What Did Pope John Paul II's Funeral Reveal?

LINK

[Ednote: Many are asking why the color red was so pronounced during the Pope's funeral? The commentator at the funeral stated that Roman Emperors had given permission to the Vatican for the Popes to count themselves among Royal Kings. Red is a sign of dignity. 165 nations were represented among them 65 royal dignitaries. Cardinal John Ratzemberger temporarily took the Pope's position performing the rituals. He made interesting statements: "Mother of God will guide you [Pope John Paul II] now to eternal glory." He addressed the "Blessed Virgin Mary OUR SAVIOR, SAVIOR OF ROME, SAVIOR OF OUR PEOPLE"... Pope John Paul II, "Pastor of the universal church." Benny Hinn is on his way to Rome to do a special for the 700 Club. Paul Crouch showed a clip of his meeting with the Pope. He stated that he has a station right above the Pope's apartment. What was interesting in the clip was the fact that he tried to make us believe that there was little to no relationship to the Pope. Paul has a Catholic on his staff. On the clip the Pope was traveling in his pope-mobile through a vast crowd and for some strange reason stopped and got out of his pope-mobile right where Paul Crouch was located and got out to shake hands. WHAT A COINCIDENCE. Endofnote]

I. As Pope John Paul II is revered by high officials from around the world, including Presidents Bush, Bush Senior, and Clinton, we can see that the Zoroastrian Tradition was observed to the very last. Carefully note how completely this ancient occult tradition is being followed in this picture. We have posted two very important articles on this Illuminist Tradition being followed scrupulously in this modern era. If you have not yet read these articles, please take a few moments to do so now, as you will need the understanding to fully appreciate this picture.

1. "Pope John Paul II -- Spiritual And Political Legacy -- Part 1 - Current Evidences of Paganism In The Death, Burial of This Pope"
2. "Pope Always Wears White, Visitors Almost Always Wear Black -- Illuminist Symbolism Dating Back 4,000 Years! White/Black Dress Symbolism Says That The Pope Is God And The Rulers of the Earth Acknowledge It"

With this information as background, notice the tremendously important symbolism in this current picture:

1. Note the sea of black clothing from everyone in the audience -- In fact, I see no other color clothing. It seems as though everyone allowed near the pope had to wear black.
2. Note that President Bush, Laura, Bush Senior, are all seated at the rail, while Bill Clinton and Secretary of State Rice are seated away from it. Even though Rice's clothing is not visible, you can see that all the rest of the party is dressed in black.
3. Notice that Pope John Paul II is dressed in traditional Zoroastrian and Illuminist colors. Underneath, the pope is dressed in his traditional white robe, in the best tradition of Zarathustra; even though a man's head is blocking a key portion of this picture, other pictures of the pope lying in state clearly show this white robe extending beyond the bottom edge of the red robe.

Then, notice the red robe... Red speaks of the Illuminati, as it is their color of human sacrifice and of Spiritual Warfare. One of the founders of the Masters of the Illuminati was Mayer Amschel Bauer, who changed his name later to Rothschild. He was the money man behind the public founder, Adam Weishaupt. Bauer's favorite symbol was the royal red hexagram, which he hung on the outside of his door!

Centuries later, Lenin adopted the color red for his Communist flag, while Israel adopted the hexagram as its national symbol. Both the color red and the hexagram point directly back to Mayer Amschel Bauer (Rothschild).

Since the most powerful political men in the world -- Bush, Bush, Clinton -- are dressed in the subservient black color, in front of the dead Zoroastrian Pontiff, they are still acknowledging to the world that they recognize the superiority of the Roman Popes. The new pope will likely also wear the white colors of Zarathustra, so he will be recognized as the new Sun God reigning on earth.

From the beginning (1776), the Illuminati recognized the importance of religion in the heart and minds of the average people; therefore, they have now (1991) chosen the leader of one billion Roman Catholics to unite all religions of the world -- made especially easy because Catholicism is essentially the same type of goddess worship as are the polytheistic religions of the world. In this interim period leading up to the appearance of Antichrist, and in the first portion of his seven-year reign, the Illuminist Antichrist will depend upon the Roman False Prophet to lead the world into religious worship of him; however, Antichrist and the 10 kings of the world constantly chafe under this reality, and at the earliest opportunity, they will strike at him, burn him with fire, and utterly destroy him and his church, just as Revelation 17:16, 18 foretells.

But, for now, the most powerful kings of the current world empire still are actively acknowledging their inferior status to the Popes of Rome -- the descendents of Zarathustra.

POPE JOHN PAUL II WAS BURIED IN A TRAPEDZOIDAL-SHAPED COFFIN!

II. As if our earlier exposes' of the rank paganism inherent in Roman Catholicism was not enough, today we saw that the Pope was buried in a trapezoidal coffin, as you see here. A "trapezoid" -- is defined as "a quadrilateral having two parallel sides". There is no requirement as to which two sides have to be parallel, and which two sides have to be coming together.

As you look at this coffin, the two parallel lines required of a trapezoid are the sides at very front and the very end, with the two sides coming together at each long side. Google Images has this picture of a trapezoid -- shown above right -- which is precisely the same shape; it is just standing on end, rather than on its bottom as the pope's coffin is sitting.

Dr. Cathy Burns alerted me to this trapezoidal coffin in which Pope John Paul II was buried, and to its deeply occult, vampiric significance. In Satanism, the "Order of the Trapezoid" is a very ancient secret society order, worshipping the Egyptian god Set, who is Satan. Listen to her explanation of the deeply Satanic nature of the trapezoid shape:

"The trapezoid has long been regarded in by occultists as the most satanic of shapes, especially adapted to enhance demonic manifestation. Indeed, the middle order of the Satanic brotherhood is called 'The Order of the Trapezoid'. Anton LaVey, the founder of the Church of Satan, refers to an occult principle known as the 'Law of the Trapezoid'. His writings underscore the existence of a magical science of geometric angles and spaces which is very prevalent in the U.N. Meditation Room ... LaVey says architecture can enhance an evil, spiritual atmosphere.

'The bottom line of all this is that the consummate architectural form of the Satan-worshipper is the trapezoid; and he believes that this shape will create a spiritual 'cloud-chamber' of sorts across which he may track the hoofprints of the demons he wishes to invoke. It is believed to be the perfect atmosphere for the manifestation of the unholy and the cursed." [Dr. Cathy Burns, "Billy Graham And His Friends", p. 13-1; quoting former Satanist, Bill Schnoebelen, "White Sepulchers: The Hidden Language of the Mormon Temple", p. 46]

Now, let us examine the testimony of a Black Magick Website, about the Order of the Trapezoid:

This deeply secretive society is totally dedicated to the "Left Hand Path", that path whereby its initiates use the power of the occult for evil. Listen:

"The Black Flame is the central source of the Order. Every Knight of the Trapezoid, male or female, is an initiate of the Left Hand Path ... every Knight is engaged in self-directed, self-deification through liberating antinomianism. The Black Flame is the dark source and inspiration of the individual's own psyche as a uniquely developing deity; a kind of kindred spirit to the Prince of Darkness." [The Order of the Trapezoid, "The Mysteries"]

Let us now turn to Michael A. Aquino, founder of the Church of Set, a most Satanic organization, to get an explanation as to how the unique insignia was created for the "Order of the Trapezoid" by the modern American Church of Satan.

"For a recent XX issue of the Cloven Hoof, Anton Stander LaVey wrote a one-page commentary concerning the Church of Satan origins of the Order of the Trapezoid and its insignia ... This emblem, says Anton, was worn for ritual use by all members of the Magic Circle ... The background of this medallion was black, with the trapezoid, trident, and 666 in white. At the base of the medallion were red & yellow flames, from which the trident emerged. This medallion remained the only one used henceforth by the C/S Council of Nine through X/1975. For non- Council functions, Councilors normally wore the appropriate Baphomet of degree." [Michael A. Aquino, "Evolution of the Order of the Trapezoid Insignia".]

Notice that the two parallel sides are at the top and the bottom, while the two sides coming together are at the right and the left.

Former Satanist, Bill Schnoebelen, says this type of coffin is built to draw in and preserve evil, dark energy. While in Satanism, Bill had to build one of these trapezoidal coffins. The idea was to attract enough vampiric dark demonic energy, to draw sufficient quantities of energy, and to store that evil energy so that, at a right moment, the dead man can come out of the coffin, a demonic resurrection!

Schnoebelen stated that, while in the coven, he and fellow members used to speculate as to whether the Roman Catholic Church was practicing Vampirism, for they saw much of that system within Catholicism. The fact that Pope John Paul II was buried in a trapezoidal box just reinforces Bill's suspicions.

III. In a further display of adhering to pagan numerics .. the College of Cardinals is meeting April 18 to formally elect the new pope.

NEWS BRIEF: "Conclave to Choose New Pope to Start on April 18", Bloomberg News, April 06, 2005

"The College of Cardinals, whose members are known as the princes of the Roman Catholic Church, will start April 18 the secretive election called the conclave to choose the successor to Pope John Paul II. The cardinal electors will gather for a mass at 10 a. m. that day at St. Peter's Basilica before filing into the Sistine Chapel to begin the voting in the afternoon on the next spiritual leader of the world's more than 1 billion Roman Catholics ..."

As we repeatedly stated, occultists throughout the world worship the power of numbers, and believe that a good plan may fail if it is not carried out according to the "sacred numbers". Even though the attacks of 9/11/2001 were strongly undergirded by the sacred number "11", nowhere have we seen such a strong instance where a person's entire life and length of office was carried out according to sacred numbers than the life and ministry of Pope John Paul II ..

Occultists regularly hide some of their sacred numbers so that people will not recognize them; the number "666" is especially hidden at all times. One of the ways in which a "666" is hidden is within the number "18", since $6+6+6 = 18$ ". Thus, we are more than slightly interested to see that, in addition to all the rest of the occult sacred numbers and sacred astrology involved with the life and death of John Paul II, the College of Cardinals is going to meet on the 18th of April.

Let us now review some other interesting numbers connected with this entire new pope event:

* There are 183 cardinals to "vote" for a new pope/false prophet. But, 66 of the 183 are too old to vote, since the maximum age for a pope is 80 years old. The number "66" is the occult number of the Perfect Government which will be occupied by the Perfect Man, "666", Antichrist. The number "117" is interesting because it is 9×13 ". We have already noted the prevalence of "13" in the life and ministry of John Paul II.

Can you sense the overriding presence of a supernatural being guiding this entire affair? Biblical prophecy says the False Prophet will come from a church leader pretending to be christian (Rev 13:11) and the Plan of the Illuminati says that their top religious leader will be the Roman Catholic Pope -- whomever he is at the time. Events are swirling rapidly toward this conclusion.

IV. Since the False Prophet will unite all religions over the entire globe, and since John Paul II did more to unite all religions than any other religious leader in history, we were not too surprised to see evidences of global Ecumenism in the aftermath of John Paul's death.

NEWS BRIEF: "On the death of Pope John Paul II: Statement by the Rev. William G. Sinkford, President of the Unitarian Universalist Association", Unitarian Universalist Association, April 2, 2005

"Our hearts go out to faithful Catholics everywhere as they mourn the loss of their beloved spiritual leader. We honor the example that John Paul II set in our religiously pluralistic global community by reaching out to other faiths in a spirit of peace and reconciliation."

This is the goal of the entire false religious community worldwide: to create a united, "religiously pluralistic global community". No leader in modern history did it any better than did Pope John Paul II. To receive a tribute from the polytheistic, neo-pagan church group like the Universalist Unitarians is damning.

NEWS BRIEF: "All Faiths At Scots Tribute", Daily Record, UK, April 5, 2005

"SCOTLAND'S political leaders joined the heads of all faiths to honour the memory of Pope John Paul II in a Requiem Mass last night. Cardinal Keith O'Brien, led the service in St Mary's Metropolitan Cathedral, Edinburgh ... The Church of Scotland was represented by former Moderator and clerk to the General Assembly, the Very Rev Finlay Macdonald ... Scotland's Episcopalians were represented by the Primus, the Most Revered Bruce Cameron, and the Bishop of Edinburgh, the Right Reverend Brian Smith ..."

The Episcopalian leader, Cameron, uttered the quote which succinctly summed up the ecumenical false doctrine swirling the globe: "The Pope's visit to Scotland in 1982 remains a very memorable event, not only for the Roman Catholic community in Scotland but for all Christians'."

People the world over have been deceived into thinking that there is essentially no difference between Catholicism and Protestant beliefs, and that Catholicism is just another branch of Christianity. As Cutting Edge has so often demonstrated, the Roman Catholic Church is simply ancient Babylonian paganism revived, with extreme Black Magick Witchcraft mixed in. However, the world sees the Roman Catholic Popes as christian leaders, exactly as they strenuously portray themselves. Thus is prophetic prophecy of the False Prophet confirmed -- every day.

"Then I saw another beast rising up out of the land itself; he had two horns like a lamb ..." [Revelation 13:11a; Parallel Bible, KJV/Amplified Bible Commentary]

Did you catch that pertinent phrase?: "two horns like a lamb", i.e., he will portray himself as a christian -- the symbolism is that since Jesus was the Lamb of the World, so is the False Prophet going to portray himself as following Jesus.

One other final note is in order: The undiscerning of the world are going to be very impressed by the pomp and ceremony of this funeral. The colors, the ritual, and the pomp -- human visual candy -- are going to make many people feel more comfortable with the Pontiff from Rome than ever before.

It seems as though the word went out to Mass Media executives all over the world as soon as the Pope died, saying "Puff the Pope", i.e., start a massive pro-Catholic, pro-Papacy, and pro-John Paul II campaign. The result was tremendous: the very next day after his death, 35,000 new articles about him appeared throughout the world!

After this funeral, many people throughout the world are going to be more comfortable being led by the Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church. Do not fall for this deception!

V. Reactions from key Evangelical Christian leaders to the death of the Pontiff.

Dr. James Dobson and his Focus On The Family immediately praised the Pontiff as a "Pro-Family" leader and said Christians and Catholics have much to share! Remember that the world is hurtling down the precipice toward the Kingdom of Antichrist (New World Order) and that this Pope was the only pope to ever publicly call for this prophetic system of evil. One key element to the success of this venture is the seduction of Evangelical Christianity to the cause of Rome. Toward that end, key Evangelical leaders like Dr. Dobson, Billy Graham, and others are key to success.

Thus, we checked some of these Evangelical websites to see their reaction to John Paul's passing.

NEWS BRIEF: "What Is Dr. Dobson's Response To Pope John Paul II's Death"?, Focus On The Family, April 4, 2005

"Today's passing of Pope John Paul II is an immeasurable loss -- not only to our friends in the Catholic Church, but to the entire world. We found common cause with him, and with the 'culture of life' he espoused so eloquently; the legacy he left to us is to be cherished."

Dr. Cathy Burns heard Dr. Dobson on his radio program on April 4, during which Dobson repeatedly called the Catholic priests he was interviewing as "Father". The purpose of this radio program was to discuss the Pontiff's death and its aftermath.

The rest of Dr. Dobson's statement focused only on the Pro-Life, Anti-Abortion position of this pope. This tactic is like a person urging you to ignore the strong amount of deadly poison in a cup of coffee, concentrating only on the good coffee still in the cup.

Just as such a mixture will kill you physically, so will such a mixture kill you spiritually. Yet, Dr. Dobson continuously employs this tactic on so many issues: ignore the evil, concentrate on the "good".

The Focus On The Family Associate Editor issued his own statement on the same day.

NEWS BRIEF: "Pope Recalled as 'Voice of Conscience' ", by Pete Winn, associate editor, Focus On The Family, April 4, 2005

Notice how his language is similar to the Concordat with Rome of March 30, 1994 entitled, "Catholics and Evangelicals Together".

"Catholics and evangelicals alike remember the late pontiff as a commanding pro-family figure on the international stage. Pope John Paul II, who died Saturday at age 84, was widely considered one of the most extraordinary leaders in the modern world ... U.S. Sen. Sam Brownback, R-Kan., a pro-family leader of the U.S. Senate, met the pontiff when he co-led the congressional delegation to Rome that presented John Paul II with the Congressional Gold Medal. He lauded John Paul for his willingness to confront evil and to stand for the inherent dignity of the individual."

Winn then continues in this vein, stating that Pope John Paul II fought against evil continuously and strove to uphold the individual dignity of human beings. While we do not deny that John Paul II did fight Abortion and Adult Euthanasia, those stands cannot deflect the damage he has done in other areas: 1) Uniting the world's pagan religions under the umbrella of equally pagan Rome; 2) Failing to halt the tremendous scandal of pedophilia which ravaged the Mother Church during his reign; 3) Conducting a most anti-Israel and pro-Palestinian Papacy ever.

Focus On The Family's Winn then quotes several Roman Catholic authorities as to their love of John Paul II, thus encouraging all of Dr. Dobson's devoted fans to consider the Roman Catholic pagan religion to be equal with genuine Christianity. Once again, Focus On The Family lands on the wrong side of an issue. This organization told their supporters that it was all right for parents to read Harry Potter to their kids, it published a book written by a Focus vice president entitled, "Finding God In Lord of the Rings", and it enthusiastically endorsed "The Passion of the Christ" movie by Mel Gibson. When will people wake up to the false, counterfeit nature of Dr. Dobson and his Focus On The Family?

NEWS BRIEF: "Clergy, dignitaries pay respects to pope", CNN News, April 5, 2005

" 'I have a very strange feeling of loss. I almost feel as though one of my family members has gone', evangelist Billy Graham told CNN's Larry King Saturday night. 'I loved him very much, and had the opportunity of discussing so many things with him, and we wrote each other several times during the years'."

Thus did Billy Graham endorse the Roman Catholic Church, leading his people into an acceptance of Catholicism as genuine Christianity. But, why should we be surprised, for the Dr. Graham has repeatedly praised this pope? Listen to Billy Graham praise Pope John Paul II:

"He (Billy Graham) has called the Pope a 'great evangelist', the "greatest religious leader of the modern world, and one of the greatest moral and spiritual leaders of this century. On another occasion, he said that he believed the pope should be 'God's instrument for revival in our generation'." ["Billy Graham and His Friends", by Dr. Cathy Burns, p. 416]

Pope John Paul II seemed to feel a great affinity for Dr. Billy Graham, too. Listen:

"Graham spoke about a meeting with Pope John Paul II; 'there was a pause in the conversation; suddenly, the Pope's arm shot out and he grabbed the lapel of my coat, he pulled me forward within inches of his own face. He fixed his eyes on me, and said, 'Listen, Graham, we are brothers' [Ibid.]

Again, why should we be surprised, when Billy Graham is a secret Freemason, as acknowledge by Masons themselves? Read NEWS1082; NEWS1083. If anyone doubts that these two official state Masonic websites did list Billy Graham as a "Famous Mason", we printed out the entire list from both the State of Louisiana and the State of Michigan Masonic sites before we posted NEWS1082, and can either mail you a copy or fax you a copy.

As Dr. Burns proves in her book, above, Billy Graham has been working for the Illuminati for a very long time. And, Dr. Burns proves her point, with over 4,400 footnotes!

VI. With the election of a Kurdish President, the new Iraqi government may have taken a prophetic step forward to a final fulfillment of Isaiah 13 -- the End of the Age prophecy of doom for ancient Babylon.

NEWS BRIEF: "Iraq assembly elects Kurdish president", Aljazeera News, April 6, 2008

"The Iraqi parliament has chosen Kurdish leader Jalal Talabani as the country's new interim president, reaching out to the nation's Kurdish minority and bringing the country closer to its first democratically elected government in 50 years ... The announcement that Talabani won drew applause, and many lawmakers crowded around him to offer congratulations. He was expected to be sworn in on Thursday."

" 'This is the new Iraq, where no sect or minority controls the whole country', Parliament Speaker Hajim al-Hasani said. 'It is an Iraq where all the people are unified'. Talabani said he would work to secure his troubled nation and pledged 'to establish an independent and united Iraqi state based on democracy, federalism and human rights'."

The Kurds are an ethnic minority within the Middle East who are hated by all peoples of that region. Please click on this map of the Middle East which shows the extent of the Kurdish population throughout the entire region. As you can see, the Kurds populate a large section of the Middle Eastern region, from Turkey to Syria to northern Iraq to Iran.

Every one of these countries hates the Kurds and has tried to annihilate them throughout the past several thousand years of history. Saddam Hussein is accused of gassing Kurds by the many thousands. Each of the other countries, listed above, has severely persecuted the Kurds throughout history.

When President Bush was gathering American forces to attack Iraq, Turkey warned on a number of occasions that she would not tolerate Kurdish independence in northern Iraq. Iran is also not pleased with the resurgence of the Kurdish minority in Iraq. Similarly, Sunni leadership which many believe is controlling the Iraqi Insurgency, has warned against the Kurds gaining any real political power. When I read that the Kurds had gained power, I immediately wondered if the stage is now set for a real civil war, with the Kurds on one side and the Sunnis on the other. The animosity between the Kurds and all segments of society runs so deep for so long that even the Shi'ite clerics who are cooperating with the Kurds right now in this new government might find it difficult to continue their cooperation, especially if the Sunnis launch a civil war against the Kurdish people.

Who are the Kurds in history, and what can they possibly have to do with fulfillment of Isaiah 13 prophecy? In Isaiah 13, God is telling of His judgment upon Babylon, a judgment He did carry out just as He said he would in verses 2-3, using the combined armies of the ancient Medo-Persian Empire. In today's terms, the Medes would most probably be the Kurds, while the Persians are definitely the Iranians. God used Darius the Mede to bring this original terrible judgment, fulfilled in verses 2-3.

Toward the end of this chapter, God suddenly speaks about the inhabitants of Babylon (Iraq) at the end of the age suddenly being beset upon by some unidentified attacker which seemingly attacks from within the borders of the country. Remember, the context of the entire chapter 13 of Isaiah is Babylon -- today's Iraq Listen:

"Therefore I will make the heavens tremble; and the earth shall be shaken out of its place at the wrath of the Lord of hosts in the day of His fierce anger ... each [foreign resident] will turn to his own people, and each will flee to his own land. Everyone who is found will be thrust through, and everyone who is connected with the slain and is caught will fall by the sword. Their infants also will be dashed to pieces before their eyes; their houses will be plundered and their wives ravished." [Isaiah 13:13-16; Parallel Bible, KJV/Amplified Bible Commentary]

This verse may also apply to the last judgment upon Iraq, when God brings the Medes against the land of Babylon. The modern day descendants of the Medes may be the Kurds, who are right now caught in the middle of this conflict, but who are very eager to destroy Iraq in revenge for the terrible atrocities inflicted upon them by Saddam Hussein. Easton's Illustrated Dictionary lists the Medes as part of the Assyrian Empire, which covers the area of today's Iraq, Syria, Lebanon. This area borders on the mountainous border of Iran (Persia). Remember, the army that destroyed Babylon in Daniel 5 was a combined army from Medo-Perisa. The Kurds occupy exactly these regions today and are a serious problem to the nations of Iraq, Iran, and Syria. Even Turkey has a sizable Kurdish population now.

If the Kurds are going to be turned at the very end of the age against the now hapless Iraqi citizens after the destruction of the Iraqi military machine by American-led forces, then the description of this destruction in the following verses makes a lot of sense.

"Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who have no regard for silver and do not delight in gold [and thus cannot be bribed]. Their bows will cut down the young men of Babylon; and they will have no pity on the fruit of the womb, their eyes will not spare children. [Isaiah 13:17-18; Parallel Bible, KJV/Amplified Bible Commentary]

As the world enters into the Tribulation period, the emphasis will be on Israel and Antichrist. Little attention will be paid to the annihilation of the few survivors of Iraq, as the Kurds may finish God's judgment. As the world enters into the Tribulation period, the emphasis will be on Israel and Antichrist. Little attention will be paid to the annihilation of the few survivors of Iraq, as the Kurds may finish God's judgment. According to this prophecy, God is going to so stir the anger of the Medes against the people of Iraq that they will come down upon them for a final slaughter.

The scene may be set. The Kurds now have political power in the new Iraqi government. Is civil war now possible?

VII. As the new Iraqi government took shape, one could see that the hand of the United States lies behind the scenes. This government is controlled by the Bush Administration. Let us review the evidences:

NEWS BRIEF: "Iraqi Assembly Ends Impasse by Electing Speaker", Swiss Info English, April 4, 2005

"BAGHDAD (Reuters) - Iraqi politicians chose a Sunni Arab to be the speaker of parliament on Sunday, ending a political impasse and taking a decisive step toward forming a government nine weeks after historic elections. In a ballot, the members of the 275-seat National Assembly voted overwhelmingly to elect Hajem al-Hassani, the industry minister, as speaker. Hassani, a religious Sunni, is an ally of interim Prime Minister Iyad Allawi."

Did you catch that last statement about the new Speaker of Parliament? He is "an ally of interim Prime Minister Iyad Allawi."

President Bush raised Allawi to be his Prime Minister in the Interim Iraqi Government, the government in power when the "democratic" elections occurred. Therefore, Allawi will continue to play a major role behind-the-scenes as his close ally is now Speaker of the Parliament.

NEWS BRIEF: "Iraq appoints Jaafari as new PM", ABC News Online, April 8, 2005

"Iraq is a step closer to its first democratically elected government in more than 50 years, after Ibrahim Jaafari was named as the country's prime minister. Mr Jaafari is a softly spoken doctor who fled into exile under Saddam Hussein and who leads Iraq's oldest Islamic party. He acknowledged that ruling Iraq would be a huge responsibility ... Interim prime minister Iyad Allawi, a secular Shiite appointed under US supervision 10 months ago, has resigned but will carry on as a caretaker while Mr Jaafari works on the finishing touches to his cabinet line-up ... Mr Jaafari says he backs the US military presence in Iraq."

There you have it: the new Prime Minister of Iraq "backs the US military presence in Iraq". President Bush now has the charade of an election he desired and his own men are now fully ensconced in power.

VIII. Prime Minister Sharon has won every single major battle he has fought over the past years of his rule, and this week, his disengagement foes despaired that he might have just won the fight before it has even started!

NEWS BRIEF: "Settlers express 'cautious optimism' after PM talks", Ha'aretz News, April 5, 2005

"Representatives of Gush Katif settlements expressed 'cautious optimism' Tuesday after a meeting with Prime Minister Ariel Sharon to discuss their proposal to transfer Gaza settlements in their entirety to the Nitzanim dunes, located between Ashdod and Ashkelon. The sides also discussed settler demands for higher compensation packages. Sharon told the settlers that he would consider the possibility of relocating the entire settlement bloc to Nitzanim, adding that he would do everything to advance such a plan in the event the settlers agreed on it."

Can you imagine the joy in Sharon's camp over the prospect of an entire settlement agreeing to move in its entirety out of their Gaza settlement and into their new home? Such a move would prevent Sharon from having to drag each resident out by their body limbs and/or hair. The IDF and selected police forces would not have to commit such great manpower, and the process would take far less long to complete, than if the settlers forced the Sharon government to move them one resisting body after another!

This agreement between Sharon and the residents of the Gush Katif settlements would also cause deep despair to erupt into the anti-disengagement camp. This Ha'aretz article speaks to this reality.

"The decision to meet Sharon caused strains within the anti-disengagement movement, as many settlement leaders vehemently opposed holding such a meeting. According to government and settler sources, the plan was secretly prepared by some of Sharon's close associates ... A resident of the Kfar Yam settlement interviewed on Army Radio on Tuesday called the settlers taking part in the meeting 'traitors', 'weaklings', and a 'Trojan horse'." (Ibid.)

If the anti-disengagement forces are dramatically weakened by this move, a Sharon victory would be ensured. The time when Israel will have 99.3% of all Palestinian people separated from the Jewish seems to be drawing nearer... Just as the Bible says that Israel is the key to all End of the Age prophecies, so does Cutting Edge believe the final completion of this population separation plan to be the key to understanding approximately how close we all are to the beginning of the Final Birth Pangs War (World War III).

IX. Israel's Sharon government is getting close enough now to the beginning of the actual forced evacuation that a special joint command is now being set up.

NEWS BRIEF: "Special command set up to oversee elite pullout units", Ha'aretz News, April 8, 2005

"The Israel Defense Forces and Israel Police have recently set up a special command to coordinate the activities of the select units that will take part in implementing the disengagement plan. Teams from the select units will be deployed close to the settlements slated for evacuation, and will serve as 'intervention forces' to deal with possible violent opposition to the pullout, including the use of live weapons. The special command will be headed by Brigadier General Amos Ben-Avraham, who has extensive experience in overseeing the operations of small, elite forces. Ben-Avraham, who now heads the IDF's Leadership and High Command School, spent a large portion of his military service in the General Staff's elite commando unit, heading the unit in the early 1990s.

"Ben-Avraham's command will oversee teams from a number of elite units, including the Police Special Anti-Terror unit, the Naval Commando, the Israel Air Force's Shaldag unit, the Prisons Service's Massada unit, and the Eilat District's Anti-Terror unit, which is made up of reservists ... The units chosen for the task have extensive experience in dealing with complex situations that arise in small areas ... it appears that the Police Special Anti-Terror unit and the Prisons Service Massada unit are the most well-trained and experienced ... The soldiers and police who participate in the pullout will be unarmed, with only the members of the special units allowed to carry arms in the area slated for evacuation."

At this sensitive moment, when forces are poised for possible conflict, Prime Minister Sharon suddenly struck a responsive chord, calling for a more "sensitive" pullout. Of course, the fact that some settlers were willing to leave en mass if they were relocated as a community, probably had something to do with the "gentler" Sharon.

NEWS BRIEF: "PM pushes for more sensitive pullout", The Jerusalem Post, April 4, 2005

" 'We must have patience. Arrests need to be the last resort, and done only if there is no other choice. It also must be made clear to the Palestinians that if there will be a terror attack, we will respond in a very harsh manner'. In addition, Sharon and Defense Minister Mofaz decided that IDF soldiers in their regular army service will have to take part in the evacuation of settlements ... Sharon also discussed the re-internment of some 47 bodies, some of them victims of terror attacks, buried in Gush Katif. He reportedly directed the defense establishment to get the consent of each and every family before moving the bodies. Sharon was quoted as saying there was a need to explain to the families the importance of moving the bodies, with Disengagement Authority head Yonatan Bassi saying that graves should not be left behind in enemy territory."

Then, this article turned to the subject of a timetable for evacuation of Gaza. This estimated time period keeps getting shorter all the time. Sharon and his lieutenants desperately want to get this operation over as soon as possible, to avoid the possibility that a fierce, drawn-out confrontation might provide the spark that would turn Israel into a civil war.

The Defense Secretary speaks:

"Mofaz said at the meeting that the evacuation was expected to take four weeks, and should be done as quickly as possible to reduce protests and friction inside Israel. The meeting was attended by Sharon, Mofaz, Bassi, Justice Minister Tzipi Livni and high level IDF, security and police officials, who reported on preparations for the evacuation. Mofaz, according to his spokesman, characterized the operation as a 'National objective and test of democracy and the rule of law. It is a diplomatic objective that has to be carried out with sensitivity, determination and success while maintaining the security and respecting those to be evacuated'."

Some common sense principles were stated that would guide authorities during this forced evacuation.

"These include carrying it out in 'one go', and not evacuate one area, and then have to wait a long period before moving on to the next target; do it in as short a time as possible; close off Gaza and northern Samaria to keep outsiders from coming in to try and block the withdrawal; and maintain a proportionate number of soldiers and policemen doing the actual evacuation. The defense minister said that a number of issues have yet to be determined, including the date when Gaza and northern Samaria will be closed to anyone trying to get in from the outside, and the ratio of how many police to each soldier would be in the so-called 'inner circle' pulling people away and making arrests."

Cutting Edge predicted in October, 2000, .. that if the Israeli government really did force Jewish settlers to withdraw, you would know that the prophetic annihilation of the Palestinians described in Obadiah 15-18 was on track and was close. That time is nearly upon us now, providing just one more instance of prophetic proof that the End of the Age is truly roaring down upon us.

X. "Culture of Death" Update -- Now that governments have the legal authority to euthanize adults because of rulings made during the Terri Schiavo case, the predictable result is beginning to occur - America sliding quickly now into public euthanasia.

NEWS BRIEF: "Granddaughter yanks grandma's feeding tube: 81-year-old neither terminally ill, comatose, nor in vegetative state", WorldNetDaily, April 7, 2005

"In a situation recalling the recent death of Terri Schiavo in Florida, an 81-year-old widow, denied nourishment and fluids for nearly two weeks, is clinging to life in a hospice in LaGrange, Ga., while her immediate family fights desperately to save her life before she dies of starvation and dehydration. Mae Magouirk was neither terminally ill, comatose nor in a 'vegetative state', when Hospice-LaGrange accepted her as a patient about two weeks ago upon the request of her granddaughter, Beth Gaddy, 36, an elementary school teacher.

"Also upon Gaddy's request and without prior legal authority, since March 28 Hospice-LaGrange has denied Magouirk normal nourishment or fluids via a feeding tube through her nose or fluids via an IV. She has been kept sedated with morphine and ativan, a powerful tranquilizer ... although Magouirk is given morphine and ativan, she has not received any medication to keep her eyes lubricated during her forced dehydration."

Now, everyone who has even a minimum of discernment should be able to see the "handwriting on the wall" -- American hospice centers and other medical institutions are now turning into death centers and Living Wills are becoming Death Permission Certificates. Even though American medical facilities have been quietly killing patients for two decades now, that killing has been kept very secret, with the cause of death always masked by a medical cause.

Now, however, the Terri Schiavo case has given medical doctors and family members the ability to kill publicly -- effectively pushing America completely into the Abyss, as now we are killing at both ends of the life span -- babies in the womb and "devalued" elderly. What is next in this Death-making Cycle? Soon, handicapped and retarded will begin to be put to death; in fact, anyone who is considered "devalued" for any reason whatsoever has reason to fear for their lives.

Just as in Nazi Germany, medical healing has become medical killing.

But, why should we be surprised? America officially rejected God four decades ago when the Supreme Court threw the mention of "God" and of prayer out of public schools. When the Clinton-era school shooting rampage was occurring, an anguished citizen wrote to a pastor, asking him why God would allow such a tragedy; the pastor wisely wrote back, saying that America had thrown God out of the public schools a long time ago.

In every instance in our popular culture, Jesus and the Bible have been thrown out of public institutions. Jesus stated that, if a person wasn't for Him, they were for the Evil One. America today is paying obeisance to the Evil One, and Deathmaking is only one predictable result. As the Bible warns:

"... all who hate me love and court death." [Proverbs 8:36b; Parallel Bible, KJV/
Amplified Bible Commentary]

We shall post a major article on this subject this coming week. America is in her death throes, with God's judgment about to fall in the form of the appearance of Antichrist and the beginning of the seven-year Tribulation. Our physical annihilation will be complete.

Conclusion

"We would see Jesus." John 12:21

Evermore the worldling's cry is, "Who will show us any good?" He seeks satisfaction in earthly comforts, enjoyments, and riches. But the quickened sinner knows of only one good. "O that I knew where I might find HIM!" When he is truly awakened to feel his guilt, if you could pour the gold of India at his feet, he would say, "Take it away: I want to find HIM." It is a blessed thing for a man, when he has brought his desires into a focus, so that they all centre in one object. When he has fifty different desires, his heart resembles a mere of stagnant water, spread out into a marsh, breeding miasma and pestilence; but when all his desires are brought into one channel, his heart becomes like a river of pure water, running swiftly to fertilize the fields. Happy is he who hath one desire, if that one desire be set on Christ, though it may not yet have been realized. If Jesus be a soul's desire, it is a blessed sign of divine work within. Such a man will never be content with mere ordinances. He will say, "I want Christ; I must have Him--mere ordinances are of no use to me; I want Himself; do not offer me these; you offer me the empty pitcher, while I am dying of thirst; give me water, or I die. Jesus is my soul's desire. I would see Jesus!"

Is this thy condition, my reader, at this moment? Hast thou but one desire, and is that after Christ? Then thou art not far from the kingdom of heaven. Hast thou but one wish in thy heart, and that one wish that thou mayst be washed from all thy sins in Jesus' blood? Canst thou really say, "I would give all I have to be a Christian; I would give up everything I have and hope for, if I might but feel that I have an interest in Christ"? Then, despite all thy fears, be of good cheer, the Lord loveth thee, and thou shalt come out into daylight soon, and rejoice in the liberty wherewith Christ makes men free. [C.H. Spurgeon, "Morning and Evening Devotions"]

There's Something Fishy about the Society of Jesus:

"Do not think that I have come to bring peace to the earth; I have not come to bring peace, but a sword."

--Matthew 10:34

"It has served us well, this myth of Christ."

-- Pope Leo X

They say that all roads lead to Rome. No one can deny the societal impact that this culture had in history; ruling the majority of the known world, while waging war after war in accumulation of nearly every known trade route on the planet. In 325ad, with Emperor Constantine and the Council of Nicea, Rome metamorphosized into a new religious structure, based on the emergence of Jesus Christ, and arguably more powerful than any organized religion that had ever come before. In fact, some believe that the Church of Rome, the Vatican, is actually nothing but a transformation of older Babylonian mystery schools, and that the religious centerpiece of the Roman empire predates Rome itself back to the time of Nebechenezzer and the Tower of Babel. Whatever the case, we know for a fact that the inner mystery religion of Rome was based primarily on the Persian and Indian sun-god Mithra, as well as gods that took dominion and rulership over each of the planets in our solar system. Mars, Venus, Saturn, Pluto, and all the rest.

In other words, astrological representations of the known planets that revolve around our sun. The Roman messenger god, Mercury, based on the Greek Hermes, and Egyptian Thoth, was said to be the wisest of all the gods, because he was positioned closest to the sun itself and could over-hear all of God's secrets. Astrology, based on accumulated astronomical observations, is among the very oldest religious practices in our human history. It takes the most prominent position above the Tarot, rune-stones, divination, watery baptism, or offerings to the sacrificial fires; above it all, astrology, and sun worship, reigned supreme in the beliefs of our elder societies.

Now, for many of you involved in so called 'conspiratorial' world of information, and researchers of both the occult and 'New World Order', you have undoubtedly heard of such shadowy names and organizations as 'The Black Pope', 'The Castle of Darkness', 'The Black Madonna', and have heard of and seen a large variety of the information regarding Paganism and Sun-Worship within the Vatican and Catholic Church. Many times, you will see the large amount of 'persecution' towards Catholic Church coming from people who are devout followers of Christianity, or members of the Protestant movement. Other times, you will see people of the Catholic faith themselves, standing up and speaking out against the corruptions within other sects of their church. The point being, at least from my perspective of observation, is that a large majority of the people who you find pointing accusatory fingers at the Vatican, usually come from a very fundamentalist Christian, or Protestant, standpoint. As many Protestant's believe that the ultimate goal of the Jesuit Order is to finally destroy the Protestant faith, and many Christians believe that the Vatican is nothing more then a warped version of the true teachings of Christ.

Perhaps both viewpoints are correct.

However, this should not be a diversion that keeps us from looking inward at the structure of the Vatican, and questioning just how powerful the Catholic Church really is in the whole globalization scheme. Is it possible that through pseudo-religious organizations like Opus Dei, The Club of Rome, Scottish Rite Freemasonry, Rosicrucianism, The Knights of Malta, and the strong arm of the Mafia's organized crime cartels, that the Vatican has infiltrated, and is controlling, every other so called 'secret society', and even religious network, on the planet? (If 'The DaVinci Code' comes to mind right about now, dont' worry, it's just more propaganda from the Vatican pyramid of control.)

Before we attempt to answer the question, it is first necessary for us to explore the figure of the 'Black Pope', and how he plays into the structure of world wide domination. To do this, we must uncover the 'spiritual army' of the Jesuit Order, also known as 'The Society of Jesus', and how they potentially manipulate world affairs. The Society of Jesus was founded in 1534ad, by six men led by Ignatius of Loyola. Born in 1491, Ignatius took on the role of a military soldier early in his life, and suffered a severe leg wound at the siege of Pampeluna. During a long period of rehabilitation, and religious study, it is said that Ignatius went through a 'spiritual transformation', that led him on the path of devout and fervent faith in the Catholic Church. Due to his military background, and newly discovered spirituality, Ignatius of Loyola felt that the Vatican needed it's own spiritual army, and thus formed the 'Society of Jesus' for the Roman Catholic Church; it's members were known as Jesuits. In 1940, the Pope officially declared the Society of Jesus a sanctioned arm of the Vatican movement, and Ignatius became the first General of the Jesuit Order.

Certain signs point to the fact that while incapacitated from his leg injury, Ignatius, as well as delving into matters and teachings of the Catholic faith, involved himself in paganistic forms of witchcraft, and the inner mystery teachings of Jesus Christ, according to the Vatican. There is evidence that the Jesuit Order was founded with the alternative title of the 'Los Alumbrados-The Illuminated Ones', and that its inner mysteries were based on far older Gnostic teachings originating in Babylon and Egypt; further perpetuated by the rituals of Roman Catholicism. This would place the title of 'Illuminati' nearly three hundred years before the modernized Bavarian version founded by Adam Weishaupt. Important too, that Weishaupt, and the final product of the Bavarian Illuminati brought forth in 1776, was also raised on the teaching of the Jesuits. Adam Weishaupt was a Jesuit, though standard history tells us that he rebelled against the Society of Jesus, and organized religion, to form an Illuminati based on the inner beliefs of the Rosicrucians and Freemasons. Noting that the Rosicrucian and Freemason organizations were many hundreds of years older than Roman Jesuits.

Though, one can see how Mr. Adam Weishaupt never might have left the Jesuit order, and that he was used to form a front organization; taking attention away from the actions of the Catholic Church and Society of Jesus in world affairs. There is a very distinct possibility that once the Knights Templars, the largest banking institution in Europe, was purged, that the Catholic Church quickly assimilated the secrets of these sects, and used them to further propel the power of the Vatican and inner cabal of the religion. Before the Society of Jesus, the only 'spiritual army' of any significant power was the Knights Templars, and it isn't impossible that the Jesuits were used to take the place of what the Templars had once been, yet do so in a way that could be entirely controlled from within the Vatican. The Islamic 'Assassins' too, might very well have been merged into serving the church after the Knights Templars were destroyed and disbanded.

As for Adam Weishaupt founding the 'Illuminati' based on the Jesuit's 'Los Alumbrados', author Michael Howard states in his classic work, 'The Occult Conspiracy':

"It is true that Weishaupt had an almost pathological hatred of established religion but it cannot be denied that he was a spiritual person, although his spirituality would have horrified the clerics who opposed him. He firmly believed in the redemption of humanity and restoring human beings to the state of perfection which had existed in the halcyon days before the Fall.

In common with the Rosicrucians and the Freemasons, Weishaupt believed this redemption was possible by the application of the occult traditions preserved by the pagan mystery schools who were the guardians of the Ancient Wisdom. He also believed that the Church was a corrupt organization which had lost the original teachings of Jesus and was only concerned with holding on to power for materialistic reasons. The secret doctrine of Christianity, he believed, was still preserved by the Rosicrucian and Masonic traditions. Where he differed from those two secret societies was in his determination to overthrow the existing political system, even if that could be achieved by violent methods. It was the Illuminist attempt to overthrow the Hapsburgs in 1784, exposed by police spies who had infiltrated the Order, which led to the Bavarian government banning all secret societies and driving the followers of Weishaupt underground."

The Occult Conspiracy-Michael Howard-1989

While it is known that Weishaupt based the Illuminati on certain doctrines of the Jesuits, and believed that the Pagan Mystery Religions should be reestablished, it is not clear whether or not Weishaupt was manipulated and influenced into creating the Bavarian Illuminati based on the urgings of the Society of Jesus. Freemasonry, and the Rosicrucian order, goes back nearly five hundred years before the Jesuits were established, and these are attributed as Adam Weishaupt's inspirations just as much, or more so, than the Vatican. Of course, it's also plausible that the Catholic Church has always secretly controlled the Rosicrucian and Freemason orders in the A.D. era; most importantly through the inception of the Scottish Rite chapter of Freemasonry. There are indications that Weishaupt might have been covertly manipulated through the mechanisms of multiple organizations, all of which could theasibly be controlled from within the Vatican.

The figure head of this Vatican control, and the Superior General of the Jesuit Order, is known by many as, 'The Black Pope'. Through a long line of Jesuit Generals, dating back hundreds of years to St. Ignatius of Loyola, the current figure head of the Jesuit order, is Count Peter Hans Kolvenbach. Some believe, that just as the Pope is the divine representation of Christ on earth, that the Black Pope of the Jesuit Order is the divine manifestation of Lucifer, or the 'anti-christ'. There are a growing number of researchers in this field who see Peter Hans Kolvenbach as the grand master of the whole NWO agenda, and number one manipulator of all 'conspiracies' around the world. Even claiming that Kolvenbach ordered the recent London attacks, or that the Vatican is currently working on a super-flu to release upon the world. While these accounts cannot be properly substantiated, it is interesting to think about. Might the Vatican have been responsible for the 'Black Plague' and 'Dark Ages' that killed millions in our not so distant past? The Inquisitions only ended some one-hundred and fifty years ago, and it isn't so unlikely that this mass influx of persecution and death could happen again.

It's not yet determined that Kolvenbach should be considered the number one power of control in the world, but he is on a malevolent looking list of individuals who seem to all be working together, with many other groups and organizations, to establish a one world economy/government/religion. There is no doubt that the New World Order agenda is just as much a religious movement, as it is an economic movement. The role of Israel in the NWO might be equally as important to the Roman church, as it is to the Zionists.

<http://www.fossilizedcustoms.com/jesuitoath.htm>

The role of the Jesuits and Vatican could very well be traced to other notable historic events such as the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, the public execution of our first Catholic President, John F. Kennedy, as well as the rise of Rhode's Scholar, Bill Clinton. From the emergence of Communism, to the first World Wars, the establishment of the FBI, CIA, and other governmental factions, there are those researchers among us who believe that the Society of Jesus are the orchestrators of all these events and more; for the two-fold plan of both destroying the Protestant faith, and bringing in the Kingdom of Heaven of earth from the Israeli New Jerusalem.

St. Ignatius of Loyola founded a long legacy. The Society of Jesus is the largest religious order of the Catholic Church, with over 120,000 priests worldwide. There is no denying the sheer influence of the Vatican, and its various connections to groups like The Knights of Columbus, Opus Dei, Scottish Rite Freemasonry, and the Mafia. When Pope John Paul the II died, there were billions of people who watched the procession from a world wide audience, as Ratzinger took the 'throne'. The only other funeral in the past year to get that kind of recognition was that of President Ronald Reagan; who as fate would have it, was also a member of the Vatican sponsored Knights of Malta.

All hail Saint Peter. Coming ruler of the world.

"And for those who keepeth my works unto the end, to them I will give the power over the nations. To him I will give the Morning Star."

--Revelation

Eric Jon Phelps - Vatican Assassins

Size: 696.93 MB

With a special introduction by Master Scholar Jordan Maxwell, Eric Jon Phelps, author of "Vatican Assassins" exposes the shocking, long suppressed, diabolical history of the Jesuit Order. It is a history of crime, conspiracy, Satanism and mass murder, including the creation of the Federal Reserve; the sinking of the Titanic; the attack on Pearl Harbor; Hitler's escape after WWII; the Nuclear/Cold War Hoax and the assassination of many of the world's leaders like Lincoln, Kennedy and Patton. The Jesuit's General, aka "The Black Pope", is the most powerful man in the world, controlling the Vatican, the Pope, the world's intelligence communitites, as well as people like George Bush, Jessee Jackson and Osama Bin Laden. The great tides of history, rather than being spurred by the deeds of the brightest and the best of mankind, are actually the sewers of history, pulsating with the most disgusting and horrible motivations. Leaving no stone unturned, Eric Phelps exposes the writhing maggots to public view in this monumental presentation.

This presentation is very interesting and provides real food for thought about some of the events in history and the official reports surrounding them. It basically consists of Mr. Phelps using a laser pointer on overhead slides of pages from his book and reading verbatim, while introducing some of the main Jesuit and Masonic players from throughout history. I wish that he would have elaborated more on the content, but it would have to have been a much longer presentation to cover the subject in it's entirety. There's just too much info to fit into 2 hours. I recommend that anyone who's interested in further research read the Ebook "Vatican Assassins: Wounded in the House of my Friends" posted on this tracker last week by "mauricio". It's still there and being seeded at this time.

Now remember how respected JORDAN MAXWELL is in the conspiracy world? Notice how David Icke and many have learned some of their information from this source! Well who else other than the Illuminati is Jordan Maxwell very much into? Yes you guessed it, THE JESUIT ORDER and he will admit the power of the Almighty order. Alphabetical list of new members of American Association of the Order of Malta (SMOM) Scroll down to the last names that start with the letter S and you will see two people with the name Santorum- Roman Catholic U.S. Senator Richard "Rick" J. Santorum and his wife Karen Garver Santorum.

http://www.maltausa.org/files/newsletter_hospitallers_04.pdf (page

I read in one of the SMOM newsletters that the Order of Malta held their National Conference at Jesuit Fairfield University-the Jesuit Order would not allow the Knights of Malta to convene on their property-one of their military fortresses- if they were not working together and in agreement with each other remember "birds of a feather flock together." the Jesuits head the city that is the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of unclean and hateful bird." (Rev. 18:2) (I always think of the Roman Catholic cardinals everytime I read that verse and come to the words "hateful bird").

Note that the Jesuits emphasize the word "magis" <http://magis.creighton.edu/>] The Jesuit Order had their "Ignatian project" before the White Pope's World Youth Day this month (which is going on now) and the Order's Magis program is a separate event from World Youth Day. <http://www.magis2005.de/>

The Black Pope and his program his Order sponsors precedes the White Pope Benedict XVI and his World Youth Day. (very subliminal showing the Luciferian Society of Jesus rules and heads the Vatican and Satanic New Age World Order.)

Senator Santorum said he will not be running for president in 2008 <http://www.politics1.com/p2008-gop.htm>

(note the possible New "Religious" Right fascist GOP candidates Cardinal Egan has to choose from-most of them are Roman Catholics and/or members of the Council on Foreign Relations) (CFR)

<http://www.outsidethebeltway.com/archives/11442>

Santorum would quickly reconsider if his master Edward Cardinal Egan commands him. For 2008, it really doesn't matter whether one "votes" Republican (fascist) or Democrat (socialist-communist)-it really is one party-Republicrat (Jesuit/CFR controlled)-and it serves the same Jesuit agenda. Both parties practice Jesuitry and both are full of Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors who steer U.S. policy to line up with the Vatican and the Jesuits' evil Council of Trent. I believe the next president will be a Roman Catholic and/or a CFR member.

America Will Soon Lose Its Constitution

by Unknown

(Posted here by Wes Penre, June 28, 2005)

Soon the United States must face its most deadly enemy. The Bible clearly identifies this enemy and shows the tragic outcome of this confrontation.

Bible prophecy also shows that the United States will shortly repudiate every principle of its Constitution and will become one of history's worst persecuting powers.

Already we can see the beginning of these sad events in the Waco massacre, where the United States government slaughtered helpless and defenseless women and children with a battle tank and poison gas!

When the New World Order is instituted, freedom will be gone from the earth.

There will be no United States to escape to, no United States Constitution, no Bill of Rights, and no guarantees of freedom of any kind. The whole world will be one vast prison. The freedom we have enjoyed that was so dearly purchased by our founding fathers is now being thrown away by unscrupulous politicians and their sovereignty-destroying treaties.

The preceding paragraphs were written shortly after February 28, 1993, when the Waco massacre occurred. One would have to be blind not to see the many losses of liberty that have occurred since then. The following article will explain how and why we are losing our constitution.

THE MOST DEADLY ENEMY THE UNITED STATES WILL EVER HAVE TO FACE

We are determined . . . to take possession of the United States, and rule them; but we cannot do that without acting secretly and with utmost wisdom.

If our plans become known, they will surely be defeated. - Charles Chiniquy, Fifty Years in the Church of Rome, The Wickliffe Press, Protestant truth Society, Wickliffe Avenue, 104 Hendon Lane, Finchley, London, N3, 1885, p. 373.

How sad will their awakening be, when, with our out-numbering votes, we will turn them, for ever, from every position of honor, power and profit! What will those hypocritical and godless sons and daughters of the fanatical Pilgrim Fathers say, when not a single judge, not a single teacher, not a single policeman will be elected if he be not a devoted . . . Roman Catholic? What will those so-called giants think of their matchless shrewdness and ability, when not a single Senator or member of Congress will be chosen, if he be not submitted to our holy father the Pope? What a sad figure those Protestant Yankees will cut when we will not only elect the President, but fill and command the armies, man the navies, and hold the keys of the public treasury?

Then, yes! then, we will rule the United States, and lay them at the feet of the Vicar of Jesus Christ [the pope], that he may put an end to their godless system of education, and sweep away those impious laws of liberty of conscience which are an insult to God and man!

. . . The American people must be very blind indeed, if they do not see that if they do nothing to prevent it, the day is very near when the Jesuits will rule their country, from the magnificent White House at Washington, to the humblest civil and military department of this vast Republic. - ibid, p. 374.

The papacy is the most deadly enemy the United States will ever have to face. Using the utmost secrecy to conceal her plans, the papacy, through her facade of religion, has for many decades been infiltrating the United States in all levels of government. As a result, the United States will soon lose its constitution and become a tyrannical, persecuting power.

As you read the following, keep in mind that they have said it is their goal to take over the United States and trash the Constitution. The American Constitution is thoroughly detested by the papacy, because the freedom safeguards it contains make it impossible for the papacy to take over the United States as long as the Constitution is in force.

Rome is in constant conspiracy against the rights and liberties of man all over the world; but she is particularly so in the United States. Long before I was ordained a priest I knew that my Church was the most implacable enemy of this Republic. My professors of philosophy, history, and theology had been unanimous in telling me that the principles and laws of the Church of Rome were absolutely antagonistic to the laws and principles that are the foundation stones of the Constitution of the United States.

1st. The most sacred principle of the United States Constitution is the equality of every citizen before the law. But the fundamental principle of the Church of Rome is the denial of that equality.

2nd. Liberty of conscience is proclaimed by the United States a most sacred principle, which every citizen must uphold But liberty of conscience is declared by all the Popes and Councils of Rome, a most godless, unholy, and diabolical thing, which every good Catholic must abhor and destroy at any cost.

3rd. The American Constitution assures the absolute independence of the civil from the ecclesiastical or Church power; but the Church of Rome declares, through all her Pontiffs and Councils, that such independence is an impiety and a revolt against God.

4th. The American Constitution leaves every man free to serve God according to the dictates of his conscience; but the Church of Rome declares that no man has ever had such a right, and that the Pope alone can know and say what man must believe and do. - ibid, p. 375.

And when the papacy takes over there will be bloodshed.

The Church of Rome says that she has a right to punish with the confiscation of their goods, or the penalty of death, those who differ in faith from the Pope. - ibid, p. 376.

America simply has no idea of the terrible trouble and persecution that is coming soon at the hands of the papacy. The people of America have forgotten the wanton cruelty and unrestrained butchery this unholy power demonstrated during the Dark Ages when it slaughtered over 150 million Christians because they wanted to worship God according to the Bible. Hitler's holocaust against the Jews was tiny compared to the papal holocaust against Christians during the Dark Ages, and the Jesuit-controlled news media never mention these atrocities.

Don't misunderstand here. The Catholic Church is NOT a Christian religion.

It is a strange combination of the old pagan religions with a Christian facade. Just because they claim to be a Christian church does not make it so.

Here is a statement from the same book that shows the power these people have already amassed in the United States.

The Jesuits of the United States form one of the richest and most powerful corporations the world ever saw. - ibid, p. 375.

The papacy is by far the wealthiest institution on earth.

Jesus, the founder of Christianity, was the poorest of the poor. Roman Catholicism, which claims to be His church, is the richest of the rich. - Avro Manhattan, The Vatican Billions, Chick Publications, p. 17.

The Catholic church is the biggest financial power, wealth accumulator and property owner in existence. She is a greater possessor of material riches than any other single institution, corporation, bank, giant trust, government or state of the whole globe. - Jack Chick, Smokescreens, Chick Publications, p 73.

Very few people know anything about the Jesuits because of their extreme secrecy. Here is a description of them from the book The Great Controversy that shows the abominable character and deceptiveness of the pope's Jesuits.

Throughout Christendom, Protestantism was menaced by formidable foes. The first triumphs of the Reformation past, Rome summoned new forces, hoping to accomplish its destruction. At this time the order of the Jesuits was created, the most cruel, unscrupulous, and powerful of all the champions of popery. Cut off from earthly ties and human interests, dead to the claims of natural affection, reason and conscience wholly silenced, they knew no rule, no tie, but that of their order, and no duty but to extend its power. The gospel of Christ had enabled its adherents to meet danger and endure suffering, undismayed by cold, hunger, toil, and poverty, to uphold the banner of truth in face of the rack, the dungeon, and the stake. To combat these forces, Jesuitism inspired its followers with a fanaticism that enabled them to endure like dangers, and to oppose to the power of truth all the weapons of deception. There was no crime too great for them to commit, no deception too base for them to practice, no disguise too difficult for them to assume. Vowed to perpetual poverty and humility, it was their studied aim to secure wealth and power, to be devoted to the overthrow of Protestantism, and the re-establishment of the papal supremacy.

When appearing as members of their order, they wore a garb of sanctity, visiting prisons and hospitals, ministering to the sick and the poor, professing to have renounced the world, and bearing the sacred name of Jesus, who went about doing good. But under this blameless exterior the most criminal and deadly purposes were often concealed. It was a fundamental principle of the order that the end justifies the means. By this code, lying, theft, perjury, assassination, were not only pardonable but commendable, when they served the interests of the church. Under various disguises the Jesuits worked their way into offices of state, climbing up to be the counselors of kings, and shaping the policy of nations. They became servants to act as spies upon their masters. They established colleges for the sons of princes and nobles, and schools for the common people; and the children of Protestant parents were drawn into an observance of popish rites. All the outward pomp and display of the Romish worship was brought to bear to confuse the mind and dazzle and captivate the imagination, and thus the liberty for which the fathers had toiled and bled was betrayed by the sons. The Jesuits rapidly spread themselves over Europe, and wherever they went, there followed a revival of popery." - E. G. White, The Great Controversy, pp. 234, 235, 1911, Pacific Press Publishing Assn.

Today the pope's Jesuits are not only entrenched at the highest levels of all branches and departments of the U.S. Government, but they are also entrenched at the highest levels of virtually all the major corporations and industries in the United States. The Jesuits are the major stockholders of many of the largest corporations. They own 51% of the stock in Bank of America for instance. And because the papacy is a so-called church, they pay not one penny of taxes. Because they are a so-called church, they are able to operate internationally outside of the laws and legal proceedings everyone else must follow.

Here are a few of the Jesuit-controlled corporations that totally support their Jesuits in congress and the government: American Airlines, TWA, Anheuser Busch, AT&T, Bell Atlantic, Boeing, Cigna, Coca-Cola, Daimler Chrysler, Exxon, Ford Motor Company, General Electric, Hewlett-Packard, Home Depot, May Company, McDonald's, Motorola, Philip Morris, Price-Waterhouse, Rite Aid, RJR Nabisco, Sony Corp. of America, Texaco, United Parcel Service, Walt Disney Company, and Wells Fargo.

These corporations give their Jesuit senators and congressmen in both the Democratic and Republican parties many thousands of dollars for their election campaigns. These senators and congressmen are the most radical and dangerous this country has ever had. They do everything they can to pass laws and regulations prohibited by our constitution, laws designed to destroy the United States, to eliminate freedom, and to convert the United States into a ruthless tyranny. They lie constantly to deceive the people so the people will go along with the laws and regulations they want to pass.

Everyone in high positions in the government takes a solemn oath to uphold and obey the Constitution, but nearly all of them totally ignore the Constitution. The president issues executive orders that are totally unconstitutional, and Congress passes laws that the Constitution specifically forbids. Our God-given Constitution is the reason the United States has become the greatest country in the world, but it is being thoroughly undermined today by the Jesuits in government as they work to convert the United States into a ruthless police state.

The laws and regulations they pass are designed to export the industrial and manufacturing base of the United States to other countries. They are designed to destroy our energy base by restricting oil prospecting, fuel production, and nuclear power plants. The Jesuits in the House, Senate and regulating agencies restrict the private use of land with nonsensical environmental rules and regulations. They pass laws and regulations about what is "proper" to be taught in schools so that children will grow up being extremely ignorant under the banner of being educated.

The Jesuits are not recognized by the general populace because of their treachery and secrecy. They tell no one that they are Jesuits. They even belong to other churches, other cultures, and other organizations, that they have infiltrated, to hide their identity and to control these organizations.

There are millions and millions of the pope's Jesuits. They are everywhere.

They are into everything. They are into every major organization, and control nearly every political organization and government in the world.

Because of the Jesuits' extreme secrecy, many of these organizations and governments are totally unaware that they are being infiltrated and controlled.

It is easy to identify the Jesuits and the Jesuit puppets in the United States Congress, because they are the ones that continually try to get all kinds of laws passed that require exactly the opposite from what the Constitution says. They continually pass laws that restrict the liberty of the citizens of the country. They continually pass laws to regulate every aspect of life in the United States. They continually pass laws that restrict freedom of speech such as the Campaign Finance Reform Act.

Incidentally, they always use names for these laws that will sound good to the American people, but rarely indicate what is in the law. They use every means they can to deceive the people of the country.

The USA Patriot act of 2001 is in almost total violation of the constitution, requiring many of the regulations Nazi Germany and communist Russia had. When all the requirements of this act are implemented, the citizens of this country will rue the day they ever allowed such a monstrosity to become law. Jesuits in the government were responsible for this act and forced its passage. They forced a vote on this act without giving the congressmen and senators an opportunity to read it! Why didn't the congressmen and senators have the good sense to vote "no" and defeat this act since they were never able to read it?

The Homeland Security Act of 2002 is another act that was passed to take away freedom and security in the United States and is in total violation of the constitution. As all the requirements of these acts become implemented, the people of the country will learn first-hand how it feels to have absolutely no freedom. These and other laws and regulations on the books will, when implemented, convert the United States into a more ruthless police state than was Nazi Germany or communist Russia and Red China. The Jesuits continually try to pass restrictive gun legislation. The second amendment to the Constitution says, "the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed." Every gun law that congress has ever passed is a direct violation of the United States' Constitution. Because of the crime and terrorism in our country today, and because of the government and media propoganda against guns, people are made to believe that these laws are necessary.

When the citizens of a nation are armed, where their right to own guns is not infringed, the crime rate is extremely low.

Every man in Switzerland, for instance, is required to have guns in his home, including assault rifles. Crime in Switzerland is almost non-existent.

In states and cities in America that allow people to carry guns, the crime rate is extremely low.

During World War Two, Hitler wanted to invade Switzerland. The Swiss told him that he could send his army across the border, but none of his officers would return. Hitler gave the order to invade Switzerland several times, but his officers refused to obey. Switzerland remained safely neutral all during the war because Hitler could not overcome the guns in the hands of Swiss private citizens. No dictator wants to be the dictator of a nation with 200 million guns around.

Christians generally do not want to have anything to do with guns, because a Christian would never take the life of another individual. It is not the USE of the guns that keeps the crime rate low; it is just the fact that the guns are there, and the criminals and would-be dictators know that the guns are there. That knowledge keeps them at bay.

In order to motivate the people of the United States to give up their guns, the Jesuits stage shootings periodically to show how "dangerous" guns are.

These shootings occur in the most emotional places such as schools where children die. But Waco shows what will happen when only the government has guns. Some 86 children died a torturous death at Waco at the hands of the government.

Today, the United States is run and controlled by its most dedicated enemies. If you wonder at the things the government and the people in control of the government do that are so damaging to the United States, it is because they are our enemies and are determined to destroy the United States. Treason is running rampant throughout all levels and branches of the U.S. government today.

A nation can survive its fools, and even the ambitious. But it cannot survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and carries his banners openly against the city. But the traitor moves among those within the gates freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of government itself. For the traitor appears no traitor; he speaks in the accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their garments and he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation; he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of a city; he infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. - Marcus Cicero, speaking to Caesar, Crassus, Pompey and the Roman Senate.

Many wonder today why the Republican party does nothing to defeat the treasonous schemes of the Democrats. It is because the pope's Jesuits have thoroughly infiltrated the Republican party as well as the Democratic party.

Many wonder why the news media lie so much to support and protect the Democrats. It is because the pope's Jesuits have thoroughly infiltrated the news media. The news media and schools and colleges, with their lies and propaganda, have so conditioned the people of the country that they are unable to recognize what has been done to them. Victory for the Jesuits seems very near. The Jesuits are like a cancer that has pervaded nearly every fiber of the society of the United States. We are being defeated by the enemy within.

For many years the Jesuits have prevented the United States from developing additional sources of energy within its own territory. Exploiting the vast oilfields on the Alaskan north slope, that probably contain more oil than the entire middle east, is forbidden. New nuclear power plants, the safest source of electric energy ever discovered, are not permitted. There is no end to the lies people have been made to believe about Nuclear energy. The environment is used as the club to subdue the people of the country into going along with this idiocy. Modern technology is able to develop these sources of power without any damage to the environment. Needless to say, without sufficient energy, the United States will not be able to defend itself. All the papacy has to do is cut off the oil supply from the middle east.

The United States is now starting to feel the pinch of the energy shortage the Jesuits have created. People have experienced blackouts over large areas as power is shut off to stay within the limits of generating capacity.

Today, instead of constructing additional nuclear power plants, some of these plants are being dismantled! Will the people of the United States be able to wake up in time to prevent the coming national tragedy?

Not only in the United States is this treachery being perpetrated by the papacy, but they are secretly at work all over the world to subvert all the nations of the world, as we read earlier from Charles Chiniquy's book.

The papacy's slaughter of Christians continues to this day. Since the papacy is a small country with little military capability, they always beguile other nations to do their fighting for them. Today the United States is their favorite bully. Thus, they are never directly involved, and people do not realize who is behind the wars, the trouble, and the terrorism. Avro Manhattan's book, The Vatican's Holocaust, describes in detail the papacy's continuing slaughter of millions of Christians in the 20th century. At the time of this writing, the complete text of The Vatican's Holocaust is available on the internet for downloading. A link for this book is provided at the bottom of this page.

The slaughter in Bosnia, Kosovo, Serbia, Croatia and others is a direct result of the Vatican's involvement in this area, but you will never hear about it because the Jesuit-controlled news media not only refuse to mention it but they lie about the situation to keep the papacy from being suspected of her true involvement.

The Jesuits seem to have a code that guides their every action. That code is: "Call your enemy what you are and always tell the exact opposite of the truth." This makes it very difficult to counter their lies and explain clearly and understandably what they are actually doing.

And now the world has terrorism to a degree that was unimaginable before the destruction of the World Trade Center's twin towers in New York City where nearly 4,000 people lost their lives. This terrorism is part of the plan the Jesuits are implementing to scare the American people into giving up their freedoms, and it is working. The Bible says in Revelation 18:24 that the papacy is responsible for ". . . the blood of . . . all that were slain upon the earth." Evidence strongly indicates that Muslims hijacked the airliners and flew them into the towers. Thus we have rather strong evidence that the papacy's Jesuits have even been able to infiltrate the Muslims.

Remember that the papacy and the Jesuits have been at this business for many hundreds of years. Remember, also, that we saw that no disguise is too difficult for them to assume.

Let us now consider some of the tactics the papacy is using to subvert the United States. Just because they call themselves a church does not mean that they are honest or honorable. Remember that Satan, the devil, gave the papacy their power and great authority (Revelation 13:2). The Catholics, through their Jesuits, are working to accomplish the exact opposite from what the Catholic Church claims they stand for. For instance, the church claims to be against abortion, but their Jesuits, working in secrecy and masquerading as regular citizens in the government, work to pass laws and make judicial rulings permitting abortion. They have their right hand fighting their left hand to thoroughly confuse the people of the United States and to keep the people from ever connecting this evil conspiracy with them. Here is another example. The pope gets on television and, acting very piously, prays for peace, while his Jesuits are behind the scenes stirring up all kinds of wars, conflicts and terrorism in the world.

The Jesuits are making a dedicated effort in the United States to degrade the morality of the people of the country, to destroy family life, and to destroy all the traditional values that made this country the greatest nation in the world. This is being done by the abominable subjects being taught in government schools and colleges. It is being done by history courses that teach from revisionist history books containing many more lies than the truth. It is being done with pornographic sex education courses in the schools. It is being done with the destruction of religious values and the law of God, the Ten Commandments. It is being done by television programs, where entertainment is watching people break God's law. The natural result is a drastic increase in crime. Acts of the most abominable and shocking character are daily perpetrated within this country. The murder of one and a half million unborn babies in this country each year is one result of the demoralization of this nation.

The Jesuits are also flooding the United States with aliens, most of which are Catholic. Not only are we being defeated by the Jesuit enemy within, we are constantly being invaded by an army of aliens from without. These aliens dilute the traditional American society that understands our Constitution and how it works. This makes it much easier for the Jesuits in congress to pass the unconstitutional laws so damaging to the United States. And, of course, along with these aliens come the people who actually blow up the buildings.

There is talk in Washington of giving illegal aliens amnesty again, and also of converting our southern border into a "regional power block" where the area within 100 miles on either side of the border between Mexico and the United States would be administered jointly by Mexico and the U.S. The Jesuits are working to "eradicate the borders that separate Canada, Mexico, and the United States as part of a larger design to create a regional political and economic bloc duplicating the European Union." - The New America, October 8, 2001.

There is also talk of putting Mexican citizens in Mexico on United States'

Social Security payments. The purpose of this, along with all the wars and police-keeping actions the U.S. military is into and all the welfare the government pays for, is to completely bankrupt the United States.

Pushed by the Mexican government, the Bush administration is working on a Social Security accord that would put tens of thousands of Mexicans [in Mexico] onto the Social Security roster and send hundreds of millions of dollars in benefits south of the border." - Jonathan Weisman, The Washington Post, Dec. 19, 2002.

Since the Jesuits beguiled the United States into giving the Panama Canal to the Red Chinese, there are now over 200,000 Red Chinese in the Canal Zone.

This portends extremely serious problems for both the United States and Panama. A large percentage of Panamanian citizens want the U.S. to come back and restore the Canal Zone as before. Incidentally, the treaty giving the canal to Panama was never properly ratified. There were two versions of the treaty: an English version and a Spanish version. These two versions were not the same. The Senate ratified one version and the Panamanians ratified the other version. And the treason goes on and on.

When America was young, it was the envy of the entire world. In its youth, America was kind, gracious, and gentle. America was a country of great religious and political liberty available to all under the United States Constitution. America was a nation without a king and it had a church without a pope. On American money the message of her trust in God was proclaimed, and the great blessing of God rested upon this country.

Alexis de Tocqueville, a young French philosopher of the last century, came to our shores to discover what magical quality enabled a handful of people to defeat the mighty British Empire twice in 35 years. He looked for the greatness of America in her fertile soil, her limitless forests and natural resources. He examined America's schools, her Congress and her unique Constitution without fully understanding the source of America's strength.

It was not, he said later, until he went to the churches of America and found congregations aflame with righteousness, that he began to comprehend the secret of this power. Upon his return to France, de Tocqueville wrote:

"America is great because America is good, and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great." - Des Griffin, Descent into Slavery?, Emissary Publications, PMB: 1776, 9205 SE Clackamas Rd., Clackamas, Oregon 97015, 1980, p. 267.

The United States was the champion of liberty and freedom throughout the world. Before this time no nation in history ever had a written constitution that guaranteed the liberty and freedom of its people. But the glorious beginning of this country was to be corrupted in later years. The gentle, gracious, freedom-loving character of the United States in its youth was later used as a facade to hide the character that this country subsequently developed. This facade has successfully kept hidden, even from most of its own citizens, the real character the United States developed in these last days as a result of Jesuit infiltration and subversion.

When the Jesuits are successful in taking over the United States and converting it into a ruthless police state, the people of the country will begin to realize what has happened to them. But then, of course, it will be too late to do anything about it.

The papacy has made colossal fools of untold millions of people down through history, and it is still doing so today.

Title: Phelps is not a racist!

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 14, 2005 01:09 PM (GMT)

Dear Sister xxxxxxx,

Well said. I a series of experiences over the last 30 years with Blacks that I may share with the list someday. My conclusion to these experiences is that the only solution the the present race agiation in the US Jesuit Empire today is the separation of the races in the creation of a new all White nation and an all Black nation somewhere here in North America. This solution will work in every land with every people. This is the solution for the Moslem Arab question in Israel. Jordan is for the Moslem Arabs and Israel is for the Jews. No more Oslo, no more Roadmap.

When the Lord Jesus Christ returns to establish his millennial kingdom, the nations will be established after his judgment of the sheep and the goats. There will not be one big mixed humanity with no national sovereignties. So it should be now.

The nation that will not serve Israel will perish. (Isaiah 60:12)

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Title: Eric Phelps - Answering Hal Turner

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 14, 2005 01:07 PM (GMT)

Dear Pastor Turner,

I agree with all of your conclusions.

When theory contradicts reality, they the theory is a religion based upon a lie.

We Bible-believers should tell the truth, tempered with Scripture, true history and the fruit of the Spirit, no matter who hates us. As I said, I disagree with with Hal Turner's inflamatory speech as I believe it is calculated to incite a race war---from the White side. But as far as the content of what he is reporting, it is the naked truth, which truth must lead the honest reader to abandon the heresy of "free will" and socialist "universal equality" among all races. The equality phrase in the Declaration of Independence referred to all White men only as being created equal thus attacking Europe's doctrine of Divine Right of White Kings to rule abslolutely over White peoples. I first learned that distinction from Malcolm X and later from Georgia Senator Robert Toombs in American Politics.

Thanks for the well written essay.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Subject: Hal Turner

Eric, These sensitive souls that cannot tolerate any derogatory or humorous references to "people of color" while so readily stomaching the continuous mockery and abuse of the white man in every form of media are severely deluded. If "Maggie" were ever surrounded by a mob of thirty or forty "black youths" on a Saturday night on the hill in Harrisburg or ANYWHERE in Harlem, her delusions would rapidly evaporate.

The white women that preach and believe in racial equality need to prove to us that they truly believe what they say: drop their young teen daughters off at the Church's chicken or KFC in the middle of the ghetto for a "girl get together" and come back two hours later and see how things went! I have never met even one of these people that will admit the truth, or can answer the question of why they don't practice what they preach. I will never forget the day 24 years ago when a black man I worked with took me up to the hill (black section) of Harrisburg: we were near a playground that was filled with grown blacks carrying on and drinking. A car pulled up next to us and the driver said to my black friend: "Hey Kenny, is that white guy your friend? If he is, you better get him out of here, because those niggers will kill him!" Needless to say, I rapidly departed from "the hill." My white friend that lived on the hill had a ferocious doberman, and would frequently stand in front of his property with a loaded 12 guage with a trigger lock on it. The police didn't bother him, as long as the trigger lock was on. He could unlock the trigger and fire that shotgun in a split second, and he told me that the gun and the dog were what kept the blacks from robbing his house or attempting anything on his person. One day when he came home the doberman was in his back yard with a piece of somebody's pants hanging out of his mouth!

We know that there are individual black men and women that are honorable, courteous, and helpful to people in distress. Unfortunately, they are the exceptions, not the rule. Without Shem or Japheth ruling over him, Ham destroys his own home, his own family, and his own means of survival. The act of Ham upon Noah's person in Genesis 9 is called "confusion" in Leviticus 18, and every black society not under the control of whites or yellow-browns is in a state of confusion. The Jesuits have intentionally created these festering ghettos in the midst of the cities, knowing that Ham's sex problem would infect the surrounding whites, and that the lower culture (the black one) would spoil the higher one (the white culture). For me, the word nigger is a person of whatever color who is a slave to his lusts and passions, and will do anything to gratify them.

The Africanization of public morality, sexuality, culture, and families is the result of the Jesuit plan to first debilitate and then destroy not just whites, but Bible believing Christians of all races. Without armed, angry white Bible believers to stop Rome, Rome will devour everything in its path. I am not ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ; neither am I ashamed of being a white, angry, armed Bible believer. Anyone who falls for the ruse of being made to feel guilty for being white, or black or brown, is easy prey for every sort of psychological manipulation. No man should be ashamed of himself based on what color his skin is: men should be angry with those of their own family, race, and culture who dishonor that family, race or culture with violent, abominable, ungodly behaviour.

You and I have suffered greatly being brought up in an Africanized, matriarchal white culture where female supremacy is now the standard. The declension of godliness in America started in the 1850's with the rejection of 1 Timothy 6 and Philemon and what they teach about the master/servant relationship. Then the woman's temperance movement united women outside their homes under other women, forsaking the authority of their husbands. Then women were given the vote. Then women were given parity in the work force. Giving an inferior equality with a superior infallibly leads to role reversal and the supremacy of the inferior.

The destruction of everything in this country is based upon the damnable doctrine of universal equality, to which the the founding fathers paid lip service in the Declaration of Independence. The strong desire of the majority of black men to have a white women demonstrates the superiority of the white race: rebellious black men invariably want a white wife, and many (not all) of the big time black atheletes have white wives. Why? Because this is one of their tokens of having moved up in the world.

I will conclude simply by saying that a wrong, un-Biblical approach to race predicated upon Arminian theology and universal charity and equality insures zero resistance with armed froce to tyrranny. Hal Turner may be inflammatory to some weaker, untrained minds, but much of what he says is absolutley correct. I have 47 years of life experiences that have taught me that our postion on race is correct. I am glad that someone like Turner is allowed to still operate: freedom of speech is for all, not just for those of certain, agreeable opinions. Hebrews 4:12.

Passionate Uncertainty

Inside the American Jesuits

by Peter McDonough and Eugene C. Bianchi

<http://www.weeklystandard.com/Content/Publ...01/295pzsns.asp>

"MY DEAR FELLOW, we all see the difficulties that beset any notion of a revealed religion," says an Oxford philosopher in Ronald Knox's "Let Dons Delight." "You draw a blank check, as it were, by assenting beforehand to its doctrines, not knowing whether there will be enough assets to meet it when you come to look into your account."

The Catholic Church understands herself as the legatee of universal and immutable truths about God and man, claiming a divine guarantee that she never has taught, and never will teach, error. As a Basque soldier named Ignatius Loyola came to realize with particular clarity, this position is either true or insane: Only moral cowardice or intellectual muddle could make room for a middle ground. Hence no faith is more radically vulnerable than Catholicism to the shortfall intimated by Knox's skeptical don, no religion more in need of a nimble, adaptable, and ever vigilant defense.

Loyola's companions, given the sarcastic name "Jesuits" by their opponents, organized themselves on military lines with a military love for a clear chain of command, as their founding document attests. The Jesuit is to "serve as a soldier of God beneath the banner of the Cross, and to serve the Lord alone and the Church, his spouse, under the Roman pontiff, the vicar of Christ on earth." The Jesuit's mission is "to strive especially for the defense and propagation of the faith and for the progress of souls in Christian life and doctrine."

It's a risky business. The blood-curdling vows by which the Jesuit binds himself perpetually to poverty, chastity, and obedience are typically made for the first time when the novice is twenty or twenty-five years old--not at the conclusion but at the outset of the ten years of training in which he will learn what precisely he has committed himself to defend. The more intelligent and idealistic the aspirant, the more spiritually precarious his position, as he comes to grips with the full power of the Church's adversaries and the all-too-human frailty of her defenders. Loyola's gamble was that, if a man's own desire for God could be made present to him, he would willingly endure the required sacrifices until he saw the truth "from inside," and was motivated no longer by discipline but by love. For four centuries the gamble worked.

No more. The recently published "Passionate Uncertainty: Inside the American Jesuits" is a quirky yet convincing depiction of the collapse of the renegade Society of Jesus: papists who hate the pope, evangelists who have lost the faith. Deprived of their reason for existence as Jesuits, they respond either by putting an end to their existence as Jesuits (deserters outnumber active members in the United States) or by indulging a willed imbecility in which the explosively divisive questions are never permitted to surface.

The authors of "Passionate Uncertainty," Peter McDonough and Eugene Bianchi (a political scientist and professor of religion, respectively), portray the Jesuit crack-up most vividly by quotation from the interviews and written statements they took from more than four hundred Jesuits and former Jesuits. Both the spectrum of the speakers presented and the content of their opinions accurately reflect the current situation. Not that the speakers themselves are always balanced, fair, or magnanimous--the resentments run too deep for that--but taken as a whole the voices give us a true picture of the quandary of America's Jesuits: able yet aimless men, hopelessly compromised by perjury.

Val:Y

THE TRAJECTORY of the decline is not hard to trace, and the Jesuit story, though more dramatic, differs little from that of other progressive religious orders in the decades following the Second Vatican Council. Liberalism had been seen to foster tolerance and mutual respect in pluralist secular communities. Yet, being purely negative in content and procedural in application, it proved lethal when imported into an intentional association like the Society of Jesus, one both doctrinally exclusivist and rigidly hierarchical. Almost overnight the pope's light infantry became a battalion in which every man decided for himself which war he was fighting. The result was an institutional nightmare: confusion and cowardice at the top; despair, rage, and disillusionment in the ranks. American Jesuits went from 8,400 members in 1965 to 3,500 today. Entering novices declined from a peak one-year total of 409 to a low of 38.

Worse, the number of priests who jump ship each year roughly equals the number of entering novices; the number of Jesuits who die annually is twice as high as either.

Yet at its heart, the crisis is not one of size but of allegiance. One of the signal services performed by "Passionate Uncertainty" is that it lets us hear influential Jesuits--those who shape policy--speak their minds frankly, in words unsoftened by the public relations personnel in the fund-raising offices. "I am appalled by the direction of the present papacy," says a university administrator. "I am scandalized by Rome's intransigent refusal to re-examine its doctrines regarding gender and sex. . . . Frankly I think the church is being governed by thugs." "The church as we have known it is dying," a retreat master insists. "I hope and pray that the Society will help to facilitate this death and resurrection." An academic gloats, "The Society has not sold its soul to the 'Restoration' of John Paul II." Another Jesuit scholar, a church historian, ranks John Paul II as "probably the worst pope of all times"--adding, "He's not one of the worst popes; he's the worst. Don't misquote me." The respondents make it clear that their contempt for the pope is based almost entirely on his intransigence, his unwillingness to imitate their own adaptability in the matter of doctrine.

As do all priests, the speakers above took a solemn oath swearing that they "firmly embrace and accept all and everything concerning the doctrine of faith and morals" proposed by the Church. It must not be assumed that they fail to see the discrepancy. Their willed imbecility derives not from a lack of brainpower or ingenuity but from a deliberate decision to ignore the clash of commitments and to suppress insurgent attempts to throw light on what, for tactical reasons, is better left in darkness.

THIS "PLAUSIBLE DENIABILITY" is the motto of the new Jesuit nomenclatura, and the men who made themselves superiors in the 1970s understood clearly that you can write or say pretty much anything you want, provided you keep open your semantic lines of retreat. Thus the German theologian Karl Rahner was able to exhort his fellow Jesuits: "You must remain loyal to the papacy in theology and in practice, because that is part of your heritage to a special degree, but because the actual form of the papacy remains subject, in the future too, to an historical process of change, your theology and ecclesiastical law has above all to serve the papacy as it will be in the future." See the move? Our current Jesuits are all loyal to the papacy, but to the future papacy--that of Pope Chelsea XII, perhaps--and their support for contraception, gay sex, and divorce proceeds from humble obedience to this conveniently protean pontiff.

There was a price to pay, of course. Plausible deniability allowed the Society of Jesus to emancipate itself from the Holy See, but in the same stroke robbed Jesuit leadership of its ability to lead, to articulate a lucid vision, and to give unambiguous marching orders. Not surprisingly, in the absence of a clear objective, the discipline traditionally accepted as a means to the objective begins to chafe. As the authors explain in their own jargon: "The incentive structure of sainthood has changed. Ascetical practice has undergone demystification and has taken on more than a whiff of the pathological." The result, quite simply, is widespread infidelity to the vows: slackening in poverty and obedience, but, most dramatically, failure in chastity.

IN "PASSIONATE UNCERTAINTY" McDonough and Bianchi cite one Jesuit in his fifties who--admitting to bafflement over the question "what constitutes adherence to celibacy?"--says that this uncertainty "puts priests in a damned if you do (no coherent moral posture) and damned if you don't (old-fashioned repression) dilemma." His further remarks suggest that repression is the road less taken: "Now everybody (with brains) realizes that the rules have changed. Can I work closely with a woman colleague? Go to lunch? . . . Can I kiss her good-night? Spend a night once in a while, as long as it does not interfere with my priestly role? Vacation together?"

Though I align myself with the brainless in this man's typology, I have no doubt that he is right to believe that most of his Jesuit colleagues are of his thinking, and that they live not by their vows but by their own new rules. His account is misleading, however, in suggesting that most of the new breed seek the companionship of women.

"I entered as a way to cope with being gay," says a thirty-six-year-old Jesuit, "although that would not have been the way I put it then." He is not alone. Roughly half of the Society under the age of fifty shuffles on the borderline between declared and undeclared gayness. In 1999 the American Jesuits decided to give priority to the recruitment of gays (under the rubric of "men comfortable with their sexuality"), and the majority of American formators, Jesuits in charge of training, are homosexual as well.

There is a good deal of dissembling among superiors here: some denying the accusation of the gay influx, some admitting it but insisting that it is a boon, most perhaps shifting from one stance to the other depending on the sympathies of their audience and the exigencies of the moment. Overall, superiors have cautiously abetted the transformation of the gay subculture into the dominant culture within Jesuit houses. The website of the California Province portrays its novitiate in frankly camp terms (a photo showing two novices in Mardi Gras masks was captioned "Pretty Boy and Jabba the Slut"). On the other coast, Boston Magazine recognized the downtown Jesuit parish as the "best place to meet a mate--gay" in its "Best of Boston" awards.

The cost is not negligible. As Neuhaus's Law (propounded by First Things editor Richard John Neuhaus) has it, "where orthodoxy is optional, it will sooner or later be proscribed." In the Society of Jesus, this applies to diversity of lifestyle as well as of doctrine. One man observes: "Several of my former Jesuit friends would mention the large number of gay Jesuits and the impact that had on community life as being a big reason they left. As a relatively young Jesuit who is heterosexual, I believe I am in the minority, and that raises questions." A thirty-five-year-old Jesuit adds: "My novice master left to marry, my formation director left for a relationship with another man, et cetera. One cannot help but get the sense that we of this generation of Jesuits may be the 'last of the Shakers.'"

IT WOULD BE an exaggeration to say there is no concern among superiors at what "Passionate Uncertainty" calls--in a memorable phrase--"the gaying and the graying of the Jesuits." But quite clearly they are willing to tolerate the graying in order to expedite the gaying. The pro-homosexual sympathies of men placed in the gatekeeping positions make it especially difficult for heterosexual--and doctrinally orthodox--candidates to survive the selection process. Men of the type regarded as choice Jesuit material in the 1950s are frequently weeded out before they enter the novitiate. Some years ago an undergraduate at Harvard told me, "From my reading of history I had this idea of Jesuits as bright, kick-ass guys who love the Church. So I thought I'd check them out, and went to talk to the vocation promoter. In the whole hour we spoke he never once asked me about my prayer life or anything like that. He just stared at my crotch and kept after me about how often I masturbated. So long to that." So long to you, my friend, and hello to Jabba the Slut.

GIVEN THEIR AREAS of scholarly interest, it is surprising that McDonough and Bianchi fail in "Passionate Uncertainty" to touch on the single most important post-conciliar change in the command structure of American Jesuits: the shift of de facto power from the formal hierarchy (rectors, provincials) to university presidents. On paper, the presidents remain subject to their religious superiors; in reality the presidents set the tone by which Jesuit life is lived and, on the occasions of a conflict between presidents and superiors, the presidents win hands-down. The fate of Father Joseph Fessio, a former student of Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger and director of Ignatius Press in San Francisco, is a good illustration. When Fessio made himself a nuisance to University of San Francisco president Father Stephen Privett earlier this year by assisting in the founding of a two-year Catholic college in the vicinity, he was promptly reassigned as a chaplain at a tiny hospital in Duarte, California. Few Jesuits were surprised; none failed to get the message.

The social typology of the new leadership class is also an important dimension of the current reality. Prestigious positions, like university and theologate administrators, are filled for the most part from a group informally known as the "Gallery Owners": discreet, well-spoken, well-dressed gay priests in their fifties and early sixties. Where the older Jesuits are notable for the heat of their anti-papal passion, the Gallery Owners display a nearly complete apathy toward religion in all its forms. Conventionally liberal, they support condoms and women priests less as a matter of faith than a fashion statement-- rather like wearing a baseball cap backwards. Last year eleven of the twenty-seven American Jesuit universities hosted productions of Eve Ensler's "The Vagina Monologues," while more humbly employed Jesuits, often inclined to puzzlement at these developments, were officially assured by headquarters that "the Catholic identity of [Jesuit] colleges and universities has never been stronger." The teachings of the Church, being largely an irrelevance, has minimal importance in shaping the opinions of the Gallery Owners, who tend to regard orthodox Catholicism--like boxing or heterosexuality--as one of the coarse amusements of the working class.

One early reviewer of "Passionate Uncertainty" (himself a member of the Jesuit nomenclatura) glanced briefly at the indicators of decline given by McDonough and Bianchi--but concluded cheerfully, "The overall portrait is one of men content in their vocations, who have drawn closer to the person of Jesus while leaving an earlier Almighty God figure behind."

This remark, paradoxical though it seems, is a deft expression of the characteristic disconnection between Jesuit identity (in the new mode) and priestly service of God (in the old). In McDonough and Bianchi's chapter on "Ministry and the Meaning of Priesthood," we hear another man languidly dismiss the notion of sacerdotal duty as an instance of emotional immaturity: "Formal sacramental action is less central, as are religious 'practices,' than they had been in earlier years--but frequently much more engaging. To celebrate daily Mass, simply because it's there or expected, is no longer part of my way of thinking. It would be like an every-night-is-sex approach to a marital relationship."

"NONE OF THE MEN I know cares about being a priest," reports a man in charge of theological training. "What matters is being a Jesuit." A spiritual director in his fifties concurs, "If I could remain a Jesuit while joining the Quakers, I could be tempted." It should not be imagined that these are the voices of passed-over malcontents; on the contrary, this is fast-track Jesuit chic. In the New York Times, Maureen Dowd wrote of a television drama in which a "hip, glib, cute young priest" drives his penitent to get an abortion: "I didn't think the show reflected the point of view of the entertainment elite or, as some critics have ranted, of its 'non-practicing' Jewish producers. I recognized the point of view of the Jesuit elite. Jesuits are the flyboys of the church, the teaching intelligentsia most likely to be found drinking pricey wine and traveling abroad and devising interpretations of church dogma." As it turns out, she was right: The co-creator of the program and one of the paid consultants were Jesuits--Jesuits, we may surmise, who have successfully left an Almighty God figure behind.

Obviously such forward-thinking men neither have nor wish any part of the retrograde religious world of the Jesuit saints and martyrs. Edmund Campion, Jean de Brebeuf, Miguel Pro, and their company all died for convictions the new breed finds adolescent and embarrassing. Of course, among the 3,500 American Jesuits there are a few recusants: men who are not interested in joining the Quakers, who still feel bound by their vows, who celebrate Mass, who wish, in their unimaginative way, some kinship with the simplicity and zeal of St. Ignatius Loyola. They tend to speak little and write less: keeping their heads down, for the most part, and carrying bedpans when they don't.

SO, IF THE SITUATION in the Society of Jesus is really as McDonough and Bianchi describe it in "Passionate Uncertainty," why doesn't the pope intervene and make radical changes? Two reasons suggest themselves. On the one hand, the attitude of Pope John Paul II towards religious congregations, female as well as male, is somewhat Darwinian. He is content to let the healthy groups prosper--Mother Teresa's Missionaries of Charity are a parade example--while letting the unhealthy ones die out of their own accord, like sick caribou amid the permafrost. On the other hand, recent popes have judged the political cost of intervening to reform failing congregations as excessive in view of the likely benefits to be gained. A close analogy can be drawn with the moles that surfaced in the British Secret Service in the 1950s. Their treachery was known long before action was taken against them; bit by bit they were denied access to sensitive material, simply so that they'd have less to betray. In the same way, and for the same reasons, the popes have declined a dramatic showdown with the new Jesuits, preferring instead, without calling attention to the fact, to give the really important business to more dependable agents.

"As I get older, I find myself less church centered," says a senior academic. The hero of McDonough and Bianchi's story, the passionately uncertain Jesuit, like a man separated from a wife of thirty years, preserves an icy courtesy in referring to his spouse and fulfills the bare minimum of social duties. He may be convinced that he has arrived at the best possible truce given his rocky personal history; but no young man--at least no young man with real options--chooses to give his life to a truce. It is a lonely senescence. Here and there are rumors of courage, devotion, even faith. But the passionately uncertain Jesuit finds himself enclosed in a small corner of a small world, with the waning consolations of sodomy and single-malt whiskey, tottering down the corridors of an increasingly ominous twilight.

Dear Brother Nicholas,

Another great post. In 1946 Jews were officially enabled to enter the Order since their banishment in 1593.

A most excellent connectin between the Georgetown Synagogue Rabbi and the Jesuits of Georgetown University. America's leading Rabbis will again betray their own people---the Lord's racial Hebrew/Jewish/Israelitic people---as they were betrayed by Germany's leading Rabbis working in conjunction with the American and World Jewish Congresses. The huge Moslem/NOI host will be used to carry out this Jewish mass-murder secretly abetted by Washington's Georgetown Jesuits.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Title: Eric Phelps - New Orleans, invasion and Nukes

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 13, 2005 08:31 PM (GMT)

Dear Brethren and Friends,

Looks to me like the Order's CFR-controlled DHS/FEMA knew the storm was coming. Also, Chertoff's appointment to head the DHS only a few months before HK is also noted and telling.

The question is, "Why New Orleans?" I believe that the Order intended to further cripple our southern border so as to further prepare for a successful Sino-Soviet-Moslem Invasion in the future. First it was Florida, now Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. The coming storm(s) will target Georgia and North and South Carolina so that the coasts from Louisiana to North Carolina will be greatly reduced in their effective operations in being able to repel an attack. It is also noted that a few naval bases have been designated for closure on these critical coasts.

If I was the Black Pope I would continue to soften up these coasts (with preset Nukes as in the movies of Roman Catholic Coadjutor Arnold Swartzenegger's True Lies and Roman Catholic Coadjutor Tom Clancy's The Sum of All Fear). I then would detonate preset nukes along the San Andreas Fault running the length of California, focusing on the Roman Catholic, savage Black, sodomite cities of San Francisco and Los Angeles. SF is one of the most deplorable sodomite playgrounds of the nation and LA is the porn capital, both cities thus deserving of punishment.

I sent out a question regarding whether or not Hal Turner was a disinformation specialist. I had never heard of him nor seen his website nor referred any on the list to his website. After reading his information I have concluded that much of what he says (regarding the Savage Blacks---80% of the US Black population---in distinction to the Civil Blacks 20%) is true, yet the manner in which he speaks is pure demagoguery calculated to incite hatred in both White and Black viewers as does the Black Al Sharpton, Black Louis Farrakhan and Black Jesse Jackson---all Freemasons full of hate and racism yet the darlings of the Order's CNN, ABC, CBS and Fox. Therefore I will not refer anyone on the list to review his website.

Nevertheless I shall comply with your demand.

Title: Idiots thinking Vatican Assassins sells at Amazon

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 09:55 PM (GMT)

Vatican Assassins was suppressed highly in order to not create an out right banning which would draw more attention to the book. This was done by not allowing the sale via Amazon of the book new and only through second hand sales.

Right now we have fools who mouth off that Vatican Assassins is freely available and thus try and put this in arguments because they wish to deny themselves and others the truth that the Jesuit Order rule this planet. These people certainly look the fools they are as when you look up Vatican Assassins at Amazon you will see that if theres any being sold again they are second hand and going for prices as high as $499. These fools even give you links still claiming its sold there when it isn't, its second hand and certainly not $34 like one fool claimed! To be honest I cannot believe people are this stupid and then to shout their idiot nonsense over the internet for all to see their mistakes!

Again all you have to do is ask the publisher of Vatican Assassins what really happened with the book and you'll see the suppression was real and anyone who continues spreading nonsense is then either thick or a Temporal Coadjutor for The Order, its that simple.

The book is out of print now but its been the same old story from day one.

When Blacks are fed and clothed in historic White nations, they possess physical supremacy. The strongest man in the world is an American Black; the fastest man in the world is an American Black, the greatest golfer in the world is an American mulatto; the greatest baseball players are Black, etc. Black physical supremacy cannot be denied if one is to be honest in his observations. But this supremacy is only in White nations that have been historically Protestant or in British colonies in Africa before those colonies were given their "independence" with which they now suffer under Black military dictators controlled from Rome, men like Jesuit trained Robert Mugabe of Zimbabwe.

Oriental

This is the problem with a "diversified" race-mixed culture. It is in every man's heart to prefer his own race, language and nationality in civil affairs. This is why the only solution to the races preferring their own people over those of other races who are more qualified is to separate and create new sovereign nations each with a unique race, language and culture. This solution creates peace among nations if they are not subverted by the Jesuits---because the solution is biblical.

At the ConCon in 2002 when I was invited to speak, a math professor sat at a table with me for an evening meal. After some small talk, he said, "You were't very good in math, were you?" I said, "You are right; it was hard and a bore to me." He then laughed and said, " I have been a math teacher for over 25 years and the students that excelled were students with brown eyes---you have blue eyes." I had to admit, I never heard that before, but the more I thought upon the conclusion, the more I discovered that he was right. All the greatest physicists have brown eyes and many have been brown-eyed Jews.

Thanks for the response. I will send it around for the consumption of the list. I too believe that hurricanes can not only be created but also manipulated from the satelites, and that the levee was dynamited according to several eyewitness testimonies.

VAIII should be fininshed in not less than three months. It is now 1112 pages ending with chapter 36. Fourteen more chapters to go. I have a new German contact who is attempting to get me the photo of Dominican Canon and SS officer August Wilhelm Patin---Himmler's cousin. This will further provide evidence that Pope Pius XII rulled the SS via his confessor, Jesuit Robert Leiber whose Bavarian Roman Catholic Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor was Heinrich Himmler.

Subject: Cash or plastic? How about fingerprint?

Biometric transactions are faster and more convenient -- and closer than you may think.

By Grace Wong, CNN/Money staff writer

NEW YORK (CNN/Money) - Instead of keeping countless cards and pieces of information that verify your identification, soon there may be only one thing you need: yourself.

As identity theft has become the bane of consumers everywhere, technologies aimed at making transactions more secure are gaining ground. Such "biometric technologies" include iris scans, as well as those for fingerprints, palm, skin, voice and face patterns.

"In everyday life, the use of biometrics has been growing," said Philip Youn, a consultant at International Biometric Group.

The underlying strength of biometrics is that it uses patterns that are unique to each individual. Your fingerprints belong to you alone, and unlike that password to your online bank account, you can never lose it.

Where can you see it now?

Retail. Albertson's, the No. 2 supermarket chain, is one of hundreds of retailers testing biometric payment systems that let customers pay for purchases with a mere swipe of a finger.

It works like this: You register your fingerprint and your bank account with a service provider. The main ones are Pay By Touch and BioPay.

When you shop at a participating merchant, you just swipe your finger and the payment is automatically transferred from your bank to the merchant -- you don't have to hand over a card, sign a receipt or punch in a PIN.

Earlier this year, Albertson's joined the Pay By Touch network and is testing the service at four of its stores in the Portland, Oregon area.

"One thing we've heard repeatedly from our customers is that they would like to speed up the checkout process," Albertson's spokeswoman Shannon Bennett said. The feedback has been "very positive" she said, although the company hasn't announced any expansion plans for the program.

So far Pay By Touch is available at 100 to 200 stores while rival BioPay's system can be accessed at 150 locations.

"Biometric payments are the safest because no information is passed to the merchant," said Donita Prakash, vice president of marketing at BioPay.

And because you don't have to present your card at the point of sale, the transaction is faster, Pay By Touch marketing director Shannon Riordan said.

Another selling point: biometrics could offer instant age verification for alcohol and tobacco sales.

Computers. Getting started with biometrics for your computer is as easy as picking up a product like the Biopod Password Manager produced by APC. The small fingerprint scanning device, which plugs into a USB port, stores all your passwords in your fingerprint.

When you go visit your favorite Web sites -- whether it be Amazon.com or your investment portfolio -- all you have to do is scan your fingerprint.

If you don't want to deal with external hardware, IBM, Toshiba and Compaq all sell notebook models already outfitted with a fingerprint reader.

The price of the Biopod is about $50 while laptops with the device built-in can sell for as little as $1,300.

Travel. If you travel internationally, then soon you'll be carrying some high-tech identification. The Department of State has launched a plan to introduce electronic passports that come with a chip that stores the usual personal information as well as a digital photo which enables biometric comparison through the use of facial recognition technology at international borders.

According to State Department spokeswoman Joanne Moore, the electronic passports are still in test mode, but partial implementation is planned for the fall and full implementation in 2006.

Fundamentally flawed technology?

No biometric technology is 100 percent reliable, and privacy advocates are concerned with another problem -- centralized databases holding huge amounts of personal information.

"Whenever you're collecting uniquely identifiable information that you can't change, that's a very bad idea. It's a honeypot for hackers and attackers," Pam Dixon, executive director of the World Privacy Forum, said.

"Biometric technology would seem like it's a fantastic fix for identity theft, but once the ultimate identifier is stolen, there is no recourse for an individual to prove who they are," she said.

While victims of identity theft can get a new credit card number, change their address and even apply for a new Social Security number, they can't change their DNA.

Furthermore, there are those who just cannot use certain biometric systems, IBG's Youn said, explaining that some people's fingerprints are damaged, and others are born without readable prints -- although this is a small portion of the population.

Representatives from Pay By Touch and BioPay said when it comes to security, users of biometric payment services can relax because both companies don't store pictures of fingerprints. Instead, tiny measurements unique to each finger are recorded as an algorithm. If a hacker breaks into the system, all he or she would find is a number rather than a usable image of a fingerprint, they said.

Is a federal law that better protects personal data on the way?

ADL Masonic Jewish Zionists give Jesuit-trained traitor Knight of Malta George J. Tenet their highest honor

Dear Brother Eric,

Praise the Lord you are sending emails again! It is a blessing to hear from you again! I found this Feb 2005 article recently showing Jesuit-trained Temporal Coadjutor and Knight of Malta George J. Tenet receiving the America's Democratic Legacy award from the Masonic B'nai B'rith ADL on February 11 2005-the 11th-that was no coincidence about 42 months to the day of the attacks he helped orchestrate by order of his master Edward Cardinal Egan and his Jesuit masters at Fordham. Both answer to the Black Pope.

http://www.adl.org/PresRele/Mise_00/4643_00.htm

The saying is true that birds of a feather flock together. Other recipients of the ADL's America's Democratic Legacy award include 32nd Degree Freemason and Knight of Malta the most traitorous president to date Ronald Reagan, Freemason and accomplice in the JFK assassination Lyndon Johnson (I saw a photo on a website about 33rd Degree freemason Billy Graham the week of his last "crusade" in New York which received coverage by the Rockefellers' NBC who funded him. The photo shows Johnson presenting Graham with a Masonic handshake and the "Big Brother of the Year award" in 1966) this was subliminal in that both Johnson and Graham are Masonic brothers and Graham was rewarded for aiding in the cover-up of the assassination. Other recipients of the ADL's award include Knight of Columbus John F. Kennedy,(I recently learned on public access tv that there is an exhibit in the K of C museum in New Haven CT showing Kennedy's membership and the Papal Knight interviewed on the program also said that John F. Kennedy was a brother Knight and that most people were not aware of that.) Dwight Eisenhower, 33rd Degree Freemasons Harry S. Truman and Justice Earl Warren, Masonic Jewish Zionist and CFR member Henry Kissinger, Knight of Malta and Kennedy assassin Lee Iacocca, and the American pope at the time Cardinal John O' Connor. The Masonic B'nai B'rith and their ADL are enemies of the Jewish race and betray them by rewarding Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors, Knights of Malta, and high-level Freemasons. May the Lord bless you dear brother and I will continue to pray for you as you complete VAllI. I can hardly wait.

Georgetown University: Visiting Professor Nominated to Supreme Court

University News

Visiting Professor Nominated to Supreme Court

A few days before President George W. Bush officially nominated John G. Roberts Jr. to fill a vacancy on the Supreme Court, the appellate court judge was at Georgetown's summer law program in London. He had been co-teaching a course in international trade, said Wendy Collins Perdue, associate dean for graduate programs at the Law Center.

The course is part of a four-week intensive curriculum that allows law students to study international and comparative law courses with Georgetown's full-time faculty members as well as a host of preeminent adjunct faculty, Perdue explained. This year, 60 students (50 from Georgetown) are studying in London.

For his first course since joining the faculty, Roberts had teamed with Judge Timothy Stanceu of the U.S. Court of International Trade. Roberts also is scheduled to lead a Supreme Court litigation seminar this spring.

Perdue said that it is not uncommon to see practicing lawyers, judges, litigators and government officials in the Law Center's classrooms. Law Dean T. Alexander Aleinikoff agreed, saying, "I was delighted to have Judge Roberts in our summer program in London. ... His career is a fine example for our students."

Georgetown's ability to attract a distinguished adjunct faculty is "one of the advantages to being who we are and to being here in Washington," Perdue said.

The London program is indicative of the Law Center's international presence, Professor Barry Carter added. "It just goes to show what a high-quality program it is when we have potential Supreme Court justices teaching in it," he said.

Roberts' position as a distinguished visitor from the judiciary is not his only connection to Georgetown. His wife, Jane Sullivan Roberts, is a 1984 graduate of the Law Center. If Roberts is confirmed by the U.S. Senate, he will replace Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, who announced her retirement from the high court July 1.

In Ray Bradbury's classic short story "A Sound of Thunder," a time traveler steps off the prescribed path and crushes a butterfly. He returns to the future to find that everything has changed. This is the biggest conundrum in the conception of time travel, and perhaps renders time travel physically possible (at least according to Stephen Hawking) but metaphysically impossible.

Until Donnie Darko, films dealing with time travel have limited themselves to being just cool exercises in the "what if?" Terry Gilliam's Twelve Monkeys (1996) is perhaps the most elaborate and successful movie mind-fuck, but its final revelation provides no answers to the time travel conundrum. The film remains at the level of example—if time travel is like this, then this is what would happen. It doesn't explain why and its characters remain caught in a loop, destined to repeat themselves forever. Bruce Willis's character will always watch himself die.

Donnie Darko follows a boy of superior intelligence whose emotional problems propel him on a very strange trajectory through a tangent universe. Donnie's journey begins when he dreams about a rabbit telling him to leave the house. He follows the rabbit, and escapes being killed by a falling airplane part of unknown origin. But the rabbit tells him that the world is going to end in twenty-eight days. Donnie's been given life and death at once.

Donnie Darko boldly attempts not only to transcend the time travel conundrum, but to link it explicitly to the biggest question of all: Does everyone die alone?

If God exists, he must by extension have a plan for the universe, a path for everyone to follow. If we are following a path that God knows from start to finish, then we should be able to jump to any point on that path because it already and always exists. Donnie is able to see these paths as Abyss-like arrows emanating from people's chests. He tries to ask his science teacher what it all means, but his teacher can't answer—he'll lose his job. He can't tell Donnie how to travel in time because it means telling Donnie that there is a sovereign God who created time and who oversees its unfolding.

Donnie's bible is The Philosophy of Time Travel, a book written by Darko character Roberta Sparrow, a.k.a. Grandma Death. Sparrows are the birds most commonly associated with God's providence. In the Bible, Jesus asks that we "consider the birds" to understand how God will take care of us. Shakespeare riffs on these words as Hamlet, confronted with his own mortality and understanding that he must take action, says, "There is a special providence in the fall of a sparrow . . . The readiness is all." But the dark side of God's providence is death. Hamlet understood this—the readiness of which he speaks is the readiness to die. Throughout Jesus' teachings, the idea is that true devotion to God will remove the fear of death because of the trust that God is sovereign and he will provide, even after death. As the existential optimist Job says, "Though he slay me, yet I will trust in him."

So why, then, does Roberta Sparrow say to Donnie, "Every living thing dies alone"? This question throws Catholic schoolboy Donnie into a tailspin. He thinks that the world is going to end and he's going to die and be alone and there's nothing he can do about it. Even as he falls in love with Gretchen and comes to know the depth of his mother's love for him, Donnie watches his world spiral out of control. He finds destruction of his own making and destruction that is unavoidable. He can't make heads or tails of any of it and comes to find that the world is a terrifying, dark place even as there are pockets of goodness.

Donnie is learning the meaning of what the biblical writer John calls "the now and the not yet." The Christian believer lives in the paradox of knowing that salvation (from the eternal consequences of sin) has already arrived and that salvation (from the sorrow of living in a fallen world) is still to come. The conflict will be resolved only when the believer sees Christ face to face—that is, on the believer’s mortal death. Chiefly loving the “now” will lead the Christian to try to turn this world into heaven, to seek happiness in the temporal. Living solely for the “not yet” sends the believer into exile, devoid of intimacy with God’s much-loved children, dreaming only of an escape hatch. Choosing to (try to) love both creates a holy neurosis that might be what Paul meant when he said, “For me, to live is Christ and to die is gain.” Or what Jesus did when he laid down his life for his friends.

As the clock runs out, Donnie makes love with Gretchen and then goes to Roberta Sparrow’s. He’s found love, and now he needs answers. If everyone dies alone, then it doesn’t matter that he loves Gretchen. What he finds is death, destruction, sorrow, and despair. The complete darkness of the fallen world is laid bare before him, and Roberta Sparrow is nowhere to be found. And then the sky starts to fall.

Donnie watches the clouds gather above his house, and then scenes from the movie run in reverse. Donnie is back in his bed on the night of his death. He laughs. He should laugh: he has time traveled, and now he will die—but Gretchen won’t be murdered. His family will weep but the world won’t come to an end at the close of twenty-eight days. He’s sacrificed himself to prove that God exists, that God is indeed sovereign over everything—and if God exists then no one dies alone, it is safe to die, and the world doesn’t have to come to an end. His death does change the future, profoundly, but he laughs because he’s learned that death isn’t the worst thing that can happen to a person, not by half.

To me this film was rather disturbing and showed me the evil side to The Society of Jesus (IHS) better known to most as The Jesuit Order. I realised the Jesuit influence from the panning of the roof of the school Darko went to. On this roof was a cross and IHS written below it. This is the sign of Jesuits.

In this film I noticed a few Satanic elements such as the Evil looking bunny rabbit which looks very similar to BAPHOMET. When the Rabbit takes his costume head off its a human person but his one eye is destroyed. Now guess what? Can you guess which eye was destroyed? Yes its the RIGHT eye! Now why is this? The LEFT eye is the sign of the Devil (The All-seeing Eye). This is exactly the same as in the movie THE PASSION which Jesuit William J Fulco worked on with Opus Dei Mel Gibson!

Theres also an all-seeing-eye on his bedroom wall! I also noticed they showed the cinema listing twice, the second time it had THE EVIL DEAD and THE LAST TEMPTATION OF CHRIST

QUOTE

He tries to ask his science teacher what it all means, but his teacher can't answer—he'll lose his job. He can't tell Donnie how to travel in time because it means telling Donnie that there is a sovereign God who created time and who oversees its unfolding.

Remember people that the high level Jesuits and their Illuminati do not believe in GOD! They believe in LUCIFER. Also to me this has a meaning of we teach you what we want and not the truth, in other words a tunnel vision.

If anyone can study this film against Jesuit knowledge and come up with other things that can be pointed out please do so and let me know!

Title: How the Jesuits control the masses

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 12:14 AM (GMT)

Despite every effort that has been used to destroy the Jesuit order whether in Europe or Asia it has survived and now flourishes. Key to the Orders Survival has been its adaptability, determination and organization. To further understand the Orders dedication you may wish to review a few segments of the great and illustrious 4th Jesuit Oath.

The Key strategies are outlined in no specific order for all to admire.

1. Black is White and White is Black - Duplicity is a key ingredient. Say what the listener wants to hear. The Brotherhood is far superior to the Heretic hoards and is not accountable to them. Play all sides, create sides if necessary. Be the democrat, be the republican, be the patriot be the anarchist. Be the confidant and use the secrets against them. The Jesuit Order is an order of Spies and Assassins.

2. The Brotherhood gains complete intimacy with targeted individuals or populations in any way that is necessary. A brother does exactly what they are instructed to do. Example of great Jesuit infiltrators include Mick Jagger of the Rolling Stones, and Captain Edward J. Smith of the Titanic.

3. Bring the frog (Heretic) slowly to a boil so they do not notice! Pacify the great heretic nations (United States, Canada & Britain) with some prosperity and great amusements. Caesar gave the Roman citizens entertainment at the Coliseum to pacify them. The Jesuits have given the heretics much more for now! Keep their attention off of responsibility and on selfish indulgences and basic survival. Give them music, movies, sports, video games, wars, gossip, scandal, controversy and other amusements. This is outlined in The Protocols of Zion written by the Order and credited to Heretic Jews.

4. Manage education. Publish the books used in education and define its content. Set the test standards for knowledge. Populate the institutions with the Jesuit Order soldiers and servants.

5. Control the news sources and manage the content of news said to be fit to print! Rewrite what is said to fit goals. Use false surveys to manipulate the public with a need to belong.

6. Own the corporations and compete with the individual. Gain revenue for The Brotherhood. Give the heretic one dollar and keep 9 for The Order. Control the financial systems. Use depressions to consolidate power and motivate the heretics to accept change.

By fabrication it is meant events that are manufactured or do not really exist. Fabrications serve the purpose of keeping a population involved with misdirection, with fear, with intimidation with dependency. Fabrications can include economic upturns / downturns, traumatic events or the threat of their occurrence. Fabricated events work to the Jesuit Brotherhoods best interest as fund sources and in the harassment of the heretics. They are often used to “Justify” the need for change as the 9/11 fabrication justified War, justified the homeland security, justified the “Patriot Act”.

In the recent years fabrications have included the Cold War and the Nuclear threat and arms race, the Terrorist threat, Aids and Anthrax, Airport Security, theft of government secrets and the space race, 9/11. In the future they will include UFO invasions from outer space as hinted at by Ronald Reagan.

Fabrication is essentially fantasy living a pseudo world where people accept and believe what they are told is true. Within the fabrications life is what the Jesuit Master defines it to be. Social acceptability, right, wrong, good, bad, noble and heretical is the definition of the Jesuit General. A popular example is the talk show host who never discuss what is true or false but directly and indirectly convey what is desired and what is acceptable.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 12:15 AM (GMT)

Control Thinking or guiding the thought process of the heretics became central to the Jesuit Brotherhood soon after their European activities were discovered. The good Jesuit was hunted down, slaughtered and expelled from much of Europe in the years prior to 1900.

Fortunately what the heretic is told in many respects shape their lives. Combining this with the tendency of those people to “Forgive and Forget” opened the door to the Jesuit domination of the world. It the height of ludicrously that the Jesuit order should be recognized for it's role in subverting foreign governments, plotting and executing assassinations and yet openly establish Universities in the United States. Why the government and the population of the United States failed to recognize the Jesuit nature is both a reflection of the early elements of control at work within the United States and the general naiveté and ignorance of the heretics.

The Jesuit Brotherhood recruits membership from a close scrutiny of the church families. Once young intellect and potential is recognized it is cultivated. This has facilitated many intellectuals within it's ranks who establish themselves in the thought stream of the society twisting and turning it to the divine purpose of the Order. Control of the publishing for Colleges in combination with control of the standards set for competency and further combined with a staffing at high levels has put the Jesuit Order in control of the thoughts and the modes of thinking throughout much of academia.

Further control of thinking is managed with media control. What is known and what is not known is provided to the heretics by their Jesuit Masters without there knowing who and why it is being done. Various exercises have tested this including the promotion of the fabricated Spanish American war by Hearst. But control of the news media is more than telling the heretic what the Jesuit Order wants them to here. It is misdirecting them with red herrings. No greater example exists than with the Jesuit Orders fantastic 9/11 fabrication. Preceding 9/11 the Intelligence Services and world leaders where fed gossip about a pending attack. Later this information could be pointed to as "evidence" of the terrorist plot. It could even be promoted as an incompetence of the government services in not coordinating information about these rumors. What doesn't exist becomes the fabricated justification for the central Office of Homeland Security. Beyond this with the post 9/11 event you have a host of red herrings designed to preoccupy the minds of the heretics with meaningless even ludicrous problems such as airport security. And still more hilarious is the way in which the Jesuit Brothers utilize completely irrelevant rural issues in the news to lead the Heretics away from the real issues of 9/11 and into complete absurdity with such stories as Laci Peterson murder, Tyco, World.Com and Matha Stewart! The cattle are truly on their way to the slaughter house.

A related aspect to this control is positioning fabricated authority in place to act as the parental figure. This is common today with such active as the TV and radio talk show hosts who carefully guide the audience on what is rational, acceptable and worthwhile. This guidance is either in the form of what is and is not discussed or more aggressively by belittling views what doesn't conform to the dogma being promoted. Subjugating people to authority is something that the heretics must continually be subjugated to. Authority also shows up in the fabricated expert authority. Such as the American Medical Association, American Dental Association and others that are working closely with the Food and Drug administration in the United States to define what is good for the heretic's health. This facilitates keeping health alternatives away from the individual.

A sick, diseased and spending population are more easily controlled and more desperate for help.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 12:16 AM (GMT)

Central Control is an important aspect to the New World Order. There is to be one authority over all for all time . That authority is the Jesuit General, the Black Pope who directs the White Pope or the Vatican Icon known as the Pope to the masses. Management of the population will be for the most part a management of the devoted followers. But not all will be so willing or remain willing to the single authority and to their position within the order. Nor will they always be willing to accept the orders which might be imposed upon them. Since the Black Pope owns all and has absolute divine right to everyone and everything resistance can not be tolerated. There will be some resistance within individuals to this authority. All are the property of the Black Pope. There are no family rights, individual rights, entitlements to property or possessions other than those allowed by the Black Pope. There will be no free speech and no "free Will". There is one will and one voice, the divine voice of the Black Pope and expressed by the White Pope. Experiments on the population are under way and will continue in an effort to cultivate the most docile of useful servants. Children will in some cases be appropriated for service and pleasure of the Black Pope or his chosen ones. Therefore separation of families will be an important aspect of control. Paraguay has been the environment for the Jesuit social engineering for more than 150 years. Much has been learned as is being applied through the media. More was learned from the Jesuit Nazi holocaust and integrated into the CIA and world security services.

Another aspect to the management of the populous is to isolate them within cities. Populations can be controlled just as the early American Indian Reservation systems by creating a dependency for survival which can properly promoted become a positive association in time not unlike kidnapped victims identifying with their captors. Punishment can also be applied to communities, neighborhoods and entire cities if necessary via the central electrical power, water, sewage, health and of course the Brotherhoods MKUltra inquisitionist. It is with this in mind that the order has prevented the individual from having access to energy alternatives and health alternatives.

Is is by the simple process of controlling the Catholic vote that the "representative government" of the "Democratic Nations" is decided by the Jesuit General. Some assistance is provided by the news media. But within the next few elections the vote will be controlled electronically and arranged in the media as a cover story.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 12:16 AM (GMT)

Infiltrate and subvert are two themes common in the Jesuit Strategies. Infiltrate all sides promote all perspectives be on all sides, on one side but in reality no side except the Jesuit Generals. Say what the heretic wants to here. Cheer him on yet subvert his efforts or back the effort if it suits the Jesuit purpose. Be all things to all heretics and be ready to cut their throat at any time. This is the essence of the Jesuit and one of the keys to their success. The heretic is neither worthy of love nor trust nor friendship. Give him all three to his liking and yet be his enemy at every moment. The great Jesuit Brotherhood has infiltrated the governments of the world and gained inside information and confidences of the rich and powerful only to take from them everything or anything or use everything against them. The heretic is ever the impure enemy and everything is at the Jesuit Brothers disposal. Sacrificing his life or butchering theirs is all for the service of the Black Pope. Using the Conscript Catholic Army at will without their knowing is a glorious act of service by the Jesuit.

The Jesuit is a master of joining a group of heretics and subverting their movement while appearing to be committed to the cause. In person or over the internet the Jesuit subverts every movement of resistance or that might be opposite to the interests of the Jesuit cause. On the talk show of TV and Radio and on the pulpits of the Heretic churches, temples and new age movements, the Jesuit reins supreme. The Protestant heroes like Billy Graham stupefied and subjugate the heretics day by blessed day. Oh how much fun the Jesuit has in feeding the monkeys their miracles and picking their pockets at the same time! The heretics are paying and paving the way to their own slaughter.

Title: I.H.S (Isis - Horus - Seb)

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 12:12 AM (GMT)

The Pharaohs were among the early followers of the Trinity. They themselves assuming the title of divine representative. Upon their decline in public approval rose the Caesars who continued the tradition from the Roman Empire. Upon the Caesars decline came the Pope as the re-define emissary of God with the Vatican built upon the palace of the Caesars. The New World Order when fully established will destroy the Vatican and reposition its authority at the temple mount in Jerusalem.

Despite the change of personality the great material path remains Isis-Horus-Seb.

Isis - the middle eastern name for Maya or her manifestation as Kali the destroyer. It is Isis that is represented in Mary Mother of Christ. The earth mother, the female principle. Maya is the Queen of the material creations. She manifests the degradation of man by the cultivation of lust in male for the female. For females the degradation is in cultivating the desire to degenerate the male in lust. She is the seductress, the downward descending current. She is the lower half of the sin wave. It is Isis great duty to suck the vitality out of the spirits incarnate in matter. To draw them out into more and more worldly indulgence and defilement, for the vitality of the spirits is the food of the gods.

Horus - The middle eastern name for Kal or Satan or Lucifer. Kal is superior to Maya and at the top of the material realms. He is the king and lives on both the vitality of the spirits and the grace of the purely spiritual realms beyond his reach. It is Kal or one of his emissaries who assumes the form of the "Savior" or the rectifier or the moral half upper half of the sin wave. It is Kal who comes to uplift and to restore the spirits to equilibrium for the next round of Maya's degradations. It is Kal who promotes the social upliftment while still living off their life force.

Seb - the aspiration, the noble desire, the false humility the life force sought and expressed by the spirits. The child, the hope, the prayer, the mystery, the mystic. The carnival of imagery and fantasy and deception.

One of the greatest fabrications that proceeds the Jesuit army is the idea that there is a battle for the souls going on between God and Satan. A battle between good and evil. This fabrication justified the inquisitions, the crusades and the missionaries. It is the basis of the false dependency on the priest that was subsequently necessary for the good Jesuit to remain socially tolerable even when evidence indicated the Jesuit was politically subversive. Satan is the highest of the false gods, the gods of matter. The Supreme being is far beyond the regions of matter and all powerful. Satan is little more than a selfish child who can be stubborn and mischievous. Satan or Kal is not powerful in a spiritual sense. Nor was Satan capable of even evolving the creations of matter. The myth of the battle of good and evil is the final justification that the lap dogs of the Jesuits must believe to be complicit even when they would otherwise be opposed. The Jesuit controlled Vatican ultimately relies on sympathy and the acceptability of their image as spiritual. The ace in the whole of the ignorant that the Jesuit can keep them from hell.

Dear Mr. Phelps: Not only was I suspened for a week on Conyers" blog because I mentioned the Jesuits, they've gone back over some of my posts and edited the words Jesuit out!

I got suspended for a week writing about historical facts that affect National Security.

I think its only fair to let me reply!

Dear Mr. Administrator:

If we don't know our history, we're bound to repeat it. Yes, just substitute the word Inquisition, for Holocaust. If you refuse to discuss these issues, you're letting the door open for another one right here in America.

This is history, and the JESUITS have a bloody history, and the White Popes have been unable to stop them. That is not a smear. That is a fact.

This government's involvement in Israel is a result of the Jesuits pressing for the creation of Israel, by supporting, if not creating the Zionist movement. These are historical Facts.

Traditionally, via the Council of Trent, heretics were slaughtered. The Bible was banned for centuries. The Holocaust was modeled after the Jesuits

Fact: Otto Strasser was one of the founders of the Nazi Party. He revealed in his book

Hitler and I that, Mein Kampf was ghostwritten by a Jesuit Priest, Bernhardt Stampgle.
<http://www.believeinhim.com/AntichristConspiracy.pdf>

Fact: 1933 Hitler signed Concordant with Vatican Cardinal Pacelli.

Fact: Hitler himself said" I learned much from the Order of the Jesuits. The SS was modeled after it. He compared Himmler to Loyola.

Fact: Hitler thought the emigration of Jews to Palestine would benefit Germany. Those who did get out were forbidden to go to America, at the pressure of American Jews.

Fact: Bush family, through Prescott benefited selling to the Nazis.

Fact: The Bush family fortune is based on this illegal trade.

Fact: US brought many Nazis over to work in CIA, military and science.

Fact: CIA was present in Dallas the Day of the Kennedy killing. (They're not allowed to work in the USA at that time, only overseas)

Fact: Bush Senior was in CIA, and in Dallas, and knew many of the CIA, one "of which was reported by another CIA under oath,, to have said We killed the President that day, very professional"

Fact: Not only oil is sold from the offshore rigs, drugs are too.

Fact: Jesuits and Catholic Church support Castro, and other dictators in Latin America, and were the original perpetrators of the Opium wars.

Fact: Nazis sent Vatican gold when the War was over.

Fact: While a Cardinal, Ratinger said, the Messiah is yet to come.

Fact: In the book AntiChrist Conspiracy, Inside the Devil's lair, the author quotes the words of Samuel Morse, who asserted like the Trojan Horse, the Jesuits have come into the country to destroy the principles of religious freedom and democracy.

Fact: 911 official theory has thousands of omissions. As seen on your other blogs

Fact: The bombing of a country for false reasons has led America wide open to nuclear suitcase bombs brought over through an unprotected border, by newly created Jihadists from Iraq.

Fact: From the Talmud:Sanhedrin 99a: "When Messiah comes, he will destroy the Christians>"

Question: How would the federal maangers know to get to the bunkers in time???

I know it sounds loony, about the real controllers, the Jesuits. Well what else do they have to do but desire POWER?

Their founder, Loyola carried out the greatest Holocaust of all time, the Inquisition, of Spain, Europe and the Americas. Later they aided Hitler, Mien Camp was written by one of them. Later they killed off any white Pope that tried to disband their order.

They have a militaristic organization. Loyal priests probably do good, but at the top, they're behind wars. Their order is the head of the Opus Die, Masons, Knights of Columbus,Skull and Bones etc.

They want to rule the world from Jerusalem, in the Third temple. They have taken an oath to eradicate any nonbelievers.

Comment #181: Joe said on 7/17/05 @ 12:04pm ET...

Rese, are you out of your mind?

I have been involved with many Jesuit organizations over the years and I am offended at your insinuations.

You try to paint the Society of Jesus as a war-mongering organization, yet many Jesuits are involved with the Pax Christi peace movement which is protesting the Iraq War.

You even when so far as to accuse Jesuits of conspiring with Hitler, but you fail to mention that Hitler was ANTI-CATHOLIC! Your arguments hold no water.

You owe an appology to the organization and to the people like myself who have seen the charity and works of the organization.

rese- why can't you get along with anyone? i think you are on the democratic/americans side, but you are way out there.

some of your stuff is insightful, alot is conspiracy theory, most sounds like opinion. you source some great stuff. i hate to agree with joe, but get a grip. jesuits and hitler?

Please let me tell Joe comment 181 I'm sorry if it offends you. But there is much done at the top of the organization that harms untold millions.

Mein Kampf was ghost-written by a Jesuit priest named Father Staempfle.1In 1933 the Vatican signed a Concordat with Germany making Roman Catholicism the only recognized religion in that country. Hitler was financed by Wall St. and the corrupt U.S. Bank.

Ever heard of the Inquisition, from 1200 A.D. to 1800 A.D. . . ? It's never mentioned any longer. We hear a lot about the Jewish Holocaust when 6 million Jews perished under Hitler. But most people don't know that Hitler was a Roman Catholic and an instrument of the Holy Office. Hitler was never excommunicated for his crimes against humanity and causing the deaths of millions of people; whereas Martin Luther was excommunicated for translating the Bible into German!!

Meet the real Adolf Hitler.

In 1933 the Vatican signed a Concordat with Germany making Roman Catholicism the only recognized religion in that country. Hitler was financed by Wall St. and the corrupt U.S. Bank.

Signing the Concordat is Cardinal Pacelli (later to become Pope Pius XII). By 1933, he was the Vatican Secretary of State. Seated second from his left is Franz von Papen who was the Papal Nuncio to Germany. Standing at the far right can be seen the little known Vatican prelate, Montini, later to become Pope Paul VI.

Eugenio Pacelli (Pope Pius XII from 1939 to 1958) was a brilliant diplomat, a cunning politician and a religious crusader. He was appointed Papal Nuncio to Germany in 1920 — the first since the Reformation!! He, more than anybody else outside Germany, helped Hitler to power. He was one of the paramount personalities of the 20th century. He transformed the Vatican into a global political instrument. His pet obsession was Communism, and he became the main instigator of the Cold War.

1.. Edmond Paris, Secret History of the Jesuits, page 163

Apparently Hitler was following the orders of the Council of Trent, which defined heretics.

Mussolini, Hitler and Franco had concordants with the Vatican in order to set up the one world government to set up the Millennial Kingdom under Pope Pius XII. Even though the recent Pope asked for forgiveness of the crimes of the Church, and set up the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, at the Vatican II Council he was unable to Abolish the very evil Jesuit order responsible for the second Inquisition.

Reagan re-established diplomatic relations with the Vatican in 1984!!

below excerpts from <http://www.reformation.org/jesuit-papal-assassins.html>

The Pope was given poisoned blood transfusions!!

Pope John Paul II was hit 3 times at point blank range:

"On May 13, 1981, within three weeks of that private papal conference (to fire Arrupe), John Paul II was struck by two bullets from the Browning semiautomatic pistol of paid hitman Mehmet Ali Agca. By mistake, as it was later explained, the Pontiff was rushed to the Roman hospital of Gemelli rather than to the special hospital unit organized solely for papal use. He was given blood from the public blood bank; the private supply kept in readiness was never used.

In rapid succession, Pope John Paul underwent two major operations and suffered the consequences of the transfusion of impure blood; he contracted a severe case of hepatitis. At the height of the Pontiff's crisis, on May 28, Cardinal Wyszynski of Warsaw died. Wyszynski was John Paul's closest friend, and had made his career." (Malachi Martin, The Jesuits, p. 94).

A Papal Conference to abolish the Jesuits 3 weeks before shooting!!

Just 3 weeks prior to the assassination attempt, Pope John Paul II had a meeting with 6 of the most powerful cardinals in the Vatican. The topic: the forced resignation of the Jesuit General Pedro Arrupe:

"In some respects, the meeting that convened in the middle of spring 1981 bore the marks of thousands of board meetings going on at the same moment in every daylight country of the world. Beyond glass-paneled double doors, a conference between seven men was in progress. A folder bulging with reports lay in front of each man. At each man's elbow a full carafe of water topped with a glass was perched. Anyone happening to glance in might have said that the men gathered there were absorbed in the sort of hushed but free-wheeling discussion typical of board meetings everywhere.

But this was not the sort of meeting most people have ever witnessed, or even glimpsed through shut, glass-paneled doors. This conference room was on the third floor of the Palace of the Popes on Vatican Hill. The report folders were red damask and emblazoned in gold with the Tiara and Keys. Outside the door, a secretary and two Swiss Guards in traditional uniform were on duty to block all intruders. Seated at the conference table were the Pontiff of the Holy Roman Catholic Church and six of his most powerful cardinals, the movers and shakers of the Vatican, a cameo of its most formidable strength. And the subject of discussion between them was the life or death of the Society of Jesus: whether, in other words, the Order headed by Father General Pedro Arrupe should be allowed to go on as it was, or be reorganized and reset according to the often-repeated wishes of three Popes, or be officially done to death by the power and under the authority of Pope John Paul II." (Martin, The Jesuits, pp. 79-80).

Pedro Arrupe was from the Basque region of Spain—the same part of the country as the first General, Don Ignatius LIEola.

Arrupe was elected General for life in 1965 and was removed by Pope John Paul II in 1981.

He was the first Black Pope ever to be removed from office.

Since the founding of the Jesuits by Don Ignatius LIEola and Don Francis Borgia in 1534, many, many White Popes have tried in vain to curtail the power of the Jesuit Generals. ALL of the attempts met with death by poisoning.

Pope John Paul II survived the assassination attempt but was greatly weakened by the 40 hour operation and the transfusions of tainted blood.

Moslems and the KGB were blamed for the shooting!!

Usually in a public shooting assassination attempt, the perpetrator is immediately killed to hide the real identity of the assassins. In this case (Moslem) Mehmet Ali Agca was allowed to live because he was an undercover Jesuit.

The Moslem leaders sent condolences and expressed regret that one of their own religion should try and kill the Pope.

The shooter (Moslem) Mehmet Ali Agca was not immediately killed (like Oswald) but taken into custody by the police.

President of the USSR from 1982 to 1984. Head of the KGB from 1967 to 1982. He was poisoned in 1984.

Andropov and the KGB were implicated in the assassination through a BULGARIAN CONNECTION!!

Yuri Andropov was implicated in the assassination attempt through a supposed BULGARIAN CONNECTION. This gave the Pentagon an excuse to begin a massive military buildup to avenge the COMMIE Pope killers in the USSR!!

Meanwhile back in Washington DeCeit

Meanwhile back in the District of Columbia, the Fatima Crusade began in earnest. Just weeks before the Pope's shooting, President Ronald Reagan was shot by another Jesuit assassin named John Hinckley. Like the Pope, the stricken President became greatly debilitated. Vice President George Bush (former CIA head) assumed the duties of President while the acting was left to President Reagan.

President Ronald Reagan is hit by a bullet as he enters his limousine in Washington City.

On March 31, 1981, "lone gunman" John Hinckley fired 6 shots at President Ronald Reagan as he entered his limousine in Washington City.

His Vice President George Bush (father of George W. Bush) became de-facto President as Ronald Reagan became the acting President.

The family of the assassin John Hinckley, Jr., had close ties with skull and bonesman George Bush.

After the shooting of the Pope, Reagan and the Pope had something in common and they became good friends.

This led to the establishment of diplomatic relation between the U.S. and the Vatican in 1984.

Here is a quote from George Bush: The Unauthorized Biography:

"A summary of this material was made generally available through the Associated Press, which published the following short note on March 31:

The family of the man charged with trying to assassinate President Reagan is acquainted with the family of Vice President George Bush and had made large contributions to his political campaign....Scott Hinckley, brother of John W. Hinckley Jr. who allegedly shot at Reagan, was to have dined tonight in Denver at the home of Neil Bush, one of the Vice President's sons....The Houston Post said it was unable to reach Scott Hinckley, vice president of his father's Denver-based firm, Vanderbilt Energy Corp., for comment. Neil Bush lives in Denver, where he works for Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. In 1978, Neil Bush served as campaign manager for his brother, George W. Bush, the Vice President's eldest son, who made an unsuccessful bid for Congress. Neil lived in Lubbock, Texas, throughout much of 1978, where John Hinckley lived from 1974 through 1980. "(Tarpley & Chaitkin, George Bush: The Unauthorized Biography).

The Catholic Church must deal with this problem.

This connection which includes the ADL, Masonic Abe Foxman, the ACLU and a host of other CFR-controlled "court Jews" serving the Papacy will be imperative to understand in light of the creation of the Order's Gestapo/OHS and our coming American Jewish Holocaust. Never forget that the American Jewish Congress worked in conjunction with the Jesuits here in America (controlling FDR and the Roman Catholic Democratic Congress) to prevent the immigration of European Jews during the Jesuit/Nazi European Holocaust. The Chief Rabbi of Rome, Israel Zollin, aided Jesuit-trained Pope Pius XII in his SS/Gestapo Inquisition in deporting the Jews of Rome to Auschwitz. The SS General behind that theft and murder of Rome's Jews was Karl Wolff, later protected by the Pope through one of his Knights of Malta and Director of the CIA, Allen Dulles, whose son is the infamous Jesuit, Avery Cardinal Dulles. The same is to be repeated here in America as was done in Germany.

Let us not be deceived in blaming the Jews in general for the atrocities of the Pope's Masonic Court Jews serving the Jesuit General, Peter-Hans Kolvenbach. This is the trap into which the Order is hoping to lure the nation. Once fallen and ensnared, Satan knows that God will keep his Word once again in cursing our nation for cursing the Jews in our midst." Eric Von Phelps <http://www.vaticanassains.com/>

New Evidence suggests ex-President George Bush led a coup d'e tat in leading the CIA gang

It's big news I think when a President condones Terrorists. I think it's even bigger when this kind of evidence shows a coup de e tat occurred in Dallas. Who was Bush serving? Senator Prescott's protégé Richard Nixon. The same who had financed Hitler's war machine. Nixon elevated Kissinger to high rank, and Kissinger was from a Nazi background. Kissinger brought many ex Nazi's into the CIA and that led to more terrorist activities, and I think to 911. His plan was to use "military dumb animals" to further their plan for a New World order" which translates to support the elite and rich families of the Globe, ie. Bush, Rockefellers, Harriman's, etc. Their interests are getting richer, and they control foreign policy, and major media.

"The Case against Posada Carriles"

It was reported by the New York Times, this week, the fact that "In May, Luis Posada Carriles, a militant anti-Castro fighter from the cold war era, was arrested here on charges of entering the country illegally and was imprisoned in El Paso, where he awaits federal trial. Barely anyone in Miami protested, even though many Cuban-Americans consider Mr. Posada, 77, to be a hero who deserves asylum. " has documents that shows Bush was in the CIA at that time. These assassins were in Dallas when Kennedy was murdered. Marita (became a CIA agent after being mistress to Castro) a testifies how she saw Oswald (now known CIA agent) and Ruby together, with two carloads of them at a motel the night before, armed with weapons. She got out. She testified that Frank Sturgis later boasted, "we killed Kennedy." Other witnesses said they saw Posada in the Square also that terrible day.

I did a search on him and found more than the Media dare print.

The above website <http://jfkmurdersolved.com/posada.htm>

The website also has documents that show one of those who knew and encouraged Oswald was a friend of George Bush Senior. He has repeatedly said he never knew him. The website reveals that many of these witnesses were killed before they could testify to the conspiracy. Even Jack Ruby was said he was willing to testify but he claimed he was being given a cancer causing drug that eventually did kill him.

The website provides pictures of George Bush with the CIA agent Felix Rodriquez and George Bush, and Felix Rodriquez's capture of Che Gueierra, who later had his hands cut off after he was shot. These agents also participated in the removal of democratic leaders in South American countries. Apparently Nixon was a Protégé of Prescott Bush. Nixon brought in Henry Kissinger, ex Nazi, who brought over many Nazis to serve in the CIA.

The author shows the history of this group. Some were hand picked by ex-President George Bush himself from the CIA initially to assassinate Castro and invade Cuba in the Bay of Pigs attack... He and other Texas oilmen financed some of their operations. A Dr. Orlando Bosch, convicted of blowing up a Cuban airliner, with the help of Posada was later PARDONED by Bush Senior as President. The author says Bosch was the leader of the group at the motel where this gang was in Dallas the night before the killing of President J.F. Kennedy, Jr.

Video of the hit: <http://jfkmurdersolved.com/film/headshot.mov>

". There was never a real intent on the part of the Pope's CFR-controlled high command of the CIA to kill Castro. The late CIA assassin George Hickey told my close friend that he had Castro in his sights when he received the order to "abort." The order was blamed on JFK and that essential team was then used to do the distractionary shooting and wounding in Dallas, the kill shot coming from Greer.

. George de Mohrenschildt and George H. W. Bush were not only friends but they both were Papal Knights of Malta. Two high Knights were eliminated in the Kennedy executive action: Clay Shaw and George de Mohrenschildt. Both died as a result of subsequent investigations after the assassination.

With these corrections kept in mind, knowing that the current cover-up leads to the Archbishop of New York City---now Edward Cardinal Egan---, we have more details as to "Who" was involved in the murder of a President who was first an American and secondly a Roman Catholic who refused to enforce the Pope's Temporal Power. That "Who" extends to Watergate and Iran Contra. That "Who" includes Knight of Malta William F. Buckley, Jr., Knight of Malta William J. Casey, Knight of Malta Alexander Haig, Jr., Knight of Malta Pat Buchanan, Knight of Malta Oliver North, and now with the WTC demolition, Knight of Malta George J. Tenet. All of these traitors were or are today under the control of Fordham and Georgetown University Jesuits ruling the Pope's "Holy Roman" Fourteenth Amendment American Empire (1868-Present). " Eric Von Phelps creator of Vatican Assassins

See: <http://www.vaticanassainns.org/> for more on the above three paragraphs.

The website shows how Senator Prescott Bush supported Nixon. He was super friendly with Kissinger. With Bush documented in the above article that he was CIA and associated with the terrorists, and that he later pardoned Dr. Death Bosch who was just as guilty of bombing airlines and hotels, it's clear Terrorism was approved by them. And if terrorism, assai nation of rivals, and if that demolitions of American citizens in the WTC and Pentagon.

The Downing Street Memo is the tip pf the iceberg when it comes to this administration's lying to us. Too many were silenced. JFK, JR., Robert Kennedy, Congressman Larry McDonald, and John Jr.

This new evidence should lead to a reopening of the investigation into President Kennedy's death. I have written to Senators, newspapers and CREW. Will you please take the time to read the above website? Then please help remove this fascist dynasty from American government.

Kennedy was about to change the Federal Reserve System. His dislike of Castro led him to be targeted by the Black Pope. Eric Von Phelps documents the power of the Jesuits on his website, <http://www.vatican/assains.org>, and claims most of the intelligence agencies are controlled by them.

These same Jesuits were responsible for ghost writing Mien Camp, creating Zionism, and killing any "white Pope" that tried to disband them. Their ultimate gain: control of Jerusalem.

The elite families that control the CFR have Masonic ties to the Jesuits and Israel. So you have necons who are faced with supporting an expanding Israel.

9/11 was orchestrated by them to get public support to fight to help get Israel the oil it lost from the Iranian revolution. See executive orders of the President that protect American corporate oil profiteers despite a UN security resolution that Iraq's oil should go to a "humanitarian fund" for the reconstruction of Iraq.

Iran is a threat to Israel and I'm afraid it will be their next target, unless the American people get the true version of what has really been happening in America.

Studies show the Falklands have more oil than the Middle East. Why don't the British and Americans go that route? In the meanwhile conservation measures should be put into law!

What's really funny is that internet sources say Bin Laden's mother is Jewish. With that he can move to Israel too. Obviously with Israel's right of any Jew born of a Jewish mother, they have a SPACE PROBLEM. Maybe build tall towers to live in?

I do realize the US created him, funded him, and I think they've succeeded in making him the patsy, for 9/11 just like Oswald, "the lone nut" was made during the coup d etat! The only sleeper cells found in America are the Mossad and the Jesuit training camps. These were in on the attacks on the WTC and the Pentagon. Remote control of planes is no secret.

Paper trails leading to alcoholic, women chasing "fanatical Muslims" are impossible. Nine of the so called hijackers were found alive and well, their identity papers were stolen. Even though Bush said over 130 Israelis were killed in the WTC Pentagon attack, only three were killed, thanks to the Odigio warnings two hours before. Larry Silverstein admitted to "pulling" building seven, which wasn't even hit by a plane. All visual and scientific evidence points to a controlled demolition of the Twin towers. The CIA and Norad were conducting "training excercises "that day , TO CONFUSE airport workers who saw too many unidentified aircraft, and they thought it was part of this TRAINING excercise, so no military response shot down the Remote controlled planes. Interesting the Pentagon offices that were hit, most likely a missile, were of Naval intelligence most responsible for uncovering the Pollard spy case, and had top[officials questioning the loyalty of dual place of birth officers, that is, those with Israeli American citizenship.

Skull and Bones take an oath to the devil, Lucifer himself. Guess who is in Skull and Bones? Guess who go to Bohemian Grove and throw their cares away to the Great Owl, and burn a body in effigy? The very elite family men of our world. The Bush family among others.

Look at how the government has "progressed "under this dynasty. Do a google search on these:

NOTES

The two public interest organizations charged that President Bush far overreached a May 22, 2003, United Nations resolution that was designed to protect Iraqi oil revenues for humanitarian purposes when he signed an executive order that could place U.S. corporations above the law for any activities "related to" Iraqi oil, either in Iraq or domestically. Bush signed Executive Order 13303 the same day that the UN Security Council unanimously adopted Resolution 1483, which sets up a development fund, from Iraqi oil revenues, for "humanitarian purposes."

"This order reveals the true motivation for the present occupation: absolute power for U. S. corporate interests over Iraqi oil," said IPS Senior Researcher Jim Vallette. "This is the smoking gun that proves the Bush administration always intended to free corporate investments, not the Iraqi people."

"In terms of legal liability, the Executive Order cancels the concept of corporate accountability and abandons the rule of law," charged Tom Devine, legal director of the Government Accountability Project. "It is a blank check for corporate anarchy, potentially robbing Iraqis of both their rights and their resources."

. Rodney Stich's book Defrauding America tells of a "deep-cover CIA officer" assigned to a counter-intelligence unit, code-named Pegasus. This unit "had tape-recordings of plans to assassinate Kennedy" from a tap on the phone of J. Edgar Hoover. The people on the tapes were "[Nelson] Rockefeller, Allen Dulles, [Lyndon] Johnson of Texas, George Bush and J. Edgar Hoover."

This is from educate yourself:

Could George Bush be involved in the JFK assassination? In 1963, Bush was living in Houston, busily carrying out his duties as president of the Zapata Offshore oil company. He denied the existence of a note sent by the FBI's J. Edgar Hoover to "Mr. George Bush of the CIA." When news of the note surfaced, the CIA first said they never commented on employment questions, but later relented said yes, a "George Bush" was mentioned in the note, but that it was "another" George Bush, not the man who took office in the White House in 1988. Some intrepid reporters tracked down the "other" George Bush and discovered that he was just a lowly clerk who had shuffled papers for the CIA for about six months. He never received any interagency messages from anybody at the FBI, let alone the Queen Mary. It is also worth noting that a CIA code word for Bay of Pigs was Operation Zapata, and that two of the support vessels were named Barbara and Houston.

Many say that George Bush was high up on the CIA ladder at the time, running proprietorial vehicles and placed in a position of command, responsible for many of the Cubans recruited into "service" at the time. All through the Iran-Contra affair, Felix Rodriguez, the man who captured and had Che Guevara killed for the CIA, always seemed to call Bush's office first. From The Realist, (Summer, 1991): "Bush was working with the now-famous CIA agent, Felix Rodriguez, recruiting right-wing Cuban exiles for the invasion of Cuba. It was Bush's CIA job to organize the Cuban community in Miami for the invasion.... A newly discovered FBI document reveals that George Bush was directly involved in the 1963 murder of President John Kennedy. The document places marksmen by the CIA. Bush at that time lived in Texas. Hopping from Houston to Miami weekly, Bush spent 1960 and '61 recruiting Cubans in Miami for the invasion.... "George Bush claims he never worked for the CIA until he was appointed Director by former Warren Commission director and then president Jerry Ford in 1976. Logic suggests that is highly unlikely. Of course, Bush has a company duty to deny being in the CIA. The CIA is a secret organization. No one ever admits to being a member.

The truth is that Bush has been a top CIA official since before the 1961 invasion of Cuba, working with Felix Rodriguez. Bush may deny his actual role in the CIA in 1959, but there are records in the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba that expose Bush's role..." On the Watergate tapes, June 23, 1972, referred to in the media as the 'smoking gun' conversation, Nixon and his Chief of Staff, H.R. Haldeman, were discussing how to stop the FBI investigation into the CIA Watergate burglary. They were worried that the investigation would expose their connection to 'the Bay of Pigs thing.' Haldeman, in his book "The Ends of Power", reveals that Nixon always used code words when talking about the 1963 murder of JFK. Haldeman said Nixon would always refer to the assassination as 'the Bay of Pigs'. On that transcript we find Nixon discussing the role of George Bush's partner, Robert Mosbacher, as one of the Texas fundraisers for Nixon. On the tapes Nixon keeps referring to the 'Cubans' and the 'Texans.' The 'Texans' were Bush, Mosbacher and Baker. This is another direct link between Bush and evidence linking Nixon and Bush to the Kennedy assassination." So, why would an intelligence agency/secret society want to smuggle drugs and assassinate JFK? Well, they make a lot of money, and they garner intelligence assets through their participation. There's also the rationale that the world is a seamy and unseemly place, and if you're going to be the 'big boy' on the block, you better know what's going on.

And what better way of knowing than by running it yourself? There are also some who theorize that the covert drug trade fits with to destabilize American families and society. Through demoralizing and fracturing the body politic, they can impose their will using psychological warfare and the political alchemy of the Hegellian dialectic. James Shelby Downard's article, "Sorcery, Sex, Assassination and the Science of Symbolism," an underground classic, links American historical events with a wild, numerological, grand occult plan "to turn us into cybernetic mystery zombies". The assassination of JFK, this article contends, was the performance of a public occult ritual called The Killing of the King, designed as a mass-trauma, mind-control assault against our U.S. national body - politic. During Operation Sunrise, Operation Blowback, Operation Paperclip and others, thousands of Nazi scientists, researchers and administrators were brought to the United States after World War II. Many were "smuggled" into the country against direct, written, orders from President Harry S. Truman. Project Monarch was the resumption of a mind-control project called Marionette Programming, which started in Nazi Germany. The basic component of the Monarch Program is the sophisticated manipulation of the mind, using extreme trauma to induce Multiple Personality Disorder. Mr. Downard feels that the perpetrators purposefully murdered JFK in such a way as to affect our National identity and cohesiveness -- to fracture America's soul. Even the blatancy of their conspiracy was designed to show "their superiority" and "our futility". There have been studies that show a correlation between the JFK assassination and the rise in violence in society, distrust of government and other extensions of social ills. Why this attack against our body politic? In 1785, a bolt of lightning struck a courier enroute to Paris from Frankfort-on-the-Main. A tract written by Adam Weishaupt, founder of the Illuminati, "Original Shift in Days of Illuminations," was recovered from the dead messenger, containing the secret society's long-range plan for "The New World Order through world revolution". The Bavarian Government outlawed the society and in 1787 published the details of The Illuminati conspiracy in "The Original Writings of the Order and Sect of the Illuminati." In Adam Weishaupt's own words: "By this plan, we shall direct all mankind in this manner. And, by the simplest means, we shall set all in motion and in flames. The occupations must be so allotted and contrived that we may, in secret, influence all political transactions."

The Harriman security regime created the Psychological Strategy Board (PSB) in 1951. The man appointed director of the PSB [was] Gordon Gray.... Gordon's brother, R.J. Reynolds chairman Bowman Gray Jr., was also a naval intelligence officer, known around Washington as the 'founder of operational intelligence.' Gordon Gray became a close friend and political ally of Prescott Bush; and Gray's son became for Prescott's son, George, his lawyer and the shield of his covert policy." So you have the Whitney/Stimson/Bundy clan and the Harriman/Bush boys wielding a tremendous amount of influence on the political, economic and social affairs of America and the world. Then you have Prescott Bush's buddy Richard Nixon as an activist vice-president. Then, a nation-chilling assassination, some time under LBJ with the Bundy boys keeping things in line, then Nixon as President with "Bonesmen" aides Ray Price ('??') and Richard A. Moore. Some time out for a Trilateralist-Democrat-patsy president, followed by Prescott's son as an activist vice-president under Reagan.

Next, we get a Skull and Bones president who declares a "New World Order" while beating up on his business partner, Saddam Hussein. After twelve years of Republican administrations, Bush passes the reins to his drug smuggling buddy from Arkansas, Bill Clinton, who studied at Yale Law School. According to some researchers, Clinton was recruited as a CIA operative while a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford. Could this be the "old Hegallian historical dialectic process"? Will we get another failed Democratic administration? A scandal as disgraceful as Nixon's fall?

Not: Who was on this at the time: Henry Kissinger who was a consultant to Rockefeller, and also had ties to Prescott Bush, and he had ties to Eugenics research that led to Nazi sterilizations.

No President ever wrote or signed an Executive order establishing the Special Group. No President had a way of abolishing the Special Group. The Special Group was not established by Executive Order, it established itself. This was no accident. This was illegal. When Kennedy killed the Operations Coordinating Board, the Special Group operated as normal without the designated Presidential representative.

The Special Group is alive and well today. It consists of the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense, and the Director of The CIA, none of which are elected officials. The only way to abolish this ad hoc committee is to abolish the Department of Defense, The Central Intelligence Agency and the Department of State. President Clinton, Secretary of State Warren Christopher, and Director of the CIA John Deutch and his predecessor James Woolsey belong to the Council on Foreign Relations. Les Aspin, Secretary of Defense William Perry's predecessor also belonged to the Council on Foreign Relations.

"Psychic driving is a potent procedure - it invariably produces responses in the patient, and often intense responses"

-Cameron in his paper "Psychic Driving", 1956, p. 508

"Ewen Cameron: The Memory Thief"

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/n5ctrl/scotland...tline/19oct.ram>

1957-1961, Canada: MKULTRA Experiments in Montreal

By Joseph Rauh, Jr. and James Turner, the lawyers who litigated against the CIA in the 1980s.

Early in 1957, Dr. D. Ewen Cameron, Director of the Allan Memorial Institute in Montreal, formally applied for funding from the "Society for the Investigation of Human Ecology," a CIA front at Cornell University Medical School, New York City. Cameron described his brainwashing experiments as follows:

"(i) The breaking down ongoing patterns of patient's behavior by particularly intensive electroshocks (depatterning).

(ii) Intensive repetition (16 hours a day for 6-7 days) of prearranged verbal signal.

(iii) During this intensive repetition the patient is kept in partial sensory isolation.

(iv) Repression of the driving period is carried out by putting the patient, after the conclusion of the period, into continuous sleep for 7-10 days."

Cameron also proposed testing "LSD and similar agents" in "depat-terning" his patients. Sidney Gottlieb and other CIA officials approved the application and over four years, provided $60,000 for the experiments.

Canada's Government Aided the CIA's Legal Defense

In the 1980s, the CIA and State Department launched a public counterattack on the Canadian government for questioning the propriety of CIA activities. The CIA effectively converted the Canadian government into an active and hostile opponent.

In press briefings, interviews and Court pleadings, the CIA hammered away at one theme - Canada funded Cameron too. Legally, this was irrelevant, but politically, it was devastating. As one U.S. Attorney said, "We're going to wrap the Canadian Government financing of Cameron right around their necks."

This steady counterattack left the Canadian government completely cowed, apparently a fairly easy thing for the U.S. to accomplish. To turn off the public heat for supporting our case, the Mulroney government commissioned an "independent study" by a former Tory M.P., John Cooper. The result was neither independent nor a study, but a several hundred page brief concluding Canada was blameless, and CIA involvement was "a red herring."

The "Cooper Report" was compiled and written by Canadian Justice Department lawyers, whose job was to defend Canada against claims of liability based on its involvement with Cameron. A more clear conflict of interest is difficult to imagine. No Canadian Bar disciplinary committee has investigated the lawyers who did it.

The "Cooper Report" asserted that Cameron had done nothing wrong. Without interviewing any of our clients or reviewing their medical records, the report announced there was probably little if any lasting harm to the victims. The report reproduced the CIA's principal defenses, now as the "independent" conclusions of an official Canadian government investigation. The "Cooper Report" was a complete whitewash.

What once had appeared to be our strongest potential ally, threatening even to take the U.S. to the International Court of Justice at the Hague, now sought to exonerate the CIA in every conceivable way possible. The Canadian government did such a good job for the CIA that the "Cooper Report" became the first exhibit in the CIA's final effort to defeat our case through a motion for summary judgment. In addition, the same psychiatrists who the Canadian government had retained to ratify the Cooper whitewash were the CIA's expert witnesses. Canada completed the legwork that an associate in a good law firm usually does for a senior partner.

Nuremberg Tribunal Member

Dr. Ewen Cameron was a member of the Nuremberg tribunal (1945). He examined and diagnosed Rudolf Hess, Hitler's devoted "deputy Fuhrer" responsible for Nazi party matters, saying that he was insane, thus helping to save Hess' life. In 1961, Cameron became president of the World Psychiatric Association, which was riddled with Nazi psychiatrists and apologists. Cameron's mind control experiments violated the Nuremberg Code for medical ethics.

The existence of MK ULTRA was first brought to light by maverick government officer John Marks - on 20th September 1977 the U.S. Senate investigated MK ULTRA discovering that thousands of people had been the unwitting victims of mind control experiments.

In 1977 the Senate investigated CIA activities. The CIA denied any involvement in MK ULTRA activities.

CIA document referring to MK ULTRA - dated 10th May 1954:

Extract from the report:

Between 1955 and 1975 thousands of people were unwittingly experimented upon by MK ULTRA and the U.S. Military. Of these approximately 7000 enlisted soldiers were used as human guinea pigs in experiments involving a wide array of biological and chemical warfare agents. About 3500 of these soldiers were given mind-altering psychochemicals - L.S.D., PCP, BZ and the like. These tests were carried out at the Chemical Warfare Laboratories at Edgewood Arsenal facility in Maryland.

On 3rd October 1995, President Clinton publicly apologised to the thousands of people who became unwitting victims of "Government Sponsored" radiation experiments. The following was included in his speech:

"Thousands of government-sponsored experiments did take place at hospitals, universities, and military bases around our nation. The goal was to understand the effects of radiation exposure on the human body. While most of the tests were ethical by any standards, some were unethical, not only by today's standards, but by the standards of the time in which they were conducted. They failed both the test of our national values and the test of humanity. In one experiment, scientists injected plutonium into 18 patients without their knowledge. In another, doctors exposed indigent cancer patients to excessive doses of radiation, a treatment from which it is virtually impossible that they could ever benefit. The report also demonstrates that these and other experiments were carried out on precisely those citizens who count most on the government for its help - the destitute and the gravely ill. But the dispossessed were not alone. Members of the military precisely those on whom we and our government count most they were also test subjects."

'Cheaper than Cats'

Psychiatrist Ernst Rudin's "racial hygiene" policies in Nazi Germany and Serbian psychiatrist Jovan Raskovic's "ethnic cleansing" agenda in Bosnia provide examples of how far off the rails things can go when social engineers hold sway.

Closer to home, Canadian human rights advocate Rod Vienneau told Freedom that Heinz Lehmann, Ewen Cameron and other prominent psychiatrists performed numerous experiments on normal children held at various orphanages in Quebec from the 1940s through the 1960s.

Vienneau believes thousands of the orphans died, many of them from tests that allegedly included powerful psychiatric drugs, brain surgeries and lobotomies. He seeks a government probe of the deaths and related human rights abuses - a matter Freedom is investigating.

Psychiatrist Robert Heath, who, like Lehmann and Cameron, received funding from the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency for behavioral control or "mind-control" experiments, reportedly preferred African-Americans and hospital patients as subjects. According to fellow psychiatrist Harry Bailey, "in New Orleans, where it was cheaper to use Niggers than cats, because they were everywhere and cheap experimental animals - they started to use them, Negroes and patients in hospitals...."

The New Orleans experiments, according to Bailey, included implanting electrodes in cat and human brains.

A History of Experimentation on U.S. Citizens

(1931) Mr. Cornelius Rhoads, under the auspices of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Investigations, infects human subjects with cancer cells. He later goes on to establish the U.S. Army Biological Warfare facilities in Maryland, Utah, and Panama, and is named to the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. While there, he begins a series of radiation exposure experiments on American soldiers and civilian hospital patients.

