his adjutant Bidkar, "Take him and throw him into the field of Naboth the Jezreelite. For I remember that when we were driving teams behind his father Ahab, the LORD delivered this oracle against him:

2Ki 9:26 'As surely as I saw yesterday the blood of Naboth and the blood of his sons,' says the LORD, 'I will repay you for it in that very plot of ground, says the LORD.' So now take him into this plot of ground, in keeping with the word of the LORD."

2Ki 9:27 Seeing what was happening, Ahaziah, king of Judah, fled toward Beth-haggan. Jehu pursued him, shouting, "Kill him too!" And they pierced him as he rode through the pass of Gur near Ibleam. He continued his flight as far as Megiddo and died there.

2Ki 9:28 His servants brought him in a chariot to Jerusalem and buried him in the tomb of his ancestors in the City of David.

2Ki 9:29 Ahaziah had become king of Judah in the eleventh year of Joram, son of Ahab.

2Ki 9:30 When Jezebel learned that Jehu had arrived in Jezreel, she shadowed her eyes, adorned her hair, and looked down from her window.

2Ki 9:31 As Jehu came through the gate, she cried out, "Is all well, Zimri, murderer of your master?"

2Ki 9:32 Jehu looked up to the window and shouted, "Who is on my side? Anyone?" At this, two or three eunuchs looked down toward him.

2Ki 9:33 "Throw her down," he ordered. They threw her down, and some of her blood spurted against the wall and against the horses. Jehu rode in over her body

2Ki 9:34 and, after eating and drinking, he said: "Attend to that accursed woman and bury her; after all, she was a king's daughter."

2Ki 9:35 But when they went to bury her, they found nothing of her but the skull, the feet, and the hands.

2Ki 9:36 They returned to Jehu, and when they told him, he said, "This is the sentence which the LORD pronounced through his servant Elijah the Tishbite: 'In the confines of Jezreel dogs shall eat the flesh of Jezebel. 2Ki 9:37 The corpse of Jezebel shall be like dung in the field in the confines of Jezreel, so that no one can say: This was Jezebel.'"

2Ki 10:1 Ahab had seventy descendants in Samaria. Jehu prepared letters and sent them to the city rulers, to the elders, and to the guardians of Ahab's descendants in Samaria.

2Ki 10:2 "Since your master's sons are with you," he wrote, "and you have the chariots, the horses, a fortified city, and the weapons, when this letter reaches you

2Ki 10:3 decide which is the best and the fittest of your master's offspring, place him on his father's throne, and fight for your master's house."

2Ki 10:4 They were overcome with fright and said, "If two kings could not withstand him, how can we?"

2Ki 10:5 So the vizier and the ruler of the city, along with the elders and the guardians, sent this message to Jehu: "We are your servants, and we will do everything you tell us. We will proclaim no one king; do whatever you think best."

2Ki 10:6 So Jehu wrote them a second letter: "If you are on my side and will obey me, count the heads of your master's sons and come to me in Jezreel at this time tomorrow." (The seventy princes were in the care of prominent men of the city, who were rearing them.)

2Ki 10:7 When the letter arrived, they took the princes and slew all seventy of them, put their heads in baskets, and sent them to Jehu in Jezreel.

2Ki 10:8 "They have brought the heads of the princes," a messenger came in and told him. "Pile them in two heaps at the entrance of the city until morning," he ordered.

2Ki 10:9 Going out in the morning, he stopped and said to all the people: "You are not responsible, and although I conspired against my lord and slew him, yet who killed all these?"

2Ki 10:10 Know that not a single word which the LORD has spoken against the house of Ahab shall go unfulfilled. The LORD has accomplished all that he foretold through his servant Elijah."

2Ki 10:11 Thereupon Jehu slew all who were left of the family of Ahab in Jezreel, as well as all his powerful supporters, intimates, and priests, leaving him no survivor.

2Ki 10:12 Then he set out for Samaria, and at Beth-eked-haroim on the way,

2Ki 10:13 he came across kinsmen of Ahaziah, king of Judah. "Who are you?" he asked. "We are kinsmen of Ahaziah," they replied. "We are going down to visit the princes and the family of the queen mother."

2Ki 10:14 "Take them alive," Jehu ordered. They were taken alive, forty-two in number, then slain at the pit of Beth-eked. Not one of them was spared.

2Ki 10:15 When he had left there, Jehu met Jehonadab, son of Rechab, on the road. He greeted him and asked, "Are you sincerely disposed toward me, as I am toward you?" "Yes," replied Jehonadab. "If you are," continued Jehu, "give me your hand." Jehonadab gave him his hand, and Jehu drew him up into his chariot.

2Ki 10:16 "Come with me," he said, "and see my zeal for the LORD." And he took him along in his own chariot.

2Ki 10:17 When he arrived in Samaria, Jehu slew all who remained there of Ahab's line, doing away with them completely and thus fulfilling the prophecy which the LORD had spoken to Elijah.

2Ki 10:18 Jehu gathered all the people together and said to them: "Ahab served Baal to some extent, but Jehu will serve him yet more.

2Ki 10:19 Now summon for me all Baal's prophets, all his worshipers, and all his priests. See that no one is absent, for I have a great sacrifice for Baal. Whoever is absent shall not live." This Jehu did as a ruse, so that he might destroy the worshipers of Baal.

2Ki 10:20 Jehu said further, "Proclaim a solemn assembly in honor of Baal." They did so, 2Ki 10:21 and Jehu sent word of it throughout the land of Israel. All the worshipers of Baal without exception came into the temple of Baal, which was filled to capacity.

2Ki 10:22 Then Jehu said to the custodian of the wardrobe, "Bring out the garments for all the worshipers of Baal." When he had brought out the garments for them,

2Ki 10:23 Jehu, with Jehonadab, son of Rechab, entered the temple of Baal and said to the worshipers of Baal, "Search and be sure that there is no worshiper of the LORD here with you, but only worshipers of Baal."

2Ki 10:24 Then they proceeded to offer sacrifices and holocausts. Now Jehu had stationed eighty men outside with this warning, "If one of you lets anyone escape of those whom I shall deliver into your hands, he shall pay life for life."

2Ki 10:25 As soon as he finished offering the holocaust, Jehu said to the guards and officers, "Go in and slay them. Let no one escape." So the guards and officers put them to the sword and cast them out. Afterward they went into the inner shrine of the temple of Baal,

2Ki 10:26 took out the stele of Baal, and burned the shrine.

2Ki 10:27 Then they smashed the stele of Baal, tore down the building, and turned it into a latrine, as it remains today.

2Ki 10:28 Thus Jehu rooted out the worship of Baal from Israel.

2Ki 10:29 However, he did not desist from the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit, as regards the golden calves at Bethel and at Dan.

2Ki 10:30 The LORD said to Jehu, "Because you have done well what I deem right, and have treated the house of Ahab as I desire, your sons to the fourth generation shall sit upon the throne of Israel."

2Ki 10:31 But Jehu was not careful to observe wholeheartedly the law of the LORD, the God of Israel, since he did not desist from the sins which Jeroboam caused Israel to commit.

2Ki 10:32 At that time the LORD began to dismember Israel. Hazael defeated the Israelites throughout their territory

2Ki 10:33 east of the Jordan (all the land of Gilead, of the Gadites, Reubenites and Manassehites), from Aroer on the river Arnon up through Gilead and Bashan.

2Ki 10:34 The rest of the acts of Jehu, his valor and all his accomplishments, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 10:35 Jehu rested with his ancestors and was buried in Samaria. His son Jehoahaz succeeded him as king.

2Ki 10:36 The length of Jehu's reign over Israel in Samaria was twenty-eight years.

2Ki 11:1 When Athaliah, the mother of Ahaziah, saw that her son was dead, she began to kill off the whole royal family.

2Ki 11:2 But Jehosheba, daughter of King Jehoram and sister of Ahaziah, took Joash, his son, and spirited him away, along with his nurse, from the bedroom where the princes were about to be slain. She concealed him from Athaliah, and so he did not die.

2Ki 11:3 For six years he remained hidden in the temple of the LORD, while Athaliah ruled the land.

2Ki 11:4 But in the seventh year, Jehoiada summoned the captains of the Carians and of the guards. He had them come to him in the temple of the LORD, exacted from them a sworn commitment, and then showed them the king's son.

2Ki 11:5 He gave them these orders: "This is what you must do: the third of you who come on duty on the sabbath shall guard the king's palace;

2Ki 11:6 another third shall be at the gate Sur; and the last third shall be at the gate behind the guards.

2Ki 11:7 The two of your divisions who are going off duty that week shall keep guard over the temple of the LORD for the king.

2Ki 11:8 You shall surround the king, each with drawn weapons, and if anyone tries to approach the cordon, kill him; stay with the king, whatever he may do."

2Ki 11:9 The captains did just as Jehoiada the priest commanded. Each one with his men, both those going on duty for the sabbath and those going off duty that week, came to Jehoiada the priest.

2Ki 11:10 He gave the captains King David's spears and shields, which were in the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 11:11 And the guards, with drawn weapons, lined up from the southern to the northern limit of the enclosure, surrounding the altar and the temple on the king's behalf.

2Ki 11:12 Then Jehoiada led out the king's son and put the crown and the insignia upon him. They proclaimed him king and anointed him, clapping their hands and shouting, "Long live the king!"

2Ki 11:13 Athaliah heard the noise made by the people, and appeared before them in the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 11:14 When she saw the king standing by the pillar, as was the custom, and the captains and trumpeters near him, with all the people of the land rejoicing and blowing trumpets, she tore her garments and cried out, "Treason, treason!"

2Ki 11:15 Then Jehoiada the priest instructed the captains in command of the force: "Bring her outside through the ranks. If anyone follows her," he added, "let him die by the sword." He had given orders that she should not be slain in the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 11:16 She was led out forcibly to the horse gate of the royal palace, where she was put to death.

2Ki 11:17 Then Jehoiada made a covenant between the LORD as one party and the king and the people as the other, by which they would be the LORD'S people; and another covenant, between the king and the people.

2Ki 11:18 Thereupon all the people of the land went to the temple of Baal and demolished it. They shattered its altars and images completely, and slew Mattan, the priest of Baal, before the altars. After appointing a detachment for the temple of the LORD, Jehoiada

2Ki 11:19 with the captains, the Carians, the guards, and all the people of the land, led the king down from the temple of the LORD through the guards' gate to the palace, where Joash took his seat on the royal throne.

2Ki 11:20 All the people of the land rejoiced and the city was quiet, now that Athaliah had been slain with the sword at the royal palace.

2Ki 12:1 Joash was seven years old when he became king.

2Ki 12:2 Joash began to reign in the seventh year of Jehu, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother, who was named Zibiah, was from Beer-sheba.

2Ki 12:3 Joash did what was pleasing to the LORD as long as he lived, because the priest Jehoiada guided him.

2Ki 12:4 Still, the high places did not disappear; the people continued to sacrifice and to burn incense there.

2Ki 12:5 For the priests Joash made this rule: "All the funds for sacred purposes that are brought to the temple of the LORD-- the census tax, personal redemption money, and whatever funds are freely brought to the temple of the LORD--

2Ki 12:6 the priests may take for themselves, each from his own clients. However, they must make whatever repairs on the temple may prove necessary."

2Ki 12:7 Nevertheless, as late as the twenty-third year of the reign of King Joash, the priests had not made needed repairs on the temple.

2Ki 12:8 Accordingly, King Joash summoned the priest Jehoiada and the other priests. "Why do you not repair the temple?" he asked them. "You must no longer take funds from your clients, but you shall turn them over for the repairs."

2Ki 12:9 So the priests agreed that they would neither take funds from the people nor make the repairs on the temple.

2Ki 12:10 The priest Jehoiada then took a chest, bored a hole in its lid, and set it beside the stele, on the right as one entered the temple of the LORD. The priests who guarded the entry would put into it all the funds that were brought to the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 12:11 When they noticed that there was a large amount of silver in the chest, the royal scribe (and the priest) would come up, and they would melt down all the funds that were in the temple of the LORD, and weigh them.

2Ki 12:12 The amount thus realized they turned over to the master workmen in the temple of the LORD. They in turn would give it to the carpenters and builders working in the temple of the LORD,

2Ki 12:13 and to the lumbermen and stone cutters, and for the purchase of the wood and hewn stone used in repairing the breaches, and for any other expenses that were necessary to repair the temple.

2Ki 12:14 None of the funds brought to the temple of the LORD were used there to make silver cups, snuffers, basins, trumpets, or any gold or silver article.

2Ki 12:15 Instead, they were given to the workmen, and with them they repaired the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 12:16 Moreover, no reckoning was asked of the men who were provided with the funds to give to the workmen, because they held positions of trust.

2Ki 12:17 The funds from guilt-offerings and from sin-offerings, however, were not brought to the temple of the LORD; they belonged to the priests.

2Ki 12:18 Then King Hazael of Aram mounted a siege against Gath. When he had taken it, Hazael decided to go on to attack Jerusalem.

2Ki 12:19 But King Jehoash of Judah took all the dedicated offerings presented by his forebears, Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah, kings of Judah, as well as his own, and all the gold there was in the treasuries of the temple and the palace, and sent them to King Hazael of Aram, who then led his forces away from Jerusalem.

2Ki 12:20 The rest of the acts of Joash, with all that he did, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 12:21 Certain of his officials entered into a plot against him and killed him at Beth-millo.

2Ki 12:22 Jozacar, son of Shimeath, and Jehozabad, son of Shomer, were the officials who killed him. He was buried in his forefathers' City of David, and his son Amaziah succeeded him as king.

2Ki 13:1 In the twenty-third year of Joash, son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, began his seventeen-year reign over Israel in Samaria.

2Ki 13:2 He did evil in the LORD'S sight, conducting himself like Jeroboam, son of Nebat, and not renouncing the sin he had caused Israel to commit.

2Ki 13:3 The LORD was angry with Israel and for a long time left them in the power of Hazael, king of Aram, and of Ben-hadad, son of Hazael.

2Ki 13:4 Then Jehoahaz entreated the LORD, who heard him, since he saw the oppression to which the king of Aram had subjected Israel.

2Ki 13:5 So the LORD gave Israel a savior, and the Israelites, freed from the power of Aram, dwelt in their own homes as formerly.

2Ki 13:6 Nevertheless, they did not desist from the sins which the house of Jeroboam had caused Israel to commit, but persisted in them. The sacred pole also remained standing in Samaria.

2Ki 13:7 No soldiers were left to Jehoahaz, except fifty horsemen with ten chariots and ten thousand foot soldiers, since the king of Aram had destroyed them and trampled them like dust.

2Ki 13:8 The rest of the acts of Jehoahaz, with all his valor and accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 13:9 Jehoahaz rested with his ancestors and was buried in Samaria. His son Joash succeeded him as king.

2Ki 13:10 In the thirty-seventh year of Joash, king of Judah, Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz, began his sixteen-year reign over Israel in Samaria.

2Ki 13:11 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not desist from any of the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit, but persisted in them.

2Ki 13:12 (The rest of the acts of Joash, the valor with which he fought against Amaziah, king of Judah, and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 13:13 Joash rested with his ancestors, and Jeroboam occupied the throne. Joash was buried with the kings of Israel in Samaria.)

2Ki 13:14 When Elisha was suffering from the sickness of which he was to die, King Joash of Israel went down to visit him. "My father, my father!" he exclaimed, weeping over him. "Israel's chariots and horsemen!"

2Ki 13:15 "Take a bow and some arrows," Elisha said to him. When he had done so,

2Ki 13:16 Elisha said to the king of Israel, "Put your hand on the bow." As the king held the bow, Elisha placed his hands over the king's hands

2Ki 13:17 and said, "Open the window toward the east." He opened it. Elisha said, "Shoot," and he shot. The prophet exclaimed, "The LORD'S arrow of victory! The arrow of victory over Aram! You will completely conquer Aram at Aphec."

2Ki 13:18 Then he said to the king of Israel, "Take the arrows," which he did. Elisha said to him, "Strike the ground!" He struck the ground three times and stopped.

2Ki 13:19 Angry with him, the man of God said: "You should have struck five or six times; you would have defeated Aram completely. Now, you will defeat Aram only three times."

2Ki 13:20 Elisha died and was buried. At the time, bands of Moabites used to raid the land each year.

2Ki 13:21 Once some people were burying a man, when suddenly they spied such a raiding band. So they cast the dead man into the grave of Elisha, and everyone went off. But when the man came in contact with the bones of Elisha, he came back to life and rose to his feet.

2Ki 13:22 King Hazael of Aram oppressed Israel during the entire reign of Jehoahaz.

2Ki 13:23 But the LORD was merciful with Israel and looked on them with compassion because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He was unwilling to destroy them or to cast them out from his presence.

2Ki 13:24 So when King Hazael of Aram died and his son Ben-hadad succeeded him as king, 2Ki 13:25 Joash, son of Jehoahaz, took back from Ben-hadad, son of Hazael, the cities which Hazael had taken in battle from his father Jehoahaz. Joash defeated Ben-hadad three times, and thus recovered the cities of Israel.

2Ki 14:1 In the second year of Joash, son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel, Amaziah, son of Joash, king of Judah, began to reign.

2Ki 14:2 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother, whose name was Jehoaddin, was from Jerusalem.

2Ki 14:3 He pleased the LORD, yet not like his forefather David, since he did just as his father Joash had done.

2Ki 14:4 Thus the high places did not disappear, but the people continued to sacrifice and to burn incense on them.

2Ki 14:5 When Amaziah had the kingdom firmly in hand, he slew the officials who had murdered the king, his father.

2Ki 14:6 But the children of the murderers he did not put to death, obeying the LORD'S command written in the book of the law of Moses, "Fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor shall children be put to death for their fathers; each one shall die for his own sin."

2Ki 14:7 Amaziah slew ten thousand Edomites in the Salt Valley, and took Sela in battle. He renamed it Joktheel, the name it has to this day.

2Ki 14:8 Then Amaziah sent messengers to Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, king of Israel, with this challenge, "Come, let us meet face to face."

2Ki 14:9 King Jehoash of Israel sent this reply to the king of Judah: "The thistle of Lebanon sent word to the cedar of Lebanon, 'Give your daughter to my son in marriage,' but an animal of Lebanon passed by and trampled the thistle underfoot.

2Ki 14:10 You have indeed conquered Edom, and you have become ambitious. Enjoy your glory, but stay at home! Why involve yourself and Judah with you in misfortune and failure?"

2Ki 14:11 But Amaziah would not listen. King Jehoash of Israel then advanced, and he and King Amaziah of Judah met in battle at Beth-shemesh of Judah.

2Ki 14:12 Judah was defeated by Israel, and all the Judean soldiery fled homeward.

2Ki 14:13 King Jehoash of Israel captured Amaziah, son of Jehoash, son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, at Beth-shemesh. He went on to Jerusalem where he tore down four hundred cubits of the city wall, from the Gate of Ephraim to the Corner Gate.

2Ki 14:14 He took all the gold and silver and all the utensils there were in the temple of the LORD and the treasuries of the palace, and hostages as well. Then he returned to Samaria.

2Ki 14:15 The rest of the acts of Jehoash, his valor, and how he fought Amaziah, king of Judah, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 14:16 Jehoash rested with his ancestors; he was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. His son Jeroboam succeeded him as king.

2Ki 14:17 Amaziah, son of Joash, king of Judah, survived Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel, by fifteen years.

2Ki 14:18 The rest of the acts of Amaziah are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 14:19 When a conspiracy was formed against him in Jerusalem, he fled to Lachish. But he was pursued to Lachish and killed there.

2Ki 14:20 He was brought back on horses and buried with his ancestors in the City of David in Jerusalem.

2Ki 14:21 Thereupon all the people of Judah took the sixteen-year-old Azariah and proclaimed him king to succeed his father Amaziah.

2Ki 14:22 It was Azariah who rebuilt Elath and restored it to Judah, after King Amaziah rested with his ancestors.

2Ki 14:23 In the fifteenth year of Amaziah, son of Joash, king of Judah, Jeroboam, son of Joash, king of Israel, began his forty-one-year reign in Samaria.

2Ki 14:24 He did evil in the sight of the LORD; he did not desist from any of the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit.

2Ki 14:25 He restored the boundaries of Israel from Labo-of-Hamath to the sea of the Arabah, just as the LORD, the God of Israel, had prophesied through his servant, the prophet Jonah, son of Amittai, from Gath-hepher.

2Ki 14:26 For the LORD saw the very bitter affliction of Israel, where there was neither slave nor freeman, no one at all to help Israel.

2Ki 14:27 Since the LORD had not determined to blot out the name of Israel from under the heavens, he saved them through Jeroboam, son of Joash.

2Ki 14:28 The rest of the acts of Jeroboam, his valor and all his accomplishments, how he fought with Damascus and turned back Hamath from Israel, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 14:29 Jeroboam rested with his ancestors, the kings of Israel, and his son Zechariah succeeded him as king.

2Ki 15:1 Azariah, son of Amaziah, king of Judah, became king in the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam, king of Israel.

2Ki 15:2 He was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother, whose name was Jeholiah, was from Jerusalem.

2Ki 15:3 He pleased the LORD just as his father Amaziah had done.

2Ki 15:4 Yet the high places did not disappear; the people continued to sacrifice and to burn incense on them.

2Ki 15:5 The LORD afflicted the king, and he was a leper to the day of his death. He lived in a house apart, while Jotham, the king's son, was vizier and regent for the people of the land.

2Ki 15:6 The rest of the acts of Azariah, and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 15:7 Azariah rested with his ancestors, and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Jotham succeeded him as king.

2Ki 15:8 In the thirty-eighth year of Azariah, king of Judah, Zechariah, son of Jeroboam, was king of Israel in Samaria for six months.

2Ki 15:9 He did evil in the sight of the LORD as his fathers had done, and did not desist from the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit.

2Ki 15:10 Shallum, son of Jabesh, conspired against Zechariah, attacked and killed him at Ibleam, and reigned in his place.

2Ki 15:11 The rest of the acts of Zechariah are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 15:12 Thus the LORD'S promise to Jehu, "Your descendants to the fourth generation shall sit upon the throne of Israel," was fulfilled.

2Ki 15:13 Shallum, son of Jabesh, became king in the thirty-ninth year of Uzziah, king of Judah; he reigned one month in Samaria.

2Ki 15:14 Menahem, son of Gadi, came up from Tirzah to Samaria, where he attacked and killed Shallum, son of Jabesh, and reigned in his place.

2Ki 15:15 The rest of the acts of Shallum, and the fact of his conspiracy, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 15:16 At that time, Menahem punished Tappuah, all the inhabitants of the town and of its whole district, because on his way from Tirzah they did not let him in. He punished them even to ripping open all the pregnant women.

2Ki 15:17 In the thirty-ninth year of Azariah, king of Judah, Menahem, son of Gadi, began his ten-year reign over Samaria.

2Ki 15:18 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, not desisting from the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit. During his reign,

2Ki 15:19 Pul, king of Assyria, invaded the land, and Menahem gave him a thousand talents of silver to have his assistance in strengthening his hold on the kingdom.

2Ki 15:20 Menahem secured the money to give to the king of Assyria by exacting it from all the men of substance in the country, fifty silver shekels from each. The king of Assyria did not remain in the country but withdrew.

2Ki 15:21 The rest of the acts of Menahem, and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 15:22 Menahem rested with his ancestors, and his son Pekahiah succeeded him as king.

2Ki 15:23 In the fiftieth year of Azariah, king of Judah, Pekahiah, son of Menahem, began his two-year reign over Israel in Samaria.

2Ki 15:24 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, not desisting from the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit.

2Ki 15:25 His adjutant Pekah, son of Remaliah, who had with him fifty men from Gilead, conspired against him, killed him within the palace stronghold in Samaria, and reigned in his place.

2Ki 15:26 The rest of the acts of Pekahiah, and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 15:27 In the fifty-second year of Azariah, king of Judah, Pekah, son of Remaliah, began his twenty-year reign over Israel in Samaria.

2Ki 15:28 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, not desisting from the sins which Jeroboam, son of Nebat, had caused Israel to commit.

2Ki 15:29 During the reign of Pekah, king of Israel, Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria, came and took Ijon, Abel-beth-maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, all the territory of Naphtali, Gilead, and Galilee, deporting the inhabitants to Assyria.

2Ki 15:30 Hoshea, son of Elah, conspired against Pekah, son of Remaliah; he attacked and killed him, and reigned in his place (in the twentieth year of Jotham, son of Uzziah).

2Ki 15:31 The rest of the acts of Pekah, and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ki 15:32 In the second year of Pekah, son of Remaliah, king of Israel, Jotham, son of Uzziah, king of Judah, began to reign.

2Ki 15:33 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jerusha, daughter of Zadok.

2Ki 15:34 He pleased the LORD, just as his father Uzziah had done.

2Ki 15:35 Nevertheless the high places did not disappear and the people continued to sacrifice and to burn incense on them. It was he who built the Upper Gate of the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 15:36 The rest of the acts of Jotham, and all his accomplishments, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 15:37 It was at that time that the LORD first loosed Rezin, king of Aram, and Pekah, son of Remaliah, against Judah.

2Ki 15:38 Jotham rested with his ancestors and was buried with them in his forefather's City of David. His son Ahaz succeeded him as king.

2Ki 16:1 In the seventeenth year of Pekah, son of Remaliah, Ahaz, son of Jotham, king of Judah, began to reign.

2Ki 16:2 Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. He did not please the LORD, his God, like his forefather David,

2Ki 16:3 but conducted himself like the kings of Israel, and even immolated his son by fire, in accordance with the abominable practice of the nations whom the LORD had cleared out of the way of the Israelites.

2Ki 16:4 Further, he sacrificed and burned incense on the high places, on hills, and under every leafy tree.

2Ki 16:5 Then Rezin, king of Aram, and Pekah, son of Remaliah, king of Israel, came up to Jerusalem to attack it. Although they besieged Ahaz, they were unable to conquer him.

2Ki 16:6 At the same time the king of Edom recovered Elath for Edom, driving the Judeans out of it. The Edomites then entered Elath, which they have occupied until the present.

2Ki 16:7 Meanwhile, Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria, with the plea: "I am your servant and your son. Come up and rescue me from the clutches of the king of Aram and the king of Israel, who are attacking me."

2Ki 16:8 Ahaz took the silver and gold that were in the temple of the LORD and in the palace treasuries and sent them as a present to the king of Assyria, 2Ki 16:9 who listened to him and moved against Damascus, which he captured. He deported its inhabitants to Kir and put Rezin to death.

2Ki 16:10 King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria. When he saw the altar in Damascus, King Ahaz sent to Uriah the priest a model of the altar and a detailed design of its construction.

2Ki 16:11 Uriah the priest built an altar according to the plans which King Ahaz sent him from Damascus, and had it completed by the time the king returned home.

2Ki 16:12 On his arrival from Damascus, the king inspected this altar, then went up to it and offered sacrifice on it, 2Ki 16:13 burning his holocaust and cereal-offering, pouring out his libation, and sprinkling the blood of his peace-offerings on the altar.

2Ki 16:14 The bronze altar that stood before the LORD he brought from the front of the temple-- that is, from the space between the new altar and the temple of the LORD-- and set it on the north side of his altar.

2Ki 16:15 "Upon the large altar," King Ahaz commanded Uriah the priest, "burn the morning holocaust and the evening cereal offering, the royal holocaust and cereal offering, as well as the holocausts, cereal offerings, and libations of the people. You must also sprinkle on it all the blood of holocausts and sacrifices. But the old bronze altar shall be mine for consultation."

2Ki 16:16 Uriah the priest did just as King Ahaz had commanded.

2Ki 16:17 King Ahaz detached the frames from the bases and removed the lavers from them; he also took down the bronze sea from the bronze oxen that supported it, and set it on a stone pavement.

2Ki 16:18 In deference to the king of Assyria he removed from the temple of the LORD the emplacement which had been built in the temple for a throne, and the outer entrance for the king.

2Ki 16:19 The rest of the acts of Ahaz are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 16:20 Ahaz rested with his ancestors and was buried with them in the City of David. His son Hezekiah succeeded him as king.

2Ki 17:1 In the twelfth year of Ahaz, king of Judah, Hoshea, son of Elah, began his nine-year reign over Israel in Samaria.

2Ki 17:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, yet not to the extent of the kings of Israel before him.

2Ki 17:3 Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, advanced against him, and Hoshea became his vassal and paid him tribute.

2Ki 17:4 But the king of Assyria found Hoshea guilty of conspiracy for sending envoys to the king of Egypt at Sais, and for failure to pay the annual tribute to his Assyrian overlord.

2Ki 17:5 For this, the king of Assyria arrested and imprisoned Hoshea; he then occupied the whole land and attacked Samaria, which he besieged for three years.

2Ki 17:6 In the ninth year of Hoshea, the king of Assyria took Samaria, and deported the Israelites to Assyria, settling them in Halah, at the Habor, a river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

2Ki 17:7 This came about because the Israelites sinned against the LORD, their God, who had brought them up from the land of Egypt, from under the domination of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and because they venerated other gods.

2Ki 17:8 They followed the rites of the nations whom the LORD had cleared out of the way of the Israelites (and the kings of Israel whom they set up).

2Ki 17:9 They adopted unlawful practices toward the LORD, their God. They built high places in all their settlements, the watchtowers as well as the walled cities.

2Ki 17:10 They set up pillars and sacred poles for themselves on every high hill and under every leafy tree.

2Ki 17:11 There, on all the high places, they burned incense like the nations whom the LORD had sent into exile at their coming. They did evil things that provoked the LORD,

2Ki 17:12 and served idols, although the LORD had told them, "You must not do this."

2Ki 17:13 And though the LORD warned Israel and Judah by every prophet and seer, "Give up your evil ways and keep my commandments and statutes, in accordance with the entire law which I enjoined on your fathers and which I sent you by my servants the prophets,"

2Ki 17:14 they did not listen, but were as stiff-necked as their fathers, who had not believed in the LORD, their God.

2Ki 17:15 They rejected his statutes, the covenant which he had made with their fathers, and the warnings which he had given them. The vanity they pursued, they themselves became: they followed the surrounding nations whom the LORD had commanded them not to imitate.

2Ki 17:16 They disregarded all the commandments of the LORD, their God, and made for themselves two molten calves; they also made a sacred pole and worshiped all the host of heaven, and served Baal.

2Ki 17:17 They immolated their sons and daughters by fire, practiced fortune-telling and divination, and sold themselves into evil doing in the LORD'S sight, provoking him

2Ki 17:18 till, in his great anger against Israel, the LORD put them away out of his sight. Only the tribe of Judah was left.

2Ki 17:19 Even the people of Judah, however, did not keep the commandments of the LORD, their God, but followed the rites practiced by Israel.

2Ki 17:20 So the LORD rejected the whole race of Israel. He afflicted them and delivered them over to plunderers, finally casting them out from before him.

2Ki 17:21 When he tore Israel away from the house of David, they made Jeroboam, son of Nebat, king; he drove the Israelites away from the LORD, causing them to commit a great sin.

2Ki 17:22 The Israelites imitated Jeroboam in all the sins he committed, nor would they desist from them.

2Ki 17:23 Finally, the LORD put Israel away out of his sight as he had foretold through all his servants, the prophets; and Israel went into exile from their native soil to Assyria, an exile lasting to the present.

2Ki 17:24 The king of Assyria brought people from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath, and Sepharvaim, and settled them in the cities of Samaria in place of the Israelites. They took possession of Samaria and dwelt in its cities.

2Ki 17:25 When they first settled there, they did not venerate the LORD, so he sent lions among them that killed some of their number.

2Ki 17:26 A report reached the king of Assyria: "The nations whom you deported and settled in the cities of Samaria do not know how to worship the God of the land, and he has sent lions among them that are killing them, since they do not know how to worship the God of the land."

2Ki 17:27 The king of Assyria gave the order, "Send back one of the priests whom I deported, to go there and settle, to teach them how to worship the God of the land."

2Ki 17:28 So one of the priests who had been deported from Samaria returned and settled in Bethel, and taught them how to venerate the LORD.

2Ki 17:29 But these peoples began to make their own gods in the various cities in which they were living; in the shrines on the high places which the Samaritans had made, each people set up gods.

2Ki 17:30 Thus the Babylonians made Marduk and his consort; the men of Cuth made Nergal; the men of Hamath made Ashima;

2Ki 17:31 the men of Avva made Nibhaz and Tartak; and the men of Sepharvaim immolated their children by fire to their city gods, King Hadad and his consort Anath.

2Ki 17:32 They also venerated the LORD, choosing from their number priests for the high places, who officiated for them in the shrines on the high places.

2Ki 17:33 But, while venerating the LORD, they served their own gods, following the worship of the nations from among whom they had been deported.

2Ki 17:34 To this day they worship according to their ancient rites. (They did not venerate the LORD nor observe the statutes and regulations, the law and commandments, which the LORD enjoined on the descendants of Jacob, whom he had named Israel.)

2Ki 17:35 When he made a covenant with them, he commanded them: "You must not venerate other gods, nor worship them, nor serve them, nor offer sacrifice to them.

2Ki 17:36 The LORD, who brought you up from the land of Egypt with great power and outstretched arm: him shall you venerate, him shall you worship, and to him shall you sacrifice.

2Ki 17:37 You must be careful to observe forever the statutes and regulations, the law and commandment, which he wrote for you, and you must not venerate other gods.

2Ki 17:38 The covenant which I made with you, you must not forget; you must not venerate other gods.

2Ki 17:39 But the LORD, your God, you must venerate; it is he who will deliver you from the power of all your enemies."

2Ki 17:40 They did not listen, however, but continued in their earlier manner.)

2Ki 17:41 Thus these nations venerated the LORD, but also served their idols. And their sons and grandsons, to this day, are doing as their fathers did.

2Ki 18:1 In the third year of Hoshea, son of Elah, king of Israel, Hezekiah, son of Ahaz, king of Judah, began to reign.

2Ki 18:2 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abi, daughter of Zechariah.

2Ki 18:3 He pleased the LORD, just as his forefather David had done.

2Ki 18:4 It was he who removed the high places, shattered the pillars, and cut down the sacred poles. He smashed the bronze serpent called Nehushtan which Moses had made, because up to that time the Israelites were burning incense to it.

2Ki 18:5 He put his trust in the LORD, the God of Israel; and neither before him nor after him was there anyone like him among all the kings of Judah.

2Ki 18:6 Loyal to the LORD, Hezekiah never turned away from him, but observed the commandments which the LORD had given Moses.

2Ki 18:7 The LORD was with him, and he prospered in all that he set out to do. He rebelled against the king of Assyria and did not serve him.

2Ki 18:8 He also subjugated the watchtowers and walled cities of the Philistines, all the way to Gaza and its territory.

2Ki 18:9 In the fourth year of King Hezekiah, which was the seventh year of Hoshea, son of Elah, king of Israel, Shalmaneser, king of Assyria, attacked Samaria, laid siege to it, 2Ki 18:10 and after three years captured it. In the sixth year of Hezekiah, the ninth year of Hoshea, king of Israel, Samaria was taken.

2Ki 18:11 The king of Assyria then deported the Israelites to Assyria and settled them in Halah, at the Habor, a river of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

2Ki 18:12 This came about because they had not heeded the warning of the LORD, their God, but violated his covenant, not heeding and not fulfilling the commandments of Moses, the servant of the LORD.

2Ki 18:13 In the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib, king of Assyria, went on an expedition against all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

2Ki 18:14 Hezekiah, king of Judah, sent this message to the king of Assyria at Lachish: "I have done wrong. Leave me, and I will pay whatever tribute you impose on me." The king of Assyria exacted three hundred talents of silver and thirty talents of gold from Hezekiah, king of Judah.

2Ki 18:15 Hezekiah paid him all the funds there were in the temple of the LORD and in the palace treasuries.

2Ki 18:16 He broke up the door panels and the uprights of the temple of the LORD which he himself had ordered to be overlaid with gold, and gave the gold to the king of Assyria.

2Ki 18:17 The king of Assyria sent the general, the lord chamberlain, and the commander from Lachish with a great army to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem. They went up, and on their arrival in Jerusalem, stopped at the conduit of the upper pool on the highway of the fuller's field.

2Ki 18:18 They called for the king, who sent out to them Eliakim, son of Hilkiyah, the master of the palace; Shebna the scribe; and the herald Joah, son of Asaph.

2Ki 18:19 The commander said to them, "Tell Hezekiah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: On what do you base this confidence of yours?

2Ki 18:20 Do you think mere words substitute for strategy and might in war? On whom, then, do you rely, that you rebel against me?

2Ki 18:21 This Egypt, the staff on which you rely, is in fact a broken reed which pierces the hand of anyone who leans on it. That is what Pharaoh, king of Egypt, is to all who rely on him.

2Ki 18:22 But if you say to me, We rely on the LORD, our God, is not he the one whose high places and altars Hezekiah has removed, commanding Judah and Jerusalem to worship before this altar in Jerusalem?"

2Ki 18:23 "Now, make a wager with my lord, the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses if you can put riders on them.

2Ki 18:24 How then can you repulse even one of the least servants of my lord, relying as you do on Egypt for chariots and horsemen?

2Ki 18:25 Was it without the LORD'S will that I have come up to destroy this place? The LORD said to me, 'Go up and destroy that land!'"

2Ki 18:26 Then Eliakim, son of Hilkiyah, and Shebna and Joah said to the commander: "Please speak to your servants in Aramaic; we understand it. Do not speak to us in Judean within earshot of the people who are on the wall."

2Ki 18:27 But the commander replied: "Was it to your master and to you that my lord sent me to speak these words? Was it not rather to the men sitting on the wall, who, with you, will have to eat their own excrement and drink their urine?"

2Ki 18:28 Then the commander stepped forward and cried out in a loud voice in Judean, "Listen to the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

2Ki 18:29 Thus says the king: 'Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, since he cannot deliver you out of my hand.

2Ki 18:30 Let not Hezekiah induce you to rely on the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely save us; this city will not be handed over to the king of Assyria.

2Ki 18:31 Do not listen to Hezekiah, for the king of Assyria says: Make peace with me and surrender! Then each of you will eat of his own vine and of his own fig-tree, and drink the water of his own cistern, 2Ki 18:32 until I come to take you to a land like your own, a land of grain and wine, of bread and orchards, of olives, oil and fruit syrup. Choose life, not death. Do not listen to Hezekiah when he would seduce you by saying, The LORD will rescue us.

2Ki 18:33 Has any of the gods of the nations ever rescued his land from the hand of the king of Assyria?

2Ki 18:34 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Avva? Where are the gods of the land of Samaria?

2Ki 18:35 Which of the gods for all these lands ever rescued his land from my hand? Will the LORD then rescue Jerusalem from my hand?"

2Ki 18:36 But the people remained silent and did not answer him one word, for the king had ordered them not to answer him.

2Ki 18:37 Then the master of the palace, Eliakim, son of Hilkiyah, Shebna the scribe, and the herald Joah, son of Asaph, came to Hezekiah with their garments torn, and reported to him what the commander had said.

2Ki 19:1 When King Hezekiah heard this, he tore his garments, wrapped himself in sackcloth, and went into the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 19:2 He sent Eliakim, the master of the palace, Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, wrapped in sackcloth, to tell the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, 2Ki 19:3 "Thus says Hezekiah: 'This is a day of distress, of rebuke, and of disgrace. Children are at the point of birth, but there is no strength to bring them forth.

2Ki 19:4 Perhaps the LORD, your God, will hear all the words of the commander, whom his master, the king of Assyria, sent to taunt the living God, and will rebuke him for the words which the LORD, your God, has heard. So send up a prayer for the remnant that is here.'"

2Ki 19:5 When the servants of King Hezekiah had come to Isaiah,

2Ki 19:6 he said to them, "Tell this to your master: 'Thus says the LORD: Do not be frightened by the words you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

2Ki 19:7 I am about to put in him such a spirit that, when he hears a certain report, he will return to his own land, and there I will cause him to fall by the sword.'"

2Ki 19:8 When the commander, on his return, heard that the king of Assyria had withdrawn from Lachish, he found him besieging Libnah.

2Ki 19:9 The king of Assyria heard a report that Tirhakah, king of Ethiopia, had come out to fight against him. Again he sent envoys to Hezekiah with this message:

2Ki 19:10 "Thus shall you say to Hezekiah, king of Judah: 'Do not let your God on whom you rely deceive you by saying that Jerusalem will not be handed over to the king of Assyria.

2Ki 19:11 You have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all other countries: they doomed them! Will you, then, be saved?

2Ki 19:12 Did the gods of the nations whom my fathers destroyed save them? Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, or the Edenites in Telassar?

2Ki 19:13 Where are the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, or the kings of the cities Sepharvaim, Hena and Avva?"

2Ki 19:14 Hezekiah took the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it; then he went up to the temple of the LORD, and spreading it out before him,

2Ki 19:15 he prayed in the LORD'S presence: "O LORD, God of Israel, enthroned upon the cherubim! You alone are God over all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made the heavens and the earth.

2Ki 19:16 Incline your ear, O LORD, and listen! Open your eyes, O LORD, and see! Hear the words of Sennacherib which he sent to taunt the living God.

2Ki 19:17 Truly, O LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste the nations and their lands, 2Ki 19:18 and cast their gods into the fire; they destroyed them because they were not gods, but the work of human hands, wood and stone.

2Ki 19:19 Therefore, O LORD, our God, save us from the power of this man, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you alone, O LORD, are God."

2Ki 19:20 Then Isaiah, son of Amoz, sent this message to Hezekiah: "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, in answer to your prayer for help against Sennacherib, king of Assyria: I have listened!

2Ki 19:21 This is the word the LORD has spoken concerning him: " 'She despises you, laughs you to scorn, the virgin daughter Zion! Behind you she wags her head, daughter Jerusalem.

2Ki 19:22 Whom have you insulted and blasphemed, against whom have you raised your voice? And lifted up your eyes on high? Against the Holy One of Israel!

2Ki 19:23 Through your servants you have insulted the LORD. You said: With my many chariots I climbed the mountain heights, the recesses of Lebanon; I cut down its lofty cedars, its choice cypresses; I reached the remotest heights, its forest park.

2Ki 19:24 I dug wells and drank water in foreign lands; I dried up with the soles of my feet all the rivers of Egypt.

2Ki 19:25 " 'Have you not heard? Long ago I prepared it, From days of old I planned it. Now I have brought it to pass: That you should reduce fortified cities into heaps of ruins, 2Ki 19:26 While their inhabitants, shorn of power, are dismayed and ashamed, Becoming like the plants of the field, like the green growth, like the scorched grass on the housetops.

2Ki 19:27 I am aware whether you stand or sit; I know whether you come or go, 2Ki 19:28 and also your rage against me. Because of your rage against me and your fury which has reached my ears, I will put my hook in your nose and my bit in your mouth, and make you return the way you came.

2Ki 19:29 " 'This shall be a sign for you: this year you shall eat the aftergrowth, next year, what grows of itself; But in the third year, sow and reap, plant vineyards and eat their fruit!

2Ki 19:30 The remaining survivors of the house of Judah shall again strike root below and bear fruit above.

2Ki 19:31 For out of Jerusalem shall come a remnant, and from Mount Zion, survivors. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.'

2Ki 19:32 "Therefore, thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: 'He shall not reach this city, nor shoot an arrow at it, nor come before it with a shield, nor cast up siege-works against it.

2Ki 19:33 He shall return by the same way he came, without entering the city, says the LORD.

2Ki 19:34 I will shield and save this city for my own sake, and for the sake of my servant David.'"

2Ki 19:35 That night the angel of the LORD went forth and struck down one hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. Early the next morning, there they were, all the corpses of the dead.

2Ki 19:36 So Sennacherib, the king of Assyria, broke camp, and went back home to Nineveh.

2Ki 19:37 When he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer slew him with the sword and fled into the land of Ararat. His son Esarhaddon reigned in his stead.

2Ki 20:1 In those days, when Hezekiah was mortally ill, the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, came and said to him: "Thus says the LORD: 'Put your house in order, for you are about to die; you shall not recover.'"

2Ki 20:2 He turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD:

2Ki 20:3 "O LORD, remember how faithfully and wholeheartedly I conducted myself in your presence, doing what was pleasing to you!" And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

2Ki 20:4 Before Isaiah had left the central courtyard, the word of the LORD came to him:

2Ki 20:5 "Go back and tell Hezekiah, the leader of my people: 'Thus says the LORD, the God of your forefather David: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears. I will heal you. In three days you shall go up to the LORD'S temple;

2Ki 20:6 I will add fifteen years to your life. I will rescue you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria; I will be a shield to this city for my own sake, and for the sake of my servant David.'"

2Ki 20:7 Isaiah then ordered a poultice of figs to be brought and applied to the boil, that he might recover.

2Ki 20:8 Then Hezekiah asked Isaiah, "What is the sign that the LORD will heal me and that I shall go up to the temple of the LORD on the third day?"

2Ki 20:9 Isaiah replied, "This will be the sign for you from the LORD that he will do what he has promised: Shall the shadow go forward or back ten steps?"

2Ki 20:10 "It is easy for the shadow to advance ten steps," Hezekiah answered. "Rather, let it go back ten steps."

2Ki 20:11 So the prophet Isaiah invoked the LORD, who made the shadow retreat the ten steps it had descended on the staircase to the terrace of Ahaz.

2Ki 20:12 At that time, when Merodachbaladan, son of Baladan, king of Babylon, heard that Hezekiah had been ill, he sent letters and gifts to him.

2Ki 20:13 Hezekiah was pleased at this, and therefore showed the messengers his whole treasury, his silver, gold, spices and fine oil, his armory, and all that was in his storerooms; there was nothing in his house or in all his realm that Hezekiah did not show them.

2Ki 20:14 Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah and asked him: "What did these men say to you? Where did they come from?" "They came from a distant land, from Babylon," replied Hezekiah.

2Ki 20:15 "What did they see in your house?" the prophet asked. "They saw everything in my house," answered Hezekiah. "There is nothing in my storerooms that I did not show them."

2Ki 20:16 Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah: "Hear the word of the LORD:

2Ki 20:17 The time is coming when all that is in your house, and everything that your fathers have stored up until this day, shall be carried off to Babylon; nothing shall be left, says the LORD.

2Ki 20:18 Some of your own bodily descendants shall be taken and made servants in the palace of the king of Babylon."

2Ki 20:19 Hezekiah replied to Isaiah, "The word of the LORD which you have spoken is favorable." For he thought, "There will be peace and security in my lifetime."

2Ki 20:20 The rest of the acts of Hezekiah, all his valor, and his construction of the pool and conduit by which water was brought into the city, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 20:21 Hezekiah rested with his ancestors and his son Manasseh succeeded him as king.

2Ki 21:1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hephzibah.

2Ki 21:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, following the abominable practices of the nations whom the LORD had cleared out of the way of the Israelites.

2Ki 21:3 He rebuilt the high places which his father Hezekiah had destroyed. He erected altars to Baal, and also set up a sacred pole, as Ahab, king of Israel, had done. He worshiped and served the whole host of heaven.

2Ki 21:4 He built altars in the temple of the LORD, about which the LORD had said, "I will establish my name in Jerusalem"--

2Ki 21:5 altars for the whole host of heaven, in the two courts of the temple.

2Ki 21:6 He immolated his son by fire. He practiced soothsaying and divination, and reintroduced the consulting of ghosts and spirits. He did much evil in the LORD'S sight and provoked him to anger.

2Ki 21:7 The Asherah idol he had made, he set up in the temple, of which the LORD had said to David and to his son Solomon: "In this temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I shall place my name forever.

2Ki 21:8 I will not in future allow Israel to be driven off the land I gave their fathers, provided that they are careful to observe all I have commanded them, the entire law which my servant Moses enjoined upon them."

2Ki 21:9 But they did not listen, and Manasseh misled them into doing even greater evil than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed at the coming of the Israelites.

2Ki 21:10 Then the LORD spoke through his servants the prophets:

2Ki 21:11 "Because Manasseh, king of Judah, has practiced these abominations and has done greater evil than all that was done by the Amorites before him, and has led Judah into sin by his idols,

2Ki 21:12 therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'I will bring such evil on Jerusalem and Judah that, whenever anyone hears of it, his ears shall ring.

2Ki 21:13 I will measure Jerusalem with the same cord as I did Samaria, and with the plummet I used for the house of Ahab. I will wipe Jerusalem clean as one wipes a dish, wiping it inside and out.

2Ki 21:14 I will cast off the survivors of my inheritance and deliver them into enemy hands, to become a prey and a booty for all their enemies,

2Ki 21:15 because they have done evil in my sight and provoked me from the day their fathers came forth from Egypt until today."

2Ki 21:16 In addition to the sin which he caused Judah to commit, Manasseh did evil in the sight of the LORD, shedding so much innocent blood as to fill the length and breadth of Jerusalem.

2Ki 21:17 The rest of the acts of Manasseh, the sin he committed and all that he did, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 21:18 Manasseh rested with his ancestors and was buried in his palace garden, the garden of Uzza. His son Amon succeeded him as king.

2Ki 21:19 Amon was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Meshullemeth, daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

2Ki 21:20 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father Manasseh had done.

2Ki 21:21 He followed exactly the path his father had trod, serving and worshiping the idols his father had served.

2Ki 21:22 He abandoned the LORD, the God of his fathers, and did not follow the path of the LORD.

2Ki 21:23 Subjects of Amon conspired against him and slew the king in his palace,
2Ki 21:24 but the people of the land then slew all who had conspired against King Amon, and proclaimed his son Josiah king in his stead.
2Ki 21:25 The rest of the acts that Amon did are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.
2Ki 21:26 He was buried in his own grave in the garden of Uzza, and his son Josiah succeeded him as king.
2Ki 22:1 Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jedidah, daughter of Adaiah of Bozkath.
2Ki 22:2 He pleased the LORD and conducted himself unswervingly just as his ancestor David had done.
2Ki 22:3 In his eighteenth year, King Josiah sent the scribe Shaphan, son of Azaliah, son of Meshullam, to the temple of the LORD with orders to 2Ki 22:4 go to the high priest Hilkiah and have him smelt down the precious metals that had been donated to the temple of the Lord, which the doorkeepers had collected from the people.
2Ki 22:5 They were to be consigned to the master workmen in the temple of the LORD, who should then pay them out to the carpenters, builders, and lumbermen making repairs on the temple,
2Ki 22:6 and for the purchase of wood and hewn stone for the temple repairs.
2Ki 22:7 No reckoning was asked of them regarding the funds consigned to them, because they held positions of trust.
2Ki 22:8 The high priest Hilkiah informed the scribe Shaphan, "I have found the book of the law in the temple of the LORD." Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, who read it.
2Ki 22:9 Then the scribe Shaphan went to the king and reported, "Your servants have smelted down the metals available in the temple and have consigned them to the master workmen in the temple of the LORD."
2Ki 22:10 The scribe Shaphan also informed the king that the priest Hilkiah had given him a book, and then read it aloud to the king.
2Ki 22:11 When the king had heard the contents of the book of the law, he tore his garments
2Ki 22:12 and issued this command to Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam, son of Shaphan, Achbor, son of Micaiah, the scribe Shaphan, and the king's servant Asaiah:
2Ki 22:13 "Go, consult the LORD for me, for the people, for all Judah, about the stipulations of this book that has been found, for the anger of the LORD has been set furiously ablaze against us, because our fathers did not obey the stipulations of this book, nor fulfill our written obligations."
2Ki 22:14 So Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah betook themselves to the Second Quarter in Jerusalem, where the prophetess Huldah resided. She was the wife of Shallum, son of Tikvah, son of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe. When they had spoken to her,
2Ki 22:15 she said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Say to the man who sent you to me,
2Ki 22:16 Thus says the LORD: I will bring upon this place and upon its inhabitants all the evil that is threatened in the book which the king of Judah has read.
2Ki 22:17 Because they have forsaken me and have burned incense to other gods, provoking me by everything to which they turn their hands, my anger is ablaze against this place and it cannot be extinguished.'
2Ki 22:18 "But to the king of Judah who sent you to consult the LORD, give this response: 'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: As for the threats you have heard,
2Ki 22:19 because you were heartsick and have humbled yourself before the LORD when you heard my threats that this place and its inhabitants would become a desolation and a curse; because you tore your garments and wept before me; I in turn have listened, says the LORD.
2Ki 22:20 I will therefore gather you to your ancestors; you shall go to your grave in peace, and your eyes shall not see all the evil I will bring upon this place.'" This they reported to the king.
2Ki 23:1 The king then had all the elders of Judah and of Jerusalem summoned together before him.
2Ki 23:2 The king went up to the temple of the LORD with all the men of Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: priests, prophets, and all the people, small and great. He had the entire contents of the book of the covenant that had been found in the temple of the LORD, read out to them.
2Ki 23:3 Standing by the column, the king made a covenant before the LORD that they would follow him and observe his ordinances, statutes and decrees with their whole hearts and souls, thus reviving the terms of the covenant which were written in this book. And all the people stood as participants in the covenant.
2Ki 23:4 Then the king commanded the high priest Hilkiah, his vicar, and the doorkeepers to remove from the temple of the LORD all the objects that had been made for Baal, Asherah, and the whole host of heaven. He had these burned outside Jerusalem on the slopes of the Kidron and their ashes carried to Bethel.
2Ki 23:5 He also put an end to the pseudo-priests whom the kings of Judah had appointed to burn incense on the high places in the cities of Judah and in the vicinity of Jerusalem, as well as those who burned incense to Baal, to the sun, moon, and signs of the Zodiac, and to the whole host of heaven.
2Ki 23:6 From the temple of the LORD he also removed the sacred pole, to the Kidron Valley, outside Jerusalem; there he had it burned and beaten to dust, which was then scattered over the common graveyard.

2Ki 23:7 He tore down the apartments of the cult prostitutes which were in the temple of the LORD, and in which the women wove garments for the Asherah.

2Ki 23:8 He brought in all the priests from the cities of Judah, and then defiled, from Geba to Beer-sheba, the high places where they had offered incense. He also tore down the high place of the satyrs, which was at the entrance of the Gate of Joshua, governor of the city, to the left as one enters the city gate.

2Ki 23:9 The priests of the high places could not function at the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem; but they, along with their relatives, ate the unleavened bread.

2Ki 23:10 The king also defiled Topheth in the Valley of Ben-hinnom, so that there would no longer be an immolation of sons or daughters by fire in honor of Molech.

2Ki 23:11 He did away with the horses which the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun; these were at the entrance of the temple of the LORD, near the chamber of Nathan-melech the eunuch, which was in the large building. The chariots of the sun he destroyed by fire.

2Ki 23:12 He also demolished the altars made by the kings of Judah on the roof (the roof terrace of Ahaz), and the altars made by Manasseh in the two courts of the temple of the LORD. He pulverized them and threw the dust into the Kidron Valley.

2Ki 23:13 The king defiled the high places east of Jerusalem, south of the Mount of Misconduct, which Solomon, king of Israel, had built in honor of Astarte, the Sidonian horror, of Chemosh, the Moabite horror, and of Milcom, the idol of the Ammonites.

2Ki 23:14 He broke to pieces the pillars, cut down the sacred poles, and filled the places where they had been with human bones.

2Ki 23:15 Likewise the altar which was at Bethel, the high place built by Jeroboam, son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin-- this same altar and high place he tore down, breaking up the stones and grinding them to powder, and burning the Asherah.

2Ki 23:16 When Josiah turned and saw the graves there on the mountainside, he ordered the bones taken from the graves and burned on the altar, and thus defiled it in fulfillment of the word of the LORD which the man of God had proclaimed as Jeroboam was standing by the altar on the feast day. When the king looked up and saw the grave of the man of God who had proclaimed these words,

2Ki 23:17 he asked, "What is that tombstone I see?" The men of the city replied, "It is the grave of the man of God who came from Judah and predicted the very things you have done to the altar of Bethel."

2Ki 23:18 "Let him be," he said, "let no one move his bones." So they left his bones undisturbed together with the bones of the prophet who had come from Samaria.

2Ki 23:19 Josiah also removed all the shrines on the high places near the cities of Samaria which the kings of Israel had erected, thereby provoking the LORD; he did the very same to them as he had done in Bethel.

2Ki 23:20 He slaughtered upon the altars all the priests of the high places that were at the shrines, and burned human bones upon them. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

2Ki 23:21 The king issued a command to all the people to observe the Passover of the LORD, their God, as it was prescribed in that book of the covenant.

2Ki 23:22 No Passover such as this had been observed during the period when the Judges ruled Israel, or during the entire period of the kings of Israel and the kings of Judah, 2Ki 23:23 until the eighteenth year of king Josiah, when this Passover of the LORD was kept in Jerusalem.

2Ki 23:24 Further, Josiah did away with the consultation of ghosts and spirits, with the household gods, idols, and all the other horrors to be seen in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, so that he might carry out the stipulations of the law written in the book that the priest Hilkiah had found in the temple of the LORD.

2Ki 23:25 Before him there had been no king who turned to the LORD as he did, with his whole heart, his whole soul, and his whole strength, in accord with the entire law of Moses; nor could any after him compare with him.

2Ki 23:26 Yet, because of all the provocations that Manasseh had given, the LORD did not desist from his fiercely burning anger against Judah.

2Ki 23:27 The LORD said: "Even Judah will I put out of my sight as I did Israel. I will reject this city, Jerusalem, which I chose, and the temple of which I said, 'There shall my name be.'"

2Ki 23:28 The rest of the acts of Josiah, with all that he did, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 23:29 In his time Pharaoh Neco, king of Egypt, went up toward the river Euphrates to the king of Assyria. King Josiah set out to confront him, but was slain at Megiddo at the first encounter.

2Ki 23:30 His servants brought his body on a chariot from Megiddo to Jerusalem, where they buried him in his own grave. Then the people of the land took Jehoahaz, son of Josiah, anointed him, and proclaimed him king to succeed his father.

2Ki 23:31 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother, whose name was Hamutal, daughter of Jeremiah, was from Libnah.

2Ki 23:32 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, just as his forebears had done.

2Ki 23:33 Pharaoh Neco took him prisoner at Riblah in the land of Hamath, thus ending his reign in Jerusalem. He imposed a fine upon the land of a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

2Ki 23:34 Pharaoh Neco then appointed Eliakim, son of Josiah, king in place of his father Josiah; he changed his name to Jehoiakim. Jehoahaz he took away with him to Egypt, where he died.

2Ki 23:35 Jehoiakim gave the silver and gold to Pharaoh, but taxed the land to raise the amount Pharaoh demanded. He exacted the silver and gold from the people of the land, from each proportionately, to pay Pharaoh Neco.

2Ki 23:36 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zebidah, daughter of Pedaiah, from Rumah.

2Ki 23:37 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, just as his forebears had done.

2Ki 24:1 During his reign Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, moved against him, and Jehoiakim became his vassal for three years. Then Jehoiakim turned and rebelled against him.

2Ki 24:2 The LORD loosed against him bands of Chaldeans, Arameans, Moabites, and Ammonites; he loosed them against Judah to destroy it, as the LORD had threatened through his servants the prophets.

2Ki 24:3 This befell Judah because the LORD had stated that he would inexorably put them out of his sight for the sins Manasseh had committed in all that he did;

2Ki 24:4 and especially because of the innocent blood he shed, with which he filled Jerusalem, the LORD would not forgive.

2Ki 24:5 The rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, with all that he did, are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

2Ki 24:6 Jehoiakim rested with his ancestors, and his son Jehoiachin succeeded him as king.

2Ki 24:7 The king of Egypt did not again leave his own land, for the king of Babylon had taken all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the Wadi of Egypt to the Euphrates River.

2Ki 24:8 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Nehushta, daughter of Elnathan of Jerusalem.

2Ki 24:9 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, just as his forebears had done.

2Ki 24:10 At that time the officials of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, attacked Jerusalem, and the city came under siege.

2Ki 24:11 Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, himself arrived at the city while his servants were besieging it.

2Ki 24:12 Then Jehoiachin, king of Judah, together with his mother, his ministers, officers, and functionaries, surrendered to the king of Babylon, who, in the eighth year of his reign, took him captive.

2Ki 24:13 He carried off all the treasures of the temple of the LORD and those of the palace, and broke up all the gold utensils that Solomon, king of Israel, had provided in the temple of the LORD, as the LORD had foretold.

2Ki 24:14 He deported all Jerusalem: all the officers and men of the army, ten thousand in number, and all the craftsmen and smiths. None were left among the people of the land except the poor.

2Ki 24:15 He deported Jehoiachin to Babylon, and also led captive from Jerusalem to Babylon the king's mother and wives, his functionaries, and the chief men of the land.

2Ki 24:16 The king of Babylon also led captive to Babylon all seven thousand men of the army, and a thousand craftsmen and smiths, all of them trained soldiers.

2Ki 24:17 In place of Jehoiachin, the king of Babylon appointed his uncle Mattaniah king, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

2Ki 24:18 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal, daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2Ki 24:19 He also did evil in the sight of the LORD, just as Jehoiakim had done.

2Ki 24:20 The LORD'S anger befell Jerusalem and Judah till he cast them out from his presence. Thus Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

2Ki 25:1 In the tenth month of the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and his whole army advanced against Jerusalem, encamped around it, and built siege walls on every side.

2Ki 25:2 The siege of the city continued until the eleventh year of Zedekiah.

2Ki 25:3 On the ninth day of the fourth month, when famine had gripped the city, and the people had no more bread,

2Ki 25:4 the city walls were breached. Then the king and all the soldiers left the city by night through the gate between the two walls which was near the king's garden. Since the Chaldeans had the city surrounded, they went in the direction of the Arabah.

2Ki 25:5 But the Chaldean army pursued the king and overtook him in the desert near Jericho, abandoned by his whole army.

2Ki 25:6 The king was therefore arrested and brought to Riblah to the king of Babylon, who pronounced sentence on him.

2Ki 25:7 He had Zedekiah's sons slain before his eyes. Then he blinded Zedekiah, bound him with fetters, and had him brought to Babylon.

2Ki 25:8 On the seventh day of the fifth month (this was in the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon), Nebuzaradan, captain of the bodyguard, came to Jerusalem as the representative of the king of Babylon.

2Ki 25:9 He burned the house of the LORD, the palace of the king, and all the houses of Jerusalem; every large building was destroyed by fire.

2Ki 25:10 Then the Chaldean troops who were with the captain of the guard tore down the walls that surrounded Jerusalem.

2Ki 25:11 Then Nebuzaradan, captain of the guard, led into exile the last of the people remaining in the city, and those who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the last of the artisans.

2Ki 25:12 But some of the country's poor, Nebuzaradan, captain of the guard, left behind as vinedressers and farmers.

2Ki 25:13 The bronze pillars that belonged to the house of the LORD, and the wheeled carts and the bronze sea in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans broke into pieces; they carried away the bronze to Babylon.

2Ki 25:14 They took also the pots, the shovels, the snuffers, the bowls, the pans and all the bronze vessels used for service.

2Ki 25:15 The fire-holders and the bowls which were of gold or silver the captain of the guard also carried off.

2Ki 25:16 The weight in bronze of the two pillars, the bronze sea, and the wheeled carts, all of them furnishings which Solomon had made for the house of the LORD, was never calculated.

2Ki 25:17 Each of the pillars was eighteen cubits high; a bronze capital five cubits high surmounted each pillar, and a network with pomegranates encircled the capital, all of bronze; and so for the other pillar, as regards the network.

2Ki 25:18 The captain of the guard also took Seraiah the high priest, Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the entry.

2Ki 25:19 And from the city he took one courtier, a commander of soldiers, five men in the personal service of the king who were still in the city, the scribe of the army commander, who mustered the people of the land, and sixty of the common people still remaining in the city.

2Ki 25:20 The captain of the guard, Nebuzaradan, arrested these and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah;

2Ki 25:21 the king had them struck down and put to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath. Thus was Judah exiled from her land.

2Ki 25:22 As for the people whom he had allowed to remain in the land of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, appointed as their governor Gedaliah, son of Ahikam, son of Shaphan.

2Ki 25:23 Hearing that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah governor, all the army commanders with their men came to him at Mizpah: Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, Johanan, son of Kareah, Seraiah, son of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah, from Beth-maacah.

2Ki 25:24 Gedaliah gave the commanders and their men his oath. "Do not be afraid of the Chaldean officials," he said to them. "Remain in the country and serve the king of Babylon, and all will be well with you."

