LETS TRADE IN THE SYSTEM

Chapter 1: TAKING STOCK OF OUR SITUATION

At the center of the reality which is being projected by the puppet masters through our media lie a few core beliefs that hold it all together. These lies are multi-dimensional and are very deeply engrained in us from birth. These lies feel quite real if you let them but once you see them for what they are, you will know they are just lies and right action will become much more clear.

THE BANKING SYSTEM

Some of our problems are so old that we don't even know where they come from. Then there are problems like our banking system which there is no reason we can't trace back, understand, and dismantle.

“Let me control a people's currency and I care not who makes their laws.”

- Lord Baron M. Nathaniel De Rothschild

Every penny of interest that you pay to the bank = Debt. Debt = Slavery. This system ensures that you remain in fear and serve by working to create more money to pay back your never-ending debt. Because of its presence we are less than free to make decisions on what we shall do outside of paying back the debts that we owe to the banks. This means that IF the world was crumbling, the lands were being destroyed the water and air were being polluted, we would not be able to address this problem since it does not relate to the societal goals of the acquisition of more money > interest > debt > slavery. Infact the more problems that are created, the more opportunities there will be for the creation of more money > debt > slavery.

Real solutions which address our true relation to our environment are simply not encouraged because they in turn take power/responsibility back to the people and away from the banks. Such unity of the people is bad for business, and 'business' is what counts according to the perpetrators of this branch of lies. This has gone on long enough. We have enough problems. Know this.

The experience of God is the one uniting thread of all existence. We all come from the same place if you go far back enough, no matter how you choose look at it.

Each of us has a unique experience. In that way, our perception of the whole is unique to each of us. None will see all the same things or understand the same things. Yet in our experiences, we find that we share the same space with many others. There is something that we share that can be named... Eachother.

“Peace comes from within.
Do not seek it without.

- Buddha

Yet somehow, somewhere along the lines, somebody tried to identify that thing that we share as something else. Something outside of ourselves. Many groups created all sorts of language and stories to confuse and detract us from the truth of our own interconnectedness.

Why? Control! When you have that which is the most important(in this context, the connection to God), you have power. You have what the people want and now you can make the rules. Ever heard the term divide and conquer?

Don't get me wrong. God is great, but God is not a wrathful old man in the clouds who will strike you down to hell for pooping. God is you and me exploring ourselves. I say we best start acting like the Gods and Goddesses that we are and take back our truth as equals.

OIL SLAVERY

Without a massive change in the way that we've chosen to live, we will always be slaves to oil and the tyrants who control it.

“We're in a giant car heading towards a brick wall and everyones arguing over where they're going to sit.”