(1932) The Tuskegee Syphilis Study begins. 200 black men diagnosed with syphilis are never told of their illness, are denied treatment, and instead are used as human guinea pigs in order to follow the progression and symptoms of the disease. They all subsequently die from syphilis, their families never told that they could have been treated.

(1935) The Pellagra Incident. After millions of individuals die from Pellagra over a span of two decades, the U.S. Public Health Service finally acts to stem the disease. The director of the agency admits it had known for at least 20 years that Pellagra is caused by a niacin deficiency but failed to act since most of the deaths occurred within poverty-stricken black populations.

(1940) Four hundred prisoners in Chicago are infected with Malaria in order to study the effects of new and experimental drugs to combat the disease. Nazi doctors later on trial at Nuremberg cite this American study to defend their own actions during the Holocaust.

(1942) Chemical Warfare Services begins mustard gas experiments on approximately 4,000 servicemen. The experiments continue until 1945 and made use of Seventh Day Adventists who chose to become human guinea pigs rather than serve on active duty.

(1943) In response to Japan's full-scale germ warfare program, the U.S. begins research on biological weapons at Fort Detrick, MD.

(1944) U.S. Navy uses human subjects to test gas masks and clothing. Individuals were locked in a gas chamber and exposed to mustard gas and lewisite.

(1945) Project Paperclip is initiated. The U.S. State Department, Army intelligence, and the CIA recruit Nazi scientists and offer them immunity and secret identities in exchange for work on top secret government projects in the United States.

(1945) Program F" is implemented by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) This is the most extensive U.S. study of the health effects of fluoride, which was the key chemical component in atomic bomb production. One of the most toxic chemicals known to man, fluoride, it is found, causes marked adverse effects to the central nervous system but much of the information is squelched in the name of national security because of fear that lawsuits would undermine full-scale production of atomic bombs.

(1946) Patients in VA hospitals are used as guinea pigs for medical experiments. In order to allay suspicions, the order is given to change the word "experiments" to "investigations" or "observations" whenever reporting a medical study performed in one of the nation's veteran's hospitals.

(1947) Colonel E.E. Kirkpatrick of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission issues a secret document (Document 07075001, January 8, 1947) stating that the agency will begin administering intravenous doses of radioactive substances to human subjects.

(1947) The CIA begins its study of LSD as a potential weapon for use by American intelligence. Human subjects (both civilian and military) are used with and without their knowledge.

(1950) Department of Defense begins plans to detonate nuclear weapons in desert areas and monitor downwind residents for medical problems and mortality rates.

(1950) In an experiment to determine how susceptible an American city could be to biological attack, the U.S. Navy sprays a cloud of bacteria from ships over San Francisco. Monitoring devices are situated throughout the city in order to test the extent of infection. Many residents become ill with pneumonia-like symptoms.

(1951) Department of Defense begins open air tests using disease-producing bacteria and viruses. Tests last through 1969 and there is concern that people in the surrounding areas have been exposed.

(1953) U.S. military releases clouds of zinc cadmium sulfide gas over Winnipeg, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Fort Wayne, the Monocacy River Valley in Maryland, and Leesburg, Virginia. Their intent is to determine how efficiently they could disperse chemical agents.

(1953) Joint Army-Navy-CIA experiments are conducted in which tens of thousands of people in New York and San Francisco are exposed to the airborne germs Serratia marcescens and Bacillus globigii.

(1953) CIA initiates Project MKULTRA. This is an eleven year research program designed to produce and test drugs and biological agents that would be used for mind control and behavior modification. Six of the subprojects involved testing the agents on unwitting human beings.

(1955) The CIA, in an experiment to test its ability to infect human populations with biological agents, releases a bacteria withdrawn from the Army's biological warfare arsenal over Tampa Bay, Fl.

(1955) Army Chemical Corps continues LSD research, studying its potential use as a chemical incapacitating agent. More than 1,000 Americans participate in the tests, which continue until 1958.

(1956) U.S. military releases mosquitoes infected with Yellow Fever over Savannah, Ga and Avon Park, Fl. Following each test, Army agents posing as public health officials test victims for effects.

(1960) The Army Assistant Chief-of-Staff for Intelligence (ACSI) authorizes field testing of LSD in Europe and the Far East. Testing of the European population is code named Project THIRD CHANCE; testing of the Asian population is code named Project DERBY HAT.

(1965) CIA and Department of Defense begin Project MKSEARCH, a program to develop a capability to manipulate human behavior through the use of mind-altering drugs.

(1965) Prisoners at the Holmesburg State Prison in Philadelphia are subjected to dioxin, the highly toxic chemical component of Agent Orange used in Vietnam. The men are later studied for development of cancer, which indicates that Agent Orange had been a suspected carcinogen all along.

(1966) CIA initiates Project MK OFTEN, a program to test the toxicological effects of certain drugs on humans and animals.

(1966) U.S. Army dispenses Bacillus subtilis variant niger throughout the New York City subway system. More than a million civilians are exposed when army scientists drop light bulbs filled with the bacteria onto ventilation grates.

(1967) CIA and Department of Defense implement Project MK NAOMI, successor to MK ULTRA and designed to maintain, stockpile and test biological and chemical weapons.

(1968) CIA experiments with the possibility of poisoning drinking water by injecting chemicals into the water supply of the FDA in Washington, D.C.

(1969) Mr. Robert MacMahan of the Department of Defense requests from congress $10 million to develop, within 5 to 10 years, a synthetic biological agent to which no natural immunity exists.

(1970) United States intensifies its development of ethnic weapons (Military Review, Nov., 1970), designed to selectively target and eliminate specific ethnic groups who are susceptible due to genetic differences and variations in DNA.

(1975) The virus section of Fort Detrick's Center for Biological Warfare Research is renamed the Fredrick Cancer Research Facilities and placed under the supervision of the National Cancer Institute (NCI) . It is here that a special virus cancer program is initiated by the U.S. Navy, purportedly to develop cancer-causing viruses. It is also here that retro virologists isolate a virus to which no immunity exists. It is later named HTLV (Human T-cell Leukemia Virus).

(1977) Senate hearings on Health and Scientific Research confirm that 239 populated areas had been contaminated with biological agents between 1949 and 1969. Some of the areas included San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Key West, Panama City, Minneapolis, and St. Louis.

(1978) Experimental Hepatitis B vaccine trials, conducted by the CDC, begin in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Ads for research subjects specifically ask for promiscuous homosexual men.

(1981) First cases of AIDS are confirmed in homosexual men in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco, triggering speculation that AIDS may have been introduced via the Hepatitis B vaccine.

(1985) According to the journal Science (227:173-177), HTLV and VISNA, a fatal sheep virus, are very similar, indicating a close taxonomic and evolutionary relationship.

(1986) According to the Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences (83:4007-4011), HIV and VISNA are highly similar and share all structural elements, except for a small segment which is nearly identical to HTLV. This leads to speculation that HTLV and VISNA may have been linked to produce a new retrovirus to which no natural immunity exists.

(1986) A report to Congress reveals that the U.S. Government's current generation of biological agents includes: modified viruses, naturally occurring toxins, and agents that are altered through genetic engineering to change immunological character and prevent treatment by all existing vaccines.

(1987) Department of Defense admits that, despite a treaty banning research and development of biological agents, it continues to operate research facilities at 127 facilities and universities around the nation.

(1990) More than 1500 six-month old black and Hispanic babies in Los Angeles are given an "experimental" measles vaccine that had never been licensed for use in the United States. CDC later admits that parents were never informed that the vaccine being injected to their children was experimental.

(1994) With a technique called "gene tracking," Dr. Garth Nicolson at the MD. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, TX discovers that many returning Desert Storm veterans are infected with an altered strain of Mycoplasma incognitus, a microbe commonly used in the production of biological weapons. Incorporated into its molecular structure is 40 percent of the HIV protein coat, indicating that it had been man-made.

(1994) Senator John D. Rockefeller issues a report revealing that for at least 50 years the Department of Defense has used hundreds of thousands of military personnel in human experiments and for intentional exposure to dangerous substances. Materials included mustard and nerve gas, ionizing radiation, psycho chemicals, hallucinogens, and drugs used during the Gulf War.

(1995) U.S. Government admits that it had offered Japanese war criminals and scientists who had performed human medical experiments salaries and immunity from prosecution in exchange for data on biological warfare research.

(1995) Dr. Garth Nicolson, uncovers evidence that the biological agents used during the Gulf War had been manufactured in Houston, TX. and Boca Raton, Fl. and tested on prisoners in the Texas Department of Corrections.

(1996) Department of Defense admits that Desert Storm soldiers were exposed to chemical agents.

(1997) Eighty-eight members of Congress sign a letter demanding an investigation into bio weapons use & Gulf War Syndrome.

In 1989 a patent was granted for a device which could broadcast intelligible auditory voice messag

The Jesuits

We will consider the Jesuits, firstly, in regard to themselves; secondly, in regard to the Church; finally, in regards to society. *

In regard to themselves.

Many will tell me that they know some Jesuits who are very gentle, kind, and learned men. I also know many individuals whose only sin is that they are Jesuits, being otherwise charitable, pious, gentle, and learned; but that is not our question. We do not speak about individuals, but about Jesuits, as members of the Society of Jesus.

Hear my popular comparison. In a picnic, each brings a dish or wine, usually the best; fish, fowl, venison, plum puddings, pies, soup, salad, champagne, claret. But suppose the director, by some caprice, mixes all together, all would cry, "very bad!" Why? The fish was good as fish, the fowl as fowl; but, when all were mixed together, they were no longer good. So, some Jesuits are very good fish, and some excellent fowl; but all together are shockingly bad. Therefore we do not speak against father Peter nor against father Paul, but against father Jesuit.

* The Lecturer observed that he would give two free Lectures in this Course for the industrial classes, especially the Irish, having been invited by several Irish Roman Catholics to do so; that he was wronged when accused of assailing the Irish – for that he always asserted their genius for poetry and oratory; that it was against their priests, who enslaved them, he spoke; that the proceeds of one Lecture would be for the Piedmontese exiles. He respected highly the kind Piedmont Government, and meant it no slight; but as it was, to it, a necessity to banish those deluded men, so it was, to persons in America, a charity to aid them.

"But, they are very moral." I have nothing to say against the individual morality of the Jesuits. The Pharisees presented a good exterior, but we know what Christ said of them. The Jesuits are holy outside, but, tear down the walls, as the voice said to the prophet Daniel, and you will see the abomination of desolation.

The Society of Jesus has ever been considered in the highest degree immoral by all enlightened people.*

But they cultivate passive obedience, and their panegyrist extol it, the worst and most dangerous of their maxims. The Jesuit is a good Jesuit only when no longer a man; let him become a stone, or as it is said by the ascetics, as a corpse, and then he is a perfect Jesuit! Obedience! to God it is a virtue ; to astute and fallible man, it is a stupidity, a vice. God created a man to be a man, not a stone; therefore to become a stone, is not a virtue before God. The first 'gift of God to man is liberty; to lose it willingly is to despise the Word of God. Every reasonable being was made to use his reason for his salvation and that of his brethren; he who renounces his reason, renounces the work of God. You guide your horses where you will, because they are irrational. When the father Superior, Provincial, and General of the Jesuits guides that body, he does not direct men, but drives beasts.

This obedience is fatal to society. You call the force of an army brute, because the men blindly obey, and, generally, for the destruction of happiness and freedom. The Jesuits are called "a company " that is "an army;" without will, reason, discretion; having merely the passive obedience which belongs to "brute force." That of armies has ever been fatal to society; that of Jesuits to religious freedom, and constitutional government.

But their motto is, " ad majorem Dei gloriam;" their end "the greater glory of God." Christ promoted the glory,

At Montepulciano, the people and the bishop himself, on discovering the lascivious correspondence of father Gombard, expelled him. In our last crusades, when the Italian volunteers entered Modena, and despoiled the college of the Jesuits, they found and preserved a large epistolary correspondence between the holy fathers and their secret lovers of the confessional and nunnery. They do not give open scandal-thus more dangerous.

the Jesuits, more instructed. Promote the greater glory, of God! Christ, to promote God's glory, preached charity, honesty, justice, reasonable religion, the Jesuits, to uphold "Christ's Vicar," which is their greater glory, preach mental reservation, perjury, immoralities, regicide, the subversion of society. The proverb says "extremes are dangerous;" when not content with the glory of God, as inculcated by Christ, I fear I but aid, by their means, the "greater glory" of the Jesuits.

Extremes in religion lead immorality. They exclaim, "the Church cannot subsist without the Jesuits."* The primitive Church was true; it had no Jesuits. "But times and men are changed; what was unnecessary then, is necessary now."

When the false Church trembled before Luther, Calvin, and other reformers, the Jesuits suddenly arose to support it. It cannot exist without them; destroy them and it perishes. Did Christ inspire Ignatius Loyola to establish the society of Jesuits? No! His true Church did not need it. Therefore, the Church which does is Antichrist's, and Satan inspired Ignatius Loyola!

The Jesuits have corrupted the worship, the morals, and the faith of the Church. Superstitions especially increased after their establishment. +

* The Jesuit fathers Curci, Bresciani, Pellico, their modern historian Creteneau Joly, and many others, have repeated this little blasphemy.

+ From the Jesuits we have the Malabarians, infamous rites. They encouraged and supported the worship of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and the Sacred Heart of the Virgin Mary. They invented the holy farce of Good Friday called "the three hours of our Saviour's anguish on Golgotha." They promoted the worship of the forty hours, in which the wafer is presented to the people for particular adoration. For three centuries no superstition, no idolatrous worship, has been introduced into the Church of Rome, that was not particularly patronized by the Jesuits. Some ten or twenty Years ago, they patronized the worship of Sancta Philomena, the worst among Christians, as encouraging all species of immorality. And now, especially in England and America, is cultivated by them the worship of Saint Alphonso Liguori, whose books are the most fanatical, and sometimes the most stupid, ever written among Papists. I have no time, and it is not my business now, to discover all the kinds of turpitude introduced into their theology by the Jesuit fathers Busembau, Eacobar,

The morality of the Jesuits is extolled. The Protestant morality is to say "Yes" Or "NO" according to the fact. But the Jesuit is not so hampered; he has his "mental reservation"*

The last degree of immorality is the theory of father Molinos, called quietism, by which all immoralities are permitted, provided that the mind be quiet in God. +

The Jesuits taught the killing of kings. True many were murdered before the order existed; but that order first taught that it is honest, just, and right to kill a tyrant king, - when the Jesuits have declared him a tyrant!

The cardinal point and ground of these immoralities is the theory of Fathers Tirino, Nicolai, and others, that "the end justifies the means." Saint Paul teaches otherwise; but they say, commit any amount of evil to do a little good; and as the greatest good is to promote the Jesuitical cause, to promote it, it were necessary to subvert, to oppress, all Europe, all the new World, to kill all the inhabitants of both these continents, it is right to subvert, to oppress, to kill!

True to their origin (to oppose the reformers of the six-and especially Sanchez, who wrote a book on marriage. Sanchez's treatise is so licentiously infamous, that beside it the lasciviousness of Lucretiss, Horace, or Juvenal, looks like the writing of a holy father; yet he is now a vulnerable servant of God.

*An illustration. Suppose that a Jesuit, going to murder, is asked, "are you going to murder?" He replies "no;" and truly, according to his morality; because he was not, suppose, proceeding on foot, that is literally going, but was about to be carried in any sort of a conveyance, to the place of the murder! Another. In Latin volo signifies "I wish" and also "I fly." Suppose it is a fast-day, and you ask a Jesuit, in Latin, "Do you wish to eat a chicken?" he replies, "non volo." To you his answer means, "I do not wish;" but although he longs for the fowl, he does not lie, because to him it means, "I do not fly!" The Jesuit can swear thus; he is master of himself, and has a sense of his own mind, which keeps him from perjury! Very easy! Very elastic! The Jesuit can seem what he is not. Especially by the theology of Saint Alphonso Liguori, the compendium of all Jesuitical divines, if you are a Romanist, but live in America among Protestants, you can, for God's "greater glory," seem in every way a Protestant.

+ Get only into this blessed state, and though you rob, kill your brother, father, wife, keep your body in lust, yet, with your mind in God, all is quietude and holiness. The parliament of Paris condemned this doctrine of Mollinos as fatal to society.

teenth century), their great aim is to war against Protestantism called in their language "the bad heresy."

To obtain their end more easily, they have no particular dress, place, office, nor name; so that you have Jesuits as Jesuits, Jesuits as Liguorists, Jesuits as Redemptionists, Jesuits as Capucins, Jesuits as Newmanists. They are in the dress of priests, of soldiers, of magistrates, of policemen, and so on. They are always everywhere. * Come now, and recognize if you can, the Jesuits among you in America. You often see here a Polish, French, ay, or an Italian refugee, who speaks warmly for the freedom of his native country, declaims against tyrants, tyranny, and the Pope, and wears a large moustache. You think he is an ardent exiled patriot-ah, my friends! He is a Jesuit in disguise!

"Do you see any one coming in just now?" A poor, small insignificant little fellow! "Come in! You are welcome." He is no higher than Tom Thumb. With his large boots he looks more like a postilion than a Courier. He has two great spurs on his boots, and spectacles on his eyes. He looks like a Spaniard, but speaks French. "Come in; you are welcome!" I have the honour to introduce to my audience little Tom Thumb, called in New York "the Courier of the United States," the organ of the French population! Oh, my poor boy! You are the Courier of the United States, and you dare to say I am wrong when I speak so loudly and so warmly against France! My naughty boy! I am not the Courier of the United States, as I am not going to Paris, to solicit the cross of the Legion of Honour, and a pension from the bastard Bonaparte! My naughty boy! I speak warmly and passionately against France, because when a man has witnessed two thousand brethren wounded, mutilated, killed by a French army, that man never can have sympathy for the French Libercide nation. I speak against France, not the liberal France, the patriot France, which is the minority of the French people, but against that France which sold her liberty for a glass of champagne at Satory.

* Father Personio, the first Jesuit who went to England, assumed the dress of a Spanish officer, and was received as such at the Court of Queen Elizabeth. He it was who prepared the gunpowder plot. Father Garnet, the head of the plot, had five different names, as came out upon his trial.

You call yourself the organ of the French population. Oh! Poor Spaniard! You are not. Read, my little boy! This is a true Frenchman; this is the great Quinet, the greatest philosopher in our age of philosophic history, expelled from France by the Jesuits; and this true Frenchman. In dedicating, his work on the Revolution in Italy, offered it in these words: "To the exiled Italians this work is dedicated, as a personal expiation for the murder of Italy consummated by Frenchmen." This is a Frenchman who speaks thus, a true Frenchman. In Italy we honour such Frenchmen, and the France which produced such a man. Remember, my boy, remember; we have no anger against you, but we will give you an advice: "Henceforth do not call yourself the organ of the French population, but the organ of Archbishop Hughes; and never for the future, style yourself "Courier of the Jesuits throughout the United States."

Such are the instruments in the hands of Jesuits for spreading and supporting their doctrines and theories.

But they have a still more dangerous weapon-especially for you. Americans, remember my words. Where their males can obtain nothing, their missions are conducted by females. Accordingly, within the last ten years we find in America thousands and thousands of nuns. They go by all kinds of names - ladies of the Sacred Heart of Jesus - they are Jesuitesses! Sisters of Mercy - Jesuitesses Sisters of Charity - Jesuitesses!

The crafty serpent knowing he would lose his time with Adam, tempted Eve. Painted and beautiful, he pleased her and she fell. Graceful and endearing, she pleased Adam, and he fell.

Jesuit men would probably lose their time among Protestants; but when there come to America fine and beautiful sisters, nuns so well dressed and speaking French so well, kind and pious ladies drink those nuns' words into their hearts, to be thence transmitted to the hearts of their husbands and children! Thus do nuns make proselytes: thus have they made many in England.

Remember my words: To teach young girls to tend in hospitals the sick and dying, nuns, Sisters of Mercy, of Charity, are not needed because Protestant ladies, the wives and mothers of America, suffice to instruct their Protestant children. To carry the aids, of charity and mercy to their suffering fellow beings!

To conclude the second branch of my argument; Frederick the Great of Prussia called the Jesuits the grenadiers of the Pope; Voltaire, the pioneers of the Pope, Niccolini, the mamelukes of the Pope.

Jesuits and Pope cannot exist apart. They are the columns and the foundation of the temple of Dagon; and we invoke from heaven Samson to embrace them, Pope and Jesuits together, and give a strong and hearty pull that. Will level them with the dust, though he himself perish under the ruins.

The third branch of my discourse is, the baneful influence of Jesuits upon society, great and small, public and private.

We may look on society in a triple aspect, mind, heart, and pocket; against each the Jesuits are ever plotters. Against mind, especially, monopolizing education. A few instances will suffice to show their spirit and character as teachers. In Italy they are the bitterest enemies of Dante, the Shakespeare of the Italians. To suck the blood out of our nation, they exclude Dante from their schools. Their last great effort in France, (also in Austria,) was to expel the classic models of Greek and Latin literature. Why? Because those lights of antiquity are too republican for the Jesuit taste. *

De Maistre and Creteneau-Joly the two greatest historians of the Jesuits, relate that in the French Revolution no pupil of the Jesuits took part. Thus, Americans, if, in the time of your Washington, as now, the Jesuits had here thousands of pupils, not one of them would have had a

This was the reason given for excluding them from the University of Paris, and the schools of Rome. But they had substitutes ready; in Italy, Fathers Bettinelli and Segnieri in France, Father Bourdaloue; Jesuits instead of classics! Judge what kind of scholars are made from studying such works; Jesuit - teachers wake Jesuit scholars, pupils of no progress. Quinet and Michelet, the two greatest stars of the day, were expelled from Paris, and afterwards from France, by the intrigues of the Jesuits, that they might have their chairs for themselves.

heart or a hand for his country! And they now dare to have schools in America, and find even among Americans to speak for them.

Look at England! There fifty years ago Pitt and others proclaimed freedom of instruction, and permitted the endowment of the Roman Catholic College of Maynooth. It increased to thirty thousand pounds sterling a year, and what were the results? The teaching of rebellion, opposition to the law, disobedience to the sovereign; the countenancing of ribbon societies in the colleges by the priests - the instigation to riots. Learn a practical lesson on the wisdom of allowing Jesuits even a share in public education

Thus do Jesuits act upon the mind and heart of a nation!

But I have the strongest argument for Americans, namely, that of dollars! When coming here in the steamer Baltic I read a sermon preached for your Webster, by, I think, Theodore Parker, from which I learned for the first time that your American people are very fond of dollars. I do not despise dollars myself, for the good they can afford, nor you for loving them. But the Jesuits do not despise dollars either, and if you like a few, they like a great many. They and their emissaries have some particular arts for catching your American dollars, the art of the Confessional, and especially the art of persuading people to make last wills and testaments in favour of themselves. *

* In Milan, a few years ago, the Count Melerio, one of the principal men of the city, went to the noblemen residing there, when they were near death, to induce them to leave something to the Society of Jesus. In a few years Count Melerio, it is stated, has thus procured six millions of Italian pounds for the Jesuits! It is related in a Jesuit history, that, in the beginning of this Society, its Father Rector, in Ghent, granted one Jacob Briar, on payment, of two hundred thousand florins, (that is, only one hundred and fifty thousand dollars!) a passport to defend him against every attack of the devil! The facade of a College and Church in Bologna being, unfinished, the Marquis G-- was induced to will a large sum annually to the Jesuits, until they should have completed it. Three or four years were sufficient; but, the Jesuits enjoyed the income during one hundred and twenty-five! When they were suppressed at the end of the last century, the facade remained as it was, and it is not yet finished. Every year the Fathers were "going to complete it," but, with a little mental reservation!

Watch the Jesuits, avowed or disguised, to prevent the robbery of your families, the moral assassination of your sons and daughters.

In a large view of society, you still find the Jesuit influence fatal. If kings and rulers are fond of Jesuits, Jesuits support them; if they despise Jesuits, Jesuits menace and conspire against them. *

Jesuits are essentially absolutists; by education they prefer despotism. +

It now only remains for me to say something about yourselves, Americans. Not more than twelve or thirteen years ago I was in the Propaganda Fide, and then I knew that the Jesuits were coming to America to proselytise you. In 1847 they were really expelled from Italy, from Naples, from Piedmont, from Lombardy, from everywhere. I suspected many went to England, and perhaps more to America. People here say. "We do not know anything about that; we cannot interfere." My suspicion is now certainly; in Baltimore, the first thing I heard from Italians, was, "here, in Pennsylvania, and Virginia, there are many Jesuits; they speak French and Italian very well; they are five years here; just the time since their expulsion from Italy." This is

In Naples, about eighteen years ago, a childless, dying man, whose brother, poor, honest, and celebrated for his learning, had five or six children, left eighty thousand dollars to the Jesuits, saying he did so because they were so powerful they would never allow a fraction to reach his brother, whom he wished totally cut off. By this man's dying bed a Jesuit stood as Father Confessor, and in his last will he said, "I leave my especial curse to my brother and his children." Thus he died. This is Jesuit morality.

* Remember the true history of Europe, and the doctrine of Father Escobar, about killing kings. The Father Provincial Malagrida gave the order to wound John VI. of Portugal. In the gunpowder plot there were three Jesuits, especially Father Garnet. Henry IV. was wounded to death by an assassin, and the guilt was rightly imputed to Father Gardiner. Malagrida, Garnet, and Gardiner were hung by the civil law.

+ It is for this reason I fear Jesuits in America. On the continent of Europe I see everywhere the combination, despots and Jesuits; in Austria, in Naples, in Tuscany, (though in disguise and by their emissaries,) in Lombardy, in the Roman States. And whenever I find a liberal and constitutional government, there I find Jesuits menacing it.

the fruit of that saying of theirs, "what we have lost in Italy we must regain in America."

Oh, good Americans, do you suppose they are working for the American nation, the American glory? They work for themselves and Rome alone! People ask, "What practical conclusion do you propose?" This is my answer-if I were in my native country, as, under God's blessing, I hope to be, perhaps before the end of this year, I should say to my Italians, "To-morrow, in this land, let there be no Jesuits!" and it would be so. I preach no assassination, no murder, no killing, I say, "Go out-we will pay your expenses-go!"*

In America all are free. But remember-before the revision of your Constitution all were not free to work against your law and republic Constitution. Let there be no assassination, murdering, or killing; but, watch their movements, and in the first case where you find a Jesuit really teaching a doctrine contrary to your American freedom, working practically against your Constitution and your liberty, take the opportunity-expel the Jesuits from your country, and then your freedom will be placed on a secure basis!

But now a dreadful outcry-"This is preaching discord among those who lived peaceably together; the fatal lectures of Father Gavazzi!" Yes, war against the devil and evil, therefore against Jesuits and Jesuitism. War to the last, because these very insinuations prove the secret work of Jesuits among you. They excite the public press, and public men to speak these words in order to work undisturbed, and yet protected by public opinion. Fear me, reproach me, and then go forth and see whether you may not find something not very honourable for your America.

In England I was told, "You will find in America stubborn independence."

*In England I clearly said, "English people, you call yourselves serious and logical, but in my opinion you are very illogical. There is a law against Jesuits in your country, (contained in the Act of Emancipation,) and yet you now have, instead of fourteen Jesuits, as before the law, five hundred Jesuits, in spite of the law. I do not preach persecution, but legality. Expel the Jesuits from England, and you will be called a legal and consistent people."

I find in America many and many Protestants with no independence at all, but really and truly dependant on Romanists. You have among you some politicians who cry "Peace! Tolerance! Leave all free!" Why? They expect votes from Romanists! this is really great independence! I find in America some, (fortunately not the majority,) some public writers, some belonging to the public press, editors and proprietors of newspapers, who always speak of Romanists with great deference. On Protestant glories and achievements they are dumb; but they burst into loud panegyrics, and give lengthy details, to commemorate the laying of the corner-stone of a Popish building, the last consecration by Archbishop Hughes, and the recent sermon of the Reverend Dr So-and-so. Oh great independence! They fear to lose four or five cents a week from their daily or weekly income. But why this subservience to the Popish system? I do not speak particularly about politicians, because, as it is said in ordinary, they have no religion at all; they are Christians, Jews, Pagans, Papists; it is all the same to them; they only look to their places; twenty thousand dollars in London, in Paris, or somewhere else, is the essence of their religion. But why do they and the rest so fawn upon the Romanists? They know the Romanists are united. Therefore they say, " I will pay my court to the Archbishop of New York; he can command twenty, thirty, forty thousand votes, and I will get the votes," thus they pay their court to Archbishop Hughes.

Oh, Protestants! profit by the lesson. It is union among, Romanists that makes their influence. Unite Protestants, and you will hold the balance of power in this, your own country. In Baltimore I was ashamed to see a hundred and fifty thousand Protestants overawed by fifty thousand Romanists. Before the Italian exile you will not do honour to your nation if you appear to him so dependent-permit him to say, in some instances, with a cowardly dependence on Romanists. I cannot preach persecution of the Romanists, but in a Protestant country, in which Protestantism makes the freedom and the glory of the people, I cannot permit---

Remember my last word of this evening. Your glorious, your American Washington did not fight against England in order to prepare the present generation to kneel before Archbishop Hughes, or any Romanist or Papist upon earth. His toil was given, his blood was shed, that you, Americans, might be always a Protestant, and by being a Protestant, always a great, a free, and a glorious nation!

The Jesuit Oath Exposed

"Go ye, then, into all the world and take possession of all lands in the name of the Pope. He who will not accept him as the Vicar of Jesus and his Vice-Regent on earth, let him be accursed and exterminated."

Professor Arthur Noble

[The following is the text of the Jesuit Extreme Oath of Induction as recorded in the Journals of the 62nd Congress, 3rd Session, of the United States Congressional Record (House Calendar No. 397, Report No. 1523, 15 February, 1913, pp. 3215-3216), from which it was subsequently torn out. The Oath is also quoted by Charles Didier in his book Subterranean Rome (New York, 1843), translated from the French original. Dr. Alberto Rivera, who escaped from the Jesuit Order in 1967, confirms that the induction ceremony and the text of the Jesuit Oath which he took were identical to what we have cited below. – A. N.]

When a Jesuit of the minor rank is to be elevated to command, he is conducted into the Chapel of the Convent of the Order, where there are only three others present, the principal or Superior standing in front of the altar. On either side stands a monk, one of whom holds a banner of yellow and white, which are the Papal colours, and the other a black banner with a dagger and red cross above a skull and crossbones, with the word INRI, and below them the words IUSTUM NECAR REGES IMPIUS. The meaning of which is: It is just to exterminate or annihilate impious or heretical Kings, Governments, or Rulers.

Upon the floor is a red cross at which the postulant or candidate kneels. The Superior hands him a small black crucifix, which he takes in his left hand and presses to his heart, and the Superior at the same time presents to him a dagger, which he grasps by the blade and holds the point against his heart, the Superior still holding it by the hilt, and thus addresses the postulant:

My son, heretofore you have been taught to act the dissembler: among Roman Catholics to be a Roman Catholic, and to be a spy even among your own brethren; to believe no man, to trust no man. Among the Reformers, to be a Reformer; among the Huguenots, to be a Huguenot; among the Calvinists, to be a Calvinist; among other Protestants, generally to be a Protestant; and obtaining their confidence, to seek even to preach from their pulpits, and to denounce with all the vehemence in your nature our Holy Religion and the Pope; and even to descend so low as to become a Jew among Jews, that you might be enabled to gather together all information for the benefit of your Order as a faithful soldier of the Pope. You have been taught to plant insidiously the seeds of jealousy and hatred between communities, provinces, states that were at peace, and to incite them to deeds of blood, involving them in war with each other, and to create revolutions and civil wars in countries that were independent and prosperous, cultivating the arts and the sciences and enjoying the blessings of peace; to take sides with the combatants and to act secretly with your brother Jesuit, who might be engaged on the other side, but openly opposed to that with which you might be connected, only that the Church might be the gainer in the end, in the conditions fixed in the treaties for peace and that the end justifies the means. You have been taught your duty as a spy, to gather all statistics, facts and information in your power from every source; to ingratiate yourself into the confidence of the family circle of Protestants and heretics of every class and character, as well as that of the merchant, the banker, the lawyer, among the schools and universities, in parliaments and legislatures, and the judiciaries and councils of state, and to be all things to all men, for the Pope's sake, whose servants we are unto death. You have received all your instructions heretofore as a novice, a neophyte, and have served as co-adjurer, confessor and priest, but you have not yet been invested with all that is necessary to command in the Army of Loyola in the service of the Pope. You must serve the proper time as the instrument and executioner as directed by your superiors; for none can command here who has not consecrated his labours with the blood of the heretic; for "without the shedding of blood no man can be saved". Therefore, to fit yourself for your work and make your own salvation sure, you will, in addition to your former oath of obedience to your order and allegiance to the Pope, repeat after me:

(Text of the Oath:)

I _____, now in the presence of Almighty God, the blessed Virgin Mary, the blessed St. John the Baptist, the Holy Apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul, and all the saints, sacred host of Heaven, and to you, my Ghostly Father, the superior general of the Society of Jesus, founded by St. Ignatius Loyola, in the pontification of Paul the Third, and continued to the present, do by the womb of the Virgin, the matrix of God, and the rod of Jesus Christ, declare and swear that His Holiness, the Pope, is Christ's Vice-Regent and is the true and only head of the Catholic or Universal Church throughout the earth; and that by the virtue of the keys of binding and loosing given to His Holiness by my Saviour, Jesus Christ, he hath power to depose heretical Kings, Princes, States, Commonwealths, and Governments, and they may be safely destroyed. Therefore to the utmost of my power I will defend this doctrine and His Holiness's right and custom against all usurpers of the heretical or Protestant authority whatever, especially the Lutheran Church of Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, and the now pretended authority and Churches of England and Scotland, and the branches of same now established in Ireland and on the continent of America and elsewhere and all adherents in regard that they may be usurped and heretical, opposing the sacred Mother Church of Rome. I do now denounce and disown any allegiance as due to any heretical king, prince or State, named Protestant or Liberal, or obedience to any of their laws, magistrates or officers. I do further declare the doctrine of the Churches of England and Scotland of the Calvinists, Huguenots, and others of the name of Protestants or Masons to be damnable, and they themselves to be damned who will not forsake the same. I do further declare that I will help, assist, and advise all or any of His Holiness's agents, in any place where I should be, in Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Ireland or America, or in any other kingdom or territory I shall come to, and do my utmost to extirpate the heretical Protestant or Masonic doctrines and to destroy all their pretended powers, legal or otherwise. I do further promise and declare that, notwithstanding, I am dispensed with to assume any religion heretical for the propagation of the Mother Church's interest; to keep secret and private all her agents' counsels from time to time, as they entrust me, and not to divulge, directly or indirectly, by word, writing or circumstances whatever; but to execute all that should be proposed, given in charge, or discovered unto me by you, my Ghostly Father, or any of this sacred order. I do further promise and declare that I will have no opinion or will of my own or any mental reservation whatever, even as a corpse or cadaver (perinde ac cadaver), but will unhesitatingly obey each and every command that I may receive from my superiors in the militia of the Pope and of Jesus Christ. That I will go to any part of the world whithersoever I may be sent, to the frozen regions north, jungles of India, to the centres of civilisation of Europe, or to the wild haunts of the barbarous savages of America without murmuring or repining, and will be submissive in all things, whatsoever is communicated to me. I do further promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly and openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Masons, as I am directed to do, to extirpate them from the face of the whole earth; and that I will spare neither age, sex nor condition, and that I will hang, burn, waste, boil, flay, strangle, and bury alive these infamous heretics; rip up the stomachs and wombs of their women, and crush their infants' heads against the walls in order to annihilate their execrable race. That when the same cannot be done openly I will secretly use the poisonous cup, the strangulation cord, the steel of the poniard, or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honour, rank, dignity or authority of the persons, whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed so to do by any agents of the Pope or Superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Father of the Society of Jesus. In confirmation of which I hereby dedicate my life, soul, and all corporal powers, and with the dagger which I now receive I will subscribe my name written in my blood in testimony thereof; and should I prove false, or weaken in my determination, may my brethren and fellow soldiers of the militia of the Pope cut off my hands and feet and my throat from ear to ear, my belly be opened and sulphur burned therein with all the punishment that can be inflicted upon me on earth, and my soul shall be tortured by demons in eternal hell forever. That I will in voting always vote for a Knight of Columbus in preference to a Protestant, especially a Mason, and that I will leave my party so to do; that if two Catholics are on the ticket I will satisfy myself which is the better supporter of Mother Church and vote accordingly. That I will not deal with or employ a Protestant if in my power to deal with or employ a Catholic. That I will place Catholic girls in Protestant families that a weekly report may be made of the inner movements of the heretics. That I will provide myself with arms and ammunition that I may be in readiness when the word is passed, or I am commanded to defend the Church either as an individual or with the militia of the Pope. All of which I, _____, do swear by the blessed Trinity and blessed sacrament which I am now to receive to perform and on part to keep this my oath. In testimony hereof, I take this most holy and blessed sacrament of the Eucharist and witness the same further with my name written with the point of this dagger dipped in my own blood and seal in the face of this holy sacrament.

*You will now rise to your feet and I will instruct you in the Catechism necessary to make yourself known to any member of the Society of Jesus belonging to this rank. In the first place, you, as a Brother Jesuit, will with another mutually make the ordinary sign of the cross as any ordinary Roman Catholic would; then one crosses his wrists, the palms of his hands open, and the other in answer crosses his feet, one above the other; the first points with forefinger of the right hand to the centre of the palm of the left, the other with the forefinger of the left hand points to the centre of the palm of the right; the first then with his right hand makes a circle around his head, touching it; the other then with the forefinger of his left hand touches the left side of his body just below his heart; the first then with his right hand draws it across the throat of the other, and the latter then with a dagger down the stomach and abdomen of the first. The first then says lustum; and the other answers Necar; the first Reges; the other answers Impious. The first will then present a small piece of paper folded in a peculiar manner, four times, which the other will cut longitudinally and on opening the name Jesu will be found written upon the head* and arms of a cross three times. You will then give and receive with him the following questions and answers:

From whither do you come? Answer: The Holy faith.

Whom do you serve? Answer: The Holy Father at Rome, the Pope, and the Roman Catholic Church Universal throughout the world.

Who commands you? Answer: The Successor of St. Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus or the Soldiers of Jesus Christ.

Who received you? Answer: A venerable man in white hair.

How? Answer: With a naked dagger, I kneeling upon the cross beneath the banners of the Pope and of our sacred order.

Did you take an oath? Answer: I did, to destroy heretics and their governments and rulers, and to spare neither age, nor sex, nor condition; to be as a corpse without any opinion or will of my own, but to implicitly obey my Superiors in all things without hesitation or murmuring.

Will you do that? Answer: I will.

How do you travel? Answer: In the bark of Peter the fisherman.

Whither do you travel? Answer: To the four quarters of the globe.

For what purpose? Answer: To obey the orders of my General and Superiors and execute the will of the Pope and faithfully fulfil the conditions of my oaths.

Go ye, then, into all the world and take possession of all lands in the name of the Pope. He who will not accept him as the Vicar of Jesus and his Vice-Regent on earth, let him be accursed and exterminated.

Comment
From CM Ross

Greetings,

I really had to smile at the article asserting that the Jesuits wish to destroy the Jews. As you may know, the British issued a White Paper in about 1919 stating that the recent Communist revolution in Russia was entirely Jewish in origin and that this revolution posed the greatest threat to Western civilization.

The Jesuits have now totally embraced Communism under the guise of "Liberation Theology." Now what does that tell you?

Obviously, the Jews are the ones who wish to destroy the Jesuits, and not the other way around. And I submit that they have succeeded beyond their wildest dreams.

"The Plot Against the Church" by Maurice Pinay uses original documents and even Jewish documents to demonstrate that the goal of Judaism has been the destruction of Christianity for the past 2,000 years. By inducing Catholics to give up their beliefs one by one, Pinay demonstrates that in this manner, the Jews slowly destroy the belief system of Catholics and that all heresies such as Protestantism and Islam stem from Jewish intrigues.

That the present Novus Ordo, or New Order, Mass has incorporated Jewish prayers into its service and is a gross corruption of the True Mass demonstrates the verity of Pinay's book. And most of the Jesuits now offer the New Mass, not the True Mass.

Sincerely,

Miss Ross

In late May, 2003, The Voice Of Israel radio broadcast a report from Rome. After visiting his papal pals, Shimon Peres decided to run for chairman of the Israeli Labor Party. The eighty year old Peres promised to keep Israel on the Roadmap and fulfil the promises of Oslo.

Peres, educated in his youth at a Jesuit school in Poland, is the highest ranking operative run by the Jesuits in Israel and his task is spreading chaos ending with national destruction. The destruction of the Jews is a primary goal of the Jesuits and I am presenting proof of this assertion through a book that collected the facts brilliantly but missed the most obvious conclusions. I speak of Unholy Trinity by Mark Aarons and John Loftus.

This is not the first time Aarons and Loftus collected evidence with flair but missed the whole picture. In their far better known, the Secret War Against The Jews, the authors exposed the likes of the Dulles brothers and the Harriman clan and their machinations against the Jews without understanding their direct connections to the Council On Foreign Relations and ultimately, the Jesuits

I pointed this out to John Loftus several years ago and he replied that he didn't miss the connection, he didn't believe it. However, since then, he has grudgingly budged a bit, twice writing that my own evidence gathering was, at least, "interesting."

So, let's help the boys again, shall we? I am citing the St. Martin's Griffin edition of Unholy Trinity. I have no intention of describing the gruesome acts of the diabolical characters portrayed in the book, nor will I even identify their roles. For that, get the book. My intention is to expose the Jesuit connection to the Holocaust, and the escape of the perpetrators to the four corners of the planet by way of the Jesuit's Ratlines to safety.

Before we examine Unholy Trinity, it would be helpful to supply some historical background. John Daniel does so admirably in his book, The Grand Design, (CHJ Publishing, 1999).

pp 151: The most important factor in the recatholizing of Germany was the educational activity of the Jesuits. They succeeded in rapid succession the founding of colleges in all the important towns of the German Empire.

pp 159: When Rome launched her counter-offensive to halt the progress of Protestantism, she began in Germany; one of the areas she felt sedition was most deeply rooted. When Rome had finished, Germany was depopulated. Its people had either been killed by the Thirty Years War or had fled the area. Germany itself had been reduced to a virtual wilderness area.

pp 162: When backtracking to the origin of this complexity of deception, it brings us straight to the real heart of the matter, the intense hatred of the Roman Catholic Church for anyone or anything that opposes her goals. It positively isn't a Jewish conspiracy, but strictly Roman Catholic, who have strategically used certain Jews for their cause's advantage.

Now on to Unholy Trinity. The subject of the book is the smuggling out of Europe of tens of thousands of Nazis after World War 2 via the Vatican ratlines. Included also are clear pictures of the Jesuits' activities against the Jews preceding and during the war.

pp 22: American intelligence had been taking an active interest in the Vatican's response to the 'Red Menace' for some time. Indeed 'high-ranking Allied intelligence officers' were reportedly in 'close relations with high Vatican dignitaries' well before the Nazi collapse. In October 1945 the Americans noted the 'preponderant influence which the Jesuit fathers, who always present concrete and well-reasoned projects, tend to exercise at the Curia. According to their source, the Jesuits were leading the Holy See's struggle with Moscow, and the, 'one positive step so far taken by the Vatican has been the organization of a penetration program; especially resourceful that is being sent into the area to lead the catholic elements and through their zeal and example to keep these elements from wavering. Most of these agents are Jesuits.'

pp 31: Father Burkhardt Schneider, a German Jesuit, is also certain that, 'Bishop Hudal was not at all close to the Vatican.' Schneider, who prepared the Holy See's defence of Pius XII's wartime role, was adamant that Hudal was 'very much on the fringes.'

pp 57: In 1932, Draganovic went to Rome to study at the Papal Oriental Institute and the Jesuit Gregorian University...Draganovic had returned to Rome in August 1943, representing the Ustachi and the Croatian Red Cross. This allowed him to build his escape routes for Nazi war criminals.

pp 58: One of Draganovic's most important lay colleagues was Miha Krek. Leader of the Catholic Slovene People's Party, Krek worked for British Intelligence. Draganovich's own contacts reached to the very top of the Italian Interior Ministry. The two men had another thing in common: high level Vatican contacts.

pp 59: In October 1945 the OSS had identified the Jesuits as key Vatican agents in a 'penetration program' inside Communist-occupied areas.

pps 61, 68: Vajta worked for the Hungarian secret service before the war. He had also been a senior Nazi propagandist for German-sponsored newspapers...that poisoned Hungarian public opinion... Vajta arrived in New York on 16 December 1947...The Embassy had passed the details of Vajta's trip together with a list of people he wished to meet in America. These included Cardinal Spellman, Jesuit leader Father La Farge and a host of emigre political leaders.

pp 79: Father Draganovic was the man who could lead to Pavelic's arrest and extradition...The Jesuits were among his closest Church helpers at this time, assisting his plans to leave Italy by arranging for his passage to Spain.

pp 162: For security reasons, Pius XII stated that he would not meet with Muller directly, but would receive his communications through a Jesuit priest, Father Leiber, a Vatican archivist, whom the pope trusted absolutely...On October 27 Muller was summoned to meet Father Leiber at the Jesuit Gregorian University.

pp 165: This may have been Turkul's first espionage work for the Jesuits... It is perhaps only a coincidence that Turkul was running his own Japanese Ratline into the Soviet Union for the Abwehr at the same time as the Jesuits. Even if Turkul had no direct Jesuit connection in 1938, his Abwehr boss certainly did...Turkul's NTS network had longstanding relations with British intelligence. Several of Turkul's close associates were Uniate and Orthodox clergymen who were well known to the Jesuits. Indeed, the Jesuits had built an entire college in Rome to train Uniate seminarians.

pp 175: A united Eastern Church had been the Vatican's dream since the great Orthodox schism tore Christianity apart in 1024 A.D. The hybrid Uniate Church was a compromise devised in the sixteenth century by the Jesuits and encouraged by the Habsburg dynasty.

pp 181: The centrepiece of Wachter's strategy was the five million Catholic Uniates. Their religious leader Archbishop Szepticky pointed the way by blessing the Galician SS Division. The Galician SS, complete with Uniate chaplains, would soon be a Catholic army in crusade against the 'Godless Bolsheviks.'

Aarons and Loftus, whether they intended to or not, provide evidence of Jesuit manipulations in the rise of nazism and the near total disappearance of European Jewry. To make certain their goal of the complete extermination of the Jews was reached, they saved their carefully cultivated exterminators. With that understood, see if you find a pattern in the Roadmap of recent events:

Spain offers to host Middle East peace conference

MADRID, July 2 " Spain offered on Wednesday to host a Middle East peace conference and a top Palestinian official said he would be glad to see the conference held in Madrid.

Madrid hosted a 1991 conference that launched a series of Arab-Israeli peace moves. Spanish Foreign Minister Ana Palacio took advantage of a meeting with Palestinian Foreign Minister Nabil Shaath to push Madrid's claims to hold a second conference now Middle East peace efforts have resumed.

"For Spain, it would be a very great honour to host a conference...If such a decision is taken, we would facilitate it, by providing a venue for a conference," Palacio told a news conference held jointly with Shaath.

Shaath said the Palestinian administration would be "very happy and proud if the next peace conference were here in Madrid."

He said the Spanish government had tried to host a peace conference last year but the time had not been right. "According to the (Middle East peace) road map, this conference will be necessary at the end of 2003 or at the beginning of 2004," he said. Palacio and Shaath were in an upbeat mood with both saying it was a "moment of hope" in the Middle East.

Palestinians and Israelis have this week taken the first tentative steps to implement the "road map," which envisages a Palestinian state by 2005 in the West Bank and Gaza alongside a secure Israel.

Shaath said he believed an agreement on Jerusalem, which both Israelis and Palestinians claim as their capital and is seen as one of the toughest obstacles to overcome, was possible.

"I really don't see anything as impossible. On the contrary, I see that we can reach an agreement," he said.

East Jerusalem would be the capital of Palestine and the other part of the city the capital of Israel, he said.

Both Palacio and Shaath said they believed that three Palestinians given refuge in Spain last year should at some point return to Bethlehem.

The three were among 13 Palestinians flown to European countries in May 2002 under a deal which ended a siege by Israeli forces of Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity.

"There is a European agreement for all of the Palestinians (who left last year) to return to Bethlehem," Shaath said.

Palacio and Shaath signed an agreement under which Spain will provide 10 million euros ($11.54 million) in aid to the Palestinians this year to fund health, education and job creation. Some 80 vehicles were expected to be shipped from Spain soon for the use of the Palestinian police.

RUSSIAN SENATOR DISCUSSES STATUS OF JERUSALEM HOLY PLACES WITH ISRAELI MINISTER

TEL AVIV, June 16, 2003. /From RIA Novosti correspondent Andrei Pravov/--Head of the Russian Federation Council's international committee Mikhail Margelov, who is on a visit in Israel, on Monday met Israeli Minister for Jerusalem and Diaspora Affairs Nathan Sharansky. They discussed the proposal of the Russian parliament's upper chamber to hold an international conference "Holy Places of the Holy Land" in Geneva early next year. The idea has already been endorsed by the Vatican and the Russian Orthodox Church.

UN and America say multinational force is only way to end violence

By Rupert Cornwell in Washington

15 June 2003

As violence threatens to engulf the barely launched roadmap plan for peace in the Middle East, calls are growing for a large-scale international force to be sent in, as the only hope of imposing some sort of a ceasefire between Israelis and Palestinians.

The demands came as a team of US monitors arrived in the region, and - after intense pressure from Washington and Arab countries - Palestinian and Israeli security officials agreed to resume contacts. This follows a week of bloodshed during which at least 50 people died.

The dispatch of a multinational force is increasingly seen as the only means of securing a breathing space, allowing meaningful negotiations to begin.

Pope backs Mid-East peace force

Pope John Paul II has lent his support to the creation of an international peacekeeping force to try to bring an end to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.

In one of his strongest denunciations of the continuing violence, the Pope said the international community should take "a more determined role on the ground" to help bring about peace.

<http://www.zenit.org/english/visualizza.phtml?sid=37112>

VATICAN CITY, JUNE 12, 2003 (Zenit.org).- John Paul II received a message from King Abdullah of Jordan, which was handed to the Pope personally by Jordanian Foreign Affairs Minister Marwan Muasher.

The Vatican press office gave no details on today's papal audience with the Jordanian envoy. The audience was held at a critical time in the relaunching of Mideast peace talks.

The king's message addresses "the situation in the region," according to the Jordanian news agency Petra.

Muasher also met with Archbishop Jean-Louis Tauran, Vatican secretary for relations with states, to discuss "means of stepping up efforts to find a just and lasting solution to crises facing the region," Petra said.

On Tuesday, Muasher was in Bahrain, where he attended a meeting of Arab Foreign Ministers entrusted with following up on Arab summit resolutions, including efforts to resolve the Palestinian-Israeli crisis, Agence France-Presse reported.

Last week, Jordan was host for a summit between U.S. President George W. Bush and the Israeli and Palestinian Prime Ministers, who both pledged to implement the peace blueprint.*

Aarons and Loftus and Daniel crossed paths on a certain key to understanding the real war against the Jews.

Daniel, pps 166-7: In less than forty five years, which brings us to the time of the French Revolution, France is said to have counted over two thousand lodges affiliated to the Grand Orient...The Grand Orient de la France being instituted in 1773 was a plan being orchestrated precisely when the Jesuit Order was supposedly being dissolved. Actually, nothing could have served the Jesuit purpose greater, working in dark secret as those at the apex of power in Freemasonry did.

Aarons, Loftus, pps 52-53: According to Vajta, the historical convergence of French and Vatican interests in Central Europe played a crucial role in de Gaulle's schemes 'to employ the factor of Catholicism.' Vajta told French intelligence of his pre-war role in their clandestine operations in Central Europe. While studying at the Sorbonne in the early 1930s, he joined the secretive Grand Orient, an organization specializing in Central and Eastern European affairs which linked Francophiles from these regions to French activities.

I discovered an anomaly in Daniel's book which he missed but one which, I'm certain, some of my readers will find worthy of considering deeply. On page 86, Daniel describes the passage of the first three Jesuit priests to sail for America, He writes, "As the ships set sail 22 November 1633, we find the Jesuit priests engaged in a public Roman Catholic ceremony invoking the Blessed Virgin, the saints, and the guardian angel of Maryland for protection for a safe voyage."

My discovery: November 22, 1633 was precisely 333 years previous to the assassination of President Kennedy. Double that and you get 666.

Mein Kampf was written by a Jesuit priest. Read:

"My discovery: November 22, 1633 was precisely 333 years previous to the assassination of President Kennedy. Double that and you get 666."

Sorry, this is incorrect. It's 330 years- double that and you get 660 years. Kennedy was assassinated in 1963.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 11, 2005 11:59 PM (GMT)

Dear Brother Nicholas,

Another great post.

Regarding your question about being a Bible-believing racial Latino and where you should live, I will say this:

When we White Bible believing Calvinists secure a White Protestant nation here in North America if the Lord wills (as we Whites must bear the responsibility for first attempting this), then we will help our Black Bible believing brethren to set up their own Black nation also. Thus we will do the same for all Latino Bible believers in North America. Then we could have three separate nations, each with their own race, language and Bible-based culture with no secret societies allowed. Then we could enter into treaties of amity and commerce with each other for the benefit of each nation while still preserving our nationality and racial identities. Diversity works if individual nations unite for specific purposes as delineated in a written contract called a treaty, much like the pre-Fourteenth Amendment Constitution. Racial Jews could live unmolested in our midst if they would so desire, as we would obey Genesis 12. The Lord would bless this arrangement and it would work as it has worked in the past.

So Jesuit Drinin was behind the abortion agitation? Thanks!

And Martin Lucifer King received an honorary degree from the Jesuits? And Jesuit McSorely marched with King? Thanks loads for this also!
Again, great post brother.

On more thing. The Jesuits caused the Spanish American War via their blowing up of the USS Maine in Havana Harbor in 1898. God-fearing, Methodist McKinley sought to avoid that war but was pushed into it. His Secretary of War was one of the conspirators in his assassination. It was Freemason and later CFR founder, Elihu Root, the bosom friend of the Supreme Knight of Columbus, Mr. Hearn.!

Further, the treaty of Paris after the war guaranteed the protection of every piece of Roman Catholic property in the US and in its foreign holdings including Puerto Rico and the Philippines. And why? Because the US government threatened the Vatican that if it did not hand over John Surratt for the murder of Lincoln, every piece of Roman Catholic Church property in the US would be confiscated as did the glorious Benito Juarez in Mexico. And why did the US pay 20 million dollars for the Philippines? That island was to serve as a staging base for the invasion of Japan in the future. From Japan, China would be conquered for which reason the US fought with the Boxers who rightly sought to throw out all the Whites from China. With the defeat of the Boxers by the Japanese and the American armies both controlled by the Jesuits, the anti-Jesuit Manchu dynasty was then overthrown. This paved the way for the Order to conquer China with Freemason Mao Zedong put in power by the CIA.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Oh, and John Wilkes Booth was a Sulpician, a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor who was accepted in the the RCC by Archbishop Spaulding three weeks prior to the assassination.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 11, 2005 11:49 PM (GMT)

Flashback*

Subject: Jesuit-trained Executive VP of Bank of America and various links

I researched the Jesuit influence and control of the Bank of America and found a main link. The executive vice president of management services and real estate holdings which according to the article found in the Winter 2005 issue of the Jesuit Canisius College Magazine "at one point held one of the largest portfolios of any company in the world with more than 100 million square feet of space in 35 countries." He was trained by Jesuits at Canisius.

Note on the third page the Bank of America Plaza and Corporate Center are located near the Hearst Corporate building. Page 21, the last page shows that Palermo attends a Jesuit church so he is accountable to his masters who trained him.

I found this interview from Spiegel of a British historian named Frederick Taylor who authored a book about the bombing of the Protestant German city of Dresden. I remember you mentioned in your ConspiracyCon 2002 presentation the merciless bombardment of Dresden by Jesuit-controlled Britain which-a non-military target during WWII. According to the Interview, Taylor and German historian Joerg Friedrich had a discussion about this in January 2005 in Berlin. Taylor said Friedrich "was accusing the Allied bombers of a desire to kill as many civilians as possible and of not having legitimate military aims."

<http://service.spiegel.de/cache/internatio...,341239,00.html>

This is an interview with Amy Worthington about depleted uranium which is killing U.S. troops. What I found interesting was her reply to the question about the effect nuking our troops on national security when she said "The longer we nuke our own troops the happier China and Russia and their Muslim allies will be. Should they come to get us someday, our military could be decimated and our gates wide open. To my knowledge, Russia and China don't nuke their own troops. Someday we may face a Chinese Army of 2.5 million."

<http://www.rense.com/general65/amy.htm>

http://jesuits-chi.org/video/Companions_Of_Jesus_f.asx

-a video produced by the Jesuit Vocation Center of North America shows how the Jesuits used men they trained to put pressure on the U.S. government and it shows how cosmopolitan they are. They are like Judas Iscariot who appeared to care for the poor but did not because he was a thief (John 12:4-6). The Jesuits are the great humanists and they know nothing of the gospel of the grace of God. They appear to "help others" for their own interests and to advance their diabolical agenda.

Last week I saw the 1998 movie "The Man in the Iron Mask." (A link to the first draft of the movie script)

<http://www.allmoviescripts.com/scripts/637...8456135b89.html>

It is based on a work by Alexandre Dumas

http://www.online-literature.com/dumas/man_in_the_iron_mask/

A young French King Louis XIV is not the ruler most of the people want. Their food is rotten and the king has led war after war. The king is a wicked ruler but he is suspicious of the Jesuit Order and rightly so. The king tells an ex-Musketeer named Aramis to find the secret leader of the Jesuits and kill him because they are fomenting tension in the land and resisting him. There had been attempts made on the king's life by Jesuit assassins and he wants the leader of the Order to be killed for God and for France. The king lusts after a woman who is practically engaged to a soldier so the king calls him back to duty on the frontline and he is killed in action.

The fallen soldier's father desires revenge so he Aramis and another former Musketeers meet privately in a secret chapel. Aramis reveals his true identity that being the general of the Jesuit Order and he tells the two men that the king ordered him to find and kill the leader of the Jesuits but the problem with that is he is the Governor General of the Jesuits in France. (I can't believe I did not pick up on this from the beginning of the film because when he is first introduced he shows up dressed completely in black and wears a cross/crucifix around his neck). So Aramis, the Jesuit General proposes that the current king be replaced with his well hidden twin brother-Philippe who had been kept in prison by order of the Governor Jesuit General and forced to wear an iron mask until he was summoned by his cruel master. So the traitors and conspirators including Aramis perform a switcheroo by placing Louis XIV in prison (his punishment for calling for the death of the leader of the Jesuits) and his twin brother assumes the throne. It is a very interesting story. It shows how the Jesuits are proponents of treason and how they wielded power over monarchies, overthrew and installed kings of their choosing, and conditioned their rule on absolute obedience to the Order. Only brave kings resisted them but many were murdered by the Vatican's assassins.

I recently saw the movie "National Treasure" on DVD produced by Jesuit/Illuminati controlled Disney which flaunts its connection to Freemasonry since Walt Disney was a 33rd degree Freemason. This movie is very telling in that it shows that Knights Templars preceded the Freemasons. The use of occult symbols throughout the film display the fact that Roman Catholic Church and Freemasonry are in league. I believe the name "Jesuit" is engraved (I pressed pause and zoomed on to see if I could make out the inscription) and appears for a few seconds in a scene set in Trinity Church (Episcopalian) in Manhattan after the treasure is discovered and Nicolas Cage breaks through a hollow passage and a worker notices him and his friends.

Brother Rob sent me a copy of the VAll CD-ROM! It arrived yesterday and I have been reading it for hours on end. I have read a little more than 200 pages. It is fantastic brother and I praise God that I finally have the chance to read it and time to study it over my summer break. I'm reading about the attempted assassination of Joseph I and I just read about that wicked Jesuit de Smet who coerced Sioux Indians to murder White Protestants.

I have learned about the death grip of the Roman Catholic Institution and the Jesuit Order held in my Intro to Latin American History and Modern Latin American History courses in college. Since the Roman Catholic Spanish conquest-the Company has been in power in Latin America and the Caribbean and polluting the regions with their Communism and Socialism. The Jesuits through Fourteenth Amendment America's Industrial Military Complex and multinational corporations headed by Knights of Malta and Columbus. Jesuits are have and are presently encouraging anti-Americanism to use for the coming invasion of North America. Perhaps if you prepare another volume of VA in the future I could contribute information to expand on your research on the Jesuit Communist Reductions of the Guarani Indians of Paraguay by adding information about the Spanish conquest, the Jesuit-controlled inquisitions of the Inkas and Aztecs carried out by the Jesuit-controlled Dominican friars. I'll keep this idea in prayer.

North America can learn lessons from South America and the Jesuit takeover there so America will know what to expect and recognize that the takeover here was partly completed after the War Between the States with the centralization of the federal government in Washington D.C. and the 28 Jesuit colleges and universities (military fortresses) which were established in South America as well. Jesuits focused their "educational efforts" and "missions" on the sons of the nobility through which they would control the poor through leaders they trained. There are no Caribbean Indians alive today and the Aztecs and Inkas (Andean peoples) were wiped out by Rome and her Jesuits. If this is how they treat what their wicked and destructive Council of Trent call "pagans" imagine what they have planned for "heretics" (us) and "liberals" (Roman Catholics who reject the false doctrine of papal temporal power) here in the U.S.

Pope Benedict XVI (Joseph the "Rat") has all of his written works distributed by the Jesuit-run Ignatius Press

and he wrote an article for the Jesuit America magazine

<http://www.americamagazine.org/gettext.cfm...d=1&issueID=351>

I saw this before the Black Pope chose him and I knew Ratzinger would be the next Papal Caesar because he had the backing of the Order. I read that Cardinal Carlo Martini is retired rendering him virtually ineligible (unless the Black Pope decided to change that).

Correspondence between "Baptist" Freemason "Dirty" Harry Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt

info on the sodomite and pedophile American Pope Francis Cardinal Spellman (note the subliminal cover photo on issue of Knight of Malta and Skull and Bonesman Henry R. Luce's Life Magazine) with a portrait of White Pope Pius XII in the background. Spellman attempted to get federal funding for parochial (Roman Catholic) schools and Eleanor Roosevelt resisted him, JFK resisted him, but Luciferian Skull and Bones right-wing Republican dictator George W. Bush was happy to acquiesce with Rome's agenda with his "faith-based initiatives" which Jesuit-controlled Hitler promoted in Nazi Germany.

I will keep reading VAI and I'm looking forward to the completion of VAIII and ordering it. Please inform me of when in July you will be in CT so I could know when to visit Brother Rob's church in Scotland. I thank our Lord Jesus Christ for you and your defense of the Authorized English Bible of 1611 and all of your thorough research and hard work you put into VAI-III. God bless you and yours dear brother.

Rome and Islam

Rome has a most interesting and somewhat complex strategy that she is using in her final crusade. Rome is using Islam, ecumenical jihad, and the treat of Islamic terror to set up totalitarianism in America. At the same time Rome is using American military might to crack open the Islamic world, so that Rome can move into a region she has been unable to penetrate for over a thousand years.

The Same Conceptual Roots: Union of Church and State, and Utter Submission to Ecclesiastical Hierarchy

Rome and Islam share many concepts. Both hate and abhor separation of church and state. Both hate and abhor any limiting of the birth rate.

Both share the same conceptual roots: Islam believes that Shari's law, in other words the Koran, interpreted by the Mullahs and Imams should rule society with no separation of church and state. In the end the Mullahs and Imams rule by fatwas, and central to the central concept of jihad is first the submission of the soul to Allah through the Koran and obedience to the Mullahs, Imams and Mahdis. Then that Islam, which means submission, is spread externally by jihad, or holy war to the rest of the world ultimately under the control of the Loran and the Imams and Mullahs through Shari's law.

Roman Catholicism believes that the pope is the vicar of Christ, and that he has been given the keys to the temporal and spiritual kingdom. Therefore he has the authority, it is believed, to rule both the spiritual and temporal realms. Submission to the papacy, the encyclicals, and rulings of the papacy is central. There is no separation of church and state, for the church rules the state. Through the Jesuits, Dominicans, the various orders and priesthood in the confessional a vast system of espionage keeps the papal world in submission. Crusades are launched, holy wars, to bring alien religions and dissenters into submission or extermination. Islam is very much of a clone of the papacy, for Islam is one of the offspring of the papacy.

Using a Lesser Enemy Against A Greater Enemy

"The first World War of Religion is upon us ,"—Peter Kreeft, Ecumenical Jihad, 26

this, after the Cairo conference on human population control in 1994, the papacy joined forces culturally with Islamic fundamentalism to bring down the West. The common ground here is opposition to abortion, which brought the two powers together to wage war on the West, in World War II, joined with Stalin to defeat Hitler. Today, the forces of ecumenical jihad. The union of Rome with every form of religion, from the evangelicals too Islam, to witchcraft, are working to finally and utterly exterminate Protestant freedom which remains in the West.

Papacy is Using Threat of Islamic Terrorism to Remove Freedom and Erect a Totalitarian State

Meanwhile Rome joined with fundamentalist Islam in 1994, at the urging of Opus Dei, to bring down the West into submission to the papacy, eliminate separation of church and state, and all remaining Protestant freedoms.-undoing all that Protestantism has done— at the same time the papacy is locked in a mortal struggle with Islam. The threat of Islamic fundamentalist terrorism is causing the loss of all our remaining freedoms with the erection of totalitarian systems within our governmental system. ----the Department of Homeland Security, the National Intelligence Director, with De facto internal passports , and comprehensive surveillance, and the Patriot Acts which remove the remaining freedoms of the Bill of Rights.

At the Same time the Papacy is Using American Military Might to Crack Open the Islamic World.

At the same time, in order for the final events of earth's history to take place, in order for the papacy to truly rule the world, the papacy must crack open and control the Islamic world, the very thing that she sought to do in the crusades of the Middle Ages. Today, the papacy has a most powerful ally in accomplishing this design, in the military might of America/ There is a very deep-seated and determined crusade, now under way, to crack open the Islamic world, paving the way there for papal control, something Rome has not been able to do for a thousand years. Thus crusade is used to establish Inquisition both near and far."

Pat Robertson's Cozy Relationship with FEMA By Joel Wendland

Related stories: right wing watch

My house will be called a house of prayer, but you are making it a den of robbers.

--Jesus, Matthew 21:16

Well I see him on the TV

Preachin' 'bout the promised land

He tells me to believe in Jesus

And steals the money from my hand.

--Poison, "Give Me Something to Believe In"

In a distasteful show of insensitivity and partisanship, the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) has called for cash donations be paid to Operation Blessing, a charity front for Pat Robertson's right-wing Christian fundamentalist TV operation, The 700 Club, and his other corporate schemes.

In a press release published on its website on August 29th, FEMA urged those who wish to donate funds to give cash to the Robertson organization and provided a link and a 1-800 telephone number.

Robertson (listed as M.G. Robertson on Operation Blessing's web page, Marion Gordon is Pat's real name) is well-known for his ultra right views about reproductive rights, his hatred of homosexuals, his wild claims that liberals are the cause of America's "decline," his love of war, his distaste for women's equality, and his opposition to civil rights.

In fact, in September 2001, Robertson blamed immorality for the 9/11 terrorist attacks. The terrorist attacks were God's punishment for everything from abortion to homosexuality and witchcraft, Robertson boldly pronounced.

Robertson is notable for founding the explicitly political Christian Coalition to advance his views in the Republican Party and in the halls of government power. Its stated purpose is to create a theocratic government.

While the Christian Coalition has been credited with helping to propel the far right to dominance in the Republican Party, the organization has fallen on hard times recently due to financial scandals, investigations surrounding its violation of campaign laws, and the drifting political loyalties of its former adherents. Currently a bill collector is suing the organization for approximately $13,000 for failing to pay a bill for a fundraiser mailing.

Most recently, Robertson disgusted many with a call for the assassination of Venezuelan President Hugo Chávez, then denying that he made the comment, and then apologizing for making the comment. Robertson called the democratically elected leader of oil-rich Venezuela a "dictator" that the US government should "take out."

What Robertson didn't disclose was that his oil-related investments are really what fuel his animosity for Chávez.

Robertson's business interests are less well known than his big mouth. His investments and business schemes have been mostly funded through Operation Blessing and his other "charities," his television show, The 700 Club, and his TV "network" the Christian Broadcasting Network.

From donations provided by viewers, Robertson bought the Family Channel, sold part of its stock at a personal profit of $90 million, and then sold the rest to right-wing media mogul and FOX owner Rupert Murdoch for $1.82 billion.

In two swift financial deals, Robertson and his family took in tens of millions of dollars in pure profits on the backs of desperate, deluded faith-filled viewers. No money was disbursed to the viewers who made Robertson's millions from these deals possible.

Operation Blessing, also financed entirely through charitable donations from Robertson's cult following, has proved to be a more shaky financial venture for Robertson. First, he used the airplane and resources brought in by Operation Blessing to fly to Zaire (Democratic Republic of the Congo) to purchase diamond mines for Robertson's company African Development Corporation, to harvest so-called blood diamonds produced by near slave labor.

Interestingly, Robertson's diamond venture shows that he really doesn't have a problem with dictators per se – as long as he can make some money from them. To win diamond mining rights, Robertson developed a close and friendly relationship with dictator Mobutu Sese Seko, most notorious for his collaboration with the CIA in the assassination of Congolese national liberation movement leader Patrice Lumumba in 1961.

According to a 1996 interview with a former pilot for Operation Blessing, of 40 flights to Zaire in the mid-1990s, only one or two were really related to the humanitarian work that Operation Blessing claimed to its donors would be its main work. The rest, the pilot admitted, were related to developing the blood diamond business.

When that business didn't pan out due to changing political fortunes in Zaire and Sese Sekos' overthrow in 1997, Robertson turned to oil speculation. In 1998 he became a main investor in the CENCO Refining Company in California and sought to invest in oil refining in Santa Fe Springs (near Huntington Beach, the site of a major oil spill in 1990).

Environmental activist and local community members who feared that Robertson's company would pollute the water and air near their homes blocked his speculative venture. In a notorious legal battle, Robertson fought environmental laws and almost the whole state of California before backing out of those operations.

CENCO's former lawyers sued him for his failure to pay them.

That same year, Robertson used the donations of his flock to set up an offshore mining company in the Cayman Islands called Freedom Gold Limited. The purpose of setting the company offshore, of course, was to avoid taxes and to make its connections to Robertson more difficult to trace.

According to a 2001 Washington Post story, in 1999, Robertson's Freedom Gold signed a business deal with notoriously corrupt and brutal dictator Charles Taylor of Liberia allowing Robertson's company to explore and receive gold mining rights in that country.

The deal gave Taylor 10 percent ownership of the company, which was founded with donations by Robertson's faithful following in exchange for a five-year exploration concession and a 20-year mining claim.

Unfortunately the deal fell apart when President Bush withdrew US support for Taylor in 2003 and forced the embattled dictator to resign in the middle of a violent civil war.

In 2002, after complaining about the legitimacy of President Bush's subsidies to Christian churches through a so-called faith-based initiatives, Robertson's Operation Blessing accepted millions in taxpayer money from the administration.

Subsequent investigations of Robertson's charity, however, reveal that it doesn't actually distribute charitable giving to those in need, but rather serves as a "middle-man" siphoning off part of the donations for its "overhead" and then handing the money over to real charities.

Robertson and his businesses has gotten into trouble for failing to pay his creditors, for trying to avoid paying state, local and federal taxes, for breaking campaign finance rules and bending other laws. In other words, he believes that it is God's will that he cheat, steal, make deals with tyrants, and bribe and scheme his way into greater riches – all lovingly financed by his cult following.

The question is why is FEMA promoting Operation Blessing? Can you trust Robertson with your donations? Obviously not. His record shows that he will pocket part of the donations to finance some hair-brained scheme that probably involves slave labor, environmental racism, and some brutal tyrannical government.

Agreed regarding Robertson.

Concerning the White issue, it must be dealt with by a Bible believer from a biblical and historical position, or it will be dealt with by the devil's neo-Nazis. The apologetic attitude of Whites for being White must not be tolerated if any semblance of a White Bible-believing culture is to be preserved on the face of the earth. I am sure that you understand.

Bro. Eric,

See how people carelessly misapply the term "Fundamentalist?" Pat Robertson is in no way a fundamentalist. He is a Charismatic, T.V. liberal huckster politician among the Heinz 57 variety so-called Christian groups.

You would be wise to avoid flaunting the term "White" when referring to yourself. We know where you're coming from, but due to the White Supremacy groups and sensitive racial issues today, the devil can really point a finger at you. Look at the situation that Bob Jones had to face during Bush's campaign before his first term because of his separation clause at the University.

BJU had the right policy of forbidding interracial dating. Many Black believers agreed to it. But because BJU III is not a true bible believer, hating the AV1611 and its underlying TR, he caved in with the advice of his Masonic councillors. This same BJU III attacked ex-Jesuit Alberto Rivera because Rivera attacked Freemasonry so involved with BJU.

When you use the term "White" in referring to yourself, you leave yourself open to attacks such as the one from that pants-wearing preacher woman with the short hair. It costs you too much valuable time and effort trying to explain yourself. Just keep in mind what Paul said, "There is neither Jew nor Greek. . . . for ye are all one in Christ Jesus."

This is a passage that confirms our equal status in Christ. Though in Christ, we still retain our sexual differences, our national differences and our racial differences as all of these distinctions have been established by God for the good of the race. Thus the differences in function---sexual, racial and national---and not just status must be delineated from a biblical perspective.

I am with you concerning what you're trying to say, but you can expect more of the same reaction if you continue to flaunt that name tag.

Thanks, but I just have to address this issue lest the devil have the preeminence on the subject.

Just a suggestion.

China wants to take the historically White Protestant nations of Australia, Canada and the US. More evidence China's leaders serve the Black Pope.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 11, 2005 12:09 AM (GMT)

I believe that the widely reported Valerie Plame CIA leak is definitely controlled-it is an act. The CIA is the Fourteenth Amendment American Empire's government/state sponsored terrorist organization run by the Knights of Malta, Shriner and Scottish Rite Freemasonry. Reportedly, journalist Robert Novak, born a Jew but converted to Romanism told Karl Rove about Valerie Plame being a CIA agent to get back at Ambassador Joseph Wilson for criticizing George W. Bush and the Iraq war by putting his wife in danger. Now, according to Wikipedia and other sources like http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Robert_Novak and I learned from recent posts on the list that Patrick Fitzgerald is a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor-a pawn of the Order pretending to oppose Skull and Bonesman Luciferian Bush-this is another example of controlled opposition because the Jesuits of Georgetown are active on both sides of this CIA controversy. Novak lied recently on CNN about ever having discussed anything with Karl Rove "on the record." (What did you discuss off the record, Bob?)

http://movies.crooksandliars.com/Inside_Po...k_lies_Rove.wmv

I haven't found a connection between Karl Rove and a secret society but I will keep digging.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 11, 2005 12:08 AM (GMT)

I read about Edward Cardinal Egan's Council on Foreign Relations plan to create a North American Community with no economic borders hence the passing of all of the free trade agreements including the recent approval of CAFTA by the House last week. CNP (Council for National Policy) Phyllis Schlafly wrote about this CFR plan for a North American Community and examined the consequences of such an assault on national sovereignty-no Constitution, no Bill of Rights, one court, currency, one central bank, mass illegal (it won't be considered illegal to the CFR) immigration etc.

<http://www.eagleforum.org/column/2005/july05/05-07-13.html>

The FTAA according to the June 2004 National Jesuit News Jesuit Fr. Jorge Julio Mejia, a member of the Conference of the Provincials of Latin America (CPAL) "explained the importance of FTAA, The Free Trade Agreements of the Americas, to the pastoral work of Jesuits." According to the April/May 2005 NJN article, "Colombia, Oregon Provinces Renew Twinning Agreement"

Black Pope Kolvenbach's statements are few in most issues of NJN-many of them one-liners. The Black Pope said "there is only one America" Two provincials one from Oregon and the other from Colombia met in Bogota on December 2004 to plan on how they could work together (regardless of national boundaries) ambassador and the embassy staff in accomplishing their goals." (the Fourteenth Amendment American Empire is ruled by the Jesuits and this ambassador knows if he does not acquiesce they will use a trusted third party either the Mafia they have there or any of the dictators their CIA installed will make him cooperate). I believe he will obey his Jesuit masters because this article shows that "A point of common ground in the meetings was the Jesuit educational backgrounds of both Ambassador Wood, a Regis High School (New York) graduate and DeLaurentis, a Georgetown alum." These men are clearly Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors-Jesuits of the short robe and there are many like them throughout the U.S. government.

It is interesting that the civil war in Colombia was mentioned in the article-undoubtedly the Jesuits in control there fomented it most to serve this wicked end which disregards national boundaries just like all of the "free trade agreements" openly opposed like CAFTA but secretly supported to the carry out the commands of the Black Pope. There is no North, Central, or South America to the Black Pope, "there is only one America."

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 11, 2005 12:04 AM (GMT)

Bro. Eric,

Thanks for the excellent layout of events!! I deeply appreciate your concentrated effort in doing this, and I know many have benefited in reading this summary. This kind of puts everything in a nutshell.

Another question. Wouldn't events such as a large-scale "Inquisition" and China's annihilation of between one and two hundred million Americans fit more the scenario which takes place during the Tribulation?

I do not think so. I believe that the Reformation nations will have been completely conquered or neutralized by the time of the arrival of the 70th Week of Daniel. Europe will be united under the leadership of the Pope who will be the coming prince to confirm the covenant with many nations for seven years. By that time the unity of the Kings of the East will have been accomplished and it appears the means to this unity will be this present Jesuit-led Third Thirty Years' War (2001-2030?). With the US finally defeated, Japan, Korea, Taiwan and the rest of the Oriental nations that could have possibly resisted Chinese expansion will have been absorbed. They must submit or perish. North America being partitioned and thus out of the way brings the ultimate unity of Africa under the coming King of the South (with the total destruction of the Whites of Rhodesia and South Africa), the unity of Roman Catholic Europe under the risen pope turned Antichrist, and the unity of the Kings of the East. Israel survives this war, while most of the Palestinians have been killed as there can be no terrorist threat to the rebuilding of the Pope's Jerusalem Temple.

In fact, the scenario just before the appearing of the Lord for His Church indicates a relatively peaceful and prosperous atmosphere, according to Mat. 24:37-39 and Luke 17:28-30.

Agreed. I Thess. 5:2-3 and Ezekiel 38:8 further sustain your point.

So either all this invasion and destruction will take place, then things will settle back down and be restored to the just-before-rapture [appearing] scenario. . . . or. . . .the Lord will come first before all this kaos sets in. Am I off base here?

Agreed.

Another question. Do you honestly think that Benedict XVI will be around long, with his sickly frail condition?

No. He was chosen for a short term purpose, that being the further building and unification of Germany and the removal of "heretics and liberals" including (Jews and Moslems) from Europe. He was the head of the Holy Office of the Inquisition and being a German tutored by Cardinal Faulhaber and Pope Pius XII will function best in what he has been trained to do. Like Pope Benedict XV he may die just prior to the beginning of the shooting war and has possibly agreed to this.

Neither does Kolvenbach look too "up to task" for when he enters the Temple at least 3 1/2 to 4 years from now. I wonder who is waiting in the wings to fill their shoes?

A powerful Assistant or Provincial is waiting to replace Kolvenbach. He has possibly already been chosen as the Order has a military chain of command and thus is never caught off guard. Who? That is a good question; most assuredly it will not be an American.

For people who aren't "read up" on the subject, could you give us an idea on how weather can be manipulated to the point of directing hurricanes?

Go to google and enter "weather modification." A series of articles will be displayed from which you can choose to peruse.

How is it that NewsMax.com could allow such articles as "Military Coup Against Bush" to appear on their website if there were little credibility to the story? Some say the reason for the so-called coup was that there was a plan made to invade Iran, and since this would spark WWII, tempers were flaring.

That is possible and could have been used to reassign certain generals who would not cooperate in the invasion. Better to expose and remove them now rather than create an embarrassing situation by relieving them of their command as was done to General Patton.

I also read where these invasion plans were discussed in the June, 2005 Bilderberg meeting. The plan, they said, was for the invasion to occur either in August or late fall.

At prayer meeting the night before last one of the men said that a former student having been stationed in Iraq came to visit him. She said that Iran is to be invaded this year, which I believe this is indeed the Order's intent via their CFR and Bilderberger conferences. But if I was the Jesuit General I would most assuredly launch another assault against the US killing millions so as to justify the invasion Iran. If Iran is invaded now this will mean that three Moslem nations will be occupied spreading our forces too thin and possibly permitting their total annihilation. More men must be in the field if there is to be a successful invasion of Iran. To field more men there must be a draft. To justify a draft there must be a better reason to continue this Crusade. That reason must be another 911 except on a massive scale, i.e. nuclear detonations blamed on Iran. This is how I would proceed. The city I would choose would be one on the West Coast, either San Francisco or most likely Los Angeles. This will soften the West Coast for its coming invasion.

God's patience is surely running thin with this world. His hand of judgment is slowly coming down. The events in Gaza have ignited a short fuse. Is Henry Kissinger really running the show there?

My sources say that he is the foremost advisor to Masonic Sharon. Either way the CFR instructs Sharon via several of its henchmen.

Thanks again, Eric. May the Lord's strength, wisdom, blessing and protection be upon you.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 11, 2005 12:02 AM (GMT)

Bro. Eric

Could you lay me out the following events in their time sequence, as to which happens first, what follows, etc.: The American Hiroshima, the Islamic-Chinese invasion, the all-out war in Israel leading to the destruction of the mosques, etc.?

If I was the Black Pope wanting to destroy both the Moslem world (surrounding "my Jerusalem") and the "heretic and liberal" Western Civilization sending out its accursed "missionaries," I would do the following:

- 1. First I would cause a war to be declared by the West (US and Britain) against "terrorism" which has no end in sight. Thus I would cause 911 with my CIA and then blame my Masonic Islamic Terrorist Network built by my CIA and financed by my Rockefeller financed and developed oil bonanza---Saudi Arabia. Mission accomplished.
- 2. I would restore the flow of my heroin trade by removing the Taliban which I created with my CIA. I would then move into Iraq to remove my Masonic Inquisitor Saddam Hussein, allowing the US to capture one of his doubles. According to an Iraqi officer, Hussein loaded two tractor trailers of dollars and euros on to an American C-141, then drove his limo onto the plane after which it took off and disappeared into the skyline. Mission accomplished.
- 3. I would then begin the systematic destruction of as many Moslems and mosques as possible using roving CIA teams inciting hatred on both sides. I would cause outrages against the Moslems of the south, using American GIs raping Iraqi women, photographing the crime and then posting it on the internet further citing Moslem fury against the West. I would also spread disease via immunizations and radioactive toxins among the American GIs further weakening the American military in preparation for my Sino-Soviet-Moslem invasion of the West. Mission accomplished.

4. In preparation for my Sino-Soviet-Moslem invasion I would use my scalar weapons involving weather modification, causing hurricanes in the American South, devastating select cities thereby weakening the West's will to resist. And with deliberate non-intervention and other injustices perpetrated by federal, state and local agencies, I would further sow the seeds for my race war between Whites and Blacks, while occupying the people with non-news (Jackson, Simpson, Bryant---Black on White crimes---and any other case (Scott Peterson, Stephanie Hollwood) that could be used to occupy the attention of the viewers). More hurricanes are in the making and the South will be further "softened" for my invasion from which Cuba, now occupied by the Chinese and hosted by Jesuit Fidel Castro, will be the staging base---with the full cooperation of the CIA and American Military Intelligence. Mission being accomplished.

5. Knowing that the American people will be beginning to denounce the war and even concluding that 911 was an inside job (never believing that my Director of Central Intelligence, Knight of Malta and CFR member George J. Tenet oversaw the crime), I would remove Tenet blaming him for the "incompetence" demonstrated in preventing the "attack." This will save face for my most obedient Skull and Bones servant, George W. Bush, whose father and grandfather served the Order most wonderfully. This will also save my Jesuit Georgetown-educated Tenet from future prosecution as I of course control the Attorney General, the Justice Department and the FBI. Mission accomplished.

6. In order to justify a war in Israel for the destruction of the Jerusalem mosques, I would used my Masonic Jewish anti-Torah Zionists to incite more hatred between Israel's Arabs and Jews, while depriving the Jews of their land given to them by God as recorded in Genesis and by British Mandate at the end of WWI. This will be my "Roadmap to War" policy shoved down the throats by the CFR-controlled devotee to the Archbishop of New York City, President George W. Bush. Now war in Israel is a certainty. In order to blame the US for the destruction of the Jerusalem mosques I would build a huge American Army base in Israel from which the Americans could operate during the coming war in Israel, American troops moving in from Iraq. Meanwhile at the moment I would increase US troops in Iraq through a coming catastrophic event and thus a mandatory draft. Mission About to be Accomplished.

7. In order to increase US troops in Iraq, which troops will then invade Iran, Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia (as was told to me by an aged former Marine and suspected Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor), I would use my CIA controlling Military Intelligence to detonate five to ten dirty atomic bombs as the book Endrun (or Endgame written by two American Generals) so describes. This will strike at the very heart of the proud, profligate and fat Americans so as to incite the people to adopt a total war footing which my CFR trustees will fully implement. I would blame Iran for the detonations justifying the invasion of that nation; or, I can blame North Korea thereby beginning my war in the East in killing millions of Chinese as China will be aiding North Korea. In preparation for an American defeat, I have moved all American aircraft carriers out of the Pacific and into the Persian gulf. I have dispatched "boomers," or American nuclear subs, into the Pacific but only a few of us know that there is no such thing as Airborne Nuclear War. Yes, the subs are disarmed of any potential nuclear threat. When this becomes known, he who as the largest and most disciplined army will have the upperhand. This of course will be my Chinese Communists commanded by Chinese Jesuits. Mission about to be accomplished.

8. With America fighting a two-front war which she cannot win, I will be in full control of the top military commanders in the field and in the intelligence services of BOTH SIDES through high-level Freemasonry and the Knights of Malta. This will insure America's defeat; any General that will not obey my commands in the name of patriotism will be eliminated as was American General George Patton and Russian General Andri Vlasov during my beloved WWII. Ah, our Order accomplished so much then "for the greater glory of God!"

9. After using China to sweep the Pacific Rim of all "heretics and liberals" as I did during WWII with the Japanese Army, I will then attack Australia and New Zealand as those idiots have abandoned private gun ownership in the name of the goodness of man and the honesty of government! Those nations of White apostate Protestants are sitting ducks in the middle of the South Pacific with no relief possible from either British or US fleets. The shedding of the blood of the heretic, I love it!

10. With my beloved Chinese navy coupled with my Japanese Navy I will then sweep the Pacific, attack Hawaii and eliminate all but a few of the native Oriental Hawaiians. They hate Americans and will help my invading Chinese and Soviet navy. At the same time I will be bringing in hundreds of thousands of Chinese and Soviet troops through the underground tunnel linking Russia and Alaska running all the way to Washington State. By the time my mongol forces reach the Coast of California with LA in flames, my attackers will be arriving in the North killing as many heretic Canadian Protestants in British Columbia and Alberta. We will not touch Roman Catholic Quebec as she will be under the protection of the invading Roman Catholic European forces along with Roman Catholic New England.

The Jesuit Superior General's scenario will unfold along these lines. The next event will be a terrorist event involving preplaced dirty bombs here in the US. Biologicals may also be used as the CIA has spent years in developing these toxins. The movie The Satan Bug produced over thirty years ago is somewhat of a forewarning to the event. A two-front war will ensue; our armies will destroy the mosques of Mecca, Medina and Jerusalem with the secret aid of the Black Pope's Islamic Terrorist Network; our troops will be betrayed and massacred as were three German armies by Hitler in the East; then will come the end with our invasion, partition and occupation for at least fifty to one hundred years if the Lord Jesus tarries.

I trust this is helpful.

Also, just how credible was that News Max report on the military coup attempt Bush, and if it is credible, why wasn't anything brought out in the media?

I do not think a coup actually occurred. If it did, it would have succeeded.

Do you think, in your honest opinion, that the US's invasion of Iran would invite a response from Russia and China, thus initiating WWII?

Ultimately, yes. The Order, via the Rockefeller-Morgan financial monopolies, has built the Soviet and Chinese war machines for this very purpose. We must not forget Turkey, hosting the most brutal soldiers in the world, will be a party to our invasion. Remember just what the Turks did to the Germans in WWII and to the Chinese in the Korean War.

It amazes me that in all your discussions and responses from the people (maybe I'm wrong), very little is mentioned about God intervening to take out his church before the destruction of "Sodom and Gomorrah." However, I do wonderfully agree with your logic of educating the people to "awake out of their sleep," seeing that our salvation is nearer, and that ". . . what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness," due to the fact that "all these things shall be dissolved!" Your revelation and exposure of the "spirit of iniquity" and satanic activity behind the scenes is a spiritual eye opener that should jolt every true believer out of his lackadaisical, indifferent and carnal comfort zone. The Judgment Seat of Christ is a serious thing, and is at the door!!

Agreed and Amen! Please pray for me and I need it daily.

It also amazes me how the well-know prophecy "scholars" of today just present a general outcome of events as laid out in Scripture, follow the media, and interpret things on the surface. They speculate on how things will turn out, but know little of the demonic work behind the scenes to bring this all about. That's where you come in, Eric!!

Brother Michael has made a most important point in his essay: Romanism and Romish doctrine begets homosexuality. And since every major city is now governed by Jesuit-controlled agents of Rome and populated by White pagan Roman Catholics, apostate, pro-Pope Protestants (or Mormons) and lawless Black pagans (Blacks having more of a propensity to sexual immorality than Whites evidenced by the cultural history of Black Africa and African peoples within White nations, including Roman Catholic France and the once Protestant US), more destruction of American cities is a most certain surety. Cultural AV1611 Bible rejection decreed by the Order's Masonically-controlled Supreme Court, institutionalized Romanism (the glorification of man's "free will," i.e. "Do What Thou Wilt, for This is the Whole of the Law") and forced amalgamation of the White, Black and now Hispanic races has yielded its bitter, immoral fruit over the last fifty years. Yes, forced integration breeds cultural immorality---thanks to the Order's wicked Brown v. Board of Education decision of 1954, it being one of many integrating, Masonic executive edicts and judicial decrees, the ends being a Vatican-controlled, highly coordinated race war.

Meanwhile, the nukes are in place and waiting to be detonated at the command of the Black Pope through his American Jesuit Assistant commanding ten American Jesuit Provincials who in turn control the Pope's American Hierarchy---the Cardinals, Archbishops and Bishops---commanding the Empire's Military Industrial Complex in every major city via the Council on Foreign Relations and its muscle---the CIA. The Concentration Camps are ready for "occupation;" the Order's Department of Romeland Security is now in place; foreign German troops are eager to kill Americans---especially the Blacks as they vividly remember the treatment American Black servicemen have given to White German women over the last sixty years of occupation (I witnessed this first hand in Germany from 1972-77); and a coming military dictator.

Remembering that Rome was bereft of true Bible Believing Christians by the end of the first century, we also should relocate out of the Empire's major cities into historically Protestant or Baptist and racially White rural areas. In these safer domains we shall await the glorious appearing of our Great God and Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ---our Blessed Hope.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

I have always said the the Order was in complete control of the UFOs; there are no biological "aliens." According to my publisher Majesty 12 was well represented by the Order. Further Cardinal Spellman was taken out to the Roswell Crash site in 1947 by an Army General. Yes, the Order controls the underground bases and the UFO technology. I first ran across this term in Emanuel Josephson's The "Federal" Reserve & Rockefellers written in 1968. Josephson knew that Jesuit Illuminism was the source of Communism, but being a typically thinking unsaved Jew equated the false "Jesus" of Romanism to be the true Jesus of the Reformation New Testament; this error led him to coin the term Nazarene Communism.

This is a misleading term as it equates both Bible-based Protestant Christianity and anti-Bible Romanism with Communism. The fact is that all of Rome's Orders are intrinsically communist, the term having a Latin origin. Thus Josephson should have used the term Roman Communism; the real Jesus of Nazareth had nothing to do with it.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 10, 2005 11:53 PM (GMT)

Thanks for this and I will send it around.

The purpose for the Pope's Nazi Holocaust of Jews and Protestants was to ultimately make Europe Roman Catholic. The Order has brought millions of Moslems into Europe thus justifying the creation of Poland's new school of Inquisition. Thus we can expect that true evangelistic Bible believers will be purged along with the Jews.

Also remember that Cardinal Ratzinger, now Pope Benedict XVI, was the head of the unHoly Office of the Inquisition back in 1995. His examples have been the man who ordained him to the priesthood in 1952---the man who brought Hitler to power---the Archbishop of Munich Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber. Ratzinger's other example being the pinnacle of inquisitional genius was Pope Pius XII, the man who sent Hitler a birthday card every year of his wicked rule.

Title: Eric Phelps - F. Tupper Saussy is a Temporal Coadj

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 10, 2005 11:52 PM (GMT)

Hello Eric.....I noticed that an author by the name of Tupper Saussy is very close to your perspective and I was wondering if you were familiar with his work....if so,wot is your opion of his work?

I am very familiar with F. Tupper Saussy's work Rulers of Evil. Although there are many valuable facts contained therein, I believe his two major conclusions lead the reader right into the hands of the Jesuit Order. In advocating that the Order is ordained of God to rule the evil of the world (which is not true, as God permits the devil to use his (the devil's) select second causes in fulfilling the mystery of iniquity) and by defending the heresy of unlimited submission to the Order's American political tyranny (which is a perversion of Romans 13) the Jesuit Order wins the day. Thus I consider Saussy to be a very clever Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor not to mention that his cousin is a Jesuit, and that he was briefed by Jesuits in England when he wrote his ROE. No, Tupper Saussy, like John Loftus, is one of them.

Also,I noticed you use the terms "white,celtic"....Are you affiliated with the Christian Identity Movement?

No, I am merely a White man with some Celtic background (Irish). The Identity Movement is Masonic, advocates a type of Masonic Hitlerian White Supremacy and thus must be rejected as unbiblical.

Thank youvery much for your timeand attention

Brother Eric

Title: "JIHAD" DECLARED AGAINST LAPD BY NATION OF ISLAM,

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 10, 2005 11:51 PM (GMT)

Dear Friends and Brethren,

As mentioned in VAI, VAII and VAIII, the Order is busy inciting its race war here in America. The Company controls both the White LAPD and the Black Nation of Islam. The LAPD is, for the most part, Roman Catholic, controlled by the Archbishop of Los Angeles and was involved in the cover-up in the murder of RFK in 1968. The NOI is controlled by the Archbishop of Chicago via his mulatto Freemasonic leader and conspirator in the murder of Malcolm X, Louis Farrakhan. As many know, Farrakhan has been an FBI informant since 1963-64 according to a former NOI member having advised me on the topic. Masons Farrakhan and Sharpton have been instigators of a race war for several years now.

What we must remember is that the Black Pope controls both White Fascist-Fox News George Bush and Black Fascist NOI Louis Farrakhan. Both leaders are consciously betraying their own people and are merely soldiers under command. The recent shooting of a Black car thief in LA involving the police discharging 120 rounds into the vehicle and neighboring homes was a calculated outrage. Any decent police chief would have fired the men in charge of that unnecessary use of deadly force. The same can be said for the undue beating of Savage Black Rodney King. Arresting the lawless Savage Blacks (in distinguishing Savage Blacks from the Civil Blacks) is dangerous but commonplace in LA. and if we are to attempt to be objective before the Lord, we must conclude that this is a POLICY intended to incite a REACTION from ALL BLACKS uniting them under the leadership of the NOI. This will in turn unite ALL WHITES (65% Civil and 35% Savage) against a common enemy---ALL BLACKS---thus filling the ranks of the Fascist New Republican Right spearheaded by the Jesuits ruling Fox's Rupert

Murdoch and their demagogue, George Bush---who has made John Roberts, the new Roman Catholic Supreme Court Nominee (soon to be confirmed via CFR/ Georgetown influence) the Chief Justice.

Further, the created hurricane Katrina has enraged Whites across the nation as they have observed the deeds and attitudes of the majority Savage Blacks in New Orleans. This behavior was deliberately incited over the purposed non-intervention on the part of both the Louisiana State Government and the Federal Government---both controlled by the Jesuits. There was no excuse for the non-intervention and no excuse for the ensuing Black crime; yet both scenarios were planned and incited by Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors on BOTH SIDES.

Thus, we White Anglo-Saxon Protestant and Baptist Calvinists should use the Sword of Just Defense in protecting our lives, homes and communities, but we should never join in the race war about to envelop the nation, nor should we unite with the fascist White Gentile Masonic Jesuit Coadjutors now ruling the White House, the Congress and, with the replacement of apostate Lutheran Chief Justice Rhenquist (whose funeral was performed in a Roman Catholic Church), the Supreme Court.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Title: The Vatican Shelters a War Criminal

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 28, 2005 09:10 PM (GMT)

The Vatican Shelters a War Criminal

By Ron Fraser
Friday, September 23, 2005

The United Nations chief prosecutor for war crimes claimed this week that the Vatican is sheltering Croatian war criminal Ante Gotovina. For those familiar with post-World War II history, the incident has shades of the Ratlines.

Students of Vatican history are familiar with the Vatican's involvement with an organization known as Odessa that bankrolled the escape of many a Nazi from Europe following World War II. They are also not unfamiliar with an underground network of safe houses and escape routes used by the Nazis in the closing stages of and years immediately following the war, known as the Ratlines.

Yet the general public remains basically ignorant of the high level of involvement of the Vatican hierarchy in the operation of the Ratlines that allowed safe haven in monasteries and other church facilities, and which used church manpower to facilitate the escape of countless thousands of Nazis to Latin America, Africa, the Middle East, Canada, Australia and even the United States of America.

It may come as even more of a surprise to the average man in the street to hear that the current pope, Joseph Ratzinger, was connected to the operations of the Vatican Ratlines network of Nazi escape routes (check our Trumpet archive on this site for further information on this subject).

To anyone familiar with this sponsorship by the Vatican State of the Nazi escape routes, it will come as no surprise that Carla del Ponti, the United Nations' chief prosecutor for war crimes, claimed this week that the Vatican is sheltering Croatian war criminal Ante Gotovina. Reuters news agency reported del Ponti as claiming, "I have information he is hiding in a Franciscan monastery and so the Catholic Church is protecting him. I have taken this up with the Vatican and the Vatican refuses totally to cooperate with us" (September 20).

Reuters further indicated that del Ponte claimed "Gotovina, a former general wanted for atrocities against Croatian Serb civilians by his troops in 1995, was being sheltered in one of 80 monasteries in Croatia and the Vatican could probably find out where 'in a few days.'"

Del Ponti, a Roman Catholic herself, is in a prime position to make such a statement. Her office allows such high-level contacts that she is patently aware (as are all top-level officials involved in international politics, security and defense), that as she declared, "the Catholic Church has the most advanced intelligence services" (ibid.).

Gotovina is no petty criminal. As the bbc reported, "Forces under Mr. Gotovina's command are accused of killing scores of Serbs and expelling up to 200,000 from the Krajina region, now part of Croatia. Many in Croatia regard him as a national hero" (September 20). Whereas Croatia is overwhelmingly Roman Catholic, Serbs subscribe mainly to the Orthodox religion.

When del Ponti raised the issue last July in Rome with Archbishop Giovanni Lajolo, the Vatican's equivalent of foreign minister, the Vatican informed her that it had no obligation to assist the UN track war crimes suspects. Ordinarily such a stance would be regarded as simply obstructing the process of justice. However, as with Pope Benedict xvi's stance on charges of the Vatican's complicity in pedastry in the priesthood, he simply regards the church as being above at least U.S. civil law. As the Vatican State informed the nation of Israel when it complained about Ratzinger's failure in a recent speech on terrorism to condemn Palestinian terrorist acts against that country, no power may dictate to the pope!

So it is that the Trumpet feels the shadow of the old Nazi ratlines rising to once again cloud the prospects of true justice being imposed in bringing Catholic fascists to book. We have consistently warned of this past repeating itself. Now we are not only witnessing an approach by the Vatican to the Gotovina case identical to that applied to the sheltering of Nazi war criminals 60 years ago, we see none other than the pope himself directly involved, once again, in frustrating the course of true justice. Such a stance by Benedict, so early in his papacy, bodes ill for the future of Europe, and indeed the rest of the world.

Hello Mr Phelps

My name is Patrick Hedemark. I have come by your site as a result of my visiting Lenny Bloom's site and archives. I have listened to a couple of interviews you allowed Lenny and as well I have taken in a good deal of what you have posted.

You speak in the affirmative always. However you rarely provide any means to independently corroborate your statements. You seem to simply anticipate that the reader will just accept what you say - because you say it.

That is not my intent when answering Lenny's questions although I do reference a source at times. The reason for this is that I assume the listener is familiar with the thesis of VA and thus can build upon that knowledge via the facts given therein. My website also furnishes sources but is intended to instill in the reader a desire to obtain VA to back up the several positions advocated. I am no authority; the sources cited in VA in their totality create that authority, which of course substantiates the literal reading of the AV1611 English Reformation Bible.

I mean you no disrespect whatsoever but would it not serve your purpose, as well as the purpose of the reader, if you could provide the means to verify your statements? Unless that is done - then one is left to merely decide if he can accept what you say as Absolute Fact or should be consumed cautiously and with a healthy dose of salt.

As mentioned above, I do give sources at times, but regarding all historical and journalistic reporting, the reader should always consume cautiously, eating the meat and throwing away the bones. I do my best however to eliminate as many bones as possible, as my email list will confront me if they think or know I am wrong about a point or a source.

Also - it appears that you have a staunch belief in the continuance of the Jewish conclusion that they are indeed a "Chosen Race" and that inevitably they are meant to serve as THE race through which the "MESSIAH" will genuinely appear and when he does - the world will live under His Divine Monarchy. If that is the case - and it is all DESTINED to occur - EXACTLY as planned, then why all the worry about the Jesuit Order etc. What is to be - will be.

Contrary to what appears to be predestinated determination of evil on your part, I believe that as a Bible-adhering Calvinist (of Calvin's persuasion) that God never ordained evil but permitted it to transpire that He could indeed "weave" it for good (Genesis 50:20) in fulfilling His counsel. So it is with the Jesuit Order. It's power, no composing a world monarchy having usurped the papacy, has been permitted to progress in fulfilling Satan's "mystery of iniquity" presently being restrained by the Spirit of God resident in the Body of Christ in the earth. Therefore as a member of that Body by God's sovereign election, I am commanded to resist evil, which evil includes the Satanic Jesuit Order. If the saved Protestants in Germany would have fingered the Jesuits as the masters of Hitler, maybe Protestant Prussia would not have been destroyed as a result of WWII.

I obey in that resistance knowing in the end that Christ will return to a repentant Hebrew/Jewish/Israelitic nation with which He will rule the world from Jerusalem for one thousand years.

They are no more important than were the Romans or the Greeks etc

To the contrary, the Jesuits are the present day Greco-Romans guided by an Luciferian/Egyptian religion bent on destroying the White Protestant Western Nations in fulfillment of their Counter Reformation quest. Therefore as I would resist any other invading army sent by a foreign sovereign, so I oppose the Jesuit Order out of both a Biblical and partiotic duty before God.

I trust this is helpful.

I await your kind patient response.

Sincerely Patrick Hedemark

Sincerely in faith,

Brother Eric

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 27, 2005 10:55 PM (GMT)

The Roman Catholic Church of Corruption

By Mel Seesholtz, Ph.D.
Online Journal Contributing Writer

September 27, 2005—Dante reserved the lowest circle of hell—the circle of treachery—for those who violated trust. He placed quite a few priests, church leaders, and popes there. They'll be getting lots of company . . .

The larger than usual headline of the Philadelphia Inquirer last Thursday read, "An 'Immoral' Cover-up." A grand jury indicted the Philadelphia archdiocese in a 418-page report detailing rampant pedophilia and sexual abuse as well as decades of well planned, sinister cover-up orchestrated by two Philadelphia cardinals, (the late) John Krol and (recently retired) Anthony Bevilacqua. Krol was and Bevilacqua is an outspoken critic of homosexuality and civil rights for gay and lesbian Americans.

Here are just a few of the documented examples of what predator priests did under the protection of Krol and Bevilacqua:

An 11-year-old girl was repeatedly raped by a priest who took her for an abortion when she became pregnant.

A fifth grader was molested by a priest inside a confessional.

A teenage girl was groped by a priest while she lay immobilized in traction in a hospital room.

A priest offered money to boys in exchange for sadomasochistic acts of bondage and wrote a letter asking a boy to make him his “slave.” The priest remains in ministry.

A sadistic priest enjoyed having children play the roles of Jesus and other biblical characters in parish Passion plays. He made them disrobe and whip each other until they had cuts, bruises and welts.

A priest falsely told a 12-year-old boy his mother knew of the assaults and consented to the rape of her son.

The grand jury found that many victims were abused for years and that many priests abused multiple victims, sometimes preying on members of the same family. Father Albert T. Kostelnick had 18 victims. Father James J. Brzyski, whose conduct the report described as a “criminal rampage,” abused 17 victims, many of them from a single parish. Father Nicholas V. Cudemo abused 16 victims and was allowed to stay in his pastoral role for decades after the first abuse report in 1966.

And how did the archdiocese respond to the grand jury’s painstakingly documented report? In a truly disgusting display of perverted self-interest and bunker mentality, they claimed to be victims. Even more disgusting is that no criminal charges can be filed against the priests or against “Prince of the Church” Bevilacqua, despite the evidence presented in the grand jury’s report:

After reviewing thousands of documents from Archdiocese files and hearing . . . from over a hundred witnesses, we, the Grand Jurors, were taken aback by the extent of sexual exploitation within the Philadelphia Archdiocese. . . .

For any who might want to believe that the abuse problem in the Philadelphia area was limited in scope, this Report will disabuse them of that impression. The Jurors heard from some victims who were sexually abused once or twice, and from many more who were abused week after week for years. . . . Indeed, the evidence arising from the Philadelphia Archdiocese reveals criminality against minors on a widespread scale—sparing no geographic sector, no income level, no ethnic group. We heard testimony about priests molesting and raping children in rectory bedrooms, in church sacristies, in parked cars, in swimming pools, at St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, at the priests’ vacation houses in the Poconos and the Jersey shore, in the children’s schools and even in their own homes. . . .

Cardinal Bevilacqua, Cardinal Krol and their top aides all abdicated their duty to protect children. They concealed priests’ sexual abuses instead of exposing them. . . .

There is no doubt that the cardinals and their top aides knew that Philadelphia priests were abusing children. There is no doubt that these officials engaged in a continuous, concerted campaign of cover-up over the priests’ sexual offenses. . . .

Sexually abusive priests were either left quietly in place or ‘recycled’ to unsuspecting new parishes—vastly expanding the number of children who were abused. . . .

Documents clearly established that Cardinal Bevilacqua knew that the priests had admitted abusing minors. They also established that he alone was responsible for subsequently placing or leaving the priests in parishes where they would present a severe danger to children. . . .

Cardinal Bevilacqua had a strict policy, according to his aides, that forbid informing parishioners . . . The Cardinal, in fact, encouraged that parishioners be misinformed. . . .

Cardinal Bevilacqua was trained as an attorney . . . The Grand Jurors find that in his handling of priests' sexual abuse, Cardinal Bevilacqua was motivated by an intent to keep the record clear of evidence that would implicate him or the Archdiocese. To this end, he continued many of the practices of his predecessor, Cardinal Krol, aimed at avoiding scandal, while also introducing policies that reflected a growing awareness that dioceses and bishops might be held legally responsible for their negligent and knowing actions that abetted known predators. . . .

To protect themselves from negative publicity or expensive lawsuits—while keeping abusive priests active—the cardinals and their aides hid the priests' crimes from parishioners, police and the general public.

Archdiocese officials at the highest levels received reports of abuse . . . They chose not to conduct any meaningful investigation . . . They left dangerous priests in place or transferred them to different parishes as a means of concealment . . . They never alerted parents of the dangers poses by these offenders . . . They intimidated and retaliated against victims and witnesses . . . They manipulated "treatment" efforts in order to create a false impression of action . . . They did many of these things in a conscious effort to simply to avoid civil liability.

Moreover, while treating abusers gently, with good wishes and promotions (Bevilacqua included one molester, the Rev. Albert Kostelnick [who had the greatest number of victims], at a 1997 luncheon honoring priests, and promoted him, even though the church had received a constant stream of abuse allegations against him, including an eyewitness account from a fellow priest) the grand jury found that the cardinal had lashed out at those within the diocese who tried to raise an alarm. After a seminarian came forward to report an abuser priest, "Cardinal Bevilacqua ordered an investigation—of the seminarian." Bevilacqua refused to allow the seminarian to complete his studies and forced him to seek ordination outside the diocese.

And what did Bevilacqua have to say when he testified before the grand jury? As the Philadelphia Inquirer reported, "in his testimony before the Grand Jury, Cardinal Bevilacqua was still attempting to evade responsibility for placing known sexual offenders in parishes where they had easy access to hundreds of children . . . He often suggested he might not have known all the facts and that he delegated the handling of these matters to his Secretary of Clergy. He repeatedly claimed to have no memory of incidents and priests we will never forget."

Despite overwhelming evidence against priests, cardinals and numerous members of the church hierarchy, the statute of limitations has run out. So the Catholic Church has once again gotten away with crimes against humanity while the depravity and cover-up continue at the highest level.

Pope Benedict XVI's widely publicized—and strategically timed—plan to purge seminaries of gays is a transparent attempt to shift blame from the corrupt, immoral Church to “homosexuals.” The facts about pedophilia and homosexuality in no way support the pope's initiative.

The clinical separation of homosexuality and child molesting was acknowledged by the appearance of the words “pedophilia” and “pedophile.” From the Oxford English Dictionary:

Pædophilia. An abnormal, esp. sexual, love of young children.

1906 H. ELLIS Stud. Psychol. Sex V. i. 11 Paidophilia or the love of children . . . may be included under this head [sc. abnormality]. 1926 Med. Jnl. & Rec. CXXIV. 161/1 One must keep clearly in mind in dealing with pedophilia the distinction between that mediating homosexuality, and the much more pure perversion which is our subject. . . . Hence pædophilic, -philic adjs., pertaining to or characterized by pædophilia; also as n., a pædophilic person.

1927 Psychoanal. Review XIV. 191 It is only in rare cases that one encounters an individual who has pedophilic predilections and at the same time is suffering from venereal disease. Ibid., Krafft-Ebing . . . in his attempt at psychological explanation falls back on ‘a morbid disposition only’ on the part of the pedophalic [sic] as the motivating factor.

1960 Spectator 8 July 69 The . . . survey . . . shows the paedophilic to be a type altogether distinct from the adult-seeking homosexual. . . .

1976 Publishers Weekly 26 Apr. 52/1 He contacted fellow pedophiliacs and through them was able to sample many kinds of young girls.

Kathryn Conroy is assistant dean of Columbia University's School of Social Work. She recently pointed out in The New York Times, “What is forgotten in all of the hysteria about priest sexual abuse is that pedophilia is about a sexual attraction to children (most often, regardless of their sex) and about access.” Dr. Conroy also made the most pertinent point in relation to the pope's ruse:

Reliable studies show that pedophiles (those adults who sexually abuse children) are overwhelmingly heterosexual. In fact, homosexuals are statistically underrepresented as those who sexually abuse children. . . .

Further, women have far lower rates of sexually abusing children than men do. So if the church were really serious about protecting children from sexual abuse by priests, gays would not be excluded from the priesthood and ordination would be extended to women. Aside from ordering an “Apostolic Visitation,” the revered Pope John Paul II did virtually nothing about the church's sex scandal or its predator priests. Given the nature of the Vatican and the plethora of mass-media reports, John Paul II had to know about the massive immoral cover-up carried out by his underlings. Joseph Ratzinger was an ideological clone of John Paul and one of the most politically conservative cardinals. His nickname was “God's Rottweiler” and “the Enforcer.” He's now Pope Benedict XVI. Like Cardinal Bevilacqua and his predecessor Cardinal Krol, Benedict XVI isn't interested in protecting children from predator priests or acknowledging the corruption rampant in the church's hierarchy. The Vatican is interested solely in protecting itself, its power, and its political campaign against gay and lesbian people.

Pope blesses Opus Dei statue

From correspondents in Rome
September 15, 2005

POPE Benedict XVI unveiled overnight a statue of Saint Josemaria Escriva de Balaguer, founder of the influential conservative Opus Dei group, honouring him with a place among saints represented at the Vatican.

The pontiff blessed the five-metre statue, by the Rome artist Romano Cosci, without comment.

Opus Dei, which has a chiefly lay membership, has aroused controversy over charges that it is secretive and socially ultra-conservative.

It came to wider attention when it was heavily and unflatteringly featured in the best-selling novel The Da Vinci Code.

Mr Cosci said he believed the saint had miraculously saved him when scaffolding he was working on collapsed.

More than 150 sculptures of saints and apostles adorn the walls of the Vatican basilica as well as the colonnade of St Peter's Square. A dozen niches remain empty.

Before attending a ceremony with numerous prelates and diplomats, Benedict XVI gave a general audience to 20,000 pilgrims in St Peter's Square.

He told the crowd that "God and man walk together in history" and that "at the centre of life there must be a presence which evokes the mystery of a transcendent God."

At the end of his audience, he greeted a delegation of Italian exorcists attending a national conference of their organisation, which is recognised by the Roman Catholic Church in Italy.

He encouraged them in their "important ministry in the service of the church" and told them to work only "under the vigilant attention" of their bishops.

In Search Of The Origins Of The Pretrib Doctrine:

Part 4: The Birth Of The Pretribulation Doctrine In The 1800s

Before getting into this chapter, an important statement has to be made concerning Futurism. Historism believes that the Antichrist and all that surrounds his appearing develops throughout history all the way to when Christ returns at the end of the age. This was the viewpoint of the Reformers who applied these prophecies directly to the pope and Rome. A Counter Reformation was implemented through the Jesuits of the Middle Ages that countered Historism's prophetic view with one called "Jesuit Futurism." This view as introduced by the Jesuits stipulated that prophecies concerning the appearing of Antichrist had nothing at all do with Papal Rome of that time, but with the man of sin's appearance at the end of the age. This, actually, was the viewpoint of the early Church, though it must be taken into consideration that the Catholic Church had not yet come into existence.

The point to made here is this: the early Church fathers, as shown in Part 2, held to Futurism, but not for the purpose the Jesuits developed it, which has been called "Jesuit Futurism." The early Church fathers promoted Futurism because that is what the Scriptures said. Futurists today do not negate the probability that Rome and its pope will indeed have something to do with the appearance of the endtimes. More and more it appears Rome will have a part in the last days, and Christians today are watching and praying as we draw near to the time of Antichrist's coming on the scene. The Catholic system and pope is certainly a major player in what will be manifested in the few short years ahead.

Because of the Historical view of prophecy from the Middle Ages up to the Reformation, a series of writings by various authors were published to counter the Historic view of prophecy. These books were written from a Futurist point of view to take Rome out of the fire regarding the pope at that time being the Antichrist. They were not written because of a desire to return to the doctrine of Futurism held by the early Church.

JESUIT Priest and Doctor of Theology

The Spanish Ribera was a Jesuit, a doctor of theology, who started writing (1585) a 500 page commentary on the book of Revelation six years before his death (1591). The commentary was written from an Historic viewpoint because of the belief that Catholicism and its pope were the Antichrist system and the Antichrist himself. It was that the heat would be taken off of the Catholic Church as a candidate for the Antichrist and his rule. It placed these events into a future period of three-and-a-half years just prior to the return of Christ (this agreed with the teachings of the early Church fathers). The conclusion that was to be drawn from Ribera's commentary, it was hoped, was that the Catholic Church of his time could not, therefore, be the Antichrist system headed by the Pope of Rome. Ribera's commentary would have some influence on those who would eventually put the Pretribulation doctrine together.

In his commentary, Ribera believed that the rapture would occur 45 days before the end of the 3-1/2 year tribulation period (also shades of the future PreWrath doctrine). This was the first time the second coming was split into two separate comings, one for the Church and then one at the end of the age with the raptured Church returning with Christ in wrath.

CARDINAL ROBERT BELLARMINE (1542-1621), FUTURISM
JESUIT Scholar, the most prominent of his time

Also during this period, acclaimed Jesuit apologist Cardinal Robert Bellarmine, wrote "Polemic Lectures Concerning the Disputed Points of the Christian Belief Against the Heretics of This Time." His purpose in doing so was to refute the Historic theory of figuring Daniel's 1260, 1290 and 2300 days as years, relegating these to actual days, e. g., 1260 days, etc. By doing so, the reign of Antichrist was pushed into a future time and negated Catholicism and its pope as the man of sin and his system during his time.

MANUEL DE LACUNZA (1731–1801), FUTURISM
JESUIT Priest

In a book titled, "Hidden Beast 2," E. H. Skolfield writes this Lacunza:

"There was a Spanish family living in Chili named de Lacunzas. In the year of our Lord, 1731, they had a baby boy. Fifteen years later, the lad was sent to Spain to become a Jesuit priest. Twenty-two years later after that, in 1767, the Jesuits were expelled from Spain because of their brutality. The now Father Manuel de Lacunza y Diaz had to move. He went to Imola, Italy, where he remained for the rest of his life.

"In Imola, he claimed to be a converted Jew. Under the alias of 'Rabbi Ben Ezra' he wrote a book. The title: 'The Coming of Messiah in Glory and Majesty.' In that book he theorized that the church would be 'raptured' (taken up to be with the Lord) some 45 days before the real return of Jesus to the Earth. During that 45 days (while the church was in heaven with the Lord) God would judge the wicked still on earth."

Lacunza wrote his manuscript in Spanish and it was published in 1812 under a pseudo-name, Juan Josafa [Rabbi] Ben-Ezra. By doing so, his book would more easily be accepted by Protestantism. This proved true as it was placed on Rome's Index of prohibited books, which only made it sought out by the Protestants.

Lacunza emphasized a return to interpreting prophecy literally from the Futurist viewpoint. He wrote of a future Antichrist and a 1260-day (literal days) tribulation, events just preceding the coming of the Lord. He wrote in opposition to the 'year-day' theory of the Historicists (1260 days = 1260 years). He did not promote a pretribulational rapture of the saints at the future time of the Antichrist. His rapture of the saints occurred 45 days before the end of Daniel's 70th week, probably an influence from Ribera. Lacunza's book would have a dramatic influence on Edward Irving and his formation of the Pretribulation doctrine. It most likely influenced Irving to add another coming of Christ to the one described in Scripture.

BAPTIST Minister

Edwards wrote the earliest paper on the Pretribulation doctrine, using no references to anyone in the past. It was not written as a document to be seriously considered as the following will show:

"The earliest published reference to a pre-tribulation rapture occurred in 1788. Around 1740, a young Baptist named Morgan Edwards wrote an essay for eschatology class on his views of Bible prophecy. This essay was later published in Philadelphia (1788) under the following title: Two Academical Exercises on Subjects Bearing the following Titles; Millennium, Last-Novelties. In the article, Edwards made statements which expounded his views concerning a pre-tribulation gathering of the Church. As far as can be determined, Edwards views concerning a pre-trib rapture gained no notoriety nor was this doctrine given any credence in the Church" (The Fallacy of Rapture Theology as revealed by the Word of God by David Redmond).

Tim Warner gives ample reason why Morgan's writings on a Pretrib rapture were not taken seriously by anybody:

"Even the discovery of Morgan Edwards' book does not eliminate the ghost of Edward Irving for pre-tribbers. There is a clear tracable history back-tracking the development of modern pre-tribulationism through dispensational seminaries (like Dallas Seminary), the Scofield Bible, early pre-trib prophecy conferences, the Plymouth Brethren, J. N. Darby, and finally the Irvingites, and even Margaret MacDonald's visions. However, despite the earlier date (32 years earlier), there is no apparent connection between Morgan Edwards' (1788) "Millennium" book and modern pre-tribulationism. So, if Morgan Edwards' theory did not take hold in some group, or if his book did not fall into the hands of Irving or Darby, then he might as well have developed his theory on Mars! Because, it had no impact at all on modern pre-trib development.

1. Morgan Edwards apparently did not rely on other works. In fact, while he occasionally referred to others, he wrote in opposition to the historicist / a-millennialism of the times. Not once did he refer to another writer to support his rapture theory (although he did appeal to the Church Fathers in support of his literal Millennium). That he considered his theory 'new' and novel, is clear from the verse he chose to put on the title page:

"May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is? for thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: We would know, therefore, what these things mean. ACTS xvii. 19. 20'

"2. The opening statement in his essay indicates his total lack of confidence in his new theory. And, it shows that Morgan was simply writing his essay following the instruction of his professor, to use the LITERAL method in all cases except where that would lead to absurd conclusions. This was contrary to the accepted Protestant way of treating prophecy at the time. Morgan also stated that his following the literal hermeneutic was strictly for this exercise alone, and that he did not wish to be seen as a literalist. In other words, this whole essay was hypothetical!

"And is it come to my lot to treat of the Millennium, or Christ's thousand years reign on earth? Thousand pities, sir, that you had not allotted the task to one of these older and abler students! But, since it is your pleasure, I will do my possible: and in the attempt will work by a rule you have often recommended, viz. 'to take the scriptures in a literal sense, except when that leads to contradiction or absurdity.' I need say no more to inform you, sir, that I wish to be understood as a minister of the letter only while I treat of the said Millennium. Very able men have already handled the subject in a mystical, or allegorical, or spiritual way: and could I rest satisfied with their sentiments, and deliver them perhaps with applause; as that would show my reading, - and at the same time, free a novice from the affectation of singularity and taking too much upon him, like another son of Levi.'

"His statement, 'I wish to be understood as a minister of the letter only while I treat of the said Millennium,' indicates his apparent discomfort with the literal method he was required to use by his professor! Historicists of his day saw literal interpretation as a 'Jewish' thing. Paul wrote that 'the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.' It was common for a-millennialists to use this verse to justify 'spiritual' interpretation. Hence, Morgan equated literal interpretation with 'the sons of Levi.' Later in the discourse, after apparently months of studying his topic, young Morgan seemed to be much more comfortable with 'literalism.'

"3. Morgan's professor's reaction to his work is very telling. Following is the closing statement of his 'Millennium' essay, followed by his professor's assessment.

"Morgan: 'I wonder, Sir, if your patience be not exhausted with the length, and perhaps, nonsense of my sermon?'

"Professor: 'You finished your discourse with a supposition that the length and nonsense of it had tried my patience. If you used lightness you are to blame. But as I hope you are always in earnest when you study the things of God, I have to assure you that the novelty and ingenuity of your attempt have entertained me not a little. And when you are more master of time than at present, I advise you to study your subject closely, and you will see cause to alter some parts of your plan, and correct errors of others.- You also dropped a hint or two touching the New Heaven and the New Earth, which sounded a little strange. Let us hear what you have to say on those subjects, when it comes your turn to appear in that desk again'" Morgan Edwards and the Pre-Trib Rapture By Tim Warner

It is obvious that the idea of a pretribulation rapture was strange to Edwards and his professor. Why would it be if there really was such a doctrine before this?

ANGLICAN CHURCH Scholar, Lawyer, Librarian

Scholar and Librarian to the Archbishop of Canterbury, Maitland read Lacunza's book and promoted Futurism after 1826. He taught a literal 3-1/2 year tribulation and a personal Antichrist. There are strong indications that Maitland borrowed from both Ribera and Lacunza in his writings. Being the Librarian at Lambeth Palace, London, he found Ribera's book on the shelf and had it reprinted as a matter of public interest.

MARGARET MCDONALD (1800-?) VISION OF SECRET RAPTURE Member of Irving's CATHOLIC APOSTOLIC CHURCH

At the age of 15, Margaret was a member of Edward Irving's congregation and in 1830 had a vision of a Secret Rapture. There is debate whether what she saw depicted a pretrib, partial pretrib, midtrib, or posttrib rapture. I have read it through carefully over and over again and it even sounds posttrib. Personally, I think it is a bunch of demonic gibberish that isn't easy to put a label on. In spite of the confusion now resident amongst researchers, one thing is for sure: the idea of a Secret Coming of Christ as opposed to one final visible coming was introduced through her vision. This is the main point that should be emphasized, regardless of whether it is placed in any scenario. The fact of a secret coming where all the world does not see Him was apparently incorporated into the pretrib doctrine by Edward Irving, who in turn influenced Darby. You can read Macdonald's vision by clicking here or wait to read it as the next section in this series.

(charismatic)

It was Irving who translated Lacunza's work from Spanish into English in 1827, titling his work, "Preliminary Discourse to the Work of Ben Ezra - Coming of Messiah in Glory and Majesty." He was also affected by Margaret Macdonald's vision, writing the following in a letter to a Mr. Chalmers:

Irving points out in his letter to Chalmers that he felt conviction and reproof concerning her papers, which very likely had the "secret coming" described in them. It is also possible he was affected in this way because of Margaret's emphasis on the work of the Holy Spirit in the Church as the fire and eye of God in readying the believer for tribulation and meeting Christ face to face. This latter subject of her vision dominates what she saw. Scripturally, the vision raises many questions, let alone trying to decide if it is Pre-, Mid-, Pretrib Partial or Posttrib. Though Irving most likely used the "secret coming" of her vision and the "split second coming" of Lacunza to conclude a pretrib rapture, he also had in his church at this time a restoration of prophecy, tongues and other manifestations. He is known as the father of Pentecostalism because of these manifestations.

As to whether or not Irving used the 45 days of Lacunza and Ribera to, over time, move their rapture of 45 days before the end of the tribulation to a full seven year Pretrib rapture, the following quote would seem to support that idea:

"Because the symbolism of types can be interpreted according to other influences, once sound Biblical hermeneutics are ignored, the interpretation of the feasts varied significantly from year to year. Irvingites shifted the rapture from feast 6 (of Lev 23's 7 feasts) to feast 5, then feast 4 and even feast 3 within the first few years"(2)

Understanding Ministries

According to Bob Gundry, Edward Irving was most likely the first to publicly make the suggestion of a pretribulational rapture of the Church. A minister of the Church of Scotland, he attended the prophetic conferences (1826-1830) held by Henry Drummond at Albury Park, England. When Irving first suggested the secret coming of Christ, the controversial idea split those in attendance into factions.

Iain H. Murray, in The Puritan Hope - A Study in Revival and the Interpretation of Prophecy, IX. The Eclipse of the Hope, says that it was during Irving's attendance at Albury (1826-1830) that he shared the "secret rapture" before the tribulation with another return at the end of it. He says this was also prevalent in Irving's London congregation.

There are some references in literature of the 1800s stating that the secret coming was never mentioned before Irving started promoting it in its various stages of assemblance. These may not have had knowledge of Macdonald's relating her vision to Irving:

Thomas Croskery (Londonderry, Ireland) - "...this idea of the Lord removing his church secretly...was never heard of till it was proclaimed in one of the delusive utterances of the Irvingites in 1832."(3)

In 1880, William Reid in a book on Brethrenism, wrote that "Edward Irving contributed to the notion of...the secret rapture of the saints."(4)

Irving also the Secret Coming Rapture at the Powerscourt prophecy conferences at Powerscourt Castle in Dublin, Ireland in 1830.

JOHN NELSON DARBY (1800–1882), FUTURISM, PRETRIBULATIONISM
ANGLICAN Minister, later leader in the PLYMOUTH BRETHERN

Darby attended the Powerscourt prophecy conferences in 1830. It was there that he most likely heard about Macdonald's vision of a Secret Rapture promoted by Irving. Irving most likely introduced these ideas which were picked up by Darby, but it was Darby who synthesized the various points of the Pretribulation doctrine over a period of years to bring it to its final form (Irving died in 1834). This did not happen overnight, but it took a period of many years to finalize the doctrine. The doctrine did not find easy acceptance, caused divisions and bred confusion during the years he worked on it. I have read where it was during Darby's visits to Switzerland from 1838 to 1845 he began to pull the doctrine together and share it openly. Years later (1859-1874), Darby would take the message to America where it was readily accepted.

WILLIAM KELLY (1820-1906)

Revised Darby's notes to make it appear that Darby was the one who started the Pretrib doctrine and not Irving. A thorough report can be read at William Kelly's Journal — The Pinnacle of Pre-Trib Pilfering! By Dave MacPherson.

CYRUS INGERSON SCOFIELD (1843-1921), FUTURIST, PRETRIBULATIONISM
TRINITARIAN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Pastor Emeritus

Based his notes on the writings of J. N. Darby in his 1909 Scofield Reference Bible. By 1930, one million copies were printed and hit the Bible Colleges in America, spreading the Secret Coming doctrine.

The pieces Irving put together for the beginnings of the Pretribulation doctrine came from Ribera, Bellarmine, Lacunza - all Jesuits - and Margaret Macdonald's vision. Most damaging was Macdonald's vision, which was based on an occult experience that injected into the Church a Secret Coming of Jesus for the Church. From the Middle Ages on, many would fall for the false hope of this pieced together doctrine.

The truth on the Rapture.

Rapture: The Last Trump And The Second Coming Of Christ

By Mark Watson

The Pre-tribulation Rapture is not a sound and unassailable theological position. The preponderance of evidence that the translation of the saints and the second coming of Jesus Christ are one and the same event is extensive. I know many of you have been taught to believe in a pre-tribulation rapture by a plethora of biblical prophecy teachers and scholars. The following paragraphs will explain why, as much as I want to believe in a pre-tribulation rapture, the scriptures clearly indicate when the translation of the saints will occur. But first let me explain why this topic is so very important.

What you believe affects how you live. If you earnestly believe that you will not go through the last seven years of extreme trouble commonly referred to as the Great Tribulation, then you will not make any preparations spiritually or physically. If on the other hand you know (or even suspect) you will be here, then you will prayerfully and constantly seek Christ's wisdom and guidance and LIVE BY FAITH. It is my considered opinion that God loves us all, even the most hardened sinner. But he will not be mocked at judgment day. We saints of God who sincerely want to do God's will must do what Christ tells us to do, even if it means receiving ridicule and scorn, and having 'Christians' separate themselves from us. For many of us this means to live simply and humbly. Others have been called to exhort and teach while others are to minister according to Gods good graces. We, who are among the saved, must claim Gods promises including the ones Jesus made such as "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer I have overcome the world." (John 16:33b) This is an (uncomfortable) promise the Son of God makes to his followers. If you are a true Christian, it applies to you. The necessity of enduring to the end and of the leading astray, if possible, even the elect takes on an entirely new meaning if the Church is to here during the tribulation and the reign of anti-Christ.

Additionally, it must be stated here that other than the doctrine of the first coming of Christ, his death and resurrection and Messiahship, the doctrine of the Second Coming of Christ is the most important doctrine in scripture, in short it is the final act in God's promise of redemption. The return of the Messiah, Jesus Christ, to save his Church, the true Israel and heirs to the promise is the single most important doctrine in the Bible, with the possible exception of Christ's bodily resurrection. In short it is the consummation of the work of Jesus Christ. So how can any believer say, 'It isn't important', or 'it will all come out in the wash' or 'we'll know when he comes'? That was the mistake the Jews made when Christ came the first time and THEY WERE REJECTED FOR NOT KNOWING THE TIME OF THEIR VISITATION. Jesus told us to watch, over and over again he warns us to watch. How are we to know what to watch for? The answer to that is in the scriptures, in the writings of the Prophets and in the Messiah's words. This is a critical doctrine, because if you do not get this right, you will be as a man looking towards the east, when all the things he should be watching for are in the west. Remember, the Jews during Christs time, were hell-bound and eventually wound up hating and murdering the Christ who came to save them because they did not expect him to do the things that he did at the time that he did them. They wanted someone who would restore the kingdom of David and rid them of Roman Dominance without really turning towards God and doing the things that he commanded them to do. Today, believers want Christ to come to save them from the reign of Antichrist and severe persecution without the true repentance and more importantly the complete submission to Christ's Lordship (obedience) that leads to true salvation. In short, they want to fly away. Yet the scriptures clearly teach something very different. Lay hold of this, it is very important.

The rapture of the saints cannot occur until the last trumpet is sounded. "Behold I show you a mystery we shall not all sleep but we shall all be changed. In a moment, in a twinkling of an eye, at the last trump, for the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible and we shall be changed. (1 Cor 15:51,52). This gives the timing of the rapture

At the last trump.

Let's see what else the scripture says about this, “

For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive [and] remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep. For the LORD himself shall decent from heaven with a shout with the voice of the Archangel and with the Trump of God. And the dead in Christ shall rise first. Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together in the clouds to meet the LORD in the air and so shall we ever be with the LORD. (1 Thes 4:15-17)

The time table is the same:

The trumpet.

The Dead in Christ shall be raised.

The remaining saints translated

Paul tells the Church that we the remaining, still alive believers will not precede those saints who had already died in the LORD. My goodness, how much more clear can you get!? Brothers and sisters, this doctrine is no real mystery. It is not complicated, it is not hidden deep in obscure verses to be interpreted in a strange and new way. It is in plain black and white so plain that any honest, literate, spirit-filled Christian can see for themselves. Unfortunately that is the extreme minority of Christians in America. Far too many are listening to the false shepherds of Babylon.

Paul warned the Thessalonians, “

Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and [by] our gathering together unto him, That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand. Let no man deceive you by any means: for [that day shall not come], except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition; Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

Here is a stern warning from the Apostle. He categorically states with regard to

1. The coming of the LORD

2. Our Gathering unto him

He warns us not to let any man deceive you BY ANY MEANS (by a secret return of the LORD). Yet the modern American teachers have found a means. They simply say that there is another 'secret coming' or a 'secret gathering' that that Paul isn't talking about. Christ warned us about those who teach of a secret return of the LORD and told his disciples exactly how he was going to come, suddenly for all to see and hear.

Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, [he is] in the secret chambers; believe [it] not. For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

(Mat 24:26-27)

A note here, Paul says that anyone who says the church won't be here when the son of perdition (Antichrist) is revealed is deceiving you. Those who are teaching that you are going to fly away before the Antichrist is revealed are deceivers. Plain and simple. But there is big, big money in deceiving the Church, hence they are the ones whom the harlot religious system honors and promotes with their books, movies and magazines. Some may be doing it with the best of intentions, but a false doctrine is still false and a false teacher is still a false teacher. Reader Beware. Many of today's Seminaries and Bible Colleges have pounded the doctrine of the pre-trib rapture into the minds of denominational Church leaders that now hold important positions in mainstream Christianity. Many hold this doctrine because they have never really honestly studied it fully. Other have studied it knowing the pre-trib rapture position is false but remain silent out of cowardice and fear. Still others don't really believe in a return of the LORD at all, though they would never actually teach that. In any event, whatever the motivation of these religious leaders whether it is laziness, fear, or unbelief the doctrine of a pre-tribulation rapture is a false one.

What does Jesus say?

"Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened and the moon shall not give her light and the stars shall fall from heaven and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. And then shall appear the sign of the son of man in heaven and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn and they shall see the Son of Man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory. And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet and they shall gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other." (Matt 24:29-31)

Jesus said after the tribulation. And again we see the angels are present and the sound of a Trumpet.

The book of revelation identifies when the LAST trumpet sounds. There are seven trumpets which sound in the book of revelation and the last one is very different from the first six.

The First trumpet - fire hail and blood were thrown to earth.

The Second trumpet - a great "mountain" was cast into the sea.

The Third trumpet - a great star fell from heaven.

The Fourth trumpet - the sun moon and stars smitten.

The Fifth trumpet - the key to the bottomless pit opened, locusts released

The sixth trumpet - Four powerful angels released to slay one-third of men.

Then there is a long description of events which take place BEFORE THE SEVENTH AND FINAL ANGEL SOUNDS his trumpet.

1. An angel declares the mystery of God is finished¹. (The seven thunders)
2. There should be no more delay.
3. The temple of God is measured.
4. God's two witnesses prophesy for 1260 days (who says there are no more prophets!)
5. The two witnesses shall be killed in Jerusalem.
6. The two witnesses shall be caught up to heaven.

But at the seventh trumpet;

1. The kingdoms of the Earth become the kingdoms of God and Jesus Christ
2. The nations are angry at Jesus Christ
3. The Judgment of the dead is at hand
4. The reward of Gods servants is at hand.
5. Time for Christ and his servants to destroy those that destroy the earth.
6. The time of God's wrath has come.

Indeed these verses show there is an excellent possibility of a pre-wrath rapture. Consider that the DAY of the LORD begins with his wrath. And that on that day many, many things begin to happen, perhaps too many to fit into a single solar day.

But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day [is] with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. (2Pe 3:8)

I do not want to take liberties here for this subject is not so clear, but it is quite possible that the Last Day (Day of the LORD) that begins with God's Wrath, is the actually the beginning of the last thousand year reign also known as the millennium. This is food for serious thought for after the last trumpet sounds, the rulership of the planet changes hands and many many things transpire.

The First Resurrection

"And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years. But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection - Revelation 20:4-5

This is a most amazing scripture in the entire debate on the second coming of Christ. First, look and see who is included in this resurrection; those who refused to take the mark of the beast. Now we know that the translation of the saints (rapture) is not until after the first resurrection (1 Thess4:16-17). This verse tells you that the First resurrection takes place AFTER the mark of the beast. In short, NO resurrection and NO rapture before the mark of the beast. This lines up perfectly with what Paul so clearly stated, there will be no second coming of Christ before the Antichrist is revealed. (2 Thess. 2:3).

Indeed, Christ himself was most emphatic on when he was going to resurrect the dead in Christ.

And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day. (Joh 6:39)

And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day. (Joh 6:40)

No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. (Joh 6:44)

Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. (Joh 11:24)

Christ makes it abundantly clear that no one gets resurrected until the last day. The Apostle Paul makes it clear that no one is going away in any 'rapture' until the dead in Christ are raised up first. These are clear and incontrovertible teaching of Christ and his holy Apostles.

I do not see the Second Coming of Christ and the rapture of the saints as two different events. Rather, I see clearly it as being one single event. Nevertheless, even if they are separate events, neither will occur before the man of sin is revealed and many Christians are martyred for having refused the mark of the beast. More importantly, I do not believe the scriptures teach anything remotely like a pre-tribulation rapture. Christ is coming for a Church without spot or wrinkle. That certainly does not describe the millions of worldly, carnal 'christians' who flock to see the latest 'end-times' movies or buy the latest, best selling heretical 'Christian fiction' books. I am not trying to be condescending, but I believe that in the scriptures, first means first and last means last, if another trumpet sounds it is not the last!! Let me make this very clear to those who are teaching contrary to God's revealed word, any other definition of last is no more than a wresting of the scriptures and great spiritual folly. But I am sure you will find no difficulty in finding millionaire teachers to convince you "that the Holy Spirit really didn't mean last, what he really meant to say was...[Insert your convenient lie here]..”

The Wrath of God and the Church.

The church will not experience God's wrath. PERIOD. Many teachers see this as evidence that the church must be raptured first. On the surface this seems sound, but in reality it is American, it is Laodicean and it springs from a spirit of lukewarmness. Consider this, Lot was not translated at the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, but he was removed from the danger area, Noah was not translated even though the flood covered the whole earth, everyone else was dead! At the end of the tribulation at least a few will survive. By faith Noah prepared. Even though he was certainly mocked and laughed at for doing so. During the plagues of Egypt God supernaturally protected his people from his WRATH (not from chastisement, tribulation or persecution, but Gods Holy Wrath). This is one way God may protect us from the plagues of the last days. However God chooses to do it, you can be sure he will. It is a non-sequiter that God MUST translate the church for people to escape his wrath. God is Sovereign and rest assured he has the situation under control, even if we are like the saints in the book of Daniel who were thrown directly into the fiery furnace and were not burned, GOD IS ABLE!!! I must tell you, this American Gospel of prosperity, easy believe-ism and name it and claim it materialism, is not of God and gives rise to the comfortable no-suffering doctrines which are passed off as truth in the pulpit and Christian TV. Millionaire Christians who preach this non-sense put their sheep in great peril because when persecutions and tribulations come, it shakes the faith of these poor souls. And if they are taught to believe that we will not go through the tribulation and finds everyone still here, what will happen next? Hell's voice will speak in their troubled minds and say “If your preacher was wrong about the Rapture what else is he wrong about?” Then unbelief and even apostasy sets in. Then follows spiritual disaster. Because they were taught the gospel according to the American flag and the America dollar rather than according to Christ Jesus. God is not mocked. He who stores his treasure on earth will reap corruption. Consider this carefully, it will mean life or death to the mainstream American-Laodicean Church.

While God has not appointed us to wrath, there are some hard, hard times that believers will have to face and endure...to the end. The Antichrist will make war on the saints and will overcome them.

Revelation 13 says of the Beast: Vs 7 - And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations. [emphasis Mine]

One of the first mistakes made by modern and apostate teachers is that the Church will not be here when the 'end times' begins. This is palpably false and there is no real scriptural evidence for this. Those who hold this view must ignore or 'reinterpret' the words 'saints' and 'believers' and 'those who obey God's commandments' as something other than the true followers of Jesus Christ, better known as the Church. Redefining terms is a tool the devil has always used to obfuscate and confuse the truth and finally deceive people. Saints means saints. If you have difficulty in knowing who the saints are, then do a word study(See Bottom of this Page2). Most of you will not STUDY the word of God, to show yourselves approved and that is why so many will not believe what the scripture teaches, but rather believe what the false teachers are teaching.

Rev. 14:9-14 clearly teaches 3 things:

The saints of the tribulation are those who hold the true faith of Jesus Christ (Vs 12)

They are to have patience because the mark of the beast is here and they must not take it (vs 9-12)

There is a special blessing in those who die from that time onwards (Vs 13)

I also believe that these teachers are setting up the people of God for a very, very vile deception. I do not know exactly what this deception is, but the Spirit bears witness that the doctrine of a pre-tribulation rapture figures in heavily. But whatever it is, it will be strong enough to deceive God's most precious elect, if it were possible. Very few believers fall into that category. Very few. If it is strong enough to deceive them, what about the millions of half-baked lukewarm minions who call themselves Christians who bring great dishonor to Christ with their sinful lifestyles, and doctrines of devils? Did not the Apostle Paul warn of these types of people when he said that God would send them a strong delusion because they loved not the truth? Bear this in mind, saints of God, Satan is not sending this delusion, though he may be the instrument. God himself is sending this one.

And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming: [Even him], whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness. (2Th 2:8-12)

Whatever this deception is, it has been in the works since at least the days of Paul in the 1st Century (2Thes2:7). Therefore, if you are not firmly rooted and grounded in the word, knowing the times and the seasons of God's prophetic timetable, you will be like a man who goes into battle without a map, weapon or a battle plan.

Such people will be the slaughtered on the great day of the LORD, with all who loved the lie rather than the truth.

The Spirit bears witness that the doctrine of Christ's Second Coming is a foundation one. It is almost as important (though not quite) as salvation by grace and repentance from dead works. It is especially important to THIS GENERATION. God does not make foundational doctrines difficult to understand for his TRUE FLOCK. It is up to the Devil to confuse, obfuscate, misdirect, and otherwise DECEIVE those who receive not the love of the truth. Brothers and sisters, please let that not be you.

I know I have been uncompromising on this and I cannot apologize, I sense deeply that there is a great deception coming and this doctrine (the pre-tribulation rapture doctrine) is an important part of it. It is going to fool a lot of Christians. Even now some are teaching that it will be OK to take the mark of the Beast because it is only an 'economic mark' (????). Please study this doctrine and know the times and seasons it is the only way to properly watch unto salvation.

I humbly submit that I have been given no special divine revelation, no special angel has visited me with special messages regarding the rapture, no dream has revealed this mystery nor has any spiritual being spoken to me about these matters. I profess no special unction from God nor do I seek to have 'followers'. Additionally, I do not wish to create dissension in the true Church of God. My only tools in unraveling this mystery are rightly dividing the word of truth (for many years) and deep and sincere prayer. Many will gainsay this message as it is contrary to the common teachings of the American Pulpit and the Government Corporations passing themselves off as Churches. Also, many who have claimed to have had 'special revelation' from God will also revile this message. I am undaunted and unconcerned with them. If they cannot teach the truth clearly, concisely from the scriptures, I want nothing to do with their uninspired opinions and half studied doctrines that are deceiving many well meaning Christians. Let them be judged by the living God for what they are. Please keep in mind that this writing is not a personal attack upon anyone. It is a look at the doctrine of the rapture/last trump as it is taught clearly and concisely in the Bible, without fanciful interpretations of apocalyptic symbology or exegetical mistakes that imputes or assumes events that are not clearly and concisely taught in scripture. Before any of you readers get all hot and bothered with what I have written, read, study and pray sincerely for wisdom and it will be granted... if it is asked for in faith.

“And what I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch” (Mark 13:37)

Worldwide Death of American False Preachers
False Prophets LIE and DIE!

By Kato Mivule

The Covenant News ~ September 27, 2005

Separation of Wheat from Chaff

The Lord gave me a Prophetic Revelation about the demise of many church leaders today in Christendom who have led many of His people astray through false doctrines of man that seek to preserve only the institutions of man and promote man.

There is a shaking and separation happening in the Spirit. The Lord is separating the chaff from the wheat and gathering the wheat together and the chaff in one place ready for the fire.

The Lord has purposed that His church will go through a 7-year wilderness period. It will be a time of great suffering and great tribulation. It will be a time for the great furnace when the flames will be heated seven times hotter and the purification of the saints brought about so that they may walk with the Son of Man, Jesus Christ, through the fire and live in His presence forever.

The Lord is allowing the Church to enter a great period of sufferings. However, church leaders, especially in America have been a great hindrance and they have not prepared the saints for what is coming. They have not prepared the saints to endure the furnace and the 7 years of tribulation.

The New World Order Beast System to Take Over the USA

The Lord is allowing the New World Order to take over the USA. The USA as a republic will be no more; the New World Order will conquer it from within. The Babylonian system of government will take place, a military leader like no other will take over the former USA and together with the Harlot or false religion/Christianity, they shall rule.

The Rule of the New World Order will extend all over the world. Babylon and her 666 economic systems will reign over the economic world for 7 years. They will control the social and political spheres of every nation upon the earth. It will be a world wide system supported by the UN. Babylon the great will be fearful and dreadful and will crash all in her way.

It will be a time of great suffering and tribulation

During this time The Lord will allow Babylon to arise and persecute the saints and murder the saints and cause a great tribulation for all who truly love Jesus Christ. This, The Lord will allow in order to drive the church/saints into the wilderness to suffer for Christ and be purified for seven years.

Yes, the Church has to be purified seven years through great sufferings. The Bride of Christ has to separate from the Harlot = Bride of Anti Christ. There has to be a separation from all that which is false and that which God hates. Purification must come in the wilderness. This is God's will. This is God's purpose.

False Preachers Prophecy False Peace and Security

However, many false prophets, preachers, pastors, teachers and Bible College PhDs are prophesying lies to the saints all over the world that nothing will happen to them. They are telling people that "Once Saved, they are always Saved", that people will be "Raptured away before the tribulation", that God has paid it all therefore it is God's will that they live in peace and prosperity...

These things have lead the people of God not to ready themselves for what is coming ahead, not to watch or even not to care at all for what is coming. Many Christians in America and every place where America-nized Christianity is taught have gotten a false sense of security and feel that nothing will tough or happen to them, that they will just be raptured away. This is all courtesy of the 'big fat liar' preachers on American pulpits...

Some of the False Peace and Security American Doctrines...

False Worldwide American Missionary Outreaches – New World Order CIA Cover...

...And many more...

All these things have created a false sense of security in Christendom that people don't know what is coming so close ahead of them. The Church leaders keep telling them that all will be okay and keep preaching peace and security...

The Lord is going to strike down these false preachers

The Lord has revealed to me that He is going to strike these false leaders down. They are going to die because they lie. They have chosen the way of Prophet Hananiah and chosen to reject the Word of God for the purification of His Children and instead chosen to twist God's Truth.

A time is coming and very soon when false preachers, pastors, prophets, Bible College PhDs will drop dead. Yes, the day is coming and very soon that there is going to be a wave of mysterious death in Christendom. This is no joke and no laughing matter. It is very serious.

False America-nized Preachers will drop DEAD!

We are going to see many Purpose Driven Preachers, Prosperity Teachers, and Church Growth Movement Teachers, Christian TV Preachers the likes of TBN and Christian Radio Preachers drop dead. We are going to see The Lord judge them because they have stood by the door of the Kingdom and refused many to enter while they refuse to enter. Many of these preachers are going to die because they lie and have deceived Christians that they will not suffer persecution and tribulation. They represent the Prophet Hananiah Corporate Body.

The Worldwide death of the False Peace and Prosperity preachers is going to happen around the world. It will happen in Africa, America, Latin America, Asia, in everyplace where America-nized or Westernized Gospel is being preached.

The Church and saints will be thrown into the tribulation for purification. Yes, through great sufferings the saints of God will enter Heaven for a period of seven years and no one will shorten that time because The Lord has pre-determined it and it will not be changed.

So, if you are a TBN preacher or "Christian Radio" preacher, or even a Bible College PhD, it is time for you to repent and begin to speak truth otherwise judgment is coming your way because of the lies you have taught the people of God.

Hananiah False Prophets = Today's Church Leaders in Christendom

Jeremiah 28

1 And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. 3 Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to

Babylon: 4 And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went into Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

Prophet Hananiah is a Type and Shadow of False Preachers, Pastors, Bible College Professors, Teachers, and Christian TV and Radio Preachers who speak half-truth and half poison. They entice Christians by telling them that God will not allow them to suffer and endure hardships. That God will have mercy of the Christians and somehow they will escape and be raptured away before the tribulation. They have lied to Christians that even if they get into captivity, God will deliver them out...

So, we have false 'Deliverance Christianity' and false patriotism that seeks to blind the eyes of many into thinking that they will take America back by the power of arms. These false preachers also think that The New World Order will not affect them in anyway. It is the Harlot spirit. The Church sleeping in bed with New World Order Politicians and thinking they can secure safety.

The purpose of The Lord is to allow Christians to endure Seven Years of Tribulation and wilderness so as to be purified and made ready to meet the Bridegroom, Jesus Christ when He comes to reign over the earth physically at the end of the Seven-year Tribulation period.

The Prophet Hananiah represents the Corporate Body of Leaders in the Church who thinks otherwise and believes that God does not need to use sufferings and persecutions to purify His Church and that God will cut that time short... These 'Hananiah Preachers' have led many astray and into a gospel of false peace, prosperity and security.

5 Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD, 6 Even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD's house, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon into this place.

Yes, Jeremiah agrees to the truth that God would bring back the vessels of The Lord's house back, but after seven years not before, not sooner. There are no short cuts brothers and sisters; the church and saints have to endure the complete seven years of great sufferings and tribulation. There is no escapism...

God will use even the vessels of The Lord's House, a type of those used as vessels of honor, to bring forth judgments in Babylon or in the New World Order Empire.

Remember Belshazzar and the writing on the wall when he tried to drink from the vessels of the Lord's House? Judgment fell on Babylon that night and he was killed and his kingdom given over to the Persians and the Medes.

So the same will happen in the New World Order, yes even as the Beast persecutes the saints and tries to use the saints for his evil gains, The Lord will judge the New World Order Beast and as such the purpose of the tribulation is not just purification for the saints but also through the saints - the vessels of The Lord's house, judgment will fall of the New World Order Beast Empire.

Babylon New World Order Judged Cause of Vessels of The Lord's House

Daniel 5:1-5

1 Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand. 2 Belshazzar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, might drink therein. 3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, drank in them. 4 They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. 5 In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

Daniel 5: 25-31

25 And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. 26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it. 27 TEKEL; Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28 PERES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians. 29 Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom. 30 In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain. 31 And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

So, it is very clear that during this time of captivity in Babylon, The Lord judged Babylon and Belshazzar because they disregarded the vessels of the Lord's Temple. This is a clear type and shadow that The Lord will use those Christians in the Tribulation period under the Babylonian New World Order Beast System to bring judgment on the New World Order. Yes, it is during this time that The New World Order is measured and found wanting and then it is judged by the Persians and Medes. The American New World Order will be judged and burned with fire by Russian, Chinese and Moslem forces because America Babylon The Great will persecute and kill many saints...

New World Order Babylon America will Persecute and Kill Saints

Revelation 18:20

20 Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged you on her.

This represents the Vessels of The Lord's House being given justice because of what Babylon did to them... So Babylon The Great is measured, found wanting and judged...

Revelation 18:24

24 And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

In Babylon The Great was found the Blood of all Saints... speaks of all who are slain during the great tribulation... The New World Order will kill and murder Christians the world over. The New World Order will be diabolical and yes even now they are diabolical and will commit such evil crimes and mass genocides to wipe out Christians who they consider to be terrorist. This is coming folks and will happen in America and every capital of the world that is in love with Babylon USA.

So, Prophet Hananiah Preachers are giving people a false sense of security because they hate to endure sufferings and pain for Christ Jesus and don't even know what the True Purposes of God are. These America-nized Positive Hananiah preachers are just clamorous, simple-minded and know nothing...

The Clamorous Woman = Harlot Church Knows Nothing

Proverbs 9:13-18

13 A foolish woman is clamorous: she is simple, and knoweth nothing. 14 For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city, 15 To call passengers who go right on their ways: 16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him, 17 Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant. 18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there; and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

The Woman is a type and shadow, representative of the church or harlot. In this case, the foolish woman represents the harlot church headed by Prophet Hananiah preachers. They love stolen waters and bread in secret; they love to commit fornication with politicians, businessmen, Hollywood, and other religious sects. They lie to the whole world that everything in their churches is easy and give a false sense of security.

Therefore the simple (stupid and idiots) rush to these so-called men of God to get covering. But the dead are there and her guests are in the depth of hell. This represents the New World Order Beast and False Prophet pacts and treaties as in the book of Revelation. The Harlot Church has rejected the Fear of The Lord that is the beginning of Wisdom and has resorted to bedfellow with the New World Order, False Patriotism and commits fornication with businessmen, all who have pacts with the devil and his demons.

So, the churches of America have become demonic homes. The dead live there... spiritually dead people fill America's churches. Her guests are in the depth of hell... Satan has become the pastor of many so-called evangelical and Christian churches of America. The Harlot Church continues to be clamorous, simple and knowing nothing.

Yes, Biblical DOOM and GLOOM Prophets Sent By The Lord

Jeremiah 28:7-9

7 Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people; 8 The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence. 9 The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.

The Prophets of old represents the True God Fearing Prophets. Prophets of old prophesied DOOM and GLOOM because of rebellion and sin among Men. Therefore God sent them to warn nations that destruction was determined for them except the repent.

Jeremiah is a little sarcastic about Prophet Hananiah and makes fun of Hananiah if you can take it that way. In other words, Jeremiah knew that Hananiah was prophesying lies. And so made a joke about him that a true prophet who prophesies peace, peace, is known to be true if what he says comes to pass. Hananiah Prophets always speak 'Positive Possibility' Messages so as to give a false sense of peace and security among men that God loves them so much even if they sin so much...Once Saved Always Saved Doctrines from Satan.

We all know that DOOM and GLOOM is what happened and not peace, peace, as Hananiah prophesied. This warning goes to all, especially to those 'Copy and Paste' Christians in Uganda, Africa, and the world all over where Westernized Christianity is taught. You will DIE because you LIE and prophesy peace, peace when The Lord has determined DOOM and GLOOM for your cities because of sin and rebellion in the hearts of men. You will DIE because you LIE when you stand by the door of the Kingdom and refuse many to enter while yourselves you refuse to enter.

False Deliverance and Escapism

Jeremiah 28:10-12

10 Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it. 11 And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

This is representative of the false deliverance from sufferings and hardships the Lord brings upon His people to cleanse and purify them. The Seventy years that was determined by The Lord for Israel to endure in Babylon represents the Seven years The Lord has determined for the Church to endure the great tribulation.

The Prophet Hananiah Corporate Preachers would like to truncate that time frame because of their egos and clamorous behavior and simple mindedness. They would like to see this time shortened because they know not the True Purposes of The Lord and therefore are clueless and know nothing.

The New World Order Babylonian system will take over the whole world for seven years before being judged themselves by The Lord. The Christians have to carry that burden for seven years, suffering and enduring for the sake of Christ Jesus. Yes, it will be a period to carry the cross and follow Christ Jesus. No short cuts.

Jeremiah 28:12-14

12 Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the prophet, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying, 13 Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Thou hast broken the yokes of wood; but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron. 14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also.

The Yoke that Hananiah broke out of presumption and arrogance was one of wood, which represents Man. However, in that place came another yoke of iron, which represents The Demonic. The New World Order is diabolical and its system is from hell and Satan. The Lord Jesus Christ alone can break the yoke of Iron of the New World Order Babylonians. So, as long as it is the purpose of The Lord to have the Church endure sufferings, "Left Behind" ministries and preachers are wasting time. They had better get in line with God's True Purposes.

Even those who resist the New World Order with guns and arms will be killed and crushed because the yoke of bondage on the end times New World Order Babylonian Government is diabolical, it is demonic and you cannot kill demons with the power of guns...

Many end times teachers miss the very important fact that the New World Order Beast System is going to be diabolical and demonic, therefore the yokes are those of Iron and only The Lord can break...

The yoke of iron is demonic stronghold that rule over the physical New World Order Babylonian empire. None can break those strongholds except The Lord Jesus Christ.

Worldwide Death of Hananiah Prophets...

Jeremiah 28:15-17

15 Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah; The LORD hath not sent thee; but thou makest this people to trust in a lie. 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the LORD. 17 So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

The Death of Hananiah is determined because he lied. All Hananiah False Prophets will DIE because they LIE. The Lord has not sent them because they know not even the will of The Lord and True purposes of The Lord.

Many Hananiah False Prophets today are going to DIE except they repent. If you know any, send them this article that they get right with The Lord. Death is determined for many Hananiah Prophets, many who preach on TBN, Christian Radio, pastor Mega Multi-Million Dollar Churches, and so-called worship leaders, Christian Musicians etc... We are going to see unexplained death of these Hananiah Prophets in the days ahead worldwide.

Those who repent God will be merciful to them and will revive and bless them. Those who refuse will DIE because they LIE!

The CFR isn't entirely staffed by Catholics. So how do the CFR Protestants, some of whom I am sure are rabidly anti-Pope, and the Jews, sit comfortably in their situation?

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 18, 2005 02:38 PM (GMT)

My friend Protestantism has been infiltrated by the Jesuits for a long time indeed and if you read the vows and oaths you will see this chameleonism highlighted. You must remember that when you know whos master you have to be a servant or go elsewhere, lose you life etc depending on the circumstances of which the opposition is felt. Remember on that most in the Vatican detest the Superior General and his Order of Jesuits but they have no choice, he and his General Staff are in control of them. Its like going to work and the workforce hating the controlling manager but they have to go along because they will be out of a job, its their decision. The same for managers disliking their authority or CEO etc! Also remember that no everyone is truly deeply religious enough to want to fight and believe hard what they are supposedly following. Protestantism is dying my friend and Ian Paisley from Ireland exposes the Jesuits and the infiltration just nicely. The jews as you call them are masonic jews and again come under the control of the superforce leader of freemasonry the Superior General. Now then George H.W Bush is about one of the most powerful public figures around in freemasonry and hes not too far down from the General believe it or not in Freemasonry only. If I recall hes #77 where as Peter Hans Kolvenbach is #99 I believe the #100 is slotted for the Lucifer who they all worship. Funny how when their asked if their christian they say Im born again meaning I worship Lucifer and the Mysteries Religion but the populace do not understand the Born Again :ph43r:

Welcome to the truth and unhived mindDel - September 18, 2005 05:12 PM (GMT)

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 19, 2005 12:37 AM (GMT)

Yes Peter Hans Kolvenbach is the most powerful singular human on this planet! Of course he has to be elected so overall the team that performs this is more powerful but they are not singular. Its the same with businesses when they pick a managing director but remember the board of directors can always remove him if they choose, its no different to this situation. Anyone who sits in the position of The Superior General of the Society of Jesus is the most powerful man in the world! Anyone who tells you otherwise or claims the conspiracy doesn't have a direct leadership and one in charge is either deluded, Temporal, misguided, gatekeeper or just plain ignorant! Of course the Black Pope couldn't do it all without his General Staff, Jesuits, Opus Dei, Vatican and SMOM! This is the real interlocking web of control on this planet!