2Ki 25:25 But in the seventh month Ishmael, son of Nethaniah, son of Elishama, of royal descent, came with ten men, attacked Gedaliah and killed him, along with the Jews and Chaldeans who were in Mizpah with him.

2Ki 25:26 Then all the people, great and small, left with the army commanders and went to Egypt for fear of the Chaldeans.

2Ki 25:27 In the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin, king of Judah, on the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month, Evilmerodach, king of Babylon, in the inaugural year of his own reign, raised up Jehoiachin, king of Judah, from prison.

2Ki 25:28 He spoke kindly to him and gave him a throne higher than that of the other kings who were with him in Babylon.

2Ki 25:29 Jehoiachin took off his prison garb and ate at the king's table as long as he lived.

2Ki 25:30 The allowance granted him by the king was a perpetual allowance, in fixed daily amounts, for as long as he lived.

1Ch 1:41 The sons of Anah: Dishon. The sons of Dishon were Hemdan, Eshban, Ithran, and Cheran.
1Ch 1:42 The sons of Ezer were Bilhan, Zaavan, and Jaakan. The sons of Dishan were Uz and Aran.
1Ch 1:43 The kings who reigned in the land of Edom before they had Israelite kings were the following: Bela, son of Beor, the name of whose city was Dinhabah.
1Ch 1:44 When Bela died, Jobab, son of Zerah, from Bozrah, succeeded him.
1Ch 1:45 When Jobab died, Husham, from the land of the Temanites, succeeded him.
1Ch 1:46 Husham died and Hadad, son of Bedad, succeeded him. He overthrew the Midianites on the Moabite plateau, and the name of his city was Avith.
1Ch 1:47 Hadad died and Samlah of Masrekah succeeded him.
1Ch 1:48 Samlah died and Shaul from Rehoboth-han-nahar succeeded him.
1Ch 1:49 When Shaul died, Baal-hanan, son of Achbor, succeeded him.
1Ch 1:50 Baalhanan died and Hadad succeeded him. The name of his city was Pai, and his wife's name was Mehetabel. She was the daughter of Matred, who was the daughter of Mezahab.
1Ch 1:51 After Hadad died.... These were the chiefs of Edom: the chiefs of Timna, Aliah, Jetheth,
1Ch 1:52 Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon,
1Ch 1:53 Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar,
1Ch 1:54 Magdiel, and Iram were the chiefs of Edom.
1Ch 2:1 These were the sons of Israel: Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Zebulun, 1Ch 2:2 Dan, Joseph, Benjamin, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.
1Ch 2:3 The sons of Judah were: Er, Onan, and Shelah; these three were born to him of Bathshua, a Canaanite woman. But Judah's first-born, Er, was wicked in the sight of the LORD, so he killed him.

1Ch 2:4 Judah's daughter-in-law Tamar bore him Perez and Zerah, so that he had five sons in all.

1Ch 2:5 The sons of Perez were Hezron and Hamul.

1Ch 2:6 The sons of Zerah were Zimri, Ethan, Heman, Calcol, and Darda-- five in all.

1Ch 2:7 The sons of Zimri: Carmi. The sons of Carmi: Achar, who brought trouble upon Israel by violating the ban.

1Ch 2:8 The sons of Ethan: Azariah.

1Ch 2:9 The sons born to Hezron were Jerahmeel, Ram, and Chelubai.

1Ch 2:10 Ram became the father of Amminadab, and Amminadab became the father of Nahshon, a prince of the Judahites.

1Ch 2:11 Nahshon became the father of Salmah. Salmah became the father of Boaz.

1Ch 2:12 Boaz became the father of Obed. Obed became the father of Jesse.

1Ch 2:13 Jesse became the father of Eliab, his first-born, of Abinadab, the second son, Shimea, the third,

1Ch 2:14 Nethanel, the fourth, Raddai, the fifth,

1Ch 2:15 Ozem, the sixth, and David, the seventh.

1Ch 2:16 Their sisters were Zeruiah and Abigail. Zeruiah had three sons: Abishai, Joab, and Asahel.

1Ch 2:17 Abigail bore Amasa, whose father was Jether the Ishmaelite.

1Ch 2:18 By his wife Azubah, Caleb, son of Hezron, became the father of a daughter, Jerioth. Her sons were Jeshur, Shobab, and Ardon.

1Ch 2:19 When Azubah died, Caleb married Ephrath, who bore him Hur.

1Ch 2:20 Hur became the father of Uri, and Uri became the father of Bezalel.

1Ch 2:21 Then Hezron had relations with the daughter of Machir, the father of Gilead, having married her when he was sixty years old. She bore him Segub.

1Ch 2:22 Segub became the father of Jair, who possessed twenty-three cities in the land of Gilead.

1Ch 2:23 Geshur and Aram took from them the villages of Jair, that is, Kenath and its towns, sixty cities in all, which had belonged to the sons of Machir, the father of Gilead.

1Ch 2:24 After the death of Hezron, Caleb had relations with Ephrathah, the widow of his father Hezron, and she bore him Ashhur, the father of Tekoa.

1Ch 2:25 The sons of Jerahmeel, the first-born of Hezron, were Ram, the first-born, then Bunah, Oren, and Ozem, his brothers.

1Ch 2:26 Jerahmeel also had another wife, Atarah by name, who was the mother of Onam.

1Ch 2:27 The sons of Ram, the first-born of Jerahmeel, were Maaz, Jamin, and Eker.

1Ch 2:28 The sons of Onam were Shammai and Jada. The sons of Shammai were Nadab and Abishur.

1Ch 2:29 Abishur's wife, who was named Abihail, bore him Ahban and Molid.

1Ch 2:30 The sons of Nadab were Seled and Appaim. Seled died without sons.

1Ch 2:31 The sons of Appaim: Ishi. The sons of Ishi: Sheshan. The sons of Sheshan: Ahlai.

1Ch 2:32 The sons of Jada, the brother of Shammai, were Jether and Jonathan. Jether died without sons.

1Ch 2:33 The sons of Jonathan were Peleth and Zaza. These were the descendants of Jerahmeel.

1Ch 2:34 Sheshan, who had no sons, only daughters, had an Egyptian slave named Jarha.

1Ch 2:35 Sheshan gave his daughter in marriage to his slave Jarha, and she bore him Attai.

1Ch 2:36 Attai became the father of Nathan. Nathan became the father of Zabad.

1Ch 2:37 Zabad became the father of Ephlal. Ephlal became the father of Obed.

1Ch 2:38 Obed became the father of Jehu. Jehu became the father of Azariah.

1Ch 2:39 Azariah became the father of Helez. Helez became the father of Eleasah.

1Ch 2:40 Eleasah became the father of Sismai. Sismai became the father of Shallum.

1Ch 2:41 Shallum became the father of Jekamiah. Jekamiah became the father of Elishama.

1Ch 2:42 The descendants of Caleb, the brother of Jerahmeel: (Meshah) his first-born, who was the father of Ziph. Then the sons of Mareshah, who was the father of Hebron.

1Ch 2:43 The sons of Hebron were Korah, Tappuah, Rekem, and Shema.

1Ch 2:44 Shema became the father of Raham, who was the father of Jorkeam. Rekem became the father of Shammai.

1Ch 2:45 The son of Shammai: Maon, who was the father of Beth-zur.

1Ch 2:47 The sons of Jahdai were Regem, Jotham, Geshan, Pelet, Ephah, and Shaaph.

1Ch 2:48 Maacah, Caleb's concubine, bore Sheber and Tirhanah.

1Ch 2:49 She also bore Shaaph, the father of Madmannah, Sheva, the father of Machbenah, and the father of Gibeon. Achsah was Caleb's daughter.

1Ch 2:50 These were descendants of Caleb, sons of Hur, the first-born of Ephrathah: Shobal, the father of Kiriath-jearim, 1Ch 2:51 Salma, the father of Bethlehem, and Hareph, the father of Bethgader.

1Ch 2:52 The sons of Shobal, the father of Kiriath-jearim, were Reaiah, half the Manahathites, 1Ch 2:53 and the clans of Kiriath-jearim: the Ithrites, the Puthites, the Shumathites, and the Mishraitites. From these the people of Zorah and the Eshtaolites derived.

1Ch 2:54 The descendants of Salma were Bethlehem, the Netophathites, Atroth-beth-Joab, half the Manahathites, and the Zorites.

1Ch 2:55 The clans of the Sopherim dwelling in Jabez were the Tirathites, the Shimeathites, and the Sucathites. They were the Kenites, who came from Hammath of the ancestor of the Rechabites.

1Ch 3:1 The following were the sons of David who were born to him in Hebron: the first-born, Amnon, by Ahinoam of Jezreel; the second, Daniel, by Abigail of Carmel;

1Ch 3:2 the third, Absalom, son of Maacah, who was the daughter of Talmi, king of Geshur; the fourth, Adonijah, son of Haggith;

1Ch 3:3 the fifth, Shephatiah, by Abital; the sixth, Ithream, by his wife Eglah.

1Ch 3:4 Six in all were born to him in Hebron, where he reigned seven years and six months. Then he reigned thirty-three years in Jerusalem,

1Ch 3:5 where the following were born to him: Shimea, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon-- four by Bathsheba, the daughter of Ammiel;

1Ch 3:6 Ibhar, Elishua, Eliphelet,

1Ch 3:7 Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,

1Ch 3:8 Elishama, Eliada, and Eliphelet-- nine.

1Ch 3:9 All these were sons of David, in addition to other sons by concubines; and Tamar was their sister.

1Ch 3:10 The son of Solomon was Rehoboam, whose son was Abijah, whose son was Asa, whose son was Jehoshaphat,

1Ch 3:11 whose son was Joram, whose son was Ahaziah, whose son was Joash,

1Ch 3:12 whose son was Amaziah, whose son was Azariah, whose son was Jotham,

1Ch 3:13 whose son was Ahaz, whose son was Hezekiah, whose son was Manasseh, 1Ch 3:14 whose son was Amon, whose son was Josiah.

1Ch 3:15 The sons of Josiah were: the first-born Johanan; the second, Jehoiakim; the third, Zedekiah; the fourth, Shallum.

1Ch 3:16 The sons of Jehoiakim were: Jeconiah, his son; Zedekiah, his son.

1Ch 3:17 The sons of Jeconiah the captive were: Shealtiel, 1Ch 3:18 Malchiram, Pedaiiah, Shenazzar, Jekamiah, Shama, and Nedabiah.

1Ch 3:19 The sons of Pedaiiah were Zerubbabel and Shimei. The sons of Zerubbabel were Meshullam and Hananiah; Shelomith was their sister.

1Ch 3:20 The sons of Meshullam were Hashubah, Ohel, Berechiah, Hasadiah, Jushabhesed-- five.

1Ch 3:21 The sons of Hananiah were Pelatiah, Jeshaiiah, Rephaiah, Arnan, Obadiah, and Shecaniah.

1Ch 3:22 The sons of Shecaniah were Shemiah, Hattush, Igal, Bariah, Neariah, Shaphat-- six.

1Ch 3:23 The sons of Neariah were Elioenai, Hizkiah, and Azrikam-- three.

1Ch 3:24 The sons of Elioenai were Hodaviah, Eliashib, Pelaiah, Akkub, Johanan, Delaiah, and Anani-- seven.

1Ch 4:1 The descendants of Judah were: Perez, Hezron, Carmi, Hur, and Shobal.

1Ch 4:2 Reaiah, the son of Shobal, became the father of Jahath, and Jahath became the father of Ahumai and Lahad. These were the clans of the Zorathites.

1Ch 4:3 These were the descendants of Hareph, the father of Etam: Jezreel, Ishma, and Idbash; their sister was named Hazzelelponi.

1Ch 4:4 Penuel was the father of Gedor, and Ezer the father of Hushah. These were the descendants of Hur, the first-born of Ephrathah, the father of Bethlehem.

1Ch 4:5 Ashhur, the father of Tekoa, had two wives, Helah and Naarah.

1Ch 4:6 Naarah bore him Ahuzzam, Hopher, the Temenites and the Ahashtarites. These were the descendants of Naarah.

1Ch 4:7 The sons of Helah were Zereth, Izhar, Ethnan, and Koz.

1Ch 4:8 Koz became the father of Anub and Zobebah, as well as of the clans of Aharhel, son of Harum.

1Ch 4:9 Jabez was the most distinguished of the brothers. His mother had named him Jabez, saying, "I bore him with pain."

1Ch 4:10 Jabez prayed to the God of Israel: "Oh, that you may truly bless me and extend my boundaries! Help me and make me free of misfortune, without pain!" And God granted his prayer.

1Ch 4:11 Chelub, the brother of Shuhah, became the father of Mehir, who was the father of Eshton.

1Ch 4:12 Eshton became the father of Bethrapha, Paseah, and Tehinnah, the father of the city of Nahash. These were the men of Recah.

1Ch 4:13 The sons of Kenaz were Othniel and Seraiah. The sons of Othniel were Hathath and Meonothai;

1Ch 4:14 Meonothai became the father of Ophrah. Seraiah became the father of Joab, the father of Geharashim, so called because they were craftsmen.

1Ch 4:15 The sons of Caleb, son of Jephunneh, were Ir, Elah, and Naam. The sons of Elah were... and Kenaz.

1Ch 4:16 The sons of Jehallelel were Ziph, Ziphah, Tiria, and Asarel.

1Ch 4:17 The sons of Ezrah were Jether, Mered, Epher, and Jalon. Jether became the father of Miriam, Shammai, and Ishbah, the father of Eshtemoa. (.....)

1Ch 4:18 His (Mered's) Egyptian wife bore Jered, the father of Gedor, Heber, the father of Soco, and Jekuthiel, the father of Zanoah. These were the sons of Bithiah, the daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered married.

1Ch 4:19 The sons of his Jewish wife, the sister of Naham, the father of Keilah, were Shimon the Garmite and Ishi the Maacathite.

1Ch 4:20 The sons of Shimon were Amnon, Rinnah, Benhanan, and Tilon. The son of Ishi was Zoheth and the son of Zoheth....

1Ch 4:21 The descendants of Shelah, son of Judah, were: Er, the father of Lecah; Laadah, the father of Mareshah; the clans of the linen weavers' guild in Bethashbea;

1Ch 4:22 Jokim; the men of Cozeba; and Joash and Saraph, who held property in Moab, but returned to Bethlehem. (These are events of old.)

1Ch 4:23 They were potters and inhabitants of Netaim and Gederah, where they lived in the king's service.

1Ch 4:24 The sons of Simeon were Nemuel, Jamin, Jachin, Zerah, and Shaul, 1Ch 4:25 whose son was Shallum, whose son was Mibsam, whose son was Mishma.

1Ch 4:26 The descendants of Mishma were his son Hammuel, whose son was Zaccur, whose son was Shimei.

1Ch 4:27 Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters. His brothers, however, did not have many sons, and as a result all their clans did not equal the number of the Judahites.

1Ch 4:28 They dwelt in Beer-sheba, Moladah, Hazar-shual,

1Ch 4:29 Bilhah, Ezem, Tolad,

1Ch 4:30 Bethuel, Hormah, Ziklag,

1Ch 4:31 Beth-marcaboth, Hazar-susim, Bethbiri, and Shaaraim. Until David came to reign, these were their cities

1Ch 4:32 and their villages. Etam, also, and Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan-- five cities, 1Ch 4:33 together with all their outlying villages as far as Baal. Here is where they dwelt, and so it was inscribed of them in their family records.

1Ch 4:34 Meshobab, Jamlech, Joshah, son of Amaziah,

1Ch 4:35 Joel, Jehu, son of Joshibiah, son of Seraiah, son of Asiel,

1Ch 4:36 Elioenai, Jaakobath, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, Benaiah,

1Ch 4:37 Ziza, son of Shiphi, son of Allon, son of Jedaiah, son of Shimri, son of Shemaiah--

1Ch 4:38 these just named were princes in their clans, and their ancestral houses spread out to such an extent

1Ch 4:39 that they went to the approaches of Gedor, east of the valley, seeking pasture for their flocks.

1Ch 4:40 They found abundant and good pastures, and the land was spacious, quiet, and peaceful.

1Ch 4:41 They who have just been listed by name set out during the reign of Hezekiah, king of Judah, and attacked the tents of Ham (for Hamites dwelt there formerly) and also the Meunites who were there. They pronounced against them the ban that is still in force and dwelt in their place because they found pasture there for their flocks.

1Ch 4:42 Five hundred of them (the Simeonites) went to Mount Seir under the leadership of Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, sons of Ishi.

1Ch 4:43 They attacked the surviving Amalekites who had escaped, and have resided there to the present day.

1Ch 5:1 The sons of Reuben, the first-born of Israel. (He was indeed the first-born, but because he disgraced the couch of his father his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph, son of Israel, so that he is not listed in the family records according to birthright.

1Ch 5:2 Judah, in fact, became powerful among his brothers, so that the ruler came from him, though the birthright had been Joseph's.)

1Ch 5:3 The sons of Reuben, the first-born of Israel, were Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

1Ch 5:4 His son was Joel, whose son was Shemaiah, whose son was Gog, whose son was Shimei,

1Ch 5:5 whose son was Micah, whose son was Reaiah, whose son was Baal,

1Ch 5:6 whose son was Beerah, whom Tiglath-pileser, the king of Assyria, took into exile; he was a prince of the Reubenites.

1Ch 5:7 His brothers who belonged to his clans, when they were listed in the family records according to their descendants, were: Jeiel, the chief, and Zechariah,

1Ch 5:8 and Bela, son of Azaz, son of Shema, son of Joel. The Reubenites lived in Aroer and as far as Nebo and Baal-meon;

1Ch 5:9 toward the east they dwelt as far as the desert which extends from the Euphrates River, for they had much livestock in the land of Gilead.

1Ch 5:10 During the reign of Saul they waged war with the Hagarites, and when they had defeated them they occupied their tents throughout the region east of Gilead.

1Ch 5:11 The Gadites lived alongside them in the land of Bashan as far as Salecah.

1Ch 5:12 Joel was chief, Shapham was second in command, and Janai was judge in Bashan.

1Ch 5:13 Their brothers, corresponding to their ancestral houses, were: Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia, and Eber-- seven.

1Ch 5:14 These were the sons of Abihail, son of Huri, son of Jaroah, son of Gilead, son of Michael, son of Jeshishai, son of Jahdo, son of Buz.

1Ch 5:15 Ahi, son of Abdiel, son of Guni, was the head of their ancestral houses.

1Ch 5:16 They dwelt in Gilead, in Bashan and its towns, and in all the pasture lands of Sirion to the borders.

1Ch 5:17 All were listed in the family records in the time of Jotham, king of Judah, and of Jeroboam, king of Israel.

1Ch 5:18 The Reubenites, Gadites, and half-tribe of Manasseh were warriors, men who bore shield and sword and who drew the bow, trained in warfare-- forty-four thousand seven hundred and sixty men fit for military service.

1Ch 5:19 When they waged war against the Hagarites and against Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab, 1Ch 5:20 they received help so that they mastered the Hagarites and all who were with them. For during the battle they called on God, and he heard them because they had put their trust in him.

1Ch 5:21 Along with one hundred thousand men they also captured their livestock: fifty thousand camels, two hundred fifty thousand sheep, and two thousand asses.

1Ch 5:22 Many had fallen in battle, for victory is from God; and they took over their dwelling place until the time of the exile.

1Ch 5:23 The numerous members of the half-tribe of Manasseh lived in the land of Bashan as far as Baal-hermon, Senir, and Mount Hermon.

1Ch 5:24 The following were the heads of their ancestral houses: Epher, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel-- men who were warriors, famous men, and heads over their ancestral houses.

1Ch 5:25 However, they offended the God of their fathers by lusting after the gods of the natives of the land, whom God had cleared out of their way.

1Ch 5:26 Therefore the God of Israel incited against them the anger of Pul, king of Assyria, and of Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria, who deported the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh and brought them to Halah, Habor, and Hara, and to the river Gozan, where they have remained to this day.

1Ch 5:27 The sons of Levi were Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

1Ch 5:28 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

1Ch 5:29 The children of Amram were Aaron, Moses, and Miriam. The sons of Aaron were Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

1Ch 5:30 Eleazar became the father of Phinehas. Phinehas became the father of Abishua.

1Ch 5:31 Abishua became the father of Bukki. Bukki became the father of Uzzi.

1Ch 5:32 Uzzi became the father of Zerariah. Zerariah became the father of Meraioth.

1Ch 5:33 Meraioth became the father of Amariah. Amariah became the father of Ahitub.

1Ch 5:34 Ahitub became the father of Zadok. Zadok became the father of Ahimaaz.

1Ch 5:35 Ahimaaz became the father of Azariah. Azariah became the father of Johanan.

1Ch 5:36 Johanan became the father of Azariah, who served as priest in the temple Solomon built in Jerusalem.

1Ch 5:37 Azariah became the father of Amariah. Amariah became the father of Ahitub.

1Ch 5:38 Ahitub became the father of Zadok. Zadok became the father of Shallum.

1Ch 5:39 Shallum became the father of Hilkiah. Hilkiah became the father of Azariah.

1Ch 5:40 Azariah became the father of Seraiah. Seraiah became the father of Jehozadak.

1Ch 5:41 Jehozadak was one of those who went into the exile which the LORD inflicted on Judah and Jerusalem through Nebuchadnezzar.

1Ch 6:1 The sons of Levi were Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

1Ch 6:2 The sons of Gershon were named Libni and Shimei.

1Ch 6:3 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

1Ch 6:4 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The following were the clans of Levi, distributed according to their ancestors:

1Ch 6:5 of Gershon: his son Libni, whose son was Jahath, whose son was Zimmah, 1Ch 6:6 whose son was Joah, whose son was Iddo, whose son was Zerah, whose son was Jetherai.

1Ch 6:7 The descendants of Kohath were: his son Amminadab, whose son was Korah, whose son was Assir,

1Ch 6:8 whose son was Elkanah, whose son was Ebiasaph, whose son was Assir, 1Ch 6:9 whose son was Tahath, whose son was Uriel, whose son was Uzziel, whose son was Shaul.

1Ch 6:10 The sons of Elkanah were Amasai and Ahimoth,
1Ch 6:11 whose son was Elkanah, whose son was Zophai, whose son was Nahath,
1Ch 6:12 whose son was Eliab, whose son was Jeroham, whose son was Elkanah, whose son was Samuel.
1Ch 6:13 The sons of Samuel were Joel, the first-born, and Abijah, the second.
1Ch 6:14 The descendants of Merari were Mahli, whose son was Libni, whose son was Shimei, whose son was Uzzah, 1Ch 6:15 whose son was Shimea, whose son was Haggiah, whose son was Asaiah.
1Ch 6:16 The following were entrusted by David with the choir services in the LORD'S house from the time when the ark had obtained a permanent resting place.
1Ch 6:17 They served as singers before the Dwelling of the meeting tent until Solomon built the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem, and they performed their services in an order prescribed for them.
1Ch 6:18 Those who so performed are the following, together with their descendants. Among the Kohathites: Heman, the chanter, son of Joel, son of Samuel,
1Ch 6:19 son of Elkanah, son of Jeroham, son of Eliel, son of Toah,
1Ch 6:20 son of Zuth, son of Elkanah, son of Mahath, son of Amasi,
1Ch 6:21 son of Elkanah, son of Joel, son of Azariah, son of Zaphaniah,
1Ch 6:22 son of Tahath, son of Assir, son of Ebiasaph, son of Korah, 1Ch 6:23 son of Izhar, son of Kohath, son of Levi, son of Israel.
1Ch 6:24 His brother Asaph stood at his right hand. Asaph was the son of Berechiah, son of Shimea,
1Ch 6:25 son of Michael, son of Baaseiah, son of Malchijah,
1Ch 6:26 son of Ethni, son of Zerah, son of Adaiah,
1Ch 6:27 son of Ethan, son of Zimmah, son of Shimei,
1Ch 6:28 son of Jahath, son of Gershon, son of Levi.
1Ch 6:29 Their brothers, the Merarites, stood at the left: Ethan, son of Kishi, son of Abdi, son of Malluch,
1Ch 6:30 son of Hashabiah, son of Amaziah, son of Hilkiah,
1Ch 6:31 son of Amzi, son of Bani, son of Shemer,
1Ch 6:32 son of Mahli, son of Mushi, son of Merari, son of Levi.
1Ch 6:33 Their brother Levites were appointed to all the other services of the Dwelling of the house of God.
1Ch 6:34 However, it was Aaron and his descendants who burnt the offerings on the altar of holocausts and on the altar of incense; they alone had charge of the holy of holies and of making atonement for Israel, as Moses, the servant of God, had ordained.
1Ch 6:35 These were the descendants of Aaron: his son Eleazar, whose son was Phinehas, whose son was Abishua,
1Ch 6:36 whose son was Bukki, whose son was Uzzi, whose son was Zerahiah,
1Ch 6:37 whose son was Meraioth, whose son was Amariah, whose son was Ahitub,
1Ch 6:38 whose son was Zadok, whose son was Ahimaaz.
1Ch 6:39 The following were their dwelling places to which their encampment was limited. To the descendants of Aaron who belonged to clan of the Kohathites, since the first lot fell to them,
1Ch 6:40 was assigned Hebron with its adjacent pasture lands in the land of Judah,
1Ch 6:41 although the open country and the villages belonging to the city had been given to Caleb, the son of Jephunneh.
1Ch 6:42 There were assigned to the descendants of Aaron: Hebron a city of asylum, Libnah with its pasture lands, Jattir with its pasture lands, Eshtemoa with its pasture lands,
1Ch 6:43 Holon with its pasture lands, Debir with its pasture lands,
1Ch 6:44 Ashan with its pasture lands, Jetta with its pasture lands, and Beth-shemesh with its pasture lands.
1Ch 6:45 Also from the tribe of Benjamin: Gibeon with its pasture lands, Geba with its pasture lands, Almon with its pasture lands, Anathoth with its pasture lands. In all, they had thirteen cities with their pasture lands.
1Ch 6:46 The other Kohathites obtained ten cities by lot for their clans from the tribe of Ephraim, from the tribe of Dan, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh.
1Ch 6:47 The clans of the Gershonites obtained thirteen cities from the tribes of Issachar, Asher, and Naphtali, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh in Bashan.
1Ch 6:48 The clans of the Merarites obtained twelve cities by lot from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Zebulun.
1Ch 6:49 The Israelites assigned these cities with their pasture lands to the Levites,
1Ch 6:50 designating them by name and assigning them by lot from the tribes of the Judahites, Simeonites, and Benjaminites.
1Ch 6:51 The clans of the Kohathites obtained cities by lot from the tribe of Ephraim.
1Ch 6:52 They were assigned: Shechem in the mountain region of Ephraim, a city of asylum, with its pasture lands, Gezer with its pasture lands,
1Ch 6:53 Kibzaim with its pasture lands, and Beth-horon with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:54 From the tribe of Dan: Elteke with its pasture lands, Gibbethon with its pasture lands, Aijalon with its pasture lands, and Gath-rimmon with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:55 From the half-tribe of Manasseh: Taanach with its pasture lands and Ibleam with its pasture lands. These belonged to the rest of the Kohathite clan.

1Ch 6:56 The clans of the Gershonites received from the half-tribe of Manasseh: Golan in Bashan with its pasture lands and Ashtaroth with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:57 From the tribe of Issachar: Kedesh with its pasture lands, Daberath with its pasture lands, 1Ch 6:58 Ramoth with its pasture lands, and Engannim with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:59 From the tribe of Asher: Mashal with its pasture lands, Abdon with its pasture lands, 1Ch 6:60 Hilkaht with its pasture lands, and Rehob with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:61 From the tribe of Naphtali: Kedesh in Galilee with its pasture lands, Hammon with its pasture lands, and Kiriathaim with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:62 The rest of the Merarites received from the tribe of Zebulun: Jokneam with its pasture lands, Kartah with its pasture lands, Rimmon with its pasture lands, and Tabor with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:63 Across the Jordan at Jericho (that is, east of the Jordan) they received from the tribe of Reuben: Bezer in the desert with its pasture lands, Jahzah with its pasture lands, 1Ch 6:64 Kedemoth with its pasture lands, and Mephaath with its pasture lands.

1Ch 6:65 From the tribe of Gad: Ramoth in Gilead with its pasture lands, Mahanaim with its pasture lands, 1Ch 6:66 Heshbon with its pasture lands, and Jazer with its pasture lands.

1Ch 7:1 The sons of Issachar were Tola, Puah, Jashub, and Shimron: four.

1Ch 7:2 The sons of Tola were Uzzi, Rephaiah, Jeriel, Jahmai, Ibsam, and Shemuel, warrior heads of the ancestral houses of Tola. Their kindred numbered twenty-two thousand six hundred in the time of David.

1Ch 7:3 The sons of Uzzi: Izarahiah. The sons of Izarahiah were Michael, Obadiah, Joel, and Isshiah. All five of these were chiefs.

1Ch 7:4 Their kindred, by ancestral houses, numbered thirty-six thousand men in organized military troops, since they had more wives and sons

1Ch 7:5 than their fellow tribesmen. In all the clans of Issachar there was a total of eighty-seven thousand warriors in their family records.

1Ch 7:6 The sons of Benjamin were Bela, Becher, and Jediael-- three.

1Ch 7:7 The sons of Bela were Ezbon, Uzzi, Uzziel, Jerimoth, and Iri-- five. They were heads of their ancestral houses and warriors. Their family records listed twenty-two thousand and thirty-four.

1Ch 7:8 The sons of Becher were Zemirah, Joash, Eliezer, Elioenai, Omri, Jeremoth, Abijah, Anathoth, and Alemeth-- all these were sons of Becher.

1Ch 7:9 Their family records listed twenty thousand two hundred of their kindred who were heads of their ancestral houses and warriors.

1Ch 7:10 The sons of Jediael: Bilhan. The sons of Bilhan were Jeush, Benjamin, Ehud, Chenaanah, Zethan, Tarshish, and Ahishahar.

1Ch 7:11 All these were descendants of Jediael, heads of ancestral houses and warriors. They numbered seventeen thousand two hundred men fit for military service... Shupham and Hupham.

1Ch 7:12 The sons of Dan: Hushim.

1Ch 7:13 The sons of Naphtali were Jahziel, Guni, Jezer, and Shallum. These were descendants of Bilhan.

1Ch 7:14 The sons of Manasseh, whom his Aramean concubine bore: she bore Machir, the father of Gilead.

1Ch 7:15 Machir took a wife whose name was Maacah; his sister's name was Molecheth. Manasseh's second son was named Zelophehad, but to Zelophehad only daughters were born.

1Ch 7:16 Maacah, Machir's wife, bore a son whom she named Peresh. He had a brother named Sheresh, whose sons were Ulam and Rakem.

1Ch 7:17 The sons of Ulam: Bedan. These were the descendants of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh.

1Ch 7:18 His sister Molecheth bore Ishhod, Abiezer, and Mahlah.

1Ch 7:19 The sons of Shemida were Ahian, Shechem, Likhi, and Aniam.

1Ch 7:20 The sons of Ephraim: Shuthelah, whose son was Bered, whose son was Tahath, whose son was Eleadah, whose son was Tahath, 1Ch 7:21 whose son was Zabad. Ephraim's son Shuthelah, and Ezer and Elead, who were born in the land, were slain by the inhabitants of Gath because they had gone down to take away their livestock.

1Ch 7:22 Their father Ephraim mourned a long time, but after his kinsmen had come and comforted him, 1Ch 7:23 he visited his wife, who conceived and bore a son whom he named Beriah, since evil had befallen his house.

1Ch 7:24 He had a daughter, Sheerah, who built lower and upper Beth-horon and Uzen-sheerah.

1Ch 7:25 Zabad's son was Rephah, whose son was Resheph, whose son was Telah, whose son was Tahan,

1Ch 7:26 whose son was Ladan, whose son was Ammihud, whose son was Elishama, 1Ch 7:27 whose son was Nun, whose son was Joshua.
1Ch 7:28 Their property and their dwellings were in Bethel and its towns, Naaran to the east, Gezer and its towns to the west, and also Shechem and its towns as far as Ayyah and its towns.
1Ch 7:29 Manasseh, however, had possession of Beth-shean and its towns, Taanach and its towns, Megiddo and its towns, and Dor and its towns. In these dwelt the descendants of Joseph, the son of Israel.
1Ch 7:30 The sons of Asher were Imnah, Iishvah, Ishvi, and Beriah; their sister was Serah.
1Ch 7:31 Beriah's sons were Heber and Malchiel, who was the father of Birzaith.
1Ch 7:32 Heber became the father of Japhlet, Shomer, Hotham, and their sister Shua.
1Ch 7:33 The sons of Japhlet were Pasach, Bimhal, and Ashvath; these were the sons of Japhlet.
1Ch 7:34 The sons of Shomer were Ahi, Rohgah, Jehubbah, and Aram.
1Ch 7:35 The sons of his brother Hotham were Zophah, Imna, Shelesh, and Amal.
1Ch 7:36 The sons of Zophah were Suah, Harnepher, Shual, Beri, Imrah, 1Ch 7:37 Bezer, Hod, Shamma, Shilshah, Ithran, and Beera.
1Ch 7:38 The sons of Jether were Jephunneh, Pispah, and Ara.
1Ch 7:39 The sons of Ulla were Arah, Hanniel, and Rizia.
1Ch 7:40 All these were descendants of Asher, heads of ancestral houses, distinguished men, warriors, and chiefs among the princes. Their family records numbered twenty-six thousand men fit for military service.
1Ch 8:1 Benjamin became the father of Bela, his first-born, Ashbel, the second son, Aharah, the third,
1Ch 8:2 Nohah, the fourth, and Rapha, the fifth.
1Ch 8:3 The sons of Bela were Addar and Gera, the father of Ehud.
1Ch 8:4 The sons of Ehud were Abishua, Naaman, Ahoah,
1Ch 8:5 Gera, Shephuphan, and Hiram.
1Ch 8:6 These were the sons of Ehud, family heads over those who dwelt in Geba and were deported to Manahath.
1Ch 8:7 Also Naaman, Ahijah, and Gera. The last, who led them into exile, became the father of Uzza and Ahihud.
1Ch 8:8 Shaharaim became a father on the Moabite plateau after he had put away his wives Hushim and Baara.
1Ch 8:9 By his wife Hodesh he became the father of Jobab, Zibia, Mesha, Malcam, 1Ch 8:10 Jeuz, Sachia, and Mirmah. These were his sons, family heads.
1Ch 8:11 By Hushim he became the father of Abitub and Elpaal.
1Ch 8:12 The sons of Elpaal were Eber, Misham, Shemed, who built Ono and Lod with its nearby towns,
1Ch 8:13 Beriah, and Shema. They were family heads of those who dwelt in Aijalon, and they put the inhabitants of Gath to flight.
1Ch 8:14 Their brethren were Elpaal, Shashak, and Jeremoth.
1Ch 8:15 Zebadiah, Arad, Eder,
1Ch 8:16 Michael, Ishpah, and Joha were the sons of Beriah.
1Ch 8:17 Zebadiah, Meshullam, Hizki, Heber,
1Ch 8:18 Ishmerai, Izliah, and Jobab were the sons of Elpaal.
1Ch 8:19 Jakim, Zichri, Zabdi,
1Ch 8:20 Elienai, Zillethai, Eliel,
1Ch 8:21 Adaiah, Beraiah, and Shimrath were the sons of Shimei.
1Ch 8:22 Ishpan, Eber, Eliel,
1Ch 8:23 Abdon, Zichri, Hanan,
1Ch 8:24 Hananiah, Elam, Anthothijah,
1Ch 8:25 Iphdeiah, and Penuel were the sons of Shashak.
1Ch 8:26 Shamsherai, Shehariah, Athaliah,
1Ch 8:27 Jaareshiah, Elijah, and Zichri were the sons of Jeroham.
1Ch 8:28 These were family heads over their kindred, chiefs who dwelt in Jerusalem.
1Ch 8:29 In Gibeon dwelt Jeiel, the founder of Gibeon, whose wife's name was Maacah;
1Ch 8:30 also his first-born son, Abdon, and Zur, Kish, Baal, Ner, Nadab,
1Ch 8:31 Gedor, Ahio, Zecher, and Mikloth.
1Ch 8:32 Mikloth became the father of Shimeah. These, too, dwelt with their relatives in Jerusalem, opposite their fellow tribesmen.
1Ch 8:33 Ner became the father of Kish, and Kish became the father of Saul. Saul became the father of Jonathan, Malchishua, Abinadab, and Eshbaal.
1Ch 8:34 The son of Jonathan was Meribbaal, and Meribbaal became the father of Micah.
1Ch 8:35 The sons of Micah were Pithon, Melech, Tarea, and Ahaz.

1Ch 8:36 Ahaz became the father of Jehoaddah, and Jehoaddah became the father of Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. Zimri became the father of Moza.

1Ch 8:37 Moza became the father of Binea, whose son was Raphah, whose son was Eleasah, whose son was Azel.

1Ch 8:38 Azel had six sons, whose names were Azrikam, his first-born, Ishmael, Sheariah, Azariah, Obadiah, and Hanan; all these were the sons of Azel.

1Ch 8:39 The sons of Eshek, his brother, were Ulam, his first-born, Jeush, the second son, and Eliphelet, the third.

1Ch 8:40 The sons of Ulam were combat archers, and many were their sons and grandsons: one hundred and fifty. All these were the descendants of Benjamin.

1Ch 9:1 Thus all Israel was inscribed in its family records which are recorded in the book of the kings of Israel. Now Judah had been carried in captivity to Babylon because of its rebellion.

1Ch 9:2 The first to settle again in their cities and dwell there were certain lay Israelites, the priests, the Levites, and the temple slaves.

1Ch 9:3 In Jerusalem lived Judahites and Benjaminites; also Ephraimites and Manassehites.

1Ch 9:4 Among the Judahites was Uthai, son of Ammihud, son of Omri, son of Imri, son of Bani, one of the descendants of Perez, son of Judah.

1Ch 9:5 Among the Shelanites were Asaiah, the first-born, and his sons.

1Ch 9:6 Among the Zerahites were Jeuel and six hundred and ninety of their brethren.

1Ch 9:7 Among the Benjaminites were Sallu, son of Meshullam, son of Hodaviah, son of Hassenuah;

1Ch 9:8 Ibneiah, son of Jeroham; Elah, son of Uzzi, son of Michri; Meshullam, son of Shephatiah, son of Reuel, son of Ibnijah.

1Ch 9:9 Their kindred of various families were nine hundred and fifty-six. All those named were heads of their ancestral houses.

1Ch 9:10 Among the priests were Jedaiah; Jehoiarib; Jachin;

1Ch 9:11 Azariah, son of Hilkiyah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, the ruler of the house of God;

1Ch 9:12 Adaiah, son of Jeroham, son of Pashhur, son of Malchijah; Maasai, son of Adiel, son of Jahzerah, son of Meshullam, son of Meshillemith, son of Immer.

1Ch 9:13 Their brethren, heads of their ancestral houses, were one thousand seven hundred and sixty, valiant for the work of the service of the house of God.

1Ch 9:14 Among the Levites were Shemaiah, son of Hasshub, son of Azrikam, son of Hashabiah, one of the descendants of Merari;

1Ch 9:15 Bakbakkar; Heresh; Galal; Mattaniah, son of Mica, son of Zichri, a descendant of Asaph;

1Ch 9:16 Obadiah, son of Shemaiah, son of Galal, a descendant of Jeduthun; and Berechiah, son of Asa, son of Elkanah, whose family lived in the villages of the Netophathites.

1Ch 9:17 The gatekeepers were Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their brethren; Shallum was the chief.

1Ch 9:18 Previously they had stood guard at the king's gate on the east side; now they became gatekeepers for the encampments of the Levites.

1Ch 9:19 Shallum, son of Kore, son of Ebiasaph, a descendant of Korah, and his brethren of the same ancestral house of the Korahites had as their assigned task the guarding of the threshold of the tent, just as their fathers had guarded the entrance to the encampment of the LORD.

1Ch 9:20 Phinehas, son of Eleazar, had been their chief in times past-- the LORD be with him!

1Ch 9:21 Zechariah, son of Meshelemiah, guarded the gate of the meeting tent.

1Ch 9:22 In all, those who were chosen for gatekeepers at the threshold were two hundred and twelve. They were inscribed in the family records of their villages. David and Samuel the seer had established them in their position of trust.

1Ch 9:23 Thus they and their sons kept guard over the gates of the house of the LORD, the house which was then a tent.

1Ch 9:24 The gatekeepers were stationed at the four sides, to the east, the west, the north, and the south.

1Ch 9:25 Their kinsmen who lived in their own villages took turns in assisting them for seven-day periods,

1Ch 9:26 while the four chief gatekeepers were on constant duty. These were the Levites who also had charge of the chambers and treasures of the house of God.

1Ch 9:27 At night they lodged about the house of God, for it was in their charge and they had the duty of opening it each morning.

1Ch 9:28 Some of them had charge of the liturgical equipment, tallying it as it was brought in and taken out.

1Ch 9:29 Others were appointed to take care of the utensils and all the sacred vessels, as well as the fine flour, the wine, the oil, the frankincense, and the spices.

1Ch 9:30 It was the sons of priests, however, who mixed the spiced ointments.

1Ch 9:31 Mattithiah, one of the Levites, the first-born of Shallum the Koreite, was entrusted with preparing the cakes.

1Ch 9:32 Benaiah the Kohathite, one of their brethren, was in charge of setting out the showbread each sabbath.

1Ch 9:33 These were the chanters and the gatekeepers, family heads over the Levites. They stayed in the chambers when free of duty, for day and night they had to be ready for service.

1Ch 9:34 These were the levitical family heads over their kindred, chiefs who dwelt in Jerusalem.

1Ch 9:35 In Gibeon dwelt Jeiel, the founder of Gibeon, whose wife's name was Maacah.

1Ch 9:36 His first-born son was Abdon; then came Zur, Kish, Baal, Ner, Nadab, 1Ch 9:37 Gedor, Ahio, Zechariah, and Mikloth.

1Ch 9:38 Mikloth became the father of Shimeam. These, too, with their brethren, dwelt opposite their brethren in Jerusalem.

1Ch 9:39 Ner became the father of Kish, and Kish became the father of Saul. Saul became the father of Jonathan, Malchishua, Abinadab, and Eshbaal.

1Ch 9:40 The son of Jonathan was Meribbaal, and Meribbaal became the father of Micah.

1Ch 9:41 The sons of Micah were Pithon, Melech, Tahrea, and Ahaz.

1Ch 9:42 Ahaz became the father of Jehoaddah, and Jehoaddah became the father of Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. Zimri became the father of Moza.

1Ch 9:43 Moza became the father of Binea, whose son was Rephaiah, whose son was Eleasah, whose son was Azel.

1Ch 9:44 Azel had six sons, whose names were Azrikam, his first-born, Ishmael, Sheariah, Azariah, Obadiah, and Hanan; these were the sons of Azel.

1Ch 10:1 Now the Philistines were at war with Israel; the Israelites fled before the Philistines, and a number of them fell, slain on Mount Gilboa.

1Ch 10:2 The Philistines pressed hard after Saul and his sons. When the Philistines had killed Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua, sons of Saul, 1Ch 10:3 the whole fury of the battle descended upon Saul. Then the archers found him, and wounded him with their arrows.

1Ch 10:4 Saul said to his armor-bearer, "Draw your sword and thrust me through with it, that these uncircumcised may not come and maltreat me." But the armor-bearer, in great fear, refused. So Saul took his own sword and fell on it;

1Ch 10:5 and seeing him dead, the armor-bearer also fell on his sword and died.

1Ch 10:6 Thus, with Saul and his three sons, his whole house died at one time.

1Ch 10:7 When all the Israelites who were in the valley saw that Saul and his sons had died in the rout, they left their cities and fled; thereupon the Philistines came and occupied them.

1Ch 10:8 On the following day, when the Philistines came to strip the slain, they found Saul and his sons where they had fallen on Mount Gilboa.

1Ch 10:9 They stripped him, cut off his head, and took his armor; these they sent throughout the land of the Philistines to convey the good news to their idols and their people.

1Ch 10:10 His armor they put in the house of their gods, but his skull they impaled on the temple of Dagon.

1Ch 10:11 When all the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead had heard what the Philistines had done to Saul, 1Ch 10:12 its warriors rose to a man, recovered the bodies of Saul and his sons, and brought them to Jabesh. They buried their bones under the oak of Jabesh, and fasted seven days.

1Ch 10:13 Thus Saul died because of his rebellion against the LORD in disobeying his command, and also because he had sought counsel of a necromancer, 1Ch 10:14 and had not rather inquired of the LORD. Therefore the LORD slew him, and transferred his kingdom to David, the son of Jesse.

1Ch 11:1 Then all Israel gathered about David in Hebron, and they said: "Surely, we are of the same bone and flesh as you.

1Ch 11:2 Even formerly, when Saul was still the king, it was you who led Israel in all its battles. And now the LORD, your God, has said to you, 'You shall shepherd my people Israel and be ruler over them.'"

1Ch 11:3 Then all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, and there David made a covenant with them in the presence of the LORD; and they anointed him king over Israel, in accordance with the word of the LORD as revealed through Samuel.

1Ch 11:4 Then David and all Israel went to Jerusalem, that is, Jebus, where the natives of the land were called Jebusites.

1Ch 11:5 The inhabitants of Jebus said to David, "You shall not enter here." David nevertheless captured the fortress of Zion, which is the City of David.

1Ch 11:6 David said, "Whoever strikes the Jebusites first shall be made the chief commander." Joab, the son of Zeruiah, was the first to go up; and so he became chief.

1Ch 11:7 David took up his residence in the fortress, which thenceforth was called the City of David.

1Ch 11:8 He rebuilt the city on all sides, from the Millo all the way around, while Joab restored the rest of the city.

1Ch 11:9 David became more and more powerful, for the LORD of hosts was with him.

1Ch 11:10 These were David's chief warriors who, together with all Israel, supported him in his reign in order to make him true king, even as the LORD had commanded concerning Israel.

1Ch 11:11 Here is the list of David's warriors: Ishbaal, the son of Hachamoni, chief of the Three. He brandished his spear against three hundred, whom he slew in a single encounter.

1Ch 11:12 Next to him Eleazar, the son of Dodo the Ahohite, one of the Three warriors.

1Ch 11:13 He was with David at Pas-dammim, where the Philistines had massed for battle. The plow-land was fully planted with barley, but its defenders were retreating before the Philistines.

1Ch 11:14 He made a stand on the sown ground, kept it safe, and cut down the Philistines. Thus the LORD brought about a great victory.

1Ch 11:15 Three of the Thirty chiefs went down to the rock, to David, who was in the cave of Adullam while the Philistines were encamped in the valley of Rephaim.

1Ch 11:16 David was then in the stronghold, and a Philistine garrison was at Bethlehem.

1Ch 11:17 David expressed a desire: "Oh, that someone would give me a drink from the cistern that is by the gate at Bethlehem!"

1Ch 11:18 Thereupon the Three broke through the encampment of the Philistines, drew water from the cistern by the gate at Bethlehem, and carried it back to David. But David refused to drink it. Instead, he poured it out as a libation to the LORD,

1Ch 11:19 saying, "God forbid that I should do such a thing! Could I drink the blood of these men who risked their lives?" For at the risk of their lives they brought it; and so he refused to drink it. Such deeds as these the Three warriors performed.

1Ch 11:20 Abishai, the brother of Joab. He was the chief of the Thirty; he brandished his spear against three hundred, and slew them. Thus he had a reputation like that of the Three.

1Ch 11:21 He was twice as famous as any of the Thirty and became their commander, but he did not attain to the Three.

1Ch 11:22 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, a valiant man of mighty deeds, from Kabzeel. He killed the two sons of Ariel of Moab, and also, on a snowy day, he went down and killed the lion in the cistern.

1Ch 11:23 He likewise slew the Egyptian, a huge man five cubits tall. The Egyptian carried a spear that was like a weaver's heddle-bar, but he came against him with a staff, wrested the spear from the Egyptian's hand, and killed him with his own spear.

1Ch 11:24 Such deeds as these of Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada, gave him a reputation like that of the Three.

1Ch 11:25 He was more famous than any of the Thirty, but he did not attain to the Three. David put him in charge of his bodyguard.

1Ch 11:26 Also these warriors: Asahel, the brother of Joab; Elhanan, son of Dodo, from Bethlehem;

1Ch 11:27 Shammoth, from En-harod; Helez, from Palti;

1Ch 11:28 Ira, son of Ikesh, from Tekoa; Abiezer, from Anathoth;

1Ch 11:29 Sibbecai, from Husha; Ilai, from Ahoh;

1Ch 11:30 Maharai, from Netophah; Heled, son of Baanah, from Netophah;

1Ch 11:31 Ithai, son of Ribai, from Gibeah of Benjamin; Benaiah, from Pirathon;

1Ch 11:32 Hurai, from the valley of Gaash; Abiel, from Beth-arabah;

1Ch 11:33 Azmaveth, from Bahurim; Eliahba, from Shaalbon;

1Ch 11:34 Jashen the Gunite; Jonathan, son of Shagee, from En-harod;

1Ch 11:35 Ahiam, son of Sachar, from En-harod; Elipheleth, son of

1Ch 11:36 Ahasabi, from Beth-maacah; Ahijah, from Gilo;

1Ch 11:37 Hezro, from Carmel; Naarai, the son of Ezbai;

1Ch 11:38 Joel, brother of Nathan, from Rehob, the Gadite;

1Ch 11:39 Zelek the Ammonite; Naharai, from Beeroth, the armor-bearer of Joab, son of Zeruiah;

1Ch 11:40 Ira, from Jattir; Gareb, from Jattir;

1Ch 11:41 Uriah the Hittite; Zabad, son of Ahlai,

1Ch 11:42 and, in addition to the Thirty, Adina, son of Shiza, the Reubenite, chief of the tribe of Reuben;

1Ch 11:43 Hanan, from Beth-maacah; Joshaphat the Mithnite;

1Ch 11:44 Uzzia, from Ashterath; Shama and Jeiel, sons of Hotham, from Aroer;

1Ch 11:45 Jediahel, son of Shimri, and Joha, his brother, the Tizite;

1Ch 11:46 Eliel the Mahavite; Jeribai and Joshaviah, sons of Elnaam; Ithmah, from Moab;

1Ch 11:47 Eliel, Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobian.

1Ch 12:1 The following men came to David in Ziklag while he was still under banishment from Saul, son of Kish; they, too, were among the warriors who helped him in his battles.

1Ch 12:2 They were archers who could use either the right or the left hand, both in slinging stones and in shooting arrows with the bow. They were some of Saul's kinsmen, from Benjamin.

1Ch 12:3 Ahiezer was their chief, along with Joash, both sons of Shemaah of Gibeah; also Jeziel and Pelet, sons of Azmaveth; Beracah; Jehu, from Anathoth;

1Ch 12:4 Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, a warrior on the level of the Thirty, and in addition to their number;

1Ch 12:5 Jeremiah; Jahaziel; Johanan; Jozabad from Gederah;

1Ch 12:6 Eluzai; Jerimoth; Bealiah; Shemariah; Shephatiah the Haruphite;

1Ch 12:7 Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Ishbaal, who were Korahites;

1Ch 12:8 Joelah, finally, and Zebadiah, sons of Jeroham, from Gedor.

1Ch 12:9 Some of the Gadites also went over to David when he was at the stronghold in the wilderness. They were valiant warriors, experienced soldiers equipped with shield and spear, who bore themselves like lions, and were as swift as the gazelles on the mountains.

1Ch 12:10 Ezer was their chief, Obadiah was second, Eliab third,

1Ch 12:11 Mishmannah fourth, Jeremiah fifth,

1Ch 12:12 Attai sixth, Eliel seventh,

1Ch 12:13 Johanan eighth, Elzabad ninth,

1Ch 12:14 Jeremiah tenth, and Machbannai eleventh.

1Ch 12:15 These Gadites were army commanders, the lesser placed over hundreds and the greater over thousands.

1Ch 12:16 It was they who crossed over the Jordan when it was overflowing both its banks in the first month, and dispersed all who were in the valleys to the east and to the west.

1Ch 12:17 Some Benjaminites and Judahites also came to David at the stronghold.

1Ch 12:18 David went out to meet them and addressed them in these words: "If you come peacefully, to help me, I am of a mind to have you join me. But if you have come to betray me to my enemies though my hands have done no wrong, may the God of our fathers see and punish you."

1Ch 12:19 Then spirit enveloped Amasai, the chief of the Thirty, who spoke: "We are yours, O David, we are with you, O son of Jesse. Peace, peace to you, and peace to him who helps you; your God it is who helps you." So David received them and placed them among the leaders of his troops.

1Ch 12:20 Men from Manasseh also deserted to David when he came with the Philistines to battle against Saul. However, he did not help the Philistines, for their lords took counsel and sent him home, saying, "At the cost of our heads he will desert to his master Saul."

1Ch 12:21 As he was returning to Ziklag, therefore, these deserted to him from Manasseh: Adnah, Jozabad, Jediahel, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai, chiefs of thousands of Manasseh.

1Ch 12:22 They helped David by taking charge of his troops, for they were all warriors and became commanders of his army.

1Ch 12:23 And from day to day men kept coming to David's help until there was a vast encampment, like an encampment of angels.

1Ch 12:24 This is the muster of the detachments of armed troops that came to David at Hebron to transfer to him Saul's kingdom, as the LORD had ordained.

1Ch 12:25 Judahites bearing shields and spears: six thousand eight hundred armed troops.

1Ch 12:26 Of the Simeonites, warriors fit for battle: seven thousand one hundred.

1Ch 12:27 Of the Levites: four thousand six hundred,

1Ch 12:28 along with Jehoiada, leader of the line of Aaron, with another three thousand seven hundred,

1Ch 12:29 and Zadok, a young warrior, with twenty-two princes of his father's house.

1Ch 12:30 Of the Benjaminites, the brethren of Saul: three thousand-- until this time, most of them had held their allegiance to the house of Saul.

1Ch 12:31 Of the Ephraimites: twenty thousand eight hundred warriors, men renowned in their ancestral houses.

1Ch 12:32 Of the half-tribe of Manasseh: eighteen thousand, designated by name to come and make David king.

1Ch 12:33 Of the Issacharites, their chiefs who were endowed with an understanding of the times and who knew what Israel had to do: two hundred chiefs, together with all their brethren under their command.

1Ch 12:34 From Zebulun, men fit for military service, set in battle array with every kind of weapon for war: fifty thousand men rallying with a single purpose.

1Ch 12:35 From Naphtali: one thousand captains, and with them, armed with shield and lance, thirty-seven thousand men.

1Ch 12:36 Of the Danites, set in battle array: twenty-eight thousand six hundred.

1Ch 12:37 From Asher, fit for military service and set in battle array: forty thousand.

1Ch 12:38 From the other side of the Jordan, of the Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, men equipped with every kind of weapon of war: one hundred and twenty thousand.

1Ch 12:39 All these soldiers, drawn up in battle order, came to Hebron with the resolute intention of making David king over all Israel. The rest of Israel was likewise of one mind to make David king.

1Ch 12:40 They remained with David for three days, feasting and drinking, for their brethren had prepared for them.

1Ch 12:41 Moreover, their neighbors from as far as Issachar, Zebulun, and Naphtali came bringing food on asses, camels, mules, and oxen-- provisions in great quantity of meal, pressed figs, raisins, wine, oil, oxen, and sheep. For there was rejoicing in Israel.

1Ch 13:1 After David had taken counsel with his commanders of thousands and of hundreds, that is to say, with every one of his leaders,

1Ch 13:2 he said to the whole assembly of Israel: "If it seems good to you, and is so decreed by the LORD our God, let us summon the rest of our brethren from all the districts of Israel, and also the priests and the Levites from their cities with pasture lands, that they may join us;

1Ch 13:3 and let us bring the ark of our God here among us, for in the days of Saul we did not visit it."

1Ch 13:4 And the whole assembly agreed to do this, for the idea was pleasing to all the people.

1Ch 13:5 Then David assembled all Israel, from Shihor of Egypt to Labo of Hamath, to bring the ark of God from Kiriath-jearim.

1Ch 13:6 David and all Israel went up to Baalah, that is, to Kiriath-jearim, of Judah, to bring back the ark of God, which was known by the name "LORD enthroned upon the cherubim."

1Ch 13:7 They transported the ark of God on a new cart from the house of Abinadab; Uzzah and Ahio were guiding the cart,

1Ch 13:8 while David and all Israel danced before God with great enthusiasm, amid songs and music on lyres, harps, tambourines, cymbals, and trumpets.

1Ch 13:9 As they reached the threshing floor of Chidon, Uzzah stretched out his hand to steady the ark, for the oxen were upsetting it.

1Ch 13:10 Then the LORD became angry with Uzzah and struck him; he died there in God's presence, because he had laid his hand on the ark.

1Ch 13:11 David was disturbed because the LORD'S anger had broken out against Uzzah. Therefore that place has been called Perez-uzza even to this day.

1Ch 13:12 David was now afraid of God, and he said, "How can I bring the ark of God with me?"

1Ch 13:13 Therefore he did not take the ark back with him to the City of David, but he took it instead to the house of Obed-edom the Gittite.

1Ch 13:14 The ark of God remained in the house of Obed-edom with his family for three months, and the LORD blessed Obed-edom's household and all that he possessed.

1Ch 14:1 Hiram, king of Tyre, sent envoys to David along with masons and carpenters, and cedar wood to build him a house.

1Ch 14:2 David now understood that the LORD had truly confirmed him as king over Israel, for his kingdom was greatly exalted for the sake of his people Israel.

1Ch 14:3 David took other wives in Jerusalem and became the father of more sons and daughters.

1Ch 14:4 These are the names of those who were born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,

1Ch 14:5 Ibhar, Elishua, Elpelet,

1Ch 14:6 Nogah, Nepheg, Japhia,

1Ch 14:7 Elishama, Beeliada, and Eliphelet.

1Ch 14:8 When the Philistines had heard that David was anointed king over all Israel, they went up in unison to seek him out. But when David heard of this, he marched out against them.

1Ch 14:9 Meanwhile the Philistines had come and raided the valley of Rephaim.

1Ch 14:10 David inquired of God, "Shall I advance against the Philistines, and will you deliver them into my power?" The LORD answered him, "Advance, for I will deliver them into your power."

1Ch 14:11 They advanced, therefore, to Baal-perazim, and David defeated them there. Then David said, "God has used me to break through my enemies just as water breaks through a dam." Therefore that place was called Baal-perazim.

1Ch 14:12 The Philistines had left their gods there, and David ordered them to be burnt.

1Ch 14:13 Once again the Philistines raided the valley,

1Ch 14:14 and again David inquired of God. But God answered him: "Do not try to pursue them, but go around them and come upon them from the direction of the mastic trees.

1Ch 14:15 When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the mastic trees, then go forth to battle, for God has already gone before you to strike the army of the Philistines."

1Ch 14:16 David did as God commanded him, and they routed the Philistine army from Gibeon to Gezer.

1Ch 14:17 Thus David's fame was spread abroad through every land, and the LORD made all the nations fear him.

1Ch 15:1 David built houses for himself in the City of David and prepared a place for the ark of God, pitching a tent for it there.

1Ch 15:2 At that time he said, "No one may carry the ark of God except the Levites, for the LORD chose them to carry the ark of the LORD and to minister to him forever."

1Ch 15:3 Then David assembled all Israel in Jerusalem to bring the ark of the LORD to the place which he had prepared for it.

1Ch 15:4 David also called together the sons of Aaron and the Levites:

1Ch 15:5 of the sons of Kohath, Uriel, their chief, and one hundred and twenty of his brethren;

1Ch 15:6 of the sons of Merari, Asaiah, their chief, and two hundred and twenty of his brethren;

1Ch 15:7 of the sons of Gershon, Joel, their chief, and one hundred and thirty of his brethren;

1Ch 15:8 of the sons of Elizaphan, Shemaiah, their chief, and two hundred of his brethren;

1Ch 15:9 of the sons of Hebron, Eliel, their chief, and eighty of his brethren;

1Ch 15:10 of the sons of Uzziel, Amminadab, their chief, and one hundred and twelve of his brethren.

1Ch 15:11 David summoned the priests Zadok and Abiathar, and the Levites Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab, 1Ch 15:12 and said to them: "You, the heads of the levitical families, must sanctify yourselves along with your brethren and bring the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel, to the place which I have prepared for it.

1Ch 15:13 Because you were not with us the first time, the wrath of the LORD our God burst upon us, for we did not seek him aright."

1Ch 15:14 Accordingly, the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves to bring up the ark of the LORD, the God of Israel.

1Ch 15:15 The Levites bore the ark of God on their shoulders with poles, as Moses had ordained according to the word of the LORD.

1Ch 15:16 David commanded the chiefs of the Levites to appoint their brethren as chanters, to play on musical instruments, harps, lyres, and cymbals, to make a loud sound of rejoicing.

1Ch 15:17 Therefore the Levites appointed Heman, son of Joel, and, among his brethren, Asaph, son of Berechiah; and among the sons of Merari, their brethren, Ethan, son of Kushaiah;

1Ch 15:18 and, together with these, their brethren of the second rank: the gatekeepers Zechariah, Uzziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Eliphehu, Mikneiah, Obed-edom, and Jeiel.

1Ch 15:19 The chanters, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, sounded brass cymbals.

1Ch 15:20 Zechariah, Uzziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah played on harps set to "Alamoth."

1Ch 15:21 But Mattithiah, Eliphehu, Mikneiah, Obed-edom, and Jeiel led the chant on lyres set to "the eighth."

1Ch 15:22 Chenaniah was the chief of the Levites in the chanting; he directed the chanting, for he was skillful.

1Ch 15:23 Berechiah and Elkanah were gatekeepers before the ark.

1Ch 15:24 The priests, Shebaniah, Joshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer, sounded the trumpets before the ark of God. Obed-edom and Jeiel were also gatekeepers before the ark.

1Ch 15:25 Thus David, the elders of Israel, and the commanders of thousands went to bring up the ark of the covenant of the LORD with joy from the house of Obed-edom.

1Ch 15:26 While the Levites, with God's help, were bearing the ark of the covenant of the LORD, seven bulls and seven rams were sacrificed.

1Ch 15:27 David was clothed in a robe of fine linen, as were all the Levites who carried the ark, the singers, and Chenaniah, the leader of the chant; David was also wearing a linen ephod.

1Ch 15:28 Thus all Israel brought back the ark of the covenant of the LORD with joyful shouting, to the sound of horns, trumpets, and cymbals, and the music of harps and lyres.

1Ch 15:29 But as the ark of the covenant of the LORD was entering the City of David, Michal, daughter of Saul, looked down from her window, and when she saw King David leaping and dancing, she despised him in her heart.

1Ch 16:1 They brought in the ark of God and set it within the tent which David had pitched for it. Then they offered up holocausts and peace offerings to God.

1Ch 16:2 When David had finished offering up the holocausts and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD, 1Ch 16:3 and distributed to every Israelite, to every man and every woman, a loaf of bread, a piece of meat, and a raisin cake.

1Ch 16:4 He now appointed certain Levites to minister before the ark of the LORD, to celebrate, thank, and praise the LORD, the God of Israel.

1Ch 16:5 Asaph was their chief, and second to him were Zechariah, Uzziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, Obed-edom, and Jeiel. These were to play on harps and lyres, while Asaph was to sound the cymbals, 1Ch 16:6 and the priests Benaiah and Jahaziel were to be the regular trumpeters before the ark of the covenant of God.

1Ch 16:7 Then, on that same day, David appointed Asaph and his brethren to sing for the first time these praises of the LORD:

1Ch 16:8 Give thanks to the LORD, invoke his name; make known among the nations his deeds.

1Ch 16:9 Sing to him, sing his praise, proclaim all his wondrous deeds.

1Ch 16:10 Glory in his holy name; rejoice, O hearts that seek the LORD!

1Ch 16:11 Look to the LORD in his strength; seek to serve him constantly.

1Ch 16:12 Recall the wondrous deeds that he has wrought, his portents, and the judgments he has uttered, 1Ch 16:13 You descendants of Israel, his servants, sons of Jacob, his chosen ones!