- David Suzuki

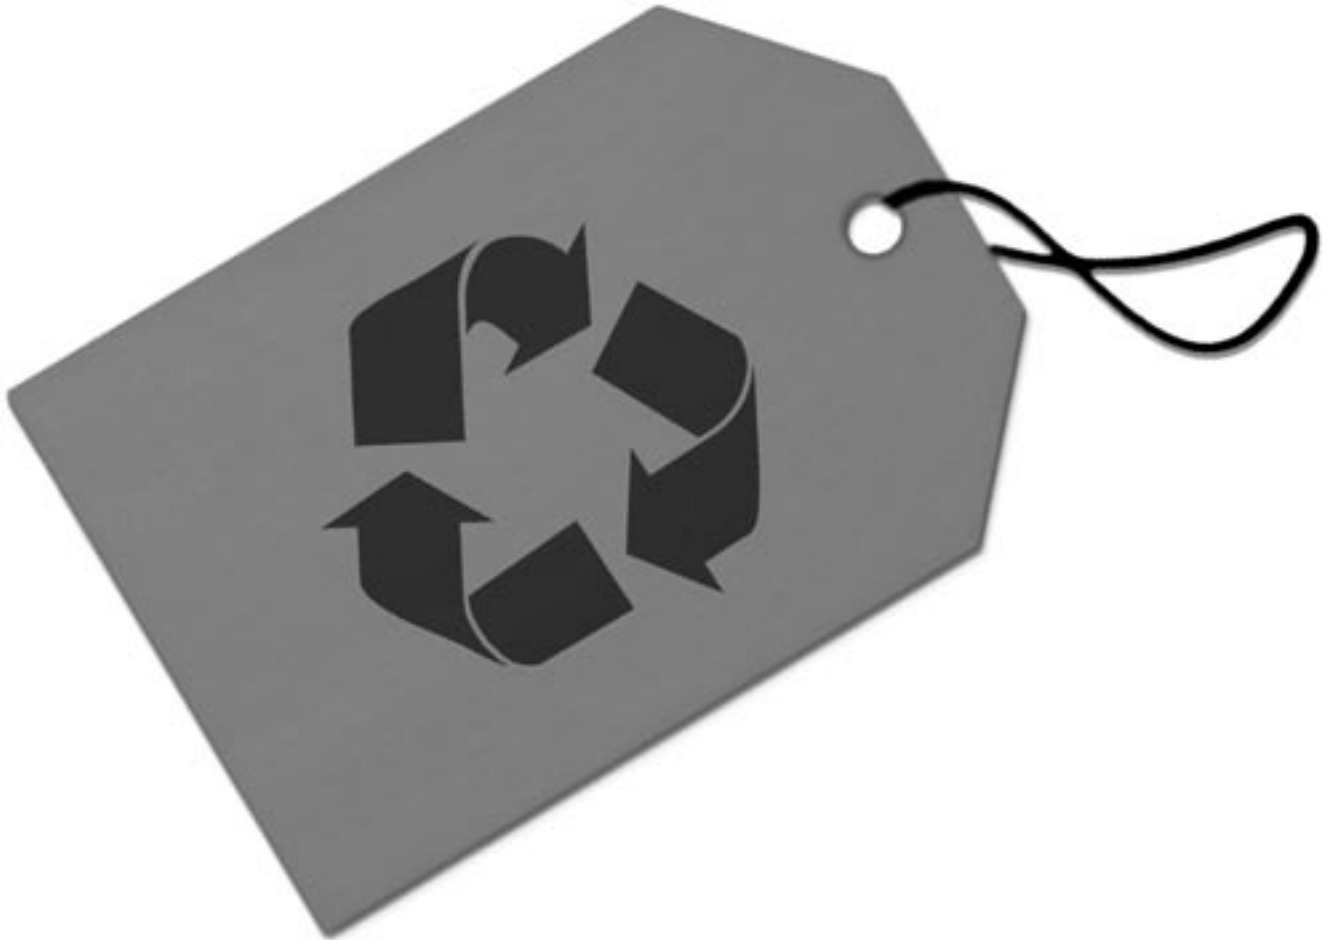

We may think we need the things that oil provides for us, but we really do not! Humans lived long upon this Earth before the discovery of oil as a fuel source. Humans lived long upon this Earth without urban centers. Humans have taken care of themselves for many more years than they have depended on systems based on lies which relate very loosely to the actual environment that they work within.

Today people are suffering because we chose to use oil. We will all one day suffer if we continue to use oil. We CAN take care of ourselves and this IS a reality we will have to accept if we are to survive, much less express true freedom.

It is simply a changing of our activities that we need. This can be looked upon as a point in our history where we have been given the option to mature and do the right thing. Take care of yourself. Take care of your environment. Deal with this now in the best way you know, or face the consequences.

“I know that most men - not only those considered clever, but even those who are very clever and capable of understanding most difficult scientific, mathematical, or philosophic, problems - can seldom discern even the simplest and most obvious truth if it be such as obliges them to admit the falsity of conclusions they have formed, perhaps with much difficulty - conclusions of which they are proud, which they have taught to others, and on which they have built their lives.”

- Leo Nikolaevich Tolstoi

Chapter 2: WHAT CAN WE DO?

Knowing the truth of your situation can bring forth great change in our collective thoughts. Knowing what our REAL problems are, we can begin to solve them in a rational manner, unclouded by the distractions of the lies that have been presented to us for thousands of years. It really comes down to changing our everyday behaviors so that we are in an attitude of harmony with our environment rather than an attitude of disharmony and destruction.

SUSTAINABLE COMMUNITY

“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world. In deed, it’s the only thing that ever has.”

- Margaret Mead

The first matter of business is to create new models for community. The urban centers that we have become so dependent on are destroying our land, our water, our air and our spirits.

There are many groups currently spreading knowledge of such community possibilities all over the world now. We can compost human waste to create fertile soil, we can harness the power of the sun and the wind for energy, we can use our homes as sanctuaries for all life fully integrated into the land as a healing, purifying centers.

PERMACULTURE

“Permaculture is revolution disguised as gardening.”

- Mike Feingold, a Permaculture Teacher at Findhorn

A large portion of the healing that must be done will be done through caring for the land through new adaptations of cultivating our food and medicine. With our knowledge of plants, and our imposable thumbs, we are able to put the most beneficial plants in all the right places to compliment not just the humans, but the environment in its entirety. What more fitting role is there for a human being than to be a gardener. A caretaker of the Earth. We must take our place as the great gardeners and heal all that we have wounded. There IS no better place for us here, given our situation.

EARTH BASED SPIRITUALITY

“There are no extra pieces in the universe. Everyone is here because he or she has a place to fill, and every piece must fit itself into the big jigsaw puzzle.”

- Deepak Chopra

In order to work on healing at this level, we must have a purpose. Our spirituality and our beliefs can be used to channel the work that we do. It is important not to use these as systems of control as we have seen many times before in the past. We must use our beliefs and our spirituality to unite. We work for the greater whole, the Earth.