If your here to wind me up with questions you know the answer to from me then please feel free to go elsewhere and listen to dribble and get indoctrinated. If you genuine then feel free to stay and learn more to help you along your way of understanding your existance in this pathetic society we have to live in. Note I'm not here to highlight the real reason for your existance in this world but only whats imposed on us by fake Catholic Douay Bible following evil robed ones.

CLOAK EXCLUSIVE!

by Sherman H. Skolnick, co-host

BARBARA OLSON LIVES!

The existence of Barbara Olson could unravel the false tales of 9-11 having been committed by "The Moslems" spun by the real perpetrators, the Secret Team of the Anglo-American Aristocracy who in their bloody treachery knocked down the Twin Towers and WTC Building 7 with internal explosives. The liars and whores of the monopoly press contend that Barbara Olson died in the supposed crash into the Pentagon of American Airlines Flight 77. The Pentagon was hit actually by a drone or missile.

As I have mentioned for months now, the estranged wife of Theodore B. Olson turned up alive, in Europe, with a new face and a wig. A well-known author and TV commentator, Barbara is now in the custody of Jesuits jointly with secret political police operatives of Russia and the U.S., among others. Demanding a piece of the "sky is the limit" multi-trillion Dollar 9-11 blackmail action, through Vatican Intelligence, is the long-time head of the latter day dreadful Inquisition, Joseph RAT-zinger, a suspected former Nazi, recently through his own shake-down arm-twisting having forced the Vatican Conclave to crown him Pope Benedict 16th.

In on-going secret meeting sessions, Federal Judges in Chicago and some Judges on the U.S. Supreme Court are alarmed by all this. Ted Olson is a reputed "Court Bagman" and king-pin in the use of Coca-Cola/CIA funds and those of Disney, in corrupting five Judges of the high court in Bush vs Gore, including Antonin Scalia and the late William Rehnquist.

To get his share of the possible extortion loot, what if Ted Olson becomes a turncoat and whistle-blower? Could the Bush Crime Family survive the truth how the actual elected but not inaugurated President. Albert Gore, Jr., was shoved aside? Can America survive a fictitious Presidency engaged in an unconstitutional war, a "for sale" Congress that did not declare war, and a Judiciary corrupted all the way to the top, and a treasonous 2001 New Pearl Harbor 9-11?

Stay tuned.

Thankyou for this as it seems the links I gave in a message further down are now dead (I WONDER WHY!!!!) Maybe Kolvenbach is getting fed up of people knowing of him and his status finally! People are awakening and as long as I'm around and phelps + Rivera he will be fingered. So many are now understanding the true role of the Jesuit Order at last!!!!!!!

Pastor Steve - September 25, 2005 11:21 AM (GMT)

Glad to help. Well I dont know if the enemies kept a direct approach with those who had this archive I linked here, because basically those people just died. Both parties who owned the files died within 2 years. Who knows if it was planned. Christiansbiblestudy.org recieved a full CD copy of these files back in 2003, and the last owner of the files, Willie Martin died suddenly, he was a crippled vietnam vetran who published thousands of articles. Now another site who began carrying his files is down, christianparty.net, which is a very strange disappearance. It was up a week ago, now it is down, 14,800 articles on their site GONE! But you can still read them in googés cache: <http://www.google.com/search?q=+site:chris...n&start=10&sa=N>

What next? I think they're all just dying of stress and some maybe even old age, and probably dont know much about health. Anyhow, that's why everyone should have archive backups and plots for people to always keep your sites up and running in the event of an untimely death or incarceration. If you get high up on the hill then always have at least a handful of people who will keep things up and running in case something happens to you.

HELL, we'll keep up 100 websites with all these truths and nothing can stop us.

It saddens me to see all the people's hard work lost, it wont happen again! Never let it happen to your work.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 25, 2005 01:55 PM (GMT)

Yes it seems maybe the Order fear the veils are being lifted! This new Religious Hatred crap in the U.K will also help squash information! I do not know if you get a server abroad if you will not be ruled by it then hmmm.

Pastor Steve - September 25, 2005 07:06 PM (GMT)

A lot of sites can be run privately on a server abroad without any contact information. Such as www.privatewebhosting.com and other programs. They claim they wont even listen to a non-United States warrant. It can also be lucrative if you play your cards right with your program. There is also ones like www.freeservers.com which gives you a lousy pop up banner and really nothing but space to host on. privatewebhosting provides forums and even some of the top content management systems like phpnuke included.

I watched this movie with interest and wondered 2Tuff and the rest of you thought of it. It's all about a criminal, played by Robert DeNiro, mending his ways and becoming a Jesuit. After that he is involved in a plan to save a tribe of Amazon indians from being captured as slaves.

It's a moving tale with beautiful filming and music, but the bit which might interst you was the scene where the new Jesuit is initiated, demanding "obediance at all times".

Title: Phelps - Turner still a Temporal Coadjutor

Description: plenty more great knowledge and history!

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 25, 2005 01:56 PM (GMT)

Dear Mr. Turner,

Thank you for contacting me.

Thank you also for correcting me---that you are not openly (or secretly, declared without mental reservation) connected with Opus Dei or the Knights of Malta (men like Pat Buchanan, William F. Buckley, Jr., George J. Tenet, Alexander Haig, Jr. (whose brother Francis is a powerful Jesuit priest), Jesuit Avery Cardinal Dulles of Fordham University, the racially Jewish, religiously Roman Catholic Louis Lehrman whose family owns Rite-Aide) and a host of other Knights too numerous to list. Therefore upon your assertive denial, even though you supported the Jesuit-trained Knight of Malta and favorite of the Jesuit Order of Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., as well as the Order's CFR-controlled Fox News, CNN and MSNBC, I withdraw the charge.

With regard to your denial of being a "Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor" as I declared you to be on the Bible-believing, Hebrew Lenny Bloom show, I cannot withdraw that charge, just yet. The reason being lies in your conclusion that "the Jews" are the cause for the nation's woes (the savage, inner city Black problem; the Iraqi war; the control of the wicked Federal Reserve Bank, etc.) without distinguishing the Jewish/Hebrew/Israelite people (as Pius XII's Hitler rightly termed them) from the Masonic Jewish Zionists who are, in fact, the Pope's "Court Jews."

Case in point: the wicked and now deceased Simon Weisenthal (with a "Maltese Cross" Medal recently pictured around his neck and whom I emailed several months ago informing him of the Pope's involvement in the control of the leaders of Israel from its inception to this day---to which email he never responded) was never a true Nazi hunter, but merely a slave of every Pope from Pius XII to Benedict XVI (ordained to the priesthood in 1951 by Hitler's master, the Archbishop of Munich, Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber) and their Jesuit Curia. Why the charge? Because Weisenthal never truly pursued the most powerful Nazis in their flight out of Europe aided by the Jesuits via the Black Pope's Vatican Ratlines. Indeed, he played a role in the Pope's CIA-controlled Mossad capturing Adolf Eichmann in Argentina, but that capture was ordered by Jesuit Superior General Jean-Baptiste Janssens for the purpose of saving the Pope's Ben-Gurion government: Dr. Rudolf Kastner was proven to have worked with SS Colonels Eichmann and Becher in the deportation of 400,000 Hungarian Jews to Auschwitz in late 1944. As you may know, to silence this most notorious revelation that would have most assuredly resulted in a formal trial against Ben-Gurion's trusted advisor, Kastner was murdered outside of his home by an "ex" Mossad agent. Not long thereafter the Jesuit-ruled, former "Protestant" Eichmann was in Jerusalem while "lay brother Redemptorist" Martin Bormann was left completely unmolested.

The same holds true for the Pope's Un-Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s. Although there were many "Court Jews" involved in that socialist-communist, interracialist revolution, the master behind its mulatto Masonic "Chief," A. Philip Randolph, was none other than Cardinal Spellman's advisor, Jesuit John LaFarge. Further, LaFarge was also involved in the assassination of Knight of Columbus JFK under the aegis of "the American Pope," Francis Cardinal Spellman---the master of another Masonic Jewish Zionist and traitor to his own people while both on then Warren Commission and in the U.S. Senate--- Pennsylvania's disgraceful, socialist, anti-gun ownership promoter, Arlen Specter.

Masonic Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor Adolf Hitler (tutored by the notorious Masonic Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor Adolf Josef Lanz) utilized the same Jesuit casuistry: he blamed all Jews in general for the terrible deeds of the Jesuit Order some of which deeds were implemented by the Pope's socialist-communist, Masonic Jewish Zionists. Hitler blamed the wicked Versailles Treaty on all Jews in general when notorious "Court Jews" were fronted to create that illusion later needed to logically support the claims of the Nazis. One of those evil, Jesuit-ruled Court Jews was CFR member, Masonic Bernard Baruch---another one of Spellman's New York City Jews.

Therefore Mr. Turner, until you begin to make these distinctions and critical clarifications regarding the Pope's Masonic, Jewish, anti-Torah, Zionists over against the Jewish/Hebrew/Israelitic people in general, then I must maintain the charge that you are, in doctrine and deed, a covert Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor as was radio-Priest Charles Coughlin, as is Bible-reading radio host Texe Marrs. By blaming the Jews in general for the wicked designs of the Devil's Luciferian Society of Jesus, you have become a partaker of the Order's evil deeds, one of them being the openly stated purpose of destroying what was once White, AV1611 Bible-reading, Protestant and Baptist-Calvinist Western Civilization. The destruction will include millions of "liberal," anti-communist Roman Catholics having enjoyed the liberties enumerated in the Baptist-Calvinist-inspired Bill of Rights.

I trust this may be informative and, if so desired, I shall remain at your service in providing other such historical facts to the end that you may rightly turn your attack to where it belongs: the Papacy and its nefarious, military Company of Jesus in command of said Papacy, and thus the Pope's CFR-ruled, CIA/Mossad directed, Masonic Jewish Zionists ruling the racial "brethren" of the risen Lord Jesus Christ---the beloved Hebrew/Jewish/Israelitic people composing the majority of the Jews within Israel yet to inherit the promises given to the fathers Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and David.

Please post my response on your website.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric Jon Phelps

Cardinal breaks conclave vow of secrecy

Details of papal conclave revealed

Friday, September 23, 2005; Posted: 11:40 p.m. EDT (03:40 GMT)

VATICAN CITY (AP) -- A cardinal has broken his vow of secrecy and released his diary describing the conclave that elected Pope Benedict XVI, revealing in an exceedingly rare account that a cardinal from Argentina was the main challenger and almost blocked Benedict's election.

Excerpts of the diary, published Friday, show Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger led in each of the four ballots cast in the Sistine Chapel during the mystery-shrouded April 18-19 conclave. But, in a surprise, Cardinal Jorge Mario Bergoglio, a Jesuit, was in second place the whole time.

Most accounts of the conclave have said retired Milan archbishop Cardinal Carlo Maria Martini was the main challenger to Ratzinger, who became Benedict XVI after his election, and that a Third World pope was never realistically in the running.

While Bergoglio never threatened Ratzinger's lead -- and made clear he didn't want the job, according to the diary published in the respected Italian foreign affairs magazine Limes -- his runner-up status could signal the next conclave might elect a pope from Latin America, home to half the world's 1 billion Roman Catholics.

The diary of the anonymous cardinal is also significant because it shows that Ratzinger didn't garner a huge margin -- he had 84 of the 115 votes in the final ballot, seven more than the required two-thirds majority.

His two immediate predecessors, Pope John Paul II and Pope John Paul I, are believed to have garnered 99 and 98 votes respectively, and that was when there were only 111 voting cardinals.

"It does seem that somebody wants to indicate that the conclave was a more complex process than was being depicted and that Benedict's mandate was not a slam dunk," said David Gibson, a former Vatican Radio journalist who is writing a biography of Benedict.

Finally, the diary includes a few surprises, including a vote in the final ballot for Cardinal Bernard Law, forced to resign as Boston archbishop because of the church sex abuse scandal.

And it offers other colorful insights of what went on behind the scenes during the two days the 115 red-hatted princes of the church were sequestered in the Sistine Chapel and the Vatican's Santa Marta hotel to select the 265th leader of the Catholic Church.

Because the hotel prohibits smoking, Portuguese Cardinal Jose Policarpo da Cruz would sneak outside for an after-dinner cigar, the diary says. And Cardinal Walter Kasper shunned the minibuses that shuttled cardinals to the Sistine Chapel, preferring to walk by the Vatican gardens instead.

Diary draws no comment

"Sunday, April 17: In the afternoon I took over my room at the Casa Santa Marta. I put down my bags and tried to open the blinds because the room was dark. I wasn't able to. One of my fellow brothers asked a nun working there, thinking it was a technical problem. She explained they were sealed. Closure of the conclave..." the diary begins.

The published diary entries were interspersed with commentary from Vatican journalist Lucio Brunelli, who says he obtained the diary through a trusted source he had known for years. He told The Associated Press he spoke in Italian to his source -- a hint the cardinal in question was Italian.

Brunelli says he couldn't identify the author because of the vow of secrecy each cardinal took before entering the conclave. Punishment for violating the vow is excommunication.

In Buenos Aires, a spokesman for the archdiocese, Enzo Paoletta, said Bergoglio had no comment on the report.

Nothing official is ever recorded from conclaves, and the ballots are burned in the Sistine Chapel stove -- ashes that signal to the world through white smoke or black whether a pope has been elected.

As a result, the diary's tallies -- which Brunelli said he confirmed through other cardinals -- are unusual, although previously tallies have leaked out piecemeal.

According to the diary, Ratzinger won 47 votes and Bergoglio 10 on the first round of balloting, while Martini got nine and some 30 others got a few votes.

In round two, Ratzinger edged up to 65 and Bergoglio 35.

By the third ballot, Ratzinger had 72 votes, just five shy of the two-thirds majority needed to win. But Bergoglio got 40, just over the threshold needed to stall the conclave, if his supporters wanted to.

However, the diary says Bergoglio made it clear he might not have accepted the job. The cardinal recalls watching Bergoglio cast his ballot: "The suffering face, as if he were begging: 'God don't do this to me.'"

Marco Politi, Vatican correspondent for La Repubblica, said if the diary showed anything, it's that outsiders really have no idea what happens during a conclave, since so many of the media's preconceived ideas were proved wrong.

"To know more, we have to wait for other tears in the secret," he wrote Friday.

Gibson speculated the diary's author was Italian and wanted to set the record straight that Ratzinger, a German, didn't have as significant a margin as some had suggested.

"Outside of Italy, Catholics and churchmen have a very kind of mystical view of the Vatican and especially the conclave," Gibson said.

"The Italians have always had a more kind of political view of the process ... for them it's their election, and they're much more comfortable with it, as a human as well as a divine process."

Title: Jesuits and their SMOM Middle East Papal Crusade

AVBibleBeliever - September 24, 2005 04:08 AM (GMT)

Dear 2Tuff,

Praise God "The Unhived Mind" is up and running again. The Order can't keep a good man down or a good message board down for that matter. I sent the following info to Brother Eric but I haven't heard from him yet which is understandable since he is finishing up VAIII. I wanted to pass on this info to you and every board member. Enjoy!

Brother Nicholas N. Rivera

Dear Brother Eric,

This "The Temple News" article is not current. It's from Dec 2004 but it shows Avery Cardinal Dulles, the Knights of Malta (SMOM) and the Pentagon seeking to justify the current Papal Crusade in the Middle East.

Cardinal (Fordham Jesuit Avery Dulles), Colonel seek to justify war

<http://www.temple-news.com/media/paper143/..ar-827696.shtml>

http://www.maltausa.org/files/newsletter_hospitallers_02.pdf (see page 8)

This symposium was moderated by two Temple University professors and Knights of Malta Jesuit-trained (Gregorian University) Dr. Craig de Paulo and Patrick Messina. Jesuit Cardinal Dulles said the following and this sounds identical to what Francis Cardinal Spellman said about "preventive war" referring to his crusade in Vietnam against the anti-Jesuit Buddhists.

"There can be no abandoning of just-war principles," said Fordham Jesuit Avery Cardinal Dulles, the ranking member of the Catholic Church in attendance, in his opening address. "The infliction of harm has to be justified." What a callous and cold thing for anyone to say but it is no surprise to hear that kind of hate and fanaticism from a Professed Jesuit of the Fourth Vow who believes he can "find God (his god is Lucifer) in all things" even the bloodshed and genocide of the Muslim peoples. The Jesuits especially of the Professed Fourth Vow sort are sons of perdition. The Jesuits were expelled from Iraq in 1969 but made their way back (through U.S. Armed forces chaplaincies) in through their Fourteenth Amendment empire and its Vatican war machine.

Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor and Knight of Malta de Paulo cited the "five plus two" principles for "just war" as established by North African fanatical Roman Catholic papist Augustine (City of God) and Thomas Aquinas (Summa Theologica) and de Paulo said "legitimate authority, just cause, right intention, [striking] military targets only, and [war as] a last resort...as well as a serious possibility of success" and a measure of "proportionality," which requires that more lives would be spared by taking action than by not. de Paulo tried to debunk the fact the wars in the Middle East are a "holy war or crusade" de Paulo asked if it was. Dr. Joseph Hagan chairman of the Board of Trustees of John Cabot University in ROME replied, "I think that is nonsense." His opinion is biased indeed and he is a Knight of the "Sacred" Constantinian Order of St. George along with Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor de Paulo.

On this list you will see Papal Knights Dr. Hagan, Dr. de Paulo, and Fra James V. Stroebe whose solemn vows ceremony is detailed on your website. Stroebe is a professed Knight of Justice (SMOM)

<http://www.constantinianorder.org/english/...rthamerica.html>

See Coadjutor de Paulo's webpage <http://www.cjndepaulo.com/index.htm>

Biography- <http://www.cjndepaulo.com/biography.htm>

Coat of Arms- <http://www.cjndepaulo.com/coat.htm> (note it has the double headed eagle (conventionalized Masonic phoenix) and Jesuit IHS which is also Masonic having been created by the Jesuits who wrote the last few degrees of the Scottish Rite.

de Paulo is a Temporal Coadjutor par excellence and one of the most powerful Knights of Malta in the Northeast U.S.

This symposium reminds me of the Congressional committees and confirmation hearings in Washington D.C. They are all staged in that the men who asked questions but give no clear answers are CFR members most of the time. Roman Catholic (with Jesuit Georgetown connections) John G. Roberts' hearings are being conducted by Jesuit-trained Temporal Coadjutor Patrick Leahy and Kennedy assassin Papal Court Jew Arlen Specter. Recently, on CNN I believe Mormon Harry Reid said something about the hearings as well. Jesuit-controlled Knight of Columbus Senator Ted Kennedy gave "dissenting" opinions. I believe this is the Order's damage control and just another example of controlled opposition which ensures that the Order is not suspected of fixing the judicial confirmation when in fact they are.

http://www.worldnetdaily.com/news/article...RTICLE_ID=46360

There are reports about the Jesuits' CIA through their Masonic Al Qaeda planned "American Hiroshima" (simultaneous ground [just as Hiroshima and Nagasaki were attacked by the Jesuits with ground detonations] nuclear detonations in major U.S. cities to foment chaos and reinstate a military draft) as part of the "Great Ramadan Offensive" scheduled next month.

http://www.worldnetdaily.com/news/article....RTICLE_ID=46235 President Bush allowed armed foreign troops to enter the South in the name of "relief".

<http://www.duluthsuperior.com/mld/duluthsu.../printstory.jsp>

Bush does not care about border security and his Skull and Bones oath to serve Don Quixote (Black Pope) and the White Pope supercedes all else. His oath of office was a lie and everything he does is influenced by his oath to the Jesuit General and his Vatican.

Some info on British Knight of Malta Tony Blair and his wife Cherie Booth—a Roman Catholic human rights lawyer. From Georgetown webpage: "His [Druid Rowan Williams] address was part of a series of Georgetown events begun this year that commemorate the 40th anniversary of Pacem in Terris, an encyclical written by Pope John XXIII in some of the darkest moments of the Cold War. Other speakers have included Cherie Booth, a noted Roman Catholic human rights lawyer and wife of British Prime Minister Tony Blair. On this very stage, she debated [Opus Dei] Michael Novak and [Opus Dei CFR, and Dame of Malta] Jeane Kirkpatrick. Among our Pacem in Terris speakers next semester will be Prince El-Hassan bin Talal of Jordan, who heads the World Conference on Religion and Peace; Jonathon Kozol, Paul Farmer, Miroslav Volf, and Jonathan Fanton."

<http://president.georgetown.edu/speeches/jjd06052004.html>

Info on Jeane Kirkpatrick and Knight of Malta CFR "Deep Throat" Alexander Haig Jr. (according to Canadian Alan Watt Haig sits on the board of Jesuit Communist COSCO (no surprise there but shows the collaboration between the SMOM and Communist-run COSCO Haig masquerades as strongly anti-Communist but it is just an act.)

According to Wikipedia about Tony Blair,

"Blair married Cherie Booth, a devout Roman Catholic (and future QC), on March 29, 1980. They have three sons (Euan, Nicky, and Leo) and one daughter (Kathryn). Leo holds the distinction of being the first child officially born to a sitting Prime Minister in 150 years, since Francis Russell was born to Lord John Russell on July 11, 1849. Blair attends Mass with his family every Sunday, and has been seen attending Mass at Westminster Cathedral by himself. The late Basil Cardinal Hume was forced to let him know that as an Anglican, Blair should not take communion. Blair is considered one of the most religious Prime Ministers in contemporary history and with the closest ties to the Roman Catholic Church since the Reformation [this is very important-this shows Blair is Counter-Reformation and thus pro-Jesuit]. It is widely believed on all sides that he will be received into the Roman Catholic Church once he leaves office." The same could be said for Luciferian President Bush as well. Bush is a crypto-Roman Catholic.

Cherie Booth and Tony Blair have been involved in New Age practices.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cherie_Blair

Ordo Templis Orientis (OTO) L. Ron Hubbard's Scientology cult is based on applied scholastics which were and are employed by the Jesuit Order.

<http://www.xenu.net/archive/infopack/10.htm>

"Why is education so important? The Jesuits (an order within the Roman Catholic Church well known for their activism) exported the policy of starting Church schools in areas where they wished to introduce their religion. The reasons are obvious. By educating a child into one's own beliefs, one gradually takes over a whole new generation of a country and can thus influence, in the long term, the development and growth of that country. The Jesuits were very successful at this strategy."

From "In Search of Truth," IMPACT (an International Association of Scientologists publication), 1986; Issue 7, p. 49

The Order supports the sin of sodomy. Case in point Jesuit Santa Clara University <http://www-acc.scu.edu/clubs/GALA/NEWS/NEWS032289.htm> (the article is from 1989) the Jesuits are perverted trendsetters, they are responsible for propagating this cancer wherever they go and their military fortresses throughout this nation support this abominable sin that destroys youth and families which hastens the destruction of this nation to the delight of the Black Pope.

Title: The Black Pope & Meyer Amschel Rothschild

Pastor Steve - September 23, 2005 04:58 PM (GMT)

The Black Pope & Meyer Amschel Rothschild

“Vatican II affirms Catholic doctrine dating back to 1302, ['Unam Sanctam'], when Pope Boniface VIII asserted that “it is absolutely necessary for the salvation of every human creature to be subject to the Roman Pontiff.”

This was the inspiration for the papacy to create the United States of America that materialized in 1776, by a process just as secret as the Reagan• Vatican production of Eastern Europe in 1989. What? American government Roman Catholic from the beginning?”

“Consider: the land known today as the District of Columbia bore the name ‘Rome’ in 1663 property records; and the branch of the Potomac River that bordered ‘Rome’ on the south was called ‘Tiber’ (Scharf, History of Western Maryland, Baltimore (1882), p. 27•30).

“This information was reported in the 1902 edition of the Catholic Encyclopedia's article on Daniel Carroll. The article, specifically declaring itself ‘of interest to Catholics’ in the 1902 edition, was deleted from the New Catholic Encyclopedia (1967).

“Other facts were reported in 1902 and deleted from the 1967. For example, when Congress met in Washington for the first time, in November, 1800, ‘the only two really comfortable and imposing houses within the bounds of the city’ belonged to Roman Catholics. One was Washington's first mayor, Robert Brent. The other was Brent's brother•in•law, Notley Young, a Jesuit priest.”

“Daniel Carroll was a Roman Catholic congressman from Maryland who signed two of America's fundamental documents, the Articles of Confederation and the United States Constitution. Carroll was a direct descendant of the Calverts, a Catholic family to whom King Charles I of England had granted Maryland as a feudal barony. Carroll had received his education at St. Omer's Jesuit College in Flanders, where young English-speaking Catholics were trained in a variety of guerrilla techniques for advancing the cause of Roman Catholicism among hostile Protestants."

"In 1790, President George Washington, a Protestant, appointed Congressman Carroll to head a commission of three men to select land for the "federal city" called for in the Constitution. Of all places, the commission chose "Rome," which at the time consisted of four farms, one of which belonged to ...Daniel Carroll. It was upon Carroll's farm that the new government chose to erect its most important building, the Capitol."

"The American Capitol abounds with clues of its Roman origins. "Freedom," the Roman goddess whose statue crowns the dome, was created in Rome at the studio of American sculptor Thomas Crawford. We find a whole pantheon of Roman deities in the great fresco covering the dome's interior rotunda: Persephone, Ceres, Freedom, Vulcan, Mercury, even a deified George Washington. These figures were the creation of Vatican artist Constantino Brumidi."

"The fact that the national Statehouse evolved as a "capitol" bespeaks Roman influence. No building can rightly be called a capitol unless it's a temple of Jupiter, the great father-god of Rome who ruled heaven with his thunderbolts and nourished the earth with his fertilizing rains. If it was a capitolium, it belonged to Jupiter and his priests."

"Jupiter's mascot was the eagle, which the founding fathers made their mascot as well. A Roman eagle tops the governing idol of the House of Representatives, a forty-six-inch sterling silver-and-ebony wand called a "mace." The mace is "the symbol of authority in the House." When the Sergeant-at-arms displays it before an unruly member of Congress, the mace restores order. Its position at the rostrum tells whether the House is in "committee" or in "session."

"America's national motto "Annuit Coeptis" came from a prayer to Jupiter. It appears in Book IX of Virgil's epic propaganda, the Aeneid, a poem commissioned just before the birth of Christ by Caius Maecenas, the multi-billionaire power behind Augustus Caesar. The poem's objective was to fashion Rome into an imperial monarchy for which its citizens would gladly sacrifice their lives."

"Fascism may be an ugly word to many, but its stately emblem is apparently offensive to no one. The emblem of fascism, a pair of them, commands the wall above and behind the speaker's rostrum in the Chamber of the House of Representatives. They're called fasces, and I can think of no reason for them to be there other than to declare the fascistic nature of American republican democracy. A fasces is a Roman device.

"Actually, it originated with the ancient Etruscans, from whom the earliest Romans derived their religious jurisprudence nearly three thousand years ago. It's an axe•head whose handle is a bundle of rods tightly strapped together by a red sinew. It symbolizes the ordering of priestly functions into a single infallible sovereign, an autocrat who could require life and limb of his subjects. If the fasces is entwined with laurel, like the pair on the House wall, it signifies Caesarean military power. The Romans called this infallible sovereign Pontifex Maximus, "Supreme Bridgebuilder." No Roman was called Pontifex Maximus until the title was given to Julius Caesar in 48 BC. (See William Branham, An Exposition of the Seven Church Ages, p. 197). Today's Pontifex Maximus is Pope John Paul II."

"...John Paul does not hold that title alone. He shares it with a mysterious partner, a military man, a man holding an office that has been known for more than four centuries as "Papa Nero," the Black Pope... the House fasces represent the Black Pope, who indeed rules the world" (Tupper Saussy, Rulers of Evil

"It is not hard to understand what immense force must belong to the heads of this society, and how the general of the Jesuits could say to the Duke de Brissac: "From this room, your grace, I govern not only Paris, but China; not only China, but the whole world, and all without any one knowing how it is done" (Constitution of the Jesuits, edited by Paulin, Paris, 1843).

Here is another impression of the image to the beast. "We are told that we won the Gulf War. What is not yet perceived by the vast majority of Americans is that, in winning the war, it cost the self respect and honor of our nation. That lies rotting in the desert sands of Kuwait and Iraq, alongside the corpses of the Iraqi soldiers we butchered in the agreed retreat from Kuwait and Basra; we could not keep our word that we would abide by the Geneva Conventions and not attack them. "What do you want," our controllers asked us, "victory or self respect? You can't have both."

One hundred years ago, this could not have happened, but now it has happened and excites no comment. We have succumbed to the long range penetration warfare waged against this nation by Tavistock. Like the German nation, defeated by the Prudential Bombing Survey, enough of us have succumbed to make this nation the kind that totalitarian regimes of the past would have only envisaged in their dreams. "Here," they would say, "is a nation, one of the largest in the world, that doesn't want the truth. All of our propaganda agencies can be dispensed with. We don't have to struggle to keep the truth from this nation, they have willingly rejected it of their own volition. This nation is a pushover."

King of kings' Bible; Isaiah 30:8 Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a Book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever: 30:9 That this [is] a rebellious people, lying children, children [that] will not hear The Law of the "I AM:" 30:10 Which say to the Seers, See not; and to the Prophets, Prophecy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophecy deceits (lies): 30:11 Get you out of The Way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us. 30:12 Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this Word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon: 30:13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.

“Our once proud Republic of the United States of America became no more than a series of criminal front organizations, which history shows is always the start of totalitarianism. This is the stage of permanent alteration we were at in America as 1991 drew to a close. We live in a throw•away society, programmed not to last. We do not even flinch at the 4 million homeless nor the 30 million jobless, nor the 15 million babies murdered thus far. They are “throw•aways” of the Age of Aquarius, a conspiracy so damnable that, when first confronted with it, the majority will disavow its existence, rationalizing these events as “times have changed.”

“This is how the Tavistock Institute and Willis Harmon programmed us to react. Dismantling of our ideals goes on without protest. The spiritual and intellectual drive of our people has been destroyed! On May 27th, 1991, President Bush made a very profound statement, the thrust of which appears to have been totally misused by most political commentators:

“The moral dimension of American policy requires us to chart a moral course through a world of lesser evils. That is the real world, not black and white. Very few moral absolutes.” What else could we expect from a President who is most probably the most evil man ever to occupy the White House?

“Consider this in the light of his order to the military to bury alive 12,000 Iraqi soldiers. Consider this in the light of his ongoing war of genocide against the Iraqi people. President Bush was delighted to characterize President Saddam Hussein as the “Hitler of our times.” He never bothered to offer a single scrap of proof. It was not needed. Because President Bush made the statement, we accepted it without question. Consider this in the bright light of truth, that he did all of these things in the name of the American people while secretly taking his orders from the Committee of 300.”

“But, more than anything else, consider this: President Bush and his controllers feel so secure that they no longer deem it necessary to hide their evil control of the American people, or to lie about it. This is self•evident in the statement that he, as our leader, will make all manner of compromises with truth, honesty and decency if his controllers (and ours) deem it necessary.

“On May 27th, 1991, the President of the United States abandoned each and every principle embodied in our Constitution and boldly proclaimed that he was no longer bound by it. This is a great victory for the Tavistock Institute and the Prudential Bombing Survey, whose target changed from German worker housing in 1945 to the soul of the American people in a war that began in 1946 and runs through the 1990s" (Dr. John Coleman, Conspirators' Hierarchy: The Story of The Committee of 300, p. 116•118).

According to Eric Jon Phelps in Vatican Assassins (p. 632), "The Jesuit General has been the most powerful man in the world since Pius VII restored the Order or "Company" in 1814. Because of the Order's suppression by the Pope in 1773, the Jesuits began the Bavarian Illuminati with one of their soldiers, Adam Weishaupt. The Illuminati absorbed the Jewish House of Rothschild creating a colossus of wealth around the world, subject to the Jesuit General. With this financial arm in place the Jesuits then made war on the Vatican including the Pope, the Roman Catholic Monarchs of Europe and the Order of the Dominicans. This Inquisition and Crusade was called "the French Revolution and Napoleonic Wars". For twenty•five years, the Jesuit General's Masonic agents, particularly in the person of Napoleon Bonaparte, conducted war. Bonaparte also punished the Knights of Malta, driving them from their island home to Russia."

Clearly the Jesuits are in league with the House of Rothschild, and Napoleon was their dupe. However I believe the Rothschilds and the Council of Thirteen have mastery over "the Company." and that it was Rothschild who engaged and financed Weishaupt to revive the Illuminati. King Rothschild's secret society is more numerous and powerful than the Society of Jesus; both abhor, yet owe allegiance to Rome. At the appropriate time the Jesuits will install the man of their choice in the chair of St. Peter, as in the past they have removed incumbents who displeased them.

"The effect of Mayer Amschel Rothschild's will was to establish the kingdom of the Jews that has since been governed by his male descendants. Wherever a Jew is located, whatever nationality he may claim, he is a subject of this kingdom; his allegiance and duty to it supersedes his allegiance and duty to the country in which he dwells" (George Armstrong, Rothschild Money Trust, p.24).

"The Rothschilds govern a Christian world. Not a cabinet moves without their advice. They stretch their hand, with equal ease, from Petersburg to Vienna, from Vienna to Paris, from Paris to London, from London to Washington. Baron Rothschild, the head of the house, is the true king of Judah, the prince of the captivity, the Messiah so long looked for by this extraordinary people...The lion of the tribe of Judah, Baron Rothschild, possesses more real force than David; more wisdom than Solomon" (Anka Muhlstein, Baron James, The Rise of the French Rothschilds).

King of kings' Bible • Revelation 2:9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and [I know] the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are NOT, but [are] (Idumeans) the synagogue of Satan.

The Treaty of Paris of 1763 designated King George III “Arch•Treasurer and Prince Elector of the Holy Roman Empire.” And “according to the Encyclopedia Judaica the Rothschilds bear the title “Guardians of the Vatican Treasury.”

The Vatican Treasury, of course, holds the imperial wealth of Rome. Imperial wealth grows in proportion to its victories in war; as the Jesuit empowerment Regimini militantis ecclesiae implies, the Church•at•War is more necessary than the Church•at•Peace. According to H. Russell Robinson's illustrated Armour of Imperial Rome, Caesarean soldiers protect themselves in battle with shields painted red.

“Since the soldiery is the State's most valuable resource (the Council of Trent admitted this in preferring the Jesuits to all other religious orders), it is easy to understand why the red shield was identified with the very life of the Church. Hence, the appropriateness of the name Rothschild, German for ‘red shield.’

“The appointment of Rothschild gave the black papacy absolute financial privacy and secrecy. Who would ever search a family of orthodox Jews for the key to the wealth of the Roman Catholic Church? I believe this appointment explains why the House of Rothschild is famous for helping nations go to war. It is fascinating that, as Meyer Rothschild's sons grew into the family business, the firm took on the title Meyer Amschel Rothschild und Sohne, which gives us the notariqon MARS. Isn't Mars the Roman God of War, whose heavenly manifestation is "the red planet"? There is powerful Cabala here, and there's hardly an acre of inhabitable earth that hasn't been affected by it in some way. (Tupper Saussy, Rulers of Evil. p. 160•161).

"In the final words of his book The Vatican Empire, Nino Lo Bello states, "While the Vatican has remained secretive about its fiscal policy, it has never believed that the investment of Church money was either illegal, objectionable in principle, or contrary to good conscience. In seeking to resolve the conflict between that which is to be rendered to God and that which is to be rendered to Caesar, the Vatican has developed its own special modus vivendi between the sacred and the secular. The view of the pope as a kind of chairman of the board may shock some readers. But let us remember that the Vatican is a remarkable, centuries•old institution, and that, when it comes to money, it is one that is fully in tune with the spirit of the times."

"This writer foresees the day, perhaps a thousand years from now, when the Vatican will cease functioning as a religious institution and take up, on a full•time basis, the duties of a large•scale business corporation.

"The transition will not be as difficult to effectuate as one might suspect. For just as Catholicism will decline and eventually withdraw from the ranks of the major religions, so, too, will Church money find its way into nearly every area of the free world's economy. Then, at last, the tycoon on the Tiber will shed the mantle of piety; then, at last, the Vatican will expose the full extent of its financial interests" (Nino Lo Bello, The Vatican Empire, p. 185•186).

"Rome is a beast in sheep's clothing. Her false religion is merely a "front" whereby she has disarmed the world whilst she steals the absolute power of one world government.

"The Vatican owns hundreds of banking companies in its own right but likes to maintain its funds in numbered Swiss bank accounts, one reason...is because the Swiss franc can provide protection against inflation and devaluation...the Swiss franc is guaranteed up to 130 percent by gold. So, because Switzerland's money is "hard money," the Vatican holds francs and exchanges them for the legal tender of another country when needed" (Ibid, pp.118•119).

"Early in the 19th century the Pope approached the Rothschilds to borrow money. The Rothschilds were very friendly with the Pope, causing one journalist to sarcastically say "Rothschild has kissed the hand of the Pope...Order has at last been re•established. (Derek Wilson, Rothschild: The Wealth and Power of a Dynasty, p. 101).

Researcher Eustice Mullins writes that the Rothschilds took over all the financial operations of the worldwide Catholic Church in 1823 (The Curse of Canaan, p.125). Today the large banking and financial business of the Catholic Church is an extensive system interlocked with the Rothschilds and the rest of the International Banking system. The great wealth of the Russian Czars was entrusted to the Rothschilds, $35 million with the Rothschild's of England, and $80 million in the Rothschild's Paris bank. The Rothschilds financed the Russian Revolution which confiscated vast portions of the Orthodox Church's wealth. They have been able to prevent (due to their power) the legitimate heirs of the Czars fortune to withdraw a penny of the millions deposited in a variety of their banks. The Mountbattens (aka Windsors • QE2*), who are related to the Rothschilds, led the court battles to prevent the claimants from withdrawing any of the fortune.

“In other words, the money they invested in the Russian Revolution, was not only paid back directly by the Bolsheviks in millions of dollars of gold, but by grabbing the huge deposits of the Czars' wealth, the Rothschilds gained what is now worth over $50 Billions (Mullins, Eustice, The World Order, p.5).

“A number of rich Catholics undertook to organize a competitor bank to rival the Rothschild power...sometime about 1830. The Rothschilds crushed it. The Jewish Encyclopedia (Vol. 2, p. 497) admits that:

“Following the failure of the Catholic bank, Union General, leaving the Rothschilds still more absolutely the disputed leaders of French finance, but leaving also a legacy of hatred which had much influence on the growth of the anti•Semitic movement in France.”

It says further:

“It is a somewhat curious sequel to the attempt to set up a Catholic competitor to the Rothschilds that at the present time (1905) the latter are the guardians of the papal treasure.”

If this latter statement is true the Rothschilds control in addition to their own fortune the immense liquid resource of the Catholic Church, which is second only to the Rothschilds' in wealth and power. It is probably not literally true since the private banking firm did not do commercial banking. It is likely that the papal treasure is deposited with the Bank of England or some other bank “front,” but even so it contributes to the Rothschild power” (George Armstrong, Rothschild Money Trust, p. 42).

Thirteen families control the policy•making and decisions of the central banks in the world's leading nations, in which they are the majority shareholders. And the US dollar is the standard against which all other currency is measured. They also control the banks which practice fractional reserve banking; sometimes without any reserve. The legal practice of the banks permits them to loan 20:1 against their deposits.

“When we look at the list of banks which cooperated with the very looters of the Vatican Bank during the looting, it reads like a roster of the banks of the Secret Empire: the Rothschilds (both Paris and London), Hambros Bank of London, J.P. Morgan, Marine Midland, Lloyds, National Westminster, the Morgan Guaranty, Banker's Trust, Chase Manhattan, Continental Illinois...etc. What! The Secret Empire co•operating to loot the world banking system? That makes no sense!

“But it was not the Secret Empire banks which suffered the big losses. It was the depositors and stockholders of all the banks swindled. Any losses were deducted against taxes, swindling the taxpayers. And the Vatican later agreed to pay $250 million in exchange for being released from any culpability by the world banking system, which, of course, was paid by the humble, faithful flock...the looting of the Vatican Bank...could not have been carried out without the co•operation of the international bankers...” (Cushman Cunningham, The Secret Empire, p. 317, 586).

Meanwhile, Americans sit themselves before the television set and simply absorb what it projects to them. The three major networks which are under Rothschild direction.

Some interesting bits in this article but overall the conclusion to it all is clever disinformation to grant yet again the official disinformation that Jews run the world and everyone is under Rothschilds. Rothschild is nothing more than a banking agent for the Jesuits and Papacy! Very clever, very clever!

Justice for Immigrants: A Journey of Hope Campaign

The Catholic Campaign for Immigration Reform: "Justice for Immigrants: A Journey of Hope," provides comprehensive recommendations for US immigration law reform and public education about migration. Launched by the US Conference of Catholic Bishops, the Jesuit Conference, and 16 other organizations, the objectives of the campaign include 1) educating the public about immigration, particularly Catholic Social Teaching; 2) building political will for immigration reform; 3) enacting legislative and administrative reforms; and 4) organizing networks that enable immigrants to attain benefits afforded by the reforms. In order to achieve those ends, the campaign seeks to establish a legal path to citizenship and employment, enable family unification, abandon the border "blockade" enforcement strategy, and to restore due process to immigrants. The campaign aims to galvanize Catholics across the country towards action.

Bishop admits church has received drug money

Jo Tuckman in Mexico City
Thursday September 22, 2005
The Guardian

A Mexican bishop has admitted that the local Catholic church receives donations from drug traffickers, but claimed these are "purified" through good works. Bishop Ramón Godínez said "bad money shouldn't be burned it should be transformed".

He said the church should ignore the origins of donations just as Jesus showed no curiosity about the expensive perfume Mary Magdalene used to wash his feet.

Government officials have said that receiving illicit money is illegal, but shied away from opening a money laundering investigation into the church.

Archdiocese hid abuse, grand jury says

No new charges in Philadelphia

By David O'Reilly and Nancy Phillips, Knight Ridder | September 22, 2005

http://www.boston.com/news/nation/articles...rand_jury_says/

PHILADELPHIA --A grand jury issued a scathing critique yesterday of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, saying its former archbishops and other leaders concealed and facilitated clergy sex abuse of children for decades.

The grand jury, which investigated the archdiocese for more than three years, concluded that at least 63 priests -- and probably many more -- sexually abused hundreds of minors over the past several decades.

But even more disturbing, the jurors found, was the coverup by the two previous archbishops, Cardinals John Krol and Anthony J. Bevilacqua who, they concluded, "excused and enabled the abuse" and put legal and financial interests and moral reputation of the archdiocese ahead of protecting the children entrusted to its care.

"Those choices went all the way to the top -- to Cardinal Bevilacqua and Cardinal Krol personally," the report states.

"The behavior of Archdiocese officials was perhaps not so lurid as that of the individual priest sex abusers. But in its callous, calculating manner, the Archdiocese's 'handling' of the abuse scandal was at least as immoral as the abuse itself."

Even so, District Attorney Lynne M. Abraham said that "regrettably," her office could bring no new charges against abusive priests, church officials, or the archdiocese itself.

She said legal problems, most notably the statute of limitations, meant criminal conduct would go unpunished.

In a blistering 70-page response, the church rejected virtually the entire report, calling it "a vile, mean-spirited diatribe" -- comparable to the "rampant Know-Nothings of the 1840s," a notorious period of anti-Catholic prejudice.

While condemning priests that abused, the church response vigorously defends Cardinal Krol and Bevilacqua.

It says the district attorney's report is "rife with mistakes, unsupported inferences, and misguided conclusions."

The grand jury found that Krol, who served as archbishop from 1961 to 1988, and Bevilacqua, who served from 1988 to 2003, left abuser priests in parishes where they had access to children, or reassigned them to other parishes without notifying even the pastor.

The cardinals typically removed priests only when faced with the threat of lawsuit or scandal, the report found, and some archdiocesan leaders regularly lied to victims and their families when asked if an abuser had a prior record. Priest abusers were transferred to other parishes to hush up allegations; as a result, other children were victimized, the report found.

"What we found were not acts of God, but of men who acted in His name and defiled it," the grand jury said.

The victims of the abuse included:

An 11-year-old girl who was raped by her priest and became pregnant. The priest took her in for an abortion.

A fifth-grader who was molested inside a confessional booth.

A 12-year-old who, raped and sodomized by his priest, tried to commit suicide and remains in a mental hospital as an adult.

Another 12-year-old boy, repeatedly raped by his priest, was told by that priest that his mother had approved of the abuse.

Although outraged that so much abuse was allowed to go on for so long, the grand jury said with regret that a host of inadequate state laws prevented it from issuing any criminal indictments against the archdiocese or its leadership for its role in these crimes.

Because the allegations were old, priests couldn't be prosecuted because of a statute of limitations. And church officials couldn't be charged because of other gaps in state law.

"We are left, then, with what we consider a travesty of justice: a multitude of crimes for which no one can be held criminally accountable," the report said.

Sept. 20 is City of Rome Liberation Day!!

by Leon Kilkenny LINK

9-11 was an attempt to undo 9-20!!

Tuesday, Sept 20, is the 135 anniversary of the liberation of Rome from the Papal tyranny. It is also the anniversary of the end of the Pope's temporal dominion and the unification of Italy.

This is a day to be much observed unto the Lord and a great fulfillment of Bible prophecy:

"But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end" (Daniel 7:26).

"And he shall plant the tabernacles of his PALACE between the seas in the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end and none shall help him" (Daniel 11:45).

ALL true Protestant Christians should celebrate the day like the 4th of July with parades and pageants, Scripture readings, patriotic speeches, and organized firing of guns and cannons and displays of fireworks!!

Nobody can understand the history of the world for the past 135 years unless they understand what happened on Sept. 20, 1870!!

Before 1870, the City of Rome and vast surrounding territories were misruled by the Papal dynasty for over 1,000 years.

In July of 1870, Pope Pius IX declared himself infallible; in August of 1870, Napoleon III declared war on Prussia. The French troops of Napoleon III who were garrisoning the City of Rome had to be withdrawn and the Italian patriots rushed in and declared Rome the capital of a united Italy. Italy was united again as one country for the first time in over 1,000 years.

The end came for the Papal States on Monday, Sept.20, 1870.

user posted image

Pope Pius IX (Pope from 1846-78) was the last Pope-King to reign over the city of Rome.

In August 1870, Emperor Napoleon III of France declared war on Prussia.

The soldiers of Emperor Napoleon III, were garrisoning Rome and had to be withdrawn following the defeat of France in the war.

Prussia won an astonishing victory in the war and soon the Prussian army was outside the gates of Paris.

In order to defend Paris, the French soldiers had to be withdrawn from Rome and the Italian patriots rushed in and declared the City their capitol after a long wait of over 1,000 years.

After the defeat of France, the French soldiers garrisoning the Papal States had to be withdrawn and the Italian patriots rushed in and proclaimed Rome their capitol.

At that time, the YEAR OF JUBILEE should have come for the entire world but the Papacy had one last card to play and that was the United States.

President Lincoln had just saved the Union so the United States was now a vast empire from sea to shining sea with limitless natural resources and vast economic potential.

Garibaldi and Gavazzi were the heroes of the unification of Italy

Giuseppe Garibaldi (the lion of Caprera) and Alessandro (the Great) Gavazzi were the heroes of the Risorgimento or reunification of Italy. Garibaldi could not lead the conquering hosts into the City because he was a prisoner on the Island of Caprera.

These 2 men were the driving force behind the liberation of Italy from the Papal tyranny.

Both recommended permanent retirement for the Papacy and turning the Vatican into a museum!!

Garibaldi and Gavazzi were crowned with success beyond their wildest dreams. Both continually warned their countrymen that if they allowed the Pope to stay he would try to get back the temporal power....How prophetic and right they were!!

First king of united Italy was poisoned by the Jesuits!!

On July 1, 1871, King Victor Emmanuel II and the Italian parliament moved the capital from Florence to Rome. The Pope was FURIOUS and threatened the new government with eternal damnation in hell. He proclaimed a crusade against Italy and Catholics from all over Europe were mobilized to march on Rome once again and restore the temporal power.

In 1887, Jesuit General Peter Beckx— the éminence grise behind Pope Pope IX— ordered the assassination of King Victor Emmanuel II.

In 1871, he defied the Pope and moved the capital from Florence to Rome.

The king was a military man and preferred spending most of his time OUTDOORS. All his life he never suffered from ill health.

On January 5, 1878, the king became suddenly ill while visiting Rome for the New Year celebrations and within 2 days he was dead at the young age of 58 years!!

This execution was nothing new for the Jesuits who have been assassinating world leaders for centuries.

Beautiful monument to the unification of Italy on King Victor Emmanuel II Plaza in Rome. Most tour operators from the U.S. try to avoid showing the monuments of Italian unification even though the Janiculum Hill is the highest point in Rome and the most panoramic view of the City.

Beginning in 1894, about 30 million Roman Catholics entered the U.S. through Ellis Island, New York.

After the Vatican engineered Spanish-U.S. War in 1898, Puerto Rico was annexed to the U.S. and millions of Hispanics began to arrive from that island.

By using the vast economic and military potential of the U.S. the Popes dreamed of getting back the lost States!!

Beginning in 1960, the floodgates of immigration were opened to all countries!!

8 milestones in Rome's takeover of the United States

1870 Standard Oil Co. formed.

1871 Nation's capital renamed District of Columbia.

1886 Presidential Succession order changed!!

1908 Bonaparte founds the Bureau of Inquisition!!

1913 "Federal" Reserve Bank chartered!!
1933 FDR becomes President of the U.S.
1941 Pentagon is founded.
1963 President Kennedy assassinated.

In 1870 the Standard Oil Co. was formed!!

Oil was discovered in Pennsylvania in 1859. The Rockefeller Standard Oil Co. was formed in 1870. Immediately afterwards it began to expand into foreign countries. Under the guise of looking for oil, the Standard Oil Co, fomented revolution in Russia and various other countries. When the automobile was invented, everybody expected that cars would be powered by ELECTRICITY. Rockefeller and Henry Ford made sure that it didn't happen.

In 1871 our nation's capital was renamed Washington D.C. —District of Columbia!!

The capitol of the U.S. was called Washington City prior to 1870. In 1871 it was renamed after that fake Portuguese "discoverer" Zarco/Columbus.

In 1886 the Presidential Succession order was changed!!

In 1886, an Act of Congress changed the order of Presidential Succession. This Act allowed a non elected person —the Secretary of State— to be 3rd in line for the Presidency. This would allow a servant of Rome like Nelson Rockefeller to steal the Presidency without an election!!

In 1908, Bonaparte founded the Bureau of Inquisition!!

In 1908, Charles Joseph Bonaparte (nephew of Emperor Napoleon III) founded the Bureau of Inquisition which was later renamed Federal Bureau of Inquisition in 1935. This Bureau of Inquisition killed anybody who got in the way of the Roman takeover of the U.S.

In 1913 the "Federal" Reserve Bank was chartered!!

In Oct, 1913, President Woodrow Wilson signed the Income Tax Amendment and on Dec. 23, he signed the Federal Reserve Act. This Act created a private central Bank with complete authority to issue fiat paper "money." World War I broke out the following year with Germany financed by this private central Bank.

In 1933, FDR becomes President of the U.S.

Taking advantage of the "Federal" Reserve Bank created Great Depression, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was "elected" President of the U.S.

On Sept. 11, 1941, the Pentagon was founded!!

Work on the Pentagon commenced on Sept. 11, 1941 and the massive fortress was completed in Jan. 1943.

Time would fail us if we wrote about the Pentagon's activities since that fateful day. The Pentagon was responsible for maneuvering Japan into attacking Pearl Harbor in December of that same year.

War War II gave the Pentagon the excuse to become involved in Europe, Asia, Africa, and especially the Mideast. This was all done under the smokescreen of looking for OIL.

Russia was one of the first countries to recognize the new Italian government so the Pentagon declared a COLD WAR against that country. That Cold War led to the Korean War, the Vietnam War, Kosovo, and now the latest fiasco in Iraq.

In 1963, President Kennedy was assassinated

The Kennedy family came to the U.S. a long time before 1870, so they were not a part of the Papal States conspiracy. President Kennedy was hated by the Rockefellers and they used his assassination to warn any succeeding Presidents that the same fate awaited them if they did not become Pentagon puppets. Immediately after the assassination, Rockefeller introduced his President by appointment only 25th Amendment.

Vatican accused of shielding 'war criminal'

By David Rennie in The Hague
(Filed: 20/09/2005)

One of the most wanted war criminals is being shielded by the Roman Catholic Church and the Vatican hierarchy, the United Nations' chief prosecutor for former Yugoslavia said yesterday.

Carla del Ponte encountered a wall of silence from the Vatican.

Carla del Ponte, the chief prosecutor of the UN international criminal tribunal for the former Yugoslavia, said she believed that Gen Ante Gotovina was being sheltered in a Franciscan monastery in his native Croatia.

Mrs del Ponte complained: "They said they have no intelligence and I don't believe that. I think that the Catholic Church has the most advanced intelligence services."

Gen Gotovina, 49, has been a fugitive since 2001 when he was indicted on charges of crimes against humanity and war crimes. America has placed a £2.8 million bounty on his head.

A former French foreign legion officer, he is accused of overseeing and permitting the killing of at least 150 Serb civilians and the forced deportation of between 150,000 and 200,000 others after Operation Storm, a 1995 offensive to reimpose Croatian control over the Krajina region. Gen Gotovina's whereabouts are of interest not only to lawyers and historians. They are at the heart of a political mystery that has divided the European Union.

In February, the Balkan intrigue took a poisonous turn for Britain when the general's allies inside Croat intelligence "outed" several war crimes investigators in Croatia as serving MI6 and United States intelligence officers.

Cecil Rhodes and the One World Agenda
The Council for Global Domination
The CFR and the New York Financial Oligarchy
The CFR Creates the Postwar World

Cecil Rhodes and the One World Agenda

The Anglo-American Establishment is simply the powerful alliance of the top financial and merchant interests of Britain and the United States. On the British side political power became concentrated, beginning in the eighteenth century, in a group associated with the first modern multinational corporation, the British East India Company, and in the City of London financial nexus (the "merchant bankers" that included Baring, Lehman, Rothschild and others). On the American side political power became concentrated by the early twentieth century in the factions that were associated with industry, commerce, and finance, such as Morgan (banking), Rockefeller (oil), Harriman (railroads), Carnegie (steel), Ford (automobiles), and DuPont (armaments). The so-called "great rapprochement" that took place between the British and American governments between 1895-1914 brought the Anglo and American factions together in the very simple common desire to dominate the world and to make a lot of money in the process.

One of the most important researchers of the Anglo-American Establishment in the twentieth century was the late Georgetown professor Carroll Quigley. His two most important books on the subject are Tragedy and Hope, published in 1966 but quickly suppressed, and The Anglo-American Establishment, not published until 1981 after Quigley's death. The cover of the latter work very fittingly depicts an upside-down American flag engulfed within the British Union Jack. Professor Quigley was a mainstream historian who claimed a pro-Establishment perspective and was thus allowed access to Establishment records and documentation, and his work has shown itself to be consistently credible and accurate and a primary source for understanding the makeup and evolution of the dominant political power in the world today.

For Quigley, the origins of the Anglo-American Establishment trace back to British imperialist Cecil Rhodes, and to his seven wills that controlled how his wealth was to be distributed after his death. The one consuming goal of Cecil Rhodes was to establish an Anglo-American alliance that would take over the world and establish a global empire. Near the end of his life Rhodes formed a secret group, together with his friends William T. Stead and Lord Alfred Milner, Britain's most influential journalists, and Lord Esher, later the influential advisor of Edward VII. The Group was formally established on February 5, 1891, and was named the "Society of the Elect." In an early letter to Stead Rhodes explained his vision for the Group,

The key of my idea discussed with you is a Society, copied from the Jesuits as to organization... an idea which ultimately [leads] to the cessation of all wars and one language throughout the world The only thing feasible to carry this idea out is a secret one gradually absorbing the wealth of the world to be devoted to such an object Fancy the charm to young America ... to share in a scheme to take the government of the whole world!

One of the most important creations of the Rhodes legacy was the Rhodes Scholarships that were set up in his seventh will. Through this endowment the best and brightest young students have been chosen from America and around the world and offered a chance to study at Oxford University. There they are indoctrinated in the philosophies and methods of the British elite to take their place in society as influential supporters of the Establishment's imperial agenda of "absorbing the wealth of the world." Dr. Dennis Cuddy's book The Globalists offers an excellent overview of the legacy of the Rhodes Scholarships over the years.

After Rhodes died, leadership of the Group that he had created passed to Lord Alfred Milner, and it became informally known as the Milner Group. In 1919 with the aid of Group member Lionel Curtis, and financial backing from Cecil Rhodes' close friend Sir Abe Bailey, the Royal Institute of International Affairs was created. It was organized on May 30 at a meeting of British and American experts that had been gathered in Paris for the Versailles peace negotiations. Quigley writes that the RIIA, "is nothing but the Milner Group 'writ large.' It was funded by the Group, has been consistently controlled by the Group, and to this day is the Milner Group in its widest aspect."

Quigley goes on to describe the American representatives of the meeting that created the RIIA,

The American group of experts, 'the Inquiry,' was manned almost as completely by persons from institutions (including universities) dominated by J.P. Morgan and Company. This was not an accident. Moreover, the Milner Group has always had very close relationships with the associates of J.P. Morgan and with the various branches of the Carnegie Trust.

The RIIA became headquartered in London at Chatham House, the former residence of Sir William Pitt, the first Earl of Chatham. Pitt was a member of the House of Lords when, in 1770, he remarked, "There is something behind the throne greater than the king himself." This is the basis of the phrase "the power behind the throne," and it is certainly an ironic twist that Pitt's home became the home of the most influential organization pushing behind the scenes for a world government. (Click here for the text of Sir Henry Kissinger's address to his allies at Chatham House on May 10, 1982, in which he embraced the imperial foreign policy of Winston Churchill over the idealistic American approach of Franklin Roosevelt.)

From <http://www.nexusmagazine.com/articles/Rhod...tSocieties.html>

THE NEW WEISHAAPT

In pursuing this course, Rhodes was in many respects one of the first true modern heirs to Adam Weishaupt, founder of the Bavarian Illuminati. A Professor of Law at the University of Ingolstadt and a former Jesuit priest, Weishaupt created the Illuminati in 1776 to achieve his radical, utopian goal of transforming society. He envisaged a world devoid of "princes and nations", in which the human race would "become one family".⁴⁰ Rhodes's similarities with Weishaupt are threefold: first, he came to the same conclusion as Weishaupt that creating his own secret society for the purposes of changing elite opinion was the only means to ensure that his goals could be achieved; second, he was similarly unimpressed by the Freemasons and the Jesuits, yet he copied their methods; and finally, his ultimate goal was essentially the same as Weishaupt, in that he sought to create a world order in which peace would prevail as divisions would be overcome by a global civilisation, albeit an Anglo-Saxon one.

There were a number of important differences, however, with Rhodes being influenced by Classical philosophers rather than by the Enlightenment theorists whom Weishaupt admired; this had made him into an ardent imperialist rather than the cosmopolitan idealist that Weishaupt clearly was. Unlike Weishaupt, a radical thinker who aspired to overthrow the existing political and religious order, Rhodes sought only to expand and preserve what he regarded as the absolute pinnacle of human civilisation: the British Empire.

Furthermore, Weishaupt was an academic of limited means, whose only hope of realising his vision was to use the Illuminati to try to infiltrate existing centres of power and sway elite opinion. His ambitious endeavour met with some success, but ultimately ran afoul of the Bavarian authorities, culminating in his exile and the banning of the Illuminati.

Rhodes, in contrast, with a controlling stake in southern Africa's diamond monopoly, two terms as Prime Minister of the Cape Colony and feted by Britain's Establishment, had at his disposal enormous financial and political resources-and, as such, ample opportunity to act on his ideas without fear of persecution by the state because, especially in southern Africa, he was the state.

Part Two examines Alfred Milner's role in the first efforts to realise Rhodes's vision of a secret society devoted to imperial unity.

Holy Smokescreens—Papal Pat Robertson!!

by Leon Kilkenny LINK

St. Paul said:

"And no marvel; for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works (II Corinthians 11:14-15).

TV evangelist Pat Robertson, founder of the "CHRISTIAN" Broadcasting Network

On Tuesday, August 23, 2005, "CHRISTIAN" broadcaster Marion Gordon "Pat" Robertson, founder of the CHRISTIAN Broadcasting Network, called for the Pentagon to assassinate Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez.

There is no need to tell the Pentagon to assassinate world leaders because that is what they have been doing since their founding on Sept. 11, 1941.

The first big assassination by the Pentagon was U.S. President Roosevelt on April 12, 1945.

Why would "Christian" broadcaster Pat Robertson tell the Pentagon on his TV show to assassinate anybody when the Bible says to "love your neighbor as yourself" and to "do unto others as you would have them do unto you"?

Papal Pat presents himself as a "Protestant" evangelist!!

Papal Pat preaching from the Bible!!

Papal Pat presents himself as a "Protestant" evangelist and his millions of followers call themselves evangelicals or born-again Christians. Even President Bush claims to be a born-again Christian!!

Papal Pat preaches from the Bible about the Prince of Peace but you will never hear him condemn war and militarism. You will never hear him preach against the corrupt U. S. Bank which finances the Pentagon.

You will never hear him preach from the Bible like Saint Martin Luther and warn against the Vatican takeover of the U.S.

You will NEVER hear him preach against the Vatican/Pentagon conspiracy to use the U. S. military to restore the lost Papal States.

A real Christian would condemn the crusaders in Iraq and demand the closure of the Pentagon.

The Lord Jesus Christ is the founder of Christianity. Here are a few quotes from His Word about killing and war:

"Depart from evil, and do good; seek PEACE, and pursue it"(Psalm 34:14).

"Blessed are the PEACEMAKERS: for they shall be called the children of God" (Matthew 5:9).

"But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you" (Matthew 5:44).

"Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets" (Matthew 7:12).

"For all they that live by the sword shall die by the sword" (Matt. 26:52).

"But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you" (Luke 6:27).

This is a perfect setup or smokescreen with Papal Pat presenting himself as a "Protestant" evangelist while advocating the Jesuit maxim of assassination of world rulers:

"On either side stands a monk, one of whom holds a banner of yellow and white, which are the Papal colors, and the other a black banner with a dagger and red cross above a skull and crossbones, with the word INRI, and below them the words IUSTUM, NECAR, REGES, IMPIOUS. The meaning of which is: It is just to exterminate or annihilate impious or heretical Kings, Governments, or Rulers" (Jesuit Extreme Oath of Induction).

Papal Pat's father succeeded "Federal" Reserve founder in Senate!

Here is a quote from the book The New World Order by Papal Pat:

"As a brief personal note, my father, A. Willis Robertson, succeeded his fellow Virginian, Carter Glass, in the United States Senate in 1946. Glass had chaired the House Banking and Currency Committee, and my father went on to chair its counterpart in the Senate, where he had the hearty support of the banking community. As I write this I am looking at a lovely sterling SILVER tray given him by the American Bankers Association at their annual meeting in San Francisco, October 25, 1966. My father was also a colleague in the Senate of Prescott Bush, the father of George Bush. (Robertson, The New World Order, p.126)

Carter Glass was a trusted pawn or puppet of the Rockefellers in founding the "Federal" Reserve Bank which is known as the U.S. Bank. Prescott Bush—grandfather of President Bush—financed Hitler's rise to power.

Banker Carter Glass (1848-1946), founder of the "Federal" Reserve Bank.

Banker's puppet President Woodrow Wilson appointed his friend Carter Glass as Secretary of the Treasury in 1918. Glass refused to lower or cancel the staggering wartime debts of the Allies. He did urge the Allies to lower the war reparations of Germany. To him, charity did not begin at home:

"In addition, he instructed Rathbone to write the French, and send a copy of the letter to the Italians, again warning these two nations "that the Treasury, as you are aware, is clothed by the Congress with full authority to deal with foreign loans which it has made," and that the Treasury "will not assent to any discussion at the Peace Conference, or elsewhere, of any plan or arrangement for the release, consolidation, or reapportionment of the obligations of foreign governments held by the United States. You will appreciate also that the Treasury cannot contemplate continuance of advances to any allied government which is lending its support to any plan which would create uncertainty as to its due repayment of advances made to it by the United States Treasury."(Carter Glass. A Biography p. 175)

The staggering death of the Allies was used by the "Federal" Reserve Bank to blackmail various European governments into making concessions to the Vatican with the ultimate objective of restoring the Papal States!!

You cannot PRINT a COIN!!

The corrupt bankers like Robertson gave the U.S. a paper "money" system. The Constitution says that Congress has the power to COIN money . . . not to PRINT it.

Section 8 - Powers of Congress:

To COIN Money, regulate the Value thereof, and of foreign Coin, and fix the Standard of Weights and Measures (U.S. Constitution online).

The U.S. has vast amounts of SILVER, gold, coal, oil etc., etc. but the corrupt "Federal" Reserve System is saving it all for the Spanish Inquisition if the Pentagon can restore the lost Papal States!!

Judas Iscariot received 30 pieces of SILVER for betraying his Lord and Master. Robertson received an engraved SILVER platter.

Papal Pat met with the Pope in New York City in 1995!!

On Oct, 7, 1995, televangelist Pat Robertson joined Pope John Paul II in a Mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. At that time, Robertson handed the Pope a letter urging closer relations between Catholic and Protestant denominations. Imagine Saint Martin Luther doing such a thing!!

Papal Pat NEVER opened his Bible to this saying of Jesus:

[B]"Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven. Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly" (Matthew 6:1-4)[/B]

Editor's Note

Papal Pat graduated from Yale University in New Haven, Conn. We don't know if Papal Pat became a member of the Jesuit Skull and Bones at Yale but the Bushes certainly did.

Title: Patrick Buchanan is a Knight of Malta (strange)

Description: Wierd info.

TruthSeeker24 - September 21, 2005 12:56 PM (GMT)

Note by Me: One sign of him being an elite was that he work for the Bohemian Grove/CFR Richard Nixon. As a Nixon crony, he pretty much stayed among the media elite and have the whole media world just tolerate him. Regardless of his stand on the war on Iraq, abortion, and other issues; the man is aligned with the Knights of Malta and therefore I won't align with him. The fact that he's still an advocate George W. Bush tells a lot.

The Christian Right, The Pope, the Knights of Malta and the CNP

To understand the puzzle, we are quoting from an Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and Its Kindred Sciences," etc. by Albert G. Mackey, M.D., Thirty-Third Degree, Volume I, published by the Masonic History Company, Chicago, New York, & London, 1925, Volume One, pp. 392-95:

"This Order, which at various times in the progress of its history received the names of Knights Hospitalers, Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, Knights of Rhodes, and lastly, Knights of Malta, was one of the most important of the religious and military orders of knighthood which sprang into existence during the Crusades which were instituted for the recovery of the Holy Land. It owes its origin to the Hospitalers of Jerusalem, that wholly religious and charitable Order which was established at Jerusalem, in 1048, by pious merchants of Amalfi for the succor of poor and distressed Latin pilgrims....

"The Organization of the Order in its days of prosperity was very complicated, partaking of both a monarchial and a republican character. Over all presided a Grand Master, who, although invested with extensive powers, was still controlled by the legislative action of the General Chapter....

"...There are now two bodies -- one Catholic and the other Protestant, but each repudiates the other....

"The degree of Knight of Malta is conferred in the United States as "an appendant Order" in a Commandery of Knights Templar. There is a ritual attached to the degree, but very few are in possession of it, and it is generally communicated after the candidate has been created a Knights Templar...."

The Knights of Malta are the militia of the Pope, and are sworn to total obedience by a blood oath which is taken extremely seriously and to the death. The Pope as the head of the Vatican is also the head of a foreign national power.

This has virtually nothing to do with the Roman Catholic religion, and everything to do with being a participant in one of the four major "player-organizations" for world domination -- those players being British Freemasonry, French Freemasonry, International Zionism, and the Vatican.

As a member of the Knights of Malta, and by virtue of your blood oath of obedience to the Pope, you are required to support to the death the desires of the head of the Order of the Knights of Malta -- in this case, Pope John Paul II -- over and above any other allegiance you may feel or pretend to feel toward any other loyalty -- such as a loyalty to the Constitution for the united States of America.

Those who are presently members of the Knights of Malta must on penalty of death support those policies advocated by the Vatican. It is not hard for them to do this. They BELIEVE in these policies and principles. The policies which are espoused and proclaimed by Pope John Paul II are as follows:

1. End of sovereignty for the United States and other countries.
2. End of absolute property rights.

3. End of all gun rights.
4. The new international economic Order (world government).
5. The redistribution of wealth and jobs.
6. Calls for nations to trust the United Nations.
7. Total disarmament.
8. Promote the United Nations as the hope for peace.
9. Promote UNESCO, the deadly educational and cultural arm of the United Nations.
10. Promote interdependence.
11. Support sanctions honoring Father Pierre Teilhard de Chardin -- the New Age Humanist Priest.
12. Support the belief that the economic principle of traditional Christian or Catholic social doctrine is the economic principle of communism.
13. Promote the Pope as the acting go-between for the United States and the Soviet Union.

The secret society members in the high levels of political and economic power -- if they are not the actual decision-makers -- are OWNED by others. They are compromised -- by the freedom of their will. They chose to believe what they believe. And Buchanan is not a decision-maker. He is a member in service to that Order and under complete and total obedience to the Vatican's political ambitions.

The SMOW is the MILITIA of the POPE. In times when the Pope is threatened the Swiss mercenaries that guard the Vatican are dismissed and the Knights of Malta take station as the elite Militia and guardians of the Pope. The Knights are also sworn to instantly forsake everything and everyone and hasten to the aid of the Pope should they be called. They are sworn to absolute and total obedience to the Pope forsaking all other allegiances or duties or obligations whatsoever. Now understand I am not talking Catholic here... no American Catholic that I know of owes any allegiance to any foreign power or Pope through any blood oath of any kind whatsoever... and no American Catholic that I know of carries a Diplomatic Passport from a foreign nation.

Could such a man serve as our President when the Pope is openly calling for a world government and has stated that he will be the head of that government by the year 2007?

Bob Dole is a 33 degree Freemason of the Scottish Rite, Southern Jurisdiction.

Please take this in the spirit that it is intended. The truth sometimes hurts but it is the truth. We must never believe anyone or anything in this day of supreme deception. What makes a con man great is his ability to convince his mark that he is totally honest, loyal, and "a good ole boy.." Stop listening to what Buchanan says and research meticulously his history and read every column he has written.

Did you know that he is on record as writing that we need a Constitutional Convention to deal with the fact that the constitution is outdated? Did you know that Ross Perot is on record saying exactly the same thing? Did you know that Buchanan was the Chairman of a super secret Intelligence group named for the number of the room in which the group met in the White House? Did you know that Buchanan has direct ties to the CIA? Did you know that William Casey, Director of the CIA was Knights of Malta? Did you know that Ollie North is Knights of Malta? Did you know that George Bush is knights of Malta and just finished a Centra and South American Speaking tour on behalf of the Knights of Malta? (James Daugherty, Newsgroup, quotes from Behold a Pale Horse, by (martyr) William Cooper.)

The program begins with "This is Kelleigh Nelson sitting in for the Jeff Baker Show this evening. My guest is Chey Simonton and she read a speech that Moon is very, very proud of that was attended many of the Christian Right events. If any of you have any questions about anyone in particular or anything we've discussed, call in on 1-888-544-8255 or 888-37-RADIO. (year 1998)

KELLEIGH: We're talking about Sun Myung Moon and his affiliation with the Christian Right. Chey, I want you to go on and tell about Moon's speech that appeared in the Denver Post in January of this year. I know it's really filthy and, I know it's difficult to repeat this stuff over the radio. We don't even like saying what the man said. Yet, the man said it in front of countless of the Christian Right hierarchy.

CHEY: Yes, there were 1,500 people in that audience. Before I do that though, Kelleigh, I thought it would be interesting to go through and quote some more from that article by Pastor Robert Grant, the head of the American Freedom Coalition because in admitting that he had obtained over 5 million dollars from Unification business interests he says, The talkshow began: "Well, this is as you said, from the article "Unholy Alliance" by Carolyn Weaver that was published in the January, 1986 Mother Jones Magazine. I'll give you some quick background. It details the letter written by, dictated by Tim LaHaye, a thank you letter to Colonel Bo Hi Pak of the Washington Times, 2nd in command to Rev. Moon, for a sizable contribution to American Coalition for Traditional Values.

KELLEIGH: Which is Tim LaHaye's organization.

CHEY: Yes. It also mentions Concerned Women for America. The author, Carolyn Weaver, gives a direct quote from one of Moon's books at the end of the article. This is from Rev. Sun Myung Moon's book, "The Master Speaks",

"My dream is to organize a Christian political party including the Protestant denominations, Catholics and all the religious sects. Then the communist power will be helpless before ours. We have to purge the corrupted politicians and the sons of God must rule the world. The separation between religion and politics is what Satan likes most. ...Upon my command to the Europeans and others throughout the world to come live in the U.S., wouldn't they obey me? Then what would happen? We can embrace the religious world in one arm and the political world in the other. With this great ideology, if you are not confident to do this, you had better die!"

KELLEIGH: Yeah... and if he gains total control which he's doing very quickly....I know the guy's got to die, he's not going to live forever. But, if he does continue with this control, isn't he part and parcel of the New World Order?

CHEY: Well, he is because he plays to the conservative, the politically conservative Christians and provides the Washington Times newspaper and networks very strongly with Christian activists and Christian pastors through all these front groups, and on the other hand, he also funded and networked with all the eastern religions and the very liberal... On the Internet you can find one of his web sites promoting the U.N. Habitat II Conference that was held in Istanbul last year. So he is working both sides very avidly.

KELLEIGH: He wants to join them together.

CHEY: Umhum. That's what "unification" is all about. Unify everything under a big world religion. He financed the World Parliament of Religions that included the Covenant of Isis and all of these Theosophical Society groups and Christian Groups. Some of the Baptist churches participated in that. So, it's a very, very dangerous thing.

KELLEIGH: I'm not surprised with the Baptist churches because of there are so many Freemasons within the Baptist church and the core of Sun Myung Moon and freemasonry is very similar.

CHEY: That's true, although freemasonry is broader than just being confined to the Baptist church. But, I know that the Southern Baptist Convention identified over half a million freemasons and there was a big issue within their church on whether they should allow freemasonry, members of freemasonry to be church members. They do have this "great architect of the universe" mentality and recognize plurality of religions that spans from Christianity through all the eastern religions and Buddhism and Hindus and Shintos and many, many different religious organizations that, Biblically, Christians are told not to fellowship with. It's a matter of being unequally yoked with unbelievers.

KELLEIGH: Right. We're to be separate because those are pagan gods that they're worshipping.

CHEY: It's not surprising that Moon espouses that. He is into self-glorification and his followers are involved in things to glorify their True Father, Moon. However, Christians have other loyalties and glorifying Moon is not to be thought of. We are to glorify God and Jesus Christ, our Savior.

Yes, there is. Moon claims that Jesus appeared to him in 1935 at Easter time and explained in a vision that Jesus had failed in his mission and asked Moon to assume the position as the True Father and lead the world to salvation because Jesus' death on the cross and resurrection did not accomplish any kind of a salvation for the world. So, Moon graciously took on that mantle from poor failed Jesus.

So, when you look at.... well, Tim LaHaye is a pastor, I believe he's a Baptist pastor. Robert Grant is a pastor. Jerry Falwell upheld him in the 80s. I don't know what his position is right now; but, when Moon first came to this country he was widely recognized as a cult. People were trying to rescue their children from the Unification Cult. he delivered at the Family Federation for Peace, a big 3 day seminar a year ago at the end of July, 1996 for three days, finishing on August 1, 1996. He delivered a speech about his theology on sexual organs. He feels that Jesus should have married and because Jesus did not marry, Jesus failed; that in order to enter the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Heaven, you must be married under the blessing of Rev. Sun Myung Moon. The offspring of a marriage that he has blessed will be sinless. There will be no original sin in children born under marriages that he has blessed. He invites everyone to join, so they can register in the Kingdom of Heaven, in the big marriage blessing ceremony coming up in November of this year. He's anticipating 3.6 million couples via satellite. He's going to hold this mass marriage blessing in RFK Stadium.

Other participants who were paid speakers at that event included Beverly LaHaye of Concerned Women for America, Gary Bauer of the Family Research Council, Rev. Robert Schuller of the Crystal Cathedral. Pat Boone provided the entertainment. Bill Cosby, when he found out that it was a Unification Church function, tried to decline to appear. They threatened him with a lawsuit. This function was sponsored by The Washington Times Foundation which is an adjunct to The Washington Times Newspaper that is always promoted by Christian political activists as the "conservative" Washington Times, never as the Unification Church-owned Washington Times.

Also, Ralph Reed of the Christian Coalition was a paid speaker at that event.

KELLEIGH: We know Ralph Reed is an adherent to Moon because in his book that came out, don't ask me the name of it because I don't know what it is, but it came out last October or November. He gave glowing reports in that book about Dr. Robert Grant and American Freedom Coalition. Dr. Robert Grant is a member of the Council For National Policy and American Freedom Coalition is a Moon front-organization within the Christian Right circles and the members of the Council For National Policy are widely known; James Dobson, Gary Bauer, Phyllis Schlafly, Don Wildmon. Jerry Falwell was a member at one time. I don't believe he is anymore. But, Pat Robertson, Nelson Bunker Hunt, all the names that you would know in the Christian Right that most uninformed Americans out there consider conservative. Isn't that right? Then, of course, there's General John Singlaub. Everyone remembers him from the Iran/Contra affair who was closely affiliated with Ollie North. Obviously, Oliver North was a member of the Council for National Policy and John Singlaub is a member of the Council for National Policy.

Then below that we have Dr. Cleon Skousen, a former FBI agent, was a speaker nationally for CAUSA, the Moon affiliated group. He spoke all over the country. He also was a member of the Council For National Policy.

KELLEIGH: Not only that, he still runs with all of these people, so does his son. Plus, he is pro-Constitutional Convention which many of these people within the Council For National Policy are.

CHEY: That's true.

KELLEIGH: Including Michael Farris. This whole Advisory Board and board members reads like a Who's Who of the Christian Right supporting Ollie North. We've heard on countless radio shows exposed by a number of men who were insiders and have come out and told us the truth about what Ollie North was really doing, and Mena and the whole situation. Here is a Moon front organization asking for money for a fellow CNPer, Ollie North.

CHEY: And Oliver North is now on Christian radio as a talk radio political host. So, what we call that is "strange bedfellows." These men are participating in political movements supposedly based on their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior and affiliating with Moon. Reading his theology he would have to be identified as an antichrist, not THE ANTICHRIST, but "an antichrist" which I can verify by reading this speech that he gave.

I need to explain, he is very proud of this speech. He gave it first of all August 1, 1996 in Washington D.C. as the final speech of a 3 day seminar for the Family Federation for World Peace. The participants were Beverly LaHaye, Pat Boone, Robert Schuller, Ralph Reed, Gary Bauer of the Family Research Council. This was the final speech. It was reprinted in the Denver Post on January 6, 1997 as a paid advertisement of the Unification Church.

KELLEIGH: And you can get it off the Internet, too.

CHEY: It's on the Unification Church web site. August 1, 1996 the web site location is <http://www.unification.net>

KELLEIGH: You should all go look at it because it's really unbelievable!

CHEY: I'll read some excerpts. It's a very long speech. I have to preface, this is the most disgusting abomination of blasphemy to a Christian, to anyone who believes that the Bible is the truth, is the word of God. He says:

"God wants a love partner. Thus, centering on the place where husband and wife become one through their sexual organs, God wants to appear and meet us."

Chey, go ahead with this. I think it's really important for people to understand where Moon's theology really lies.

CHEY: Moon, in another speech he gave to The Washington Times, urged all of the employees of The Washington Times to read this speech once for each year of their life. If they're 80 years old, they should read it 80 times!

"God wants a love partner, centering on the place where husband and wife become one through their sexual organs, God wants to appear and meet us...I wish you would center on the absolute sexual organ, unique sexual organ, unchanging sexual organ and eternal sexual organ and use this as your foundation to pursue God...We have to realize that the Kingdom of God on earth and in heaven will begin on this foundation."

CHEY: I know that Jerry Falwell defended Moon when Moon went to jail over income tax evasion. Also, when Jerry Falwell had the Moral Majority, his Senior Vice President was a man named Ron Godwin. Ron Godwin, who professes Christianity and was very high in Moral Majority, subsequently took a job as the editor of Insight Magazine, a Unification publication that is marketed as a "conservative" magazine. Now he is, and has been for a number of years, the Senior Vice President of The Washington Times newspaper. He works directly under Colonel Bo Hi Pak who is Moon's highest in command in the United States. Knights of Malta Involved in U.S. Politics

Did you know that the "Knight of Malta" is one of the high degrees of Freemasonry? Did you know that Freemasons descend from the "Knights Templar". Did you know that the Knights of Malta were successfully taken over by the Knights Templar during the "Peasants Revolt" as an act of revenge for the Knights of Malta accepting the property of the Templars after the Pope, on orders from King Phillip of France, destroyed the Templars? Did you know that the Templars have sworn revenge against all Christians and nations and that their goal is to establish a one world government and one world religion over the ashes of all existing religions and nations? Did you know that the "Propaganda 2" Lodge was launched in partnership by the CIA and the Mafia to serve as an intelligence source and control of European leaders after WWII. Did you know that post WWII many of the elite of Europe Joined the P2 Lodge?

Did you know that Enrico Fermi was hung under Black Friar's Bridge in a ritual Masonic murder for violating his blood oath after the P2 Lodge raped the Vatican bank? Did you know that Piers Compton documents the infiltration and takeover of the Vatican by the "Propaganda 2" Lodge of Freemasonry in his book "The Broken Cross"? Did you know that the Mafia was formed from Italian street gangs by Guiseppe Mazinni as the underworld arm of Freemasonry and that Mazinni was in direct communication and partnership with General Christopher Albert Pike who establishe the 33 degree and was the father of the judicial code of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan? Did you know that all SHEEP are sheered every year and eventually led to the slaughter by a Judas Goat that they all believe is "a good ole boy?"

Pat Buchanan knows that he will not be nominated and I stated this long before any Primary. He is the "Judas Goat" and stated his intentions long ago. He will take the disenchanteds patriots and militia away from any viable candidate and let them believe they have a spokesperson in the form of Buchanan. When the time comes Buchanan will tell them that he has made a deal with dole. He will tell his followers to vote for Dole and most of them, on Buchanan's word will vote for Dole. He said he would do this long before the Primaries. What's the matter... don't you believe him?..

Bob Dole has reversed his position on every major decision on virtually every issue, ranging from taxes to foreign and domestic policy." Stanley G. The New York Times, Editorial, June 1994 "If dole is elected president, I'd leave the country." Elliot Kaplan, former lawyer to conviced Dole aide, David Owen "Almost Jekyll-Hyde." Joseph Rauh, Washington Civil rights lobbyist "So unpopular among his peers that he 'couldn't sell beer on a troop ship.'" Senator William Saxbe, former Ohio Senator "Still doesn't know if he's a liberal or a conservative, as he didn't know in 1950."

John Woelk, Russell County attorney who recruited Dole to run for the legislature in 1950 "I was repeatedly struck by the banality and superficiality of his character and personality. He liked to communicate with staff via one-page memos and one-liners. He had little interest in details. He didn't like to read. His only real concern seemed to be raising money. He had contempt for common voters. And he believed in nothing. ...I was appalled by his utter lack of commitment to any ideals or beliefs. Working in his office was like being aboard a ship piloted by an aloof and mysterious sea captain, who navigated without a clear or consistent sense of direction" Stanley G. Hilton, Senate counsel and aide for Bob Dole, 1979 and 1980 "When special interests contribute money, they want something in return other than gooe government." Bob Dole Bob Dole is a 33 degree Freemason of the Scottish Rite, Southern Jurisdiction. Please take this in the spirit that it is intended. The truth sometimes hurts but it is the truth. We must

Did you know that if Pat Buchanan were who he pretends to be the Marxist media would never have allowed him to be a prominent newspaper columnist or television personality? If you believe they would allow it you must also believe that the press is free and is not controlled and we all know that is not true... the press is NOT free... and it IS controlled. Did you know that Buchanan IS a socialist? He is... and if you read all his writings, and especially his book, this fact will jump off the pages and smite you down. Have you heard him constantly state that he is the voice of Populism and the Populist party before it went belly up? Did you ever research the roots of the Populist movement? Did you know that Populism and the Populist party grew out of the socialist attempts to unionize the Kansas farmers during the depression? Did you know that Populism is Democracy in its most virulent form? Did you know that Lenin said, "Democracy and Socialism are inseperable." Did you know that Populism is socialism?

Did you know that the Populist party sympathized with Hitler and the Nazi party before WWII? Did you know that Nazi literally means "German National SOCIALIST Worker's Party"? Did you know that the Liberty Lobby, the home of Populism, grew out of the old Populist party and the American "German Bund?" Did you know that the Spotlight began as the newsletter for a Marxist youth group and that fact is documented in the 50's hearings of the Committee on UnAmerican Activity?

Did you know that Joseph McCarthy was absolutely right and that he was destroyed by the Marxist press and Hollywood "Fellow Travelers" in order to prevent the end of socialism in America? Did you know the term "McCarthyism" was coined by the Marxist press and Hollywood "Fellow Travelers" to prevent anyone else from ever exposing the Marxist agenda in America? Did you know that after Alan Keyes (referring to Buchanan and the other so-called Republican Candidates) said "You all sound like a bunch of socialists." during a debate. That he has been ignored by the press, television, and has never again been invited to participate in another debate? He did the forbidden... he told the truth.

If membership in the Knights of Malta means nothing how come my 30 some-odd inquiries to Pat Buchanan and his people about his membership have gone unanswered and unacknowledged? I could write for hours on the subject of Pat Buchanan and his antics but I will leave some for others on this list whom I know have more information should they desire to also respond to the above sheople sign. Suffice it to say... my friend you have been "hoodwinked". Please accept this as a glass of cold water upon one who is sleeping while rats are nibbling at his feet. The best advice I can give is... put your heart and emotions in a cabinet for a while. Take your brain and intellect out of the cupboard and use them unmercifully. Listen to everyone... read everything... believe NOTHING unless you can absolutely prove it.

You will be amazed at the result. Now let me ask you a question... In face of all the years that we have been deceived by everyone in Washington and the media... Why are you not questioning Buchanan's credentials? He is a Washington insider who has served within the White House in several administrations and is a prominent member of the media. When will WE ever learn? The above is the product of over 25 years of research into these organizations (and many more) and their agenda for world domination. It is all out in the open... nothing is hidden but it requires years of hard work and due diligence to uncover and understand who is destroying this country and why. Please feel free to post this far and wide anywhere you wish with my blessings. The House of Buchanan

The inspiration behind the Heritage Foundation, in which employ are former Nazi-collaborators, Pat Buchanan feeds the media frenzy on the Religious Right with periodic anti-Semitic and racist statements, such as those recently dredged up for public awareness in a New York Times advertisement of 10/3/99:

IS HE OR ISN'T HE A BIGOT?

YOU DECIDE.

The Words of Pat Buchanan:

About Hitler and David Duke "Though Hitler was indeed racist and anti-Semitic to the core,. . . he was also an individual of great courage, a soldier's soldier in the Great War, a leader steeped in the history of Europe. . ."

"David Duke is busy stealing from me. I have a mind to go down there and sue that dude for intellectual property theft."

About Blacks "In the late 1940's and 1950's. . . race was never a preoccupation with us, we rarely thought about it. . . There was no politics to polarize us then, to magnify every slight. The 'Negroes' of Washington had their public schools, restaurants, bars, movie houses, playgrounds and churches and we had ours.

". . . now the 'African-Americans' of the 90's demand racial quotas and set-asides, as the Democrats eagerly assent and a pandering GOP prepares to go along. Who speaks for the Euro-American, who founded the USA?. . . Is it not time to take America back?"

And in a syndicated column of the Washington Inquirer, this shocking statement appeared of Buchanan's support of "free lance" murderers in Latin America:

"Faced with rising urban terror in 1976, the Argentine military seized power and waged a war of counter-terror. With military and police and free lance operators, between 6,000 and 150,000 leftists disappeared. Brutal, yes; also successful. Today, peace reigns in Argentina; security has been restored." ("Death Squads and No-Win Wars," 2/3/84)

Irresponsible statements by neo-fascists like Pat Buchanan, which serve to fuel FBI alarms about anti-Semitic and other violence, will cast suspicion upon those Christians who do not despise Jews but, out of their loyalty to Jesus Christ, will choose to resist the The Noahide Laws, The Hebrew Movement and the Mark of the Beast, which we believe will be the occult symbol deceptively called the Star of David. Further deceiving the elect, the latest issue of the anti-Semitic Spotlight newspaper isolates Buchanan as the only candidate feared by the Bilderberg society of elites:

"Pat Buchanan is the subject of much nervous discussion among Bilderberg leaders. Buchanan has for years denounced international control of American foreign policy. His opposition to world government, which he loudly proclaims, his 'America-First' position, his opposition to sending Americans to fight wars in which there is no national interest and opposition to such economy-gutting treaties as NAFTA and the World Trade Organization anger Bilderberg.

"If nominated by the Reform Party, which he has now joined, Buchanan could be on the ballot in all 50 states. It would be hard to deny Buchanan the right to debate the two major party nominees. In such debates, the fiery Buchanan would blow out his fastidious opponents. It is a scenario that strikes fear in Bilderberg hearts. Having Buchanan educate millions of Americans in TV debates on its secret agenda for achieving world government, with America and all nations surrendering their sovereignty to the United Nations, is a prospect Bilderberg dreads. For 45 years, Bilderberg has employed immense measures to maintain its secrecy."

Is Pat Buchanan really a political outsider? Would a true conservative join the liberal, pro-abortion Reform Party? Jim Keith, editor of Secret and Suppressed: Banned Ideas and Hidden History, names among the highest levels of power elites, the Scottish House of Buchanan. As an agent provocateur of probable Merovingian lineage himself, the late Jim Keith ought to have known this:

"The identities of the Teutonic/Zionist clique are well-guarded; even the higher servants are protected by the anonymity of immense wealth and the power attendant upon it. We speak here of individuals of such status that their kith and kin are referred to as an 'house,' not a 'family.' Among these are the House of Windsor,...the House of Rhodes and the House of Rothschild, with their immense holdings in land and in gold; also included, albeit grudgingly, in the elite are the upstart Houses of Onassis and Ibn Saud, who vie for position alongside the established Houses -- the Williamsons, the Lodges, the Cabots, and Bierces; the Carnegies, the relative newcomers Rockefeller, the Buchanans, Browns and Raleighs. . ." [p. 235]

A short history of the House of Buchanan states that the area of Scotland that was given to the Buchanans "was known as 'Buth chanain', Gaelic for 'house of the canon' and may have been connected with the ancient Celtic Church... The clan flourished after supporting Robert the Bruce during the Wars of Independence at the start of the 14th century."

In 1996, Pat Buchanan's campaign committee boasted that Scotland's hero: "Braveheart himself - Mel Gibson - has endorsed our Braveheart - Pat Buchanan!!!" In true William Wallace-style, Buchanan then called for a Second American Revolution:

"As Pat said, 'Don't wait for orders from headquarters. . .Mount up!' All Buchanan Brigades across the USA find friends, neighbors and co-workers who support our cause. Enlist members and start a local Brigade, get your forces in shape and ready for the battle. Join us, the Buchanan Brigade, and with our united front, we will win the Second American Revolution!"

A current campaign memo carries forward Pat Buchanan's revolutionary fervor. "[Pat said] 'When I take the oath of office their New World Order comes crashing down!'. . . Pat is going to need us. Not only to stand with him, but to also be courageous enough to embrace the challenge and lead the revolution when necessary...It's time to lock 'n load for liberty!'"

This memo closed with an appeal for prayer to St. Michael: "PS - Above all, please remember to pray -- Pray for Pat and Shelley, for his staff, for me, and for all of us in the Brigade. And if you happen to be a traditional Catholic, the prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel is needed now more than ever." [Linda Muller, 10/15/99, The Internet Brigade, <http://www.buchanan.org>]

According to the World Book Encyclopedia, "Saint Michael was the patron saint of (Scottish) knights." We refer the reader to The Rosicrucian Connection to discover the significance of "Saint Michael" in bringing the Antichrist to power.

Is Pat Buchanan a true American patriot or does he have a hidden agenda? The 1995 Edition of Who's Who in America states: "Buchanan, Patrick Joseph, journalist. b. Washington, Nov. 2, 1938:... Named Knight of Malta, 1987..." Albert Mackey's Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and Its Kindred Sciences identifies the Knights of Malta as an offshoot of the Knights Templar:

"This Order, which at various times in the progress of its history received the names of Knights Hospitalers, Knights of St. John of Jerusalem, Knights of Rhodes, and lastly, Knights of Malta, was one of the most important of the religious and military orders of knighthood which sprang into existence during the Crusades which were instituted for the recovery of the Holy Land. It owes its origin to the Hospitalers of Jerusalem, that wholly religious and charitable Order which was established at Jerusalem, in 1048, by pious merchants of Amalfi for the succor of poor and distressed Latin pilgrims....

"The Organization of the Order in its days of prosperity was very complicated, partaking of both a monarchial and a republican character. Over all presided a Grand Master, who, although invested with extensive powers, was still controlled by the legislative action of the General Chapter....

"...There are now two bodies -- one Catholic and the other Protestant, but each repudiates the other....

"The degree of Knight of Malta is conferred in the United States as 'an appendant Order' in a Commandery of Knights Templar. There is a ritual attached to the degree, but very few are in possession of it, and it is generally communicated after the candidate has been created a Knights Templar...." [Albert G. Mackey, M.D., Thirty-Third Degree, Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and Its Kindred Sciences, Vol. I, Masonic History Company, Chicago, New York, & London, 1925, pp. 392-95]

According to William Cooper's Conspiracy Forum, "Membership in the [Sovereign Military Order of Malta] denotes an allegiance to a foreign power in the form of the nation of Malta and the Pope... The Knights of Malta are the militia of the Pope sworn to total obedience by a blood oath. The Pope as the head of the Vatican is also the head of a foreign national power. This has virtually nothing to do with the Roman Catholic religion, and everything to do with being a participant in one of the four major 'player-organizations' for world domination -- those players being British Freemasonry, French Freemasonry, International Zionism, and the Vatican."

What's your opinion on Fritz Springmeier's (or was it Per Sewen's) claim about Astor, Bundy, Collins, Kennedy, Onassis, etc being the families who control more or less everything?

TruthSeeker24

My opinion on Fritz.

Fritz Springmeier is a genius. I first heard of him in November 2001 when I was 17 and his interview with a Canadian was great and doubled my knowledge of N.W.O. of the bat. He was so controversial that the feds invaded his house and he's locked up in prison for a robbery charge and won't leave until 2012 or 2013. His book called "Bloodlines of the Illuminati" believes that the 13 families runs the world. Fritz believes that the Jesuits are strong, but they don't rule the world. In his book, he cites (in his mind that top people on Earth) which he called the Merovingian, Collins, Lis, etc. Eric believes that the Jesuits run the Illuminati and the Jesuits control the World. The Jesuits indeed influenced and help create the Illuminati since Weishaupt was a Jesuit priest and the Jesuits created numerous occult orders in that time frame. The Jesuits helped Napoloen, were involved with Hitler, involved in Georgetown, and other events. My personal opinion is that the Jesuits (through its Knights of Malta, Opus Dei, Knights of Columbus, etc.), Illuminati, and high-level Freemasonry runs the world as validated by research and history.

Title: Why not swop Jesuit for Jew?

Del - September 18, 2005 05:40 PM (GMT)

A lot of people - especially right-wing racists - could simply exchange your word 'Jesuit' for 'Jews' and feel comfortable blaming them for the world's woes - as Hitler and Co. did.

Haven't we been told the Jews control the banks, oil, world economy, entertainment, back both sides during wars, etc.

How can you say Kolvenbach is more powerful than say, David Rockefeller or the Rothschilds - or even European royalty?

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 19, 2005 12:26 AM (GMT)

You shouldn't even mention Royalty has theres no crown heads of Europe anymore and thats long gone. I suggest you do as many others have who've encountered me and Phelps and thats read all the data you can on the subject and you will see who really rules the roost and its not David Rockefella although hes certainly more powerful than any Rothschild! Their all controlled by the Society of Jesus through the White Pope of the Vatican which has its affairs taken care of by Opus Dei using SMOM for control of Banking etc. Just look at the member of these societies and who founds/head many of the organisations like CFR, Carlyle group etc etc.

It has nothing at all to do with Jews and this is exactly what the Jesuits would like you to think and have helped install with old instructions of the Order of Illuminati being rebadged under The Protocols of the elders of Zion just like they did to the Janesists with The Protocols of the Elders of Fountaign. Same old crap and works on the sheep just the same to blame the enemy of the Jesuit at the time and keep the sheeple looking in the wrong direction.

Use some common sense and sit back and look at things! Do you honestly think the Jesuits would want everyone under the sun waking up to realise who they really are and that they are the controllers of this planet? Of course not and they dont. This is why they do their hardest to protect their order with misinformation, shields, veils and proxies such as Jews. The only 2 jews that were in the Jesuit Order originally were the first 2 Superior Generals, after this jews were banned from the order until 1946. Everywhere you look in conspiracy you either see Jews or Bloodlines namely Rothschild as the world leaders, HOGWASH! Now you try to find information on the Jesuits etc and its a lot harder. When you question the Temporal Coadjutors who spit this garble about Rothschilds etc out they will make excuses but admit the Vatican plays a big role. So if they play a big role why dont we see more detail like we do on the other groups! Exactly they want it kept quiet and for good reason! Common Sense always wins over nonsense and disinformation! Just look at the leading institutes and their founders, chairmen etc and you'll always smell Sovereign Military of Malta who are controlled by the Pope!

Its up to you what you believe, I'm giving the information out to highlight and hint where to really focus on. I do not deny people should look up on bloodlines and the other information but please dont get indoctrinated into it making your mind like in the old days denying the information.

Remember who controlled Hitler and who his SS were modelled off! If you dont know it was the Jesuits Himler modelled them off because of their superior organisation and power which says a lot in itself! Blame the jew blame the jew but dont blame me (Jesuits).

Title: The Cardinal Feasts

Solve et Coagula - September 18, 2005 07:14 PM (GMT)

In the course of a year, as the sun moves round the circle of the Zodiac, it travels through the four points known as the equinoxes and the solstices. The equinoxes correspond to the two days of the year when the sun crosses the equator and day and night are of equal length. These two days are March 21 and September 21. The solstices, on the other hand, correspond to the two days on which the angle between the sun and the equator and is at its maximum. These are December 21, the winter solstice and the shortest day of the year, and June 21, the summer solstice and the longest day of the year.

To these four points in time, the solstices and the equinoxes, correspond four so-called Cardinal Feasts: Christmas, Easter, St John the Baptist and St Michael Archangel. These feast-days were instituted by the Initiates as a reminder to human beings that, on those days, the sun sets particularly powerful currents in motion in the universe and that, if they are aware of them, human beings can draw on these currents and use them to advance their evolution. The passage from one season to the next occurs at these four points, each of which is a nexus of extraordinary forces proper to each season. The seasonal forces are organized and regulated by very powerful spirits under the command of which are many lesser spirits whose task is to distribute these energies and forces to every part of the planet.

You must not think that everything happens automatically in nature; on the contrary, a whole host of spirits are actively involved. Some of them have been specially entrusted with the care of rocks, plants, animals and men, and all the seasonal changes that occur are the result of their activity.

Let's begin by talking about the spring equinox which falls on March 21 and which is under the influence of the Archangel Raphaël dwells in the sphere of Mercury and his name means "God the Healer" or "Divine Physician". The mission of this Archangel and of the Angels under his command is to work on the divine power and give it the virtue of healing. Each of the Archangels that govern the other seasons works with this same divine power and communicates to it other wavelengths and other virtues. The Ancients knew exactly when and how to communicate with Raphaël by the use of appropriate formulas and, in this way, his science of the healing properties of plants was revealed to them. The Greek god of medicine, Asclepios (the Roman Aesculapias), was in contact with the forces of Hermes (or, as the Romans called him, Mercury); it is not surprising, therefore, that, for thousands of years, the Caduceus of Hermes has been the symbol of medicine. Think of these things when spring comes, and remember to unite yourself to the Archangel Raphaël; ask him to reveal to you the secret powers of plants, seeds and flowers so that you may benefit from the virtues that emanate from them.

When nature comes back to life in the spring, it reminds man that he, too, must come back to life, not physically, perhaps - that is hardly possible - but spiritually. Just as trees and plants receive a new spiritual sap to rise within him and bring new life to his subtle bodies.

The great Christian feast of this season is Easter, the feast that commemorates Christ's Resurrection. In this feast, the life of nature and the life of the soul coincide. If you are familiar with the science of symbols, you know that the life of an Initiate corresponds to the life of nature: an Initiate's life is a succession of symbolic episodes which follow each other in a certain order in view of a well-defined goal. The life of Jesus was patterned on the development of the earth and of the cosmos: it is a symbol that has universal significance. Like Jesus, the universe was born; like him, it will be crucified and, like him, it will rise from the dead.

The traditional literature of all countries contains innumerable legends and accounts of mythological battles between the forces of light and darkness. On about June 21, with the summer solstice, we enter the period in which light triumphs over darkness and, a few days later, on June 24, we celebrate the feast of St John the Baptist. On that date it is customary to light fires that burn all night. The summer solstice is ruled by the Archangel Uriel. The Church never mentions this Archangel, and you might well wonder why. The Archangels Gabriel, Raphaël and Michael, who preside over the three great feasts of the winter solstice and the spring and autumn equinoxes, are all familiar to Christians, but Uriel is almost unknown. Uriel is an Archangel of light; his name means "God is my light". The feast of St John coincides with the moment when the sun enters Cancer - the sign in which Venus is in exaltation - and this is no chance coincidence, for the feast of St John is the feast of fire, the feast of the summer heat which ripens fruit and all other things in nature. In summer, nature is on fire. But this fire is also the fire of physical, sensual love and it is well known that, in some countries, the night of St John was the occasion for all kinds of sexual excesses. This, no doubt, is why the Church has always preferred not to give prominence to the Archangel Uriel and the celebration of the summer solstice.

In the sephirothic Tree of Life, Uriel is the Archangel of the Sephirah Malkut, the earth. As such, he is in communication with the inner fire of the planet, and some of the Angels under earth. This is the work that Greeks attributed to their god Hephaestus (the Roman Vulcan). Hephaestus, or Vulcan, used fire as he worked with stone and metal, for fire is the only force capable of melting stone and metal and making them malleable.

You must not confuse the subterranean regions of mineral and metallic fire with the regions of Satanic fire. In spite of their proximity, the Satanic world is completely separate from the world in which fire works on metals and minerals. The spirits that work in these subterranean forges of nature are divine; those that dwell in Hell are fallen souls.

If man is conscious and attentive during this period of the summer solstice, when light is at its most powerful and the forces of night and of darkness are retreating, he will receive the power to launch an attack on his own inner darkness - and he will have a good chance of being victorious. When the nights are growing longer and light is fading, when the vital currents in the world are beginning to contract and slacken under pressure from contrary forces that are gaining in vigour, it is not the time to undertake this type of work. Conditions, both within and without, no longer lend themselves to a direct attack on hostile forces. In a period in which light is triumphant, however, men and women who are truly desirous of doing some important work for the world, can do so in good conditions; if they have already settled their own, personal problems, they have the right and, even, the duty to go further.

Since Uriel is the Archangel of fire, he has ties, not only with physical, terrestrial fire, but also with the fire of that tremendous sexual energy constantly simmering in man. It is precisely for this reason that it is essential to learn to work with the Archangel Uriel: because it is essential to learn to work with fire in order to sublimate all these energies. What exactly is sublimation? It is the passage one state to another, and it is heat that effects this passage. When the temperature is below 0°C, water freezes and becomes solid; if you heat it slightly to 1°C, it melts and becomes liquid again. Heat it even more, to 100°C, and it changes into steam. And if you want to separate the oxygen from the hydrogen contained in steam, you will need even more heat. The only problem for engineers who use very high temperatures in transforming certain gases or liquids is that of finding containers and tubing made of suitable heat-resistant materials.

But all these modern techniques that science is learning to apply in dealing with matter have been known to Esoteric Science from earliest Antiquity. The Initiates, who have an intimate knowledge of human nature, have known for a long time that man's body is equipped with a network of circuits, ducts and ramifications that permit the circulation and transmutation of very potent elements. I am not talking about the circulatory system, although the capillaries are extremely fine blood vessels, nor about the even finer fibres of the nervous system. I am talking about another, even subtler network which enables man to transmute and sublimate matter and raise it to the etheric state. This process is constantly taking place in our bodies, thanks to the extremely complex and subtle networks with which man's lungs, heart and brain and, above all, man's spinal column, have been equipped by Cosmic Intelligence.

These transmutations take place in all human beings, but to a greater or lesser degree and, very often, without their knowledge. An unconscious work of spiritual alchemy is constantly going on in our souls and bodies; the important thing, now, is to become conscious of it, knowing that we are all equipped with the network of channels we need to sublimate raw matter and transport it to ever subtler regions. How can we best prepare ourselves for this work of sublimation? By living a life of purity and harmony and by consciously opening ourselves to the powerful currents of light from Heaven.

The Archangel Michael presides over the autumn equinox which occurs on September 22. On this day, the sun inaugurates a new cycle as it enters Libra. Fruit and nuts fall from the trees and decompose, leaving their empty husks on the ground; grains are sorted and consumed or stored in granaries before being sown to ensure a new cycle of growth. But this process of decomposition and sorting is not something that concerns only the world of plants; it also concerns human beings. Just as the fruit is separated from the tree and the seed from the fruit, so is the soul separated from the body, spiritually if not physically. The body is the envelope, the wrapping, and the soul is the seed that is planted above, in the soil of Heaven. Man is a fruit, and when he is ripe, he must not fall to the ground like the fruits and seeds of the earth, but soar away to Heaven. Autumn is the season for that separation of which Hermes Trismegistus speaks: "You shall separate the subtle from the gross, gently and with great skill." To separate the subtle from the gross is to separate the spiritual from the material and the whole of nature undergoes this process of separation, in autumn, in preparation for the coming of new life. Just as the Archangel Michael comes to separate the soul from the body, leaving the body to die, so the Initiate allows some matter within him to die in order to liberate life.

Separation is a law of life. You can see this with respect to food, for instance: we have to sort and separate the good from the bad, discard the peel and the blemishes, and so on. This is so easy to do on the material level but we must also know how to do it - and be capable of doing it - on the spiritual level. Unfortunately, on that level, it is very difficult. Most people have no idea what to cut out or throw away: they swallow everything whole, like cats swallowing mice with the skin and entrails and everything! This, then, is what we have to learn from the Archangel Michael: discrimination, how to choose and what to choose, how to separate the pure from the impure, the useful from the useless, the harmful from the beneficial, the dead from the living. The absence of discernment in this respect is the cause of all misfortunes.

The Archangel Michael separates the soul from the body because the soul has to travel and visit faraway places, not remain for ever on earth. An Initiate, who sees how nature does things, says, "My soul is tied down; how can I set it free? How can I separate it from this heavy coating of matter? I must wait until it is ripe, then the Archangel Michael will come and release it from its sheath of matter." The feast of St Michael is fabulously rich in meaning for those who understand that it can bring them total liberation.

Death, the separation from the physical body, is an ascension to a higher plane. The soul is carried away by St Michael and weighed in his scales. His sword severs the ties which hold it to the earth, then the soul is weighed, judged and sent to the sphere that corresponds to its degree of evolution.

The Archangel Michael holds sway over the forces of balance and justice and, consequently, over the forces that enable us to distinguish between good and evil in order to free the good and transform the evil. But good and evil are so closely intertwined that they cannot be separated prematurely without causing some damage. The art of separating opposites is the most difficult of all arts and, throughout the ages, Initiates have turned to nature for guidance. You cannot separate a nut from its husk without damaging it, but nature knows how to do it: she allows it to ripen until the husk opens of itself and frees the nut. Similarly, a child is attached to its mother's womb, and to separate them prematurely would mean death to both mother and child. But if you wait, the fruit falls and the cord that ties the child to its mother can be cut. This separation is the symbol of maturity.

I am sure you all remember the parable of the wheat and the tares in the Gospel. When his servants asked the owner of the field whether they should uproot the tares that had sprung up amongst the wheat, he replied, "No, lest while you gather up the tares you also uproot the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn". " The time of harvest comes when the fruit is ripe. We have to wait until then to separate good from evil and that separation will be the work of the Archangel Michael.

It is the Archangel Michael who has the principal role to play, also, in the purification of the earth. In the course of the centuries, a multitude of evil beings have inundated the earth with immensely destructive forces. These forces have accumulated in a vast reservoir and have taken the form of a monster known as the Dragon or Serpent. This is the Dragon which is said to seduce the nations and mislead the children of God and to be the cause of all the sufferings of mankind. It is a prodigiously powerful egregor. There have been men of great self-abnegation and courage who have thrown themselves into a struggle to the death against this monster but, to this day, none have vanquished it. When the time is ripe, however, St Michael will rise and defeat it. The Archangel Michael is the only one capable of defeating this egregor. He and his Heavenly Hosts will answer the prayer that multitudes have addressed to the Lord for centuries. His victory has been foretold in the Apocalypse and other books of Sacred Scripture. For this reason we should link ourselves to St Michael and ask him to protect us and to allow us to unite our efforts to his in order to strengthen his victory. Light will triumph over darkness: this has been foretold and it will be so. Why not have a share in that triumph? The children of God who take part in the combat led by this Sun Spirit, this mighty and most luminous power of God, the Archangel Michael, will receive the kiss of the Angel of fire. And this kiss, instead of burning them, will illuminate them.

Finally, on December 21, comes the winter solstice, presided over by the Archangel Gabriel and, a few days later, it is Christmas. Christmas is the celebration of a birth, that is to say, of a descent into matter, a condensation, a crystallization reflecting the characteristic of winter, the season in which nature freezes and becomes immobile.

The Archangel Gabriel commands the forces that have the property of condensing matter. If the influence of the moon had not been counterbalanced by other influences, it would have materialized and petrified everything that exists: plants and animals as well as men. The Archangel Gabriel, therefore, is responsible for all materialization. When an Initiate wants to materialize an idea, a plan, even if that materialization does not correspond to a particular birth, he uses the favourable conditions offered to him by the occurrence of this feast. The winter solstice is a period for birth, a propitious period for something to be born on earth. The other feasts correspond to separation, resurrection and the kindling of fire; only the feast of Christmas is associated with material realization on earth.

The equinoxes and solstices, or, as I have called them, the four Cardinal Feasts, are the four most vital days in the year and they are governed by Mercury (spring equinox), Venus (summer solstice), the Sun (autumn equinox) and the Moon (winter solstice). These are days of celebration for nature; the Angels and Archangels, all the forces of nature, even the Divine Mother herself, all take part in the festivities. Only those who understand the importance of these high days and of the prodigious forces that flood the universe at these times, can truly take part in the celebrations.

We all know how most people celebrate these occasions, particularly Christmas. Christmas has become simply an occasion for gluttony and licentiousness, for every kind of madness. And all these excesses leave people exhausted and drained. A feast day such as this, which should bring them regeneration and light, brings them only a further darkening of their consciousness.

The other day, I watched a debate on television about the notion of celebration. The panel included writers, film producers, sociologists and journalists, and they all agreed that holidays and feast days were good for people because they broke the monotony of the daily grind and provided a healthy occasion to relax and have fun. Every single one of those panelists talked only about pleasure, relaxation, recreation. Not one of them thought of saying that people could use these occasions of joy to advance their evolution and become more beautiful, noble and radiant. I was staggered. They all seemed to think that it was important to "have fun" and to "kill time". No one seemed to realize that high days and holidays could also contribute to improving and ennobling human beings.

You will have to forgive me. Perhaps I am different from everybody else; perhaps I am a monster; but, for me, all our activities, whether work or celebration, must converge towards one single goal, one spiritual ideal, that of becoming better and more useful. To be sure, you are free to do what everybody else does; you are free to feast and amuse yourself like everybody else, but then you will never be anything but the weak, stunted, unstable being you are today - a slave, a victim! All the recreation and amusements in the world will not change that. Why not? Because you lack an ideal. I know: I always come back to this! I ask someone, "What is your ideal?" "Oh, I don't really know..." "In that case" I tell him; "You're a doomed man!" Believe me; nobody understands the tremendous advantage of having a sublime ideal, an ideal of perfection. That is the only thing that gives meaning to life.

Title: The Holy Grail

Parsifal, setting out on his quest for the Holy Grail, is the eternal symbol of the adept setting out on the path of Initiation. Like Parsifal, who had to make his way through dark forests, battle with awe-inspiring giants and knights and avoid the many snares laid in his path, an adept is required to brave darkness, combat enemies and overcome temptations. Once he had emerged victorious from all his trials, Parsifal was welcomed with solemnity in a marvellous castle whose walls were covered in gold and precious stones. It was here that he was vouchsafed the vision of the Holy Grail. The vision of the Grail is the supreme reward of him who guards faithfully, in his heart and mind, the ideal of obtaining the priceless gifts of the spirit.

The task of a spiritualist is to lay hold of the Divine Spirit, by means of meditation, prayer and contemplation, and to keep him captive in his soul. The presence of the captive Spirit within him manifests itself in the form of illumination, rapture and ecstasy. Unfortunately, this state does not usually last very long: he usually drops back into the misery of everyday life and has to begin his efforts all over again. The Divine Spirit can never be held captive by someone who does not possess a suitable receptacle within himself, the receptacle that tradition calls the Holy Grail.

Alchemists used a different language to express the same reality: they spoke of "fixing the volatile", that is to say, of capturing that which, by definition, cannot be captured: the volatile spirit. But in order to fix the volatile, the Cosmic Spirit, it has to be condensed and made material and this is possible only if the reverse process of "volatilizing the fixed", that is to say, of making subtle that which is solid, is carried on at the same time. As long as the physical body is gross, dense and impure, it cannot vibrate in unison with the spirit nor hold it captive. This is why there is always need for a great deal of purification and decantation. Once this is done, the physical body becomes capable of receiving the Divine Spirit. To volatilize what is fixed, therefore, is to spiritualize the physical body.

Cabbalists, for their part, have expressed this idea in the two interlaced triangles of the Seal of Solomon. The triangle pointing downwards represents the descent of the spirit into matter, whereas the triangle pointing upwards represents the tendency of matter to rise and become one with the spirit. In this symbol, the two meet in mid-course and fuse into one. When the spirit encounters matter capable of holding on to it, it no longer tries to escape. In the meantime, however... Well, in the meantime, a disciple will experience many ups and downs: when he manages to hold on to the spirit for a few moments, he is raised to a state of ecstasy before slipping back into the prose of everyday life. But he must never be discouraged; he must simply start climbing again and, even if he falls over and over again, never give up. It is a long and arduous task, a seemingly endless toil like that of Sisyphus who was condemned to roll a heavy stone up a hill. Every time he reached the top, the stone slipped from his grasp and rolled down to the foot of the mountain. But that does not mean that, one day, Sisyphus will not succeed in getting the stone to the top and holding it there!

The chalice of the Holy Grail is the symbol of a human being who has succeeded in capturing and fixing the spirit within him. The legend says that it was carved out of a single emerald and that it had been used to hold Christ's blood. An emerald is green, the colour of Venus, the feminine principle; blood is red, the colour of Mars, the masculine principle. The Grail, therefore, is the symbol of the union of the masculine and feminine principles, Mars and Venus, but in their highest aspect, on the level at which they become identical with the Sun and the Moon. Iron, which is the metal attributed to Mars, and gold, which is that of the Sun, have many aspects in common, and the same is true of copper, the metal of Venus, and silver, the metal attributed to the Moon. We can see innumerable examples in nature of how green attracts and stores up the sun's rays. Vegetation, which is green, captures and condenses the sun's rays, and the sun's rays are yellow and orange because they are fire. All this is present in this marvellous symbol of the Holy Grail.

The dearest ideal of disciple is to become the Holy Grail and contain and condense the love of Christ. But to achieve this ideal, he must work on his own matter; he must refine it, render it more subtle and more precious so that it becomes capable of vibrating in harmony with the spirit. This is the harmony that exists in every region of space, thanks to the activity of the two principles. A reflection of this harmony exists in the life of human beings in choral singing: when male and female voices rise together and become one in space, life bursts into bloom, water gushes from the springs.

The only way to prepare yourself to receive the Cosmic Spirit is to practise harmonizing yourself with the cosmos. This is a simple but very effective exercise, but it must be done every day, several times a day. Let me give you the example of a man who goes to work every morning: as soon as he leaves his house he is obliged to pay attention to the traffic and the people all round him. If he rushes out without looking to left or right, without adapting himself to his new circumstances, he may well be killed. And the same is true in the spiritual life: before you begin some new work you should look left and right within yourself and take stock of the situation. If there is a lot of noise and commotion, you must stop before going any further and, as Head of State, do what needs to be done to restore order and peace amongst your citizens. When you sense that things have calmed down, then you can project all your strength, all your thoughts and feelings, into the whole cosmos. This harmony, this union, releases tremendous forces, which you can use to continue your work. For, if energy can be released by the disintegration of matter - this is the most common method - it can also be released by fusion. Initiates work with this second method; they fuse with Heaven through meditation, prayer and contemplation, and this fusion releases powerful currents of forces which they can use for their own benefit and that of others.

Farmers where the first moral philosophers: they don't expect to reap if they have not sown, and they know very well that, if they sow cabbages they will not harvest carrots. How can someone who sows nothing but hatred and strife hope to reap a harvest of love and peace? If you want a marble palace you are not going to start building with clay bricks. If you want a healthy body you are not going to give it poisonous food.

How can anyone expect to develop a healthy, sturdy psyche, a lucid mind and a generous heart if he is seething with anarchic thoughts and feelings poisoned by his own greed and resentment? Exactly as we sift and select suitable food or building materials, we have to sift and select the thoughts and feelings that present themselves to us. The laws that govern the psychic life are the same as those which have already been seen to govern other aspects of nature or technology. It was neither man nor society as a whole that invented morality: it is intrinsic to nature, to every aspect and dimension of nature. Morality is simply the extension on the human, psychic level, of the laws of nature.

Title: The True Religion of Christ

The True Religion of Christ

When I say that the teaching of the Universal White Brotherhood is bringing a new religion to the world, it is not that I think that this teaching is an improvement on the religion that Jesus gave us.

That is impossible. Jesus truly represents the summit, nothing can be more perfect than the law of love and sacrifice that he came to teach. It is only in the methods, applications and interpretations of that law that we can go further. The Gospels do not say it all; there are still so many things that are obscure and unexplained. And this is what the teaching of the Universal White Brotherhood can bring us: the explanations we still need.

Also, when I say that it is time for a universal religion, it is because Catholicism is not fully universal. Of course, the word 'catholic' means universal, but the fact remains that the Catholic religion is not universal. In the first place it is far from being practised by all human beings, and, above all, by rejecting many essential truths such as reincarnation, the laws of karma, and the primordial role of the sun in man's spiritual life, the Church has cut itself off from universal truth and become a sect. For a religion to be truly universal it must accept the whole truth and it must reach all men.

As it is, no religion in the world is founded on principles that are accepted by all human beings. Only a solar religion can be the universal religion, because all human beings accept the sun. We all seek the sun and understand what it is. Everything else interests some but not others, suits some but not others. In fact, if there are so many different religions, it is because each one is adapted to a particular mentality. If the claim of the Catholic Church to be universal is true, if it embraces every aspect of truth, why do I never see Catholics who are truly fulfilled spiritually? A great many Buddhists are far more advanced. They have such faith in the immortality of the soul that they are capable of throwing themselves into the flames.

They have no fear of death. Whereas Christians are so timid, so lacking in courage, that they tremble at the slightest threat and scream in terror if they are in danger of death.

As I have said, a universal religion must embrace all the knowledge and all the practical methods human beings need in order to reach the Lord. When Christianity refuses to teach reincarnation it makes it impossible for people to understand God's justice. Is there any wonder that nothing makes sense to them any more? They cannot see the underlying reason for what happens to them; everything seems illogical and unfair. In the face of evil or suffering, Christians can only say, 'It is the will of God.' The amazing thing is that they consider themselves to be blameless, above reproach.

They have done nothing to bring misfortune on themselves; it is entirely the Lord's doing. But this means that God behaves without rhyme or reason, his decisions are completely arbitrary.

For centuries their refusal to believe in reincarnation has barred Christians from advancing. The doctrine of reincarnation explains everything: from one existence to the next, every cause triggers a corresponding consequence.

When we know this we know that it is no longer the Lord who is to blame for what happens to us, but we ourselves. By choosing to follow a certain path, to manifest ourselves in a certain way, it is we who are responsible for our destiny, not God. God's sublime greatness, his splendour, perfection, and justice are untouched, unsullied. Whereas if you reject reincarnation you have to put all the blame on God. It seems to me that if Christians were really concerned about the glory and perfection of God, the least they could do would be to accept reincarnation. They are so stupid that they do not even recognize the consequences of their attitude; they do not realize that the image of God they hold up to the world is a monstrous caricature. God gave human beings free will.

He tells them, 'Do whatever you like, but remember that if you break the law you will suffer. But that does not matter, you have all eternity ahead of you. You will have plenty of time in which to repent and make reparation. I am patient.'

Take a man who is miserable because he is married to a shrew, a veritable Xanthippe, and he has no idea why he has such a wife. He thinks she must be a punishment from heaven. Not at all. It was he himself who sought her out, who chose a shrew without knowing what he was doing, and now he regrets it bitterly. Socrates never complained, he put up with everything patiently.

One day, while he was talking to a friend, Xanthippe was muttering and scolding in an upstairs room and ended by pouring a pail of slops over him. The friend was very indignant, but Socrates only remarked, 'Oh well, after the thunder comes the rain.' He was not so easily put out. He had chosen to marry Xanthippe, and thanks to her he developed great patience and indifference in the face of criticism and insults. So my advice to you is to find a Xanthippe for yourself. Why do you want your wife to be perfect? You would only go to sleep and stop evolving if she were; but think of what progress you would make with a Xanthippe by your side. You see what excellent advice I always give you!

By refusing the reality of reincarnation the Church is portraying the Lord as a monster and a tyrant. In any case, quite apart from this, there is much to object to in the image the Church presents of God, for it has inherited the Old Testament notion of a jealous, vengeful, terrifying God, always ready to punish and chastise human beings. And I say that this view is false. God is not like that at all. Why did the Old Testament present him in this way? The answer is that the human beings of those days were at a stage of their evolution where they needed the discipline of fear. They needed to envisage a stern, ruthless God with whom Moses could intercede to soothe his wrath and turn him away from the destruction of his people. The truth is that God never punishes anyone; he is not concerned with punishment. He spends his time up there in the midst of song and music, banqueting in the company of his angels and archangels while divine nectar and ambrosia flow in abundance. Do you imagine that the Lord has nothing better to do than to follow human beings around day and night, writing down in his little notebook all the filthy, revolting things they do, whether openly or in secret? Poor Lord, what a job.

Think how disgusted he would be.

No, I do not believe a word of it. I think that if human beings have invented machines to record and do their calculations for them, it is because such machines already existed in nature and therefore within us also. It is these machines that record our thoughts, feelings and actions, and as soon as we overstep the mark, in whatever area, the machine cracks down on us. But it is God who punishes us. On the contrary, God is always ready to welcome us to his banquet.

Let us suppose that you are being pursued by enemies (you may remember that I spoke to you about this one day), and in order to get away from them you run and run as fast as you can until you get to heaven. And there, breathless, covered with dust, your clothes all tattered and torn, you suddenly find yourself in the midst of a magnificent assembly of angels and archangels.

Dumbfounded, you gaze at these beautiful creatures as they sing and rejoice with the Lord, who is seated in their midst. Nobody says, 'What are you doing here, you dirty ruffian? Away with you. This is no place for you.' On the contrary, as soon as he sees you the Lord says to his servants, 'Give him water to wash with, dress him in fine clothes, and let him come and share in our banquet.' But the enemies that were pursuing you will not be allowed in. They are made to wait outside, and as the banquet lasts a long time they finally lose patience and go home. Yes, this is how it works.

Have you never realized that? You have all known days when you were overwhelmed and besieged by your inner enemies, and then you started to pray and pray and pray... and within a few minutes you had a wonderful feeling of happiness and release; your enemies had left you. You must try to understand what this image means.

Do not think that I have come to destroy the Church, not at all. It is just that I possess a light that the Church does not possess at the moment, but I am very willing to collaborate with it. In fact I have already tried to do so. I have often met priests, Dominicans and Franciscans, and others and have tried to talk to them, but I have never had much success. Oh, perhaps I succeeded with two or three of them, but not with the others. The trouble is that their minds have been so deformed by their seminary training that there is nothing anyone can do now to persuade them to accept the light of these great truths. This is why I prefer to deal with atheists, unbelievers, and anarchists; I am much more successful with them. But with the religious? My word, how rigid, bigoted, and narrow-minded they can be! I have every confidence that this will change one day, but not before they have had to endure all kinds of tribulations and been forced to reflect.

If the Lord is in the process of creating a new heaven and a new earth (and this is what the Bible tells us), why should there not also be a new religion? New in exactly the same way as heaven and earth can be new. Of course the expression is symbolic; I have already explained to you that you must not take it literally. If you did, you would have a very bad impression of the Lord and would mean that he had used second-rate materials when he built heaven and earth, and now they are rusting and wearing out. This is why he has to start all over again... and while he is rebuilding, all the inhabitants of heaven and earth are going to be out in the rain without a roof over their heads.

No, that is just nonsense. The truth is that the new heaven and new earth refer to us; it is within us that God is creating them. The new heaven is a new mentality, a new philosophy, a new point of view, a new understanding of things; This is how you should interpret this image of the new heaven and the new earth. To understand it any other way would be to slight the Lord. It would mean that he did not know the properties of the elements that he himself created and now he finds that they are rotting and wearing out. Whereas if you interpret this image as I have shown you, the Lord's greatness, immensity, and infinite wisdom remain intact.

Of course, I know that you will not accept what I tell you, but you must at least try not to cling rigidly to your own opinions until you have made quite sure that they really correspond to the truth. There are still a great many of you who hold obstinately to your own point of view. Instead of trying to understand what I tell you, you think to yourselves, 'Oh no, that is not true. It cannot be. It is monstrous. I know how it should be.' But there comes a time in life when you simply have to ask yourself whether your own point of view is really correct, really flawless. Unfortunately, so many men and women prefer to cling to their point of view, to defend it all their life long, without ever trying to find out to what extent it is realistic and true. And that is very dangerous.

Many people's lives end in disaster simply because they insist on defending their mistaken philosophy at any price. Yet those same people find it normal to go for a physical check-up from time to time. They get a doctor to examine their heart, stomach, liver, spleen, or intestines and tell them what is wrong with them, but they would never go and ask a spiritual master to tell them what was wrong with the way they felt and understood things. They consider that in these areas they are in perfect health: their thinking is all right, they see things clearly, their judgement is impeccable, they reason perfect? The proof of their misfortunes, sorrows, and failures. Yes, and yet they continue to believe that they are impeccable.

The whole world will one day come to the Universal White Brotherhood. At the moment you do not believe me when I say this, because there are more and more new teachings and new sects - not to mention all the ancient practices that had died away and are now being revived. Every one of those groups and philosophies has some good in it, but they all lack one essential element: none of them gives priority to the necessity of living for the collectivity, for brotherhood, for universality. Their members work for themselves, for their own advancement. And does mankind benefit from all that knowledge and power? It does not. Indeed, they themselves are often very unhappy people. So you must leave all those things alone and work only to bring peace, happiness, joy, and light to the whole world. True power and true knowledge are given to those who work unselfishly for the whole world. You will not know exactly how these gifts come, but they will come to you and dwell within you. It is when one stops thinking so much about oneself that one becomes truly formidable, because in this way one widens the circle. This is the new teaching that we are bringing to the world.

The true Religion of Christ II

All religions set aside one day of the week as a holy day, a day of prayer, but they have not all chosen the same day: for the Christians it is Sunday, for Jews, Saturday, for Muslims, Friday, and so on. But is there any real difference between the days of the week? No, none at all. Every day is sacred; every day is divine. Friday is the day for doing good; Saturday is the day for doing good. In the Universal White Brotherhood every day must be sacred. Otherwise just look what happens: for six days in a row men and women break the law, and on the seventh they go to church and wash away the crimes committed during the week. But you cannot purify yourself in just one day; you need the whole week for that. You believe that it is enough if you think of God one day in the week; the rest of the week you have no time to remember him because you are too busy fighting and swindling others and sleeping with their husbands or wives. But that is grotesque. It is hypocrisy, a living lie. What is important is how you live those six days of the week.

When the new religion comes the idea of devoting a few hours or a single day of the week to praying and going to church will be thought very inadequate. We must be in God's church all day and every day, for God's church is the whole of creation. Of course, I realize that we cannot ask too much of human beings; they are still too uncouth and intractable - many think that even one day is too much. But in the new religion people will want to be mystical seven days a week; they will want to pray and think good thoughts seven days a week; they will want to pray and think good thoughts seven days a week, and then seven more days, and so on, for the rest of their lives. What do you do when you are here at the Bonfin? Here, every day is Sunday - or Saturday, or Friday if you prefer - and you spend every day in 'church'. 'What church?' you ask, 'I see no church.' The church can be the open-air, out of doors, for the whole of nature is a church. But first and foremost the church is an inner reality; it is within yourselves.

Remember what Jesus said to the Samaritan woman at the well. She had said, 'Our ancestors worshipped on this mountain, but you say that the place where people must worship is in Jerusalem.' And Jesus replied, 'Women, believe me, the hour is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem... God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth.' But as the time was not yet ripe for the masses to understand these things, Jesus prepared St John and instructed him in the basic philosophical, cabalistic, esoteric knowledge, the symbolic foundation of these new concepts. This he did in secret, without the knowledge of the other disciples, and when the others found out about it they were inclined to be envious of St John; in fact, St Peter reproached Jesus for it one day. But Jesus wanted to be sure that before he left at least one of his disciples would be in possession of those parts of his teaching that had not been revealed to all. This is why he gave St John this special instruction. And St John founded a Church which was never really accepted or understood by the Church of St Peter.

Remember also what Jesus said at the very end when Peter, referring to St John, asked, 'Lord, what about him?' Jesus replied, 'If it is my will that he remain until I come, what is that to you?' And the Gospel adds, 'So the rumour spread in the community that this disciple would not die.' What if St John were living even today in some unknown place. The Church of St John has formed an elite, an elite that has always worked in secret and been the depositary of this esoteric science throughout the ages. The religion of St John is the new religion that is to come, and however fiercely the Catholic, Orthodox, and Protestant Churches fight it - as they have always fought and tried to wipe out the Church of St John - they will be no more successful now than they have been in the past.

All the purest and most knowledgeable initiates of the past have been disciples of St John, and those who belonged to the established Churches have always rejected and persecuted them and refused to acknowledge their superiority. But even though the Church of John has always been forced to live and work in secret, it has never ceased preparing the sons and daughters of God. The time is coming now for it to manifest itself, and when it does so, its riches and its superiority will be visible to the whole world. When that day comes, the Church of Peter will be forced, whether it likes it or not, to transform itself and introduce many reforms. Of course, there are some elite beings in the Church of Peter too, but as for the majority... well, it does not bear thinking of. Instead of applying themselves to learning and trying to become better they have always been content to persecute those who were more advanced.

Do you imagine that over the centuries priests and bishops took Holy Orders for the love of God; because they had a true vocation? Not at all. They did so because it gave them a lucrative and highly respected position (an ideal position for the lazy). They did not have much to do after all - a few Masses and a few prayers to say, an occasional baptism, wedding, or funeral - and the rest of their time was their own. To be sure there were always some who had a genuine vocation and who felt called to dedicate themselves completely to the Lord, and the faithful flocked to such as these in the thousands because of the light that radiated from their souls and lit up their words, their eyes, their very presence. They were true temples of God. But for most of the clergy it was simply a very convenient profession. As a matter of fact, we see the same thing today in the medical profession. In the days of the ancient initiations, only those who had received the gift of healing from God could be doctors. They healed the sick simply by their presence, by speaking a few words or by the laying on of hands. But today people enter the medical profession because it is very lucrative and gives them considerable prestige and influence. The result is that many crooks who are interested only in mankind a lot of money are steadily poisoning the whole of mankind. No matter, they still pass themselves off as doctors. It is greed, the lust for money, that guides human beings. For many people the choice of a profession depends entirely on the rewards it offers in the way of money or glory. I have no desire to disparage doctors and priests or to interfere with them; I am simply telling you the truth.

The Church of St Peter has always been appallingly intolerant, chopping off heads or burning at the stake all those who refused to think or behave exactly according to the rules it laid down. The members of the Church of St John, on the other hand, have never cut off anyone's head; they have never thrown people into prison; they have always left men and women free to follow their bent while, for their part, they concentrated on trying to be closer to the Lord and to resemble God. And yet did Jesus not say, 'Be perfect, therefore, as your heavenly Father is perfect?' This is the supreme ideal; and if some people choose a different ideal, that is their business.

The Catholic religion can boast of being universal if it likes. This may be how it sees itself, but it is not how initiates see it. The universal religion will be the religion of the sun, for only the sun is universal. You will say, 'But what about the Lord? Is God not universal?' Yes, of course he is. But God is so sublime, so inaccessible. People refuse to accept the religion of the sun on the pretext that only God must be adored and worshipped; but God is so far away that they are incapable of getting anywhere near him, and the result is that they are left with nothing. On the pretext that it is forbidden to adore anyone or anything but God, they have no feeling or understanding for anything at all. Is that intelligent? Why do they refuse to admit that only the sun is capable of bringing us closer to God, for only the sun can give us some idea of God's immensity, of his light, his love, and his power? By rejecting the sun, people condemn themselves to remain forever weak, forever immured in cold and darkness.

How peculiar human beings are. Theologians spend their time inventing abstract theories about the Deity. They argue and quarrel fiercely about essence, substance, transcendence, and so on, while the masses have not the least idea what any of these theories mean. But if you suggest that the sun can be an image that has the power to propel them all the way to the Deity... Oh no, that is just too much for them. Well, whether they like it or not, the religion of the future will be the religion of the sun, because it is the sun that most accurately represents the Blessed Trinity.

There is already one whole volume of my lectures about the sun (Vol. 10), and yet I have still not told you much. What horizons would be revealed to men if only they understood more about the sun. Take Jesus' command to love our enemies for example. How difficult it is to accept such an idea; to love one's friends, perhaps, but to love one's enemies? You will rarely find anyone - even a Christian - who has made up his mind to love his enemies. You cannot even be sure that he loves his friends, so how can he possibly love his enemies? Believe me, if you analyse yourselves sincerely, you will see that nothing is more difficult than to love one's enemies. One wonders where Jesus got this precept from. I will tell you: he got it from the sun. For whether you love the sun is the only being who has solved the problem; he even loves, nourishes, and vivifies unbelievers and criminals. Even if you forget all about the important role of the sun in the universe and look only at the moral aspect, the example he gives us is truly noble, truly sublime. Such a peerless example of limitless love is found only very rarely among human beings, even among those who are the most highly evolved. Jesus was one such example, of course. We know that he possessed all powers, authority over all things, for he said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me,' but he did not use that authority against his enemies. In fact, in the most bitter moments of his agony he thought of them and prayed for them, saying, 'Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing.'

If you want to know what true morality is, you must learn from the sun; no one else can teach it. Human beings are always eager to tell you what you should do, but they are incapable of putting their own advice into practice; whereas the sun says nothing, his deeds speak for him. He never says, 'You must love your enemies.' He never even says, 'I love you.' No, but he goes on loving everyone all the time. Only the sun can teach us how to discover and respect the moral laws of the cosmos. Human beings make the great mistake of seeking the principles of morality in libraries, in books written by corrupt human beings. They should go and seek instruction from the sun.

Of course we cannot force our teaching or our way of life on anyone. Only very few are ready and anxious to transform themselves and their way of life, and if they have achieved this frame of mind it is because they have already suffered a great deal and have come to realize that if they do not change they will be struck off the roll of the living. The others cannot be forced, they are still too young. They still have many lessons to learn, and they need more experience. What can I do if they do not understand the importance of our spiritual activities: our meals together, the singing, the breathing exercises, the prayers, meditations, and fasting? If they neglect all these means that are put at their disposal and fail to understand how powerful they are, what do you expect me to do about it? I cannot force them; they have to be left to go their own way and learn through suffering. But a vast field of extraordinary activities is lying open before all those who are sincerely interested in making progress. The activities of a disciple are represented symbolically by the twelve labours of Hercules, which are related to the twelve signs of the Zodiac. These are the twelve activities which enable human beings to open their twelve gates and become the New Jerusalem, the city of light, where illness, death, and darkness are no more. The New Jerusalem is the human being who has attained perfection, one who possesses the twelve gates of pearl and whose ramparts are built on the foundations of twelve precious stones.

Believe me, it is the teaching of Christ that I am giving you. There is nothing, absolutely nothing in what I say that contradicts Christ's teaching. What I reveal to you may contradict some of the opinions expressed by certain writers. It may even contradict certain dogmas of the Church which are pure invention and have nothing to do with Christ's teaching, but it contains nothing that is incompatible with Christ's true philosophy. The great question now is whether you prefer the Scriptures, and particularly the Gospels, in which everything is so simple, or whether you prefer other sources in which that simplicity has been distorted. Until the fourth century Christians, followed the true philosophy of Christ. It was only later that all kinds of deviations

As was foretold by the Prophet Ezekiel, the changes that will take place in the future will be so great, the light and love of God will be so powerfully and so widely diffused throughout the world, that human beings will learn directly from God himself; they will understand the Scriptures and live a life of perfection; they will prophesy and see visions. When this day comes, mankind will no longer need priests or pastors - or even me. All men will be guided and enlightened directly by the divine spirit. This has been foretold, and it will come about. And all those bigots who hawk their holy medals and relics of the true cross of Jesus (after two thousand years, there must be enough of them to constitute a whole forest)... all those bigots will be obliged to close shop because people will go directly to the source.

This was that Jesus had in mind when he told the Samaritan woman that men would worship God in spirit and in truth. In spirit and in truth: that is to say, free from matter and free from falsehood. When human beings live in spirit and truth they will no longer need all these crutches; they will be able to walk on their own strong legs. The reality that Jesus visualized was immense, grandiose. The people he saw around him were still very frail, vulnerable, and defenceless, and still dependent on material, external props, but the mankind he envisaged was strong enough to rely only on the inner power of the spirit.

The true Religion of Christ III

Through prayer and meditation a disciple purifies his own temple and calls on the Lord to come and dwell in it. Nothing can be compared to a human body that has been purified and sanctified so that it can become a temple of the Almighty. It is when man is a temple, when he prays in his own temple, that God hears and answers his prayer.

Most human beings are extremely negligent about the purification of their physical bodies. It never occurs to them that their bodies were designed to be temples of the living God and that they should look after them and strengthen and purify them. They continually abuse their bodies by eating and drinking things that are harmful to their health, or by smoking or indulging in various other forms of foolishness. Yes, man's physical body was destined to be a temple, but there is nothing sacred about it any longer, and obviously, in these circumstances, it is not the Lord who will come to dwell in it, but entities of a lower order, all those undesirable things that covet filth and feed on impurities.

As I have often said, I have learned a great deal from the world of insects, from ants and bedbugs, for instance. These little creatures possess extraordinary antennae which science has not yet studied. For example, there are not normally any ants in my cottage, but I only have to leave some crumbs of food lying about, and within a few minutes there they are. What special flair, what powers of divination tell them that there are some scraps of food waiting for them, sometimes a long way away? Then, as soon as I sweep up the crumbs, they disappear again. The same is true of flies, fleas and mice. In fact in the cheap, dirty hotels or doss-houses in the East, for instance, swarms of bedbugs appear all over the ceiling as soon as people are asleep. But the remarkable thing is that they do not attack every sleeper in the dormitory. A bedbug will calculate its position with extraordinary accuracy and drop exactly on to the one person whose blood contains the impurities it needs to feed on. How does it know which target to choose? It examines them all and says, 'No, not that one. Not that one. Ah, there is one that has what I need, 'and presto. It drops straight on to its target.

Yes, bedbugs are really very clever. It is thanks to them that I have learned the supreme laws of purity, for the laws are the same on the psychic plane. On every plane there are creatures that sense impurities from afar and flock to feed on them. In every area and on every plane there is food for one or other kind of being. All creatures, both the malignant, evil creatures of darkness and the creatures of good and of light need to eat. In fact the Christians among you were horrified one day when I explained that even God ate. 'What? God needs to eat?' 'Yes, of course, but he does not eat sausages.' 'Then what does he eat?' they ask. Ah, these Christians, when will they ever understand? Genesis tells us that man was created in the image of God, and since man eats, why should god not eat? Yes, God eats. And it is the Seraphim who nourish him with their radiance and their emanations, with substances so subtle, pure, and precious that we can barely imagine them.

As I was saying, most human beings fail to look after their temple properly. But the Scriptures tell us, 'You are the temple of the living God,' and this means that we should take great care of our temple and keep it clean. We must not do what the Jews did with the temple in Jerusalem and allow all kinds of dirt to accumulate in it (the Jews used to take their cattle, goats and chickens and sell them in the Temple, so it was in a state of indescribable filth). Jesus was the only one who expressed his indignation at this; everybody else took it for granted. But what is a temple? Certainly not, as some people think, a place in which to entertain all kinds of animals. Taking some rope, Jesus made a whip and drove out all those who bought and sold in the Temple, saying, 'Get rid of all this filth. Stop using my Father's house for your trafficking.'

When a clairvoyant looks at people, he can see that the physical bodies of the majority, instead of being temples of the Most High, have become the dens of wild animals. Like the Jews, human beings have forgotten what their temple is supposed to be. We need the Lord to come back to warn us, to tell us, 'Keep my temple clean, otherwise I shall be obliged to go away and abandon you. I cannot stay in such a dirty place.'

The human beings we see around us are always anxious, troubled and unhappy, and this is a sign that they have not managed to secure the presence of the Lord in their temple; if they had, that presence would light up their lives. It is high time they asked themselves why they are in such a sorry state. It is time they understood that by feeding their bodies on all kinds of impurities they have opened their doors to the creatures of hell, and that is why God has not blessed them with his presence. Neither can they enjoy the presence of his angels, for although the Lord himself will not dwell within his creatures until they have achieved absolute purity, he may send one or more angels or great spirits to represent him. If you have forgotten about purifying your body and now find yourself in the cold and dark, you must draw the right conclusion and tell yourself, 'It is true, I have done everything I could to get myself into this state. I have opened my doors to all kinds of vile entities, and now heaven has abandoned me.' This is what you must tell yourselves, for this is the truth.

I have already given you several different methods of purification. It is not enough to be dipped into a bowl of water or immersed in a river to be pure, and yet many sects that do not possess the light of initiatic science consider this to be sufficient baptism. No, you can be immersed in physical water as often as you like without becoming any purer, because the power of purification does not belong to physical water but to another kind of water. True baptism is something that concerns all the planes of our being, not only the physical plane. True purification touches the four regions known in the Cabbalah as Assiah, Yetzirah, Brian and Atziluth, which correspond to the four elements -earth, water, air and fire. The elements are represented in the higher world by four angels belonging to the highest ranks of the angelic hierarchy, the Seraphim - or, as the Cabbalah calls them, the Hayoth ha-Kadosh. You can work at your own purification with the help of these four angels: ask the angel of earth to cleanse your physical body, the angel of water to wash your astral body, the angel of air to purify your mental body, and the angel of fire to sanctify your spirit. A marvellous work of purification can be done in this way if you combine this practise with your breathing exercises. But I have already explained this to you at length (vol. 7), so I shall not enlarge on it today.

If you think about your temple every day in this way, light, warmth, life and purity will come to dwell in you, and many things will be revealed to you. It is all very simple and clear. But those who continue to soil their temple have no alternative but to find themselves sinking deeper and deeper into corruption and depravity. Look at all the contemporary artists whose paintings represent the new style that they call 'abstract art'. Why are they so attached to a notion of art that no one else can understand? If the meaning of their work is a secret known only to themselves - and I am by no means sure that they themselves know it - it will never serve to elevate and ennoble others or help them to find God. Would it do you any good if I began to speak a language that was incomprehensible to you? There are certain sects in which, apparently, people speak 'in tongues', but as no one understands a word, no one benefits from what they say - not even themselves. The whole thing is quite senseless. You must speak a language that can be clearly understood by all.

Suppose that you are an artist and that you have a masterpiece - a painting or sculpture - on exhibition: everyone who looks at it should be able to understand what it means. If you created it exclusively for your own satisfaction, then you should not exhibit it. To exhibit a work of art that is incomprehensible to everyone but its author is pointless. Here, too, mankind has gone astray. It has adopted means of expression that have no rhyme or reason and has reached the point where nobody dares to say that contemporary art is, in most cases, an aberration. Everybody applauds and says, 'Amen'. A few years ago in England, a painter exhibited a certain number of abstract paintings that were widely acclaimed by the critics, but when his exhibition was at the height of its success he revealed that those abstracts had been painted by his cat. He had gone out and left his cat in the studio one day, and when he returned he found that it had had great fun getting its paws and tail coated with paint which it had then smeared onto some canvases and produced these abstract 'paintings'. Of course the critics were furious. They had made fools of themselves by going into raptures over paintings produced by a cat. Can you imagine anything more idiotic? If that is art, then any fool, even a babe in arms, can produce whatever they please and exhibit it.

The truth is that if you are an artist you should accomplish something that no one else can accomplish; something so beautiful and edifying that it propels hearts and souls upwards towards perfection, towards the Lord. This is how initiates understand the mission of art: to lead human beings to heaven, not to hell, discord, and disorder. Anyone is free to present horrors to the public in the form of music, drawings, or films, but to do so is a crime against humanity, because in the long run these so-called works of art influence people's minds. If so many people are mentally and emotionally disturbed today, it is because they are imbibing more and more disorder and ugliness from their environment. Whatever one sees and hears influences the nervous system, and when one sees nothing but disorder, that disorder necessarily enters one's being, whereas when one contemplates beauty and harmony, one becomes beautiful and harmonious. This is a law of magic.

How is it possible that artists have never discovered this law? Why have they gone out of their way to find these fads and fashions, while all the time so many splendid things were waiting to be found? The reason is that they have neglected the temple we talked about a few moments ago. They have allowed it to get so dirty that it is now full of all kinds of demonic creatures, and it is these creatures that inspire them and dictate what they do. And the results are hideous. If they had always taken care to cleanse and purify and sanctify themselves and to dedicate themselves to heaven, their ideas, intuitions, and inspirations would be of a different kind. Artists need to be informed; they need to understand that the psychic world is ruled by implacable laws, and if they live a stupid, discordant life they will attract entities of a lower order that will inspire them in evil ways and end by corrupting them completely.

Be sure to purify yourselves every day, therefore (for what you did yesterday was for yesterday, and today you must begin all over again), until your whole being is renewed. The work of purification is something that continues the whole of one's life. The fact that a baby has been immersed in water on the day of its baptism is no guarantee that it will be protected from invasion by evil spirits for the rest of its life. That kind of baptism is not going to frighten the devil away. Christians have to work every day to enhance and amplify what they received on the day of their baptism. If they make no effort in this direction, the effects of their baptism will eventually be destroyed. But try to get them to understand this! They think that the sacrifice of Jesus has saved all human beings once and for all; that they can sin as much as they like and commit every possible crime and still be saved because the Lord has shed his blood for them. But I ask them, 'If it is true that you have been redeemed, if it is true that all your debts have already been paid, how do you explain the fact that your lives are still plagued by disease, disorder and tragedy?' And they have no answer. The answer is that it is not enough to have been saved and baptized once. You have to strive all your life long and with all your heart and soul to continue the work of salvation and purification begun at baptism. I have seen some deplorable specimens of proud, self-satisfied Christians who considered that they had been purified once and for all and had no need to do any more. The fact that they had been baptized as Catholics was enough to keep them safe for all eternity. And yet when you see these peoples in their daily lives you see that they are just as bad - sometimes worse - than everybody else. This is why I am obliged to tell them that they have neither learned nor understood, nor achieved anything. Will they understand us one day? I wonder. It almost looks as though everybody except Christians will understand.

I had a letter recently from some brothers and sisters in Turkey. They told me that they had been invited to a meal with some friends, and that among the guests was an old and very learned Turkish scholar who told them, 'Islam is a marvellous religion, and we are extremely fortunate to be Muslims, but how much better it would be if there were one universal religion.' Obviously this learned old man realized that Islam was not the one universal religion, and he is certainly not alone in this. There must be many people throughout the world who are tuned in to the same idea and who realize that it is no longer enough to have so many different religions, each of which is suited to only one race, nation, or tribe, that it is time we found a universal religion.

Well, for my part, I have found that one religion; I belong to the universal religion. In time, when the whole of mankind discovers it, its language will be understood by all, for it is based on the essential needs of all human beings. The central symbol of this religion is the sun, for all mankind needs, understands, and loves the sun. The only universal religion is the solar religion, because behind the sun is the One who is the God of all humanity. The fact that all human beings need the sun proves this. Christians, Buddhists, Muslims, and Jews all have different, seemingly incompatible, notions of God, and in these conditions dissension, hatred, and war will never end. Do you really believe that the Catholics and Protestants in Ireland, who are continually killing each other, have found God?

There are too many religions in the world. This is the cause of all the greatest misfortunes of mankind. One religion is enough, the religion of light, warmth, and life and this is the religion of the sun. Does the sun strike people dead if they believe in another God? No. He is far too tolerant, far too indulgent. He simply says, 'Believe what you like, but for my part I shall continue to scatter my wealth abroad, 'whereas human beings are ready to exterminate anyone who refuses to accept their conception of a God that none of them has ever seen.

But I can say that I have seen the Lord. Yes, I have seen him in the sun, for it is the sun that best expresses divine perfection, that gives us the best image of the most sublime ideal. And we should be like the sun, who never stops pouring out light, warmth, and life and no questions asked. Whether we are Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant, Jewish, Muslim, or Buddhist, the sun sees us all as children of God. I assure you, in the long run nobody will be able to ignore these great truths; the whole world will come to the one true religion of Christ. It is the spirit of the sun that is Christ. Of course, it is not a question of seeing Christ in the disc that we see shining in the sky, but of sensing that God himself, with all his love, is there behind that sun, behind that symbol. This is why my one desire is to sweep away all the narrow, limited notions that mankind has accumulated over the centuries and show what I know, what has been revealed to me: the light of this universal religion, thsi religion of Christ that will be the only religion of the future.

The True Religion of Christ IV

The religion taught by Jesus was perfect; I am not denying that. But it has been so distorted in the course of the centuries that it has become a rich culture medium in which every kind of noxious germ ferments and proliferates. This is why it is time to abandon all these false ideas and rediscover the one universal religion, the religion that has existed since the beginning of the universe and that will continue to exist until the end. The sun existed long before human beings appeared on the earth, but they have never really understood the message he sends them every day: 'Be like me, shine, radiate, give love, and pour out warmth and life.'

Human beings are so wrapped up in their own prosaic, insignificant concerns that they never think of looking at the sun and trying to resemble him. They say, 'What is the use of the sun? It has not managed to make mankind any better or kinder, it has not taught or enlightened human beings.' That is true, but it is because mankind has never been allowed to see the true importance of the sun. The Church is like Mullah Nashrudin, who, in response to a student's question as to which was the more important, the sun or the moon, replied, 'The moon, of course. The sun only comes out in daylight, and what use is that? t least the moon makes the night less dark.' And the Church reasons in the same way: it says that the Mass is more important than the sun, and in saying this it teaches people to ignore the one being capable of ripening the wheat and grapes, without which there could be no Mass. Henceforth the Church must point to the sun and tell Christians: 'Behold the symbol of Christ; we must all learn to be like that.'

I beg you to take what I am saying seriously; it is very important. Also, my friends in the invisible world are watching you and sending you a word of warning: 'Your instructor has just given you a very precious key; if you fail to make good use of it you will have to answer for your neglect.' Yes, for these heavenly beings are displeased when they see that someone is unworthy of their gifts... an they will be displeased with me too. They will say, 'Why did you give these pearls to such idlers? You should have kept them to yourself.' Please have some consideration for me and do not cause heaven to punish me because of you. The trouble is that you know so little about all these laws, about the links between people and things. You think that there is no reason why I should be punished because of your transgressions. But there is a reason: we are all interconnected, all linked to each other, and if I reveal truths to you that I should have kept to myself, it is I who will be held responsible. It is I who will be blamed. Heaven chides me and tells me, 'You are far too generous. Why not let them pull themselves up? You should leave them to struggle and exhaust themselves. Why not make them work their way up the mountain and wear their own fingers to the bone instead of carrying them to the top yourself? They need to know how difficult it is to reach the peak.'

Anyone who wants to find a truly universal religion can do so. It has existed form all eternity. Men have still not recognized it, but it has always been there. Thousands of religions have come and gone in the world - it would be impossible to count them all - and they have all disintegrated and disappeared in the end. But there is one true religion, and that religion will never disappear. The new religion must embrace the whole universe. Look at the sun: it illuminates and warms all creatures, all plants and animals, whereas the Christian religion lights and warms barely a few million people in the world. And who can tell just how much light and warmth those millions actually get from it, or how many millions more have never even heard of it and (sad though this may be from a Christian point of view) who are better off without it.

But now the Aquarian age is coming and bringing the universal religion into the world. Aquarius is the water, the stream of life and love from which all creatures drink, and it brings with it the new religion. Any religion that is incapable of giving mankind this water is not universal. Water is universal; there is not a single creature that does not need water. Water is universal just as air is universal, just as light is universal. The new religion will be founded on universal elements capable of satisfying the hunger and thirst of all human beings. At the moment we still see Christians becoming Buddhists or Muslims; Jews and Muslims becoming Christians, and so on. This means that there is no one religion that is universal. When the universal religion comes, no one will feel the need to wander in search of something else; all will belong to the one religion.

The passage that I read to you earlier says that it is when man prays in his own temple that God hears and answers his prayer. Why does God not answer your prayers if you do not pray from within your temple? You can always go into a church to pray, of course, but a church is a temple that is foreign to you, and its vibrations will be less conducive to the kind of prayer that carries you up to the very throne of God. The fabric of a church or cathedral may be saturated with prayers and good intentions, but if your own body is not purified it will constitute an obstacle to those influences. It is useless to enter a pure and magnificent building to pray if you yourself are impure. On the other hand, if your own temple is pure there is no need for you to go into a church; wherever you are, up in the mountains or elsewhere, your prayer will immediately be heard. It is very important to know these things. Many people go to church, and that is excellent, but they forget their own inner sanctuary.

Leave churches and temples to others, and be content to work for years and years with the angels of the four elements, asking them to cleanse, wash, purify and sanctify containing a stream of living water. Let this water flow into every nook and cranny of your being; let it wash and vivify all your cells. What is to prevent you from using exercises of this kind to transform your bodies into temples of great beauty? Great inner beauty, of course. I am not suggesting that you imitate those people - mostly women - who scent their baths and smother themselves in perfumes and lotions every day but whose inner beings smell foul because they never 'wash' themselves inwardly; their inner temple is always dirty. There have been saints who never washed their bodies but who had extraordinary inner purity. This does not mean that I do not recommend this either... I am simply saying that you must neglect neither aspect; neither the inner nor the outer dimension. Even though you give the priority to the inner dimension, you still have to maintain a balance between the two.

Perhaps you have the impression that I want to destroy religion. Well, if that were my intention I could safely leave it to others, for plenty of people have been trying for centuries to do just that. No, true religion is eternal; it cannot be destroyed. Even though the Bible contains elements that are no longer appropriate for our era, it still contains thousands of essential truths that will endure for all eternity. No one can destroy these, for all those great beings, all those prophets who were sent to bring these truths into the world were inspired, guided, and inhabited by the Lord. It was only later, after they had left this world, that certain distortions developed; either because they had not had time to explain everything fully or because others had misunderstood them. The further you advance, the more clearly you will see that the religion of Christ is far greater than Christians think. If Christianity were really the one, universal religion, mankind would be better off than it is today.

The true Religion of Christ V

Yes, my dear brothers and sisters, you belong to this teaching, you live in the midst of spiritual truths, and in spite of that you sometimes feel as though you were in a terrible state of abandonment, as though God had deserted you. This is a state that many saints and mystics have experienced before you, and today I would like to try and throw a little light on the question. However, the first thing I must tell you before going any further is that everything depends on your perception of God.

When one studies the history of religion, one sees that in proclaiming Yahveh to be the one true God, Moses was introducing a truly revolutionary idea. But the God of Moses was a God to be feared: a consuming fire, the vengeful, implacable Lord of the universe. And his creatures, trembling, fearful human beings, owed that God only one duty: obedience. Later, when Jesus came, he spoke of the Lord as a father and said that human beings were his children. The distance between humanity and God was greatly reduced: human beings were now 'related' to God, members of the same family; everything had changed. Yes, but where had the change actually occurred? In the minds and hearts of human beings, in their inner consciousness. They now felt closer to God.

Until then God had been a remote, awesome tyrant whom they had been taught to fear ('The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom'); but Jesus taught that this fear could be replaced by love. Instead of being afraid of this terrible God, human beings could love him, take refuge in his arms, feel that he was their loving father or mother. This was an entirely new development in religion.

Today it is time to go even further. As long as you think of God as existing in a cloud of glory in some remote region of the universe called heaven, where he partakes of sumptuous banquets surrounded by his angels and archangels, your notion of God is an objective, external one; God is outside you. Even if you think of him as your father and feel that you are his child, he is still outside you. And this is the tragedy: you project

God outside yourself. God may well exist outside man, but when men conceive of him as being external to themselves they become acutely aware of their own limitations and of all that separates them from him. So many worlds, so many stars, such infinite reaches of space lie between them and God that they cannot possibly hope to reach him. But as soon as you sense that God is present within you, that he is there as light, life and intelligence, as a unique force, you can never again be separated from him. You find God within yourself.

Human beings have never rally been taught to understand God in this way. From time to time they may come across a book in which a mystic, poet, or philosopher suggests some such notion, 'Hhow poetic. What a profound idea.' but it does not occur to them to ponder that idea or apply it to their own lives. They continue to think of God as existing themselves. If you think of God as being apart from and outside yourself, it necessarily means that you think of yourself as being apart from and outside God. And what will become of those who are apart from God? They will be nothing more than an object.