1Ch 16:14 He, the LORD, is our God; throughout the earth his judgments prevail.

1Ch 16:15 He remembers forever his covenant which he made binding for a thousand generations--

1Ch 16:16 Which he entered into with Abraham and by his oath to Isaac;

1Ch 16:17 Which he established for Jacob by statute, for Israel as an everlasting covenant,

1Ch 16:18 Saying, "To you will I give the land of Canaan as your allotted inheritance."

1Ch 16:19 When they were few in number, a handful, and strangers there,

1Ch 16:20 Wandering from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another people,

1Ch 16:21 He let no one oppress them, and for their sake he rebuked kings:

1Ch 16:22 "Touch not my anointed, and to my prophets do no harm."

1Ch 16:23 Sing to the LORD, all the earth, announce his salvation, day after day

1Ch 16:24 Tell his glory among the nations; among all peoples, his wondrous deeds.

1Ch 16:25 For great is the LORD and highly to be praised; and awesome is he, beyond all gods.

1Ch 16:26 For all the gods of the nations are things of nought, but the LORD made the heavens.

1Ch 16:27 Splendor and majesty go before him; praise and joy are in his holy place.

1Ch 16:28 Give to the LORD, you families of nations, give to the LORD glory and praise;

1Ch 16:29 Give to the LORD the glory due his name! Bring gifts, and enter his presence; worship the LORD in holy attire.

1Ch 16:30 Tremble before him, all the earth; he has made the world firm, not to be moved.

1Ch 16:31 Let the heavens be glad and the earth rejoice; let them say among the nations: The LORD is king.

1Ch 16:32 Let the sea and what fills it resound; let the plains rejoice and all that is in them!

1Ch 16:33 Then shall all the trees of the forest exult before the LORD, for he comes: he comes to rule the earth.

1Ch 16:34 Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good, for his kindness endures forever;

1Ch 16:35 And say, "Save us, O God, our savior, gather us and deliver us from the nations, That we may give thanks to your holy name and glory in praising you."

1Ch 16:36 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, through all eternity! Let all the people say, Amen! Alleluia.

1Ch 16:37 Then David left Asaph and his brethren there before the ark of the covenant of the LORD to minister before the ark regularly according to the daily ritual;

1Ch 16:38 he also left there Obed-edom and sixty-eight of his brethren, including Obed-edom, son of Jeduthun, and Hosah, to be gatekeepers.

1Ch 16:39 But the priest Zadok and his priestly brethren he left before the Dwelling of the LORD on the high place at Gibeon, 1Ch 16:40 to offer holocausts to the LORD on the altar of holocausts regularly, morning and evening, and to do all that is written in the law of the LORD which he has decreed for Israel.

1Ch 16:41 With them were Heman and Jeduthun and the others who were chosen and designated by name to give thanks to the LORD, "because his kindness endures forever," 1Ch 16:42 with trumpets and cymbals for accompaniment, and instruments for the sacred chant. The sons of Jeduthun kept the gate.

1Ch 16:43 Then all the people departed, each to his own home, and David returned to bless his household.

1Ch 17:1 After David had taken up residence in his house, he said to Nathan the prophet, "See, I am living in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the LORD dwells under tentcloth."

1Ch 17:2 Nathan replied to David, "Do, therefore, whatever you desire, for God is with you."

1Ch 17:3 But that same night the word of God came to Nathan:

1Ch 17:4 "Go and tell my servant David, Thus says the LORD: It is not you who are to build a house for me to dwell in.

1Ch 17:5 For I have never dwelt in a house, from the time when I led Israel onward, even to this day, but I have been lodging in tent or pavilion

1Ch 17:6 as long as I have wandered about with all of Israel. Did I ever say a word to any of the judges of Israel whom I commanded to guide my people, such as, 'Why have you not built me a house of cedar?'

1Ch 17:7 Therefore, tell my servant David, Thus says the LORD of hosts: I took you from the pasture, from following the sheep, that you might become ruler over my people Israel.

1Ch 17:8 I was with you wherever you went, and I cut down all your enemies before you. I will make your name great like that of the greatest on the earth.

1Ch 17:9 I will assign a place for my people Israel and I will plant them in it to dwell there henceforth undisturbed; nor shall wicked men ever again oppress them, as they did at first,

1Ch 17:10 and during all the time when I appointed judges over my people Israel. And I will subdue all your enemies. Moreover, I declare to you that I, the LORD, will build you a house;

1Ch 17:11 so that when your days have been completed and you must join your fathers, I will raise up your offspring after you who will be one of your own sons, and I will establish his kingdom.

1Ch 17:12 He it is who shall build me a house, and I will establish his throne forever.

1Ch 17:13 I will be a father to him, and he shall be a son to me, and I will not withdraw my favor from him as I withdrew it from him who preceded you;

1Ch 17:14 but I will maintain him in my house and in my kingdom forever, and his throne shall be firmly established forever."

1Ch 17:15 All these words and this whole vision Nathan related exactly to David.

1Ch 17:16 Then David came in and sat in the LORD'S presence, saying: "Who am I, O LORD God, and what is my family, that you should have brought me as far as I have come?"

1Ch 17:17 And yet, even this you now consider too little, O God! For you have made a promise regarding your servant's family reaching into the distant future, and you have looked on me as henceforth the most notable of men, O LORD God.

1Ch 17:18 What more can David say to you? You know your servant.

1Ch 17:19 O LORD, for your servant's sake and in keeping with your purpose, you have done this great thing.

1Ch 17:20 O LORD, there is no one like you and there is no God but you, just as we have always understood.

1Ch 17:21 "Is there, like your people Israel, whom you redeemed from Egypt, another nation on earth whom a god went to redeem as his people? You won for yourself a name for great and awesome deeds by driving out the nations before your people.

1Ch 17:22 You made your people Israel your own forever, and you, O LORD, became their God.

1Ch 17:23 Therefore, O LORD, may the promise that you have uttered concerning your servant and his house remain firm forever. Bring about what you have promised,

1Ch 17:24 that your renown as LORD of hosts, God of Israel, may be great and abide forever, while the house of David, your servant, is established in your presence.

1Ch 17:25 "Because you, O my God, have revealed to your servant that you will build him a house, your servant has made bold to pray before you.

1Ch 17:26 Since you, O LORD, are truly God and have promised this good thing to your servant,

1Ch 17:27 and since you have deigned to bless the house of your servant, so that it will remain forever-- since it is you, O LORD, who blessed it, it is blessed forever."

1Ch 18:1 After this, David defeated the Philistines and subdued them; and he took Gath and its towns away from the control of the Philistines.

1Ch 18:2 He also defeated Moab, and the Moabites became his subjects, paying tribute.

1Ch 18:3 David then defeated Hadadezer, king of Zobah toward Hamath, when the latter was on his way to set up his victory stele at the river Euphrates.

1Ch 18:4 David took from him twenty thousand foot soldiers, one thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen. Of the chariot horses, David hamstringed all but one hundred.

1Ch 18:5 The Arameans of Damascus came to the aid of Hadadezer, king of Zobah, but David also slew twenty-two thousand of their men.

1Ch 18:6 Then David set up garrisons in the Damascus region of Aram, and the Arameans became his subjects, paying tribute. Thus the LORD made David victorious in all his campaigns.

1Ch 18:7 David took the golden shields that were carried by Hadadezer's attendants and brought them to Jerusalem.

1Ch 18:8 He likewise took away from Tibhath and Cun, cities of Hadadezer, large quantities of bronze, which Solomon later used to make the bronze sea and the pillars and the vessels of bronze.

1Ch 18:9 When Tou, king of Hamath, heard that David had defeated the entire army of Hadadezer, king of Zobah,

1Ch 18:10 he sent his son Hadoram to wish King David well and to congratulate him on having waged a victorious war against Hadadezer; for Hadadezer had been at war with Tou. He also sent David gold, silver and bronze utensils of every sort.

1Ch 18:11 These also King David consecrated to the LORD along with all the silver and gold that he had taken from the nations: from Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, the Philistines, and Amalek.

1Ch 18:12 Abishai, the son of Zeruiah, also slew eighteen thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

1Ch 18:13 He set up garrisons in Edom, and all the Edomites became David's subjects. Thus the LORD made David victorious in all his campaigns.

1Ch 18:14 David reigned over all Israel and dispensed justice and right to all his people.

1Ch 18:15 Joab, son of Zeruiah, was in command of the army; Jehoshaphat, son of Ahilud, was herald;

1Ch 18:16 Zadok, son of Ahitub, and Ahimelech, son of Abiathar, were priests; Shavsha was scribe;

1Ch 18:17 Benaiah, son of Jehoiada, was in command of the Cherethites and the Pelethites; and David's sons were the chief assistants to the king.

1Ch 19:1 Afterward Nahash, king of the Ammonites, died and his son succeeded him as king.

1Ch 19:2 David said, "I will show kindness to Hanun, the son of Nahash, for his father treated me with kindness." Therefore he sent envoys to him to comfort him over the death of his father. But when David's servants had entered the land of the Ammonites to comfort Hanun,

1Ch 19:3 the Ammonite princes said to Hanun, "Do you think David is doing this-- sending you these consolers-- to honor your father? Have not his servants rather come to you to explore the land, spying it out for its overthrow?"

1Ch 19:4 Thereupon Hanun seized David's servants and had them shaved and their garments cut off half-way at the hips. Then he sent them away.

1Ch 19:5 When David was informed of what had happened to his men, he sent messengers to meet them, for the men had been greatly disgraced. "Remain at Jericho," the king told them, "until your beards have grown again; and then you may come back here."

1Ch 19:6 When the Ammonites realized that they had put themselves in bad odor with David, Hanun and the Ammonites sent a thousand talents of silver to hire chariots and horsemen from Aram Naharaim, from Aram-maacah, and from Zobah.

1Ch 19:7 They hired thirty-two thousand chariots along with the king of Maacah and his army, who came and encamped before Medeba. The Ammonites also assembled from their cities and came out for war.

1Ch 19:8 When David heard of this, he sent Joab and his whole army of warriors against them.

1Ch 19:9 The Ammonites marched out and lined up for a battle at the gate of the city, while the kings who had come to their help remained apart in the open field.

1Ch 19:10 When Joab saw that there was a battle line both in front of and behind him, he chose some of the best fighters among the Israelites and set them in array against the Arameans;

1Ch 19:11 the rest of the army, which he placed under the command of his brother Abishai, then lined up to oppose the Ammonites.

1Ch 19:12 And he said: "If the Arameans prove too strong for me, you must come to my help; and if the Ammonites prove too strong for you, I will save you.

1Ch 19:13 Hold steadfast and let us show ourselves courageous for the sake of our people and the cities of our God; then may the LORD do what seems best to him."

1Ch 19:14 Joab therefore advanced with his men to engage the Arameans in battle; but they fled before him.

1Ch 19:15 And when the Ammonites saw that the Arameans had fled, they also took to flight before his brother Abishai, and reentered the city. Joab then returned to Jerusalem.

1Ch 19:16 Seeing themselves vanquished by Israel, the Arameans sent messengers to bring out the Arameans from the other side of the River, with Shophach, the general of Hadadezer's army, at their head.

1Ch 19:17 When this was reported to David, he gathered all Israel together, crossed the Jordan, and met them. With the army of David drawn up to fight the Arameans, they gave battle.

1Ch 19:18 But the Arameans fled before Israel, and David slew seven thousand of their chariot fighters and forty thousand of their foot soldiers; he also killed Shophach, the general of the army.

1Ch 19:19 When the vassals of Hadadezer saw themselves vanquished by Israel, they made peace with David and became his subjects. After this, the Arameans refused to come to the aid of the Ammonites.

1Ch 20:1 At the beginning of the following year, the time when kings go to war, Joab led the army out in force, laid waste the land of the Ammonites, and went on to besiege Rabbah, while David himself remained in Jerusalem. When Joab had attacked Rabbah and destroyed it,

1Ch 20:2 David took the crown of Milcom from the idol's head. It was found to weigh a talent of gold; and it contained precious stones, which David wore on his own head. He also brought out a great amount of booty from the city.

1Ch 20:3 He deported the people of the city and set them to work with saws, iron picks, and axes. Thus David dealt with all the cities of the Ammonites. Then he and his whole army returned to Jerusalem.

1Ch 20:4 Afterward there was another battle with the Philistines, at Gezer. At that time, Sibbecai the Hushathite slew Sippai, one of the descendants of the Raphaim, and the Philistines were subdued.

1Ch 20:5 Once again there was war with the Philistines, and Elhanan, the son of Jair, slew Lahmi, the brother of Goliath of Gath, whose spear shaft was like a weaver's heddle-bar.

1Ch 20:6 In still another battle, at Gath, they encountered a giant, also a descendant of the Raphaim, who had six fingers to each hand and six toes to each foot; twenty-four in all.

1Ch 20:7 He defied Israel, and Jonathan, the son of Shimea, David's brother, slew him.

1Ch 20:8 These were the descendants of the Raphaim of Gath who died at the hands of David and his servants.

1Ch 21:1 A satan rose up against Israel, and he enticed David into taking a census of Israel. Therefore David said, "This is the house of the LORD God, and this is the altar of holocausts for Israel."

1Ch 21:2 David therefore said to Joab and to the other generals of the army, "Go, find out the number of the Israelites from Beer-sheba to Dan, and report back to me that I may know their number."

1Ch 21:3 But Joab replied: "May the LORD increase his people a hundredfold! My lord king, are not all of them my lord's subjects? Why does my lord seek to do this thing? Why will he bring guilt upon Israel?"

1Ch 21:4 However, the king's command prevailed over Joab, who departed and traversed all of Israel, and then returned to Jerusalem.

1Ch 21:5 Joab reported the result of the census to David: of men capable of wielding a sword, there were in all Israel one million one hundred thousand, and in Judah four hundred and seventy thousand.

1Ch 21:6 Levi and Benjamin, however, he did not include in the census, for the king's command was repugnant to Joab.

1Ch 21:7 This command displeased God, who began to punish Israel.

1Ch 21:8 Then David said to God, "I have sinned greatly in doing this thing. Take away your servant's guilt, for I have acted very foolishly."

1Ch 21:9 Then the LORD spoke to Gad, David's seer, in these words:

1Ch 21:10 "Go, tell David: Thus says the LORD: I offer you three alternatives; choose one of them, and I will inflict it on you."

1Ch 21:11 Accordingly, Gad went to David and said to him; "Thus says the LORD: Decide now--

1Ch 21:12 will it be three years of famine; or three months of fleeing your enemies, with the sword of your foes ever at your back; or three days of the LORD'S own sword, a pestilence in the land, with the LORD'S destroying angel in every part of Israel? Therefore choose: What answer am I to give him who sent me?"

1Ch 21:13 Then David said to Gad: "I am in dire straits. But I prefer to fall into the hand of the LORD, whose mercy is very great, than into the hands of men."

1Ch 21:14 Therefore the LORD sent pestilence upon Israel, and seventy thousand men of Israel died.

1Ch 21:15 God also sent an angel to destroy Jerusalem; but as he was on the point of destroying it, the LORD saw and decided against the calamity, and said to the destroying angel, "Enough now! Stay your hand!" The angel of the LORD was then standing by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

1Ch 21:16 When David raised his eyes, he saw the angel of the LORD standing between earth and heaven, with a naked sword in his hand stretched out against Jerusalem. David and the elders, clothed in sackcloth, prostrated themselves face to the ground,

1Ch 21:17 and David prayed to God: "Was it not I who ordered the census of the people? I am the one who sinned, I did this wicked thing. But these sheep, what have they done? O LORD, my God, strike me and my father's family, but do not afflict your people with this plague!"

1Ch 21:18 Then the angel of the LORD commanded Gad to tell David to go up and erect an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

1Ch 21:19 David went up at Gad's command, given in the name of the LORD.

1Ch 21:20 While Ornan was threshing wheat, he turned around and saw the king, and his four sons who were with him, without recognizing them.

1Ch 21:21 But as David came on toward him, he looked up and saw that it was David. Then he left the threshing floor and bowed down before David, his face to the ground.

1Ch 21:22 David said to Ornan: "Sell me the ground of this threshing floor, that I may build on it an altar to the LORD. Sell it to me at its full price, that the plague may be stayed from the people."

1Ch 21:23 But Ornan said to David: "Take it as your own, and let my lord the king do what seems best to him. See, I also give you the oxen for the holocausts, the threshing sledges for the wood, and the wheat for the cereal offering. I give it all to you."

1Ch 21:24 But King David replied to Ornan: "No! I will buy it from you properly, at its full price. I will not take what is yours for the LORD, nor offer up holocausts that cost me nothing."

1Ch 21:25 So David paid Ornan six hundred shekels of gold for the place.

1Ch 21:26 David then built an altar there to the LORD, and offered up holocausts and peace offerings. When he called upon the LORD, he answered him by sending down fire from heaven upon the altar of holocausts.

1Ch 21:27 Then the LORD gave orders to the angel to return his sword to its sheath.

1Ch 21:28 Once David saw that the LORD had heard him on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he continued to offer sacrifices there.

1Ch 21:29 The Dwelling of the LORD, which Moses had built in the desert, and the altar of holocausts were at that time on the high place at Gibeon.

1Ch 21:30 But David could not go there to worship God, for he was fearful of the sword of the angel of the LORD.

1Ch 22:1

1Ch 22:2 David then ordered that all the aliens who lived in the land of Israel be brought together, and he appointed them stonecutters to hew out stone blocks for building the house of God.

1Ch 22:3 He also laid up large stores of iron to make nails for the doors of the gates, and clamps, together with so much bronze that it could not be weighed,

1Ch 22:4 and cedar trees without number. The Sidonians and Tyrians brought great stores of cedar logs to David,

1Ch 22:5 who said: "My son Solomon is young and immature; but the house that is to be built for the LORD must be made so magnificent that it will be renowned and glorious in all countries. Therefore I will make preparations for it." Thus before his death David laid up materials in abundance.

1Ch 22:6 Then he called for his son Solomon and commanded him to build a house for the LORD, the God of Israel.

1Ch 22:7 David said to Solomon: "My son, it was my purpose to build a house myself for the honor of the LORD, my God.

1Ch 22:8 But this word of the LORD came to me: 'You have shed much blood, and you have waged great wars. You may not build a house in my honor, because you have shed too much blood upon the earth in my sight.

1Ch 22:9 However, a son is to be born to you. He will be a peaceful man, and I will give him rest from all his enemies on every side. For Solomon shall be his name, and in his time I will bestow peace and tranquillity on Israel.

1Ch 22:10 It is he who shall build a house in my honor; he shall be a son to me, and I will be a father to him, and I will establish the throne of his kingship over Israel forever.'

1Ch 22:11 Now, my son, the LORD be with you, and may you succeed in building the house of the LORD your God, as he has said you shall.

1Ch 22:12 May the LORD give you prudence and discernment when he brings you to rule over Israel, so that you keep the law of the LORD, your God.

1Ch 22:13 Only then shall you succeed, if you are careful to observe the precepts and decrees which the LORD gave Moses for Israel. Be brave and steadfast; do not fear or lose heart.

1Ch 22:14 See, with great effort I have laid up for the house of the LORD a hundred thousand talents of gold, a million talents of silver, and bronze and iron in such great quantities that they cannot be weighed. I have also stored up wood and stones, to which you must add.

1Ch 22:15 Moreover, you have available an unlimited supply of workmen, stonecutters, masons, carpenters, and every kind of craftsman

1Ch 22:16 skilled in gold, silver, bronze, and iron. Set to work, therefore, and the LORD be with you!"

1Ch 22:17 David also commanded all of Israel's leaders to help his son Solomon:

1Ch 22:18 "Is not the LORD your God with you? Has he not given you rest on every side? Indeed, he has delivered the occupants of the land into my power, and the land is subdued before the LORD and his people.

1Ch 22:19 Therefore, devote your hearts and souls to seeking the LORD your God. Proceed to build the sanctuary of the LORD God, that the ark of the covenant of the LORD and God's sacred vessels may be brought into the house built in honor of the LORD."

1Ch 23:1 When David had grown old and was near the end of his days, he made his son Solomon king over Israel.

1Ch 23:2 He then gathered together all the leaders of Israel, together with the priests and the Levites.

1Ch 23:3 The Levites thirty years old and above were counted, and their total number was found to be thirty-eight thousand men.

1Ch 23:4 Of these, twenty-four thousand were to direct the service of the house of the LORD, six thousand were to be officials and judges, 1Ch 23:5 four thousand were to be gatekeepers, and four thousand were to praise the LORD with the instruments which David had devised for praise.

1Ch 23:6 David divided them into classes according to the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

1Ch 23:7 To the Gershonites belonged Ladan and Shimei.

1Ch 23:8 The sons of Ladan: Jehiel the chief, then Zetham and Joel; three in all.

1Ch 23:9 The sons of Shimei were Shelomoth, Haziël, and Haran; three. These were the heads of the families of Ladan.

1Ch 23:10 The sons of Shimei were Jahath, Zizah, Jeush, and Beriah; these were the sons of Shimei, four in all.

1Ch 23:11 Jahath was the chief and Zizah was second to him; but Jeush and Beriah had not many sons, and therefore they were classed as a single family, fulfilling a single office.

1Ch 23:12 The sons of Kohath: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel; four in all.

1Ch 23:13 The sons of Amram were Aaron and Moses. Aaron was set apart to be consecrated as most holy, he and his sons forever, to offer sacrifice before the LORD, to minister to him, and to bless his name forever.

1Ch 23:14 As for Moses, however, the man of God, his sons were counted as part of the tribe of Levi.

1Ch 23:15 The sons of Moses were Gershom and Eliezer.

1Ch 23:16 The sons of Gershom: Shubael the chief.

1Ch 23:17 The sons of Eliezer were Rehabiah the chief-- Eliezer had no other sons, but the sons of Rehabiah were very numerous.

1Ch 23:18 The sons of Izhar: Shelomith the chief.

1Ch 23:19 The sons of Hebron: Jeriah, the chief, Amariah, the second, Jahaziel, the third, and Jekameam, the fourth.

1Ch 23:20 The sons of Uzziel: Micah, the chief, and Isshiah, the second.

1Ch 23:21 The sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. The sons of Mahli: Eleazar and Kish.

1Ch 23:22 Eleazar died leaving no sons, only daughters; the sons of Kish, their kinsmen, married them.

1Ch 23:23 The sons of Mushi: Mahli, Eder, and Jeremoth; three in all.

1Ch 23:24 These were the sons of Levi according to their ancestral houses, the family heads as they were enrolled one by one according to their names. They performed the work of the service of the house of the LORD from twenty years of age upward, 1Ch 23:25 David said: "The LORD, the God of Israel, has given rest to his people, and has taken up his dwelling in Jerusalem.

1Ch 23:26 Henceforth the Levites need not carry the Dwelling or any of its furnishings or equipment.

1Ch 23:27 for David's final orders were to enlist the Levites from the time they were twenty years old.

1Ch 23:28 Rather, their duty shall be to assist the sons of Aaron in the service of the house of the LORD, having charge of the courts, the chambers, and the preservation of everything holy: they shall take part in the service of the house of God.

1Ch 23:29 They shall also have charge of the showbread, of the fine flour for the cereal offering, of the wafers of unleavened bread, and of the baking and mixing, and of all measures of quantity and size.

1Ch 23:30 They must be present every morning to offer thanks and to praise the LORD, and likewise in the evening;

1Ch 23:31 and at every offering of holocausts to the LORD on sabbaths, new moons, and feast days, in such numbers as are prescribed, they must always be present before the LORD.

1Ch 23:32 They shall observe what is prescribed for them concerning the meeting tent, the sanctuary, and the sons of Aaron, their brethren, in the service of the house of the LORD."

1Ch 24:1 The descendants of Aaron also were divided into classes. The sons of Aaron were Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

1Ch 24:2 Nadab and Abihu died before their father, leaving no sons; therefore only Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests.

1Ch 24:3 David, with Zadok, a descendant of Eleazar, and Ahimelech, a descendant of Ithamar, assigned the functions for the priestly service.

1Ch 24:4 But since the descendants of Eleazar were found to be more numerous than those of Ithamar, the former were divided into sixteen groups, and the latter into eight groups, each under its family head.

1Ch 24:5 Their functions were assigned impartially by lot, for there were officers of the holy place, and officers of the divine presence, descended both from Eleazar and from Ithamar.

1Ch 24:6 The scribe Shemaiah, son of Nethanel, a Levite, made a record of it in the presence of the king, and of the leaders, of Zadok the priest, and of Ahimelech, son of Abiathar, and of the heads of the ancestral houses of the priests and of the Levites, listing two successive family groups from Eleazar before each one from Ithamar.

1Ch 24:7 The first lot fell to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,

1Ch 24:8 the third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

1Ch 24:9 the fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,

1Ch 24:10 the seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

1Ch 24:11 the ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

1Ch 24:12 the eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,

1Ch 24:13 the thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Ishbaal,

1Ch 24:14 the fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,
1Ch 24:15 the seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizez,
1Ch 24:16 the nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezkel,
1Ch 24:17 the twenty-first to Jachin, the twenty-second to Gamul,
1Ch 24:18 the twenty-third to Delaiah, the twenty-fourth to Maaziah.
1Ch 24:19 This was the appointed order of their service when they functioned in the house of the LORD in keeping with the precepts given them by Aaron, their father, as the LORD, the God of Israel, had commanded him.
1Ch 24:20 Of the remaining Levites, there were Shubael, of the descendants of Amram, and Jehdeiah, of the descendants of Shubael;
1Ch 24:21 Isshiah, the chief, of the descendants of Rehabiah;
1Ch 24:22 Shelomith of the Izharites, and Jahath of the descendants of Shelomith.
1Ch 24:23 The descendants of Hebron were Jeriah, the chief, Amariah, the second, Jahaziel, the third, Jekameam, the fourth.
1Ch 24:24 The descendants of Uzziel were Micah; Shamir, of the descendants of Micah;
1Ch 24:25 Isshiah, the brother of Micah; and Zechariah, a descendant of Isshiah.
1Ch 24:26 The descendants of Merari were Mahli, Mushi, and the descendants of his son Uziah.
1Ch 24:27 The descendants of Merari through his son Uziah: Shoham, Zaccur, and Ibri.
1Ch 24:28 Descendants of Mahli were Eleazar, who had no sons,
1Ch 24:29 and Jerahmeel, of the descendants of Kish.
1Ch 24:30 The descendants of Mushi were Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the descendants of the Levites according to their ancestral houses.
1Ch 24:31 They too, in the same manner as their relatives, the descendants of Aaron, cast lots in the presence of King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, and the heads of the priestly and levitical families; the more important family did so in the same way as the less important one.
1Ch 25:1 David and the leaders of the liturgical cult set apart for service the descendants of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun, as singers of inspired songs to the accompaniment of lyres and harps and cymbals. This is the list of those who performed this service:
1Ch 25:2 Of the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asharelah, sons of Asaph, under the direction of Asaph, who sang inspired songs under the guidance of the king.
1Ch 25:3 Of Jeduthun, these sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiiah, Shimei, Hashabiah, and Mattithiah; six, under the direction of their father Jeduthun, who sang inspired songs to the accompaniment of a lyre, to give thanks and praise to the LORD.
1Ch 25:4 Of Heman, these sons of Heman: Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shubael, and Jerimoth; Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, Romamti-ezer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.
1Ch 25:5 All these were the sons of Heman, the king's seer in divine matters; to enhance his prestige, God gave Heman fourteen sons and three daughters.
1Ch 25:6 All these, whether of Asaph, Jeduthun, or Heman, were under their fathers' direction in the singing in the house of the LORD to the accompaniment of cymbals, harps and lyres, serving in the house of God, under the guidance of the king.
1Ch 25:7 Their number, together with that of their brethren who were trained in singing to the LORD, all of them skilled men, was two hundred and eighty-eight.
1Ch 25:8 They cast lots for their functions equally, young and old, master and pupil alike.
1Ch 25:9 The first lot fell to Asaph, the family of Joseph; he and his sons and his brethren were twelve. Gedaliah was the second; he and his brethren and his sons were twelve.
1Ch 25:10 The third was Zaccur, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:11 The fourth fell to Izri, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:12 The fifth was Nethaniah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:13 The sixth was Bukkiah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:14 The seventh was Jesarelah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:15 The eighth was Jeshaiiah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:16 The ninth was Mattaniah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:17 The tenth was Shimei, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:18 The eleventh was Uzziel, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:19 The twelfth fell to Hashabiah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:20 The thirteenth was Shubael, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:21 The fourteenth was Mattithiah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:22 The fifteenth fell to Jeremoth, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:23 The sixteenth fell to Hananiah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.

1Ch 25:24 The seventeenth fell to Joshbekashah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:25 The eighteenth fell to Hanani, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:26 The nineteenth fell to Mallothi, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:27 The twentieth fell to Eliathah, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:28 The twenty-first fell to Hothir, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:29 The twenty-second fell to Giddalti, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:30 The twenty-third fell to Mahazioth, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 25:31 The twenty-fourth fell to Romamti-ezer, his sons, and his brethren: twelve.
1Ch 26:1 As for the classes of gatekeepers. Of the Korahites was Meshelemiah, the son of Kore, one of the sons of Abiasaph.
1Ch 26:2 Meshelemiah's sons: Zechariah, the first-born, Jediael, the second son, Zebadiah, the third, Jathniel, the fourth,
1Ch 26:3 Elam, the fifth, Jehohanan, the sixth, Eliehoenai, the seventh.
1Ch 26:4 Obed-edom's sons: Shemaiah, the first-born, Jehozabad, a second son, Joah, the third, Sachar, the fourth, Nethanel, the fifth,
1Ch 26:5 Ammiel, the sixth, Issachar, the seventh, Peullethai, the eighth, for God blessed him.
1Ch 26:6 To his son Shemaiah were born sons who ruled over their family, for they were warriors.
1Ch 26:7 The sons of Shemaiah were Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad; also his brethren who were men of might, Elihu and Semachiah.
1Ch 26:8 All these were the sons of Obed-edom, who, together with their sons and their brethren, were mighty men, fit for the service. Of Obed-edom, sixty-two.
1Ch 26:9 Of Meshelemiah, eighteen sons and brethren, mighty men.
1Ch 26:10 Hosah, a descendant of Merari, had these sons: Shimri, the chief (for though he was not the first-born, his father made him chief),
1Ch 26:11 Hilkiyah, the second son, Tebaliah, the third, Zechariah, the fourth. All the sons and brethren of Hosah were thirteen.
1Ch 26:12 To these classes of gatekeepers, under their chief men, were assigned watches in the service of the house of the LORD, for each group in the same way.
1Ch 26:13 They cast lots for each gate, the small and the large families alike.
1Ch 26:14 When the lot was cast for the east side, it fell to Meshelemiah. Then they cast lots for his son Zechariah, a prudent counselor, and the north side fell to his lot.
1Ch 26:15 To Obed-edom fell the south side, and to his sons the storehouse.
1Ch 26:16 To Hosah fell the west side with the Shallecheth gate at the ascending highway. For each family, watches were established.
1Ch 26:17 On the east, six watched each day, on the north, four each day, on the south, four each day, and at the storehouse they were two and two;
1Ch 26:18 as for the large building on the west, there were four at the highway and two at the large building.
1Ch 26:19 These were the classes of the gatekeepers, descendants of Kore and Merari.
1Ch 26:20 Their brother Levites superintended the stores for the house of God and the stores of votive offerings.
1Ch 26:21 Among the descendants of Ladan the Gershonite, the family heads were descendants of Jehiel: the descendants of Jehiel,
1Ch 26:22 Zetham and his brother Joel, who superintended the treasures of the house of the LORD.
1Ch 26:23 From the Amramites, Izharites, Hebronites, and Uzzielites, 1Ch 26:24 Shubael, son of Gershon, son of Moses, was chief superintendent over the treasures.
1Ch 26:25 His associate pertained to Eliezer, whose son was Rehabiah, whose son was Jeshaiyah, whose son was Joram, whose son was Zichri, whose son was Shelomith.
1Ch 26:26 This Shelomith and his brethren superintended all the stores of the votive offerings dedicated by King David, the heads of the families, the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and the commanders of the army,
1Ch 26:27 from the booty they had taken in the wars, for the enhancement of the house of the LORD.
1Ch 26:28 Also, whatever Samuel the seer, Saul, son of Kish, Abner, son of Ner, Joab, son of Zeruiyah, and all others had consecrated, was under the charge of Shelomith and his brethren.
1Ch 26:29 Among the Izharites, Chenaniah and his sons were in charge of Israel's civil affairs as officials and judges.
1Ch 26:30 Among the Hebronites, Hashabiah and his brethren, one thousand seven hundred police officers, had the administration of Israel on the western side of the Jordan in all the work of the LORD and in the service of the king.
1Ch 26:31 Among the Hebronites, Jerijah was their chief according to their family records. In the fortieth year of David's reign search was made, and there were found among them outstanding officers at Jazer of Gilead.

1Ch 26:32 His brethren were also police officers, two thousand seven hundred heads of families. King David appointed them to the administration of the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh in everything pertaining to God and to the king.

1Ch 27:1 This is the list of the Israelite family heads, commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and other officers who served the king in all that pertained to the divisions, of twenty-four thousand men each, that came and went month by month throughout the year.

1Ch 27:2 Over the first division for the first month was Ishbaal, son of Zabdiel, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men;

1Ch 27:3 a descendant of Perez, he was chief over all the commanders of the army for the first month.

1Ch 27:4 Over the division of the second month was Eleazar, son of Dodo, from Ahoh, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:5 The third army commander, chief for the third month, was Benaiah, son of Jehoiada the priest, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:6 This Benaiah was a warrior among the Thirty and over the Thirty. His son Ammizabad was over his division.

1Ch 27:7 Fourth, for the fourth month, was Asahel, brother of Joab, and after him his son Zebadiah, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:8 Fifth, for the fifth month, was the commander Shamhuth, a descendant of Zerah, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:9 Sixth, for the sixth month, was Ira, son of Ikkesh, from Tekoa, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:10 Seventh, for the seventh month, was Hellez, from Beth-phelet, of the sons of Ephraim, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:11 Eighth, for the eighth month, was Sibbecai the Hushathite, a descendant of Zerah, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:12 Ninth, for the ninth month, was Abiezer from Anathoth, of Benjamin, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:13 Tenth, for the tenth month, was Maharai from Netophah, a descendant of Zerah, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:14 Eleventh, for the eleventh month, was Benaiah the Pirathonite, of Ephraim, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:15 Twelfth, for the twelfth month, was Heldai the Netophathite, of the family of Othniel, and in his division were twenty-four thousand men.

1Ch 27:16 Over the tribes of Israel, for the Reubenites the leader was Eliezer, son of Zichri; for the Simeonites, Shephatiah, son of Maacah;

1Ch 27:17 for Levi, Hashabiah, son of Kemuel; for Aaron, Zadok;

1Ch 27:18 for Judah, Eliab, one of David's brothers; for Issachar, Omri, son of Michael;

1Ch 27:19 for Zebulun, Ishmaiah, son of Obadiah; for Naphtali, Jeremoth, son of Azriel;

1Ch 27:20 for the sons of Ephraim, Hoshea, son of Azaziah; for the half-tribe of Manasseh, Joel, son of Pedaiiah;

1Ch 27:21 for the half-tribe of Manasseh in Gilead, Iddo, son of Zechariah; for Benjamin, Jaasiel, son of Abner;

1Ch 27:22 for Dan, Azarel, son of Jeroham. These were the commanders of the tribes of Israel.

1Ch 27:23 David did not count those who were twenty years of age or younger, for the LORD had promised to multiply Israel like the stars of the heavens.

1Ch 27:24 Joab, son of Zeruiah, began to take the census, but he did not complete it, for because of it wrath fell upon Israel. Therefore the number did not enter into the book of chronicles of King David.

1Ch 27:25 Over the treasures of the king was Azmaveth, the son of Adiel. Over the stores in the country, the cities, the villages, and the towers was Jonathan, son of Uziah.

1Ch 27:26 Over the farm workers who tilled the soil was Ezri, son of Chelub.

1Ch 27:27 Over the vineyards was Shimei from Ramah, and over their produce for the wine cellars was Zabdi the Shiphmite.

1Ch 27:28 Over the olive trees and sycamores of the foothills was Baalhanan the Gederite, and over the stores of oil was Joash.

1Ch 27:29 Over the cattle that grazed in Sharon was Shitrai the Sharonite, and over the cattle in the valleys was Shaphat, the son of Adlai;

1Ch 27:30 over the camels was Obil the Ishmaelite; over the she-asses was Jehdeiah the Meronothite;

1Ch 27:31 and over the flocks was Jaziz the Hagrite. All these were the overseers of King David's possessions.

1Ch 27:32 Jonathan, David's uncle and a man of intelligence, was counselor and scribe; he and Jehiel, the son of Hachmoni, were tutors of the king's sons.

1Ch 27:33 Ahithophel was also the king's counselor, and Hushai the Archite was the king's confidant.

1Ch 27:34 After Ahithophel came Jehoiada, the son of Benaiah, and Abiathar. The commander of the king's army was Joab.

1Ch 28:1 David assembled at Jerusalem all the leaders of Israel, the heads of the tribes, the commanders of the divisions who were in the service of the king, the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, the overseers of all the king's estates and possessions, and his sons, together with the courtiers, the warriors, and every important man.

1Ch 28:2 King David rose to his feet and said: "Hear me, my brethren and my people. It was my purpose to build a house of repose myself for the ark of the covenant of the LORD, the footstool for the feet of our God; and I was preparing to build it.

1Ch 28:3 But God said to me, 'You may not build a house in my honor, for you are a man who fought wars and shed blood.'

1Ch 28:4 However, the LORD, the God of Israel, chose me from all my father's family to be king over Israel forever. For he chose Judah as leader, then one family of Judah, that of my father; and finally, among all the sons of my father, it pleased him to make me king over all Israel.

1Ch 28:5 And of all my sons-- for the LORD has given me many sons-- he has chosen my son Solomon to sit on the LORD'S royal throne over Israel.

1Ch 28:6 For he said to me: 'It is your son Solomon who shall build my house and my courts, for I have chosen him for my son, and I will be a father to him.

1Ch 28:7 I will establish his kingdom forever, if he perseveres in keeping my commandments and decrees as he keeps them now.'

1Ch 28:8 Therefore, in the presence of all Israel, the assembly of the LORD, and in the hearing of our God, I exhort you to keep and to carry out all the commandments of the LORD, your God, that you may continue to possess this good land and afterward leave it as an inheritance to your children forever.

1Ch 28:9 "As for you, Solomon, my son, know the God of your father and serve him with a perfect heart and a willing soul, for the LORD searches all hearts and understands all the mind's thoughts. If you seek him, he will let himself be found by you; but if you abandon him, he will cast you off forever.

1Ch 28:10 See, then! The LORD has chosen you to build a house as his sanctuary. Take courage and set to work."

1Ch 28:11 Then David gave to his son Solomon the pattern of the portico and of the building itself, with its storerooms, its upper rooms and inner chambers, and the room with the propitiatory.

1Ch 28:12 He provided also the pattern for all else that he had in mind by way of courts for the house of the LORD, with the surrounding compartments for the stores for the house of God and the stores of the votive offerings,

1Ch 28:13 as well as for the divisions of the priests and Levites, for all the work of the service of the house of the LORD, and for all the liturgical vessels of the house of the LORD.

1Ch 28:14 He specified the weight of gold to be used in the golden vessels for the various services and the weight of silver to be used in the silver vessels for the various services;

1Ch 28:15 likewise for the golden lampstands and their lamps he specified the weight of gold for each lampstand and its lamps, and for the silver lampstands he specified the weight of silver for each lampstand and its lamps, depending on the use to which each lampstand was to be put.

1Ch 28:16 He specified the weight of gold for each table to hold the showbread, and the silver for the silver tables;

1Ch 28:17 the pure gold to be used for the forks and pitchers; the amount of gold for each golden bowl and the silver for each silver bowl;

1Ch 28:18 the refined gold, and its weight, to be used for the altar of incense; and, finally, gold for what would suggest a chariot throne: the cherubim that spread their wings and covered the ark of the covenant of the LORD.

1Ch 28:19 He had successfully committed to writing the exact specifications of the pattern, because the hand of the LORD was upon him.

1Ch 28:20 Then David said to his son Solomon: "Be firm and steadfast; go to work without fear or discouragement, for the LORD God, my God, is with you. He will not fail you or abandon you before you have completed all the work for the service of the house of the LORD.

1Ch 28:21 The classes of the priests and Levites are ready for all the service of the house of God; they will help you in all your work with all those who are eager to show their skill in every kind of craftsmanship. Also the leaders and all the people will do everything that you command."

1Ch 29:1 King David then said to the whole assembly: "My son Solomon, whom alone God has chosen, is still young and immature; the work, however, is great, for this castle is not intended for man, but for the LORD God.

1Ch 29:2 For this reason I have stored up for the house of my God, as far as I was able, gold for what will be made of gold, silver for what will be made of silver, bronze for what will be made of bronze, iron for what will be made of iron, wood for what will be made of wood, onyx stones and settings for them, carnelian and mosaic stones, every other kind of precious stone, and great quantities of marble.

1Ch 29:3 But now, because of the delight I take in the house of my God, in addition to all that I stored up for the holy house, I give to the house of my God my personal fortune in gold and silver:

1Ch 29:4 three thousand talents of Ophir gold, and seven thousand talents of refined silver, for overlaying the walls of the rooms,

1Ch 29:5 for the various utensils to be made of gold and silver, and for every work that is to be done by artisans. Now, who else is willing to contribute generously this day to the LORD?"

1Ch 29:6 Then the heads of the families, the leaders of the tribes of Israel, the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and the overseers of the king's affairs came forward willingly

1Ch 29:7 and contributed for the service of the house of God five thousand talents and ten thousand darics of gold, ten thousand talents of silver, eighteen thousand talents of bronze, and one hundred thousand talents of iron.

1Ch 29:8 Those who had precious stones gave them into the keeping of Jehiel the Gershonite for the treasury of the house of the LORD.

1Ch 29:9 The people rejoiced over these free-will offerings, which had been contributed to the LORD wholeheartedly. King David also rejoiced greatly.

1Ch 29:10 Then David blessed the LORD in the presence of the whole assembly, praying in these words: "Blessed may you be, O LORD, God of Israel our father, from eternity to eternity.

1Ch 29:11 "Yours, O LORD, are grandeur and power, majesty, splendor, and glory. For all in heaven and on earth is yours; yours, O LORD, is the sovereignty; you are exalted as head over all.

1Ch 29:12 "Riches and honor are from you, and you have dominion over all. In your hand are power and might; it is yours to give grandeur and strength to all.

1Ch 29:13 Therefore, our God, we give you thanks and we praise the majesty of your name."

1Ch 29:14 "But who am I, and who are my people, that we should have the means to contribute so freely? For everything is from you, and we only give you what we have received from you.

1Ch 29:15 For we stand before you as aliens: we are only your guests, like all our fathers. Our life on earth is like a shadow that does not abide.

1Ch 29:16 O LORD our God, all this wealth that we have brought together to build you a house in honor of your holy name comes from you and is entirely yours.

1Ch 29:17 I know, O my God, that you put hearts to the test and that you take pleasure in uprightness. With a sincere heart I have willingly given all these things, and now with joy I have seen your people here present also giving to you generously.

1Ch 29:18 O LORD, God of our fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, keep such thoughts in the hearts and minds of your people forever, and direct their hearts toward you.

1Ch 29:19 Give to my son Solomon a wholehearted desire to keep your commandments, precepts, and statutes, that he may carry out all these plans and build the castle for which I have made preparation."

1Ch 29:20 Then David besought the whole assembly, "Now bless the LORD your God!" And the whole assembly blessed the LORD, the God of their fathers, bowing down and prostrating themselves before the LORD and before the king.

1Ch 29:21 On the following day they offered sacrifices and holocausts to the LORD, a thousand bulls, a thousand rams, and a thousand lambs, together with their libations and many other sacrifices for all Israel;

1Ch 29:22 and on that day they ate and drank in the LORD'S presence with great rejoicing. Then for a second time they proclaimed David's son Solomon king, and they anointed him as the LORD'S prince, and Zadok as priest.

1Ch 29:23 Thereafter Solomon sat on the throne of the LORD as king in place of his father David; he prospered, and all Israel obeyed him.

1Ch 29:24 All the leaders and warriors, and also all the other sons of King David, swore allegiance to King Solomon.

1Ch 29:25 And the LORD exalted Solomon greatly in the eyes of all Israel, giving him a glorious reign such as had not been enjoyed by any king over Israel before him.

1Ch 29:26 Thus David, the son of Jesse, had reigned over all Israel.

1Ch 29:27 The time that he reigned over Israel was forty years: in Hebron he reigned seven years, and in Jerusalem thirty-three.

1Ch 29:28 He died at a ripe old age, rich in years and wealth and glory, and his son Solomon succeeded him as king.

1Ch 29:29 Now the deeds of King David, first and last, can be found written in the history of Samuel the seer, the history of Nathan the prophet, and the history of Gad the seer, 1Ch 29:30 together with the particulars of his reign and valor, and of the events that affected him and all Israel and all the kingdoms of the surrounding lands.

2Ch 1:1 Solomon, son of David, strengthened his hold on the kingdom, for the LORD, his God, was with him, constantly making him more renowned.

2Ch 1:2 He sent a summons to all Israel, to the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, the judges, the princes of all Israel, and the family heads;

2Ch 1:3 and, accompanied by the whole assembly, he went to the high place at Gibeon, because the meeting tent of God, made in the desert by Moses, the LORD'S servant, was there.

2Ch 1:4 (The ark of God, however, David had brought up from Kiriath-jearim to Jerusalem, where he had provided a place and pitched a tent for it.)

2Ch 1:5 The bronze altar made by Bezalel, son of Uri, son of Hur, he put in front of the LORD'S Dwelling on the high place. There Solomon and the assembly consulted the LORD, 2Ch 1:6 and Solomon offered sacrifice in the LORD'S presence on the bronze altar at the meeting tent; he offered a thousand holocausts upon it.

2Ch 1:7 That night God appeared to Solomon and said to him, "Make a request of me, and I will grant it to you."

2Ch 1:8 Solomon answered God: "You have shown great favor to my father David, and you have allowed me to succeed him as king.

2Ch 1:9 Now, LORD God, may your promise to my father David be fulfilled, for you have made me king over a people as numerous as the dust of the earth.

2Ch 1:10 Give me, therefore, wisdom and knowledge to lead this people, for otherwise who could rule this great people of yours?"

2Ch 1:11 God then replied to Solomon: "Since this has been your wish and you have not asked for riches, treasures and glory, nor for the life of those who hate you, nor even for a long life for yourself, but have asked for wisdom and knowledge in order to rule my people over whom I have made you king,

2Ch 1:12 wisdom and knowledge are given you; but I will also give you riches, treasures and glory, such as kings before you never had, nor will those have them who come after you."

2Ch 1:13 Solomon returned to Jerusalem from the high place at Gibeon, from the meeting tent, and became king over Israel.

2Ch 1:14 He gathered together chariots and drivers, so that he had one thousand four hundred chariots and twelve thousand drivers he could station in the chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem.

2Ch 1:15 The king made silver and gold as common in Jerusalem as stones, while cedars became as numerous as the sycamores of the foothills.

2Ch 1:16 Solomon also imported horses from Egypt and Cilicia. The king's agents would acquire them by purchase from Cilicia, 2Ch 1:17 and would then bring up chariots from Egypt and export them at six hundred silver shekels, with the horses going for a hundred and fifty shekels. At these rates they served as middlemen for all the Hittite and Aramean kings.

2Ch 1:18 Solomon gave orders for the building of a house to honor the LORD and also of a house for his own royal estate.

2Ch 2:1 He conscripted seventy thousand men to carry stone and eighty thousand to cut the stone in the mountains, and over these he placed three thousand six hundred overseers.

2Ch 2:2 Moreover, Solomon sent this message to Hiram, king of Tyre: "As you dealt with my father David, sending him cedars to build a house for his dwelling, so deal with me.

2Ch 2:3 I intend to build a house for the honor of the LORD, my God, and to consecrate it to him, for the burning of fragrant incense in his presence, for the perpetual display of the showbread, for holocausts morning and evening, and for the sabbaths, new moons, and festivals of the LORD, our God: such is Israel's perpetual obligation.

2Ch 2:4 And the house I intend to build must be large, for our God is greater than all other gods.

2Ch 2:5 Yet who is really able to build him a house, since the heavens and even the highest heavens cannot contain him? And who am I that I should build him a house, unless it be to offer incense in his presence?

2Ch 2:6 Now, send me men skilled at work in gold, silver, bronze and iron, in purple, crimson, and violet fabrics, and who know how to do engraved work, to join the craftsmen who are with me in Judah and Jerusalem, whom my father David appointed.

2Ch 2:7 Also send me boards of cedar, cypress and cabinet wood from Lebanon, for I realize that your servants know how to cut the wood of the Lebanon. My servants will labor with yours

2Ch 2:8 in order to prepare for me a great quantity of wood, since the house I intend to build must be lofty and wonderful.

2Ch 2:9 I will furnish as food for your servants, the hewers who cut the wood, twenty thousand kors of wheat, twenty thousand kors of barley, twenty thousand measures of wine, and twenty thousand measures of oil."

2Ch 2:10 Hiram, king of Tyre, wrote an answer which he sent to Solomon: "Because the LORD loves his people, he has placed you over them as king."

2Ch 2:11 He added: "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who made heaven and earth, for having given King David a wise son of intelligence and understanding, who will build a house for the LORD and also a house for his royal estate.

2Ch 2:12 I am now sending you a craftsman of great skill, Hiram-abi,

2Ch 2:13 son of a Danite woman and of a father from Tyre; he knows how to work with gold, silver, bronze and iron, with stone and wood, with purple, violet, fine linen and crimson, and also how to do all kinds of engraved work and to devise every type of artistic work that may be given him and your craftsmen and the craftsmen of my lord David your father.

2Ch 2:14 And now, let my lord send to his servants the wheat, barley, oil and wine which he has promised.

2Ch 2:15 For our part, we will cut trees on Lebanon, as many as you need, and float them down to you at the port of Joppa, whence you may take them up to Jerusalem."

2Ch 2:16 Thereupon Solomon took a census of all the alien men who were in the land of Israel (following the census David his father had taken of them), who were found to number one hundred fifty-three thousand six hundred.

2Ch 2:17 Of these he made seventy thousand carriers and eighty thousand cutters in the mountains, and three thousand six hundred overseers to keep the people working.

2Ch 3:1 Then Solomon began to build the house of the LORD in Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, which had been pointed out to his father David, on the spot which David had selected, the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

2Ch 3:2 He began to build in the second month of the fourth year of his reign.

2Ch 3:3 These were the specifications laid down by Solomon for building the house of God: the length was sixty cubits according to the old measure, and the width was twenty cubits;

2Ch 3:4 the porch which lay before the nave along the width of the house was also twenty cubits, and it was twenty cubits high. He overlaid its interior with pure gold.

2Ch 3:5 The nave he overlaid with cypress wood which he covered with fine gold, embossing on it palms and chains.

2Ch 3:6 He also decorated the building with precious stones.

2Ch 3:7 The house, its beams and thresholds, as well as its walls and its doors, he overlaid with gold, and he engraved cherubim upon the walls. (The gold was from Parvaim.)

2Ch 3:8 He also made the room of the holy of holies. Its length corresponded to the width of the house, twenty cubits, and its width was also twenty cubits. He overlaid it with fine gold to the amount of six hundred talents.

2Ch 3:9 The weight of the nails was fifty gold shekels. The upper chambers he likewise covered with gold.

2Ch 3:10 For the room of the holy of holies he made two cherubim of carved workmanship, which were then overlaid with gold.

2Ch 3:11 The wings of the cherubim spanned twenty cubits:

2Ch 3:12 one wing of each cherub, five cubits in length, extended to a wall of the building, while the other wing, also five cubits in length, touched the corresponding wing of the second cherub.

2Ch 3:13 The combined wingspread of the two cherubim was thus twenty cubits. They stood upon their own feet, facing toward the nave.

2Ch 3:14 He made the veil of violet, purple, crimson and fine linen, and had cherubim embroidered upon it.

2Ch 3:15 In front of the building he set two columns thirty-five cubits high; the capital topping each was of five cubits.

2Ch 3:16 He worked out chains in the form of a collar with which he encircled the capitals of the columns, and he made a hundred pomegranates which he set on the chains.

2Ch 3:17 He set up the columns to correspond with the nave, one for the right side and the other for the left, and he called the one to the right Jachin and the one to the left Boaz.

2Ch 4:1 Then he made a bronze altar twenty cubits long, twenty cubits wide and ten cubits high.

2Ch 4:2 He also made the molten sea. It was perfectly round, ten cubits in diameter, five in depth, and thirty in circumference;

2Ch 4:3 below the rim a ring of figures of oxen encircled the sea, ten to the cubit, all the way around; there were two rows of these cast in the same mold with the sea.

2Ch 4:4 It rested on twelve oxen, three facing north, three west, three south, and three east, with their haunches all toward the center; the sea rested on their backs.

2Ch 4:5 It was a handbreadth thick, and its brim was made like that of a cup, being lily-shaped. It had a capacity of three thousand measures.

2Ch 4:6 Then he made ten basins for washing, placing five of them to the right and five to the left. Here were cleansed the victims for the holocausts; but the sea was for the priests to wash in.

2Ch 4:7 He made the lampstands of gold, ten of them as was prescribed, and placed them in the nave, five to the right and five to the left.

2Ch 4:8 He made ten tables and had them set in the nave, five to the right and five to the left; and he made a hundred golden bowls.

2Ch 4:9 He made the court of the priests and the great courtyard and the gates of the courtyard; the gates he overlaid with bronze.

2Ch 4:10 The sea was placed off to the southeast from the right side of the temple.

2Ch 4:11 Hiram also made the pots, the shovels and the bowls. Hiram thus completed the work he had to do for King Solomon in the house of God:

2Ch 4:12 two columns, two nodes for the capitals topping these two columns, and two networks covering the nodes of the capitals topping the columns;

2Ch 4:13 also four hundred pomegranates for the two networks, with two rows of pomegranates to each network, to cover the two nodes of the capitals topping the columns.

2Ch 4:14 He made the stands, and the basins on the stands;

2Ch 4:15 one sea, and the twelve oxen under it;

2Ch 4:16 likewise the pots, the shovels and the forks. Hiram-abi made all these articles for King Solomon from polished bronze for the house of the LORD.

2Ch 4:17 The king had them cast in the Jordan region, in the clayey ground between Succoth and Zeredah.

2Ch 4:18 Solomon made all these vessels, so many in number that the weight of the bronze was not ascertained.

2Ch 4:19 Solomon had all these articles made for the house of God: the golden altar, the tables on which the showbread lay,

2Ch 4:20 the lampstands and their lamps of pure gold which were to burn according to prescription before the sanctuary,

2Ch 4:21 flowers, lamps and gold tongs (this was the purest gold),

2Ch 4:22 snuffers, bowls, cups and firepans of pure gold. As for the entry to the house, its inner doors to the holy of holies, as well as the doors to the nave, were of gold.

2Ch 5:1 When all the work undertaken by Solomon for the temple of the LORD had been completed, he brought in the dedicated offerings of his father David, putting the silver, the gold and all the other articles in the treasuries of the house of God.

2Ch 5:2 At Solomon's order the elders of Israel and all the leaders of the tribes, the princes of the Israelite ancestral houses, came to Jerusalem to bring up the ark of the LORD'S covenant from the City of David (which is Zion).

2Ch 5:3 All the men of Israel assembled before the king during the festival of the seventh month.

2Ch 5:4 When all the elders of Israel had arrived, the Levites took up the ark,

2Ch 5:5 and they carried the ark and the meeting tent with all the sacred vessels that were in the tent; it was the levitical priests who carried them.

2Ch 5:6 King Solomon and the entire community of Israel gathered about him before the ark were sacrificing sheep and oxen so numerous that they could not be counted or numbered.

2Ch 5:7 The priests brought the ark of the covenant of the LORD to its place beneath the wings of the cherubim in the sanctuary, the holy of holies of the temple.

2Ch 5:8 The cherubim had their wings spread out over the place of the ark, sheltering the ark and its poles from above.

2Ch 5:9 The poles were long enough so that their ends could be seen from that part of the holy place nearest the sanctuary; however, they could not be seen beyond. The ark has remained there to this day.

2Ch 5:10 There was nothing in it but the two tablets which Moses put there on Horeb, the tablets of the covenant which the LORD made with the Israelites at their departure from Egypt.

2Ch 5:11 When the priests came out of the holy place (all the priests who were present had purified themselves without reference to the rotation of their various classes),

2Ch 5:12 the Levites who were singers, all who belonged to Asaph, Heman, Jeduthun, and their sons and brothers, clothed in fine linen, with cymbals, harps and lyres, stood east of the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests blowing trumpets.

2Ch 5:13 When the trumpeters and singers were heard as a single voice praising and giving thanks to the LORD, and when they raised the sound of the trumpets, cymbals and other musical instruments to "give thanks to the LORD, for he is good, for his mercy endures forever," the building of the LORD'S temple was filled with a cloud.

2Ch 5:14 The priests could not continue to minister because of the cloud, since the LORD'S glory filled the house of God.

2Ch 6:1 Then Solomon said: "The LORD intends to dwell in the dark cloud.

2Ch 6:2 I have truly built you a princely house and dwelling, where you may abide forever."

2Ch 6:3 Turning about, the king greeted the whole community of Israel as they stood.

2Ch 6:4 He said: "Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, who with his own mouth made a promise to my father David and by his own hands brought it to fulfillment. He said:

2Ch 6:5 'Since the day I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I have not chosen any city from among all the tribes of Israel for the building of a temple to my honor, nor have I chosen any man to be commander of my people Israel;

2Ch 6:6 but now I choose Jerusalem, where I shall be honored, and I choose David to rule my people Israel.'

2Ch 6:7 My father David wished to build a temple to the honor of the LORD, the God of Israel, 2Ch 6:8 but the LORD said to him: 'In wishing to build a temple to my honor, you do well.

2Ch 6:9 However, you shall not build the temple; rather, your son whom you will beget shall build the temple to my honor.'

2Ch 6:10 "Now the LORD has fulfilled the promise that he made. I have succeeded my father David and have taken my seat on the throne of Israel, as the LORD foretold, and I have built the temple to the honor of the LORD, the God of Israel.

2Ch 6:11 And I have placed there the ark, in which abides the covenant of the LORD which he made with the Israelites."

2Ch 6:12 Solomon then took his place before the altar of the LORD in the presence of the whole community of Israel and stretched forth his hands.

2Ch 6:13 He had made a bronze platform five cubits long, five cubits wide, and three cubits high, which he had placed in the middle of the courtyard. Having ascended it, Solomon knelt in the presence of the whole of Israel and stretched forth his hands toward heaven.

2Ch 6:14 Thus he prayed: "LORD, God of Israel, there is no god like you in heaven or on earth; you keep your covenant and show kindness to your servants who are wholeheartedly faithful to you.

2Ch 6:15 You have kept the promise you made to my father David, your servant. With your own mouth you spoke it, and by your own hand you have brought it to fulfillment this day.

2Ch 6:16 Now, therefore, LORD, God of Israel, keep the further promise you made to my father David, your servant, when you said, 'You shall always have someone from your line to sit before me on the throne of Israel, provided only that your descendants look to their conduct so as always to live according to my law, even as you have lived in my presence.'

2Ch 6:17 Now, LORD, God of Israel, may this promise which you made to your servant David be confirmed.

2Ch 6:18 "Can it indeed be that God dwells with mankind on earth? If the heavens and the highest heavens cannot contain you, how much less this temple which I have built!

2Ch 6:19 Look kindly on the prayer and petition of your servant, O LORD, my God, and listen to the cry of supplication your servant makes before you.

2Ch 6:20 May your eyes watch day and night over this temple, the place where you have decreed you shall be honored; may you heed the prayer which I your servant offer toward this place.

2Ch 6:21 Listen to the petitions of your servant and of your people Israel which they direct toward this place. Listen from your heavenly dwelling, and when you have heard, pardon.

2Ch 6:22 "When any man sins against his neighbor and is required to take an oath of execration against himself, and when he comes for the oath before your altar in this temple,

2Ch 6:23 listen from heaven: take action and pass judgment on your servants, requiting the wicked man and holding him responsible for his conduct, but absolving the innocent and rewarding him according to his virtue.

2Ch 6:24 When your people Israel have sinned against you and are defeated by the enemy, but afterward they return and praise your name, and they pray to you and entreat you in this temple,

2Ch 6:25 listen from heaven and forgive the sin of your people Israel, and bring them back to the land which you gave them and their fathers.

2Ch 6:26 When the sky is closed so that there is no rain, because they have sinned against you, but then they pray toward this place and praise your name, and they withdraw from sin because you afflict them,

2Ch 6:27 listen in heaven and forgive the sin of your servants and of your people Israel. But teach them the right way to live, and send rain upon your land which you gave your people as their heritage.

2Ch 6:28 When there is famine in the land, when there is pestilence, or blight, or mildew, or locusts, or caterpillars; when their enemies besiege them at any of their gates; whenever there is a plague or sickness of any kind;

2Ch 6:29 when any Israelite of all your people offers a prayer or petition of any kind, and in awareness of his affliction and pain, stretches out his hands toward this temple,

2Ch 6:30 listen from your heavenly dwelling place, and forgive. Knowing his heart, render to everyone according to his conduct, for you alone know the hearts of men.

2Ch 6:31 So may they fear you and walk in your ways as long as they live on the land you gave our fathers.

2Ch 6:32 "For the foreigner, too, who is not of your people Israel, when he comes from a distant land to honor your great name, your mighty power, and your outstretched arm, when they come in prayer to this temple,

2Ch 6:33 listen from your heavenly dwelling place, and do whatever the foreigner entreats you, that all the peoples of the earth may know your name, fearing you as do your people Israel, and knowing that this house which I have built is dedicated to your honor.
2Ch 6:34 "When your people go forth to war against their enemies, wherever you send them, and pray to you in the direction of this city and of the house I have built to your honor,
2Ch 6:35 listen from heaven to their prayer and petition, and defend their cause.
2Ch 6:36 When they sin against you (for there is no man who does not sin), and in your anger against them you deliver them to the enemy, so that their captors deport them to another land, far or near,
2Ch 6:37 when they repent in the land where they are captive and are converted, when they entreat you in the land of their captivity and say, 'We have sinned and done wrong; we have been wicked,'
2Ch 6:38 and with their whole heart and with their whole soul they turn back to you in the land of those who hold them captive, when they pray in the direction of their land which you gave their fathers, and of the city you have chosen, and of the house which I have built to your honor,
2Ch 6:39 listen from your heavenly dwelling place, hear their prayer and petitions, and uphold their cause. Forgive your people who have sinned against you.
2Ch 6:40 My God, may your eyes be open and your ears attentive to the prayer of this place.
2Ch 6:41 And now, "Advance, LORD God, to your resting place, you and the ark of your majesty. May your priests, LORD God, be clothed with salvation, may your faithful ones rejoice in good things.
2Ch 6:42 LORD God, reject not the plea of your anointed, remember the devotion of David, your servant."
2Ch 7:1 When Solomon had ended his prayer, fire came down from heaven and consumed the holocaust and the sacrifices, and the glory of the LORD filled the house.
2Ch 7:2 But the priests could not enter the house of the LORD, for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of the LORD.
2Ch 7:3 All the Israelites looked on while the fire came down and the glory of the LORD was upon the house, and they fell down upon the pavement with their faces to the earth and adored, praising the LORD, "for he is good, for his mercy endures forever."
2Ch 7:4 The king and all the people were offering sacrifices before the LORD.
2Ch 7:5 King Solomon offered as sacrifice twenty-two thousand oxen, and one hundred twenty thousand sheep.
2Ch 7:6 Thus the king and all the people dedicated the house of God. The priests were standing at their stations, as were the Levites, with the musical instruments of the LORD which King David had made for "praising the LORD, for his mercy endures forever," when David used them to accompany the hymns. Across from them the priests blew the trumpets and all Israel stood.
2Ch 7:7 Then Solomon consecrated the middle part of the court which lay before the house of the LORD; there he offered the holocausts and the fat of the peace offerings, since the bronze altar which Solomon had made could not hold the holocausts, the cereal offerings and the fat.
2Ch 7:8 On this occasion Solomon and with him all Israel, who had assembled in very large numbers from Labo of Hamath to the Wadi of Egypt, celebrated the festival for seven days.
2Ch 7:9 On the eighth day they held a special meeting, for they had celebrated the dedication of the altar for seven days and the feast for seven days.
2Ch 7:10 On the twenty-third day of the seventh month he sent the people back to their tents, rejoicing and glad at heart at the good things the LORD had done for David, for Solomon, and for his people Israel.
2Ch 7:11 Solomon completed the house of the LORD and the royal palace; he successfully accomplished everything he had planned to do in regard to the house of the LORD and his own house.
2Ch 7:12 The LORD appeared to Solomon during the night and said to him: "I have heard your prayer, and I have chosen this place for my house of sacrifice.
2Ch 7:13 If I close heaven so that there is no rain, if I command the locust to devour the land, if I send pestilence among my people,
2Ch 7:14 and if my people, upon whom my name has been pronounced, humble themselves and pray, and seek my presence and turn from their evil ways, I will hear them from heaven and pardon their sins and revive their land.
2Ch 7:15 Now my eyes shall be open and my ears attentive to the prayer of this place.
2Ch 7:16 And now I have chosen and consecrated this house that my name may be there forever; my eyes and my heart also shall be there always.
2Ch 7:17 "As for you, if you live in my presence as your father David did, doing all that I have commanded you and keeping my statutes and ordinances,
2Ch 7:18 I will establish your royal throne as I covenanted with your father David when I said, 'There shall never be lacking someone of yours as ruler in Israel.'
2Ch 7:19 But if you turn away and forsake my statutes and commands which I placed before you, if you proceed to venerate and worship strange gods,

2Ch 7:20 then I will uproot the people from the land I gave them; I will cast from my sight this house which I have consecrated to my honor, and I will make it a proverb and a byword among all peoples.

