PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

.-- "We know all Glasgow. things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. For whom he did foreknow he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son; that he might be the firstborn among many brethren" (Ro mans vill, 28, 29).

Coming to the land of that sturdy man of God, John Kuox, I am reminded of his able contention for the doctrine of Election—its Scripturalness and its demonstration of the greatness, majesty and sovereignty of the Lord our God. We surmise, however, that the good man's heart must frequently have been sorely distressed with the logic of his own argument; that the eternal woe of nine-tenths of our race was as unaiterably fixed in advance of their birth as was the eternal joy of the blessed handful predestinated to be saints and to share the heavenly glories. We may well thank God, dear friends, that in the clearer light now shining upon the Scriptures we may discern the errors handed down to us from the dark ages, without losing our appreciation of Divine foreknowiedge and Divine sovereignty.

While it is true that it would be difficult to estimate the value of the doctrine of Divine foreknowledge taught by Brother Knox, not only in this nation, but also throughout the world, inculcating a reverence for the Almighty, it is also true that it would be difficult to estimate the amount of damage which has resulted to Christendom and throughout the world from his teach-. ings respecting the Divine treatment of the non-elect. This serious error has alienated the hearts of thousand from God and from his Book. Let us look together at the doctrines of Election, Predestination and Foreordination, from the Scriptural standpoint. that we may note their beauties and be drawn the nearer to the Lord and to his Book in true reverence and worship.

Foreknown and Predestinated.

Our text declares that whom God did foreknow them he also did predestlnate; but we notice that the predestination is stated only as respects the Church and not in respect to others. This fact does ings and honors, this would imply that logic of this position is unsound and it is quite unscriptural to say, that all of the non-elect will be consigned to an eternity of torture at the hands of fireproof demons in fulfillment of a Divine predestination fixed before creation. There is no Scripture whatever to this effect, and Brother Knox and others were in error to the extent that they wove into their theories matters not Scripturally stated. According to the Scriptures, as well as according to human judgment as expressed in the laws of civilization, the highest, the severest penalty to be enforced, is the death penalty, the taking away of the life not used in harmony with the Creator's reasonable, righteous requirements This is the Scriptural declaration to which, for so long a time, we were blind: "The wages of sin is death;" "The soul that sinneth, it shall dle;" "All the wicked will he destroy;" "They shall perish as brute beasts;" "They shall be destroyed with an everlasting destruction" (the Second Death). -Romans vl, 23; Ezekiel xviii, 4; Psalm cxlv, 20; 11 Peter ii, 12; 11 Thessalonlans 1. 9. Thus seen the very severest results possible to non-election would be extinction-the Second Death. But the Scriptures clearly show that God has gracious purposes, not for the "elect" only, but also for the non-elect, and that in his due time the non-elect shall be brought to a clearer knowledge of the Truth and to a full opportunity of harmony with their Creator and through Christ Jesus the re-attainment of all that was lost in Adam, all that was redeemed by the precious sacrifice of Thus, as the Scriptures de-Christ. clare, there is a "common salvation" (Jude 3) in which all of Adam's children shall be privileged to have a share. There is also a special salvation, a "high calling" of God in Christ, which is referred to as "so great salvation which began to be (preached) spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him." (Heb. li, This special or great salvation is the one which our Lord has provided for the "Elect," while the "common salvation" is his provision for the nonelect. Does it not seem strange that Brother Knox and others, his coadjutors, in getting away from much of the smoke of the "dark ages," failed to even think of a salvation of the non-elect as a part of God's providence? Their eyes, beholding the awful and blighting errors respecting eternal torment, totally bilnded them to God's provisions for the non-elect; for they reasoned that if God had predestinated them to eternal torment and had advance of their creation prepared a great place of torture and fre-proof devils and fuel enough for eternity, salvation for them. The entire premwas wrong. The death into ise which they went was not eternal torment but the tomb, as represented by the Hebrew word Sheol and the Greek word Hades. And they can have no release from the tomb, no return to consciousness or pain or pleasure until the Second Coming of the Redeemer in the morning of the Resurrection. Thank God, then, for the rolling away of the mists of darkness and error which permits us to see in the Bible that the "common salvation," God's provision for the world, will be a Restitution, a restoration to human perfection in the rejuvenated earth, a world-wide Faradise! Thank God for the promises to the effect that then 'the knowledge of the glory of God shall fill the whole earth as the waters cover the great deep" and that "the Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in his beams;" that "nothing shall hurt or destroy or injure in all God's holy Kingdom;" that "the wayfaring man, though simple, need not err therein," and that a broad highway shall be there as a way of salvation-a much traveled way-and that all the redeemed of the Lord shall be privileged to go up thereon out of sin and death conditions to conditions of life everlasting. We thank God. too, that those who shall re fuse to make proper progress and shall fail of that "common salvation" because of willful sin will not be permitted to live endlessly in sin, nor in torment, but will be utterly destroyed in the Second Death; because God is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna, the Second Death. We thank God also that the elect Church, under Christ, the Captain of their salvation, are promised a share in that glorious work of the Redeemer, in blessing all the families of the earth in bringing to them that common (general) salvation

Your High Calling.