What is an object? Every craftsman, labourer, or farmer, for example, uses certain tools for his work. These tools are objects that are not a part of himself. When he needs them he picks them up, uses them, and then puts them aside until he needs them again - the next day or next month or next year. In the same way, if we think that we exist apart from God, it will seem to us that God picks us up or puts us aside like objects. If the pots that come from a potter's wheel or the saucepans in a housewife's kitchen were consicious, can you imagine what they would feel like when they were left unused on the shelf? They would complain bitterly that their mistress had forgotten them. 'and when she scraped out our insides the spoon made a noise that was music to our ears. In those days we were happy. But now she has forgotten all about us. How cruel and wicked of her.'

What can you expect? If we behave like pots and pans it is only normal that the Lord should forget about us from time to time. Can you blame him? It is because we are like objects that we sometimes feel abandoned. At times the Lord picks us up and uses us, at other times he puts us aside, but we have no right to reproach him for it. Would one of your saucepans dare to complain because you did not use it every day? No, you are master - or mistress - in your own house, and it is normal to do as you please. So it is unfair and illogical to rebel against the Lord when you feel abandoned. When you are really within him, in his head and in his members, then you will always be with him and in him. The very worst philosophy you can have is to conceive of yourself as being apart from God, outside him.

Believe me, it will not be long before men's philosphical and religious concepts change very considerably. At the moment people think that it si normal to believe that there is a great distance between man and God. They think that this is only right and proper. But in that case, why do they complain so bitterly when they suffer the consequences of that attitude?

I have already told you that in the future there will be a third Testament that will complete the first two, and in it this truth - that man must learn to get much closer to God, must learn to sense that God is within him - will be strongly emphasized. In fact it will be presented as an absolute essential. When man makes this truth his own he will no longer have the impression of being abandoned by God.

If we feel abandoned by God today it is because we have abandoned him. Can we say that we are always with him? Perhaps we made our first Communion and prayed to him for a few minutes fifty or sixty years ago, but have we ever thought of him since? No. We have deserted him, so why should he not have the right to do the same to us? Why should he be obliged to think of us all the time? Who are we to complain? What makes us think that we are so important that the Lord should constantly be concerned about us?

The truth is, of course, that the Lord takes care of us ceaselessly but in ways that are completely different from those we imagine. Let me explain this. When a child is born, cosmic intelligence gives it everything it needs for its life on earth. It is fully equipped with boots, a helmet, a gun, ammunition, and so on. After that it is up to him to look after himself. You are greatly mistaken if you believe that God spends his time thinking about each one of us. He has already given us health, strength, and vitality and everything else we need. Or perhaps I should say that it is not God who takes care exactly what they have to do, while he is concerned with things of far greater importance.

Yes, the third Testament will give men the ultimate solution. They will live constantly in the presence of the Lord. They will no longer be able to tear themselves away from him, and as they will no longer abandon God, God will no longer abandon them. Whereas at the moment we think of God only from time to time - and from time to time God thinks of us. Even some great saints have grieved because they felt that God had abandoned them, and this shows that they did not know these truths. Does that astonish you? It simply means that a saint may have a great deal of love and great qualities and virtues but that his knowledge and understanding may not have evolved to the same degree. Then there are others for whom the situation can be quite the reverse: they understand many things but they are lacking in virtues and qualities.

You will perhaps feel like saying, 'But it seems more respectful, more fitting, to think of God as being outside ourselves. This is what we have always been taught.' Yes, but there are thousands upon thousands of degrees of truth, and the time has come to take a step forward. We must begin to think of God as being close to us, within us. At the same time, we must think of ourselves as being minute, infinitesimal particles of God. God is the Whole and each one of us is a minute particle of the Whole. If you pray to the Lord thinking that he is far, far away beyond the stars, how can you expect your prayers to reach him? Oh, of course, I once told you that prayer reaches every corner of the universe. That is true, it does, but it takes such a long time to travel through infinite space. If the communication is direct and immediate; he can hear you, listen to your prayer, and answer you immediately.

Distance is important. Suppose you want to scatter and dissolve some clouds. You cannot make them disappear immediately; they are very slow and it all takes time. Well, if it takes so much time when the distance is barely a few hundred yards, just imagine how long it will to reach the Lord (especially if he is asleep and you have to wake him up). But if he is right there inside you, you can simply say, 'Hello, hello'. and you get through to him immediately. Does this strike you as disrespectful? No, I am speaking figuratively. Try to understand what I am saying.

From now on, when you are meditating, try to cultivate a sense of the Lord's presence within you and you will see how effective this can be. The impression of being abandoned will come to you less and less frequently. At the moment you fluctuate between a few good days during which you are full of joy, inspiration, and ecstasy, followed by days of terrible drought, days in which you feel as though you were dying of thirst in the desert, and it is then that you say, 'God has abandoned me.'

Let me illustrate this: you are here on earth, many millions of miles away from the sun, so far away that mountains of black clouds have slipped between you and the sun and now you are at the mercy of those clouds. You long to receive the light and warmth of the sun but it is impossible; the clouds are in the way. What can you do about it? There is nothing for it but to wait, and while you are waiting you think, 'The sun has abandoned me.' No, the sun has not abandoned you; it is just that you are too far away, below the clouds. But suppose you take an aeroplane or a balloon and fly up above the clouds? Once you are up there nothing can come between you and the sun. It is still there, still shining; it has never abandoned by God i simply means that you have slipped down below the permanent screen of cloud that prevents the sun's rays from reaching you. On the other hand, if you feel full of joy and inspiration, it means that you have risen above the clouds where the sun is always shining and where you can contemplate its light and feel its warmth seeping into you. As you see, the explanation is simple.

The True Religion of Christ VI

Now, since this sensation of being abandoned depends on our attitude, what is to prevent us from changing that attitude? Why should we be content to remain on so low a level that every minute of every day this screen cuts us off from the light and prevents the joy and revelations of the sun from reaching us? This is why initiation exists.

Initiation helps us to find our 'place in the sun', as the saying goes, a very elevated, very high place, well above the clouds, a place in which we no longer depend on anyone or anything, a place in which we are unassailable, invulnerable, invincible, immortal.

Believe me, you must constantly rise higher, always higher. You must get closer to him; so close that you succeed in finding him within you; so closely, so intimately within you that you are constantly steeped in his presence. Then you will never again be tempted to say, in the words of St Thérèse of Lisieux, 'Lord, why do you play with me as though I were a ball, as an extraneous object in relation to the Lord, then of course you will not escape the feeling of being abandoned. In spite of all their goodness, love and selflessness, not even the greatest saints or prophets have been spared this sensation.

Now, as I very well know, this is something that happens to you too, so let me say a few more words about it. When you feel that you have been cast aside, that you have nothing to hold on to, that all your ties with the Lord are broken and the spring has dried up, then I advise you to have a conversation with the Lord. Tell him, 'Lord, you have cast me off, you have rejected and abandoned me. As you can see, I am in revolt because you have discarded me. What do you want me to do? I am stuck. I have chosen the path of light, and I cannot turn round and go back.

Sometimes I wish I could; sometimes I think I should switch to another path and go and join the unbelievers, but I cannot do it. However badly you treat me I know that this path is the best. So do what you like, but I cannot change. Even if I am wounded, miserable, and ill, I must go on. Even if I am furious and in revolt, I cannot go any other way.

For me there is no other way. However much it hurts, I shall just have to continue.' If you talk to the Lord in this way he will hear you - words of this kind are the only ones he hears - and he will instruct his servants to come and help you. Whenever some poor wretch on earth utters such a prayer the message reaches God's ears immediately. He always has time for messages of this nature. He declares, 'Make a note of this man's name, for he is the most intelligent of creatures. He is disgruntled and unhappy, and yet he refuses to try a different path. We must take care of him.'

Yes, you must talk like that to the Lord. Why have you never prayed like that? You prefer to threaten him instead. You say, 'If you treat me so badly I shall refuse to believe in you any longer. This is the end. I refuse to do anything more for you - not even light a candle.' The Lord is going to be inconsolable. He will be in the dark because there will be one less candle in church.

There is nothing worse than to think or say to the Lord, 'I have had enough.' Believe me, the best remedy is to go and talk to him, to weep and gnash your teeth and tell him how unkind he is and how unhappy you are. Tell him that you had relied on him and now he has let you down. Yes, tell him all that; but when you have had your say do not forget to add, 'The only thing is that there is no other way, I know that. I cannot go back. So whatever happens, I shall continue to believe in you and to serve you.' Speak to God with great familiarity if you like; he will not take offence. But be sure to conclude your prayer in this way, for, I repeat, this is the best, the only solution.

I know, of course, that it is not easy for human beings to conceive of the Lord as being inseparable from themselves, but as long as they continue to think of him as an extraneous being, a being who is absolutely remote and inaccessible, they will continue to be subject to extremely painful states of mind. This means, therefore, that further progress has to be made. Evolution is necessary in every area, even in religion. But in religion - more perhaps than in other areas - people tend to believe that the precepts laid down thousands of years ago must hold good for all eternity. No, this is not so. Everything evolves, everything makes progress. Look at how science evolves. Only religion fails to evolve. Why does science evolve?

Why do scientists continually make new discoveries? Because instead of believing, they doubt, and their doubt seems to drive them on. Whereas faith, a faith that is not alive, makes human beings stagnate. Actually in this case it is no longer faith, it is credulity.

I have often spoken to you about Jnana-yoga, the practice of self-knowledge. The purpose of a disciple who practises Jnana-yoga is to make it possible for his consciousness to break out of the narrow circle of his own personality and attain the limitless consciousness of the cosmic being dwelling within him, of whom he is still not fully aware. This being, this particle of the Godhead, dwells within each one of us, and a disciple's goal is to become one with it. There are two poles therefore: the pole of your self, the consciousness of your own being, of your own lower self; and the pole of your higher, sublime self, that being of whom you have no real awareness, but who lives, works, and manifests through you. You are not yet capable of knowing how this sublime being manifests in the higher sphere, but from where you are down below you can visualize it dwelling within you and know that it seeks to manifest through you. For as it knows itself on high, it wants also to know itself in you, in the density of your physical matter. If you work with your imagination in this way, your efforts will eventually be rewarded, and as you draw closer to your higher self you will experience an illumination so intense that your consciousness will know no bounds. You will be suffused with light and radiance, and you will sense that you have become one with that sublime being, your higher self.

This is very difficult, of course, but it is one of the most powerful and effective exercises that exists. If you persevere with it you will obtain significant results. And once you have created this link with your higher consciousness, it will always be there, whatever your activities, always ready to take part in all you do. This then is the meaning of Jnana-yoga: the realization that 'I am He', that nothing else exists, that the Lord is the only Being. You are simply a reflection, an illusion formed by him, but your desire is to work your way back through this illusion of self until you reach that sublime consciousness and become one with it, lose yourself in it, and live for ever in its fullness. As long as you remain outside God you are depriving yourself of his riches. He cannot let you share in them, because you and he belong to two entirely different being, that God manifests himself within you. This is death in the initiatic sense of the world: you exist no longer as an independent entity face to face with God; God dwells within you. This is what Jesus meant when he said, 'Except you die you shall not live, 'and 'The Father and I are one.'

Of course, it is not given to everyone to reach this level, but all human beings can free themselves from certain limitations if they make the effort. The trouble is that they do not know how to use the means that God has put at their disposal. God has given us the power to become like him. All human beings have this power but, because of what they are at the moment, they are unable to make use of it. Most of them remain on too low a level and have no knowledge, no sense of it. Yet no one is totally bound; even the most limited people have the means to reach beyond their limitations. If only they would raise their eyes and their thoughts to the regions in which God dwells they would discover their innate possibilities. But how many people are willing to try to change anything in themselves? Of course, as I have always said, the reason is very simple: it all depends on what counts most for them. If money or pleasure is so important to them that there is no room in their minds for anything spiritual, how can we expect them to advance? But show me someone who gives precedence to light, love, beauty and the spirit, someone who does not worry about whether he will be rich or poor, whether he will always have enough to eat or not, whether he will be dressed or in rags, honoured or ridiculed, and I will tell you that to such a being everything is possible.

It is the importance you attach to things that determines all the rest. I know that the vast majority of human beings are not attached exclusively to material possessions, but their interest in the spiritual life is incidental, no more than an ornament to their lives. Every now and then, when they have a little spare time or when they are bored, they will read a few pages of a good book, go and listen to something vaguely elevating, meditate or pray a little, but what they really consider to be essential are the material things: physical comfort and a peaceful, untroubled life.

This is why they will never bring down the blessings of the divine world on themselves. They will continue to live and take advantage of all the things of earth but they will never be blessed with spiritual riches; they will never feel or experience the riches of the divine world in their lives. Only when they depart for the next world will they realize that they have made absolutely no progress, that they have been wasting their time.

If you sincerely want to evolve you must give first place to the impulse of your spirit, to light. But you cannot do this unless you have the desire, the need for yourselves. You either have it or not when you come into the world; it depends on the kind of life you led in other incarnations.

For those who come into the world with a taste for spirituality, it takes very little - a book or a few spoken words - to light a fire within them and launch them on a path from which nothing can make them deviate. Whereas others can listen to the sermons of every preacher on earth and remain entirely unchanged. The recommendations and advice of all the saints and all the prophets would fall on deaf ears, because their innate tendencies lead them in a different direction. But if you want to come to earth in your next incarnation with the desire to transform yourself, you must begin now, immediately, even if you do not feel the need to do so, because the efforts you make today lay the groundwork for your next incarnation. Next time you come to earth you will already have a taste for this work because you will have sown the seeds in a previous incarnation. Now you can see how useful the work we do in the Brotherhood is. It is perfectly true that some temperaments have absolutely no use for spirituality. And yet all those who unwittingly infected with germs that will manifest themselves at some future date.

But let us get back to the exercise of identification that I was speaking about earlier. You will see, if you do it, that it is extremely effective. However I must warn you that it can also be dangerous, because you can begin to believe that you are already God and allow pride to take over, and pride always leads to disaster. Even if you attain divine superconsciousness you must still be humble; in fact you must become even more humble and upretentious, and be even more careful not to offend others or use your superiority as a weapon against them. There are people who, having learned the formula, 'I am He,' start quarrelling with their family and friends and become absolutely intolerable. Their lives are one long series of conflicts and disputes because they want the whole world to acknowledge them as divinities. But if you want to become more and more like God you must have more and more love and generosity. Because God is love. If you have to massacre and ride roughshod over others in order to prove that you are a divinity, it shows that you have not understood the first thing about it.

I warn you, therefore, that from a psychological point of view this exercise of identification can be dangerous. You must be very vigilant, and in order to avoid any possibility of pride rearing its head, you must begin by recognizing that you are not unique, that other people are also part of God. Yes, if you want to practise this exercise as perfectly as possible you must begin by thinking and feeling that not only the Lord but all human beings are also within you, that they are you. This whole collectivity, the whole of mankind is you; it lives in you and you in it. You are apart and separate from others only in appearance. In this way, instead of opposing and tormenting others, you will sense their needs, their cares, and their sufferings and be obliged to help them. This is how you can truly become a divinity and not a monster for whom others are vermin to be crushed underfoot. Remember that if you fail to take appropriate precautions, methods such as this can be detrimental to you. And then of course it will be my fault once again.

Always remember that all the creatures that you see around you are really part of you.

Yes, when you tread the path of true initiatic philosophy you begin to realize that all creatures are one. In reality there is only one being: the Creator. All creatures are simply the cells of his immense body, cells that are one in everything but their consciousness. Imagine what it would be like if every cell in your body had an individual consciousness. Naturally, the cells of the feet, the liver, the spleen, and so on would feel different and apart from each other because their functions are different (the heart has one function, the liver another, and so on), and they would either collaborate or conflict with each other.

Yes, but if they reached a higher degree of consciousness they would realize that they are all an integral part of one person, of one being who embraces and nourishes them all.

Well, we must follow the same reasoning. We must remind ourselves that all the individuals on earth - be they Japanese, Chinese, Turkish, Russian, French, or German - are the cells of a single collective being. If their attitude and behaviour do not seem to conform to this reality it is because their consciousness has sunk so low that they are not capable of seeing themselves as the cells of a whole. But once one becomes conscious of being a single cell and feels oneself bound to all the other cells that go to make up the supreme being - God himself - once sees that the whole of humanity is one single being. Once you reach this point you will feel so much love, pity and consideration for others that you will really and truly fulfil the formula, 'I am That.' As long as human beings have not reached this degree of consciousness they will always want to annihilate others; there can be no real change, only a constant inflation of their personality.

I assure you, true change will only come about through this consciousness of unity. We do not exist as separate individuals; each one of us is a cell in an immense organism, and our consciousness must melt into the universal consciousness that embraces the totality of man, cosmic man, This alone represents true progress, true evolution.

Tangible proof of this bond between individuals can be seen in the fact that, however ignorant and illiterate mediums may be, when they are in a state of trance they can feel within themselves the suffering of the person beside them. And initiates, whose sensitivity is even more highly developed than that of mediums, can also feel the physical and psychic state of others. If they do not usually show it, it is because they have achieved true mastery and to do so would hinder their work. If they were in a continental state of pain or anxiety, how could they help others? It is precisely because they have gone beyond this stage that they are masters and are capable of helping others. I have often experienced this myself: I suddenly feel a pain in one part of my body, and knowing that it comes from someone else. I concentrate on helping that person. Then a few days later I hear from someone who tells me that they had had a terrible pain in that same part of their body, so then they thought of me and now they feel well again. Yes, but it was I who had to bear that pain. It is true that I am capable of overcoming it, but it still involves a great deal of work. This is why it is said that Jesus bore the sufferings of mankind - I can well believe it.

Some people might think that in these conditions it would be better not to be a master or an initiate. Yes, but then they would be deprived of all the rest, too. The suffering that you bear for other people is only temporary, after all; and it is so wonderful to be useful. An initiate is happy to be able to help others and alleviate their suffering. At other moments he feels inspired and elevated because he is in constant communion with a very different order of creatures, creatures that dwell in a permanent state of happiness and bliss. There are so many creatures, both visible and invisible, who live in peace and joy, and you too can experience this marvellous state. So there is nothing to worry about.

Yes, life on earth is an illusion, a dream; reality is something quite different. What is the point of losing eternal life for the sake of an illusion that will soon disappear without a trace? True, you have to eat, clothe yourself, have a roof over your head, and so on, but the intelligent way to behave is to do no more than necessary in this area and leave yourself free to acquire the riches that will be yours for all eternity. Otherwise everything will be taken from you, and you will end by being naked and destitute. Even the books you have read and the knowledge you acquired at the university will be taken away and wiped from your mind. Next time you come to earth you will have to begin to read and study all over again, because the wealth you possess today is not really yours; it has been given to you by others. If something does not rightfully belong to you, you are going to have to give it back.

You will be allowed to keep and bring back with you in your next incarnation only the gifts and qualities that you have explored, experienced, and absorbed for yourself. All talents, all gifts of genius can be explained in this way. A philosopher or musician of genius is someone who comes into the world with knowledge acquired through profound personal experience in a previous incarnation.

Each human being is in this world in order to proclaim the glory of God and help others. But instead of doing this, the great majority bury themselves away and become like brute beasts, because they are always afraid of what the neighbours or their family might think. Of course if everyone is always ruled by fear, nothing new will ever happen in the world. Where will you find anybody who says, 'That is not important; I have everything I need within myself. My inner life is so intense and rich that I need nothing else'?

Are you beginning to understand me? Perhaps you think that those who are not very rich or comfortable in life will certainly understand me. Not a bit of it. On the contrary, they are in a continual state of fury at not being rich or as socially prominent as others; they think of nothing else day and night. Their thoughts are so occupied by envy of others that they fail to take advantage of the good situation in which heaven has placed them, they consider it an injustice. Do you really believe that the poor see the tremendous advantages of their poverty and know how to use it as a stepping stone to perfection? No, they are constantly in revolt against it. Why? Because they want to be like the rich. Outwardly they profess to be scandalized by wealth, but deep in their hearts they long for it with their might. If the rich had a better understanding of their own situation, they would be distressed to be rich and would distribute all their wealth to the poor. And the poor would refuse that wealth, saying, 'No, no we do not want any of it. We are very well off as we are.' If the rich were enlightened, they would be anxious to rid themselves of their wealth, and the poor would want no more than they have.

Is this not the most monstrous, incredible nonsense you have ever heard? Yes, and yet it is absolutely true. The only salvation for the rich is to go to the poor and beg them to take their wealth. And the poor should refuse categorically. Of course, you will say that I am turning everything upside down. Yes, because this is the only way to set everything straight.

One day when I was talking to you about the sun. I described an exercise that you could do when you are up on the Rock for the sunrise (The Rock is a platform at the top of a hill near the Bonfin where Omraam Mikhael Aivanhov gathered with his disciples every morning in spring and summer to meditate and watch the sunrise). It is very similar to the one I gave you a few moments ago: you can try to picture your higher self up there in the sun, and imagine that it is looking down at your puny, imperfect little self sitting here meditating. In this way you create a current between your higher and your lower selves, and this current is the beginning of a new life. Of course you may not feel the effect at once, because it takes time for the current to become stronger and more intense, but before long you will have no more doubts, for you will sense that something extraordinary is beginning to take place within you, bringing you a sense of absolute certainty. There is nothing more marvellous than this certainty. It is only when you are certain of what you say, of what you have experienced, that you can be strong and powerful, capable of convincing others. As long as you are not quite sure of things you will never convince others, because they will always sense your hesitancy. Of course, you cannot know certainty until you have experienced certain manifestations. Certainty cannot be manufactured. Those who possess it possess unequalled powers of persuasion.

The True Religion of Christ VII

You have all seen the two triangles in the lecture hall at the Bonfin; the red one with the apex pointing up and the blue one pointing down. I have often talked to you about the symbolism of these two triangles, but today I want to speak about them again, for I want you to understand the extraordinary depth and wealth of meaning in them.

As I have already told you, these two triangles symbolize the masculine and feminine principles, spirit and matter. For this is what the universe is: spirit and matter, the work of spirit and matter. Or - for the sake of materialists who do not like us to talk about the spirit - energy and matter. For the spirit is energy. The only trouble is that by speaking of 'energy' rather than 'spirit' we are failing to attribute to energy all the other properties of the spirit: intelligence, consciousness and love. Energy is a force that is blind and without consciousness. But however you look at it, no one can deny that the universe is held together by these two realities; spirit and matter, energy and matter, the masculine and feminine principles.

Science has focused principally on the evolutionary process that has led forms and species to become progressively more highly organized, subtler and more intelligent. In other words it has restricted itself to a study of the red triangle which points upwards. And as scientists are not instructed in initiatic science they have failed to see that the evolutionary movement was preceded by a movement of involution. They have not seen this because involution takes place in the subtle world, but it is this gap in their knowledge that falsifies their whole philosophy. Initiatic science teaches that every evolution is preceded by an involution, the involution of spirit descending into matter.

Once the spirit has reached a certain degree of materialization, it endeavours to return to its source, and this is evolution: the return journey, the striving for perfection, the ascent through the denser layers of matter toward the highest point of development. And evolution cannot occur without the participation of the spirit. Only the spirit can raise matter, forms and creatures to perfection, because only the spirit possesses life, consciousness and intelligence. It is important to understand, therefore, that there can be no evolution without involution. Nothing can take place here on earth unless something has first descended from above. To imagine that forms have been capable of evolving, while denying that this evolution had to be preceded by the involution of a divine form, a descent of the spirit, is to reveal an abysmal ignorance. So there you have it, the two triangles represent involution and evolution.

The triangle pointing downwards represents the spirit that descends into matter in order to animate and breathe life into it, and the triangle pointing upwards represents matter as it evolves toward reunion with the spirit. When these two triangles are combined they form the Seal of Solomon.

Esoteric books have much to say about the Seal of Solomon, but very few show any real understanding of the profundity and the magical power of this symbol that comes from the meeting and interpenetration of the two triangles, the two principles. An initiate in whom the two principles are united is called an androgyne. Whereas most human beings, those who represent only one of the two triangles - that of man or of woman - are maimed, mutilated beings, and this is why they continually seek their missing half, the other triangle, so as to form the Seal of Solomon. All human beings have only one desire, to be a Seal of Solomon. This is why men and women need each other. Men need woman and women need men, because they have this unconscious desire to become Seals of Solomon.

These two triangles exist in many different forms. In the temples of India, for instance, we frequently see a symbol that is known as the Lingam, consisting of a horizontal base (representing the masculine principle) surmounted by a vertical element (representing the feminine principle).

When I was in India I talked to many priests and gurus, and I would often tell them that they did not understand the meaning of this symbol. 'How can you say we do not understand it?' they would protest, 'It is an integral part of our tradition.' 'That is true, but I still say that you do not understand it. If you did you would not have married. The feminine principle should be within you, but as it is not, you have to find it elsewhere.' Of course, they were not exactly overjoyed to hear this, particularly as it came from such an unexpected quarter, from a Westerner who was a Christian into the bargain. If a man, who represents the masculine qualities of energy, strength and will-power, also possesses the feminine qualities of delicacy, tenderness, purity and love, he is a complete being and has no need of a wife. Equally, if a woman possesses both the feminine and the masculine qualities, she does not need to look for a husband. As long as you are still looking for a husband or wife, it means that you do not yet possess these two tendencies that alone can bring you fulfilment.

You will say, 'But men have always looked for wives, and women for husbands.' I know, and that simply proves that human beings have always been dominated by separateness, weakness and divisiveness. The philosophy of the initiates is perhaps difficult to accept, but it is the truth. The things I say in my talks to you are not intended to please the masses. If I were obliged to say only what would please human beings, I should have to accept all their weaknesses and vices; they would even expect me to encourage them in those vices. Ordinary people might do this, but a master, whose only desire is to lead his disciples towards perfection, is obliged to tell people the truth, even if it is not pleasant to hear.

And now let us look at what these two triangles mean in the spiritual life. In the past, religions such as Buddhism and even Christianity urged human beings to detach themselves from the physical world and seek to approach God and become one with him. The earth was nothing but a 'vale of tears' and life an illusion from which man was advised to detach himself as quickly as possible so as to return to heaven or nirvana. Each individual was encouraged to think only about saving his own soul so as to enjoy the splendours of heaven. Now I am not saying that this point of view is bad, but it is imperfect. It is a point of view that has enabled men to discover a great deal about the inner life, but is no longer appropriate to our times.

To adopt the philosophy of the feminine triangle is to reject matter and all the activities and duties attached to it, and this leads to certain anomalies. Today we must work with the triangle of the spirit, which is the triangle of realization, of manifestation in the world, in our physical bodies, in matter. We must no longer concentrate on elevating ourselves above the world; on the contrary, we need to descend. I am sure that there will be a few 'mystics' who will object in horror: 'But that is terrible. That is the way of perdition. Religion has never taught us to descend; on the contrary, we must elevate ourselves and rise above the world.' Well, have it your own way, but such an attitude will never bring about the kingdom of God and His Righteousness on earth. The few who seek to save their own souls will simply leave the rest of mankind sunk in disorder and misery, because this philosophy of flight is incapable of transforming the world. We need another philosophy today, the new philosophy that is coming with the Aquarian age. This new philosophy is water from above, a fountain of life flowing from the heavenly regions, and it will transform the earth and cause the seeds of the kingdom of God to germinate with new life. Heaven, of course, is a perfect world, a world of blessings and splendour in which we may find freedom and happiness, but if everyone abandons the earth for heaven, the earth will continue to be a wilderness.

In the Lord's Prayer Jesus said, 'Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven, 'but men have never understood that Jesus wanted to transform, perfect and embellish the earth so that it would resemble heaven. Everybody flees the world, because flight suits those timid souls that are so anxious to save themselves. But today, instead of trying to save our souls, we must throw ourselves wholeheartedly into the glorious work of bringing heaven down to earth. You will protest, 'But how could we ever do that? It is quite impossible. 'Not at all, the triangle of the spirit shows us how to do it. A disciple must still seek heaven, that is true, but once he has found it he must bring down to earth all the light of heaven, and introduce them into his own physical body, into his brain, his lungs, his stomach, his whole being.

In this way, after years of striving, he brings spirit and matter together again within himself and attains the fullness of perfection symbolized by the Seal of Solomon.

Many extreme tendencies are surfacing in the world today. There are countries that are technically, economically and socially advanced; they have done everything possible to improve their material conditions, but they have done away with religion. And then there are others such as India (although, even in India, things have changed to a certain extent) that have such a strong spiritual tradition that the material dimension is almost totally neglected, and millions and millions of their people live in filth, poverty and disease. Naturally, I cannot say that either solution by itself is the right one; both are necessary. We must always be linked to heaven, but we must also work on earth.

This then is what the new religion teaches: we must work to bring something of the divine into the world. You will protest, 'But what about heaven? We want to work for heaven.' Yes, but heaven does not need you; it already has everything. What could you possibly add to all the wealth that heaven possesses? It is here on earth that you are needed, and this means that you must revise your tactics. I am not saying that you should turn your backs on heaven. On the contrary, you must continue to maintain close ties with heaven so as to be in a position to give to others. For after all, if you cut yourself off from heaven you will never be rich and never have anything to give to others.

Remember the advice I have already given you in this respect. Just as in some of the poorer countries the fathers of families have to go and look for work abroad, so you too must go 'abroad' to earn the money you need to feed your family. I am speaking symbolically of course. By 'abroad' I mean heaven, for it is to heaven that you must go every day through prayer, meditation and contemplation. This is what I do: every day I leave you and go abroad to look for gold so that I can bring it back and give it to you. Why do you have to stay glued to your family and friends all the time? Because you love them? No, you do not love them, or rather you love them in the wrong way. You allow them to starve to death because you are incapable of giving their hearts and souls the food they need. And that is not a proof of love.

Let me illustrate what I am saying. Suppose you have a wonderful idea; you feel that it is really good, and the thought of it makes you happy. This means that your idea has moved down from your intellect and reached the level of your feelings. Yes, but it is still incomplete; it is only when you express it in words and actions that the normal process will be complete. Are painters, musicians, or poets content to keep their creations in their heads? No, they give them concrete expression. Then why should we be content to leave spiritual things on the level of thought or feeling? Why should we not give them concrete expression also? Yes, spiritual and religious ideas must also be implemented. The religion of many people never gets any further than their hearts or minds, and their behaviour contradicts everything they think and believe. This is all wrong, and it means that they do not understand the point of view of cosmic intelligence. First we think of something, then we wish for it to happen, and finally we have to work to implement it.

When a boy falls in love with a girl, what does he do? It is not long before he tries to kiss her. Why is he not satisfied to keep his relationship on the level of thought and feeling? Ah, in this area men and women behave just as cosmic intelligence planned that they should. But we must remember that the things of the spirit also have to be given concrete expression in our actions, our attitude, and our work. Otherwise they are as worthless as a letter or an official document without a signature. The signature represents the concrete expression, the realization. Or take another example: a general prepares a brilliant plan of attack that he is sure will bring him victory, and he has set his heart on that victory. But what use will his battle plan be if he never gives the order to attack? The 'signature' that validates his plan is the order to attack, which implements it on the physical plane.

Some of you will probably think that I am contradicting myself. You will say, 'You are always criticizing materialists for being concerned only about their worldly interests. You say that they are working for the benefit of thieves, because they will not be allowed to take any of their acquired wealth with them. They will arrive in the next world naked and destitute, and no one will welcome them.' But there is no contradiction here, for it is one thing to care about nothing but money and possessions, and quite another to strive to manifest heaven, goodness, and light on the physical plane. When what you achieve here on earth is true, luminous and divine, you will be allowed to take it with you, and in this way you create your own future. But if you are content to think and wish and never actually achieve anything, you will be naked when you leave this world because you will not have left your signature on anything.

Yes, I am bringing you a new philosophy, a new way of behaving, a new way of thinking, acting and manifesting. This new way is very different from all that other people have taught about religion, but I cannot help that. I have been given the task of bringing you these new notions. The old notions were valid for the individual but useless for the collectivity. The time has come to stop working only for our own individual salvation. Today we must work for the whole world, for the whole of mankind, and the only way we can do so is by putting this new philosophy into effect and rising mentally to heaven so as to bring the light, love, peace and eternity of heaven down to physical plane. This process of bringing heaven down to earth has to begin with our own physical bodies; the life of heaven must impregnate and radiate from our physical bodies. When human beings achieve this, the kingdom of God will truly come about, and each individual will be a light, a sun, a living spring. The great thing is to accept the teaching of the triangle that points downwards, the triangle of the spirit, and no longer cling exclusively to the philosophy of the triangle of matter.

The tendency of matter is to ascend; that of the spirit to descend. This same pattern is reproduced by a man and woman who unite in the act of love: the man faces down and the woman up. In this, human beings are simply behaving in conformity with principles established from all eternity by cosmic intelligence, according to which matter - which needs to be spiritualized - and the spirit - which needs to be materialized - meet and are joined in space. And it is in this union that the spirit fertilizes matter. As you see, there is symbolism, eloquence and philosophy in every human action, but human beings themselves see and understand none of it. Our task is to bring the spirit down to earth. This is why you must use your meditations and prayers to beg for this light and visualize it, visualize this spirit, this divine force, descending into you and impregnating every cell of your being. One day, when you have worked at this for years and years, you will sense that heaven is within you, that light is within you, that love is within you. When this day comes you will find that it is much easier to help other people and awaken them to this reality. But if, through a false understanding of spirituality, you remain barren - a blank page - you will be no good to anyone. The spirit must be allowed to descend.

It is when the spirit descends into matter that the child - that is to say, the kingdom of God and all the beauty of God - will be born in the world. This is the new dawn, the new work that is before us: to bring all the splendour, all the blessings, all the light and peace of heaven down to earth - down, first and foremost, to our own earth, our own physical bodies, and then to the whole world, to all human beings. We must tread a new path, for it is sheer selfishness to want to flee the earth on the pretext of spirituality or religion. Blessed are those who are capable of understanding me.

If anything is sacred to me, it is what I have been saying today. I must admit that I hesitated before deciding to talk about it, for it is too sacred. In talking about it I feel as though I were tearing something from my heart in order to give it to you. I finally decided to do so in the hope that you would understand and make up your minds to follow this path.

There, I hope that this is quite clear now: instead of losing yourselves in nirvana, instead of wishing to eat and drink and rejoice forever in the company of the elect, think that you are bringing heaven down to earth. that its light shines through you to the world, that you are a light in the world. What glorious work lies ahead of you.

The true Religion of Christ VIII

Involution is the sacrifice of the spirit that makes it possible for matter to evolve and enrich itself. The twin processes of evolution and involution are at work throughout creation, but as human beings are not particularly inclined to consider the philosophical aspect of things, they never see the laws and principles that account for every phenomenon or event in life.

Nothing can exist unless something first sacrifices itself in order to make that existence possible. Thus evolution can exist only if it is preceded by involution. If human beings are to pursue their upward path they must know this. Everything falls apart if life is not based on an awareness of sacrifice, selflessness and love. Take the example of a family: the parents spend all their energy and make innumerable sacrifices so that their children may grow and develop. In fact, one sees parents who have become weak and shrunken, while their children, who are strong and vigorous, do not always realize that they have developed at the expense of their parents.

Spiritual masters, and even professors and schoolteachers represent the triangle of the spirit. When they instruct their disciples or students they are 'involving'; whereas those who listen and learn from them are 'evolving'. Here too we see the manifestation of the two triangles. But this situation cannot last for ever, either for the teacher or for the students. Eventually students and disciples have to pass on what they have learned to others. Similarly, a child cannot remain a child for ever; one day he is going to have to work, marry and have children of his own to feed and educate.

The symbolism of the two triangles can be seen in every activity of our daily lives. You pour yourself a glass of water, and the water in the glass increases while that in the bottle decreases. Then you drink, and the glass is emptied but your stomach is filled. Every time you eat or drink, the food you eat and the liquid you drink represent the triangle of the spirit, which sacrifices itself in order to make you stronger. You go into a shop to buy something, but if you have nothing to offer in exchange for what you need, no one will give you anything. Your purse has to 'involve' so that the goods you need may 'evolve' in your direction. All the actions of our daily lives should help us to understand that the same processes exist on a cosmic scale, and without the initial involution of the spirit there can be no evolution of matter.

As you can see, the symbolism of the two triangles is truly immense; it embraces and sums up the whole of the science of life. Take, for example, the way in which cosmic intelligence has designed the solar plexus and the brain. The materials of these two organs are identical - grey matter and white matter - but their relative position is reversed. The grey matter of the brain is on the outside and the white matter inside; whereas the grey matter of the solar plexus is inside and the white matter on the outside. And this opposition is reflected in the way in which the two organs manifest themselves: the solar plexus is hidden and its action invisible, whereas the brain talks, pontificates, pronounces anathema. But the brain could not manifest with such brilliance, could not reason, explain, or give orders - it could not function at all, in fact - if there were not something that spent and sacrificed itself in order to subsidize it and supply it with the energies it needs. And that something is the solar plexus. The solar plexus nourishes and sustains the brain, because its role is to give. The solar plexus corresponds to the triangle of involution therefore, and the brain, which receives, corresponds to the triangle of evolution. The role of the solar plexus is to sacrifice itself in order to ensure the proper functioning of the brain, and not only of the brain, but of all the other organs as well. This means that the role of the solar plexus is more spiritual than that of the brain, and, knowing this, we should do all we can to ensure that it has the conditions it needs to work and fulfil its mission.

The essential thing to remember is that man cannot lock himself into a one-sided attitude. Once the cup is full it has to be emptied again. This is true in the life of every single individual, for we all begin life as children, who only know how to take, before becoming adults and learning to give. It is also true in the life of humanity as a whole. For a very long time humanity has been in the selfish state of childhood, in which it has thought only of taking everything for itself, and the result has been war and devastation. It is time now for humanity to learn to give. This is why I say that the religions that urge men to concentrate on saving their souls and seeking eternal bliss for themselves are no longer valid. It is time to give something to the earth, to make the earth beautiful so that it may vibrate in harmony with heaven.

In the past, individuals were concerned only about their own development. This was perfectly normal, in fact it was a necessary phase of human evolution and as such was planned by cosmic intelligence. Just as a child has to begin by growing and becoming strong, humanity - which was still a child - had to grow and build up its strength, and it was helped in this by its 'elder brothers', those highly evolved souls and spirits who incarnated in order to help it. And now mankind has reached adulthood. Ah, but I can see that you are wondering what I mean when I say that mankind has become adult. Well, think of how children develop: to begin with it is their physical life that manifests itself and grows strong as they eat and drink and exercise their limbs. Then, little by little, the spirit begins to descend into them, awakening first their astral body and then their mental body, and by the time they are twenty-one we can say that all their essential faculties are developed. Emotionally and intellectually they possess all the tools they need and can begin to use them to their fullest extent.

The process by which the spirit gradually descends to the physical plane has also taken place in mankind as a whole. This is why we can say that mankind has now reached adulthood. If modern man possesses such extraordinary powers in the realms of thought and feeling, it is because the spirit has taken possession of his astral and mental bodies, and in so doing it has penetrated so deeply into matter that it is almost buried. Thanks to the spirit, human beings have become more and more capable of handling matter, but at the same time they have lost touch with the subtle worlds. In the remote past, when the spirit had not penetrated their physical body to any great extent, human beings were in closer touch with the spirits, the entities of the invisible world, the souls of the dead. Of course, these human beings were not very clever when it came to handling matter, and if they now have such great skill on that level it is because they have gradually cut themselves off from all the other forms of life that inhabit the universe - so much so, in fact, that, because these forms of life are invisible, they no longer believe in their existence.

What is needed now is a return to the spiritual world. It was necessary for mankind to attain its present intellectual development, but to continue in the same direction without a simultaneous development of its spiritual faculties would spell its ultimate destruction. In fact this has already occurred more than once. The annals of spiritual science - which will soon be discovered - contain records of several human races that have disappeared from the face of the earth.

We might wonder why the spirit, having penetrated so deeply into matter, has not succeeded in rendering it nobler and subtler. The truth is that the spirit cannot manifest itself on the lower planes, in the opaque density of matter, with the same omnipotence and omniscience that characterize its manifestations on the higher planes. The more deeply it penetrates matter the more it is restricted and prevented from manifesting its true qualities.

In reality the descent of the spirit into matter has been going on for millions of years, and although it has not yet achieved the true spiritualization of matter, it has already brought about a tremendous flowering of human intellectual and emotional faculties. Yes, matter has reached the stage of intellectual development, but that is not enough.

This is why the time is now ripe for the cosmic spirit - not just the spirit of each individual being - to descend into humanity and spiritualize it. Until now it has been the task of the individual spirit to descend and make its dwelling in each individual physical body, and in the struggle to animate and refine the matter of that body, it has lost many of its qualities. But now there is to be a collective, cosmic descent of the divine spirit, which is coming to vivify and resuscitate all creatures.

People are always astonished at the extent to which the all-powerful spirit can be subjugated and paralysed by matter. Yes, the spirit is all-powerful in the world above, but it is not all-powerful in the world below unless it is set free. It is exactly the same as atomic energy: as long as that energy is imprisoned in matter it is powerless, but liberate it and you will see what it is capable of. The spirit can be virtually paralysed by matter, but once it is set free it shows itself to be so powerful that it can pulverize the matter that held it prisoner.

Now, my dear brothers and sisters, make up your minds to become triangles of the spirit and to do something for others instead of being content to be miserable little non-entities who want the whole world to revolve around themselves. Those who think of nobody but themselves retard their own development, but those who work for others become stronger in themselves. When you are always trying to help and encourage others it may seem as though you lose something (and it is quite possible, in fact, that your physical strength will diminish), but you will become spiritually stronger and more powerful. Of course, as this spiritual strengthening is not visible, everybody thinks that the spirit, like the physical body, declines with age, whereas the truth is exactly the reverse. The trouble is that human beings get everything mixed up and identify with their physical bodies. The physical body works, uses up its energies, and becomes weaker with age, that is true, but the spirit becomes stronger. One triangle diminishes while the other increases. That is life. The French saying, 'You cannot make an omelette without breaking eggs,' is very apt.

In point of fact, this is not always true. I have my own formula, which says, 'Your guests have eaten their fill but your cake is still whole.' Yes, but there is a secret here that only the great masters have discovered, and it is this: when they help and enlighten human beings, they spend a great deal of energy, but at the same time the divine world gives them far more strength and energy than they give to others. It is when you give to others that you receive, that you are filled to the brim. So there you have the two triangles: you give below and you receive from above. When you are the triangle of the spirit in relation to human beings you give, and in this way you become the triangle of matter in relation to heaven. You give and receive, give and receive. If you have never learned to do this you will soon be drained and empty and begin to regret having worked for others. You have to learn, therefore, to be the triangle that gives to the earth and at the same time the triangle that receives from heaven. In other words you must be emissive in relation to the world below and receptive to the world above.

It was in this sense that I once explained Jesus' words: 'Unless you change and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven.' For two thousand years Christians have failed to understand what it means to be 'like children'. The weakness and frailty of children arouse a protective instinct in adults. A child who has someone to look after it has nothing to worry about; it is the adults, the parents, who do all the worrying. Jesus was telling us that we must be as children in relation to those who are more advanced and who are able, therefore, to take care of us, to guide and instruct and protect us. Just because you have come of age it does not mean - as so many people think - that you can sever your ties with all those more advanced beings and never obey anyone again. It is precisely when you do this that trouble really begins to rain down on you. No, the only way to enter the kingdom of God, to enter that realm of joy, happiness and hope, is to be as children in relation to those who are more advanced. Even if we are obliged to become adults here on earth, we must still be as children in relation to our parents in the higher world.

Why are human beings incapable of discovering these great truths for themselves? Because they are not free. Yes, for there is a connection between freedom and knowledge. It is true that people are always ready to fight for freedom, to fight for the liberty to behave according to their own tastes and desires (which means, often enough, the liberty to commit every conceivable folly). But the freedom they seek is not the freedom that would give them the power to see, explore, and understand the divine world. On the contrary, they get involved in all kinds of activities which blindfold and shackle them. If you walk through a beautiful garden while you are totally absorbed in your own worry or distress, you will not see the beauty surrounding you. But it never occurs to human beings that when they themselves to banal, mundane occupations they become incapable of seeing and rejoicing in the splendour of the universe and the creatures that inhabit it. It is only when you are free that you can begin to see reality. Until then, a great many things can happen, even within yourself, without your being aware of them, simply because you are otherwise engaged.

What extraordinary things you will start to discover once you have succeeded in freeing yourselves! You will acquire the ability to read what is written, first within yourselves and then in others, thus gradually attaining true clairvoyance. All the wonders of heaven and earth are there, around you and in you, but you have to be free in order to see them. For an initiate this is the only true freedom. The very least you can do while you are here is to begin to acquire a taste for these truths, and when you do so you will see that everything becomes so much lighter and easier. Do you think that I waste my time and energy in useless activities? No, if this question were not of vital importance I should never have talked to you about it. Why should I be too to know as well as anyone what is important and what is not?

All around us in the world today, in every aspect of life, are the manifestations of the triangle of matter, the triangle that does nothing but take - even in the intellectual sphere. This is why so many ideas stagnate in people's minds without ever being expressed in their actions, gestures, or general behaviour. But in the teaching of the Great Universal White Brotherhood we learn to put the most sublime ideas into effect, to bring them down into the material dimension. All that we learn, all that we receive, all that we have understood must be expressed and implemented in our actions. This is perfection. This is how the kingdom of God and His Righteousness will be established on earth.

Title: Phelps - Whites are supreme in war defension

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 14, 2005 01:20 PM (GMT)

Eric

I'm white but I would like to point out the ottoman empire and also how both The Knights Templar, Jesuits and Order of Illuminati copy to to this day the organisation of The Assassins also known as hashshasins or Assasseen from Islam!

The Order has absorbed the useful knowledge in the limited sphere in which the Assassins functioned. The Order has done the same with the Chinese wisdom and tactics of war as well as herbal medicine and poisons. The White-dominated Jesuit Order has absorbed the knowledge of all the arts and sciences of all cultures into their Order; they are the Borg of Star Trek.

It is also true that many black raced armies and generals have been far superior to white armies.

Disagreed. Please name one. White armies can annihilate any Black army in existance today---if they are not betrayed by their leaders. White nations, especially White Protestant nations, have perfected the art of war and have shown their superiority throughout history. It is the historic White Protestant nations that have established war colleges in which to instruct future generals in the past successes and mistakes of war. Black nations and most Oriental nations do not do this apart from White influence. The advanced and effective generals of color have been trained by Whites directly or indirectly.

Vietnamese Senior General Vo Nguyen Giap is probably the greatest General of modern times for example!

Of modern times? Greater than American General Patton? Greater than Russian General Vlasov? Greater than German Field Marshall Rommel? Never! General

Giap was trained by American Advisors, was he not?

The only difference between white and black are WEAPONS!

Disagreed! Blacks do not have the capacity to plan and execute complicated manouvers coordinated with a host of different soldiers: bowman, horsemen, spearmen, advanced weaponry invented through the intellectual superiority and manufacturing capabilities of White cultures. Mussolini's attack on Ethiopia was a total disaster for thje Blacks in the 1930s. The coordinated Mao-Mao uprising of the 1950s could not put down the limited British army in Kenya. Further, why do Whites have superior Weapons?

Without Weapons from the air like America has its absolutely nothing and this is proven time and time again from Vietnam to Afghanistan (having to use the locals) and especially right now in Iraq where the Mehdi Army & Republican Guard are easily destroying Americans and British including their so-called invincible tanks/weapons.

Disagreed. The losses you are citing is merely because the Jesuit-controlled CFR/ US (and British) governments would not allow the American armies to win in Vietnam, Operation Desert Storm and now this Papal Crusade in Asia. I repeat: Our commanders were traitors in Nam and are traitors in Iraq. Why? Because they work for the Vatican being controlled by the CFR.

So my friend it is wrong to assume whites are superior in battle and mind to blacks because when you go through history you find all the real knowledge comes from Africa

Please give me some examples of this African knowledge and supremacy in the art of war and the supremacy of mind evidenced by African infrastructure and art. Maybe I have missed something and need to be corrected or informed of a matter unknown to me. Your facts will help me in this.

and Iraq fullstop its just white man has stole the knowledge and hidden it away then created an illusion that blacks are inferior!

When did Whites steal any military knowledge from Blacks in the past, hidden it and then used it openly calling it their knowledge? I believe that the Black Nation of Islam expounds this position beginning with Fard and now Farrakhan. Please give me examples as again this will help me.

I understand some of your points and agree with most but this has to be said and pointed out.

I welcome your documented dissent; I need it, as it will sharpen me and correct me if I am wrong.

Also if whites are superior in battle etc then why couldn't they defeat the opposition in the Crusades?

The Crusades were intended to depopulate the White Catholic males of Europe while killing a large part of the Moslem peoples without decisively taking Jerusalem apart from the first Crusade. Richard the Lionheart stopped and called a council when he could have easily taken Jerusalem. He had massacred the Mamalukes. He decided to leave the field to the utter fury of the Pope! Further, the crusaders were undisciplined and fanatical, governed by superstition, lust and greed. Let us talk about the White armies of Alexander or Caesar, shall we? How about Thermopylae when 300 White Spartans held off thousands of Persians and were defeated due to a traitor and not due to Persian supremacy. How about the White Orthodox Serbs, called "the Guardians of the Gate" into Europe, when they withstood superior Islamic armies for centuries and nearly successfully bombed the Vatican in WWII?

The Khazarians (phony jews) did much better when they attempted this.

The Jews who took their land back from the Moslem squatters in Palestine in 1948 were not Khazars. The Khazarian heresy of the Jews not being the Jews of today was started in Austria in the early 1900s. Further, to state that the Jews who call themselves Jews today are in fact not racial Jews (generally speaking) is to deny the truth of the Bible which states that the Gentile nations will know just who the racial Jews are throughout the entire Disapora. (Deut. 28)

Additionally, the Jesuits helped in the success of Israel's War of Independence by using the Arab leaders to call for the evacuation of over 400,000 Arabs from the land further giving the Pope's Masonic Jewish Zionists the victory. Meanwhile the true Jews who should have been given the land, led by Vladimir Jabotinsky, were banished from participating. No, the Jews who rule Israel are the slaves of the Pope; the Jews who occupy the land are indeed racial Jews, at least 80% of them as I observed from several trips to Israel.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

I think I understand your position, maybe.

Subject: Another Response to you Mr.Phelps

Eric,

Yes I agree the Order has utilised many races knowledge allowing them to become very powerful with mixed knowledge. But doesn't this mean that white man isn't truly superior because they needed to steal this knowledge from the Earth man (blacks).

This rhetoric is the language of the Masonic, White-man-hating Black Nation of Islam not to mention that the belief is wholly unbiblical with no evidence in history. Adam is the father of all men, and Noah with his three sons the father of the divinely created four races---Orientals (of Noah), Blacks (of Ham) Whites (of Japheth) and Middle Eastern peoples---Arabs, Jews, etc.---(of Shem). All men are "earth men." (I Corinthians 15:47)

I do not believe white man is truly of this planet which has been highlighted in water tank deprivation tests where all the so called blacks of this planet had the same frequency output (forget the ins and outs) as the Earth but white man had the same as Mars.

Again this belief is wholly of yourself without any biblical support of historical fact. This means that you are your own final authority, which translates into "Do what thou wilt for this is the whole of the law."

Something to bare in mind and when you consider that Blacks, Chinese, Red Indians have knowledge of this planet we needed to steal and how we're so disconnected from Earth regardless of TV's etc this makes more sense.

No doubt that the Chinese and the Native North American Indians have a superb knowledge of Herbal medicine, but they are under the judgment of Romans 1 for not retaining God in their knowledge. Thus they were given up to a host of sins only to produce low cultures and absolute tribal chiefs or absolutist Emperors that have no respect for human life. But the rest of your statement I do not quite understand. Bible rejection produces absolutism ultimately controlled by the devil's White-man-administered Roman papacy. The devil's greatest servants are White. Why would he choose the White race to administer his present earthly kingdom of evil? Why did the devil not choose Blacks or Orientals or Shemites to rule the world for the last 2000 years? There is a reason.

The only way Americans and British can defeat Iraqi Mehdi Army & Republican Guard in guerilla warfare is to call in the airstrikes and this was the case in all their bloody wars.

The Black Pope's CIA rules "the terrorists." The CFR brought Iraq to a place of being able to wage war as proven by Spider's Web: The Secret History of How the White House Illegally Armed Iraq by Alan Friedman. The whole Al Qaeda Terrorist Network is controlled by the Black Pope's high-lever Islamic Freemasons working in conjunction with the Masonic crime family of George Bush. Bin Laden is a Masonic Wahhabi Moslem that was put in power by the CIA and financed by the Black Pope's Rockefeller-built Saudi Arabia---the Black Pope's Oil bonanza. The Vatican has no intention of using America and Britain to "win" this war. It is a Crusade and the predetermined goals of this Crusade will be met as the Jesuits control both sides. We must also not forget that the Iraqis, bless their hearts, expelled the Jesuits in 1969 for which reason the Order installed Masonic Saddam Hussein and then removed him prior to the beginning of the total destruction of Iraq by the Black Pope's American Military Industrial Complex financed by his Federal Reserve Bank.

When in trouble get on the communications and go the easy route with a bomb. There's no way the Americans can win Iraqi's in Guerilla warfare and that's got nothing to do with traitor leaders my friend.

Again, the Order controls both sides for which reason there is no exit stragedy. Much more destruction must be accomplished if the Third Hebrew Temple is yet to be built in the Order's revived, Holy Roman "Kingdom of Jerusalem."

That's the type of war feared by the soldiers themselves. Of course with the technology/ weapons the white man has he can do what he did with Fallujah again going the easy way out and flatten it and just prior to this using chemical weapons of which he used the excuse of to enter the damn country!

This is not "the White man's" policy; it is the White Pope's policy using decieved, race-mixed, sex-mixed, White, Black, Oriental, and Spanish American soldiers fighting in the name of "patriotism."

Quite frankly Mr.Phelps I hope the Mehdi Army & Republican Guard annihilate every last one of the British and American illegal invaders

Well, that is going to happen: as Hitler betrayed his Armies East in the Soviet Union, so will Bush, or America's coming military dictator, betray the American Armies in the Middle East. Hitler deliberately sacrificed three entire armies; Bush will do the same after the calculated destruction is accomplished---including the demolition of the mosques in Mecca, Medina and Jerusalem. Then American can be invaded.

Quite frankly no war is legal because only god could permit a war and neo-cons, Jesuits are not god or certainly not our direct creator to which this power could be given.

This war for America is totally unconstitutional if the Constitution says what it means and means what it says. The Constitution is not a "living document" and needs no "interpretation." Congress has not declared war pursuant to Article I of that document. Agreed, this war is most illegal and unrighteous for the American people as it was intended to be by the Black Pope's CFR that rules the American Empire. This war is further creating worldwide Anti-American fury as mentioned in VA. Before you can invade a nation you must first be given a reason to hate the people of that nation.

I remember when some of the British troops were going to I think California for extra high tech training to deal with Guerilla warfare in Iraq and it still means nothing because they cannot deal with it in real life. Infact theres no greater asymetical warfare mind greater than the Asians.

Indeed, no land war need be fought with any Asian nation (as George Washington advised) if those nations are deprived of our military technology and stratagems, and thus left to themselves to exist as they wish. They need the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ but they also need no interference with their respective governments by the Pope's White menservants of the West. (Let them be convinced to change, not forced to change.) If the Jesuits had not used Commodore Perry to open up Japan to the White men of the West and Europe in 1854 (as Japan had expelled all Whites except the Protestant Dutch, from the Island for over 250 years--called the Ido period (1614-1868)) the Order would neither have caused the Shogun to resign in 1868, nor assassinated Emperor Komei, nor would the Order have created the fascist Japanese Empire whose Masonic Emperor Hirohito kept his fortune with Vatican banks. Thus there would never have been fought the unrighteous WWII---waged not for American freedom but for the Black Pope. The Crusade into Iraq is merely a repeat of the Order's Second Thirty Years' War (1914-1945) and may well last another thirty years.

I would also like to point out the trouble the British had with the African Zulus who were just humans with spears against a so-called great trained army of British with GUNS and look at how the british struggled like hell, its almost laughable.

Again, the Order was in control of Queen Victoria's court. The purpose for the historically Protestant British being garrisoned in Africa was to deliberately sacrifice those White men, further weakening Britain and destroying the original Protestant British Empire. In WWI 100,000 British troops were deliberately sacrificed in Turkey and the Pope's Masonic British General Douglas Haig sacrificed hundreds of thousands of British troops between the "battles" of the Somme and Passchendaele. Again, like in Africa during the 1870s, the defeats were deliberate.

Also I would like to point out that the Israeli's now laugh at Delta Force/U.S and SAS/U.

K. The one big wig in this field from Israel was disgusted with both especially the SAS and made pretty downing remarks against them.

Again, these British and American forces are misled and not allowed to persue a policy of winning---as it was in Vietman.

In the end he decided to use his own forces for the job because they far excelled both the others. I wish I could find his name for you but you may know already.

I believe you on this point. Because Israeli forces are financed by the credit of the Pope's American Federal Reserve Bank, those forces are led by commanders that are intended to win. The Pope's "Kingdom of Jerusalem" (as it was called during the Dark Ages) must ultimately benefit from this Crusade no matter how many Jews are killed within Israel proper. So Israeli commanders outside of the nation can fight to win.

If Western countries didn't need to rely on weapons, why is it they bomb and flatten everywhere before they dare enter such as Bagdhad with the shock & awe? The facts are we're nothing without our fancy weapons and Israeli laser guided bullets and night vision reptilian goggles. A little iraq with none of these and an old fashioned Ak-47 is a far more fearsome opponent than a drugged up, gung ho, one brain celled American fool!

You have a point. The American fighting forces are generally pro-Pope pagans, race-mixed, sex-mixed and drug crazed---as they were in Vietnam. (Beleive me, I know.) There are Black Moslems who "frag" White American troops while there are others, Black, White and Mexican, who will kill their commanders outright. The American military is a mercenary force fighting foreign wars for the benefit of that man of sin in the Vatican. That force has been deliberately weakened with the food and drink given to the soldiers along with the terrible vaccinations---further weakening what was once a White Protestant nation with a Protestant form of government, its ruination being in accordance with the Order's Council of Trent.

Now please remember that in the Gulf War One, Americans killed more British than the Iraqi's through so-called friendly Fire.

That is not true.

Americans are useless in war and a large part is not down to Jesuit traitorism but down to them being so bloody big headed and gung ho fools.

Diagreed. The Americans are not useless in war. If so, why does every nation seek to train their soldiers in American war colleges, including Saudi Arabia? No, the Americans have been race-mixed and sex-mixed which has demoralized the forces. I left the Air Force due to the anti-White, pro-Black racist policies of that system. Blacks dominate everything and seek to fornicate with the White women in uniform as well as with the wives of White soldiers---further demoralizing the Whites who have no recourse. I watched it all for five years and learned many bitter lessons as to the hateful racism of Blacks towards Whites. No fighting force can survive with this constant agitation. This is why NO ARABS can be in the Israeli Army---and rightfully so.

When I talk of Black knowledge being stolen etc I talk about things such as Sumerian knowledge, Babylon etc.

Neither of those peoples were Hamites. You do err in this conclusion. Babylon and Sumer were both Shemitic with Japhetic influences. Sumer is the oldest civilization this side of the Great Flood which had metalurgy, harmony with its musical stringed instruments and a written language with a recorded history---none of which exist in any Black African culture apart from the influence of the Shemitic Moslem Arabs.

The knowledge of tribes like the Dogon Tribe etc! Too many white brainwashed people just assume we are the superior race when infact if we look closely at Sumer and the Sumerian race they had all almost all what we have now.

The Sumerians, like the Egyptians, were not Black, though advanced in many arts. Of course they never had the advanced sciences that White Protestant nations possessed after the Reformation. They had no electricity or artificial light invented through freedom of inquiry due to the private rights secured through the Reformation's Modern Era.

Now what were Sumerians? Little black people with more rounded heads a sort of Somalia type human race.

Disagreed. Please prove this point with an accurate dictionary or encyclopedia.

When I talk of the Kharazian Crusade I do not mean in the 1900's. Remember where we first learn't of this race and it was from Bavaria and Holland.

Incorrect. The Kharzars were well known and their civilization well documented for centuries. The Encyclopedia Britannica, 9th editiion, has much to say about them, which peoples included the higher-classed commercial Whites, then the lower-classed Blacks with a portion of Jews therein.

The Vikings had learn't of this race and the word spread of the Ashenazi's in those two countries and then spread throughout Europe! Again the Khazarians also envisioned a One World Order!

Please document.

Sorry I do not have a photographic memory such as yourself so some things I cannot give names to etc but I assure you what I have said such as the frequency of whites and the Israeli detesting of SAS are correct!

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

The devil's greatest servants are White. Why would he choose the White race to administer his present earthly kingdom of evil? Why did the devil not choose Blacks or Orientals or Shemites to rule the world for the last 2,000 years? There is a reason.

Plese tell me this reason.

Del - September 18, 2005 08:53 AM (GMT)

Blacks dominate everything and seek to fornicate with the White women in uniform as well as with the wives of White soldiers---further demoralizing the Whites who have no recourse.

So...

No White men in the forces ever wanted to fornicate with Black women?

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 18, 2005 02:32 PM (GMT)

This is a tricky one because in many ways Eric is correct and in others hes not quite! I would say that not all white man is working for the devil. Even some white men are still controlled by religion meaning AV1611 protestant religion these wouldn't be working for the devil if their truely religious. Anyone who follows the Roman Catholics and any of their bastard religions such as Islam etc can be classed as willing subjects to the devil. Thus meaning that the devil has many followers not only white but yellow and black etc shame most do not realise this!

After the loss of Malta to General Napoleon Bonaparte most of the Knights return to their country of origin or found refuge and were welcome by Czar Paul I of Russia, Protector of the Order.

Several attempts to control the future of the Order were made. On November 7th 1799, when Czar Paul I impatience to see himself at the head of the Order, after pressing the refugee Knights, accepted their election of him as a Grand Master.

On September 1802 Pope Pius VII conferred the Grand Mastership on the Roman Knight Bartolomeo Ruspoli, who refuse to accept the offer. On February 1803 again Pope Pius VII appointed Giovanni Battista Tommasi of Cortona as Grand Master.

The Spaniard Knights and most of the Hereditary Autonomous Priories and Commanderies did contested, rejected and not recognize this two new branches of the Order recreated and imposed by external powers, foreign to the Order.

On July 6, 1799 Ferdinand von Hompesch zu Bolheim signe his resignation as Grand Master of the Order.

In 1803, Pope Pius VII nominated Giovanni Battista Tommasi of Cortona as Grand Master but his succession was contested and rejected by most of the Autonomous Pories, and the Order was ruled by an elected Grand Lieutenant (Acting Grand Master) until 1954, when a proper Grand Master was elected in the person of HR&IH Prince Nicholas de Ligny-Luxembourg.

Description: More smoke and mirrors in this article

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 16, 2005 03:34 PM (GMT)

Opus Dei was set up by The Society Of Jesus to take over some of the roles of the Vatican. Remember that the Society of Jesus took over the Vatican lock, stock and barrel in 1870 with the Doctrines of Infallibility but was in power really from 1814. Opus Dei could NOT be created without permission from The Jesuits and their General Staff and Superior General -2tuff

Decoding secret world of Opus Dei

The successful novel The Da Vinci Code by Dan Brown has raised public interest in the controversial Catholic lay group Opus Dei, depicting it as a sect focused on wealth and power.

As part of the BBC's Who Runs Your World? series, the BBC's Max Seitz travelled to Spain - the country where Opus Dei was founded and seems to be most influential.

Opus Dei - which in Latin means "Work of God" - has been accused of manipulating its followers, but denies all such claims.

People on the streets of the Spanish capital, Madrid, told me that they believe Opus Dei is a secret society which has infiltrated politics and businesses.

"Opus Dei has a lot of power in Spain, and it's also influential in other countries," one person told me.

"There are lots of things we still don't know about them - they just let us know what they want," said another.

"Opus Dei is a powerful organisation which uses its schools and universities to grow more influential."

Opus Dei saint

But what's the truth behind this perception? Is Opus Dei as powerful as people think?

This Catholic group claims around 85,000 members around the world, one third of them in Spain. Members are encouraged to promote the evangelising mission through their professional work.

In other words, they aim to be very successful in their jobs while at the same time being charitable to other people and trying to attract more followers.

In 2002, thousands of pilgrims from around the world travelled to the Vatican when Pope John Paul II canonised the founder of Opus Dei, Josemaria Escriva de Balaguer, in a "fast track" process only 27 years after his death.

He also granted Opus Dei the status of "personal prelature" - which has given the group some independence within the Catholic Church. That is why some say that Opus Dei grew more influential in the Vatican during the papacy of John Paul II.

But Opus Dei's spokesman Jack Valero denies it: "The number of people from Opus Dei working in the Vatican is very reduced: five or maybe six people, including the spokesman Joaquin Navarro-Valls. The influence of Opus Dei in the Holy See has been exaggerated."

But critics say there are more clergymen with links to Opus Dei, and that they have created a "Church within the Church", something that the Catholic group denies.

Opus Dei has also had prominent representatives among governments and companies, although they usually do not publicly recognise their membership.

The Spanish sociologist Alberto Moncada - himself a former Opus Dei member - explains that the link between Opus Dei and power could be traced back to the 50's, when two representatives of the group were appointed ministers during General Franco's regime.

"Franco's regime was a period of political and economic success for Opus Dei, but at the same time has given the group a bad name," he said.

"People still remember this old time. However, things have changed. Although some members of Opus Dei are active in politics and businesses nowadays, they don't act together like a mafia. That's not true."

The UK education secretary, Ruth Kelly, has recently confirmed reports that she is a member of Opus Dei.

Control

In Latin America, Colombian President Alvaro Uribe is also said to be a member - something he has not confirmed.

Opus Dei's spokesman Jack Valero says religion is something that should be kept private.

"Opus Dei membership is a private matter," he said. "We don't publicise our members list. Some high-profile politicians say publicly that they belong to Opus Dei, yes, but that's not relevant to their job as government officials or congressmen. What's really important is how they do their job."

It is difficult to pin down just how much money Opus Dei has. The group is decentralised into scores of foundations around the world, and it does not publicise its general accounts. Members have to donate a significant part of their income.

But maybe the most overlooked aspect of Opus Dei's power is that it is said to wield over its followers. Accusations have been made of brainwashing and manipulation in centres where celibate members live, the so-called "numeraries".

"Life is schizophrenic in Opus Dei centres," says former numerary Carmen Charo.

"Each member has lots of spiritual tasks to fulfil, like praying, going to mass every day, training other followers, and his or her development as a free person isn't really considered - one is always under the orders of the spiritual leaders, and also under their strict control. The same happens with your money."

Members of Opus Dei respond to these criticisms by saying that they are normal people working in the midst of the world just like anyone else, and that they are free and can leave whenever they want.

"It's a vocation," says Jose Maria Villalon. "You can freely choose your way of life and I have chosen to find God in my work as a member of Opus Dei."

"Someone within the group could have made some mistake, even myself. That's normal in any organisation run by human beings. However I completely deny that people are manipulated or brainwashed."

So are Opus Dei members saints or sinners? Many in Spain say the answer lies somewhere in between.

Title: Hal Turner & other Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 16, 2005 01:40 PM (GMT)

Dear Brethren and Friends,

Intending to spend the day on VAIII I was led to examine the site of Hal Turner (halturnershow.com).

Without question I have concluded that he is a Roman Catholic Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor par excellence. Much of what he says is the truth including the following:

- 1. That Blacks are the lower races, intellectually, culturally and socially; that they are morally inferior to the White races generally speaking although there are individual exceptions (mostly Bible-believing) to this general rule:
- 2. That Blacks left to themselves without the aid of the civilizing effects of White (I might add Bible-reading, Protestant and Baptist) influence (as opposed to anti-Bible, White Roman Catholic influence), they revert back to a condition of savagery being unable to take care of their most basic needs. I might add, all ethnology prior to about 1930 held to this position. Ridpath's Universal History (1899) goes into great detail on this point which quotes I will be forwarding in the future. Dr. Peter Ruckman (whom I believe is also an Arminian, anti-Calvinist, anti-Reformation, pro-heretic Michael Servetus, AV1611-distorting, cultic Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor---as he never endorsed anti-Jesuit VA in any form or fashion) has well said that it is either "back to the Bible or back to the jungle."
- 3. That Whites and Blacks can never live together under one government so stated by Lincoln himself. The government must be a government for White men (thus White Supremacist) or a government for Black men (thus Black Supremacist): since about 1954 White Americans has been afflicted with (a Jesuit-controlled, Masonically induced, CFR-ruled) Black Supremacist government evidenced by a myriad of anti-White programs including the wicked "Affirmative Action."

4. That the behavior of the Savage Blacks of New Orleans proves his assertions, as I too have said the same for the last five years. (I have stated that the Order has USED the Savage Blacks---led by intelligent, Masonic, mulatto-Blacks controlled by the Company---to destroy historic White Protestant culture (thus White supremacy) including rampant crime against all Whites regardless of their religious faiths. The same has been done to the historic and now apostate White Protestants in England, Rhodesia, Australia and South Africa as part of the Order's program of destroying White Protestant Western Civilization.

5. That President Bush is a danger to our nation (as I have said from the beginning); that the war in Iraq is a crime and illegal (which I have also said on innumerable occasions) and that all Whites (Roman Catholics and Protestants alike) should unite under his White nationalism which is of course coupled with Socialism and thus subject to Romanism, the Vatican being the champion of all political socialism regardless of the "ism." (I too am a "White nationalist," but also a separatist, advocating the establishment of a new White nation in North America, which nation must be not only White, but English-speaking, Reformation Bible-based and a haven for Baptists and Protestants to the exclusion of all Masonry, Roman Hierarchy and Jesuits. True free enterprise must be the governing economic maxim with the Jews enjoying a political haven during their Diaspora as they have enjoyed in all historic White Protestant nations of the past. The policies of Masonic and yet Protestant, anti-Jesuits George Washington, Frederick the Great and Prince Otto von Bismarck sustain the enduring tenet.

This brings me to my final point. Hal Turner is fanatically anti-Jew calling them "hook nosed kikes," blaming the Jews for every historic crime for which the papacy is in fact the culprit. This is Jesuitism at its finest! Mr. Turner blames the Mossad for the 911 fiasco never declaring that it was created and trained by the Order's SS/CIA; he blames the Jews for the control of the Press with no mention whatsoever of the CFR; he blames the Jews for the control of the military also with no mention of the Joint Chiefs of Staff being members of the CFR; and he blames the Jews for controlling the Bush Administration, with no mention that the majority of the President's administration are CFR members. (The Order's Fox, CBS, NBC, ABC, and CNN also never mention the CFR. Indeed the spin never stops with continual a "bloviating,"--- that most descriptive word having been coined by another American statesman given the Order's "poison cup," President Warren G. Harding.) This goes without saying that Mr. Turner hates Israel and was a New Right Republican supporter of Presidential candidate, Georgetown Jesuit trained, pro-Federal Reserve Bank, Knight of Malta Pat Buchanan. Jesuit-trained Buchanan's advisors include Jesuit Georgetown Law Professor Jesuit

Therefore, demagogue Hal Turner is the inflammatory, Jesuit-trained, Joseph Goebbels of our day. He resides in New Jersey, not far from the Order's Saint Peter's College in Jersey City. He is eloquent, brilliant, informed and has arisen just at the time of the beginning of the the Black Pope's Third Thirty Years' War (2000). Turner is a gripping speaker and is fast becoming the spokesman for all White Americans (Catholic and Protestant alike) so brutalized by American Savage Blacks and so discriminated against via the Order's CFR-controlled Black supremacist government in Washington, D.C. Turner is a political ecumenicist---uniting Protestants and Catholics alike under the banner of opposing Black savagery (as I too am pro-White and oppose Black Savagery), while leading his followers into the abyss of White National Socialism----as did Adolf Hitler. As Hitler opposed Bavarian secession, even so Turner would also (by inference) oppose the secession of any White state, calling upon the removal of all North American Blacks back to Africa by force and "in chains." (He knows how to verbally and easily ignite ignorant Black savage rage further proving his point to the listener.) Remember Hitler would never have arisen to power without capitalizing upon legitimate grievances of the White German people, of Protestant Prussia and Catholic Bavaria alike. Highly visible Masonic Jewish Bolsheviks (secretly backed by the Roman Hierarchy and Jesuits), led in the murder of thousands of Protestants in Prussia in 1938 as well as inflicting a reign of terror on Bavarian Roman Catholics in 1919---all of which "Jewish Bolshevism" was overseen by the Pope's Roman Hierarchy, Munich Archbishop Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber in particular.

In conclusion and with this caution, I will continue to forward certain articles of these Jesuit Coadjutors, which articles I believe to be true in light of corresponding data. These agents of Rome include Alex Jones, Dr. Stan Monteith, Kay Griggs and any other brilliant, credible sources who ultimately blame "the globalists, " the Masons," "the Illuminati," or "the Jews" as being the true cabal behind world events and thus the destruction of our nation. This does not mean I approve of their Jesuit masters or incendiary rhetoric; what it means is that I am in agreement with what they say on a particular point forwarded to you.

Now if this offends you, dear brethren and friends on the list, then please let me know and I will remove you. We are responsible, thinking adults with a knowledge of both the Bible and true history for which reason I wrote VA. Therefore we must examine every boldly asserted view to the end that we can speak intelligently concerning the detailed opinions of these coadjutors. Therefore, when these deceiving devils are right on a post of theirs, I will promote it if in agreement with my points and position (like Turner's report of a Chinese military presence in Panama for which reason a Chinese-controlled company, Hutchinson Wimpoa, purchased the Panama Canal), with the caution that they are indeed Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

This post just furthers my opinion that Eric Jon Phelps is so blinded by race hatred that he cannot be trusted to discern the truth. It also concerns me that he accuses the Jesuits of hating our freedoms, but in this post alone he advocates the elimination of the 1st amendment and basic human rights of freedom of religion, right to assemble and right to live where you want. He accuses the KKK and NOI of fostering race hatred and trying to start a race war when that appears to be what HE is doing here.

The Bible states that Jesus knows NEITHER Jew nor Greek.

Jesus says we are to love one another as he loves us. NOT love only those who have the same skin color.

Also his statement that if we do not like his post he will remove us, then it is basically saying that if you disagree with his infallibility then he will anathematize you. Sound familiar?

Title: Louis "TEMPORAL" Farrakhan causing trouble as plan

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 16, 2005 02:31 PM (GMT)

Eric,

Seems the Masonic twisted liar Farrakhan has jumped on the band wagon with the Leeves and pushing hard to create yet more friction which eventually will lead to what you have exposed, a race war to destabilise America leading up to the Sino-Soviet invasion. I only wish more could see through these devious Black Pope slaves!

Louis Farrakhan: Levees Were 'Blown Up'

Wednesday, Sept. 14, 2005 8:06 p.m. EDT

<http://www.newsmax.com/archives/ic/2005/9/14/201055.shtml>

Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan is telling his followers that the levees in New Orleans may have been deliberately "blown up" to kill the city's black population.

The influential preacher was in Charlotte, North Carolina, on Monday, where he detailed his Hurricane Katrina conspiracy theory.

"I heard from a very reliable source who saw a 25 foot deep crater under the levee breach," Farrakhan explained. "It may have been blown up to destroy the black part of town and keep the white part dry."

Farrakhan didn't say who he thought was behind the plot to blow up New Orleans' levees.

The Muslim minister also blasted both FEMA and the Red Cross, saying their response to Katrina victims after the levees were blown up was inadequate.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 12, 2005 09:27 PM (GMT)

Dear Kathelee,

I shall briefly respond below.

Sent: Sunday, September 11, 2005 2:54 PM

Subject: The forbidden subject

This is very upsetting to read as well. It's on the same lines of thinking of the occult who believe most of society are 'useless eaters,' Disagreed. I neither said this nor implied the same. I merely gave you simple historical facts which are easy to validate.

It's not giving anyone a chance to learn and grow. The Calvinistic doctrine i believe proports some of this. Calvin was a luciferian decever.

Disagreed. God chose to save a White French priest and make him one of the foundations for the birth of the Modern Era via the Reformation. Have you ever read his Institutes? Without John Calvin there would have been the setting back of the Pope's Dark Ages. Breaking the Pope's Temporal Power was a result of breaking his Spiritual Power by getting the Bible into the hands of the common man of what worked out to be the White Anglo-Saxon Northern European Nations. Without the English Reformation there is no Protestant English Bill of Rights of 1689 or Protestant American Bill of Rights of 1789. It is political and historical fact that the fighting White Anglo Saxon Calvinists gave political liberty to the world---as God was in the working of these events if we believe that He is indeed sovereign over the affairs of men. (Daniel 4:32-37, etc.)

Where does it say in the Bible that God chose the superior White races? That's blasphemy to say the least.

Disagreed. This is not blasphemy; it is history. Please read my response to this carefully. The koine (common)Greek language is the most definitive language ever written. This is a fact. The Greek language is a language of a White race--the Greeks. That Greek NT was later translated into the Old Latin Bible---not the evil Latin Vulgate of Rome---which language is also the language of a White race---the Romans. A few centuries later the Greek NT was translated into Luther's Bible, which language is also the tongue of another White race---the Germans. A few years later God chose a White Bible-believing man to translate the Greek NT into English. That man is the father of the English Bible, William Tyndale, the greatest Greek scholar in Europe whose teacher was another White Bible-believer, Desiderius Erasmus.

Over the centuries the White nations who embraced the Bibles written in their own "vulgar" tongues became the great shippers and employers of the world, i.e. the Dutch, the British and the Americans. These commercial White shipping nations then brought White Bible-believing, mostly Calvinistic, evangelists to the ends of the earth in fulfilling the Great Commission of Matthew 28:19-20. The White churches of these White nations tilled the land, sold their crops and gave their hard-earned money to the missionaries of their churches in obedience to the risen Lord Jesus Christ's command to preach the gospel in all the world. Neither Black nor Oriental nations were used for this specific purpose. The salvation of most Black men and Oriental men can be traced to some White missionary who also gave these peoples Bibles in their own languages.

Meanwhile these very White Protestant nations, in reading their Bibles in their own languages, did not persecute the Jews in their midst as was the policy of these very White Roman Catholic nations prior to the Reformation. White Protestant England, White Reformed Holland, White Lutheran Germany, White Protestant and Baptist America, White Protesant Canada and White Reformed South Africa all served as places of refuge for the Jews during their international Disapora, which worldwide Disapora was foretold by Moses (Deut. 28).

Thus, for these TWO reasons, coupled with the proveable fact that the White nations are intellectually superior to Black and Oriental nations---which fact is fanatically shouted down by the Order's socialist-communist "liberals" of our day allowing no forum whatsoever for informative debate---God greatly blessed these nations in accordance with his Word, "Blessed be the nation whose God is the Lord." (Psalm 33:12) This is the source for the creation of the first Protestant British Empire (1588-1763) and the American Republic of these United States of America (1787-1868). We Americans became known as "the Inventive Americans" securing more patents than any other nation. We invented concrete, electricity, FM band radio, artificial lighting and nearly all that composes modern civilization of today.

These are facts; I have given you the reasons behind these facts, which include White intellectual supremacy if the Whites are not hampered by tyrannical governments---like the one in Washington today---destroying our Bible-based public schools. White intellectual supremacy is a gift and this the Whites have a greater responsibility to advance the nations intellectually, via Biblically-based science and free inquiry. To whom much is given much is required.

Where does it say the prosperity of historic White Protestant Northern European nations was their belief in the Reformation Bible?

This is a fact of history. The Reformation Bible of Germany, England and Holland were translations from the Textus Receptus and thus were the Word of God for those anti-pope, Protestant peoples. Their cultural prosperity and advanced civilizations then emerged after the Dark Ages which formally ended in 1648 with the end of the Pope's Thirty Years' War.

Where does it say HE created the SUPERIOR White race?

God created the White race in the person of Japheth. (Genesis 6:10) His descendants have proven their intellectual supremacy in the arts, science and warfare. Go to any museum of natural history and test this conclusion with the exhibits. (When in the museums of London, New York City, Toronto, Denver and Birmingham, I witnessed this firsthand. Even the governing Pharaohs of Egypt were White, including Cleopatra, though they were in "the land of Ham," the Blacks.) Thus we have the World empires of Greece and Rome, though pagan to the extreme. Babylon and Persia were Shemitic. There has never been a great world empire that was Black.

with their definitive White languages??????

Name one spoken and written language that is more definitive than Koine Greek.

which HE instituted?

God instituted diverse spoken languages, further separating the races and nations, at the Tower of Babel (Genesis 11:7-8).

and individual prosperity for not persecuting the Jews?

This is a promise found in Genesis 12:1-3 along with several other passages. When the Moslem Turkish Empire took in the Jews when Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain expelled them in 1492, Islamic arts greatly excelled for 200 years, especially in geometry and architecture. The treatment of resident Jews within one's nation determines its blessing or cursing from the hand of the Lord Jesus at the right hand of his Father in heaven to whom has been given all power in heaven and in EARTH (Matthew 28:18).

This is all vulgar blasphemy and it's racist to the core.

This is neither vulgar (as is profanity) nor blasphemy nor is it HATEFULLY racist. It is both biblical and historical; and indeed, God is a RACIST as proven from the Scriptures in my previous response to Cata. The One who created the races with their inherent differences and purposes is indeed a distinguisher of the very races He created. And as I have said many times, the reason God created the races (contrary to the lying, unscientific, fanatically religious fairy tale of "evolution"), rests in the fact that there were no diverse races or languages prior to the Flood. Thus His sovereign creation of the races was and is to keep mankind SEPARATE---lest we unite against God as we did prior to the Flood and at the Tower of Babel.

I don't believe God is racists...I'd like to see some substantive documentation to this?

Given below: (Matthew 15, etc.)

How Christians can be so caught up in this ego and blasphemy is beyond me...

I have not attributed anything to God that I cannot prove from the entire witness of the Scriptures. You then insult me by calling me "egotistic" when I have endeavored to give a detailed explanation for my non-hateful, biblically racist position.

but it shows the need to be together to educate one another and that no one person has all of God's word....I just transcribed an audio from Barbara Aho last night and in it she emphasises that what Christians say and do stays with others for a long time. We are the witnesses to Gods, Jesus, Messiahs Yeshua's testimony and there are going to be fewer and fewer true witnesses for people to learn from. I can only say we all will individually stand before God and be responsible for ourselves.

Of course; II Cor.5:10 if you are saved, and Revelation 20:11-15 if you are lost.

I hope Sister Cata will rethink and stay on the group. We are all in need of learning from one another and leaving will not help us to grow in spiritually and God's truth.

Agreed. Cata has remained on the list.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Quite an interesting narration. What the author omitted was that the prosperity of historic White Protestant Northern European nations was their belief of the Reformation Bible and the living by its principles bringing blessing from the risen Son of God.

God chose the superior intellectual White races---which He created---with their definitive White languages---which He instituted---and individual prosperity---due to His blessing for obedience to His Word and not persecuting the Jews while in dispersion--- to spread the gospel to the ends of the earth---creating the colossus of White Protestant Western Civilization.

I have to strongly disagree with Eric. No group of people are inferior to another. Many Black civilizations were in fact global, which is a fact. Eric is wrong on that point. It is true that many White people contributed greatly to the Kingdom of Christ, but that doesn't mean that black people in ancient times never did or that Black people never made any advanced civilization. God's Word said that all believers are one, all men are born in sin, all men originated from one man, and all men can be saved equally. This has nothing to do with liberal propaganda, but a Biblical and Scientific fact. I know tons of black people who made accomplishments in a wide variety of fields and they weren't intellectually inferior to white people at all. Black people created tons of civilizations and aren't intellectual inferior then centuries ago or now.

Plus, I'm black and I've debated and refuted many White Freemasons, 7th Day Adventists, racists, etc. Just because certain people show the gospel across the globe in higher levels, doesn't mean that one group of people are superior to another. Eric, apparently hasn't look at all of real Black history. Yes, God chooses, but that doesn't mean I'm better than you. God choose the Hebrews to create most of God's Word, but God didn't say that the Hebrews were superior to the Gentiles. God's Word says that there is neither Greek nor Jew, but we are all one in Christ Jesus. I can cite tons and I do mean tons of Scriptural references to back up my position. It's time to let the truth be known for real and end the constant stereotyping and lying of our people. I'm not intellectually inferior to any white man at all. Here's Malcolm X's words for starters:

ANCIENT AFRICAN CIVILIZATIONS

Now then, once you see that the conditions that we're in is directly related to our lack of knowledge concerning the history of the Black man, only then can you realize the importance of knowing something about the history of the Black man.

But if you want to take the time to do research for yourself, I think you'll find that on the African continent there was always, prior to the discovery of America, there was always a higher level of history, rather a higher level of culture and civilization, than that which existed in Europe at the same time. At least 5,000 years ago they had a Black civilization in the Middle East called the Sumerians. Now when they show you the pictures of the Sumerians they try and make you think that they were White people. But if you go and read some of the ancient manuscripts or even read between the lines of some of the current writers, you'll find that the Sumerian civilization was a very dark-skinned civilization, and it existed prior even to the existence of the Babylonian empire, right in the same area where you find Iraq and the Tigris-Euphrates rivers. It was a black-skinned people who lived there, who had a high state of culture way back then.

And at a time even beyond this there was a black-skinned people in India, who were Black, just as Black as you and I, called Dravidians. They inhabited the sub-continent of India even before the present people that you see living there today, and they had a high state of culture. The present people of India even looked upon them as gods; most of their statues, if you'll notice, have pronounced African features. You go right to India today--in their religion, which is called Buddhism, they give all their Buddhas the image of a Black man, with his lips and his nose, and even show his hair all curled up on his head; they didn't curl it up, he was born that way. And these people lived in that area before the present people of India lived there.

The Black man lived in the Middle East before the present people who are now living there. And he had a high culture and a high civilization, to say nothing about the oldest civilization of all that he had in Egypt along the banks of the Nile. And in Carthage in northwest Africa, another part of the continent, and at a later date in Mali and Ghana and Songhai and Moorish civilization--all of these civilizations existed on the African continent before America was discovered.

Now the Black civilization that shook the white man up the most was the Egyptian civilization, and it was a Black civilization. It was along the banks of the Nile which runs through the heart of Africa. But again this tricky white man, and he's tricky--and mind you again, when I say this, it's not a racist statement. Some of them might not be tricky, but all of them I've met are tricky. And his civilization shows his trickiness. The tricky White man was able to take the Egyptian civilization, write books about it, put pictures in those books, make movies for television and the theatre--so skillfully that he has even convinced other white people that the ancient Egyptians were White people themselves. They were African, they were as African as you and I. And he even gave the clue away when he made this movie, "King Solomon's Mines," and he showed the Watusis, you know, with their Black selves, and he outright admitted in there that they looked like the ancient pharaohs of ancient Egypt. Which means that the White man himself, he knows that the Black man had this high civilization in Egypt, whose remains today show the Black man in that area had mastered mathematics, had mastered architecture, the science of building things, had even mastered astronomy.

IN REFUTATION OF THE BELL CURVE

By AHATI N. N. TOURE

Posted by RUNOKO RASHIDI

If there were any validity to the notion that Europeans are or have ever been permanently and by nature superior to Afrikans -- and that Afrikans are hopelessly inferior to them -- we would see this played out in history. History is, after all, the record of a people's accomplishments and failures. History would uphold the irrefutable record of European superiority over Afrikans since time immemorial.

That history would be able to do such a thing would be a miraculous feat indeed, especially when one considers that Europeans came into being 130,000 years after Afrikans had inhabited the entire planet and that they themselves are descendants of those Afrikans who found themselves trapped in Europe's great ice age roughly 30,000 years ago.

In other words, if white supremacy were something that could pretend to be scientifically verified at all, we should be able to demonstrate in history that at no time were Europeans not superior to Afrikans by any measure we care to look at.

This is precisely the argument of the nineteenth century white supremacist scholars Josiah C. Nott and George R. Gliddon, who held that the "caucasian races ... have always been the representatives of civilization." Unlike all other peoples in the world, the Caucasian has never adopted any other peoples' religions and has never been ruled by others, they boasted. The Caucasian can take credit for all the great sciences, invention, literature, poetry, religion and the most celebrated names in human history.

The white supremacist intellectual John Campbell, in his 1851 refutation, Negro-Mania: Being An Examination of the Falsely Assumed Equality of the Various Races of Man, rather hysterically agreed. "I take it for granted that no dark race of man has ever been equal to the white race." Indeed, insisted Campbell, "never at any given time from the most infinitely remote antiquity until now, has there ever appeared a race of negroes, that is men with woolly heads, flat noses, thick and protruding lips, who has ever emerged from a state of savageism or barbarism, to even demi civilization."

Real scholarship could not uphold that fiction and a few courageous European scholars broke ranks with the conspiracy of fabrication and acknowledged the historical realities. Constantin de Volney, a French scholar who visited Egypt between 1783-1785, remarked that the "ancient Egyptians were true Negroes of the same type as all native-born Africans. ... Just think that this race of black men, today our slave and the object of our scorn, is the very same race to which we owe our arts, sciences and even the use of speech!"

Another French scholar during the earlier part of the twentieth century noted that "An African country, Egypt, thousands of years old, still presents, practically intact today, the most venerable monuments of antiquity. At a time when all Europe was only savagery, when Paris and London were swamps, when Rome and Athens uninhabited sites, Africa already possessed an antique civilization in the valley of the Nile; it had populous cities, the labor of generations on the same soil, great public works, sciences and arts; it had already produced gods."

In a most surprising admission, the nineteenth century French scholar Jean-Francois Champollion, the reputed father of Egyptology, said of Europeans during the time of the Afrikan pharaohs: "what we call flesh-colored, a white skin of the most delicate shade, a nose straight or slightly arched, blue eyes, blond or reddish beard, tall stature and very slender, clad in hairy ox-skin, [was] a veritable savage tattooed on various parts of his body."

Of the peoples known to Afrikans of the ancient world, Champollion said Europeans were the least advanced. "I am ashamed to say so, since our race is the last and most savage," he admits. "Europeans ... in those remote epochs did not cut too fine a figure in the world. In this category we must include all blonds and white-skinned people living not only in Europe, but Asia as well."

One twentieth century Euro-American scholar made the rather remarkable statement in a text on western civilization that the chief accomplishment of Europeans prior to the Greeks was to leave mounds of garbage heaps as a legacy of European civilization. And as regards the ancient Greeks, even the nineteenth century French archaeologist Abbe Emile Amelineau objected to the false credit given to them as the creators of so-called western civilization. "I fail to see why ancient Greece should reap all the honor for ideas she borrowed from Egypt," he said.

Europeans had more than one low point in their time during which they faced Afrikans who were more advanced. Muslim Afrikans, known as Moors, who conquered and ruled southern Spain for nearly 800 years beginning in 715 CE, helped pull Europe out of its period of ignorance, the so-called Dark Ages, which lasted from 500 to 1000 CE. "At a time when even European kings could not read or write and 99 percent of Christian Europe was illiterate, the Moors made education universal," notes one scholar. "And in the 10th and 11th centuries when Europe had no public libraries and only two significant universities, the Moors gave Spain more than 70 public libraries, built Spain seventeen famous universities and established an observatory at Seville."

The lesson here is that every one has fallen on hard times at one time or another -- even Europeans. Based on the historical record, it would have been quite easy for someone to have argued that Europeans were hopelessly inferior to Afrikans. What we know to be true, however, is that all peoples have achieved greatness in their own ways. All have experienced their glorious highs and their embarrassing lows. This is simply the nature of the human experience.

The Exegesis.

*The Word of the Living God is sharper than any two-edged sword. It breaks false doctrines, lies, racism, and stereotypes. Almighty God is absolute truth. There is not a view in the Bible that shows God as racist or a bigot. Racism means anyone claiming that people of any culture or race are inferior primarily intellectually or anyone having hatred for someone by virtue of their race. The truth is that God called us to give the Gospel unto all Creation, so we aren't called to restrict the Gospel unto our race alone. To restrict the gospel on the basis of someone's race is breaking God's commandments period. The Bible supports interracial pulpits then. The apostles went across the world converting people of many races and backgrounds. Christianity is open for all men. It's funny that Eric talks about the Greek language when the Greeks got their alphabet from the Hamitic Phoenicians. Hamitic Black Nubians had their Meriotic alphabet and the Sumerians had their cuneiform system as well. That's very ironic. Much of the Greek architecture and culture originated from Hamitic Egypt. Many of the Greek and Roman intellectuals came to Egypt for their own education. Now, here's a exegesis of the truth blowing what anyone would distort:

1). Kidnapping people to be slaves is forbidden in the OT (Exodus 21:16) (you can get killed for that back then) and in the NT it's called men stealing (1 Timothy 1:10), which is a sin.

2).Also, many black slaves escaped and were hunted, but the OT forbids catching run away slaves (Deuteronomy 23:15-16), so there's another proof proving that the American form of slavery unto black people is forbidden. The bible forbids oppressing the neighbor wrongfully (Ezekiel 22:29). To support the American-form of slavery is a lie.

3). At first, I didn't agree with interracial marriage and I thought it was wrong. Today, I agree with interracial marriage among believers for many reasons. One is that many individuals in the Bible done it like Moses marrying a black Ethiopian woman (Numbers 12:1).

4). Joseph married an Egyptian (Genesis 46:20), and Rahab, a Canaanite married an Israelite (Rahab is in Jesus' lineage at Matthew 1:5-6). So, God never forbids interracial marriage among believers, but God forbids inter-faith marriages with unbelieving foreign women like Solomon did and other apostates. (1 Kings 11:1-2)

5). The OT and NT accept the believing neighbor regardless of race into their fold. The believing stranger was to be treated as an Israelite. (Ezekiel 47:22, Leviticus 19:34, Isaiah 56:3, Numbers 15:15-16, Isaiah 14:1). So, integration of believers is supported. Yes, there is separation of unbelievers and pagans, but not among all believers. Not to mention, that in Revelation, all kindred are together living in the eternal kingdom of God on Earth. (Revelation 7:9) They are worshipping God together and they will integrate in the Eternal Kingdom forever refuting Eric's opinions alone.

6). Many verses that distorters use to condemn interracial marriage from Ezra 9:14, Deut. 7:3-4, etc. are all about forbidding the Hebrew people to worship false gods. It had nothing to do with race, but their religious practices during that time.

7). Weren't Simon, a Canaanite integrated with the other Jewish apostles? (Matthew 10:4, Mark 3:10) Simon the Canaanite was a famous apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ. In Acts, a black man called Niger fellowshiped with other men in Turkey. (Acts 13:1) The Bible says that we aren't to judge by someone's appearance, but by righteous judgment (John 7:4). If we judge men by their skin color, we think carnally and with a pagan mindset.

8). The Bible makes firm distinctions in language, culture, or ethnic groups, not race necessarily, since race is never mentioned in the Bible. Many scientists say that there is only 0.2% genetic variation that exists among all people on Earth. There is only 0.012% genetic differences among so-called "races" like eye color, skin color, and other physical differences between people. Even the word race has changed over time and many anthropologists call race as not a reality, but a social construct.

9). The Bible says that from one blood God created all men, so we all have the same origin. (Acts 17:26) Why do some people feel that people are less gifted intellectually when we have the same origin from God? Many black men and women are geniuses and intellectual giants. Therefore, despite differences between genders and cultures, all humans are intellectually equal. Any human can be extremely intellectual by legitimate, firm education and time. Take a look at me. I'm black, I've made straight As in the 5th grade and 7th grade, so I'm not intellectually inferior to anyone.

10). The Bible says that all believers in Christ are one. (Galatians 3:28, Romans 1:25, Colossians 3:11) Every single human being is equal spiritually under Christ as set forth in the Holy Scriptures. Yes, God divided mankind after the Flood and the Tower of Babel, but all believers are connected under him and can have fellowship to worship God together. That's why you have people hating Protestants and Baptists, because of false teachers distorting what the Bible says.

11). Even the OT allows foreign believers to worship in Israel, so that the HOUSE OF THE LORD IS FOR ALL PEOPLE. (Isaiah 56:3-7, II Chronicles 6:32-33) 12). In Acts 8:27-29, the Jewish apostate Phillip integrated with the black Ethiopian man and converted him to Christianity.

12). The Bible gives verses that allows foreign neighbors to fellowship with the Jewish people in integration of believers (Ezekiel 47:22, Leviticus 19:34, Acts 8:27-29, Numbers 15:15-16). You guys forgotten about that concept. All believers are equal spiritually again. Equality doesn't mean that all people are identical in every fashion since men aren't identical physically to women, but it does mean that all believers are equal in salvation, equal in worth, and in the capability of intelligence to receive the Holy Spirit.

13). God is no respecter of persons. (Romans 2:11, Colossians 3:25) I don't believe Eric Jon Phelps is a racist or a shill, but believes in some false ideals about Race. I don't hate white people, Mexicans, or any other people. I respect Eric's contribution in fighting against the evil Jesuit Order and all Secret Societies. I think he is doing a service in doing that, but he's wrong on this issue. I am a black man and this truth is what many people don't want to tell you.

14). Christ's first coming was all about converting the Jewish people, so Christ didn't try to convert Gentiles explicitly and called them "dogs." On the otherhand, that in no way denoted a pure segregation of believers or that God hated people individually. In the OT, unbelievers are called dogs. Many Jewish apostates were harshly criticized in the Bible as well. Just because people are called dogs, doesn't mean that God doesn't care equally for all men. What Eric Jon Phelps don't want you to know is that: "He[Jesus Christ] healed both Jew and Gentile, including Canaanites,⁷ Syrophoenicians,⁸ and Samaritans.⁹ In addition to healing those of other races, Jesus proclaimed the gospel to those of other races when He met them. The woman at the well is a prime example. When Jesus asked her for a drink, her first reaction was disbelief that he would even talk to her, since she was a Samaritan." (From <http://www.godandscience.org/apologetics/racism.html>)

15). We are to never treat our neighbor wrongfully. (Ezekiel 22:29, Deuteronomy 10:17-18).

16). Only Canaan was cursed not Ham period or his other sons period. (Genesis 9:22-25).

HENCE, BLACK PEOPLE HAVE CREATED MANY GLOBAL, ADVANCED CIVILIZATIONS THROUGHOUT HUMAN HISTORY AND MANY BLACK PEOPLE

TODAY ARE EXTREMELY ALTHETLIC AND INTELLECTUALLY INTELLIGENT. THEREFORE, THERE IS FULL SPIRITUAL EQUALITY AMONG ALL HUMAN BEINGS THAT ARE BELIEVERS. ALL HUMANS (WICKED OR SAVED) ARE IN FACT BORN EQUAL FOR WE ARE ALL BORN EQUAL IN SIN, WE ALL ORIGINATED FROM ADAM, ALL OF US BORN WILL GO TO HEAVEN IF WE DIE AS INFANTS, AND ALL HUMAN BEING INHERITED THE CURSE FROM ADAM AND EVE. ALL MEN ARE BORN EQUAL. ANYONE WHO SAYS OTHERWISE ARE LIVING IN FALSE DOCTRINE AND I DON'T CARE WHO IT IS. I HAVE SEEN NO OTHER EVIDENCE TO REFUTE WHAT I'M WRITING HERE. ALSO, INTERRACIAL MARRIAGE AMONG BELIEVERS IS PERMITTED IN THE BIBLE. THERE IS NOT A SINGLE WORD THAT FORBIDS INTERRACIAL MARRIAGE AMONG BELIEVERS IN THE OT OR NT. ANYONE WHO SAYS OTHERWISE IS SOMEONE MISTAKEN OR A LIAR. I DON'T CARE WHO IT IS. NOW, THE BALL IS IN YOUR COURT. ANY RACIST AND DISTORTERS HAVE NOTHING MORE TO SAY AND I WILL QUOTE THIS UNTIL THE END OF MY LIFE. UNTIL I HAVE MY LAST BREATH ON THIS EARTH, I WILL DEFEND THE HISTORY OF MY PEOPLE AND ALL BIBLE BELIEVING CHRISTIANS GLOBALLY. MANY RACISTS FORGOTTEN THAT THE BIBLE SAYS THAT ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE TO THOSE THAT BELIEVE SO ANY GROUP OF PEOPLE CAN MAKE ADVANCED ACHIEVEMENT BY THEMSELVES WITH HOPE, EDUCATION, FAITH, ACTION, AND EFFORT. ALMIGHTY GOD KNOWS THIS TRUTH AND ALMIGHTY GOD WILL END THESE STEREOTYPES AND LIES IN THE END.

THE HEART OF RACISM IS THAT A MAN IS NOT A MAN. AS FOR REPARATIONS, REPARATIONS HAVE BEEN SEEN FOR JAPANESE, JEWISH, AND OTHER ETHNIC GROUPS FOR DECADES, YET WHEN BLACK PEOPLE CALL FOR IT, IT'S BEGGING. THAT MAKES ME SICK. UNFORTUNATELY IT'S HARD FOR BLACK PEOPLE TO CALL FOR IT, BECAUSE TIME HAS PAST AND THE SLAVES THEMSELVES ARE NO LONGER IN EXISTENCE. THE CONCEPT OF REPARATIONS THOUGH IS BIBLICAL. ALEXANDRA NEEDS TO REALIZE THAT. AS FOR WEAPONS, IT WAS THE ORIENTAL ASIANS FOR THE MOST PART THAT GAVE EUROPEANS THE TECHNOLOGY OF GUNPOWDER AND AFRICANS PLUS MIDDLE EASTERNERS WHO GAVE EUROPEANS MUCH OF THE ARTITECTURE, ART, RELIGION, ETC. THAT YOU SEE IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION TODAY. DISPITE WHAT PEOPLE MAY SAY, BLACK PEOPLE IN GENERAL ARE NOT BEGGING OR HAVING A PITY PARTY. MOST BLACK PEOPLE WANT REAL FREEDOM NOT LIES AND STEREOTYPES. RACISM IS STILL HERE IN AMERICA AND WE MUST DO OUR PART TO STOP IT. JUST BECAUSE SOME WHITE PEOPLE HAVE BAD EXPERIENCES DOESN'T DENOTE THAT ALL BLACKS ARE SELFISH AND EVIL. MY LITTLE BROTHER LAUGHED AT SOME OF ERIC'S COMMENTS ABOUT RACE. HE SAID ERIC WAS FULL OF IT. THEY DON'T CALL ME TRUTHSEEKER24 FOR NOTHING. I'VE GOT THE GOODS AND I'M APT TO DEFEND MY PEOPLE.

Note by Me: I don't agree with this site's Chrisitan bashing, but this is the fruit of many people who claim that black people in general are inferior to whites and even today they sell those pack of lies to people globally. I'm sick of it and Almighty God is sick of it. I HEARD THAT ONE MAN EVEN CALL INTERRACIAL MARRIAGE BREEDING, WHICH IS COMPARING THAT TO ANIMALS. THAT IS IGNORANT OF COURSE. I WILL NOT LET MY PEOPLE TO BE SLANDERED AS HAVING MADE NO ADVANCED CONTRIBUTIONS TO SOCIETY. Here's a link refuting many of the lies about black people. I know you racists hate this, but it's the truth:

TOP TEN LIES AND MYTHS ABOUT BLACK PEOPLE

Lies, myths and racist propaganda has been part of the culture of lands like India, Europe, East Asia, the Arab lands, the Americas and worldwide for thousands of years. MANY OF THESE LIES SUCH AS THE "CURSE OF HAM" (IT WAS ACTUALLY CANAAN WHO WAS 'CURSED."), WERE USED TO JUSTIFY GENOCIDE AND ENSLAVEMENT BY PEOPLE WHO FOLLOW ALL RELIGIONS THAT DERIVED FROM THE HEBREW BIBLE.

Lies like the 'demonization' of the great Black Rakshasa kings of Black India by the invaders of white Eurasian origins is another example. In this case as in the case of the Semites and Europeans' religions, the Black race was deliberately demonized as part of the establishment of sanctified racism in religion. The core of these lies was and is ENVY, JEALOUSY AND A FEELING OF INFERIORITY BY THE MYTH-MAKERS AND LIARS.

Darryl James a syndicated columnist and author presents the TOP TEN MYTHS ABOUT BLACKS:

"1. THERE ARE MORE BLACK MEN IN PRISON THAN IN COLLEGE
FALSE:

The numbers that people quote are ALL the Black men in prison, verses ONLY the free young Black en of college age, which spans the late teens to the early twenties.

The misleading "evidence" comes from studies such as the one conducted in 2000 by the Justice Policy Institute, a Washington-based research group. JPI found that there were 791,600 Black men in jail or prison and 'only" 603,032 of them in colleges or universities. They presented the findings as 'evidence' of more Black men in prison than in college."

"2. BLACK PEOPLE, PARTICULARLY BLACK MEN ARE LAZY.
FALSE:"

"How can a people who built this nation (the US) and did it for free suddenly become the laziest people in the nation?

According to the US Census Bureau, 68.1 percent of Black men and 62.3 percent of Black women over the age of 16 are in the civilian labor force, compared to 73 percent of white men and 59.9 percent of white women. With racial discrimination and other challenges, more of us are still working than sitting at home. (A larger percentage of Blacks are also in the military services than white males).

"While the majority of poor people in America are Black, THE MAJORITY OF BLACK PEOPLE ARE NOT POOR. Of the 33.7 million Blacks in this nation (latest census 2004 show that number to be about 40 million...{webmaster's comments}), 8.1 million have incomes below the poverty line.

Now, what we do with our money is another story."

"3. BLACK PEOPLE ABUSE THE WELFARE SYSTEM AND ARE SWELLING IT BEYOND CAPACITY."

"FALSE:

First, the actual number of Black families on Welfare has been decreasing since the early 1970's, when 46 percent of the recipients were Black. By the end of the 20th century, that number was down to 39 percent, as compared to 38 percent whites who were non-Hispanic. If the comparisons were strictly based on race without ethnic identification, whites clearly outnumber Blacks on the Welfare rolls."

"In addition, 40 percent of the families on Welfare have only one child, while the number having five or more is only 4 percent. And, by the last decade of the 20th century, Welfare accounted for just over 2 percent of the Federal Budget, while defense accounted for 24 percent."

"Benefit programs for farmers and big businesses far outweigh the Welfare program. For example, US Airways was recently given permission to tap into a $718 million federally guaranteed loan package to fund daily operations while in bankruptcy proceedings. Who is abusing welfare?"

"4. MOST BLACK MEN ARE MARRIED TO WHITE WOMEN" (that would be self-inflicted genocide if it were true...webmaster)

FALSE:"

"As of 1998, interracial marriages composed of a white person and a Black person accounted for only .6 percent of all marriages in the nation. Of all interracial marriages, only 16 percent are Black male to white female," (which most Blacks find too high and find intermarriage a threat to Black survival...webmaster's research)

"5. AFFIRMATIVE ACTION UNFAIRLY PROVIDES OPPORTUNITIES FOR BLACKS."

"FALSE:

First, Affirmative Action is inappropriately used to define Black preferential treatment and 'quotas' but it was actually designed to benefit a number of groups who have been discriminated against, creating parity in the workplace. Since the 1970's, AFFIRMATIVE ACTION HAS BENEFITED WHITE WOMEN MORE THAN ANY OTHER GROUP. Secondly, no one who perpetuates this myth ever talks about the types of Affirmative Action, which benefit other races. For example, the Japanese descendants in America, who were rewarded $20,000 in 1988 as reparations for internment during World War II, or the legacy programs which benefit some people."

"6. LET'S KILL TWO IGNORANT RUMORS WITH THE PURSUIT OF TRUTH: POOR BLACKS WOULD BE BETTER OFF IF THEY STOPPED USING DRUGS AND TOOK BETTER CARE OF THEIR COMMUNITIES; AND, BLACKS NEED TO STOP PUSHING DRUGS TO THEIR OWN PEOPLE."

"FALSE:

This one always confuses me, because Blacks can't even distribute their own movies or music, yet still get blamed for importing and distributing ILLEGAL drugs. If a Black man can't drive down the street without being racially profiled and stopped, what makes anyone think that he could fly a planeload of drugs into the nation and distribute them from state to state and city to city? The dealers in the hood make a lot of money, but nowhere near the cash generated by the top people."

"7. BLACKS SUFFER FROM BLACK ON BLACK CRIME.

TRUE, but misleading. Whites also suffer from white on white crime. Many crimes, including murder, rape and robbery, are crimes of location, not color. According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, 85 percent of African-Americans report another Black person as the perpetrator of the crime and 80 percent of white murders are committed by other whites. However, when race does play a role in crime, the victims of violent crimes are more likely to be Black, while the perpetrators are more likely to be white."

"8. BLACKS COMMIT MORE CRIMES THAN WHITES:

FALSE:

By 1990, according to the Federal Judicial Center, the average sentences for African Americans for weapons and drugs charges were 49 percent longer than for whites who had been convicted of the same crimes.

The simple truth is, more of 'us' may be in court, but more of 'them' are actually committing crimes."

"9. WOMEN OUTNUMBERING MEN IN COLLEGE IS A BLACK PHENOMENON

FALSE:

According to the US Department of Education, male undergraduates account for 44 percent of student population, while female undergraduates account for 56 percent. This is not race specific. There are some real reasons for it and i will deal with it in an upcoming column. (Many males join the military and defense services and get their education through there...webmaster's comments)."

"10. BLACK PEOPLE ARE INCAPABLE OF SUSTAINING BUSINESSES IN THEIR OWN COMMUNITIES.

FALSE:

We had great success before integration. In fact by 1900, the number of African American businesses nationally, totalled 40,000, including the Greenfield Bus Body Company, which manufactured automobiles, and a hotel in New York City valued at $75,000. By 1908 there were 55 privately owned banks. By 1912, there were two millionaires, Madam C.J. Walker (hair care) and R.R. Church (real estate)."

"By 1923, Tulsa, Oklahoma was home to the Black Wall Street, an African American community of 11,000, which featured nine hotels, nineteen restaurants and thirty-one grocery stores and meat markets, ten medical doctors, six lawyers, and five real estate and lone insurance agencies, complete with five private planes."

"Ok, now there are myths and the real stats dispell them. Use them to stop the spread of ignorance, even if it has been spewing out of your very own mouth."

Debunking myths of black history

I've never been a big fan of Black History Month. While the intent is good, I'd like to see black history become a far more integral part of our national consciousness — and the country's education system.

Relegating the celebration to the shortest month of the year gives short shrift to the many contributions blacks have made to this nation. It also makes it a bit harder to debunk some of the myths that cling to blacks like barnacles to the side of a rusting ship.

Harder, but not impossible. In fact, the purpose of this column is to expose three of these false beliefs. Two are rooted in events that happened nearly 150 years ago and almost tore this nation apart; the other is an urban legend that surfaced in the past decade and has been embraced by people across the political spectrum. All of them are widely thought to be true.

Myth No. 1: Abraham Lincoln freed the slaves.

The Emancipation Proclamation, which took effect on Jan. 1, 1863, didn't free a single slave that Lincoln was in a position to set free. It ordered the release of slaves in "any state or designated part of a state" that was in rebellion against the federal government. The areas covered by Lincoln's historic order were under the control of the Confederate Army, a fact that made the Emancipation Proclamation virtually unenforceable.

Even worse, Lincoln exempted from his order slaves held in parts of the South that were under control of the Union Army. He excluded the 48 counties of Virginia that would later become West Virginia. His order also left enslaved blacks in New Orleans and 12 Louisiana parishes, as well as slaves in Portsmouth and Norfolk, Va., and seven surrounding counties occupied by Union forces.

Slavery was actually ended on Dec. 18, 1865 — eight months after Lincoln's assassination, when the Constitution's 13th Amendment was ratified.

The reason for the Civil War

Myth No.2: The Civil War was fought over states' rights, not slavery.

In his famous "cornerstone speech," Confederate Vice President Alexander Stephens acknowledged the central role slavery played in the Civil War. The Confederate constitution "has put to rest, forever, all the agitating questions relating to our peculiar institution — African slavery as it exists amongst us — the proper status of the Negro in our form of civilization. This was the immediate cause of the late rupture and present revolution," he said shortly after the Confederacy was formed. "Our government is founded ... upon the great truth that the Negro is not equal to the white man; that slavery — subordination to the superior race — is his natural and normal condition," he said.

Stephens was no loose cannon. He helped draft the Confederate constitution, and his words were backed up by a section of that document, which forbade the Confederate congress from enacting any law "denying or impairing" the right of whites to own slaves.

The most important "states' rights" issue for the Confederacy, as Stephens made clear, was the right of Southern states to keep blacks enslaved — forever.

Young blacks: Prison vs. college

Myth No. 3: There are more black men in prison than in college.

This is an unfair comparison. According to a report issued Monday by the American Council on Education, 635,198 black men, the vast majority ages 18 to 24, attended higher education institutions in 2001, the last year for which this data is available. Of the 803,400 black men in the nation's state and federal prisons and local jails in 2001, just 189,200 were 18 to 24 years old. Nearly 76% of these black inmates were 25 and older, the Bureau of Justice Statistics reported.

So the more accurate statement is this: There are more than three times as many college-age black men attending higher education institutions than are locked up in this nation's jails and prisons.

If Black History Month is to have any real value, it must debunk the myths about blacks in order to accurately tell our story.

The Malcolm X interview people don't want you to know about

From http://www.malcolm-x.org/docs/int_pbert.htm

The Pierre Berton Interview
Malcolm X, Pierre Berton

January 19, 1965

PIERRE BERTON: At the time of President Kennedy's assassination, you made a speech that seemed to indicate that you were pleased that he had been assassinated. Certainly at that time, Elijah Muhammad indicated that you had been fired or suspended from the Black Muslim movement. How about that?

MALCOLM X: I had taken a subject as my topic that day, an approach that was designed to show that the seeds that America had sown—in enslavement, in many of the things that followed since then—all of these seeds were coming up today; it was harvest time. At the end of this particular lecture, during the question-and-answer period, somebody asked me what I thought of the assassination of President Kennedy. In line with the topic that I had just been discussing, I pointed out that it was a case of the chickens coming home to roost, by which I meant that this was the result of seeds that had been sown, that this was the harvest. This was taken out of context, and reported in one of the papers, and Elijah Muhammad, who had been waiting for me to make a move that would enable him to suspend me and get the support of the public in doing so, took advantage of that opportunity. He gave the impression that I was saying something against the president himself because he felt that the public wouldn't go along with that.

Malcolm in Toronto (Canada), for the Pierre Berton Show.

BERTON: How did you feel, personally, about the president's assassination in that connection? Were you bothered about it? Were you angered by it? Or were you jubilant?

MALCOLM X: No. I was realistic, in that being at the forefront of this struggle of the black man in America—in his quest for respect as a human being—I had seen the many-faceted repercussions of this hate taking a grip on the American public. I think that many of the politicians took advantage of it and exploited it for their own personal benefit. So to me the whole thing was a case of politics, hate and a combination of other things.

BERTON: There seems to me to have been a fair amount of hate in the Black Muslim movement itself.

MALCOLM X: Well, I won't deny that. But, at the same time, I don't think that the Black Muslim movement and its hate can be classified as the same degree or type of hate you find in the American society itself, because the hate, so-called, that you see among black people is a reaction to the hate of the society which has rejected us. In that sense it is not hate.

BERTON: I'm not saying that the hate, or whatever it is, isn't understandable. I'm asking if it's effective to fight hate with hate?

MALCOLM X: In my opinion, I think that it is not fair to classify the reaction of people who are oppressed as hate. They are reacting to the hate of the society they have had put upon them or practiced against them....

BERTON: . . . Let me ask you this about your God, Mr. X. Has he got any color? Is he black?

MALCOLM X: No.

BERTON: Is he white?

MALCOLM X: As a Black Muslim, who believed what Elijah Muhammad taught, I regarded God just as he taught, as a black man. Having since gone into the Muslim world and got a better understanding of the religion of Islam, I believe that God is the supreme being, and that color plays no part in his particular being.

BERTON: In fact, isn't the God of the Muslims and of the Jews and the Christians really the same God?

MALCOLM X: If they believe in the God who created the universe, then we all believe in the same God. I believe in the God who created the universe. Muslims call him Allah. Christians, perhaps, call him Christ, or by some other name. Jews call him Jehovah, and in referring to him they mean "the creative." We are all referring to the same God.

BERTON: Now, let me switch the subject briefly, and ask you what you mean when you say that the Black Muslims are not militant enough. Your new organization, I take it, will be more militant than the Black Muslims. In what way?

MALCOLM X: Well, the Black Muslim movement, number one, professes to be a religious movement. They profess the religion of Islam. But the Muslim world rejected the Black Muslim movement as a bona fide Islamic group, so it found itself maneuvered into a religious vacuum—or a sort of religious hybrid. At the same time, the government of the United States tried to maneuver the Black Muslim movement, with the press, into an image that was political instead of religious. So the Black Muslim movement came to be known as a political group. Yet, at the same time, it didn't vote; it didn't take part in any politics; it didn't involve itself actively in the civil rights struggle; so it became a political hybrid as well as a religious hybrid. Now, on the other hand, the Black Muslim movement attracted the most militant black American, the young, dissatisfied, uncompromising element that exists in this country—drawing them in yet, at the same time, giving them no part to play in the struggle other than moral reform. It created a lot of disillusion, dissatisfaction, dissension, and eventually division. Those who divided are the ones that I'm a part of. We set up the Muslim Mosque, which is based upon orthodox Islam, as a religious group so that we could get a better understanding of our religion; but being black Americans, though we are Muslims, who believe in brotherhood, we also realized that our people have a problem in America that goes beyond religion. We realized that many of our people aren't going to become Muslim; many of them aren't even interested in anything religious; so we set up the Organization of Afro-American Unity as a nonreligious organization which all black Americans could become a part of and play an active part in striking out at the political, economic, and social evils that all of us are confronted by.

BERTON: That "striking out," what form is it going to take? You talk of giving the Ku Klux Klan a taste of its own medicine. This is in direct opposition to the theory of nonviolence of Dr. Martin Luther King, who doesn't believe in striking back. What do you mean by "a taste of its own medicine"? Are you going to burn fiery crosses on their lawns? Are you going to blow up churches with the Ku Klux Klan kids in them? What are you going to do?

MALCOLM X: Well, I think that the only way that two different races can get along with each other is, first, they have to understand each other. That cannot be brought about other than through communication dialogue—and you can't communicate with a person unless you speak his language. If the person speaks French, you can't speak English or German.

BERTON: We have that problem in our country, too.

MALCOLM X: In America, our people have so far not been able to speak the type of language that the racists understand. By not speaking that language, they fail to communicate, so that the racist element doesn't really believe that the black American is a human being—part of the human family. There is no communication. So I believe that the only way to communicate with that element is to be in a position to speak their language.

BERTON: And this language is violence?

MALCOLM X: I wouldn't call it violence. I think that they should be made to know that, any time they come into a black community and inflict violence upon members of that black community, they should realize in advance that the black community can speak the same language. Then they would be less likely to come in.

BERTON: Let's be specific here: suppose that a church is bombed. Will you bomb back?

MALCOLM X: I believe that any area of the United States, where the federal government has shown either its unwillingness or inability to protect the lives and the property of the black American, then it is time for the black Americans to band together and do whatever is necessary to see that we get the type of protection we need.

BERTON: "Whatever is necessary?"

MALCOLM X: I mean just that. Whatever is necessary. This does not mean that we should go out and initiate acts of aggression indiscriminately in the white community. But it does mean that, if we are going to be respected as human beings, we should reserve the right to defend ourselves by whatever means necessary. This is recognized and accepted in any civilized society....

BERTON: There are some people going to go on trial in Mississippi for the murder of three civil rights workers. There are some witnesses who identify them as murderers, but the general feeling is they'll get off. Will you do anything about this if they get off?

MALCOLM X: I wouldn't say.

BERTON: You don't want to say?

MALCOLM X: Because, then, if something happened to them, they would blame me. But I will say that in a society where the law itself is incapable of bringing known murderers to justice, it's historically demonstrable that the well-meaning people of that society have always banded together in one form or another to see that their society was protected against repetitious acts by these same murderers.

BERTON: What you're talking about here is a vigilante movement.

MALCOLM X: There have been vigilante movements forming all over America in white communities, but the black community has yet to form a vigilante committee. This is why we aren't respected as human beings.

BERTON: Are you training men to use aggressive methods? Are you training men as the Black Muslim movement trained the elite core known as the Fruit of Islam? Have you got trainees operating now who know how to fight back?

MALCOLM X: Yes.

BERTON: Who know how to use knuckle-dusters and guns?

MALCOLM X: Yes, oh yes. The black man in America doesn't need that much training. Most of them have been in the army—have already been trained by the government itself. They haven't been trained to think for themselves and, therefore, they've never used this training to protect themselves.

BERTON: Have you got a specific cadre of such young, tough guys working for you or operating under your aegis?

MALCOLM X: We're not a cadre, nor do we want it to be felt that we want to be tough. We're trying to be human beings, and we want to be recognized and accepted as human beings. But we don't think humanity will recognize us or accept us as such until humanity knows that we will do everything to protect our human ranks, as others will do for theirs.

BERTON: Are you prepared to send flying squads into areas where the Negroes have been oppressed without any legal help?

MALCOLM X: We are prepared to do whatever is necessary to see that our people, wherever they are, get the type of protection that the federal government has refused to give them.

BERTON: Okay. Do you still believe that all whites are devils and all blacks saints, as I'm sure you did under the Black Muslim movement?

MALCOLM X: This is what Elijah Muhammad teaches. No, I don't believe that. I believe as the Koran teaches, that a man should not be judged by the color of his skin but rather by his conscious behavior, by his actions, by his attitude towards others and his actions towards others.

BERTON: Now, before you left Elijah Muhammad and went to Mecca and saw the original world of Islam, you believed in complete segregation of the whites and the Negroes. You were opposed both to integration and to intermarriage. Have you changed your views there?

MALCOLM X: I believe in recognizing every human being as a human being, neither white, black, brown nor red. When you are dealing with humanity as one family, there's no question of integration or intermarriage. It's just one human being marrying another human being, or one human being living around and with another human being. I may say, though, that I don't think the burden to defend any such position should ever be put upon the black man. Because it is the white man collectively who has shown that he is hostile towards integration and towards intermarriage and towards these other strides towards oneness. So, as a black man, and especially as a black American, I don't think that I would have to defend any stand that I formerly took. Because it's still a reaction of the society and it's a reaction that was produced by the white society. And I think that it is the society that produced this that should be attacked, not the reaction that develops among the people who are the victims of that negative society.

BERTON: But you no longer believe in a Black State?

MALCOLM X: No.

BERTON: In North America?

MALCOLM X: No. I believe in a society in which people can live like human beings on the basis of equality.

TruthSeeker24 - September 14, 2005 07:32 PM (GMT)

The nail in the coffin. Sin not interracial marriage is causing the majority of the real problems in this country.

From <http://www.answersingenesis.org/creation/v...interracial.asp>

Inter-racial marriage: is it biblical?
by Ken Ham

What if a Chinese person were to marry a Polynesian, or an African with black skin were to marry a Japanese, or a person from India were to marry a person from America with white skin—would these marriages be in accord with biblical principles?

There are a significant number of Christians (particularly in America) who would claim that such 'inter-racial' marriages directly violate God's principles in the Bible, and should not be allowed.

But does the Word of God really condemn such mixes as those above? Is there ultimately any such thing as 'inter-racial marriage'?

What constitutes a 'race'?

New Zealand Caucasian husband and Malaysian-Chinese wife on their wedding day; both fervent Christians and Biblical creationists.

In the 1800s, before Darwinian evolution was popularized, most people, when talking about 'races,' would be referring to such groups as the 'English race,' 'Irish race,' and so on. However, this all changed in 1859, when Charles Darwin published his book On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life.

Darwinian evolution was (and still is) inherently a racist philosophy, teaching that different groups or 'races' of people evolved at different times and rates, so some groups are more like their ape-like ancestors than others. The Australian Aborigines, for instance, were considered the missing links between the ape-like ancestor and the rest of mankind.¹ This resulted in terrible prejudices and injustices towards the Australian Aborigines.² The leading evolutionary spokesperson, Stephen Jay Gould, stated that 'Biological arguments for racism may have been common before 1859, but they increased by orders of magnitude following the acceptance of evolutionary theory.'³

Racist attitudes fueled by evolutionary thinking were largely responsible for an African pygmy being displayed, along with an orangutan, in a cage in the Bronx zoo.⁴

As a result of Darwinian evolution, many people started thinking in terms of the different people groups around the world representing different 'races,' but within the context of evolutionary philosophy. This has resulted in many people today, consciously or unconsciously, having ingrained prejudices against certain other groups of people.

However, all human beings in the world today are classified as Homo sapiens Sapiens. Scientists today admit that, biologically, there really is only one race of humans. For instance, a scientist at the Advancement of Science Convention in Atlanta stated, 'Race is a social construct derived mainly from perceptions conditioned by events of recorded history, and it has no basic biological reality.'⁵ This person went on to say that 'Curiously enough, the idea comes very close to being of American manufacture.'⁵

Reporting on research conducted on the concept of race, the American ABC News science page stated, 'More and more scientists find that the differences that set us apart are cultural, not racial. Some even say that the word race should be abandoned because it's meaningless.'⁶ The article went on to say that 'we accept the idea of race because it's a convenient way of putting people into broad categories, frequently to suppress them—the most hideous example was provided by Hitler's Germany. And racial prejudice remains common throughout the world.’⁶

In an article in the summer issue of the Journal of Counseling and Development,⁷ researchers argue that the term ‘race’ is basically so meaningless that it should be discarded.

Personally, because of the influences of Darwinian evolution and the resulting prejudices, I believe everyone (and especially Christians) should abandon the term ‘race (s).’ We could refer instead to the different ‘people groups’ around the world.

The Bible and ‘race’

The Bible does not even use the word race in reference to people,⁸ but does describe all human beings as being of ‘one blood’ (Acts 17:26). This of course emphasizes that we are all related, as all humans are descendants of the first man, Adam (1 Corinthians 15:45).⁹ As Jesus Christ also became a descendant of Adam, being called the ‘last Adam’ (1 Corinthians 15:45), this is why the Gospel can be preached to all tribes and nations. Any descendant of Adam can be saved, because our mutual relative by blood (Jesus Christ) died and rose again.

‘Racial’ differences

But some people think there must be different ‘races’ of people because there appear to be major differences between various groups, such as skin colour and eye shape.

The truth though is that these so-called ‘racial characteristics’ are only minor variations among people groups. If one were to take any two people anywhere in the world, scientists have found that the basic genetic differences between these two people would typically be around 0.2 percent—even if they came from the same people group.¹⁰ But, these so-called ‘racial’ characteristics that people think are major differences (skin colour, eye shape, etc.) ‘account for only 0.012 percent of human biological variation.’⁷ In other words, the so-called ‘racial’ differences are absolutely trivial—overall, there is more variation within any group than there is between one group and another. If a white person is looking for a tissue match for an organ transplant, for instance, the best match may come from a black person, and vice versa. The ABC news science page stated, ‘What the facts show is that there are differences among us, but they stem from culture, not race.’⁶

The only reason many people think these differences are major is because they’ve been brought up in a culture that has taught them to see the differences this way.

Real science in the present fits with the biblical view that all people are rather closely related—there is only one ‘race’ biologically. Therefore, there is in essence no such thing as ‘inter-racial marriage.’ So we are left with this—is there anything in the Bible that speaks clearly against men and women from different people groups marrying?

Origin of people groups

In Genesis 11, we read of the rebellion at the tower of Babel which resulted in people being scattered over the earth. Because of this dispersion, and the resulting splitting of the gene pool, different cultures formed, with certain features becoming predominant within each group. Some of these (skin colour, eye shape and so on) became general characteristics of each particular people group.¹¹

Note that the context of Genesis 11 makes it clear that the reason for God's scattering the people over the earth was that they had united in rebellion against God. Some Christians point to this event in an attempt to provide a basis for their arguments against so-called 'inter-racial' marriage. They believe that it is implied here that to keep the nations apart, God is declaring that people from different people groups can't marry. However, there is no such indication in this passage that what is called 'inter-racial marriage' is condemned. Besides, there has been so much mixing of people groups over the years, that it would be impossible for every human being today to trace their lineage back to know for certain which group(s) they are descended from.

We need to understand that the sovereign creator God is in charge of the nations of this world. Paul makes this very clear in Acts 17:26. Some people erroneously claim this verse to mean that people from different nations shouldn't marry. However, this passage has nothing to do with marriage. As John Gill makes clear in his classic commentary, the context is that God is in charge of all things—where, how and for how long any person, tribe or nation will live, prosper and perish.¹²

In all of this, God is working to redeem for Himself a people who are one in Christ. The Bible makes clear in Galatians 3:28, Colossians 3:11 and Romans 10:12–13 that in regard to salvation, there is no distinction between male or female or Jew or Greek. In Christ, any separation between people is broken down. As Christians, we are one in Christ and thus have a common purpose—to live for Him who made us. This oneness in Christ is vitally important to understanding marriage.

Purpose of marriage

Malachi 2:15 informs us that an important purpose of marriage is to produce godly offspring—progeny that are trained in the ways of the Lord. Jesus (in Matthew 19) and Paul (in Ephesians 5) make it clear that when a man and woman marry, they become one flesh (because they were one flesh historically—Eve was made from Adam). Also, the man and woman must be one spiritually so they can fulfill the command to produce godly offspring.

This is why Paul states in 2 Corinthians 6:14, 'Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?'

According to the Bible then, which of the following marriages in the picture at right does God counsel against entering into?

The answer is obvious—number 3. According to the Bible, the priority in marriage is that a Christian should marry only a Christian.

Sadly, there are some Christian homes where the parents are more concerned about their children not marrying someone from another 'race' than whether or not they are marrying a Christian. When Christians marry non-Christians, it negates the spiritual (not the physical) oneness in marriage, resulting in negative consequences for the couple and their children.¹³

Rahab and Ruth

The examples of Rahab and Ruth help us understand how God views the issue of marriage between those who are from different people groups but trust in the true God.

Rahab was a Canaanite. These Canaanites had an ungodly culture, and were descendants of Canaan, the son of Ham. Remember, Canaan was cursed because of his obvious rebellious nature. Sadly, many Christians state that Ham was cursed—but this is not true.¹⁴ Some have even said that this (non-existent) curse of Ham resulted in the black 'races.' This is absurd and is the type of false teaching that has reinforced and justified prejudices against people with dark skin.

In the genealogy in Matthew 1, it is traditionally understood that the same Rahab is listed here as being in the line leading to Christ. Thus Rahab, a descendant of Ham, must have married an Israelite (descended from Shem). Since this was clearly a union approved by God, it underlines the fact that the particular 'people group' she came from was irrelevant—what mattered was that she trusted in the true God of the Israelites.

The same can be said of Ruth, who as a Moabitess, also married an Israelite, and is also listed in the genealogy in Matthew 1 that leads to Christ. Prior to her marriage, she had expressed faith in the true God (Ruth 1:16).

When Rahab and Ruth became children of God, there was no longer any barrier to Israelites marrying them, even though they were from different 'people groups.'

Real biblical 'inter-racial' marriage

If one wants to use the term 'inter-racial,' then the real 'inter-racial' marriage that God says we should not enter into is when a child of the Last Adam (one who is a new creation in Christ—a Christian) marries one who is an unconverted child of the First Adam (one who is dead in trespasses and sin—a non-Christian).¹⁵

Cross-cultural problems

Because many people groups have been separated since the Tower of Babel, they have developed many cultural differences. If two people from very different cultures marry, they can have a number of communication problems, even if both are Christians. Expectations regarding relationships with members of the extended family, for example, can also differ. Even people from different English-speaking countries can have communication problems because words may have different meanings. Counselors should go through this in detail, anticipating the problems and giving specific examples, as some marriages have failed because of such cultural differences. However, such problems have nothing to do with genetics or 'race.'

Conclusion

There is no biblical justification for claiming that people from different so-called 'races' (best described as 'people groups') should not marry.

The biblical basis for marriage makes it clear that a Christian should marry only a Christian.

When Christians legalistically impose non-biblical ideas such as 'no inter-racial' marriage onto their culture, they are helping to perpetuate prejudices that have often arisen from evolutionary influences. If we are really honest, in countries like America, the main reason for Christians being against 'inter-racial' marriage is, in most instances, really because of skin colour. (By the way—every human being has the same skin colour—it just depends on how much of the colour one has).¹⁶

The church could greatly relieve the tensions over racism (particularly in countries like America), if only the leaders would teach that: all people are descended from one man and woman; all people are equal before God; all are sinners in need of salvation; all need to build their thinking on God's Word and judge all their cultural aspects accordingly; all need to be one in Christ and put an end to their rebellion against their Creator.

It is true that in some exceptional instances when a Christian has married a non-Christian, the non-Christian spouse, by the grace of God, has become a Christian. This is a praise point but it does not negate the fact that Scripture indicates that it should not have been entered into in the first place. This does not mean that the marriage is not actually valid, nor does it dilute the responsibilities of the marital union—see also 1 Corinthians 7:12–14, where the context is of one partner becoming a Christian after marriage. Racial Harmony and Interracial Marriage

Listen

Deuteronomy 7:3-4 & Colossians 3:9-11

My aim today is to argue from Scripture and experience that interracial marriage is not only permitted by God but is a positive good in our day. That is, it is not just to be tolerated, but celebrated. This is extremely controversial since it is opposed by people from all sides.

Interracial marriage was against the law in 16 states in 1967 when the Loving v. Virginia Supreme Court Decision struck down those laws. That is very fresh historically. I was a senior in college. Laws reflect deep convictions, and convictions don't usually change when laws do.

Opposition to Interracial Marriage

The first website that came up on my Google search for Martin Luther King and interracial marriage was the website of the Ku Klux Klan which still has this anachronistic quote today: "Interracial marriage is a violation of God's Law and a communist ploy to weaken America."

Many African Americans believe interracial marriage erodes the solidarity of the African American community. Lawrence Otis Graham wrote that "interracial marriage undermines [African Americans'] ability to introduce our children to black role models who accept their racial identity with pride."

Some conservative whites oppose interracial marriage for a different reason. Syndicated columnist H. Millard wrote:

. . . we are seeing the death of the American and his replacement with a non-European type who now has enough mass in our society to pervert European-American ways. . . . White people . . . are going to have to struggle mightily to survive the Neo-Melting Pot and avoid being part of the one-size-fits-all human model. Call it what it is: Genocide and extinction of the white genotype.

One letter I received from a white Christian man went like this:

As individuals, they are precious souls for whom Christ died and whom we are to love and seek to win. As a race, however, they are unique and different and have their own culture. . . . I would never marry a black. Why? Because I believe God made the races, separated them and set the bounds of their habitation, Deuteronomy 32:8; Acts 17:26. He made them uniquely different and intended that these distinctions remain. God never intended the human race to become a mixed or mongrel race. So, while I am strongly opposed to segregation I favor separation that the uniqueness with which God made them is maintained.

Piper's Personal Experience

To these opposing views I would add my own experience. I was a southern teenage racist (by almost any definition), and, since I am a sinner still, I do not doubt that elements of it remain in me, to my dismay. For these lingering attitudes and actions I repent. Racism is a very difficult reality to define. The Bethlehem staff have been working on it for months. We are presently most closely committed to the definition given last summer at the Presbyterian Church in America annual meeting: "Racism is an explicit or implicit belief or practice that qualitatively distinguishes or values one race over other races." That is what I mean when I say I was a racist growing up in Greenville, South Carolina. My attitudes and actions were demeaning and disrespectful toward non-whites. And right at the heart of those attitudes was opposition to interracial marriage.

My mother, who washed my mouth out with soap once for saying, "Shut up!" to my sister, would have washed my mouth out with gasoline if she knew how foul my mouth was racially. She was under God the seed of my salvation in more ways than one. When our church voted not to admit blacks in 1963, when I was 17, my mother ushered the black guests at my sister's wedding right into the main sanctuary herself because the ushers wouldn't do it. I was on my way to redemption.

In 1967 Noël and I attended the Urbana Missions Conference. I was a senior at Wheaton. There we heard Warren Webster, former missionary to Pakistan, answer a student's question: What if your daughter falls in love with a Pakistani while you're on the mission field and wants to marry him? With great forcefulness he said: "The Bible would say, Better a Christian Pakistani than a godless white American!" The impact on us was profound.

Four years later I wrote a paper for Lewis Smedes in an ethics class at seminary called "The Ethics of Interracial Marriage." For me that was a biblical settling of the matter, and I have not gone back from what I saw there. The Bible does not oppose or forbid interracial marriages. And there are circumstances which together with biblical principles make interracial marriage in many cases a positive good.

Now I am a pastor at Bethlehem. One quick walk through the pictorial directory that came out last year gives me a rough count of 203 non-Anglos pictured in the book. I am sure I missed some. And I am sure the definition of Anglo is so vague someone will be bothered that I even tried to count. But the point is this: Dozens and dozens of them are children and teenagers and single young men and women. This means very simply that we as a church need a clear place to stand on interracial marriage. Church is the most natural and proper place to find a spouse. And they will find each other across racial lines.

That is what I would like to give. First, we will make four textual observations and then some concluding implications for our experience.

1. All Races Have One Ancestor in the Image of God, and All Humans Are in God's Image

The Bible portrays the human race as coming from one pair of human ancestors who were created in God's image unlike all the animals and that this image of God is passed on to all humans. Genesis 1:27, "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female he created them." Again in Genesis 5:1-3, "When God created man, he made him in the likeness of God. Male and female he created them, and he blessed them and named them Man when they were created. When Adam had lived 130 years, he fathered a son in his own likeness, after his image." In other words, the magnificent image of God goes on from generation to generation.

Then Paul makes the sweeping statement in Acts 17:26, "And he made from one man every nation of mankind to live on all the face of the earth." In other words, Adam, who was created in God's image, is the father of all human beings in all ethnic groups. Therefore all of them are dignified above the animals in this absolutely unique and glorious way: humans are created in the image of God. With all the beautiful, God-designed ethnic and cultural diversity in the world, that truth is paramount. That truth is decisive in setting priorities for how we respect and relate to each other.

2. The Bible Forbids Intermarriage Between Unbeliever and Believer, But Not Between Races

The Bible forbids intermarriage between believer and unbeliever but not between members of different ethnic groups. 1 Corinthians 7:39, "A wife is bound to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to be married to whom she wishes, only in the Lord." "Whom she wishes, only in the Lord." One biblical restriction on the man she marries: he must be in the Lord. He must be a believer in Jesus Christ.

This was the main point of the Old Testament warnings about marrying those among the pagan nations. The point was not to protect racial purity. The point was to protect religious purity. For example, Deuteronomy 7:3-4:

You shall not intermarry with [the nations]; you shall not give your daughters to their sons, nor shall you take their daughters for your sons. For they will turn your sons away from following Me to serve other gods; then the anger of the Lord will be kindled against you.

The issue is not color mixing, or customs mixing, or clan identity. The issue is: will there be one common allegiance to the true God in this marriage or will there be divided affections? The prohibition in God's word is not against interracial marriage, but against marriage between the true Israel, the church (from every people, tribe, and nation) and those who are not part of the true Israel, the church. That is, the Bible prohibits marriage between those who believe in Christ (the Messiah) and those who don't (see 2 Corinthians 6:14).

This is exactly what we would expect if the great ground of our identity is not our ethnic differences but our common humanity in the image of God and especially our new humanity in Christ. That leads to the third biblical observation.

3. In Christ Our Oneness Is Profound and Transforms Racial and Social Differences from Barriers to Blessings

In Christ ethnic and social differences cease to be obstacles to deep, personal, intimate fellowship. Colossians 3:9-11, "You have put off the old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator. Here there is not Greek and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave, free; but Christ is all, and in all."

This does not mean that every minority culture gets swallowed up by the majority culture in the name of unity. God does not obliterate all ethnic and cultural differences in Christ. He redeems them and refines them and enriches them in the togetherness of his kingdom. The final image of heaven is "every tribe and language and people and nation" (Revelation 7:9; 5:9). God values the differences that reflect more fully his glory in man.

The point of Colossians 3:11 is not that cultural, ethnic, and racial differences have no significance; they do. The point is that they are no barrier to profound, personal, intimate fellowship. Singing alto is different from singing bass. It's a significant difference. But that difference is no barrier to being in the choir. It's an asset.

When Christ is all and in all, differences take an important but subordinate place to fellowship—and, I will argue, marriage.

4. Criticizing One Interracial Marriage Was Severely Disciplined by God

The fourth observation is that Moses, a Jew, apparently married a black African and was approved by God. Numbers 12:1, "Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman whom he had married, for he had married a Cushite woman." Cushite means a woman from Cush, a region south of Ethiopia, and known for their black skin. We know this because of Jeremiah 13:23, "Can the Ethiopian [the very same Hebrew word translated "Cushite" in Numbers 12:1] change his skin or the leopard his spots? Then also you can do good who are accustomed to do evil." So attention is drawn to the difference of the skin of the Cushite people.

J. Daniel Hays writes in his book, From Every People and Nation: A Biblical Theology of Race (Downers Grove, Ill.: InterVarsity Press, 2003), that Cush "is used regularly to refer to the area south of Egypt, and above the cataracts on the Nile, where a Black African civilization flourished for over two thousand years. Thus it is quite clear that Moses marries a Black African woman” (p. 71).

What is most significant about this context is that God does not get angry at Moses; he gets angry at Miriam for criticizing Moses. The criticism has to do with Moses’s marriage and Moses’s authority. The most explicit statement relates to the marriage: “Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman whom he had married, for he had married a Cushite woman.” Then consider this possibility. In God’s anger at Miriam, Moses’s sister, God says in effect, “You like being light-skinned Miriam? I’ll make you light-skinned.” Numbers 12:10: “When the cloud removed from over the tent, behold, Miriam was leprous, like snow.”

God says not a critical word against Moses for marrying a black, Cushite woman. But when Miriam criticizes God’s chosen leader for this marriage God strikes her skin with white leprosy. If you ever thought black was a biblical symbol for uncleanness, be careful; a worse white uncleanness could come upon you.

Those are my four biblical observations. 1) All races have one ancestor in the image of God and all humans are in God’s image. 2) The Bible forbids intermarriage between unbeliever and believer, but not between races. 3) In Christ our oneness is profound and transforms racial and social differences from barriers to blessings. 4) Criticizing one interracial marriage was severely disciplined by God.

Closing Implications

Now some closing implications for our experience.

Opposition to interracial marriage is one of the deepest roots of racial distance, disrespect, and hostility. Show me one place in the world where interracial or interethnic marriage is frowned upon and yet the two groups still have equal respect and honor and opportunity. I don’t think it exists. It won’t happen. Why? Because the supposed specter of interracial marriage demands that barrier after barrier must be put up to keep young people from knowing each other and falling in love. They can’t fellowship in church youth groups. They can’t go to the same schools. They can’t belong to the same clubs. They can live in the same neighborhoods. Everybody knows deep down what is at stake here. Intermarriage is at stake.

And as long as we disapprove of it, we will be pushing our children, and therefore ourselves, away from each other. The effect of that is not harmony, not respect, and not equality of opportunity. Where racial intermarriage is disapproved, the culture with money and power will always dominate and always oppress. They will see to it that those who will not make desirable spouses stay in their place and do not have access to what they have access to. If your kids don’t make desirable spouses, you don’t make desirable neighbors.

And here is a great and sad irony. The very situation of separation and suspicion and distrust and dislike that is brought about (among other things) by the fear of intermarriage, is used to justify the opposition to intermarriage. "It will make life hard for the couple and hard for the kids (they'll be called half-breeds)." Catch 22. It's like the army being defeated because there aren't enough troops, and the troops won't sign up because the army's being defeated. Oppose interracial marriage, and you will help create a situation of racial disrespect. And then, since there is a situation of disrespect, it will be prudent to oppose interracial marriage.

Here is where Christ makes the difference. Christ does not call us to a prudent life, but to a God-centered, Christ-exalting, justice-advancing, counter-cultural, risk-taking life of love and courage. Will it be harder to be married to another race, and will it be harder for the kids? Maybe. Maybe not. But since when is that the way a Christian thinks? Life is hard. And the more you love the harder it gets.

It's hard to take a child to the mission field. The risks are huge. It's hard to take a child and move into a mixed neighborhood where he may be teased or ridiculed. It's hard to help a child be a Christian in a secular world where his beliefs are mocked. It's hard to bring children up with standards: "you will not dress like that, and you will not be out that late." It's hard to raise children when dad or mom dies or divorces. And that's a real risk in any marriage. Whoever said that marrying and having children was to be trouble free? It's one of the hardest things in the world. It just happens to be right and rewarding.

Christians are people who move toward need and truth and justice, not toward comfort and security. Life is hard. But God is good. And Christ is strong to help.

There is so much more to say about the challenges and blessings of interracial marriage. But we are out of time. I hope to write more. Suffice it say now by way of practical conclusion: at Bethlehem we will not underestimate the challenges of interracial marriage or transracial adoption (they go closely together). We will celebrate the beauty, and we will embrace the burden. Both will be good for us and good for the world and good for the glory of God.

What's hard to understand, when he states that White Supremacy and Black subordination are ORDAINED by God or when he states that blacks CAN'T succeed without white overseers? When I read these words in VA they sickened me and I closed the book right there (the chapter on the civil war), thankful I had only downloaded a pdf version and not wasted my money on this.

TruthSeeker24 - September 15, 2005 11:22 AM (GMT)

Eric is not right on the issue of race 2Tuff and you need to realize that. No man is perfect and even a smart man like Eric can make mistakes. I truly respect him exposing the Jesuit Order as evil and part of the New World Order, but me and my little brother are saying that he needs to know real black history. As for military supremacy, the Orientals developed the art of war, not Europeans. Also, every male in our family knows how to fight and I didn't need elaborate instructions from anyone. Every race knows self-defense and black Africans developed Capeiro, a form of self-defense (martial arts) that spread unto Brazil.

As for wars, many Black tribes defeated Europeans like Augustus being defeated from conquering Nubia. The Black Nubians defeated the Romans. Ethoipians defeated all European imperialists until Mussolini. Chaka Zulu and the Zulus held off the British for years until they were finally defeated. The Zulus won battles with even spears. Chaka Zulu develop advanced military tactics to fend off the Imperialist, British for years.

In the early 1800's, Black Haitians defeated the French. As far as that, a God-believing Black man will never allow no form against them to crush their will. No man on this Earth will crush my will. Eric is wrong in saying that no Black civilization was global or advanced when the Black Nubian King Tarqaka (mentioned in the Bible) conquered Egypt and had influence spreading into the Meditterean Sea. Eric is wrong in saying that interracial marriage is forbidden among believers and he is wrong in saying the Black subordination is ordianed by God when none of that is mentioned in the Holy Scripture. Everything I've sited is backed up by God's Word not some man's interpretation and distortion of it. Eric isn't a racist to me, but many racists have used his arguments to justify the oppression unto black people. There is not a single sentence that will make me see otherwise. African influences have influenced Europe just like influences from the Middle East as well. Advanced, Black civilizations have existed for thousands of years and Eric needs to realize that.

The Color of Deception October 26, 2004

By Tim Wise

"A lie can travel half-way around the world while the truth is still pulling on its boots."

Although this truism was penned long before the Internet, there is little doubt but that in the modern era, it has become more prescient than its author could ever have imagined.

When it comes to fast-moving lies, few can top one that has been distributed by white supremacists for the past several years. It is probably the most popular piece of racist propaganda in existence today, and because it relies on official government data, it comes across as sober, intelligent social science, rather than as the compendium of nonsense it happens to be.

The screed to which I refer is "The Color of Crime: Race, Crime and Violence in America," by white nationalist, Jared Taylor. Taylor is the publisher of the racist magazine, American Renaissance, and host of an annual conference, which attracts open neo-Nazis as well as a gaggle of academicians who proclaim black genetic inferiority.

According to Taylor, there are several "facts" about crime that have been hidden from view by the civil rights community. Among them:

Blacks are much more dangerous than whites as evidenced by higher crime rates; Black criminals usually choose white victims and are far more likely to victimize whites than whites are to victimize blacks (both for regular violent crimes and hate crimes); Black crime rates justify racial profiling, since it only makes sense to focus law enforcement attention on those who commit a disproportionate share of crime; and finally,

The interracial crime data makes white fear of African Americans perfectly rational.

But a close examination of these arguments proves that Taylor and his followers are either statistically illiterate, or knowingly deceive for political effect.

First, as for the disproportionate rate of violent crime committed by blacks, economic conditions explain the difference with white crime rates.

According to several studies, when community and personal economic status is comparable between whites and blacks, there are no significant racial crime differences (1). In other words, the implicit message of Taylor's report--that blacks are dangerous because they are black--is insupportable.

Secondly, to claim that blacks are more dangerous than whites because of official crime rates, is to ignore that when it comes to everyday threats to personal well-being, whites far and away lead the pack in all kinds of destructive behaviors: corporate pollution, consumer fraud, violations of health and safety standards on the job, and launching wars on the basis of deceptive evidence, to name a few. Each year, far more people die because of corporate malfeasance, occupational health violations and pollution than all the street crime combined, let alone street crime committed by African Americans (2).

Stoking Fears About Interracial Crime - A Look at How Nazis Do Math

Next, Taylor claims that most victims of black violent crime are white, and thus, that blacks are violently targeting whites. Furthermore, since only a small share of the victims of white criminals are black (only 4.4 percent in 2002, for example), this means that blacks are far more of a threat to whites than vice-versa.

But there are several problems with these claims.

To begin with, the white victim totals in the Justice Department's victimization data include those termed Hispanic by the Census, since nine in ten Latino/as are considered racially white by government record-keepers.

Since Latino/as tend to live closer to blacks than non-Hispanic whites, this means that many "white" victims of "black crime" are Latino/a, and that in any given year, the majority of black crime victims would be people of color, not whites.

But even if we compute the white totals as Taylor does, without breaking out Hispanic victims of "black crime," his position is without merit.

In 2002, whites, including Latinos, were about 81.5 percent of the population (3). That same year, whites (including Latinos) were 51 percent of the victims of violent crimes committed by blacks, meaning that whites were victimized by blacks less often than would have been expected by random chance, given the extent to which whites were available to be victimized (4).

As for the claim that blacks victimize whites at rates that are far higher than the reverse, though true, this statistic is meaningless, for a few obvious but overlooked reasons, first among them the simple truth that if whites are more available as potential victims, we would naturally expect black criminals to victimize whites more often than white criminals would victimize blacks.

Examining data from 2002, there were indeed 4.5 times more black-on-white violent crimes than the reverse (5). While this may seem to support Taylor's position, it actually destroys it, because the interracial crime gap, though seemingly large, is smaller than random chance would have predicted.

The critical factor ignored by Taylor is the extent to which whites and blacks encounter each other in the first place. Because of ongoing racial isolation and de facto segregation, the two group's members do not encounter one another at rates commensurate with their shares of the population: a fact that literally torpedoed the claims in The Color of Crime.

As sociologist Robert O'Brian has noted (using Census data), the odds of a given white person (or white criminal) encountering a black person are only about three percent. On the other hand, the odds of a given black person (or black criminal) encountering a white person are nineteen times greater, or fifty-seven percent (6), meaning the actual interracial victimization gap between black-on-white and white-on-black crime is smaller than one would expect.

In 2002, blacks committed a little more than 1.2 million violent crimes, while whites committed a little more than three million violent crimes (7). If each black criminal had a 57 percent chance of encountering (and thus potentially victimizing) a white person, this means that over the course of 2002, blacks should have been expected to victimize roughly 690,000 whites. But in truth, blacks victimized whites only 614,176 times that year (8).

Conversely, if each white criminal had only a three percent chance of encountering and thus victimizing a black person, this means that over the course of 2002, whites would have been expected to victimize roughly 93,000 blacks. But in truth, whites victimized blacks 135,931 times: almost 50 percent more often than would be expected by random chance (9).

Indeed, given relative crime rates as well as rates of interracial encounter, random chance would have predicted the ratio of black-on-white to white-on-black victimization at roughly 7.4 to one. Yet, as the data makes clear, there were only 4.5 times more black-on-white crimes than white-on-black crimes in 2002. In other words, given encounter ratios, black criminals victimize whites less often than could be expected, while white criminals victimize blacks more often than could be expected.

Lies About Hate Crimes - More Fun With Nazi Math

Taylor's claims regarding hate crimes are even more ridiculous.

The Color of Crime asserts that blacks commit a disproportionate share of racial and ethnic hate crimes against whites, while white-on-black hate crimes are far less frequent. But the data simply doesn't support such a claim.

“From 1995-2000, blacks were 65 percent of racial and ethnic hate-crime victims, while whites were 21 percent of such victims (10). Adjusted for population, any given black person was nearly twenty times more likely to be the victim of a racially motivated hate crime than any given white. In 2001, there were approximately 4.6 times more white-on-black than black-on-white hate crimes (11), despite the fact that whites were between six and seven times more available in the population to become victims.”

Considering that blacks are much more likely to encounter whites than vice-versa, this last statistic is especially alarming. After all, if blacks are nineteen times more likely to encounter whites than whites are to encounter blacks, any given black person would have nineteen times more opportunities to commit an anti-white hate crime than a white person would have to commit an anti-black hate crime.

Since blacks are roughly one-sixth the size of the non-Hispanic white population, in order to determine the expected ratio of black-on-white hate crimes relative to white-on-black hate crimes given random chance, one must multiply the 19:1 black-on-white encounter ratio by one-sixth.

Once this computation is made, we find that differential rates of encounter and population availability would predict that if levels of racial hatred were equal between whites and blacks, and the willingness to commit a hate crime were equal between the two groups, in any given year there should be 3.15 times more black-on-white hate crimes than white-on-black hate crimes.

That in truth there are nearly five times more white-on-black hate crimes than the reverse suggests that blacks are much less likely to commit an anti-white hate crime than would be expected and whites are far more likely to commit an anti-black hate crime than would be expected.

White Fear of Blacks - The Height of Irrationality

Of course, above and beyond the mere statistical chicanery at the heart of Taylor's report, the larger point is that for Taylor and other racists to claim that black-on-white crime data justifies white fear of African Americans, or racial profiling by police is sheer ignorance.

Criminologists estimate that seventy percent of all crimes are committed by just seven percent of the offenders (12): a small bunch of repeat offenders who commit the vast majority of crimes. Since blacks committed roughly 1.2 million violent crimes in 2002, if seventy percent of these were committed by seven percent of the black offenders, this would mean that at most there were perhaps 390,000 individual black offenders that year (13). In a population of 29.3 million over the age of twelve, this would represent no more than 1.3 percent of the black population that committed a violent crime in 2002.

Since fewer than half of these would have chosen a non-Hispanic white victim (as noted previously), this means that less no more than seven-tenths of one percent of the black population would have victimized a white person in 2002: hardly the kind of fact that would warrant white fear of blacks as a group.

Furthermore, since whites were victimized 2.9 million times by other whites in 2002 (compared to roughly 614,000 times by blacks), this means that whites are 4.7 times more likely to be victimized by another white person than by a black person (14).

Thus, if crime data can justify white fear of blacks, it would also require whites to be terrified of white neighbors, co-workers, family and white strangers, for these are the folks most likely to victimize us.

The Absurdity of Profiling

As for profiling, Taylor insists that because of higher black crime rates, it only makes good sense to focus police efforts on the black community. But this is demonstrably ludicrous. If, as the Justice Department data suggests, blacks commit somewhere between 25-30 percent of violent crime in most years (23 percent in 2002), to profile blacks for crime will result in police being wrong, between 70-75 percent of the time (15).

And of course, profiling is not the typical method for uncovering serious already-committed crimes anyway, since solving such crimes logically involves using incident-specific information. Profiling is, instead, too often done as a way to uncover crimes, such as drug possession, that have yet to come to police attention.

As for drugs, there can be no doubt that profiling is irrational. According to federal data, blacks are only 13.5 percent of drug users, while non-Hispanic whites are over 70 percent of users (16). So to profile blacks for drugs is to guarantee little success in actually uncovering drug crimes.

Conclusion - Why Bother Responding to Nazis?

Some may wonder whether it makes sense to spend so much time and energy responding to the claims of someone who openly consorts with neo-Nazis, and whose agenda is so blatantly racist in nature. Though it would be nice not to have to respond to such silliness, the fact is, Taylor and his report have been cited approvingly by conservative columnists and talking heads, from Walter Williams, to David Horowitz, to the folks at the National Review, to Vanderbilt Law professor, Carol Swain.

What's more, with studies suggesting that white perceptions of black criminality play a prominent role in furthering racism, both attitudinally and institutionally (in terms of support for racially disparate and draconian crime policies), refuting this kind of foolishness carries with it important personal and policy implications as well.

However unappealing it may be to have to answer the racist claims of bigots and fascists, the fact remains that given the appeal of racist logic to so many, and given the strength of institutional racism as a defining force in American life, we can hardly afford the luxury of ignoring such positions, so as to "not give them legitimacy."

The sad fact is that racism already enjoys plenty of legitimacy, with or without a rebuttal. Ignoring this reality isn't likely to diminish its strength, but responding to it forcefully might, at the very least, dissuade impressionable minds from accepting the twisted logic offered by the racist right.

It's game over now. This is only the beginning and 1% of my total intellect. I'm ready and apt like I said before. Jesus Christ said to all of the apostles to spread the gospel unto all men in the book of Matthew. Eric fails to see that all of the apostles except Hamitic Simon was Jewish. It's all our responsibility to convert the lost not just within one group of people.

Title: Eric Phelps - Unsure about Kay Griggs!

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 14, 2005 11:08 PM (GMT)

Thank you and I have seen this.

I have some serious concerns over the testimony of Kay Griggs. She rightly exposes the homosexual network within the Army establishment; involves certain high Zionists for past assassinations and terrorism; and involves the Bush crime family in the scheme of those who rule the world.

But Mrs. Griggs takes attention off of the CIA/NSA, which rules the Pentagon, as not being the heart of all covert activities. She seems to say that the Mossad is an independent intelligence organization apart from CIA control---when the CIA created it and trained its soldiers. She never really attacks the CFR as being pivotal in the ruling of America and she moves blame away from the Papacy towards Israeli Zionists who are but the mere creatures of the Jesuit Order. Masonic Sharon's obedience to the CFR's "Roadmap to War" policy is evidence of this chain of command.

Therefore it APPEARS that Mrs. Griggs is a disinformation specialist moving blame away from the Papacy and its SS/CFR, CIA and Mossad. She does not give much of the Jesuit connection, say to Henry Kissinger who really is a Masonic Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor who worked in conjunction with Knight of Malta Alexander Haig, Jr., whose brother is a powerful Jesuit, Francis Haig.

These connections are avoided and for good reason. Anti-Jewish fury is being planted, watered and grown here in the US by credible people. Kay may or may not be a willing player in this scenario. Hopefully she is not! I have personally requested a statement from her indicating that the Jesuit Order is the power behind all she describes in her tapes for the purposes of VAIll. She replied that she was quite busy at the time and not able to reply.

I am concerned for her; I admire her for her boldness. Maybe a few of you on the list can help clarify this matter for me as I hopefully may be mistaken. I am also forwarding this note to Kay herself hoping that she will respond with a damning indictment against the Jesuit Order that has ruined her husband, overturned her life and now rules the world as per the commands of its General, Peter-Hans Kolvenbach.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

I have to agree with Mr Phelps on Kay Griggs because I found it suspicious when she tried to make out the CIA is just a boogeyman! I believe shes a convincing Temporal Coadjutor!

What proof do you have of the german jewish halocaust, I believe from what I now read that there wasn't one. The poplution stats(how many lived there before the war,how many supposedly died,how many collected checks from the German government after the war,ect.) don't add up

Where did the 600,000 Jews of Germany and the over 3 million Jews of Poland go to? What was the reason for the creation of the SS, commanded by Roman Cathoic Bavarian Jesuit Coadjutor Heinrich Himmler? Why were the death camps built by the Vatican's I.G. Farben in conjunction with Rockefeller's Standard Oil of New Jersey? Why did Masonic American Thomas J. Watson of IBM partner with a Nazi German company in spreading the census-taking punch-card machines throughout Europe prior to the outbreak of the war? Why did the Reich used its trains at the end of the war to move Jews to the camps in the East rather than move German troops out of the East?