2Ch 7:21 This temple which is so exalted-- everyone passing by it will be amazed and ask: 'Why has the LORD done this to this land and to this house?'

2Ch 7:22 And men will answer: 'They forsook the LORD, the God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and they adopted strange gods and worshiped them and served them. That is why he has brought down upon them all this evil.'

2Ch 8:1 After the twenty years during which Solomon built the house of the LORD and his own house, 2Ch 8:2 he built up the cities which Hiram had given him, and settled Israelites there.

2Ch 8:3 Then Solomon went to Hamath of Zoba and conquered it.

2Ch 8:4 He built Tadmor in the desert region and all the supply cities, which he built in Hamath.

2Ch 8:5 He built Upper Beth-horon and Lower Beth-horon, fortified cities with walls, gates and bars;

2Ch 8:6 also Baalath, all the supply cities belonging to Solomon, and all the cities for the chariots, the cities for the horsemen, and whatever else Solomon decided should be built in Jerusalem, in the Lebanon, and in the entire land under his dominion.

2Ch 8:7 All the people that remained of the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, who were not of Israel--

2Ch 8:8 that is, their descendants remaining in the land, whom the Israelites had not destroyed-- Solomon subjected to forced labor, as they continue to this day.

2Ch 8:9 But Solomon did not enslave the Israelites for his works. They became soldiers, commanders of his warriors, and commanders of his chariots and his horsemen.

2Ch 8:10 They were also King Solomon's two hundred and fifty overseers who had charge of the people.

2Ch 8:11 Solomon brought the daughter of Pharaoh up from the City of David to the palace which he had built for her, for he said, "No wife of mine shall dwell in the house of David, king of Israel, for the places where the ark of the LORD has come are holy."

2Ch 8:12 In those times Solomon offered holocausts to the LORD upon the altar of the LORD which he had built in front of the porch,

2Ch 8:13 as was required day by day according to the command of Moses, and in particular on the sabbaths, at the new moons, and on the fixed festivals three times a year: on the feast of the Unleavened Bread, the feast of Weeks and the feast of Booths.

2Ch 8:14 And according to the ordinance of his father David he appointed the various classes of the priests for their service, and the Levites according to their functions of praise and ministry alongside the priests, as the daily duty required. The gatekeepers of the various classes stood guard at each gate, since such was the command of David, the man of God.

2Ch 8:15 There was no deviation from the king's command in any respect relating to the priests and Levites or the treasuries.

2Ch 8:16 All of Solomon's work was carried out successfully from the day the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid until the house of the LORD had been completed in every detail.

2Ch 8:17 In those times Solomon went to Ezion-geber and to Elath on the seashore of the land of Edom.

2Ch 8:18 Hiram, through his servants, sent him ships and crewmen acquainted with the sea, who accompanied Solomon's servants to Ophir and brought back from there four hundred and fifty talents of gold to King Solomon.

2Ch 9:1 When the queen of Sheba heard of Solomon's fame, she came to Jerusalem to test him with subtle questions, accompanied by a very numerous retinue and by camels bearing spices, much gold, and precious stones. She came to Solomon and questioned him on every subject in which she was interested.

2Ch 9:2 Solomon explained to her everything she asked about, and there remained nothing hidden from Solomon that he could not explain to her.

2Ch 9:3 When the queen of Sheba witnessed Solomon's wisdom, the palace he had built, 2Ch 9:4 the food at his table, the seating of his ministers, the attendance of his servants and their dress, his cupbearers and their dress, and the holocausts he offered in the house of the LORD, it took her breath away.

2Ch 9:5 "The account I heard in my country about your deeds and your wisdom is true," she told the king.

2Ch 9:6 "Yet I did not believe the report until I came and saw with my own eyes. I have discovered that they did not tell me the half of your great wisdom; you have surpassed the stories I heard.

2Ch 9:7 Happy are your men, happy these servants of yours, who stand before you always and listen to your wisdom.

2Ch 9:8 Blessed be the LORD, your God, who has been so pleased with you as to place you on his throne as king for the LORD, your God. Because your God has so loved Israel as to will to make it last forever, he has appointed you over them as king to administer right and justice."

2Ch 9:9 Then she gave the king one hundred and twenty gold talents and a very large quantity of spices, as well as precious stones. There was no other spice like that which the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

2Ch 9:10 The servants of Hiram and of Solomon who brought gold from Ophir also brought cabinet wood and precious stones.

2Ch 9:11 With the cabinet wood the king made stairs for the temple of the LORD and the palace of the king; also lyres and harps for the chanters. The like of these had not been seen before in the land of Judah.

2Ch 9:12 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she desired and asked him for, more than she had brought to the king. Then she returned to her own country with her servants.

2Ch 9:13 The gold that Solomon received each year weighed six hundred and sixty-six gold talents,

2Ch 9:14 in addition to what was collected from travelers and what the merchants brought. All the kings of Arabia also, and the governors of the country, brought gold and silver to Solomon.

2Ch 9:15 Moreover, King Solomon made two hundred large shields of beaten gold, six hundred shekels of beaten gold going into each shield, 2Ch 9:16 and three hundred bucklers of beaten gold, three hundred shekels of gold going into each buckler; these the king put in the hall of the Forest of Lebanon.

2Ch 9:17 King Solomon also made a large ivory throne which he overlaid with fine gold.

2Ch 9:18 The throne had six steps; a footstool of gold was fastened to it, and there was an arm on each side of the seat, with two lions standing beside the arms.

2Ch 9:19 Twelve other lions also stood there, one on either side of each step. Nothing like this had ever been produced in any other kingdom.

2Ch 9:20 Furthermore, all of King Solomon's drinking vessels were of gold, and all the utensils in the hall of the Forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; silver was not considered of value in Solomon's time.

2Ch 9:21 For the king had ships that went to Tarshish with the servants of Hiram. Once every three years the fleet of Tarshish would return with a cargo of gold and silver, ivory, apes and monkeys.

2Ch 9:22 Thus King Solomon surpassed all the other kings of the earth in riches as well as in wisdom.

2Ch 9:23 All the kings of the earth sought audience with Solomon, to hear from him the wisdom which God had put in his heart.

2Ch 9:24 Year in and year out, each one would bring his tribute-- silver and gold articles, garments, weapons, spices, horses and mules.

2Ch 9:25 Solomon also had four thousand stalls of horses, chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen, which he assigned to the chariot cities and to the king in Jerusalem.

2Ch 9:26 He was ruler over all the kings from the River to the land of the Philistines and down to the border of Egypt.

2Ch 9:27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, while cedars became as numerous as the sycamores of the foothills.

2Ch 9:28 Horses were imported for Solomon from Egypt and from all the lands.

2Ch 9:29 The rest of the acts of Solomon, first and last, are written, as is well known, in the acts of Nathan the prophet, in the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and in the visions of Iddo the seer which concern Jeroboam, son of Nebat.

2Ch 9:30 Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel for forty years.

2Ch 9:31 He rested with his ancestors; he was buried in his father's City of David, and his son Rehoboam succeeded him as king.

2Ch 10:1 Rehoboam went to Shechem, for all Israel had come to Shechem to proclaim him king.

2Ch 10:2 When Jeroboam, son of Nebat, heard of this in Egypt where he had fled from King Solomon, he returned from Egypt.

2Ch 10:3 Jeroboam was summoned to the assembly, and he and all Israel said to Rehoboam:

2Ch 10:4 "Your father laid a heavy yoke upon us. If you now lighten the harsh service and the heavy yoke that your father imposed on us, we will serve you."

2Ch 10:5 "In three days," he answered them, "come back to me." When the people had departed,

2Ch 10:6 King Rehoboam consulted the elders who had been in the service of his father during Solomon's lifetime, asking, "What answer do you advise me to give this people?"

2Ch 10:7 They replied, "If you will deal kindly with this people and give in to them, acceding to their request, they will be your servants forever."

2Ch 10:8 But he ignored the advice the elders had given him and consulted the young men who had grown up with him and were in his service.

2Ch 10:9 He said to them, "What answer do you advise me to give this people, who have asked me to lighten the yoke my father imposed on them?"

2Ch 10:10 The young men who had grown up with him replied: "This is the answer you should give to this people who have said to you, 'Your father laid a heavy yoke upon us, but do you lighten our yoke'; this you should say to them: 'My little finger is thicker than my father's body."

2Ch 10:11 Whereas my father put a heavy yoke on you, I will make it heavier! My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions!"

2Ch 10:12 On the third day, Jeroboam and all the people came back to King Rehoboam as he had instructed them to do.

2Ch 10:13 Ignoring the advice the elders had given him, the king gave them a harsh answer,

2Ch 10:14 speaking to them according to the advice of the young men: "My father laid a heavy yoke on you, but I will make it heavier. My father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions."

2Ch 10:15 The king would not listen to the people, for this turn of events was divinely ordained to fulfill the prophecy the LORD had uttered to Jeroboam, the son of Nebat, through Ahijah the Shilonite.

2Ch 10:16 When all Israel saw that the king would not listen to them, the people answered the king. "What share have we in David? We have no heritage in the son of Jesse. Everyone to your tents, O Israel! Now look to your own house, David!" So all Israel went off to their tents.

2Ch 10:17 Rehoboam, therefore, reigned over only those Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.

2Ch 10:18 King Rehoboam then sent out Hadoram, who was superintendent of the forced labor, but the Israelites stoned him to death. Rehoboam himself managed to mount his chariot and flee to Jerusalem.

2Ch 10:19 Thus Israel has been in rebellion against David's house to this day.

2Ch 11:1 On his arrival in Jerusalem Rehoboam gathered together the house of Judah and Benjamin, a hundred and eighty thousand seasoned warriors, to have them fight against Israel and restore the kingdom to him.

2Ch 11:2 However, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah, a man of God:

2Ch 11:3 "Say to Rehoboam, son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the Israelites in Judah and Benjamin:

2Ch 11:4 'Thus says the LORD: You must not march out to fight against your brothers. Let every man return home, for what has occurred I have brought about.'" They obeyed this message of the LORD and gave up the expedition against Jeroboam.

2Ch 11:5 Rehoboam took up residence in Jerusalem and built fortified cities in Judah.

2Ch 11:6 He built up Bethlehem, Etam, Tekoa,

2Ch 11:7 Beth-zur, Soco, Adullam,

2Ch 11:8 Gath, Mareshah, Ziph,

2Ch 11:9 Adoraim, Lachish, Azekah,

2Ch 11:10 Zorah, Aijalon, and Hebron; these were fortified cities in Judah and Benjamin.

2Ch 11:11 Then he strengthened the fortifications and put commanders in them, with supplies of food, oil and wine.

2Ch 11:12 In every city were shields and spears, and he made them very strong. Thus Judah and Benjamin remained his.

2Ch 11:13 Now the priests and Levites throughout Israel presented themselves to him from all parts of their land, 2Ch 11:14 for the Levites left their assigned pasture lands and their holdings and came to Judah and Jerusalem, because Jeroboam and his sons repudiated them as priests of the LORD.

2Ch 11:15 In their place, he himself appointed priests for the high places and satyrs and calves he had made.

2Ch 11:16 After them, all those of the Israelite tribes who firmly desired to seek the LORD, the God of Israel, came to Jerusalem to sacrifice to the LORD, the God of their fathers.

2Ch 11:17 Thus they strengthened the kingdom of Judah and made Rehoboam, son of Solomon, prevail for three years; for they walked in the way of David and Solomon three years.

2Ch 11:18 Rehoboam took to himself as wife Mahalath, daughter of Jerimoth, son of David and of Abihail, daughter of Eliab, son of Jesse.

2Ch 11:19 She bore him sons: Jehush, Shemariah and Zaham.

2Ch 11:20 After her, he married Maacah, daughter of Absalom, who bore him Abijah, Attai, Ziza and Shelomith.

2Ch 11:21 Rehoboam loved Maacah, daughter of Absalom, more than all his other wives and concubines; he had taken eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and he fathered twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters.

2Ch 11:22 Rehoboam constituted Abijah, son of Maacah, commander among his brothers, for he intended to make him king.

2Ch 11:23 He acted prudently, distributing various of his sons throughout all the districts of Judah and Benjamin, in all the fortified cities; and he furnished them with copious provisions and sought an abundance of wives for them.

2Ch 12:1 After Rehoboam had consolidated his rule and had become powerful, he abandoned the law of the LORD, he and all Israel with him.

2Ch 12:2 Thus it happened that in the fifth year of King Rehoboam, Shishak, king of Egypt, attacked Jerusalem, for they had been unfaithful to the LORD.

2Ch 12:3 He came up with twelve hundred chariots and sixty thousand horsemen, and there was no counting the army that came with him from Egypt-- Libyans, Sukkites and Ethiopians.

2Ch 12:4 They captured the fortified cities of Judah and came as far as Jerusalem.

2Ch 12:5 Then Shemaiah the prophet came to Rehoboam and the commanders of Judah who had gathered at Jerusalem because of Shishak, and said to them: "Thus says the LORD: 'You have abandoned me, and therefore I have abandoned you to the power of Shishak.'"

2Ch 12:6 However, the commanders of Israel and the king humbled themselves saying, "The LORD is just."

2Ch 12:7 When the LORD saw that they had humbled themselves, the word of the LORD came to Shemaiah: "Because they have humbled themselves, I will not destroy them; I will give them some deliverance, and my wrath shall not be poured out upon Jerusalem through Shishak.

2Ch 12:8 But they shall be his servants, that they may know what it is to serve me and what it is to serve earthly kingdoms."

2Ch 12:9 Therefore Shishak, king of Egypt, attacked Jerusalem and carried off the treasures of the temple of the LORD and of the king's palace. He took everything, including the gold bucklers that Solomon had made.

2Ch 12:10 (To replace them, King Rehoboam made bronze bucklers, which he entrusted to the officers of the guard on duty at the entrance of the royal palace.

2Ch 12:11 Whenever the king visited the temple of the LORD, the troops would come bearing them, and then they would return them to the guardroom.)

2Ch 12:12 Because he had humbled himself, the anger of the LORD turned from him so that it did not destroy him completely; and in Judah, moreover, good deeds were found.

2Ch 12:13 King Rehoboam consolidated his power in Jerusalem and continued to rule; he was forty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city in which, out of all the tribes of Israel, the LORD chose to be honored. Rehoboam's mother was named Naamah, an Ammonite.

2Ch 12:14 He did evil, for he had not truly resolved to seek the LORD.

2Ch 12:15 The acts of Rehoboam, first and last, are written, as is well known, in the history of Shemaiah the prophet and of Iddo the seer (his family record). There was war continually between Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

2Ch 12:16 Rehoboam rested with his ancestors; he was buried in the City of David. His son Abijah succeeded him as king.

2Ch 13:1 In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam, Abijah became king of Judah;

2Ch 13:2 he reigned three years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Michaiah, daughter of Uriel of Gibeah. There was war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

2Ch 13:3 Abijah joined battle with a force of four hundred thousand picked warriors, while Jeroboam lined up against him in battle with eight hundred thousand picked and valiant warriors.

2Ch 13:4 Abijah stood on Mount Zemarim, which is in the highlands of Ephraim, and said: "Listen to me, Jeroboam and all Israel!

2Ch 13:5 Do you not know that the LORD, the God of Israel, has given the kingdom of Israel to David forever, to him and to his sons, by a covenant made in salt?

2Ch 13:6 Yet Jeroboam, son of Nebat, the servant of Solomon, son of David, has stood up and rebelled against his lord!

2Ch 13:7 Worthless men, scoundrels, joined him and overcame Rehoboam, son of Solomon, when Rehoboam was young and unthinking, and no match for them.

2Ch 13:8 But now, do you think you are a match for the kingdom of the LORD commanded by the sons of David, simply because you are a huge multitude and have with you the golden calves which Jeroboam made you for gods?

2Ch 13:9 "Have you not expelled the priests of the LORD, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and made for yourselves priests like the peoples of foreign lands? Everyone who comes to consecrate himself with a young bull and seven rams becomes a priest of no-gods.

2Ch 13:10 But as for us, the LORD is our God, and we have not forsaken him. The priests ministering to the LORD are sons of Aaron, and the Levites also have their offices.

2Ch 13:11 They burn holocausts to the LORD and fragrant incense morning after morning and evening after evening; they display the showbread on the pure table, and the lamps of the golden lampstand burn evening after evening; for we observe our duties to the LORD, our God, but you have abandoned him.

2Ch 13:12 See, God is with us, at our head, and his priests are here with trumpets to sound the attack against you. Do not battle against the LORD, the God of your fathers, O Israelites, for you will not succeed!"

2Ch 13:13 But Jeroboam had an ambush go around them to come at them from the rear; so that while his army faced Judah, his ambush lay behind them.

2Ch 13:14 When Judah turned and saw that they had to battle on both fronts, they cried out to the LORD and the priests sounded the trumpets.

2Ch 13:15 Then the men of Judah shouted; and when they did so, God defeated Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and Judah.

2Ch 13:16 The Israelites fled before Judah, and God delivered them into their hands.
2Ch 13:17 Abijah and his people inflicted a severe defeat upon them; five hundred thousand picked men of Israel fell slain.
2Ch 13:18 The Israelites were subdued on that occasion and the Judahites were victorious because they relied on the LORD, the God of their fathers.
2Ch 13:19 Abijah pursued Jeroboam and took cities from him: Bethel and its dependencies, Jeshanah and its dependencies, and Ephron and its dependencies.
2Ch 13:20 Jeroboam did not regain power during the time of Abijah; the LORD struck him down and he died, 2Ch 13:21 while Abijah continued to grow stronger. He took to himself fourteen wives and fathered twenty-two sons and sixteen daughters.
2Ch 13:22 The rest of Abijah's acts, his deeds and his words, are written in the midrash of the prophet Iddo.
2Ch 13:23 Abijah rested with his ancestors; they buried him in the City of David. His son Asa succeeded him as king. During his time, ten years of peace began in the land.
2Ch 14:1 Asa did what was good and pleasing to the LORD, his God,
2Ch 14:2 removing the heathen altars and the high places, breaking to pieces the sacred pillars, and cutting down the sacred poles.
2Ch 14:3 He commanded Judah to seek the LORD, the God of their fathers, and to observe the law and its commands.
2Ch 14:4 He removed the high places and incense stands from all the cities of Judah, and under him the kingdom had peace.
2Ch 14:5 He built fortified cities in Judah, for the land had peace and no war was waged against him during these years, because the LORD had given him peace.
2Ch 14:6 He said to Judah: "Let us build these cities and surround them with walls, towers, gates and bars. The land is still ours, for we have sought the LORD, our God; we sought him, and he has given us rest on every side." So they built and prospered.
2Ch 14:7 Asa had an army of three hundred thousand shield- and lance-bearers from Judah, and two hundred and eighty thousand from Benjamin who carried bucklers and were archers, all of them valiant warriors.
2Ch 14:8 Zerah the Ethiopian moved against them with a force of one million men and three hundred chariots, and he came as far as Mareshah.
2Ch 14:9 Asa went out to meet him and set himself in battle array in the valley of Zephathah, near Mareshah.
2Ch 14:10 Asa called upon the LORD, his God, praying: "O LORD, there is none like you to help the powerless against the strong. Help us, O LORD, our God, for we rely on you, and in your name we have come against this multitude. You are the LORD, our God; let no man prevail against you."
2Ch 14:11 And so the LORD defeated the Ethiopians before Asa and Judah, and they fled.
2Ch 14:12 Asa and those with him pursued them as far as Gerar, and the Ethiopians fell until there were no survivors, for they were crushed before the LORD and his army, which carried away enormous spoils.
2Ch 14:13 Then the Judahites conquered all the cities around Gerar, for the fear of the LORD was upon them; they despoiled all the cities, for there was much booty in them.
2Ch 14:14 They attacked also the tents of the cattle-herders and carried off a great number of sheep and camels. Then they returned to Jerusalem.
2Ch 15:1 Upon Azariah, son of Oded, came the spirit of God.
2Ch 15:2 He went forth to meet Asa and said to him: "Hear me, Asa and all Judah and Benjamin! The LORD is with you when you are with him, and if you seek him he will be present to you; but if you abandon him, he will abandon you.
2Ch 15:3 For a long time Israel had no true God, no priest-teacher and no law,
2Ch 15:4 but when in their distress they turned to the LORD, the God of Israel, and sought him, he was present to them.
2Ch 15:5 In that former time there was no peace for anyone to go or come, but there were many terrors upon the inhabitants of the lands.
2Ch 15:6 Nation crushed nation and city crushed city, for God destroyed them by every kind of adversity.
2Ch 15:7 But as for you, be strong and do not relax, for your work shall be rewarded."
2Ch 15:8 When Asa heard these words and the prophecy (Oded the prophet), he was encouraged to remove the detestable idols from the whole land of Judah and Benjamin and from the cities he had taken in the highlands of Ephraim, and to restore the altar of the LORD which was before the vestibule of the LORD.
2Ch 15:9 Then he convened all Judah and Benjamin, together with those of Ephraim, Manasseh and Simeon who sojourned with them; for many had fled to him from Israel when they saw that the LORD, his God, was with him.
2Ch 15:10 They gathered at Jerusalem in the third month of the fifteenth year of Asa's reign,
2Ch 15:11 and sacrificed to the LORD at that time seven hundred oxen and seven thousand sheep of the booty they had brought.

2Ch 15:12 They entered into a covenant to seek the LORD, the God of their fathers, with all their heart and soul;

2Ch 15:13 and everyone who would not seek the LORD, the God of Israel, was to be put to death, whether small or great, whether man or woman.

2Ch 15:14 They swore to the LORD with a loud voice, with shouting and with trumpets and horns.

2Ch 15:15 All Judah rejoiced over the oath, for they had sworn with their whole heart and sought him with complete desire, so that he was present to them. And the LORD gave them rest on every side.

2Ch 15:16 Maacah, the mother of King Asa, he deposed as queen mother because she had made an outrageous object for Asherah; Asa cut this down, smashed it, and burnt it in the Kidron Valley.

2Ch 15:17 Although the high places did not disappear from Israel, yet Asa's heart was undivided as long as he lived.

2Ch 15:18 He brought into the house of God his father's votive offerings and his own: silver, gold, and various utensils.

2Ch 15:19 There was no war until the thirty-fifth year of Asa's reign.

2Ch 16:1 In the thirty-sixth year of Asa's reign, Baasha, king of Israel, attacked Judah and fortified Ramah to prevent any communication with Asa, king of Judah.

2Ch 16:2 Asa then brought out silver and gold from the treasuries of the temple of the LORD and of the royal palace and sent them to Ben-hadad, king of Aram, who lived in Damascus, with this message:

2Ch 16:3 "There is a treaty between you and me, as there was between your father and my father. See, I am sending you silver and gold. Go, break your treaty with Baasha, king of Israel, that he may withdraw from me."

2Ch 16:4 Ben-hadad agreed to King Asa's request and sent the leaders of his troops against the cities of Israel. They attacked Ijon, Dan, Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

2Ch 16:5 When Baasha heard of it, he left off fortifying Ramah; he stopped his work.

2Ch 16:6 Then King Asa commandeered all of Judah to carry away the stone and wood with which Baasha had been fortifying Ramah, and with them he fortified Geba and Mizpah.

2Ch 16:7 At that time Hanani the seer came to Asa, king of Judah, and said to him: "Because you relied on the king of Aram and did not rely on the LORD, your God, the army of the king of Aram has escaped your hand.

2Ch 16:8 Were not the Ethiopians and Libyans a vast army, with great numbers of chariots and drivers? And yet, because you relied on the LORD, he delivered them into your power.

2Ch 16:9 The eyes of the LORD roam over the whole earth, to encourage those who are devoted to him wholeheartedly. You have acted foolishly in this matter, for from now on you will have wars."

2Ch 16:10 But Asa became angry with the seer and imprisoned him in the stocks, so greatly was he enraged at him over this. Asa also oppressed some of his people at this time.

2Ch 16:11 Now the acts of Asa, first and last, can be found recorded in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

2Ch 16:12 In the thirty-ninth year of his reign, Asa contracted a serious disease in his feet. But even in his sickness he did not seek the LORD, but only the physicians.

2Ch 16:13 Asa rested with his ancestors; he died in the forty-first year of his reign.

2Ch 16:14 They buried him in the tomb he had hewn for himself in the City of David, having laid him upon a couch which was filled with spices and various kinds of aromatics compounded into an ointment. They also burned a very great funeral pyre for him.

2Ch 17:1 His son Jehoshaphat succeeded him as king and strengthened his hold against Israel.

2Ch 17:2 He placed armed forces in all the fortified cities of Judah, and put garrisons in the land of Judah and in the cities of Ephraim which his father Asa had taken.

2Ch 17:3 The LORD was with Jehoshaphat, for he walked in the ways his father had pursued in the beginning, and he did not consult the Baals.

2Ch 17:4 Rather, he sought the God of his father and observed his commands, and not the practices of Israel.

2Ch 17:5 As a result, the LORD made his kingdom secure, and all Judah gave Jehoshaphat gifts, so that he enjoyed great wealth and glory.

2Ch 17:6 Thus he was encouraged to follow the LORD'S ways, and again he removed the high places and the sacred poles from Judah.

2Ch 17:7 In the third year of his reign he sent his leading men, Ben-hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel and Micaiah, to teach in the cities of Judah.

2Ch 17:8 With them he sent the Levites Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah and Tobijah, together with the priests Elishama and Jehoram.

2Ch 17:9 They taught in Judah, having with them the book containing the law of the LORD; they traveled through all the cities of Judah and taught among the people.

2Ch 17:10 Now the fear of the LORD was upon all the kingdoms of the countries surrounding Judah, so that they did not war against Jehoshaphat.

2Ch 17:11 Some of the Philistines brought Jehoshaphat gifts and a tribute of silver; and the Arabs also brought him a flock of seven thousand seven hundred rams and seven thousand seven hundred he-goats.

2Ch 17:12 Jehoshaphat grew steadily greater. He built strongholds and store cities in Judah.

2Ch 17:13 He carried out many works in the cities of Judah, and he had soldiers, valiant warriors, in Jerusalem.

2Ch 17:14 This was their mustering according to their ancestral houses. Of Judah, the commanders of thousands: Adnah the commander, and with him three hundred thousand valiant warriors.

2Ch 17:15 Next to him, Jehohanan the commander, and with him two hundred eighty thousand.

2Ch 17:16 Next to him, Amasiah, son of Zichri, who offered himself to the LORD, and with him two hundred thousand valiant warriors.

2Ch 17:17 From Benjamin: Eliada, a valiant warrior, and with him two hundred thousand armed with bow and buckler.

2Ch 17:18 Next to him, Jozabad, and with him one hundred and eighty thousand equipped for war.

2Ch 17:19 These were at the service of the king; in addition were those whom the king had placed in the fortified cities throughout all Judah.

2Ch 18:1 Jehoshaphat therefore had wealth and glory in abundance; but he became related to Ahab by marriage.

2Ch 18:2 After some years he went down to Ahab at Samaria; Ahab offered numerous sheep and oxen for him and the people with him, and persuaded him to go up against Ramoth-gilead.

2Ch 18:3 Ahab, king of Israel, asked Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, "Will you come with me to Ramoth-gilead?" "You and I are as one," was his answer; "your people and my people as well. We will be with you in the battle."

2Ch 18:4 But Jehoshaphat also said to the king of Israel, "Seek the word of the LORD at once."

2Ch 18:5 The king of Israel gathered his prophets, four hundred in number, and asked them, "Shall we go to attack Ramoth-gilead, or shall I refrain?" "Go up," they answered. "God will deliver it over to the king."

2Ch 18:6 But Jehoshaphat said, "Is there no other prophet of the LORD here whom we may consult?"

2Ch 18:7 The king of Israel answered Jehoshaphat, "There is still another through whom we may consult the LORD, but I hate him, for he prophesies not good but always evil about me. That is Micaiah, son of Imlah." Jehoshaphat said, "Let not your Majesty speak of evil against you."

2Ch 18:8 So the king of Israel called an official, to whom he said, "Get Micaiah, son of Imlah, at once."

2Ch 18:9 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were seated each on his throne, clothed in their robes of state on a threshing floor at the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets were prophesying before them.

2Ch 18:10 Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, made iron horns for himself and said: "The LORD says, 'With these you shall gore Aram until you have destroyed them.'"

2Ch 18:11 The other prophets prophesied in the same vein, saying: "Go up to Ramoth-gilead. You shall succeed; the LORD will deliver it over to the king."

2Ch 18:12 The messenger who had gone to call Micaiah said to him: "Look now, the prophets unanimously predict good for the king. Let your word, like each of theirs, predict good."

2Ch 18:13 "As the LORD lives," Micaiah answered, "I will say what my God tells me."

2Ch 18:14 When he came to the king, the king said to him, "Micaiah, shall we go to fight against Ramoth-gilead, or shall I refrain?" "Go up," he answered, "and succeed; they will be delivered into your power."

2Ch 18:15 But the king said to him, "How many times must I adjure you to tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?"

2Ch 18:16 Then Micaiah answered: "I see all Israel scattered on the mountains, like sheep without a shepherd, and the LORD saying, 'These have no master!' Let each of them go back home in peace.'"

2Ch 18:17 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "Did I not tell you that he prophesies no good about me, but only evil?"

2Ch 18:18 But Micaiah continued: "Therefore hear the word of the LORD: I saw the LORD seated on his throne, with the whole host of heaven standing by to his right and to his left.

2Ch 18:19 The LORD asked, 'Who will deceive Ahab, king of Israel, so that he will go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead?' And one said this, another that,

2Ch 18:20 until a spirit came forward and presented himself to the LORD, saying, 'I will deceive him.' The LORD asked, 'How?'

2Ch 18:21 He answered, 'I will go forth and become a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.' The LORD agreed: 'You shall succeed in deceiving him. Go forth and do this.'

2Ch 18:22 So now the LORD has put a lying spirit in the mouths of these your prophets, but the LORD himself has decreed evil against you."

2Ch 18:23 Thereupon Zedekiah, son of Chenaanah, came up and slapped Micaiah on the cheek, saying, "Which way did the spirit of the LORD go when he left me to speak to you?"

2Ch 18:24 "You shall find out," Micaiah replied, "on that day when you enter an innermost chamber to hide."

2Ch 18:25 The king of Israel then said: "Seize Micaiah and take him back to Amon, prefect of the city, and to Joash the king's son,
2Ch 18:26 and say, 'This is the king's order: Put this man in prison and feed him scanty rations of bread and water until I return in safety!'"
2Ch 18:27 But Micaiah said, "If ever you return in safety, the LORD has not spoken through me." And he said, "Hear, O peoples, all of you!"
2Ch 18:28 The king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead
2Ch 18:29 and the king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, "I will go into battle disguised, but you put on your own clothes." So the king of Israel disguised himself and they entered the fray.
2Ch 18:30 Meanwhile, the king of Aram had given his chariot commanders the order, "Fight with no one, small or great, except the king of Israel."
2Ch 18:31 When the commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they exclaimed, "That must be the king of Israel!" and shifted to fight him. But Jehoshaphat cried out and the LORD helped him; God induced them to leave him.
2Ch 18:32 The chariot commanders became aware that he was not the king of Israel and gave up their pursuit of him.
2Ch 18:33 Someone, however, drew his bow at random and hit the king of Israel between the joints of his breastplate. He ordered his charioteer, "Rein about and take me out of the ranks, for I am disabled."
2Ch 18:34 The battle grew fierce during the day, and the king of Israel braced himself up on his chariot facing the Arameans until evening. He died as the sun was setting.
2Ch 19:1 King Jehoshaphat of Judah returned in safety to his house in Jerusalem.
2Ch 19:2 Jehu the seer, son of Hanani, met King Jehoshaphat and said to him: "Should you help the wicked and love those who hate the LORD? For this reason, wrath is upon you from the LORD.
2Ch 19:3 Yet some good things are to be found in you, since you have removed the sacred poles from the land and have been determined to seek God."
2Ch 19:4 Jehoshaphat dwelt in Jerusalem; but he went out again among the people from Beer-sheba to the highlands of Ephraim and brought them back to the LORD, the God of their fathers.
2Ch 19:5 He appointed judges in the land, in all the fortified cities of Judah, city by city,
2Ch 19:6 and he said to them: "Take care what you do, for you are judging, not on behalf of man, but on behalf of the LORD; he judges with you.
2Ch 19:7 And now, let the fear of the LORD be upon you. Act carefully, for with the LORD, our God there is no injustice, no partiality, no bribe-taking."
2Ch 19:8 In Jerusalem also, Jehoshaphat appointed some Levites and priests and some of the family heads of Israel to judge in the name of the LORD and to settle quarrels among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.
2Ch 19:9 He gave them this command: "You shall act faithfully and wholeheartedly in the fear of the LORD.
2Ch 19:10 And in every dispute that your brethren living in their cities bring to you, whether it concerns bloodguilt or questions of law, command, statutes, or judgments, warn them lest they become guilty before the LORD and his wrath come upon you and your brethren. Do that and you shall be guiltless.
2Ch 19:11 See now, Amariah is high priest over you in everything that pertains to the LORD, and Zebadiah, son of Ishmael, is leader of the house of Judah in all that pertains to the king; and the Levites will be your officials. Act firmly, and the LORD will be with the good."
2Ch 20:1 After this the Moabites, the Ammonites, and with them some Meunites came to fight against Jehoshaphat.
2Ch 20:2 The message was brought to Jehoshaphat: "A great multitude is coming against you from across the sea, from Edom; they are already in Hazazon-tamar" (which is En-gedi).
2Ch 20:3 Jehoshaphat was frightened, and he hastened to consult the LORD. He proclaimed a fast for all Judah.
2Ch 20:4 Then Judah gathered to seek help from the LORD; from every one of the cities of Judah they came to seek the LORD.
2Ch 20:5 Jehoshaphat stood up in the assembly of Judah and Jerusalem in the house of the LORD before the new court,
2Ch 20:6 and he said: "LORD, God of our fathers, are you not the God in heaven, and do you not rule over all the kingdoms of the nations? In your hand is power and might, and no one can withstand you.
2Ch 20:7 Was it not you, our God, who drove out the inhabitants of this land before your people Israel and gave it forever to the descendants of Abraham, your friend?
2Ch 20:8 They have dwelt in it and they built in it a sanctuary to your honor, saying,
2Ch 20:9 'When evil comes upon us, the sword of judgment, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house and before you, for your name is in this house, and we will cry out to you in our affliction, and you will hear and save!'
2Ch 20:10 And now, see the Ammonites, Moabites, and those of Mount Seir whom you did not allow Israel to invade when they came from the land of Egypt, but instead they passed them by and did not destroy them.

2Ch 20:11 See how they are now repaying us by coming to drive us out of the possession you have given us.

2Ch 20:12 O our God, will you not pass judgment on them? We are powerless before this vast multitude that comes against us. We are at a loss what to do, hence our eyes are turned toward you."

2Ch 20:13 All Judah was standing before the LORD, with their little ones, their wives, and their young sons.

2Ch 20:14 And the spirit of the LORD came upon Jahaziel, son of Zechariah, son of Benaiah, son of Jeiel, son of Mattaniah, a Levite of the clan of Asaph, in the midst of the assembly, 2Ch 20:15 and he said: "Listen, all of Judah, inhabitants of Jerusalem, and King Jehoshaphat! The LORD says to you: 'Do not fear or lose heart at the sight of this vast multitude, for the battle is not yours but God's.

2Ch 20:16 Go down against them tomorrow. You will see them coming up by the ascent of Ziz, and you will come upon them at the end of the wadi which opens on the wilderness of Jeruel.

2Ch 20:17 You will not have to fight in this encounter. Take your places, stand firm, and see how the LORD will be with you to deliver you, Judah and Jerusalem. Do not fear or lose heart. Tomorrow go out to meet them, and the LORD will be with you.'"

2Ch 20:18 Then Jehoshaphat knelt down with his face to the ground, and all Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell down before the LORD in worship.

2Ch 20:19 Levites from among the Kohathites and Korahites rose to sing the praises of the LORD, the God of Israel, in a resounding chorus.

2Ch 20:20 In the early morning they hastened out to the wilderness of Tekoa. As they were going out, Jehoshaphat halted and said: "Listen to me, Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem! Trust in the LORD, your God, and you will be found firm. Trust in his prophets and you will succeed."

2Ch 20:21 After consulting with the people, he appointed some to sing to the LORD and some to praise the holy Appearance as it went forth at the head of the army. They sang: "Give thanks to the LORD, for his mercy endures forever."

2Ch 20:22 At the moment they began their jubilant hymn, the LORD laid an ambush against the Ammonites, Moabites, and those of Mount Seir who were coming against Judah, so that they were vanquished.

2Ch 20:23 For the Ammonites and Moabites set upon the inhabitants of Mount Seir and completely exterminated them. And when they had finished with the inhabitants of Seir, they began to destroy each other.

2Ch 20:24 When Judah came to the watchtower of the desert and looked toward the throng, they saw only corpses fallen on the ground, with no survivors.

2Ch 20:25 Jehoshaphat and his people came to take plunder, and they found an abundance of cattle and personal property, garments and precious vessels. They took so much that they were unable to carry it all; they were three days taking the spoil, so great was it.

2Ch 20:26 On the fourth day they held an assembly in the Valley of Beracah-- for there they blessed the LORD; therefore that place has ever since been called the Valley of Beracah.

2Ch 20:27 Then all the men of Judah and Jerusalem, with Jehoshaphat at their head, turned back toward Jerusalem celebrating the joyful victory the LORD had given them over their enemies.

2Ch 20:28 They came to Jerusalem, to the house of the LORD, with harps, lyres and trumpets.

2Ch 20:29 And the fear of God came upon all the kingdoms of the surrounding lands when they heard how the LORD had fought against the enemies of Israel.

2Ch 20:30 Thereafter Jehoshaphat's kingdom enjoyed peace, for his God gave him rest on every side.

2Ch 20:31 Thus Jehoshaphat reigned over Judah. He was thirty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Azubah, daughter of Shilhi.

2Ch 20:32 He followed the path of his father Asa unswervingly, doing what was right in the LORD'S sight.

2Ch 20:33 But the high places were not removed, nor as yet had the people fixed their hearts on the God of their fathers.

2Ch 20:34 The rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat, first and last, can be found written in the chronicle of Jehu, son of Hanani, which is inserted in the book of the kings of Israel.

2Ch 20:35 After this, King Jehoshaphat of Judah allied himself with King Ahaziah of Israel, who did evil.

2Ch 20:36 He joined with him in building ships to sail to Tarshish; the fleet was built at Ezion-geber.

2Ch 20:37 But Eliezer, son of Dodavahu from Mareshah, prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, "Because you have joined with Ahaziah, the LORD will shatter your work." And the ships were wrecked and were unable to sail to Tarshish.

2Ch 21:1 Jehoshaphat rested with his ancestors; he was buried with them in the City of David. Jehoram, his son, succeeded him as king.

2Ch 21:2 His brothers, sons of Jehoshaphat, were Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, Azariah, Michael and Shephatiah; all these were sons of King Jehoshaphat of Judah.

2Ch 21:3 Their father gave them numerous gifts of silver, gold and precious objects, together with fortified cities in Judah, but the kingship he gave to Jehoram because he was the first-born.

2Ch 21:4 When Jehoram had come into his father's kingdom and had consolidated his power, he put to the sword all his brothers and also some of the princes of Israel.

2Ch 21:5 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

2Ch 21:6 He conducted himself like the kings of Israel of the line of Ahab, because one of Ahab's daughters was his wife. He did evil in the sight of the LORD, 2Ch 21:7 but the LORD would not destroy the house of David because of the covenant he had made with David and because of his promise to give him and his sons a lamp for all time.

2Ch 21:8 During his time Edom revolted against the sovereignty of Judah; they chose a king of their own.

2Ch 21:9 Thereupon Jehoram crossed over with his officers and all the chariots he had. He arose by night and broke through the Edomites when they had surrounded him and the commanders of his chariots.

2Ch 21:10 However, Edom has continued in revolt against the sovereignty of Judah down to the present time. Libnah also revolted at that time against Jehoram's sovereignty because he had forsaken the LORD, the God of his fathers.

2Ch 21:11 He also set up high places in the mountains of Judah; he led the inhabitants of Jerusalem into idolatry and seduced Judah.

2Ch 21:12 He received a letter from the prophet Elijah with this message: "Thus says the LORD, the God of your ancestor David: 'Because you have not followed the path of your father Jehoshaphat, nor of Asa, king of Judah,

2Ch 21:13 but instead have walked in the way of the kings of Israel and have led Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem into idolatry, as did the house of Ahab, and also because you have murdered your brothers of your father's house who were better than you,

2Ch 21:14 the LORD will strike your people, your children, your wives, and all that is yours with a great plague;

2Ch 21:15 and you shall have severe pains from a disease in your bowels, while your bowels issue forth because of the disease, day after day."

2Ch 21:16 Then the LORD stirred up against Jehoram the animosity of the Philistines and of the Arabs who bordered on the Ethiopians.

2Ch 21:17 They came up against Judah, invaded it, and carried away all the wealth found in the king's palace, along with his sons and his wives; there was left to him only one son, Jehoahaz, his youngest.

2Ch 21:18 After these events, the LORD afflicted him with an incurable disease of the bowels.

2Ch 21:19 As time went on until a period of two years had elapsed, his bowels issued forth because of the disease and he died in great pain. His people did not make a pyre for him like that of his fathers.

2Ch 21:20 He was thirty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. He departed unloved and was buried in the City of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

2Ch 22:1 Then the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ahaziah, his youngest son, king in his stead, since all the older sons had been slain by the band that had come into the fort with the Arabs. Thus Ahaziah, son of Jehoram, reigned as the king of Judah.

2Ch 22:2 He was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem. His mother was named Athaliah, daughter of Omri.

2Ch 22:3 He, too, followed the ways of the house of Ahab, because his mother counseled him to act sinfully.

2Ch 22:4 To his own destruction, he did evil in the sight of the LORD, as did the house of Ahab, since they were his counselors after the death of his father.

2Ch 22:5 He was also following their counsel when he accompanied Jehoram, son of Ahab, king of Israel, to battle against Hazael, king of Aram, at Ramoth-gilead. There Jehoram was wounded by the Arameans.

2Ch 22:6 He returned to Jezreel to be healed of the wounds he had received at Rama in his battle against Hazael, king of Aram. Because of this illness, Ahaziah, son of Jehoram, king of Judah, went down to visit Jehoram, son of Ahab, in Jezreel.

2Ch 22:7 Now it was willed by God for Ahaziah's downfall that he should join Jehoram, for after his arrival he rode out with Jehoram to Jehu, son of Nimshi, whom the LORD had anointed to cut down the house of Ahab.

2Ch 22:8 While Jehu was executing judgment on the house of Ahab, he also encountered the princes of Judah and the nephews of Ahaziah who were his attendants, and he slew them.

2Ch 22:9 Then he looked for Ahaziah himself. They caught him where he was hiding in Samaria and brought him to Jehu, who put him to death. They buried him, for they said, "He was the grandson of Jehoshaphat, who sought the LORD with his whole heart." There remained in Ahaziah's house no one powerful enough to wield the kingship.

2Ch 22:10 When Athaliah, mother of Ahaziah, learned that her son was dead, she proceeded to kill off all the royal offspring of the house of Judah.

2Ch 22:11 But Jehosheba, a royal princess, secretly took Ahaziah's son Joash from among the king's sons who were about to be slain, and put him and his nurse in a bedroom. In this way Jehosheba, who was the daughter of King Jehoram, a sister of Ahaziah, and wife of Jehoiada the priest, hid the child from Athaliah's sight, so that she did not put him to death.

2Ch 22:12 For six years he remained hidden with them in the house of God, while Athaliah ruled over the land.

2Ch 23:1 In the seventh year, Jehoiada took courage and entered a conspiracy with certain captains: Azariah, son of Jehoram; Ishmael, son of Jehohanan; Azariah, son of Obed; Masseiah, son of Adaiah; and Elishaphat, son of Zichri.

2Ch 23:2 They journeyed about Judah, gathering the Levites from all the cities of Judah and also the heads of the Israelite families. When they had come to Jerusalem, 2Ch 23:3 the whole assembly made a covenant with the king in the house of God. Jehoiada said to them: "Here is the king's son who must reign, as the LORD promised concerning the sons of David.

2Ch 23:4 This is what you must do: a third of your number, both priests and Levites, who come in on the sabbath must guard the thresholds, 2Ch 23:5 another third must be at the king's palace, and the final third at the Foundation Gate, when all the people will be in the courts of the LORD'S temple.

2Ch 23:6 Let no one enter the LORD'S house except the priests and those Levites who are ministering. They may enter because they are holy; but all the other people must observe the prescriptions of the LORD.

2Ch 23:7 The Levites shall surround the king on all sides, each with his weapon drawn. Whoever tries to enter the house must be slain. Stay with the king wherever he goes."

2Ch 23:8 The Levites and all Judah did just as Jehoiada the priest commanded. Each brought his men, those who were to come in on the sabbath as well as those who were to depart on the sabbath, since Jehoiada the priest had not dismissed any of the divisions.

2Ch 23:9 Jehoiada the priest gave the captains the spears, shields and bucklers of King David which were in the house of God.

2Ch 23:10 He stationed all the people, each with his spear in hand, from the southern to the northern extremity of the enclosure, around the altar and the temple on the king's behalf.

2Ch 23:11 Then they brought out the king's son, set the crown and the insignia upon him, and made him king. Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and they cried, "Long live the king!"

2Ch 23:12 When Athaliah heard the din of the people running and acclaiming the king, she went to the people in the temple of the LORD.

2Ch 23:13 She looked, and there was the king standing beside his pillar at the entrance, the officers and the trumpeters around him, and all the people of the land rejoicing and blowing trumpets, while the singers with their musical instruments were leading the acclaim. Athaliah tore her garments and cried out, "Treason! treason!"

2Ch 23:14 Then Jehoiada the priest sent out the captains who were in command of the army; he said to them: "Take her outside through the ranks, and if anyone tries to follow her, let him die by the sword. For," the priest continued, "you must not put her to death in the LORD'S temple."

2Ch 23:15 So they seized her, and when she arrived at the entrance to the Horse Gate of the palace, they put her to death there.

2Ch 23:16 Then Jehoiada made a covenant between himself and all the people and the king, that they should be the LORD'S people.

2Ch 23:17 And all the people went to the temple of Baal and tore it down. They smashed its altars and images, and they slew Mattan, the priest of Baal, before the altars.

2Ch 23:18 Then Jehoiada gave the charge of the LORD'S temple into the hands of the levitical priests, to whom David had assigned turns in the temple for offering the holocausts of the LORD, as is written in the law of Moses, with rejoicing and song, as David had provided.

2Ch 23:19 Moreover, he stationed guards at the gates of the LORD'S temple so that no one unclean in any respect might enter.

2Ch 23:20 Then he took the captains, the nobles, the rulers among the people, and all the people of the land, and led the king out of the LORD'S house. When they had come within the upper gate of the king's house, they seated the king upon the royal throne.

2Ch 23:21 All the people of the land rejoiced and the city was quiet, now that Athaliah had been put to death by the sword.

2Ch 24:1 Joash was seven years old when he became king, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem. His mother, named Zibiah, was from Beer-sheba.

2Ch 24:2 Joash did what was pleasing to the LORD as long as Jehoiada the priest lived.

2Ch 24:3 Jehoiada provided him with two wives, and he became the father of sons and daughters.

2Ch 24:4 After some time, Joash decided to restore the LORD'S temple.

2Ch 24:5 He called together the priests and Levites and said to them: "Go out to all the cities of Judah and collect money from all Israel that you may repair the house of your God over the years. You must hasten this affair." But the Levites did not hasten.

2Ch 24:6 Then the king summoned Jehoiada, who was in charge, and said to him: "Why have you not required the Levites to bring in from Judah and Jerusalem the tax levied by Moses, the servant of the LORD, and by the assembly of Israel, for the tent of the testimony?"

2Ch 24:7 For the wicked Athaliah and her sons had damaged the house of God and had even turned over to the Baals the dedicated resources of the LORD'S temple.

2Ch 24:8 At the king's command, therefore, they made a chest, which they put outside the gate of the LORD'S temple.

2Ch 24:9 They had it proclaimed throughout Judah and Jerusalem that the tax which Moses, the servant of God, had imposed on Israel in the desert should be brought to the LORD.

2Ch 24:10 All the princes and the people rejoiced; they brought what was asked and cast it into the chest until it was filled.

2Ch 24:11 Whenever the chest was brought to the royal officials by the Levites and they saw that it contained much money, the royal scribe and an overseer for the high priest came, emptied the chest, then took it back and returned it to its place. This they did day after day until they had collected a large sum of money.

2Ch 24:12 Then the king and Jehoiada gave it to the workmen in charge of the labor on the LORD'S temple, who hired masons and carpenters to restore the temple, and also iron- and bronze-smiths to repair it.

2Ch 24:13 The workmen labored, and the task of restoration progressed under their hands. They restored the house of God according to its original form, and reinforced it.

2Ch 24:14 After they had finished, they brought the rest of the money to the king and to Jehoiada, who had it made into utensils for the LORD'S temple, utensils for the service and the holocausts, and basins and other gold and silver utensils. They offered holocausts in the LORD'S temple continually throughout the lifetime of Jehoiada.

2Ch 24:15 Jehoiada lived to a ripe old age; he was a hundred and thirty years old when he died.

2Ch 24:16 He was buried in the City of David with the kings, because he had done good in Israel, in particular with respect to God and his temple.

2Ch 24:17 After the death of Jehoiada, the princes of Judah came and paid homage to the king, and the king then listened to them.

2Ch 24:18 They forsook the temple of the LORD, the God of their fathers, and began to serve the sacred poles and the idols; and because of this crime of theirs, wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem.

2Ch 24:19 Although prophets were sent to them to convert them to the LORD, the people would not listen to their warnings.

2Ch 24:20 Then the spirit of God possessed Zechariah, son of Jehoiada the priest. He took his stand above the people and said to them: "God says, 'Why are you transgressing the LORD'S commands, so that you cannot prosper? Because you have abandoned the LORD, he has abandoned you.'"

2Ch 24:21 But they conspired against him, and at the king's order they stoned him to death in the court of the LORD'S temple.

2Ch 24:22 Thus King Joash was unmindful of the devotion shown him by Jehoiada, Zechariah's father, and slew his son. And as he was dying, he said, "May the LORD see and avenge."

2Ch 24:23 At the turn of the year a force of Arameans came up against Joash. They invaded Judah and Jerusalem, did away with all the princes of the people, and sent all their spoil to the king of Damascus.

2Ch 24:24 Though the Aramean force came with few men, the LORD surrendered a very large force into their power, because Judah had abandoned the LORD, the God of their fathers. So punishment was meted out to Joash.

2Ch 24:25 After the Arameans had departed from him, leaving him in grievous suffering, his servants conspired against him because of the murder of the son of Jehoiada the priest. They killed him on his sickbed. He was buried in the City of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

2Ch 24:26 These conspired against him: Zabad, son of Shimeath from Ammon, and Jehozabad, son of Shimrith from Moab.

2Ch 24:27 Of his sons, and the great tribute imposed on him, and of his rebuilding of the house of God, there is a written account in the midrash of the book of the kings. His son Amaziah succeeded him as king.

2Ch 25:1 Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother, named Jehoaddan, was from Jerusalem.

2Ch 25:2 He did what was pleasing in the sight of the LORD, though not wholeheartedly.

2Ch 25:3 After he had strengthened his hold on the kingdom, he slew those of his servants who had killed the king, his father;

2Ch 25:4 but he did not put their children to death, for he acted according to what is written in the law, in the Book of Moses, as the LORD commanded: "Fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor children for their fathers; but only for his own guilt shall a man be put to death."

2Ch 25:5 Amaziah mustered Judah and placed them, out of all Judah and Benjamin according to their ancestral houses, under leaders of thousands and of hundreds. When he had counted those of twenty years and over, he found them to be three hundred thousand picked men fit for war, capable of handling lance and shield.

2Ch 25:6 He also hired a hundred thousand valiant warriors from Israel for a hundred talents of silver.

2Ch 25:7 But a man of God came to him and said: "O king, let not the army of Israel go with you, for the LORD is not with Israel, with any Ephraimite.

2Ch 25:8 Instead, go on your own, strongly prepared for the conflict; otherwise the LORD will defeat you in the face of the enemy. It is God who has the power to reinforce or to defeat."

2Ch 25:9 Amaziah answered the man of God, "But what is to be done about the hundred talents that I paid for the troops of Israel?" The man of God replied, "The LORD can give you much more than that."

2Ch 25:10 Amaziah then disbanded the troops that had come to him from Ephraim, and sent them home. They, however, became furiously angry with Judah, and returned home blazing with resentment.

2Ch 25:11 Amaziah now assumed command of his army. They proceeded to the Valley of Salt, and there they killed ten thousand men of Seir.

2Ch 25:12 The Judahites also brought back another ten thousand alive, whom they led to the summit of the Rock and then cast down, so that they were all crushed.

2Ch 25:13 Meanwhile, the mercenaries whom Amaziah had dismissed from battle service with him raided the cities of Judah from Samaria to Beth-horon. They killed three thousand of the inhabitants and took away much booty.

2Ch 25:14 When Amaziah returned from his conquest of the Edomites he brought back with him the gods of the people of Seir, which he set up as his own gods; he bowed down before them and offered sacrifice to them.

2Ch 25:15 Then the anger of the LORD blazed out against Amaziah, and he sent a prophet to him who said: "Why have you had recourse to this people's gods that could not save their own people from your hand?"

2Ch 25:16 While he was still speaking, however, the king said to him: "Have you been made the king's counselor? Be silent! Why should it be necessary to kill you?" Therefore the prophet desisted. "I know, however," he said, "that God has let you take counsel to your own destruction, because you have done this thing and have refused to hear my counsel."

2Ch 25:17 Having taken counsel, King Amaziah of Judah sent messengers to Joash, son of Jehoahaz, son of Jehu, the king of Israel, saying, "Come, let us meet each other face to face."

2Ch 25:18 King Joash of Israel sent this reply to King Amaziah of Judah: "The thistle of the Lebanon sent a message to the cedar of the Lebanon, saying, 'Give your daughter to my son for his wife.' But the wild beasts of the Lebanon passed by and trampled the thistle down.

2Ch 25:19 You are thinking, 'See, I have beaten Edom!', and thus ambition makes you proud. Remain at home. Why involve yourself, and Judah with you, in misfortune and failure?"

2Ch 25:20 But Amaziah would not listen, for God had determined to hand them over because they had had recourse to the gods of Edom.

2Ch 25:21 Therefore King Joash of Israel advanced and he and King Amaziah met in battle at Beth-shemesh of Judah.

2Ch 25:22 There Judah was defeated by Israel, and all the Judean soldiers fled homeward.

2Ch 25:23 King Joash of Israel captured Amaziah, king of Judah, son of Joash, son of Jehoahaz, at Beth-shemesh and brought him to Jerusalem. Then he tore down the wall of Jerusalem from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate, a distance of four hundred cubits.

2Ch 25:24 He took away all the gold and silver and all the vessels he found in the house of God with Obed-edom, together with the treasures of the palace, and hostages as well. Then he returned to Samaria.

2Ch 25:25 Amaziah, son of Joash, king of Judah, survived Joash, son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel, by fifteen years.

2Ch 25:26 The rest of the acts of Amaziah, first and last, can be found written, as is well known, in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

2Ch 25:27 Now from the time that Amaziah ceased to follow the LORD, a conspiracy was formed against him in Jerusalem; hence he fled to Lachish. But they pursued him to Lachish and put him to death there.

2Ch 25:28 They brought him back on horses and buried him with his ancestors in the City of Judah.

2Ch 26:1 All the people of Judah chose Uzziah, though he was but sixteen years of age, and proclaimed him king to succeed his father Amaziah.

2Ch 26:2 He rebuilt Elath and restored it to Judah; this was after King Amaziah had gone to rest with his ancestors.

2Ch 26:3 Uzziah was sixteen years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem. His mother, named Jecoliah, was from Jerusalem.

2Ch 26:4 He pleased the LORD, just as his father Amaziah had done.

2Ch 26:5 He was prepared to seek God as long as Zechariah lived, who taught him to fear God; and as long as he sought the LORD, God made him prosper.

2Ch 26:6 He went out and fought the Philistines and razed the walls of Gath, Jabneh and Ashdod (and built cities in the district of Ashdod and in Philistia).

2Ch 26:7 God helped him against the Philistines, against the Arabs who dwelt in Gurbaal, and against the Meunites.

2Ch 26:8 The Ammonites paid tribute to Uzziah and his fame spread as far as Egypt, for he grew stronger and stronger.

2Ch 26:9 Moreover, Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate, at the Valley Gate, and at the Angle, and he fortified them.

2Ch 26:10 He built towers in the desert and dug numerous cisterns, for he had many cattle. He had plowmen in the foothills and the plains, and vinedressers in the highlands and the garden land. He was a lover of the soil.

2Ch 26:11 Uzziah also had a standing army of fit soldiers divided into bands according to the number in which they were mustered by Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the recorder, under the command of Hananiah, one of the king's officials.

2Ch 26:12 The entire number of family heads over these valiant warriors was two thousand six hundred,

2Ch 26:13 and at their disposal was a mighty army of three hundred seven thousand five hundred fighting men of great valor to help the king against his enemies.

2Ch 26:14 Uzziah provided for them-- for the entire army-- bucklers, lances, helmets, breastplates, bows and slingstones.

2Ch 26:15 He also built machines in Jerusalem, devices contrived to stand on the towers and at the angles of the walls to shoot arrows and cast large stones. His fame spread far and wide, and his power was ascribed to the marvelous help he had received.

2Ch 26:16 But after he had become strong, he became proud to his own destruction and broke faith with the LORD, his God. He entered the temple of the LORD to make an offering on the altar of incense.

2Ch 26:17 But Azariah the priest, and with him eighty other priests of the LORD, courageous men, followed him.

2Ch 26:18 They opposed King Uzziah, saying to him: "It is not for you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD, but for the priests, the sons of Aaron, who have been consecrated for this purpose. Leave the sanctuary, for you have broken faith and no longer have a part in the glory that comes from the LORD God."

2Ch 26:19 Uzziah, who was holding a censer for burning the incense, became angry, but at the moment he showed his anger to the priests, while they were looking at him in the house of the LORD beside the altar of incense, leprosy broke out on his forehead.

2Ch 26:20 Azariah the chief priest and all the other priests examined him, and when they saw that his forehead was leprous, they expelled him from the temple. He himself fled willingly, for the LORD had afflicted him.

2Ch 26:21 King Uzziah remained a leper to the day of his death. As a leper he dwelt in a segregated house, for he was excluded from the house of the LORD. Therefore his son Jotham was regent of the palace and ruled the people of the land.

2Ch 26:22 The prophet Isaiah, son of Amos, wrote the rest of the acts of Uzziah, first and last.

2Ch 26:23 Uzziah rested with his ancestors; he was buried with them in the field adjoining the royal cemetery, for they said, "He was a leper." His son Jotham succeeded him as king.

2Ch 27:1 Jotham was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Jerusa, daughter of Zadok.

2Ch 27:2 He pleased the LORD just as his father Uzziah had done, though he did not enter the temple of the LORD; the people, however, continued to act sinfully.

2Ch 27:3 He built the upper gate of the LORD'S house and had much construction done on the wall of Ophel.

2Ch 27:4 Moreover, he built cities in the hill country of Judah, and in the forest land he set up fortresses and towers.

2Ch 27:5 He fought with the king of the Ammonites and conquered them. That year the Ammonites paid him one hundred talents of silver, together with ten thousand kors of wheat and ten thousand of barley. They brought the same to him also in the second and in the third year.

2Ch 27:6 Thus Jotham continued to grow strong because he lived resolutely in the presence of the LORD, his God.

2Ch 27:7 The rest of the acts of Jotham, his wars and his activities, can be found written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2Ch 27:8 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem.

2Ch 27:9 Jotham rested with his ancestors and was buried in the City of David, and his son Ahaz succeeded him as king.

2Ch 28:1 Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem. He did not please the LORD as his forefather David had done, 2Ch 28:2 but conducted himself like the kings of Israel and even made molten idols of the Baals.

2Ch 28:3 Moreover, he offered sacrifice in the Valley of Ben-hinnom, and immolated his sons by fire according to the abominable practice of the nations which the LORD had cleared out before the Israelites.

2Ch 28:4 He offered sacrifice and incense on the high places, on hills, and under every leafy tree.

2Ch 28:5 Therefore the LORD, his God, delivered him into the power of the king of Aram. The Arameans defeated him and carried away captive a large number of his people, whom they brought to Damascus. He was also delivered into the power of the king of Israel, who defeated him with great slaughter.

2Ch 28:6 For Pekah, son of Remaliah, slew one hundred and twenty thousand of Judah in a single day, all of them valiant men, because they had abandoned the LORD, the God of their fathers.

2Ch 28:7 Zichri, an Ephraimite warrior, killed Maaseiah, the king's son, and Azrikam, the master of the palace, and also Elkanah, who was second to the king.

2Ch 28:8 The Israelites took away as captives two hundred thousand of their brethren's wives, sons and daughters; they also took from them much plunder, which they brought to Samaria.

2Ch 28:9 In Samaria there was a prophet of the LORD by the name of Oded. He went out to meet the army returning to Samaria and said to them: "It was because the LORD, the God of your fathers, was angry with Judah that he delivered them into your hands. You, however, have slaughtered them with a fury that has reached up to heaven.

2Ch 28:10 And now you are planning to make the children of Judah and Jerusalem your slaves and bondwomen. Are not you yourselves, therefore, guilty of a crime against the LORD, your God?"

2Ch 28:11 Now listen to me: send back the captives you have carried off from among your brethren, for the burning anger of the LORD is upon you."

2Ch 28:12 At this, some of the Ephraimite leaders, Azariah, son of Johanan, Berechiah, son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah, son of Shallum, and Amasa, son of Hadlai, themselves stood up in opposition to those who had returned from the war.

2Ch 28:13 They said to them: "Do not bring the captives here, for what you propose will make us guilty before the LORD and increase our sins and our guilt. Our guilt is already great, and there is a burning anger upon Israel."