If once we dreaded to think of God's grace toward us in accepting us as members of his elect Church, because of the opposing thought of the damnation of the nonelect, we may now correspondingly rejoice the more in our privilege of election, seeing that it the elect class must be copies of his Son. not escape the attention of others, but means our privilege of sharing in the they have reasoned erroneously .- that world's uplift under the direction of lates not to individuals, but to a cerif God foreknew an elect Church, for Emmanuel, our Lord, during his Mil- tain character which all of the elect whom he predestinated special bless- lennial reign. The Apostle speaks of individuals must attain to-otherwise the prospect of the elect as "our High they will not be of the elect. the remainder of mankind non-elect Calling;" and again, "our heavenly were to be tortured eternally. The calling." The thought is that we are called to a very high honor and wonderful distinction and that on a heavenly plane. The Gospel Church is invited to experience a change of nature from human to divine, from the highest of the earthly natures to the highest of the heavenly natures-far above angels and principalities and powers and every name that is named-"joint heirs with Christ," "partakers of the Divine nature." members of "the Bride, the Lamb's wife." Truly do the Scriptures tell that not many would be able to hear, to appreciate, to understand, to accept this high calling. The Divine arrangement of the call is elective, selective. It appeals to some and does not appeal to overcometh will I grant to sit with me others. It has an attraction for some and not for others. If we had here a box of sawdust and scattered through it a paper of tacks character likeness of the Father, of until the latter were quite hidden from view, surrounded and covered in the and character likeness. Hence the apsawdust, we know that we could take propriateness of our Lord's words, "Be a magnet and, by passing it to and ye like unto your Father which is in fro amongst the sawdust, the magnet heaven." would attract to itself every tack. But God has not predestinated nor desired the election of any except a sanctified class, a class not sanctified through stripes, not through force or compulsion, but sanctified through a knowledge of the Truth Such are drawn to God in devotion through a knowledge of his glorious purposes and heart sympathy therein, sufficient to induce them to sacrifice their all, so far as earthly matters and interests are concerned. These are the elect, whom the Lord has been searching for and testing with the magnet of his Truth, and the manner of their response to it throughout this Gospel Age determines whether "They shall be mine, saith the then surely he could have no plan of Lord. in that day when I come to make up my jewels."

"Whom He Did Foreknow."

It is not for us to quibble respecting the Divine power of foreknowledgeto question the ability of our Creator, to have foreknown, had he chosen to do so, and foretoid every member of the elect class. The Divine is so far above the human that it is impossible for the human mind to measure the infinite or to comprehend his power. We must merely accept the Divine statement. However, nothing in the Word of God tells us that we were foreknown individually -- personally. Rather the intimation is that God prodestinated the election of a Church, predetermined the number of persons who would be accepted as members of that Church, the Body of Christ, predetermined what characters they must have and what tests of character would be necessary to demonstrate their loyalty and to prove the individual worthy a place in the foreordained class.

It is in full harmony with this that we read that many are called to the few who will be chosen, and that again we are exhorted to "make our calling and our election sure." We are assued that "Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it"-do all that he has promised-keep his part of the contract. This being so, all of the called ones have the determining of resuits in their own cases. God is faithful. If they are faithful at heart to the terms and conditions of their Covenant they will be of the elect-otherwise pot.

"He Also Did Predestinate."

We come now to the particular clause of our text which has seemed to fortify the error. "Them he also did predestinate." Ah, say many, that fixes it! There is no option, nothing dependent upon it. God predestinated everything. Not so, we answer. In the past we have been prone to read our text disconnectedly and thus doing we have overlooked its clear teaching. We thought of it as though it read. "God predestinated the elect," but not so. The declaration is that God predestinated that all that would be of The predestination of this verse re-

It seems that Maretz and Frazer have not loved each other for many months and it is intimated that there is a woman in the case. Both men worked at Schmuckler's factory on town by West Middle street. North Washington street for many weeks and trouble was always brewing between them and frequent quarrels resulted. Recently Maretz decided to quit work and leave town and, Monday evening being his last night in Gettysurg, Frazer determined to have vengeance upon his rival.

It is alleged that he laid in wait for his victim on the second square of York street where the trees are somewhat dense and it is rather dark. When Maretz approached the other man jumped on him and for a few minutes there was a lively tussle. Maretz finally getting away and making for the house of Mr. Schmuckler where he made his home. There were two other men with Frazer at the time of the fight but neither took port in it. Maretz feared that they would, however. and gives this as his reason for leaving the scene of the conficit.

The residents of that peaceable portion of town were considerably excited over the warfare in their midst and there were a few exciting moments for the residents of that part of the First Ward.

this makes it all! Nor would we ask the matter otherwise. "Just and true are thy ways, Lord God Almighty!" The great honor, the high distinction which God proposes to confer upon the "very elect" in the First Resurrection at the Second Coming of Christ is so grand that the very highest possible test of character is appropriate to those who would be granted such honors and immortality. There are two sure roads to wealth.

One is by inheritance and the other by investment.

The man who INHERITS a large sum of money or property which yields him a goodly return is to be congratulated. BUT.

The man to be doubly congratulated is the INVESTOR-the WISE INVESTOR-who recognizes the opportunity to place his cash, whatever the sum may be, where it will hring him safe, sure and good returns.

The history of America-in fact of the world-shows that the greatest fortunes have been made in oil. California, prodigally rich in this mineral, has made within the past three years fortunes for those shrewd enough to invest in oil lands and stocks. The producing of this product has been in the past, is now, and will continue to be a still greater factor as an investment than anything known at present in the country.

You are afforded an opportunity to invest your savings or surplus funds in an oil company that promises to reap large returns. Never before, and probably never again, will yon have the same chance. Stock is now selling at 40 cents per share, and in order to secure it at this price we urge haste on your part. Fill ont the attached hlank and mail at once.