Belzec is inder excavation now and hundreds of thousands of skeletons have been found, Belzec under the Order's Christian Wirth being one of the most efficient death factories.

You need to reconsider if you cannot answer the above questions and Fred Licthners report on the non exesistant gas chambers.

The gas chambers at Dachau were never used but the ones in Auschwitz were indeed used. If there were no gas chambers in Auschwitz, why did its neighboring plant of I.G. Farben make the Zyklon B cyanide pellets? Why the evidential crematoriums if there were no bodies to burn? Was Commandant Roman Catholic Jesuit-trained Hoess lying at Nuremburg?

I lot of what you talk about seems reasonable on the jesuits and massons.
The real Jewish Halocaust is of 50 million white Christian killed in russia by it's jewish run comminist government.

Indeed, the Order used both its Masonic Jewish Bolsheviks (overseen by Jesuit Bishop Ropp)and its Jesuit-led German Nazi invaders to murder 50 million White Slavic, Russian Orthodox, non-papal Christians in accordance with the wicked Council of Trent and Jesuit Oath. Jesuit Coadjutor Hitler's Secretary, Martin Bormann, commanded the generals to be brutal to the Slaves, killing "heretics" while driving the survivors into the arms of Jesuit-trained Joseph Stalin. And that Crusade was financed from Wall Street by the banks controlled by the Archbishop of New York City including the Order's Federal Reserve Bank. Indeed, the Orthodox Slavic and Lutheran German Holocausts are never reported as per the plan of the Order's controlled world press.

God Day , xxxxx

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Were seeing a lot of talk as usual about Israel maybe playing a part in this. This as usual is another way of putting blame onto The Black Pope's court jews. We're being told that Israel knew of the attack by some in a few guises in order for us to be suspicious of them. Even if Mossad had played a part in this crime, everyone in the know, knows Rome owns everyone and ultimately the fault, blame and crime lies with The Jesuits and its Vatican as usual. Right now one of the agendas is to make Jews look bad in the West such as America, U.K & France. This has been happening with the media hyping our countries as getting very anti-semetic. They want the Jews to leave for Israel just as they did with World War II. This is more evident when you see the secret war going on with Israel and America right now over the transfer of defense issues to China. Muslims are brought into our countries along with other immigrants not only to break national sovereignty but to make jews fear in the coming future whilst the Jesuit agenda through Illuminati groups like B'nai B'rith International create anger against jews. Eventually the Muslims in our countries will be used to help destroy us when we're blamed (America and England) for destroying the Dome of Rock and Al-Aqsa Mosque. The Holy Jihad will start and a race war will continue from there.

This attack has taken place in order for the people to concentrate back on the war on terror. Many people have forgotten about the war on terrorism and they must be dealt with by installing the fear and media brainwashing once again. They need ID cards to whizz through no problem, they want biometrics etc waiting in stalls to board trains and transport. They want to put more cameras everywhere you turn. The only way you'll easily surrender to these demands are drugging with Fluorides and other toxins which numb our minds, create problems (terror strikes) then your reactions and they have a solution which is their agenda. If I come to you years ago and told you I wanted to put cameras in your street to watch everything including you, what would you say? NO CHANCE! So what I do is raise the crime with more drugs through the intelligence agencies, remove x-amount of police off the streets etc. Your burgled regular and your fed up of it. I come along and say hey I can help you with cameras, what do you say? PLEASE I BEG YOU and it might help my insurance too. Ask yourself who gains from this attack and its certainly not Muslim arabs. Do you think our countries bombing their countries to death is what they want, would you? No, so its just not in their interests to do this. Its The Black Pope of the Jesuit Order and his governments of the world who gains!

I also found it suspicious how these attacks were very similar to a Rupert Murdoch B Sky B Sky One program not so long back where multiple bombs had gone off but in this case it was dirty bombs. Very creepily similar though and remember they always let you know in advance on their agenda through their films and media brainwashing propoganda.

I've been warning for some time now that this period of 2005 is a very dodgy time indeed. I've warned that a Super Flu attack, Economic Crash, Terrorist Attack or Iran War could start at any time. Part of this was the fact that the CEO of OPEC had said he'd been informed that a dramatic drop in the demand for oil would happen 2nd quarter of 2005. The only way a dramatic drop would occur is if the above scenarios took place wether alone or all together. I still believe anytime soon you will see the Super Flu released which will be blamed on Asians and Birds. I've been looking at the Stock Market over the last week and a half. I found that the Dow Jones had lost a terrible amount of points some days and only about 2 days they had stayed in the black. The Dow Jones was over 10600 prior to this period but its gone as low as 10200. If the Dow Jones drops to 10000 or below expect a crash or something very big to come along just like 9-11. Remember how the world's economy was about to go pop 3 weeks before Sept 11th? Basically the Taliban had a lot to do with this because they destroyed their poppy crops. Remember The Black Pope and the worlds intelligence agencies CIA, ISI, MOSSAD, MI5 and so on all run drugs which gets laundered through companies on the Stock Markets which keeps the bubbled economy going. This is one of the main reasons why drugs are so easily available and for small change. Remember that Vietnam was The Black Pope's war on the Buddists who wouldn't surrender to Romanism and the fact The Black Pope wanted the Golden Triangle to himself (Heroin).

People are talking about how did these bombs get planted. Joe Vials wrote an excellent article (as usual) on the Madrid train bombings which will be of good use to you all. The only thing I will say about Joe Vials is that hes getting people to focus solely on Tel Aviv/Israel and New York City/U.S diverting attention from Rome/Italy and its mission command #1 The City of London (Financial district)

Myahudi Monsters Maul Madrid

<http://www.vials.com/myahudi/madrid.html>

Another good article by Joe Vials is one based on when The City got bombed and how they had really used MicroNUKES which can be as small as a coffee cup and have been used since in Bali, Iraq and more.

MicroNUKES in London

<http://homepage.ntlworld.com/steveseymour/nuke/nukes1.htm>

Again refer to documents like Operation Northwoods and see how the exact same ideas such as fake terrorist strikes on citizens to fit up Cuba are happening now by with a phony group who are run by the CIA through the Council on Foreign Relations who are run by The Knights of the Maltese Cross. For Queen Elizabeth II to make out she didn't know it was coming is such a farce. The Queen is very high up in The Knights of the Maltese Cross, she runs the British side for them and shes servant to The Prince and 78th Grandmaster Fra' Andrew Willoughby Ninian

Bertie who runs the whole of the International Knights of Malta. Now if you look at when he was elected it was May 8th 1988 (888) (8+5=13) (8+8+8=24[2+4+5=11]) and so on and so on, infact it gets quite boring once you understand their language, numerology and symbolism.

For four hundred years the great Jesuit army has been fighting their covert war for absolute control of the world. A masterful army of spies and assassins they have, in the past, been expelled from every country in Europe. They have arranged nearly every war in the last 300 years. They initiated the US Civil War to transform the United States into a Central Controlled tool of their conquest of the world. They have placed Hitler in power, Stalin in power, Mao in power, Pol Pot in Power and many more inquisitioners throughout the worlds history. They now use the United States to perpetrate inquisitions. As they did in Korea and Vietnam they do again with Iraq. The goal is simple and glorious, a one world government, a new world order with the Pope on the throne and the Jesuit General in control of the Pope and the empire of the world. Secret services such as the CIA, the KGB, MI6 are controlled by them. Presidents are elected and Popes and Presidents are killed by them. They are the army of the Vatican in control of the Vatican. They hide behind secret societies which they control and corporations they own like Microsoft, Bank of America, Lockheed and many more.

This site is dedicated to the glorious achievements of the Jesuit Brotherhood, the Society of Jesus for all to now know.

As previous Jesuit General Tamburini once said "See sir, from this chamber I govern not only Paris but China, not only China but the whole of the world, without anyone knowing how I do it."

The end of the fabricated "Cold War" marked a turning point in the careful fight waged over the last 400 and more years by the Jesuit Brotherhood. The long awaited New World Order is upon us! Absolute control of the world via the Holy Roman Empire (Isis-Horus-Seb) is no longer a secret necessary to maintain. Let the truth be told that the world belongs to the Black Pope. The Jesuit Brotherhood is now in the phase of consolidation. The ever heretical United States and Canada will soon be the hallow grounds for the inquisition. No less thorough than those of the past under Jesuit servants Hitler, Stalin, Mao and many others. The cleansing will be complete, the protestants will convert or be annihilated. The “Freedoms” will be destroyed as subservience to the Jesuit General is no longer a privilege but a requirement. The non-believers will be slain for the greater good and greater glory of the Jesuit controlled Vatican empire.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:46 AM (GMT)

Dear Friends,

There is no doubt that the Jesuit Order, in control of the CIA/KGB/SIS-MI5-MI6/FBI/Mossad/BND/the Chinese SIS/ISI via the Knights of Malta, is going to detonate nukes in the US. This will put the nation on a total war footing, suspending the Constitution as per executive order or a fascist Opus Dei-controlled Supreme Court ruling. I believe this will happen after the British have been terrorized out of "the War on Terror," thus facilitating the Kingdom's adoption of the European Constitution and the Euro. Then it will be the exclusive war of the American Empire, to be waged on two fronts.

Further, the nukes have been planted here in the US for over twenty years. According to the defector Alexander Lebed, a former head of Russian missile forces, over 100 nukes were planted by the KGB (assisted by the CIA) before the end of the Cold War. With five to ten detonations near Jewish or Protestant/Baptist populations (most likely in the South and the West thus not disrupting our main commercial and Roman Catholic cities), the Moslems can be blamed justifying the nuking of Mecca and Medina in Saudi Arabia---secretly to be carried out by the Masonic Bush's Masonic Wahhabi Bin Laden Construction Co.

The event in London today is but the Order's plan to discourage the British people from continuing to side with the US in the Pope's Crusade against Islam. Notice one of the targets--"Shepherd's Bush" which is in fact the signature of Bush's Shepherd (Benedict XVI). When Knight of Malta Blair finally pulls out, then the nuclear events can be unleashed on the US.

If I were the Black Pope, this is how I would do it.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

It would not surprise me if the Order created some tsumanis to be used against the California and Oregon coasts. These targets too must be softened so as to remove civilian populations that would resist the coming Chinese invaders. Further, there is a large Jewish population in Los Angeles that would be decimated with a tsunami, while further weakening California from the lawless Roman Catholic Mexican Azlan anti-WASP, anti-Jew invaders.

Further, if I were the Jesuit General, I would demolish the Hoover Dam---named after that wicked sinner of a Bolshevik, Herbert Hoover---, thereby destroying Las Vegas via a slow dehydration creating more anarchy, yet not damaging our commercial infrastructure primarily in the Roman Catholic Northeast. It is most interesting that Area 51's highest technology has been moved South to a lesser known Nevada location.

Title: Eric Phelps - The Third Hebrew Temple LONG

Description: Flashback*

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:43 AM (GMT)

Bro. Eric,

You made this statement at the end of your discussion "CIA/Bin Laden":

Once the Third Hebrew Temple is built the stage will be set for the coming "covenant with many."

This puts a gap between the "appearing" and the signing of the covenant.

Yes.

The duration of this gap would be at least the time it takes to complete the construction on the temple.

Disagreed. The Temple may well be built during this dispensation of grace prior to the Appearing.

So either you have the gap, or the temple is built before the Lord's appearing.

Agreed, although the gap does not have to be long.

It's only logical that the temple will not be built on this side of his coming, due to the fact that it would make his coming not imminent.

Disagreed. The Appearing is always imminent, but we are to exhort one another "as ye see the day approaching." (Heb 10:25) The "day" is not the Appearing but the "Day of the Lord" (I Thess.5:2) which includes the 70th Week of Daniel. That day is approaching, but we will not be "overtaken" by that day as it will indeed overtake the world as "a thief in the night" (I Thess.5:4).

So we have his appearing, the building of the third temple, then the signing of the covenant - in that order.

Disagreed. We have the Appearing and then the signing of the covenant. The third temple may or may not be built during the 70th week. Scripture is silent on that issue unless we can infer that the Apostle Paul was speaking of the third temple in II Thess 2:4---which I believe that he was. Still the Lord Jesus can Appear for his Church without any OT prophecies being fulfilled during this Present Evil World (Age) (Gal.1:8). "That man of sin"---the risen Pope--- will sit in the Third Temple after the Departure---the "falling away first." The temple may or may not be built at the time of the Church's "Departure," as the Lord's Appearing is always imminent.

Wouldn't it be more feasible to have the covenant first, and part of this agreement would be the permission to build the temple?

It is possible, but the Temple may take more than three and one half years to build. It may well be the most beautiful temple yet, as it is here that the devil indwelling "that man of sin" will rule the world---his constant wish.

Then the Jesuit General moves in at the midpoint of the tribulation. Not only would the building of the temple be part of the covenant, but also a "land-for-a-price" (not peace) deal as hinted at in Dan. 11:39.

No doubt that the "abomination of desolation" (Matt.24:15, Dan.9:27; 12:11) is set up at mid-trib as his rule is for 42 months/1260 days. No doubt that there must be a peace in Jerusalem in order for the temple to be built without the hazard of Moslem bombers seeking vengeance over the removal of the mosques on the temple mount. Thus, the temple may or may not be built during the first half of the Trib.

First of all, in my opinion there is too much gap time after the appearing and too little time this side of his coming for the temple to be built (not to mention the question of imminence). Besides, the Muslims wouldn't stand for the temple to be rebuilt if the Dome of the Rock were to be destroyed.

Unless they have been destroyed by the millions by a foe they then seek to destroy, which foe cannot be Israel as it is the Pope's creation.

There may be a deal made for the temple to be rebuilt in the land area south between the Dome and the Al Aqsa mosque. Remember that according to Revelation 11, the courtyard of the temple will be under Gentile dominion. So it seems that there will be some type of agreement concerning property ownership. With regard to the area between the two mosques, some Jewish scholars have concluded that the Mosque of Omar is not the exact location where the second temple stood, but lies south of the Dome between the two Muslim holy sites.

The temple mount includes the entire area upon which the two mosques now sit. That mount is too small for a Hebrew temple to be built in the midst of both mosques. Further, Satan will not allow the seat of his world government to be distracted with the presence of Islamic Mosques no longer needed by him, as he is the father of Islam. The temple's outer "court" will be under Gentile dominion (Rev.11:2), but those Gentiles may be other than Arabs.

The "covenant with many" would be a "peace" agreement between the Jews and Muslims primarily (the "many" of course would include also Jesuit leadership and any other authorities applying pressure) as to the conditons set for building the temple.

The "many" I believe to be many nations, possible the Pope in full control of the UN or at least all of Europe after the ten kings have given him their power. And the Jesuits will be involved of course.

In order to avoid a world-wide upheaval on the part of Muslims, it would be easier to settle on building the temple between the 2 mosques, with the Jesuit General still accomplishing his purpose. I don't think you can rule out either the fact that there may be a worldwide ecumenical spirit of cooperation due to the after effects of the mysterious "snatching away" of people all over the earth.

Possible, but I doubt it. The Moslem problem is being dealt with at this moment. After this Papal Crusade, the Moslems will never be a serious threat to the survival of Israel and the building of Jerusalem's third temple. With the destruction of the Kaaba (in which is quite possibly a mini-nuke ut there by the Bin Laden Construction Company) there will be no more center for Islam. The religion will die as Romanism will die when the Beast---the risen Pope---destroys "that great city" of Rome.

Once the Jews settle on the more feasible temple site, having been convinced by the scholars' findings with regard to the site of the second temple, and once that the Muslims are satisfied that their mosque won't be destroyed, the Black Pope will come up with a deal, especially if he controls the Arab and Jewish leaders, to satisfy both sides. In fact, the Hebrew word for "confirm" is to "make firm" or even to force a pact between the two sides. So I don't think there can be any agreeing to the building of the Temple until the covenant is made. That will be a major part of the covenant.

Possibly. But your position depends on the degree of ornate craftsmanship now intended to be utilized in the building of the temple. If I was the Black Pope, I would use all the gold now hoarded in the world's central banks as an overlay to the temple and to enhance the internal beauty so necessary for the worship of fallen men.

To have to wait for the temple to be built before the signing of the covenant would mean a sizeable gap, i.e., a time period of considerable length dangling outside God's prophetic time frame of the 70 weeks.

If the Appearing occurs before the building of the temple.

I feel the temple will be built within the 70th week, and will be a result of the covenant signing.

Disagreed.

It will be rebuilt in time for the Antichrist to enter in at the midpoint of the tribulation.

Agreed.

I also am of the opinion that Moses and Elijah (not Enoch) will minister at the same time, and due to the comparison of Joshua and Zerubbabel (Zac. 4:14 and Rev. 11:4) with the two witnesses, I believe that they will be involved in the rebuilding of the temple and the temple services during the first three and a half years of the tribulation. Moses will be a major factor, due to his identification with the tabernacle and operation of the sacrificial system. Elijah will be preaching hot hell against the opposers and at the same time convincing the Jewish people of the connection between the temple services and Yeshua Ha Meshiach, something comparable to Paul's three years in Arabia after his conversion.

Indeed, Moses and Elijah are the two witnesses evidenced by their appearing at the Mount of Transfiguration.

Interesting, although the two witnesses appear to have rather a preaching ministry, a ministry that will startle the temple builders if the building is during their ministry.

The valuable seed will be planted for the sealing of the 144,000 to preach starting at the midpoint of the 70th week, when the ministry of the two witnesses is completed.

Agreed. And the 144,000 males will all be killed.

This will also prepare the Jewish hearts to receive their Messiah when the time comes. These two will be such a thorn in the side of the Jesuit General, since no one will be able to touch the witnesses as they carry out their ministry.

Agreed.

To add to the world's misery, they plague the earth during their ministry. Remember when Elijah went before Ahab, and Ahab said, "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?", Elijah having plagued the earth with a three-and-a-half year drought. The two witnesses will definitely be troubling the earth during their ministry. That's why the world will be celebrating their death.

Agreed.

This all leads up to the Antichrist's fury at the midpoint of the tribulation when he is able to overcome the witnesses and kill them. Then Satan enters into him,

(after the Seventh Caesar/Pope is risen from the dead)

he finally has freedom to move into the temple and declare himself to be God. He is even more vengeful and furious when the world sees the resurrection of the two witnesses up to heaven. Then begins the great campaign of persecution against the Jews and the saints.

Agreed.

Russia's attack on Israel will occur sometime close to the midpoint, but that is something to be dealt with separately.

Agreed, just prior to mid-point.

There is room for a lot of speculation for this period, but I do feel that the construction of the Temple will be within the 70th week time slot. What has me puzzled is the question of the time period (if there is one) between the appearing and the signing of the covenant.

It may be only a few days or even hours.

Dr. Rivera's 15-Year-Old Claims Verified by Current Events

Issue Date: May/June 2000

Read it Online

In 1985, ex-Jesuit Alberto Rivera predicted that the Vatican would eventually apologize for its part in the German Holocaust, the inquisition, and the slaughter of Jews and Muslims during the Crusades. His prediction was based on secret briefings that he attended while a Jesuit in training.*

Last month, this prediction came true as Pope John Paul II publicly asked forgiveness for the sins of Roman Catholics through the ages. The pope and several other Vatican leaders conducted a "Day of Pardon Mass" at St. Peter's Basilica.

To the Jews he said, "We are deeply saddened by the behavior of those who in the course of history have caused these children of yours to suffer, and asking your forgiveness we wish to commit ourselves to genuine brotherhood."

In reference to the Inquisition, Cardinal Ratzinger confessed, "Even men of the church, in the name of faith and morals, have sometimes used methods not in keeping with the Gospel." The pope responded, "Have mercy on your sinful children."

Some Jewish leaders were unimpressed. Israel's chief rabbi, Meir Lau, said he was "deeply frustrated" by the pope's failure to mention the Holocaust by name.

Leaders from several Jewish organizations have been pressing the Vatican to open its World War II archives to investigators. They claim that, at best, Vatican leaders and Pope Pius XII, remained silent during Hitler's genocide against the Jews and others.

Of course, few are willing to present the whole truth, that Roman Catholic leaders, including the pope, were instrumental in Hitler's rise to power and that Hitler was simply carrying out persecution against the Jews which the Vatican had fostered for centuries.

Another reason for opening the archives is to determine what happened to hundreds of millions of dollars worth of gold stolen by the Nazis from Jews and other conquered nations. Much of it has been traced to Swiss banks who have made a token refund to Holocaust survivors.

But Dr. Rivera was told by the head of the Jesuit order, Cardinal Augustin Bea, that a special train flying Vatican flags was allowed through the Allied military lines. The Americans were told it was a "mercy train" carrying medical supplies. In reality it carried Nazi gold which was deposited in Vatican accounts in Swiss banks. In July, 1997, a documentary film crew discovered a US government document stating that the pro-Nazi Croatian Ustachis sent gold coins worth 250 million Swiss francs to the Vatican which was later used to finance the "rat line" of fleeing Nazi leaders to sanctuary in Spain and Argentina.

The Vatican denies this but still refuses to open its archives. In January of this year, Ukranian and Jewish concentration camp survivors filed a class action lawsuit in San Francisco, California against the Vatican Bank. The complaint calls for the Vatican Bank, the Franciscan Order and other European banks to give an accounting of the Nazi Ustashi Gold and for restitution for the victims and their families.

The Roman Catholic Institution has steadfastly denied that Dr. Rivera ever was a priest, much less privy to secret Vatican briefings. However, it seems unlikely that it was just a lucky guess when he made these statements 15 years ago.

Venezuelan Cardinal Says President Chavez Needs "an Exorcism"

By Dan Molinski Associated Press Writer

Published: Jul 31, 2005

<http://ap.tbo.com/ap/breaking/MGB2AMMKTBE.html>

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) - An outspoken Catholic cardinal took his war of words with Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez to a new level in an interview published Sunday, calling him "a paranoid dictator" who needs "an exorcism."

Rosalio Castillo, Venezuela's only cardinal in the Roman Catholic Church, also accused Chavez of rounding up more than 100 political prisoners and torturing some captives.

"There is no democracy here (in Venezuela)," Castillo told Colombia's main newspaper, El Tiempo. "This is a despotic government."

Chavez, who insists he supports democracy, is up for re-election next year, and recent polls suggest he is strongly favored to win.

Earlier this month, Castillo warned that Chavez was gaining too much power and becoming a dictator. Chavez, in turn, called Castillo "a bandit" who "has the devil inside him."

In Sunday's interview, Castillo said his comments on Chavez are not personal, and said they fall in line with the opinions of other church leaders in Venezuela.

"The difference is in the way it's said. There are those who speak diplomatically, and others like me who speak clearly so that everyone understands," the 82-year-old cardinal said.

The Roman Catholic Church has been one of the most critical voices of Chavez, a former paratroop commander and self-styled "revolutionary."

The church is also one of the most trusted institutions in the poverty-stricken South American nation. More than 90 percent of Venezuela's population is Roman Catholic, and church leaders and local priests wield tremendous influence over many of its citizens.

Asked whether he would send a blessing to Chavez, Castillo said: "More than a blessing, I'd give him an exorcism."

Title: Was Alberto Really Who He Claimed To Be?

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:37 AM (GMT)

Was Alberto Really Who He Claimed To Be?

As soon as Alberto Rivera went public with his testimony, the Roman Catholic Church began its damage-control operation. Alberto knew too much! Having been prepared for leadership in the Jesuit order, he had been briefed on things too sensitive to put in writing. Now he was telling the world!

Alberto was immediately denounced as having never been a priest, even though he possessed clear documentation. Christianity Today printed an article written by Gary Metz, attacking Alberto and accusing him of all sorts of things. Alberto refused to spend his life arguing with his accusers. Instead, he just pushed on, preaching the gospel, and trusting God to defend him.

The Lord raised up other Christians who examined the charges against Alberto, and found him to be exactly what he claimed to be. Below is an abundance of evidence. Read it for yourself.

Photos and ID papers:

See the photo ID card that the Spanish authorities issued to Alberto as a young priest. Photos of Dr. Rivera as a young priest when he was the Director of the Parish School in San Lorenzo, Tarrasa, Spain.

Photos taken at various meetings where he preached the gospel, after being saved and leaving Catholicism.

View the letter he received from the Archbishop of Madrid-Alcala giving him permission to travel in foreign countries in the service of the pope. See the original, in Spanish and an English translation of the letter.

Statements of other Christians

From other former Catholics who, after meeting him, recognized immediately that he was who he said he was.

Read a letter to Christianity Today, in which author James Houston provides many pages of historical evidence that support the claims of Alberto Rivera. It makes interesting reading, and will help you see that Alberto was truly genuine. It won't be hard to see why Christianity Today never dared print it.

Read a short online book, "Is Alberto For Real?," written by Sidney Hunter. He answers the charges against Alberto one by one.

Read what Jack Chick had to say about the accusations against Alberto, and why he knew he had to publish Alberto's story, even though he knew the attacks that would come. This is a real eye-opener!

Once he was freed from the oath of celibacy imposed on Roman Catholic priests, Alberto started a ministry, the "Anti-Christ Information Center," dedicated to promoting the truth about the false christ in the Vatican. He then married his wife, Nury, and fathered a son, Alberto Jr. Since Alberto went to be with the Lord on June 20, 1997, Nury has continued the ministry of A.I.C.

In this personal message, Jack Chick promises to keep Alberto's message alive, and shares an example of what many Catholics say after reading this testimony.

Title: Catholic #1's criticism of Rivera, Chick refuted

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:36 AM (GMT)

*This is my response to Catholic #1 and his views. My Response is in bold. This is a classic. Enjoy. The link of Catholic #1's comments can be found at <http://www.repentamerica.com/forums/viewtopic.php?t=780>

Hislop has long been rendered obsolete and Chick, well, what can you say about that.

I don't consider Hislop and Jack Chick obsolete at all. Why do many people dislike Jack Chick? It's because he's been a soul winner for decades and never backed down from exposing the many Catholic superstitions that plague their religion like a virus.

Hislop conclusively proved that many of the infrastructures of the Catholic Church like the Papacy, nuns, mitre, mass, and other things have origins from the Mystery Religions of Egypt and Babylon not from the Bible. Jack Chick has proven to be a soul-winner for Christ and shown great exposes about Mormonism, Catholicism, Freemasonry, Jehovah Witnesses, Evolution, and Bible preservation for decades. Those things and what Hislop wrote are relevant today and are never obsolete.

For info about chick and Hislop, look to catholic.com for their essays on them.

Response: Sorry, I rather look at www.piney.com/HislopTOC1.html and www.chick.com and see what both men have to say, not distortions. Chick have opposed Freemasonry, JWs, Islam, etc. and that should be commended. His opposition to the religion on Catholicism is founded on Scripture.

Either/or arguments are a hallmark of Protestantism, though Jesus stated he was the foundation, yet we see in Rev ther are 12 foundations. The saints in heaven share in Jesus. Jesus is the head, we are his body, working together. Honoring Mary is the same as Jesus, as Jesus was a good Jew following the 10 commandments perfectly. Paul stated he suffered for the body, "lacking in Christ's afflictions" Is he saying Jesus didnt do enough? NO! he joins himself to Christ, as we all should do.

This is a classic case of distortion. The Bible says that Christ is the foundation and the chief corner stone plus the Rock period (1 Corinthians 3:11, Ephesians 2:20, Romans 9:33, 1 Corinthians 10:4). The 12 foundations in Revelations refer to the New city of Jerusalem, not to the real and total indestructible foundation and Rock of the Lord Jesus Christ. Christ is the only foundation of the Church not the 12 foundations of the New Jerusalem city. There's a difference. Nice tactic in distorting the Scriptures to suit your agenda. I agree that the saints in Heaven live with Jesus and that Jesus is the head of the Church and believers are the body working together. On the other hand, there is no scriptural proof of a Pope, nuns, priests being a small number when God established the priesthood of all believers (1 Peter 2:5, 1 Peter 2:9). The Lord Jesus Christ is our only High Priest (Hebrews 7:26). There is nothing wrong with Honoring Mary, but I honor all believers equally not just Mary. Mary is a fallible, sinful woman since the Bible says that all men sinned. If you deny that all men have sinned before, you call the Bible a liar. The Catholic religion believes in venerating Mary and many Catholic documents cite Marian worship and some document classify Mary as a co-Mediatrix.

The Bible Says that Jesus Christ is the only Mediator between God and man plus we aren't to worship nothing but God (1 Timothy 2:5, Hebrews 12:24, Exodus 34:14). It isn't necessarily for veneration since we respect Mary, but Christ should be our majority for all veneration and honor should be given to all believers (which makes up Mary) equally. Christ was God in the flesh and called Mary woman. I have no problem with man suffering problems after salvation, but suffering is never redemptive. Only God Almighty can redeem us by nothing of ourselves. There is nothing wrong with joining with Jesus Christ, but not following false doctrines like the existence of a Pope, nuns, scapular, rosary beads with repetitive prayer violating God's word (Matthew 6:7), etc.

It is not either/or.

There is context in scripture and God said choose heaven or choose Hell. There is an either or in life.

Any one that seriously believes in Chick, is rather sacary as all his sources 'are covered up" or "trust me"

Jack Chick is right on Evolution, Freemasonry, JWs, Islam, etc. I trust him and his sources and his work are not covered up or intentionally false. Many of his sources include information involving Creation, music, and other issues, not just the Catholic Church. He's very wide in his perspective. Jack Chick is blatant and not secretive unlike occult Freemasonry or the occult Jesuit Order.

Rivera and Todd were documented criminals, these, Chick's sources.

Chick uses more sources than Rivera and Todd. Chick uses sources from Intelligent design promoters, Bible scholars, researchers, etc. Watchman may call me a smearer and question Chick, but I won't. Rivera was a man who made mistakes, but his fundamental arguments of the corruption of the Catholic Church and the Jesuits are facts. Todd was a man who made mistakes as well, but he tried his best to outline the Satanism is prevalent in society and the Secret Societies' power in America. That should be cherished not condemned. Rivera showed real documentation that he was apart of the Jesuit Order.

I have read Marcavages views on this site about Catholics. He spends more time, it seems fighting us than focusing on abortion, etc.

Marcavages has a right to believe in what he wants about Catholics. Abortion is forever evil and murder, but ecumenical unity is wrong and shouldn't be used to fight against legitimate social ills at all. I don't follow ecumenicalism and Rome is surely promoting that gambit to con Bible-Believers to compromise their faith for submitting to the teachings of the Vatican. I will never submit to the Vatican, Freemasonry, or other false groups at all. God allowed me to witness the truth in front of my face and I will not deny God. Dissent with false doctrine is scriptural and not evil or a hindrance to people.

His posts and info show he never really knew anything about Catholicism. Reading articles and statements do not make one a Catholic nor an expert. He clearly knows little about us. Further, the "ex" title is telling. Ex-smokers are some of the biggest anti-smoking nazi's around.

That's so funny that you call an ex-Catholic like Marcavages as not knowing anything about Catholicism. Catholicism is easy to understand. It believes that works save, that Mary is sinless, that the mass contains the body and blood of Jesus Christ in a circular wafer (used by the ancient Babylonian and Egyptian pagans), that purgatory is a real place, that the Pope is the Vicar of Christ when the Pope is never mentioned in the Bible and the Early Church condemned a bishop of bishops as Cyprian eloquently said in his works.

Watchman,

I respect the fact that you are at least willing to look at both sides. By reviewing sites such as catholic .com, Catholic Apologetics International, Scripture Catholic, etc one should get a fair and balanced view of what we believe. Not some Chick-fantasy.

Chick is not showing fantasy. Jack Chick is right that Roman Catholicism embraces purgatory, the Papacy, etc. He's right that the Jesuits have been involved with negative activities before. He's right that Freemasonry is wrong and occultic and he's right that God existed and that he created the heavens and the Earth. Jack Chick is right on a lot of issues.

As I have said before, look at what we REALLY believe, not what someone with a clear grudge or slant has to say.

I always know what Catholicism is all about by the Bible, Vatican II documents, early church quotes, more Catholic documents, and other information years ago. I don't have a grudge or slant.

I have talked to Ralph Woodrow. He wrote a second book refuting, totally, Hislop's views in light on current archeology, etc.

I haven't heard of Ralph Woodrow. Hislop's main premise that paganism influenced many of the doctrines of Romanism is a fact. I don't care how many books Woodrow right, since that can't be denied. Many scholars write literature blasting others opinion and that doesn't mean that the blaster is accurate at all.

Hislop believed that the cross was a satanic symbol!!

The cross was a satanic symbol if you mean a cross with equal sides on it. That's a sun symbol. The cross in the form of a Tau is from heathen civilizations and that's proven by modern research, archaeology, and history. That's Hislop's point. That's not extremist for Christ rose from the dead. Having Christ on a cross around your neck is really sick for Christ is not on the cross but on the right hand of God the Father.

www.thewordsofeternallife.com/cross.html is a site with multiple sources proving the pagan origin of the cross.

He is extremely eccentric.

He may be eccentric, but right on his arguments.

I have read the KJV, comparing it to my 2 Catholic Bibles. NO disagreement. The original KJV had the so-call "apocrypha" books !!!!!

Many scholars have pointed out the many disagreement between the Catholic Bible and KJV. The original KJV had apocrypha books originally because it was of a reference tool not because they were as equally accurate as the 66-book canon. The early Church like Jerome, Origen, Hilary, etc. rejected it. Jewish scholars like Josephus, The Council of Jamnia, and Philo, and others in the time of Christ and for hundreds of years after the death and resurrection of Jesus condemned the Apocrypha as being inaccurate. That's a historical fact. The Roman Catholic Church did not officially canonize the Apocrypha until the Council of Trent (1546 AD). Even King James and William Tyndale condemned the Apocrypha. The Apocrypha have many unscriptural precepts like prayers for the dead and sinless perfection (2 Maccabees 12:39-46), Salvation by Almsgiving (Ecclesiasticus 3:30), Purgatory (II Maccabees 12:39-45), the justification of suicide (II Maccabees 14:43-46), slavery and cruelty (Ecclesiasticus 33:24-28), and reincarnation (Wisdom of Solomon 8:19-20). Lying, assassination and magical incantations are also approved in the Apocrypha. Luther and Calvin regarded the Apocrypha as not inspired works of God. Luther called it solely for edification and Calvin rejected them out right. So, Bible-Believers rejected the Apocrypha from the beginning.

TRy as I have, I could not find any validation of the man-made Sola Scriptura, Sola Fide or for some of you, once-saved-always-saved.

There is tons of validation of Sola Scriptura, Sola Fide and other precepts. Sola Scriptura is the belief that the Scriptures alone are sufficient to help a believer to find all fundamental doctrines of Christianity. Sola Scriptura also means that the Bible is the supreme source of information for religious usage, the final court of appeal for doctrine, and sufficient guide for any religious walk. Those 3 signs can be easily derived from God's word. That's a fact since 2 Timothy 3:15-16 All Scripture is inspired. Also see Psalm 89:34. Not even God would alter his word. 2 Peter 1:20-21 says his written word is inspired and not given by private inspiration. The prophecy came by holy men of God moved by the Holy Spirit.

The Scriptures aren't equal to tradition since tradition has a tendency to be distorted over time, change, some tradition are unscriptural, and no one knows the total extent of authentic tradition. The Scriptures are totally preserved in 66 books. Christ condemned some of tradition, but Christ never condemned the Holy Scriptures. Since tradition varies over time and the Bible doesn't, the Bible is superior to all tradition. There is not a single verse in the Bible that calls tradition equal to scripture. In fact, all that I need is found in scripture alone not by imperfect tradition to strenghten my faith. Sola Fide is that by grace alone God can save a soul and that's fact expressed explicitly by Paul and others in the NT. I don't believe in once saved always saved.

BTW

For those of you that are conspiracy nuts, how do you know that Peroutka is really a protestant now, not a Catholic ? Paranoia eventually leads to trusting in nothing or no one.

A Conspiracy is mentioned in the Bible (Ezekiel 22:25, Acts 23:13). Satan is in a conspiracy to ruin the world, but in the end; he will fail. Legitimate conspiracies ought to be praised not condemned like John Loftus, Eric Jon Phelps and other proving that the Vatican allowed Nazis war criminals to come to South America, U. S.A., and other places in the Vatican Ratline. Peroutka is an Arminian Christian. There's no need for paranoia, but there isn't a need for doubting the New World Order plan as well.

Christ founded a Church, not a Jesus-and-me-only ism. Read Paul's letters carefully.

Christ founded a Church with Christ as its head, but not with Popes, nuns, monks, priests, etc. that existed from the obsolete Judaism or from pagan religions. The Bible allowed for the existence of automous churches in the world. That is what I'm supporting, automous churches. The centralization of power making one church controlling all other churches is unscriptural and it leads to corruption like Romanism. That's a prelude to the One World Religion agenda promoted by the U.N., Jesuits, and others. Read Paul and Jesus' words carefully. Christ wanted the church to be simplistic not massive expansive with pomp and public, unnecessary religious ceremonies as we see today not only in Catholicism but in Charismatic circles and apostate Protestants and apostate Baptist churches.

The pagan fallacy, once taken its natural and full route, can invalidate all Christianity. There are several books that allege that Jewish and Christian beliefs are nothing more than pagan beliefs, mixed with Middle eastern religions and Greek.

Satan using false faiths counterfeited items of authentic truth and some aspects of Christianity have roots in Judaism. On the other hand, Christianity is unique from all faith since it's the only faith that believes that one man saved the sins of the world and that mankind can't be saved by works, but by grace through faith. All pagan religions subscribe to the belief that works will save a man, but his works can never save a man. Also, Christianity is unique in saying that Jesus Christ is the only way to Heaven and Jesus saved all of the sins of the entire world of all time not Buddha, Muhammad, Hinduism, etc. Books existing slandering Christianity doesn't validate their opinions anyway. There's books slandering Bible-Believers, but that doesn't make them factually true. Paganism must be condemned not made cozy or great.

The everything-we-dont-like-is-a-pagan-religion is poor on any archeology, history and religious thought.

Wow, God said don't follow in the way of the heathen. The Bible says that don't follow sinful. That's paganism. Archaeology, history, and religious thought have proven the pagan influences in Catholicism and you refuse to accept that. For example, the Pope's mitre is from the pagan religions of Babylon and has no scriptural validation. Monks existed in pagan religions globally, but has no scriptural validation. The circular mass is circular and claims to have the blood and body of Christ and a circular wafer is found in many ancient pagan religions (proven by historian Wilkinson), but it has no scriptural validation. The Mother/child cult imagery is found in many wicked religions as a Virgin Mother with a child, exactly as it exists in Romanism. That's wrong for Christ didn't remain a child and Mary is never the Ever-Virgin for she had other children with Joseph. The Pope itself has no scriptural validation and Popes existed in Babylon and many Roman Emperors were called Pappa. Paganism ought to be rejected as wrong not covered up. It's not about what we don't like, it's about what God doesn't like. God doesn't like repeating prayer, unscriptural doctrine, calling a man Holy Father, and other things. I follow God not men.

Unlike Watchman, you all disagree with me based on your own misconceptions, not what I really believe, yet each one of you acts as your own "pope" in what is biblical and who is or isn't a Christian, based on your own narrow and undereducated mind set.

I have no misconceptions about Catholicism. Watchman is Watchman and tried to call me a smearer when I exposed his pal Ronald Reagan (that fraud) and I know all about Catholic belief. I don't act as my own Pope since God gave us a mind to question things. God gave us a spirit to discern things and God gave us a soul so he could save us. Questioning and exposing false doctrines is not evil or a sin. I don't act as a Pope. The Pope lets people bow to him, the Pope claims that he is the Vicar of Christ, centuries ago many Pope claimed to be God or take the place of God which is blasphemous, and the Pope is called Holy Father, when only God is called Holy Father (John 17:11).

Look at the sites I noted for a fair opinion.

I always looked at pro-Catholic sites before and my mind is made up to follow God's word and not unscriptural addition tradition.

I do thank you all, for your attacks have deepened my Catholic faith and I have gotten even deeper into scripture!!! I also am a Promo Director now for a Catholic Apologist group!!!

I thank you for deepening my faith in Jesus Christ. I've gotten deep in Scripture as well. It doesn't matter if you are a Promo Director for a Catholic Apologist group, since I've debated racist, 7th Adventists, Oneness, Muslims, Jews, Freemasons, etc. before. This is nothing new.

BTW- Bible Christian Society, tapes and CD's for $1, if you are interested in the Catholic view from a strict, Bible-only study! No Fathers, little to no Cathecis or Encyclicals Sorry, I'm not interested.

I am a believer. I find the Catholic faith is in complete harmony with the RSV, Douy-Rheims and KJV!

You are living in false doctrine in the Catholic religion. It is in harmony with the RSV and Douy-Rheims, but not with the KJV that eloquently refutes much of Roman Catholic distortions of scripture.

Thank you all for increasing my faith. I continually pray for you, that Satan not use you as a willing patsy for his will.

Thank you for increasing my faith. I don't need prayer to follow Roman Catholicism. Satan is not using me as a patsy for his will. The Roman Catholic Church is false by the evidence.

Watchman, I can at least respect you/I differences brother in Christ!!!!

What can I say. Watchman is Watchman. At least Watchman doesn't agree with Roman Catholic theology. He's pro-Confederacy and denies that Freemasonry influenced the Confederacy just as greatly as the Union side of the War. For example, the Southern Jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite was based in Charleston, South Carolina (a hotbed of secessionism) and Albert Pike plus many Confederate leaders were Masons just like General Grant. Anton Chaitkin documented a strong Masonry presence in the South as well. Watchman mocked me by questioning the existence of the Knights of the Golden Circle when many Union and Confederate leaders were members and scholars having proven that fact and the Jesuit's involvement in the death of Abraham Lincoln before. He makes the mistake by claiming that I judge all Confederates as evil, which I don't. I only judge the leadership of the Confederacy like Union as controlled by the Elite in the Civil War. Nothing more or less. Watchman shy away from the Vatican support of Jefferson Davis plus Davis was educated in a Catholic school. I go on the Bush Revealed Forum and write articles, but I don't agree with everything he believes in as well. He mocks the Jesuit conspiracy fact, but here's some facts that Watchman and Catholic #1 don't want you to know:

Fact: Jesuit priest Bernhard Staempfle helped Hitler write Mein Kampf proven by author Edmond Paris and Otto Strasser was one of the founders of the Nazi Party. Even Hitler said that he modeled the SS after the Jesuit Order.

Fact: Honorary 33rd Degree Freemason Ronald Reagan was cozy with Boston

College President Jesuit J. Donald Monan. Reagan not only passed abortion in California in the 1960's and was anti-gun, but also allowed pro-abortion Supreme Court justice Sandra Day O'Connor to exist and other bad political policies.

Fact: Hitler signed Concordant with Vatican Cardinal Pacelli in 1933 with the help of Knight of Malta Franz von Papen. Hitler was never excommunicated from the Roman Catholic Church at all.

Fact: Many Jesuits and the Vatican supported Latin American dictators to oppress the people there.

Fact: Jesuit Priest and 33rd Degree Freemason Joseph Rettinger create the powerful and sinister Bilderberger Group.

Fact: Jesuit priest William J. Fulco wrote the script for the unscriptural/occultic film of the Passion of the Christ.

Fact: Knight of Malta Dr. John J. DeGioia is a Georgetown/Jesuit trained person who's part of the Elite by being a member of the U.S. National Commission for UNESCO, Chair of its Education Committee, according to the webpage he "represents Georgetown" being a member of the World Economic Forum and the Council on Foreign Relations.

Fact: Jesuit Georgetown University trained Bill Clinton and he even went with Jesuit Richard McSorley on a trip to Oslo, Norway since both opposed the Vietnam War. Clinton is obvious a person who is pro-abortion and even vetoes a ban on partial birth abortion when the majority of the American people opposed that type of abortion.

Not to mention that they refuse to look at the Vatican's Secret Societies of the Opus Dei, Knights of Columbus, Knights of Malta, etc. I hope you convert to real Christianity Catholic #1.

Another institute with a lot of power is the Vatican. The Knights of Malta, Opus Dei, and the Jesuits are all operating from out of the the Vatican and are heavily involved with the intelligence agencies of the West. I found many of them in the secret intelligence group Le Cercle. Especially the Order of Malta has a very close relationship with the Monarchs of Europe. It's worldwide head, Andrew Bertie is a cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and attends many of the royal weddings. The full influence of these organizations isn't known, but a large amount of the Knights of Malta and Opus Dei figures have been involved in serious scandals over the years. The Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM) is a descendent of the Knights Hospitaller, the organization to which many of the Templar assets were transferred. It's Protestant version is the Order of St. John, headed by Queen Elizabeth II, which is far less controversial. These two groups are the main interests represented at Le Cercle, which I rate among the most secret organizations we know of today.

Now whats really suspicious about this writing it that he puts Knights of Malta and Opus Dei before the Jesuits. Also he speaks of those two but doesn't even address the Jesuits. Now wether you believe they are the controllers of the Vatican or not, everyone knows they are the biggest group in the Vatican so why not mention them like the others? FEAR!

Much has been made in the rumor mills about the New World Order. For a time it's coming was denied and to speak of it was promoted as the behavior of the conspiracy theorist and their fantasies. It is now more openly discussed and even more so in the future. The New World Order is the new Roman Empire, the absolute authority of the Pope as was the absolute authority of the Caesars before them as was the absolute authority of the Pharaohs before them as was the absolute authority of the Sumerian Kings before them and so on. An ancient lineage of divine right to the earth in it's entirety.

The new Empire will be located where the Dome of the Rock now stands in Jerusalem. From there the Black Pope shall rule the White Pope who shall rule the world and stand for godliness throughout the ages.

Long and hard have the Jesuit Brothers labored to destroy all Heretic resistance and long and hard have they suffered in the great cause. Many a Jesuit has been slain as the Brotherhood was driven from all parts of Europe at various times in it's history. Hunted down and executed by the heretics who failed to see the divine entitlement of the Brotherhood and the Vatican to rule the world. Nearly every war in Europe has been started by the Brotherhood to eradicate the Heretics, destroy their faiths and take revenge.

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:27 AM (GMT)

Dear Friends and Brethren in Messiah Jesus,
I just received a call from Point of View asking for a donation in the next three weeks to help prevent the homosexual agenda from stopping the marriage amendment. Before I looked into what Point of View stands for I said I would contribute. I asked the polite sounding woman a question-I said I do not support the homosexual agenda, I believe the Bible defines marriage- between a man and woman-but what would happen if this amendment was passed and future administrations and Supreme Court justices manipulate it the way they see fit? She said that she agreed with me. After I spoke with her I checked out the Point of View webpage. I found that the current host who took over founder Marlin Maddox passed away was trained by Jesuits at Georgetown, that the website supports Skull and Bones Luciferian George W. Bush, it is very ecumenical featuring books authored by Roman Catholics and Charismatics, it is clearly supportive of the unbiblical New "Religious" (not Biblical) Right Fascist Republican Party. I will not be contributing money to support political ends- neither the Right or Left-I support neither because they are controlled by the Jesuit Order through Cardinal Egan's Council on Foreign Relations. Both sides serve the same agenda ultimately. I believe the Bible-not the Left or Right-neither side honors the God of the Bible. The Order has used both for their wicked ends. The Jesuits especially former Massachusetts congressman Robert F. Drinan SJ is responsible for fomenting the abortion agitation that led to the tension within the Congress today. The Jesuits have used the abortion issue to encourage their ecumenical movement and to further destroy partisan cooperation. (what little was left after the illegal passage of the Fourteenth Amendment).

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:21 AM (GMT)

Remember Bush and his family have many devious dealings which favour the Jesuit Order's veil. They can sacrifice Bush and keep the sheople confused even more with Bush dodgy dealings and all the theatre show as usual. Another scapegoat for the wars and troubles of today instead of the Jesuit Order. You see the reason they put Bush in power (illusion) was because he and his family are warmongering business junkies. Now everyone expects wars when a Bush is around and dodgy dealing. So when people want someone to blame who do they go to? Yes the Puppet Bush or Blair instead of the paymasters THE JESUITS -2tuff

Stones 'Slate Bush' In Album Song

BBC News

8-10-5

A track on the Rolling Stones' upcoming album A Bigger Bang reportedly attacks interventionist supporters of President George Bush known as neo-conservatives.

"You call yourself a Christian, I call you a hypocrite," Sir Mick Jagger sings in Sweet Neo Con, one of 16 tracks featured on the September release.

"It is direct," Jagger is quoted as saying in US magazine Newsweek.

Jagger reportedly added that bandmate Keith Richards, who lives in the US, was "a bit worried" about a backlash.

The song was not featured on a 12-track advance CD sent out by the veteran British rockers to music critics.

Contentious

Vice-President Dick Cheney, Defence Secretary Donald Rumsfeld and Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice are considered by some to be leading neo-conservatives.

However, the term is a contentious one in the US.

The BBC's Mark Mardell has described neo-cons as "full-blooded 21st Century nationalists" who "insist America's mission is to bring democracy to the world".

The Rolling Stones are currently rehearsing in Toronto for their 40-date world tour, which begins in Boston on 21 August.

Schwarzenegger to rock with Rolling Stones

The Associated Press

August 12, 2005

Concert tickets for major acts are costly, but $100,000 to see the Rolling Stones?

That's the price to join Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger in a luxury box at the Stones' Aug. 21 show at Boston's Fenway Park. The event will cap a multistate fundraising swing that begins next week for Schwarzenegger's Nov. 8 special election.

Schwarzenegger will host a private reception for 40 guests who give $10,000 each to his campaign account. Guests contributing $100,000 apiece will be invited to watch the concert with Schwarzenegger in a luxury box.

The concert event was arranged after mortgage lender Ameriquest, the lead sponsor of the Stones' 2005 tour, offered Schwarzenegger more than three dozen center stage and luxury box seats. A company spokesman refused comment to the San Francisco Chronicle.

Fran Curtis, the Stones' publicist, said the band had no role in the governor's fundraiser.

The Stones' new album, "A Bigger Bang," is scheduled for release Sept. 6.

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:14 AM (GMT)

Thank you for your clarifying reply.

Regarding Alex Jones, I have publicly called him a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor. As I understand he is an open Roman Catholic, but his ability to enter the Bohemian Grove without being arrested or killed is quite telling. Further, he has refused to review any thesis pertaining to the Jesuit Order ruling the world via International Freemasonry. I do recommend portions of his work on my website as they are correct, but I warn that his conclusions are purposely misleading. The same holds true with Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor F. Tupper Saussy.

Regarding Len Horowitz, his Emerging Viruses: Aids and Ebola is tops; he has a fine section on the Knights of Malta in connection to the Nazis. But his New Age (i.e. Dark Age), unbiblical beliefs are quite disturbing in addition to his statement that Israel will be destroyed within the decade! Again, I have no association with Len (although I would contract with him if he offered a service that I needed), but certain pieces of his past works have critical facts that are quite useable in the context of VA. The same holds true with Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor John Loftus.

Regarding Jeff Rense, I realize that he is not continuing to finger the Jesuits as he did on a few of my interviews (2 or 3) with him. Rather he incessantly attacks the Jews in general and not the Anti-Jew, Masonic Jewish Zionists who rule Israel on behalf of the Pope, and who are also members of Cardinal Egan's Council on Foreign Relations. Rense has some very good detailed articles in support of the position that Rome ultimately rules the world, but he never goes there. One atheist Jewish friend on my email list quickly perceived that Rense was in fact "Adolf Rense." Again, I have no personal association with Jeff Rense.

Further, I was on NOI Ron Muhammed's talk show out of LA about two years ago.

He was very interested in the Jesuits and we generally had an informative interchange benefiting the listeners. But when I told him that Malcolm X said that the NOI and the KKK "had the same paymasters," that was the end of any further association with NOI interviewers.

In conclusion, I take interviews from anyone offering to give a composed, respectful session regardless of their religious or political persuasion. The interviews can be accessed from the sites of the hosts. This accessibility does not mean that I endorse the content of the site. I was merely hosted on the show for the benefit of the audience as it learned the designs of the Company and the solution to this "mystery of iniquity," the blessed gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Thanks again for your concern and encouragement regarding VA. The third edition is now nearly concluded is 1024 pages and is even more indicting than the first. If you know the Lord, I would appreciate your prayers over the next month as I finish my course.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

I don't think that Alex Jones is working for the Jesuits. I mean usually he sticks to stories he can actually prove, and he has personally investigated. I mean I don't think its fair to say that he is a "jesuit temporal", just because he doesn't "expose" the Jesuits; I mean I personally think what he is doing is so much more important than that, and he's exposing what is going on in this counrty and the world, and THAT is more important, the people reaping the consequences. Alex himself said on his show that I listened to from 1/17/03 with Hutton Gibson that he was NOT Catholic. And he has talked about the corruption in the Church before.

The reason why he wasn't killed after entering the grove is simply because he has too big of a following, and there would be an uproar. I believe that Jones is their pawn, but I don't think he is on their payroll. They let him live simply because it suits their cause; it organizes their opposition so they can easily take them out when their time comes. It is not so different from the Matrix.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:16 AM (GMT)

One day you will see through Alex "TEMPORAL" Jones. Jesuits have infiltrated protestant christianity and Ian Paisley exposes this nicely also. They adapt to destroy their enemy.

Now Hutton Gibson is a Temporal Coadjutor Jesuit Shill going on about N.W.O and trying to be a Jordan Maxwell but hes actually OPUS DEI same as Mel Gibson who has many Jesuit buddies especially William J Fulco the Jesuit behing The Passion and Douay Bible perversions in that film.

Many people around the world talk about the Church as being corrupt etc but thats very different to exposing their true power and especially the power of the almighty Society of Jesus

If you mention Jesuits to Temporal Coadjutors or people in fear of them the answer is almost always the same. Yes the jesuits are powerful and behind a lot but they are just a part of the clique. Now if they are this high and powerful why dont they mention them like they keep mentioning bilderberg, skull & bones, CFR etc etc. Its the same reason why they dont mention Le Cercle, 1001 club, committee of 300 etc because these are the real leaders and the others are quite down in the pyramid. You dont hear any of the serious occult cliques either.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:16 AM (GMT)

Dear Truth-seekers and Brethren in the Lord Jesus Christ,
I was working on a post I was about to send but it was accidentally closed. I just wanted to point out that Professed Jesuit of the Fourth Vow Leo J. O'Donovan S.J. of Georgetown University is on the Board of Directors of Disney. I learned this from VA where Brother Eric talks about in the chapter on the fun and games the Jesuits control through the Knights of Malta and Columbus.

http://corporate.disney.go.com/corporate/b...o_odonovan.html

According to the 2004 Council on Foreign Relations roster. Michael Dammann Eisner, the chairman of Walt Disney Co. and member of the Board of Directors was a term member of the CFR. <http://www.vyzygoth.com/CFRRoster2004.pdf>

Eisner is a CIA asset and connected with the mob http://www.whale.to/b/sp/springmeier.html#..._Dammann_Eisner

Eisner is on the board of the Aspen Institute which I've read according to Fritz Springmeier is an Illuminati-front organization. (I wouldn't doubt it for a second- considering the fact that many of the Board of Directors and "Honorary Board" are also members of the Council on Foreign Relations. <http://www.aspeninstitute.org/site/c.huLWJ...ees.htm#council>

The President and CEO Walter Isaacson was a Rhodes Scholar like Jesuit-trained Bill Clinton which Cecil Rhodes fashioned after the Jesuit Order and designed as an entryway into the Illuminati. http://www.aspeninstitute.org/site/c.huLWJ...er_Isaacson.htm Rhodes said he wanted to create "'a society copied, as to organization, from the Jesuits." and said it would be "a secret society, organized like Loyola's, supported by the accumulated wealth of those whose aspiration is to do something." Rhodes based his "scholarship and "scholars" on the wicked satanic/luciferian sons of Loyola. <http://www.geocities.com/CapitolHill/Senate/1777/rhodes.htm>

Isaacson is a Jew. The Order always places Jews loyal to the Pope in top positions so they can be used as scapegoats for the crimes and sinister acts of the Jesuits and the Order uses them to foment anti-Jewish fury against the precious Hebrew Israelitic descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in general instead of Papal Court Jews who are enemies of the Jewish race who have unconditional promises yet to inherit. An example of a Papal Court Jew is Masonic Jewish Zionist-Alan Greenspan chairman of the Jesuits' Federal Reserve Bank. Isaacson was chairman and CEO of CNN and Managing editor Time Magazine founded by Skull and Bonesman and Knight of Malta

Henry R. Luce.

According to his biography, Michael Eisner has established and funded the Eisner Foundation, a philanthropic organization headed by his wife, Jane. All Illuminati are philanthropists like the Rockefellers, Carnegies, Astors, etc. since they believe in duality in their actions-a balance between their evil and good deeds. I've read that Eisner is Jewish, if he is, he is clearly a Papal Court Jew who works for the Jesuits. Eisner answers to Jesuit O'Donovan and this Jesuit through Eisner did the following: (according to Eisner's bio) "Under Michael's leadership, Disney opened Disneyland Paris; expanded the Walt Disney theme parks; acquired Capital Cities/ABC, which included the ABC television network and equity ownership in ESPN, The History Channel, Lifetime, A&E, and E!; developed such leading Internet sites as Disney.com, ESPN.com, ABCNews.com, ABC.com, and Family.com; acquired Miramax Pictures; created Walt Disney Theatrical, which produced Beauty & the Beast, Aida, and The Lion King; developed the Disney Cruise Line; and acquired the Fox Family Channel (now ABC Family). In September, the 11th Disney theme park will open in the world's most populous nation - Hong Kong Disneyland." (note that all Illuminati worship numbers-9 and 11-are very important in the occult) also note that Walt Disney was a 33rd Degree Freemason working for the Black Pope thus he was knowledgeable of Kabbalah which emphasizes magic [hence the Magic Kingdom,the Sorceror's Apprentice in Fantasia etc. Walt Disney made witchcraft and magick appear innocuous and made it palatable for the families of America and multitudes of children] all of the high-level Masons are instructed in it-Luciferian Albert Pike praised the occultic, satanic Babylonian cult of Kabbalah. In fact, Pike said in his "Morals and Dogma" which is given to every 32nd Degree Freemason (like Knight of Malta Ronald Reagan)

"All the truly dogmatic religions have issued from the Kabbalah and return to it: everything scientific and grand in the religious dreams of the Illuminati, Jacob Boehme, Swedenborg, Saint-Martin, and others, is borrowed from Kabbalah, all the Masonic associations owe to it their secrets and their symbols."

Morals and Dogma, page 744

"Masonry, like all the Religions, all the Mysteries, Hermeticism and Alchemy, conceals its secrets from all except the Adepts and Sages, or the Elect, and uses false explanations and misinterpretations of its symbols to mislead those who deserve only to be misled, to conceal the truth, which it calls Light, from them, and to draw them away from it. Truth is not for those who are unworthy or unable to receive it, or would pervert it." Morals and Dogma, page 104

[Dear friends, is that not the same thing the Jesuits do with their pagan Egyptian trinity I. H.S. (Isis, Horus, and Seb) and their I.N.R.I (IUSTUM, NECAR, REGES, IMPIOS) on their crucifix with the image of their effeminate Japhetic/European Christ-a counterfeit dead Christ on a Babylonian tau (cross) in every Roman Catholic Church and most Protestant churches today controlled by Freemasonry?]. Both symbols (IHS and I.N.R.I. and others) are found in Scottish Rite Freemasonry-those 8 high degrees were penned by Jesuits when Frederick the Great (the most powerful Freemason in Europe at the time) gave them protection from the Roman Catholic countries of Europe after they were suppressed in 1773 by Pope Clement XIV. Brother Eric said when he was interviewed by Rick Martin the first time:

"The Jesuit General rules the world through his provincials. And the provincials then, of course, rule the lower Jesuits, and there are many Jesuits who are not "professed", so many of the lower Jesuits have no idea what's going on at the top. They have no concept of the power of their Order."

"It's just like Freemasonry. The lower have no idea that the High Shriner Freemasons are working for the Jesuit General. They think that they're just doing works and being good people. But the bottom line is that the high-level Freemasons are subject, also, to the Jesuit General because the Jesuit General, with Fredrick the Great, wrote the High Degrees, the last 8 Degrees, of the Scottish Rite Freemasonry when Fredrick protected them when they were suppressed by the Pope in 1773."

"So, you have the alignment with the Jesuit Order and the most powerful Freemason they had in the craft, Fredrick the Great, during their suppression. That is an irrefutable conclusion. And then, when you see the Napoleonic Wars, the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars carried out by Freemasonry, everything Napoleon did, and the Jacobins, whatever they did, completely benefited the Jesuit Order."

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kabbalah> (see Hermetic Kabbalah and see how Kabbalah is satanic and it is Masonry under another name (it's popular in Hollywood along with Scientology which was founded by OTO (Ordo Templi Orientis) member L. Ron Hubbard) http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ordo_Templi_Orientis and its evil Zohar. <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Zohar>

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Maimonides>

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sefirot>

The Talmud which is unbelieving Judaism's (by Judaism I mean the cult of the Pharisees which rejected Messiah Jesus (Yahushua) which is what modern Judaism is today especially Orthodox Judaism) Quoting from <http://www.mechon-mamre.org/jewfaq/movement.htm>

"The Pharisees believed that God gave the Jews both a written Torah and an oral Torah [what do they call the oral Torah? The Talmud (Babylonian [there were Jews who adopted the occult/mystical mystery religion of Babylon during their captivity and they used it to taint and corrupt Torah-believing Judaism- which is why most Jews today do not believe the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament-the one and only true Torah and their rabbis are practically atheists] and Jerusalem, both of which were equally binding and both of which were open to reinterpretation by the rabbis, people with sufficient education to make such decisions. The Pharisees were devoted to study of the Torah and education for all." (they sound like Jesuits, don't they?) Today, this school of thought is known as Rabbinical Judaism."

The Talmud is the equivalent to the Jesuits' Council of Trent says of the Messiah in

Sanhedrin 98a: (Babylonian Talmud)

"Rabbi Yehoshua ben Levi encountered the prophet Elijah as he was standing at the entrance of Rabbi Shimon ben Yochai's cave,... and asked him: "When is Moshiach coming?"

Replied the prophet: "Go and ask him."

"But where is he to be found?"

"At the gate of Rome." (the messiah/Moshiach) of unbelieving Judaism- Talmudists and Kabbalists- is the Papal Caesar in the Vatican) Here are the characteristics they look for in their messiah. The Moshiach they are looking for is the antichrist. Read the those characteristics then read Daniel (8:23-25) (9:24-27) (11:31-39 KJV)-those verses are about the antichrist -the final Pope who will be indwelt and possessed by Satan-the devil is going to enter into that Pope and he will be the son of perdition. <http://www.jewfaq.org/moshiach.htm>

Bob Cavallo is Jesuit-trained and he is the chairman of the Buena Vista Music Group. Cavallo undoubtedly answers to Jesuit O'Donovan and O' Donovan sees to it that jazz and the occult are incorporated into the music produced by the company. http://corporate.disney.go.com/corporate/b...ob_cavallo.html

The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion were penned by Jesuits-a clever forgery blamed on the Jews in general when it was written by the Jesuits against the anti-Jesuit Jansenists in the 1600s "The Secrets of the Elders of Bourg-Fontaine." http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Protocols_of_..._of_zion\(French author of the anti-Jesuit work "The Wandering Jew" Eugene Sue proved this) and O'Donovan is implementing Protocol No. 13 sect. 3 which reads:

"In order that the masses themselves may not guess what they are about WE FURTHER DISTRACT THEM WITH AMUSEMENTS, GAMES, PASTIMES, PASSIONS, PEOPLE'S PALACES SOON WE SHALL BEGIN THROUGH THE PRESS TO PROPOSE COMPETITIONS IN ART, IN SPORT IN ALL KINDS: these interests will finally distract their minds from questions in which we should find ourselves compelled to oppose them. Growing more and more disaccustomed to reflect and form any opinions of their own, people will begin to talk in the same tone as we because we alone shall be offering them new directions for thought ... of course through such persons as will not be suspected of solidarity with us." <http://www.aztlan.net/protocols.htm#protocol16>

According to Protocol No. 17 sect 4 "THE KING OF THE JEWS WILL BE THE REAL POPE OF THE UNIVERSE, THE PATRIARCH OF THE INTERNATIONAL CHURCH" See that?-no Torah-believing Jew would call the King of the Jews a pope. The Jesuits penned the Protocols and they are the "Elders." They have applied most of the Protocols in America and they are working toward the ultimate goal the Protocols describe-enthroning their king of their Masonic Jewish Zionists in the Solomon's Temple yet to be rebuilt in Jerusalem. The Jesuits will raise up the Pope of their making and he will sit the rebuilt Third Temple. Protocol No. 15 sect. 23 is clearly describing the last

Papal Caesar who will be crowned by Europe which is controlled by the Jesuit Order through their European Union. I probably should have sent a couple of posts to condense the info better but I just want to get it out there-there's no time to waste-the time is rotten for people to know what's going on under their noses. I praise God for this message board-The Unhived Mind-free speech and discussion is welcome here. No censorship-the Bible says prove all things (1 Thess. 5:21 KJV) the Book also says "For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ" You cannot receive the mind of Christ until you believe on Him-the risen Son of God as your own personal Lord, Saviour, and Messiah. You can expose the wicked devices of the god of this world, Satan, and his earthly minions-the Jesuits, Freemasons and others-but if you are not saved you live "having no hope, and without God in the world." (Eph. 2:12 KJV) Without the power of God in your life and on your life- the Lord Jesus said in John 15:5, "for without me ye can do nothing." You can't do something about the Order's diabolical agenda for this once great nation without God's blessing and if you are not His child "the wrath of God abideth on him [you]." (John 3:36) Remember how the late Brother Alberto Rivera exposed the Order. The Lord blessed him and gave him grace and wisdom to reveal his experience in the satanic Jesuit Order.

Brother Eric Jon Phelps, only by the rich grace of God can complete VAIll. Only by the grace of God and his direction can anyone like Brother Rivera and Phelps successfully resist the wicked Jesuit Order. If you have not received the Lord Jesus Christ as the one and only way to heaven and peace with God and trusted in Him and His cleansing atoning blood (God's blood), his substitutionary death, and victorious glorious resurrection on the third day. (1 Cor. 15:1-7) It is my prayer that all of you will believe on the way, the truth, and the life (John 14:6) the one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus (2 Tim. 2:5). God incarnate who will one day destroy the Luciferian Society of Jesus (Satan) and save Israel and the Jewish race from their attempted annihilation by the satanically risen eighth and final Papal Caesar-the beast of Rev 13.

This is exactly what i believe, the REX84 plan. I also think Alex knows this also, and more and more i think he is on the payroll.

William Cooper also many times said Alex Jones was a liar and exposed some of his scams.

Check out this link about Mel Gibson.

<http://www.lasttrumpetministries.org/tracts/tract12.html>

I've heard hutton gibson on AJ and what made we suspicious was He exposed alot of the Vaticans corruption but he then created his own Catholic Church. From what I read and researched about the Catholic Church and Vatican and its origins from the mysteries of babylon, it makes no sense to start your own Catholic Church even though its seperated from the vatican.

There used tobe a link to all of William Coopers mystery of Babylon series but that no longer works. His website sells it for like $300, so u probably dont want to buy it. After i heard Bill Cooper, and found 2tuff's site, and read that link about Gibson i provided, and researched Opus Dei... i fully believe the Gibsons are opus dei and tex marrs too. I cant prove it, we have no documents but anyway I think its good that we question them.

I understand this but can you explain how the Jesuit Order and Vatican keep control when its the bankers who have the money? I understand the Elite don't need money because they print it but what really keeps The Jesuits and Vatican at the top and what stops these others from challenging etc like they do in Corporate businesses????

The Jesuits rule the Papacy and Hierarchy; the Hierarchy rules the bankers; the Bankers rule the cartel corporations and the Jesuits control it all. Get the CFR's annual report for 2004. All will become clear.

I was on another message board and got accused of being anti-semitic because I stated that I think the protocols have some truth to them, with regards to the actual content...I continuously stated it is not a "jewish" plot, but a "zionist" plot....how I am split on the validity of the protocols, but I believe there is some truth to them with some lies. Now these people are saying I need to give them an apology and that I am anti-semitic when I am not!! They say the very fact I cite them, makes me anti-semitic because they are used to spread hatred; I know they are, but there is some truth in there I believe and a lot of what is stated within them has come true...

I believe that the true meaning of "zionism" has been twisted and corrupted, and that I believe that the Jewish people have claims to the land as God has promised, but I believe that Zionism has been corrupted from the true essence of it and that, well, I don't agree with it

Do you guys have the information that Eric has in his book on exactly who wrote the protocols and how exactly they came to be?

Also, a question for 2tuff..you are more knowledgable than me. What do you say to someone when they accuse you of being an anti-semite when you aren't with regards to the protocols when they won't even see the corruption of zionism and what it has become?

Thanks.

Yes. As I cover in VA, the Jesuits wrote the Protocols in France prior to the Dreyfus Affair according to ex-priest and Bible-believer Leo Lehmann in his Behind the Dictators (1942). I suspected this; he confirmed it.

Secondly, the Jesuits are the first Zionists as Napoleon was a Zionist calling for Palestine to be a homeland for the Jews. We know the the Jesuits controlled Napoleon. Thus, the Pope's Masonic Jewish Zionists rule Israel and many American corps on behalf of the Pope.

Meanwhile the Order via its CFR uses its Masonic Jewish Zionist members to head corporations like IBM's--CFR Louis V. Gerstner, Jr. now resigned and a part of SMOM/CFR Frank C. Carlucci's Carlyle Group--(IBM, led by 33rd Degree Freemason and friend of Masonic Roman Catholic Hitler, Thomas J. Watson, Jr., having participated in the Jewish Holocaust) in order to create more anti-Jewish fury in America, anti-American fury around the world and to further this present Papal crusade against the Islamic peoples--whose leaders also are Masonic and controlled by the Black Pope (Bin Laden, etc.).

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

I would tell them to first find the true meaning of Anti-Semitic which doesn't cover them but only Arabs. I would tell them that unless they are dark skinned Hebrews they are not Jew but the phony jew of the bible meaning they are truly KHAZARIANS.

Jews are not now nor have they ever been a 'race.'

Semitic peoples are those peoples of the Middle East who have always lived in the areas of Lebanon, Palestine, etc. There are Christian, Jewish and Muslim semites.

The term 'anti-semitic' actually and therefore refers to ALL semitic peoples and has been grotesquely misused (cleverly) by zionists for many years.

The great majority of Jews today are originally Khazars from southern Russia...a fierce group who adopted Judaeism in the 9th Century.

In fact, there was a quickly-suppressed story in the UK press about two years ago which described the work DNA and genetic scientists did on Semites - both Israeli and Palestinian, etc. The scientists discovered and published hard data that showed there was virtually ZERO genetic difference between them. Israeli and Palestinian semites were found to be genetically, virtually identical. It was no surprise that this story vanished almost overnight.

Judaism is a RELIGION and Zionism is a geopolitical philosophy.

It's time to retire the misused term 'anti-semite' and 'anti-semitic'...they inaccurate and incorrecct terms.

ADL Masonic Jewish Zionists give Jesuit-trained traitor Knight of Malta George J. Tenet their highest honor

Dear Brother Eric,

Praise the Lord you are sending emails again! It is a blessing to hear from you again! I found this Feb 2005 article recently showing Jesuit-trained Temporal Coadjutor and Knight of Malta George J. Tenet receiving the America's Democratic Legacy award from the Masonic B'nai B'rith ADL on February 11 2005-the 11th-that was no coincidence about 42 months to the day of the attacks he helped orchestrate by order of his master Edward Cardinal Egan and his Jesuit masters at Fordham. Both answer to the Black Pope.

http://www.adl.org/PresRele/Mise_00/4643_00.htm

The saying is true that birds of a feather flock together. Other recipients of the ADL's America's Democratic Legacy award include 32nd Degree Freemason and Knight of Malta the most traitorous president to date Ronald Reagan, Freemason and accomplice in the JFK assassination Lyndon Johnson (I saw a photo on a website about 33rd Degree freemason Billy Graham the week of his last "crusade" in New York which received coverage by the Rockefellers' NBC who funded him. The photo shows Johnson presenting Graham with a Masonic handshake and the "Big Brother of the Year award" in 1966) this was subliminal in that both Johnson and Graham are Masonic brothers and Graham was rewarded for aiding in the cover-up of the assassination. Other recipients of the ADL's award include Knight of Columbus John F. Kennedy,(I recently learned on public access tv that there is an exhibit in the K of C museum in New Haven CT showing Kennedy's membership and the Papal Knight interviewed on the program also said that John F. Kennedy was a brother Knight and that most people were not aware of that.) Dwight Eisenhower, 33rd Degree Freemasons Harry S. Truman and Justice Earl Warren, Masonic Jewish Zionist and CFR member Henry Kissinger, Knight of Malta and Kennedy assassin Lee Iacocca, and the American pope at the time Cardinal John O' Connor. The Masonic B'nai B'rith and their ADL are enemies of the Jewish race and betray them by rewarding Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors, Knights of Malta, and high-level Freemasons. May the Lord bless you dear brother and I will continue to pray for you as you complete VAIII. I can hardly wait.

Your doing a great job in researching m8. I'm very interested in the mossad. Could tell me what u think about them and if they are related to the jesuits? From what i have read u can easily say the mossad are the most powerfull organisation on this planet, so i wonder if they are linked with your theory ?

MOSSAD are not the most powerful organisation on the planet, The JESUIT order is the most powerful organisation on the planet. Why do you think they modelled the SS in WW2 on the Jesuit Order. Theres no body on this planet more powerful than The Jesuits.

MOSSAD along with ISI, MI6, MI5, CIA, FSB, BND etc are all part of the Jesuit Order's system and they all work together in order to bring about The New Atlantis which is known to most as New World Order. Sometimes there may be some in fighting or rogues in these organisations but thats especially not to be talked about in the public arena more than anything. The Superior General controls the whole lot stock and barrel.

The Jesuit Order's main veil is The Jewish! They use this as one of their final veils including Religion in order to cover their tracks. Theres not one thing you can pin down on the Jesuits as they own nothing of which you can find paperwork on. The banking systems and federal reserve are owned by The Knights of Malta headed by Fra' Andrew Willoughby Ninian Bertie the queen of england's cousin. They want you to blame the Jews for everything, just like they install Weishaupt in the minds as being a jew which was impossible because Weishaupt was a Jesuit and Jesuits long before Adam were not allowed to be Jewish!

MOSSAD play a big role in the Micronukes used in so call terrorist attacks abroad such as Bali etc. They are masters of the Micronuke, Cell phone detonation, Laser detonation. Each of the Jesuits superior general's organisations has it roles to play in order to bring about a New Atlantis.

Indeed. Knights of Malta and high-level Freemasons are throughout. I did not know that Germany's Roman Catholic Konrad Adenauer was a Knight of Malta.

By the way, on the main page I > list about a hundred of what I believe to be the most important globalist

Absolutely. The Jesuits have considered Belgium as one of their safest havens in Europe. Of all the nations on the continent that expelled the Order in the Nineteenth Century, Belgium was the exception. King Leopold II was advised by Jesuits and thus we now understand the source for the tribal warfare in the Congo that resulted in the death of 10 million Black Congolese. After WWII Martin Bormann's son, Adolf Martin Bormann, became a Jesuit and was a "missionary" to the Congo---with the blessing of the rulers of Belgium. As you know, Belgium is considered an extension of France and has several Jesuit Novitiates. The Knights of Malta are the political and financial masters of Belgium through whom the Order rules the nation.

I trust this is helpful.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 9, 2005 11:56 PM (GMT)

Eric,

More people are becoming aware of the Jesuits thanks to the few who are exposing and highlighting them. There's still a lot of confusion which you haven't aided with your power structure chart. You have the Illuminati (consisting of 6 groups) higher than The Knights of Malta. I agree the Knights of Malta are over the Federal Reserve and Rothschild but if Rothschild is Illuminati then how can a group lower be higher than Rothschild.

The chart was composed by another and is basically accurate. The Rothschilds are one of the Pope's Illuminized Masonic banking cartels but wanes in comparison to the Pope's White apostate Protestant and Baptist Masonic Gentile cabal composed of the Morgan-Rockefeller international group.

No one seems to talk about The Cecil Family and concentrate on Rothschilds all the time.

This is a Jesuit ploy. The House of Morgan is much wealthier than the Rothschilds, and its Vatican connection, via the late and most infamous Vatican banker, Priest Bernardino Norgara, proves the point. The Cecil Family has been in the Jesuit camp since the crypto-Catholic Lord Burghley (William Cecil). After Elizabeth whispered into his ear on her deathbed (for she was too weak to speak), it was Cecil who named the Scottish, pro-Catholic James Stuart VI (later King James I who became pro-Protestant after the Order's Gunpowder Plot of 1605) to succeed Queen Elizabeth rather than her legitimate son to the Earl of Oxford, Edward de Vere. That son was Henry Wriothesley, a staunch Protestant who, through his courage in Parliament, saved the Virginia colony from being handed to the Jesuit-ruled Spanish Crown.

Can you tell us more about Le Cercle, 1001 Club.

Le Cercle is Masonically-ruled and thus subject to the Jesuit General.

Its still very confusing and of course it wasn't meant to be a simple pie graph but I'm sure it could explained a lot easier without the conflicting information.

Try to keep it simple in your mind. The Devil is the god of this world (II Cor. 4:4). His immediate human second cause and earthly ruler for the last four hundred years has been the Black Pope. Humanly speaking and with permission from the risen Son of God, the General maintains the earthly rule of the nations via Illuminized Freemasonry of all Rites. All other groups are subordinate to this evil, White Gentile-ruled, world government. Since it is "the times of the Gentiles," the ultimate rulers of Jerusalem and thus the world are Gentiles; the Masonic Jews, including the Rothschilds, are merely their servants as they have "no king but Caesar"---the Pope.

Thanks

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor Charismatic, Ecumenical, and Freemason (see the Masonic gesture on the cover) <http://www.time.com/time/covers/0,16641,1101860217,00.html>
Pat Robertson, that darling of the Knights of Malta (SMOM) and the Jesuits' Vatican has called for the assassination of Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez. Robertson's motive is clear-he wants to see Fourteenth Amendment America to continue to depend on foreign oil and he supports covert ops of the Jesuits' CIA. Robertson has aided dictators loyal to the Pope in Latin America and yet he has openly condemned Chavez like the Vatican. <http://aolsvc.news.aol.com/news/article.ad...822234809990001>

The Jesuit Order hates Chavez and his government-the Order does not want a trace of democracy in Venezuela-they want to establish absolutist rule.
<http://www.venezuelanalysis.com/articles.php?artno=1275>

The Order has fomented tension and conflict in Venezuela as they do where ever they are. Chavez has angered the Roman Catholic Institution and become disobedient toward the Venezuelan Cardinal Rosalio Castillo who said Chavez needed an exorcism and labeled him a "paranoid dictator."
<http://www.cnn.com/2005/WORLD/americas/07/...ez.cardinal.ap/>

The Order has targeted Hugo Chavez just as they did with Che Guevara. They sacrifice their own once they become disobedient toward the Vatican and the Order send their CIA to fulfill the bloody Jesuit oath.
The Order controls the military industrial complex of Fourteenth Amendment Holy Roman American Empire and Marxism in Latin America. There are many who become disillusioned with the bloody and corrupt Roman Catholic Institution but they turn to a political ideology the Jesuits perfected in Paraguay and they remain in bondage to the Order and its Vatican. The Jesuit Order has held Latin America in a death grip. The Order rules it through archbishops and cardinals who act the real governors and presidents of the countries and they have installed dictators which keep the poor in poverty and the archbishops and cardinals try to keep them enslaved to the god of this world and spiritually blind and destitute. The Jesuits will undoubtedly use South America for the invasion of North America. The conflicts the Jesuits have fomented and continue to cause will lead to more illegal immigration and countries like Venezuela will continue to maintain an open friendship and alliance with Jesuit Fidel Castro.

What the Pat Robertson affair reveals

<http://www.wsws.org/articles/2005/aug2005/robe-a27.shtml>

By Patrick Martin

27 August 2005

Use this version to print | Send this link by email | Email the author

Before the Pat Robertson affair is completely swept under the rug by the American media and political establishment, the incident is worth more careful consideration for what it reveals about the state of political life in the United States. It is, after all, not every day that a prominent American and one-time presidential candidate openly advocates the assassination of a foreign head of state.

Robertson issued his call for the murder of Venezuelan president Hugo Chavez on his "700 Club" television program Monday. On the same program Wednesday he tried to pull back from the statement, claiming that in urging the US government to "take out" Chavez he was advocating kidnapping rather than killing. After videotape footage was widely distributed on the Internet of his explicit use of the word assassination, Robertson issued a grudging retraction, claiming that he had been speaking "in frustration" over the policies of a foreign leader who had "found common cause with terrorists.”

The American media has largely dismissed Robertson’s comment as though it was a slip of the tongue that, however embarrassing to the individual involved, has no deeper meaning. The multi-millionaire television host and founder of the Christian Coalition has been derided as a buffoon, a crackpot, a political loose cannon—anything to obscure the fact that his remarks reflect the views of wide layers in the US political establishment.

Robertson’s statement followed weeks of intensifying verbal warfare between the nationalist and populist Venezuelan leader and the US government. There were tit-for-tat diplomatic gestures. The Bush administration claimed that Venezuela was not assisting in anti-drug efforts aimed at stopping the flow of cocaine from Colombia. Chavez in turn accused Drug Enforcement Administration agents of spying on his country and suspended cooperation. The State Department then threatened to remove Venezuela’s certification as an ally in the “war on drugs,” which would lead to sanctions against loans from international agencies and other foreign aid, and it denied entry visas to three Venezuelan military officers.

From August 15 to 17, US Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld visited the South American countries of Paraguay and Peru, holding talks on the deteriorating political situation in neighboring Bolivia, where successive US-backed presidents have been brought down by a peasant-based opposition movement, and condemning alleged outside interference by Chavez and Fidel Castro. “There certainly is evidence that both Cuba and Venezuela have been involved in the situation in Bolivia in unhelpful ways,” Rumsfeld told the press.

Chavez responded to this heavy-handed intimidation with more bravado, making his fourth visit to Cuba in the last nine months and appearing side-by-side with Cuban President Castro on his weekly television show. “The grand destroyer of the world, and the greatest threat,” the Venezuelan leader told his audience, “is represented by US imperialism.”

The New York Times summed up the situation in an article August 19, with the headline: “Like Old Times: US Warns Latin Americans Against Leftists.” It observed that Rumsfeld’s visit had the “throwback feel of a mission during the cold war, when American officials saw their main job as bolstering the hemisphere’s governments against leftist insurgencies and Communist infiltration.” The Times quoted “a senior Defense Department official traveling with Mr. Rumsfeld” who said of Chavez, “A guy who seemed like a comic figure a year ago is turning into a real strategic menace...”

The Times did not spell out the obvious corollary of such a characterization: throughout the cold war, American policy in Latin America was to foment military coups to overthrow hostile regimes, kill their leaders and suppress popular opposition. This policy was implemented in Chile, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, Bolivia, Guatemala and other countries.

Such methods are not a historical relic. In 2002, a similar effort was carried out in Venezuela, with open US support. From the perspective of Washington, it failed as a result of poor organization and insufficient ruthlessness: Chavez was detained at a military base rather than murdered, and the threat of a popular uprising produced a panicky retreat by the coup organizers, who released Chavez and fled, allowing him to return to power.

Since then, Chavez has prevailed over a “general strike” organized by the Venezuelan Chamber of Commerce and Venezuelan union leaders in league with the AFL-CIO and State Department, and then won a convincing majority in last year’s referendum on whether he should be allowed to serve out his term in office, which ends in 2006. The huge run-up in oil prices—Venezuela is the fourth largest supplier of the US market—has given Chavez the resources to spend on social measures popular with the vast majority of his country’s impoverished workers and peasants.

This is the context in which Robertson vented his spleen at the Venezuelan president, whose position, in control of a pool of oil of immense economic and strategic significance to the United States, is seen as a serious obstacle to US foreign policy. The TV preacher declared that assassinating Chavez made more sense than another $200 billion war like that which overthrew Saddam Hussein. There was an inadvertent truth embedded in this comparison. Robertson was effectively confirming that the war in Iraq, too, was about oil.

The media commentary on Robertson has been largely aimed at covering up the seriousness of the affair. The right-wing Cincinnati Post observed, “Privately, most people might admit, Robertson’s plan to cap Chavez has a certain forbidden appeal...” But most newspaper editorials have either ridiculed or bemoaned his remarks, while claiming that his sentiments did not reflect those of the US government.

The Washington Post set the tone in an editorial Thursday which expressed vexation that Chavez would be able to use the death threat to validate his claims that the US government seeks to destroy his government. “Mr. Chavez, who, like Mr. Robertson, is infatuated with the absurd, fancies that the United States is out to kill him,” the newspaper said. The Venezuelan president “seems to enjoy portraying himself as a target of US assassins—a charge that he makes without evidence and that has been strongly denied by the Bush administration.”

In its invocation of the “absurd,” the Post conveniently ignores the well-established fact that US administrations, including that of John F. Kennedy, developed and approved of schemes to assassinate Castro. Revelations of US assassination plots became a sufficient political embarrassment in the 1970s to oblige President Gerald Ford to issue an executive order banning such practices.

The fact, moreover, that Chavez has faced a series of CIA-financed destabilization campaigns—and only narrowly survived a US-backed coup three years ago—apparently does not constitute “evidence” in the eyes of the Post, a newspaper which served as one of the principal mouthpieces for the Bush administration’s fabrications about alleged Iraqi weapons of mass destruction.

An even more cynical note was sounded by the Los Angeles Times, in an August 24 editorial that began, “A paranoid is never happier than when he discovers that he really does have enemies. So Pat Robertson’s call for the assassination of Hugo Chavez may be just the moment of vindication the Venezuelan president has been waiting for.”

People in the United States know Robertson is a crackpot of “questionable sense or even sanity,” the newspaper added. “But South Americans may see things differently, causing considerable damage to the United States’ already poor reputation in the region.”

Those poor deluded South Americans! They apparently are prone to believe, after a century of US-backed coups and military interventions, that Yankee imperialism is the biggest menace to their national independence and democratic rights.

The Los Angeles newspaper does not seriously examine the implications of its own characterization of Robertson. This is, after all, a man who has played a major role for a quarter century in the Christian fundamentalist right, which exercises immense sway in official Washington. As recently as the 2000 campaign, Robertson played a critical role in the selection of the Republican presidential nominee, throwing his support to Bush against Senator John McCain in the crucial South Carolina primary.

If Robertson is semi-deranged, the same can be said about fundamentalist spokesmen like James Dobson of Focus on the Family and Tony Perkins of the Family Research Council, or Republican politicians like Tom DeLay or, for that matter, Bush himself. It is a reality of American political life that ideologies which would once have been considered part of the fascistic lunatic fringe are now treated with respect and deference in the media and official Washington.

Support for political assassination does not put Robertson out of this far-right “mainstream.” We should recall that after the murders this spring of two judges and a judge’s family, at least one Republican senator, John Cornyn of Texas, expressed understanding of the political frustrations directed against the judiciary, while DeLay declared (echoing Robertson) that federal judges were a greater danger than terrorists, and had to be “held accountable.”

It was during the media furor over Robertson’s comments that Christian fundamentalist

Eric Rudolph was sentenced to life in prison for the 1996 bombing of Olympic Park in Atlanta, in which one woman was killed and a hundred people wounded, as well as bombings of a gay night club and an abortion clinic. Rudolph, like Robertson, is a representative of the “culture of life” so praised by Bush.

American imperialism is in a blind alley, facing an insoluble social crisis. It has embarked on a course of military aggression, using its residual military superiority in an attempt to offset a weakened economic position. The wars in Afghanistan and Iraq are only the prelude to even bloodier adventures. In that context, the ravings of a Pat Robertson give a more realistic view of the actual state of mind in Washington than all of the official bloviating from the White House and State Department about “democracy” and “freedom.”

Yes. All of the Jesuit Theater magnates are connctected to intelligence, including Jesuit Coadjutor Oliver Stone.

Also,can you tell me the extent(if any) of Jesuit involvement in the Watergate affair?

Yes. Jesuit Robert Drinan was a Massachusetts congressman who introduced the Impeachment Resolution against President Nixon. After Nixon's resignation, Knight of Malta Alexander Haig declared he was in charge. The truth was his brother, Francis Haig S.J. was in charge.

And the sinking of the Titanic?Any info.you can give me would be greatly appreciated.

Like I said with the Vatican Assassins you need to put everything on CD/DVD/DISK quickly because the Jesuits are very annoyed when their almighty secret gets out and all the lies spoon fed to us all in conspiracy world come crashing down leaving the long robed males in full sight -2tuff

From D3V:

Ever since 2tuff came here and told us about how the Illuminati are below the jesuits and the Jesuits being the real control, he basically confirmed a few inklings of mine that I had in the back of my mind for ages.

I started to download stuff on the Jesuits like Vatican Assasins book and the video for it too.

Well, like what happend to 2tuff, the e-book went missing from my PC and now I've just burnt a copy of vatican assassins video for a friend only to discover when trying to open the newly created disk that the video is corrupt!

I thought, okay, its a problem with the burn process so to confirm that, I tried to open the source file of Vatican Assains from my secondary harddrive and lo and behold it was corrupted too.

And yes, I've opened the file many times and it's played from beggining to end absolutely fine.

Why don't they delete all my David icke, Jim Marrs, Ted Gunderson, Alex Jones and all the other conspiracy media from my drive while there at it? I have well over 20,000MB of the stuff so why just delete the Jesuit stuff?

I know why, cos the Jesuits are at the top, not the Illuminati

JESUITS PAY $7.5M TO TWO MEN ABUSED FOR 30 YEARS

By Oliver Burkeman

<http://www.bishop-accountability.org/ma-bo...ntLosGatos.html>

The Jesuits have agreed to pay $7.5m (£4.8m) to two men who say they were sexually molested for 30 years at the Californian retirement home for priests where they worked as dishwashers.

The men, identified only as "John Doe", 56, and "James Doe", 51, complained of the abuse for years but were ignored until a local shop owner, Holly Ilse, decided to pursue their allegations of sodomy, molestation and false imprisonment.

They asked for $10m.

"All I can say is that if they settled for $7.5m, it must have been very bad," Ms Ilse said when the settlement - one of the biggest in the current spate of legal actions arising from abuse in the Catholic church - was reached on Wednesday after more than a year of negotiations.

"We thought the settlements were in the best interests of all parties," said the Rev Thomas Smolich, head of the province.

The two men continued to live at the Sacred Heart Jesuit Centre, a home for 60 retired priests in Los Gatos, even after one of the priests named in their case, Edward Burke, 81, was sentenced in June to two years in prison for molesting James.

Another, Brother Charles Connor, 80, served six months of home detention for molesting John. The third named priest, Brother Hal Ellis, is ill and unable to communicate.

So far five Jesuits from Sacred Heart have registered as sex offenders.

John and James now live in assisted housing provided by a charity. They will receive $13,000 a month, and later $30,000 a month, over the next 30 years.

"I don't think there is any justice," Ms Ilse told the San Jose Mercury.

"What everybody forgets is how tortured the victims are, and this never ends."

JESUITS SETTLE CASE WITH ABUSED MEN

Courts: Society of Jesus will pay two mentally retarded victims, who worked at a Bay Area retreat center, a total of $7.5 million

By Glenn F. Bunting
Los Angeles Times
September 5, 2002

The California Province of the Society of Jesus agreed Wednesday to pay a total of $7.5 million to two mentally retarded men who said they were sexually abused for years by Jesuits at a retreat in Northern California, according to sources who participated in the negotiations.

The settlement, which followed more than a year of talks between the Jesuits and attorneys for the two men, is among the largest out-of-court agreements of its kind reached by the Catholic Church. Dioceses in Boston, Dallas and Santa Fe, N.M., have agreed to pay larger amounts, but they were distributed among many more victims.

"We're very happy," said Holly Ilse, the Los Gatos dress shop owner who fought on behalf of the two victims and initially reported the sexual abuses to police. "I think no amount of money can compensate for the torture my friends have been through. But this will give them enough money to live as normal life as they can for the remainder of their years."

Father Thomas H. Smolich, head of the California Province, declined to state how much of the $7.5 million would be paid by the Jesuits.

He said that the province would pay a "significant contribution" and that the remainder would be covered by an insurance carrier.

"We thought the settlements were in the best interests of all parties," Smolich said. "We've been working on this settlement for well over a year. We began wanting to settle, we continued to want to settle and we settled."

The Jesuits were facing an Oct. 15 civil trial if they had not agreed to the settlement.

The lawsuit, filed June 19, 2001, in Santa Clara County Superior Court, alleged that four Jesuits subjected the two victims to repeated acts of sodomy, molestation and false imprisonment for "as long as 30 years" at the Sacred Heart Jesuit Center.

The plaintiffs sought more than $10 million in damages.

One of the defendants, Father Edward Thomas Burke, 81, was sentenced in June to two years in state prison for molesting one of the victims for several years. Burke had pleaded guilty to committing a lewd act on a dependent adult, a felony.

The case came to the attention of authorities in March after The Times reported that top Jesuit officials quietly relocated Burke in April 2000 after he admitted engaging in sexual misconduct. Instead of notifying authorities, the Jesuit leaders moved Burke to a residence on the campus of Santa Clara University.

Burke was the fifth Jesuit in Northern California in recent years ordered to register as a sex offender for life. All five have resided at Sacred Heart. Brother Charles Leonard Connor was convicted last year of committing a lewd act on the other victim. He is free after serving six months of home detention.

The victims, described as "John Doe" and "James Doe" in court papers, both have been diagnosed as mentally retarded. At Sacred Heart, they were employed as dishwashers responsible for cleaning, drying and storing pots and pans used in preparing meals for the Jesuits.

John, 56, was born in San Francisco and contracted polio as a child. He was raised in foster homes and moved to Sacred Heart on Oct. 8, 1969, at the age of 24.

James, 51, was born in Germany and adopted from an orphanage as a toddler by a U. S. Air Force officer and his wife. He never attended school and spent his teenage years in a state mental institution. He arrived at Sacred Heart on Aug. 26, 1970, at the age of 19.

The two were paid a starting salary of $150 per month.

As part of the settlement negotiated Wednesday, the Jesuits will deposit the money into an annuity that will pay each victim $13,000 per month, said M. Jean Starcevich, an attorney for the plaintiffs. Over the next 30 years, the two men will each receive an estimated $7.6 million.

"It means that [John and James] will be able to stay in Los Gatos, get themselves in a secure living situation and receive the psychological counseling that both of them will need for some time," Starcevich said. "They will be able to live very happy and comfortable lives."

The sister of one victim, Debra Sullivan, said her brother was relieved after learning of the settlement: "He kept saying he was glad it was over. My overriding emotion is just one of gratitude for all the people who stepped forward in various ways during this long, painful ordeal and were willing to actually do something to help."

Sullivan singled out Ilse--the only daughter of a retired San Jose police officer--who repeatedly pushed law enforcement authorities to investigate the allegations of sexual abuse at Sacred Heart, located just a few minutes from her store. "I am deeply thankful for her persistence and courage in pressing on for five years and working as hard as she did," Sullivan said.

Title: Vatican Won't Ban Gay Priests-Surprise, Surprise

Description: Jesuits' Vatican defends pederasty

AVBibleBeliever - October 8, 2005 10:36 PM (GMT)

2Tuff was absolutely correct when he said if you believe the Vatican would ban sodomite priests-indeed you are living in illusion land. <http://www.cbsnews.com/stories/2005/10/07/...ain925670.shtml>

The Jesuits and their Vatican will never give up what they consider their religious rite of pederasty which is characteristic of the mystery religions. Romanism is THEE mystery religion that goes all the way back to Babel-Nimrod and Semiramis and has been practiced throughout the centuries to the present day.

All of the powerful high-level Jesuits are white, wealthy, pederast, sodomite, unnatural fathers. See this article about Jesuit sex perverts who abused two mentally challenged men at an "Ignatian retreat" in California. <http://www.reformation.org/jesuit_retreat.html>

Fourth Vow Provincial Thomas Smolich defended his "sucks" (the name given for Jesuit sodomites in "The Jesuit Enigma") and said because Jesuits "have nothing" because of their vow of poverty he would not throw them out of the Order. The last two paragraphs show that the Jesuits are protected and considered above the law when they victimize. "Because Jesuits are required take a vow of poverty, they are not forced out of the ministry when they encounter legal problems, Smolich said." This slave to the Black Pope continued with- Smolich said. "They can leave and take care of themselves. Men who have spent their lives in the Jesuit order have nothing. We are not in a position to throw them out. I wouldn't do it."

So the Luciferian Society of Jesus protects their pedophile and pederast priests with their money. Since they control the Vatican they control all of its gold. Since they own the Federal Reserve Bank (each branch is privately owned-where do you think the Jesuits get the settlement money? At the same time they are blackmailing and bankrupting this nation through its Vatican's war machine, the sword of the Church-the Jesuit Socialist Fascist States (provinces) of Fourteenth Amendment America-the American Reich) they always settle and they pay victim's families to keep their mouths shut. The article points out, "Until now, the sex crimes by Jesuits and the abuses alleged in the civil lawsuit have not been disclosed publicly. Unlike many of the cases involving pedophile priests that have been reported in the media recently, the abuses at Sacred Heart occurred in the last few years and the victims are mentally incapacitated adults, who are granted fewer legal protections than minors." In Fourteenth Amendment America the Jesuits rape, pillage, and plunder. These sons of perdition wreak havoc in all areas of life especially law since they control the courts. They shape it to their liking so the Order is a law unto itself.

This article is about how the outcome of the suit filed against the Luciferian Jesuits <http://www.bishop-accountability.org/ma-bo...ntLosGatos.html>

The first article- the Cloak of Silence one dated March 2002 shows the suit was for $10 million but the Order ultimately paid less- $7.5 million according to the "bishop accountability one". The article says "Father Thomas H. Smolich, head of the California Province, declined to state how much of the $7.5 million would be paid by the Jesuits. (hmm- I wonder why? Could it be that Fourth Vow Jesuit Provincial Smolich did not want the State of California to know how wealthy the two Jesuit criminals really are?) He said that the province would pay a "significant contribution" (no specification-the Order creates money through its Fed and the Order wants to continue the facade that it is poor and needy-to the contrary. The California Jesuit province is very wealthy indeed and it is preparing for and facilitating the coming mass foreign Russian and Chinese invasion of the West Coast-Hawaii, which the CA province controls and is currently disarming will use it as a staging base). and that the remainder would be covered by an insurance carrier." (you can be sure the Order has many of them and those who work closest with the Order are Knights of Malta-SMOM).

Jesuit Vatican Tyranny

http://members.tripod.com/~dabz_2/updates/...nny/tyranny.htm

ORIGINALLY INSTITUTED(Portugal/Spain,1534) BY THE VATICAN, FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF EXTERMINATING THE REFORMATION, THE ORDER WAS SUPPRESSED 21 JULY 1773 BY POPE CLEMENT IV(for which he was promptly poisoned). THE ORDER WAS RE-INSTITUTED 1814 AND GIVEN THE "SECRET TREATY OF VERONA" FOR THE EXPRESS PURPOSE OF CARRYING OUT ITS DICTATES. THIS EDICT WAS FINALLY RATIFIED BY ITS CONTRACTING PARTIES OCT 1822: CAUSING PRESIDENT JAMES MONROE, WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF THOMAS JEFFERSON, UPON LEARNING OF ITS EXHISTANCE, TO WRITE THE MONROE DOCTRINE. AS RECORDED IN THE: CONGRESSIONAL RECORD-SENATE., VOLUME53, PART 7, PAGE 6781 OF THE 64th CONGRESS, 1st SESSION. THIS WORK IS DEDICATED TO EX-JESUIT PRIEST: DR. ALBERTO ROMERO RIVERA, WHO'S LIFES STORY INSPIRED. "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves." (Matt,7:15) I read a book some years ago that started my research that I am still involved in today.

The information I have, I believe, if it were ever brought to a trial, would prove so conclusively of what I am about to tell you that not even the perpetrators themselves would try to deny it. In the past, when confronted with their prior history of atrocities, their only response has been: "we don't do that anymore", or sneer at its improbability, or a gratuitous imputation of bigotry and intolerance against the writer, while at the same time telling all their followers: "we never change". Before I begin, and you start thinking I'm an "extremeist", let me say that I'm not the only person to find this information. It is readily available (at the finger tips of those on the internet) to anyone willing to put in a little time and research. I have found, what I believe to be, the common denominator for a very large percentage (if not all) of the events perpetrated and/or carried out by departments of government and/or its agencies, that are totally negative to the rights and freedoms of the American people. This organization is responsible for the wholesale slaughter of multi-millions of peoples all over the world. It is responsible for the "Dark Age" (inquisitions) period leading up to (and long after) the founding of this country. Entire tribes of western American Indians were annihilated under the direct orders of these people, i.e. Coronado and his Spanish Conquistadors 1519-1540's. Not to mention the Aztecs and Incas of Mexico, Central and South America, Cuba, Haiti, Grenada, Guam, Phillipines etc. With the likes of Almagro, Cortez, Pizarro, Valverde, de Meza, Gregory, Sepulveda, Valega and, yes, Christopher Columbus (imprisoned by Queen Isabella of Spain for his atrocities against the natives of Grenada), robbing them of all their national wealth and enslaving the people (try finding that in your public school history books: until 1960 you could read, in any public library, books detailing Vatican/Jesuit atrocities throughout the European middle age / dark age inquisitions, since 1960 you cannot find any: evidencing a systematic takeover of all educational material). And all in the name of their "holy mother", the church of Rome. Our own war of independence was called a war of spiritual freedom: after seeing the purposeful destruction of every church and synagogue in every city, village and town the British Red Coats marched through.

Every church that is except Roman Catholic.

That's recorded in: "The Light and the Glory", by: Peter Marshall and David Manuel. Though the authors never mention the Jesuit's as the perpetrators of these atrocities other records leave little doubt ["British Canadian Sir Henry Clinton: commander-in-chief in North America, his troops made up of Oliver DeLancey's and Cortlandt Skinner's brigades, New York Volunteers, Queens Rangers, Orange Rangers, Loyal Americans, Pennsylvania Loyalists, Maryland Loyalists, Roman Catholic Volunteers, West Jersey Volunteers, Chasseurs, Royal Americans Reformees, Volunteers of Ireland (Catholic), British Legion, Guides and Pioneers" (Secret History of the American Revolution, by: Carl Van Doren)]. In fact the authors try to exonerate the Jesuits. However in that attempt they accept the information of a man who was on the team of translators of the "American Standard version" of the bible. How anyone could put their trust in a person who would associate himself with a group of men of which 33% were known affiliates with communist fronts and causes is beyond me ("None Dare Call It Treason", by: John H. Stormer, 1964).

A synopsis of Vatican orchestrated atrocities can be seen when reading: "Foxe's Book of Martyr's". This book also shows the direct correlation between the submission demands placed on the inquisition victims, by Priests, and the Papal encyclical to the Second Vatican Council, promulgated 25 May 1965 i.e. recognizing the Pope as the vicar of Christ(Christ incarnate); taking part in communion that recognizes the wafer of unleavened bread (eucharist) as the literal body and blood of Christ, and making it an essential part of being a member of the body of Christ. For this to be a part of R.C. dogma is of no consequence, but to say that the R.C. Church has not only the authority, but the obligation and duty to God to apply it to every person, of every religion, that has been baptized in Christ's name (willing or unwilling), and that the sole purpose of the Vatican and its ecumenical movement is to bring about this end, is to expose the fact that the Vatican has not changed its dogma, stand, purpose or methods since the start of the inquisitions.

Here are a few paragraphs:

"We can now ask how much further we must travel until that blessed day when full unity in faith will be attained and we can celebrate together in peace the Holy Eucharist of the Lord. The greater mutual understanding and the doctrinal convergences already achieved between us, which have resulted in an affective and effective growth of communion, cannot suffice for the conscience of Christians who profess that the Church is one, holy, Catholic and apostolic. The ultimate goal of the ecumenical movement is to re-establish full visible unity among all the baptized" (page 35, last paragraph).

"It is already possible to identify the areas in need of fuller study before a true concensus of faith can be achieved:

- 1) the relationship between sacred scripture, as the highest authority in matters of faith, and Sacred Tradition, as indispensable to the interpretation of the Word of God;
- 2) the Eucharist, as the Sacrement of the Body and Blood of Christ, an offering of praise to the Father, the sacrificial memorial and Real Presence of Christ and the sanctifying outpouring of the Holy Spirit;
- 3) Ordination, as a Sacrement, to the threefold ministry of the episcopate, presbyterate and diaconate;
- 4) the Magesterium of the Church, entrusted to the Pope and the Bishops in communion with him, understood as a responsibility and an authority exercised in the name of Christ for teaching and safeguarding the faith;
- 5) the Virgin Mary, as Mother of God and Icon of the Church, the spiritual Mother who intercedes for Christ's disciples and for all humanity" (page 36, paragraph 7).

"Consequently, for the out come of dialogue to be received, there is needed a broad and precise critical process which analyzes the results and rigorously tests their consistency with the Tradition of faith received from the Apostles and lived out in the community of believers gathered around the Bishop, their "legitimate" pastor"(page 37, paragraph 3). The enormity of the implications of this edict so staggers the imagination that to refuse to acknowledge this threat to American freedoms and rights, and the enormity of its scope, can only be construed as complicity with its intentions.

If you have any doubts at all about this all you have to do is read this letter. It is titled: "That They May Be One". It is interesting that the pope uses the word "they" and not "we", obviously excluding himself. After all, being the vicar of Christ(Christ incarnate), he can't consider himself a mere mortal(power is intoxicating, even to the extent of total distortion of logic).

This edict has been given full approval by Pat Robertson, of the 700 Club. Also read the first and second points of the second week of "The Spiritual Exercises of Saint Ignatius of Loyola". Ignatius of Loyola, who's real name was Inigio Lopez De Recalde, founded the Society of Jesus(Jesuits)1534 in Spain, and also the Illuminati (holder of the light) [later instituted 1 May 1776 by Adam Weishaupt (german jesuit, who's picture is on our one dollar bill) at Ingelstadt University, where he was Professor of Cannon Law, under the direct orders of the "Black Pope" (who is a member of the Masonic Lodge of Europe and, in all likelihood, was picked from the House of Rothschild) and financed by the "House of Rothschild" (In 1777 Weishaupt was initiated into the Masonic Order, the Lodge of Good Council, in Munich, to infiltrate and control it. At the Masonic International Congress at Wilhemsbad July 1782 the Masonic leaders received Illuminati indoctrination) (U.S. branch of the Illuminati is: "Council on Foreign Relations", of which U.S. Supreme Court judges: Ruth Bader Ginsburg (Catholic), Stephen Breyer (Catholic) and Sandra Day O'Conner are members, Bill Clinton, George Bush, Newt Gingrich, etc.); "Trilateral Commission" and "Skull & Bones" of Yale University]. De Recalde was also a Crusader (Vatican army that raped Israel, and most of Europe, in the dark age inquisitions).

Jesuit spiritual exercises are a daily ritual for Jesuits. A copy is easily obtainable thru the internet. Let me quote a couple of lines: "The first point is to put before me a human king chosen by God our Lord, whom all Christian princes and men reverence and obey. The second, to look how this king speaks to all his people, saying: It is my will to conquer all the land of unbelievers. Therefore, whoever would like to come with me is to be content to eat as I, and also to drink and dress, etc., as I: likewise he is to labor like me in the day and watch in the night, etc., that so afterwards he may have part with me in the victory, as he has had it in the labors". Third week, first day, fifth point: "The fifth to consider how the Divinity hides itself, that is, how it could destroy its enemies and does not do it, and how it leaves the most sacred Humanity to suffer so very cruelly".

In the bull: Unam Sanctam (by: Pope Boniface VIII, promulgated 18 Nov 1302) we see the Vatican's intention of using governments and their agencies to achieve Vatican goals: "We are informed by the texts of the gospels that in this church and in its power are two swords; namely the spiritual and the temporal. For when the Apostles say: "Behold here are two swords"[Lk 22:38] that is to say, in the church, since the Apostles were speaking, the Lord did not reply that there were too many, but sufficient. Certainly the one who denies that the temporal sword is in the power of Peter has not listened well to the word of the Lord commanding: "Put up thy sword into thy scabbard"[Mt 26:52]. Both, therefore, are in the power of the church, that is to say, the spiritual and the material sword, but the former is to be administered-for-the Church but the latter-by-the Church; the former in the hands of the priests; the latter in the hands of kings and soldiers, but at the will and sufferance of the priest". This alone should be sufficient to convince you of the militancy of the Vatican, Illuminati and their method of administration [now we know what was behind the Waco raid (pilot program to establish future policy)]. Nowhere is this more obvious than in the Balkans. The "Dogmatic Constitution on The Church" proclaimed by pope Paul VI, 21 Nov 1964: 20. paragraph 3: "with priests and deacons as helpers, the bishops received the charge of the community, presiding in Gods stead over the flock, of which they are the shepherds in that they are teachers of doctrine, ministers of sacred worship and holders of office in government." Ireland is a typical example of this policy. Ironically the Jesuits are feared among the Catholic clergy more than anywhere else (there is inner-clergy rivalry within the R.C. orders, not unlike that of the upper-echelon of the Third Reich). Not too surprising since the Jesuits answer only to the "Black Pope". The Jesuits do for the Vatican what the, Jesuit trained, S.S., S.D. and Gestapo did for the Third Reich. Frans Von Papen, Jesuit, Hitlers mentor, former chancellor of Germany (two terms before Hitler) and first vice-chancellor of the Third Reich, stated in his book: "My Conversations with Hitler": "Hitler has put into practice the high ideals of the papacy".

This statement was made in reference to the death camps. Thousands of jews were hidden in the Vatican, as a precaution, in case Hitler lost the war. "Yea the time cometh when he that killeth you will think that he doeth God service." John 16:2 The fact that the Vatican entered into a concordat with Hitler [signed in the Vatican by Von Papen and cardinal Pacelli (later Pope Pius XII), 20 July 1933], as with Mussoulini, Franco and Salazar is no secret. But the Vaticans attempt to seduce Hitler into expanding the scope of that concordat to include every country he raped and pillaged is not so well known, but is recorded in Hitlers own words in his book: "Hitlers secret conversations" i. e. "I have shown myself unresponsive to the attempts of the Vatican toward the extension of the provisions of the concordat to embrace the newly acquired territories of the Reich. The Saar, Sudetenland, Bohemia and Moravia, the Reichsgau Danszig-East Prussia, the Warthegau, a large part of Silesia and Alsace-Lorraine have, in fact, no relations with the Roman Catholic Church which are supported by formal international agreement"(page 516). "The attitude of the Bishop von Galen affords just one more argument in favour of terminating the Concordat after the war, substituting for it regional regulations and immediately withholding from the Church the financial support at present guaranteed to it by that treaty"(page 520). This makes me very curious of the content of the concordat: "Conciliar Document on Religous Freedom", being pushed in Washington by John Courtney Murray (R.C. Priest). It becomes apparent that R.C. Hitlers life was directed by a chain of events of influence by certain people. Leopold Poetsch, his (Catholic) teacher; his "recruitment" into the Thule Society, 1919 (totally racial, religious, ethnic biased and anti-simetic satanic cult. Read: "The Occult and The Third Reich")as stated in (web page) "Illuminati Outline of History". All of Hitlers "inner circle" were members e.g. Himmler, Goebbels & Hoess etc. (and still good Catholics) which were among the thousands of Nazi and Ustasha fascist war criminals smuggled to Argentina, Bolivia, Paraguay, Australia, Canada and the U.S.(with 10,000+) by the Vatican (using forged documents, with Vatican seal, on stolen Red Cross travel cards with Vatican Visa's). The mass evacuation ("Ratlines") being coordinated by a small cabal of Vatican officials ("Intermarium") such as Giovanni Montini (later Pope Paul VI), Hubal and Draganovic under the direction of Pope Pius XII (1945-1950) "Unholy Trinity" by: Mark Aarons and John Loftus); "Those who did rescue the mass murderers from the hand of justice were not Peron (Argentine populist dictator) and his secret police but the [Roman] Catholic Church and its emissaries. It was the [Roman] Catholic Church which, through its priests, church's, monasteries and forged Vatican passports, managed to foil the post-war hunt for Nazi war criminals. Nor was the church's rescue operation inconsistent with the policy it had pursued throughout the Nazi era. Henri du Lubac, a Jesuit theologian, filed a report in 1944, well before the end of the war, on the collaboration of the [Roman] Catholic Church with the pro-Nazi Vichy (French) regime. Hidden until this month, the report condemns what du Lubac calls the moral and spiritual abdication of Roman Catholic Bishops under the Nazis. For decades French cardinals, monks and nuns had helped one of France's worst war criminals, Paul Touvier, escape justice. It is difficult to imagine that it was possible, in the monolithic [Roman] Catholic Church, for so many to act so uniformly for so long without the knowledge and approval of the highest levels of the Vatican. Israelis have found it difficult to understand why the Vatican has refused to recognize the State of Israel." Jerusalem Post, editorial: "Maxima Culpa" 14 Feb 92; Adolf Eichmann was issued a Vatican visa and passport (in the name of Ricardo Klement, dated: 14 July 1950) by Franciscan monks in a Catholic monastery in Italy, giving him free passage to Argentina. Hitler was backed by Illuminati bankers (in London, New York City and Berlin) after approval by Ivy Lee (probably chosen due to his successful promotion of the image of John D. Rockefeller), who was hired by I.G. Farben for that purpose

[I.G. Farben, who fed the notorious "Farben buna soup" to the inmates working at "I.G. Auschwitz" factory (specially formulated to starve them to death in three months) and invented Zyklon B, the poison used to gas the Jews, Gypsies etc. and now controls the pharmaceutical industry in the U.S., the A.M.A. and the F.D.A. That's why Laetrile was outlawed without ever being tested and not allowed to be tested. It's a food, (not a drug) vitamin B-17, derived from apricot seeds, that has been proven to cure three out of five "terminal" cancer patients. That's also why the F.D.A. "requires" $210,000,000 and 10 years in research to put a vitamin on the market (effectively stopping all new vitamin company manufacturing). It really doesn't take much imagination to figure out the annual multi-million dollar income these pharmaceutical companies are raking in ($29 billion in 25 years) from federal grants, which would come to a sudden stop if there were no more "cancer industry" (read: "World Without Cancer", by: G. Edward Griffen). Now you can see why Dr. Burzynski is being prosecuted in Texas for curing cancer patients. They will put him away because he is too much of a threat to their mega-buck industry]

(in 1996 over 600 hospitals merged with Catholic institutions in 19 states, from Portland Maine to Oakland California). Kernersville N.C.: a cancer patient was told, by his doctor, he would have to have half his jaw removed to stop the cancer. The man went to Tijuana and was treated with Laetrile and the cancer cleared up. Federal agents came and searched the mans home for the Laetrile. In the U.S. I.G. Farben is: BASF, Bayer and Hoechst. Hitler stated in "Rise and Fall of the Third Reich", page 44: "Regardless of how much room for criticism there was in any religious denomination, a political party must never for a moment lose sight of the fact that in all previous historical experience a purely political party has never succeeded in producing a religious reformation." Compare this with page 486-487: "These peoples looked longingly toward their "mother" countries, Hungary, Russia and Germany respectively, though the Sudeteners had never belonged to the German Reich (except as a part of the loosely formed Holy Roman Empire) but only to Austria". Obviously Hitler saw his Third Reich as a Roman Catholic enterprise ["Christian Democratic Party" of Germany(Catholic Church political party) dissolved itself throwing all of its support behind Hitler]. Hitler was baptized in Linz, paid the German state tax (Kirchensteuer) to the Vatican (still required of every german citizen today), was in communion and carried out cannon law and policy until his demise. With this in mind we can see why Hitler stayed true to his other concordat allies: Franco(who was put into power and assisted for his entire reign by Catholic order Opus Dei(founded by Josemaria Escriva), who also assisted the Ustasha in Croatia during WWII and still assists Vatican mercenaries in Bosnia today)(an annual mass is celebrated in Hitlers memory in Madrid)(the present day Irish Catholic press is full of flattering illusions to Franco of Spain and Salazar of Portugal) and Mussoulini (who was put into power by the Vatican) while breaking every other international treaty. It is significant that Germany, Italy and Spain are together again as they were with Hitler, Mussoulini and Franco. Chick Publications, in Ontario California, prints gospel tracts, story books and other Christian literature. (Internet word search: Jesuit, click on "Bible believers resource page") This company is very important to this subject matter. As are the names of Joseph McCabe (former Franciscan monk and internationally famous atheist and author of almost 250 books); ex-Dominican monk: Walter M. Montano, author of "Behind the Purple Curtain"; ex-priest: Bernard Fresenborg, author of: "Thirty years in hell" and "Uncle Sams New Fiancee". Chick Publications has, in print, true stories of a former Jesuit who, after many years in the service of the Vatican, came out of the Church of Rome and put his story into print, as did Montano, McCabe and Fresenborg. This former Jesuit (Dr. Alberto Romero Rivera) and Jack Chick, of Chick Publications, have had many attempts made on their lives for publishing these materials, (Dr. Rivera, being poisoned by a dentist breaking off an infected needle in his jaw and systematically fed poison for many years, succumed in June 1997) as have other authors and publishers of like subject matter. The Vatican does not take lightly the exposing of its practices, or of its secret books i.e."Secret book of instructions for the Jesuits", LCCN: BX3705.A2 M65; "Secret History of the Jesuits": Edmond Paris 1975, LCCN: BX3706.2 .P3713 (these are two books you should definately read). They expose the unquestionable clear methods and intentions of the Vatican for the future,

(their own publications). There are enough books, by such a variety of authors, from different time periods, writing from first hand knowledge, saying the same thing that the evidence is inescapable. Denial of this information can only be done with total bigotry and abstinence of logic, and therefore can only be construed as complicity with its intentions (yes it does bear repeating). It is very true that tyranny can only prevail when good men do nothing e.g. Chamberlain and the Treaty of Versailles. "Romes responsibility for the assassination of Abraham Lincoln" (LCCN: E457.5.H316), author: Thomas M. Harris, Late Brigadier General U.S.V.(and a presiding judge over the trial of the conspirators), "The assassination of Abraham Lincoln" (LCCN: E457.5.H28 or .H31), also by Thomas M. Harris; "Behind the Purple Curtain"(LCCN: BX1773.M6); "The Great Conspiracy"; "The suppressed truth about the assassination of Abraham Lincoln"(LCCN: E457.5.M27) by Burke Mccarty; "Fifty years in the Church of Rome" by Charles Chiniquy, ex-catholic priest; "Treason History of the Order of the Sons of Liberty"(LCCN: E458.8.S85) by Felix G. Stidger; "Washington in the Lap of Rome"(LCCN: BX1770.F9) by Justin D. Fulton; "History of the Plots and Crimes of the Great Conspiracy to overthrow Liberty in America"(LCCN: E310.D983) by John Smith Dye; "The Trial of John Surratt" by: John Surratt [John Surratt hid in Catholic monestaries in Canada (6 weeks); England (4 weeks); became member of Zuaves (personal body guard to the Pope, in the Vatican) before, eventually, being extradited back to Washington D.C. to stand trial where (full row of jesuits paraded, in file, up to John Surratt, at every break in the trial, to shake his hand and making sure the jury saw them) he got off on a hung jury]. "Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies" series II volume III (federal depository library) shows the Vaticans involvement, on the side of the Confederacy, its complicity in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and attempted assassination of Secretary of State William H. Seward. As well as their planned control of politics, education [Bill Bennett(and his, jesuit, brother Bob are KNOWN operatives in CIA/MK-Ultra/Project Monarch-extreme trauma induced mind control sex deviates and pedophiles), self professed jesuit, Secretary of Education under Reagan, propogater of Outcome Based Education (OBE), stated: "All children should be taught by jesuits"], imigration (St. Leopold Foundation), and their already, at that time, control of the press (which has grown to include every other mode of media communication). Pope Pius wrote a letter to Jefferson Davis, with the specific instruction to have it printed in the Richmond newspaper to get the Irish Catholic's in the Union army to desert. He did and they did(144,000+ deserted in one week). We know the Illuminati's international bankers supplied Jeff Davis(who's secretary of state, Judah P. Benjamin, was a House of Rothschild agent), J.Wilkes Booth, Sons of Liberty, Knights of the Golden Circle (J. Wilkes Booth was seduced to assassinate Abraham Lincoln by a woman, Ella Turner, and joined Knights of The Golden Circle for the sole purpose of obtaining their assistance to that end; Leon Czolgosz joined Knights of The Golden Eagle and was seduced to assassinate president William Mckinley by a woman: Emma Goldman), Order of American Knights (Copperhead organizations) etc. with money thru the Bank of Ontario, Montreal Branch, thru Jeff Davis's "Canadian Cabinet", which was planned in detail in the Vatican before Brig. Gen. Beauregard (Catholic) fired on Fort Sumter: "We have the proof that the company which had been selected and organized to murder me was led by a rabid Roman Catholic named Byrne; it was almost entirely composed of Roman Catholics. More than that, there were two disguised priests among them to lead and encourage them. Professor Morse, the learned inventor of electric telegraphy, tells me that recently, when he was in Rome, he found the proofs of a most formidable conspiracy against this country and all its institutions. It is evident that it is to the intrigues and emissaries of the Pope we owe, in great part, the horrible civil war which is threatening to cover the country with blood and ruin." (Abraham Lincoln). All this is in the Library of Congress, along with U.S. State Department record of the U.S. Government breaking off diplomatic relations with the Vatican on 30 June 1867 (for refusing to allow non-catholic religious worship inside the walls of Rome: which should tell you how TBN now has an international religious TV broadcasting station in Rome), which was re-established by Ronald Reagan, 10 Jan 1984. Reagan only authorized the raid on Moammar Gahdafi after Gahdafi's terrorists set off bombs in Rome, even though he knew about Gahdafi's terrorism and counterfeiting activities for years. According to Alberto Rivera there have been over two thousand Jesuits in U.S. government positions prior to 1980. If this is true, and all indications appear so, there's no telling how many there are now, and how much power they weild in Washington and state governments. The jesuits control the entire CIA/MK-Ultra/Project Monarch(extreme trauma enduced multiple personality: jesuit/Vatican mind control) program. These robotic victims are used as sex slaves and to deliver drugs/money and/or incripted messages to heads of state and/or their drug operatives all over the world. Operatives within Project Monarch program: Gerald Ford, Ronald Reagan, George Bush, George Bush Jr., Bill & Hillary Clinton, Robert C. Bird, Alan Cranston, Madeleine Albright, Dick Cheney, Bob(drug czar) & Bill Bennett (jesuits), Alan Simpson, Arlen Specter, Jim Traficant, Governor Mellon, Bob Clement, Pierre Trudeau(Canadian President/jesuit), De la Madrid(Mexico), Michigan governor: Blanchard, Prince Bandar Ben Sultan, Dr. Steve Hassen, Dr. Jolyn West, Civia Tamarkin, Sue Carper, Joe Casey, William Casey, Dennis Delaney, William Dieh, Lloyd Lindroth, Jimmy Buffett, Rev. Billy Roy Moore, Larry Flint, Charlie Pride, Jack Greene. Country music operatives: Alex Houston, Lee Atwater, Boxcar Willy, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Walker, Tommy Overstreet, Lee Greenwood, Jerry Reed, Kris Kristopherson, Wayne Cox, Ken Riley, R.C. Bannon. Baseball operatives: Tommy Lasorda, Nolan Ryan. Others: Don & Guy Vanderjagt, Bud Crammer, Steve Hassen, J. Gibson, Gary Ackerman, Lamar Alexander(ritual satanist), General Cedras, Lt. Col. Michael Aquino, Jack Valenti, Jose Busto(Peurto Rican drug lord). Catholic priest operatives: Vesbit, father Don, James Thaylen. Church(Salt Lake City, Utah), Church of Scientology, Andrews A.F. Base, Barksdale A. F. Base, McDill A.F. Base, Offutt A.F. Base, Plattsburgh A.F. Base, Tinker A.F. Base, Warner-Robbins A.F. Base, Ft. McLelland, Ft. George Meade, Ft. Campbell, NASA: Cape Canaveral; Washington D.C.; Marshall Space Flight Center, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville Al., Harvard University. The Vatican bought 26.8 million dollars in gold from the U.S. reserves, at a dollar an ounce under market value ($34 an ounce) and sold it back to the Government at market value [$35 an ounce (United Nations World Magazine, Dec.1952)]; With 5500+ schools, colleges and universities (Clinton was educated at jesuit Georgetown University, where he and Fidel Castro were trained in communist philosophies; Jefferson Davis at St. Thomas Catholic college in Kentucky) all receiving government subsidies. Marymount College in Boca Raton, Florida is typical: Founded in 1963 and having a student body of 350 in 1968, it received, from the government, two million in housing grants, a $55,000 anti-poverty grant to study migrant children and a $10,000 education grant; In 1965 in Mississippi a $7,000,000 government-sponsored program for the retraining of unemployed was run by an agency organized by a Roman Catholic Diocese, the $7,000,000 was financed by the government via the Hillburton Act (1954, 1964). From 1947 to 1964 7,372 such projects were approved; Hud condemning public lands and giving it to the Catholic Church, along with protestant tax money to develop the land [build Catholic schools or hospitals (since 1961 the Catholic Church has been receiving $83,000+ a day for such projects)]. HEW should be renamed CPA(Catholic Property Aquisition); Jesuit Fordham University aquired a valuable piece of Lincoln Square in New York City for a fraction of its worth, then got federal aid to develop the property; Manhattan College, famous for its wines and brandy, obtained a large factory and financial assistance from New Yorks Dormitory Authority; In Chicago HEW donated a sixty-acre, 4.5 million dollar tract at the Hines Veterans Administration Hospital to Jesuit Loyola University. When V.A. general councilman Fred B. Rhodes Jr. balked at the giveaway he was replaced by a devout Catholic. New York State banking records shows us that in 1962 the Catholic Church owns stocks and bonds in hundreds of corporations. Among others: Baltimore & Ohio R. R., Rock Island, Erie, Sea Board, Missouri Pacific, Pere Marquette, Goodyear Tire & Rubber, Firestone, Fisk, U.S. American Smelting, Commonwealth Edison, Brooklyn Edison, N.Y. Edison, Pacific Gas & Electric, West Penn Power, American Commonwealth Power, Texas Electric, Atlantic City Convention Hall, Louisiana Hotel Company, Squire Building, Lane Bryant, Fox Playhouses, Fox Theater(St. Louis), Denver Joint Stock Land Bank, Savoy Plaza Hotel, National Dairy, Thermoid, Washington Silk, Pillsbury Flour, Yankee Stadium, Watergate, General Motors, General Electric, Shell Oil, Bethlehem Steel, Gulf Oil, IBM, Boeing, Lockheed, Douglas, Curtis Wright, Phillips Oil Co., Creole Petroleum Co. And all tax free. In Massachusetts its hard to distinguish between the Catholic Church and the state government, every time a public school closes the Catholic Church buys it for a dollar; The Catholic Church never loses a "sealed" bid on public land auctions. This is done via an open and devious by-passing of the U.S.Constitution, by the hidden Catholic pressure group within the U.S. Government, state and local, by the legal, semi-legal and dubious politico-financial manipulations of sly Catholic dealers relentlessly operating in the legislative, financial and real estate fields on behalf of the Catholic Church. At one time the Catholic Church owned more land area than the entire state of Connecticut. The Catholic Church has been "buying" land and constructing buildings in New York City at a rate second only to the city itself (being all tax exempt, care to take a guess why New York City went bankrupt twice when George "Mr. Cocaine" Bush was in the whitehouse?) and all thanks to Cardinal Francis "burn-em alive" Spellman (read "The Vatican Billions" by Avro Manhattan); [The Popes banker, Michele Sindona, was a very busy boy before being sent to federal prison in New York State for causing the default of Franklin National Bank. It appears he was not only the Popes banker but also the banker for: IOR [Vatican bank (Societa General Immobiliare), Italian Masonic Lodge, P2(Italian Masonic Lodge political arm), Vatican political party, Sicilian mafia and Cosa Nostra (Sindona set up the system for Sicilian mafia and Cosa Nostra to launder their drug money thru Vatican owned banks in Switzerland). He, in all likelihood, set up the program of $900,000,000 in counterfeit bonds for the Vatican, to be pushed in this country. When it was discovered that the Vatican Bank (IOR) and Cardinal Tisserant (second only to the Pope) were the main offenders, and an investigation was certain to follow, Tisserant conveniently died, requesting before his death that his diaries be removed from the Vatican.]; The I.R.S. classifying people who stand up for their rights as nonfilers, knowing full well there is no I.R.S. code or law requiring anyone to assess themselves for any tax (article five of the Bill of Rights) and then turning them over to the B.A.T.F. who (by computer program automatically) classifies them as drug smugglers with their semi-secret "T" code system["T5"(I.R.S.6209 manual)], to give them the appearance of legality, to confiscate properties [If you go to court(Title 4 (annotated) U.S. Code, Chapter 1: u.S. flags in federal court rooms are military Ceremonial/Parade Flags(gold fringe), AR840-10(b-1): under which the u.S. Constitution is suspended{two gold-knotted-tasseled ropes is admiralty flag: again the u. S. Constitution is suspended}) with the I.R.S. they ask you about your U.S. citizenship and if you don't answer just right they classify you as a citizen of Puerto Rico, Guam, Samoa or the U.S. Virgin Island's(the "other" united states that are owned by the District of Columbia and run by the Catholic Church). Care to guess why? (because thats the only place the I.R.S. & B.A.T.F. have "legal" jurisdiction). The I.R.S. is a department of the Treasury of Peurto Rico. The title heading of the I.R.S. reads: "Internal Revenue Service a Department of The Treasury", you can see it does not tell who's treasury it's a depatment of. Look in 31 USC under Dept. of U.S. Treasury and look for the agencies they authorize: guess who is missing, thats right, the B.A.T.F. & I.R.S. Why do you make checks payable to the I.R.S. and not the U.S. Treasury? Thats how the I.R.S. diverts your money to the international bankers (IMF)]; The jesuits own fifty one percent of Bank of America, the Vatican owns stock in hundreds of banks all over the world; Banca Nazionale de Lavoro(the Pope owns major stock), through its branch in Atlanta Georgia, laundered over $5 billion of American taxpayers money from the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture to pay for Saddam Hussein's war machine, including his "super gun"; Railroadng Rep. George Hansen (R-Ut.) into prison and physical torture("Diesel Therapy") by judge Edward Lodge, after he called for a congressional investigation of the Justice Department; Ruining Rep. Joseph Montoya (D-N.M.) for pushing for reforms of I.R.S. agency crimes exposed by him in Senate hearings in the 1970's; F.D.A., H.R. S. etc. arresting people, ransacking healthfood stores, confiscating property, killing animals, destroying property, and all without a court order and in deliberate violation of article five of the Bill of Rights, throwing peoples right of habeas corpus (assumed innocent until proven guilty) out the window; with immigration (totally controlled by Jesuits) bringing in hispanics (all Catholic) by the boat loads (legally and illegally) to feed off our welfare system and further deplete the economy [which explains the planned failure of Nafta and Gat (sending companies and jobs to dominant Catholic countries) thru Vatican controlled Mexico] and influence federal, state, county and city legislation and elections [the unofficial private corporation: News Election Service (NES) has sole physical control of the counting and dissemination of every vote, in our national elections, and does not allow the public to know how it is done] and will be the only ones to receive unending welfare when welfare "officially" comes to an end. At or near every immigration office in the U.S. is a Catholic law firm to give free legal assistance to any Catholic immigrant entering this country. Why else would we have immigration offices in Rome and Mexico City? Ronald Reagan and Richard Nixon used the WWII fascist war criminals smuggled into this country (Nazi war criminal, Walter Dohrnberger, sentenced to be hung at Nuremberg, is head of Bell Aerospace Corp. R & D dept.) thru the Vatican "Ratlines" to get the ethnic votes that put them in the whitehouse. Ronald Reagan, while governor of California, set a day of recognition for the Ustasha of Jugoslovia until the Jugoslavian government protested; on his visit to a concentration camp in Europe: Reagan laid a wreath on the grave of an S.S. officer. "The Church can dispense from a promissary oath. This power belongs to the Pope and Bishops, who exercise it either by themselves or by their delegates." p.203; "The civil laws (of Christendom) are binding in conscience so long as they are conformable to the rights of the Catholic Church." p.278 "Abridged Course of Religious Instruction for the Use of Colleges and Schools" by: Rev. F.X. Schouppe (jesuit); federal judges controlling the juries to the extent that they have no choice but to rule the way they say, or overruling them and passing his own judgement on the defendants (which moves sovereignty from the people to the courts), e.g. Walter Smith Jr. (Judge Roy Bean) of Waco Texas. The list of federal agency violations of "citizens rights" is a bottomless pit. Like the threat made on myself by an I.R.S. special agent from Pikeville Ky. in the I.R.S. office in Ashland Ky. (28 April 1995) when he laid a loaded snubnose cal.38 revolver on the desk in front of me, with the barrel pointed at me, while being witnessed by collections agent John T. Yewell. Then theres Waco, with its trumped up charge of a methamphetamine laboratory (never mentioned again after the raid started) to give assistant U.S. attorney Bill Johnston an excuse to get his warrant and special forces training for his B.A.T.F. goons; and with the B.A.T.F. agent Robert Rodriguez having been in Mount Carmel (day before the raid) where he inspected all the firearms and knew what was and was not there, and with further inspection of the weapons "requested" of the B.A.T.F. by David Koresh and "refused" by the B.A.T.F. (which would have left them without an excuse for their murder and mayhem). Now we know why Slick Willy replaced the Attorney General with Janet Reno after the raid started. I'm sure Bill Johnston was expecting a turkey shoot, and all with 100% support from the controlled(Skull & Bones) media, before, during and ever since("The Massacre of The Branch Davidians" by Carol Moore, 28 Jan 1994). Ever notice how the media never misses an opportunity to jump on preachers who make statements concerning government policy, screaming: "seperation of church and state"? And when the Pope comes to this country makeing speech's on the same issues their silence is deafening! The only person to voice a negative response to the Popes statements to abortion was Madelin Murrey O'Hair, who's statements have not been published since. Ever notice the A.C.L.U. in all of its rantings about seperation of church and state is stone silent about government (protestant taxpayer) moneys going to Catholic schools? (federal grants and loans to jesuit colleges, universities and their programs is in the billions). At the turn of the century Pope Leo XIII was raking in over one and a half million dollars annually from: (1) Peter's pence contribution (over $415,000); (2) Apastolic Chancery aggregate ($520,000); (3) Interest of the vast sum left by Pius IX in the Pontifical treasury, invested chiefly in English Consols ($625,000). Notice the Pope trusted the securities of a Protestant nation and not a Catholic as France, Spain or Mexico. These figures would hardly make a dent in those of today. The jesuits rake in over $280 million annually. The assets of Grey Nuns of Charity $3.5 million; Sisters of the Immaculate Heart $7.5 million; Sisters of Saint Joseph of Newark $17,899,384; Little Sisters of the Poor $25 million; Sisters of Mercy $39,754,132; Sisters of Charity $66,533,833; Sisters of Charity of Providence $90,187,000; Sisters of the Sorrowful Mother $93,636,516; Sisters of the Holy Cross $110,892,759. There are 539 such orders of nuns and monks. And all tax free! Read: "Praise The Lord For Tax Exemption", by: Stanley Lowell and Martin Larson. If you think my thesis untenable then please prove me wrong. Simply run a background check (personnel file) to see which (if any) Jesuit schools were attended by (or: Knights of Columbus; Knights of Malta): publishers of public school history books; federal judges: Joyce Hens Green, Manuel L. Real, Tanner, Hodges, Thomas P. Griesa, Milton Pollack, John W. Walker Jr., Kimba Wood, Clifford Weckstein, Richard A. Posner, Ranck, James F. McClure and definitely Walter "Roy Bean" Smith Jr. of Waco; Assistant U.S. Attorney's Bill Johnston, John Maisto (U.S. diplomat), Leslie Brydon, Herschel Lock, Jeffery Mench,[the previous three, along with Tom Bowman(personal aid to Skull & Bones Senator Arlen Specter), Richard Medellin, Judges: Rank and James F. McClure being instrumental in the kidnapping (the children were taken without the parents being present or even notified when the charges were presented in court) of the children of Steven and Dawn Ames in the court of common plea's of Northumberland County Pennsylvania. The sole charges being: teaching their children the Bible and the U.S. Constitution], and B.A.T.F's: John Magaw, Davey Aguilera and Lloyd "Bilderberg" Bentsen [who was C.F.R. (Illuminati)]; Peter Galbraith: U.S. Ambassador in Zagreb; Bob Bartel of "The Spotlight" newspaper (his political tabloid is anti-symetic and denies the Holocaust, which was orchestrated in the Vatican); Tom Metzger, who's skinhead organization uses R.C. symbology [the mirror image dragon/bird, used by the Skinheads, is identical to that used by the Nazi's and Albanian KLA (Ustasha)] and doctrine (with the names changed) and has direct links with skin head/nazi organizations in Germany; US Magistrate: Richard Kopf, US Attorney Thomas Thalken, FBI head: Nicholas O'Hara, Mickey Mott (the last four being satan worshipping pedophiliacs of Omaha Nebraska). Every Government official, especially C.I.A., graduate from Yale University should be checked for Skull & Bones membership (which had its origin in the University of Berlin. Founded at Yale by Alphonso Taft and William H. Russell and exists only at Yale University). Some members being: Arlen Specter, Prescott Bush (and other Skull & Bones members robbed the grave of Geronimo in Oklahoma taking the body back to the "Tomb" on the Yale campus) George Bush, George Bush Jr., Franklin Roosevelt, Kellogg, Dupont, Richard Bissell Jr. etc. Since the Pope has set down, in document, his clear intentions it would be prudent to do a background check on Robert L. Sumner (who spreads lies about fundamental preachers), Jim Bakker, Pat Robertson [J.Peter Grace, top man in Knights of Malta (a secret Catholic quasi-religious on the surface/anti-religious at the core organization that dates back to the Crusaders), is godfather to his children], Paul Crouch, Benny Hinn, Billy Graham and Jack Van Impe. These are T.V. preachers pushing the ecumenical whitewash of the "Mother of harlots and the abominations of the earth" (Rev.17:5). "For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works" (II Corinthians 11:13-15). The jesuits have been in control of the National Council of Church's and World Council of Church's for over thirty years. It is very relevant to remember that the Vatican [vatican is from the classical latin root word: Vaticanus, which by definition means: "house of divination" (dwelling of demons); standing in the center of St. Peters Square is an obelisk (symbol of male sex organ in satan worship) from Egypt] is an independent country with its own dogmatic constitution. With the Pope (vicar of Christ) being the head of that state. Therefore for a practicing R.C. "not to" adhere to the dictates of the Pope and his encyclicals is to go against God. This is Roman Catholic canon law: "Abridged Course of Religious Instruction for the Use of Colleges and Schools," by Rev. Father F.X. Schouppe (jesuit) p.203: "The Church can dispense from a promissory oath. This power belongs to the Pope and bishops, who exercise it either by themselves or by their delegates." p.278: "The civil laws (of Christendom) are binding in conscience so long as they are conformable to the rights of the Catholic Church." (whats this tell you about the U.S. Supreme Court of which at least four are R.C. and ruled to keep the Bible out of Public schools and to murder the unborn?) This is very important to remember also when reviewing the events leading up to and during the VietNam War i. e. secret meetings in the early fifties of certain democratic senators (including John Kennedy) concerning VietNam; placing R.C. Ngo Dinh Diem in the presidency [after being schooled in the U.S., by Cardinal Francis "Burn-em Alive" Spellman (key figure behind William J. Donovan, creator of the O.S.S.), who's only answer to communism was to burn them alive, and Robert Strange Mcnamara thru the CIA (Catholic Illuminati Assassin's)] in deliberate violation of a legally constituted (U.N. approved and observed) election, which communism won; Diem's systematic "ethnic cleansing" of all who would not recant of their religion and embrace Catholicism; creating a tax structure that was so oppressive that non-catholics were starved out, and so favorable to Catholics that it caused a mass exodus of north VietNameese Catholics to the south and south VietNameese Budhists to the north, which was more than even John Kennedy could tolerate, so he had Diem killed (2Nov63), and twenty days later Kennedy was shot by three hit men (Oswald lookalike: William Seymour-school book depository; Manuel Gonzales-Dal-Tex building; Emilio Santana-grassy knoll: last two picked from the, FBI Division 5's thirty professional assassins kept on retainer in Mexico City) 22Nov63 (planned and supervised by, two sex deviates: Clay Shaw, Solidarist-Catholic priest: David Ferrie and William Seymour: employees of Defense Industrial Security Command (DISC) which is a joint venture of FBI's Division 5 and Defense Intelligence Agency of the Pentagon). Almost all of the orchestration operatives were WWII Nazi's smuggled into this country 1945-1950 on Vatican visa's e.g. Werner von Braun and Walter Dohrnberger. Ferenc Nagy: high level boss in FBI Division 5 and president of Perminindex Corp.(money laundering liason for FBI Division 5 and DISC operatives)was the "umbrella man" in Deily Plaza who opened his umbrella(sunny day) signaling the start of the shooting(closing his umbrella signaled the stop). Top planners in the assassination cabal: Lyndon Johnson, J. Edgar Hoover, L.M. Bloomfield, Ferenc Nagy, John DeMenil, Carlos Prio Socarras, Walter Jenkins, H.L. Hunt[American Council of Christian Churchs(ACCC)], Bobby Baker, Clifford Jones, L.J. McWillie, Werner Von Braun, Roy Cohn, Fred Korth, John Connally and Clint Murchison. L.M. Bloomfield (answering only to Hoover and Johnson) was in overall charge of the supervisory and working assignment group: Walter dohrnberger, Guy Bannister, Albert Osborne(ACCC), E.E. Bradley(ACCC), Morris Dalitz(Las Vegas), Major General John B. Medaris, Robert McKeown, Igor Voshinin, George Bouhe, Peter Gregory, Maurice Gatlin, Sergio Arcacha Smith, Lee Harvey Oswald, William Seymour, David Ferrie(Catholic priest), T. Gonzales, Manuel Garcia Gonzales, Layton Martens, Gordon Novel, Walter Sheridan, William Dalzell, Paul Raigorodsky, Joe Bonnano, Dimitri Royster(ACCC), Alex Carlson, George Mandel, Breck Wall, Clay Shaw, Joe Cody, Jake Kosloff, Mike McLaney, Ruth and Mike Payne, Igor Vogonov, Jack Bowen, Mike Ryan, Tammie True, Max Cherry, Patrick Hoy, David Hoy, James Powell and many others with lesser assignments. (Nomenclature of An Assassination Cabal, by: William Torbitt) This document previously quoted: "Plausible Denial" by, Mark Lane. However, due to more recent revelation, it is obvious that publication is without merrit[Mark Lane(personal friend and confidant to the infamous jesuit: Jim Jones), as attorney for James Earl Ray, sent his key witness to Jonestown the day before the Jonestown massacre. Fortunately, for her, she didn't go]. The VietNam "genocide" was given a fresh shot in the arm in the 1967 CIA "Operation Phoenix", implemented by, sovereign Knight of Malta: William Casey [known MK-Ultra/Project Monarch pedophile operative (CIA's Laos & VietNam station chief, egregious mass murderer, Theodore Shackley being the key operative in the assassination cabal, under George Bush)]. Ross Perot wasn't able to contact any POW, MIA's because the CIA kept getting in the way, with their operation of taking over the opium smuggling trade, for themselves and the Sicilian Mafia, out of the "Golden Triangle" [largest buyers of opium in the world are well known top officials in the CIA & DOD (Richard Armatage, no.2 man in the Department of Defence (DOD); Theodore Shackley, no.2 man in the CIA under George Bush. Bush is on the board of directors of Eli Lilly: the company that produces the precursor chemicals to produce cocaine, haroine and the company that first synthesized LSD for the CIA)]. The U.S. government transports over half the illegal narcotics into the U.S., mostly on military transport, tons at a time with no customs check, then flown on commercial airliners, in cargo containers, to organized crime families, then distributed in cities. Nixon got us out of VietNam without winning and the Vatican getting control of the southern government, for which he was watergated. Read: "VietNam, why did we go?" by: Avro Manhattan. Ten days before his assassination John Kennedy stated in a speech at Columbia University: "The high office of president has been used to foment a plot to destroy the Americans freedom, and before I leave office I must inform the citizen of his plight". There is evidence of Fidel Castro's involvement in the conspiracy but not conclusively. However Dr. Alberto Rivera's testimony of knowing of Castro's presence in the Vatican while he, and the infamous Jim Jones, were there in school (being trained to destroy church's), and Soldier of Fortune magazine's article on two jesuits kidnaping Honduran peasant farmers and sending them to Cuba, into forced guerilla warfare training, along with John Kennedy stopping the B-26 bombers from taking off in support of the freedom fighters during the Bay of Pigs invasion, which they were totally dependant on; leaving Castro's planes to strafe and bomb the raiders {its obvious the raid was designed to fail: all aspects were controled by the CIA; troop transport deck machine guns malfunctioned, mounts rusted thru, four of six landing craft sink before their even boarded; using Bay of Pigs [which the Cuban Revolutionary Council would never approve (reefs, surrounded by swamp, radio station nearby) so Kennedy has them flown, under false pretences, to a blacked out airfield at Opa-Locka Fla., where their held in isolation, against their will, under armed military guard: Only then do they learn, via AM radio, that the raid has been moved up (putting the initial air strike, using six B-26's, not all fourteen, securing minimal damage and giving Castro ample warning of an impending attack) just before the UN meeting knowing the US would be blamed, giving Kennedy his excuse to ground the bombers (but not the paratroop planes taking off from the same field in Nicaragua) and, had not only already started, but already past the point of no return] guaranteeing the failure of the raid and effectively ending all organized effort to remove Castro}. "This was how the whole thing was going from the beginning", General Lemnitzer: Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff ("Bay of Pigs, The Untold Story" by Peter Wyden), certainly lends credibility to the assertion that Castro is a Jesuit and was involved in Kennedy's assassination. We do know Castro is Illuminati and indoctrinated in communism at jesuit Georgetown University (as was Bill Clinton). Kennedy had stopped borrowing money from the IMF and had new inflationary money printed at the US Treasury (the bills you see with red serial numbers) which secured the orchestration of his assassination by the Illuminati, Bilderberg's(modern day version of:

"Congress of Vienna" who wrote the "Secret Treaty of Verona" 1814-1815: the execution of this edict was assigned to the re-established Jesuits 1814) and Trilateral Commission; he made it known he was going to dissolve the CIA, thereby securing Skull & Bones organizations co-operation; having Ngo Dinh Diem killed, plan of pulling U.S. troops out of VietNam without getting control of VietNam for the Vatican secured the co-operation of the Jesuits and the Vatican. Though the procedural orchestration was set in motion by J. Edgar Hoover, John Connolly, Lyndon Johnson and Louis M. Bloomfield (Canadian lawyer who did the contract operative hiring for FBI's Division 5), the planning of the assassination itself was done by E. Howard Hunt, William Seymour, Clay Shaw and David Ferrie (Catholic priest). Financing the entire assassination operation was Vatican banks: De Famaco Astalde Vaduz (Swiss), Liechtenstein (Swiss), Seligman Bank (Swiss), Banca Nazionale de Lavoro (Rome) [this bank, owned by the Pope, through its branch in Atlanta Georgia, laundered over $5 billion from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to Saddam Hussein's war machine, including his "Super Gun"]. Lyndon Johnson sent the USS Maddox and USS C. Turner Joy into North Vietnam's territorial waters (2&4 Aug 64) to draw fire from North Vietnam (the radio message the USS Maddox received, ordering it, and USS C. Turner Joy, into North Vietnamese territorial waters came direct from the Whitehouse). When the plan failed to bring the desired results (knowing why they were there: Maddox and C. Turner Joy fired on each other in the night out of sheer paranoia) Johnson lied to Congress and the nation, saying the North Vietnamese fired on an American war ship in international waters: giving him his excuse to commit U.S. troops into armed conflict with North Vietnam. Later Johnson realizing "his" war is a non winner and his bombing escalation's bring protest's and riots and not able to back out either (he didn't want to take a ride through Dealey Plaza): simply elected not to run for: "another term as your president", thereby escaping: "the poisonous cup"; "the strangulation cord"; "the steel of the poniard"; "the leaden bullet". The one common element between John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr. and Robert F. Kennedy: all three were working to get us out of Vietnam (militarily) when they met their untimely demise. Project Monarch operative: Gerald Ford was the only member of the congressional investigative committee to say that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of John Kennedy (and also the only one to make president, and he made it by appointment). By LAPD's own SUS file: Sirhan Sirhan was hypno-programmed using hypnotic drugs and torture (by, DISC operative: Reverend Jerry Owen, CIA mind-control specialist: William Bryan and others) producing MPD (Multiple Personality Disorder mind control, a product of CIA's MK-Ultra-Project Monarch) at the horse stable, in Santa Anna, where he worked with Thomas Bremer (the brother of Arthur Bremer, who shot George Wallace in 1972). Sirhan Sirhan was used to distract attention while CIA's Thane Eugene Cesar (in the employ of the LAPD) shot Robert F. Kennedy behind the right ear. John Hinckley's (shot Ronald Reagan) brother was George Bush's golf partner. John Hinckley Sr. (owner of Vanderbilt Oil Co.) has been George Bush's neighbor in Texas for years, and contributed to his campaign when he first ran for congress. John Maisto (U.S. Diplomat to the Philippines) came to Panama to train the "Civic Crusade" (C.I.A. operatives {many of which are trained in the infamous terrorist-revolutionary "School of the America's" at Fort Benning, Ga.): organizing street campaigns, burn tires, protest march's etc. Archbishop Marcos Mcgrath, Monsignor Jose' Sebastian Laboa, Priest Javier Villanueva being among the operatives in the destabilization campaign. A repeat of Manila, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Grenada and Haiti's Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier. Archbishop Mcgrath and his priests ran their own operation of ballot box confiscation and vote counting (having no connection with the Panamanian Voting Commission) in deliberate violation of Panamanian law (what's this tell you about NES, News Election Service, giving the established press total control of counting and dissemination of national voting and does not allow the public to know how it is done?! Whats this tell you about John Kennedy winning the election when Richard Nixon won the vote?). Archbishop Mcgrath later became guarantor of transition of the Panamanian Government from military to civilian control (the Vatican has $1.4 billion invested in sundry Panamanian and other "shell" companies) after he, along with Laboa and Villanueva, tricked Noriega into the Vatican Embassy with the promise of diplomatic immunity, then once in the embassy giving him the choice of surrendering to the U.S. Army or they would let the army in to capture (kill) him. The Panamanian raid was concocted by Senator Alan Simpson® Wyoming. This is a direct continuance of: "Secret Treaty of Verona" policy of extermination of all representative governments as recorded in the: U.S. Congressional Record-Senate of the 64th Congress, 1st session volume 53, part 7, page 6781, 25 April 1916 and in the: American Diplomatic Code, 1778-1884, vol. 2; Elliott, p.179. With main accusers like Jorge Canalias, Floyd Carlton Caceres, Cesar Rodriguez, Teofilo Watson (pilots who flew arms to the Contra's and cocaine to the U.S.) and paid convicts (recruited from American prisons) as key witnesses in conjunction with the Classified Information Procedures Act (CIPA, U.S. Code 22) Noriega's fate was sealed as soon as he entered the Vatican Embassy (With legal procedures like this you could convict John Kennedy of assassinating Lee Harvey Oswald). Now with no Panamanian National Guard [many of which were shot(at Balboa High School concentration camp) with their hands zip tied behind their backs, by U.S. marines (journalist Julio Guerra was murdered by U.S. marines for photographing the bodies)], Panama is now a major stopover point on the opium trail from south and central America to the U.S. Cocain is rampant now in George "Mr. Cocaine" Bush's (who's cocaine running boats from his oil well rigs go unchecked by the coast guard) panimanian narcodemocracy. With drug money's being laundered thru Panamanian banks, e.g. Interbanko, First Interamerica's Bank (owned by drug cartel boss Gilberts Rodriguez Orejuela)("The Memoirs of Manuel Noriega, America's Prisoner" by: Manuel Noriega and Peter Eisner). Now with, RC Priest, Jean-Bertrand Aristide, back in power in Haiti the cocaine trail is complete. We know from WW II that the Vatican had a highly militant influence in Jugoslavia. War records show the exhistance of a Vatican organization called "Ustasha". The reputation of the Ustasha throughout Jugoslavia is far worse than that of the S.S., S.D. and Gestapo combined: being created by Ante Pavelic, the head of the Ustasha state of Croatia. Pavelic held many and frequent meetings with Bishops and Archbishops of Croatia and Pope Pius XII. Pavelic was to Jugoslavia what Hitler was to Europe.

Catholic priests like Stane Kukavica (Franciscan monk), changed their robes for the uniforms of the dreaded Ustasha killer squads and led the most barbaric, brutal raids upon those people and practiced satanic torture never before known in this century. The entire genocide operations were overseen by the military vicar Archbishop Stepinac ("Jasenovac" was the main center for extermination, being the third largest concentration camp in WWII where over 800,000 Serbs, Jews and Gypsies were butchered) working directly with the Nazi's, helping to create the state of Croatia.(read: "Smokescreens" by: Jack Chick; "The Yugoslav Auschwitz and the Vatican" by: Vladimer Dedijer; "Blowback" by: Christopher Simpson). In Bosnia the revived Ustasha movement is called "Croatian Peoples Party"(HSP) and its army, the "Croatian Defence Force" (HOS). HSP was led by Dobroslav Paraga. HOS units (Black Legion) comprised of Belgian, Austrian, British and Canadian mercenaries, as well as units from the French mercenary unit: "Nouvelle Resistance". After HOS was dissolved in 1993, by its mentor president Franjo Tudjman (for fear of being exposed for his Vatican connection as too politically obvious units), members were absorbed into other units, later amalgamated into the 108th Bosnian Brigade or the International Brigade. "Front National", "Croatie Libre", and "Slavonie Libre" run by Faci, are also Vatican organizations fronted as Humanitarian Aid. MPRI(shadowy mercenary organization based in Virginia) contracted by the Pentagon to train Ustasha in Croatia, Bosnia and now Kosovo. Who but the Vatican has the power and/or influence to coordinate both sides in a military conflict to annihilate thousands of peoples at a time i.e. using U.S. troops to control Serbs in a (so called) fire free zone while Fascist Croats murder them, while the U.S. troops keep the Serbs defenseless. This policy will continue throughout the Balkans. Hitler presented the Independent State of Croatia to Pavelic, 10 April 1941, as Greater Croatia which lasted from 1941 to 1945. The original plan was to annihilate one third of the population, force a third to migrate out of the country and force a third to convert to Catholicism. The process was to take ten years. The second half of the plan was completed 1991-1995. U.S. troops now enforce that Croatian state, against the displaced Orthodox Serbs. Today Franjo Tudjman is doing everything to have Greater Croatia presented by Germany (today if you publish anything in the German press about the Vatican Nazi concordat the state prosecutes you) the United States and the Vatican, reconstructed from Bosnia and Serbian lands. While a concerted propaganda campaign is being mounted to frighten small Balkan countries with the spectre of "Greater Serbia" and are being offered a protective "umbrella", behind the smokescreen of the Washington Agreement from 1994 that inaugurated Greater Croatia in which the Muslims are a majority, while the 1995 Split Agreement consolidated the military alliance between Tudjman and Izetbegović and was given the blessings by the United States Ambassador in Zagreb: Peter Galbraith. Both of them have been sent teams of U.S. military planners and experts and they have been rendered military and financial assistance. The United States has unilaterally discontinued the control of the arms embargo against Muslims and Croats in violation of the Security Council arms embargo resolution in whose adoption it participated. It is only too obvious that the Vatican plans to continue the Serbian genocide throughout Yugoslavia only now the genocide will be financed by the United States with military assistance, while we can trust the national and international media to continue its lies about Orthodox Serbs murdering Muslims. The Vatican has established its own international court in Rome to try anyone it so chooses with total disregard to the sovereignty and/or autonomy of the country under who's authority the person had acted. The theme here is unification, the same kind of unification that, Roman Catholic Ngo Dinh Diem so ruthlessly administered in South Vietnam, under the protection of the C.I.A. (and US Army "advisors") using civilian internment camps probably similar to those built by Trudeau (jesuit) of Canada, see "Civilian Internment Camps", Toronto Sun, 4 March 1982. And with the sole theme of the popes 5 May 95 encyclical: "That They May Be One", being "unification"; Thru Netscape-Altavista: word-search I.G.Farben, click on "The Rockefellers mass murder and the U.N."), leaves no doubt whatsoever, in my mind, what the Vatican, in coordination with the Illuminati, has in store for this country. With the literacy rate in the U.S. being below 50% in 1986 and getting lower every year (Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles), [20% in Ireland(Ireland has no comprehensive public school system)] knowing you can't control an educated populace, and 88%+ in Vietnam (Groliers Encyclopedia): Who are we trying to kid? "Sex": There is enough real evidence (past and present) of the Roman Catholic Church's "practice" of child sex abuse that it is without precedence. This is world wide. Sodom and Gomora could have taken lessons from the Catholic Church. I seriously doubt there is enough paper to record all of the victims (over 400 priests in North America from 1984-1992 and that's just the ones that were reported). Ask any insurance company that sells liability coverage to Catholic Church's and/or orphanages, why they charge the high premium rates. Ask any fourteen year old Catholic girl of the explicit questions about every form of sex imaginable the (so called) celibat priest puts to her ear (by cannon law) every time she enters the confessional, then watch the expression on her face when she says she is not allowed to say under pain of excommunication: How convenient! Ask a Catholic priest what a "Blessed Creature" is, then watch the expression on his face. Read: "Why Priests should Wed" by: Justin D. Fulton, 1888 (not on a full stomach). You should have no difficulty seeing the correlation between the rate of illegitimacy and crime with the Catholic population in any given area. Typical examples of this priestly practice are: priest James Porter, who molested hundreds of boys and girls in who knows how many dioceses: for which the Catholic Church did nothing but move him to another diocese (standard church policy) until even the Catholic Church patronising news media had enough. No formal charges were made until the media made his practices public, for which the presiding cardinal over the diocese blasted the journalist's from his pulpit. This same cardinal was later promoted; Priest O'Connell of New Hampshire, "ditto"; Priest Brendan Smyth, who's case brought down the Irish government, "ditto" (the Catholic Church now files lawsuits against those exposing the church's child sex abuse, regardless of the accuracy of the charges). Pedophiling Priest Marcial Maciel Degollado, founder of Legionaries of Christ, molested his students in Spain and Italy with full approval from Pope Pius XII; Catholic orphanages are run by pedophiling priests, these sadistic practices being protected by local and provincial governments:

Mt. Cashel orphanage in Newfoundland, where 20 priest's molested young boy's for over 15 years (for which a book was written and a movie made) is typical; Boys Town (incorporated) of Omaha Nebraska sells children into child prostitution and demonic occult ritual sacrifice. The key operative being Larry King (who sang the National Anthem at the 1984 & 88 Republican National Convention's) of Omaha. King's practice of Reagan, Bush, Contra drug money laundering (used in Nicaragua & Haiti) thru Franklin Community Federal Credit Union (banking system made possible by Nebraska Senator Bob Kerry) and selling children and drugs at his political parties (George Bush was a regular customer) held in his apartment in Omaha, his Southfork Ranch outside Dallas Texas and his $5000 a month rented house on California Ave. off "Embassy Row" in Washington D.C. (where he secretly videotaped politicians sexual acts with young boys he brought in from Boys Town Catholic orphanage, to be blackmailed later) are well documented in: "The Franklin Cover-Up: Child Abuse, Satanism and Murder in Nebraska", author: Senator John DeCamp. Monsignor Robert Hupp, head of Boys Town, varified every detail of the authors investigation of the Franklin Cover-up and told of the priest who kidnapped a boy in Elkhorn, Nebraska, raped and murdered him and was immediately transfered to another dioces (probably out of the country) by the head of the Omaha dioces and provided guidance on where to look to develop further proof of the children's stories of abuse by this nations wealthy and powerful (who have been adopting children in Paraguay, bringing them back to the US before sacrificing them to satan. This is acknowledged by the Paraguayan government). Monsignor Hupp was later, unceremoniously, retired from his position as head of Boys Town. The pedophiling group: North American Man-Boy Love Association (who's members buy kidnapped children at auctions held at a ranch outside of Las Vegas Nevada) has been given official status by the United Nations. CIA head, William Colbey, was found dead in a river after telling Senator DeCamp he was going to give him information to help his investigation. William Casey [sovereign Knight of Malta (Catholic), George Bush's campaign manager and "authorized" Clintons bid for the White House (being fully aware of Clintons background of a bank robbing sister, drug trafficking brother and murdering mother; his receipt of a bucket of cocaine a month for Reagans Iran/Contra-weapons/cocaine smuggling/money laundering ($100 million a month) operation out of the Mena Arkansas airfield)] was named in a class action law suit in Southern California (case no.99-02603) along with Robert Gates, John Deutch, George Tenet, estate of William French Smith, Edwin Meese, Richard Thornburgh, Janet Reno and others; CIA and US Department of Justice] responsible for the 1980's crack cocaine epidemic and resulting social and economic devastation of inner city communities. The Jesuits have orchestrated the deaths of presidents, heads of state and dignitaries of countries all over the world i.e. C.I.A. [French king: Henry IV issued: "Edict of Nantes", giving freedom of religion for all French citizens, for which he was assassinated by jesuit: Ravailac; by the "leaden bullet": Presidents: James A. Garfield (2 July 1881), William McKinley (6 Sept 1901), Abraham Lincoln (14 April 1865), John F. Kennedy (22 Nov 1993); "by the poison cup": presidents: William Henry Harrison (4 April 1841), Zachary Taylor (5 July 1850); attempted assassination of James Buchanan by poisoning the tea at the National Hotel, Washington D.C., (Feb 1857) where 50 were affected and 38 died]. Jesuitism was born in Spain, 1534 (for the express purpose of exterminating the reformation); reared in France; developed in Papal Rome; sanctioned by Pope Paul III, 1540. Expelled from: England, 1581; France, 1594; Portugal, 1598; England again, 1604; France again, 1606; Russia, 1717; Portugal again, 1759; France again, 1762-3; Spain, Genoa, Venice and Sicily, 1767; Naples, Malta and Parma, 1768. All, except England and Russia, being strictly Roman Catholic states. The order was suppressed 21 July 1773 by Pope Clement IV (for which he was promptly poisoned); continued to exist under other names i.e. "Brothers of the Faith"; re-established by Pope Pius VII, 1814 (to carry out the dictates of the "Secret Treaty of Verona"). In the words of Abraham Lincoln: "If the Protestants of the North and the South could learn what the priests, nuns, and monks, who daily land on our shores, under the pretext of preaching their religion, were doing in our schools and hospitals, as emissaries of the Pope and the other despots of Europe, to undermine our institutions and alienate the hearts of our people from our Constitution and our laws, and prepare a reign of anarchy here, as they have done in Ireland, Mexico, Spain, and wherever there are people that wish to be free, they would unite in taking power out of their hands". "The Jesuits never forsake." (Washington in the lap of Rome, Justin D. Fulton; Fifty Years in the Church of Rome, by: Charles Chiniquy LCCN: BX1770.F9). Phyllis Schlafly, Reed Irvine, Dusty Rhodes (of National Review), Brent Bozell, Edwin Fulner, Robert Godwin, Richard Viguerie, Sommers White, Foster Friess, Oliver North, Coors family, Roland Hinz, Rush Lembaugh, Tim La Haye, Pat Robertson, Jack Kemp, George Will, Jean Kirkpatrick, William Bennet (jesuit), Robert Kriebel, Burton Yale Pines, Gary Hofmeister, Clarence Thomas, Ed Meese and Charles Colson are pseudo conservatives who's puppet strings are pulled by jesuits, Skull & Bones, Council on Foreign Relations or directly from the Illuminati. "I am not happy about the rebirth of the Jesuits. Swarms of them will present themselves under more disguises ever taken by even a chief of the Bohemians, as printers, writers, publishers, school teachers, etc. If ever an association of people deserved eternal damnation, on this earth and in hell, it is this society of Loyola." (John Adams, 1816). This hardly scratch's the surface of info on the jesuits and Popery as a whole. If you refuse to see and believe the pattern that is set forth here, you wouldn't believe the rest either. "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead" (Luke 16:31).