2Ch 28:14 Therefore the soldiers left their captives and the plunder before the princes and the whole assembly.

2Ch 28:15 Then the men just named proceeded to help the captives. All of them who were naked they clothed from the booty; they clothed them, put sandals on their feet, gave them food and drink, anointed them, and all who were weak they set on asses. They brought them to Jericho, the city of palms, to their brethren. Then they returned to Samaria.

2Ch 28:16 At that time King Ahaz sent an appeal for help to the kings of Assyria.

2Ch 28:17 The Edomites had returned, attacked Judah, and carried off captives.

2Ch 28:18 The Philistines too had raided the cities of the foothills and the Negeb of Judah; they captured Bethshemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, Soco and its dependencies, Timnah and its dependencies, and Gimzo and its dependencies, and occupied them.

2Ch 28:19 For the LORD had brought Judah low because of Ahaz, king of Israel, who let Judah go its own way and proved utterly faithless to the LORD.

2Ch 28:20 Tilgath-pilneser, king of Assyria, did indeed come to him, but to oppress him rather than to help him.

2Ch 28:21 Though Ahaz plundered the LORD'S house and the houses of the king and the princes to make payment to the king of Assyria, it availed him nothing.

2Ch 28:22 While he was already in distress, the same King Ahaz became even more unfaithful to the LORD.

2Ch 28:23 He sacrificed to the gods of Damascus who had defeated him, saying, "Since it was the gods of the kings of Aram who helped them, I will sacrifice to them that they may help me also." However, they only caused further disaster to him and to all Israel.

2Ch 28:24 Ahaz gathered up the utensils of God's house and broke them in pieces. He closed the doors of the LORD'S house and had altars made for himself in every corner of Jerusalem.

2Ch 28:25 In every city throughout Judah he set up high places to offer sacrifice to other gods. Thus he angered the LORD, the God of his fathers.

2Ch 28:26 The rest of his deeds and his activities, first and last, can be found written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

2Ch 28:27 Ahaz rested with his ancestors and was buried in Jerusalem-- in the city, for they did not bring him to the tombs of the kings of Israel. His son Hezekiah succeeded him as king.

2Ch 29:1 Hezekiah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Abia, daughter of Zechariah.

2Ch 29:2 He pleased the LORD just as his forefather David had done.

2Ch 29:3 It was he who, in the first month of the first year of his reign, opened the doors of the LORD'S house and repaired them.

2Ch 29:4 He summoned the priests and Levites, gathered them in the open space to the east, 2Ch 29:5 and said to them: "Listen to me, you Levites! Sanctify yourselves now and sanctify the house of the LORD, the God of your fathers, and clean out the filth from the sanctuary.

2Ch 29:6 Our fathers acted faithlessly and did evil in the eyes of the LORD, our God. They abandoned him, turned away their faces from the LORD'S dwelling, and turned their backs on him.

2Ch 29:7 They also closed the doors of the vestibule, extinguished the lamps, and refused to burn incense and offer holocausts in the sanctuary to the honor of the God of Israel.

2Ch 29:8 Therefore the anger of the LORD has come upon Judah and Jerusalem; he has made them an object of terror, astonishment and mockery, as you see with your own eyes.

2Ch 29:9 For our fathers, as you know, fell by the sword, and our sons, our daughters and our wives have been taken captive because of this.

2Ch 29:10 Now, I intend to make a covenant with the LORD, the God of Israel, that his burning anger may withdraw from us.

2Ch 29:11 My sons, be not negligent any longer, for it is you whom the LORD has chosen to stand before him, to minister to him, to be his ministers and to offer incense."

2Ch 29:12 Then the Levites arose: Mahath, son of Amasai, and Joel, son of Azariah, descendants of the Kohathites; of the sons of Merari: Kish, son of Abdi, and Azariah, son of Jehallel; of the Gershonites: Joah, son of Zimmah, and Eden, son of Joah;

2Ch 29:13 of the sons of Elizaphan: Shimri and Jeuel; of the sons of Asaph: Zechariah and Mattaniah;

2Ch 29:14 of the sons of Heman: Jehuel and Shimei; of the sons of Jeduthun: Shemiah and Uzziel.

2Ch 29:15 They gathered their brethren together and sanctified themselves; then they came as the king had ordered, to cleanse the LORD'S house in keeping with his words.

2Ch 29:16 The priests entered the interior of the LORD'S house to cleanse it; and whatever they found in the LORD'S temple that was unclean they brought out to the court of the LORD'S house, where the Levites took it from them and carried it out to the Kidron Valley.

2Ch 29:17 They began the work of consecration on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the month they arrived at the vestibule of the LORD; they consecrated the LORD'S house during eight days, and on the sixteenth day of the first month, they had finished.

2Ch 29:18 Then they went inside to King Hezekiah and said: "We have cleansed the entire house of the LORD, the altar of holocausts with all its utensils, and the table for the showbread with all its utensils.

2Ch 29:19 All the articles which King Ahaz during his reign had thrown away because of his apostasy, we have restored and consecrated, and they are now before the LORD'S altar."

2Ch 29:20 Then King Hezekiah hastened to convoke the princes of the city and went up to the LORD'S house.

2Ch 29:21 Seven bulls, seven rams, seven lambs and seven he-goats were brought for a sin offering for the kingdom, for the sanctuary, and for Judah, and he ordered the sons of Aaron, the priests, to offer them on the altar of the LORD.

2Ch 29:22 They slaughtered the bulls, and the priests collected the blood and cast it on the altar. Then they slaughtered the rams and cast the blood on the altar; then they slaughtered the lambs and cast the blood on the altar.

2Ch 29:23 Then the he-goats for the sin offering were led before the king and the assembly, who laid their hands upon them.

2Ch 29:24 The priests then slaughtered them and offered their blood on the altar to atone for the sin of all Israel; for "The holocaust and the sin offering," the king had said, "is for all Israel."

2Ch 29:25 He stationed the Levites in the LORD'S house with cymbals, harps and lyres according to the prescriptions of David, of Gad the king's seer, and of Nathan the prophet; for the prescriptions were from the LORD through his prophets.

2Ch 29:26 The Levites were stationed with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

2Ch 29:27 Then Hezekiah ordered the holocaust to be sacrificed on the altar, and in the same instant that the holocaust began, they also began the song of the LORD, to the accompaniment of the trumpets and the instruments of David, king of Israel.

2Ch 29:28 The entire assembly prostrated itself, and they continued to sing the song and to sound the trumpets until the holocaust had been completed.

2Ch 29:29 As the holocaust was completed, the king and all who were with him knelt and prostrated themselves.

2Ch 29:30 King Hezekiah and the princes then commanded the Levites to sing the praises of the LORD in the words of David and of Asaph the seer. They sang praises till their joy was full, then fell down and prostrated themselves.

2Ch 29:31 Hezekiah now spoke out this command: "You have undertaken a work for the LORD. Approach, and bring forward the sacrifices and thank offerings for the house of the LORD." Then the assembly brought forward the sacrifices and thank offerings and all the holocausts which were free-will offerings.

2Ch 29:32 The number of holocausts that the assembly brought forward was seventy oxen, one hundred rams, and two hundred lambs: all of these as a holocaust to the LORD.

2Ch 29:33 As consecrated gifts there were six hundred oxen and three thousand sheep.

2Ch 29:34 Since the priests were too few in number to be able to skin all the victims for the holocausts, their brethren the Levites assisted them until the task was completed and the priests had sanctified themselves; the Levites, in fact, were more willing than the priests to sanctify themselves.

2Ch 29:35 Also, the holocausts were many, along with the fat of the peace offerings and the libations for the holocausts. Thus the service of the house of the LORD was reestablished.

2Ch 29:36 Hezekiah and all the people rejoiced over what God had reestablished for the people, and at how suddenly this had been done.

2Ch 30:1 Hezekiah sent a message to all Israel and Judah, and even wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh saying that they should come to the house of the LORD in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover in honor of the LORD, the God of Israel.

2Ch 30:2 The king, his princes, and the entire assembly in Jerusalem had agreed to celebrate the Passover during the second month, 2Ch 30:3 for they could not celebrate it at the time of the restoration: the priests had not sanctified themselves in sufficient numbers, and the people were not gathered at Jerusalem.

2Ch 30:4 When this proposal had been approved by the king and the entire assembly,

2Ch 30:5 they issued a decree to be proclaimed throughout all Israel from Beer-sheba to Dan, that everyone should come to Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover in honor of the LORD, the God of Israel; for not many had kept it in the manner prescribed.

2Ch 30:6 Accordingly the couriers, with the letters written by the king and his princes, traversed all Israel and Judah, and at the king's command they said: "Israelites, return to the LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel, that he may return to you, the remnant left from the hands of the Assyrian kings.

2Ch 30:7 Be not like your fathers and your brethren who proved faithless to the LORD, the God of their fathers, so that he delivered them over to desolation, as you yourselves now see.

2Ch 30:8 Be not obstinate, as your fathers were; extend your hands to the LORD and come to his sanctuary that he has consecrated forever, and serve the LORD, your God, that he may turn away his burning anger from you.

2Ch 30:9 For when you return to the LORD, your brethren and your children will find mercy with their captors and return to this land; for merciful and compassionate is the LORD, your God, and he will not turn away his face from you if you return to him."

2Ch 30:10 So the couriers passed from city to city in the land of Ephraim and Manasseh and as far as Zebulun, but they were derided and scoffed at.

2Ch 30:11 Nevertheless, some from Asher, Manasseh and Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem.

2Ch 30:12 In Judah, however, the power of God brought it about that the people were of one mind to carry out the command of the king and the princes in accordance with the word of the LORD.

2Ch 30:13 Thus many people gathered in Jerusalem to celebrate the feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month; it was a very great assembly.

2Ch 30:14 They proceeded to take down the altars that were in Jerusalem; also they removed all the altars of incense and cast them into the Kidron Valley.

2Ch 30:15 They slaughtered the Passover on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and Levites, touched with shame, sanctified themselves and brought holocausts into the house of the LORD.

2Ch 30:16 They stood in the places prescribed for them according to the law of Moses, the man of God. The priests sprinkled the blood given them by the Levites;

2Ch 30:17 for many in the assembly had not sanctified themselves, and the Levites were in charge of slaughtering the Passover victims for all who were unclean and therefore could not consecrate them to the LORD.

2Ch 30:18 The greater part of the people, in fact, chiefly from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun, had not cleansed themselves. Nevertheless they ate the Passover, contrary to the prescription; for Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, "May the LORD, who is good, grant pardon to 2Ch 30:19 everyone who has resolved to seek God, the LORD, the God of his fathers, though he be not clean as holiness requires."

2Ch 30:20 The LORD heard Hezekiah and spared the people.

2Ch 30:21 Thus the Israelites who were in Jerusalem celebrated the feast of Unleavened Bread with great rejoicing for seven days, and the Levites and the priests sang the praises of the LORD day after day with all their strength.

2Ch 30:22 Hezekiah spoke encouragingly to all the Levites who had shown themselves well skilled in the service of the LORD. And when they had completed the seven days of festival, slaying peace offerings and singing praises to the LORD, the God of their fathers, 2Ch 30:23 the whole assembly agreed to celebrate another seven days. With joy, therefore, they continued the festivity seven days longer.

2Ch 30:24 King Hezekiah of Judah had contributed a thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep to the assembly, and the princes had contributed to the assembly a thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep. The priests sanctified themselves in great numbers,

2Ch 30:25 and the whole assembly of Judah rejoiced, together with the priests and Levites and the rest of the assembly that had come from Israel, as well as the sojourners from the land of Israel and those that lived in Judah.

2Ch 30:26 There was great rejoicing in Jerusalem, for since the days of Solomon, son of David, king of Israel, there had not been the like in the city.

2Ch 30:27 Then the levitical priests rose and blessed the people; their voice was heard and their prayer reached heaven, God's holy dwelling.

2Ch 31:1 After all this was over, those Israelites who had been present went forth to the cities of Judah and smashed the sacred pillars, cut down the sacred poles, and tore down the high places and altars throughout Judah, Benjamin, Ephraim and Manasseh, until all were destroyed. Then the Israelites returned to their various cities, each to his own possession.

2Ch 31:2 Hezekiah reestablished the classes of the priests and the Levites according to their former classification, assigning to each priest and Levite his proper service, whether in regard to holocausts or peace offerings, thanksgiving or praise, or ministering in the gates of the encampment of the LORD.

2Ch 31:3 From his own wealth the king allotted a portion for holocausts, those of morning and evening and those on sabbaths, new moons and festivals, as prescribed in the law of the LORD.

2Ch 31:4 He also commanded the people living in Jerusalem to provide the support of the priests and Levites, that they might devote themselves entirely to the law of the LORD.

2Ch 31:5 As soon as the order was promulgated, the Israelites brought, in great quantities, the best of their grain, wine, oil and honey, and all the produce of the fields; they gave a generous tithe of everything.

2Ch 31:6 Israelites and Judahites living in other cities of Judah also brought in tithes of oxen, sheep, and things that had been consecrated to the LORD, their God; these they brought in and set out in heaps.

2Ch 31:7 It was in the third month that they began to establish these heaps, and they completed them in the seventh month.

2Ch 31:8 When Hezekiah and the princes had come and seen the heaps, they blessed the LORD and his people Israel.

2Ch 31:9 Then Hezekiah questioned the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps,

2Ch 31:10 and the priest Azariah, head of the house of Zadoc, answered him, "Since they began to bring the offerings to the house of the LORD, we have eaten to the full and have had much left over, for the LORD has blessed his people. This great supply is what was left over."

2Ch 31:11 Hezekiah then gave orders that chambers be constructed in the house of the LORD. When this had been done, 2Ch 31:12 the offerings, tithes and consecrated things were deposited there in safekeeping. The overseer of these things was Conaniah the Levite, and his brother Shimei was second in charge.

2Ch 31:13 Jehiel, Azariah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath and Benaiah were supervisors subject to Conaniah and his brother Shimei by appointment of King Hezekiah and of Azariah, the prefect of the house of God.

2Ch 31:14 Kore, the son of Imnah, a Levite and the keeper of the eastern gate, was in charge of the free-will gifts made to God; he distributed the offerings made to the LORD and the most holy of the consecrated things.

2Ch 31:15 Under him in the priestly cities were Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah and Shecaniah, who faithfully made the distribution to their brethren, great and small alike, according to their classes.

2Ch 31:16 There was also a register by ancestral houses of males thirty years of age and over, for all priests who were eligible to enter the house of the LORD according to the daily rule to fulfill their service in the order of their classes.

2Ch 31:17 The priests were inscribed in their family records according to their ancestral houses, and the Levites of twenty years and over according to their various offices and classes.

2Ch 31:18 A distribution was also made to all who were inscribed in the family records, for their little ones, wives, sons and daughters-- thus for the entire assembly, since they were to sanctify themselves by sharing faithfully in the consecrated things.

2Ch 31:19 The sons of Aaron, the priests who lived on the lands attached to their cities, had in every city men designated by name to distribute portions to every male among the priests and to every Levite listed in the family records.

2Ch 31:20 This Hezekiah did in all Judah. He did what was good, upright and faithful before the LORD, his God.

2Ch 31:21 Everything that he undertook, for the service of the house of God or for the law and the commandments, was to do the will of his God. He did this wholeheartedly, and he prospered.

2Ch 32:1 But after he had proved his fidelity by such deeds, Sennacherib, king of Assyria, came. He invaded Judah, besieged the fortified cities, and proposed to take them by storm.

2Ch 32:2 When Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib was coming with the intention of attacking Jerusalem,

2Ch 32:3 he decided in counsel with his princes and warriors to stop the waters of the springs outside the city. When they had pledged him their support,

2Ch 32:4 a large crowd was gathered which stopped all the springs and also the running stream in the valley nearby. For they said, "Why should the kings of Assyria come and find an abundance of water?"

2Ch 32:5 He then looked to his defenses: he rebuilt the wall where it was broken down, raised towers upon it, and built another wall outside. He strengthened the Millo of the City of David and had a great number of spears and shields prepared.

2Ch 32:6 Then he appointed army commanders over the people. He gathered them together in his presence in the open space at the gate of the city and encouraged them with these words:

2Ch 32:7 "Be brave and steadfast; do not be afraid or dismayed because of the king of Assyria and all the throng that is coming with him, for there is more with us than with him.

2Ch 32:8 For he has only an arm of flesh, but we have the LORD, our God, to help us and to fight our battles." And the people took confidence from the words of King Hezekiah of Judah.

2Ch 32:9 After this, while Sennacherib, king of Assyria, himself remained at Lachish with all his forces, he sent his officials to Jerusalem with this message for King Hezekiah of Judah, and all the Judahites who were in Jerusalem:

2Ch 32:10 "King Sennacherib of Assyria has this to say: On what are you relying, while you remain under siege in Jerusalem?

2Ch 32:11 Has not Hezekiah deceived you, delivering you over to a death of famine and thirst, by his claim that 'the LORD, our God, will save us from the grasp of the king of Assyria'?

2Ch 32:12 Has not this same Hezekiah removed his high places and altars and commanded Judah and Jerusalem, 'You shall prostrate yourselves before one altar only, and on it alone you shall offer incense'?

2Ch 32:13 Do you not know what my fathers and I have done to all the peoples of other lands? Were the gods of the nations in those lands able to save their lands from my hand?

2Ch 32:14 Who among all the gods of those nations which my fathers put under the ban was able to save his people from my hand? Will your god, then, be able to save you from my hand?

2Ch 32:15 Let not Hezekiah mislead you further and deceive you in any such way. Do not believe him! Since no other god of any other nation or kingdom has been able to save his people from my hand or the hands of my fathers, how much the less shall your god save you from my hand!"

2Ch 32:16 His officials said still more against the LORD God and against his servant Hezekiah,

2Ch 32:17 for he had written letters to deride the LORD, the God of Israel, speaking of him in these terms: "As the gods of the nations in other lands have not saved their people from my hand, neither shall Hezekiah's god save his people from my hand."

2Ch 32:18 In a loud voice they shouted in the Judean language to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, to frighten and terrify them so that they might capture their city.

2Ch 32:19 They spoke of the God of Israel as though he were one of the gods of the other peoples of the earth, a work of human hands.

2Ch 32:20 But because of this, King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah, son of Amos, prayed and called out to heaven.

2Ch 32:21 Then the LORD sent an angel, who destroyed every valiant warrior, leader and commander in the camp of the Assyrian king, so that he had to return shamefaced to his own country. And when he entered the temple of his god, some of his own offspring struck him down there with the sword.

2Ch 32:22 Thus the LORD saved Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem from the hand of Sennacherib, king of Assyria, as from every other power; he gave them rest on every side.

2Ch 32:23 Many brought gifts for the LORD to Jerusalem and costly objects for King Hezekiah of Judah, who thereafter was exalted in the eyes of all the nations.

2Ch 32:24 In those days Hezekiah became mortally ill. He prayed to the LORD, who answered him by giving him a sign.

2Ch 32:25 Hezekiah, however, did not then discharge his debt of gratitude, for he had become proud. Therefore anger descended upon him and upon Judah and Jerusalem.

2Ch 32:26 But then Hezekiah humbled himself for his pride-- both he and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and therefore the LORD did not vent his anger on them during the time of Hezekiah.

2Ch 32:27 Hezekiah possessed very great wealth and glory. He had treasuries made for his silver, gold, precious stones, spices, jewels, and other precious things of all kinds;

2Ch 32:28 also storehouses for the harvest of grain, for wine and oil, and barns for the various kinds of cattle and for the flocks.

2Ch 32:29 He built cities for himself, and he acquired sheep and oxen in great numbers, for God gave him very great riches.

2Ch 32:30 This same Hezekiah stopped the upper outflow of water from Gihon and led it underground westward to the City of David. Hezekiah prospered in all his undertakings.

2Ch 32:31 Nevertheless, in respect to the ambassadors (princes) sent to him from Babylon to investigate the sign that had occurred in the land, God forsook him to test him, that he might know all that was in his heart.

2Ch 32:32 The rest of Hezekiah's acts, including his pious works, can be found written in the Vision of the Prophet Isaiah, son of Amos, and in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel.

2Ch 32:33 Hezekiah rested with his ancestors; he was buried at the approach to the tombs of the descendants of David. All Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem paid him honor at his death. His son Manasseh succeeded him as king.

2Ch 33:1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem.

2Ch 33:2 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, following the abominable practices of the nations whom the LORD had cleared out of the way of the Israelites.

2Ch 33:3 He rebuilt the high places which his father Hezekiah had torn down, erected altars for the Baals, made sacred poles, and prostrated himself before the whole host of heaven and worshiped them.

2Ch 33:4 He even built altars in the temple of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, "In Jerusalem shall my name be forever":

2Ch 33:5 he built altars to the whole host of heaven in the two courts of the LORD'S house.

2Ch 33:6 It was he, too, who immolated his sons by fire in the Valley of Ben-hinnom. He practiced augury, divination and magic, and appointed necromancers and diviners of spirits, so that he provoked the LORD with the great evil that he did in his sight.

2Ch 33:7 He placed an idol that he had carved in the house of God, of which God had said to David and his son Solomon: "In this house and in Jerusalem which I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel I shall place my name forever.

2Ch 33:8 I will not again allow Israel's feet to leave the land which I assigned to your fathers, provided they are careful to observe all that I commanded them, keeping the whole law and the statutes and the ordinances given by Moses."

2Ch 33:9 Manasseh misled Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem into doing even greater evil than the nations which the LORD had destroyed at the coming of the Israelites.

2Ch 33:10 The LORD spoke to Manasseh and his people, but they paid no attention.

2Ch 33:11 Therefore the LORD brought against them the army commanders of the Assyrian king; they took Manasseh with hooks, shackled him with chains, and transported him to Babylon.

2Ch 33:12 In this distress, he began to appease the LORD, his God. He humbled himself abjectly before the God of his fathers

2Ch 33:13 and prayed to him. The LORD let himself be won over: he heard his prayer and restored him to his kingdom in Jerusalem. Then Manasseh understood that the LORD is indeed God.

2Ch 33:14 Afterward he built an outer wall for the City of David to the west of Gihon in the valley, extending to the Fish Gate and encircling Ophel; he built it very high. He stationed army officers in all the fortified cities of Judah.

2Ch 33:15 He removed the foreign gods and the idol from the LORD'S house and all the altars he had built on the mount of the LORD'S house and in Jerusalem, and he cast them outside the city.

2Ch 33:16 He restored the altar of the LORD, and sacrificed on it peace offerings and thank offerings, and commanded Judah to serve the LORD, the God of Israel.

2Ch 33:17 Though the people continued to sacrifice on the high places, they now did so to the LORD, their God.

2Ch 33:18 The rest of the acts of Manasseh, his prayer to his God, and the words of the seers who spoke to him in the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, can be found written in the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2Ch 33:19 His prayer and how his supplication was heard, all his sins and his infidelity, the sites where he built high places and erected sacred poles and carved images before he humbled himself, all can be found written down in the history of his seers.

2Ch 33:20 Manasseh rested with his ancestors and was buried in his own palace. His son Amon succeeded him as king.

2Ch 33:21 Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem.

2Ch 33:22 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, just as his father Manasseh had done. Amon offered sacrifice to all the idols which his father Manasseh had made, and worshiped them.

2Ch 33:23 Moreover, he did not humble himself before the LORD as his father Manasseh had done; on the contrary, Amon only increased his guilt.

2Ch 33:24 His servants conspired against him and put him to death in his own house.

2Ch 33:25 But the people of the land slew all those who had conspired against King Amon, and then they, the people of the land, made his son Josiah king in his stead.

2Ch 34:1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem.

2Ch 34:2 He pleased the LORD, following the path of his ancestor David.

2Ch 34:3 In the eighth year of his reign, while he was still a youth, he began to seek after the God of his forefather David, and in his twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of the high places, the sacred poles and the carved and molten images.

2Ch 34:4 In his presence, the altars of the Baals were destroyed; the incense stands erected above them were torn down; the sacred poles and the carved and molten images were shattered and beaten into dust, which was strewn over the tombs of those who had sacrificed to them;

2Ch 34:5 and the bones of the priests he burned upon their altars. Thus he purged Judah and Jerusalem.

2Ch 34:6 He did likewise in the cities of Manasseh, Ephraim, Simeon, and in the ruined villages of the surrounding country as far as Naphtali;

2Ch 34:7 he destroyed the altars, broke up the sacred poles and carved images and beat them into dust, and tore down the incense stands throughout the land of Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

2Ch 34:8 In the eighteenth year of his reign, in order to cleanse the temple as well as the land, he sent Shaphan, son of Azaliah, Maaseiah, the ruler of the city, and Joah, son of Joahaz, the chamberlain, to restore the house of the LORD, his God.

2Ch 34:9 They came to Hilkiah the high priest and turned over the money brought to the house of God which the Levites, the guardians of the threshold, had collected from Manasseh, Ephraim, and all the remnant of Israel, as well as from all of Judah, Benjamin, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

2Ch 34:10 They turned it over to the master workmen in the house of the LORD, and these in turn used it to pay the workmen in the LORD'S house who were restoring and repairing the temple.

2Ch 34:11 They also gave it to the carpenters and the masons to buy hewn stone and timber for the tie beams and rafters of the buildings which the kings of Judah had allowed to fall into ruin.

2Ch 34:12 The men worked faithfully at their task; their overseers were Jahath and Obadiah, Levites of the line of Merari, and Zechariah and Meshullam, of the Kohathites, who directed them. All those Levites who were skillful with musical instruments

2Ch 34:13 were in charge of the men who carried the burdens, and they directed all the workers in every kind of labor. Some of the other Levites were scribes, officials and gatekeepers.

2Ch 34:14 When they brought out the money that had been deposited in the house of the LORD, Hilkiah the priest found the book of the law of the LORD given through Moses.

2Ch 34:15 He reported this to Shaphan the scribe, saying, "I have found the book of the law in the house of the LORD." Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan,

2Ch 34:16 who brought it to the king at the same time that he was making his report to him. He said, "Your servants are doing everything that has been entrusted to them;

2Ch 34:17 they have turned into bullion the metals deposited in the LORD'S house and have handed it over to the overseers and the workmen."

2Ch 34:18 Then Shaphan the scribe announced to the king, "Hilkiah the priest has given me a book." And Shaphan read from it before the king.

2Ch 34:19 When the king heard the words of the law, he tore his garments

2Ch 34:20 and issued this command to Hilkiah, to Ahikam, son of Shaphan, to Abdon, son of Michah, to Shaphan the scribe, and to Asaiah, the king's servant:

2Ch 34:21 "On behalf of myself and those who are left in Israel and Judah, go, consult the LORD concerning the words of the book that has been found. For the anger of the LORD has been set furiously ablaze against us, since our fathers have not kept the word of the LORD and have not done all that is written in this book."

2Ch 34:22 Then Hilkiah and the other men from the king went to the prophetess Huldah, the wife of Shallum, son of Tokhath, son of Hasrah, the guardian of the wardrobe; she dwelt in Jerusalem, in the new quarter. They spoke to her as they had been instructed,

2Ch 34:23 and she said to them: "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Tell the one who sent you to me,

2Ch 34:24 The LORD says: I am prepared to bring evil upon this place and upon its inhabitants, all the curses written in the book that has been read before the king of Judah.

2Ch 34:25 Because they have abandoned me and have offered incense to other gods, provoking me by every deed that they have performed, my anger is ablaze against this place and cannot be extinguished.'

2Ch 34:26 "But to the king of Judah who sent you to consult the LORD, give this response: 'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the threats you have heard:

2Ch 34:27 Because you were heartsick and have humbled yourself before God on hearing his words spoken against this place and its inhabitants; because you have humbled yourself before me, have torn your garments, and have wept before me, I in turn have listened-- so declares the LORD.

2Ch 34:28 I will gather you to your ancestors and you shall be taken to your grave in peace. Your eyes shall not see all the evil I will bring upon this place and upon its inhabitants." They brought back this message to the king.

2Ch 34:29 The king now convened all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

2Ch 34:30 He went up to the house of the LORD with all the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the priests, the Levites, and all the people, great and small; and he had read aloud to them the entire text of the book of the covenant that had been found in the house of the LORD.

2Ch 34:31 Standing at his post, the king made a covenant before the LORD to follow the LORD and to keep his commandments, decrees, and statutes with his whole heart and soul, thus observing the terms of the covenant written in this book.

2Ch 34:32 He thereby committed all who were of Jerusalem and Benjamin, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem conformed themselves to the covenant of God, the God of their fathers.

2Ch 34:33 Josiah removed every abominable thing from all the territory belonging to the Israelites, and he obliged all who were in Israel to serve the LORD, their God. During his lifetime they did not desert the LORD, the God of their fathers.

2Ch 35:1 Josiah celebrated in Jerusalem a Passover to honor the LORD; the Passover sacrifice was slaughtered on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2Ch 35:2 He reappointed the priests to their duties and encouraged them in the service of the LORD'S house.

2Ch 35:3 He said to the Levites who were to instruct all Israel, and who were consecrated to the LORD: "Put the holy ark in the house built by Solomon, son of David, king of Israel. It shall no longer be a burden on your shoulders. Serve now the LORD, your God, and his people Israel.

2Ch 35:4 Prepare yourselves in your ancestral houses and your classes according to the prescriptions of King David of Israel and his son Solomon.

2Ch 35:5 Stand in the sanctuary according to the divisions of the ancestral houses of your brethren, the common people, so that the distribution of the Levites and the families may be the same.

2Ch 35:6 Slay the Passover sacrifice, sanctify yourselves, and be at the disposition of your brethren, that all may be carried out according to the word of the LORD given through Moses."

2Ch 35:7 Josiah contributed to the common people a flock of lambs and kids, thirty thousand in number, each to serve as a Passover victim for any who were present, and also three thousand oxen; these were from the king's property.

2Ch 35:8 His princes also gave a free-will gift to the people, the priests and the Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah and Jehiel, prefects of the house of God, gave to the priests two thousand six hundred Passover victims together with three hundred oxen.

2Ch 35:9 Conaniah and his brothers Shemaiah, Nethanel, Hashabiah, Jehiel and Jozabad, the rulers of the Levites, contributed to the Levites five thousand Passover victims, together with five hundred oxen.

2Ch 35:10 When the service had been arranged, the priests took their places, as did the Levites in their classes according to the king's command.

2Ch 35:11 The Passover sacrifice was slaughtered, whereupon the priests sprinkled some of the blood and the Levites proceeded to the skinning.

2Ch 35:12 They separated what was destined for the holocaust and gave it to various groups of the ancestral houses of the common people to offer to the LORD, as is prescribed in the book of Moses. They did the same with the oxen.

2Ch 35:13 They cooked the Passover on the fire as prescribed, and also cooked the sacred meals in pots, caldrons and pans, then brought them quickly to all the common people.

2Ch 35:14 Afterward they prepared the Passover for themselves and for the priests. Indeed the priests, the sons of Aaron, were busy offering holocausts and the fatty portions until night; therefore the Levites prepared for themselves and for the priests, the sons of Aaron.

2Ch 35:15 The singers, the sons of Asaph, were at their posts as prescribed by David: Asaph, Heman and Jeduthun, the king's seer. The gatekeepers were at every gate; there was no need for them to leave their stations, for their brethren, the Levites, prepared for them.

2Ch 35:16 Thus the entire service of the LORD was arranged that day so that the Passover could be celebrated and the holocausts offered on the altar of the LORD, as King Josiah had commanded.

2Ch 35:17 The Israelites who were present on that occasion kept the Passover and the feast of the Unleavened Bread for seven days.

2Ch 35:18 No such Passover had been observed in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel, nor had any king of Israel kept a Passover like that of Josiah, the priests and Levites, all of Judah and Israel that were present, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

2Ch 35:19 It was in the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign that this Passover was observed.

2Ch 35:20 After Josiah had done all this to restore the temple, Neco, king of Egypt, came up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah went out to intercept him.

2Ch 35:21 Neco sent messengers to him, saying: "What quarrel is between us, king of Judah? I have not come against you this day, for my war is with another kingdom, and God has told me to hasten. Do not interfere with God who is with me, as otherwise he will destroy you."

2Ch 35:22 But Josiah would not withdraw from him, for he had sought a pretext for fighting with him. Therefore he would not listen to the words of Neco that came from the mouth of God, but went out to fight in the plain of Megiddo.

2Ch 35:23 Then the archers shot King Josiah, who said to his servants, "Take me away, for I am seriously wounded."

2Ch 35:24 His servants removed him from his own chariot, placed him in another he had in reserve, and brought him to Jerusalem, where he died. He was buried in the tombs of his ancestors, and all Judah and Jerusalem mourned him.

2Ch 35:25 Jeremiah also composed a lamentation over Josiah, which is recited to this day by all the male and female singers in their lamentations over Josiah. These have been made obligatory for Israel, and can be found written in the Lamentations.

2Ch 35:26 The rest of the chronicle of Josiah, his pious deeds in regard to what is written in the law of the LORD, and his acts, first and last, can be found written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

2Ch 36:1 The people of the land took Jehoahaz, son of Josiah, and made him king in Jerusalem in his father's stead.

2Ch 36:2 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

2Ch 36:3 The king of Egypt deposed him in Jerusalem and fined the land one hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

2Ch 36:4 Then the king of Egypt made his brother Eliakim king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. Neco took his brother Jehoahaz away and brought him to Egypt.

2Ch 36:5 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. He did evil in the sight of the LORD, his God.

2Ch 36:6 Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, came up against him and bound him with chains to take him to Babylon.

2Ch 36:7 Nebuchadnezzar also carried away to Babylon some of the vessels of the house of the LORD and put them in his palace in Babylon.

2Ch 36:8 The rest of the acts of Jehoiakim, the abominable things that he did, and what therefore happened to him, can be found written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah. His son Jehoiachin succeeded him as king.

2Ch 36:9 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he reigned three months (and ten days) in Jerusalem. He did evil in the sight of the LORD.

2Ch 36:10 At the turn of the year, King Nebuchadnezzar sent for him and had him brought to Babylon, along with precious vessels from the temple of the LORD. He made his brother Zedekiah king over Judah and Jerusalem.

2Ch 36:11 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

2Ch 36:12 He did evil in the sight of the LORD, his God, and he did not humble himself before the prophet Jeremiah, who spoke the word of the LORD.

2Ch 36:13 He also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear by God. He became stiff-necked and hardened his heart rather than return to the LORD, the God of Israel.

2Ch 36:14 Likewise all the princes of Judah, the priests and the people added infidelity to infidelity, practicing all the abominations of the nations and polluting the LORD'S temple which he had consecrated in Jerusalem.

2Ch 36:15 Early and often did the LORD, the God of their fathers, send his messengers to them, for he had compassion on his people and his dwelling place.

2Ch 36:16 But they mocked the messengers of God, despised his warnings, and scoffed at his prophets, until the anger of the LORD against his people was so inflamed that there was no remedy.

2Ch 36:17 Then he brought up against them the king of the Chaldeans, who slew their young men in their own sanctuary building, sparing neither young man nor maiden, neither the aged nor the decrepit; he delivered all of them over into his grip.

2Ch 36:18 All the utensils of the house of God, the large and the small, and the treasures of the LORD'S house and of the king and his princes, all these he brought to Babylon.

2Ch 36:19 They burnt the house of God, tore down the walls of Jerusalem, set all its palaces afire, and destroyed all its precious objects.

2Ch 36:20 Those who escaped the sword he carried captive to Babylon, where they became his and his sons' servants until the kingdom of the Persians came to power.

2Ch 36:21 All this was to fulfill the word of the LORD spoken by Jeremiah: "Until the land has retrieved its lost sabbaths, during all the time it lies waste it shall have rest while seventy years are fulfilled."

2Ch 36:22 In the first year of Cyrus, king of Persia, in order to fulfill the word of the LORD spoken by Jeremiah, the LORD inspired King Cyrus of Persia to issue this proclamation throughout his kingdom, both by word of mouth and in writing:

2Ch 36:23 "Thus says Cyrus, king of Persia: 'All the kingdoms of the earth the LORD, the God of heaven, has given to me, and he has also charged me to build him a house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah. Whoever, therefore, among you belongs to any part of his people, let him go up, and may his God be with him!'"

Ezr 1:1 In the first year of Cyrus, king of Persia, in order to fulfill the word of the LORD spoken by Jeremiah, the LORD inspired King Cyrus of Persia to issue this proclamation throughout his kingdom, both by word of mouth and in writing:

Ezr 1:2 "Thus says Cyrus, king of Persia: 'All the kingdoms of the earth the LORD, the God of heaven, has given to me, and he has also charged me to build him a house in Jerusalem, which is in Judah.

Ezr 1:3 Whoever, therefore, among you belongs to any part of his people, let him go up, and may his God be with him!

Ezr 1:4 Let everyone who has survived, in whatever place he may have dwelt, be assisted by the people of that place with silver, gold, goods, and cattle, together with free-will offerings for the house of God in Jerusalem."

Ezr 1:5 Then the family heads of Judah and Benjamin and the priests and Levites-- everyone, that is, whom God had inspired to do so-- prepared to go up to build the house of the LORD in Jerusalem.

Ezr 1:6 All their neighbors gave them help in every way, with silver, gold, goods, and cattle, and with many precious gifts besides all their free-will offerings.

Ezr 1:7 King Cyrus, too, had the utensils of the house of the LORD brought forth which Nebuchadnezzar had taken away from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his god.

Ezr 1:8 Cyrus, king of Persia, had them brought forth by the treasurer Mithredath, and counted out to Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah.

Ezr 1:9 This was the inventory: sacks of goldware, thirty; sacks of silverware, one thousand and twenty-nine;

Ezr 1:10 golden bowls, thirty; silver bowls, four hundred and ten; other ware, one thousand pieces.

Ezr 1:11 Total of the gold- and silver ware: five thousand four hundred pieces. All these Sheshbazzar took with him when the exiles were brought back from Babylon to Jerusalem.

Ezr 2:1 These are the inhabitants of the province who returned from the captivity of the exiles, whom Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had carried away to Babylon, and who came back to Jerusalem and Judah, each man in his own city

Ezr 2:2 (those who returned with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Seraiah, Reelaiah, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Rehum, and Baanah): The census of the men of Israel:

Ezr 2:3 sons of Parosh, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two;

Ezr 2:4 sons of Shephatiah, three hundred and seventy-two;

Ezr 2:5 sons of Arah, seven hundred and seventy-five;

Ezr 2:6 sons of Pahath-moab, who were sons of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve;

Ezr 2:7 sons of Elam, one thousand two hundred and fifty-four;

Ezr 2:8 sons of Zattu, nine hundred and forty-five;

Ezr 2:9 sons of Zaccai, seven hundred and sixty;

Ezr 2:10 sons of Bani, six hundred and forty-two;

Ezr 2:11 sons of Bebai, six hundred and twenty-three;

Ezr 2:12 sons of Azgad, one thousand two hundred and twenty-two;

Ezr 2:13 sons of Adonikam, six hundred and sixty-six;

Ezr 2:14 sons of Bigvai, two thousand and fifty-six;

Ezr 2:15 sons of Adin, four hundred and fifty-four;

Ezr 2:16 sons of Ater, who were sons of Hezekiah, ninety-eight;

Ezr 2:17 sons of Bezai, three hundred and twenty-three;

Ezr 2:18 sons of Jorah, one hundred and twelve;

Ezr 2:19 sons of Hashum, two hundred and twenty-three;

Ezr 2:20 sons of Gibeon, ninety-five;

Ezr 2:21 sons of Bethlehem, one hundred and twenty-three;

Ezr 2:22 men of Netophah, fifty-six;

Ezr 2:23 men of Anathoth, one hundred and twenty-eight;

Ezr 2:24 men of Beth-azmaveth, forty-two;

Ezr 2:25 men of Kiriath-jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and forty-three;

Ezr 2:26 men of Ramah and Geba, six hundred and twenty-one;

Ezr 2:27 men of Michmas, one hundred and twenty-two;

Ezr 2:28 men of Bethel and Ai, two hundred and twenty-three;
Ezr 2:29 sons of Nebo, fifty-two;
Ezr 2:30 sons of Magbish, one hundred and fifty-six;
Ezr 2:31 sons of the other Elam, one thousand two hundred and fifty-four;
Ezr 2:32 sons of Harim, three hundred and twenty;
Ezr 2:33 sons of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-five;
Ezr 2:34 sons of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five;
Ezr 2:35 sons of Senaah, three thousand six hundred and thirty.
Ezr 2:36 The priests: sons of Jedaiah, who were of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred and seventy-three;
Ezr 2:37 sons of Immer, one thousand and fifty-two;
Ezr 2:38 sons of Pashhur, one thousand two hundred and forty-seven;
Ezr 2:39 sons of Harim, one thousand and seventeen.
Ezr 2:40 The Levites: sons of Jeshua, Kadmiel, Binnui, and Hodaviah, seventy-four.
Ezr 2:41 The singers: sons of Asaph, one hundred and twenty-eight.
Ezr 2:42 The gatekeepers: sons of Shallum, sons of Ater, sons of Talmon, sons of Akkub, sons of Hatita, sons of Shobai, one hundred and thirty-nine in all.
Ezr 2:43 The temple slaves: sons of Ziha, sons of Hasupha, sons of Tabbaoth,
Ezr 2:44 sons of Keros, sons of Siaha, sons of Padon,
Ezr 2:45 sons of Lebanah, sons of Hagabah, sons of Akkub,
Ezr 2:46 sons of Hagab, sons of Shamlai, sons of Hanan,
Ezr 2:47 sons of Giddel, sons of Gahar, sons of Reaiah,
Ezr 2:48 sons of Rezin, sons of Nekoda, sons of Gazzam,
Ezr 2:49 sons of Uzza, sons of Paseah, sons of Besai,
Ezr 2:50 sons of Asnah, sons of the Meunites, sons of the Nephusites,
Ezr 2:51 sons of Bakbuk, sons of Hakupha, sons of Harhur,
Ezr 2:52 sons of Bazluth, sons of Mehida, sons of Harsha,
Ezr 2:53 sons of Barkos, sons of Sisera, sons of Temah,
Ezr 2:54 sons of Neziah, sons of Hatipha.
Ezr 2:55 Descendants of the slaves of Solomon: sons of Sotai, sons of Hassophereth, sons of Peruda,
Ezr 2:56 sons of Jaalah, sons of Darkon, sons of Giddel,
Ezr 2:57 sons of Shephatiah, sons of Hattil, sons of Pochereth-hazzebaim, sons of Ami.
Ezr 2:58 The total of the temple slaves and the descendants of the slaves of Solomon was three hundred and ninety-two.
Ezr 2:59 The following who returned from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherub, Addan, and Immer were unable to prove that their ancestral houses and their descent were Israelite:
Ezr 2:60 sons of Delaiah, sons of Tobiah, sons of Nekoda, six hundred and fifty-two.
Ezr 2:61 Also, of the priests: sons of Habaiah, sons of Hakkoz, sons of Barzillai (he had married one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite and became known by his name).
Ezr 2:62 These men searched their family records, but their names could not be found written there; hence they were degraded from the priesthood,
Ezr 2:63 and His Excellency ordered them not to partake of the most holy foods until there should be a priest bearing the Urim and Thummim.
Ezr 2:64 The entire assembly taken together came to forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty,
Ezr 2:65 not counting their male and female slaves, who were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven. They also had two hundred male and female singers.
Ezr 2:66 Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six, their mules two hundred and forty-five,
Ezr 2:67 their camels four hundred and thirty-five, their asses six thousand seven hundred and twenty.
Ezr 2:68 When they arrived at the house of the LORD in Jerusalem, some of the family heads made free-will offerings for the house of God, to rebuild it in its place.
Ezr 2:69 According to their means they contributed to the treasury for the temple service: sixty-one thousand drachmas of gold, five thousand minas of silver, and one hundred garments for the priests.
Ezr 2:70 The priests, the Levites, and some of the common people took up residence in Jerusalem; but the singers, the gatekeepers, and the temple slaves dwelt in their cities. Thus all the Israelites dwelt in their cities.
Ezr 3:1 Now when the seventh month came, after the Israelites had settled in their cities, the people gathered at Jerusalem as one man.
Ezr 3:2 Then Jeshua, son of Jozadak, together with his brethren the priests, and Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, together with his brethren, set about rebuilding the altar of the God of Israel in order to offer on it the holocausts prescribed in the law of Moses, the man of God.
Ezr 3:3 Despite their fear of the peoples of the land, they replaced the altar on its foundations and offered holocausts to the LORD on it, both morning and evening.

Ezr 3:4 They also kept the feast of Booths in the manner prescribed, and they offered the daily holocausts in the proper number required for each day.

Ezr 3:5 Thereafter they offered the established holocaust, the sacrifices prescribed for the new moons and all the festivals sacred to the LORD, and those which anyone might offer as a free-will gift to the LORD.

Ezr 3:6 From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer holocausts to the LORD, though the foundation of the temple of the LORD had not yet been laid.

Ezr 3:7 Then they hired stonecutters and carpenters, and sent food and drink and oil to the Sidonians and Tyrians that they might ship cedar trees from the Lebanon to the port of Joppa, as Cyrus, king of Persia, had authorized.

Ezr 3:8 In the year after their coming to the house of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua, son of Jozadak, together with the rest of their brethren, the priests and Levites and all who had come from the captivity to Jerusalem, began by appointing the Levites twenty years of age and over to supervise the work on the house of the LORD.

Ezr 3:9 Jeshua and his sons and brethren, with Kadmiel and Binnui, son of Henadad, and their sons and their brethren, the Levites, stood as one man to supervise those who were engaged in the work on the house of God.

Ezr 3:10 When the builders had laid the foundation of the LORD'S temple, the vested priests with the trumpets and the Levites, sons of Asaph, were stationed there with the cymbals to praise the LORD in the manner laid down by David, king of Israel.

Ezr 3:11 They alternated in songs of praise and thanksgiving to the LORD, "for he is good, for his kindness to Israel endures forever"; and all the people raised a great shout of joy, praising the LORD because the foundation of the LORD'S house had been laid.

Ezr 3:12 Many of the priests, Levites, and family heads, the old men who had seen the former house, cried out in sorrow as they watched the foundation of the present house being laid. Many others, however, lifted up their voices in shouts of joy,

Ezr 3:13 and no one could distinguish the sound of the joyful shouting from the sound of those who were weeping; for the people raised a mighty clamor which was heard afar off.

Ezr 4:1 When the enemies of Judah and Benjamin heard that the exiles were building a temple for the LORD, the God of Israel,

Ezr 4:2 they approached Zerubbabel and the family heads and said to them, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God just as you do, and we have sacrificed to him since the days of Esarhaddon, king of Assyria, who had us brought here."

Ezr 4:3 But Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the rest of the family heads of Israel answered them, "It is not your responsibility to build with us a house for our God, but we alone must build it for the LORD, the God of Israel, as King Cyrus of Persia has commanded us."

Ezr 4:4 Thereupon the people of the land set out to intimidate and dishearten the people of Judah so as to keep them from building.

Ezr 4:5 They also suborned counselors to work against them and thwart their plans during the remaining years of Cyrus, king of Persia, and until the reign of Darius, king of Persia.

Ezr 4:6 Also at the beginning of the reign of Ahashuerus they prepared a written accusation against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezr 4:7 Again, in the time of Artaxerxes, Mithredath wrote in concert with Tabeel and the rest of his fellow officials to Artaxerxes, king of Persia. The document was written in Aramaic and was accompanied by a translation. (Aramaic:)

Ezr 4:8 Then Rehum, the governor, and Shimshai, the scribe, wrote the following letter against Jerusalem to King Artaxerxes:

Ezr 4:9 "Rehum, the governor, Shimshai, the scribe, and their fellow judges, officials, and agents from among the Persian, Urukian, Babylonian, Susian (that is Elamite), Ezr 4:10 and the other peoples whom the great and illustrious Assurbanipal transported and settled in the city of Samaria and elsewhere in the province West-of-Euphrates, as follows...."

Ezr 4:11 This is a copy of the letter that they sent to him: "To King Artaxerxes, your servants, the men of West-of-Euphrates, as follows:

Ezr 4:12 Let it be known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have arrived at Jerusalem and are now rebuilding this rebellious and evil city. They are raising up its walls, and the foundations have already been laid.

Ezr 4:13 Now let it be known to the king that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are raised up again, they will no longer pay taxes, tributes, or tolls; thus it can only result in harm to the throne.

Ezr 4:14 Now, since we partake of the salt of the palace, we ought not simply to look on while the king is being dishonored. Therefore we have sent this message to inform you, O king, Ezr 4:15 so that inquiry may be made in the historical records of your fathers. In the historical records you can discover and verify that this city is a rebellious city which has proved fatal to kings and provinces, and that sedition has been fostered there since ancient times. For that reason this city was destroyed.

Ezr 4:16 We inform you, O king, that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are raised up again, by that very fact you will no longer own any part of West-of-Euphrates."

Ezr 4:17 The king sent this answer: "To Rehum, the governor, Shimshai, the scribe, and their fellow officials living in Samaria and elsewhere in the province West-of-Euphrates, greetings and the following:

Ezr 4:18 The communication which you sent us has been read plainly in my presence.

Ezr 4:19 When at my command inquiry was made, it was verified that from ancient times this city has risen up against kings and that rebellion and sedition have been fostered there.

Ezr 4:20 Powerful kings were once in Jerusalem who ruled over all West-of-Euphrates, and taxes, tributes, and tolls were paid to them.

Ezr 4:21 Give orders, therefore, that will stop the work of these men. This city may not be rebuilt until a further decree has been issued by me.

Ezr 4:22 Take care that you do not neglect this matter, lest the evil grow to the detriment of the throne."

Ezr 4:23 As soon as a copy of King Artaxerxes' letter had been read before Rehum, the governor, Shimshai, the scribe, and their fellow officials, they went in all haste to the Jews in Jerusalem and stopped their work by force of arms.

Ezr 4:24 Thus it was that the work on the house of God in Jerusalem was halted. This inaction lasted until the second year of the reign of Darius, king of Persia.

Ezr 5:1 Then the prophets Haggai and Zechariah, son of Iddo, began to prophesy to the Jews in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel.

Ezr 5:2 Thereupon Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua, son of Jozadak, began again to build the house of God in Jerusalem, with the prophets of God giving them support.

Ezr 5:3 At that time there came to them Tattenai, governor of West-of-Euphrates, and Shethar-bozenai, and their fellow officials, who asked of them: "Who issued the decree for you to build this house and raise this edifice?"

Ezr 5:4 What are the names of the men who are building this structure?"

Ezr 5:5 But their God watched over the elders of the Jews so that they were not hindered, until a report could go to Darius and then a written order be sent back concerning this matter.

Ezr 5:6 A copy of the letter sent to King Darius by Tattenai, governor of West-of-Euphrates, and Shethar-bozenai, and their fellow officials from West-of-Euphrates;

Ezr 5:7 they sent him a report in which was written the following: "To King Darius, all good wishes!

Ezr 5:8 Let it be known to the king that we have visited the province of Judah and the house of the great God: it is being rebuilt of cut stone and the walls are being reinforced with timber; the work is being carried on diligently and is making good progress under their hands.

Ezr 5:9 We then questioned the elders, addressing to them the following words: 'Who issued the decree for you to build this house and raise this edifice?'

Ezr 5:10 We also asked them their names, to report them to you in a list of the men who are their leaders.

Ezr 5:11 This was their answer to us: 'We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and we are rebuilding the house built here long years ago, which a great king of Israel built and finished.

Ezr 5:12 But because our fathers provoked the wrath of the God of heaven, he delivered them into the power of the Chaldean, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, who destroyed this house and led the people captive to Babylon.

Ezr 5:13 However, in the first year of Cyrus, king of Babylon, King Cyrus issued a decree for the rebuilding of this house of God.

Ezr 5:14 Moreover, the gold and silver utensils of the house of God which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple in Jerusalem and carried off to the temple in Babylon, King Cyrus ordered to be removed from the temple in Babylon and consigned to a certain Sheshbazzar, whom he named governor.

Ezr 5:15 And he commanded him: Take these utensils and deposit them in the temple of Jerusalem, and let the house of God be rebuilt on its former site.

Ezr 5:16 Then this same Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundations of the house of God in Jerusalem. Since that time the building has been going on, and it is not yet completed.'

Ezr 5:17 Now, if it please the king, let a search be made in the royal archives of Babylon to discover whether a decree really was issued by King Cyrus for the rebuilding of this house of God in Jerusalem. And may the king's pleasure in this matter be communicated to us."

Ezr 6:1 Thereupon King Darius issued an order to search the archives in which the Babylonian records were stored away;

Ezr 6:2 and in Ecbatana, the stronghold in the province of Media, a scroll was found containing the following text: "Memorandum.

Ezr 6:3 In the first year of King Cyrus, King Cyrus issued a decree: The house of God in Jerusalem. The house is to be rebuilt as a place for offering sacrifices and bringing burnt offerings. Its height is to be sixty cubits and its width sixty cubits.

Ezr 6:4 It shall have three courses of cut stone for each one of timber. The costs are to be borne by the royal palace.

Ezr 6:5 Also, the gold and silver utensils of the house of God which Nebuchadnezzar took from the temple of Jerusalem and brought to Babylon are to be sent back: to be returned to their place in the temple of Jerusalem and deposited in the house of God.

Ezr 6:6 "Now, therefore, Tattenai, governor of West-of-Euphrates, and Shethar-bozenai, and you, their fellow officials in West-of-Euphrates, do not interfere in that place.

Ezr 6:7 Let the governor and the elders of the Jews continue the work on that house of God; they are to rebuild it on its former site.

Ezr 6:8 I also issue this decree concerning your dealing with these elders of the Jews in the rebuilding of that house of God: From the royal revenue, the taxes of West-of-Euphrates, let these men be repaid for their expenses, in full and without delay.

Ezr 6:9 Whatever else is required-- young bulls, rams, and lambs for holocausts to the God of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, and oil, according to the requirements of the priests who are in Jerusalem-- is to be delivered to them day by day without fail,

Ezr 6:10 that they may continue to offer sacrifices of pleasing odor to the God of heaven and pray for the life of the king and his sons.

Ezr 6:11 I also issue this decree: If any man violates this edict, a beam is to be taken from his house, and he is to be lifted up and impaled on it; and his house is to be reduced to rubble for this offense.

Ezr 6:12 And may the God who causes his name to dwell there overthrow every king or people who may undertake to alter this or to destroy this house of God in Jerusalem. I, Darius, have issued this decree; let it be carefully executed."

Ezr 6:13 Then Tattenai, the governor of West-of-Euphrates, and Shethar-bozenai, and their fellow officials carried out fully the instructions King Darius had sent them.

Ezr 6:14 The elders of the Jews continued to make progress in the building, supported by the message of the prophets, Haggai and Zechariah, son of Iddo. They finished the building according to the command of the God of Israel and the decrees of Cyrus and Darius (and of Artaxerxes, king of Persia).

Ezr 6:15 They completed this house on the third day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of King Darius.

Ezr 6:16 The Israelites-- priests, Levites, and the other returned exiles-- celebrated the dedication of this house of God with joy.

Ezr 6:17 For the dedication of this house of God, they offered one hundred bulls, two hundred rams, and four hundred lambs, together with twelve he-goats as a sin-offering for all Israel, in keeping with the number of the tribes of Israel.

Ezr 6:18 Finally, they set up the priests in their classes and the Levites in their divisions for the service of God in Jerusalem, as is prescribed in the book of Moses.

Ezr 6:19 The exiles kept the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

Ezr 6:20 The Levites, every one of whom had purified himself for the occasion, sacrificed the Passover for the rest of the exiles, for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

Ezr 6:21 The Israelites who had returned from the exile partook of it together with all those who had separated themselves from the uncleanness of the peoples of the land to join them in seeking the LORD, the God of Israel.

Ezr 6:22 They joyfully kept the feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days, for the LORD had filled them with joy by making the king of Assyria favorable to them, so that he gave them help in their work on the house of God, the God of Israel.

Ezr 7:1 After these events, during the reign of Artaxerxes, king of Persia, Ezra, son of Seraiah, son of Azariah, son of Hilkiah,

Ezr 7:2 son of Shallum, son of Zadok, son of Ahitub,

Ezr 7:3 son of Amariah, son of Azariah, son of Meraioth,

Ezr 7:4 son of Zerariah, son of Uzzi, son of Bukki,

Ezr 7:5 son of Abishua, son of Phinehas, son of Eleazar, son of the high priest Aaron--

Ezr 7:6 this Ezra came up from Babylon. He was a scribe, well-versed in the law of Moses which was given by the LORD, the God of Israel. Because the hand of the LORD, his God, was upon him, the king granted him all that he requested.

Ezr 7:7 Some of the Israelites and some priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, and temple slaves also came up to Jerusalem in the seventh year of King Artaxerxes.

Ezr 7:8 Ezra came to Jerusalem in the fifth month of that seventh year of the king.

Ezr 7:9 On the first day of the first month he resolved on the journey up from Babylon, and on the first day of the fifth month he arrived at Jerusalem, for the favoring hand of his God was upon him.

Ezr 7:10 Ezra had set his heart on the study and practice of the law of the LORD and on teaching statutes and ordinances in Israel.

Ezr 7:11 This is a copy of the rescript which King Artaxerxes gave to Ezra the priest-scribe, the scribe of the text of the LORD'S commandments and statutes for Israel:

Ezr 7:12 "Artaxerxes, king of kings, to Ezra the priest, scribe of the law of the God of heaven (then, after greetings):

Ezr 7:13 I have issued this decree, that anyone in my kingdom belonging to the people of Israel, its priests or Levites, who is minded to go up to Jerusalem with you, may do so.

Ezr 7:14 You are the envoy from the king and his seven counselors to supervise Judah and Jerusalem in respect of the law of your God which is in your possession,

Ezr 7:15 and to bring with you the silver and gold which the king and his counselors have freely contributed to the God of Israel, whose dwelling is in Jerusalem,

Ezr 7:16 as well as all the silver and gold which you may receive throughout the province of Babylon, together with the free-will offerings which the people and priests freely contribute for the house of their God in Jerusalem.

Ezr 7:17 You must take care, therefore, to use this money to buy bulls, rams, lambs, and the cereal offerings and libations proper to these, and to offer them on the altar of the house of your God in Jerusalem.

Ezr 7:18 You and your brethren may do whatever seems best to you with the remainder of the silver and gold, conformably to the will of your God.

Ezr 7:19 The utensils consigned to you for the service of the house of your God you are to deposit before the God of Jerusalem.

Ezr 7:20 Whatever else you may be required to supply for the needs of the house of your God, you may draw from the royal treasury.

Ezr 7:21 I, Artaxerxes the king, issue this decree to all the treasurers of West-of-Euphrates: Whatever Ezra the priest, scribe of the law of the God of heaven, requests of you, dispense to him accurately, Ezr 7:22 within these limits: silver, one hundred talents; wheat, one hundred kors; wine, one hundred baths; oil, one hundred baths; salt, without limit.

Ezr 7:23 Let everything that is ordered by the God of heaven be carried out exactly for the house of the God of heaven, that wrath may not come upon the realm of the king and his sons.

Ezr 7:24 We also inform you that it is not permitted to impose taxes, tributes, or tolls on any priest, Levite, singer, gatekeeper, temple slave, or any other servant of that house of God.

Ezr 7:25 "As for you, Ezra, in accordance with the wisdom of your God which is in your possession, appoint magistrates and judges to administer justice to all the people in West-of-Euphrates, to all, that is, who know the laws of your God. Instruct those who do not know these laws.

Ezr 7:26 Whoever does not obey the law of your God and the law of the king, let strict judgment be executed upon him, whether death, or corporal punishment, or a fine on his goods, or imprisonment."

Ezr 7:27 Blessed be the LORD, the God of our fathers, who thus disposed the mind of the king to glorify the house of the LORD in Jerusalem,

Ezr 7:28 and who let me find favor with the king, with his counselors, and with all the most influential royal officials. I therefore took courage and, with the hand of the LORD, my God, upon me, I gathered together Israelite family heads to make the return journey with me.

Ezr 8:1 This is the list of the family heads who returned with me from Babylon during the reign of King Artaxerxes:

Ezr 8:2 Of the sons of Phinehas, Gershon; of the sons of Ithamar, Daniel; of the sons of David, Hattush,

Ezr 8:3 son of Shecaniah; of the sons of Parosh, Zechariah, and with him one hundred and fifty males were enrolled;

Ezr 8:4 of the sons of Pahath-moab, Eliehoenai, son of Zeremiah, and with him two hundred males;

Ezr 8:5 of the sons of Zattu, Shecaniah, son of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred males;

Ezr 8:6 of the sons of Adin, Ebed, son of Jonathan, and with him fifty males;

Ezr 8:7 of the sons of Elam, Jeshaiiah, son of Athaliah, and with him seventy males;

Ezr 8:8 of the sons of Shephatiah, Zebadiah, son of Michael, and with him eighty males;

Ezr 8:9 of the sons of Joab, Obadiah, son of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males;

Ezr 8:10 of the sons of Bani, Shelomith, son of Josiphiah, and with him one hundred and sixty males;

Ezr 8:11 of the sons of Bebai, Zechariah, son of Bebai, and with him twenty-eight males;

Ezr 8:12 of the sons of Azgad, Johanan, son of Hakkatan, and with him one hundred and ten males;

Ezr 8:13 of the sons of Adonikam, younger sons, whose names were Eliphelet, Jeiel, and Shemaiah, and with them sixty males;

Ezr 8:14 of the sons of Bigvai, Uthai, son of Zakkur, and with him seventy males.

Ezr 8:15 I had them assemble by the river that flows toward Ahava, where we made camp for three days. There I perceived that both laymen and priests were present, but I could not discover a single Levite.

Ezr 8:16 Therefore I sent Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam, wise leaders,

Ezr 8:17 with a command for Iddo, the leader in the place Casiphia, instructing them what to say to Iddo and his brethren, and to the temple slaves in Casiphia, in order to procure for us ministers for the house of our God.

Ezr 8:18 They sent to us-- for the favoring hand of our God was upon us-- a well-instructed man, one of the sons of Mahli, son of Levi, son of Israel, namely Sherebiah, with his sons and brethren, eighteen men.

Ezr 8:19 They also sent us Hashabiah, and with him Jeshaiah, sons of Merari, and their brethren and their sons, twenty men.

Ezr 8:20 Of the temple slaves (those whom David and the princes appointed to serve the Levites) there were two hundred and twenty. All these men were enrolled by name.

Ezr 8:21 Then I proclaimed a fast, there by the river of Ahava, that we might humble ourselves before our God to petition from him a safe journey for ourselves, our children, and all our possessions.

Ezr 8:22 For I would have been ashamed to ask the king for troops and horsemen to protect us against enemies along the way, since we had said to the king, "The favoring hand of our God is upon all who seek him, but his mighty wrath is against all who forsake him."

Ezr 8:23 So we fasted, and prayed to our God for this, and our petition was granted.

Ezr 8:24 Next I selected twelve of the priestly leaders along with Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren,

Ezr 8:25 and I weighed out before them the silver and the gold and the utensils offered for the house of our God by the king, his counselors, his officials, and all the Israelites of that region.

Ezr 8:26 I consigned it to them in these amounts: silver, six hundred and fifty talents; silver utensils, one hundred; gold, one hundred talents;

Ezr 8:27 twenty golden bowls valued at a thousand darics; two vases of excellent polished bronze, as precious as gold.

Ezr 8:28 I addressed them in these words: "You are consecrated to the LORD, and the utensils are also consecrated; the silver and the gold are a free-will offering to the LORD, the God of your fathers.

Ezr 8:29 Keep good watch over them till you weigh them out in Jerusalem in the presence of the chief priests and Levites and the family leaders of Israel, in the chambers of the house of the LORD."

Ezr 8:30 The priests and the Levites then took over the silver, the gold, and the utensils that had been weighed out, to bring them to Jerusalem, to the house of our God.

Ezr 8:31 We set out for Jerusalem from the river of Ahava on the twelfth day of the first month. The hand of our God remained upon us, and he protected us from enemies and bandits along the way.

Ezr 8:32 Thus we arrived in Jerusalem, where we first rested for three days.