When we work in service to our environment, as opposed to false idols such as money > debt > slavery, we work towards a better world. This is why we must adopt beliefs which benefit us in such a way, and the descriptive language should be known to be irrelevant and only effective on a personal level.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

“Any intelligent fool can make things bigger, more complex, and more violent. It takes a touch of genius and a lot of courage to move in the opposite direction.”

- Albert Einstien

We know that we need to heal the wounds that we've created. The Earth needs our help and if we do not address the situation, the situation will correct itself. If we are not a part of the solution, we are a part of the problem. If we are part of the problem, WE will be dealt with one way or another.

This could come in the form of natural disasters, this could also come (and this IS happening) in the form of us simply destroying eachother with our unsustainable way of life. There are many variations of manifestations of these outcomes that could be explored, but it is more important that we know what we should do, as opposed to what we should not do.

We have the technology, the community models, the core beliefs and most of all the willingness to make our relation to our environment right. The responsible solution is to put our energy right now into rebuilding here and now from THESE ruins! We must put our energy into building OUR humanity. A humanity with a future as a part of this planet. Caretakers of all life.

Come together with those who support you in this journey and create your reality. Anything that stands in your way is a small obstacle in the shadow of this dream. There is support for you, and you are support for us. It's time.

Chapter 3: STARTING THE TRANSITION

To create real networks of community is our best hope towards transitioning into full support of each other. There are barriers yes, but every indication points to the fact that we need to find our own place independent of our cultural defaults. The current systems cannot support us any longer. They speak this quite directly to us. The prices of food, fuel etc... is all going up at a steady rate. There is no question about this. We are being pushed out.

The inevitable consequence of this pattern is that an increasingly smaller group ends up with all of the money and the rest either become enslaved by aspiring to the lives of the small group, or they chose a different way to view the world and conduct themselves. With this in mind, we can create our new world in harmony with the world of our parents, just as our young must one day leave home and find their place in the world. They ARE encouraging us. We ARE supported in this.

LEAVING THE SYSTEM

“Each person must live their life as a model for others. ”

- Rosa Parks

We are being encouraged to find our own place. Nobody is out to get you. Everybody wants this to happen. Even in ALL the old texts in ALL the cultures of this world, there are reference to “prophecies” which point to groups and/or individuals that will provide salvation for human kind.

“The ‘Warriors of the Rainbow’ would show the peoples that the Great Spirit, is full of love and understanding, and teach them how to make the Earth beautiful again. These Warriors would give the people principles or rules to follow to make their path light with the world. These principles would be those of the Ancient Tribes. The Warriors of the Rainbow would teach the people of the ancient practices of Unity, Love and Understanding. They would teach of Harmony among people in all four corners of the Earth.”

Cree Prophecy

There are many, many, many variations on this theme, from the second coming of Jesus to the X-Men. The most important thing is that we have no fear when it comes to taking this stand, just like our heroes of old and our heroes of new. We must assert ourselves as the righteous light beings that we are. With the support of eachother we can make this shift. We are making this shift. We are this shift! Refuse to be wrong with your environment anymore. Don't be afraid. Jump in. Get your hands dirty with your brothers and sisters. Live your truth with all of your being! Do your best with what you have! DO IT!

WORKING WITH OUTSIDERS

“Each one has to find his peace from within.
And peace to be real must be unaffected by outside circumstances.”

- Mahatma Gandhi

Again we must hold true to the reality that we are righteous beings of light working for a positive future for all. The work we are doing by creating communities that serve the Earth is beneficial to ALL life. Even those humans who are still wrapped up in the trances projected by the mainstream media culture.

We must retain a peaceful and harmonious attitude towards the outside world for they too are an important aspect of our environment. We can accept them with open arms, teaching our wisdom openly, sharing our abundance. We can solve many of our problems by operating as an educational institute to further propagate the truth of the work we are doing. We can teach of our ways of life, our systems of life support, our philosophies and any other areas that we may find ourselves capable of teaching. Through this model we can become accepted as valued members of our greater communities, thus creating peaceful, harmonious relationships all around us.

PERPETUATING HARMONY

“It is better to live in peace than in bitterness and strife”

- Confucius

Through right relationships with our selves and our environment, we are protected and safe. This is harmony. This is peace. This is no struggle. This is the way that we live. This is the life we accept. As protectors of all that we behold, we shall create a space here on this Earth to enjoy and be grateful for the ride together as one to wherever it is we are going.

To futher this statement, I ask for your written support.

I, _____ pledge what I can, to further the development of communities that support the healing of the Earth and the encouragement of all life. I vow to put my focus on matters of this world based on my relation to the Earth and I reject any lies which serve to comprmise this relationship.