Author, Eric Jon Phelps, a Calvinist Baptist, exposes the evil order of the Jesuits, the real power behind the Vatican in his book "Vatican Assassins: Wounded In The House Of My Friends". Mr. Phelps challenges all truth-seekers to go through the annals of history and examine the diabolical interference of the Jesuits in the affairs of all governments. Find out why the Jesuits were expelled from almost every country in Europe, and how they have been using the United States of America to further their mission to:

"...destroy the Protestant Reformation and restore the Dark Ages with the Pope exercising his temporal power as the Universal Monarch, ruling from the rebuilt temple in Jerusalem."

Since 1550 A.D., the Pope has sought to reverse the Protestant Reformation and return the total power economically, diplomatically and militarily to the Vatican, as in the days before Martin Luther. To establish this goal, the Vatican established the Order of the Jesuits, turning to Black Magick Witchcraft through the Society of Loyola.

Using old forgotten books, Mr. Phelps takes us through war after war, showing the Jesuits' hand in instigating and provoking revolution and bloodshed in one nation after another. The Jesuits wreaked such havoc on the world that our own early American presidents and patriots warned of the dangers of letting the Jesuits in our land. Most of the nations in Europe have thrown the Jesuits out at one time or another because the Jesuits were planning and fomenting revolution against the throne!

General Lafayette, in 1799 wrote: "It is my opinion that if the liberties of this country" the United States of America "are destroyed, it will be by the subtlety of the Roman Catholic Jesuits Priests, for they are the most crafty, dangerous enemies to civil and religious liberty. They have instigated most of the wars of Europe".

In 1816, John Adams wrote to President Jefferson: "Shall we not have regular swarms of them here, in as many disguises as only a king of the gypsies can assume, dressed as painters, publishers, writers and schoolmasters? If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on earth and in hell it is this Society of Loyola's."

Abraham Lincoln, who was assassinated by the Jesuits, wrote in a personal letter to Charles Chiniquy: "This war would never have been possible without the sinister influence of the Jesuits. We owe it to Popery that we now see our land reddened with the blood of her noblest sons".

The 13 books that come on the CD-ROM accompanying the book, "Vatican Assassins", were written in the 1800's -- with two exceptions --and speak of the Jesuits from the historical perspective an author possesses when he is living in a time in which the truth of the Jesuits was more readily known than today; Americans have learned history from schools in which the true history has been rewritten, to spoon-feed us a revised history that disguises the terrible truth of certain institutions as the Jesuits. Further, old books that boldly spoke the truth have gone out of print, or have been suppressed, so we cannot know the truth. These books are the Bibliography of "Vatican Assassins"; they are the resource material from which "Vatican Assassins" was written.

These are the 13 old, out-of-print, and banned books on this CD-ROM:

1. "Secret Instructions of the Jesuits": (1857) Charles III, the King of Spain, in 1767 read the secret instructions of the Jesuits, known at that time as the Secreta Monita, and realized the danger the Jesuits posed to his nation. He sent out letters to all the provinces containing a sealed document that was not to be opened until the 2nd of April. Anyone violating that order would be killed. On April 2nd, all opened the instructions which summoned all troops to gather up the members of the Society of Jesus and expel them from the land. Now you can read what Charles III read and feared.
2. "The Black Pope: A History of the Jesuits", J.F. Cusack (Nun of Denmore) -1896 It is well understood in the Roman Catholic circles that the term "black pope" refers to the Jesuit General and the true power behind the Vatican. Read suppressed anti-Jesuit documents deliberately kept from the American people. Read about the "rules of the Order" that prove it is a demonic system!
3. "Popery Puseyism And Jesuitism: Luigi Desanctis (Official Censor of the Inquisition)" -1852

Translator's Preface: "These letters were published by Luigi Desanctis under the title of Roma Papale in 1865 at Florence. They appeared in the Record newspaper, in English, French, and German, running through many editions Popery and Jesuitism, which works seem to have disappeared, for only one copy have I traced." Now you can read a part of history thought to be lost forever!

4. "The Crisis: Or, the Enemies of American Unmasked", J. Wayne Laurens (American Historian 1855) America has enemies who are not content to enjoy peace and security and equal rights of citizenship under our constitution and laws. The Jesuits have set out to destroy our liberties. This book exposes their diabolical plan!

5. "The Footprints of the Jesuits": R.W. Thompson, Ex-Secretary of the Navy "The Jesuits, by their very calling, by the very essence of their institution, are bound to seek, by every means, right or wrong, the destruction of Protestantism. This is the condition of their existence, the duty they must fulfill, or cease to be Jesuits."

6. "The Awful Disclosures of Maria Monk", Maria Monk, 1835. It is her autobiography. It shook the world then when she exposed the horrible and shocking secrets of what goes on behind convent doors. Today it is just as shocking and tragic. Now you can read the true story of one nun's nightmare in the Roman Catholic church.

7. "The Thrilling Mysteries of a Convent Revealed", M. Peterson, 1835.

8. "The Jesuit Conspiracy: The Secret Plan of the Order" Abbate M. Leone, 1848. In 1825, the Jesuits held a meeting at Chieri, Italy. A young Jesuit, named Leone (later became the black pope) took notes of that meeting. In 1848, they were translated into English and thoroughly "authenticated". Now you can read how the Jesuits plan on world domination and the destruction of Protestantism, using duplicity and a secret war.

9. "Romanism as a World Power", Luther S. Kauffman, 1922.: (1921) A warning to Americans of the true dangers of Roman Catholicism and her drive for world domination.

10. "The Engineer Corps of Hell", Edwin A. Sherman, 1883: "Containing the tactics of the 'Militia of the Pope,' or The Secret Manual of the Jesuits, and other matter intensely interesting, especially to the Freemasons and lovers of civil and religious liberty, whithersoever dispersed throughout the globe."

11. "History of Romanism: From the Earliest Corruption of Christianity to the Present Time", John Dowling, 1845. (1845) This book presents a chronological order to the origin and history of Rome's unscriptural doctrines and ceremonies including councils and decrees.

12. "History of the Jesuits: Their Origin, Progress, Doctrines and Designs": G. B. Nicolini 1854 This book is exposes the character and aims of the brotherhood of Loyola. They pose a threat to all mankind, for they will stop at nothing to accomplish their desired end, which is to bring all the world under the Pope, who is under the black pope.

13. "The Jesuits", Theodore Griesinger, 1903: A complete history of their open and secret proceedings from the foundation of the Order to the present time (1903).

"Vatican Assassins" also details 20th Century history in a way you have never seen it explained, with the assistance of this extremely unique perspective provided by these 13 books. You will see events of the 20th Century in a completely new light, events about which you may have had questions, but could never find answers. The key is understanding the Black Magick Jesuit order.

As interesting as these wonderful resources are, we feel that the author is lacking one critically important perspective: he does not understand Black Magick Witchcraft. The Jesuits were founded on Black Magick, as was the Masters of the Illuminati. The Vatican -- with the Jesuit Black Pope in the background -- opposed the Illuminati until Pope Paul VI, who ascended the Papacy on June

Instantly, occultists the world over realized that a grand merger of forces had just occurred, between the Black Magick Illuminists on the one hand, and the Vatican on the other hand. At this moment, Black Magick ruled both the Illuminati and the Vatican. World events have flowed since then, as the result of this grand merger.

Cutting Edge articles in "What Saith Rome?", in "Freemasonry Corner", and in Headline News explain this merger of forces quite well. Since we believe you need this perspective to complete the understanding of the Black Magick Jesuits as provided in Vatican Assassins, we are including a CDROM of our entire website at over 60% discount!

This Vatican Assassin special package will include:

1. "Vatican Assassins" book, 700 pages long
2. CDROM of 13 books that provide the Bibliography for this book
3. CDROM of Cutting Edge Ministries' website, normally a $12.99 retail

All of this sells for only $39.99! Our first shipment has been made, and we expect delivery on or before March 1. Truly, once you read all this material, you will never look at history the same way before, and you will never look at current news the same way again.

This resource packet may be the most important, and informative, we have ever offered.

FINAL NOTE: The most important revelation of this book is simple but profound: The top global leader of the Masons is ALSO the Black Pope of the Jesuits! To understand the tremendous significance of this revelation, we invite you to examine the Black Magick Seal of the Illuminati depicting all the forces leading the world to the New World Order, at <http://www.cuttingedge.org/pages/seminar2/SEAL8.htm>

Once you know that the top Masonic leader and the Black Pope are the same person, the hierarchy of the Illuminati takes on an entirely new meaning!

Pope to ban gay priests

By Zach Loneran

http://keystoneonline.com/story.asp?Art_id=1373

A soon-to-be released Vatican document regarding homosexuals in the Roman Catholic seminary has stirred up some worries throughout the religious sect. This document, which comes from the Congregation for Catholic Education, will ban homosexual men from seminaries.

The document was approved by Pope Benedict XVI at the end of August and is planned to be released after the International Bishops' Synod in Rome next month.

This does nothing but further divide the Church and alienate people who have a true devotion to God. The Church says homosexuality is a sin, but everyone sins-even priests. A good priest will be the first one to tell you that.

This ban on gay seminarians doesn't even provide a practical solution to the problem of pedophiles wearing vestments every week. Because of the lack of psychological screenings of new seminarians in the '60s and '70s, pedophiles managed to work their way into a job where they would have exclusive access to children.

Church historian and conservative commentator on Catholicism, James Hitchcock, agrees with the ban, claiming that a study from the John Jay College of Criminal Justice showed that most of the alleged clergy sex-abuse victims since 1950 were adolescent boys.

Because several accusations of assault came from males, church officials point to homosexuality as a problem when they should be pointing at pedophilia. I hear they are two different things.

However, people are worried that this ban might cause a backfiring reaction from the homosexual clergy.

In an interview with CNN, Rev. Thomas Krenik, author of Formation for Priestly Celibacy, a guidebook for clergy, said, "For some men who happened to be homosexually oriented, they would go further in the closet. That would be my fear, that this could become an even worse problem."

This document has not only labeled gay people immoral, but it has also made it practically impossible for them to "cleanse themselves" of their inherent sin. It's actually rather confusing because the Church says that no matter who you are-thief, murderer or televangelist-you can repent and join God in Heaven. But not gay people. Why?

Because they're going against nature. I hope everyone is aware of this. It is "unnatural" to be attracted to the same sex. Now, I'm straight myself, but I don't remember filling out a survey to choose my sexuality. I never checked the "hetero" box.

Oh, but far be it for me to argue with this document. I'm sure homosexual people don't hit puberty and say, "You know, I think I want to get beat up and labeled evil for the rest of my life. Send me the gay form."

We're talking common sense here. And, if I'm not mistaken, I believe that God (the Pope's boss) is a big fan of common sense. That's why our planet isn't inside the sun.

In all honesty, sexuality shouldn't even be an issue in the priesthood. All Catholic priests take a vow of celibacy. So what does it matter if you're not having sex with women or not having sex with men?

It bothers me also because Catholicism is a wonderful faith, full of teachings on loving one another, helping the needy and forgiveness. When people, because of their own biases, build walls in religion, opposers strap bombs to themselves and try to blow the walls up.

Jesus came to unite people, not divide them. He hung around with sinners and not the "righteous" religious leaders who caused all the corruption. The Pope may ban gay people from serving in the Church, but God never turns anyone away from serving his kingdom.

DTD - October 7, 2005 10:50 PM (GMT)

If they ban gays there will be nobody left. :D

Lazarus - October 8, 2005 02:14 AM (GMT)

There is a good reason for banning gay priests. You're right in saying that everyone is guilty of sin. You are also correct in mentioning that the Catholic Church should go after the pedophiles. The Church has done more trying to protect those priests who fiddle with children than trying to prosecute them!

Everyone does sin, no doubt, but you cannot let an openly homosexual priest teach and guide the people of God. In the same manner the priests who are sexually immoral (having sex with women or masterbating) should not be able to hold mass either. The Church just shows its own hypocrisy when condemning one evil and allowing another to be perpetuated without any condemnation.

There are many different theological views concerning the issue of sexual immorality, whether it be homosexual relations or heterosexual relations. I think the larger issue should be how the sin is looked at by God and the people. There is a difference between how we look at sinning. If a person or priest is enslaved by a particular sin, such as homosexuality, then they are unfit to serve in the church. A priest acting in this manner would be an abomination to God. Why? because they are not making an effort to repent of their lifestyle. It makes no sense to practice christianity if you do not believe that homosexuality is a major sin. the Bible is very clear in stating the severity of such a lifestyle. You cannot have your cake and eat it to, so to speak.

The whole premise of grace and living eternally with God has to do with how we choose to except God's commandments and laws. If a person cannot or will not stop acting contrary to what God has commanded to be sinful, then why even consider one's self a follower of God? A major teaching of christianity is letting go of our own ideas of right and wrong and excepting God in complete surrender. This is not an easy thing for a fallen human being to do, but we must try our best.

We are not intrinsically good at our core. I know that that sounds harsh and most of us are not willingly admit that to be true, but true it must be if we except the teachings of Jesus Christ. But if we except this truth, if we embrace our own failures and put our trust in the Lord, an amazing thing begins to happen within the life of a follower. God grants us His wonderful gift of grace. This is where true strenght comes from, not from our feeble will, but from the infinite goodness of the Lord.

I believe this is the reason for the sacrifice that Jesus had to make. Without it we would all be doomed to a life of uncontrolable sin. God made a way for our salvation and His gift of grace by sacrificing His unique son, Jesus Christ. One thing we as children of God cannot do, cannot change, is the Word of God. Once we begin to try and change scripture to fit our own idea of how things should be, then comes the true danger, more destructive than any sexual immoral act. We open the lid of pandora's box and let out the begining of all rebellion and sin; pride.

Bro Eric, Your analysis of Hal Turner is accurate. As we have previously discussed, the Jesuits seem to have a man (or woman) coming from every conceivable point of the political and religious compass to co-opt and subvert any legitimate opposition to their great work of building their own form of heaven on earth, which to a Bible believer, is more like hell. If we list the individuals whom we are sure are co-adjutors, and those whom we strongly suspect to be co-adjutors, it will be noted that there is a co-adjutor to fit many different tastes. >From the pseudo-intellectual Dave Hunt to the coarse, crude, obvious Hal Turner; the guffawing, down home Texe Marrs, or the spirited "witchy woman" Constance Cumbey or Kelly McGinley, or the "sweet Christian sister" Gail Riplinger, or the name calling, in your face Peter Ruckman, there is a co-adjutor out there for you! Soft spoken Stan Monteith never heard of the Inquisition: I heard him say he had never heard anywhere that the Catholic church had killed millions. Some of these attack the Jews, some don't. Some profess to be evangelistic, while others pretend to be prophecy hounds. These people are busy soaking up the contributions and prayers of real saved people that believe these ministers of unrighteousness are great and powerful servants of Christ, and that is the great purpose for the work of the co-adjutor: to subvert heretics doctrinally and weaken the opposition for the final knockout punch. The common thread that binds all the brands together for burning- all, no exceptions that I have seen, champion the doctrines of Pelagius, summed up in the term "free-will." All when touching on any religious aspect teach that God is waiting on man to do something, that God is at the mercy of man, and that the spirit and will of man are more powerful than the spirit and will of God. This demonstrates that Ruckman, Riplinger, Hunt, Marrs, Cumbey, and McGinley are all blasphemers, ascribing to men the power to save themselves. They all have to say things that are true to put over things that are false, as you pointed out concerning Hitler. Turner in the political area, as do many others: the only difference is he is working in the area of racial matters, an area neglected by the other shortwave-fringe co-adjutors. Hal Turner is the evil doppelganger of the intellectual E.R.Fields of THE TRUTH AT LAST (or the reserved Michael Hoffman), whom we know to be a co-adjutors as well. The presence of these rabid Jew thumpers bodes ill for the Jews here in America, and the subversion of the Bible Believers by free-willers like Ruckman and Riplinger bodes ill for the Christians. "The Lord hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil." (Proverbs 16:4) and (Jude 1:4) "For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ." Even so, Come Lord Jesus. Pastor Turner

Micaiah - October 4, 2005 01:59 AM (GMT)

I agree with most of this post by Pastor Turner, but I vehemently disagree with calling Ruckman a "co adjutor". To say Ruckman is a blasphemer, wicked, co adjutor etc...just because Pastor Turner doesn't agree doctrinally is assinine!

Pastor Turner needs a little help with his Bible doctrine.

I have just about every book Ruckman has written and a lot of his tapes. I have met the man and have sat in some of his Bible classes. I have friends who go to his church, I have friends who are close to him. I learned about the Catholic Church (Baal Worship) and about the Jesuits through Ruckman. Ruckman is not a "co adjutor"!

Turner labels him a coadjutor because Ruckman is a "free willer". Ruckman is a moderate Calvinist and does not believe in the Hyper Calvinist heresy. I am a "free willer" also, but I am certainly NOT a "co adjutor".

You know what, Jack Chick and Ruckman are dear friends and have been for many years. Uh, Oh! Maybe Chick is a "co adjutor!". How foolish to think so.

Dr. William (Bill) Grady is a personal friend of mine. He wrote Eric Phelps' favorite book about the King James Bible called "Final Authority". In the book Grady exposes the Jesuits and how they tried to destroy the word of God. Grady also wrote two more Books "What Hath God Wrought" and "How Satan Turned America Against God". Eric Phelps said that those books were a "Master Piece". Grady does an excellent job of exposing the Jesuits, what they did in the past and what they are doing now.

Dr. Grady is a dear friend of Ruckman and preaches in Ruckman's church. Grady told me that he Ruckman is his hero! Grady, like myself and Ruckman is a "free willer"! To say Grady or Ruckman is a "co adjutor" just because they do not agree on certain Biblical matters is just plain STUPID!!

I'm sure Pastor Turner and I disagree on things and I believe that IF he is a Hyper then he is teaching heresy, but I do not believe he is a "co adjutor" just because we do not see eye to eye on that matter.

If you don't like how Ruckman talks then fine, if you don't like his doctrine, or whatever then fine, but it is NOT fine to LIE about him and call him a "co adjutor"!

But hey, other than the Ruckman comment I think it's a good article.

Mic.

TruthSeeker24 - October 4, 2005 11:19 AM (GMT)

As for free will, I too deny that free will can save man since only God can save men. I disagree with some aspects of Hyper Calvinist like limited atonement when God's Word said that God died for all men not only for the elect. I'm in David Cloud's corner when it comes to Calvinism: Many Calvinists are sincere Christians, but some are part of Hyper-Calvinism, which have errors. I do believe in predestination, the sovereignty of God, etc. but I disagree with limited atonement.

<http://www.wayoflife.org/fbns/calvinismdebate.html>

Micaiah - October 6, 2005 01:35 AM (GMT)

When I say Ruckman, Grady or myself are "Free Willers" I am being sarcastic. I do not mean it the way some hypers twist it. I do not believe that anybody can save themselves. When I say free will, I mean that I believe that God gave every man a free will. That means that a man can either choose to accept or reject Christ. It is his own choice (free will).

Dave Cloud has some good points. I also think he has good stuff on other topics as well..

Description: an ally of George H. W. Bush

TruthSeeker24 - October 5, 2005 03:37 PM (GMT)

Fred Monroe Zeder II

Former Director, Office of Territorial Affairs

Former Ambassador and President's Representative, Micronesian status negotiations

Former President and CEO of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation(OPIC)

Former member of the board of directors of the U.S. Air Force Academy

Former trustee of the George H.W. Bush Library

Ambassador Fred Monroe Zeder II, whose distinguished career spanned both public and private sectors, died March 12 at the age of 82 in Pebble Beach, California, following a brief illness.

A fighter pilot in World War II, Zeder participated in the U.S. invasion and repatriation of Attu and Kiska Islands in the North Pacific. He flew both P-40 and P-38 fighters, retiring from the Air Force Reserve in 1951 with the rank of major. Zeder was familiar with high speeds. In 1941, he won a national hydroplane racing championship. He was also a Golden Gloves semifinalist. was admitted to the Young Presidents' Organization in 1960. University of Michigan. His roommate was Prescott Bush, brother of George H. Bush. Gerald Ford was the university's star football player at the time. After the war, Zeder received his degree from the University of California at Los Angeles. His first enterprise was Zeder Talbott, Inc., an advertising and marketing company based in Los Angeles.

In 1960, Zeder moved to Connecticut to create the Chrysler-Zeder sports car. One hundred were made in Italy (picture). He obtained an interest in cars from his father who worked with Walter Chrysler in 1924 as head of engineering at the newly formed Chrysler-Zeder Corporation. Previous to this effort, his father had developed the "Zeder Car" at Studebaker which featured a high compression engine.

From 1956 to 1975, Zeder was chairman and CEO of Hydrometals Corporation, a diversified manufacturing company that he moved from New York to Dallas in the early 1960s. He brought the company from near bankruptcy to an international business listed on the New York stock exchange. The company was sold to Wallace Murray Co. in 1979. In 1960, he was admitted to the Young Presidents' Organization. He served as chairman of the board of Paradise Cruise Corporation in Hawaii from 1978 to the present.

Zeder first entered government service in 1971 when elected to the City Council in Dallas, Texas, where he also served on the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport Board.

President Gerald Ford appointed Zeder in 1974 to serve in the U.S. Department of the Interior as director of the Office of Territorial Affairs with oversight for U.S. policy and programs relating to American Samoa, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

In 1982, the U.S. Senate confirmed President Ronald Reagan's appointment of Zeder as the President's personal representative for Micronesian status negotiations. Holding the rank of ambassador, Zeder negotiated the historic Compact of Free Association. The Compact was a unique agreement that created a relationship of Free Association between the U.S. and the independent countries of the Republic of Palau, Federated States of Micronesia and the Republic of the Marshall Islands. The agreement facilitated the movement of the Island groups from governmental control under the UN Trusteeship of the Pacific Islands (TTPI) administered by The U.S. to the status of newly independent countries. The uniqueness of the Compacts that Zeder fostered, is found in the close working relationship between the U.S. and the Compact countries while allowing their complete independence and self-government. The Compacts were detailed agreements that provide funding and technical assistance while permitting the citizens of Compact countries to live, obtain education and work in the U.S. The U.S. also provides military security that mutually benefits the U.S. and the Compact countries.

Approval of the Compacts by Congress also cleared the way for a fourth island group, the Marianas Islands, to become a Commonwealth of the U.S.

Zeder was appointed by President George H. W. Bush in 1988 as president and CEO of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC). In this role, Zeder promoted private investment and supported U.S. national interests in 130 countries. Under his leadership, OPIC played a major role on behalf of President Bush in supporting the Solidarity Union reform movement that ended communist rule in Poland. Following Poland, Zeder and OPIC turned their attention to each Eastern European country that emerged from communist rule. Similar efforts were made in the Soviet Union, Nicaragua, and Panama.

Zeder served as district director of the National Alliance of Businessmen, vice chairman of the Committee of Publicly Owned Companies, and a founding member of the World Business Council. He served as a special advisor to the Fund for America's Future from 1987 to 1988, a member of the board of directors of the U.S. Air Force Academy, and a trustee of the George H. W. Bush Library. He was also a decorated Knight of Malta.

Zeder was married to the late Martha Blood for 57 years, with whom he had five children. In 2001 he married Dorothy Post Rodgers.

Title: A must read about the Jesuits

Description: So much information.

TruthSeeker24 - October 5, 2005 01:38 PM (GMT)

Note by Me: I knew this information years, but I didn't show it since I didn't know the link to it yet. Also, this information documents the Masonic-Jesuit link and other information that the Jesuit formed other Secret Societies as well beyond the Illuminati. It talks about the Masonic robberies by many ex-Confederates after the Civil War and the Rothschilds. It's classic material and one of the best info detailing the strength of the Order of the Jesuits. When I first saw this info, it shook me up and confirmed my opinion about the New World Order. I don't believe in all of their UFO ideals, but there is the Nephilim (or Reptilians, whatever you want to call them) in existence mentioned in the Bible, ancient scripts, ancient pictures that I've seen, and other sources.

By TruthSeeker24

From <http://www.v-j-enterprises.com/mojave2.html>

For one's information, a brief description of just what the 'Illuminati' is might be helpful at this point. Many researchers suggest that the Illuminati is a Jesuit invention or re-invention simply because Illuminati founder Adam Weishaupt who 'started' the order in Bavaria, GERMANY was a Jesuit. Also, the 'Scottish Rite' of Masonry which advocates the destruction of National Sovereignties in exchange for Illuminati government has allegedly been traced back to the Jesuit college at Clermont in Paris, as have been other Jesuit-initiated Masonic rites. The Jesuits themselves were founded by Ignatius Loyola, who had been previously arrested in Spain for subversive activities as a gnostic. The 'Order' was admittedly founded mainly for the purpose of crushing Martin Luther's Protestant movement (which 'protested' Rome's denunciation of the plan of eternal salvation by grace as it appears in the book of ROMANS). This is evidenced by the fact that the Jesuit oath (which advocated the killing of Protestant men, the cutting off of the breasts of Protestant women with shears, and the cutting open of the wombs of Protestant women so that their unborn children could be smashed against the rocks) - was fulfilled to the letter during the well-documented and bloody Roman Inquisitions. These took place during the Dark and Middle Ages of so-called 'holy' Roman Empire rule which 'began' when the last of the Emperors or 'Pontifex Maximus' of the Roman Empire, CONSTANTINE, declared himself to be the FIRST official Roman 'Pontiff' or 'Pope'. Constantine payed lipservice to 'Christianity' yet secretly held to the ancient Babylonean Mystery Religion of which he himself was High Priest or Pontifex Maxiumus, one in a long line of many which can be traced back to Nimrod, the first King of Babylon, himself. (This statement may raise anger in some who religiously defend man-made 'traditions', however history is history and facts are facts).

If one doesn't believe that Constantine intended to carry on his Roman Empire and it's conquest of the world under the veneer of 'religion', then just remember what the Roman-Spanish Conquistadors did to the Mayas under Cortez (who slaughtered over 5 million of them - see: 'TRAVELS', PBS network - Feb. 15, 1993), the Incas under Pizzaro, and the Pueblos under Coronado. The Illuminati allegedly began in ancient Babylon and is said to be a mixture of Cabalism, the ancient Babylonian 'Mystery' religion, and ancient 'Baal' worship. Their vision was the same as that of Nimrod (aka Osiris, Baal or the 'Sun god' and consort of Semiramis, Isis, or Ashtaroth respectively). Nimrod was the original king of Babylon and the builder of the Tower of Babel. Some sources allege that the CIA and the NAZI movements were tied-in to the Illuminati, and that later these two organizations under the "Cult of the All Seeing Eye" joined forces in an effort to initiate plans for a world dictatorship. Part of this would of course involve working with the Grays and other saurian species in underground bases in a joint effort to establish absolute world despotism.

The Illuminati, or the 'Serpent Cult' is allegedly infiltrating political, economic, educational and religious institutions with the help of the Grays (which have ADMITTED to some that they have been the guiding power behind witchcraft and many of the ancient occult lodges over the centuries), which have 'promised' the Illuminati a part of 'the pie' once this world is under 'their' control. This infiltration is allegedly carried out through organizations like the 'International Working Man's League', which according to World Economists such as Dr. John Coleman 'molded' Karl Marx and his future as a Communist dictator. Another key figure in the Connection between the Illuminati, Masonry and the Jesuit Lodge was the Jesuit Priest Giuseppe Mazzini, the second in command to 'Universal Pontiff' of Freemasonry Albert Pike, and who according to some 'inside' sources even went so far as to organize a branch of the Mafia known as the 'Oblonica' within one of the 22 'Palladium' lodges which were initiated to oversee world Illuminati revolutionary activities, carefully hiding it's connection with the Grand Lodge in England.

The Illuminati headquarters in America may be hidden within the Masonic 'House of the Temple' in Washington D.C., (Scottish Rite Headquarters) which is curiously enough set atop the pentagram-like street layout of the city itself. Former 33rd degree Mason and Past Master of all Scottish Rite bodies, Evangelist Jim Shaw (P.O. Box 884., Silver Springs, FL 32668) tells of his own defection from the cult in his book 'THE DEADLY DECEPTION'. Shaw reveals the fact that the inside of the Scottish Rite headquarters is FILLED with carvings, murals and many other representations of serpents! The High Masons apparently revered the 'Serpent' symbol in what might be considered worshipful awe. Thus the name of their ancient cult, which William Cooper refers to as the 'Cult of the Snake' or 'Dragon', a Serpent Cult which was very active among the ancient Gnostic (serpent) cults of Pharaohic Egypt.

Even Gen. George Washington was a was a member of the Stone Masons Guild early on, however when he learned that it was being infiltrated by the Bavarian-German Illuminati he left the Lodge. This infiltration was also confirmed by the Presidents of Yale and Harvard Universities, who discovered that two fraternities, Yale's SKULL & BONES and Harvard's SCROLL & KEY had been infiltrated by this German occult lodge in an attempt to gain highly educated initiates who would be used to carry out their future plans for world control, plans which included the destruction of nation states to be replaced by a world dictatorship, which they called the 'New World Order'. There are even allegations that SKULL & BONES grads helped to finance the Communist and Nazi parties for the Illuminati's Machiavellian world scenario which included the orchestration of world conflicts (pitting various nations or factions against each other) for the purpose of eventually 'beating' the nations of the earth into a global dictatorship or NEW WORLD ORDER 'synthesis'.

If this report is beginning to sound like an over-budget Spy Movie or a Science Fiction Thriller, then... as they say, "you ain't seen nothing yet!"

The 'Knights of Malta' and the 'Club of Rome' are also, according to Conspiracy Researchers, players in the "End Game" in which the meek of the earth are the pawns. Both have advocated Genocide to curb the 'population problem' -- since a true world socialist dictatorship can only survive if the population is kept to a 'controllable' minimum. The KOM and COR are essentially outward arms or branches of the Illuminati, according to many. There are even rumors that tunnels and Catacombs beneath Rome connect or at one time connected with others beneath the Island of Malta, and that a similar subterranean system utilized by the Western Illuminati exists beneath Washington D.C. as well.

In fact, Dr. John Coleman, in his report: 'FREEMASONRY AND THE ONE WORLD GOVERNMENT' (c/o World Intelligence Review., P.O. Box 507., Chalmette, LA 70044), wrote BEFORE the AIDS threat became widely known among the public, that a secret society equivalent to today's 'Illuminati' believed that it was their duty as the self-anointed 'gods' over humanity to keep the population of the world from getting out of control so that they could be more easily controlled. These ancient 'Alchemists', Coleman alleges, were responsible for the Black Plague and other scourges which killed millions. He was convinced that they were preparing to wipe away millions more through 'viral' warfare.

According to Coleman (who claims to be an ex-Intelligence worker for the British Government who 'defected' when he learned the Horrible Truth), the 'Illuminati' consists of the dual lodges of Jesuitism and Freemasonry. He also documents all manner of infiltration of religious, political, and economic movements by the Illuminati of Jesuit-Freemasonry, as well as their seemingly endless manipulations of the nations by their behind-the-scenes orchestrating of economic turmoil, revolutions and wars.

In 1988, in apparent confirmation of this, a former high-ranking military officer by the name of F. P. Farrell, Lt. Col. Retired, U.S.A.F., released a disturbing report to several 'PATRIOT' organizations which alleged this very thing. Lt. Col. Farrell was a 1st Lieutenant, Captain and Jet Fighter Pilot in Korea; and a Lieutenant Colonel and Air Liaison Officer, 1st Infantry Division ('The Big Red One') in Viet Nam. In essence, Farrell accuses the UNITED NATIONS as being a trojan-horse cover for world socialist revolution, which intends to weaken and eventually destroy the INDEPENDENCE of the American Republic.

Farrell accuses the U.N. of being a Socialist-Communist controlled organization, and names at least 13 United Nations Secretary Generals who have been Communist Nationals. It was decided long ago, Farrell states, that no-one who was loyal to the U.S. constitution was to ever be UN Secretary General. He also provided documentation that the UNITED NATIONS 'police action' into which young Americans were drafted betrayed the American troops at every turn, by intentionally leaking U.S. battle plans IN BOTH THE KOREAN AND VIETNAM WARS to the Communists. This is why, he explains, both of these no-win 'wars' were lost to the Communists. In relation to Gen. MacArthur (who interesting enough publicly predicted that World War III would be fought against aliens in space!) Farrell states that:

"When General MacArthur WOKE UP TO THE TREASON OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN and the Soviets in the United Nations, he made one of the greatest military performances ever ventured in modern warfare. His dangerous but magnificent military engagement and sea landing at 'Inchon' on Sept. 15, 1950, enabled his military forces to slaughter the communist forces, destroy their massive supply dumps, and put the Red Chinese, North Koreans, and their Soviet advisors on the run.

"MacArthur never asked for permission from the United Nations Security Council (Soviet General Zinshehko) to perform this secret military operation. MacArthur hand picked close and loyal military officers in doing so, and they kept the lid on the entire operation. Originally, our forces were to never win any battles as planned by the Soviet Generals at the United Nations. But General MacArthur REALIZED THE TREASON AND TOOK POSITIVE ACTION NOT ONLY TO SAVE THE LIVES OF HIS FIGHTING FORCES AND DESTROYING THE ENEMY AND THEIR SUPPLY DUMPS, BUT ALSO CREATING THE 'TURNING POINT' OF THE KOREAN WAR WITH HIS SUCCESS AT INCHON.

"For this 'positive action', General Douglas MacArthur was relieved of his command of the United Nations fighting forces in Korea by the traitor President Harry S. Truman, who met with MacArthur on the Island of Guam. MacArthur had figured out the whole picture OF TREASON and had to be relieved of his job.

"Truman feared MacArthur so much that just prior to General Douglas MacArthur returning to the United States from Korea, the traitor Truman, hid out at Camp David for over three weeks in fear of being arrested by General MacArthur who was a Five Star General and in command of all military forces in the United States... THE SAME MAN WHO HAD JUST SAVED THE LIVES OF THOUSANDS OF THEIR SONS WITH DARING MILITARY MOVES AGAINST THE WISHES OF THE UNITED NATIONS COMMAND, IN ROUTING THE RED CHINESE AND NORTH KOREANS AT INCHON, SOUTH KOREA. Now you know the real truth as to what really happened 'behind the scenes' during the Korean Conflict between the 'traitor' Truman and General Douglas MacArthur, THE REAL HERO!! Robert W. Lee, in his book entitled 'THE UNITED NATIONS TODAY' (CPA books., 33836 SE Kelso Rd, #6., P.O. Box 596., Boring, OR 97099), states on pages 20 and 21:

"I (General MacArthur) was...worried by a series of directives from Washington (Truman) which were greatly decreasing the potential of my air force. First I was forbidden 'hot' pursuit of enemy planes that attacked our own. Manchuria and Siberia were sanctuaries of inviolate protection for all enemy forces and for all enemy purposes, no matter what depredations or assaults might come from there. Then I was denied the right (by Soviet General in United Nations) to bomb the hydroelectric plants along the Yalu River. The order was broadened to include every plant in North Korea which was capable of furnishing electric power to Manchuria and Siberia." Most incomprehensible of all according to MacArthur was the REFUSAL to let him bomb a supply target which was NOT in Manchuria or Siberia, "but many miles from the border, (it) forwarded supplies from Vladivostok for the North Korean Army. I FELT THAT STEP- BY-STEP MY WEAPONS WERE BEING TAKEN AWAY FROM ME."

"This is exactly the same type of 'treason' that occurred against our military forces in Viet Nam. But Viet Nam was far more vile and dirty in the length or time that our soldiers were betrayed. MacArthur continues on page 21:

"That there was some LEAK IN INTELLIGENCE was evident to everyone. (Brigadier General Walton) Walker continually complained to me that HIS OPERATIONS WERE KNOWN TO THE ENEMY IN ADVANCE through sources in Washington... information must have been relayed to them, assuring that the Yalu River bridges would continue to enjoy sanctuary and that their bases would be left intact...

"General MacArthur then referred on page 21 to an official leaflet PUBLISHED IN RED CHINA BY CHINESE GENERAL LIN PIAO:

"...I would never have made the attack and risked men and military reputation if I HAD NOT BEEN ASSURED THAT WASHINGTON (Truman and U.S. Congress) WOULD RESTRAIN GENERAL MACARTHUR from taking adequate retaliatory measures against my lines of supply and communication.'

"J. Ruben Clark Jr., former Undersecretary of State and Ambassador to Mexico, who was widely recognized as one of the nation's foremost international lawyers, stated on page 27 of the book entitled: 'THE UNITED NATIONS TODAY':

"Not only does the Charter Organization NOT prevent future wars, but it makes it practically certain that we shall have future wars, and as such wars it takes from us (The United States) the power to declare them, to chose the side on which we shall fight, to determine what forces and military equipment we shall use in the war, and to control and command our sons who do the fighting.'

"In fact, A Soviet General in the United Nations still writes the plans for employment of United States troops all over the world, even in the Persian Gulf today. Former President John F. Kennedy also felt the wrath of the United Nations Charter (that Truman and the U.S. Congress signed) during the 'Bay of Pigs' invasion of Cuba against the Communist Castro. The Soviets in the United Nations would not allow Kennedy to directly use the United States military forces available in destroying Castro. The Soviets stated that in using United States military forces at the Bay of Pigs WITHOUT THE APPROVAL OF THE SOVIETS in the United Nations, would be a violation of the United Nations Charter THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD SIGNED AND HAD TO ABIDE WITH...

"By now you should have come to realize 'why' there were so many restrictions on our soldiers during combat in Korea and Viet Nam and 'why' WE WERE NOT ALLOWED TO WIN... not allowed TO BOMB CERTAIN TARGETS.

"...The Viet Nam war was also allowed to continue to weaken the resistance of the people in the United States against any type of war or fight against communism. To accept ANYTHING would be better in the minds of the masses... than (to accept) war and having their sons killed. Even if it meant the 'merging' of our entire government with that of the Soviet Union."

Other evidence which tends to confirm this Masonic-Jesuit connection, as exposed by Dr. John Coleman and others, comes from an essay titled: 'THE TWIN PINCERS: MASONRY AND CATHOLICISM', written (understandably) anonymously. The manuscript stated:

(1) Thirty-five years BEFORE the Jesuits were kicked out of France by a Roman Catholic king, Pope Clement XII issued his Bull against Masonry. The Bourbon French King, Louis XVI and his queen Marie Antoinette, were beheaded by an Illuminati inspired mob of masons and terrorists. Why was this Catholic family, the Bourbons, so opposed to the Jesuits? It is, by the way, very interesting that a family like the Bourbons who had opposed the JESUITS, were brought down eventually by the French Revolution's ILLUMINATI-MASONIC reign of terror, pointing to the almost obvious fact that the Jesuits ordered the Masons to carry out the revolution.

(2) Why did... Frederick (the Great of Prussia) REFUSE to have the (so called) enemies of masonry, the Catholic Order of Jesuits, banned in Prussia in 1773? Could the insiders of the Jesuits ALSO BE Masons? (Note: Mackey's ENCYCLOPEDIA OF FREEMASONRY states that Frederick '...was initiated as a mason, at Brunswick, on the night of the 14th of August, 1738...')

(3) The Roman Catholic 'Stuarts' WERE masons from SCOTLAND... the Stuart, James II, tried to set up the Jesuits in positions of power when he became King of England in 1685...

(4) Between the STUARTS and the Jesuits at Lyons, France, and the Jesuit college of Clermont, in Paris... the RITE OF PERFECTION evolves; out of which, the masonic authorities have quoted, trace today's Ancient and Accepted SCOTTISH RITE OF FREEMASONRY.

(5) Rebold (a Masonic authority) and Mackey do not exactly agree on the part Chevalier de Bonneville played in THE RITE OF PERFECTION. Bonneville may not have been a Jesuit... but when we look at the part he played in the RITE OF STRICT OBSERVANCE... we see many indications that he was a Jesuit."

According to Burke McCarty's book 'THE SUPPRESSED TRUTH ABOUT THE ASSASSINATION OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN', several U.S. presidents who had come out in opposition against Jesuit-Masonry had been targeted by the Illuminati for assassination. McCarty states:

(1) President William Henry Harrison.

In 1841, General Wm. Henry Harrison of Ohio, was elected President by a large majority. The loyalty of the Union (toward) General Harrison was above question, and it was (the aim) of the power of Leopoldines, a great Jesuit Spy System, to defeat him.

"In his inaugural address... President Harrison... said: 'We admit of no government by divine right, believing that so far as power is concerned, the beneficent Creator has made no distinction among men; that all are upon an equality, and that the only legitimate right to govern, is upon the express grant of power from the governed.'

"With these unmistakable words, President Harrison made his position clear; he hurled defiance to the 'divine right' enemies of our Popular Government. Aye, he did more - for those words signed his death warrant. Just one month and five days from that day, President Harrison lay a corpse in the White House. He died from arsenic poisoning, administered by the tools of Rome. The Jesuit oath had been swiftly carried out."

Note: For a copy of the Jesuit Oath, refer to pp. 99-102 of William Cooper's book 'BEHOLD A PALE HORSE', c/o Light Technology Publishing., P.O. Box 1495., Sedona, AZ 86336. The oath appears in chapter 3 - 'Oath of Initiation of an Unidentified Secret Order'. Although Cooper 'suspects' the oath might have originated from the Jesuits or the Knights of Malta, he is uncertain. However, Dennis Passero and other researchers have published exact duplicates of the oath which appears in Cooper's book, and state that it IS the Jesuit oath, thus confirming Cooper's suspicions. It basically states that the Jesuit is through all means moral or immoral -- the immoral acts can supposedly be 'forgiven' if they are done in the name of the Roman 'church' -- to devote their life to bringing about the destruction of the Protestant movement, and to bringing all nations under the control of ROME for the glory of the 'Queen of Heaven', no doubt the same pagan goddess worshipped by the ancient Babylonians -- none other than the ancient Queen Semaramis to whom we can credit the post-deluvian resurgence of witchcraft. There is much evidence that pagan Rome worshipped of the 'Queen of Heaven' previous to the rise of Christianity, and eventually gave her the name 'Mary' to win favor with the Christians. Mary was a virgin when she gave birth to Jesus, but scripture confirms that she gave birth naturally to other children following this. Jesus was born through the womb of Mary (The SON OF MAN) but was conceived by the Infinite Spirit of God (The SON OF GOD). Therefore Mary should not be mistaken as the "Mother of God" any more than Joseph should be accepted as the "Father of God", nor his parents as the "Grandmother" or "Grandfather" of God, etc.

Many allege that the Roman 'church' is nothing more than the continuation of the ancient Roman Empire which sought to dominate the world, and that they merely donned religious garb when they discovered that religious feeling was an ENORMOUSLY effective way to control the masses. The fact that Constantine was the last official Roman EMPEROR and the first official Roman POPE is cause for great suspicion.

McCarty continues:

"Allow me to quote for you from U.S. Senator Benton's 'THIRTY YEARS VIEW,' Volume II, page 21, regarding the death of President Harrison: 'There was no failure of health or strength to indicate such an event or excite apprehension, that he would not go through his term with the same vigor with which he commenced it. His attack was sudden and evidently fatal from he beginning.'

"And at the close of the chapter in Senator Benton's book, we read this significant bit of information which should be well pondered concerning Harrison's family: 'That the deceased President had been closely preceded and was rapidly followed by the deaths of almost ALL OF HIS numerous family, sons and daughters...'

"That is 'extirpation' with a vengeance, is it not? (Note: The Jesuit oath calls for members of the order to 'extirpate' the enemies of Rome - Branton)

(2) President Zachary Taylor

In his first message to Congress, he said: 'But attachment to the UNION of states should be fostered in every American heart. For more than half a century... this Union has remained unshaken...'

"The arch-plotters, fearing that suspicion might be aroused by the death of the President early in his administration, as in the case of President Harrison, permitted him to serve one year and four months, when on the Fourth of July, 1850, arsenic was administered to him during a celebration in Washington at which he was invited to deliver the address. He went in perfect health in the morning and was taken ill in the afternoon about five o'clock and died on the Monday following, having been sick the same number of days and with precisely the same symptoms as was his predecessor, President Harrison.

(3) Attempt on President James Buchanan

He was invited to deliver an address on Washington's Birthday, and made reservation at the National Hotel (which by the way was the headquarters of the Jesuit traitors), for himself and his friends.

"The gentleman had had his ear to the ground evidently and heard the rumble of the Abolitionists, and when the committee asked for a conference, he coolly informed them that he was PRESIDENT OF THE NORTH, AS WELL AS THE SOUTH.

"The following quotations from the NEW YORK HERALD and THE POST at the time chronicled what followed:

"'The appointments favoring the North by the Jeff Davis faction will doubtless be accepted, and treated as a declaration of war, and a war of extermination on one side or the other.' (Feb. 25, 1857)

"On Washington's Birthday, Buchanan's stand became known and the next day he was poisoned. The plot was deep and planned with skill. Mr. Buchanan, as was customary with men in his station, had a table and chairs reserved for himself and friends in the dining room at the National Hotel. The President was known to be an inveterate tea drinker; in fact Northern people rarely drink (i.e. drank) anything else in the evening. Southern men preferred coffee. Thus, to make sure of Buchanan and his Northern friends, arsenic was sprinkled in the bowls containing the tea and lump sugar and set on the table where he was to sit. The pulverized sugar in the bowls used for coffee on the other tables was kept free from poison. Not a single Southern man was affected or harmed. Fifty or sixty persons dined at the table that evening, and as best can be learned, ABOUT THIRTY-EIGHT DIED FROM THE EFFECTS OF THE POISON.

"President Buchanan was poisoned, and with great difficulty his life was saved. His physicians treated him understandingly from instructions given by himself as to the cause of his illness, for he understood what was the matter."

Researcher Dennis Passero also quoted the above in his 'CONSPIRACY TRACKER' newsletter (no longer being published). Being the avowed Catholic that he is, we cannot say that Passero had any particular bias against the Catholic church in his exposition of the Jesuits, but that he saw the corruption in the Roman Institution and exposed it. Passero has made some interesting comments in relation to Jesuit-Masonry and the assassination of one of the most popular Presidents in American history:

"...President Abraham Lincoln. The subject of Lincoln's murder is too vast to be covered here. McCarty believes that the Jesuits and their tools, the KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN CIRCLE were behind the crime. What is interesting is that President Harrison, Taylor, Buchanan, and of course Lincoln, were all strongly dedicated to the preservation of the Union -- and all had made speeches indicating their stand. If the Jesuits wanted the Union split, they were not alone. In 1876, Otto Von Bismarck had this to say: 'The division of the United States into two federations of equal force was decided long before the Civil war by the High Financial Power of Europe. These bankers were afraid that the United States, if they remained in one block and as one nation, would attain economical and financial independence, which would upset their financial domination over the world. The voice of the Rothschilds predominated. They foresaw the tremendous booty if they could substitute two feeble democracies, indebted to the (European) financiers, to the vigorous Republic, confident and self-providing. Therefore, they started their emissaries in order to exploit the question of slavery and thus dig an abyss between the two parts of the Republic.'

"While McCarty links the Golden Circle with the Jesuits, Dr. Stuart Crane says that the Golden Circle was financed by the Rothschilds. (Note: Dr. John Coleman had stated in essence that the old-line 'Blue Blood' or BLACK NOBILITY families of Europe who claim DESCENDENCE from the ancient Roman Emperors make up the link between the Rothschilds, who control Masonry; and the Jesuits, who control much of the Catholic world behind the scenes - Branton)

"In order to create a rift using the slavery problem Golden Circle agents became known as Abolitionists in the North, and as Secessionists in the South. Even the fiery John Brown, who led the raid on Harper's Ferry, was financed by the International Bankers. Every member of the Southern cabinet belonged to the Golden Circle -- as did every member of the Northern cabinet with the exception of Lincoln and Secretary Seward.

"When things began getting rough for the Confederacy, the Rothschilds even planned an invasion of the U.S. by British troops swooping down from Canada, and by French forces established in Mexico under the Emperor Maximilian, but this did not come off because the Russian Czar (who's government was later to be overthrown by the Bolshevik Revolution - Branton) said he would intervene on the side of the North if the European forces attacked. According to Mag-Gen. Count Cherep-Spiridovich, the Rothschilds had one of their agents in the Vatican, a Jewish- Jesuit named Father Fisher, convince the Pope that the Vatican should finance Maximilian who would in return re-establish Catholicism in Mexico, which had conveniently been abolished by Benito Juarez, a Freemason. Later, when the Civil War was over, the guerrilla army branch of the Knights of the Golden Circle, headed for Mexico to aid Maximilian who was running into trouble with the Juarez forces. This guerrilla force was under the command of Colonel William Quantrill, famous leader of Quantrill's Raiders, and of Col. Jesse James -- later the famous outlaw. LIKE ALL MASONIC SECRET SOCIETIES, the guerrillas THOUGHT THEY WERE THE TOP OF THE LADDER, never realizing that there were higher-ups over them. For some reason, Jesse James earned the wrath of the Rothschilds -- and the reward money later offered for his capture, came from coffers of the House of Rothschild (see: JESSE JAMES WAS ONE OF HIS NAMES, by Del Schroader).

"Abraham Lincoln was able to foil the conspirators at every turn. He was aware of the activities of the Jesuits (see: FIFTY YEARS IN THE CHURCH OF ROME, by Charles Chiniguy, c/o Chick Publications., P.O Box 662., Chino, CA 91710). He took the Union Army and turned it into the most powerful fighting force the world has ever known. He issued the famous 'greenbacks' -- refusing to accept loans from the High Financial Power. For these reasons -- and because he would not go along with the harsh measures of the Reconstruction -- it was decided upon that

He would die. John Wilkes Booth, a member of the Golden Circle and of the Carbonari (another Jesuit-connected lodge - Branton), was chosen as the tool to commit the crime. About a month before the assassination, Booth had traveled to Europe for a secret meeting with Napoleon III, also a member of the Carbonari (Note: A 1991 episode of UNSOLVED MYSTERIES alleged that Union sentries had been ordered to give Booth safe passage out of the city following the assassination - Branton). Napoleon III was surrounded by Jesuit advisors [see: THIS ONE MAD ACT, by Forrester, for a mention of the meeting].

"With Lincoln out of the picture, Golden Circle member Andrew Johnson became president. But, for some reason he pulled an about face, and also failed to go along with the harsh Reconstruction measures. Because of this he became the only President to be impeached, though acquitted by one vote... It appears that the Rothschilds intended the Reconstruction Period to be the Civil War equivalent to the French Revolution's Reign of Terror. Not content with the outcome of the war, it became necessary to keep the country divided via the injustices of the Carpetbag Governments. The High Financial Power realized that the South was really the heart and soul of the Republic. It was desired to destroy the economic base of the North, but to destroy the moral and spiritual base of the south. Individuality was the enemy of the collectivist conspirators, then as well as now!

"To keep a continual animosity going between the two parts of the country, it was decided that terrorism could be used against the Reconstruction Governments. This terrorism could be used as an excuse to further strengthen these bogus governments. Terrorism could be used to frighten foes of Abolition. Some of these terrorist acts included mutilation murders perpetrated by John Brown and his boys.

"According to Dr. Stuart Crane, the Terrorist organization born at this time was the KU KLUX KLAN, which emerged from the Knights of the Golden Circle.

"However, it appears that there were two Klans operating at this time. One was headed by Nathan Bedford Forrest. This Klan sought only to save the South and to avenge crimes and injustices. The other was the Golden Circle child. This second Klan was founded by Judah P. Benjamin - a Rothschild relative and Confederacy's Secretary of State -, Kuttner Baruch, Albert Pike - known as the Vice-Regent of Lucifer and as the Sovereign Pontiff of Universal Freemasonry -, AND BY AN UN-NAMED JESUIT PRIEST!"

Further evidence in support of the allegations that the Illuminati is composed of both Jesuits and Masons is given by Robold (the argument is that the Illuminati is a secret arm of Jesuitism re-established by the Jesuit Priest Weishaupt, while subversive 33rd degree Masonry is a secret branch of the Illuminati. In other words Rome operates as the 'head' of the conspiratorial 'beast', the Illuminati is the neck, Masonry is it's body and the many neo-masonic political, religious, fraternal and economic cults are the 'tentacles'. Former 33rd degree Mason Jim Shaw has even exposed dozens of vatican officials who are also high-ranking masons). Rebold, in his 'GENERAL HISTORY OF FREEMASONRY IN EUROPE', reveals the following Jesuit-Masonic 'eggs' that were hatched during the 18th century:

"...RITE of the Old Daughter-in-law, by Lockhart, an emissary of the Jesuits... in 1749.

"RITE of the CLERKS OF STRICT OBSERVANCE or clerical Templar system, founded by the Jesuits, and united in 1776, with the SECULAR TEMPLARS, also a creation of the Jesuits...

"RITE of the Knights of the East, by Pirlet, a Jesuit Emissary... 1757.

"RITE of the Emperors of the East and West, Sovereign Prince Masons. This was the rite which Herodum extended to the RITE OF PERFECTION (from which the Scottish Rite of Masonry is evolved) of about 25 degrees, by the Jesuits, and propagated by Pirlet about 1758.

"RITE of the Flaming Star, founded by Baron Schudy, an emissary of the Jesuits in 1766.

"RITE of the Illuminati of Bavaria, by Professor Weishaupt (also a Jesuit)... in 1776."

Dr. William Campbell, M.D., a very knowledgeable virologist who to our knowledge had not even heard of Dr. John Coleman at the time when he first came out with his very disturbing revelations, seems to nevertheless confirm Coleman's suspicions of mass genocide through virological warfare. Cambell claims that in the course of researching the AIDS virus, he and his associates stumbled across a conspiracy almost too horrifying to believe. In an article titled "W.H.O. MURDERED AFRICA", which first appeared in the HEALTH FREEDOM NEWS (P.O Box 688., Monrovia, CA 91016), he presented a great deal of documentation that the AIDS virus was not only 'manufactured' artificially by 'splicing' the bovine leukemia and sheep visna retro- viruses in a laboratory in Ft. Detrick, Maryland, but that the WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION (which is an arm of the Illuminati-affiliated CLUB OF ROME according to Dr. John Coleman and others), as well as Socialist-Communist elements, and the UNITED NATIONS played a central role in it's creation and INTENTIONAL release into the world population...

Is it possible that Communism, like the Jesuit-infested Nazi Party itself, has acted as a secret weapon of the Jesuit- Illuminati in it's ongoing INQUISITION against Jews and Protestants (as well as governments such as the United States which through its CONSTITUTION, BILL OF RIGHTS, and DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE has challenged the world socialists to their face?) Dr. John Coleman has stated:

"...Karl Marx was one of the earliest members of the radical Mazzini movements starting in 1840... it is interesting to note that Marx, an avowed hater of religion, should so passionately espouse Jesuitism."

Also, cult expositor Dave Hunt, in his CIB BULLETIN (Dec. 1980) states: "During the summer of 1988 on PBS a number of representatives from the Kremlin were answering questions put to them by a live American audience. One of the Americans asked, 'What is the major cause of misunderstanding between the Soviet Union and the United States?' The LEADER of the KREMLIN DELEGATION unhesitatingly replied, 'The major problem is Evangelical CHRISTIANITY.'" (translated: Protestantism)

In his book, 'MASTER PLAN FOR YOUR DESTRUCTION', Arizona Pastor Lee Gerrard quotes from a Communist-Socialist instruction book on psychopolitics:

"...You must recruit every agency of the Nation marked for slaughter into foaming hatred of religious healing... that any religious practice which might devote itself to MENTAL HEALING is vicious, bad, insanity causing, publicly hated and intolerable. You must suborn and recruit any medical healing organization into collusion in this campaign."

Religious healing is largely a Protestant phenomena, the very group -- revitalized by the German Martin Luther -- whose destruction the Jesuit order in it's oath has sworn to carry out.

Catholic Church no longer swears by truth of the Bible

By Ruth Gledhill, Religion Correspondent

<http://www.timesonline.co.uk/article/0,,13...1811332,00.html>

THE hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church has published a teaching document instructing the faithful that some parts of the Bible are not actually true.

The Catholic bishops of England, Wales and Scotland are warning their five million worshippers, as well as any others drawn to the study of scripture, that they should not expect "total accuracy" from the Bible.

"We should not expect to find in Scripture full scientific accuracy or complete historical precision," they say in The Gift of Scripture.

The document is timely, coming as it does amid the rise of the religious Right, in particular in the US.

Some Christians want a literal interpretation of the story of creation, as told in Genesis, taught alongside Darwin's theory of evolution in schools, believing "intelligent design" to be an equally plausible theory of how the world began.

But the first 11 chapters of Genesis, in which two different and at times conflicting stories of creation are told, are among those that this country's Catholic bishops insist cannot be "historical". At most, they say, they may contain "historical traces".

The document shows how far the Catholic Church has come since the 17th century, when Galileo was condemned as a heretic for flouting a near-universal belief in the divine inspiration of the Bible by advocating the Copernican view of the solar system. Only a century ago, Pope Pius X condemned Modernist Catholic scholars who adapted historical-critical methods of analysing ancient literature to the Bible.

In the document, the bishops acknowledge their debt to biblical scholars. They say the Bible must be approached in the knowledge that it is "God's word expressed in human language" and that proper acknowledgement should be given both to the word of God and its human dimensions.

They say the Church must offer the gospel in ways "appropriate to changing times, intelligible and attractive to our contemporaries".

The Bible is true in passages relating to human salvation, they say, but continue: "We should not expect total accuracy from the Bible in other, secular matters."

They go on to condemn fundamentalism for its "intransigent intolerance" and to warn of "significant dangers" involved in a fundamentalist approach.

"Such an approach is dangerous, for example, when people of one nation or group see in the Bible a mandate for their own superiority, and even consider themselves permitted by the Bible to use violence against others."

Of the notorious anti-Jewish curse in Matthew 27:25, "His blood be on us and on our children", a passage used to justify centuries of anti-Semitism, the bishops say these and other words must never be used again as a pretext to treat Jewish people with contempt. Describing this passage as an example of dramatic exaggeration, the bishops say they have had "tragic consequences" in encouraging hatred and persecution. "The attitudes and language of first-century quarrels between Jews and Jewish Christians should never again be emulated in relations between Jews and Christians."

As examples of passages not to be taken literally, the bishops cite the early chapters of Genesis, comparing them with early creation legends from other cultures, especially from the ancient East. The bishops say it is clear that the primary purpose of these chapters was to provide religious teaching and that they could not be described as historical writing.

Similarly, they refute the apocalyptic prophecies of Revelation, the last book of the Christian Bible, in which the writer describes the work of the risen Jesus, the death of the Beast and the wedding feast of Christ the Lamb.

The bishops say: "Such symbolic language must be respected for what it is, and is not to be interpreted literally. We should not expect to discover in this book details about the end of the world, about how many will be saved and about when the end will come."

In their foreword to the teaching document, the two most senior Catholics of the land, Cardinal Cormac Murphy-O'Connor, Archbishop of Westminster, and Cardinal Keith O'Brien, Archbishop of St Andrew's and Edinburgh, explain its context.

They say people today are searching for what is worthwhile, what has real value, what can be trusted and what is really true.

The new teaching has been issued as part of the 40th anniversary celebrations of Dei Verbum, the Second Vatican Council document explaining the place of Scripture in revelation. In the past 40 years, Catholics have learnt more than ever before to cherish the Bible. "We have rediscovered the Bible as a precious treasure, both ancient and ever new."

A Christian charity is sending a film about the Christmas story to every primary school in Britain after hearing of a young boy who asked his teacher why Mary and Joseph had named their baby after a swear word. The Breakout Trust raised £200,000 to make the 30-minute animated film, It's a Boy. Steve Legg, head of the charity, said: "There are over 12 million children in the UK and only 756,000 of them go to church regularly.

That leaves a staggering number who are probably not receiving basic Christian teaching."

The Society of Jesus (Jesuits)

<http://www.alphathruomega.com/churcherrors/jesuitoath.html>

The Jesuit order, otherwise known as the Society of Jesus (S.J.), has been the military enforcement arm of the Catholic Church since it was first founded by Ignatius of Loyola of Spain in 1534 during the reign of Pope Paul III, ostensibly to combat Protestant heresy. And while many feel that the Jesuits are only a sub-order of the Roman Catholic Church and are merely seekers and disseminators of knowledge, they have a much darker history that many people do not know about.

And while much can be said of the Jesuit Order, and much has been written, I feel that the oath speaks not only for itself, but speaks much of the Roman Catholic Church that has used and still uses the Jesuits for it's purposes while knowing full well the contents of the terrible oath they bind themselves under.

It is my sincere prayer that this document will open the eyes of many to the fact that the Roman Catholic Church, while professing to holiness and claiming that there is no salvation outside of the Church, still harbors the Jesuit Order and commands them explicitly for it's own ends.

Below is the complete Oath of Extreme Induction taken by each Jesuit priest upon his induction into the command ranks of the Jesuit Order, found in the Library of Congress, Washington D.C., Library of Congress Catalog Card # 66-43354, made public in 1883. This oath is still in effect, and is still used today.

On an interesting note, we often see the letters INRI on crosses and crucifixes, and are told that it represents the Latin words "Iesus Nazarenus Rex Iudeum" or "Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews", the Latin words that Pilate had written on a placard and nailed above Jesus' head at the crucifixion.

However, as you will see below, the Jesuits have a far different set of words with the same letters! Which brings up the question, "Which is the real meaning of the 'I.N.R.I.' we see displayed everywhere?"

CEREMONY OF INDUCTION AND EXTREME OATH OF THE JESUITS

When a Jesuit novice is about to be inducted into the higher levels of the Order, he kneels on a red cross before the Superior of the Order. Before him are two flags, the familiar yellow and white flag of the papacy, and the black flag with a dagger and red cross above a skull and crossbones, the flag of the Jesuit Order.

On the Jesuit flag is written the words, IUSTUM, NECAR, REGES, IMPIOS. (It is just to exterminate or annihilate impious or heretical kings, governments, or rulers.) The Superior of the Order hands the novice a small black crucifix which he presses to his heart, and the Superior then presents to the novice a dagger. The novice grasps the bare blade and presses the point to his heart.

The Superior, still holding the hilt of the dagger then speaks to the novice.

Superior

My son, heretofore you have been taught to act the dissembler: among Roman Catholics to be a Roman Catholic, and to spy even among your own brethren; to believe no man, to trust no man. Among the Reformers, to be a Reformer; among the Huguenots, to be a Huguenot; among the Calvinists, to be a Calvinist; among the Protestants, generally to be a Protestant; and obtaining their confidence to seek even to preach from their pulpits and to denounce with all the vehemence in your nature our Holy Religion and the Pope; and to descend so low as to become a Jew among the Jews, that you might be enabled to gather together all information for your Order as a faithful soldier of the Pope.

You have been taught to insidiously plant the seeds of jealousy and hatred between communities, provinces and states that were at peace, and incite them to deeds of blood, involving them in war with each other, and to create revolutions and civil wars in countries that were independent and prosperous, cultivating the arts and sciences and enjoying the blessings of peace. To take sides with the combatants and to act secretly in concert with your brother Jesuit, who may be engaged on the other side, but openly opposed to that with which you might be connected; only that the Church might be the gainer in the end, in the conditions fixed in the treaties for peace and that the end justifies the means.

You have been taught your duty as a spy, to gather all statistics, facts and information in your power from every source; to ingratiate yourself into the confidence of the family circle of Protestants and heretics of every class and character, as well as that of the merchant, the banker, the lawyer, among the schools and universities, in parliaments and legislatures, and in the judiciaries councils of state, and to "be all things to all men," for the Pope's sake, whose servants we are unto death.

You have received all your instructions heretofore as a novice, a neophyte, and have served as a coadjutor, confessor and priest, but you have not been invested with all that is necessary to command in the Army of Loyola in the service of the Pope. You must serve the proper time as the instrument and executioner as directed by your superiors; for none can command here who has not consecrated his labors with the blood of the heretic; for "without the shedding of blood no man can be saved." Therefore, to fit yourself for your work, and make your own salvation sure, you will, in addition to your former oath of obedience to your Order and your allegiance to the Pope, repeat after me.

I, M----- N-----, Now, in the presence of Almighty God, the Blessed Virgin Mary, the blessed Michael the Archangel, the blessed St. John the Baptist, the holy Apostles St. Peter and St. Paul and all the saints and the sacred hosts of heaven, and to you, my ghostly father, the Superior general of the Society of Jesus, founded by St. Ignatius of Loyola, in the Pontificate of Paul the Third, and continued to the present, do by the womb of the Virgin, the matrix of God, and the rod of Jesus Christ, declare and swear, that his holiness the Pope is Christ's Viceregent and is the true and only Head of the Catholic or Universal Church throughout the earth; and that by virtue of the keys of binding and loosing, given to his Holiness by my Saviour, Jesus Christ, he hath power to depose heretical kings, princes, states, commonwealths and governments, all being illegal without his sacred confirmation and that they may safely be destroyed.

Therefore, to the utmost of my power, I shall and will defend this doctrine and his Holiness' right and custom against all usurpers of the heretical or Protestant authority and churches of England and Scotland, and branches of the same now established in Ireland and on the Continent of America and elsewhere; and all adherents in the regard that they be usurped and heretical, opposing the sacred Mother Church of Rome. I do now renounce and disown any allegiance as due to any heretical king, prince or state named Protestants or Liberals or obedience to any of their laws, magistrates or officers.

I do further declare that the doctrines of the churches of England and Scotland, of the Calvinists, Huguenots and others of the name Protestants or Liberals to be damnable, and they themselves damned and to be damned who will not forsake the same.

I do further declare that I will help, assist and advise all or any of his Holiness' agents in any place wherever I shall be, in Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, England, Ireland, or America, or in any other kingdom or territory I shall come to, and do my uttermost to extirpate the heretical Protestants or Liberals' doctrines and to destroy all their pretended powers, regal or otherwise.

I do further promise and declare, that notwithstanding I am dispensed with, to assume any religion heretical, for the propagating of the Mother Church's interest, to keep secret and private all her agents counsels' from time to time, as they may entrust me, and not to divulge, directly or indirectly, by word, writing or circumstance whatever; but to execute all that shall be proposed, given in charge or discovered unto me, by you, my ghostly father, or any of this sacred convent.

I do further promise and declare, that I will have no opinion or will of my own, or any mental reservation whatever, even as a corpse or cadaver, (perinde ac cadaver,) but will unhesitatingly obey each and every command that I may receive from my superiors in the Militia of the Pope and Jesus Christ.

That I will go to any part of the world whithersoever I may be sent, to the frozen regions of the North, the burning sands of the desert of Africa, or the jungles of India, to the centres of civilization of Europe, or to the wild haunts of the savages of America, without murmuring or repining, and will be submissive in all things commanded to me.

I furthermore promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly or openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Liberals, as I am directed to do, to extirpate and exterminate them from the face of the whole earth; and that I will spare neither age, nor sex or condition; and that I will hang, burn, waste, spoil, flay, strangle, and bury alive these infamous heretics, rip up the stomachs and wombs of their women and crush their infants' heads against the walls, in order to annihilate forever their execrable race. That when the same cannot be done openly, I will secretly use the poisoned cup, the strangulating cord, the steel of the poinard or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honor, rank, dignity, or authority of the person or persons, whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed to do so by any agent of the Pope or Superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Faith, of the Society of Jesus.

In confirmation of which, I hereby dedicate my life, soul, and all of my coporeal powers, and with this dagger which I now receive, I will subscribe my name written in my own blood, in testimony thereof; and should I prove false or weaken in my determination, may my brethren and fellow soldiers of the Militia of the Pope cut off my hands and feet, and my throat from ear to ear, my belly opened and sulphur burned therein, with all the punishment that can be inflicted upon me on earth, and my soul to be tortured by demons in an eternal hell forever!

All of which I, M----- N-----, do swear by the blessed Trinity and blessed Sacrament, which I am about to receive, to perform and on my part to receive inviolably; and do call all of the heavenly and glorious host of heaven to witness these my real intentions to keep this my oath.

In testimony hereof I take this most holy and blessed sacrament of the Eucharist, and witness the same further, with my name written with the point of this dagger dipped in my own blood and sealed in the face of this holy convent.

Superior

You will now rise to your feet and I will instruct you in the Catechism necessary to make yourself known to any member of the Society of Jesus belonging to this rank.

In the first place, you, as a Brother Jesuit, will with another make the ordinary sign of the cross as any Roman Catholic would; then one crosses his wrists, the palms of his hands open, the other crosses his feet, one above the other; the first points with forefinger of the right hand to the center of the palm of the left, the other with the forefinger of the left hand points to the center of the palm of the right; the first then with his right hand makes a circle around his head, touching it; the other then with the forefinger of his left hand touches the left side of his body just below his heart; then the first with his right hand draws it across the throat of the other, and the latter then with his right hand makes the motion of cutting with a dagger down the stomach and abdomen of the first. The first then says Iustum; the other answers Necar; the first then says Reges. The other answers Impios. The first will then present a small piece of paper folded in a peculiar manner, four times, which the other will cut longitudinally and on opening the name JESU will be found written upon the head and arms of a cross three times. You will then give and receive with him the following questions and answers.

Q: From where do you come?

A: From the bends of the Jordan, from Calvary, from the Holy Sepulchre, and lastly from Rome.

Q: Whom do you serve?

A: The Holy Father at Rome, the Pope, and the Roman Catholic Church Universal throughout the world.

Q: Who commands you?

A: The successor of St. Ignatius of Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus or the Soldiers of Jesus Christ.

Q: Who received you?

A: A venerable man with white hair.

Q: How?

A: With a naked dagger, I kneeling on a cross beneath the banners of the Pope and of our sacred Order.

Q: Did you take an oath?

A: I did, to destroy heretics and their governments and rulers, and to spare neither age, sex or condition. To be as a corpse without any opinion or will of my own, but to implicitly obey my superiors in all things without hesitation or murmuring.

Q: Will you do that?

A: I will.

Q: How do you travel?

A: In the bark of Peter the fisherman.

Q: Whither do you travel?

A: To the four quarters of the globe.

Q: For what purpose?

A: To obey the orders of my General and Superiors and execute the will of the Pope and faithfully fulfill the conditions of my oath.

Q: Go ye, then, into all the world and take possession of all lands in the name of the Pope. He who will not accept him as the Vicar of Jesus and his Viceregent on earth, let him be accursed and exterminated.

I pray to God the Father through His Son Jesus Christ, that those who read this will have their eyes opened to the truth of this document, and will come out of the church who harbors these priests operating under this vicious oath, into the light and freedom of Jesus Christ, worshiping Him in spirit and in truth.

A true and holy church would not willingly harbor such an order while putting on a outward show of piety. And a true and holy church would not have a military organization such as this to enforce it's own ends. As Jesus said,

Matthew 7:13-20

13 Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide [is] the gate, and broad [is] the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 Because strait [is] the gate, and narrow [is] the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither [can] a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

Matthew 5:43-48

43 Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.

44 But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you;

45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more [than others]? do not even the publicans so?

48 Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

John 16:1-3

1 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

Title: SMOM Joseph Schmitz at Blackwater USA

TruthSeeker24 - October 4, 2005 02:00 PM (GMT)

Note by Me: I see a lot of bashing on the Internet and television of conservative Christians and these people doing it are liars. Just because someone is "left" wing or "right" wing, doesn't mean that everything they present are false. The Reconstuction and Dominion pro-theocracy theologies have been exposed by many Bible-Believing Chrisitans like Cutting Edge Ministries, etc. Many conservative Christians are exposing the New World Order agenda, they oppose George W. Bush, and they aren't extremists. I don't follow the Republican party, but I'm pro-alternative energy, Pro-Life, pro-gun, and pro-conservative Christianity. I disagree with many people's demonization of Christians without making a distinction between real conservative Christians and apostate, establishment Christians like Pat Robertson [a friend of Knight of Malta J. Peter Grace], Jerry Falwell, etc. Many of the apostate Christians are members of think-tanks and occult Secret Societies, which all real conservative Christians adamantly oppose. That's where I disagree slightly with Madsen's opinion. I've debated people who bash people of sincerely held religious convictions, so this is nothing new. Some people who do that are themselves part of Elite groups like the People for the American Way, MoveOn.org, George Soros, Ed Asner, etc. Many of these people claim that we are hypocrites, but we're always pro-innocent life and never advocate the assassination of public officals. I find it ironic that these folks claim to support civil liberties, but disregard the civil liberties of Terri Schiavo when she was illegally starved to death by the government. Her death violated the Geneva Convention and many Florida Statues.

Ex-Pentagon IG Joseph Schmitz At Prince/Blackwater
by WAYNE MADSEN (WAYNEMADSENREPORT.COM)

Sep. 29, 2005) Blackwater USA represents a return to "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

According to a knowledgeable political insider in Washington, the private military contractor Blackwater USA has close ties to the Christian Right.

The Prince Group, the McLean, Virginia-based parent company of Blackwater, recently hired Joseph E. Schmitz as its Chief Operating Officer and General Counsel.

Previously, Schmitz was the Inspector General of the Department of Defense.

Schmitz was a Special Assistant to-Attorney General Edwin Meese III, who is an official of the dominionist Christian Fellowship Foundation and a Heritage Foundation Fellow who recently authored a blueprint for rebuilding New Orleans and Louisiana.

Perhaps not coincidentally, Blackwater USA and its sister company Presidential Airways, have been providing security for petrochemical industry and other installations damaged by Hurricane Katrina.

Blackwater's Raven Development Group (RDG) advertises the following services, which should alarm current landowners in New Orleans, Louisiana, and Mississippi: General Contracting, Construction Management, Design Build Services, Site Selection Assistance, and Municipal Interfaces for Site Plan Approvals -- Economic Incentives and Permitting.

Joseph Schmitz is active in the Washington Lawyers' Chapter of the right-wing Federalist Society, the same group with which the new Chief Justice John G. Roberts was affiliated.

Schmitz is also a member of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta.

Schmitz was accused of covering up several investigations into fraud, waste and abuse within the Rumsfeld Pentagon.

Schmitz is the son of the late GOP far right congressman and segregationist American Independent Party presidential candidate John G. Schmitz.

Schmitz's sister is former Washington State school teacher Mary Kay Letorneau who was jailed for child rape after having sex with her 12-year old sixth grade student.

After Letorneau was released from prison in 2004 and after she had two children with the student, she and the boy, Vili Fualaau, married. Their sexual relationship began in 1996 when Letorneau was 34.

John G. Schmitz was discovered to have had an affair out of wedlock with one of his Santa Ana College political science students.

In 1982, a 13-month old infant boy, who was the product of Schmitz's relationship with German national Carla Stuckle, was rushed to an Orange County, California hospital with a hair so tightly tied in a square knot around the boy's penis, it was almost severed. Child abuse charges were later dropped against the German college student and the infant was restored to her custody.

Joseph Schmitz is not the only connection between Blackwater and right-wing GOP politicians.

Blackwater's CEO and co-founder is Michigan-based Erik D. Prince, an ex-US Navy SEAL, an heir to an automobile parts corporate fortune, a former intern for President George H. W. Bush, and a contributor to such right wing Republicans as recently indicted Tom DeLay.

Prince also has strong political links to Sen. Rick Santorum of Pennsylvania, Family Research Council President Tony Perkins, one-time GOP presidential candidate Gary Bauer, a political action committee called "Restoring the American Dream," (whose board of directors included Mississippi Governor Haley Barbour, Robert Bork, former Rep. Steve Largent, Domino's Pizza founder Thomas Monaghan, North Carolina Rep.

Sue Myrick [appointed to the Joint Congressional "Review" panel for Hurricane Katrina relief], and former Rep. J. C. Watts) and, more interestingly, current House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence (HPSCI) chairman Peter Hoekstra, who has been pressuring the CIA to accept more intelligence from HPSCI sources.

The close connection between Hoekstra and Blackwater, a company that advertises its own intelligence gathering services: "Our mission is to provide the client with veteran military, intelligence and law enforcement professionals with demonstrated field operations performance tempered with mature experience in both foreign and domestic requirements," should be of concern to non-politicized and career U.S. intelligence professionals.

Erik Prince's sister Betsy, who is chairman of the Michigan GOP, is married to Dick DeVos, the son of Amway founder Richard DeVos, a member of the board of the conservative and Christian Dominionist Council for National Policy (CNP), an umbrella organization where he rubs shoulders with such leading right wingers as Jack Abramoff, Howard Ahmanson, the Leadership Institute's Morton Blackwell, Focus on the Family's

The DeVos family has used a corporate entities such as the Windquest Group, DP Fox Ventures, and Alticor, Inc. to funnel thousands of dollars to conservative GOP politicians and their PACs, including Restoring the American Dream board member Sue Myrick, South Dakota Sen. John Thune, and Louisiana Rep. Bobby Jindal. Erik Prince, through a Virginia entity called Prince Household LLC, as well as the Prince Group, has contributed to Tom DeLay, Peter Hoekstra, George W. Bush, South Carolina Sen. Jim DeMint, and Oklahoma Sen. Tom Coburn.

Blackwater maintains the largest private military training facility in the United States.

Located on an abandoned U.S. military base at Moyock, North Carolina on the edge of the Great Dismal Swamp near the North Carolina-Virginia border, Blackwater's Security Consulting subsidiary attracts military and paramilitary trainees from around the country and the world.

Former Chilean and Honduran military personnel have been trained at Moyock prior to deployment to Iraq.

What is even more attractive for the Bush administration and Blackwater is the fact that, as a private company, Blackwater is far removed from oversight by government inspectors general, Freedom of Information Act requests, the Government Accountability Office (GAO), and snooping reporters.

Iraqi insurgents killed and mutilated the bodies of four Blackwater mercenaries near Fallujah, Iraq in April 2004, an act that triggered a massive U.S. military response that laid waste to the "city of mosques."

Recently, Blackwater mercenaries have been patrolling the streets of New Orleans along with other mercenaries from the United States and Israel.

Further confirmation that Schmitz is a Knight of Malta:

From http://www.defenselink.mil/bios/schmitz_bio.html

JOSEPH E. SCHMITZ

Inspector General

President George W. Bush nominated Joseph E. Schmitz to be the Inspector General of the Department of Defense (DoD) on June 18, 2001. The Senate confirmed him on March 21, 2002.

The Inspector General reports directly to the Secretary of Defense. The statutorily "independent and objective" Office of Inspector General (OIG) employs approximately 1,250 civilian and military officers and employees, primarily auditors, inspectors, and investigators, with an annual budget of approximately $200 million. The DoD OIG includes as major subcomponents the Defense Criminal Investigative Service (DCIS) and the Defense Financial Auditing Service (DFS). Based on post-Enron independence standards, the Inspector General is the only DoD Officer qualified to issue opinions on the financial statements of the Department of Defense, the annual budget for which exceeds $400 billion.

As the sole DoD representative on the President's Council on Integrity & Efficiency (PCIE) and, by law, "the principal adviser to the Secretary of Defense for matters relating to the prevention of fraud, waste, and abuse in the programs and operations of the Department," Inspector General Schmitz chairs the Defense Council on Integrity & Efficiency (DCIE), the members of which include component heads of the Audit, Inspection, and Investigative units of the military departments, and the Inspectors General of the other DoD agencies and major components. The Inspector General also serves as President of "DoD OIG University," established in 2004 to serve the "teach & train" needs of DCIE members, consistent with the Inspector General's statutory duty to "give particular regard to the activities of the internal audit, inspection, and investigative units of the military departments with a view toward avoiding duplication and insuring effective coordination and cooperation."

From 1987 to 2002, Mr. Schmitz' private-sector law practice focused on complex civil litigation, aviation regulatory matters, international trade, administrative law, and constitutional appellate litigation, most recently as a partner at PATTON BOGGS LLP.

His prior public service includes: 27 years of naval service, first on active duty and then as a reserve officer, attaining the rank of Captain; Special Assistant to the Attorney General of the United States, Honorable Edwin Meese III; and law clerk to Honorable James L. Buckley, Circuit Judge, United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

Mr. Schmitz has published numerous articles, presented lectures, and testified as a constitutional expert before the U.S. Senate Governmental Affairs and Judiciary Committees. From 1995 until 2002, he was an Adjunct Professor of Law at the Georgetown University Law Center, where he developed and taught a seminar on advanced Constitutional Law. He has also served on the Steering Committee of the Washington Lawyers Chapter of the Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy Studies.

Mr. Schmitz graduated with distinction from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1978 and received his J.D. degree from Stanford University in 1986. He is a Young Leader Alumnus of the American Council on Germany, and a member of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta.

Excellent post yet again!

Pennsylvania Senator Rick Santorum, his wife Karen Garver and Domino's Pizza magnate Thomas Monaghan are also members of the SMOM-they are Knights of Malta and Karen is a Dame of Malta Also the term "Inspector General" used in the government of Fourteenth Amendment America is rooted in Freemasonry in that it is a title granted to a 33rd Degree Freemason "Grand Sovereign Inspector General" that receives orders from the Superior General of the Luciferian Jesuit Order http://freemasonry.bcy.ca/texts/masonic_degrees.html

The Jesuit Order through their Knights of Malta and high-level Shriner and Scottish Rite Freemasons placed in positions of power work to achieve the vicious and sinister end the Order plans for this nation.

http://www.maltausa.org/files/newsletter_hospitallers_02.pdf (see page 7) SMOM Philadelphia Area (American Association) sponsored a biased "Just War Theory" symposium in Union League. Papal Knight Santorum was present.

[Roman Catholic] Thomas More Law Center Advisory Board many of whom are SMOM and Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors such as SMOM Bowie Kuhn SMOM Rick Santorum, SMOM Jeremiah Denton (personal friend of SMOM supporter pro-Jesuit pro-CIA assassination Freemason Marion "Pat" Robertson who once worked for SMOM J. Peter Grace) Alan Keyes, SMOM Paul Henkels, and Richard Campbell (note Campbell received the Founder of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) award)

I will never order Domino's Pizza again-I did often last year then I thought about Googling it to see if it was owned by the Knights of Malta and it turned out it was just as W.R. Grace owns Taco Bell according to Brother Eric's first interview with Rick Martin of the Spectrum. <http://www.skepticfiles.org/american/domino.htm> (see where all the money Domino's Pizza makes goes-to the Jesuits' Vatican and their charismatic cult. You will lose your appetite for Domino's-I know I did once I found out SMOM Thomas Monaghan owns it.

Domino's CEO uses company funds to finance cult (plus Word of God and Legatus)

<http://www.catholicsforchoice.org/pubs/catholicrightLong.asp> (there are five strands of the Roman Catholic (falsely called Christian) Right aka Religious Right) See how and why the Jesuits' Vatican will use the New Right Fascist Republican party to get the concordat (which would make Romanism the official religion of Fourteenth Amendment America) they want so a Jesuit-controlled Roman Catholic military dictatorship could be imposed on this nation and true Bible believing Christians and Jews could be persecuted and slaughtered by the Unholy Office of the Inquisition (Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith).

Title: Eric Phelps - Jesuits controlling Mormons

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 28, 2005 09:26 PM (GMT)

Eric,

I was listening to a interview on CloakandDagger.ca in which you mentioned some astounding facts about the Vatican. For many years I've had suspicions about this topic.

Do you have any books or articles regarding the Mormon connection to Masonry, the Vatican, Jesuits. They seem to have a great deal of power and money and I can't imagine it has all come from there members contributions.

Correct. VAllI which is about finished addresses the Order's control of Mormonism no later than the meeting of Jesuit De Smet with Brigham Young at Council Bluffs in 1846. Mormon banker Marriner S. Eccles was appointed as Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board by 33rd Degree Mason and CFFR member President FDR in 1934.

In your interview you stated that the Jesuits will either infiltrate large religious organizations and if unsuccessful they destroy them.

Correct.

Is the footprint of the Jesuits present in the Mormon religion?

Absolutely! Mormanism is clandestine Freemasonry and the Order authored the rites of all Freemasonry---Scottish Rite, York Rite and Grand Orient.

Appreciate your efforts in trying to warn the Protestants of America.

Appreciate your prayers.

Kindest Regards,

XXXXXXXX

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Hi Eric,

There will be a movie coming out next year called September Dawn which explores the massacre of Protestant wagon trains by Mormons, disguised as Indians, under the orders of Brigham Young. It stars Jon Voight and was just shot south of here. I worked in the greens dept. for a few days on it. Sort of glorified landscaping. From what I understand the Mormons won't be very happy when this truth is released. They had some of their people on set during the filming.

CRAIG-OXLEY - September 28, 2005 09:38 PM (GMT)

Dear Eric,

You're quite welcome. Here's an interesting look at what took place behind the scenes; a rather animated discussion took place between the producer, director and writer and the Mormons, who were on set watching the filming, involving the research. I was working not too far when this took place.

The Mormon contingent, who were quite concerned about the repercussions when this film is released, said that this massacre was done by renegade Mormons who took it upon themselves, without any church authority, to engage in this and that Young had nothing to do with it. In fact, they said, Young was shocked when he found out later as to the viciousness and thorough destruction of the wagons, men, women and children as the reports came back. They wanted them to change the script to reflect this. The film guys argued that the evidence and research shows otherwise and they will not be intimidated into whitewashing a historical event.

Just a glimpse into what happened and the concern of the LDS.

Kudos to the production staff. Hope it remains intact in post production and editing

Title: ROME'S PERSECUTION OF THE BIBLE

Wonderful article!

This is why no Reformation Bible-rejecting nation can ever be politically free. Hence all the new Romish, New Age bible perversions!

ROME'S PERSECUTION OF THE BIBLE

September 21, 2005 (David Cloud, Fundamental Baptist Information Service, P.O. Box 610368, Port Huron, MI 48061, 866-295-4143, fbns@wayoflife.org; for instructions about subscribing and unsubscribing or changing addresses, see the information paragraph at the end of the article) -

During the period when the Roman Catholic Church was in power, she did everything she could to keep the Bible out of the hands of the common people. It was illegal to translate the Bible into the common languages, even though most people could not read the official Catholic Bible because it was in Latin, a language known only to the highly educated.

Consider some of the laws Rome made against Bible translation. These began to be made in the 13th century and were in effect through the 19th.

(1) In the year 1215 Pope Innocent III issued a law commanding "that they shall be seized for trial and penalties, WHO ENGAGE IN THE TRANSLATION OF THE SACRED VOLUMES, or who hold secret conventicles, or who assume the office of preaching without the authority of their superiors; against whom process shall be commenced, without any permission of appeal" (J.P. Callender, Illustrations of Popery, 1838, p. 387). Innocent "declared that as by the old law, the beast touching the holy mount was to be stoned to death, so simple and uneducated men were not to touch the Bible or venture to preach its doctrines" (Schaff, History of the Christian Church, VI, p. 723).

(2) The Council of Toulouse (1229) FORBADE THE LAITY TO POSSESS OR READ THE VERNACULAR TRANSLATIONS OF THE BIBLE (Allix, Ecclesiastical History, II, p. 213). This council ordered that the bishops should appoint in each parish "one priest and two or three laics, who should engage upon oath to make a rigorous search after all heretics and their abettors, and for this purpose should visit every house from the garret to the cellar, together with all subterraneous places where they might conceal themselves" (Thomas M'Crie, History of the Reformation in Spain, 1856, p. 82). They also searched for the illegal Bibles.

(3) The Council of Tarragona (1234) "ORDERED ALL VERNACULAR VERSIONS TO BE BROUGHT TO THE BISHOP TO BE BURNED" (Paris Simms, Bible from the Beginning, p. 1929, 162).

(4) In 1483 the infamous Inquisitor General Thomas Torquemada began his reign of terror as head of the Spanish Inquisition; King Ferdinand and his queen "PROHIBITED ALL, UNDER THE SEVEREST PAINS, FROM TRANSLATING THE SACRED SCRIPTURE INTO THE VULGAR TONGUES, OR FROM USING IT WHEN TRANSLATED BY OTHERS" (M'Crie, p. 192). For more than three centuries the Bible in the common tongue was a forbidden book in Spain and multitudes of copies perished in the flames, together with those who cherished them.

(5) In England, too, laws were passed by the Catholic authorities against vernacular Bibles. The Constitutions of Thomas Arundel, issued in 1408 by the Archbishop of Canterbury, made this brash demand: "WE THEREFORE DECREE AND ORDAIN THAT NO MAN SHALL, HEREAFTER, BY HIS OWN AUTHORITY, TRANSLATE ANY TEXT OF THE SCRIPTURE INTO ENGLISH, OR ANY OTHER TONGUE, by way of a book, libel, or treatise, now lately set forth in the time of John Wyckliff, or since, or hereafter to be set forth, in part of in whole, privily or apertly, upon pain of greater excommunication, until the said translation be allowed by the ordinary of the place, or, if the case so require, by the council provincial" (John Eadie, The English Bible, vol. 1, 1876, p. 89). Consider Arundel's estimation of the man who gave the English speaking people their first Bible: "This pestilential and most wretched John Wycliffe of damnable memory, a child of the old devil, and himself a child or pupil of Anti-Christ, who while he lived, walking in the vanity of his mind Š crowned his wickedness by translating the Scriptures into the mother tongue" (Fountain, John Wycliffe, p. 45).

(6) Pope Leo X (1513-1521), who railed against Luther's efforts to follow the biblical precept of faith alone and Scripture alone, called the fifth Lateran Council (1513-1517), which charged that no books should be printed except those approved by the Roman Catholic Church. "THEREFORE FOREVER THEREAFTER NO ONE SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO PRINT ANY BOOK OR WRITING WITHOUT A PREVIOUS EXAMINATION, TO BE TESTIFIED BY MANUAL SUBSCRIPTION, BY THE PAPAL VICAR AND MASTER OF THE SACRED PALACE IN ROME, and in other cities and dioceses by the Inquisition, and the bishop or an expert appointed by him. FOR NEGLECT OF THIS THE PUNISHMENT WAS EXCOMMUNICATION, THE LOSS OF THE EDITION, WHICH WAS TO BE BURNED, a fine of 100 ducats to the fabric of St. Peters, and suspension from business for a year" (Henry Lea, The Inquisition of the Middle Ages).

(7) These restrictions were repeated by the Council of Trent in 1546, which placed translations of the Bible, such as the German, Spanish, and English, on its list of prohibited books and forbade any person to read the Bible without a license from a Catholic bishop or inquisitor.

Following is a quote from Trent: "ŠIT SHALL NOT BE LAWFUL FOR ANYONE TO PRINT OR TO HAVE PRINTED ANY BOOKS WHATSOEVER DEALING WITH SACRED DOCTRINAL MATTERS WITHOUT THE NAME OF THE AUTHOR, OR IN THE FUTURE TO SELL THEM, OR EVEN TO HAVE THEM IN POSSESSION, UNLESS THEY HAVE FIRST BEEN EXAMINED AND APPROVED BY THE ORDINARY, UNDER PENALTY OF ANATHEMA AND FINE prescribed by the last Council of the Lateran" (Fourth session, April 8, 1546, The Canons and Decrees of the Council of Trent, Translated by H.J. Schroeder, pp. 17-19).

These rules were affixed to the Index of Prohibited Books and were constantly reaffirmed by popes in the 16th, 17th, 18th, and 19th centuries. These prohibitions, in fact, have never been rescinded. It is true that the Council of Trent did not absolutely forbid the reading of the Scriptures under all circumstances. It allowed a few exceptions. The priests were allowed to read the Latin Bible. Bishops and inquisitors were allowed to grant license for certain faithful Catholics to read the Scriptures in Latin as long as these Scriptures were accompanied by Catholic notes and if it was believed that these would not be "harmed" by such reading. In practice, though, the proclamations of Trent forbade the reading of the Holy Scriptures to at least nine-tenths of the people. Rome's claim to possess authority to determine who can and cannot translate, publish, and read the Bible is one of the most blasphemous claims ever made under this sun.

The attitude of 16th century Catholic authorities toward the Bible was evident from a speech Richard Du Mans delivered at Trent, in which he said "that the Scriptures had become useless, since the schoolmen had established the truth of all doctrines; and though they were formerly read in the church, for the instruction of the people, and still read in the service, yet they ought not to be made a study, because the Lutherans only gained those who read them" (William M'Gavin, The Protestant, 1846, p. 144). It is true that the Bible leads men away from Roman Catholicism, but this is only because Roman Catholicism is not founded upon the Word of God!

Pope Clement VIII (1592-1605) confirmed the Council of Trent's proclamations against Bible translations (Eadie, History of the English Bible, II, p. 112) and went even further by forbidding licenses to be granted for the reading of the Bible under any conditions (Richard Littledale, Plain Reasons Against Joining the Church of Rome, 1924, p. 91).

(8) The restrictions against ownership of the vernacular Scriptures were repeated by the popes until the end of the 19th century:

Benedict XIV (1740-1758) confirmed the Council of Trent's proclamations against Bible translations (Eadie, History of the English Bible, II, p. 112) and issued an injunction "that no versions whatever should be suffered to be read but those which should be approved of by the Holy See, accompanied by notes derived from the writings of the Holy Fathers, or other learned and Catholic authors" (D.B. Ray, The Papal Controversy, p.

It was during the reign of Pope Pius VII (1800-1823) that the modern Bible society movement began. The British and Foreign Bible Society was formed in March 1804, the purpose being "to encourage a wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment." Other societies were soon created for the same exalted purpose. Germany (1804); Ireland (1806); Canada (1807); Edinburgh (1809); Hungary (1811); Finland, Glasgow, Zurich, Prussia (1812); Russia (1813); Denmark and Sweden (1814); Netherlands, Iceland (1815); America, Norway, and Waldensian (1816); Australia, Malta, Paris (1817); etc. One of the societies began distributing a Polish Bible in Poland. The Pope, instead of praising the Lord that the eternal Word of God was being placed into the hands of the multitudes of spiritually needy people, showed his displeasure by issuing a bull against Bible Societies on June 29, 1816. The Pope expressed himself as "shocked" by the circulation of the Scriptures in the Polish tongue. He characterized this practice as a "most crafty device, by which the very foundations of religion are undermined," "a pestilence," which he must "remedy and abolish," "a defilement of the faith, eminently dangerous to souls." Pope Pius VII also rebuked Archbishop Buhusz of Mohiley in Russia because of his endorsement of a newly formed Bible society (Kenneth Latourette, The Nineteenth Century in Europe, p. 448). The papal brief, dated September 3, 1816, declared that "if the Sacred Scriptures were allowed in the vulgar tongue everywhere without discrimination, more detriment than benefit would arise" (Jacobus, Roman Catholic and Protestant Versions Compared, p. 236).

Pope Leo XII (1823-29) issued a bull to the Bishops in Ireland, May 3, 1824, in which he affirmed the Council of Trent and condemned Bible distribution. "It is no secret to you, venerable brethren, that a certain Society, vulgarly called The Bible Society, is audaciously spreading itself through the whole world. After despising the traditions of the holy Fathers, and in opposition to the well-known Decree of the Council of Trent, this Society has collected all its forces, and directs every means to one object,--the translation, or rather the perversion, of the Bible into the vernacular languages of all nations. ... IF THE SACRED SCRIPTURES BE EVERYWHERE INDISCRIMINATELY PUBLISHED, MORE EVIL THAN ADVANTAGE WILL ARISE THENCE, on account of the rashness of men" (Bull of Leo XII, May 3, 1824; cited from Charles Elliott, Delineation of Roman Catholicism, 1851, p. 21). This Pope re-published the Index of Prohibited Books on March 26, 1825, and mandated that the decrees of the Council of Trent be enforced against distribution of Scriptures (R.P. Blakeney, Popery in Its Social Aspect, p. 137).

Pope Gregory XVI (1831-46) ratified the decrees of his predecessors, forbidding the free distribution of Scripture. In his encyclical of May 8, 1844, this Pope stated: "Moreover, we confirm and renew the decrees recited above, DELIVERED IN FORMER TIMES BY APOSTOLIC AUTHORITY, AGAINST THE PUBLICATION, DISTRIBUTION, READING, AND POSSESSION OF BOOKS OF THE HOLY SCRIPTURES TRANSLATED INTO THE VULGAR TONGUE" (James Wylie, The Papacy, 1867, p. 182). This encyclical was delivered against Bible societies in general, and mentioned in particular the Christian Alliance, which was formed in 1843 in New York for the purpose of distributing Scriptures.

Pope Pius IX (1846-78) in November 1846 issued an encyclical letter in which he denounced all opponents of Roman Catholicism, among which he included "those insidious Bible Societies." He said the Bible societies were "renewing the crafts of the ancient heretics" by distributing to "all kinds of men, even the least instructed, gratuitously and at immense expense, copies in vast numbers of the books of the Sacred Scriptures translated against the holiest rules of the Church into various vulgar tongues..."

What a horrible crime! Distributing the Scriptures freely to all people! It was Pius IX who had himself and his fellow popes declared "infallible" at the Vatican I Council in 1870.

Pope Leo XIII (1878-1903) published an "Apostolic Constitution" in 1897 which stated: "All versions of the vernacular, even by Catholics, are altogether prohibited, unless approved by the Holy See, or published under the vigilant care of the Bishops, with annotations taken from the Fathers of the Church and learned Catholic writers" (Melancthon Jacobus, Roman Catholic and Protestant Bibles, p. 237).

Where the Roman Catholic Church held power the Bible was always scarce. Consider a few examples: When the government of New Orleans was taken over in 1803, "it was not till after a long search for a Bible to administer the oath of office that a Latin Vulgate was at last procured from a priest" (William Canton, The Bible and the Anglo-Saxon People, I, p. 245). In Quebec, as late as 1826, MANY PEOPLE HAD NEVER HEARD OF THE NEW TESTAMENT (Canton, II, 61). The situation was the same in South America, where "for about three centuries, were almost entirely without the Bible." It was 1831 before the first Bible was printed in Spanish America, and even then the copies were exorbitantly expensive (Canton, II, 347). Thus, even when Catholic authorities finally printed some Bibles, they were priced far beyond the reach of most people. Between December 1907 and February 1908 a diligent search was made to determine how many Bibles were available in Catholic Ireland. Not a portion of the Bible was available in bookshops in Athlone, Balbriggan, Drogheda, Mullingar, Wexford, and Clonmel. A shop assistant at Mullingar said, "I never saw a Catholic Bible." When asked about the New Testament, a sales person at the The Catholic Truth Society replied, "We don't keep it." Those who did the extensive survey concluded "that IN NINE TENTHS OF THE CITIES, TOWNS, AND VILLAGES OR IRELAND A ROMAN CATHOLIC COULD NOT PROCURE A COPY OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC BIBLE OR NEW TESTAMENT" (Alexander Robertson, The Papal Conquest, 1909, pp. 166-167).

These facts uncover only the tip of iceberg in regard to Rome's attitude toward the Bible in former times. Our book "Rome and the Bible: The History of the Bible through the Centuries and Rome's Persecution against It" documents this more extensively. It is available from Way of Life Literature, P.O. Box 61368, Port Huron, MI 48061, 866-295-4143, fbns@wayoflife.org.

THE WALDENSES (also called Vaudois or Albigenses) are an example of what occurred during this period. They lived in the mountains of Italy and France and eventually spread throughout Europe; they refused to join the Catholic Church or recognize the Pope. They received the Bible as the sole source for faith and practice and had their own translations, which they diligently reproduced in hand-written copies. Rome persecuted the Waldenses throughout the Dark Ages up until the 18th century.

A few brief descriptions of the persecutions against the Waldenses follow. Note that many entire books have been written about these persecutions and the following facts only hint at the destruction and torment poured out upon these people. [For more information, the reader's attention is invited to the Fundamental Baptist CD-Rom Library, which contains dozens of rare antiquarian Baptist and Waldensian histories, including Baptist History by John M. Cramp (1852), The Story of the Baptists in All Ages and Countries by Richard Cook (1888), Memorials of Baptist Martyrs by J. Newton Brown (1854), A

Wylie (1860), and A History of the Ancient Christians of the Valleys of the Alps by Perrin (1618). The Fundamental Baptist CD-Rom Library is available from Way of Life Literature, 866-295-4143, fbns@wayoflife.org.]

12th Century. The Roman Catholic Church persecuted Peter Waldo and refused to accept his translation of the New Testament into the Romaunt language. Pope Alexander III (1159-1181) expelled Waldo and his followers from his diocese, and the next pope, Lucius III, put his papal curse upon them (William Blackburn, History of the Christian Church, 1880, pp. 309, 310). The Council of Tours in 1163 promoted inquisition against Bible believers, issuing a decree that stated: "No man must presume to receive or assist heretics, nor in buying or selling have any thing to do with them, that being thus deprived of the comforts of humanity, they may be compelled to repent of the error of their way" (Gideon Ouseley, A Short Defence of the Old Religion, 1821, p. 221). "Many Albigenses, refusing the terms, were burnt in different cities in the south of France" (G.H. Orchard, A Concise History of the Baptists, 1855, p. 199). The Third Lateran Council "gave permission to princes to reduce heretics to slavery and shortened the time of penance by two years for those taking up arms against them" (Philip Schaff, History of the Christian Church, V, p. 519).

13th Century: In the year 1209, Pope Innocent III called for a crusade against the Waldenses in France. Anyone who volunteered to war against the "heretics" (so called by Rome because they dissented from her dogmas) was promised forgiveness of sin and many rewards. Tens of thousands took up arms for the Pope and marched against the hated Waldenses. Some 200,000 dissenters were killed by the Pope's army within a few months. Two large cities, Beziers (Braziers) and Carcasone, were destroyed, together with many smaller towns and villages. The war was conducted for 20 years! Thousands were made homeless and were forced to wander in the woods and mountains to escape their tormentors. The cruelties practiced by the Catholic persecutors were horrible. The Christians were thrown from high cliffs, hanged, disemboweled, pierced through repeatedly, drowned, torn by dogs, burned alive, crucified. In one case, 400 mothers fled for refuge with their babies to a cave in Castelluzzo, which was located 2,000 feet above the valley in which they lived. They were discovered by the rampaging Catholics; a large fire was built outside of the cave and they were suffocated.

15th Century: In 1487 Pope Innocent VIII called for a crusade against the Waldenses in Italy, Germany, and elsewhere. He promised forgiveness of sins and a share in the plunder to those who joined. Charles VIII of France and Charles II of Savoy agreed to raise an army for the destruction of the Waldenses. This regular army numbered about 18,000 soldiers and thousands of "ruffians" joined, urged on by the promise of forgiveness of sins and the expectation of obtaining spoil from the Waldensian possessions. Wylie describes these volunteers as "ambitious fanatics, reckless pillagers, merciless assassins" (James Wylie, History of the Waldenses, 1860, p. 29). This army attacked the Waldensian mountain valleys in northern Italy simultaneously from the plains to the south and from France to the west. Thousands of Bible-believing Christians perished in this crusade. Their homes and crops were destroyed. Many entire villages were razed. Their women were raped and then viciously murdered. Their children were dashed against trees and thrown off cliffs.

More than 3,000 Waldensian Christians, men, women, and children, perished in one cave called Aigue-Froid to which they had fled for safety. These were the inhabitants of the entire village of Val Loysel, and the property of these pitiful people was distributed to the participants of the crusade. Many entire large valleys were burned and pillaged and depopulated. This crusade against the Waldensians lasted for a year.

16th Century: Following is a brief description of the persecutions in the 16th century as given by a Waldensian pastor: "There is no town in Piedmont under a Vaudois pastor, where some of our brethren have not been put to death. Hugo Chiampis of Finestrelle had his entrails torn from his living body, at Turin. Peter Geymarali of Bobbio, in like manner, had his entrails taken out at Lucerna, and a fierce cat thrust in their place to torture him further; Maria Romano was buried alive at Rocco-patia; Magdalen Foulano underwent the same fate at San Giovanni; Susan Michelini was bound hand and foot, and left to perish of cold and hunger at Saracena. Bartholomew Fache, gashed with sabres, had the wounds filled up with quicklime, and perished thus in agony at Fenile; Daniel Michelini had his tongue torn out at Bobbio for having praised God. James Baridari perished covered with sulphurous matches, which had been forced into his flesh under the nails, between the fingers, in the nostrils, in the lips, and over all his body, and then lighted. Daniel Revelli had his mouth filled with gunpowder, which, being lighted, blew his head to pieces. Maria Monnen, taken at Lioussa, had the flesh cut from her cheek and chin bone, so that her jaw was left bare, and she was thus left to perish. Paul Garnier was slowly sliced to pieces at Rora. Thomas Margueti was mutilated in an indescribable manner at Miraboco, and Susan Jaquin cut in bits at La Torre. Sara Rostagnol was slit open from the legs to the bosom, and so left to perish on the road between Eyrat and Lucerna. Anne Charbonnier was impaled and carried thus on a pike, as a standard, from San Giovanni to La Torre. Daniel Rambaud, at Paesano, had his nails torn off, then his fingers chopped off, then his feet and his hands, then his arms and his legs, with each successive refusal on his part to abjure the Gospel" (Alex Muston, A History of the Waldenses: The Israel of the Alps, 1866).

Not only were the Waldensian Christians themselves destroyed wherever the armies could gain ascendancy, but their literature and vernacular Scriptures were destroyed with a vengeance during these persecutions. The Catholic priests who accompanied the armies made certain of this. So many copies of the Waldensian Scriptures were destroyed that we have little information about their Bibles.

In the 17th century, Samuel Morland visited the Waldenses in northern Italy as the representative of England's ruler, Oliver Cromwell. Morland tried to assist the Waldenses in the bitter persecutions that were still being poured out upon them. Entire armies had been sent to destroy the Waldensian villages in the 17th century. Practically all of their documents had been destroyed. Morland gathered up any remaining materials he could find and in 1658 sent them back to England to be deposited in the library at the University of Cambridge. The Morland collections are still available. On June 2, 2004, Miss J.S. Ringrose, Deputy Keeper of Manuscripts at University Library, Cambridge, wrote to Justin Savino, a student at Emmanuel Baptist Theological Seminary, Newington, Connecticut, as follows: "There are two main collections of Waldensian manuscripts, both deposited by Samuel Morland in 1658. MSS Dd. 3. 25-38 (Morland MSS G-V) are seventeenth century manuscripts, mainly transcripts of earlier historical sources. MSS. Dd. 15.29-34 (Morland A-F) are medieval." The Morland F packet contains manuscripts from the 14th century with the entire New Testament and parts of the Old and apocryphal writings "in the Peidemontese dialect of Provençal or Occitan." On a visit to the library in April 2005 I examined the F packet. It contains six small items, including a New Testament (though not containing all of the books).

CONSIDER SOME EXAMPLES OF HOW THE BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED BY ROME:

THE ENGLISH BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED

JOHN WYCLIFFE (1324-1384), the father of the English Bible, is an example of how Rome treated the Bible in these days.

Wycliffe, the vicar of St. Mary's Church at Lutterworth, completed the English New Testament in 1380 and the Old Testament in 1382. He rejected many of Rome's heresies, including the doctrine that the people should not have the Bible in their own language. Here is one of the powerful statements that he made to the Catholic authorities: "You say it is heresy to speak of the Holy Scriptures in English. You call me a heretic because I have translated the Bible into the common tongue of the people. Do you know whom you blaspheme? Did not the Holy Ghost give the Word of God at first in the mother-tongue of the nations to whom it was addressed? Why do you speak against the Holy Ghost? You say that the Church of God is in danger from this book. How can that be? Is it not from the Bible only that we learn that God has set up such a society as a Church on the earth? Is it not the Bible that gives all her authority to the Church? Is it not from the Bible that we learn who is the Builder and Sovereign of the Church, what are the laws by which she is to be governed, and the rights and privileges of her members? Without the Bible, what charter has the Church to show for all these? It is you who place the Church in jeopardy by hiding the Divine warrant, the missive royal of her King, for the authority she wields and the faith she enjoins" (David Fountain, John Wycliffe, pp. 45-47).

Rome persecuted Wycliffe bitterly and attempted unsuccessfully to have him imprisoned. Pope Gregory XI issued five bulls against Wycliffe, but he was protected by the Queen of England and others.

Wycliffe died on December 31, 1384, and forty-three years later, in 1428, the Roman Catholic Church dug up Wycliffe's bones and burned them.

Rome also persecuted Wycliffe's followers, the Lollards, imprisoning them and putting many of them to death. The Lollards' Tower in London was so named because it is one of the places where they were imprisoned and tortured. It was illegal to own a copy of the Wycliffe Bible, and most of the priceless handwritten Scriptures were burned.

WILLIAM TYNDALE (1484-1536), the first to translate the English Bible from Greek and Hebrew, is another example of Rome's persecutions.

As a young man Tyndale had a burden to translate the Bible into English directly from the Hebrew and Greek so that his people could have the Word of God from the purest fountains. When he expressed this plan to Catholic authorities in England, then under Roman Catholic rule, he learned that it would not be possible to do this work in his own country.

While employed at Little Sodbury Manor after graduation from Oxford, Tyndale preached in that part of western England and debated the truth with Catholic priests. One evening a priest exclaimed, "We are better without God's laws than the pope's." Hearing that, Tyndale replied: "If God spare my life, ere many years I will cause a boy that driveth a plough shall know more of the Scriptures than thou doest."

Tyndale traveled to Europe to pursue this objective, where he had to move from place to place and hide his work from the ecclesiastical authorities.

After completing the New Testament and a portion of the Old, Tyndale was arrested in May 1535. He was imprisoned for 16 months in the castle at Vilvorde, Belgium.

On October 6, 1536, Tyndale was strangled and then burned at the stake. His ashes were thrown into the river that flowed alongside the castle.

THE GERMAN BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED

The pre-LUTHER GERMAN BIBLES were persecuted in the 15th century. The first complete printed Bible in German was published by Johann Mentelin (John Mentel) at Strassburg in 1466 (Olaf Norlie, The Translated Bible, 1934, p. 73). Mainz was the most active publication center in Germany at that time, and in 1485, the archbishop there issued AN EDICT PRESCRIBING CENSORSHIP FOR ALL TRANSLATIONS OF THE BIBLE. The edict forbade the Scriptures to be given to simple and unlearned men and to women. Following is an excerpt: "We have observed books containing the office of the mass and also containing divine things and lofty matters of our religion and translated from Latin into the German language, not without damage to religion [meaning the Catholic religion!], circulating among the hands of the vulgar [common people] Š for who will give to the ignorant and unlettered persons, and to the female sex at that, into whose hands the manuscripts of sacred learning should fall, the ability to find the true sense? No sane person would deny that the texts of the Holy Gospels and of the Epistles of Paul require many additions and explanations from other writings."

THE LUTHER BIBLE, which first appeared in 1522, was also fiercely persecuted.

D'Aubigne, in his History of the Reformation, describes how Rome replied to this milestone in Germany history: "Ignorant priests shuddered at the thought that every citizen, nay every peasant, would now be able to dispute with them on the precepts of our Lord. The King of England denounced the work to the Elector Frederick and to Duke George of Saxony. But as early as the month of November THE DUKE HAD ORDERED HIS SUBJECTS TO DEPOSIT EVERY COPY OF LUTHER'S NEW TESTAMENT IN THE HANDS OF THE MAGISTRATES. BAVARIA, BRANDENBURG, AUSTRIA, AND ALL THE STATES DEVOTED TO ROME, PUBLISHED SIMILAR DECREES. IN SOME PLACES THEY MADE SACRILEGIOUS BONFIRES OF THESE SACRED BOOKS IN THE PUBLIC PLACES" (D'Aubigne, III, p. 77).

Persecutions were poured out by the Catholic authorities upon those who read the works of Luther. An example of those who were tormented for distributing the German Luther New Testament was a bookseller named John in Buda, Hungary. He had circulated the German Scriptures throughout that country. "He was bound to a stake; his persecutors then piled his books around him, enclosing him as if in a tower, and then set fire to them. John manifested unshaken courage, exclaiming from the midst of the flames, that he was delighted to suffer in the cause of the Lord" (D'Aubigne, III, p. 152).

In 1520 a strict search for Lutheran Bibles and books was instigated in Venice, and those found were destroyed (M'Crie, Reformation in Italy, p. 28).

The ANABAPTIST LUTHERAN BIBLES were persecuted.

The German Bible produced by Anabaptists appeared in 1529, five years before the entire Luther Bible. It was called THE WORMS BIBLE, after the name of the city in which it was published. The translation was done by two Anabaptists, Ludwig Hetzer and Hans Denck, "accomplished scholars, thoroughly versed in Hebrew and Greek, as well as in Latin. Denck studied and received the degree of Master at the University of Basel, under and with Erasmus, Hetzer was an alumnus of Basel, and also of the University of Paris" (John Porter, The World's Debt to the Baptists, 1914, p. 138). "At the time of its publication the approval of the Denck-Hetzer edition was unlimited and universal. Within three years thirteen separate editions appeared at Strasburg, Augsburg, Hagenau, and other places. ... In a word, in all Germany the book of the despised Anabaptists was bought, read, and treasured" (Ludwig Keller, Hans Denck, Ein Apostel der Wiedertaufer, p. 211; cited by Porter, p. 139).

This German Bible and its translators suffered the fate we have seen so many times already. "Denck, suffering with tuberculosis, under the decree of banishment and outlawry, died in hiding, in Basel, in 1529, a little before the Bible came from the press. Hetzer was arrested, condemned as a heretic, and beheaded the same year at Constance. Š EVERY POSSIBLE EFFORT WAS MADE TO SUPPRESS THIS 'HERETIC BIBLE;' PRINTING OFFICES, PLACES WHERE THE BOOK WAS FOR SALE, PRIVATE HOUSES AND INDIVIDUALS WERE SEARCHED, AND ALL COPIES FOUND WERE DESTROYED. Only three copies that are accessible to scholars are now known to be in existence, one is in the library in the University of Bonn, one in a library in Stuttgart, and one in the New York Public Library" (Porter, p. 139).

THE SPANISH BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED

In the fifteenth century a Roman Catholic priest named BONIFACIO FERRER translated the whole Scriptures into the Valencian or Catalanian dialect of Spain. He died in 1417, but his translation was printed in Valencia in 1478. In spite of the fact that it was produced by a Catholic, "it had scarcely made its appearance when it was suppressed by the Inquisition, who ordered the whole impression to be devoured by the flames. So strictly was this order carried into execution, that scarcely a single copy appears to have escaped" (M'Crie, History of the Progress and Suppression of the Reformation in Spain, 1829, pp. 191, 92). In 1645 four leaves of this translation were discovered in a monastery.

In 1543 the FRANCISCO DE ENZINAS Spanish New Testament was published with the title "The New Testament, that is, the New Covenant of our Only Redeemer and Saviour Jesus Christ, translated from the Greek to the Castillian [Spanish] language." Enzinas presented a copy of his New Testament to Charles V, Emperor of the Roman Empire (1519-1558), during the emperor's visit to Brussels, who gave it to his Catholic confessor, Pedro de Soto. "After various delays, Enzinas, having waited on the confessor, was upbraided by him as an enemy to religion, who had tarnished the honor of his native country; and refusing to acknowledge a fault, was seized by the officers of justice and thrown into prison" (M'Crie, History of the Reformation in Spain, pp. 194-95). Francisco's father and uncles visited him in prison and reproached him for dishonoring his family. After fifteen months' confinement he miraculously escaped prison in Brussels and fled to Antwerp, then on to England, where, in 1548, he was given the chair of Greek at Cambridge. He returned to the continent in 1550 and died of the plague at Strasbourg in 1553. Most of his New Testaments were burned and all of his manuscripts were destroyed by the Inquisition.

Another man who was raised up by God to provide the Spanish world with a vernacular Bible was JUAN PEREZ DE PINEDA (c. 1490-1567). In Seville, Spain, as the head of the College of Doctrine, he began to study the Bible and rejected Roman Catholic doctrine. When persecution began against the believers in that area, Perez and some of his friends were able to flee from Spain. Perez settled in Geneva and was the first to form a Spanish church in that city (M'Crie, p. 363). Afterwards he moved to France. His translation of the New Testament into Spanish, relying heavily on the Enzinas version, was published in 1556 in Geneva.

Another of the men who fled Spain's inquisition terrors was CASSIODORO DE REINA (1520-1594). As a monk in the San Isidro del Campo monastery in Seville he joined the Protestant revival and rejected Catholic doctrine. Arrested and sentenced to death, Reina was able to escape from prison and flee to London, where he preached to a Spanish congregation (Lupton, A History of the Geneva Bible, I, p. 40). Later he journeyed to Geneva and associated with the Protestant Spanish church there, pastored by the aforementioned Juan Perez de Pineda. In 1567 Reina completed a Spanish New Testament that "is hailed to this day as the greatest literary triumph in Spanish history." Reina settled in Basle, and the entire Bible appeared in 1569.

Reina's work was taken over by CIPRIANO DE VALERA (1532-1602?).

Like Enzinas and Reina, Valera had fled the inquisition in Spain. In 1565 Valera joined Oxford University and became well known for his linguistic expertise, "having mastered at least ten languages." He revised and corrected Reina's work and published the New Testament in London in 1596, and, the entire Bible in 1602 in Amsterdam.

All of these Spanish Bibles "were accompanied with vindications of the practice of translating the scriptures into vernacular languages, and the right of the people to read them" (M'Crie, p. 202).

What a contrast this was with the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church. As late as 1747, the inquisitor general in Spain fretted that "some men carried their audacity to the execrable extreme of asking permission to read the sacred scriptures in the vulgar tongue, not afraid of finding in them the most deadly poison" (M'Crie, p. 202, f3).

Pope Julius III addressed a bull to the inquisitors in 1550 in which he warned them of the Spanish Bibles which were being smuggled into the country (M'Crie, History of the Reformation in Spain, p. 203). The inquisitors were given instructions "to seize all the copies, and proceed with the utmost rigour against those who should retain them, without excepting members of universities, colleges or monasteries. ... At the same time the strictest precautions were adopted to prevent the importation of such books by placing officers at all the sea-ports and land-passes, with authority to search every package, and the person of every traveller that should enter the kingdom" (M'Crie, p. 204).

THE FRENCH BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED

JACQUES LEFEVRE (1455-1536), a professor at the University of Paris, published a French New Testament in 1523 and the complete French Bible in 1528. For his labor of love for the French people, the elderly Lefevre was hated and persecuted by the Romanist authorities.

One thing that galled them was Lefevre's principle that all Christians should read the Scriptures. One of these angry authorities exclaimed: "Does he not dare to recommend all the faithful to read the Scriptures? Does he not tell therein that whoever loves not Christ's Word is not a Christian; and that the Word of God is sufficient to lead to eternal life?" (D'Aubigne, III, p. 385).

The Sorbonne, the theological faculty of the University of Paris, condemned Lefevre as a heretic and he was forced to flee to Strasbourg in 1525. In 1531, Lefevre took refuge in southern France and remained there till his death" (Durant, The Story of Civilization, VI, p. 502).

The Sorbonne declared war on printing and printers. In 1534, twenty men and one woman were burnt alive. One of those was a printer whose sole crime was printing some of Luther's writings, while another was a bookseller who had sold the same.

An edict was issued in 1546 by the Roman Catholic authorities against Lefevre and his work, in which the following statement is found: "It is neither expedient nor useful for the Christian public that any translation of the Bible should be permitted to be printed; but that they ought to be suppressed as injurious." It was also ordered that any person possessing a copy of it should deliver it up within eight days (John Beardslee, The Bible among the Nations, 1899, pp. 211, 12).

Many French believers were burned for distributing the Bible. Foxe's unabridged Martyrology is a massive set of books. I own a copy of the 8th edition, which was printed in 1641. It is 3 volumes folio, 3227 pages, the three volumes together almost one foot in width, and each page 9 X 13.5 inches. Roughly 150 of these large pages are dedicated to an enumeration of just some of the French martyrs. Following are a few examples:

In 1925 a Gospel preacher named Schuch was burned in the town of Nancy in France. When he was arrested and tried, he had his Bible with him, and holding the same as he stood before his accusers, he preached to them out of the Scriptures and "meekly yet forcibly confessed Christ crucified." His words so incised his tormentors that "transported with rage, they rushed upon him with violent cries, TORE AWAY THE BIBLE FROM WHICH HE WAS READING THIS MENACING LANGUAGE, and like mad dogs, unable to bite his doctrine, THEY BURNT IT in their convent." The man was immediately condemned to be burned alive, and the sentence was quickly carried out. "On the 19th of August 1525 the whole city of Nancy was in motion. The bells were tolling for the death of a heretic. The mournful procession set out. When the martyr reached the place of execution, HIS BOOKS WERE BURNT BEFORE HIS FACE; he was then called upon to retract; but he refused, saying, "It is thou, O God, who hast called me, and thou wilt give me strength unto the end." Having mounted the pile, he continued to recite the psalm until the smoke and the flames stifled his voice" (D'Aubigne, History of the Reformation, III, pp. 468, 69).

In 1546 Peter Chapot was burned to death for bringing French Bibles into France and for selling them. Because of his bold testimony at the place of persecution, a decree was made that "all which were to be burned, unless they recanted at the fire, should have their tongues cut off. Which law diligently afterward was observed" (Foxe, unabridged, 1641, II, p. 133).

Stephen Polliot was also arrested in 1546 with a bag of Scriptures and Gospel books he was distributing. His tongue was cut out and he was burned, "his satchel of books hanging about his neck" (Foxe, unabridged, II, p. 134).

Nicholas Nayle, a shoemaker, was arrested in Paris and burned in 1553 for bringing parcels of books to distribute among the believers.

In 1554 Dionysius Vayre, who had smuggled many books into France, was arrested in Normandy and sentenced to be "burned alive, and thrice lifted up, and let down again into the fire" (Foxe, unabridged, II, p. 145).

Waldensian bookseller Bartholmew Hector was arrested in 1556. When the Inquisition judge said, "You have been caught in the act of selling books that contain heresy; what say you?" Hector replied, "If the Bible is heresy to you, it is truth to me." After languishing in prison for several months, Hector was burned at the stake.

THE DUTCH BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED

In 1270 JACOB VAN MAERLANDT completed the four Gospels in Dutch. "This effort aroused the wrath of the Roman Catholic Bishop of Utrecht, who thought it was disrespectful to the Scriptures thus to bring them within the reach of the common people, and Van Maerlandt nearly lost his life as a reward for his labor" (John Beardslee, The Bible among the Nations, p. 175).

In 1526 the first entire Bible in Dutch was published by JACOB VAN LIESVELDT in Antwerp, and 20 years later Liesveldt was beheaded in Antwerp "for his printing labours" (Lupton, A History of the Geneva Bible, I, p. 35).

THE ITALIAN BIBLE WAS PERSECUTED

ANTONIO BRUCIOLI published an Italian New Testament at Venice in 1530 and an entire Bible two years later. Brucioli also produced a commentary on the whole Bible, which was published in seven volumes. "His translations of the Bible were put into the first class of forbidden books, and all his works, on whatever subject, 'published or to be published,' together with all books which came from his press, even after his death, were strictly prohibited. ... violent measures were afterwards employed for its suppression" (M'Crie, Reformation in Italy, 1856, pp. 56, 57).

Subject: THE TRUTH SHALL SET US FREE - SHOCKING REVELATION

Dear Henry :

Good Day My Dear Friend.

About your e-mail, Dalai Lama is the most holiest man in Budhist religion. Dalai Lama is a Tibetan national (TIBET). After World War II (defeat of Japan and the 1st Atomic Bomb drop in Hisroshima as per historical tradition) Dalai Lama saw the film of destruction. A single B-29 Superfortress dropped Atomic Bomb nicknamed "Little Boy", the B-29 is piloted by Col. Paul Tibbet, B-29 name is Enola Gay "Col. Tibbet's grandmother's name). China becomes a total communist country under Mao Tse Tung. China invaded Tibet and in-fact invited Dalai Lama is Peking. But the two leaders did not reached mutual understanding. Chinese troops wants to capture Dalai Lama, but Dalai Lama's royal advisers advised him to escape out of Tibet. Yes, Dalai Lama escaped and reach the border of India. India welcomed Dalai Lama for there are also Budhist in India.

The Order's CIA got the Dalai Lama out of China after it had brought Mao Tse-tung to power in 1949. This created the impression of a real Cold War when in fact it was a Hoax controlled on both sides by the Jesuits.

Tibet is very backward country, because Dalai Lama and the Budhist doesn't believe in human technological advancement and progress. Up to this present time, it is believe that Dalai Lama still unable to return to Tibet, see the movie KUNDUM.

My dear friend, I'm a historian and I knew world history too much. However, there are world historical events and truth that being hidden for many years. I learned since 1986 way back when I was still working in an Oil Refinery in Saudi Arabia where reading and world history research becomes my hobby up to now.

There are no mysteries in an OPEN MIND. What I will attach here in Acrobat PDF File will blown you out of your socks in shock. Darkest secret in human history now being unfolded to millions of people due to advance technology like e-mail. There are no secrets that can be hidden forever, it will come out whether we like it or not. From the mouth of Phil. Senator Joker Arroyo said that anti-government protests and rally are sponsored and run by the Jesuits (the most powerful of all Roman Catholic Priest Order), I almost fell down at my chair. The very reason, our country is now in deep political turmoil.

Oliver Cromwell, a member of the British Parliament warned King Chrales that the Roman Catholic Church is not a true christian religion but only a POLITICAL POWER. King Charles is stubborn, yes he betrayed the British people by making alliance with the VATICAN. The very reason, King Charles was the only monarch of England that was beheaded publicly. Today, the main objective of the VATICAN is to destroy the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Agreed.

Once United States collapsed which I see will happen in the near future, the whole world will be in Chaos. A new world order will be implemented, the whole world is going crazy now. Before the Americans, the Filipinos and the rest of world's race and countries, it is too late. The book of Revelation will reveal who is the world leader to take-over. I'm now giving you a hint, because I care for you and we are both came in the Province of Batangas.

The Philippines is now in political crisis, our politicians are almost going wild and crazy finding the answers and who are the real culprits. I knew from the beginning that the JESUITS ORDER are behind the scene. You'll see, everytime there are political turmoils, civil unrest, rebellion the Catholic Priests and Nuns are also in the rally and protest and even conducting masses in the streets of Metro-Manila. Just watch, GMA-7 News "24 ORAS" with Mel Tiangco and Mike Enriquez and ABS-CBN 2 "TV Patrol".

You will see Archbishop Cruz of Pangasinan is very hard to fight JUETENG, whereas the PAGCOR 60% earnings goes to the Catholic High Ranking Bishops. You'll also notice the mother of all tapes (HELLO GARCI) being kept by former NBI Chief Samuel Ong was handed over to Bishop Teodoro Bacani in a Semanarista Convent in Guadalupe, Makati City. And why Father Reyes and Father Dizon are so actively involve where our constitution guaranteed separation between the Church and the State.

You'll also notice that the public schools and government owned schools taught us and brought by the American Thomasites are now neglected. And that almost all exclusive schools with thousands of pesos truition fee for even elementary students are owned by the Catholic Church : La Salle, Ateneo, Letran, San Beda, San Sebastian, La Consolacion, Sacred Heart, Mary Knoll, Don Bosco, etc.

Lastly, I've no doubt why Dr. Jose Rizal, Bonifacio, Mabini, Tandang Sora "MELCHORA AQUINO" and all KATIPUNEROS (KKK) are very angry and shouting in words and in letters a total FREEDOM against the Spansih Government and the CATHOLIC CHURCH. Filipinos are ignorant about this, the United States Government paid US$ 25,000,000.00 to the Vatican through Spanish Government in Treaty Of Paris. Up to now the balance US$ 25,000,000.00 to make agreed total of 50 Million still not yet been paid by the US Government to the Vatican via Spanish Government.

These are just 1/16 of an inch history that I will share with you to find reality. JESUS CHRIST said "THE TRUTH SHALL SET US FREE" only that many of my countrymen are stubborn headed to know and to THINK WISELY was is really happening. I share with you more. Kahit ako masama ang loob ko, 500 years na tayong Catholic country lalong nagkalugmok-lugmok sa kahirapan at katiwalian, imbis na bumuti laolong sumama ang ating bansa. Look at Japan, Thailand, Singapore, Brunei, Taiwan, Korea and Malaysia they are not Catholic but well developed countries.

Your honest friend and slave of GOD.

Bobby G. Limeta

My life is now in great danger, soon I will be assassinated. For I knew Jesuit movement, like what happen to US President Abraham Lincoln, John F. Kennedy, and Ninoy Aquino all shot in the head "same technique". My dear brother in Christ ERIC JON PHELPS of Pennsylvavnia, USA. Knew and believed what I'm saying. His books "VATICAN ASSASSINS". You may send e-mail to him at eric@vaticanassassins.org he will testify on my behalf that I'm telling the TRUTH, that the Philippines is Jesuit Control of the Roman Catholic Church, the very reason our country is always in deep political turmoil and soon may create civil war and evn now a COUP DE ETAT is imminent.

I believe the levees were blown. The honest Black man interviewed by ABC news posted on Hal Turner's website is most convincing in his testimony. Further, if the Order would blow the WTC using Knight of Malta DCI George J. Tenet, it would surely blow the levee---for many predetermined reasons.

The Order's Fox News touched on this story last night citing mulatto, Masonic, NOI leader Louis Farrakhan who in turn obtained his information from the White Roman Catholic Hal Turner. Most interesting: both blame America's ills on the Jews and thus both are Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors evidenced by their doctrines.

do you think they blasted the levees to purposely cause the flood or do you think they broke because of the surge.

Hey Brother Eric:

I've been in contact with two parties about the levee blasting. One, who goes by the blog name xgovgirl and does use the name Christine Meyer, I've caught passing disinfo about a nuclear plant leaking radioactive waste into the flood waters.

Another party--a couple actually--are claiming the 16th street canal was blown to save the business district and upscale section from flooding. They seem far more credible, but I'm asking them to come on Friday night and repeat the assertions. So far, no answer.

There's a great deal of disinfo being peddled out there; alot of charges without substantiation.

Indeed, but I know the levees were blown as the Jesuits are in complete control of New Orleans with the fortresses of Xavier and Loyola colleges in town.

By the way, did Wilcox send you that editorial cartoon from 1893 about Pope Leo's designs on America?

God bless,

Thanks for this and I will send this around.

Cardinal Spellman was able to get the US congress to spend millions of "dollars" on the Philippines for the building of Jesuit schools destroyed by Allied bombing during WWII. That fact can be found in John Cooney's The American Pope.

Thus the Jesuit Power in your country is directly attributable to the Order's Federal Reserve Bank extending credit to the Congress to build the Order's empire in the Philippines.

Indeed, we are allies dear brother.

John Coleman has fingered a few Jesuits in his book, Conspirators' Hierarchy: The Story of the Committee of 300. One of them is Joseph Rettinger, a high Jesuit priest of the Fourth Vow and 33rd Degree Freemason, who founded the Bilderbergers (p. 52). This fact Alex Jones will never tell. The "Olympians" Colman points to as the POWER in the earth (p. 21) are in fact the Jesuits. This is why Masonic J. P. Morgan and his Jesuit superiors built and named their White Star Line deathship, "The Titanic." In Greek mythology, the "Titans" were defeated by the "Olympians."

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:49 AM (GMT)

Hello Eric,

I enjoyed reading your interview with The Spectrum. You made quite a few points that put pieces of the world political puzzle together for me.

Unfortunately, the interview was prior to 911 and the election of the new pope from the Jesuit order. I made a few connections that I wanted to run past you to get your opinion.

I am always interested as I learn much from these emails.

Of course the election of the new pope just falls in line with the Jesuit's plan to dominate the Vatican; however my observations are less ominous than that whole scenario. You brought up the Cromwell massacre at Drogheda and I immediately thought of the movie the Thorn Birds.

I do not like to think of what Cromwell did at Drogheda as a "massacre" per se, as a massacre always involves innocent, unarmed people not at war with their executioners. As you must know, the Irish Catholics under the direction of Jesuit priests had been massacring Irish and English Protestants for eight years, from 1641 to 1649, the year Cromwell landed in Ireland to put down the rebellion. By this time 300,000 Protestant men, women and children had been killed in cold blood, the Jesuits attempting to rid the land entirely of the "heretics" pursuant to the Council of Trent.

When Cromwell arrived at Drogheda, he summoned the city to surrender. Ormond with 3000 of his choicest men refused, so Cromwell ultimately stormed the city personally at the head of his Ironsides and the order was given to kill every armed man. Any women and children who left their homes and interfered were also executed. (This was a war between armies the Jesuits had ignited.) Remember the Catholic children had also been taught to torture and kill the Protestant children and had been doing so for years. Cromwell's orders were followed, the massacres ended and over 2000 prisoners were sent to Barbadoes. The same unfolded at Wexford. After the examples of both cities, Ireland surrendered and peace was restored under the rule of Cromwell's son-in-law, Lt. General Ireton who was later poisoned by the Order. So, that is my clarification on the point of the so called "massacre."

It's about a Jesuit priest taking the wealth of a widow's ranch in Australia called Drogheda, which eventually led to his being named a cardinal. Was this connection an accident?

I doubt it, as the Order controls the movie industry here in "Hellishwood" and overseas. The Jesuits stealing money from rich widows has been done hundreds of times over the centuries including a few of the widows who survived the Jesuit deathship Titanic. This theft is encouraged in the Order's Secret Instructions which I offered with VA and will offer with VAlll yet to come.

I will try to find the movie, The Thornbirds. Thanks for the lead my friend.

Also, the release of the movie, The Passion of the Christ, was done by a Jesuit producer/actor, Mel Gibson, who also did a movie called Conspiracy Theory. Again, is this just an accident?

No. Both Mel Gibson and his father, Hutton, are members of the Jesuit controlled Opus Dei. As you say, I too believe Mel is a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor. And Gibson had a Jesuit priest advising him on the set. The Christ of the occult and evil The Passion of the Christ, is the false Christ of Romanism as you must know already.

I also wanted to know if you thought the date of the Drogheda massacre of September 11 has any connection to the timing of the World Trade Center disaster?

I was totally unaware that the storming of the breaches in the walls of Drogheda was on the same day as the attack on the WTC! According to J. T. Headley in his The Life of Oliver Cromwell (1848), Cromwell arrived on the 3rd, on the 9th all was in place, he hoisted the red flag summoning the city and then opened fire. On the 9th and 10th the canons did their work on the walls. On the 11th Cromwell ordered two separate attacks but they were repelled. The third attack he personally led into the deadly breach and all was swept before him. His Ironsides followed up and swept the field. September 11, 1649 was the closest Cromwell ever came to defeat. Headley called it a "massacre."

So would the Jesuits, on the very same day, bring down the WTC and thus ignite a Crusade against Islam in remembrance of Cromwell defeating the Order at Drogheda? Why not? It makes perfect sense to me, as the Order in control of the Masonic Japanese military High Command and the US Office of Naval Intelligence (Admiral Chester Nimitz) secretly arranged the sinking of the USS Indianapolis on July 31, 1945. That day was also the feast day of Ignatius Loyola during which the finest food is placed before all in the Order in celebration of their wicked founder. On that day in 1945, the high Jesuits in the know had a good laugh knowing that the sharks were also having a feast on American sailors in the Pacific.

Best wishes,

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Thanks again my friend. Great info.

I noticed that Irish Catholic Mr. Hagan of the Heritage Foundation is Opus Dei. And Fox constantly is hosting Heritage Foundation people. SMOM Frank Shakespeare was the head of Heritage for years---and another Kennedy assassin. One of my advisors was Air Force Intel and knew Shakespeare personally. He told me that Frank Shakespeare was one of the six most intelligent and educated men he ever met.

Title: The Truth About Mel Gibson's The Passion Of The Ch

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:06 AM (GMT)

The Truth About Mel Gibson's The Passion Of The Christ

On February 25th, 2004 , a new movie directed by superstar Mel Gibson opened in thousands of theatres throughout the United States . It was Ash Wednesday, as it is called by many, when the new movie, The Passion Of The Christ, was presented to the general public. The general consensus of massive multi-million dollar ministries was, "This is a 'must-see' movie!" At this point, we must remember that we are living in the end-time, and that these last days are days of great deception and strong delusion. Jesus himself said in Matthew 24:5, "For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many." The Mel Gibson movie presents a two-dimensional Christ who is found in the secret chambers called movie theatres where admission money must be paid or those chambers cannot be entered. In Matthew 24:26 Jesus said, "Wherefore if they shall say unto you... behold he is in the secret chambers: believe it not." In Luke 17:22 Jesus said, "The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the son of man, and ye shall not see it. And they shall say to you, see here; or, see there: go not after them, nor follow them." The religious leaders are telling the millions of people that they must go and see one of the days of the Son of Man, and since most Christians can no longer think or discern, they will blindly follow blind leaders, and as Jesus said, "They will all fall in the ditch!" If people would only pray fervently and stay in the true Word of God instead of performing like trained seals in front of their religious leaders, they could then survive the gross darkness of deception.

One vital fact that we must never forget is that the crucifixion of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, happened only once, and that singular event is effectual for all eternity. Hebrews 6:6 warns of what happens if that event were re-enacted in any way as the following words reveal: "... Seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame."

Another point that must be remembered is that the movie claims to depict the "last twelve hours" of Jesus' life on earth. This is an outright lie because Acts 1:3 clearly states, "To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God ."

It is quite obvious that God does not approve of this movie for we can see clearly that His Word condemns it. During the filming of the movie, God was sending obvious signs of His disapproval. The star, Jim Caviezel, who played the part of Jesus, had the following things happen to him during the filming. Caviezel suffered hypothermia as he hung on the cross nearly naked and caught pneumonia and a lung infection. He dislocated his shoulder while carrying the cross, and he was struck by lightning twice. This was confirmed by an Associated Press report. In another scene, Caviezel was chained to a post to be whipped, and in the simulation, the actor doing the whipping missed and actually struck Jim Caviezel putting a 14-inch gash in his back. When this happened, Caviezel said, "I may be playing Jesus, but I felt like Satan at that moment. I turned to him, a couple of expletives came out of my mouth." There you have it! Jim Caviezel, the man playing Jesus said he felt like Satan, and began to cuss at the other actor.

Another star of the movie, The Passion of the Christ, who was hand-picked by Mel Gibson, is Monica Bellucci, who plays Mary Magdalene. Monica Bellucci is well known in Hollywood as a hard-core pornography star! She has starred in such movies as "Irreversible", which reportedly included rape scenes so explicit and intense that at its premiere showing, 250 people walked out, and some needed medical attention. Twenty people had to be given oxygen. This is the woman chosen by Mel Gibson to be a star in his movie. When we consider that such ministries as Focus on the Family are promoting the Mel Gibson movie with its pornography star, we can see that Dr. James Dobson is out of focus and should have done his homework! Dr. Tim LaHaye said: "Everyone should see this movie. It could be Hollywood's finest achievement to date."

There is also a powerful mystical side to the Mel Gibson production containing elements of witchcraft. One review said, "Flashbacks, special effects, and a sulfurous evil presence lurks throughout the film." Jim Caviezel said, "I drew heavily on my Catholic upbringing, reread the Gospels and studied writings of Christian mystics." Caviezel also said, "Ivan Dragicevic and his wife Lorraine gave me a piece of the true cross. I kept this on me all the time. They made a special pocket in my clothes for it. I also had relics of Padre Pio, St Anothony of Padoua, St Maria Goretti, and Saint Denisius, the patron saint of actors."

Mel Gibson stated that he based his script largely on the visions of two Catholic mystic nuns: St. Anne Catherine Emmerich, who was an 18th century Augustinian nun, and Mary of Agreda, who was a 17th century Franciscan nun. Gibson said, "Emmerich supplied me with stuff I never would have thought of." The script was originally written in English for this movie but was translated by a Jesuit priest, who calls himself "Father" William J. Fulco.

It was quite a script and was filled with blood and torture to excessive extremes. The Bible does not use such intricate details. The Scripture tells us what we need to know. In Luke 23:33 it says, "And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary , there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left." It is also of great interest to note that when Diane Sawyer interviewed Mel Gibson she asked him, "It's your hand in the film holding the nail?" He answered, "It is, yeah, my left hand." Gibson made a point of the fact that it was his left hand holding and positioning a nail to be driven through the hand of Jesus. In the occult, the left hand indicates "the force", and the Latin for left is sinister. There is a high order in esoteric Illuminism called Ordo Sinistra Vivendi or "Order of the Left Hand Path." Its purpose is to destroy Christianity by deception.

During a showing of the Passion movie in Wichita , Kansas , a woman was watching as Gibson's left hand held the nail, and at the precise moment when the nail was driven in and blood poured forth, she dropped dead. Kansas is the geographical center of our country and the nail was centered by Gibson's sinister hand. Was this a sign?

Has this wicked nation that persists in evil crucified the Son of God afresh and put Him to an open shame? Is this dead woman being carried from a theater a sign from God? As a former occultist and witch, saved by the grace of God, I discern the evil in this Mel Gibson movie, The Passion of the Christ! It should be avoided as a deadly abomination.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:46 AM (GMT)

Hello Eric,

Thank you for responding to my inquiries. However, I was unaware of the satanic nature of The Passion of the Christ. Other than a few dramatic licenses Mel took with the portrayal of demons and of Satan, I thought the movie followed the gospel story fairly closely. As a Southern Baptist that got caught up in the frenzy of this movie along with a large majority of the conservative Christian movement in America, please explain your characterization of the movie for my edification. I try to look for the subtle messages in movies, but I must have missed this one. It would probably interest my wife as well, who like you, is an avid scholar of the King James Version of the Bible, and was also impressed with the movie.

Knowing that the Christ of Romanism is not the Christ of the Reformation New Testament English Bible (the AV1611) the Christ portrayed in The Passion was the mythical Christ of Romanism. Opus Dei Mel Gibson produced the film being supervised by Jesuit William Fulco. This puts us on alert. First, the Jesuit's Christ had long hair and had a Japhetic, White Gentile appearance. Secondly, the Jesuit's Christ had the right eye closed and was left-eyed for the duration of the movie after taking a beating. Thus the Jesuit's Christ has the left "all-seeing eye," the left always being evil. The Jesuit's devil when tempting the Jesuit's Christ is portrayed as a hermaphrodite with a female facial appearance. The Jesuit's Christ walks "the stations of the cross." There is no such thing in the Bible. When the Jesuit's Christ falls under the weight of the cross, his mother Mary comes to him and strengthens him. When the Jesuit's Christ is taken off the cross, he is held by his mother, "the Virgin Mary," giving us Michaelangelo's "Pieta." The Bible account records Joseph of Arimathea taking down the body of Messiah, Mary is nowhere in sight.

These are but a few of the most notorious contradictions to the record of the first coming of the true Messiah of Israel as found in the AV1611. The Passion of the [Jesuit] Christ is a production of Opus Dei under the supervision of an aged and learned servant of Satan, Jesuit William Fulco.

Regarding your affiliation with the Southern Baptists, I strongly suggest that you separate from that group as its Convention is controlled by Masons, the denomination hosting at least 500,000 Freemasons as members. One of its most noted members is 33rd Degree Billy Graham, another Coadjutor for the Order in destroying the Protestant Reformation in North America.

As she and I have always viewed the Catholic Church as a heathen denomination, it would be of great interest to us both to know how the Jesuits managed to spin the passion story.

Also, you seem to denote a differentiation between Satan and Lucifer. You refer to the Jesuits as Luciferians but not Satan worshipers; what is the difference?

There is no difference between Satan and Lucifer. "Lucifer" was Satan's name before he fell. But the high Jesuits ruling the world worship Lucifer in their doctrine as reflected in their religion of occult Freemasonry. The Order differentiates between Satan and Lucifer, the Bible does not.

My grandfather, father and older brother are all Masons, and since I've heard this reference to the Masonic order as well, I'd like to understand the specifics. I can't get anything about the group out of either my dad or brother.

They are under death oaths and will never tell you. There are a few good books on Masonry. William Still is one of the best. Another is Jim Shaw with his The Deadly Deception.

I also have a unique take on the Catholics. Although I was a Methodist growing up in Milwaukee, (prior to moving to Kentucky and converting to S. Baptist for my wife) my parents decided to send me to a private high school to try and save me from the drugs and violence in the public schools. All the good private schools in Milwaukee and the surrounding areas are catholic so I graduated from Dominican High School in Whitefish Bay Wisconsin. I had to take four years of their religion classes, so received a good indoctrination into the religion. It's interesting however, that I first tested to get into Marquette High School, run by the Jesuits, and although I scored high in the entry exam, they would not admit me because I was not catholic. I did get payback on the football field though. Anyway, I drag on too much.

All of this is very fascinating to me and I could go on for hours, (I do have to know about the whole Hiroshima, nuclear conspiracy you talked about - my father was a Lt. Colonel in the Air Force and worked on the ICBM program and never expressed any doubts as to the legitimacy of the U.S. nuclear complex) but I'll try not to bore you too much and just locate your book, but thank you for taking the time to educate me on this subject matter.

Best wishes,

VAllI will be out in about one month. The Airborne Nuclear War Hoax is included therein.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Mel Gibson's Secret Meeting With Fatima Visionary

Tuesday, Jan. 11, 2005 10:18 a.m. EST

Actor Mel Gibson held a secret meeting with one of the famous visionaries of Fatima, Sister Lucia of Portugal.

user posted image

Sister Lucia, now 98 years of age, is a cloistered nun who as a child saw and spoke with the Virgin Mary in Fatima, Portugal, in 1917.

Her visions and those of her two childhood friends, both since passed away, were both prophetic and apocalyptic. The Catholic Church accepted the visions as authentic.

Fatima-based Unity Publishing's Richard Salbato recently revealed in an online report that after the nuns asked for a private showing of Gibson's film "The Passion of the Christ," Gibson not only OK'd the viewing, but the actor flew to Coimbra, Portugal, to personally introduce the film to Lucia and her Sisters.

During Lent of 2004, the nuns at the convent in Coimbra, where Sister Lucia lives, wanted to see the film as a devotional aid in preparation for Good Friday and Easter.

Unable to leave the convent or meet face-to-face with outsiders because of the strict Carmelite rules governing cloistered sisters – and lacking the modern convenience of a DVD player – they sought to contact Mel Gibson's Icon Productions for help.

According to Unity, word was sent out from the Convent to make contact with Icon or Gibson to get a DVD for the convent.

Thanks to a girl in Porto, Portugal, Luciana Regadas, who knew a volunteer worker for Icon Productions and Mel Gibson, Lourdes Gutierrez, this contact was made. Gutierrez had been involved with the movie in a volunteer capacity, helping to put together two screenings in the Miami, Fla., area.

According to Unity, "Mel Gibson had come to Fatima in September of 2003 to ask Our Lady for help in the film and later Jim Caviezel (the actor who played Christ) came to show the film to religious institutions to get their opinions of the movie. He even went to the Convent in Coimbra to show the film but was refused because he insisted on going behind the cloister which is not permitted."

Lourdes Gutierrez recalled that "Ninety-two e-mails back and forth later and many phone calls, a deal was set to show the film to the nuns. This was difficult because there were no DVDs yet and only 1 inch tapes, which require special cameras and large pull down screens.

"We even got approval for Mel Gibson to see Lucia in a private meeting, but because Mel Gibson might be attacked as using Lucia to promote his film, he, Mel Gibson, and not the convent, insisted that such a visit would be strictly secret.

"In the end only Father Condor, the convent and the Icon Production crew knew of the date of showing the film. We knew the month but that was all. It must have cost Mel Gibson ten to twenty thousand dollars to show this film to the convent because it took a full crew of camera men.

"Mel Gibson later came into Portugal to promote the Portuguese version of the film and then sneaked over to the Convent without anyone knowing and met with Sister Lucia. We were told not to print this or let anyone know unless the Convent or Mel Gibson gave permission for it. This did not come until after the film ran its course in the theaters and the DVD ran its campaign in the stores."

Mel Gibson visited Lucia of Fatima at the Carmel convent last July. He was accompanied by his wife, Robin Moore, and Fr. Luis Condor.

According to the convent's Mother Superior Celina, the actor and his wife are wonderful and very humble people.

"He is very outspoken and a person easily to be liked, and he answered all of our questions about the movie. Some questions were asked by Sr. Lucy, who attended the meeting which lasted for about an hour, was always very alert following the conversation," she told Unity.

According to Unity, what the nuns or Lucia said about the movie is unknown and may never be known because statements by Lucia or, for that matter, any Carmelite nun anywhere in the world are always sent through the bishop or the Holy Father first.

Because of her power of influence, Lucia must be very careful what she says publicly since she is one of the possessors of the so-called "Third Secret of Fatima."

As a child, Sister Lucia and her friends Jacinta and Francisco saw the Virgin Mary in a series of apparitions.

While playing in a field outside the village of Fatima during World War I they saw a flash of light on top of a small evergreen tree. The light turned out to be the Virgin Mary, who asked that they come back on the 13th of each month for the next six months, at which times she would tell them who she was and what she wanted.

During the apparitions, the Virgin Mary made some prophecies, telling the children that if man did not stop offending God, a second great war would begin during the reign of Pope Pius XI. Twenty-Two years later, World War II broke out in Europe.

The Virgin Mary also warned that Russia, unless converted, would wreak havoc upon the world. This was before the rise of the Soviet Union.

Mary also confided to the girls the so-called Third Secret. The Secret was to be read by the pope in office in 1960 and then publicized. As it turned out, Pope John XXIII was the pope at that time who read the secret and decided to not reveal its contents.

The contents of the Third Secret were shared with John XXIII's successors. In June 2000, Pope John Paul II released the Third Secret.

The message, as recounted by Lucia, warned of tribulation for the world and persecution of the Catholic Church, including the shooting of the pope.

Some Church officials believe that the shooting of John Paul II in 1982 was a fulfilment of the prophecy, while others believe it has yet to be fulfilled. Others wonder if the full details of the Third Secret have been revealed.

Asked in 1980 why the Secret had yet to be released, Pope John Paul II told a German audience:

"Because of the seriousness of its contents, in order not to encourage the worldwide power of Communism to carry out certain coups, my Predecessors in the Chair of Peter have diplomatically preferred to withhold its publication.

"On the other hand, it should be sufficient for all Christians to know this much: if there is a message in which it is said that the oceans will flood entire sections of the earth; that, from one moment to the other, millions of people will perish ... there is no longer any point in really wanting to publish this secret message.

"Many want to know merely out of curiosity, or because of their taste for sensationalism, but they forget that 'to know' implies for them a responsibility. It is dangerous to want to satisfy one's curiosity only, if one is convinced that we can do nothing against a catastrophe that has been predicted."

At this point, the Holy Father took hold of his Rosary and said: "Here is the remedy against the evil! Pray, pray and ask for nothing else. Put everything in the hands of the Mother of God!"

John Paul II continued: "We must be prepared to undergo great trials in the not-too-distant future; trials that will require us to be ready to give up even our lives, and a total gift of self to Christ and for Christ.

"Through your prayers and mine, it is possible to alleviate this tribulation, but it is no longer possible to avert it, because it is only in this way that the Church can be effectively renewed. How many times, indeed, has the renewal of the Church been effected in blood? This time, again, it will not be otherwise.

"We must be strong, we must prepare ourselves, we must entrust ourselves to Christ and to His holy Mother, and we must be attentive, very attentive, to the prayer of the Rosary."

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:44 AM (GMT)

Hi Eric

In answer to your questions, as given below,

According to All Roads Lead to Rome? by Michael de Semlyn, ISBN 0 9518386 0 1, the Jesuits "were banned from residence in England until 1902." This was during the reign of Edward VII, Queen Victoria's eldest son, who acceded to the throne on Victoria's death in January 1901.

http://www.bbc.co.uk/history/historic_figures/vii_king.shtml

The banning of the Jesuits did not stop their intrigues against Britain, of course, as your own researches have shown with respect to the Oxford and Tractarian movements.

Sadly, Queen Victoria, though a promoter of the AV1611, opened dialogue with the Vatican on her own initiative in 1877, when she sent a deputation to Rome at the time of the Jubilee of Pope Pius IX. Rome has never looked back since then. The account is given in Reformation and Counter Reformation by J.R. Broome. Unfortunately, it does not have an ISBN. The best place to try for it would be The Protestant Truth Society Bookshop, <http://protestant-truth.org/bookshop/>

The significance of the year 1829 is that it is the year of the Emancipation Act, to allow Catholics to re-enter parliament. It is surprising that England expelled the Jesuits at the same time, though I guess that might have been part of a 'deal' - futile, of course. However, 1829 is also outside Victoria's reign. She came to the throne in 1837.

The following is part of a very long (132 pages) discourse I had a few years back with a well-informed catholic, who in hindsight must have been well brought up on Jesuit casuistry. I can easily send you a copy, as a Word attachment, if you wish, as and when it would be opportune. It is a lot to wade through, though. I found I was using Rev. J.A. Wylie a lot, History of Protestantism.

I also used Albert Close's book a lot. That, too, should be available from the Protestant Truth Society.

However, this is what I summarised about the Catholic Emancipation Act of 1829. I have no doubt it was another Jesuit ploy (even if they got themselves banned as part of the deal). See below.

I might add that in response to my comment 9, my correspondent said that the leading Nazis were not excommunicated because they had already left the Catholic Church. An outrageous lie, of course, as Paris shows in citing Franco's paper Reforme, The Secret History of the Jesuits, Section 5, Chapter 5.

*Best regards
Alan*

P.S. Blakeney is the author of Popery in its Social Aspect, written in the 19th century and hard to get hold of - if the PTS don't stock it, you would need to consult rare book finders. I do have an address for this, if they are still in business.

P.P.S. Don't forget Dr Ian Paisley in any researches. I think he is THE authority in the UK on Rome. <http://www.ianpaisley.org/main.asp>

COMMENT 9: According to Blakeney (55) p 39ff, Catholic Emancipation [1829] resulted mainly from pledges given by leading Catholics of the time to “disavow any intention to subvert the Protestant Establishment, for the purpose of substituting a Roman Catholic Establishment in its stead” (Lord Brougham, 1813). “On every side, [Roman Catholics] asked for equal privileges, promising that, if admitted to power, they would respect the established institutions, and conduct themselves in every way as it becometh loyal citizens”. Thus “the doors of the British Parliament were thrown open to them in 1829”. Blakeney then reproduces the oath that Roman Catholic Members of Parliament had to take, that they would never “disturb or weaken the Protestant religion or Protestant government in the united kingdom”. He then shows that almost immediately Roman Catholic MP's, particularly Daniel O'Connell, set about the destruction of the Protestant Church in Ireland, which church was denounced by them as that “from which no imaginable good can flow, but evil after evil in such black and continuous abundance”. (One should note that by the 19th Century, the national Protestant Church was more lenient towards Dissenters, i.e. Methodists, independent Baptists etc., than it had been 150 years before.) Blakeney also quotes from The Tablet p 302-303 which states “The Irish Members are in Parliament, because the priests have sent them there...It is to their (the priests') and to the credit of the people they (the priests) govern”. In other words, Rome upholds her claim to Temporal Power in the British Parliament, in violation of the oaths taken by Roman Catholic Members. I realise that we are nearly 200 years on from those days but the duplicity practised then is more and more apparent now, with the various treaties by which successive governments have betrayed Britain to the EU, beginning with Sir Edward's Heath lie to the Commons in February 1970. As Paul said "a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump" 1 Corinthians 5:6.