Ezr 8:33 On the fourth day, the silver, the gold, and the utensils were weighed out in the house of our God and consigned to the priest Meremoth, son of Uriah, who was assisted by Eleazar, son of Phinehas; they were assisted by the Levites Jozabad, son of Jeshua, and Noadiah, son of Binnui.

Ezr 8:34 Everything was in order as to number and weight, and the total weight was registered. At that same time,

Ezr 8:35 those who had returned from the captivity, the exiles, offered as holocausts to the God of Israel twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and twelve goats as sin-offerings: all these as a holocaust to the LORD.

Ezr 8:36 Finally, the orders of the king were presented to the king's satraps and to the governors in West-of-Euphrates, who gave their support to the people and to the house of God.

Ezr 9:1 When these matters had been concluded, the leaders approached me with this report: "Neither the Israelite laymen nor the priests nor the Levites have kept themselves aloof from the peoples of the land and their abominations (Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites);

Ezr 9:2 for they have taken some of their daughters as wives for themselves and their sons, and thus they have desecrated the holy race with the peoples of the land. Furthermore, the leaders and rulers have taken a leading part in this apostasy!"

Ezr 9:3 When I had heard this thing, I tore my cloak and my mantle, plucked hair from my head and beard, and sat there stupefied.

Ezr 9:4 Around me gathered all who were in dread of the sentence of the God of Israel on this apostasy of the exiles, while I remained motionless until the evening sacrifice.

Ezr 9:5 Then, at the time of the evening sacrifice, I rose in my wretchedness, and with cloak and mantle torn I fell on my knees, stretching out my hands to the LORD, my God.

Ezr 9:6 I said: "My God, I am too ashamed and confounded to raise my face to you, O my God, for our wicked deeds are heaped up above our heads and our guilt reaches up to heaven.

Ezr 9:7 From the time of our fathers even to this day great has been our guilt, and for our wicked deeds we have been delivered over, we and our kings and our priests, to the will of the kings of foreign lands, to the sword, to captivity, to pillage, and to disgrace, as is the case today.

Ezr 9:8 "And now, but a short time ago, mercy came to us from the LORD, our God, who left us a remnant and gave us a stake in his holy place; thus our God has brightened our eyes and given us relief in our servitude.

Ezr 9:9 For slaves we are, but in our servitude our God has not abandoned us; rather, he has turned the good will of the kings of Persia toward us. Thus he has given us new life to raise again the house of our God and restore its ruins, and has granted us a fence in Judah and Jerusalem.

Ezr 9:10 But now, O our God, what can we say after all this? For we have abandoned your commandments,

Ezr 9:11 which you gave through your servants the prophets: the land which you are entering to take as your possession is a land unclean with the filth of the peoples of the land, with the abominations with which they have filled it from one end to the other in their uncleanness.

Ezr 9:12 Do not, then, give your daughters to their sons in marriage, and do not take their daughters for your sons. Never promote their peace and prosperity; thus you will grow strong, enjoy the produce of the land, and leave it as an inheritance to your children forever.

Ezr 9:13 "After all that has come upon us for our evil deeds and our great guilt-- though you, our God, have made less of our sinfulness than it deserved and have allowed us to survive as we do--

Ezr 9:14 shall we again violate your commandments by intermarrying with these abominable peoples? Would you not become so angered with us as to destroy us without remnant or survivor?

Ezr 9:15 O LORD, God of Israel, you are just; yet we have been spared, the remnant we are today. Here we are before you in our sins. Because of all this, we can no longer stand in your presence."

Ezr 10:1 While Ezra prayed and acknowledged their guilt, weeping and prostrate before the house of God, a very large assembly of Israelites gathered about him, men, women, and children; and the people wept profusely.

Ezr 10:2 Then Shecaniah, the son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, made this appeal to Ezra: "We have indeed betrayed our God by taking as wives foreign women of the peoples of the land. Yet even now there remains a hope for Israel.

Ezr 10:3 Let us therefore enter into a covenant before our God to dismiss all our foreign wives and the children born of them, in keeping with what you, my lord, advise, and those who fear the commandments of our God. Let the law be observed!

Ezr 10:4 Rise, then, for this is your duty! We will stand by you, so have courage and take action!"

Ezr 10:5 Ezra rose to his feet and demanded an oath from the chiefs of the priests, from the Levites and from all Israel that they would do as had been proposed; and they swore it.

Ezr 10:6 Then Ezra retired from his place before the house of God and entered the chamber of Johanan, son of Eliashib, where he spent the night neither eating food nor drinking water, for he was in mourning over the betrayal by the exiles.

Ezr 10:7 A proclamation was made throughout Judah and Jerusalem that all the exiles should gather together in Jerusalem,

Ezr 10:8 and that whoever failed to appear within three days would, according to the judgment of the leaders and elders, suffer the confiscation of all his possessions, and himself be excluded from the assembly of the exiles.

Ezr 10:9 All the men of Judah and Benjamin gathered together in Jerusalem within the three-day period: it was in the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. All the people, standing in the open place before the house of God, were trembling both over the matter at hand and because it was raining.

Ezr 10:10 Then Ezra, the priest, stood up and said to them: "Your unfaithfulness in taking foreign women as wives has added to Israel's guilt.

Ezr 10:11 But now, give praise to the LORD, the God of your fathers, and do his will: separate yourselves from the peoples of the land and from these foreign women."

Ezr 10:12 In answer, the whole assembly cried out with a loud voice: "Yes, it is our duty to do as you say!

Ezr 10:13 But the people are numerous and it is the rainy season, so that we cannot remain out-of-doors; besides, this is not a task that can be performed in a single day or even two, for those of us who have sinned in this regard are many.

Ezr 10:14 Let our leaders represent the whole assembly; then let all those in our cities who have taken foreign women for wives appear at appointed times, accompanied by the elders and magistrates of each city in question, till we have turned away from us our God's burning anger over this affair."

Ezr 10:15 Only Jonathan, son of Asahel, and Jahzeiah, son of Tikvah, were against this proposal, with Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite supporting them.

Ezr 10:16 The exiles did as agreed. Ezra appointed as his assistants men who were family heads, one for each family, all of them designated by name. They held sessions to examine the matter, beginning with the first day of the tenth month.

Ezr 10:17 By the first day of the first month they had passed judgment on all the men who had taken foreign women for wives.

Ezr 10:18 Among the priests, the following were found to have taken foreign women for wives: Of the sons of Jeshua, son of Jozadak, and his brethren: Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah.

Ezr 10:19 They pledged themselves to dismiss their wives, and as a guilt-offering for their guilt they gave a ram from the flock.

Ezr 10:20 Of the sons of Immer: Hanani and Zebadiah;

Ezr 10:21 of the sons of Harim: Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel, and Uziah;

Ezr 10:22 of the sons of Pashhur: Elioenai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasa.

Ezr 10:23 Of the Levites: Jozabad, Shimei, Kelaiah (also called Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah and Eliezer.

Ezr 10:24 Of the singers: Eliashib and Zakkur; of the gatekeepers: Shallum, Telem, and Uri.

Ezr 10:25 Among the other Israelites: Of the sons of Parosh: Ramiah, Izziah, Malchijah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malchijah, and Benaiah;

Ezr 10:26 of the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth, and Elijah;

Ezr 10:27 of the sons of Zattu: Elioenai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, Jeremoth, Zabad, and Aziza;

Ezr 10:28 of the sons of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai;

Ezr 10:29 of the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jashub, Sheal, and Jeremoth;

Ezr 10:30 of the sons of Pahath-moab: Adna, Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, Binnui, and Manasseh;

Ezr 10:31 of the sons of Harim: Eliezer, Isshijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon,

Ezr 10:32 Benjamin, Malluch, Shemariah;

Ezr 10:33 of the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, Shimei;

Ezr 10:34 of the sons of Begui: Maadai, Amram, Uel,

Ezr 10:35 Benaiah, Bedeiah, Cheluhi,

Ezr 10:36 Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib,

Ezr 10:37 Mattaniah, Mattenai, and Jaasu;

Ezr 10:38 of the sons of Binnui: Shimei,

Ezr 10:39 Shelemiah, Nathan, and Adaiah;

Ezr 10:40 of the sons of Zachai: Shashai, Sharai,

Ezr 10:41 Azarel, Shelemiah, Shemariah,

Ezr 10:42 Shallum, Amariah, Joseph;

Ezr 10:43 of the sons of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, Joel, Benaiah.

Ezr 10:44 All these had taken foreign wives; but they sent them away, both the women and their children.

Neh 1:1 The words of Nehemiah, the son of Hacaliah. In the month Chisleu of the twentieth year, I was in the citadel of Susa

Neh 1:2 when Hanani, one of my brothers, came with other men from Judah. I asked them about the Jews, the remnant preserved after the captivity, and about Jerusalem,

Neh 1:3 and they answered me: "The survivors of the captivity there in the province are in great distress and under reproach. Also, the wall of Jerusalem lies breached, and its gates have been gutted with fire."

Neh 1:4 When I heard this report, I began to weep and continued mourning for several days; I fasted and prayed before the God of heaven.

Neh 1:5 I prayed: "O LORD, God of heaven, great and awesome God, you who preserve your covenant of mercy toward those who love you and keep your commandments,

Neh 1:6 may your ear be attentive, and your eyes open, to heed the prayer which I, your servant, now offer in your presence day and night for your servants the Israelites, confessing the sins which we of Israel have committed against you, I and my father's house included.

Neh 1:7 Grievously have we offended you, not keeping the commandments, the statutes, and the ordinances which you committed to your servant Moses.

Neh 1:8 But remember, I pray, the promise which you gave through Moses, your servant, when you said: 'Should you prove faithless, I will scatter you among the nations;

Neh 1:9 but should you return to me and carefully keep my commandments, even though your outcasts have been driven to the farthest corner of the world, I will gather them from there, and bring them back to the place which I have chosen as the dwelling place for my name.'

Neh 1:10 They are your servants, your people, whom you freed by your great might and your strong hand.

Neh 1:11 O Lord, may your ear be attentive to my prayer and that of all your willing servants who revere your name. Grant success to your servant this day, and let him find favor with this man"-for I was cupbearer to the king.

Neh 2:1 In the month Nisan of the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when the wine was in my charge, I took some and offered it to the king. As I had never before been sad in his presence,

Neh 2:2 the king asked me, "Why do you look sad? If you are not sick, you must be sad at heart." Though I was seized with great fear,

Neh 2:3 I answered the king: "May the king live forever! How could I not look sad when the city where my ancestors are buried lies in ruins, and its gates have been eaten out by fire?"

Neh 2:4 The king asked me, "What is it, then, that you wish?" I prayed to the God of heaven

Neh 2:5 and then answered the king: "If it please the king, and if your servant is deserving of your favor, send me to Judah, to the city of my ancestors' graves, to rebuild it."

Neh 2:6 Then the king, and the queen seated beside him, asked me how long my journey would take and when I would return. I set a date that was acceptable to him, and the king agreed that I might go.

Neh 2:7 I asked the king further: "If it please the king, let letters be given to me for the governors of West-of-Euphrates, that they may afford me safe-conduct till I arrive in Judah;

Neh 2:8 also a letter for Asaph, the keeper of the royal park, that he may give me wood for timbering the gates of the temple-citadel and for the city wall and the house that I shall occupy." The king granted my requests, for the favoring hand of my God was upon me.

Neh 2:9 Thus I proceeded to the governors of West-of-Euphrates and presented the king's letters to them. The king also sent with me army officers and cavalry.

Neh 2:10 When Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite slave had heard of this, they were very much displeased that someone had come to seek the welfare of the Israelites.

Neh 2:11 When I had arrived in Jerusalem, I first rested there for three days.

Neh 2:12 Then I set out by night with only a few other men (for I had not told anyone what my God had inspired me to do for Jerusalem) and with no other animals but my own mount.

Neh 2:13 I rode out at night by the Valley Gate, passed by the Dragon Spring, and came to the Dung Gate, observing how the walls of Jerusalem lay in ruins and its gates had been eaten out by fire.

Neh 2:14 Then I passed over to the Spring Gate and to the King's Pool. Since there was no room here for my mount to pass with me astride, Neh 2:15 I continued on foot up the wadi by night, inspecting the wall all the while till I once more reached the Valley Gate, by which I went back in.

Neh 2:16 The magistrates knew nothing of where I had gone or what I was doing, for as yet I had disclosed nothing to the Jews, neither to the priests, nor to the nobles, nor to the magistrates, nor to the others who would be concerned about the matter.

Neh 2:17 Afterward I said to them: "You see the evil plight in which we stand: how Jerusalem lies in ruins and its gates have been gutted by fire. Come, let us rebuild the wall of Jerusalem, so that we may no longer be an object of derision!"

Neh 2:18 Then I explained to them how the favoring hand of my God had rested upon me, and what the king had said to me. They replied, "Let us be up and building!" And they undertook the good work with vigor.

Neh 2:19 On hearing of this, Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite slave, and Geshem the Arab mocked us and ridiculed us. "What is this that you are about?" they asked. "Are you rebelling against the king?"

Neh 2:20 My answer to them was this: "It is the God of heaven who will grant us success. We, his servants, shall set about the rebuilding; but for you there is to be neither share nor claim nor memorial in Jerusalem."

Neh 3:1 Eliashib the high priest and his priestly brethren took up the task of rebuilding the Sheep Gate. They timbered it and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars, then continued the rebuilding to the Tower of Hananel.

Neh 3:2 At their side the men of Jericho were rebuilding, and next to them was Zaccur, son of Imri.

Neh 3:3 The Fish Gate was rebuilt by the sons of Hassenaah; they timbered it and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

Neh 3:4 At their side Meremoth, son of Uriah, son of Hakkoz, carried out the work of repair; next to him was Meshullam, son of Berechiah, son of Meshezabel; and next to him was Zadok, son of Baana.

Neh 3:5 Next to him the Tekoites carried out the work of repair; however, some of their outstanding men would not submit to the labor asked by their lords.

Neh 3:6 The New City Gate was repaired by Joiada, son of Paseah; and Meshullam, son of Besodeiah; they timbered it and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

Neh 3:7 At their side were Melatiah the Gibeonite, Jadon the Meronothite, and the men of Gibeon and of Mizpah, who were under the jurisdiction of the governor of West-of-Euphrates.

Neh 3:8 Next to them the work of repair was carried out by Uzziel, son of Harhaiah, a member of the goldsmiths' guild, and at his side was Hananiah, one of the perfumers' guild. They restored Jerusalem as far as the wall of the public square.

Neh 3:9 Next to them the work of repair was carried out by Rephaiah, son of Hur, leader of half the district of Jerusalem,

Neh 3:10 and at his side was Jedaiah, son of Harumaph, who repaired opposite his own house. Next to him

Hattush, son of Hashabneiah, carried out the work of repair.

Neh 3:11 The adjoining sector, as far as the Oven Tower, was repaired by Malchijah, son of Harim, and Hasshub, of Pahath-moab.

Neh 3:12 At their side the work of repair was carried out by Shallum, son of Hallohesh, leader of half the district of Jerusalem, by himself and his daughters.

Neh 3:13 The Valley Gate was repaired by Hanun and the inhabitants of Zanoah; they rebuilt it and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars. They also repaired a thousand cubits of the wall up to the Dung Gate.

Neh 3:14 The Dung Gate was repaired by Malchijah, son of Rechab, leader of the district of Beth-haccherem; he rebuilt it and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars.

Neh 3:15 The Spring Gate was repaired by Shallum, son of Colhozeh, leader of the district of Mizpah; he rebuilt it, roofed it over, and set up its doors, its bolts, and its bars. He also repaired the wall of the Aqueduct Pool near the king's garden as far as the steps that lead down from the City of David.

Neh 3:16 After him, the work of repair was carried out by Nehemiah, son of Azbuk, leader of half the district of Beth-zur, to a place opposite the tombs of David, as far as the artificial pool and the barracks.

Neh 3:17 After him, the Levites carried out the work of repair: Rehum, son of Bani. Next to him, for his own district, was Hashabiah, leader of half the district of Keilah.

Neh 3:18 After him, their brethren carried out the work of repair: Binnui, son of Henadad, leader of half the district of Keilah;

Neh 3:19 next to him Ezer, son of Jeshua, leader of Mizpah, who repaired the adjoining sector, the Corner, opposite the ascent to the arsenal.

Neh 3:20 After him, Baruch, son of Zabbai, repaired the adjoining sector from the Corner to the entrance of the house of Eliashib, the high priest.

Neh 3:21 After him, Meremoth, son of Uriah, son of Hakkoz, repaired the adjoining sector from the entrance of Eliashib's house to the end of the house.

Neh 3:22 After him, the work of repair was carried out by the priests, men of the surrounding country.

Neh 3:23 After them, Benjamin and Hasshub carried out the repair in front of their houses; after them, Azariah, son of Maaseiah, son of Ananiah, made the repairs alongside his house.

Neh 3:24 After him, Binnui, son of Henadad, repaired the adjoining sector from the house of Azariah to the Corner (that is, to the Angle).

Neh 3:25 After him, Palal, son of Uzai, carried out the work of repair opposite the Corner and the tower projecting from the Upper Palace at the quarters of the guard. After him, Pedaiah, son of Parosh, carried out the work of repair

Neh 3:26 to a point opposite the Water Gate on the east, and the projecting tower.

Neh 3:27 After him, the Tekoites repaired the adjoining sector opposite the great projecting tower, to the wall of Ophel (the temple slaves were dwelling on Ophel).

Neh 3:28 Above the Horse Gate the priests carried out the work of repair, each before his own house.

Neh 3:29 After them Zadok, son of Immer, carried out the repair before his house, and after him the repair was carried out by Shemaiah, son of Shecaniah, keeper of the East Gate.

Neh 3:30 After him, Hananiah, son of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sixth son of Zalaph, repaired the adjoining sector; after them, Meshullam, son of Berechiah, repaired the place opposite his own lodging.

Neh 3:31 After him, Malchijah, a member of the goldsmiths' guild, carried out the work of repair as far as the quarters of the temple slaves and the merchants, before the Gate of Inspection and as far as the upper chamber of the Angle.

Neh 3:32 Between the upper chamber of the Angle and the Sheep Gate, the goldsmiths and the merchants carried out the work of repair.

Neh 3:33 When Sanballat heard that we were rebuilding the wall, it roused his anger and he became very much incensed. He ridiculed the Jews,

Neh 3:34 saying in the presence of his brethren and the troops of Samaria: "What are these miserable Jews trying to do? Will they complete their restoration in a single day? Will they recover these stones, burnt as they are, from the heaps of dust?"

Neh 3:35 Tobiah the Ammonite was beside him, and he said: "It is a rubble heap they are building. Any fox that attacked it would breach their wall of stones!"

Neh 3:36 Take note, O our God, how we were mocked! Turn back their derision upon their own heads and let them be carried away to a land of captivity!

Neh 3:37 Hide not their crime and let not their sin be blotted out in your sight, for they insulted the builders to their face!

Neh 3:38 We, however, continued to build the wall, which was soon filled in and completed up to half its height. The people worked with a will.

Neh 4:1 When Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabs, the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites heard that the restoration of the walls of Jerusalem was progressing-- for the gaps were beginning to be closed up-- they became extremely angry.

Neh 4:2 Thereupon they all plotted together to come and fight against Jerusalem and thus to throw us into confusion.

Neh 4:3 We prayed to our God and posted a watch against them day and night for fear of what they might do.

Neh 4:4 Meanwhile the Judahites were saying: "Slackened is the bearers' strength, there is no end to the rubbish; Never shall we be able the wall to rebuild."

Neh 4:5 Our enemies thought, "Before they are aware of it or see us, we shall come into their midst, kill them, and put an end to the work."

Neh 4:6 When the Jews who lived near them had come to us from one place after another, and had told us ten times over that they were about to attack us,

Neh 4:7 I stationed guards down below, behind the wall, near the exposed points, assigning them by family groups with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

Neh 4:8 I made an inspection, then addressed these words to the nobles, the magistrates, and the rest of the people: "Have no fear of them! Keep in mind the LORD, who is great and to be feared, and fight for your brethren, your sons and daughters, your wives and your homes."

Neh 4:9 When our enemies became aware that we had been warned and that God had upset their plan, we all went back, each to his own task at the wall.

Neh 4:10 From that time on, however, only half my able men took a hand in the work, while the other half, armed with spears, bucklers, bows, and breastplates, stood guard behind the whole house of Judah

Neh 4:11 as they rebuilt the wall. The load carriers, too, were armed; each did his work with one hand and held a weapon with the other.

Neh 4:12 Every builder, while he worked, had his sword girt at his side. Also, a trumpeter stood beside me,

Neh 4:13 for I had said to the nobles, the magistrates, and the rest of the people: "Our work is scattered and extensive, and we are widely separated from one another along the wall;

Neh 4:14 wherever you hear the trumpet sound, join us there; our God will fight with us."

Neh 4:15 Thus we went on with the work, half of the men with spears at the ready, from daybreak till the stars came out.

Neh 4:16 At the same time I told the people to spend the nights inside Jerusalem, each man with his own attendant, so that they might serve as a guard by night and a working force by day.

Neh 4:17 Neither I, nor my kinsmen, nor any of my attendants, nor any of the bodyguard that accompanied me took off his clothes; everyone kept his weapon at his right hand.

Neh 5:1 Then there rose a great outcry of the common people and their wives against certain of their fellow Jews.

Neh 5:2 Some said: "We are forced to pawn our sons and daughters in order to get grain to eat that we may live."

Neh 5:3 Others said: "We are forced to pawn our fields, our vineyards, and our houses, that we may have grain during the famine."

Neh 5:4 Still others said: "To pay the king's tax we have borrowed money on our fields and our vineyards.

Neh 5:5 And though these are our own kinsmen and our children are as good as theirs, we have had to reduce our sons and daughters to slavery, and violence has been done to some of our daughters! Yet we can do nothing about it, for our fields and our vineyards belong to others."

Neh 5:6 I was extremely angry when I heard the reasons they had for complaint.

Neh 5:7 After some deliberation, I called the nobles and magistrates to account, saying to them, "You are exacting interest from your own kinsmen!" I then rebuked them severely,

Neh 5:8 saying to them: "As far as we were able, we bought back our fellow Jews who had been sold to Gentiles; you, however, are selling your own brothers, to have them bought back by us." They remained silent, for they could find no answer.

Neh 5:9 I continued: "What you are doing is not good. Should you not walk in the fear of our God, and put an end to the derision of our Gentile enemies?"

Neh 5:10 I myself, my kinsmen, and my attendants have lent the people money and grain without charge. Let us put an end to this usury!

Neh 5:11 I ask that you return to them this very day their fields, their vineyards, their olive groves, and their houses, together with the interest on the money, the grain, the wine, and the oil that you have lent them."

Neh 5:12 They answered: "We will return everything and exact nothing further from them. We will do just what you ask." Then I called for the priests and had them administer an oath to these men that they would do as they had promised.

Neh 5:13 I also shook out the folds of my garment, saying, "Thus may God shake from his home and his fortune every man who fails to keep this promise, and may he thus be shaken out and emptied!" And the whole assembly answered, "Amen," and praised the LORD. Then the people did as they had promised.

Neh 5:14 Moreover, from the time that King Artaxerxes appointed me governor in the land of Judah, from his twentieth to his thirty-second year-- during these twelve years neither I nor my brethren lived from the governor's allowance.

Neh 5:15 The earlier governors, my predecessors, had laid a heavy burden on the people, taking from them each day forty silver shekels for their food; then too, their men oppressed the people. But I, because I feared God, did not act thus.

Neh 5:16 Moreover, though I had acquired no land of my own, I did my part in this work on the wall, and all my men were gathered there for the work.

Neh 5:17 Though I set my table for a hundred and fifty persons, Jews and magistrates, as well as those who came to us from the nations round about,

Neh 5:18 and though the daily preparations were made at my expense-- one beef, six choice muttons, poultry-- besides all kinds of wine in abundance every ten days, despite this I did not claim the governor's allowance, for the labor lay heavy upon this people.

Neh 5:19 Keep in mind, O my God, in my favor all that I did for this people.

Neh 6:1 When it had been reported to Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arab, and our other enemies that I had rebuilt the wall and that there was no breach left in it (though up to that time I had not yet set up the doors in the gates), Neh 6:2 Sanballat and Geshem sent me this message: "Come, let us hold council together at Caphirim in the plain of Ono." They were planning to do me harm.

Neh 6:3 However, I sent messengers to them with this reply: "I am engaged in a great enterprise and am unable to come down; why should the work stop, while I leave it to come down to you?"

Neh 6:4 Four times they sent me this same proposal, and each time I gave the same reply.

Neh 6:5 Then, the fifth time, Sanballat sent me the same message by one of his servants, who bore an unsealed letter

Neh 6:6 containing this text: "Among the nations it has been reported-- Geshem is witness to this-- that you and the Jews are planning a rebellion; that for this reason you are rebuilding the wall; and that you are to be their king"-- and so on.

Neh 6:7 "Also, that you have set up prophets in Jerusalem to proclaim you king of Judah. Now, since matters like these must reach the ear of the king, come, let us hold council together."

Neh 6:8 I sent him this answer: "Nothing of what you report has taken place; rather, it is the invention of your own mind."

Neh 6:9 They were all trying to frighten us, thinking, "Their hands will slacken in the work, and it will never be completed." But instead, I now redoubled my efforts.

Neh 6:10 I went to the house of Shemaiah, son of Delaiah, son of Mehetabel, who was unable to go about, and he said: "Let us meet in the house of God, inside the temple building; let us lock the doors of the temple. For men are coming to kill you; by night they are coming to kill you."

Neh 6:11 My answer was: "A man like me take flight? Can a man like me enter the temple to save his life? I will not go!"

Neh 6:12 For on consideration it was plain to me that God had not sent him; rather, because Tobiah and Sanballat had bribed him, he voiced this prophecy concerning me

Neh 6:13 that I might act on it out of fear and commit this sin. Then they would have had a shameful story with which to discredit me.

Neh 6:14 Keep in mind Tobiah and Sanballat, O my God, because of these things they did; keep in mind as well Noadiah the prophetess and the other prophets who were trying to frighten me.

Neh 6:15 The wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of Elul; it had taken fifty-two days.

Neh 6:16 When all our enemies had heard of this, and all the nations round about had taken note of it, our enemies lost much face in the eyes of the nations, for they knew that it was with our God's help that this work had been completed.

Neh 6:17 At that same time, however, many letters were going to Tobiah from the nobles of Judah, and Tobiah's letters were reaching them,

Neh 6:18 for many in Judah were in league with him, since he was the son-in-law of Shecaniah, son of Arah, and his son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam, son of Berechiah.

Neh 6:19 Thus they would praise his good deeds in my presence and relate to him whatever I said; and Tobiah sent letters trying to frighten me.

Neh 7:1 When the wall had been rebuilt, I had the doors set up, and the gatekeepers (and the singers and the Levites) were put in charge of them.

Neh 7:2 Over Jerusalem I placed Hanani, my brother, and Hananiah, the commander of the citadel, who was a more trustworthy and God-fearing man than most.

Neh 7:3 I said to them: "The gates of Jerusalem are not to be opened until the sun is hot, and while the sun is still shining they shall shut and bar the doors. Appoint as watchmen the inhabitants of Jerusalem, some at their watch posts, and others before their own houses."

Neh 7:4 Now the city was quite wide and spacious, but its population was small, and none of the houses had been rebuilt.

Neh 7:5 When my God had put it into my mind to gather together the nobles, the magistrates, and the common people, and to examine their family records, I came upon the family list of those who had returned in the earliest period. There I found the following written:

Neh 7:6 These are the inhabitants of the province who returned from the captivity of the exiles whom Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had carried away, and who came back to Jerusalem and Judah, each man to his own city

Neh 7:7 (those who returned with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, and Baanah). The census of the men of Israel:

Neh 7:8 sons of Parosh, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two;

Neh 7:9 sons of Shephatiah, three hundred and seventy-two;

Neh 7:10 sons of Arah, six hundred and fifty-two;

Neh 7:11 sons of Pahath-moab who were sons of Jeshua and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and eighteen;

Neh 7:12 sons of Elam, one thousand two hundred and fifty-four;

Neh 7:13 sons of Zattu, eight hundred and forty-five;

Neh 7:14 sons of Zaccai, seven hundred and sixty;

Neh 7:15 sons of Binnui, six hundred and forty-eight;

Neh 7:16 sons of Bebai, six hundred and twenty-eight;

Neh 7:17 sons of Azgad, two thousand three hundred and twenty-two;

Neh 7:18 sons of Adonikam, six hundred and sixty-seven;

Neh 7:19 sons of Bigvai, two thousand and sixty-seven;

Neh 7:20 sons of Adin, six hundred and fifty-five;

Neh 7:21 sons of Ater who were sons of Hezekiah, ninety-eight;

Neh 7:22 sons of Hashum, three hundred and twenty-eight;

Neh 7:23 sons of Bezai, three hundred and twenty-four;

Neh 7:24 sons of Hariph, one hundred and twelve;

Neh 7:25 sons of Gibeon, ninety-five;

Neh 7:26 men of Bethlehem and Netophah, one hundred and eighty-eight;

Neh 7:27 men of Anathoth, one hundred and twenty-eight;

Neh 7:28 men of Beth-azmaveth, forty-two;

Neh 7:29 men of Kiriath-jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, seven hundred and forty-three;

Neh 7:30 men of Ramah and Geba, six hundred and twenty-one;

Neh 7:31 men of Michmas, one hundred and twenty-two;

Neh 7:32 men of Bethel and Ai, one hundred and twenty-three;

Neh 7:33 men of Nebo, fifty-two;

Neh 7:34 sons of another Elam, one thousand two hundred and fifty-four;

Neh 7:35 sons of Harim, three hundred and twenty;

Neh 7:36 sons of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five;

Neh 7:37 sons of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-one;

Neh 7:38 sons of Senaah, three thousand nine hundred and thirty.

Neh 7:39 The priests: sons of Jedaiah who were of the house of Jeshua, nine hundred and seventy-three;

Neh 7:40 sons of Immer, one thousand and fifty-two;

Neh 7:41 sons of Pashhur, one thousand two hundred and forty-seven;

Neh 7:42 sons of Harim, one thousand and seventeen.

Neh 7:43 The Levites: sons of Jeshua, Kadmiel, Binnui, Hodeviah, seventy-four.

Neh 7:44 The singers: sons of Asaph, one hundred and forty-eight.

Neh 7:45 The gatekeepers: sons of Shallum, sons of Ater, sons of Talmon, sons of Akkub, sons of Hatita, sons of Shobai, one hundred and thirty-eight.

Neh 7:46 The temple slaves: sons of Ziha, sons of Hasupha, sons of Tabbaoth,

Neh 7:47 sons of Keros, sons of Sia, sons of Padon,

Neh 7:48 sons of Lebana, sons of Hagaba, sons of Shalmal,

Neh 7:49 sons of Hanan, sons of Giddel, sons of Gahar,

Neh 7:50 sons of Reaiah, sons of Rezin, sons of Nekoda,

Neh 7:51 sons of Gazzam, sons of Uzza, sons of Paseah,

Neh 7:52 sons of Besai, sons of the Meunites, sons of the Nephusites,

Neh 7:53 sons of Bakbuk, sons of Hakupha, sons of Harhur,
Neh 7:54 sons of Bazlith, sons of Mehida, sons of Harsha,
Neh 7:55 sons of Barkos, sons of Sisera, sons of Temah,
Neh 7:56 sons of Neziah, sons of Hatipha.
Neh 7:57 Descendants of the slaves of Solomon: sons of Sotai, sons of Sophereth, sons of Perida,
Neh 7:58 sons of Jaala, sons of Darkon, sons of Giddel,
Neh 7:59 sons of Shephatiah, sons of Hattil, sons of Pochereth-hazzebaim, sons of Amon.
Neh 7:60 The total of the temple slaves and the descendants of the slaves of Solomon was three hundred and ninety-two.
Neh 7:61 The following who returned from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherub, Addon, and Immer were unable to prove that their ancestral houses and their descent were Israelite:
Neh 7:62 sons of Delaiah, sons of Tobiah, sons of Nekoda, six hundred and forty-two.
Neh 7:63 Also, of the priests: sons of Hobaiiah, sons of Hakkoz, sons of Barzillai (he had married one of the daughters of Barzillai the Gileadite and became known by his name).
Neh 7:64 These men searched their family records, but their names could not be found written there; hence they were degraded from the priesthood,
Neh 7:65 and His Excellency ordered them not to partake of the most holy foods until there should be a priest bearing the Urim and Thummim.
Neh 7:66 The entire assembly taken together came to forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty,
Neh 7:67 not counting their male and female slaves, who were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven. They also had two hundred male and female singers. Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six, their mules two hundred and forty-five,
Neh 7:68 their camels four hundred and thirty-five, their asses six thousand seven hundred and twenty.
Neh 7:69 Certain of the family heads contributed to the service. His Excellency put into the treasury one thousand drachmas of gold, fifty basins, thirty garments for priests, and five hundred minas of silver.
Neh 7:70 Some of the family heads contributed to the treasury for the temple service: twenty thousand drachmas of gold and two thousand two hundred minas of silver.
Neh 7:71 The contributions of the rest of the people amounted to twenty thousand drachmas of gold, two thousand minas of silver, and sixty-seven garments for priests.
Neh 7:72 The priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the temple slaves, and all Israel took up residence in their cities.
Neh 8:1 Now when the seventh month came, the whole people gathered as one man in the open space before the Water Gate, and they called upon Ezra the scribe to bring forth the book of the law of Moses which the LORD prescribed for Israel.
Neh 8:2 On the first day of the seventh month, therefore, Ezra the priest brought the law before the assembly, which consisted of men, women, and those children old enough to understand.
Neh 8:3 Standing at one end of the open place that was before the Water Gate, he read out of the book from daybreak till midday, in the presence of the men, the women, and those children old enough to understand; and all the people listened attentively to the book of the law.
Neh 8:4 Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform that had been made for the occasion; at his right side stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiiah, Uriah, Hilkiyah, and Maaseiah, and on his left Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah, Meshullam.
Neh 8:5 Ezra opened the scroll so that all the people might see it (for he was standing higher up than any of the people); and, as he opened it, all the people rose.
Neh 8:6 Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God, and all the people, their hands raised high, answered, "Amen, amen!" Then they bowed down and prostrated themselves before the LORD, their faces to the ground.
Neh 8:7 (The Levites Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, and Pellaiah explained the law to the people, who remained in their places.)
Neh 8:8 Ezra read plainly from the book of the law of God, interpreting it so that all could understand what was read.
Neh 8:9 Then (Nehemiah, that is, His Excellency, and) Ezra the priest-scribe (and the Levites who were instructing the people) said to all the people: "Today is holy to the LORD your God. Do not be sad, and do not weep"-for all the people were weeping as they heard the words of the law.
Neh 8:10 He said further: "Go, eat rich foods and drink sweet drinks, and allot portions to those who had nothing prepared; for today is holy to our LORD. Do not be saddened this day, for rejoicing in the LORD must be your strength!"
Neh 8:11 (And the Levites quieted all the people, saying, "Hush, for today is holy, and you must not be saddened.")
Neh 8:12 Then all the people went to eat and drink, to distribute portions, and to celebrate with great joy, for they understood the words that had been expounded to them.

Neh 8:13 On the second day, the family heads of the whole people and also the priests and the Levites gathered around Ezra the scribe and examined the words of the law more closely.

Neh 8:14 They found it written in the law prescribed by the LORD through Moses that the Israelites must dwell in booths during the feast of the seventh month;

Neh 8:15 and that they should have this proclamation made throughout their cities and in Jerusalem: "Go out into the hill country and bring in branches of olive trees, oleasters, myrtle, palm, and other leafy trees, to make booths, as the law prescribes."

Neh 8:16 The people went out and brought in branches with which they made booths for themselves, on the roof of their houses, in their courtyards, in the courts of the house of God, and in the open spaces of the Water Gate and the Gate of Ephraim.

Neh 8:17 Thus the entire assembly of the returned exiles made booths and dwelt in them. Now the Israelites had done nothing of this sort from the days of Jeshua, son of Nun, until this occasion; therefore there was very great joy.

Neh 8:18 Ezra read from the book of the law of God day after day, from the first day to the last. They kept the feast for seven days, and the solemn assembly on the eighth day, as was required.

Neh 9:1 On the twenty-fourth day of this month, the Israelites gathered together fasting and in sackcloth, their heads covered with dust.

Neh 9:2 Those of Israelite descent separated themselves from all who were of foreign extraction, then stood forward and confessed their sins and the guilty deeds of their fathers.

Neh 9:3 When they had taken their places, they read from the book of the law of the LORD their God, for a fourth part of the day, and during another fourth part they made their confession and prostrated themselves before the LORD their God.

Neh 9:4 Standing on the platform of the Levites were Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani, and Chenani, who cried out to the LORD their God, with a loud voice.

Neh 9:5 The Levites Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah, and Pethahiah said, "Arise, bless the LORD, your God, from eternity to eternity!" The Israelites answered with the blessing, "Blessed is your glorious name, and exalted above all blessing and praise."

Neh 9:6 Then Ezra said: "It is you, O LORD, you are the only one; you made the heavens, the highest heavens and all their host, the earth and all that is upon it, the seas and all that is in them. To all of them you give life, and the heavenly hosts bow down before you.

Neh 9:7 "You, O LORD, are the God who chose Abram, who brought him out from Ur of the Chaldees, and named him Abraham.

Neh 9:8 When you had found his heart faithful in your sight, you made the covenant with him to give to him and his posterity the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Jebusites, and Girgashites. These promises of yours you fulfilled, for you are just.

Neh 9:9 "You saw the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, you heard their cry by the Red Sea;

Neh 9:10 You worked signs and wonders against Pharaoh, against all his servants and the people of his land, Because you knew of their insolence toward them; thus you made for yourself a name even to this day.

Neh 9:11 The sea you divided before them, on dry ground they passed through the midst of the sea; Their pursuers you hurled into the depths, like a stone into the mighty waters.

Neh 9:12 With a column of cloud you led them by day, and by night with a column of fire, To light the way of their journey, the way in which they must travel.

Neh 9:13 On Mount Sinai you came down, you spoke with them from heaven; You gave them just ordinances, firm laws, good statutes, and commandments;

Neh 9:14 Your holy sabbath you made known to them, commandments, statutes, and law you prescribed for them, by the hand of Moses your servant.

Neh 9:15 Food from heaven you gave them in their hunger, water from a rock you sent them in their thirst. You bade them enter and occupy the land which you had sworn with upraised hand to give them.

Neh 9:16 "But they, our fathers, proved to be insolent; they held their necks stiff and would not obey your commandments.

Neh 9:17 They refused to obey and no longer remembered the miracles you had worked for them. They stiffened their necks and turned their heads to return to their slavery in Egypt. But you are a God of pardons, gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and rich in mercy; you did not forsake them.

Neh 9:18 Though they made for themselves a molten calf, and proclaimed, 'Here is your God who brought you up out of Egypt,' and were guilty of great effronteries,

Neh 9:19 yet in your great mercy you did not forsake them in the desert. The column of cloud did not cease to lead them by day on their journey, nor did the column of fire by night cease to light for them the way by which they were to travel.

Neh 9:20 "Your good spirit you bestowed on them, to give them understanding; your manna you did not withhold from their mouths, and you gave them water in their thirst.

Neh 9:21 Forty years in the desert you sustained them: they did not want; their garments did not become worn, and their feet did not become swollen.

Neh 9:22 You gave them kingdoms and peoples, which you divided up among them as border lands. They possessed the land of Sihon, king of Heshbon, and the land of Og, king of Bashan.

Neh 9:23 "You made their children as numerous as the stars of the heavens, and you brought them into the land which you had commanded their fathers to enter and possess.

Neh 9:24 The sons went in to take possession of the land, and you humbled before them the Canaanite inhabitants of the land and delivered them over into their power, their kings as well as the peoples of the land, to do with them as they would.

Neh 9:25 They captured fortified cities and fertile land; they took possession of houses filled with all good things, cisterns already dug, vineyards, olive groves, and fruit trees in abundance. They could eat and have their fill, fatten and feast themselves on your immense good gifts.

Neh 9:26 "But they were contemptuous and rebellious: they cast your law behind their backs, they slew your prophets who bore witness against them in order to bring them back to you, and they were guilty of great effronteries.

Neh 9:27 Therefore you delivered them into the power of their enemies, who oppressed them. But in the time of their oppression they would cry out to you, and you would hear them from heaven, and according to your great mercy give them saviors to deliver them from the power of their enemies.

Neh 9:28 "As soon as they had relief, they would go back to doing evil in your sight. Then again you abandoned them to the power of their enemies, who crushed them. Then they cried out to you, and you heard them from heaven and delivered them according to your mercy, many times over.

Neh 9:29 You bore witness against them, in order to bring them back to your law. But they were insolent and would not obey your commandments; they sinned against your ordinances, from which men draw life when they practice them. They turned stubborn backs, stiffened their necks, and would not obey.

Neh 9:30 You were patient with them for many years, bearing witness against them through your spirit, by means of your prophets; still they would not listen. Thus you delivered them over into the power of the peoples of the lands.

Neh 9:31 Yet in your great mercy you did not completely destroy them and you did not forsake them, for you are a kind and merciful God.

Neh 9:32 "Now, therefore, O our God, great, mighty, and awesome God, you who in your mercy preserve the covenant, take into account all the disasters that have befallen us, our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, our fathers, and your entire people, from the time of the kings of Assyria until this day!

Neh 9:33 In all that has come upon us you have been just, for you kept faith while we have done evil.

Neh 9:34 Yes, our kings, our princes, our priests, and our fathers have not kept your law; they paid no attention to your commandments and the obligations of which you reminded them.

Neh 9:35 While they were yet in their kingdom, in the midst of the many good things that you had given them and in the wide and fertile land that you had spread out before them, they did not serve you nor did they turn away from their evil deeds.

Neh 9:36 But, see, we today are slaves; and as for the land which you gave our fathers that they might eat its fruits and good things-- see, we have become slaves upon it!

Neh 9:37 Its rich produce goes to the kings whom you set over us because of our sins, who rule over our bodies and our cattle as they please. We are in great distress!"

Neh 10:1 In view of all this, we are entering into a firm pact, which we are putting into writing. On the sealed document appear the names of our princes, our Levites, and our priests.

Neh 10:2 On the sealed document: His Excellency Nehemiah, son of Hacaliah, and Zedekiah.

Neh 10:3 Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah,

Neh 10:4 Pashhur, Amariah, Malchijah,

Neh 10:5 Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch,

Neh 10:6 Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah,

Neh 10:7 Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch,

Neh 10:8 Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin,

Neh 10:9 Maaziah, Bilgai, Shemaiah: these are the priests.

Neh 10:10 The Levites: Jeshua, son of Azariah; Binnui, of the sons of Henadad; Kadmiel;

Neh 10:11 and their brethren Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan,

Neh 10:12 Mica, Rehob, Hashabiah,

Neh 10:13 Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah,

Neh 10:14 Hodiah, Bani, Beninu.

Neh 10:15 The leaders of the people: Parosh, Pahath-moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani,
Neh 10:16 Bunni, Azgad, Bebai,
Neh 10:17 Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin,
Neh 10:18 Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur,
Neh 10:19 Hodiah, Hashum, Bezai,
Neh 10:20 Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai,
Neh 10:21 Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir,
Neh 10:22 Meshezabel, Zadok, Jaddua,
Neh 10:23 Pelatiah, Hanan, Anaiah,
Neh 10:24 Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub,
Neh 10:25 Halhoresh, Pilha, Shobek,
Neh 10:26 Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah,
Neh 10:27 Ahiah, Hanan, Anan,
Neh 10:28 Malluch, Harim, Baanah.
Neh 10:29 The rest of the people, priests, Levites, gatekeepers, singers, temple slaves, and all others who have separated themselves from the peoples of the lands in favor of the law of God, with their wives, their sons, their daughters, all who are of the age of discretion,
Neh 10:30 join with their brethren who are their princes, and with the sanction of a curse take this oath to follow the law of God which was given through Moses, the servant of God, and to observe carefully all the commandments of the LORD, our LORD, his ordinances and his statutes.
Neh 10:31 Agreed, that we will not marry our daughters to the peoples of the land, and that we will not take their daughters for our sons.
Neh 10:32 When the peoples of the land bring in merchandise or any kind of grain for sale on the sabbath day, we will not buy from them on the sabbath or on any other holyday. We will forgo the seventh year, as well as every kind of debt.
Neh 10:33 We impose these commandments on ourselves: to give a third of a shekel each year for the service of the house of our God,
Neh 10:34 for the showbread, for the daily cereal offering, for the daily holocaust, for the sabbaths, new moons, and festivals, for the holy offerings, for sin offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for every service of the house of our God.
Neh 10:35 We, priests, Levites, and people, have determined by lot concerning the procurement of wood: it is to be brought to the house of our God by each of our family houses at stated times each year, to be burnt on the altar of the LORD, our God, as the law prescribes.
Neh 10:36 We have agreed to bring each year to the house of the LORD the first fruits of our fields and of our fruit trees, of whatever kind;
Neh 10:37 also, as is prescribed in the law, to bring to the house of our God, to the priests who serve in the house of our God, the first-born of our children and our animals, including the first-born of our flocks and herds.
Neh 10:38 The first batch of our dough, and our offerings of the fruit of every tree, of wine and of oil, we will bring to the priests, to the chambers of the house of our God. The tithe of our fields we will bring to the Levites; they, the Levites, shall take the tithe in all the cities of our service.
Neh 10:39 An Aaronite priest shall be with the Levites when they take the tithe, and the Levites shall bring the tithe of the tithes to the house of our God, to the chambers of the treasury.
Neh 10:40 For to these chambers the Israelites and Levites bring the offerings of grain, wine, and oil; there also are housed the utensils of the sanctuary, and the ministering priests, the gatekeepers, and the singers. We will not neglect the house of our God.
Neh 11:1 The leaders of the people took up residence in Jerusalem, and the rest of the people cast lots to bring one man in ten to reside in Jerusalem, the holy city, while the other nine would remain in the other cities.
Neh 11:2 The people applauded all those men who willingly agreed to take up residence in Jerusalem.
Neh 11:3 These are the heads of the province who took up residence in Jerusalem. (In the cities of Judah dwelt lay Israelites, priests, Levites, temple slaves, and the descendants of the slaves of Solomon, each man on the property he owned in his own city.)
Neh 11:4 In Jerusalem dwelt both Judahites and Benjaminites. Of the Judahites: Athaiah, son of Uziah, son of Zechariah, son of Amariah, son of Shephatiah, son of Mehallalel, of the sons of Perez;
Neh 11:5 Maaseiah, son of Baruch, son of Colhozeh, son of Hazaiah, son of Adaiah, son of Joiarib, son of Zechariah, a son of the Shelanites.
Neh 11:6 The total of the sons of Perez who dwelt in Jerusalem was four hundred and sixty-eight valiant men.
Neh 11:7 These were the Benjaminites: Sallu, son of Meshullam, son of Joed, son of Pedaiah, son of Kolaiah, son of Maaseiah, son of Ithiel, son of Jeshaiiah,
Neh 11:8 and his brethren, warriors, nine hundred and twenty-eight in number.

Neh 11:9 Joel, son of Zichri, was their commander, and Judah, son of Hassenuah, was second in charge of the city.

Neh 11:10 Among the priests were: Jedaiah; Joiarib; Jachin;

Neh 11:11 Seraiah, son of Hilkiyah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, the ruler of the house of God,

Neh 11:12 and their brethren who carried out the temple service, eight hundred and twenty-two; Adaiah, son of Jeroham, son of Pelaliah, son of Amzi, son of Zechariah, son of Pashhur, son of Malchijah,

Neh 11:13 and his brethren, family heads, two hundred and forty-two; and Amasai, son of Azarel, son of Ahzai, son of Meshillemoth, son of Immer,

Neh 11:14 and his brethren, warriors, one hundred and twenty-eight. Their commander was Zabdiel, son of Haggadol.

Neh 11:15 Among the Levites were Shemaiah, son of Hasshub, son of Azrikam, son of Hashabiah, son of Bunni;

Neh 11:16 Shabbethai and Jozabad, levitical chiefs who were placed over the external affairs of the house of God;

Neh 11:17 Mattaniah, son of Micah, son of Zabdi, son of Asaph, director of the psalms, who led the thanksgiving at prayer; Bakbukiah, second in rank among his brethren; and Abda, son of Shammua, son of Galal, son of Jeduthun.

Neh 11:18 The total of the Levites in the holy city was two hundred and eighty-four.

Neh 11:19 The gatekeepers were Akkub, Talmon, and their brethren, who kept watch over the gates; one hundred and seventy-two in number.

Neh 11:20 The rest of Israel, including priests and Levites, were in all the other cities of Judah, each man in his inheritance.

Neh 11:21 The temple slaves lived on Ophel. Ziha and Gishpa were in charge of the temple slaves.

Neh 11:22 The prefect of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi, son of Bani, son of Hashabiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Micah; he was one of the sons of Asaph, the singers appointed to the service of the house of God--

Neh 11:23 for they had been appointed by royal decree, and there was a fixed schedule for the singers assigning them their daily duties.

Neh 11:24 Pethahiah, son of Meshezabel, a descendant of Zerah, son of Judah, was royal deputy in all affairs that concerned the people.

Neh 11:25 As concerns their villages in the country: Judahites lived in Kiriath-arba and its dependencies, in Dibon and its dependencies, in Jekabzeel and its villages,

Neh 11:26 in Jeshua, Moladah, Beth-pelet,

Neh 11:27 in Hazarshual, in Beer-sheba and its dependencies,

Neh 11:28 in Ziklag, in Meconah and its dependencies,

Neh 11:29 in En-rimmon, Zorah, Jarmuth,

Neh 11:30 Zanoah, Adullam, and their villages, Lachish and its countryside, Azekah and its dependencies. They were settled from Beer-sheba to Ge-hinnom.

Neh 11:31 Benjaminites were in Geba, Michmash, Aija, Bethel and its dependencies,

Neh 11:32 Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah,

Neh 11:33 Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim,

Neh 11:34 Hadid, Zeboim, Neballat,

Neh 11:35 Lod, Ono, and the Valley of the Artisans.

Neh 11:36 Some sections of the Levites from Judah settled in Benjamin.

Neh 12:1 The following are the priests and Levites who returned with Zerubbabel, son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,

Neh 12:2 Amariah, Malluch, Hattush,

Neh 12:3 Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth,

Neh 12:4 Iddo, Ginnethon, Abijah,

Neh 12:5 Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah,

Neh 12:6 Shemaiah, and Joiarib, Jedaiah,

Neh 12:7 Sallu, Amok, Hilkiyah, Jedaiah. These were the priestly heads and their brethren in the days of Jeshua.

Neh 12:8 The Levites were Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, Mattaniah; the last-mentioned, together with his brethren, was in charge of the hymns,

Neh 12:9 while Bakbukiah and Unno and their brethren ministered opposite them by turns.

Neh 12:10 Jeshua became the father of Joiakim, Joiakim became the father of Eliashib, and Eliashib became the father of Joiada.

Neh 12:11 Joiada became the father of Johanan, and Johanan became the father of Jaddua.

Neh 12:12 In the days of Joiakim these were the priestly family heads: for Seraiah, Meraiah; for Jeremiah,

Hananiah;
Neh 12:13 for Ezra, Meshullam; for Amariah, Jehohanan;
Neh 12:14 for Malluchi, Jonathan; for Shebaniah, Joseph;
Neh 12:15 for Harim, Adna; for Meremoth, Helkai;
Neh 12:16 for Iddo, Zechariah; for Ginnethon, Meshullam;
Neh 12:17 for Abijah, Zichri; for Miamin,...; for Maadiah, Piltai;
Neh 12:18 for Bilgah, Shammua; for Shemaiah, Jehonathan;
Neh 12:19 and for Joiarib, Mattenai; for Jedaiah, Uzzi;
Neh 12:20 for Sallu, Kallai; for Amok, Eber;
Neh 12:21 for Hilkiah, Hashabiah; for Jedaiah, Nethanel.
Neh 12:22 In the time of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua, the family heads of the priests were written down in the Book of Chronicles, up until the reign of Darius the Persian.
Neh 12:23 The sons of Levi: the family heads were written down in the Book of Chronicles, up until the time of Johanan, the son of Eliashib.
Neh 12:24 The heads of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel. Their brethren who stood opposite them to sing praises and thanksgiving in fulfillment of the command of David, the man of God, one section opposite the other,
Neh 12:25 were Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub were gatekeepers. They kept watch over the storerooms at the gates.
Neh 12:26 All these lived in the time of Joiakim, son of Jeshua, son of Jozadak (and in the time of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priest-scribe).
Neh 12:27 At the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, the Levites were sought out wherever they lived and were brought to Jerusalem to celebrate a joyful dedication with thanksgiving hymns and the music of cymbals, harps, and lyres.
Neh 12:28 The levitical singers gathered together from the region about Jerusalem, from the villages of the Netophathites,
Neh 12:29 from Beth-gilgal, and from the plains of Geba and Azmaveth (for the singers had built themselves settlements about Jerusalem).
Neh 12:30 The priests and Levites first purified themselves, then they purified the people, the gates, and the wall.
Neh 12:31 I had the princes of Judah mount the wall, and I arranged two great choirs. The first of these proceeded to the right, along the top of the wall, in the direction of the Dung Gate,
Neh 12:32 followed by Hoshai and half the princes of Judah,
Neh 12:33 along with Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam,
Neh 12:34 Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, and Jeremiah,
Neh 12:35 priests with the trumpets, and also Zechariah, son of Jonathan, son of Shemaiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Micaiah, son of Zaccur, son of Asaph,
Neh 12:36 and his brethren Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani, with the musical instruments of David, the man of God. (Ezra the scribe was at their head.)
Neh 12:37 At the Spring Gate they went straight up by the steps of the City of David and continued along the top of the wall above the house of David until they came to the Water Gate on the east.
Neh 12:38 The second choir proceeded to the left, followed by myself and the other half of the princes of the people, along the top of the wall past the Oven Tower as far as the Broad Wall,
Neh 12:39 then past the Ephraim Gate (the New City Gate), the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel, and the Hundred Tower, as far as the Sheep Gate (and they came to a halt at the Prison Gate).
Neh 12:40 The two choirs took up a position in the house of God; I, too, who had with me half the magistrates,
Neh 12:41 the priests Eliakim, Maaseiah, Minjamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with the trumpets,
Neh 12:42 and Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam, and Ezer. The singers were heard under the leadership of Jezrahiah.
Neh 12:43 Great sacrifices were offered on that day, and there was rejoicing over the great feast of the LORD in which they shared. The women and the children joined in, and the rejoicing at Jerusalem could be heard from afar off.
Neh 12:44 At that time men were appointed over the chambers set aside for stores, offerings, first fruits, and tithes; in them they were to collect from the fields of the various cities the portions legally assigned to the priests and Levites. For Judah rejoiced in its appointed priests and Levites
Neh 12:45 who carried out the ministry of their God and the ministry of purification (as did the singers and the gatekeepers) in accordance with the prescriptions of David and of Solomon, his son.
Neh 12:46 For the heads of the families of the singers and the hymns of praise and thanksgiving to God came down from the days of David and Asaph in times of old.

Neh 12:47 Thus all Israel, in the days of Zerubbabel (and in the days of Nehemiah), gave the singers and the gatekeepers their portions, according to their daily needs. They made their consecrated offering to the Levites, and the Levites made theirs to the sons of Aaron.

Neh 13:1 At that time, when there was reading from the book of Moses in the hearing of the people, it was found written there that "no Ammonite or Moabite may ever be admitted into the assembly of God;

Neh 13:2 for they would not succor the Israelites with food and water, but they hired Balaam to curse them, though our God turned the curse into a blessing."

Neh 13:3 When they had heard the law, they separated from Israel every foreign element.

Neh 13:4 Before this, the priest Eliashib, who had been placed in charge of the chambers of the house of our God and who was an associate of Tobiah,

Neh 13:5 had set aside for the latter's use a large chamber in which had previously been stored the cereal offerings, incense and utensils, the tithes in grain, wine, and oil allotted to the Levites, singers, and gatekeepers, and the offerings due the priests.

Neh 13:6 During all this time I had not been in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes, king of Babylon, I had gone back to the king. After due time, however, I asked leave of the king

Neh 13:7 and returned to Jerusalem, where I discovered the evil thing that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in setting aside for him a chamber in the courts of the house of God.

Neh 13:8 This displeased me very much, and I had all of Tobiah's household goods thrown outside the chamber.

Neh 13:9 Then I gave orders to purify the chambers, and I had them replace there the utensils of the house of God, the cereal offerings, and the incense.

Neh 13:10 I learned, too, that the portions due the Levites were no longer being given, so that the Levites and the singers who should have been carrying out the services had deserted, each man to his own field.

Neh 13:11 I took the magistrates to task, demanding, "Why is the house of God abandoned?" Then I brought the Levites together and had them resume their stations.

Neh 13:12 All Judah once more brought in the tithes of grain, wine, and oil to the storerooms;

Neh 13:13 and in charge of the storerooms I appointed the priest Shelemiah, Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah, one of the Levites, together with Hanan, son of Zaccur, son of Mattaniah, as their assistant; for these men were held to be trustworthy. It was their duty to make the distribution to their brethren.

Neh 13:14 Remember this to my credit, O my God! Let not the devotion which I showed for the house of my God and its services be forgotten!

Neh 13:15 In those days I perceived that men in Judah were treading the winepresses on the sabbath; that they were bringing in sheaves of grain, loading them on their asses, together with wine, grapes, figs, and every other kind of burden, and bringing them to Jerusalem on the sabbath day. I warned them to sell none of these victuals.

Neh 13:16 In Jerusalem itself the Tyrians who were resident there were importing fish and every other kind of merchandise and selling it to the Judahites on the sabbath.

Neh 13:17 I took the nobles of Judah to task, demanding of them: "What is this evil thing that you are doing, profaning the sabbath day?

Neh 13:18 Did not your fathers act in this same way, with the result that our God has brought all this evil upon us and upon this city? Would you add to the wrath against Israel by once more profaning the sabbath?"

Neh 13:19 When the shadows were falling on the gates of Jerusalem before the sabbath, I ordered the doors to be closed and forbade them to be reopened till after the sabbath. I posted some of my own men at the gates so that no burden might enter on the sabbath day.

Neh 13:20 The merchants and sellers of various kinds of merchandise spent the night once or twice outside Jerusalem,

Neh 13:21 but then I warned them, saying to them: "Why do you spend the night alongside the wall? If you keep this up, I will lay hands on you!" From that time on, they did not return on the sabbath.

Neh 13:22 Then I ordered the Levites to purify themselves and to go and watch the gates, so that the sabbath day might be kept holy. This, too, remember in my favor, O my God, and have mercy on me in accordance with your great mercy!

Neh 13:23 Also in those days I saw Jews who had married Ashdodite, Ammonite, or Moabite wives.

Neh 13:24 Of their children, half spoke Ashdodite, and none of them knew how to speak Jewish; and so it was in regard to the languages of the various other peoples.

Neh 13:25 I took them to task and cursed them; I had some of them beaten and their hair pulled out; and I adjured them by God: "You shall not marry your daughters to their sons nor take any of their daughters for your sons or for yourselves!

Neh 13:26 Did not Solomon, the king of Israel, sin because of them? Though among the many nations there was no king like him, and though he was beloved of his God and God had made him king over all Israel, yet even he was made to sin by foreign women.

Neh 13:27 Must it also be heard of you that you have done this same very great evil, betraying our God by marrying foreign women?"

Neh 13:28 One of the sons of Joiada, son of Eliashib the high priest, was the son-in-law of Sanballat the Horonite! I drove him from my presence.

Neh 13:29 Remember against them, O my God, how they defiled the priesthood and the covenant of the priesthood and the Levites!

Neh 13:30 Thus I cleansed them of all foreign contamination. I established the various functions for the priests and Levites, so that each had his appointed task.

Neh 13:31 I also provided for the procurement of wood at stated times and for the first fruits. Remember this in my favor, O my God!

Est 1:1 (A:1) In the second year of the reign of the great King Ahasuerus, on the first day of Nisan, Mordecai, son of Jair, son of Shimei, son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream. (A:2) He was a Jew residing in the city of Susa, a prominent man who served at the king's court, (A:3) and one of the captives whom Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had taken from Jerusalem with Jeconiah, king of Judah. (A:4) This was his dream. There was noise and tumult, thunder and earthquake-confusion upon the earth. (A:5) Two great dragons came on, both poised for combat. They uttered a mighty cry, (A:6) and at their cry every nation prepared for war, to fight against the race of the just. (A:7) It was a dark and gloomy day. Tribulation and distress, evil and great confusion, lay upon the earth. (A:8) The whole race of the just were dismayed with fear of the evils to come upon them, and were at the point of destruction. (A:9) Then they cried out to God, and as they cried, there appeared to come forth a great river, a flood of water from a little spring. (A:10) The light of the sun broke forth; the lowly were exalted and they devoured the nobles. (A:11) Having seen this dream and what God intended to do, Mordecai awoke. He kept it in mind, and tried in every way, until night, to understand its meaning. (A:12) Mordecai lodged at the court with Bagathan and Thares, two eunuchs of the king who were court guards. (A:13) He overheard them plotting, investigated their plans, and discovered that they were preparing to lay hands on King Ahasuerus. So he informed the king about them, (A:14) and the king had the two eunuchs questioned and, upon their confession, put to death. (A:15) Then the king had these things recorded; Mordecai, too, put them into writing. (A:16) The king also appointed Mordecai to serve at the court, and rewarded him for his actions. (A:17) Haman, however, son of Hammedatha the Agagite, who was in high honor with the king, sought to harm Mordecai and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king. During the reign of Ahasuerus-this was the Ahasuerus who ruled over a hundred and twenty-seven provinces from India to Ethiopia-

Est 1:2 while he was occupying the royal throne in the stronghold of Susa,

Est 1:3 in the third year of his reign, he presided over a feast for all his officers and ministers: the Persian and Median aristocracy, the nobles, and the governors of the provinces.

Est 1:4 For as many as a hundred and eighty days, he displayed the glorious riches of his kingdom and the resplendent wealth of his royal estate.

Est 1:5 At the end of this time the king gave a feast of seven days in the garden court of the royal palace for all the people, great and small, who were in the stronghold of Susa.

Est 1:6 There were white cotton draperies and violet hangings, held by cords of crimson byssus from silver rings on marble pillars. Gold and silver couches were on the pavement, which was of porphyry, marble, mother-of-pearl, and colored stones.

Est 1:7 Liquor was served in a variety of golden cups, and the royal wine flowed freely, as befitted the king's munificence.

Est 1:8 By ordinance of the king the drinking was unstinted, for he had instructed all the stewards of his household to comply with the good pleasure of everyone.

Est 1:9 Queen Vashti also gave a feast for the women inside the royal palace of King Ahasuerus.

Est 1:10 On the seventh day, when the king was merry with wine, he instructed Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar, and Carkas, the seven eunuchs who attended King Ahasuerus,

Est 1:11 to bring Queen Vashti into his presence wearing the royal crown, that he might display her beauty to the populace and the officials, for she was lovely to behold.

Est 1:12 But Queen Vashti refused to come at the royal order issued through the eunuchs. At this the king's wrath flared up, and he burned with fury.

Est 1:13 He conferred with the wise men versed in the law, because the king's business was conducted in general consultation with lawyers and jurists.

Est 1:14 He summoned Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena and Memucan, the seven Persian and Median officials who were in the king's personal service and held first rank in the realm,

Est 1:15 and asked them, "What is to be done by law with Queen Vashti for disobeying the order of King Ahasuerus issued through the eunuchs?"

Est 1:16 In the presence of the king and of the officials, Memucan answered: "Queen Vashti has not wronged the king alone, but all the officials and the populace throughout the provinces of King Ahasuerus.

Est 1:17 For the queen's conduct will become known to all the women, and they will look with disdain upon their husbands when it is reported, "King Ahasuerus commanded that Queen Vashti be ushered into his presence, but she would not come."

Est 1:18 This very day the Persian and Median ladies who hear of the queen's conduct will rebel against all the royal officials, with corresponding disdain and rancor.

Est 1:19 If it please the king, let an irrevocable royal decree be issued by him and inscribed among the laws of the Persians and Medes, forbidding Vashti to come into the presence of King Ahasuerus and authorizing the king to give her royal dignity to one more worthy than she.

Est 1:20 Thus, when the decree which the king will issue is published throughout his realm, vast as it is, all wives will honor their husbands, from the greatest to the least."

Est 1:21 This proposal found acceptance with the king and the officials, and the king acted on the advice of Memucan.

Est 1:22 He sent letters to all the royal provinces, to each province in its own script and to each people in its own language, to the effect that every man should be lord in his own home.

Est 2:1 After this, when King Ahasuerus' wrath had cooled, he thought over what Vashti had done and what had been decreed against her.

Est 2:2 Then the king's personal attendants suggested: "Let beautiful young virgins be sought for the king.

Est 2:3 Let the king appoint commissaries in all the provinces of his realm to bring together all beautiful young virgins to the harem in the stronghold of Susa. Under the care of the royal eunuch Hegai, custodian of the women, let cosmetics be given them.

Est 2:4 Then the girl who pleases the king shall reign in place of Vashti." This suggestion pleased the king, and he acted accordingly.

Est 2:5 There was in the stronghold of Susa a certain Jew named Mordecai, son of Jair, son of Shimei, son of Kish, a Benjaminite,

Est 2:6 who had been exiled from Jerusalem with the captives taken with Jeconiah, king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had deported.

Est 2:7 He was foster father to Hadassah, that is, Esther, his cousin; for she had lost both father and mother. The girl was beautifully formed and lovely to behold. On the death of her father and mother, Mordecai had taken her as his own daughter.

Est 2:8 When the king's order and decree had been obeyed and many maidens brought together to the stronghold of Susa under the care of Hegai, Esther also was brought in to the royal palace under the care of Hegai, custodian of the women.

Est 2:9 The girl pleased him and won his favor. So he promptly furnished her with cosmetics and provisions. Then picking out seven maids for her from the royal palace, he transferred both her and her maids to the best place in the harem.

Est 2:10 Esther did not reveal her nationality or family, for Mordecai had commanded her not to do so.

Est 2:11 Day by day Mordecai would walk about in front of the court of the harem, to learn how Esther was faring and what was to become of her.

Est 2:12 Each girl went in turn to visit King Ahasuerus after the twelve months' preparation decreed for the women. Of this period of beautifying treatment, six months were spent with oil of myrrh, and the other six months with perfumes and cosmetics.

Est 2:13 Then, when the girl was to visit the king, she was allowed to take with her from the harem to the royal palace whatever she chose.

Est 2:14 She would go in the evening and return in the morning to a second harem under the care of the royal eunuch Shaashgaz, custodian of the concubines. She could not return to the king unless he was pleased with her and had her summoned by name.

Est 2:15 As for Esther, daughter of Abihail and adopted daughter of his nephew Mordecai, when her turn came to visit the king, she did not ask for anything but what the royal eunuch Hegai, custodian of the women, suggested. Yet she won the admiration of all who saw her.

Est 2:16 Esther was led to King Ahasuerus in his palace in the tenth month, Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

Est 2:17 The king loved Esther more than all other women, and of all the virgins she won his favor and benevolence. So he placed the royal diadem on her head and made her queen in place of Vashti.

Est 2:18 Then the king gave a great feast in honor of Esther to all his officials and ministers, granting a holiday to the provinces and bestowing gifts with royal bounty.

Est 2:19 To resume: From the time the virgins had been brought together, and while Mordecai was passing his time at the king's gate,

Est 2:20 Esther had not revealed her family or nationality, because Mordecai had told her not to; and Esther continued to follow Mordecai's instructions, just as she had when she was being brought up by him.

Est 2:21 And during the time that Mordecai spent at the king's gate, Bagathan and Thares, two of the royal eunuchs who guarded the entrance, had plotted in anger to lay hands on King Ahasuerus.

Est 2:22 When the plot became known to Mordecai, he told Queen Esther, who in turn informed the king for Mordecai.

Est 2:23 The matter was investigated and verified, and both of them were hanged on a gibbet. This was written in the annals for the king's use.]

Est 3:1 After these events King Ahasuerus raised Haman, son of Hammedatha the Agagite, to high rank, seating him above all his fellow officials.

Est 3:2 All the king's servants who were at the royal gate would kneel and bow down to Haman, for that is what the king had ordered in his regard. Mordecai, however, would not kneel and bow down.

Est 3:3 The king's servants who were at the royal gate said to Mordecai, "Why do you disobey the king's order?"

Est 3:4 When they had reminded him day after day and he would not listen to them, they informed Haman, to see whether Mordecai's explanation was acceptable, since he had told them that he was a Jew.

Est 3:5 When Haman observed that Mordecai would not kneel and bow down to him, he was filled with anger.

Est 3:6 Moreover, he thought it was not enough to lay hands on Mordecai alone. Since they had told Haman of Mordecai's nationality, he sought to destroy all the Jews, Mordecai's people, throughout the realm of King Ahasuerus.

Est 3:7 In the first month, Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus, the pur, or lot, was cast in Haman's presence to determine the day and the month for the destruction of Mordecai's people on a single day, and the lot fell on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar.

Est 3:8 Then Haman said to King Ahasuerus: "Dispersed among the nations throughout the provinces of your kingdom, there is a certain people living apart, with laws differing from those of every other people. They do not obey the laws of the king, and so it is not proper for the king to tolerate them.

Est 3:9 If it please the king, let a decree be issued to destroy them; and I will deliver to the procurators ten thousand silver talents for deposit in the royal treasury."

Est 3:10 The king took the signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman, son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the enemy of the Jews.

Est 3:11 "The silver you may keep," the king said to Haman, "but as for this people, do with them whatever you please."

Est 3:12 So the royal scribes were summoned; and on the thirteenth day of the first month they wrote, at the dictation of Haman, an order to the royal satraps, the governors of every province, and the officials of every people, to each province in its own script and to each people in its own language. It was written in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed with the royal signet ring.

Est 3:13 Letters were sent by couriers to all the royal provinces, that all the Jews, young and old, including women and children, should be killed, destroyed, wiped out in one day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar, and that their goods should be seized as spoil. (B:1) This is a copy of the letter: "The great King Ahasuerus writes to the satraps of the hundred and twenty-seven provinces from India to Ethiopia, and the governors subordinate to them, as follows: (B:2) When I came to rule many peoples and to hold sway over the whole world, I determined not to be carried away with the sense of power, but always to deal fairly and with clemency; to provide for my subjects a life of complete tranquillity; and by making my government humane and effective as far as the borders, to restore the peace desired by all men. (B:3) When I consulted my counselors as to how this might be accomplished, Haman, who excels among us in wisdom, who is outstanding for constant devotion and steadfast loyalty, and who has gained the second rank in the kingdom, (B:4) brought it to our attention that, mixed in with all the races throughout the world, there is one people of bad will, which by its laws is opposed to every other people and continually disregards the decrees of kings, so that the unity of empire blamelessly designed by us cannot be established. (B:5) "Having noted, therefore, that this most singular people is continually at variance with all men, lives by divergent and alien laws, is inimical to our interests, and commits the worst crimes, so that stability of government cannot be obtained, (B:6) we hereby decree that all those who are indicated to you in the letters of Haman, who is in charge of the administration and is a second father to us, shall, together with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the swords of their enemies, without any pity or mercy, on the fourteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar, of the current year; (B:7) so that when these people, whose present ill will is of long standing, have gone down into the nether world by a violent death on a single day, they may at last leave our affairs stable and undisturbed for the future."

Est 3:14 A copy of the decree to be promulgated as law in every province was published to all the peoples, that they might be prepared for that day.

Est 3:15 The couriers set out in haste at the king's command; meanwhile, the decree was promulgated in the stronghold of Susa. The king and Haman then sat down to feast, but the city of Susa was thrown into confusion.

Est 4:1 When Mordecai learned all that was happening, he tore his garments, put on sackcloth and ashes, and walked through the city crying out loudly and bitterly,

Est 4:2 till he came before the royal gate, which no one clothed in sackcloth might enter.

Est 4:3 (Likewise in each of the provinces, wherever the king's legal enactment reached, the Jews went into deep mourning, with fasting, weeping, and lament; they all slept on sackcloth and ashes.)

Est 4:4 Queen Esther's maids and eunuchs came and told her. Overwhelmed with anguish, she sent garments for Mordecai to put on, so that he might take off his sackcloth; but he refused.

Est 4:5 Esther then summoned Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs whom he had placed at her service, and commanded him to find out what this action of Mordecai meant and the reason for it.

Est 4:6 So Hathach went out to Mordecai in the public square in front of the royal gate,

Est 4:7 and Mordecai told him all that had happened, as well as the exact amount of silver Haman had promised to pay to the royal treasury for the slaughter of the Jews.

Est 4:8 He also gave him a copy of the written decree for their destruction which had been promulgated in Susa, to show and explain to Esther. He was to instruct her to go to the king; she was to plead and intercede with him in behalf of her people. (B:8) "Remember the days of your lowly estate," Mordecai had him say, "when you were brought up in my charge; for Haman, who is second to the king, has asked for our death. (B:9) Invoke the Lord and speak to the king for us: save us from death."

Est 4:9 Hathach returned to Esther and told her what Mordecai had said.

Est 4:10 Then Esther replied to Hathach and gave him this message for Mordecai:

Est 4:11 "All the servants of the king and the people of his provinces know that any man or woman who goes to the king in the inner court without being summoned, suffers the automatic penalty of death, unless the king extends to him the golden scepter, thus sparing his life. Now as for me, I have not been summoned to the king for thirty days."

Est 4:12 When Esther's words were reported to Mordecai,

Est 4:13 he had this reply brought to her: "Do not imagine that because you are in the king's palace, you alone of all the Jews will escape.

Est 4:14 Even if you now remain silent, relief and deliverance will come to the Jews from another source; but you and your father's house will perish. Who knows but that it was for a time like this that you obtained the royal dignity?"

Est 4:15 Esther sent back to Mordecai the response:

Est 4:16 "Go and assemble all the Jews who are in Susa; fast on my behalf, all of you, not eating or drinking, night or day, for three days. I and my maids will also fast in the same way. Thus prepared, I will go to the king, contrary to the law. If I perish, I perish!" Mordecai went away and did exactly as Esther had commanded. (C:1) Recalling all that the Lord had done, he prayed to him (C:2) and said: "O Lord God, almighty King, all things are in your power, and there is no one to oppose you in your will to save Israel. (C:3) You made heaven and earth and every wonderful thing under the heavens. (C:4) You are Lord of all, and there is no one who can resist you, Lord. (C:5) You know all things. You know, O Lord, that it was not out of insolence or pride or desire for fame that I acted thus in not bowing down to the proud Haman. (C:6) Gladly would I have kissed the soles of his feet for the salvation of Israel. (C:7) But I acted as I did so as not to place the honor of man above that of God. I will not bow down to anyone but you, my Lord. It is not out of pride that I am acting thus. (C:8) And now, Lord God, King, God of Abraham, spare your people, for our enemies plan our ruin and are bent upon destroying the inheritance that was yours from the beginning. (C:9) Do not spurn your portion, which you redeemed for yourself out of Egypt. (C:10) Hear my prayer; have pity on your inheritance and turn our sorrow into joy: thus we shall live to sing praise to your name, O Lord. Do not silence those who praise you." (C:11) All Israel, too, cried out with all their strength, for death was staring them in the face. (C:12) Queen Esther, seized with mortal anguish, likewise had recourse to the Lord. (C:13) Taking off her splendid garments, she put on garments of distress and mourning. In place of her precious ointments she covered her head with dirt and ashes. She afflicted her body severely; all her festive adornments were put aside, and her hair was wholly disheveled. (C:14) Then she prayed to the Lord, the God of Israel, saying: "My Lord, our King, you alone are God. Help me, who am alone and have no help but you, (C:15) for I am taking my life in my hand. (C:16) As a child I was wont to hear from the people of the land of my forefathers that you, O Lord, chose Israel from among all peoples, and our fathers from among all their ancestors, as a lasting heritage, and that you fulfilled all your promises to them. (C:17) But now we have sinned in your sight, and you have delivered us into the hands of our enemies, (C:18) because we worshiped their gods. You are just, O Lord. (C:19) But now they are not satisfied with our bitter servitude, but have undertaken (C:20) to do away with the decree you have pronounced, and to destroy your heritage; to close the mouths of those who praise you, and to extinguish the glory of your temple and your altar; (C:21) to open the mouths of the heathen to acclaim their false gods, and to extol an earthly king forever. (C:22) "O Lord, do not relinquish your scepter to those that are nought. Let them not gloat over our ruin, but turn their own counsel against them and make an example of our chief enemy. (C:23) Be mindful of us, O Lord. Manifest yourself in the time of our distress and give me courage, King of gods and Ruler of every power. (C:24) Put in my mouth persuasive words in the presence of the lion, and turn his heart to hatred for our enemy, so that he and those who are in league with him may perish. (C:25) Save us by your power, and help me, who am alone and have no one but you, O Lord. "You know all things. (C:26) You know that I hate the glory of the pagans, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised or of any foreigner. (C:27) You know that I am under constraint, that I abhor the sign of grandeur which rests on my head when I appear in public; abhor it like a polluted rag, and do not wear it in private. (C:28) I, your handmaid, have never eaten at the table of Haman, nor have I graced the banquet of the king or drunk the wine of libations. (C:29) From the day I was brought here till now, your handmaid has had no joy except in you, O Lord, God of Abraham. (C:30) O God, more powerful than all, hear the voice of those in despair. Save us from the power of the wicked, and deliver me from my fear."

Est 5:1 (D:1) On the third day, putting an end to her prayers, she took off her penitential garments and arrayed herself in her royal attire. (D:2) In making her state appearance, after invoking the all-seeing God and savior, she took with her two maids; (D:3) on the one she leaned gently for support, (D:4) while the other followed her, bearing her train. (D:5) She glowed with the perfection of her beauty and her countenance was as joyous as it was lovely, though her heart was shrunk with fear. (D:6) She passed through all the portals till she stood face to face with the king, who was seated on his royal throne, clothed in full robes of state, and covered with gold and precious stones, so that he inspired great awe. (D:7) As he looked up, his features ablaze with the height of majestic anger, the queen staggered, changed color, and leaned weakly against the head of the maid in front of her. (D:8) But God changed the king's anger to gentleness. In great anxiety he sprang from his throne, held her in his arms until she recovered, and comforted her with reassuring words. (D:9) "What is it, Esther?" he said to her. "I am your brother. Take courage! (D:10) You shall not die because of this general decree of ours. (D:11) Come near!" (D:12) Raising the golden scepter, he touched her neck with it, embraced her, and said, "Speak to me." (D:13) She replied: "I saw you, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled with fear of your majesty. (D:14) For you are awesome, my lord, though your glance is full of kindness." (D:15) As she said this, she fainted. (D:16) The king became troubled and all his attendants tried to revive her. [Now on the third day, Esther put on her royal garments and stood in the inner courtyard, looking toward the royal palace, while the king was seated on his royal throne in the audience chamber, facing the palace doorway.

Est 5:2 He saw Queen Esther standing in the courtyard, and made her welcome by extending toward her the golden staff which he held. She came up to him, and touched the top of the staff.]

Est 5:3 Then the king said to her, "What is it, Queen Esther? What is your request? Even if it is half of my kingdom, it shall be granted you."

Est 5:4 "If it please your majesty," Esther replied, "come today with Haman to a banquet I have prepared."

Est 5:5 And the king ordered, "Have Haman make haste to fulfill the wish of Esther." So the king went with Haman to the banquet Esther had prepared.

Est 5:6 During the drinking of the wine, the king said to Esther, "Whatever you ask for shall be granted, and whatever request you make shall be honored, even if it is for half my kingdom."

Est 5:7 Esther replied: "This is my petition and request:

Est 5:8 if I have found favor with the king and if it pleases your majesty to grant my petition and honor my request, come with Haman tomorrow to a banquet which I shall prepare for you; and then I will do as you ask."

Est 5:9 That day Haman left happy and in good spirits. But when he saw that Mordecai at the royal gate did not rise, and showed no fear of him, he was filled with anger toward him.

Est 5:10 Haman restrained himself, however, and went home, where he summoned his friends and his wife Zeresh.

Est 5:11 He recounted the greatness of his riches, the large number of his sons, and just how the king had promoted him and placed him above the officials and royal servants.

Est 5:12 "Moreover," Haman added, "Queen Esther invited no one but me to the banquet with the king; again tomorrow I am to be her guest, with the king.

Est 5:13 Yet none of this satisfies me as long as I continue to see the Jew Mordecai sitting at the royal gate."

Est 5:14 His wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, "Have a gibbet set up, fifty cubits in height, and in the morning ask the king to have Mordecai hanged on it. Then go to the banquet with the king in good cheer." This suggestion pleased Haman, and he had the gibbet erected.

Est 6:1 That night the king, unable to sleep, asked that the chronicle of notable events be brought in. While this was being read to him,

Est 6:2 the passage occurred in which Mordecai reported Bagathan and Teresh, two of the royal eunuchs who guarded the entrance, for seeking to lay hands on King Ahasuerus.

Est 6:3 The king asked, "What was done to reward and honor Mordecai for this?" The king's attendants replied, "Nothing was done for him."

Est 6:4 "Who is in the court?" the king asked. Now Haman had entered the outer court of the king's palace to suggest to the king that Mordecai should be hanged on the gibbet he had raised for him.

Est 6:5 The king's servants answered him, "Haman is waiting in the court." "Let him come in," the king said.

Est 6:6 When Haman entered, the king said to him, "What should be done for the man whom the king wishes to reward?" Now Haman thought to himself, "Whom would the king more probably wish to reward than me?"

Est 6:7 So he replied to the king: "For the man whom the king wishes to reward

Est 6:8 there should be brought the royal robe which the king wore and the horse on which the king rode when the royal crown was placed on his head.

Est 6:9 The robe and the horse should be consigned to one of the noblest of the king's officials, who must clothe the man the king wishes to reward, have him ride on the horse in the public square of the city, and cry out before him, "This is what is done for the man whom the king wishes to reward!"

Est 6:10 Then the king said to Haman: "Hurry! Take the robe and horse as you have proposed, and do this for the Jew Mordecai, who is sitting at the royal gate. Do not omit anything you proposed."

Est 6:11 So Haman took the robe and horse, clothed Mordecai, had him ride in the public square of the city, and cried out before him, "This is what is done for the man whom the king wishes to reward!"

Est 6:12 Mordecai then returned to the royal gate, while Haman hurried home, his head covered in grief.

Est 6:13 When he told his wife Zeresh and all his friends everything that had happened to him, his advisers and his wife Zeresh said to him, "If Mordecai, before whom you are beginning to decline, is of the Jewish race, you will not prevail against him, but will surely be defeated by him."

Est 6:14 While they were speaking with him, the king's eunuchs arrived and hurried Haman off to the banquet Esther had prepared.

Est 7:1 So the king and Haman went to the banquet with Queen Esther.

Est 7:2 Again, on this second day, during the drinking of the wine, the king said to Esther, "Whatever you ask, Queen Esther, shall be granted you. Whatever request you make shall be honored, even for half the kingdom."

Est 7:3 Queen Esther replied: "If I have found favor with you, O king, and if it pleases your majesty, I ask that my life be spared, and I beg that you spare the lives of my people.

Est 7:4 For my people and I have been delivered to destruction, slaughter, and extinction. If we were to be sold into slavery I would remain silent, but as it is, the enemy will be unable to compensate for the harm done to the king."

Est 7:5 "Who and where," said King Ahasuerus to Queen Esther, "is the man who has dared to do this?"

Est 7:6 Esther replied, "The enemy oppressing us is this wicked Haman." At this, Haman was seized with dread of the king and queen.

Est 7:7 The king left the banquet in anger and went into the garden of the palace, but Haman stayed to beg Queen Esther for his life, since he saw that the king had decided on his doom.

Est 7:8 When the king returned from the garden of the palace to the banquet hall, Haman had thrown himself on the couch on which Esther was reclining; and the king exclaimed, "Will he also violate the queen while she is with me in my own house!" Scarcely had the king spoken when the face of Haman was covered over.

Est 7:9 Harbona, one of the eunuchs who attended the king, said, "At the house of Haman stands a gibbet fifty cubits high. Haman prepared it for Mordecai, who gave the report that benefited the king." The king answered, "Hang him on it."

Est 7:10 So they hanged Haman on the gibbet which he had made ready for Mordecai, and the anger of the king abated.

Est 8:1 That day King Ahasuerus gave the house of Haman, enemy of the Jews, to Queen Esther; and Mordecai was admitted to the king's presence, for Esther had revealed his relationship to her.

Est 8:2 The king removed his signet ring from Haman, and transferred it into the keeping of Mordecai; and Esther put Mordecai in charge of the house of Haman.

Est 8:3 In another audience with the king, Esther fell at his feet and tearfully implored him to revoke the harm done by Haman the Agagite, and the plan he had devised against the Jews.

Est 8:4 The king stretched forth the golden scepter to Esther. So she rose and, standing in his presence, Est 8:5 said: "If it pleases your majesty and seems proper to you, and if I have found favor with you and you love me, let a document be issued to revoke the letters which that schemer Haman, son of Hammedatha the Agagite, wrote for the destruction of the Jews in all the royal provinces.

Est 8:6 For how can I witness the evil that is to befall my people, and how can I behold the destruction of my race?"

Est 8:7 King Ahasuerus then said to Queen Esther and to the Jew Mordecai: "Now that I have given Esther the house of Haman, and they have hanged him on the gibbet because he attacked the Jews, Est 8:8 you in turn may write in the king's name what you see fit concerning the Jews and seal the letter with the royal signet ring." For whatever is written in the name of the king and sealed with the royal signet ring cannot be revoked.

Est 8:9 At that time, on the twenty-third day of the third month, Sivan, the royal scribes were summoned. Exactly as Mordecai dictated, they wrote to the Jews and to the satraps, governors, and officials of the hundred and twenty-seven provinces from India to Ethiopia: to each province in its own script and to each people in its own language, and to the Jews in their own script and language.

Est 8:10 These letters, which he wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed with the royal signet ring, he sent by mounted couriers riding thoroughbred royal steeds.

Est 8:11 In these letters the king authorized the Jews in each and every city to group together and defend their lives, and to kill, destroy, wipe out, along with their wives and children, every armed group of any nation or province which should attack them, and to seize their goods as spoil

Est 8:12 throughout the provinces of King Ahasuerus, on a single day, the thirteenth of the twelfth month, Adar. (E:1) The following is a copy of the letter: "King Ahasuerus the Great to the governors of the provinces in the hundred and twenty-seven satrapies from India to Ethiopia, and to those responsible for our interests: Greetings! (E:2) "Many have become the more ambitious the more they were showered with honors through the bountiful generosity of their patrons. (E:3) Not only do they seek to do harm to our subjects; incapable of bearing such greatness, they even begin plotting against their own benefactors. (E:4) Not only do they drive out gratitude from among men; with the arrogant boastfulness of those to whom goodness has no meaning, they suppose they will escape the vindictive judgment of the all-seeing God. (E:5) "Often, too, the fair speech of friends entrusted with the administration of affairs has induced many placed in authority to become accomplices in the shedding of innocent blood, and has involved them in irreparable calamities (E:6) by deceiving with malicious slander the sincere good will of rulers. (E:7) This can be verified in the ancient stories that have been handed down to us, but more fully when one considers the wicked deeds perpetrated in your midst by the pestilential influence of those undeserving of authority. (E:8) We must provide for the future, so as to render the kingdom undisturbed and peaceful for all men, (E:9) taking advantage of changing conditions and deciding always with equitable treatment matters coming to our attention. (E:10) "For instance, Haman, son of Hammedatha, a Macedonian, certainly not of Persian blood, and very different from us in generosity, was hospitably received by us. (E:11) He so far enjoyed the good will which we have toward all peoples that he was proclaimed "father of the king," before whom everyone was to bow down; he attained the rank second to the royal throne. (E:12) But, unequal to this dignity, he strove to deprive us of kingdom and of life; (E:13) and by weaving intricate webs of deceit, he demanded the destruction of Mordecai, our savior and constant benefactor, and of Esther, our blameless royal consort, together with their whole race. (E:14) For by such measures he hoped to catch us defenseless and to transfer the rule of the Persians to the Macedonians. (E:15) But we find that the Jews, who were doomed to extinction by this archcriminal, are not evildoers, but rather are governed by very just laws (E:16) and are the children of the Most High, the living God of majesty, who has maintained the kingdom in a flourishing condition for us and for our forebears. (E:17) "You will do well, then, to ignore the letter sent by Haman, son of Hammedatha, (E:18) for he who composed it has been hanged, together with his entire household, before the gates of Susa. Thus swiftly has God, who governs all, brought just punishment upon him. (E:19) "You shall exhibit a copy of this letter publicly in every place, to certify that the Jews may follow their own laws, (E:20) and that you may help them on the day set for their ruin, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar, to defend themselves against those who attack them. (E:21) For God, the ruler of all, has turned that day for them from one of destruction of the chosen race into one of joy. (E:22) Therefore, you too must celebrate this memorable day among your designated feasts with all rejoicing, (E:23) so that both now and in the future it may be, for us and for loyal Persians, a celebration of victory, and for those who plot against us a reminder of destruction. (E:24) "Every city and province, without exception, that does not observe this decree shall be ruthlessly destroyed with fire and sword, so that it will be left not merely untrodden by men, but even shunned by wild beasts and birds forever."

Est 8:13 A copy of the letter to be promulgated as law in each and every province was published among all the peoples, so that the Jews might be prepared on that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.

Est 8:14 Couriers mounted on royal steeds sped forth in haste at the king's order, and the decree was promulgated in the stronghold of Susa.

Est 8:15 Mordecai left the king's presence clothed in a royal robe of violet and of white cotton, with a large crown of gold and a cloak of crimson byssus. The city of Susa shouted with joy,

Est 8:16 and there was splendor and merriment for the Jews, exultation and triumph.

Est 8:17 In each and every province and in each and every city, wherever the king's order arrived, there was merriment and exultation, banqueting and feasting for the Jews. And many of the peoples of the land embraced Judaism, for they were seized with a fear of the Jews.

Est 9:1 When the day arrived on which the order decreed by the king was to be carried out, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, Adar, on which the enemies of the Jews had expected to become masters of them, the situation was reversed: the Jews became masters of their enemies.

Est 9:2 The Jews mustered in their cities throughout the provinces of King Ahasuerus to attack those who sought to do them harm, and no one could withstand them, but all peoples were seized with a fear of them.

Est 9:3 Moreover, all the officials of the provinces, the satraps, governors, and royal procurators supported the Jews from fear of Mordecai;

Est 9:4 for Mordecai was powerful in the royal palace, and the report was spreading through all the provinces that he was continually growing in power.

Est 9:5 The Jews struck down all their enemies with the sword, killing and destroying them; they did to their enemies as they pleased.

Est 9:6 In the stronghold of Susa, the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men.

Est 9:7 They also killed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha,

Est 9:8 Porathai, Adalia, Aridatha,

Est 9:9 Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vaizatha,

Est 9:10 the ten sons of Haman, son of Hammedatha, the foe of the Jews. However, they did not engage in plundering.

Est 9:11 On the same day, when the number of those killed in the stronghold of Susa was reported to the king,

Est 9:12 he said to Queen Esther: "In the stronghold of Susa the Jews have killed and destroyed five hundred men, as well as the ten sons of Haman. What must they have done in the other royal provinces! You shall again be granted whatever you ask, and whatever you request shall be honored."

Est 9:13 So Esther said, "If it pleases your majesty, let the Jews in Susa be permitted again tomorrow to act according to today's decree, and let the ten sons of Haman be hanged on gibbets."

Est 9:14 The king then gave an order to this effect, and the decree was published in Susa. So the ten sons of Haman were hanged,

Est 9:15 and the Jews in Susa mustered again on the fourteenth of the month of Adar and killed three hundred men in Susa. However, they did not engage in plundering.

Est 9:16 The other Jews, who dwelt in the royal provinces, also mustered and defended themselves, and obtained rest from their enemies. They killed seventy-five thousand of their foes, without engaging in plunder,

Est 9:17 on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar. On the fourteenth of the month they rested, and made it a day of feasting and rejoicing.

Est 9:18 (The Jews in Susa, however, mustered on the thirteenth and fourteenth of the month. But on the fifteenth they rested, and made it a day of feasting and rejoicing.)

Est 9:19 That is why the rural Jews, who dwell in villages, celebrate the fourteenth of the month of Adar as a day of rejoicing and feasting, a holiday on which they send gifts of food to one another.

Est 9:20 Mordecai recorded these events and sent letters to all the Jews, both near and far, in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus.

Est 9:21 He ordered them to celebrate every year both the fourteenth and the fifteenth of the month of Adar

Est 9:22 as the days on which the Jews obtained rest from their enemies and as the month which was turned for them from sorrow into joy, from mourning into festivity. They were to observe these days with feasting and gladness, sending food to one another and gifts to the poor.

Est 9:23 The Jews took upon themselves for the future this observance which they instituted at the written direction of Mordecai.

Est 9:24 Haman, son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the foe of all the Jews, had planned to destroy them and had cast the pur, or lot, for the time of their defeat and destruction.

Est 9:25 Yet, when Esther entered the royal presence, the king ordered in writing that the wicked plan Haman had devised against the Jews should instead be turned against Haman and that he and his sons should be hanged on gibbets.

Est 9:26 And so these days have been named Purim after the word pur. Thus, because of all that was contained in this letter, and because of what they had witnessed and experienced in this affair,

Est 9:27 the Jews established and took upon themselves, their descendants, and all who should join them, the inviolable obligation of celebrating these two days every year in the manner prescribed by this letter, and at the time appointed.

Est 9:28 These days were to be commemorated and kept in every generation, by every clan, in every province, and in every city. These days of Purim were never to fall into disuse among the Jews, nor into oblivion among their descendants.

Est 9:29 Queen Esther, daughter of Abihail and of Mordecai the Jew, wrote to confirm with full authority this second letter about Purim,

Est 9:30 when Mordecai sent documents concerning peace and security to all the Jews in the hundred and twenty-seven provinces of Ahasuerus' kingdom.

Est 9:31 Thus were established, for their appointed time, these days of Purim which Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther had designated for the Jews, just as they had previously enjoined upon themselves and upon their race the duty of fasting and supplication.

Est 9:32 The command of Esther confirmed these prescriptions for Purim and was recorded in the book.

Est 10:1 King Ahasuerus laid tribute on the land and on the islands of the sea.

Est 10:2 All the acts of his power and valor, as well as a detailed account of the greatness of Mordecai, whom the king promoted, are recorded in the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia.

Est 10:3 The Jew Mordecai was next in rank to King Ahasuerus, in high standing among the Jews, and was regarded with favor by his many brethren, as the promoter of his people's welfare and the herald of peace for his whole race. (F:1) Then Mordecai said: "This is the work of God. (F:2) I recall the dream I had about these very things, and not a single detail has been left unfulfilled- (F:3) the tiny spring that grew into a river, the light of the sun, the many waters. The river is Esther, whom the king married and made queen. (F:4) The two dragons are myself and Haman. (F:5) The nations are those who assembled to destroy the name of the Jews, (F:6) but my people is Israel, who cried to God and was saved. "The LORD saved his people and delivered us from all these evils. God worked signs and great wonders, such as have not occurred among the nations. (F:7) For this purpose he arranged two lots: one for the people of God, the second for all the other nations. (F:8) These two lots were fulfilled in the hour, the time, and the day of judgment before God and among all the nations. (F:9) God remembered his people and rendered justice to his inheritance. (F:10) "Gathering together with joy and happiness before God, they shall celebrate these days on the fourteenth and fifteenth of the month Adar throughout all future generations of his people Israel."

Job 1:1 In the land of Uz there was a blameless and upright man named Job, who feared God and avoided evil.

Job 1:2 Seven sons and three daughters were born to him;

Job 1:3 and he had seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred she-asses, and a great number of work animals, so that he was greater than any of the men of the East.

Job 1:4 His sons used to take turns giving feasts, sending invitations to their three sisters to eat and drink with them.

Job 1:5 And when each feast had run its course, Job would send for them and sanctify them, rising early and offering holocausts for every one of them. For Job said, "It may be that my sons have sinned and blasphemed God in their hearts." This Job did habitually.

Job 1:6 One day, when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, Satan also came among them.

Job 1:7 And the LORD said to Satan, "Whence do you come?" Then Satan answered the LORD and said, "From roaming the earth and patrolling it."

Job 1:8 And the LORD said to Satan, "Have you noticed my servant Job, and that there is no one on earth like him, blameless and upright, fearing God and avoiding evil?"

Job 1:9 But Satan answered the LORD and said, "Is it for nothing that Job is God-fearing?"

Job 1:10 Have you not surrounded him and his family and all that he has with your protection? You have blessed the work of his hands, and his livestock are spread over the land.

Job 1:11 But now put forth your hand and touch anything that he has, and surely he will blaspheme you to your face."

Job 1:12 And the LORD said to Satan, "Behold, all that he has is in your power; only do not lay a hand upon his person." So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.

Job 1:13 And so one day, while his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their eldest brother,

Job 1:14 a messenger came to Job and said, "The oxen were plowing and the asses grazing beside them,

Job 1:15 and the Sabeans carried them off in a raid. They put the herdsmen to the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

Job 1:16 While he was yet speaking, another came and said, "Lightning has fallen from heaven and struck the sheep and their shepherds and consumed them; and I alone have escaped to tell you."

Job 1:17 While he was yet speaking, another came and said, "The Chaldeans formed three columns, seized the camels, carried them off, and put those tending them to the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

Job 1:18 While he was yet speaking, another came and said, "Your sons and daughters were eating and drinking wine in the house of their eldest brother,

Job 1:19 when suddenly a great wind came across the desert and smote the four corners of the house. It fell upon the young people and they are dead; and I alone have escaped to tell you."

Job 1:20 Then Job began to tear his cloak and cut off his hair. He cast himself prostrate upon the ground,

Job 1:21 and said, "Naked I came forth from my mother's womb, and naked shall I go back again. The LORD gave and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD!"

Job 1:22 In all this Job did not sin, nor did he say anything disrespectful of God.

Job 2:1 Once again the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came with them.

Job 2:2 And the LORD said to Satan, "Whence do you come?" And Satan answered the LORD and said, "From roaming the earth and patrolling it."

Job 2:3 And the LORD said to Satan, "Have you noticed my servant Job, and that there is no one on earth like him, faultless and upright, fearing God and avoiding evil? He still holds fast to his innocence although you incited me against him to ruin him without cause."

Job 2:4 And Satan answered the LORD and said, "Skin for skin! All that a man has will he give for his life.
Job 2:5 But now put forth your hand and touch his bone and his flesh, and surely he will blaspheme you to your face."
Job 2:6 And the LORD said to Satan, "He is in your power; only spare his life."
Job 2:7 So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD and smote Job with severe boils from the soles of his feet to the crown of his head.
Job 2:8 And he took a potsherd to scrape himself, as he sat among the ashes.
Job 2:9 Then his wife said to him, "Are you still holding to your innocence? Curse God and die."
Job 2:10 But he said to her, "Are even you going to speak as senseless women do? We accept good things from God; and should we not accept evil?" Through all this, Job said nothing sinful.
Job 2:11 Now when three of Job's friends heard of all the misfortune that had come upon him, they set out each one from his own place: Eliphaz from Teman, Bildad from Shuh, and Zophar from Naamath. They met and journeyed together to give him sympathy and comfort.
Job 2:12 But when, at a distance, they lifted up their eyes and did not recognize him, they began to weep aloud; they tore their cloaks and threw dust upon their heads.
Job 2:13 Then they sat down upon the ground with him seven days and seven nights, but none of them spoke a word to him; for they saw how great was his suffering.
Job 3:1 After this, Job opened his mouth and cursed his day.
Job 3:2 Job spoke out and said:
Job 3:3 Perish the day on which I was born, the night when they said, "The child is a boy!"
Job 3:4 May that day be darkness: let not God above call for it, nor light shine upon it!
Job 3:5 May darkness and gloom claim it, clouds settle upon it, the blackness of night affright it!
Job 3:6 May obscurity seize that day; let it not occur among the days of the year, nor enter into the count of the months!
Job 3:7 May that night be barren; let no joyful outcry greet it!
Job 3:8 Let them curse it who curse the sea, the appointed disturbers of Leviathan!
Job 3:9 May the stars of its twilight be darkened; may it look for daylight, but have none, nor gaze on the eyes of the dawn,
Job 3:10 Because it kept not shut the doors of the womb to shield my eyes from trouble!
Job 3:11 Why did I not perish at birth, come forth from the womb and expire?
Job 3:12 Wherefore did the knees receive me? or why did I suck at the breasts?
Job 3:13 For then I should have lain down and been tranquil; had I slept, I should then have been at rest
Job 3:14 With kings and counselors of the earth who built where now there are ruins
Job 3:15 Or with princes who had gold and filled their houses with silver.
Job 3:16 Or why was I not buried away like an untimely birth, like babes that have never seen the light?
Job 3:17 There the wicked cease from troubling, there the weary are at rest.
Job 3:18 There the captives are at ease together, and hear not the voice of the slave driver.
Job 3:19 Small and great are there the same, and the servant is free from his master.
Job 3:20 Why is light given to the toilers, and life to the bitter in spirit?
Job 3:21 They wait for death and it comes not; they search for it rather than for hidden treasures,
Job 3:22 Rejoice in it exultingly, and are glad when they reach the grave:
Job 3:23 Men whose path is hidden from them, and whom God has hemmed in!
Job 3:24 For sighing comes more readily to me than food, and my groans well forth like water.
Job 3:25 For what I fear overtakes me, and what I shrink from comes upon me.
Job 3:26 I have no peace nor ease; I have no rest, for trouble comes!
Job 4:1 Then spoke Eliphaz the Temanite, who said:
Job 4:2 If someone attempts a word with you, will you mind? For how can anyone refrain from speaking?
Job 4:3 Behold, you have instructed many, and have made firm their feeble hands.
Job 4:4 Your words have upheld the stumbler; you have strengthened his faltering knees.
Job 4:5 But now that it comes to you, you are impatient; when it touches yourself, you are dismayed.
Job 4:6 Is not your piety a source of confidence, and your integrity of life your hope?
Job 4:7 Reflect now, what innocent person perishes? Since when are the upright destroyed?
Job 4:8 As I see it, those who plow for mischief and sow trouble, reap the same.
Job 4:9 By the breath of God they perish, and by the blast of his wrath they are consumed.
Job 4:10 Though the lion roars, though the king of beasts cries out, yet the teeth of the young lions are broken;
Job 4:11 The old lion perishes for lack of prey, and the cubs of the lioness are scattered.
Job 4:12 For a word was stealthily brought to me, and my ear caught a whisper of it.
Job 4:13 In my thoughts during visions of the night, when deep sleep falls on men,
Job 4:14 Fear came upon me, and shuddering, that terrified me to the bones.

Job 4:15 Then a spirit passed before me, and the hair of my flesh stood up.
Job 4:16 It paused, but its likeness I could not discern; a figure was before my eyes, and I heard a still voice:
Job 4:17 "Can a man be righteous as against God? Can a mortal be blameless against his Maker?
Job 4:18 Lo, he puts no trust in his servants, and with his angels he can find fault.
Job 4:19 How much more with those that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, who are crushed more easily than the moth!
Job 4:20 Morning or evening they may be shattered; with no heed paid to it, they perish forever.
Job 4:21 The pegs of their tent are plucked up; they die without knowing wisdom."
Job 5:1 Call now! Will anyone respond to you? To which of the holy ones will you appeal?
Job 5:2 Nay, impatience kills the fool and indignation slays the simpleton.
Job 5:3 I have seen a fool spreading his roots, but his household suddenly decayed.
Job 5:4 His children shall be far from safety; they shall be crushed at the gate without a rescuer.
Job 5:5 What they have reaped the hungry shall eat up; (or God shall take it away by blight;) and the thirsty shall swallow their substance.
Job 5:6 For mischief comes not out of the earth, nor does trouble spring out of the ground;
Job 5:7 But man himself begets mischief, as sparks fly upward.
Job 5:8 In your place, I would appeal to God, and to God I would state my plea.
Job 5:9
Job 5:10 He gives rain upon the earth and sends water upon the fields;
Job 5:11 He sets up on high the lowly, and those who mourn he exalts to safety.
Job 5:12 He frustrates the plans of the cunning, so that their hands achieve no success;
Job 5:13 He catches the wise in their own ruses, and the designs of the crafty are routed.
Job 5:14 They meet with darkness in the daytime, and at noonday they grope as though it were night.
Job 5:15 But the poor from the edge of the sword and from the hand of the mighty, he saves.
Job 5:16 Thus the unfortunate have hope, and iniquity closes her mouth.
Job 5:17 Happy is the man whom God reproves! The Almighty's chastening do not reject.
Job 5:18 For he wounds, but he binds up; he smites, but his hands give healing.
Job 5:19 Out of six troubles he will deliver you, and at the seventh no evil shall touch you.
Job 5:20 In famine he will deliver you from death, and in war from the threat of the sword;
Job 5:21 From the scourge of the tongue you shall be hidden, and shall not fear approaching ruin.
Job 5:22 At destruction and want you shall laugh; the beasts of the earth you need not dread.
Job 5:23 You shall be in league with the stones of the field, and the wild beasts shall be at peace with you.
Job 5:24 And you shall know that your tent is secure; taking stock of your household, you shall miss nothing.
Job 5:25 You shall know that your descendants are many, and your offspring as the grass of the earth.
Job 5:26 You shall approach the grave in full vigor, as a shock of grain comes in at its season.
Job 5:27 Lo, this we have searched out; so it is! This we have heard, and you should know.
Job 6:1 Then Job answered and said:
Job 6:2 Ah, could my anguish but be measured and my calamity laid with it in the scales,
Job 6:3 They would now outweigh the sands of the sea! Because of this I speak without restraint.
Job 6:4 For the arrows of the Almighty pierce me, and my spirit drinks in their poison; the terrors of God are arrayed against me.
Job 6:5 Does the wild ass bray when he has grass? Does the ox low over his fodder?
Job 6:6 Can a thing insipid be eaten without salt? Is there flavor in the white of an egg?
Job 6:7 I refuse to touch them; they are loathsome food to me.
Job 6:8 Oh, that I might have my request, and that God would grant what I long for:
Job 6:9 Even that God would decide to crush me, that he would put forth his hand and cut me off!
Job 6:10 Then I should still have consolation and could exult through unremitting pain, because I have not transgressed the commands of the Holy One.
Job 6:11 What strength have I that I should endure, and what is my limit that I should be patient?
Job 6:12 Have I the strength of stones, or is my flesh of bronze?
Job 6:13 Have I no helper, and has advice deserted me?
Job 6:14 A friend owes kindness to one in despair, though he have forsaken the fear of the Almighty.
Job 6:15 My brethren are undependable as a brook, as watercourses that run dry in the wadies;
Job 6:16 Though they may be black with ice, and with snow heaped upon them,
Job 6:17 Yet once they flow, they cease to be; in the heat, they disappear from their place.
Job 6:18 Caravans turn aside from their routes; they go into the desert and perish.
Job 6:19 The caravans of Tema search, the companies of Sheba have hopes;
Job 6:20 They are disappointed, though they were confident; they come there and are frustrated.
Job 6:21 It is thus that you have now become for me; you see a terrifying thing and are afraid.

Job 6:22 Have I asked you to give me anything, to offer a gift for me from your possessions,
Job 6:23 Or to deliver me from the enemy, or to redeem me from oppressors?
Job 6:24 Teach me, and I will be silent; prove to me wherein I have erred.
Job 6:25 How agreeable are honest words; yet how unconvincing is your argument!
Job 6:26 Do you consider your words as proof, but the sayings of a desperate man as wind?
Job 6:27 You would even cast lots for the orphan, and would barter away your friend!
Job 6:28 Come, now, give me your attention; surely I will not lie to your face.
Job 6:29 Think it over; let there be no injustice. Think it over; I still am right.
Job 6:30 Is there insincerity on my tongue, or cannot my taste discern falsehood?
Job 7:1 Is not man's life on earth a drudgery? Are not his days those of a hireling?
Job 7:2 He is a slave who longs for the shade, a hireling who waits for his wages.
Job 7:3 So I have been assigned months of misery, and troubled nights have been told off for me.
Job 7:4 If in bed I say, "When shall I arise?" then the night drags on; I am filled with restlessness until the dawn.
Job 7:5 My flesh is clothed with worms and scabs; my skin cracks and festers;
Job 7:6 My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle; they come to an end without hope.
Job 7:7 Remember that my life is like the wind; I shall not see happiness again.
Job 7:8 The eye that now sees me shall no more behold me; as you look at me, I shall be gone.
Job 7:9 As a cloud dissolves and vanishes, so he who goes down to the nether world shall come up no more.
Job 7:10 He shall not again return to his house; his place shall know him no more.
Job 7:11 My own utterance I will not restrain; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
Job 7:12 Am I the sea, or a monster of the deep, that you place a watch over me? Why have you set me up as an object of attack; or why should I be a target for you?
Job 7:13 When I say, "My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall ease my complaint,"
Job 7:14 Then you affright me with dreams and with visions terrify me,
Job 7:15 So that I should prefer choking and death rather than my pains.
Job 7:16 I waste away: I cannot live forever; let me alone, for my days are but a breath.
Job 7:17 What is man, that you make much of him, or pay him any heed?
Job 7:18 You observe him with each new day and try him at every moment!
Job 7:19 How long will it be before you look away from me, and let me alone long enough to swallow my spittle?
Job 7:20 Though I have sinned, what can I do to you, O watcher of men?
Job 7:21 Why do you not pardon my offense, or take away my guilt? For soon I shall lie down in the dust; and should you seek me I shall then be gone.
Job 8:1 Bildad the Shuhite spoke out and said:
Job 8:2 How long will you utter such things? The words from your mouth are like a mighty wind!
Job 8:3 Does God pervert judgment, and does the Almighty distort justice?
Job 8:4 If your children have sinned against him and he has left them in the grip of their guilt,
Job 8:5 Still, if you yourself have recourse to God and make supplication to the Almighty,
Job 8:6 Should you be blameless and upright, surely now he will awake for you and restore your rightful domain;
Job 8:7 Your former state will be of little moment, for in time to come you will flourish indeed.
Job 8:8 If you inquire of the former generations, and give heed to the experience of the fathers
Job 8:9 (As we are but of yesterday and have no knowledge, because our days on earth are but a shadow),
Job 8:10 Will they not teach you and tell you and utter their words of understanding?
Job 8:11 Can the papyrus grow up without mire? Can the reed grass flourish without water?
Job 8:12 While it is yet green and uncut, it withers quicker than any grass.
Job 8:13 So is the end of everyone who forgets God, and so shall the hope of the godless man perish.
Job 8:14 His confidence is but a gossamer thread and his trust is a spider's web.
Job 8:15 He shall rely upon his family, but it shall not last; he shall cling to it, but it shall not endure.
Job 8:16 He is full of sap before sunrise, and beyond his garden his shoots go forth;
Job 8:17 About a heap of stones are his roots entwined; among the rocks he takes hold.
Job 8:18 Yet if one tears him from his place, it will disown him: "I have never seen you!"
Job 8:19 There he lies rotting beside the road, and out of the soil another sprouts.
Job 8:20 Behold, God will not cast away the upright; neither will he take the hand of the wicked.
Job 8:21 Once more will he fill your mouth with laughter, and your lips with rejoicing.
Job 8:22 They that hate you shall be clothed with shame, and the tent of the wicked shall be no more.
Job 9:1 Then Job answered and said:
Job 9:2 I know well that it is so; but how can a man be justified before God?
Job 9:3 Should one wish to contend with him, he could not answer him once in a thousand times.
Job 9:4 God is wise in heart and mighty in strength; who has withstood him and remained unscathed?

Job 9:5 He removes the mountains before they know it; he overturns them in his anger.
Job 9:6 He shakes the earth out of its place, and the pillars beneath it tremble.
Job 9:7 He commands the sun, and it rises not; he seals up the stars.
Job 9:8 He alone stretches out the heavens and treads upon the crests of the sea.
Job 9:9 He made the Bear and Orion, the Pleiades and the constellations of the south;
Job 9:10 He does great things past finding out, marvelous things beyond reckoning.
Job 9:11 Should he come near me, I see him not; should he pass by, I am not aware of him;
Job 9:12 Should he seize me forcibly, who can say him nay? Who can say to him, "What are you doing?"
Job 9:13 He is God and he does not relent; the helpers of Rahab bow beneath him.
Job 9:14 How much less shall I give him any answer, or choose out arguments against him!
Job 9:15 Even though I were right, I could not answer him, but should rather beg for what was due me.
Job 9:16 If I appealed to him and he answered my call, I could not believe that he would hearken to my words;
Job 9:17 With a tempest he might overwhelm me, and multiply my wounds without cause;
Job 9:18 He need not suffer me to draw breath, but might fill me with bitter griefs.
Job 9:19 If it be a question of strength, he is mighty; and if of judgment, who will call him to account?
Job 9:20 Though I were right, my own mouth might condemn me; were I innocent, he might put me in the wrong.
Job 9:21 Though I am innocent, I myself cannot know it; I despise my life.
Job 9:22 It is all one! therefore I say: Both the innocent and the wicked he destroys.
Job 9:23 When the scourge slays suddenly, he laughs at the despair of the innocent.
Job 9:24 The earth is given into the hands of the wicked; he covers the faces of its judges. If it is not he, who then is it?
Job 9:25 My days are swifter than a runner, they flee away; they see no happiness;
Job 9:26 They shoot by like skiffs of reed, like an eagle swooping upon its prey.
Job 9:27 If I say: I will forget my complaining, I will lay aside my sadness and be of good cheer,
Job 9:28 Then I am in dread of all my pains; I know that you will not hold me innocent.
Job 9:29 If I must be accounted guilty, why then should I strive in vain?
Job 9:30 If I should wash myself with snow and cleanse my hands with lye,
Job 9:31 Yet you would plunge me in the ditch, so that my garments would abhor me.
Job 9:32 For he is not a man like myself, that I should answer him, that we should come together in judgment.
Job 9:33 Would that there were an arbiter between us, who could lay his hand upon us both Job 9:34 and withdraw his rod from me. Would that his terrors did not frighten me;
Job 9:35 that I might speak without being afraid of him. Since this is not the case with me,
Job 10:1 I loathe my life. I will give myself up to complaint; I will speak from the bitterness of my soul.
Job 10:2 I will say to God: Do not put me in the wrong! Let me know why you oppose me.
Job 10:3 Is it a pleasure for you to oppress, to spurn the work of your hands, and smile on the plan of the wicked?
Job 10:4 Have you eyes of flesh? Do you see as man sees?
Job 10:5 Are your days as the days of a mortal, and are your years as a man's lifetime,
Job 10:6 That you seek for guilt in me and search after my sins,
Job 10:7 Even though you know that I am not wicked, and that none can deliver me out of your hand?
Job 10:8 Your hands have formed me and fashioned me; will you then turn and destroy me?
Job 10:9 Oh, remember that you fashioned me from clay! Will you then bring me down to dust again?
Job 10:10 Did you not pour me out as milk, and thicken me like cheese?
Job 10:11 With skin and flesh you clothed me, with bones and sinews knit me together.
Job 10:12 Grace and favor you granted me, and your providence has preserved my spirit.
Job 10:13 Yet these things you have hidden in your heart; I know that they are your purpose:
Job 10:14 If I should sin, you would keep a watch against me, and from my guilt you would not absolve me.
Job 10:15 If I should be wicked, alas for me! if righteous, I dare not hold up my head, filled with ignominy and sodden with affliction!
Job 10:16 Should it lift up, you hunt me like a lion: repeatedly you show your wondrous power against me,
Job 10:17 You renew your attack upon me and multiply your harassment of me; in waves your troops come against me.
Job 10:18 Why then did you bring me forth from the womb? I should have died and no eye have seen me.
Job 10:19 I should be as though I had never lived; I should have been taken from the womb to the grave.
Job 10:20 Are not the days of my life few? Let me alone, that I may recover a little Job 10:21 Before I go whence I shall not return, to the land of darkness and of gloom,
Job 10:22 The black, disordered land where darkness is the only light.
Job 11:1 And Zophar the Naamathite spoke out and said:

Job 11:2 Should not the man of many words be answered, or must the garrulous man necessarily be right?
Job 11:3 Shall your babblings keep men silent, and shall you deride and no one give rebuke?
Job 11:4 Shall you say: "My teaching is pure, and I am clean in your sight"?
Job 11:5 But oh, that God would speak, and open his lips against you,
Job 11:6 And tell you that the secrets of wisdom are twice as effective: So you might learn that God will make you answer for your guilt.
Job 11:7 Can you penetrate the designs of God? Dare you vie with the perfection of the Almighty?
Job 11:8 It is higher than the heavens; what can you do? It is deeper than the nether world; what can you know?
Job 11:9 It is longer than the earth in measure, and broader than the sea.
Job 11:10 If he seize and imprison or call to judgment, who then can say him nay?
Job 11:11 For he knows the worthlessness of men and sees iniquity; will he then ignore it?
Job 11:12 Will empty man then gain understanding, and the wild jackass be made docile?
Job 11:13 If you set your heart aright and stretch out your hands toward him,
Job 11:14 If you remove all iniquity from your conduct, and let not injustice dwell in your tent,
Job 11:15 Surely then you may lift up your face in innocence; you may stand firm and unafraid.
Job 11:16 For then you shall forget your misery, or recall it like waters that have ebbed away.
Job 11:17 Then your life shall be brighter than the noonday; its gloom shall become as the morning,
Job 11:18 And you shall be secure, because there is hope; you shall look round you and lie down in safety,
Job 11:19 and you shall take your rest with none to disturb. Many shall entreat your favor,
Job 11:20 but the wicked, looking on, shall be consumed with envy. Escape shall be cut off from them, they shall wait to expire.
Job 12:1 Then Job replied and said:
Job 12:2 No doubt you are the intelligent folk, and with you wisdom shall die!
Job 12:3 But I have intelligence as well as you; for who does not know such things as these?
Job 12:4 I have become the sport of my neighbors: "The one whom God answers when he calls upon him, The just, the perfect man," is a laughing-stock;
Job 12:5 The undisturbed esteem my downfall a disgrace such as awaits unsteady feet;
Job 12:6 Yet the tents of robbers are prosperous, and those who provoke God are secure.
Job 12:7 But now ask the beasts to teach you, and the birds of the air to tell you;
Job 12:8 Or the reptiles on earth to instruct you, and the fish of the sea to inform you.
Job 12:9 Which of all these does not know that the hand of God has done this?
Job 12:10 In his hand is the soul of every living thing, and the life breath of all mankind.
Job 12:11 Does not the ear judge words as the mouth tastes food?
Job 12:12 So with old age is wisdom, and with length of days understanding.
Job 12:13 With him are wisdom and might; his are counsel and understanding.
Job 12:14 If he breaks a thing down, there is no rebuilding; if he imprisons a man, there is no release.
Job 12:15 He holds back the waters and there is drought; he sends them forth and they overwhelm the land.
Job 12:16 With him are strength and prudence; the misled and the misleaders are his.
Job 12:17 He sends counselors away barefoot, and of judges he makes fools.
Job 12:18 He loosens the bonds imposed by kings and leaves but a waistcloth to bind the king's own loins.
Job 12:19 and lets their never-failing waters flow away.
Job 12:20 He silences the trusted adviser, and takes discretion from the aged.
Job 12:21 He breaks down the barriers of the streams
Job 12:22 The recesses of the darkness he discloses, and brings the gloom forth to the light.
Job 12:23 He makes nations great and he destroys them; he spreads peoples abroad and he abandons them.
Job 12:24 He takes understanding from the leaders of the land,
Job 12:25 till they grope in the darkness without light; he makes them stagger like drunken men.
Job 13:1 Lo, all this my eye has seen; my ear has heard and perceived it.
Job 13:2 What you know, I also know; I fall not short of you.
Job 13:3 But I would speak with the Almighty; I wish to reason with God.
Job 13:4 You are glossing over falsehoods and offering vain remedies, every one of you!
Job 13:5 Oh, that you would be altogether silent! This for you would be wisdom.
Job 13:6 Hear now the rebuke I shall utter and listen to the reproof from my lips.
Job 13:7 Is it for God that you speak falsehood? Is it for him that you utter deceit?
Job 13:8 Is it for him that you show partiality? Do you play advocate on behalf of God?
Job 13:9 Will it be well when he shall search you out? Would you impose on him as one does on men?
Job 13:10 He will openly rebuke you if even in secret you show partiality.
Job 13:11 Surely will his majesty affright you and the dread of him fall upon you.
Job 13:12 Your reminders are ashy maxims, your fabrications are mounds of clay.

Job 13:13 Be silent, let me alone! that I may speak and give vent to my feelings.
Job 13:14 I will carry my flesh between my teeth, and take my life in my hand.
Job 13:15 Slay me though he might, I will wait for him; I will defend my conduct before him.
Job 13:16 And this shall be my salvation, that no impious man can come into his presence.
Job 13:17 Pay careful heed to my speech, and give my statement a hearing.
Job 13:18 Behold, I have prepared my case, I know that I am in the right.
Job 13:19 If anyone can make a case against me, then I shall be silent and die.
Job 13:20 These things only do not use against me, then from your presence I need not hide:
Job 13:21 Withdraw your hand far from me, and let not the terror of you frighten me.
Job 13:22 Then call me, and I will respond; or let me speak first, and answer me.
Job 13:23 What are my faults and my sins? My misdeeds and my sins make known to me!
Job 13:24 Why do you hide your face and consider me your enemy?
Job 13:25 Will you harass a wind-driven leaf, or pursue a withered straw?
Job 13:26 For you draw up bitter indictments against me, and punish in me the faults of my youth.
Job 13:27 You put my feet in the stocks; you watch all my paths and trace out all my footsteps.
Job 13:28 Though he wears out like a leather bottle, like a garment that the moth has consumed?
Job 14:1 Man born of woman is short-lived and full of trouble,
Job 14:2 Like a flower that springs up and fades, swift as a shadow that does not abide.
Job 14:3 Upon such a one will you cast your eyes so as to bring him into judgment before you,
Job 14:4 Can a man be found who is clean of defilement? There is none,
Job 14:5 however short his days. You know the number of his months; you have fixed the limit which he cannot pass.
Job 14:6 Look away from him and let him be, while, like a hireling, he completes his day.
Job 14:7 For a tree there is hope, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again and that its tender shoots will not cease.
Job 14:8 Even though its root grow old in the earth, and its stump die in the dust,
Job 14:9 Yet at the first whiff of water it may flourish again and put forth branches like a young plant.
Job 14:10 But when a man dies, all vigor leaves him; when man expires, where then is he?
Job 14:11 As when the waters of a lake fail, or a stream grows dry and parches,
Job 14:12 So men lie down and rise not again. Till the heavens are no more, they shall not awake, nor be roused out of their sleep.
Job 14:13 Oh, that you would hide me in the nether world and keep me sheltered till your wrath is past; would fix a time for me, and then remember me!
Job 14:14 When a man has died, were he to live again, all the days of my drudgery I would wait, until my relief should come.
Job 14:15 You would call, and I would answer you; you would esteem the work of your hands.
Job 14:16 Surely then you would count my steps, and not keep watch for sin in me.
Job 14:17 My misdeeds would be sealed up in a pouch, and you would cover over my guilt.
Job 14:18 But as a mountain falls at last and its rock is moved from its place,
Job 14:19 As waters wear away the stones and floods wash away the soil of the land, so you destroy the hope of man.
Job 14:20 You prevail once for all against him and he passes on; with changed appearance you send him away.
Job 14:21 If his sons are honored, he is not aware of it; if they are in disgrace, he does not know about them.
Job 14:22 Only his own flesh pains him, and his soul grieves for him.
Job 15:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite spoke and said:
Job 15:2 Should a wise man answer with airy opinions, or puff himself up with wind?
Job 15:3 Should he argue in speech which does not avail, and in words which are to no profit?
Job 15:4 You in fact do away with piety, and you lessen devotion toward God,
Job 15:5 Because your wickedness instructs your mouth, and you choose to speak like the crafty.
Job 15:6 Your own mouth condemns you, not I; your own lips refute you.
Job 15:7 Are you indeed the first-born of mankind, or were you brought forth before the hills?
Job 15:8 Are you privy to the counsels of God, and do you restrict wisdom to yourself?
Job 15:9 What do you know that we do not know? What intelligence have you which we have not?
Job 15:10 There are gray-haired old men among us more advanced in years than your father.
Job 15:11 Are the consolations of God not enough for you, and speech that deals gently with you?
Job 15:12 Why do your notions carry you away, and why do your eyes blink,
Job 15:13 So that you turn your anger against God and let such words escape your mouth!
Job 15:14 What is a man that he should be blameless, one born of woman that he should be righteous?
Job 15:15 If in his holy ones God places no confidence, and if the heavens are not clean in his sight,

Job 15:16 How much less so is the abominable, the corrupt: man, who drinks in iniquity like water!
Job 15:17 I will show you, if you listen to me; what I have seen I will tell--
Job 15:18 What wise men relate and have not contradicted since the days of their fathers,
Job 15:19 To whom alone the land was given, when no foreigner moved among them.
Job 15:20 The wicked man is in torment all his days, and limited years are in store for the tyrant;
Job 15:21 The sound of terrors is in his ears; when all is prosperous, the spoiler comes upon him.
Job 15:22 He despairs of escaping the darkness, and looks ever for the sword;
Job 15:23 A wanderer, food for the vultures, he knows that his destruction is imminent.
Job 15:24 By day the darkness fills him with dread; distress and anguish overpower him.
Job 15:25 Because he has stretched out his hand against God and bade defiance to the Almighty,
Job 15:26 One shall rush sternly upon him with the stout bosses of his shield, like a king prepared for the charge.
Job 15:27 Because he has blinded himself with his crassness, padding his loins with fat,
Job 15:28 He shall dwell in ruinous cities, in houses that are deserted, That are crumbling into clay
Job 15:29 with no shadow to lengthen over the ground. He shall not be rich, and his possessions shall not endure;
Job 15:30 A flame shall wither him up in his early growth, and with the wind his blossoms shall disappear.
Job 15:31 for vain shall be his bartering.
Job 15:32 His stalk shall wither before its time, and his branches shall be green no more.
Job 15:33 He shall be like a vine that sheds its grapes unripened, and like an olive tree casting off its bloom.
Job 15:34 For the breed of the impious shall be sterile, and fire shall consume the tents of extortioners.
Job 15:35 They conceive malice and bring forth emptiness; they give birth to failure.
Job 16:1 Then Job answered and said:
Job 16:2 I have heard this sort of thing many times. Wearisome comforters are you all!
Job 16:3 Is there no end to windy words? Or what sickness have you that you speak on?
Job 16:4 I also could talk as you do, were you in my place. I could declaim over you, or wag my head at you;
Job 16:5 I could strengthen you with talk, or shake my head with silent lips.
Job 16:6 If I speak, this pain I have will not be checked; if I leave off, it will not depart from me.
Job 16:7 But now that I am exhausted and stunned, all my company has closed in on me.
Job 16:8 As a witness there rises up my traducer, speaking openly against me;
Job 16:9 I am the prey his wrath assails, he gnashes his teeth against me. My enemies lord it over me;
Job 16:10 their mouths are agape to bite me. They smite me on the cheek insultingly; they are all enlisted against me.
Job 16:11 God has given me over to the impious; into the clutches of the wicked he has cast me.
Job 16:12 I was in peace, but he dislodged me; he seized me by the neck and dashed me to pieces. He has set me up for a target;
Job 16:13 his arrows strike me from all directions, He pierces my sides without mercy, he pours out my gall upon the ground.
Job 16:14 He pierces me with thrust upon thrust; he attacks me like a warrior.
Job 16:15 I have fastened sackcloth over my skin, and have laid my brow in the dust.
Job 16:16 My face is inflamed with weeping and there is darkness over my eyes,
Job 16:17 Although my hands are free from violence, and my prayer is sincere.
Job 16:18 O earth, cover not my blood, nor let my outcry come to rest!
Job 16:19 Even now, behold, my witness is in heaven, and my spokesman is on high.
Job 16:20 My friends it is who wrong me; before God my eyes drop tears,
Job 16:21 That he may do justice for a mortal in his presence and decide between a man and his neighbor.
Job 16:22 For my years are numbered now, and I am on a journey from which I shall not return.
Job 17:1 My spirit is broken, my lamp of life extinguished; my burial is at hand.
Job 17:2 I am indeed mocked, and, as their provocation mounts, my eyes grow dim.
Job 17:3 Grant me one to offer you a pledge on my behalf: who is there that will give surety for me?
Job 17:4 You darken their minds to knowledge; therefore they do not understand.
Job 17:5 My lot is described as evil,
Job 17:6 and I am made a byword of the people; their object lesson I have become.
Job 17:7 My eye has grown blind with anguish, and all my frame is shrunken to a shadow.
Job 17:8 Upright men are astonished at this, and the innocent aroused against the wicked.
Job 17:9 Yet the righteous shall hold to his way, and he who has clean hands increase in strength.
Job 17:10 But turn now, and come on again; for I shall not find a wise man among you!
Job 17:11 My days are passed away, my plans are at an end, the cherished purposes of my heart.
Job 17:12 Such men change the night into day; where there is darkness they talk of approaching light.