I would never take issue with the valour of Roman Catholic servicemen and woman in defence of this country, having visited the graves of Polish paratroopers buried near Oosterbeek, Holland. However, one must distinguish between individuals who genuinely love national freedoms and a system that lays claim to sovereignty over such freedoms. One should never forget the origins of the two great wars of this century, as set out in the works of Paris, Manhattan and others. Nor should one forget that the leading Nazis were all Roman Catholics, who have never been excommunicated by their church. Dr. Ruckman (120) p 71 lists them as Hitler, Goering, Julius Streicher, Franz Stangl (Treblinka), Rudolph Hoess (Auschwitz), Eichmann and Himmler. To these could be added Goebbels, Heydrich and Koch, Commandant of Buchenwald, Ruckman (121) p 664. The Croatian holocaust of 1941-1944 was carried out under the leadership of Pavelic and Archbishop Stepanic, with the knowledge and compliance of Pius XII.

Moreover, one should remember that during World War 1, Benedict XV blessed the Easter Rebellion of 1916, when Britain was almost in her death throes in France. Archbishop Mannix schemed to have Australian troops withdrawn from the front line in 1918, weakening the allied effort at a crucial time and Canadian Jesuits orchestrated sabotage in Canada. The Australian Prime Minister, William Morris Hughes, known as "Billy" Hughes, "the little Digger" stated at Versailles "I represent 60,000 Australian dead" (out of a population of about 3,500,000) and declared Mannix a traitor. These are some of the plots described by Close (87) p 54ff. The tragedy was that Catholics were compelled to fight each other. The late Dr. Alberto Rivera said (5) p 11 "Satan, guiding the Jesuits and the Pope, had German Roman Catholics killing French Roman Catholics. The [Pope] could care less how many Roman Catholics died. He was only after power and revenge". In case this is thought extreme, recall Close p 64, Comment 6d, Chapter 8, who cites the Australian Archbishop Kelly, speaking in 1919.

"I do not mind blood, I do not mind slaughter. I do not mind Revolution, so long as we get what we wish to accomplish".

For England, the terrible words of Cardinal Manning spoken in 1859 ring down the decades:

"If ever there was a land in which work is to be done, and perhaps much to suffer, it is here. I shall not say too much, if I say that we have to SUBJUGATE and SUBDUE, to CONQUER and RULE, an imperial race. We have to do with a will which reigns throughout the world, as the will of old Rome reigned once. We have to BEND or BREAK that will which nations and kingdoms have found invincible and inflexible. Were heresy conquered in England, it would be conquered throughout the world. All its lines meet here, and therefore in England the Church of God must be gathered in its strength”.

I have to say, sadly, that the 'heresy' is almost conquered.

Here's another quote for free, from Anglican turned Catholic, F.W. Faber. It's from my book on the AV1611, entitled O Biblios, The Book

The Roman Catholic F. W. Faber, 1814-1863, (53) p vii, had this evaluation of the AV1611. See the TBS Article No. 24 The Excellence of the Authorised Version (37).

“Who will not say that the uncommon beauty and marvellous English of the Protestant Bible is not one of the great strongholds of heresy in this country? It lives on the ear like music that can never be forgotten, like the sound of church bells. Its felicities often seem to be things rather than words. It is part of the national mind, and the anchor of national seriousness.”

Since 1881, the strongholds have clearly been broken down and laid waste, Proverbs 25:28b.

This is really why England has fallen to the SJ. She was deceived into giving up the only weapon that could have defeated them, Ephesians 6:17.

I have a question that I need your help with. England expelled the Jesuits in 1829 but never really enforced the Act. When did England repeal the act and allow the formal reentry of the Order into the Empire? I have an idea that it was under the rule of Queen Victoria.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:40 AM (GMT)

Thank you and I shall comment to Mr. Livingstone's charges. We must remember that he is a devout Roman Catholic. Coupled with his vast knowledge, I suspect that he is another Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor. Again this man is brilliant and well versed, but if the Jesuit connection is avoided, especially after reading VA, then there is a lack of honest and this a reason to suspect his motives.

My comments are below.

Brother Eric

There's too many other connections to concentrate on a "Catholic" conspiracy.

I never have said anything about a "Catholic Conspiracy." I write about a Jesuit World Conspiracy which includes the Order's control of the Papacy and its Hierarchy via high-level Freemasonry, Opus Dei, the Knights of Malta, etc. I do not blame Roman Catholics in general as I do not blame Jews in general.

The whole notion is ludicrous. Look at how the conspiracy has consistently sought to undermine Christianity.

Romanism is not "Christianity," never has been and never will be. Romanism is the greatest enemy of true "Christianity," which bases its sole authority on the Scriptures, the Hebrew masoretic text and the Greek Textus Receptus as translated into the "vulgar" languages of the nations, which act is thoroughly condemned by the Order's wicked Counter-Reformation Council of Trent. Indeed, this world has contrived to destrop true "Christianity," but never Romanism and its dynasty of the Antichrist---the Papacy.

Then there are the Templars. They were based on the Cathar heresy, which evolved through Kabbalistic influence, and was centered at Narbonne, where there was a Jewish king.

If the king was a racial Jew/Hebrew/Israelite, then he was subject to the Papacy, as the ruling Jews for the last 2000 years have had "no king but Caesar" (John 19:15), that Caesar masquerading as "the Pope" as of the Fourth Century AD. No doubt the Cathari were a heretical sect, denying the deity of Christ (the Messiah of the Reformation Bible, not the "Christ" of Romanism) and believing in the innate goodness of man in particular. But the Pope's French armies massacred most of them, driving the survivors underground until the cult died out in the early 1400s.

Where were the Jesuits then?

There were no Jesuits in existence at that time since there was no Bible-based Protestant Reformation until 1517. The Jesuits were created in 1534 to fight and down the Reformation in the attempt to restore the world to the Pope's "blessed despotism" of the Dark Ages (i.e. the New Age Movement of today). Loyola designed his Order to be a warring military brotherhood and took from the maxims of the Templars (the vow of absolute obedience as did Pope Pius XII's SS), the Templars having fought the Pope's crusades for two centuries until suppressed by Pope Clement V in 1312.

The Templars claimed to get their doctrines from the Sabians or Assassins.

According to Nesta Webster, who I believe is reliable on this point, the Sabians ("the wise men") are identified as the Mandeans or Nazoreans (not the Nazarites or Nazarenes of Scripture) and she states that they were Jews believing on John the Baptist but not the Messiah Jesus, calling Jesus "the son of the devil." They were gnostics (pre-Masonic Jewish Zionists), their secret knowledge tracing to "the Talmud, the Midrash and in a modified form, the later Cabala."

The Assassins, unlike the Sabians, were Moslems

The Sabians were a Jewish-Gnostic sect, and the Assassins were founded by a Jew named Abdullah ibn Maymun, of which the Aga Khan is a descendant.

Abdullah ibn Maymun was not a Jew but a Gentile, a descendant of Ishmael and in practice the Ignatius Loyola of the Moslem Assassins. He was an atheist and a materialist (a communist) and a gnostic (Freemason) connected with the Grand Lodge of Cairo---just like the Wahhabi House of Saud and Bin Laden. The modern day Jesuits are the Assassins of old in both their gnostic doctrines and murderous works for which they were suppressed by the Pope in 1773.

Aga Khan is the title for the supreme Imam of the Shia Imami Ismaili Muslims--the king of the Shiites now warring with the Sunnis in Iraq.

And from the beginning. We begin with Plato, the so-called greatest philosopher of Western civilization.

Plato had nothing to do with the philosophy of historic Protestant Western Civilization. The peoples of Western Civ. were White, Reformation-loving, Bible-reading peoples of Northern Europe. The socialist-communist writings of that sodomite were vitually unread except by some notorious masons who, in spite of themselves and within the Providence of God, contributed to the founding of the Calvinist American Constitutional Republic of 1789.

It turns out all his doctrines were robbed from the Magi,

(the "Magi" being, according to Mackey in his Encyclopedia of Freemasonry, the hereditary priests among the Persians and Medians. . . .The [Jesuit-founded] Illuminati first introduced the word into Masonry . . . to signify men of superior wisdom.") Plato was indeed a gnostic and thus an adept of the mystery religion of Babylon.

but if we look at the Magi carefully, they were not Zoroastrians as was claimed, but sorcerers, taught in Babylon, and their ideas were Kabbalistic.

Indeed, the Magi were sorcerers whose Satanic religion also had its origins in Babylon which is in agreement with Revelation 17 and 18, the headquarters for that religion being now in Rome, the city being called "Babylon" in I Peter 5:13.

Then the Roman Empire, which was subverted through the prevalence of Mysteries,

The Roman Empire was founded on Mystery Babylon Religion as were the three Gentile world kingdoms before it (Babylon, Medo-Persia and Greece), the priests controlling the Caesars.

the greatest of which were those of Mithras, claiming to derive from the Magi, but identical to Merkabah mysticism, which is the beginnings of the Kabbalah.

The cults of Mithras, the Magi, and the Jewish Merkabah (which Mercabah is indeed tracable to the Cabala), are all part and parcel of Satanic, murderous Cainite, pagan Gentile, Babylonian, Baal-worshipping, Egyptian Sun-worshipping, Mystery Religion that Elijah opposed when he met the 450 prophets of Baal; that Ezekiel opposed when he was shown the gnostic practices of the elders of Israel worshipping towards the east; and that Messiah Jesus opposed when he rebuked the scribes and Pharisees for voiding the Mosaic Law via their gnostic "Traditions" acquired in Babylon during the nation's seventy-year captivity.

No, clearly, there was a heresy of Judaism, begun in the sixth century,

It was during the sixth century that the Babaylonian Talmud was completed now composing 63 volumes. It is full of heresy, in total opposition to the Torah not to mention the Greek New Testament and its English translation, the English Reformation's AV1611.

within which there was an alignment with Lucifer for the intent of achieving world domination.

Satan/Lucifer has always desired world dominion; this was one of the temptations of Messiah Jesus when the devil offered him all the kingdoms of the world (Luke 4:5-7). The devil wants the man of his choosing to rule the nations of the world from Jerusalem, from the Hebrew Temple yet to be rebuilt. But it is a Gentile World Conspiracy, since it has been "the times of the Gentiles" (Luke 21:24) since 606BC. The nation of Israel in Diaspora today is "the tail," and not "the head" of the nations (Deuternomy 28). The rejection of this Biblical Key is David Livingston's great mistake leading him to the wrong conclusion that the conspiracy for world government is led by Jews, not Gentiles---the White Jesuit Gentiles ruling the Papacy in partiular.

This conspiracy was based on a bastardization of Jewish themes. The promise to Abraham was already fulfilled.

Incorrect. The land promise given to Abraham in Genesis 17:7-8 was to be an "everlasting possession." Abraham will ultimately inherit that promise at his resurrection when Messiah Jesus returns, smashes the Gentile nations, causes the nation of Israel to be "born in a day," and then divides the land among the tribes as Exekiel 48 declares. Again, another rejection of a Key Biblical truth has led to Mr. Livingstone's wrong conclusion of Jewish rather than Gentile world supremacy at this moment in time.

But God instructed the Israelites that if they persisted in their paganism they would be punished with exile.

Agreed. (Deuternomy 28)

That is what happened in the sixth century BC. but then they were pardoned, returned to Palestine, and given a second chance. But when they rejected the Jesus the Messiah, their covenant was officially ended.

Incorrect. The international Dispora began in 70AD with the destruction of Jerusalem and Titus leading the Jews captive to Rome and thus into all nations. Yes, the Mosaic Covenant is officially ended (Colossians 2:14), but the nation has a New Covenant under which it shall be brought. (Jeremiah 31:31-40). That New Covenant for the nation was established with the blood of Messiah, the Lord's table showing forth his death until he comes again---for the nation of Israel. God has not cast away His people, the nation of Israel, Paul's kindred according to the flesh (Romans 9-11).

Nevertheless, the Zionists argue that the Promise is binding forever, giving them the pretext to seek global power, when in fact they are ruled by apostate Jews who have accepted the rule of Lucifer, and who we call Kabbalists.

No doubt that the Masonic Jewish Zionists are Cabalists, but the Cabala originated in Babylon, thus the Zionists practice the Mystery Religion of Babylon, Babylon today being headquartered in Rome. Thus the rulers of Israel are the Pope's Masonic Jewish Zionists who hate the Lord's beloved Hebrew/Jewish/Israelitic people many of whom are in the land today. The collusion between the Zionists and the Nazis further prove the point: the Pope's Jesuits ruled both factions via occult Freemasonry.

Clearly as well, it was these Kabbalist Jews, headed by Loyola, who created the Jesuits to undermine the Catholic Church.

This is Mr. Livingstone's error number three: the Jews never created the Jesuits! Loyola was a Spanish Gentile whose family, if Jewish, would have been driven out of Spain during the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella when they drove out the Jews in 1492; Diego Laynez was a Jew, but when discovered in 1593 the Order passed a statute prohibiting any racial Jew from being admitted into the Society. That statute was removed in 1946 by Jesuit Superior General Jean Baptiste Janssens, the Pope's Zionists having proved faithful in their cooperation with Pope Pius XII's Eurasian Jewish Holocaust, Zionists like Kastner, Ben-Gurion and Weizmann.

I wouldn't be surprised if every pope has been Illuminati. Loyola's order was approved by Pope Paul III, who was a Medici, and part of a long line of Medici popes, who had fostered the rise of the occult during the Renaissance. Certainly Pope John Paul II was Illuminait.

Rome and its Papacy is the center of occult practices as she has deceived the nations with her sorcery (Revelation 18:23). The Jesuits never changed the essential evil nature of Rome; they intensified Rome's evil quest to kill every Jew and Protestant Bible believer and erect on our bones her world government centered in Jerusalem---for which puposes the Crusades were preached and fought. Rome's Crusade today is its Anglo-American led Crusade against "infidel" Islam.

June 09, 2005

I have also heard recently that Irshad Manji is an Ismaili, and that explains a lot.

Manji is an Islamic Freemason subject to the Pope.

The Ismailis not only have a long history with the Illuminati, but are regarded as its originators.

Not the present day Illuminati created in 1776. The Illuminati of which the Rothschilds are members, of which CFR David Rockefeller is a member, originated in Roman Catholic Munich, Bavaria---the hotbed of Jesuit intrigue based at St. Michael's Church and College near the Archbishop's Cathedral.

The Ismailis professed Islam, but taught occult doctrines to those they could initiate to higher ranks.

Correct. It was Islamic and Gentile.

The basis of their teachings was derived from a Jewish-Gnostic community called Sabians, Incorrect. The Ismailis are the Shiites of today having no relation to the Jews in common history. This is another attempt to link the Jews as being the epicenter of the devil's world conspiracy.

who lived in Harran, in northern Iraq, until they were decimated by the Mongol conquests in the middle of the thirteenth century.

The Sabians preserved the Kabbalistic knowledge of Hermeticism and Neoplatonism, which they were responsible for introducing to the Muslim world. This produced Sufism, but most importantly, Ismailism. The first instance of Sabian influence is evident in an Ismaili secret society by the name of the Brethren of Sincerity, or Ikhwan as Saffa.

The Ismailis achieved political power for a brief time, establishing the Fatimid dynasty of Egypt in the tenth century. They set up the university of Al Azhar, and a wing of it called the House of Wisdom, or the Grand Lodge, where they taught their secret occult doctrines.

Again this is Masonic, gnostic, Hermetic, Babylonian religion centered in Rome according to the Word of God. The Sabian gnostic Jews are part of the mystery religion but not the center of power and preservation of that Gentile, Canite religion.

The entire history of Freemasonry is based on supposed contact between this Grand Lodge and or with the Sabians.

Here we go! The origin of Freemasonry is Jewish, right? ALTHOUGH CERTAIN JEWS ARE INVOLVED IN FREEMASONRY, this lie was promoted by the Jesuits in control of the minister of propanganda of Pope Pius XII's Third Reich, Jesuit-trained, Roman Catholic Joseph Goebbels.

Christian Rosenkreuz, the supposed founder of the Rosicrucians is said to have traveled to Egypt, and on his return to Europe, to have founded a "House of the Holy Spirit", modeled on the House of Wisdom in Cairo.

The connction of the Rosicrucians to the Grand Lodge of Cairo is important in proving that Rome controls Islamic Freemasonry.

According to Scottish Rite Freemasonry, the Templars rescued a number of Sabians during the crusades, and brought them to Scotland, where their teachings became the secrets of the rite. Presumably, these Sabians also intermarried with the Stuart bloodline, of which the Scottish Rite is concerned.

It is possible, as there has always been alliances between the devil's secret societies regardless of the race of the adepts. Jewish Freemasons (Sabians, Sabbateans, etc.) have always been serving the Pope throughout this age.

When Napoleon invaded Egypt, Masons in his army supposedly made contact with remnants of the Ismaili Grand Lodge, and set up Egyptian Rite Freemasonry when they returned to Europe.

This is believable as the Black Pope ruled Masonic Napoleon through his advisor and Second Cousul, Abbe Sieyes. Thus we should not be surprised to see the Order attempting to unite all Freemasonic sects and subject them to Papacy via the power of the Black Pope controlling the Masonic Council of the 33rd Degree and possibly the O.T.O.

The Egyptian Rite was at the heart of the intrigues of the Masons in the nineteenth century, and towards its end, was involved with the Golden Dawn, which also purported to derive from Sabian and Ismaili teachings.

There is a certain truth to the Egyptian connection. Loyola's symbol of the Order, IHS, is an abbreviation for the names of the Egyptian gods, Isis, Horus and Seb. Thus Jesuitism is essentially Egyptian. The Order founded the Knights of the Golden Dawn in 1888 and one of its heads was that Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor, OTO chief, Aleister Crowley. Further, Jerusalem in the Great Tribulation yet to come is described as religiously "Egypt," and morally "Sodom." (Rev 11:8.) Egyptian Masonic symbolism is throughout the Supreme Court building in Jerusalem according to Gerry Golden in his Golden Report. But the origins of the Egyptian symbolism is not with the Jews, but with Gentiles.

All of the prominent members connected with the Golden Dawn then traveled to Egypt, where they came into contact with a man named Jamal ud Din al Afghani. Although he was Shiah from Iran, and likely Ismaili, he claimed to be an orthodox Sunni reformer, and was Grand Master of the Masonic lodge there.

This is another believable connection between Masonry and the leadership of Islam. We further understand the present Crusade in this light. A whole book ought to be devoted to it.

Most importantly, Afghani would refer to his Masonic brothers as Ikhwan as Safa, in deliberate reference to his Ismaili forbearers.

He was also a preacher for the Bahai faith when he traveled to India, and a confidant to HP. Blavatsky.

The Blavatsky connection is most important here. She was not only the founder of the Theosophical Society in 1875, but was also a Co-mason and personal associate with Charles Sotheran and Albert Pike, America's most powerful Scottish Rite Freemasons. Blavatsky leading us to another Islamic connection, not to mention the rite of the Islamic "Shriners" is most critical.

His pupils returned to Europe to found the Hermetic Brotherhood of Luxor, presumably an extension of the Grand Lodge of the Egyptian Ismailis.

Members of this order, as well as the Golden Dawn, contributed to the founding of the OTO of Aleister Crowley. A merger of this OTO with the Thule Society of Germany later became known as the Nazis.

So the OTO merged with the Thule Society. Fascinating! Crowley headed the OTO and Sebottendorff headed the Thule Society. Both were involved in Islamic Freemasonry and Hitler was a "Lodge 99" German Freemason and member of Thule which later became the Nazi party. Freemason and the abdicated King Edward VIII also aided Hitler financially in Hitler's rise to power. But it was the German Jesuits in the persons of Robert Leiber and Augustin Bea that ruled Hitler and his SS/Gestapo. Through this Masonic control, the Order carried out its Final Solution to the Pope's decades long "Jewish Question" in accordance with its evil Council of Trent.

In Egypt, however, Afghani was regarded as the founder of the Salafi movement, from which later emerged the Muslim Brotherhood, which is responsible for perpetrating all Islamic terrorism on behalf of the Illuminati.

Yes, the Jesuits control the Illuminati and thus control the Masonic Muslim Brotherhood which carries out the terrorism within the Black Pope's Masonic Islamic International Terrorist Network financed by the Order's oil bonanza of Saudi Arabia.

It was the founder of the Brotherhood, Hasan Al Banna, who organized the reunification of the Salafi with their counterparts in Europe, the Nazis, and ever since WWII, it has been the CIA that has been coordinating their involvement in the training and financing of the Brotherhood's terrorism.

Agreed! The Order controls the SS/CIA which in turn not only trains and finances the Brotherhood's terrorism, but also finances the Mossad of the Pope's Masonic Jewish Zionists. "Extremes Meet" at the feet of the Black Pope.

But when Gamal Nasser cracked down on the Brotherhood in the mid-50s, the CIA arranged for its members to be transferred to Saudi Arabia, where they were given posts as religious instructors to propagate their brand of nihilism.

Why Saudi Arabia, because they adhere to a version of Islam that was created by the British, known as Wahhabism, and administer 3/4 of the earth's petroleum resources in collusion with the Rockefellers.

Absolutely agreed. British Freemasonry in the person of Sir Richard Francis Burton, author of Arabian Nights, founded the Masonic Wahhabi Islam now in control of Mecca, Medina and all of Saudi Arabia. King Ibn Saud was brought to power via Churchill and Mussolini whose confessor was Jesuit Pietro Tacchi Venturi. The Order controlled Britain at the time Britain created Wahhabi Islam and later Saudi Arabia and for this reason I say that the Masonic leaders of Wahhabi Islam will blow up Mecca and Medina (thus blaming America) even as the Order's Masonic leaders in America blew up the WTC (thus blaming the Moslem world).

They were deliberately made wealthy through the Oil Crisis, by which the wealth of the Third World was funneled to them, to pay for the more expensive oil, after which the Saudis deposited these petrodollars in the Rockefeller Banks of NY.

Agreed, and the Bush Crime family was also part of the scam.

Effectively, the Wahhabis and Salafis have become one, where the Wahhabis only refer to themselves as Salafi, and continue to finance and orchestrate terrorism on behalf of the Illuminati, with the continuing assistance of the Nazis, or now Neo-Nazis.

Agreed, all of which are controlled by high-level Freemasonry subject to the Black Pope. Brilliantly said Mr. Livingstone. You know the network well.

Therefore, Ismailis represent an original branch of the Illuminati, while the Rothschilds represent the European branch, though both stem from the same source, Ismailism.

I would presume that the Aga Khan is involved in the financing of terrorism, as it continues to be conducted through the Muslim Brotherhood, which is of Ismaili origin.

I do know however that his cousin, Sadruddin Aga Khan was involved with terrorism in Afghanistan. EIR has an interesting article about it here:

Larouche's EIR has tremendous researchers, but it is pro-Papacy and refuses to identify the Jesuit hand in the rule of CFR-controlled America. Larouche is also a high-level Freemason who loves the socialist policies of that 33rd Degree masonic communist, FDR, the friend of Hitler's Reichsbank chief and 33rd Degree Freemason Fritz Thyssen.

*Note by Me: As we all know, Eric Jon Phelps eloquently exposed Constance as a shill for the New World Order. Constance calls Catholicism, authentic Christianity and accepts other false tenets that Eric exposed. Eric is not a New Age promoter, but now Steve van Nattan is supporting Constance. This isn't suprising since Steve van Nattan is the perfect example of rat poison. 95% of what Steve says about Catholicism, etc. are truth, but the 5% will kill you. He mocks many conspiracies, when the Bible outlined many conspiracies fully and Edward Hendrie wrote an excellent rebuttal to Steve's arguments as well. Though, I don't agree with Edward on every issue, Edward is right to point out the many contradictions of Steve. Steve accepts the Pre-Trib rapture, which has no justification from the scripture and history. The Bible and the early church was uniformily Post-Trib. Even Christ said I will only come back after the Tribulation in Matthew 24. The Early Church said that the saints will be presecuted by the Antichrist until Christ's second return. Pre-Trib pictures 2 or 3 comings of Christ, which is inconsistent with the Holy Scriptures. The Jesuits themselves invented the modern pre-trib false dogma in the 1500's, so ironically Steve is following a Jesuit tenet. Let's hope that Steve wakes up and let him know of the shill of Constance.

In Search Of The Origins Of The Pretrib Doctrine:

Part 4: The Birth Of The Pretribulation Doctrine In The 1800s

Before getting into this chapter, an important statement has to be made concerning Futurism. Historism believes that the Antichrist and all that surrounds his appearing develops throughout history all the way to when Christ returns at the end of the age. This was the viewpoint of the Reformers who applied these prophecies directly to the pope and Rome. A Counter Reformation was implemented through the Jesuits of the Middle Ages that countered Historism's prophetic view with one called "Jesuit Futurism." This view as introduced by the Jesuits stipulated that prophecies concerning the appearing of Antichrist had nothing at all do with Papal Rome of that time, but with the man of sin's appearance at the end of the age. This, actually, was the viewpoint of the early Church, though it must be taken into consideration that the Catholic Church had not yet come into existence.

The point to made here is this: the early Church fathers, as shown in Part 2, held to Futurism, but not for the purpose the Jesuits developed it, which has been called "Jesuit Futurism." The early Church fathers promoted Futurism because that is what the Scriptures said. Futurists today do not negate the probability that Rome and its pope will indeed have something to do with the appearance of the endtimes. More and more it appears Rome will have a part in the last days, and Christians today are watching and praying as we draw near to the time of Antichrist's coming on the scene. The Catholic system and pope is certainly a major player in what will be manifested in the few short years ahead.

Because of the Historical view of prophecy from the Middle Ages up to the Reformation, a series of writings by various authors were published to counter the Historic view of prophecy. These books were written from a Futurist point of view to take Rome out of the fire regarding the pope at that time being the Antichrist. They were not written because of a desire to return to the doctrine of Futurism held by the early Church.

FRANCISCO RIBERA (1537-1591), FUTURISM JESUIT Priest and Doctor of Theology

The Spanish Ribera was a Jesuit, a doctor of theology, who started writing (1585) a 500 page commentary on the book of Revelation six years before his death (1591). The commentary was written from an Historic viewpoint because of the belief that Catholicism and its pope were the Antichrist system and the Antichrist himself. It was that the heat would be taken off of the Catholic Church as a candidate for the Antichrist and his rule. It placed these events into a future period of three-and-a-half years just prior to the return of Christ (this agreed with the teachings of the early Church fathers). The conclusion that was to be drawn from Ribera's commentary, it was hoped, was that the Catholic Church of his time could not, therefore, be the Antichrist system headed by the Pope of Rome. Ribera's commentary would have some influence on those who would eventually put the Pretribulation doctrine together.

In his commentary, Ribera believed that the rapture would occur 45 days before the end of the 3-1/2 year tribulation period (also shades of the future PreWrath doctrine). This was the first time the second coming was split into two separate comings, one for the Church and then one at the end of the age with the raptured Church returning with Christ in wrath.

CARDINAL ROBERT BELLARMINE (1542-1621), FUTURISM JESUIT Scholar, the most prominent of his time

Also during this period, acclaimed Jesuit apologist Cardinal Robert Bellarmine, wrote "Polemic Lectures Concerning the Disputed Points of the Christian Belief Against the Heretics of This Time." His purpose in doing so was to refute the Historic theory of figuring Daniel's 1260, 1290 and 2300 days as years, relegating these to actual days, e. g., 1260 days, etc. By doing so, the reign of Antichrist was pushed into a future time and negated Catholicism and its pope as the man of sin and his system during his time.

MANUEL DE LACUNZA (1731–1801), FUTURISM JESUIT Priest

In a book titled, "Hidden Beast 2," E. H. Skolfield writes this Lacunza:

"There was a Spanish family living in Chili named de Lacunzas. In the year of our Lord, 1731, they had a baby boy. Fifteen years later, the lad was sent to Spain to become a Jesuit priest. Twenty-two years later after that, in 1767, the Jesuits were expelled from Spain because of their brutality. The now Father Manuel de Lacunza y Diaz had to move. He went to Imola, Italy, where he remained for the rest of his life.

"In Imola, he claimed to be a converted Jew. Under the alias of 'Rabbi Ben Ezra' he wrote a book. The title: 'The Coming of Messiah in Glory and Majesty.' In that book he theorized that the church would be 'raptured' (taken up to be with the Lord) some 45 days before the real return of Jesus to the Earth. During that 45 days (while the church was in heaven with the Lord) God would judge the wicked still on earth."

This last sentence shows shades of PreWrath doctrine of today, though that was put together during the 1990s.

Lacunza wrote his manuscript in Spanish and it was published in 1812 under a pseudo-name, Juan Josafa [Rabbi] Ben-Ezra. By doing so, his book would more easily be accepted by Protestantism. This proved true as it was placed on Rome's Index of prohibited books, which only made it sought out by the Protestants.

Lacunza emphasized a return to interpreting prophecy literally from the Futurist viewpoint. He wrote of a future Antichrist and a 1260-day (literal days) tribulation, events just preceding the coming of the Lord. He wrote in opposition to the 'year-day' theory of the Historicists (1260 days = 1260 years). He did not promote a pretribulational rapture of the saints at the future time of the Antichrist. His rapture of the saints occurred 45 days before the end of Daniel's 70th week, probably an influence from Ribera. Lacunza's book would have a dramatic influence on Edward Irving and his formation of the Pretribulation doctrine. It most likely influenced Irving to add another coming of Christ to the one described in Scripture.

MORGAN EDWARDS (1722-1795), FUTURISM BAPTIST Minister

Edwards wrote the earliest paper on the Pretribulation doctrine, using no references to anyone in the past. It was not written as a document to be seriously considered as the following will show:

"The earliest published reference to a pre-tribulation rapture occurred in 1788. Around 1740, a young Baptist named Morgan Edwards wrote an essay for eschatology class on his views of Bible prophecy. This essay was later published in Philadelphia (1788) under the following title: Two Academical Exercises on Subjects Bearing the following Titles; Millennium, Last-Novelties. In the article, Edwards made statements which expounded his views concerning a pre-tribulation gathering of the Church. As far as can be determined, Edwards views concerning a pre-trib rapture gained no notoriety nor was this doctrine given any credence in the Church" (The Fallacy of Rapture Theology as revealed by the Word of God by David Redmond).

Tim Warner gives ample reason why Morgan's writings on a Pretrib rapture were not taken seriously by anybody:

"Even the discovery of Morgan Edwards' book does not eliminate the ghost of Edward Irving for pre-tribbers. There is a clear tracable history back-tracking the development of modern pre-tribulationism through dispensational seminaries (like Dallas Seminary), the Scofield Bible, early pre-trib prophecy conferences, the Plymouth Brethren, J. N. Darby, and finally the Irvingites, and even Margaret MacDonald's visions. However, despite the earlier date (32 years earlier), there is no apparent connection between Morgan Edwards' (1788) "Millennium" book and modern pre-tribulationism. So, if Morgan Edwards' theory did not take hold in some group, or if his book did not fall into the hands of Irving or Darby, then he might as well have developed his theory on Mars! Because, it had no impact at all on modern pre-trib development.

1. Morgan Edwards apparently did not rely on other works. In fact, while he occasionally referred to others, he wrote in opposition to the historicist / a-millennialism of the times. Not once did he refer to another writer to support his rapture theory (although he did appeal to the Church Fathers in support of his literal Millennium). That he considered his theory 'new' and novel, is clear from the verse he chose to put on the title page:

"May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is? for thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: We would know, therefore, what these things mean. ACTS xvii. 19. 20'

"2. The opening statement in his essay indicates his total lack of confidence in his new theory. And, it shows that Morgan was simply writing his essay following the instruction of his professor, to use the LITERAL method in all cases except where that would lead to absurd conclusions. This was contrary to the accepted Protestant way of treating prophecy at the time. Morgan also stated that his following the literal hermeneutic was strictly for this exercise alone, and that he did not wish to be seen as a literalist. In other words, this whole essay was hypothetical!

"And is it come to my lot to treat of the Millennium, or Christ's thousand years reign on earth? Thousand pities, sir, that you had not allotted the task to one of these older and abler students! But, since it is your pleasure, I will do my possible: and in the attempt will work by a rule you have often recommended, viz. 'to take the scriptures in a literal sense, except when that leads to contradiction or absurdity.' I need say no more to inform you, sir, that I wish to be understood as a minister of the letter only while I treat of the said Millennium. Very able men have already handled the subject in a mystical, or allegorical, or spiritual way: and could I rest satisfied with their sentiments, and deliver them perhaps with applause; as that would show my reading, - and at the same time, free a novice from the affectation of singularity and taking too much upon him, like another son of Levi.'

"His statement, 'I wish to be understood as a minister of the letter only while I treat of the said Millennium,' indicates his apparent discomfort with the literal method he was required to use by his professor! Historicists of his day saw literal interpretation as a 'Jewish' thing. Paul wrote that 'the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.' It was common for a-millennialists to use this verse to justify 'spiritual' interpretation. Hence, Morgan equated literal interpretation with 'the sons of Levi.' Later in the discourse, after apparently months of studying his topic, young Morgan seemed to be much more comfortable with 'literalism.'

"3. Morgan's professor's reaction to his work is very telling. Following is the closing statement of his 'Millennium' essay, followed by his professor's assessment.

"Morgan: 'I wonder, Sir, if your patience be not exhausted with the length, and perhaps, nonsense of my sermon?'

"Professor: 'You finished your discourse with a supposition that the length and nonsense of it had tried my patience. If you used lightness you are to blame. But as I hope you are always in earnest when you study the things of God, I have to assure you that the novelty and ingenuity of your attempt have entertained me not a little. And when you are more master of time than at present, I advise you to study your subject closely, and you will see cause to alter some parts of your plan, and correct errors of others.- You also dropped a hint or two touching the New Heaven and the New Earth, which sounded a little strange. Let us hear what you have to say on those subjects, when it comes your turn to appear in that desk again'" Morgan Edwards and the Pre-Trib Rapture By Tim Warner

It is obvious that the idea of a pretribulation rapture was strange to Edwards and his professor. Why would it be if there really was such a doctrine before this?

SAMUEL ROFFEY MAITLAND (1792-1866), FUTURISM
ANGLICAN CHURCH Scholar, Lawyer, Librarian

Scholar and Librarian to the Archbishop of Canterbury, Maitland read Lacunza's book and promoted Futurism after 1826. He taught a literal 3-1/2 year tribulation and a personal Antichrist. There are strong indications that Maitland borrowed from both Ribera and Lacunza in his writings. Being the Librarian at Lambeth Palace, London, he found Ribera's book on the shelf and had it reprinted as a matter of public interest.

MARGARET MCDONALD (1800-?) VISION OF SECRET RAPTURE
Member of Irving's CATHOLIC APOSTOLIC CHURCH

At the age of 15, Margaret was a member of Edward Irving's congregation and in 1830 had a vision of a Secret Rapture. There is debate whether what she saw depicted a pretrib, partial pretrib, midtrib, or posttrib rapture. I have read it through carefully over and over again and it even sounds posttrib. Personally, I think it is a bunch of demonic gibberish that isn't easy to put a label on. In spite of the confusion now resident amongst researchers, one thing is for sure: the idea of a Secret Coming of Christ as opposed to one final visible coming was introduced through her vision. This is the main point that should be emphasized, regardless of whether it is placed in any scenario. The fact of a secret coming where all the world does not see Him was apparently incorporated into the pretrib doctrine by Edward Irving, who in turn influenced Darby. You can read Macdonald's vision by clicking here or wait to read it as the next section in this series.

EDWARD IRVING (1792-1834), FUTURIST, PRETRIBULATIONIST
PRESBYTERIAN Minister, later founded CATHOLIC APOSTOLIC CHURCH
(charismatic)

It was Irving who translated Lacunza's work from Spanish into English in 1827, titling his work, "Preliminary Discourse to the Work of Ben Ezra - Coming of Messiah in Glory and Majesty." He was also affected by Margaret Macdonald's vision, writing the following in a letter to a Mr. Chalmers:

Irving points out in his letter to Chalmers that he felt conviction and reproof concerning her papers, which very likely had the "secret coming" described in them. It is also possible he was affected in this way because of Margaret's emphasis on the work of the Holy Spirit in the Church as the fire and eye of God in readying the believer for tribulation and meeting Christ face to face. This latter subject of her vision dominates what she saw. Scripturally, the vision raises many questions, let alone trying to decide if it is Pre-, Mid-, Pretrib Partial or Posttrib. Though Irving most likely used the "secret coming" of her vision and the "split second coming" of Lacunza to conclude a pretrib rapture, he also had in his church at this time a restoration of prophecy, tongues and other manifestations. He is known as the father of Pentecostalism because of these manifestations.

As to whether or not Irving used the 45 days of Lacunza and Ribera to, over time, move their rapture of 45 days before the end of the tribulation to a full seven year Pretrib rapture, the following quote would seem to support that idea:

"Because the symbolism of types can be interpreted according to other influences, once sound Biblical hermeneutics are ignored, the interpretation of the feasts varied significantly from year to year. Irvingites shifted the rapture from feast 6 (of Lev 23's 7 feasts) to feast 5, then feast 4 and even feast 3 within the first few years"(2)

Understanding Ministries

According to Bob Gundry, Edward Irving was most likely the first to publicly make the suggestion of a pretribulational rapture of the Church. A minister of the Church of Scotland, he attended the prophetic conferences (1826-1830) held by Henry Drummond at Albury Park, England. When Irving first suggested the secret coming of Christ, the controversial idea split those in attendance into factions.

Iain H. Murray, in The Puritan Hope - A Study in Revival and the Interpretation of Prophecy, IX. The Eclipse of the Hope, says that it was during Irving's attendance at Albury (1826-1830) that he shared the "secret rapture" before the tribulation with another return at the end of it. He says this was also prevalent in Irving's London congregation.

There are some references in literature of the 1800s stating that the secret coming was never mentioned before Irving started promoting it in its various stages of assemblance. These may not have had knowledge of Macdonald's relating her vision to Irving:

Thomas Croskery (Londonderry, Ireland) - "...this idea of the Lord removing his church secretly...was never heard of till it was proclaimed in one of the delusive utterances of the Irvingites in 1832."(3)

In 1880, William Reid in a book on Brethrenism, wrote that "Edward Irving contributed to the notion of...the secret rapture of the saints."(4)

Irving also the Secret Coming Rapture at the Powerscourt prophecy conferences at Powerscourt Castle in Dublin, Ireland in 1830.

JOHN NELSON DARBY (1800–1882), FUTURISM, PRETRIBULATIONISM
ANGLICAN Minister, later leader in the PLYMOUTH BRETHREN

Darby attended the Powerscourt prophecy conferences in 1830. It was there that he most likely heard about Macdonald's vision of a Secret Rapture promoted by Irving. Irving most likely introduced these ideas which were picked up by Darby, but it was Darby who synthesized the various points of the Pretribulation doctrine over a period of years to bring it to its final form (Irving died in 1834). This did not happen overnight, but it took a period of many years to finalize the doctrine. The doctrine did not find easy acceptance, caused divisions and bred confusion during the years he worked on it. I have read where it was during Darby's visits to Switzerland from 1838 to 1845 he began to pull the doctrine together and share it openly. Years later (1859-1874), Darby would take the message to America where it was readily accepted.

WILLIAM KELLY (1820-1906)

Revised Darby's notes to make it appear that Darby was the one who started the Pretrib doctrine and not Irving. A thorough report can be read at William Kelly's Journal — The Pinnacle of Pre-Trib Pilfering! By Dave MacPherson.

CYRUS INGERSON SCOFIELD (1843-1921), FUTURIST, PRETRIBULATIONISM
TRINITARIAN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Pastor Emeritus

Based his notes on the writings of J. N. Darby in his 1909 Scofield Reference Bible. By 1930, one million copies were printed and hit the Bible Colleges in America, spreading the Secret Coming doctrine.

The pieces Irving put together for the beginnings of the Pretribulation doctrine came from Ribera, Bellarmine, Lacunza - all Jesuits - and Margaret Macdonald's vision. Most damaging was Macdonald's vision, which was based on an occult experience that injected into the Church a Secret Coming of Jesus for the Church. From the Middle Ages on, many would fall for the false hope of this pieced together doctrine.

Dear Friends and Brethern,

We have more from Coadjutor Cumbey.

Here she endorses Opus Dei's Mel Gibson and his perversion of the historic crucifixion of Messiah. Remember, the long-haired "Christ" of Romanism is not the true Messiah of the Reformation New Testament, which Bible is so condemned by the Order's Council of Trent. The "Christ" of gnostic Romanism is in fact the "Jesuit Christ."

The true director of Gibson's The Passion was none other than a learned and aged Jesuit priest, Fr. William J. Fulco, who throughout the film glorified "the Virgin Mary." This is why the Jesuit Christ, when fallen at one of Rome's unscriptural stations of the cross, was helped and encouraged by "the Mother of God." This is why when the Jesuit Christ was taken off the cross, he was held in the arms of "the Blessed Virgin" (depicting Roman Catholic Michangelo's statue of The Pieta) contrary to the testimony of the gospels. (It was Joseph of Arimathea who took down the body; Mary was nowhere in sight.) And the buck naked Jesuit Christ arising and walking out of the tomb is yet another disgusting aspect of Fulco's perversion.

Lastly, with the Jesuit Christ's right eye beaten closed early in the movie, the theme of the Order's Masonic "All Seeing Eye" was evident throughout thereafter.

Mrs. Cumbey gives a certain amount of credence to the Fatima Hoax used to justify Hitler's resistance to Soviet Communism and thus his Crusade called "Operation Barbarossa."

No, Mrs. Cumbey never ceases to disappoint me. She loves her role parading as a paragon of Evangelical Christianity when in fact, like Billy Graham, she is a real bonafide Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

In a message dated 6/20/05 11:03:49 AM US Mountain Standard Time,

Jerry Brown, who's done just about everything there is to be done on the California electoral scene, took on a new role Saturday when he married longtime girlfriend Anne Gust.

Dear Brother Eric,

How interesting. This is the one and same fellow who was companion of our own home grown Tucson songstress Linda Ronstadt. She is related on the Elias side of her family (Mexican father) to the Elias-De La Ossa girls with whom I attended "Our Lady of Lourdes Academy" in Nogales in the early 1960's. I asked Linda if she wanted me to take her to Santa Cruz Sonora Mexico, just over the border to meet some of the Elias cousins. She replied, "Some day, hopefully." Well, when I showed her my scrap book on the "Marranos of the Southwest" she was not too happy with me. I am boycotted from the local papers due to my mentioning "too much" the Spanish Inquisition. So, Linda and I parted ways. But she was a fascinating lady. Very down to earth, and bordering on New Age / Roman Catholic philosophies. She had come to the Tree of Life to loose wieght for her last world tour. She adopted two children...Clementina and Carlos (named for her late father of whom she was quite attached.) Her cousin sits as a Republican here on our City of Tucson counsel and they publically do not see eye to eye, but this could be a facade. She is a proponent of Michael Moore who spouts much truth, but gives glory to the pope. (Another smoke screen?) As far as Jerry Brown goes, I will write you about the Jesuit whose permission I needed in order to do my prison ministry here in SE Arizona. He too, is married by special permission from the Papacy. He and his wife, (believe it or not) belong to the Episcopal church in Tombstone. No doubt to infiltrate it more than it already is! More later, am at work. Shalom!

Respectfully in Messiah's Service,
Sister Cata

Thanks so much for this Eric,

Can I post this reply on my site?

Sure.

While I can accept that you may be right, I wonder what the Jesuits' source of power is.

Spiritually, the devil.

With the Rothschilds etc. you know it is control of credit.

The Rothschilds are merely Vatican Bankers. The Rothschilds financed the Order's French Revolution and Napoleonic Wars in punishing the Papacy and Catholic Monarchs of Europe for suppressing the Order in 1773.

Why should anyone obey the Jesuits?

Because they control the CFR/RIIA and the Papacy as well as the International Intelligence Network.

I look forward to reading Vatican Assassins. Thanks for writing. I understand the Illuminati have a ruling council.

It is the Grand Druid Council of 13 meeting in the Rothschild Mansion several times a year.

Is it possible that Jesuits and Sabbatean Jews are among the members, and that you and I are just focusing on different elements, like blind men describing an elephant?

The Sabbatean Jews are first Masonic. The Jesuit created the Bavarian Illuminati, one of its purposes being to infiltrate and thus unite all Masonry under the control of the Black Pope via the Illuminati. For example, David Rockefeller is a member of the Illuminati Rockefeller Lodge in New York City. And one of his Sabbatean, anti-Torah, Zionist Jews---Masonic Henry Kissinger, is one of his subordinates.

As I mentioned earlier, according to the AV1611 Reformation Bible humanity has been under the times of the Gentiles since the captivity of Judah began in 606. Thus the world is governed by Gentiles, evil White Gentiles in particular. The Jews involved are also powerful, but they are merely the Pope's "Court Jews." For example, when Hitler started rounding up the European Jews and putting them into the camps, it was Knight of Malta Joe Kennedy that assembled together Hollywood's most important Jews. There he ordered them not to oppose Hitler, to which order every Jew obeyed including Louis B. Mayer of Metro-Goldwin-Mayer. There are many more examples of this Masonic Jewish subordination to the devil's evil and most powerful White Gentiles, the Pope and Jesuit General being at the apex of the pyramid. The Jews during their Diaspora are "the tail" of the nations and are yet to be "the head" after their national repentance and belief on Messiah. (Deuternomy 28; Zechariah 14)

I appreciate your generous offer of the CD of Vatican Assassins. My address is xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx. I look forward to reading it.

Do you have a sense of when the next shoe will drop, and what it will be?

There will be a grand CIA-orchestrated terrorist event no doubt. But when, I cannot tell for sure.

Have a great weekend!

henry

You too my friend.

Eric,

Thanks for your comments on my latest effort. We are mostly in agreement except I am still ignorant of the complete role of the jesuits and Black Pope. Where does Ratzinger fit into this picture?

Ratzinger has always been intimate with the German Jesuits, Robert Leiber and Augustin Bea being two of them. He was ordained to the priesthood by Pius XII's Archbishop of Munich, Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber---the man who brought Hitler to power in Bavaria.

Part of my problem is that Jewish power is so visible but Jesuits power seems veiled.

That is always the Order's intended perception for the creation of more anti-Jewish fury among the nations. The Bolshevik revolution is the classic case in point. Few know of the Jesuit Bishop Ropp and his power during that upheaval. The Revolution had to be given a Jewish open and notorious leadership so as to make the Protocols believable, thereby justifying the Nazi invasion of the USSR in the attempted fulfillment of the false prophecy of the 1917 Fatima Hoax (i.e. the conversion of Orthodox Russia to Romanism).

David Livingstone is a Canadian of Jamaican and French Canadian descent. He is a Muslim by religion and not a Jesuits asset! I know him personally.

Thank you for the correction and I have apologized to him for that charge. It was a calculated response to his reducing VA to a laughing matter by calling it "ludicrous."

Is there anywhere I can get your book at a reasonable price?

If you desire, I will send you a gratis CD of the second edition as I have no more books.

Best wishes,

henry

Dear Sister Cata,

I checked my most recent CFR Annual Report and sure enough, the name of John J. DeGioia appears. We must also remember that the late Chicago Archbishop Joseph Bernadin was also on the list of the CFR. He too was accused of being a pedophile.

Sent: Wednesday, June 22, 2005 5:11 PM

Subject: Re: Biography, CFR member and Knight of Malta;

I saw DeGioia on C-SPAN the other evening. Boy! If he's not Jesuit trained I don't know who is. Sharp as a tack and polished as a brass nickle. I was reading the other day that Jackie Bouvier had been a Georgetown gal. I was not surprised. My father's second wife, Waverly, was a nice British woman who was instrumental in helping Jackie's brother-in-law, Sargeant Shriver form the Peace Corp. My father, an Irish Catholic Democrat, who leaned toward Protestantism, was devastated I did not join the corp upon graduation. I was a "Jackie fan" in my high school days, but later realized how vain, self-serving and cold she really was. Linda Ronstadt told me that when she attended a concert at Lincoln Center with Jackie in the early 80's, Jackie had told her, regarding the death of her husband, "the mafia did it.". That was that. Did it not occur to her, knowing she had quite an intellectual mind, as to WHY the mafia had been appointed to do it? Did she not care in the least that her own CHURCH had had a part in it? Did that not occur to her at any time?

Oh, Jackie knew that Spellman had ordered the execution of JFK. But being related to several Knights of Malta near Spellman who was, as she knew, controlled by the Jesuits of New York City, she married a Greek Knight of Malta and kept quit knowing that her children were in danger. It is most telling that the Order then murdered JFK, Jr. and Caroline is a member of Cardinal Egan's CFR. For her "resistance is futile," so saith the Borg---Borgo Santo Spirito, the headquarters of the Black Pope in Rome.

AMAZING! Maybe the love of money dims the mind. Oh, and another interesting thing Linda mentioned during her stay with us, was that she had been "chosen" to "meet" the infamous writer Salmon Rushdi. She told us that she had been made to be blind folded, as to not know of his location, but she did say "He is hiding in Mexico." How very very interesting. And why would Linda be someone he would want to meet or did someone ask Linda to get the lowdown on him? I did not ask her too many questions, as I was already undercover at the Tree of Life.

We must remember that Linda Ronstadt has a Jesuit connection through Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor and former California Governor Jerry Brown. My father, a former California police chief, arrested Brown years ago. Rushdi is a Jesuit minion as he was used, via his Satanic Verses, to further incite anti-American fury among the Moslem world.

Another interesting thing occurred that winter in Patagonia. My daughters attended school with a boy named James "Jimmy" Banks. His father is allegedly a famous Irish Jockey. (He is with him now) His parents are separated and the mother (Sheila) has very strong ties to Ireland. So strong, indeed, that Jimmy jokingly and innocently reported to the kids in his class and my daughters told me "My mom has all these IRA friends over plotting what their going to do next." and "Man, do they drink!" 8th graders can be so innocent. I remember writing something about this in one of my news letters at the time regarding the Senn Finn (sp) still "at large" and having NO INTENTIONS to lay down their guns, as the leaders would have us think. Does Satan ever sleep?

The Senn Finn is the PLO of Ireland. The Order has used its KGB to support that wicked organization for years.

Thanks again for all the info.
Until later,
Sister Cata

Brother Eric

The Jesuit Georgetown University/CFR connection is imperative to understand if we are to comprehend the Order's control of the governments of the earth. If the Order controls the CFR, then it controls the CIA. The CIA controls the Order's International Intelligence Community which in turn controls the Islamic Masonic International Terrorist Network. Thus, when America is attacked with a series of nuclear detonations in the future, it will be blamed on the Moslems and possibly North Korea. The coming terrorism in the US will be masterminded by the Order via its CIA.

Hey Guy's,

I just heard the Preterist, John Stadtmiller say that " He can't help but believe that God left out a couple of chapters in His Bible", reffering to the "taking back" of America. Taking it back for Jesus, you see. This guy is a complete MORON!!!!!!!!!!!!!! A gentleman called in a few days ago and ask him if he had ever heard of Eric and his book "Vatican Assasins" . You would have thought Stadtmiller had choked on a gold fish. He started himmying and hawing, and said, I think I might have heard of Eric. The guest said, "you need to have him on the show", and Stadtmiller said, barely audibly, " yeah, maybe we can have him on sometime". He wouldn't have Eric on, if it would restore America. These John Anderson clones make me sick to my stomach!!! Why doesn't Stadtmiller come out with his own bible, and add the missing chapters? I would like to see the PAYTRIOT tripe he includes! These devils are decieving themselves, as well as many with them.

evil empire R' us,----and won't be taken back!!!!----We would have given Babylon balm, but she would not be healed!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Dear Sister Spears,

I know that the family was not murdered by the Bolshiveks in 1918. Alexi ultimately came to the States and died in Canada. He was a Knight of Malta.

Sherman Skolnick is usually right on every topic he covers in my view. And if he said he interviewed Alexsi in 1974 you can believe it. Alan Stang also interviewed him in the mid 1980s if my memory serves me well. Have you read The White Paper regarding the family's escape out of Russia? Remember that the Bolshiveks were controlled by the Russian Languge/Tongue of the Knights of Malta. Nicholas II's cousin was King George V who was England's most powerful Mason. The Knights and Freemasons work together thus the removal and escorting of the Royal Family out of Russia was arranged on orders of the Black Pope who controlled the Tzar's Secret Police as well as the Cheka.

Yes I do. I do not trust the reckless DNA testing. They can prove anything with it even though it has been proven that most analysts are not competent to properly carry out the testing.

Dear Pastor,

Thanks and I will send this around.

Brother Eric

Subject: CRYPTO-CATHOLIC SHORTWAVE HOSTS

Dear John, Your recent experience listening to John Stadtmiller is the same thing I have experienced while listening to other shortwave hosts. None of the hosts listed below will have Brother Eric on their broadcasts, particularly those that are on the "GENESIS RADIO NETWORK." The only major shortwave patriot personality to hear or promote consideration of Eric's message was Clayxton Douglas, who had a "motorcycle accident" back some time ago, and Rick Wiles, who was pressured to have Eric on via e-mails. The following list is not comprehensive, but to my knowledge is accurate as far as it goes:

- 1) ALEX JONES- Will not have Eric on, nor will devote one whole hour or broadcast to exposing the Catholic, Jesuit heads of the flesh and blood worldwide conspiracy of antichrist. Alex lets very little talk about one group other than the amorphous, invisible "Illuminati" slide past him: his big quote is "I'm not here to bash other people's religion." But he had Opus Dei Hutton Gibson and Mel Gibson on his broadcast, and initially promoted "THE PASSION." A co-adjutor; all sorts of insane time wasting and babble is permitted on his broadcast, but no straight forward exposing of the Jesuit General, head of the "new world order" will be tolerated by him
- 2) DR. STAN MONTEITH- He will never trace the conspiracy back to Rome and the Jesuits, believes Catholics are Christians, and actually told a listener that he had never heard before that Rome had killed millions, and he "would have to do some reaserch into that accusation." Another co-adjutor.

3) JACKIE PATRU-"SWEET LIBERTY" A Jew hater who believes the God in the Old Testament is different from the God in the New Testament. Blames the Jews for everything. Will never hear any deep truth exposing the Jesuit order: only an occasional program here and there mentioning priests and their wrongdoings, while never naming Jesuits. If not a co-adjutor-a wannabee!

4) TEXE (GOLIATH) MARRS- A deep cover co-adjutor for years, now come out of the closet since march 2003 in a full out assault on all Hebrews, Israelites, Jews. An Arminian, papal heretic that teaches the papal doctrine of universal equality. Sells the PROTOCOLS OF THE LEARNED ELDERS OF ZION: recently called E.R. Fields of "THE TRUTH AT LAST" paper "my good friend." Will do faux attacks on Rome, but never attacks Council of Trent, pre 1963 Romanism. Recently said, "Maybe some of these people ought to do penance. I am not a Catholic, but maybe some of them doing penance wouldn't be such a bad idea." Also promotes work of Gail Riplinger, the crypto-Catholic author of "New Age Bible Versions." She teaches the New Bibles are satanic, but believes you can be saved through them!

5) JOHN STADTMILLER- A Christ rejecting patriot infidel who shoots his mouth off endlessly from Austin, Texas (home to Marrs and Jones) and gets very annoyed if you give him too much Bible.

6) RICK STRAWCUTTER- A doctrinally wacked pastor who sells videos and wrote a book that he sends for free with purchases; no mention of Jesuits from him that I am aware of.

7) MICHAEL TRUDEAU-Genesis gold salemen who shys not from off color and profane humor. Will never talk about Rome.

8) DAN CORNER-Jesuit temporal co-adjutor for sure. His whole "preaching" ministry is dedicated to talking men out of faith in Christ and the KING JAMES. Rabid Arminian that tells people to attend the Nazarene churches.

Many more have come and gone in my ten years of short wave monitoring; another one, STAN JOHNSON of the PROPHECY CLUB. Promoted a couple of straight shooters, but the rest were nuts and cryptos. God Bless you and "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good." 1 Thessalonians 5:21-Pastor NCT

The trouble with Today is, we have forgotten Yesterday. Dare we telescope, adapt, and excerpt the Fuehrer's remarks into the present time circumstances, such as combining them with the speeches of George W. Bush? Which is which?

Hitler, after the supposed "Communists" burned down the German Parliament, the Reichstag (actually done by the Nazis): Bush, after the supposed "Moslem terrorists" hit and collapsed the twin Towers, of the World Trade Center (actually done by the Globalists/Anglo-American Aristocracy with internal explosives in the twin Towers and internal explosives admittedly used, according to Larry Silverstein, leasing agent, to "pull down" WTC Building 7.):

"The evidence we have gathered all point to a group of criminal organizations known as the Bolsheviks. They are renegades responsible for stabbing Deutschland in the back in the War. They are the enemies of the Fatherland who have shackled this land and its people with terrible reparations to starve our people and take away their employment."

"In Russland [Russia] we see the Bolsheviks vision for the world....Tonight, we demand that the Communist traitors deliver to us those responsible for burning down the Reichstag, the symbol of our regime. These demands are not open to negotiation or discussion. The Bolsheviks must act, and act immediately. They will hand over the criminals, or they will share their fate.

Our war on the Communist traitors begins with the Bolsheviks, but does not end there. It will end when every Communist group of global reach has been found, stopped, and defeated."

"And as leaders of the nation and the national government we vow to God, to our conscience, and to our people, that we shall faithfully and resolutely fulfill the task conferred upon us."

"The national government regards Christianity as the foundation of our national morality. The national government considers its highest mission to be securing the right to live and the restoration of freedom to the world.

"The national government is impressed with the importance of its duty to use this nation of equal rights as an instrument for securing and maintenance of that peace which the world requires today more than ever before."

AND THEN LATER:

"We have also discovered through intelligence that the Deutschland Communists have a growing secret repository of weapons that could raise terror across broad areas of the Fatherland. We're concerned that the Bolsheviks are exploring ways to use these weapons targetting our Homeland."

(No such weapons were found in Germany; no Weapons of Mass Destruction were found in Iraq.)

The ageing President of Germany, soon to have been removed, and replaced by Hitler, signed a decree suspending the Freedom of Speech. Following September 11, 2001, at the behest of the occupant and resident of the White House, George W. Bush, arbitrarily installed by a corrupted majority of the U.S. Supreme Court; the Congress, without fully reading or considering the same, quickly passed the infamous Patriot Act, wrecking the rights guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

Adolf Hitler and George W. Bush both bowed down to the Pope and to popery.

In 1933, a secret Concordat was made between Hitler and the Vatican, signed by then Vatican Secretary of State Eugenio Pacelli, later to become Pope Pius12th. Under the secret agreement, the Pope would give Hitler all the support he needed in the conquest of Russia (location of the Eastern Orthodox Church, for a thousand years and more, in opposiion to the Vatican). And in return, Hitler would divide up Italy once again and give back to the Pope the Papal States, disbanded about 1870..

Having been arbitrarily installed as the occupant and resident of the White House by a corrupted five-judge majority of the U.S. Supreme Court, George W.Bush, shortly after being supposedly "inaugurated" in 2001, went to help honor in the District of Columbia, a Cultural Center dedicated to Pope John Paul 2nd.

Bush there declared "The best way to honor Pope John Paul II, truly one of the great men, is to take his teachings seriously, to listen to his words and to put his words and teachings into action here in America." (Reuters, March 22, 2001.)

"In 1960, John Kennedy went from Washington to Texas to assure Protestant preachers he would not obey the pope. In 2001, George Bush came from Texas up to Washington to assure a group of Catholic Bishops he would obey the pope." Washington Times, April 16, 2001.

Shortly after being inaugurated as the new President in 1961, Kennedy reluctantly went along with a plan of the previous Eisenhower Administration to attempt to invade Cuba at the Bay of Pigs. In so doing, Kennedy, having described himself to the Protestant preachers as being nominally a Catholic, violated Vatican Canon Law in that as a Catholic and head of a nation, he sought to invade Cuba, still even under Fidel Castro, as a Catholic nation. To do so, Kennedy put himself under a Canon Law death warrant. Further, the leader of Cuba, Fidel Castro, described by some as a supposed "Communist", was a Jesuit.

Some set all the books of esoteric conspiracies on the side, and consider that the Jesuits were behind the plot to assassinate John F. Kennedy which was blamed onto others. Moreover, some consider the 1913 creation of the conspiratorial private Central Bank, masquerading as a supposed U.S. government entity, namely the Federal Reserve, as being at least in part, instigated by the Jesuits. Shortly before being murdered, JFK, in defiance of the Federal Reserve, authorized an issue of genuine U.S. paper money, two dollar bills.

From the beginning of the United States of America, the Vatican has condemned this nation's founding documents.

"The Vatican condemned the Declaration of Independence as wickedness and called the Constitution of the United States a Satanic Document." Avro Manhattan, "The Dollar and the Vatican", Ozark Book Publishers, 1988, page 26.

For many decades the Vatican has sought to benefit from having the Israelis and the Arabs endlessly at each others throats, while the Pope plans to dispense with both such groups and have Jerusalem as the new Vatican capitol.

Similar to the secret agreement of Adolf Hitler and the Pope, some sources consider that there is a secret Concordat between the George W. Bush White House and the Vatican, to pave the way for the Pope to have as his new capitol, Jerusalem, after the powers, if any, of both the Israelis and the Arabs/Palestinians have been eliminated.

As to Homeland Security and Gestapo being similar, look up term "Gestapo" in sizeable dictionary. It is acronym and abbreviation for term similar to Homeland Security.

For background, visit www.google.com "Adolf Hitler" speeches and "George W. Bush" speeches. Be certain to put their names in quotation marks for speedy search.

More coming. Stay tuned.

Title: Eric Phelps - JFK Movie

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:21 AM (GMT)

Eric

In the movie JFK they have the line "black is white and white is black". If this movie was made by the jesuits, in your opinion what was their motive?

I believe their purpose was to tell as much about the inside job of the Assassination but not to tell quite all. JFK, Director's cut had too many SMOM connections including George De Morenschildt (sp), so that was cut out.

Why would the Jesuits want to reveal most of the truth about the assassination of John F. Kennedy, leaving out that the driver, Richard Greer fired the final shot into Kennedy's head?

Cutting out the driver in the Zapruder Film as given in JFK was essential. If that would have been shown, then it would be obvious that the Secret Service killed JFK. The parlor game of "who did it" must continue, rather than ask "Why, Who benefited, and Who has the power to cover it up?"

Brother Eric

Why would they do this?

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:20 AM (GMT)

Hi Eric,

This guy is soliciting dialogue. Have you anything to give him?

I think you might find this of interest! <http://rense.com/general66/proto.htm>

Yes. As I cover in VA, the Jesuits wrote the Protocols in France prior to the Dreyfus Affair according to ex-priest and Bible-believer Leo Lehmann in his Behind the Dictators (1942). I suspected this; he confirmed it.

Secondly, the Jesuits are the first Zionists as Napoleon was a Zionist calling for Palestine to be a homeland for the Jews. We know the the Jesuits controlled Napoleon. Thus, the Pope's Masonic Jewish Zionists rule Israel and many American corps on behalf of the Pope.

Meanwhile the Order via its CFR uses its Masonic Jewish Zionist members to head corporations like IBM's--CFR Louis V. Gerstner, Jr. now resigned and a part of SMOM/CFR Frank C. Carlucci's Carlyle Group--(IBM, led by 33rd Degree Freemason and friend of Masonic Roman Catholic Hitler, Thomas J. Watson, Jr., having participated in the Jewish Holocaust) in order to create more anti-Jewish fury in America, anti-American fury around the world and to further this present Papal crusade against the Islamic peoples--whose leaders also are Masonic and controlled by the Black Pope (Bin Laden, etc.).

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:19 AM (GMT)

Dear Friends,

It appears at a glance that, in spite of many truths she gives in her work (that FDR was a communist, as his Secretary of Agriculture, Francis Perkins was indeed a card-carrying communist), Mrs. Dilling is in fact a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor out of Jesuit-controlled Chicago and was most likely a secret intimate with the Archbishop---just like anti-Jew, NOI leader, Black Freemason of the Prince Hall rite, Louis Farrakhan, also headquartered in his million-dollar mansion in Chicago. And most discustingly the great evangelist and Biblical writer Harry Ironside---who taught himself Chinese---was sucked into this scheme hosting her at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. The same is true for the Protestant Freemason Carl McIntyre as he was a close friend with sodomites Cardinal Spellman and J. Edgar Hoover.

For the Order's intent was to unite Protestants and Catholics against a common, secretly Jesuit-controlled foe, "Godless Jew Communism." (That common foe today is the Order's evil "New Age Movement.") Meanwhile, no distinction is made between the Masonic Jews working for the Pope (via the New York-based CFR) and the common, hard working Jew on the street who knows NOTHING about the Talmud and the betrayal of his own rabbis and leaders during WWII and the coming American Jewish Holocaust now in the making.

Mrs. Dilling claims that she entered the USSR in 1931, a feat that was impossible for the average American unless you were Masonic CFR member Armand Hammer or Illuminatus CFR-member David Reckefeller. Since 33rd Degree Freemason and CFR member FDR did not recognize Jesuit-trained Masonic Stalin's USSR until 1933, she must have had connections via the Jesuits of Chicago to enter and take pictures otherwise forbidden to others.

Of course she propagates the lie that our beloved Martin Luther wrote the Jesuit-authored On the Jews and Their Lies, and never reveals the masonic connection of B'nai B'rith and thus the ADL to certain Masonic Jews within the CFR including Benard Baruch.

This woman is a brilliant, top notch coadjutor taking the truth of Jewish involvement in World Communism (Masons Jacob Schiff, Paul Warburg, etc.), the wickedness of the gnostic Talmud (co-authored by Roman priests and rabbis devoted to the Papacy, as the maxims of the Talmud are nearly identical to Canon Law), and then concluding that the Jews in general are behind it all.

She was a great contributor to Archbishop Spellman's and 33rd Degree Freemason Billy Graham's anti-Communist agitation of the fifties and sixties, Spellman knowing full well that the Jesuits originated and controlled Soviet Communism since 1917.

Today this same game is being played by Coadjutor Texe Marrs and others today, and by the grace of God my team and I will utterly refute and route this untrue, Jesuit-inspired, wicked conclusion lest America fall into the same trap that White apostate Protestant Germany fell into decimating their country.

Let us read Mrs. Dilling's book enclosed above; learn her points and then defeat her and her modern-day followers on the field of battle--in open debate where "the voice and the pen is mightier than the sword."

Genesis 12:1-2 will never be annulled.

Coadjutor Hoffman, like Texe Marrs, claims that the Jews run the Papacy. Thus, if the Order cannot refute the worldwide supremacy of the Pope's Temporal Power, then the controlling power must be diverted away from the Jesuits and on to the Jews---"the Kazars."

Destroy this argument and you destroy their high ground upon which they intend to attack and destroy White Protestant Western civilization.

QUOTE

Former IRS CID Special Agent Joseph Banister Acquitted of Tax Fraud And Conspiracy

Government Unable To Prove U.S. Law Requires Income Tax Withholding or Filing

Video & More Details Tomorrow...

Sacramento California -- On Thursday June 23, a federal jury found former IRS Criminal Investigative Division (CID) Special Agent and CPA Joseph Banister not guilty of all counts alleging criminal tax fraud and conspiracy related to actions he took on behalf of a California business owner who had openly defied the IRS over several years by stopping withholding of all income and employment taxes from the paychecks of his workers.

During the trial the Department of Justice was unable to put forth any evidence that Banister had either engaged in a conspiracy or had acted unlawfully when he shared legal research with business owner Al Thompson concluding that he had no legal obligation to withhold taxes from his workers or when he (Banister) prepared corrected tax returns for Thompson claiming his taxable income was, under U.S. law, zero.

During the trial, Banister's former supervisor at IRS's San Jose CID office, Robert Gorini (who testified via video recording) when pointedly asked, was unable to cite any U.S. law that required Banister to pay income taxes.

Banister, who was forced to resign in 1999, gave Thompson's worker's a presentation in 2000 which reviewed his detailed investigative research of U.S. tax law which concluded that not only did the IRS lack any authority to impose income taxes on the workers, but there was no legal requirement for the business to withhold any taxes from the worker's paychecks.

Banister is part of a nationwide effort seeking to force the U.S. Government to respond to a series of detailed legal Petitions for Redress of Grievances directly challenging the authority of the IRS. Last summer, the We The People Foundation initiated a landmark lawsuit with 2000 plaintiffs against the government because it has refused to answer the Petitions.

The Right-To-Petition lawsuit, of which Banister is a plaintiff, is the first time in history that U.S. courts have been asked to define the meaning of the final ten words of the First Amendment.

Court documents for the RTP lawsuit and scholarly research regarding the Right to Petition can be downloaded from the Lawsuit Information Center on www.GiveMeLiberty.org.

Following the verdict, Banister was greeted by a throng of WTP supporters and members of his family.

Tomorrow, WTP will publish additional details of this important news and stream video of post-verdict interviews of Banister & several of the jurors.

Dear Dxxxx,

Rosicrucianism is, as you know, a form of gnostic Freemasonry. The Jesuits utilize the Rose Cross in some of their symbols. Francis Bacon was an opponent of the Reformation during King James I's day but was overruled in a few of his devices.

Thus I do believe he was a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor as was Queen Elizabeth I's crypto-Roman Catholic William Cecil, termed "Shylock" by DeVere in his The Merchant of Venice. Bacon was familiar with the Jesuit practice of not looking an opponent in the eye but rather looking at mid-chest. I had a history instructor that did this to me many times. He was Dr. Rembert Carter, a most distinguished American historian at the time who received his doctorate from Edinburgh before he was twenty-five. He was brilliant and proud---and I believe secretly affiliated with the Jesuits at Scranton University.

I trust this is helpful.

Description: Flashback*

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:14 AM (GMT)

Dear xxxx,

Thanks for the great site!

I have but a few corrections:

- 1. JFK was never going to recognize Castro's Cuba. He intended to overthrow Castro after the Bay of Pigs, making this promise to a huge crowd of Cuban exiles in Miami. Jackie even spoke to them in Spanish on that occasion. This is one of the reasons he relieved Dulles of his directorship of the CIA. Taking Cuba away from Jesuit-trained Castro could never be allowed to happen. If Bush was truly waging a "war on terror," the first dictator to be removed would be CIA asset and 33rd Degree Freemason, Roman Catholic communist Fidel Castro. But alas, he as an altar boy for the Pope and Cuba is to be the staging base for our coming Sino-Soviet-Moslem invasion.
- 2. Mafioso James Files did indeed shoot the "fireball" from the Grassy Knoll in Dallas on November 22, 1963. I have watched his body language carefully as he told his story on video. But no bullet ever proceeded out of his rifle! That loud shot and resultant smoke cloud was an intended distraction to enable Greer to shoot JFK while all attention--fifty-one witnesses--was on the Grassy Knoll. Files, being in prison at the time of the video, has been permitted to live to tell his story so as to take attention away from the Secret Service/CIA/FBI and thereby putting the blame on himself, a Mafia shooter.
- 3. There was never a real intent on the part of the Pope's CFR-controlled high command of the CIA to kill Castro. The late CIA assassin George Hickey told my close friend that he had Castro in his sights when he received the order to "abort." The order was blamed on JFK and that essential team was then used to do the distractionary shooting and wounding in Dallas, the kill shot coming from Greer.

4. George de Mohrenschildt and George H. W. Bush were not only friends but they both were Papal Knights of Malta. Two high Knights were eliminated in the Kennedy executive action: Clay Shaw and George de Mohrenschildt. Both died as a result of subsequent investigations after the assassination.

With these corrections kept in mind, knowing that the current cover-up leads to the Archbishop of New York City---now Edward Cardinal Egan---, we have more details as to "Who" was involved in the murder of a President who was first an American and secondly a Roman Catholic who refused to enforce the Pope's Temporal Power. That "Who" extends to Watergate and Iran Contra. That "Who" includes Knight of Malta William F. Buckley, Jr., Knight of Malta William J. Casey, Knight of Malta Alexander Haig, Jr., Knight of Malta Pat Buchanan, Knight of Malta Oliver North, and now with the WTC demolition, Knight of Malta George J. Tenet. All of these traitors were or are today under the control of Fordham and Georgetown University Jesuits ruling the Pope's "Holy Roman" Fourteenth Amendment American Empire (1868-Present).

Dear Brother Nicholas,

Another great post.

Regarding your question about being a Bible-believing racial Latino and where you should live, I will say this:

When we White Bible believing Calvinists secure a White Protestant nation here in North American if the Lord wills (as we Whites must bear the responsibility for first attempting this), then we will help our Black Bible believing brethren to set up their own Black nation also. Thus we will do the same for all Latino Bible believers in North America. Then we could have three separate nations, each with their own race, language and Bible-based culture with no secret societies allowed. Then we could enter into treaties of amity and commerce with each other for the benefit of each nation while still preserving our nationality and racial identities. Diversity works if individual nations unite for specific purposes as delineated in a written contract called a treaty, much like the pre-Fourteenth Amendment Constitution. Racial Jews could live unmolested in our midst if they would so desire, as we would obey Genesis 12. The Lord would bless this arrangement and it would work as it has worked in the past.

So Jesuit Drinin was behind the abortion agitation? Thanks!

And Martin Lucifer King received an honorary degree from the Jesuits? And Jesuit McSorely marched with King? Thanks loads for this also!
Again, great post brother.

On more thing. The Jesuits caused the Spanish American War via their blowing up of the USS Maine in Havana Harbor in 1898. God-fearing, Methodist McKinley sought to avoid that war but was pushed into it. His Secretary of War was one of the conspirators in his assassination. It was Freemason and later CFR founder, Elihu Root, the bosom friend of the Supreme Knight of Columbus, Mr. Hearn.!

Further, the treaty of Paris after the war guaranteed the protection of every piece of Roman Catholic property in the US and in its foreign holdings including Puerto Rico and the Philippines. And why? Because the US government threatened the Vatican that if it did not hand over John Surratt for the murder of Lincoln, every piece of Roman Catholic Church property in the US would be confiscated as did the glorious Benito Juarez in Mexico. And why did the US pay 20 million dollars for the Philippines? That island was to serve as a staging base for the invasion of Japan in the future. From Japan, China would be conquered for which reason the US fought with the Boxers who rightly sought to throw out all the Whites from China. With the defeat of the Boxers by the Japanese and the American armies both controlled by the Jesuits, the anti-Jesuit Manchu dynasty was then overthrown. This paved the way for the Order to conquer China with Freemason Mao Zedong put in power by the CIA.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Oh, and John Wilkes Booth was a Sulpician, a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor who was accepted in the the RCC by Archbishop Spaulding three weeks prior to the assassination.

Title: James Carroll must be a Jesuit Temporal Coadju

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:11 AM (GMT)

Dear Friends,

This man, James Carroll, must be a Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor. He is saying right things about the Papacy and the Bush Crusade, yet he still remains a Roman Catholic just as did Jesuit Malachi Martin. No thinking man who knows the true history of the Papacy and the Jesuit Order can remain a Roman Catholic. It is for this reason that once Roman Catholic France is atheist today.

Watch him. I have his post on my website in a favorable light because what he says is true. But his allegiance is still with the Pope.

Brother Eric

BUSH'S CRUSADE to RID the WORLD of EVIL

"This Crusade, This War on Terrorism"

In a moment of crisis, just days after 9-11-01, 'speaking spontaneously, without the aid of advisers or speech-writers, he [George W. Bush] put a word on the new American purpose that both shaped it and gave it meaning. "This crusade,' he said, 'this war on terrorism.'"—James Carroll, Crusade Chronicles of an Unjust War, New York: Henry Holt and Co., 2004. P.2

James Carroll is the eminent Roman Catholic author who has dared to write about the history of the papacy in his remarkable book, Constantine's Sword, in which he reveals volumes about papal history and intentions. Carroll is a man of unusual courage. In Crusade, commenting on Bush's concept of crusade, Carroll writes about his visceral reaction, for he is one of the few who comprehends the implications of the use of that word. In the following quotes from quotes from Crusade Carroll's frustration with President Bush is evident because of the agony of what he comprehends is happening- for Carroll's deep immersement in the history of the Roman Catholic Church gives him wisdom, as he cries out for he world not to follow into the darkness. Carroll sees clearly the abyss that the world is now entering, as Bush promotes the revival of one of the darkest eras of Romish history-the Crusades, led now by none other than President Bush, in Rome's final crusade:

From Vertigo to Fear

"Crusade, I remember a momentary feeling of vertigo at the president's use of that word, the outrageous ineptitude of it. The vertigo lifted and what I fel then was fear, sensing not ineptitude but exactitude. My thoughts were tothe elusive Osama Bin Laden, how pleased he must have been, Bush already reading form his script. I am a Roman Catholic with a feeling for history, and strong regrets, there- fore, over what went wrong in my own tradition once the Crusades were launched...the Crusades were set of world-historic crimes. I hear the word with a third ear, alert to its dangers. Bush's use of crusade, as it were, conscripted my complete attention, and from that instant on I found myself an unwilling witness to the slow-motion wreck of American values that has occurred over t he past three years ...[CC note: torture, preventive arrest, incommunicado detention-all elements of Roman persecution are being revived, as foretold to re-establish persecution.]

New World Order: eleven Years to the Day:

"On September 11, 1990, as it happened, George W. bush's father had declared a 'new world order,' eleven years to the day later, the son set out on his crusade to make that order is. Destruction followed upon destruction. ""

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 01:09 AM (GMT)

Dear Brethren in the Lord Jesus Christ and Truth-Seeking Members,
I joined the previous website before I learned the site changed its address. I am a member of Brother Eric Jon Phelps' mailing list. Brother Eric is out of town until tomorrow (Thursday) so he asked that those on his list not send posts until then and resume when he returns. So I have decided to post a topic on this message board. I commend you 2Tuff for posting this information and the posts I have sent to Brother Eric and those on his list. I was pleasantly surprised when I saw some of my posts on The Unhived Mind. I first visited this site after clicking on a link from Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor Constance Cumbey blogspot. I wrote her about her unfounded accusation about Brother Eric being a New Ager. Brother Eric exposes the New Age Movement and proves it is a Jesuit device like fascism, communism, socialism, universal equality (civil rights movement), voodoo, the ecumenical and charismatic movements. She did not even read Vatican Assassins evidenced by her comments. Brother Eric is no New Ager and I support him wholeheartedly in his research.

I posted a reply to a question Brother Jack Shadow had. He asked whether I was the late Brother Alberto Rivera's brother. I am not related by human blood to Brother Rivera but we are related by the precious blood of the Lord Jesus Christ-God's blood. I am including my reply in this post. Here it is.

Dear Brother Jack,

To answer your question (I have been asked this before) I am not related to the late Brother Alberto Rivera by human blood but only through the blood of our Lord Jesus Christ-God's blood. That would be something though, brother if that were the case. I suppose the Jesuits would try to take me out. Even if I was Brother Alberto's brother, his blood relative, which I am not, I would not be silenced through coercion or death threats by the Order and their wicked network. In fact, I'd be doing what i've been doing-exposing the satanic Society of (another) Jesus (Satan).

If Brother Rivera and I were related by human blood then it would be a very distant relation. The surname Rivera originated in Spain and I would imagine that perhaps my ancestors came from there but most likely my ancestors were Taino Indians of Borinquen better known today as Puerto Rico which rightfully belongs to the Spain (the Jesuits stripped them of that land and other territories as punishment for their expulsion from Spain in 1767 following America's first Vatican war-the Spanish-American War with the first emperor (President) of the Jesuits" Fourteenth Amendment American Empire Theodore "Rex" Roosevelt and his Rough Riders.

Again to clarify, I am not Brother Alberto Rivera's brother after/according to the flesh but I am his brother and yours in Christ Jesus our Lord and Saviour. God bless you Brother Jack and perhaps we can fellowship through this message board, encourage one another in the Lord and talk about Bible prophecy if you'd like. Thanks for the question and if you have any more I'll try to answer them as best as I can from the word of God. God bless you and yours.

Brother Nicholas N. Rivera

Now, I want to address two topics in this post. First, I found an example of Masonic Jewish Zionists those Brother Eric has called and rightly so Papal Court Jews-the enemies of the apple of God's eye (Zech. 2:8) His beloved Hebrew Jewish race-the flesh and blood descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. President of B'nai B'rith International Joel S. Kaplan and other Talmudic Zionist community officials met with Papal Caesar Benedict XVI-former Hitler youth member. <http://bnaibrith.org/pubs/pr/050617_popeMeeting.cfm>

B'nai B'rith is Masonic according to Freemasonry Watch. <<http://www.freemasonrywatch.org/bnaibrith.html>>

The Vatican ruled by the Black Pope works with Freemasonry which he also heads including the Grand Lodge of B'nai B'rith now B'nai' B'rith International. This Masonic Zionist cult has created anti-Jewish fury and will continue to do so. These Masonic Jewish Zionists are anti-Torah, pro-Zionism, (which is a Jesuit device created and promoted with the goal of rebuilding Solomon's Temple in Jerusalem for the Pope of their General's making) they are the same kind of Babylonish Jews who betrayed their own race during the Jesuits' Jewish Holocaust and Third Reich. The ADL (Anti-Defamation League) is another anti-Torah, pro-Zionist organization controlled by the Jesuit Order. I remember a pro-Zionist Arab Bedouin a former terrorist working for the Jesuits' PLO and Palestinian Authority spoke at my college blaming Islamic Shriner Freemason Yasser Arafat whose uncle was the Nazi Grand Mufti of Jerusalem for the violence in Jerusalem. After he spoke a representative from the Connecticut Chapter of the ADL arrived or perhaps he was there the entire time, not sure. I realized that this ADL rep attended a talk sponsored and promoted by my college's Zionists of America chapter. The rep spoke with me and when I mentioned the high school I graduated from he thought of the situation there at the time that received media coverage. He asked if my mother needed support so that's the reason he gave me the card. So that night I saw the connection between the ZOA and the ADL.

The second topic I wanted to address was the similarity between the Extreme Oath of the Jesuits and the Oath of Shriner Freemasonry especially the recognition test the way a Jesuit Professed of the Fourth Vow identifies another and how two Shriners under the same oath recognize each other. Okay, the Jesuit Oath first as recorded in "Subterranean Rome" by Carlos Didler pp. 349-351. From the test of recognition in the Jesuit oath:

Question---From whither do you come?

Answer---The Holy faith.

Q.---Whom do you serve?

A.---The Holy Father at Rome, the Pope, and the Roman Catholic Church Universal throughout the world.

Q.---Who commands you?

A.---The Successor of St. Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus or the Soldiers of Jesus Christ.

Q.---Who received you?

A.---A venerable man in white hair.

Q.---How?

A.---With a naked dagger, I kneeling upon the cross beneath the banners of the Pope and of our sacred order.

Q.---Did you take an oath?

A.---I did, to destroy heretics and their governments and rulers, and to spare neither age, sex nor condition. To be as a corpse without any opinion or will of my own, but to implicitly obey my Superiors in all things without hesitation of murmuring.

Q.---Will you do that?

A.---I will.

Q.---How do you travel?

A.---In the bark of Peter the fisherman.

Q.---Whither do you travel?

A.---To the four quarters of the globe.

Q.---For what purpose?

A.---To obey the orders of my general and Superiors and execute the will of the Pope and faithfully fulfill the conditions of my oaths.

Q.---Go ye, then, into all the world and take possession of all lands in the name of the Pope. He, who will not accept him as the Vicar of Jesus and his Viceregent on earth, let him be accursed and exterminated."

Okay, now here is the test of recognition for Shriner Freemasons. I found this on Freemasonry Watch. <<http://www.freemasonrywatch.org/shriners.html>>

"The Shriners' Recognition Test"

According to a Lauterer manuscript, this is how two Shriners recognize each other:

Q: Then I presume you are a Noble?

A: I am so accepted by all men of noble birth.

Q: Have you traveled any?

A: I have.

Q: From where to what place have you traveled?

A: Traveled east over the hot burning sands of the desert.

Q: Where were you stopped at?

A: At the devil's pass.

Q: What were you requested to do?

A: I was requested to contribute a few drops of urine.

Q: Why were you requested to do this?

A: As a token of my renouncing the wiles and evils of the world and granted permission to worship at the Shrine.

Q: At what Shrine did you worship?

A: At the Shrine of Islam.

Q: Did you ride?

A: Yes, I rode a camel until I paused to dismount.

Q: Then what did you do with your camel?

A: I tied him.

Q: Where did you tie him?

A: I tied him to a date tree, where all True Shriners should do so.

BOTH: Yes, I pulled the Cord, rode the hump, I have traversed the hot arid sands of the desert to find Peace and rest in the quiet shades of the Oasis. The Shriner oath is also found at Freemasonry Watch under the Shriners' Test of Recognition.

High Priest --

...Our alliance or the Rite of our Mystic Shrine is ancient, honorable, benevolent and secret. It is devoted to the cause of justice, truth and mercy. It is ancient as the cornerstone of Mohammed's Temple of Mecca; as secret as the Moslem that bound the tribes of Arabia to Allah or their god; as honorable as the Christian, and the tenets to which it is dedicated when once assumed cannot be eschewed or cast aloof. ...We require absolute secrecy and desire all our disciples to hold and interest in our noble cause and a just observance of the tenets of our faith. ...By the existence of Allah and the creed of Mohammed; by the legendary sanctity of our Tabernacle at Mecca we greet you, (p. 17-18)

Grand Potentate--

Who is he who hath professed to have conversed in person with the Supreme and maketh himself mightiest of his Mohammed, the Prophet of the Arab's creed? (p. 18)

Priest --

There are Moslems among us; there are others who swerve from propriety; but whoso seeketh Islam earnestly seeks true direction; but those who swerve from truth and justice shall merit and reap abundance of chastisement. (p. 19)

Obligation

...I do hereby, upon this Bible, and on the mysterious legend of the Koran, and its dedication to the Mohammedan faith, promise and swear and vow on the faith and honor of an upright man,... (p. 20)

...and now upon this sacred book, by the sincerity of a Moslem's oath I here register this irrevocable vow, subscribing myself bound thereto as well as binding myself by the obligation of the prerequisite to this membership in that of a Knight Templar or that of a thirty-second degree A. and A, Scottish Rite Mason. ... may Allah, the god of Arab Moslem and Mohammedan, the god of our fathers, support me to the entire fulfillment of the same, Amen, Amen, Amen. (p. 22)

Priest --

And may Allah protect and support you, that you be not cast into 'al hotama' (hell).... (p. 24)

Conductor --

This is the place where our brethren stop to sprinkle the Devil's Pass with urine. You will contribute a few drops of urine to commemorate the time and place where all who pass here renounce the wiles and evils of the world to worship at the Shrine of Islam. Only a few drops will do. (p. 28)

GRAND HAILING SALAAM

...This sign must be given on entering and retiring. Word of entrance given to Outer Guardian, Mecca. Word of entrance given to Inside Guardian, Nemesis (the pagan Greek goddess of punishment). (p. 40)

The Jesuits

Dr. Ian R. K. Paisley

<http://www.ianpaisley.org/article.asp?ArtKey=gavazzi>

We will consider the Jesuits, firstly, in regard to themselves; secondly, in regard to the Church; finally, in regards to society. *

In regard to themselves.

Many will tell me that they know some Jesuits who are very gentle, kind, and learned men. I also know many individuals whose only sin is that they are Jesuits, being otherwise charitable, pious, gentle, and learned; but that is not our question. We do not speak about individuals, but about Jesuits, as members of the Society of Jesus.

Hear my popular comparison. In a picnic, each brings a dish or wine, usually the best; fish, fowl, venison, plum puddings, pies, soup, salad, champagne, claret. But suppose the director, by some caprice, mixes all together, all would cry, "very bad!" Why? The fish was good as fish, the fowl as fowl; but, when all were mixed together, they were no longer good. So, some Jesuits are very good fish, and some excellent fowl; but all together are shockingly bad. Therefore we do not speak against father Peter nor against father Paul, but against father Jesuit.

* The Lecturer observed that he would give two free Lectures in this Course for the industrial classes, especially the Irish, having been invited by several Irish Roman Catholics to do so; that he was wronged when accused of assailing the Irish – for that he always asserted their genius for poetry and oratory; that it was against their priests, who enslaved them, he spoke; that the proceeds of one Lecture would be for the Piedmontese exiles. He respected highly the kind Piedmont Government, and meant it no slight; but as it was, to it, a necessity to banish those deluded men, so it was, to persons in America, a charity to aid them.

"But, they are very moral." I have nothing to say against the individual morality of the Jesuits. The Pharisees presented a good exterior, but we know what Christ said of them. The Jesuits are holy outside, but, tear down the walls, as the voice said to the prophet Daniel, and you will see the abomination of desolation.

The Society of Jesus has ever been considered in the highest degree immoral by all enlightened people.*

But they cultivate passive obedience, and their panegyrist extol it, the worst and most dangerous of their maxims. The Jesuit is a good Jesuit only when no longer a man; let him become a stone, or as it is said by the ascetics, as a corpse, and then he is a perfect Jesuit! Obedience! to God it is a virtue ; to astute and fallible man, it is a stupidity, a vice. God created a man to be a man, not a stone; therefore to become a stone, is not a virtue before God. The first 'gift of God to man is liberty; to lose it willingly is to despise the Word of God. Every reasonable being was made to use his reason for his salvation and that of his brethren; he who renounces his reason, renounces the work of God. You guide your horses where you will, because they are irrational. When the father Superior, Provincial, and General of the Jesuits guides that body, he does not direct men, but drives beasts.

This obedience is fatal to society. You call the force of an army brute, because the men blindly obey, and, generally, for the destruction of happiness and freedom. The Jesuits are called "a company " that is "an army;" without will, reason, discretion; having merely the passive obedience which belongs to "brute force." That of armies has ever been fatal to society; that of Jesuits to religious freedom, and constitutional government.

But their motto is, " ad majorem Dei gloriam;" their end "the greater glory of God." Christ promoted the glory,

At Montepulciano, the people and the bishop himself, on discovering the lascivious correspondence of father Gombard, expelled him. In our last crusades, when the Italian volunteers entered Modena, and despoiled the college of the Jesuits, they found and preserved a large epistolary correspondence between the holy fathers and their secret lovers of the confessional and nunnery. They do not give open scandal-thus more dangerous.

the Jesuits, more instructed. Promote the greater glory, of God! Christ, to promote God's glory, preached charity, honesty, justice, reasonable religion, the Jesuits, to uphold "Christ's Vicar," which is their greater glory, preach mental reservation, perjury, immoralities, regicide, the subversion of society. The proverb says "extremes are dangerous;" when not content with the glory of God, as inculcated by Christ, I fear I but aid, by their means, the "greater glory" of the Jesuits.

Extremes in religion lead immorality. They exclaim, "the Church cannot subsist without the Jesuits."* The primitive Church was true; it had no Jesuits. "But times and men are changed; what was unnecessary then, is necessary now."

When the false Church trembled before Luther, Calvin, and other reformers, the Jesuits suddenly arose to support it. It cannot exist without them; destroy them and it perishes. Did Christ inspire Ignatius Loyola to establish the society of Jesuits? No! His true Church did not need it. Therefore, the Church which does is Antichrist's, and Satan inspired Ignatius Loyola!

The Jesuits have corrupted the worship, the morals, and the faith of the Church. Superstitions especially increased after their establishment. +

* The Jesuit fathers Curci, Bresciani, Pellico, their modern historian Creteneau Joly, and many others, have repeated this little blasphemy.

+ From the Jesuits we have the Malabarians, infamous rites. They encouraged and supported the worship of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and the Sacred Heart of the Virgin Mary. They invented the holy farce of Good Friday called "the three hours of our Saviour's anguish on Golgotha." They promoted the worship of the forty hours, in which the wafer is presented to the people for particular adoration. For three centuries no superstition, no idolatrous worship, has been introduced into the Church of Rome, that was not particularly patronized by the Jesuits. Some ten or twenty Years ago, they patronized the worship of Sancta Philomena, the worst among Christians, as encouraging all species of immorality. And now, especially in England and America, is cultivated by them the worship of Saint Alphonso Liguori, whose books are the most fanatical, and sometimes the most stupid, ever written among Papists. I have no time, and it is not my business now, to discover all the kinds of turpitude introduced into their theology by the Jesuit fathers Busembau, Eacobar,

The morality of the Jesuits is extolled. The Protestant morality is to say "Yes" Or "NO" according to the fact. But the Jesuit is not so hampered; he has his "mental reservation"*

The last degree of immorality is the theory of father Molinos, called quietism, by which all immoralities are permitted, provided that the mind be quiet in God. +

The Jesuits taught the killing of kings. True many were murdered before the order existed; but that order first taught that it is honest, just, and right to kill a tyrant king, - when the Jesuits have declared him a tyrant!

The cardinal point and ground of these immoralities is the theory of Fathers Tirino, Nicolai, and others, that "the end justifies the means." Saint Paul teaches otherwise; but they say, commit any amount of evil to do a little good; and as the greatest good is to promote the Jesuitical cause, to promote it, it were necessary to subvert, to oppress, all Europe, all the new World, to kill all the inhabitants of both these continents, it is right to subvert, to oppress, to kill!

True to their origin (to oppose the reformers of the six-

and especially Sanchez, who wrote a book on marriage. Sanchez's treatise is so licentiously infamous, that beside it the lasciviousness of Lucretiss, Horace, or Juvenal, looks like the writing of a holy father; yet he is now a vulnerable servant of God.

*An illustration. Suppose that a Jesuit, going to murder, is asked, "are you going to murder?" He replies "no;" and truly, according to his morality; because he was not, suppose, proceeding on foot, that is literally going, but was about to be carried in any sort of a conveyance, to the place of the murder! Another. In Latin volo signifies "I wish" and also "I fly." Suppose it is a fast-day, and you ask a Jesuit, in Latin, "Do you wish to eat a chicken?" he replies, "non volo." To you his answer means, "I do not wish;" but although he longs for the fowl, he does not lie, because to him it means, "I do not fly!" The Jesuit can swear thus; he is master of himself, and has a sense of his own mind, which keeps him from perjury! Very easy! Very elastic! The Jesuit can seem what he is not. Especially by the theology of Saint Alphonso Liguori, the compendium of all Jesuitical divines, if you are a Romanist, but live in America among Protestants, you can, for God's "greater glory," seem in every way a Protestant.

+ Get only into this blessed state, and though you rob, kill your brother, father, wife, keep your body in lust, yet, with your mind in God, all is quietude and holiness. The parliament of Paris condemned this doctrine of Mollinos as fatal to society.

teenth century), their great aim is to war against Protestantism called in their language "the bad heresy."

To obtain their end more easily, they have no particular dress, place, office, nor name; so that you have Jesuits as Jesuits, Jesuits as Liguorists, Jesuits as Redemptionists, Jesuits as Capucins, Jesuits as Newmanists. They are in the dress of priests, of soldiers, of magistrates, of policemen, and so on. They are always everywhere. * Come now, and recognize if you can, the Jesuits among you in America. You often see here a Polish, French, ay, or an Italian refugee, who speaks warmly for the freedom of his native country, declaims against tyrants, tyranny, and the Pope, and wears a large moustache. You think he is an ardent exiled patriot-ah, my friends! He is a Jesuit in disguise!

"Do you see any one coming in just now?" A poor, small insignificant little fellow! "Come in! You are welcome." He is no higher than Tom Thumb. With his large boots he looks more like a postilion than a Courier. He has two great spurs on his boots, and spectacles on his eyes. He looks like a Spaniard, but speaks French. "Come in; you are welcome!" I have the honour to introduce to my audience little Tom Thumb, called in New York "the Courier of the United States," the organ of the French population! Oh, my poor boy! You are the Courier of the United States, and you dare to say I am wrong when I speak so loudly and so warmly against France! My naughty boy! I am not the Courier of the United States, as I am not going to Paris, to solicit the cross of the Legion of Honour, and a pension from the bastard Bonaparte! My naughty boy! I speak warmly and passionately against France, because when a man has witnessed two thousand brethren wounded, mutilated, killed by a French army, that man never can have sympathy for the French Liberticide nation. I speak against France, not the liberal France, the patriot France, which is the minority of the French people, but against that France which sold her liberty for a glass of champagne at Satory.

* Father Personio, the first Jesuit who went to England, assumed the dress of a Spanish officer, and was received as such at the Court of Queen Elizabeth. He it was who prepared the gunpowder plot. Father Garnet, the head of the plot, had five different names, as came out upon his trial.

You call yourself the organ of the French population. Oh! Poor Spaniard! You are not. Read, my little boy! This is a true Frenchman; this is the great Quinet, the greatest philosopher in our age of philosophic history, expelled from France by the Jesuits; and this true Frenchman. In dedicating, his work on the Revolution in Italy, offered it in these words: "To the exiled Italians this work is dedicated, as a personal expiation for the murder of Italy consummated by Frenchmen." This is a Frenchman who speaks thus, a true Frenchman. In Italy we honour such Frenchmen, and the France which produced such a man. Remember, my boy, remember; we have no anger against you, but we will give you an advice: "Henceforth do not call yourself the organ of the French population, but the organ of Archbishop Hughes; and never for the future, style yourself "Courier of the Jesuits throughout the United States."

Such are the instruments in the hands of Jesuits for spreading and supporting their doctrines and theories.

But they have a still more dangerous weapon-especially for you. Americans, remember my words. Where their males can obtain nothing, their missions are conducted by females. Accordingly, within the last ten years we find in America thousands and thousands of nuns. They go by all kinds of names - ladies of the Sacred Heart of Jesus - they are Jesuitesses! Sisters of Mercy - Jesuitesses Sisters of Charity - Jesuitesses!

The crafty serpent knowing he would lose his time with Adam, tempted Eve. Painted and beautiful, he pleased her and she fell. Graceful and endearing, she pleased Adam, and he fell.

Jesuit men would probably lose their time among Protestants; but when there come to America fine and beautiful sisters, nuns so well dressed and speaking French so well, kind and pious ladies drink those nuns' words into their hearts, to be thence transmitted to the hearts of their husbands and children! Thus do nuns make proselytes: thus have they made many in England.

Remember my words: To teach young girls to tend in hospitals the sick and dying, nuns, Sisters of Mercy, of Charity, are not needed because Protestant ladies, the wives and mothers of America, suffice to instruct their Protestant children. To carry the aids, of charity and mercy to their suffering fellow beings!

To conclude the second branch of my argument; Frederick the Great of Prussia called the Jesuits the grenadiers of the Pope; Voltaire, the pioneers of the Pope, Niccolini, the mamelukes of the Pope.

Jesuits and Pope cannot exist apart. They are the columns and the foundation of the temple of Dagon; and we invoke from heaven Samson to embrace them, Pope and Jesuits together, and give a strong and hearty pull that. Will level them with the dust, though he himself perish under the ruins.

The third branch of my discourse is, the baneful influence of Jesuits upon society, great and small, public and private.

We may look on society in a triple aspect, mind, heart, and pocket; against each the Jesuits are ever plotters. Against mind, especially, monopolizing education. A few instances will suffice to show their spirit and character as teachers. In Italy they are the bitterest enemies of Dante, the Shakespeare of the Italians. To suck the blood out of our nation, they exclude Dante from their schools. Their last great effort in France, (also in Austria,) was to expel the classic models of Greek and Latin literature. Why? Because those lights of antiquity are too republican for the Jesuit taste. *

De Maistre and Creteneau-Joly the two greatest historians of the Jesuits, relate that in the French Revolution no pupil of the Jesuits took part. Thus, Americans, if, in the time of your Washington, as now, the Jesuits had here thousands of pupils, not one of them would have had a

This was the reason given for excluding them from the University of Paris, and the schools of Rome. But they had substitutes ready; in Italy, Fathers Bettinelli and Segnieri in France, Father Bourdaloue; Jesuits instead of classics! Judge what kind of scholars are made from studying such works; Jesuit - teachers wake Jesuit scholars, pupils of no progress. Quinet and Michelet, the two greatest stars of the day, were expelled from Paris, and afterwards from France, by the intrigues of the Jesuits, that they might have their chairs for themselves.

heart or a hand for his country! And they now dare to have schools in America, and find even among Americans to speak for them.

Look at England! There fifty years ago Pitt and others proclaimed freedom of instruction, and permitted the endowment of the Roman Catholic College of Maynooth. It increased to thirty thousand pounds sterling a year, and what were the results? The teaching of rebellion, opposition to the law, disobedience to the sovereign; the countenancing of ribbon societies in the colleges by the priests - the instigation to riots. Learn a practical lesson on the wisdom of allowing Jesuits even a share in public education

Thus do Jesuits act upon the mind and heart of a nation!

But I have the strongest argument for Americans, namely, that of dollars! When coming here in the steamer Baltic I read a sermon preached for your Webster, by, I think, Theodore Parker, from which I learned for the first time that your American people are very fond of dollars. I do not despise dollars myself, for the good they can afford, nor you for loving them. But the Jesuits do not despise dollars either, and if you like a few, they like a great many. They and their emissaries have some particular arts for catching your American dollars, the art of the Confessional, and especially the art of persuading people to make last wills and testaments in favour of themselves. *

* In Milan, a few years ago, the Count Melerio, one of the principal men of the city, went to the noblemen residing there, when they were near death, to induce them to leave something to the Society of Jesus. In a few years Count Melerio, it is stated, has thus procured six millions of Italian pounds for the Jesuits! It is related in a Jesuit history, that, in the beginning of this Society, its Father Rector, in Ghent, granted one Jacob Briar, on payment, of two hundred thousand florins, (that is, only one hundred and fifty thousand dollars!) a passport to defend him against every attack of the devil! The facade of a College and Church in Bologna being, unfinished, the Marquis G-- was induced to will a large sum annually to the Jesuits, until they should have completed it. Three or four years were sufficient; but, the Jesuits enjoyed the income during one hundred and twenty-five! When they were suppressed at the end of the last century, the facade remained as it was, and it is not yet finished. Every year the Fathers were "going to complete it," but, with a little mental reservation!

Watch the Jesuits, avowed or disguised, to prevent the robbery of your families, the moral assassination of your sons and daughters.

In a large view of society, you still find the Jesuit influence fatal. If kings and rulers are fond of Jesuits, Jesuits support them; if they despise Jesuits, Jesuits menace and conspire against them. *

Jesuits are essentially absolutists; by education they prefer despotism. +

It now only remains for me to say something about yourselves, Americans. Not more than twelve or thirteen years ago I was in the Propaganda Fide, and then I knew that the Jesuits were coming to America to proselytise you. In 1847 they were really expelled from Italy, from Naples, from Piedmont, from Lombardy, from everywhere. I suspected many went to England, and perhaps more to America. People here say. "We do not know anything about that; we cannot interfere." My suspicion is now certainly; in Baltimore, the first thing I heard from Italians, was, "here, in Pennsylvania, and Virginia, there are many Jesuits; they speak French and Italian very well; they are five years here; just the time since their expulsion from Italy." This is

In Naples, about eighteen years ago, a childless, dying man, whose brother, poor, honest, and celebrated for his learning, had five or six children, left eighty thousand dollars to the Jesuits, saying he did so because they were so powerful they would never allow a fraction to reach his brother, whom he wished totally cut off. By this man's dying bed a Jesuit stood as Father Confessor, and in his last will he said, "I leave my especial curse to my brother and his children." Thus he died. This is Jesuit morality.

* Remember the true history of Europe, and the doctrine of Father Escobar, about killing kings. The Father Provincial Malagrida gave the order to wound John VI. of Portugal. In the gunpowder plot there were three Jesuits, especially Father Garnet. Henry IV. was wounded to death by an assassin, and the guilt was rightly imputed to Father Gardiner. Malagrida, Garnet, and Gardiner were hung by the civil law.

+ It is for this reason I fear Jesuits in America. On the continent of Europe I see everywhere the combination, despots and Jesuits; in Austria, in Naples, in Tuscany, (though in disguise and by their emissaries,) in Lombardy, in the Roman States. And whenever I find a liberal and constitutional government, there I find Jesuits menacing it.

the fruit of that saying of theirs, "what we have lost in Italy we must regain in America."

Oh, good Americans, do you suppose they are working for the American nation, the American glory? They work for themselves and Rome alone! People ask, "What practical conclusion do you propose?" This is my answer-if I were in my native country, as, under God's blessing, I hope to be, perhaps before the end of this year, I should say to my Italians, "To-morrow, in this land, let there be no Jesuits!" and it would be so. I preach no assassination, no murder, no killing, I say, "Go out-we will pay your expenses-go!"*

In America all are free. But remember-before the revision of your Constitution all were not free to work against your law and republic Constitution. Let there be no assassination, murdering, or killing; but, watch their movements, and in the first case where you find a Jesuit really teaching a doctrine contrary to your American freedom, working practically against your Constitution and your liberty, take the opportunity-expel the Jesuits from your country, and then your freedom will be placed on a secure basis!

But now a dreadful outcry-"This is preaching discord among those who lived peaceably together; the fatal lectures of Father Gavazzi!" Yes, war against the devil and evil, therefore against Jesuits and Jesuitism. War to the last, because these very insinuations prove the secret work of Jesuits among you. They excite the public press, and public men to speak these words in order to work undisturbed, and yet protected by public opinion. Fear me, reproach me, and then go forth and see whether you may not find something not very honourable for your America.

In England I was told, "You will find in America stubborn independence."

*In England I clearly said, "English people, you call yourselves serious and logical, but in my opinion you are very illogical. There is a law against Jesuits in your country, (contained in the Act of Emancipation,) and yet you now have, instead of fourteen Jesuits, as before the law, five hundred Jesuits, in spite of the law. I do not preach persecution, but legality. Expel the Jesuits from England, and you will be called a legal and consistent people."

I find in America many and many Protestants with no independence at all, but really and truly dependant on Romanists. You have among you some politicians who cry "Peace! Tolerance! Leave all free!" Why? They expect votes from Romanists! this is really great independence! I find in America some, (fortunately not the majority,) some public writers, some belonging to the public press, editors and proprietors of newspapers, who always speak of Romanists with great deference. On Protestant glories and achievements they are dumb; but they burst into loud panegyrics, and give lengthy details, to commemorate the laying of the corner-stone of a Popish building, the last consecration by Archbishop Hughes, and the recent sermon of the Reverend Dr So-and-so. Oh great independence! They fear to lose four or five cents a week from their daily or weekly income. But why this subservience to the Popish system? I do not speak particularly about politicians, because, as it is said in ordinary, they have no religion at all; they are Christians, Jews, Pagans, Papists; it is all the same to them; they only look to their places; twenty thousand dollars in London, in Paris, or somewhere else, is the essence of their religion. But why do they and the rest so fawn upon the Romanists? They know the Romanists are united. Therefore they say, " I will pay my court to the Archbishop of New York; he can command twenty, thirty, forty thousand votes, and I will get the votes," thus they pay their court to Archbishop Hughes.

Oh, Protestants! profit by the lesson. It is union among, Romanists that makes their influence. Unite Protestants, and you will hold the balance of power in this, your own country. In Baltimore I was ashamed to see a hundred and fifty thousand Protestants overawed by fifty thousand Romanists. Before the Italian exile you will not do honour to your nation if you appear to him so dependent-permit him to say, in some instances, with a cowardly dependence on Romanists. I cannot preach persecution of the Romanists, but in a Protestant country, in which Protestantism makes the freedom and the glory of the people, I cannot permit---

[The rest is lost in applause.]

Remember my last word of this evening. Your glorious, your American Washington did not fight against England in order to prepare the present generation to kneel before Archbishop Hughes, or any Romanist or Papist upon earth. His toil was given, his blood was shed, that you, Americans, might be always a Protestant, and by being a Protestant, always a great, a free, and a glorious nation!

Well, well.

This Egyptian is telling the truth. The WCC is merely an agent of Rome as is the CIA which brought down the WTC and them blamed the Moslems. Further, Egyptian Jihad is controlled by the Papacy so he had better watch his back.

Egyptian tells Saudi TV of 'assignment' by World Council of Churches

An Egyptian historian claimed on Saudi television that the United States helped carry out a Vatican plot to destroy Islam by orchestrating the 9-11 attacks -- on "assignment" by the World Council of Churches.

Professor Zaynab Abd Al-Aziz told Saudi Iqra TV in a May 26 interview that the decision to impose one religion over the entire world was made in the Second Vatican Council in 1965," according to the Middle East Media Research Institute, which posted a clip of the program.

Abd Al-Aziz claimed the Vatican's decision to "Christianize the world" included a plan, first, to "absolve the Jews of the blood of Christ."

That was the basis for recognizing Israel, the professor said.

Then the Vatican decided to "eradicate the left" in the 1980s, followed by a decision to "eradicate Islam, so that the world would be "Christianized by the third millennium."

Abd Al-Aziz explained that since Pope John Paul II's plan to Christianize the world by 2000 was not accomplished, "the World Council of Churches assigned this mission to the U.S. in January 2001, since the U.S. is the world's unrivaled military power."

The mission, he claimed, was for the U.S. to "fabricate the show" of Sept. 11, 2001.

The host of the Saudi TV program asked: "You mean to say that the World Council of Churches delegated the mission of Christianizing of the world to the U.S.?"

Abd Al-Aziz replied: "Yes. And how could the U.S. win legitimacy for this without anyone saying that they are perpetrating massacres and waging a Crusader war? It fabricated the 9-11 show. I call it a fabrication because much has been written on this. We are also to blame. Why do we accept a single perspective? Countless books were written, some of which were even translated into Arabic, like Thierry Meyssan's '9/11 – The Appalling Fraud' and 'Pentagate.' 'Pentagate' like Watergate. ... He brings documents to prove that the method used in destroying the three towers was "controlled demolition."

For example, Abd Al-Aziz said, "4,000 Jews caught influenza on that exact day. They set a timer, and all 4,000"

The host interrupted: "By God, you crack me up! They all set a timer and got influenza on the same day. So the building was completely empty of Jews."

Abd Al-Aziz: "Much has been written about this. One hundred fifty congressmen demanded an inquiry."

CHAPTER 5 - THE SINKING OF THE TITANIC

<http://www.pacinst.com/terrorists/chapter5/titanic.html>

When we think of events that have transpired in history over the last one hundred to two hundred years, there are certain events that stand out as ones of great horror, great surprise and great sadness. Of the many that come to mind the most devastating have been the destruction of the the World Trade Center in New York City and the sinking of the Titanic.

The greatest tragedies in the last two hundred years can be traced to the Jesuits. We will now show that the Jesuits planned and carried out the sinking of the Titanic, and we will show why they did it.

Since the early 1830's, America did not have a central bank. The Jesuits desperately wanted another central bank in America so that they would have a bottomless reservoir from which to draw money for their many wars and other hideous schemes around the world.

In 1910, seven men met on Jekyll Island just off the coast of Georgia to establish a central bank, which they called the Federal Reserve Bank. These men were Nelson Aldrich and Frank Vanderlip, both representing the Rockefeller financial empire; Henry Davison, Charles Norton, and Benjamin Strong, representing J.P. Morgan; and Paul Warburg, representing the Rothschild banking dynasty of Europe. We have already seen that the Rothschilds were the banking agents for the papacy's Jesuits, holding "the key to the wealth of the Roman Catholic Church."

The Morgans were friendly competitors with the Rothschilds and became socially close to them. Morgan's Londonbased firm was saved from financial ruin in 1857 by the Bank of England over which the Rothschilds held great influence. Thereafter, Morgan appears to have served as a Rothschild financial agent and went to great length to appear totally American.... His [Rockefeller's] entry into the field was not welcomed by Morgan, and they became fierce competitors. Eventually, they decided to minimize their competition by entering into joint ventures. In the end, they worked together to create a national banking cartel called the Federal Reserve System. — G. Edward Griffin, The Creature from Jekyll Island, American Opinion Publishing, p. 209. (Emphasis supplied).

These three financial families, the Rothschilds, Morgans, and Rockefellers all do the bidding of the Jesuit Order because of Jesuit infiltration in their organizations. They do whatever is necessary to destroy constitutional liberty in America and to bring the pope to world domination. As we look back over the 20th century, we see how successful the Jesuits have been. They have continued to squander the wealth of America and continually attack its great constitution and civil liberties. Daily, the power of the pope in Vatican City increases. One day they will achieve total power again.

The building of the Titanic began in 1909 at a shipyard in Belfast, the apitol of Northern Ireland. Belfast was a Protestant haven and was hated by the Jesuits. World War One began just a few years later.

The Titanic was one of a fleet of ships owned by the White Star Line, an international shipping company.

Banking was not the only business in which Morgan had a strong financial interest. Using his control over the nation's railroads as financial leverage, he had created an international shipping trust which included Germany's two largest lines plus one of the two in England, the White Star Lines. — Ibid, p. 246.

There were a number of very rich and powerful men who made it abundantly clear that they were not in favor of the Federal Reserve System. J.P. Morgan was ordered by the Jesuits to build the Titanic. This 'unsinkable' ship would serve as the death ship for those who opposed the Jesuits' plan for a Federal Reserve system.

These rich and powerful men would have been able to block the establishment of the Federal Reserve, and their power and fortunes had to be taken out of their hands. They had to be destroyed by a means so preposterous that no one would suspect that they were murdered, and no one would suspect the Jesuits. The Titanic was the vehicle of their destruction. In order to further shield the papacy and the Jesuits from suspicion, many Irish, French, and Italian Roman Catholics immigrating to the New World were aboard. They were people who were expendable. Protestants from Belfast who wanted to immigrate to the United States were also invited on board.

All the wealthy and powerful men the Jesuits wanted to get rid of were invited to take the cruise. Three of the richest and most important of these were Benjamin Guggenheim, Isador Strauss, the head of Macy's Department Stores, and John Jacob Astor, probably the wealthiest man in the world. Their total wealth, at that time, using dollar values of their day was more than 500 million dollars. Today that amount of money would be worth nearly eleven billion dollars. These three men were coaxed and encouraged to board the floating palace. They had to be destroyed because the Jesuits knew they would use their wealth and influence to oppose a Federal Reserve Bank as well as the various wars that were being planned.

Edward Smith was the captain of the Titanic. He had been traveling the North Atlantic waters for twenty-six years and was the world's most experienced master of the North Atlantic routs. He had worked for Jesuit, J.P. Morgan, for many years.

Edward Smith was a 'Jesuit tempore co-adjutor.' This means that he was not a priest, but he was a Jesuit of the short robe. Jesuits are not necessarily priests. Those who are not priests serve the order through their profession. Anyone could be a Jesuit, and their identity would not be known. Edward Smith served the Jesuit Order in his profession as a sea captain.

Many interesting points about the Titanic are discussed in a videotape made by National Geographic in 1986. The videotape is entitled The Secrets of the Titanic. When the Titanic departed from Southern England on April 10, 1912, Francis Browne, the Jesuit master of Edward Smith, boarded the Titanic. This man was the most powerful Jesuit in all of Ireland and answered directly to the general of the Jesuit Order in Rome. The videotape declares:

A vacationing priest, Father Francis Browne, caught these poignant snapshots of his fellow passengers, most of them on a voyage to eternity. The next day Titanic made her last stop off the coast of Queenstown, Ireland. Here tenders brought out the last passengers; mostly Irish immigrants headed for new homes in America.

And here, the lucky Father Browne disembarked.... Father Browne caught Captain Smith peering down from Titanic's bridge, poised on the brink of destiny. — The Secrets of the Titanic, National Geographic, video tape, 1986.

Here is Jesuit treachery at its finest. The Provincial [Father Francis Browne] boards Titanic, photographs the victims, most assuredly briefs the Captain concerning his oath as a Jesuit, and the following morning bids him farewell. — Eric J. Phelps, Vatican Assassins, Halycon Unified services, p. 427.

Browne went over with Edward Smith one last time exactly what he was supposed to do in the North Atlantic waters. The Jesuit General told Francis Browne what was to happen; Browne then tells Smith and the rest is history. Edward Smith believed that the Jesuit General

. . . is the god of the [Jesuit] society, and nothing but his electric touch can galvanize their dead corpses into life and action. Until he speaks, they are like serpents coiled up in their wintry graves, lifeless and inactive; but the moment he gives the word of command, each member springs instantaneously to his feet, leaving unfinished whatsoever may have engaged him, ready to assail whomsoever he may require to be assailed, and to strike wheresoever he shall direct a blow to be stricken. — R.W. Thompson, The Footprints of the Jesuits, Hunt and Eaton, pp. 72, 73.

Edward Smith was given an order to sink the Titanic and that is exactly what he did.

By the command of God, [the Jesuit General] it is lawful to murder the innocent, to rob, to commit all lewdness, because he [the Pope] is Lord of life, and death, and of all things; and thus to fulfill his mandate is our duty. — W. C. Brownlee, Secret Instructions of the Jesuits, American and Foreign Christian Union, p. 143.

There is no record in history of an association whose organization has stood for three hundred years unchanged and unaltered by all the assaults of men and time, and which has exercised such an immense influence over the destinies of mankind... 'The ends justify the means,' is his favorite maxim; and as his only end, as we have shewn, is the order, at its bidding the Jesuit is ready to commit any crime whatsoever. — G. B. Nicolini, The History of the Jesuits, Henry G. Bohn, pp. 495, 496, emphasis added.

Let us remember the oath that every person takes to become a part of the Jesuit Order:

I should regard myself as a dead body, without will or intelligence, as a little crucifix which is turned about unresistingly at the will of him who holds it as a staff in the hands of an old man, who uses it as he requires it, and as it suits him best. — R. W. Thompson, The Footprints of the Jesuits, Hunt and Eaton, p. 54.

When a person takes the Jesuit Oath, he is bound to his master until the day that he dies. Edward Smith had become a man without will or intelligence. He would commit any crime the Order wanted him to commit. Edward Smith had been required for martyrdom. On board the Titanic that night, Edward Smith knew his duty. He was under oath. The ship had been built for the enemies of the Jesuits. After three days at sea with only one pair of glasses for the bridge, Edward Smith propelled the Titanic full speed ahead, twenty-two knots, on a moonless dark night through a gigantic ice field nearly eighty square miles in area. Edward Smith did this despite at least eight telegrams warning him to be more cautious because he was going too fast.

Did Edward Smith need one caution? No, he had been traveling those waters for twenty-six years. He knew there were icebergs in that area. But eight cautions did not stop this man who was under the Jesuit oath, and under orders to destroy the Titanic. The absurdity of warning veteran Captain Edward Smith repeatedly on Titanic's tragic night to slow down is nothing short of preposterous. The fact that Smith never listened or heeded the warnings is insane. He had been given orders from his god in the Vatican, and nothing would turn him from his course.

The encyclopedias paint a very tragic picture of Smith in his last hours. When it came time to give the order to load and lower the lifeboats, Smith wavered and one of his aids had to approach him for the order to be given. Smith's legendary skills of leadership seem to have left him; he was curiously indecisive and unusually cautious on that fatal night. Are these words to describe a legendary sea captain with 26 years of experience, or are these words to describe a man who was struggling in his mind whether he should do his duty as a sea captain or obey his master who told him to sink the ship?

John Jacob Astor's wife got into a life boat and was saved, while John Jacob Astor perished in the waters of the North Atlantic. There were not enough lifeboats and many of them were only half full with only women and children. To prevent nearby freighters from responding with help, the distress flares were white when they should have been red. White flares to passing freighters state that everybody was having a party.

One of the greatest tragedies of the twentieth century, the sinking of the Titanic, lies at the door of the Jesuit Order. The unsinkable ship, the floating palace was created to be the tomb for the wealthy, who opposed the Federal Reserve System. By April, 1912, all opposition to the Federal Reserve was eliminated. In December of 1913, the Federal Reserve System came into being in the United States. Eight months later, the Jesuits had sufficient funding through the Federal Reserve bank to begin World War One.

TruthSeeker24: Dear Eric,

You're information on JFK is accurate, but I wonder on what your opinion is on the Order of the St. John of Jerusalem member Louis M. Bloomfield. Many scholars have pointed to his involvement in the JFK assassination as well by working for Permindex, a corporate firm with ties to Clay Shaw, the CIA, and the assassination on JFK.

Eric John Phelps: I know nothing of SMOM Louis M. Bloomfield. His connection to Permindex is quite telling as the Knights rule it. Shaw was himself another SMOM and former OSS. Any info on this man would be greatly appreciated and included in VAIII.

TruthSeeker24: Also, what do you think about Piper's book called "Final Judgement" which blames the Mossad personally heading the assassination. I personally don't believe that the Mossad spearheaded JFK's death, but probably worked in a secondary role since JFK opposed nuclear weapons being developed in Israel, but JFK did fund Israel's military systems. I await your response.

Eric Jon Phelps: I believe Michael Piper to be another Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor. He is well read in Jesuit literature and I debated him somewhat in Spectrum magazine a few years ago. He is another one, like Michael Hoffman, who seeks to blame the Jews and ignore the power of Rome and the Black Pope.

No doubt that the Mossad played a subordinate role as it was created by the CIA's Nazi Knight of Malta Reinhard Gehlen. According to his wife Leah, Rabin was in Dallas the day JFK was murdered.

Dear Eric,

<http://www.jfkmontreal.com/bloomfield.htm>

is the link about the Louis Bloomfield, a SMOM member. Beware of this site, since this site is borderline anti-Semitic and blames the Jewish people for the JFK assassination which is obviously false. The Jesuit Order with the Freemasons, Knights of Malta, and other Secret Societies killed JFK. Bloomfield was a key player as the evidence show, but I don't agree with everything in this site.

P.S. YOu said that an ex-NYPD officer said that the FBI, Nation of Islam, and the NYPD collaborated to kill Malcolm X. YOu are 100% correct because back in June 2005, I found an interview by a man who laid it out. He said that the NYPD stood down and one man trying to save Malcolm's life was actually an undercover NYPD agent. It's spelled out. Professor Marable is the man's name and he's a Black man who researched this issue for a very long time. Finally, we have more evidence in Malcolm X's assassination and you found more of the puzzle. We have collaboration of more people coming forward in this terrible, heinous murder. The link is found at:

Enjoy Brother Eric.

By TruthSeeker24 (Timothy)

Dear Timothy,

Thank you for this excellent information on another criminal Knight of Malta. Regarding the Jesuit-authored libel of blaming the Jews for the crimes of the Order, that "bone" I always discard while consuming any newly discovered "meat."

Regarding the murder of Malcolm X, thank you for further confirmation. All credit concerning what I have written about him is due to the research and guidance of an older Arab Muslim surnamed "AJ." He was the one who informed me of the Masonic "Prince Hall Rite" connection of Elijah Mohammed, his son Wallace, his successor, Louis Farrakhan (whom AJ said has been an FBI informant since 1964) and CFR-member Jesse Jackson, the co-conspirator in the King assassination who escorted King outside of his hotel room and onto the balcony at the precise moment for his execution by the CIA.

Further, Malcolm's eloquent Black wife calmly declared that the high command of the NOI and the FBI (both Masonic) killed her husband. She later paid for this with her life.

As you know, Masonic Hoover ruling the FBI, Masonic Mohammad ruling the NOI and the Knights of Columbus ruling the NYPD acted in unison in the murder of the honest Malcolm X after his return from Mecca during which time he was tailed by the Jesuit Order's CIA ruling Saudi Arabia via the Masonic Wahhabi Saud Dynasty.

We must also not forget the reasons for his elimination as there were several. Malcolm exposed the corrupt life of the Chicago Archbishop Cody's dishonorable Elijah Mohammed; he declared that the Masonic NOI and the Masonic KKK "have the same paymasters," remembering that the KKK had murdered his father, Earl Little, a Baptist preacher; and that he was against "Spelly's War" in Vietnam correctly calling on American Blacks not to submit to the draft, one of which was Cassius Clay, or Mohammed Ali. And the mastermind behind it all was none other than the Archbishop of New York City, the darling of the Jesuits with his own personal room #3 at the Novitiate in Wernersville, PA, Francis Cardinal Spellman, the power behind the immigration of the Nazi SS into America after the Black Pope's Second Thirty Years' War (1914-1945).

Thanks again Timothy.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Dear Sister Cata,

Thanks for the info on Coadjutor Marrs. Was he in intelligence while in the Air Force?

Personally, I believe that anybody coming across any national border of any nation ILLEGALLY should be shot. I would never illegally enter anybody's sovereign nation any more than I would enter anybody's house without an invitation. I would expect to be shot if caught. Every country has immigration laws and they should be honored and enforced if necessary.

I have said for years that the Militia is a neo fascist group. And their border work in turning back illegal aliens is being justified as per the Jesuit agenda in control of Bush---who refuses to protect our borders. The whole Roman Catholic Mexican invasion is of Vatican origin and both Fox and Bush are in full collaboration. The legitimate grievance being created among Americans will be redressed with the rise of the fascist, Nazi/Jesuit-controlled New Republican Right. Remember the rise of Hitler was justified by the injustice done to the German people with the wicked Treaty of Versailles.

Brother Eric

Thanks for the info...

It is a speculation of mine that you are training under Jordan Maxwell, and his huge library of knowledge.

I hope this works out. Jordan has been short-changed by so many.

I was instructed in several topics by Jordan at the Con Con of 2002 in Santa Clara---he taught me much. But generally, I do most of my own research while aided by four advisors.

A couple of questions about the "Jesuit Order" in relation to two people I knew (not personally) were Jesuits, and they seemed rather open, Fr Melachi Martin, and Fr Danny Sheehan. I've nothing but positive activism out of these two people. Any insights on Jesuits in general verses these two.

I am not aware of the works of Mr. Sheehan, but Malachi Martin was a Jesuit disinformation agent until the day he died---mysteriously. He knew full well that: the Papacy ruled the USSR and the USA; there was no struggle between those powers; and the Cold War was a hoax as is Pedro Arrupe's Airborne Nuclear War Hoax. Martin knew all of this and continued to maintain that there was no salvation outside the Catholic Church. Further, he said that the Pope relieved him of his vows; this is a lie as only the Father General can do so.

Does the Fatima 3rd Secret as it was delivered by David Booth (A Baptist, and has it been 'spun' by the Baptist beliefs) fit in here somewhere?

I am not sure as there is so much disinformation on that topic. I do know from reading Martin's The Keys of this Blood that it involves--by inference---the destruction of the Protestant West. For if the Papacy is to rule the world via the revived Political Roman Empire, America must fall and England must be brought into line in subordination to Rome. As you must know, these ends constitute two of the purposes of the Pope's present Jesuit-led Crusade against Islam.

Finally, have you considered "The Urantia Book" and its extensive coverage of The Luciferian Devault in helping to figure in the 'grander plan' behind everything, to get a somewhat cohesive understanding of the world as it stands today?

No, as I am unaware of this book.

Title: Eric Phelps - Statue of Liberty attack to come?

Description: Flashback*

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:55 AM (GMT)

Dear Friends and Brethren,

In doing a little brainstorming today the Statue of Liberty came across my mind. Thinking "If I was the Jesuit General," I would destroy a national monument that all duped Americans rally around in the name of "freedom." Realizing that the statue is merely another icon of the Order's Masonic Fourteenth Amendment America, it would serve the purpose of uniting the nation against "the Islamic Terrorists."

Then the past came to mind. In the 1980s the Knights of Malta in the persons of Gerald Ford and Lee Iacocca---noted Kennedy assassins---led the Crusade to refurbish "the lady in New York Harbor." Could it be this project was used to serve as a cover to plant explosives inside the monument? If there were preset explosives in the WTC, why not the Statue of Liberty?

I believe that there is the possibility that the Order, using its select CIA, FBI, NSA, Military Intel, and NYPD operatives could and would destroy that beloved national monument to further incite the Pope's Bush-led Crusade. This destruction would justify a vengeance, and could lead to the demolition of the Mosques in Mecca, Medina and Jerusalem by US forces or secretly by Masonic Islamic forces openly blaming the US as the culprit.

Meanwhile, commerce would be unaffected and the whole country could then be put on a total war footing as Hitter did to Germany.

It fits, but I hope it does not happen.

Sincerely in Faith,

Bro Eric

Hello Eric

I like to know if the TV evangelicals on TBN channel are Jesuits control ?

The Order controls TBN.

Also, what is your opinion about TV evangelical like John Hagee?? Is he under Zionist/Jesuit control ??

Hagee is pro Israel and has an agenda to defend the Jewish people, being against anti-Semitism, but is also getting into politics/propaganda defending Bush and pro-war in Iraq.

What is your opinion about him and can you help me find more information about him??

I believe John Hagee is at best in bad company with the likes of Jesuit Coadjutors Benny Hinn and Paul Crouch, and at worst is another Temporal Coadjutor. We sent him a copy of VA gratis and I never heard a word from him. He never calls the Papacy the dynasty of the Antichrist nor does he call the Pope an Antichrist. He does name the city of Revelation 17 as Rome and calls "the Harlot" the Roman Catholic Church. But he never attacks the Pope nor exposes the Pope's mighty Temporal Power over the CFR-controlled US and thus Israel. He holds to the typical dispensationalist position that the coming Antichrist is a secular political figure and not the final Pope, murdered, risen from the dead and thus the Antichrist. He takes all attention off the Papacy as being the source for the coming Man of Sin. But this he must do in order to remain on TV.

I too am pro-Israel, but an Israel that is not governed by the Pope's Masonic Jewish Zionists who HATE the Lord's beloved Hebrew/Jewish/Israelitic covenant people yet to inherit the promises given to Abraham, Issac, Jacob and David. The Jesuits eliminated all such potential rulers of Israel, including Vladimir Jabotinski whose warnings saved many a Jew from the Order's Eurasian Nazi Holocaust. Jabo was not allowed to be buried in Israel until many years after his death.

Hagee, like most blind fundamentalists, refuses to believe that George Bush is a pagan Skull and Bonesman, a tool of the Pope leading a Papal Crusade. This may be deliberate as any honest man reading the Constitution knows that no power has been given to the President to bring the US into war without the formal war declaration of Congress. The Order will use this Christian fundamentalist (pro-right wing Council for National Policy) backing of Bush against all fundamentalist Bible Believers and will also use the CFR-controlled, Masonic American Jewish Zionists against all American Jews when both groups will be blamed for the defeat of our troops yet to come.

Hagee also teaches the false doctrine that all American Christians will be "raptured" out before the US is destroyed or at least reduced in power. When this Jesuit doctrine of "the rapture" (as opposed to the Biblical doctrine of the pretribulational "appearing" of the Lord Jesus Christ for the glorified bodies of his NT believers (composing the Body of Christ) prior to the confirming of "the covenant with many for one week" (Dan 9:27), this will destroy the disappointed faith of millions who claim to be believers. It is for this reason that I believe the Order has given such success of the Left Behind series of Tim LaHaye, another member of the Order's Council for National Policy---a right wing CFR. D. James Kennedy, Pat Robertson and Jerry Falwell are also members---along with Jesuit Avery Cardinal Dulles of Fordham University in New York City.

I trust this is helpful.

God Bless You, Eric

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:54 AM (GMT)

Dear Brother Carl,

Thanks for your correction on John Hagee.

Regarding "the rapture," I do not like to employ the term as it identifies me indirectly with the Jesuits who are promoting that term. The Latin origin of the word sickens me.

Again, as we have spoken about this before, I do not believe that Babylon will be rebuilt in Iraq; that America is not Babylon of Jeremiah 51 and Isaiah 13; but rather the great city of Revelation 17 and 18 is Babylon the Great to be ultimately destroyed as described in Revelation 18 and Isaiah 13:19-20. The description matches Rev. 18:2, 8-19 (the burning as Sodom and Gomorrah were overthrown).

More importantly my brother, to believe that no matter how bad things get America will not be attacked and destroyed, as was Germany by foreign armies, is taking a great risk. That risk is with the belief of those dear brethren who (when the US is successfully invaded and its infrastructure is destroyed making Europe the undisputed world power) will be made shipwreck through a belief that was based on an inference (that Babylon of Jeremiah 51 and Isaiah 13 was the US). This is precisely the error that John Hagee is now making.

Regarding God delivering Lot before the judgment of Sodom, the Lord will deliver His Church out of the earth before the judgment of the nations and Israel. This is the "appearing" of Titus 2:13. But to say that Jesus Christ will deliver His Church before the destruction of any particular Gentile nation during this dispensation of grace is, I believe, incorrect.

But thanks for the comment. I knew I would hear from You!

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Title: Eric Phelps - USS Indianapolis

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:53 AM (GMT)

Eric

My question regards the role the Indianapolis played towards the end of World War II, and the sinking of this ship. If the atomic bombs were detonated on the ground in Japan what if anything was the Indianapolis carrying?

It delivered the Uranium plugs to be inserted into "Little Boy" just prior to the dropping of that magnesium flash bomb over Hiroshima. The Uranium showered over the town giving the impression that a nuclear bomb detonated in the air, which of course created the Airborne Nuclear War Hoax. The full account of the cargo of the Indianapolis can be found in Paul Tibbits' Enola Gay and Richard Newcomb's Abandon Ship.

Could the Indianapolis have been some type of diversion or sacrifice?

It was indeed a diversion. It gave the impression that the uranium shipped was necessary for the detonation of the "atomic bomb" dropped over Hiroshima.

Did the bombs or bomb parts that Petro Arrupe detonate in Japan come from the U.S.S. Indianapolis?

No.

And if not, how do you think they got there.

FDR gave Stalin all the necessary nuclear components in 1943. Those components were flown from Alaska by Russian pilots into Siberia. From there the components were brought south ultimately to Hiroshima as the USSR was not at war with Japan until four days prior to Japan's surrender. With the protection of Hirohito's Masonic Japanese High Command, Pedro Arrupe with his German Jesuit physicists assembled the devices at both Nagasaki and Hiroshima, those cities never being bombed by the US B-29s while the rest of Japan was in flames. Shortly after the successful bombing, Archbishop Spellman arrives at Tinian Island; the USS Indianapolis departs and is met by an awaiting Japanese sub, the ONI working in conjunction with Japanese Intel as was done during the Pearl Harbor attack. The Heavy Crusier was sunk on July 31, the feast day of Ignatius Loyola, a feast that the sharks also celebrated in eating the flesh of American sailors. When Captain Charles McVay III was not eaten, he was rescued and then "patsyed" by none other than that CFR-controlled, wicked beast, Admiral Nimitz.

With the Indianapolis at the bottom of the sea, the Enola Gay was also removed from sight for over 20 years. It was mothballed and removed from public inspection, the Order eliminating all evidence that could possibly lead to the conclusion that the dropping of the "atomic bombs" was a fake---as were the six Apollo moon landings (11, 12, 14, 15, 16, and 17).

I just finished reading In Harm's Way by Doug Stanton and was curious as to the real mission of this ship.

It was a diversion leading the innocent observer to the false conclusion that the uranium was necessary to the successful "atomic" bombing of Japan.

Title: Eric Phelps - Statue of Liberty, coming wars info

Description: Flashback*

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:52 AM (GMT)

Dear Mr. Phelps,

I have spent a day or so thinking about what you've written here, and would like to offer my own opinions, if I may.

Of course. Input is the foremost purpose of the list.

Concerning the Statue of Liberty, I really do not think that the powers that be would be all that interested in destroying the Statue of Liberty. Undoubtedly, having a bronze goddess in New York Harbor is of no benefit to America. I also agree that it is considered a "symbol" of "freedom" in most American's eyes.

All the more reason to destroy it. It has been glorified in many a movie and song. Further, did not the Order in its "Planet of the Apes" picture the Statue of Liberty as collapsed and destroyed?

However, this administration is in no position to use it as an attack on the Islamic "holy" sites.

Agreed. It will be used to further fuel the war and justify the draft.

Consider, the administration blames, publicly, the "terrorists" such as Osama bin Laden. After such an attack (which would have minimal loss of life, since there is a limit on how many can visit at any one time, and no visitor may go higher than the pedestal. I would be surprised if any more would die from an attack on the Statue than from the London attacks.

Agreed. But loss of life would not be the purpose of its destruction. Demolishing the Statue of Liberty would be making a statement, i.e., this is the end of liberty for Fourteenth Amendment America. The loss of a monument exciting patriotic furor is the goal. Loss of life will arise from the coming nuclear detonations in country within cities unnecessary to national commerce or at expendable ports killing millions. The present closing of certain Navy bases may also have a bearing on which cities have been chosen for elimination.

Consider also, Bush would then have to justify an attack on Saudi Arabia. This is a country which has been scratching the Bushes' backs for generations. They've served their masters in the Vatican.

Agreed. But I believe that the attack on Saudi Arabia will be sometime after America's coming nuclear terrorist event. Saudi Arabia will not be blamed immediately after our terrorist events, as US forces will need her oil until the Order is finished with the martial use of America. We cannot forget North Korea and its supposed possession of nuclear devices, upon which the CFR-controlled Press could then blame our domestic (CIA-induced) nuclear detonations opening the second front of the planned two-front war with China, China being tied to North Korea via treaty. It would make better military sense on the part of the Black Pope to engage US forces in Saudi only after China has entered the fray. Once the key Moslem cities of Mecca and Medina have "apparently" been destroyed by the US, along with the Mosques in Jerusalem, then China, the USSR, and the entire Moslem world---including Turkey (for which reason the Pope will not allow that nation to enter the European Union thanks not to mention its coming military takeover of the entire nation of Cyprus and the flight of thousands of wealthy Greek Orthodox Cypriots back to Greece) would be fanatically pursuing a uniform course for our invasion.

Meanwhile the Pope's Masonic Black Nation of Islam here in the US will have launched a race war against all Whites, be they "heretic" Protestants or "liberal" Roman Catholics. This will further weaken the nation and secure seaboard staging bases in anticipation of the coming Sino-Moslem invaders. Florida is at present being softened via created hurricanes in preparation for our invasion from the Bahamas and Cuba. I am sure Jesuit Castro is praying that he will live to see the day.

Also, to attack the Mosque at Mecca, there would have to be some sort of massive claim that WMDs are being hidden there. Otherwise, it would be roundly condemned by democrats.

True for the moment, but not true for the future. The attack into Saudi may well involve engaging a united Moslem force from Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran in its attempt to cut off all Saudi oil from the US and its military industrial complex. By that time China will have owned Unical for years and be fully fueled, while armed with high tech weapons. The destruction of these key Mosques must transpire at the climax of the war at which time the Moslem peoples will abandon all nations in which they are residing (including Europe), in mounting a united attack against "the Great Satan." With Israel losing the US as its protector, the Pope's united Europe (including Great Britain) will assume that new role. It is for this reason that Britain must ultimately withdraw from the Pope's present Crusade against Islam.

If you want to forsee a war between US and Saudi Arabia, its possible, but I would have to think that an attack on Mecca would have to be done on the ground by Muslims. Air raids would be too obvious, and regular Muslims would fight literally to the death if western forces tried to make a ground assault.

Agreed to a certain extent. The Black Pope could use a united force of Pakistani and Chinese Moslems to attempt to invade Saudi for the purpose of taking the oil fields. This, the US would never permit as our military would be without fuel in the region. US forces would be justified in igniting a massive aerial war (for which reason 300 stealth F-22 Raptors have been ordered along with 50,000 AIM-7 Sparrow missiles). Bombs would be dropped, but the key bombs that are to destroy Mecca and Medina will have already been preset by the Bin Laden Construction Company in a supposed renovation of the Mosques. As was done to the WTC by the Black Pope's CIA-controlled internal forces within the US, so will the Black Pope's CIA/ISI-controlled internal forces within Saudi Arabia be responsible for the demolition of Mecca and Medina. But the US must be blamed for this inside job just as the Moslems were blamed for the inside job of the WTC demolition.

I would more likely see a wide-scale attack on the middle east instigated by a Nuclear explosion in America. Imagine Chicago, Philadelphia, or even Washington DC (in August, when the President is in Texas, Congress is in recess, and the Supreme Court is not hearing cases). (Good point!) The White House, the Capitol, the Pentagon, the various Masonic monuments, and the blacks in Washington would be destroyed in seconds! That would be instigation in which would rock the country, and demand war against whoever Bush wanted.

Agreed. I have said that terrorist events during the past 200 years which have altered the governments of those nations in the Order's crosshairs, have always transpired in the capitol cities of those nations (Paris-1852; Moscow-1917; Berlin-1933; Peking-1949). With the removal of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Branches, as was done in Hitler's Germany via legal fiat, the Order, based at their fortress of Georgetown University, will then be in total control if our resultant military dictator. Indeed Washington's lawless majority Blacks will be eliminated as they will have served their purpose of justifying the institution of martial law, the creating of these savage populations being the real purpose of the Order's

Masonic "War on Poverty" led by Lyndon Johnson. The remaining Blacks in the nation will gladly go and fight the supposed Moslems who killed their "brothers."

The "statue" is too small a target, and it would be seen as terrorism. An attack on the capital as a whole could easily be viewed as an act of war by any country in the world. Other nuclear attacks could follow in the US: New York, Chicago, Boston, etc., etc., and large population and religious centers of the middle east could be obliterated, also (Mecca, Tehran, Damascus, Cairo, etc).

This would leave Rome to pick the pieces however it wanted to.

Good points. I am in basic agreement with you on all of them. But I do believe that taking down of the Statue of Liberty would make a statement to the entire Moslem world and would forever change the spirit of the inspirational New York Harbor. Commerce must continue thus key cities of commerce must be allowed to remain until the end of the war. The Order will kill millions of its own White Roman Catholics who were used by the Company to conquer that "heretic" nation of the once land of the free and the home of the brave.

Yours in Christ,
Mxxxxx

Brother Eric

Description: *Flashback

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 10, 2005 12:50 AM (GMT)

Dear Brother Eric:

Please consider these verses if you don't think that Babylon NOW is r.c. I believe Ancient Babylon was totally heathen and idol worship, and Mystery Babylon is the same heathen idol worship, with a religious face, but it's roman catholicism. Have you read the "Two Babylons" by Hislop?

Agreed, and yes I have read that classic! It is irrefutable and a foundation for VA.

Jeremiah 51:45, "My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver every man his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD." And Isaiah 13 is most definitely speaking of the Day of the LORD.. v.6, v.9

Agreed!

Rev.18:4, "..., Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins,..." 5, "For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities." Do you believe this is the USA?

No. I think I said this in my previous email.

Futurism is jesuit deceit, to take the heat off the "papacy"..

Partially agreed. Corrupted futurism is a Jesuit deceit to take the heat off the dynasty of the Antichrist in Rome. As I have said, every pope is an antichrist and THEE Antichrist (I John 2:18) will be the final Pope, the seventh King/Caesar risen from the dead, and who, as the eighth King/Caesar will be the Beast (Rev.17:10). This correct, futurist position does not take the attention off the papacy, but continually regards every pope to be an Antichrist and quite possibly THEE Antichrist--that man of sin yet to come.

I would not ever believe any part of their 2 stage coming of the Lord.. it is because of this false interpretation of Revelation that the whole world is waiting for some coming antichrist, and doesn't recognize that he has been here for nearly 1900 years.. why, when every Reformer already recognized the "pope" as being the antichrist, would you ever take the position of the Futurists? I am puzzled.

There are many antichrists (I John 2:18). Every unsaved man who naturally denies that Jesus is the Christ/Messiah, and thus denies the unity of the Father and the Son as one (John 10:30), is an antichrist (I John 2:22). But according to I John 2:18 THEE Antichrist shall come (the article before the word "antichrist" is in the Greek, denoting a specific, singular, unique, one and only, Antichrist). That specific Antichrist has not yet come as he cannot be manifested due to the restraining power of the Holy Spirit as per II Thess. 2:6-7. That Antichrist is to be the seventh King of the Roman Empire, as much a Caesar as the first six (Revelation 17:9-11), i.e., Caligula, Claudius, Nero, Vespasian, Titus and Domitian. The common thread of these six were that they were Caesars ("kings"), attributed diety to themselves ("names of blasphemy" Revelation 13:1) and they persecuted the Jewish People as will the Beast (Revelation 12:17, the devil using all seven kings to this end). All of the other Caesars from Augustus to Domitian did not possess these two qualities.

Since the papacy is merely the continuation of the throne of the Caesars under the guise of "the Vicar of Christ," it only fits that the final Pope---the seventh King of Revelation 17:10 will be THEE Antichrist---the eighth king of Revelation 17:10. Why? Because he, the Beast, must receive a mortal wound and live again (Rev.13:3, 12, 14). This Antichrist or Beast is a man (Revelation 13:18), not a kingdom. And this is where we have our differences; Rev.13:18 is not being read literally for what it says dear sister.

Further, the Apostle Paul says that "that man of sin" must sit in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God. The apostle knew that this was not his body or any other body of a believer in Christ; he knew that it was not the Body of Christ as Christ "the strong man" cannot be "bound;" the apostle knew that this temple was not the Second Temple as he knew that Christ said that temple would be destroyed by Roman Armies (fulfilled in 70 by Titus). Thus the temple of God literally read in the context must mean a Third Hebrew Temple yet to be built in Jerusalem, which has been the dream of the papacy since the days the Harlot created and then sought to use Islam to take Jerusalem back in the Seventh century. This Third Temple is spoken of in Daniel 9:27 (there can be no sacrifice and oblation without a Hebrew temple), Revelation 11:1-2 (which temple is not in heaven as it is given unto the Gentiles (the abomination of desolation) for forty and two months), and by Jesus Christ himself in Matthew 24:15, i.e. "the holy place." None of this happened at the Second Herodian Temple before it was destroyed. Therefore a Third Temple must be built if we are to read the literal meaning of these scriptures.

Yes, the Reformers missed this truth, but the doctrine of salvation by grace through faith and not of works was more important at the time, as the Lord was bringing the world out of Rome's Dark Ages. The Reformers were amillennial, replacement theology being their creed; that the Church replaced Israel and that God was forever done with the Hebrew people. This eschatology is pure Romanism, while the true Church of the Dark Ages living in seclusion were chiliasts---millennialists. Darby and Schofield never created this doctrine, as it was believed centuries before they were ever born.

I believe in the "appearing" of the Lord Jesus Christ for His Church before the man of sin is manifested to the world. I believe it because it arises out of the natural, literal, understanding of words, sentences, phrases and paragraphs read in their contexts while comparing scripture with scripture. If we cannot read the infallible Reformation English Bible in its literal meaning of words (clarified in some places by its underlying Greek and Hebrew texts), than what is to check the biased and predisposed minds of men?

I wouldn't part company with you because of this, and will always keep you in prayer for your great work, and your laying your very life down for the work of the Lord.. but I also pray that one day we will " be of one accord, of one mind."

Amen my sister. I know your concern is genuine and I always covet your prayers as to understanding the Word of God and being in the perfect will of God.

In Christ, Tina

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Roman Catholic Bavarian Nazi Pope Benedict XVI (ordained as a priest in 1951 by the Archbishop of Munich and power behind the Nazi party, Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber), is the master of the Rothshilds, not vice versa. As shown in VA, the Rothschilds financed the Jesuit Order's French Revolution and Napoleonic Wars. Further, the Rothschilds financed the Order's Second Thirty Years' War (1914-1945) as well as the creation of Pope Pius XII's Masonic Jewish Zionists in creating the anti-Torah CFR-controlled, fascist government of Israel. The Papacy maintains these criminals in power via the Order's Federal Reserve Bank extending billions in credit to the US Fourteenth Amendment Parliament, which "Congress" then lends the "money" to the government of Israel further intrenching these criminals in power. All of this murder and theft is then blamed on the misinformed American people.

As most Europeans know, the Masonic Rothschilds are merely Vatican bankers at the beck and call of the Papacy controlled by the Black Pope.

No, a book should be written titled, "Ratzinger's Rothschilds."

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Title: All Seeing-Eye on Jesuit Stamp

AVBibleBeliever - October 29, 2005 08:43 AM (GMT)

Dear Truth-Seeking Friends and Brethren in Christ Jesus,

Ignatius Loyola was a member of the Spanish Alumbrados (Illuminati) and this stamp with the Masonic all-seeing eye of Horus/Osirus/Satan/Lucifer (Note that the eye is where the S-U-N would be-Roman Catholicism/Jesuitism is pagan Egyptian trinitarian (IHS) Constantinian sun worship. Horus, Tammuz, Baal, Sol, are names for the sun god.

shows how Freemasonry (Illuminism) and the Jesuit Order are connected and the fact that the Jesuit Order rules the Illuminati. The high-level Jesuits are the "Learned Elders" and "Ascended Masters" that the Illuminati like the "Baptist" Rockefellers, Masonic Kabbalist Talmudic Jewish (traitors to their own race) Zionist Rothschilds, etc. receive their orders from.

http://www.manresa-sj.org/stamps/2_Spain.htm

Ignatius Loyola was not punished by the Unholy Office of the Inquisition after it was suspected he was an Alumbrados sympathizer because Loyola reassured the Unholy Office that the Illuminati were not against the Vatican but in fact would serve the papacy and shortly after Loyola sold Pope Paul III the idea of the Company/Society of Jesus by saying he would defend the satanic lies of papal infallibility and that the pope was the Vicar of Christ and enforce these heresies commanding his Jesuits to go around the world and attack, counter, and destroy Protestantism wherever they went. <http://www.newadvent.org/cathen/14081a.htm>

It was an offer the Papal Caesar could not refuse and the inner circle of Luciferianism, Illuminism, occultism, and satanic assassins (who would later after they were formally restored by Pope Pius VII in 1814 and still do rule the Vatican through their Papal confessors-every White Pope confesses their sins to a Jesuit and the Order commands the Papal Caesar to do whatever his master the Jesuit General demands as his "penance." The Jesuits rule the Roman Catholic Institution and the White Pope with a bloody hand-that of the Jesuit General-the Black Pope). The inner circle was formed and will exist until the Revelation and Second Advent of the Jewish Messiah the Lord Jesus Christ at the end of the Seventieth Week of Daniel-May our Lord hasten the day-His day-the day of His glorification and the day His millennial reign on earth from Jerusalem begins.

Title: Hidden Orders.

Description: A must read

TruthSeeker24 - October 28, 2005 04:53 PM (GMT)

This site is pro-Peak Oil (Peak Oil is a false theory though), but the other points are fairly accurate.

From <http://home.planet.nl/~reijd050/introduction.htm>

Introduction

The purpose of the Project for the Exposure of Hidden Institutions (PEHI) is to put together the entire spectrum of hidden organizations and secret societies. Most of you who visit this site have probably heard of the more well-known 'secret societies' like the Council on Foreign Relations, the Bohemian Grove, and the Skull & Bones student society. Two other well known 'secret societies' are Bilderberg and the Trilateral Commission. The thing is, when you really research these institutes you find that members often disagree with each other, there's considerable infighting, and most members don't seem to be privy to any information from the black and deep black programs. This is the reason I always wondered how people went from the above organizations straight to the very undefined concept of the 'Illuminati'. Of course, I can see something very strange is going on. For some reason it's possible to suppress information about humanities past, the UFO phenomenon, alternative energy, the supernatural, high profile assassinations, or the true cause of many terrorist attacks. Rather than focusing on one tiny subject, PEHI will attempt to answer how all the above is possible and which persons and institutes could be responsible for it.

This site will be fundamentally different than most. We don't need another rewrite combined with another religiously biased opinion which doesn't stroke with any of the evidence. We need names of institutions, names of members, and as much background information about both as possible. We need organized digital membership lists in which all this information is available for any purpose at any time. Biographies should be included and must be updated continually in all of these lists as new information becomes available. I can already guarantee you that when this is done on all the globalist societies, one by one, we will see patterns in the leadership and we can pick out those people that need to be investigated still further. If there are any 'puppet masters' (and I'm not so sure about that at all), this is the only way to pick them out and to have a rock solid foundation of research no one can dispute.

General oversight

At this introduction page I will give you an idea of what I'm working on at the moment. It's not meant to back up every claim with a list of sources. This is something that will be done in the individual, more specific articles on the website.

Below I have organized a lot of the most influential privately funded discussion forums in the world. Already it is clear that a few interests dominate the scene. The first one is the infamous Rockefeller family. This family played a major role in setting up and / or maintaining most of the American-based institutions: the Americas Society, the Asia Society, the Japan Society, the CFR, and the Trilateral Commission. As far as I know, they also funded the Atlantic Institute for International Affairs and the Williamsburg Meetings, and probably a lot more. They themselves, or their proteges, are represented in almost every organization you see on the left. They funded many other less important organizations, which will be included in an upcoming 'Rockefeller family timeline'. Another major influence appears to be the Rothschild family. Of course, just as the Rockefellers, this has been repeated endlessly, but I personally had a hard time finding any indisputable evidence that backs up this claim. A lot of research still needs to be done, but here's what I know for sure: Belgian diplomat Baron Robert Rothschild escaped from German captivity, was a prime-builder of the initial European Community, and was involved in many of the world's conflicts. At his own request, he also became first secretary at the embassy in Chungking, the headquarters of Chiang Kai-Shek's government. Rothschild even "grew to like" Chou Enlai, Mao's envoy in Chungking. Today's chairman of Le Cercle has been a 15 year Rothschild veteran. A previous chairman of Le Cercle had a very dubious father who was one of the most important (hidden) Jews to have built up the state of Israel side by side with the Rothschilds. The chairman of The European Institute is also a 15 year Rothschild veteran, again the only person of the board directly involved with the Rothschilds. Sir Evelyn de Rothschild and his wife are the prime (but quiet) sponsors of the New Democrats in the United States and New Labour in the United Kingdom. The Rothschild Foundation is one the prime sponsors of the 1001 Club-affiliated Club 21, which funds and manages the so called 'Peace Parks' Foundation. On the board of directors of the Club 21 sits a Rothschild director, who seems to be some kind of descended of a former Rothschild associate / Shell chairman. The foundation of the chairman of the European Institute is involved with this club to a lesser extent. The same goes for the Rockefellers by the way. Other interesting coincidences I noticed is the fact that the only Brit I have come across that has been invited to the Bohemian Grove camp Mandalay is a representative of the Rothschild and Murdoch interests [update: found more. They all revolve around the major City of London interests and the Royal family]. Rupert Murdoch and Jacob de Rothschild are close friends. The only Brit I found that has been invited to the Sun Valley meetings turned out to be another very close associate of Jacob the Rothschild. Jacob de Rothschild has been the president of the London-based Institute for Jewish Policy Research and still is its honorary president. The exact extent of the influence of the institute I do not know. All I know is that it has been described as 'very influential', that until recently it used to be called the 'Institute for Jewish Affairs', that it is closely affiliated with Chatham House (RIIA), and that the Israeli ambassador pays them a visit once in a while. Another interesting fact is that the Rothschild Foundation donated the money to build the Israeli Supreme Court and the Knesset. Coincidentally, the Supreme Court has a large pyramid with an eye sticking through its roof. What is very interesting about the Rothschilds is that they indeed seem to do almost everything through a front man. But personally, I have no reason to believe they cannot be touched. For example, in 1981 Mitterrand came to power and immediately nationalized the Rothschild bank. Guy de Rothschild (and Le Cercle, which had been trying to prevent Mitterrand from coming to power) wasn't very happy about that. From that time on, Guy de Rothschild started focusing on his main U. S. company, New Court (now Rothschild Inc.), which was located in Rockefeller Center at the time. There are other indications that the Rothschilds are very influential, but not the ultimate 'puppet masters'. For instance, some of them were captured or killed by the nazis. Others successfully fled. In 1996, Amschel Rothschild was found dead in Paris, just after he was selected to take over the Paris branch of the family. It's a very strange affair and although his aunt and closest friends vehemently denied he was anything near depressed, nobody objected when the death was labeled a suicide. Looking at some of the statements of the Paris investigators there's every indication that Amschel was murdered. It doesn't seem to make much sense that his own family did it. Then they wouldn't have appointed him in the first place. So who was responsible? One other interesting tidbit that actually shows their influence again is the fact that Bill Clinton allowed Sir Evelyn de Rothschild to spend his wedding night in the White House! I still need to do a lot of research on this family before I can post a 'Rothschild family timeline' with all the documentation, but what has been written above is completely documented.

One thing that often seems to pop up is the close relationship between the British Royal family and the Rothschild family. If the Rockefellers mainly represent the American interests, the Rothschilds mainly the Zionist interests, then the Royal family is the spider in the British interests (although it's hard to say if they actually have much influence themselves).

These three important institutions have absorbed the leadership (or the founders) of all the organizations below it. In all of these high-level discussion groups the Royal family members aren't just figureheads. It has been stated repeatedly that the Royal family has made large investments in many of the largest British multinationals. This may not be proven, but it's actually quite understandable when you have such a huge amount of money laying around. Again, the British royal family members don't seem to be the ultimate 'puppet masters'. Prince Philip and his son Charles have very different personalities. Lord Louis Mountbatten, who was killed by an 'IRA bomb' in 1979, seems to have been assassinated by some right-wing Le Cercle-like interest. Two suspects were arrested even before the bomb went off, one of them was later convicted of the murder and sentenced to life. According to Diana's butler, the Queen mother warned him after Diana's death: "Nobody, Paul has been as close to a member of my family as you have. There are powers at work in this country about which we have no knowledge." Who or what was she referring to when she advised Paul to lay low?

Another institute with a lot of power is the Vatican. The Knights of Malta, Opus Dei, and the Jesuits are all operating from out of the the Vatican and are heavily involved with the intelligence agencies of the West. I found many of them in the secret intelligence group Le Cercle. Especially the Order of Malta has a very close relationship with the Monarchs of Europe. Its worldwide head, Andrew Bertie is a cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and attends many of the royal weddings. The full influence of these organizations isn't known, but a large amount of the Knights of Malta and Opus Dei figures have been involved in serious scandals over the years. The Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM) is a descendent of the Knights Hospitaller, the organization to which many of the Templar assets were transferred. It's Protestant version is the Order of St. John, headed by Queen Elizabeth II, which is far less controversial. These two groups are the main interests represented at Le Cercle, which I rate among the most secret organizations we know of today. At least in recent times, the Vatican seems to be the underdog.

You also have some royal and industrial families in mainland Europe that seem to have quite a bit of influence on the globalization process.

By the way, did you know that the Ordo Draconis is actually a real organization with royal and noble families in it? You don't have to believe it from some second hand source, just visit the website from the royal house of Stewart and look at their European Council of Princes section. You'll find a page about their involvement in the Ordo Draconis. And did you know that they believe in so called 'dragon genes'? I wrote a little bit about it here, which is a small elaboration on statements that were made in the article on Le Cercle.

So, as you can see, there's plenty of stuff to investigate. This introduction page is only meant to give an idea of where my personal research is going. Below you can find the names of some of the more important institutions people need to be aware of. Some of them are very secretive. Others are quite well-known, although knowledge usually doesn't extent beyond the name itself. In time, every single organization will be discussed on this site (okay, that might be a bit too ambitious). I left out many of the smaller, regional ones. If you start adding all the world's think tanks and meeting clubs, the list will be at least 5 times as long. And why bother writing them down when most of their chairmen and presidents can be found in maybe a handful of the most important institutions below?

Existence proven

It's hard to categorize a lot of the institutions below, because you don't always know who's primary purpose they serve. Generally, I tend to look at the country the institute was founded in and who's heading it. As for America, keep in mind that the Carnegie, Rockefeller, Ford, and other foundations have funded a huge amount of very influential non-governmental think tanks. The Brookings Institution, the Aspen Institute, the Foreign Policy Association, and the RAND Corporation are examples of this.

Existence not proven (from my own viewpoint)

Bormann Organization / Group Martin Bormann was Hitler's most trusted aide and has never been captured. Some believe he oversaw the transfer of most of the Nazi capital into some 750 corporations in Germany, South-America, and the U.S. He received help from someone like Allen Dulles (SMOM, OSS chief, Pilgrims Society member, later CIA director). The purpose was to establish a future 4th Reich. It's quite obvious that this is linked with the Ratlines and the recruitment of Nazi general Reinhard Gehlen in the aftermath of WWII. I suggest you check Paul Manning's 1981 book 'Martin Bormann: Nazi in Exile' and the person who took over his work, Dave Emory. It seems that Paul Manning and his publisher have been punished severely for putting out the book.