Job 17:13 If I look for the nether world as my dwelling, if I spread my couch in the darkness,
Job 17:14 If I must call corruption "my father," and the maggot "my mother" and "my sister,"
Job 17:15 Where then is my hope, and my prosperity, who shall see?
Job 17:16 Will they descend with me into the nether world? Shall we go down together into the dust?
Job 18:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite replied and said:
Job 18:2 When will you put an end to words? Reflect, and then we can have discussion.
Job 18:3 Why are we accounted like the beasts, their equals in your sight?
Job 18:4 You who tear yourself in your anger, shall the earth be neglected on your account (or the rock be moved out of its place)?
Job 18:5 Truly, the light of the wicked is extinguished; no flame brightens his hearth.
Job 18:6 The light is darkened in his tent; in spite of him, his lamp goes out.
Job 18:7 His vigorous steps are hemmed in, and his own counsel casts him down.
Job 18:8 For he rushes headlong into a net, and he wanders into a pitfall.
Job 18:9 A trap seizes him by the heel, and a snare lays hold of him.
Job 18:10 A noose for him is hid on the ground, and the toils for him on the way.
Job 18:11 On every side terrors affright him; they harry him at each step.
Job 18:12 Disaster is ready at his side,
Job 18:13 the first-born of death consumes his limbs.
Job 18:14 Fiery destruction lodges in his tent, and marches him off to the king of terrors. He is plucked from the security of his tent;
Job 18:15 over his abode brimstone is scattered.
Job 18:16 Below, his roots dry up, and above, his branches wither.
Job 18:17 His memory perishes from the land, and he has no name on the earth.
Job 18:18 He is driven from light into darkness, and banished out of the world.
Job 18:19 He has neither son nor grandson among his people, nor any survivor where once he dwelt.
Job 18:20 They who come after shall be appalled at his fate; they who went before are struck with horror.
Job 18:21 So is it then with the dwelling of the impious man, and such is the place of him who knows not God!
Job 19:1 Then Job answered and said:
Job 19:2 How long will you vex my soul, grind me down with words?
Job 19:3 These ten times you have reviled me, have assailed me without shame!
Job 19:4 Be it indeed that I am at fault and that my fault remains with me,
Job 19:5 Even so, if you would vaunt yourselves against me and cast up to me any reproach,
Job 19:6 Know then that God has dealt unfairly with me, and compassed me round with his net.
Job 19:7 If I cry out "Injustice!" I am not heard. I cry for help, but there is no redress.
Job 19:8 He has barred my way and I cannot pass; he has veiled my path in darkness;
Job 19:9 He has stripped me of my glory, and taken the diadem from my brow.
Job 19:10 He breaks me down on every side, and I am gone; my hope he has uprooted like a tree.
Job 19:11 His wrath he has kindled against me; he counts me among his enemies.
Job 19:12 His troops advance as one man; they build up their road to attack me, and they encamp around my tent.
Job 19:13 My brethren have withdrawn from me, and my friends are wholly estranged.
Job 19:14 My kinsfolk and companions neglect me, and my guests have forgotten me.
Job 19:15 Even my handmaids treat me as a stranger; I am an alien in their sight.
Job 19:16 I call my servant, but he gives no answer, though in my speech I plead with him.
Job 19:17 My breath is abhorred by my wife; I am loathsome to the men of my family.
Job 19:18 The young children, too, despise me; when I appear, they speak against me.
Job 19:19 All my intimate friends hold me in horror; those whom I loved have turned against me!
Job 19:20 My bones cleave to my skin, and I have escaped with my flesh between my teeth.
Job 19:21 Pity me, pity me, O you my friends, for the hand of God has struck me!
Job 19:22 Why do you hound me as though you were divine, and insatiably prey upon me?
Job 19:23 Oh, would that my words were written down! Would that they were inscribed in a record:
Job 19:24 That with an iron chisel and with lead they were cut in the rock forever!
Job 19:25 But as for me, I know that my Vindicator lives, and that he will at last stand forth upon the dust;
Job 19:26 And from my flesh I shall see God; my inmost being is consumed with longing.
Job 19:27 Whom I myself shall see: my own eyes, not another's, shall behold him,
Job 19:28 But you who say, "How shall we persecute him, seeing that the root of the matter is found in him?"
Job 19:29 Be afraid of the sword for yourselves, for these crimes deserve the sword; that you may know that there is a judgment.
Job 20:1 Then Zophar the Naamathite spoke and said:

Job 20:2 and because of this I am disturbed. So now my thoughts provide me with an answer, and from my understanding a spirit gives me a reply.

Job 20:3 A rebuke which puts me to shame I hear,

Job 20:4 Do you not know this from olden time, since man was placed upon the earth,

Job 20:5 That the triumph of the wicked is short and the joy of the impious but for a moment?

Job 20:6 Though his pride mount up to the heavens and his head reach to the clouds,

Job 20:7 Yet he perishes forever like the fuel of his fire, and the onlookers say, "Where is he?"

Job 20:8 Like a dream he takes flight and is not found again; he fades away like a vision of the night.

Job 20:9 The eye which saw him does so no more; nor shall his dwelling again behold him.

Job 20:10 and his hands shall yield up his riches.

Job 20:11 Though his frame is full of youthful vigor, this shall lie with him in the dust.

Job 20:12 Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, and he hides it under his tongue,

Job 20:13 Though he retains it and will not let it go but keeps it still within his mouth,

Job 20:14 Yet in his stomach the food shall turn; it shall be venom of asps inside him.

Job 20:15 The riches he swallowed he shall disgorge; God shall compel his belly to disown them.

Job 20:16 The poison of asps he shall drink in; the viper's fangs shall slay him.

Job 20:17 He shall see no streams of oil, no torrents of honey or milk.

Job 20:18 Restoring his gains, he shall not enjoy them; though his wealth increases, he shall not rejoice.

Job 20:19 Because he has oppressed the poor, and stolen a patrimony he had not built up,

Job 20:20 Though he has known no quiet in his greed, his treasures shall not save him.

Job 20:21 Therefore his prosperity shall not endure,

Job 20:22 When he abounds to overflowing, he shall be brought into straits, and nought shall be left of his goods.

Job 20:23 God shall send against him the fury of his wrath and rain down his missiles of war upon him.

Job 20:24 Should he escape the iron weapon, the bow of bronze shall pierce him through;

Job 20:25 The dart shall come out of his back; terrors shall fall upon him.

Job 20:26 Complete darkness is in store for him; the fire which shall consume him needs not to be fanned.

Job 20:27 The heavens shall reveal his guilt, and the earth shall rise up against him.

Job 20:28 The flood shall sweep away his house with the waters that run off in the day of God's anger.

Job 20:29 This is the portion of a wicked man, and the heritage appointed him by God.

Job 21:1 Then Job said in reply:

Job 21:2 At least listen to my words, and let that be the consolation you offer.

Job 21:3 Bear with me while I speak; and after I have spoken, you can mock!

Job 21:4 Is my complaint toward man? And why should I not be impatient?

Job 21:5 Look at me and be astonished, put your hands over your mouths.

Job 21:6 When I think of it, I am dismayed, and horror takes hold on my flesh.

Job 21:7 Why do the wicked survive, grow old, become mighty in power?

Job 21:8 Their progeny is secure in their sight; they see before them their kinsfolk and their offspring.

Job 21:9 Their homes are safe and without fear, nor is the scourge of God upon them.

Job 21:10 Their bulls gender without fail; their cows calve and do not miscarry.

Job 21:11 These folk have infants numerous as lambs, and their children dance.

Job 21:12 They sing to the timbrel and harp, and make merry to the sound of the flute.

Job 21:13 They live out their days in prosperity, and tranquilly go down to the nether world.

Job 21:14 Yet they say to God, "Depart from us, for we have no wish to learn your ways!

Job 21:15 What is the Almighty that we should serve him? And what gain shall we have if we pray to him?"

Job 21:16 If their happiness is not in their own hands and if the counsel of the wicked is repulsive to God,

Job 21:17 How often is the lamp of the wicked put out? How often does destruction come upon them, the portion he allots in his anger?

Job 21:18 Let them be like straw before the wind, and like chaff which the storm snatches away!

Job 21:19 May God not store up the man's misery for his children; let him requite the man himself so that he feels it,

Job 21:20 Let his own eyes see the calamity, and the wrath of the Almighty let him drink!

Job 21:21 For what interest has he in his family after him, when the number of his months is finished?

Job 21:22 Can anyone teach God knowledge, seeing that he judges those on high?

Job 21:23 One dies in his full vigor, wholly at ease and content;

Job 21:24 His figure is full and nourished, and his bones are rich in marrow.

Job 21:25 Another dies in bitterness of soul, having never tasted happiness.

Job 21:26 Alike they lie down in the dust, and worms cover them both.

Job 21:27 Behold, I know your thoughts, and the arguments you rehearse against me.

Job 21:28 For you say, "Where is the house of the magnate, and where the dwelling place of the wicked?"
Job 21:29 Have you not asked the wayfarers and do you not recognize their monuments?
Job 21:30 Nay, the evil man is spared calamity when it comes;
Job 21:31 Who will charge him with his conduct to his face, and for what he has done who will repay him?
Job 21:32 and on the day he is carried to the grave
Job 21:33 Sweet to him are the clods of the valley, and over him the funeral mound keeps watch, While all the line of mankind follows him, and the countless others who have gone before.
Job 21:34 How then can you offer me vain comfort, while in your answers perfidy remains?
Job 22:1 Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said:
Job 22:2 Can a man be profitable to God? Though to himself a wise man be profitable!
Job 22:3 Is it of advantage to the Almighty if you are just? Or is it a gain to him if you make your ways perfect?
Job 22:4 Is it because of your piety that he reproveth you-- that he enters with you into judgment?
Job 22:5 Is not your wickedness manifold? Are not your iniquities endless?
Job 22:6 You have unjustly kept your kinsmen's goods in pawn, left them stripped naked of their clothing.
Job 22:7 To the thirsty you have given no water to drink, and from the hungry you have withheld bread;
Job 22:8 As if the land belonged to the man of might, and only the privileged were to dwell in it.
Job 22:9 You have sent widows away empty-handed, and the resources of orphans you have destroyed.
Job 22:10 Therefore snares are round about you, and a sudden terror causes you dismay,
Job 22:11 Or darkness, in which you cannot see; a deluge of waters covers you.
Job 22:12 Does not God, in the heights of the heavens, behold the stars, high though they are?
Job 22:13 Yet you say, "What does God know? Can he judge through the thick darkness?
Job 22:14 Clouds hide him so that he cannot see; he walks upon the vault of the heavens!"
Job 22:15 Do you indeed keep to the ancient way trodden by worthless men,
Job 22:16 Who were snatched away before their time; whose foundations a flood swept away?
Job 22:17 These men said to God, "Depart from us!" and, "What can the Almighty do to us?"
Job 22:18 (Yet he had filled their houses with good things! But far be from me the mind of the impious!)
Job 22:19 The just look on and are gladdened, and the innocent deride them:
Job 22:20 "Truly these have been destroyed where they stood, and such as were left, fire has consumed!"
Job 22:21 Come to terms with him to be at peace. In this shall good come to you:
Job 22:22 Receive instruction from his mouth, and lay up his words in your heart.
Job 22:23 If you return to the Almighty, you will be restored; if you put iniquity far from your tent,
Job 22:24 And treat raw gold like dust, and the fine gold of Ophir as pebbles from the brook,
Job 22:25 Then the Almighty himself shall be your gold and your sparkling silver.
Job 22:26 For then you shall delight in the Almighty and you shall lift up your face toward God.
Job 22:27 You shall entreat him and he will hear you, and your vows you shall fulfill.
Job 22:28 When you make a decision, it shall succeed for you, and upon your ways the light shall shine.
Job 22:29 For he brings down the pride of the haughty, but the man of humble mien he saves.
Job 22:30 God delivers him who is innocent; you shall be delivered through cleanness of hands.
Job 23:1 Again Job answered and said:
Job 23:2 Though I know my complaint is bitter, his hand is heavy upon me in my groanings.
Job 23:3 Oh, that today I might find him, that I might come to his judgment seat!
Job 23:4 I would set out my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments;
Job 23:5 I would learn the words with which he would answer, and understand what he would reply to me.
Job 23:6 Even should he contend against me with his great power, yet, would that he himself might heed me!
Job 23:7 There the upright man might reason with him, and I should once and for all preserve my rights.
Job 23:8 But if I go to the east, he is not there; or to the west, I cannot perceive him;
Job 23:9 Where the north enfolds him, I behold him not; by the south he is veiled, and I see him not.
Job 23:10 Yet he knows my way; if he proved me, I should come forth as gold.
Job 23:11 My foot has always walked in his steps; his way I have kept and have not turned aside.
Job 23:12 From the commands of his lips I have not departed; the words of his mouth I have treasured in my heart.
Job 23:13 But he had decided, and who can say him nay? What he desires, that he does.
Job 23:14 For he will carry out what is appointed for me; and many such things may yet be in his mind.
Job 23:15 Therefore am I dismayed before him; when I take thought, I fear him.
Job 23:16 Indeed God has made my courage fail; the Almighty has put me in dismay.
Job 23:17 Yes, would that I had vanished in darkness, and that thick gloom were before me to conceal me.
Job 24:1 Why are not times set by the Almighty, and why do his friends not see his days?
Job 24:2 The wicked remove landmarks; they steal away herds and pasture them.
Job 24:3 The asses of orphans they drive away; they take the widow's ox for a pledge.

Job 24:4 They force the needy off the road; all the poor of the land are driven into hiding.
Job 24:5 Like wild asses in the desert, these go forth to their task of seeking food; The steppe provides food for the young among them;
Job 24:6 they harvest at night in the untilled land.
Job 24:7 They pass the night naked, without clothing, for they have no covering against the cold;
Job 24:8 They are drenched with the rain of the mountains, and for want of shelter they cling to the rock.
Job 24:9
Job 24:10 and famished are those who carry the sheaves.
Job 24:11 Between the rows they press out the oil; they glean in the the vineyard of the wicked. They tread the wine presses, yet suffer thirst,
Job 24:12 From the dust the dying groan, and the souls of the wounded cry out (yet God does not treat it as unseemly).
Job 24:13 There are those who are rebels against the light; they know not its ways; they abide not in its paths.
Job 24:14 When there is no light the murderer rises, to kill the poor and needy.
Job 24:15 The eye of the adulterer watches for the twilight; he says, "No eye will see me." In the night the thief roams about, and he puts a mask over his face;
Job 24:16 in the dark he breaks into houses. By day they shut themselves in; none of them know the light,
Job 24:17 for daylight they regard as darkness.
Job 24:18 Their portion in the land is accursed,
Job 24:19
Job 24:20 and wickedness is splintered like wood.
Job 24:21
Job 24:22 To him who rises without assurance of his life
Job 24:23 he gives safety and support. He sustains the mighty by his strength, and his eyes are on their ways.
Job 24:24 They are exalted for a while, and then they are gone; they are laid low and, like all others, are gathered up; like ears of grain they shrivel.
Job 24:25 If this be not so, who will confute me, and reduce my argument to nought?
Job 25:1 Then Bildad the Shuhite answered and said:
Job 25:2 Dominion and awesomeness are his who brings about harmony in his heavens.
Job 25:3 Is there any numbering of his troops? Yet to which of them does not his light extend?
Job 25:4 How can a man be just in God's sight, or how can any woman's child be innocent?
Job 25:5 Behold, even the moon is not bright and the stars are not clear in his sight.
Job 25:6 How much less man, who is but a maggot, the son of man, who is only a worm?
Job 26:1 Then Job spoke again and said:
Job 26:2 What help you give to the powerless, what strength to the feeble arm!
Job 26:3 How you counsel, as though he had no wisdom; how profuse is the advice you offer!
Job 26:4 With whose help have you uttered those words, and whose is the breath that comes forth from you?
Job 26:5 The shades beneath writhe in terror, the waters, and their inhabitants.
Job 26:6 Naked before him is the nether world, and Abaddon has no covering.
Job 26:7 He stretches out the North over empty space, and suspends the earth over nothing at all;
Job 26:8 He binds up the waters in his clouds, yet the cloud is not rent by their weight;
Job 26:9 He holds back the appearance of the full moon by spreading his clouds before it.
Job 26:10 He has marked out a circle on the surface of the deep as the boundary of light and darkness.
Job 26:11 The pillars of the heavens tremble and are stunned at his thunderous rebuke;
Job 26:12 By his power he stirs up the sea, and by his might he crushes Rahab;
Job 26:13 With his angry breath he scatters the waters, and he hurls the lightning against them relentlessly; His hand pierces the fugitive dragon as from his hand it strives to flee.
Job 26:14 Lo, these are but the outlines of his ways, and how faint is the word we hear!
Job 27:1
Job 27:2 As God lives, who withholds my deserts, the Almighty, who has made bitter my soul,
Job 27:3 So long as I still have life in me and the breath of God is in my nostrils,
Job 27:4 My lips shall not speak falsehood, nor my tongue utter deceit!
Job 27:5 Far be it from me to account you right; till I die I will not renounce my innocence.
Job 27:6 My justice I maintain and I will not relinquish it; my heart does not reproach me for any of my days.
Job 27:7 Let my enemy be as the wicked and my adversary as the unjust!
Job 27:8 For what can the impious man expect when he is cut off, when God requires his life?
Job 27:9 Will God then attend to his cry when calamity comes upon him?
Job 27:10 Will he then delight in the Almighty and call upon him constantly?
Job 27:11 I will teach you the manner of God's dealings, and the way of the Almighty I will not conceal.

Job 27:12 Behold, you yourselves have all seen it; why then do you spend yourselves in idle words!
Job 27:13 This is the portion of a wicked man from God, the inheritance an oppressor receives from the Almighty:
Job 27:14 Though his children be many, the sword is their destiny. His offspring shall not be filled with bread.
Job 27:15 His survivors, when they die, shall have no burial, and their widows shall not be mourned.
Job 27:16 Though he heap up silver like dust and store away mounds of clothing,
Job 27:17 What he has stored the just man shall wear, and the innocent shall divide the silver.
Job 27:18 He builds his house as of cobwebs, or like a booth put up by the vine-keeper.
Job 27:19 He lies down a rich man, one last time; he opens his eyes and nothing remains to him.
Job 27:20 Terrors rush upon him by day; at night the tempest carries him off.
Job 27:21 The storm wind seizes him and he disappears; it sweeps him out of his place.
Job 28:1 There is indeed a mine for silver, and a place for gold which men refine.
Job 28:2 Iron is taken from the earth, and copper is melted out of stone.
Job 28:3 He has set a boundary for the darkness; to the farthest confines he penetrates.
Job 28:4
Job 28:5 The earth, though out of it comes forth bread, is in fiery upheaval underneath.
Job 28:6 Its stones are the source of sapphires, and there is gold in its dust.
Job 28:7 The path to it no bird of prey knows, nor has the hawk's eye seen that path.
Job 28:8 The proud beasts have not trodden it, nor has the lion gone that way.
Job 28:9 He sets his hand to the flinty rock, and overturns the mountains at their foundations.
Job 28:10 He splits channels in the rocks; his eyes behold all that is precious.
Job 28:11 He probes the wellsprings of the streams, and brings hidden things to light.
Job 28:12 But whence can wisdom be obtained, and where is the place of understanding?
Job 28:13 Man knows nothing to equal it, nor is it to be had in the land of the living.
Job 28:14 The abyss declares, "It is not in me"; and the sea says, "I have it not."
Job 28:15 Solid gold cannot purchase it, nor can its price be paid with silver.
Job 28:16 It cannot be bought with gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx or the sapphire.
Job 28:17 Gold or crystal cannot equal it, nor can golden vessels reach its worth.
Job 28:18 Neither coral nor jasper should be thought of; it surpasses pearls and Job 28:19 Arabian topaz.
Job 28:20 Whence, then, comes wisdom, and where is the place of understanding?
Job 28:21 It is hid from the eyes of any beast; from the birds of the air it is concealed.
Job 28:22 Abaddon and Death say, "Only by rumor have we heard of it."
Job 28:23 God knows the way to it; it is he who is familiar with its place.
Job 28:24 For he beholds the ends of the earth and sees all that is under the heavens.
Job 28:25 He has weighed out the wind, and fixed the scope of the waters;
Job 28:26 When he made rules for the rain and a path for the thunderbolts,
Job 28:27 Then he saw wisdom and appraised it, gave it its setting, knew it through and through.
Job 28:28 And to man he said: Behold, the fear of the LORD is wisdom; and avoiding evil is understanding.
Job 29:1 Job took up his theme anew and said;
Job 29:2 Oh, that I were as in the months past! as in the days when God watched over me,
Job 29:3 While he kept his lamp shining above my head, and by his light I walked through darkness;
Job 29:4 As I was in my flourishing days, when God sheltered my tent;
Job 29:5 When the Almighty was yet with me, and my children were round about me;
Job 29:6 When my footsteps were bathed in milk, and the rock flowed with streams of oil;
Job 29:7 When I went forth to the gate of the city and set up my seat in the square-
Job 29:8 Then the young men saw me and withdrew, while the elders rose up and stood;
Job 29:9 The chief men refrained from speaking and covered their mouths with their hands;
Job 29:10 The voice of the princes was silenced, and their tongues stuck to the roofs of their mouths.
Job 29:11 Whoever heard of me blessed me; those who saw me commended me.
Job 29:12 For I rescued the poor who cried out for help, the orphans, and the unassisted;
Job 29:13 The blessing of those in extremity came upon me, and the heart of the widow I made joyful.
Job 29:14 I wore my honesty like a garment; justice was my robe and my turban.
Job 29:15 I was eyes to the blind, and feet to the lame was I;
Job 29:16 I was a father to the needy; the rights of the stranger I studied,
Job 29:17 And I broke the jaws of the wicked man; from his teeth I forced the prey.
Job 29:18 Then I said: "In my own nest I shall grow old; I shall multiply years like the phoenix.
Job 29:19 My root is spread out to the waters; the dew rests by night on my branches.
Job 29:20 My glory is fresh within me, and my bow is renewed in my hand!"

Job 29:21 For me they listened and waited; they were silent for my counsel.
Job 29:22 Once I spoke, they said no more, but received my pronouncement drop by drop.
Job 29:23 They waited for me as for the rain; they drank in my words like the spring rains.
Job 29:24 When I smiled on them they were reassured;
Job 29:25 mourners took comfort from my cheerful glance. I chose out their way and presided; I took a king's place in the armed forces.
Job 30:1 But now they hold me in derision who are younger in years than I; Whose fathers I should have disdained to rank with the dogs of my flock.
Job 30:2 Such strength as they had, to me meant nought; they were utterly destitute.
Job 30:3 In want and hunger was their lot, they who fled to the parched wastelands:
Job 30:4 They plucked saltwort and shrubs; the roots of the broom plant were their food.
Job 30:5 They were banished from among men, with an outcry like that against a thief--
Job 30:6 To dwell on the slopes of the wadies, in caves of sand and stone;
Job 30:7 Among the bushes they raised their raucous cry; under the nettles they huddled together.
Job 30:8 Irresponsible, nameless men, they were driven out of the land.
Job 30:9 Yet now they sing of me in mockery; I am become a byword among them.
Job 30:10 They abhor me, they stand aloof from me, they do not hesitate to spit in my face!
Job 30:11 Indeed, they have loosed their bonds; they lord it over me, and have thrown off restraint in my presence.
Job 30:12 To subvert my paths they rise up; they build their approaches for my ruin.
Job 30:13 To destroy me, they attack with none to stay them;
Job 30:14 as through a wide breach they advance. Amid the uproar they come on in waves;
Job 30:15 over me rolls the terror. My dignity is borne off on the wind, and my welfare vanishes like a cloud.
Job 30:16 My soul ebbs away from me;
Job 30:17 My frame takes no rest by night; my inward parts seethe and will not be stilled.
Job 30:18 One with great power lays hold of my clothing; by the collar of my tunic he seizes me:
Job 30:19 He has cast me into the mire; I am leveled with the dust and ashes.
Job 30:20 I cry to you, but you do not answer me; you stand off and look at me,
Job 30:21 Then you turn upon me without mercy and with your strong hand you buffet me.
Job 30:22 You raise me up and drive me before the wind; I am tossed about by the tempest.
Job 30:23 Indeed I know you will turn me back in death to the destined place of everyone alive.
Job 30:24 Yet should not a hand be held out to help a wretched man in his calamity?
Job 30:25 Or have I not wept for the hardships of others; was not my soul grieved for the destitute?
Job 30:26 Yet when I looked for good, then evil came; when I expected light, then came darkness.
Job 30:27 days of affliction have overtaken me.
Job 30:28 I go about in gloom, without the sun; I rise up in public to voice my grief.
Job 30:29 I have become the brother of jackals, companion to the ostrich.
Job 30:30 My blackened skin falls away from me; the heat scorches my very frame.
Job 30:31 My harp is turned to mourning, and my reed pipe to sounds of weeping.
Job 31:1 If I have made an agreement with my eyes and entertained any thoughts against a maiden;
Job 31:2 But what is man's lot from God above, his inheritance from the Almighty on high?
Job 31:3 Is it not calamity for the unrighteous, and woe for evildoers?
Job 31:4 Does he not see my ways, and number all my steps?
Job 31:5 If I have walked in falsehood and my foot has hastened to deceit;
Job 31:6 Let God weigh me in the scales of justice; thus will he know my innocence!
Job 31:7 If my steps have turned out of the way, and my heart has followed my eyes, or any stain clings to my hands,
Job 31:8 Then may I sow, but another eat of it, or may my planting be rooted up!
Job 31:9 If my heart has been enticed toward a woman, and I have lain in wait at my neighbor's door;
Job 31:10 Then may my wife grind for another, and may others cohabit with her!
Job 31:11 For that would be heinous, a crime to be condemned;
Job 31:12 A fire that should burn down to the abyss till it consumed all my possessions to the roots.
Job 31:13 Had I refused justice to my manservant or to my maid, when they had a claim against me,
Job 31:14 What then should I do when God rose up; what could I answer when he demanded an account?
Job 31:15 Did not he who made me in the womb make him? Did not the same One fashion us before our birth?
Job 31:16 If I have denied anything to the poor, or allowed the eyes of the widow to languish
Job 31:17 While I ate my portion alone, with no share in it for the fatherless,
Job 31:18 Though like a father God has reared me from my youth, guiding me even from my mother's womb--
Job 31:19 If I have seen a wanderer without clothing, or a poor man without covering,

Job 31:20 Whose limbs have not blessed me when warmed with the fleece of my sheep;
Job 31:21 If I have raised my hand against the innocent because I saw that I had supporters at the gate--
Job 31:22 Then may my arm fall from the shoulder, my forearm be broken at the elbow!
Job 31:23 For the dread of God will be upon me, and his majesty will overpower me.
Job 31:24 Had I put my trust in gold or called fine gold my security;
Job 31:25 Or had I rejoiced that my wealth was great, or that my hand had acquired abundance--
Job 31:26 Had I looked upon the sun as it shone, or the moon in the splendor of its progress,
Job 31:27 And had my heart been secretly enticed to waft them a kiss with my hand;
Job 31:28 This too would be a crime for condemnation, for I should have denied God above.
Job 31:29 Had I rejoiced at the destruction of my enemy or exulted when evil fell upon him,
Job 31:30 Even though I had not suffered my mouth to sin by uttering a curse against his life--
Job 31:31 Had not the men of my tent exclaimed, "Who has not been fed with his meat!"
Job 31:32 Because no stranger lodged in the street, but I opened my door to wayfarers--
Job 31:33 Had I, out of human weakness, hidden my sins and buried my guilt in my bosom
Job 31:34 Because I feared the noisy multitude and the scorn of the tribes terrified me- then I should have remained silent, and not come out of doors!
Job 31:35 Oh, that I had one to hear my case, and that my accuser would write out his indictment!
Job 31:36 Surely, I should wear it on my shoulder or put it on me like a diadem;
Job 31:37 Of all my steps I should give him an account; like a prince I should present myself before him. This is my final plea; let the Almighty answer me! The words of Job are ended.
Job 31:38 If my land has cried out against me till its very furrows complained;
Job 31:39 If I have eaten its produce without payment and grieved the hearts of its tenants;
Job 31:40 Then let the thistles grow instead of wheat and noxious weeds instead of barley!
Job 32:1 Then the three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.
Job 32:2 But the anger of Elihu, son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled. He was angry with Job for considering himself rather than God to be in the right.
Job 32:3 He was angry also with the three friends because they had not found a good answer and had not condemned Job.
Job 32:4 But since these men were older than he, Elihu bided his time before addressing Job.
Job 32:5 When, however, Elihu saw that there was no reply in the mouths of the three men, his wrath was inflamed.
Job 32:6 So Elihu, son of Barachel the Buzite, spoke out and said: I am young and you are very old; therefore I held back and was afraid to declare to you my knowledge.
Job 32:7 Days should speak, I thought, and many years teach wisdom!
Job 32:8 But it is a spirit in man, the breath of the Almighty, that gives him understanding.
Job 32:9 It is not those of many days who are wise, nor the aged who understand the right.
Job 32:10 Therefore I say, hearken to me; let me too set forth my knowledge!
Job 32:11 Behold, I have waited for your discourses, and have given ear to your arguments.
Job 32:12 Yes, I followed you attentively as you searched out what to say; And behold, there is none who has convicted Job, not one of you who could refute his statements.
Job 32:13 Yet do not say, "We have met wisdom. God may vanquish him but not man!"
Job 32:14 For had he addressed his words to me, I should not then have answered him as you have done.
Job 32:15 They are dismayed, they make no more reply; words fail them.
Job 32:16 Must I wait? Now that they speak no more, and have ceased to make reply,
Job 32:17 I too will speak my part; I also will show my knowledge!
Job 32:18 For I am full of matters to utter; the spirit within me compels me.
Job 32:19 Like a new wineskin with wine under pressure, my bosom is ready to burst.
Job 32:20 Let me speak and obtain relief; let me open my lips, and make reply.
Job 32:21 I would not be partial to anyone, nor give flattering titles to any.
Job 32:22 For I know nought of flattery; if I did, my Maker would soon take me away.
Job 33:1 Therefore, O Job, hear my discourse, and hearken to all my words.
Job 33:2 Behold, now I open my mouth; my tongue and my voice form words.
Job 33:3 I will state directly what is in my mind, my lips shall utter knowledge sincerely;
Job 33:4 For the spirit of God has made me, the breath of the Almighty keeps me alive.
Job 33:5 If you are able, refute me; draw up your arguments and stand forth.
Job 33:6 Behold I, like yourself, have been taken from the same clay by God.
Job 33:7 Therefore no fear of me should dismay you, nor should my presence weigh heavily upon you.
Job 33:8 But you have said in my hearing, as I listened to the sound of your words:
Job 33:9 "I am clean and without transgression; I am innocent; there is no guilt in me.

Job 33:10 Yet he invents pretexts against me and reckons me as his enemy.
Job 33:11 He puts my feet in the stocks; he watches all my ways!"
Job 33:12 In this you are not just, let me tell you; for God is greater than man.
Job 33:13 Why, then, do you make complaint against him that he gives no account of his doings?
Job 33:14 For God does speak, perhaps once, or even twice, though one perceive it not.
Job 33:15 In a dream, in a vision of the night, (when deep sleep falls upon men) as they slumber in their beds,
Job 33:16 It is then he opens the ears of men and as a warning to them, terrifies them;
Job 33:17 By turning man from evil and keeping pride away from him,
Job 33:18 He withholds his soul from the pit and his life from passing to the grave.
Job 33:19 Or a man is chastened on his bed by pain and unceasing suffering within his frame,
Job 33:20 So that to his appetite food becomes repulsive, and his senses reject the choicest nourishment.
Job 33:21 His flesh is wasted so that it cannot be seen, and his bones, once invisible, appear;
Job 33:22 His soul draws near to the pit, his life to the place of the dead.
Job 33:23 If then there be for him an angel, one out of a thousand, a mediator, To show him what is right for him and bring the man back to justice,
Job 33:24 He will take pity on him and say, "Deliver him from going down to the pit; I have found him a ransom."
Job 33:25 Then his flesh shall become soft as a boy's; he shall be again as in the days of his youth.
Job 33:26 He shall pray and God will favor him; he shall see God's face with rejoicing.
Job 33:27 He shall sing before men and say, "I sinned and did wrong, yet he has not punished me accordingly.
Job 33:28 He delivered my soul from passing to the pit, and I behold the light of life."
Job 33:29 Lo, all these things God does, twice, or thrice, for a man,
Job 33:30 Bringing back his soul from the pit to the light, in the land of the living.
Job 33:31 Be attentive, O Job; listen to me! Be silent and I will speak.
Job 33:32 If you have aught to say, then answer me. Speak out! I should like to see you justified.
Job 33:33 If not, then do you listen to me; be silent while I teach you wisdom.
Job 34:1 Then Elihu continued and said:
Job 34:2 Hear, O wise men, my discourse, and you that have knowledge, hear me!
Job 34:3 For the ear tests words, as the taste does food.
Job 34:4 Let us discern for ourselves what is right; let us learn between us what is good.
Job 34:5 For Job has said, "I am innocent, but God has taken what is my due.
Job 34:6 Notwithstanding my right I am set at nought; in my wound the arrow rankles, sinless though I am."
Job 34:7 What man is like Job? He drinks in blasphemies like water,
Job 34:8 Keeps company with evildoers and goes along with wicked men,
Job 34:9 When he says, "It profits a man nought that he is pleasing to God."
Job 34:10 Therefore, men of understanding, hearken to me: far be it from God to do wickedness; far from the Almighty to do wrong!
Job 34:11 Rather, he requites men for their conduct, and brings home to a man his way of life.
Job 34:12 Surely, God cannot act wickedly, the Almighty cannot violate justice.
Job 34:13 Who gave him government over the earth, or who else set all the land in its place?
Job 34:14 If he were to take back his spirit to himself, withdraw to himself his breath,
Job 34:15 All flesh would perish together, and man would return to the dust.
Job 34:16 Now, do you, O Job, hear this! Harken to the words I speak!
Job 34:17 Can an enemy of justice indeed be in control, or will you condemn the supreme Just One,
Job 34:18 Who says to a king, "You are worthless!" and to nobles, "You are wicked!"
Job 34:19 Who neither favors the person of princes, nor respects the rich more than the poor? For they are all the work of his hands;
Job 34:20 in a moment they die, even at midnight. He brings on nobles, and takes them away, removing the powerful without lifting a hand;
Job 34:21 For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he beholds all his steps.
Job 34:22 There is no darkness so dense that evildoers can hide in it.
Job 34:23 For he forewarns no man of his time to come before God in judgment.
Job 34:24 Without a trial he breaks the mighty, and sets others in their stead,
Job 34:25 Therefore he discerns their works; he turns at night and crushes them.
Job 34:26
Job 34:27 Because they turned away from him and heeded none of his ways,
Job 34:28 But caused the cries of the poor to reach him, so that he heard the plea of the afflicted.
Job 34:29 If he remains tranquil, who then can condemn? If he hides his face, who then can behold him?
Job 34:30
Job 34:31 When anyone says to God, "I was misguided; I will offend no more.

Job 34:32 Teach me wherein I have sinned; if I have done wrong, I will do so no more."
Job 34:33 Would you then say that God must punish, since you reject what he is doing? It is you who must choose, not I; speak, therefore, what you know.
Job 34:34 Men of understanding will say to me, every wise man who hears my views:
Job 34:35 "Job speaks without intelligence, and his words are without sense."
Job 34:36 Let Job be tried to the limit, since his answers are those of the impious;
Job 34:37 For he is adding rebellion to his sin by brushing off our arguments and addressing many words to God.
Job 35:1 Then Elihu proceeded and said:
Job 35:2 Do you think it right to say, "I am just rather than God?"
Job 35:3 To say, "What does it profit me; what advantage have I more than if I had sinned?"
Job 35:4 I have words for a reply to you and your three companions as well.
Job 35:5 Look up to the skies and behold; regard the heavens high above you.
Job 35:6 If you sin, what injury do you do to God? Even if your offenses are many, how do you hurt him?
Job 35:7 If you are righteous, what do you give him, or what does he receive from your hand?
Job 35:8 Your wickedness can affect only a man like yourself; and your justice only a fellow human being.
Job 35:9 In great oppression men cry out; they call for help because of the power of the mighty,
Job 35:10 Saying, "Where is God, my Maker, who has given visions in the night,
Job 35:11 Taught us rather than the beasts of the earth, and made us wise rather than the birds of the heavens?"
Job 35:12 Though thus they cry out, he answers not against the pride of the wicked.
Job 35:13 But it is idle to say God does not hear or that the Almighty does not take notice.
Job 35:14 Even though you say that you see him not, the case is before him; with trembling should you wait upon him.
Job 35:15 But now that you have done otherwise, God's anger punishes, nor does he show concern that a man will die.
Job 35:16 Yet Job to no purpose opens his mouth, and without knowledge multiplies words.
Job 36:1 Elihu proceeded further and said:
Job 36:2 Wait yet a little and I will instruct you, for there are still words to be said on God's behalf.
Job 36:3 I will bring my knowledge from afar, and to my Maker I will accord the right.
Job 36:4 For indeed, my theme cannot fail me: the one perfect in knowledge I set before you.
Job 36:5 Behold, God rejects the obstinate in heart; he preserves not the life of the wicked.
Job 36:6 He withholds not the just man's rights, but grants vindication to the oppressed,
Job 36:7 And with kings upon thrones he sets them, exalted forever.
Job 36:8 Or if they are bound with fetters and held fast by bonds of affliction,
Job 36:9 Then he makes known to them what they have done and their sins of boastful pride.
Job 36:10 He opens their ears to correction and exhorts them to turn back from evil.
Job 36:11 If they obey and serve him, they spend their days in prosperity, their years in happiness.
Job 36:12 But if they obey not, they perish; they die for lack of knowledge.
Job 36:13 The impious in heart lay up anger for themselves; they cry not for help when he enchains them;
Job 36:14 Therefore they expire in youth, and perish among the reprobate.
Job 36:15 But he saves the unfortunate through their affliction, and instructs them through distress.
Job 36:16
Job 36:17
Job 36:18
Job 36:19
Job 36:20
Job 36:21 Take heed, turn not to evil; for you have preferred carousal to affliction.
Job 36:22 Behold, God is sublime in his power. What teacher is there like him?
Job 36:23 Who prescribes for him his conduct, or who can say, "You have done wrong"?
Job 36:24 Remember, you should extol his work, which men have praised in song.
Job 36:25 All men contemplate it; man beholds it from afar.
Job 36:26 Lo, God is great beyond our knowledge; the number of his years is past searching out.
Job 36:27 He holds in check the waterdrops that filter in rain through his mists,
Job 36:28 Till the skies run with them and the showers rain down on mankind.
Job 36:29
Job 36:30 Lo! he spreads the clouds in layers as the carpeting of his tent.
Job 36:31 For by these he nourishes the nations, and gives them food in abundance.
Job 36:32 In his hands he holds the lightning, and he commands it to strike the mark.

Job 36:33 His thunder speaks for him and incites the fury of the storm.
Job 37:1 At this my heart trembles and leaps out of its place,
Job 37:2 To hear his angry voice as it rumbles forth from his mouth!
Job 37:3 Everywhere under the heavens he sends it, with his lightning, to the ends of the earth.
Job 37:4 Again his voice roars-- the majestic sound of his thunder.
Job 37:5 He does great things beyond our knowing; wonders past our searching out.
Job 37:6 For he says to the snow, "Fall to the earth"; likewise to his heavy, drenching rain.
Job 37:7 He shuts up all mankind indoors;
Job 37:8 the wild beasts take to cover and remain quietly in their dens.
Job 37:9 Out of its chamber comes forth the tempest; from the north winds, the cold.
Job 37:10 With his breath God brings the frost, and the broad waters become congealed.
Job 37:11 With hail, also, the clouds are laden, as they scatter their flashes of light.
Job 37:12 He it is who changes their rounds, according to his plans, in their task upon the surface of the earth,
Job 37:13 whether for punishment or mercy, as he commands.
Job 37:14 Hearken to this, O Job! Stand and consider the wondrous works of God!
Job 37:15 Do you know how God lays his commands upon them, and makes the light shine forth from his clouds?
Job 37:16 Do you know how the clouds are banked, the wondrous work of him who is perfect in knowledge?
Job 37:17 You, whom the streams of water fail when a calm from the south comes over the land,
Job 37:18 Do you spread out with him the firmament of the skies, hard as a brazen mirror?
Job 37:19 Teach us then what we shall say to him; we cannot, for the darkness, make our plea.
Job 37:20 Will he be told about it when I speak, or when a man says he is being destroyed?
Job 37:21 Nay, rather, it is as the light which men see not while it is obscured among the clouds, till the wind comes by and sweeps the clouds away.
Job 37:22 From the North the splendor comes, surrounding God's awesome majesty!
Job 37:23 The Almighty! we cannot discover him, pre-eminent in power and judgment; his great justice owes no one an accounting.
Job 37:24 Therefore men revere him, though none can see him, however wise their hearts.
Job 38:1 Then the LORD addressed Job out of the storm and said:
Job 38:2 Who is this that obscures divine plans with words of ignorance?
Job 38:3 Gird up your loins now, like a man; I will question you, and you tell me the answers!
Job 38:4 Where were you when I founded the earth? Tell me, if you have understanding.
Job 38:5 Who determined its size; do you know? Who stretched out the measuring line for it?
Job 38:6 Into what were its pedestals sunk, and who laid the cornerstone,
Job 38:7 While the morning stars sang in chorus and all the sons of God shouted for joy?
Job 38:8 And who shut within doors the sea, when it burst forth from the womb;
Job 38:9 When I made the clouds its garment and thick darkness its swaddling bands?
Job 38:10 When I set limits for it and fastened the bar of its door,
Job 38:11 And said: Thus far shall you come but no farther, and here shall your proud waves be stilled!
Job 38:12 Have you ever in your lifetime commanded the morning and shown the dawn its place
Job 38:13 For taking hold of the ends of the earth, till the wicked are shaken from its surface?
Job 38:14 The earth is changed as is clay by the seal, and dyed as though it were a garment;
Job 38:15 But from the wicked the light is withheld, and the arm of pride is shattered.
Job 38:16 Have you entered into the sources of the sea, or walked about in the depths of the abyss?
Job 38:17 Have the gates of death been shown to you, or have you seen the gates of darkness?
Job 38:18 Have you comprehended the breadth of the earth? Tell me, if you know all:
Job 38:19 Which is the way to the dwelling place of light, and where is the abode of darkness,
Job 38:20 That you may take them to their boundaries and set them on their homeward paths?
Job 38:21 You know, because you were born before them, and the number of your years is great!
Job 38:22 Have you entered the storehouse of the snow, and seen the treasury of the hail
Job 38:23 Which I have reserved for times of stress, for the days of war and of battle?
Job 38:24 Which way to the parting of the winds, whence the east wind spreads over the earth?
Job 38:25 Who has laid out a channel for the downpour and for the thunderstorm a path
Job 38:26 To bring rain to no man's land, the unpeopled wilderness;
Job 38:27 To enrich the waste and desolate ground till the desert blooms with verdure?
Job 38:28 Has the rain a father; or who has begotten the drops of dew?
Job 38:29 Out of whose womb comes the ice, and who gives the hoarfrost its birth in the skies,
Job 38:30 When the waters lie covered as though with stone that holds captive the surface of the deep?
Job 38:31 Have you fitted a curb to the Pleiades, or loosened the bonds of Orion?

Job 38:32 Can you bring forth the Mazzaroth in their season, or guide the Bear with its train?
Job 38:33 Do you know the ordinances of the heavens; can you put into effect their plan on the earth?
Job 38:34 Can you raise your voice among the clouds, or veil yourself in the waters of the storm?
Job 38:35 Can you send forth the lightnings on their way, or will they say to you, "Here we are"?
Job 38:36 Who puts wisdom in the heart, and gives the cock its understanding?
Job 38:37 Who counts the clouds in his wisdom? Or who tilts the water jars of heaven
Job 38:38 So that the dust of earth is fused into a mass and its clods made solid?
Job 38:39 Do you hunt the prey for the lioness or appease the hunger of her cubs,
Job 38:40 While they crouch in their dens, or lie in wait in the thicket?
Job 38:41 Who provides nourishment for the ravens when their young ones cry out to God, and they rove abroad without food?
Job 39:1 Do you know about the birth of the mountain goats, watch for the birth pangs of the hinds,
Job 39:2 Number the months that they must fulfill, and fix the time of their bringing forth?
Job 39:3 They crouch down and bear their young; they deliver their progeny in the desert.
Job 39:4 When their offspring thrive and grow, they leave and do not return.
Job 39:5 Who has given the wild ass his freedom, and who has loosed him from bonds?
Job 39:6 I have made the wilderness his home and the salt flats his dwelling.
Job 39:7 He scoffs at the uproar of the city, and hears no shouts of a driver.
Job 39:8 He ranges the mountains for pasture, and seeks out every patch of green.
Job 39:9 Will the wild ox consent to serve you, and to pass the nights by your manger?
Job 39:10 Will a rope bind him in the furrow, and will he harrow the valleys after you?
Job 39:11 Will you trust him for his great strength and leave to him the fruits of your toil?
Job 39:12 Can you rely on him to thresh out your grain and gather in the yield of your threshing floor?
Job 39:13 The wings of the ostrich beat idly; her plumage is lacking in pinions.
Job 39:14 When she leaves her eggs on the ground and deposits them in the sand,
Job 39:15 Unmindful that a foot may crush them, that the wild beasts may trample them,
Job 39:16 She cruelly disowns her young and ruthlessly makes nought of her brood;
Job 39:17 For God has withheld wisdom from her and has given her no share in understanding.
Job 39:18 Yet in her swiftness of foot she makes sport of the horse and his rider.
Job 39:19 Do you give the horse his strength, and endow his neck with splendor?
Job 39:20 Do you make the steed to quiver while his thunderous snorting spreads terror?
Job 39:21 He jubilantly paws the plain and rushes in his might against the weapons.
Job 39:22 He laughs at fear and cannot be deterred; he turns not back from the sword.
Job 39:23 Around him rattles the quiver, flashes the spear and the javelin.
Job 39:24 Frenzied and trembling he devours the ground; he holds not back at the sound of the trumpet,
Job 39:25 but at each blast he cries, "Aha!" Even from afar he scents the battle, the roar of the chiefs and the shouting.
Job 39:26 Is it by your discernment that the hawk soars, that he spreads his wings toward the south?
Job 39:27 Does the eagle fly up at your command to build his nest aloft?
Job 39:28 On the cliff he dwells and spends the night, on the spur of the cliff or the fortress.
Job 39:29 From thence he watches for his prey; his eyes behold it afar off.
Job 39:30 His young ones greedily drink blood; where the slain are, there is he.
Job 40:1 The LORD then said to Job:
Job 40:2 Will we have arguing with the Almighty by the critic? Let him who would correct God give answer!
Job 40:3 Then Job answered the LORD and said:
Job 40:4 Behold, I am of little account; what can I answer you? I put my hand over my mouth.
Job 40:5 Though I have spoken once, I will not do so again; though twice, I will do so no more.
Job 40:6 Then the LORD addressed Job out of the storm and said:
Job 40:7 Gird up your loins now, like a man. I will question you, and you tell me the answers!
Job 40:8 Would you refuse to acknowledge my right? Would you condemn me that you may be justified?
Job 40:9 Have you an arm like that of God, or can you thunder with a voice like his?
Job 40:10 Adorn yourself with grandeur and majesty, and array yourself with glory and splendor.
Job 40:11 Let loose the fury of your wrath;
Job 40:12 tear down the wicked and shatter them. Bring down the haughty with a glance;
Job 40:13 bury them in the dust together; in the hidden world imprison them.
Job 40:14 Then will I too acknowledge that your own right hand can save you.
Job 40:15 See, besides you I made Behemoth, that feeds on grass like an ox.
Job 40:16 Behold the strength in his loins, and his vigor in the sinews of his belly.
Job 40:17 He carries his tail like a cedar; the sinews of his thighs are like cables.

Job 40:18 His bones are like tubes of bronze; his frame is like iron rods.
Job 40:19 He came at the beginning of God's ways, and was made the taskmaster of his fellows;
Job 40:20 For the produce of the mountains is brought to him, and of all wild animals he makes sport.
Job 40:21 Under the lotus trees he lies, in coverts of the reedy swamp.
Job 40:22 The lotus trees cover him with their shade; all about him are the poplars on the bank.
Job 40:23 If the river grows violent, he is not disturbed; he is tranquil though the torrent surges about his mouth.
Job 40:24 Who can capture him by his eyes, or pierce his nose with a trap?
Job 40:25 Can you lead about Leviathan with a hook, or curb his tongue with a bit?
Job 40:26 Can you put a rope into his nose, or pierce through his cheek with a gaff?
Job 40:27 Will he then plead with you, time after time, or address you with tender words?
Job 40:28 Will he make an agreement with you that you may have him as a slave forever?
Job 40:29 Can you play with him, as with a bird? Can you put him in leash for your maidens?
Job 40:30 Will the traders bargain for him? Will the merchants divide him up?
Job 40:31 Can you fill his hide with barbs, or his head with fish spears?
Job 40:32 Once you but lay a hand upon him, no need to recall any other conflict!
Job 41:1 Whoever might vainly hope to do so need only see him to be overthrown.
Job 41:2 Is he not relentless when aroused; who then dares stand before him?
Job 41:3 Who has assailed him and come off safe-- Who under all the heavens?
Job 41:4 I need hardly mention his limbs, his strength, and the fitness of his armor.
Job 41:5 Who can strip off his outer garment, or penetrate his double corselet?
Job 41:6 Who can force open the doors of his mouth, close to his terrible teeth?
Job 41:7 Rows of scales are on his back, tightly sealed together;
Job 41:8 They are fitted each so close to the next that no space intervenes;
Job 41:9 So joined one to another that they hold fast and cannot be parted.
Job 41:10 When he sneezes, light flashes forth; his eyes are like those of the dawn.
Job 41:11 Out of his mouth go forth firebrands; sparks of fire leap forth.
Job 41:12 From his nostrils issues steam, as from a seething pot or bowl.
Job 41:13 His breath sets coals afire; a flame pours from his mouth.
Job 41:14 Strength abides in his neck, and terror leaps before him.
Job 41:15
Job 41:16 His heart is hard as stone; his flesh, as the lower millstone.
Job 41:17 When he rises up, the mighty are afraid; the waves of the sea fall back.
Job 41:18 Should the sword reach him, it will not avail; nor will the spear, nor the dart, nor the javelin.
Job 41:19 He regards iron as straw, and bronze as rotten wood.
Job 41:20 The arrow will not put him to flight; slingstones used against him are but straws.
Job 41:21 Clubs he esteems as splinters; he laughs at the crash of the spear.
Job 41:22 His belly is sharp as pottery fragments; he spreads like a threshing sledge upon the mire.
Job 41:23 He makes the depths boil like a pot; the sea he churns like perfume in a kettle.
Job 41:24 Behind him he leaves a shining path; you would think the deep had the hoary head of age.
Job 41:25 Upon the earth there is not his like, intrepid he was made.
Job 41:26 All, however lofty, fear him; he is king over all proud beasts.
Job 42:1 Then Job answered the LORD and said:
Job 42:2 I know that you can do all things, and that no purpose of yours can be hindered.
Job 42:3 I have dealt with great things that I do not understand; things too wonderful for me, which I cannot know.
Job 42:4
Job 42:5 I had heard of you by word of mouth, but now my eye has seen you.
Job 42:6 Therefore I disown what I have said, and repent in dust and ashes.
Job 42:7 And it came to pass after the LORD had spoken these words to Job, that the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, "I am angry with you and with your two friends; for you have not spoken rightly concerning me, as has my servant Job.
Job 42:8 Now, therefore, take seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up a holocaust for yourselves; and let my servant Job pray for you; for his prayer I will accept, not to punish you severely. For you have not spoken rightly concerning me, as has my servant Job."
Job 42:9 Then Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went and did as the LORD had commanded them. And the LORD accepted the intercession of Job.
Job 42:10 Also, the LORD restored the prosperity of Job, after he had prayed for his friends; the LORD even gave to Job twice as much as he had before.
Job 42:11 Then all his brethren and his sisters came to him, and all his former acquaintances, and they dined with him in his house. They condoled with him and comforted him for all the evil which the LORD had brought upon him; and each one gave him a piece of money and a gold ring.

Job 42:12 Thus the LORD blessed the latter days of Job more than his earlier ones. For he had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she-asses.

Job 42:13 And he had seven sons and three daughters,

Job 42:14 of whom he called the first Jemimah, the second Keziah, and the third Keren-happuch.

Job 42:15 In all the land no other women were as beautiful as the daughters of Job; and their father gave them an inheritance among their brethren.

Job 42:16 After this, Job lived a hundred and forty years; and he saw his children, his grandchildren, and even his great-grandchildren.

Job 42:17 Then Job died, old and full of years.

Psa 1:1 I Happy those who do not follow the counsel of the wicked, Nor go the way of sinners, nor sit in company with scoffers.

Psa 1:2 Rather, the law of the LORD is their joy; God's law they study day and night.

Psa 1:3 They are like a tree planted near streams of water, that yields its fruit in season; Its leaves never wither; whatever they do prospers.

Psa 1:4 But not the wicked! They are like chaff driven by the wind.

Psa 1:5 Therefore the wicked will not survive judgment, nor will sinners in the assembly of the just.

Psa 1:6 The LORD watches over the way of the just, but the way of the wicked leads to ruin.

Psa 2:1 Why do the nations protest and the peoples grumble in vain?

Psa 2:2 Kings on earth rise up and princes plot together against the LORD and his anointed:

Psa 2:3 "Let us break their shackles and cast off their chains!"

Psa 2:4 The one enthroned in heaven laughs; the Lord derides them,

Psa 2:5 Then speaks to them in anger, terrifies them in wrath:

Psa 2:6 "I myself have installed my king on Zion, my holy mountain."

Psa 2:7 I will proclaim the decree of the LORD, who said to me, "You are my son; today I am your father.

Psa 2:8 Only ask it of me, and I will make your inheritance the nations, your possession the ends of the earth.

Psa 2:9 With an iron rod you shall shepherd them, like a clay pot you will shatter them."

Psa 2:10 And now, kings, give heed; take warning, rulers on earth.

Psa 2:11 Serve the LORD with fear; with trembling bow down in homage, Lest God be angry and you perish from the way in a sudden blaze of anger. Happy are all who take refuge in God!

Psa 3:1 A psalm of David, when he fled from his son Absalom.

Psa 3:2 How many are my foes, LORD! How many rise against me!

Psa 3:3 How many say of me, "God will not save that one." Selah

Psa 3:4 But you, LORD, are a shield around me; my glory, you keep my head high.

Psa 3:5 Whenever I cried out to the LORD, I was answered from the holy mountain. Selah

Psa 3:6 Whenever I lay down and slept, the LORD preserved me to rise again.

Psa 3:7 I do not fear, then, thousands of people arrayed against me on every side.

Psa 3:8 Arise, LORD! Save me, my God! You will shatter the jaws of all my foes; you will break the teeth of the wicked.

Psa 3:9 Safety comes from the LORD! Your blessing for your people! Selah

Psa 4:1 For the leader; with stringed instruments. A psalm of David.

Psa 4:2 Answer when I call, my saving God. In my troubles, you cleared a way; show me favor; hear my prayer.

Psa 4:3 How long will you people mock my honor, love what is worthless, chase after lies? Selah

Psa 4:4 Know that the LORD works wonders for the faithful; the LORD hears when I call out.

Psa 4:5 Tremble and do not sin; upon your beds ponder in silence.

Psa 4:6 Offer fitting sacrifice and trust in the LORD.

Psa 4:7 Many say, "May we see better times! LORD, show us the light of your face!" Selah

Psa 4:8 But you have given my heart more joy than they have when grain and wine abound.

Psa 4:9 In peace I shall both lie down and sleep, for you alone, LORD, make me secure.

Psa 5:1 For the leader; with wind instruments. A psalm of David.

Psa 5:2 Hear my words, O LORD; listen to my sighing.

Psa 5:3 Hear my cry for help, my king, my God! To you I pray, O LORD;

Psa 5:4 at dawn you will hear my cry; at dawn I will plead before you and wait.

Psa 5:5 You are not a god who delights in evil; no wicked person finds refuge with you;

Psa 5:6 the arrogant cannot stand before you. You hate all who do evil;

Psa 5:7 you destroy all who speak falsely. Murderers and deceivers the LORD abhors.

Psa 5:8 But I can enter your house because of your great love. I can worship in your holy temple because of my reverence for you, LORD.

Psa 5:9 Guide me in your justice because of my foes; make straight your way before me.
Psa 5:10 For there is no sincerity in their mouths; their hearts are corrupt. Their throats are open graves; on their tongues are subtle lies.
Psa 5:11 Declare them guilty, God; make them fall by their own devices. Drive them out for their many sins; they have rebelled against you.
Psa 5:12 Then all who take refuge in you will be glad and forever shout for joy. Protect them that you may be the joy of those who love your name.
Psa 5:13 For you, LORD, bless the just; you surround them with favor like a shield.
Psa 6:1 For the leader; with stringed instruments, "upon the eighth." A psalm of David.
Psa 6:2 Do not reprove me in your anger, LORD, nor punish me in your wrath.
Psa 6:3 Have pity on me, LORD, for I am weak; heal me, LORD, for my bones are trembling.
Psa 6:4 In utter terror is my soul-- and you, LORD, how long...?
Psa 6:5 Turn, LORD, save my life; in your mercy rescue me.
Psa 6:6 For who among the dead remembers you? Who praises you in Sheol?
Psa 6:7 I am wearied with sighing; all night long tears drench my bed; my couch is soaked with weeping.
Psa 6:8 My eyes are dimmed with sorrow, worn out because of all my foes.
Psa 6:9 Away from me, all who do evil! The LORD has heard my weeping.
Psa 6:10 The LORD has heard my prayer; the LORD takes up my plea.
Psa 6:11 My foes will be terrified and disgraced; all will fall back in sudden shame.
Psa 7:1 A plaintive song of David, which he sang to the LORD concerning Cush, the Benjaminite.
Psa 7:2 LORD my God, in you I take refuge; rescue me; save me from all who pursue me,
Psa 7:3 Lest they maul me like lions, tear me to pieces with none to save.
Psa 7:4 LORD my God, if I am at fault in this, if there is guilt on my hands,
Psa 7:5 If I have repaid my friend with evil-- I spared even those who hated me without cause--
Psa 7:6 Then let my enemy pursue and overtake me, trample my life to the ground, and leave me dishonored in the dust.Selah
Psa 7:7 Rise up, LORD, in your anger; rise against the fury of my foes. Wake to judge as you have decreed.
Psa 7:8 Have the assembly of the peoples gather about you; sit on your throne high above them,
Psa 7:9 O LORD, judge of the nations. Grant me justice, LORD, for I am blameless, free of any guilt.
Psa 7:10 Bring the malice of the wicked to an end; uphold the innocent, O God of justice, who tries hearts and minds.
Psa 7:11 A shield before me is God who saves the honest heart.
Psa 7:12 God is a just judge, who rebukes in anger every day.
Psa 7:13 If sinners do not repent, God sharpens his sword, strings and readies the bow,
Psa 7:14 Prepares his deadly shafts, makes arrows blazing thunderbolts.
Psa 7:15 Sinners conceive iniquity; pregnant with mischief, they give birth to failure.
Psa 7:16 They open a hole and dig it deep, but fall into the pit they have dug.
Psa 7:17 Their mischief comes back upon themselves; their violence falls on their own heads. VI
Psa 7:18 I praise the justice of the LORD; I celebrate the name of the LORD Most High.
Psa 8:1 For the leader; "upon the gittith." A psalm of David.
Psa 8:2 O LORD, our Lord, how awesome is your name through all the earth! You have set your majesty above the heavens!
Psa 8:3 Out of the mouths of babes and infants you have drawn a defense against your foes, to silence enemy and avenger.
Psa 8:4 When I see your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and stars that you set in place--
Psa 8:5 What are humans that you are mindful of them, mere mortals that you care for them?
Psa 8:6 Yet you have made them little less than a god, crowned them with glory and honor.
Psa 8:7 You have given them rule over the works of your hands, put all things at their feet:
Psa 8:8 All sheep and oxen, even the beasts of the field,
Psa 8:9 The birds of the air, the fish of the sea, and whatever swims the paths of the seas.
Psa 8:10 O LORD, our Lord, how awesome is your name through all the earth!
Psa 9:1 For the leader; according to Muth Labben. A psalm of David.
Psa 9:2 I will praise you, LORD, with all my heart; I will declare all your wondrous deeds.
Psa 9:3 I will delight and rejoice in you; I will sing hymns to your name, Most High.
Psa 9:4 For my enemies turn back; they stumble and perish before you.
Psa 9:5 You upheld my right and my cause, seated on your throne, judging justly.
Psa 9:6 You rebuked the nations, you destroyed the wicked; their name you blotted out for all time
Psa 9:7 The enemies have been ruined forever; you destroyed their cities; their memory has perished.
Psa 9:8 The LORD rules forever, has set up a throne for judgment.

Psa 9:9 It is God who governs the world with justice, who judges the peoples with fairness.
Psa 9:10 The LORD is a stronghold for the oppressed, stronghold in times of trouble.
Psa 9:11 Those who honor your name trust in you; you never forsake those who seek you, LORD.
Psa 9:12 Sing hymns to the LORD enthroned on Zion; proclaim God's deeds among the nations!
Psa 9:13 For the avenger of bloodshed remembers, does not forget the cry of the afflicted.
Psa 9:14 Have mercy on me, LORD; see how my foes afflict me! You alone can raise me from the gates of death.
Psa 9:15 Then I will declare all your praises, sing joyously of your salvation in the gates of daughter Zion.
Psa 9:16 The nations fall into the pit they dig; in the snare they hide, their own foot is caught.
Psa 9:17 The LORD is revealed in this divine rule: by the deeds they do the wicked are trapped. Higgsaion.
Selah
Psa 9:18 To Sheol the wicked will depart, all the nations that forget God.
Psa 9:19 The needy will never be forgotten, nor will the hope of the afflicted ever fade.
Psa 9:20 Arise, LORD, let no mortal prevail; let the nations be judged in your presence.
Psa 9:21 Strike them with terror, LORD; show the nations they are mere mortals. Selah
Psa 10:1 Why, LORD, do you stand at a distance and pay no heed to these troubled times?
Psa 10:2 Arrogant scoundrels pursue the poor; they trap them by their cunning schemes.
Psa 10:3 The wicked even boast of their greed; these robbers curse and scorn the LORD.
Psa 10:4 In their insolence the wicked boast: "God doesn't care, doesn't even exist."