Chateau des Amerois The castle was owned by Prince Philipp von Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and later by the Solvay family. The Solvay family is one of the leading industrial families of Europe (producer of medicines, plastics, and chemicals like fluor). In their 1996 book, Fritz Springmeier and Cisco Wheeler (very unsure what to think of their information) referred to it as the 'Mothers of Darkness castle'. This obscure castle does indeed exist and I found many shocking links between this castle, other Belgian castles, Belgium's leading blue blood industrial families, the European unification movement, and the Dutroux affair. We will save all that for later.

Club of the Isles Could easily be the 1001 Club or possibly the Multinational Chairman's Group, because they share many of the same interests. Executive Intelligence Review mentioned it a couple of times. I asked them about the club, but they don't seem to have that much additional info either.

Committee of 26 This group is mentioned in Simon Regan's book 'Who killed Diana?'. The author was informed about this group through his intelligence contacts, including the one who advised him to look into Le Cercle. I quote from his book: "My own security contacts, including the Baroness, had also told me about a highly mysterious organization called the Committee of 26, which is apparently based in Bristol, in England's West Country. I have never heard of this and can find no other official reference in any file. But it is apparently a super-secret "liaison desk" between the highest echelons of British and American agencies and has the "co-operation" of the French. I was told it was "Old Guard" and worked unilaterally. That is, it was a kind of uncontrolled "super-agency" which answered to no one. I cannot show that this agency even exists... I trust the Baroness, but she was unable to give me any feasible further "chapter and verse." David Icke in his book 'The Biggest Secret' wrote: "Why Bristol? It is a former Knights Templar port and its name has evolved from Barati, the Phoenician goddess. It just so happens that an elite unit of British Intelligence called the Committee of 26 is based there and they use the runway at the British Aerospace complex to fly British and foreign agents in and out of the country... In that period in the 1980s, not only in Bristol, there were strange deaths galore of people at the cutting edge of development in the 'defence' industries. "

Committee of 300 The group former MI6 agent John Coleman talked about back in 1992. It's very interesting if you compare the name with the 'Committee of 26' from totally different sources. I read chunks of the book, looking for evidence of its existence, but couldn't find it. I have organized the list of names (google's recent spelling correction is a god sent) and have been able to copy a significant amount of biographies from prominent and less-prominent members from other hidden organizations John Coleman has never talked about. I guess that's a good thing, but as I just said, this doesn't prove anything. I also have trouble believing 'the Olympians' control everything from China to South-Africa. Looking at the names, it's just like all the other hidden organizations, i.e. a high level discussion group.

Group 13 & I3 These two are said to be assassination teams from Britain and the U.S. Although there is no conclusive evidence, I am quite certain that both exist. You can find some information about Britain's Group 13 here and some information about the NSA's I3 here. The supposed head of Group 13 turned out to be someone who's background cannot be fully traced, not even by the British Parliament. This person and his allies also infiltrated the boards of many arms companies. When a company, like Astra, isn't useful anymore, they just give themselves huge salaries and run the company into the ground.

Knight's Templar (CIA) In his 1977 book 'The Night Watch', former CIA officer David Atlee Phillips wrote on page 123: "...that small circle of well-bred, highly educated adventurers who were known to some in the CIA as the 'Knights Templars' - Allen Dulles, Frank Wisner, Kermit Roosevelt, Tracey Barnes, Dick Bissell, and kindred spirits. Other CIA veterans have confirmed the existence of similar associations within the agency, with names like the "Century group" and the "Gold Key group". The first three have been known members of Le Cercle. Of the first two we know they were involved in recruiting Nazis in the wake of WWII. Kermit Roosevelt helped de Marenches in setting up the Safari Club and led Operation Ajax which brought the Shah to power. I find it very interesting all these small hints to Templar organizations within intelligence groups as Le Cercle, the Committee of 26, and now the CIA.

Synarchist Movement of Empire In reaction to my article on Le Cercle I received some information about the SME from Jeff Steinberg and Pierre Beaudry from EIR. The SME seems to have been a real European-based multinational and strictly political organization while the Synarchy International is used by EIR to describe an oligarchical occult fascist movement which was brought to the U.S. by the neo-conservative godfather Leo Strauss. The history of the SME and about 40 names of the (fascist Vichy) French side were given by La France Interieure in 1945, so it seems we aren't just talking about a philosophy, but a real secret group with concrete members and meeting places. I suggest you first read the following article of Steinberg. When you're done with that, try this one or do a google search. For more in depth information you might want to read the following books by Pierre Beaudry of EIR (have permission to post them). These draft versions detail the history of the Synarchist movement in about 800+ pages. And don't worry, even if you are familiar with the history of Europe and France, you'll still look up plenty of names and events mentioned in these books.

Synarchy Movement of Empire - Book I
Synarchy Movement of Empire - Book II
Synarchy Movement of Empire - Book III
Synarchy Movement of Empire - Book IV

Tavistock Network Said to be a worldwide mind-control network. Haven't studied it and don't really have an opinion about it either. The Tavistock Institute is located in London. You saw it in July 2005 when a bomb on a London bus splattered blood and debris on its facade. John Coleman talked about it. Kay Griggs also mentioned it.

The Brotherhood / The Firm Mentioned by Kay Griggs, wife of marine colonel George Griggs. According to Kay, her husband usually referred to the loose network he was part of as 'the Brotherhood' or 'the Firm'. She was also talking about a Zionist clique centered in New York City, which had the unofficial name 'the Joint'. Kay describes how there is a network of transnational criminals involved in all kinds of nasty stuff. This includes drug running, illegal arms trade, sexual perversion, mind control, assassinations, and the conducting of terrorism when deemed necessary.

Did you notice that almost every single group we don't know that much about is related to intelligence? We can only guess how much more has been hidden from the public completely.

Part 2, UFO organizations

If someone thinks the UFO phenomenon is a non-issue, I suggest you take a look at some of the mainstream newspaper articles I gathered here. Whatever it is, the phenomenon is real and it is very likely that secret institutions have been set up to study it.

IPU IPU stands for the Interplanetary Phenomenon Unit, which, supposedly, was set up after the February 1942 Battle of Los Angeles incident. In a 1980 document released through a FOIA request, the Interplanetary Phenomenon Unit was part of the Scientific and Technical Branch of the Counterintelligence Directorate. It was dissolved during the late 1950's and allegedly never reactivated. Their files were surrendered to the Air Force Office of Special Investigations (AFOSI). You can find scanned documents and a lot of additional info on Majesticdocuments.com.

MJ-12 MJ-12 is said to be a highly secret intelligence agency set up for the purpose of investigating the UFO phenomenon. At the same time they kept all the information from the public. The project was started after the July 1947 UFO wave, followed by a crash in Roswell. Together with the birth of MJ-12 the National Security State was born. Almost anyone who has claimed to have inside information on the group has said that MJ-12 still exists today, although it changes its name once in a while. Many have also added that the group has been privatized, which is a subject that sounds very familiar. There is a large amount of documentation on Majestic 12, although these documents won't be accepted, simply because they are too extraordinary to believe. According to Stanton Friedman, most of the later documents are fake, but the earlier ones stand up to careful scrutiny. You can find scanned documents and a lot of additional info on Majesticdocuments.com. It is said that certain JASON studies have been conducted for MJ-12. The existence of the JASON Group is beyond dispute and an article about them will appear soon.

Then there are some societies I won't go into, because they are too 'far out' when there is a complete lack of any evidence they exist. If you're interested in Tamar, Moriah, the Cult of the Serpent, the Grand Druid Council, the Order of the Quest, the Keepers of the Dawn, or something similar like that, I suggest you do an internet search. I also skipped the Priory the Sion, because I haven't got a clue what to believe about it.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 12, 2005 09:12 PM (GMT)

Hello Eric.....Hope your doing fine today.While surfing the web I found a site that was authored by Paisley.In some ways he seems to be in agreement with your outlook but hes strikes me a bit being a bit too radical in some respects.do you have any opinion of him?

Without brother Ian Paisley, Northern Ireland would have fallen to the Order's KGB/IRA twenty years ago. I consider him to be one of the greatest anti-Jesuit, anti-Rome, Bible-believing Protestant preachers of today. He lived through the bloody 1960s in Ireland when the Order sought to overthrow the North killing many innocent Protestant and Roman Catholic people. Paisley has been elected to his fifth or sixth term to the British Parliament.

Also,do you have any info.concerning the following teleevangelists....Benny Hinn,Jack Van Impe,Paul Crouch,Peter Popov.It seems as tho Van Impe is pro-romanist in his outlook.....any comment on that?

I believe all of the above are Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors. Hinn is an obvious Jesuit; Van Impe has converted to Romanism; Crouch is associated with Jesuits at his TBN and has recently paid 425,000 dollars to his Black homosexual partner; and Popov is a complete charlatan witnessed by his past trickery in the "healing" of plants in the audience.

Thank you very much for your time and attention.Sincerely,Mike.

Sincerely in Faith,

Brother Eric

Title: Jesuit Georgetown Law and Supreme Court

Description: High Court of 14th Amendment America

AVBibleBeliever - October 26, 2005 01:00 AM (GMT)

The Jesuits of Georgetown control the U.S. Supreme Court through temporal coadjutors they train at their law school who become law clerks to the Supreme Court Justices and and lower court judges. http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Law_clerk

The Jesuits decide which cases are heard by the Supreme Court and who is allowed to sit on the bench through their Supreme Court Institute <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/sci/> and Supreme Court Moot Program "which taps into faculty expertise by preparing counsel for oral argument before the Court. Last Term, the Institute provided moot courts to counsel in approximately 50 percent of the cases before the Court." <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/sci/moot.html> and <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/sci/document...otCourtroom.pdf> They recently chose Roman Catholic Harvard grad temporal coadjutor John G. Roberts who was an adjunct Georgetown law prof in Washington D.C. and London for a summer program. Sandra Day O'Connor obeyed her Jesuit masters and they through their man temporal coadjutor Viet Dinh who is credited as the main architect of the USA Patriot Act (undoubtedly several members of the Georgetown Jesuit Community advised Dinh as it was written) was CFR member Roman Catholic Sandra Day O'Connor's law clerk at one time during her term. http://www.law.georgetown.edu/news/events/...webDSC_0489.jpg <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/news/events/photos.html> (Knight of Malta) Eric E. Hotung Center of International Law <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/news/releases/july.5.2005.html> note there are Georgetown law profs listed who are involved in the State Department and throughout the government. One of them was a law clerk for Freemason Justice Thurgood Marshall and there is a name of another law clerk to former Justice O'Connor. Robert F. Drinan SJ who was a Democratic U.S. Representative from Massachusetts caused the abortion agitation, contributed to the civil rights agitation and I believe the anti-death penalty agitation as well having voted for these things and he was responsible for introducing legislation to impeach apostate Quaker Richard Nixon. Drinan made the Democratic party the pro-abortion party which made way for Masonic, SMOM Roman Catholic falsely called Christian Right which consists of apostate ecumenical Protestants and dominionists. <http://www.law.georgetown.edu/news/release...er.13.2005.html>

Early this month, CFR member Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer praised one of his masters Jesuit Father Drinan when the International Law Section of the District of Columbia Bar presented its 2005 Public Service Award to Georgetown University Law Center Professor Robert F. Drinan, S.J. rtsp://video.c-span.org/15days/e101105_breyer.rm (fast forward to the 3 min mark) Drinan destroyed bipartisanship and is responsible for the political war in the Congress today. Jesuit Drinan sowed discord, fashioned legislation based on Jesuit casuistry. The Jesuits want to establish an absolutist government with one party in power loyal to the Jesuits' Pope and Vatican like Romanist Mexico's PRI (Institutional Revolutionary Party) which ruled for 71 years. Only in 2000 did one-party dominance end in Mexico only to be replaced with Jesuit-trained (at Mexico City's Jesuit-run Ibero-American University) Roman Catholic Freemason Vicente Fox and his National Action Party. <http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/world/americas/1049493.stm> and <http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/world/americas/1049574.stm>

The Jesuits and their Knights of Malta created the polarized political spectrum of "Right" and "Left"-they do not exist! Both parties serve the same agenda because the core structure consists of members of the Archbishop of New York Cardinal Egan's Council on Foreign Relations whose members include Jesuits Joseph A. O' Hare and Dennis McNamara, and Notre Dame Romanist priest temporal coadjutor Theodore M. Hesburgh, Illuminati Rockefeller's Trilateral Commission and Bilderberg Group.

CIA finally fed up with George W. Bush and the amateurs around him

VHeadline.com commentarist Arthur Shaw writes: In the shabby, sham, and phony United States "democracy," a controversy over the rule of law rages although the US capitalist press falsely portrays the controversy as a mere case of criminal law that affirms the rule of law in the USA.

Of late, the US capitalist press closely covers developments in Venezuela where the capitalist press portrays every alleged criminal act by a high state officials ... especially alleged unlawful acts by the Venezuelan President ... as something that impugns the rule of law and destroys even the possibility of democracy because the rule of law is a fundamental principle of democracy.

But the malignantly hypocritical and incurably forked-tongue US capitalist media argues, in defense of the GOP dictatorship, that an alleged criminal act by a high US official or officials, like Bush, only invokes criminal law which affirms the rule of law and the legitimacy of US democracy.

Duplicitous standards are, of course, characteristic of the current regime in the USA which is only a so-called "democracy," shabby, sham, and phony.

The law, in what is called the Plame Affair, believed to have been broken by a vicious pack of suspected imperialist authorities, which include George W. Bush, Richard Cheney, Karl Rove, and Lewis "Scooter" Libby, all big shots in the imperialist regime, is the Intelligence Identities Protection Act of 1982 which, in part, says:

"Whoever, having or having had authorized access to classified information that identifies a covert agent, intentionally discloses any information identifying such covert agent to any individual not authorized to receive classified information, knowing that the information disclosed so identifies such covert agent and that the United States is taking affirmative measures to conceal such covert agent's intelligence relationship to the United States, shall be fined under title 18 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both."

In other words, whoever blows the cover of an imperialist spy breaks US law and imperialism is gonna get'cha.

The four imperialist authorities -- Bush, Cheney, Rove, Libby (and perhaps others) -- are suspected of breaking this law by leaking the identity of Valerie Plame Wilson as a CIA spy to a number of reporters (some of whom may also be spies) of the US capitalist media.

The four imperialist authorities leaked on Mrs. Wilson because her husband Joseph Wilson told the truth about Iraq not buying or trying to buy uranium in Africa for a nuclear program before the March 2003 US aggression against the Iraqi people.

The four imperialist authorities wanted to use this lie -- Iraq bought uranium to make weapons of mass destruction -- as an item in a pack of lies as a pretext for the March 2003 US aggression against Iraq. Finding the lie irresistible, the four authorities used this lie anyway to justify US aggression against Iraq even after Joseph Wilson proved to them it was a flat-out lie.

After the US aggression in March 2003, Joseph Wilson was very upset and told the US capitalist media that imperialist authorities used lies to justify their invasion of Iraq and their killing of the Iraqi people.

Unlike some Americans, especially GOPs like Rush Limbaugh and "reborn" Christians like Pat Robertson, Joseph Wilson believes killing people on the basis of lies is wrong. Enraged by the truthfulness of Wilson and by decision of the CIA to pick someone who would tell the truth, the four imperialist authorities revealed that Joseph Wilson's wife, Valerie Palme, was a CIA spy, a revelation that inflicted and excited extreme anguish in her and her employer and that gave joy to the four imperialist authorities who had successfully leaked on or completely soaked her, her husband, and her boss, the CIA.

In September 2003, the CIA demanded a Justice Department investigation to find out who blew Mrs. Wilson's cover. Attorney General John Ashcroft, claiming an undeniable conflict of interest, immediately recused himself from the investigation and delegated the investigative responsibility to Deputy Attorney General James Comey who quickly saw he was being set up to take the fall. From September to December of 2003, Deputy AG Comey searched for a way out of the set up.

Then on December 30, 2003, Deputy AG Comey appointed Patrick Fitzgerald as special counsel to conduct the investigation of the leak.

Special Counsel Fitzgerald is near the end of his investigation and is widely expected to seek indictments against Rove and Libby who are both expendable patsies. The conventional wisdom is Bush and Cheney will walk even though it is highly unlikely that Rove and Libby would have leaked -- that is, launched a deliberate and concerted campaign to discredit her and her husband as lying spies -- on Mrs. Wilson without the knowledge and consent of their immediate supervisors, Bush and Cheney, respectively.

Bush and Cheney will likely borrow the defense of their mutual friend Ken Lay, former Enron CEO, "Nobody told me anything."

Ideologically, the question is not whether this case, Plame Affair, is either a criminal or a rule of law case, for clearly this case is both a criminal and a rule of law case. The criminal side of the case is obvious and that is unfortunately all that the US capitalist press deals with. And lamentably most of the public discussion mimics the coverage in the capitalist press.

The Plame Affair would be only a criminal case if the US government normally upheld the rule of law when high government officials break it. Under the Bush regime, this is not the case. The Plame affair is a rule of law case because the US government does not normally uphold the law against lawbreakers who are high officials of the state, like Bush and Cheney. Bush and Cheney follow the law only when the law happens to agree with the goals that the high officials are pursuing, otherwise, they disregard law and view themselves as above the law.

Nothing here implies, of course, that the rule of law applies only to the head of state and to other high officials. The rule of law applies to everybody, including the head of state and other high officials. Law is like death, it spares no one.

The rule of law does not imply that the law that rules is just or unjust. The rule of law implies that the state upholds the law whatever its merit or lack thereof with respect to justice. The rule of law is law itself and the state must uphold it, for otherwise it vanishes, and with it, the possibility of democracy, because the notion that state exercises power in accordance with the rule of law is a fundamental principle of democracy.

A fundamental principle, that is, almost everywhere but in the United States under Bush dictatorship

The Bush regime has consistently and flagrantly disregarded the rule of law and this case, involving the spy Valerie Plame Wilson, is just another instance of its contempt for the rule of law. The rule of law vanished from the United States in the beginning years of the Bush regime and so did democracy.

Some of Bush's more flagrant violations include:

(1) George W. Bush and Richard Cheney disregarded the rule of law since the day of the 2000 and 2004 US presidential elections when they broke US and state election laws by rigging the vote. Free and fair elections, like the rule of law, is also a fundamental principle of democracy.

(2) Bush and Cheney disregarded, in 2001, the rule of law by smuggling through the servile US legislature the patently unconstitutional USA Patriot Act which lets the GOP dictator of the United States confine people indefinitely without charge or trial or counsel or notice to family and to the public,

(3) The two imperialist authorities have violated ... horrendously ... the rule of law and basic decency when they authorized the torture of POWs in violation of the Geneva Convention, a US treaty, and in violation of the US Anti-Torture Act as well as the US War Crimes Act, and

(4) The two imperialist bosses violated the rule of law when they lied ... before the legislature and before the American people ... the United States into war against Iraq.

These continuous and extreme violations of the law have resulted in the deaths of hundreds of thousands of human beings ... genocide on an enormous scale ... horrible and unspeakable crimes against humanity ... so why is there suddenly all this noise about imperialist bosses -- Bush, Cheney, Rove, and Libby -- violating the law by outing some political queer from the spy closet? In other words, why is this case being investigated and perhaps prosecuted and the other cases which are thousand times more inhuman and unjust virtually ignored?

Why is the state suddenly and finally upholding this law that protects the anonymity of spies when the state does nothing to uphold the numerous other laws which the Bush regime flagrantly and regularly breaks?

The state, of course, upholds the law and affirms the rule of law by the investigation and prosecution of the lawbreakers whoever they may be.

The answer to the question of why is the state in the USA investigating or perhaps prosecuting or otherwise upholding the law in the Plame Affair, contrary to its manifest tendency in most other cases, seems to be the special status of the victim of the alleged criminal act in the Plame Affair.

In the alleged criminal acts of the Bush regime listed above, the victims are only the American people whose individuals right are under assault by the USA Patriot Act and "creative" law enforcement, the US legislature which is reduced to two houses of cowards and sycophants, US judiciary which rubber stamps the illegalities of the Bush dictatorship, the Iraqi people who are innocent of the dirty US lies about weapons of mass destruction, and thousands of the tragic torture victims who are abducted and transported to US concentration camps in Cuba, the Middle East, and in some of the former Soviet Republics for indefinite confinement and for inhuman treatment.

These categories of people, including the American people, don't really count with the US imperialists.

The imperialists believe they can trample on these "weak or servile" categories of people with impunity and immunity.

In the Plame Affair, however, the victim is the Central Intelligence Agency which is neither weak, servile nor cowardly, although it is often sycophantic. Outing Valerie Plame Wilson victimizes the CIA because the agency believes that the unauthorized disclosure of the identity of its spies sets up CIA agents to get hit by individuals connected to the countless assassination victims of the CIA. In the old days, CIA assassination victims were mostly communists who were silly enough to exposed themselves, but nowadays, the CIA is liable to assassinate anybody and anybody is liable to have a grudge against the agency.

So, unauthorized disclosure of the identity of its spies is a serious matter with the agency.

The George W. Bush regime and the CIA never really hit it off even though Bush's father was once the boss of the CIA. The Bush regime independently privatized a number of the CIA's functions and operations, subordinated the Agency to intelligence czar, and blamed Bush regime's lies, when exposed and caught, on the agency as intelligence failures. All of these measures and others angered the spies in the CIA. Then the Bush regime blew the cover of a spy because her husband refused to lie for Bush. The disclosure of the spy shows the degree of contempt the Bush regime feels for the spies who are not yet domesticated politically.

After the Plame disclosure, the CIA was finally fed up with Bush and the amateurs around him and finally resolved to teach the conceited GOP regime a good lesson.

To teach the Bush dictatorship a lesson, the first thing that CIA had to do was to neutralize the US Attorney General John Ashcroft (the "AG"), the officially, at least, highest guardian of the rule of law in the land. The GOP dictatorship cannot disregard the rule of law unless the AG let's them and protects them. The AG has to be a team player before the destruction of the rule of law is secure. As long as the AG stood beside them, the four imperialist authorities could leak on anybody. And they did. So, in September 2003, the CIA came down on US Attorney General John Ashcroft like a ton of bricks. Ashcroft quickly dumped the case on his deputy and the deputy quickly dumped the case a special counsel whom the deputy appointed. The AG showed disloyalty to the lawless Bush regime when he allowed the CIA to neutralize him. The crooks in the Bush regime counted on Ashcroft not to uphold the law and to block others from upholding it.

Naturally, the Bush regime quickly dumped the useless Ashcroft after he was neutralized.

During the course of the Justice department investigation before the appointment of Patrick Fitzgerald as special counsel, the CIA leaked intelligence to the Justice Department investigators and to the capitalist media. It became impossible for Deputy Attorney General Comey to whitewash the case with the usual GOP lies and get the Bush regime off the hook.

Why was the CIA successful in the neutralization of the powerful AG and his deputy?

The Bush dictatorship represents only the right-wing of the US bourgeoisie. But the CIA still represents, even after taking hard blows from Bush, the whole US bourgeoisie of about 8 millionaires, including its liberal wing which better known as a bunch of cowards. By rigging the 2000 and 2004 presidential elections, Bush demonstrated that he can push around the whole US bourgeoisie. So, it's bizarre that he doesn't seem to be able push around the CIA which represents the whole US bourgeoisie, not just its right-wing. Indeed, it appears that some key members of the hard-core right-wing dictatorship under George W. Bush have already fled from the regime and have ratted out Bush to the special counsel. Somehow, the wider interests of the class of capitalists seems to have prevailed over the narrower interests of a rightwing sector of the ruling class.

The CIA does not oppose the GOP dictatorship over the United States. In general, the CIA seems to believe that a GOP dictatorship is good for the US bourgeoisie. But the CIA seems to believe that Bush overreaches when he tries to extend his dictatorship from over the American people and from over the three branches of government to the CIA. The CIA is an invisible state within a state and as such possesses a kind of sovereignty, within limits, or separation of powers, within limits, or autonomy, within limits. As far as dictatorships in general are concerned, the CIA has nothing per se against them. The CIA has overthrown a lot more democracies and imposed a lot more dictatorships than the Bush regime which has prevailed, in this regard, mainly in the United States in 2000 and 2004 and Haiti in 2004.

The key player in the Plame Affair is now the special counsel Patrick Fitzgerald who may indict the small fry Rove and Libby and let the big imperialist bosses Bush and Cheney walk. But Bush may not be willing to throw the meat-laden Rove to the dogs because Rove knows quite a bit. But Cheney wouldn't hesitate to throw "Scooter" to the dogs. Cheney would be thrilled to throw "Scooter" Libby to the dogs. And the dogs would be happy to have "Scooter.."

If Bush and Cheney walk, the failure or the refusal to uphold the law against the top GOP leaders demonstrates that rule of law has vanished, and with it, US democracy has vanished.

What remains is what US Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia calls the "cloak of legality" which is intended to fool everybody into believing that the rule of law and democracy still exist.

If the special counsel doesn't indict Bush and Cheney, the three most probable explanations of how the fix was done are

- (1) the Bush and the CIA make a deal and CIA calls off the its dogs or
- (2) the AG or a panel of goose-stepping GOP judges dismisses the special counsel or
- (3) Bush makes a deal (or obstructs justice) with the special counsel.

To attempt (3) or to buy the special counsel is extremely dangerous for Bush. To do (2) or to fire the special counsel will provoke a media and a bourgeois frenzy. Even sectors of the US bourgeoisie will suddenly begin to babble about the "rule of law."

So, that leaves (1) or to make a deal with the CIA.

All that the CIA wants is to protect the CIA. As far as the CIA is concerned, Bush can keep his slimy and lawless dictatorship over the timid or intimidated American people.

One can argue that the Plame Affair does not attest in any way to a rule of law problem in the USA, but the Affair goes only to the inviolability of the CIA.

But this inviolability of the spies is enshrined in law and upholding the law also and incidentally defends the inviolability. Plus, unofficial and official inviolability of spies, like their official cousins the diplomats, occupy a queer and weird and often nasty relationship with the rule of law.

Fundamentally, spies feel they are above the law and the law must serve spies, not vice versa.

The Bush regime has a similar attitude.

Clearly, the Plame Affair is more than a criminal case, such as the O. J. Simpson and Robert Blake cases in LA. Contrary to the untruths of the US capitalist media, the Plame Affair has important political and ideological implications. After all, Simpson may have got only two and Blake, only one.

But George W. Bush kills in the hundreds of thousands, although he insists it's against the "law" to count Iraqi and Haitian casualties.

And if you go to Iraq or to Haiti and try to count the dead, you will likely be killed by US forces or pro-US forces.

And you will not be the first enumerator to fall.

After all, the US people ... or, at least, the ruling GOPs ... don't want to know how many Iraqis or how many Haitians or others whom George W. Bush, the US monster, kills.

The number impugns the shabby, sham, and phony US "democracy" of lawless GOP rulers and leaked-on US citizens.

More About FEMA "Red List".... (repost)

Mon Aug 18 2003 1:05:39 pm

172.203.52.125

MORE ABOUT FEMA RED LIST

Dear Website Reader

Back in 1996, when many whistle blowers were coming out of the woodwork and exposing this heinous betrayal of the American people and our Constitution, to bring us by FORCE under the coming WORLD GOVERNMENT under the UN (commonly called the NEW WORLD ORDER) a FEMA insider of conscience revealed from the bowels of FEMA and her "black ops" (secret operations) that people in America were ALREADY BEING SECRETLY categorized to be sorted out accordingly later under MARTIAL LAW/ RED ALERT.

FEMA'S RED and BLUE list consists of those people categorized as PRIORITY ARRESTS and TERMINATION UNDER MARTIAL LAW. Although it was once estimated that they totaled around 6 million targets in 1996, we imagine that this number has increased GREATLY since then.

Further reports have confirmed their reality. For example, in a practice concentration camp set up in Oregon, Patriot investigators wen to secretly check it out. It contained HOLDING PENS for various groups of people that would be apprehended under MARTIAL LAW and taken to the camps. The holding pens were labeled: COOPERATIVE, BELLIGERENT, and RED LISTED. Enough said.

But it doesn't stop at FEMA's lists. The MILITARY has their particular lists. The JUSTICE DEPARTMENT has their lists, the CIA, and more. Just like HITLER and his Nazis had THEIR lists to round up as their madness progressed throughout Germany and Europe, to be arrested and either executed on the spot or taken to the camps to be killed.

What type of people might be classified as FEMA RED LISTED???

We have been told that red listed people may include: outspoken Constitutionalists, outspoken Christian fundamentalists, evangelists and radio people, lecturers on the subject of the NEW WORLD ORDER, people of impact ad importance or influence profiled to be RESISTERS OF THE NEW WORLD ORDER.

Something like that. But this is only the APPETIZERS for THE BEAST to swallow down! They are coming after the LITTLE PEOPLE as well. Anyone who doesn't like jack-booted iron fisted UN/NWO thugs breaking down their doors and seizing their weapons and emergency food supplies...or dislikes military choppers buzzing them...or who insists on retaining their RELIGIOUS RIGHTS and GUN OWNING RIGHTS promised under the Constitution and the Amendments.

It boils down to ANYONE WHO DOESN'T AGREE WITH THEM! "He who is not with us is against us," as Bush and gang said. And for THE RESISTERS OF THE NEW WORLD ORDER, FEMA/MILITARY DEATH CAMPS HAVE BEEN PREPARED...in abundance.

FEMA has 33 deep underground bases (at last count) and FEMA is over the many FEMA CONCENTRATION CAMPS in our nation. They will be activated under a STATE OF NATIONAL EMERGENCY/MARTIAL LAW/RED ALERT.

Admittedly, many of their infamous camps contain GASSING/CREMATORY facilities. This includes the DEATHCAMPA OF THE MOJAVE in California, and many more.

Well by golly, it looks to me like a lot of good Americans have already been RED LISTED..like myself.

Personally, I laugh at their feeble efforts to enslave the American spirit and the Christian spirit!

I like to joke, that I am "FEMA RED-LISTED AND PROUD!"

I once designed a T-SHIRT that read:

"IN the EVENT OF MARTIAL LAW,

I AM A...

-Christian

-Patriot

-Constitutionalist

-Resister of the NWO

-FEMA RED LISTED,

And NOT Afraid of...

-Boxcars and shackles

-Guillotines

-UN Troops

-And ALL the Weapons of the NWO

Now...WHAT Part of

"NO TO THE NWO"

Do you NOT Understand?"

Rather than serving to intimidate us by their DELIBERATELY leaked out reports of all the nasty stuff they wanna do to us under MARTIAL LAW, it has only served to raise up a mighty army of indignant Americans from every sector of society, who are saying "THE HECK they are gonna to THIS to US under MARTIAL LAW!"

NWO, YOU HAVE BEEN WARNED! Heh-heh.....

OOOOPS! Did I just say that? Silly me! I must be careful...don't wanna get RED LISTED now, do I?? I MUST go along with the brain dead American sheeple...play stupid...act dumb..BAHHH! BAHHHH! BAHHHHH! As sheep led to slaughter..... I don't think so! Bring it on, baby.

I think they will find MANY MORE resisters of their NWO madness than what their futile camps can EVER hold!

Title: Eric Phelps - Question on Vatican Assassins

Description: by former Whore of Babylon member

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 15, 2005 10:04 PM (GMT)

Question on Vatican Assassins

OK I am still confused Eric, Again I repeat I love your book, I am a former whore of Babylonm mother of Harlots member. I have given your book away, I have ordered it by the case, but still I want to know what your skin color has to do with anything. You did not choose it. God gave it to you.Why does it become an issue one way or the other. Do you think God gives a rip what color anyone is? so why do you. I am white, have blond hair and blue eyes, but until I got saved i was a child of the devil and so were you and everyone else. Skin color has no redeeming value and tends to discredit you for even bringing it up and I don't want you to be discredited in anyones eyes as I want them to listen to you and read your book.

Thank you for your candid question once again. The issue of race is as important as the issue of gender or nationality. All these traits serve to identify the person composing the nations and peoples of God's human race. Being White is part of my identity, even as being a male, even as speaking English, even as being heterosexual, even as being an American. If I go into any Black area they will let me know real quick that I am White. If I use the ladies' bathroom at the airport, they will let me know REAL QUICK that I am a male. If I go to a foreign country, they will identify me as "the American," as was done in Cyprus about a year ago. These are marks of identifcation, nothing more, but they should be used regularly by everyone.

The problem is that if I said that I was a Black American no one would object, would you? But never, no never can a White man say he is White. If he does so, he is a "White Supremacist" thus a hater of Black men and a hater of Jews. We have been programed to respond this way and I encourage you to accept my claim to being White as you would accept a Black Christian's claim of being Black. I remember when I was in Jerusalem years ago, the Church I visited was an Arab Baptist Church. In a conversation the pastor's wife said to me, "We are Christians but we are still Arabs."

In America it is a sin to be White as we are the problem with the culture, the eyesore of American history. I am sick of this perverted, sinful mentality and so I calmly say that I am White, I am pro-White as Blacks are pro-Black---and should be. I seek to preserve my race, my English language, my male dominance and manhood, and my Baptist-Calvinist, Reformataion AV1611 bible heritage all of which is under attack from the Jesuit Order controlling the US government and its prostitute press.

!!!!!!!You are one the right track and have nailed it down better than any other document that I have found. Have you read Vietnam, why did we go?

Yes, I cite it in VA.

I just paid $50.00 for that little paper back, but it was worth it. Jesus is not a respecter of persons in any way.

Jesus was a Jew and he preferred his own race above Gentiles (Matt 15:22-28). I am White and prefer my own race above any other---as we all should do so regardless of our race. I prefer English-speakers above all other languages and I prefer Americans above all other nationalities---as every Christian nationalist should be loyal to his own people and nation.

My brother is a white supremacist and when I hear that rehortic I want to scream.

What is wrong with your brother saying that he is White and not ashamed of it? Maybe he has been persecuted for being White as I have many times by the majority savage Blacks in this country. From the military to universities, to jail, I have lived with Blacks and believe me there is only a minority that is civil and courteous to White people. Generally they hate us and I seek to avoid them as they will usually victimize me in some lesser or greater way. The Whites of this nation, both Protestant and Catholic, have been deliberately discriminated against for the last 50 years with at least one milliion Black on White crimes committed every year. Surely your brother is right about being pro-White as every Black I ever met was never anti-Black.

I told him I rather have my daughter marry a black man who is a Christian than a white man who is a catholic or some other pagan whatever.

That is no choice. Interracial marriage is a sin violating the purpose of God in His creation of the races. The purpose of the races was to keep mankind separate lest we should unite against God as was done at Babel. No, never give your consent for your daughter to marry a Black man or any other race, and never consent to her marrying a non-Bible believing Christian. Both points must be never compromised.

Hope you respond to my concern, if I am missing something please tell me. Mxxxx

I trust this is helpful, dear sister. This is the same position I advocate with every other race and nationality that contacts me via email.

Sincerly in Faith,

Brother Eric

MooseDog - October 20, 2005 04:44 AM (GMT)

Im not sure why but these topics about race i find very interesting. Has anyone ever asked Eric what he thought about Jesus being black? It seems certain that any Jew from the middle east is usually very darked skinned.

Eric is not afraid to voice his views thats for sure. I agree when he says many blacks hate whitey but it goes both ways most people i know are always making black racist jokes, the only time whites like black people is when they score a touchdown.

Was Eric in Jail he said "From the military to universities, to jail, I have lived with Blacks" what was he in jail for?

When God created the earth all the races were seperated thats for sure.

Eric is great, if VA3 ever comes out, im gunna call alex jones over and over until he has Eric on, hes had that nutjob david icke on at least 4 times already.

TruthSeeker24 - October 20, 2005 11:16 AM (GMT)

I heard of rumors that Jesus might be black. As for Jesus, the Word of God clearly states that God is no respecter of persons. It was part of God's plan to send the Messiah first unto the Jews, because they were the first fruits of monotheism after Abraham. Eric forgotten that Jesus converted at least 2 Gentiles to the faith (i.e. a Roman, etc.) Also, Christ said to the apostles convert all men to Christianity before he ascended into heaven (not just the Jews). All of the apostles, except Simon were Jews and the apostles preached unto non-Jews, so this preference argument doesn't hold water. Race is sometimes a controversial subject and there's nothing wrong with talking about race. I have no problem with a White man, Asian, Hispanic, etc. describing their heritage and acknolwedging who they are. I do have a problem with white supremacy, a belief that whites are superior to non-whites (especially blacks) and that blacks have done no advanced civilizations or contributions in their history, which is a LIE.

Eric talks about discrimination when Black people in general suffered more than whites in this country. We suffered through slavery, Jim Crow, worker discrimination, police brutality, stereotypes, lynching, etc. for centuries. I abhor White discrimination, but the black man suffered more than whites in this country. New statistics have the crime rate going down and Eric's 1 million black on white crime have been exposed as an exaggeration by men like Tim Wise. Are all of the races seperated? I don't think so since God didn't seperate the races in Noah's flood. Niger, a black man in the book of Acts weren't seperated from the other non-blacks in Turkey to learn the gospel. The Jewish apostles weren't seperate from preaching to non-Gentiles. Paul, a Jew from the tribe of Benjamin, taught Timothy, an interracial half-Jew, half-Greek child. Timothy was a great Christian man that my mother named me after. We won't be seperated in the Eternity when all of God's creation celebrate the Messiah. The Tower of Babel was about rebellion against God and trying to create the one world government. God seperated the people for their rebellion, not their races. Many nations on Earth aren't homogenous and compose of many races like Sudan, Spain, India, Australia, Britian, and of course America. God's word say to respect your neighbor as yourself and join a stranger together if they are a believer. That alone refutes racial segregation and not to mention that scientists have expose race as a social construct since all men have melanin, pure DNA, we're all Homo sapiens sapiens, and racial differences genetically are very minute. I'm probably the only man that can rebut Eric on the view on race in a forthright way. I'm ready for anything. As for skin color, that is God-given, so I will not hate another man's skin color. I can't hate nothing that God gives naturally. All skin colors are a blessing from Almighty God. God's Word clearly states that God doesn't judge a man's appearance, but by his heart. I don't judge a man's skin color, but the content of his character. All men are created equal for we all are born in sin from the fall of Adam. To have respect of persons is to violate God's Word and any man is to be held accountable if they sin in that respect. Racism and racial supremacy are sinful dogmas that Darwin, Hitler, and many eugenicists use to cripple the world, but in the end; Almighty God from the North will prevail. I agree with Eric on the Jesuits, but not on racial issues.

I know all about people's views that Jesus is the Sun theory, i dont subscribe to this theory. Thats why i was asking if anyone knew what Eric's view points on Jesus' skin color was?(not that his skin color matters, his words are what are important)

And What was Phelps in jail for?

TruthSeeker24 - October 20, 2005 01:57 PM (GMT)

I don't think that Eric mentioned Christ's skin color, but only that Christ was a Semite and not the same as the representation from the Passion movie. Jews back then had an olive to dark skin complexetion from archaeology and other resources. Jews today are in a number of skin complexetions from white (the Ashkenazi tribes. Some folks say that the Askhenazi Jews are fakes from the Khazar tribes), olive (Yemenic, Sephradic, Misraim, Central Asian, Indic, etc. tribes), to black (i.e. Falasha, Ethoipic, and Lemba tribes). God likes diversity. He was in jail when he was in the Air Force, but I don't know the reason why. Not to mention that the vast majority of humans (90%) have different ethnic groups and races in their lineages making them not pure blood at all. That means that we all have the same origin from Almighty God. Not to mention that secular historians like Thallus, Celsius, Romans, and even Talmud confirmed the existence of Jesus Christ. He isn't the Sun.

DB was born to a mother who was sold by the Jesuits for $1300 to his Satanist father, who works for the CIA at a high level and was also a US Navy officer. Mother and father are both from Illuminati families and his mom carries the French, Merovingian bloodline that they all cherish and even crave. His father's family have some names that you'd recognize from your history textbooks.

Former Cardinal
Cushing Tightly Linked
To FBI & J. Edgar Hoover
By Michael Paulson - Boston Globe Staff
http://www.boston.com/dailyglobe2/104/metr...l_linked-.shtml
4-14-00

Throughout the 1950s and 1960s, the FBI aggressively cultivated a warm relationship with Cardinal Richard J. Cushing, supplying the powerful leader of Boston Catholics with material for his speeches and logistical help in his travels, according to documents obtained by the Globe.

FBI agents around the world would greet Cushing as he traveled, providing him cars, drivers and other assistance. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover helped Cushing with his speeches, on one occasion supplying him a confidential memo about Hungary's political situation.

The relationship between Cushing and Hoover, spelled out in 802 pages of files released by the FBI to the Globe in response to a request under the federal Freedom of Information Act, was built on a shared anticommunist fervor. The two men were prominent figures at a time when America was gripped by fear of Soviet domination - Cushing was Boston's archbishop from 1944 to 1970 and Hoover was FBI director from 1924 to 1972.

The FBI considered Cushing to be a "close," "warm," and "valued" friend of Hoover, according to the documents. Cushing was on a list of Hoover's special correspondents, and the FBI kept close tabs on Cushing's health, whereabouts and honors he received or occasions he celebrated.

The admiration was reciprocated. Cushing repeatedly sent gushing notes to Hoover, and in 1953 an FBI agent said Cushing told him "in these parts if I quote J. Edgar Hoover, it's just like quoting the pope."

The FBI, which had long kept its files secret, has in recent years been obligated by law to release many of the documents it has collected on personalities such as William Faulkner, Mickey Mantle, Frank Sinatra, and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. The files have been released gradually in response to requests by scholars, journalists, and others, and the FBI last week released the Cushing file.

The files contain nothing to dramatically alter history's view of Cushing - in a 1954 memo an FBI agent wrote of Cushing, "There is no derogatory information regarding this individual," and there are no documents in the file suggesting that assessment ever changed.

But the files do shed light on the pervasiveness of the FBI's courtship of prominent Americans, including, apparently, leading clergy, like Cushing.

"The FBI tried to cultivate prominent personalities, and they were obviously cultivating him," said Athan G. Theoharis, a Marquette University historian and the editor of "The FBI: A Comprehensive Reference Guide."

"Clearly this was an attempt to influence public opinion through a respected Catholic leader with a following in the public," Theoharis said.

Theoharis, who was briefed by the Globe on the contents of Cushing's FBI files, said he saw two elements of the files as potentially troublesome.

He said Cushing's acceptance of travel aid from the FBI - agents would greet Cushing at airports and offer to drive him around - raised questions about whether such activities were a proper expenditure of public law enforcement money.

For his part, Cushing was grateful for the aid. After returning from a 1960 trip, he wrote Hoover, who he was addressing as Edgar by that time: "You are one in a million. Your men certainly gave us royal treatment wherever we went."

Theoharis also said Hoover's assistance to Cushing in developing anticommunist themes could be seen as an inappropriate effort to enter the domestic political arena.

"They're a law enforcement agency, and they're supposed to be investigating individuals who violate federal law, not shaping public opinion," Theoharis said.

But Boston College historian Mark I. Gelfand said the relationship between Cushing and Hoover must be seen in historical context. He said communism was particularly hostile to Catholicism, and that many Catholic prelates were jailed in communist countries.

"There's no question that the Catholic Church has always taken a very hard line against communism, because Marxism has denounced religion as a false system of beliefs that has held people in economic bondage," Gelfand said. "Cushing reflected the viewpoint of American Catholics that communism was an enemy which had to be destroyed."

That Hoover would court Cushing made sense, Gelfand said.

"Hoover was a very astute individual, and he recognized that the Catholic Church was an important element in his anticommunist crusade," he said.

The FBI files suggest that Hoover first met Cushing on Sept. 27, 1952, when the FBI director came to Boston to join 1,200 men, including US Representative John F. Kennedy, at a testimonial dinner for the Boston archbishop. Hoover, who was a Presbyterian, had to be briefed on how to address the Catholic hierarchy.

At the Statler Hotel that night, Cushing described Hoover as "a tower of strength, of hope and encouragement to all America as the inspired leader of an organization without spot or stain," and Hoover said of Cushing, "his towering figure has become a rallying point, encouraging his fellow citizens to battle against this heinous foe [of communism]."

Their symbiotic relationship lasted throughout the final two decades of each man's life.

Hoover supplied Cushing with material for speeches, and at one point offered some suggestions for revisions for a catechism on communism that Cushing authored. Cushing, in turn, made his own suggestions, at one point suggesting that a "What You Can Do to Fight Communism" poster being distributed by the FBI be amended to include the words "America - This Nation Under God - Pray. Pray. Pray."

The two men saw each other occasionally when Cushing was in Washington - including in 1959, when Cushing spoke at the FBI Academy graduation - and Cushing was in frequent contact with FBI agents in Boston. The FBI agents in Boston kept Hoover apprised as to Cushing's health, passing along details of Cushing's bouts with asthma, shingles, ulcers, and a kidney tumor that at the time were unavailable to the news media.

Cushing, whose anticommunist ardor was so great that at one point he founded an anticommunist youth group called Cardinal Cushing's Commandos, appeared to brook no criticism of Hoover. In 1958, Cushing sent a telegram to Hoover, warning of a "smear campaign" against the FBI and saying "you are the Minute Men of our day. Our loyalty and fidelity to God and country requires that we stand solidly behind you." A month later, Cushing asked the FBI to provide him with periodic data that he could use to rebut attacks on the FBI.

The files only hint at how the election of Kennedy, one of Cushing's parishioners, as president affected the cardinal's relationship with Hoover, who had poor relations with Kennedy's brother, Robert.

In December 1960, Cushing predicted to an FBI agent that Kennedy would not name his brother attorney general; a month later, Robert F. Kennedy was sworn in. Two months later, Cushing in a note to Hoover, said: "I am absolutely shocked by strange rumors concerning you in the press to the effect that you may not continue in your present office. If that ever happened, I will protest for the one and only time I would speak out."

Hoover sent Cushing a note denying any friction in his relationship with Robert Kennedy .

The files end abruptly on Nov. 6, 1970, with the following memo to Hoover from the special agent in charge of the FBI office in Boston:

"Please delete the name of RICHARD CARDINAL CUSHING from the list of SAC contacts of the Boston office as he is deceased."

"APOCALYPTO": Gibson's next film and the Mayan year 2012

by

Hector Carreon

La Voz de Aztlan

<http://www.aztlan.net/apocalypto.htm>

Los Angeles, Alta California - August 22, 2005 - (ACN) After producing and directing the most successful independent film of all time, "The Passion of the Christ", Mel Gibson is today preparing to film, in Mexico, what promises to be yet another blockbuster titled "Apocalypto". Though the script of the film is being kept "top secret", there is no question what the film will be about. The title "Apocalypto" which in Greek means "an unveiling and a new beginning" and the fact that the film will revolve around the ancient, highly evolved and mysterious Mayan civilization, gives away the theme and content of the film. "Apocalypto" will be filmed entirely in the Mayan language and the cast will consist of local indigenous Mayan actors.

La Voz de Aztlan's article, "The next Pope may be the last", we believe outlines closely what the contents of "Apocalypto" will be. Published on April 4, 2005, the article describes the highly accurate Mayan Calendar and the Mayan Popol Vuh's (Mayan Bible) concept of the "Fin de los Tiempos" (End of Time). The Mayas were a much advanced people. They were superb mathematicians and astronomers who devised one of the most accurate calendars known to man, far more accurate than the modern Gregorian calendar. The Mayan Calendar was devised through extremely accurate observations of the sun, the planets, the stars and the Milky Way galaxy. Mayan astronomers knew, through yet unknown methods, the exact location of the center of the Milky Way and attached great meaning to the birth and death of stars at this center.

The Mayas, in addition, possessed the required knowledge concerning the "Precession of the Equinoxes" that is necessary to create an accurate calendar. There is no question that the Mayas viewed time differently than Western man. Their magnificent pyramids were perfectly aligned to the sun and the one at Chichenitza was constructed in such a way that during the equinoxes, the setting sun casts a shadow of a serpent (Kukulcan/Quetzalcoatl/Jesus Christ) descending on the northern steps of the pyramid. This effect could only be obtained by extremely precise architectural and astronomical measurements.

The Maya's astronomical knowledge was inherited from even an older and more mysterious civilization at Teotihuacan near Mexico City which contains the famous Pyramid of the Sun and of the Moon. The Pyramid of the Sun is perfectly aligned with the star cluster called the Pleiades which the Egyptians also took into account in building their pyramids at Giza. There is a connection between the ancient religious beliefs of the Sumerians, the Egyptians and the Mayas, especially as they relate to the creation of the universe, of the human race and of the future.

The Mayas approached "prophecy" by deeply studying the periodicity of cycles, especially astronomical ones, and their connection (synchronicity) to human events. They were also deeply spiritual and very aware of the role that human consciousness plays in connecting to and obtaining information from nature. They knew that ingesting certain plants, religiously and with reverence, would open the doors of perception and lift the veil that keeps mankind from seeing certain realities and communicating with God. This knowledge must explain how they were able to ascertain what will happen on October 21, 2012. Incredibly, they knew, over a thousand years ago, that on this date there will be an astronomical alignment of our sun and the center of the Milky Way. This impending alignment of the sun at that very point, according to Mayan calculations, culminates at the winter solstice of December 21, 2012. Also, on this date, the tail of the "shadow" serpent descending the northern steps of the pyramid at Chichenitza will be pointing exactly towards the Pleiades star cluster which will be located straight up and over the structure (See pyramid below).

Today, modern astronomers, with advanced technological instruments, know that the center of the Milky Way galaxy contains an immense "black hole" which is constantly giving birth and swallowing stars. The Mayas had a glyph that represented a "black hole" in the center of our galaxy. How they were able to know this, no one knows. The Mayas tied their philosophy entirely on what they observed in the heavens. They thought that the center of our galaxy was a "Cosmic Mother Womb" and that it gave birth to our world. They believed that our world went through cycles of birth, death and rebirth. October 21, 2012, they said will end the cycle and our world will end by fire but will be reborn in a new, different and more evolved form. This will be the beginning of a new sun or the "Sixth Sun" according to the Mexicas (Aztecs).

Mel Gibson's title "Apocalypto", which in Greek means "an unveiling and a new beginning", certainly fits with the Mayan definition of the "Fin de los Tiempos" as described above and which will occur on Friday, December 21, 2012. Filming of "Apocalypto" in Mexico is scheduled to commence in October for a planned release of Summer 2006.

CRAIG-OXLEY - October 21, 2005 02:08 PM (GMT)

October 11, 2005

<http://www.aztlan.net/edzna.htm>

Gibson may film "Apocalypto" at Edzna Mayan site

(ACN) Yesterday film Director/Producer Mel Gibson met with the governor of the State of Campeche, Jorge Carlos Hurtado Valdez, to discuss the filming of his upcoming film "Apocalypto" at the well preserved Mayan ruins at Edzna. The ancient Mayan city of Edzna is approximately 32 miles southeast of Campeche, the state capital, and within the larger Mayan archeological region that includes better known Mayan structures and pyramids like those at Uxmal and Chichen-Itza located in the bordering state of Yucatan. Edzna has many magnificent Mayan structures and it may be ideal for filming since it does not, at present, attract large number of tourists.

Mel Gibson commented to Governor Valdez that he intends to reconstruct replicas of some of the Mayan structures in order to minimize damage to the actual site. Some filming, however, will be done with the actual structures as background. Mel Gibson will be visiting other Mayan sites in Yucatan and Veracruz but he made it known to those attending the dinner meeting with Governor Valdez that he was much impressed with the "majesty" of Edzna.

"Apocalypto" will be filmed utilizing the Mayan language and local Indigenous Mayan actors. More than 1,200 people signed up for the auditions. Among the requirements for appearing in the film are having Mayan Indian features and speaking the Mayan language, Mel Gibson is presently interviewing potential actors on location and plans to release the film in the Summer of 2006.

THE JESUITS – PART IV

“The International Intelligence Community; Communism; & It is NOT the Jews!”

http://www.tacklingthetoughtopics.net/Eber...uits_part4.html

((NOTE: All emphasis throughout this newsletter, unless otherwise noted, is by the editor of “Tackling the Tough Topics (TTT)”. Some issues of my TTT newsletters and my “Examining the Tough Issues (ETI)” newsletters can be seen on these following two Internet web sites:

www.calltodecision.com and www.libertytothecaptives.net .))

((NOTE: This issue of TTT may seriously disturb some folks’ comfort zones. Additionally, this issue is dedicated to good, courageous Roman Catholic Christians who have stood against evil, corruption, and tyranny throughout history! [note] My special thanks go to author Eric Jon Phelps, since many of the quotations used in this newsletter were taken from his excellent book, Vatican Assassins.))

((NOTE: Abbreviations used: CIA = Central Intelligence Agency; JFK = (President) John F. Kennedy; SMOM = the Sovereign Military Order of Malta – i.e., the Knights of Malta. KGB and GRU were Soviet intelligence agencies – the KGB has changed its name to the FSB.))

IMPORTANT INTRODUCTORY QUOTE:

“...if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Black Pope, the Superior General of the Jesuits] are one and the same person.” – James Parton (American historian)

I. INTRODUCTION

Editor of TTT has written three previous newsletters on “The Jesuits”: TTT #44 was entitled “The Jesuits”; TTT #49 was entitled “The Jesuits – Part II”; and TTT #53 was entitled “The Jesuits – Part III – The Knights of Malta”. These three previous TTT newsletters dealt with the history of Jesuit political intrigues, Jesuit involvement in the assassination of heads of state, Jesuit involvement in U.S. intelligence agencies, and with the power and influence of the Jesuit-controlled Knights of Malta. These three previous TTT newsletters contained numerous quotations by famous personages concerning the Jesuit Order, especially TTT #44 and #49.

This issue of TTT will deal primarily with the International Intelligence Community – continuing the theme of TTT #53. As one reads this newsletter, it is most important to remember that the Knights of Malta are headquartered in Rome together with the Jesuit hierarchy. The head of the Jesuits, the Jesuit Superior General (i.e., the Black Pope), is also the head of the Knights of Malta! Author John Daniel, in his excellent book The Grand Design Exposed, makes a very compelling case that the Jesuit Order (i.e., the Society of Jesus) took over Freemasonry centuries ago. If John Daniel is correct (and Editor of TTT believes that he is correct), then the Jesuit Superior General controls not only his own Jesuit Order, but also the powerful Knights of Malta AND the top levels of Freemasonry! Numerous authors have also made a compelling case that the Jesuit Superior General also controls the Papacy (i.e., the “White Pope” and the Roman Curia). When all this is taken into consideration, the Jesuit Superior General (the “Black Pope”) surely rates as one of the most powerful men in the world! ((NOTE: At least two popes were assassinated via the “poison cup” by the Jesuits: Pope Clement XIII in 1769 (for trying to suppress the Jesuit Order) and Pope Clement XIV in 1774 (for having succeeded in suppressing and banning the Jesuit Order in 1773). (Pope Pius VII “restored” the Jesuit Order in 1814. No doubt this occurred after some ‘persuasion’ and in exchange for his release from prison.) Additionally, Pope John Paul I was poisoned to death in 1978 by P2 Masonry and elements within the Roman Curia when he attempted to rein in the Vatican Bank and remove top-level Masons from the Vatican.))

A good portion of this newsletter will be taken from a personal letter of 26th November, 2004 that I sent to a number of broadcast hosts. That letter was just one in a long series of letters I have sent to these broadcast hosts detailing and documenting the Jesuit/Knight of Malta-Masonic connection, and their infiltration of U.S Intelligence and Law Enforcement – as well as their history of fomenting revolutions & wars, and of assassinating heads of State. If you are a Christian, please pray that Almighty God would move the hearts of some of these broadcast hosts to tackle this tough topic “on air” (i.e., on their broadcasts)!

II. THE INTERNATIONAL INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY

Here are a number of great quotations dealing with the Jesuits/Knights of Malta and their involvement in the International Intelligence Community:

((NOTE: I will be adding some of my comments at the end of some of these quotations. Additionally, I will be adding some additional information within those quotations by the means of non-italicized words enclosed in brackets.))

(1) “[Knight of Malta & German] General Reinhard Gehlen, Hitler’s chief intelligence officer against the Soviet Union, had struck a deal with the Americans (called OPERATION SUNRISE)... the principle negotiators were [high-level Freemason] Allen Dulles [whom JFK later fired from being CIA Director] and [Knight of Malta] William Casey of the OSS [Office of Strategic Services – the predecessor to the CIA], Sir William Stephenson for the British, and [German] SS General Karl Wolff... their negotiations enabled Gehlen to bring his entire [Nazi Intelligence] apparatus ‘unpurged and without interruption, into the service of the American superpower’, according to the authors of The General Was a Spy...”

U.S. Army Colonel James Gritz

(2) “[High-level Freemason] Allen Dulles had been instrumental in arranging, with [Knight of Malta, German General Reinhard] Gehlen, for this most unusual conversion of one of Hitler's most sinister generals into an officer in the U.S. Army, but the details of Gehlen's personal 'surrender' and subsequent flight to the U.S. – in General Eisenhower's own VIP aircraft – were arranged by U.S. Army officers... It is important to note the active role of these U.S. Army officials [sic – may have meant 'officers'] in this unprecedented move of Hitler's own intelligence chief, Gehlen, directly into the U.S. Army as an officer by a special act of Congress!"

Colonel L. Fletcher Prouty

((Ed. Comments:

The Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) basically 'absorbed' Nazi Intelligence. Indeed, we find two Knights of Malta as co-founders of the CIA: American Knight of Malta William ("Wild Bill") Donovan, and German General and Knight of Malta Reinhard Gehlen. In fact, at least three of the heads (directors) of the CIA have been Knights of Malta: William Donovan, John McCone, and William Casey. Additionally, James Jesus Angleton, another Knight of Malta, was the long-time chief of Counterintelligence at the CIA, as well as the head of the CIA's 'Vatican Desk' and 'Israel Desk'.

Nazi Gestapo Chief [and Minister of 'Homeland Security'] Heinrich Himmler had a Jesuit priest uncle who just happened to hold a top position in the Nazi SS. Then we find German General Reinhard Gehlen, a Knight of Malta, (and Hitler's chief intelligence officer against the Soviet Union) being helped to escape to America through the efforts of an American Knight of Malta (and future Director, CIA) William Casey and American high-level Freemason Allen Dulles. As we examine the quotations included in this newsletter, we will notice that Knights of Malta and high-level Freemasons keep showing up not only in the CIA and other U.S. intelligence agencies, but also in foreign intelligence agencies!))

(3) "[The book] Unholy Trinity is the story of the Vatican's underground Nazi-smuggling networks [i.e., for smuggling Nazis and Fascists out of Europe], code-named 'OPERATION RATLINE'... It was U.S. intelligence which gave this [code-] name to the Holy See's escape networks... The first half of the book traces the flight of Nazi war criminals to America after World War II. The evidence confirms that a small cabal of Vatican officials coordinated the mass evacuation of Fascist fugitives to Argentina, Australia, Canada, and of course, the United States. Under the direction of Pope Pius XII, Vatican officials, such as Monsignor Giovanni Montini (later Pope Paul VI) supervised one of the greatest obstructions of justice in modern history."

Mark Aarons and John Loftus (authors of the book Unholy Trinity)

(4) “Central Intelligence Agency Director William Casey, also a Knight of Malta...who declined to comment on his association with the order [i.e., the Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM) – i.e., the Knights of Malta]...

In 1948, SMOM [the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, which is headquartered in Rome with the Jesuit Superior General (Black Pope)] gave its highest award of honor, the ‘Gran Croci Al Merito Complacca’, to [Knight of Malta, German General] Reinhard Gehlen, who ran Adolf Hitler’s spy operation against the Soviet Union... ((Ed. Note: Gehlen helped set up the CIA!))

SMOM gave another award, the Croci Al Merito Seconda Classe, in 1946 to [Knight of Malta] James Jesus Angleton, who ran counter-espionage operations in Rome for the Office of Strategic Services (OSS), the forerunner of the CIA. Angleton later went on to head what has been described as the CIA’s ‘Vatican Desk’, but he declines to comment on this activity.”

Martin Lee, the National Catholic Report, an article entitled “Who Are the Knights of Malta?”, October 14, 1983

((Ed. Comment: Why did Knights of Malta William Casey and James Jesus Angleton both decline to comment on their past activities? Oh, I know, it must be because of ‘national security’ – that famous ‘cover’ used primarily to keep a whole lot of truth from the American people, e.g., those responsible for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and for the subsequent cover-up! Oh, James Angleton was the CIA liaison man to the ‘Warren Whitewash’ – oops, I mean the ‘Warren Commission’ that concluded that a single shooter killed JFK!))

(5) “[Stewart] Menzies, [Walter] Schellenburg, [Knight of Malta William ‘Wild Bill’] Donovan, [high-level Freemason Allen] Dulles, [Knight of Malta German General Reinhard] Gehlen, [Knight of Malta William] Casey, [Knight of Malta James Jesus] Angleton, [Knight of Malta ‘Kim’] Philby, and [Knight of Malta General Prince Anton] Turkul all had strong connections with the Vatican’s Jesuits. The British SIS and Soviet KGB/GRU were united in [Knight of Malta ‘Kim’] Philby. The CIA, Mossad, and KGB [Ed. Note: and the Vatican] were united in [Knight of Malta James Jesus] Angleton. ((Ed. Comment: Angleton was the head of the CIA’s counterintelligence, head of the CIA’s ‘Vatican Desk’, and head of the CIA’s ‘Israel Desk’. He was also a close friend until death with British SIS ‘Kim’ Philby – who late in his intelligence career ‘defected’ to the Soviet Union!)) This gallery of traitors...unified the International Intelligence Community merging at...the command post of Jesuit [Superior] General Janssens in Rome.

With this interlock of men [described above] loyal to the [Superior] General of the Jesuits, the 'Cold War' would be waged but kept under CONTROL, that is, from becoming a full-scale war between East and West. The deceived patriots of both sides would be kept in check or eliminated if attempting to truly 'win' the Cold War or expose the truth about the intelligence men at the top [levels]. The murder of CIA Director, William Colby, after forcing [Knight of Malta James Jesus] Angleton to retire [from the CIA], is a classic example of their policy."

Eric Jon Phelps, author of the book Vatican Assassins

((Ed. Comment: May we never forget that two of the primary reasons for the assassination of President John F. Kennedy were his firing of both CIA Director Allen Dulles and top CIA man General Charles Cabell, and his statement about "splintering the CIA into a thousand pieces". Both John and Robert Kennedy were going after the 'Mob' (i.e., organized crime), and JFK was on a vendetta to gut the 'Black Operations' at the CIA – if not shut down the entire agency eventually! And if you do not believe that the CIA and the 'Mob' work together on such things as assassinations (e.g., the assassination of JFK), you need to obtain the special information packet entitled the "Intelligence Special" for $69.95 PPD. It includes three four-tape audio sets {"The FBI", "The JFK Assassination", and "Pearl Harbor"}, plus two books (Deadly Alliance by Ralph Ranalli and Double Cross by Sam & Chuck Giancanna). If you are interested only in the JFK assassination, you need to obtain the special information packet entitled "Kennedy Special" for $39.95 PPD. It includes one four-tape audio set ("The JFK Assassination") and two books (Regicide: The Official... by Gregory Douglas and Kill Zone: A Sniper Looks at Dealey Plaza by Army Lieutenant Colonel Craig Roberts). Either or both sets can be obtained via credit card by calling toll-free 800-544-8927. Or, check or money order payable to "Radio Liberty" can be sent to: Radio Liberty // P.O. Box 969 // Soquel, CA 95073. Editor of TTT most highly recommends the outstanding "informational tools" offered by Radio Liberty!))

(6) "Knight of Malta [General Prince Anton] Turkul...as [Jesuit-trained Joe] Stalin's foremost intelligence officer, using Jesuits like Pere Michel as couriers escorted by the [Soviet] GRU, he broke up the anti-Bolshevik groups after World War I, wrecked [anti-Communist, Russian] General Vlasov's anti-Stalinist army [made up of patriotic Russian soldiers and their families] [at the end of World War II], crushed the Nazis [i.e., the German Army] on the Eastern Front, used the 'Vatican Ratlines' for Soviet intelligence during the Cold War, and, with the help of [high-level Freemason] Allen Dulles' CIA, incited and then murdered thousands...during the Hungarian Revolution of 1956..."

Eric Jon Phelps

((Ed. Comment: Hmmm...Knights of Malta, controlled by the Jesuit Superior General, laced throughout many of the world's most important intelligence agencies (e.g., CIA, British SIS, the Nazi SS intelligence, the Soviet KGB – plus helping to train the Israeli Mossad. And, as already mentioned, three Knights of Malta (Donovan, McCone, and Casey) were Directors of the CIA; one Knight of Malta (Cartha DeLoach) was Assistant Director of the FBI; plus one Knight of Malta (James Angleton) was the long-time Chief of CIA Counterintelligence! Just who is running the top intelligence agencies in the world? Hint: It is NOT 'the Jews'!))

(7) “The [German General Reinhard] Gehlen Org, the German Intelligence Agency run by [Knight of Malta] Reinhard Gehlen, was even more powerful than the Merk net. The Org superseded even the Nazi SS... In fact, Gehlen's organization is largely credited for giving rise to the CIA...to shield Gehlen and the entire German Intelligence network from harm's way. Gehlen was a ranking official in the Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM), which maintained inconceivable financial support and political influence... Somehow I wasn't surprised to learn that financial motives...were at the heart of the SMOM and the Nazi-American alliance... Soon after the war, OSS [i.e., Office of Strategic Services – the forerunner to the CIA] found the extensive documentation of a meeting...between representatives of the [Nazi] SS...and firms like...I.G. Farben... [The] world's masses knew nothing about the partnership, formed between John D. Rockefeller's Standard Oil Company, Germany's I.G. Farben, and Hitler's Third Reich. The 'pirates of Wall Street', Allen and John Foster Dulles, of the law firm Sullivan & Cromwell, had secretly negotiated the alliance. It was not known to allied airmen, flying bombing missions over Germany, why the I.G. Farben plants, where Hitler's munitions were made, were exempted from attack. Likewise, when the I.G. Farben – Rockefeller Consortium used concentration camp victims as slaves to build and run their factories it never made the news... Nor was it heralded that this same TEAM patented and sold the gas that the Nazis used in the concentration camps to send millions to their graves. Recent headlines have asked to know where the Nazi gold went. Historians only recently recorded that the Rockefeller's Chase Bank [manned by a high Knight of Malta, Joseph J. Larkin] was among the largest recipients...”

Dr. Leonard Horowitz, author of the book Emerging Viruses: AIDS and Ebola

III. COMMUNISM

Here are several quotations with my comments:

“[Wherever] a totalitarian movement erupts, whether Communist or Nazi [Fascist], a Jesuit can be found in the role of ‘adviser’ or leader; in Cuba [it was] [Jesuit-trained] Castro’s ‘Father’ Armando Llorente...”

Emanuel M. Josephson (American physician and historian)

((Ed. Comment: Hmm...Fidel Castro was Jesuit-trained; Soviet dictator Josef Stalin was Jesuit-trained; Cardinal Agagianian (Stalin’s friend) was Jesuit-trained (both of them were trained at the Jesuit Seminary in Tiflis, [Soviet] Georgia; and Adam Weishaupt, the founder of the modern version of the Illuminati, was Jesuit-trained. The above men are just a small sampling of the monstrous dictators and thugs trained by the Jesuits!))

“The principles of socialism or communism...governed all the [Jesuit-run] Reductions [in Paraguay].”

R. W. Thompson, Ex-Secretary, American Navy

“I [Roman Catholic Bishop Palafox] found almost all the wealth...and all the treasures of the Province of America in the hands of the Jesuits... ((Ed. Comment: I assume the Bishop is talking specifically about SOUTH America.))

All this property and all these considerable revenues which might make a sovereign powerful, serve no other purpose than to maintain ten [Jesuit] colleges... To this may be added the extraordinary skill with which they [the Jesuits] make use of and increase their super-abundant wealth. They maintain public warehouses, cattle fairs, butcher-stalls, and shops... They lend out their money for usury, and thus cause the greatest loss and injury to others.”

Roman Catholic Bishop Palafox (from a letter of his in 1647)

((Ed. Comment: The Jesuits RAPED large areas of South America, with Paraguay (with its Reductions) being a well-documented and ‘classic example’ of ‘communism in action’ (1650-1750). These Jesuits maintained a large fleet of ‘black ships’ to export their stolen wealth. No wonder a number of popes (such as Clement XIII and Clement

XIV) tried to rein in these 'commercial bandits & international banksters' because of their 'organized-crime-type' activities! (And also because the Jesuits had a nasty habit of assassinating popes, kings, presidents, and, of course, some of those who dared to expose their political intrigues.))

((Another Ed. Comment: Isn't interesting that on December 4, 2004 I saw a portion of a movie entitled "The Mission", whose advertising statement was: "Jesuits fight to keep Indians from enslavement". While I am sure that there were (and still are) some decent & good Jesuits at the lower levels of the Jesuit Order, the top levels have been made up of, for the most part, very nasty characters who have never hesitated to murder heads of State, or even "White Popes". The facts are that the Jesuits ran Communist-style communes in Paraguay (1650-1750) where they USED the native Indians as "slave labor" to enrich themselves and their masters!))

IV. IT'S NOT THE JEWS!

"Actually, nobody has a right to be more angry at the Rothschild clique than their fellow Jews. The Warburgs, part of the Rothschild empire, helped finance Adolph Hitler. There were few if any Rothschilds or Warburgs in Nazi prison camps! They sat out the war in luxurious hotels in Paris or emigrated to the United States or England. As a group, Jews have suffered most at the hands of these power seekers. A Rothschild has much more in common with a Rockefeller than he does with a [Jewish] tailor from Budapest or the Bronx."

Gary Allen (1971; page 40 of his book None Dare Call It Conspiracy

((Ed. Comments: The Jesuits have used 'the Jews' as a 'smokescreen' – as a 'cover' for their own nasty activities throughout the centuries. The Jesuit Order (i.e., The Society of Jesus – the Company, led by the Jesuit Superior General) has frequently put some high-profile Jews in their 'front groups' (such as occurred during the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia) while they remained hidden "behind the scenes". As it was during the Bolshevik Revolution (where a large number of the first Politburo members were Jews, and a large number of gulag camp commandants were Jews), so it now appears in modern America (where a significant number of the 'Neo-Conservatives' in and around the U.S. government are Jews)! Yet, who is pulling the 'strings' from "behind the scenes"?)

Please consider again the quote by Emanuel M. Josephson seen earlier in this newsletter: “[Wherever] a totalitarian movement erupts, whether Communist or Nazi [Fascist], a Jesuit can be found in the role of ‘adviser’ or leader; in Cuba [it was] [Jesuit-trained] Castro’s ‘Father’ Armando Llorente...”

Even Napoleon Bonaparte had a Jesuit adviser, Abbe Emmanuel Joseph Sieyes. And as mentioned earlier, both Fidel Castro and Soviet dictator Joe Stalin were Jesuit-trained!

No, it is NOT ‘the Jews’! The great threat to religious liberty and popular, representative government is NOT the Jews! This great threat comes from secret societies, of which the Jesuit Order (with its Knights of Malta, and with its control of the top levels of Freemasonry) is the most powerful in the world. All one has to do is examine all the Knights of Malta spread all over the International Intelligence Community! And even a cursory review of history ought to convince anyone that it is NOT ‘the Jews’ who are running the world, but rather the men who work in the shadows and “behind the scenes” – and who use Jews “for cover” whenever and wherever it is convenient to do so!

Here’s another very telling quotation:

“For the Vatican [Ed. Comment: Even then controlled by the Black Pope and his Jesuit Order] condemned the Declaration of Independence as ‘wickedness’...and called the Constitution of the United States ‘a Satanic document’.” – Avro Manhattan (author; from his book The Dollar and the Vatican)

V. SUMMARY

Our very freedoms – our religious liberty – the survival of our Republic – are all at stake!

America is facing the greatest danger she has ever faced since the founding of this country! Our only hope is that enough Americans will wake up to the depth of this grave threat, get informed, and then begin informing others as quickly as possible!

We must all get out of “denial”, and admit to ourselves that evil men have taken over the highest levels of our government, our two political parties, our banking system, our education system, our intelligence and federal law enforcement agencies, and, yes, even the mainline Christian denominations in America. They have done all this in slow increments – always working “behind the scenes”, always working in the shadows – always using “other folks” (such as ‘the Jews’) for cover! They have taken over our institutions because they use a simple technique: they infiltrate their lackeys into key governmental positions (such as in the CIA, FBI, and U.S. State Department), and then they surround these lackeys with vicious, monstrous men without souls who are ever willing to carry out assassinations of courageous men and women who stand in their way (e.g., John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, and Pope John Paul I).

I have no doubt put my own life in greater danger by writing these last two TTT newsletters on the Jesuits and their Knights of Malta – and their infiltration of U.S. Intelligence and Law Enforcement. All I can do is hope that more people will get involved, get informed, and then inform others before it is too late!

VI. WHAT CAN WE DO?

1. We must get informed. Here are some great “informational tools” that this editor of TTT most highly recommends you obtain:

a.) One or both of the special information packets described earlier in this letter (the “Intelligence Special” and “Kennedy Special”) – see bottom of page 4 & top of page 5.

b.) The book Rome’s Responsibility for the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln by U.S. Brigadier General Thomas M. Harris; 64 pages; 1897; provides strong evidence of Jesuit involvement in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln; $9.95 postpaid. To order, send check or money order payable to “The Conversion Center, Inc.” to: The Conversion Center // P.O. Box 31688 // Raleigh, NC 27622-1688.

c.) The book The Murder of John Paul I by Vance Ferrell; 55 pages; 1999; provides very strong evidence that Pope John Paul I was murdered by his Masonic enemies inside the Vatican; $6.50 postpaid. To order, send check or money order payable to "Harvestime Books" to: Harvestime Books // Box 300 // Altamont, TN 37301; or for credit card orders, call 931-692-2777.

d.) The book The Grand Design Exposed by John Daniel; 412 pages; paperback; 1999; details the Jesuit takeover of Freemasonry; $20 postpaid. To order, send check or money order payable to "American Sentry Books" to: American Sentry Books // P.O. Box 14 // Crawley, WV 24931.

((If you have any questions on bulk orders, please call phone number 304-392-6155.))

e.) The two books, The Secret Terrorists and The Enemy Unmasked, by Bill Hughes. These two paperback books deal with Jesuit assassination of U.S. presidents and other Jesuit intrigues. Both books can be obtained for $9 postpaid. Send check or money order payable to "Truth Triumphant" to: Truth Triumphant // P.O. Box 1417 // Eustis, FL 32727-1417.

f.) The book Vatican Assassins by Eric Jon Phelps; paperback; 694 pages. ((This book is currently out-of-print. If you can find a "used" copy somewhere, I most highly recommend that you get it. It is a tremendous expose of the Jesuit Order, and includes a lengthy chapter on the JFK assassination.)) g.) Alex Jones' three best videos (in my opinion): "9-11: The Road to Tyranny"; "The Masters of Terror"; and "Police State 3: Total Enslavement". To order, call toll-free 888-253-3139; or visit their great web site www.infowars.com and order "on line".

2. Visit some great web sites for news that the establishment-controlled mainstream media often keeps from the American people (or "spins" it before it gets to the American people). Here are two of the most informative ones: www.infowars.com and www.prisonplanet.com .

3. If you think this TTT newsletter contains important information that Americans need to know, please make copies of it and give them away free-of-charge to as many folks as you possibly can.

4. Possibly one of the readers of this newsletter could start and/or lead a movement to break the power of secret societies in the USA! Wouldn't it be great if the U.S. Congress would pass a law "outlawing secret societies"? ((Note: Those at the lower levels of secret societies – such as low- level Masons and Jesuits – have no idea of the evil that goes on at the top levels of their societies.)) Such a law should demand that all in secret societies come forward, renounce their ties to the societies and the horrible blood oaths some of them take, and reveal all they know (especially the individuals at the higher and "professed" levels). If they would refuse to do so, then they would be expelled from this Republic. America used to be the "land of the free and the home of the brave". To return America to her former moral, healthy state, we absolutely must rid ourselves of all secret and semi-secret societies. There should be no place in this country for "dual loyalties", blood oaths, and organizations that operate in the shadows and never have this Republic's best interests at heart! We all need to forget the Republican vs. Democrat, Black vs. White, Protestant vs. Catholic, Right vs. Left, etc., stuff! We all need to be good Americans, and if we claim to follow Christ, then good Christians. Our loyalty must be to the U.S. Constitution – and if we are Christians, to the Lord Jesus Christ. Any other loyalty will contribute to the already planned destruction of this Republic by the globalist rich & power elite!

Let's close with a great verse from the Holy Bible:

"Who will rise up for me against the evildoers, or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?" (Psalm 94:16)

'Passion of the Christ': Jesuit Theater of Cruelty
by URI DOWBENKO

What do you get when you cross Artaud's Theater of Cruelty with Jesuit Theater?

You could call it Mel Gibson's Crucifiction, a/k/a 'The Passion of the Christ.'

Recovering Catholics beware. You know you're in trouble when Mel Gibson has to get a Parkinson's addled Pope John Paul II to officially endorse his movie.

The programming you have tried to escape is not finished with you yet.

Mel Gibson's movie, 'The Passion of the Christ,' described as a 'vivid depiction of the last 12 hours of Jesus Christ's life,' has the trademark of religious pornography for Christians -- just as 'Schindler's List' was characterized as "emotional pornography for Jews."

by URI DOWBENKO

It is a movie, and the people in the film are not actively being abused. They are acting out a drama to enable the audience to exercise a portion of its ego and call this exercise 'compassion.'"

So it is with Gibson's so-called Passion, defined as the "agony and suffering of Jesus during the Crucifixion."

Like Quentin Tarantino's 'Kill Bill,' Gibson could have called his religious horror movie 'Kill Jesus.' Watch him suffer. Watch him die. Buy the crucifixion nail pendant. The merchandising angle can't be beat. Does the Vatican get its usual percentage?

Gibson's model must have been Antonin Artaud, the French director credited with the so-called Theater of Cruelty. According to the Columbia Encyclopedia, Artaud "related theater to the plague because both destroy the veneer of civilization, revealing the ugly realities beneath and returning humanity to a primitive state, in which it lacks morality and reason. The aim of the 'theater of cruelty' was to disturb the audience and reveal the forces of nature. To achieve this end he emphasized the nonverbal aspects of theater such as color and movement and stressed the importance of violence as a theatrical device." Just like Mel's so-called Passion.

Another description of the concept -- "Artaud envisioned new forms of cinema and theater, as the Theater of Cruelty, where representation would be shattered and spoken language set aside in a convulsive, though carefully orchestrated act." Aramaic, anyone?

Like any horror flick, the Passion uses state of the art makeup and special effects to create a fetishistic violence that belies any "Christian" pretenses. Jesus's skin is endlessly flayed. His blood spurts. The scourging goes on forever. It really is the agony and the ecstasy -- especially if you like S&M. This movie is literally Sadism and Masochism for Christians.

The question remains -- is this movie another "theatrical mission" by the Jesuits? Mel Gibson has not publicized his connections with the sub rosa societies known as Opus Dei and the Jesuits.

"'The Passion' has all the earmarks of a Jesuit classical 'spiritual exercise,' in which the Jesuits subject the imagination of the supplicant with all the pain and suffering of the Christ," says Tupper Saussy, author of Rulers of Evil (www.tuppersaussy.com).

Designed by Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the Jesuits, 'The 'Spiritual Exercises,'" explains Saussy, was an intensive program of psychological indoctrination designed to align individual thought with papal authority."

How strong was this so-called "psychological indoctrination"? Jesuit obedience "alters the perception of reality according to the superiors' dictates," writes Saussy. 'Section 365.13 declares -- 'We must hold fast to the following principles: 'What seems to me white, I will believe black if the hierarchical Church so defines.' Francis Xavier would later describe this quality of submission in a vow that unintentionally summarized the Jesuit mission: 'I would not even believe in the Gospels were the Holy Church to forbid it.'

In his book "Rulers of Evil," which details the sinister history of the Jesuits, Saussy writes, 'Embedded in the ratio studiorum [Jesuit educational process] were the elements of entertainment, of dramatic production - composition, rhetoric and eloquence. These courses interlinked with the Spiritual Exercises to intensify the experientiality of Catholic doctrine over Scripture and Protestantism. They resulted in a genre of spectacular plays that won distinction as 'Jesuit theatre.'

Historically Jesuits have been known for their deceptions and political-religious conspiracies. In fact Webster's dictionary defines "Jesuitry" as "principles or practices ascribed to the Jesuits as the practice of mental reservation, casuistry and equivocation."

It should also be noted that President Bill Clinton was educated at the foremost Jesuit training center, Georgetown University. According to Saussy, Clinton's biographer David Maraniss said "the President owed his formidable skills as a criminal defendant to 'his training in casuistry at Georgetown University.'" Casuistry is equivocal to rationalization, "to cause something to seem reasonable, to provide plausible but untrue reasons for conduct."

Under the guidance of the Black Pope (the Jesuit Superior General), the first western translation of Sun Tzu's Art of War was published in 1772 as The Thirteen Articles Concerning Military Art. Saussy's position is that anyone knowing the Jesuit "mission," and knowing the nature of Jesuit obedience could observe world events which followed with an increased understanding of geo-political strategy.

Did "The Art of War," a military-political classic, become the de facto Jesuit handbook for conquering the world?

The Church Militant (the Roman Catholic Church) has been rocked by scandals of moral, ethical and spiritual depravity for two thousand years, yet it has remained seemingly impervious to judgment - even as sexual predators and pedophiles have been protected by Church hierarchy for generations. The material wealth of these spiritual predators has also risen beyond human calculation. The old Spanish proverb, "Don dinero, es muy catolico" says it all. So is Mel.

Tampering with Belief Systems (BS) is, of course, quite dangerous, and Mel Gibson does nothing but reinforce religious indoctrination. If 'The Passion of the Christ' is simply an exercise of S&M for Christians, watching a pretend Jesus suffering a pretended agony is about as twisted as you can get.

This brings up certain questions about Mel Gibson's agenda -- besides making a ton of money on foolish Gallatians, I mean, Christians.

Did Mel Gibson ever read Malachi Martin's roman a clef called Windswept House in which the Roman Catholic Church is formally dedicated to Satan in a ceremonial ritual? [An interview with the late Jesuit operative Malachi Martin is included in "Bushwhacked: Inside Stories of True Conspiracy" by Uri Dowbenko.]

Does Mel Gibson believe he will win converts for the Roman Church by showing the torture of Jesus by those he called "the synagogue of Satan"? (The synagogue of Satan is not to be confused with the synagogue of the Jews.)

And then even the mind control implications of the movie become undeniable. It should be noted that the Roman Catholic Church does not celebrate the victory of Christ in the Ascension. They do not show the apotheosis of Christ, rising into another dimension, into the clouds and out of sight. They chose to portray the suffering man hung on a cross, bleeding and broken, an icon of guilt and shame -- and a stark warning to anyone who would buck the Vatican's iron-fisted control of the spiritual evolution of humanity on Earth.

The crucifix -- an image of a tortured man, strung up on a cross, head hung down -- has become the most powerful symbol of religious and political mind control ever conceived by the dark forces that prey upon humanity.

The Vatican has outlawed and ignored the teachings of Christ on karma and reincarnation because it would reveal the origins of those who have hijacked the spiritual heritage of the the souls of Light on earth.

According to the New Testament, Jesus taught about the metaphysical reality of reincarnation, as in the parable of the man who was blind from birth. The disciples asked him - was it the blind man's sin or was it the sin of his parents that he was born without vision? This was an implicit understanding of the principles of karma and reincarnation. In other words, whose karma was it that the man was blind? Jesus replied that it was neither. The man chose to be blind from birth in order for Jesus to heal him to the glory of God, when they would meet later in that time and space.

Instead the Roman Church is focused on the horror story. Lifetime after lifetime, the agony and suffering of the crucifixion has been used to indoctrinate people into believing the lie that we are sinners -- and not Sons and Daughters of God.

This attack on the spirituality of men and women is unceasing, as they are born again and again into the spiritual bondage of the Roman Church -- and other pretenders of Christianity (or Churchianity).

Of course, Mel Gibson has drawn the line. He's not playing Jesus in 'The Passion of the Christ.' He's just directing the Crucifixion. What does that tell you?

At any rate "The Passion" is a Jesuitical masterpiece. By definition, this movie is cunning, deceitful and prevaricating.

That's why you don't have to see it.

Pax vobiscum.

CHAPTER 8

PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

New evidence has recently been discovered relevant to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy that will show who actually planned and carried out his murder. This new evidence will show that the Warren Commission report, which is the government's final word on the assassination, is a complete cover-up of what actually took place. The following analysis of the assassination will include several events and situations that might not appear to be related to this murder, but will show the extensive intrigue behind it.

While riding in an open motorcade, President Kennedy was shot in Dealy Plaza on Friday, Nov. 22, 1963 at 12:30 p.m. The crowds were cheering. There was a great scene of rejoicing as the president of the United States made his way through downtown Dallas. It seemed as if everyone was smiling in those waving thousands. But presently, shots rang out, and President Kennedy, a short while later, lay dead at the Parkland Memorial Hospital.

This case has baffled people for the last four decades, and is one of the ten most unsolved mysteries of the last one hundred years. The Warren Commission was set up to investigate the assassination, and they concluded that a lone gunman, Lee Harvey Oswald, did it. They claimed that Oswald shot President Kennedy from the Dallas Book Depository building behind his car. But there is rather overwhelming evidence now that disproves the Warren Commission report and points to a massive cover-up and conspiracy behind the assassination. Two days after President Kennedy's death Jack Ruby murdered Oswald. Why? Was it to keep him from talking?

There were basically two main reasons why Kennedy was assassinated. These reasons are involved with the Vietnam War, and the Federal Reserve Bank.

President Kennedy sent two aides to Vietnam, McNamara and Taylor, who gathered intelligence that convinced him that the United States needed to withdraw from Vietnam. Their memo to the president was entitled, Report of McNamara-Taylor Mission to South Vietnam.

With this report in hand, President Kennedy had what he wanted. It contained the essence of decisions he had to make. He had to get re-elected to finish programs set in motion during his first term; he had to get Americans out of Vietnam. — Col. L. Fletcher Prouty, JFK: The CIA, Vietnam, and The Plot to Assassinate John F. Kennedy, Carol Publishing Group, p. 264.

Fletcher Prouty tells us that,

On Nov. 22, 1963, the government of the United States was taken over by the superpower group that wanted an escalation of the warfare in Indochina, and a continuing military buildup for generations to come. — Ibid. p. 264.

As President Kennedy began to de-escalate American involvement in Southeast Asia, this superpower group was planning his murder. Following Kennedy's assassination, they made sure that America would remain in Vietnam for a long time.

Who was this group? Who wanted us in South Vietnam and why? When we answer these questions, the people behind the assassination of JFK will be known.

Avro Manhattan was a British journalist who worked for many years for the British Broadcasting Company. He has written at least 15 books on the role of the Roman Catholic Church in world affairs. In his book, Vietnam: Why Did We Go?, he tells us,

The political and military origin of the war of Vietnam has been described with millions of written and spoken words. Yet, nothing has been said about one of the most significant forces which contributed to its promotion, namely, the role played by religion, which in this case, means the part played by the Catholic Church, and by her diplomatic counterpart, the Vatican. Their active participation is not mere speculation. It is an historical fact as concrete as the presence of the U.S., or the massive guerilla resistance of Asian communism. The activities of the last two have been scrutinized by thousands of books, but the former has never been assessed, not even in a summarized form. The Catholic Church must be considered as a main promoter in the origin, escalation and prosecution of the Vietnamese conflict. From the very beginning this religious motivation helped set in motion the avalanche that was to cause endless agonies in the Asiatic and American continents.

The price paid was immense: thousands of billions of dollars; the mass dislocation of entire populations; political anarchy; military devastation on an unprecedented scale; the disgrace upon the civilized world; the loss of thousands upon thousands of young Asian and American lives. Last but not least, the wounding, mutilation, and death of hundreds of thousands of men, women, and children. The tragedy of Vietnam will go down in history as one of the most pernicious deeds of the contemporary alliance between politics and organized religion.

Factors of a political, ideological, economic, and military nature played no mean role in the unfolding of the war, but the religion of the Catholic Church was one of its main instigators. From the beginning her role has been minimized when not obliterated altogether. Concrete facts however, cannot be wiped away so easily, and it is these which we shall now scrutinize, even if briefly. — Avro Manhattan, Vietnam: Why Did We Go?, Chick Publications, 1984, p. 13, emphasis added.

The publisher's foreword to this book, page 3, states:

Avro Manhattan, world authority on Vatican politics, has blown the cover on the real reason our boys suffered and died in Vietnam. He traces their death to the Vatican's passionate desire to make Asia Roman Catholic. Vatican agents hatched and plotted the Vietnam War. American soldiers were serving the Vatican in their desperate struggle to survive the jungles, the hell of warfare, pain, death and destruction. It was all engineered by...her Jesuits. — Ibid. p. 3, emphasis added.

Many, especially Catholics, may take exception to the facts stated in the previous quotes, but we must present the facts as they are and as they happened. When this book talks about the Catholic Church, it is not speaking of the faithful church members who know nothing about things like this. It is speaking of the rulers of the Vatican and their Order of the Jesuits.

According to Avro Manhattan, the war in Vietnam was fought because the Vatican wanted to create a power base in Southeast Asia from which to take over all of Southeast Asia and then all of Asia. The following quotes are from this same book.

Ho Chi Minh began before World War Two to maneuver for a communist Vietnam. He received help from the U.S. against the Japanese but used that aid to consolidate his hold on the highlands of Tonkin. In August, 1945 he marched into Hanoi and set up the provisional government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam. A master strategist, he cooperated in the transplanting of nearly a million Catholic North Vietnamese into the South...After the election of Pope John the 23rd in 1958 and the turn of the Vatican from the Cold War toward cooperation with Marxism, Ho Chi Minh made a secret deal with Pope John which eventually led to full control of the country by the North. — Ibid. p. 177.

President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam was a practicing Catholic who ruled South Vietnam with an iron fist. He was a genuine believer in the evil of Communism and the uniqueness of the Catholic Church. He had originally been planted in the presidency by Cardinal Spellman and Pope Pius the 12th. He transformed the presidency into a virtual Catholic dictatorship, ruthlessly crushing his religious and political opponents. Many Buddhist monks committed suicide by fire, burning themselves alive in protest against his religious persecutions. His discriminatory persecution of non-Catholics, particularly Buddhists, caused the disruption of the government and mass desertions in the army. This eventually led to U.S. military intervention in South Vietnam.

In this terrorization he was aided by his two Catholic brothers, the Chief of the Secret Police and the Archbishop of Hue. — Ibid. p. 56, (emphasis added).

Cardinal Francis Spellman, the archbishop of New York, was the key man that brought America into the conflict.

He was active in persuading the U.S. to select Diem and support him as president of South Vietnam. He was made Vicar General of the U.S. Armed Forces and called the GIs the 'Soldiers of Christ' [meaning soldiers for the Catholic Church] in his frequent visits to the Vietnam war front. — Ibid. p. 71.

The Vatican played both sides against each other in this Vietnamese Civil War. They controlled Diem in the South while advising and making secret deals with Ho Chi Minh in the North. Thus, however the war turned out, the Vatican would triumph and have control in Vietnam. President Kennedy's attempt to halt the bloodbath incurred the undying wrath of the instigators of the war — the Jesuits of the papacy.

President Kennedy began to de-escalate America's involvement in Vietnam shortly before his death. The day after his brutal murder, the following occurred:

At 8:30 a.m., Saturday, the 23rd of November, 1963, the limousine carrying CIA director John McCone pulled into the White House grounds.... He was also there to transact one piece of business prior to becoming involved in all the details entailed in a presidential transition — the signing of National Security Memorandum 278, a classified document which immediately reversed John Kennedy's decision to de-escalate the war in Vietnam. The effect of Memorandum 278 would give the Central Intelligence Agency carte blanche to proceed with a full-scale war in the Far East.... In effect, as of November 23, 1963, the Far East would replace Cuba as the thorn in America's side. It would also create a whole new source of narcotics for the Mafia's worldwide markets. — Robert Morrow, First Hand Knowledge, Shapolsky Publishers, p. 249.

The day after Kennedy was killed, the decision to stop America's involvement in Vietnam was reversed and the Vatican's program continued.

Morrow's statement also revealed another reason for the Jesuits wanting to continue the war; they would make billions of dollars in the international drug trade. For the last four centuries, the Jesuits had been involved in the Far East drug trade and they certainly did not want to lose this opportunity, even if it meant the lives of millions of people!

Since the original Jesuit mission had established itself in Beijing in 1601, the Society of Jesus [the Jesuits] had held the key to the Far East Trade — including the drug trade. — assorted authors, Dope, Inc.: The Book that Drove Kissenger Crazy, Executive Intelligence Review, p. 117, (emphasis added).

The Jesuit controlled politicians in Washington wanted to continue the war in Vietnam. They wanted to create a Catholic power in Southeast Asia. They wanted to maintain their control of the international drug market that they had held for 400 years in the Far East. When President Kennedy stood in their way, he had to be removed. The Jesuits had John Kennedy assassinated.

The second reason for Kennedy's assassination was his intention to eliminate the Federal Reserve. Colonel James Gritz explains,

When Kennedy called for a return of America's currency to the gold standard, and the dismantling of the Federal Reserve System — he actually minted non-debt money that does not bear the mark of the Federal Reserve; when he dared to actually exercise the leadership authority granted to him by the U.S. Constitution...Kennedy prepared his own death warrant. It was time for him to go. — Colonel James Gritz, Called to Serve: Profiles in Conspiracy from John F. Kennedy to George Bush, Lazarus Publishing, pp 511, 512.

President Kennedy was attempting to dismantle the Federal Reserve System, which is the central bank of the United States, a creation of the Jesuits.

The Constitution of the United States gives to Congress the power to coin money. If the U. S. Congress coined its own money as the Constitution directs, it would not have to pay the hundreds of billions of dollars of interest that it now pays each year to the bankers for the national debt, for money that came out of nothing This is why Kennedy began to issue U.S. government money that was free of debt to replace the Federal Reserve dollars we have been using.

We have seen in previous chapters who was responsible for the creation of the Federal Reserve Bank, and the unconstitutional operation of this bank that steals money from U. S. citizens. The Jesuits, if you will remember from chapter two, tried to assassinate President Andrew Jackson for discontinuing the central bank. They unfortunately succeeded in assassinating Kennedy for trying to do the same thing. The Jesuits uses the wealth created by the Federal Reserve to finance their murderous deeds.

John Kennedy incurred the deadly wrath of the Jesuits for daring to act as the President and not as their puppet.

But you say, "Wait a minute. Kennedy was a Roman Catholic. He was the only Catholic president we ever had." That is exactly right. Even though Kennedy was Catholic, he put the welfare of the United States before the desires of the papacy. He was not a Jesuit.

Here is a very interesting section from the secret instructions of the Jesuit Order, written by their founder, Ignatius Loyola.

Finally, let all with such artfulness gain the ascendance over princes, noblemen and the magistrates of every place that they may be ready at our beck and call, even to sacrifice their nearest relatives and most intimate friends when we say it is for our interest and our advantage. — W. C. Brownlee, Secret Instructions of the Jesuits, American and Foreign Christian Union, p. 47.

We see here that if the Jesuit Order says that a person is to die, it doesn't matter if it is your best friend, if it is your father or your brother; they are to be killed. What a dastardly, evil, and wicked system the Jesuit Order of the Roman Catholic Church is.

Do you think that the Catholic Church isn't that powerful? Do you think this makes them out to be too strong? Avro Manhattan tells us:

Cardinal Francis Spellman, of New York , was the military vicar of the American Armed Forces in Vietnam. He was also the unofficial link between the pope and John Foster Dulles, the U.S. Secretary of State and therefore the Secretary's brother, Alan, who was the head of the CIA. — Avro Manhattan, Murder in the Vatican, Ozark Books, pp. 35, 36.

Thus, through Cardinal Francis Spellman, the Roman Catholic Church and the Jesuits had access to and control over John Foster Dulles, the Secretary of State, and John Foster Dulles' brother, Alan, who was the head of the Central Intelligence Agency. Those two departments, along with the FBI, were in the hands of Cardinal Francis Spellman, the head Cardinal of the Catholic Church in New York.

The Catholic Church in the USA, financially can stand up to all the giant trusts of America. Politically, she looms ever larger in the White House, in the Senate and in the Congress. She is a force in the Pentagon, a secret agent in the FBI and the most subtly intangible prime mover of the S.S. wheel within a wheel; the Central Intelligence Agency. — Ibid. p. 271.

Jean Hill was also a witness to the Kennedy murder. In her book, entitled JFK: The Last Dissenting Witness, she states that during a conversation her friend, J.B., who was one of the policeman in the motorcade that was with Kennedy, told her, “Well, while Kennedy was busy shaking hands with all the well wishers at the airport, Johnson’s Secret Service people came over to the motorcycle cops and gave us a bunch of instructions. The darnedest thing was they told us the parade route through Dealy Plaza was being changed.” “Changed? How,” Jean Hill asks. “It was originally supposed to go straight down Main Street.” J.B. said, “but they said for us to disregard that. Instead we were told to make the little jog on Houston and cut over to Elm.” Jean felt her mouth drop open. “If you’d stayed on Main Street, Kennedy might’ve been completely out of range of whoever was shooting at him. My ‘shooter’ behind the wooden fence definitely wouldn’t have had much chance to hit him from there.” J.B. stared at her with a straight face. “Maybe that’s why they changed the route,” he said bluntly. “But that’s not all. They also ordered us into the craziest escort formation I’ve ever seen. Ordinarily, you bracket the car with four motorcycles, one on each fender. But this time they told the four of us assigned to the president’s car there’d be no forward escorts. We were to stay well to the back and not let ourselves get ahead of the car’s rear wheels under any circumstances. I’d never heard of a formation like that much less ridden in one, but they said they wanted to let the crowds have an ‘unrestricted view’ of the president. Well, I guess somebody got an unrestricted view of him all right.” — Jean Hill, JFK: The Last Dissenting Witness, Pelican Publishing, p. 113.

So, the motorcade route through Dallas was changed, and the reason given was so that the people would have an excellent view of the president of the United States. The Jesuit assassins sure did!

Other peculiar things happened too. Lyndon Johnson, the vice president of the United States, was apparently having a real problem. Continuing with Jean Hill’s conversation with her friend in the motorcade,

“What are you talking about?” Jean asked innocently. “I don’t understand.” “My friends in the motorcade say he started ducking down in the car a good 30 or 40 seconds before the first shots were fired. I’d say that’s just a little peculiar wouldn’t you?” “Oh, come on, J.B.,” Jean Hill said, thinking he had to be joking. “They obviously weren’t serious, were they?” “As far as I know they were dead serious.” J.B. said. “One of them told Maguire that he saw Johnson duck down even before the car turned onto Houston Street, and he sure as _____ wasn’t laughing when he said it.” “Well, maybe Johnson just dropped something on the floor and bent over to pick it up. I mean there can be a simple explanation.” “Maybe so.” J.B. said. “I don’t claim to know what his reasons were but this guy said it sure looked like he was expecting bullets to be flying. When I heard it, it made me start wondering about a whole lot of other stuff too.” — Ibid. pp. 114-116.

Lyndon Johnson was acting as if he knew bullets would soon be flying, ducking down repeatedly before the shots went off.

Texas law prohibits people that die in the state of Texas from being removed without an autopsy. Leading doctors at Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas were held at gunpoint as the body of John F. Kennedy was removed from that hospital without an autopsy. Why? There was overwhelming evidence that there was more than one bullet that killed JFK. There was overwhelming evidence that the Warren Commission report was nothing but lies. There were many bullets that the doctors would have found that would have shattered the idea that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone gunman. That is why an autopsy was not allowed in Texas. That is why Kennedy’s body was shipped to Washington D.C. where a federal autopsy could be made, where they could fabricate the evidence to support the lies of the Warren commission. There was a Jesuit led conspiracy to kill JFK and they didn’t want the evidence to get out, no matter how many people had to be killed in the process.

If there really were several bullets fired that day in Dealy Plaza, then certainly the car would have contained evidence of this. And so it did.

Three days after the assassination, Carl Renas, head of security at the Dearborn Division of the Ford Motor Company, drives the limousine, helicopters hovering overhead, from Washington to Cincinnati. In doing so, he noticed several bullet holes, the most notable being the one in the windshield’s chrome molding strip, which he said was clearly ‘a primary strike’ and ‘not a fragment.’ The limousine was taken by Renas to Hess and Eisenhart of Cincinnati where the chrome molding was replaced. The Secret Service told Renas to “keep your mouth shut.” — Charles Crenshaw, JFK: Conspiracy of Silence, Penguin Books USA, p. 106.

Renas was the head of security for the Dearborn Division of Ford Motor Co. Who was the head of that division in 1963 that dispatched Renas for the task of his life?

Henry Ford II says today that the first time he can remember meeting Lee Iacocca was in November 1960 when he summoned the young salesman to his office to tell them he was giving him command of the Ford division [at Dearborn]. — Robert Lacey, Ford, the Men and the Machine, Ballantine Books, p. 531.

Lee Iacocca was the man in charge of the Dearborn Division of the Ford Motor Company, who dispatched Carl Renas to go to Washington D.C. to get the car that JFK was in when he was assassinated. Iacocca was the head of the Dearborn Division until he became President of Ford Motor Company in 1970. Iacocca was part of the cover-up because he suppressed evidence concerning JFK's assassination.

What connection does he have with the Catholic Church? In Iacocca's autobiography he says,

It took me a number of years to fully understand why I had to make a good confession to a priest before I went to Holy Communion, but in my teens I began to appreciate the importance of this most misunderstood right of the Catholic Church. In later years, I found myself completely refreshed after confession. I even began to attend weekend retreats where the Jesuits in face-to-face examinations of conscience made me come to grips with how I was conducting my life. — Iacocca: An Autobiography, Bantam Books, p. 8.

Roman Catholic Lee Iacocca, head of the Dearborn division of the Ford Motor Co. was the one who dispatched Carl Renas to get the limousine that had the evidence of multiple bullets that were shot from multiple guns that killed John F. Kennedy. Isn't it amazing that many years later as President of Chrysler, Lee Iacocca went to Congress and asked for financial help? Since Catholic Iacocca had been such an obedient servant to his Jesuit masters, another obedient Catholic by the name of Thomas 'Tip' O'Neill used his power as Speaker of the House to get Lee Iacocca all the money he needed.

There were many people who knew a great deal about the Kennedy assassination. Unfortunately, almost all of them died under mysterious circumstances. There was a concerted effort to be sure that no secrets were ever told. Even Jean Hill stated that several attempts were made to kill her and her children.

Jim Marrs, author of Crossfire: The Plot That Killed Kennedy, wrote: "In the three-year period which followed the murder of President Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald, 18 material witnesses died — six by gunfire, three in motor accidents, two by suicide, one from a cut throat, one from a karate chop to the neck, five from natural causes." ...A mathematician hired by the London Sunday Times in February of 1967 concluded that the odds of the number of witnesses involved in the assassination of John F. Kennedy dying between November 22, 1963 and that date were 100,000 trillion to one.... In the time period ranging from November 22, 1963 to August 1993 over 115 'witnesses' have died or fallen victim to death by strange circumstances, suicides or murder. — Craig Roberts and John Armstrong, JFK: The Dead Witnesses, Consolidated Press, p. 3.

Kennedy was one of many Presidents, kings, Czars, and emperors who refused to obey the Jesuits and was killed for it. The role of the papacy in the heinous murder and cover-up of this crime cannot be denied. We have seen that the Vatican had a motive, the people in key positions to carry it out, and the people in key positions to cover it up.

There was one group, one organization, whose historical background was characterized by the planning and execution of such deeds; that had a lasting consistent motive, before, during and after the crime; that had the necessary international connections; that had the money; that could elicit suicidal self-sacrifice in its members; and that continued to exist through all phases of the assassination conspiracy. This is the Roman Catholic Church. — Emmett McLoughlin, An Inquiry into the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln, Lyle Stuart, Inc.1963, p. 161.

Winston Churchill, the famous English Prime Minister during World War Two, once said,

Most men occasionally stumble over the truth, but they pick themselves up and continue on as if nothing had happened.

We now understand the facts concerning one of the most controversial events in American history. Will you stumble over the truth here and go on as if nothing has happened or will you begin to analyze history and current events in a new light?

Jesuits quotes

Jesuits

On May 1, 1776 (a Communist holiday), after having been commissioned to devise a plan to control the wealth, natural resources and manpower of the entire world, Adam Weishaupt, a Jesuit who had defected from Christianity, announced on behalf of the Illuminati, the twenty-five goals for achieving this plan. The goals included the corruption of the youth through sex and drugs, and control of the press (See the U.S. Congressional Record February 9, 1917, page 2947, where Congressman Calloway announced that the J.P. Morgan interests bought 25 of America's leading newspapers, and inserted their own editors, in order to control the media). Another "telling" goal – one applicable to our recent terrorist attacks, is to create a preconceived "reign of terror, and then make ourselves appear as the saviors of the oppressed, and champions of the workers", to quote Adam Wieshaupt, who then added, "And we are interested in just the opposite". (85% of these goals have been completed) The Phoney War on Terrorism By Ted Gunderson

"The Jesuits direct all the affairs, and shape all the principles of the papal church in the United States. These are startling facts. Though we have long known them - we are shocked at the contemplation of those approaching evils, which this new proof brings so clearly before our minds. yes, we repeat it; the nation cannot avoid the most dreadful calamities - from this fatal and corrupt society, unless prompt and vigorous measures can be taken to deliver it from the impending curse. The Society of Jesus (Jesuits) is the enemy of man. The whole human race should unite for its overthrow. Earth and heaven should rejoice together over its tomb. For there is no alternative between its total extirpation, and the absolute corruption and degradation of mankind."

- Robert J. Breckinridge
1841, American Presbyterian Pastor
Papism in the XIX Century.

"The Jesuits rapidly spread themselves over Europe, and wherever they went, there followed a revival of popery. To give them greater power, a bull was issued reestablishing the inquisition...and atrocities too terrible to bear the light of day were repeated in its secret dungeons. Such were the means which Rome had invoked to quench the light of the Reformation, to withdraw from men the Bible, and to restore the ignorance and superstition of the Dar Ages."

- Ellen G. White 1888
Founder, Seventh-day Adventist Church
The Great Controversy pp.234-236

The Illuminati consist of the Jesuits and some of the world's richest families including the Rothschilds, the Rockefellers and the Windsors. While they pay lip service to religion, they worship Lucifer. Their agents control the world's media, education, business and politics. These agents may think they are only pursuing success, but success literally means serving the devil. Prisoners of their wealth, the Illuminati prefer hatred and destruction to Love. Understandably, they can't go public with this. They pretend to be moral while working behind the scenes to degrade and enslave humanity in a "new world order." Hiroshima, Dresden, Auschwitz, Cambodia and Rwanda were sacrifices to their god Lucifer. They are responsible for the two World Wars, the Depression and the Cold War. Sept. 11, the War on Terror and the Iraq War are their latest achievements. The Illuminati Conspiracy Against God by HENRY MAKOW PhD

One of the maxims of the spiritual exercises is that if my superior says 'black is white and white is black', then that's the way it is. That is in his spiritual exercises. That is what is quoted in JFK, when Kevin Costner is telling his people: 'Hey, people, we've got to start thinking like the CIA. Black is white and white is black.' That was a Jesuit giveaway that the Jesuits produced that movie, because they're quoting Ignatius Loyola in that movie from his spiritual exercises. Eric Jon Phelps

The Jesuit schools throughout the United States are used for abuse and programming. Note, that Bill Clinton went to the Jesuit university in Washington, D.C. called Georgetown University. The Illuminati Formula 12. External Controls

So, Loyola had an indomitable will. He had a will of steel, and he set his mind to regain back what the Papacy had lost to the Reformation. And so, he went to the Pope, and the Pope in 1540 then created the Jesuit Order. But this man is a soldier, he's a lawyer, and he put together a legion of soldiers and warriors to get back what Rome had lost, as well as institute a World Government for the Pope, from Jerusalem. This was in 1540. He started the Order in 1536. He was arrested by the Inquisition, and he was released, and he went to the Pope; he threw himself at the feet of the Pope. He would be completely at his service. The Pope chartered him, and that Pope was Pius III. The Pope chartered them, created the Jesuit Order; now he has Papal protection, and they began their awful history of deeds of blood. And war after war after war after war, they're all attributed to the Jesuit Order in some way. Catholic nobles, with lots of money, donated castles and schools and money to the Jesuit Order. Eric Jon Phelps

Well, the Jesuits had brought in all of their top Nazi SS soldiers into the CIA because the Jesuits were using the SS to kill the Jews in Europe. When the Einsatzgruppen went into Russia, the Jesuits followed with the SS and purged Western Russia of all its Jews. That's why Stalin deliberately killed 40,000 of his best officers. That's why he kicked out his best generals, purged them, because he wanted to make sure that the Red Army would lose with the advance of the German army, because following that would come the SS and purge Russia of the Jews that Stalin so hated. And by the way, justice is often poetic because Stalin's daughter married a Jew.

Now, the CIA was composed of the SS. The CIA now was an arm-and the intelligence arm-of the Vatican. The Knights of Malta were throughout. Casey was a Knight of Malta. Angleton was a Knight of Malta. The Knights were through and through. Angleton manned the 'Vatican desk', and that is a desk within the CIA that has a direct link to the Vatican. Eric Jon Phelps

I cannot prove this, I wish I could, but I believe that to become a full-fledged Jesuit you would have had to have been sodomized by the time you were three years of age. I believe they're all sodomites.....When a man sodomizes a child at three, the child bonds to that man as if he were their father, and when he's a man of the cloth, of the Church, the child bonds to the Church, too. This sodomy thing has been around for hundreds of years. Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Jesuits, was a Catholic mystic; he had to have been a sodomized one. He was the guy who headed up the Inquisition to persecute those who didn't adhere to the tenets of the Catholic faith. Terribly cruel! How could you be that cruel if you didn't have the sodomy rage? The torture they put people through! Later, Joseph Mengele developed the programming and brought it up to another level. He was a Catholic alter boy. I think he was also a Rothschild and a Jesuit. The founder of the Illuminati was Adam Weishaupt, trained as a Jesuit.

Moonbeam, The UN and Nazis
by Unknown
(Posted: Oct 17, 2005)

The Manhattan Institute was chosen to be the lead organization for George W. Bush's Faith-Based Initiative to give taxpayer money to religious organizations. It is widely believed to be a CIA front. However, many persons associated with the organization also have ties to the Jesuits and thus to the Nazis, the UN and Freemasonry.

1. The CIA front in fact came up with the idea for the faith based initiative for President Bush. www.hartford-hwp.com/archives/45c/180.html .George Bush, Jesus and the Manhattan Institute.

Opus Dei Conspiracy: Spy Teams-Hit Squads in USA
by CONSPIRACY PLANET

(PHOTO: A cilice, or spiked chain worn around the upper thigh for two hours each day by Opus Dei members. It is unknown if body piercing is condoned by the Opus Dei hierarchy.)

This isn't the Da Vinci Code. This isn't fiction.

The Opus Dei, a shadowy and sinister Roman Catholic group, is running "an espionage and political assassination team in the United States," writes former NSA analyst Wayne Madsen, who quotes "knowledgeable sources" in Washington.
(<http://www.waynemadsenreport.com/intelwhispers/intel.htm>)

Former FBI agent and Cheney staff aide Leandro Aragoncilla and Michael Ray Aquino, a former officer of the Philippine National Police's Presidential Anti-Organized Crime Task Force were arrested for taking classified documents from Vice President Dick Cheney and FBI computers in order to damage the political career of Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, the President of the Philippines.

The documents were then passed to Phillipine political leaders closely aligned with the Opus Dei movement which had planned a coup against Macapagal-Arroyo.

by CONSPIRACY PLANET

Madsen notes that the aborted April 2002 coup against Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez was also supported by Opus Dei elements in Venezuela.

According to Madsen, the arrest of Aragoncilla and Aquino has been linked to "Opus Dei espionage and political black bag operation that reached into the highest levels of the FBI."

Both Robert Hanssen, a former FBI agent and convicted Soviet spy, as well as Louis Freeh, Jr., the former head of the FBI, are members of Opus Dei's St. Catherine of Siena's Church in Great Falls, Virginia, according to WayneMadsenReport.com

Opus Dei, which reportedly has more than 85,000 members around the world, was founded in 1928 by Jose Maria Escriva. Unlike the Roman Catholic Church itself which condones and protects pederasty by priests, Opus Dei is a masochistic sub-cult which promotes the use of hair shirts, self-flagellation and the cilice, a belt around the thigh with metal prongs pointing inwards.

Dan Brown, author of the best-selling novel "The DaVinci Code" portrays Opus Dei as a ruthless organization of religious fanatics whose members even resort to murder to keep the Church's secrets.

"There is this perception of 'Octopus Dei' as a vast international conglomerate sitting on bags of cash with which they are influencing elections around the world," says John Allen, author of "Opus Dei: Secrets and Power Inside the Catholic Church."

Allen estimates the "worldwide assets of Opus Dei at $2.8 billion, which is dwarfed by the $102 billion revenue of the American Catholic Church alone," reports the New Zealand Herald

(http://www.nzherald.co.nz/section/story.cfm?c_id=2&ObjectID=10348687)

"Corporal mortification" is the name for pseudo-spiritual masochistic rituals practiced by Opus Dei members. They include use of the "Cilice," a spiked chain worn around the upper thigh for two hours each day and the "Discipline," a cord-like whip used on the buttocks or back once a week for self-flagellation.

The obvious final question -- how many Opus Dei members congregate at the BDSM clubs? After all "Opus Dei" is Latin for Work of God.

((NOTE: This issue of TTT may severely disturb some folks' comfort zones!))

((NOTE: Editor of TTT is not Roman Catholic; he also is definitely NOT anti-Roman Catholic. His dad and 90% of his relatives are Roman Catholic; his best friend is Roman Catholic; and the majority of his friends are Roman Catholic. Editor of TTT, however, is against those from secret societies (from top-level Jesuits to top-level Masons) who have seized control of most of the major Christian denominations, including the Roman Catholic Church. In fact, editor of TTT is against all those – whether individuals or organizations – who are trying to destroy our freedom and steal from us our God-given rights.))

DEDICATION:

This issue of TTT is dedicated to courageous Roman Catholics who have stood up for truth – and fought against tyranny – over the centuries (often at the risk of their very lives)!

HERE ARE SOME GREAT QUOTES:

“Most people, sometime in their lives, stumble across the truth. Most jump up, brush themselves off, and hurry on about their business AS IF NOTHING HAD HAPPENED.”

Sir Winston Leonard Churchill (1874-1965; British statesman and writer)

((Ed. Comment: Dear reader, you are about to meet some 'truth' that the controlled mainstream media and our federal government try to suppress. What will you do with this information?))

“When Pope Paul VI died, little emotion had been expressed. But when [Pope] John Paul I died [in September of 1978], the entire city [i.e., Rome] was 'up in arms'. Men and women wept openly everywhere. When his body was shown, people passing it were heard to shout, 'Who has done this to you? Who has murdered you?'

Within two days, the public and the press were loudly demanding an autopsy. But the Vatican was determined that no autopsy be performed, for that might have revealed something new about the cause of death.”

Vance Ferrell (Author of the book The Murder of John Paul I)

((Ed. Note: No autopsy was ever performed.))

“[Pope] John Paul I made the mistake of confiding the night before [his death] in his closest advisor (Cardinal Jean Villot, Vatican Secretary of State) regarding what he intended to begin doing the next day [Ed. Note: i.e., the demotion and/or removal of Masons holding top positions in the Roman Catholic Church]; and then he handed him a list of appointments, resignations, transfers, as well as plans to begin an investigation into the Vatican Bank and the practices of its president [bishop] Paul Marcinkus. That was the evening of September 28, 1978... [Ed. Note: After the murder of John Paul I, Marcinkus later became an archbishop.]

...Early the next morning [September 29, 1978], Albino Luciani, who had become Pope John Paul I, a man in almost perfect health, was found dead in bed, only 33 days after his election as pope. Very early the next morning he was embalmed...”

Vance Ferrell

((Ed. Note: This was done to make sure that no real autopsy could ever be performed.))

“Then [Cardinal Jean] Villot, [Vatican Secretary of State] pulled another list out of the drawer and compared the two. ((Ed. Note: The first list had been given to him earlier in the evening on September 28, 1978 by Pope John Paul I.)) All the Masons were to be removed from power in the Vatican, including himself, and non-Masons were to take their place. The Vatican was to become Catholic again.”

Vance Ferrell

((Ed. Note: Unfortunately, with the “untimely death” of Pope John Paul I – that occurred only hours after Cardinal Villot got the list – the Vatican did NOT become ‘Catholic’ again.))

((Ed. Comment: Pope John Paul I had gotten hold of a list with the names of 121 members of Masonic Lodges. Most of those on that list were “cardinals, bishops, and members of the [Roman] Curia”.))

“The involvement of leading members of the Roman Curia in secret societies, including P2 and other Masonic Lodges, was revealed to Pope John Paul I by the Italian news agency ‘L-Osservatore Politico’ shortly before his untimely and mysterious death in September 1978.”

Michael De Semlyen (Author of the book All Roads Lead to Rome?: The Ecumenical Movement)

“Vatican scandals involving large-scale fraud and corruption and complicity in a cover-up have simply been shrugged off. Archbishop Marcinkus [Ed. Note: formerly president of the Vatican Bank when he was a bishop], who was at the center of it all, was protected by the Pope [i.e., John Paul II] for more than seven years – and the Italian state authorities [were] somehow rendered helpless...

Roman Catholic Oxford Professor of Logic, Michael Dummett, accused the Pope [i.e., John Paul II] of complicity in a cover-up to protect [Archbishop] Marcinkus. ‘The Sunday Telegraph’ 15th March, 1987, reporting from the Catholic Weekly ‘The Tablet’, said that Professor Dummett spoke of ‘the Vatican Bank entangled with complicated practices from which the most pungent stink of corruption arises. These practices involved other banks, the Mafia, and the seamiest type of Freemasonry, culminating in what was possibly the bizarre suicide, but more probably the grotesque murder of an Italian banker in London.’

...The Milan [Court] verdict has brought blunt accusations of complicity in Calvi’s murder leveled at [Archbishop] Marcinkus by Calvi’s widow, who claims that her husband had told her shortly before his death: ‘The priests want me dead’. Marcinkus resigned as head of the Vatican Bank, but remained under the pope’s [i.e., John Paul II’s] protection and enjoyed Vatican immunity. Attempts by the Italian authorities to put him on trial with the others accused of fraud were brushed aside by the Vatican; the Pope simply refused to hand him over.”

Michael De Semlyen

((Ed. Comment: Above quote included because Pope John Paul I was trying to remove powerful men (many of whom were top-level Masons) from key positions in the Vatican (and in the Vatican Bank) such as then-Bishop Paul Marcinkus (then-president of the Vatican Bank).))

“...if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Superior General of the Jesuits] are one and the same person.”

James Parton (American historian)

“All these things cause the Father-General [of the Jesuits] to be feared by the Pope and sovereigns... A sovereign [Ed. Note: or pope] who is not their [the Jesuits'] friend will sooner or later experience their vengeance.” (1852)

Luigi Desanctis

INTRODUCTION

When Pope John Paul I was murdered on the night/early morning of 28/29 September 1978, it was reported in the Eastern Establishment-CONTROLLED mainstream media of America simply that the pope had “died”. I am, of course, referring to the same establishment-controlled mainstream media in America that gave us massive cover-ups concerning Agent Orange, Gulf War Illness, the JFK assassination (yes, I know they have finally begun to give us little pieces of truth more than 4 decades after the assassination), the prisoner-of-war/missing-in-action (POW/MIA) issue, the shoot down of TWA Flight 800 (yes, it was hit by a missile), etc.

Are any of you, like me, getting just a little bit sick and tired of the CONTROLLED mainstream media in America that continually suppresses a lot of truth concerning momentous events of our time, such as the murder of Pope John Paul I?

POPE JOHN PAUL I

Albino Luciani was born in Canale d'Agordo, Italy in 1912. He was ordained a priest in the Roman Catholic Church in 1935. He was named bishop of Vittorio Veneto in 1958. Later, in 1969, Albino Luciani was appointed patriarch of Venice. He was made a cardinal in 1973; he was elected pope on August 26, 1978 (he chose for himself the name John Paul I).

Albino Luciani was born to working-class parents. He was a kind, gentle man who genuinely wanted to help others. Unlike so very many other men who have attained positions of power, Albino Luciani was not corrupted by power.

When the election for pope was scheduled to be held in 1978, Albino Luciani was not considered to be one of the top candidates. But when no candidate received a sufficient majority on the first several ballots, all of a sudden Luciani started to receive more and more votes. On the 4th ballot, he won a clear majority and was elected pope. The “compromise” candidate Luciani had beaten several other candidates who had been selected by the “power brokers” within the Vatican. No problem, thought the “power brokers” (the men who ruled the Vatican from “behind the scenes”), Luciani is a “simple man”, and he will be “easy to control”. How wrong they were!

((Note: Here are just two examples of how Pope John Paul I was NOT into “pomp and power”: (1) He chose to dispense with the official, traditional papal coronation. (2) He wanted to go outside of the walls of the Vatican to visit hospitals, etc. – in other words, he wanted to truly be a pope who was a priest serving the common people!))

THE BATTLE AGAINST P2 MASONRY AND THE VATICAN BANK

In the same year (1978) that Albino Luciani became Pope John Paul I, the Italian news agency ‘L-Osservatore Politico’ had done an expose concerning the involvement of leading members of the Roman Curia in secret societies, including P2 and other Masonic Lodges. Pope John Paul I had gotten hold of a list with the names of 121 members of Masonic Lodges. Most of the men on that list were “cardinals, bishops, and members of the [Roman] Curia”.

During his short reign as pope, John Paul I had also noticed some “irregularities” in the Vatican banking system. So in addition to Pope John Paul I’s plans to demote and transfer a lot of top-level Masons out of the Vatican, he also planned to do a major reform of the Vatican Bank. The then-president of the Vatican Bank, American bishop Paul Marcinkus, was to be fired!

But John Paul I made a dreadful mistake the night before his murder. He went to his closest advisor, Cardinal Jean Villot, the Vatican Secretary of State, with his plans to make the Vatican “once again Catholic”. Early on the evening of September 28, Pope John Paul I dropped by Cardinal Villot’s office to give him a copy of his list of “appointments, resignations, [and] transfers” of top-level Vatican personnel. Could it be that John Paul I did not know that Cardinal Villot was also a top-level Mason? John Paul I left Villot’s office; Cardinal Villot carefully looked over the list that John Paul I had given him. Pope John Paul I was “cleaning house” at the Vatican, and was going to remove from power all these top-level Masons.

Sadly, John Paul I did not awaken from his sleep that fateful night of September 28/29 of 1978. He had been poisoned to death. To get the details concerning this assassination of a courageous Roman Catholic priest and pope, you will need to read Vance Ferrell’s book, The Murder of John Paul I.

Pope John Paul I was found dead the next morning (September 29, 1978). The embalmers were quickly called. The Vatican REFUSED to allow an autopsy. Author Vance Ferrell reports what happened when Pope John Paul I’s body was put on display for the public: “When Pope Paul VI died, little emotion had been expressed. But when [Pope] John Paul I died, the entire city [i.e., Rome] was ‘up in arms’. Men and women wept openly everywhere. When his body was shown, people passing it were heard to shout, ‘Who has done this to you? Who has murdered you?’

Within two days, the public and the press were loudly demanding an autopsy. But the Vatican was determined that no autopsy be performed, for that might have revealed something new about the cause of death.”

Indeed, WHY was John Paul I embalmed so quickly? And WHY was no autopsy ever allowed? I think everyone can figure out the answer to those questions.

FINAL THOUGHTS

Courageous Roman Catholics have risen up throughout history to take on the “power elite” who rule from behind the scenes. Men like Pope Clement XIII, Pope Clement XIV, Pope John Paul I, Archbishop Oscar Romero of El Salvador, and President John Fitzgerald Kennedy come immediately to my mind.

Pope Clement XIII was preparing to suppress the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits) in 1769 when he was assassinated (he was poisoned) by the Jesuits the day BEFORE he was to have signed a Papal Bull of Suppression.

Pope Clement XIV succeeded in suppressing and abolishing the Jesuit Order in 1773. Fourteen months later he was assassinated (he was poisoned) by the Jesuits as “pay-back”.

Pope John Paul I, as we have seen, tried in 1978 to clean out the Vatican of all its top-level Masons – to make the Vatican once again Catholic – and for this he too was assassinated (he was poisoned). (He was also trying to reform the Vatican Bank.)

Archbishop Oscar Romero of El Salvador tried to resist both tyranny and “revolution theology” in his country, and he was assassinated in 1980 (shot while performing a mass). ((If you have not seen the outstanding video “Romero”, then you absolutely need to rent a copy and view it. Watch for the “Jesuit involvement” in this video expose – more information on this video at the end of this newsletter.))

American Roman Catholic President John Fitzgerald Kennedy had interest-free money printed up OUTSIDE OF the Federal Reserve Bank (which is NOT “federal” – it is a privately-owned central bank). John Kennedy was preparing to end the Vietnam War, and he had said he was going to splinter the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) into a thousand pieces. He had already fired the head of the CIA, Shriner Freemason Allen Dulles, and another top CIA official, U.S. Army General Charles Cabell. On November 22, 1963, President John Kennedy was assassinated by a professional team of snipers/shooters in Dallas, Texas. ((If you have not seen the movie “JFK” (Special Edition Director’s Cut), you need to rent a copy and watch it! See end of newsletter for more information.)) ((Note: Several high-level Knights of Malta and high-level Freemasons were involved in planning and implementing the JFK assassination.))

Some of you readers may be thinking, “Fighting the evil system will just get you assassinated.” In many cases that may be so; however, good men and women must expose, resist, and fight evil, corruption, and tyranny wherever such are found – even if they occur in the federal government or in a large church denomination.

We've all got to realize (and admit to ourselves) that evil men have taken over many of the institutions in the West and in America. Jesuits and other assorted Masons have long controlled the Roman Catholic Church. ((The "Black Pope" – the Superior General of the Jesuits – is the real power "behind the throne of the papacy". Whenever a good, honest Roman Catholic manages to become pope, if he makes any waves, he is terminated.)) Masons dominate the leadership of several major Protestant denominations also – the Southern Baptists and the Methodists come to mind.

These high-level Masons, high-ranking Knights of Malta, high-level Jesuits, and other lackeys of the globalist rich elite hold top positions in the CIA, FBI, U.S. State Department, and other governmental agencies. They control the mainstream media through the editors they employ. And many of them hold key positions in academia (presidents of top universities, etc.).

Courageous men and women have opposed these "power-hungry, control freaks" in the past. The question is: "Will WE now do likewise?"

WHAT CAN WE DO?

AN INTERESTING QUOTE:

“...if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Black Pope, the Superior General of the Jesuits] are one and the same person.” – James Parton (American historian)

I. INTRODUCTION

Editor of TTT has written two previous newsletters on “The Jesuits”: TTT #44 was entitled “The Jesuits”; TTT #49 was entitled “The Jesuits – Part II”. Both of those two TTT newsletters dealt with the history of Jesuit political intrigues and Jesuit involvement in the assassination of heads of state. Both of those two previous TTT newsletters contained numerous quotations by famous personages concerning the Jesuit Order.

This issue of TTT will deal with a powerful Roman Catholic organization, the Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM) – i.e., the Knights of Malta. As one reads this newsletter, it is most important to remember that the Knights of Malta are headquartered in Rome together with the Jesuit hierarchy. The head of the Jesuits, the Jesuit Superior General (i.e., the Black Pope), is also the head of the Knights of Malta! Author John Daniel, in his excellent book The Grand Design Exposed, makes a very compelling case that the Jesuit Order (i.e., the Society of Jesus) took over Freemasonry centuries ago. If John Daniel is correct (and Editor of TTT believes that he is correct), then the Jesuit Superior General controls not only his own Jesuit Order, but also the powerful Knights of Malta AND the top levels of Freemasonry! Numerous authors have also made a compelling case that the Jesuit Superior General also controls the Papacy (i.e., the "White Pope" and the Roman Curia). When all this is taken into consideration, the Jesuit Superior General (the "Black Pope") surely rates as one of the most powerful men in the world! ((NOTE: At least two popes were assassinated via the "poison cup" by the Jesuits: Pope Clement XIII in 1769 (for trying to suppress the Jesuit Order) and Pope Clement XIV in 1774 (for having succeeded in suppressing and banning the Jesuit Order in 1773). (Pope Pius VII, in exchange for his release from prison, "restored" the Jesuit Order in 1814.) Additionally, Pope John Paul I was poisoned to death in 1978 by P-2 Masonry and elements within the Roman Curia when he attempted to rein in the Vatican Bank and remove top-level Masons from the Vatican.))

Here is but a small sampling of famous personages who were Knights of Malta:

(Americans): Francis Cardinal Spellman, Dallas Bishop Thomas K. Gorman, Joseph P. Kennedy (father of JFK), Henry R. Luce, John McCone, William "Wild Bill" Donovan, William J. Casey, James Jesus Angleton, William Randolph Hearst, William F. Buckley, Jr., J. Peter Grace, Clay Shaw (former CIA contract agent), Cartha D. DeLoach (former FBI assistant director), (former) Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, (former) Hollywood director Frank Capra, William Simon (former Secretary of the Treasury), Myron Taylor (FDR's personal ambassador to the Vatican in WWII), Francis D. Flanagan (former VIP for IT&T), John Farrell (former President of U.S. Steel), Frank Shakespeare (former President of CBS Television Services), and Lee Iacocca. ((Note: Three of the above men – McCone, Donovan, and Casey – were Directors of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA); one – Angleton – was the chief of the CIA's Counterintelligence Office, and in charge of the CIA's "Vatican Desk" and "Israel Desk".))

(Foreign): German WWII General Reinhard Gehlen (Hitler's chief intelligence officer against the Soviet Union), German Franz von Papen (who helped put Hitler into power in Nazi Germany, and who negotiated the Concordat between Hitler and Pope Pius XII), and Englishman and "double agent" Kim Philby. ((NOTE: We seem to have lots of Knights of Malta (and high-level Masons, too) spread all around various intelligence agencies throughout the world!))

II. KNIGHTS OF MALTA (AND MASONIC) INFLUENCE ON U.S. INTELLIGENCE AND

LAW ENFORCEMENT

If three directors of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) came from any relatively small, secretive organization, society, or club, surely the American people would want to know if something “un-American” was going on! Yet at least three directors of the CIA have been Knights of Malta: William “Wild Bill” Donovan, John McCone, and William Casey. Additionally, the very powerful position of CIA Chief of Counterintelligence was held for many years by James Jesus Angleton (another Knight of Malta)!

Now consider again the quote at the beginning of this newsletter by American historian James Parton: “...if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Black Pope, the Superior General of the Jesuits] are one and the same person.” ((And please remember that author John Daniel makes a very compelling case in his book The Grand Design Exposed that the Jesuit Order took over Freemasonry centuries ago!)) Now consider these top-level Freemasons who have held top positions in U.S. Intelligence & Law Enforcement: (former FBI chief) J. Edgar Hoover and (former CIA director) Allen Dulles.

((Interestingly, at least three U.S. presidents (Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and Harry S. Truman) were top-level Freemasons; and a top advisor to both President Wilson and FDR was a top-level Mason (Edward Mandell House).))

By the way, another Knight of Malta seems to have played a key role in setting up the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA): German General Reinhard Gehlen – he was Hitler’s head of intelligence against the Soviet Union. Interestingly, two future Directors of the CIA (top-level Freemason Allen Dulles and Knight of Malta William Casey) were key players in bringing Reinhard Gehlen to the United States. Gehlen and a number of other top-level Nazis were “smuggled” out of Germany immediately at the end of WWII. Many of them moved through the “Vatican Ratlines” – intricate “escape routes” set up by the Vatican to help these “former” Nazis (and many Fascists, also) flee Europe (and escape any possible punishment for war crimes) at the end of WWII. ((WHY did the Vatican help top-level Nazis and Fascists to escape from Europe? And WHY did the Vatican sign Concordats with Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy, and other Fascist regimes in Europe during WWII?)) Quite a large number of these former top-level Nazis ended up in the USA, and went to work for the U.S. government (including the CIA)!

III. KNIGHTS OF MALTA (AND MASONIC) INVOLVEMENT IN THE ASSASSINATION OF JFK AND IN THE SUBSEQUENT COVER-UP

Did you know that Knight of Malta Clay Shaw (who was also a CIA contract agent and international industrialist) played a key role in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy (JFK)? Did you know that several other Knights of Malta ((such as Assistant FBI Director Cartha D. DeLoach, James Jesus Angleton (Chief of CIA Counterintelligence; "liaison" to the Warren Commission), and Lee Iacocca)) participated in the cover-up of the real assassins involved in the JFK assassination? ((According to author Eric Jon Phelps, Lee Iacocca dispatched his head of security to take JFK's presidential limousine for quick disassembly, thereby destroying any possible vehicular evidence of multiple shots having been fired at President Kennedy!)) Additionally, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover (a top-level Mason) was clearly implicated in the JFK assassination plot (being present with Vice President Lyndon Johnson and other powerful Americans at Clint Murchison's mansion in North Dallas on the evening of November 21, 1963 – the day before the actual assassination). Another top-level Mason named to the Warren Commission to "investigate" the assassination of JFK was Allen Dulles! Allen Dulles just happened to have been fired from being the Director of the CIA by President Kennedy! ((JFK had stated shortly before his assassination that he was going to "splinter the CIA into a thousand pieces"!)) Another top-level Mason to be appointed to the Warren Commission (and to head it up) was Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren. Now please remember the quote at the beginning of this newsletter about the Jesuit Superior General (who controls the Knights of Malta) also controlling Freemasonry! There sure seem to be a lot of Knights of Malta and top-level Masons involved in both the assassination of JFK and in the subsequent cover-up! ((QUESTION: WHY are all these Knights of Malta and top-level Masons cooperating with each other IF the Vatican and Freemasonry are really opposed to each other?))

((NOTE: The above information is NOT "conspiracy theory", but rather "conspiracy fact"! The proper view of history is indeed the "conspiratorial" one, rather than "everything in history just happens by chance". There was indeed a conspiracy by several high-level Roman officials to murder Julius Caesar; there was also indeed a conspiracy on the part of Roman Emperor Nero and some of his lackeys to burn part of Rome and blame it on his enemies (the Christians); there was also indeed a conspiracy on the part of Hitler and his lackeys to burn the German Reichstag (Parliament Building) and blame it on his enemies (the Communists); and there was indeed a colossal conspiracy to both murder President John F. Kennedy, and to cover up the identity of the real assassins! If you still doubt that there was a conspiracy to assassinate JFK after all these years of massive cover-up, then please get a copy of Oliver Stone's movie "JFK" (the "Special Edition Director's Cut") and carefully view it. Additionally, editor of TTT most highly recommends that you purchase a copy of the excellent book, The Elite Serial Killers of Lincoln, JFK, RFK & MLK, by Robert Gaylon Ross, Sr. (a former Army Security Agency officer) – it is available for $38.95 postpaid (338 pages; hardback) from “Radio Liberty” by calling their toll-free number 800-544-8927.)

((ADDITIONAL NOTE: President John F. Kennedy, a real American hero, took on the rich and powerful elite individuals who really run America “from behind the scenes”. JFK had fired the Director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), i.e., a top-level Freemason named Allen Dulles. He had also fired top CIA official General Charles Cabell (whose brother Earl Cabell just happened to be the Mayor of Dallas when JFK was assassinated there – probably just another coincidence, eh?). And please remember JFK’s statement about “splintering the CIA into a thousand pieces” shortly before his assassination! Editor of TTT previously devoted an entire issue (TTT #38, dated: November 22, 2003) to the JFK assassination. In that issue I listed the names of the 25 attendees of the “special meeting” at Clint Murchison’s mansion in North Dallas on November 21, 1963 (the day before the actual assassination). The following is a quote from that issue: “...One can easily see from examining the list of the 25 [attendees] [that the following elements were all involved in the JFK assassination]: [top elements] of the CIA and FBI; members of organized crime; members of “Big Oil”; and top political leaders.” Indeed, top levels of the CIA and FBI were involved in the assassination of a courageous U.S. President, and in the subsequent “whitewash” and cover-up by the Warren Commission!))

IV. KNIGHTS OF MALTA INFLUENCE ON MEDIA AND RELIGION IN THE UNITED STATES

Here are just two of the top Knights of Malta who held key “power positions” in the establishment-CONTROLLED mainstream media:

(1) William Randolph Hearst (1863-1951) – American publisher of newspapers and magazines; by 1937 he owned 25 large daily newspapers.

(2) Henry Robinson Luce (1898-1967) – American publisher and editor; some of his magazines were Time, Life, Fortune, and Sports Illustrated.

Now here is something that is very interesting: These two Knights of Malta who were media moguls (William Randolph Hearst and Henry R. Luce), and another powerful Knight of Malta (J. Peter Grace), sponsored and supported two “Protestant” televangelists (Pat Robertson and Billy Graham)! Yes, according to author Texe Marrs, powerful Knight of Malta J. Peter Grace sponsored 33rd Degree Mason Pat Robertson; and powerful Knights of Malta William Randolph Hearst and Henry R. Luce sponsored 33rd Degree Mason Billy Graham! Now why would a Roman Catholic Order (the Knights of Malta – controlled by the Jesuit Superior General) sponsor two “Protestant” televangelists (who are Masons) – unless, of course, the Jesuit Superior General also controls Freemasonry at its top levels?

((NOTE: If you would like to learn more about American televangelists (and their connections to the Knights of Malta and Freemasonry), I recommend that you get the outstanding 84-minute VHS video tape entitled “Tower of Infamy” by Texe Marrs (author; and host of the “Power of Prophecy” radio broadcast). To order by credit card, call toll-free 1-800-234-9673.))

V. FINAL THOUGHTS

Editor of TTT has just barely “scratched the surface” of the power and influence of this Catholic Order, the Knights of Malta. Only a small sampling of famous Knights of Malta, both American and foreign-born, has been included in this newsletter.

Again, please consider that if the Jesuit Superior General (the Black Pope) indeed also controls Freemasonry as well as his own Jesuit Order and the Knights of Malta, then he is one of the most powerful men in the world. And considering the fact that so many Knights of Malta and high-level Masons have been Directors of the CIA (and have held a number of high-level positions in the FBI), then one must ask WHO is really running the top levels of U.S. Intelligence and Law Enforcement? And one must also ask: if so many of these Knights of Malta (controlled by the Jesuit Superior General) and top-level Masons cooperate on such important events as the assassination of JFK, then are the top levels of Freemasonry and the Jesuits/Knights of Malta really opposed to each other? Or just might one person (i.e., the Jesuit Superior General – the “Black Pope”) be controlling both groups?

If you would like to learn more about the assassination of JFK and several other famous Americans, you can purchase Robert Gaylon Ross, Sr.’s book The Elite Serial Killers of Lincoln, JFK, RFK & MLK. recommend that you get it. It is a tremendous expose of the Jesuit Order, and includes a lengthy chapter on the JFK assassination.))

Let me close this issue of TTT with one final comment, a Bible verse, and the following quote by Robert Gaylon Ross, Sr.:

“The U.S. government agencies, along with local and state law enforcement agencies, have concealed, destroyed, and ignored so much evidence in the assassinations of JFK, RFK, and MLK that we can not trust them to do their assigned jobs.”

Indeed, the massive cover-ups in the assassinations of JFK, RFK, and MLK (and even of Abraham Lincoln) continue to this very day. Much of the official evidence in the JFK assassination remains hidden from the American people under “national security”. It has been over four decades since President John F. Kennedy was assassinated by a professional “sniper team” of at least three shooters. What information is so horrible that the U.S. government must keep it “under wraps” and out of the sight of the American people after so much time has passed? WHO is being protected by this secrecy? Do top-level Masons and Knights of Malta really run the CIA and other intelligence agencies around the globe?

“Who will rise up for me against the evildoers, or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?” (Psalm 94:16)

I wish that I've known more about the Jesuits/Knights of Malta etc when I had to leave my beloved country, South Africa, to provide a safe and secure future for my children.

Many things makes sense now and only now I understand the real" powers to be" that have infiltrated/manipulated and controlled the politics(and well-loved politicians!) of my country. Such a shame that people cannot comprehend that the so called heroes of South Africa are controlled by the Jesuit order.

THE JESUITS – PART II

((NOTE: All emphasis throughout this newsletter, unless otherwise noted, is by the editor of "Tackling the Tough Topics (TTT)". Other issues of the TTT newsletter can be viewed on the following web sites: www.libertytothecaptives.net and www.calltodecision.com .))

((NOTES: This issue of TTT is a follow-up to TTT #44, "The Jesuits", dated: April 5, 2004. The term “Jesuits” = the Society of Jesus; the term “the Black Pope” = the Superior General of the Jesuits. This issue of TTT may severely disturb some folks’ comfort zones!))

((NOTE: Editor of TTT is not Roman Catholic; he also is definitely NOT anti-Roman Catholic. His dad and 90% of his relatives are Roman Catholic; his best friend is Roman Catholic; and the majority of his friends are Roman Catholic. Editor of TTT, however, is against those from secret societies (from top-level Jesuits to top-level Freemasons) who have seized control of most of the major Christian denominations, including the Roman Catholic Church. [note] In fact, editor of TTT is against all those – whether individuals or organizations – who are trying to destroy our freedom and steal from us our God-given rights. Sadly, most low-level Jesuits and most low-level Freemasons know little to nothing about the true intentions, goals, and activities of their superiors – and this information is deliberately kept from them by their superiors!))

HERE ARE SOME RELEVANT QUOTES:

“My history of the Jesuits is not eloquently written, but it is supported by unquestionable authorities, is very particular and very horrible. Their restoration [i.e., the Jesuits’ reinstatement as an official order by Pope Pius VII in 1814] is indeed a step toward darkness, cruelty, perfidy, despotism, death... I do not like the appearance of the Jesuits. If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on earth and in hell, it is this Society of Loyola’s [i.e., the Jesuits, the “Company”].” (1816; Taken from a letter to Thomas Jefferson)

John Adams (1735-1826; 2nd President of the United States)

((Ed. Note: The only “repeat” quotes [in this section on quotations] from the earlier issue of TTT (#44) are this first quote by John Adams and the last quote by James Parton.))

“On 27 September 1540, in a private reception hall of the Palace of the Popes on Vatican Hill, Rome, eleven men of aristocratic birth [Ed. Note: including Ignatius Loyola], met with Pope Paul III who gave approval of their [Jesuit] Order. That beginning was to become the most loyal and most efficient organization [that] the Roman Catholic Church has ever spawned... In the agreement to rescue Rome from the predicament of losing its world control to Protestantism [Ed. Comment: Much of Western Europe had either become Protestant, or was in the process of becoming Protestant.], and to preserve the spiritual and temporal supremacy which the Popes ‘usurped’ during the Middle Ages, Rome now ‘sold’ the Church to the Society of Jesus; in essence the Popes surrendered themselves into their [the Jesuits’] hands.”

John Daniel (Writer; author of the excellent book The Grand Design Exposed)

“Ignatius [Loyola – founder of the Jesuits] and his followers certainly were not concerned about preserving Christ-taught truths, or easing the lives of the poor, but instead, to provide an effective means to halt encroachment on their treasured and haughty lifestyles, exacted by such terrible expense and misery of all those subjected under them.”

John Daniel

“...the [Roman Catholic] Church to rule the world; the Pope to rule the Church; the Jesuits to rule the Pope; such was and is the program of the Order of Jesus [i.e., the Jesuits].”

John Daniel

“Above all things, Jesuits are ‘confessors’. Their services unto the royalty was urged as a ‘need’, as they [the Jesuit priests] became assigned to hear the confessions of the aristocrats, emperors, kings, queens, princes, princesses, [and] mistresses – those in every level of government – they all revealed their secret plans, their intimate sins, their inner most thoughts, as their lives became virtually an open book to the Jesuits. As an intelligence-gathering system of espionage, none greater has ever been devised and developed in the world, as compared to the auricular confessions employed by the Jesuits...

Through various means of diplomacy, Jesuits worked their way into offices of State, climbing up to be the counselors of kings, and shaping the policy of nations. But it was ‘religion’ and its sacred duties of hearing the confessions of their penitents, and being their religious ‘wise’ guides, that was the key to their [the Jesuits’] success.”

John Daniel

“...Jesuits were seditiously active [in] plotting the overthrow of the English government. ((Ed. Comment: This was going on at least as early as the 1580s.)) By using different disguises, aliases, and secret codes, to illegally slip in and out of England, Jesuit Robert Parson, in 1580, had led and then later organized a mission to bring other Jesuits into England to engage in a work of subversion... The ‘Gunpowder Plot’ [involved] thirteen Catholic noblemen and five Jesuits [who] formed a conspiracy devising a plan to explode 36 barrels of gunpowder in the cellar of the House of Lords and kill King James I, and members of Commons, as they assembled for the opening of Parliament on 5 November 1605. Their plan was to blow up the Parliament building, and out of the chaos, incite the [English] people into a full insurrection.”

John Daniel

((Ed. Comment on previous quote: Now you can see WHY so many monarchs (the majority of whom were Roman Catholic) threw the Jesuits out of their countries!))

“The Thirty Years’ War, 1618-1648, was a series of conflicts that became the last great struggle of religious wars in Europe. It was fought almost exclusively on German soil... but before the war ended, it involved most of the nations of Europe. The underlying cause of the war was the deep-seated hostility between the German Protestants and German Catholics, with the Jesuits and Cardinal Richelieu, who was the real ruler of France, fanning the fires to accomplish their ends.

When the war was over it had totally wiped out the German economy leaving behind a waste land where one half (some historians say even two thirds) of the population were dead.”

John Daniel

((Ed. Comment: Again, you can see why so many Roman Catholic monarchs threw the Jesuits out of their countries because of this continual fomenting of wars and revolutions by the Jesuits!))

“...the barbarous Irish Massacre, with its 23 October 1641 launching date...Again the plot is instigated by the Jesuits...who excite the ignorant Irish Catholic people to a frenzy to commit the most unheard of cruelties [on their Protestant neighbors]. In far away France, Cardinal Richelieu, the French minister, had promised the conspirators a considerable supply of men and money... The onslaught raged on, and when it had run its course, 150,000 Protestants lay mutilated, butchered, [and] dead.”

John Daniel

“...Most [of the notorious leaders of the French Revolution (1789-1799)] had been educated and trained under Jesuit tutelage. Names like Voltaire, Diderot, Turgot, Condorcet, d’Alembert, Desmoulins, and Robespierre were all inspired Jesuit college students rallying behind their instructors Enlightenment cause. No wonder there was no true opposition to the movement from the Jesuit camp. Remember well! The French Revolution is nothing less than a prototype of what the whole world is soon to be plunged into.”

John Daniel

“With great finesse and subtlety, the Jesuits’ most treasured expertise, the two opposing factions of Freemasonry were united...

...Freemasonry emerged with the stamp and mold of the Jesuits written all over it... This French and German Freemasonry concoction had its origins among the aristocrats, the noble class, the kings’ courts, and the Jesuits. The common class of people never knew what was going on – the same as today – until after the fact.”

John Daniel

“As with any ‘pyramidal’ scheme, whether it is in marketing, Freemasonry, the Jesuits, or the Roman Catholic Church; it is a hierarchy. Those at the top level of the pyramid leech off the efforts and revenues of the hundreds of thousands [Ed. Note: or millions] of those under them at the lower levels. Nor is it intended for those while at the bottom to ever know the purposes and affairs of those at the top. The lower levels are intentionally lied to and deceived, so as to make them to ‘think’ that they know.”

John Daniel

“...later evolved...the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry...not having its origin in Scotland, but [in France]...whose Jesuits’ guiding hands added thirty new degrees to the English’s already existing first three; being based on ‘Templarism’... Eventually, in 1773, out of the great proliferation and affiliated French [Masonic] Lodges competing for supremacy, emerged the ‘Grand Orient’ [Lodge] – that infamous lodge that was so active in the French Revolution [of 1789-1799] – and also directly associated with the zealous members of the German Lodge Theodore, of whom the most conspicuous member was the modern Illuminist, Jesuit Adam Weishaupt, Professor of Canon Law at the Jesuit University of Ingolstadt, [Germany].”

John Daniel

((Ed. Comments: “Templarism” above refers to the famous “Knights Templar”. Jesuit Adam Weishaupt established the “Order of the Illuminati” in 1776.))

“However, ‘maverick’ Grand Lodges also began to crop up, spawning their own lodges and claiming their own authenticity. It was these maverick lodges that were Jesuit Catholic influenced and offered the ‘higher degrees’ that contended with the Grand Lodge of England, and required its members to be obedient to ‘Unknown Superiors’. It established itself in the colonies of Virginia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New York, Georgia, and South Carolina and profoundly affected and influenced all the American founding fathers. The secret agenda of Rome’s Jesuits was to converge [sic] their ‘modified’ Freemasonry with England’s Protestant Freemasonry. Then masquerading it as ‘Protestant’, it became a vehicle to deceive Protestants... As hidden ‘Unknown Superiors’, they [the Jesuits] would guide Freemasonry to bring to fruition their ultimate goal and ‘Grand Design’ – rulers of a cosmopolitan citizenship – the ‘new order of the ages’.”

John Daniel

“Freemasonry is a cover [Ed. Note: for the Jesuits], and must work undercover...

...so to portray Freemasonry as ‘English and Protestant’ became an important part of the theatrics [Ed. Note: of the Jesuits]. Under this pretense, rival or irregular [Masonic] lodges sprung up with higher degrees for the purpose to merge and alter English Masonry.”

John Daniel

“When backtracking to the origin of this whole complexity of deception [Ed. Note: the takeover of Freemasonry by the Jesuits], it brings us straight to the real heart of the matter – the intense hatred of the Roman Catholic Church [Ed. Note: more specifically, the Jesuits] for anyone or anything that opposes her goals – namely Protestantism. ((Ed. Comment: Many Protestant denominations were taken over by Freemasonry in the same manner that Roman Catholicism was taken over by the Jesuits.)) It positively is not a Jewish conspiracy, but strictly Roman Catholic [Ed. Note: Again, more specifically, Jesuit], who have strategically used certain Jews for their cause’s advantage. We can trace this hatred starting with the utter destruction of the Spanish Armada [in 1588], to all the plots and intrigues in between, that cost the Kings of England Charles I his head and James II his throne. Watch it follow James II into France to incite the Jacobite rebellions in England. See the Jacobite cause, through Andrew Michael Ramsay, develop Freemasonry into the Templar Scottish rites. See it move into Germany to be built upon and become the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites. Then [see it] being carried into the New World; to Boston, Massachusetts, where in 1756, the St. Andrew’s Lodge was founded that incited the American Revolution against England; to Charleston, South Carolina, where the notorious Luciferian, Albert Pike, on 6 January 1859, became the Sovereign Grand Commander of the Supreme Council of Charleston...who during those years created the Satanic Supreme Rite named the New and Reformed Palladian Rite...”

John Daniel

((Ed. Comments: (1) “Jacobite” refers to a supporter of expelled English King James II and his descendents – these supporters were controlled by the Jesuits in France and England, and their goal was the restoration of a Catholic monarch to the throne of England. (2) We often hear individuals claiming that the “New World Order” is a “Jewish Conspiracy”. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Top-level Jesuits, top-level Freemasons, powerful Knights of Malta, etc., are the real rulers ‘behind the scenes’, and they often use “Jews” (such as some Jewish banking families) as cover for their own nefarious activities (as pointed out by John Daniel).))

“Historically, but strictly for window dressing, it has been pounded into our consciousness that Rome and the Jesuits are the sworn enemies of Freemasonry. And from what is seen on the surface, it certainly would lead anyone to strongly believe this.”

John Daniel

“...When English ‘Protestant’ Freemasonry merged with ‘Catholic’ Freemasonry with its ‘higher degrees’, it came under the complete control of the Roman Catholic Church and the Jesuits.”

John Daniel

“The most important factor in the ‘recatholicizing’ [sic] of Germany was the educational activity of the Jesuits. Wherever the Jesuits were able to effect a permanent settlement, they made it their chief concern to establish schools. They succeeded in rapid succession the founding of colleges in all the more important towns of the German Empire.”

John Daniel

((Ed. Comment: I most highly recommend that you get a copy of John Daniel’s book The Grand Design Exposed. It is an outstanding expose of the Jesuits and their takeover of Freemasonry. It can be ordered for $22 PPD by calling the “Free American” toll-free at 877-423-3250*..))

“...if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Superior General of the Jesuits] are one and the same person.”

James Parton (American historian)

INTRODUCTION

In “Part I” of “The Jesuits”, editor of “Tackling the Tough Topics (TTT)” emphasized the Jesuits’ numerous assassinations of monarchs and popes; their numerous expulsions from countries all around the globe; the attempted suppression of their Order by Pope Clement XIII, and the successful suppression of the Jesuits by Pope Clement XIV; and the Jesuit involvement in banking, in intelligence gathering, and in establishing colleges and universities.

So why did editor of TTT decide to do a “Part II” to the earlier TTT #44 (entitled “The Jesuits”)? It was because I found so many more “relevant quotes” on this Order (especially concerning their connections to Freemasonry) in the book The Grand Design Exposed.

Is the “Black Pope” [i.e., the Superior General of the Society of Jesus – the Jesuits] the most powerful man in the world? Should we Americans be concerned about this Order [i.e., the Jesuits] that has fomented so many wars and revolutions, and has assassinated monarchs (and even popes)? Does the “Black Pope” control both the Roman Catholic Church and Freemasonry?

Editor of TTT believes strongly that there is plenty of evidence to indicate that the answer to all the above questions is “yes”!

THE JESUITS (PART II)

My main reasons for writing “The Jesuits – Part II” were:

- (1) To let the readers of this newsletter know that the Jesuits skillfully use both “education” and “the confessional” to influence government policy (foreign and domestic);
- (2) To promote John Daniel’s outstanding book The Grand Design Exposed;
- (3) To highlight the fact that the “globalist conspiracy” is NOT “Jewish”;
- (4) To show that at the top levels, both the Jesuits and Freemasonry are controlled by the same individual – the Superior General of the Society of Jesus, i.e., the “Black Pope” (many of John Daniel’s quotes deal with the Jesuit takeover of Freemasonry); and,
- (5) To provide the readers of this newsletter with an example of the horrible blood oaths found in various “secret” and “semi-secret” societies (see Attachment 1).

I. THE CONFESSIONAL

One of the first things that the Jesuits did after they took control of the Roman Catholic Church in the 1540s was to establish themselves as the “father confessors” to kings (and kings’ mistresses), queens, prime ministers, top military personnel (such as Count Tilly and Wallenstein), and other influential individuals in society. ((After they forced Pope Pius VII to reinstate the Jesuit Order in 1814 – it had been abolished in 1773 by Pope Clement XIV – the “father confessor” to the pope has always been a Jesuit!)) Here are just a few examples of monarchs who had Jesuits for their “confessors”:

- (A.) Jesuit priest William Lamormaini was the confessor to Ferdinand II, Emperor of the Holy Roman Empire (1619-1637).
- (B.) Jesuit priest La Chaise was the confessor to Louis XIV, King of France (1643-1715).
- (C.) Jesuit priests Edward Petre and John Warner were the confessors to James II, King of England (1685-1688).

Sadly, these Jesuit “confessors” used the confessional to control and influence the leaders of nations in order to accomplish the goals of their Society! They also used the confessional to gather “intelligence” for their leader, the “Black Pope” – the Superior General of the Jesuits (and for his subordinate “Provincial Generals”)!

II. EDUCATION

In my earlier TTT newsletter on the Jesuits, I listed some of the major American colleges and universities that the Jesuits control, such as Georgetown University, Fordham University, Creighton University, Marquette University, Boston College, etc.

Almost from the very beginning of the founding of the Society of Jesus (the Jesuits), they made as one of their top priorities the establishment of Jesuit colleges and universities in whatever country they found themselves residing. And the Jesuits made sure that royalty and other influential leaders in those countries attended Jesuit Institutions of Higher Learning where they could receive proper “indoctrination”. Many top U.S. government officials (especially in the arenas of “intelligence” and “foreign policy”) have been educated at Jesuit Institutions of Higher Learning (such as Georgetown University). One wonders what kind of “indoctrination” they received while attending. ((NOTE: Bill Clinton was “Jesuit-trained” at Georgetown University. His mentor was Georgetown University professor Carroll Quigley.))

Author John Daniel points out in his book The Grand Design Exposed that “[the] Jesuits could boast by the 1580’s that twenty colleges, in a little over forty years, had been founded in the Society’s three German provinces.” Mr. Daniel adds, “Just in the German state of Bavaria alone, you could count six Jesuit colleges clustered together within less than a one hundred mile radius of each other.”

The bottom line: The Jesuits are very “clever”, and they have long realized that by controlling key Institutions of Higher Learning, they can have great influence in the foreign and domestic policies of a nation – especially when they get their hands on future leaders!

III. IT'S NOT "THE JEWS"!

I was glad to see that John Daniel pointed out in his book The Grand Design Exposed that the globalist conspiracy is NOT "Jewish". Sadly, many Americans (and other folks in the world) "fall for" the DISINFORMATION put out by the globalist rich elite that the "Jews" are responsible for all the evil in the world – and that the Jews control most of the major financial institutions in the world. The "Jews" also get blamed for the evils of top-level Freemasonry, and for fomenting most of the recent wars and revolutions that the world has witnessed.

Here are the "real" facts:

(A.) The Superior General of the Jesuits (the Black Pope) controls both the Jesuits and Freemasonry.

(B.) The Jesuits (through Knights of Malta and top-level Freemasons) control many of the major financial institutions in the world.

(C.) The Jesuits (through powerful Knights of Malta and top-level Freemasons) control many western intelligence agencies, such as the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). ((And if you have trouble believing this, just take a look at how many Knights of Malta and top-level Freemasons have been Directors of the CIA – such as Knight of Malta "Wild Bill" Donovan, Jesuit-trained Knight of Malta William J. Casey, and Knight of Malta John McCone.))

((Ed. Note: The Knights of Malta are headquartered in Rome with the Jesuit Superior General!))

IV. THE JESUITS AND FREEMASONRY

I will let the numerous quotes by John Daniel included in the "relevant quotes" section of this newsletter speak for themselves. I will only add these few short comments: The Jesuit takeover and reorganization of Freemasonry has got to be one of the greatest "intelligence operations" (and one of the greatest "deceptions") that the world has ever seen. The fact that lower-level Masons and Jesuits (and most everybody else) believe that Freemasonry and Jesuitism are opposed to each other shows how successful the DECEPTION has been! The following two quotes sum up the whole Jesuit-Freemasonry matter quite well:

"...if you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top, head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Superior General of the Jesuits] are one and the same person."

James Parton (American historian)

“The most wonderful thing of all is that the distinguished Lutheran and Calvinist theologians who belong to our [Illuminati] Order really believe that they see in it the true and genuine sense of the Christian religion. Oh, mortal man, is there any thing you cannot be made to believe?” – [Jesuit] Adam Weishaupt (founder of the “Order of the Illuminati” in 1776)

FINAL THOUGHTS

I would like to close this “Part II” of “The Jesuits” with a paragraph from Part I, and with an “Attachment” showing the pure evil of the “professed oaths” in these secret and semi-secret societies. This paragraph from Part I of “The Jesuits” explains why I wrote this two-part series on the Jesuits, and why I write my TTT newsletters in an attempt to warn Americans about the great dangers our Republic faces:
