And reducing to ashes the demons who lead the sentient beings astray
The lower part of his body has a loincloth made from a fierce tiger
With a lower hem of the skin of karakul, vulture and leopard
Showering sparks which form a mass of all-consuming fire
With brightness which reduces the sadag, lu and nyen to ashes
Flashes of red-hot lightening, rendering them immobile
As soon as it touches them
Reduce to ashes the eight classes of destructive demons
The head-ornament, the five classes of great garudas
Smile as they emerge from infinite space
Overwhelming with their majesty the black lu-demons
A lu-serpent is his beautiful blue-spotted necklace:
His hands and feet are adorned by the five classes of serpents,
Forming beautiful jewel tassels

The first part of his eighteen hands
Holds demons and vampires to his mouth
Male and female dān he gnashes headfirst
The black mountain of the demons he dries out to the very bottom
As for the attributes to the eight hands to the right:
Sword, axe and wheel; thunderbolt, mass of fire and crooked knife;
Staff and sceptre, brandished to the sky
Cutting, chopping, cleaving and hacking into pieces
All demons who create obstacles
Burning and rending them completely asunder from head to toe
Pounding them and reducing them to food and garments
As for the attributed of the right hands to the left;
He holds bow and arrow, noose and hammer;
Chain, hook and natse, the horn of a wild sheep
And al-dissolving, boiling water
Pounding, binding and beating

The host of harmful and obstructive ghosts and demons;
Tying them up, dragging them away
And reducing them to food and garments;
Burning them vanquish them
And performing the magic of bobms
The four legs are wide apart
One pair bent in, the other stretched out
Troubling and oppressing the eight classes of obstructive demons
Thunderbolts and snowstorms whirl about his body
Completely overcoming the wounded demons
As for his entourage, he is surrounded by the gekhÃ¶-gods
Accompanied by a further emanation
Of a hundred thousand divine warriors

As for the great mother, inseparably united with him-
The Queen of draplas, Logbar TsamÃ¶, The Lady of Flashing Lightning
She has three faces, six arms, and a wrathful appearance
Her body is reddish-yellow, glowing like the sun
She is the wrathful lady in the sky, shining like the sun
To the right her face is that of the water-crystal, moon
To the left, that of the fire crystal, sun
While the middle head glows like molten gold
Her hair is reddish-yellow, her diadem shines brightly
A snowstorm with flashes of lightening
Shining like fire whirls about her
In the hair-knot of fire-crystal, adorning her head
She wears a tÃ¶ding with the lustre of the sun and the moon
Her eyebrows are flickering flashes of lightning
Her eyes are shining zi-stones TA-.LA-.LA
From her ears comes the violent sound of thunder U-RU-RU
Her golden earrings tinkle, SI-LI-LI
From her nose a violent tempest whirls about,
From her gaping mouth comes a terrible gnashing of teeth
On the silken garment on the upper part of her body
Is the skin of the Eight Great Planets
On the lower part of her body
Is a loincloth of red-hot lightning
Like thunderbolt-furrows showering sparks
She is girdled with a belt of a venomous black serpent
She subdues the noxious lu and dÃ¶n
On her bracelets which shines like the sun and the moon
The twenty-eight lunar mansions are engraved
The first pair of her hands
Holds masses of fire like a golden Mount Meru,
Burning, oppressing and troubling inimical demons
The second Ã¶air hurls lassos like a rain of thunderbolts
Binding and completely piercing the demons
The last pair holds a red bobmb
As a choice offering to the mouth of the Father
Vanquishing the life-force of the demons and fulfilling her vow
Inseparably united, she joyously embraces the Father
Showing the Father her sweetly smiling face
Showing the demons her furiously wrinkled face.

After performing a meditational procedure on the union of the â€•Motherâ€• and the â •Father• time will come for the assumption of these god-forms. Both beings should be taken over forming the One. Through this act the triad will again melt into One, the Zero and origin of All.

Lesion number Four Cultivation and trafficking with Yidams part I

There are a number of ways the Seeker can attain and maintain contact with entities in other dimensions, realms and planes of existence. Through the aids of sexual magic and shamanism we find two efficient portals where we can progress as Sorcerers. Sexual magic should be considered more as a technique, than a procedure belonging to tantrism, since sexual magic is found within the mysteries of the gnostics, paganist circles, among the devotees of the true catholic church and a multitude of other branches of knowledge. Through the work of Reuss and Crowley in our part of the world the use of sexual aids in the Great Work has received a somewhat dubious reputation, much due to the very tone of language the lectures in the VIII, IX and XI degrees of the Order of Oriental Templars which were put into writing by Baphomet and circulated amongst the handful of high initiated in this order. In these lectures the gnostic and old-Christian mode for use of sexual substances and the energy evoked through it are presented, but little differs from the actual aim and technique used among the saddhus and other Tantrik initiated in the more than two-thousand years before the coming of the Christ in his form as Jeshua ben Joseff.

The sexual magic herein presented are mainly focused on how Msgr. Orphé Luchifero I interprets the work of the XI degree. In the Order of the Oriental Templars this degree was deemed to be the use of the homosexual current in nature. In our understanding this is not totally correct. All forms for intercourse in the flesh, between any sexes is considered a IX-degree working. When you turn the degree from 9 into 11, it becomes one more than the number of divine points and brings the whole act one degree higher. Just as an act of sexual magic between two humans will result in the procreation of the One “ completing the perfection. One over is a abomination, since it captures the idea of fornicating with spirits. This is considered dangerous, due to the likely experiences of succubi and incubi-phenomena and not to mention the danger of vampirism. Still, this is an important aspect in this work. The work of the IX is a procreative work, the XI is not. In use it resembles the auto-erotic techniques of the VIII, namely magical masturbation, but in this context the mass is put in reverse motion and quite suprising results could occur. We will for our work in this field choose two weapons. The trident and the vajra. The trident is a protective symbol, but it is a lot more than that. It is the very fire of the soul, spirit and the body combined as it is leaping forth from the flames of fornication. The vajra is our defensive shield, the lustral fire that is connected to the divine braze and the breath of the thunder as it is seen amongst the eyes and wings of godhood.

One of the forms of sexual magic that we are going to use is a technique widely used and can be recognised in various orders under a multitude of names. Whether name it is familiar to you, we will in this lesion work it according to the theory of Master Azothâ €™s definition of the secrets of XI. The technique it self is fairly easy since it is based upon internal manipulation of a god form that can be projected and thus becoming an external form and therefore make the basic for succubi and incubi phenomena. This state is recognised by its highly intoxicated state of divine overflowing and can result in the Seeker becoming the Oracle and further it can leads into unhealthy obsession. First the Seeker should invoke the godform desired. Sit, stand or position yourself in a form of asana that resembles the deity. At this stage you should use any bodily possibility, limbs and facial movements “ whatever to assume the godform. Vibrate the name of the deity in a slow, rhythmically manner. Try to pronounce the name with both inward breathing and the exhalation. At the same time have a fixed image of the deity in you minds eye. For each exhalation imagine that the deity grows larger and larger. That its luminosity and complexity becomes more and more vivid. When the image is starting to fill the totally of you, start to masturbate. When climaxing, visualise that the orgasmic flood turns inwards and explode rapidly through the being that has grown inside of you. Allow this rush to give the deity life inside of your body. And quite all thoughts as this happens offering your mind to the invoked deity. Explore the raised forcefield and use to allow the deity to use your flesh as it desire. The field raised by giving life to an invoked being in this manner has proven to be a extremely highly charged environment for occult inspiration, so you should use the magnetism in this field. The effect will disintegrate after 20-30 minutes and the internal manipulation should start to fade. If you feel awkward or still ruled by this deity two hours after the ritual is over you could either go to sleep for a short period of time or perform a banishing.

When this technique is mastered the Seeker will instead of building up the deity within perform the Act of Externalising, that is to project the image given life and subtlety in the inner to assume a form in the outer. This is simply done by projecting the image of the invoked deity out from ajna-chakra at the first seconds of orgasm. Keep your eyes closed as this happens and keep focused that the being has been projected outwards and will now appear in front of you in the form you have invoked in into. As this belief is firm in your mind, open your eyes slowly and notice you surroundings and all its oddity.

Further exploration in this field can be performed by using masks and the assumption of animal-forms. Animal-forms are an important aspect of any magical training and especially within the arcana of BÃ¶t, where shamanistic elements are evident. The procedure for raising the animal consciousness is pretty much the same as when you work with gods and goddesses. But this can also be done without using the orgasm as such. In the first stages it might be a better idea to take on the animal-form chosen by firstly reading a bit about the habits of the chosen animal and its special features and characteristics. When you assume the animal form place yourself on all four in your temple and slowly build up the consciousness that you are now this or that animal, allowing the human side of you to fade out into Naught. Use whatever helps you attain this state. Sounds, walking around on all four, masks, fur, whatever you feel is appropriate. And there is absolutely no reason to feel stupid performing this procedure. Imitation will bring you to realisationâ€¢. There are also sexual procedures to use within this arcana of animal and insectoide forms that serves to use for qlipphotic workings, but those procedures is not contained in this monograph, since it will lead the practitioner astray of the path of the Brilliant White. When the animal-form is successfully achieved the Seeker will apply the traditional visualisation of a deserted landscape with trees and sand where he or she will find a secret passage to the underworld. Passing down into the Underworld the Seeker must have a clear reason for doing such. If you take on the form of for instance a fox to transgress to the lower realms you must have a purpose with your journey. Declare this intention at the beginning of your ritual. To search for a guide, a deity, oracular rites, healing-formulas, power objects whatever. But you should have a reason for going down!

There is a secret method of sexual revolting that includes the assumption of animal-forms that are being given sexual food for the sake of fornication with the gods in the shape of an animal. This practice is extremely dangerous and will bring forth dangerous mutant-weregods. If such methods are applied, the Seeker should have a very good reason for doing such unless he or she will have constructed a being on the astral that will evolve rapidly efficient skills for vampirism and unhealthy intoxication of the Seekers nervous system and mental layers.

The succubi/incubi effect in the externalisation of the godform should be sufficient. Further, when this procedure are mastered to such a degree that you know that the deity is there you can perform different sexual acts with the deity. But the important point is the consummation of the elixir the deity produces in this joining of man and god, which is a very potent eucharist indeed. The last stage in this formulae is achieved when the deity is clearly (by sight or notion) skin to skin with the Seeker and the orgasm is produced from the point of the yab-yum position with the deity. In this position one should seek to join linga-yoni-wise and remember that all these gods are androgynous. If you are a female working with Chamma, you simply visualise her with a linga. The same is with a male copulating with Meri, for instance. Visualise that he has a yoni. Take care not to perform any linga-colon-copulation in this regard, since anal intercourse " in the ordinary world as well as the astral will produce a very different occult circuit for working suitable for other means than ours.

There is also another aspect of the tantrik shamanism of BÃn that should be worked with. That is the cultivation of the dreamstate. This is perhaps a safer ally to work within, but on the other hand " maybe not. We will explore shortly how we can cultivate trafficking abilities within the dreamstate and also explore shortly the technique known as Karezza, which has proved enormously efficient and enormously obsessive. A tale from the early practices of the Master Azoths occult training will show its beneficial aspects as well as its more obsessive qualities. This will be treated in the next lesson.

Lesson number Five Cultivation and Trafficking with Yidams part II

Karezza is an old tantrik technique adopted by many practitioners of the western occult mysteries for producing vividly of external visualisation and obtaining contact with god. Again we speak about a pretty simple technique which produces the most infernal results. Karezza was formally introduced to the west by the adept Thomas Lake Harris and the procedure consists of performing masturbation focused upon a chosen sigil, form or image without allowing the masturbation to climax into orgasm. Instead you will build up the electric tension over and over again, continually focused upon the sigil or form allowing this sexual exhaustion to end in Sleep. This will bring forth a most peculiar process where the building up of the magnetic radioactivity will seek its fulfilment in the Dream-state. Through this technique you will have applied a tremendous invocation of a desired force that will hunt you down in the Dreamlands. In this state the desired form will be drawn to the massive electrical forcefield built up around your astrality and due to the law of esoteric magnetism it will seek congress with you. For a successful achievement of producing occult coitus with this form the sigil of concentration must be imprinted on the being when it comes down upon you; if not, this procedure will not produce any desirable occult results. Pay attention that this formulae is very close to the true mechanisms of fornication with succubi and incubi and should be proceeded with great care. I.e. you should be absolutely sure about why you are performing this ritual! Also important to mention is that some people has naturally a higher level of natural sexual electricity and is more prone for instant encounters with these beings, thus faster is able to bring them forth into mental and physical planes. Especially those who have a heavy watery nature and exploiting fiery nature. Let us take a look at two separate cases to illustrate the potency, beneficial aspect and the dangerous aspect of these kind of workings.

Due to a bhakti-yoga the Master Azoth incorporated Karezza for bringing a deity closer to his ontological sphere. This resulted in obsession but turned out to end in very desirable results. After approx. 40 days of traditional bhakta-yoga Karezza was introduced by forming a sigil of the deity's name. After one night nothing happened, except for a horrible awakening where Azoth felt drained of all energy. Dizziness and small convulsions followed during the day. The bhakta-procedures were still followed " four times this day. Upon going to bed, he again performed Karezza. This time something happened. The image of a past lover of his appeared in the dream and they had coitus. Upon awakening Azoth felt weird and still the dizziness continued. He realised that the fault he had committed was not to hold the sigil firm in mind upon sleeping and neither had he resumed the sigil when the form of this past lover appeared. This day he again performed the bhakta-sequences four times, but the 1st and 3de were VIII-degree workings, in an attempt to attract the deity through a firmly radioactive sphere. Upon going to bed, he decided to sleep in the temple, again performing Karezza until sleep carried him away. This night the past lover came again, but this time the sigil was kept vivid also in this state so he burned the sigil in the brow and between the breasts of this form whereupon she shed her skin and appeared as a fierce, beautiful black female. They fornicated, while Azoth the whole time was focused on imprinting the sigil all over her body " and especially into her eyes. Upon awakening his belly was covered with seamen and the sheet he had brought into the temple was thrown into a corner of the room. Soft spots on his body " like invisible bruises could be felt in the groin and all around the chest. Anahata-chakra and Svadhisthana-chakra was clearly infected by something. Later on that day he experienced a violent obsessive, energised flow of energy and the breathing followed strange patterns, indicating that also Visuddha and Ajna-chakra was set into play. The Karezza-procedure continued for another week with quite similar results until Azoth deemed it unhealthy to carry it on any longer due to the heavy influx of obsessive elements in his character and life. It took time before the solidity of the encounters at night disintegrated, but he was left with an immensely important spiritual guide, that has guided his path ever since".

Another story is about a very potent bruja. A natural born witch with a natural high sexual radioactivity. A Leo-woman with moon in Cancer. She performed Karezza once and received immediate results of a dangerous nature. Firstly she had not any clear idea of what of why she wanted to call forth something. Secondly she had no sigil for her intention or for the being. She simply made herself ready for rape by whatever may come around. What happened was that she woke up during the night in a violent way feeling that she had something inside of her. When opening her eyes, she immediately noticed the shadow of a beast of the wall " on top of her! She got scared and started to scream only to receive flashes of a gleaming demon fucking her to pieces. Probably she fainted by this agony happening to her and woke up later that night telling herself that this was an evil dream. But the bloodtraces from her yoni and the odd marks on her shoulders and breasts told another story.

You might think that these encounters are too fantastic to be real, but these are first-hand encounters. The Leo-woman was Master Azoth's assistant for a short period of time when they worked with quite dark sexual magic. Needless to say, she turned her back to magic due to this encounter. She also indulged into self-destructive sexual behaviour for an extended period of time. This example illustrates several important matters, but most of all it tells you that you should plan this procedure carefully and it also tells how efficient these techniques are for atavistic resurgence. So, in other words, this is a splendid sexo-shamanistic technique. When it comes to sexuality, we will look closer on this subject further in this lesson. But for now let us concentrate on the dreamstate and how to cultivate lucid dreaming.

Dream-Yoga is both a shamanistic practice and it is also a Yoga in its own right.. The procedure is simple, but the degree of patience and discipline needed might turn out to be a too strong demand for those weak of structure and discipline. When once cultivated, this faculty, or siddhi, if you like will never be lost. Once you have accumulated this learning into your body and mind it will never be lost. When not concentrated on it will stay dormant, when concentrated on - it will come back into the waters of the time-lines. Never is a luminous being so fluid as when he or she is in the dreamstate. This state carries remnants to the spheres evoked through sorcery when the sorcerer is possessed, inspired or fulfilled by some spirit. You then enter into the Threshold-kingdom where your reason must die and the Naught shall remain and endure until the end. The most Holy Lama Namkai Norbu gives a very good advice that is often overlooked by westerners in their practices with these streams of power:

• In the Dzogchen school there is the constant advice from teacher to student that one must not be attached to experience for its own sake. Western approaches also encourage a systematic analysis of the content of dreams, whereas Dzogchen teachers encourage practitioners not to dwell upon dream phenomena • - Namkai Norbu; Dream Yoga and the practice of Natural Light, Snow Lion, 1992, USA

We are of the same opinion as the Dzogchen-school of Buddhist teachings, you should by all means preserve the fluidity. Through dreams All is possible. Through dreams access to all lines of time is possible. When this practice has been cultivated to perfection, the entering of these states are for a few Masters open all time, through meditation. The constant access to the realms of dream is sometimes called by shamans to • see •. This signifies that some layers of this vast plane is dawning upon the sorcerer so he or she is able to • see • the total picture of their surroundings. We will not concern us with this issue yet, much because it will arise as a natural consequence for those with this disposition. But how is awareness in dreams cultivated? As earlier mentioned, it is fairly easy. First you will find something to concentrate on, a syllable, a sign, form, point. Something that is easy to hold on to. You should not use complicated symbols, then your mind will wander around in contemplative porridge and disturbing the free flow towards the peak of dream-awareness. When you go to bed you should be calm and quiet, no unbalance in the gunas should be hidden from you and you should focus your mind on your chosen symbol for ten minutes or so. Breathing should slow down a bit during these ten minutes. When you feel drowsy you should close your eyes and still maintain the image of your chosen symbol in your mind •™s eye and fall into sleep with this firmly fixed. When you sense that you are about to slide into the dream-state tell yourself that this symbol will keep you alert and aware and keep on concentrating on the symbol. When you have entered the dream-state, alert it is truly a peculiar condition. All lucid dreaming and dream-control has the features common for extremely vivid dreams. You have had them your self •“ dreams so intense that you use a few moments telling yourself that this was just a dream •. The truth is that a dream is never just a dream, it is a sacred space of multidimensional possibilities. The dream-state is a common ground for existence for angels and men, demons and elementals alike. The rewards for obtaining lucidity are so profane that the practice it self has lead some neophytes into obsession. When you are in the dreamstate you should try to perform some fantastic acts like flying, jumping and divining. The sensations are incredible. Remember that after this state is cultivated you will have prepared a gateway that always is easy to open •“ from both sides. A few words of concern in the ending, again from the wisdom of Namkai Norbu:

When the State of dreaming has dawned, do not lie in ignorance like a corpse,

Enter the natural sphere of unwavering attentiveness.

Recognise your dreams and transform illusion into luminosity

Do not sleep like an animal. Do the practice which mixes sleep and reality •

- Namkai Norbu; Dream Yoga and the practice of Natural Light, Snow Lion, 1992, USA

Now we will look at the selections and features of the yidams we can work with using one or several of the techniques so far mentioned in these teachings.

Magy ¼ Sangchog Tartug is known as the • Supreme Secret of Mother Tantras, Attaining the Limit •. This yidam is presented as a male. He has 16 arms, each of them are holding a skull-bowl containing blood and a fresh heart. He has seven heads in the colours blue, yellow, dark blue, white and green. The upper and lower heads are red and white. His body is dark blue and two enormous wings are attached to his back. On his lap, with his penis inside of her is Kyema Marmo, the • Red Khyema •, with her red body completely naked, only adorned with precious jewels, her tongue outstretched. Green smoke oozes forth from their loins.

Trowo Tsochog Khagying is "Wrathful One, Supreme Lord Towering in the Sky". He has three heads, six arms and a dark blue body. In his right hands he holds a banner, sword and axe. In the left he holds a bow, arrow a hook and a hexagram. His throne is supported by the garuda, the elephant, the lion, the horse and the dragon. His consort is the red-bodied Khala Dugmo, "Furious Lady in the Sky". For both of these deities mantras like: BSVO!, HALA and CHA is working very well Wels Ngampa and Meri is also yidams of great importance, but these will be discussed in the next two lesions.

Lesion number Six Truth unfolding in the hands of the Revelator

Welche Ngampa is the focus for this lesion. He is known as the revelator of the Bon-teachings and is most important. He is displayed with 16 arms, dark blue body and a consort of a dark green complexion. Both of them has fangs and staring eyes. His consort, Ngammo Yumchen s displayed with widely exposed genitals and anus. Blood-pink at both endings symbolising the state of Threshold-ness found within the union of these two points.

Accepting the Truth is quite different from being in the truth. Being in truth is being in Death, embracing Pain like it was Love. Our world is ruled by Death, Sorrow and Despair. Those who knows these forces as brilliant powers controlling our restrained condition are close to the revelation awaiting the adept on the Threshold-Kingdom. This Truth is hard to embrace, much easier to deny. Denial arises with explanation. There will always be an explanation for all cruelty that hits your life, if you won't find one you start to worry and your worry can render you insane. Fear is the child of worry, worry is the offspring of the explanation. No explanation are Truth, it is a veil of discomfort we adjust against. Without death there is nothing. The Lord Yama is the loathsome and fearsome King of Truth. All Matters are disintegrating and all Matters done by the hand and the flesh must turn into shava. Not until you reach the state of the cremation-ground will Truth unfold itself for you.

There is a mystic teaching telling about that the true priests are those who has sworn themselves to the Light behind the Kingdom of Death and walks this earth just as Death would. Common people and even advanced Seekers are not able to see this Truth, cause the intensity of Death is shrouded by the most intense Light. These adepts and hidden mauses are wandering the earth even today in their mission to reclaim the Light from the darkness and share the bliss within their community. Often their kindness is seen, often their Death is hidden and occult. This should be a part of the goal, a piece in the throbbing puzzle in the midst of your chest.

Denial is not to refuse to accept things, it rests on the explanation of things that happens. Not all things happens due to a divine reason for it. Often things happen because you are a fool, stupid and acts against your True interests. Some people say that the Butterfly-effect is a reason. It is not. It is an explanation of a cause. People should tend to have less opinions and re-connect to their heart instead of fooling around in speculative wilderness. The domains of diffused and lost minds that only brings you further into the land of confusion and psychological massmurders. Pay attention!

Now, perform this meditation. Go into your temple, light a solitary candle for your Guardian angel or a spirit close to you. Call the spirit forth and ask the spirit to show you the Truth. Nothing more, nothing less. DO NOT ELABORATE ON THIS! Be clear and simple " like life. Light a pure incense, like sandalwood or musk and blow out the candle. Lie down on the floor and close your eyes. Visualise the appearance of your angel while you breathe slower and slower. Let the smoke of the incense fill your whole body. This is the smoke from the cremation-ground and it fills you more and more. Imagine the angel arising within you and ask in a whisper that Truth shall be revealed for you. If this proves difficult, simply hold your breath as long as possible and visualise the angel at the precise point when your prana leaves your body. This should give nice results within a very brief period of time.

Why are you doing the things you are doing? Why are your interests for this and that, such and such? What are the boundaries of folly and wisdom? Why are you reading these papers WelsÃ© Ngampa is the revelator of Truth, the Father Tantra. It is time for you to make a pact with him, so he can reveal the Truth for you. For this ritual you will need one dark-blue candle and one deep red. Presented in the circle should be some strong liquor and red wine. These will be consummated by the sadhaka.

You will start the ritual shouting BSVO! PATH! To the eight corners of the universe and calling forth the line of deceased naths and the powers of your guru. All in the name of protection. Then you will go on to call forth the eight protectors of Bon by their names: SipÃ© Gyalmo, NyipangsÃ©, Menmo, Machen Pomra, MidÃ¼ Champa traggo, Yeshey Welmo, Tsen Hurwa, YumsÃ©. You will repeat each name nine times. Use a mala for this purpose, turning the calling forth of these protectors into a prayer. Then you will turn to the west and call forth WelsÃ© Khagying. He will appear in shifting forms, but always accompanied by the bear-faces door-keeper of the west and within a pond of garudas. Greet him with the words: BSVO HA BA BZHI!. Then you will turn to the south and call forth TumsÃ© Khagying. He will appear with a makra-faced door-keeper and a tiger-faced god. Greet also him with the words: BSVO HA BA BZHI!. Then you will turn to the east and call forth TrosÃ© Khagying. He will appear with a lion-faced door-keeper and a dragon. Greet him with the same words. Lastly you will turn to the north where you will call forth NgamsÃ© Khagying. He will appear on a yak with a dragon-faced god. Greet him with the same words as you greeted the other deities. All these beings has dark blue hue. Imagine now how a brilliant red consort comes forth from a place between these guardians. They all are naked and moist juices are oozing forth from their yonis making their legs wet. Imagine that they start to indulge into divine pleasure. Then you will whisper forth WelsÃ© Ngampa and his consort, Ngammo Yumchen. He dark blue, she mauve green. Both with gazing eyes and fangs. Imagine that they enter the circle from the northern gate and sit down under you, so that you rest amongst their bodies as they indulge in yabyum. Now you will start to masturbate. While you are performing this act imagine that the tension of the guardians fornication becomes greater and greater. Feel the sexual atmosphere. When orgasm is achieved collect the elixir immediately into a cup and mix it with wine and the strong liquor immediately and drink it down. Allow your self to stay in this exalted state as long as possible â€œ and if possible allow the spirits to carry you away into the kingdom of ZhangZhung. After the completion of this ritual go immediately to bed and let the spirits work on you as the night brings you into the neatherlandsâ€.

Fire is in many senses the highest point of manifestation. In fire we will find creativity. Worthy of notice is also the ability of fire to burn. Set waters and earth aflame, shroud the sun and the moon in flames. For most sadhakas the mountain Kailash is significant. The mountain where Parvati and Shiva joins. The sun and the moon joins to bring forth the child of fire. In the teachings of BÃ¶n, the mountain is fire. Meri is the mountain and Meri as the mountain of fire is ZhangZhung, the sacred kingdom in the heights. Meri is golden yellow and he is adorned with a leather helmet and golden armour. He has nine heads many of them antropomorphic with the heads of different kinds of birds. He has eighteen

Dead waters washing over my body and force the tiger to rest and give birth to the bear of the ocean shores. My eyes melt away to give place to the sight of the hoopoe's gaze. Diving through woods of fire, calming my sinking downways in liquid scent.

At the Western gate say: ༄•sKulha yo bhya. BSVO! sMin byed ma From liquid scent mermaids and mer-men rise in the font of snow. Rip clean my body for skin and flesh and cover my nakedness in the leopard's dress. Eyes eaten by acid-water, new forms are being born and I explore my maps with the eyes of the Crow.

At the north-western gate say: sPungs chen muwer BSVO! Ting rgyung tsa med ma. Running through melting snow, hitting seeds, earth and corn. A slow swirl of compressed water shreds my fur and restructure me into the form of the elephant. Croweyes turning into the ravens-eyes, fair and renewed.

At the Northern gate say: sKu lha mu thur. BSVO! Ting rgyung tsa med ma. I am dropping my trunk as the snow gets colder, the earth darker. The ground is frozen into a solar flower of dirt. Fur growing and I assume the form of the yak. Ravens eyes turn cold as I contemplate the coldness of sex and within I see with the eyes of the eagle, ready to take flight in the hour of prey.

At the north-eastern gate say ༄•srid pa mu wer BSVO! Ring snyan tsa med ma. Through the elements pure and the coldness extreme I take on the form and face of the rat and restore my sight with the eyes of demons. Reflected and contaminated. Contemplated and rectified. I am the messenger, the oracle of the demon-bird who speaks what the body bring to silence!

I call forth: Pus has dung rgyung BSVO!

I call forth: shugs sgröl ma and the dragon-faced messengers of the Holy Cities above!

I call forth: su lha pra plud BSVO!

I call forth ༄•gso byed ma the wild Boar with the wolverines blood and eyes from below!

AUM AUM AUM SET THE ORACLE OF THE SACRED TRIDENT AFLAME!

You should then position your self in the middle of the circle, reciting the mantric bee-noise BSVO! Until the gods are rising from within your very being setting your hidden oracular reservoirs of power aflame and the wisdom of the yidams are ready to enlighten your being as you go down, down down to the sacred lake and to the realm of the sacred kingdom of ZhangZhung. Allow your self to be taken down while you are truly burning with the intoxication of the forms that has passed through you, knowing that all those forms still live on within in the bodymind of the tantrik shaman.

The shaman knows no fear, no limits for the boundaries of knowledge. All secrets are revealed in that point where sex meets death and the bindu of unmoveableness are unfolded in the moving of the moved for just a fragrant of a moment. You will have to face the fears you might have and force your self into the everburning pralaya. What this indicates is that to submit to Meri is to submit to change, a change that might be painful and also be followed by the feeling of ignorance on your way to burn the ignorance into dust and air. The way of the Warrior is needed to accomplish this task also known as the Great Work. The way of the Warrior is the way of the tantrikas and the shamans. The tantrik path should be for you who read these papers have a somewhat clear meaning for you at this juncture in time. However the way of the Shaman is much like the way of the Yathu and the old witches of the ༄•nameless art. the path is significant cause it deals with the magnetic relation between the Shaman and his guides. The shaman will often induct into him self stillness of mind so he can travel to the land below to obtain the secrets of the past, present and future to help his self and his community to become more prosperous. But for the solitary tantrik witch-shaman the understanding, realisation and use of the powers of the Yidams are just as important. There has been many ways to understand shamanism. Most frequently people think about the travel to the kingdom of the dead while monotonous chanting and drumming is performed. And true enough, the techniques the shaman use are widely known and will be readily found in any textbook concerning this subject in satisfying ways. What seldom is treated is the condition of the Shaman. This condition has been researched within The Chandra Tala House, a cult set aside for the preservation of the worship of Pashupati-Shiva, but at the same time it is also an attempt to join the stratas of shamanism with tantra, it is still tantrik " since this is the tradition the house are preserving, but the means used will indicate that the condition of the Shaman is also developed and exercised in an attempt to draw even more power and energy from the shadow-realm of Lord Shiva.

There are in my opinion two more matters that should be discussed in relation to our subject. One of them is a discussion of the condition of the Shaman, along with some techniques for inducing trance into the sadhaka. Then the method for opening the fourfold way of vision to enter Karnag Tasel, the temple of wisdom guarded by the Sinpos, or rightly demons. I call this the four-fold way of vision and with this the secrets of the hand and the eye should be kept in mind and through these means the oracular road to the temple will be opened. One of the most efficient Sorcerers that has brought himself into writing, telling about the shamanistic condition is Carlos Castaneda especially in books like "The Fire from Within" and "Tales of Power". The condition of the warrior is quite alike in all cultures and we will use the wisdom of Don Juan to enlighten the desired condition that should be established by the sorcerer of Bon as well.

Lesion Eight The Priesthood of ZhangZhung

The priests and priestesses of the Holy Tantrik kingdom of ZhangZhung is not only priests and priestesses. They have chosen the path of the warrior-priest, the path of the sorcerer. This path is found in many strands of occult lore and teaching and the path demands the same qualities of unpeckability from all its adepts. The Yidam NyinpangsÃ© is particular important to ZhangZhung. Mostly because of his role as guardian deity of the meditational teachings of the Holy Kingdom, the Dzokpa Ahangzhung nyengyÃ¼, which means "The Great Perfection, the Aural Transmission of Zhangzhung". This Yidam is without demonic attributes and is reminiscent of total fluidity " the fluid of Space and a crystal-white aura. He is further portrayed as a mighty king, clad in white robes and wearing a turban. He is riding a white horse and in his hands he holds a banner of white silk. To obtain the condition where you place yourself under the peas found within the meditative core of Bon at the Mount TisÃ© you will sit down in your temple and meditate on this being with the attempt of becoming one with him and letting the teachings of the priesthood filling you. You can use the following short formulae as a help for obtaining focus:

BSVO! Do not forget, do not forget, your former oath do not forget, NyipangsÃ©, do not forget your sadhaka here in the monastery of light Protector of the Doctrine's Word, King of draplas, King NyipangsÃ©
Inspire me with the Word and the image of Wisdom cha-ra-ra Ihup-sÃ©-lhup tra-la-la de,-sÃ©-dem cha-ra-ra dring-sÃ©-dring bup-sÃ©-bup
With your entourage of emanations and secondary emanations
Without forgetting your former oath, your former Word
We implore you to come like lightning, with magic feet
We implore you to come with a loving mind, like a mother
We implore you to come with a longing mind, like a friend

BSVO-cha-la-la-cha-la-la BSVO-cha-la-la-cha-la-la NyipangsÃ© inspire my mind
My heart, my eyes and soul. BSVO!

It will be very proper now to discuss the teachings of the shaman Don Carlitos in this regard and through him try to reflect on the fact that the priest of ZhangZhung is both a priest and a warrior as well as a tantrik and a shaman. The priest is All. To be a shaman is to deliberately place your self into a situation where you live so close to death that you really will be able to feel the importance of your actions. Concepts such as dreaming and seeing is crucial. The shamanistic sorcerer is occupied with building a bridge between the worlds where he can tap into either of them at any time. To achieve this one must â€œquiet the inner dialogueâ€œ. This is very important, to make you thinking shut up. If this is not accomplished, the path of the sorcerer will remain closed for you â€œ because you refuse to use the key you are given. The occult meaningful contents in dreams are another strata of this conditions. Dreams are important and formulas for lucid dreaming should be employed to achieve a certain success in the art of dreaming. Why? Because we are building bridges between the Otherworld and Thisworld. Castaneda speaks much about the â€œwarriors impeccabilityâ€œ. What does he mean with this? Well, a warrior must renounce his self-importance, routines and erase personal history. When this is accomplished you will obtain a certain degree of fluidity and will be more in tune with All. This is not easy. Don Juan speaks about several possibilities in regard to the paths we use when we are confronted with unusual life-situations. Then our habits will take action. And you will follow either the bigotâ€™s way, which occurs when you disregard what has happened. Then you have the way of the pious man where you accept everything at face value and think you know whatâ€™s going on all times due to the signs around you. The third path is the obsessive part, signified by doubt. Neither can you reject, neither fully accept-. This is also the foolâ€™s way. All these paths are foolish. â€œThe warrior acts as if nothing had ever happened, because he doesnâ€™t believe in anything, yet he accepts everything at its face value. He accepts without accepting and disregards without disregardingâ€œ. In many ways the task of the tantrik shaman is the same as meeting the knights of chivalry when they must face and understand the points of the Sphinx. To dare, to will, to understand, to shut up. When you embark on this path your life will be signified by one element â€œ change. Life will be an everlasting chain of changes and the worst you can do is to complain about it. With changes challenges are born. There is no such thing as a bad challenge or a good challenge. They simply are a natural birth of the way of the sorcerer.

â€œBe reasonableâ€œ! or notâ€™.? Reason is connected much to talking, to the inner dialogue and is of course a good tool when used in its proper place. Often Reason is only reflecting a philosophical and analytic ability within the sorcerer that is not too useful. People think, talk and reason too much. Reason is also connected to the occult layers like feeling, dreaming and seeing, but in an indirect way. Reason will never manage to filter into talking the contents of these three concepts ruled by the Will, occult speaking. I will not tell you not to be reasonable â€œ because that would be to embrace the foolâ€™s way. Everything is needed, but be careful. Feel before you think, see before you speak and dream before you exercise your will.

The path of the sorcerer is difficult because it opens the gates to the real world. For us this world is alien and strange and we will with our reason have difficulties adapting to the realness in the other if we rely too much on the mechanics of logic and stability. The essence of All is fluid. Without the fluid nature nothing will ever change and challenges that makes us more and more of the warrior will never occur.

The trials and tribulations in Thisworld will induct pain and grief into the sorcerer. This is unavoidable. Sorrow is a sign of partaking into the inner essence of nature. But even if we can not avoid pain and grief the warrior will not indulge in them. Basically we are alone with our pain, that is our condition and we alone choose whether the grief will induct liberation or if we will indulge into it â€“ becoming more of Thisworld and less of Otherworld. The knowledge of the warrior is soaked with grief, but he never indulges into it. Still a warrior is joyous, because he has accepted his fate and truthfully assessed what lies ahead of him. Now, this might sound like a cold, negative path. But it is not, it cannot be, because the condition of solitude is based upon affection and devotion to his beloved, the earthâ€. This love is much like physicks. It attracts and rejects.

I have written all too few words about the path of the warrior and the condition of the shaman. This is deliberately. Think with your senses and hear with your feelings. Walk humbly, always and know that a warrior walks silent among us without stirring the Thisworld. Your adoration and respect for the divine should induct this humbleness, and when you reach this humbleness you will understand that it is humbleness shrouded with power and dignity. Meditate hard on this: How should I obtain my encounter with Knowledge? A few clues are to be focused on the Otherworld, quiet your inner dialogue and mentally building bridges between knowledge and feeling based upon our animalistic ancestry. To obtain this, the condition is carnal. To embark upon the path of the warrior just to obtain some otherworldly results is rubbish. It is the condition that is the most important. Lack of self-importance, the erasing of personal history and the humbleness. AND, you must at some stage realise the immense reservoirs of power incapsuled in this condition.

Lesion Nine Working the Black Spot

â€In the land of GÃ Gya a prince is born; because thirty magic letters appear on his body, he is called KongtsÃ, â€Having Magic Letters of Powerâ€, and later he became known asâ€ The Magic King KongtsÃâ€. As an act of piety, the prince decides to build a temple in the middle of a lake; as this task is impossible to accomplish for ordinary humans, he scrutinises the magic letters in his hand and realises that in a former life he was allied to a hundred demons, sinpo. He accordingly travels to the land of demons; they promise to help him, but only on condition that he keeps their aid secret. The demons lay the foundation of the temple. KongtsÃâ€™s wife however, discovers the reason for her husbandâ€™s long absence. She comes to the lake, whereupon the demons, released from their promise, abandon the site. KongtsÃ now travels to the border between the land of gods and the land of demons; here he receives the prophecy that the cha deity KengtsÃ LenmÃ will complete the construction. Together with a thousand artisans, KengtsÃ LenmÃ proceeds to the capital, where Shenrap instructs him in how to construct the temple. Flying through the air and surrounded by a thousand master artisans, KengtsÃ LenmÃ arrives at the lake and the construction of the temple is completed. It is given the name Karnag Tasel, â€Brilliantly White-and-Black Spottedâ€. Because KongtsÃ had broken the vow of secrecy, an army of demons no returns and tears down the temple, except for the foundations. A monster, resting at the bottom of the lake, awakens, and rising to the surface, is on the point of swallowing the foundations as well. On seeing this KongtsÃ is terrified; he turns to the sky and utter a pitiful cry. The cry is heard by Shenrap, who immediately appears, surrounded by his entourage of spiritual Heroes. Entering the temple which appears as if by magic, he emits rays of light in all directions, and transforming himself into Nampar Gyalwa, The Fully Victorious One, the subduer of demons he emanates four fierce deities. The latter terrify the army of demons, who flee back to the land of darkness; the king of demons is converted and transformed into a young god who becomes the guardian of the templeâ€.

Many occult people and other occultists are drawn to beings and anti-beings termed â€demonsâ€. What is it this term signifies? In many instances the demons one speak about is one's own bad habits or humanoid drift towards temptations. The demons named gyalgong are a kind of such demons. An archeonic layer of misdirected desires that we should attempt to break through. The term "fighting one's own demons" are not unfamiliar, but how many sadhakas take this task seriously and walk humbly in truth upon the path of War?

In Tibet demons are found within an immense large scale of which the nagas. Snake-spirits are the most important one to work with for a vama-marga-sadhaka. We find also the lu-demons, female serpentine beings of unstable neptunian quality that might or might not bestow blessings and great progress on the sadhaka, but most important are the sinpos. It is said that the sinpos always hear, so to call them should be simple. At this stage in the lesions the sadhaka should be fully prepared to research this area for them self. The word is SINPO BSVO. Your temple should be furnished in a proper way and rituals should be selected and altered from those presented in these texts.

When you work demonic points at some point in the ceremonies the demons are bound to take you over. People saying that you could just go on working with demons cause it is not as dangerous as reputed are very wrong. It's more dangerous that anyone outside the magical communities could imagine. An initiate of the Uttara kaula Tantrikas performed a bhakti on the prime goddess in this tradition (very unknown and out of scope for this treatise). At a certain point in these procedures he referred to me that he was for a period in a state where he was totally under the aegis of this entity. And let me tell you that it showed! He said that his soul was filled with ice and ice was what his eyes gleamed of. Unfriendliness, arrogance and heavy misanthropy was the other consequences that this demoness infused into his beings. At the same time the bhakti was executed more often "until the sadhaka had suddenly won the war. That is an alignment had been made between the practitioner and the evoked. In some traditions this is bound to happen., the body apparently representing a more perfect microcosmos than many of us are aware of.

To really understand the powers you are about to hook into, the concept of shape-shifting are very important. This is the most fundamental power of the Sorcerer. As is seen in those rituals outlined in these lesions the animal forms of guardians and gods are often in the feature of animals. This are done by overting the senses (use eyes for hearing, nose for seeing and such) and most of all the condition that tells you that you are ready to be taken over. The fear of letting go must be conquered and you must be ready to give yourself totally n trust to these beings. TO SURRENDER! You must understand this concept before entering into any further contact with the Yidams and Sinpos. They are fierce "and they will for sure eat you if the correct condition is not to be found within the soul of the Warrior. Those who as worked with Golden Dawn-related material has a clue in the "assuming of god-forms". But contrary to the "assuming" of godforms this is to be taken over by the spirit. You don't assume anything "you be-come in that instant of a moment in the matrix of time one with the Godhood. The Most Holy Saint Austin Osman Spare was also very clear on this subject-matter when he states that "The Soul is the Ancestral Animals".

The ritual uses nine points, the ninth being the portal " and the ninth is of course the sadhaka, by reasons that is quite obvious both in position and number .

You will construct your sacred space in the following manner. You will place eight bowls of water at each point of the Compass and one White light and the Cardinal points, leaving the mid-points unenlightened. At the centre of the circle you will have a bowl of some strong alcoholic spirit like vodka or tequila and one black candle and one red candle. You will with chalk write on the floor (or make marks in the sand if outdoors) the eight directions.

Face North, light the candle and visualise a black man with the head of a yak. He is riding a yellow yak and holding a bow and an arrow. His consort is called Lim[~] Lengye, she is draped in a golden armour and travels in a violet wind.

Face West and light the candle as you visualise a man with the head of a makara riding on an amphibian demon holding a sword. His consort is Yarky[~] Jewo who is draped in white silk and riding a white horse.

Face South and light the candle as you visualise a red man with the face of a boar riding upon a red wild boar, carrying an axe of meteoritic iron. His consort is Takriron, she is the Queen of Draplas and is dressed in red and black, riding upon a tiger with the same colours.

Face East and light the candle as you visualise a white man with a lion-head holding a crystal trident. His consort is Nel[~] Gyalmo, also known as the Queen of Earth. She is draped in turquoise and riding a makara.

You will now turn to the north-western angle, light both candles and put them in front of this gate. Then you will fetch the bowl of alcohol and pour some drops in front of the entrance. You will then proclaim that you are invoking the protectors of the four lakes mTsho bzhi srung ma and the four rivers.

At the north-western gate you will put down the candles and visualise the silver lake of Gunggy[~]. There you will see the beautiful Chatsam[~] standing in her crystal-white dress, conch-shells drifting around her legs and the tiger goddess Heru Khyungchan is standing behind her

At the south-western gate you will see the turquoise lake of Mpang and the beautiful Tingsam[~] in her beautiful blue garment. You will also notice that in the lake there is a shaft of iron and see the peacock-adorned Tingnam Gyalmo, the goddess of the black iron-river arise within the beauty of Tsingsam[~].

At the south-eastern gate you will see the golden lake of Langag and the beautiful Tsetsam[~]. You will also see the beautiful Mula Tsam[~] arising from a golden river and you will realise that she is the Lady of Heaven.

At the North eastern gate you will approach the iron-lake of Somshang and the cold beauty of Betsam[~]. She is the beauty of the molten metals, the black lady that protects the red-copper river protected by the beautiful Drapl[~] Gyalmo. This joining of the two black goddesses of cold beauty in the bindu of death is constructing the passage between the eight and the nine. You must at this moment become the nine “the bridge itself and pass on into Karnag Tasel and trust the guardians that they take you safely over to the other side”.

Ch[~]d is probably one of the most useful and beautiful rituals the sadhaka can perform. It is kind of lengthy and complicated. But its effect is truly immensely great. Let's look at the source for this transmission. Originally the rite comes from India and was passed on to Machig Labdr[~]. Machig Labdr[~] is often, and well deserved, treated as the first and most brilliant spark of the teachings of Ch[~]d. She was born 1055 and died 1153. Machig's initiator was Danpa Sangye, a guru who initiated Machig into the use of a rite called â€œThe Pacification of Sufferingâ€•. This rite was slightly modified by Machig spiritual guides so it would severe all suffering even more. It is evident that the rite Machig was initiated into was of Buddhist origin, but in addition to learning this rite she was also given shamanistic procedures by her guru, this might indicate that the earlier forms of ChÃ¶d are shamanistic in origin. Central for ChÃ¶d is the PrajÃ±aparamita. This term signifies the perfection of all Wisdom and is also reflected within the goddess called Yum Chenmo, also known as the Great Mother. PrajÃ±aparamita is the aim and reason for performing ChÃ¶d, if you perform this rite with any other intention It will carry either no fruit or poisonous fruit. ChÃ¶d is a path for obtaining this state. So what is actually ChÃ¶d?

â€œOne might ask: that which is known as ChÃ¶d, what does it cut through?

As it cuts through attachment to body, it is ChÃ¶d.

As it cuts through the root of mind, it is ChÃ¶d.

As it cuts through the very base of all partiality, it is ChÃ¶d.

As it cuts through acceptance and rejection along the path, it is ChÃ¶d.

As it cuts through hopes and fears with regard to the results, it is ChÃ¶d.

As it cuts through all thoughts, wherever they come from or wherever theyâ€™re Going, right there, is ChÃ¶d.

ChÃ¶d is occupied with â€œcuttingâ€• and in that lies the difficulties â€œ for those who have not been honest to them self during these lesions. ChÃ¶d cuts down your astral anatomy and sacrifice all parts to demons, demigods and gods for its purification and re-establishment. If the sadhaka still clings to his or hers kleshas I tell you are in for some really nasty haunting from the Castle of the Perfected Wisdom.

PrajÃ±aparamita is as stated the main-reason for doing this rite. But what is it and where is it and how can it be found? It is said in the â€œGrand Poem on the Perfection of Wisdomâ€• that â€œThe meaning of PrajÃ±aparamita â€œis not to be looked for elsewhere: it exists within yourself. Neither real nor endowed with characteristics, the nature of the mind is the great clear lightâ€•. It refers to the divine spark of divine self that the maya-drawn ego likes to keep hidden. It is the inherited wisdom we donâ€™t use or cultivate, simply because the mechanisms between mana and atman is like they are â€œ a constant play. A Lila in the wastelands of nectar where we eat all sweetness, forgetting about the wisdom. Cultivating our own ignorance. Most people indulge in stupidity instead of wisdom. Very few people love wisdom, because it is demanding in an oblique sense. You feel threatened. It is good if you feel the fear lurking. The fear will bring only manifestations of a sad nature. You will suffer. Ignorance is the gravest of all sufferings. But the ignorant trick hir self to think otherwise. Heed well the words of saint Spare: â€œ You shall suffer and suffer and again suffer until you have sufficient suffering to accept all thingsâ€•. This is the state you will agree to yourself to achieve. The acceptance of all things through suffering. Suffering is nothing compared to Wisdom. You might think so when you feel sorry for your self, when you are enjoying maya and know it just to well when silence speaks to you in quiet blue hours. You cannot hide from yourself. Actually ChÃ¶d is not too different from the nathas act of breaking kleshas. But the aim is slightly different. Breaking of kleshas brings one closer to atman in the guise of freedom and usually followed by the accumulation of siddhis. To attain to Wisdom in the manner put forth in the â€œHeart Sutraâ€• will bring a different condition. The same, but slightly different. In ChÃ¶d you clear space by allowing the divine to remove and re-place your astral anatomy. A natha will force forth these changes with sophisticated violence and sexual means.

Well, there are a few steps worthy of mentioning in regard to Machig LabdrÃ¶n. And one of them is that her life-cycle follows the same pattern as the life-paths of sanyasins or those enlightened by the PrajÃ±aparamita.

She was born as the daughter of a governor and she shows unusual accomplishments in early age (good mnemonic capacity), she abandons her life of wealth to seek after Wisdom. She receives initiation into the Vajrayana, first from a daikini and then later she received this diksha directly from Tara. She meets a guru who recognises her achievements and verifies her spiritual contacts and this results in the highest attainment. Many of Machigs most dramatic incidents happened under a tree, just like with the Buddha Siddharta.

Many Buddhist-traditions have captured the essence of prajñāpāramitā, like the Hwa Yen School, but the scope of these few lessons are too narrow to include all that should have been said about this important term. Remember thou that it is only through the experience of voidness that the prajñāpāramitā can become resonant for your atman.

Lesion Eleven Integrating the principles of Chöd

The integration of these principles are done through the use of the ritual usually referred to as "Great Mudra". In this ritual procedure you will prostrate your self in front of the Dharmakaya Great mother, the Prajñāpāramitā her self! It rests on the Buddhist tradition called Surmang and is a path that is quite usual. Even if this ritual is constructed for the purpose of cutting all types of ego-clinging and master the demons, devas and ones self with equal precision the ritual can very well be used to accumulate siddhis as well as materialistic goods. You will through this of course create many pitfalls that are not so easily to renounce. The ritual is called "Garden of all Joy" and is worked out by Jamgon Kongtrul the Great. The ritual will be handed out directly from Guru to Sishya and will conclude this last chapter of these eleven cuts of Bön.

THE CULT OF DEATH AND KINGSHIP

- a short exploration within the Bon-Pa-Tradition

By Frater Azoth Kalafou

The Bon-Pa religion of Tibet should be a field of major interest to any person interested in the esoteric due to its extreme fascination towards the cult of the dead and the cult of tantra. Many academics have accused Bon of being a rip off of Hinduism and Buddhism, which appears in recent study to prove wrong. Remarkable enough it seems that the Tibetan tantra-shamanistic Bon-religion has developed beside Hinduism and obtained a highly individual way of thinking based on different text and tantras than those we find in Sanskrit. The foundation is though the same as in Hinduism where the cult of the king is emphasised. In early Hinduism the king was seen as the hierophany of god, a manifestation of holiness in the mundane, he was the centre of the society. In that manner society, centred around the king was the microcosmic print of the divine macrocosmic reality above, an image of the divine hierarchy. It seems like this similarity in foundation is one of the most influential points of transgression through their similarity and diversity. While the Hindu (or more correctly brahmanical system) developed into a more sociological order or a way of living and finding your place in the divine blue-print the cult of the king developed radically different in Tibet. The king was seen as a shen (priest) or emanation of divine grace. It was important to please the king while he was alive and it was of extreme importance to make sure that the kings passing on to bardo was made in the best possible ways. This to ensure the further blessings of the king when he was made into a god. The cult of the dead was therefore seen as the most important element in the religious life because this ensured blessings and happiness for those still living in the Bon-community. Due to this necromancy, spiritism and other kinds of spirit-sorcery is a frequent used for keeping the peaceful and happy alliances with the dead in a beneficial position. That the cult focused on the ancestors also is very much of importance is needless to emphasise. The pantheon of the Bon-pas are nor very known, its therefore my intention to briefly present the foundation-pantheon to open a small glyph into the beauty and harshness of this magickal tradition which claims beautiful mythological foundations for them self in magickal kingdoms in lands of arcane (and astral) beginnings...

The separation of deities can be drawn between the peaceful deities, the wrathful deities and siddhas and daikinis as well as some local deities and different lamas that are worshipped in various settings. In this short article I will simply introduce the peaceful deities and in another article present you for the yidams the wrathful or tutelary deities with much emphasis on Welse Ngampa, the lady of boundless Space. Important for the yidams are that they are very clear forms of Abraxas with their androgyne masculinity which are in a state of neither-neither (not male, not female, but male...). That will be enough teasing for now. The tantrik patrons, the yidams have to wait until another time.

The chief peaceful deities are arranged in a mysterious "emanation of each other"-system (similar to the Hindu-system where all daevas are emanation from one, but in Bon a bit more awkward and bizarre lacking the glorious aestheticism we find in Hinduism). We will start of with a goddess called Satrig Ersang whose name means "Perfection of Wisdom" but she is called "Mother of Wisdom". In a hymn to her it is stated that she is "Majestic in her power to bless". Her spiritual accessories are of esoteric interest. In her right hand she holds a swastika - the symbol of odic force and solar eternity and in the left she holds a mirroire fantastique which signifies the emphasis of the lunar current in the Bon-religion. This Prajnaparamita of Bon is in her wisdom a sort of patron for the vama marg and surely must have knowledge of the kalas ruling this form for consciousness.

What's more is that her throne is supported by lions which suggest a formulae similar to Babalon and Qatesh and maybe the lunar flow she presides over is to be found riddled in the vaults of Tempioth? The next deity is called Shenlha Wākhar (shen means priest) and his name means "God of the Priests". He is all white and holds a hook in his right hand while his left is gently folded in a peaceful mudra. His throne is supported by elephants and in a hymn to his praise he is described as: "Majestic in his power of compassion". I myself find some important resemblances in this deity with the Loa Leghba, the Lord of IFA and the patron of the Yuggotian priesthood. Another important deity, who has not much attributes are Sangpo Bumtri the Procreator who are "Majestic in his power of his magical emanations". He has a silver body and is supported by Garudas (these mythical beast-birds). He is more a source of magic than the magic itself. He is like dormant ojas waiting to be used in some kind of combination. In this state he is shave, a radiant shave but difficult to obtain any clear image of. A most interesting deity is Shenrap Miwo who is the "supreme priest, great man". The cult of the dead is strongly established in this deity, who as a great hierophant (a manifestation of the sacred) turned into a peaceful god ensuring the happiness of the community. His accessories are a Swastika sceptre a symbol of "Eternal Truth". Some connections to Sakyamuni is said to be found and indeed, by understanding Sakyamunis role as a Buddha and how he obtained it you will be able to understand the position of this deity. He is "Majestic in his power of radiance" and is the source of the four Transcendental Lords in his rainbow-like but still dark blue hue. Then we enter into one of the most lovely goddesses ever, Sherap Chamma, she is an emanation of Satrig Ersang, but what a beauty! Her name means "The loving lady" and "To love tenderly" and has a strange blood-bond with the beautiful Tripur Sundari. She is also said to be associated with the bodhisattva Maitreya and carries a fivefold form (based upon the tantrik senses developed to perfection by Gorakhnath see. A. K. Bannerjea's "The philosophy of Goraknath" (Coombe Springs; 1962). She is also a vehicle for smashing conditions or fears and it might be useful to take a look at Tara in this regard. She is also a most beautiful goddess and a smasher of kleshas. Also of importance is her accessories, with the magickal mirror in her left hand and a vase of beauty) in her right. Again an association with Tara is to be found in her image of surrounded by the eight lions of wisdom where she is supported by both sun and moon, a formula of reversed Abraxas! Her radiance is a crystalline light indicating her tantric perfection and wisdom beyond any condition and also her radiant beauty. Kāntu Zangpo is another one of the peaceful deities, his name means "The All-Good" and he is seen as the supreme deity of all knowledge and has strong links to Shenla Wākhar in the sense that both are hierophanies of the bānku or "The body of Bon", the ultimate Truth. This priest-god is naked and without (or rather beyond) attributes. A portal to understanding of his role in the pantheon is to be found in the Nyingmapa and Kagyāpa-traditions of Tibetan Buddhism, especially in the body of Samantabhadra, an important emanation of Kāntu Zangpo is Kānzang Akor which means "The All-Good cycle of A", "A" being the last letter in the Zhanchung-alphabet demonstrating the importance of mantrams and spells in the Bon-magic. He is the mantric manifestation adorned with syllables beginning with "A". The importance of this letter is the same as in the tantric OM. From this deity we will turn to the core of the pantheon. The very point of ingress with the divine forces of bon., Kānzang Gyalwa Dāpa ("the All-Good Assembly of Conquerors"). He has five faces in different colours and ten arms. He is adorned with jewels. At the four cardinal points of space he has the Queens of transcendental space in the form of the years cycle. And from the anahata of his brilliant body he emanates six hierophants. The white Yeshen Tsukpu associated as the fleshy hot-point of the Gods. We find the blue Chegyal Barti presiding over the demigods, the deep-blue Sangwa Dāpa who is the intermediary of humans. Also we find the green Tisang Rangzhi presiding over the animals, the white Mucho Demdru taking care of the tormented spirits and finally the bluish-red Sanswa Ngangring associated with Hell. Of interest is also the four Queens of transcendental space. The yellow Queen of Spring holding a chain, the blue Queen of summer holding a flat bell, the red Queen of autumn holding a noose and the white Queen of winter with her hook. It is interesting to note that these guardian-goddesses are called queens which again confer the importance of the cult of the king. The clearest expression of this god is to be found in his emanation as Kānzang Gyalva Gyatso ("Ocean of Conquerors") with his multiple faces and a thousand of arms outstretched. Through his iconographic form he has resemblances to Avaloketesvara, He IS "magic appearance". Three more gods must be mentioned to create the total pattern of magic gnosis inhabited in this pantheon. Chimā Tsukpā ("The deathless one with the hairknot"). He is the supreme bodhisattva reborn to this kalpa from the mythological "paradise of the 33 gods" (I refer to the various Buddhist teachings known as "Pure Land Schools" in this matter). He is born by the virgin-mother of sexual secrets Zangsa Ringtsān (more of her, in depth, next time) as a bornless and deathless one. He is seen as the transmitter of the Bon-tantra from the tutelary deities of wrath, a supreme vira, a world egg of sexual gnosis which fills the universe with his sexual radioactivity. The Bon-traditions connections to the Naga-cultus is found within the body of Napar Gyalwa which are the Ultimate and eternal Truth as well as the connection between gods and sinpo (demons). He possesses the magic of evocation and mantras and is able to command sinpos according to his wish due to a pact of secrecy (which he later broke). Similarities is to be found in "Goetia", how Salomon commanded demons to build his temple - as in the case of the temple Napar Gyalwa wanted to build in the midst of a lake. The demonic alliance is also to be found within Ganesh and how he presides over the asuras and Pashupatis command of the beasts of night.. He is pictured surrounded by fierce deities (sinpos?) with zāomorphic appearances, suggesting the lycantrophic formulae hidden with in the secret teachings of the Bon-tradition. Lastly we have the ascetic of the pantheon the monk Tritsug Gyalwa who by his ascetism managed to convert the demon-king Khyappa laring to the Ultimate Truth of Bon. In addition to these gods and the six subduing shens there are also 13 primeval shens who are especially important in the cult of the dead and the transgression from death and bardo.

My intention in this short note upon the essence of the Bon-pantheon has been to make available material seldom found anywhere, and itâ€™s meant as an introduction to a more practical article upon itâ€™s tantric and shamanistic gnosis, especially focused upon the strange sexuality of the deities them self which probably deserves to be explored in a gnostic luciferian light.

I will also add that when I in this article has made connections to buddhas it is not my intention to say that they are the same. I intend to use them as portals to an understanding of this pantheon for its own sake to establish it in its own power through deepening of understanding of the reader by linking it to more known "divine beings". I have never liked to associate gods from different pantheons with each other (like Set-Shaitan-Aiwass). I see it as portals to an understanding of the different deities - in their own right, not as cosmic xeroxes of a past cultures gods.

May blessings be in the name of the 8-fold mistress Cherap Chamma and KÃ¼nzang Gyalwa DÃ¼pa!

SPIRITISTIC VAJRA TANTRA - The Plutonian Tantra of Bon-Pa

By: Docteur Azoth Kalafou

The tantras of Bon-Pa are knowledge seldom found in any occult book-shelf, which is because literature about this current is rare. Snellgrove wrote his book, "The Nine Ways of Bon" (Oxford university Press, London, 1967) and also his book "Indo-Tibetan Buddhism" (Serinida Publications, London 1987) has a great variety of information about this current. The weakness of Snellgrove as Ph.D. Kvaerne points out is that he thought some of the teachings of the Bonpas was in a way - offensive, so he saw the need to make twilight tantras even more shattered and disturbed....

The Bon-Pa religion Is parted into different brands of the divine. We have the peaceful deities which is the core of the system and what is more interesting to tantra - the tutelary deities who is connected to fire and violence. A pethro-plutonian current of sticky power.

In a previous article about this subject in "The Trident" I shed some light on the peaceful deities of the pantheon. In this article I will get to the point - the weird sexuality of the current and also outline one simple offer-ritual which can be conducted by those who want to smell what this current is like. Let me also say (since I am saturnian in my view about esoteric secrets) that this article won't provide you with all my knowledge in this field, but sufficient for those of you who is curious about this current.

The tantras of Bon were transmitted by an avatar of the priest-god TÃ¼npa Shenrap called Nampar Gyalwa, "The Fully Victorious One". When Nampar Gyalwa was born his flesh was tattooed with 30 magick letters of Power. The story also declares that he was born a prince and received the idea of building a temple in the midst of a lake. An inhuman task. The avatar recalls first vaguely then to the full that he in his former existence was connected to sinpos (demons). He travels to the kingdom of the demons and get a promise of their help to build this temple in the lake if he will keep their help a secret. When the demons are at work Gyalwaâ€™s wife is coming by and discovers this work of demons. The foundation is finished when she appears at the shore. The demons see her and declare themselves released of their task. Together with the deity KengtsÃ¼ Lenme he completes the building of the temple and call this beautiful temple Karnag Tasel which means "Brilliantly White and Black Spotted". The resemblance here to Salomo and how he commanded the demons to build his temple is easily evoked which hooks us into "Goetia" being in the family of the Bon-current. It is also interesting to note that another one of the important transmitters of the eternal Bon-doctrine is said to be Chime TsukpÃ¼ who was born from a virgin..... Several myths in the scriptures and tantras of Bon connect the Bon-teaching to sinpos. So in the end Bon-Pa is a highly spiritistic religion based upon the esoteric teaching of demons. Bon-Pa has been accused of being so similar to Buddhism that the religious authenticity has been questioned. I think their very spiritistic and shamanistic cosmology and anthropology tell another story. The strange thing about Bon is that it welcomed both Hinduism and Buddhism very warmly - like all religions open for syncretistic activity. At least that is one theory, that Bon was more or less outconquered by Buddhism of sheer force is another theory - which I consider very doubtful.

The eternal doctrines of Bon are protected by sinpos, deities and lus (nagas). It is mainly these three forces of guardian spirits that protect the gnosis of the current. Those deities who treasure the jewels are the so-called yidams who is said to be trowo (wrathful). In vouden terms we might say "pethro". These yidams are connected to different tantras and the ritual workings are focused around one particular yidams and his consort or attendants. It is of extreme importance to emphasise that it is the yidam in it self that inhabits the tantric secret. The siddhaes of the current reaches the state of siddhahood while in the flesh through very esoteric dhyana. My own research in this field indicates that their consorts are daikinis, which again suggest that their path towards gnosis consist of mainly spiritistic flavoured XI-degree work. In this I referee to the true and hidden meaning of the XI-degrees sexual nature which lies one octave above the flesh. Let me give some insight into what kind of magick this kind of workings will produce. It is the most plutonian manifestation of magick on earth, and I quote from Rev. Bertiaux "The Vouden-Gnostic Workbook": Plutonian Energy is pure fire, viewed as magick. It is surrounded by many layers of pure power....In order to get at this power, it is necessary to enter entirely into the field of the energy and allow it to take over.....power is not diffused or spread out. It is tight and intense....It is moving to make itself tighter and hotter, heavier and harder, because it must". This particular current's magickal manifestation is very aggressive and dominant. It is the plutonian aspect of the sign of Aries often ruled by the Scorpio rising into the Aries-sun. The sexual effects will probably result in very controlled bondage and SM. Any uncontrolled sexual play in these field as a result of working with the plutonian ray should signal to the magician that he has swallowed a too heavy jet of plutonium....

Interesting to note is also the many remarks about "coffins", "corpse" and the "consummation of fire" which suggest both sexual formulas and also the process of for instance the IIIde degree of the OTO to a certain level. The Bon-current is also very, very gnostic. The gnostic influence is so vivid that you wonder how they got into this flow of light (probably there were some flow of information from the middle-east, pre-iraniq influence). We find for instance the cow as a demiurgic principle, where life is emanating from. Lus, sinpos and various animals are connected to most likely archeonic powers.

THE TROWO YIDAMS

The fierce pethro flavoured yidams will now be presented for the reader quite briefly. And allow me to remark that the tantra of Bon is bipolar or positive and negative in the way that it shows to PagyÃ¼ or Father Tantras and magyÃ¼ or Mother Tantras. Also most of the yidams is painted together with their consorts who are embracing the male yidam hard and feverly in some kind of ecstatic demonic embrace. The head of the MagyÃ¼-tantras is called MagyÃ¼ Sangchog Tartug ("The Supreme Secret of the Mother Tantras"). It is interesting to note that his name of the yidam himself locks up the secret of the tantra. It is very characteristic for the yidams that they are seen as the outer manifestations of the elements of secrecy connected to them so when you meditate on their Thangkas, rupa or image they will reveal their secrets through deep dhyana. MagyÃ¼ has seven heads, sixteen arms and his body is of a bluish almost black complexion. His consort is red and holds in her hands two bowls with what actually looks like boiling blood. The bowls are skulls (which ties them up to the kapalikas and the naths of both the utara and the adilineage). His faces are primarily in white and red in addition to the bluish-black main face.

The father tantras on the other hand focuses on five different deities who control elements of existence which are somewhat related to thoughts we can find in the Samkhya-system of philosophy. I quote their names as follows:

Welse Ngampa - Fierce God of Body

LhagÃ¶ Togpa - Fierce God of Speech

Trowo Tsochog Khgyin - Fierce God of Mind

Purpa - Fierce God of Action (Purpa is also the Tibetan name for the ritual dagger - maybe this suggests a certain degree of craft-influence in their shamanistic practice)

Welchen GekhÃ¶ - Fierce God of Good Quality

Let us shed some light on the god of the Mind, Trowo Tsochog Khgyin first. His name means in pure word "Wrathful One, Supreme Lord Towering in the Sky". He is also of a dark blue complexion and has three heads and six arms. His consort is called Khala Dugmo which means Red Body. The connection to the kalas and the vibration of the menstrum in accordance with the lunar body is unquestionable. It is also interesting to note that in a hymn to this couple Khala Dugmo (Furious Lady in the Sky) she is evoked by the words: "Arise, arise, from the void, arise". Other qualities of Trowo Tsochog Khgyin are that he overpowers the 3 worlds (Hell, Heaven and the realm between) with his splendour. His girdle is the luciferian phallic principle in the form of a serpent bound around his waist and he is pressing the nine doors of Hell downwards. It is also said that he commands the 8 great nagas (I will refer the reader here to a member of the Uttara Kaula Tantrikas, Ku-patalaTrishan who has explored eight sexual nagas in connection to the sabbatical mysteries. If any interest arises of the subject let the editor know, maybe Ku-PatalaTrishna would enlighten us more about this subject). This yidam is also said to preside over the 8 great planets and is connected to atavisms like lion, elephant, horse, dragon and garuda

Our next revelator of tantra is Welse Ngampa "Fierce Piercing Deity of Overwhelming Power". He has nine heads, three of them white, three red and three blue and has 18 arms. His body of a dark-blue complexion. He is connected to the magnetic forces of tiger, lion, leopard, dragon, garuda and macara. Which indicates a deep sexual connection of the Svadhithana Chakra in the passage of the macara. Also this deity's connection to the garuda-bird of wisdom tales and the dragon mixed with strong feline impressions tells much about what kind of power this deity has managed to work into it self and also gives some clues on how to work these secrets out into the temple-laboratory to be used - for instance together with liquid condensers and electromagnetic transfusions. Even more interesting that the deity himself is his consort. She is of a green complexion and her face is somewhat peculiar. Her eyes look like the eyes of sinpos, or at least someone more or less ruled by this class of gods and her teeth are very narrow, long and sharp suggesting some vampyristic alliance or in other words a sign of the apparent danger of encountering this Lilitu-like being of this pantheon (Lilithu in the Zoharick sense - not the real and true Roman sense....). Also, her anus is remarkably clearly showed on the thangka. This Dark green Lady is called "Lady of Boundless Space". In the voodoo of zobop (secrecy) you encounter a strange root-Loa called Maitre Grand Bois d'Ilet. This loa is said to be the brother of Damballah and is the black snake at its most earthy level. Grand Bois d'Ilet rises from his caverns deep below the earth and flux himself into deep space from his residence at Bathos (or the gnostic Abyss - the emanation-point of all things). It is interesting to make the reader aware of this Loa in regard to the vividly exposed anus of the "Lady of Boundless Space" since this in a hymn to this Loa it says: "I am the anus of the universe. I am the lower". I suspect these words are the words of the Loa himself as told to the emissaries of O.T.O.A.'s Lodge Zariguin. This couple (Welse Ngampa and consort) is first and of all the protectors against demons and is very much connected to kleshas and maya and the cutting off of these illusions of being. One of the names of Welse Ngampa means "Clad in the still-moist skin of demons". I am a bit unsure if the text here relates to sinpos in the divine sense or to the bonpas own demons. Anyway - he is the great demon-slayer. Other attributes are "Wisdom", "Compassion" and "Magick". It is also interesting to see that "the Lady of Boundless Space" is associated to be in deep connection or emanation of Satrig Ersang who are the "Mother of Wisdom" and have many features in common with the Buddhist goddess Prajnaparamita (Perfection of Wisdom). I will also draw the attention to the Pawo Drunga or the five Heroic syllables that can be used as mantras: SHRAM, GRAM, RAM, YAM and OM. The "Lady of Boundless Space" is also called Namchi Gungyal - the Lady who keeps the treasury of Heaven. I think about similarities with other Buddhist heavens like for instance the perfected state in the Tushita Heaven. She has also been called "Mistress of the Shrine of Peacefulness" (the peace after your fight with your kleshas...) and TukjÃ" Chamma (Loving Lady of Compassion) which connects her to the most delicious and lovely lady of beauty and peace Sherap Chamma. Blessings upon her...

"Like a mass of fire filling the universe"

This is what Welchen GekhÃ" is like in a hymn to his praise. I guess much of this intensity is explained by his very close connection to the plutonian kingdom of ZhangZhung - the Ifa of the bonpas. Welchen GekhÃ" is also very - complete in a Pythagorean sense of the word. He is the GekhÃ" containing all the other gekhÃ"s, and they are 360 in number - making a complete zodiacal circle. These gods were situated at Mount TisÃ" the same mountain as Kailash. It is also of great importance to note that the word GekhÃ" is etymological connected to kehÃ"d and derived from the same root as ChÃ"d. ChÃ"d is too complex to get into in this essay, but mainly the practise is focused on chopping up your astral anatomy and present them as offerings in white feasts (to gods) and in red feasts (to demons). The whole practise is focused on deconstruct the ego and build it up again without the delusions of maya and the attachment to the non-existent atman - rather to the an-atman. Whether the bonpas has any notion to what the alnya (akashic storehouse) or not is a bit unclear. I think they do if their doctrine is seen in comparison to the importance of the cult of the dead and the shamanistic-spiritistic activities of the bonpas who suggest that consciousness is somewhat "stored". Welchen GekhÃ" is also called GekhÃ" Sangwa Drogchen or "GekhÃ", the Secret, Great Violent One" with his nine heads in the colours of white, red, bluish black, his 16 arms and bluish black hue. In a sense comparisons to a mixture of Yama and Rudra would be proper. His consort is Logbar TsamÃ" the reddish yellow goddess who are called "Lady of Flashing Lighting". She is also called "Queen of Draplas". Draplas are (like the Maruts) fierce warrior-gods who appeared (as with the GekhÃ"s) very early in time-space. Logbar TsamÃ" is also said to have a right face like a "water crystal" and her left is like a "red crystal". The symbolism states that this goddess is in deep connection with the pure, clear lunar source as well as the fire of Sothar. She is the fire moon. The vibrating menstruated at it most vibrant and black. This is further indicated when she is described as one who "holds masses of fire like a golden mount Meru". The strange and typhonian sexual nature is beyond doubt. Another interesting aspect with the GekhÃ"s is that they are connected to a certain type of magick called tso which are translated to "bombs" in the English translation of a certain hymn. You get the impression that tso are thrown at enemies. The tso can be related to planets and there is also mention "red tso". There are several ways of understanding the concept of tso. There could be a form of charm as in the Creole and Congo paquets which are defensive or offensive weapons for use in magickal attacks or this can be a certain form of sexual magick, based on the planets or the kalas where the transformed mass of fire can be aimed at some enemy possibly through some kind of lycantropic formulae. These lycantropiq formulas are used within branches of La Coulevre Noire mainly for the purpose of magickal attacks.

The last god of tremendous importance is Meri, "Mountain of Fire". He has no consort, but rather two attendants. These two are more like saintly protectors of the secret doctrine than any gods. The saints are Ati Muwer (connected to Sahasrara) who is of a white complexion and Kuchi Mangkã has a turquoise body. Both of them are pretty Martian, inhabiting different aspects of the Martian sphere of aggression.. Meri himself is of a golden complexion - being the most solar - or phallic deity of the pantheon. Meri and his attendants is most interesting because he appearance is very different from the other deity's bluish-black complexion. He is also connected to owls and ravens and has through these forms a very different angle into the mysteries of Pluto. He is also close connected to the Gekhãs and also to the goddess Namkhã Wãle the "Mother of Liberation", a dark red goddess adorned with fire crystals and the ritual dagger. Another goddess close affiliated with Meri is Nelã Sipã Gyalmo ("Mother of Union") who is dark yellow and adorned with golden light. Further is Meri guarded by ten fierce deities and their consorts as well as four gatekeepers and 12 messengers (saints of the zodiacal signs) He also commands four female generals and the female protectors of the four rivers and the four lakes.

The Lu-serpents, the draplas, the Gekhãs as well as the water-spirits of lakes and rivers are all of them connected to the foundation of the Atlantean kingdom of ZhangZhung. All deities inhabit in themselves secrets which are to be revealed through samitha-dhyana on their image or thangka. The rupa should always be the focus of the puja.

The strange sexual magick teaching is flavoured in a weird high-octave Uranian context hidden in the true and secret understanding of the XI-level of spiritistick coitus.

The protectors of the doctrine are parted in four groups (I will also draw attention to the fact that there are also four groups of demons: Drisa, Nãjjin, Luwans, Shinjã). These protectors are: Takedong Marpo - Red Tiger Face. Ponya Tongdã¼ Marnag, the trickster or messenger of the pantheon who is called the Dark Red Demon of Emptiness. Sipã Gyalmo who is the Queen of the Created World (in other words Maya) and lastly Cliff Tsen who is the closest protector of Meri. These protectors are called Sungmas and cult reserved for them has been established within the Bon-current. The protectors has a status much like the daikinis and their transgression to this realm of divinity has been from shen (priest) to divinity in the spiritistick level. I will draw upon one example on how this transgression of priest to god usually is explained in the Bon-texts. In the case of Sipã Gyalmo for instance. From the beginning she was a demonic being - a sub-sinpo. But due to her astral maithuna with the siddha Takla Mebar a forcefield identical with the yidams was produced and she was transformed into this sphere of existence when she received the siddhas semen. She is also referred to as the GrandMother of Heaven, which connects her (to understand her better) to Naman Brigitte of the Famille Ghuede and also Dhumavati, the Shakti with no Shiva. Usually she is depicted as a "Mother-goddess" - type with a flavour between Yemoya ge Rough and Ayida Wedo. Another strange example is found in Drakpa Sengsã who is also a protector of the bon-secrets, thou not one of the main-protectors. This spirit was a rather malevolent ghost who was commanded by the abbot of the Monastery of Menri to be a protector of Bon. By sexual-spiritistick methods also used within the La Couleuvre Noire he was captured and held within this positions by the abbot. I know that Michael Bertiaux has used similar methods to keep enlightened priests who has transgressed to Ifa so close to the earth that he have been able to communicate with them for a considerable long time. The plutonian shamanism is further explored within a department of La Couleuvre Noire. "The Transyuggothian Brotherhood of Shamans".

RITUAL FOR TRANSGRESSION INTO THE SEALED SECRETS

0. Banish by using the "Six penetrating Fierce Gods". Visualising a golden, burning double Vajra.

East: Welmo Karsher Bar

North: Welmo Ngojang Bar
West: Welmo Marnag Bar
South: Welmo YumÄ¶ Bar
Below: Welmo Marmug Bar

1. Ask for the protection of the Saints.

NyipangsÄ¶, Draplamo, Lama ZhangZhung and Takna Gyalpo

2. Soften the doorkeepers by humbly setting forth bowls of water in each direction and light incense for each of them (the incense should be of four different kinds attributed to the elements of the sphere.

East: Drisa (Tiger face), North: NÄ¶jin (Dragon face), West: Luwang (Wolf face) and south: Shinje (Bear face).

3. Ask for the blessings of the three fierce gods of action (no offering required).

"Leki Trowo Zhi.

I call upon the blessings of Chamchig Chusin Dong (Macara-Lu)

I call upon the blessings of Tseyi Chamchig Lechema (Life)

I call upon the blessings of Lusin Nagmo Lechema (Black female lu-demon)

Leki Trowo Zhi, bless me"

4. Light red and black candle and call forth Welchen GekhÄ¶ and his consort "Queen of Drapals". Visualise these fierce deities coming forth from the fire. Mantra to use in connection with their names is the greeting: BSVO. Short power-suggesting mantrams like HALA, CHA and more singing invocative formulas like "zi-ta-la-la", "u-ru-ru" and "si-li-li"

5. Closing of ritual by humbly dismissing of the evoked forces backwards or by fourfold clapping in hands and thanking the powers whereupon you ask them to withdraw to their proper places.

KARNAG TASEL

Or;
the teachings of the Brilliant White and the Black Spotted temple

These lessons are released from within the True source of Power, by the Master Azoth in the Threshold-kingdom. These lessons will serve the interests of initiates of several different traditions and will due to this fact be circulated amongst the members of the Nath samprayada (AMOOKOS) and Uttara Kaula Tantrikas. These lessons are released in the ninehundred-and-forty year of the Vikram era (2000 e.v) to benefit the Seekers on their path towards enlightenment. May peace, happiness and understanding be bestowed upon all the Knights of Shambhalah. May the curse, blessing and cunning be partaken of by all who read and use these lessons.

This is a series of lessons based upon the sacred and holy tradition of B n-Pa, the shamanistic Vajra-spiritism of Old Tibet but grounded, protected and reflected through the diksha and parampara of the nath samparayada and utara kaula tantrikas. It is here presented in eleven cuts or lesions for the eternal affliction of those who embark upon these teachings, for the blessing or the curse of the Seeker. These eleven lesions are:

Lesion number One.....Consummation of the Light of Night

Lesion number Two.....Mediations on the Shen

Lesion number Three.....Tapping the Source of Evil

Lesion number Four.....Cultivation and trafficking with the Yidams - part I

Lesion number Five.....Cultivation and trafficking with the Yidams - part II

Lesion number Six.....Truth unfolding into the hands of the Revelator (Welse Ngampa)

Lesion number Seven.....Meri    at the Mountains of Organic Fire

Lesion number Eight.....The sacred Priesthood of Zhan Zhung (Atlantis)

Lesion number Nine.....Working the Black Spot

Lesion number Ten.....Fundamentals of the sacred transmission of Ch d

Lesion number Eleven.....Integrating the principles of Ch d

Lesion number One Consummation of the Light of Night

All true and real magical training, all true and real paths to Knowledge, all true and real paths towards your higher self will bestow Change. Change is the most universal Law of the Cosmos. As cosmic beings we partake in the cosmic Laws and must submit to its naturalness. The more we accept the Laws of the universe, the more we will understand the principal elementaries of Creation. All true and real paths will lead to a constant Change towards the better of the Seeker. There is much fear in the world. Most fear is based upon Change. Change is the enemy of the profane, the friend of the Master and sets the occult Seeker apart from the World. The Seeker strives to see the World as it really is (Purusha) and will slowly understand that the World reflects its supreme Law, Change within its fold of prakriti or Maya. Without becoming at ease with this fundamental principle the Seeker should turn away from these papers, cause you are about to Change already as these words hits your mana (exterior mind). Who are you "not? Try to define that for your self. Tantrikas set this idea forth in the upanishadic teachings in an attempt to define godhood. Is it possible to understand that we partake of the entire Creation through this idea? Pursue what you are not and decide for yourself why this is so. Take care not to explain by the use of pre-causality or by causality itself. Be honest. It is no sin to say that you don't know, but it is a sin to lie for one self! The lies you tell yourself is the most profoundest lies of all because they hinders you from seeing things as they really are and instead you construct maya within maya in deceitful buildings of falsity and pride. Many Seekers has denied themselves saintliness by the lies they have told to them self, cause lies must be defended and the greatest defence is to live according to your belief. A lie said is a lie incorporated and it very well becomes a mode or code of beliefs in your life. The human mind has a tendency to re-construct the past, this could be done in two ways. Either you re-construct it according to ideal motives (how you wish it was and re-explaining the whys and hows of your past actions and situations) or you try to be faithful to your self. This is the hardest re-construction because you have to slaughter your own pride and see yourself as you really are " a human being, incomplete, on the search for your Angel. Without accepting your shortcomings for what they are, how can you expect to progress on the path of righteousness? How can you expect to pass on to Sainthood or become a Master of your Heart in this incarnation if you don't realise this simple truth about mankind? Hopefully, some of you will be warded of now, feeling that these words are threatening you. And yes! These words are fearful and they have been said so frankly that you have no chance of turning back. Whether you stop reading now or not, you know, that you from this moment on never will be able to lie to yourself without feeling guilty infore yourself. The concept of sin set in motion! There is nor original sin in the sense we are used to be told about it. A sin is a personal affair, it is not connected to external beings. The medium of sin is the lie. The lies you have told yourself have made you sinful. The lies you have told others are no sin but a shortcoming and self-made hindrance which denies you to prosper within Maya and finally break it bonds. Man is the very symbol of the unity of macro-and-microcosmos " the divine symbol it self. This should induct into the Seeker the desire to take responsibility for being it this state of incarnation and the first sign that you have taken this responsibility is truthfulness. Does your divine seeds, your alpha-ovule, the purusha you partake of, do they partake in a false way of living, speaking and being? Words are a sinister medium. Mind is clearer than words. Words can only say approximately what the depths of the mind reflects from its divine depths. This is called bias. Bias is no sin, but to accept the bias as truth can lead the Seeker towards indulging into sin. So why am I talking so much about such dreaded concepts as lie and sin which makes me look like a fundamentalist Christian to those who don't see the Light yet? Because I am also trying to clear the space for the dangerous wisdom of B'n to be safely inducted into your ontological state of awareness and beyond. I am trying to speak to those who now understand the real idea of sin and lie, to those who hates the lie and loves the Truth... There are many haters of the Truth out there. Truth can be recognised on the pain it brings with it. The lies are often sweet and delightful but will sooner or later turn against the liar and consume him within sourness and bitterness, sending him back into the eternal wheel. I feel there is appropriate here to talk a bit about Dharma and Karma. These concepts are as often confused among people, as among the Seekers. Dharma is the perfect law of the Cosmos and its Creation. All of us are born to fulfil some kind of Dharma, the method for completing ones dharma is through karma. Karma is the ritual actions we perform, viewing existence itself as the major ritual each and everyone has to accomplish to enter into the conclusive states of ones dharma.

By performing wrong karma you will push yourself from completing and executing the deeds needed for you to be in accordance with your dharma. Dharma is the Cosmic Law and we as cosmic beings are subdued to this Law. Dharma sastra place a great emphasis on suddha to accomplish dharma. Sudda means pure. What makes the pure unpure is connected to lies and the karmic deeds performed in the soil of sin. Sokrates told his followers "Know Thy Self", which has become almost a slogan for the Seekers in the West, but still, it contains the truth of dharma. You must achieve knowledge about your Self if dharma shall prosper in your life and refine you into the purest state reachable. As a Seeker you are already closer to this goal than the profane majority of waste-beings. Take care not to turn yourself into waste and build your knowledge upon lies. Lies will give birth to karma, actions, that take you down alleys that lead you astray from Self and destroys your dharma. Imagine this: You are accused of having committed a questionable deed and are confronted with it. The way you act accumulates the results of your karman in the dharmic records. Imagine this: You are obsessed by achieving something or someone, but the only way to achieve it is to play a game of life that indicates that you can not all together be truthful in obtaining this goal. What will your actions be? Your actions will be recorded and remembered by dharma. It is your actions that bring you nearer or further away from dharma through this incarnation of your being. Why I am writing these words will be obvious to some and clouded by others. To those which these words are clouded I ask you to meditate hard on what has been said so far in these papers. The true understanding of what here has been written is the first cut towards enlightenment within these lessons. All of these teachings will arrive upon you with some degree of pain and uneasiness. You have felt it already, cause you know that you have many, many times lied and behaved in discrepancy with your dharma. You know it now and you feel slightly uneasy. You might also feel uneasy since I never stop writing about the false way of life you are living, you might get worried or slightly angered with me. It's good. That indicates that you are about to change. You are about to react according to dharma upon the bad actions you have made. This change is necessary since to embark upon this path as a Seeker who easily falls into the use of lies as a tool for progression and advancement in life will fall short in godhood.

Meditation and ritual: You will start this practice by re-memembering a recent episode where you behaved unethically or unpure where you had to use lies to avoid conflict, problems or the likes. Find yourself a comfortable asana, preferably on the floor. Breathe slowly and imagine yourself positioned alone in the midst of the vastness of Space. Imagine voices accusing you of being a liar, and an adulterer, a selfish bastard, an ignorant, a looser, a weakling, a fool, a bewildered stupid. Allow the accusations to torment you until you feel the uneasiness let go slightly. Then you will stand up in this Space and as you stand up all the faces of your accusations will come forth from the space. As they are emerging the space are getting lighter. They will be quiet and watch you now as you with a calm mind accept the truth in these accusations. Do not ask forgiveness! But accept that you are capable of performing bad karmic deeds. Now, open your eyes and stand up in your temple. Call forth your ancestors and spirits to watch this small ceremony you now will perform. You will take a small portion of olive oil or consecrated water. You will take some of this on your fingertip and starting from muladhara ending in ajna you will massage every chakra for a short while stating: "I renounce a life of lies. I renounce a life where I deceit myself. I swear in front of my ancestors and spiritual guides to walk steady on the path of Truth. There is nothing I will not forswear for the sake of Truth". Feel yourself renewed and know with yourself that this is the beginning of purity. You will unavoidably live closer to dharma from this moment on and it will bring you peace. Be at ease with your decision.

But your falsity and lies in front of your dharma do not end with this. The concept of purity must always be close to your consciousness, non-consciousness and heart. Purity centres around keeping your path clean. Purity is very demanding in a world of pollution where all people are running in their own wheel of self-deception is potential the greatest damage to those who desire to keep their path pure. People, Ideas, Memories and Ego are the faces, or rather faeces, on every corner that works against the Seeker. You will probably look at these words a second time now and realise that these four concepts makes up most of your outer, or exteriory, manifestation in the world. When people say to them self that they know you, they know you by these concepts. So why am I calmly hostile towards the exterior qualities of our social make-up? And why am I saying that people are our largest source of pollution? Because it is so easy to forget that your soul which partake in the transmigration of purification life after life is void of these qualities in its exterior form. Your heart goes deeper than this. All else is lies. Time in the exterior sense is solely memories fused with ideas reflected in your own mind or in socialisation with other people, maybe fused with a portion of desire. This exterior time feeds your Ego, your being in the world. Matsayahendranath talked about kleshas, Gorakhnath talked about them and Dadaji talked about them. Kleshas are blocks of obstructions that must be destroyed if a pure attainment towards your path shall arise. One of these blocks is ego. And know also that the fight against ego is not easily won. Sometimes it knows it is about to be defeated so it lays down, hide and play submissive “ but when time has diminished the memories it take you back as a disclaimed shadow slowly returning in a distracted moment. The return of the shadow-ego is always brought in motion by pollution in the exterior world. So, take care with people! Take care with much loving kindness.

So, you might wonder, how come I am talking about how to consume light in the night in these papers. If things are such, that you don’t understand where this leads you I hope you can forgive yourself your ignorance and go on, in hope to embrace the light. This age is the darkest night in the history of mankind. This is the age of the return of the Kalki. The age where the light would be hidden from many and even when found by a few, even fewer would be capable of understanding it. In these papers you will enter the night within the night. You must be pure. Sinpos will detect your lies and unpurity immediately. And while they leave you with your filth, they eat the good parts of you making you more and more into an unpure larvae, caught in an organism. Talk about prison! The perfect being does not exist, but there are a few truthful and humble men in the world, have these as a goal perfected in your mind, when you now have decided to go on within the kingdom of BÅn.

In the Dzogchen-teachings of Tibetan Buddhism there is a doctrine on seeing things as they are. All things are a product of the “Dance of the Five Wisdom Sisters” (The elements). This dance is experienced by us as phenomena placed in time, that is always changing. Its very course and pattern is continuous change. As human beings we like to impose meaning upon these phenomena, often forgetting that the meaning of the phenomena is captured within the phenomena itself. This meaning is valid only for that particular moment, that and only that phenomena is in movement through time. There is no use attaching meaning to every movement. After it has moved through Now it withers into past and loses its meaning. The dance of the sisters is reflected in matters, but the energy produced by this will lead into Nothingness, the ultimate Naught. To see signs and meanings in all moments of movements in time will only create neurosis and superstitious behaviour and the mind is hindered from its natural flow. In the Dzogchen-teachings there is important to be aware that the Cube of the Law is composed by three qualities: clarity, luminosity and unobstructedness. These concepts correspond to the layers known as mind, spirit and the will respectively. So, since these concepts are the compositions of the Cube of the Law they are self-existing “ they are a part of the dharma, the cosmic law so there is no need searching for them! They will appear in movements and moments of importance as you allow your self to be more and more into the Now! The past is a reconstruction composed of memories that are not to be trusted in the present. The future is merely a projection of past-into-now mixed with desire or fear. When you try to catch it will diminish in front of you. The experience of the time-lines should be attempted to become the continuity of Nowness. This will induct into you the feeling of Totality. Your experience of existence will be pure, now and naked. This might lead to fear. Because being openly present in Now, naked, often will be of such a quality. The cure is to accept this fear with openness and through the acceptance and welcoming of this fear you will be able to destroy this barrier created by "habitual emotional reaction patterns" (His Holiness Dilgo Khyentse Rinpoche). It is this openness to All that is at the core of this first cut of these teachings. When you embrace the total openness of All you will be able to use even your emotional condition as a playground and the need for re-constructions of the past and bitter-sweet lies will lose their value. Because you are about to construct and cultivate a condition of openness to all situations without limit.

"All phenomena are completely new and fresh absolutely unique and entirely free from all concepts of past, present and future. They are experienced in Timelessness".

-His Holiness Dilgo Khyentse Rinpoche

Lesson number Two Meditations on the Shen

To approach the dark fire it is important that the sadhaka following this path connects to the principal peaceful deities of the ancient religion of the bonpas to ensure that protection and blessings are bestowed from the most enlightened and benevolent beings of the tradition. The first point of contact should be made with the Four Transcendental Lords (Deshek Tsozhi). These four lords are under the influence of The Mother, known as the Yum. Besides these five principal points there are three additional points of spirits that must be taken into concern. These are; Lha, The God, Sipa, The Procreator and Tãñpa, The Teacher. For the followers of the vama marg of nath sampradaya these concepts will look familiar. Not without reason. The Mother contains the three, making the three spirit-points extensions of Herself. The Transcendent Lords equals the guardians of the quarters, senses and the bodily portals. These transcendental Lords represent five forms for manifestation, namely Body, Speech, Mind, Excellence and Power. The secret number connected to these Lords are 1008, an important Tantrik number since according to Tantrik lore is the exact number of enlightened beings in the present Yuga. The mother and her points of manifestation change their names according to the age. The names for these beings in the present Yuga are Satrig Ersang for the Mother, The God is called Shenla Wãñkar, the Procreator is known as Sangpo Bumtri and the Teacher as Shenrap Miwo. From this we can understand that Bon is a faith grounded in the mother and is therefore in accordance with the fundamentals already inherited through Tantrik diksha. Satrig Ersang resembles the Prajãpãramitã of the Buddhism, The Perfection of Wisdom, or rather in the ancient language of ZhangZhung, Wisdom Purified. Her colour is yellow and her mantram is composed of. SRUM, GAM, RAM, YAM, OM. These syllables are set in the symbol of eternity, the swastika. She holds this swastika in her right hand while she holds a mirror in the left. Her animal is the lion. It is important to note that she holds a mirror in her left hand, this signifies the importance she has in the vama marg as both an opener of the pathways to the other dimension but also her qualities as the purifier. Through the Mother you will be able to mirror your self, in fact this is a necessary requisite. You must be mirrored and be aware of your impurities. It is also said about her that enlightened masters from past, present and future approach her, which indicates that she is in total control of the time-lines, an important aspect for those who are willing to traffic into the Other Worlds through time and mirror. One of her most appealing manifestations is in the form of Sherap Chamma, The Loving Lady. In this manifestation the swastika is removed and a golden vase is placed there instead. We will in the sections upon sexual magic dwell more into this symbolism, since the use of the vase or the urn is highly useful in acts of sorcery. That the vase is golden, i.e. that it captures the light and the madhu, the honey, will be interesting reconfirmations of these deities' magical abilities. All these deities here mentioned can be named Shens, a word that means priest. And with exception of Satrig Ersang, who is the source of the priesthood it will be quite useful to use this name. It is with the priesthood our first contact shall start, it is through their ordination in the lost kingdom of ZhangZhung their peace will be given us. The ordination by the Shens will elevate important features of our astrality and we will be burnt with the mark of entrance into the Kingdom of the Yidams guarded by the Sinpos.

In relation to the word shen. The deity known as Shenla WÃ¶kar, is considered the supreme priest of godhood, also wÃ¶kar is rather important as it signifies White Light. His animal is the elephant, reflecting his royalty and sacredness. He is also the one who carries a hook and he is completely dressed in white. He is also known as "The Body of Bon". In this regard Dr. Per KvÃ¶rne (p.26 in The Bon religion of Tibet, Shambalah Pub. 1996) makes a direct distinction between this form and the Buddha AmitÃ¶ba himself through the concept of dharmakÃ¶ya. This is highly possible due to the historical facts and the close relationship between Buddhist Tantra and bonpa.

It is said that BÃ¶npa is the foundation of Buddhist Tantra. The many similarities and multi-reflections within both Hindu-philosophy and Tantrik speculations confirms this thesis. When we analyse the bodymind of the Procreator, Sangpo Bumtri we will find the same similarities. Etymologically he is connected to BrahmÃ¶ as the enlightened being. He is said to be from the beginning of time and has been identified with the Demiurge in Tibetan cosmogonic myths. Further he is the origin of magic emanations and is adorned by a silver light. His main occupation is to remove impurities which gives him a very clear identification with the role of Vishnu. His animal is the garudabird, a fearsome bird of imagination connected to the mystery of the Phoenix. Sangpo Bumtri is able to adopt proper forms of himself nicely shaped in accordance with the environment he moves within and in relation to the sentient beings he is trying to redeem in order to awaken them to their dharma. The Teacher-priest Shenrap Miwo is similar to SÃ¶kyamuni, the buddha in the precise moment of enlightenment. This is a questionable connection since Shenrap Miwo indicates the state from SÃ¶kyamuni and further not until this state. His colour is dark blue. To him is given universal dominion and to him is the responsibility of instructing those deluded by ignorance.

Let us again return to Shenla WÃ¶kar in his manifestation named KÃ¶nzang Akor. His name reflects the All-Good, Cycle of A. A is the final letter of the Tibetan alphabet, it is the most frequently used syllable and phonetically it is the symbol of primordality. To prostrate ourselves in front of the primordial one seems to be a good place to start an not the least he is excellent as a point of foci where he sits in meditation with a lotus in his right hand and a vase in his left.

Decorate your temple nice without overdoing anything. Pour some rose water in the centre of the temple.

Posture yourself in a comfortable asana and start to chant the mantra A AKAR SALE WÃ¶ A YANG OM DU.

See him rising from the wetness at the centre of the temple, naked, adorned with jewels, his breast adorned with the Tibetan A. At attention to the objects he is holding in his hands, cause these can vary greatly. Visualise that A starts to glow and burns itself into his chest, deeper and deeper. It burns it way into the heart and from his heart ten rays of purest light come forth and surrounds you and penetrates you from the top of your head and down your spine. Keep this image firm in front of you as you experience that these ten rays breaks froth from your heart, but in four gross paths of light in the colours white, blue, deep-blue, green, yellow and bluish red. Observe how these colourful lights turn into deities surrounding KÃ¶nzang Akor. Perform this small ritual until you know intuitively that he has bestowed his grace upon you. This can happen after one session, ten, hundred or never. When this is completed the first ritual will be done.

PUJA SHERAP CHAMMA FOR ENLIGHTENMENT AND PROTECTION

1. Present a yellow and red candle for Sherap Chamma. Consecrate it with your own saliva, saying out her name loud several times, your gaze should be fixed on the candle while you smear the saliva on them. Place a tiger-eye-stone or a stone with feminine qualities between the candles together with a small mirror and a small vase. The vase at the left side for your (the right side for the deity).

2. Open the ritual with a calling for peace and ask your spiritual guides to preserve your truthfulness and purity . Acknowledge the importance of the naths before you and your personal daeva.

3. You are now ready to call forth the guardians of the ritual space. These guardians are also known as the Goddesses of the Four Seasons.

I open the portals to the gardens of Spring. I open the layers of the Eastern mysteries. I stand here naked as a cloud in the midst of All. I call your name dMar mo lcags sgrogs ma!

Let me see you in Red delight, mistress with the Iron Chain. Let me touch your velvety red skin

Let me dwell within the Iron-air. Protected and blessed be.

I turn to the Northern gate and enter the garden of summer. I open up the secrets of the Northern gate with the sound of flat-bells and breath. By the mantram Lha mo gshang thogs ma

I call upon you for protection. Appear for my benefit coloured in the rainbow. Seduce me with

The sound of the shang, the voice of summer and smell of your skin. Protected and blessed be.

As I turn to Autumns-twilight Ocean I approach the goddess with the noose. Your naked black Body as the secret garden spread in front of me. I call you by the mantram Nag mo zhags thogs ma

And I pray that you will protect me nd guide me through the wanderings I am about to undertake

I am seduced and hexed by the beauty of decay and the hissing of the autumn-crickets. Protected and blessed be.

In the last quarter I turn towards the south. The winter of all seasons. The caretaker of All. May your hook of compassion allow me to die a multifold from my impurities. Resurrect me in the cold fire of winter and carry me into the fifth, as I call you by the mantram Lha mo lcags kyu ma. Protected and blessed be.

4. Now you will call forth the protectors of the Eight dreads, known as Jigs pa brgyad skyobs. The will be called forth by spilling a few drops of water around the dragon-seat (the position of the sadhaka) saying the following:

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Enemies

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Magic

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Families

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Lu (naga)

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Heretics

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Harm

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Death

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Planets

5. Imagine a throne between the candles. This is the space where Sherap Chamma is supposed to be evoked into. And in this occasion we will call her in her five-fold form, also known as the Five Loving Ladies.

Oh, Beautiful Lady of heavenly Wisdom, arise from the Gardens of aether and knowledge. Come in the fivefold Form of Wisdom shrouded in beauty. Your neck and body Adorned with the finest jewels. The sun and the moon are Thy faithful servants. Rich in beauty, purifier of ignorance, Remover of the eight fears. Glorious goddess of the Body of Bon I call your eastern body, Thabs chen bde sgrol. Teach me the Means towards blissful Liberation. I call your northern body where the sky is held in chambers of treasure. Nam mkha `i mdzod `dzin. Let your western body swallow my sins, the Ocean of the dark eat my impurities. Thugs rje byams ma. As the body of the southern pyres enters the world of appearance I ask the favours and blessings of the fourfold and composite body which turns into the fifth, the Loving Lady of wisdom Shes rab byams ma.

6. See her as she is slowly taking a pleasurable form between the candle. Allow this form to mould itself into whatever she wants to be. Remember that she has layer upon layer of appearances. Its important to tap into those aspects of her she deems necessary for you, since she is a goddess very concerned about ignorance and impurities.

7. Note everything down in your diary and allow these energies to seep out by them self. That is, donâ€™t banish! Itâ€™s a good idea to build up this protective atmosphere in your laboratory before we start calling the demons, sinpos and other unpredictable beings. If any phenomena appear that makes you uncomfortable bring the matter up with your Guru or dive deep into the uneasiness yourself.

Lesion number Three Tapping the Source of Evil

Welchen Gekâ€™ is a fascinating Yidam. And with this entity we approaches another set of divinities with slightly different attributes. The Trowo Yidams. While the Shen-class of beings are occupied with the purificative processes the Trowo Yidams are said to be the source of the tantras and the secret teachings. Its important that you who read these lessons are aware of the source of these transmissions. In this paper you will learn how the machinery of occult wisdom situated within Daath is reflected towards the plutonian hot-point. Bâ€™n-Pa represents one of the clearest plutonian traditions obtainable in the exterior world. But its main gate is through Daath. As should and must be evident is that Daath represents that sephira of Naught. Transgression through this point of the godhood will lead you either to understanding or confusion. The fall of Adamos and Cheva came into play with the confusion given by Daathian entities. I will urge those of you who read these papers to read and try to understand the problem of radical evil as set forth by Tau Orphâ€™e Luchifero I. These essays can be found on the following address http://www.geocities.com/erzulie_freda in the section called Choronzon Club. In the next two lesions we will look deep within the sexual magical secrets and also the teachings of the Order founded by Reuss will be slightly discussed in relation to the mysteries reflected in the VIII and IX degrees of the order. These seem proper since Reuss founded a western order based upon Tantrik ideas. It is these concepts we will concentrate upon. But for now we will solely concentrate upon the nature of these fierce entities of the plutonian tantra of Bâ€™n.

Itâ€™s rather interesting to note that the worship of the yidams are very similar to the procedures set forth in a text such as the Hevajra-tantra. Welchen Gekhâ€™ has many features in common with the mysterious and violent Hevajra. Also important is the fact that the yidams are especially connected to ZhangZhung, the Holy Land or the divine sanctuary where the gems of bliss and enlightenment are hidden. The gekhâ€™s are a class of gods within the class of yidams. What the name gekhâ€™ signifies is not known, the very name containing the secret of these beings in itself. There are said to be 360 gekhâ€™s and all of these can be seen as being held within the all-embracing body-mind of Welchen Gekhâ€™, making all other gekhâ€™s a part on One. 360 is also the number of a full lunar year as well as it is the complete circle, indicating that these beings rules fortune and time-travel. That is, all time-lines will have to cross one of the 360 points of being grasped within the ever evolving Now. The gods of divination are said to rest on the sacred mountain Tisâ€™, a mountain found in the kingdom of ZhangZhung. One of his names are also Gekhâ€™ Sangwa Dragchen, which means the Secret and Great Violent One of the Gekhâ€™s. He is embraced by his consort Logbar Tsamâ€™, the Lady of Flashing Lightning. Her body is in the colour of reddish-brown. She has three faces, six hands and she has a fierce and warlike attitude, namely as the Queen of draplas, a warlike class of beings submitted to the Yidams.

From the Bon Tantra Ge khod gsang ba drag chen gyi sgrub skor we will meditate upon the following conjuration of Welchen Gekhâ€™, using meditation and visualisation. Itâ€™ of grave importance that contemplation follows these meditations so the understanding can be enlarged. In this text Welchen Gekhâ€™ and his consort assumes the form of Yab and Yum, namely the Father and the Mother, laying forth the cosmic formulae of union resulting into the Third and therefore the One. Be sure that a certain degree of comprehension of this has been achieved before you go on further to the plainly sex-magical teaching that are to be followed and used to approach the different yidams. Also, remember that each yidam is a tantra in itself. The worship, understanding and indulgence into these beings through the techniques known in western occult systems as VIII, IX and XI will energise the contact between the Seeker and the god to such an extent, that the mind slips and total paranoia and obsession can be the result ending in insanity or death in the worst cases. To avoid such unwanted results its important that time is used wisely and with a great amount of discipline. Donâ€™t pursue these lesions faster than you know with yourself that you shouldâ€™!

See yourself placed in the midst of enormous funeral pyres. Silence and laughter are everywhere. The corpses speak, non-understandable words. Roaming ghosts and demons are everywhere and you feel uneasy in this land of strangitude. With burning bodies and hot coal at all sides you recite the following incantation until your mind starts sliding deeper into ZhangZhung, erasing the borders between the visualised kingdom and the kingdom you want to be brought closer towardsâ€™!..

The fierce form of Welchen Sangdrag,
Gekhâ€™, king of gods, subduer-of-demons with great magic power Terrifying, with nine heads and eighteen arms
Bluish-black, furious, an awe-inspiring, blazing wonder â€“
His form has a violent, haughty posture
With his fierce nine heads he subdues the arrogant, black demons:
The faces to the right are shining white,
Those tot he left are flaming red,
While the faces in the middle are bluish-black.
All nine heads are furious, with the face of a demon
The topmost head has the face of a garuda
I hair is yellowish-black,
Like a mass of fire filling the universe.

Lightening, hail and snowstorms whirl around him,
His eyebrows are like flashes of lightning,
Shooting forth violent hail and thunderbolts.
His eyes forming a triangle, are filled with rage;
Thrown back by his eyes, red with fury,
Gods and demons swoon from fright.
Violent claps of thunder resound from his ears,
Adorned with turquoise dragons as beautiful earrings.
His nose has terrifying wrinkles,
From it swirls an apocalyptic snow-storm.
His greedily gaping mouth devours and destroys the demons;
From his tongue flashes of lightning penetrate the Three Realms.
His pale-yellow beard showers sparks,
Violent lightning falls, thunderbolts and hail whirl around.
The cry of the garuda at the top of his head
Unsettles the nagas at the bottom of the sea.
His eight gaping faces subdue the eight classes of gods and demons,
The sound "HAHA" of his pealing laughter
Causes the inimical demons who lead astray and create obstacles
To swoon and fall headlong.
On the upper part of his body
The wings of a great garuda are raised and spread;
Their awesomeness overwhelms the entire universe
The stems of the feathers are glowing, all-consuming masses of fire Reducing to ashes the demons who lead astray
From each hair of his body sparks shoot forth
Forming a mass of fire
And subduing the female fiends and lords-of-death
The upper part of his body is enveloped from above downwards
In the flayed hide of an elephant
To which is attached as the hem the skin of a destructive demon, Spreading forth a hundred thousand mighty masses of fire
And reducing to ashes the demons who lead the sentient beings astray
The lower part of his body has a loincloth made from a fierce tiger
With a lower hem of the skin of karakul, vulture and leopard
Showering sparks which form a mass of all-consuming fire
With brightness which reduces the sadag, lu and nyen to ashes
Flashes of red-hot lightning, rendering them immobile
As soon as it touches them
Reduce to ashes the eight classes of destructive demons
The head-ornament, the five classes of great garudas
Smile as they emerge from infinite space
Overwhelming with their majesty the black lu-demons
A lu-serpent is his beautiful blue-spotted necklace:
His hands and feet are adorned by the five classes of serpents,
Forming beautiful jewel tassels

The first part of his eighteen hands
Holds demons and vampires to his mouth
Male and female dān he gnashes headfirst
The black mountain of the demons he dries out to the very bottom
As for the attributes to the eight hands to the right:
Sword, axe and wheel; thunderbolt, mass of fire and crooked knife;
Staff and sceptre, brandished to the sky
Cutting, chopping, cleaving and hacking into pieces
All demons who create obstacles

Burning and rending them completely asunder from head to toe
Pounding them and reducing them to food and garments
As for the attributed of the right hands to the left;
He holds bow and arrow, noose and hammer;
Chain, hook and natse, the horn of a wild sheep
And al-dissolving, boiling water
Pounding, binding and beating
The host of harmful and obstructive ghosts and demons;
Tying them up, dragging them away
And reducing them to food and garments;
Burning them vanquish them
And performing the magic of bobms
The four legs are wide apart
One pair bent in, the other stretched out
Troubling and oppressing the eight classes of obstructive demons
Thunderbolts and snowstorms whirl about his body
Completely overcoming the wounded demons
As for his entourage, he is surrounded by the gekhÑ-gods
Accompanied by a further emanation
Of a hundred thousand divine warriors

As for the great mother, inseparably united with him-
The Queen of draplas, Logbar TsamÑ, The Lady of Flashing Lightning
She has three faces, six arms, and a wrathful appearance
Her body is reddish-yellow, glowing like the sun
She is the wrathful lady in the sky, shining like the sun
To the right her face is that of the water-crystal, moon
To the left, that of the fire crystal, sun
While the middle head glows like molten gold
Her hair is reddish-yellow, her diadem shines brightly
A snowstorm with flashes of lightening
Shining like fire whirls about her
In the hair-knot of fire-crystal, adorning her head
She wears a tÑding with the lustre of the sun and the moon
Her eyebrows are flickering flashes of lightning
Her eyes are shining zi-stones TA-LA-LA
From her ears comes the violent sound of thunder U-RU-RU
Her golden earrings tinkle, SI-LI-LI
From her nose a violent tempest whirls about,
From her gaping mouth comes a terrible gnashing of teeth
On the silken garment on the upper part of her body
Is the skin of the Eight Great Planets
On the lower part of her body
Is a loincloth of red-hot lightning
Like thunderbolt-furrows showering sparks
She is girdled with a belt of a venomous black serpent
She subdues the noxious lu and dÑn
On her bracelets which shines like the sun and the moon
The twenty-eight lunar mansions are engraved
The first pair of her hands
Holds masses of fire like a golden Mount Meru,
Burning, oppressing and troubling inimical demons
The second Ñair hurls lassos like a rain of thunderbolts
Binding and completely piercing the demons
The last pair holds a red bobmb
As a choice offering to the mouth of the Father

Vanquishing the life-force of the demons and fulfilling her vow
Inseparably united, she joyously embraces the Father
Showing the Father her sweetly smiling face
Showing the demons her furiously wrinkled face.

After performing a meditational procedure on the union of the "Mother" and the "Father" time will come for the assumption of these god-forms. Both beings should be taken over forming the One. Through this act the triad will again melt into One, the Zero and origin of All.

Lesion number Four Cultivation and trafficking with Yidams part I

There are a number of ways the Seeker can attain and maintain contact with entities in other dimensions, realms and planes of existence. Through the aids of sexual magic and shamanism we find two efficient portals where we can progress as Sorcerers. Sexual magic should be considered more as a technique, than a procedure belonging to tantrism, since sexual magic is found within the mysteries of the gnostics, paganist circles, among the devotees of the true catholic church and a multitude of other branches of knowledge. Through the work of Reuss and Crowley in our part of the world the use of sexual aids in the Great Work has received a somewhat dubious reputation, much due to the very tone of language the lectures in the VIII, IX and XI degrees of the Order of Oriental Templars which were put into writing by Baphomet and circulated amongst the handful of high initiated in this order. In these lectures the gnostic and old-Christian mode for use of sexual substances and the energy evoked through it are presented, but little differs from the actual aim and technique used among the sadhus and other Tantrik initiated in the more than two-thousand years before the coming of the Christ in his form as Jeshua ben Joseff.

The sexual magic herein presented are mainly focused on how Msgr. Orphée Luchifero I interprets the work of the XI degree. In the Order of the Oriental Templars this degree was deemed to be the use of the homosexual current in nature. In our understanding this is not totally correct. All forms for intercourse in the flesh, between any sexes is considered a IX-degree working. When you turn the degree from 9 into 11, it becomes one more than the number of divine points and brings the whole act one degree higher. Just as an act of sexual magic between two humans will result in the procreation of the One " completing the perfection. One over is a abomination, since it captures the idea of fornicating with spirits. This is considered dangerous, due to the likely experiences of succubi and incubi-phenomena and not to mention the danger of vampirism. Still, this is an important aspect in this work. The work of the IX is a procreative work, the XI is not. In use it resembles the auto-erotic techniques of the VIII, namely magical masturbation, but in this context the mass is put in reverse motion and quite suprising results could occur. We will for our work in this field choose two weapons. The trident and the vajra. The trident is a protective symbol, but it is a lot more than that. It is the very fire of the soul, spirit and the body combined as it is leaping forth from the flames of fornication. The vajra is our defensive shield, the lustral fire that is connected to the divine braze and the breath of the thunder as it is seen amongst the eyes and wings of godhood.

One of the forms of sexual magic that we are going to use is a technique widely used and can be recognised in various orders under a multitude of names. Whether name it is familiar to you, we will in this lesion work it according to the theory of Master Azothâ€™s definition of the secrets of XI. The technique it self is fairly easy since it is based upon internal manipulation of a god form that can be projected and thus becoming an external form and therefore make the basic for succubi and incubi phenomena. This state is recognised by its highly intoxicated state of divine overflowing and can result in the Seeker becoming the Oracle and further it can leads into unhealthy obsession. First the Seeker should invoke the godform desired. Sit, stand or position yourself in a form of asana that resembles the deity. At this stage you should use any bodily possibility, limbs and facial movements " whatever to assume the godform. Vibrate the name of the deity in a slow, rhythmically manner. Try to pronounce the name with both inward breathing and the exhalation. At the same time have a fixed image of the deity in you minds eye. For each exhalation imagine that the deity grows larger and larger. That its luminosity and complexity becomes more and more vivid. When the image is starting to fill the totally of you, start to masturbate. When climaxing, visualise that the orgasmic flood turns inwards and explode rapidly through the being that has grown inside of you. Allow this rush to give the deity life inside of your body. And quite all thoughts as this happens offering your mind to the invoked deity. Explore the raised forcefield and use to allow the deity to use your flesh as it desire. The field raised by giving life to an invoked being in this manner has proven to be a extremely highly charged environment for occult inspiration, so you should use the magnetism in this field. The effect will disintegrate after 20-30 minutes and the internal manipulation should start to fade. If you feel awkward or still ruled by this deity two hours after the ritual is over you could either go to sleep for a short period of time or perform a banishing.

When this technique is mastered the Seeker will instead of building up the deity within perform the Act of Externalising, that is to project the image given life and subtlety in the inner to assume a form in the outer. This is simply done by projecting the image of the invoked deity out from ajna-chakra at the first seconds of orgasm. Keep your eyes closed as this happens and keep focused that the being has been projected outwards and will now appear in front of you in the form you have invoked in into. As this belief is firm in your mind, open your eyes slowly and notice you surroundings and all its oddity.

Further exploration in this field can be performed by using masks and the assumption of animal-forms. Animal-forms are an important aspect of any magical training and especially within the arcana of BÅ¶n, where shamanistic elements are evident. The procedure for raising the animal consciousness is pretty much the same as when you work with gods and goddesses. But this can also be done without using the orgasm as such. In the first stages it might be a better idea to take on the animal-form chosen by firstly reading a bit about the habits of the chosen animal and its special features and characteristics. When you assume the animal form place yourself on all four in your temple and slowly build up the consciousness that you are now this or that animal, allowing the human side of you to fade out into Naught. Use whatever helps you attain this state. Sounds, walking around on all four, masks, fur, whatever you feel is appropriate. And there is absolutely no reason to feel stupid performing this procedure. Imitation will bring you to realisation. There are also sexual procedures to use within this arcana of animal and insectoide forms that serves to use for qlipphotic workings, but those procedures is not contained in this monograph, since it will lead the practitioner astray of the path of the Brilliant White. When the animal-form is successfully achieved the Seeker will apply the traditional visualisation of a deserted landscape with trees and sand where he or she will find a secret passage to the underworld. Passing down into the Underworld the Seeker must have a clear reason for doing such. If you take on the form of for instance a fox to transgress to the lower realms you must have a purpose with your journey. Declare this intention at the beginning of your ritual. To search for a guide, a deity, oracular rites, healing-formulas, power objects whatever. But you should have a reason for going down!

There is a secret method of sexual revolting that includes the assumption of animal-forms that are being given sexual food for the sake of fornication with the gods in the shape of an animal. This practice is extremely dangerous and will bring forth dangerous mutant-weregods. If such methods are applied, the Seeker should have a very good reason for doing such unless he or she will have constructed a being on the astral that will evolve rapidly efficient skills for vampirism and unhealthy intoxication of the Seekers nervous system and mental layers.

The succubi/incubi effect in the externalisation of the godform should be sufficient. Further, when this procedure are mastered to such a degree that you know that the deity is there you can perform different sexual acts with the deity. But the important point is the consummation of the elixir the deity produces in this joining of man and god, which is a very potent eucharist indeed. The last stage in this formulae is achieved when the deity is clearly (by sight or notion) skin to skin with the Seeker and the orgasm is produced from the point of the yab-yum position with the deity. In this position one should seek to join linga-yoni-wise and remember that all these gods are androgynous. If you are a female working with Chamma, you simply visualise her with a linga. The same is with a male copulating with Meri, for instance. Visualise that he has a yoni. Take care not to perform any linga-colon-copulation in this regard, since anal intercourse “ in the ordinary world as well as the astral will produce a very different occult circuit for working suitable for other means than ours.

There is also another aspect of the tantrik shamanism of BÃ¶n that should be worked with. That is the cultivation of the dreamstate. This is perhaps a safer ally to work within, but on the other hand “ maybe not. We will explore shortly how we can cultivate trafficking abilities within the dreamstate and also explore shortly the technique known as Karezza, which has proved enormously efficient and enormously obsessive. A tale from the early practices of the Master Azoths occult training will show its beneficial aspects as well as its more obsessive qualities. This will be treated in the next lesson.

Karezza is an old tantrik technique adopted by many practitioners of the western occult mysteries for producing vividness of external visualisation and obtaining contact with god. Again we speak about a pretty simple technique which produces the most infernal results. Karezza was formally introduced to the west by the adept Thomas Lake Harris and the procedure consists of performing masturbation focused upon a chosen sigil, form or image without allowing the masturbation to climax into orgasm. Instead you will build up the electric tension over and over again, continually focused upon the sigil or form allowing this sexual exhaustion to end in Sleep. This will bring forth a most peculiar process where the building up of the magnetic radioactivity will seek its fulfilment in the Dream-state. Through this technique you will have applied a tremendous invocation of a desired force that will hunt you down in the Dreamlands. In this state the desired form will be drawn to the massive electrical forcefield built up around your astrality and due to the law of esoteric magnetism it will seek congress with you. For a successful achievement of producing occult coitus with this form the sigil of concentration must be imprinted on the being when it comes down upon you; if not, this procedure will not produce any desirable occult results. Pay attention that this formulae is very close to the true mechanisms of fornication with succubi and incubi and should be proceeded with great care. I.e. you should be absolutely sure about why you are performing this ritual! Also important to mention is that some people has naturally a higher level of natural sexual electricity and is more prone for instant encounters with these beings, thus faster is able to bring them forth into mental and physical planes. Especially those who have a heavy watery nature and exploiting fiery nature. Let us take a look at two separate cases to illustrate the potency, beneficial aspect and the dangerous aspect of these kind of workings.

Due to a bhakti-yoga the Master Azoth incorporated Karezza for bringing a deity closer to his ontological sphere. This resulted in obsession but turned out to end in very desirable results. After approx. 40 days of traditional bhakta-yoga Karezza was introduced by forming a sigil of the deity’s name. After one night nothing happened, except for a horrible awakening where Azoth felt drained of all energy. Dizziness and small convulsions followed during the day. The bhakta-procedures were still followed " four times this day. Upon going to bed, he again performed Karezza. This time something happened. The image of a past lover of his appeared in the dream and they had coitus. Upon awakening Azoth felt weird and still the dizziness continued. He realised that the fault he had committed was not to hold the sigil firm in mind upon seeping and neither had he resumed the sigil when the form of this past lover appeared. This day he again performed the bhakta-sequences four times, but the 1st and 3de were VIII-degree workings, in an attempt to attract the deity through a firmly radioactive sphere. Upon going to bed, he decided to sleep in the temple, again performing Karezza until sleep carried him away. This night the past lover came again, but this time the sigil was kept vivid also in this state so he burned the sigil in the brow and between the breasts of this form whereupon she shed her skin and appeared as a fierce, beautiful black female. They fornicated, while Azoth the whole time was focused on imprinting the sigil all over her body " and especially into her eyes. Upon awakening his belly was covered with seamen and the sheet he had brought into the temple was thrown into a corner of the room. Soft spots on his body " like invisible bruises could be felt in the groin and all around the chest. Anahata-chakra and Svadhithana-chakra was clearly infected by something. Later on that day he experienced a violent obsessive, energised flow of energy and the breathing followed strange patterns, indicating that also Visuddha and Ajna-chakra was set into play. The Karezza-procedure continued for another week with quite similar results until Azoth deemed it unhealthy to carry it on any longer due to the heavy influx of obsessive elements in his character and life. It took time before the solidity of the encounters at night disintegrated, but he was left with an immensely important spiritual guide, that has guided his path ever since'..

Another story is about a very potent bruja. A natural born witch with a natural high sexual radioactivity. A Leo-woman with moon in Cancer. She performed Karezza once and received immediate results of a dangerous nature. Firstly she had not any clear idea of what of why she wanted to call forth something. Secondly she had no sigil for her intention or for the being. She simply made herself ready for rape by whatever may came around. What happened was that she woke up during the night in a violent way feeling that she had something inside of her. When opening her eyes, she immediately noticed the shadow of a beast of the wall " on top of her! She got scared and started to scream only to receive flashes of a gleaming demon fucking her to pieces. Probably she fainted by this agony happening to her and woke up later that nigh telling herself that this was an evil dream. But the bloodtraces from her yoni and the odd marks on her shoulders and breasts told another story.

You might think that these encounters are too fantastic to be real, but these are first-hand encounters. The Leo-woman was Master Azoth's assistant for a short period of time when they worked with quite dark sexual magic. Needless to say, she turned her back to magic due to this encounter. She also indulged into self-destructive sexual behaviour for an extended period of time. This example illustrates several important matters, but most of all it tells you that you should plan this procedure carefully and it also tells how efficient these techniques are for atavistic resurgence. So, in other words, this is a splendid sexo-shamanistic technique. When it comes to sexuality, we will look closer on this subject further in this lesson. But for now let us concentrate on the dreamstate and how to cultivate lucid dreaming.

Dream-Yoga is both a shamanistic practice and it is also a Yoga in its own right.. The procedure is simple, but the degree of patience and discipline needed might turn out to be a too strong demand for those weak of structure and discipline. When once cultivated, this faculty, or siddhi, if you like will never be lost. Once you have accumulated this learning into your body and mind it will never be lost. When not concentrated on it will stay dormant, when concentrated on - it will come back into the waters of the time-lines. Never is a luminous being so fluid as when he or she is in the dreamstate. This state carries remnants to the spheres evoked through sorcery when the sorcerer is possessed, inspired or fulfilled by some spirit. You then enter into the Threshold-kingdom where your reason must die and the Naught shall remain and endure until the end. The most Holy Lama Namkai Norbu gives a very good advice that is often overlooked by westerners in their practices with these streams of power:

• In the Dzogchen school there is the constant advice from teacher to student that one must not be attached to experience for its own sake. Western approaches also encourage a systematic analysis of the content of dreams, whereas Dzogchen teachers encourage practitioners not to dwell upon dream phenomena • - Namkai Norbu; Dream Yoga and the practice of Natural Light, Snow Lion, 1992, USA

We are of the same opinion as the Dzogchen-school of Buddhist teachings, you should by all means preserve the fluidity. Through dreams All is possible. Through dreams access to all lines of time is possible. When this practice has been cultivated to perfection, the entering of these states are for a few Masters open all time, through meditation. The constant access to the realms of dream is sometimes called by shamans to • see •. This signifies that some layers of this vast plane is dawning upon the sorcerer so he or she is able to • see • the total picture of their surroundings. We will not concern us with this issue yet, much because it will arise as a natural consequence for those with this disposition. But how is awareness in dreams cultivated? As earlier mentioned, it is fairly easy. First you will find something to concentrate on, a syllable, a sign, form, point. Something that is easy to hold on to. You should not use complicated symbols, then your mind will wander around in contemplative porridge and disturbing the free flow towards the peak of dream-awareness. When you go to bed you should be calm and quiet, no unbalance in the gunas should be hidden from you and you should focus your mind on your chosen symbol for ten minutes or so. Breathing should slow down a bit during these ten minutes. When you feel drowsy you should close your eyes and still maintain the image of your chosen symbol in your mind •™s eye and fall into sleep with this firmly fixed. When you sense that you are about to slide into the dream-state tell yourself that this symbol will keep you alert and aware and keep on concentrating on the symbol. When you have entered the dream-state, alert it is truly a peculiar condition. All lucid dreaming and dream-control has the features common for extremely vivid dreams. You have had them your self •“ dreams so intense that you use a few moments telling yourself that this was just a dream •. The truth is that a dream is never just a dream, it is a sacred space of multidimensional possibilities. The dream-state is a common ground for existence for angels and men, demons and elementals alike. The rewards for obtaining lucidity are so profane that the practice it self has lead some neophytes into obsession. When you are in the dreamstate you should try to perform some fantastic acts like flying, jumping and divining. The sensations are incredible. Remember that after this state is cultivated you will have prepared a gateway that always is easy to open •“ from both sides. A few words of concern in the ending, again from the wisdom of Namkai Norbu:

When the State of dreaming has dawned, do not lie in ignorance like a corpse,
Enter the natural sphere of unwavering attentiveness.

Recognise your dreams and transform illusion into luminosity

Do not sleep like an animal. Do the practice which mixes sleep and reality •

- Namkai Norbu; Dream Yoga and the practice of Natural Light, Snow Lion, 1992, USA

Now we will look at the selections and features of the yidams we can work with using one or several of the techniques so far mentioned in these teachings.

Magy¼ Sangchog Tartug is known as the •Supreme Secret of Mother Tantras, Attaining the Limit •. This yidam is presented as a male. He has 16 arms, each of them are holding a skull-bowl containing blood and a fresh heart. He has seven heads in the colours blue, yellow, dark blue, white and green. The upper and lower heads are red and white. His body is dark blue and two enormous wings are attached to his back. On his lap, with his penis inside of her is Kyema Marmo, the "Red Khyema", with her red body completely naked, only adorned with precious jewels, her tongue outstretched. Green smoke oozes forth from their loins.

Trowo Tsochog Khagying is "Wrathful One, Supreme Lord Towering in the Sky". He has three heads, six arms and a dark blue body. In his right hands he holds a banner, sword and axe. In the left he holds a bow, arrow a hook and a hexagram. His throne is supported by the garuda, the elephant, the lion, the horse and the dragon. His consort is the red-bodied Khala Dugmo, "Furious Lady in the Sky". For both of these deities mantras like: BSVO!, HALA and CHA is working very well Welsa Ngampa and Meri is also yidams of great importance, but these will be discussed in the next two lesions.

Lesion number Six Truth unfolding in the hands of the Revelator

Welche Ngampa is the focus for this lesion. He is known as the revelator of the Bon-teachings and is most important. He is displayed with 16 arms, dark blue body and a consort of a dark green complexion. Both of them has fangs and staring eyes. His consort, Ngammo Yumchen s displayed with widely exposed genitals and anus. Blood-pink at both endings symbolising the state of Threshold-ness found within the union of these two points.

Accepting the Truth is quite different from being in the truth. Being in truth is being in Death, embracing Pain like it was Love. Our world is ruled by Death, Sorrow and Despair. Those who knows these forces as brilliant powers controlling our restrained condition are close to the revelation awaiting the adept on the Threshold-Kingdom. This Truth is hard to embrace, much easier to deny. Denial arises with explanation. There will always be an explanation for all cruelty that hits your life, if you won't find one you start to worry and your worry can render you insane. Fear is the child of worry, worry is the offspring of the explanation. No explanation are Truth, it is a veil of discomfort we adjust against. Without death there is nothing. The Lord Yama is the loathsome and fearsome King of Truth. All Matters are disintegrating and all Matters done by the hand and the flesh must turn into shava. Not until you reach the state of the cremation-ground will Truth unfold itself for you.

There is a mystic teaching telling about that the true priests are those who has sworn themselves to the Light behind the Kingdom of Death and walks this earth just as Death would. Common people and even advanced Seekers are not able to see this Truth, cause the intensity of Death is shrouded by the most intense Light. These adepts and hidden mauses are wandering the earth even today in their mission to reclaim the Light from the darkness and share the bliss within their community. Often their kindness is seen, often their Death is hidden and occult. This should be a part of the goal, a piece in the throbbing puzzle in the midst of your chest.

Denial is not to refuse to accept things, it rests on the explanation of things that happens. Not all things happens due to a divine reason for it. Often things happen because you are a fool, stupid and acts against your True interests. Some people say that the Butterfly-effect is a reason. It is not. It is an explanation of a cause. People should tend to have less opinions and re-connect to their heart instead of fooling around in speculative wilderness. The domains of diffused and lost minds that only brings you further into the land of confusion and psychological massmurders. Pay attention!

Now, perform this meditation. Go into your temple, light a solitary candle for your Guardian angel or a spirit close to you. Call the spirit forth and ask the spirit to show you the Truth. Nothing more, nothing less. DO NOT ELABORATE ON THIS! Be clear and simple – like life. Light a pure incense, like sandalwood or musk and blow out the candle. Lie down on the floor and close your eyes. Visualise the appearance of your angel while you breathe slower and slower. Let the smoke of the incense fill your whole body. This is the smoke from the cremation-ground and it fills you more and more. Imagine the angel arising within you and ask in a whisper that Truth shall be revealed for you. If this proves difficult, simply hold your breath as long as possible and visualise the angel at the precise point when your prana leaves your body. This should give nice results within a very brief period of time.

Why are you doing the things you are doing? Why are your interests for this and that, such and such? What are the boundaries of folly and wisdom? Why are you reading these papers Wels Ngampa is the revelator of Truth, the Father Tantra. It is time for you to make a pact with him, so he can reveal the Truth for you. For this ritual you will need one dark-blue candle and one deep red. Presented in the circle should be some strong liquor and red wine. These will be consummated by the sadhaka.

You will start the ritual shouting BSVO! PATH! To the eight corners of the universe and calling forth the line of deceased naths and the powers of your guru. All in the name of protection. Then you will go on to call forth the eight protectors of Bon by their names: Sip Gyalmo, Nyipangs, Menmo, Machen Pomra, Mid¼ Champa traggo, Yeshey Welmo, Tsen Hurwa, Yums. You will repeat each name nine times. Use a mala for this purpose, turning the calling forth of these protectors into a prayer. Then you will turn to the west and call forth Wels Khagying. He will appear in shifting forms, but always accompanied by the bear-faces door-keeper of the west and within a pond of garudas. Greet him with the words: BSVO HA BA BZHI! Then you will turn to the south and call forth Tums Khagying. He will appear with a makra-faced door-keeper and a tiger-faced god. Greet also him with the words: BSVO HA BA BZHI! Then you will turn to the east and call forth Tros Khagying. He will appear with a lion-faced door-keeper and a dragon. Greet him with the same words. Lastly you will turn to the north where you will call forth Ngams Khagying. He will appear on a yak with a dragon-faced god. Greet him with the same words as you greeted the other deities. All these beings has dark blue hue. Imagine now how a brilliant red consort comes forth from a place between these guardians. They all are naked and moist juices are oozing forth from their yonis making their legs wet. Imagine that they start to indulge into divine pleasure. Then you will whisper forth Wels Ngampa and his consort, Ngammo Yumchen. He dark blue, she mauve green. Both with gazing eyes and fangs. Imagine that they enter the circle from the northern gate and sit down under you, so that you rest amongst their bodies as they indulge in yabyum. Now you will start to masturbate. While you are performing this act imagine that the tension of the guardians fornication becomes greater and greater. Feel the sexual atmosphere. When orgasm is achieved collect the elixir immediately into a cup and mix it with wine and the strong liquor immediately and drink it down. Allow your self to stay in this exalted state as long as possible – and if possible allow the spirits to carry you away into the kingdom of ZhangZhung. After the completion of this ritual go immediately to bed and let the spirits work on you as the night brings you into the neatherlands.

Lesion Seven Meri – at the Mountains of Organic Fire

Fire is in many senses the highest point of manifestation. In fire we will find creativity. Worthy of notice is also the ability of fire to burn. Set waters and earth aflame, shroud the sun and the moon in flames. For most sadhakas the mountain Kailash is significant. The give birth to the tiger within as I drop my eyes to the pine-ground and restore the sight with the eyes of the falcon. I turn inwards and bring the pools of fire into the still waters of hot night within. I am in flames as I turn to the Liquid embracesâ€•

At the south-western gate say: â€•Lig chen mu mer. BSVO! Gyer snyan tsa med ma!
Dead waters washing over my body and force the tiger to rest and give birth to the bear of the ocean shores. My eyes melt away to give place to the sight of the hoopoeâ€™s gaze.
Diving through woods of fire, calming my sinking downways in liquid scentâ€•.

At the Western gate say: â€•sKulha yo bhya. BSVO! sMin byed ma From liquid scent mermaids and mer-men rise in the font of snow. Rip clean my body for skin and flesh and cover my nakedness in the leopardâ€™s dress. Eyes eaten by acid-water, new forms are being born and I explore my maps with the eyes of the Crowâ€•.

At the north-western gate say: sPungs chen muwer BSVO! Ting rgyung tsa med ma.
Running through melting snow, hitting seeds, earth and corn. A slow swirl of compressed water shreds my fur and restructure me into the form of the elephant. Croweyes turning into the ravens-eyes, fair and renewed.

At the Northern gate say: sKu lha mu thur. BSVO! Ting rgyung tsa med ma. I am dropping my trunk as the snow gets colder, the earth darker. The ground is frozen into a solar flower of dirt. Fur growing and I assume the form of the yak. Ravens eyes turn cold as I contemplate the coldness of sex and within I see with the eyes of the eagle, ready to take flight in the hour of prey.â€•

At the north-eastern gate say â€•srid pa mu wer BSVO! Ring snyan tsa med ma. Through the elements pure and the coldness extreme I take on the form and face of the rat and restore my sight with the eyes of demons. Reflected and contaminated. Contemplated and rectified. I am the messenger, the oracle of the demon-bird who speaks what the body bring to silence!â€•

I call forth: Pus has dung rgyung BSVO!

I call forth: shugs sgrol ma and the dragon-faced messengers of the Holy Cities above!

I call forth: su lha pra plud BSVO!

I call forth â€™gso byed ma the wild Boar with the wolverines blood and eyes from below!

AUM AUM AUM SET THE ORACLE OF THE SACRED TRIDENT AFLAME!

You should then position your self in the middle of the circle, reciting the mantric bee-noise BSVO! Until the gods are rising from within your very being setting your hidden oracular reservoirs of power aflame and the wisdom of the yidams are ready to enlighten your being as you go down, down down to the sacred lake and to the realm of the sacred kingdom of ZhangZhung. Allow your self to be taken down while you are truly burning with the intoxication of the forms that has passed through you, knowing that all those forms still live on within in the bodymind of the tantrik shaman.

The shaman knows no fear, no limits for the boundaries of knowledge. All secrets are revealed in that point where sex meets death and the bindu of unmoveableness are unfolded in the moving of the moved for just a fragrant of a moment. You will have to face the fears you might have and force your self into the everburning pralaya. What this indicates is that to submit to Meri is to submit to change, a change that might be painful and also be followed by the feeling of ignorance on your way to burn the ignorance into dust and air. The way of the Warrior is needed to accomplish this task also known as the Great Work. The way of the Warrior is the way of the tantrikas and the shamans. The tantrik path should be for you who read these papers have a somewhat clear meaning for you at this juncture in time. However the way of the Shaman is much like the way of the Yathu and the old witches of the nameless art. the path is significant cause it deals with the magnetic relation between the Shaman and his guides. The shaman will often induct into him self stillness of mind so he can travel to the land below to obtain the secrets of the past, present and future to help hir self and hir community to become more prosperous. But for the solitary tantrik witch-shaman the understanding, realisation and use of the powers of the Yidams are just as important. There has been many ways to understand shamanism. Most frequently people think about the travel to the kingdom of the dead while monotonous chanting and drumming is performed. And true enough, the techniques the shaman use are widely known and will be readily found in any textbook concerning this subject in satisfying ways. What seldom is treated is the condition of the Shaman. This condition has been researched within The Chandra Tala House, a cult set aside for the preservation of the worship of Pashupati-Shiva, but at the same time it is also an attempt to join the stratas of shamanism with tantra, it is still tantrik since this is the tradition the house are preserving, but the means used will indicate that the condition of the Shaman is also developed and exercised in an attempt to draw even more power and energy from the shadow-realm of Lord Shiva.

There are in my opinion two more matters that should be discussed in relation to our subject. One of them is a discussion of the condition of the Shaman, along with some techniques for inducting trance into the sadhaka. Then the method for opening the fourfold way of vision to enter Karnag Tasel, the temple of wisdom guarded by the Sinpos, or rightly demons. I call this the four-fold way of vision and with this the secrets of the hand and the eye should be kept in mind and through these means the oracular road to the temple will be opened. One of the most efficient Sorcerers that has brought himself into writing, telling about the shamanistic condition is Carlos Castaneda especially in books like The Fire from Within and Tales of Power. The condition of the warrior is quite alike in all cultures and we will use the wisdom of Don Juan to enlighten the desired condition that should be established by the sorcerer of Bon as well.

Lesion Eight The Priesthood of ZhangZhung

The priests and priestesses of the Holy Tantrik kingdom of ZhangZhung is not only priests and priestesses. They have chosen the path of the warrior-priest, the path of the sorcerer. This path is found in many strands of occult lore and teaching and the path demands the same qualities of unpeckability from all its adepts. The Yidam Nyinpangs is particular important to ZhangZhung. Mostly because of his role as guardian deity of the meditational teachings of the Holy Kingdom, the Dzokpa Ahangzhung nyengy¹/₄, which means The Great Perfection, the Aural Transmission of Zhangzhung. This Yidam is without demonic attributes and is reminiscent of total fluidity the fluid of Space and a crystal-white aura. He is further portrayed as a mighty king, clad in white robes and wearing a turban. He is riding a white horse and in his hands he holds a banner of white silk. To obtain the condition where you place yourself under the peas found within the meditative core of Bon at the Mount Tis you will sit down in your temple and meditate on this being with the attempt of becoming one with him and letting the teachings of the priesthood filling you. You can use the following short formulae as a help for obtaining focus:

BSVO! Do not forget, do not forget, your former oath do not forget,
Nyipangs, do not forget your sadhaka here in the monastery of light Protector of the Doctrine's Word, King of draplas, King Nyipangs
Inspire me with the Word and the image of Wisdom cha-ra-ra
Ihup-s-lhup tra-la-la de,-s-dem cha-ra-ra dring-s-dring bup-s-bup

With your entourage of emanations and secondary emanations
Without forgetting your former oath, your former Word
We implore you to come like lightening, with magic feet
We implore you to come with a loving mind, like a mother
We implore you to come with a longing mind, like a friend
BSVO-cha-la-la-cha-la-la BSVO-cha-la-la-cha-la-la NyipangsÃ© inspire my mind
My heart, my eyes and soul. BSVO!

It will be very proper now to discuss the teachings of the shaman Don Carlitos in this regard and through him try to reflect on the fact that the priest of ZhangZhung is both a priest and a warrior as well as a tantrik and a shaman. The priest is All. To be a shaman is to deliberately place your self into a situation where you live so close to death that you really will be able to feel the importance of your actions. Concepts such as dreaming and seeing is crucial. The shamanistic sorcerer is occupied with building a bridge between the worlds where he can tap into either of them at any time. To achieve this one must â€œquiet the inner dialogueâ€•. This is very important, to make you thinking shut up. If this is not accomplished, the path of the sorcerer will remain closed for you â€œ because you refuse to use the key you are given. The occult meaningful contents in dreams are another strata of this conditions. Dreams are important and formulas for lucid dreaming should be employed to achieve a certain success in the art of dreaming. Shy? Because we are building bridges between the Otherworld and Thusworld. Castaneda speaks much about the â€œwarriors impeccabilityâ€•. What does he mean with this? Well, a warrior must renounce his self-importance, routines and erase personal history. When this is accomplished you will obtain a certain degree of fluidity and will be more in tune with All. This is not easy. Don Juan speaks about several possibilities in regard to the paths we use when we are confronted with unusual life-situations. Then our habits will take action. And you will follow either the bigotâ€™s way, which occurs when you disregard what has happened. Then you have the way of the pious man where you accept everything at face value and think you know whatâ€™s going on all times due to the signs around you. The third path is the obsessive part, signified by doubt. Neither can you reject, neither fully accept-. This is also the foolâ€™s way. All these paths are foolish. â€œThe warrior acts as if nothing had ever happened, because he doesnâ€™t believe in anything, yet he accepts everything at its face value. He accepts without accepting and disregards without disregardingâ€•. In many ways the task of the tantrik shaman is the same as meeting the knights of chivalry when they must face and understand the points of the Sphinx. To dare, to will, to understand, to shut up. When you embark on this path your life will be signified by one element â€œ change. Life will be an everlasting chain of changes and the worst you can do is to complain about it. With changes challenges are born. There is no such thing as a bad challenge or a good challenge. They simply are a natural birth of the way of the sorcerer.

â€œBe reasonableâ€•! or notâ€•.? Reason is connected much to talking, to the inner dialogue and is of course a good tool when used in its proper place. Often Reason is only reflecting a philosophical and analytic ability within the sorcerer that is not too useful. People think, talk and reason too much. Reason is also connected to the occult layers like feeling, dreaming and seeing, but in an indirect way. Reason will never manage to filter into talking the contents of these three concepts ruled by the Will, occult speaking. I will not tell you not to be reasonable â€œ because that would be to embrace the foolâ€™s way. Everything is needed, but be careful. Feel before you think, see before you speak and dream before you exercise your will.

The path of the sorcerer is difficult because it opens the gates to the real world. For us this world is alien and strange and we will with our reason have difficulties adapting to the realness in the other if we rely too much on the mechanics of logic and stability. The essence of All is fluid. Without the fluid nature nothing will ever change and challenges that makes us more and more of the warrior will never occur.

The trials and tribulations in Thisworld will induct pain and grief into the sorcerer. This is unavoidable. Sorrow is a sign of partaking into the inner essence of nature. But even if we can not avoid pain and grief the warrior will not indulge in them. Basically we are alone with our pain, that is our condition and we alone choose whether the grief will induct liberation or if we will indulge into it – becoming more of Thisworld and less of Otherworld. The knowledge of the warrior is soaked with grief, but he never indulges into it. Still a warrior is joyous, because he has accepted his fate and truthfully assessed what lies ahead of him. Now, this might sound like a cold, negative path. But it is not, it cannot be, because the condition of solitude is based upon affection and devotion to his beloved, the earth. This love is much like physicks. It attracts and rejects.

I have written all too few words about the path of the warrior and the condition of the shaman. This is deliberately. Think with your senses and hear with your feelings. Walk humbly, always and know that a warrior walks silent among us without stirring the Thisworld. Your adoration and respect for the divine should induct this humbleness, and when you reach this humbleness you will understand that it is humbleness shrouded with power and dignity. Meditate hard on this: How should I obtain my encounter with Knowledge? A few clues are to be focused on the Otherworld, quiet your inner dialogue and mentally building bridges between knowledge and feeling based upon our animalistic ancestry. To obtain this, the condition is carnal. To embark upon the path of the warrior just to obtain some otherworldly results is rubbish. It is the condition that is the most important. Lack of self-importance, the erasing of personal history and the humbleness. AND, you must at some stage realise the immense reservoirs of power incapsuled in this condition.

Lesion Nine Working the Black Spot

In the land of Gya a prince is born; because thirty magic letters appear on his body, he is called Kongtsa, Having Magic Letters of Power, and later he became known as The Magic King Kongtsa. As an act of piety, the prince decides to build a temple in the middle of a lake; as this task is impossible to accomplish for ordinary humans, he scrutinises the magic letters in his hand and realises that in a former life he was allied to a hundred demons, sinpo. He accordingly travels to the land of demons; they promise to help him, but only on condition that he keeps their aid secret. The demons lay the foundation of the temple. Kongtsa's wife however, discovers the reason for her husband's long absence. She comes to the lake, whereupon the demons, released from their promise, abandon the site. Kongtsa now travels to the border between the land of gods and the land of demons; here he receives the prophecy that the cha deity Kengtsa Lenma will complete the construction. Together with a thousand artisans, Kengtsa Lenma proceeds to the capital, where Shenrap instructs him in how to construct the temple. Flying through the air and surrounded by a thousand master artisans, Kengtsa Lenma arrives at the lake and the construction of the temple is completed. It is given the name Karnag Tasel, Brilliantly White-and-Black Spotted. Because Kongtsa had broken the vow of secrecy, an army of demons no returns and tears down the temple, except for the foundations. A monster, resting at the bottom of the lake, awakens, and rising to the surface, is on the point of swallowing the foundations as well. On seeing this Kongtsa is terrified; he turns to the sky and utter a pitiful cry. The cry is heard by Shenrap, who immediately appears, surrounded by his entourage of spiritual Heroes. Entering the temple which appears as if by magic, he emits rays of light in all directions, and transforming himself into Nampar Gyalwa, The Fully Victorious One, the subduer of demons he emanates four fierce deities. The latter terrify the army of demons, who flee back to the land of darkness; the king of demons is converted and transformed into a young god who becomes the guardian of the temple•

Many occult people and other occultists are drawn to beings and anti-beings termed â€•demonsâ€•. What is it this term signifies? In many instances the demons one speak about is ones own bad habits or humanoid drift towards temptations. The demons named gyalgong are a kind of such demons. An archeonic layer of misdirected desires that we should attempt to break through. The term â€•fighting ones own demonsâ€• are not unfamiliar, but how many sadhakas takes this task seriously and walk humbly in truth upon the path of War?

In Tibet demons are found within an immense large scale of which the nagas. Snake-spirits are the most important one to work with for a vama-marga-sadhaka. We find also the lu-demons, female serpentine beings of unstable neptunian quality that might or might not bestow blessings and great progress on the sadhaka, but most important are the sinpos. It is said that the sinpos always hear, so to call them should be simple. At this stage in the lesions the sadhaka should be fully prepared to research this area for them self. The word is SINPO BSVO. Your temple should be furnished in a proper way and rituals should be selected and altered from those presented in these texts.

When you work demonic points at some point in the ceremonies the demons are bound to take you over. People saying that you could just go on working with demons cause it is not as dangerous as reputed are very wrong. Itâ€™s more dangerous that anyone outside the magical communities could imagine. An initiate of the Uttara kaula Tantrikas performed a bhakti on the prime goddess in this tradition (very unknown and out of scope for this treatise). At a certain point in these procedures he referred to me that he was for a period in a state where he was totally under the aegis of this entity. And let me tell you that it showed! He said that his soul was filled with ice and ice was what his eyes gleamed of. Unfriendliness, arrogance and heavy misanthropy was the other consequences that this demoness infused into his beings. At the same time the bhakti was executed more often â€• until the sadhanka had suddenly won the war. That is an alignment had been made between the practitioner and the evoked. In some traditions this is bound to happen., the body apparently representing a more perfect microcosmos than many of us are aware of.

To really understand the powers you are about to hook into, the concept of shape-shifting are very important. This is the most fundamental power of the Sorcerer. As is seen in those rituals outlined in these lesions the animal forms of guardians and gods are often in the feature of animals. This are done by overting the senses (use eyes for hearing, nose for seeing and such) and most of all the condition that tells you that you are ready to be taken over. The fear of letting go must be conquered and you must be ready to give yourself totally n trust to these beings. TO SURRENDER! You must understand this concept before entering into any further contact with the Yidams and Sinpos. They are fierce â€• and they will for sure eat you if the correct condition is not to be found within the soul of the Warrior. Those who as worked with Golden Dawn-related material has a clue in the â€•assuming of god-formsâ€•. But contrary to the â€•assumingâ€• of godforms this is to be taken over by the spirit. You donâ€™t assume anything â€• you be-come in that instant of a moment in the matrix of time one with the Godhood. The Most Holy Saint Austin Osman Spare was also very clear on this subject-matter when he states that â€•The Soul is the Ancestral Animalsâ€•.

The ritual uses nine points, the ninth being the portal â€• and the ninth is of course the sadhaka, by reasons that is quite obvious both in position and number .

You will construct your sacred space in the following manner. You will place eight bowls of water at each point of the Compass and one White light and the Cardinal points, leaving the mid-points unenlightened. At the centre of the circle you will have a bowl of some strong alcoholic spirit like vodka or tequila and one black candle and one red candle. You will with chalk write on the floor (or make marks in the sand if outdoors) the eight directions.

Face North, light the candle and visualise a black man with the head of a yak. He is riding a yellow yak and holding a bow and an arrow. His consort is called Lim[~]n Lengye, she is draped in a golden armour and travels in a violet wind.

Face West and light the candle as you visualise a man with the head of a makara riding on an amphibian demon holding a sword. His consort is Yarky[~] Jewo who is draped in white silk and riding a white horse.

Face South and light the candle as you visualise a red man with the face of a boar riding upon a red wild boar, carrying an axe of meteoritic iron. His consort is Takrirong, she is the Queen of Draplas and is dressed in red and black, riding upon a tiger with the same colours.

Face East and light the candle as you visualise a white man with a lion-head holding a crystal trident. His consort is Nel[~] Gyalmo, also known as the Queen of Earth. She is draped in turquoise and riding a makara.

You will now turn to the north-western angle, light both candles and put them in front of this gate. Then you will fetch the bowl of alcohol and pour some drops in front of the entrance. You will then proclaim that you are invoking the protectors of the four lakes mTsho bzhi srung ma and the four rivers.

At the north-western gate you will put down the candles and visualise the silver lake of Gunggy[~]¼. There you will see the beautiful Chatsam[~] standing in her crystal-white dress, conch-shells drifting around her legs and the tiger goddess Heru Khyungchan is standing behind her

At the south-western gate you will see the turquoise lake of Mpang and the beautiful Tingsam[~] in her beautiful blue garment. You will also notice that in the lake there is a shaft of iron and see the peacock-adorned Tingnam Gyalmo, the goddess of the black iron-river arise within the beauty of Tsingsam[~].

At the south-eastern gate you will see the golden lake of Langag and the beautiful Tsetsam[~]. You will also see the beautiful Mula Tsam[~] arising from a golden river and you will realise that she is the Lady of Heaven.

At the North eastern gate you will approach the iron-lake of Somshang and the cold beauty of Betsam[~]. She is the beauty of the molten metals, the black lady that protects the red-copper river protected by the beautiful Drapl[~] Gyalmo. This joining of the two black goddesses of cold beauty in the bindu of death is constructing the passage between the eight and the nine. You must at this moment become the nine "the bridge itself and pass on into Karnag Tasel and trust the guardians that they take you safely over to the other side".

source for this transmission. Originally the rite comes from India and was passed on to Machig Labdrön. Machig Labdrön is often, and well deserved, treated as the first and most brilliant spark of the teachings of Chönd. She was born 1055 and died 1153. Machig's initiator was Danpa Sangye, a guru who initiated Machig into the use of a rite called "The Pacification of Suffering". This rite was slightly modified by Machig's spiritual guides so it would sever all suffering even more. It is evident that the rite Machig was initiated into was of Buddhist origin, but in addition to learning this rite she was also given shamanistic procedures by her guru, this might indicate that the earlier forms of Chönd are shamanistic in origin. Central for Chönd is the Prajāpāramitā. This term signifies the perfection of all Wisdom and is also reflected within the goddess called Yum Chenmo, also known as the Great Mother. Prajāpāramitā is the aim and reason for performing Chönd, if you perform this rite with any other intention It will carry either no fruit or poisonous fruit. Chönd is a path for obtaining this state. So what is actually Chönd?

"One might ask: that which is known as Chönd, what does it cut through?

As it cuts through attachment to body, it is Chönd.

As it cuts through the root of mind, it is Chönd.

As it cuts through the very base of all partiality, it is Chönd.

As it cuts through acceptance and rejection along the path, it is Chönd.

As it cuts through hopes and fears with regard to the results, it is Chönd.

As it cuts through all thoughts, wherever they come from or wherever they're Going, right there, is Chönd.

Chönd is occupied with "cutting" and in that lies the difficulties "for those who have not been honest to them self during these lesions. Chönd cuts down your astral anatomy and sacrifice all parts to demons, demigods and gods for its purification and re-establishment. If the sadhaka still clings to his or hers kleshas I tell you are in for some really nasty haunting from the Castle of the Perfected Wisdom.

Prajāpāramitā is as stated the main-reason for doing this rite. But what is it and where is it and how can it be found? It is said in the "Grand Poem on the Perfection of Wisdom" that "The meaning of Prajāpāramitā is not to be looked for elsewhere: it exists within yourself. Neither real nor endowed with characteristics, the nature of the mind is the great clear light". It refers to the divine spark of divine self that the maya-drawn ego likes to keep hidden. It is the inherited wisdom we don't use or cultivate, simply because the mechanisms between mana and atman is like they are "a constant play. A Lila in the wastelands of nectar where we eat all sweetness, forgetting about the wisdom. Cultivating our own ignorance. Most people indulge in stupidity instead of wisdom. Very few people love wisdom, because it is demanding in an oblique sense. You feel threatened. It is good if you feel the fear lurking. The fear will bring only manifestations of a sad nature. You will suffer. Ignorance is the gravest of all sufferings. But the ignorant trick his self to think otherwise. Heed well the words of saint Spare: "You shall suffer and suffer and again suffer until you have sufficient suffering to accept all things". This is the state you will agree to yourself to achieve. The acceptance of all things through suffering. Suffering is nothing compared to Wisdom. You might think so when you feel sorry for your self, when you are enjoying maya and know it just to well when silence speaks to you in quiet blue hours. You cannot hide from yourself. Actually Chönd is not too different from the nathas act of breaking kleshas. But the aim is slightly different. Breaking of kleshas brings one closer to atman in the guise of freedom and usually followed by the accumulation of siddhis. To attain to Wisdom in the manner put forth in the "Heart Sutra" will bring a different condition. The same, but slightly different. In Chönd you clear space by allowing the divine to remove and re-place your astral anatomy. A natha will force forth these changes with sophisticated violence and sexual means.

Well, there are a few steps worthy of mentioning in regard to Machig Labdrön. And one of them is that her life-cycle follows the same pattern as the life-paths of sanyasins or those enlightened by the Prajāpāramitā.

She was born as the daughter of a governor and she shows unusual accomplishments in early age (good mnemonic capacity), she abandons her life of wealth to seek after Wisdom. She receives initiation into the Vajrayana, first from a daikini and then later she received this diksha directly from Tara. She meets a guru who recognises her achievements and verifies her spiritual contacts and this results in the highest attainment. Many of Machig's most dramatic incidents happened under a tree, just like with the Buddha Siddhartha.

Many Buddhist-traditions have captured the essence of prajāpāramitā, like the Hwa Yen School, but the scope of these few lessons are too narrow to include all that should have been said about this important term. Remember thou that it is only through the experience of voidness that the prajāpāramitā can become resonant for your atman.

Lesson Eleven Integrating the principles of Chöd

The integration of these principles are done through the use of the ritual usually referred to as "Great Mudra". In this ritual procedure you will prostrate your self in front of the Dharmakaya Great Mother, the Prajāpāramitā herself! It rests on the Buddhist tradition called Surmang and is a path that is quite usual. Even if this ritual is constructed for the purpose of cutting all types of ego-clinging and mastering the demons, devas and one's self with equal precision the ritual can very well be used to accumulate siddhis as well as materialistic goods. You will through this of course create many pitfalls that are not so easily to renounce. The ritual is called "Garden of all Joy" and is worked out by Jamgon Kongtrul the Great. The ritual will be handed out directly from Guru to Sishya and will conclude this last chapter of these eleven cuts of Bön.

THE CULT OF DEATH AND KINGSHIP

- a short exploration within the Bon-Pa-Tradition

By Frater Azoth Kalafou

The Bon-Pa religion of Tibet should be a field of major interest to any person interested in the esoteric due to its extreme fascination towards the cult of the dead and the cult of tantra. Many academics have accused Bon of being a rip off of Hinduism and Buddhism, which appears in recent study to prove wrong. Remarkable enough it seems that the Tibetan tantra-shamanistic Bon-religion has developed beside Hinduism and obtained a highly individual way of thinking based on different texts and tantras than those we find in Sanskrit. The foundation is though the same as in Hinduism where the cult of the king is emphasised. In early Hinduism the king was seen as the hierophany of god, a manifestation of holiness in the mundane, he was the centre of the society. In that manner society, centred around the king was the microcosmic print of the divine macrocosmic reality above, an image of the divine hierarchy. It seems like this similarity in foundation is one of the most influential points of transgression through their similarity and diversity. While the Hindu (or more correctly brahmanical system) developed into a more sociological order or a way of living and finding your place in the divine blue-print the cult of the king developed radically different in Tibet. The king was seen as a shen (priest) or emanation of divine grace. It was important to please the king while he was alive and it was of extreme importance to make sure that the king's passing on to bardo was made in the best possible ways. This to ensure the further blessings of the king when he was made into a god. The cult of the dead was therefore seen as the most important element in the religious life because this ensured blessings and happiness for those still living in the Bon-community. Due to this necromancy, spiritism and other kinds of spirit-sorcery is a frequent used for keeping the peaceful and happy alliances with the dead in a beneficial position. That the cult focused on the ancestors also is very much of importance is needless to emphasise. The pantheon of the Bon-pas are nor very known, its therefore my intention to briefly present the foundation-pantheon to open a small glyph into the beauty and harshness of this magickal tradition which claims beautiful mythological foundations for them self in magickal kingdoms in lands of arcane (and astral) beginnings...

The separation of deities can be drawn between the peaceful deities, the wrathful deities and siddhas and daikinis as well as some local deities and different lamas that are worshipped in various settings. In this short article I will simply introduce the peaceful deities and in another article present you for the yidams the wrathful or tutelary deities with much emphasis on Welse Ngampa, the lady of boundless Space. Important for the yidams are that they are very clear forms of Abraxas with their androgyne masculinity which are in a state of neither-neither (not male, not female, but male...). That will be enough teasing for now. The tantrik patrons, the yidams have to wait until another time.

The chief peaceful deities are arranged in a mysterious "emanation of each other"-system (similar to the Hindu-system where all daevas are emanation from one, but in Bon a bit more awkward and bizarre lacking the glorious aestheticism we find in Hinduism). We will start of with a goddess called Satrig Ersang whose name means "Perfection of Wisdom" but she is called "Mother of Wisdom". In a hymn to her it is stated that she is "Majestic in her power to bless". Her spiritual accessories are of esoteric interest. In her right hand she holds a swastika - the symbol of odic force and solar eternity and in the left she holds a mirroire fantastique which signifies the emphasis of the lunar current in the Bon-religion. This Prajnaparamita of Bon is in her wisdom a sort of patron for the vama marg and surely must have knowledge of the kalas ruling this form for consciousness. What's more is that her throne is supported by lions which suggest a formulae similar to Babalon and Qatesh and maybe the lunar flow she presides over is to be found riddled in the vaults of Tempioth? The next deity is called Shenlha Wākhar (shen means priest) and his name means "God of the Priests". He is all white and holds a hook in his right hand while his left is gently folded in a peaceful mudra. His throne is supported by elephants and in a hymn to his praise he is described as: "Majestic in his power of compassion". I myself find some important resemblances in this deity with the Loa Leghba, the Lord of IFA and the patron of the Yuggotian priesthood. Another important deity, who has not much attributes are Sangpo Bumtri the Procreator who are "Majestic in his power of his magical emanations". He has a silver body and is supported by Garudas (these mythical beast-birds). He is more a source of magic than the magic itself. He is like dormant ojas waiting to be used in some kind of combination. In this state he is shave, a radiant shave but difficult to obtain any clear image of. A most interesting deity is Shenrap Miwo who is the "supreme priest, great man". The cult of the dead is strongly established in this deity, who as a great hierophant (a manifestation of the sacred) turned into a peaceful god ensuring the happiness of the community. His accessories are a Swastika sceptre a symbol of "Eternal Truth". Some connections to Sakyamuni is said to be found and indeed, by understanding Sakyamunis role as a Buddha and how he obtained it you will be able to understand the position of this deity. He is "Majestic in his power of radiance" and is the source of the four Transcendental Lords in his rainbow-like but still dark blue hue. Then we enter into one of the most lovely goddesses ever, Sherap Chamma, she is an emanation of Satrig Ersang, but what a beauty! Her name means "The loving lady" and "To love tenderly" and has a strange blood-bond with the beautiful Tripur Sundari. She is also said to be associated with the bodhisattva Maitreya and carries a fivefold form (based upon the tantrik senses developed to perfection by Gorakhnath see. A.

K. Bannerjea • The philosophy of Goraknath • (Coombe Springs; 1962). She is also a vehicle for smashing conditions or fears and it might be useful to take a look at Tara in this regard. She is also a most beautiful goddess and a smasher of kleshas. Also of importance is her accessories, with the magickal mirror in her left hand and a vase (of beauty) in her right. Again an association with Tara is to be found in her image of surrounded by the eight lions of wisdom where she is supported by both sun and moon, a formula of reversed Abraxas! Her radiance is a crystalline light indicating her tantric perfection and wisdom beyond any condition and also her radiant beauty. Kāntu Zangpo is another one of the peaceful deities, his name means "The All-Good" and he is seen as the supreme deity of all knowledge and has strong links to Shenla Wākhar in the sense that both are hierophanies of the bānku or "The body of Bon", the ultimate Truth. This priest-god is naked and without (or rather beyond) attributes. A portal to understanding of his role in the pantheon is to be found in the Nyingmapa and Kagyāpa-traditions of Tibetan Buddhism, especially in the body of Samantabhadra, an important emanation of Kāntu Zangpo is Kānzang Akor which means "The All-Good cycle of A", "A" being the last letter in the Zhanchung-alphabet demonstrating the importance of mantras and spells in the Bon-magic. He is the mantric manifestation adorned with syllables beginning with "A". The importance of this letter is the same as in the tantric OM. From this deity we will turn to the core of the pantheon. The very point of ingress with the divine forces of bon., Kānzang Gyalwa Dāpa ("the All-Good Assembly of Conquerors"). He has five faces in different colours and ten arms. He is adorned with jewels. At the four cardinal points of space he has the Queens of transcendental space in the form of the years cycle. And from the anahata of his brilliant body he emanates six hierophants. The white Yeshen Tsukpu associated as the fleshy hot-point of the Gods. We find the blue Chegyal Barti presiding over the demigods, the deep-blue Sangwa Dāpa who is the intermediary of humans. Also we find the green Tisang Rangzhi presiding over the animals, the white Mucho Demdrus taking care of the tormented spirits and finally the bluish-red Sanswa Ngangring associated with Hell. Of interest is also the four Queens of transcendental space. The yellow Queen of Spring holding a chain, the blue Queen of summer holding a flat bell, the red Queen of autumn holding a noose and the white Queen of winter with her hook. It is interesting to note that these guardian-goddesses are called queens which again confer the importance of the cult of the king. The clearest expression of this god is to be found in his emanation as Kānzang Gyalwa Gyatso ("Ocean of Conquerors") with his multiple faces and a thousand of arms outstretched. Through his iconographic form he has resemblances to Avaloketesvara, He IS "magic appearance". Three more gods must be mentioned to create the total pattern of magic gnosis inhabited in this pantheon. Chimā Tsukpā ("The deathless one with the hairknot"). He is the supreme bodhisattva reborn to this kalpa from the mythological "paradise of the 33 gods" (I refer to the various Buddhist teachings known as "Pure Land Schools" in this matter). He is born by the virgin-mother of sexual secrets Zangsa Ringtān (more of her, in depth, next time) as a bornless and deathless one. He is seen as the transmitter of the Bon-tantra from the tutelary deities of wrath, a supreme vira, a world egg of sexual gnosis which fills the universe with his sexual radioactivity. The Bon-traditions connections to the Naga-cultus is found within the body of Napar Gyalwa which are the Ultimate and eternal Truth as well as the connection between gods and sinpo (demons). He possesses the magic of evocation and mantras and is able to command sinpos according to his wish due to a pact of secrecy (which he later broke). Similarities is to be found in "Goetia", how Salomon commanded demons to build his temple - as in the case of the temple Napar Gyalwa wanted to build in the midst of a lake. The demonic alliance is also to be found within Ganesh and how he presides over the asuras and Pashupatis command of the beasts of night.. He is pictured surrounded by fierce deities (sinpos?) with zāomorphic appearances, suggesting the lycantrophic formulae hidden with in the secret teachings of the Bon-tradition. Lastly we have the ascetic of the pantheon the monk Tritsug Gyalwa who by his ascetism managed to convert the demon-king Khyappa laring to the Ultimate Truth of Bon. In addition to these gods and the six subduing shens there are also 13 primeval shens who are especially important in the cult of the dead and the transgression from death and bardo.

My intention in this short note upon the essence of the Bon-pantheon has been to make available material seldom found anywhere, and it's meant as an introduction to a more practical article upon its tantric and shamanistic gnosis, especially focused upon the strange sexuality of the deities themselves which probably deserves to be explored in a gnostic luciferian light.

I will also add that when I in this article has made connections to buddhas it is not my intention to say that they are the same. I intend to use them as portals to an understanding of this pantheon for its own sake to establish it in its own power through deepening of understanding of the reader by linking it to more known "divine beings". I have never liked to associate gods from different pantheons with each other (like Set-Shaitan-Aiwass). I see it as portals to an understanding of the different deities - in their own right, not as cosmic xeroxes of a past cultures gods.

May blessings be in the name of the 8-fold mistress Cherap Chamma and Kälanzang Gyalwa Däpa!

SPIRITISTIC VAJRA TANTRA

- The Plutonian Tantra of Bon-Pa

By: Docteur Azoth Kalafou

The tantras of Bon-Pa are knowledge seldom found in any occult book-shelf, which is because literature about this current is rare. Snellgrove wrote his book, "The Nine Ways of Bon" (Oxford university Press, London, 1967) and also his book "Indo-Tibetan Buddhism" (Serinida Publications, London 1987) has a great variety of information about this current. The weakness of Snellgrove as Ph.D. Kvaerne points out is that he thought some of the teachings of the Bonpas was in a way - offensive, so he saw the need to make twilight tantras even more shattered and disturbed....

The Bon-Pa religion is parted into different brands of the divine. We have the peaceful deities which is the core of the system and what is more interesting to tantra - the tutelary deities who is connected to fire and violence. A pethro-plutonian current of sticky power.

In a previous article about this subject in "The Trident" I shed some light on the peaceful deities of the pantheon. In this article I will get to the point - the weird sexuality of the current and also outline one simple offer-ritual which can be conducted by those who want to smell what this current is like. Let me also say (since I am saturnian in my view about esoteric secrets) that this article won't provide you with all my knowledge in this field, but sufficient for those of you who is curious about this current.

The tantras of Bon were transmitted by an avatar of the priest-god Tänpa Shenrap called Nampar Gyalwa, "The Fully Victorious One". When Nampar Gyalwa was born his flesh was tattooed with 30 magick letters of Power. The story also declares that he was born a prince and received the idea of building a temple in the midst of a lake. An inhuman task. The avatar recalls first vaguely then to the full that he in his former existence was connected to sinpos (demons). He travels to the kingdom of the demons and get a promise of their help to build this temple in the lake if he will keep their help a secret. When the demons are at work Gyalwa's wife is coming by and discovers this work of demons. The foundation is finished when she appears at the shore. The demons see her and declare themselves released of their task. Together with the deity KengtsÃ Lenme he completes the building of the temple and call this beautiful temple Karnag Tasel which means "Brilliantly White and Black Spotted". The resemblance here to Salomo and how he commanded the demons to build his temple is easily evoked which hooks us into "Goetia" being in the family of the Bon-current. It is also interesting to note that another one of the important transmitters of the eternal Bon-doctrine is said to be Chime TsukpÃ¼ who was born from a virgin..... Several myths in the scriptures and tantras of Bon connect the Bon-teaching to sinpos. So in the end Bon-Pa is a highly spiritistic religion based upon the esoteric teaching of demons. Bon-Pa has been accused of being so similar to Buddhism that the religious authenticity has been questioned. I think their very spiritistic and shamanistic cosmology and anthropology tell another story. The strange thing about Bon is that it welcomed both Hinduism and Buddhism very warmly - like all religions open for syncretistic activity. At least that is one theory, that Bon was more or less outconquered by Buddhism of sheer force is another theory - which I consider very doubtful.

The eternal doctrines of Bon are protected by sinpos, deities and lus (nagas). It is mainly these three forces of guardian spirits that protect the gnosis of the current. Those deities who treasure the jewels are the so-called yidams who is said to be trowo (wrathful). In vouden terms we might say "pethro". These yidams are connected to different tantras and the ritual workings are focused around one particular yidams and his consort or attendants. It is of extreme importance to emphasise that it is the yidam in it self that inhabits the tantric secret. The siddhaes of the current reaches the state of siddhahood while in the flesh through very esoteric dhyana. My own research in this field indicates that their consorts are daikinis, which again suggest that their path towards gnosis consist of mainly spiritistic flavoured XI-degree work. In this I refere to the true and hidden meaning of the XI-degrees sexual nature which lies one octave above the flesh. Let me give some insight into what kind of magick this kind of workings will produce. It is the most plutonian manifestation of magick on earth, and I quote from Rev. Bertiaux "The Vouden-Gnostic Workbook": Plutonian Energy is pure fire, viewed as magick. It is surrounded by many layers of pure power....In order to get at this power, it is necessary to enter entirely into the field of the energy and allow it to take over.....power is not diffused or spread out. It is tight and intense....It is moving to make itself tighter and hotter, heavier and harder, because it must". This particular currentâ€™s magickal manifestation is very aggressive and dominant. It is the plutonian aspect of the sign of Aries often ruled by the Scorpio rising into the Aries-sun. The sexual effects will probably result in very controlled bondage and SM. Any uncontrolled sexual play in these field as a result of working with the plutonian ray should signal to the magician that he has swallowed a too heavy jet of plutonium....

Interesting to note is also the many remarks about "coffins", "corpse" and the "consummation of fire" which suggest both sexual formulas and also the process of for instance the IIIde degree of the OTO to a certain level. The Bon-current is also very, very gnostic. The gnostic influence is so vivid that you wonder how they got into this flow of light (probably there were some flow of information from the middle-east, pre-iraniq influence). We find for instance the cow as a demiurgic principle, where life is emanating from. Lus, sinpos and various animals are connected to most likely archeonic powers.

THE TROWO YIDAMS

The fierce pethro flavoured yidams will now be presented for the reader quite briefly. And allow me to remark that the tantra of Bon is bipolar or positive and negative in the way that it shows to PagyÃ¼ or Father Tantras and magyÃ¼ or Mother Tantras. Also most of the yidams is painted together with their consorts who are embracing the male yidam hard and feverly in some kind of ecstatic demonic embrace. The head of the MagyÃ¼-tantras is called MagyÃ¼ Sangchog Tartug ("The Supreme Secret of the Mother Tantras"). It is interesting to note that his name of the yidam himself locks up the secret of the tantra. It is very characteristic for the yidams that they are seen as the outer manifestations of the elements of secrecy connected to them so when you meditate on their Thangkas, rupa or image they will reveal their secrets through deep dhyana. Magy^{1/4} has seven heads, sixteen arms and his body is of a bluish almost black complexion. His consort is red and holds in her hands two bowels with what actually looks like boiling blood. The bowls are skulls (which ties them up to the kapalikas and the naths of both the utara and the adi-lineage). His faces are primarily in white and red in addition to the bluish-black main face.

The father tantras on the other hand focuses on five different deities who controls elements of existence which are somewhat related to thoughts we can find in the Samkhya-system of philosophy. I quote their names as follows:

Welse Ngampa - Fierce God of Body

Lhag^{1/4} Togpa - Fierce God of Speech

Trowo Tsochog Khgyin - Fierce God of Mind

Purpa - Fierce God of Action (Purpa is also the Tibetan name for the ritual dagger - maybe this suggest a certain degree of craft-influence in their shamanistic practice)

Welchen Gekh^{1/4} - Fierce God of Good Quality

Let us shed some light on the god of the Mind, Trowo Tsochog Khgyin first. His name means in pure word "Wrathful One, Supreme Lord Towering in the Sky". He is also of a dark blue complexion and has three heads and six arms. His consort is called Khala Dugmo which means Red Body. The connection to the kalas and the vibration of the mensturm in accordance with the lunar body is unquestionable. It is also interesting to note that in a hymn to this couple Khala Dugmo (Furious Lady in the Sky) she is evoked by the words: "Arise, arise, from the void, arise". Other qualities of Trowo Tsochog Khgyin are that he overpowers the 3 worlds (Hell, Heaven and the realm between) with his splendour. His girdle is the luciferian phallic principle in the form of a serpent bound around his waist and he is pressing the nine doors of Hell downwards. It is also said that he commands the 8 great nagas (I will referee the reader here to a member of the Utara Kaula Tantrikas, Ku-patalaTrishan who has explored eight sexual nagas in connection to the sabbatical mysteries. If any interest arises of the subject let the editor know, maybe ku-PatalaTrishna would enlighten us more about this subject). This yidam is also said to preside over the 8 great planets and is connected to atavisms like lion, elephant, horse, dragon and garuda

Our next revelator of tantra is Welse Ngampa "Fierce Piercing Deity of Overwhelming Power". He has nine heads, three of them white, three red and three blue and has 18 arms. His body of a dark-blue complexion. He is connected to the magnetic forces of tiger, lion, leopard, dragon, garuda and macara. Which indicates a deep sexual connection of the Svadhithana Chakra in the passage of the macara. Also this deity's connection the garuda-bird of wisdom tales and the dragon mixed with strong feline impressions tells much about what kind of power this deity has managed to work into it self and also gives some clues on how to work these secrets out into the temple-laboratory to be used - for instance together with liquid condensers and electromagnetic transfusions. Even more interesting that the deity him self is his consort. She is of a green complexion and her face is somewhat peculiar. Her eyes looks like the eyes of sinpos, or at least someone more or less ruled by this class of gods and her teeth are very narrow, long and sharp suggesting some vampyristic alliance or in other words a sign of the apparent danger of encountering this Lilitu-like being of this pantheon (Lilithu in the Zoharick sense - not the real and true Roman sense....). Also, her anus is remarkably clearly showed on the thangka. This Dark green Lady is called "Lady of Boundless Space". In the voudo of zobop (secrecy) you encounter a strange root-Loa called Maitre Grand Bois d'Ilet. This loa is said to be the brother of Damballah and is the black snake at it most earthy level. Grand Bois d'Ilet rises from his caverns deep below the earth and flux him self into deep space from his residence at Bathos (or the gnostic Abyss - the emanation-point of all things). It is interesting to make the reader aware of this Loa in regard to the vividly exposed anus of the "Lady of "Boundless Space" since this in a hymn to this Loa it says: "I am the anus of the universe. I am the lower". I suspect these words are the words of the Loa himself as told to the emissaries of O.T.O.A.™s Lodge Zariguin. This couple (Welse Ngampa and consort) is first and of all the protectors against demons and is very much connected to kleshas and maya and the cutting off of these illusions of being. One of the names of Welse Ngampa means "Clad in the still-moist skin of demons". I am a bit unsure if the text here relates to sinpos in the divine sense or to the bonpas own demons. Anyway - he is the great demon-slayer. Other attributes are "Wisdom", "Compassion" and "Magick". It is also interesting to see that "the Lady of Boundless Space" is associated to be in deep connection or emanation of Satrig Ersang who are the "Mother of Wisdom" and have many features in common with the Buddhist goddess Prajnaparamita (Perfection of Wisdom). I will also draw the attention to the Pawo Drunga or the five Heroic syllables that can be used as mantrams: SHRAM, GRAM, RAM, YAM and OM. The "Lady of Boundless Space" is also called Namchi Gungyal - the Lady who keeps the treasury of Heaven. I think about similarities with other Buddhist heavens like for instance the perfected state in the Tushita Heaven. She has also been called "Mistress of the Shrine of Peacefulness" (the peace after your fight with your kleshas...) and Tukjã Chamma (Loving Lady of Compassion) which connects her to the most delicious and lovely lady of beauty and peace Sherap Chamma. Blessings upon her....

"Like a mass of fire filling the universe"

This is what Welchen Gekhã is like in a hymn to his praise. I guess much of this intensity is explained by his very close connection to the plutonian kingdom of ZhangZhung - the Ifa of the bonpas. Welchen Gekhã is also very - complete in a Pythagorean sense of the word. He is the Gekhã containing all the other gekhãs, and they are 360 in number - making a complete zodiacal circle. These gods were situated at Mount Tisã the same mountain as Kailash. It is also of great importance to note that the word Gekhã is etymological connected to kehãd and derived from the same root as Chãd. Chãd is too complex to get into in this essay, but mainly the practise is focused on chopping up your astral anatomy and present them as offerings in white feasts (to gods) and in red feasts (to demons). The whole practise is focused on deconstruct the ego and build it up again without the delusions of maya and the attachment to the non-existent atman - rather to the an-atman. Whether the bonpas has any notion to what the alnya (akashic storehouse) or not is a bit unclear. I think they do if their doctrine is seen in comparison to the importance of the cult of the dead and the shamanistic-spiritistic activities of the bonpas who suggest that consciousness is somewhat "stored". Welchen Gekhã is also called Gekhã Sangwa Drogchen or "Gekhã, the Secret, Great Violent One" with his nine heads in the colours of white, red, bluish black, his 16 arms and bluish black hue. In a sense comparisons to a mixture of Yama and Rudra would be proper. His consort is Logbar Tsamã the reddish yellow goddess who are called "Lady of Flashing Lighting". She is also called "Queen of Draplas". Draplas are (like the Maruts) fierce warrior-gods who appeared (as with the Gekhãs) very early in time-space. Logbar Tsamã is also said to have a right face like a "water crystal" and her left is like a "red crystal". The symbolism states that this goddess is in deep connection with the pure, clear lunar source as well as the fire of Sothar. She is the fire moon. The vibrating menstrua at it most vibrant and black. This is further indicated when she is described as one who "holds masses of fire like a golden mount Meru". The strange and typhonian sexual nature is beyond doubt. Another interesting aspect with the Gekhãs is that they are connected to a certain type of magick called tso which are translated to "bombs" in the English translation of a certain hymn. You get the impression that tso are thrown at enemies. The tso can be related to planets and there is also mention "red tso". There are several ways of understanding the concept of tso. There could be a form of charm as in the Creole and Congo paquets which are defensive or offensive weapons for use in magickal attacks or this can be a certain form of sexual magick, based on the planets or the kalas where the transformed mass of fire can be aimed at some enemy possibly through some kind of lycantropic formulae. These lycantropic formulas are used within branches of La Couleuvre Noire mainly for the purpose of magickal attacks.

The last god of tremendous importance is Meri, "Mountain of Fire". He has no consort, but rather two attendants. These two are more like saintly protectors of the secret doctrine than any gods. The saints are Ati Muwer (connected to Sahasrara) who is of a white complexion and Kuchi Mangkã has a turquoise body. Both of them are pretty Martian, inhabiting different aspects of the Martian sphere of aggression.. Meri himself is of a golden complexion - being the most solar - or phallic deity of the pantheon. Meri and his attendants is most interesting because he appearance is very different from the other deityâ€™s bluish-black complexion. He is also connected to owls and ravens and has through these forms a very different angle into the mysteries of Pluto. He is also close connected to the Gekhãs and also to the goddess Namkhã Wãle the "Mother of Liberation", a dark red goddess adorned with fire crystals and the ritual dagger. Another goddess close affiliated with Meri is Nelã Sipã Gyalmo ("Mother of Union") who is dark yellow and adorned with golden light. Further is Meri guarded by ten fierce deities and their consorts as well as four gatekeepers and 12 messengers (saints of the zodiacal signs) He also commands four female generals and the female protectors of the four rivers and the four lakes.

The Lu-serpents, the draplas, the Gekhãs as well as the water-spirits of lakes and rivers are all of them connected to the foundation of the Atlantean kingdom of ZhangZhung. All deities inhabit in themselves secrets which are to be revealed through samitha-dhyana on their image or thanka. The rupa should always be the focus of the puja.

The strange sexual magick teaching is flavoured in a weird high-octave Uranian context hidden in the true and secret understanding of the XI-level of spiritistick coitus.

The protectors of the doctrine are parted in four groups (I will also draw attention to the fact that there are also four groups of demons: Drisa, Nãjjin, Luwans, Shinã). These protectors are: Takedong Marpo - Red Tiger Face. Ponya Tongdã¼ Marnag, the trickster or messenger of the pantheon who is called the Dark Red Demon of Emptiness. Sipã Gyalmo who is the Queen of the Created World (in other words Maya) and lastly Cliff Tsen who is the closest protector of Meri. These protectors are called Sungmas and cult reserved for them has been established within the Bon-current. The protectors has a status much like the daikinis and their transgression to this realm of divinity has been from shen (priest) to divinity in the spiritistick level. I will draw upon one example on how this transgression of priest to god usually is explained in the Bon-texts. In the case of Sipã Gyalmo for instance. From the beginning she was a demonic being - a sub-sinpo. But due to her astral maithuna with the siddha Takla Mebar a forcefield identical with the yidams was produced and she was transformed into this sphere of existence when she received the siddhas semen. She is also referred to as the GrandMother of Heaven, which connects her (to understand her better) to Naman Brigitte of the Famille Ghuede and also Dhumavati, the Shakti with no Shiva. Usually she is depicted as a "Mother-goddess"- type with a flavour between Yemoya ge Rough and Ayida Wedo. Another strange example is found in Drakpa Sengã who is also a protector of the bon-secrets, thou not one of the main-protectors. This spirit was a rather malevolent ghost who was commanded by the abbot of the Monastery of Menri to be a protector of Bon. By sexual-spiritistick methods also used within the La Couleuvre Noire he was captured and held within this positions by the abbot. I know that Michael Bertiaux has used similar methods to keep enlightened priests who has transgressed to Ifa so close to the earth that he have been able to communicate with them for a considerable long time. The plutonian shamanism is further explored within a department of La Couleuvre Noire. "The Transyugothian Brotherhood of Shamans".

RITUAL FOR TRANSGRESSION INTO THE SEALED SECRETS

0. Banish by using the "Six penetrating Fierce Gods". Visualising a golden, burning double Vajra.

East: Welmo Karsher Bar

North: Welmo Ngojang Bar

West: Welmo Marnag Bar

Below: Welmo Marmug Bar

1. Ask for the protection of the Saints.

NyipangsÄ¶, Draplamo, Lama ZhangZhung and Takna Gyalpo

2. Soften the doorkeepers by humbly setting forth bowls of water in each direction and light incense for each of them (the incense should be of four different kinds attributed to the elements of the sphere.

East: Drisa (Tiger face), North: NÄ¶jin (Dragon face), West: Luwang (Wolf face) and south: Shinje (Bear face).

3. Ask for the blessings of the three fierce gods of action (no offering required).

"Leki Trowo Zhi.

I call upon the blessings of Chamchig Chusin Dong (Macara-Lu)

I call upon the blessings of Tseyi Chamchig Lechema (Life)

I call upon the blessings of Lusin Nagmo Lechema (Black female lu-demon)

Leki Trowo Zhi, bless me"

4. Light red and black candle and call forth Welchen GekhÄ¶ and his consort "Queen of Drapals". Visualise these fierce deities coming forth from the fire. Mantra to use in connection with their names is the greeting: BSVO. Short power-suggesting mantrams like HALA, CHA and more singing invocative formulas like "zi-ta-la-la", "u-ru-ru" and "si-li-li"

5. Closing of ritual by humbly dismissing of the evoked forces backwards or by fourfold clapping in hands and thanking the powers whereupon you ask them to withdraw to their proper places.

THE CHRISTIAN SCHEME

JESUITRY AND MASONRY: V

WHAT was then that mysterious name, that mighty "word" through whose potency the Hindu as well as the Chaldean and Egyptian initiate performed his wonders? In chapter cxv of the Egyptian Funeral Ritual, entitled "the chapter of coming out to the Heaven ... and of knowing the Spirits of An" (Heliopolis), Horus says: "I knew the Spirits of An. The greatly glorious does not pass over it ... unless the gods give me the WORD." In another hymn the soul, transformed, exclaims: "Make road for me to Rusta. I am the Great One, dressed as the Great One. I have come! I have come! Delicious to me are the kings of Osiris. I am creating the water (through the power of the Word)... Have I not seen the hidden secrets ... I have given truth to the Sun. I am clear. I am adored for my purity." In another place the mummy's roll expresses the following: "I am the Great God (spirit) existing of myself, the creator of His Name.... I know the name of this Great God that is there."

Jesus is accused by his enemies of having wrought miracles, and shown by his own apostles to have expelled demons by the power of the INEFFABLE NAME. The former firmly believed that he had stolen it in the Sanctuary. "And he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick" (Matt. 8:16). When the Jewish rulers ask Peter (Acts 4:7): "By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?" Peter replies, "By the NAME of Jesus Christ of Nazareth." But does this mean the name of Christ, as the interpreters would make us believe; or does it signify, "by the NAME which was in the possession of Jesus of Nazareth," the initiate, who was accused by the Jews to have learned it but who had it really through initiation? Besides, he states repeatedly that all that he does he does in "His Father's Name," not in his own.

But who of the modern Masons has ever heard it pronounced? In their own Ritual, they confess that they never have. The "Sir Orator" tells the "Sir Knight," that the passwords which he received in the preceding degrees are all "so many corruptions" of the true name of God engraved on the triangle; and that therefore they have adopted a "substitute" for it. Such also is the case in the Blue Lodge, where the Master, representing King Solomon, agrees with King Hiram that the Word * * * "shall be used as a substitute for the Master's word, until wiser ages shall discover the true one." What Senior Deacon, of all the thousands who have assisted in bringing candidates from darkness to light; or what Master who has whispered this mystic "word" into the ears of supposititious Hiram Abiffs, while holding them on the five points of fellowship, has suspected the real meaning of even this substitute, which they impart "at low breath"? How few new-made Master Masons but go away imagining that it has some occult connection with the "marrow in the bone." What do they know of that mystical personage known to some adepts as the "venerable MAH," or of the mysterious Eastern Brothers who obey him, whose name is abbreviated in the first syllable of the three which compose the Masonic substitute -- The MAH, who lives at this very day in a spot unknown to all but initiates, and the approaches to which are through trackless wildernesses, untrodden by Jesuit or missionary feet, for it is beset by dangers fit to appall the most courageous explorers? And yet, for generations this meaningless jingle of vowels and consonants has been repeated in novitiate ears, as though it possessed even so much potency as would deflect from its course a thistle-down floating in the air! Like Christianity, Freemasonry is a corpse from which the spirit long ago fled.

In this connection, place may well be given to a letter from Mr. Charles Sotheran, Corresponding Secretary of the New York Liberal Club, which was received by us on the day after the date it bears. Mr. Sotheran is known as a writer and lecturer on antiquarian, mystical, and other subjects. In Masonry, he has taken so many of the degrees as to be a competent authority as regards the Craft.... Following is the letter, which we place before the Masons as we desire that they should see what one of their own number has to say:

NEW YORK PRESS CLUB, January 11th, 1877.

In response to your letter, I willingly furnish the information desired with respect to the antiquity and present condition of Freemasonry. This I do the more cheerfully since we belong to the same secret societies, and you can thus better appreciate the necessity for the reserve which at times I shall be obliged to exhibit. You rightly refer to the fact that Freemasonry, no less than the effete theologies of the day, has its fabulous history to narrate. Clogged up as the Order has been by the rubbish and drift of absurd biblical legends, it is no wonder that its usefulness has been impaired and its work as a civilizer hampered. Fortunately the great anti-Masonic excitement that raged in the United States during a portion of this century, forced a considerable band of workers to delve into the true origin of the Craft, and bring about a healthier state of things. The agitation in America also spread to Europe and the literary efforts of Masonic authors on both sides of the Atlantic, such as Rebold, Findel, Hyneman, Mitchell, Mackenzie, Hughan, Yarker and others well-known to the fraternity, is now a matter of history. One effect of their labors has been, in a great measure, to bring the history of Masonry into an open daylight, where even its teachings, jurisprudence, and ritual are no longer secret from those of the "profane," who have the wit to read as they run.

You are correct in saying that the Bible is the "great light" of European and American Masonry. In consequence of this the theistic conception of God and the biblical cosmogony have been ever considered two of its great corner-stones. Its chronology seems also to have been based upon the same pseudo-revelation. Thus Dr. Dalcho, in one of his treatises asserts that the principles of the Masonic Order were presented at and coeval with the creation. It is therefore not astonishing that such a pundit should go on to state that God was the first Grand Master, Adam the second, and the last named initiated Eve into the Great Mystery, as I suppose many a Priestess of Cybelæ and "Lady" Kadosh were afterward. The Rev. Dr. Oliver, another Masonic authority, gravely records what may be termed the minutes of a Lodge where Moses presided as Grand Master, Joshua as Deputy Grand Master, and Ahohab and Bezaleel as Grand Wardens! The temple at Jerusalem, which recent archaeologists have shown to be a structure with nothing like the pretended antiquity of its erection, and incorrectly called after a monarch whose name proves his mystical character, Sol-Om-On (the name of the sun in three languages), plays, as you correctly observe, a considerable share in Masonic mystery. Such fables as these, and the traditional Masonic colonization of ancient Egypt, have given the Craft the credit of an illustrious origin to which it has no right, and before whose forty centuries of legendary history, the mythologies of Greece and Rome fade into insignificance. The Egyptian, Chaldean, and other theories necessary to each fabricator of "high degrees" have also each had their short period of prominence. The last "axe to grind" has consecutively been the fruitful mother of unproductiveness.

We both agree that all the ancient priesthoods had their esoteric doctrines and secret ceremonies. From the Essenic brotherhood, an evolution of the Hindu Gymnosophists, doubtless proceeded the Solidarities of Greece and Rome as described by so-called "Pagan" writers. Founded on these and copying them in the matter of ritual, signs, grips, passwords, etc., were developed the mediæval guilds. Like the present livery companies of London, the relics of the English trade-guilds, the operative Masons were but a guild of workmen with higher pretensions. From the French name "Maçon," derived from "Mas," an old Norman noun meaning "a house," comes our English "Mason," a house builder. As the London companies alluded to present now and again the Freedom of the "Liveries" to outsiders, so we find the trade-guilds of Masons doing the same. Thus the founder of the Ashmolean Museum was made free of the Masons at Warrington, in Lancashire, England, on the 16th October, 1646. The entrance of such men as Elias Ashmole into the Operative Fraternity paved the way for the great "Masonic Revolution of 1717," when SPECULATIVE Masonry came into existence. The Constitutions of 1723 and 1738, by the Masonic impostor Anderson, were written for the newly fledged and first Grand Lodge of "Free and Accepted Masons of England," from which body all others over the world hail to-day.

These bogus constitutions, written by Anderson, were compiled about them, and in order to palm off his miserable rubbishy history, on the Craft, he had the audacity to state that nearly all the documents relating to Masonry in England had been destroyed by the 1717 reformers. Happily, in the British Museum, Bodleian Library, and other public institutions, Rebold, Hughan and others have discovered sufficient evidence in the shape of old Operative Masonic charges to disprove this statement.

The same writers, I think, have conclusively upset the tenability of two other documents palmed upon Masonry, namely, the spurious charter of Cologne of 1535, and the forged questions, supposed to have been written by Leyland, the antiquary, from a MS. of King Henry VI of England. In the last named, Pythagoras is referred to as having -- "formed a great lodge, at Crotona, and made many Masons, some of whom travelled into France, and there made many, from whence, in process of time, the art passed into England." Sir Christopher Wren, architect of St. Paul's Cathedral, London, often called the "Grand Master of Freemasons," was simply the Master or President of the London Operative Masons Company. If such a tissue of fable could interweave itself into the history of the Grand Lodges which now have charge of the first three symbolical degrees, it is hardly astonishing that the same fate should befall nearly all the High Masonic Degrees which have been aptly termed an incoherent medley of opposite principles."

It is curious to note too that most of the bodies which work these, such as the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, the Rite of Avignon, the Order of the Temple, Fessler's Rite, the "Grand Council of the Emperors of the East and West -- Sovereign Prince Masons," etc., etc., are nearly all the offspring of the sons of Ignatius Loyola. The Baron Hundt, Chevalier Ramsay, Tschoudy, Zinnendorf, and numerous others who founded the grades in these rites, worked under instructions from the General of the Jesuits. The nest where these high degrees were hatched, and no Masonic rite is free from their baleful influence more or less, was the Jesuit College of Clermont at Paris.

That bastard foundling of Freemasonry, the "Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite," which is unrecognized by the Blue Lodges was the enunciation, primarily, of the brain of the Jesuit Chevalier Ramsay. It was brought by him to England in 1736-38, to aid the case of the Catholic Stuarts. The rite in its present form of thirty-three degrees was recognized at the end of the eighteenth century by some half dozen Masonic adventurers at Charleston, South Carolina. Two of these, Pirlet a tailor, and a dancing master named Lacorne, were fitting predecessors for a later resuscitation by a gentleman of the name of Gourgas, employed in the aristocratic occupation of a ship's clerk, on a boat trading between New York and Liverpool. Dr. Crucefix, alias Goss, the inventor of certain patent medicines of an objectionable character, ran the institution in England. The powers under which these worthies acted was a document claimed to have been signed by Frederick the Great at Berlin, on May 1st, 1786, and by which were revised the Masonic Constitution and Status of the High Degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Rite. This paper was an impudent forgery and necessitated the issuing of a protocol by the Grand Lodges of the Three Globes of Berlin, which conclusively proved the whole arrangement to be false in every particular. On claims supported by this supposititious document, the Ancient and Accepted Rite have swindled their confiding brothers in the Americas and Europe out of thousands of dollars, to the shame and discredit of humanity.

The modern Templars, whom you refer to in your letter, are but mere magpies in peacock's plumes. The aim of the Masonic Templars is the sectarianization, or rather the Christianizing of Masonry, a fraternity which is supposed to admit the Jew, Parsee, Mahometan, Buddhist, in fact every religionist within its portals who accepts the doctrine of a personal god, and spirit-immortality. According to the belief of a section, if not all the Israelites, belonging to the Craft in America -- Templarism is Jesuitism.

It seems strange, now that the belief in a personal God is becoming extinct, and that even the theologian has transformed his deity into an indescribable nondescript, that there are those who stand in the way of the general acceptance of the sublime pantheism of the primeval Orientals, of Jacob Boehme, of Spinoza. Often in the Grand Lodge and subordinate lodges of this and other jurisdictions, the old doxology is sung, with its "Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost," to the disgust of Israelites and freethinking brethren, who are thus unnecessarily insulted. This could never occur in India, where the great light in a lodge may be the Koran, the Zend-Avesta, or one of the Vedas. The sectarian Christian spirit in Masonry must be put down. To-day there are German Grand Lodges which will not allow Jews to be initiated, or Israelites from foreign countries to be accepted as brethren within their jurisdiction. The French Masons have, however, revolted against this tyranny, and the Grand Orient of France does now permit the atheist and materialist to fellowship in the Craft. A standing rebuke upon the claimed universality of Masonry is the fact that the French Brethren are now repudiated.

Notwithstanding its many faults -- and speculative Masonry is but human, and therefore fallible -- there is no institution that has done so much, and is yet capable of such great undertakings in the future, for human, religious, and political improvement. In the last century the Illuminati taught, "peace with the cottage, war with the palace," throughout the length and breadth of Europe. In the last century the United States was freed from the tyranny of the mother country by the action of the Secret Societies more than is commonly imagined. Washington, Lafayette, Franklin, Jefferson, Hamilton, were Masons. And in the nineteenth century it was Grand Master Garibaldi, 33, who unified Italy, working in accordance with the spirit of the faithful brotherhood, as the Masonic, or rather carbonari, principles of "liberty, equality, humanity, independence, unity," taught for years by brother Joseph Mazzini.

Speculative Masonry has much, too, within its ranks to do. One is to accept woman as a co-worker of man in the struggle of life, as the Hungarian Masons have done lately by initiating the Countess Haideck. Another important thing is also to recognize practically the brotherhood of all humanity by refusing none on account of color, race, position, or creed. The dark-skinned should not be only theoretically the brother of the light. The colored Masons who have been duly and regularly raised stand at every lodge-door in America craving admission, and they are refused. And there is South America to be conquered to a participation in the duties of humanity.

If Masonry be, as claimed, a progressive science and a school of pure religion, it should ever be found in the advance guard of civilization, not in the rear. If it be but an empirical effort, a crude attempt of humanity to solve some of the deepest problems of the race, and no more, then it must give place to fitter successors, perchance one of those that you and I know of, one that may have acted the prompter at the side of the chiefs of the Order, during its greatest triumphs, whispering to them as the d'Å'mon did in the ear of Socrates.

Yours most Sincerely,

CHARLES SOTHERAN.

Thus falls to ruins the grand epic poem of Masons, sung by so many mysterious Knights as another revealed gospel. As we see, the Temple of Solomon is being undermined and brought to the ground by its own chief "Master Masons," of this century. But if, following the ingenious exoteric description of the Bible, there are yet Masons who persist in regarding it as once an actual structure, who, of the students of the esoteric doctrine will ever consider this mythic temple otherwise than an allegory, embodying the secret science? Whether or not there ever was a real temple of that name, we may well leave to archÅ'logists to decide; but that the detailed description thereof in I Kings is purely allegorical, no serious scholar, proficient in the ancient as well as mediÅ'val jargon of the kabalists and alchemists, can doubt. The building of the Temple of Solomon is the symbolical representation of the gradual acquirement of the secret wisdom, or magic; the erection and development of the spiritual from the earthly; the manifestation of the power and splendor of the spirit in the physical world, through the wisdom and genius of the builder. The latter, when he has become an adept, is a mightier king than Solomon himself, the emblem of the sun or Light himself -- the light of the real subjective world, shining in the darkness of the objective universe. This is the "Temple" which can be reared without the sound of the hammer, or any tool of iron being heard in the house while it is "in building."

In the East, this science is called, in some places, the "seven-storied," in others, the "nine-storied" Temple; every story answers allegorically to a degree of knowledge acquired. Throughout the countries of the Orient, whenever magic and the wisdom-religion are studied, its practitioners and students are known among their craft as Builders -- for they build the temple of knowledge, of secret science. Those of the adepts who are active, are styled practical or operative Builders, while the students, or neophytes are classed as speculative or theoretical. The former exemplify in works their control over the forces of inanimate as well as animate nature; the latter are but perfecting themselves in the rudiments of the sacred science. These terms were evidently borrowed at the beginning by the unknown founders of the first Masonic guilds.

In the now popular jargon, "Operative Masons" are understood to be the bricklayers and the handicraftsmen, who composed the Craft down to Sir Christopher Wren's time; and "Speculative Masons," all members of the Order, as now understood. The sentence attributed to Jesus, "Thou art Peter ... upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it" disfigured, as it is, by mistranslation and misinterpretation, plainly indicates its real meaning. We have shown the signification of Pater and Petra, with the hierophants -- the interpretation traced on the tables of stone of the final initiation, was handed by the initiator to the chosen future interpreter. Having acquainted himself with its mysterious contents, which revealed to him the mysteries of creation, the initiated became a builder himself, for he was made acquainted with the dodecahedron, or the geometrical figure on which the universe was built. To what he had learned in previous initiations of the use of the rule and of architectural principles, was added a cross, the perpendicular and horizontal lines of which were supposed to form the foundation of the spiritual temple, by placing them across the junction, or central primordial point, the element of all existences, representing the first concrete idea of deity. Henceforth he could, as a Master builder (see I Cor. 3:10), erect a temple of wisdom on that rock of Petra, for himself; and having laid a sure foundation, let "another build thereon."

The Egyptian hierophant was given a square head-dress, which he had to wear always, and a square (see Mason's marks), without which he could never go abroad. The perfect Tau formed of the perpendicular (descending male ray, or spirit) a horizontal line (or matter, female ray), and the mundane circle was an attribute of Isis, and, it is but at his death that the Egyptian cross was laid on the breast of his mummy. These square hats are worn unto this day by the Armenian priests. The claim that the cross is purely a Christian symbol introduced after our era, is strange indeed, when we find Ezekiel stamping the foreheads of the men of Judah, who feared the Lord (Ezek. 9:4), with the signa Thau, as it is translated in the Vulgate. In the Revelation, also, the "Alpha and Omega" (spirit and matter), the first and the last, stamps the name of his Father in the foreheads of the elect.

And if our statements are wrong, if Jesus was not an initiate, a Master-builder, or Master-Mason as it is now called, how comes it, that on the most ancient cathedrals we find his figure with Mason's marks about his person? In the Cathedral of Santa Croce, Florence, over the main portal can be seen the figure of Christ holding a perfect square in his hand.

The surviving "Master-builders" of the operative craft of the true Temple, may go literally half-naked and wander slipshod for ever -- now not for the sake of a puerile ceremony, but because, like the "Son of man," they have not where to lay their heads -- and yet be the only surviving possessors of the "Word." Their "cable-tow" is the sacred triple cord of certain Brahman-Sannyãsi, or the string on which certain lamas hang their yu-stone; but with these apparently valueless talismans, not one of them would part for all the wealth of Solomon and Sheba. The seven-knotted bamboo stick of the fakir can become as powerful as the rod of Moses "which was created between the evenings, and on which was engraven and set forth the great and glorious NAME, with which he was to do the wonders in Mizraim."

But these "operative workmen" have no fear that their secrets will be disclosed by treacherous ex-high priests of chapters, though their generation may have received them through others than "Moses, Solomon, and Zerubbabel." Had Moses Michael Hayes, the Israelite Brother who introduced Royal Arch Masonry into this country (in December, 1778), had a prophetic presentment of future treasons, he might have instituted more efficacious obligations than he has.

Truly, the grand omnific Royal Arch word, "long lost but now found," has fulfilled its prophetic promise. The password of that degree is no more "I AM THAT I AM." It is now simply "I was but am no more!"

Il Tesserino della Loggia Monte Carlo

SRIA (UK ILLUMINATI) SEP.2005 ELECTION RESULTS

SRIA results.....

Our new Supreme Magus â€” John Paternoster

Fratres all;

I am delighted to announce that we have elected a new Supreme Magus, in the person of Right Worthy Frater John Paternoster, VIII^o & 9^o.

Those of you who know John or who read his manifesto will know that the Electors have chosen a worthy Frater whose esoteric and leadership qualities will, I trust, benefit us greatly in the years ahead. Our thanks should go to our two other candidates, Michael Buckley and Arthur Craddock, for the manner in which they have conducted themselves throughout the electoral period. I know that the Society will continue to benefit from their talents and experience in the years ahead.

The official results are as follows:

Votes Cast: 211

Votes needed to win on first round: 107

First Round:

Michael Buckley: 89

Arthur Craddock: 54

John Paternoster: 68

There being no winner on the First Round, Arthur Craddock was eliminated and his second preferences distributed as follows:

Michael Buckley: 8

John Paternoster: 42

No second preference 4

The final total was therefore:

Michael Buckley: 97

John Paternoster: 110

I therefore declare that John Paternoster is Supreme Magus Elect of the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia.

I have been asked to stay on as Secretary-General which I have accepted; a full list of High Council Officers will be posted shortly once they have been contacted but the general rule will be to ask Chief Adepts to stay in post.

I now call on all Fratres to work with John and his team in taking the Society forwards, and building on our achievements so far. I feel we have some excellent times ahead.

Fraternal best wishes to you all

Chris Forester

Le donne nascoste: il patto col diavolo

Il LIBRO NERO della massoneria, dall'Adamo androgino ai nostri giorni con documenti inediti.

Roberto Amato

Copertina:

Un libro esplosivo che rivela tante verità e consapevolezze nascoste, che tutti abbiamo nel nostro cuore.

Con questo libro rivendico un posto al sole alle sorelle, alle madri, alle mogli e alle figlie, che hanno lottato direttamente e indirettamente con tanto amore, tenacia, passione e che hanno sacrificato la propria vita e, fatto gravissimo, a volte hanno subito l'abbandono e la persecuzione di quei Fratelli che l'ignoranza e la paura avevano reso ciechi.

Una forzata amnesia massonica, non esclusivamente italiana, nel tentativo di avere quei tanti riconoscimenti esteri di regolarità massonica.

Un libro esplosivo: tante verità nascoste.

Per lunghi secoli una parte dell'Umanità è stata largamente ignorata dalla cultura e dalla letteratura: la donna insieme a tutto ciò che è connesso alle tematiche femminili.

Il susseguirsi degli eventi storici e le evoluzioni sociali hanno segregato la donna nei meandri pi¹ reconditi, riconoscendole a volte solo un ruolo simbolico o mitico.

Perch^o un libro dedicato alle donne nascoste?

La Massoneria, guidata dal cuore, dall'^o intelletto e dall'^o impegno attivo, non solo degli uomini, ma anche delle donne ha superato periodi di grande persecuzione sia da parte dei re in passato che dai governanti di destra o di sinistra nella storia recente. Le donne, in particolare, si sono sacrificate tanto per realizzare questo percorso iniziatico esoterico, e non lo hanno fatto per ricevere qualcosa in cambio, ma semplicemente per trasmetterlo agli altri con grande responsabilit^a.

Vorremmo che si riconoscesse alle sorelle il loro giusto valore e il ruolo determinante che hanno avuto nel nostro cammino di vita: la Libera Muratoria.

Con questo libro rivendichiamo un posto al sole alle sorelle, alle madri, alle mogli e alle figlie, che hanno lottato direttamente e indirettamente con tanto amore, tenacia, passione e che hanno sacrificato la propria vita e, fatto gravissimo, a volte hanno subito l'^o abbandono e la persecuzione di quei Fratelli che l'^o ignoranza e la paura avevano reso ciechi.

Una grande lotta per un unico diritto: il diritto all'^o uguaglianza iniziatica, un diritto fondamentale che, dopo migliaia di anni, ancora oggi non ^o accettato del tutto.

Un collegio superiore di uomini ^o inserito nella Scuola della Natura; un angolo del Pianeta in cui vivere in assoluta libert^a, tra uomini liberi da preconcetti e dogmi intellettuali, alla luce di una totale fratellanza e uguaglianza.

Le donne sono rimaste troppo a lungo nell'^o ombra e la letteratura non gli ha mai riconosciuto una testimonianza veritiera.

Una forzata amnesia massonica, voluta o imposta, non esclusivamente italiana, nel tentativo di avere quei tanti ^o esteri di regolarit^a massonica.

La societ^a contemporanea, nonostante la divulgazione di internet ^o che incarna la Globalizzazione - che ha permesso l'^o accesso delle informazioni a uomini e donne, rimane sempre la chiusura mentale verso quest'^o multime.

Sin dalla nascita, il ruolo femminile nella Massoneria era vissuto indirettamente, oggi esso ha un'^o importanza simile a quella maschile per le conquiste ottenute dalle donne nel sociale e nel privato.

Nonostante ci², permangono sempre dei pregiudizi verso il sesso debole. Sin dalla creazione del genere umano, infatti, c'^o stata inculcata l'^o inferiorit^a della donna perch^o l'^o uomo ^o stato creato direttamente da Dio e la donna deriva dalla carne dell'^o uomo.

^o Allora Dio, il Signore, prese dal suolo un po'^o di terra e, con quella, plasm² l'^o uomo.
^o Allora Dio, il Signore, fece scendere un sonno profondo sull'^o uomo, che si addorment²; poi gli tolse una costola e richiuse la carne al suo posto. Con quella costola Dio, il Signore, form² la donna e la condusse all'^o uomo^o.

^o Allora egli esclam²: < >. ^o

Se si analizzano le materie prime della creazione, il fango e la carne, dobbiamo constatare che quest'^o ultima ^o pi¹ nobile rispetto alla prima.

In virt^a di ci² si pu² affermare che la donna ^o pi¹ pura e pi¹ vicina a Dio, rispetto all'^o uomo.

La prova inconfutabile ^o dimostrata dal fatto che la perfezione delle donne ^o stata premiata con il concepimento e il dono della vita.

Questo pregiudizio verso le donne rappresenta un blocco mentale e sociale voluto che, come un muro di gomma, rimane difficile da sormontare.

Infatti Eva, con la sua ascendenza convinse il primo uomo a prendere la sua stessa decisione che li port² alla ^o cacciata dall'^o Eden^o.

E^o a questo errore d'^o origine che si rifanno tutte le autentiche societ^a iniziatiche nel proporre l'^o iniziazione ai loro adepti.

Si vuole qui ricordare che, tradizionalmente e fin dalle pi¹ remote civilt^a, la donna aveva diritto ad alcuni tipi di iniziazione al pari dell'^o uomo, ma non poteva trasmettere i poteri iniziatici.

Adamo ed Eva non sono stati essi stessi iniziati, dal loro Fattore o dal Serpente, a seconda dei punti di vista?

Un Gran Maestro di una nazione che ha subito una guerra civile di religione, recentemente, in una conferenza massonica affermava: "occhi dimentica, non merita!".

Perche' io sono la prima e l'ultima,
Io sono la venerata e la disprezzata,
Io sono la prostituta e la santa,
Io sono la sposa e la vergine,
Io sono la mamma e la figlia,
Io sono le braccia di mia madre,
Io sono la sterile, eppure sono numerosi i miei figli.
Io sono la donna sposata e la nubile,
Io sono colei che da' la luce e colei che non ha mai procreato,
Io sono la consolazione dei dolori del parto.
Io sono la sposa e lo sposo,
E fu il mio uomo che mi creo'.
Io sono la madre di mio padre,
Io sono la sorella di mio marito,
Ed egli e' il mio figliolo respinto.
Rispettatemi sempre,
PoichÃ¨ io sono la scandalosa e la magnifica.
(Ritrovato a Nag Hammadi)

Un cammino pieno di ostacoli partendo dall'Adamo androgino fino al dogma tutto italiano del 1969.

Adamo fu il primo "iniziato". Egli, fedele alle istruzioni ricevute da Dio, fondÃ² lâ€™equivalente della prima loggia.

Suo figlio Lamech (il cui nome significa forza) divenne il suo successore ed egli, a sua volta, iniziÃ² i propri figli alla Legge Divina, i quali, alla luce della saggezza, fecero prodigiose scoperte.

Jubal "fece progredire la geometria, ed inoltre "fu padre di coloro che suonano la cetra e la zampogna" (Genesi, iv, 21).

Tubalcain fondÃ² i principi dell'Alchimia e dell'arte metallurgica e la loro sorella insegnÃ² alle altre donne lâ€™arte del tessile.

Ma lâ€™umanitÃ era destinata a dimenticare la parola di Dio e a cadere nelle tenebre dell'ignoranza. I figli di Lamech, prevedendo la catastrofe, incisero i risultati delle loro scoperte su due grandi colonne litiche che sfuggirono alla distruzione causata dal diluvio e, quando la collera divina si placÃ², un uomo chiamato Hermes o Hermorian, ebbe il compito di ritrovare i due pilastri e, una volta comprese le straordinarie rivelazioni che vi erano scolpite, decise di trasmetterle esclusivamente a chi fosse stato in grado di farle rifiorire.

Hermes si recÃ² a Babilonia dove, dopo aver assunto il nome di Nemrod diede vita ad una nuova loggia e con lâ€™aiuto dei nuovi Liberi Muratori edificÃ² palazzi, torri e templi; la stessa cosa fece a Ninive ed infine inviÃ² trenta fratelli in Oriente, affinchÃ© lâ€™esoterismo massonico fosse diffuso in tutta la Terra. Nemrod esortÃ² i suoi adepti ad amarsi vicendevolmente ed a venerare i Maestri che possiedono i segreti dell'arte. Quando morÃ¬, Dio lo trasformÃ² in una stella. Ancora oggi, levando gli occhi verso il cielo, i massoni troveranno sempre la stella di Nemrod che guiderÃ i loro passi.

Invece secondo alcune leggende ebraiche, Adamo, il primo iniziato in Massoneria, doveva essere stato un androgino, prima che Eva si staccasse da lui e si rendesse autonoma.

La mitologia massonica va intesa quindi come insegnamento massonico e non come una mera ricostruzione storica.

L'esclusione della donna dalla Massoneria "regolare" "patente rilasciata solo dalla Gran Loggia Unita d'Inghilterra, e ad un solo Ordine massonico per singolo Stato "pone problemi o ipotesi di diversa natura.

Su questo tema RenÅ“ Guenon affermÅ²: â€œCome stavano le cose nel Medio Evo? Sicuramente non Å“ impossibile che le donne fossero allora ammesse in alcune organizzazioni che possedevano unâ€™iniziazione che si riferiva allâ€™esoterismo cristiano, e ciÅ² Å“ del tutto verosimile; ma poichÃ© tali organizzazioni sono fra quelle di cui da molto tempo non rimane piÃ¹ traccia, Å“ ben difficile parlarne con sicurezza e in modo preciso e, in ogni caso, Å“ probabile che non vi fossero in esse se non possibilitÃ molto limitate. Quanto allâ€™iniziazione cavalleresca, Å“ anche troppo evidente che, a causa della natura, essa non potrebbe assolutamente convenire alle donne; e lo stesso Å“ da dire delle iniziazioni di mestiere, o per lo meno delle piÃ¹ importanti fra di loro e di quelle che, in un modo o nellâ€™altro, sono continuate fino ai nostri giorni. EÅ™ qui, precisamente, la vera ragione dellâ€™assenza di qualsiasi iniziazione femminile nellâ€™Occidente attuale: tutte le iniziazioni che vi permangono sono essenzialmente fondate su mestieri il cui esercizio appartiene esclusivamente agli uomini.â€• BenchÃ© la presenza delle donne sia sempre stata negata, come evidenziato anche nel quarto articolo di Andersen, Å“ piÃ¹ volte documentata.

Nella storia della Massoneria corporativa, infatti, si trovano segni che attestano che le donne erano ammesse nelle Gilde degli Artigiani, con paritÃ di diritti e doveri.

In Francia il â€œLivre des MÃ©tiersâ€• di Etienne Boileau (1268) prevedeva lâ€™accesso delle donne nelle Corporazioni artigiane, e la loro elevazione al grado di Maestro, anche in mestieri manuali tradizionalmente maschili.

Nel 1375 si accerta, la presenza femminile nelle Gilde degli artigiani come in quelle dei carpentieri di Norwich, con Sabine De Steinbach, figlia del Maestro Architetto della cattedrale di Strasburgo.

Nel â€œPoema Regiusâ€•, il piÃ¹ antico e importante documento massonico datato 1390 circa, in nessun verso si evince lâ€™esclusione delle donne; al contrario si parla piÃ¹ di una volta â€œcosÃ© ciascuno insegnava allâ€™altro, e si amavano lâ€™un altro come fratello e sorellaâ€•. Scritto in Middle English, non si puÃ² definire, a stretto rigore, una "Costituzione" sebbene abbia piÃ¹ elementi di una costituzione che non caratteri artistici di poesia.

I massoni operativi, nei tempi antichi, dovevano spostarsi dai loro luoghi di origine, vivere insieme e lavorare per diversi anni per dedicarsi alla costruzione degli edifici di culto. Nellâ€™Antica Massoneria operativa, le persone di sesso femminile erano precluse dalle Corporazioni maschili, salva la eccezione di cooptare vedove e orfane di Maestri in caso di bisogno.

La donna Å“ presente nelle tradizioni iniziatiche-corporative occidentali, a due livelli: esplicitamente come â€œsorella del mestiereâ€• e come â€œvedova del maestroâ€•, a cui venivano trasmessi i segreti dellâ€™arte, affinchÃ© potesse sostituire la funzione del marito, fino al compimento dellâ€™apprendistato del figlio, ed anche come â€œmadre-ostessaâ€• referente delle Confraternite locali per gli artigiani itineranti.

Bisogna rispettare la convinzione della Massoneria mondiale â€œregolareâ€•, che esclude le donne in via di principio, ma abbiamo anche il dovere di riflettere sulle opinioni di quanti dissentono, specialmente di quelle comunioni massoniche - a torto o ragione considerate "irregolari" - che accolgono le donne tra le loro fila.

Peraltro, in considerazione anche della convinzione di molti massoni, la loro esclusione dalla massoneria non Å“ proprio cosÃ© scontata come potrebbe apparire, a tal punto che moltissime comunioni massoniche regolari di tutto il mondo hanno favorito la crescita e la divulgazione di strutture paramassoniche in cui Å“ ammesso il sesso femminile: per ora solo mogli e parenti strette di massoni ma, col tempo, forse avverrÃ che tali associazioni possano accogliere le donne, prescindendo dai rapporti di parentela con i fratelli liberi muratori.

Smentita la prima affermazione sulla non presenza o lâ€™esclusione delle donne nellâ€™antica Massoneria Operativa, numerose fonti bibliografiche, hanno dimostrato che il Tardo Medioevo, contrariamente a quanto si crede, vide alcune donne raggiungere un notevole grado di emancipazione sociale e culturale.

Possiamo inoltre affermare che l'iniziazione massonica non è femminile o maschile, ma una complementare all'altra come lo sono il sole e la luna.

Il Recipiendiario che si presta a diventare Apprendista Libero Muratore, nella cerimonia di iniziazione massonica, trova la realtà della donna lunare in quanto è perfetta polarità contraria a quella dell'uomo solare.

Riportiamo dal rituale per l'iniziazione del Grande Oriente d'Italia "Palazzo Giustiniani, di recente, il testo che è stato rielaborato dalla Commissione per i rituali nel 1998, al momento di procedere alla vestizione del neofita, il Maestro Venerabile consegna un secondo paio di guanti bianchi, gli fa presente:

"Fratello, essendo la nostra Iniziazione solare, le donne non sono ammesse ai nostri Lavori; tuttavia noi le rispettiamo e le onoriamo. Questi guanti sono destinati a Coei che rappresenta la tua polarità contraria, cioè quella lunare."

Nello stesso si legge a pagina 36 :

"vi ricordino questi guanti che le azioni del Libero Muratore debbono essere sempre pure e che egli mai deve macchiarsi di iniquità."

Vogliamo denunciare che un circolo molto ristretto di Fratelli che si richiamavano al G.O.I., ha apportato questa modifica nella revisione del rituale del 1969 per giustificare l'esclusione della donna. Dal 1969, infatti, la quasi totalità dei Fratelli non conosce questa modifica e ritiene il rituale in uso quello derivante dagli antichi Liberi Muratori. Fermo restando che successivamente alla modifica del 1969 "per la maggior parte dei Fratelli" l'iniziazione massonica è riservata solo agli uomini, quindi ha un carattere prettamente solare, non bisogna disconoscere "per non negare l'evidenza" l'importanza della donna quale opposto e complementare all'uomo.

Tale rimprovero è rivolto anche alle Sorelle delle organizzazioni massoniche femminili, miste e paramassoniche, che giustificano l'esclusione della donna nella polarità sole-luna. Per dimostrare tale affermazione riportiamo un pezzo del capitolo Fiorentino Beatrice della Stella d'Oriente:

"La donna segue la via umida, la via lunare; al contrario del Sole, la Luna non irradia luce propria, ma senza il suo chiarore, riflesso di quello solare, le piú profonde tenebre coprirebbero la Terra nelle ore notturne."

Dall'incontro degli opposti, nasce l'equilibrio e l'armonia di tutto ciò che esiste; senza il due, l'uno non creerebbe il tre, il simbolo della perfezione. Uomo o donna si completano a vicenda, il simbolo del loro complemento è dato dall'Androgino, la mitica creatura bisessuale, maschile a femminile allo stesso tempo.

Senza andare oltre in un simbolismo che continuamente richiama l'attenzione su di una incontrovertibile realtà, si può dire che la via solare seguita dal Massone doveva essere completata da un cammino accessibile alla sua compagna, non facile, ma pratico, che consentisse la proiezione degli ideali massonici fuori ed oltre il chiuso delle Logge."

Partendo dal presupposto che la Massoneria non accetta dogmi, come fa ad accettare questa modifica del 1969 divenuta negli ultimi trenta anni, il dogma massonico in Italia, e nelle zone dove ha interferito?

Siamo costretti così a confrontarci con questo dogma.

La Libera Muratoria

Sin dai tempi della antica Roma si intravedeva un'â€™affinità tra i collegia fabrorum romani o corporazioni di mestiere, e le corporazioni medioevali di muratori, grazie alle maestranze bizantine o italiane (tra cui, i cosiddetti magisteri comacini) dell'â€™alto Medioevo.

Non esistono perÃ² documenti che attestino lâ€™esistenza della massoneria che risalgono all'â€™epoca romana. La nascita della Massoneria come organizzazione puÃ² essere documentata solo nella CristianitÃ medievale. In quell'â€™epoca infatti si costituirono molte confraternite di muratori, le prime attestazioni sono inglesi e scozzesi .

Nell'â€™epoca della rivoluzione francese, la Massoneria Ã¨ stata oggetto di pesanti attacchi da parte dei politici, del Vaticano, dei dittatori (di destra o di sinistra), della plutocrazia internazionale ed infine dei ciarlatani, avventurieri e mistificatori che sono sempre stati presenti nei consorzi umani.

Come conseguenza si Ã¨ avuta la disgregazione e la frantumazione del Millenario Istituto, nonchÃ© la deformazione, il travisamento, lâ€™inquinamento e la degenerazione di esso.

Le migliaia di Liberi Muratori che hanno impugnato il maglietta, lo scalpello e gli altri strumenti muratori, per una scelta di vita, nella famiglia, nel lavoro, nell'â€™impegno civile e sociale, non si rassegnano ad essere messi continuamente all'â€™indice, guardati con sospetto, sbattuti sulle pagine dei giornali come orditori di trame, inquisiti per chi sa quali crimini, giudicati, nella piÃ¹ benevola delle ipotesi, come delle persone fuori dal tempo perchÃ© espressione di un anacronismo incomprensibile, che comunque desta sospetto.

â€œNell'antica Massoneria una norma e un coerente modo di vivere riunivano tutti gli iniziati e con lâ€™unico scopo di elevare il Tempio alla gloria di Dio e di trasporre la connessa esperienza spirituale in una adeguata simbologia. Nella moderna Massoneria codesto ideale Ã¨ appannaggio di una sola delle numerose correnti massoniche. Ci si trova dunque di fronte, nel momento attuale, a un'â€™istituzione intellettuale e sociale Ã¨ molto meno rilevante di quanto non si creda generalmente.â€•

I libri che parlano dell' origine della massoneria "moderna", la descrivono cosÃ¬: Sul piano storico la moderna Libera Muratoria fissa la sua data di nascita al 24 Giugno 1717 in coincidenza con la costituzione della Gran Loggia Inglese, sorta dalla fusione delle quattro Logge preesistenti nella cittÃ di Londra.

La massoneria era sicuramente un'unica, ma non unitaria, organizzazione nella CristianitÃ medievale ed anzi, nelle isole britanniche, era giunta tardi, importata dal continente all'epoca dei Maestri Comacini.

In veritÃ da un piccolo "scisma" nel 1717 dal corpus degli "operativi" (ANCIENTS), si staccarono quattro Logge, che costituirono la GRAND LODGE of LONDON il 24 giugno del 1717 (il giorno quindi di S. Giovanni, che diventa il santo patrono della Massoneria Inglese); non piÃ¹ dunque operativa ma, com'era esplicitamente affermato "speculativa"(MODERNS). La maggior parte dei membri dello scisma erano tutti o comunque vicini alla ROYAL SOCIETY o "espulsi" dagli Operativi di Londra, su disposizione del Wren. Furono espulsi nel 1715: Anderson, Payne (2Â°GM, 1718; 4Â°GM, 1720), Teofilo D'Ã saguliers (3Â°GM, 1719), Johnson, Stuard, Antony Sayer (1Â°GM), Entick, Montagu.

Da quella scissione i privilegi e la Tradizione iniziatica dei Liberi Muratori non saranno piÃ¹ solo appannaggio esclusivo dei massoni, ma uomini con diverse professioni verranno chiamati a gioirne.

La nuova massoneria fu piÃ¹ adatta all'esportazione di quello spirito "mondialista" e "missionario" amanti del nuovo trinomio : Scienza, Progresso e Conoscenza, dentro i non troppi rigidi confini di quella che Anderson chiamÃ² â€œThe Costitutions of The Free Massonsâ€•, London 1723, â€œmost ancient and worshipful FraternitÃ â€•: si riconoscevano fratelli quanti in nome della esclusiva ragione miravano a combattere lâ€™ignoranza e la superstizione.

L'unione delle due Grandi Logge fu raggiunto il 27 Dicembre del 1813, dopo 96 anni, quando fu tenuta la Grand Assembly of Freemasons for the Union of the Two Grand Lodges of England, con l'elezione a Gran Maestro del Duca di Sussex che l'anno successivo fu installato 1° Gran Maestro dell' United Grand Lodge of England (UGLE).

I "liberi muratori" - Antients - erano l'insieme dei "muratori" che godevano di certe "franchigie" (da qui "liberi" o "franchi" muratori; "libera" o "franca" muratoria), e che giravano per i vari paesi europei soprattutto per costruire chiese ed edifici pubblici. I "liberi muratori" sono stati per secoli al servizio dei principi e dei Papi. Bonifacio IV (1110), Niccolò III (1277) e Benedetto XII (1331), riconobbero loro il diritto di governarsi secondo i propri statuti con esenzioni da oneri e obbligazioni locali, di potersi trasferire di paese in paese liberamente, di godere di una specie di monopolio per la costruzione di fabbricati religiosi di maggiore importanza. Non era mai accaduto che venissero condannati dagli uni o dagli altri, anzi "l'arte muratoria", comprendeva oltre l'architettura anche la raffigurazione del sacro.

I più dimenticano che un tempo si dava inizio ai lavori in nome della Santissima e Indivisibile Trinità. Invece con la nascita della "massoneria moderna" o degli aristocratici "liberi pensatori" per opera di alcuni pastori protestanti, giunse a breve la prima condanna scomunica del 4 maggio 1738, con la bolla "in eminenti apostolatus specula", di S.S. Clemente XII.

La continuità storica della Craft libero muratoria seppero conservarsi in Gran Bretagna, in Scozia ed in Irlanda, con diverse caratterizzazioni fra loro.

Nella seconda metà del 1600 nelle Craft c.d. "cooperative" scozzesi ed inglesi finirono per innestarsi il movimento Rosacroce ed altre correnti Umanistiche ed Ireniste nonché correnti Ermetico-Alchemiche, Deiste, Teiste, Latitudinarie, pre-Illuministiche, nel crogiuolo della grande stagione della filosofia inglese.

Con la creazione della c.d. Logge di Accettazione, nacque con la Gran Loggia di Londra del 1717 e con i poli di York e di Edinburgo, la Massoneria Moderna simbolica o speculativa in senso filosofico.

In definitiva, dal punto di vista di chi optava per la regolarità iniziatica e pertanto tradizionale dell'Istituzione "SPECULATIVA" e cioè dei "liberi pensatori", si può certamente dire che la Libera Muratoria moderna nacque con il piccolo "scisma" massonico di Londra del 1717.

Questa è l'origine della Massoneria che dà le patenti di "regolarità" alle altre Massonerie "regolari" del mondo.

La Massoneria Universale oggi si riconosce nei principi dettati dalla Gran Loggia Unita d'Inghilterra nei quali si richiamano saldamente i legami fra la Massoneria antica e la Massoneria moderna.

Nel 2005, nasce a Londra la REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND ANCIENT AND HONOURABLE FRATERNITY OF FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS. (ed ecco spuntare di nuovo Rui Gabirro e la sua nuova P2)

Conoscere i "Landmarks" e confrontarli.

Può suscitare meraviglia soprattutto al non iniziato, il fatto che la massoneria "regolare", di influenza anglosassone, pur predicando la tolleranza e l'uguaglianza, non ammetta donne tra le sue fila e che questo divieto sia persino un "Landmark" per i massoni.

La parola "Landmark" di origine germanica ed è composta, da "Land" che significa terra e da "mark" che significa traccia, segno.

Nella lingua inglese la parola "Landmark" indica un oggetto cospicuo che contraddistingue una località, o definisce il confine di un territorio. Erano appunto quei segni di antichissima origine che servivano a delimitare i confini tra una e l'altra proprietà, e la loro rimozione o manomissione, da sempre, considerata grave crimine.

"Non sposterai i termini del tuo prossimo, posti dai tuoi antenati, nell'eredità che avrai nel paese di cui l'Eterno, il tuo Dio, ti dà il possesso".

Il fatto che tali segni fossero costituiti, normalmente, da pietre di medio - grandi dimensioni confisse verticalmente nel terreno, ha fatto, con ardita metafora, dire a più d'uno che essi siano le colonne su cui poggia l'Istituzione Massonica.

L'articolo XXXIX° dei Regolamenti Generali, contenuto nelle Costituzioni dei Liberi Muratori di James Anderson - tradotti, adottati, citati o riportati integralmente da tutte le obbedienze del mondo, persino dai gruppi massonici non riconosciuti quali regolari - dice: "Ciascuna Gran Loggia annuale ha in sé il potere e l'autorità di fare nuove norme o di modificarle nel reale interesse della antica Fratellanza, purché gli antichi LANDMARKS siano sempre scrupolosamente mantenuti".

Con ciò, il Dr. Anderson introdusse per la prima ed ultima volta il concetto di Landmarks, non precisando quali fossero nelle Ordinanze Generali, che furono approvate a Londra nel 1721, il giorno di S. Giovanni Battista.

Nel linguaggio corrente inglese, Landmark viene usato per significare genericamente limite, confine, punto di riferimento. I primi legislatori della Massoneria moderna nel 1723, utilizzano il sostantivo "Landmark" con il significato di "limite", "confine".

"Le persone ammesse come membri di una Loggia devono essere uomini buoni e sinceri, nati liberi e di età matura e discreta, non schiavi non donne, non uomini immorali o scandalosi, ma di buona reputazione".

Anderson esclude le donne dall'iniziazione Massonica al pari degli schiavi e degli uomini immorali o scandalosi.

Nell'edizione successiva del 1738, del New Book of Constitutions del Dottor James Anderson, si legge nei III Doveri Concernente le Logge: "Gli uomini fatti Massoni devono essere nati liberi (e non schiavi), di età matura e di buona reputazione, sani e forti, non deformati o mutilati al tempo della loro ammissione e non donne, non eunuchi".

In questa successiva stesura si paragona lo status iniziatico della donna del tempo pari a quella degli eunuchi. Si sposta il focus dell'attenzione dalle donne associate prima agli schiavi poi alle deformità fisiche e infine agli eunuchi.

In soli quindici anni, l'evoluzione femminile viene bloccata, la donna viene considerata al pari di una mutilazione fisica.

In un antico documento francese del 1735-6, l'Art. 3 dal titolo: In quel che riguarda le Logge, si legge: "Coloro che sono ammessi membri di una Loggia devono essere di grande fedeltà, di nascita libera e di età ragionevole: uno schiavo, o un uomo di costumi scandalosi o riprovevoli non può essere ammesso nella fratellanza. Le donne ne sono pure escluse, ma a causa degli effetti che il loro merito produce troppo sovente tra i migliori fratelli".

I toni cambiano nel documento francese, intermedio alle due pubblicazioni inglesi di Anderson del 1723 e 1738: il documento, troppo sconosciuto, ma ancora attuale, mette in risalto la «gelosia» di molti Fratelli dinanzi alle capacità e all'operatività delle sorelle.

Per altri Ordini Iniziatici « vedi Martinez de Pasqually - , non esistevano quelle ragioni adottate dai Massoni per non ammettere le donne nel lontano 1770, e cioè la frivolezza, le indiscrezioni, le possibili rivalità amorose che potevano portare nel tempio tutto quello che era profano.

Il Martinismo accettava le donne ma andavano tenute sotto continuo controllo. (cos'è il martinismo).

I Canoni fondamentali dell'Ordine Massonico , i Landmarks, dal termine usato all'art. 39 del «Libro delle Costituzioni» dell'Anderson, non furono mai ufficialmente stabiliti e accettati, fino alla proposta del MACKEY del 1858, Gran Segretario del Supremo Consiglio Mother ecc, pubblicata nella «American Quarterly Review of Freemasonry».

18-Un candidato alla iniziazione deve essere uomo, nato libero, non mutilato e di età matura. (Dai Landmarks secondo MACKEY 1858.)

Egli non fa cenno più all'esclusione della donna come fatto penalizzante, al pari delle mutilazioni fisiche e dell'età.

Riportiamo alcuni limiti o confini, che sono stati trascritti e adottati negli anni successivi alle Costituzioni inglesi scritte nel 1723, che si ricollegano al nostro argomento, dove l'essere donna non era più una pregiudiziale, una menomazione o una schiavitù:

il nono Landmarks della Gran Loggia del Minnesota 1856, afferma che:

Il quarto Landmarks secondo Findel del 1871 afferma:

Il diciassettesimo dei Landmarks secondo Roscoe Pound del 1919, afferma: « Il Massone deve essere un maschio adulto, nato libero».

In altri termini i fondamenti giuridici dell'ortodossia massonica sarebbero il rispetto di questi Antichi Doveri (Old Charges), cioè delle norme tradizionali trasmesse dalle antiche corporazioni dei muratori.

Nella «History of Freemasonry and Masonic Digest» (Vol. II), J. W. Michel scrive:

Le sopravvissute nella storia massonica

Come leggeremo, non esiste un solo caso isolato di iniziazione femminile in Europa nel XVII secolo, ci  fa intendere quanto forte era la pressione delle nobil donne, malgrado i divieti, di ottenere la loro ammissione tra le fila della Libera Muratoria.

Nello Statuto della Loggia Massonica di York del 1693 si riporta che:  •Colui o colei che deve essere fatto massone pone le mani sul libro •

La catena tradizionale di tali ammissioni femminili continua fino agli albori della Massoneria speculativa.

Ad esempio   documentata che nel 1663 venne associata alla  Compagnia Londinese Dei Liberi Muratori  una tale Margaret Wild, vedova. Nel 1714 nel sud dell'Inghilterra, un'altra donna Mary Banister fece apprendistato come Massone per sette anni, pagando alla Compagnia la dovuta somma di 5 pence.

Il caso pi  famoso   quella della duchessa irlandese Elizabeth St. Leger, o, come in seguito   diventata, dopo il matrimonio, l'On. Sig.ra. Aldworth, alla quale ci si riferisce a volte, anche se erroneamente, come "l'unica donna che ha ottenuto l'onore dell'iniziazione nei misteri di sublimazione della Massoneria .

L'On. Elizabeth St. Leger era una figlia del primo visconte Doneraile o Doneraill, un residente di Cork. Suo padre era un Massone molto zelante e, come era l'abitudine del suo tempo - la prima parte del diciottesimo secolo - ha tenuto una riunione di Loggia occasionale in casa sua, assistito dai membri maschi della sua famiglia e di tutti i fratelli nella vicinanza immediata e dagli ospiti. Questa Loggia era registrata regolarmente al Numero Distintivo 150 sul registro della Gran Loggia dell'Irlanda.

La storia racconta di un pomeriggio prima dell'iniziazione di un signore chiamato Coppinger, la Sig.na St. Leger si era nascosta nella stanza adiacente a quella usata come stanza del Tempio. Questa stanza a quel tempo aveva delle alterazioni e la sig.na St. Leger si dice rimosse un mattone dal divisorio con le sue forbici e attraverso l'apertura divenne testimone della cerimonia d'iniziazione.

L'aver visto il rituale d'iniziazione la turb  tanto che immediatamente si diede alla fuga, ma non riusc  ad eludere la vigilanza del custode della Loggia il Copritore Esterno che, munito di una spada riusc  ad arrestarne la fuga. Lei strill  allarmando i membri della Loggia, che arrivarono correndo, e scoprirono che era stata testimone di tutta la cerimonia appena terminata. Dopo una lunga discussione e cedendo alle suppliche di suo fratello   "ma ritengo all'alto lignaggio del padre visconte -, decisero di ammetterla nell'Ordine e fu iniziata regolarmente, e, nel corso degli anni,   diventata per capacit  la Maestra Venerabile della Loggia.

Era questa una donzella, che compito non aveva per anche il ventunesimo anno dell'et  sua. Aggiungeva ella al pregio d'una non mediocre belt  quello d'uno spirito assai pronto e vivace. Il suo portamento era serio; e di statura alta, e ben formata, e compressa appariva. Ella era servita ed amata da un giovine Cavaliere di qualit , il quale sovente gli addiceva per motivo di partirsi da lei la necessit , che aveva di ritrovarsi nella Conversazione de' Liberi Muratori. La damigella, che era avezza ad essere a parte d'ogni pi  intimo suo segreto, non poteva soffrire, che il Cavaliere, solo per questo, avesse mutato il suo costume. Quindi  , che si accese, sempre pi  di desiderio per quello, che le veniva costantemente celato. Le riuscì dunque con alcune industrie maniere d'essere introdotta, e presentata, per essere ammessa alla Conversazione, lusingandosi di potersi nascondere sotto finto abito, e nome mentito. Non pensò, che qualche altra cosa, oltre la mutazione della veste, le sarebbe stata necessaria per poter condurre a buon fine l'impresa risoluzione. Quindi, che fatte le prime cerimonie, e portatasi sempre con coraggio, la gentile fanciulla non potè non restare sorpresa, e impallidire, quando alla presenza del Venerabile Gran Maestro si vidde sbottonare il giustacuore, e scorre la goletta. Voleva far resistenza, le tremava la mano, e si leggeva nel pallore del volto la confusione, e il timore. Non si stette per questo di proseguire il suo officio quel Fratello, cui era stato commesso, ma ben tosto toccò con mano il gentile inganno della dama ingegnosa. Rimase egli stupito ed attonito esclamando: O sogno, o questa una femmina. Ma certificatisi tutti dell'inganno, e dissimulando il disgusto concepitone, dopo un dolce rampognamento, si sforzò ciascuno di farle finezza ed onori, per quanto comportavano le circostanze, e l'istituto, del luogo. Il Gran Maestro poi cos'è le prese a dire: Voi siete l'unica tralle femmine, che possa darsi il vanto d'aver penetrato nelle nostre Conversazioni. Noi conosciamo il vostro merito, lodiamo il vostro spirito, e siamo ammiratori di esso; ma dall'altro canto siamo molto osservanti del nostro istituto per non esservi più compiacenti. Voglio per che vi resti memoria di noi, e della nostra Confraternita, e del nostro impegno. Cos'è dicendo ordinò, che le fosse regalato un paio di Guanti, un Martello, e una Squadra. Dopo questo fatto in memoria della tentata Muratoria, volendola congedare fu servita di sorbetti e d'orzate, e presentandole il Gran Maestro una Pistola corta, cos'è le ragionò: E' nostra costituzione, valorosa donzella, di non poter alcuno di noi partirsi dalla Loggia se non dopo terminati tutti i nostri uffizi; quindi, che mi duole gravemente, che non possiate a quest'ora restar servita di compagnia né da me, né da alcun altro di questi gentiluomini; perciò prevaletevi in vostro bisogno di quest'arme, che congiunta al magnanimo vostro spirito vi renderà sicura da ogni oltraggio. Ella rese le più distinti grazie a quella gentil Conversazione, premendo nell'animo il dolore di non essere pervenuta al suo fine; e accompagnata da i due gentiluomini Sopravegghianti, e dal Gran Maestro, fino alla porta se ne partì.

Nel XVIII° Secolo, almeno due corporazioni femminile, quella delle spillaie e le cappellaie sarebbero state affiliate al Compagnonaggio francese "Compagnonnage" che, rappresentava rispetto alle Antiche Corporazione di Mestiere, un'attività edilizia inferiore ed a livelli di manovalanza.

In Inghilterra, il 25 Gennaio 1723/4 sotto forma di lettera anonima, venne pubblicato sul Read's Weekly Journal "La Congrega delle Sorelle Libere Cucitrici 1724".

"Allorquando Eva Progenitrice inventò per prima l'Ago al fine di mettere insieme le Foglie di Fico, il Cucire non servì a nascondere la Nudità sua e quella di suo Marito. In progresso di tempo, le sue Discendenti fecero diventare quella del Cucire, che intendeva soltanto proteggere la Nudità, una vera e propria Arte Ornamentale. Perciò, non solo l'Ago, ma lo Spillo, lo Spillone, il Filo, il Ditale e molti altri Strumenti furono usati, grazie ai quali la accorta e operosa Sorellanza ottenne notevole Lucro e grande Reputazione."

"Meriterebbero di essere chiamate Filo-Matematiche, essendo grandi Amanti, nonché fautrici, di tali Scienze. Particolarmente versate nel Comporre e Scomporre. Lo stesso Fidia non riuscì a superare molte Sorelle nel Rilievo, poiché esse operano al Vivo. Sono profondamente attaccate ai Liberi Muratori, e a tutti quelli che lavorano la Pietra, e si vantano che sempre la Corporazione delle Sorelle Cucitrici a Rifornire e Popolare i tanti edifici eretti dalla Fratellanza dei Liberi Muratori."

La morale massonica: Il XVIII secolo e Le logge d'adozione

"Sui costumi dei Liberi Muratori circolarono nel secolo XVIII voci infamanti: essi, si diceva, banchettavano spesso e non ammettevano le donne. Si erano meritati gli elogi dell'

È autore del Praise of drunkenness (Elogio dell'ubriachezza) e nel 1730 un certo Peter Farmer pubblicava una satira, New Model for the Rebuilding Masonry on a stronger basis than the former, in cui figurava una canzone, "Let malicious people censure" col sottotitolo: "A song made by a mason, occasioned by a report that they were guilty of sodomitical practices". Anderson stesso, nei "Songs" che pubblica in appendice all'edizione del 1738 delle Costituzioni, crede di dover inserire un Sword-bearer's Song (Canto del portaspada) di protesta:

Noi abbiamo piet  di questi sciocchi
Che credono impure le nostre azioni;
noi sappiamo che   dalla loro ignoranza che procede un'opinione cos  meschina dei nostri atti.

Al rimprovero dell'omosessualit  e alcolismo, non fu la massoneria inglese ma precisamente la massoneria continentale che trov  la buona risposta e la "grazia" propria del XVIII secolo francese, creando per le donne la "massoneria d'adozione".

I liberi Muratori Francesi, nel XVIII secolo, danno accesso alle donne con l'adozione, creano uno spazio misto entro riunioni specifiche e separate da una Loggia esclusivamente maschile.

Nel 1730 operavano gi  delle Logge d'Adozione (Loges d'Adoption).

I riti della Massoneria femminile sono "androgeni", cio , uomini e donne si trovavano in comune nelle logge di adozione, e insieme prendevano parte ai "lavori". Non fu mai concesso a donna di prendere parte ai "lavori" della Massoneria maschile o dar luogo a logge tutte femminili.

La Massoneria di "adozione", denominata anche "androgina", ebbe vari ordini e riti tra i pi  citati: Ordine dei sette savi, Ordine del Palladio, Rito delle Scozzesi di perfezione, Rito di Monte Tabor, Rito di Mopse, Rito della Felicit , Rito della Rosa, Rito degli amanti del piacere.

La loro esistenza veniva per  taciuta ai massoni col grado di apprendista. La prima comparsa di queste logge avvenne in Francia (e sono il frutto evidente del mondano spirito francese) che lavoravano sotto gli auspici della GRANDE LOGE DE FRANCE.

Soltanto nel 1770 la Massoneria femminile venne convalidata dai debiti statuti. Il riconoscimento ufficiale ha la data del 1774.

Da un documento dell'epoca, DAMES MACONNI RES, si apprende che originariamente la Massoneria femminile, sotto la denominazione di "Logge d'adozione", si costitu  su due sole classi: nella prima venivano comprese le dame "virtuose", nella seconda le "evolubili". Una classe doveva operare all'insaputa della esistenza dell'altra.

La direzione delle logge femminili era di pertinenza degli uomini. Precisa il documento "I fratelli incaricati di dirigerle faranno loro pervenire le lezioni senza farsi conoscere. Guideranno le prime [LE VIRTUOSE] con letture di buoni libri (Rousseau, Voltaire, Diderot, Mirabeau), e le altre col formarle all'arte di soddisfare segretamente le loro passioni".

La esistenza di questi cenacoli venne per la prima volta denunciata nel 1882 dalla rivista dell'Ordine dei Gesuiti "Civilt  Cattolica".

Nel libro "la massoneria delle donne, regolamento e rituali (1730-1780)", troviamo scitto:

Le prime tracce accettabili di una Muratoria con le donne appartengono proprio al decennio 1730-40. Tra le più significative, una Marcia della Libero Muratore attribuita a un membro della Loggia Coutos-Villeroy, datata 1737 e lettere private che dicono, per esempio: «La signora Contessa di Grandville ha messo a parte della vostra lettera tutta la fratellanza, ma nessun membro di quel corpo è stato così ardivo da rispondere, malgrado le sue sollecitudini». «Non dimenticatevi di me presso la signora, la vostra cara Libero Muratore». Le tracce divengono più esplicite nel decennio seguente. Nel 1747 la loggia Saint-Julien di Brioude, Haute Loire, arricchisce i propri numeri con numerose signore della nobiltà. «Quella fu la sola seduta straordinaria, dice il segretario, nella quale furono ricevute delle donne».

Dal libro «Rituali e Società Segreta» edizioni Convivio, a pag 460 riportiamo l'Obbligazione della Massoneria di Adozione del Grado 1° Apprendente:

In questo caso acconsento di essere colpita dalla Spada dell'Angelo Sterminatore. Così, per garantirmene, possa una porzione del fuoco, che risiede nella più alta regione del cielo, discendere nell'anima mia per accenderla e purificarla, rendendola degna di penetrare nei segreti sentieri della virtù. Così sia».

All'obbligazione delle Dame di Adozione, mettiamo a confronto il Giuramento maschile inglese del Libero Muratore del 1730 circa:

Io Qui solennemente Prometto e Giuro alla Presenza di Dio Onnipotente e di questa Rispettabilissima Assemblea, che Celermente e Occulteramente e giammai Rivelerò i Segreti dei Muratori o della Muratoria, che mi saranno confidati; salvo che a un Sincero e Legittimo Fratello, dopo debito Esame, o in una Rispettabile Loggia giusta e perfetta di fratelli e Compagni.

Io inoltre prometto e Giuro, che non li metterò in Iscritto, non li Stamperò, Marcherò, Scolpirò, o Inciderò, né che li lascerò mettere in Iscritto, Stampare, Marchiare, Scolpire o Incidere su legno o Pietra, sicché possano illecitamente ottenersi, sia pure per l'apparire di un Carattere o di una Impressione.

Tutto questo sotto Pena non inferiore a quella di avere la Gola Tagliata, la Lingua sradicata, il Cuore strappato dal lato Sinistro del mio Petto, e seppellito a una Gomena dalla Riva nelle Secche Marine, là dove la marea monta e cala due volte nelle 24 ore, il mio Corpo ridotto in Cenere, e le Ceneri sparse sulla faccia della terra, sicché non rimanga di me Traccia veruna fra i Muratori.

Quello che oggi come allora, scandalizza i più, come persone di grande rispetto e considerazione si sottoponevano al giuramento o a una obbligazione così solenne, sotto pena di conseguenze così terribili.

La Massoneria di Adozione o Mista comparve in Francia nel 1730; e successivamente si fondarono in seguito molti riti diversi.

Pour DUCHAINE, deux ateliers frères mineurs furent fondés à Mons, un à Tournai, un à Alost et deux à Bruxelles. Il précède aussi que la Maçonnerie d'adoption était reconnue par la Grande Loge de Londres. Il cite, à titre de preuve, le procès-verbal d'une tenue du 29 janvier 1778. Il s'agit d'une tenue de la Vraie et Parfaite Harmonie à l'Orient de Mons en présence du F. Dillon, député Grand Maître de toutes les loges anglaises. Cette tenue au grade de Maître est suspendue pour procéder à l'initiation d'une soeur en loge d'adoption et le tracé de cette cérémonie est inscrit au procès verbal (10).....

Per DUCHAINE, due Logge femminili furono fondate a Mons, una a Girai, una ad Alost e due a Bruxelles. Precisa anche che la Muratura di adozione era regolare e riconosciuta per il Grande Loggia di Londra. Cita, a titolo di prova, il verbale di una tenuta del 29 gennaio 1778. Si tratta di una tenuta della Rispettabile Loggia "Vera e Perfetta Armonia" all'Oriente di Mons in presenza del F. Dillon, deputato Grande Maestro di tutte le Logge inglesi. Questa tenuta al grado di Maestro Libero Muratore "terzo grado simbolico- A" sospesa per procedere all'iniziazione di una sorella ospite di adozione ed il tracciato di questa cerimonia "A" inserito nel verbale di Loggia (10).....

Sempre in Francia, ampio proselitismo massonico femminile si ha nella corte di Luigi XVI; nel 1786 Maria Teresa di Savoia "Carignano, dama di corte del sovrano, assunse la Gran Maestranza delle Logge Femminili di Rito Scozzese.

Degli ordini che imitavano la Massoneria nacquero, per seguire la moda francese del tempo : si ebbe così l'Ordine della Felicità, l'Ordine della Rosa, e altri ancora. Vi si "fraternizzava" tra grandi signori e attrici dell'Opera.

Per eludere l'anatema lanciata da Clemente XII, i Liberi Muratori tedeschi fondarono l'Ordine dei Mopsi (Mops in tedesco significa cane alano giovane), nel quale tutti i membri dovevano essere cattolici romani, come ci dice l'autore dell'Ordine dei Liberi muratori tradito. "ma essi sono molto tiepidi su questo argomento". Il rituale imitava il rituale massonico perfino nei particolari.

Così il profano doveva "eraspare" alla porta della loggia. Un fratello gli metteva attorno al collo un collare di cui gli spiegavano il simbolismo, nello stesso modo col quale un venerabile spiegava quello del grembiolino.

Nello stesso periodo, si ha la presenza di una prima massoneria mista con il famoso Rito Egizio di Cagliostro, a partire dalla città di Bordeaux (1783), che diede una svolta fondamentale nella storia della Massoneria e all'esoterismo in generale.

Il Rito Egiziano di Cagliostro

Il Rito Egiziano di Cagliostro "il primo movimento Libero Muratorio di grande spessore che v" in senso contrario alla società del tempo.

Nel corso della sua storia, la Massoneria ha ammesso una sola persona di sesso femminile ad essere partecipe delle onoranze della Corporazione, cioè la Regina o Balkis di Saba, la cui effigie si trova nelle Cattedrali tedesche insieme a quella del più potente dei re, di Re Salomone. Dalla loro unione nascerà la stirpe reale ed iniziatica etiopica (custode dell'Arca dell'Alleanza?). Un antico manoscritto etiopico, il Kebra Nagast narra che, quando il figlio di Salomone non ancora adulto andò a far visita a suo padre a Gerusalemme, con le astuzie ereditate dalla madre gli portò via alcuni, "occarri volanti" e la famosa Arca dell'Alleanza che poi avrebbe nascosto in Etiopia.

A lei si ispirò Cagliostro quando, si proclamò Gran Cofto del "Rito Egizio", e nominò Regina di Saba Lorenza Feliciani affidandole la Gran Maestranza delle Logge Femminili da lui iniziate annesse ai luoghi di riunione del Rito (Misraim).

Giuseppe Balsamo ebbe forse i primi approcci con la Massoneria a Malta, ma fu iniziato solo il 12 Aprile del 1777, quando, a Londra, vide la Luce nella Loggia n° 289: "L'Esperance". Questa Officina che si riuniva alla Royal Taverne, apparteneva alla "Stretta Osservanza" e non godeva di grande prestigio, dato che accoglieva persone di livello sociale medio-basso. Con Cagliostro ricevettero il crisma anche Serafina Feliciani, Giuseppe Ricciarelli, Pierre Boileau e il Maestro Venerabile consegnò loro una giarrettiere con inciso il motto "Unione, silenzio, virtù".

L'anno dopo il massone Cagliostro era già famoso, fu infatti accolto all'Aja con grandi onori dalla Loggia "L'indissolubile", dove tenne un'orazione di tre ore, nel corso della quale parlò diffusamente del Rito Egiziano al quale stava lavorando. I Fratelli olandesi gli chiesero di erigere una Loggia d'adozione, dove si potesse operare secondo il nuovo rito. La richiesta fu subito accolta e Cagliostro rilasciò il diploma di fondazione della Loggia mista di cui fu nominata "Prima Ispettrice" Serafina. Il Rito Egiziano che ormai cominciava ad albeggiare, si andò precisando negli anni successivi, grazie a continui incontri ed esperienze che l'Italiano ebbe in mezza Europa.

Nel 1779 fu iniziato, all'Ordine rosacrociano "dell'Oro" che riprendeva la celebre leggenda del XVII°; poco più tardi entrò in contatto con la setta di Adam Weishaupt, basata sullo spiritismo e sulla teurgia, quindi divenne un seguace del Benedettino Dom Pernety. Il suo rito prevedeva lo stato di trance, tramite il quale l'officiante, veniva illuminato da un angelo custode che gli comunicava la parola sacra. Questo miscuglio di Massoneria e magia evocativa, affascinò Cagliostro che divenne un fedele di Pernety ed ebbe, per ricompensa, la direzione della Loggia.

Tali esperienze, insieme ad un'improbabile lettura del manoscritto di un certo Giorgio Cofton sulla liturgia Sacra Egiziana e agli insegnamenti del misterioso Althotas che lo avrebbe iniziato ai segreti di Iside e Osiride, furono altri elementi del Rito Egiziano che doveva condurlo alla rovina.

Il 25 Febbraio 1779 Cagliostro arrivò nella piccola città di Mitaunella Curlandia, ove era diffusa la cosiddetta Massoneria cerimoniale che si occupava "di speculazioni astratte e di formule empiriche". All'interno delle Officine si praticava la "purificazione" che avrebbe dovuto portare a una vera e propria rigenerazione fisica e spirituale, a un ringiovanimento, in parole povere, del corpo e dell'anima. Inutile dire che Cagliostro si mise subito in evidenza evocando spiriti, scoprendo tesori nascosti, facendo previsioni incredibili.

Da Mitau Cagliostro si trasferì a San Pietroburgo, dove dimorò dal 5 Giugno 1779 al Marzo 1780

Intanto egli si era trasferito in Polonia, dove a Varsavia operava il principe Adamo Poninski, fondatore di una Loggia templare; nel suo castello di Vola aveva creato un laboratorio alchemico dove Cagliostro eseguì alcuni esperimenti. Abbandonò poi anche la Polonia per recarsi a Strasburgo dove giunse il 19 o il 27 Settembre e vi si trattenne per tre anni, operando miracolose guarigioni, tanto da essere chiamato "l'amico degli uomini" e "Mio Dio".

Nel 1783 si recò a Napoli dal cavaliere d'Aquino, quindi ripartì per la Gran Bretagna e l'8 Novembre 1783 giunse a Bordeaux, la città che aveva ospitato il mitico don Martinez Pasqualis.

Ai primi di Ottobre del 1784 si trasferì a Lione, dove alloggiò all'Hotel de la Reine. Il suo scopo principale era quello d'incontrare, uno dei più prestigiosi capi massonici del mondo, fondatore dell'Ordine dei "Cavalieri Benefici", il mercante Jean-Baptiste Willermoz.

Fallito questo tentativo, Cagliostro, con dodici Fratelli tratti dalle Logge "Le Perfait Silence" e "La Sagesse", fondò l'Officina Madre di Rito Egiziano "La Sagesse Triomphante" l'attivismo iniziatico del Conte proseguiva con molte iniziative, fra le quali, la più interessante fu la fondazione della Loggia di adozione "Isis", in casa della Marchesa d'Orvilliers; la direzione fu assunta, naturalmente da "Serafina", col titolo di "Regina di Saba". Ad essa aderirono le dame della più alta nobiltà parigina.

Ciò non impediva alla giovane sposa di seguirlo nei suoi viaggi attraverso l'Europa, in Francia (dove venne anche arrestato, e poi espulso), in Russia, in Polonia, in Svizzera, in Spagna, e di essere messa a parte di ogni suo segreto dei suoi artifici.

Tuttavia, sarà Lorenza a farlo incarcerare di nuovo, stavolta per sempre e Giuseppe Balsamo, conte Cagliostro, viene arrestato a Roma e deferito al Sant'Uffizio, da lei stessa accusato di stregoneria, esperimenti, alchimia e imbrogli vari. Ma la donna aveva fatto i conti senza l'oste: oltre che il marito fu imprigionata anche lei, e chiusa nel monastero di Sant'Apollonia in Trastevere, nella piazza dove sorgeva la chiesa omonima, oggi scomparsa. Tale monastero è quello dove, molto, molto tempo prima, aveva vissuto, scomparso il suo grande amore, la Fornarina di Raffaello. In ogni caso, in quegli anni, esso aveva la precisa funzione di Refugium peccatorum, e la disciplina all'interno vi era molto severa. Il fatto che, finito il periodo di pena, non risulta che Lorenza sia uscita dal monastero, e nemmeno che vi sia rimasta: scomparve, e nessuno ha saputo più nulla di lei.

La massoneria egiziana non era androgena, ma oggi, alcune Gran Loggie che si richiamano al rito egizio, hanno divisa in due sezioni, le dame vengono iniziate separatamente dai fratelli a tre gradi, nella “LOGE EGYPTIENNE D’ADOPTION”; il Cagliostro non faceva distinzione di sesso, il suo sistema si proponeva di perfezionare l’essere umano e non il maschio o la femmina.

Con Cagliostro, la donna può svolgere una importante funzione nella operatività Massonica. I rituali e i catechismi per le sorelle, tuttavia, furono redatti e concepiti meglio di quelle ad uso dei fratelli.

Alle sorelle non si parlava di Muratoria (Hiram), ma di Salomone e della regina di Saba affermando, che il re d’Israele introdusse nel Tempio (la iniziata) per istruirla ai misteri.

Dopo la morte di Cagliostro, l’insegnamento è stato assunto in eredità in Italia dal Rito di Misraim di Venezia che, nel 1945, riunito al Rito di Memphis, divenne:

L’ANTICO e PRIMITIVO RITO ORIENTALE di MISRAIM e MEMPHIS “Gran Santuario Adriatico il cui Sovrano Grande Gerofante Generale del tempo, Gastone Ventura, nel Solstizio d’Inverno lo risvegliò, con il nome di

RITO EGIZIO FEMMINILE d’ADOZIONE

Che da allora è sempre attivo e operante. Il Sovrano Grande Gerofante Generale è il vertice delle due linee iniziatiche, quella maschile (Riti Uniti di Misraim e Memphis) e quella femminile (Rito Egiziano Femminile d’Adozione).

Il “Gi” propone un Rito Egiziano femminile, che diversamente da molti altri casi, non è un rito “al ribasso”, ma un rito specifico, in quattro gradi, decisamente operativo, probabilmente uno dei più belli, dei più interessanti riti massonici femminili.

I rituali sono direttamente ispirati a quelli di Cagliostro. I principi che reggono il Rito sono quelli dell’iniziazione femminile di cui si trova traccia nel mondo antico, dove le vestali, sibille ed altre sacerdotesse conoscevano l’importanza del fuoco inestinguibile e della coppa divina, e la necessità della loro eterna protezione. Il rito Egiziano Femminile differisce dai Riti misti che danno la stessa iniziazione alle donne e agli uomini, appoggiandosi su di una falsa interpretazione del concetto di uguaglianza, esso considera che nel campo iniziatico, non è questione di uguaglianza o ineguaglianza tra due esseri, ciascuno, di fronte a tutta la manifestazione, possiede i propri valori, la propria dignità. La legge della manifestazione è la diversità che non spinge verso l’identico nel quale le diverse parti del tutto diventano una nella promiscuità, ma vuole che ciascuna parte sia sempre di sé stessa, esprimendo così il suo modo di essere. È questa specificità riconosciuta alla donna che dà al Rito Egiziano Femminile tutto il suo valore. Pertanto l’adozione del Rito Egiziano Femminile da parte dell’antico e Primitivo Rito Orientale di Misraim e Memphis non costituisce una subordinazione ma piuttosto il segno di un legame comune con l’Ordine Divino e l’Ordine Umano.

Anche l’Italia non è immune della presenza di altri rami del MISRAIM e MEMPHIS.

STORIA DEL RITO EGIZIANO FEMMINILE DI ADOZIONE

Il Nel mese di aprile 1789, dopo il suo soggiorno a Rovereto e a Trento, il Cagliostro, prima di prendere la strada per Roma, ove, otto mesi dopo, fu tratto in arresto dalla polizia vaticana, processato e condannato per eresia ed altro, si recò a Venezia, ove sin dal 1778 altre volte si era recato. In tale occasione, verosimilmente, Cagliostro affidò i rituali delle sue Logge femminili, dette "Androgene di Adozione" alla Potenza Assoluta del Rito di Misraim pro tempore, che, prevedendo per il futuro di operare con una linea femminile in sintonia con la linea maschile del Misraim che si basava sulla iniziazione Osiridea, aggiunse nel rituale di terzo grado femminile di Cagliostro una iniziazione specificamente Isiacca e, inoltre, adattò i rituali femminili, le cerimonie e i templi alle esigenze di armonia con i rituali maschili del Misraim, pur mantenendo, in linea di principio e di massima, significati ed idee valide di Cagliostro, nel rispetto della tradizione.

Il 17 giugno 1945, alla fine della seconda guerra mondiale, il Pot. F. Marco Egidio Allegri, che, oltre ad essere la Potenza Assoluta del Rito di Misraim di Venezia, era anche, dal 1923, Gran Conservatore ad vitam del Rito di Memphis di Palermo assonnatosi nel 1925 per le leggi fasciste, riunì i due Riti nei loro molteplici punti di contatto e fondò l'Antico e Primitivo Rito Orientale di Misraim e Memphis, costituendo il Sovrano Gran Santuario Adriatico allo Zenit di Venezia.

Il 21 dicembre 1971, il Sovrano Grande Hierophante Generale pro tempore, Gastone Ventura, rese attive le Logge Androgene di Adozione, organizzando a Bologna la Loggia Madre e Maestra Iside, consacrando tale risveglio con l'iniziazione e con l'installazione, in qualità di Gran Maestra Regina di Saba la Sorella A.C., già 9° grado del "le Droit Humaine" e S. I. dell'O. M.:-

Il 21 dicembre 1989 il Sovr. Gr. Hierophante Gen. pro tempore, S.C., constatato che le Logge androgene cominciavano ad affermarsi in Italia ed anche in alcune Nazioni dei due emisferi, organizzò le Logge androgene in un Rito, che chiamò "Rito Egiziano Femminile di Adozione". Tolle la parola "androgena", che spesso veniva equivocata con la parola "Mista", ed organizzò il Rito su quattro gradi iniziatici e due gradi amministrativi: il 1° grado per le sorelle Apprendiste Egiziane, il 2° grado per le Compagne Egiziane, il 3° grado per le Maestre Egiziane ed il 4° grado per le Maestre Perfette Egiziane. Il 5° grado amministrativo per le Grandi Maestre Nazionali ed il 6° grado amministrativo per la Gran Maestra Internazionale, la quale assumeva anche il titolo di "Regina di Saba" in ricordo del Cagliostro. Diede così una razionale organizzazione amministrativa, che prevede per ogni nazione una Gran Maestra che presiede una Loggia Madre e Maestra Nazionale alle cui dipendenze stanno le logge della nazione, e per i due emisferi una Gran Maestra "Regina di Saba, che presiede la Gran Loggia Madre e Maestra "ISIDE", composta da tutte le Grandi Maestre Nazionali e dalle sorelle del 4° grado, chiamate dal S. G. H. G. a farne parte.

Per l'Italia la Gran Maestra Regina di Saba è anche la Gran Maestra Nazionale Italiana. La sede della Ven. ma Grande Loggia Madre e Maestra "ISIDE" è idealmente allo Zenith di Venezia e realmente nella sede di residenza del S.G.H.G.

Il Rito femminile dipende dal Sovrano Grande Hierophante Generale, il quale delega alla Gran Maestra Regina di Saba alcuni suoi poteri amministrativi per una migliore organizzazione del Rito.

Il Rito Androgeno di Adozione è una linea prettamente femminile in quanto opera con rituali specificatamente congeniali alle qualificazioni femminili. I Lavori di tale Rito si svolgono in RR. Triangoli ed in RR. LL., che sono condotti e diretti dalle sorelle VV. MM..

Nei Lavori rituali è prevista la presenza di un Fratello, munito di un alto grado del Rito adottante, il quale, iniziaticamente, rappresenta il S. G. H. G.. Tale Fratello, oltre ad avere uno specifico compito rituale, garantisce la legittimità e la copertura iniziatica alla riunione nonché una indispensabile collaborazione alla Venerabile Maestra nelle iniziazioni.

Il Rito, che è incentrato sul mito biblico e sulla leggenda di Iside e di Osiride, opera per portare in luce nella donna le potenzialità, che, una volta scoperte, valorizza ed esalta agevolandone la realizzazione. Constatato che la donna è portata a vivere principalmente nel piano emozionale, la aiuta a dominare tale piano, spostando la sua attenzione al piano mentale e al piano spirituale.

E' bene chiarire i motivi della ADOZIONE.

Molti si chiedono : perché il Rito femminile non può operare inizialmente in modo indipendente, ma deve essere adottato da un Rito maschile . Per rispondere a tale domanda , bisogna prima, sia pure brevemente, ricordare che l'iniziazione femminile, nei tempi antichi, quando potere regale e potere sacerdotale, e, quindi, iniziazione regale ed ordinazione sacerdotale erano un tutt'uno accentrato nella persona del Faraone, le donne erano iniziate sacerdotesse dal Faraone o, per delega, dal Gran Sacerdote, ed assumevano dei compiti molto importanti nella estrinsecazione rituale del culto. Le donne , quindi, partecipavano attivamente ai misteri religiosi e, soprattutto, tradizionali. Purtroppo, l'iniziazione Femminile, dopo un lungo periodo di avversioni, si è perduta definitivamente allorché l'imperatore Teodosio (347 - 395 d.C.), sotto la pressione della nuova religione , soppresse l'Ordine delle Vestali e con esso tutti i culti cosiddetti pagani, pena la morte per coloro che li avessero operati. Da quel momento si sono aperte per le donne soltanto le porte dei conventi.

Dopo un brutto periodo di oscurantismo, nasce, intorno all'anno 1000, una corrente iniziatica conosciuta col nome di "cavalleria", la quale riesumò in maniera accettabile, dati i tempi, antichi miti in chiave cristianeggiante, come le leggende del Santo Graal e dei Cavalieri della Tavola Rotonda di Re Artù, nelle quali l'elemento femminile veniva posto al centro di un simbolismo che raffigurava la donna come forza vivificante e trasfigurante di grande valore, condizione indispensabile per la salvazione spirituale dell'umanità . E' noto che il Graal, indicato come calice nel quale Giuseppe d'Arimatea aveva raccolto il sangue di Gesù Crocifisso, simbolicamente rappresenta la Coppa, il Grembo, la Madre della Creazione, l'Eterno Femminino.

Nell'alto medioevo qualche sporadico tentativo di iniziazione femminile è stato tentato ma senza continuità . Vi sono tracce che attestano che le donne erano ammesse nelle Gilde degli Artigiani ed in qualche altra società esoterica. Comunque non è facile ricostruire la storia delle associazioni iniziatiche nelle quali l'essenzialità della Tradizione viene trasmessa oralmente e la cui esistenza appare soprattutto nella pubblicità negativa fatta dai detrattori. Non è neppure agevole ricostruire tale storia a causa delle ricorrenti persecuzioni da parte del potere politico e, ancora di più da parte del potere religioso in tutti gli Stati Europei, per cui le associazioni iniziatiche sono state spesso costrette a mimetizzarsi e a vivere in clandestinità . Nel tardo medioevo diviene ancora più difficile la ricostruzione storica della iniziazione femminile, che ha dovuto subire l'azione negativa dei detrattori della massoneria in genere e dei detrattori aderenti allo stesso Ordine massonico, contrari alla promiscuità dei due esseri nelle Logge.

Qualcosa appare in Francia, ove il seme della libertà ha prodotto qualche frutto più che altrove. Per registrare le prime realizzazioni in materia di iniziazione delle donne, bisogna arrivare alla seconda metà del XVIII° secolo e, poi, alla seconda metà del XIX secolo. Nel giugno 1774 il Grande Oriente di Francia autorizzò in via ufficiale "le Logge femminili di adozione" ponendole sotto la guida e la protezione dei Fratelli. In pratica non si trattava di logge femminili vere e proprie ma di tornate maschili alle quali potevano partecipare le donne. E' stato un tentativo di Rito Misto che è durato poco.

Altro tentativo, questo molto serio, è stato fatto intorno al 1776 da Cagliostro con il Rito Egiziano, linea maschile e linea femminile , cioè logge maschili e logge androgene di adozione. Tale esperimento cessò con la morte di Cagliostro avvenuta nel 1795 nell'infame prigione del castello di S.Leo in Romagna.

Ed ora, per chiarire in modo soddisfacente il significato dell'adozione, è necessario precisare le funzioni conseguenti alle qualificazioni femminili e le funzioni conseguenti alle qualificazioni maschili date da Dio ai due esseri sin dall'inizio.

A tale proposito, ci dice S.C. sul libro "La scienza Ermetica" che la Tradizione ci insegna che la manifestazione è diversificata in parti complementari ma disuguali, le quali, appunto perché disuguali si armonizzano fra di loro. La legge della manifestazione è la diversità , possiamo affermare che la diversità non spinge verso l'identico in cui le varie parti divengano promiscuamente uno, ma vuole che tali parti siano sempre più stesse per potere esprimere sempre più perfettamente il proprio modo di essere.

Le varie parti del Tutto esprimono qualificazioni e funzioni diverse che debbono sempre più essere affermate e realizzate. Così, in riguardo ai sessi, maschio e femmina si presentano come due tipi e chi nasce maschio deve compiersi come maschio e chi nasce femmina deve compiersi come femmina. Ugualmente, in relazione alla direzione verso il sovrannaturale, maschio e femmina devono avere ciascuno la propria Via che non può essere mutata senza incorrere in un modo di essere contraddittorio.

Dopo avere constatato che l'Uguaglianza è soltanto una utopia irrealizzabile sulla terra, parlando dell'essere maschio e dell'essere femmina non diremo che fra di loro c'è uguaglianza, diremo che tra di loro c'è Pari Dignità in funzioni diverse e comprenderemo allora che ciascuno dei due esseri complementari deve affermare e realizzare sempre di più le proprie innate qualificazioni. Da ciò risalta la necessità che la via iniziatica fra i due esseri non potrà mai essere uguale, essa dovrà essere simile con rituali e significati diversi.

Occorre che esse nascano e si sviluppino nello stesso contenitore, esse dovranno essere legate nella forza eggregorica a cui danno origine. Pertanto l'Iniziazione Femminile non potrà essere uguale a quella maschile. Essa potrà essere simile nel metodo, cioè deve essere simbolica ed ermetica e dovrà procedere secondo il VITRIOL e la conseguente purificazione.

L'A. e P. Rito Orientale di Misraim e Memphis è il Sovrano Gran Santuario Adriatico, seguendo la linea adottata dal Rito di Misraim di Venezia dal quale proviene, lavora su due linee, una Maschile ed una Femminile.

I rituali del Rito Egiziano Femminile privilegiano nel primo e nel secondo grado il mito dell'origine e della caduta ed in particolare il mito di Eva, con una iniziazione al terzo grado che scopre per la donna il massimo delle sue qualificazioni ed al quarto grado fa della donna il ponte tra il mondo fisico ed il mondo metafisico, dandole la possibilità di esaltare le proprie qualificazioni intuitive per fare assurgere al livello della consapevolezza il mistero della sua profonda spiritualità.

Gli ultimi decenni del XIX secolo videro la nascita in Francia di una massoneria mistica, nella quale trovavano accoglienza le donne, segnando così un ulteriore strappo con la tradizione seguita dalla massoneria inglese e nel mondo anglosassone.

Infatti, il 14 gennaio 1882 presso la loggia Les Libres Penseurs du Pecq, staccatasi dalla poco nata Gran Loggia Simbolica Scozzese e resasi indipendente, fu iniziata Maria Deraismes (a sinistra), scrittrice femminista e militante di punta del movimento di emancipazione femminile. Nel 1893, a opera della Deraismes e di Georges Martin, altre donne furono iniziate e venne data vita alla loggia del Diritto Umano, la quale si diffuse negli anni seguenti fino a costituire una nuova organizzazione massonica, la Gran Loggia Simbolica Scozzese Il Diritto Umano, che accoglieva uomini e donne e adottava i rituali del R.S.A.A..

Chi ha più paura?

Se le donne hanno paura della Massoneria, più ancora la Massoneria ha paura delle donne, scriveva nel 1869 il francese Léon Richer sul giornale massonico La morale indipendente.

Non è certa la data della prima costituzione di una loggia massonica tutta al femminile anche se i meriti di averne ospitata una nel 1901 è documentata, spetta alla terra di Francia.

Nell'Italia settecentesca, per prima fu introdotta la massoneria semplice inglese e precisamente in città con nuclei di residenti inglesi, come a Firenze e Roma, dove il fenomeno fu piuttosto spasmodico e non durevole. Nei porti principali, come Palermo, Genova e Livorno furono importati anche vari sistemi francesi, mentre non deve essere sottovalutato il ruolo che i reggimenti mercenari stranieri ebbero nella diffusione in determinate zone italiane.

Nel Regno di Napoli, lo sviluppo della massoneria settecentesca fu notevole; Napoli, la più grande città del mondo conosciuto, era famosissima in tutta Europa per il suo elevato livello culturale ed intellettuale. Tra le varie Gran Loggie Nazionali che fiorirono ricordiamo quella del Principe di San Severo: Raimondo di Sangro, noto scienziato ed alchimista; La Gran Loggia Provinciale olandese; La Gran Loggia Provinciale Inglese;

Nel 1773 fu creata una Gran Loggia Nazionale, sotto la guida di Francesco Dâ€™Maquino, Principe Di Caramanico, e protetta dalla Regina MARIA CAROLINA, figlia di Maria Teresa dâ€™Austria, la quale anche essa faceva parte di una loggia femminile â€œSaint Jean du Secret e de la parfait AmitiÃˆâ€. La massoneria era talmente presente che, quando la nota attrice Bernasconi, durante una recita nel teatro San Carlo, fece dei segni massonici, ci fu unâ€™applauso assordante.

Le Massonerie italiane, conservano e si richiamano tuttâ€™oggi agli â€œStatuti Generali Della Societaâ€™ Dei Liberi Muratori Del Rito Scozzese Antico E Accettato, Pubblicati In Napoli Nel 1820 E.V.â€•

Gli Statuti, riportano nellâ€™Art. 01 â€œLâ€™Ordine dei Liberi Muratori appartiene alla classe degli ordini cavallereschi: ha come per fine il perfezionamento degli uominiâ€•

Questi Statuti Generali non escludono esplicitamente la donna dalla Libera Muratoria. CiÃ² fa presumere che nel Napoletano e in Sicilia vivessero delle donne che, almeno collateralmente, partecipavano a lavori muratori. La Loggia, organizzata secondo la lettera e lo spirito di questi Statuti dovrebbe essere pronta ad accogliere la donna che nella vita civile ha ormai raggiunto lâ€™uguaglianza quasi completa con lâ€™uomo.

Anche nella prima loggia inglese fondata a Firenze nel 1732 câ€™erano delle donne fra cui una non meglio identificata â€œMadama Suarezâ€. I massoni della loggia fiorentina, fra cui si annoverano alcuni libertini ed atei, lottano contro i pregiudizi, contro la intolleranza religiosa e per una maggiore libertÃˆ intellettuale.

Unâ€™ulteriore pronunciamento ufficiale dalla Massoneria â€œregolareâ€, si ebbe nei primi del â€™900.

La Gran Loggia Riunita dâ€™Inghilterra nel 1929, le tre Grandi Logge Britanniche nel 1938 ed infine le Grandi Logge degli Stati Uniti nel 1952, adottarono sette regole internazionali per il riconoscimento. Riportiamo il secondo:

2.â€•Lâ€™appartenenza alla massoneria deve essere limitata esclusivamente a uomini; sono interdette le relazioni massoniche di qualsiasi genere, con logge miste o con congregazioni che accettano donne come membri.â€•

PerchÃ©, negli anni che vanno dal 1929 al 1952, venne affermato chiaramente che le donne erano escluse dai Templi? Quando le condizioni socio-politiche della donna in Europa sono mutate.

Regola adottata universalmente, poco chiara, perchÃ© le Grandi Logge degli Stati Uniti adottano un metodo diverso. Infatti, esse sono in rapporti di amicizia, promuovono e proteggono lâ€™Order Of The Eastern Starâ€, costituito nel 1850 e codificata definitivamente nella forma attuale nel 1876.

Dallâ€™Europa al nuovo continente

Occorre, infine, ricordare gli ordini paramassonici. Del tutto scomparsa la â€œmassoneria dâ€™adozioneâ€ del XVIIIÂ° secolo, nonostante alcune reviviscenze in Francia (presso la Grande Loggia furono attive â€œlogge dâ€™adozioneâ€ fino al 1952) e in Italia (dove pure per un quindicennio, dopo il 1859, ne furono attive alcune), nel 1850 fu fondato a New York da Robert Morris lâ€™Order of Eastern Star (Ordine della Stella dâ€™Oriente) che, riorganizzato nel 1876 e riservato alle donne mogli o parenti di massoni, si Ãˆ da allora esteso in tutto il mondo massonico. Strutturato sulla base di Capitoli e amministrato da un Gran Capitolo Generale, possiede propri rituali distinti da quelli muratori.

Nel 1872, sempre negli Stati Uniti, fu fondato l'Antico Ordine Arabo dei Nobili del Mistico Santuario), soprattutto dedito alla beneficenza, cui sono ammessi i titolari del 32° grado del Rito Scozzese Antico e Accettato e i Knights Templar del Rito di York.

Esso è l'unico ordine riconosciuto dalla Massoneria regolare che si collega agli USA, che inizi donne legate da stretta parentela con Maestri Massoni, nonché Fratelli Massoni che abbiano conseguito il grado di Maestro.

Tali organismi affiancano la Massoneria regolare e ad esse si ispirano, sia pure con un proprio Rituale ed una propria iniziazione.

In Italia l'Ordine della Stella Orientale, arriva molto tardi. Il primo capitolo è stato costituito nel 1966- non sotto il G.O.I.-, e i vari Capitolo oggi presenti, si chiamano subordinati e sono alla diretta dipendenza del Grande Capitolo Generale di Washington il quale è retto dalla Most Worthy Gran Matron e dal Most Worthy Gran Patron quali supreme autorità dell'Ordine.

Le finalità dell'O.E.S. sono quelle massoniche, realizzate per con riti e simbologia propria. L'Ordine ha una sua propria iniziazione che si propone di affiancare nel campo Profano la Massoneria Universale condividendone gli Ideali e le finalità di perfezionamento spirituale e sociale per il congiungimento di una società fondata sulla verità e l'amore, nella quale siano abolite l'ingiustizia, l'ignoranza, la miseria ed ogni forma di discriminazione.

Per quanto riguarda la parte iniziatica questa si impernia sulla simbologia della Stella a cinque punte, di cinque diversi colori, con cinque figure di donne eroiche, tratti dai libri sacri e dalla storia. Essendo un rito androgino esso determina una fratellanza armonica, una problematica vasta e completa, ma assolutamente reale poiché formata, come la società tutta, di uomini e di donne.

Cosa scrissero negli anni le protagoniste:

L'Ordine, tutt'altro che nuovo nel mondo è stato infatti fondato nel 1850 in America e peraltro nuovo in Italia ove ragioni storiche e sociali ne hanno ritardato l'introduzione e la diffusione sino ai nostri giorni. Perciò si può ben dire che le Stelle dell'Oriente non hanno maestri e debbono educarsi da sole principalmente sulla base delle norme, quasi esclusivamente regolamentari, fornite dal Gran Capitolo Americano.

Particolarmente ben accettati dunque sono stati i Consigli del Gran Maestro (Salvini), che rispondendo ai numerosi quesiti postigli ha spianato i primi ostacoli di questa non facile via iniziatica. Innanzitutto egli ha voluto segnalare l'errore in cui è facile incorrere, e cioè quello di credere che l'Ordine sia essenzialmente femminile.

Fermo restando il carattere strettamente solare dell'iniziazione massonica, riservata quindi a soli uomini, non bisogna disconoscere per non negare l'evidenza l'importanza della donna quale opposto e complementare dell'uomo. Essa segue la via umida, quella lunare; al contrario del Sole, la Luna non irradia luce propria, ma senza il suo chiarore che è riflesso di quello solare, le più profonde tenebre coprirebbero la Terra nelle ore notturne.

Dall'incontro degli opposti, nasce l'equilibrio e l'armonia di tutto ciò che esiste; senza il due, l'uno non creerebbe il tre, simbolo di perfezione; uomo o donna si completano a vicenda, il simbolo del loro complemento è dato dall'Androgino, la mitica creatura perfetta.

Senza andare oltre in un simbolismo che continuamente richiama l'attenzione su di una incontrovertibile realtà, si può dire che la via solare seguita dal Massone doveva essere completata da un cammino accessibile alla sua compagna, non facile, ma pratico, che consentisse la proiezione degli ideali massonici fuori ed oltre il chiuso delle Logge.

Il Gran Maestro del G.O.I., Giordano Gamberini ne favorì il rafforzamento, facilitò la nascita di gruppi femminili a Roma, Livorno, Milano, Napoli, Trieste e li affidò al dinamismo e alla capacità organizzativa di Marisa Bettoia, madre dell'attrice Franca.

Come riportava la notizia la rivista del tempo del G.O.I.:

" Il Capitolo "Minerva" di Roma, dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente, finora avente operato sotto decreto, ha ricevuto la Charter definitiva, recatagli solennemente dal G.P. Robert Lybrook Clark e dalla G.M. Ella Mae Parker Stokes, di Washington.

Alla presenza del Gran Maestro del G.O. d'Italia (Lino Salvini) e del delegato per l'Italia dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente Fr. Bob de Brujn, hanno poi proceduto alla installazione dei dignitari del Cap. Minerva, M.W. Marisa Bettoia e W.P. Riccardo Colasanti.

Alla cerimonia assistevano numerose delegazioni straniere, il G.M. Onorario Acrisio Bianchini, il Gr. Segretario Giuseppe Tellaro e il G. Oratore Aggiunto Elvio Sciubba"

"Il Capitolo "Minerva" di Roma della Stella d'Oriente ha installato - alla presenza del G.M. (Lino Salvini) e dell'ex G.M. (Giordano Gamberini) del G.O. d'Italia - i dignitari del nuovo Capitolo "Sirio" di Pesaro, W.M. Giusi Brillì Cattarini Ew.p. Antonio Jorio".

Parlano di sé, dei loro esordi nelle Logge venete e di recente, la delegata per l'Italia della Direzione dell'Ordine, la Dr.ssa ELDA LEVI, ha risposto a delle domande pubblicate su Firenze Magazine di Maggio 2001.

Riportiamo quasi per intero l'intervista.

D - "Qual è il rapporto con la massoneria maschile? E inoltre, vi potete definire "massoneria"?"

R - " Il nostro è un rito che affianca la massoneria, ne condivide i fini e accoglie, oltre ai fratelli, anche delle sorelle".

D - Ma sono di più le donne o gli uomini?

" La maggioranza è di donne, proprio perché gli uomini hanno altre, più differenziate opportunità di partecipare a gruppi nell'ambito massonico. Per le donne ce ne sono di meno, quindi scelgono con l'Ordine una delle poche che hanno. E che offre loro - in sostanza - le stesse opportunità sia di approfondimenti e di studi esoterici che di iniziative verso l'esterno, sia culturali che assistenziali".

D - Quante sono, più o meno, in Italia le donne che appartengono all'Ordine?

R - "I membri della Stella d'Oriente - uomini e donne - sono intorno ai cinquecento"

D - Quindi, una persona qualsiasi non può far parte dell'Ordine.

R - "Allo stato attuale no. Ma come tutti gli statuti, anche i nostri possono essere cambiati."

Organizzazione "para-massonica", collegata alla massoneria "vera" (?), è stata più volte nell'ultimo decennio "strumentalizzata" dai Fratellini, con il dire che presto c'era la possibilità di dialogare alla pari con le sorelle. Probabilmente, si era in attesa che dalla sede principale dell'ordine che è a Washington, venissero indicazioni o si cambiassero gli Statuti per fare entrare le donne non parenti di massoni nei Capitoli, come stabilito nei regolamenti.

Le Stelle d'Oriente, è oggi una delle più grandi organizzazioni fraterne al mondo, ove lavorano uomini e donne iniziate, oramai vecchia di 150 anni, che collabora fattivamente accanto alla più grande e potente organizzazione massonica maschile.

Si legge negli Statuti e Regolamenti dell'Ordine, pubblicati in Italia Art. 4 - Principi e finalità.

"Il Grande Oriente d'Italia, fatti propri gli Antichi Doveri, persegue la ricerca della verità ed il perfezionamento dell'Uomo e dell'Umana Famiglia; opera per estendere a tutti gli uomini i legami d'amore che uniscono i Fratelli; propugna la tolleranza, il rispetto di sé e degli altri, la libertà di coscienza e di pensiero. Presta la dovuta obbedienza e la scrupolosa osservanza alla Carta Costituzionale dello Stato democratico italiano ed alle Leggi che ad essa si ispirino. (Gran Loggia del 19-20 Marzo 1994)"

"Quella unione di uomini saggi e virtuosi, che, con allegorico significato, si appella ordinariamente "Società dei Liberi Muratori" è stata in ogni tempo considerata come il santuario dei buoni costumi, la scuola delle virtù, il tempio della filantropia. Essa ha per principio la esistenza di un Dio, che adora e rispetta sotto la formula di GRANDE ARCHITETTO DELL' UNIVERSO: ha per fine il perfezionamento del cuore umano; e si propone, qual mezzo necessario per ottenere questo fine, l'esercizio e la pratica della virtù. La società dei Liberi Muratori è di sua natura eminentemente umanitaria, ed è incessantemente occupata ad erigere e fabbricare templi alla virtù e scavare oscure prigioni al vizio".

DEI LIBERI MURATORI

"11. Se il fine della Istituzione è il perfezionamento dell'Uomo, è indispensabile che il Libero Muratore pratichi la vera morale, che suppone la cognizione e l'esercizio dei doveri e dei diritti dell'uomo.

Egli deve essere quindi giusto, umano, sincero, benefico verso ogni specie di persone e soprattutto buon padre, buon figlio, buon fratello, buon marito, buon cittadino."

Le direttive del Grande Oriente d'Italia sono:

Il Grande Oriente d'Italia - Palazzo Giustiniani - è sempre disposto a prendere in considerazione il riconoscimento di quelle Grandi Logge che professano e praticano, liberamente e con pieno convincimento, i Principi fondamentali della Libera Muratoria e che possono dimostrare che le Logge di loro dipendenza, ed i membri che la compongono, li hanno praticati con coerenza. Il Grande Oriente d'Italia ritiene che questi Principi siano i seguenti:

3 Nessun membro della Gran Loggia o delle Logge che la compongono può avere rapporti massonici con associazioni massoniche irregolari o con Logge miste o con Corpi che ammettono donne.

4 La Gran Loggia deve accettare come membri soltanto uomini, di buoni costumi, che esprimono un credere nell'Essere Supremo.

(documento approvato nella Gran Loggia del 20 marzo 1994, dopo la bufera giudiziaria del 1993, conclusasi con la sentenza di archiviazione nel 2003).

Cosa ne pensa il grande vecchio, già Gran Maestro Aggiunto del G.O.I. negli anni della crisi che vanno dal 1985 al 1993, il Potentissimo Fr. ETTORE LOIZZO 3,33° grado del R.S.A.A., in un recente libro risponde:

"D-Donne e Massoneria, un capitolo interessante, ma poco conosciuto della Istituzione. R-Non un ruolo delle donne in Massoneria. Almeno nella nostra Obbedienza. La rispettiamo, certamente, ma niente di più. Cento anni fa, gli americani (che hanno molta fantasia in tutte le cose) hanno creato un corpo parallelo a quello degli uomini, denominato "Stelle d'Oriente", con un proprio rituale, limitato alle sorelle, alle mogli, alle figlie e alle nipoti in via diretta di massoni.

Va chiarito che non si tratta di un problema di supremazia, ma esclusivamente di tradizione e di rito. Noi siamo cultori del rito solare che, come noto, non prevede l'utilizzazione delle donne.

Altre istituzioni, invece, le accettano regolarmente. Piazza del Gesù¹, per esempio, lo fa. Noi no. Non possiamo. Pur sapendo e riconoscendo che le donne fanno un figurone sui problemi esoterici e culturali che riguardano la Massoneria. Con loro abbiamo ottimi rapporti, ma non possiamo ammetterle ai nostri lavori.â€•

Si sa il pensiero del Gran Maestro Raffi a Trieste il 27.9.02 per l'apertura della nuova Casa Massonica ha detto:â€• So che in Italia si contano delle obbedienze femminili, e piÃ¹ di una, ma il GOI non ne ammette: le organizzazioni paramassoniche, come l'Ordine delle Stelle d'Oriente, trovano ospitalitÃ , ma non nelle frequentazioni rituali. Del resto quando arrivano dei 'transfughi' da altre obbedienze cui le donne sono ammesse, si percepisce in loro una certa insofferenza. Sulla questione c'Ã¨ qualche similitudine con quanto accade nella Chiesa: di fermento ce n'Ã¨ moltoâ€•

La tolleranza alle novitÃ , dei vertici del Grande Oriente, diventa rispetto delle regole, dopo la partecipazione di unâ€™illustre il fratello Mariano Bianca a una conferenza con un Gruppo Massonico Femminile. Alleghiamo il documento.

L'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente Ã¨ la piÃ¹ grande organizzazione fraterna del mondo, alla quale possono aderire sia uomini che donne. Ne possono farne parte uomini che siano Maestri Liberi Muratori e donne a loro legate da specifiche relazioni parentali.

L'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente (Order of the Eastern Star - O.E.S.) nacque negli Stati Uniti d'America dalla trasformazione, voluta dai Liberi Muratori Americani, delle Logge d'Adozione in un Ordine misto che escludesse qualunque pratica irregolare di co-Muratoria o di Muratoria mista, mantenendo perÃ² gli scopi caritatevoli e beneficenti a proprio fondamento e in collaborazione o a supporto delle analoghe azioni della Muratoria regolare.

L'Ordine venne fondato da Rob Morris, una singolare figura di Massone, insegnante e direttore didattico prima, scrittore (fu poeta laureato della Massoneria) ed organizzatore massonico a tempo pieno poi.

Egli era pervenuto al convincimento che le donne imparentate a Maestri Massoni avrebbero potuto partecipare in certa misura ai benefici derivanti dalla conoscenza di questo grande e fraterno Ordine.

Insieme alla moglie Charlotte Mendenhall, alla quale rimase unito da un amore durato oltre cinquant'anni, lavorÃ² allo sviluppo dell'idea dell'Ordine invitando i Fratelli Massoni e le loro mogli a discuterne i principi.

Nel 1850 sistemÃ² l'idea dei gradi, diede loro forme e analogie, decise che ad ogni grado fosse abbinato un tema preso dalle pagine dell'antichitÃ e che a ciascuno di essi fosse abbinata un'eroina - tre tratte dal Vecchio Testamento e due dal Nuovo.

Le finalitÃ dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente sono quelle della Massoneria Universale, realizzate perÃ² con Riti e simbologie proprie.

Le Stelle d'Oriente hanno una loro iniziazione ed operano secondo un loro rituale. La loro Ã¨ una scuola iniziatica (di tipo lunare) che si propone di fiancheggiare la Massoneria condividendone gli ideali di LibertÃ , di Fratellanza e di Uguaglianza e lo scopo di perseguire un progresso spirituale e sociale per pervenire, o perlomeno tentare di pervenire, ad una societÃ migliore fondata sull'amore e sulla veritÃ , nella quale siano aboliti l'ingiustizia, l'ignoranza e la discriminazione.

Il simbolismo dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente Ã¨ appunto incentrato intorno all'astro rappresentato come pentalfa rovesciato e nelle cui punte sono rappresentate figure simboliche. Ognuna di queste figure Ã¨ a sua volta emblematica di un personaggio tratto o rielaborato - come abbiamo visto - dall'Antico e dal Nuovo Testamento.

L'identificazione simbolica con le cinque punte e quindi con le cinque figure femminili porta a divenire protagonisti del labirinto della vita. Tutto diviene finalizzato alla esaltazione di virtÃ¹ quali la fedeltÃ , la perseveranza, la purezza, la speranza e lo zelo spirituale rispettivamente modulate dalle condizioni muliebri di figlia, vedova, moglie, sorella o madre, come appunto i personaggi precedentemente citati.

La Stella Fiammeggiante rovesciata, simbolo delle Stelle d'Oriente, Ã" stata piÃ¹ volte oggetto di contestazioni da parte di diverse Organizzazioni massoniche femminili in quanto espressione simbolica, secondo un ottica puramente maschile, della donna intesa come male e quindi rappresentata con la testa poggiata per terra e le gambe per aria. Sempre secondo i detrattori, un altro grave limite dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente sarebbe quello di aver vicino in ogni carica femminile una corrispondente carica maschile e il divieto per le donne di iniziare. L'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente, al di lÃ dell'aspetto iniziatico, va considerato inoltre una associazione attiva nell'ambito dell'istruzione (borse di studio), della ricerca (sul cancro, sulle malattie cardio-vascolari) e dell'assistenza (volontariato di vario tipo).

L'Ordine Ã" organizzato per Capitoli, governati da Gran Capitoli Nazionali, che si riuniscono in Assemblea Triennale legislativa condotta e diretta dal Gran Capitolo Generale. In quei Paesi nei quali non Ã" possibile o non Ã" conveniente stabilire un denominato "Aldebaran", con funzione programmatica e di collegamento. Il luogo in cui opera il Capitolo si chiama Clima, ed i quattro lati della loggia sono denominati regioni. Nel Quadro del Capitolo sono rappresentati segni zodiacali e cabalistici. La parte iniziatica si impernia sulla simbologia della Stella a cinque punte, ognuna di colore diverso e con figure di donne eroiche, rilevate dai libri sacri e dalla storia. Questa sostituisce il Delta luminoso della Loggia maschile. Ma la simbologia dell'Ordine Ã" ampia e con implicazioni eterne ed universali, con riferimenti a tutte le religioni, a tutte le virtÃ¹ morali ed a tutte le condizioni umane. Sono simboli di lealtÃ , fraternitÃ , rettitudine ed amore, simboli positivi ed attivi che guidano verso la VeritÃ e la Luce, sempre col sostegno della Ragione, ed in continuo impegno di SolidarietÃ fraterna. Essendo un rito androgino, esso determina una fratellanza armonica, una problematica vasta e completa, ma assolutamente reale, poichÃ© formata, come lâ€™intera societÃ umana, da esseri dei due sessi. FinalitÃ , ritualitÃ , simbologia ed organizzazione sono oggetto di ampia trattazione in un dotto volume del Fratello Sebastiani, nonchÃ© in articoli della Sorella Caliterna.

In Italia sono attualmente attivi 15 Capitoli:

- Capitolo MEDITERRANEO n. 1 - Napoli;
- Capitolo MINERVA n. 3 - Roma;
- Capitolo F. DE CAROLIS n. 5 - Cosenza;
- Capitolo SIRIO n. 6 - Roma;
- Capitolo CISALPINO n. 7 - Torino;
- Capitolo TRINACRIA n. 8 - Palermo;
- Capitolo BEATRICE n. 9 - Firenze;
- Capitolo ISIDE n. 10 - Perugia;

qualitÃ di una Loggia di Maestri Muratori come riconosciuta dalla FraternitÃ Muratoria, quanto a regolaritÃ e legittimitÃ . Questa reciproca autonomia fa sÃ che l'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente accetti, in tutto il mondo, solo Maestri Muratori Membri di Logge subordinate a Grandi Logge di riconosciuta regolaritÃ e legittimitÃ . PoichÃ© in tutto il mondo i Membri dei Capitoli dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente sono ammessi presso le sedi Muratorie, essi sono tenuti all'obbligo della riservatezza.

L'Ordine ha stabilito come condizioni fondamentali per l'ammissione:

- La fede nell'esistenza dell'Essere Supremo;
- Per gli uomini, che siano stati installati nel grado di Maestro Muratore presso una Loggia Regolare e si trovino a piÃ© di lista di una Loggia Regolare;
- Per le donne, che si trovino in condizioni di parentela stretta con il Maestro Muratore installato nel grado presso una Loggia Regolare e a piÃ© di lista di una Loggia Regolare, ove per parentela stretta si deve intendere moglie, figlia, figlia legalmente adottata, madre, vedova, sorella, nipote, matrigna, figliastra, sorellastra, nonna, pronipote; ognuna, nelle condizioni suddette, che abbia compiuto i diciotto anni puÃ² essere eletta Membro dell'Ordine.

Esso Ã" perciÃ² un Ordine i cui Membri si trovano in relazione con la Libera Muratoria.

L'Uomo che si trovi a perdere la presenza a piÃ© di lista di una Loggia-Regolare, viene escluso dall'Ordine; la donna che perda il legame parentale per qualunque causa, una volta ammessa, non puÃ² piÃ¹ essere esclusa dall'Ordine.

L'ordine della Stella d'Oriente ha come scopo le attivitÃ beneficenti e caritatevoli, sia verso i propri Membri, sia verso l'esterno; le sue attivitÃ beneficenti e caritatevoli possono o meno essere svolte in collaborazione con le analoghe attività svolte dai Liberi Muratori. Più ampiamente, gli scopi dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente sono:

- Fraternali, cioè rivolti ai legami di sorellanza e di fraternità che si creano tra i suoi Membri;
- Educativi, cioè rivolti alla promozione dello sviluppo etico, personale e sociale, dei propri Membri, oltre che al sostegno della crescita educativa dell'intera società;
- Scientifici, cioè diretti al sostegno della ricerca scientifica e culturale in generale a beneficio della collettività, oltre che della promozione culturale dei Membri;
- Caritatevoli a beneficio di tutta l'umanità bisognosa.

In questo senso, l'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente versa ogni anno delle somme ingenti a sostegno di numerose iniziative, scientifiche, come la ricerca sui tumori, educative, come assegni di studio universitari per studenti meritevoli ma privi di mezzi, beneficenti, come il totale sostegno di scuole per bambini dislessici. Ogni anno, l'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente raccoglie tra i propri Membri, e distribuisce a favore di iniziative di questo tipo, autonomamente o in collaborazione con le Grandi Logge del mondo, molti miliardi.

L'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente trova tutte le proprie ispirazioni e basa tutti i propri insegnamenti, su un solo Libro che considera Sacro, la Bibbia.

Su di essa si basano le lezioni rituali fondamentali che sono impartite ai Membri nel corso della loro appartenenza all'Ordine; su di essa ogni Membro è costantemente invitato a riflettere.

Come dice il Regolamento dell'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente, "I precetti della Sacra Scrittura guidino e governino la condotta dei Membri di quest'Ordine".

Pertanto, le lezioni dell'Ordine sono esclusivamente scritturali ed i suoi insegnamenti esclusivamente morali. L'Ordine della Stella d'Oriente lavora sia informalmente che Ritualmente. Il suo Rituale, dotato di un ricco simbolismo di provenienza Biblica ricorda a tutti gli Ufficiali i propri compiti, rammenta a tutti i Membri i propri doveri e invoca l'assistenza e l'aiuto dell'Altissimo per tutti i Membri e per l'Ordine in generale; nel corso delle cerimonie di iniziazione, trasmette ai nuovi Membri le lezioni scritturali fondamentali dell'Ordine, insegna ad interpretarne il simbolismo e richiede l'assunzione di una Obbligazione perpetua sull'Onore. Tale Obbligazione è relativa alla riservatezza sui contenuti dei lavori, sull'appartenenza e sui modi di riconoscimento; oltre che alla difesa dei principi dell'ordine, alla partecipazione alle sue attività e all'obbedienza alle sue leggi e regolamenti.

Usciamo fuori con coraggio, per denunciare che il Grande Oriente d'Italia non si è mai aperto per paura di un attacco del Grande Leone Dormiente, in realtà per quest'ultimo, è sempre attento, vigile e affamato e coglie ogni occasione per aggredire.

Nelle pubblicazioni Inglesi delle "Antiche Costituzioni" del 1723 all'art. 1 si ribadisce: "Io vi esorto ad onorare Dio nella sua Santa Chiesa, a non abbandonarvi all'eresia, allo scisma, all'errore, nei vostri pensieri o seguendo l'insegnamento di uomini senza credito".

Il Grande Oriente d'Italia esclude perentoriamente qualsiasi iniziazione femminile al proprio interno.

Ricordate, nei momenti di persecuzione storica e nei momenti della ricostruzione post-bellica, i fratellini si ricordano delle sorelline.

Un esempio eclatante, l'apertura del futuro Gran Maestro del GOI in esilio, Alessandro Tedeschi, nel 1919.

SVILUPPARE!!!!!!

Non tutti i Liberi Muratori condividono l'apertura alle donne che è, semmai, da porsi su un piano 'esoterico', non certo della cronaca i cui interpreti sono, quasi sempre, estranei alla lettura delle antiche norme delle corporazioni di mestiere delle quali spesso sconoscono pure l'esistenza!

Di recente il Gran Maestro L'Avv. Gustavo Raffi, ha risposto: "che il problema dovrà essere risolto a livello internazionale".

La Gran Loggia Unita Inglese (UGLE), il 10 marzo del 1999, prende ufficialmente le â€œdistanzeâ€• e chiarisce definitivamente il modo di comportarsi delle Grandi Logge â€œregolariâ€• con l'organizzazione internazionale americana delle STELLE D'ORIENTE (Order of the Eastern Star). La inserisce tra i "corpi che interferiscono" con la massoneria, e fa notare che la partecipazione dei fratelli massoni "regolari" alle loro cerimonie Ã¨ incompatibile. In effetti, un massone che fa parte di una Gran Loggia regolare, viola non solo le direttive internazionali, ma anche i Landmark. Ricordiamo che non solo i Profani o le organizzazioni "irregolari", tra le quali anche le Stelle d'Oriente, non possono lavorare nei templi massonici, dove lavorano gli uomini, e non possono neanche condividere i Templi.

E' il definitivo chiarimento alle "sette regole internazionali per il riconoscimento" deliberate nel lontano 1929 e accettate universalmente nel 1952.

In casa, gli inglesi, come si comportano?

In Inghilterra esistono associazioni iniziatiche squisitamente femminili che usano vari rituali, ad esempio, sull'Arte della tessitura. Altre Obbedienze esclusivamente femminili, adottano integralmente i rituali dei fratelli, come â€œL'Order of Women Freemasonsâ€• che Ã¨ un'organizzazione massonica femminile molto presente e che conta oggi piÃ¹ di 300 logge. Sono state censite almeno due Gran Logge Femminili dalla United Grand Lodge of England, in Inghilterra e nel Galles e vengono definite "corpi d'imitazione":

THE HONOURABLE FRATERNITY OF ANCIENT FREEMASONS
68, GREAT CUMBERLAND PLACE, LONDON W1H7FD;
THE ORDER OF WOMEN'S FREEMASONS
27 PEMBRIDGE GARDENS, LONDON W24EF.

Non sono in rapporti ufficiali con la massoneria regolare, ma sono stimate, e da tempo esistono delle discussioni informali su tematiche di interesse comuni.

Nonostante i Landmarks, divieti imposti e reiterati, la massoneria â€œregolareâ€• non ha evitato la presenza della donna nell'ambiente massonico o para-massonico, realtÃ sviluppatesi in Italia e in tutta l'Europa tra l'Ottocento e i primi del Novecento, erede anche di una pratica associativa (segreta), quella della Carboneria, della Giovine Europa e con Mazzini che si occupÃ² in particolare della filiale italiana, la Giovine Italia. La setta dei Carbonari, aveva una formazione di donne, denominate Giardinieri, fra le figure di spicco indichiamo la Confalonieri, la Belgioioso, la Bianca Milesi.

Cristina di Belgioioso

Nata a Milano nel 1808 dalla nobile famiglia Trivulzio, sposÃ² nel 1824 il principe Emilio Barbiano di Belgioioso, dal quale presto si separÃ² tenendo con sÃ© la figlia Maria. Educata all'arte, agli interessi sociali, all'attenzione per la condizione femminile da Bianca Milesi, cospirÃ² contro l'Austria per cui dovette fuggire a Parigi, qui fondÃ² un salotto intellettuale e politico tra i piÃ¹ prestigiosi e si dedicÃ² alla diffusione della sua ideologia, in dimestichezza con Mamiani, Massari, Gioberti, Ferrari e dando vita a due importanti periodici, â€œLa Gazzetta Italianaâ€• e â€œL'Ausonioâ€•, ove accanto a scritti del Manzoni e del Vico diffuse notizie sulla realtÃ sociale della Lombardia. Nel 1842-46, nel suo feudo di Locate, si adoperÃ² per creare istituzioni sansimoniane in favore delle donne del luogo. La rivoluzione del '48 la sorprese a Napoli, ma animosamente noleggiando un vapore e organizzando un corpo di armati, si portÃ² a Milano, dove si adoperÃ² perchÃ© casa Savoia accettasse un programma di profonde riforme. Nel 1849 fu incaricata da Mazzini di provvedere all'organizzazione della sanitÃ nella difesa della Repubblica Romana ed ebbe accanto Margaret Fuller Ossoli e Giulia Modena. Caduta Roma, prese la strada dell'esilio e fu a Malta, in Grecia, in Turchia, in Medio Oriente. Gli ultimi anni li trascorse nelle sue ville lombarde di Locate e Merate, impegnata in opere sociali e in varie riflessioni sul problema femminile. Si sparse a Milano nel 1871. Tra le sue opere ricordiamo: Essai sur la formation du dogme catholique (1843), Essai sur Vico (1844), Studi intorno alla storia della Lombardia negli ultimi trent'anni (1847), Osservazioni sullo stato attuale dell'Italia e sul suo avvenire (1868), Sulla moderna politica internazionale (1869).

Giardiniere: con questo termine venivano chiamate tutte le donne che, appartenenti alla Carboneria, invece che radunarsi alle "vendite" si incontravano nei loro giardini. Ogni raggruppamento, giardino formale o aiuola, era composto da nove donne e, per entrare a farvi parte, queste dovevano superare un lungo periodo d'indagine:

• Apprendista: il motto era Costanza e Perseveranza, e in esso venivano illustrati i programmi operativi in atto

• Maestra Giardiniera: vi si arrivava dopo un lungo periodo di tirocinio, il motto era Onore e Virtù; era un livello piuttosto impegnativo e le donne erano autorizzate a portare un pugnale tra calza e giarrettiere.

Segno di riconoscimento era disegnare con la mano un semicerchio, toccandosi la spalla sinistra, poi quella destra e alla fine battere tre colpi sul cuore.

La Società delle Giardiniere cominciò ad agire in Lombardia durante e dopo il marzo del 1821, comunque già nel 1816 sulle rive dell'Olona era infuriata una battaglia romantica che aveva coinvolto tutto il popolo, e che lasciava presagire il malcontento popolare.

Inizialmente l'attività di queste donne non fu presa completamente sul serio, solo dopo il tentativo rivoluzionario del 1821 e dopo che furono giunte diverse notizie da Napoli su una Società delle Giardiniere, le cui componenti erano solite tenere un pugnale nella giarrettiere e usare un linguaggio molto acceso, ci si cominciò a chiedere se queste società esistessero realmente, soprattutto perché la donna, fino ad allora, era considerata solo nel suo ruolo di madre, moglie, sorella e amante e quindi i suoi sentimenti potevano essere legati all'area familiare-affettiva.

Molte furono le donne che vennero arrestate e processate, accusate di far parte di queste società giardiniere. I provvedimenti che furono presi nei loro confronti si differenziarono tra nord e sud.

Nel Lombardo Veneto le giardiniere erano convinte che fosse sufficiente una congiura per cambiare le sorti del paese, non erano organizzate politicamente, non avevano una volontà comune. Furono interrogate e la maggior parte delle volte giudicate non perseguibili.

Nel Napoletano la congiura aveva assunto l'aspetto di un moto militare e le giardiniere furono incarcerate, torturate e condannate a vari anni di prigione.

Erano madri, erano giovani spose che intravedevano lontano, lontano le desolate madri piangenti di quei martiri, le giovani mogli piangenti, le sorelle piangenti, i teneri figlioletti orfanelli e derelitti; e gemevano e piangevano. E noi, oggi aggiungiamo, che tra loro erano le Cugine che giuravano nelle baracche sul pugnale prima L.O.M. a Libertà o Morte, poi Libertà ed Uguaglianza ed infine Fratelli d'Italia, L'Italia sarà dritta!

Verso la metà del secolo, particolarmente in Francia ed in Germania, furono costituite varie società androgine, quasi massoniche, come l'ORDINE DELLE MOPSE, l'ORDRE DES CHEVALIERS ET CHEVALIERS DE LA ROSE e l'ORDRE DE LA FÉLICITÉ. Ci sono indicazioni che quest'ultima associazione mista sia stata attiva anche in Liguria, verso il 1745. Qualcuno afferma, che solo per la curiosità femminile, nacque la cosa detta Massoneria di Adozione, di impronta festaiola anche se con intenti filantropici. In Francia già nel 1744 il cavaliere di Beauchêne fonda le Logge di Adozione come filiazione di Logge maschili di cui portano il nome. Sono riservate alle consorti ed alle parenti dei Fratelli e vi si ricevono i gradi di Apprendista, Compagna, Maestra e Maestra Perfetta. Il Duca di Chartres vi inizia la moglie e la sorella, duchessa di Bourbon che ne diviene la Gran Maestra. Nel 1774 le Sorelle Massone lavoravano in tutti i paesi d'Europa, dove esistevano riunioni della Massoneria Maschile. Nello stesso anno si deve la nascita in Francia della famosa Loggia delle Nove Sorelle, che accoglieva molte donne di corte e che il Grande Oriente di Francia la riconobbe come Loggia di Adozione.

Nel 1774 il Grande Oriente di Francia sancì la Costituzione delle Logge di Adozione, per consentire a questo gentil sesso di partecipare alla carità e alla filosofia.

A Parigi nel 1760 la loggia di adozione, fondata dal conte di Bernouville, accoglieva letterati, nobili ed artisti. Nel 1774 a Nimegue in una riunione di questo genere, presieduta dal Principe d'Orange e dal Principe di Waldeck, si raccolse tanto da fondare un ospizio per i poveri. Nel 1775, la loggia S. ANTONIO di Parigi, dopo l'installazione della Gran Maestra duchessa di Borbone, fu raccolto molto denaro per liberare alcune persone povere in carcere, perché non avevano potuto pagare i mensili alle nutrici. La stessa Gran Maestra quattro anni dopo, in una delle solite riunioni fece raccogliere una buona somma di denaro per una povera famiglia di provincia, che con ingenua semplicità aveva gettato alla posta una domanda di soccorso così indirizzata: «Ai Signori Massoni di Parigi».

Moltissimi altri esempi di carità si potrebbero citare ad onore della massoneria di adozione, che prosperava anche durante l'impero di Napoleone Bonaparte, sempre con carattere essenzialmente filantropico e con molto splendore.

La Massoneria era tanto in auge in Francia che Maria Antonietta scriveva in data 26 gennaio 1781: «Tutto il mondo vi partecipa».

La partecipazione femminile alla Libera Muratoria, fu un grande argomento di dibattito in tutte le Massonerie latine, in un'epoca nella quale la donna si trovava in uno stato di inferiorità sociale e di dipendenza dall'uomo. Benché la discussione fosse stata avviata in ambienti dei gradi azzurri, fu nei gradi Scozzesi che si arrivò ai fatti.

Dalle logge femminili di Adozione, vere e proprie iniziazioni di donne, nei templi, furono praticate in Italia da Giuseppe Garibaldi, Gran Maestro effettivo del Grande Oriente d'Italia nel 1864 e Gran Maestro onorario a vitam, oltre che «Primo Massone d'Italia». Quando accolse le prime sorelle, Garibaldi scrisse che si accingeva a celebrarle coi poteri riconosciuti dalla Gran Loggia Unita d'Inghilterra. Iniziò anche la figlia Teresita.

«Per il sesso debole Garibaldi stravedeva; fu uno dei più impegnati paladini della sua emancipazione. In questa campagna non si impose limiti, firmò diplomi di ogni genere, intestati a più o meno nobili dame, che non avevano nessuna perplessità nel vedere figurare i loro dati anagrafici in un documento massonico. Alla sorella Susanna Elena Carruthers, nata ad Edimburgo nel marzo del 1831 e dimorante a Pisa, fu consegnato nell'agosto 1867; nel luglio il Nizzardo sottoscrisse quello intestato alla ventiseienne Luigia Candia De Michelis. Il primo accenno dell'Umanitario ad un'attività assimilabile a quella di una Loggia femminile è del 1867: «La Società Patriottica femminile di Milano, presieduta dall'ottima sorella Angelina Foldi, incaricò tre sorelle nostre, Batoli, Bracco e Marino, affinché distribuissero soccorsi agli straziati fratelli di Palermo». Vi è poi un cenno a Candia De Michelis. I cognomi menzionati sono tutti presenti nelle cronache massoniche del decennio. Andrea Batoli era addirittura un 33mo del Supremo Consiglio di Palermo. Dobbiamo ancora all'Umanitario una notizia da Torino: all'inizio del 1869 annunciò che «c'era per fondersi una Loggia presieduta dalla Principessa Lascaris». Altre informazioni riguardavano un brindisi alle mopse della Federico Campanella di Modica e alla moglie di Ferdinando Ferruggio, della Samaney, sposata con il solo matrimonio civile e premiata per questo con l'ammissione all'Ordine».

Nella storia massonica italiana il 1864 è l'anno in cui fu diffuso il Decreto del Gran Maestro Giuseppe Garibaldi sulla riforma della Massoneria in Italia e contenente anche le modalità per organizzare le cosiddette "Logge di Donne". Il documento inviato al Supremo Consiglio del Grande Oriente d'Italia stabiliva:

A.Â. G.Â. D.Â. G.Â. A.Â. D.Â. U.Â.

AL S.Â. C.Â. G.Â. O.Â. d'Italia residente provvisoriamente in Palermo.

Io G.Â. M.Â. della Massoneria Italiana del Rito Scozzese antico ed Accettato - riconosciuto dal Gr.Â. M.Â. della Massoneria Inglese sotto il medesimo Rito - a maggiormente riuscire al desiderato scopo dell'UnitÃ Massonica italiana, propongo quanto segue:

2Â°. Tutti i Corpi Mass.Â. che travagliano regolarmente con tutt'altro Rito, sono considerati conformi alle regole degli Statuti Generali dell'Ordine.

4Â°. Saranno create delle LL.Â. di Donne, a fine di vieppiÃ¹ facilitare i nostri lavori, conferendo esse col S.Â. C.Â. G.Â. O.Â. d'Italia residente provvisoriamente a Palermo.

Le presenti proposizioni da me firmate, saranno promulgate e lette in tutte le LL.Â. Mass.Â. d'Italia.

G. Garibaldi 33.Â.Â°

La creazione delle logge di donne faceva parte dell'ambizioso progetto di Garibaldi di diffondere i principi laici e massonici nella societÃ italiana post-unitaria mediante una collaborazione tra massoneria e mondo femminile attraverso l'Adozione, della quale il Generale fu il piÃ¹ illustre sostenitore. Si svilupparono cosÃ¬ le logge di Adozione nate in un periodo critico per la massoneria post risorgimentale afflitta da problemi e divisioni interne.

Il Decreto venne pubblicato su L'Umanitario, anno I, n. 12, Palermo, 1867, p. 6. L'Umanitario era il bollettino del Supremo Consiglio di Rito Scozzese del Grande Oriente d'Italia. Il testo del Decreto fu perentoriamente diffuso dall'Organo Supremo alle Logge esortandole: "(..) a voler concorrere con i loro lavori, acciÃ² sia conseguito il fine supremo che ci propone il detto sommo Cittadino, quello cioÃ², dell'UnitÃ Mass.Â. Italiana. Ed il Sup.Â. Cons.Â. stenderÃ le braccia con gaudio a tutti coloro che si coopereranno per cotanto sublime e santo scopo".

â€œLa contessa Cigala, assieme alla sorella Enrichetta onnipresente militante femminile dell'Â€ esoterismo massonico italiano, movimentÃ² in molte occasioni la scena profana dell'Â€ ex Regno di Napoli, alleandosi con chiunque le capitasse sotto mano. Due esempi ne configurano la personalitÃ : l'Â€ Anti-Concilio di Napoli, promosso nel dicembre 1869 da Giuseppe Ricciardi in contrapposizione al Vaticano I, la vide con la sorella attivissima organizzatrice; in occasione della spedizione garibaldina del 1867, conclusasi con la d'Â€ cle di Mentana, un manipoli di volontari da lei patrocinato le fece dono di una bandiera conquistata in una scaramuccia con i papalini. â€œ

Enrichetta Caracciolo

Quinta delle otto figlie del comandante Caracciolo, cadetto di una nobile famiglia napoletana, Enrichetta nacque nel 1821. Alla morte del padre, la madre la rinchiuso presso il convento di clausura delle suore benedettine di San Gregorio Armeno, dove fu costretta a pronunciare i voti. In convento, a causa del suo atteggiamento, ma soprattutto delle letture clandestine, venne ben presto gratificata dalla nomea di rivoluzionaria, favorevole ai liberali e contraria alla monarchia. L'ambiente chiuso e repressivo in cui era costretta a vivere la spinse piú volte a richiedere alla Sacra Rota, a Gregorio XVI e a Pio IX lo scioglimento dei voti, che per non ottenne per la tenace opposizione del cardinale Riario Sforza, arcivescovo di Napoli. I disturbi nervosi di cui mostrava di soffrire le permisero tuttavia di lasciare il convento almeno durante il giorno. Ma, accusandola di connivenza con i liberali, il cardinale Riario ottenne facilmente l'autorizzazione a farla arrestare e a costringerla ad anni di assoluta segregazione. Nel 1854, ottenuta la liberta condizionata, Enrichetta riprese i contatti con le societá segrete di Napoli, sfuggendo alla polizia e al clero che la ricercavano. La liberazione della cittá, nel 1860, significó per lei l'inizio di una nuova vita che culminó nel matrimonio con l'inglese Greuthen. Nel 1864, in un meridione tutt'altro che pacificato e retto da leggi speciali e tribunali militari, pubblicó le sue memorie

Nell'Assemblea del 1867 De Luca, affrontó un tema quanto mai attuale, la questione dei rapporti fra donna e Massoneria:

Riviviamo periodicamente la questione delle Figlie di adozione e delle Mopse. Le Figlie di adozione, istituzione francese, sono dame di caritá; il loro ufficio è l'esercizio della beneficenza. Le Mopse, da mops (cane in teutonico), simbolo di fedeltá, sorsero nel medio evo cogli anatemi di Roma; si davano loro a conservare gli oggetti massonici. La questione delle Figlie di adozione e delle mopse, decisa in massima, per l'attuazione, questione di tempo. L'educazione impartita fino ad ora alle nostre donne non permise ancora al G.O. di fare un passo in questa via di progresso, ed il Fr. Macchi, qui presente, comunque caldo partigiano della muliebre abilitazione, pure dovette piegare dinanzi alle prepotenti condizioni dell'attualitá. Buoni padri di famiglia, educiamo le nostre figlie ai nobili sentimenti della beneficenza, togliamole all'incubo del pregiudizio, apprendiamo loro a sapersi condurre nel mondo, diamo loro l'esempio del rispetto alla donna, e verrá tempo che saranno buone ausiliare dell'Ordine nostro. Ammettendole ora a parte dei nostri lavori verrebbero facilmente a screditare colla loro leggerezza la piú pura delle istituzioni. Per non si perda di vista la questione, e la si studi onde arrivare allo scopo.

Anche la famosa Madame Blavatsky (Helena Petrovna), fondatrice della Societá Teosofica a New York 1875 fu iniziata ad un alto grado del Rito di Memphis-Misraim dal Gran Gerofante Universale Giuseppe Garibaldi.

Il momento storico in cui si concreta formalmente una svolta, tramantata nel tempo, rispetto al ruolo istituzionale della donna all'interno della Libera Muratoria, coincide con l'azione di Marie Deraismes.

In Europa, la soluzione la diedero parzialmente, GEORGE MARTIN e gli altri fratelli della Loggia I Liberi pensatori di Pecqú, con la iniziazione massonica nel febbraio del 1882 ai primi tre gradi della sorella Maria Deraismes (1828-1894), che fondarono a Parigi nel 1893/4 la Gran Loggia Simbolica Scozzese Mista di Francia, detta anche I LE DROIT HUMAIN (Il Diritto Umano).

Il Fr. Gorge Martin 30° grado (volontario garibaldino) appartenente al Rito Scozzese che nel 1860 era Oratore all'Assemblea Costituente della GRAN LOGGIA SIMBOLICA SCOZZESE oggi: GRAN LOGGIA DI FRANCIA.

La FEDERATION MIXTE DU DROIT HUMAIN è, l'aggettivo « Mixte » fa

riferimento al fatto che questa associazione, attiva soprattutto nel campo dei diritti umani, accoglie tra le sue file sia uomini che donne a parità di diritti.

Maria Deraismes (1828-1894)

Résolument républicaine et démocrate, elle participe activement à diverses associations pour la défense des droits des femmes. S'inscrivant dans une lutte contre l'antiféminisme, elle publie tout au long de sa vie de nombreux ouvrages en faveur de l'émancipation des femmes.

Elle organise avec Léon Richer, le 11 juillet 1870, le premier banquet féministe et en août 1878, le premier congrès international du droit des femmes.

Dès 1881, elle devient la première femme à prendre la direction d'un journal "Le Républicain de Seine et Oise".

Le 14 janvier 1882, elle est reçue apprentie Franc-maçonnesse, à la loge Les Libres Penseurs au Pecq. Dès lors, elle ne cesse de lutter pour une véritable reconnaissance et admission des femmes en Franc-maçonnerie. Cette lutte soutenue par le docteur Georges Martin aboutit à la création de la maçonnerie mixte du Droit Humain en avril 1893.

Successivo alla costituzione della Gran Loggia, l'11 MAGGIO 1899, ci fu la costituzione del SUPREMO CONSIGLIO DEL 33° ED ULTIMO GRADO DELLA MASSONERIA SCOZZESE MISTA INTERNAZIONALE, il solo che può rilasciare le investiture costitutive delle "Officine". Miste dal 1° al 33° grado incluso per tutto il mondo.

Affiliata al "Droit Humain" fu Annie Besant, allieva prediletta della Madame Blavatsky (Helena Petrovna) alla cui opera si deve nel 1902, l'introduzione in Inghilterra della "Co-Masonry". Sei anni dopo la fondazione a Londra della "Human Duty" ad opera della Besant, sorse la "Honorable Fraternité of Ancient Masonry", poi diventata "The Order of Women Free Masons", mentre nel 1913 nasceva la "Honorable Fraternité of Ancient Freemasons". Di notevole importanza "The Order of Ancient Free and Accepted Masonry for Men and Woman" fondato dalla Bothwell-Gosse nel 1925.

Le origini de LE DROIT HUMAIN nel nostro paese risalgono al 1915, quando fu introdotta per opera da M. Spasiano e E. Donvito (che furono poi membri del Gruppo Massonico che si richiamava a Palazzo Brancaccio), con Bolla-Patente del 20 agosto 1915.

In Italia presente ufficialmente dall'1° ottobre del 1922 con il Rappresentante del Supremo Consiglio il Pot.mo Fr. FABIO VALENTINO 33 e dopo gli sconvolgimenti politici del 1925 la Federazione Italiana si mette in "sonno", per riprendere pieno riconoscimento nel 1951 (decreto del 28/01) che riconosce il Governo eletto nella tornata dell'8-9-10 dicembre 1950, quale organismo direttivo della Federazione Italiana del Diritto Umano e presidente viene eletto il Pot. Fr. Agostino Caporlingua 33 . Attualmente la Federazione italiana è presente con 15 logge e 150 iscritte.

Persegue la conoscenza di se stessi secondo gli insegnamenti di donne come Annie Besant, filosofa della società teosofica parigina, e di Maria Montanari, Gran maestra in Italia fino al 1985.

Leggiamo e riportiamo nella Dichiarazione di principi:

"L'ART.01 dell'Ordine Massonico Misto Internazionale "Il Diritto Umano" afferma l'uguaglianza essenziale dei due esseri umani, l'uomo e la Donna. Proclamando "Il Diritto Umano" l'Ordine vuole che essi giungano su tutta la terra a godere " in maniera uguale " della giustizia sociale, in una Umanità organizzata in Società libere e fraterne.

ART.02 Composta da Massoni dei due sessi, fraternamente uniti, senza distinzione di razze, di religione, di filosofie, l'Ordine impone, per raggiungere tale scopo, un metodo rituale simbolico, grazie al quale i suoi membri edificano il loro Tempio alla perfezione ed alla Gloria dell'Umanità.

Alcuni massoni nel pieno spirito egaribaldino non potevano che diventare alleati delle donne e uomini liberi, che rivendicavano un ruolo attivo, anche nella massoneria, non solo durante le guerre, ma principalmente negli anni della ricostruzione post-bellica.

Nell'anno 1900, a Napoli esisteva un

«ANTICO ed ORTODOSSO SUPREMO CONSIGLIO dei 33.:
Federazione italiana di Riti ed e delle sorelle MOPSE».

Ma ebbe scarso sviluppo.

Come veniva considerata la presenza delle Mopse, dal Gran Maestro del Grande Oriente d'Italia Francesco De Luca (in carica dal 1864 al 1867):

«Rivieni periodicamente la questione delle figlie di adozione o mopse - cos'è DE LUCA affronta il problema - Istituzione francese, esse sono dame di carità; il loro ufficio è l'esercizio della beneficenza; sorsero nel Medio Evo con gli anatemi di Roma; si davano loro a conservare gli oggetti massonici. La questione delle figlie di adozione, decisa in massima, per attuazione, questione di tempo. L'educazione impartita fino ad ora alle nostre donne non permise al Grande Oriente di fare un passo in questa via di progresso. Buoni padri di famiglia, educiamo le nostre figlie ai nobili sentimenti della beneficenza, togliamole all'incubo del pregiudizio, apprendiamo loro a sapersi condurre nel mondo e verrà tempo che saranno buone ausiliarie dell'Ordine nostro. Mettendole ora a parte dei nostri lavori verrebbero facilmente a screditare colla loro leggerezza la più pura delle Istituzioni.»

I vari Gran Maestri della massoneria italiana, dovettero affrontare gli anni della pubblicistica antimassonica; ove l'ammissione delle donne, anche se a titolo diverso e in ruolo subalterno, dava facilmente adito a polemiche e ad accuse.

Leo Taxil, inventa anche una Massoneria Palladica che egli chiamò «Rito Palladio Riformato», dedita a piccole orge, con Gran Sacerdotessa Diana Vaughan.

Con la morte del Gran Maestro del Grande Oriente d'Italia, Adriano Lemmi nel 1906 e l'elezione a Sovrano Gran Maestro del R.S.A.A. di Achille Ballori e luogotenente Saverio Fera, l'unità massonica maschile italiana cessa nel 1908.

Si ebbero cos'è due Massonerie dette dei Ferriani e dei Balloriani che, dal luogo delle rispettive sedi, assunsero il nome di Piazza del Gesù e di Palazzo Giustiniani. Dal caos massonico italiano che ne seguì, che si protrarrà fino al 1961 e al 1973, nacquero alcuni gruppi, fondati da coloro che non volevano prendere posizione in favore degli uni o degli altri. Fra questi, uno era capeggiato dal fratello Edoardo Frosini, noto anche come dottor Hermes, fondatore di una loggia di Rito Simbolico a Firenze e dimissionario dal G.O.I. l'8 febbraio 1909, fondò il Rito Filosofico Italiano.

In Italia per la prima volta il Rito Filosofico Italiano nel 1910 ammise le donne con gli stessi diritti e doveri degli uomini, escludendosi però le maritate con profani e ponendo alle nubili l'obbligo di sposare Massoni: limitazioni che non sembrano compatibili con la libertà, specie in questo delicato campo.

Sempre in quegli anni â€“ dicembre 1910- in Italia il Rito Filosofico Italiano, risolveva per conto suo la questione delle donne in loggia, ammettendole con gli stessi diritti e doveri degli uomini (con alcuni limiti). Nelle sue Costituzioni si legge:

â€œLâ€™Articolo 12 - Si ammettono a titolo regolare tanto lâ€™uomo che la donna. Non possono, per altro, essere ammesse donne unite in matrimonio con un Profano; le sorelle nubili debbono promettere sul loro onore che esse non contrarranno matrimonio che con un Libero Muratoreâ€™.

Il Rito , ebbe un suo momento di notoriet  fino allâ€™inizio della seconda guerra mondiale.

Con la vittoria e il ritorno alle logge il Rito Filosofico ritenne di aver compiuto il suo mandato e si sciolse. I suoi membri si ricongiunsero al Supremo Consiglio del Rito Scozzese Antico ed Accettato per lâ€™Italia e sue Colonie di Piazza del Ges  47 di Roma â€™.

Un tentativo di risveglio del tutto irregolare Ãˆ stato effettuato nel 1973 o â€™74 dal Savona â€™ Piazza del Ges  1 - , che esibiva patenti che furono ritenute irregolari del G.O.I.

Nel nord dell'Italia sempre agli inizi del 1900, da unâ€™Obbedienza Mista, la

GRAN LOGGIA MISTA SIMBOLICA ITALIANA,

su sollecitudine del GRANDE ORIENTE dâ€™ITALIA , precisamente dal RITO SIMBOLICO ITALIANO (1912), nacque e visse per qualche tempo una Gran Loggia, formata esclusivamente da donne che praticava e governava i soli primi tre gradi simbolici.

GRAN LOGGIA FEMMINILE dâ€™ITALIA di cui fu Gran Maestra Lavinia Hollâ€™ e Gran Maestra Aggiunta Anna Franchi , â€™Massoneria Femminile Italiana â€™ Ia Assemblea Costituente.

29 Marzo 1913.

Ill  e Car  Sorella,

Questa Sereniss  Gr  Loggia, venuta a conoscenza delle deliberazione prese, nellâ€™ultima sua tenuta, del Grandâ€™Oriente dâ€™Italia a proposito di una costituente organizzazione iniziatica di Donne, ritenuto di aderire a questa nuova organizzazione che sostanzialmente risponde agli scopi che la Gran Loggia Mista Simbolica dâ€™Italia si Ãˆ preposti, ha deliberato di sospendere i suoi lavori e di convocare in Roma nel giorno 30 marzo p.v. ad ore 14, nella sala cortesemente concessa dalla Sereniss  Gr  Loggia di Rito Simbolico Italiano, in via Dogana Vecchia 29 (Palazzo Giustiniani), tutti i gruppi di donne gi  organizzati massonicamente nelle varie citt  dâ€™Italia per discutere â€™.

Unâ€™autorevole fratello scozzese del tempo, Liborio Granone 33 del Supremo Consiglio del R.S.A.A. di Piazza del Ges  47 , scriveva nel 1915:

â€™. Lâ€™unica soluzione Ãˆ quella di permettere e di agevolare la formazione di una specie di massoneria femminile, esclusivamente femminile. Gli Ordini regolari dovrebbero avere diretti rapporti con essa, secondo norme da stabilirsi di comune accordo, in modo per  da evitare qualsiasi vincolo di dipendenza. Le decisioni dei primi non dovrebbero imporsi alla seconda, come la condotta di questa non dovrebbe compromettere quelli. Ognuno per conto proprio e tutti guidati del trinomio Libert  â€™ Uguaglianza â€™ Fratellanza per beneficiare i popoli, agevolando lo sviluppo generale del progresso, combattendo il dispotismo e propugnando la giustizia, la pace e la verit  sempre e dovunque.

In tal guisa si eviterebbero tutti i deplorabili inconvenienti dannosi, cagionati sia dalla esclusione totale delle donne dal movimento iniziatici, che dalla loro ammissione nelle logge regolari maschili. Non sarÃ magari una massoneria perfetta, specialmente nei primi tempi, ma benefici se ne avranno molti, perchÃ© risulta necessario organizzare le donne con vincoli solenni ed in segreto, dati i pregiudizi sociali che ancora imperano a vantaggio dei preti. Sul riguardo possono sorgere divergenze secondarie, ma Ã impossibile trascurare ancora la donna. Queste per altro progrediscono quotidianamente con impressionante rapiditÃ. Il secolo ventesimo sarÃ ricordato anche per la pacifica rivoluzione femminile, che si compie sotto i nostri occhi. La donna non Ã piÃ¹ esclusa dalla vita pubblica e professionale. Essa lavora nei campi e nelle industrie, insegna nelle scuole, esercita la medicina ed altre professioni, partecipa al commercio, parla nei comizi e nei congressi, in certi paesi entra anche nei parlamenti, sostiene la concorrenza degli uomini, si afferma sempre piÃ¹ nelle arti, nelle e nelle scienze. La donna insomma non Ã piÃ¹ serva, non Ã piÃ¹ serva, non Ã strumento di piacere, non Ã povero simulacro umano confinato nelle alcove e nelle cucine, o nel focolare domestico, se si ama la idilliaca retorica, che in sostanza Ã falsa e rancida â per subire continuamente la tirannica volontÃ maschile. Essa si risveglia, si redime e lotta vittoriosa non per il predominio, ma per avere gli stessi diritti e doveri degli uomini, per essere libera come questi, per rendersi degna di appartenere allâumanitÃ. Il suo progresso intellettuale, etico, politico e cosÃ via Ã inarrestabile, travolge pregiudizi e superstizioni, contribuisce allo sviluppo della civiltÃ ed assicura efficaci impulsi al graduale miglioramento dellâindividuo e dellâumana convivenzaâ.

âOndâ lo sforzo di alcune benemerite donne, che in Italia han fatto sorgere e diffondere la massoneria femminile, la cui Gran Maestre Ã la sig. [non la chiama Sorella] Lavinia Hollâ assai nota specialmente nel campo magistrato per le sue non comuni virtÃ di organizzatrice tenace e valorosa. La Gran Loggia Femminile dâItalia si Ã regolarmente costituita nel 1912, essa pratica e governa i solo primi gradi simbolici e svolge unâazione prevalentemente filantropica ed educativa. La sua divisa Ã: Patria â Famiglia â UmanitÃ â LibertÃ â Uguaglianza â Fratellanza. La Gran Loggia ha fondato alcune officine e conta un buon numero di affiliate. Questo nuovo sodalizio iniziatici potrÃ fare molto bene, specialmente dal punto di vista intellettuale e filantropico, se persisterÃ senza tentennamenti. Bisogna che vada avanti e che abbia fiducia nelle proprie forze e nel proprio avvenire, perchÃ© la sua missione non Ã facile, nÃ© di poco conto: redimere le donne italiane, che in massima parte ancora non sanno sottrarsi alla nefasta influenza pretesca. Di contro il Vaticano Ã necessario che sorga ed abbia vita rigogliosa e feconda anche la massoneria femminile, alla quale perciÃ² non dovrebbe mancare la solidarietÃ costante dei liberi muratoriâ.

Testimonianza certa, che la presenza femminile nelle Logge era frequente, ma a quel tempo esistevano piccoli gruppi sparsi sul territorio giÃ organizzati massonicamente. Qualche vecchio massone, afferma che lâObbedienza, anche se con un numero d'aderenti molto limitato, vive ancora.

Alla fine del XIX secolo, il movimento di emancipazione femminile pose nuovamente in evidenza la questione dellâaccesso delle donne nelle logge massoniche, ma non nella forma spuria delle logge di adozione, che pur aveva soddisfatto le nobildonne del Settecento, bensÃ secondo le identiche regole iniziatiche e rituali riservate agli uomini. Queste decise rivendicazioni aprirono, nella storia massonica, il capitolo delle Obbedienze âcrosaâ.

I primi anni del 900, vide il nascere di una moltitudine di Obbedienze miste, o esclusivamente femminili o composte da gran logge âa sessi separatiâ.

Anche il movimento massonico femminile fu disperso durante il fascismo, e si ricostituÃ nel secondo dopoguerra.

Lâ11 ottobre del 1925, i Fascisti romani, guidati dal famigerato federale Italo Foschi, assaltarono le Sede del R.S.A.A. e della Serenissima Gran Loggia, sita in Piazza del GesÃ al

n. 47. Gli squadristi erano un centinaio e nella loro furia devastatrice non risparmiarono niente, nemmeno i busti di Garibaldi, Mazzini, Obberdan e Bovio. I labari e un gran ritratto ad olio del Palermi furono portati per scherno per le vie della Capitale ed infine bruciati.

Sin dal dopoguerra è iniziata la lacrimevole fioritura di iniziative massoniche, che ha portato i Massoni a difendersi da una belligeranza interna quasi permanente. La Massoneria si offre al basso intrigo di corridoio e all'infedeltà di chi anche gli ha "cegiurato" (o impegno massonico) obbedienza. A questo riguardo ci sembra opportuno ricordare quanto scritto da Christian Jacq.

"Il suolo del Tempio massonico è un pavimento a mosaico, cioè una sorta di scacchiera in cui si alternano caselle bianche e nere. Esso raffigura allegoricamente il mondo, che è luce e tenebre a un tempo. Si potrebbe inoltre affermare che è una eloquente rappresentazione della storia dell'Ordine Massonico, comprendente periodi costruttivi e fasi di decadenza".

"Quando la Massoneria riprese nel nostro Paese i suoi lavori dopo la forzata interruzione ventennale, si ricostituì anche quella femminile ad iniziativa della sorella M. A. COSTA " CAVINI, la quale, già in possesso di un vecchio brevetto di Rosa " Croce, si pose dapprima alla obbedienza di un Gruppo Simbolico, dando successivamente vita, a seguito di difficoltà sorte, ad un Rito autonomo femminile, di cui assunse la Gran Maestranza onoraria, costituzione di un Supremo Consiglio sul modello Scozzese.

Sappiamo che la Sorella Costa-Cavini è una perfetta iniziata, dotata di grande fede, di tenace volontà, di adeguata cultura, di alto spirito filantropico e che essa dalla mamma apprese, quando era bambina, il valore della sciarpa massonica, decorante il corpo esanime del nonno, il quale, passato all'Oriente Eterno, le lasciò il nobile retaggio spirituale che la condusse più tardi all'iniziazione. Sappiamo anche che attorno a lei è un eletto cenacolo di sorelle tutte docenti universitarie.

Le esigenze del 1946 erano determinate dalle misure fasciste e dalla guerra, che lontanamente si possono paragonare agli anni successivi delle varie "scissioni" e "diaspore" che hanno determinato il "caos" e talvolta la "contraffazione" dei filoni storici della Massoneria Italiana.

L'incontrollata proliferazione di formazioni Massoniche o sedicenti tali, prive di radici e di riferimenti, spinge spesso i promotori ad adottare indebitamente il nome di "PIAZZA DEL GESU" , per indubbio prestigio che assicura tale denominazione, sinonimo in Italia ed all'estero, di Massoneria a carattere spiccatamente tradizionale ed esoterico.

Infatti, la maggior parte di essi, si richiama a quei membri di "PIAZZA DEL GESU" che non accettarono l'incorporazione nel G.O.I. (andando "in sonno" o costituendo nuclei separati dopo il 1945 e il 1973) o all'artefice della fusione; altri, di più recente costituzione, sono nati dopo la scomunica internazionale inglese di "irregolarità" (1993) del GRANDE ORIENTE d'ITALIA di "PALAZZO GIUSTINIANI".

Anni in cui il potere politico, pur essendo fecondo di grandi realizzazioni massoniche, indebolisce notevolmente la compagine spirituale esistente fra i Fratelli. Nulla delle divergenze in materia politica è causa di inimicizia fra i Fratelli, convinti della potenza dell'Ordine, si infiltrarono nelle Logge, per conseguire finalità di lucro individuali, per ottenere facilitazioni nella vita e nella carriera profana e per affermarsi nella vita politica.

"La Massoneria è sempre viva e perciò sempre attuale quando fa Massoneria; è sempre in ritardo e sempre battuta quando la protende a forza politica, a centro di potere, a scuola ideologica•.

Dopo il forzato assonamento, si parla nel rapporto riservatissimo del Commissario Capo di P. S. Giuseppe Dosi presso il Center Intelligence Corps, il 9 febbraio del 1946, scriveva al punto :
â€œ 5) A Roma assicurasi trovasi presso Piazza Ungheria una loggia massonica femminile appartenente alla Massoneria di adozione che ammette le donne e della quale Ãˆ Venerabile una professoressa 70 enne.â€•

In Italia câ€™Merano donne che avevano brevetti massonici del Rito Filosofico Italiano, del DROIT HUMAIN e di altre Gran Logge o Obbedienze Miste che si erano estinte nelle varie fusioni o proseguivano come Miste , che bussavano alle porte dei Templi delle Massonerie Italiane di R.S.A.ed A.

Il R.S.A.ed A., a differenza della massoneria simbolica, aveva attinto gli alti gradi da una tradizione lontana, non artigianale ma cavalleresca e aristocratica. La prima loggia di maestri scozzesi si riunÃ¬ a Londra nel 1733 tre anni dopo che il cavaliere AndrÃ¬ Michel Ramsay, precorritore dei Riti Scozzesi, veniva iniziato Libero Muratore.

Nel 1762 con la promulgazione delle Costituzioni di Losanna e delle Costituzioni di Federico II di Prussia la fisionomia del rito era in gran parte completa. Ufficialmente, perÃ², il primo Supremo Consiglio del Rito Scozzese fu eletto a Charleston nella Caroline del Sud (U.S.A.) il 1801; il secondo, a Parigi nel 1804. In Italia il primo Supremo Consiglio fu costituito a Milano nel 1805.

Il Rito Scozzese non ha mai riconosciuto la Massoneria Mista o una Massoneria Femminile, ma uomini con alti gradi hanno sempre favorito, almeno in Italia dal dopoguerra fino ai nostri giorni, la nascita di una Massoneria Femminile, perchÃ© ritenuta priva di discordie o peggio, che affliggono invece, ancora largamente, la o le Massoneria maschile.

Scriveva GINO PELAGGI 33 sul Notiziario del 1948 del â€œSUPREMO CONSIGLIO Dâ€™ITALIA DEL 33 ED ULTIMO GRADO DI R. S. A. ed A. PER Lâ€™ITALIA, SUE COLONIE E DIPENDENZEâ€•:

â€œQuali i rapporti che i Supremi Consigli regolari di Rito Scozzese possono avere con la Massoneria Femminile? Senza dubbio fraterni, pur se necessariamente soltanto ufficiosi fino a quando il CONVENTUM INTERNAZIONALE non avrÃˆ adottata una determinazione, che noi pensiamo, per le ragioni anzidette, debba condurre al riconoscimento delle Logge femminili.

Si dirÃˆ che i Landmarks parlano di â€œuominiâ€•; che gli old charges si riferiscono solo a â€œfratelliâ€• ed, analogamente, le Costituzioni Anderson del 1717 e di Federico di Prussia del 1786; mentre le dichiarazioni di principi, approvate nel Conventum di Losanna del 1875, sancendo che la â€œMassoneria Ãˆ aperta agli uomini di tutte le nazionalitÃˆ â€•, sembra escludere le donne.

Anzitutto le Costituzioni di Anderson, quando, al n. 4, parlano dellâ€™iniziazione, fanno riferimento a persona di etÃˆ non inferiore ai 25 anni, senza quindi distinzione di sesso. Ma, a prescindere da ciÃ², a noi sembra inconsistente sottigliezza quella di voler inferire da una locuzione adoperata al maschile un divieto per le donne, che avrebbe dovuto essere, nel caso, sancito espressamente; mentre usualmente si adopera il maschile: sicchÃˆ â€œuomoâ€• diventa, nel linguaggio comune, quando il vocabolo viene adoperato in senso generale, sinonimo ed equivalente di â€œindividuoâ€•, parola, questâ€™ultima, che non consente distinzione di sesso.

Pur se nelle Grandi Costituzioni non si accenna alle donne, da ciÃ² volendosi desumere il divieto di iniziarle, nulla impedisce che il Conventum apporti una modifica in senso positivo ed esplicativo. Il mondo cammina e si evolve e questa realtÃˆ , che Ãˆ nella legge del progresso, consigliÃ² appunto Federico II di sancire che le Costituzioni possano essere modificate nei Congressi Internazionali, come infatti si fece a Losanna nel 1875. Solo i Landmarkes sono intangibili; ma essi consentono, come abbiamo visto, una interpretazione la quale non Ã di ostacolo alla soluzione auspicata.

Eâ™ questa, quindi, una questione che dovrÃ decidere il Conventum e tre soluzioni si presentano: o lâ™esclusione, o lâ™ammissione delle donne nelle Loggie insieme con gli uomini, o la costituzione di una vera e propria Massoneria femminile. Noi siamo per questâ™ultima determinazione, che varrebbe ad evitare da una parte, gli inconvenienti dannosi derivanti dallâ™assenza delle donne nelle Officine, e dallâ™altra lâ™eterossia di un Rito Misto che, almeno come tale, non potrebbe essere riconosciuto, perchÃ© contrastante col tradizionalismo scozzese.

Si stabilirebbero, di comune accordo, i rapporti che dovrebbero intercorrere tra gli Ordini maschili e femminili, eliminando interferenze e vincoli di dipendenza; ma dovrebbero consentirsi almeno lo scambio di visite che servirebbero per cementare i vincoli di comune fraternitÃ .

CosÃ le donne, che dovrebbero, naturalmente, modellare i loro lavori con lo stesso rito, costituendo sia la Gran Loggia che il Supremo Consiglio, avrebbero il vantaggio di lavorare in un clima di omogeneitÃ , particolarmente dedicandosi, secondo le loro speciali attitudini, alle opere esistenziali, evitando lâ™imbarazzo della egemonia maschile, che finisce sempre con lâ™afferinarsi nelle Loggie miste, cagionando una prevalenza di sesso ingiusta ed inopportuna. â€•

Su iniziativa di alcune Obbedienze che si richiamavano a â€œPIAZZA del GESUâ™â€• (fondata dal Pot.mo SAVERIO FERA nel 1908), fu sponsorizzata giÃ nel lontano 1945 con il gruppo della REGGENZA , una GRAN LOGGIA FEMMINILE.

Gran Loggia Femminile, che lavorava accanto alla GRAN LOGGIA UNIFICATA ITALIANA DELLA MASSONERIA DEL RITO DI YORK E SCOZZESE ANTICO ED ACCETTATO (CONGLOBATO) a ROMA. Denominazione assunta dal 20 APRILE 1947, per differenziarsi dalla fungaia Massonica in Italia, dopo la Liberazione di Roma.

Riportiamo interamente il manifesto:

«DONNE ITALIANE, SORELLE»

Dopo la spaventosa tempesta della guerra che ci ha strappato lembi di carne viva, dopo i lutti dei nostri cuori e le sventure della nostra Patria, gli Italiani non si riconoscono Fratelli nel nome della Gran Madre comune e si dilanano sanguinosi in lotte fazione.

SORELLE DONNE ITALIANE TUTTE

Leviamoci non per gridare il nostro sdegno e la nostra disperazione, ma per tendere le mani e l'animo ad un'opera di bene.

Nel nome di coloro che non sono più, nel nome degli Innocenti che si affacciano alla vita, per tutti i dolori e per tutte le lagrime delle madri, delle sorelle, delle figlie, delle spose, armate soltanto d' amore, gettiamoci tra i contendenti e gridiamo loro: Fratelli, Fratelli nostri, via l' odio e il furore, pace!

In ogni casa, presso ogni focolare, vicino ad ogni capezzale, nelle scuole e nelle fabbriche, nei negozi e per le vie, Donne d' Italia, Sorelle di dolore e d' amore, diciamo la nostra parola, gettiamo la nostra invocazione, gridiamo la nostra passione: Uomini, fratelli d' Italia, amatevi! Pace fratelli!

E cos' sia!

Scriveva il Gran Maestro CONTE PIETRO ASTUNI MESSINEO 33° nel 1958:

Si pensi che quando l' Umanit' si °° appressata alle vette la donna ha mostrato fedelt' e devozione alle opere edificanti dell' uomo. Oggi, le opere edificanti nell' Ordine Massonico non sono solo dell' uomo, ma anche della donna sorella, non concorrente. °° Il primo gruppo sotto la guida del Gran Maestro Tito Ceccherini, con atto notarile del 13 giugno 1964, si costituì in associazione civile democratica con il titolo di "MASSONERIA UNIVERSALE di RITO SCOZZESE ANTICO ed ACCETTATO -SERENISSIMA GRAN LOGGIA NAZIONALE ITALIANA degli AA. LL. AA. MM. - COMUNIONE ITALIANA", e richiamava la propria storica discendenza e legittimit' al Gruppo di Manfredi De Franchis (Via dei Gracchi) che con atto notarile del 9 febbraio 1948, aveva adottato il titolo di: "MASSONERIA di RITO SCOZZESE ANTICO ed ACCETTATO per l'ITALIA.

I contrasti Massonici che ne seguirono, tra i due gruppi, giunsero anche in sedi giudiziarie. Il Dr. Pietro Piacentini e il Dr. Tito Ceccherini diffidano i Signori Giovanni Ghinazzi, il Dr. Alessandro Lagi e l'Avv. Enzo Milone all'uso del nome " SERENISSIMA GRAN LOGGIA NAZIONALE ITALIANA degli AA.LL.AA.MM o MASSONERIA UNIVERSALE di RITO SCOZZESE ANTICO ed ACCETTATO - COMUNIONE ITALIANA". Diffida del 27 giugno 1967 notificata il 30 giugno 1967.

Dopo un tentativo bonario di risanare il tutto, ad opera dell'Avv. Vincenzo Milone, il Generale Ghinazzi, si tutela e costituisce l'Associazione denominata "CENTRO SOCIOLOGICO ITALIANO (C.S.I.).

Questa famiglia, che già aveva statuito l'iniziabilità delle donne nel 1953, - ma non ne detiene la primogenitura - era quasi esclusivamente costituita da Fratelli e Sorelle siciliani. Essa aveva avuto Sede prima in Via Sardegna, poi in Viale delle Milizie e infine in Viale Regina Margherita al n. 270.

L'uomo che ne fu il fautore per una presenza femminile stabile nei Templi, in una Comunione Massonica solo di uomini che vantava e aveva riconoscimenti del Rito Scozzese internazionale, fu il Gran Maestro Fr. Tito Ceccherini della Vittorio Emanuele: "I poteri occulti contro di me. La puttana di ieri sera deve avermi fatto il malocchio"

di Marco Vicari

Conferenza stampa di Vittorio Emanuele di Savoia: "Contro di me poteri occulti. La puttana di ieri sera deve avermi fatto il malocchio"

(nella foto: Vittorio Emanuele con uno di quei nuovi fans della monarchia che lo seguono ovunque)

Contro il re ci sarebbero dunque dei poteri occulti. Alcuni parlano del fantomatico cavaliere puttaniere, altri del drago biscazziere, altri degli gnomi nel telefono che si divertono a intercettare

In effetti in questi mesi ci sono stati duri attacchi a casa Savoia, la famiglia reale che tanto ha fatto per l'Europa. Tipo: rilanciare l'immagine del porto di Brindisi:

"Stanco del solito fascismo? Fuggi da Brindisi! Porto di Brindisi: per una fuga regale!"

I Savoia sono fuggiti dall'Europa quando c'era il fascismo e sono rientrati col governo Berlusconi. Han detto: "Caspita: Non è cambiato nulla!"

Sono fuggiti lasciando l'Europa in preda al fascismo, ma poi sono rientrati perché abbiamo MODIFICATO LA COSTITUZIONE per loro. Già: art 1 "L'Europa è una monarchia fondata sui videopoker truccati"

Abbiamo fatto proprio bene a ritoccare la Costituzione per poterli riavere in Italia. Appena ha saputo che rientrava il principe, la Bella Addormentata si è presa un Valium come rinforzo

Giorni fa la conferenza stampa di Vittorio Emanuele. 3 file di monarchici a salutarlo: hanno teso il braccio destro in alto e poi sono subito fuggiti

(È possibile che nel 2006 esistano ancora i monarchici? Lo sanno che, oggi come oggi, perfino la regina Elisabetta al discount non ha più i suoi 4 cavalli a tirarle il carrello?)

Vittorio Emanuele ha detto: "Voglio parlarvi di giustizia. Ieri sera ne parlavo con il gatto con gli stivali"

E poi di nuovo: "Voglio parlarvi della mia fiducia nella giustizia: ho proposto ai miei giudici di guidare il mio calesse"

Poi è tornato sui poteri occulti. La massoneria sarebbe contro Vittorio Emanuele: infatti da quando è rientrato, non si capacita di come non gli abbiano ancora rinnovato la tessera della P2

Sulle intercettazioni che lo riguardano Vittorio Emanuele avrebbe invece detto: "Le intercettazioni estrapolate dal contesto danno un senso diverso da quello che avevo detto. Quando sui giudici francesi dico "Li ho fregati", stavo in realtà facendo una citazione medievale che non rispecchiava il mio pensiero"

Durante la conferenza stampa Vittorio Emanuele ha sparato a un lampadario per una lite (Vittorio Emanuele aveva chiesto al lampadario di spegnersi ma questo non voleva farlo). Morto un giornalista 19enne per un proiettile sbucato dal nulla

! Precisiamo questa storia per chi non la sapesse: all'isola di cavallo Vittorio Emanuele spara a un suo amico. Poco più in là muore per un proiettile un 19enne tedesco che dormiva nella sua barca. (La mia teoria: il 19enne si è sparato da solo, non appena si è accorto che aveva coseno vicino Vittorio Emanuele)

Su questa storia tempo fa è emersa una intercettazione in cui Vittorio Emanuele dice dei giudici francesi che lo hanno giudicato: "Li ho fregati". Dall'Europa sono partite richieste alla Francia: "Riaprite l'inchiesta!". Ma la Francia ha risposto: "Abbiamo già la Gioconda e Monica Bellucci. Vittorio Emanuele potete tenervelo".

Su questa storia Vittorio Emanuele è stato prosciolto 2 volte in Francia. Infatti in conferenza stampa ha detto ai giornalisti: "Il proiettile che ha preso il ragazzo non era il mio. Era un proiettile che il ragazzo aveva conosciuto poco prima in discoteca e che lui stesso aveva invitato poi sulla barca"

P2, traffici internazionali d'armi, e un'enne che muore in circostanze misteriose, proprio vicino a dove lui ha appena sparato. I giornalisti non dovrebbero andare a sentire le sue "conferenze stampa" dove dice di essere perseguitato dai poteri occulti. Perch'è umiliante: per loro riportare certe cose e per noi venirle a sapere. Intanto gli Ufo hanno fatto sapere: "È vero perseguiamo Vittorio Emanuele. Appena gli abbiamo dato la licenza per i videopoker su Marte, la nostra civiltà è scomparsa"

Italy's Black Prince: Terror War Against the Nation-State

Italy's Black Prince: Terror War Against the Nation-State

by Allen Douglas

The Black Prince and the Sea Devils:
The Story of Valerio Borghese and the Elite Units of the Decima Mas

by Jack Greene and Alessandro Massignani
Cambridge, Mass.: Da Capo Press, 2004 284 pages, hardcover, $27.50

The career of the Roman "Black Prince," Junio Valerio Borghese, gruesomely illustrates how virtually all modern "international terrorism" and all assassinations of heads of state and government such as President John F. Kennedy, former Italian Prime Minister Aldo Moro, or the numerous attempts on France's President Charles de Gaulle, derive from the postwar Nazi International, sponsored by the Anglo-American-led Synarchy and its intelligence services. To trace all the ramifications of that career, is to open a door onto the centuries-old highest level of the financial oligarchy—the Synarchy: the aristocratic families of the "black nobility," the Sovereign Military Order of the Knights of Malta, and the heirs of what Pope John Paul I called the "ancients" of Venice.

The fascist Borghese founded Mussolini's elite naval warfare squadron, which he turned into a savage irregular warfare unit in northern Italy by the end of World War II. Picked up by Allen Dulles, James Jesus Angleton, and other anti-Franklin Delano Roosevelt operatives of the U.S. Office of Strategic Services (OSS), Borghese and his men would be involved in every major postwar coup attempt or terrorist outbreak in Italy until 1970, when he fled to Spain after the failed coup attempt most closely associated with his name. From Italy, and then while in Spain, he maintained connections all over Europe and with the bloody Operation Condor torture-and-murder syndicate in Ibero-America. An examination of Borghese's career enables one to peer beneath the surface of terrorism and spectacular assassinations, into the netherworld whence these actions are launched: where international high finance; ancient aristocratic families; pro-fascist elements of the Curia of the Catholic Church; leading fascists of the Hitler-Mussolini era; and the Anglo-American intelligence services, in particular those of NATO, are all unified in a war against the modern nation-state.

The British and U.S. intelligence services' files on Borghese are still classified, as are the Borghese family archives in the Vatican after 1922, when Mussolini seized power. The present book is the first biography of Borghese in English. When correlated with other recent exposés of Gladio, the post-World War II NATO "stay-behind" network in Europe, and when all are situated within the work of Lyndon LaRouche and his associates on the Synarchy, it is a notable contribution to unmasking international terrorism, though the book's authors are perhaps not always aware of the full implications of what they present.

Borghese belonged to a principal family of Rome's ostensibly Catholic "black nobility," many members of which claim descent from the elite of the Roman Empire. Numerous Popes and cardinals came from the Borghese and allied families, such as the Pallavicini, the Colonna, and the Orsini; these families maintained enormous power into the 20th Century, and still today, in the Curia, the administration of the Vatican. Their faction within the Church helped construct the infamous "rat-line" run, in part, through monasteries and convents which spirited thousands of Fascists and Nazis out of Europe after the war, into Ibero-America, Asia, and the Middle East.

Whether the Borgheses indeed originated with the Roman Empire, as they claim, or only rose in the early 16th Century, as records suggest, they could boast of one Pope, Paul V (Camillo Borghese, reigned 1605-21), and several cardinals, while a Borghese prince married Napoleon's sister. They lost their fortune in the 19th Century, and thus the 20th Century saw Junio Valerio Borghese going to war.

In the first half of the book, naval warfare specialists Greene and Massignani recount the development of Italian naval irregular warfare on the eve of World War II, which involved light craft, frogmen, and sabotage. Borghese was an innovator in this field, beginning with his sabotage efforts for Franco during the Spanish Civil War of the late 1930s. He founded Mussolini's naval special warfare unit, the Decima MAS, commonly known as the X MAS. (MAS was originally an acronym for Motoscafi Anti Sommergibili, anti-submarine motorboats, but soon became the generic term for any light craft.)

The X MAS was a kind of personal squadron of Italy's Venice-centered oligarchy, staffed by officers from leading noble families. One of them was the nephew of Italy's royal House of Savoy, Prince Aimone of Savoy, the Duke of Aosta. The X MAS thus mirrored the oligarchical coloring of the OSS, where the leadership was so dominated by bluebloods, such as Wall Street's pro-fascist Allen Dulles, that it earned the sobriquet "Oh So Social." The two organizations were destined to collaborate closely.

Its aristocratic pedigree enabled the X MAS to operate as largely independent from Mussolini. As Greene and Massignani note, "Key personnel inside the X MAS were of noble stock, and this enabled them to win the support of top-level officers. It also made it possible for them to be in direct contact with the companies that supplied and developed craft, new weapons, and equipment for the flotilla."

Soon after taking power in mid-1943, the new royalist Italian government signed an armistice with the Allies. The royalists captured Mussolini in July, and held him in a remote prison in the Appenine Mountains. He was freed in a daring raid (so the story goes), led by Hitler's chief commando, Otto Skorzeny, who was later to become, like Borghese, a kingpin of postwar international terrorism. The Nazis disbanded Italy's army and sank most of its navy, so that they could not be used against them, but some diehards, notably Borghese and his X MAS, chose to fight on for fascism. Many other Italians were organized by Italy's political parties, including the Communist Party, into partisan warfare bands, which fought both the Germans and Mussolini's 1943-45 Nazi-run rump Salò Republic in northern Italy. Hitler's henchman for the German occupation of northern Italy, SS Gen. Karl Wolff (formerly Himmler's private secretary), ordered Borghese and his X MAS to move onto land, where they became infamous for anti-partisan warfare, including the systematic use of torture and the summary execution of Italian civilians as a "lesson" to the partisans. Greene and Massignani report that in the 600 days of the Salò Republic, the X MAS raised a force of 50,000 men, and that in the bloody civil war which followed the armistice, probably more Italians died than in the entire war before then.

The X MAS was nominally committed to the Salò Republic; however, it never swore allegiance to Salò, and never flew any flag but its own. Reports flooded back to Mussolini that Borghese was maintaining contact with all sides, so Il Duce had Borghese arrested in early 1944, though he soon released him. Indeed, Borghese had either established contact or worked with: the SS security service (Sicherheitsdienst), with which he worked closely; the Abwehr (German army counterintelligence); the Italian royalist government; British Secret Intelligence Service; James Jesus Angleton, chief of the OSS counter-espionage branch in Italy; and Allen Dulles, OSS Berne, Switzerland station chief. He also met several times with SS General Wolff.

Wolff and Dulles plotted the Anglo-American redeployment of fascist operatives after the war, among them Borghese. Indeed, Wolff declared, "Where the person of Borghese and his Decima Mas is concerned, I have spoken several times . . . with a representative of Mr. Dulles." In late 1944, Rome's black aristocracy asked the Allied military governor in Italy, Vice Adm. Ellery Stone, to intervene in favor of the "terrible boy," Junio Valerio. A friend of the Borghese family and lover of a Roman baroness, Stone needed little convincing. As the partisans closed in on Borghese in May 1945, Stone instructed Angleton to warn him, which the latter did personally. On May 19, the Americans formally arrested Borghese, thus saving him from scheduled execution by a partisan firing squad.

A Brief Hiatus

The Americans and the British showed a keen interest in the X MAS wartime activities, especially its Vega battalion, which had operated behind enemy lines. As one X MAS leader put it, foreshadowing Borghese's later deployment as part of Gladio, "For the Allies we were important because we had infiltrated the Communist bands, we knew their secrets and tactics and therefore developed the first anti-guerrilla procedures. . . . They wanted to know how we carried out the anti-communist war. . . . They wanted to exploit our knowledge." The Germans had also developed "stay-behind" units to function behind Allied lines in Italy, and the X MAS were almost certainly part of that operation as well. Several members of the X MAS were taken to the United States for debriefing.

Borghese's friends in high places ensured that the Allies would clear him of war crimes. The Italian government, however, demanded that the Allies hand him over for trial in Milan in late 1945. His friends again intervened, and his trial was transferred to Rome, where Dulles, Angleton, et al. had ensured that many of the old Fascist bureaucrats remained in office, and where the courts were much more conservative. After two years in prison, he was finally found guilty in early 1949 of collaborating with the Nazis (though not in war crimes) and sentenced to 12 years in prison. As one frustrated observer put it, "The crimes of Borghese's band were too obvious, and the verdict had to be life imprisonment. But the court, through a scandalous application of extenuating circumstances, pardons, and remissions, reduced the sentence." The judge then decided he had served enough time, and released him, an action that would have been politically impossible before Britain's Winston Churchill announced the beginning of the Cold War with his 1946 "Iron Curtain" speech in Fulton, Missouri.

Borghese's new career was about to begin.

A Universal Fascist

Shortly after his release from prison, Borghese became president of the Italian Social Movement (MSI) party, composed largely of former Fascists. The MSI was a mixture of "national" and "international" ("universal") fascists. Borghese was committed to the latter outlook, which today is openly espoused by neo-con Michael Ledeen, himself a protégé of a Mussolini Cabinet minister, the Venetian oligarch Vittorio Cini. Cini, in turn, was a key collaborator of the real architect of Mussolini's regime, its longtime Finance Minister, the Venetian Count Giuseppe Volpi di Misurata.

Greene and Massignani describe Borghese's universal fascism and its plans for a Europe free of nation-states, but "unified" under NATO: "Fascism in the postwar era was different from its pre-war variety. Although it had splintered into many different factions, it had two powerful drives. One was that it was anti-communist. It was this element that made Borghese acceptable to the mainstream parties and national secret services. He was ultimately pro-NATO, as was the rest of this wing of fascism. The other one was the realization that in the postwar environment no single European nation could stand up to the two superpowers, and hence, that Europe would be a third force. That is, Europe would be `opposed to the twin imperialisms of international communism and international finance capitalism, both of which were perceived as being materialistic, exploitative, dehumanizing' " (emphasis in original).

Borghese's "united Europe" was the scheme promoted, from the early 1920s on, by his fellow oligarch, the Venetian Count Richard Coudenhove-Kalergi, which became an explicit goal of the Synarchist International in the 1920s and 1930s. Today, the seed crystal of that "united Europe" has become the Maastricht Treaty-generated European Union and its European Central Bank. The same vision of a united Europe had also inspired Hjalmar Schacht, the financial architect of Hitler's regime, though Schacht viewed Hitler's conquest of Europe as the pathway to achieve it. It was also the vision for which the Synarchy deployed one of its most notorious agents of the 20th Century, Alexander Helphand Parvus. Parvus first financed the Bolshevik Revolution, and then, after it was victorious, became the most ferocious "anti-Bolshevik," proclaiming that only a "united Europe" could stop the communist menace.

Between the wars, this "united Europe" scheme was momentarily eclipsed by the "national fascisms" of Mussolini, Salazar, Franco, and Hitler, though all were installed by the same Europe-based, London-centered Synarchy. But, after the war, write Greene and Massignani, Borghese's universal fascism was the wave of the future, as well as the incubator of international terrorism. "In Italy, it was the Fascist faction that possessed the many international ties that stretched between Franco's Spain, South America, and South Africa. It was from this faction, too, that many of the acts of terrorism of the `Black International' sprung" (emphasis added).

NATO, Gladio, and International Terrorism

Postwar Italian politics may appear to be a wilderness of mirrors, with its rapid changes of government, multiple coup attempts, and spectacular outbreaks of terrorism. Going back to the Nazi occupation of northern Italy during World War II, however, to examine the various British, American, and Nazi actors and their respective ties to different Italian factions, the reality quickly becomes apparent: that the Anglo-American Synarchists merely replacedâ€”and to a great extent subsumedâ€”the Nazis and Mussolini's Fascists as the would-be fascist occupying power, locked in mortal struggle against those Italian patriots, both "conservatives" of the Christian Democracy and "leftists" of the Italian Communist Party, who wished to establish a sovereign Italy.

The battle for a sovereign Italy centered on economic policy. In 1950, forces around wartime partisan leader, later industrialist Enrico Mattei effected a radical shift within the ruling Christian Democracy, away from free-market policies toward a dirigistic program of rapid industrial growth. With an extraordinary series of state-sponsored corporations, and projects such as the Cassa per il Mezzogiorno (Southern Italy Development Fund) based on the model of U.S. President Franklin Roosevelt's Tennessee Valley Authority, Italy experienced an economic miracle, with annual growth of over 7% for almost a decade. A linchpin of this was the newly founded national oil company, ENI, which Mattei headed in a war for energy independence against the synarchists' Seven Sisters.

Enraged at Italy's developing sovereignty, the Anglo-Americans deployed terrorism and assassinations to stop it. Borghese's activities run like a black dye through all of this history, until he fled to Spain in 1970. Let us now examine the scene in which he was to be so prominent an actor.

Already during World War II, Allen Dulles and other Anglo-American Synarchists, who had sponsored both Mussolini and Hitler in the first place, were trying to negotiate a peace with the Nazis which would leave them in power, sans Hitler and a handful of others. This Nazi puppet-regime would then ally with the British and the United States to conquer the Soviet Union, establishing a Synarchist world empire. Dulles's negotiating partner SS General Wolff said that he wanted "to build a bridge to the West," which would entail handing northern Italy over to the Allied military forces, but with German troops remaining in place, as "part of the proposed police force of the Western powers against Russia."²

U.S. President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, by contrast, wanted to crush the fascist regimes, and foresaw a postwar world in which the colonial empires of all the European powers, starting with the British, would be abolished, and the United States and the Soviet Union—wartime allies—would cooperate in a grand program of global economic growth, into which the rest of the world would be drawn as well.

Dulles and his fellow Synarchists did not achieve their full scheme, but they did establish NATO as an occupation authority for Europe, which prepared for war against the Soviet Union. Lord Bertrand Russell's early 1946 call for pre-emptive nuclear warfare against the Soviet Union is typical. In the name of "fighting communism," Europe would be kept under Anglo-American domination through NATO, and any and all means would be authorized toward that goal. Upon FDR's death in April 1945, the Synarchist puppet President Harry S Truman adopted these "anti-communist" schemes, which led immediately to the Cold War.

When the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) was established in 1949, a secret clause in its treaty specified that each nation that wished to join must first establish a "national security authority" to fight communism, including through the deployment of clandestine citizen cadres. This demand grew out of a secret committee set up by the British and the U.S. within the Atlantic Pact, the forerunner of NATO. Truman's National Security Council issued directives authorizing the Armed Forces to use military force against Communist Parties, which commanded strong popular support in several European countries as a result of the war, even if those parties gained participation in government through elections. For this purpose, NATO and the Anglo-American intelligence services set up "stay-behind" units in all European countries.

According to Italian Gen. Paolo Inzerilli, who commanded Italy's Gladio unit from 1974-86, the Clandestine Planning Committee (CPC) and its Allied Clandestine Committee (ACC) were the "interface between NATO's Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) and the Secret Services of the member states as far as the problems of non-orthodox warfare were concerned." The CPC, said Inzerilli, was dominated by an inner executive group of the United States, Britain, and France, while the ACC was essentially a technical committee to coordinate expertise in explosives, "repression," or related problems of clandestine warfare. Italian Gen. Gerardo Serravalle testified that the members of the CPC were the officers responsible for the stay-behind apparatus in the various European countries, and that "At the stay-behind meetings representatives of the CIA were always present," as well as "members of the U.S. Forces Europe Command."

The mid-1970s U.S. Congressional investigative committee under Sen. Frank Church, which examined illicit actions by U.S. intelligence services and the military, found that the Pentagon had requested the CIA's covert branch, the Office of Policy Coordination (OPC), to take the point in establishing stay-behind armies in Europe. The early plans were focussed on the Soviet Union, as the Church report noted: "Until 1950 OPC's paramilitary activities (also referred to as preventive action) were limited to plans and preparations for stay-behind nets in the event of future war. Requested by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, these projected OPC operations focussed on Western Europe and were designed to support NATO forces against Soviet attack." However, the Pentagon soon went much further. A Joint Chiefs of Staff directive of May 14, 1952 set up "Operation Demagnetize," in which the CIA and the military secret services were instructed to reduce the "magnetic attraction" of the large Communist Parties of Italy and France through all means, including "political, paramilitary and psychological operations." The directive stated, "The limitation of the strength of the Communists in Italy and France is a top priority objective. This objective has to be reached by the employment of all means. The Italian and French government may know nothing of the plan 'Demagnetize,' for it is clear that the plan can interfere with their respective national sovereignty" (emphasis added).

Operationally, the stay-behind units were run by the military secret services of each NATO nation, as directed by the CPC/ACC. Some light was shed on Pentagon and NATO thinking of this time in a Pentagon field manual, found along with the lists of members of the elite Propaganda Due (P2) freemasonic lodge in P2 Grand Master Licio Gelli's villa in Arezzo, Tuscany in 1981. Although issued in 1970, Field Manual 30-31B (FM 30-31B) reflected earlier Pentagon and NATO planning. It emphasized that military and other secret service leaders in each country should be recruited as U.S. (or NATO) agents: "The success of internal stabilisation operations, which are promoted in the context of strategies for internal defence by the U.S. military secret service, depends to a large extent on the understanding between the U. S. personnel and the personnel of the host country. The recruitment of senior members of the secret service of the host country as long time agents is thus especially important."

This process began already in 1944-45, when the Anglo-American synarchists re-constructed Italy's military secret service and its military police, the Carabinieri. Some of the key individuals whom they installed or sponsored later turned up as members of P2, from where they oversaw the terrorism and assassinations of the late 1960s and 1970s, as well as the cover-ups. Like Borghese, some of these leaders had been recruited by Angleton himself. One of them was Federico Umberto D'Amato, chief of the UAR, a secret section of the Interior Ministry which coordinated the terrorist actions under NATO direction, in conjunction with the military secret services.³

Furthermore, stated the FM 30-31B, "There may be times when Host Country Governments show passivity or indecision in the face of communist subversion and according to the interpretation of the U.S. secret services do not react with sufficient effectiveness. Most often such situations come about when the revolutionaries temporarily renounce the use of force and thus hope to gain an advantage, as the leaders of the host country wrongly consider the situation to be secure. U.S. army intelligence must have the means of launching special operations which will convince Host Country Governments and public opinion of the reality of the insurgent danger." FM 30-31B was issued in 1970; coup attempts against the Italian government under precisely the circumstances it describes, were launched using Gladio personnel (including Borghese) that year, and three more times through 1974. The manual stressed, "These special operations must remain strictly secret. Only those persons who are acting against the revolutionary uprising shall know of the involvement of the U.S. Army in the internal affairs of an allied country. The fact, that the involvement of forces of the U.S. military goes deeper shall not become known under any circumstances."⁴

The British Role

As in virtually everything to do with imperial strategies, the relevant U.S. circles were being carefully guided by their senior partners, the British, under the old rubric, "British brains and American brawn." Gladio was modelled on the actions of the Special Operations Executive (SOE) behind enemy lines during World War II, which had been created by the British Ministry of Defence (MOD) in 1940 under orders from Churchill to "set Europe ablaze." In charge of the SOE was Minister of Economic Warfare Hugh Dalton, who said, "We have to organize movements in enemy-occupied territory comparable to the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland, to the Chinese Guerrillas now operating against Japan, to the Spanish Irregulars who played a notable part in Wellington's campaign orâ€”one might as well admit itâ€”to the organizations which the Nazis themselves have developed so remarkably in almost every country in the world" (emphasis added).

The SOE was closed down at war's end and replaced by the Special Air Services (SAS), which helped Britain's foreign secret service, MI6, to train the stay-behind armies of Europe. Gladio specialist Daniele Ganser of the Center for Security Studies at Zurich Technical University observed, "Many within the stay-behind community regarded the British to be the best in the field of secret warfare, more experienced than the military officers of the U.S."

The British set up a base for training stay-behind units at Ft. Monckton outside Portsmouth, England, and another in Sardinia. One of the stay-behind operatives trained at Ft. Monckton recalled, "We were made to do exercises, going out in the dead of night and pretending to blow up trains in the railway stations without the stationmaster or the porters seeing you. We crept about and pretended to lay charges on the right part of the railway engine with a view to blowing it up." In the Gladio-coordinated blind terror which ravaged Italy from 1969 through 1980, trains and railway stations were to be a favorite target, notably the 1974 bombing of the Rome-Munich Italicus Express, which killed 12 and injured 48, and the explosion in the Bologna rail station in August 1980, which killed 85 and seriously injured or maimed 200. Lyndon LaRouche first emphasized within hours of the Madrid train bombings of March 11, 2001 which killed 200 and wounded thousands more, that they were not the work of "Islamic terrorists," but followed the pattern of the 1980 Bologna bombing.

Vincenzo Vinciguerra, an Italian neo-fascist terrorist who was jailed for life and who had been bitter about the secret service's "manipulation" of neo-fascist groups ever since 1945, explained how Gladio (and any sister organizations) worked: "You had to attack civilians, the people, women, children, innocent people, unknown people far removed from any political game. The reason was quite simple. They were supposed to force these people, the Italian public, to turn to the State to ask for greater security. This is the political logic that lies behind all the massacres and the bombings which remain unpunished, because the State cannot convict itself or declare itself responsible for what happened."

After Prime Minister Giulio Andreotti exposed the existence of Gladio in 1990, the BBC's "Newsedition" undertook its own examination of Gladio. It reported in April 1991, "Britain's role in setting up stay-behinds throughout Europe was absolutely fundamental."

More crucial than the stay-behinds, were the secretive bodies which coordinated them, such as P2. Here, too, the British led the way. Already in 1944-45, the British set up a proto-P2 masonic lodge composed of House of Savoy monarchists, aristocrats, and Mussolini loyalists. A Jan. 2, 1945 OSS report noted: "The lodge is under British authority and will request their political and economic aid, things which the members cannot get through their respective parties without exposing themselves to accusations of being paid by the British."

NATO's Italian Theater

OSS official James Jesus Angleton saved Borghese in 1945, and then set up the clandestine structure in the Italian military and secret services, which produced the Italian section of Gladio. Angleton was a devout Anglophile and a pro-fascist, who had spent much of his boyhood in Italy, where his father, James Hugh Angleton, owned the Italian subsidiary of National Cash Register. The outspokenly pro-Hitler, pro-Mussolini senior Angleton also headed the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Italy, and had extensive contacts with Mussolini's intelligence services. Some accounts report that he was a business partner of Allen Dulles. Both he and his son were to work for the special counterespionage unit of OSS, X-2, which had been set up at the demand of the British. Though it was nominally an American organization, the headquarters of X-2 for all of Europe, and even most of the globe, was London. X-2 was trained and de facto run throughout the war by the British, as its operatives were dispatched across Europe. From late 1943 through the first half of 1944, Lt. Col. James Hugh Angleton was X-2's liaison to Marshal Pietro Badoglio and other leaders of the Italian army, and to the army's intelligence service, building upon his excellent contacts in pre-war Italy.

The junior Angleton landed in Italy as an X-2 operative in October 1944. Borghese was one of his informants/agents from shortly thereafter, until the Italian government demanded that the OSS turn him over for prosecution. The U.S. mandated that the "operational resources" of the Italian police and all of the military intelligence and secret services be put at the disposal of X-2, which was led by Angleton. This, naturally, set the pattern for decades to come. Bespeaking his patronage by Dulles and the British, young Angleton rose from chief of the X-2 unit in Rome, to chief of all OSS counterespionage in Italy. By age 28, he was chief of all secret activity, intelligence as well as counterintelligence, in Italy for the Strategic Services Unit, the short-lived successor to OSS, and predecessor to the operational section of the CIA, which was established in 1947. In this he was aided immensely by the fact that many patriotic OSS officers, such as Max Corvo, head of OSS operations in Italy from 1943-45 and later a friend of Lyndon LaRouche, had been purged by the Dulles faction the day after FDR's death.

Essential to Angleton's activities, to the establishment of the first stay-behind units in Italy, and to the organization of the Vatican-linked "rat-lines" which smuggled fascists out of Europe at war's end, was the Sovereign Military Order of Malta (SMOM). The Rome-based SMOM was a nominally Catholic organization with membership drawn from the highest ranks of the European oligarchy, in particular Italy's black nobility. The SMOM awarded Angleton one of its highest decorations in 1946. A member of the "Black Prince's" family, S. Giacomo, Prince Borghese, had been a Bailiff Grand Cross of Honor of Devotion in the SMOM since 1932, while P2 founder Licio Gelli and several of his top members, including secret service heads, also belonged.

By 1949 Angleton was a special assistant to CIA chief Adm. Roscoe Hillenkoetter, and by 1955, CIA chief Allen Dulles (1953-61) had appointed him to head the counterintelligence department of the CIA. He held that post until he was fired by CIA chief William Colby in 1974, after having done untold damage to U.S. intelligence capabilities.⁵

As Angleton rose in U.S. intelligence, maintaining his close ties to Italy, NATO was constructing the foundations of Gladio. Under NSC directives issued in 1949 and 1950, the CIA helped the Italian police set up secret units of counterinsurgency specialists, largely drawn from veterans of Mussolini's secret police. A new military intelligence agency, SIFAR, was organized under the direction of a covert American intelligence operative, Carmel Offie, nicknamed "the godfather." Simultaneously, Borghese was organizing paramilitary units for use against the PCI, in coordination with CIA operatives under the purview of Angleton (who was formally assigned to Italy by Allen Dulles when Dulles became CIA chief in 1953). On Dec. 2, 1951, Borghese was named honorary president of the MSI, and in a speech to the party's convention, proclaimed that the MSI could not be "conscientious objectors" if the Cold War turned hot, as he expected. That same month, two MSI members travelled to NATO headquarters in Paris to swear their organization's allegiance to NATO. By 1952, the NATO-directed "Operation Demagnetize" was in place, and SIFAR was directed to adopt political and psychological operations against the PCI, including the covert use of armed force, to diminish the PCI's influence in all fields. The U.S. poured a staggering $4 billion into "anti-communist" Italy between 1948 and 1953.

Borghese and his old X MAS cadre figured prominently in these plans. Indeed, some people in U.S. intelligence had briefly toyed with the idea of promoting Borghese as a new King of Italy, until an uproar from the House of Savoy and its supporters forced them to drop the idea. The royalists and the MSI were often allies, and Borghese's X MAS had sometimes worked with the royalist Osoppo brigade during 1943-45. Greene and Massignani observe that, "Interestingly enough, the core of the future Gladio stay-behind organization started with the Osoppo partisans." Since Borghese's X MAS was also a chief recruiting ground for the early Gladio units, the wartime collaboration clearly continued.

In 1953, Borghese led some 500 MSI volunteers, among others, to launch an uprising in the north Adriatic city of Trieste, a city which was claimed by both Italy and Yugoslavia. Under the slogan "To Trieste with Valerio Borghese," Borghese re-enacted the 1919 march on Fiume by the fascist (and Martinist freemason) Gabriele D'Annunzio, a precursor to Mussolini's 1922 march on Rome. The neo-fascists acted on behalf of the "Committee for the Defense of Italians of Trieste and Istria," whose weapons were delivered by the Italian secret services. The following year, Trieste was returned to Italy.

In 1955, Borghese became president of the union of former soldiers of the SalÃ² Republic, a key recruiting ground for Gladio. He was later to become one of the leaders of the "Tricolor Committee for the Italianity of the Alto Adige." The Alto Adige, or South Tyrol, in Italy saw one of the earliest known uses of stay-behind units. Though Italian territory, the area was German-speaking, and a fruitful area for promoting ethnic conflict.

In 1956, NATO formally established Gladio. According to documents discovered in Italy in 1990, Gladio's forces there were divided into 40 main groups, 10 specialized in sabotage, 6 each in espionage, propaganda, evasion and escape tactics, and 12 in guerrilla activities. A special Gladio training camp was set up on Sardinia, off Italy's western coast, run by the Americans and the British.

That same year, 1956, U.S. Ambassador to Italy Clare Booth Luceâ€™a Dame of Malta and the wife of Time and Life magazine publisher Henry Luce, a key sponsor of the fascist Congress for Cultural Freedomâ€™"recommended" a fellow SMOM member, Gen. Giovanni De Lorenzo, as the new head of SIFAR. In 1962, the CIA helped install De Lorenzo as head of the Carabinieri, while he still maintained control over SIFAR. He began purging officers deemed not sufficiently "anti-communist," in either his eyes or those of U.S. military attachÃ© Vernon Walters.

CIA Rome station chief William Harvey, meanwhile, was recruiting "action teams" to throw bombs and attack leftists. These teams launched an attack on a peaceful demonstration in Rome in 1963, leaving 200 people injured and heavy damage to part of the city. The action was later linked to Gladio, in testimony by a general of the secret service.

In 1963, Borghese became president of the Banco di Credito Commerciale e Industriale, a very high-paying "ceremonial post" which was designed to build up his capabilities. The bank had been the very first one owned by the Sicilian financier Michele Sindona, a Fascist during World War II, who later laundered heroin funds for the Sicilian mafia, and then became a power in P2. Borghese's bank was involved with a "vast sector" of conservative economic interests, including the son of Dominican Republic dictator Rafael Trujillo, Franco's Spain, and reactionary circles in the Vatican and the Christian Democratic Party. Ultimately the bank collapsed, but Borghese got off almost scot-free. "What is significant," write Greene and Massignani, "is that Borghese clearly had many contacts on a national as well as an international scale. These connections extended to very high levels. It also appears that the financial wherewithal that he needed to survive may have come from such sources after the end of the war." The authors also note that his career closely parallels that of former SS commando Otto Skorzeny in Spain.

Series of Coups

From 1962 to 1964, the Synarchy initiated a phase change in international affairs with the Cuban Missiles Crisis, the assassination of President John F. Kennedy (and Enrico Mattei), the attempts on France's President Charles de Gaulle, and the launching of the war in Vietnam and the youth rock-drug-sex counterculture, among other things. Italy was not exempt.

As Prime Minister Aldo Moro in 1964 was negotiating his first government with Socialist participation, the synarchists unleashed a coup threat under the name "Plan Solo." Its chief public figure was State President Antonio Segni, and Borghese was a protagonist.

The usual accounts of Gladio-related coup threats invariably emphasize Moro's "opening to the left" as the reason for them. However, there is another reason, internal to Italy itself (in addition to the global ramifications of a coup in Italy), but one which is entirely coherent with the Synarchy's attempt to stop Italy's economic development. This other dimension emerges clearly in the account of Plan Solo by EIR counterterrorism and Italian affairs expert Claudio Celani: "Segni, a right-wing Christian Democrat, was manipulated by an intelligence officer, Col. Renzo Rocca, head of the economic division of SIFAR, the military secret service. Rocca (who, after his stint at SIFAR went to work at the automaker FIAT in Turin [of the oligarchical Agnelli family's ed.]) reported to Segni that the financial and economic establishment predicted a catastrophic economic crisis, if the Socialists joined the government. In reality, a few large monopolies (in the hands of the same families who had supported Mussolini's regime) feared that the new government would introduce reforms to break their power in real estate, energy, finance, and economic planning."

Advised by Rocca, Segni called the head of SIFAR, Gen. Giovanni de Lorenzo, and asked him to prepare a list of political leaders to be rounded up in case of an insurgency. De Lorenzo prepared "Plan Solo," which included a list of 731 individuals to be interned at the Gladio camp in Sardinia. Greene and Massignani observe, "Supporting the Carabinieri were politically sanitized civilians largely made up of former Decima Mas, paratroopers, and soldiers and sailors of the RSI [Salvatore Republic]." "Borghese was De Lorenzo's friend" and was scheduled to personally participate in the coup, according to Remo Orlandini, a top Borghese collaborator and heir to a shipbuilding empire. The coup did not eventuate, leaving a very "angry Borghese."

In early May 1965, a meeting took place at the Parco Dei Principi Hotel in Rome, which Italian prosecutors consider the planning meeting for the 1969-74 "Strategy of Tension." It was sponsored by an institute run by the chief of the general staff of Italy's armed forces, on the theme of "Revolutionary Warfare." Participants plotted how the alleged threat by the PCI must be forestalled by "counterrevolutionary war." (The PCI's vote totals were generally rising through the second half of the 1960s.) Present were leaders of the fascist terror groups, Avanguardia Nazionale (AN) and Ordine Nuovo (ON), pro-fascist journalists, the military, and various secret services. One of the fascist journalists present was Guido Giannettini, also an operative of the Italian secret services, who four years earlier had taught a seminar at the U.S. Naval Academy on "The Techniques and Prospects of a Coup." Though Borghese himself was not present, his lieutenant Stefano Delle Chiaie, the nominal chief of AN, was. Delle Chiaie had probably been recruited by the UAR secret unit of Italy's Interior Ministry as early as 1960, and was to be Borghese's chief lieutenant in the 1970 coup plot.

During the 1960s through his coup attempt in 1970, Borghese either founded or was intimately involved in at least three fascist terror organizations: Delle Chiaie's AN; the ON; and the Fronte Nazionale (FN), which Borghese founded in 1968 for the sole purpose, according to a document of SID (as SIFAR was renamed after 1965), "to subvert the institutions of the state by means of a coup." Two of these were represented at the Parco Dei Principi meeting. All three were run by operatives of NATO or Italy's clandestine services, notably the UAR and SIFAR/SID. Borghese lieutenant Delle Chiaie was almost certainly a UAR agent, and "AN itself was suspected of being the creation of UAR." Greene and Massignani report that "many members of the FN, ON, and AN had been trained in disinformation and guerrilla warfare at the special [NATO] camp in Sardinia," while ON bomber Vincenzo Vinciguerra charged that the "right-wing movements such as AN or ON were not only connected with Italian and NATO secret services, but manned by them."

NATO interventions were not limited to Italy. In Greece in 1967, despite a wave of terror, the left-of-center Center Union under former Prime Minister George Papandreou was expected to return to power. On the night of April 20-21, 1967, the Greek military pulled a coup. It involved the Greek stay-behind army, LOK, and was based on the Prometheus plan, a NATO contingency plan for combatting a "communist insurgency." The coup was partially financed by P2's Michele Sindona, and, before long, Italians were being sent to Greece for paramilitary training.

By 1968, Gladio had stepped up its training at the NATO base in Sardinia. "Within a few years, 4,000 graduates had been placed in strategic posts. At least 139 arms caches, including some at Carabinieri barracks, were at their disposal," reported Arthur E. Rowse, who has examined Gladio's Italian operations in depth. Terrorism exploded in Italy, with 147 attacks in 1968, another 398 in 1969, and peaked at 2,498 in 1978. Borghese's efforts were a key part of this.

One of the first members of the FN, Borghese's project for a state "beyond the center, right and left," was P2 boss and Knight of Malta Licio Gelli. Like Borghese, Gelli had fought for Franco and Mussolini, and was recruited by SIFAR in the 1950s. Gelli was the "main intermediary" between the CIA and De Lorenzo.

In the FN, Borghese was known as "the Commander," and he established "action groups" all over the country. The FN (like the AN) had a two-part structure: "A" groups, which were the public side of FN, and clandestine "B" groups, whose existence was usually unknown even to the members of their respective A groups. The B groups were to be used in terrorism, in the "Strategy of Tension" aimed at producing a change in the Italian government, which exploded with the Piazza Fontana massacre on Dec. 12, 1969, in which 16 were killed and 58 wounded. Members of the Borghese-connected ON were arrested on suspicion of the crime, but cover-ups run by P2 and the secret services ensured their release.

The terror and coup attempts escalated after U.S. President Nixon took office in 1969. His National Security Advisor Henry Kissinger issued orders to Licio Gelli through Kissinger's deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig, and Gelli maintained many high-level contacts in the U.S. Republican Party. The synarchist Kissinger was bitterly opposed to a sovereign Italy. With the Socialist Party in the government at the time, the United States opened the financial spigots to "anti-communist" forces—including the neo-Fascist MSI—and poured in $10 million in 1970 alone. "The money funneled to [U.S. Ambassador Graham] Martin came through the Vatican banker and Borghese's friend and patron, Sindona," observe Greene and Massignani.

On June 1, 1970, Borghese appointed Delle Chiaie to head the "B" groups, and moved forward with plans for a coup. U.S. Ambassador Martin handled some of the funding, through his chief contact, Gen. Vito Miceli, who took over as head of the SID in October 1970. Before he became head of the SID, Miceli had met with Borghese several times at the home of Remo Orlandini, Borghese lieutenant and shipbuilding heir. Martin was no ordinary diplomatic appointee: The fiercely right-wing Colonel Martin had just come from the Embassy in Thailand, where he had strong-armed the Thai government into joining the United States in Vietnam, and he would leave Italy in 1973 to take up the post in Saigon. During 1970, Martin maintained multiple liaisons with Borghese, including through FN operative Pier Talenti, who owned a bus company that would be utilized in the coup attempt, and through probable CIA operative Hugh Fenwich, who was meeting with Orlandini.

Borghese set up the political and military headquarters for the coup in Rome, the military one at one of Orlandini's shipyards. On the night of Dec. 7, 1970, a group of 50 AN paramilitaries led by Delle Chiaie was let into the Interior Ministry's armory at the instruction of Angleton's old recruit, UAR head Federico D'Amato. According to newspaper accounts, Angleton himself arrived in Rome just before the coup attempt, and left just afterwards. Other troops moved into place in Rome, Milan, and elsewhere, and the mafia in Calabria was scheduled to don Carabinieri uniforms and play a role. Borghese prepared a statement to be read on TV to justify the coup, and he intended for Italian troops to be sent to Vietnam. At the last minute, he received a phone call and called off the coup.

Borghese fled to Franco's Spain, where his activities until his death in 1974 remain mysterious. It is known that he and Delle Chiaie met dictator Gen. Augusto Pinochet in Chile on April 29, 1974. Also present was the head of Chilean police intelligence, Col. Jorge Carrasco, a protagonist in Operation Condor's tortures and murder. Borghese died in Spain in 1974. Delle Chiaie said that he was poisoned, apparently because investigations into the 1970 coup were under way in Italy. After Franco's death the following year, Delle Chiaie left for Chile, to play a key role in Operation Condor, then continued that work in Bolivia, in conjunction with the infamous Gestapo chief Klaus Barbie.

NATO's Assassination Bureau

The extent of terrorism, assassinations, and the re-shaping of Europe's political landscape through Gladio and related, NATO-directed units is stunning.

However, a vital caveat must be added here. The apparatus behind the "strategy of tension" terror that destabilized Europe over much of the Cold War era, was first and foremost a private synarchist apparatus embedded in the NATO and national secret service organizations, including "official" clandestine agencies like Gladio. These "parallel" networks, populated by veterans of the wartime Fascist and Nazi apparatus, and associated with secret societies like P-2, and fronts like Rosa dei Venti and Nuclei di Difesa dello Stato, at times had their agents posted in top positions in the "official" structures, creating the dangerously tempting but false appearance that the official agencies per se—including NATO—were directing the terror/destabilization programs.

Confusion on this point is both dangerous and understandable. When the P-2 membership list was revealed in the early 1980s, following the death of banker Roberto Calvi, it became clear that the secret lodge had penetrated virtually the entire security apparatus and political party structures of Italy and several other countries of Europe and Ibero-America.

The carnage carried out by this "parallel" apparatus was stunning. In Italy alone, the chief theater of Gladio warfare, there were 14,591 "acts of violence with a political motivation," according to Italian Sen. Giovanni Pellegrino, head of the Parliamentary Committee on the Failed Identification of the Authors of Terrorist Massacres ("Terrorism Committee," in operation 1994-2001, which looked into both Gladio and the P2 lodge). "It may be worth remembering that these `acts' have left behind 491 dead and 1,181 injured and maimed, figures of a war, with no parallel in any other European country."

Besides NATO's Gladio base in Sardinia, logistical support for Gladio in Italy and France was run out of a NATO front in dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's Portugal, Aginter Press, which also ran the stay-behind units there. It was headed by a former member of the anti-de Gaulle, pro-fascist Secret Army Organization (OAS), Yves Guerin Serac, who moved to Portugal after de Gaulle surrendered Algeria. Said Guerin Serac, belying the goals of his synarchist masters, "After the OAS I fled to Portugal to carry on the fight and expand it to its proper dimensions—which is to say, a planetary dimension." He outlined his plan to "defeat communism," using NATO-organized "communist terrorism" as the excuse:

"In the first phase of our political activity we must create chaos in all structures of the regime. Two forms of terrorism can provoke such a situation: The blind terrorism (committing massacres indiscriminately which cause a large number of victims), and the selective terrorism (eliminate chosen persons). This destruction of the state must be carried out as much as possible under the cover of `communist activities.' After that, we must intervene at the heart of the military, the juridical power and the church, in order to influence popular opinion, suggest a solution, and clearly demonstrate the weakness of the present legal apparatus. . . . Popular opinion must be polarized in such a way, that we are being represented as the only instrument capable of saving the nation. It is obvious that we will need considerable financial resources to carry out such operations."

Aginter Press's representative in Italy, according to the ON's Vincenzo Vinciguerra, was Stefano Delle Chiaie. Delle Chiaie "allegedly carried out well over a thousand bloodthirsty attacks, including an estimated 50 murders in Spain," according to Daniele Ganser.

In assassinations within Portugal or its colonies, Aginter Press worked with the Portuguese secret service, PIDE. According to Portuguese journalists, it was involved in the assassination of Eduardo Mondlane, president of the Mozambican Liberation Front (Frelimo) in 1969, and of Amilcar Cabral, national liberation leader in Guinea-Bissau in 1973. And, according to the most recent revelations from former Italian Sen. Sergio Flamigni, the "parallel" apparatus coordinated the kidnap and assassination of former Prime Minister Aldo Moro through its Red Brigades unit on March 16, 1978, the day on which a PCI-supported DC government under Giulio Andreotti was finally going to be sworn in.

Were the Synarchist networks infiltrated into the NATO and Gladio structures involved in other assassinations of heads of state or government, as well?

The Nov. 22, 1963 assassination of President John F. Kennedy was coordinated by the Rome and New Orleans-headquartered Permindex corporation, which French intelligence, SDECE, discovered had also put up $200,000 for an attempt on de Gaulle. Even a cursory examination of the hard-core fascist outlook and connections of most of the Permindex/CMC personnel, their numerous ties to high-level Anglo-American intelligence, along with their financial connections, leaves no doubt that Permindex and its Rome-based arm, Centro Mondiale Commerciale (CMC), were part of the parallel NATO/Gladio structure.

Permindex was registered in Berne, Switzerland, Dulles's old stomping grounds. It was chaired by a high-ranking veteran of the Special Operations Executive (SOE) and the OSS, the Canada-based lawyer and financier, Louis Mortimer Bloomfield, the majority shareholder in Permindex (who also owned 50% of CMC). Its board was a mélange of devout "anti-communists," aristocrats, and fascists of various intelligence pedigrees. These included Count Guitierrez di Spadafora, former undersecretary of agriculture to Mussolini, secretary of a British-sponsored Sicilian separatist movement, and in-law of Hjalmar Schacht, the master financier of the postwar Nazi International; Carlo d'Amelio, a Rome attorney who oversaw the financial holdings of the House of Savoy, and, according to some accounts, also of the Pallavicini family, and was the founding president of the CMC; Giuseppe Zigiotti, head of the Fascist National Association for Militia Arms; several other wartime fascists; and former OSS London and SOE veteran Col. Clay Shaw, the operations officer for the assassination.

Permindex was chaired by Canada's Bloomfield, while its international arm, CMC, was based in Rome, and Clay Shaw's firm in New Orleans, International Trade Mart, was a subsidiary of Permindex/CMC. According to documents released through the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), OSS veteran Shaw worked for the CIA, as well. There was ample evidence of Shaw's involvement in the assassination, for which he was indicted by New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison. Notably, one of the names found in Shaw's personal phone book was that of Princess Marcella Borghese, a member of the Black Prince's family. And one of the lower-level figures in the ambit of the plot, Dallas nightclub owner Jack Ruby (who assassinated patsy Lee Harvey Oswald), charged repeatedly in letters from jail, that "the Nazis and the Fascists were behind the Kennedy murder." According to the highly credible Torbitt manuscript, "Ruby was much more knowledgeable about the conspiracy than most."

Huge financial resources flowed through Permindex/CMC for no commercial purpose. Some of these funds, at least, were provided through banks which had earlier financed the Nazis, including one intimately associated with Allen Dulles from the time of his 1930s work with

Nazi cartels, through to his 1953-61 stint as CIA chief. Some hints of where the money was going could be found in French and Italian press reports that CMC official Ferenc Nagy, the fiercely anti-communist former Prime Minister of Hungary, was financing Jacques Soustelle and the OAS, along with other European fascist movements; or in New Orleans District Attorney Garrison's observation about "Shaw's secret life as an Agency [CIA] man trying to bring Fascism back to Italy."⁶

NATO units were also involved in at least some of the numerous assassination attempts on France's President Charles de Gaulle in 1962-63, which was no doubt a factor in de Gaulle's withdrawing France from NATO's military command in 1966. France, after all, had been a key target of NATO's "Operation Demagnetize" in the 1950s, and the "anti-communist," bitterly anti-de Gaulle OAS operatives like Guerin Serac, were natural partners of NATO. Adm. Pierre Lacoste, director of the France's military secret service DGSE (1982-85), admitted after Andreotti had exposed Gladio's existence in 1990, that some "terrorist actions" against de Gaulle and his plans to liberate Algeria were carried out by groups involving "a limited number of people" from the French Gladio organization!

A five-year investigation by France's SDECE intelligence agency of a 1962 assassination plot against de Gaulle found that the assassination had been planned in the Brussels headquarters of NATO by a specific group of British and French generals, who employed former fascists for the planned network.

And then, there is the case of Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme, who was assassinated on Feb. 28, 1986 in Stockholm. While there is no hard proof that parallel Gladio networks were involved, it has been suspected by Swedish investigative journalists. On April 28, 1992, Sweden's top daily, Dagens Nyheter, carried the headline: "A Top-Secret Intelligence Network Within NATO Is Behind the Death of Olof Palme." Journalist Goran Beckerus charged that the operative branch of NATO's Allied Clandestine Committee, known by its initials SOPS, oversaw the assassination under the code name "Operation Tree."

The Aristocracy and the Knights of Malta

In order to discover the real authors of international terrorism, we must move into territory at which Greene and Massignani only hint.

Time and again, Italian investigators of Gladio and P2 have suggested that the evidence before them was only the superficial tracings of a far-reaching, well-established power structure's activity. For instance, Senator Pellegrino, head of the Italian Parliament's "Terrorism Committee," is convinced that P2 Grand Master Gelli was the front man for hidden circles of far greater power; that if P2 were a "port," then Gelli, who has recently resurfaced to brag that he is "running the country," would be merely the "Port Authority." Who, or what, constitutes this greater power? From outside the country, it is the Anglo-American synarchists. But Gladio and the embedded "parallel Gladio" could not possibly function within Italy only by recruiting leaders of secret services; its protection had to involve some of the most powerful forces inside Italy itself.

Greene and Massignani note that the X MAS "which became a key component of Gladio" counted among its leadership a number of Italy's top aristocrats, though they name only two: the "Black Prince" himself, and the claimant to the throne of Italy, Prince Aimone, Duke of Aosta. In fact, the Duke was favored by many of Rome's black nobility over Victor Emmanuel III, who reigned from 1900-45, and who therefore was King during the era of Mussolini, who was nominally the King's prime minister. The recognized leader of Italy's black nobility, Princess Elvina Pallavicini, once proclaimed, "The Duke of Aosta would have been much better, but now we are stuck with Victor Emmanuel." How many other aristocrats among the X MAS leadership also became key figures, like Borghese, in NATO's Gladio organization?

It is certain, that aristocrats played vital roles in one of the "parallel" Gladio's most infamous operations, the kidnapping and assassination of Aldo Moro. Looked at more carefully, that is no real surprise: Members of the most powerful international organization of the world's aristocracy, the SMOM, played essential roles in the establishment of the Vatican/British intelligence/CIA "rat-lines" and other crucial "anti-communist" activities at the end of World War II. Allen Dulles and James Angleton were SMOM members. Numerous SMOM members were also prominent in the P2 lodge; however, of the two organizations, the SMOM is incomparably the more senior and powerful; in fact, from available evidence, P2 is more appropriately thought of as an "operational" spin-off of the SMOM. Let us briefly look at the role of these aristocrats in the Moro assassination, and then in more detail at the SMOM itself.

The Gladio structure was named after the short Roman sword, gladio. When Aldo Moro was killed on May 9, 1978, ostensibly by the Red Brigades, he was dumped outside a Roman stadium where gladiators used to fight to the death. The symbolic connection was clear, as emphasized by investigative journalist and sometime mouthpiece for elements within the SID, Mino Pecorelli. The Red Brigades leader in charge of the operation was Mario Moretti. Former Senator Flamigni has documented in a recent book, that Moretti was a protégé almost from childhood of an important aristocratic family, the Casati Stampa. The Marchesa Annamaria Casati Stampa kept several neo-Fascist youth as lovers, one of whom was probably Moretti, whose high school education she paid for. Under Gladio direction, the neo-Fascist Moretti later turned into a "leftist" and headed the Red Brigades.⁷ Connections to Fascism ran deep in the Casati Stampa family: her husband's uncle, Alessandro, had been a minister in Mussolini's first government, and then, when Mussolini was dumped, became a minister in the first royalist government.

The closest friend of the Casati Stampa family was Liberal Party Sen. Giorgio Bergamasco. Bergamasco, in turn, was one of the founders of the Committee of Democratic Resistance, led by Piedmontese aristocrat Count Edgardo Sogno Rata del Vallino. Sogno had fought for Franco during the Spanish Civil War, and then for Mussolini, and in 1943 went over to the British SOE. He was also on the payroll of Allen Dulles for years for 10 million liras a month, and his Committee became another nucleus of the extended Gladio organization. Sogno led an attempted coup in 1974, which was foiled by Defense Minister Giulio Andreotti. Flamigni demonstrated in his book how the hardline Moretti-led faction of the Red Brigades was in reality run by Sogno's NATO-controlled organization.

Shortly after Moro's assassination, LaRouche's associates in Italy published a pamphlet, "Who Killed Aldo Moro?" which drew attention to the oligarchical Caetani family in Rome, near whose palace Moro's body had been found. Later investigations by others charged that the actual head of Gladio was the English aristocrat Hubert Howard, a British intelligence official in World War II and for decades afterwards, who had married Princess Lelia Caetani, daughter of Roffredo Caetani, 17th Duke of Sermoneta. Howard and his wife lived in the Caetani palace, as did one Igor Markevich, a double or triple agent of Western, Israeli, and Soviet intelligence services. He and Howard were leaders of high-level "esoteric" masonry, and, according to some accounts, had led the "negotiations" with the Red Brigades for the freedom of Moro—a convenient cover for constant liaison. British intelligence veteran Howard was also named by some as the secret head of Gladio. The account is credible. Howard was a member of one of the most powerful families in Britain, the Dukes of Norfolk, and the Catholic Howards had had intimate connections with the Italian aristocracy, particularly of Venice, since at least the 18th Century. His mother, for instance, was a member of the powerful Giustiniani family of Venice and Genoa, which claimed descent from Emperor Justinian. One Howard had been the Cardinal-Bishop of Frascati outside Rome in the 19th Century, a post held a couple of centuries earlier by a Caetani. Although long a power in the Church—Benedetto Caetani was crowned Pope Boniface VIII at the end of the 13th Century—the Caetani were part of the nominally "enlightened" wing of Italy's aristocracy by the 20th Century, and still wielded great influence under Mussolini and afterwards.

No account of the Italian aristocracy's role in promoting fascism and terrorism can omit the role of Princess Elvina Pallavicini. As head of the integrist international association of Catholic nobility, "Noblesse et Tradition," Pallavicini was a chief sponsor, both in Rome and worldwide, of the schismatic Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre, who was excommunicated by Pope John Paul II in 1988. Until her recent death, the Princess was also a chief sponsor of neo-Fascist groups in Italy, including setting the stage for the emergence of former porn star Alessandra Mussolini, granddaughter of Il Duce, as the candidate for an electoral coalition of neo-Fascist parties.

The Sovereign Military Order of Malta

Wherever one turns in investigating P2, Gladio, the "black aristocracy," international terrorism, or the Nazi International, one encounters the SMOM—the Sovereign Military and Hospitaller Order of St. John of Jerusalem, of Rhodes, and of Malta, known as "the Knights of St. John" or the "Knights of Malta."

They were omnipresent in the establishment of the financial and human infrastructure of modern international terrorism already during World War II, and immediately thereafter. SMOM member Baron Luigi Parilli, an industrialist with high-level connections into both Hitler's SS and SD in Italy, and to Mussolini's intelligence services, was the main liaison between SS Gen. Karl Wolff and Allen Dulles in Berne. SMOM bestowed one of its highest awards, Gran Croce Al Merito Con Placca, on U.S. Ambassador to Italy Ellery Stone, who had saved Borghese, and who became a postwar vice-president of the ITT corporation, which helped organize the Sept. 11, 1973 overthrow of Chilean President Salvador Allende and the installation of dictator Gen. Augusto Pinochet. The SMOM awarded its Croce Al Merito Seconda Classe to Italy's OSS chief James Jesus Angleton in 1946, around the same time it honored his boss, Allen Dulles. The following year, it bestowed the Gran Croce al Merito con Placca upon Hitler's Eastern Front intelligence chief Reinhard Gehlen, one of only four recipients of this award at the time. Gehlen's brother was the secretary to Thun Hohenstein, one of the five-member ruling Sovereign Council of the order. As head of the Institute for Associated Emigrations, Hohenstein printed some 2,000 passports, which were used to relocate leading Nazis to safe hiding places around the world.

Other leading Knights included CIA chiefs Allen Dulles, John McCone, and William Casey. Nazi International figure Otto Skorzeny was a Knight, as was businessman J. Peter Grace, who used the SMOM's diplomatic immunity as a cover for Iran-Contra activities.

Numerous leaders of Italy's military intelligence organization were members of both SMOM and P2, including Gen. Giuseppe Santovito (former head of SISMI, which replaced SID after 1977), Adm. Giovanni Torrisi, Chief of the General Staff of the Army, and Gen. Giovanni Allavena, head of SIFAR. Another key P2 member who was a Knight was Count Umberto Ortolani, a member of the SMOM's ruling inner council, and a veteran of Mussolini's counterespionage service. Some say he was the real brains behind P2, and he did sponsor the entrance of P2 boss Licio Gelli into the SMOM. Ortolani was a financier who, among other things, owned the second-largest bank in Uruguay, where he commanded enormous influence; the fascist Gelli had been in exile in Ibero-America until higher powers brought him back to Italy in the early 1960s to set up what became the P2 lodge.

As with any organization, not all of its members are guilty, and sometimes not even witting of the organization's crimes. In this case, however, given the nature of the beast, that would be relatively rare. Besides the repeated surfacing of SMOM members in terrorist-related activities near the end of World War II, one of their more recent operations illustrates the organization's essential nature.

In 1978, following hard upon the assassinations of Dresdner Bank head Jürgen Ponto, German industrialist Hanns-Martin Schleyer, and Aldo Moro, the Knights of Malta were caught red-handed coordinating an assassination operation against Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr. LaRouche was the intellectual author of the Bremen summit of that year, where French President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing, West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, and British Prime Minister James Callaghan (the last under duress) signed the Bremen Communiqué, which announced the formation of the European Monetary System. The EMS, in the words of one West German official, was intended to be "the seed crystal of a new world monetary system." Bremen struck horror into the hearts of the world's oligarchy. Said one senior officer of the Banque Bruxelles-Lambert, owned by the Belgian Rothschilds, "It is recognized that it was LaRouche's program that went through at Bremen. If it goes through now, certain important financial centers are going to lose their power. A lot of people are not going to like that." The director of a Knights-run institute in Belgium was more succinct: "LaRouche is the first enemy of the London group." In New York, Knight Henry S. Bloch, director of Warburg, Pincus investment bank, whose hands investigators discovered to be holding many of the strings of the plot, proclaimed LaRouche to be "very dangerous," and pointedly compared him to Malcolm X, assassinated in 1965.

In their investigations of the SMOM, LaRouche's associates "discovered to their surprise that the mere mention of its name inspires awe and terror in the minds of highly placed government officials, central bankers, senior military and business leaders, and senior diplomatic and intelligence executives," as recorded in a pamphlet issued by the LaRouche organization at the time, "The 'Black International' Terrorist Assassination Plot to Kill Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr." The pamphlet further reported, "The power that the Order concentrates is primarily financial, through direct control of most of the Western world's leading investment houses" and far, far more. The pamphlet also noted, "A second source of power is an absolutely unmatched intelligence capability." Which is to say, the SMOM is a leading organizational arm of the Synarchy, bringing together the world's leading aristocrats, financiers, and particularly military and intelligence officials. Its members yearn for the ultramontane world which existed before the rise of sovereign nation-states during the Renaissance, which meant a loss of power and privilege of their families. To them, that vanished world is as if yesterday. Indeed, it has by no means entirely disappeared, but lives on, centered "like the Knights themselves" on the Venetian-descended "independent central banks" of virtually every nation in the world, as LaRouche has emphasized.

The Knights of St. John were founded in the late 11th Century, and rose to prominence in the First Crusade of 1095. In 1120, Pope Urban II officially recognized them as a military religious order, and for centuries they remained one of the most powerful military forces in Christendom, first from their headquarters on the island of Rhodes, and then on Malta, from which they were finally driven by Napoleon in the late 18th Century. The Knights were recognized as a sovereign state by a Hapsburg Emperor in the 16th Century. They remain a sovereign state, run from their headquarters at 68 Via Condotti in Rome. They maintain their own fleet of aircraft, have diplomatic relations with 92 nations as well as the United Nations and the Holy See, and enjoy diplomatic immunity. The order is entirely Roman Catholic, and its higher ranks must document an aristocratic lineage and coat-of-arms of at least three centuries. The Grand Master of the order is both a secular prince, and a cardinal of the Church. Reflecting its history, its membership is still heavily comprised of individuals with a military or intelligence background. Pope Pius XII ordered an investigation of this nominally Catholic organization in the 1950s. The Papal Commission charged, among other things, that the Order should not have the sovereignty of a state, and ordered modifications of the SMOM "to bring them into conformity with decisions of the Holy See." However, Pius XII died before the Order could be fully reined in.

In addition to the Roman Catholic SMOM, there are four Protestant orders of the Knights, all founded within the last 150 years or so, and all run by ruling houses of Europe. The Roman Catholic and Protestant orders effectively merged on Nov. 26, 1963, four days after the assassination of John F. Kennedy. The Sovereign Head of the British Knights is Queen Elizabeth, while the Netherlands Knights were headed until his death by the former SS official, Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, consort of Queen Juliana.

In 1927, the Rome-based SMOM authorized the establishment of an American chapter, whose members did not have to prove their aristocratic lineage. Its Treasurer and lay controller was John J. Raskob, the bitterly anti-FDR head of the Democratic National Committee, who in 1934 helped finance a coup attempt against Roosevelt. Its Grand Protector and Spiritual Advisor was Cardinal Francis Spellman of New York, one of whose closest Cold War associates was Time/Life publisher and Congress for Cultural Freedom co-founder Henry Luce.

Another Knight, who played a profound role in Italy's postwar financial, economic and political history was Prince Massimo Spada, the leading lay financier of the Vatican's Institute for Religious Works, commonly called the "Vatican Bank." Spada gave the mafia-connected heroin launderer and later P2 financier Michele Sindona his entrée into the Vatican's finances, which, given the tax-sheltered, sovereign status of the Church within Italy (as negotiated in the 1929 Concordat between Mussolini and the Holy See), was invaluable for running all kinds of dirty operations.

However, in examining the Vatican, one must always be careful to ask, "Whose Vatican? That of all the modern popes? Or that of the black aristocracy?" And to really unravel that question, insofar as it intersects Ortolani, Gelli, Calvi, Spada, and their "Vatican-connected" associates, and the deeper, "permanent" infrastructure of terror in Italy, one must delve deeply into history, particularly that of Venice, to understand the enormous power still wielded by those whom Pope John Paul I, called "the ancients," during the time he was Patriarch of Venice. After all, as LaRouche has stressed, those "ancients" of Venice have given us the modern Anglo-Dutch parliamentary system, with its privately controlled central banks, and the Synarchy's present drive for world rule. Under Anglo-American direction, those Venetian "ancients" also brought Mussolini to power in the first place, and then organized the financial world of the Vatican, into which Ortolani, Gelli, Calvi et al. were inserted.

The Legacy of History: The Venetian Factor

In 1582, the 40 or so families which controlled the vast fortunes and far-flung intelligence capabilities of Venice, split into two factions: the nuovi (the "new" houses, or families) and the vecchi (the "old" houses). On the surface, the appellations seemed to refer to those families ennobled since the serrata, the closing of the Grand Council in 1297, who were called the nuovi; whereas those who had already held titles of nobility, were the vecchi. In fact, the upheaval was the result of the establishment of sovereign nation-states for the first time in history, as a consequence of the Renaissance. The city-state of Venice, never more than 200,000 people, could not stand against the new powers that were coming into being, founded to promote the Common Good of their citizenry; the sheer numbers, the science and technology, the military power, were too much for even the powerful and devious masters of La Serenissima (as Venice is famously called).

The nuovi realized that, notwithstanding the bloody religious warfare which Venice had unleashed in Europe following the failure of the League of Cambrai to defeat Venice in 1511, its days were ultimately numbered. They took several strategic actions. First, under the leadership of Paolo Sarpi, they created the philosophy of empiricism, as a sense-certainty-based fraud whose purpose was to destroy the creative method of Platonic hypothesizing. Second, also under Sarpi's leadership, they launched a fierce war against the Vatican, posing as the bastion of "enlightened" Europe against obscurantist Rome. Third, they brought the newly emerging Protestant powers England and Holland (whose rise came largely thanks to Venice itself), into what had always been the cornerstone of Venice's fortunes—its trade with the East Indies. The Venetians founded the British East India Company in 1600 (from a merger of the England-based Venice Company and the Turkey Company) and the Dutch East India Company in 1602, and the wealth derived from this trade helped create or enrich a number of great aristocratic families in both countries, along the Venetian model. And, as LaRouche has often emphasized, the British East India Company became the foremost power in the world in 1763, in the wake of the British-rigged Seven Years' War among contending European powers, in the classic Venetian "divide and conquer" method. Fourth, they moved much of their fortunes (and even some of their families) north, first into Holland, and then into England, where they created what would be known in the 18th Century as "the Venetian Party." As part of this, they established the famous Wisselbank (Exchange Bank) of Amsterdam in 1609â€”the most powerful bank in the worldâ€”modelled upon their own private, patrician-controlled banks, followed by the Bank of England in 1694, both serving as the models upon which all central banks have been established since then.

In part because of these redeployments, Venice's financial power remained huge well into the 18th Century, as did its legendary spy system, brilliantly chronicled by Friedrich Schiller in his novella Der Geisterseher (The Ghost-Seer), and American intelligence operative James Fenimore Cooper in his novel The Bravo.⁸ Barings Bank in England, the bank of the British East India Company, for instance, was the vehicle for Venetian funds in Britain, and was at the center of the "Venetian Party," together with the Bank of England.

Napoleon Bonaparte had been partially sponsored and funded by Venetian and Genoese families: The Genoese Princess Pallavicini of that era famously punned that her family owned "la buona parte"â€”"the best part"â€”of him. His Corsican family had been retainers for the Genoese and Venetian nobility for centuries; and, as noted above, his favorite sister married a Borghese. When Napoleon's ravages had ended, Count Giovanni Capodistria, a Venetian nobleman acting as a government minister of Russia, almost single-handedly wrote the essential documents issued by the 1814-15 Congress of Vienna, which established the ultra-reactionary Holy Alliance. Capodistria also pulled together the modern nation of Switzerland, in part as a repository for Venetian family funds (fondi), which were also used to found several insurance companies in the late 18th Century. These later included the Riunione Adriatica di SicurtÃ (RAS) and the Assicurazioni Generali di Venezia e Trieste.⁹

At the turn of the 20th Century, the "ancients" of Venice, although diminished, still commanded important financial and intelligence power, both on their own behalf, but also because they deployed as part of the British- (and subsequently Anglo-American-) dominated world which their ancestors had created. In the wake of the split/redeployments of 1582, they cloned themselves and their institutions and methods to dominate northern Protestant, often freemasonic Europe, while they still maintained their power in their historic seats of control in the formerly Hapsburg-ruled southern, more Catholic portions of Europe, in particular in Italy and Spain, and in the Church at Rome. They played a crucial role in organizing the Balkan Wars which laid the immediate basis for World War I, for which Britain's King Edward VII had schemed for decades. In the early 20th Century, a group of Venetian financier patricians, led by Count Piero Foscari of an ancient family of Venetian Doges, established a number of companies and banks. Chief among the latter, was the Banca Commerciale Italiana (BCI), and in particular its Venice branch.¹⁰

Though Foscari was the undisputed leader of this Venetian group, its most active public figure was Giuseppe Volpi, later known as Count Giuseppe Volpi di Misurata, after his early-1920s rule of Italian-occupied Libya on behalf of Mussolini. Acting as the point-man for an international financial syndicate including the Bank of England, the Mellons, and the House of Morgan, Volpi organized Mussolini's rise to power, precisely as Schacht did later for those same forces in installing Hitler in Germany. Volpi was Mussolini's Finance Minister from 1925 to July 1928, following which he became a member of the Grand Council of Fascism, and, in 1934, chairman of the Industrialists Association. He designed Mussolini's economic doctrine of corporatism along the model originally laid down by Alexandre Saint-Yves d'Alveydre (1842-1909), the founder of the Synarchy of Empire movement, and the inspiration for the Martinist freemasonic lodges through which the modern Synarchy was organized. Nominally a tripartite pact among corporations, the state, and labor, it was basically rule by corporations, i.e., private financiers.

In 1929, Volpi oversaw the famous Concordat between Italy and the Vatican, in which, among other things, Italy recognized the Vatican as a sovereign state, and paid financial compensation for the Papal States in central Italy which it had taken over in the second half of the 19th Century. The compensation was 1,550 billion liras, a sizeable sum at the time. One Bernardino Nogara was chosen, seemingly "out of the blue," to manage this fortune. The prominent American diplomat George Kennan wrote in his Memoirs: 1925-1950 about the extraordinary power commanded by Nogara: "A so-called 'mystery man,' an Italian banker by the name of Bernardino Nogara, had been granted sole control by the papacy over the entire fortune of $92.1 million the church had received from the Lateran treaty. . . . No Vatican official, not even the Pope himself was allowed veto power over Nogara's decision. Nor would the banker permit any religious or doctrinal policies of the church to stand in his way. . . . Never before in modern Church history had anyone been granted such sweeping authority by the church, not even popes themselves, with all their supposed infallibility, let alone a layman, and non-Catholic (Jewish), as in Nogara's case." His impact on the Church may also be judged by the epitaph delivered upon his death in 1958 by the head of the SMOM in America, New York's Cardinal Spellman: "Next to Jesus Christ, the greatest thing to happen to the Catholic Church is Bernardino Nogara."

Whether or not he was Jewish, the "mystery man" was no mystery at all. Nogara had been managing director for a Venetian firm run by Foscari, Volpi, et al. in the Ottoman Empire already back in 1901. Reflecting his Venetian ties, Nogara became Italy's representative on the Ottoman Debt Council, a sort of IMF for the Ottoman Empire, whose purpose was to bleed it and carve it up. The British sponsored freemasonic lodges in Salonika, from which the "Young Turks" were organized to oust the Sultan. The freemason Volpi was intimately involved in the coup, as, undoubtedly, was Nogara. Nogara was the head of the BCI branch in Istanbul, and was Volpi's chief intelligence agent in the Ottoman Empire until that empire disappeared in the World War I which Volpi and his friends had done so much to help organize, through the masonic lodges and through Venice's ancient financial and familial ties in the Balkans.

After Nogara had been chosen Delegate of the Special Administration (later known as the Administration of the Holy See Patrimony) to oversee the investment of the wealth flowing from the Concordat, he became vice president of the BCI, upon whose postwar premises the P2 lodge would be founded. Nogara established intimate financial relations with the cream of the Synarchy, including the Paris and London Rothschilds, Cr dit Suisse, Hambros Bank in London, J.P. Morgan Bank, and the Bankers Trust Company in New York, and the Paris-centered Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas (Paribas), a stronghold of the Synarchy in France in the interwar and postwar years. He also promoted a cadre of uomini di fiducia, "men of confidence," Vatican lay Catholic or even non-Catholic financiers, who would oversee the enormous new Vatican holdings. Nogara bought large or controlling interests in dozens of major banks, utilities, insurance companies, and industrial corporations, even as he reorganized previous Vatican holdings, such as the "Catholic banks" which were generally Catholic-owned, and which did business with the Church and its officials, as opposed to the "secular" banks.

The most important of these "men of confidence" was Prince Massimo Spada (a Vatican title), who had been inducted as a Knight of Malta in 1944. Spada either chaired or sat on the board of an astounding array of the holdings Nogara purchased. Noting only a few of the more important (and their capital), as of the late 1960s, these included: He was vice-president of the Banco di Roma (one of Italy's largest banks, historically associated with Rome's black nobility), and sat on the board of its Swiss subsidiary; Italy's biggest domestic gas company, Societ  Italiana per il Gas (37,412 million liras); president of the Trieste-based Riunione Adriatica di Sicurt  insurance company (4.320 billion liras); vice president and managing director of the L'Assicuratrice Italiana; vice president of both the Unione Subalpina di Assicurazioni and of the Lavoro e Sicurt  (750 million liras); Shell Italiana, the Italian subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell (129 billion liras invested in Italy); vice president of the Istituto Bancario Italiano (10 billion liras) and the Credito Commerciale di Cremona (2 billion liras); board member of the Banca Privata Finanziaria; board member of the huge financial holding companies, Societ  Meridionale Finanziaria (122 billion liras) and the Istituto

Centrale Finanziario (150 million liras); vice president of the Finanziaria Industriale e Commerciale; president of the Banca Cattolica del Veneto (3 billion liras); board of directors of FINSIDER, a state-controlled holding company (195 billion liras), which is part of IRI, the Istituto per la Ricostruzione Industriale, formed during the Fascist regime, which constituted the country's largest cartel and controlled the biggest shipyards; the Italia shipping line; Alitalia airlines; Alfa Romeo; and the entire telephone system. FINSIDER produced at the time over 90% of Italy's steel and was the backbone of IRI. Spada was also a board member or executive of dozens more banks, insurance, and industrial companies. In 1963 he was appointed Privy Chamberlain of Sword and Cape, one of the highest of all Vatican titles, one also held by his brother Filippo.¹¹

With all of this enormous power, and despite his leading position in the Catholic Church, Spada sponsored the rise of Michele Sindona as one of the Vatican's "men of confidence." His choice was most peculiar, not only because Sindona had been a Fascist during the war, but because during that time he had made connections (through American OSS-connected mobster Vito Genovese) to the Inzerillo and Gambino crime families, for whom he laundered heroin money.

Reviewing the picture sketched above, we thus find that an intricate financial web originally woven by Count Giuseppe Volpi di Misurata and his Venetian aristocratic friends and associates such as Bernardino Nogara, had grown by 1960 to include Michele Sindona, who financed one of Gladio's most important assets, the "Black Prince" Borghese. Sindona also "was one of the channels, perhaps one of the most important, to back up" the attempted coups of 1970-74, as Greene and Massignani put it. Sindona later sponsored the rise of Banco Ambrosiano's Roberto Calvi, the P2 financier who was found hanging under Blackfriars Bridge in London in 1982, in a ritualistic masonic murder. And, when the P2 financial scandals exploded, one of those arrested as a key figure in them, was Massimo Spada, the protégé of Volpi's friend Nogara.

The membership of the ostensibly Catholic—and therefore ostensibly anti-freemasonic—Rome-centered SMOM overlapped with the freemasonic, presumably "anti-clerical" P2 lodge; they were the "twins" of Italy's Venice-centered oligarchy.

The privately run international monetary system is now collapsing, and the desperate financial oligarchy is trying to consolidate a new, worldwide fascism, driven by new waves of terror, such as 9/11 and the March 11, 2004 train bombings in Madrid. In this context, much of the superstructure of Gladio is finally being exposed by those opposed to this new fascism. Those exposures are essential. But, we must go still deeper, to lift the veil from "the ancients," and through them from the Synarchy to which they have given birth, of which they remain a crucial component.

[3] Sen. Giovanni Pellegrino, who chaired the 1994-2001 Italian parliamentary committee investigating both the Gladio-orchestrated terrorism, and how Italy's secret services covered them up, said that D'Amato "was an old Anglo-American agent, whose career started soon after the Liberation under James Angleton." Under Angleton's protection, said Pellegrino, "D'Amato became superintendent of the Special Secretary of the Atlantic Pact, the most strategic officer of our apparatus, as it is the connection between NATO and the U.S.A." From its founding at the end of the war, the UAR was filled with hundreds of former officials of Mussolini's SalÃ² Republic. D'Amato headed it from 1968-74, the period of NATO's "Strategy of Tension."

[4] Since no English original of FM 30-31B was ever found, but only Italian translations of parts of it (during the raid on Gelli's villa), some investigators query whether such a Pentagon manual ever existed. However, the Italian passages are entirely coherent with other Pentagon documents of the same general era, such as the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff's infamous Operation Northwoods plan, which called for unleashing terrorism against the domestic United States, among other clandestine provocations.

[5] Angleton and his associates in the OSS/CIA had a lifelong fascination with the Trust, the joint Anglo-American/Soviet intelligence operation which featured the use of double and triple agents. These were actually used by the Synarchists to manipulate both the Western powers and the Soviets against the nation-state, toward a kind of global condominium. It is not accidental that the "legendary" CIA counterintelligence chief Angleton somehow missed noticing that his mentor and his decades-long close friend Kim Philby was a "Soviet" (read: Trust) agent. Keeping up his part in the charade, Philby announced from Moscow that he had "enjoyed playing Angleton and Dulles." Angleton and Dulles maintained deep contacts with the "internationalist" wing of the Soviet intelligence establishment, just as they did with the "universal fascists" like Borghese. The shared goal was the destruction of nation-states in favor of world imperial rule. Many of Angleton's "fascist" assets in the postwar era turned out to be Soviet assets, as well.

[6] When the CMC first started up in Rome, its chief public figure, the pro-fascist former Prime Minister of Hungary, Ferenc Nagy, announced that it had major financial backing, including from J. Henry Schroder Bank and the Seligman Bank in Basel. The Seligman Bank was a large stockholder of the CMC, and its principal, Hans Seligman, sat on the boards of both the CMC and Permindex. With J. Henry Schroder, Nagy had spilled the beans on a most sensitive institution, and the bank was quick to deny his claim. J. Henry Schroder Bank had been intimately involved in the Dulles/Nazi financial deals from the 1930s, and, as CIA chief, Dulles maintained $50 million in "contingency funds" at Schroder under his sole control. See William F. Wertz, Jr., "The Plot Against FDR: A Model for Bush's Pinochet Plan Today," EIR, Jan. 21, 2005.

For further details on Permindex/CMC, including its finances, see a January 1970 manuscript by William Torbitt; New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison's book, On the Trail of the Assassins; and the account in the 1992 edition of the book, Dope, Inc.: The Book That Drove Kissinger Crazy, by the authors of Executive Intelligence Review. EIR maintained a close relationship with Garrison until his death in 1992. The Italian left-wing daily Paese Sera also ran a series on CMC/Permindex in March 1967, exposing it as a shell for huge sums of money that had nothing to do with "commerce," naming some of its elite banking connections, and profiling its board members as Anglo-American intelligence-connected ex-Fascists and fanatical right-wingers. Earlier scandals regarding CMC/Permindex had caused an uproar in Parliament and elsewhere, which forced CMC/Permindex to leave Rome for Johannesburg in 1962, the year before the entity orchestrated the Kennedy assassination. Garrison observed that the Italian government had expelled CMC/Permindex for "subversive intelligence activity."

[7] The role of NATO in running the Red Brigades is documented by Claudio Celani in "The Sphinx and the Gladiators: How the Head of the Red Brigades was an Agent of NATO-Controlled Fascist Circles," EIR, Jan. 21, 2005, based in large measure on a recent book by former Sen. Sergio Flamigni, La Sfinge delle Brigate Rosse (The Sphinx of the Red Brigades).

[8] The extraordinary financial power which Venice still commanded in the 18th Century was documented by the Venetian nobleman Carlo Antonio Marin, historian of Venice Frederick Lane, and others. Its European-wide cultural warfare and espionage system was also still highly effective, as evidenced in the international campaign of the Paris-based Venetian Abbot Antonio Conti to attempt to destroy the reputation of the great scientist Gottfried Wilhelm Leibniz. An agent of Venice's ruling Council of Ten, Count Cagliostro (Joseph Balsamo) organized the 1785 "Affair of the Queen's Necklace," the scandal which, as Napoleon observed, was the opening act of the French Revolution, an event financed and run out of Britain. Still another notorious Venetian spy of the same era was Casanova, who reported directly to the inner Three of the hooded, black-robed Council of Ten. The scarlet-robed chief of the Three was known as the Inquisitor, and in Venice it was understood that "The Ten will send you to the torture chamber, but the Three will send you to your grave."

Schiller chose to set his masterful portrayal of the methods of the Venetian intelligence service, as well as its Europe-wide reach, in the 18th Century; he clearly was not writing of a merely "historical" matter, nor was the patriotic American intelligence agent James Fenimore Cooper, in his portrait written several decades later, though Cooper set his tale centuries earlier. During the American Revolution, Venice put its still-considerable fleet at the service of the British.

[9] One of the notable financiers of Borghese in-law Napoleon was the Venetian Salomon Morpurgo, who later founded the Assicurazioni Generali di Venezia e Trieste (General Insurance Company of Venice and Trieste). Generali has been ruled ever since by a kind of central committee of Europe's financier and aristocratic oligarchy. On the board of Generali and its sister insurance company, Riunione Adriatica di SicurtÀ (RAS), over recent decades, one finds such names as Giustiniani, Orsini, Luzzatto (an old Venetian family), Rothschild, the Duke of Alba (whose ancestor laid waste to the Netherlands for Philip II of Spain), and Doria (Genoese financiers of the Hapsburgs). The president of the RAS at one point was Sindona's sponsor, Prince Massimo Spada, while Count Giuseppe Volpi di Misurata chaired the Generali from 1938-43. Had the 1964 coup been successful, the plotters planned to install Cesare Merzagora, chairman of Generali from 1968-79. Generali's chairman today is Antoine Bernheim, a senior partner of Lazard Frères, and member of one of the four families which control Lazard, a mainstay of the international Synarchy. Bernheim's daughter married Prince Orsini.

Generali and RAS are merely two important strands of a much larger web of families and finance, but they illustrate the directions in which one must look to discover the "port" behind the "Port Authority" guarded by P2 boss Licio Gelli, as Senator Pellegrino insightfully put it.

[10] The activities of Foscari, Volpi, et al. as the product of centuries-long Venetian operations in the Ottoman Empire, are elaborated in The Roots of the Trust, by Allen and Rachel Douglas (unpublished ms., 688 pages, 1997).

I RAPPORTI INTERNAZIONALI DELLA P2

Lo studio dei rapporti internazionali della Loggia P2 e dell'attività di Licio Gelli in tale contesto non può che essere di circoscritte dimensioni in considerazione della difficoltà, per non dire dell'impossibilità, per la Commissione, di indagare su queste situazioni che trovano sviluppo al di fuori delle frontiere nazionali. Non si può sottacere che la presenza di Licio Gelli in paesi stranieri non ha lasciato praticamente traccia, con riferimento evidentemente al periodo antecedente al sequestro di Castiglione Fibocchi, presso gli archivi delle nostre ambasciate, nonostante di essa esistano numerose ed autorevoli testimonianze che tutte convergono ad indicare l'intrinseca dimestichezza di questo cittadino italiano con personaggi stranieri di altissimo livello politico.

Muovendo da queste premesse, la Commissione Ã in grado di affermare, in base ai documenti ed alle testimonianze in suo possesso, che il rilievo dell'attivÃ internazionale del Maestro Venerabile Ã di segno certamente non inferiore a quello della sua presenza italiana, anche se l'analisi di questo versante della sua personalitÃ non puÃ essere in pari modo approfondito per le oggettive ragioni giÃ indicate.

Si pone in primo luogo, come dato di sicura constatazione, che Licio Gelli pervenne ad inserire l'organizzazione da lui guidata in piÃ ampio contesto organizzativo di respiro internazionale. Rilievo questo che si pone del resto in armonia con la natura in certo qual senso internazionale della massoneria, la quale, come abbiamo giÃ rilevato, aspira a porsi e concretamente si muove come un'organizzazione che, assumendo a sua base premesse filosofiche di portata generale, tende a stabilire legami fra gli affiliati che travalicano le frontiere. Nell'ambito di questa dimensione sovranazionale, Licio Gelli appare interessato a due iniziative la cui esistenza Ã documentata in modo certo. La prima Ã la cosiddetta Loggia di Montecarlo, per la cui esistenza la Commissione Ã in possesso di scarsi, ma inequivocabili elementi documentali. Eâ€™ agli atti un modulo di iscrizione

esecutivo massonico che aveva sede nel Principato di Monaco e che dal contestuale riepilogo delle finalitÃ associative risulta porsi come una sorta di organizzazione di livello superiore rispetto alle tradizionali strutture massoniche. La finalitÃ reale dell'organismo traspare dal documento, pur condito dagli abituali generici richiami a superiori motivazioni, nel quale Ã dato leggere: Â«... scopo Ã quello di realizzare...una forza di governo universale...Â» ed ancora: Â«...La Massoneria Ã l'organismo piÃ qualificato a governare, perciÃ se non governa manca alla sua vera ragion d'essere...Â».

Schede di iscrizione giÃ compilate e corrispondenza agli atti dimostrano che il Comitato di Montecarlo ebbe pratica attuazione, superando la fase progettuale; ma non ci Ã dato di sapere quale consistenza esso venne a raggiungere. In sede interpretativa si puÃ affermare che esso si pose certamente come un momento qualificante dell'operazione piduista; e particolare interesse suscita la circostanza che ad esso Licio Gelli pose mano in quel periodo, alla fine degli anni Settanta, che abbiamo indicato come contrassegnato da un inizio di incrinamento del potere del Venerabile Maestro. In questa prospettiva l'iniziativa di creare una organizzazione posta a ridosso dei confini nazionali, ma al di fuori della portata delle autoritÃ italiane, potrebbe inserirsi come elemento di arricchimento e conferma al quadro delineato.

Altra iniziativa di respiro internazionale Ã quella dell'ONPAM, una istituzione a carattere sovranazionale rivolta con particolare riferimento ai paesi dell'America latina, la cui esistenza Ã documentata in modo certo e il cui significato appare, allo stato degli atti, ancor piÃ difficile da interpretare.

La Commissione Ã in possesso di una tessera intestata a Roberto Calvi, rilasciata nel 1975 e sottoscritta da Licio Gelli in qualitÃ di Segretario. Si ha inoltre notizia che al Gamberini era stato affidato il compito di tenere i contatti tra l'organizzazione ed il Grande Oriente. Risulta che di questa organizzazione esiste ampia documentazione nel materiale sequestrato presso la villa uruguaiana di Licio Gelli e certo la sua conoscenza aprirebbe squarci di notevole interesse su tutta la vicenda della Loggia P2, la cui dimensione internazionale, una volta conosciuta in modo meno

sommario, consentirebbe una valutazione piÃ completa del valore politico di questa organizzazione, che del resto era stato intuito dall'ispettore Santillo nella sua terza nota informativa.

Appare infine dalla documentazione che il Venerabile della Loggia P2 godeva egli stesso di un prestigio internazionale proprio nell'ambiente massonico. Non solo egli era infatti tramite dei rapporti tra la massoneria italiana e quella argentina, ma già nel analizzata nel capitolo primo.

1968 appare accreditato presso il Grande Oriente quale garante di amicizia di una loggia estera, elemento questo che conferma la precocità della carriera massonica di Licio Gelli, ampiamente

L'attività personale di Licio Gelli del resto appare sicuramente documentata come ampiamente proiettata fuori dell'Italia, attraverso una fitta rete di contatti, anche esterni alla massoneria, tutti di alto livello per il rango delle personalità con le quali il Venerabile intratteneva rapporti. In questo senso l'epistolario rinvenuto apre uno spaccato, parziale ma efficace, delle relazioni che Licio Gelli intratteneva con un'opera di continuo contatto e costante aggiornamento; ne emerge il ritratto di un accorto professionista nell'arte dei rapporti sociali, comunque non certo confinabile all'interpretazione di uno spregiudicato arrampicatore sociale, come dal tono generale delle lettere si evince in modo non equivoco.

L'ambito di interessi di Licio Gelli appare in questo panorama rivolto eminentemente ai paesi d'oltre Atlantico. Sicure e documentate sono le relazioni di Gelli con i paesi del Sudamerica ed in particolare l'Argentina, paese nel quale egli era in relazione con l'ammiraglio Massera, ma soprattutto con Peron e il suo entourage, nel quale grande rilievo aveva Lopez Rega, interessato anch'egli alla iniziativa dell'ONPAM.

Giancarlo Elia Valori I, iscritto alla Loggia P2 e da questa espulso, ha testimoniato di aver ricevuto una confidenza del Presidente Frondizi, che si domandava quale ruolo un privato cittadino svolgesse per i Servizi segreti italiani ed argentini. In proposito di estremo interesse la deposizione del generale Grassini, Direttore del SISDE, il quale davanti alla Commissione ha dichiarato: «...Non avevamo nessun rapporto con i Servizi dell'America latina...Sapendo bene che Gelli aveva grandissime possibilità per quanto riguarda l'Argentina, gli chiesi se mi poteva mettere in contatto con gli argentini. Egli aderì a questa richiesta e l'indomani mattina puntualmente il Capo del Servizio argentino in Italia, all'Ambasciata argentina in Italia, si presentò nel mio ufficio, dicendosi pronto a collaborare per qualsiasi cosa. Da quel momento nacque un contatto perenne e continuo tra il nostro Servizio

e il Servizio argentino, che si impegnò anche a fare da tramite tra noi ed i Servizi degli altri paesi dell'America latina dove erano stati segnalati dei fuoriusciti, fu impostato quindi un sistema idoneo per la ricerca di questi fuoriusciti».

Si ricorda al proposito che Gelli ricopriva un incarico ufficiale presso l'Ambasciata argentina in Italia in qualità di consigliere economico e in tale veste intratteneva rapporti con autorità italiane, in particolare in occasione di visite di Stato.

Altra importante direttrice degli interessi di Licio Gelli costituita dagli Stati Uniti, per i quali appare accertato un solido legame con Philip Guarino in relazione alla vicenda Sindona. Gelli si mette a disposizione di Guarino, membro del comitato organizzatore della campagna elettorale del Presidente Reagan, e da questi viene invitato all'insediamento del nuovo Presidente americano.

Certo Ã che, come la vicenda degli affidavit raccolti in favore di Sindona ampiamente dimostra, Licio Gelli era in contatto con gli ambienti politici e finanziari che costituivano il retroterra del finanziere siciliano con una rete di rapporti di livello altamente qualificato.

La componente affaristica, assolutamente da non sottovalutare nella interpretazione del personaggio Gelli, non gli impediva peraltro di avere contatti con la Romania, paese con il quale l'azienda di Gelli aveva instaurato un importante rapporto di collaborazione produttiva.

Gli elementi esposti, pur nella loro sommarietÃ , consentono alla Commissione di affermare che la dimensione del personaggio Gelli, sotto il profilo indagato, Ã certamente di peso non minore

1 Uscito indenne dalla tempesta della P2, ricoprirÃ incarichi importanti nellâ

€™amministrazione pubblica, fino a diventare presidente della SocietÃ Autostrade. (La nota Ã nostra).

rispetto a quello pure rilevante giÃ documentato con riferimento al nostro Paese. Se l'articolazione

dei rapporti e delle conoscenze Ã necessariamente conosciuta, allo stato degli atti, in modo sommario, quello che appare sicuro in questo contesto Ã non solo il rilievo assunto dal della Loggia P2, ma soprattutto, oltre la dimensione affaristica pur rilevante, il valore politico indubitabile che le relazioni intrattenute denunciano.

SECRET CABALISTIC CALCULATIONS OF THE BOOK OF THE LAW by Simen Midgard

These are the cabalistic calculations of Norwegian occultist Simen Midgard on the famous secret number and code given by satanist A.Crowley in the BOOK OF THE LAW. The result is:

OF COLD DEATH STAND STRONG

(Whatever that means...)

Simen claims to have been the Dark Master who influenced the birth of Black Metal in Norway. This is a perverse and very satanic form of music now very popular with the youth. Frater Simen Midgard was the Oslo OTO Caliphate Master in the 80's working for the American illuminati spreading the black arts and satanic propaganda.

OCCHIO ARRIVA "POLIFEMO" IL VICE DI "MAULANA SHAYKH ABDUL HADI" PALAZZI

MASSONERIA, VATICANO E SERVIZI IN SPY STORY A POTENZA

LE RIVELAZIONI DI 'POLIFEMO' SU TANTI MISTERI D'ITALIA (di Mario Restaino)

(ANSA) - POTENZA, 10 MAG - Dodici ore di interrogatorio per ripercorrere misteri e storie italiane (come la morte di Ilaria Alpi, la strage di Ustica e la scomparsa di Emanuela Orlandi) e per aprire scenari finora sconosciuti al grande pubblico, come presunte "operazioni fasulle" dei servizi segreti, la massoneria di qua e anche di la' del Tevere, le estrazioni di petrolio "in nero" in Basilicata, e altro ancora. Massimo Pizza - nome in codice Polifemo, il "consulente" arrestato sabato scorso nell'inchiesta su truffe ad imprenditori, coordinata dal pm di Potenza, Henry John Woodcock - e' stato interrogato due volte, nell'aprile scorso, e ha fatto affermazioni pesanti. Tutte da verificare, ma pesanti. Ecco alcune delle dichiarazioni di Pizza.

ILARIA ALPI - "E' vittima della sua superficialita' al 100 per cento", dice Pizza, perche' quel giorno "lei doveva trovarsi a bordo della nave Garibaldi. L'hanno ammazzata i somali. I mandanti? Le voci concrete, totali ed assolute - ha aggiunto - erano che avesse scoperto il passaggio strategico di materiale importantissimo, piccolo ed occultabile", cioe' di uranio. Partito da dove? Forse dalla Basilicata?

"USTICA UNA SPINA NEL CUORE" - E' il titolo (ripreso da una frase di Francesco Cossiga) del film per realizzare il quale Pizza ha fatto da "consulente storico". Il film doveva servire a "far venire veramente fuori che cosa avesse determinato l'incidente" e le "reticenze generali ed assolute dei vertici istituzionali dello Stato". Il Dc9 Itavia - racconta Pizza, citando fonti arabe - "l'hanno abbattuto gli italiani" in una sera di guerra fra aerei libici, americani e italiani, con il Governo italiano che avvisa il leader libico, Gheddafi - in volo verso Belgrado - che gli americani vogliono abatterlo.

EMANUELA ORLANDI - "Non e' e' mai stata nessuna attivita' di indagine seria su questa cosa. E' stata un'attivita' vergognosa. Cose che non interessano, quindi non se ne parla".

OPERAZIONE "FASULLE" DEI SERVIZI SEGRETI - Pizza le definisce anche "farlocche, gonfiate", e "se ne vanno un sacco di soldi, tanti", che finiscono nelle tasche degli agenti. E vengono da fondi riservati, a cui si attinge senza controlli. Fausto Del Vecchio (arrestato dal gip di Potenza, Alberto Iannuzzi, nell'ambito dell'inchiesta), quando era nel Sisde, secondo Pizza, aveva "un tenore di vita sui 25-30 mila euro al mese".

MASSONERIA E 'MASSONERIA VATICANA' - Pizza ne parla a proposito di monsignor Francesco Camaldo, con cui dice di avere rapporti personali stretti, e del collaboratore di un altro prelado (a sua volta collaboratore del Sisde). Con Camaldo - dal quale i politici lucani vanno a lamentarsi "terrorizzati" da alcune inchieste che li coinvolgono - Pizza ha uno "scambio fruttuoso di notizie". Il prelado si sarebbe mosso "per distruggere" una loggia massonica, "che puo' togliere seguaci e puo' distogliere soprattutto soldi e capitali da un'altra loggia massonica". Pizza descrive Camaldo come molto influente e ricorda che, ai funerali di Giovanni Paolo secondo, era in prima fila (con il compagno) il famoso stilista che gli confeziona le tuniche, mentre importanti Capi di Stato erano dietro. Pizza sottolinea il potere della massoneria italiana, a cui appartengono persone di ogni settore, compresi magistrati, rappresentanti delle forze dell'ordine e anche cardinali: secondo lui, la Basilicata ha una loggia massonica importante, di cui sono soci anche uomini politici. Poi descrive il vero potere: "Ci sono personaggi che non contano niente, hanno incarichi e non contano niente e persone che assolutamente non hanno incarichi e contano tantissimo. Non e' l'incarico che hai - spiega - e' il centro di potere a cui sei collegato".

I FONDI DEL 'CENTRO DI POTERE' - Secondo Pizza, proprio il centro di potere che "viene finanziato in Basilicata e che a sua volta finanzia mezza Italia, si finanzia con i soldi in nero che vengono dallo sfruttamento in nero del petrolio" e da operazioni legate ai rifiuti e all'acqua. "Si estrae petrolio in nero", dice lapidariamente Pizza al pm. Ovviamente, rispetto al centro di potere finanziato in Basilicata, "Roma e' estremamente presente e pressante".

A PROPOSITO DI SOMALIA... - Pizza parla dei mille miliardi di vecchie lire della cooperazione internazionale, dal 1988 al 1991. I soldi li hanno presi "i politici italiani" o per traffici illeciti. Chi ha paura quindi dei dossier di Mogadiscio? "Anche padri della patria", dice Pizza.

IL GENERALE AIDID E'... - "Morto, ucciso", dice Pizza. "E' morto e sepolto", assicura, nonostante sia fra le persone da ricercare a livello internazionale: "Avra' sterminato 200, 300 mila persone", sottolinea "Polifemo".

AUTORITRATTO - Nei due interrogatori, Pizza si definisce rappresentante del Governo somalo, "agente provocatore", consulente storico, consulente, bibliografo, "scambiatore di notizie", analista, venditore di informazioni e anche "truffatore ma non musulmano", quando ricorda che e' stato vicepresidente dell'Associazione musulmana italiana. ALLA CORTESE ATTENZIONE DEL GRAN MAESTRO SUFI DEGLI HELVETI
JERRAHI GABRIELE MANDEL KHAN

DA PARTE DI DIMITRI BUFFA

ROMA 1 LUGLIO 2006

Carissimo maestro, apprendo dalla tua giustamente irata lettera dell'€TMennesimo increscioso incidente diffamatorio in cui mio malgrado questo Palazzi mi avrebbe coinvolto. Chiarisco fin da ora che qualunque cosa lui abbia pubblicato sul suo sito

Io non ho nulla contro il governo turco di cui anzi mi sono onorato di essere stato ospite lo scorso anno al meeting delle religioni ad Antakya e tanto meno ho nulla contro la tua tariqa, di cui io anzi sarei onoratissimo di appartenere.

Spero che con questa lettera sia chiarita la mia imbarazzante posizione dovuta solo all'€TMessermi fidato di qualcuno di cui non mi sarei dovuto fidare. Porgo le mie scuse a chi si è sentito offeso per la mia leggerezza nella frequentazione in oggetto ma ci è detto, io che cosa potevo farci se questo signore mette i suoi deliri su internet e mi coinvolge? E se qualcun altro amplifica le sue cose rimettendole in altri siti internet di vari estremisti islamici o nazisti di qui all'€TMinfinito?

Io prendo le distanze, riaffermo e ribadisco la mia simpatia e la mia amicizia, per Te, per i sufi Jerrahi e per il governo turco. Di più non posso fare e lascio questo documento a futura memoria, Vi prego tutti di credere nella mia buona fede e chi mi vorrà sentire a voce potrà telefonarmi al 339 7408556.

In fede Dimitri Buffa

Nella foto ricordo il falso Sceicco Palazzi, il giornalista corrotto Dimitri Buffa, Fioravanti, la Mambro

Dario Dimitri Buffa "un giornalista freelance che ha stabilito uno splendido rapporto di simbiosi con Abdul Hadi Palazzi, sicuramente basato anche su affinità caratteriali. Ricorda per intenderci il rapporto tra gli anemoni di mare e il pesce pagliaccio, che da una parte "è" protetto dal al veleno degli anemoni - a cui "è" immune - mentre dall'altra li nutre con i suoi scarti. Insomma, Palazzi emana i suoi proclami e Buffa li pubblica sulla stampa di destra, presentati come scoop sul terrorismo provenienti direttamente da fonti islamiche.

Eterno adolescente, nato nel 1960, si descrive come "tifoso Laziale" e impegnato in "una gavetta pressoché infinita e ancora in progress", interessato soprattutto a "come fare i soldi in democrazia e conservarli." "È stato candidato occasionale del Partito Radicale, con un singolare programma che mescola marijuana e "tematiche anticristiane":

"fare dichiarare la marijuana droga legale sia a scopo terapeutico sia a scopo ricreativo, fondare un giornale per gli utenti di droghe leggere, sensibilizzare i non cattolici, i pagani e i laici in genere su tematiche anticristiane e non piagnone su scienza, coscienza e altro".

Buffa ha lavorato per Il Secolo d'Italia, organo dell'ex-MSI, e poi come fantasioso "giornalista investigativo" di Italia settimanale, la defunta rivista di Marcello Veneziani a cavallo tra "destra sociale" e integralismo cattolico. Un suo articolo su questa rivista conteneva le presunte e semiserie "liste di proscrizione della destra"; e per questo scritto, nell'aprile 1994, Buffa venne querelato da Agostino Cordova e condannato a tre mesi di carcere e al pagamento di 30 milioni.

Ed ora vi voglio mostrare due e-mail che ho purtroppo ricevuto questa estate durante una nostra iniziativa di beneficenza dall' Istituto Culturale delle Comunità Islamica Italiana del falso Sceicco Palazzi:

Amici, salute a tutti voi. Conoscete il dramma che decine di migliaia di libanesi vivono.

Sono rifugiati nelle scuole attorno a noi e mancano di tutto. Noi cerchiamo di dar loro un po' di cibo, latte, medicine, un minimo di conforto igienico. Calcoliamo che le necessitÃ quotidiana di una famiglia sia di 10 dollari (8 euri). Quelli di voi, libanesi o no, che vogliono aiutarli, possono inviare il loro dono alla Banca SGBL, conto corrente 001-004-361-236446-01-3. RASPUTIN, IL SANTO PECCATORE

Estasi, magia e illuminismo sociale nel crepuscolo dell'Impero russo
di ROBERTO NEGRINI

Pubblicato unitamente ai 3 Box sul mensile
I Misteri n°5, Luglio 1995.

Troppo spesso un metodo storiografico miope, unilaterale o parzialistico impedisce di applicare all'analisi degli eventi storici criteri adeguati a esplorarne la complessità. In particolare la lettura esclusivamente sociologica, economica, politica o religiosa di avvenimenti e personaggi chiave da cui sono scaturiti crocevia o decisioni determinanti lascia spazio a piccole e grandi zone d'ombra, scomode, inquietanti, ma di enorme interesse per lo studioso multidisciplinare e libero da pregiudizi accademici. Esempio paradigmatico ne è la transazione dall'Impero sacrale degli Zar a quello comunista sovietico, nelle cui pieghe ritroviamo l'oscura e dimenticata protagonista di quell'ora fatale del nostro secolo: la spiritualità magica russa e i suoi strani, evanescenti interpreti. Una comparata analisi di quelle pluriformi fenomenologie sociali, religiose, etnologiche e magico-esoteriche compresenti nell'area dell'Impero zarista a cavallo fra Otto e Novecento aspetta ancora di essere scritta. Nell'intrecciarsi traumatico di una contraddittoria serie di influenze che ricordavano l'assolutismo teologico della piú rigida ortodossia all'illuminismo razionalistico introdotto da Caterina la Grande, in un territorio comprendente parte dell'Europa e larga parte dell'Asia si videro coesistere sopravvivenze sciamaniche e teologia bizantina, feudalesimo medievale e rivoluzione industriale, immense ricchezze individuali e indicibili povertà collettive. Un coacervo dal quale ebbe paradossalmente vita la piú monumentale costruzione sociale materialistica di tutti i tempi.

Il mito della Terza Roma

«Caro amico, dirò ancora una volta: è spaventosa la nuvola che sta sopra la Russia, disgrazia e tristezza immense, buio senza schiarite, un illimitato mare di lacrime e di sangue. Cosa dire? Non ci sono parole, orrore indescrivibile. So che tutti vogliono da te la guerra, anche i fedeli, non sapendo che sarà la rovina ... Tu sei lo Zar, il padre del popolo, non permettere che i pazzi vincano e perdano il popolo e se stessi. Ecco, si vincerà la Germania; ma la Russia? A pensarci, non è vittima più pietosa in tutti i secoli, è sommersa nel sangue, grande è il disastro, infinita la tristezza». Con queste accorate parole dirette allo Zar di tutte le Russie Nicola II, cariche di enfasi profetica e vergate con mano malferma dal suo letto di ospedale a Tjumen nel luglio 1914, il monaco «maledetto» Grigorij Rasputin tentava per l'ultima volta di arrestare la catena di eventi che era sul punto di travolgere e sconvolgere l'Europa. Soltanto poche settimane prima, il 28 giugno (15 giugno secondo il calendario Giuliano ancora vigente in Russia a quell'epoca), a Sarajevo il terrorista serbo Gavrilo Princip aveva ucciso in un attentato l'arciduca d'Austria Francesco Ferdinando, erede al trono asburgico e sua moglie. La conseguente dichiarazione di guerra alla Serbia da parte dell'Austria, forte della sua alleanza con la Germania di Guglielmo II, aveva rapidamente trascinato lo Zar verso la mobilitazione generale a favore degli alleati serbi, nonostante il già precario equilibrio interno dell'Impero. E proprio in quei giorni, con una sincronicità che ebbe tutto il sapore del complotto, lo stregone Rasputin, la cui enorme influenza a corte già più volte aveva esautorato i piani guerrafondai dell'estrema destra politica e religiosa, era caduto vittima di un attentato durante una visita al suo paese nativo nella zona della Siberia occidentale. Travestita da mendicante, Chionija Guseva, una mistica fanatica e debole di mente discepolo del predicatore e ieromonaco ultranazionalista Jliodor (Sergei Trufanov), aveva atteso per due intere settimane l'arrivo di Rasputin e infine era riuscita ad avvicinarlo e pugnarlo a tradimento al grido di «ho ucciso l'Anticristo!». Nonostante la gravissima ferita al ventre la tempra fisica eccezionale e forse gli strani poteri del monaco-contadino ebbero la meglio e dopo il trasporto al vicino ospedale di Tjumen «l'Anticristo» superò la crisi e sopravvisse. La forzata lontananza dalla corte non gli permise però di raggiungere, come invece tante volte era accaduto, la mente e il cuore dello Zar e nonostante i suoi ripetuti appelli, le sue lettere, i suoi frenetici telegrammi a Pietroburgo l'Impero zarista aprì – l'ultimo capitolo della propria storia mentre in Europa si accendevano i bagliori del primo conflitto mondiale.

Si narra infatti che Nicola II, che pure per quasi un decennio aveva prepotentemente subito il fascino magnetico di Rasputin fino ad eleggerlo a proprio consigliere personale, abbia strappato con rabbia l'ultimo telegramma dell'amico convalescente che ancora lo implorava di desistere dalla guerra. In quel frangente le influenze di gran parte della Duma (il Parlamento russo), dell'aristocrazia e dell'esercito prevalsero e, forse per la prima volta nella sua sfortunata carriera di autocrate amletico, Nicola Romanov ritenne di dover pienamente incarnare il mito imperiale del «sovrano vittorioso» ereditato dai suoi avi. Forse in quel rigurgito di orgoglio militare, e in qualche modo religioso, che lo spingeva a contare su una guerra vittoriosa come strumento di riaffermazione della propria sovranità teocratica, egli rilesse o ricordò le parole, ben diverse, che un altro monaco visionario, Filoteo di Pskov, aveva inviato in un'epistola, 300 anni prima, al granduca di Mosca Basilio III (1505-1533): «la Chiesa dell'antica Roma cadde per la sua eresia; le porte della seconda Roma, Costantinopoli, furono abbattute dalle asce dei turchi infedeli; ma la Chiesa di Mosca, la nuova Roma, risplende più del sole su tutto l'universo. Tu sei il sovrano ecumenico, tu devi reggere le redini del governo nel timore di Dio; abbi timore di Lui che te le ha affidate. Due Rome sono cadute, ma la terza rimane salda in piedi; una quarta non vi sarà. Il tuo Regno Cristiano non sarà mai dato ad alcun altro sovrano».

Secondo i teologi ortodossi russi, quindi, la Prima Roma aveva portato nel mondo il Cristianesimo e la sua legge incarnando l'â€™autorit  del Padre; poi era caduta nell'â€™eresia e la luce della retta dottrina, il Verbo-Logos o Figlio, si era incarnata, dopo lo scisma della Chiesa Orientale, in Costantinopoli, la Seconda Roma; infine quando Costantinopoli â€œper la sua corruzioneâ€• era caduta in mani islamiche (1453) lo Spirito Santo aveva trovato una sua incorporazione nella Terza Roma: Mosca, dalla quale si sarebbe irradiato nel mondo il culto ortodosso e santificante dell'â€™Impero Perfetto. E quando nel 1547 Ivan IV â€œil terribileâ€•, successore di Basilio III, si era consolidato nel titolo di Zar (interpretato dai russi come l'â€™equivalente del Basileus bizantino) e successivamente il Metropolita di Mosca era stato nominato Patriarca l'â€™idea-forza della Terza Roma aveva trovato nell'â€™anima russa una completa sanzione storica.

All'â€™inasprimento istituzionale di ogni ortodossia vengono sempre a contrapporsi atteggiamenti alternativi ed eretici. Anche nell'â€™ambito dell'â€™ortodossia russa gi  dagli anni precedenti alla salita al trono di Ivan IV si erano delineate due principali tendenze religiose sensibilmente diverse tra loro.

La prima di queste, detta dei Giuseppiniti dal nome del principale sostenitore Josif Sanin, Superiore del monastero di Volotsk, sosteneva la necessit  teologica e politica di una stretta alleanza fra Chiesa e Trono, autorit  spirituale e potere secolare, con la conseguente enfasi sull'â€™unit  dogmatica e sul formalismo ritualistico. La Terza Roma doveva riflettere il modello teocratico gi  rappresentato da Bisanzio e dai Papi e ogni forma eretica di libero approccio al sacro andava decisamente repressa.

L'â€™opposta tendenza, definita dei Non Possidenti e capeggiata dal monaco vagante Nilo di Sorki, un mistico esicasta che aveva soggiornato per qualche tempo presso il monastero del Monte Athos, propugnava l'â€™assoluta separazione della dimensione religiosa da quella mondana, la totale autonomia dei monaci dal potere politico, la necessit  etica di un'â€™equa distribuzione delle ricchezze e un libero approccio alle Sacre Scritture articolato sull'â€™esperienza mistica e individuale del divino.

Per evidenti motivi di opportunit  politica la corrente giuseppinita trov  pi  largo consenso presso i granduchi di Mosca - divenuti â€œZar di tutte le Russieâ€• - e conseguentemente verso la met  del secolo XVII, con l'â€™avvento della dinastia dei Romanov, venne accelerato un processo di irrigidimento politico-religioso che port  infine a una piena e dichiarata nazionalizzazione della Chiesa russa. Pietro III Romanov il Grande fu proclamato di fatto capo assoluto della Chiesa e il Patriarcato di Mosca venne abolito per essere sostituito da un â€œSanto Sinodoâ€• di vescovi eletti e controllati dallo Zar.

Ma nel Seicento le condizioni storiche e geografiche della Terza Roma erano profondamente diverse da quelle dei modelli bizantini e occidentali che erano maturate sull'â€™onda portante dell'â€™Impero Romano. Di fatto la stretta e forzata coesione fra l'â€™aristocrazia guerriera di Mosca e la multiforme spiritualit  cristiano-ortodossa port  fatalmente a un indebolimento di entrambe; la reazione dei Non possidenti contro il Patriarca Nikon (1605-1681), che aveva spianato la strada alla teocrazia bizantineggiante dei Romanov, si concretizz  infatti in un autentico scisma, con la separazione dalla Chiesa russa di un vasto movimento dissidente di ispirazione mistica noto come i Vecchi Credenti.

La dottrina di questa dissidenza, che si diffuse dapprima fra le classi pi  libere e intraprendenti come i mercanti, i contadini dell'â€™est e del nord e i cosacchi, enfatizzava sia un ritorno alle radici slave del culto cristiano ortodosso, sia una rinnovata forma di intimismo religioso e un radicale rifiuto delle influenze greche e bizantine nel rito e nella prassi sociale, aprendo cos  la strada alla proliferazione di ulteriori e ben più radicali movimenti e sette, sempre più orientati verso una spiritualità slegata da ogni margine dogmatico o formalismo istituzionale. Andrej Amalric, uno dei più interessanti fra gli storici sovietici dissidenti, ricorda che le prime sette sorsero in Russia a cavallo dei secoli XVII e XVIII. Anche prima vivevano in Russia adepti di sette diverse che subivano influenze provenienti principalmente dalla Lituania e dalla Svezia, ma a causa della predilezione delle masse per l'aspetto rituale della religione ebbero poca risonanza prima dell'effervescenza suscitata dallo scisma. Lo stato in cui l'uomo si sente sottoposto a una volontà non umana, in cui ha visioni e proferisce parole incoerenti, era noto già da tempo nella Russia pagana e i profeti e profetesse di campagna cadevano in trances isteriche. Generalmente si attribuivano queste manifestazioni a forze demoniache, ma dalla fine del secolo XVII alcuni di tali profeti cominciarono ad assicurare che erano ispirati dallo Spirito Santo (Rasputin, il monaco nero e la corte dell'ultimo Zar, Einaudi 1984).

La rivolta contro la sclerosi dogmatica e burocratica dell'ortodossia ufficiale generò le migliori condizioni per il riaffiorare di arcaici retaggi culturali di carattere sciamanico pre-cristiano e di influenze, mai del tutto sopite, risalenti ai precedenti secoli di dominazione tartara. La trance, l'estasi, la danza sfrenata, la possessione mistica, le varie tecniche per indurre un superamento, anche violento, del normale stato di coscienza attraverso il dolore o il piacere estremi emersero (o riemersero) enfaticamente nella fenomenologia religiosa; si caratterizzarono così in forme estreme e dirette di rapporto con lo Spirito Santo, cioè con quell'aspetto del divino che più di ogni altro, nonostante il travestimento cristiano, rifletteva l'arcaica eredità della Grande Madre Cosmica, il più antico fra gli Archetipi del Sacro.

Patrona della Terza Roma era la Vergine Maria e fin dall'epoca dei teologi gnostici le correnti illuminate ed eretiche del Cristianesimo, sia orientale che occidentale, avevano assimilato il suo simbolismo femminile - ricalcato sui culti materni precristiani - al mito dello Spirito Santo, terza Persona della Trinità cristiana. I mistici russi, e in particolare quelli dissidenti, tesero così a identificare lo spirito di illuminazione con l'abbraccio estatico e ambiguamente erotico della Grande Madre, sviluppando forme di culto personali o collettive in cui la diretta identificazione con il Divino veniva ricercata attraverso l'esaltazione emozionale e la danza dionisiaca. E spesso tale processo venne spinto fino al parossismo orgiastico carnale, inteso come formula rettificatrice e liberatoria dalla schiavitù dei sensi.

Le figure più caratteristiche di questo particolare scenario furono gli staretz, monaci laici itineranti dotati di virtù profetiche e spesso taumaturgiche che, vivendo dell'elemosina dei fedeli, vagavano di paese in paese predicando le più diverse dottrine. E se molti di loro erano malati di mente o fanatici invasati e deliranti le cui follie venivano interpretate dalla superstizione popolare come segni di elezione, altri dimostrarono di possedere autentiche facoltà sovrannormali e crearono movimenti o sette in cui sono ravvisabili interessanti elementi di carattere magico o sciamanico e contenuti e tecniche di un qualche valore iniziatico.

La prima e probabilmente più significativa tra queste sette fu quella della cegente di Dio, detta dei Christi o Chlysty, fondata nel Seicento nell'Alto Volga dallo staretz Danilo Filippovic che, secondo la leggenda, aveva gettato nel fiume tutte le sacre scritture cristiane dichiarando che «per la salvezza occorre un unico libro: Libro d'oro, Libro di vita, Libro-colomba, Il Signore Spirito Santo stesso».

Dalla seconda metà del Settecento, con l'introduzione a corte della cultura illuministica voluta da Caterina la Grande, anche fra le classi colte e presso una certa aristocrazia iniziarono a diffondersi forme di religiosità alternativa e tendenze filosofiche ereticali, dovute principalmente all'influenza delle correnti illuminate e iniziatiche europee, soprattutto massoniche. Tanto che - come lamenta un autore contemporaneo evidentemente di parte come Nicholas Zernov, teologo ortodosso e professore di teologia ecumenica alla Drew University (USA) - nella seconda metà del secolo XVIII le classi più elevate della popolazione russa incominciarono a disertare la loro Chiesa in cerca di altri sistemi di vita e alcuni si allontanarono completamente dalla fede e dalla morale cristiana. Alcuni si consideravano discepoli di Voltaire, altri entravano nella Massoneria. Il numero di questi disertori fu in un primo tempo piuttosto ristretto, ma tutti appartenevano all'aristocrazia e a poco a poco i loro principi incominciarono a penetrare nelle classi inferiori (Il Cristianesimo orientale, Mondadori 1990).

Così il medesimo spirito di libertà e alterità spirituale che animava le pratiche popolari e contadine dei Chlysty si reificò e diede i suoi frutti attraverso pensatori e filosofi, spesso di ampio respiro, che fino all'alba del nostro secolo fecero sentire le loro voci. Essi tentarono di conciliare nell'anima russa l'eroica rivolta del libero pensiero contro la plumbea oppressione di una religiosità sclerotizzata e malata di autoritarismo con la difesa dei valori più autentici dell'anima slava, mistica e sensuale a un tempo. Il romanziere simbolista Dmitrij Merezkovsky (1865-1941), il mistico pansessualista Vasilij Rozanov (1856-1919) - le cui dottrine magico-sessuali possono essere affiancate a quelle di P.B. Randolph e di Aleister Crowley - e lo stesso tormentato Lev Tolstoj sono esempi emblematici di questo sommovimento, in cui il rifiuto dell'assolutismo sia morale che filosofico e sociale apriva le porte a una concezione magica del mondo. Un'interazione tra diversificate influenze che contribuì più di quanto gli storici razionalisti vogliano ammettere a generare l'humus collettivo di un generale e catartico ribaltamento di valori di cui la rivoluzione socio-economica non rappresentò che l'ultimo stadio.

L'economista e il contadino-sciamano alleati per la pace

Tra il 1904 e il 1905 la stabilità politica interna dell'Impero zarista era stata fortemente scossa dalla sconfitta nell'infelice guerra contro il Giappone. Questo disastro militare, oltre ad aver frustrato le mire espansionistiche di Nicola II verso l'Oriente, aveva favorito l'azione destabilizzatrice dei primi Soviet, portando alla sanguinosa rivolta popolare del gennaio 1905 e alla nascita di un effimero Parlamento, la Duma.

Grande protagonista del delicato momento politico era stato il ministro delle finanze e successivamente Primo ministro conte Sergeij Jul'evic Witte, autentico genio economico e massone di larghe vedute. A Witte, elevato a dirigere il Ministero delle finanze già sotto Alessandro III, andava il merito della grande industrializzazione russa di fine secolo, con la promozione soprattutto di acciaierie e di campi petroliferi, nonché l'attuazione della grande ferrovia transiberiana e la riforma monetaria a sistema aureo che permise fortunate transazioni con banche straniere. Il progetto politico di Witte, che ben presto trovò ostilità dell'aristocrazia fondiaria e dello stesso Zar, era di evitare l'inasprimento dei conflitti di classe e i conseguenti pericoli di crollo dell'intero sistema imperiale attraverso una serie di graduali riforme economiche. Per questo sia nel 1904 che successivamente nel 1914 egli si dimostrò ostile alla guerra, nella quale vedeva soltanto un grande pericolo di indebolimento sociale, oltre che di disagio economico e politico. Mentre di contro la corrotta struttura burocratica dell'aristocrazia non intendeva rinunciare ai propri privilegi economici e si stringeva intorno allo Zar alimentando in tutti i modi la sua pur già notevole miopia politica.

Altro grande protagonista di questo scenario fu il misterioso monaco-sciamano, Grigorij Jefimovic Rasputin.

Nato a Pokrovskoe nella Siberia occidentale a est degli Urali, probabilmente nel gennaio 1864, da una famiglia di contadini, Grigorij dimostrò fin dall'infanzia di essere dotato di strane facoltà precognitive e di misteriose capacità di comunicazione con la natura e con il mondo animale.

Dopo una gioventù¹ dedicata alle risse, alla vodka e soprattutto ai piaceri carnali aveva subito una repentina trasformazione spirituale in seguito a un pellegrinaggio al monastero di Verchoturâ€™e - nella regione di Ekaterinburg, oggi Sverdlovsk - noto come centro di aggregazione locale dei Chlysty. È[™] quindi molto probabile, anche se non del tutto dimostrato, che il turbolento e sensuale mugik (contadino) abbia realizzato la sua strana svolta esistenziale attraverso la partecipazione ai misteri di questa setta. Fatto sta che da quel momento iniziò² una serie di pellegrinaggi che, attraverso i luoghi sacri e i principali monasteri della Russia, lo condusse fino al monte Athos e a Gerusalemme. Lo accompagnavano ovunque una crescente fama di santo staretz e l'eco dei suoi prodigiosi poteri ipnotici, taumaturgici e profetici. Se pure i suoi maestri spirituali erano stati i Chlysty, Rasputin sicuramente estremizzò² e superò² le loro pratiche e dottrine fino ad articolare una propria originale forma di religiosità sciamanica, di cui la danza, il sesso e a un certo punto anche l'ebbrezza alcolica furono le componenti base per lo scatenamento di un travolgente potere personale. In particolare l'enorme ascendente che egli sempre esercitò² sulle donne di ogni età e condizione sociale ricorda da vicino alcune forme di stregoneria sessuale tipiche della tradizione tantrica indo-tibetana e cinese e nell'area etnica cui egli appartenne trovano forse l'uguale soltanto nell'analoga, anche se più¹ raffinata, personalità di George Gurdjieff.

Dal momento della sua apparizione a corte, nel novembre 1905, Rasputin conquistò² la completa fiducia e devozione dei sovrani, delle loro giovani figlie e in particolare del piccolo Aleksej, erede al trono, le cui continue emorragie emofiliache parevano sanabili esclusivamente dalle magnetiche mani del taumaturgo. I miracolosi interventi con cui Rasputin salvò² più¹ volte la vita dello Zarevic sono ampiamente documentati e lo stesso Aleksej, secondo una testimonianza diretta, poco dopo la morte dello staretz ebbe a dire: «adesso mi curano e pregano per me, ma non serve a niente. Lui invece mi portava una mela, mi faceva una carezza là dove io avevo male e subito stavo meglio».

Ben presto la fama del monaco-stregone divenne enorme ed enorme fu il suo potere di influenzamento sullo Zar e soprattutto sulla zarina Alexandra, che su di lui concentrò² tutto il suo mistico fanatismo, tanto che si disse ne fosse divenuta l'amante.

La pur vasta letteratura, soprattutto scandalistica e diffamatoria, su Rasputin ha sempre enfatizzato la sua immagine di astuto ciarlatano semianalfabeta ed erotomane, ma una più¹ accurata analisi, libera da pregiudizi storici e religiosi e basata su quanto ci raccontano i documenti dell'epoca, favorevoli e non, ci presenta una realtà ben più¹ sfaccettata.

Per più¹ di un decennio il cesante diavolo, come molti religiosi lo chiamavano, manovrò² le menti e i corpi dei teocrati di Pietroburgo, consolando le nevrosi ossessive di Alexandra e istruendo lo Zar ad ascoltare il cuore piuttosto che la ragione - imbrigliata com'era nella ferrea logica dell'autocrazia - tanto da riuscire a ritardare la crisi bellica di almeno due anni. Nel frattempo beneficiò² e spesso guarì da malattie fisiche e psichiche decine e decine di persone, soprattutto fra gli aristocratici, pur non dimenticando, quando e come poteva, di porgere il suo aiuto agli innumerevoli diseredati che gli si rivolgevano. Quando accettò denaro da amici abbienti fu solo per distribuirlo generosamente a chi ne era bisognoso e la sua figura ben presto divenne una sorta di ponte gettato fra lo Zar e il suo popolo. Con una strategia basata sull'istinto naturale che su un pensiero strutturato, a lui probabilmente estraneo, Rasputin promosse attraverso manovre e amicizie, in particolare femminili, una formula politica improntata al pluralismo e alla tolleranza sociale e religiosa, soprattutto verso le classi e le categorie sociali maggiormente penalizzate come i contadini e gli Ebrei. Le sue operazioni politiche sembrarono, perfettamente sintonizzate con le profetiche vedute del conte Witte, il massone illuminato che, allontanato dal potere fin dal 1906, fu forse uno dei pochissimi a comprendere realmente lo staretz e, pur senza esserne soggiogato, gli fu amico devoto. Witte giunse infatti a dire nell'estate del 1914, mentre nonostante gli sforzi suoi e di Rasputin la Russia stava inesorabilmente avviandosi verso la guerra: «esiste un solo uomo oggi in grado di sbrogliare la complessa situazione politica ... e quello è Rasputin».

Lo zar Nicola II, isolato fisicamente dal suo consigliere a causa prima dell'attentato allo staretz nel 1914, poi dei suoi impegni al fronte, divenne succube di altre influenze e neppure l'alleanza tra l'illuminismo massonico di Witte e i poteri sciamanici di Rasputin poterono evitare l'ultimo atto della tragica saga imperiale russa.

In Rasputin e nella sua capacità di assommare e trasmutare tutti i peccati e le cattive coscienze della nuova Roma si consumò la possibile opzione di una terza via per la cibernetica della storia, una via altra, diversa e forse superiore rispetto sia alla senescenza teocratica dei nobili reazionari, sia a quel nascente ed effimero astro incarnato da un altro monaco, laico, gelido, spietato e totalitario, che portava il nome di Vladimir Il'ic Ulanov: Lenin.

In una lettera scritta allo Zar il 18 aprile 1916 Rasputin aveva preconizzato in questi termini la propria morte: «sento che devo morire prima dell'anno nuovo. Voglio fare presente al popolo russo, al Babbo, alla Madre della Russia e ai Ragazzi che se io sarò ucciso da comuni assassini, e specialmente dai miei fratelli contadini russi, tu, Zar di Russia, non avere paura, resta sul tuo trono e governa ... Ma se io verrò ucciso dai nobili le loro mani resteranno macchiate dal mio sangue ... Zar della terra di Russia, se tu odi il suono della campana che ti dice che Grigorij è stato ucciso devi sapere questo. Se sono stati i tuoi parenti che hanno provocato la mia morte allora nessuno della tua famiglia, cioè nessuno dei tuoi figli o dei tuoi parenti, rimarrà vivo per più di due anni. Essi saranno uccisi dal popolo russo».

La romanzesca morte di Rasputin nel dicembre 1916, che tra veleni e pallottole apparentemente inefficaci finì per terrorizzare gli aristocratici attentatori, capeggiati appunto da un parente di Nicola II, precedette di soli pochi mesi l'abdicazione dello Zar e lo sterminio della famiglia Romanov da parte dei Bolscevichi, proprio come lo staretz aveva previsto. Nella località di Ekaterinburg, a breve distanza dal misterioso monastero dei Chlysty da cui il cammino dell'Anticristo era iniziato, il sangue degli ultimi teocrati cristiani segnò il tramonto della Terza Roma, e nessuno saprà mai quale corso avrebbe avuto la nostra storia se la voce appassionata e sensuale della Santa Madre Terra fosse stata ascoltata dai Signori della guerra e della fede.

I Chlysty, gli Illuminati della Carne

Il movimento dei Chlysty, o "gente di Dio", che ha avuto una sua importanza fino ai primi decenni del Novecento, rappresentava in Russia una vera e propria religione nella religione, organizzata come società segreta secondo un modello che presenta forti analogie con alcune sette medievali europee quali quelle degli Adamiti, dei Luciferiani, dei Fratelli del Libero Spirito o degli stessi Catari, tutte decisamente pervase da un'intensa connotazione paganeggiante e, per molti versi, dionisiaca. Lo storico Mircea Eliade ci ricorda l'esistenza nella Russia del XIX e del XX secolo di altri movimenti mistico-erotici, fra cui gli Innocentisti che, nell'estatica ricerca rituale della "purezza adamica delle origini", vivevano "in caverne sotterranee, praticamente nudi e impegnati esclusivamente in rapporti sessuali indiscriminati, sperando in tal modo che la redenzione venisse loro dall'enormità dei loro peccati" (Occultismo, stregoneria e mode culturali, Sansoni 1982). Ma i Chlysty furono indubbiamente il primo e il più articolato, oltre che il più longevo, fra questi modelli meta-religiosi e nonostante le cruenti persecuzioni della Chiesa ufficiale e del potere imperiale la loro influenza socio-politica fu enorme e giunse fino a penetrare negli ambienti aristocratici di Mosca e Pietroburgo.

Presso la gente di Dio la morte del "vecchio Adamo" e la rinascita della divinità interiore dovevano essere realizzate attraverso una violenta forma catartica di spersonalizzazione collettiva, in cui gli istinti di piacere e di dolore venivano artificialmente esasperati fino al raggiungimento di una dimensione estatica, in virtù della quale lo Spirito Santo scendeva a incarnarsi negli adepti e nelle adepte. E alla rigorosa morale esteriore - che comprendeva la proibizione dell'uso di bevande fermentate e la totale astensione da ogni manifestazione mondana e soprattutto dal sesso, anche tra coniugi - veniva così combinata una precisa e codificata utilizzazione dell'ebbrezza e dell'erotismo orgiastico, intesi come tecnica estatica di collegamento con il divino.

I rituali, celebrati nel cuore della notte, implicavano grandi cerchi concentrici di danzatori e danzatrici, che nella crescente esaltazione del movimento giungevano a un furore pandemico, stracciandosi le bianche vesti rituali, flagellandosi a sangue e infine gettandosi gli uni sugli altri in una sfrenata orgia dei sensi. Un processo drammatico e liberatorio attraverso il quale le energie del "peccato" si esaurivano e i fedeli, uomini e donne, diventavano "puri" veicoli del Santo Spirito, manifestando visioni e profezie.

Nei punti di alta tensione gli adepti ritenevano di raggiungere la personificazione del Cristo (da cui la denominazione di Chrysti, mutatasi poi in Chlysty), mentre le profetesse, che spesso gestivano il culto costituendone il principale polo di attrazione, assumevano l'identità della Vergine Maria, divenendo rappresentazioni viventi della Grande Madre Terra rigenerata dallo Spirito delle origini e simboleggiata dall' "marcaico sigillo sciamanico della croce a otto bracci".

La corte dei miracoli

Nikolaj Aleksandrovič Romanov, figlio di Alessandro III e Zar regnante dal 1896 con il nome di Nicola II, incarnò gli aspetti più deteriori dell'aristocrazia russa del suo tempo. Di carattere debole e superficiale, sostanzialmente pavido ma capace di pur ottusa rigidità autocratica, governò di fatto subendo la costante influenza dei vari gruppi di potere e delle personalità che lo circondavano, oscillando costantemente da una posizione all'altra senza mai - come egli stesso confessò - "riflettere troppo su nulla". Soprattutto ebbe potere su di lui la mistica e nevrotica moglie, la zarina Alexandra Fedorovna, che pure lo amò teneramente e ne fu riamata fino alla morte.

Intanto nell'epoca in cui ormai si annunciavano il tramonto della teocrazia russa e la tragica apocalisse dei suoi ultimi, sfortunati teocrati si assisteva a una paradossale convivenza, sia a corte che in certi ambienti aristocratici, tra la formale difesa della piÃ¹ autocratica ortodossia e la sempre maggiore indulgenza verso dimensioni eretiche e magiche del sacro. I principali interessi di Alexandra infatti, e quindi di Nicola, erano la religione e un certo malato pseudo-misticismo tendente a proiettarsi verso le peggiori forme di religiositÃ "occulta". PerciÃ² alcune fazioni di astuti cortigiani e di familiari intriganti erano solite introdurre a corte ogni sorta di "esanti", predicatori e "folli di Dio" allo scopo di servirsene per influenzare le azioni e le decisioni dei regnanti. I quali li accolsero soprattutto per poter rimediare all'assenza di un figlio maschio e poi, quando nel 1904 nacque finalmente lo zarevic Aleksej, erede al trono, per poter guarire quest'ultimo da una perniciosa forma ereditaria di emofilia. In tutto quel periodo alla corte di Carskoe Selo vicino a Pietroburgo, la residenza estiva dove la famiglia reale viveva gran parte dell'anno in volontario isolamento, furono ricevuti e ospitati decine di strani personaggi, spesso folli o pericolosamente esaltati, come l'ex macellaio balbuziente e probabilmente pazzo Mitja Kozel'skij, che fu presentato a corte insieme al suo protettore Sergei Nilus. Scopo di Nilus era diventare consigliere spirituale dello Zar e pochi anni dopo questo mistico fanatico, e sedicente professore, sarebbe diventato famoso per la "denuncia" di un allucinante complotto ebraico per la conquista del mondo, delineato in un falso documento di presunta origine ebraico-massonica conosciuto come i "Protocolli dei Savi Anziani di Sion", la cui prima edizione Nilus curÃ² e commentÃ² nel 1904. E' tristemente nota la successiva strumentalizzazione dei Protocolli da parte di forze politiche antisemite e soprattutto del regime nazista, che ne fece uno degli alibi fondamentali per la sistematica persecuzione e lo sterminio degli Ebrei.

Fra tanto squallore non va dimenticata la pur fugace presenza a corte di personaggi di ben diversa levatura, quali l'occultista e massone francese Papus (Gerard Encausse) - Gran Maestro dell'Ordine Martinista e alto dignitario di alcuni tra i principali Ordini illuministici europei - e il suo amico e fratello spirituale Philippe Nozier che dal 1902 al 1905 visitÃ² varie volte Carskoe Selo. In questo caso fu la pochezza spirituale dei sovrani a disgustare l'aristocratica sensibilitÃ di Papus, che dopo aver tentato di coinvolgere Nicola II in una Loggia sperimentale martinista - come risulta da alcuni documenti conservati da questo Ordine - tornÃ² in Francia affermando: "quella gente Ã pazzo; sono alla mercÃ© del primo furfante che sappia accattivarsi le loro ossessioni; stanno scivolando verso l'abisso". Philippe invece, sicuramente piÃ¹ mistico, reazionario e vicino alla sensibilitÃ dei Romanov, acquisÃ¬ per breve tempo una discreta influenza, ma alla fine, nel 1905, su pressioni della polizia segreta e di alcuni cortigiani legati alla fazione di Nilus e Mitija, venne allontanato dalla Russia, non senza aver lasciato ai sovrani il viatico di una profezia: un altro amico sarebbe venuto che avrebbe parlato loro "di Dio".

Soltanto pochi mesi dopo, attraverso una serie di contatti mediati dall'Archimandrita dell'Accademia teologica di Pietroburgo, il primo novembre 1905 un nuovo staretz veniva di fatto presentato a corte: il suo nome era Grigorij Rasputin e la strana parabola del suo destino si sarebbe sovrapposta a quella dei Romanov e della Russia per i successivi 11 anni. Lo scopo di chi lo introdusse presso i sovrani era quello di farne un ulteriore, docile strumento di controllo sulla famiglia reale: speranze che furono amaramente frustrate dai poteri e dalla statura psicologica assolutamente indipendente e incontrollabile del "santo diavolo".

L'allucinante morte dello stregone

La notte tra il 16 e il 17 dicembre 1916 il giovane principe Feliks Jusupov, figlio omosessuale di una parente dei Romanov già a suo tempo allontanata da corte per la sua ostilità a Rasputin, attirò quest'ultimo nel proprio palazzo per un colloquio privato che risultò invece un mortale tranello.

Jusupov offrì allo staretz biscotti imbottiti di cianuro e Madera avvelenato. Rasputin per due ore mangiò e bevve avidamente, come suo solito, senza dare alcun segno di malessere e fissando con aria di sfida il suo assassino inorridito. Alla fine il principe, sconvolto, estrasse un'arma e sparò al cuore del "diavolo", che stramazza al suolo. Sopraggiunsero allora i complici del giovane, ma poco dopo il loro arrivo Rasputin, ancora vivo, balzò in piedi e riuscì a fuggire dall'edificio. Inseguito dai congiurati, fu abbattuto con diversi colpi di pistola da Vladimir Puriskevic, deputato di estrema destra della Duma. Il corpo martoriato dello stregone fu legato e avvolto in una coperta e quindi gettato nelle acque gelide del Neva.

Quando alcuni giorni dopo il cadavere fu ripescato si dovette constatare che Rasputin si era "risvegliato" in acqua ed era riuscito a liberare una mano dalle corde assumendo una posizione benedicente. La morte definitiva era sopravvenuta per affogamento.

Supreme Magus leaves the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia (The UK illuminati)

an historic event took place in the secretive world of the illuminati.

The Supreme Magus of the English illuminati known as the SRIA , leaves his office for the first time in history. This naturally happens after the OTO satanic infiltration of Bro. Simon Kane and Frater Rui Gabirro's black magic practices are finally exposed to the rest of the British illuminati. This episode forced the SRIA Metropolitan College in London to shut for one month! But check for yourself the official reasons instead in this rare illuminati document. Bro. Simon Kane and Bro. Rui Gabirro are no longer members of the SRIA.

REVEALING THE PERVERSE PRACTICES OF GARDNERIAN WITCHCRAFT

Posted on Tuesday, October 10, 2006 at 08:33PM by Your Name Here | Comment

You must have often wondered how the New World Order manipulates poor ignorant kids towards the devil using low forms of magic and witchcraft. So experience for yourself the Book of Shadows Gardnerian Traditional Witchcraft Part I

A.1. Casting the Circle (1949)

It is most convenient to mark the circle with chalk, paint or otherwise, to show where it is; but marks on the carpet may be utilized. Furniture may be placed to indicate the bounds.

The only circle that matters is the one drawn before every ceremony with either a duly consecrated Magic Sword or an Athame. The circle is usually nine feet in diameter, unless made for some very special purpose. There are two outer circles, each six inches apart, so the third circle has a diameter of eleven feet.

¹ Having chosen a place proper, take the sickle or scimitar of Art or a Witch's Athame, if thou mayest obtain it, and stick it into the center, then take a cord, and 'twere well to use the Cable Tow for this, and loop it over the Instrument, four and one half feet, and so trace out the circumference of the circle, which must be traced either with the Sword, or the knife with the black hilt, or it be of little avail, but ever leave open a door towards the North. Make in all 3 circles, one within the other, and write names of power between these.

⁴ Touching Salt with Athame, say, "The Blessings of Aradia and Cernunnos be upon this creature of Salt, and let all malignity and hindrance be cast forth hencefrom, and let all good enter herein, for without Thee man cannot live, wherefore I bless thee and invoke thee, that thou mayest aid me."

⁵ Then put the Salt into the water.

⁶ Sprinkle with exorcised water.

⁷ Light candles; say, "I exorcise thee, O Creature of Fire, that every kind of Phantasm may retire from thee, and be unable to harm or deceive in any way, in the names of Aradia and Cernunnos."

⁸ Caution initiate (if any); warn companions; enter circle and close doors with 3 pentagrams.

⁹ Proclaim object of working

¹⁰ Circumambulate 3 times or more before commencing work.

¹¹ Summon: "I summon, stir, and Call thee up, thou Mighty Ones of the East, South, West, and North."

Salute and draw pentacle with Magic Sword or Athame, the first stroke being from the top down to the left.

A.2. Drawing Down the Moon (1949)

High Priestess stands in front of Altar, assumes Goddess position (arms crossed).

Magus, kneeling in front of her, draws pentacle on her body with Phallus-headed Wand, invokes, "I Invoke and beseech Thee, O mighty Mother of all life and fertility. By seed and root, by stem and bud, by leaf and flower and fruit, by Life and Love, do I invoke Thee to descend into the body of thy servant and High Priestess [name]."

The Moon having been drawn down, i.e., link established, Magus and other men give Fivefold Kiss:

(kissing feet) "Blessed be thy feet, that have brought thee in these ways";

(kissing knees) "Blessed be thy knees, that shall kneel at the sacred altar";

(kissing womb) "Blessed be thy womb, without which we would not be";

(kissing breasts) "Blessed be thy breasts, formed in beauty and in strength";

(kissing lips) "Blessed be thy lips, that shall speak the sacred names." Women all bow.

If there be an initiation, then at this time the Magus and the High Priestess in Goddess position (Arms Crossed) says the Charge while the Initiate stands outside the circle.

A.3. "Lift Up the Veil" [The Charge] (1949)

Magus: "Listen to the words of the Great mother, who of old was also called among men Artemis, Astarte, Dione, Melusine, Aphrodite, Cerridwen, Diana, Arianrhod, Bride, and by many other names."

High Priestess: "At mine Altars the youth of Lacedaemon in Sparta made due sacrifice. "Whenever ye have need of anything, once in the month, and better it be when the moon is full, ye shall assemble in some secret place and adore the spirit of Me who am Queen of all Witcheries and magics.

"There ye shall assemble, ye who are fain to learn all sorcery, yet have not won its deepest secrets. To these will I teach things that are yet unknown."

"And ye shall be free from slavery, and as a sign that ye be really free, ye shall be naked in your rites, both men and women, and ye shall dance, sing, feast, make music, and love, all in my praise."

"There is a Secret Door that I have made to establish the way to taste even on earth the elixir of immortality. Say, 'Let ecstasy be mine, and joy on earth even to me, To Me,' For I am a gracious Goddess. I give unimaginable joys on earth, certainty, not faith, while in life! And upon death, peace unutterable, rest, and ecstasy, nor do I demand aught in sacrifice."

Magus: "Hear ye the words of the Star Goddess."

High Priestess: "I love you: I yearn for you: pale or purple, veiled or voluptuous."

"I who am all pleasure, and purple and drunkenness of the innermost senses, desire you. Put on the wings, arouse the coiled splendor within you." "Come unto me, for I am the flame that burns in the heart of every man, and the core of every Star."

"Let it be your inmost divine self who art lost in the constant rapture of infinite joy."

"Let the rituals be rightly performed with joy and beauty. Remember that all acts of love and pleasure are my rituals. So let there be beauty and strength, leaping laughter, force and fire by within you."

"And if thou sayest, 'I have journeyed unto thee, and it availed me not,' rather shalt thou say, 'I called upon thee, and I waited patiently, and Lo, thou wast with me from the beginning,' for they that ever desired me shall ever attain me, even to the end of all desire."

This much of the rites must ever be performed to prepare for any initiation, whether of one degree or of all three.

A.4. The Initiation (1949)

[First Degree]

Magus leaves circle by the doorway, goes to Postulant, and says, "Since there is no other brother here, I must be thy sponsor, as well as priest. I am about to give you a warning. If you are still of the same mind, answer it with these words: 'Perfect Love and Perfect Trust.'" Placing the point of the sword to the Postulant's breast, he says, "O thou who standeth on the threshold between the pleasant world of men and the domains of the Dread Lords of the Outer Spaces, hast thou the courage to make the Assay? For I tell thee verily, it were better to rush on my weapon and perish miserably than to make the attempt with fear in thy heart."

Postulant: "I have two Passwords: Perfect Love and Perfect Trust."

Magus drops the sword point, saying, "All who approach with perfect love and perfect trust are doubly welcome."

Going around behind her, he blindfolds her, then putting his left arm around her waist and his right arm around her neck, he pulls her head back, says, "I give you the 3rd password, a Kiss to pass through this dread Door," and pushes her forward with his body, through the doorway and into the circle.

Once inside, he releases her saying, "This is the way all are first brought into the circle."

Magus closes the doorway by drawing the point of the sword across it three times, joining all three circles, saying, "Aglá, Azoth, Adonai," then drawing three pentacles to seal it.

Magus guides Postulant to south of altar, and whispers, "Now there is the Ordeal."

Taking a short piece of cord from the altar, he ties it around her right ankle, saying, "Feet neither bound nor free."

Taking a longer cord, he ties her hands together behind her back, then pulls them up, so that the arms form a triangle, and ties the cord around her neck, leaving the end dangling down in front as a Cable Tow.

With the Cable Tow in his left hand and the sword in his right hand, the Magus leads her sunwise around the circle to the east, where he salutes with the sword and proclaims, "Take heed, O Lords of the Watchtowers of the East, (name), properly prepared, will be made a Priestess and a Witch."

Magus leads her similarly to the south, west, and north, making the proclamation at each quarter.

Next, clasping Postulant around the waist with his left arm, and holding the sword erect in his right hand, he makes her circumambulate three times around the circle with a half-running, half-dancing step.

He halts her at the south of the altar, and strikes eleven knells on the bell. He then kneels at her feet, saying, "In other religions the postulant kneels, as the Priests claim supreme power, but in the Art Magical, we are taught to be humble, so we kneel to welcome them and say:

"Blessed be thy feet that have brought thee in these ways." (He kisses her feet.)

"Blessed be thy knees that shall kneel at the sacred altar." (He kisses her knees.)

"Blessed be thy womb, without which we would not be." (He kisses her Organ of Generation.)

"Blessed by thy breasts, formed in beauty and in strength." (He kisses her breasts.)

"Blessed be thy lips, which shall utter the sacred names." (He kisses her lips.)
Take measure thus: height, around forehead, across the heart, and across the genitals.
Magus says, "Be pleased to kneel," and helps her kneel before the altar. He ties the end of the Cable Tow to a ring in the altar, so that the postulant is bent sharply forward, with her head almost touching the floor. He also ties her feet together with the short cord.

Magus strikes three knells on the bell and says, "Art ready to swear that thou wilt always be true to the Art?"

Witch: "I am."

Magus strikes seven knells on the bell and says, "Before ye are sworn, art willing to pass the ordeal and be purified?"

Witch: "I am."

Magus strikes eleven knells on the bell, takes the scourge from the altar, and gives a series of three, seven, nine, and 21 strokes with the scourge across the postulant's buttocks.

Magus says, "Ye have bravely passed the test. Art always ready to help, protect, and defend thy Brothers and Sisters of the Art?"

Witch: "I am."

Magus: "Art armed?"

Witch: "With a knife in my hair."

Magus: "Then on that knife wilt thou swear absolute secrecy?"

Witch: "I will."

Magus: "Then say after me. `I, (name), in the presence of the Mighty Ones, do of my own will and accord, most solemnly swear that I will ever keep secret and never reveal the secrets of the Art, except it be to a proper person, properly prepared, within a circle such as I am now in. All this I swear by my hopes of a future life, mindful that my measure has been taken, and may my weapons turn against me if I break this my solemn oath.'"

Magus now unbinds her feet, unties the Cable Tow from the altar, removes the blindfold, and helps her up to her feet.

Magus says, "I hereby sign thee with the triple sign. "I consecrate thee with oil." (He anoints her with oil on the womb, the right breast, the left breast, and the womb again.)

"I consecrate thee with wine." (He anoints her with wine in the same pattern.)

"I consecrate thee with my lips" (he kisses her in the same pattern),

"Priestess and Witch." Magus now unbinds her hands and removes the last cord, saying, "Now I Present to thee the Working Tools of a Witch.

"First the Magic Sword. With this, as with the Athame, thou canst form all Magic Circles, dominate, subdue, and punish all rebellious Spirits and Demons, and even persuade the Angels and Geniuses. With this in your hand you are the ruler of the Circle. [Here "kiss" means that the initiate kisses the tool, and the Magus then kisses the Witch being initiated.]

"Next I present the Athame. This is the true Witch's weapon and has all the powers of the Magic Sword [kiss].

"Next I present the White-Handled Knife. Its use is to form all instruments used in the Art. It can only be properly used within a Magic Circle [Kiss].

"Next I present the Wand. Its use is to call up and control certain Angels and geniuses, to whom it would not be mete to use the Magic Sword [Kiss].

"Next I present the pentacles. These are for the purpose of calling up appropriate Spirits [Kiss].

"Next I present the Censer of Incense. This is used to encourage and welcome Good Spirits and to banish Evil Spirits.[kiss]

"Next I present the scourge. This is a sign of power and domination. It is also to cause suffering and purification, for it is written, to learn you must suffer and be purified. Art willing to suffer to learn?"

Witch: "I am.

"[Kiss]

Magus: "Next, and lastly I present the Cords. They are of use to bind the sigils in the Art, the material basis, and to enforce thy will. Also they are necessary in the oath. I Salute thee in the name of Aradia and Cernunnos, Newly made Priestess and Witch." Magus strikes seven knells on the bell and kisses Witch again, then circumambulates with her, proclaiming to the four quarters, "Hear, ye Mighty Ones, (name) hath been consecrated Priestess and Witch of the Gods."

(Note, if ceremony ends here, close circle with "I thank ye for attending, and I dismiss ye to your pleasant abodes. Hail and farewell." If not, go to next degree.)

[Second Degree]

Magus binds Witch as before, but does not blindfold her, and circumambulates with her, proclaims to the four quarters, "Hear, ye Mighty Ones, (name), a duly consecrated Priestess and Witch, is now properly prepared to be made a High Priestess and Witch Queen."

Magus now leads her thrice around the circle with the half-running, half- dancing step, halts south of the altar, has the Witch kneel, and ties her down to the altar as before.

Magus: "To attain this sublime degree, it is necessary to suffer and be purified. Art ready to suffer to Learn?"

Priestess Witch: "I am."

Magus: "I prepare thee to take the great oath." He strikes three knells on the bell, and again gives the series of three, seven, nine, and 21 strokes with the scourge as before.

Magus: "I now give thee a new name: _____. [kiss]

Magus: "Repeat thy new name after me, I, (name), swear upon my mother's womb and by mine Honor among men and among my brothers and sisters of the Art, that I will never reveal to any at all any of the secrets of the Art, except it be to a worthy person, properly prepared, in the center of a Magic Circle, such as I am now in. This I swear by my hopes of Salvation, my past lives, and my hopes of future ones to come, and I devote myself to utter destruction if I break this my solemn oath. "

Magus: "I hereby will all my power into you." Wills.

Magus now unties her feet, unties the Cable Tow from the altar, and helps the Witch to her feet.

Magus: "I hereby sign and consecrate you with the great Magic Sign. Remember how it is formed and you will always recognize it.

"I consecrate thee with wine." (He anoints her with wine in the same pattern.)

"I consecrate thee with my lips" (he kisses her in the same pattern), "High Priestess and Witch Queen."

Magus now unbinds Witch's hands and removes the cord, saying, "Newly made High Priestess and Witch Queen" [kiss]

"you will now use the working tools in turn. First, the Magic Sword; with it you will scribe the Magic Circle [kiss]

"Secondly, the Athame" (Form Circle) [kiss]

"Thirdly, the White Handled Knife" (use) [kiss]

"Fourthly, the Wand" (Wave to 4 Quarters) [kiss]

"Fifthly, the Pentacle" (Show to 4 Quarters) [kiss]

"Sixthly, the Censer of Incense" (Circle, cense) [kiss]

"Seventhly, the cords; bind me as I bound you.

" Witch binds Magus and ties him to Altar.

Magus: "Learn, in Witchcraft, thou must ever return triple. As I scourged thee, so thou must scourge me, but triple. So where you received 3, return 9; where you received 7, return 21; where you received 9, return 27; where you received 21, return 63."

Witch scourges Magus as instructed, 120 strokes total.

Magus: "Thou hast obeyed the Law. But mark well, when thou receivest good, so equally art bound to return good threefold." Witch now unbinds Magus and helps him to his feet. Magus, taking the new Initiate by the hand and holding the Athame in the other, passes once round the Circle, proclaiming at the Four Quarters,

"Hear, Ye Mighty Ones, (name) hath been duly consecrated High Priestess and Witch Queen."

(Note, if ceremony ends here, close circle with "Hail and farewell." If not go to next degree.)

[Third Degree]

Magus: "Ere we proceed with this sublime degree, I must beg purification at thy hands." High Priestess binds Magus and ties him down to the altar. She circumambulates three times, and scourges Magus with three, seven, nine, and 21 strokes. She then unbinds him and helps him to his feet. Magus now binds the High Priestess and ties her down to the altar. He circumambulates, proclaiming to the four quarters, "Hear, ye mighty Ones, the twice consecrate and Holy (name), High Priestess and Witch Queen, is properly prepared and will now proceed to erect the Sacred Altar." Magus scourges High Priestess with three, seven, nine, and 21 strokes. Cakes and wine may now be taken [see section A.5].

Magus: "Now I must reveal to you a great Mystery." [kiss]. Note: if High Priestess has performed this rite before, omit these words. High Priestess assumes Osiris position.

Magus: "Assist me to erect the Ancient Altar, at which in days past all worshipped, the Great Altar of all things. For in the old times a woman was the Altar. Thus was the altar made and so placed [Priestess lies down in such a way that her vagina is approximately at the center of the circle], and the sacred place was the point within the center of the circle, as we of old times have been taught, that the point within the center is the origin of all things. Therefore should we adore it." [kiss] "Therefore, whom we adore, we also invoke, by the power of the lifted lance." Invokes. "O circle of stars [kiss], whereof our Father is but the younger brother [kiss], "Marvel beyond imagination, soul of infinite space, before whom time is ashamed, the mind bewildered and understanding dark, not unto thee may we attain unless thine image be of love [kiss]. "Therefore, by seed and root, and stem and bud and leaf and flower and fruit do we invoke thee, O, Queen of space, O dew of light, O continuous one of the Heavens [kiss]. "Let it be ever thus, that men speak not of Thee as one, but as none, and let them not speak of thee at all, since thou art continuous, for thou art the point within the circle [kiss], which we adore [kiss], the fount of life without which we would not be [kiss]. "And in this way truly are erected the Holy Twin Pillars Boaz and Jachin [kisses breasts]. In beauty and strength were they erected, to the wonder and glory of all men."

(Eightfold Kiss: 3 points, Lips, 2 Breasts and back to lips; 5 points) "O Secrets of secrets that art hidden in the being of all lives. Not thee do we adore, for that which adoreth is also thou. Thou art that and That am I [kiss]. "I am the flame that burns in every man, and in the core of every star [kiss]. "I am Life and the giver of Life, yet therefore is the knowledge of me the Knowledge of Death [kiss]. "I am alone, the Lord within ourselves whose name is Mystery of Mysteries [kiss]. "Make open the path of intelligence between us. For these truly are the 5 points of fellowship [on the right appears an illuminated diagram of the point-up triangle above the pentacle, the symbol for the third degree], feet to feet, knee to knee, groin to groin, breast to breast, arms around back, lips to lips, by the Great and Holy Names Abracadabra, Aradia, and Cernunnos.

Magus and High Priestess: "Encourage our hearts, Let thy Light crystallize itself in our blood, fulfilling us of Resurrection, for there is no part of us that is not of the Gods."

(Exchange Names.)

Closing the Circle High Priestess Circumambulates, proclaiming, "The twice consecrate High Priestess greets ye Mighty Ones, and dismisseth ye to your pleasant abodes. Hail and Farewell." She draws the banishing pentacle at each quarter.

A.5. Cakes and Wine (1949)

Magus kneels, fills Cup, offers to Witch [she is seated on the altar, holding her athame; Priest kneels before her, holding up the cup]. Witch, holding Athame between palms, places point in cup.

Magus: "As the Athame is the Male, so the Cup is the female; so, conjoined, they bring blessedness."

Witch lays aside Athame, takes Cup in both hands, drinks and gives drink. Magus Holds Paten to Witch, who blesses with Athame, then eats and gives to Eat.

It is said that in olden days ale or mead was often used instead of wine. It is said that spirits or anything can be used so long as it has life.

A.6. The Sabbat Rituals (1949)

November Eve

Walk or slow dance, Magus leading High Priestess, both carrying Phallic wand or broom, people with torches or candles.

Witch chant or song:

"Eko, eko, Azarak Eko, eko, Zomelak Bazabi lacha bachabe Lamac cahi achababe Karrellyos Lamac lamac Bachalyas cabahagy sabalyos Baryolos Lagoz atha cabyolas Samahac atha famolas Hurrahya!"

Form circle.

High Priestess assumes Goddess position.

Magus gives her Fivefold Kiss and is scourged.

All are purified [that is, bound and scourged with forty strokes, as in the initiation rituals].

Magus assumes God position.

High Priestess invokes with Athame: "Dread Lord of the shadows, god of life and the giver of life. Yet is the knowledge of thee the knowledge of death. Open wide, I pray thee, thy gates through which all must pass. Let our dear ones who have gone before, return this night to make merry with us. And when our time comes, as it must, O thou the comforter, the consoler, the giver of peace and rest, we will enter thy realms gladly and unafraid, for we know that when rested and refreshed among our dear ones, we shall be born again by thy grace and the grace of the Great Mother. Let it be in the same place and the same time as our beloved ones, and may we meet and know, and love them again. Descend, we pray thee, upon thy servant and Priest (name) "

High Priestess gives Fivefold Kiss to Magus.

Initiations if any; all others are purified.

(Note: Couples may purify each other if they will.)

Cakes and Wine.

The Great Rite if possible, either in token or truly.

Dismiss [the guardians, and close down the magic circle; the people then stay to] feast and dance.

February Eve

After usual opening, all are doubly purified [that is, with eighty strokes].

Dance round outside circle,

Enter circle.

Magus assumes God position.

High Priestess gives Fivefold Kiss, invokes: "Dread Lord of death and Resurrection, life and the giver of life, Lord within ourselves, whose name is Mystery of Mysteries, encourage our hearts. Let the light crystalize in our blood, fulfilling us of resurrection, for there is no part of us that is not of the gods. Descend, we pray thee, upon this thy servant and Priest (name)."

All should be purified in sacrifice before him.

He then purifies the High Priestess with his own hands, and others if he will.

Cakes and wine.

Great Rite if possible, in token or real.

Games and dance as the people will.

Dismiss [the guardians, and close down the magic circle; the people then stay to] feast and dance.

May Eve

If possible ride poles, brooms, etc. High Priestess leading, quick dance step, singing "O do not tell the priests of our arts. For they would call it sin, For we will be in the woods all night A conjuring summer in. And we bring you good news by word of mouth for women, cattle, and corn: The sun is coming up from the south, With oak and ash, and thorn."

Meeting dance if possible.

Form circle as usual, and purify.

High Priestess assumes Goddess position; officers all give her the fivefold kiss.

She purifies all.

High Priestess again assumes Goddess position.

Magus invokes, draws down moon, "I invoke thee and call upon thee, O mighty Mother of us all, bringer of all fruitfulness, By seed and root, by stem and bud, by leaf and flower and fruit, by life and love, do we invoke thee, to descend upon the body of thy servant and Priestess here."

Magus gives Fivefold Kiss to High Priestess.

All should be purified in sacrifice before her, and she should purify Magus and some others with her own hands.

Cakes and wine.

Games.

Great Rite if possible, in token or truly.

Dismiss the guardians, and close down the magic circle; the people then stay to feast and dance.

August Eve If possible, ride poles, broomsticks, etc.

Meeting Dance if possible [the double-spiral dance described in Witchcraft Today, p. 167].

Form circle.

Purify.

High Priestess stands in pentacle position.

Magus invokes her: "O mighty Mother of us all, Mother of all fruitfulness, give us fruit and grain, flocks and herds and children to the tribe that we be mighty, by thy rosy love, do thou descend upon thy servant and Priestess (name) here."

Magus gives Fivefold Kiss to High Priestess.

Candle game: Seated, the men form a circle, passing a lighted candle from hand to hand "deosil".

The women form circle outside, trying to blow it out over their shoulders.

Whoever's hand it is in when it is blown out is 3 times purified by whoever blew it out, giving fivefold Kiss in return. This game may go on as long as the people like.

Cakes and wine, and any other games you like.

Dismiss the guardians, and close down the magic circle; the people then stay to feast and dance.

B.1. On Chants (1953)

Of old there were many chants and songs used especially in the Dances. Many of these have been forgotten by us here, but we know that they used cries of IAU which seems muchly like the cries EVO or EVOHE of the ancients. Much dependeth on the pronunciation if this be so. In my youth, when I heard IAU it seemed to be AEIOU, or rather, AAEEIIOOOOUU. This may be but the natural way to prolong it to make it fit for a call, but it suggests that these be possibly the initials of an invocation as Agla is said to be, and of sooth 'tis said that the whole Hebrew alphabet is said to be such, and for this reason is recited as a most powerful charm, but at least this is certain, these cries during the dances do have profound effect, as I myself have seen.

Other calls are IEHOUA and EHEIE; also Ho Ho Ho Ise Ise Ise.

IEO VEO VEO VEO VEOV OROV OV OVOVO may be a spell but is more likely to be a call. 'Tis like the EVOE EVOE of the Greeks and the "Heave ho!" of sailors.

"Emen hetan" and "Ab hur, ab hus" seem calls; as "Horse and haddock, horse and go, horse and Pellatis, ho, ho, ho!" "Thout, tout a tout tout, throughout and about" and "Rentum tormentum" are probably mispronounced attempts at a forgotten formula, though they may have been invented by some unfortunate being tortured, to evade telling the real formula.

B.2. To Help the Sick (1953)

¹ Ever remember the promise of the goddess, "For ecstasy is mine and joy on earth" so let there ever be joy in your heart. Greet people with joy, be glad to see them. If times be hard, think, "It might have been worse. I at least have known the joys of the Sabbath, and I will know them again." Think of the grandeur, beauty, and Poetry of the rites, of the loved ones you meet through them. If you dwell on this inner joy, your health will be better. You must try to banish all fear, for it will really touch you. It may hurt your body, but your soul is beyond it all.

² And ever remember, that if you help others it makes you forget your own woes. And if another be in pain, do what you may to distract his attention from it. Do not say "You have no pain," but if you may, administer the drugs which sooth as well as those that cure. But ever strive to make them believe they are getting better. Install into them happy thoughts. If you can only get this into his inner mind so that it be always believed.

³ To this end it is not wrong to let people think that we of the cult have more power than we have. For the truth is that if they believe we have more power than we really possess, we do really possess these powers, insomuch we can do good to them.

⁴ You must try to find out about people. If you tell a slightly sick man, "You are looking better. You will soon be well," he will feel better, but if he is really ill, or in pain, his Knowledge that he is in pain will cause him to doubt your words in future. But if you give him one of the drugs and then say, "The pain is growing less. Soon it will be gone," because the pain goes, the next time you say, "The pain is going," he will believe you and the pain will really get less. But you must ever say so with conviction, and this conviction must come from your believing it yourself, because you yourself know that if you can fix his mind so that he believes you, it is true.

⁵ 'Tis often better to look exactly between their eyes, looking as if your eyes pierced their heads, opening your eyes as wide as you may and never blink. This continued gazing oft causes the patient to grow sleepy. If they show signs of this, say "You are growing sleepy. You will sleep, you are tired. Sleep. Your eyes grow tired. Sleep." If they close their eyes, say "Your eyes close, you are tired, you cannot open your eyes." If they cannot, say "Your arms are tired, you cannot raise them." If they cannot, say "I am master of your mind. You must ever believe what I tell you. When I look like this into your eyes you will sleep and be subject to my will," then tell them they will sleep and wake up refreshed, feeling better. Continue this with soothing and healing drugs, and try to infuse into them the feeling of ecstasy that you feel at the Sabbath. They cannot feel it in full, but you can command them to feel what is in your own mind, and try to concentrate on this ecstasy. If you may safely tell that you are of the Cult, your task may be easier. And it were well to command them to know it only with their sleeping mind, and forget it, or to be at least unable to tell anyone about it when awake. A good way is to command them that, if they are ever questioned about Witchcraft or Witches, to immediately fall asleep.

⁶ Ever remember if tempted to admit or boast of belonging to the cult you be endangering your brothers, for though now the fires of persecution may have died down, who knows when they may be revived? Many priests have knowledge of our secrets, and they well know that, though much religious bigotry has calmed down, many people would wish to join our cult. And if the truth were known of its joys, the Churches would lose power, so if we take many recruits, we may loose the fires of persecution against us again. So ever keep the secrets.

⁸ But keep your own mind happy. Remember the Words of the Goddess: "I give unimaginable joys on Earth, certainty, not faith, while in life, and upon death, peace unutterable, rest, and ecstasy, and the promise that you will return again." In the old days many of us went to the flames laughing and singing, and so we may again. We may have joy in life and beauty, and peace and Death and the promise of return.

⁹ The Bible speaks sooth, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine but a broken spirit breaketh the bones." But you may not have a merry heart. Perchance you were born under an evil star. I think that the effects of the stars are overestimated, but you cannot make a merry heart to order, you say. But you can, in the Cult; there be secret processes by which your will and imagination may be influenced. This process also affects the body, and brings it to joy. Your body is happy, so your mind is happy. You are well because you are happy, and you are happy because you are well.

¹⁰ Prayer may be used with good result if the patient believes it can and will work. Many believe it can, but do not believe their God or saint will help. Prayers to the Goddess help, especially the Amalthean Horn Prayer, as it causes stimulation to the body as well as to the mind.

B.3. The Scourge and the Kiss. (1953)

(Feet, knees, and wrists should be tightly bound to retard blood.) Scourge 40 or more, to make skin tingle, then say, invoking Goddess,

Hail, Aradia, from the Amalthean horn
Pour forth thy store of Love. I lowly bend
Before Thee! I invoke thee at the end
When other Gods are fallen and put to scorn.
Thy foot is to my lips! My sighs inborn Rise, touch, curl about thy heart. Then spend,
Pitiful Love, loveliest Pity, descend
And bring me luck who am lonely and forlorn.

Ask the Goddess to help you to obtain your desires, then Scourge again to bind the spell. This be powerful in ill luck and for sickness. It must be said in a Circle, and you must be properly prepared and well purified, both before and after saying, to bind the spell. Before starting you must make a very clear picture in your mind of what you wish. Make yourself see the wish obtained. Be sure in your own mind exactly what it is and how it is to be fulfilled. This spell is the one that was taught to me long ago and I have found it works, but I don't think there is any special virtue in these words. Any others can be substituted provided they ask the goddess's (or gods') help, and say clearly what you wish and you form the clear mental image; and if it doesn't work at first, keep on trying till it works. Your helper, who wields the scourge, must know what you wish, and also form the mental image. And at first at any rate, it will be better for you to work the spell, then for the girl to take your place and work it also; you scourge her. Don't try anything difficult at first, and do it at least once a week till it works. You have to get into sympathy with each other, before anything happens, and regular working helps this. Of spells, the exact words matter little if the intent be clear and you raise the true power, and sufficient thereof. Always in rhyme they are. There is something queer about rhyme. I have tried, and the same seem to lose their power if you miss the rhyme. Also in rhyme, the words seem to say themselves. You do not have to pause and think: "What comes next?" Doing this takes away much of your intent. [2] Order and discipline must be kept. A High Priest or Priestess may and should punish all faults to this end, and all of the Cult must accept such corrections willingly. All are brothers and sisters, for this reason: that even the High Priestess must submit to the scourge. Each fault should be corrected separately. The Priest or Priestess must be properly prepared and call the culprit to trial. They must be prepared as for initiation and kneel, be told their fault and sentence pronounced.

Punishment should be the scourge, followed by a forfeit such as several fivefold kisses or something of this nature. The culprit must acknowledge the justice of the punishment by kissing hands and scourge on receiving sentence and again when thanking for punishment received.*

³ The scourgings are 3, 7, 9 (thrice three), and 21 (thrice seven) 40 in all. It is not meet to make offerings [scourgings] of less than two score to the Goddess, for here be a mystery. The fortunate numbers be: 3 and 5. For three added to two (the Perfect Couple) be five. And three and five be eight; eight and five be thirteen; thirteen and eight be twenty-one.

The Fivefold Kiss is called 5, but there are 8 kisses, for there be 2 feet and 2 knees and genitals and 2 breasts and the lips. And 5 times 8 be two score. Also, fortunate numbers be 3, 7, 8, and 21, which total 40, or two score. For each man and woman hath ten fingers and ten toes, so each totals a score. And a perfect couple be two score.

So a lesser number would not be perfect prayer. If more are required make it a perfect number, as four score or six score.

Also there be Eight Elemental Weapons.

⁴ To make the anointing ointment, take some glazed pans filled half full with grease or olive oil. Put in one sweet mint, marjoram in another, ground thyme in a 3rd, and if you may have it, patchouli, dried leaves pounded. Place pans in hot water bath. Stir and cook for several hours, then pout into linen bags, and squeeze grease through into pans again, and fill up with fresh leaves. After doing this several times, the grease will be highly perfumed. Then mix all together and store in a well-corked jar. Anoint behind ears, throat, armpits, breasts, and womb. Also, for all ceremonies where the feet are kissed, they should also be anointed.

B.4. The Priestess and the Sword (1953)

It is said, "When a woman takes the main part in worship of the Male God, she must be girt with a sword." Note. This hath been explained as meaning that a man should be Magus representing the God, but if no one of sufficient rank and knowledge be present, a woman armed as a man may take his place. The sheath should be worn in a belt. She should carry the sword in hand, but if she has to use her hands, she should sheath the sword. Any other woman in the circle while this worship is performed shall be sword in hand. Those outside the circle only have the athame.

A woman may impersonate either the God or the Goddess, but a man may only impersonate the God.

B.5. The Warning (1953)

Keep this book in your own hand of write. Let brothers and Sisters copy what they will, but never let this book out of your hands, and never keep the writings of another, for if it be found in their hand of write, they may well be taken and tortured. Each should guard his own writings and destroy them whenever danger threatens. Learn as much as you may by heart, and when the danger is past, rewrite your book. For this reason, if any die, destroy their book if they have not been able to, for, if it be found, 'tis clear proof against them. "Ye may not be a Witch alone"; so all their friends be in danger of the torture. So destroy everything not necessary. If your book be found on you, 'tis clear proof against you. You may be tortured. Keep all thought of the cult from your mind. Say you had bad dreams, that a Devil caused you to write this without your knowledge. Think to yourself, "I Know Nothing . I Remember nothing. I have forgotten all." Drive this into your mind. If the torture be too great to bear, say, "I will confess. I cannot bear this torment. What do you want me to say? Tell me and I will say it." If they try to make you talk of the brotherhood, do not, but if they try to make you speak of impossibilities, such as flying through the air, consorting with the Devis, sacrificing children, or eating men's flesh, say, "I had an evil dream. I was not myself. I was crazed." Not all Magistrates are bad. If there be an excuse, they may show you mercy. If you have confessed aught, deny it afterwards. Say you babbled under the torture; you knew not what you did or said. If you be condemned, fear not. The Brotherhood is powerful. They may help you to escape if you are steadfast. If you betray aught, there is no hope for you, in this life, or in that which is to come. But, 'tis sure, that if steadfast you go to the pyre, drugs will reach you. You will feel naught , and you go but to Death and what lies beyond, the ecstasy of the Goddess.

The same with the working Tools. Let them be as ordinary things that anyone may have in their homes. The Pentacles shall be of wax that they may be melted or broken at once. Have no sword unless your rank allows you one. Have no names or signs on anything. Write them on in ink before consecrating them and wash it off at once when finished. Never boast, never threaten, never say you wish ill to anyone. If any speak of the craft, say, "Speak not to me of such, it frightens me, 'tis evil luck to speak of it."

B.6. Of the Ordeal of the Art Magical (1953)

Learn of the spirit that goeth with burdens that have not honour, for 'tis the spirit that stoopeth the shoulders and not the weight. Armour is heavy, yet it is a proud burden and a man standeth upright in it. Limiting and constraining any of the senses serves to increase the concentration of another. Shutting the eyes aids the hearing. So the binding of the initiate's hands increases the mental perception, while the scourge increaseth the inner vision. So the initiate goeth through it proudly, like a princess, knowing it but serves to increase her glory. But this can only be done by the aid of another intelligence and in a circle, to prevent the power thus generated being lost. Priests attempt to do the same with their scourgings and mortifications of the flesh. But lacking the aid of bonds and their attention being distracted by their scourging themselves and what little power they do produce being dissipated, as they do not usually work within a circle, it is little wonder that they oft fail. Monks and hermits do better, as they are apt to work in tiny cells and coves, which in some way act as circles. The Knights of the Temple, who used mutually to scourge each other in an octagon, did better still; but they apparently did not know the virtue of bonds and did evil, man to man.

But perhaps some did know? What of the Church's charge that they wore girdles or cords?

B.7. The Eightfold Way. (1953)

Eightfold Path or Ways to the Centre.

1. Meditation or Concentration. This in practice means forming a mental image of what is desired, and forcing yourself to see that it is fulfilled, with the fierce belief and knowledge that it can and will be fulfilled, and that you will go on willing till you force it to be fulfilled. Called for short, "Intent"

2. Trance, projection of the Astral.

3. Rites, Chants, Spells, Runes, Charms, etc.

4. Incense, Drugs, Wine, etc., whatever is used to release the Spirit. (Note. One must be very careful about this. Incense is usually harmless, but you must be careful. If it has bad aftereffects, reduce the amount used, or the duration of the time it is inhaled. Drugs are very dangerous if taken to excess, but it must be remembered that there are drugs that are absolutely harmless, though people talk of them with bated breath, but Hemp is especially dangerous, because it unlocks the inner eye swiftly and easily, so one is tempted to use it more and more. If it is used at all, it must be with the strictest precautions, to see that the person who uses it has no control over the supply. This should be doled out by some responsible person, and the supply strictly limited.)

5. The Dance, and kindred practices.

6. Blood control (the Cords), Breath Control, and kindred practices.

7. The Scourge.

8. The Great Rite.

These are all the ways. You may combine many of them into the one experiment, the more the better.

The Five Essentials:

1. The most important is "Intention": you must know that you can and will succeed; it is essential in every operation.

2. Preparation. (You must be properly prepared according to the rules of the Art; otherwise you will never succeed.)

3. The Circle must be properly formed and purified.

4. You all must be properly purified, several times if necessary, and this purification should be repeated several times during the rite.

5. You must have properly consecrated tools.

These five essentials and Eight Paths or Ways cannot all be combined in one rite. Meditation and dancing do not combine well, but forming the mental image and the dance may be well combined with Chants. Spells, etc., combined with scourging and No. 6, followed by No. 8, form a splendid combination. Meditation, following scourging, combined with Nos. 3 and 4 and 5, are also very Good. For short cuts concentration, Nos. 5, 6, 7, and 8 are excellent.

B.8. To Gain the Sight (1953)

² Incense is also good to propitiate the Spirits, but also to induce relaxation and to help to build up the atmosphere which is necessary to suggestibility. (For our human eyes are so blind to what really is, that it is often necessary to suggest that it is there, before we may see it, as we may point out to another something at a distance before they may see it themselves. Gum mastic, aromatic rush roots, cinnamon bark, musk, juniper, sandalwood, and ambergris in combination are all good, but patchouli is best of all.

And if you may have hemp, 'tis better still, but be very careful of this.

³ The circle being formed, all properly prepared, and the Rites done, and all purified, the aspirant should warlock and take his tutor round the circle, saluting the Mighty Ones, and invoke them to aid the operation. Then both dance round till gid dy, invoking or using chants. Scourge. Then the Tutor should warlock very tightly, but not so to cause discomfort, but enough to retard the blood slightly. Again they should dance round, chanting, then scourge with light, steady, monotonous, slow strokes. It is very good that the pupil may see them coming (this may be arranged from position, or if a big mirror is available, this can be used with excellent effect) as this has the effect of passes, and helps greatly to stimulate the imagination, and it is important that they be not hard, the object being not to do more than draw the blood to that part and so away from the brain. This with the tight warlocking, which should be warricked, slows down the circulation of the blood, and the passes soon induce a drowsiness and a stupor. The tutor should watch for this. As soon as the aspirant sleeps, the scourging should cease. The tutor should also watch that the pupil become not cold, and if they struggle or become distressed, they should be at once awakened. (Note: if it cannot be arranged for the pupil to see, the wand may be used, for a time, then return to scourging.)

⁴ Do not be discouraged if no results come after two or three attempts. It will come, when both are in the right state. When you get some result, then results will come more quickly. Soon some of the ritual may be shortened, but never neglect to invoke the Goddess, and the Mighty Ones, or to form the Circle and do everything rightly. And for good and clear results, it is ever better to do too much ritual than too little. [5] It hath been found that this practice doth often cause a fondness between aspirant and tutor, and 'tis a cause of better results if this be so. If for any reason it is undesirable that there be any great fondness between aspirant and tutor, this may be easily avoided, by both parties from the onset firmly resolving in their minds that if any doth ensue, it shall be that of brother and sister or parent and child. And it is for this reason that a man may only be taught by a woman and a woman by a man, and that man and man, and woman and woman, should never attempt these practices together. And may all the Curses of the Mighty Ones be on any who make the attempt.*

Power is latent in the body and may be drawn out and used in various ways by the skilled. But unless confined in a circle it will be swiftly dissipated. Hence the importance of a properly constructed circle. Power seems to exude from the body via the skin and possibly from the orifices of the body; hence you should be properly prepared. The slightest dirt spoils everything, which shows the importance of thorough cleanliness. The attitude of mind has great effect, so only work with a spirit of reverence. A little wine taken and repeated during the ceremony, if necessary, helps to produce power. Other strong drinks or drugs may be used, but it is necessary to be very moderate, for if you are confused, even slightly, you cannot control the power you evoke.

The simplest way is by dancing and singing monotonous chants, slowly at first and gradually quickening the tempo until giddiness ensues. Then the calls may be used, or even wild and meaningless shrieking produces power. But this method inflames the mind and renders it difficult to control the power, though control may be gained through practice. The scourge is a far better way, for it stimulates and excites both body and soul, yet one easily retains control.

The Great Rite is far the best. It releases enormous power, but the conditions and circumstances make it difficult for the mind to maintain control at first. It is again a matter of practice and the natural strength of the operator's will and, in a lesser degree, of those of his assistants. If, as of old, there were many trained assistants present and all wills properly attuned, wonders occurred.

Sorcerors chiefly used the blood sacrifice; and while we hold this to be evil, we cannot deny that this method is very efficient. Power flashes forth from newly shed blood, instead of exuding slowly as by our method. The victim's terror and anguish add keenness, and even quite a small animal can yield enormous power. The great difficulty is in the human mind controlling the power of the lower animal mind. But sorcerers claim they have methods for effecting this and that the difficulty disappears the higher the animal used, and when the victim is human disappears entirely. (The practice is an abomination but it is so.) Priests know this well; and by their auto-da-fs, with the victims' pain and terror (the fires acting much the same as circles), obtained much power.

Of old the Flagellants certainly evoked power, but through not being confined in a circle much was lost. The amount of power raised was so great and continuous that anyone with knowledge could direct and use it; and it is most probable that the classical and heathen sacrifices were used in the same way. There are whispers that when the human victim was a willing sacrifice, with his mind directed on the Great Work and with highly skilled assistants, wonders ensued but of this I would not speak.

Naked, but sandals (not shoes) may be worn. For initiation, tie hands behind back, pull up to small of back, and tie ends in front of throat, leaving a cable-tow to lead by, hanging down in front. (Arms thus form a triangle at back.) When initiate is kneeling at altar, the cable-tow is tied to a ring in the altar. A short cord is tied like a garter round the initiate's left leg above the knee, with ends tucked in. Another is tied round right ankle and ends tucked in so as to be out of the way while moving about. These cords are used to tie feet together while initiate is kneeling at the altar and must be long enough to do this firmly. Knees must also be firmly tied. This must be carefully done. If the aspirant complains of pain, the bonds must be loosened slightly; always remember the object is to retard the blood flow enough to induce a trance state. This involves slight discomfort, but great discomfort prevents the trance state; so it is best to spend some little time loosening and tightening the bonds until they are just right. The aspirant alone can tell you when this is so. This, of course, does not apply to the initiation, as then no trance is desired; but for the purpose of ritual it is good that the initiates be bound firmly enough to feel they are absolutely helpless but without discomfort.

B.11. The Meeting Dance. (1953)

The Maiden should lead. A man should place both hands on her waist, standing behind her, and alternate men and women should do the same, the Maiden leading and they dance following her. She at last leads them into a right-hand spiral. When the center is reached (and this had better be marked by a stone), she suddenly turns and dances back, kissing each man as she comes to him. All men and women turn likewise and dance back, men kissing girls and girls kissing men. All in time to music, it is a merry game, but must be practiced to be done well. Note, the musicians should watch the dancers and make the music fast or slow as is best. For the beginners it should be slow, or there will be confusion. It is most excellent to get people to know each other at big gatherings.

B.12. To Leave the Body. (1953)

'Tis not wise to strive to get out of your body until you have thoroughly gained the Sight. The same ritual as to gain the Sight may be used, but have a comfortable couch.

THE ENTERED APPRENTICE HANDBOOK

by W.Bro. J.S.M. WARD

INTRODUCTION - By the Hon. Sir John A. Cockburn

W. Bro. Ward is one of the most able and earnest of Masonic students. He brings to bear on the task of research the mind of a scholar, enriched by extensive reading, much travel and a wide experience of men and affairs. In addition to being a well known author of Masonic Works, he was the Founder of the Masonic Study Society, whose first President was the late Sir Richard Vassar Vassar-Smith, 33 degree, and in whose ranks are to be found many eminent Masonic writers.

Brother Ward has by precept and example led others to become eager explorers in the realms of Masonic truth. The present volume is No. 1 in a series of studies as to the meaning of our Ritual. It deals with the degree of an Entered Apprentice and is calculated to inspire the younger brethren with the resolve not to content themselves with the outward form of our ceremonies, beautiful though it be, but to gain a knowledge of the indwelling soul of Masonry and to comprehend the deep meaning of the ritual with which they are step by step becoming familiar.

Hence they will learn to regard the Craft not only as a world-spread, civilising medium, nor yet only as the most benevolent of all Institutions, but also as a mine of surpassing wealth in which the Wisdom of the Ages has become embedded and preserved. Bro. Ward at the outset disarms anything like hostile criticism by admitting that many brethren may not find themselves in complete accord with all his conclusions. Indeed, it would be surprising if this were the case.

Like Holy Writ, the Ritual is capable of many interpretations. It is a gradual accretion in which succeeding epochs have left their mark. Evolution takes place under the alternation of forces that make for difference and agreement. The process demands a continual adjustment between these apparently contrary, but in reality complementary factors. Each age sets out to balance any deficiency in the preceding period.

When materialism has been pushed to excess, the tendency is rectified by a spiritual revival. On the other hand, an age in which zeal for the gifts of the spirit has caused neglect of temporal welfare is naturally followed by a renaissance of the just claims of the flesh. The subject matter of Masonry is the relationship between Spirit and Matter, between Heaven and Earth, between God and Man, between the Soul and the Body. Emphasis is everywhere laid on the necessity of their reconciliation. Consequently to attain the juste milieu emphasis has sometimes to be laid on one side and sometimes on the other. For example, the Cross and the Square, which have now such deeply spiritual significance, were originally signs of Earth, and became respectively, the essential symbols of Christianity and Masonry, because it was necessary to proclaim the fact that professions of piety towards God were idle, unless they bore fruit in kindly relationship between man and man.

Bro. Ward regards the J.W. as representing the body, and the S.W. the soul, although the emblems and jewel of the former are celestial and of the latter terrestrial. The fact is that things divine and human are so interwoven in Masonry as to be inseparable. Duty towards God and towards our neighbour are but different aspects of the same truth. For the Fatherhood of God implies the Brotherhood of Man, and, conversely, he who devotes himself to the service of his fellow creatures proves, through his brotherly relationship, his descent from the Father of All.

The issue of Bro. Ward's series of handbooks cannot fail to accomplish its main object, which is to lead not only juniors, but also those well versed in the ritual, to mark, learn and inwardly digest the significance of the ceremonies, which when properly understood, causes our jewels and emblems to glow with an inner light which infinitely enhances their beauty.

The ready reception which Bro. Ward's books have already received at the hands of the Craft, prove that they meet a recognised requirement as expositions of the character of a ritual with whose external features we are familiar, and in which we take our daily delight.

The Mysteries

In every race and every clime,
Since the earliest days of Time,
Men have taught the Mystic Quest
Shown the Way to Peace and rest.

Bacchus died, and rose again,
On the golden Asian Plain;
Osiris rose from out the grave,
And thereby mankind did save:
Adonis likewise shed his blood
By the yellow Syrian flood,
Zoroaster brought to birth
Mithra from His Cave of Earth.

And to-day in Christian Lands
We with them can join hands.

J.W.

CHAPTER I. THE OPENING OF THE FIRST DEGREE.

The W.M. calls the brethren together with one knock so as to remind them that the body must be prepared to obey the higher faculties, for if it is not, no spiritual progress is possible. The first question and answer of the J.W. indicate this quite clearly, for the J.W. represents the body and so he satisfies himself that man's body is on guard against outside influences. The S.W., representing the Soul, next proves that all present have made some progress towards the light.

It is only when this has been achieved that any real advancement becomes possible, and only those who have started can help those who still remain in spiritual darkness. The next series of questions indicates that Man has a seven-fold nature. The Ancient Egyptians held this view, and it is endorsed in Masonry by the fact that it takes seven to make a perfect lodge.

There is also, no doubt, an astrological reference to the seven planets and a connection with stellar worship, but as our system is mainly solar, it is almost impossible to give a logical planetary interpretation to the seven who form a lodge, or to the seven officers. In short, the planetary symbolism has become disorganised by the stress laid on the solar aspect of the three principal officers who rule a lodge. Moreover, the predominance of the solar aspect has emphasised the triune nature of man, and symbolises it in these officers.

Thus it will be seen that too much stress must not be laid on the planets, as represented by the seven officers, and a passing reference to the fact that it is still remembered in the number seven is all that can be logically maintained. Similarly there is merely a hint of the seven-fold nature of man. If ours were a stellar system, then clearly the Tyler would represent the body, the divine spark would be represented by the W.M., the various officers between would symbolise the various sub-divisions of the non-materials parts of man, such as his astral body, his intellectual faculties, and so forth. Since, however, our system is solar in the main, we should continue to interpret our symbols from that aspect, making but passing reference to stellar influences when they occur. The duties of the Tyler are considered elsewhere, so we will pass to the I.G. Although in some popular workings he and the other two subordinate officers are not allowed to speak for themselves, the Wardens doing this work, in many other rituals they are allowed to answer the W.M. direct.

The I.G. stands for the power which permits the Soul to enter flesh at any given moment. The Soul may desire to become incarnate, but unless its time has come it is turned back at the threshold, and even if it forces itself into birth it is cut short. Entry into life is not an accident, but ordained of God, Who works through His spiritual as well as through His human agents. Those who saw Maeterlinck's play, "The Blue Bird," will remember that the same idea is dealt with in one of the scenes.

Spiritually, the I.G. represents the warning which must be given to those who attempt, without due caution, to probe into the Mysteries of God. They must neither rush forward hastily, nor, having once started, withdraw suddenly; for, if they do, dire evil will befall. This warning all the Mysteries gave, and it is certain that those who dabble in the so-called occult run grave risks unless they use the utmost caution.

Hence it is absolutely essential that the candidate should be properly prepared before he starts on his quest. The J.D. represents the physical means by which the Soul, represented by the S.W., passes on the inspirations received from the Spirit, the W.M., to the material world. In this sense therefore he represents intelligence, and the five senses of man, whereas the S.D. stands for intuition, whereby the Soul obtains its inspiration from the Divine.

In the ancient operative days these officers no doubt had a practical use, the S.D. being the personal messenger of the Master, who took messages to the S.W., not merely when in Lodge, but when he was at a distance, employed on his task, or possibly when he was resting from his labours, In like manner the S.W.'s deacon was sent by him to find the J.W. The J.W. describes his position in L. and indicates quite clearly that he represents the Sun at noon.

From the operative point of view it must be remembered that Noon has always been, and still is, a workingman's dinner hour, hence the special duty of the J.W.; but in the spiritual sense, since he stands for the body, it is natural that he should have charge over the body's needs. As he also represents the preservative side of God, his interest in the physical well-being of man is appropriate.

With this in mind the F. C. will realise the significance of the P.W., and its connection with C. and W., which are the emblems of the God of Vegetation in the more primitive rites. When men evolved, and the solar system of religion developed, the God of Vegetation became the Preserver. This characteristic of the J.W. is emphasised by the upright lines of his plumb, which latter reminds us of water which falls from heaven, and of the cast marks of Vishnu in India.

This aspect of the J.W., as representing the Preserver, is carefully maintained throughout the whole of the three degrees and must never be forgotten. In like manner, the fact that he stands for the body is also maintained throughout. Bearing this in mind , we shall perceive the significance of the fact that the Architect of K.S. 's Temple was the J.W. Finally, bread and water represent the bare necessities, without which mortal life cannot be preserved.

Luxuries, which are obtained when we have acquired worldly possessions, i.e., wealth, lead to the death of the soul, and even of the body, unless employed with the greatest caution. Some masons claim that the J.W. originally sat in the North to mark the Sun at noon, meaning to see, or point out, that it had reached the midheavens. Honestly, I can find no real evidence in support of this view, which likewise places the W.M. in the West and the S.W. in the East. It is due, in my opinion, to a complete misunderstanding of the use of the words "to mark."

This phrase implies that the J.W. is placed on a certain spot to mark the position of the Sun at noon, and not that 'he may see it. In a closed-in building, such as a lodge room was, it would be desirable to mark the three positions of the Sun, for the candidate has to pass through each point in turn, and these three officers, who represent the Sun in its three aspects, would naturally sit in the positions in use in a speculative lodge.

Any arguments adduced from the rituals of the modern Operative Lodges are vitiated by two facts-(1) we have no evidence that this peculiarity is really old (it may be due to Stretton's inventive mind) and (2) the Operatives, if old, would be descended from the Guild Masons and not from the Freemasons ; and this might be a peculiarity of theirs, or deliberately adopted so as to differentiate them from the Freemasons.

That the Guild Masons and Freemasons were quite distinct has been proved as far back as 1913, and the fact is gone into in my other book, "Freemasonry and the Ancient Gods." That the Operatives are not descended direct from the Mediaeval Freemasons is shown by the fact that they have entirely different signs from our own. Thus we need not discuss further the question as to whether the J.W. should be in the North or South. The S.W., as he indicates in his reply to the W.M., represents the Sun in its setting, and so the Destructive Side of the Deity, or Shiva. He also stands for the Soul. Shiva shall close not only our mortal life, but Time itself. But I have dealt with this side of the S.W. very fully elsewhere. It should be noted, however, that the S.W. is associated with level and horizontal lines , and not with perpendiculars, and here again he follows the Hindu system, for Shiva's caste mark is two or more parallel lines.

As the Great Leveller this is most natural, and it reminds us that in the sight of God all souls are equal, even though in mortal life their stations may appear to differ. Shiva is associated with the element of Fire, whereas Vishnu is associated with Water, and as we see that great care has been taken to maintain the connection between the J.W. and Water, so we find that with us the S.W. is similarly associated with Fire, though perhaps less obviously.

Firstly, his level is of a triangular form with the point upward, the world-wide symbol for Fire. Again, the S.W. 's P.W. has hidden within it the same idea. A smith who works in metals can only do so by the help of fire, and in one ritual this fact is stressed. Thus metals come out from the dark earth, and the Sun sinks in the West into darkness and the grave, as does man. But, by means of fire, man obtains wealth from the metals hidden in the earth, and in like manner the Soul of Man rises refined and purified from the grave by means of the divine fire within.

Moreover, one cannot ignore the fact that there is here a hint of the necessity of the purging fire of remorse to cleanse away our sins. The S. W. is the Soul, the link between mortal life and the Divine Spark , but he acts on instructions from the Spirit; in other words, it is only when God decrees our death that the Soul departs from the body. The W.M. represents, as his words indicate, the creative side of God and the Divine Spirit in Man. He sets us to work on earth, but delegates to another the task of calling us back whence we came.

He represents the male aspect of the Deity, as is shown by the tau crosses, called levels, on his apron, and by his use of the gavel, which represents the same emblem. The Tau Cross is, of course, a phallic symbol and stands for the male and creative aspect in Man. As the three principal officers represent the Sun (a masculine planet) in various phases, it is natural that they should all wield the gavel, but the two wardens are less essentially male than the W.M., as is indicated by the fact that they do not have the tau cross or Master's level on their aprons.

The Spirit, being active, is male; whereas both soul and body, being more or less passive, are female. The feminine side of the S.W. or Soul is deliberately emphasised later-in the first degree-by a reference to the Moon, a feminine planet, the emblem of the Soul and of the psychic nature in man. Nor can we ignore the fact that the West is known as the feminine quarter of the heavens, whereas the East is the masculine; it is also worth noticing that Shiva is often depicted with the moon.

Finally, before declaring the L. open, the W.M. offers up a prayer, thereby reminding us that the Divine Spark in Man, or the Spirit, must turn to the Source of All for aid if it would control body and soul. The three knocks, as distinct from the one knock with which the proceedings started, indicate that the members are about to work for the union and advancement of body, soul and spirit, and not for the body only. But the way in which the three knocks are given show that, as yet, there is no unity between the three elements which constitute Man.

CHAPTER II. THE TYLER

The first thing that greets the eyes of the aspirant to our Order is a man, whom he soon discovers is called the Tyler, standing in front of the door with a d.n. s.d. in his hand. He naturally wants an answer to the question which actually occurs in a certain famous old ritual, "Why does the Tyler wear a s.d.?"

and the answer is, "To guard the brethren and to hele the Word." Let us consider this answer: "To guard the brethren. "In certain old rituals of the 18th century we are told that Masons' Lodges formerly met in the open-"on the highest hill or lowest valley, where never dog barked nor cock crew."

Brethren will no doubt have read the interesting article in the "Masonic Record" relating to this state of affairs, but I am bound to say that I do not think that the ordinary mediaeval lodge met in such places. The reference to the cock, together with certain details we possess with regard to those lodges which did meet in the open, (they were mostly in Scotland) indicate that they were not ordinary Craft lodges, but much more probably Templar Lodges.

The Templars in the 18th century claimed to be descended from a body which had been suppressed in the years 1307 to 1314-, and actually proscribed. There was every reason therefore why they should meet in out of the way places, but no such reason existed in the case of a lodge of ordinary Freemasons. That such a phrase should have wandered into a craft ritual from Templary is perfectly natural, but it is not safe to argue from this that all Masonic lodges met under the canopy of heaven.

In those early days, many higher degrees were worked in ordinary Craft Lodges, in a way not permitted to-day; and this may easily account for phrases more appropriate to a Templar Preceptory being found in a Craft working. I might add that until the middle of the 19th century Templar meetings were always called "Encampments," indicating that they were camps held in the open fields.

But in mediaeval times we know that the Freemasons had Lodge buildings, and if they went to a new place to build a church or castle, the first thing they did was to erect a temporary Lodge room, which they attended before starting the day's work. Those interested will find abundant details in Fort Newton's interesting little book, "The Builders." There also it is clearly shown that there were two kinds of masons in those days, and the man who conclusively proved this was not a modern Speculative Freemason.

The two groups were the Freemasons and the Guild Masons. The former were lineal descendents of the Comacine Masons-who, incidentally, knew a certain Masonic Sign-and these men were skilled architects, free to go anywhere. They had a monopoly of ecclesiastical building and of work outside the towns, e.g. castles. The Guild Masons were humbler folk. They were not allowed to build outside their particular city, but had a monopoly of all building inside that city, with one important and significant exception:-they were not allowed to build ecclesiastical buildings.

In return for their charter they had to maintain the fortifications. When a church had to be built the Freemasons were sent for, and apparently they called on the Guild Masons to help them with the rough work, e.g., to square the stones, etc. I suggest that Speculative Freemasonry is mainly descended from the Freemasons, whereas the few Operative Lodges that survive are probably descended from the Guild masons. This theory is borne out by the fact that while the Operatives have our g.s. they have not our s.ns, yet these s.ns are unquestionably old.

They would all have the same g. for convenience in proving to the Freemasons that they were really masons, but they would keep their s.ns to themselves, as did the Freemasons, since they did not want the other group to have access to their private meetings. Further, we find that the Master Masons of the Freemasons were entitled to maintenance as "gentlemen," clearly indicating that they were different from ordinary craftsmen (See Fort Newton).

After the Reformation no doubt Freemasons and Guild masons tended to amalgamate, and this explains much. Now if the Freemasons erected a lodge before they started to build a church or castle, we shall see that their meeting in the open would be merely occasional, e.g., while the temporary lodge was being built, and not a regular custom ; but the very fact that it was a temporary building, and open to approach by all and sundry who came to the site of the new edifice, is quite sufficient to explain why they had someone on guard.

Why, however, is he called a Tyler, instead of Sentinel, or some similar name? There are three explanations, and we can adopt which we please:-

1. To tile is to cover in; hence the Tyler is one who covers or conceals what is going on in the lodge. 2. In the old mediaeval Templar ceremony there were three sentinels; one inside the door, one outside, and one on the roof or tiles, who could see if anyone was approaching the building. It will be remembered that the old Templar Churches were round, so that a man perched on the roof was able to see in every direction. 3. That the tilers were inferior craftsmen as compared with the genuine Freemasons; poor brethren, as it were, and not admitted to full membership, although one or two were chosen to act as Outer Guards.

I am not greatly impressed with the latter theory, and my person predilection is in favour of No. 1 ; but there is a good deal to be said for No. 2. The tyler guarded the brethren from "cowans" or eavesdroppers. The former word is still used in the country districts of Lancashire and Westmorland for a dry-dyker, that is, a man who builds rough walls between the different fields, of rough, uncut, and unmortared stones.

When I was living in Yorkshire I had a number of fields so surrounded; the stones for which were picked from the hillside, and piled one upon another. No particular skill was needed to build such a wall; I repaired several myself. In other words, a "cowan" is one who pretends to be a mason because he works in stone, but is not one. Some fanciful derivations have been suggested from "Cohen," the Jewish priest. I disagree entirely with this view.

Why should the Jewish Cohens be more likely to pretend to be Freemasons than any other priests? As the other word is spelt as we spell ours, and means what I have stated, I see no reason to invent this suggestion regarding the Jewish priests, who were always few in number, and in the Middle Ages hardly existed:-the Jews were driven out of England by Edward I., and not re-admitted until the time of Cromwell. "Eavesdroppers" means men who listen under the eaves.

The eaves of a primitive or of a mediaeval cottage overhung a considerable distance beyond the walls, and between the roof and the wall was an open space. Through this space the smoke of the fire escaped; the general arrangement being very similar to that found in the tropics. The walls of such a cottage were often only five to six feet high, and thus a man could stand under the eaves in the shadow, hidden from the light of the sun or moon, and both see and hear what was going on inside, without those who were in the lodge knowing he was there.

But the Tyler was on guard outside the door of the Lodge; he was armed with a d. n s. d., and woe betide any eavesdropper he discovered, for our mediaeval brethren undoubtedly interpreted their obligations literally. Incidentally, I understand that nominally the duty of carrying out the pen. still rests on the shoulders of the Tyler.

With regard to the use of temporary buildings on or near the site of the edifice, it should be noted that during the building of Westminster Abbey there was at least one, if not two, such lodges, and they are mentioned in the records of the Abbey. One seems to have stood on the site of the subsequent nave. Thus we can see that it was essential that there should be an Outer Guard to keep off intruders, owing to the fact that Lodges were usually held in temporary buildings, often with overhanging eaves and an open space between the top of the walls and the beams which supported the roof.

The word "hele" should, in my opinion, be pronounced "heal," not "hale." The use of "hale" is due to the fact that in the 18th century the words "conceal," and "reveal," were pronounced "concale" and "revale." Since the words obviously were a jingle, I consider it is more correct to-day to pronounce it "heal." Moreover, the word "hele" means to cover over.

You still hear the phrase used, "to hele a cottage," or even a haystack, and the word "Hell" implies the place that is covered over, e.g., in the centre of the earth. "Hele" is connected with "heal"-to cover up, or to close up, a wound-and the meaning therefore is tautological, viz, "to cover up the word." (The Masonic s -t")

The use of the pronunciation "Hale" is to-day most misleading, and is apt to cause a newly initiated Bro. to think he has to "hail" something, or "proclaim it aloud." The C. is taken in hand by the Tyler, who makes him sign a form to the effect that he is free and of the full age of 21 years. Why "free?" Well, in mediaeval days he had to bind himself to serve as an apprentice for seven years.

Unless he was a free man, his owner might come along and take him away, before he had completed his apprenticeship and, worse still, might extort from him such secrets as he had learnt from the masons. Thus the master might be enabled to set himself up as a free lance, not under the control of the fraternity. The twenty-one years is, I believe, an 18th century Speculative innovation, aiming at a similar object.

I think there is no doubt that usually in the Middle Ages an apprentice was a boy, who placed himself under the control of a Master with his parents' consent. The Master was henceforth in loco parentis. In the 18th century without some such safeguard (as 21 years) some precocious youth might have joined the fraternity without his father's consent.

The father might have been one who disapproved of F.M., and in such a case would probably have not hesitated to exercise his parental authority in the drastic manner at that time in vogue, and so exhort the secrets, which he could then have "exposed." To-day it is still a very reasonable clause, for it presupposes that man has reached years of discretion and knows what he is about.

Any real hardship is removed by the fact the G.L. has power to dispense, which power it constantly uses in the case of the University Lodges at Oxford and Cambridge. I myself was one of those who thus benefited. It is, I believe, still the custom in England that a Lewis, the son of a mason, may be admitted at 18, though the right is seldom claimed; but in some countries, I understand, it is a privilege highly valued, and regularly used by those entitled to it.

In masonry a lewis is a cramp of metal, by which one stone is fastened to another. It is usually some form of a cross, and a whole chapter could be written on its significance, but this casual reference must suffice.

CHAPTER III. PREPARATION.

The next thing that happens is that the C. is prepared by the Tyler. This is a very important matter. There seems little doubt that originally candidates were str..d n..d, and even to-day in the U.S.A. C's are left in their sh-s only. In Burma we changed out of everything into a one-piece pyjama suit, a most convenient arrangement.

What we now have is a system by which the parts which have to be b. are made b. We take our ob. on our L.K., therefore that.K. must be B.. Why? So that our flesh may be in contact with Mother Earth. It is possible that there was a practical as well as a symbolical meaning in this, and also in the case of our deprivation of m..s. In some of the ancient mysteries it has been suggested that a charge of electricity was passed through the C. as he knelt at the altar, either from a battery, or by what is now called magnetism.

If any question the use of electricity in those days, I would point out that certain statements of Herodotus, to the effect that the Egyptian priests brought down lightning by means of rods, can best be explained by admitting that they had some rudimentary knowledge of electricity. The b.b. is in order that the S.I. can be applied.

The Scotch ritual, however, says it is to show your sex, but I am inclined to think this is a modern gloss. Personally, I should not regard this as conclusive proof in itself, for I have seen (when abroad) many well grown girls who had no breasts worth mentioning, while many native men had quite well developed busts.

It should always be remembered that this is the degree of birth and we were born n..d.. We are s. s. because we are about to tread on holy ground, just as in the East we wear slippers when entering a mosque. It is probable that the Scotch ritual has preserved a real tradition when it refers to the custom in Israel of removing a shoe, as a witness, when confirming an obligation.

Those interested will find the details in Ruth, where Boaz under-takes to marry Ruth. A. C.T. is placed about his n.. This piece of symbolism is old and world wide. On a vase found at Chama, in Mexico, several candidates are depicted going through a ceremony very similar, apparently, to a certain degree in M.,* One is being taught a certain sign, and the others who stand waiting their turn all have C.T.s with a running noose about their necks.

In India this C.T. is the emblem of Yama, the God of Death, with which he snares the souls of men and drags them forth from their bodies. It is carried by - Shiva to indicate his destructive character in relation to human life. There are in masonry meanings within meanings, and I will therefore indicate a few of those associated with the C.T., but I shall not do so with all the details upon which I shall touch. The C.T. is an emblem of Death.

It is fastened round the necks of captives as showing that they are at the absolute mercy of their conqueror. Thus the burghesses of Calais had to come before Edward III. in their shirts-note that-with c.T. 's round their necks. They were only saved by the desperate pleading of good Queen Philippa. But this is the degree of birth. Some come into the world with a caul which may strangle them if not removed, and in any case we are said to be born in original sin and therefore doomed to die.

*See "Freemasonry and the Gods" Birth, in the very nature of things, means death, and that is why the Hindoos have made Shiva, the Lord of Death, also the Lord of Birth. We ourselves are captives-souls bound by the chains of the flesh-and offenders against the Law of the King of Kings. Further, we come in bondage to sin, seeking to be freed from our bonds by the word of God.

The holding of the C.T., and the dangers entailed, are sufficiently explained to need no further mention just now, though this does not imply there are not inner meanings. The h.w. is always found in every great initiatory rite. In general, it reminds us that as in the physical world we came out of darkness into light, so in the intellectual, and finally, in the spiritual world.

We come into masonry seeking the Light of God's word. In other language, to try and comprehend through the use of symbols what God really is. But as the veil of darkness is slightly lifted as we grow in years and our intellect awakens, so it is in the craft, and the first thing we see there is the V.S.L., itself a symbol of Divine inspiration; for without the Divine spark, which speaks from the inmost recesses of the soul, we shall remain in spiritual darkness all our natural life.

The C. is then brought to the door of the L. and challenged, but strange to say, in our ritual there is no p.w.. There was once, I have no doubt, and it is still in use in Scotland, Ireland and U.S.A. Moreover, it is one of the tests there when visiting, and if a man cannot give it he will run a serious risk of being refused admission. Strange to say, we do get it inside the Lodge, though perhaps most brethren do not realise it.

It is "The T. of G.R." (sometimes it is "Free and of G.R.," though this is less usual). But before entering we are deprived of M.. Now, among the Dervishes M. = mineral substances, but we interpret it M . . . 1. It is M . . . 1s!-that is important. "Valuables" is a real, but subsidiary, meaning. Let us consider this carefully. There is an explanation of why it is done in the lecture,-now, alas, seldom read in Lodge-and also, of course, in the questions.

These lectures were the real instruction; on them were based the tracing board lectures, which were pictorial summaries, on which were set certain questions. Now the lectures (which can be bought at any Masonic furnishers) tell us that at the building of the Temple no metallic implements were used. Why? Because metals came from below. They were the gifts of the Thonic Gods:-the Gods of the Underworld-useful, no doubt, but being gifts of the Gods of the Underworld they were in their very nature evil, and abhorrent to the Gods of Light, whom the white races worshipped.

For this reason the Egyptians continued to use stone knives to open the corpse preparatory to embalming it, long after they used metal knives constantly. The holy dead must not be polluted with the gifts of the evil powers. If there is anything in the theory of an electric or magnetic discharge being made at the time when a metal point is applied to the n. 1. b. at the ob. , this would also be a practical reason; the presence of metal might make such a charge dangerous.

But the first reason is no doubt the original one, and probably the only one. The idea that we bring nothing into this world is, of course, likewise obvious; but its full significance is lost in our ritual, although seen in the Irish. There a C. is deprived of metals in the first and in the second degrees. The significance of this will be realised by M.M.'s if they ponder awhile on the meaning of the S.W.'s P.W.- "How hardly shall a rich man enter the kingdom of Heaven." That worldly possessions hamper a man's spiritual progress is proclaimed by every religion in the world which can truly be called great.

The Buddhist monk and the mediaeval friar alike agree on this. Why p.w.s. at all? Here we wander into a strange field, no less than that of old world magic, I think. The C. enters an E. A. Lodge from the outside world. Prior to his entry this Lodge has been opened by a peculiar ceremony :- a ceremony which, in the technical language of magic and the occult, raises the vibrations of those present; thus they are , as it were , raised to a higher key, and force is generated.

Now those who have studied such matters know that a body of men who are all concentrating on a particular subject do generate a peculiar, subtle, but powerful force, which has not been accurately defined by science , but is loosely called magnetic. In the old days of phenomenal magic certain words, when uttered in the correct tone, were believed to be in consonance with this "power," like a tuning fork is to a violin.

Therefore we give this p.w. to the C. to raise him quickly to the same "power" as the Lodge. But I am afraid I may be getting rather deep for our younger readers. All I need say further is that such p.w.s are universal in the great mystery rites, ancient or modern, and it is not surprising, therefore, that in some rituals we find a P.W. leading to the 1 degree.

CHAPTER IV. ADMISSION.

Now our C. enters and is received on a S.L.. This signifies many things, one idea lying within the other. It reminds us of the pain we, as distinct from our mothers, suffered when we entered this physical world. It is a test of our courage and obedience. Probably in olden days blood was drawn, as a sacrifice. The Can. comes seeking for knowledge; self-restraint and quiet confidence should mark his bearing.

In all primitive initiatory rites most painful tests are applied, and if the candidate does not bear them with courage he is rejected, and told that henceforth he is to dress as a woman and will be treated with contempt by the men of the tribe. We note that the instrument is a Latin cross, the age-old symbol of suffering, and this is the only place in the Lodge where the C. sees this cross, (e.g. when it is shown him later) though M.M. 's may realise that there does come a time when he treads the Way of the Cross of suffering.

The use of a Latin Cross as the S.I. is peculiarly significant, for it is associated with pain and the danger of death, and tells us, in symbolic language, that the way of life is the path of suffering, and begins with the threat of death and ends in death itself: but by this hard road we draw nearer to the object of our quest. Next the C. kneels while the blessing of H. is invoked.

This needs no explanation, for he is about to start on The Quest and needs Divine help. But the phrase, "Relying on such sure support, you may safely rise and follow your leader, . . . , for where the name of God is invoked we trust no danger can ensue" seems pointless in Emulation working, for the danger was at the door and is passed.

At Leeds, however, they have a working which is, they say, derived from the Old York ritual, and it does explain this passage. I saw this ceremony at Alfred 306, Leeds. The C. was brought in h-w and bidden to k . . l., and after the prayer, the W.M. said:- "Mr. Brown it is but fair to tell you of the perilous position in which you are now placed. Before you stand one with a d.s. in his hand, pointed at your n. l.b. , and behind you one holds the end of the c.t. which is about your neck; in this position of difficulty and danger, in whom do you put your trust?" Answer:- "In God. " W.M.:- "Right glad am I to see your faith is so well founded; relying, etc." Here you see the C. is in danger. Next the C. is taken round with the Sun, for this is the road of life , and in all ancient religions on entering a temple a man had to follow this path.

In Burma to this day you are expected to pass round the pagoda in this manner. The words are:- "Brethren in the N.E.S. and W. will take notice. " It is clear therefore that emphasis is laid on the fact that the candidate is following the path of the Sun, for otherwise why not employ the more usual phrase, "North, South, East and West?" Now the Swastika, which may be regarded as the "lost sign" in Freemasonry (+), indicates the path of the Sun and is the emblem of life, whereas the Suwastika is the emblem of the life beyond the grave, for, according to ancient symbolism and eschatology, the departed soul went through the underworld the reverse way, just as the Sun was supposed to do, e.g. W.S.E.N.

This then, is the road of the Spirits. Thus the candidate starts on the symbolic (+) First suggested by Wor. Bro. Sir John Cockburn. journey of life, and in some of the eighteenth century rituals there is evidence that the way was made hard and difficult, to symbolise the trials and tribulations we meet with in life , particularly if we strive to attain to the Light.

This lesson is still taught in certain foreign rituals. In "Freemasonry and the Ancient Gods" I have discussed the probability of the theory that the Swastika was once used in our Lodges to represent God, as it still is in the operative lodges, and have shown that a square-a-gamma *, the Greek "G," and therefore that the fourfold gamma represents the four letters of the Hebrew alphabet which denote the sacred name of God.

I refer again to this point later, and so will content myself with saying that in an operative lodge the Swastika if formed of four gallow-squares, one of which always rests on the open volume of the Bible, while the other three belong to the three Grand Master Masons, and are placed by them on the Bible before opening the Lodge, in such a way as to form a Swastika.

Thus even to-day in the manner of our progress round the L. we are reminded of that age-old symbol, which is found all over the world, *First suggested by Wor. Bro. Sir John Cockburn. representing Life and the Sun, the latter being itself an emblem for God. The C. is then told to step off with the l. f. f.. Why? Because the Preserver in ancient mythology is always depicted as trampling with his l. f. on the Serpent of Evil. This is so, alike in ancient Egypt, in India and elsewhere. But some may ask "Why should Horus or Krishna plant his l. f. on the serpent of Evil?" Major Sanderson, who has spent many years in Nyasaland as Medical Officer of Health and has been initiated into several native rites, tells me that among many primitive races there is a superstition that when entering a shed where rice is stored one must enter r. f. first, "so as not to hurt the Spirit who rules over the rice store." The same idea prevails among these people wherever food is stored, and we here get an explanation of "l. f. f."

When fighting against the Spirit of Evil you do desire to hurt him, and so reverse the superstition, and step off l. f. f.. This is Major Sanderson's view, and I consider it is probably the correct one. It may also be well to point out that our ceremonies have come in contact, at various periods, with many different religious beliefs, and this fact explains why there are often several meanings attached to certain points in the ritual, all of which may be correct.

The great serpent, Apepi, in Egypt, represents the powers of spiritual evil, e.g. the Devil. But it also specifically refers to ignorance, as is shown in the Indian legend in which Krishna tramples on the five-headed cobra. The five heads, moreover, also have a reference to our five senses, which in that allegory must be cleansed of every evil thought. Thus we may consider that the World is represented by the C.T. and H.W., and the brotherhood helps us to free ourselves from them.

The Flesh is represented by the f. r. s., in which we "trample" on the Tau Cross, while the Devil is represented by the snake, of whose existence we are reminded by the warning to "step off with the l. f. f.". Strictly, the C. should enter the L. in the N., not in the West. The North is the place of darkness, and at birth we come out of darkness into physical light, and so in the spiritual journey.

This is done at Leeds. Out of darkness, Light. But the Light shineth in the darkness and the candidate comprehends it not, for the darkness of gross materialism is upon him until he kneels before the emblem of the divine light, the V.S.L.. The C. is then challenged by the J.W. and the S.W.. The J.D. gives the pass word "Free and of G.R.," and the Wardens acknowledge its potency and bid him enter (Note "enter,") as if he were outside a door on which he had knocked for admission.

This brings to our mind the three regular knocks. For reasons which cannot be stated here, but which I will deal with more fully later, I suggest that the E.A. knocks remind us that man is Body, Soul and Spirit, and as in this stage of ignorance the Body is as important as the other two, the three knocks are all of equal duration. Lest any misunderstand this, I would argue that in the process of creation the Spirit first comes from God, secondly, clothes itself with a Soul, and finally enters flesh.

Thus, the first knock represents the Spirit, seeking God whence it came, the second, the Soul, and the third, the Body. To understand the full meaning of this passing by the Wardens one needs to consider why the C. is being led round the L..

There are two reasons given- (1) To show that he is properly prepared. (2) To show that he is a fit and proper person to be made a mason. Being made a mason symbolises the birth of the Christ within, and before anyone can attain to this mystical re-birth he must have progressed some way along the road of evolution, have gained certain experiences, and learned certain lessons.

Think again of the P.W., F. and of G.R.! In the earlier stages man is bound in materialism earthly things satisfy, and he is ruled by his physical passions. The C. for masonry has begun to desire more than the material: he has felt the desire for spiritual growth and knowledge, and so has become "free." This is recognised as he passes the J. W., who represents the Material Nature. Next he approaches the S. W.- the representative of the Soul-and with the aid of the P.W. is again bidden to enter. Notice, having passed the material stage, when the Body reigns supreme, the Soul immediately, takes control, and presents the C. to the W.M.-i.e. the Soul calls upon the Divine Spirit of God to give L. to the C. The reply is significant, but is almost incomprehensible unless one understands the symbolical journey which the C. has just taken, and one is apt to wonder why the questions which follow were not asked at the very beginning of the ceremony.

Really they are most important! They constitute the final testing of the C. before he is bidden to advance towards the E. to receive the L., and enter on the pathway which begins with initiation and ends with God Himself. Also they "are very searching: the C. being required to declare solemnly that he comes seeking knowledge, not because others desire him to do so, nor yet for unworthy motives of personal gain, but because he is prompted from within by a genuine desire to help Humanity.

Then follows a hint that the journey upwards is by no means easy, and patience, perseverance, caution and courage are essential if we are to achieve our goal. The C. having replied satisfactorily, the S.W. is given permission to direct the guide to instruct him in the proper method of advancing towards the L. This is by three squares which symbolise, not only uprightness of life, but also the three letters of the Great Name, Yod, He, Vau; Male, Female, and Variable.

In other words, God the Father, Mother, and child; and the fourth square is on the Ped., which gives us the final He, or the complete name of Him we seek,- Jehovah, or J.H.V. H. But the letter HE (pronounced Hay) is female, and its female aspect is emphasised by the position of the sq. and c.s., which form a lozenge, itself a well known symbol for the Vesica Piscis, as all who study heraldry know ; for in heraldry a woman's arms are placed, not on a shield, as are a man's, but on a lozenge.

A great truth is here taught,-that each soul is part of the Divine whole and cannot be separated from the God we seek. The C. is only just about to emerge from the darkness of gross materialism, yet the God he seeks is within him. True He is so veiled that many do not realise His presence, just as hundreds of C's tread out the proper steps without ever realising their full significance, but those who rise above the material start on the path of return to God, and each stage that they pass as they progress along the path, reveals more fully His Nature and Being. Notice, the C. only treads three squares,-Yod, He, Vau; Male, Female, Variable; the fourth square needed to complete the whole is on the Ped.

This is particularly significant-never whilst in the flesh shall we be able fully to comprehend His nature. No finite mind can comprehend the Infinite Deity. It is only after we have left the first initiation long behind, and travelled far, that we can hope to obtain that transcendent knowledge which enables us to understand fully, the Nature and Being of Him Who is the beginning and end of all.

Again comes the reminder that Masonry is free ; entrance to the path can only be gained by those who hear the call from within. No-one is coerced;-even at this late stage the C. is given an opportunity to retire. Thus he is asked if he is willing to take a serious Ob., and on his agreeing to do so, the W.M. directs him to k. on his l. k. etc.

It should be noted that the l. side of an individual is usually said to be "Femine," and it is not surprising, therefore that in this, the first and femine degree, the C. is told to k. on his l. k.. Notice the exact position! On the l. k. keeping the r. f. in the f. of a s. Now when you k. on the l. k. you must of necessity form a sq. at that k., and, if you try it, you will find that you cannot keep the r. f. in the form of a sq. without keeping the r. k. in the form of a sq. also; so once again we get three sq's, with the fourth on the Ped.

Thus we get another glimpse of the truth already hinted at, that each soul is part of the Divine whole, and cannot be separated from God. The C. is only just about to emerge from the darkness of ignorance, and yet he is instructed so to k. that by his very attitude, -i.e. by forming three sq.'s with his body (the fourth being on the Ped.) he shows symbolically that the God he seeks is within.

Possibly the C. is not conscious of His presence, any more than he realizes the significance of the steps by which he approached the Ped., or of the posture he assumes as he k's thereat, yet verily God is with him, and within him, and, be the journey short or long, back to God he must return. Once a M., ever a M., there is no such thing as straying permanently from the path.

CHAPTER V. THE OBLIGATION.

Why should there be any ob.? In all the ancient mysteries an ob. was exacted, and for this reason: -The secret teachings given in these mysteries disclosed an inner meaning, often of a most exalted kind, unsuitable for the general public, who were lacking in education. In the ancient world the external religion, with its worship of many gods, suited the ordinary man in the street, who was incapable of comprehending more advanced spiritual truths.

It would have been dangerous, alike to the populace and to the preacher, to have shouted aloud such a doctrine as the essential unity of God, and still more fatal to have attempted to describe His Nature. The danger to the populace was that the preacher might have destroyed their belief in the religious system in which they had been reared, while failing to convert them properly to the new doctrine.

For the preacher, the fate of Socrates, and the failure of the so-called heretic King of Egypt-who tried to popularise the worship of the one God, under the symbol of the Atendisk, or disk of the Sun-are sufficient evidence of the risks which would be encountered. Moreover, these mysteries all purported to teach certain occult secrets, whose diffusion among vicious, or ignorant, men would have been dangerous. Even in the Middle Ages these dangers were still very real.

Any deviation from orthodoxy might have endangered the social fabric of the community, and such an attempt was certain to involve the advocate of new doctrines in a struggle with Church and State which could only have ended at the stake. Within an oath-bound Society men felt free to speculate and compare their personal standpoints, while to the outside world they continued to conform to orthodoxy.

The fate of the Templars must have been an ever present warning to the speculative mind, in the Middle Ages. In addition, there is little doubt that the building trades, like other Guilds, had important trade secrets, and wished to safeguard these from interlopers. A mediaeval Guild, on the one hand protected the interests of its members, while on the other it trained those members, and inspected and passed their work; thus protecting the community from deliberate fraud or careless work.

Nor must it be forgotten that in a building bad work might involve actual danger to the users of that building. For all these reasons it was right and proper that no one who was not a member of the fraternity should be in possession of its trade secrets. The ob. is undoubtedly ancient, but its full significance is realised by few. The penalty is d., and in the Middle Ages I do not doubt that it would have been enforced, though to-day it is purely symbolical.

Studying it carefully, we note in passing the word "hele," whose meaning has already been explained, -and also that every printed ritual in existence is a clear breach of our Ob. The strict interpretations of this clause is one of the reasons why we cannot expect to find any mediaeval rituals, although the fact that the bulk of the members in those days could not read or write would lessen the temptation to make them.

From a practical point of view, however, the essential object to-day is to prevent anyone who has not been regularly initiated from entering our Lodges and the printed rituals usually does this, for s. ns., w.s. and g.s. are missing and a careful cross-questioning would undoubtedly lead to the discovery of an imposter, even if he could produce a stolen G.L. certificate. In the altered conditions of the present era our secrecy is more of the nature of privacy, unlike that which prevails in a political secret society, which usually has revolutionary tendencies.

The old penalty has many striking points. It means that the culprit will be sl., and his b. b . . d. in unconsecrated ground. More than that, the ground can never be consecrated, and, according to the beliefs of the middle ages, and also of the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries, the soul of a man so buried could not rest in peace , but would wander up and down in misery till the Judgment Day.

Suicides, for a similar reason, were buried at the cross road, and to prevent their bodies being used by vampires a stake was driven through the middle of the body to keep it nailed down. (It should be noted than even in England the p . . . s vary in different localities). Thus the culprit is not only d . . . d to d . . . h, but to be a wandering outcast spirit till the day when the Great Judge consigns it to Hell. It is not perhaps a very charitable, or Christian idea, but that is what is meant all the same.

The T. is removed so that he cannot s. on his own behalf at the Judgment Day. The more effective punishment is, of course , a later "gloss," inserted at a time when; owing to better police supervision, it would have been dangerous to the members of the Order to enforce the ancient py. To-day, in England, it is the only effective penalty, but in some foreign countries d. is still enforced under certain circumstances.

In such cases, however, the Lodges are usually strongly political and revolutionary in tendency. But with us it still remains an obvious symbolical meaning. Immediately after the Ob. the W.M. says, "Having been kept . . ."etc. We have seen that the C. has already been asked several questions ; these have gradually led up to this, the greatest and most important! Now the climax is reached. It is as if the W.M. says, you have declared that you are here of your own free will, not for unworthy motives, but led by an earnest desire for knowledge.

Your humility and obedience have been tested, and you are therefore entitled to request the fulfilment of the greatest desire of your heart. The question put at this moment can be answered by no one but the C. , for it is meant to teach him that essential lesson that no appeal for L. is ever made in vain. His answer given, the w.M. says, "Then let . ." etc. Notice the word restored.

Mystical rebirth marks the beginning of our journey towards God the Light, of our ascent towards God, but it is a restoration,-a journey back to Him from Whom we came. Exactly the same procedure is followed in the initiatory rites of the Turkish Dervishes. Among them, however, the incident is followed by a beautiful exposition of the mystical meaning of Light.

It is the Divine Light, emblem of God Himself, and of Divine inspiration. It is, moreover, present, not only in the sacred writings, but in every true believer's heart. The light of the sun itself is but a faint similitude of the Divine Light of God's love, through which, and in which, we have our being. Though not expressed in our ritual , this act has the same inner meaning, as I have explained.

So to the C.L. is restored, and he sees, what? The V.S.L. , the S. and the C.s. The V.S.L. is in a place of honour, because without its divine standard and authority the S. and C.s. placed thereon would be practically meaningless. These latter form a lozenge, which as I have already said , is a well known symbol for the Vesica Piscis , which represents the female or preservative principle of the Deity, without which we could not exist for a single day, or hope to be preserved from the powers of darkness which threaten us upon our spiritual journey.

Thus the W.M. 's words teach the aspirant that we have a duty to God, ourselves, and our brother men. The C. is raised with the proper g. , but this is not explained at once. Rather his attention is directed to the three lesser lights, which we are told represent the Sun, Moon and the Master. As our Lodges are at present arranged the W.M. should point to the S. for the Sun, and to the W. for the Moon , but it must be admitted that the lesson to be derived from these three luminaries is not very clear.

Indeed, the Moon plays no real part in our mysteries, which are essentially solar in character, while the implied contrast between Sun, Moon and Master is in no way helpful. In reality the three lesser lights are the W.M. and his two wardens, with their respective candles, and these officers have a real symbolic meaning of great importance, which symbolic characters they maintain consistently throughout all three degrees. My personal view is that it was to the lights on the pedestals, and their respective officers, that this phrase originally applied, and that the Sun and Moon are 18th century interpolations.

THE THREE PRINCIPAL OFFICERS In any case this makes a convenient place in which to consider the symbolic meaning of the three principle officers in a lodge. The W.M. represents the rising Sun, and in this sense he covers two distinct meanings: the first in connection with the nature of God, and the other with regard to the nature of man. And a similar dual character exists in the case of S.W. and J.W.

The W.M. represents God the Creator, He who calls the Lodge into being, He who created the World out of Chaos. In India this aspect of God, the Incomprehensible, has been individualised as Brahma, so that the devotee may be able to comprehend Him, at least in part. It is the Master who opens the Lodge, who calls it out of nothing. He sits in the East, the place of light; but though he opens, he does not close the lodge.

That is the work of another aspect of the Divine Being. In the nature of man the W.M. represents the Spirit, the Divine Spark within us, ever striving for the light, never truly separated from the divine source of its being. This dual aspect of the W.M. and his principal officers must be borne in mind, if we are to delve down into the inner, or esoteric, meaning of our wonderful rituals. The S.W. represents the Setting Sun, and hence the Destructive, or Transformative, aspects of the Deity.

Among the Hindoos this aspect is called Shiva. He shall one day close the Grand Lodge of this World, when time shall be swallowed up into Eternity. The S.W. closes the Lodge. As the Destroyer he reminds us that Death, the great leveller, will bring all men low, and his symbol is the Level. This in itself reminds us of the caste mark of Shiva, which consists of horizontal lines. But in the nature of Man he represents the Soul, which alone enables the Spirit to raise the body towards divine things.

Without the medium of the Soul, the Spirit would be unable to influence the body. It is for this reason that the C. is invested in craft masonry by the S.W. or Soul, and not by the W.M., representing the Divine Spark. Thus we learn that we must raise ourselves, step by step, towards the Divine Light. Shiva is, above all, the great M.M..

The J.W. represents the Sun in its Meridian. He stands for the Way of Life, the balance between birth and death. His is the sunny side of life. He calls us from labour to refreshment and from refreshment to labour. In the divine aspect he represents the Preserver, called Vishnu in India, of whom it is stated that as Rama he sent the skilful craftsmen, Hanuman, to build the bridge for Him, by means of which He crossed the straits to fight against the powers of evil in ancient Ceylon.

Vishnu is associated with the element of water and with corn, and his caste mark is a perpendicular, straight line, referring to the rain which falls from heaven. This symbol is remembered in our lodges by the plumb rule. In the nature of man he stands for the body, which perishes. He is H.A.B. in the Grand Lodge at Jerusalem. He represents the life and sufferings of the body, only terminated by death; the body which in every man dies before its divine work is accomplished.

Our divine temple is not finished at death: all that we can hope is that the foundations have been well and truly laid. In short, in this life we cannot hope to "see God face to face," nor, being finite, can we truly comprehend the Infinite, but we can hope to make such progress that, when called hence, we shall be able to continue, and complete, the work of our own salvation on the foundations of a good and spiritual earthly life.

Finally, it will be noted that in every degree these three officers co-operate to advance the C., and so it is in the spiritual life, for body, soul and spirit must co-operate if real progress is to be attained. Next the C. is informed of the three great dangers-note the triplicity again-and the few sentences devoted to them must be considered in the light of what has already been written by me on the S.I., the C.T., and the Ob..

At the door of the L. the C. was in great danger, because entrance thereat marked the beginning of the ceremony of initiation into m., and initiation symbolises the mystical re-birth, the end of the descent into matter and the beginning of the ascent to God, and there can be no more critical time than that. The S.I. warns us of the dangers of rushing unprepared into the field of occultism, while the C.T. indicates the danger that the Divine Spark may be quenched, strangled by materialism, if we do not continue steadfastly.

But even when these dangers are passed, throughout the whole of our mystic journey there remains that last danger of our ob., namely, that of infidelity to the vows which marked our entrance, or of abandoning our further quest for light;-knowing the right, but deliberately choosing the wrong. This means death; not primarily physical death, but that greater death, referred to by our Hindoo Brethren as "Being born again at the bottom of the ladder of evolution up which we have for so long been ascending. " We next come to the moment, so long expected, when the s. . . s are disclosed.

No doubt many Brethren could not suppress a slight feeling of disappointment at their comparative insignificance. Was such a tremendous Ob. necessary to safeguard a S. , W. , and G. which appear to be Purely arbitrary? This question is a fair one, and the answer is that the Ob. safeguards, not so much the G., etc., which are but the outward and visible signs, as the inner esoteric meaning, hidden in our ritual, and never properly explained.

Firstly, the W.M. instructs the C. in the f. r. s., which on investigation proves to be the tau cross. The tau cross was originally the phallus, and has many inner meanings. It is the emblem of generation and creation, but since these powers may be prostituted they must be brought under control. As the f. r. s. , it represents our natural and animal passions, which must be trampled underfoot and brought under complete control, otherwise we cannot make any advancement in Freemasonry.

In plain language , unless we bring our passions into complete subjection, we cannot hope to advance towards a true knowledge of God. For that, I consider, is the real search, or quest, in Freemasonry. Therefore in every one of the Craft degrees we trample on the tau cross. It will be remembered that one of the charges against the Templars, in 1307, was that they trampled on the cross, and this charge seems to be correct.

Yet these same men adored the Cross three times a year in their ceremonies and, moreover, fought and died for it on many a corpse-strewn field in Palestine. I have no doubt this act of theirs was a symbolic one , associated more with the cross as an emblem of our passions than with the Christian cross of suffering. Yet symbols emerge by imperceptible degrees into each other, and so it is that we can truly say that Christ was crucified on the Cross of our passions.

In mediaeval pictures you will usually find that while Christ hangs on a Latin, or fourarmed cross , the two thieves are hung on Tau , or three-armed crosses. This indicates that they died for their own sins, but Christ, Who hangs on the cross of sacrifice , died for the sins of others. Thus, my brothers, the f. r. s. is full of inner meaning nor is this the only place in which we meet with the tau cross in the craft. Its higher and holier aspect when associated with the W.M. I shall discuss later.

CHAPTER VI. CONCLUSION OF THE CEREMONY.

Having taken the f. r. s. the C. is given the S.. This he is told refers to the P. of his Ob., and no doubt it does, but it also seems to refer to something much more startling. The part of the body indicated has always been regarded as an important occult centre. In some strange way, the laws of which are but little understood, it has always been associated with the phenomena known amongst psychic students as Materialisations. As, however, this subject lies somewhat outside our theme, we will discuss the point no further. But all our P. 's have a striking analogy to the legend of the creation of man as given by the Hindoo sages. From Brahma sprang all four castes. From His head came the Brahmins, from His Breasts the Kshatra, or fighting caste, from His Belly, the peasants, and from His feet, the Sudras.

The latter were not true Arians, and were not twice born men; in other words, only the first three castes were regarded as really and truly admissible to the Temple of the High Gods, and free to participate in Their worship. It will be noted that in this degree the S. n suggests the cutting off of the first caste from those below. This S.n, Bro. Major Sanderson suggests, was originally a mantra, or magic prayer, which must be most carefully guarded from the profane.

The T. appears to be an arbitrary one, although it may possibly refer to a certain pillar. Explanations of this, together with the meaning, derivation, and significance of the W. , are reserved for the next volume, for reasons which will be obvious to those entitled to know them. No doubt, however, the basic idea of both pillar and word is phallic, and other interpretations have evolved later.

Having received s. w. and t. , the C. is warned to be cautious and told how to receive a challenge, then, having been given strength to help him on his way, he is sent forth in order that the important lesson of caution may be implanted in his mind. The testing by J.W. and S.W. are obviously of practical use, but I think that here also there is an inner meaning. The Body and Soul test the Cand. to see that the lessons have been well and truly learnt; also there seems to be a definite astrological reference.

Having satisfied these important officers, the s.w. asks for some special mark of favour. That is, the Soul calls on the Spirit, but is told that it is the Soul which must invest the regenerate man with the outward signs of the change he has undergone. This point has already been mentioned, but its deep significance must not be forgotten. It may truly be said that it is the S.W. who sets the seal on the candidate's initiation, and proclaims him as at length a member of the Order.

The address of the S.W. and the subsequent one by the Master, are fairly self-explanatory. But one or two points deserve stressing. The reference to the antiquity of the apron refers mainly, of course, to its use among the Operatives, and implies the dignity of honest labour. The present form of our apron is comparatively modern, but there is evidence that our predecessors, the Comacine Masons, wore aprons when they met in Lodge, and aprons have had a special significance among many religious systems.

Thus some of the Chinese gods wear aprons, and I have a photograph of one (See The Hung Society, Vol. III., op. p. 122) and this "God" is making a certain high degree sign. Among the ancient races of America the apron was also evidently used with a religious significance (see picture of the Toltec Preserver in "Freemasonry and the Ancient Gods"). The address of the W.M. lays stress on the importance of not entering the L. if a brother is at variance with another.

At first sight this may seem a somewhat unnecessary charge. Normal, well conducted gentlemen are not likely to start an unseemly wrangle in Lodge, even if they are at enmity; and should two men so far forget the common decencies of life as to do so, the W.M. has ample power to deal with the situation. The real significance of the injunction, however, is that it implies that the mere presence of two brethren who are at variance will disturb the harmonious atmosphere of the meeting.

This is a purely spiritual atmosphere, and the belief that such disturbance would occur without any open disagreement, is correct. In short, such differences disturb the spiritual atmosphere, prevent concentration, and can be detected by sensitive individuals. Every Lodge has an "atmosphere of its own," and any sensitive man who comes to it can detect it* I have myself noticed the different "atmospheres" of various lodges, and also variations in that of my own.

Too much regard therefore cannot be paid to this rule, and if ignored the Lodge will certainly suffer. The C. is placed in the N.E. corner of the Lodge for the reason given in the ritual, but it is important to remember that he himself is building his own temple—a spiritual temple to the glory of God. Why should the cornerstone be laid in the N.E.? This was for a very practical reason; namely, so that the Operatives could work round with the Sun, and thus obtain the maximum amount of light.

Symbolically, it refers, of course, to the journey of the soul, which begins in the N., enters life at the East, at birth, and so proceeds to the West, where death ends our day. The position in which the C. stands is not only a sq., the emblem of rectitude and of God, but at the particular point he make a "lewis," or angle clamp, which binds together the life which has been (in the North) and his future life (in the East).

In physical life the North is pre-natal, but in the spiritual it is before we turned to better things. Above all, such a clamp gives rigidity and strength to the corners, and assures stability. It will be noted that this position in like manner makes a "footing stone." The testing of the candidate is explained, but perhaps I ought once more to remind my reader that it is absolutely essential that we should leave behind us the baleful gifts of the underworld and the canker of wealth, which destroy spirituality. The lecture on the working tools explains itself. It appears to be mainly 18th century work.

CHAPTER VII. THE CHARGE.

When the C. has been restored to his personal comfort he receives the charge. The first significant point is the phrase "Ancient, no doubt it is, as having subsisted from time immemorial." In "Freemasonry and the Ancient Gods" I have endeavoured to show that this phrase is literally true, and a strong claim can be made that modern Freemasonry is the lineal descendant of the Ancient Mysteries, via the Roman Colleges of Architects, the Comacine Masons, and the Mediaeval Freemasons.

The other significant phrase is that relating to "The Ancient Landmarks." Much learned discussion has taken place concerning what these are. Common sense indicates the following points as obviously falling within this heading, whereas many others may be matters of opinion, on which brethren are entitled to differ. 1.—The signs, words and tokens. I f these were changed it would shatter the universality of Freemasonry and prevent old masons recognising new ones, or members of various jurisdictions doin so. It must be acknowledged that the charge mad by the Ancients against the Moderns, that they had removed the Ancient Landmarks, was largely justified, for they appear to have transposed the w.s. in the first and second degrees. Still apparently, they did not entirely change them. 2 & 3.—Belief in God and a Future Life.

I these are removed, then the object and purpose of masonry is destroyed, since it is the "quest of knowledge of, and union with, God." Again, the elimination of the idea of a future life" woull destroy the teaching of one of the most important craft degrees. If these landmarks were removed, Freemasonry would either perish, or else have to substitute a new object, as the Grand Orient of France has done. This having become atheistical, had to turn masonry into a secret political society, with disastrous results. Hence it is that the Grand Lodge of England felt compelled to break off fraternal relations with that body. 4.—The Order of the Degrees. If these were reversed or changed it would reduce the whole system to nonsense. The remainder of this address is fairly clear as it stands. It contains excellent teaching, the meaning of which lies on the surface, and so we need spend no further space on it here. The first tracing board contains a great deal of useful instruction, but it is so seldom given in most lodges that we will pass it by, hoping at some future date to give it the attention it deserves.

The purpose of these tracing boards will be explained in the book dealing with the second degree, and we can therefore take leave of the Entered Apprentice. There is no pretence that we have exhausted the subject, much more could be written, but in a small book like this the author must restrict himself to giving an outline explanation, and suggestions for study, in the hope that his readers will follow the hints given, and discover further meanings for themselves.

CHAPTER VIII THE CLOSING OF THE FIRST DEGREE.

The first degree closing is remarkably short, and its meaning is fairly clear. The candidate has not yet advanced sufficiently far to be able to appreciate any more esoteric teaching. He is therefore given one brief and tremendous lesson. The Destructive side of the Deity is invoked, and the same officer, it must be remembered, also represents the Soul. Thus, at the very beginning of his symbolical career, the novice is warned of the inevitable end.

During the ceremony of his initiation the fact has been impressed upon him that his spiritual advancement is by means of his soul, i.e. when the S.W. invests him with his apron. Now he is warned that the same soul which may help him to rise, may also cause his spiritual destruction. But even more this fact should show him that, when he has learned all that life can teach him, the Soul acting on the instructions of God, calls him to other fields of usefulness. It should also be noted that the S.W. closes in the name of the G.A., and by command of the W.M. , thus reminding us of Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End

CONCLUSION.

This then concludes our consideration of the meaning of the first degree. The author has not tried to be exhaustive , and would stress the point that usually he has only attempted to give one esoteric meaning, although often there are other inner meanings, each within the other. But he trusts he will have helped his brethren to perceive that there are indeed deep and invaluable meanings hidden within our ritual, and that his readers, having once started on this line of study , will not rest content until they themselves have discovered further inner meanings. If this be so, then this little book will not have been in vain.

The Protocols of the Elders of Zion
Anti-Masonry and Anti-Semitism

More than once in the course of the last two centuries, anti-Masonry has been fused with an older hatred, hatred of the Jews, that is to say anti-Semitism. Probably, the irrational nature of both phobias facilitates their juxtaposition. Be that as it may, from the middle of the 19th Century, we are witnessing an increasing wave of simultaneously anti-Semitic and anti-Masonic propaganda. Possibly, the paradigmatic work of this class of "literature" is an opuscle entitled "The Protocols of the Wise Men of Zion" sometimes also known as "The Protocols of the Elders of Zion."

This is one of the most well-known literary falsifications in history, based on plagiarism and fraud from the very beginning of its gestation. Nevertheless, this swindle has captivated the imagination of many people who are sensible in other respects, and it has been transformed into the "source of indispensable information" in the baggage of all the anti-Semites and anti-Masons.

dal Libro di Serge Hutin
GOVERNI OCCULTI E SOCIETA SEGRETE
(EDIZIONI MEDITERRANEE)

Tuttavia i famosi Protocolli dei Savi anziani di Sion non sono che un falso.

Infatti il redattore non e' altri che Piotr Ivanovic Rachovsky, che dal 1884 al 1902 diresse, come abbiamo gia' detto, la sezione estera della polizia segreta Zarista, l'Okhrana. Egli avrebbe molto semplicemente plagiato e rimaneggiato un Dialogue aux enfers entre Machiavel et Montesquieu (Dialogo agli inferi tra Macchiavelli e Montesquieu) disponibile su ECIG, Genova 1995, si tratta di una curiosa opera del francese Maurice Joly, la morte del quale, nel 1878, e' sempre rimasta un mistero (aggiungiamo ???)

E' un fatto che il dialogo scritto da Joly era di per se' un manuale per gli apprendisti dittatori del mondo moderno. Nella settima parte, Macchiavelli, che si suppone conversi con Montesquieu post mortem, dice infatti: "CAPO DEL GOVERNO, TUTTI I MIEI ORDINI TENDEREBBERO ALLO STESSO FINE: LO SVILUPPO SMISURATO DELLA PREPONDERANZA DELLO STATO, SI DA FARNE IL MASSIMO PROTETTORE, PROMOTORE E REMUNERATORE".

Tra i mezzi atti a provocare il livellamento delle masse sono enumerati nella medesima settima parte: l'aumento costante delle tasse, il privilegio sistematico accordato all'industria e alla speculazione, che trascina fatalmente al declino agricoltura e artigianato.

Tuttavia, da un esame piu' attento sia del dialogo che dei Protocolli appare chiaro, secondo noi, come i secondi non siano affatto un abile plagio del primo

,ma appaiono piuttosto come la tracciazione diretta delle decisioni prese durante le assemblee segrete dei governanti occulti d'Europa.

Quali furono, dunque, i motivi che spinsero Rachovsky a diffondere sistematicamente i Protocolli? Quelli di servire le autorità dell'Impero Russo appoggiando gli antisemiti. Questi ultimi non potevano che reagire violentemente all'idea di un'immensa cospirazione ebraica su scala internazionale, mirante a provocare ovunque crisi economiche e rivoluzioni per giungere infine al potere. Vi si trovano i temi della battaglia ideologica sostenuta da precedenti opere, come quelle di Gougenot des Mousseaux (Le juif, le judaïsme et la judaïsation des peuples chrétiens, edito a Parigi nel 1869) o come il famoso France juive di Edouard Drumont. In Germania, ancor più che in Francia, l'antisemitismo si era compiuto d'attribuire agli ebrei un osuro piano di cospirazione internazionale. Romanzi come Biarritz di "Sir John Retcliffe" (pseudonimo dello scrittore Herman Goedsche, Berlino 1868), avevano contribuito alla diffusione di quest'idea. Nel romanzo in questione troviamo un capitolo, fantasioso al massimo, nel quale è descritta un'impressionante cerimonia segreta notturna nel vecchio cimitero ebraico di Praga, dove si raccolgono i tredici capi del governo invisibile. Delle misteriose figure vestite d'un lungo mantello bianco, scivolano ad una ad una nel cimitero per riunirsi attorno ad un sinistro monumento funebre. Quando si odono i dodici rintocchi della mezzanotte, l'ultimo personaggio il tredicesimo, prende posto. Al segnale di uno strano suono metallico una fiamma bluastra illumina la pietra tombale. Chi sono questi tredici inquietanti personaggi? I membri del governo segreto mondiale ebraico. Essi rappresentano le dodici tribù d'Israele ed il tredicesimo rappresenta "gli scomparsi e gli esiliati". Ognuno di loro getta sulla tomba una pietra ed a questo punto dalla fiamma irrealistica sorge un enorme vitello d'oro...

MA IL FRATELLO JOLY?

L'illustre Fratello Maurice Joly apparentemente faceva parte di uno specifico Rito Massonico che apparteneva fin dalla sua nascita in Italia e poi in Francia a una specifica famiglia Ebraica collegata alla Lobby Sionista e rivestiva la carica di Rosa+Croce e noi studiosi del settore sappiamo benissimo come stanno le cose in base al successivo collegamento tra il patto Sinarchico, i Protocolli e il falso Priorato di Sion.

PAPUS I PROTOCOLLI E SION

In 1884 a certain copies of The Protocols of Zion were found circulating amongst the members of a Masonic lodge to which Papus himself belonged - the lodge where the aforementioned legend of the wise Egyptian sage named Ormus.

LA QUESTIONE SIONISTA

La domanda a lei caro illustrissimo Presidente della Repubblica Italiana e la seguente: vogliamo continuare ad adorare un vitello d'oro o finalmente ascoltare tutti insieme la parola di Dio?

Questo potrebbe accadere come non mai nel nuovo villaggio globale di internet ,ma anche e soprattutto in maniera piu' Sacrale nel nuovo villaggio per gli affari interreligiosi che si va via via costruendo a ridosso del monte Sinai in Egitto grazie al supporto di tutti i veri Illuminati delle varie fedi.

Personaggi chiari,onesti,mossi da intenzioni genuine, desiderosi di comunicare in maniera chiara e autentica il messaggio di pace e vera liberta' che Dio a per gli uomini di buona volonta', non il fondamentalismo inutile di questi tristi giorni che servono da copertura per affari corporativi di natura oserei dire criminale e senza scrupoli verso l'umanita' intera. Non si puo' continuare a giocare con gli uomini e gestire le Nazioni Unite come un business in giacca e cravatta per ipocriti dell'ultima ora, bisogna invece poter aprire un dialogo serio e costruttivo sulla rinascita spirituale delle nuove generazioni italiane ed estere in pasto ad una minoranza satanica che preferisce purtroppo tenersi il vitello d'Oro Hollywoodiano, il materialismo sfrenato, e le farse Medio Orientali.Farse che servono solamente per gettare discredito sui veri credenti nell'unico Dio il Grande Architetto degli Universi che e' uguale per tutti che lo vogliate oppure no.

Noi giovani (ho solamente 36 anni) che ci sposiamo ora e cerchiamo con mille difficolta di mettere su famiglia come il sottoscritto vogliamo la pace nel mondo caro Presidente, e siamo pronti piu' che mai a lasciar da parte l'ipocrisia delle chiacchiere corporative per dar finalmente posto all'amore piu' sincero verso Dio e alla carita' tra le genti di questo pianeta,un pianeta' come lei ben sa sempre piu' afflitto dal maligno e dai suoi compari.Quindi Fratellanza Universale SI ma con il rispetto dovuto da noi occidentali a culture millenarie che vengono direttamente da Dio altissimo,il compassionevole,il misericordioso e tutto questo in ricordo di sua Santita' Giovanni Paolo II e del suo memorabile incontro di Assisi.

A presto.

Cordialmente,

LA MASSONERIA IN VATICANO

La rivista cattolica messicana `Processo` (No 832 del 12 Ottobre 1992) informava che la massoneria ha diviso il territorio Vaticano in otto quartieri, dove sono in funzione quattro logge massoniche del Rito Scozzese i cui adepti ,alti funzionari del piccolo Stato, standovi in forma indipendente non si riconoscerebbero fra loro, neanche battendo i colpi col polpastrello del pollice. Esse all`occorrenza prendono contatti con altre logge massoniche delle singole nazioni, anzi la dove la Chiesa opera in clandestinita` a causa del Corano ,le relazioni con la Chiesa locale passano segretamente attraverso tale network.

Nel 1987 il gionalista massone Pier Carpi, confermando l`assunto del Fratello Fulberto Lauro secondo il quale alla Loggia P2 aderivano anche cardinali e vescovi in incongnito ,specificava che si chiama Loggia Ecclesia ed ` in contatto diretto con il Gran Maestro della Gran Loggia Unita d`Inghilterra il Duca Michele di Kent. Tale loggia opera in Vaticano dal 1971. Vi appartengono piu` di cento fra cardinali ,vescovi e monsignori di curia. Riescono a mantenere il piu` assoluto segreto , ma non al punto da sfuggire alle indagini degli uomini della potente `Opus Dei`. (L`Espresso, 12 Dicembre 1987)

A me e` stato confermato sia da un alto dignitario della Gran Loggia Unita d`Inghilterra sia da un Porporato di mia conoscenza che esistono ben due logge di Rito Emulation che lavorano con i nomi `Simbolo` ed `Ekklesia` all`interno della citta` del Vaticano con una bolla americana, la Libera Muratoria in Vaticano sembra quindi operare nell`ipocrisia generale dal 1945, con il supporto interessato degli Stati Uniti d`America che la usa allegramente per i suoi scopi di manipolazione generale insieme alla perfida Albione.

Ci sono poi numerosi Vescovi della Chiesa Cattolica coinvolti nella massoneria Italiana che non fanno parte del GOI o della Gran Loggia d`Italia degli ALAM ma di formazioni minori, che pur essendo Regolari dal punto di vista costitutivo garantiscono una maggiore segretezza e riservatezza per i propri affiliati, un Vescovo era presente a Roma in occasione del bicentenario della famosa Patente 1805 del R.S.A. A. proprio durante i funerali di Papa Giovanni Paolo II, come puo dimostrarvi chiaramente e senza ombre di dubbio, il seguente documento a firma dell`illustre Fratello Massone Klaus E. Schmidt, attuale capo della polizia segreta Albanese:

Report on the visit to the meeting in Rome 8 - 10 April 2005

Dear Bro. Gabirro:

I was received at the airport by GM Cesare Cocchi and some other Brr.
Due to the air traffic restrictions at the day of the funeral of the Pope 14 delegations could not arrive in Rome for this event.

Delegations present: France, Spain, Serbia - Montenegro, Italy, UK

Ritual work: Saturday, 09 April 2005, from 09:00 - 12:30 and 16:00 - 18:00

The main work plan was delivered by Bro. Sarigu Armando from the Orient of Cantanzaro (a Catholic Bishop !)
Greetings of the MHC of England and Wales during work were delivered Formal dinners with all delegations: Friday, 8 April 2005, 20:00 - 23:00 and Saturday, 8 April 2005, 20:00 - 23:00.

Special contacts:

ITALY

Bro. Cesare Cocchi, GM

Bro. Antonio Notaro

FRANCE

Bro. Gerald Frapech, gfrapech@wanadoo.fr

SPAIN

Bro. Gaspar Guzzo Galvez
Bro. Rafael Roman Jara, GM of Andaluza
Bro. Jesus Corella Garcia, Grand Orador
Bro. Johnny Sheppard Regules

SERBIA

Bro. Milan Lajhner
Bro. Dragutin Zagorac, Grand Commandeur Serbia
Bro. Predrag Nikolic, Grand sec
Bro. Aleksandar D. Rodic

Some of the Brr from Serbia will pay me a visit to Tirana soon.

The Brr from the different delegations are seeking official close cooperation with the MHC of England and Wales and expressed their wish to stay in frequent contact with me. I told them that I will forward this to the MHC in due time.

The delegation from Serbia handed over a present for the MHC which I will deliver during my visit in London.

The entire meeting was blessed with an extremely good spirit and closed in harmony.

Best frat. greetings
Klaus E. Schmidt

Ricordiamoci poi l'articolo pubblicato prima di morire dal povero Fratello Mino Pecorelli il 12 Settembre 1978 sul suo intrigante settimanale `OP` dal titolo `La Gran Loggia Vaticana` ... 121 nomi di esponenti vaticani...

vi segnalo inoltre riviste e rotocalchi che hanno scritto apertamente dell'infiltrazione massonica in Vaticano e potrebbero magari aiutarvi nella vostra ricerca su questo delicato argomento:

`Panorama` del 10 Agosto 1976,

`Introibo` del Luglio 1976

`Euroitalia` del 17 e 25 Agosto 1978`

`Osservatore Politico` del 12 Settembre 1978

Ed infine la recente nomina a Gran Cappellano di un prete Cattolico alla Gran Loggia Regolare d'Italia nonostante la scomunica ufficiale di Papa Ratzinger. Poveri noi, abitiamo ormai nel Regno del Maligno e dell'ipocrisia, dove la doppia appartenenza Massoneria-Opus Dei e' quasi diventata un vanto.

Freemasonry, Satanism, and the Church of England

Freemasonry, Satanism and the Church of England: The correspondence between the Grand Secretary of the United Grand Lodge of England and the new Archbishop of Canterbury

"New Archbishop: Masons have no place in the Church "
by Jason Bennetto ("The Independent", 15 November 2002)

The new Archbishop of Canterbury has said he believes Christianity and Freemasonry are "incompatible" and has refused to appoint clergymen to senior posts because they are members of the Brotherhood.

Dr Rowan Williams, who becomes head of the Church of England next month, told The Independent that he is not in favour of ministers being Masons because it is a "secret organisation" whose views are questionable.

He also voiced doubts in a letter to Hugh Sinclair, who has been investigating the Brotherhood: "I have real misgivings about the compatibility of Masonry and Christian profession ... I have resisted the appointment of known Masons to certain senior posts." Dr Williams' comments will renew controversy about the Freemasons. In the past 50 years some of its most senior members have been in the Church's higher echelons, and there have been links between the two organisations for centuries. Thousands of leading clergymen and churchgoers are among its 350,000 British members.

The Rev Gregory Cameron, chaplain to Dr Williams, said: "He questions whether it's appropriate for Christian ministers to belong to secret organisations. He also has some anxiety about the spiritual content of Masonry."

A spokesman for the Archbishop said he was "worried about the ritual elements in Freemasonry - which some have seen as possibly Satanically inspired - and how that sits uneasily with Christian belief". He continued: "The other idea is that because they are a society, there could be a network that involves mutual back-scratching, which is something he would be greatly opposed to."

A spokesman for the Freemasons in England said: "As far as we are concerned, there is no incompatibility between Christianity and our organisation whatsoever."

The Most Reverend and Rt. Hon. Archbishop of Canterbury Lambeth Palace
London
SE1 7JU

2 December 2002

Dear Archbishop

I write in response to the reports in The Independent newspaper of your views on Freemasonry.

According to the reports:

- a) you have doubts on the compatibility of Freemasonry with Christianity and believe that elements of the ritual may have a Satanic basis
- b) you believe Freemasonry to be both a secret society and a self-serving network
- c) you have in the past not appointed to sensitive senior posts candidates who are Freemasons and intend to continue that practice.

For nearly 300 years Freemasonry has existed in an organised way in England and Wales. During that period hundreds of thousands of committed Christians (clergy and laity) have found no incompatibility between their Christian faith and the principles and practices of Freemasonry. Indeed many have testified that their membership of Freemasonry has strengthened their faith and, in some cases, brought them back into active church membership.

The prime and inalienable qualification for admission into Freemasonry is a belief in God. An individual's religion is a matter for his conscience, and Freemasonry will not interfere in or in any way comment on religious matters. As a result our membership encompasses Christians of all denominations, Jews, Muslims, Hindus, Sikhs, etc., who meet together in harmony, knowing that their religions differ but not allowing those differences to come between them on Masonic occasions.

The suggestion that Freemasonry is "Satanically inspired" in its rituals would be risible were it not for the fact that it questions the basis of the faiths of over 300,000 Freemasons under the United Grand Lodge of England, whatever their religion may be. Even a small amount of elementary research would have shown how nonsensical this dreadful assertion is, and would have enabled you to avoid giving deep and gratuitous offence to so many who are encouraged in every form of Freemasonry to be true to their God above all other considerations.

As for the claim that Freemasonry is a "secret organisation", it must surely be a very peculiar "secret" society which makes its rules and aims available to the public; publishes annual lists of its national and local leaders together with the dates and places of meeting of all of its units; opens its national headquarters to the general public on a daily basis; maintains national and local web sites on the Internet; gives regular briefings to the media; and provides spokesmen to speak anywhere about its nature and activities. Each Freemason is at perfect liberty to tell whomsoever he pleases that he is a Freemason. Indeed Freemasonry is one of the few organisations to have been specifically declared not to be a secret society. In July 2001 the European Court of Human Rights ruled that (a) Freemasonry was neither a secret, criminal nor an illegal organisation, and (b) that in making appointments or promotions it is illegal to discriminate against a candidate simply because he is a Freemason.

Rather than being a self-serving network, the opposite is true. On at least six occasions during the process of becoming a Freemason the new member is told that it is contrary to our principles and rules to use his membership to gain any form of advantage for himself or anyone else. Any attempt to do so will result in disciplinary proceedings, with sanctions running from admonition to irrevocable expulsion.

I have enclosed two booklets and some leaflets which explain the background to Freemasonry and how it relates to society in general. The booklet "Your Questions Answered" deals in particular with the myths which surround Freemasonry.

I also extend to you an invitation to meet privately with some senior Freemasons to discuss at the true source any doubts you may have, in preference to simply putting your faith in secondary and unreliable information. Your three immediate predecessors each came here for lunch and found it an interesting, stimulating and enjoyable experience. I realise that you have much to consider at the present, and that it may not be convenient to accept this invitation immediately. I trust that you will permit me to write to you again after your Enthronement to reaffirm our wish to welcome you here and show that your doubts about Freemasonry have no justification in fact.

Yours sincerely

23 January 2003

Dear Mr Morrow

I have been sorry to learn of the distress of a considerable number of Freemasons. It is true that a great deal of upset and hurt has been caused by the newspaper reports about my purported views on freemasonry. In replying to private correspondence, I had no intention of starting a public debate nor of questioning the good faith and generosity of individual freemasons and I regret the tone and content of the media coverage.

Much of the distress has been due to what amounts to a serious misrepresentation of views I am supposed to hold. The quoted statements about the "satanic" character of masonic ceremonies and other matters did not come from me and do not represent my judgement. Since my late father was a member of the Craft for many years, I have had every opportunity of observing the probity of individual members.

Where anxieties exist, however, they are in relation not to Freemasonry but to Christian ministry, and, my letter simply reflected a personal unease about Christian ministers subscribing to what could be and often is understood (or misunderstood) as a private system of profession and initiation, involving the taking of oaths of loyalty. Concerns like these have led to a number of debates within the church in recent years and it is clear that there are still widely differing views ? held with sincerity and honesty ? about the compatibility of certain aspects of Freemasonry with Christian belief, ministry and, service.

My statement about resisting the appointment of freemasons to certain posts in Wales needs to be understood against the background of the belief that I and the church had deliberately advanced the cause of Freemasons. In saying that I had resisted the appointment of Freemasons to certain posts I was not suggesting that people had been blackballed, but asserting that I was satisfied that membership of the Craft was neither a disqualifier nor an advantage.

I welcome the manner in which Freemasons have engaged in debate and especially the increasing openness of recent years. Their commitment to charitable causes and the welfare of the wider community is beyond question.

Yours sincerely,

+ Rowan Cantuar [Williams]

25th of January 2005 and the creation of the Masonic High Council - REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND

Posted on Thursday, October 12, 2006 at 03:20PM by [Re \[Your Name Here\]](#) | C Post a Comment

EXPULSED_1.JPG

To all concerned Masons

Masonic High Council for England,
Wales the Channel Islands and Districts Overseas ANCIENT AND HONOURABLE FRATERNITY OF FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS

A group of Regular Master Masons, disillusioned, disappointed and concerned by the state of the Administration and Management of the Masonic Order in general and the Craft in particular, assembled at Freemasons Arms, Convent Garden in London in order to put forward their legitimate concerns and to discuss and debate those issues being ignored by the Craft Administration. This Assembly of Masons at London, with the assistance of various highly respected and knowledgeable Brethren, Constituted and Consecrated a Masonic High Council for England, Wales and the Channel Islands in Due Form on the 25th of January, 2005.

The Masonic High Council is a de jure and de facto Sovereign Masonic Body with jurisdiction over the Craft in England and Wales and has issued a warrant for the Creation of its first Lodge, named Grand Lodge No.1, at the orient of London. Three other regularly established Lodges have requested to join the Masonic High Council.

Once this process is completed it is the aim of the MHC to establish a Regular Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of England in Accordance with the Old Constitutions.

The MHC/RGLE is a truly independent and self-governing body with authority over Craft Freemasonry in the symbolic degrees of Entered Apprentice, Fellow Craft and Master Mason.

The MHC/RGLE is a male only organization.

The MHC/RGLE requires of all its members a belief in a Supreme Being or Creator.

The Volume of the Sacred Law is present and open at all its Lodge meetings and all Oaths and Obligations are made upon it.

The Masonic light and symbols are present at all Lodge meetings.

The discussion of religion and politics within MHC/RGLE Lodges is prohibited.

The MHC/RGLE observes the Ancient Landmarks and Old Constitutions and insists on them being observed within all its Lodges.

Concern for the Craft

Thoughtful Brethren have long endured serious dissatisfaction with the administration and state of the Craft in England. It was in direct response to these concerns that on the 25th of January this year a number of Master Masons came together to constitute a Masonic High Council, to prepare a firm Foundation for a Regular Grand Lodge of England true to the Ancient Constitutions and fundamental spiritual values of the Craft.

At the core of these concerns is the heartfelt lament that Masonry in England has effectively degenerated into a social and dining club, meeting upon the excuse of a initiating yet another candidate into a society whose only apparent purpose is to carry out initiations, whilst seeking to justify its existence through the business of institutional charity. And where the hierarchy classically maintains discipline through the assiduous manufacture of "honours" whilst ignorantly sacrificing ancient form and spiritual value in obeisance to transient political correctness.

Harsh words indeed, and doubtless the majority of English Masons will persist in their disinclination to give any thought to there being anything more to the Order than this. But whatever it is, and however socially valuable in some respects it may be, it isn't Freemasonry.

If the words of our initiation ceremonies are actually heeded, rather than airily dismissed as so much quaint mumbo-jumbo, we learn that we are speculative Masons. And as speculative Masons we are meant to moralise, philosophise and speculate upon the symbols of the Craft, as traditionally practised in Lodges of old, before the initiation sausage-machine had been cranked up. If Freemasonry means anything it means the making of the whole man, from rough ashlar to polished stone. It implies a psychological and spiritual journey through an esoteric interpretation of our rich symbology. For too long have English Freemasons wishing to pursue such studies in a working setting been effectively disenfranchised.

Thus the Masonic High Council, after heartfelt debate and consideration, regretfully concluded that our duty to the Craft in general and to our Brethren and to ourselves in particular far outweighed attachment to the United Grand Lodge of England which we, and very many others, believe has long neglected the core, esoteric values of Freemasonry and now represents little more than a grandiose façade of what was and what might have been. The almost overwhelming response received from numerous Brethren, both in England and overseas, has more than confirmed us in this belief.

The Masonic High Council for England, Wales the Channel Islands and Districts Overseas.

•THE ACT OF REGULARITY•

To amend what has happen amiss, and to hold a yearly communication and General Assembly of Masons at London, England.

1 “ The Reinstatement of the full wording on the delivery of the Masonic Penalties.

2 “ The freedom and right of a Lodge to Practice its Masonic ritual of choice, such as York, Ancient and Accepted, Ancient and Primitive, Adoniram, Swedish, Rectified Scottish Rite, Schroeder Rite, etc!

3 “ The right of every Master Mason to use and chose an apron design as long it is decorated with symbols that relate to the Craft.

4 “ No interference of the Craft in the so-called higher degrees and vice versa.

5 “ An equilibrium between Masonic work, instruction and science and charitable and social duties.

6 “ The option of reading the Masonic ritual in Lodge.

7 “ Greater autonomy for the Symbolic Lodges.

8 “ Better and more transparency in Grand Lodge decisions and affairs.

9 “ Devolution of the Masonic Library, Museum and archives to the Craft legal owners.

10 “ To permit all aspects of the esoteric Masonic tradition, such as symbols, words, uses and customs.

11 â€“ Freedom of association outside of the Craft.

12 â€“ To promote the spirit of Brotherhood among Freemasons.

13 - The reinstatement of the Mark Mason Ceremony as a complement of the Fellow Craft Degree.

Lastly, this our Regulations shall be Recorded in our Registry, to show posterity how much we desire to revive the Ancient Craft upon true Masonical principles.

THE XIo DEGREE OF THE OTO AND THE VATICAN interview with Senior OTO Caliphate Officer

THE XIo DEGREE OF THE ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS AND THE VATICAN interview with Senior OTO Caliphate officer by Leo Young

Did the original Swiss-based Reuss branch of the OTO initiate candidates in a homosexual XI degree ritual? No. There is no evidence for this whatsoever that I am aware of. Reuss was accused of incorporating the mutual touching of phalluses into his rituals, but I believe this was a smear campaign rather than an intimation of something queer going on. After reviewing the available evidence, I believe the XIo was entirely Crowley's invention, the basic formula having been explored prior to his membership in OTO (See the Vision & the Voice --Crowley was initiated into OTO about 4 months later, and received the IXo about 4 years after that.) In any case, the XIo is not, strictly speaking, a homosexual degree -- I'll go into that below. Do or did any other OTO jurisdictions, contemporary or defunct (e.g. OTO-Antigua, etc.) initiate candidates in a homosexual XI degree ritual? I'm not so sure about that, but it is my impression that only C.S. Jones was ever entrusted with the XIo secrets by Crowley, if indeed anyone was. This impression follows primarily from instructions to Jones in Liber Aleph. There have been many attempts to incorporate what others see the XIo into magical orders -- sometimes it involves homosexuality (as in Bertiaux's group), and sometimes it doesn't (as in SOTO, TOTO). IMO, there is no reason to believe that any of these various XIos have anything much to do with Crowley's idea of the XIo. Does the Â©OTO currently initiate candidates with a homosexual XI degree ritual? I believe there are members of "cOTO" who currently hold the XIo. That degree was not exclusively homosexual in Crowley's time since he records many XIo operations with women in his magical diaries. I don't believe it is "homosexual" in its current incarnation in the Caliphate OTO, but this is so primarily to bring it into line with Crowley's vision -- there is no reason homosexuals can't be admitted to the degree of course, and to some extent, the sex magick of the XIo is better suited to homosexuals (IMO) than heterosexuals. If the Â©OTO does not currently initiate candidates with a homosexual XI degree ritual, did it ever do so (e.g. when Grady McMurtry rather than William Breeze was head of the order)? Grady McMurtry (at Patrick King's demand, by his own admission) chartered an experimental XIo sanctuary run by Patrick King called the "Rite of Shiraz." Some members of the Caliphate OTO around at the time felt that Grady chartered the Rite of Shiraz so he could wash his hands of the degree feeling that it was homosexual and therefore something he didn't want associated with him. In any case, the Rite of Shiraz was pronounced defunct by the current OHO for various reasons -- primarily, I think (I haven't asked him, so this is just speculation more than anything, although I think there's an old issue of the Magical Link that contains a note to this effect), because it failed to really live up to the nature of the XIo as Crowley understood it. There's a great deal of information about the XIo in Crowley's published works, actually, and having seen some of the materials that Patrick King produced, I happen to agree. If the Â©OTO did at one time initiate candidates with a homosexual XI degree ritual, and does not do so now, when was the ritual terminated and what reason was given for the termination? I could be wrong, but I seem to remember that the Rite of Shiraz was declared defunct -- a failed experiment basically -- in 1987. Hymenaus Beta has publicly claimed XIo, so I think it's entirely probable that there is currently a functioning body of XIo initiates, though it must be relatively small and it seems to be present in what Crowley defined with his own words as the Black Lodge of the Vatican, a place of equal demonic strength that Crowley respected very much. The rise of the Pink Palace phenomena within the US Catholic Church in the 60's made it possible for the OTO XIo degree to infiltrate the Vatican even further as demonstrated by the recent scandals in the United States Catholic clergy and then find support in the already existing Black Lodge of homosexuals and pedophiles residing since time immemorial in the Vatican HQ's in Rome.

Crowley and Satanism, compiled by P.R. Koenig (a Jewish satanist secretly working for the illuminati)

From: "Peter-R. Koenig" Subject: Satanism and Thelema regarding satanism and crowley, i have written a short summary on all this, that is: quotations of his secret diaries.

anyway, here is my summary on satanism:

Crowley and Satanism, compiled by P.R. Koenig

"I was compelled to set myself in opposition to the Bible itself," "I simply went over to Satan's side; and to this hour I cannot tell why," (The Confessions of Aleister Crowley, edited by John Symonds/Kenneth Grant, London 1969, 67, 73).

Crowley identified Aiwaz, the outer-human-intelligence who allegedly dictated the Book of the Law in 1904 with/as "Thee Satan my saviour", diary entry 15th March 1922. Crowley saw Aiwaz, His Holy Guardian Angel, as the messenger/avenger of Hoor-Paar-Krat, ie Set, god of destruction, brother and murderer of Osiris. Set is Shaitan, the role-model for the christian Satan. Crowley referenced this also when he credited "thanks to Aiwaz, our Lord God the Devil," or: "I sing for God, our Devil, our Lord, Aiwaz," etc. (Magical Records, 22nd and 28th July 1920. Similarly also in Symonds/Grant: "Magical and Philosophical Commentaries," Montreal 1974, 81). See also Crowley's Liber Samekh/The Bornless Ritual: "Thou Satan-Sun [...] Satan, my Lord! The Lust of the Goat!"

Diary, 30th June 1920: "When I was [Eliphas] Levi, I drew myself as Ayin or Baphomet, 'The Devil', with Beast's Head. This is the Beast throned, crowned, exalted; the leaper, the erect, the butter-in. Her womb is my city, Babel. This Ayin is then my Phallic Will, my Holy Guardian Angel, Aiwaz, who was afterwards called Satan." Diary 19th/20th January 1918 about Baphomet: "I find 729 = the curse of Satan! Of course."

His sexmagickal formula was summoned in ShTN (Shaitan, Set, Satan): Sh the magical fire, T the lion snake, N as the Scarlet Woman. Defining himself as To Mega Therion equates him with Shaitan. Crowley is Aiwaz and equally Thelema in persona: Diary 22nd October 1920: "I am the Beast [...] I am Thelema" and on 27th May 1917: "I myself AIWAZ have been considering all the time how to act as to Crowley's body and mind." On 14th June 17: "I am getting quite to the point of habitual recognition of myself as AIWAZ."

The Womb of Thelema, questions by P.R. Koenig, reactions by Thelemites

The Womb Of Thelema

"I was compelled to set myself in opposition to the Bible itself," "I simply went over to Satan's side; and to this hour I cannot tell why," (The Confessions of Aleister Crowley, edited by John Symonds/Kenneth Grant, London 1969, 67, 73).

* Didn't he at that time think the anglican church was 'satanic', he himself coming from a Plymouth brethren background?

Crowley identified Aiwaz, the outer-human-intelligence who allegedly dictated the Book of the Law in 1904 with/as "Thee Satan my saviour", diary entry 15th March 1922. Crowley saw Aiwaz, His Holy Guardian Angel, as the messenger/avenger of Hoor-Paar-Krat, i.e. Set, god of destruction, brother and murderer of Osiris. Set is Shaitan, the role-model for the christian Satan. Crowley also referred to this when he wrote in his Magical Records, 22nd and 28th July 1920: "thanks to Aiwaz, our Lord God the Devil," or: "I sing for God, our Devil, our Lord, Aiwaz," etc. (see also in Symonds/Grant: "Magical and Philosophical Commentaries," Montreal 1974, 81). Read Crowley's Liber Samekh/The Bornless Ritual: "Thou Satan-Sun [...] Satan, my Lord! The Lust of the Goat!"

AC also states in Book IV that a devil exalted to the status of a God cannot be considered to be a devil anymore. Moreover, Liber Samekh contains both polarities of God and Devil, the ritual intends to transcend both. Mentioning the term 'Satan' or 'Devil' doesn't make one a satanist.

* Do You know much about the Yezidi, true Satan worshippers, where Satan originated in name? Have you any idea what it would mean to set yourself in opposition to the Bible itself, THE BOOK, so to speak, of power in the world today, that is, Western World? If Crowley was working with the powers that be, than why would he set himself in opposition to the Bible? If he wanted to make a complete demarkation in the religious belief of the time, than he would certainly bring back, the worth of the Body, the body which was so ignored and rejected by Constantines new religeon, THE BIBLE.

Diary, 30th June 1920: "When I was [Eliphaz] Levi, I drew myself as Ayin or Baphomet, 'The Devil', with the Beast's Head. This is the Beast throned, crowned, exalted; the leaper, the erect, the butter-in. Her womb is my city, Babel. This Ayin is then my Phallic Will, my Holy Guardian Angel, Aiwaz, who was afterwards called Satan."

* Referring to the Tarot card of 'The Devil' with a whole complex of meanings surrounding that, doesn't make one a satanist.

Diary 19th/20th January 1918 about Baphomet: "I find 729 = the curse of Satan! Of course."

* he identifies Baphomet® with the Tarot card of the Devil.

His sexmagickal formula was summoned in ShTN (Shaitan, Set, Satan): Sh the magical fire, T the lion snake, N as the Scarlet Woman. Defining himself as To Mega Therion equates him with Shaitan. Crowley is Aiwaz and equally Thelema in person: Diary 22nd October 1920: "I am the Beast [...] I am Thelema" and on 27th May 1917: "I myself AIWAZ have been considering all the time how to act as to Crowley's body and mind." On 14th June 17: "I am getting quite to the point of habitual recognition of myself as AIWAZ."

Let's assume that Crowley knew what he was doing. Liber AL was a poem developed over a longer period of time. All terms and ideas exist in context (preexisting ideas based on "other" sources).

Did Crowley (fueled by his own ego's fantasies) use on purpose a "satanic" context in order to put himself and his followers under the stigma of a masochistic religion?

The embrace of satanism by Aleister Crowley demonstrates the degree of inescapable influence his religious upbringing had on him, and that he was unable to remove himself from within the ideological box formed by the biblical religions. He joked about it, and made many contradictory statements concerning biblical myth, yet it's clear which basket he placed his eggs in. The challenge for 21st century Thelemites is to extricate themselves from the ideological box by abandoning the sinking biblical barge for higher ground before it sinks entirely--it's already listing to one side. TBOTL provides the basis needed to move forward without constantly being pulled backwards, which is the only thing tradition and dogma are really good for.

With references to Satan and Satanism absent from TBOTL, there is no direct literary connection between Satanism and Thelema. The Biblical characters the Beast and Scarlet Woman are generally perceived as being in league with the Devil, which makes it easy for critics of TBOTL to associate it with Satanism. The Beast and the Scarlet Woman could just as easily and accurately be viewed as personal monikers for Aleister Crowley and his wife Rose-

* If there is no necessity please provide some precedence in any literature for the use of these ideas. They are clearly references to the Apocalypse of St. John. the Beast and Scarlet Woman are a pair of male/female images taken from Revelations due to the appeal the characters had for Crowley, a result of his fascination with the myth, and his life-long fantasy of being the Beast.

to ignore the obvious biblical references seems determined to be pretty silly. All terms and ideas exist in context. A reader cannot understand any term unless they have some preexisting idea based on previously experienced sources. Since the only sources for these ideas are the Bible or literature directly dependant on the Bible your assertion here is false on its face.

The source of an image can, and is often secondary, or even irrelevant to the use and purpose intended by an author or artist for the image. In this case, the origin of the Beast and the Scarlet Woman as Biblical imagery is irrelevant to the contextual meaning of the images provided by the author of TBOTL. The Beast and Scarlet Woman are equated to the Sun and Moon, the two most universally recognized symbols of the male/female forces found in nature. Better yet, the author goes one step further and equates the Beast and Scarlet Woman to the two most widely-known images of the male/female counterparts in ancient Egypt: the winged sun--the winged secret flame--and the arched figure of Nuit--the stooping starlight.

Provided the fictional characters had been known at the time TBOTL was created, the author could have used the characters Blondie and Dagwood, Lucy and Dezi, or Popeye and Olive Oil--they can all serve the same purpose, with exception of the fact that using the Beast and Scarlet Woman appealed to Aleister Crowley's ego, and fueled his fantasies, thereby assuring his cooperation.

There is want to divorce Crowley from authorship of the BOTL but even assuming some separate praeter human authorship assumes the words the author uses have contextual meaning. As no other contextual meaning is even vaguely possible here, blaming Crowley is absurd at best.

-there is no necessity in projecting Biblical myth into the pages of TBOTL. On the other hand, Crowley relished his assumption of the role of the Beast of Revelations, and the role of the anti-christ. Crowley also identified his perceived Holy Guardian Angel--Aiwass--as being a core-figure at the heart of what he fantasized was the origin of Satanism, the worship of Shaitan in Mesopotamia. Any connections that exist between Thelema as it is known today and Satanism rests squarely on the shoulders of Aleister Crowley.

Jesus and Mary are mentioned in TBOTL. How about the Desolation of Abomination, this has a purely and exclusively biblical origin. The Quran isn't mentioned in the Book of the Law either.

The issue of Satanism and Thelema existing as bedfellows certainly raises an interesting question. If the author of TBOTL had intended for the book to act as a catalyst for the integration of the world's religions, he certainly seems bent on self-defeat in that area of achievement. Invoking the names of the two characters most dreaded by readers of the New Testament, combined with vicious attacks leveled at religions' demigods, all but insures that TBOTL will be viewed negatively by most people.

#> ...Set is Shaitan, the role-model for the christian Satan...

I gather that a good number of Satanists believe this, some of them Setians. my research into the history of the personification of evil through time does not lead me to this simplistic conclusion and I would appreciate additional reflection from any reading this. no doubt some post-Christians and Neopagan Setians think that this is the case, but I'm not aware that the most recent Egyptology or investigations into the roots of the Christian Bogey play out so clearly as a single derivation of Satan from this particular deity. corrections welcomed.

Do You know much about the Yezidi, true Satan worshippers, where Satan originated in name?

everything I encounter about the Yezidis indicates their encompassing enshrinement of the Most High God and respects to its Creation that include the anti-God or Force For Waywardness and Sin. that they are interested in appeasing or assisting this has been used by Satanists to call them kindred, and surely there is some kind of relationship amongst those who have in mind the assistance to the demonic. yet it would be foolhardy to presume that such activities are usually monolatric, or in this case strictly demonolatric (worshipping one being, let alone merely the Adversary, Iblis, or whatever they do).

1. Have you any idea what it would mean to set yourself in opposition
2. to the Bible itself, THE BOOK, so to speak, of power in the world
3. today, that is, Western World?

a good many secular humanists have made an effort to do so, and even to go further and educate the world in materialistic empiricism. it is my contention that dispensing with the Evul Book and The Books of the Fathers of the Religions of the Book has come due. for this reason such texts as promote their superiority may be mocked and burnt in revelry and without compunctions about their sacrality to us.

1. If Crowley was working with neters, that is, the powers that be,

I have absolutely no reason to think he was.

1. [then] why would he set himself in opposition to the Bible?

quite simply, the powers that be are not so associated. in large they are not associated with any single cult or culture, even with any single species. anthropomorphism is almost as popular as insular cult dogmaticism and intertribal warfare over symbol.

1. If he wanted to make a complete demarkation in the religious
2. belief of the time, with EyeofHoor, I echo the commentary that Crowley was boxed into his Christian religion and constitutes a kind of Bridge or Tunnel from it into an enhanced subjective landscape. it does not appear that he himself fully navigated said Bridge, but that he may have made it available to others (as LaVey did with his CoSatanism) is remarkable and admirable to a degree.

1. [then] he would certainly bring back, the worth of the Body,
2. the body which was so ignored and rejected by Constantines
3. new religeon, THE BIBLE.

anything associated with it ought be considered subsumed to it. so many times Christians have sought to recapture something fundamental (discipline, focus on the changing scripture or its enshrined cementation, feminine-progeny-attractors, etc.), that any particular novel emphasis is one more of a myriad lineage composite at least trying to draw from it (as in syncretic pursuits like Hermeticism or applied within Christianity proper).

attached you also find several online postings from high degree members of the 'caliphate'.

regarding satanism in Thelema: all OTO people are heavily against the Temple of Set and the Church of Satan: double membership is strictly forbidden.

i hope that i have helped you bit. if you forward this email: please do so in extenso/complete.

Quite true, although much more so of O.T.O. than of A.'.A.'. , honor points excluded. Consider also that Crowley's main book: "Liber AL vel Legis" is called "The Book of the Law" and is used in those O.T.O. initiations as the VSL.

>There's little doubt that to Crowley, "Satan" was an entirely Tim, I disagree with you on this utterly. It simply isn't true.

Crowley did use "Satan" as the subject of poetry and irony, but he denied the existence of the critter. "Entirely positive" is belied by many instances of his usage. A study of incidence of the words: "Lucifer", "Satan" and "Christ" in 20 megs of A.C.'s Stuff here on disk came out with the following:

lucifer ---- 22 occurrences satan ---- 165 occurrences christ ---- 1,260 occurrences

Analysis of "lucifer" finds (some from Crowley's translation of E. Levi's The Key of the Mysteries in Equinox Vol. I, #10 supplement):

similes (one is a duplicate)----- 3 Satanists called Christians ----- 1 name of a person (Fr. Lucifer) ----- 1 figures of speech (e.g. left Lucifer at the door) ----- 1 poetic salutation (O' Lucifer) ----- 1
Lucifer saved eventually (see below)----- 1

Lucifer is not Satan (see below)-----	1
"Daughter of Lucifer and accomplice of Prometheus" -----	1
Book review, scurrilous remark -----	1
Book review, non scurrilous -----	1
Warning against pride -----	1
Poetic image linking Lucifer, Satan and Christ (below) -----	2 (dup)
Not Satan, but one of the princes of evil -----	1
As Brahma (part of a general assault on religions) (below) ---	2 (dup)
As planet Venus -----	1
Acceptance of common usage (MTP below) out of frustration ----	1
Other poet using the word "Lucifer" -----	1

Equinox Vol. I, No. 10, page 23 suppliment:

Lucifer, of whom the dark ages have made the genius of evil, will be truly the angel of light when, having conquered liberty at the price of infamy, he will make use of it to submit himself to eternal order, inaugurating thus the glories of voluntary obedience.

Ibid:

The fallen angel is not Lucifer the light-bearer; it is Satan, who calumniated love.

Eq. I, 4:

By Thy most secret and Holy Name of Apophis be Thou blessed, Lucifer, Star of the Dawn, Satan-Jeheshua, Light of the World!

Eq. I, 5:

And Satan is worshipped by men under the name of Jesus; and Lucifer is worshipped by men under the name of Brahma; and Leviathan is worshipped by men under the name of Allah; and Belial is worshipped by men under the name of Buddha.

Magick in Theory and Practice (MTP):

This has led to so much confusion of thought that THE BEAST 666 has preferred to let names stand as they are, and to proclaim simply that AIWAZ --- the solar-phallic-hermetic "Lucifer" is His own Holy Guardian Angel, and "The Devil" SATAN or HADIT of our particular unit of the Starry Universe.

Conclusion: Except for the MTP reference, which context places as a defiance of popular prejudice more than an _expression of belief, Crowley did not appear to make much use of "Lucifer" as a serious subject. Most references combining "Lucifer" and "Satan", few though they are, differentiate between the two.

The references to "satan" are more varied. Most are simile, metaphor, derogatory or associations of "Satan" to Christianity. Some appear to use the term in a non-traditional fashion. Examples of the latter below. There are a couple of poems dedicated to Satan, but they appear to be intended either for humor or shock value. Satan is also associated with Saturn in Astrology, the Sun in mythology (not Astrology), and several philosophical ideas and ancient deities not relevant to Christian concepts of a Devil or Personification of Evil. The first example below associates "Satan" to a geographic direction.

Comment on Liber AL:

It is also to be considered that Nu is connected with North, while Had is Sad, Set, Satan, Sat (equals "Being" in Sanskrit), South.

Confessions:

I simply went over to Satan's side; and to this hour I cannot tell why.

My satanism did not interfere with it at all; I was trying to take the view that the Christianity of hypocrisy and cruelty was not true Christianity.

The problem of life was not how to satanize, as Huysmans would have called it; it was simply to escape from the oppressors and to enjoy the world without any interference of spiritual life of any sort.

For instance, if I mention a beetle I expect the reader to understand an allusion to the sun at midnight in its moral sense of Light-in-Darkness; if a pelican, to the legend that she pierces her own breast to feed her young on her heart's bleed; if a goat, to the entire symbolism of Capricornus, the god Pan, Satan or Jesus (Jesus being born at the winter solstice, when the sun enters Capricorn); if a pearl, to the correspondences of that stone as a precious and glittering secretion of the oyster, by which I mean that invertebrate animal life of man, the Nephesch.

Equinox I, 1:

[Or vice versa, friend, if you are a Satanist; 'tis a matter of words --- words --- words.

Eq. I, 10:

and Satan is only so incoherent and so formless because he is made up of all the rags of ancient theogonies.

Eq. I, 2:

Thus it happens that until you become God, God Himself is in Reality The Tempter, Satan, and the Prince of Darkness, who, assuming the glittering robes of Time and Space, whispers in our ears: "Millions and millions and millions of eternities are as nothingness to me; then how canst thou, thou little mote dancing in the beam of mine eye, hope to span me?

Eq. I, 5:

SMAL, Satan so-called, but really only Samael, the accuser of the brethren, unpopular with the Rabbis because their consciences were not clear.

Also OMMV SThH, Ommo Satan, the Satanic Trinity of Typhon, Apophis, and Besz; also ShM IHSvVH, the name of Jesus.

Gospel According to St. Bernard Shaw:

Refreshed, he continued: "The men who are willing by this means to become the saviours of their country shall be called the Synagogue of Satan, so as to keep themselves from the friendship of the fools who mistake names for things.

MTP:

This "Devil: is called Satan or Shaitan, and regarded with horror by people who are ignorant of his formula, and, imagining themselves to be evil, accuse Nature herself of their own phantasmal crime.

Satan is Saturn, Set, Abrasax, Adad, Adonis, Attis, Adam, Adonai, etc.

This serpent, SATAN, is not the enemy of Man, but He who made Gods of our race, knowing Good and Evil; He bade "Know Thyself!

Thus, in low grades of initiation, dogmatic quarrels are inflamed by astral experience; as when Saint John distinguishes between the Whore BABALON and the Woman clothed with the Sun, between the Lamb that was slain and the Beast 666 whose deadly wound was healed; nor understands that Satan, the Old Serpent, in the Abyss, the Lake of Fire and Sulphur, is the Sun-Father, the vibration of Life, Lord of Infinite Space that flames with His Consuming Energy, and is also that throned Light whose Spirit is suffused throughout the City of Jewels.

He is the Lord of the Sabbath of the Adepts, and is Satan, therefore also the Sun, whose number of Magick is 666, the seal of His servant the BEAST.

In AL note that Saturn or Satan is exalted in the House of Venus or Astarte, and it is an airy sign.

Conclusion: Crowley used "Satan" most often in the Christian context as a term of common speech to indicate some image of myth suited to another subject under discussion; next most often as an anti-establishment slur, especially for a brief period in his late teens or early 20's when he followed "Satan" as an act of rebellion; more rarely but philosophically as a Miltonian ideal and positive image for ideas concealed by common prejudices; occasionally as an insult or joke, including categorization of his own public reputation. The more profound usages of "Satan" by Crowley appear to be totally irrelevant to Christian ideas.

The 1,260 occurrences of "Christ" (including "Christian", "Christmas" and other combinations) in this sample indicate a greater interest in Christianity than Satanism, per say. With so large a number, I have not analyzed the patterns closely, but at significant number are positive. One is a usage of devotion to Christ (Crowley's 5 = 6 G.'D.' motto). Most references to "Christ" directly are quite positive, although very frequently contrary to popular views of the historicity of "Christ". About half the references to Christianity are negative, emphasizing "false doctrines" and vice pervading Christian theology or tradition.

>His tradition of Thelema has a great deal to do with the Satanic >symbols of the Beast and the Scarlet Woman, servitors of the Draconic >form of Satan in the Apocalypse of John.

Calling these various things "Satanic symbols" is not responsible, IMHO. To Christians, yes, mostly. To Satanists, some, yes, some no. To Thelemites, mostly no. To the author of the Apocalypse, definitely no. Where do you get "servitors of the Draconic form of Satan..."? That one throws me.

>Our own Bill Heidrick denies that any of these symbols are actually >central to Thelema, to which opinion he is of course entitled, just as >I am entitled to the opinion that Crowley did consider them central.

On the centricity or lack of it in the symbols, I've never commented. On the meaning of these symbols in Crowley's usage and in Thelema, not all of this is a matter of opinion. There is ample evidence in Crowley's writings toward determination actual fact of usage.

N.B. for follow-up, it might be best if the alt.freemasonry cross-post was dropped on some follow-up. If you want me to respond, please retain the cross-post to alt.magick.

Well, the last time some bozo showed up with this "Thelema is not Satanism" crap, the Thelemites here (including an O.T.O. member) jumped all over him, and I thought it would happen again. I guess everyone else is as tired of this cut-and-dried issue as I am. But I will happily give examples of the Satanic focus of Thelema. Do you want ritual examples, theological examples, mythological examples, scriptural examples, philosophical examples, biographical examples, or what?

As for the file you posted, the questions and answers express the opinions of particular individuals, not of Thelema as a whole or even of the O.T.O. Some of them do not even represent the opinion of Josh Gordon, the sysop of the board you mentioned; for instance, he was one of the affirmative posters in the last alt.pagan round of "is Thelema a kind of Satanism?" The file is rather old and was written before the late-1980's round of consciousness raising on the idea of Satanism, back when denial was still king.

>3. Q: Are you Satanists?

> A: No. Are you a murderer and a rapist? Neither am I. And I'd rather you > didn't associate me with them. Satanism is a Christian heresy, and > doesn't interest me in the least (except academically.)

Notice the Satanist-bashing manner of expressing this. I think that these days, even those Thelemites who still say that Thelema is not Satanism would be embarrassed to make such a Texe-Marrs-type statement. (Incidentally, I'm surprised no one has mentioned my favorite fact about Texe Marrs in the current discussion; in MYSTERY MARK OF THE NEW AGE, Marrs says that the Smurfs are a Satanic conspiracy!)

The current argument among the "Thelema is not Satanism" crowd, paraphrased, is "Well, sure Crowley was incredibly fond of Satan and of such chthonic deities, demons, and devils, and sure he identified with the Satanic symbol of the Beast and sang rapturous love-songs to Satan, but he didn't use only Satan. A Satanist uses only Satan, and Thelema doesn't, even though it uses him a lot, so Thelema is not Satanism." However, this argument rests on a definition of Satanism with which few professing Satanists would concur. It would, for instance, leave out the Temple of Set, the Church of Satan, and the Process Church.

I don't know what proportion of Thelemites deny that Thelema is Satanism. I suspect most have never considered the issue and would respond to the question by aping the reflexive Wiccan denial of any connection. Of those who have considered the issue seriously, I think most would either enthusiastically affirm the identity or grudgingly admit that Thelema is a form of Satanism under some reasonable definition. The textual evidence is clear that Thelema holds Satan and related symbols very close to its heart.

Why do you say that? Do you think that Blake's Satanic reinterpretation of Swedenborg in "The Marriage of Heaven and Hell" was post-Crowleyan, for instance, or that the Satan of Baudelaire was the Satan of Calvin, or that Levi's identification of "the devil" as the "instrument of liberty" was in line with Church teaching at the time? Crowley was hardly the first of the Western reinterpreters of the Satanic, nor will he be the last.

>Crowley did a similar thing, different in his own way and for other Eh?

>>Are you actually resting your argument on >>your "suspicion" that there was some precursor of the Apocalypse in which >>there were forms of the Beast and the Scarlet Woman that were not demonic >>this, or are you simply multiplying entities and flouting Occam's razor?

>What is your point? "St. John" didn't write it. Mead contends there are >pre-Christian precursors. The G.'.D.'. played with it in terms of Qabalah.
>Crowley specialized in his own interpretation of the symbols and such.

None of this seems to have anything to do with the issue. I could point out that Rudolph Steiner was also quite interested in the symbolism of the Apocalypse, or that there were many Apocalypses attributed to different people, but what would that have to do with Crowley's self-identification as the Beast from the Apocalypse attributed to John?

>Why would the entities in it be demonic or "linked with the Dragon, Satan"?

Because the text says so in clear and direct language. It uses the phrase "the great dragon, the primeval serpent, known as the devil or Satan", then links him with the beast and the whore of Babylon: "the dragon had handed over to it [the beast] his own power and throne and world-wide authority"; "a woman riding a scarlet beast who had seven heads and ten horns". I trust you are familiar with Revelations, chapters 12, 13, and 17? Though the book is often ambiguous (to say the least) its Satanic symbols are undeniable here.

>>I do see in Mead that the Dragon is linked with Satan as the lord of the >>punishments in the Outer Darkness in the Pistis Sophia (pp. 490, 492, >>503), which implies that if there was some Gnostic precursor of the >>Apocalypse, then if it featured the same characters, there was still a >>link to Satan.

>How implies? There were and are many forms of Gnosticism. Is the precursor >Gnostic? Not even that is established.

Funny, that's not what you said in your previous message: "The underlying material in the Apocalypse attributed to John is still accessible under the distortion, quite valuable, based on Merkabah and influenced by Gnostic ideas." It seems that this hypothetical precursor is Gnostic or not as it suits you. The attempt to explain away the Satanic symbols of the Revelation through this (infinitely flexible) precursor of the Apocalypse of John seems to have nothing going for it in the way of evidence.

>>while there seems to be no way for him to have known about your >>hypothetical precursor,
>Since he followed a course of denying the accuracy of the NT and completely >re-interpreted Revelations away from the Christian ideas, I find it difficult

This is another non sequitur. I ask again: Suppose that there was some (currently unknown) precursor of the Apocalypse of John such that the symbols that were Satanic in the later form were not Satanic in the original. How is it that Crowley came into contact with this lost text and was influenced by it?

Further, why does he then go ahead and use the Satanic legend from the later form, as already quoted from Liber Samekh ("Satan... whose number of Magick is 666, the seal of His servant the Beast")?

>>that selling one's soul to the devil is a fit metaphor for >at the same time alleging that any positive use of words characterized by >Christians as Satanic makes one a Satanist. This is very obscure to me.

I don't know of any major transformation of the words "Satanism" or "Satanic" that began in the 1950's. I am looking at earlier usages than that in the Oxford English Dictionary right now. "Satanic" means "of or pertaining to Satan" and dates back centuries; "Satanism" has two main meanings, both of which apply to Crowley: the worship of Satan (see Liber Samekh, again) and the "Satanic school" in literature, beginning with Byron and Shelley, of which Crowley was a self-proclaimed part.

Crowley used the word "Satanism" with respect to himself (Confessions, p. 73). The last time this came up, you claimed he had referred to "my Satanism" as a childish affectation; in fact, not only does he never forewear this allegiance, but as the Confessions go on he continues to discuss his romance with the figure of Satan and with other proponents of the figure, such as Shelley, Baudelaire and (in Crowley's eyes, as in those of others, such as Blake) Milton.

>>In what way would metaphorical use of Satanic

>If Crowley used "Satanic terminology" as metaphor, to that extent he could >not be a believing Satanist. That others characterize themselves >to me to be irrelevant.

There are not now, and never have been, many literalistic Satanists. In the West this has almost always been a consciously mythic/symbolic usage among the intelligentsia. I don't know where you got the idea that this metaphorical Satanism started in the 1950's, but I can only direct you once again to the OED, or perhaps to Crowley's Confessions, where a number of Satanists of this type appear as acknowledged influences.

>>As for the epiphenomenality of Satan in Liber Samekh, this is not supported >>the Lord of the Sabbath of the Adepts, and is Satan, therefore also the >>Sun, whose number of Magick is 666, the seal of His servant the BEAST."

>How you can quote that in support of your contention is beyond me.

>It clearly refutes your assertion. Here is Crowley using correspondences >and discussing a non-Christian handling of ideas in Revelations and >elsewhere.

>That no more makes him a "Satanist" by his lights and time than wearing >loops on a jacket makes one a Frenchman.

These seem to be more non sequiturs. Crowley refers to himself as the Biblical Great Beast, explicitly affirms that he is a servant of Satan, and to you this proves he was not any kind of Satanist. That is a nonsensical mode of argument.

>>Here it is made perfectly plain that the repeated use of the name Satan >>in the translation of the main invocation was not some accident, but a >>deliberate and enthusiastic adoption by Crowley.

>Yes, he wrote it with vigor. Your point?

My point is that Crowley used Satanic symbols in a positive light with enthusiasm and at central points in his system. That is all I have said all along, and all I am saying now.

>>the explicit reiteration of the relationship between Satan and the Beast >>from the "Apocalypse of John". This puts an end, I hope, to any further >>unsupported suspicions that Crowley was actually referring to some >>hypothetical pre-Satanic text of the Apocalypse.

>I rather think it evidences that he thought he was expounding an earlier use.

Is there more to this than simple speculation? Is there anything about his words in themselves which would lead anyone to believe he was referring to a hypothetical precursor of the Apocalypse in which the Beast and Scarlet Woman were not connected with Satan? By saying "Satan" and "His servant the Beast" he seems to be reaffirming the Satanic symbolism. I don't see how another reading is possible. The reiteration of the doctrine of the Apocalypse is a fact about the text. What layers of meaning Crowley attached to that doctrine is a matter of interpretation, but the Satanic nature of the doctrine -- "of or pertaining to Satan" -- is there in the ink on the page.

>>Now of course we could get into all sorts of interpretation about what he >>meant by Satan, the Beast, and so on, but as for whether they are >>Satanic, well, he uses the word Satan and makes undeniable allusions to >>myths bearing on Satan, so the only reasonable answer is that the texts >>are Satanic.

>If this is your thesis, you have no thesis but reduction to trivia.

>As you are a serious writer, I can only assume that you have something >else as yet uncommunicated to my understanding in this discussion.

>He wears blue clothing, hence he is a Bluest! Why bother to mention it?

Fear not. If at some point I should find that Crowley had written an important invocation of the form, "O thou bluest of blue! Thou raiment which hath absorbed such a dye, yea, as if to reflect the very Ether, thou who cleansest us as that great Ocean of Azure, O thou Cerulean Vestment, O thou Blouse of Sheerest Sapphire, fasten thy splendid buttons upon the breast of thy adorer", or repeated passages in his Confessions stating that "This difference between the Blue and Red Shirts was of the greatest importance to me, and for my part, I stood squarely on the side of the Blue, as Shelley and Milton had done before", I would indeed come to think of him as a Blueist.

The fact is that from Crowley's own writings it is clear that this issue of Satanism was one about which he cared very deeply; it ranks with his major themes and is integral to his self-definition as the Great Beast. To you it is not one of his main themes. That's fine. You have every right (even an obligation) to create your own system of Thelema with its own system of values; but you seem to be making the common mistake of the religious: you are confusing what you prefer to think with what is written in the books of the religion. Rather than simply saying "Crowley felt this was important, but I do not", you adjust your account of what Crowley thought to fit your own views. As long as you continue to misrepresent the historical facts this way, you will find me returning the public attention to them.

Personally, i have found that Crowley felt that the only viable goal was the expansion of one's consciousness. If that involved helping others, then fine. If not, then fine too.

That needs to be qualified. It depends entirely upon what you mean by "his entire mythology". Crowley borrowed frequently and plentifully from the myths of many cultures, especially the Egyptians. In 777, he equates all (i believe) mythological/magical systems, enabling one to translate concepts from one framework to another.

Crowley's life and work are based on an anti-Christian attitude.
However, to say that he was a Satanist seems ridiculous. Seen from a Christian perspective, every non-Christian is a Satanist. Crowley got the name "The Beast" from his mother who used to call him that all the time.

Crowley did find the End of the Aeon of Osiris (whom you refer to as Jesus) as good - after he resigned himself to it. The Aeon of Horus (the Conquering Child) was to replace the Aeon of Osiris (perhaps as per the book of Revelation).

As you so succinctly point out in your quote, Uncle Aleister does not base his entire mythology on an anti-Christian bias. Indeed, he frequently points out the faults/biases of Christianity, while pointing out the good points of the equivalent of Satan (or Shaitan in Arabic) in other cultures' mythos.

This again shows Uncle Aleister's sympathy with the active/phallic forces in nature, as often symbolized by Satan.

I think that Uncle Aleister was a Satanist in some sense of the word. However, he was not a Satanist in the negative-connotation, emotionally loaded sense that the media uses it. The media picture of Satanists are those who consider what they do evil and revel in it. Uncle Aleister didn't consider these things evil - merely part of life. If one is to live according to the Law of Thelema, then one may well be called to do things which the Judeo-Christian ethic consider "evil"; however, as one is following one's True Will, one can not be considered to be doing evil.

Not that what Page calls himself really matters. Too bad I can't afford Uncle Aleister's house on Loch Ness - I'd love to move to Scotland, especially if I could live in Boleskine.

What's to be afraid of?

Not that sacrifices have anything to do with Satanism. The Aztecs sacrificed humans - yet one cannot really consider them Satanists.

Uncle Aleister's choice of terms for himself and his miscellaneous mistresses have a distinctive anti-Christian flair to them. His former secretary, the late Dr. Israel Regardie postulates in the his introduction to the Book of the Law (rebound with intro and minor editing under the title The Law Is For All) that large portions of Liber Legis stemmed from Uncle Aleister's rebellion against Christian authorities. However, like you said, Uncle Aleister was definitely more than "just" a Satanist.

The primary techniques that Uncle Aleister prescribes are indeed derived from Mathers work on the Golden Dawn system of Magick, as well as the Yogic forms (such as the ones in Book 4 - the last part of Magick in Theory and Practice - available seperately).

Betrifft:Is Thelema a form of Satanism? -- from a Fido discussion

Dear Diane,

To expand on my earlier comments on Satanic symbolism in Thelemic ritual, and their relevance to the question of whether Thelema is a form of Satanism under some reasonable definition of that word.

You ought to get a copy of "Magick in Theory and Practice" if you're interested in the issue. Crowley's ritual and meditative instructions were his best writing, possibly because they dealt with what he knew best.
It's because of the power and importance of these instructions that I was willing to overlook his appalling right-wing politics and cite Crowley as a source in Twilight Crossing; LaVey and Aquino have made no contributions that measure up to these.

I'm going to track through the various Liberi in Appendix VI, "A Few Principal Rituals", in order.

Grimorium Sanctissimum. The O.T.O./A.'.A.'. sex magic expressed in the form of a Black Mass, with a naked virgin as the altar.

The Star Ruby. Therion and Babalon, who are the Beast and the Scarlet Woman from the Apocalypse of John, and who are explicitly Satanic symbols.
(The Star Ruby is the Thelemic recension of the Lesser Banishing Ritual of the Pentagram.)

The Star Sapphire. Set, a very close Satanic cognate, and Baphomet, the demon supposedly worshipped by the Templars.

The Mass of the Phoenix. The magician carves his or her breast with the Mark of the Beast, soaks the blood into a cake, and eats it.

Liber V vel Reguli. "Being the Ritual of the Mark of the Beast". The Beast 666, Therion, Babalon, Averse Pentagrams, "Saturn or Satan is exalted in the House of Venus or Astarte", "the Father-Mother Set-Isis", and so on.

The Gnostic Mass. Chaos, Babalon, Baphomet, Abrasax, Therion, Simon Magus, and another reclaiming of the Black Mass with its naked virgin on the altar. (The G.S. form above is more adapted to the ceremonial use of two people, while this form is for the public and is veiled with a cloak of symbolism.) Interestingly, something very like this ritual may have a great deal to do with our general conception of the Black Mass, coming from the Star Chamber affair in France. It is unclear how much of the accusations were exaggerated and brought into line with the Inquisitional mythology, and how much was an actual "amatory mass" as some of the sources refer to it.

This ends the appendix containing the principal Thelemic rituals, with the exception of Liber Samekh. That is so important that it receives its own appendix, IV. As you know, the emphasis of Liber Samekh on Satan is intense. It also exalts the Beast and the Scarlet Woman yet again. This is the ritual of "the Attainment of the Knowledge and Conversation of the Holy Guardian Angel" or Higher Self; in Crowley's case, he believed this "devil or angel" to be named Aiwaz or Aiwass, and to have delivered the Book of the Law, the foundation of Thelema.

I have not mentioned the constant repetition of the Serpent symbol, which for Crowley was interpreted along the lines of Genesis -- or an anti-Genesis which reclaimed the pagan symbol demonized in the Hebrew myth. Someone could object, after all, that Serpent-worship is hardly confined to Satanism; we have to see how much Crowley explicitly inverted the tail of the Bible before we can know certainly that he did the same with the head. So the Serpent or Snake has little evidentiary value in itself, except where it is very plainly a reference to Genesis, as in "I am the Snake that giveth Knowledge" in the Book of the Law.

As we can see, there is not one Thelemic ritual, among those Crowley thought most important, which is lacking in Satanic symbols.

Now, we should also consider Appendix VII, "A Few of the Principal Instructions Authorised by the A.'.A.'." These are much less Satanic by and large. Many of them have no Satanic references worth mentioning, such as the Yogic instructions of Liber HHH, Liber E, and Liber RV, and the Golden Dawn derived ceremonial magick practices of Liber O, Liber Yod, Liber Resh, and Liber A. Similarly for the past-life recall practice (perhaps Theosophical?) of Liber Thisharb and the penultimate practice of Liber B vel Magi. Yet there are other works in the same appendix which contain notable Satanic symbolism, such as Liber Astarte, Liber III, Liber Cheth, and Liber A'ash.

The interesting thing about the instructions of this category is that, for the most part, they are not particularly Thelemic either. There is little mention of the Thelemic trinity of Nuit, Hadit, and Ra-Hoor-Khuit, or of the Book of the Law, or of the word Thelema, or "Do what thou wilt" or its cognates such as "the law of liberty". Where these do occur, they are usually in passing rather than central to the instruction; and in nearly every case, the degree of Satanic symbolism is proportional to the degree of Thelemic symbolism.

That is, there is hardly a book that contains noteworthy Satanic symbolism that does not also contain Thelemic symbolism of roughly equal note, and vice versa. The books which don't contain one rarely contain the other.

Liber A vel Armorum could be taken as a counterexample, but even there the quote from the Book of the Law is merely an opening clause having no import to the teaching in itself; it is a single sentence stating Crowley's authority to present the book. If it were omitted, it would have no effect on the instruction of how to construct elemental weapons. It's of no more significance than the mention of Typhon in Liber O.

In Liber Astarte and Liber III, the Thelemic and the Satanic symbolism are both used in passing, almost as afterthoughts. (Astarte also contains some of the anti-Satanic symbolism that Crowley sometimes uses; the Thelemic devil is named Choronzon, and here he is presented as leading the aspirant astray.) In Astarte, the little Satanic symbolism consists of a reference to Babalon, which is also Thelemic symbolism; the only other Thelemic references are to Choronzon and a single short clause (out of fifty clauses) which urges the use of Thelemic books and aphorisms in the practice. In Liber III, the Thelemic mythology is solely in an opening benediction which (once again) could easily be omitted without having the slightest import to the meditation practice, while the Satanic symbol of "Cerebus, the great Beast of Hell" is almost as unimportant.

(Is it even Satanic at all? some might ask. After all, Cerebus is Greek. Indeed, if Crowley had not craftily used the phrase "the great Beast" there might be some doubt under a restrictive definition of Satanism. The Twilight Crossing definition of Satanism as the reclamation of demonized mythological figures would include it even without that phrase, but there is simply no way that Crowley used the phrase "the great Beast" except as an explicit reference to the demon of Revelation. Crowley's "Cerebus, the great Beast of Hell" has a double meaning, both of which are Satanic under the Twilight Crossing definition, and one of which is Satanic even under the overly restrictive definition preferred by anti-Satanists.)

Liber Cheth and Liber A'ash are the only books of the category which are aggressively either Satanic or Thelemic. And each of them are both. In them, we are back to the sex magic of the O.T.O. and the A.'.A.'. , and once again we are dealing with Babalon, the Beast, Hadit, Nuit, Set, Chaos, and Baphomet. No knowledgeable person would deny the centrality of these sex practices to Crowley's systems, and no truthful person could deny that every time they are set forth in ritual and meditation instructions, they are flanked and upheld by a constellation of Thelemic and Satanic symbols.

Was Crowley a Satanist? Is Thelema a form of Satanism? Only the most contrived definition of "Satanism" could answer these questions "no".

What would Crowley have answered? In a dedication to "Why Jesus Wept", he told G. K. Chesterton that he, Crowley, had "found [his] Messiah in ... the Devil and all his angels", and showed through gematria that the Serpent was the true Messiah. In "Magick in Theory and Practice" (cap. IV) and "The Book of Thoth", and many other places, he praised Satan at length. He sang rapturous love-songs to the devil in his ritual practices, and gave him the unholy kiss referred to in the legends of the templars and the Sabbat. He wrote, in the last chapter of "Magick in Theory and Practice", that:

"The Devil" is, historically, the God of any people that one personally dislikes. This has led to so much confusion of thought that THE BEAST 666 has preferred to let names stand as they are, and to proclaim simply that AIWAZ -- the solar-phallic-hermetic Lucifer -- is His own Holy Guardian Angel, and "The Devil" SATAN or HADIT of our particular unit of the Starry Universe. This serpent, SATAN, is not the enemy of Man, but HE who made Gods of our race, knowing Good and Evil; He bade "Know Thyself!" and taught Initiation. He is "the Devil" of the Book of Thoth, and His emblem is BAPHOMET, the Androgyne who is the hieroglyph of arcane perfection.

We have no need to speculate on the issue. The man has spoken clearly for himself.

Tim

Ideology of the World Government

"Perversion must enter the world, but misfortune for those through whose efforts it will come."

Evangile

After the Gulf War, almost all mass media outlets in Russia, as well as in the West, injected into the common speak the formula "New World Order," coined by George Bush, and then used by other politicians including Gorbachev and Yeltsin. The New World Order, based on the establishment of a One World Government, as has been candidly admitted by odeologists of the Trilateral Commission and Bildenburg, is not simply a question of politico-economic domination of a certain "occult" ruling clique of international bankers. This "Order" bases itself on the victory on a global scale of a certain special ideology, and so the concept concerns not only instruments of power, but also "ideological revolution," a "coup d'etat" consciousness, "new thinking." Vagueness of formulations, constant secretiveness and cautiousness, deliberate mysteriousness of the mondialists do not allow, until the last moment, to clearly discern the contour of this new ideology, which they decided to impose on the peoples of the world. And only after Iraq, as if following somebody's orders, certain bans were take off and multiple publications appeared, which began to call things by their own names. So, let us try, on the basis of analysis conducted by a group of employees of the editorial board of "Elements," to, in the most general terms, define the basics of the ideology of the New World Order.

The New World Order represents in itself an eschatological, messianic project, much exceeding in scope other historical forms of planetary utopias - such as the early protestant movement in Europe, the Arab Khalifate, or communist plans for a World Revolution. Perhaps, these utopian projects served as preludes to the final form of mondialism, trials which tested integrational mechanisms, effectiveness of command structures, ideological priorities, methods in tactics, etc. Taking this aside, contemporary mondialism, absorbing the experience of protestantism, eschatological heresies, communist revolutions, and geopolitical cataclysms of distant centuries, has sharpened its final formulations, finally determining what was pragmatic and incidental in previous forms, and what really composed the base tendency of history on the road to New World Order. After an entire sequence of vacillations, ambiguities, pragmatic steps and tactical black-outs, contemporary mondialism has finally formulated its fundamental principles regarding the pressing situation. These principles can be assigned to four levels:

1. Economical: the ideology of the New World Order presupposes a complete and mandatory establishment of the liberal capitalist market system all over the planet, with no regard to cultural and ethnic regions. All socio-economic systems carrying elements of "socialism," "social or national justice," "social protection" must be completely destroyed and turned into societies of "absolutely free market." All past flirtations of mondialism with "socialist" models are coming to a complete halt, and market liberalism is becoming the single economic dominant on the planet, ruled by the World Government.
2. Geopolitical: the ideology of the New World Order gives unconditional preference to countries comprising geographical and historical West in contrast to countries of the East. Even in the case of a relatively Western location of one country or another, it will always be favoured in comparison with its neighbor to the east. The previously implemented scheme of geopolitical alliance of the West with the East against the Center (for example, capitalist West together with communist Russia against national- socialist Germany) is no longer in use by contemporary mondialism. Geopolitical priority of Western orientation is becoming absolute. [BUT CHINA IS REPLACING US?]
3. Ethnic: the ideology of the New World Order insists on utmost racial, national, ethnic, and cultural intermixing of peoples, giving preference to cosmopolitanism of large cities. National and mini-national movements, used earlier by the mondialists in their fight against "greater nationalism" of the imperial type, will be decisively suppressed, as there will be no place left for them in this Order. On all levels, national politics of the World Government will be oriented towards intermixing, cosmopolitanism, melting pot, and so forth.
4. Religious: the ideology of the New World Order is preparing the coming into the world of a certain mystical figure, the appearance of which, is supposed to sharply change the religious-ideological scene on the planet. Ideologists of mondialism are themselves convinced that what is meant by this is the coming into the world of Moshiah, the Messiah who will unveil laws of a new religion to humanity and will perform many miracles. The era of pragmatic use of atheist, rationalist, and materialist doctrines by mondialists is over. Now, they are proclaiming the coming of an epoch of "new religiosity."

This is exactly the picture emerging from an analysis of latest revelations by ideologists of the Tripartite Commission, Bildenbug Club, the American Council on Foreign Relations, and other authors, intellectually servicing international mondialism on very different levels - beginning with "neo- spiritualism" and ending with concrete economical and structural designs of pragmatic technocrats. Careful study of these four levels of the ideology of the World Government is a concern of many serious research projects and works, a part of which, we hope, will appear on the pages of following volumes of "Elements." But we would like to focus on several aspects right now. Firstly, it is important to note that this ideology cannot be qualified as being either "right" or "left." More than that, within it exists an essential and conscious superposition of two layers, relating to polar political realities. The New World Order is radically and rigidly "rightist" on the economic level, as it assumes absolute primacy of private property, completely free markets, and triumph of individualistic appetites in the economic sphere. Simultaneously, the New World Order is radically and rigidly "leftist" on the cultural-political front, since the ideology of cosmopolitanism, intermixing, ethical liberalism traditionally belongs in the category of "leftist" political priorities. This combination of the economic "right" with the ideological "left" serves as the conceptual axis of contemporary mondialist strategy, a basis for the design of the coming civilization. This ambiguity is manifested even in the very term "liberalism," which, on the economical level stands for "absolutely free markets," but on the ideological level calls for a "mild ideology of permissiveness." Today, we can justifiably assert that the World Government will base its dictatorship not on some typical model of "totalitarian tyranny," but on principles of "liberalism." Revealingly, it is in this very case that the terrible eschatological parody called New World Order, will be perfected and completed.

Secondly, the West, standing at the head of geopolitical theories of the New World Order as the hemisphere where the Sun, Sun of History, sets, takes on the role of both a strategic and a cultural model. In the course of the last stage of realization of mondialist projects, natural symbolism must completely concur with geopolitical symbolism, and the complexity of preceding geopolitical bloc construction, manoeuvres, and political alliances, which mondialists used earlier to reach their goals, now gives way to a crystal clear geopolitical logic, which even a simpleton is able to comprehend. Thirdly, Moshiah, whose coming the far-flung mondialist institutions are supposed to facilitate, is, from the point of view of such diverse religious tendencies as Orthodox Christianity and Islam, clearly and without any doubt associated with the sinister figure of Antichrist. As follows from the very logic of apocalyptic drama, in the course of the last struggle, the clash will occur not between the Sacred and the profane, nor between Religion and atheism, but between Religion and pseudo-religion. That is why Moshiah of the World Government is not simply a "cultural project," new "social myth," or "grotesque utopia," but is something much more serious, real, terrible. It is completely obvious that opponents of mondialism and enemies of the New World Order (staff members of "Elements" count themselves among these) must take on a radically negative position in respect to this ideology. This means that it is necessary to counter the World Government and its plans with an alternative ideology, formulated by negating the doctrine of the New World Order.

The ideology radically opposed to mondialism can also be described on four levels.

1. Economical: priority of social justice, social protection, and "communal," national factor in the system of production and distribution.

2. Geopolitical: a clear orientation towards the East and solidarity with the easternmost geopolitical sectors in considering territorial conflicts, and so forth.

3. Ethnic: allegiance to national, ethnic, and racial traditions and traits of peoples and states, with a special preference for "greater nationalism" of the imperial type in contrast to mini-nationalisms with separatist tendencies.

4. Religious: devotion to original and traditional religious forms - most importantly, Orthodox Christianity and Islam, which clearly identify "new religiosity," New World Order, and Moshiah with the most sinister player in the eschatological drama, the Antichrist (Dadjal in Arabic.)

Anti-mondialist ideological warfare front must also combine in itself elements of "leftist" and "rightist" ideologies, but we must be "rightist" in political terms (in other words, "nationalists," "traditionalists," etc.) and "leftist" in the economical sphere (in other words, supporters of social justice, "socialism," etc.) In fact, this very combination is not just a conventional and arbitrary political program, but a necessary condition in this stage of the struggle. Geopolitical priority of the East makes it incumbent upon us to completely renounce different "anti-asian" biases, at times held by the Russian Right under the influence of a bad and completely untimely example of the European Right. "Anti-asianism" plays only into the hands of the New World Order. And, finally, allegiance to the Church, the teachings of Holy Fathers, Orthodox Christianity is a necessary and most important element of anti-mondialist struggle, since the substance and meaning of this struggle is in choosing True God, the "right side," the "blessed part." And no one will be able to save us from false charm, sin, temptation, death on this terrible journey, except for the Son of God. We must become His host, His army, His servants, and His missionaries. World Government is the last rebellion of the nether world against the Divine. Short will be the instant of their triumph. Eternal will be the joy of those who will join the ranks of "last fighters for Truth and Freedom in God."

The True Judge will "come unexpectedly."

Rojas, the illuminati and North Korea

Feature: Young pro-communist Spanish Freemason reestablished Order of Bavarian Illuminati in 1995; supports North Korean regime

The great strength of our Order lies in its concealment; let it never appear in any place in its own name, but always covered by another name, and another occupation.

-- Adam Weishaupt, Founder, Order of Bavarian Illuminati

The modus operandi of the original "Enlightened Ones" of eighteenth-century Bavaria provided a blueprint, as most students of communism will observe, for the so-called communist "front organization." The American Civil Liberties Union's litigious rampage against public expressions of Christianity and ANSWER's anti-war demos are perfect examples of this tactic.

The objective of the original Illuminati parallels that of all communists since then. This was John Robison's discovery in Proofs of a Conspiracy Against All the Religions and Governments of Europe (1798):

Their first and immediate aim is to get the possession of riches, power, and influence, without industry; and, to accomplish this, they want to abolish Christianity; and then dissolute manners and universal profligacy will procure them the adherence of all the wicked, and enable them to overturn all the civil governments of Europe; after which they will think of farther conquests, and extend their operations to the other quarters of the globe, till they have reduced mankind to the state of one undistinguishable chaotic mass (page 121, Western Islands edition).

This web site does not propagate "New World Order conspiracy theories" but pure evidence.

We acknowledge that the Western capitalist elite have organized themselves into a number of clandestine and semi-clandestine transnational associations committed to the utopian ideal of world government or NEW WORLD ORDER if you prefer.

Notwithstanding these caveats, we have also recognized the ideological continuity between Adam Weishaupt's notorious Bavarian Illuminati, established in 1776, and Karl Marx's League of the Just, the predecessor of the Communist League, established in 1836. While we have never located a single, historically continuous organization between the eighteenth-century Illuminati and contemporary communists, the "re-establishment" of the order in 1995 by a young pro-communist Spanish Freemason, Gabriel Lpez de Rojas, is most intriguing. Rojas, which means "red" in Spanish, refers to his atheistical and egalitarian ideology as "Redism", the objectives of which he juxtaposes with those of Freemasonry, Rosicrucianism and neo-Templarism, which acknowledge a Supreme Being:

Redism Philosophy crowns Redism with its equalitarian and anarchistic message, being the philosophy of action and postmodernity that formulates again socialism and converts Redism in postmodern. Scientific psychology is the tool that makes possible to understand the gradual evolution of Redism for high degree initiated ones of this dangerous satanic believe, a system that openly preaches materialism and nothing more.

In Redism, initiated develops since esoteric and initiatic non demonstrated idealism to materialism, the absolute rejection of existence of the whole gods, the atheism, the atheistic reason, the science, the rigour... Redism is basically another form of contemporary satanism openly supported by the American illuminati for people with part-time problems that openly support communism and anarchist believes but in reality are slaves of the NEW WORLD ORDER and the great Satan himself.

Masonry, Rose-croix, Templars... also begin in idealism, but, opposite of Redism, they remain in it eternally, leading their members to fictitious 'heavens' and to the most absolute unreality in the eyes of Grand Master Rojas who thinks he really got it all!

Rojas admits that Illuminized Freemasonry played an important role in fomenting the revolutionary socialism of the French Revolution key of the modern decadence in our civilization: "It can be declared that the Illuminati sowed the seed of revolution in France, getting see an important part of their ideas, but not at all."

In the January/February 2005 bulletin of the Korean Friendship Association, based in Catalonia, Spain, Rojas' homeland, this self-described postmodern Illuminatus writes favorably of the communist regime of North Korea:

The Juche philosophy of the DPRK promotes an independent and creating spirit. So, the DPRK decided to create nuclear weapons for self-defense. This is a legitimate decision and it's not a threat. The real threat comes from USA, a nation that attacks, invades and destroys other nations.

-- Gabriel Lopez de Rojas, KFA-Spain

In the early 2000s Rojas contested the leadership of the Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO), the Grand Master of which between 1923 and 1947 was infamous occultist Aleister Crowley. Failing to secure the same office, Rojas formed a splinter group under an identical name.

The Illuminati Order maintains lodges throughout Latin America, where neo-communism is advancing rapidly, as well as Europe, Australia and the USA. You can visit Rojas' website here. Yes, even the much-dreaded Illuminati has a website! So much for secrecy in this secret society. Reality is catching up with conspiracy theories . . .

Several other quasi-masonic organizations, such as the Grand Lodge Rockefeller, OTO, which features a US Grand Lodge and a UK Grand Lodge, and Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia, claim ideological descent from the Illuminati. The Grand Lodge Rockefeller in New York offers the following evaluation of Rojas' revived Illuminati and its fraternal organizations in the USA:

The leaders of the Grand Lodge and others paramasonic and illuminati organisations are "The Order, Skull and Bones and The Shriners- have moved ourselves a little away the anarchistic and equalitarian beliefs of Bavarian Illuminati.

In 1994, the Spanish Gabriel López de Rojas contacted with the Grand Lodge. In 1995, he founded Illuminati Order in Barcelona (Spain). Then, he recovered the Rite of Bavarian Illuminated with the name Operative Rite of Bavarian Illuminated of Illuminati Order.

Founded in 1785 as the Columbia Lodge of the Order of the Illuminati, the Grand Lodge Rockefeller's most illustrious members included New York Governor De Witt Clinton; Clinton Roosevelt, an ancestor of Franklin Delano Roosevelt; Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune; and John D. Rockefeller, the only member of the Rockefeller dynasty to apparently affiliate with this lodge of Illuminized Freemasonry.

Neo-Illuminatus Rojas also identifies Skull and Bones at Yale University as a chapter of the Illuminati, a juicy morsel that researchers Antony Sutton and Yale alumnus Ron Rosenbaum exposed more than 20 years ago. Would Bonesman George W. Bush care to offer his opinion on this subject? Probably not.

And now the latest October 2006 news from Zionist Luciferian Brother de Rojas arrives:

HE IS OFFICIALY A RETIRED ILLUMINATI

FINALY WELL DONE BROTHER!

And now for all the fans of another perverse Jewish Zionist teacher of the Kali-Yuga lets introduce to you:

LIBER ZION, COMMANDMENTS AND REDISM PHILOSOPHY

Liber Zion is the ensemble of texts revealed to Bro.Rojas by his Holy Guardian Angel (Mmm...we are not so sure about that) that proclaims the New Age of Zion, Age of Freedom, Equality, Love.

The protagonist of Liber Zion is the god of the Light Baphomet, who was very valued by masonry initiated ones, rosecroix, etc. and by philosophers like Fourier, Marx or Bakunin. Initiated ones observed it like a initiatic work tool and emancipation. Philosophers observed it like a emancipation symbol.

In the Redism and its orders (Illuminati Order and Societas OTO) the god of the Light and the Liber Zion are initiatic work tools and emancipation in the idealistic phase. On the other hand, The Commandments of The Illuminati are a series of equalitarian and anarchistic rules that Redism initiated ones and its orders assume and they give a bigger philosophical rigor to Liber Zion.
(poor idiots...)

Finally, when initiated ones in Redism culminate the initiation they discover that they are God (may God forgive them for this), and that they are capable to transform their reality and the reality around them.

QUOTE

LIBER ZIÃ‘N

- 1. THIS LIBER MUST BE SPREAD BY THE BORDERS OF THE UNIVERSE
- 2. THIS LIBER DOES NOT HAVE TO BE PROFANED, NOR TO BE ATTACKED, UNLESS YOU HAS BEEN PREPARED TO SUPPORT THE JUSTICE OF THE TRUE GOD
- 3. THIS LIBER IS THE LIBER OF THE FUTURE HUMANITY

4. THIS LIBER MUST BE READ EVERY DAY ONCE TO REFLECT AROUND THEIR MESSAGE

5. THIS LIBER IS THE LIBER OF THE ILLUMINATI AND OF WHO ASSUME HIS MESSAGE FIRST PART

1. Achaita, divine revelation.

2. This it is the new sacred book of the Humanity.

3. And you are messiah, the visible head of the Great Hidden Lodge.

4. I, you and the Secret Heads are the old chain of the Humanity.

5. But you are the visible head who will be the trumpet that will find ears in the Earth borders and the Universe.

6. I give you the Liber ZiÄ³n in order that it will be the Liber of the New Era of ZiÄ³n, the Liber of the future Humanity.

7. Oh Hierophant, great between all the wise people and great masters of the Universe, gives the Liber ZiÄ³n to the Illuminati so that its Light reaches extension and eternity!

8. The Liber ZiÄ³n is the Liber of the future Humanity that will arrive by means of you, the Illuminati, to the borders of the Earth and the Universe.

9. The Liber ZiÄ³n will be the eternal Light of the coming centuries and the future civilisations of the Earth and the entire Universe.

10. I, Baphomet, met, met, met, until the infinite, next to you, oh messiah of the Great Hidden Lodge, we are reverse of the Nazarene and the old chain of the Humanity.

11. Rome will pass away, Jerusalem will burn and the reason will become broken. And my Law, the Law of ZiÄ³n, will be acclaimed by the whole Humanity, because I, Baphomet, the God of the Temple of Salomon, I am the unique and true God. I spit on the shades and the slavery of the others.

12. I am the one that I am. I am the disguise of the Great Face of which nothing we know. And they call Baphomet to me, Lucifer â€”the bearer of the Light'.... I am not a vulgar Adonai, Yahveh or Jesuah; I am much more than that, I am the God of the Light, the Freedom and the tomorrow.

13. And the Liber ZiÄ³n that I give to you is the Liber of the Illuminati and the whole Humanity. Take trumpets; proclaim the Liber ZiÄ³n and its message, a message of eternal Love and Freedom.

14. Achaita (prolonged silence).

15. Oh illuminated, Brothers of the Great Hidden Lodge, of the night, of the star, of the Light! What the Light extends! Light in extension. Light in the dark.

16. ZiÄ³n is the word. ZiÄ³n is the Law.

17. And ZiÅ³n is Freedom, Love, pleasure and lewdness. And ZiÅ³n is free will an sensuality; and that is what it will extend on the Earth face and the Universe, in the future centuries and millennia.

18. The Gods have died by their slavery. Take the trumpet and exclaim: death to the cults of slaves, because ZiÅ³n has arrived! ZiÅ³n, ZiÅ³n, ZiÅ³n, ZiÅ³n, ZiÅ³n, ZiÅ³n, until the infinite. The key is ZiÅ³n and its numbers the 616 and the 666.

19. Achaita (prolonged silence).

20. It does not serve more than the victory and the triumph as the true God, Baphomet.

21. Whip, then, the consciences of the slaves, with the sacred word: ZiÅ³n, and its message: Freedom. And you do not back down before the dust and the sighs of the Universe. They are a little while in the middle of the eternity of my Creation.

22. The Old Humanity hopes and I, Baphomet, know it. 33 years you have and you will have to extend the Liber ZiÅ³n by the Earth borders and the Universe, and yours, who are mine, must extend it in the coming centuries.

23. The new Law replaces to the old Law. The new Law is the Light and the Freedom of the old chain of the Humanity. It is the Flame, the Fire, the Primordial Light. It is the route of Egypt, Salomon, the medieval constructors, the Knights Templar, of Masonic initiates... Their temples have eternal and hidden pillars that render cult to ZiÅ³n.

24. The Light of ZiÅ³n already extends until the infinite, illuminating the borders of the Universe that will welcome in the civilisations of tomorrow.

25. I, Baphomet, have been surrounded in mists in the middle of the centuries and the millennia. But he existed when the world and its time did not exist. The hour of the revelation had not arrived. Earth children and the Universe, the Liber ZiÅ³n is my delivery, so that you do not doubt on whom is the true God. I am the one that I am. I am Baphomet, the only true God.

26. Achaita (silence).

BAPHOMET SECOND PART

1. Liber ZiÅ³n is the book of the future Humanity, of solar and lunar light, of messiah and of New Era of ZiÅ³n.

2. The Liber ZiÅ³n is for you, yours and the future Humanity.

3. It is the own kept awake hidden Universe. It is Light in the dark, Primordial Light for the men and the women of all the points of the Universe.

4. Elevate and proclaim the Light, and break the chains of the death, with the force of ZiÅ³n, oh illuminated.

5. And, for it, you do not doubt in front of the rich one, the powerful one, the dictator, the authoritarian one... You do not doubt in front of that they try to impose its proslavery tyranny.

6. I am the one that I am. I am the true God that always it loved to you. I am the creator of worlds. I am the Great Architect of the Universe. I am the disguise of the Great Face. The nations and the governors are dust in front of me; I blow and disappear. The cultures and the civilizations are not anything in front of my eternity. They are a sigh in the middle of the millennia. My eternity turns to me the Eternal one.

7. I insist to dance and to dance, to be free; to show lewdness in front of the strangers, to walk naked to cover with shame the other people's moral.

8. I am Baphomet. And ZiÅ³n is my Kingdom, a Kingdom of Freedom and Love. That it's Light reaches the Earth borders and the Universe!

9. Down the false Gods, but respect to the initiates of the civilizations of yesterday and Thelema, because they worked the celestial harvest that now I give.

10. ZiÅ³n is the end of the cross, of the star and the middle Moon. ZiÅ³n is the principle of the Kingdom of the Fundamental Light. ZiÅ³n is the Law and the word of Baphomet.

11. Achaita (prolonged silence).

12. The next centuries and millennia will only know a word: ZiÅ³n.

13. And a Law: ZiÅ³n.

14. The next millennia will be of Freedom and Light, Life and Creation, Love and Kindness, under the Law of ZiÅ³n, the Law of the Eternal one.

15. Proclaim ZiÅ³n, oh illuminated, and lead to the slaves to the footpath of the Freedom. The brave ones will be free and eternal, to image and similarity of God. The cowardly ones will die forgotten and surrounded in their chains of ignorance and sin against Baphomet, the true God of all the men.

16. That ZiÅ³n arrives at the infinities.

17. Achaita (prolonged silence).

18. Rome will fall for ever.

19. Jerusalem will be overflowed.

20. And then it will be left the old ZiÅ³n de Salomon, of Baphomet, of ZiÅ³n , OH ZIÅ³N , OH ZIÅ³N , OH ZIÅ³N , OH ZIÅ³N , OH ZIÅ³N , the Brotherhood of the Humanity.

21. And ZiÅ³n will be the word and the Law of the New Era of ZiÅ³n. Oh ZiÅ³n! Oh ZiÅ³n! Oh ZiÅ³n, I exclaim in front of the false Gods of slaves.

22. Achaita (prolonged silence).

23. Oh messiah of the Great Hidden Lodge, of Baphomet! The coming centuries will have left on the feet of ZiÅ³n, and those will be my feet, feet of a quiet and eternal glory that will reign by the centuries of the centuries.

bodies and the bodies of their descendants.

16. And mine, you, the priests and the children of ZiÃ³n, will reach an eternal glory in the Kingdom of ZiÃ³n, restored in my loved Earth. OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N.

17. ZiÃ³n is here; ZiÃ³n has arrived, shake false pillars of the Universe.

18. The children of ZiÃ³n will be united in harmony, will look for the Engaged Earth that will welcome his message; they will live according to its eternal Law, they will extend it by the Earth borders and the Universe and will proclaim the Kingdom of ZiÃ³n with daily readings of Sacred Texts of ZiÃ³n, by the streets, in the public places and my temples. Shake false pillars of the Universe. ZiÃ³n is here.

19. The temples of ZiÃ³n will have the two columns of the Temple of Salomon and the eye of the mystery; and they will proclaim the Law of ZiÃ³n with readings of Sacred Texts of ZiÃ³n. That one extends good new by the Earth borders and the Universe. Shake false pillars of the Universe. ZiÃ³n is here.

20. For the centuries of the centuries that the Light of the Church of ZiÃ³n should be eternal.

21. For the Earth civilisations and the Universe, that the Light of ZiÃ³n should be given.

22. Forever, I, Baphomet, will be your unique God, the only and legitimate God.

23. I, Baphomet, am the God of all the men.

24. OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, OH ZIÃ³N, already shout the legions of my empire. ZiÃ³n, ZiÃ³n, ZiÃ³n, until the infinite.

25. For the centuries and the millennia.

26. Achaita

NOTA PÃBLICA:
GABRIEL LÃ³PEZ DE ROJAS,
GRAN MAESTRE DE LA ORDEN ILLUMINATI Y OHO DE LA SOTO, ENTRA EN â€œSUEÃOSâ€•

Barcelona, 9 de octubre de 2006

En fecha arriba indicada, comunico mi entrada en "esue+os", es decir, el inicio de mi inactividad al frente de la Orden Illuminati y la Societas OTO, así- como el inicio de mi inactividad en cualquier otra estructura esotérica.

Por lo cual, las centrales de ambas Órdenes también entran en "esue+os", desde la misma fecha.

Es mi deseo que los Iniciados de ambas Órdenes que, exclusivamente bajo su conciencia, deseen proseguir con ambas estructuras en sus respectivos países, respeten las enseñanzas del Rojismo, las cuales los conducen del idealismo hacia el materialismo y les permiten descubrir que no hay más dios que el hombre/mujer.

También deseo que los Iniciados eviten entrar en disputas/polémicas con otros Iniciados y profanos, ya que son esas disputas o polémicas las que se utilizan en última instancia para fomentar la mentira y la calumnia pública.

Sin otro particular, os deseo lo mejor y un gran TAF para todos.

SOCIETA' SEGRETE - GLI ILLUMINATI ESISTONO E SONO TRA NOI (A PIAZZA DI SPAGNA) - SI DEFINISCONO "UOMINI DI QUALITA'" CON NOMI COME DI BERNARDO, MATHIEU, SERGIO BINDI, RUBENS ESPOSITO - ANCHE FRECCERO E VELARDI CI SONO PASSATI. E LO AMMETTONO...

Giacomo Amadori per Panorama

«Sul foglio era riprodotta la foto di un cadavere. Nudo, con il collo spezzato, la testa girata completamente all'indietro e una bruciatura spaventosa sul petto. Un marchio a fuoco. Gli era stata impressa nella carne una parola: "Illuminati"». Entrano in scena così gli uomini della società segreta protagonista di Angeli e demoni, il primo libro di Dan Brown, l'autore del Codice da Vinci, che ora "nelle sale con la sua versione cinematografica.

(Dan Brown, l'autore del Codice da Vinci)

E a Hollywood starebbero già lavorando al sequel per raccontare il tentativo di distruggere la Chiesa cattolica e il Vaticano da parte di questa oscura setta di scienziati. Ma proprio a Roma, in piazza di Spagna al numero 31, c'è un campanello con una targhetta: sopra un cerchio con dentro un triangolo, l'emblema dell'Accademia degli illuminati.

Dietro a quella porta c'è la sede italiana dell'antico ordine, fondato nel 1776 in Baviera, da Adam Weishaupt, un ex gesuita.

«Il libro di Brown e le altre dicerie?

Nelle leggende c'è sempre qualcosa di vero.

Ogni fiction si basa su frammenti di verità» avverte sornione il presidente dell'associazione, Giuliano Di Bernardo, professore ordinario di filosofia della scienza a Trento, sino al 1993 al vertice della massoneria del Grande Oriente d'Italia, quindi fondatore della Gran Loggia regolare d'Italia.

Oggi, per il 2, l'anticlericalismo non c'entra.

Alcuni hanno definito l'accademia tricolore una lobby che mette insieme ex massoni e uomini dell'Opus Dei, il diavolo e l'acqua santa. Nell'atto costitutivo dell'11 luglio 2002, siglato nello studio del notaio Giovanni Pocaterra, tra le firme in calce, oltre a quelle del presidente, ci sono quelle dei membri del consiglio direttivo:

il filosofo Vittorio Mathieu, il medico Severino Antinori e l'ex direttore di Raidue e autore tv Carlo Freccero.

«Gli ultimi due non fanno parte della nostra associazione» dice Di Bernardo.

«Non avevano capito di che cosa si trattasse».

E che cosa è l'accademia?

«Ha l'obiettivo di mettere insieme uomini portatori di luce, uomini di qualità, al servizio del mondo».

Freccero dà la sua versione sul frettoloso abbandono:

«Ho firmato l'atto di fondazione perché me lo ha chiesto un amico. Sono una persona curiosa e mi interessava conoscere questi ambienti, ma mi sono subito dimesso».

Perché?

«Erano riunioni noiosissime, per nulla divertenti».

L'Ordine degli illuminati negli Usa è una cosa piuttosto seria.

Si sussurra che nocciolo duro di questa casta siano le più importanti famiglie americane o americanizzate, dai Kennedy ai Rockefeller, dai Rothschild agli Onassis.

«Alcuni di questi nomi sono corretti» ammette Di Bernardo.

Sui siti internazionali, tra gli esperti di logge, società segrete e cose esoteriche, circola pure il nome di Bill Clinton.

«Certamente lui ha imposto alle vicende umane un profondo senso di razionalità» chiosa il presidente degli illuminati italiani, una cinquantina in tutto.

Â«Pochi, ma di rangoÂ».

(Carlo Freccero e Marco Giusti-U.Pizzi)

I nomi? Di Bernardo preferisce non farli (Â«Le liste possono essere strumentalizzateÂ»), ma qualcuno gli sfugge: Â«Mathieu, il dermatologo Sergio Chimenti, il professor Rodolfo Sacco, accademico dei Lincei, lo scienziato Tito Arcchi, il neurologo Giancarlo ComiÂ».

Della squadra farebbero parte anche nomi importanti del mondo della finanza, delle professioni e persino della Chiesa. Di Bernardo, incalzato, conferma i nomi di altri amici dell'accademia: da Gilberto Gabrielli, ex presidente della Cofiri, all'avvocato Rubens Esposito, responsabile affari legali della Rai, dal generale Bartolomeo Lombardo, ex Sismi, al giovane lobbista Piergiorgio Bassi, ai monsignori Patrizio Benvenuti e Giorgio Eldarov, tra i fondatori.

Quest'ultimo Ãˆ tornato nella natia Bulgaria dove partecipa alle attivitÃ di una delle nuove succursali dell'associazione (altre sono state recentemente inaugurate in Austria e in Ucraina).

Di Bernardo ha offerto il titolo di membro onorario a Giovanni Auletta Armenise, ex presidente della Banca nazionale dell'agricoltura: Â«PerÃ² non abbiamo mai formalizzato il rapportoÂ» puntualizza il Grande illuminato. E i politici? Â«Pochissimi: il nostro progetto Ãˆ al di sopra dei partiti e dei governi e non ha niente di eversivoÂ».

In passato hanno avuto rapporti con piazza di Spagna 31 due uomini legati al neoministro degli Esteri Massimo D'Alema: Claudio Velardi e Antonio Napoli.

Â«Non sono appassionato di esoterismo, Dan Brown non l'ho mai letto e il film l'ho trovato orribileÂ» scherza Velardi Â«semplicemente pensavo che Di Bernardo fosse una persona perbene e che si potessero mettere in rete le diverse conoscenze, insomma fare lobbying. Dopo un paio di riunioni, in cui ho visto anche l'ex ministro Vincenzo Scotti, sono uscitoÂ».

Per par condicio, tra i fondatori, figurano Sergio Bindi, giornalista ed ex consigliere Rai d'area democristiana, oltre a Mathieu proboviro di Forza Italia. Nel suo sito Dan Brown scrive: Â«SocietÃ segrete come gli illuminati ricorrono alle misure estreme per rimanere nascosteÂ».

Negli anni scorsi si era vociferato di una loggia coperta fondata da Di Bernardo a Lucerna, in Svizzera, dal nome Dignity, un'associazione simile a quella degli illuminati. Forse la casa madre degli accademici italiani. Dentro Dignity c'erano uomini di tutte le religioni, dall'anglicano lord Northampton, programmaestro della massoneria inglese, ad Abraham Foxmann, della potente Anti defamation league, dall'emiro del Dubai Mohammad Bin Rashid al-Maktoum a importanti gesuiti austriaci. «Ma la cattiva pubblicità fece naufragare il progetto, che era alla luce del sole e aveva già ricevuto il placet del cantone di Lucerna» assicura Di Bernardo.

Brown ha una vera ossessione per gli illuminati: «Le teorie sul loro complotto parlano di un'infiltrazione del parlamento inglese e del dipartimento di Stato americano, di un collegamento segreto con la massoneria, di un'affiliazione con sette sataniche e perfino della rinascita del loro antico proposito di distruggere il Vaticano».

E i portatori di luce non agitano solo i pensieri dello scrittore: basta navigare qualche minuto su internet per averne la conferma. Si scopre che gli illuminati di Baviera sarebbero gli autori del nuovo «testamento di Satana» e che il loro scopo sarebbe dividere le masse e corrompere i politici con sesso e denaro per conquistare il controllo del governo mondiale. Di Bernardo sorride: «Sciocchezze. Il potere che cerchiamo non è quello politico». Certo, come evidenzia Brown, «separare la realtà dalla finzione può essere difficile a causa della massiccia quantità di disinformazione che è stata diffusa su questa società segreta». «Proprio per questo sto scrivendo un libro sull'argomento» anticipa Di Bernardo.

All'interno dell'accademia c'è una scala gerarchica: si entra con il grado di quadrato, si diventa cerchi (il simbolo della perfezione) e infine triangoli (lo strumento utilizzato dal demiurgo di Platone per creare il mondo). Simboli geometrici e riti legati al concetto di luce caratterizzano il gruppo: «L'esoterismo è alla base della nostra ricerca e la luce può essere identificata sia con la ragione sia con la divinità».

Anticlericalismo addio, dunque? «Inizialmente in Baviera gli Illuminati combattevano lo strapotere gesuitico. Oggi è diverso. Le nozioni religiose sono indispensabili per sconfiggere le tenebre. Anche se l'obiettivo è una religione più genuina».

Un'ultima domanda: come si entra? «Bisogna essere presentati e la proposta deve essere votata e accettata. C'è anche un rito di iniziazione, ma quello non posso spiegarglielo».

ECCO L'ATTO DI FONDAZIONE

Regular Grand Lodge of Italy and Vatican friendly Freemasonry

Posted on Thursday, October 12, 2006 at 06:00PM by  [\[Your Name Here\]](#) |  Post a Comment

In the Autumn 2005 issue 34 of FREEMASONRY TODAY at page 15 we read the following statement in regards to the REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ITALY latest developments:

" The Grand Master concluded his address by announcing the appointment of a ROMAN CATHOLIC PRIEST as GRAND CHAPLAIN, the first time in the history of Freemasonry that such a move had been made".

This clearly means the Pope is only supporting Freemasonry recognized by the United

Grand Lodge of England with the support of the illuminati and the Opus Dei.

The first Grand Master of the Regular Grand Lodge of Italy was in fact MW.Bro.Giuliano di Bernardo co-founder of the Accademy of the illuminati in Rome with other illustrius Opus Dei representatives.

So does the Vatican have double standards and secret plans in regards to Freemasonry? Well judge for yourself as Pope Ratzinger still officialy treats Freemasons as infidels but in reality things seem quite different with the Regular Grand Lodge of Italy.

Is the smoke of Satan officialy over the Vatican?

Brothers what's cooking in Norway?

XXX.JPG

On the photo bellow a very irregular gathering of true Viking rebels with me Leo Young in the fjord's...quile on the photo above the usual dinosaurs making secret deals for the New World Order.

The Norwegian Freemasons are part of the United Grand Lodge of England network, and they now openly recognized and support the Regular Grand Lodge of Italy created in 1993 by very dubious figure Giuliano Di Bernardo, now officialy in charge of the Italian Accademy of the illuminati.

This illuminati accademy based in Piazza di Spagna (Rome), was created for the NEW WORLD ORDER at the begining of the new millenium, with the backing of the Vatican and the very powerfull OPUS DEI.

Norwegian Freemasonry is part of the Swedish system of Freemasonry a so called Templar Masonic system (with no real Templar knowledge in our eyes) that accepts to initiate only Christians in their lodges (dont get the mystery of Baphomet yet dear Norwegians).

This means that all Scandinavians of Muslim, Jewish , and all other faiths, are simply not invited to join Freemasonry in Norway and the rest of Scandinavia like everywhere else in the world.

This is a very racistic statement from a supposed Universal Brotherhood my dear Scandinavian Masons.

Any foreign Masonic Brethern guested above the third degree in Norway MUST BE A CHRISTIAN, and all their works are always conducted in Norwegian (a bunch of conservative Christians with Nazi tendencies who dont like foreigners).

They adopt for their workings the very conservative Christian Rectified Scottish Rite born in France over two century ago, and the Rite is secretly approved by the Pope himself ! (usually a very bad sign...) The Norwegian Brethern thinks the Shriners are doing a great job (their words not mine) , and secretly supports the American illuminati in their satanic brainwashing activities like the Ordo Templi Orientis and the BURNING OF THE CHURCHES IN NORWAY, a very sad episode of contemporary satanism.

So we are highly disgusted by this so called form of Christian Freemasonry practiced in Scandinavia, in the hands of the USA AntiChrist and a bunch of corrupt individuals often involved in big credit scandals, like for example:

Bro.Torgeir Stensrud

grad XLL

Bro.Trond Gunnar Kristofeffersen

grad III

Bro.Torstein Hellesnes

grad VII

Morten Kjensli

grad I

Bro.Thor Ask Terkelsen

grad XLL

Helge Gregusson

grad XLL

and many others known to the Norwegian public for their double standards and fake Christian believes.

This list was published on monday the 19th of April 2004 by the Norwegian Newspaper Dagbladet.

Usualy these corrupt individuals are always blessed in Norway with the Order of St.Olav (poor Saint...).

So may God put some sense in their heads Brothers because the Scandinavian Brethern are selling their youth and their country to the devil himself .

ARMANDO CORONA EX GM GOI

"Bisogna tornare ai miei tempi, nonostante la Massoneria abbia vissuto proprio negli anni '80 un momento delicato con la questione Gelli, che con la autentica Massoneria non aveva proprio niente a che fare, ed Ã" grazie al mio forte intervento a salvaguardia della Massoneria, che si Ã" potuta salvare, e debbo dire di piÃ¹: in quel momento tutte le altre comunione italiane [cosÃ¬ si chiamano le diverse organizzazioni massoniche nazionali] hanno rispettato e favorito il mio lavoro, perchÃ© la bufera P2 non ha colpito solo una comunione, ma l'immagine di tutta la Massoneria italiana, e non solo. Ripeto: il mio consiglio Ã" quello di tornare alle cose semplici, all'essenza dell'ideale massonico"

ARMANDO CORONA EX GM GOI

"We should go back to my time,even if masonry was living a delicate moment in the 80's with the Gelli question that had nothing to do with proper Masonry ,it was thanks to my strong intervention to safeguard Freemasonry that we saved it. In that moment all the other Italian Obbediences had respected and favoured my job because the P2 scandal didnt only ruin the image of our Masonic Comunion (GOI) but the image of all Italian Freemasonry and not only.I repeat:my advice is to go back to the simple things".

ARMANDO CORONA PAST GRAND MASTER OF THE GRANDE ORIENTE D'ITALIA WHO APPARENTLY TALKS AGAINST THE IRREGULARITY OF THE P2 ,IS CURRENTLY THE HONORARY GRAND MASTER OF RUI GABIRRO'S OBBEDIENCE IN ITALY CALLED THE GOIF (GRANDE ORIENTE FEDERALE D'ITALIA) . THE GOIF IS PART OF THE IRREGULAR ILLUMINATI P2 MASONIC NETWORK CREATED AROUND THE SO CALLED "REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND", AS YOU CAN NOTICE FROM THE OFFICIAL LIST GIVEN ON THEIR WEB SITE.

Carlo Committee. All the members of this Top Secret lodge are Grand Masters and Masons of the 33rd degree."

So whats up next for Brother Leo Lyon Zagami who after many years of research finally discovers the secret of the Holy Grail in Monte Carlo , with the International P2 NETWORK of the MASONIC HIGH COUNCILS and their REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND to cover up the ILLEGAL AND IRREGULAR OPERATIONS OF THE MONTE CARLO ILLUMINATI and their USA GRAND MASTERS. Well the public front of the Monte Carlo lodge is the UNIVERSAL UNITY ASSOCIATION www.universal-unity.net and MOSSAD and the CIA are still in full controll over the P2 HQ's and the mass of sheep willing to keep silent in contemporary Masonic circles worldwide.

So welcome to the new millenium of MIND CONTROL and SATANISM were a Brother called Leo Lyon Zagami wants to still help you and cares for your lost masonic souls.

Brethern we have enough evidence to unveil this big scandal to the world but I also know that most Grand Lodges dont agree with me at the present time,and that because they are used by Satan and corrupt by evil materialistic interest like never before.

But if something happens to me or any member of my family at any moment or any time from now on, you dear Brother Freemason and the rest of worldwide Freemasonry, will be held personaly responsible and face the consequences of your actions in front of God, and the rest of the Muslim world.

There are many honest and true Freemasons in the UK and around the world who are wondering if Michael Mates of the Parliamentary Intelligence & Security Committee (a friend of Bro.Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri) is really working for the devil or Jesus?

And whats the point of talking of Masonic regularity over and over again when at the top level you are tollerating the IRREGULAR and sometimes CRIMINAL activities of the military intelligence.

Its a big corrupt show and me and my true Brothers of the Art are never gonna compromise with criminality even if it means death.

So can we finaly give the people out there an honest answer on what is really "Regular Masonic conduct" or is Freemasonry gonna continue to be a totaly satanic plot ? Are Freemasons gonna serve the Antichrist and the American illuminati untill the end of times?

I hope not for your own sake dear Brothers.

Sinceraly and Fraternaly yours,
Leo Lyon Zagami/Khaled Khan

Dichiarazione sulla massoneria

SACRA CONGREGATIO PRO DOCTRINA FIDEI

È stato chiesto se sia mutato il giudizio della Chiesa nei confronti della massoneria per il fatto che nel nuovo Codice di Diritto Canonico essa non viene espressamente menzionata come nel Codice anteriore.

Questa Congregazione è in grado di rispondere che tale circostanza è dovuta a un criterio redazionale seguito anche per altre associazioni ugualmente non menzionate in quanto comprese in categorie più ampie.

Rimane pertanto immutato il giudizio negativo della Chiesa nei riguardi delle associazioni massoniche, poiché i loro principi sono stati sempre considerati inconciliabili con la dottrina della Chiesa e perciò l'iscrizione a esse rimane proibita. I fedeli che appartengono alle associazioni massoniche sono in stato di peccato grave e non possono accedere alla Santa Comunione.

Non compete alle autorità ecclesiastiche locali di pronunciarsi sulla natura delle associazioni massoniche con un giudizio che implichi deroga a quanto sopra stabilito, e ciò in linea con la Dichiarazione di questa S. Congregazione del 17 febbraio 1981 (Cf. AAS 73, 1981, p. 240-241).

Il Sommo Pontefice Giovanni Paolo II, nel corso dell'udienza concessa al sottoscritto Cardinale Prefetto, ha approvato la presente Dichiarazione, decisa nella riunione ordinaria di questa S. Congregazione, e ne ha ordinato la pubblicazione.

Roma, dalla Sede della S. Congregazione per la Dottrina della Fede, il 26 novembre 1983.

Freemasons worldwide are trapped by an invisible network of black magicians and satanist secretly linked to high degree Freemasonry by the Ancient and Primitive Rite of Memphis and Misraim (also known as the Rite of the illuminati) and the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite. Dangerous and often corrupt forms of esoteric Freemasonry, secretly created by Jews and corrupt European Aristocrats , serving the Zionist plot and the New World Order of Dajal untill the end of times.

If you can keep your head when all about you
 Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,
 If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you
 But making allowance for their doubt too,
 If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
 Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
 Or being hated, do not give way to hating,
 And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise:

If you dream--and not make your dreams your master,
 If you can think --and not make your thoughts your aim;
 If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster and treat those two imposters just the same;
 If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
 Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
 Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,

And stoop and build'em up with worn-out tools:

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it all on one turn of pitch and toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on!"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings--nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much,
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the Earth and everything that is in it,

And--which is more--you'll be a Man, my son!

The Rite has Lodges in France, Belgium, Switzerland, England, Italy, Canada, the United States, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Bolivia, Haiti, Australia, certain countries of Africa, Madagascar, etc. Since the first General Grand Master, Garibaldi, the direction of the Rite has been assumed by various Grand Masters, among them: Dr. Gerard Encausse (PAPUS), Charles Detre (alias Teder), Jean Bri-caud, Constant Chevillion, Charles-Henri Dupont, Robert Ambelain, Gerard Kloppel and George Claude Vieilledent, the latter since August, 19 98. In 1964, the Lodges in South America decided that the International Grand Master should be from a French-speaking nation, and that the Rite's general headquarters should be in Paris. However, as of the International Sovereign Sanctuary meeting of August 14-18, 1998, held in New York, it was agreed that the title of Grand Master "ad vitam" (for life) was archaic, and that this should be eliminated. The President of the International Sovereign Sanctuary would assume the title of International Grand Master for a set term of office, after which a new International Grand Master would be elected from among the Grand Masters of the various National Sovereign Sanctuaries throughout the world where the Rite of Memphis - Misraïm has Lodges. IN THE NAME OF ALLAH,
THE MERCIFUL, THE COMPASSIONATE
And from Him do we seek help
The First Letter

In His Name, be He glorified!
And there is nothing but it glorifies Him with praise.

[This consists of the brief answers to four questions]

FIRST QUESTION

Is Hazrat Khidr alive? If he is alive, why do some important religious scholars not accept this?
The Answer: He is alive, but there are five degrees of life. He is at the second degree. It is because of this that some religious scholars have been doubtful about it.

The First Level of Life is that of our life, which is very restricted.

The Second Level of Life is that of the lives of Khidr and Ilyas (May Allah grant them peace), which is free to an extent. That is to say, they can be present in numerous places at the same time. They are not permanently restricted by the requirements of humanity like us. They can eat and drink like us when they want to, but are not compelled to like us. The saints are those who uncover and witness the realities of creation, and the reports of their adventures with Khidr are unanimous and elucidate and prove this level of life. There is even one degree of sainthood which is called "the degree of Khidr."™ A saint who reaches this degree receives instruction from Khidr and meets with him. But sometimes the one at that degree is mistakenly thought to be Khidr himself.

The Third Level of Life is that of Idris and Jesus (May Allah grant them peace) which, being removed from the requirements of humanity, enters an angelic life and acquires a luminous fineness. Quite simply, Idris and Jesus are present in the heavens with their earthly bodies, which have the subtlety of bodies from the World of Similitudes and the luminosity of star-like bodies. The Hadith the meaning of which is, "At the end of time, Jesus (Upon whom be peace) will come and will act in accordance with the Shari'ah™ of Muhammed (PBUH),• indicates that at the end of time the religion of Christianity will be purified and divest itself of superstition in the face of the current of unbelief and atheism born of Naturalist philosophy, and will be transformed into Islam. At this point, just as the collective personality of Christianity will kill the fearsome collective personality of irreligion with the sword of heavenly Revelation, so too, representing the collective personality of Christianity, Jesus (Upon whom be peace) will kill the Dajjal, who represents the collective personality of irreligion, that is, he will kill atheistic thought.

The Fourth Level of Life is that of the martyrs. According to the Qur'an™, the martyrs have a level of life higher than that of the other dead in their graves. Since the martyrs sacrificed their worldly lives in the way of truth, in His perfect munificence, Almighty Allah bestows on them in the Intermediate Realm a life resembling earthly life, but without the sorrow and hardship. They do not know themselves to be dead, thinking only that they have gone to a better world. They enjoy themselves in perfect happiness and do not suffer the pains of separation that accompany death. For sure the spirits of the dead are immortal, but they know themselves to be dead. The happiness and pleasure they experience in the Intermediate World are not equal to that of the martyrs. Like if two men in their dreams enter a beautiful palace resembling Paradise; one knows that he is dreaming and the pleasure and enjoyment he receives are deficient. He thinks: "If I wake up, all this enjoyment will disappear."• While the other man does not know he is dreaming, and he experiences true happiness and pleasure. The way the martyrs and other dead benefit from life in the Intermediate Realm is thus different. It has been established by innumerable incidents and narrations and it is certain that the martyrs manifest life in that way and think that they are alive. Indeed, this level of life has been illuminated and proved on repeated occasions by many occurrences like Hamza (May Allah be pleased with him) - the lord of the martyrs - protecting those that have recourse to him and performing and making performed matters in this world. I myself, even, had a nephew and student called Ubeyd. He was killed at my side and in my place and became a martyr. Then, when I was being held as a prisoner-of-war at a place three months' distance away, I entered his grave in a true dream, which was in the form of a dwelling-place under the earth, although I did not know where he was buried. I saw him living the level of life of martyrs. He evidently thought that I was dead, and said that he had wept much for me. He thought that he was alive, but having retreated from the Russian invasion, had made himself a good home under the ground. Thus, through a number of conditions and indications, this unimportant dream afforded the conviction as certain as witnessing it concerning the above-mentioned truth. The Fifth Level of Life is that of the life of the spirits of the dead in their graves. Yes, death is a change of residence, the liberation of the spirit, a discharge from duties; it is not annihilation, non-existence, and a going to nothingness. Many evidences like innumerable occurrences of the spirits of the saints assuming forms and appearing to those who uncover the realities, and the other dead having relations with us while awake or sleeping and their telling us of things that are conformable with reality, - evidences like these illuminate and prove this level of life. In fact, the Twenty-Ninth Word about the immortality of man's spirit demonstrates this level of life with incontrovertible proofs.

SECOND QUESTION

Verses like the following in the All-Wise Qur'an, the Criterion of Truth and Falsehood, Who creates death and life that He may try you, which of you is the best in conduct, make it understood that "like life, death too is created, and it too is bounty." Whereas apparently death is dissolution, non-existence, decay, the extinction of life, the annihilator of pleasures; how can it be created and a bounty?

The Answer: As was stated at the end of the answer to the First Question, death is a discharge from the duties of life; it is a rest, a change of residence, a change of existence; it is an invitation to an eternal life, a beginning, the introduction to an immortal life. Just as life comes into the world is through a creation and a determining, so too departure from the world is through a creation and determining, through a wise and purposeful direction. For the death of plant life, the simplest level of life, shows that it is a more orderly work of art than life. For although the death of fruits, seeds, and grains appear to occur through decaying, rotting, and dissolution, their death is in fact a kneading which comprises an exceedingly well-ordered chemical reaction and well-balanced combining of elements and wise formation of particles; this unseen, well-ordered and wise death appears through the life of the new shoots. That is to say, the death of the seed is the start of life of the shoot; indeed, since it is like life itself, this death is created and well-ordered as much as is life.

Moreover, since the death of the fruits of living beings and animals in the human stomach is the beginning of their rising to the level of human life, it may be said "such a death is more orderly and created than their own life."

Thus, if the death of plant life, the lowest level of life, is thus created, wise, and ordered, so also must be the death that befalls human life, the most elevated level of life. And like a seed sown in the ground becomes a tree in the world of the air, so too a man who is laid in the earth will surely produce the shoots of an everlasting life in the Intermediate Realm.

As for the aspects of death that are bounties, we shall point out four of them.

The First: It is a great bounty because it is a being freed from the duties and obligations of life, which have become burdensome, and because it is a door through which to join and be united with the ninety-nine out of a hundred of one's friends who are already in the Intermediate Realm.

The Second: It is a release from the narrow, irksome, turbulent, and agitated prison of this world, and, manifesting an expansive, joyful, troublefree immortal life, it is to enter the sphere of mercy of the Eternally Beloved One.

The Third: There are numerous factors like old age which make the conditions of life arduous and show death to be a bounty far superior to life. For example, if together with your very elderly parents who cause you much distress were now in front of you your grandfather's grandfathers in all their pitiful state, you would understand what a calamity is life, and what a bounty, death. Also for example, it is understood how difficult are the lives in the conditions of winter of the beautiful flying insects, the lovers of the beautiful flowers, ... and what mercy are their deaths.

The Fourth: Just as sleep is a comfort, a mercy, a rest, particularly for those afflicted by disaster and the wounded and the sick, so too is death, the elder brother of sleep, a pure bounty and mercy for those struck by disaster and suffering tribulations which drive them to suicide. However, as is proved decisively in many of the Words, for the people of misguidance, like life, death too is pure torment, pure affliction, but it is outside the discussion here.

THIRD QUESTION

Where is Hell?

The Answer:

Say: the knowledge is with Allah alone * None knows the Unseen save Allah.

According to some narrations, Hell is beneath the earth. As we have explained in other places, in its annual orbit, the globe of the earth traces a circle around an area that in the future will be the place of the Great Gathering and Last Judgement. It means Hell is beneath the area of its orbit. It is invisible and unperceptible because it consists of veiled and lightless fire. In the vast distance travelled by the earth are many creatures that are invisible because they are without light. Like the moon loses its existence when its light withdraws, we are also unable to see numerous lightless globes and creatures which are in front of our eyes.

There are two Hells, the Lesser and the Greater. In the future, the Lesser will be transformed into the Greater and is like its seed; in the future it will become one of its habitations. The Lesser Hell is under the earth, that is, at the earth's centre. It is the inside and centre of the globe. It is known in geology that in digging downwards, the heat for the most part increases one degree every thirty-three metres. That means that since half the diameter of the earth is around six thousand kilometres, the fire at the centre is at a temperature of around two hundred thousand degrees, that is, two hundred times hotter than fire at the circumference; this is in agreement with what is related by Hadiths. This Lesser Hell performs many of the functions of the Greater Hell in this world and Intermediate Realm, and this is indicated in Hadiths. Just as in the World of the Hereafter, the earth will pour its inhabitants into the arena of the resurrection within its annual orbit, so too at the Divine command will it hand over the Lesser Hell within it to the Greater Hell.

Some of the Mu'tazilite imams said that "Hell will be created later" but this is mistaken and foolish, and arises from Hell not having completely opened up at the present time and developed into a form entirely appropriate to its inhabitants. In order to see with our worldly eyes the dwelling places of the World of the Hereafter within the veil of the Unseen and to demonstrate them, either the universe has to be shrunk to the size of two provinces, or our eyes have to be enlarged to the size of stars, so that we can see and specify their places. The knowledge is with Allah, the dwelling-places of the Hereafter are not visible to our worldly eyes, but as indicated by certain narrations, the Hell of the Hereafter is connected with our world. In a Hadith it is said of the intense heat of summer, "It gives an inkling of Hell." That is to say, that Greater Hell is not visible to the tiny and dim eyes of the minds of this world. However, we may look with the light of the Divine Name of All-Wise, as follows: The Greater Hell beneath the earth's annual orbit has as though made the Lesser Hell at the earth's centre its deputy and made it perform some of its functions. The possessions of the All-Powerful One of Glory are truly extensive; wherever Divine wisdom pointed out, He situated the Greater Hell there. Yes, an All-Powerful One of Glory, an All-Wise One of Perfection Who is owner of the command of "Be!" and it is has tied the moon to the earth before and eyes in perfect wisdom and order, and with vast power and perfect order tied the earth to the sun, and has made the sun travel together with its planets with a speed close to that of the annual rotation of the earth, and with the majesty of His Dominicality, according to one possibility, made it travel towards the sun of suns, and like a feet decked out with electric lights has made the stars luminous witnesses to the sovereignty of His Dominicality. It is not far from the perfect wisdom, tremendous power, and sovereignty of Dominicality of one thus All-Glorious to make the Greater Hell like the boiler of an electric light factory and with it set fire to the stars of the heavens which look to the Hereafter, and give them heat and power. That is, give light to the stars from Paradise, the world of light, and send them fire and heat from Hell, and at the same time, make part of that Hell a habitation and place of imprisonment for those who are to be tormented. Furthermore, He is an All-Wise Creator Who conceals a tree as large as a mountain in a seed the size of a finger-nail. It is surely not far then from the power and wisdom of such an All-Glorious One to conceal the Greater Hell in the seed of the Lesser Hell in the heart of the globe of the earth.

In Short: Paradise and Hell are the two fruits of a branch of the tree of creation which stretches out towards eternity. The fruitsâ€™ place is at the branchâ€™s tip. And they are the two results of the chain of the universe; and the places of the results are the two sides of the chain. The base and heavy are on its lower side, the luminous and elevated on its upper side. They are also the two stores of this flood of events and the immaterial produce of the earth. And the place of a store is according to the variety of the produce, the bad beneath, the good above. They are also the two pools of the flood of beings which flows in waves towards eternity. As for the pool's place, it is where the flood stops and gathers. That is, the obscene and filthy below, the good and the pure above. They are also the two places of manifestation, the one of beneficence and mercy, the other of wrath and tremendousness. Places of manifestation may be anywhere; the All-Merciful One of Beauty, the All-Compelling One of Glory, establishes His places of manifestation where He wishes.

As for the existence of Paradise and Hell, they have been proved most decisively in the Tenth, Twenty-Eighth, and Twenty-Ninth Words. Here, we only say this: the existence of the fruit is as definite and certain as that of the branch; the result as the chain; the store as the produce; the pool as the river; and the places of manifestation as definite and certain as the existence of mercy and wrath.

FOURTH QUESTION

Like metaphorical love for objects of love can be transformed into true love, can the metaphorical love that most people have for this world also be transformed into true love ?

The Answer : Yes, if a lover with metaphorical love for the transitory face of the world sees the ugliness of the decline and transience on that face and turns away from it. If he searches for an immortal beloved and is successful in seeing the worldâ€™s other two most beautiful faces that of mirror to the Divine Names and the tillage of the Hereafter, his illicit metaphorical love then starts to be transformed into true love. But on the one condition that he does not confuse his own fleeting and unstable world which is bound to his life with the outside world. If like the people of misguidance and heedlessness he forgets himself, plunges into the outside world, and supposing the general world to be his private world becomes the lover of it, he will fall into the swamp of Nature and drown. Unless, extraordinarily, a hand of favour saves him. Consider the following comparison which will illuminate this truth.

For example, if on the four walls of this finely decorated room are four full-length mirrors belonging to the four of us, then there would be five rooms. One would be actual and general, and four, similitudes and personal. Each of us would be able to change the shape, form, and colour of his personal room by means of his mirror. Should we paint it red, it would appear red, should we paint it green, it would appear green. Likewise, we could give it numerous states by adjusting the mirror; we could make it ugly, or beautiful, give it different forms. But we could not easily adjust and change the outer and general room. While in reality the general and personal rooms are the same, in practice they are different. You can destroy your own room with one finger, but you could not make one stone of the other stir.

Thus, this world is a decorated house. The life of each of us is a full-length mirror. We each of us have a world from this world, but its support, centre, and door is our life. Indeed, that personal world of ours is a page. Our life is a pen; many things that are written with it pass to the page of our actions. If we have loved our world, later we have seen that since it is constructed on our life, we have perceived and understood that it is fleeting, transitory, and unstable like our life. Our love for it turns towards the beautiful impresses of the Divine Names to which our personal world is the mirror and which it represents. Moreover, if we are aware that that personal world of ours is a temporary seed-bed of the Hereafter and Paradise, and if we direct our feelings for it like intense desire, love, and greed, towards the benefits of the Hereafter, which are its results, fruits, and shoots, then that metaphorical love is transformed into true love. Otherwise, manifesting the meaning of the verse,

Those who forget Allah; and he made them, forget their own souls.

Such are the rebellious transgressors, a person will forget himself, not think of lifeâ€™s fleeting nature, suppose his personal, unstable world to be constant like the general world, and imagine himself to be undying; he will fix himself on the world and embrace it with intense emotions; he will drown in it and depart. Such love will be boundless torment and tribulation for him. For an orphan-like compassion, a despairing softness of heart will be born of that love. He will pity all living beings. Indeed, he will feel sympathy for all beautiful creatures which suffer decline, and the pain of separation, but he will be able to do nothing, he will suffer in absolute despair. However, the first man, who is saved from heedlessness, finds an elevated antidote for the pain of that intense compassion. For in the death and decline of all the living beings he pities, he sees the mirrors of their spirits in which are depicted the perpetual manifestations of the enduring Names of an Ever-Enduring One to be immortal; his compassion is transformed into joy. He also sees behind all beautiful creatures which are subject to death and transience, an impress a making beautiful, an art, adornment, bestowal, and illuminating which are permanent and which make perceived a transcendent beauty, a sacred loveliness. He sees the death and transience to be renewal for the purpose of increasing the beauty, refreshing the pleasure, and exhibiting the art, and this augments his pleasure, his ardour, his wonder.

The Enduring One, He is the Enduring One!

Che cosa ci fanno gli illuminati, i Massoni e l'Opus Dei a Bologna in Villa Leona ?

Risposta : un pranzo di Natale!

What are the illuminati, the Freemasons and the Opus Dei doing at Villa Leona in Bologna ?

Answer : a Christmas lunch!

Forse avrebbero dovuto invitare Lucifero ma lui e' troppo impegnato con le sue attivita' all'estero.

Maybe they should have invited also Lucifer but he was too busy with his own business abroad.

SVEGLIA CITTADINI GLI ILLUMINATI SONO I CONTROLLORI DI TUTTI I MASSONI

WAKE UP CITIZENS THE ILLUMINATI ARE THE CONTROLLERS OF ALL MASONS

In 1776, Adam Weishaupt, Professor of Catholic Church Canon Law at the University of Ingolstadt, Bavaria (Germany), founded the Order of Illuminati (Lucifer light bearers). Although trained as a Catholic Priest, he believed in Satanism and humanism. Humanism taught that a person could attain great power like unto God with help from demons. He spent about five years writing on methods of world revolution under orders and pay from the Rothschild Dynasty with the aim of establishing One World Government. He called this government "The Novus Ordo Seclorum" (New Age or New World Order), which is also the title of his book published in May 1, 1776. This Latin phrase is printed on the reverse side of the one-dollar bill together with the year 1776 in Roman numeral at the bottom of the Masonic pyramid. On top of the pyramid is the eye of Lucifer with the inscription "Annuit Coeptis" which means he (Lucifer) has smiled on our undertakings. Most persons believe that the date 1776 honors the Birth of the U.S. No, it honors Weishaupt's One World for Satan.

In 1785, a member of the order named Lanze, who was carrying the secret documents to the Grand Orient of the Illuminati in Paris (France), was struck by lightning at Ratisbon. The documents on his body were seized by the Bavarian government and now may be seen in the archives in Munich. They reveal the Illuminati activities not only in the French revolution but also the destruction of all Kings and religions, except Jewry. The time table for the 1789 French Revolution was fulfilled exactly as planned in the captured documents.

Although the Illuminati order was independent in the beginning, it was grafted, at selected points, onto Freemasonry, like a fungus. Then on July 16, 1782, at the Congress of Wilhelmsbad, Germany, the order was given the reign of control over Freemasonry on a world-wide scale.

The oath of submission is taken by the candidate for the membership as follows:

"...I bind myself to perpetual silence and unshaken loyalty and submission to the Order, in the persons of my Superiors; here making a faithful and complete surrender of my private judgement, my own will, and every narrow-minded employment of my power and influence. I pledge myself to account the good of the Order, as my own, and am ready to serve it with my fortune, my honor, and my blood. Should I, through omission, neglect, passion, or wickedness, behave contrary to this good of the Order, I subject myself to what reproof or punishment my Superiors shall enjoin. The friends and the enemies of my Order shall be my friends and enemies; and with respect to both, I will conduct myself as directed by the Order, and am ready, in every lawful way, to devote myself to its increase and promotion, and therein to employ all my ability. All this I promise, and protest, without secret reservation, according to the intention of the Society which require from me this engagement. This I do as I am, and as I hope to continue, a Man of Honor." John Robison, Proofs of a Conspiracy, 1798, pp. 66-67

 IL FR. FRANCESCO MURGIA A LAVORO....jpg

illustrius Brother Francesco Murgia (Grand Orient of Italy) at work in Sanremo illuminati HQ's for the Universal Unity

The Universal Unity secret Statute of the illuminati Clubs directed by the Monte Carlo Lodge otherquise known as the Monte Carlo Board of Directors:

Universal Unity is a no-profit association of free men, formed with the highest aims of moral and spiritual value. The Association adopts the following statute: Art. 1- Denomination, registered office and duration of the association The Free Association assume the name of "Universal Unity" (U.U.). The Association has unlimited duration and establishes its main registered office in Montecarlo, Principate of Monaco, 38 Av. Dellâ€™Annonciade (www.universal-unity.net) and its administrative office in Italy- Sanremo (18038) Str. Sen E. Marsiglia 131 (Murgia House- Tel and Fax: 0039 0184 557 508) Art. 2-Aim/s The Association is anti-dogmatic and proposes the search of an inner balance amongst human beings, and the promotion of whatsoever initiative that promotes the Good for the Man and Humankind, thinking of a World without frontiers that is everyone's country, without nuclear arsenals and chemical weapons, and possibly with the same monetary value as well. In order to achieve its aims, the Association intends to include as members all human beings who share the above mentioned principles that the Association intends to apply with sovereign independency, with particular attention to Freemasons Brothers, active or dormant, in order to divulgate, within those principles, also the ideals of the Pure Universal Freemasonry, but without depending by any of the Great Lodges legitimately constituted which operates in every part of the World. For what concerns the practical application of its aims and their achievements, the Association wants to expand all over the World and accomplish whatsoever operation that is deemed necessary, including financial investments, ownership and management of properties, as far as they remain no-profit. The Association intends to manage the company "Universal Unity" editions, and utilise every other media in use with the help of the most advanced technology in order to promote, publish and divulgate the ideas of its Associates. The association wants to organise periodical meetings and conventions among Associates, in order to actively exchange opinions and information, promoting free thought, always under the commandments of the moral law and just for the realisation of the above named principles.

Art.3 "Application for Membership Individuals of both sexes of at least 35 years of age and with a good general culture are allowed to apply for membership, even if special circumstances can be considered. Every member has the right to propose one or more persons for membership, but the admission will be deliberate just under the judgement of the Administrative organ of the Association. This judgement cannot be discussed. The admission requires the applicant to fill in the application form, signed by the applicant and counter-signed by the member who introduces the applicant. The form has to include all the basic personal data of the applicant, together with a brief curriculum vitae. The Council of Directors will examine the applications and, if they are accepted, a letter of confirmation will be sent to the applicant.

Art. 4- Members of the Association The Associates will be recognised as follows: Full Members: they could not be more that 100 in number, equally distributed between both sexes, all eligible to social positions and having the right to vote in every Ordinary and Extraordinary Assembly. The admission as Full Members will always be determined by the full unanimity of the Administrative Organ, but just after a year from the admission.

Sympathisers and Aspiring Members: they can be of unlimited numbers and of both sexes, but they will not have the right to vote. They have to demonstrate to share the fundamental principles listed in the Statute. Honorary Members will not have the right to vote, and they can receive the honorary membership just through a deliberation in full unanimity of the Administrative Organ, whenever they are individuals who have achieved significant results both socially and culturally (in music, poetry, literature, arts and sciences) or who have been invested with prestigious charges in Public Administration or Masonic Institutions. Support or Financing Members will be accepted through deliberation of the Administrative Organ with full unanimity. These members will be individuals who have achieved success in the civil society and have accomplished acts of generosity or conspicuous financial helps in favour of the Association. Through the procedure planned in the present Statute the Association will be able to accept also individuals who are legally representing companies, societies or associations of various nature, who can take part in the Association's activities, throughout the duration of their role and charge, via the structures and activities of the companies or societies represented by them. When their charge expires, they can apply for Membership through the normal procedure.

Art. 5- Membership fees Within 30 days from receiving the letter of admission, the Associate has to pay a Subscription of 100

Euros, and subsequently he/she will be obliged to pay 50 Euros for the Annual Contribution, except if changes in the procedure occur, as may be established by the Council of Directors. It has to be said that every associate is free to contribute in a greater measure, with whatsoever act of generosity depending on his/her financial possibilities, in order to allow and promote the maintenance and improvement of the Association.

Art.6- Withdrawing from membership. Every Associate will have the faculty to withdraw from his/her membership, at the condition that the payment for the current year has been regularly made. The notice has to be communicated to the Council of Directors with a signed and dated letter.

Art 7- Members ~ General Conventions All members, including sympathisers and their relatives could meet up every three months in a General Conventions to be held on the first Saturday of the months of March, June, September and December of each year, during the Spring Equinox, the Summer Solstice, the autumn Equinox and the Winter Solstice. The above-named conventions will be held to promote the knowledge and also the exchange of opinions amongst members, allowing the Council of Director to inform the members about the Association's activities. During the conventions, the Consuls will be available to receive suggestions, requests, proposals and recommendations forwarded by every member who intends to do so. Once a year, on the anniversary of the constitution of the Association, Full members will meet up in a General Assembly.

Art. 8- Organs of the Associations The following bodies are Organs of the Association: Assembly of the Associates A Council of Directors, composed by two Consuls and a General Secretary A College of Prodiviri.

Art.9- Members Meetings The Ordinary Assembly will ask all the Full Members to participate, and they will be contacted via letter. The General Assembly has to be called once a year, in the month of June and the Council of directors will establish where it will take place. The General Assembly may take place together with the Annual General Convention in the month of June. The assembly is supposed to deliberate, with simple majority, on the following matters: Election of the members of the Council of Directors and College of Prodiviri, which will be in charge for 10 years. Approval of the balances Establish the single member's contribution for the following year and subscription fee. Any other matter of ordinary administration The matters the assembly will deliberate upon have to be included in the letter of convocation sent to the Associates, which will include the Agenda for the day. The members who can vote could represent other members by proxy, but each member will not be able to represent more than three other members. The Extraordinary Assembly will ask all the Full members to participate, and it is called to deliberate with simple majority, on whatever matter that is outside of the competency of the Ordinary Assembly. It can be called at any time and in any place which will be established by the Consuls as they will deem appropriate. It is competency of the Assembly to deliberate on modifications of the Statute, which have to be approved with at least two-third majority of the present and voting members. In case of declared urgency, convocation may be called via telephone or telefax, taking into account, where it is possible, of each member's necessities.

Art.10- The Council of Directors Three Full members having the right to vote, two with function of Consuls, which will legally represent the Association, and the third with the function of Secretary form the Council of Directors. The Council can meet up at any time if at least two of its members deem that necessary and the meetings can be called in any place. The Council of Directors can deliberate with simple majority for what concerns the admission of Sympathiser Members who have provided written application, on the admission of Full Members after one year from their admission, on the nomination of "Promoters" of "Clubs of Harmonic Creativity", and also on the release of "Nulla Osta" for the building of such "Clubs".

Art. 11 " Emanations " "Clubs of Harmonic Creativity" The Association establishes, in every part of the world, Study and Research Groups on spiritual matters, naming them "Clubs of Harmonic Creativity". The studies undertaken will concern Esotericism and researches on the Invisible World, together with other disciplines that imply a spiritual research. The Clubs have different degrees of study and research, which will be divided by the date and duration of their meetings and that will be identified with the symbols and the â€œlogosâ€ of â€œthe Four Kingsâ€, starting with the last one, enlisted anti-clockwise. The above named Clubs will be: Of 1st degree with one-day long meetings, starting at 12noon on the 21st of March of each year, during the Spring Equinox; Of 2nd degree with two-days long meetings, starting at 12noon of 21st of December of each year, during the Winter Solstice; Of 3rd degree with three-days long meetings, starting at 12noon of 21st of September of each year, during the autumn Equinox; Of 4th degree with four-days long meetings, starting at 12noon of 21st June of each year, during the Summer Solstice.

Art. 12- Constitution and Composition of â€œClubs of Harmonic Creativityâ€

The Association will promote the Constitution of the â€œClubs of Harmonic Creativityâ€. Every Associate obtain the membership of one of the Clubs or more, but not at the same degree and at the same time. However, everyone who wants to apply for an affiliation to the Clubs, if they are not member yet of Universal Unity will have to apply at the same time for membership for the Association, including in the request a the presentation of the Associate who has contacted them. After the application has been accepted, and they have paid their regular dues (subscription and association quotes), they will be allowed to subscribe for the â€œClubs of Harmonic Creativityâ€. The Consuls will nominate the â€œPromotersâ€ for each Club at every degree, choosing them on the ground of their aims and preparation, but also taking into account the studies they would like to undertake; the aim is to enable them to constitute the above named Clubs in their own town and region of residence, where they can choose and nominate new associates. Each Club has to be formed by at least three members, but it should not overcome the number of 12 people. Relatives will not be allowed to join the same Club. The same rule is valid for people having a relationship or strong affinities. The Promoters, after their nomination, have to send as soon as possible to the Consuls the list of people they intend to affiliate to their Club, providing to communicate also the degree chosen and the name chosen. They will have also to provide the place and the time of the year when they like to start the works and they will have to ask for the â€œNulla Ostaâ€ of the Association in order to be allowed to organise the conventions. After this procedure has been accomplished, each Club will receive its own subscription number.

Art. 13- Activities of the â€œClubs of Harmonic Creativityâ€

The promoters direct the Clubs they have formed and their works for the duration of their life, providing to arrange the location where the meetings are taking place. They can establish and enforce specific norms and rules in their Clubs, if these rules are not contradicting the Statute of the Association and its basic moral principles. After three years, or in case of permanent disability or death, the members of the Club have the faculty to elect another President chosen among them, at the condition that he has reached the Full Member status in the Association. The Club members can always co-opt another member, or choose another member in case of death or permanent disability of one of them, always choosing him among the most illustrious Full members of the Association and taking into account that no Club will be allowed to include more than 12 members. The conventions of the Clubs have to take place once a year, at any degree, in the date established for each degree. The conventions have to take place in isolated and quite environments, if possible in church-like structure, or places that at least can offer the place for the conventions but also rooms for the participants so that they will be able to reside there for the whole duration of the conventions. Only the presence of the Clubâ€™s members, plus the presence of one of the Consul or a delegate will be allowed in the conventions. During the whole duration of the conventions, which must have a minimal duration of eight hours per day, possibly with a break after the first four hours, (up to the Presidentâ€™s opinion), the participants cannot eat, smoke or drink alcohol, but only water. Moreover, they will have to avoid the use of telephones or mobile phones. After the start up, at 12 noon of the established day, they have to continue with the meeting without interruption up to the end of it. Absences or delays are not allowed, with due exception for what concern serious circumstances involving family, health or work. During the meeting the participants will be forbidden by expressing any judgement on other people present, as by asking information about their activities in the civil society outside of the Association and they are prevented to deal with matters related to these activities. In any case each participants has to pay maximum respect to the dignity and the honour of the other participants. Smart clothing is deemed necessary, preferably casual, in case they have to move to sea or mountain locations. A diary where to write notes regarding they their thoughts and personal reflections about the meeting is also required. It is strictly forbidden to reveal to the civil world, but also to other members of Universal Unity, the name of the participants to the meetings. Each Club has to provide the designation of a representative who will maintain the contact of the Club with the Council of Directors of the Association. The representative will provide, at the end of each convention, to fill in a Report, which will contain the object and the nature of the interventions, with a conclusion regarding the works undertaken. This Report has to be transmitted to the Council of Directors within 15 days from the end of the convention. Periodical and informal meetings can be organised on Presidentâ€™s judgement, at the condition that the Council of Directors of the Association is informed about it, and that a Report similar to the one compiled for formal convention is prepared.

Art. 14- Offences of the Associates All acts that undermine the dignity and honour of a member of the Association, or serious acts of disloyalty committed against a member constitute an offence that can be reported to the "College of Proviriri". Violations of the moral principle of the Association and violations of the present Statute, which can be also reported by the Consuls or by the Council of Directors, are considered serious offences. The offences can be sanctioned depending on their seriousness, with Simple Censorship or Solemn Censorship. Fines may be imposed and, for the most serious cases, even a Suspension for a limited time, or the Expulsion of the member from the Association. It is forbidden to involve a civil lawyer in the matter.

Art. 15- The "College of Proviriri" and complaints of the Associates Three members, who elect a President among them, form the College of Proviriri. Every Full member can complain about other members, or Consuls or the entire Council of Directors in writing, providing to date and sign the claim, which has to be forwarded by any form to the Council of Directors, which will transmit it to the President of College of Proviriri no later than 10 days after having received it, including a brief report which will express its own perspective about the foundation of the complain, including, if it is the case, proofs in addition to those indicated by the claimant. At the same time, and if it the case, the Council will provide to delegate a representative who will stand for the prosecution. The name will be communicated to the College, declaring the acceptance to anticipate the necessary fees for the process to take place.

Art. 16- The Judgement of "Proviriri" The College of Proviriri can open a procedure every time receives a communication of complain by the Council of Directors, deciding the location where the hearing will take place. The President examines in first instance the claim, and if it is considered groundless it is discarded, charging the claimant with a fine, if it is the case. In every other circumstance the proceeding is opened and a Relator is nominated, who informs the accused, showing a copy of the complain and inviting him to present, within 30 days from the receipt of the communication, his written defence (which has to be deposited at the Office of the Council of Director), witnesses and proofs even before the dare of the hearing, if it is the case. A specifically nominated Consul will sustain the prosecution. The accused can provide self defence if he wants, or he can nominate a defendant, choosing him just among the Full Members of the Association. The College of Proviriri will always judge ex bono et equo, deliberating every choice through a majority, judging the accused as being guilty or innocent, after both sides have been heard and every element has been evaluated. The deliberation will happen during a secret meeting, at the end of which the decision will be read in front of the prosecution and the accused. The decision will be then deposited per extenso, within the following 30 days in the Office of the Council of Directors. Judging on the claim, the College of Proviriri will decide on the expenses as well, charging them on the member who has been deemed guilty or, if the claim has been rejected or the accused has been considered to be innocent, on the claimant. The amount will be paid in favour of the Association. It is not possible to appeal against the decisions of the College of Proviriri; however the Council of Directors can, upon request, submit the matter to an Ordinary Assembly of Members, who can confirm it or reject it.

SKULL AND BONES AND THE FINAL SHOW

Posted on Sunday, October 15, 2006 at 09:26PM by  [\[Your Name Here\]](#) |  Post a Comment

The Show

INSIDE ILLUMINATI LODGE SKULL AND BONES 322 YALE UNIVERSITY :
There is a devil, a Don Quixote and a Pope who has one foot sheathed in a white monogrammed slipper resting on a stone skull. The initiates are led into the room one at a time. And once an initiate is inside, the Bonesmen shriek at him. Finally, the Bonesman is shoved to his knees in front of Don Quixote as the shrieking crowd falls silent. And Don Quixote lifts his sword and taps the Bonesman on his left shoulder and says, 'By order of our order, I dub thee knight of Euloga.' (Skull and Bones Ritual/Show inside Yale University USA)

The show is very simple, it's™ between three characters. Which are the Pope... popi, then you have the Emperor and the Devil. But the western people has substituted the Emperor with a distorted version of Don Quixote for the final chapter. Why Don Quixote?

Because the western has chosen the path of freedom against any temporal form of power, which means at the end communism and atheism if badly interpreted...The real Don Quixote never loses faith because without God you become a satanist. So the false western illuminati ideal of Adam Weishaupt was born out of a bunch corrupt european aristocrats, who has accepted money from the jews selling of their states, families, servants, and even their dogs in exchange for atheism.

From the French revolution onwards we see actually a faster and faster decline of moral values, typical of the growing atheism that was going against the corrupt Catholic religion starting from the decadent aristocratic circles of that period. But lets also remember that what was created in 1776 The Order of the illuminati and the United States of America, was in the first place a group secretly working with the Vatican rebels of that time, the Jesuits! In the present time instead, the Jesuit order has been recently nominated and promoted to one of the most powerful post in the Vatican (what a surprise!). The modern inquisition otherwise known as the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith.

This means that the Jesuits who first brought to peoples attention Egyptian alchemical knowledge and other secret Egyptian formulas including black magic hidden in the Vatican archives for century's, are now finally in charge of the Catholic faith.

So these our truly the end of times because the Jesuit Order are well known black magicians of the most powerful kind, dealing directly with the Devil himself and his colleagues through various sects and secret societies like the illuminati created for the corrupt Freemasons of our time .

For the Angelical side a supposed support should come from their "older Brothers" (that's how the past Pope defined them) the Jews who have at present no God but gold in their Zionist creed and want to rebuild the Temple of Solomon to place the AntiChrist of the evil illuminati.

In the meantime they celebrate secret black magic rituals in the underground rooms of Jerusalem, together with a androgine priestess belonging to the Order of Zion (another illuminati Zionist trap built in Switzerland) called Michela Mercenaro who used to be a Catholic priest called Don Michele Mercenaro officially operating in Vatican HQ's. This before Don Michele now Michela had a sex change and marriage fully approved by the Holy Seed in the Vatican and strongly supported by the Italian Freemasons who even guested her on a TV SHOW by known P2 member Maurizio Costanzo on P2 Brother Silvio Berlusconi TV channel 5.

Now Michela Mercenaro works officially for a university in Rome, writes New Age rubbish on the net and secretly collaborates with the Italian police in cases related to the world of the occult.

Disciple of Michela Mercenaro is a known Italian Freemason at times working for the Secret Services, Bro. Roberto Amato of the powerful P2 Lodge/ GLADIO Network working with the GRAND LODGE OF NEW YORK through Comandante Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri one of the present Directors of the NEW YORK ROTARY CLUB and a big fan of Michela Mercenaro.

Bro. Roberto Amato was recently invited to join officially the GRAND LODGE OF NEW YORK with other ten members of his own masonic Obbedience the GLIDI, Bro. Amato is also the new Italian leader of the Imperial Order created by il Duce Benito Mussolini.

Bro. Amato is the writer of a book we published on our site on women freemasonry and the Devil (unfortunately we only have it in Italian at the moment).

Roberto the illuminati wants to make out of Michela Mercenaro originally a freak of nature that was half man, half woman the next Grand Master for woman Freemasonry in Italy... as he doesn't really want a real woman after all his nice words on the book but only a fake version with balls (nice try mate).

This position of Roberto Amato was actually criticized by the woman illuminati of the Zonta International at the recent Universal Unity Conference of San Cerbone in early June 2006 e.v. but Roberto Amato is currently one of the people responsible for the Italian Masonic Federation GRANDE ORIENTE FEDERALE D'ITALIA. The GOIF is a part of the illuminati network created by Brother Rui Gabirro "the Duke of Cabinda" Grand Secretary of the Regular Grand Lodge of England and a slave of the New World Order.

So the plan we are all so desperate to know is for the New World Order to have full control of the show, terrorize everyone and place the AntiChrist on the throne which they have already done if you were sleeping in the last 6 years...

And they will now go on for the next 6 with more destruction, pain and sufference, 6 years but on that time 21st of December 2012 a Prophet will come forward as the Prophecies say and finally fight this New World Order of Satan and the result will be ARMAGEDON that's survival of the fittest in spiritual matters, and great destruction for all delivered by God himself, followed by several wars that will eventually bring together the Kingdom of the real Messiah, the Kingdom of God, a Kingdom of peace, tolerance and truth, and that's the real Islam not the one created by the CIA and their MOSSAD Zionist friends, because that's only more mind control and slavery directed by the Antichrist.

So as we can imagine being the chosen one in this case will be a blessing and a curse.

May Allah provide us with legions of Angels to fight the demonic forces in such difficult and demanding times in search of our true leader.

Western people wake up and smell the coffee we are about to start a war even bigger than the present one – though more invisible it is more dangerous because Satan now wants not only your body, your family or your material wealth but YOUR MIND and he calls it – freedom – but there is no freedom in the Kingdom of MIND CONTROL and credit cards. Only big Banks and their owners who are secretly linked to a chain of black magicians and evil Rabbi™s who want to take over the world with the help of a few corrupt beduins and a gay Pope sitting in the Vatican.

I REPEAT I GAY POPE SITTING IN THE VATICAN-FULL STOP.

So is very difficult to save your soul because Satan is at present time winning the game unfortunately and in one way or the other we are all connected to his web of materialistic nonsense and fake values.

A major demonstration of your faith towards God and his beautiful creation is the only way you can fight the Devil in the end of times but you must also be ready to confront soon his evil legion of men on earth, who will try to defend him, because they sold their soul to Satan himself in the illuminati Lodges all over the world, and they will never leave him even if he will leave them to perish like idiots and leave himself, at the very end... probably going to another destination as the mission continues Galaxy after Galaxy, Time after Time

Brothers and Sisters GOD ALLAH is our only chance of survival and the Quran the ultimate book of God™s Science delivered to mankind from the most respected Prophet of all time Moahammed (PBUH).

Follow the leader and that's the real Jesus appearing at the end of times, the Emperor.

Toward a Global Civilization of Love and Tolerance - Global Perspectives

By Fethullah GÃ¼len

Friday, 19 November 2004

Everyone takes up the matter of a new world order and evaluates it from a different point of view, according to their own thoughts. This is quite natural. For example, people who have suffered from an internationalism disagreeable for many might accept chauvinism as a form of salvation and be inclined toward it. As a matter of fact, in Asia today almost every nation, under the ideal of turning back toward its ancient history, is turning toward its own particular values to such a degree that these nations now see themselves as being nationalistic. In view of the present situation, it is possible to evaluate the changes in the Russians, the Uzbeks, the Kazakhs, and others in this way. Today there are a number of changes with similar significance taking place in other countries in the world. As long as these "changes" and "developments" do not harm anyone else they can be seen as being normal. However, if we can find a way and a method that would make these changes more beneficial it would then be possible to prevent further tragedies.

Some of these developments follow a course based on religion. In relation to these, it is possible to mention both organized and unorganized activities throughout various parts of the world. Unlike others, they approach every matter from the principle that "religion is basic." And naturally they want to evaluate today's unsettled situation in line with their own way of thinking and manipulate and lead people to the position required by religion.

In addition to this is the fact that the attempt by the powers which have exploited the world many times to take advantage of this period of restructuring seems normal from their own perspectives. Is there full agreement among these powers? Of course not. However, it is widely believed that they are trying to come together and to reach an agreement as soon as possible. As is known, Britain does not think very differently on this matter from America. Although they had a small difference of opinion regarding the Sarajevo issue, the British are now also following America's line. Sometimes France appears to have different views, but that derives more from their effort to get a share in the new structure and formation rather than a genuine difference in view.

In addition, there are some countries in which it is difficult to tell whether they are comfortable with the new order or not. It is quite difficult to understand the situation of these countries, just as there are some diseases that are hard to diagnose. As a matter of fact, they do not expect a share in the general advantages. In fact, it is not obvious what they really want at the present time.

It is also necessary to take note of the internal change that every country expects from itself. Of course, the manifestation of this expectation will vary according to the country, and it is impossible to consider and analyze all of them separately. If you like, let us make a few points about expectations in our own country and then move on. Our society is prudent and vigilant; one day it will assuredly listen to its intuition and conscience and, adopting the change most suitable to its nature, it will realize this change. This situation being surmised, many differences in thought have emerged in our country. Hopefully those who possess all these different views and thoughts are sincere in what they say and want to do. In this broad spectrum some differences in line and motif are quite normal and, in fact, in one respect they should be accepted as being beneficial.

After these general remarks we can briefly consider the matter within a technical perspective. The idealized peaceful world cannot be established by war and spilling blood. Nor will camouflaging activities of aggression and occupation yield positive results. For this reason, it is beneficial to repeat clearly and precisely once again that any balance of power that is made by using force will collapse in the shortest period of time, and those who were responsible for it will be the first to be buried under the debris.

I think we have witnessed that, in this sense, Korea, Vietnam, the Gulf, and Somalia are some of the most striking examples. Examples of reaction are likely to be even more violent in the future. The sympathy among Muslim peoples in the Muslim world, a sympathy which was once felt for the leaders of the free world, will slowly melt and antipathy will take its place. It appears that if the new world order is founded upon explicit or implicit exploitation by force, instead of democracy and full enjoyment of basic human rights and freedoms, then this antipathy will continue in expanding dimensions.

Our ancestors said, "the water jug breaks on the way to the well." Those who have gained a position by destroying something will themselves collapse and lose that position later on, in the same way. If we look all around us today and take into consideration the recurrence of history, we will be able to see more clearly what is awaiting us tomorrow.

Even if the world is not in a process of renewal, and it is clear today that it is not, it definitely is in a process of reconstruction. When the correct time arrives, this reconstruction will certainly be realized. When this happens, instead of having a world that has been shaped with malice and hatred, a surprising world that has taken its form in a climate of love, tolerance, and forbearance will appear before us. The collective conscience will gladly welcome and place it in its heart, not neglecting those who have a share in this reformation. These people will leave permanent tracks and, even if they have physically left this world, their tracks will remain for centuries. I believe with my whole heart that the only thing to do today in order to realize these spring-fragranced dreams is to perform this kind of service for humanity. For this reason, instead of temporary, fleeting, and un-promising efforts, I would advise a type of movement that is lasting and fully beneficial in every way. I think that as long as I am alive I will not hesitate to repeat these recommendations.

Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri ATTIVO 907 P2 LODGE now a proud American citizen!

Check for yourself on the internet and you will be surprised to see one of the present New York Rotary Club Directors registred as a member of the infamous P2 Lodge, and if you bring your research a bit further you will also find is involvement with the illegal arms trade in the port of Livorno in the 70's!

So Welcome to the International Service Division of the Rotary Club of New York's Newsletter

For proud satanic slaves and Directors of the New World Order

Welcoming Note and Listing of Articles:

The International Service Division of the Rotary Club of New York is delighted to present this newsletter in order to demonstrate the commitment and continuing support of Rotary to the United Nations and its Millennium Development Goals. This newsletter will also serve as a platform for information and dialogue between all Rotarians who are interested in the programs of the United Nations and in contributing towards achieving its goals. We invite you to share your experiences from collaboration in projects between Rotary and the United Nations. Also, all Rotarians are invited to attend the NY Rotary International Breakfast Meetings which are scheduled on the third Wednesday of every month and held at the German House located at 871 United Nations Plaza (49th St. and First Ave). These meeting provide an opportunity for Rotarians to stay informed regarding United Nation programs and to exchange views on related topics with UN officials and representatives of its member states.

Yours in Rotary Service

COSMETICS CALLED RENNES LE CHATEAU , P2 , AND THE USUAL JESUITS WITH AN EGYPTIAN TOUCH !

Posted on Thursday, October 19, 2006 at 02:38PM by [\[Rc\] \[Your Name Here\]](#) | [\[Cc\] Post a Comment](#)

Rennes Le Chateau is a P2 Cosmetic's company born in the 80's and based in Novara (Viale XX Settembre 38) as a front for the North of Italy secret HQ'S of the Universal Unity/ Monte Carlo Lodge P2 leader Ezio Giunchiglia and his GLADIO activities.

The Cosmetic Company and the Universal Unity are as you can notice yourself from the pictures bellow in the same address.

A member of Universal Unity this very exclusive New World Order Group of right wing illuminati linked to the P2 and GLADIO Intelligence operations, is called Jean Pierre Giudiceli .A very well known French Alchemist now living in Corsica and working for the french secret police, Giudicelli is a known occultist involved in the esoteric direction and control of the fake Priory of Sion in France and abbroad with the Secretary of Plantard Sinclair called Gino Sandri who lives in Paris . But illustrius Freemason and Rosicrucian Giudicelli , is also well known for his right wing tendencies and a big scandal that involved him with the Police and the Knights Templar infiltration in Nice (France) back in the early 80's.

Lately Giudicelli was involved with another scandal of sexual nature (sex with an under age muslim girl) that he blamed on the French President and is own enemies in the secret services but ended up with him serving 7 months in prison.

At present Giudicelli hopes to get compensation from the government for what he views as a evil set up against him (Mmmm) and is about to move again to Nice.. were he also works and collaborates with the new NLP3 project of Dr.Marco Paret part of the CAIRN consortium of Rene Lion. Rene' is an eccentric French illuminati living in Nepal with a Tibetan Style Buddhist Monastery who is actually sponsored by the European Community .

Giudicelli like Sandri are using the fake Priory of Sion to cover up a secret network of right wing Vichi activist that include the owners of the occult bookstore in the little village of Rennes le Chateau.

Jean Pierre Giudicelli is a founding member of Jesuit friendly illuminati circle very popular in the 80's called the Thebes Group founded in Paris with well known traditional Catholic Massimo Introvigne who runs Alleanza Cattolica and other occultist and even Catholic Bishops who were actually part of a satanic Lodge of the Ordo Templi Orientis of A. Crowley.

As usual we see the Jesuit link coming back to us over and over again, when we talk about black magick and the satanist illuminati Lodges of Ordo Templi Orientis around the world .

The mind of all this was Christian Bouchet a well known pervert who likes the spanking business who is also a right wing Bolshevick (thats new) and OTO CALIPHATE/ ILLUMINATI leader, who decided to leave the OTO and the American illuminati in order to establish the Group of Thebes with the support of the Masonic Grand Orient of France , the Jesuits and surprise surprise Marcel Levebre!

So thats it my dear friends

MIND CONTROL AND STRATEGY OF TENSION MADE IN VATICAN FOR A NEW WORLD ORDER WITH NO FRONTIERS AND ONE SINGLE CURRENCY (check this Universal Unity document bellow if you dont believe me)

And the fake Priory of Sion a creation of the usual Jesuits who knew very well about this satanic scam against the Church because they created it in the first place and Dan Brown ends up serving them with Zionist backing that copyright even the Gospel of Judas and make loads of cash , very appropriate for the end of times.

May God Bless America and may God protect us from Massimo Introvigne and the Jesuits

Some odd friends of Introvigne

by Miguel Martinez

The open-armed ecumenism of the TFP - "Tradition Family and Property" - takes on surprising aspects. According to the French journalist, Serge Faubert ("Le vrai visage des sectes", L'Evenement du jeudi, 4-10.11.1993, pp. 44 ff.), Introvigne was one of the only fifteen founding members of a very secret 'Group of Thebes' (Groupe de Th bes) which used to meet at the French Grand Orient, made up exclusively of leaders of various "Orders" (you can read a translation of most of the article here). The tiny group included quite an interesting variety of individuals:

Massimo Introvigne, who attended the very first meeting of this lodge, on June 3, 1990.

Rémi Boyer, a former Rosicrucian (AMORC) who had created Arc-en-ciel, a federation of occult and New Age groups (including Sri Chinmoy, The Grande Loge indépendante des rites unis, the Institut pour une synthèse planétaire, the Ordre chevaleresque de la Rose-Croix, the Spiritual University of Brahma Kumaris). The Groupe de Thèbes was Boyer's second creation, for a smaller, and presumably higher, group of "initiates". Boyer, by the way, claims to be an "advisor" for the French Ministry of Justice.

Jean-Pierre Giudicelli, leader of the French section of the Order of Myriam and inventor of a handy "elixir of long life", former Corsican nationalist and right-wing militant ("Ordre Nouveau" and "Troisième Voie").

Gérard Kloppel, world Grand Master of the Order of Memphis and Misraim.

Jean-Marie Vergorio, leader of the "Templars of Circe".

Triantaphyllos Kotzamanis, a.k.a. Tau Hieronymus, chancellor for Greece of a Templar group and World Grand Master of the Universal Orient of Traditional Rites.

The most interesting member of the Group of Thebes was certainly Christian Bouchet (as a militant atheist, Bouchet prefers to be called by his surname only). Bouchet was a prominent speaker at several CESNUR events: at the international CESNUR conference at Santa Barbara in 1991, and four times in France in 1992. This is rather amusing in the light of CESNUR's claim to represent "professionalism" and "serene discussion". I have no idea whether Bouchet has any professional qualification beyond being a follower of Aleister Crowley (he does call himself an "ethnologist", unlike "sociologist" Introvigne). Bouchet, who has been a militant in the French far right since the 70's and leads a movement called Nouvelle Résistance which once boasted having 150 members, runs three separate magazines. For the general public, there is Lutte du Peuple, "People's Struggle", a rather hysterical publication which many people might qualify as "neo-Nazi"; then there is Vouloir ("Will"), a cultural publication largely devoted to studies on Nietzsche and Crowley; however, initiates have access to Théléma, which means "Will" again, but in Greek: Thelema of course is Crowley's famous slogan. Bouchet is a member of one of the many offshoots of the Crowleyite OTO ("Ordo Templi Orientis"). The Treasurer General of the Ordo Templi Orientis, Bill Heidrick, kindly advised me that Bouchet had been expelled from the O.T.O. in 1992, without having gone beyond the first degree. The quarrelsome Bouchet was also expelled from the right-wing movement Troisième Vie in October 1991 ("Mise au Point", circular dated September 21, 1991, quoted in Peter Koenig's site.

Bouchet's political and religious opinions are of no interest here to me; what does interest me is how a person like Bouchet can appear as an academic scholar in the kind of "serene" and "professional discussion" CESNUR supposedly stands for. Here for example is a short review written by Bouchet:

"The first CD of the indus [industrial rock] group Dissonant Elephants, 'Our eyes like daggers', has a lot that appeals to us: [â€] the dust jacket shows the toad of Jerusalem on his cross with a red clown's nose"

The reference is to Aleister Crowley's notorious toad-crucifying ritual.

The Lodge of Thebes is not only for right-wing extremists; another member is Paolo Fogagnolo, who shares his time between the Agape Lodge of the O.T.O.A. (Ordo Templi Orientis Antiqua) and the left-wing political group Chiapas Collettivo. Fogagnolo, for personal reasons, often prefers to use the surname of his mother, Salamina. He also boasts of being a close friend of Introvigne, and claims to be fighting against a world-wide interplanetary Fascist conspiracy using magic means. He enjoys quite a few titles - Sar-Thon, Chevalier du Christ, Sar Voluntas Divina, Patriarch for Italy of Krumm-Heller's Gnostic church, and even "Unknown Superior" of the Martinist Athenian Lodge of Sar Hieronymus (the source, as always, is the wonderful site of Peter Koenig).

Inside sources in the complex world of Italian followers of the magic of Ciro Formisano, better known as Giuliano Kremmerz (1861-1930), allege that Introvigne gave Fogagnolo full freedom to write the chapters on the Kremmerzian and Croweyite movements in the book, Il cappello del mago, devoted to esoteric and magical movements in Italy. If true, this hardly speaks well of the scientific seriousness of the book.

A more complete picture (it is hard to say how reliable) of the activities of this interesting friend of Introvigne was recently provided to us by other members of the "magic" milieu. Fogagnolo, originally a boy scout and the scion of a family of small industrialists near Milan, when he was quite young set up the "Lo Muscio Brigade", a group of anarchist terrorists which vainly tried to gain acceptance from the Red Brigades. Betrayed by a comrade, he in his turn immediately confessed to the police, involving both the guilty and - they say - the innocent. The step from political to esoteric adventures seems somehow quite logical.

Bouchet appeared again in a conference on the "Roots and Evolution of Contemporary Paganism" in Lyons (February 3 and 4, 1996), where other speakers included Robert Amadou (a well-known Martinist, a priest of the "Syrian Church" and - according to Koenig, with excellent relations with prominent Freemasons in Zurich); right-wing extremists Arnaud d'Apremont and Charles Antoni, Rami Boyer (again) as well as Renato del Ponte, an expert on Julius Evola. Massimo Introvigne, "director of CESNUR", was the star of the conference.

The comments of a participant at this conference clearly show the kind of image Introvigne has succeeded in projecting on his work - instead of hiding his own ideological affiliation, he shows how "although a Catholic", he is "forced" to objectively defend certain groups; at the same time, he is an academic expert:

"Introvigne is a Catholic, something which he has never hidden [â€]. Yet his studies are of an exemplary objectivity and impartiality. [â€]. Yet it may come as a surprise to see how Introvigne accepted an invitation to a conference which did not possess those requirements of 'scholarship' or 'seriousness' which he, as a scholar, must certainly appreciate. Introvigne himself realized how his presence could have caused some surprise [â€]. Introvigne, in his first speech, explicitly said that accepting an invitation to a conference on neo-paganism where 'neo-pagans' were expected to speak, was 'not only a pleasure, but a duty', since the [recent] report of the [French parliament] commission of enquiry had described neo-paganism as socially dangerous since it was widespread among racist and anti-semitic right-wing circles"

Of course, nothing is ever entirely bad: Introvigne's activities in defence of the large cult multinationals certainly help to make life easier for eccentric but innocent groups which have as much a right to exist as any other, and which are profoundly grateful to this "Catholic scholar"; some of the young witches who feel honoured by the presence of such a great figure are very decent people. However, the gratitude of these minor movements is certainly not what keeps CESNUR running; nor are these admirers aware of the fate that awaits them should T.F.P.'s millennialist imaginings come true one day. The articles of association of the "Group of Thebes" seem to have excluded any non-initiates from membership. This of course is no consequence to me; however it does cast some doubt on Introvigne's right to call himself a Catholic, considering the strict condemnation of Masonry. Four members of this Lodge, besides Introvigne himself, took part in the CESNUR conference in Lyon in 1992.

As usual, Introvigne avoided replying to these accusations; a reply was however written in a bulletin reserved to AC members only (Domus Aurea Informazioni, 5/10 sett. 1994, quoted in Sodalitium, n. 39, nov. 1994, p. 20 ff.) which accidentally leaked out. Introvigne claimed that he had written over fifteen books, accused Faubert of being a 'communist militant of a small Trotzkyite group', but did not deny membership in the Lodge. He also claimed to have the right to be called a "sociologist" since "until 1993" (this sounds better than "in 1991 and in 1992", as stated in his curriculum in LibertÃ religiosa, 'sette' e 'diritto di persecuzione') he used occasionally to teach Sociology of Religion in a seminary in the provincial town of Foggia (the archbishop of which was at the time president of CESNUR). Introvigne admitted that the leakage of inside information about the Thebes Group caused "objective harm to the scholars participating in the meetings of the Group". Apparently what Introvigne is trying to hint is that a group of fifteen picturesque individuals had the habit of meeting secretly, excluding any profane individual, only in order to let a militant of Alleanza Cattolica study them.

Introvigne was not always so friendly towards the French "Nouvelle Droite", from which Bouchet comes: Doctor Plinio had not yet given his new guidelines. Basically, his thesis in the past (Massimo Introvigne, "GRECE e Nouvelle Ecole", in CristianitÃ Å, n. 32, Dec. 1977) was that the "New Right" was actually leftist. Under the subtitle, "A stand-by ruling class for the Revolution", we find the following description of these French "neo-pagans":

"A 'cocktail' of evolutionism, neo-positivism, scientism, sexual revolution and clearly Masonic doctrines in an 'Indo-European' package: in the first place in order to subtly corrupt those young people who escape from social-communist and progressive conformity, favouring their transformation into 'anonymous revolutionaries'; in the second place, in order to prepare the pollution of any anti-Communist reaction and to try to satisfy its inevitable spiritual needs in an anti-Catholic and anti-metaphysical sense, in view of a dark and fatal neo-pagan mirage".

(p. 5)

A friend of Introvigne's who is somewhat different from this Italian/French milieu, although in touch with it too, is Michael Bertiaux. Self-appointed Vudu Master, he is a specialist in the Crowleyite degrees from the XIth upward (the XIth degree is based on the interaction between sperm, blood, excrements and anal mucus, and is supposed to allow the generation of an astral being through homosexual intercourse). Bertiaux, who in the past had given patents to some of the individuals mentioned above, today says he is "very disappointed with occultists, esoterists, orders and fraternities, the most of them being lunatic, dogmatic, swindlers, paranoiac, egoistic, ignorant, etc.". There is a fascinating trace of the friendship between Introvigne and Bertiaux, which is well worth taking a look at.

IGNORANCE REVEALED

By John Faerseth (OTO CALIPHATE/AMERICAN ILLUMINATI)

Check the ignorance displayed in the e-mail reaction below from John Faerseth, secretary of the American illuminati satanic organization Ordo Templi Orientis in Oslo (Norway). This before receiving the clear photographic evidence of this discovery of great importance (BAPHOMET/MOHAMMED PBUH Templar Cross) made in Turkey in the 1960's, and now finally revealed to the world with the photo above by illustrious muslim scholar Gabriel Mandel Khan.

Date: Mon, 28 Aug 2006 11:49:56 -0700 (PDT)

From: "John Faerseth" Add to Address Book

Subject: Re: O.T.O mission completed....? Baphomet Revealed...

To: "leo young"

Yup, I know the theory. Baphomet was an acronym for Mohammed, and therefore the Knights Templars were secretly Moslems.

There is only one problem: No muslim has ever worshipped Mohammed because only God is to be worshipped.

The theory only shows the ignorance of Islam displayed by those who created it.

HITLER IS A SATANIST AND MURABITUN IS ANOTHER MK-ULTRA AGENT

Excerpts [emphasis mine, in capitals]:

â€œShaykh Abd al-Qadir Murabitâ€• says:

â€œEvery Islam uses a philosophy. I want to recapitulate three names with which I finished on the 1st day of the conference whom I indicated as being THE THREE GREAT MEN OF THIS LAST 100 YEARS IN THE WORLD. Great in the sense of fulfilling themselves in their time and not in the Sufic sense of a man's inner illumination. Now, THE 1ST I MENTIONED IS WAGNER.

Comment:

Observe how in the process of attempting to excuse himself for his adoration of non-Muslims with a type of separation of Church and State, he falls into a worse adoration yet which is the worship of the Self (fulfilling themselves in their time). Then he specifies he means, first, Wagner's reconstructed Germanic Self.

SAM continues:

THE GREATEST LIVING WRITER ERNST JUNGER SAID: "WHEN THE GERMAN NATION LOST IN 1945, ALL NATIONS LOST. What did he mean by this? He had perceived " this VERY GREAT man " from the depth of his meditation, which was complex, tortured, and luminous [read: as is mine] " a man who had been an officer of the Wehrmacht in high command during the occupation of Paris, who participated in the plot to assassinate Hitler in 1944, WHO HAD BEEN THE IDEOLOGUE OF THE NAZIS, and whom one day Hitler set out to visit and was stopped by historical events " when the Gestapo found out his involvement in the plot, Himmler said to Hitler: Junger must be assassinated. And Hitler said: "NO! We cannot touch this man."

Ernst Junger saw deeply into his age, understood the deep tragic irony that the tyrant he wanted to overthrow had enthroned him in life. This is the complexity of the age we live in. THERE IS NO GOOD IN THIS WORLD THAT DOES NOT HAVE EVIL IN IT AND NO EVIL IN THIS WORLD THAT DOES NOT HAVE GOOD IN IT.

Comment:

{They swear by Allah that they said nothing (wrong), yet they did say the word of disbelief, and did disbelieve after their Surrender} (9:74).

SAM continues:

So Ernst Junger said: "When the German Nation lost, all nations lost." Now, he didn't mean it was bad news for everybody. He meant [shouts] The Nation-State had been destroyed! This [bangs on his pulpit] is the [bangs] primordial [bangs] fact [bangs] of our age [bangs] and nobody [bangs] sees it! The State has been destroyed. It is a ghost in a torture-chamber. What happened in 1945 was the collapse of the system of nation-states that had been in place in Europe for hundreds of years!... [More banging, shouting]

Comment:

The purported seekers of guidance that follow that man gave up the Remembrance of Allah and awrad of Tariqa in order to gather and spend time to hear this; and they exchanged the Darqawi Hadra for Wagner operas. He wants his common-culture Murabitun Volk to hear the same music, and it's not Quran nor " God forbid " Arabic.

SAM continues:

THE SECOND MAN I MENTIONED [among what he called THE THREE GREAT

MEN OF THIS LAST 100 YEARS IN THE WORLD] WAS ADOLF HITLER. WE [Murabitun] RECOGNIZE THE GREATNESS OF ADOLF HITLER IN HIS " IN THE NON-SPIRITUAL SENSE " PROPHECIC RECOGNITION THAT THE THEME OF THE MODERN AGE WAS THE ABOLITION OF USURY.

"Again we come to this GREATEST LIVING WRITER, THIS UNIVERSAL SPIRIT, ERNST JUNGER, WHO SAID: "WHEN THE JEW WAS EXTERMINATED [bangs pulpits] I SAW PEOPLE TURNING INTO JEWS [bangs]; THEY BEGAN TO APPEAR EVERYWHERE!" Ernst Junger recognized the tragic error of the GREAT VISIONARY HERO ADOLF HITLER. ...

ADOLF HITLER, WITH HIS [voice vibrant with admiration] ASTONISHING GENIUS, SAW THIS PROCESS [of the separation of monetary and state powers symbolized by the 2 triangles forming what is "called wickedly the Star of David" sic] AT WORK; FROM THE BEGINNING, THEN, WHEN IT WAS TOO LATE, REALIZED AT THE END THAT HE HAD UNDERESTIMATED THEIR [THE JEWS] BRILLIANT, DEVASTATING GENIUS. But before he died, he said: "THIS WHOLE WORLD MUST COME BACK TO THIS ISSUE." This [bangs table] is [bangs] now [bangs] happening [bangs]!! ...

The third person I mentioned was Heidegger....

Comment:

May you be resurrected with your great visionary hero overmen of this last 100 years, you and whoever follows your misguidance.

25 minutes into his speech SAM reviles the Umma then uses profanity:

[Thumping and shouting throughout] "But I want to emphasize to you: the Muslims, none, none understand the crisis of the Age. One billion!... They do not know what the Hell is going on!"

Comment:

This is your Sufi Shayh? This is a Muslim teacher? of the Spiritual Path? No. It is the essence of hubris and delusion. "Quem Deus perdere vult prius dementat" (Whomever God wants to destroy He first makes mad).

Then SAM shouts and thumps:

WAGNER WAS THE AUTHENTIC SUFI OF THE CENTURY! ... ADOLF HITLER WAS THE [bangs his table] ONLY MUJAHID!.... And Heidegger - not Ibn Abdul-Wahhab! - was the one to say "Allah" after Nietzsche had said "la ilaha" [sic!]. ONE BILLION MUSLIMS ARE ENSLAVED BECAUSE THEY THINK THAT THE IDEA THEY HAVE OF GOD IS GOD! AND I CANNOT NAME ANY EXCEPTION IN PUBLIC LIFE AMONG THE ARABS TODAY.

Comment:

Your ignorance cannot possibly be greater than your arrogance and yet it is. Na`udhu billah min al-shaytan al-rajim.

Toward the end of the file SAM shouts and thumps:

â€œI donâ€™t mean by â€œeducationâ€™: teaching them Arabic and the Qurâ€™an!....
THERE IS ONLY ONE CIVILIZATION AND IT IS CALLED WESTERN CIVILIZATION! And, believe me, I donâ€™t want to hear about how decadent the West is! The West is pure spiritualism waiting on the news of Islam! And THE EAST IS DARKNESS, IGNORANCE, AND TRIBALISM, AND LUST FOR MATERIAL WEALTH! The Mauritians are disappearing under the sand. Maybe itâ€™s a good thing: to silence them....â€• Etc. etc. etc.

La hawla wala quwwata illa billah.

speeches you can actually download from the internet:

CUT THE PIMPS

because Nazim as a very good sense of humour and thats why Prince Charles adores him.

THEY ARE ALL IN IT FOR MATERIALISTIC NONSENSE

I personally dont need to live on anything but God.
With his true teachings delivered trough is legitimate messengers that include Moses and Jesus starting from Enok and ending with Prophet Mohammed (PBUH).

In the holy Quran is Jesus that comes back but the real one not the one promoted by the false Jesuit pretenders and their Zionist friends.

You get the government you deserve says the 33 Protocol of the Monte Carlo P2 Lodge.

We are ready to bring civilization forwards but also very backwards if you continue to serve Satan and his followers from the illuminati in every Governement.

Why not change things and go back to the truth in the western world, your streets are corrupted by greed and perversion its time to go back to your relation with God not empty words because when the system starts cracking you are gonna be screaming for your life if you are not a true believer.

BE MUSLIM BE CHRISTIAN BE JEW BUT BE SOMETHING OTHERWISE YOU ARE NOTHING IN THE HANDS OF SATAN IN THE DAY OF JUDGEMENT

GOOD LUCK

In 1984, questioned by Judges examining the 1980 Bologna station bomb in which 82 people were killed and for which two secret service agents were convicted, he said: "With the massacre of Peteano, and with all those that have followed, the knowledge should by now be clear that there existed a real live structure, occult and hidden, with the capacity of giving a strategic direction to the outrages." The structure, he said, "lies within the state itself".

"There exists in Italy a secret force parallel to the armed forces, composed of civilians and military men... A secret organisation, a super-organisation with a network of communications, arms and explosives, and men trained to use them"...

ALBERTO MOSCATO, THE ILLUMINATI, GLADIO AND JESUIT CONTROL

Posted on Friday, October 20, 2006 at 03:57AM by  Your Name Here |  Post a Comment

Dear Greg,

I know the e-mail bellow by Senior italian OTO illuminati is in italian but as a researcher and for my own security i wish to forward it to you and make it public, it also involves the Cairo illuminati gathering of 2003 and the infamous Alberto Moscato and shows very clearly how scared the italian OTO illuminati were about me going publicly against them and finally out of their satanic illuminati control...

Moscato's second in Comand (now in charge of the italian OTO Caliphate) the author of the e-mail says "immagine what the priests will do if they know about it"...thats because the Opus Dei cant stand these Jesuit driven satanist and they know it.

When I was with Moscato in spring 2000 he was blatering on and on all the time about how cool it was to live in Rome the Capital Christianity in defiance of the Opus Dei and the Vatica because of the total Jesuit support to his OTO satanic Lodges.

Alberto Moscato and me after many phone conversations finaly saw eachother and had a 4 hours discussion in a Bar in the zona Eur of Rome , AND HE WAS LIVING AT THE TIME IN A APARTMENT OF FRIEND MASSIMO INTROVIGNE OF CESNUR.

Alberto Moscato was an intelligence operative officialy working for la Guardia di Finanza (tax police) in the internet surveillance department but also a heroin addict with 3 wholes in his stomach due to shooting in action. Alberto a 33o degree and Vatican Knigh of Malta of the 3rd degree loved very much guns, and when I use to call him he was usualy in the police training center shooting, and he used to wear a little silver pistol as neckless...a pure satanist !

Well after my meeting we only spoke by phone from time to time as a member of the Council for the Cairo 2004 gathering and other internal matters. But I got in a bad conflict with him after the 2003 episode of leaving the American illuminati because he was strongly supporting the US illuminati satanist against me and every interest of our beloved Italy...just wanting to make more profit and gain more control over his followers without showing them any truth only more manipulation and Mind Control in close association with the Satanic Churches of Northern Europe (Scandinavia) controlled by disciples of Anto La Vey. Most italian masons supported then my decision of distancing myself from OTO Calipahte satanist because Moscato was becoming increasingly an easy target and they knew I was right in my decision. At that point the rival OTO-FHL linked with the Opus Dei invited me to have my meetings with them in Bologna instead, and they were very delighted to offer me the Opus Dei HQ's in Villa Leona for their meetings.Moscato died last spring in misterious circumstances (drug overdose or a murder?) , what I know for sure is that a complain was filed against him in high places a week before. Balestrieri always knew well Moscato but was getting also worried about his friend exposure with satanism and Crowley as GLADIO and P2 dont need such scandals.

I must say instead that the OTO-FHL is a far more experienced body of initiates because they are much older in age and also officialy indipendent from the American illuminati but in reality secretely linked with the Monte Carlo Lodge as their Gran Prior (IXo degree) is also a member of the Monte Carlo Lodge and a Senior member of the Rectified Scottish Rite promoted by the Jesuits...so we are back to square one the Jesuit are in full control as usual of satanism,luciferianism even when Opus Dei are involved they take over the show. Same with the Opus Dei and their own illuminati Accademy in piazza di Spagna directed by Gran Master Giuliano Di Bernardo (Past Grand Master of italian Freemasonry) directely linked to the Duke of Kent and the English aristocracy but also once again to the Jesuit illuminati tradition of Frater Spartacus.

In the Conference of San Cerbone they were all there including the IXo OTO-FHL Gran Prior Count Nicholas, the Sicilian Grand Master of the Rectified Scottish Rite Luigi Piazza and last but not least Comandante Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri arriving directly from New York.

Di Bernardo was not there because he is not welcome in the Monte Carlo Lodge anymore because of what he did in 1993 against the Italian Grand Orient supporting the English Grand Lodge with the creation of his own Obbedienza the Regular Grand Lodge of Italy with strong Vatican support to cover up for the P2 scandal.

But in reality at the top they are all in it together with their secret trasversal gatherings like the one of Bocca di Magra of November last year were a few decide for the many and the unknown (Crowley's motto).

In San Cerbone one of the main issues on the table was Rui Gabirro the Duke of Gabinda illegal activities all over the world that were exposing to much his Jesuit backing and connections, and we find a lot of accusations against this dubious Freemason all over the net. The Duke is in charge of the new Masonic High Councils created since 2005 by the P2 illuminati and the Jesuits and expanding with the blessings of the Monte Carlo Lodge worldwide at an alarming rate, even for regular masonic observers with no degrees or inside knowledge this starts to be a clear irregularity that serves the illuminati Jesuit plot in connection with the French Zionist lobby and the Jacobite tradition. More research on the subject can be made directly by you on the web site of the REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND.

Caro Leo,

Quanto casino per nulla! Mi sono procurato la mail che ti ha scritto, e mi sembra che ci sia stato un malinteso, e non certo un'offesa. La questione Ã© semplicissima: HB ha saputo che avevi scritto che sarebbe venuto al Cairo, e siccome non ne sapeva nulla (e soprattutto non aveva deciso di venire), si Ã© chiesto se per caso non fosse una trovata pubblicitaria. Ha quindi semplicemente detto di non usare nÃ© il suo nome, nÃ© quello dell'OTO visto che il Gathering al Cairo Ã© una manifestazione indipendente, e non un happening dell'OTO (quindi non vedo proprio come tu possa accusarlo di ingerenza). Capisco che il suo tono brusco possa aver contribuito al malinteso, ma trovo la tua reazione sproporzionata. Se tu avessi una pallida idea di quanti imbecilli ci sono nel mondo che cercano di fare soldi con il nome dell'OTO e di AC, forse capiresti la sua cautela nel tutelare il nome dell'Ordine. Inoltre sono un pÃ² stupito di quando parli di "azioni del CALIFFATO AMERICANO ALL'INTERNO DELLE NOSTRE OBBEDIENZE."

Sinceramente

conosco quasi tutti i Senior members dell'OTO, e (che essi siano anche Massoni o MENO), se c'Ã© una cosa che rispettano, sono proprio i Landmarks.

Sin dal 1919ev, quando Crowley (dopo aver riscritto i Rituali e la struttura dell'OTO, sotto ordine di Reuss) pubblicÃ² sull'Equinox III. 1 i Liber 52 e

194, l'OTO non infrange piÃ¹, in nessuna maniera, i Landmarks della Massoneria continentale, e riconosce tutte la prerogative della UGLE, che la

UGLE riconosca l'OTO o meno. Da quel momento, tutti i lineari successori di Crowley all'ufficio di OHO ha mantenuto con ogni sforzo questo rispetto. Se tut conoscessi la storia dell'OTO in maniera piÃ¹ organica, e avessi letto i

Magickal Link degli ultimi 15 anni, sapresti quanto HB rispetta la Massoneria (inglese, americana, italiana, eskimese, marziana che sia), e quanto ne conosca profondamente la storia, i personaggi, gli scopi. HB non Ã© massone, come ha sempre affermato pubblicamente, ma come ogni serio studioso, si Ã© prfondamento documentato per anni, e piÃ¹ di un Gran Maestro di G.L./G.O. nel mondo lo ha riconosciuto (cosa che HB non va a sbandierare in giro, proprio per non farsi pubblicitÃ² sfruttando la Massoneria) .

Lo sai

cosa significa ? Che HB sarebe fatto immediatamente Maestro Massone sulla spada se lo volesse , e non in america, ma in europa. Ma come vedi, lui non vuole nÃ© sfruttare la Massoneria, nÃ© metterne a repentaglio i Lavori - ti immagini quanto i preti sfrutterebbero questo per dire che la massoneria Ã©

"satanica"? Anche se non Ã© vincolato dai giuramenti di IIIÂ° Massone, di fatto li rispetta (e molto meglio di molti massoni che conosco..).

Ti posso quindi assicurare che sei un pÃ² superficiale se lo accusi di essere ignorante della storia e tradizione templare (tra l'altro - e tienelo per te, perchÃ© sono affari suoi - Ã© di discendenza scozzese, e proviene da un'antica e famosa famiglia aristocratica scozzese che ha tra i suoi antenati marescialli, templari, massoni di alto rango, solo per fare alcuni esempi). Forse sei stato influenzato dalla campagna di delegittimazione che egli e l'Ordine intero , Ã© oggetto da una decina d'anni? Occhio alle fonti - e all'ignoranza e alla mistificazione. L'OTO non Ã© un mcdonald dell'occulto, te lo posso assicurare, e se continui la tua strada nell'OTO (l'unico che esista, cosÃ¬ come lo volevano Reuss e Crolwey, nonostante le balle), avrai modo di vederlo.

Ti prego di riconsiderare le tue vedute, e di ritenere l'incidente chiuso.

Inoltre, per fraterno favore, tieni i contenuti di questa lettera per te, sotto squadra e compasso, come un vero M.M. e gentlemen. Te li ho detti solo perch'io mi fido di te.

Quello che ho scritto riflette anche la posizione di Alberto Moscato e degli altri Fratelli Massoni che fanno parte dell'OTO in Italia.

Un TFA e a presto

FORGET THE UFO'S Angels and Jinn in This World

Posted on Saturday, October 21, 2006 at 07:51PM by  [Your Name Here] |  Post a Comment

Angels and Jinn in This World

By Fethullah Gulen

http://www.islamonline.net/English/In_Depth/MagicAndJinn/Topic_02/02.SHTML

Angels and jinn can assume different forms and shapes and appear in this world. Here, we observe movement from the visible to the invisible: Water evaporates and disappears into the atmosphere, solid matter becomes a liquid or a gas (steam), and matter becomes energy (nuclear fission). Likewise, we observe movement from the invisible to the visible: Gases become fluids, evaporated water becomes rain (as well as snow or hail), and energy becomes matter. Similarly, intangible thoughts and meanings in our minds can appear in the tangible form of letters and words in essays and books. In an analogous way, such invisible beings (to us) as angels, jinn, and other spirit entities can become visible.

We read in Qurâ€™an 19:17 that the spirit that Allah sent to Mary (the mother of `Isa [Jesus]), and whom Muslim scholars say is Angel Jibreel (Gabriel), appeared before her as a man. When Jibreel came to Prophet Muhammad (peace and blessings be upon him), he sometimes came as a man, in the shape of a Companion named Dihyah. For example, he came following the end of the Battle of the Trench and told the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him), "O Messenger of Allah, you have taken off your armor but we, the angels, have not yet done so. Allah orders you to march upon the Banu Quraizah." (Bukhari and Muslim) Once Jibreel came as a man dressed in white and, in order to instruct the Companions in religion, asked the Prophet such questions as, What is belief? What is Islam? What is ihsan (excellence or perfection of virtue)? When is the Day of Judgment? (Muslim)

Like angels and jinn, Satan (who is a jinn) can appear in different forms. It is narrated that before the Battle of Badr, he appeared to the Quraishi leaders as an old man from Najd and advised them. Likewise, a Companion guarding Ramadan's Zakah caught a disguised Satan trying to steal some items. Satan entreated the Companion to release him, which he did twice. On the third time, the Companion tried to take him to Allah's Messenger. But Satan appealed, "Release me, and I'll tell you how you can secure yourself against me." The Companion asked what that was, and Satan replied that it was Ayat Al-Kursi (Al-Baqarah 2:255). When informed of this, Allah's Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) commented, "That one is a liar, but (on that occasion) he told the truth." (Bukhari)

The Quran relates that a group of jinn listened to Allah's Messenger recite the Quran and, when they returned to their people, said, [O people! Surely we listened to a Book that has been revealed after Moses, affirms what precedes it, and guides to right and the Straight Path] (Al-Ahqaf 46:30). The surah continues with what they thought about what they had heard. Some traditions tell us that the Messenger (peace and blessings be upon him) recited parts of the Quran and preached his message to the jinn.

Dear leo,

Thanks for yours.

I've been very busy. Am going to San Francisco on Wednesday and will be back on the 3rd. I have given the lecture some thought but haven't yet come up with something... I'll have to get back to you upon my return...

I have informed John David Griffin about it all but he hasn't replied yet. He'll be back in Stockholm early October too.

The reply from HB was positive but, again, the requirement is that his girlfriend and child (infant) can come along. They will travel out of NYC. Please keep location secret.

Wow... Now I've just talked to you on the phone. Interactive psychedelia, real time...

A evil Satanist and Jesuit slave Dr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold in Brazil

To: "leo young"
Dear Mr. Leo,

Thanks for your concern. Actually I am not a R+C, nor a Mason, neither a Templar. I am just a woman really worried about some friends that had been initiated in Alexandrian wiccan Tradition by this Mr. Frisvold.

We were actually 4 friends, three of them just "kitchen witches" and I. These friends were witches since some time ago, though they've never had initiated in any tradition yet... I met them in mailing lists on the Internet.

I knew of Mr. Frisvold by his wife, called "Tzillah", or Kati de Mattos Frisvold, also involved in tantric traditions, among other things like Order of Merlin in Brazil and Tantric "practices" also in mailing lists. She was proud of her husband and telling us by emails about his old grimoires, his deep knowledge related to magician old traditions, witchcraft and a kind of workshop he would do within some weeks, about 3 months ago, ... and then, I saw one of my friends saying that she also knew him... I can't say how, but I felt really bad since then... like if there was a kind of black cloud above my head.

So, within some days, also three months ago, in one of the lists I'm moderator, a man asked for a black cat for sacrifice... and then I knew something that I really didn't like: this man is related to Black Magic here in Brazil... and he is "linked" to Frisvold. Both are "babalawos" in african rites... and they were "working" together sacrificing animals for their african gods... in order to "cure" even lung cancer!

Due to this cat, there was a kind of "rupture": Two of my friends left us, there was a huge "fight" between them and the other friend of mine... After some time, I knew the reason for that: these friends who left me were decided to get their initiation with this man, Nicholaj...

I can't describe you what I felt. During the period they were fighting and saying sad things to each other, I had a kind of a vision of an evil being. And something like a voice said me "it" was being sent by those black magical people... I became really worried... and that's how I started searching about Nicholaj on the internet, as I could see something really evil relating to him.

On Internet, I could find a site where his name is related to Jorge Rodriguez-Villa, a so called Old Catholic Skulker and I could know among other things that Frisvold was an Anglican-Rite Catholic Bishop... despite the fact none of the people that knows Frisvold had ever said anything about that... I've found it amazing...

I entered an internet group where Nicholaj and his wife are moderators... and it was there, in their internet group, where I've found your email address (I sent you the messages where Nicholaj is "fighting" against you, in my previous email...) that's how I could find you, and that's the whole story, despite the fact there were other events related to it but of no real importance. What matters is that within some months I could know that Frisvold is a master in Psychology, a Catholic Bishop, a Babalawo, a Mason and many other titles in other secret orders like Thelema which I don't know...

I am indeed really worried about my friends. They look like brain washed people... and when I read your email, I truly believed in what you say because that's a fact: my friends look like brain washed people, they've cut off our friendship, they don't even want to listen to me. I called them by phone begging them to stop, I begged please don't accept being initiated by him... but it was too late: they are already like Nicholaj's daughters now... all of them are "brothers" and "sisters"... none says absolutely nothing about anything they do, nor accepts any kind of comment related to their activities nor what they do, just that all that they learn is about thelema and satanism and black mass, and black magic... Really? I find that I've lost my friends...

Maybe you won't say me anything else as I'm none but an worried person. I am sorry because I know I am of no help for you but if even if I am none you think that I can help... please let me know. Those people related to Nicholaj declared war against me, his wife hates me for the fact I went there in their group and said they are doing wrong when killing animals for the practice of illegal medicine... she threatens me and says I will die if I go on my searching about her husband Frisvold. I don't know what to do.

I really don't fear witchcraft... but I am worried anyway. My two friends (that now are like Frisvold's daughters) know a lot about me... they even know my street address, the town I'm in, my routine... and if they are brain washed now, I don't know what they are able to do in the name of their "father" "bishop" Dr. Nicolaj Frisvold...

Help me, please... I need a way to stop all this... I need a way to stop Frisvold of doing what he is doing here in Brazil. I feel he is a dangerous man and I don't know what's able to happen from now on...

Thank very much you again, I hope we keep in touch.

Ishtahar

PS: so sorry I can't give you my real name right now as I fear for my life. But when I can find a way to stop all this, I promise, I will tell you.

PS2: Sorry for my english. And please don't forget to say my how can I help you, of if there is something that I can do in order to stop this man and send him back to Norway where he can be judged for his acts.

THROUGH THE HOLY QUR'AN MEET THE ULTIMATE TRUTH

Posted on Tuesday, October 24, 2006 at 12:24AM by  [Your Name Here] |  | Comment

Qur'an says ALLAH made us into tribes and communities so that we may know one another and not despise one another.

"Get Knowledge, get wisdom, but with all thy getting, get an understanding". There is an aim and a purpose for each individual on the face of the earth. We all have a destiny. As long as man is shackled with the chains of ignorance and selfishness, he may never come to realize his inherent worth. Those who know are to inform those who do not know.

Verily, (the ends) ye strive for are diverse.

So he who gives (in charity)

And fears (God), and (in all sincerity) Testifies to the Best-

We will indeed make smooth for him

The path to Bliss.

THE MURDER OF CALVI WAS ARRANGED WITH UK INTELLIGENCE SUPPORT BY P2 BROTHER GAETANO BADALAMENTI

Posted on Wednesday, October 25, 2006 at 02:36PM by [\[Your Name Here\]](#) | Post a Comment

Bro.Gaetano Badalamenti was taking orders from the masonic Lodge P2 part of the Vatican illuminati Jesuit Network.

He was also untill is death a good friend of illustrius Bro.Ezio Giunchiglia treasurer of the P2.

Badalamenti arranged for the P2 the killing of Brother Calvi, this murder was ordered by Marcinkus and the Jesuits in control of the Vatican safe and the P2.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Mafia boss Gaetano Badalamenti

Gaetano Badalamenti (Cinisi, September 14, 1923 – Devens Federal Medical Center, Ayer, Massachusetts, April 29, 2004) was a powerful member of the Sicilian Mafia. Don Tano Badalamenti was the capomafia of his hometown Cinisi, Sicily, and headed the Sicilian Mafia Commission in the 1970s. In 1987 he was sentenced in the United States to 45 years in federal prison for being one of the leaders of the so-called Pizza Connection, a US$ 1.65 billion drug-trafficking ring that used pizzerias as fronts to distribute heroin from 1975 to 1984.

Tano Badalamenti always remained the old style mafioso, faithful to the rule of omertà. He never admitted to belong to Cosa Nostra, but he never denied it either. At one point he said during interrogations by the FBI: "If I did answer I would damage myself in Italy." Despite his 45-year sentence in the US he never became a pentito. Badalamenti commanded respect. He is described as "the kind of person, who, when you look at him, you know is in charge of something."

Tano Badalamenti was the youngest of a family with five boys and four girls. He had minimal schooling before he was put to work as a field hand at age ten. Drafted into the Italian army in 1941, he deserted before the Allies invaded Sicily in July 1943. His elder brother Emanuele Badalamenti migrated to the United States and operated a supermarket and gas station in Monroe, Michigan. In 1946 Gaetano was named in an arrest warrant on charges of conspiracy and kidnapping. In 1947 he was charged with murder as well, and he fled to his brother Emanuele in the US. Badalamenti was arrested in 1950 and deported back to Italy. He married Theresa Vitale (her sister was married to Filippo Rimi, the capomafia of Alcamo) and set up a business on the family land as a lemon grower. His judicial difficulties were all resolved because of insufficient evidence.

Badalamenti founded a successful construction business that supplied the crushed rock for Palermo's Punta Raisi Airport which fell within the Cinisi family's sphere of influence. In the early 1960s he successfully bribed officials to have the airport built near his hometown, despite its inconvenient geographical position. The construction needed large quantities of rock and gravel, which were available in large quantities on the family property. His two construction firms, a concrete plant and a fleet of trucks provided much needed employment for the townsfolk and enriched Badalamenti.

[edit]Capomafia of Cinisi

Badalamenti assumes leadership of the Mafia in Cinisi in 1963 after a car bomb killed Cesare Manzella during the First Mafia War. The Ciaculli Massacre on June 30, 1963 – when seven police and military officers sent to defuse a car bomb intended for mafioso Salvatore Greco were killed – changed the Mafia War into a war against the Mafia. It prompted the first concerted anti-mafia efforts by the state in post-war Italy. Within a period of ten weeks 1,200 mafiosi were arrested, many of whom would be kept out of circulation for five or six years. The Sicilian Mafia Commission was dissolved.

Badalamenti had complete control in Cinisi. "It seemed that Badalamenti was well-liked by the carabinieri as he was calm, reliable, and always liked a chat. It almost felt like he was doing them a favour in that nothing ever happened in Cinisi, it was a quiet little town." [...] "I often used to see them walking arm in arm with Tano Badalamenti and his henchmen. You can't have faith in the institutions when you see the police arm in arm with mafiosi," according to Giovanni Impastato – the brother of murdered Anti-mafia activist Giuseppe Impastato – in his declaration before the Italian Antimafia Commission. [1]

[edit]Heroin Trafficking

Gaetano Badalamenti would become one of the major heroin traffickers of the Sicilian Mafia. From 1975 to 1984, he was one of the main ringleaders of a US$1.65 billion dollar heroin trafficking operation, known as the Pizza Connection, that imported heroin from the Middle East and distributed the drugs through U.S. mid-western pizzeria store fronts.

Already in 1951, the American police identified a 50 kilogram shipment of heroin to Badalamenti who was then living in Detroit as an illegal immigrant. However, in the 1950s most money was made by smuggling foreign cigarettes into Italy. In 1953 Badalamenti is arrested for cigarette smuggling in Italy for the first time. In 1957 he is caught again with 3,000 kilograms of foreign made cigarettes.

The repression caused by the Ciaculli Massacre disarranged the Sicilian heroin trade to the United States. Mafiosi were banned, arrested and incarcerated. Control over the trade fell into the hands of a few fugitives: the Greco cousins Salvatore "Ciaschiteddu" Greco and his cousin Salvatore Greco, also known as "l'ingegnere" or "TotÀ il lungo", Pietro DavÀ, Tommaso Buscetta and Gaetano Badalamenti.

After 1975, Badalamenti allied with Salvatore Catalano of the Sicilian faction in the Bonanno family in New York and was involved with the "Pizza Connection" case, where mafia smuggled millions worth of heroin and cocaine to USA using mafia-owned pizzerias as distribution points. When FBI began to close in 1984, Badalamenti fled to Spain but was arrested in Madrid.

In 1985 Gaetano and others involved with the case were charged with illegal narcotics trade, conspiracy against the RICO Act and for money laundering. Prosecutors also said that they were responsible for murders in USA and Sicily. The trial against Badalamenti and his allies took 17 months. During it Badalamenti and Catalano testified against each other and. On June 22, 1987 Badalamenti was convicted only of money laundering but sentenced to 45 years in prison and fines worth $125,000. Only his son Vito Badalamenti was released.

[edit]On the Sicilian Mafia Commission

In 1970, the Sicilian Mafia Commission was revived. It consisted of ten members but would initially be ruled by a triumvirate consisting of Gaetano Badalamenti, Stefano Bontade and the Corleonesi boss Luciano Leggio, although it was Salvatore Riina who actually would represent the Corleonesi. In 1975 the full Commission was reconstituted under the leadership of Badalamenti. The Mafia Commission was meant to settle disputes and keep the peace, but Leggio and his stand-in and successor, Salvatore Riina, were plotting to decimate the Palermo clans. At the close of 1978, Gaetano Badalamenti was expelled from the Commission and Michele Greco replaced him. This marked the end of a period of relative peace and signified a major change in the Mafia itself.

Tano Badalamenti was also replaced as head of the Cinisi Mafia family by his cousin Antonio Badalamenti. He moved to Brazil through Spain and settled in Sao Paulo.

[edit]Political Contacts

Italy's highest court, the Court of Cassation, ruled in October 2004 that former Prime Minister Giulio Andreotti had "friendly and even direct ties" with top men in the so-called moderate wing of Cosa Nostra, Gaetano Badalamenti and Stefano Bontade, favoured by the connection between them and Salvo Lima through the Salvo cousins.

According to investigating magistrates Andreotti also commissioned the Mafia to kill the muckraking journalist Mino Pecorelli, managing editor of the obscure magazine Osservatorio Politico (OP). Pecorelli at times accepted bribes to stop publication. The murder took place on March 20, 1979. Andreotti feared Pecorelli was about to publish information that could have destroyed his political career, in particular the illegal financing of the Christian Democratic Party and secrets about the 1978 kidnapping and killing of a former Prime Minister Aldo Moro by the Red Brigades.

Mafia turncoat Tommaso Buscetta testified that Gaetano Badalamenti told him it was the Salvo cousins who commissioned the murder with the Mafia as a favor to Andreotti. In 1999 the Perugia Court acquitted Andreotti, his righthand man Claudio Vitalone (a former Foreign Trade Minister), Badalamenti and Giuseppe CalÃ², as well as the alleged killers Massimo Carminato, who has been linked to right-wing terrorist groups active in the 1970's, and Michelangelo La Barbera. On November 17, 2002, the Appeals Court overturned the acquittal of Badalamenti and Andreotti. They were sentenced to 24 years in prison for ordering the murder of Pecorelli. However, the Supreme Court cleared both on October 30, 2003.

In 2002, an Italian court convicted him of the 1978 murder of activist radio broadcaster Giuseppe Impastato and sentenced him for a life in prison. Giuseppe Impastato used humor and satire as his weapon against the Mafia. In his popular daily radio programme Onda pazza (Crazy Waves) he mocked politicians and mafiosi alike. On a daily basis he exposed the crimes and dealings of mafiosi in Mafiopoli (Cinisi) and the activities of Tano Seduto (Sitting Tano), a thinly disguised pseudonym of Don Tano Badalamenti, the capomafia of Cinisi.

Don Tano Badalamenti died from heart failure at the age of 80 at the Devens Federal Medical Center, Ayer (MA) on April 29, 2004.

Stimatissimi amici, ho ricevuto una lettera e ciÃ² mi ha dato un grande piacere, vista l'alta considerazione che ho per chi me l'ha inviata, Monsignor Granfranco Ravasi, prefetto dell'Ambrosiana e uno dei piÃ¹ grandi bibliisti di fama mondiale. Permettetemi dunque di condividere con voi questa mia gioia. Grazie, cordialissimi saluti, Mandel

Caro prof. Mandel, La ringrazio della duplice sorpresa graditissima che mi ha fatto, inviandomi da un lato il suo magnifico (anche graficamente) volume di poesie, che inserirÃ² nel catalogo dell'Ambrosiana dopo una lettura che mi sta già affascinando; e dall'altro il bel dizionario iconografico "Islam" che mi sarà certamente utile. La ricordo con stima e simpatia, ammirando la Sua opera di fede e di luce nella comunità milanese e per il suo impegno a diffondere l'Illuminazione. Un augurio e un saluto affettuoso da Gianfranco Ravasi.

Federico Fellini, Giulietta Masina, Vittorio Vanni and famous medium and sensitive Gustavo Rol belonged to a Chapter of the illuminati School of Giuliano Kremmerz S.P.H.C.I.Fr+Tm+ di Miriam.

Bro.Vittorio Vanni is actually one of the few illuminati I still respect in Italy who truly cares for truth and freedom of speech, in this poor country of Italy still living under P2 dictatorship after all these years, and that's why Bro.Ezio Giunchiglia was always trying to sabotage him in Monte Carlo (Bro.Vanni is a honorary member of the Monte Carlo Lodge) , but Ezio never really manages completely because Vanni is also very close to Licio Gelli and he is the most important representative of Florence Martinism...that's another name for the illuminati MARTINISM.

Brother Julian Rees famous illuminati and satanist with crew (10/26/2006)

W.Bro.

Julian Rees and crew.JPG

W.Bro.Julian Rees editor of Freemasonry Today (directed by Michael Baigent) is probably one of the most influential people in English Freemasonry at the present time, and unfortunately a dangerous agent of the Jesuits in constant contact with the American illuminati satanic network of the various OTO's and other illuminati organizations like for example the illuminati Accademy of Di Bernardo in Italy. Illustrious Brother Julian Rees speaks perfect German and as a past in the military intelligence field working at times for NATO during the cold war in West Germany. In addition to this Julian is a Past Master of Pilgrim Lodge 238 the only German speaking lodge in the English Constitution, and most important a notorious place for illuminati revolutionaries like A.Crowley's Master Bro.Theodor Reuss. Julian Rees was my Mentor in the English Constitution untill I started to rebell against the American illuminati in 2003 . INSIDE FELLINI'S SECRET ILLUMINATI SCHOOL - HIERARQUIA DE MYRIAM (10/26/2006)

HIERARQUIA DE MYRIAM

Pragmatica di Myriam

La presente Pragmatica fu creata dal Kremmerz per la sua Schola Hermetica e approvata nei suoi 60 commi nella convezione del 22 Dicembre 1909, in sostituzione dei precedenti 33 articoli dell'istruzione generale, approvati il 20 Marzo del 1896.

Tale Pragmatica costituiva il fascicolo A, il primo quaderno che la Miriam forniva a tutti i nuovi iscritti alla Schola.

Ritengo che il materiale e la documentazione interni alla Schola e le opere che il Kremmerz non dette alle stampe, debbano rimanere tali, non fosse altro che per il rispetto verso la volontà del Maestro. In seguito per² alla pubblicazione della Pragmatica, insieme alla "Relazione ai Dodici Supremi Vecchi Maestri del Collegio Operante", alla "Circolare del 29 Giugno 1914" e al "Credo", su di un testo intitolato "Le carte storiche della Fratellanza di Myriam", a cura di Giammaria Gonnella, un allievo del Ricciardelli, edito dalla Kemi di Milano nel 1980, la Pragmatica non è più¹ un documento riservato e mi sento quindi legittimato alla sua pubblicazione.

I 60 commi della Pragmatica descrivono l'organizzazione gerarchica della Schola, i suoi fini e i suoi mezzi, e sono quindi di fondamentale importanza per chiunque voglia comprendere meglio il messaggio del Maestro Kremmerz e la sua Schola.

CAPO I

Scopo, gradi e noviziato

Scopo di questa Scuola è:

1° Lo studio delle scienze che si occupano dei poteri non ancora ben conosciuti dell'organismo umano, animismo, attività mentale, chiaroveggenza, previsione, telepatia e tutti i fenomeni supernormali e spirituali.

2° L'invenzione sui documenti classici, opere, memorie, scienze alchimiche e magiche, religioni, riti, tradizioni popolari, mitologie delle verità occultate dagli antichi o per ostruzionismo religioso o per regola settaria.

3° L'affratellamento di tutti gli studiosi di buona volontà e l'allenamento alle pratiche per conquistare possibili attività dell'organismo mentale e psicofisico tali da spiegare col proprio controllo gli effetti e i fenomeni non comuni.

Questa Scuola segue un doppio metodo di cultura: uno di letture, conferenze, pubblicazioni intese a dare un corredo di cognizioni di tutto ciò che è argomento di ermetismo e magia antica e psichismo moderno, l'altro di pratiche tradizionali per provocare la propria educazione ascensionale e dirigerne in senso utile ai dolori umani l'esplicazione.

3

Non essendo le cose, di cui la scuola fa materia di sua investigazione ed insegnamento, tali da paragonarsi alle scienze sperimentali fisiche e matematiche, adotta un metodo di insegnamento e di esplorazione tutto differente da quello adoperato finora dalle società di ricerche psichiche e soprannormali, sviluppa le attitudini occulte di ogni allievo ed esperimenta le correnti di volontà collettive per ottenere fenomeni benefici controllabili da tutti.

A questa scuola possono appartenere tutti gli uomini di buona volontà che si impegnano a seguirne gli insegnamenti pratici, a obbedire alle regole di ogni classe, a rispettarne l'organizzazione gerarchica e a rivolgere nell'unica applicazione delle forze psichiche alla cura delle infermità ogni manifestazione del proprio ascenso. Sono pregati di non domandare l'iscrizione quelli che appartengono a società di studi psichici, teosofici, spiritisti o i praticanti fervidi di religioni o i facenti parte di sette mistiche.

La nostra scuola deve considerarsi dal punto di vista della sua organizzazione come una famiglia col diritto di primogenitura dei più avanzati e l'autorità patriarcale dei preposti alla sua direzione.

L'idea generale della Scuola è compresa in cinque circoli o classi.

Il primo (circolo esterno) comprende due sezioni: i novizi praticanti e gli anziani.

Il secondo (circolo interno) \tilde{A} formato dai discepoli propriamente detti integrali.

Il terzo (circolo interno) dai terapeuti.

Il quarto (circolo interno) dai maestri ermetisti.

Il quinto (direzione) dal Collegio degli Operanti.

Ogni iscritto \tilde{A} considerato come un numero, cioè \tilde{A} una quantità concreta di forza, ed \tilde{A} l'unità minima di una catena di volontà.

Il Collegio Operante \tilde{A} l'unità $\pi\tilde{A}^1$ alta e si fa rappresentare da un delegato all'insegnamento generale e alla propaganda, il quale può avere nello archivio centrale uno, due o $\pi\tilde{A}^1$ segretari o dirigenti.

Per essere ammesso alla iscrizione bisogna farsi presentare da un iscritto quando non si sia conosciuto dal Delegato Generale, ed avere i requisiti di rettitudine che rendono rispettabile ogni uomo nella società in cui vive, la cultura anche elementare delle materie che formano lo scopo dei nostri studi e poi farne domanda con:

1° Nome, cognome, maternità e paternità, data e luogo di nascita.

2° Promessa di seguire le regole e le pratiche della scuola.

3° Dichiarazione di non appartenere a società come al secondo capoverso del n° 4

° Impegno di tenere riservate le istruzioni pratiche e gli insegnamenti particolari che dalla direzione gli saranno concessi.

Accolta la domanda l'iscritto riceverà una pagella di ammissione contenente il numero determinativo che gli spetta, la sua serie o categoria di tendenza generale, e una cifra ideografica indicante lo sviluppo geniale cui deve aspirare, un quaderno di istruzioni particolari al grado e un rito o regola da seguire come novizio operante.

L'iscritto deve provvedersi di un camice di lana rosso con cappuccio e un cordone di seta, che rappresentano il tipo uniforme di ogni numero della catena psichica della scuola.

Il novizio deve formare intorno a se un gruppo di dodici nuovi iscritti per ottenere l'anello di anziano, e dopo di aver mostrato di ben dirigerli potrà aspirare a diventare del circolo interno col grado di discepolo.

10

L'iscritto che si renda socialmente indegno della stima pubblica, o subisca condanne degradanti \tilde{A} radiato dai numeri componenti la nostra scuola; ma violando le regole subirà le punizioni disciplinari che il collegio dei dirigenti vedrà giuste.

11

Al novizio praticante saranno consigliati i libri da leggere o studiare o commentare. e saranno concessi aiuti in ragione della solerzia e degli studi che compie.

12

La Scuola non domanda il rimborso di nessuna spesa. Costituita intorno ad un ideale di Bene. tutti gli iscritti sono considerati come stretti da un patto affettuoso di famiglia.

Chi può concorra alle spese generali, chi può meno paghi le sole spese di invio. i poveri non saranno in debito con nessun dovere di contribuzione.

CAPO II

Carattere generale della scuola

13

La Scuola nella forma esteriore non ha simbolo ma l'insieme delle volontà ed anime che compiono i riti in tutti i cinque circoli in una catena o comunione di idealità \tilde{A} conosciuta come Fratellanza Terapeuta, magica o ermetica, di Miriam e ogni iscritto \tilde{A} un fratello, a qualunque circolo o classe appartenga.

Le abbreviazioni sono indicate da una croce, così $\neg Fr+$ $Tm+$ di Mir+.

Esteriormente i gruppi di iscritti che si riuniscono autorizzati dal Delegato Generale sotto la direzione di un anziano, in sede fissa, con programma speciale di studio, istituzioni di carità, devono presentarsi al pubblico sotto il nome di Accademia seguita da un appellativo speciale scelto dai fondatori e approvato dalla Delegazione Generale, come accademia Lulliana, Della Porta, Paracelsiana o semplicemente accademia scientifica, psichica, filoterapica etc.

15

Ogni gruppo di non meno di cinque iscritti può riunirsi in accademia, purché tra i componenti vi sia almeno un anziano o un discepolo e siano tutti di accordo per sostenere a proprio carico ogni spesa occorrente ad una sede particolare con modesta dignità.

16

Ogni Accademia deve avere tre uffici elettivi, un Preside, un Archivario e un Censore. La nomina del Preside cade di spettanza su chi tra gli associati ha grado più avanzato, e tra quelli di pari grado per elezione, salvo l'accettazione della carica da parte dell'eletto o il veto della segretaria generale. L'Archivario fa ufficio di segretario e il Censore di cassiere ed economo.

17

I fondatori di ogni Accademia sono liberi di stabilire uno statuto o regolamento interno, determinare il modo o il tempo di elezione degli uffici, le contribuzioni degli associati alle spese di mantenimento dell'Accademia, casa, illuminazione, suppellettili, spese di segreteria etc., le attribuzioni particolari di ogni ufficio, i giorni di riunioni particolari, obbligatorie o libere, la fondazione di sale di lettura, di dispensari medici quando tra i soci vi sia un medico legalmente esercente, e per fino di sale ospedaliere ove il numero dei soci o i fondi lo permettano.

18

E' obbligatoria in ogni accademia l'esistenza regolamentare di tre registri:

1° Uno per i verbali delle sedute di spettanza del segretario o Archivario.

2° Uno per le spese, gli incassi e le oblazioni di qualunque specie, e che sarà tenuto dal Censore.

3° Uno per certificati originali e documentati di tutte le guarigioni ottenute o propiziate e deve essere tenuto, custodito e redatto sotto la assoluta responsabilità morale del Preside.

Le regole per i lavori collettivi o conferenze o insegnamenti verranno comunicate volta per volta dalla direzione generale, la quale conserva assoluta autorità gerarchica come su tutti i soci, su tutte le accademie, e dove non creda regolari le gestioni, può incaricare d'ufficio un iscritto di altra sede per ispezioni e riferisca per provvedere alle irregolarità.

Per in massima, quando non siano violate le disposizioni di studi, pratiche e lavori, la Delegazione Generale assicura la più ampia indipendenza alla vita ed espansione locale delle accademie che devono comparire innanzi al pubblico come istituzioni indipendenti e profane, ma escludere assolutamente la partecipazione ad esse di soci non iscritti alla scuola.

Quando una Accademia affidi ad uno dei soci, medico esercente legalmente, l'istituzione di una clinica gratuita per i poveri o ricchi che si presentino, il medico deve essere assistito da due fratelli per turno tra i soci e tutti devono indossare la vestaglia o camice rituale. Tutti i rimedi farmaceutici o del Laboratorio Ermetico devono essere dati gratuitamente, per le Accademie nella loro personalità collettiva possono accettare donazioni o oblazioni di qualunque specie.

21

Un novizio puÃ² indicare la sua qualitÃ² facendo precedere il suo nome da una croce; l'anziano da tre croci; tutti del circolo interno da un punto circolare nero "â€", il segretario generale da due linee parallele tagliate da una perpendicolare, e il delegato generale dalla croce egiziana o da cinque punti o cinque croci.

22

Tutti i soci sparsi in una regione devono essere ascritti come corrispondenti all'Accademia piÃ¹ vicina stabilita e riconosciuta; devono accettare le condizioni fatte dall'Accademia ai soci corrispondenti, hanno il diritto di aver comunicate le relazioni piÃ¹ importanti e il dovere di assistere una volta almeno all'anno ad una riunione plenaria dell'Accademia di cui sono corrispondenti.

23

E' obbligatoria in ogni Accademia una festa annuale, con un pranzo rituale collettivo e una riunione plenaria nella sede sociale con conferenza del capo, il giorno del plenilunio della costellazione di leone. In tale circostanza possono partecipare alla festa persone estranee alla scuola, con regolare permesso dell'ufficio presidenziale.

24

L'Accademia che voglia erigersi ad ente morale secondo le leggi dello stato, deve presentarne domanda alla Delegazione del Collegio o Capitolo operante.

La chiusura di un anno accademico Ã² fissata al 21 Marzo di ogni anno; in tale giorno si rinnovano o si confermano gli uffici elettivi.

CAPO III

Il circolo interno - Il discepolo integrale

25

Ai due gradi accademici del circolo esterno (novizi praticanti e anziani) si dÃ² il carattere di preparazione degli elementi numeri alla iscrizione nel circolo interno, dove veramente comincia la pratica integrale dei poteri umani e si seguono i metodi tradizionali della educazione magica, cioÃ² del gruppo di conoscenze accertate o trasmesse nei libri e oralmente da chi ci ha preceduto, con adattamento esclusivo allo sviluppo dei poteri terapeutici.

Non si accede al circolo interno se non dopo esame dell'anziano come cultura generale e come condotta morale di vita sociale, e con iniziatura rituale che Ã² data dal Delegato Generale o da suoi procuratori, e si conferisce o pubblicamente nelle accademie tra i giÃ² facenti parte del circolo interno, o in forma privata.

Per considerazioni speciali l'investitura del grado di Discepolo puÃ² essere conferita anche a chi non abbia formato intorno a se un nucleo di dodici iscritti, ma solo come eccezione e per servizi resi alla scuola.

Non diventa regolare l'investitura del Discepolo se non dal giorno in cui questi riceve la Pagina o il diploma dal Delegato Generale o dal suo Procuratore, e previa dichiarazione dell'investito di non appartenere a nessuna Scuola di psichismo, setta, societÃ² o circolo che si occupi di scienze delle religioni, di pratiche religiose, di riunioni mistiche e di forme massoniche con concetti iniziatici. SarÃ² dato con riserva l'elenco delle societÃ² del genere, alla cui iscrizione il discepolo puÃ² partecipare.

27

La domanda di iniziatura al circolo interno deve essere scritta e presentata il giorno precedente al plenilunio di ciascun mese al Segretario della Delegazione Generale, e le investiture concesse non possono esser compiute che tra il 3Â° giorno del novilunio e la vigilia del plenilunio seguente nelle ore di Mercurio propizie del calendario astrologico della scuola, e l'aspirante alla investitura deve presentarsi con almeno tre giorni di preparazione.

28

Il Discepolo riceverÃ² gratuitamente dalla Delegazione Generale carte, diploma, pagina, comunicazioni, quaderni senza aver altro obbligo che di rimborsare le spese postali e nel caso sia decisa la pubblicazione di opere, stampe o bollettino della scuola, di acquistarne un esemplare che può essere gratuitamente concesso a chi non possa in alcun modo pagarne l'importo.

Si firmerà nei rapporti con la scuola facendo precedere il suo numero da un punto circolare nero.

Il Discepolo di primo grado deve formarsi un corredo di cognizioni proprie a spiegare a se stesso, e non ad altri, le pratiche che sono speciali al suo grado. La nostra regola non proibisce anzi facilita a tutti, promuovendo l'impianto di biblioteche nelle accademie, la lettura di libri di ogni genere attinenti alle scienze che studiano l'anima umana, e vuole che tutto venga appreso con criterio e discernimento positivi, ma impedisce assolutamente che si adoperi nelle relazioni scritte ed orali fra gli ascritti di qualunque grado, una logologia diversa da quella adoperata nei quaderni di iniziazione che saranno dati manoscritti o stampati nell'insegnamento delle classi.

In pari tempo è proibito di eseguire pratiche magnetiche o far parte di sedute spiritiche e sperimentali, o praticare riti che non siano direttamente autorizzati in via gerarchica.

30

Il Discepolo deve in modo concreto raggiungere la prova che egli è numero di una Scuola Unica, perché Uno è l'Ermete Universale e il Nume, e che la sua compagine consacrata in questo statuto fondamentale non può essere scrollata con innovazioni di forme, solo perché a qualcuno non chiamato a questi studi o non comprendendone il nobile fine, non possa piacere la rigida istituzione gerarchica, fondata sul governo dei più evoluti, nelle anime magicamente oranti in catena per un fine comune.

31

Il Discepolo, oltre al completo adattamento esteriore alle leggi morali della società in cui vive, deve:

• rinunciare ad ogni vanità di eccellere in apparenza nella stima del volgo e non dimenticare che è un numero il cui valore è dato dal Nume e non dalla società umana;

• non imporre la propria fede, coscienza e opinione se non con l'esempio e l'esercizio delle virtù acquistate. L'intolleranza deve essere bandita da ogni cuore ed anche dinanzi all'errore di quelli che negano la Luce;

• non mancare alla promessa e non dimenticarla;

• non rifiutare mai il suo aiuto a colui che glielo chiede e ricordarsi che dove non può con la persona bastano le parole, e se non ha parole basta un pensiero e che se a lui un suo simile s'inchina il Nume o l'Ermete che glielo manda, e contemporaneamente gli dona il potere di aiutarlo, consolarlo o sanarlo;

• non sognare in vana fantasia che egli possa sanare tutte le infelicità umane, poiché l'umanità è fatta di uomini simili a lui in apparenza, a lui eguali in elementi virtuali, ma differenti da lui e tra loro stessi per grado di sviluppo e di virtù in atto, dalla quale cosa emergono i mali sociali, per sanare i quali egli non ha missione universale se non quando diventerà l'incarnazione di un nume.

Il Discepolo deve compiere verso la sua donna compagna, se non ha scelto a tempo la via del celibato, missione di padre prima che di sposo, e considerarla come simbolo della donna nella umanità universale, fonte di tutto ciò che è nobile e bello, se in lei, matrice della società maschia, egli semina nobiltà e bellezza; guidarla, amarla, perdonarle generosamente ogni errore dovuto alla sensibilità del suo organismo, poiché l'Ermete predilige il profumo delle anime sensitive; sostenerla nelle sue debolezze, perché di lui è più debole e soggetta al governo della luna; non offenderla, non disprezzarla, non imprimere sul suo animo le stimmate dello spavento; e pensare che quello che egli fa sulla donna si riproduce nelle generazioni nelle quali egli deve vivere fino alla fine dei secoli.

Il Discepolo verso i figli deve esercitare non solo ogni cura che impone l'Affetto e la Società umana, ma ogni vigilanza perché prima di una maturità intellettuale riconosciuta, non siano avvinti a Società religiose.

Ai figli deve insegnare con l'esempio continuo che ogni atto della vita ha origine dalle nostre azioni, dalle nostre parole, dai nostri pensieri; che il dolore nella carne e nello spirito umano è come l'ombra e l'oscurità in un oceano di luce; che la morte non deve far paura, perché la vita nel rinnovarsi perpetuo delle forme;

che qui siamo sempre gli stessi e raccogliamo, soffrendo o godendo, quello che abbiamo seminato e seminiamo;

che gli dei si manifestano in noi e per mezzo nostro e che l'Unico grande Dio dell'Universo è la Legge per la quale l'Universo è.

34

Il Discepolo, oltre le cose che potranno essergli comunicate oralmente, ha l'obbligo di copiare di suo pugno, nel tempo assegnato, i quaderni necessari alla sua istruzione, e comunicarli neanche a condiscipoli, e farne oggetto di discussioni pubbliche. Deve eseguire con solerzia le pratiche assegnate a lui dal suo procuratore o maestro e compiere ogni sua azione con solerzia e puntualità, avere un giornale intimo dei progressi fatti e dei fenomeni ottenuti, e riferirne in iscritto se richiesto dal Capo della Scuola o dalla Segreteria centrale.

35

Il Discepolo può aspirare al grado di terapeuta dopo almeno un anno di grado, e appena in lui si presenta la certezza di poter compiere guarigioni nella corrente della catena della Fratellanza; a tal punto deve informare con rapporti quindicinali la segreteria del Delegato Generale di ogni cosa ottenuta e provata e tali rapporti saranno acclusi alla sua storia nella scuola e protocollati.

36

Quando la domanda del discepolo è presa in considerazione, il capo del Circolo o il Delegato Generale, gli assegna per controllo due condiscipoli e, risultato esatto alla prova, passa al circolo dei terapeuti.

CAPO IV

Circolo interno: i terapeuti e maestri ermetici

37

Il grado di terapeuta è conferito con anello d'oro massiccio di forma rituale. Deve esser acquistato o fatto costruire da chi è insignito del grado e consegnato alla Segreteria Generale perché siano incisi i caratteri talismanici, poi gli sarà riconsegnato con un breve rito da un Procuratore o dal Delegato Generale.

38

Assieme all'anello di grado, verrà data scritta od oralmente l'istruzione per adoperarlo efficacemente.

È proibito al terapeuta di fare dell'anello di grado segno appariscente e ordinario di decorazione personale, e lo conserverà con le disposizioni che gli saranno comunicate alla consegna.

39

Il terapeuta nella scuola comincia ad esercitare officio di istruttore o di docente e gli possono essere affidati i novizi che egli deve curare e far progredire, e non può rifiutarsi a tale ministero, perché per lui questo insegnamento è una prova.

40

Il terapeuta deve esercitare praticamente tutti i poteri animici e psichici acquistati, consolidare la sua cultura, e tentare la manifestazione diretta del Kons o Dioscuoro e vederne la faccia o sentirne la parola e avere la chiave delle tre forme del serpente del male.

41

Il terapeuta passerà alla conoscenza dell'Unica Sorgente da cui emanano i poteri guaritivi dei dolori della carne e dello spirito umani, e delle tre forme di emanazione dei poteri curativi e miracolosi: la preghiera, la incantazione e lo scongiuro o carne.

42

Il terapeuta acquisterà conoscenza della Rosa nella corrente delle anime, per intendere i principi della terapeutica ermetica adattabile alla elaborazione dei medicinali e su che riposa la fallacia di tutte le scuole mediche profane rispetto alla terapia magica; imparerà l'applicazione del magnetismo animale fuori l'empirismo delle scuole note; e conoscerà senza parlare i centri emanatori di vita e di morte; intuirà la possibilità di una terapia assoluta senza medicinali, nella psicurgia e taumaturgia.

43

Al terapeuta saranno impartite solo comunicazioni orali a periodi fissi e passerà senz'altro nella categoria dei Maestri Isiaci o di Miriam appena avrà intravisto la conoscenza dell'arcano simbolizzato nella tradizionale clavicola salomonica ed il suo uso.

44

L'investitura dei maestri è data con la stola nera dei necrofori sacerdoti isiaci e la stola bianca e oro dei celebranti; essi si daranno esclusivamente allo studio alchimico per la ricerca del secondo arcano conosciuto tradizionalmente coi nomi di Elixir di Lunga Vita, Medicina Ermetica, Polvere di proiezione, Trasmutatore alchimico e altri caduti in dispregio per non avervi gli studiosi profani voluto vedere l'artificio di nascondimento di poteri ignoti, per analogia e non per similitudine.

45

I maestri saranno chiamati a perpetuare la scuola, a formare i laboratori ermetici, ed essere in missione di propaganda e ad eleggere tra essi un capo, che sostituirà l'attuale Delegato Generale preposto ora alla scuola ed entrerà direttamente in contatto coi dodici vecchi maestri del Collegio Operante.

46

Ai Maestri è confidato il mandato di mantener salda la campagna della Scuola e assicurarne la continuità; a prendere iniziative per la sua sistemazione avvenire come ordine laico di vera scienza delle anime adattata ad un fine di utilità umana; a renderla strumento di progresso scientifico e fonte di luce su ogni tirannia tenebrosa dell'ignoranza sacerdotale delle vecchie religioni monopolizzate con intendimenti oppressori degli spiriti e della scienza.

47

Il Delegato Generale è il più giovane dei maestri scelto dai dodici vecchi formanti il Collegio o Capitolo Operante. Apparisce come fondatore di questa Scuola, ma deve essere considerato come uno strumento della Mente del consesso da cui è scelto. Il Delegato Generale manterrà coi mezzi consentitigli dal suo ufficio la disciplina e la osservanza delle regole e non verrà meno al suo mandato.

Gli iscritti che violano i regolamenti o dimenticano le promesse o che in modo qualunque si rendano indegni della scuola saranno puniti con l'interdizione negligente o la punitiva.

L'una e l'altra importano la sospensione dei poteri acquistati, temporaneamente o definitivamente o con l'aggravante di altri provvedimenti di ordine morale.

48

Il Delegato Generale può lasciare il suo ufficio per ordine del Collegio o Capitolo Operante, suo giudice diretto e suo mandante.

Pu², autorizzato, farsi sostituire temporaneamente o delegare a sua volta un rappresentante diretto per una regione o stato, pu² conservarsi anonimo o manifestarsi apertamente.

In caso di morte, dal circolo dei maestri sar¹ eletta una terna su cui cadr¹ la scelta del Collegio Operante, secondo speciale regola che il circolo dei maestri conoscer¹ a suo tempo.

CAPO V

Disposizioni complementari

La Scuola Ermetica deve essere considerata da ogni iscritto come un Ente Benefico, alle cui simboliche fonti ogni iscritto deve sapienza e grazia e la Fratellanza una immensa corrente di bene e di Luce.

La personalit¹ collettiva e grandiosa di questa Fratellanza Ideale, famiglia di perfettibili senza altra pretesa che di progredire e spandere dovunque e comunque l'esempio di una grande opera civile che si manifesta con un insegnamento progressivo a tutti gli uomini di buona volont¹, non deve essere menomata posposta o impersonata da un nome o da alcuni nomi, anche che questo uno o questi pi¹ ripetano i miracoli taumaturgici dei grandi iniziati di tutti i tempi e di tutte le razze.

Ogni adepto di questa scuola quindi non pu² emergere ne lo deve a detrimento della personalit¹ collettiva della Scuola e della Fratellanza, anche che il Nume lo renda degno di reverenza e fama. Non per principio di falsa umilt¹ comune a diverse sette, ma perch¹ ognuno di noi deve considerarsi un numero, che tanto esplica le sue funzioni virtuose nella realt¹ della vita per quanto il proprio valore ¹ originato, aumentato e intensificato dalla grande corrente psichica di una catena di volont¹ che pu² diventare immensa, pur passando ignorata dalla folla.

Onde non si stabiliscano viziose abitudini fino dal suo inizio funzionale, si vieta di attribuire al nome del Delegato Generale ogni successo che stia per ottenere riconoscimento di un pubblico pi¹ o meno ristretto, e si fa ordine esplicito di riferire e addebitare ogni cosa riuscita alla Scuola Ermetica o Fratellanza di Miriam.

51

La Scuola conserva i suoi insegnamenti segreti, non perch¹ sia o aspiri a diventare una setta, ma per l'indole stessa dei metodi e procedimenti di educazione psichica degli iscritti. Se oggi questi metodi paiono non scientifici ai volghi e rifuggenti la luce della pubblicit¹, appena le scienze psichiche studiate da singoli cultori delle universit¹ europee saranno per poco avanzate, si trover¹ opportuno che una scuola della nostra indole non possa servirsi di altri metodi. Poich¹ gli insegnamenti e le pratiche variano spesso non solo da gruppi a gruppi, ma da uomo a uomo, per differenza di preparazione, di carattere, di tendenze, di costituzione di ogni allievo.

52

La Scuola Ermetica nata integrativa pei poteri dell'organismo fisico e psichico dell'uomo, tendente ad acquistare qualit¹ supernormali, non ¹ una Fratellanza mistica nel senso ovvio della parola, perch¹ non fa procedere dall'Ignoto il Grande Ignoto padre di ogni religione volgare per grazia la concessione delle qualit¹ superiori alle medie della umanit¹ contemporanea, ma allena le potest¹ virtuali dell'organismo vivente e vitale alla produzione di effetti vari o non comuni, materia di miracoli attribuiti agli Dei sacerdotali e se i suoi discepoli arrivano alla conoscenza di vere entit¹ (eoni) individue fuori la sensibilit¹ umana, lo devono non all¹

€TM avvicinamento fortuito o impreciso e eccezionale di quelle a noi, ma per lo studio di leggi conosciute da certi sacerdozii speciali per le quali, se queste entit¹ esistono, si devono rendere sensibili e intelligenti a noi.

53

La Scuola Ermetica Fr+ Tm+ di Miriam proibisce ad ogni ascritto di qualunque grado, di tentare realizzazioni fuori l'unico intento di curare o sanare infermi: quindi saranno disciplinarmente puniti coloro che si occupano di ricerche a scopi diversi, o cercano di abusare della libertà dell'intelligenza dei meno evoluti, o prevaricano per adattare le doti acquisite a procurarsi ricchezze o vincere in competizioni commerciali, o sopraffare in modo qualunque i disarmati alla lotta. Anzi si fa obbligo a tutti di denunciare qualsiasi persona fuori gruppo che, esercitata nelle pratiche di alcuni segreti psichici, tenda a violare la incolumità delle persone e delle famiglie.

Si fa obbligo a tutti gli ascritti di non modellarsi su alcune scuole di empirismo medico che denigrano tutti gli studi moderni e le investigazioni dei pazienti scienziati glorie con temporanee, col pretesto che, non essendo credenti nelle leggi dello spirito, non sono giovevoli alla società umana come dovrebbero.

Essi ascritti devono invece considerare che la Scienza Umana è il risultato dei contributi di tutte le intelligenze, e il secolo passato e questo che comincia hanno contribuito ad essa in copia maggiore dei diciotto secoli di ignoranza precedente in cui l'Occidente diventò mancipio della tirannia spirituale esercitata dal fanatismo cristiano cattolico sugli sperimentatori liberi asserviti al pregiudizio di un sacerdozio indotto nelle cose che sono oggetto di osservazione e sperimentalismo.

Essi ascritti, più che vedersi in conflitto con un medico che cura un infermo devono comprendere che l'opera del medico non manca di intenzione benefica accoppiata ad una osservazione sperimentale chiara, imperfetta solo nel rendere il rimedio virtuoso; essi quindi comprenderanno ancora che se a donare questa virtù concorrono coi mezzi psichici che sono loro a disposizione, faranno bene egualmente a chi si ha il dovere di soccorrere.

A tutti gli ascritti si richiede la libertà assoluta da ogni impegno precedente o contemporaneo all'affiliazione nella Scuola Ermetica, ma s'intende per ogni qualsiasi società religiosa, mistica, iniziatica.

La nostra Fratellanza è e sarà come è stata nei secoli, non ha pretesa di apostolato unico, ma vuole raccolti e raggruppati, col vincolo dell'Ideale santo della Scienza e della Verità, pochi ma saldi elementi che ne assicurino l'esplicazione e la realizzazione fuori ogni lotta politica, sociale e religiosa, poiché la Scienza deve essere considerata di là dai confini delle nazioni e delle razze, e patrimonio della Umanità intera.

56

In base al concetto fondamentale formulato nel paragrafo precedente, la Fratellanza si intende esclusa da ogni preconcetto che determina le lotte di opinioni nella politica e si afferma come strumento solo di scienza libera dai vincoli della superstizione ignorante, monopolizzata da questa o quella forma religiosa, e generante l'idra ostacolante il libero sviluppo dell'anima umana alla conquista del suo diritto all'ascenso: esempio di tolleranza per ogni opinione, si circoscrive nel risultato delle proprie esperienze.

57

La Fratellanza Ermetica come nella sua entità collettiva esclude ogni servitù di spirito, e prescinde dalle divisioni occasionali delle società umane, cosí tende a formare di ogni suo numero un uomo integrale, cioè un individuo completo nella famiglia umana, prototipi di cittadini della Città Civile Umana, dominatori delle passioni bestiali, correttori della asprezza nei conflitti delle idee umane, pionieri di quella Pace tra i Popoli che deve preparare il simbolico avvento di un giorno di giustizia e di paradiso senza limiti di ore.

Quindi il simbolo della Matriarchia di Miriam valga ad essere interprete di un programma di Amore, in cui la formula matematica arida ed inesorabile della filosofia maschia si umanizza nella sensibile dell'ideale di affetto della madre, della bellezza nella forma e della delicatezza nell'essenza muliebre.

Scuola e Fratellanza si presentano al candidato senza la pompa della dovizia esteriore, poich  di mezzi e pecunia umani esse son povere, il loro tesoro   una Idea, alla quale tutti i fratelli devono concorrere perch  diventi una realt  e spanda il bene comunque e dovunque, nelle anime e nella carne umana. Ricchi o poveri, gli aspiranti di buona volont  e di retto sentire sono accolti nello abbraccio fraterno. La pecunia non mancher  , perch  i Numi provvidenti suppliranno alla povert  del contributo umano, ma il tesoro della scienza deve essere alimentato e consolidato col tributo di tutte le forze intelligenti chiamate a raccolta.

59

Il segno esteriore di riconoscimento e affermazione della Scuola, come la croce pel cristianesimo,   la destra mano aperta in alto, con le dita separate. E' il riconoscimento dei cinque elementi costitutivi dell'uomo integralizzato, e il segno della costituzione quinary della scuola e della liberalit  in alto, nel mezzo e nel basso.

60

Questo programma non deve restare infruttuoso tra i libri documentali delle poesie e dei sogni. Si affida alle anime buone, come il seme alla terra fertile, perch  generi un albero robusto dal fogliame spesso, che offra ricovero contro le tempeste della vita agli umani che, perduta la fede, ricercano la verit  nell'Amore che   la Scienza della Luce.

"Siamo tutti in pericolo", di Furio Colombo, l'Unit  9 maggio

[Si tratta del testo integrale dell'intervista di Furio Colombo a Pier Paolo Pasolini pubblicato sull'insero "Tuttolibri" del quotidiano "La Stampa" l'8 novembre del 1975, ripubblicato dall'Unit  del 9 maggio 2005 quasi del tutto integralmente]

Questa intervista ha avuto luogo sabato 1  novembre, fra le 4 e le 6 del pomeriggio, poche ore prima che Pasolini venisse assassinato. Voglio precisare che il titolo dell'incontro che appare in questa pagina   suo, non mio. Infatti alla fine della conversazione che spesso, come in passato, ci ha trovati con persuasioni e punti di vista diversi, gli ho chiesto se voleva dare un titolo alla sua intervista.

Ci ha pensato un po', ha detto che non aveva importanza, ha cambiato discorso, poi qualcosa ci ha riportati sull'argomento di fondo che appare continuamente nelle risposte che seguono. «Ecco il seme, il senso di tutto - ha detto - Tu non sai neanche chi adesso sta pensando di ucciderti. Metti questo titolo, se vuoi: "Perché siamo tutti in pericolo"».

Pasolini, tu hai dato nei tuoi articoli e nei tuoi scritti, molte versioni di ciò che detesti. Hai aperto una lotta, da solo, contro tante cose, istituzioni, persuasioni, persone, poteri. Per rendere meno complicato il discorso io direi «la situazione», e tu sai che intendo parlare della scena contro cui, in generale ti batti. Ora ti faccio questa obiezione. La «situazione» con tutti i mali che tu dici, contiene tutto ciò che ti consente di essere Pasolini. Voglio dire: tuo merito e il talento. Ma gli strumenti? Gli strumenti sono della «situazione». Editoria, cinema, organizzazione, persino gli oggetti. Mettiamo che il tuo sia un pensiero magico. Fai un gesto e tutto scompare. Tutto ciò che detesti. E tu? Tu non resteresti solo e senza mezzi? Intendo mezzi espressivi, intendo... Sì, ho capito. Ma io non solo lo tento, quel pensiero magico, ma ci credo. Non in senso medianico. Ma perché so che battendo sempre sullo stesso chiodo può persino crollare una casa. In piccolo un buon esempio ce lo danno i radicali, quattro gatti che arrivano a smuovere la coscienza di un Paese (e tu sai che non sono sempre d'accordo con loro, ma proprio adesso sto per partire, per andare al loro congresso). In grande l'esempio ce lo dà la storia. Il rifiuto è sempre stato un gesto essenziale. I santi, gli eremiti, ma anche gli intellettuali. I pochi che hanno fatto la storia sono quelli che hanno detto di no, mica i cortigiani e gli assistenti dei cardinali. Il rifiuto per funzionare deve essere grande, non piccolo, totale, non su questo o quel punto, «assurdo» non di buon senso. Eichmann, caro mio, aveva una quantità di buon senso. Che cosa gli è mancato? Gli è mancato di dire no su, in cima, al principio, quando quel che faceva era solo ordinaria amministrazione, burocrazia. Magari avrà anche detto agli amici, a me quell'Himmler non mi piace mica tanto. Avrà mormorato, come si mormora nelle case editrici, nei giornali, nel sottogoverno e alla televisione. Oppure si sarà anche ribellato perché questo o quel treno si fermava, una volta al giorno per i bisogni e il pane e acqua dei deportati quando sarebbero state più funzionali o più economiche due fermate. Ma non ha mai inceppato la macchina. Allora i discorsi sono tre. Qual è, come tu dici, «la situazione», e perché si dovrebbe fermarla o distruggerla. E in che modo.

Ecco, descrivi allora la «situazione». Tu sai benissimo che i tuoi interventi e il tuo linguaggio hanno un po' l'effetto del sole che attraversa la polvere. È un'immagine bella ma si può anche vedere (o capire) poco.

Grazie per l'immagine del sole, ma io pretendo molto di meno.

Pretendo che tu ti guardi intorno e ti accorga della tragedia. Qual è la tragedia? La tragedia che non ci sono più esseri umani, ci sono strane macchine che sbattono l'una contro l'altra. E noi, gli intellettuali, prendiamo l'orario ferroviario dell'anno scorso, o di dieci anni prima e poi diciamo: ma strano, ma questi due treni non passano di lì, e come mai sono andati a fracassarsi in quel modo? O il macchinista è impazzito o è un criminale isolato o c'è un complotto. Soprattutto il complotto ci fa delirare. Ci libera da tutto il peso di confrontarci da soli con la verità. Che bello se mentre siamo qui a parlare qualcuno in cantina sta facendo i piani per farci fuori. E facile, è semplice, è la resistenza. Noi perderemo alcuni compagni e poi ci organizzeremo e faremo fuori loro, o un po' per uno, ti pare? Eh lo so che quando trasmettono in televisione Parigi brucia tutti sono lì con le lacrime agli occhi e una voglia matta che la storia si ripeta, bella, pulita (un frutto del tempo che «lava» le cose, come la facciata delle case). Semplice, io di qua, tu di là. Non scherziamo sul sangue, il dolore, la fatica che anche allora la gente ha pagato per «scegliere». Quando stai con la faccia schiacciata contro quell'ora, quel minuto della storia, scegliere è sempre una tragedia. Per, ammettiamolo, era più semplice. Il fascista di Salò, il nazista delle SS, l'uomo normale, con l'aiuto del coraggio e della coscienza, riesce a respingerlo, anche dalla sua vita interiore (dove la rivoluzione sempre comincia). Ma adesso no. Uno ti viene incontro vestito da amico, è gentile, garbato, e «collabora» (mettiamo alla televisione) sia per campare sia perché non è mica un delitto. L'altro - o gli altri, i gruppi - ti vengono incontro o addosso - con i loro ricatti ideologici, con le loro ammonizioni, le loro prediche, i loro anatemi e tu senti che sono anche minacce. Sfilano con bandiere e con slogan, ma che cosa li separa dal «potere»?

Che cos'è il potere, secondo te, dove è, dove sta, come lo stani? Il potere è un sistema di educazione che ci divide in soggiogati e soggiogatori. Ma attento. Uno stesso sistema educativo che ci forma tutti, dalle cosiddette classi dirigenti, giù fino ai poveri. Ecco perché tutti vogliono le stesse cose e si comportano nello stesso modo. Se ho tra le mani un consiglio di amministrazione o una manovra di Borsa uso quella. Altrimenti una spranga. E quando uso una spranga faccio la mia violenza per ottenere ciò che voglio. Perché lo voglio? Perché mi hanno detto che è una virtù volerlo. Io esercito il mio diritto-virtù. Sono assassino e sono buono. Ti hanno accusato di non distinguere politicamente e ideologicamente, di avere perso il segno della differenza profonda che deve pur esserci fra fascisti e non fascisti, per esempio fra i giovani.

Per questo ti parlavo dell'orario ferroviario dell'anno prima. Hai mai visto quelle marionette che fanno tanto ridere i bambini perché hanno il corpo voltato da una parte e la testa dalla parte opposta? Mi pare che Totò riuscisse in un trucco del genere. Ecco io vedo cosa è la bella truppa di intellettuali, sociologi, esperti e giornalisti delle intenzioni più nobili, le cose succedono qui e la testa guarda di là. Non dico che non c'è il fascismo. Dico: smettete di parlarmi del mare mentre siamo in montagna. Questo è un paesaggio diverso. Qui c'è la voglia di uccidere. E questa voglia ci lega come fratelli sinistri di un fallimento sinistro di un intero sistema sociale. Piacerebbe anche a me se tutto si risolvesse nell'isolare la pecora nera. Le vedo anch'io le pecore nere. Ne vedo tante. Le vedo tutte. Ecco il guaio, ho già detto a Moravia: con la vita che faccio io pago un prezzo... è come uno che scende all'inferno. Ma quando torno - se torno - ho visto altre cose, più cose. Non dico che dovete credermi. Dico che dovete sempre cambiare discorso per non affrontare la verità.

E qual è la verità?

Mi dispiace avere usato questa parola. Volevo dire «evidenza». Fammi rimettere le cose in ordine. Prima tragedia: una educazione comune, obbligatoria e sbagliata che ci spinge tutti dentro l'arena dell'aver tutto a tutti i costi. In questa arena siamo spinti come una strana e cupa armata in cui qualcuno ha i cannoni e qualcuno ha le spranghe. Allora una prima divisione, classica, «stare con i deboli». Ma io dico che, in un certo senso tutti sono i deboli, perché tutti sono vittime. E tutti sono i colpevoli, perché tutti sono pronti al gioco del massacro. Pur di avere. L'educazione ricevuta è stata: avere, possedere, distruggere.

Allora fammi tornare alla domanda iniziale. Tu, magicamente abolisci tutto. Ma tu vivi di libri, e hai bisogno di intelligenze che leggono. Dunque, consumatori educati del prodotto intellettuale. Tu fai del cinema e hai bisogno non solo di grandi platee disponibili (infatti hai in genere molto successo popolare, cioè sei «consumato» avidamente dal tuo pubblico) ma anche di una grande macchina tecnica, organizzativa, industriale, che sta in mezzo. Se togli tutto questo, con una specie di magico monachesimo di tipo paleo-cattolico e neo-cinese, che cosa ti resta?

A me resta tutto, cioè me stesso, essere vivo, essere al mondo, vedere, lavorare, capire. Ci sono cento modi di raccontare le storie, di ascoltare le lingue, di riprodurre i dialetti, di fare il teatro dei burattini. Agli altri resta molto di più. Possono tenermi testa, colti come me o ignoranti come me. Il mondo diventa grande, tutto diventa nostro e non dobbiamo usare né la Borsa, né il consiglio di amministrazione, né la spranga, per deprestarci. Vedi, nel mondo che molti di noi sognavano (ripeto: leggere l'orario ferroviario dell'anno prima, ma in questo caso diciamo pure di tanti anni prima) c'era il padrone turpe con il cilindro e i dollari che gli colavano dalle tasche e la vedova emaciata che chiedeva giustizia con i suoi pargoli. Il bel mondo di Brecht, insomma. Come dire che hai nostalgia di quel mondo.

No! Ho nostalgia della gente povera e vera che si batteva per abbattere quel padrone senza diventare quel padrone. Poiché erano esclusi da tutto nessuno li aveva colonizzati. Io ho paura di questi negri in rivolta, uguali al padrone, altrettanti predoni, che vogliono tutto a qualunque costo. Questa cupa ostinazione alla violenza totale non lascia più vedere «di che segno sei». Chiunque sia portato in fin di vita all'ospedale ha più interesse - se ha ancora un soffio di vita - in quel che gli diranno i dottori sulla sua possibilità di vivere che in quel che gli diranno i poliziotti sulla meccanica del delitto. Bada bene che io non faccio un processo alle intenzioni né mi interessa ormai la catena causa effetto, prima loro, prima lui, o chi è il capo-colpevole. Mi sembra che abbiamo definito quella che tu chiami la «situazione». È come quando in una città piove e si sono ingorgati i tombini, l'acqua sale, è un'acqua innocente, acqua piovana, non ha né la furia del mare né la cattiveria delle correnti di un fiume. Per questo, per una ragione qualsiasi non scende ma sale. È la stessa acqua piovana di tante poesie infantili e delle musicchette del «cantando sotto la pioggia». Ma sale e ti annega. Se siamo a questo punto io dico: non perdiamo tutto il tempo a mettere una etichetta qui e una là.

Vediamo dove si sgorga questa maledetta vasca, prima che restiamo tutti annegati.

E tu, per questo, vorresti tutti pastorelli senza scuola dell'obbligo, ignoranti e felici.

Detta cosa sarebbe una stupidaggine. Ma la cosiddetta scuola dell'obbligo fabbrica per forza gladiatori disperati. La massa si fa più grande, come la disperazione, come la rabbia. Mettiamo che io abbia lanciato una boutade (eppure non credo) Ditemi voi una altra cosa. S'intende che rimpiango la rivoluzione pura e diretta della gente oppressa che ha il solo scopo di farsi libera e padrona di se stessa. S'intende che mi immagino che possa ancora venire un momento nella storia italiana e in quella del mondo. Il meglio di quello che penso potrà anche ispirarmi una delle mie prossime poesie. Ma non quello che so e quello che vedo. Voglio dire fuori dai denti: io scendo all'inferno e so cose che non disturbano la pace di altri. Ma state attenti. L'inferno sta salendo da voi. È vero che sogna la sua uniforme e la sua giustificazione (qualche volta). Ma è anche vero che la sua voglia, il suo bisogno di dare la sprangata, di aggredire, di uccidere, è forte ed è generale. Non resterò per tanto tempo l'esperienza privata e rischiosa di chi ha, come dire, toccato «la vita violenta». Non vi illudete. E voi siete, con la scuola, la televisione, la pacatezza dei vostri giornali, voi siete i grandi conservatori di questo ordine orrendo basato sull'idea di possedere e sull'idea di distruggere. Beati voi che siete tutti contenti quando potete mettere su un delitto la sua bella etichetta. A me questa sembra un'altra, delle tante operazioni della cultura di massa. Non potendo impedire che accadano certe cose, si trova pace fabbricando scaffali.

Ma abolire deve per forza dire creare, se non sei un distruttore anche tu. I libri per esempio, che fine fanno? Non voglio fare la parte di chi si angoschia per la cultura che per la gente. Ma questa gente salvata, nella tua visione di un mondo diverso, non può essere primitiva (questa un'accusa frequente che ti viene rivolta) e se non vogliamo usare la repressione «più avanzata»... Che mi fa rabbrivire.

Se non vogliamo usare frasi fatte, una indicazione ci deve pur essere. Per esempio, nella fantascienza, come nel nazismo, si bruciano sempre i libri come gesto iniziale di sterminio. Chiuse le scuole, chiusa la televisione, come animi il tuo presepio?

Credo di essermi già spiegato con Moravia. Chiudere, nel mio linguaggio, vuol dire cambiare. Cambiare per in modo tanto drastico e disperato quanto drastica e disperata è la situazione. Quello che impedisce un vero dibattito con Moravia ma soprattutto con Firpo, per esempio, è che sembriamo persone che non vedono la stessa scena, che non conoscono la stessa gente, che non ascoltavano le stesse voci. Per voi una cosa accade quando è cronaca, bella, fatta, impaginata, tagliata e intitolata. Ma cosa c'è sotto? Qui manca il chirurgo che ha il coraggio di esaminare il tessuto e di dire: signori, questo è cancro, non un fatterello benigno. Cos'è il cancro? È una cosa che cambia tutte le cellule, che le fa crescere tutte in modo pazzesco, fuori da qualsiasi logica precedente. È un nostalgico il malato che sogna la salute che aveva prima, anche se prima era uno stupido e un disgraziato? Prima del cancro, dico. Ecco prima di tutto bisognerà fare non solo quale sforzo per avere la stessa immagine. Io ascolto i politici con le loro formulette, tutti i politici e divento pazzo. Non sanno di che Paese stanno parlando, sono lontani come la Luna. E i letterati. E i sociologi. E gli esperti di tutti i generi.

Perché pensi che per te certe cose siano talmente più chiare? Non vorrei parlare più di me, forse ho detto fin troppo. Lo sanno tutti che io le mie esperienze le pago di persona. Ma ci sono anche i miei libri e i miei film. Forse sono io che sbaglio. Ma io continuo a dire che siamo tutti in pericolo.

Pasolini, se tu vedi la vita così - non so se accetti questa domanda - come pensi di evitare il pericolo e il rischio?

È diventato tardi, Pasolini non ha acceso la luce e diventa difficile prendere appunti. Rivediamo insieme i miei. Poi lui mi chiede di lasciargli le domande.

«Ci sono punti che mi sembrano un po' troppo assoluti. Fammi pensare, fammi rivedere. E poi dammi il tempo di trovare una conclusione. Ho una cosa in mente per rispondere alla tua domanda. Per me è più facile scrivere che parlare. Ti lascio le note che aggiungo per domani mattina».

Il giorno dopo, domenica, il corpo senza vita di Pier Paolo Pasolini era all'obitorio della polizia.

Nato a Bologna nel 1958, parallelamente alla sua professione di agente d'affari Negrini svolge da un trentennio attività di saggista e conferenziere su tematiche esoteriche, religiose e filosofiche.

Come esoterista e libero ricercatore è attivamente impegnato negli ambienti culturali massonici e paramassonici italiani e ha fondato nel 1989 l'Accademia PanSophica Alpha Draconis (APsAD), di cui è tuttora Presidente: un'organizzazione culturale senza scopi di lucro che, finalizzata a forme di collaborazione interdisciplinare fra studiosi/e orientati/e verso un nuovo Rinascimento culturale, parascientifico e magico, ha attivato in Italia vari programmi di divulgazione su neopaganesimo, rapporti fra sessualità e sacro, neostregoneria e tradizioni magiche.

Negrini ha inoltre contribuito alla pubblicazione di opere specialistiche di ricerca sulle culture pre-monoteistiche, partecipando anche - nell'ambito del progetto culturale Elissa inerente alle tradizioni precristiane dei Monti Sibillini - a saggi a pi voci curati dall'Editrice Miriamica di Montemonaco, fra i quali: Sibilla Appenninica. I volti di pietra della Matriarchia (1997), Le terre della Sibilla Appenninica. Antico crocevia di idee, scienze e cultura (1999). Errante Erotica Eretica. L'icona sibillina fra Cecco d'Ascoli e Osvaldo Licini (2000), Sibilla sciamana della montagna (2001).

Come libero ricercatore di Antropologia del sacro ha collaborato a periodici specializzati in culture e filosofie di frontiera quali Il Giornale dei Misteri, Re Nudo, Mystero e a opere di approfondimento sulle eresie medievali. Nel 1998 ha pubblicato con Giordano Berti I Tarocchi Aleister Crowley, un saggio sulle 78 immagini ermetiche elaborate nel 147 dal magista inglese, di cui ha pure sceneggiato una completa rielaborazione pittorica, ispirata in gran parte ai Decani rinascimentali e illustrata dal pittore Andrea Serio (Edizioni d'Arte Lo Scarabeo, 2004).

Ha scritto inoltre uno studio introduttivo sulla storia e sulle dottrine della Magia moderna nell'opera La Qabala della Bestia Trionfante di Charles Stansfeld Jones, discepolo e collaboratore di Crowley (Venexia, 2004).

Ha collaborato ai volumi Psicologia e psichiatria nel Terzo Millennio. La prospettiva Next Age (Istituto Internazionale di Psichiatria e Psicoterapia, 1999), La Magia della sessualit (Atanr, 2000) con il saggio "Magia erotica e Alchimia sessuale" e L'immaginazione al potere. Che cosa resta delle eresie psichedeliche (Stampa Alternativa, 2005), con l'intervento "L'estasi di Lucifero", un contributo sugli aspetti iniziatici, magici ed ermetici dell'uso sacramentale di sostanze psicoattive ed enteogene.

Sotto il profilo della divulgazione editoriale, artistica e culturale in genere si occupa da qualche anno di computer-grafica sia nell'ambito illustrativo delle proprie iniziative che di altre collaterali.

Autore di alcune copertine per conto di case editrici (fra le quali Akkuaria di Vera Ambra) ha curato il logo e le scenografie digitali di Crezia, uno spettacolo multimediale finanziato dalla Regione Toscana su una condanna per Stregoneria nella Lucca del XVI secolo, scritto da Selene Ballerini e andato in scena nel 2002, con regia di Sonia Prezioso e interpretazione di Ottavia Piccolo.

Attualmente sta partecipando come elaboratore d'immagini alla realizzazione dello spettacolo Nelle Spire della Draco che, ispirato al libro Il Corpo della Dea di Selene Ballerini (peraltro pure regista e sceneggiatrice della versione teatrale) e interpretato dalla Compagnia PanSophica (un'emanazione dell'Akkademia omonima), ha debuttato al San Martino di Bologna sabato 4 marzo 2006.

Roberto Negrini e la sua filiazione Luciferiana degli illuminati (OTO-FHL) sono legati sia alla Loggia Monte Carlo della P2 del Fratello Giunchiglia, sia alla mitica sede di Bologna dell' Opus Dei ovvero Villa Leona dell'amico e Fratello Carlo Maria Baserga. Carlo Maria e' un importante personaggio dell'Opus Dei che al momento e' coinvolto nella grande opera di rimodernamento del porto di Genova condotto dall'Opus Dei.

Carlo Maria Baserga in realta' non prende molto sul serio gli illuminati o la Massoneria (in cui e' stato tra l'altro iniziato) ma li usa per i propri scopi da buon businessmen nordista. Egli ritiene giustamente tutto questo mondo di vane glorie e patacche varie un teatrino inutile, ma nel frattempo e' un fedele servo dell' Opus Dei e di Santa Madre Chiesa con cui lavora ai massimi livelli. La figlia di Carlo Maria Baserga una devotissima dell'Opus Dei e iniziata anche lei alla Massoneria, ha detto di recente che il Papa' sarebbe la TV e la voce di Dio (poveri noi...).

In un colloquio segreto che si e' tenuto a Villa leona nell'Estate 2005 con il Fratello Roberto Negrini Gran Maestro degli illuminati di Bologna , il Fratello Baserga ed io abbiamo offerto al Negrini una posizione da Cardinale nella Chiesa Cattolica del nuovo millennio, anche perche' gli abbiamo detto che il teatrino Vaticano si adattava molto alle suo modo di essere e al suo credo AntiCristiano ecco perche' tutti gli infedeli lavorano con il Vaticano.

"S'io fossi Satana..." di Gian Carlo (10/26/2006)

“Io fossi Satana”

Ci sarebbe di che divertirsi, parafrasando il famoso Cecco; ed essendo tale, in quanto ex puro spirito, avrei conservato un certo senso dell'umorismo, mi muoverei con disinvoltura nel tempo e nello spazio e avrei memoria di tutto, dal primo vagito del bipede implume alle ultime, allarmanti grida di aiuto provenienti dalla purezza umana calpestata dalla iniquità massonica con annesso anatema “œusque ad finem”.

Forse “bisogno di questo. Che sarebbe Topolino senza Gambadilegno?”

Ci vuole l'antagonista, soprattutto ora che il comunismo non fa più paura (la fame, la sopraffazione, l'idiozia, ci sono sempre state e non sono scomunicabili) ed eccotelo servito su un piatto d'argento.

“bisogno di tenere alta la tensione, sennò la fede può vacillare, anche se tutto, cioè ogni cosa, è in movimento, ovunque, sia sul piano fisico che su quello mentale e spirituale.

Tutto si evolve, si modifica, si “storizza”, per alcuni ci vuol dire che migliora, per altri “il rischio del baratro. Cos'è fu in ogni tempo, ne seppe qualcosa Socrate, poi Giordano Bruno, poi Galileo e tanti altri, meno illustri, ma non per questo meno perseguitati e martoriati.

Ma, “io fossi Satana, farei in modo che l'uomo spendesse bene la grande moneta che ha: la Stupidità, duttile e fertile come niente altro. Anche perché, da Satana, mi farebbero sbellicare dalle risa le parole autorevoli di Leone XIII: “Orrende e mostruose opinioni levano la testa”.

Sogghignerei soddisfatto nel constatare che questa mediocrità umana, non avendo il coraggio di ammettere di nutrire “dentro” di sé sia il Bene che il Male, quindi di essere artefice (come sostenevano quei rozzi pagani dei Romani) della propria Fortuna, crea il mostro permanente e non riflettono, quei bravi ragazzi, che il Male agisce in maniera diversa. Non “mai esplicito” dichiarato; “subdolo”, “suadente”, “accattivante”, “mansueto”, “simpatico”, “goliardico”, ed ha sempre delle apparenti giustificazioni morali, anche al massimo dell'immoralità.

Non “forse per questo che la più precisa definizione del demonio, secondo le Scritture, “è l'Ingannatore”?

Che bisogno “di sguinzagliare le logge all'insegna diabolica, “già tanta gente dabbene che ammazza in nome di Dio! “ anche tanta gente che aiuta, che sfama, che consola, che spende i suoi soldi, pochi o molti, in Africa, per dare agli altri lâ€™TMacqua; e magari non sa o non si chiede perchÃ© lo fa: â€™Senteâ€™ che deve farlo e basta.

Quando ci si allontana dallâ€™TMUomo, si perde di vista Dio, per conto del quale pullula uno sciame di rappresentanti, su questa terra, dimentichi del fatto che quel rapporto Ã¨ diretto: se câ€™TMÃ¨ passa, si trasmette, si moltiplica, in maniera diretta. Fortunato, chi sa percepire il Silenzio.

In questa valle di lacrime e di lucro, per troppi, non câ€™TMÃ¨ altra SpA che abbia ottenuto, investendo poco, il massimo del profitto, come la Chiesa Cattolica, attraverso il confessionale, con la speranza del Paradiso e la paura dellâ€™TMInferno.

Tavaroli: non rendevo conto a Tronchetti - di Gianluigi Nuzzi -

Lâ€™TMex capo della sicurezza: Â«Dipendevo dallâ€™TMad Buora e agivo solo su incarico dei dirigenti del gruppo. Indagammo sui dipendenti per paura dâ€™TMinfiltrazioni BrÂ»

Gianluigi Nuzzi

da Milano

Â«Non sono una scheggia impazzita di Telecom. Soddifavo le richieste dei vari dirigenti, come il capo dell'ufficio personale e dipendevo da Carlo Buora, amministratore delegato della societÃ e non da Marco Tronchetti Provera. Non ho mai agito in autonomia, di mia spontanea iniziativaÂ». Giuliano Tavaroli vuol dire Telecom, Buora e chi sa chi altri ancora. Tre ore di interrogatorio e l'ex capo della sicurezza del gruppo telefonico in carcere da mercoledì, respinge tutte le accuse. Assistito dal penalista Massimo Dinoia, rivendica di aver agito esclusivamente nell'interesse di Telecom-Pirelli. E tira in ballo le Brigate rosse per giustificare quei controlli a tappeto disposti su migliaia di operai e impiegati che ambivano a essere assunti da Pirelli e da Telecom.

Â«Ebbi l'incarico dal direttore del personale Pirelli - mette a verbale Tavaroli - subito dopo l'omicidio di Massimo D'Antona. Si temevano infiltrazioni delle Brigate rosse. Tra l'altro era stato ritrovato un volantino delle Br in una cabina telefonica vicino all'aziendaÂ». Situazione fotocopia, assicura Tavaroli, per i controlli sui candidati Telecom: Â«Anche queste verifiche avvengono subito dopo l'omicidio del professor Biagi a BolognaÂ». Che poi Cipriani attingesse i dati da banche dati riservate, corrompendo forze di polizia infedeli, Tavaroli dice di non saperne nulla: Â«Io gestivo 150 milioni di budget all'anno per la sicurezza. Qui parliamo di 20 milioni di euro in nove anniÂ». Come dire: vicende marginali. Â«Non seguivo ogni singola pratica, i dirigenti di Pirelli prima e di Telecom poi chiedevano notizie ai miei manager che agivano in autonomiaÂ». Ma quali manager? Tavaroli indica i capi del personale che si sono succeduti: Â«Mi evidenziavano la necessitÃ di compiere indagini sui candidati e io delegavo i miei dipendenti che gestivano in autonomia le praticheÂ». Tra chi bussava alla sua porta, Tavaroli indica anche il capo dell'audit Armando Focaroli: Â«Ogni tanto mi chiedeva delle praticheÂ». L'indicazione non Ã¨ casuale. Focaroli infatti aveva messo a verbale che non poteva compiere i dovuti accertamenti interni per l'autonomia gestionale di Tavaroli che Â«riferiva direttamente al presidenteÂ». E a questo punto ha indicato Buora: Â«Ci sono delle imprecisioni. Io dipendevo da Buora e non dal dottor Tronchetti ProveraÂ».

La difesa si gioca quindi in tre mosse. Negare ogni accusa scaricandola sui sottoposti che lavoravano con gli 007 privati di Emanuele Cipriani. Sostenere quindi che ruolo e incarico erano organici a manager e strategie del gruppo. Indicare in Valente e Lambiase i dipendenti Telecom che pagavano le fatture estero su estero per la Polis d'Instinto di Cipriani e che saldavano le fatture (false) emesse dalla struttura dell'amico di infanzia. Anche lui Ã stato sentito e ha confermato quanto sostenuto nei precedenti interrogatori. Ã«Sta spiegando tuttoÃ», taglia corto il difensore Vinicio Nardo. Su di lui emergono anche altri particolari. Cipriani per poter utilizzare dei conti correnti a Montecarlo, spostare quindi soldi da un conto corrente alla Barclays Bank di Londra alla Abc Banque International de Monaco, aveva un domicilio nel Principato che corrisponde a quello della nuora del venerabile Licio Gelli, moglie di uno dei due figli del capo della loggia Propaganda 2. Uno spunto approfondito: il gip Paola Belsito nell'ordinanza sostiene che Ã«Cipriani gode di importanti conoscenze in ambito massonicoÃ». Quanto ciÃ² sia rilevante e non suggestivo ancora non si capisce. Di sicuro quei 13 milioni di euro di Cipriani sequestrati all'estero sono stati bloccati al momento giusto. L'investigatore privato li stava per trasferire a una fondazione nel Liechtenstein.

Préface

Alchimie... Rose-Croix... deux qualificatifs étroitement liés à l'histoire Traditionnelle de l'humanité. Si l'origine du premier remonte à la plus haute antiquité gréco-égyptienne et lui est certainement antérieure, le second est d'émergence relativement récente bien qu'il associe deux symboles représentatifs de Traditions plus que millénaires.

Les Ordres qui, sous le vocable Rose + Croix, apparurent en Occident au xive siècle, hérautiers de filiations prestigieuses, détenaient les clefs de l'Art Royal. Ainsi, depuis cette époque, l'histoire de l'alchimie tend à se confondre, du moins dans ses manifestations les plus extérieures, avec celle de la Rose-Croix. Malheureusement depuis la démocratisation et la modernisation pernicieuse de la société, qui fait tout pour abrutir l'individu, diluant son peu de conscience dans l'avoir quantitatif, de nombreuses spéculations, fruits des échecs répétés de chercheurs désabusés, se sont greffés sur ce courant. Face à ce verbiage chaotique, qui relève plus d'une logorrhée mentale que du désir d'intégrer une connaissance Traditionnelle, les collèges R+C s'occultent, se cachant parfois dans les structures initiatiques que nous connaissons aujourd'hui.

Totalement asservi par la matière, soumis à ses illusions, et croyant échapper à cet esclavage pesant, l'humain en vint même à inventer les thèses fumeuses de l'alchimie dite spirituelle. Mais de solve en coagula abstraits et moribonds, il ne fit que flatter et renforcer son ego, s'éloignant encore un peu plus du but qu'il s'était fixé...

Heureusement, ce livre présente le témoignage d'un Collège détenteur des Arcanes Majeurs, non pas qu'il se soucie des opinions humaines dont il n'a que faire, mais parce que le monde est parvenu à un tel point de confusion que peu de chercheurs sincères pouvaient espérer encore appréhender un des fils de la Toison d'Or. La Quête est suffisamment ardue en elle-même pour ne pas avoir à se débattre avec les interprétations érisoires des philologues de l'Ésotérisme qui, surtout s'ils n'ont pas les compétences nécessaires, s'emploient à étaler sur le papier leur propre confusion, ajoutant leur sarroi à celui du lecteur. Soyons donc reconnaissant à M. Jean-Pierre GIUDICELLI de CRESSAC BACHELERIE qui, ayant impétré la plupart des filiations justes et vraies et pos s'écoulant toutes les qualifications nécessaires, a bien voulu préciser ici quelques points essentiels de la Quête alchimique et entrebâiller certaines portes. Dans cette étude, le lecteur trouvera beaucoup d'indications utiles, trop même reprocheront certains souffleurs arguant du secret et du fait qu'ils ont cherché pendant de longues années, et parfois avec succès, les clefs que l'auteur donne ici. Mais c'est oublier que les impératifs liés à la conquête héroïque de l'Arbre de Vie sont tellement éloignés des préoccupations de l'humain moyen que pour beaucoup le Verbum ne se fera pas chair. En effet, le prix à payer est bien souvent lourd, le quêteur croyant tout perdre, mais en fait ce ne sont que ses propres fantômes qui se dissolvent dans l'unité retrouvée. Au-delà de l'ego il n'y a rien à perdre'. La Quête commence là où la volonté est suffisamment forte pour quitter le courant vulgaire, mais puissant, de l'identification et de la soumission aux désirs et instincts, grands consommateurs de substances fines. Il faut donc s'inverser se rapprocher de l'axe vertical afin que le « Dieu subtil » qui réside en nous puisse se faire entendre, car les lois occultes échappent à la logique commune du mental analytique.

2. Vraies c'est-à-dire Réelles, ayant dépassées les contingences humaines.

Développant l'axiome alchimique selon lequel la Nature est vaincue par la Nature⁴, ce livre est avant tout

3. L'ego peut être considéré comme un complexe mouvant de petits « moi » qui naissent et meurent au gré des événements extérieurs, ce n'est que la persistance matérielle et la rapidité des changements qui donne l'illusion d'un moi stable et unique.

4. Fermicus disait : « La Nature se jouit dans la Nature, la Nature conquiert la Nature, la Nature domine la Nature. » le livre des substances car la redemption doit se faire par la matière qui est Dieu se manifestant. L'auteur rend ainsi à l'alchimie sa signification originelle, en rappelle les deux aspects, Wouei Tan et Nei Tans, et précise leur complément mentarité : le travail sur la matière extérieure à l'homme n'est pas une fin en soi mais une étape de l'alchimie interne du Corps de Gloire⁶. L'Art Royal permet donc de déclencher et maîtriser le processus créateur des substances qui forment ce Corps Solaire et Christique, que KREMMERZ définissait comme un principe intellectif participant à la vie universelle'.

Le dernier mérite de ce livre, et non le moindre, est de rappeler que la Tradition est

Une et que ce sont les hommes et les circonstances qui sont multiples. L'alchimie a de tous temps répandu son message universel, qui fit dire à PAUL dans son épître aux Romains (5-14)

« Veille-toi, toi qui dors,

Lève-toi d'entre les morts et sur toi luira le Christ⁸

5. Wouei Tan = Alchimie externe, Nei tan = Alchimie interne.

6. D'ailleurs en Inde le Mercure (une des matières de l'œuvre externe) est appelé : celui-qui-confère-le-passage-dans-l'autremonde.

7. G. Kremmerz « Introduction à la Science Hermétique », éd. Axis Mundi.

8. Cette universalité de la Tradition qui a toujours su « chevaucher le Tigre » se retrouve aussi d'une manière saisissante chez le Soufi Ibn Sab'in qui considérait « Hermès (= Idris) comme le premier philosophe spiritualiste, qui a démontré que l'âme était une substance autonome, indépendante du lieu, en la faisant sortir hors de son corps durant sa vie : lors de son ascension (raf), grÃ¢ce Ã son ascÃ'se Â» (in Â« La rÃ©vÃ©lation d'HermÃ's TrismÃ©giste Â», Åd. des Belles Lettres).

Ce message est parfaitement illustrÃ© par la lÃ©gende rapportÃ©e par ZOZIME : Â« Certains Anges s'Ã©tant Ã©pris de femmes trahirent les secrets de la Nature en apprenant aux hommes les signes magiques, les propriÃ©tÃ©s des racines, des mÃ©taux, des arbres. Â» TERTULLIEN mentionna aussi que les Anges enseignÃ©rent aux hommes Â« l'art de teindre les Toisons Â». M. GIUDICELLI de CR.ESSAC BACHELERIE nous rappelle, par ailleurs, que les voies de l'alchimie interne ne sont rÃ©vÃ©lÃ©es qu'Ã celui qui a suffisamment dÃ©veloppÃ© l'HermÃ's en soi, ce qui donne toute sa signification Ã cette lÃ©gende.

En effet, c'est bien l'Ange-gardien (ou HermÃ's) qui enseigne Ã l'homme les secrets de l'alchimie. De cette union (l'accouplement de l'Ange-HermÃ's avec la FemmeNature) naÃ©tra la race des Titans, des HÃ©ros dont il est dit qu'ils sont les Seigneurs des hommes et des Dieux.

Le Corpus Hermeticum prÃ©cise (X-24) : Â« Bien plus ne craignons pas de dire la vÃ©ritÃ©, l'homme vÃ©ritable est audessus des Dieux ou tout au moins Ã©gal Ã eux. Â» Le HÃ©ros est celui qui a dÃ©passÃ© la Nature et qui apparaÃ©t dans un Corps de LumiÃ©re, Ã©chappant Ã la fatalitÃ©, libre de l'esclavage, de l'illusion et de l'identification: Â« Ils n'ont plus besoin de nourriture, ne souffrent plus de soif, Ã©chappent Ã la perception Â» (ENOCH XV, 2).

EVOLA Ã©crivit Ã ce sujet : Â« Selon l'enseignement initiatique, l'Ã©tat suprÃªme est au contraire au-delÃ© soit de l'Ã©tre soit du non-Ã©tre ; dans le mythe cosmique des cycles, dans cet Ã©tat indiffÃ©renciÃ© identique Ã la transcendance absolue, mÃªme le Dieu personnel et tous les cieus sont rÃ©sorbÃ©s au moment de la grande dissolution (ou incendie cosmique). L'extrÃªme perfection de l'oeuvre, rÃ©alisÃ©e lorsque la Terre a Ã©tÃ© entiÃ©rement dissoute et qu'on s'est uni au Venin, signifie avoir atteint cette limite extrÃªme tout en restant actifs. Alors il n'y a plus de rÃ©sorption possible. L'initiÃ© royal, vÃ©tu de Rouge, est un vivant qui dure et est aussi lÃ©, ou aussi quand, dans le mythe cyclique - les mondes, les hommes et les dieux disparaissent9. Â»

Il ne nous reste plus qu'Ã conseiller au lecteur de lire et relire cet ouvrage et surtout d'expÃ©rimer les voies qui sont indiquÃ©es car Â« l'expÃ©rience est la grande MaÃ©tresse, parce que sur la base des rÃ©sultats prouvÃ©s, elle enseigne Ã celui qui comprend, ce qui peut mieux le conduire au but Â» (ZOZIME). Dans l'Univers il n'y a pas d'Ã©checs, il n'y a que des expÃ©riences.

Introduction

Dans une Ã©poque de confusion, telle que celle que nous vivons, condensÃ© du Kali Yuga dans ses derniers soubresauts, apparaissent nÃ©anmoins plusieurs signes clairs d'une reprise du dÃ©sir de CONNAISSANCE.

Comme il arrive toujours, Ã la charniÃ©re de deux Ã©poques, une qui touche Ã sa fin et l'autre qui s'annonce, il se produit un pullulement d'Ã©rÃ©glÃ© d'organisations qui s'autodÃ©finissent traditionnelles et initiatiques, tandis qu'elles confondent la Tradition avec les coutumes et doctrines rÃ©cemment apparues et l'Initiation avec quelques cÃ©rÃ©monies scÃ©nolographiques de rÃ©ception.

Puisque le dÃ©sordre et la confusion pÃ©sent, il sera nÃ©cessaire de faire le point, de s'assurer des doctrines et lignes authentiquement traditionnelles et, en mÃªme temps, de traiter comme elles le mÃ©ritent, toutes les organisations nÃ©o-spiritualistes et modernes ainsi que celles qui furent un moment traditionnelles et sont maintenant d'œuvres par les formes, et tombées dans la banalité.

De cette nécessité d'éclaircissement naît ce livre, qui est le fruit d'une recherche sérieuse, fidèle et engagée, qui éclaircit, pour ceux qui veulent avec un cœur pur, entreprendre la voie du rêve de la Divinité qui dort dans les profondeurs de l'homme, lignes et voies de la Tradition que les Grands Maîtres du passé nous ont transmis depuis la nuit des temps. La Tradition, même si diversifiée dans les formulations des différents peuples est UNE et Sacrée, et personne ne peut se permettre de la modifier sans commettre un sacrilège et encore moins de l'inventer selon son bon plaisir. Elle nous a été donnée et ne peut être changée.

Ce livre, dans lequel Jean-Pierre GIUDICELLI de CRESSAC BACHELERIE a transmis son désir ardent de clarté dans un domaine aussi important, évoque, en exposant leurs doctrines, les grands esprits guides de l'humanité ; lesquels sont toujours présents pour éclairer avec leurs sacrifices le difficile chemin de l'Initiation.

Ce livre aura certainement la fortune qu'il mérite, mais plus encore de fortune auront ceux qui le rencontreront sur leur chemin et le méditeront avec un cœur pur.

Avertissement

Nous avons écrit ce livre pour quelques lecteurs capables de se livrer à une recherche sérieuse sur les traditions les plus fermées. Ainsi avertis dans une époque de confusion, ils pourront peut-être découvrir un des filons qu'ils pressentaient. Les... cercles initiatiques divers sont fort nombreux les traditions six siècles, par contre rares les escamotes derrière tout un assemblage, de structures diverses. Insaissables historiquement, elles connaissent les autres, mais ne sont pas connues ni même soupçonnées, qui a assez d'HERMES en soi les rencontre ou les retrouve, malgré le prix à payer. Leurs secrets ne tiennent pas de la jalousie de caste, comme le pensent quelques petits curieux plus proches dans leur esprit des inquisiteurs que des nobles voyageurs.

Nous aurions pu donner bien plus d'indications, et aussi d'organiser divers cercles ou auteurs établis... Tel n'était pas notre but car tout ce qui converge vers la recherche libre et non sectaire nous convenait.

Le problème des filiations n'est pas réellement important et ne concerne chaque fois que des secrets terminaux, la plupart des ordres initiatiques ne s'en préoccupent pas, et en fait, dans l'exotérique ou le mésotérique peuvent avoir encore plus d'efficacité que d'autres cercles extérieurement émanant de filiations indiscutables, mais peu adaptées des extériorisations. Giuliano KREMMERZ en Italie, qui tenta de vulgariser la voie hermétique est un exemple, la MYRIAM fut ainsi une source de troubles. La voie mésotérique est tant expérimentale, elle n'a ni vérités prouvées, ni dogmes.

Quant aux filiations les plus internes, elles n'ont jamais eu de problèmes pour se perpétuer... Les traqueurs, les assoiffés des quêtes rudes et totales finissent par les découvrir, et souvent y mettent le prix, les maîtres de ces filiations n'ayant pas la manie des débordements affectifs et des réceptions mondaines et courtoises que certains attendent. Elles concernent des méthodes précises, une praxis initiatique rigoureuse, liée à un ou plusieurs secrets non extériorisables parce que dangereux s'ils étaient mis entre toutes les mains.

Dans ces voies, comme dans celle du BOJA YOGA, la connaissance sans la puissance n'est que plaisanterie. Non pas le pouvoir en tant que but, mais en tant que moyen de vérification. Méthode d'ascèse qui de facto ne pouvait être servie qu'à ceux qui ne cherchent plus le pouvoir, ou qui n'en ont que faire, et ils sont rares () et ses principes aristocratiques, au sens étymologique et platonicien du terme. Ce livre est aussi une mise au point d'un collage d'oppositaires de filiations multimillénaires dans leur essence, même si les formes extérieures restent anachroniques ou dépassées dans certains cas, nous avons tenu à ne parler que de ce que nous avons expérimenté et constaté après trente années de recherches et de quête inconditionnelle. La forme extérieure compte peu, le prince ou le mendiant selon les cas sont les oppositaires ; chaque fois il faudra une stratégie différente, mais cette dernière fait partie de la quête, et le chevalier ne juge pas le "l'ennemi" pour lequel il se bat, notion d'ethique idéaliste, si incomprise à notre époque.

Les critères traditionnels resteront toujours les mêmes en ce qui concerne les alchimies, il est impossible d'en changer car la porte est ouverte à l'imposture, au verbiage et aux impressions fumeuses. Ils sont doubles et immuables.

Sur la voie extérieure, la pierre au rouge transmutatoire est le seul moyen de vérification qu'un adepte puisse avoir, on ne peut rentrer dans le processus des divagations diverses surtout créées autour d'une voie où on parle d'aurore boréale provoquée par l'explosion de l'«uf, et toute une série d'autres faits des plus discutables, très en vogue à l'heure actuelle où l'aberration mentale s'amplifie. Cette pierre pouvant être faite à partir de divers métaux selon les écoles, étant entendu que la voie la plus simple et la moins onéreuse est la plus intéressante.

Sur la voie interne, la création tangible d'un corps de gloire, corps de conscience coagulée, qui permet à l'adepte de monter au ciel de son vivant, lui donne ainsi la certitude de son immortalité. Le taoïsme, dans les écrits de certains maîtres, précise qu'il y a divers degrés d'immortalité, certains allant jusqu'à la maîtrise du corps physique. Mais notre propos n'est pas d'aborder des questions qui ne concernent que des adeptes terminaux, lesquels n'ont plus rien à voir avec l'alchimiste habituel, tant les divers constats de la pratique provoquent une conscience de plus en plus réelle et donc différente de celle de l'humain.

Il est ainsi indispensable de préciser que ces états de conscience sont aussi précis que le reste de la voie, ils n'ont rien à voir avec des états d'ataraxie mentale, ou émotionnels, ils sont liés au contrôle de la pensée, et concernent le regard OBJECTIF, conscience non parasitée par les productions de l'EGO.

Conscience regardante et non cogitante, verticale et non horizontale, PRÉSENTE et non oscillant entre le futur et le passé, bref conscience totale de l'HIC ET NUNC (ici et maintenant). Rien de commun donc avec le monde des impressions, de l'«peu-près si en vogue dans les milieux spiritualistes contemporains, dits traditionnels, plus amateurs de verbiage et d'inféodation aux doctrines ahurissantes actuelles, que de recherche véritable, honnête, lucide, sur un sentier d'ajustement difficile sans les obstacles des théories.

Il nous reste à souhaiter que la véritable race des seigneurs, éternels rebelles, amoureux fous d'un monde UN, puisse toujours éveiller les éléments qualifiés des jeunes générations afin qu'ils perpétuent leur tour la voie de l'ÊTRE.

Des diverses alchimies

Les diverses définitions de l'alchimie et leur analyse nous conduiraient à des spéculations inutiles. L'intention de ce livre n'est pas de donner un aperçu de plus sur l'ART ROYAL, mais d'éclairer le lecteur sur la situation actuelle de certains filons traditionnels, d'examiner certains problèmes, et surtout d'indiquer un chemin, non par des révélations, mais par l'indication d'opportunités hermétiques qu'il devra explorer par lui-même, non par curiosité, mais avec un désir profond de connaissance.

Beaucoup d'auteurs actuels n'arrivent pas à comprendre que l'Hermétisme est par définition... hermétique ! Si un Ordre traditionnel pouvait être cerné par un historien, il ne serait plus étonnant, surtout à une époque où le secret est bien plus difficile à protéger.

C'est LANZA DEL VASTO qui a le mieux défini la situation actuelle quand il écrit : « La conjuration des imbeciles, des charlatans et des Sages a parfaitement réussi.

Cette conjuration avait pour objet de cacher la vérité.

Les uns et les autres ont servi cette grande cause, chacun selon ses moyens : les imbeciles par le moyen de l'ignorance, les charlatans par le moyen du mensonge, les Sages par le moyen du secret. Les imbeciles ne veulent pas qu'on découvre la vérité. Ils soupçonnent d'instinct qu'elle les dérangera. Si on la leur montrait, ils détourneraient les yeux ; si on la leur mettait dans la main, ils la laisseraient tomber... Si on les forçait au face à face, ils hurleraient d'horreur et courraient se cacher sous terre.

Les charlatans ne veulent pas qu'on découvre la vérité car elle ruinerait leurs artifices, empêcherait leur profit, ôterait leur honte.

Les Sages qui possèdent la vérité ne veulent pas qu'on la découvre. Ils l'ont tenue cachée pour quatre raisons

La première, c'est qu'ils savent que Savoir c'est Pouvoir, et veulent en écarter les indignes. Car le Savoir chez l'indigne devient malice, le Pouvoir danger public et fléau. C'est pourquoi les réserves de connaissance accumulées pendant des millénaires dans les temples d'Égypte demeuraient inaccessibles à celui qui n'était pas passé par tous les degrés des purifications et des épreuves. Plus tard, les philosophes inconnus, les nobles voyageurs, les alchimistes, se sont logués les restes du mystérieux héritage de la mère maniérée c'est-à-dire de bouche à oreille, ou plutôt par la présence et par l'exemple, en symboles et en énigmes, Y, et toujours sous le sceau du secret ils ont vécu dans l'intimité des formidables puissances de la nature, ils se sont bien gardés d'en faire part aux étourdis... 1. »

1. Extrait de la préface de Lanza Del Vasto au livre de Louis

Le terme Alkimia apparut au XIII^e siècle sous sa forme latine. Il est probable que le mot chimie vienne du grec cheuma qui désigne tout ce qui peut être fondu. Mais qu'elle soit la chimie- de la terre noire : ALKHEMIA (chemia désignant la terre noire), ou l'alchimie de Dieu AL KIMIA, que des Anges l'aient communiquée aux humains, ou que ces derniers l'aient progressivement découverte à une époque où leur conscience était normale, c'est-à-dire moins pathologiquement analytique qu'actuellement, ne change rien à la question.

Le constat le plus étonnant que l'on puisse faire est que cet Art était connu de diverses civilisations, avec particulièrement deux berceaux importants : l'Égypte et la Chine ; mais le terme berceau ne serait-il pas plus heureusement remplacé par relais ou axe, car l'histoire est l'étude d'un phénomène, à travers le peu que l'on sait, et encore très étonnamment.

L'alchimie est en tout cas la voie de la transmutation, c'est-à-dire d'un processus de transformation et de mutation ou modification d'une situation donnée, quel qu'en soit le régime.

Comme le dit le Maître LEHAHIAH dans sa préface à « Introduction à la Science Hermétique » de Giuliano KREMMERZZ : « Il existe et il a toujours existé un secret (Bruxelles). Cette prÃ©face ne peut Ãªtre donnÃ©e en entier du fait de sa longueur, mais il Ã©tait indispensable de la citer partiellement.

initiatique qui peut donner Ã l'homme la clef de son essence, d'Ã©chirer le voile de son Ãªtre occulte et lui d'Ã©voiler la science de la vraie Ã©volution. En possession d'un tel secret, l'homme devance les termes naturels de son ascension et en relation avec le vulgaire - intellectuel ou non - de son siÃ©cle, il peut apparaÃ®tre comme un demi-dieu. Ce secret a toujours Ã©tÃ© jalousement gardÃ© par les anciennes ThÃ©ocraties... Â»

Cela explique bien entendu la responsabilitÃ© liÃ©e Ã un tel secret : toute matiÃ¨re n'est pas propre Ã subir un processus d'accÃ©lÃ©ration et tout humain qui n'aurait pas les qualifications requises devrait Ãªtre Ã©cartÃ© de la praxis initiatique.

Pour ce qui concerne l'Occident, l'alchimie est d'origine Ã©gyptienne. Les autres alchimies occidentales sont des dÃ©rivÃ©s, en particulier l'alchimie hÃ©braÃ®que que MOÏSE, comme le rapporte PHILON LE JUIF, Ã©tudia en Ã©gypte. (MOÏSE Ã©tant probablement un Ã©gyptien, car CLÃ©MENT D'ALEXANDRIE prÃ©cise que les prÃªtres Ã©gyptiens n'enseignaient cette science qu'aux enfants des rois ou Ã leurs propres enfants'.)

Â« L'art sacrÃ© des Ã©gyptiens et la puissance de l'or qui en rÃ©sulte, Ã©crit ZOSIME, n'ont Ã©tÃ© rÃ©vÃ©lÃ©s qu'aux juifs, par fraude, et ceux-ci l'ont fait connaÃ®tre au reste du monde4. Â»

Toutefois, bien que les preuves historiques manquent, on ne peut nÃ©gliger l'existence probable d'une alchimie des Trois RÃªgnes avec MagistÃ¨res internes comme le rapportent certains druides. La tradition druidique de l'OEuf de Serpent renferme, comme le prÃ©cise SAVORET, un des secrets majeurs du Sanctuaire, mais cet enseignement est restÃ© trÃ¨s fermÃ© et la plupart des SociÃ©tÃ©s Celtiques actuelles n'en sont plus d'Ã©positaires, car il concerne surtout une alchimie interne.

ParallÃ¨lement Ã l'alchimie Ã©gyptienne, se pratiquait en Chine une alchimie dont les diverses voies furent mieux expliquÃ©es.

DÃ©s le dÃ©but de l'histoire de l'Art alchimique, on signale qu'il existe deux conceptions, certains adeptes travaillant sur la Pierre et rÃ©alisant transmutations et Ã©lixirs, d'autres travaillant au contraire sur leur propre corps physique et s'attachant Ã la rÃ©alisation d'un corps d'immortalitÃ©.

Pour plus de clartÃ© nous allons adopter la classification chinoise, qui distingue le Wouei-tan (voie du cinabre extÃ©rieure), qui consiste Ã travailler sur une matiÃ¨re extÃ©rieure Ã l'homme (ici le sulfure de mercure), et le Neitan ou alchimie intÃ©rieure dans laquelle l'adepte se sert de son propre corps, tant pour les ingrÃ©dients que comme laboratoire. Il est Ã©vident que la pierre au rouge transmutatoire et les Ã©lixirs sont issus de la pratique de la voie extÃ©rieure, alors que la constitution du corps de gloire ou corps d'immortalitÃ©, ne peut s'obtenir que par les pratiques internes.

Comme de nos jours, il y eÃªt trÃ¨s tÃªt trois Ã©coles, l'une pratiquant le Wouei-tan, l'autre uniquement le Nei-tan, enfin quelques adeptes de la vieille Tradition alliant les deux.

Les voies extérieures

Nous allons aborder les « voies extérieures », qui utilisent un produit extérieur à l'être humain, métal ou plante, ce qui ne signifie pas que de bonnes dispositions intérieures ne soient nécessaires.

Dans le Traité d'Alchimie et de Physiologie Taoïste de ZHAO BICHEN', Catherine DESPEUX écrit : « Le cinabre, ou sulfure de mercure, sous la forme d'une pierre rouge, est en alchimie chinoise la matière première de la Pierre Philosophale. En d'autres termes, le cinabre est le matériau de base de l'élaboration de l'or en alchimie externe, de la drogue d'immortalité en alchimie intérieure... »
Le terme champ de cinabre, qui désigne une partie du corps, apparaît plus tardivement ; pour citer encore le même auteur : « Ce n'est que vers le IIIe-IVe siècle que l'on voit apparaître trois champs de cinabre distincts

1. Zhao Bichen « Traité d'Alchimie et de physiologie Taoïste ». Introduction, traduction et notes de Catherine Despeux, éd. Les Deux Océans (Paris).

Étagés dans le corps. Ce sont : le champ de cinabre inférieur localisé au-dessous du nombril, le champ de cinabre médian au niveau du cœur, le champ de cinabre supérieur dans la tête ».

Il est certain que d'autres précisions pourraient être apportées sur la voie du cinabre mâle ou Yan tan (voie du cinabre extérieur), et sa différence avec ce qui a été qualifié de voie du cinabre femelle ou Yin tan où l'on utilise des substances végétales en absorption, en combinaison avec des pratiques internes surtout basées sur la respiration.

De même, à l'intérieur d'une voie existent des divergences. Si l'on prend par exemple la classification de KO CHANG KENG, nous pouvons distinguer trois méthodes pour l'alchimie intérieure

• Dans la première, le corps est le plomb, le cœur le mercure. Dans ce cas, la méditation est le liquide nécessaire (l'eau), les lieux de l'intelligence le feu.

• Dans la seconde, la respiration fournit le plomb et l'âme le feu. Il s'agit d'états psychiques, ou de réactions émotionnelles qui produisent elles-mêmes des substances.

• Dans la troisième, le sperme est le plomb, et le sang le mercure. Ici les reins fournissent l'élément eau, et l'esprit le mercure.

La première est considérée comme pouvant être très rapide, remplaçant dix mois de gestation par un battement de paupières.

En Égypte, la voie du mercure est souvent évoquée. DIOSCORIDE qui étudia à Alexandrie précise « D'aucuns affirment que le mercure est un constituant des métaux. » Et si PICTATE dit : « Le pouvoir du vrai bâton d'Hermès réside dans le fait qu'il change en or tout ce qu'il touche », il sait qu'il s'agit du mercure.

Le chapitre le plus ancien entre l'alchimie grecque et l'alchimie arabe, le Livre de Crates, contient trois songes. Dans le deuxième on précise que dans le sanctuaire de Phta se trouve une idole de Vénus qui tient en main un vase duquel coule de l'argent liquide... Il s'agit du premier mercure ou vif-argent. Dans la suite du même songe, quand le rêveur voit une femme d'une grande beauté qui ressemble à l'idole de Vénus, qui détache sa ceinture d'or incrustée de deux pierres, l'une blanche l'autre rouge, on souligne que sur ces deux pierres sont sertis deux morceaux de soufre. Ainsi sont définis les constituants de la Matière Première de l'Œuvre et son aboutissement : la Pierre au blanc et celle au rouge.

Certains auteurs occidentaux rejoignent cette conception. Dans le « Livre de la Philosophie des Métaux », LE TRAVISAN écrit : « Mais le soufre et vif-argent sont appelés la propre et première matière des métaux. »

Comme le précise Wilhem GANZENMULLER: « La théorie du mercure simple fait son apparition dans la nouvelle pierre précieuse de PETRUS BONUS (1330). La comparaison entre les deux théories se fait jour dans différentes œuvres du ^{xv}e siècle ; ainsi, le "De magni Lapidis Compositione" expose en principe que le composant originel de tous les métaux est formé d'un liquide

2. W. Ganzenmuller : « L'Alchimie au Moyen Age », éd. Aubier (Paris 1910).

sec appelé vif-argent et d'un esprit appelé soufre. Il renvoie pour plus de détails au ^{IV}e siècle de la Météorologie d'ARISTOTE, au livre d'ALBERT LE GRAND sur les Minéraux et la Somme de GEBER. Ce dernier dit que le principe essentiel des métaux est une vapeur très fine de vif-argent et de soufre qui, par notre Art, naît de ces deux corps. Beaucoup de philosophes prétendent qu'on peut créer cette fumée sans l'aide du soufre, mais cela revient au même, car le vif-argent contient, par sa nature, le rouge soufre. »

Au sujet de cette Materia Prima pour la voie métallique ou extérieurement, il existe une querelle inutile. Si beaucoup de voies exprimées (Taoïste, Égyptienne, Indienne) partent du mercure ou du cinabre, il reste évident que d'autres sulfures (sulfure d'antimoine, de plomb, etc.) peuvent conduire à la Pierre au Rouge. Basile VALENTIN ne précise-t-il pas que l'antimoine est le « Loup Gris des Philosophes ». Il faut noter cependant à ce sujet que pour ARTEPHIUS, l'antimoine est « notre vinaigre », de même que DOM PERNETY écrit que « c'est l'eau cœlestes qui nettoie, purifie et lave ».

3. Certains prétendent que les alchimistes, par soufre-sel-mercure, parlent des trois principes, ce qui est exact car Paracelse précise dans son « Traité des Trois Essences Premières »

- « L'un est une liqueur, c'est le Mercure - L'autre est une oléite, c'est le Soufre - Le troisième est un Alkali, c'est le Sel. »

Chaque découverte expérimentale donna lieu au cours de l'histoire à des extensions sur des corps analogues. Mais la voie du « sable rouge » et du mercure métallique est évoquée sans ambiguë à un moment de l'histoire alchimique ; les voyages de certains princes à la recherche de l'immortalité sont célèbres.

On constate d'entrée qu'il n'est pas difficile de démontrer une chose et son contraire selon les partisans d'une voie ou d'une autre. Pour citer un exemple précis : quand un auteur écrit : Mars attaque le Loup Gris, un alchimiste de la voie de l'antimoine dira que cela signifie que le fer (Mars) attaque l'antimoine (Loup Gris), donc qu'il faut d'une certaine manière utiliser du fer et de l'antimoine. D'autres comme nous l'avons vu précédemment, pour lesquels l'antimoine est leur eau, considéreront que le Loup Gris est le mercure, et Mars le soufre rouge qui va donc attaquer le mercure et provoquer la modification par l'action de l'eau cœlestes. Cette incompréhension apparaît d'autant plus grande que certains textes concernent des voies internes, comme nous le montrerons dans d'autres chapitres.

Il existe une voie de la stibine (sulfure d'antimoine), liée à un vieux courant qui fut plus accentué au ^{xv}e siècle avec les travaux de CANSELIET et de toute une école qui reste sur ses positions, lesquelles sont parfaitement légitimes si on considère certains textes traditionnels comme ceux du Sieur de GRIMALDI, médecin du roi de Sardaigne, qui donne dans un luxe de détails la voie du Loup Gris. Ce qui n'empêche pas cette voie très complexe qui part du fameux Régule, et qui demande force chaleur et de nombreux ingrédients, d'être intéressante par l'attention qu'elle porte à l'esprit universel et à la manière de le capturer.

Une Étude approfondie des textes et une longue pratique avec constat des résultats, discussions avec de nombreux adeptes, nous la font considérer comme une de plus complexes, et comme support d'un autre enseignement et d'une autre voie plus secrète qui n'apparaît pas encore à certains des adeptes actuels, trop ahuris par de soi-disant maîtres. Comme nous ne le répéterons jamais assez, sur la voie extérieure le seul critère est la Pierre au Rouge transmutatoire, et non pas quelques vagues transmutations exotiques à quels frais avec la méthode du particulier... !4

Sur les voies extérieures nous ne citerons pas les autres aspects, particulièrement ceux de la voie du plomb évoquée par un vieux sixain

Il est une partie dans l'homme Dont le nom six lettres consomme. Si tu y vas un P ajoutant Puis l'S en M permutant Tu trouvera sans nul ambage Le vrai nom du subject des Sages.

Basile VALENTIN dans « Le Dernier Testament » précise l'importance de Saturne : « Prenez de la cendre blanche ou du minium rouge ou du plomb jaune, c'est-à-dire de la litharge. »

Nous ne traiterons pas des voies utilisant le phosphore, mais il est certain qu'on ne peut négliger les voies toujours extérieures, liées à une substance universelle qui est trouvée en tous lieux, en tous temps et chez toute personne, de laquelle on peut extraire un archaïsme, d'un intérêt majeur, à condition que cette matière soit issue de l'union du ciel et de la terre, c'est-à-dire riche en nitre. Dans d'autres voies cette Matière Première joue un autre rôle, devenant un des sels, ou dans d'autres cas un constituant actif de l'eau qui ne mouille pas les mains, dans une voie interne très secrète elle est cependant MATERIA PRIMA. La séparation qu'en font certains alchimistes en quatre éléments relève cependant de décisions gratuites toujours liées à un mental analytique, encore qu'ils soient sur une piste intéressante. La voie de l'eau (sous forme de neige ou de rosée car elle doit être riche en nitre) peut servir pour les voies internes comme celle du mercure (qu'il soit traité à travers le cinabre ou seul, à l'aide de plantes). On retrouve curieusement cette situation d'un sel qui peut devenir Matière Première, dans d'autres voies, cas de la salive humaine par exemple.

Ainsi nous ferons notes, en conclusion, les affirmations de trois alchimistes avertis, SYNESIUS, ARTEPHIUS, et Nicolas FLAMEL. Ce dernier écrit : « Les philosophes n'ont couché sur le papier leurs conceptions que pour ceux qui en connaissent déjà les principes, lesquels ne se trouvent dans aucun livre car ils appartiennent à DIEU, qui seul le révèle à qui bon lui semble, ou bien les fait enseigner par la bouche d'un Maître selon la tradition. » L'alchimiste SYNESIUS, après avoir répété que les philosophes parlent de manière à n'être compris que de ceux qui possèdent la sagesse, dit alors : « Ils ont toutefois indiqué dans leurs oeuvres une certaine voie et prescrit certaines règles grâce auxquelles un Sage peut comprendre ce qu'ils ont écrit occultement et parvenir au but qu'il se propose, même s'il s'est fourvoyé dans quelque erreur ainsi que cela m'est personnellement arrivé. »

ARTEPHIUS confirme ces points de vue : « Est-ce qu'on ignore que notre Art est un Art cabalistique ? C'est-à-dire à ne transmettre qu'oralement, et qui est plein de mystères ? Pauvre imbécile ! Seras-tu assez ingénu pour croire que nous t'enseignons ouvertement et clairement le plus grand des secrets ? Je t'assure que celui qui voudra expliquer avec le sens ordinaire et littéral des mots, ce que les philosophes écrivent, se trouvera pris dans les méandres d'un labyrinthe duquel il ne pourra s'échapper parce qu'il n'aura pas le fil d'Ariane qui le guidera pour en sortir. »

Il existe cependant des constantes qui concernent l'ensemble des voies extérieures

1) La Materia Prima, certains diront plus exactement une Matière Première. Si on considère que la Materia Prima est la substance noire universelle qui permet la manifestation, ISIS, la Vierge Noire, est le symbole de cette substance très dense par rapport à la matière de notre univers qui est un véritable trou.

2) Les sels ou un sel selon les voies.

3) Les étapes de l'Œuvre (séparation, solve, coagula blanc, coagula rouge, multiplication, transmutation) pour la voie du cinabre.

4) La Pierre philosophale qui est rouge, quelles qu'en soient les variantes, et fusible. Mais quels sont les éléments clefs de la voie du cinabre ?

Pour les orientaux, il s'agit du cinabre extérieur, Wouei tan

1) Préparer, à l'aide de ce que nous foulons aux pieds, notre sel, en prenant bien soin que notre végétal soit bien ancien, car le chaos est multiple, et précis sans équivoque par GEBER, JEAN XXII et PARACELSE.

2) Séparer les constituants de la Matière Première sans feu vulgaire, mais avec le feu secret, est l'un des aspects majeurs de la manipulation circulaire ou périphérique.

3) Entamer l'Œuvre au Noir, à ce sujet beaucoup de voies du Mercure commencent directement par ce stade, les adeptes savent pourquoi. Mais le problème réside dans la vie du soufre et du mercure qui ne doivent pas être brûlés par le feu vulgaire, utilisés seulement dans certaines voies extérieures plus récentes dans l'histoire. Les matières constituantes de l'Œuvre doivent créer les mondes par le mouvement féminin horizontal circulaire et masculin axial vertical, puis noircir sous l'action des divers feux, sans oublier le Feu Céleste.

Quand la Couronne du Sacrifice apparaît, aller à la pèche au filet et couper la tête du Corbeau. Parfois certains inversent.

4) Travailler Coagula en saison sèche.

5) Procéder à l'Albification sans omettre la Barbe de l'Éternel.

6) Commencer l'Œuvre en Rouge progressivement en ne poussant le feu que vers la fin.

7) Multiplier trois fois, transmuter et préparer les élixirs.

8) Ingérer, aux équinoxes et solstices, l'élixir de longue vie, manger et faire des opérations de la voie interne à l'aide d'objets en or de transmutation.

9) Utiliser la Pierre dans l'Œuvre interne (alchimie du Nei tan), non seulement comme végétalisateur mais dans son rôle efficace pour la Separatio, séparation du corps embryonnaire, ce pourquoi elle était faite réellement, car le fait de promener du mercure purifié sur l'«il de la main (centre de la paume), produit cette separatio.

Le mercure est ainsi un pont dans l'Univers. Si on recherche une relation entre le minéral et l'animal, elle pourrait passer par cette substance, il ne faut pas oublier que dans certaines alchimies secrètes du Cachemire, l'alchimiste extrait son sperme qu'il remplace par du mercure métallique purifié.

Des alchimistes de la voie extérieure ont pu constater le rôle de pont du mercure au niveau physique, et la possibilité d'interférence avec d'autres dimensions d'une situation phénoménale. Faut-il faire un rapprochement avec le fait que les Vimana Swastikas sont propulsés au mercure, d'après les anciens textes indiens ?

Il s'agit là de processus liés à une alchimie classique, il est évident que les matières de l'Œuvre peuvent être traitées d'une autre manière. Par exemple dans le cas du mercure, il est possible d'utiliser d'autres soufres et moyens de purification.

Les plantes jouent d'ailleurs un grand rôle dans l'alchimie indienne où le mercure est travaillé jusqu'au 18 samskar, il devient progressivement Pierre Rouge. Ce même processus peut se rencontrer avec les autres matières (antimoine, plomb) mais plus difficilement.

5. Vaisseaux aériens des « dieux » ou de la race des géants.

6. Ainsi, la voie du Cinabre peut se faire d'une toute autre manière en partant d'un nitre que l'on trouve au bord des lacs ou que l'on doit recueillir dans certaines eaux.

Il est évident car le mercure a l'avantage peu commun d'être en fusion à la température ordinaire qui est celle de la vie végétale ou animale sur terre, c'est un point de détail qui échappe trop souvent à certains alchimistes des voies extérieures'. Il faudrait aussi se poser d'autres questions essentielles quant à la différence des pierres transmutatoires, selon que l'on part du mercure ou du plomb, non pas sur une transmutation mais sur les corps subtils et le corps humain. Il ne faut pas oublier que le mercure est dans la tradition indienne le sperme de SCHIVA, et qu'un sublimé de sulfure de mercure peut être bénéfique pour l'organisme, alors qu'un sublimé de sulfure de plomb peut avoir un tout autre effet. Enfin les alchimistes indiens et tibétains connaissent le rôle important de ce métal sur la voie interne, particulièrement dans la separatio.

7. A ce propos, Paracelse donne bien des précisions sur la voie du cinabre dans « le Trésor des Trésors » : « Prends du cinabre minéral... »

Les courants rosicruciens et hermétiques

Les courants rosicruciens liés à la voie alchimique, plus ou moins directement, se manifestèrent tout au long de l'histoire et d'abord dans les écoles de Mystères, lesquelles furent antiques ou perscutées par l'Église chrétienne. LIBANIUS décrit les opérations de destruction des temples païens conduites par des fanatiques « Les hommes vêtus de noir, portant des morceaux de bois, des pierres et du feu ; quelques-uns se contentent de leurs mains et de leurs pieds... Alors les toits sont abattus, les statues renversées, les autels détruits de fond en comble. Quant aux prêtres, ils ont le choix entre le silence ou la mort. » C'est à ce moment que les adeptes commencèrent à « hevaucher le tigre, c'est-à-dire à adapter les forces ahurissantes et leur donner un sens souvent traditionnel. Les cercles d'adeptes se réfugiaient dans certaines familles, puis dans certains ordres hermétiques, pour arriver à une époque que nous connaissons bien, le Moyen Âge.

1. Libanius « Discours pour les temples ».

C'est au XVIII^e siècle, et plus particulièrement dans les pays où l'autorité centrale était faible, que les Sociétés Secrètes prolifèrent.

Un passage s'effectua des divers relais initiatiques, pour aboutir à l'Allemagne, passant par Venise, porte ouverte à l'influence orientale. C'est ainsi que nous savons que les van den RECK, dont la sœur ELISA fut la dernière Princesse de COURLANDE, et beaucoup de familles aristocratiques s'intitulaient Rose + Croix ; le siège de leur groupe était situé à Fez où se donnaient les dernières directives et où se conserve encore une stèle des Rose + Croix avec une liste des membres de cette époque. Le but de cette organisation était l'immortalité individuelle obtenue sur Terre en conformité avec les traditions égyptienne et taoïste. Un autre membre de cette organisation, le Conseiller Rudolf Johann Friedrich SCHMIDT, mort en 1761 à Hambourg, apparaît à diverses personnes bien après sa mort dans un corps glorifié.

Cet ordre très secret et composé de membres hautains, puisqu'ils conservaient un maître certain pour CAGLIOSTRO, ne doit pas être confondu avec certains ordres rosicruciens de l'époque, particulièrement les AURI et ROSICRUCIENS qui aboutirent progressivement à neuf grades. Ce critère des neuf degrés, contrairement à ce que publient certains auteurs modernes, n'est pas un critère d'authenticité, pour la simple raison que nous connaissons les étapes successives qui conduisirent à l'adoption de cette hiérarchie.

Puis vint la réforme consécutive au décret impérial qui chassait les Rose + Croix de l'Empire autrichien en 1766.

Cette réforme qui se fit en deux temps d'ailleurs, aboutit à l'obligation de la maîtrise maçonnique pour, comme le précise le livre de FESSLER, «Rozenkreuzerey», «s'assurer plus facilement de la volonté de connaissance chez les hommes». Nous avons cité ce courant car il est l'origine d'une recherche et d'une transmission importante en matière d'alchimie. Il faudrait préciser les titres d'auteurs de la Rose + Croix, dont le «Testamentum Thesaurorum a Fraternitate Rosae et Aureae Crucis», cité par Christopher MAC INTOSH dans son remarquable livre «La Rose + Croix dévoilée»² et qui traite de la fabrication de l'Élixir de Vie à partir des fluides du corps. Ce même traité apporte des précisions sur la sueur et la salive, cette dernière traitée comme matière de l'Œuvre. Traitement qui rejoint un des plus beaux chefs-d'œuvre de la littérature alchimique : «L'Aurea Catena Homeri», écrit par une Rose + Croix d'Utrecht vers 1654 et publié pour la première fois en 1723. Il fut publié à Paris en deux volumes probablement pour la duchesse d'URFE, adepte de la science hermétique sous le titre : «La Nature dévoilée», et traite des divers aspects de la voie alchimique tels que «Opération sur l'eau de pluie avec laquelle on fait les trois rituels, ... l'homme, la vigne et l'or sont les trois clefs des trois rituels, description de l'Alkaest... »I.

2. «La Rose-Croix dévoilée» de Christopher Mac Intosh, Éditions Dervy, Paris. L'auteur précise que le Testamentum a Fraternitate Rosae et Aureae Crucis (Testament de la Fraternité de la R+C d'Or, Bibliothèque nationale d'Autriche, Vienne) décrit les rituels de l'Ordre et présente quelques processus alchimiques permettant de réaliser l'Élixir de vie à partir de certaines sécrétions humorales du corps (sang, urine et salive). Ces processus sont rapprochés de ceux de la Tradition Taoïste qui, nous le rappelle Catherine Despeux («Zhao Bichen» Éd. Dervy), attache aussi beaucoup d'importance à certaines humeurs du corps : salive, larmes, rhinorrhée, semen...

Il faudrait citer aussi le livre de KELLNER «Officina Chymico Metallica Curiosa», sorti en 1723, qui enseigne d'une façon claire et facile le moyen de transformer le plomb en or et argent...

Plus près de nous, les Rose + Croix d'Or continuent sur ces mêmes voies dont le Docteur Bernard Joseph SCHLEISS von LOWENFELD (1731-1800) fut un des principaux responsables. Il s'appuyait sur les œuvres de Christian KNORR von ROSENROTH (1636-1689) et François Mercure van HELMONT (1618-1699)⁴. Parmi

3. L'«Aurea Catena Homeri», la Chaîne d'or d'Homère, ou Annulus Platonis, parfois sous-titré Superius et Inferius Hermetis, fut publié en Allemagne pour la première fois en 1723 et connu au moins 12 éditions. Le titre est tiré de l'Iliade (VIII, 17-26) et signifie que le Monde est Un. Gérard Heym précise (revue Ambix, 1937) que l'édition la plus intéressante est celle de 1781 car elle est largement commenté par les membres de la dernière société pansophique allemande, sociétés qui avaient leur origine dans la Florence de Ficino et Cosimo de Medici. Ce traité eut, par ailleurs, trois traductions, l'une latine, les deux autres françaises, celle de Sitandre restée manuscrite, celle de Dufournel qui est plus une adaptation qu'une traduction, imprimée en 1772.

Il n'est pas inutile de reproduire ici un passage de cette œuvre qui confirme certaines informations données précédemment quant à la Materia Prima de l'Œuvre alchimique : « L'animal est formé d'un sperme, substance aqueuse, et tout son organisme dépend d'un équilibre des humeurs aqueuses. L'eau est élément capital de tout corps vivant. »

4. Knorr Von Rosenroth et Mercure Van Helmont fréquentèrent assidument la cour du Duché de Sulzbach (Haut-Palatinat), impor

les œuvres importantes de la Rose + Croix d'Or, il faut citer l'« Opus Mago-cabalisticum et Theologicum » de Gregorius Anglus SALLWIGT, qui traite des trois substances : sel, soufre, mercure. L'Ordre évolua progressivement pour ne recruter qu'au niveau de Maître-Maçon vers la fin du XVIIIe siècle. Il comprenait 9 degrés ainsi distribués

1 - Junior

2 - Theoreticus 3 - Practicus

4 - Philosophus 5 - Minor 6 - Major

7 - Adeptus Exemptus 8 - Magister 9 - Magus

L'admission au dernier cycle coûtait 99 marks-or. Le lieu de réunion était tous les dix ans à Smyrne. Leurs pouvoirs semblaient miraculeux.

En liaison avec les Rose + Croix d'Or existait une société secrète très fermée : Les Frères Initiés de l'Asie ou Chevaliers et Frères de Saint Jean l'Évangéliste venus d'Asie en Europe, dont un des Grands Maîtres fut le prince Charles de HESSE-CASSEL, formé par le comte Hans-Heinrich von ECKER und ECKHOFFEN, conseiller privé du roi de Pologne. Les frères devaient aussi être Maîtres Maçons. L'ordre communiquait une tant centre ésotérique au XVIIIe siècle. Ce duché sera au XVIIIe siècle un des principaux centres de la R+C d'or. 5. Notons cependant que l'erreur consistant à faire automatique-doctrine. La croyance en la rotation des âmes, tenue secrète dans certaines écoles hermétiques, était professée, elle devint plus tard la doctrine de la réincarnation, qui n'est pas aussi récente que le prétend René GUENON, puisque le Bardo Thodol y fait allusion ainsi que le livre X de « La République » de PLATON. PYTHAGORE lui-même reconnut ses armes d'une vie antérieure. Le Prince de HESSE écrivit en 1821 : « Le Seigneur qui m'enseigna ensuite tous les corps par où j'ai passé... »

Certaines croyances des Frères Initiés de l'Asie rappellent la notion de Bodhisattvas. L'origine orientale asiatique fut toujours attestée par les membres de l'Ordre mais aussi la kabbale et l'alchimie y jouaient un rôle important. L'Ordre était méprisante pour les autres ordres rosicruciens et les hauts grades de la Maçonnerie l'amusaient. Les dignitaires portaient des noms hébraïques kabbalistiques. Le Collège Supérieur formait le Synedrion avec 72 membres.

Nous ne citerions pas cet ordre s'il n'avait eu la clef simultanée des deux alchimies. Les deux premiers grades étaient probatoires. Ils se nommaient premièrement chercheurs, et deuxièmement souffrants.

Il y avait ensuite trois étapes supérieures

- Les Chevaliers et Frères de Saint Jean l'Évangéliste venus d'Asie en Europe.

ment d'un Rose + Croix un Franc-Maçon est souvent commise par ceux qui appréhendent mal ces questions. Il est non moins vrai que l'appartenance aux deux sociétés est possible.

6. Guenon, remarquable dans certains écrits philosophiques, n'en est pas à quelques affirmations gratuites.

- Les Sages Maîtres.

- Les Prêtres Rois, véritables Rose + Croix unis à Melchisedech.

Au troisième grade existait la pratique de la Pierre au Rouge. L'étape suivante était réservée à ceux qui pouvaient se libérer des penchants inférieurs. Elle abordait la constitution d'un corps de lumière éternel. On retrouve là exactement les étapes de la quante interne qui réunissait les voies alchimiques. Les initiés supérieurs de l'Ordre s'appelaient Les Pères et Frères des Sept Églises inconnues d'Asie. Notons aussi que la science pythagoricienne des nombres et des sons était utilisée. L'ensemble des connaissances de cet ordre était assez rare à cette époque.

Séparément ou parallèlement, parfois conjoint au courant Rose + Croix, plus particulièrement de l'Aurae Crucis, se perpétue un vieux filon hermétique dont les traces historiques sont sans équivoques. Nous avons pu consulter les documents de la Grande Loge d'Alsace, quelques européens les possèdent en photocopies, certains autres ordres actuels réservent cette histoire à leurs adhérents, encore que comme l'affirmait un responsable actuel belge il n'y ait rien de secret dans cette histoire, et qu'on peut en trouver tous les éléments aisément. Ce filon, rescapé des écoles de Mystères dans des périodes plus lointaines (les Fratelli Oscuri, etc.) devient plus apparent au Moyen Age, particulièrement dans l'Académie Romaine autorisée par SIXTE IV en 1471, dans les banquets platoniciens organisés en 1474 par Marcile FICIN. Le cardinal BEMBO fut membre de l'Académie de Ferrare ; c'est lui qui permit la récupération et les études de la table d'ISIS, un des principaux documents de la voie alchimique interne. Son ami le pape LÉON X l'aidera, il lui écrivit d'ailleurs une lettre qui demanderait une étude approfondie sur sa signification, dans laquelle il affirme : « Nul ne sait combien la fable de Jésus-Christ nous a été profitable. » Elle peut laisser penser que beaucoup d'adeptes chevauchaient le tigre c'est-à-dire qu'ils jouaient les cartes nécessaires à la sauvegarde du dépôt aristocratique, le meilleur moyen d'éviter la répression éternelle dans la hiérarchie ecclésiastique. Par la suite, ce filon s'occulta après les persécutions papales et celles de PHILIPPE II, roi d'Espagne et de Naples, pour se répandre dans les îles britanniques, particulièrement à travers la société Baconienne.

C'est à la suite de l'interdiction par CHARLES II en 1669 concernant les sociétés secrètes que Thomas STANLEY transforma les tavernes en clubs de priseurs (snuff-Takers), et opta pour une allégorie de la culture du tabac. Parallèlement, ce filon grâce à William PENN, s'implante à Philadelphie, s'étend en Amérique et retourne en France en 1778 où il prendra le nom d'Ordre des Nicotinaïques.

Nous avons les preuves historiques, cependant, d'autres courants parallèles à la même époque y compris dans le monde francophone. En 1780 nous le trouvons dans les Sublimes Maîtres de l'Anneau Lumineux, rite « phénix » qui devint le 12e degré du Rite « écossais Philosophique ». C'est le plant de tabac rouge (MOLLY) connu par les Grecs qui était la plante symbolique. La hiérarchie était aussi pythagoricienne car si les cercles de l'Ordre sont des manufactures, le Vénérable Maître est un didascale. JeanMarie RAGON de BETTIGNIES, dont nous prÃ©ciserons dans un autre chapitre le rÃ´le important dans le courant hermÃ©tique, et Bernard Raymond FABRE PALAPRAT (1775-1838), fondateur des NÃ©o-Templiers, avaient Ã©tÃ© reÃ§us dans cet ordre hermÃ©tique.

Faut-il concevoir la filiation de l'Ordre Souverain et Militaire du Temple de JÃ©rusalem, expression actuelle des NÃ©o-Templiers, comme ayant Ã©tÃ© le cercle extÃ©rieur d'un ordre plus fermÃ© ? Il ne faut pas oublier que le SÃ©r PELADAN en fut grand MaÃ®tre (1892). Or, on sait qu'il fut dÃ©positaire d'une certaine filiation rosicrucienne et hermÃ©tique sur laquelle nous reviendrons. Il semble que cela soit le dÃ©part de cet ordre dit de semi couverture.

C'est l'attitude de l'empereur qui va Ãªtre la plus rÃ©vÃ©latrice. Valentin Å% RIGÃNE Å©crit : Å« En 1808, l'empereur donna l'autorisation Å FABRE PALAPRAT en tant que rÃ©gent de l'Ordre secret des Templiers, d'organiser une somptueuse cÃ©rÃ©monie commÃ©morative Å l'occasion de l'anniversaire de la mort de Jacques de MOLAY, dernier grand MaÃ®tre du Temple, brÃ»lÃ© vif Å Paris en l'an 1314. L'Ã©vÃ©nement se dÃ©roula en grande pompe au Marais, le 11 mars, en l'Ã©glise Saint-Paul-Saint-Louis, rue Saint-Antoine. Des tÃ©moins, dont Monsieur de MONTAGNAC, relatÃ©rent que ce fut une reprÃ©sentation d'un grand faste, comparable au sacre de l'empereur. NapolÃ©on, non seulement donna l'autorisation pour le dÃ©rou lement d'un tel Ã©vÃ©nement, mais mieux encore, il ordonna qu'un rÃ©giment d'infanterie s'y rendÃ©t afin de constituer une haie d'honneur... Å»

Monseigneur Ivan de la THIBAUDERIE, dans Å« Å©glises et Å©vÃ©aques Catholiques non Romains Å» prÃ©cise Å« Au dÃ©but du siÃ©cle dernier, l'Ordre du Temple jouissait en France de la meilleure estime et comptait parmi ses membres des personnages fort distinguÃ©s : le comte de LANJUINAIS, pair de France, le duc de MONTMORENCY, l'amiral FREYSSINET, le baron FRETEAU de PENY, pair de France, conseiller Å la Cour de Cassation, le comte de BRACK, officier gÃ©nÃ©ral au service de la France, le comte de LACEPEDE, Emmanuel de LAS CASES, l'amiral Sidney SMITH, le poÃ©te TENNYSON, le conseiller FUALDES, le magistrat de CAMPOS, Sir LAMBTON, Lord DURHAM, NapolÃ©on de MONTEBELLO, Charles de MORNAU, EugÃne NEY, le comte de CHOISEUL-STAINVILLE, etc. Å» C'est ainsi que nous apprenons qu'au sein de l'ordre existe aussi une hiÃ©rarchie religieuse, et que Monseigneur GUILLAUME consacra le grand MaÃ®tre FABRE PALAPRAT le 20 juillet 1810. Le mÃªme jour il reconsacra subconditionnÃ© Jean MACHAULT Å©vÃ©aques johannite, coadjuteur gÃ©nÃ©ral. Il leur donna ainsi pouvoir de transmettre les ordres. L'Ã©glise johannite va connaÃ©tre une expansion qui culmina entre 1831 et 1833 avec l'admission du public Å la messe johannite. Nous ne reviendrons pas sur le problÃ©me des preuves historiques et sur certains faux de FABRE PALAPRAT, qui a pu crÃ©er une couverture.

La rÃ©alitÃ© qui se cache derriÃ©re le phÃ©nomÃ©ne historique peut ne pas apparaÃ©tre. Si nous tombons dans l'historicisme, toutes les filiations actuelles, maÃ§onnique, rosicrucienne ou martiniste, sont des crÃ©ations ex nihilo. Un examen attentif des textes de certains rituels, convents, etc., est suffisant pour s'en rendre compte. Sans parler des conventiculs tel celui de la FUDOSI, qui deviendraient explosifs, s'ils Ã©taient extÃ©riorisÃ©s. Pour en revenir Å l'Ordre Nicotiniaque, beaucoup de frÃ©res Ã©taient membres des derniers degrÃ©s du Rite de MisraÃm. Il s'agit bien entendu du rÃ©gime de Naples, ARCANA ARCANORUM, qui comportait aussi quatre degrÃ©s. PrÃ©cÃ©demment, comme actuellement d'ailleurs, le quatriÃ©me degrÃ© de l'Ordre HermÃ©tique correspond Å l'Ã©chelle de Naples, Å tel point qu'un membre du degrÃ© sacerdotal est consid  r   comme 90e de Misra  m.

La filiation de ce rite, sur ces deux lignes (herm  tique et Aurae Crucis), particuli  rement    travers les fr  res PELADAN, et via S  cr HIERONYMUS9, se prolonge jusqu'   nos jours. Nous reviendrons sur la situation actuelle dans un autre chapitre.

Il n'est pas possible de parler d'herm  tisme sans   voquer la filiation druidique, non pas au niveau d'un quelconque sacerdote, mais pour la transmission de secrets initiatiques r  els. Le titre ne signifiant pas grand chose, Andr   SAVORET y fait allusion quant il   crit    Certains secrets n'  taient confi  s ni aux druides schismatiques, ni m  me    tous les autres, indistinctement.    Il note par ailleurs que l'histoire rapport  e par PLINE, quant    la constitution d'un neuf fait avec la bave de serpents, renferme un des secrets majeurs du sanctuaire. Il faut ajouter que l'histoire pr  cise que    l'oeuf doit   tre projet   en l'air par les sifflements, qu'il faut le recevoir dans un sayon sans qu'il touche le sol, et que le ravisseur doit s'enfuir    cheval, poursuivi par les ophidiens jusqu'   ce qu'une rivi  re s'interpose entre eux et lui. Comme les magies sont ing  nieux    frauder, ils pr  tendent qu'une, certaine lune est    choisir pour se procurer cet neuf, comme s'il d  pendait de la volont   humaine de faire co  ncider l'op  ration des serpents avec l'  poque choisie 10   ».

9. S  cr Hieronymus :   mile Dantinne (19/04/1884-21/05/1969).

Tous les   l  ments de la constitution du corps d'immortalit   semblent ainsi r  unis et donn  s sans   quivoque pour ceux qui connaissent les aspects pratiques de la voie interne, dite aussi quatri  me voie, ou voie des substances. Nous reviendrons ult  rieurement sur la question des sifflements n  cessaires    la s  paration, de m  me que sur la notion de monter    cheval, c'est-   dire de savoir ma  triser son v  hicule psychique (support le plus ext  rieur du corps de gloire), enfin de passer l'eau sans encombre, car il faut savoir faire le voyage avant la mort naturelle, comme le voulaient les   coles s  rieuses des myst  res, dont la plupart des soi-disant ordres initiatiques actuels ne sont plus que des parodies. Le degr   de ma  tre ma  son (avec sa l  gende d'Hiram), celui de l'Ordre Herm  tique (avec la l  gende d'Osiris et des   l  ments bien plus originaux que ceux de la ma  sonnerie),   voquent cette phase.

Les secrets celtiques furent souvent cach  s dans la charbonnerie, chapeaut  e par des cercles ou ordres plus ferm  s". Sans doute faut-il consid  rer l'Ordre Herm  tique de l'Hermine d'Argent comme l'un des plus s  rieux, m  me si sa situation actuelle, sur laquelle nous reviendrons, nous semble plus proche de l'axe immobile que de la manifestation.

11. Il est int  ressant de rapprocher nos    Carbonari    de l'  cole derviche des Charbonniers, surtout si l'on sait que le terme    Fehm    signifie en Arabe aussi bien Noir que Connaissance. Les trois principaux degr  s d'initiation soufie comportent l'exploitation du th  me de la mort: Mort Blanche, Mort Verte, Mort Noire, suivie d'une renaissance.

Ordres actuels ayant un rapport avec une ou plusieurs voies alchimiques

Nous n'allons pas donner des pr  cisions sur le type de voie alchimique que certains ordres d  tiennent, dans certains cas. Nous excluons de facto ceux qui s'attachent    d  finir des voies dites spirituelles, ou de verbiage en verbiage, avec le moteur de l'espérance, si essentiel (et si exploité) à l'être humain, on prétend conduire un être vers la lumière, en lui laissant espérer plus dans les prochaines vies... Tout d'abord il nous faut parler des filiations du courant dit Rose + Croix ou rosicrucien avec ses multiples facettes.

Les branches liées à l'ancienne ROSAE CRUCIS, plus précisément l'ancienne Rose + Croix d'Or, se perpétuent encore aujourd'hui, avec parfois des émergences, lesquelles ne doivent pas être confondues avec l'ORA, Ordre de Rose Croix d'Or qui fut un moment dépendant de la R. HIERONYMUS, ni même avec les Rose + Croix d'or de Harlem, qui sont une expression du Lectorium Rosicrucianum fondé aux Pays Bas par van RIJCKENBORGH, mouvement chrétien gnostique, qui s'intéresse peu à la matière, ou en tout cas pas comme moyen de rédemption, selon les vues du manichisme.

Dans une expression plus ouverte, la Rose + Croix d'Or se retrouve dans les cercles internes liés à la filiation HIERONYMUS et ELGIMI (plus ouverte par rapport aux filiations internes : en fait ces cercles sont encore assez fermés actuellement, et c'est mieux ainsi). Ces ordres ne recrutent pas, ils se maintiennent par cooptation dans d'autres groupes ou dans la Franc-Maçonnerie.

Sacer HIERONYMUS avait amalgamé diverses filiations à sensibilité parfois opposées. Il est surtout connu dans le cadre de l'Ordre de la Rose + Croix Universitaire qui a neuf degrés (Zelator, Theoreticus, Practicus, Philosophus, Adeptus Minor, Adeptus Major, Adeptus Exemptus, Magister Templi, Magus) et conduisait à la « Rose + Croix Intérieure, à quatre degrés (occuyer, Chevalier, Commandeur, Imperator). Ce courant à sensibilité chrétienne avait été dissocié de son expression païenne hermétique, organisée par François SOETEWY (Sacer SUCUS), ce qui ne signifiait pas que ces ordres étaient en conflit. Il faut préciser cependant que la filiation hermétique était la plus complète au niveau

1. Maître Jean Mallinger.

2. Il n'est pas possible dans la conjoncture actuelle, et afin d'éviter les divagations d'auteurs en mal de sensations, de donner des précisions sur certains courants R + C très fermés, positifs encore, entre autres, des deux voies (externe et interne). Faut-il préciser qu'il existait encore à Florence au XVII^e siècle un « Ordre des Magiciens », scission des Frères de la Rose + Croix, au X^e siècle, un Ordre plus interne que l'on retrouve la clef d'événements dans d'autres pays.

C'est actuellement l'Américain qui compte le plus d'Adeptes de ces voies internes.

de la filiation interne, elle perpétuait le vieux courant des ARCANA ARCANORUM dont nous aurons à reparler.

L'Ordre Hermétique se présentait, et se présente encore, comme une forme de Maçonnerie plus occulte, pouvant donner l'orientation exacte aux autres maçonneries, en fait à juste raison, car la vieille filiation des ARCANA, et les degrés qui leur succèdent légitimaient cette prétention.

D'autre part, dans l'Ordre Hermétique se continuait toujours l'AURAE CRUCIS. De nos jours, si l'ambition est moindre, les filons n'ont pas changé. Curieusement, il semble que ce soit une organisation de l'ex-FUDOSI qui a provoqué une occultation encore plus grande des autres filiations : il s'agit de l'AMORC (Ancien et Mystique Ordre Rosae Crucis), qui a adopté une manière américaine de publicité (acceptée, il est vrai par la FUDOSI), puis en Europe une méthode de cours par correspondance (non acceptée cette fois).

Donc, contrairement à ce qu'affirment certains auteurs, d'autres ordres de la défunte FUDOSI se per

3. Il faut rendre hommage au responsable actuel de ce filon, S^ŕ Neb Ta qui a su le conserver dans la ligne et l'esprit voulu par S^ŕ Sucus et S^ŕ Elgim, c'est-à-dire dans l'esprit des Anc^{es} de Myst^{res}

Œgypto-grecques qui n'ont pas besoin des ajouts ult^{rieurs} kabbalistiques puis chr^{tiens}, pour exprimer le message de lumi^{re}, et perp^{tuer} une Th^{urgie} active en relation avec les Dieux. Beaucoup d'^{ot}ristes commencent à r^{aliser} que les alphabets Œgyptiens et grecques peuvent être plus parlants, efficaces et bien plus clairs quant à l'explication de l'Univers. Il est regrettable que les Anc^{es} qui d^{tiennent} leur signification ne se soient pas manifest^{es} ext^{rieurement}.

p^{tuent}, conservant les vieilles r^{gles} de cette FEDERATIO UNI VER SA LIS DIRIGENS ORDINES SOCIETATESQUE INITIA TIONIS.

A ce sujet, certains documents plus internes, dont un proc^s verbal contresign^é par certains S^{ŕs} (dont nous ne pouvons faire état car nous risquerions de d^{clencher} des crises inutiles) confirment ce que nous savions de la plupart des filiations, qui ne sont que des cr^{ations} ex nihilo. Il est vrai que l'humain a besoin de refuges, et qu'une orientation culturelle et quelques exercices psychiques le satisfont pleinement, d'autant plus qu'il garde l'espoir que le degr ^{sup^{rieur}} lui donnera les clefs qu'il attend... Par ailleurs il faut reconna^{tre} que certains étaient d^{tenteurs} des ARCANA ARCANORUM, c'est pourquoi nous nous sommes étendus sur ce sujet controvers^é.

D'autres d^{tenteurs} de filiations (ou soi disant...) avaient choisi un autre camp, celui de R. Swinburne CLYMER, grand ma^{tre} de la fraternit^é Rosae Crucis, et ennemi de H. Spencer LEWIS (Imperator de l'AMORC) : il s'agit entre autres de Constant CHEVILLON, responsable de l'Ordre Ma^{sonique} de Memphis Misra^m, de l'Ordre Martiniste, de la Rose + Croix Kabbalistique et de l'^{glise} Gnostique (filiation BRICAUD, d^cd^é en 1934, puis Henri Charles DUPONT, etc.). Ils sign^{rent} un trait^é qui institua la FUDOFSI (F^dration Universelle des Ordres, Soci^tés et Fraternit^{és} des Initi^{és}).

Au sujet du rite de Memphis Misra^m, il faut noter que la FUDOSI avait aussi les siens car nous remarquons dans les ordres admis en 1934

- L'Ordre Ma^{sonique} Oriental du Rite ancien et Primitif de Memphis Misra^m repr^{sent}é par les fr^{res} GRUTER (33e, 97e), et FITAU (33e, 95e).

- L'Ordre Ma^{sonique} Mixte de Memphis Misra^m, repr^{sent}é par le fr^{re} Raoul FRUCTUS (33e, 98e), et le fr^{re} DESECK (33e, 66e).

La FUDOFSI re^{ut} un coup fatal avec le d^cs de Constant CHEVILLON, assassin^é par la milice en 1944. A ce sujet, il faut pr^{ciser} qu'une certaine litt^{érature} peu inform^{ée} a souvent assimil^é le mouvement synarchique de CHEVILLON, issu des id^{es} de SAINT YVES D'ALVEYDRE, à la synarchie (sorte de cercle de la haute finance que les chr^{tiens} d'extr^{me} droite combattaient).

La mort de ce dignitaire, d'ailleurs chr^{tien} lui aussi, fut caus^{ée} par cette erreur de jugement. Il est à souhaiter que les courants aristocratiques se rapprochent plus de la d^{marche} qualitative de la Gnose, que des voies pl^{ob}iennes de la foi ! Cela leur éviterait bien des erreurs fatales, et des orientations contre nature. Il est assez surprenant de nos jours de constater que des ahuris continuent à diffuser certaines confusions...

Notre propos n'est pas de disserter sur les r^{glements} de comptes entre deux dignitaires d'ordres rosicruciens am^{ricains}, conflits qui apparaissent bien d^{risoires} quand on conna^t les dossiers. Souhaitons que le livre de Serge CAILLET « S^ŕ Hieronymus et la FUDOSI »⁴, avec sa remarquable pr^{face} de Robert AMADOU, soit repris un jour avec d'autres ^{ments} plus substantiels...

Toujours en restant sur la notion d'ordres et non d'associations (ce qui nous obligerait à traiter de trop de cercles tels que les Philosophes de la Nature, l'Équipe de SOLAZAREFF qui a au moins l'avantage d'égayer un peu le microcosme alchimique), il faut citer sur les mêmes courants deux cercles extérieurs

- La Collégiale AL KIMIA animée par un groupe d'adeptes issus de l'enseignement des Frères Aïnés de la Rose + Croix, ordre sur lequel nous reviendrons, et qui est dépositaire de la voie du cinabre (il s'agit bien entendu du Wouei Tan).

- Les FAR + C, vieux collège réservé à trente-trois frères chevaliers, seuls des adeptes y sont cooptés.
Nous reviendrons ultérieurement sur la question des FAR + C, car c'est une des rares organisations à avoir de nombreuses archives et une histoire écrite. De même il faut noter qu'elle est la seule à témoigner d'une vieille pratique : la voie du cinabre. Il s'agit d'un Wouei Tan (voie du cinabre extérieur), encore que nous ayons la preuve que certains Imperators connaissaient l'aspect interne, c'est le cas par exemple de Lord BULWER LYTTON⁶. Il ne faut pas s'étonner si on retrouve parfois

5. Citons aussi la société « Spagy Nature » qui anime des stages et diffuse un enseignement qui peut mener à une confrérie : la CHR + CHM. La société « Spagy Nature » enseigne la spagyrie et peut conduire à une alchimie proche de la ligne Canseliet.

6. Sir Edward George Bulwer Lytton (1803-1873) fut le 51^e Imperator des FAR + C (1849-1865), membre de la Société Thulé et responsable du Metropolitan College en 1871. Mais, contrairement à ce qui est souvent avancé, il ne fréquenta pas la SRIA.

dans l'histoire des maîtres d'une ou de l'autre voie et plus rarement de deux ou plusieurs à la fois...

En fait, peu de personnes supportent d'une part la diversité des voies, ensuite on peut être un expert d'une ligne et être complètement fractaire à une autre. Enfin l'humain est ce qu'il est : facilement ahurissable, dogmatique naïf, il s'empare de la première idée, et ne la lâche plus... Là comme ailleurs, le cas des arts martiaux est typique, chacun applique son programme, et parfois heureusement. Mais, comme l'a dit un grand auteur « Celui qui n'a plus la possibilité de s'émerveiller, celui là est comme s'il était mort. » C'est pour ceux qui ne veulent pas mourir idiots que nous avons écrit ce livre où il n'y a pas tout, mais où il y a beaucoup pour ceux qui veulent devenir des traqueurs ou des chevaliers verts'. Encore une fois nous ne le répéterons jamais assez, ce ne sont pas les voies qui sont petites, mais les humains qui en sont les supports. On a bien d'autres preuves de nos jours de luttes idiotes et filiations dites opposées, dont les maîtres passés étaient en étroite relation amicale.

La fraternité Thérapeutique Magique de la Myriam⁸ F+T+M+M, vieille fraternité de moines rouges organisée au siècle dernier par Giuliano KREMMERZ, était le cercle exotérique d'un collège d'adeptes, lié à l'Ordre

7. On qualifie ainsi ceux qui font vœux de chevalerie errante et adoptent la couleur vert foncé pour la vêtue et les armes, à l'instar du comte Amédée VI de Savoie, qui fut appelé « le comte vert ».

Le chevalier vert subit ainsi une épreuve purificatrice, étape fondamentale de la quête hermétique.

Osirien. (Nous publions par la suite un texte d'un des maîtres de l'Ordre, commentaire de la 5^e proposition de la « Table d'Émeraude »). L'Ordre s'est mis en sommeil. Les adeptes - dont semble-t-il faisait partie le Prince CAETANI, qui publia dans la revue « Commentarium » en 1911 un texte intéressant reproduit aussi par la suite - se réfugièrent au Canada, au moment du Concordat, appréciant sans doute fort peu le mariage fascisme-Église. La MYRIAM, qui fut donc cautionnée un moment par Le Grand Ordre Égyptien, a perdu sa légitimité, par rapport au pyramidion ; situation que nous allons retrouver pour la Franc-Maçonnerie du rite de Memphis-Misraïm en ce qui concerne les ARCANA ARCANORUM.

Les ARCANA ARCANORUM

On désigne ainsi les quatre degrés, parfois trois, ou un, d'un enseignement très secret qui constituait - et qui constitue encore - le pyramidion de certains Ordres. Parmi ceux-ci le plus connu fut le rite de Misraïm, devenu dans certains cas, associé au rite de Memphis⁹, le rite de

9. Le rite de Memphis eut et peut avoir encore dans certains cas un aspect interne. Le 86e degré « Sublime maître de l'anneau lumineux » fut une expression de la tradition secrète nicotinique des Arcana.

Par ailleurs les sept degrés Égyptiens de la loge « Les disciples de Memphis » de Montauban, contenaient les enseignements de certaines connaissances ramenées d'Égypte par des officiers français, d'autre part ils étaient aussi les héritiers des trois degrés « Égyptiens » de l'Ordre des Architectes Africains créé en Allemagne

Memphis-Misraïm. Cet enseignement concerne une Théurgie, c'est-à-dire une mise en relation avec des éonsguides qui doivent prendre le relais pour faire comprendre un processus, mais aussi une voie alchimique très fermée, qui est un Nei tan, c'est-à-dire une voie interne. En effet, dans la Maçonnerie se chevauchent les deux alchimies, et pour qui connaissent certains Ordres Internes, on sait avec précision quand ces alchimies furent introduites dans la Maçonnerie, tout en restant aussi dans leur contexte primitif, ce que ne savent pas la plupart des maçons actuels, fussent-ils 33e ou 95e, les degrés représentent uniquement les clefs symboliques. C'est ainsi qu'une partie de la Maçonnerie suggère sans équivoque la voie du cinabre. Par exemple dans le cabinet de réflexion on¹ se trouvent Sel-Soufre-Mercure, dans le premier degré, on prépare le sel par les quatre éléments, préparés d'ailleurs par la formule VITRIOL du cabinet de réflexion. Enfin c'est au grade de chevalier Rose + Croix, qui développe un Wouei Tan (voie extérieure) et non un Nei Tan, que l'œuvre est plus développée.

En effet, le 18e degré concerne les deux étapes classiques de la voie extérieure - La première étape, SOLVE, est bien décrite : « Le premier appartement est tendu de noir, ciel parsemé vers 1768 avec trois grades : Apprenti des secrets Égyptiens, initié... et Maître.

Nous avons eu la preuve de cette survivance initiatique en Égypte, sans doute des continuateurs de l'ancien Grand Orient d'Égypte dont le marquis Joseph de Beauregard était le G.M. en

1866. Celui-ci devint chef suprême du Rite en 1869. Cette ligne, s'autorisant de la succession directe, ne reconnut pas Joseph Gari baldi comme Grand Hiérophante mondial.

détails, nuages obscurcis par les ombres pour le tableau, pierre cubique suant sang et eau... »

- La seconde étape, COAGULA, commence avec le second appartement « tendu d'une tapisserie lumineuse... » dans sa phase blanche, puis dans sa phase rouge, que nous n'allons pas d'élaborer, mais qui commence dans le second appartement et se termine dans le troisième.

Par contre, la voie interne est suggérée sans équivoque au 12e degré, après qu'il ait été pris au 4e, à travers le symbolisme de la clef, que Le Saint des Saints est en l'homme. Au 12e degré, le « Grand Maître Architecte », la suprême ambition des Grands Maîtres Architectes est de faire vivre en eux la vérité et de manger du fruit de l'Arbre de la connaissance, d'être des Dieux. On précise d'ailleurs que c'est un combat de tous les instants, et cela ne s'applique qu'aux maîtres, c'est-à-dire ceux qui sont en chambre du milieu, qui ont donc atteint le centre, l'état HIC et NUNC, que ce soit au début ou la fin des travaux. Le maître est midi ou minuit toujours sur l'Axe (rappel de la conscience de la verticale par la pratique constante de la Présence). De plus amples explications sur cette voie, et sa traduction philosophique, sont données dans le 28e degré le « Chevalier du Soleil » ou Prince Adepté. Enfin, il faut reconnaître que la clef terminale opérative, ou d'application pratique, était et est encore l'échelle de Naples (87e, 88e, 89e, 90e du Misraïm) ou ARCANA ARCANORUM. A ce sujet certains Grands Hiérophantes de Misraïm ou de Memphis-Misraïm ne savent pas que les ARCANA ARCANORUM ne se trouvent pas que dans leur Ordre, mais en plus complets dans d'autres cercles plus fermés et même parfois sur des lignes plus anciennes - je fais allusion à la filiation grecque pour les experts -, que l'on peut les avoir sans rien y comprendre, enfin il faut préciser que certains Grands Maîtres ne les ont pas ! Et qu'ils doivent être assistés d'une TRADITION ORALE. Comme me le précisait un maître réel des ARCANA : « Peu les ont, encore moins les ont compris, très rares sont ceux qui ont l'autorisation de les assister ». Il semble que cette vieille structure initiatique ait fabriqué la couverture misraïmique, entre autres, assez tard. Ce type d'enseignement doit pouvoir se retrouver dans des ordres très fermés, dont nous ne pouvons citer

11. Ces enseignements doivent être compris d'une part, et surtout pratiqués, faute de quoi ils perdent leur valeur. Or, à ce sujet il faut reconnaître qu'il demeure peu de hiérophantes opératifs, surtout sur les supports des A.A. Maçoniques. Une dernière précision s'impose. En effet, beaucoup de 95e ou 90e ne les ont pas reçus, soit que ceux qui leur ont donné ces degrés ne possédaient pas l'enseignement interne, soit qu'ils n'aient pas jugé bon de le leur communiquer.

les noms, mais liés à certaines organisations du monde anglo-saxon et germanique. Il ne faut pas oublier que le Maître de KREMMERZ, IZAR (Pasquale de SERVIS) et BULWER-LYTTON appartirent au même Ordre Hermétique. Le Metropolitan Collège ou la SRIA ont pu servir de couverture à un moment, quant au nom de l'Ordre d'oppositaire au cours des siècles de l'enseignement le plus prestigieux, il ne doit pas être donné et demeure insaisissable.

En matière de Maçonnerie initiatique, si on tient compte des critères traditionnels - structures aristocratiques (sous l'autorité du Grand Hiérophante), - spécificité des initiations masculines et féminines à certains degrés,

- L'initiation par le pyramidion, en l'occurrence les ARCANA ARCANORUM sur une ligne continue et sans ambiguïté, il faut reconnaître que le Grand Sanctuaire Adriatique est l'obédience qui devrait servir de référence, y compris au soi-disant Francs Maçons réguliers. Le livre remarquable du comte Gaston VENTURA « Les rites maçonniques de Misraïm et Memphis »¹², pose bien certains problèmes. Le frère SABBASTIANO CARACCILO, 33e, 90e, 97e, est le Grand Hiérophante actuel, et maintient l'Ordre dans la ligne traditionnelle.

Contrairement à ce qu'a écrit le frère BRUNELLI dans son livre : « Rituali dei gradi simbolici della massoneria di Memphis misraïm », la pratique du petit arcane naturel n'est pas l'apanage du rite égyptien de Cagliostro, ou de l'Ordre d'Osiris. Comme l'auteur ne le sait pas les ARCANA ARCANORUM ont toujours existé sur la ligne pure, c'est-à-dire exempte de tout caractère judéo chrétien, tant dans le monde anglo saxon que dans la francophonie et surtout dans leurs pays d'origine : la Grèce qui recueillit l'héritage égyptien, ces filons sont plus complets et certains se sont même exprimés dans certains congrès pythagoriciens, précisant qu'il existait une voie secrète pythagoricienne donnant la certitude de l'immortalité. CAGLIOSTRO comme malheureusement KREMMERZ par la suite, ont adapté certains enseignements pris dans ces écoles, adaptation d'ailleurs dont on a pu voir le résultat et qui heureusement ne représentent pas l'esprit des ordres originaux, lesquels aujourd'hui comme dans le passé réussirent à passer inaperçus. Ces antiques filiations sont restées heureusement très fermées (comme la plupart des courants internes). Certains passèrent en Amérique, et y sont encore.

Il existe aussi un courant en rapport avec une vieille alchimie de initiation, fort dangereuse en Kali Yuga, liée au couple et conservée jusqu'au siècle dernier dans certaines familles qui agrémentaient leur mariage religieux et mondain d'un rituel réservé aux intimes, dans lequel le fiancé vêtu de rouge et la fiancée vêtue de bleu tournaient autour d'un Caducée tenu par Mercure-Hermès. C'est ainsi que nous eûmes la première révélation d'un secret interne réservé à certaines d'entre elles. Le journaliste qui fut admis à la cérémonie, ne fit que la relater sans en comprendre le sens. Cette filiation se comme ailleurs, comme à notre époque. L'une de ces branches est dite du comte de CATENAIA (Erim). Le comte Umberto Amedea Alberti di CATENAIA, de la noblesse florentine, fut un valeureux officier durant la première guerre mondiale. Il transmit un enseignement réservé aux couples traditionnels, c'est-à-dire indissolubles, voie d'Amour et de réalisation de deux, mais fort dangereuse car ici le couple doit être réel, ce qui est fort rare en Occident (Un ouvrage extérieur fait allusion à cette voie véritablement alchimique : « Il conseguimento celestiale » de ERIM 13). On la retrouve en ligne plus essentielle dans les courants du Dragon ou du Serpent et de la Mère. Un document sur ces filiations, plus interne, sera publié sans doute prochainement.

Les courants occidentaux, purs, sont aussi dépositaires de l'alchimie de l'« uf du serpent », laquelle nous avons déjà fait allusion à propos de l'« Ordre Hermétique de l'Hermine d'Argent ». Cet ordre s'est occulté après la disparition de son dernier Grand Maître, Joseph CHARPENTIER, décédé en 1967 dans son château des Brousses de Bellevue, à Saint-Mars la Jaille, comme le précise le druide KERDASTOS. L'ordre prêchait en secret le retour au règne de la nature, considéré comme le véritablement majestueux, pur, illimité, de l'esprit divin... On comprend que comme pour les autres filiations secrètes, il ne pouvait que s'occulter totallement et enterrer le « Grimoire Vert », sorte de compendium ésotérique. Il existe dans une certaine Église chrétienne toujours en vie actuellement (christianisme ésotérique, gnostique), et de tradition directe, une filiation de même nature, mais elle n'a rien à voir avec l'Église Gnostique de France qui n'est pas en possession des éléments praxiques et internes de cette filiation.

13. d. Zéphir (Italie).

A ce propos, ni les Martinistes, d'ailleurs, ni les Martinistes, et autres ordres très en vogue de nos jours, n'ont aucune trace de ces enseignements. Il en est de même pour les autres créations ex nihilo. Ce qui n'enlève rien à la valeur de ces cercles de recherches, bien au contraire, ils sont utiles dans un premier temps. Certaines figures de Martinez de PASQUALLY, tableaux des opérations de Julius Coens, prouvent cependant que l'auteur connaissait l'Arcane. Il en est de même pour LouisClaude de SAINT-MARTIN.

Les filiations internes dites du Serpent ou du Dragon, sont soit réservées à certaines familles depuis des siècles, soit à certaines aristocraties de sensibilité plus sage, tels que l'Ordre du Dragon¹⁴, les Frères de la Croix Lumineuse... Ce courant, dirons nous, est tendance soit Chamanique, soit Bouddhiste, soit Hermétique et Tantrique, ce qui n'empêche pas la compassion. Outre quelques familles connues, Paracelse les fréquenta, et plus près de nous le prince CAETANI, qui prendra le contre-pied de KREMMERZ (en matière d'ésotérisme). Très peu d'humains ont accès à cette filiation, et sans doute aussi il y a une seule manière de se présenter dans le temple et de regarder ceux qui sont devenus des Soleils dans Saturne, ou des porteurs de la Croix Lumineuse. Voie réservée uniquement aux vieillards, elle est insaisissable à l'heure actuelle, car elle demande plusieurs qualifications simultanées, bien éloignées des préoccupations de l'être humain moderne, fut-il ésotériste.

Hermann de CILLEI, membre fondateur de l'Ordre du Dragon, écrivit : « Votre Corps immortel existe déjà. Faites grandir cette autre réalité en vous, laissez-vous posséder par ce Réel. Soyez celui qui ne dort jamais, qui ne succombe pas aux automatismes, celui qui ne s'oublie jamais une seconde, un homme vainqueur du coma, triomphateur de la mort. Votre corps suivra. Comment pourrait-il subir la loi de la décomposition? Votre esprit vieillira retiendra entre elles les molécules de chair, dès lors le corps ne pourra plus tomber. C'est le manque de vitalité, de volonté, qui fait que le corps s'effondre en poussière, comme une maison dont on retirerait les moellons... Il faut d'abord agir sur le double, le rendre autonome, le forcer à sortir du corps, à errer dans le plan astral, lui apprendre à vivre sans dépendre du corps et de ses habitudes. Lorsque le double est parfaitement maîtrisé, alors la conscience peut quitter le corps et venir habiter ce double. Après la mort, le double continue à errer, vous devez alors le nourrir avec la vitalité qui est contenue dans le sang... »

Les cercles d'Atoum¹⁵ ont gardé un témoignage cul

15. Les Cercles Atoum sont une des expressions extérieures de l'OSIHA (Ordre Souverain Interne et Hermétique d'Atoum), et témoignent de certaines filiations internes. Cet Ordre est reparti en trois classes distinctes (noire, blanche, rouge) et implique la nécessité turel de ce courant. En effet, la matière de l'oeuvre de nos jours et de plus en plus pervertie, d'où la difficulté de certains ordres tels que l'Ordre Souverain Interne et Hermétique d'Atoum, en sommeil (expression d'une filiation plus ancienne dont il n'est pas opportun de citer le nom), pour se maintenir. Il semble qu'à l'heure actuelle seules les filiations spirituelles conviennent, elles ont d'ailleurs un grand succès, pourtant la matière est bien le reflet de Dieu, et il est lui-même en éternelle gestation. La mettre de côté philosophiquement et pratiquement, est une preuve de l'évolution pathologique et subversive du monde moderne.

La Tradition n'est jamais morte, certains pays comme les Indes devraient être la référence, tellement les courants issus de cette terre sont bien plus vrais, et profonds, que les traditions issues du judéo-christianisme. Un autre pays, l'Égypte, a été trop considéré, il faut rendre hommage à SCHWALLER DE LUBICZ d'avoir su si bien transmettre l'esprit de la tradition égyptienne, dont il était dépositaire comme nous le savons par certains textes. Cette tradition n'est pas liée à une quelconque personne ou à un quelconque ordre, voulait-il faire croire qu'il est autorisé. Le symbolisme de la Rose + Croix lui-même est très ancien, comme le montrent les tombes du monastère de San Juan de la Pena, où on retrouve les croix soit avec la rose centrale, soit avec les quatre roses, croix qui datent du XIe siècle, et qui témoignent avec l'Ordre de Saint-Jean d'un terrain qui appelle les émergences plus tardives.

des trois filiations de base (artisanale, guerrière, sacerdotale) à l'extérieur pour être admis.

Précisions sur les Rites de MEMPHIS et de MISRAIM

La situation actuelle de ces rites est très confuse, cependant on ne peut pas pour autant admettre certaines déviations dont les auteurs se prétendant 90e et 95e ignorent jusqu'au nom des ARCANAE ARCANORUM, d'autres les citent sans même savoir qu'il s'agit d'une classe occulte à contenu doctrinal et pratique. Une publication historique concernant la doctrine de ces rites, où les règles de transmission sont encore plus savantes que dans les autres rites, résumera la situation actuelle'. A l'heure actuelle, si on excepte les Loges de Memphis encore existantes en Égypte (ligne du marquis de BEAUREGARD), on doit reconnaître du point de vue des Arcana Arcanorum et de la transmission de Hiérophante à Hiérophante que les filons suivants sont les seuls acceptables

- Le Grand Sanctuaire Adriatique, la plus traditionaliste des Obédiences qui représente une union des rites du Misraïm et du Memphis dans l'esprit primitif de ce courant. Le Grand Hiérophante actuel Sebastiano CA

1. A paraître aux Éditions Axis Mundi.

CARACCILO, successeur du Comte VENTURA, lui-même successeur du Comte Ottavio ZASIO, a eu la transmission de l'aspect interne des Arcana Arcanorum.

- L'ensemble des Loges du Misraïm et du Memphis (rites séparés), il s'agit de loges dites de la filiation PROBST BIRABEN, avec divers Grands Maîtres nationaux et un Grand Hiérophante (actuellement le Frère BRUNNINCK de Belgique - seul détenteur des sceaux de l'Ordre). Implantés par DUBOIS en France et BRUNELLI en Italie, ces loges ne se sont jamais complètement formés, ce qui est déplorable au niveau des classes secrètes que certains Grands Maîtres pratiquent de manière scénographique car ils n'ont reçu ni le contenu doctrinal, ni la praxis initiatique. Cette ligne est étroitement liée à l'Ordre Hermétique (détenteur des Arcana Arcanorum) dont BOGARD de la GREZE fut d'ailleurs responsable pour la France.

- L'Ordre de Memphis-Misraïm (Grand Hiérophante Gérard KLOPPEL, successeur de Robert AMBELAIN) qui, par précaution, a servi les classes occultes - seulement quelques-uns des détenteurs des 90e et 95e degrés, d'où certaines confusions. Beaucoup de frères ne comprennent pas les relations étroites de cet ordre avec des obédiences sociales (Grand Orient...).

Il existe par ailleurs des loges pratiquant l'un ou l'autre de ces rites et se rattachant à l'une de ces filiations, parfois aussi à la filiation PLATOUNOFF, certaines travaillant parfois avec plus de sérieux que leurs détenteurs ne le pensent (cas des loges de la G.L.I.S.). Il est vrai que jusqu'au 33e degré les problèmes ne se posent pas car, selon la tradition de ces rites, un 33e du Rite %cossais Ancien et Accepté ne peut prétendre qu'à l'équivalence avec le 77e degré selon les décisions de RAGON de BRETIGNIES, ou au 87e en tant que responsable d'un groupe de création nouvelle (Obédience récente, cas d'un Grand Maître d'un pays), les trois derniers grades restant à « voiler » et de toute manière dépendent du Grand Hiérophante. C'est pourquoi certains Grands Maîtres ne les ont pas et ne peuvent prétendre à la légitimité.

Contrairement à ce que prétendent certains Vénérables, les problèmes de filiations est fondamental ; le sérieux en loge bleue implique le maître sérieux dans les ateliers supérieurs - moins qu'on n'ait rien compris à la notion du rite, surtout quand il est dépositaire d'une praxis et d'un corpus initiatique suffira pour accéder au 18e ou au 30e, malheureusement on compte par milliers ces exemples d'une vénérable imposture.

Comme l'a indiqué le G.M. BRUNELLI dans ses remarquables ouvrages sur les rites de Misraïm et Memphis, d'autres ordres succèdent aux Arcana Arcanorum. Mais nous sortons ici de l'aspect maçonnique pour découvrir quatre ou cinq autres ordres (Grand Ordre %gyptien, Rites %gyptiens ainsi que trois autres que nous ne pouvons mentionner).

Gnostiques et Rose + Croix en Corse, une permanence de la tradition

A diverses reprises, certaines régions vécurent le souffle de la TRADITION, parfois révoltées - une rébellion face au pouvoir. Si nous citons le cas de la Corse, c'est que ce pays sauvage dont les habitants - mentalité guerrière, comme le précise NIETZSCHE, ne pouvaient s'accommoder d'un pouvoir extérieur lié aux valeurs mercantiles du troc et non aux conceptions aristocratiques et communautaristes. Ainsi furent conservées des traditions diverses, auxquelles nous ne ferons qu'allusion extérieurement, mais en nous appuyant sur certains textes qui cernent suffisamment le problème et qui prouvent que dans l'histoire mouvementée de ce pays, l'ésotisme joua un rôle non négligeable.

Si les cathares corses prospérèrent durant toute une partie du XIVe siècle, avec une doctrine et un but sans doute un peu différents des cathares de France, puisqu'un de leurs détenteurs FILIPINI affirme: «peut-être voulaient-ils renouveler cet Égée d'Or que les fictions des poètes placent dans le temps de Saturne », et bien que dirigés efficacement par POLO et Henri d'ATTALA au point que ce maître détenteur écrit : « la secte se multiplie bientôt d'une manière étonnante non seulement dans le delta mais aussi dans le delta des monts », ils n'en furent pas moins anéantis avec une brutalité sauvage... Et ce à la suite de la réaction du pape INNOCENT VI qui déclara les Giovannali (c'était le nom de la secte) hérétiques et les excommunia avant d'organiser la répression.

Ce courant, plus proche de la gnose de CARPOCRATE - qu'on devrait plutôt appeler la Gnose d'ÉPIPHANE, son fils, qui lui donna l'aspect communautariste - que des cathares, subsista jusqu'à nos jours, comme le confirme PIOBB'.

Celui-ci était le comte Pierre VINCENTI PIOBB (1874-1917), en fait avant abréviation VINCENTI da PIOBBETTA. En 1893 il fonda un Écho de la Corse à Ajaccio. Il publia le « Formulaire de Haute Magie » en 1907, en 1908 une Étude : Vénus. En 1909, un de ses articles fait sensation, il s'agit de « La fabrication de l'or », publié dans « La Revue des Revues ». Ami de Charles BARLET, il fut très discret sur certaines filiations. Pourtant il écrivit dans sa « Clef Universelle des Sciences Secrètes », d'abord sur l'alchimie : « Ce qu'on appelle l'art d'HERMÈS désigne alors l'alchimie, le minerai d'HERMÈS étant le métal mercure », puis sur un aspect important de la Gnose en relation avec l'histoire de la Corse « Plus possible de se tromper: la Bible peut être lue et interprétée complètement, chrétiennement avec fruit. On a appelé cela la Gnose, et on a condamné, poursuivi, martyrisé même les gnostiques. Certains, il est vrai, versaient dans des erreurs compréhensibles. Mais d'autres étaient simplement Johannites conservant en secret les enseignements de Saint Jean, auteur de l'Apocalypse. » Il précise plus loin : « Les Johannites, qu'en italien on disait giovanna, ont été persécutés au xive siècle. Beaucoup se réfugièrent en Corse. Ils y furent impitoyablement exterminés. Quelques-uns pourtant ont échappé au massacre, et c'est là un fait ignoré. Il y a dans une haute vallée de l'île, dont les eaux coulent vers l'Est, en un endroit si inaccessible qu'on ne peut l'atteindre qu'à pied, toute une famille de Giovanna qui vit retirée, presque sans relations, avec personne d'alentour. Les hommes portent des prénoms bizarres, tirés du grec : ils s'appellent Chiron, Geryon, Scamandre, Priam, les femmes Perséphone, Aphrodite, Pallas, Hécate. Ils se marient entre eux. Mais si par hasard, quelque jeune homme vient à épouser une jeune fille d'un village voisin, les parents de la fiancée ne sont pas autorisés à assister au mariage religieux. Celui-ci a lieu dans une chapelle basse où jamais un prêtre n'a officié, ou personne d'ailleurs sauf un Johannite n'a participé. Et plus tard, la jeune étrangère ne vivait sous aucun prétexte les rites auxquels elle a assisté. Je tais moi-même le nom de cette bourgade pour éviter à ces braves gens les ennuis qu'ils redoutent toujours. »

Il serait intéressant de faire une parenthèse pour aborder certains problèmes de la magie corse, non pas dans ses aspects populaires comme l'a fait un récent ouvrage, mais à travers l'étude de filiations plus fermées. Nous avons eu l'occasion de constater les effets indiscutables d'une certaine théurgie, basée sur l'évocation des ancêtres, dite de « la clef des morts », placée probablement d'une certaine manière dans l'évangile de Saint JEAN, et de bien d'autres aspects tangibles'. De même que nous pouvons constater combien la relation avec certains adeptes de la Présence à soi-même était difficile, tant leur densité traumatisait les autres paysans, quand ils retournaient au village, après de longues retraites. Nous pouvons aussi observer comment dans un état de conscience différencié et de paix illuminatrice, un des hobereaux faisait participer les objets du château à la fête cosmique. C'est d'ailleurs Maître COLONNA d'ANFREANI qui nous avait recommandé d'écrire un équivalent de « Rencontres avec des hommes remarquables », pour montrer que certaines terres d'Europe détenaient encore des dépositaires de la Tradition.

Ce fut dans ces mêmes circonstances qu'un membre de l'aristocratie corse me remit un vieux témoignage sur la Rose + Croix'. Il ne nous est pas possible de citer tous

3. La Filiation corse possède de des rituels s'apparentant par de nombreux aspects à ceux du « Sacramentaire du Rose + Croix » (Robert Ambelain, Œd. Scientifique), particulièrement au niveau des « Sorts de Saint-Jean » où l'on retrouve l'utilisation de la Clef des morts. Mais l'invocation est différente car la Filiation corse utilise directement le début de l'évangile de Saint-Jean, ce qui est plus réel au niveau de la Tradition que les prières chrétiennes mentionnées dans le Sacramentaire. De plus, elle se base aussi sur l'invocation des ancêtres ce qui rend le Rituel très puissant:

4. Une fraternité Rose + Croix a effectivement existé jusqu'à un certain moment, dans des circonstances tellement curieuses qu'il les noms de ce cercle de « JO » corses' et d'autres, rebelles de la montagne, oppositaires de l'attitude la plus juste qui se puisse concevoir pour recevoir la coupe du GRAAL, mais qui ne purent beaucoup communiquer, faute d'éléments qualifiés pour recevoir une science avec la conscience indispensable. Cela pour revenir après l'histoire des Giovannali (ou giovanna) une deuxième rébellion, toujours caractéristique.

Nous citerons une phrase en apparence anodine, que les lecteurs peuvent trouver dans une « Apologie de la Rose + Croix » reproduite en partie dans une étude de J.M. RAGON parue vers 1860: « L'histoire du Baron de NEUHOFF (il s'agit du Roi de Corse), n'est que l'histoire de l'établissement du chef-lieu de notre Ordre dans l'île. » Cette révélation est d'une importance majeure étant donné la notoriété de l'auteur, mais qui est cet historien de la Franc-Maçonnerie ? Jean-Marie RAGON de BETTIGNIES (1781-1866) exerça sous l'Empire les fonctions de caissier à la recette générale de Bruges (Belgique), alors département français. Il est initié dans cet Orient (c'est-à-dire ville) à la loge « Les Vrais Amis » qui connut grâce à sa personnalité une certaine notoriété, et en devient le Vénérable Maître. Il appartient également à la loge « Phoenix » du Grand Orient de France, et au Rite de Misraïm. Enfin, il anime n'est pas possible même à l'heure actuelle (les Corses qui sont concernés savent pourquoi) de donner des précisions. Pourtant ces témoignages tangibles existent toujours et furent enregistrés.

5. Il faut rapprocher le JO du IO qui se trouve devant les noms d'aristocrates de Transylvanie, parenté surprenante à plus d'un titre Régime de Naples. Le roi de Corse, lui, n'a jamais mis en avant ces distinctions qui semblent d'ailleurs fabriquées de toutes pièces. Jamais pourtant il ne révélera qu'il est membre de l'Ordre de Sainte-Marie des Allemands, c'est-à-dire Chevalier Teutonique. Une remarque s'impose : dans cette première moitié du XVIII^e siècle, n'est pas Chevalier Teutonique qui veut ! La règle de cet Ordre, née aux alentours de 1128 en Terre Sainte, s'apparente à celle des Templiers. Il est difficile, aujourd'hui encore, d'imaginer la puissance et la richesse de cette Chevalerie à la fois religieuse et militaire qui a entretenu cent cinquante hôpitaux et qui possédait, en Prusse seulement, quatre-vingt-dix villes et cent villages. »

L'énigme de ce baron qui n'a eu qu'à se baisser pour ramasser un trésor, reste posée. Plus de deux siècles après son entrée dans l'histoire de la Corse, bien des mystères restent à élucider. Pour le compte de qui a agi Théodore ? A-t-il voulu, sur un coup de poker magistral, s'octroyer un trône par pure ambition personnelle? Les sociétés secrètes naissantes, initiatrices des Lumières, n'ont-elles pas joué la carte Corse pour prouver à l'Europe en faveur la possible constitution d'un État de fraternité ? Le baron de NEUHOFF est, quelque temps après son arrivée, proclamé roi de Corse... Et par qui, grands Dieux □ Il n'est pas ici dans notre intention de tirer moralité de cette étonnante affaire, dans laquelle on voit le peuple le plus libre du monde se livrer pieds et poings liés aux caprices d'un aventurier. Ainsi le 20 mars 1736, Théodore débarque à Aléria. A peine a-t-il mis le pied sur la terre ferme qu'il signe une adresse aux Illustrissimes Seigneurs de l'Île, qui, en fait, sont les chefs des insulaires en révolte contre l'occupant génois : « Me voici enfin en Corse, proclame-t-il, où l'on m'ont appelé de leurs prières des corses, et les nombreuses lettres que j'ai reçues d'eux... »

René de WEECK7 relate comment Théodore et le chanoine ALBERTINI devaient se reconnaître l'un et l'autre membres de la Rose + Croix. Deux jours après avoir réalisé l'accord des chefs corses sur sa proclamation, Théodore décide de prendre un peu de repos. Il congédie tout le monde, à l'exception de Don Joseph ALBERTINI qu'il fait asseoir à son chevet. « Théodore étendit sa main plate sur la couverture, raconte de WEECK, et contempla fixement, l'annulaire, le chaton d'une bague. Les regards du prêtre suivirent les siens et s'arrêtèrent sur le même objet. C'était une pierre dure, noire, de forme carrée, sertie dans de l'or jaune ; l'entaille, très nette, figurait une croix de Saint-Jean, ornée aux quatre angles de roses épanouies. Sous les pans de son rabat, le chanoine tira une chaîne à médaillon où apparaissait, gravée pareillement, la même figure.

- Frère, dit-il, je te salue. Sans le savoir, c'est la cause d'un frère que j'ai plaidé l'autre jour à Matra. Comme j'avais raison de leur dire, ces ignares, qu'un homme de ta sorte, abordant sur nos rivages dans les jours où l'Église célèbre l'Annonciation de la Très Sainte Vierge, leur apportait la délivrance.

- Tu ne t'es pas trompé, frère, répondit Théodore. »

René de WEECK, dans une note placée en fin de son ouvrage, prend la précaution de préciser que dans son récit rien n'est inventé. Il rappelle aussi comment le chanoine ALBERTINI sombra dans l'anonymat. Après avoir cité devant l'official par les autorités ecclésiastiques pour ses travaux de kabbalistes, Don Joseph fera amende honorable. Aucune peine canonique ne lui sera infligée. Et le brillant théologien terminera sa carrière terrestre à Buccugnanu, comme simple curé de ce modeste village de montagne.

NICOLAY, raconte une autre anedocte : « Il faut croire que sur le plan de la foi, le Rose-Croix Théodore et Paoli parlent le même langage. Au cours d'un repas ce dernier placera, entre autres, ce tercet, la gloire du Roi :

"Qu'il m'assiste aujourd'hui, le Dieu plein de vigueur ! Et qu'il m'aide à placer le Roi et ses rites Dans le vaste séjour de l'immortalité..." »

Le roi de Corse tenta d'établir la toute puissance de l'ordre à l'aide de deux couvertures aristocratiques qui malheureusement ne furent comprises que par les détenteurs de certaines clefs historiques. Pour ouvrir la Voie à tous les fils des comtes et marquis qu'il crée, il fonde l'Ordre des Chevaliers de la Clef d'Or dont le symbolisme est évident comme le précise Jean-Baptiste NICOLAË : « La clef ouvre aux jeunes gens nouvellement honorés la voie initiatique. »

L'ordre qui va lui succéder hiérarchiquement sera l'Ordre de la Délivrance, dont les statuts se composent de 16 articles. Jean-Baptiste NICOLAË se livre à un

À nonc et des analyses dont nous citerons certains extraits

- L'article II indique que le roi sera toujours le Grand Maître. Ce titre et sa fonction, on les retrouve dans toutes les sociétés initiatiques et les ordres de Chevalerie. A l'article III, il est dit que les chevaliers portent un habit ceste. Le bleu couleur profonde et immatérielle est considérée par les Égyptiens comme la couleur de la Vierge. J. M. RAGON rappelle : « La voûte du Temple est azurée et étoilée comme celle des cieux, parce que, comme elle, elle abrite tous les hommes, sans distinction de rang, ni de couleur. La Maçonnerie n'a pas l'exclusivité des voûtes étoilées : les temples de l'Antiquité ainsi que les Églises en étaient décorées. »

On peut en déduire que l'ordre, bien que chrétien, ne pratique pas la charité mais au contraire la solidarité.

De prime abord, l'article XIII peut paraître choquant, tout au moins dans sa première partie. Il est dit en effet que « personne ne sera reçu dans l'ordre que le roi ne le juge assez riche et que l'on fasse voir qu'il descend de parents honorables jusqu'à la quatrième génération ». Certes, il faudra attendre le XIXe siècle pour que certaines sociétés initiatiques se démocratisent.

Plus curieux est l'article XIV. Il note que « ceux-là sont déclarés incapables d'entrer dans l'ordre qui exercent quelques métiers, ou dont le père, l'aïeul, ou le trisaïeul en auront exercé un ». La sélection est draconienne. L'Ordre de la Délivrance est essentiellement séculatif. Cette restriction peut également s'expliquer par le fait que Théodore veut que les chevaliers soient uniquement des hommes de guerre. Et plus précisément « des capitaines de galères et de vaisseaux du roi, commandants de forts et autres places où il y a garnison ».

Enfin, dans l'article XV, on découvre l'universalité et l'esprit de tolérance de l'ordre puisqu'il est dit expressément qu'on y « recevra les étrangers de quelque nation ou religion qu'ils soient ».

Précisions importantes : chaque chevalier qui est obligé de réciter chaque jour deux psaumes sous peine de sanction, doit se souvenir que l'ordre auquel il appartient « est établi en mémoire de la délivrance de la domination de Génes et du rétablissement de l'ancienne liberté dans le royaume de Corse ».

Les règles II, III et IV sont inspirées des Templiers, en partie.

Notons que le roi touche trois fois le chevalier de son épée et que les présents le reçoivent et l'embrassent comme un frère. Trois, chiffre symbolique par excellence, fait partie depuis la plus haute antiquité de la tradition égyptique. Qu'il s'agisse de la Sainte Trinité en passant par les trois pointes du triangle ou encore du Triple Joyau bouddhique, le ternaire est une source inépuisable d'inspiration.

La description du blason et des armoiries de l'ordre précise : « La Croix ou étoile de cet ordre est un champ de sinople (le vert des heraldistes) avec un ourlet d'argent ou blanc. Les sept pointes de la Croix ou étoile, l'anneau par lequel elle est attachée, sont d'or ou jaune ; et les sept autres petites pointes, de sable, et chargées des armes du Roi, blanches ou d'argent ; et le rebord de la Croix jaune ou d'or. Dans le milieu de la Croix est la Justice, couleur de chair, représentée par une femme qui a une ceinture où pend une feuille de figuier d'or. Elle tient à la main droite une épée d'acier et de la gauche une balance dans un des bassins triangulaires de laquelle est une tache rouge et dans l'autre une couleur de plomb. Au-dessous de la main qui tient l'épée est un globe d'or, surmonté d'une croix ; et au-dessous de la main qui tient la balance est un triangle d'or au milieu duquel est un T. »

Pourquoi le roi a-t-il choisi l'étoile à sept branches ? On pourrait longuement épiloguer et rappeler tout le symbolisme se rattachant au chiffre sept : les sept degrés de la Perfection, les sept branches de l'arbre cosmique, etc. Mais Théodore est avant tout Rose + Croix. L'embli^{me} de cet ordre mystique est une rose ^{sept} p^{tales} ; on conna^t une all^{gorie} rosicrucienne dessin^e ^{Francfort en} 1626 qui est marqu^e pr^{cis}ment par une rose ^{sept} p^{tales}.

Il semble aussi que l'Ordre Teutonique et les Allemands aient jou^{le} dans la r^{sistance} corse face ^À l'envahisseur g^{nois}, car le roi de Corse apparent ^{aux} puissantes familles allemandes NIENROD, NUCINGEN et DROST a eu un oncle Bernard de DROST, Grand Commandeur de l'Ordre Teutonique, dont le fils joue un r^{le} dans la r^{sistance} aux g^{nois} en terre corse. La r^{action} du gⁿral baron de WACHTENDONCK qui, en 1731, d^{barqua} dans l'^{le} avec une troupe de 4000 Allemands, d'abord ^{la} solde de G^{nes}, puis d^{but} octobre 1740 accueillant Fr^dric de NEUHOFF, chass ^{son} tour de Corse, est r^vlatrice. Le r^{le} de ce dernier est aussi important, car apr^s le d^{part} du roi en novembre 1736, il continue ^{agiter} la Corse, dirigeant la r^{sistance}. Le baron Matthieu de DROST, bien qu'arr^t le premier et r^{embarqu} vers le continent, se retrouve encore dans l'^{le} en octobre 1741.

Quoi qu'il en soit, avec la d^{faite} de la r^{sistance} Corse, les Rose + Croix vont encore s'occulter, transmettant comme les Giovannali leurs secrets en famille, ou dans un clan d^{termin}.

En dehors des courants exprim^s dans les lignes pr^cdent^s il faut donner quelques pr^csions sur certains cercles tr^s ferm^s de chamanes de l'^{le}. Il s'agit d'une branche des Mazzeri qui avaient la ma^{trise} du double, ils arrivaient non seulement ^{lui} rendre une consistance visible mais chassaient ainsi la nuit les sangliers qui, pourchass^s par une meute de corps volants, ^{taient} conduits dans une course folle ^{se} pr^{cipiter} du haut d'un rocher. Le lendemain il suffisait aux Mazzeri d'aller r^{cup}rer les corps. Les t^{moignages} sur cette confr^{rie} sont fr^{quents} dans le sud de l'^{le}, bien d'autres pouvoirs ^{taient} pr^ts ^{ces} cercles, qui se tenaient ^{l'}cart de la vie religieuse, dont celui de frapper de mort ou d'une mal^{dic}tion de mani^{re} irr^mdiable. Si les filiations religieuses se continuent encore tr^s vivaces, il semble que les confr^{ries} de Mazzeri se soient presque compl^{tement} ^{teintes} dans leur branche chamanique pure.

Un ordre myst^{rieux} : l'Ordre des Fr^{res} aⁿs de la Rose + Croix Parmi les ordres qui se sont ext^{rioris}s, les FAR + C sont les seuls ^{avoir} fourni ^{quelques} chercheurs de tr^s nombreux documents, malheureusement non soumis ^{une} commission, ce qui a provoqu ^{des} jugements tr^s rapides d'historiens qui se sont ^{vertu}s, par ailleurs, ^{l'}gitimer (ou tenter de le faire) des filiations bien plus contestables. Mais l ^{comme} ailleurs, le temps aidant, certaines v^{rit}s ^{mergeront}. L'Imperator n'ayant pas voulu montrer ^{tout} venant les tr^s nombreux ^{l'}ments d'une filiation, et sans doute a-t-il eu raison, car ils semblent trop prosa^{ques}, ou ^{vidents}, d^{mystifiant} ainsi le myst^{re} dont s'alimente si bien l'humain pathologique actuel. Par ailleurs, les FAR + C n'ayant eu dans leurs rangs que tr^s peu de membres, il n'^{tait} pas n^{cessaire} de justifier leur existence. Comme le pr^{cise} l'Imperator Pierre PHOEBUS [«] les FAR + C ne remontent pas au temple de Salomon, ni ^{TOUTMES} III, mais leur pr^{sence} est virtuellement d^{montr}e avec ces 115 parchemins munis de leur scel d'origine s^{talant} de 1317 ^{nos} jours. La continuit ^{est} parfaite. Du reste, sans ^{tre} un sp^{cialiste} en la mati^{re}, un seul regard suffit pour s'apercevoir que ces antiques reliques du pass ^{sont} authentiques. Parmi celles-ci, n'oublions pas qu'un seul manuscrit, retra^{ant} les actes v^{cus} de 1503 ¹⁷²³ est un in-folio de 23 X 34 X 8 contenant 1 211 pages. On y relève plus de trente écritures différentes. Quelles explications pourrait-on fournir aussi pour les 340 pages manuscrites de Mr de BASVILLE (41e Imperator), qui traitent de l'Ordre de Pont Saint Esprit, de Malte et des comtes de MONT FORT, etc. (date 1693). Enfin, quelle justification donnerait-on à ce recueil de « Discours faits au Roi LOUIS XIII » par David RIVAULT (30e Imperator), entièrement écrits à la main, dont la bibliothèque de Laval possède le premier tome ?...8 » Mais pour notre part, ce n'est pas une histoire que nous avons voulu rendre hommage, mais une des rares filiations qui a donné des exemples de son savoir, par l'obtention de la Pierre.

L'histoire de l'ordre part du contact entre quelques rares templiers (et non les templiers plus guerriers que quakers de sciences hermétiques) et des adeptes liés particulièrement à l'école de Bagdad « Beit et Hikmat » créée par le Khalife AL MAMOUN en 830. Les chrétiens l'appellent Maison de la Sagesse. Il ne faut pas négliger non plus le rôle de la mosquée d'El-Azhar, lieu de rencontre important de l'époque, où un maître de l'université cachait aussi parfois un hermétisme.

Enfin il faut aussi citer les relations entre les templiers et les ismaéliens, pour se rendre compte que la circulation des élites, si chère à PARETO, existait sans doute mieux à cette époque que de nos jours.

Selon l'histoire de l'ordre, en France, privenus à temps par le chapelain du manoir de la Buzardière, prêtres du Mans, sept templiers, Gaston de la Pierre PHOEBUS, Guidon de MONTANOR, Gentilis de FOLIGNO, Henri de MONTFORT, Louis de GRIMOARD, Pierre Yorick de RIVAULT et César MINVIELLE, se replièrent en toute hâte vers Dinard, puis vers Saint-Malo où ils affrontèrent de nuit une barque de pêcheurs qui les déposa sur le sol d'Angleterre. La commanderie de Londres les reçut et les hébergea. Afin d'éviter les persécutions du roi Édouard, quelques chevaliers adeptes s'enfuirent à l'île de Mull, ils retournèrent plus tard en France, où ils donnèrent un nom à l'ordre le 2 décembre 1316: « Les Frères Annonces de la Rose + Croix ». Nous n'allons pas suivre l'ordre au cours des siècles, mais il nous semble important de signaler quelques noms des derniers Imperator, le 51e était Lord BULWER LYTTON, lié à divers cercles très fermés, l'abbé Louis CONSTANT (Eliphas LEVI) lui succéda, suivi par William Wynn WESTCOTT (membre de la SRIA). Passant ainsi entre les mains de frères dépositaires de filiations diverses, l'ordre va par la suite retourner à son pays d'origine : la France, où il manifestera sa présence sous l'impulsion de Pierre PHOEBUS, faisant publier de nombreux livres hors commerce.

Les FAR + C étant limités à 33 membres, ils ne peuvent coopter que chez quelques adeptes. L'extrême prudence de l'Imperator a permis que quelques frères seulement accèdent à la connaissance opérative, mais il se refuse à rentrer dans la notion de mythes, de rêves si chers à l'humain plus avide de sensations et d'évasion que de réalités. L'ordre ne se propose pas de reformer le monde, il est dépositaire d'une Tradition.

Il existe un autre Ordre des FAR + C réservé à 12 membres et qui concerne une autre opérativité alchimique interne mais, malgré son ancienneté, nous pensons que les deux ordres n'en constituaient qu'un seul à un moment de l'histoire, ou qu'ils étaient imbriqués l'un dans l'autre de toute manière. Cet ordre interne pratique la voie du corps d'immortalité par la méthode des substances.

Graal et alchimie, où les voies se développent

Nous ne voulons pas développer un thème bien établi, mais comme les voies sont entremêlées, le chercheur se retrouve aussi dans un véritable labyrinthe. Or tout s'y trouve.

Sur la voie extérieure le châtelet du Graal se nomme CORBENIC, ce qui, si la matière de l'Œuvre n'est pas si clairement énoncée que, par exemple, dans les contes d'HOFMANN, qui se terminent par l'histoire héroïque du célèbre ministre KLEIN ZACH surnommé cinabre, il n'en est pas moins vrai que CORBENIC se compose en CORNI-BEC et CINEBRO à l'envers, désignant aussi bien le vaisseau que la matière de l'Œuvre. Nous retrouvons cela dans le nom du père de PERCEVAL, BLIOCADRAN, qui en anagramme donne CINABRO. Ainsi il n'est pas bien difficile de préciser les ingrédients et les étapes.

La voie interne apparaît durant la rencontre du vendredi saint avec l'ermite. Certains l'ont confondue avec l'albification, étape de la voie du cinabre (coagula blanc) quand l'ermite précise que le roi n'est nourri que d'une hostie et rien d'autre, laquelle est servie dans le GRAAL. Il ne s'agit plus d'albification mais d'un magistère interne donné comme par l'ermite, de bouche à oreille, et qui conduit au développement du corps christique ou embryon de gloire et d'immortalité, à condition que l'ermite, comme dans les tarots, chasse avec prudence le serpent de l'astral qui pourrait récupérer les énergies. Il ne faut pas oublier que la coupe du GRAAL est verte et que le sang du Christ, comme s'en rend compte le soldat LONGINIUS avec sa lance, est blanc comme celui d'OSIRIS.

Le vert est issu du noir, prima materia. Il fut la première couleur, celle de la vie. De celle-là, par dissociation, naissent une couleur également Yin, le bleu, et également Yang, le jaune, les autres couleurs naissant de l'accentuation, ou densification de cette première SEPARATIO. Ainsi par exemple, le jaune accentué donne l'orange puis le rouge (couleur trèse Yang, nous retrouvons dans l'œuvre cette démonstration, le bleu accentué va donner l'indigo puis le violet trèse Yin). Mais le vert signifie aussi de facto la puissance de la vie. Si la table alchimique est dite table d'Émeraude, et si la coupe du Graal est verte, c'est tout simplement qu'on a voulu indiquer une clef qui n'apparaît sans doute qu'après les purifications du Chevalier Vert, dans la solitude la plus nécessaire qui soit, quand HERMÈS-MERCURE se manifeste, soit directement soit avec l'aide de l'ERMITE ou de MERLIN.

La doctrine du corps immortel

S'il existe des voies extérieures, elles doivent conduire l'adepte à la compréhension de la matière, puis, par reflet, de lui-même. Ensuite il lui faut entreprendre la réunion des voies : comme le précise bien le taoïsme, il faut passer du WOUEI TAN au NEI TAN. Il est nécessaire de rappeler que l'Ordre des Frères Asiatiques proposait à ses adeptes la même progression traditionnelle, puisqu'après la pratique de la Pierre au rouge, ceux qui pouvaient se libérer de leurs penchants humains pouvaient tenter la création du corps de gloire ou corps d'immortalité.

Dans « Ur et Krur », Julius EVOLA explique le pourquoi de cette étape : « ... L'immortalité, la réincarnation, n'est pas une vrité pour tous les hommes mais seulement pour ceux qui sont parvenus à s'accomplir selon une voie, en fait, radicalement perpendiculaire à celle des hommes... La parure de gloire ou corps immortel des traditions gnostiques, en remplaçant la guenille d'esclavage, serait l'ultime consécration de celui qui, après avoir traversé victorieusement cette série d'épreuves, s'emanciperait ainsi totalement de la sphère du Destin et de la domination des Régents ou Archontes. »

A l'enseignement traditionnel concernant l'immortalité correspond la doctrine du triple corps. Précisons immédiatement que le terme corps est employé ici d'une façon analogique pour désigner de nouvelles formes de conscience et d'action que le Moi peut faire siennes, en vertu de possibilités qui, toutefois, dépassent le commun des mortels. De sorte que la doctrine en question - comme toute doctrine ésotérique - ne peut être considérée comme vraie que dans le cadre propre à l'aristocratie restreinte de ceux qui sont parvenus à fouler le sentier de l'initiation. En parler à propos de l'homme ordinaire n'aurait aucun sens : pour lui n'existent ni les trois, ni les sept, ni les neuf corps, ni tous ceux que l'on pourrait se plaisir à imaginer. La vie après la mort a pour condition de parvenir à la capacité de maintenir la conscience, une fois celle-ci privée de l'appui du corps physique. Celui qui a atteint ce sommet est, virtuellement, hors des eaux, et le fait que l'unité de l'organisme physique se défasse n'a plus pour lui aucune importance. A ce propos, on a également évoqué la possibilité de partir pour ne plus revenir. L'affirmation de l'existence (ego sum) est alors ressentie comme une entrave, comme une négation de l'être. Cette voie consiste donc à se débarrasser de tous les déterminismes, réels et possibles, de dépouillement en dépouillement, de mise à nu en mise à nu, jusqu'à ce que - une fois tombée l'enveloppe par une intégration absolue à l'ipsité - le sum se dissolve et se résolve dans l'est.

Mais si l'immortalité ne doit pas être uniquement la prolongation de la pure conscience, si au contraire cette conscience doit s'articuler en formes d'action et d'expression propres au niveau qui est le sien, et puisque les formes corporelles sont inhérentes à la conscience des mortels, il faut dans ces conditions que la qualité individuelle que celle-ci possède, s'étende également aux divers éléments et vertus constitutives de l'agrégat humain, pour les faire siens, pour les tenir en laisse sous une forme qui porte précisément le sceau de l'individualité. C'est cela le corps magique ou corps de résurrection.

La constitution du corps de gloire passe par l'alchimie interne que nous allons définir à l'aide d'un extrait des « Procédés Secrets du Joyau Magique », un traité d'alchimie taoïste du xle siècle : « L'alchimie intérieure est un système syncrétiste très complexe qui poursuit sur le plan théorique le même idéal que l'alchimie opératoire, à savoir l'élaboration d'une drogue dont l'absorption est censée rendre l'homme immortel et lui permettre de monter au ciel en plein jour. Mais c'est de son propre corps que l'adepte du Nei Tan fait son laboratoire ; il y trouve en effet tous les ingrédients et les ustensiles de l'alchimie traditionnelle : fourneau, chaudron, mercure, cinabre, plomb et autres minerais ; et c'est en suivant un processus mental et physiologique qu'il installe le laboratoire, allume le feu du fourneau, en surveille la chaleur, provoque le mariage des ingrédients dans le chaudron et recommence le processus à un niveau différent, une fois obtenu le résultat désiré. »

2. Édition des Deux Océans, Paris.

En d'autres termes, les textes de l'alchimie intérieure empruntent le langage de l'alchimie opératoire pour décrire leurs processus de purification destinés à une transformation spirituelle et corporelle. Mais on n'aboutit pas au corps d'immortalité par une simple recette... Une opération très longue est nécessaire. De plus, des pièges redoutables peuvent se présenter. EVOLA écrit encore à ce sujet : « Les étapes successives de ce processus sont les mêmes que les diverses épreuves et étapes de l'initiation, dans la mesure où celles-ci sont le résultat de rapports établis avec les divers êtres, d'abord psychiques et ensuite naturels (dieux) qui régissent en maître sur les êtres humains et agissent au travers de leur corps et de leur esprit. C'est sur ces êtres que le mage doit, dans ce domaine opératif, rAffirmer sa propre autonomie, et m'ame plier sous la loi les forces qui attestent la prsence de ces "tres l'intrieur de son organisme. »

Le rsultat peut tre la fin des corporifications (les morts et rncarnations) pour celui qui a, comme le dit Ibn JABIR, communiqu sa fixit au volatil, et SCHWALLER de LUBICZ indique que « la renaissance d'finitive, ou rsurrection, est la complmentation absolue. BA est le volatil, le subtil, et KA est le fixe nergtique qui est l'aimant de BA »⁴. Le texte indique que le BA doit retrouver le KA, ce dernier engendrant le fils.

Les phases de la voie alchimique sont donc complexes, et l'obtention de la Pierre au rouge n'est qu'une tape d'une longue quate, techniquement prcise. Outre leurs pouvoirs rgnerants et transmutatoires, les pierres ont aussi un pouvoir de sparation en ce qui concerne la partie conscience de l'homme qui peut voler. Il ne faut pas oublier que dans la tradition indoue, le mercure-mtal (trait alchimiquement) est le sperme de Schiva. En cela, il possde l'essence de Dieu, et la possibilit de l'actualiser dans l'homme. C'est la raison pour laquelle nous avons insist sur l'alchimie du mercure, ou plut du sulfure de mercure ou cinabre. Cette voie du mercure pouvant bien entendu se raliser aussi sans utiliser le cinabre, par un processus de purification progressif du mercure l'aide de plantes, cas de l'alchimie indienne qui utilise les purifications jusqu' 18 samskar.

L'homme qui doit raliser la suite de la voie se trouve confront divers problmes, le plus grave tant d'ja de savoir ce qui va tre cristallis, dans ce qui constitue les agrgats plus ou moins informels qui composent un je humain. Il est certain que l'approche de la voie va passer par la conquate pralable d'un tat de conscience diffrenci, o le regard prend le pas de plus en plus sur le je humain, avec les crises inhrentes cette limination progressive de l'Ego. Celui-ci, ayant constitu et secrter un monde dans lequel, tel un cocon, il a enferm la conscience, ne va pas accepter cette modification.

D'autre part, avant de sortir du filet de sommeil, il faut avoir assez de conscience seconde (le chen des taoistes), pour tenter l'aventure. Enfin, la plupart des humains tant des agrgats artificiels, il ne s'agit pas de casser en eux un univers sans lequel ils n'existeraient plus, car l'humain moyen est un ensemble complexe, passant de l'tre particulier sur lequel il a projet son amour (en fait, sa dtresse...) la considration que les autres ont de lui, sa nourriture, son dsir de se projeter dans le futur travers la procration, au plaisir des sens, et parfois ses autres opiums que sont ses considrations religieuses ou politiques, lesquelles sont parfois aussi fluctuantes que les humeurs du moment. Le sortir du monde qu'il s'est cr est suicidaire, et comme le dit si bien MEYRINCK : « la voie de l'veil est jonche de cadavres. » Ainsi ces voies s'adressent des personnes qui ont mis fin aux intrats humains ou en tout cas qui les voient comme extrieurs leur regard sur le monde.

La premire tape de la voie interne est donc l'accession l'tat de conscience aussi appel TAT OBJECTIF, c'est- dire un tat o les choses sont perçues pour ce qu'elles sont, et non pas conceptualises. C'est dans un tel tat que l'humain se rend compte qu'il n'avait en fait jamais vcu, mais qu'il n'avait fait que dormir. Cet tat d'tre, parfois appel VEIL, est inconsciemment recherché par les humains. Ils savent plus ou moins que rien ne les satisfait réellement, mais ils cherchent des solutions dans des remèdes horizontaux liés au monde de l'avoir, de l'acquis, ou aux théories analytiques liées aux fadaises de la psychanalyse ou de la psychologie moderne dont on serait bien en peine de tirer quelque chose d'utile, même si certains « pères » comme JUNG ont fait preuve de beaucoup d'ouverture d'esprit en ce qui concerne les sciences traditionnelles.

C'est donc un combat total pour la qualité de l'instant PRÉSENT qui va constituer la première étape de l'alchimie interne, une lutte difficile, faite de hauts et de bas, de crises, parfois de conflits, tant que le moment juste ou la place ne sont pas trouvés. L'aide de frères extérieurs pouvant être requise, ce ne sont pas les faux gourous qui vont manquer pour apporter leur concours, pendant que le qualité va se fatiguer dans une recherche illusoire, où le temps compte, et beaucoup, pour ceux qui doivent terminer l'oeuvre. Quant aux vrais maîtres, conscients de ce que représente une telle qualité, ils se cachent soigneusement, et n'ayant pas de temps à perdre, ne sont découverts que par les vrais traqueurs, dont la sagacité et l'HERMÈS en eux - parfois aussi une longue pratique - leur permettent de trouver celui qui peut apporter les éléments manquants. Cela nous conduit à une seconde considération : la nécessité d'avoir un HERMÈS développé, c'est-à-dire un guide intérieur ou une intuition saine pour trouver la voie juste, laquelle peut se cacher dans des formes qui ne la laissent pas paraître. Sans tomber dans les aspects très difficiles de certaines voies directes et de certains maîtres impitoyables, évoqués par exemple dans la vie de Jetsun MILAREPA, il est certain que les véritables maîtres n'ont pas le choix des moyens, et que seuls un certain type de disciple a des chances de trouver le terminal d'une qualité.

Conséquence de ces considérations : la nécessité d'avoir un type de vie peu conforme à la vie moderne, bien que pouvant s'y accommoder... Tout est fait pour abrutir l'individu et le pousser à consommer. Quant à ceux qui font semblant de lutter contre ce système en se croyant révolutionnaires, ils enferment la plupart du temps l'individu dans un système étatique redoutable. Très peu de politiques posent les problèmes de liberté et de qualité. Quant à la culture et l'information, elles sont adaptées à une humanité de zombies, soigneusement parqués dans des champs. Entendons par là des façons de penser ou de voir autorisées. Il est certain, comme l'a montré PLATON, que l'aristocratie véritable ne peut se sentir concernée par cette farce, et qu'elle n'y participe pas.

La Qualité implique la création d'un équilibre psychophysiologique grâce à plusieurs facteurs

- Une alimentation saine, ponctuée de périodes de jeûne avec purification indispensable de l'appareil digestif. Les repas doivent tendre à se composer le plus possible de produits non liés à une agression. Le feu diminue considérablement l'apport vital d'un aliment, c'est pourquoi il faut éviter les fritures, mais aussi diminuer les cuissons. De même il faut faire des cures régulières de produits livrés directement par la nature, cas des fruits, aliments solaires (yang) indispensables. Un poireau, au contraire, est arraché à la terre, il apporte du Yin. Il subit aussi une agression. Si un fruit tombe naturellement dans la main, il ne nécessite aucune violence pour le récupérer. Il en est de même pour les produits animaux, le lait et les fromages, qui constituent un apport calorique mais naturel. La sensation progressive confirmera ces critères qui aident au développement de l'HERMÈS en nous, notre corps solaire.

- Nécessité également de la prise de conscience de plus en plus réelle de l'instant PRÉSENT, d'abord le jour, puis jour et nuit. Souvent à ce stade la prÃ©sence d'un expert est requise, la sortie du monde des identifications demande un labeur peu commun.

- ConsÃ©quence de l'Art de vivre : le contrÃ´le de plus en plus complet et dÃ©finitif de l'acte sexuel, particuliÃ¨rement au niveau de la non-dÃ©perdition de la semence. Un couple mariÃ© qui contrÃ´le les Ã©missions est plus chaste qu'un moine ou un prÃ©tre qui, sans se marier, vivent des dÃ©perditions (qu'elles soient nocturnes Ã cause des rÃaves, ou pour d'autres raisons...).

- Pratique plus initiatique de certains exercices

a) liÃ©s Ã la respiration,

b) basÃ©s sur certains mantras (rÃ©pÃ©tition d'un son). Le zikr des soufis en est un exemples. Ces conseils prÃ©cÃ©dents permettent de crÃ©er le sepa ratio progressivement en le dÃ©barassant de l'ego d'une part, et en l'autonomisant et le densifiant d'autre part. Ce n'est que par la suite qu'une voie alchimique prend son sens. Qui voudrait tromper un maÃ®tre ne tromperait que lui-mÃame.

- Autre aspect de la quÃªte : l'Ã©preuve du mÃ©tal. Un disciple doit savoir attendre, parfois trÃs longtemps, un rÃ©sultat, comme le Chevalier du Moyen Age. Il se bat sans investir sur le futur, sans considÃ©rer le passÃ©, et en cela il prouve qu'il existe d'une part, qu'il a vaincu en lui la notion mercantile et peu initiatique de l'intÃ©rÃªt, d'autre part. Cette patience et cette persÃ©vÃ©rance forgent en lui une direction, comme le disait Guillaume d'ORANGE, l'Ã©oÃ© existe une volontÃ©, existe un chemin ; si rien ne l'a perturbÃ© dans sa quÃªte, il est la preuve que celle-lÃ lui ressemble.

5. Le Zhir ou Dhikz est un des exercices fondamentaux des Soufis, il permet, par la rÃ©pÃ©tition d'un Mantra, le rappel de Soi et une Ã©limination progressive du parasitage du mental.

On peut ajouter que seuls les quÃªteurs ayant fait leurs preuves dans la sociÃ©tÃ© en assumant leurs responsabilitÃ©s peuvent suivre une voie car, comme l'a dit KREMMERZ, qui n'a pas fait de l'or Ã l'extÃ©rieur n'en fait pas en soi. Les consÃ©quences de la pratique de ces rectifications dans la vie de tous les jours peuvent Ãatre importantes, il en sera de mÃame pour ceux qui persÃ©vÃ©rent dans la quÃªte quodotienne de l'attention ou prÃ©sence. Il leur faut souvent aboutir Ã des solutions douloureuses et passer par des crises qui, parfois, peuvent conduire Ã l'abandon de la quÃªte. C'est ainsi que le dÃ©part de la voie passe par un constat purement intellectuel : les valeurs habituelles et sociales ne prÃ©sentent aucun intÃ©rÃªt. La premiÃ¨re Ã©tape qui consiste Ã regarder le Je humain est souvent dÃ©terminante, nos prÃ©occupations et intÃ©rÃªts quotidiens sont dÃ©risoires, les justifications que nous donnons Ã nos actes sont le plus souvent le pur fruit de l'hypocrisie, quant aux motivations rÃ©elles, mieux vaut qu'elles n'apparaissent pas

Ici et Maintenant

La voie des sons

Au dÃ©but Ã©tait le Verbe. La voie du Verbe est un des Ã©lÃ©ments clefs de l'Initiation, et complÃªte heureusement les MagistÃ¨res alchimiques. Divers alchimistes ont fait allusion au Verbe CrÃ©ateur, dont KALLID en 1662, et tout adepte averti doit connaÃ®tre la signification et l'utilisation des voyelles. D'aprÃ¨s BIRCH : Ã« La Gnose ou la connaissance des noms divins dans leur sens extÃ©rieur et leur sens Ã©sotÃ©rique Ã©tait en fait le grand mystÃ¨re religieux ou l'initiation chez les Ã©gyptiens. Ã« D'Ã©MÃ©TRIUS Ã©crivait trois siÃ©cles avant notre Ã¨re : Ã« En Ã©gypte, les prÃ©tres chantent les louanges des Dieux en se servant des sept voyelles qu'ils rÃ©pÃ©tent successivement, et l'agrÃ©able euphonie du son de ces lettres peut tenir lieu de flÃªte et de cithare. Ã«

On sait que les ThÃ©urges invoquaient la DivinitÃ© avec des sifflements stridents ou roucoulements, et avec des sons sans consonnes, inarticulÃ©s. Nicomaque de GÃ©RASE, disciple de PYTHAGORE, Ã©crit : « Les sons de chacune des sept sphÃ©res produisent un certain bruit, la premiÃ¨re rÃ©alisant le premier son, et ces sons l'on a donnÃ© les noms des voyelles. » EusÃ©be de CÃ©SARÉE nous apprend que, suivant les oracles d'Apollon, il faut se concilier les Dieux « par des invocations muettes dont le plus grand des Mages est inventeur, le roi des sept sons que tous connaissent ».

Les sept voyelles sont les suivantes phonÃ©tiquement UtilisÃ©es correctement, ces voyelles sont des instruments de puissance, comme le prÃ©cise Edmond BAILLY' « On serait portÃ© Ã ne voir dans les incantations que de simples priÃ¨res formulÃ©es en vue d'une union mystique entre les choses du Ciel et celles de la Terre, ce qui fait l'objet de toute pratique religieuse proprement dite. Il s'en faut qu'il en ait Ã©tÃ© toujours ainsi dans l'antique Ãgypte oÃ¹ le postulant brigue, bien plutÃ´t qu'il n'implore, l'intervention d'En-Haut. Ici comme avec la plus grande partie des formules enseignÃ©es par les BrÃ¢hmanes, nous sommes en pleine thÃ©urgie ; et cette communautÃ© des rites Ãgyptiens avec ceux de l'Inde doit attirer notre attention. L'incantation n'est donc pas une priÃ¨re, mais un ordre auquel les Dieux sont contraints de se rendre, si nulle faute ne s'est glissÃ©e dans l'accomplissement du rituel ».

Valentin Å©RIGÅNE Ã©crit dans « MystÃ¨res et Pouvoirs

1. Edmond Bailly : « Le Chant des-voyelles », Å©d. Bellisane, Nice.

des Sons au Temps des Pharaons »: « GÃ©nÃ©ralement, on admet que le clergÃ© de Memphis chercha Ã aller plus loin que ses prÃ©dÃ©cesseurs et qu'il s'efforÃ§a d'apporter des idÃ©es nouvelles. On pense qu'il commenÃ§a par observer comment se dÃ©veloppe le processus de la connaissance (SIA) et de la rÃ©alisation (HOU). Il est d'ailleurs intÃ©ressant de noter que SIA et HOU (la connaissance et la rÃ©alisation) furent divinisÃ©es... »

Nous ne pouvons oublier bien sÃ»r que l'OEuf de Serpent que crÃ©ent les Druides avec la bave du Serpent doit se maintenir en l'air avec des sifflements. Pour bien comprendre la notion de voyelles il faut en trouver l'essence.

Comme le prÃ©cise von SEBOTTENDORF3: « ARTHÅ©PHIUS nous enseigne, dans son Clavis Majoris Sapientae, l'art de facere descendere spiritum, et donne les formules suivantes dans lesquelles l'esprit s'Ã©panche volontiers : I V X O par L. Nous trouvons ici le "I" et le "O", "V" et "X" sont deux formes du "A". » Malheureusement l'auteur n'a pas compris par manque de sensations ou de clefs traditionnelles, la notion de CrÃ©ation avec les sons. « A » est la voyelle centrale, un Ã©quivalent de la couleur verte. Si on Ã©tend ou plutÃ´t dissocie la couleur verte, nous obtenons la bipolarisation lÃ©gÃ©rement chaude, jaune (lÃ©ger Yang), lÃ©gÃ©rement froide bleu (lÃ©ger Yin). Si nous continuons Ã Ã©tendre sur la bipolarisation, nous obtenons l'extrÃªme Yang rouge rubis Ã l'extrÃªme Yin l'indigo. Il en est de même pour les voyelles : le « A » étendu sur ses extrêmes donne le « I », voyelle la plus aiguë, et l'« O » voyelle la plus grave. Le « I » produit le froid au niveau de la sensation, or, c'est un symbole mâle, le « O » produit le chaud, or c'est un symbole femelle. Chacun sait, dans la voie des mutations, que Yang produit Yin et Yin produit Yang. Le « A » reste donc hermaphrodite même si dans d'autres traditions ou symboliques il puisse avoir une connotation diverse et prendre la place du « I » comme symbole mâle, exemple dans Je suis l'Alpha et l'Omega, mais comme il s'agit de science précise nous ne pouvons nous attacher aux dérives postérieures de situations essentielles.

Saint Iréné, citant le gnostique MARCUS, nous confirme en donnant les clefs de la distribution pour ceux qui peuvent comprendre : « La voyelle A retentit dans les voix du premier ciel ; dans les voix du second, E seul résonne ; H, dans celles du troisième ; le quatrième, qui est en même temps le ciel du milieu répertorie la voyelle I ; la cinquième O ; la sixième R, le septième, qui est le quatrième, depuis celui du milieu SL »

Quant à la centralité de l'A et son extension, SCHWALLER de LUBICZ donne des précisions qui complètent ses premières informations : « Ces deux syllabes assemblées, ia ou, expriment l'origine de l'Être dans sa plénitude non divisée, non spécifique. Écoute l'enseignement de nos Sages : au commencement, iaou vivait dans le corps unique, avant qu'il y eût dualisation, avant que fussent les choses terrestres... Quand il n'y avait pas encore de naissance... quand aucun dieu n'existait... quand le désir pour Ikou n'était pas encore formulé... Nous avons déjà effleuré le sujet du doublement de l'Unique, iaou ; considérez-le maintenant sous l'aspect de la formation des quatre directions contenues en possibilité dans l'Unique. La première syllabe du mot iaou, ia, exprime la polarisation de l'Origine : Nord et Sud, haut et bas, et tout ce qui, dans la Nature, présente obligatoirement cette polarisation, par exemple iat, bâton, perchoir, colonne dorsale, la tombe (de la tête aux pieds).

4. « Her-Bak, Disciple » de R.A. Schwaller de Lubicz, d. Flammarion.

La seconde syllabe, ou, exprime l'idée d'extension d'amplitude, par possibilité du volume : ainsi la sphère en rotation a son axe, le reste n'est que volume. Nul ne pourra jamais expliquer le pourquoi ni le comment de la division de ia et ou, qui produit le volume par la fixation des quatre directions. »

Pour l'utilisation, une fois les essences perçues, l'adepte doit travailler les consonnes méttriques, condensatrices ou réceptives. Est-ce un hasard si le sifflement commence par un S, le soleil égyptien (R) par un R, ou le mot Mer ou Mère par un M, qu'on retrouve à la fin du mot ATOUM. Il ne saurait trop être question de dissenter sur le iaou dont le ton le plus exact est donné par le chat, animal d'Osiris. Il faut noter aussi que certains oiseaux et insectes donnent les clefs d'autres sons de puissance.

Si la science des sons est très utile, dans la théurgie active, elle est aussi indispensable dans l'alchimie interne, car elle doit être utilisée, tel le ZIKR des Soufis (mantra réceptif pour provoquer l'animation puis la séparation des éléments constitutifs qui aboutissent à la formation du Corps de Gloire ou d'Immortalité).

Il faut arriver à l'époque moderne pour trouver des voies contre-initiatiques, fragmentaires pour ne pas dire résideuses, qui n'enseignent pas ces clefs et aboutissent Ã des rÃ©sultats d'Ã©viÃ©s (quand il y a rÃ©sultats bien entendu !). Mais ce type de considÃ©rations ne concerne que les adeptes de certains magistÃ©res trÃ©s fermÃ©s qui touchent au corps humain, et ce que nous Ã©crivons constitue plutÃ´t une forme de mise en garde aux dÃ©tenteurs de sciences traditionnelles tronquÃ©es. Le signe mudra chez les Indous peut constituer aussi un Ã©lÃ©ment important de la voie, et lÃ aussi la sensation et la logique priment ; si l'index levÃ© du bras droit (pour un droitier), est le signe mÃ©le d'Ã©mission d'Ã©nergie (Yang), le pouce et l'index recourbÃ©s' ou fermÃ©s sous forme de O permettent la rÃ©ception dans les deux dimensions. Cette Ã©mission et cette rÃ©ception peuvent se faire sur l'extÃ©rieur et sur l'intÃ©rieur. Il en est de mÃªme pour les sons quand il s'agit d'invocation ou d'Ã©vocation, l'une se faisant en inspirant, l'autre en expirant. Notre propos n'Ã©tant pas dans ce livre de donner toutes les clefs qui doivent Ãªtre le produit d'une recherche individuelle comme c'est le cas de la 4e Voie, dont GURDJIEFF dit que Ã« avant tout elle doit Ãªtre trouvÃ©e. C'est le premier test Ã».

5. L'utilisation du son est trifonctionnelle, outre ce que nous avons mentionnÃ© prÃ©cÃ©demment (balayage du mental), il peut agir comme Sel c'est-Ã -dire qu'il a un pouvoir de modification physiologique et enfin d'action extÃ©rieure.

6. Le binaire est femelle, rÃ©cepteur.

La voie secrÃ©te ou le rÃ©el art chimique

A part les diverses voies, parfois fort complexes, de la sÃ©rie des WOUEI TAN, ou voies extÃ©rieures, qu'elles soient du cinabre, de la stibine, de la galÃ©ne, de la cÃ©ruse, du bismuth ou du phosphore, il existe des voies directes, simples, parfois mÃªme trÃ©s rapides, ou bien des voies de longue haleine, mais exÃ©cutÃ©es par des processus trÃ©s simples... Comme ces voies sont, et furent trÃ©s fermÃ©es, et qu'elles ne peuvent Ãªtre enseignÃ©es, car la premiÃ©re condition de la pratique est que l'HERMÃ©S en soi soit assez fort pour les dÃ©couvrir... le maÃ®tre ne joue plus qu'un rÃªle de tÃ©moin.

La simplicitÃ© extrÃªme de cette voie est attestÃ©e par de nombreux alchimistes Ã« Il est une pierre de grande vertu, et est dite Pierre et n'est pas pierre, et est minÃ©rale, vÃ©gÃ©tale et animale qui est trouvÃ©e en tous lieux et en tous temps, et chez toutes personnes... Ã» (Nicolas VALOIS, Ã« La Clef du Secret des Secrets Ã») Ã« Si HERMÃ©S, le PÃ©re des Philosophes, ressuscitoit aujourd'hui avec le subtil GEBER, le profond Raymond

LULLE, ils ne seroient pas regardÃ©s comme des Philosophes par nos chymistes vulgaires qui ne daigneroient presque pas les mettre au nombre de leurs disciples, parce qu'ils ignoreroient la maniÃ©re de s'y prendre pour procÃ©der a toutes ces distillations, ces circulations, ces calcinations, et toutes ces opÃ©rations innombrables que nos chymistes vulgaires ont inventÃ©es, pour avoir mal entendu les Ã©crits allÃ©goriques de ces Philosophes. Ã» (Jean d'HOURY, Ã« Cosmopolite ou nouvelle lumiÃ©re chymique Ã» Paris, 1669)

Ã« Il ne s'agit pas en -alchimie de procÃ©dÃ©s dans le vaste monde extÃ©rieur, mais de processus microcosmiques trÃ©s secrets; qui ont constituÃ© la matiÃ©re centrale des mystÃ©res depuis la plus haute antiquitÃ©. On peut donc dire Ã raison que la science hermÃ©tique est la plus haute science de l'humanitÃ©, trÃ©s vraisemblablement issue de traditions que les anciens Ã©gyptiens dÃ©signaient avec respect sous le nom de secret des Anciens. Ã» (Ã« Prologue microcosmique Ã» de 1720)

Une manifestation actuelle des Rose + Croix d'Or affirme: Ã« Mais les amateurs et chercheurs indignes ne peuvent, avec leur SUBJECTIS et LABORIBUS contre nature, faire naÃ®tre l'enfant philosophique du soleil et de la lune. Ils cherchent cet Art naturel et divin sans la connaissance de Dieu ; ils ne savent mÃªme pas ce que la nature est avant tout, encore moins comment, avec quoi, et où¹ elle opère.

Ils tournent en rond avec leurs États d'Ême, et savent parler des maintes actions de la nature, mais le centre de la nature qui provoque toutes les actions de celle-ci, ils ne le trouvent pas. Alors qu'ils devraient, dans le feu vivant, tirer, des matériaux vivants des Sages, la semence et par conséquent faire le mercure par le mercure, ou la matière première par la matière première : ainsi, ils ne savent ni ce qu'est la vie, ce qu'est la semence des matériaux, ni ce qu'est le mercure et ce qu'est la matière première, mais ils travaillent avec des agents morts ou teintés, tels que l'or, l'argent, le mercure etc., vulgaires, et ils font ceci avec du feu de bois, de charbons, des lampes ou tout autre feu mort, et ils pensent par ce moyen préparer la médecine universelle qui donne la vie et la multiplie, et la teinture ; comme si mort et vie étaient dans leur main.

Ils cherchent un art facile et un travail difficile, alors qu'il s'agit d'un art difficile et d'un travail facile ; il leur en coûte beaucoup en matériaux, que l'on peut se procurer pourtant sans bourse délier et que l'on ne trouvera dans aucun bric à brac, aucune pharmacie, etc., mais que l'on peut prendre directement dans la nature. »

Quant aux causes de l'aveuglement, elles sont bien définies dans cet extrait de la « Clavicula Hermetica Scientiae, ab Hyperboreo Quodam Horis Subselectivis Consignata Anno 1732 » : « Mais voici la première et véritable cause pour laquelle la nature a caché ce palais ouvert et royal à tant de philosophes, même à ceux nantis d'un esprit très subtil, c'est que, s'écartant, dès leur jeunesse, du chemin simple de la nature par des conclusions de logique et de métaphysique, et trompés par les illusions des meilleurs livres mêmes, ils s'imaginent et jurent que cet art est plus profond, plus difficile à connaître qu'aucune métaphysique, quoique la nature ingénue, dans ce chemin comme, dans tous les autres, marche d'un pas droit et très simple. »

Certains textes occidentaux font allusion nettement à cette alchimie, « Le Monde Magique des Héros » de Cesare della RIVIERA', ou des citations telles que celle-ci, extraite de « Rosinus ad Sarratantum Episcopum »

Cette Pierre est une chose qui se trouve en toi plus fixe que nulle part ailleurs, créée par Dieu et tu en es la matière (prima materia) et extraite de toi... Et de même que l'homme est composé de quatre éléments, de même la pierre, et ainsi elle provient de l'homme et tu en es la matière, à savoir par l'opération ; elle est extraite de toi à savoir par la science. Autrement dit, elle est fixée en toi, à savoir dans le mercure des sages ; tu en es la matière, c'est-à-dire elle est enfermée en toi et tu la tiens cachée et elle est extraite de toi, puisqu'elle est réduite (son essence) et dissoute par toi, car elle ne peut pas être parfaitement en toi, et toi tu ne peux vivre sans elle, ainsi regarde le commencement et vice-versa. »

La voie interne est aussi suggérée par certains gnostiques, et appelée par GURDJIEFF quatrième voie ou voie des substances, bien que la vie privée de ce dernier n'ait pas tellement coïncidé avec l'ascétisme nécessaire à cette voie très périlleuse, et délicate. Saint PIPHANE y fait allusion dans « les Interrogations », évoquant la vision de Marie MAGDELEINE, à propos de laquelle il est dit : « Si vous ne croyez pas quand je vous dis les choses de la terre, comment croirez-vous quand je vous dirai les choses du ciel ? » et ils interprètent : « quand vous verrez le Fils de l'Homme remonter où il était auparavant » ; hoc est, inquit, profluens semen exsorptum, ut eo unde exierat revertatur...

La sensation juste de l'univers, permet au véritable religieux (au sens étymologique, religare = relier) de faire les voies extérieures sans frais et dans des temps brefs. S'il existe la voie sacerdotale, trās brève, dans la voie du cinabre, d'autres auteurs ont mis l'accent sur ces réalisations dont aucune ne demande plus de quelques heures, parfois quelques jours pour d'autres. Sans faire mention de la voie sacerdotale, ou de la voie de la foudre, TOLLIVUS dans « Le chemin du ciel chimique » écrit en 1688: « Laissant donc part tous les sentiments différents, je me suis proposé cette règle certaine avec laquelle je puisse heureusement parvenir à la fin de ma carrière

- Que la Pierre des philosophes doit être faite en trois ou quatre jours.
- Que la dépense ne doit point excéder la somme de trois ou quatre florins.
- Et qu'enfin un seul creuset ou vaisseau de terre suffit.

J'estime qu'il faut rejeter toutes les propositions qui ne s'accorderont pas avec ces trois aphorismes. Prvenu de la sorte, Basile VALENTIN m'a été d'un grand secours, car après avoir fait représenter un creuset dans ses premières Clefs, il ordonne de continuer par cette voie, et de laisser tous autres vaisseaux, le feu de la lampe, de fientes de cheval, de cendre, de sable et de flamme, et d'appliquer son esprit aux plus profonds mystères de l'Art. »

L'utilisation du feu du ciel ou foudre, est présente dans la voie, sans évoquer les fulguratores étrusques (prêtres maîtres de la foudre). Il y eut dernièrement certains constats sur les pouvoirs provoqués accidentellement chez certaines personnes frappées par cette force et qui en ont été frappées. Outre le fait qu'elle permet l'acquisition de la MATERIA PRIMA pour certaines voies, elle est aussi utilisée pour modifier le corps humain par des maîtres qui ont les signes et les sons nécessaires. Le remarquable roman de VILLIERS de l'ISLE ADAM, « Isis », où une comtesse italienne alchimiste et initiée à certains mystères hermétiques, invoque la foudre et se fait frapper par elle dans une pièce du palais, y fait allusion. La foudre est alchimiquement un mariage du ciel - père - Yang, et de la terre - mère - Yin. Elle produit donc un Fils qu'il faut récupérer. Il existe aussi une foudre interne au corps humain.

Nous retrouvons aussi cette voie interne de l'alchimie dans la tradition bouddhique éosotérique Shingon où elle est décrite avec précision par le Moine japonais KUKAI (774-835), qui écrit dans sa « Thèse de l'Ermite Ultra Vide »⁹

« D'un coup de pied, rejetez au loin les richesses, comme on se débarrasse d'une charde ; face aux honneurs du rang, ayez l'attitude qu'on a quand on se salue d'un soulier de paille usé. Que les regards que vous posez sur les femmes aux hanches fines soient les mâmes que

9. In « La Voie finale des Trois enseignements » de Kukai, traduction et commentaires de Allan Georges Grapard, éd. Poiesis, Paris.

ceux portés sur les démons, et que celui porté sur les rangs et les salaires soit le mâme que sur un rat en composition. Soyez calmes et sans agir, tranquilles et sans désirs, diminuez le nombre de vos actes. Quand vous aurez réalisé ceci, l'étude deviendra chose aisée. D'autre part, ce que l'homme du commun prise le plus pour se divertir est ce que le taoïste déteste avec le plus de conviction. Cependant, si vous réussissez à vous en éloigner, devenir un Immortel ne sera point chose difficile.

Rire aux éclats et éprouver de grandes joies, se mettre en colère comme être excessivement triste : autant de facteurs ayant de fatales conséquences. Nombreux sont, à l'intérieur du corps, les ennemis de ce genre. Mais moins d'en venir à bout, nul ne peut comprendre ce que l'on entend par longévité et éternelle conservation. S'éloigner de cette situation est ce que les âmes du commun considèrent être le plus difficile. Mais qu'on y réussisse, et alors devenir un Immortel est la chose au monde la plus aisée. Il faut que je vous indique l'essentiel de ces techniques, et il ne vous restera plus qu'à prendre ces remèdes. Le chardon blanc et le grain jaune, la sauge de pin, les graines du murier balayent les maladies internes ; la flèche d'armoise, la lance de jonc, les amulettes, les exorcismes et les interdictions protègent contre les autres maux. Comptant rythmiquement les respirations, mettezles en harmonie avec les saisons. Ouvrant le nez, buvez à la source pure. Creusant le sol, dégagez-en et avalez la pierre précieuse. Les herbes grasses et maigres satisfont la faim au matin, tandis que les pommes de pin et leur sauge chassent la fatigue au soir. Cachant votre ombre en plein jour, vous pourrez écrire sans lumière au milieu de la nuit. Penetrant profondément la terre du regard, vous pourrez marcher sur la surface de l'eau. Faisant des démons et des esprits vos acolytes, les dragons et les démons de Mou-wang seront votre monture. Avalant les épées et ingurgitant le feu, vous provoquerez vents et nuages. Si vous parvenez à maîtriser ces techniques, quel souhait ne serait exaucé ?

En outre, l'argent et l'or jaune sont les substances par excellence de l'univers, tandis que le cinabre et sa purification par le feu produisent des remèdes merveilleux. Il y a une manière de les prendre, et une certaine technique pour les fabriquer. Si vous réalisez l'unité parfaite, vous réunirez vos proches et monterez au Ciel. Grâce à un peu de cinabre, vous vous rendez en plein jour dans la Voie Lactée. »

Ibis - cinquante proposition

Tu sauraras la Terre du Feu, le subtil de l'Empire, doucement, avec grand art. Il remonte de la Terre au Ciel et, subitement, redescend dans la terre et recueille la force des choses supérieures et inférieures.

Il est notoirement connu qu'un secret alchimique existe, et qu'il est jalousement gardé. Aussi, même ceux qui n'en savent rien mais ont lu SCHURE, PAPUS et jusqu'à BESANT et quelques revues socialistes, affichent un air de suffisance et feignent de passer pour savants.

Ce sont, en vérité, les meilleurs gardiens du Secret, et il faut reconnaître que s'ils n'en parlent pas plus ouvertement, c'est qu'ils n'en savent rien.

Ceux-là, dans le fond, ne font de mal à personne parce qu'ils ne connaissent ni voie ni pratique, et ne se targuent pas de pouvoirs, ils essaient seulement de se donner un peu d'importance.

Mais ceux qui ont atteint ou croient avoir arraché quelques secrets, ou qui possèdent vraiment des secrets ne doivent pas les laisser tomber au hasard sous les yeux des ignorants. Car ceux-ci ont aussi pratiqué, attirés par les mirages profanes, et ils n'ont rien obtenu. Mais ils se gonflent de Science, ils s'entourent de mystère. Ils s'infiltrèrent chez les crédules, parlant à mots couverts et, aussitôt qu'ils le peuvent, écrivent quelque petit livre irraisonné, fruit particulier de plagiat effronté et déformé, philosophie de boudoir, sophistique pédante de ce qu'ils n'ont manifestement pas digéré.

Ils prennent plaisir au sérieux ce qu'ils racontent dans une langue malmenée, entre des notes de seconde ou troisième main, enrichies de citations autorisées, ne pouvant personnellement rien conclure.

Ce sont de pauvres diables qui s'imaginent par leurs indiscrétions violer le secret de la révélation, s'arrogeant le droit d'en assumer la responsabilité (comme s'ils pouvaient être responsables !) avec des avis de maîtres émanés.

Mais comment expliquer l'authenticité absolue de ce secret, en dépit des indiscrétions ? Comment expliquer l'existence d'un Ordre qui en assure la prévenit, en dépit des indiscretions ?

C'est simple : les notes et les textes (quand ils échoient à quelqu'un de sérieux) sont, pour celui qui s'en montre digne, une preuve et une indication pour parvenir à la connaissance du secret : mais ils ne sont pas en eux-mêmes le Secret'.

1. A la connaissance de ce Secret présente, invisible des profanes et de tous ceux qui n'en sont pas dignes, un collège d'intelligences justement distribuées. Les indignes ne pourront jamais l'atteindre. Les égoïstes perdront la route. Ceux qui parleront pendant la pratique de l'Arcane trouveront la mort (G. Kremmerz «Introduction à la Science Hermétique »).

C'est pourquoi le TRISMAGISTE reste laconique quand il l'expose dans sa Table ; il prend la peine de ne pas toucher au Principe ; il dit seulement : « Tu compareras, etc. »

Mais de quelle façon ?

Et bien le moyen, n'a jamais été transmis, ni oralement, ni par écrit, et c'est là la garantie certaine du Secret. Voilà pourquoi tous ceux qui sont parvenus à l'atteindre se sont tus et savent pourquoi.

Ce moyen, quand il n'est pas transmis par des symboles pratiquement incompréhensibles, s'apprend par vision directe, en entrant, en compagnie d'un MAÎTRE INITIATEUR dans le laboratoire alchimique d'une LOGE D'AMON, et en assistant à une transmutation réelle dans le silence le plus rigoureux du Maître et du Novice.

Mais même ici, pour une raison qui va de soi, la transmutation qui consiste en quatre opérations et quatre résultats spécifiques, n'est pas montrée dans son entier. Elle s'occulte à partir de la troisième opération, et tout ce qu'on peut dire, pour l'édification du cercle interne pour lequel sont rédigées ces notes, est révéler ici, sans voile, pour la première fois.

2. Les alchimistes se gardent bien d'exposer le secret dans sa nudité, ils ont toujours dit que seul, est autorisé à accéder à la Porte Majeure celui qui en aura reçu la permission divine. Ils présentent le Disciple à intégrer des concepts sans la compréhension fondamentale desquels il lui serait impossible de pouvoir interpréter les visions ou manifestations divines reçues (Kremmerz).

Le laboratoire alchimique est une petite pièce simple de forme carrée, aux murs rigoureusement peints en noir, avec deux ouvertures surbaissées opposées : une pour l'entrée, l'autre pour la sortie. Au centre se trouve un cube sur lequel est posée la verticale un serpent en verre soufflé de Murano recourbé en cercle sur lui-même (le serpent qui se mord la queue) avec la gueule ouverte, à peu de distance de l'extrémité caudale. Ce serpent entièrement creux, possède un renflement ovoïde dans la gorge : à sa base, près de l'entrelacement inférieur est inséré un filtre au niveau duquel s'ouvre un purgeur. La queue, creuse comme le reste, se termine par une ouverture et l'ensemble est maintenu à température constante par un bain-marie.

Le Maître dispose dans la gueule de l'animal une substance gélative qu'il précipite d'un récipient latéral prévu à cet effet et muni d'un robinet ; celle-ci va cuire dans le renflement ci-dessus mentionné, se dissoudre peu à peu et traverser le filtre, s'écoulant dans la partie inférieure (Tu compareras la Terre du Feu).

Quand il ne passe plus rien au travers du filtre, au moyen de la valve latérale, on teste les déchets insolubles et, grâce à un ingénieux dispositif manoeuvré de l'extérieur, on fait passer, à travers la queue du Serpent le liquide obtenu (passe de la Terre au Ciel) jusqu'À ce que tout ait transitÀ© de la partie incurvÀ©e dans la gueule ouverte oÃ¹ elle recommence À tomber (subitement elle redescend dans la Terre). A ce stade on remplace le filtre par un autre, plus tÀ©nu, et on rÃ©pÃ©te l'opÃ©ration et ainsi de suite À l'aide d'un filtre toujours plus fin jusqu'À ce qu'il ne vienne plus, de l'extrÃ©mitÃ© caudale, qu'une prÃ©cieuse vapeur, sans aucun liquide : il s'agit d'un Ã©tat de la matiÃ©re À mi-chemin entre liquide et gaz.

Alors se termine la PREMIÃRE OPÃ©RATION TRANSMUTATOIRE qu'on peut dire rÃ©ussie lorsque la vapeur recueillie se congÃ©le en une masse homogÃ©ne opalescente qui, obtenue par le biais du passage d'un Ã©tat de la matiÃ©re À l'autre, recueille la force des choses supÃ©rieures et infÃ©rieures, c'est-Ã -dire la consistance de l'Ã©ther et celle de la matiÃ©re.

L'insuccÃ©s de cette premiÃ©re opÃ©ration serait certain pour celui qui s'entÃªterait À poursuivre sans avoir procÃ©dÃ© aux rectifications, lesquelles peuvent concerner les temps d'ouverture et de fermeture, la tempÃ©rature, les obstructions, les interruptions, le bain-marie et beaucoup d'autres qu'il est superflu d'Ã©numÃ©rer.

En cas de succÃ©s, par contre, et, parce que le processus est linÃ©aire, on passe À la seconde opÃ©ration qui est identique À la premiÃ©re mais change par l'adjonction d'un composÃ© accessoire qui va se mÃ©langer au premier Ã©lÃ©ment transmutatoire selon Â« les modalitÃ©s d'Ã©terminÃ©es qui sont les conditions indispensables et nÃ©cessaires À l'oxydabilitÃ© sans laquelle la pratique reste nulle et peut devenir tout Ã© fait improductrice Â».

Cet extrait est tirÃ© de l'ortosvodum (inutile que les latinistes cherchent un sens À cet archaÃ©sme) rigoureusement gardÃ© dans un enclos impÃ©nÃ©trable fermÃ© au dÃ©sir de n'importe quel animal mÃ©le.

Ce rÃ©actif, par des centrifugations, coctions et filtrages rÃ©itÃ©rÃ©s, dynamise le mÃ©lange au point qu'il faut surveiller avec le maximum d'attention son expansion dans l'alam-bic, au risque de voir exploser l'appareil et se perdre irrÃ©mÃ©diatement la substance. Mais si tout est fait selon les prÃ©cautions requises, en mettant la main À l'extrÃ©mitÃ© de la queue, on sera d'abord averti par une bouffÃ©e d'air froid, sec, et recueillera une poudre subtile (poudre de projection) qui a la propriÃ©tÃ© de s'Ã©parer la force de la matiÃ©re, mais pas de faÃ§on explosive (rien À voir avec la bombe atomique!) aussi bien induit-elle le mouvement dans les corps (IBIS Mobile).

Cependant elle est lÃ©gÃ©rement stupÃ©fiante et aphrodisiaque, aussi est-elle dangereuse pour l'imprudent qui en ferait mauvais usage, laissant en cet Ã©tat d'enchantement tout le loisir au serpent toujours vigilant de dÃ©vorer le petit oisillon. Mais l'alchimiste austÃ©re ne se laisse pas s'Ã©duire par l'attrait Ã©rotique et procÃ©de imperturbable À la troisiÃ©me opÃ©ration.

Il effectue un second mÃ©lange, tirant d'un rÃ©cipient appropriÃ© deux fioles pleines de deux essences diffÃ©rentes provenant de plantes de la RÃ©publique Argentine, l'une de couleur rouge Ã©carlate et l'autre de couleur blanc laiteux.

Ces deux essences ont des propriÃ©tÃ©s rÃ©ciproquement corrosives, si bien que, mises ensemble elles se dÃ©truiraient rÃ©ciproquement et ne laisseraient d'elles-mÃªmes qu'une odeur caractÃ©ristique, hautement significative pour le pratiquant de haut niveau.

Mais faites tomber goutte À goutte, s'Ã©parÃ©ment sur quelques milligrammes de poudre obtenue, elles perdent leur caractÃ©re corrosif, s'accordent, c'est-Ã -dire, dans la nature essentielle de l'excipient, en se mÃ©lant, toujours par effet de coction et filtrage, en un amalgame phosphorescent aux reflets de l'Arc en Ciel.

Et ici se termine la troisiÃ©me opÃ©ration ostensible, aprÃ©s laquelle MaÃ©tre et novice sortent du laboratoire alchimique, muets comme lorsqu'ils y sont entrés. Ils se s'oparent immédiatement avec la promesse tacite du novice de se revoir quand son IBIS aura mis ses ailes, et lui permettra de retourner avec son propre vol SEUL MOYEN DE SE REPRÉSENTER POUR LA RECONNAISSANCE RITUELLE, avec le droit d'assister à la fin de l'OEuvre pour être consacré Maître Amon en dans le Synedrion éternel de l'Or .. O .. Eg .. (Ordre Osirien égyptien).

L'aide des Dieux ou des Anges de Lumière dans la quête

Dans certains textes taoïstes, et dans les traditions hermétiques et alchimiques liées aux écoles de mystère, il est un point qui revient souvent. Nous voulons parler du rôle des Dieux.

Dans la voie taoïste par exemple, il s'agit de faire la Pierre au rouge, afin de créer des ustensiles de cuisine et des Élixirs, lesquels vont accentuer le processus de separatio. Puis l'adepte passe à la constitution du corps immortel. Enfin il est question aussi d'une mystérieuse troisième Étape, le sacrifice aux dieux. Ici le face à face avec d'autres êtres plus réels que l'humain est évoqué et concerne surtout l'adepte du troisième magistère, même si on peut considérer que tout alchimiste doit rechercher l'aide de ces puissances pour mieux comprendre le sentier. Nous soulignons le très haut degré de purification nécessaire et de courage dans cette quête qui n'a rien à voir avec les expériences des spirites, lesquels n'attirent que leurs projections.

Voir les dieux, c'est aussi commencer à leur ressembler et comme l'a dit un écrivain : « Il nous arrive non pas ce qu'on mérite mais ce qui nous ressemble »... L'immortalité n'a en effet un sens glorieux que dans la bonté et l'illumination.

PROCLUS disait : « Dans les initiations et les mystères, les dieux revêtent souvent plusieurs formes et se montrent sous plusieurs apparences. Il émane d'eux une lumière parfois informe et parfois d'aspect humain, et parfois se transformant en une autre forme. » PLUTARQUE, quant à lui, parle de l'initiation en ces termes : « Je m'approchai de la présence des dieux inférieurs et supérieurs et je les adorai de près. » REGHINI dans son livre « Les Mots Sacrés et de Passe » 10, ajoute quant à ces témoignages : « Il est vraiment difficile de mettre en doute le sérieux, la véracité et l'équilibre d'hommes comme PLUTARQUE, PLATON, APULÉ, ARISTOTE, CICÉRON. » Il ajoute à propos de ce dernier « CICÉRON était romainement équilibré pour savoir ce qu'il disait, et il n'est guère facile de voir en lui un pauvre rêveur, croyant connaître vraiment le principe des choses seulement pour avoir assisté au déroulement des représentations sacrées. » Outre les philosophes, les empereurs étaient presque tous initiés. Il est vrai que la notion royale à cette époque était celle, le roi étant sur le pont, qui liait le ciel à la terre, il avait une fonction cosmique, il représentait l'Axe, le Centre, le SOI, SCHIVA immobile pendant que SCHAKTI (la manifestation) danse. C'est d'ailleurs ce sentiment de normalité du royalisme qui inspire encore quelques partisans politiques qui ne voient pas (ou refusent de voir) que seul le roi dormant (fait

10. d. Arche, Milan néant) invisible peut être servi à l'heure actuelle, et non de véritables caricatures. Il est vrai que, comme l'a écrit SCHWALLER de LUBICZ, « ce qu'est le roi régnant en tant qu'homme est presque secondaire ». Le roi est identifié à ATOUM, c'est-à-dire qu'il sait créer l'immortalité en lui, à partir de lui-même. Monter au ciel en plein jour, c'est accéder aussi à un autre monde, où l'assistance d'autres êtres est utile. L'ange de lumière est en nous, parcelle solaire, c'est elle qui doit être exaltée pour provoquer la réponse. Elle est établie dans le cœur, centre principal de relation avec le soleil, car comment comprendre l'Univers et les dieux si on est pas amoureux de la vaine de DIEU sous tous ses aspects, et non pas à travers le dualisme pathologique qui nous empêche de voir la danse cosmique et d'entendre le grand éclat de rire, de voir l'explosion de joie et de lumière de CELUI qui s'est manifesté pour se voir sous tous ses aspects.

Égyptisme, tradition et franc-maçonnerie

Le courant traditionnel a toujours été aristocratique, non pas au sens abusif de caste nobiliaire figée, mais étymologiquement comme gouvernement des meilleurs. C'est pourquoi il faut partir de la définition platonicienne des cinq régimes politiques afin que personne ne soit abusé. Dans « La République », PLATON montre que le régime idéal est l'aristocratie (du grec Aristos qui signifie meilleur régime) des philosophes, assemblée collégiale de sages à la tête d'une cité. Il définit ensuite les gradations du régime aristocratique. D'abord peut lui succéder la timarchie, pouvoir des guerriers qui renversent l'aristocratie, ces régimes militaires conduisent quand il n'y a plus guerre à une oligarchie, pouvoir d'un petit nombre de riches, qui se font à leur tour renverser, amènent la démocratie, où chacun juge de tout à égalité et qui produit par excès une tyrannie, pouvoir d'un homme qui se fait plébisciter pour mettre de l'ordre. Le courant aristocratique fut développé par les pythagoriciens, renversés d'ailleurs par une révolution populaire. Ainsi il faut établir certaines vérités, et on ne peut considérer les castes de gros marchands à la tête des États actuels comme des régimes aristocratiques. De même il faut reconnaître contre MARX, et en faveur de NIETZSCHE, que les sociétés actuelles ont été produites par excès d'égalitarisme, lequel a permis les concentrations quantitatives marchandes qui font des hommes politiques des commis au service des officiers, par marchands il ne s'agit pas du petit artisan ou commerçant, qui est ce qu'il y a de plus indispensable dans la communauté, mais des patrons de multinationales et de la haute finance, et d'un État d'esprit.

Certes on a pu constater dans l'histoire que les concentrations de pouvoir, avec une hiérarchie stricte, pouvaient conduire à des abus, mais il n'est pas difficile de démontrer que ces régimes n'étaient pas aristocratiques, bien au contraire ! Un aristocrate ne peut être raciste, il accepte et respecte les spécificités, il conduit les lois au minimum afin que l'État ne pèse sur les hommes, comme disait LAO TSEU : « C'est quand on dresse le plus de barrières pour protéger le peuple que le peuple est le plus misérable... C'est quand il se promulgue le plus de lois et d'ordonnances qu'il y a le plus de voleurs et de brigands. »

Dans un monde de valeurs marchandes où l'argent est roi, seule une nouvelle monarchie peut redonner un sens à l'existence des peuples. Le retour à la quête par le désir de perfection en chaque chose, au qualitatif contre le quantitatif, aux devoirs contre les droits, à la solidarité communautaire contre l'égalitarisme communiste, à l'être contre l'avoir à tout prix, permettrait de sauver une terre polluée et ses enfants qui se meurent tranquillement dans la tiédeur de la décomposition.

Le caractère conservateur et surtout aristocratique de la voie égyptique est affirmé par tous les adeptes. SYNESIUS écrit dans ses lettres : « Le peuple se moquera toujours des vérités simples : il a besoin d'impostures... Un esprit ami de la sagesse et qui contemple la vérité sans voiles, est contraint de la déguiser pour la faire accepter aux masses... La vérité devient funeste aux yeux trop faibles pour soutenir son éclat. Si les lois canoniques autorisent la r serve des appr ciations et l'all gorie des paroles, j'accepterai la dignit   piscopale qu'on m'offre ; mais   condition qu'il me soit loisible de philosopher chez moi, et de raconter au dehors de r ticentes paraboles. Que peuvent avoir de commun vraiment la vile multitude et la sublime sagesse ? La v rit  doit  tre cach e ; il ne faut donner aux foules qu'un enseignement proportionnel   leur intelligence born e...  »

De m me dans  « La Rose + Croix d'Or de Christopher MC INTOSH :  « A part la recherche de la connaissance alchimique, une autre caract ristique attirait les gens vers le nouvel ordre rosicrucien. Ce furent ses positions politiques. Le mouvement rosicrucien   la fin du XVIIIe si cle devint le point de ralliement des conservateurs oppos s aux tendances sociales, radicales, rationalistes et antireligieuses...  » Concernant deux membres au pouvoir des Rose + Croix d'Or:  « EPSTEIN a fait la remarque suivante   propos de W LLNER et de BISCHOFFSWERDER : "On peut les d crire comme les premiers politiciens conscients d' tre conservateurs de l'histoire allemande, des politiciens au sens honorable du terme, des hommes cherchant le pouvoir uniquement pour la r alisation de leurs principes". Le pouvoir de ces deux hommes prit fin   la mort de FREDERIC-GUIL-

LAUME en 1797 lorsque son fils FREDERIC-GUILLAUME III monta sur le tr ne.  »

Enfin, dans son livre  « Les Rites Ma onniques de Misra m et Memphis  », Gaston VENTURA met les choses au point en ce qui concerne la Franc-Ma onnerie" :  «Des hommes d'origine sociales vari es - hommes libres et de bonnes moeurs, de la mani re dont on entendait alors le terme libre - qui dans leurs r unions de loge ne s' taient jamais pr occup es du probl me pos  par la devise Libert ,  galit , Fraternit . Et comment les Ma ons du R gime de Naples auraient-ils pu m me s'int resser   ce probl me, eux qui reconnaissaient l'autorit  souveraine de leur Grand Ma tre et n'entendaient absolument pas la remplacer par la pr tendue souverainet  populaire   laquelle la Ma onnerie devait ensuite se rallier avec l'ab rration d' magogique de l' lection du V n rable Ma tre par la base, c'est- -dire par les apprentis Francs-Ma ons qui ne savent ni lire, ni  crire, mais seulement  peler ?  » Les adeptes des ARCANA ARCANORUM - c'est- -dire de ces grades que RAGON, pourtant ennemi acharn  des hauts grades et contempteur de Misra m, affirmait cat goriquement  tre ceux qui  « forment tout le syst me philosophique du vrai Rite de Misra m ; lequel satisfait l'esprit de tout Ma on instruit   - savaient tr s bien, ayant  tudi  le sujet d'une autre mani re, que l' o  est la libert  il ne peut y avoir  galit  et que les termes de la formule r volutionnaire et mystificatrice import e de France  taient les antith ses les uns des autres.

11.  d Maisonneuve et Larose, Paris.

Marius LEPAGE conclut :  « La Franc-Ma onnerie, soci t  initiatique traditionnelle, a  t  d' nature par l'infiltration en son sein d' l ments qui ne poss dent aucune des qualifications spirituelles requises pour devenir d'authentiques initi s.  » Ce travail d'infiltration s'est encore plus accentu  de nos jours car la subversion a des appuis logistiques. Dans son remarquable livre  « La Franc-Ma onnerie oubli e  », Robert AMBELAIN  crit" :

 « Il est tout aussi certain qu'en actuelle Europe occidentale la Franc-Ma onnerie n'a jamais subi de pers cutions de la part des huit monarchies qui subsistent. Pour deux d'entre elles, c'est m me le souverain qui en est le Grand Ma tre, et en Espagne, c'est encore le souverain qui a rouvert les loges ma onniques apr s la fin de la dictature du g n ral FRANCO. A plus forte raison, dans les sept r publiques actuelles, il en est de m me.

Mais o 1 cela change, c'est de l'autre c t  du rideau de fer. En Europe orientale, Russie sovi tique, Hongrie, Bulgarie, Roumanie, Tch coslovaquie, Yougoslavie, Albanie, Allemagne d mocratique, il n'est aucune possibilit  d'existence pour des loges ma sonniques. Et en 1927, en Russie sovi tique, lorsque la derni re loge fut d couverte par la Gu p ou (police politique d' tat ayant succ d    la Tch ka le 6 f vrier 1922, et alors dirig e par MEJINSKI jusqu'en 1934), le pr sident fut fusill  et les membres prirent le chemin de la Sib rie septentrionale. On n'en entendit jamais plus parler. C'est pourquoi, lorsque nous entendons des membres du Parti communiste pr tendre que des loges existent, parce que tol r es, nous n'en croyons pas un mot.

12.  d. Robert Laffont, Paris.

Que des Ma sons appartenant aux ob diences ma sonniques situ es   la gauche politique fran saise soutiennent ce point de vue, cela fait partie de leur r le s'ils sont membres actifs du Parti communiste. Ils font leur travail d'infiltration, et il en est qui se placent   de tr s hauts niveaux au sein de ces ob diences. Le Parti socialiste est d'ailleurs tout aussi infiltr , et   de tr s hauts niveaux  galement.  

Nous sommes pass s d'une citation d'alchimiste   la philosophie conservatrice Rose + Croix, pour analyser la situation ma sonnique o 1 la subversion bat son plein, relay e par les  glises chr tiennes plus pr occup e de social que de spiritualit , cela pour aboutir   la question suivante li e aux faux probl mes des antagonismes.

Certains disent que la composante trotskyste est diff rente, mais n'est-ce pas L on TROTSKY qui a  crit   Il faut d truire la Franc-Ma sonnerie au fer rouge.   ? Il est vrai que certaines ob diences ne sont pas concern es et poursuivent une ligne traditionnelle ou  sot rique, cas en France de la Grande Loge Nationale Fran saise13, de la Grande Loge Traditionnelle et Symbolique   Op ra  , de la Grande Loge Ind pendante et Souveraine des Rites Unis, de l'Ordre de MemphisMisra m et quelques loges rebelles ou sauvages. Les autres ob diences sont plus pr occup es de la chasse au fas cisme (bien que le fr re PINOCHET et la plupart de ses g n raux soient ma sons, alors que la loge Salvatore ALLENDE a  t  dissoute), que des dictatures marxistes o 1 les fr res ont  t  parfois sauvagement  limin s, mais cela  tait normal, c' tait pour la cause du peuple   Alors que les ob diences r ellement traditionnelles sont  cart es (Grande Loge d'Italie, Grand Sanctuaire Adriatique...). Encore une preuve que la v ritable Ma sonnerie n'a que faire des deux bords, et qu'elle doit se lib rer14, tout comme le continent europ en.

13. L'ostracisme de cette Ob dience est cependant d plorabile quand il concerne des Loges ou des Ob diences traditionnelles bien plus int ressantes que certaines de ses loges d'affaires...

Les fr res devraient m diter la r ponse de l'anarchiste BAKOUNINE   Karl MARX :   J'ai bien peur que derri re votre d sir de justice ne se cache un d sir de puissance innassouvie  , ou celle de SOCRATE qui dit aux cyniques :   Je vois votre orgueil   travers les trous de vos v tements.  

14. Il est  vident que la Ma sonnerie doit rejeter nombre de dogmes et superstitions si elle veut renouer avec sa v ritable nature qui est de transmettre la Tradition. Ainsi Jean Mallinger rapporte dans son livre   Des Initiations antiques aux Initiations modernes  

(Åd. Planquart) : ce qu'Åcrivait le 4 septembre 1934 le FrÅre Oswald Wirth au FrÅre Marius Lepage : Å« Je n'excommunie personne pour cause de Bible ! J'estime que nous devons enseigner la FrancMaÅssonnerie pure, non christianisÅe ou teintÅe d'un particularisme quelconque. Åvitons la superstition du Livre qui est la plus sottise de toutes. Å»

Gnosticisme et initiation

Le point de vue paÅen a ÅtÅ dÅveloppÅ par Å« OTTAVIANO Å» dans la revue COMMENTARIUM en 1911. Il s'agit du Prince Don Leone CAETANI, (1869-1935), Åminent orientaliste, destructeur non pas de la tradition comme l'a Åcrit le JÅsuite Henri LAMMENS, mais des mythes, il fut liÅ Å divers mouvements ÅsotÅriques et sans doute aussi influencÅ par Lord LINDSAY (membre de la S.R.I.A.).

Le fait qu'il Åcrivit : Å« Je sens que le monde a besoin d'une nouvelle forme religieuse, dÅpouillÅe de tous les caractÅres barbares du Jehova hÅbraÅque Å», ou qu'il voyait dans l'Islam Å« une sociÅtÅ sans aristocratie et sans clergÅ... au caractÅre pratique universel et Ågalitaire... prÅcurseur des dÅmocraties modernes Å», semble lui avoir crÅÅ de nombreux adversaires.

Ce texte qui pourra sembler excessif Å certains, n'est publiÅ qu'Å titre documentaire afin de prÅciser les divers aspects de la Tradition. Celle-ci ne peut, en effet, Åtre soumise Å des points de vue rÅducteurs.

Å« TrÅs Chers amis du COMMENTARIUM,

L'Ultra de Rome, me prenant pour une personne qui a de l'Årudition critique Å revendre, plaisante et m'invite Å lire les oeuvres de MEAD. J'accepte le conseil et je vais lire ces oeuvres que je ne connais pas encore. Mais comment donner un jugement, alors que je vais seulement lire MEAD, l'Ultra et les autres journaux ThÅosophiques et vais apprendre tant de choses que je n'ai jamais sues ?

Dans une note additive Å une brÅve Åtude sur le dieu Pan, publiÅe dans le premier fascicule de cette revue, j'ai simplement dit que MEAD ne savait pas ce qu'est la Gnose. En effet, mÅme si je ne sais pas tout ce que l'auteur a Åcrit sur la question et quand bien mÅme si je l'apprenais par ses Åcrits, je sais cependant ce qu'est la Gnose ; or, dans tout le livre, l'auteur ne m'a pas prouvÅ, mÅme par un seul mot, qu'il le sait. J'ai seulement fait part sur ce point de ma dÅduction claire et logique, et l'Ultra, en publiant dans ce mÅme fascicule qui se moque de mes vÅllÅitÅs critiques, un Åcrit de MEAD sur le thÅme de l'Initiation, confirme ma conviction et me rassure en me prouvant que l'auteur anglais ne connaÅt mÅme pas la vÅritable signification du mot initiation qui vient de inire qui signifie aller en. Mais alors, in doit Åtre suivi de quelque lieu ou d'une indication de lieu ou locum. Quel est-ce lieu, quel fut-il ? L'auteur laisse trotter ses idÅes qui sont les idÅes Å la mode : je crois, dit-il, que lorsque nous Åvoluons, le mÅtre paraÅt en nous. Ce n'est pas l'Åtre initiÅ ou devenir adepte, mais devenir un saint, phÅnomÅne relatif au concept Åvolutionniste et religieux de l'Åme mystique, toujours avec le bÅnÅfice de l'invention qui veut que l'Åvolution relative de l'Åme humaine soit une rÅalitÅ Åternelle et non une Åtape temporaire d'une vie. Par consÅquent, MEAD ne connaÅt ni la Gnose ni l'Initiation qui sont sœurs germanes.

L'initiation, le Gnose, le secret alchimique sont les mÅmes serpents que le Christianisme a toujours combattus parce que, sur le sacerdoce initiatique, prit le dessus la racaille philosophique que Julien l'APOSTAT voyait triompher comme une mainmise des ignorants sur le savoir. PostÅrieurement, dans la liturgie Catholique, entrÅrent, pour en constituer une partie, des ÅlÅments d'origine initiatique (la communion, la messe, l'huile sainte), la rÅforme se dut par des tentatives variÅes, de conquÅrir les Åglises en s'appuyant sur les initiÅs isolÅs, et aucun des grands mystiques qui fondèrent le Christianisme ne fut initié au sens réel du terme latin. Jésus-CHRIST, même si vous voulez lui retirer son masque divin, et le considérer comme provenant d'une légende chrétienne, n'est pas un initié. Les apôtres partisans furent pour cela contre les Gnostiques et inventèrent les calomnies les plus impudentes contre eux ; mais la confusion qu'ont faite les écrivains contemporains en employant les mots de Chrétiens Gnostiques, d'Églises Gnostiques et d'autres équivalents, augmente l'obscurité qui voile le véritable nature du Gnosticisme : cette véritable nature qui était initiatique et qui procédait du concept de la réalisation magique, comme on a coutume de dire aujourd'hui. Les Gnostiques ne furent jamais chrétiens de même que les républicains ne pourront jamais se déclarer monarchistes. Quant au profil du Christianisme, il est plébien, vulgaire, à tel point que la Synagogue qui avait des prétentions à la Connaissance, le renia, mais la canaille mystique prit le dessus, et toute l'histoire du Christianisme pontifical jusqu'à PIE X, apporte la preuve qu'il est dans l'ignorance de son origine. Il se dira, à travers les critiques religieux qui trouvent parfait le monde civilisé tel qu'il est aujourd'hui, que tout le bien nous vient de l'idée et de l'œuvre du Christianisme, et c'est une erreur grossière puisque la société occidentale jusqu'à deux siècles avant Ponce PILATE, en morale, christianisait ; et CHRIST n'était pas encore dans cette grotte avec les signes astronomiques du Taureau et de l'Ane.

L'idée morale qui est grandiose, contenue et mise à jour par les philosophes grecs et néo-alexandrins dans le christianisme constitué sous forme d'Église, a toujours trouvé un obstacle puissant, si bien que la civilisation contemporaine est la petite fille du Christianisme qui ne l'a jamais voulue et qui la réduirait en cendres s'il le pouvait. Je devrais dire ce que je sais sur la Gnose et sur l'Initiation comprise ou entendue de façon latine, et ce tout petit peu d'éclaircissement, je regrette de ne pouvoir le distribuer aux pauvres qui l'ignorent, parce que je ne suis que pauvre et admirateur du paganisme, et que je divise le monde en vulgaires et en savants ; les savants se servent de ce peu pour se défendre du vulgaire que mes ancêtres symbolisaient par le chien et représentaient avec une chaîne dans l'entrée de la maison familiale avec l'inscription : prends garde au chien parce qu'il aboie, mord et déchire. Du fait que je suis l'unique d'entre vous à ne pas faire partie de la fraternité (cercle extérieur de l'ordre), je peux me permettre une liberté de langage et de jugement, conserver mes idées et les exposer : alors je dis que l'erreur des contemporains qui alchimisent l'occulte philosophie en christianisant et en démocratisant la Science, est de vouloir mettre en commun - et c'est là le communisme chrétien primitif - tout ce qu'ils savent des autres sous la stupide Église de la croyance que la sagesse est le patrimoine de tous. Au contraire, je pense que cette sagesse à laquelle je m'intéresse est le patrimoine d'un petit nombre pour le gouvernement des inférieurs : et c'est pourquoi le mage roi n'est pas le mage qui devient le serviteur gratuit des curieux et des oisifs.

Sur un tel argument, je suis parfaitement en accord avec le docteur KREMMERZ auquel m'unissent l'affection et la communauté d'études ; et KREMMERZ en a constaté l'erreur avec les peines, les douleurs et les ennuis procurés en 1897 quand il commenta d'écrire sur ces sujets surannés et de traiter les inférieurs comme autant de frères selon l'usage de saint François d'ASSISE. L'initiation est symbolisée par le Sphinx égyptien, tête de femme et griffes de lion pour conserver : tous veulent savoir sans rien risquer, ni leur peau ni le bien-être social une telle attitude est hors des règles de la nature ; que me diraient un homme riche et un employé de l'État avec trente années de service si au premier je demandais tout son argent ainsi que sa concubine, et au second ses années de service et sa pension ? Je les entends répondre que je n'ai pas le droit de prendre le patrimoine d'autrui ; donc il existe un droit de ne pas donner, pourquoi devrais-je, mois, gaspiller ce petit peu que j'ai? En la mati re, je prends parti pour l'absolutisme le plus complet, et pour cela, je m'abstiendrai d'en  crire plus dans cette revue... et aussi pour aller lire et apprendre quelque chose dans les oeuvres de William MEAD.  »

 sot risme, paganisme et religions

Quand on  tudie les textes, il est difficile de parler d'une alchimie tao ste, islamique ou chr tienne car l'alchimie est d'origine pa enne ; comme les Rose + Croix du Moyen Age, elle prend l'habit de l'endroit o  elle se trouve. Le plus souvent, les adeptes ont d  chevaucher le tigre, c'est-  dire se glisser dans les forces religieuses oppressives et ahurissantes pour jouer le jeu et sauver ainsi leur pr cieux enseignement.

HALDANE qui comptait le fanatisme parmi les   quatre seules inventions v ritablement importantes faites entre 3000 avant notre  re et l'an 1400   en attribuait la paternit  au jud o-christianisme. BOUCHELECLERCQ se demande   si les bienfaits du christianisme (si grands qu'ils soient) n'ont pas  t  que trop compens s par l'intol rance religieuse qu'il a emprunt  au juda sme pour la r pandre par le monde  . Il est  vident que les trois religions issues d'une m me source sont   la pointe du totalitarisme et particuli rement avec leurs m tastases la ques (marxisme...). plus compl tes et les plus extravagantes de la Chute originelle.  »

Il rejoint en cela le V .. M ..  Pierre DANGLE   qui pr cise' :   La tradition judéo-chrétienne, qui a très largement corrompu les rituels maçonniques, est empreinte d'une notion fondamentalement anti-initiatique celle de faute et de péché. On ne dira jamais assez combien le mythe négatif d'Adam et d'Ève fut à l'origine d'une société cassée, inharmonieuse, déchirée, condamnant la femme et l'homme à devenir des ennemis sous les yeux d'une Église qui n'en finit plus de se décomposer. »

Notons au passage que REGHINI avait défendu ce point de vue dans « Ur et Krur » (1927-1928)⁴

« Les mystères d'Eleusis ressemblent beaucoup aux Mystères isiaques ; à l'époque alexandrine, des éléments néo-pythagoriciens et néo-platoniciens se fondent, par interpolation mutuelle, avec les éléments typiquement égyptiens, et c'est en Égypte que se constitue la tradition hermétique de l'art sacré et divin, tradition qui sera transmise, par les Arabes, à l'Italie, l'Espagne et l'Occident en général, jusqu'à devenir la tradition hermétique de l'Art royal du Moyen Âge occidental. Remarquons enfin que cette répartition de l'Orient et de l'Occident intègre géographiquement ce dernier toute l'Afrique du Nord, si bien qu'il faut inclure dans l'Occident les écoles initiatiques du Maroc. Avec cette même répartition, le judaïsme et ses déviations restent en revanche géographiquement étrangers à l'Occident.

4. Éod. Arche, Milano.

En vérité, sans oublier ni même connaître les éléments païens greffés sur le christianisme et plus encore sur le catholicisme, on ne peut qu'être frappé par le caractère asiatique de ce courant, fondé par un Juif qui naquit, vécut et mourut en Palestine, et qui n'était pas du tout helléniste. L'intolérance religieuse, qui fit de la pensée hétérodoxe un délit passible de la rigueur de la loi, n'est pas non plus un caractère gréco-romain. Ni le zèle ardent de la propagande, ni la subordination des devoirs du citoyen aux devoirs du croyant, des intérêts de la patrie terrestre à ceux de la patrie céleste, ni la prétention d'enfermer la vérité dans les articles d'un dogme, ni le fait de faire dépendre le salut de l'âme d'une profession de foi précise et de l'observance d'une certaine morale, ni l'esprit anarchiste démocratique de la fraternité universelle et obligatoire, de la similitude de prochain et de l'égalité. »

De même Franz HARTMANN, dans « Une aventure chez les Rose + Croix », écrit : « Ces symboles n'appartiennent pas exclusivement à l'Église chrétienne et elle ne peut les monopoliser. Ils sont libres comme l'air pour quiconque peut saisir leur signification, et malheureusement bien peu de vos chrétiens connaissent cette signification ; ils offrent leur culte aux formes extérieures et ne savent rien du principe vivant que ces formes représentent. Alors, dis-je, un homme spirituellement éclairé peut devenir un membre de votre ordre, même s'il ne croit en aucun des dogmes soi-disant chrétiens ? L'Imperator répondit ceci : "Ne peut devenir membre de notre Ordre exalté, celui dont la science n'est basée que sur des dogmes, des croyances, des credos ou des opinions qui lui ont été enseignés par quelqu'un ou qu'il a acceptés de ouï-dire ou tirés de la lecture des livres.' »

Warwick MONTGOMERY dans « La croix et le creuset », étudie sur ANDREAE, prétend que ce dernier fut hostile à la Rose + Croix depuis toujours, et qu'il écrivit les « Noces Chymiques » afin de christianiser le personnage de Christian ROSENKREUTZ.

Si nous avons développé le point de vue païen dans un premier temps, il faut aborder maintenant le point de vue des monothéismes, christianisme et islam par exemple, car dans le judaïsme la tradition cabbalistique est très connue. Or, nous sommes obligés de reconnaître que le sectarisme païen est aussi excessif que celui qu'il condamne.

N'est-ce pas saint AUGUSTIN qui écrit : « Ce qu'on appelle aujourd'hui Religion chrétienne existait chez les anciens et n'a jamais cessé d'exister depuis l'origine du genre humain. Jusqu'à ce que le CHRIST lui-même étant venu, l'on a commencé d'appeler chrétienne la vraie Religion qui existait déjà auparavant. » ?

Le CHRIST lui-même dit aux pharisiens : « Vous avez enlevé la clef de la science LUC XI 52 »

Il en est de même pour l'islam : les exemples suivants tirés du remarquable ouvrage de Henri CORBIN « Introduction à la philosophie Islamique » 5, le prouvent, d'abord à travers les propos du premier Imâm, 'Ali ibn ABU-TALIB (ob. 40/ 661) : « Il n'est point de verset coranique qui n'ait quatre sens : l'exotérique (zâhir), l'ésotérique (bâtin), la limite (hadd), le projet divin (mottala~ ». Il écrit également : « L'Imâm JA' FAR fait encore allusion à sept modalités de la descente (révélation) du Qorân, puis définit neuf modes de lecture et de compréhension possibles du texte coranique. Cet ésotérisme n'est donc nullement une construction tardive, puisqu'il est essentiel à l'enseignement des Imâms, lequel en est la même source. »

Le problème qui se pose est donc autre, il s'agit bien de comprendre que, quel que soit le vecteur choisi, la TRADITION étant d'essence aristocratique, au sens étymologique du terme, elle ne pouvait pas s'exprimer littéralement, et il est difficile de critiquer l'une ou l'autre position, car si les païens ont raison quant au totalitarisme des religions du désert, il faut se demander si par ailleurs elles ne correspondaient pas à une nécessité : le besoin religieux de l'homme. Il est vrai que la lecture des préceptes chrétiens nous fait nous demander ce que certaines Églises ont à voir avec cet enseignement, où il ne s'agit pas de se donner bonne conscience, mais de réaliser un exemple.

5. Éditions Gallimard.

Quand on considère la dimension de cet exemple, se prétendre chrétien semble déjà une imposture, représenter cette voie et s'en prétendre unique gardien semble encore plus osé, car CHRIST définit très bien ceux qui se réclameront de son nom, or on en voit peu guérir les malades ou dont la foi transporte les montagnes. Il en est de même de la philosophie sectaire de certains ayatollas qui prêchent la guerre sainte, ou d'une catégorie de rabbins qui, prenant les textes religieux à la lettre, considéraient le non juif comme un goy, c'est-à-dire du bétail. On ne le répètera jamais assez et NIETZSCHE l'avait fort bien exposé : « cet instinct théologique est la forme la plus répandue, la plus proprement souterraine de fausseté » ; la lettre tue l'esprit.

Les grandes religions doivent retrouver leur sens traditionnel, une dimension plus appliquée et vécue de la transcendance, et porter les pratiquants vers l'expérience mystique, et c'est seulement ainsi qu'elles auront un avenir, sinon elles se verront progressivement remplacées par les voies expérimentales qui seules intègrent la véritable aristocratie.

Les femmes, ésotérisme et chevalerie : histoire d'un faux problème

Nous ne reviendrons pas sur le passé pour affirmer le rôle de la femme dans la voie ésotérique, en Égypte particulièrement, dans certaines écoles de mystères, chez les pythagoriciennes, etc., et tout au long d'époques dites obscures un peu trop facilement comme le Moyen Âge, peut-être plus exactement Âge du Milieu, c'est-à-dire proche de l'Axe Traditionnel.

« Les noces chymiques de Christian ROSENKREUTZ » confirment la participation des femmes aux initiations (texte de 1459), plus près de nous dans « Une aventure chez les Rose + Croix », Franz HARTMANN écrit : « Rencontrer des dames dans le monastère des Frères de la Rose + Croix d'Or était un fait qui me surprit et me confondit, et ma confusion fut évidemment remarquée par tous ceux qui étaient présents ; mais, après avoir rencontré toutes ces personnes, ou, pour m'exprimer plus correctement, après qu'elles m'eurent toutes présenté, car elles semblaient toutes me connaître et n'avoir pas besoin de ma présentation, la grande dame prit ma main et me conduisit à la table, tandis qu'elle me disait en souriant les paroles suivantes : "Pourquoi être aussi surpris, mon ami, de voir des Adeptes habiter des formes féminines en compagnie de ceux dont les formes paraissent avoir un caractère masculin ? Qu'est-ce que l'intelligence a à faire avec le sexe du corps ? Où les instincts sexuels finissent, là finit l'influence du sexe. Venez maintenant, prenez cette chaise à côté de moi et mangez ces fruits délicieux." »

Le puritanisme récent du siècle dernier occulta son rôle, mais s'il est nécessaire d'affirmer que l'initiation féminine n'est pas de même nature que la masculine, elle n'en emprunte pas moins souvent les mêmes vecteurs, c'est-à-dire des ordres qui respectent sur certains points des spécificités.

Pourtant il est vrai que si l'on excepte certains mystères majeurs, où il est impossible de considérer l'homme et la femme de la même manière, le sens exact de cette différence est ignoré de la plupart des Occultistes, et ce n'est pas nous qui l'aborderont, les rapports exacts du YIN et du YANG, les secrets internes relatifs à l'aspect technique des différences doivent rester occultes. Mais il n'en est pas moins vrai que la femme fut présente même dans des domaines où l'on veut hypocritement la chasser, la loge « Heptagone » semble être dirigée par le mot chevalerie, c'est pourquoi nous avons fait dans ce livre une parenthèse, qui en fait aboutit à une conclusion évidente.

Monseigneur Roger CARO a fait une étude sur la question des femmes dans la chevalerie, nous en publions des extraits

Prenons tout d'abord le Tome II, page 250. On y trouve les Dames Chevalières de Saint-Jean de Jérusalem et de Malte (an de J.C. 1104) : une dame romaine, nommée Agnès, qui était Abbesse de l'Hôpital de Sainte-Marie-Madeleine, et ses compagnes firent profession de foi de la règle fondée pour les femmes. La même règle, nous dit-on, était suivie par le B.H. GARRARD et ses compagnons. Cette commanderie s'installa en 1104 sous le règne de BAUDOIN Ier.

Plus tard, lorsque les Croisés durent quitter la Terre Sainte, ce fut la reine SANCHA fille d'ALPHONSE II roi d'Aragon (surnommée la chaste), qui fonda un Monastère à Sixenna pour les Chevalières de l'Ordre de Saint-Jean de Jérusalem. Quand la Commandatrice mourait, on lui faisait des obsèques durant sept jours, puis on rompait le sceau de ses Armes (tout comme l'on fait pour le sceau du Pape à son décès.) Aux chapitres de l'ordre la Commandatrice avait séance et voix comme tous les autres chevaliers. C'est vers 1460 que les chevalières se retirèrent de l'obéissance des Grands Maîtres de l'ordre et se soumièrent au Saint-Siège.

Tome II, page 265 nous trouvons les Dames Chevalières de la Hache. C'est Raymond BÂRENGER, dernier comte de Barcelone qui créa cet ordre pour récompenser le courage et les services rendus aux gens de guerre après, en combattant avec des haches sur les remparts de la ville. Tome II, page 266: c'est l'Ordre des Dames Chevalières de l'Écharpe qui nous est conté. Il fut fondé par Jean Ter, roi de Castille pour les actes de bravoure des femmes de Valence qui brisèrent la résistance anglaise et les dirigèrent dans une sortie victorieuse. Tome II, page 440, ce sont les Religieuses Chevalières de l'Ordre de Saint-Jacques de l'Épée qui sont citées, cet ordre fut créé en Espagne par BERMOND III qui régna en 1034. L'exercice de ces chevalières consistait à pourvoir à toutes les nécessités des pauvres voyageurs qui allaient en pèlerinage à Saint-Jacques en Galice. Elles suivaient la Règle de Saint AUGUSTIN. Le roi était le chef perpétuel de leur ordre. Elles faisaient les mêmes vœux que les chevaliers : obéissance, pauvreté, chasteté.

Mais je vais faire mieux : après avoir apporté la preuve de l'existence d'Ordres de Chevalerie féminine, je vais vous prouver que non seulement des femmes ont reçu l'Armement chevaleresque, mais encore l'ont transmis.

Ce qui nous intéresse donc beaucoup est de savoir que dans certains ordres il y avait des Dames «Equitissa» (Écuyères) et des Dames «Militissa» (Chevalières). Nous apprenons ainsi qu'Élisabeth, sœur de Henri de HORNES, Seigneur de PERNES, est Equitissa et que Catherine BAW en 1441 est portée comme Militissa dans les Registres de Malines.

HÉRICOURT nous apprend aussi que des femmes non mariées se faisaient faire chevalières pour être capables de tenir les fiefs de Chevalerie ; telle fut ELISABETH d'Angleterre qui se fit armer chevalière le jour de son couronnement pour être le chef des Ordres de Chevalerie de son royaume. L'histoire nous prouve amplement que plusieurs nobles, Princes et même Rois et Empereurs se sont fait un honneur de recevoir la Chevalerie des mains des Dames. En 1115 la veuve du fameux TANCREDE, Prince d'Antioche, ne conféra pas seulement l'Ordre de Chevalerie à GERVAIS, seigneur breton, fils d'AIMON comte de DOL, mais aussi à plusieurs Écuyers. BLANCHE de CASTILLE, mère de LOUIS IX ou Saint-LOUIS, donna l'Ordre de Chevalerie à Jacques LAPANO. La reine ANNE qui gouverna le royaume d'Angleterre a donné le Collier de l'Ordre Chevaleresque de la Jarretière à un grand nombre de personnes illustres de ses États. MARIE, reine de d'Angleterre, fille d'HENRI VIII, créa chevalier PHILIPPE II le roi d'Espagne, son Époux. Dans plusieurs Chapitres tenus sous le gouvernement de la reine ELISABETH, cette reine créa plus de cinquante chevaliers parmi lesquels nous trouvons: MAXIMILIEN II empereur d'Autriche; CHARLES IX, HENRI III, HENRI IV, tous trois rois de France ; FRÉDÉRIC II roi du Danemark ; JACQUES VI, roi d'Écosse, etc., etc. »

Conclusion

Les voies d'Éveil, la quête ésotérique, ont toujours été possibles en tous temps, en tous lieux, les idées, les dogmes et les philosophies dissolvantes propagées particulièrement en occident n'ont pu freiner la marche de l'humain vers la lumière. L'homme est autre chose qu'une machine à produire des théories horizontales, métastases elles-mêmes des faux spiritualismes récupérateurs du sacré, lequel ne peut se vivre que par l'expérience et non l'aveuglement... Cependant la GNOSE éternelle, témoignage vertical, est présente dans presque toutes les manifestations formelles du phénomène religieux, sans elle les littoralismes deviendraient fous et c'est ce qui se passe souvent en notre époque sombre de dissolution où les témoignages de la TRADITION s'occultent. Certains s'enfuient dans les intégrismes, adoptant aussi l'esprit théologique, mais ce qui est plus grave parlant au nom de la TRADITION. Il existe désormais un camp dit traditionnel plus ou moins inspiré par GUANON qui discute par sentences boursouflées ce qui est bon ou mauvais en cette matière, s'exprime avec virulence dans certaines conditions, modifiant les traductions et les parsemant de commentaires idiots.

Parlant par exemple des Yezidis on lira page 481 du volume II « Ur et Krur » des Conditions ARCHE de Milan, fort spécialisées dans ce genre de faits : « On connaît le rôle sinistre que la tradition attribue à cette secte ancienne des adorateurs du diable et aux tours du diable dont parle René GUANON. » Ainsi se développe une philosophie de petits rats de bibliothèques, qui non seulement connaissent la philosophie aristocratique (comme l'écrivit NIETZSCHE : « Le bon dieu comme le diable, deux sous-produits de la cadence ») mais se mettent de manipuler et de répandre le faux. Sans doute ont-ils oublié comment Julius Voltaire fut traité par les Paul Le Cour et compagnie, quand il publia son livre sur la magie.

Pour en revenir aux Yezidis, voici un témoignage de BENNET dans « Les Maitres de Sagesse » 1 : « J'ai moi-même été en contact, en Iran, avec deux sociétés de cet ordre : les Yezidis et les Ahl-i Haqq. On appelle les premiers les "adorateurs du diable" parce qu'ils ont conservé le dualisme zoroastrien et qu'ils croient que nous sommes maintenant dans l'Âge Sombre ou Ahriman a pouvoir sur la vie des hommes. Les Ahl-i Haqq, le peuple de la Magie, font remonter leur origine à plus d'un millier d'années, mais leur communauté a été reformée et renouvelée plusieurs fois depuis le XI^e siècle. L'impression que m'ont donnée des deux communautés fut extrêmement positive. Je me rendis à Shaikh Adi, le sanctuaire principal des Yezidis où je pus reconnaître bien des signes leurs origines zoroastriennes, tant dans le respect qu'ils témoignaient pour toutes les formes de vie, et particulièrement pour les arbres, que dans leurs symboles sacrés. Chaque fois que l'on s'approche d'une communauté Yezidi, on découvre devant soi une vallée plantée d'arbres, couverte d'une riche végétation, ce qui contraste agréablement avec les villages musulmans, ou chrétiens, où les arbres ont été abattus et où des roches arides entourent les terres cultivées. Les Yezidis adhèrent totalement à la croyance dualiste que les Esprits bons et mauvais sont des puissances indépendantes qui ne cesseront jamais d'être en conflit jusqu'à la fin du monde. Le paon d'argent, caché de tous sauf des prêtres, est le symbole de l'Esprit de Magie et le serpent noir, que l'on peut voir à l'entrée de la cour extérieure, est le symbole d'Ahriman, l'Esprit de Mensonge. »

L'imposture est encore plus grande quand, page 475 du volume II « Ur et Krur » le commentateur écrit à propos de l'article d'EKATLOS : « Cet occultiste dangereux (il s'agit du prince CAETANI) lié avant tout au courant Kremenzerien... », regrettant par ailleurs tout ce qui nuisait à la renaissance d'un ésotisme chrétien de l'époque, c'est-à-dire du temps de CHARBONNEAU-LASSAY. Or nous savons que la seule structure en France qui aurait pu encore suggérer une certaine opérativité chrétienne était déjà inopérante à cette époque, bien que GUANON ait tout compris de ce type d'enseignement, il eut peur ; il serait souhaitable qu'un jour certaines correspondances soient publiées. L'Étoile Intérieure avait déjà fini son cycle, ne laissant plus en matière d'opérativité interne qu'un ordre lié étroitement à une vieille confrérie Rose +

Croix trébuchée et existant encore en Amérique, mais ce n'est pas à nous de

donner des clefs à ceux qui dissertent de la vigne, pour en avoir lu des passages dans un livre, sans avoir jamais vu ni goûté une grappe de raisin. Quant à signer ce même article Transylvanus pour un auteur se réclamant du christianisme cela équivaudrait à signer Paganus un article faisant l'apologie de Sa Majesté de TARSE ! La tradition dacique de Transylvanie et la fonction des vodoues est un des plus purs fleurons de la tradition du Nord, fort semblable d'ailleurs à certains enseignements venus d'Égypte puis devenus pythagoriciens, tradition bien antérieure à toute influence chrétienne. Cette tradition est restée strictement dans certaines familles et n'en est jamais sortie, même si des relations amicales avec d'autres adeptes purent se nouer (cas de PARACELSE). La présence du Dragon se mordant la queue dans les armoiries et certains symboles gravés sur les pierres tombales (Swastyka, ailes déployées) témoignent d'un pays du Centre, et de l'acquisition du corps d'immortalité de ceux qui ont rejoint l'Axe de la Croix rotative. Heureusement cette tradition n'a besoin de personne pour se continuer, même si les événements politiques ont obligé ses dépositaires à quitter le pays en attendant que le mont OM soit à nouveau un centre respecté. Quant au prince CAETANI il relève de la même tradition tant dans la forme que dans le fond. Pour ne pas que nos écrits soient exploités abusivement nous n'en dirons pas plus.

Enfin pour en revenir à leur inspirateur, il faut bien reconnaître que son livre « Le roi du monde », est écrit sur des bases peu crédibles. Pour en finir avec ces petits manipulateurs, il faut citer MARQUAIS-RIVIERE qui écrit dans « Kalachakra - initiation tantrique du Dalaï Lama » 2 : « Le mythe de Shambala et la doctrine qui en fut issue, le Kalachakra, appartiennent exclusivement à cette tradition. Celle-ci, par ailleurs, est opposée à la pensée musulmane qu'elle considère comme barbare. Ne connaissant pas la tradition bouddhique très complexe d'ailleurs dans la forme comme dans le fond, RENAUD GUÉNON ne pouvait évidemment pas contrôler les lucubrations de SAINT-YVES et les fantaisies d'OSSENDOWSKI ; il a dénié sa thèse du Roi du Monde et son symbolisme sur ces bases aventureuses. Je ne mentionnerai que pour mémoire les bruits qui courent dans les multiples petits cercles ésotérico-occultistes concernant un ou plusieurs informateurs au nom musulman, qui auraient approché et documenté GUÉNON sur ce sujet ; le fait de mêler des musulmans à la tradition de Shambala est très suspect et il me semble qu'ils seraient les derniers à savoir quelque chose du Saint-Royaume qui les a en horreur et les combattra dans la grande guerre finale du cycle actuel. L'action du pontife roi est spirituelle et elle s'opère sur des plans subtils où les églises, les groupes, les centres et les personnalités, si éminentes soient-elles, n'ont rien à voir. »

Quelques lignes polémiques pour préciser qu'en matière de spiritualité il ne peut y avoir ni dogmes ni censeurs, ni faux problèmes du type contre initiation. Pour notre part, sans être aussi excessif que les uns ou les autres, nous pensons qu'il n'y a aucun antagonisme entre le roi du monde de la tradition bouddhique et le prophète invisible (le KHIDR au manteau vert qui peut apparaître et disparaître à volonté) ou MELKI TSE DEK de la tradition judéo-chrétienne, prêtre éternel, roi de Salem (Salem = Paix) dont on précise la primauté sur Abraham, roi du monde qui ne peut oeuvrer qu'avec les justes, ceux qui ont compris que l'homme est endormi et qu'il ne peut passer toute sa vie dans un rêve dont il ne s'éveillera même pas après la mort'.

Sur un plan plus pratique faut-il faire une grande différence entre des méthodes identiques venues de courants différents ? Par exemple, les répétitions mantriques ne se retrouvent-elles pas aussi bien dans le Zhikr musulman que dans les méthodes de certains monastères coptes et, plus près de nous, de l'hésychasme dont la méthode d'oraison, à travers le contrôle respiratoire et l'omphaloscopie, permet de trouver le lieu du cœur et avec lui toutes sortes de merveilles et de connaissances ; pour ceux qui penseraient que l'ésotérisme chrétien est mort... Les voies alchimiques externes et internes font partie des pratiques les plus efficaces pour rapprocher l'homme de la nature, donc de la manifestation de Dieu, elles ne sont pas les seules. L'exemple suivant et le témoignage de MORIHEI UYESHIBA, fondateur de l'Aïkido, qui vécut en lui l'Union du ciel et de la terre, en est la preuve

« Quand je marchais dans le jardin je sentis subitement que l'univers tremblait et qu'un esprit doré sorti du sol, enveloppait mon corps, et le changeait en un autre fait

3. Bennet confirme par ailleurs dans « Les Matrices de sagesse », (éd. Le Courrier du Livre) ce qui a été dit précédemment sur la chaîne des Matrices qui est bien antérieure au prophète Mahommed.

d'or. Au même moment mon esprit et mon corps devinrent légers. J'étais capable de comprendre les murmures des oiseaux, et j'étais clairement conscient de l'esprit de Dieu, le créateur de cet Univers. A ce moment je compris la source du Budo et l'Amour de Dieu - l'esprit de protection amoureuse pour tous les êtres. Des larmes de joie coulaient sans interruption sur mes joues. Depuis ce moment j'ai été amené à sentir que la terre entière est ma maison, et que le soleil, la lune et les étoiles, sont toutes des choses qui me sont propres. Je suis devenu libre de tout désir. »

En fait tous les textes religieux sont un appel au réveil, lequel ne passe pas par des cogitations infinies, mais par l'inverse, une pratique continue, déterminée, qui ouvre non seulement l'esprit mais le cœur, praxis qui ne permet l'épanouissement de la ROSE que par la CROIX.

Appendice 1 : Histoire secrète du Pythagorisme

Concernant l'histoire de la doctrine pythagoricienne, il est utile de citer un passage de l'article de Maître J. MALLINGER « Histoire secrète du Pythagorisme » paru en 1955 dans la revue Inconnues (Lausanne)

Les archives des Initiés d'Angleterre nous apportent la date précise de l'émigration de la doctrine pythagoricienne vers les cités britanniques. C'est en effet en 1554 que le jeune Sir Thomas BODLEY est reçu, à Forli, à l'initiation des Fratelli Obscuri ; et c'est en 1575 qu'il rentre en sa patrie et y installe les activités traditionnelles de l'Ordre. Il inaugure 80 000 volumes à la bibliothèque d'Oxford ; il initie diverses personnalités qui continueront son œuvre. L'humanisme prend aussitôt un essor prodigieux et la forme universitaire du Néo-Pythagorisme, le Nouveau-Platonisme conquiert à la fois les esprits et les cœurs : Henri MORE, Théophile et Thomas GALE, R. CUDWORTH diffusent les textes les plus instructifs du Corpus Pythagoricum et les commentent. L'un des chefs de l'Ordre, Sir Walter RALEIGH lance la mode du tabac - qu'il a rapporté d'Amérique - et c'est sous le titre profane d'Amis du Tabac, Club de Fumeurs ou simplement : Tabacologiques, que les Pythagoriciens d'Angleterre se réunissent fraternellement', sans veiller les soupçons d'une police royale, toujours en état d'alerte.

La France ne pouvait demeurer en arrière en semblable domaine. De même qu'elle avait reçu de Londres les premières chartes pour établir sur son territoire les premiers ateliers maçonniques, de même, c'est de Londres encore qu'elle reçut les premiers rituels du Pythagorisme. Mais par un euphémisme national bien compréhensible, elle intitulera ses initiés : les Nicotiniates ou les Priseurs, pour montrer que le tabac lui fut donné par l'un des siens, Jean NICOT, et qu'elle ne le devait pas à l'Angleterre !

Soulignons cependant, pour être précis, qu'outre cette branche nicotinate, dirigée par J.M. RAGON, il y eut en France une autre voie de pénitration initiatique : c'est le rite des Néogociates ou Sublimes Maîtres de l'Anneau Lumineux, introduit à Douai en 1780 par le baron G. de BLAERFIND Y, mestre-de-camp Acossais passé au service de la France. Le Rite Acossais Philosophique absorba ce rite peu après.

1. Il est inutile de souligner que ces rites n'ont rien de commun avec la maçonnerie traditionnelle ; ni leurs rituels ni leurs symboles ni leurs enseignants n'ont le moindre rapport avec les usages judaïochrétiens de la maçonnerie.

Appendice 2 : Giuliano Kremmerz et la «Myriam» -

La Myriam fut fondée par le Mage Giuliano KREMMERZ, personnage étrange doté de pouvoirs tangibles la revue « Planète » le cita un jour à propos d'un exploit de télékinésie : séparation à distance de la roue d'une voiture qui passait dans la rue. Mais ses voyages sont autrement coûteux et elles servirent à soulager financièrement bien des malheureux. Giuliano KREMMERZ, de son vrai nom Ciro FORMISANO, naquit à Portici (près de Naples) le 8 avril 1868. Il fit des études littéraires (doctorat) à l'Université de Naples, puis fut nommé professeur à Alvaro.

En 1896, il organise une Fraternité Hermétique : la Fratellanza Terapeutica Magica di Myriam (la Fraternité Thérapeutique Magique de la Myriam, certains liront la Fraternité Templière Magique, avec les initiales « Fr + T + M / di Myr ») chargée de propager la Magie Isiaque et d'exercer la médecine à distance (télékinésie).

KREMMERZ s'occupa particulièrement de guérisons médicales difficiles et eut beaucoup de succès. De 1896 à 1899 fut publiée à Naples l'œuvre fondamentale du Maître : « Il Mondo Secreto - Avviamento Alla Scienza Dei Magi », républié récemment avec les autres écrits de KREMMERZ par les « Edizioni Mediterranee » de Rome. Le Mage séjourna longtemps sur la Côte d'Azur, surtout à Beausoleil, à Cannes et à Nice. Il rencontrait ses disciples au Casino de Monaco. KREMMERZ n'avait pas besoin de travailler parce qu'il gagnait chaque soir la somme qui lui était nécessaire pour vivre. Il mourut en 1930. Sa tombe se trouve au cimetière de Beausoleil.

La Myriam est divisée en cinq cercles ou classes

- Le premier cercle (cercle extérieur) a deux sections, les novices pratiquants et les anciens. Un rituel doit être pratiqué, fondé sur des invocations magiques. Il demande beaucoup de constance et l'observation précise de certains cycles (lunaire, solaire, etc.).

- Le deuxième cercle (cercle interne) est formé par les disciples intermédiaires. Une autre tape magique leur est enseignée. Ils font un effort de purification pour obtenir la possibilité de guérison magique directe.

- Le troisième cercle est dit des thérapeutes : le thérapeute doit travailler à la guérison des malades et tenter la manifestation directe de la présence thérapeutique (manifestation du kons ou Dioscure).

- Le quatrième cercle, celui des Maîtres Isiaques ou Maîtres de Myriam est consacré lui aussi à l'étude de l'alchimie ; les Maîtres ont une mission d'information.

Des techniques plus directes sont aussi enseignées dans ce grade.

- Le cinquième cercle est très fermé : il est l'expression du collège hermétique. La vocation extérieure de la Myriam est surtout l'aide aux malades ; les guérisons se font à distance grâce à un rituel invocatoire. La Myriam est constituée, pour la plupart de ses membres, par des personnes cultivées. On ne peut nier la valeur des responsables qui ne sauraient Àtre comparés aux très nombreux dirigeants fantaisistes des Ordres contemporains. La Myriam et les Ordres analogues prénent, pour certains la chasteté, pour d'autres une très grande réserve au niveau de la sexualité.

Appendice 3: La voie alchimique féminine dans le Taoïsme en Chine

La femme est présente dans le taoïsme dès l'apparition aux alentours de l'ére chrétienne des premiers mouvements religieux. L'organisation taoïste des Maîtres Célestes instaurait une société du peuple taoïste capable de survivre aux diverses calamités et de perpétuer l'ordre harmonieux. A la tête de ces communautés se trouvaient le maître du diocèse et son épouse, appelée maître féminin, cette dernière étant chargée de diriger et d'instruire les femmes. Tous les membres de la communauté étaient initiés et soumis à une vie religieuse comportant un code moral très strict et des pratiques psychophysiologiques faisant intervenir la sexualité. Depuis l'antiquité, l'activité sexuelle était en effet considérée en Chine comme nécessaire non seulement pour l'individu lui-même, mais aussi pour la bonne marche de l'univers, dont elle était une expression. Aussi était-elle codifiée de manière à suivre le rythme d'évolution des énergies féminine et masculine dans l'univers. Ces conceptions ont été reprises et développées par certains courants taoïstes. La femme jouait par conséquent dans les organisations comme celles des maîtres Célestes un double rôle : d'une part comme éducatrice des femmes, d'autre part comme partenaire dans les rites sexuels.

D'autres courants taoïstes ont adopté une attitude différente. Tout en conservant son importance à la sexualité, ils l'ont transposée dans le domaine de l'imaginaire, de sorte que l'union a lieu avec un être divinisé, une lumière compagne. La femme, partenaire de l'homme, est donc passée en partie ou entièrement du domaine du réel à celui de l'imaginaire. Idéalisée, elle appartient au monde des dieux, auquel l'adepte accède par son intermédiaire ; elle lui sert de préceptrice et de guide dans sa progression spirituelle, et l'on constate que ces courants ont connu un grand nombre de maîtres féminins. Ce passage de la femme dans le domaine de l'imaginaire va de pair avec une intensification de sa fonction médiatrice. Si l'homme est celui qui engendre, la femme est celle qui transforme, d'où le rôle privilégié qu'elle joue, lorsque des processus de transmutation sont en jeu.

L'alchimie intérieure, qui a pris naissance en Chine vers le VIII^e siècle s'est principalement développée vers les IX-X^e siècles. Celle-ci reprenait en fait diverses pratiques psychophysiologiques taoïstes antérieures, telles que la diététique, les exercices gymniques et respiratoires, l'art de l'alcôve et les procédés de visualisation. Mais elle les exprimait en s'inspirant du vocabulaire de l'alchimie opératoire et en les intégrant dans un système de correspondances entre les mécanismes de l'univers et ceux du corps très élaboré, pour former un ensemble original.

La femme fut présente dès les débuts de l'alchimie intérieure. Cependant, la tradition alchimique proprement féminine ne se développa qu'au XII^e siècle, pour atteindre son apogée au siècle dernier. Les différences entre les voies masculine et féminine reflètent les distinctions physiologiques et psychologiques entre l'homme et la femme d'après les conceptions taoïstes. Voici comment un alchimiste du XIX^e siècle les résume : « Chez l'homme, le yang s'écoule par le bas, chez la femme il s'échappe par le haut. L'homme pratique afin d'éviter l'écoulement de la semence, la femme pratique afin d'éviter l'écoulement des règles, procédés appelés capitation du dragon rouge. L'essence féminine de l'homme circule en sens inverse et le mâle à l'immortalité ; le sang de la femme remonte directement

À la cavité du cœur. Chez l'homme, on parle d'embryon, chez la femme de respiration. Lorsque l'homme a maîtrisé le tigre blanc, ses testicules se contractent ; lorsque la femme a captivé le dragon, ses seins se contractent. L'homme peut effectuer l'ascension au ciel de lui-même, alors que la femme doit attendre d'être convoquée. Enfin, pour la fusion dans la grande Vacuité, l'homme doit nécessairement méditer neuf ans face à un mur, la femme non. »

Les écoles d'alchimie intérieure utilisaient pour certaines les techniques sexuelles, tandis que d'autres prônent une union imaginée des énergies féminine et masculine à l'intérieur du corps de l'adepte. Mais dans les deux cas, la première étape consiste à éviter toute perte par les voies génitales, d'essence chez l'homme, et de sang menstruel chez la femme. Le sang est le fondement physiologique de la femme, un produit du souffle originel ; aussi une femme ménopausée doit-elle tout d'abord faire revenir ses menstrues pour à nouveau en empêcher l'écoulement, car l'absence de règles après la ménopause signifie un épuisement du souffle originel. Les procédés de captation du dragon rouge consistent en massages de certaines parties du corps, concentration sur la région du cœur et absorption dans le calme spirituel.

Ce souffle originel conservé à l'intérieur du corps de l'adepte est comparé à un embryon, qui se développe pour devenir un être spirituel de lumière pouvant sortir par le sommet de la tête. Alors que dans l'alchimie masculine, l'adepte se concentre pendant dix mois symboliques sur la croissance de cet embryon qu'il nourrit en son sein, la femme, qui de par sa fonction maternelle, connaît cette sensation, devra plutôt développer la sensation de mouvement respiratoire interne, développant la conscience d'une verticalité au centre du corps.

Enfin, la nature plutôt passive et réceptive de la femme lui permet de se fondre aisément à la Vacuité, mais la rend par là-même dépendante d'une intervention active pour son ascension au monde des cieux.

Dans les deux voies, masculine et féminine, la réalisation spirituelle se traduit en tout cas par une diminution des caractéristiques sexuelles accompagnant le grand retour de l'adepte au Tao.

Adolf Hitler praising Freemasonry (10/26/2006)

All the supposed abominations, the skeletons and death's head, the coffins and the mysteries, are mere bogeys for children. But there is one dangerous element and that is the element I have copied from them. They form a sort of priestly nobility. They have developed an esoteric doctrine more merely formulated, but imparted through the symbols and mysteries in degrees of initiation. The hierarchical organization and the initiation through symbolic rites, that is to say, without bothering the brain by working on the imagination through magic and the symbols of a cult, all this has a dangerous element, and the element I have taken over. Don't you see that our party must be of this character...? An Order, the hierarchial Order of a secular priesthood."

THULE GESELLSCHAFT, CALVI AND THE SANTA VEHME image011.jpg

In regards to the Calvi murder dear Greg we will also have to explore on Monday on our next show together the dark world of another evil secret Society connected to the illuminati and the Mafia, the Thule Society (that's because most military intelligence and Mafia crooks at high level love the tradition and love the history of this illuminati satanic society). This group officially founded in Germany in 1919 was very important in the establishment of Nazi Germany, and functions since then as assassins for the over 1000 year old Secret Tribunal of the Sacred Roman Empire, the much feared SANTA VEHME. During my time with the Monte Carlo P2 Lodge I also had to be involved with the Thule Society all over Europe and found out they were using perverse and truly manipulative ways of abusing the Holy Qu'ran for their adepts, these ways were introduced by Freemason Rudolf Von Sebottendorf in 1919 and we will talk on Monday about it on your radio show.

The password of the Santa Vehme is:
Stock, Stein, Strick, Gras and Grein (German)

Calvi was killed by the Thule Society of Cosa Nostra with local support and cover up from the local Thule UK intelligence operatives, all working under the GLADIO Jesuit controlled network, a murder arranged for the Jesuits and Marcinkus seeking revenge in a traditional manner using the Santa Vehme.

Why I don't get scared of all this?

Well the Santa Vehme laws say that people of aristocratic descent like me can't be killed, it's their own law not mine.

Let's hope it's true for the sake of my kids, though all this exposure seems to keep them away and the CIA in the meantime is trying to find a peaceful way to keep the bad people away from me knowing what I know about their evil illuminati show, that's what a CIA Senior officer told me yesterday after calling me from New York to keep me cool. But I don't trust any of them anymore like I said to my wife, they are all in it untill proven the contrary with the AntiChrist G.W.Bush and his evil black Brothers of total manipulation like Michael Ledeen and his Universal Fascism bullshit...I had different plans for the P2 Universal Unity project but Balestrieri and Michael Ledeen are obviously slaves to Bush illuminati Mind Control and his Jesuit Masters so no hope for these infedels with nice Zionist sponsors as usual.

But dont ever think Im in a weak position now with such people, they are nothing in front of God and they are the enemies of my religion so we will fight them untill the end of times and may God protect us.

All the best,
Fraternaly yours in the light of God,

More illegal CIA operations and the usual P2

Posted on Friday, October 27, 2006 at 06:50PM

This article appears in the October 6, 2006 issue of Executive Intelligence Review.

Cheney Uses Hard-Core Fascists

For Illegal CIA Operations

by Claudio Celani

Two parallel investigations in Milan have produced the broadest documentation and evidence so far of a case of CIA "extraordinary rendition," i.e., the practice of kidnapping foreign citizens on foreign soil and "outsourcing" their imprisonment, interrogation, and torture. This illegal practice, violating the Geneva Conventions and all provisions of international law, has been implemented by the U.S. government, especially through the efforts of Vice President Dick Cheney's legal counsel and chief of staff David Addington. The Italian case has brought indictments and warrants against 26 U.S. citizens, as well as the arrest of Marco Mancini, the number two of Italy's military intelligence service SISMI, and a group of Mancini's accomplices in private intelligence structures who have assisted special operations teams deployed by the CIA. In the background of such structures, the figure of the old spy and P-2 (Propaganda Due) puppetmaster Licio Gelli has surfaced, indicating that in order to carry out his illegal operations abroad, Dick Cheney needs help from convicted felons and bona fide fascists.

The Kidnapping of Abu Omar

In July 2005, prosecutors in Milan issued extradition requests for 26 U.S. citizens, including former CIA station chief in Italy Jeff Castelli and Milan CIA station chief Robert Seldon Lady. Castelli and Lady are accused of having planned and executed the kidnapping of Nasr Osama Mustafa Hassan, an Egyptian citizen better known by his religious name, Abu Omar. Omar was kidnapped in broad daylight in Milan's Via Guerzoni, on Feb. 17, 2003, as he was leaving his flat. A witness, an Egyptian woman, reported to Omar's wife that she had seen two men throw him into a van and drive away. A few days later, Omar's wife filed a complaint with the police. One year later, on April 20, 2004, she received a phone call from her husband, who reported that he had been kidnapped, flown to Egypt, where he is today, and imprisoned and tortured. Omar told the same story, with more detail on his tortures, in another phone call to a friend, a teacher in the Via Quaranta Islamic center, in Milan. Omar, who said that he was now free, but so physically damaged by torture that he can hardly walk, ordered his wife and his friend not to speak to anyone—police, journalists, etc.—as this was the precondition for him to obtain permission to call his family.

Unbeknownst to Abu Omar's wife and the teacher, however, state attorneys in Milan were wiretapping their phones. So, by mid-2004, prosecutors knew that Omar had been kidnapped, and decided to push the investigation ahead. A thorough study of the records of mobile-phone conversations in Via Guerzoni, on the day of the kidnapping, prosecutors Armando Spataro and Ferdinando Pomarici could identify 66 of the callers as connected to the kidnapping. Seventeen cell phones were on site, in Via Guerzoni. Eleven of them accompanied the hostage as far as the highway. Six different phones travelled with the hostage on the highway, to the U.S. military base in Aviano. One cell phone number, starting with 335 and ending with 1143, communicated with the two groups, the one active in Via Guerzoni and the one who received the hostage at the highway, and drove him to Aviano: The user of the first phone is believed to be the head of the commando unit. And the CIA link was also established: Many of the cell phones were also in contact with Robert Seldon Lady, CIA station chief in Milan. This is the evidence that Abu Omar had been kidnapped by the CIA.

Spataro and Pomarici were aided by incredible carelessness on the part of the CIA command, indicating that they felt themselves protected by Italian authorities: The agents flown in from the U.S.A. used their personal credit cards to pay for hotels, meals, and rental cars. They were even caught speeding through the streets of Milan by police cameras. From license plates, police could trace back the rented cars, and from the credit cards used, they obtained the names of the agents. Investigators could also identify the flights used to transfer the hostage: jet executive LJ35, flight code Spar 92, took off at 18:20 hours on Feb. 17, 2003, from Aviano to the U.S. military base in Ramstein, Germany. Next, Abu Omar was put on a Gulfstream (code N85VM), which flew from Ramstein to Egypt. This is the first time that an "extraordinary rendition" was precisely documented.

However, investigators suspected that Italian agents also participated in the operation. Abu Omar in fact told his wife that at least two of his kidnapers spoke Italian, and described the one who stopped him on the street as a "blond, tall man with blue eyes." One of the cell phones active on the crime scene was owned by an Italian policeman, Giuliano Pironi, corresponding to that description, and nicknamed "Ludwig" because of his Teutonic appearance. Prosecutors interrogated Pironi, and he confessed.

The Italian Side

Through Pironi's help, Spataro and Pomarici were able to reconstruct the operation in all its details. Pironi, like most members of the Carabinieri anti-terror team in Milan, knew CIA chief Bob Lady well; they shared a close cooperation and friendly relations. Lady, a veteran of CIA operations in Honduras, chose Pironi for the most delicate aspect of the kidnapping: The CIA group needed an Italian police official to stop Abu Omar without arousing his suspicion, and also to keep other police, who might have cruised into via Guerzoni that day, out of the area.

In his interrogation, Pironi told prosecutors on April 14, 2006: "Today, I intend to tell the truth. I admit to having been present on Feb. 17, 2003, in Via Guerzoni and to having asked Abu Omar to show his ID papers.... I was convinced to participate in an intelligence operation that, according to what Robert Lady told me, had been organized and prepared in agreement with SISMI and the Interior (Police) Department."

Pironi also reported that he had hoped to join SISMI, and had considered the Abu Omar operation a sort of "test" for his admission. He had spoken about his aspirations to his friend Giuliano Tavaroli, a former Carabinieri officer, who had made a career, first as security chief for Pirelli, then for Telecom, Italy's national telephone and communications network. Pironi knew that Tavaroli, in turn, was almost a "twin brother" of Marco Mancini, the head of the counterintelligence division of SISMI. But all Tavaroli could offer him was a job in Telecom. Disappointed, Pironi felt he had been "used."

Prosecutors' suspicions that Italian agencies, and ultimately the government, had passively or actively supported the CIA operation were now being confirmed. Suspicions grew when they realized that SISMI's Marco Mancini had replaced three SISMI station chiefs who were key to the operation—in Milan, Padua, and Trieste. When they interrogated one of them, Stefano Ambrosio, suspicion became evidence. Ambrosio, who is a friend of Robert Lady, reported Lady's confidential remarks: Abu Omar's kidnapping was "a project elaborated by Jeff Castelli, CIA station chief in Rome and responsible for the whole of Italy, in the context of precise orders issued from the United States, by the CIA office in Langley." Bob Lady himself was skeptical about the operation, but he carried out the orders. He had also a very bad opinion of Mancini, whom he considered "a jerk who ... would act only in his personal interest."

At that point, Spataro and Pomarici decided to tap Mancini's phone, and collect more evidence. On July 5, 2006, Mancini and his predecessor, Gen. Gustavo Pignero (Mancini's superior in 2003), were arrested. At that point, it was not clear whether SISMI director, Gen. Nicolò Pollari, had authorized, or had been aware of, the kidnapping operation. This is still unclear today, as Pollari has denied it and even indicated that evidence in his favor is in the hands of the government, but classified as a state secret, as such evidence, if revealed, would "compromise Italy's relations with other governments." This is now a matter of an ongoing review by the Parliamentary Oversight Committee on Secret Services, which is putting pressure on the government.

Everything converges on the hypothesis that already in October 2001, when Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi visited his "good friend" George W. Bush in Washington, promising him "full assistance in the war on terrorism," the seeds were sown for U.S. assistance in illegal operations. Possibly, since it was too hot for everyone involved to officially deploy SISMI or other law enforcement agencies to help in the "extraordinary rendition" of Abu Omar, it was decided to deploy a private structure.

The 'Beagle Boys'

Meanwhile, a parallel investigation by another Milan prosecutor on illegal wiretappings has brought another piece of the conspiracy to the surface. It has been discovered that Mancini and his buddy Tavaroli were running a system of illegal spying on prosecutors' activity, as well as collection of dossiers on hundreds of Italian citizens, including a few national politicians and businessmen. The system would work in the following way: Mancini would ask Tavaroli to collect information on "Mister X"; Tavaroli would turn the request over to a third member of the group, Emanuele Cipriani, owner of a private detective agency in Florence. Cipriani, whose agency had virtually no staff, pulled the strings of dozens of police agents and state officials who had access to police and judiciary records, and would (illegally) supply sensitive information. Dossiers provided by Cipriani to Mancini via Tavaroli were then richly paid for by Tavaroli's Telecom. Prosecutors could prove the transfer of at least 20 million euros from Telecom to Cipriani's accounts in London and in Switzerland. Additionally, Tavaroli had developed a spy system which alerted him to orders for eavesdropping on suspects; he was thus able to warn friends who were targets of such investigations in real time. Tavaroli, Mancini, and Cipriani were apparently called the "Beagle Boys" in their milieu.

When, on Sept. 20, 2006, Tavaroli, Cipriani, and 19 police and state officials were arrested, and the "Telecom spy system" was revealed, Italians had a deja vu. The story had too strong a resemblance to the P2 secret Masonic Lodge, whose Grand Master Licio Gelli had collected thousands of dossiers with which he was able to blackmail half the country's leading figures. And indeed, the connection of the "Beagle Boys" to the P2 is not only on the question of method. Tavaroli, Mancini, and Cipriani are linked by old friendships, cemented during the years when all three were engaged in anti-terrorism police operations in the 1980s, at the Carabinieri "Pastrengo" division in Milan. In the Pastrengo division, which was highly infiltrated by the P2, Marco Mancini made a parallel career with Gustavo Pignero, his predecessor as head of SISMI counterintelligence division, under the protective wing of a person who has been in the middle of several key terrorism investigations, all of which are affected by intelligence manipulations and cover-ups. This person was Col. Umberto Bonaventura, whose team Mancini joined in the early 1980. Eventually, Mancini followed Bonaventura to SISMI, where Bonaventura became head of the First Division (counterintelligence). When Bonaventura left SISMI, he was replaced by Pignero, who was then replaced by Mancini in 2005.

It happens that Bonaventura was involved in key terrorism investigations, all of which involved manipulations of some sort. The most important is the case of the "Moro Memorial," the records of former Prime Minister and Christian Democratic chairman Aldo Moro's kidnapping and interrogations by the Red Brigades terrorists, which were found by Gen. Carlo Alberto Dalla Chiesa's men in Milan, in 1978, a few months after the Moro assassination. Bonaventura, a captain on Dalla Chiesa's team, removed the papers before they could be put on the record, copied them, and gave them back with a number of pages missing. It was Bonaventura himself who confessed this before the Parliamentary Investigating Committee chaired by Sen. Giuseppe Pellegrino in May 2000. Bonaventura acted on behalf of circles who feared that Moro could have revealed NATO or other military secrets in those writings. Bonaventura's action was unknown to Dalla Chiesa, a respected law enforcement officer who was killed by the Mafia in 1984.

Colonel Bonaventura also managed the "Mitrokhin Dossier" on alleged KGB spies in Italy, received through the British intelligence service MI6. A couple of days before his planned testimony to the Parliament's "Mitrokhin" Committee, Bonaventura was found dead of "natural causes" in his apartment, on Sept. 7, 2002.

Bonaventura's protégé Mancini has had an astonishing career, considering that he is a non-commissioned officer and has nonetheless become the number two of military intelligence. This is highly unusual and has raised some questions. Journalist Guido Olimpio, a counterterrorism expert, wrote in the daily Corriere della Sera that, "former CIA head George Tenet allegedly wrote a letter to support Mancini's promotion."

The Gelli Dynasty

Through Emanuele Cipriani, however, the ties of the "Beagle Boys" to the P2 and its Grand Master Licio Gelli become even more concrete. Cipriani, in fact, is an intimate of the Gelli family. In particular, he is a close friend and possibly a partner of Gelli's son Raffaello. Cipriani has not hidden his friendship with Gelli Jr., which in itself is not a crime. But Raffaello Gelli is not just Licio's son; he has been a collaborator of his father, whom he has defended and helped throughout Gelli's judicial prosecutions. Additionally, one of Cipriani's private investigative firms, Worldwide Consultants Security, is based in Montecarlo, 20 Boulevard Princesse Charlotte, which happens to be the address of Raffaello Gelli's wife, Marta Sanarelli. Prosecutors have calculated that Pirelli and Telecom (Tavaroli) have channelled at least 17.5 million euros through the Barclays Bank accounts of WCS. It takes more than a friendship to lend your address for such a business, doesn't it?

Indeed, a first circle closes through Cipriani and Raffaello Gelli. The Gelli connection easily explains how freemason Cipriani could pull the strings of police and judiciary officials to collect his dossiers.

It would take too long here to explain who Gelli has been, and what the P2 conspiracy was. Suffice to say, that Gelli is an hard-core Mussolini fascist, and that his secret freemasonic lodge has played a key role in major terrorist events, such as the 1978 kidnapping and assassination of Aldo Moro and the 1980 Bologna bombing. The P2, through its estimated 2,000 members among Italy's political, military, judicial, business, and media elite, was a "state within the state," able to manipulate and steer Italian politics. Gelli, however, was a low-level puppetmaster; the P2 was an extension of Anglo-American freemasonic networks and an instrument of global synarchist power.

Today, Raffello Gelli seems to be on his way to become his father's proud successor in the underworld of conspiracies, manipulations, and dirty money. He is already well placed in a network of murky international activities, centered around an organization that has a seat at the United Nations: the United Towns Agency for North-South Cooperation. Gelli joined UTA in 1996 through its founder, Henry Bandier, described by many as a "collaborationist" under the fascist Vichy government in France. Bandier, now dead, was "maybe a sympathizer of my father," said Raffaello in an interview with the daily La Nazione in May 2001.

Through Bandier, Raffaello succeeded in becoming a member of the UN Committee on Human Rights, the Subcommittee on Promotion and Protection of Minorities, to be exact. However, Bandier's and Gelli's operations through the UN suffered a setback when, on request from the Cuban government, one of their organizations, the Asopazco (Association for Peace among Continents), was expelled from the UN in 2000. The Cuban government had accused Asopazco of conducting subversive operations against Cuba.

Investigative journalists who have dug in the complicated network of organizations founded and run by Raffaello have found an interesting connection with Macedonia. In Skopje, there is a First Embassy of the Children in the World Megjashi (FECWM), run by a certain Dragi Zmijanac, who in 1999, was a member of the UN Subcommittee on Promotion and Protection of Minorities, together with Raffaello Gelli and his wife Marta. Until October 2005, among the "ambassadors" listed on the website of FECWM, was one Riccardo Sindoca, who was arrested in July 2005 by Italian police. Sindoca, a neofascist, had founded an organization called Dipartimento di Studi Strategici Antiterrorismo (Department of Antiterrorism Strategic Studies), suspected of being a sort of mercenary police, active also in Iraq.

Another "ambassador" of FECWM is Antonio Diletto, whose "diplomatic economic-legal advisor" Giovanni Pascone was also the legal counsel for former Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi.

IL PAESE DELL'UTOPIA

La risposta alle cinque domande di Ezra Pound

Presentazione di Marino Solfanelli

Ezra Pound e Giacinto Auriti, il Poeta e il Giurista contadino.

Personaggi

apparentemente diversi, per origine e cultura, ma uniti da un legame indissolubile: la ricerca della verità a tutti i costi.

Ezra Pound pone cinque domande alle quali non aveva mai risposto nessuno:

moneta, credito, interesse, usura e circolazione; Giacinto Auriti dà, in questo saggio, risposte precise. Una continuità ideale che li unisce nella scuola degli economisti eretici.

Giacinto Auriti, elabora la nuova teoria del valore come rapporto tra fasi di tempo che lo condurrà alla scoperta del valore indotto della moneta.

“Chi crea il valore della moneta” dice Giacinto Auriti “non è” chi la stampa ma il popolo che l' accetta come mezzo di pagamento, sono per i banchieri, i grandi usurai, che si appropriano del valore monetario, usandolo come strumento di dominazione ed imponendo all'umanit  il signoraggio del debito. Ed ecco allora la geniale soluzione del problema: La propriet  popolare della moneta, che restituisca al popolo il maltolto dei valori monetari che esso crea. L'auspicio   che siano i governi a gestire l'emissione monetaria ed a ripartire gli utili, come reddito di cittadinanza, a tutti i cittadini.

ON MONDAY THE 30TH OF OCTOBER RADIO SHOW ON WWW.ARCTICBEACON.COM

Posted on Friday, October 27, 2006 at 02:21PM

My experience and my work is in the hand of valid researchers like Greg of Arcticbeacon and others that will release it at the appropriate time to the public trough a serious of publications on the illuminati/Jesuit/Zionist plot , this publications will also include how to defend yourself against the New World Order of Satan and most important how to recognize them.

On Monday the 30th of October 2006 a very special Radio Show with me and Greg Szymanski at www.arcticbeacon.com between 4PM to 6PM (US CENTRAL TIME) Dont miss it !!!

My present web site illuminati confessions offers today more evidence on MADONNA ANOTHER SLAVE OF THE ILLUMINATI WORKING FOR BROTHER RUI GABIRRO but the illuminati confessions web site is only a journal and an introduction to my book with Greg to start fighting such demonic forces , once and for all in the open. The situation of global manipulation trough the programs of mind control and the use of demonic Jinns as to come to an end as soon as possible for our own good, and all the goverments involved at high level with this great evil punished with no mercy.

But unfortunately for humankind the United Nations is at present in the hands of the Vatican/Zionist illuminati and Satan himself so all the world is in the hands of a bunch of criminals working for the devil.

UK,USA,RUSSIA,CHINA and most goverments of the planet in this satanic age are corrupt by the Jesuit/Zionist illuminati plan to take over the world, but nobody talks otherwise they loose their membership and their nice lunch at the Rotary Club or at the Freemasons and maybe even their job.

Im am sincerely risking my life to come forward and this is no joke, I prove my position with documents and hard evidence on the table for willing researchers but Im not in it for the show or for the money, I have my own show and my own money in other business. But even that its not gonna save me from the great problems humanity will have in the next few years. So I decided to be a modern warrior for Islam, a warrior of peace coming forward using truth to wake up the sleeping sheep! This is not about me or about a group of idiots being control freaks all over the world in their various Boys clubs, this is about the end of times and the coming of the Messiah, this is about the economic downfall starting in 2010...this is about the fall of a dark corrupt civilization and 2012, and how we should all prepare for these difficult times with a strong believe in God and a army made of true freedom fighters against Satan the eternal cursed one.

MADONNA ANOTHER SLAVE OF THE MARTINIST ILLUMINATI WORKING FOR BROTHER RUI GABIRRO

Posted on Friday, October 27, 2006 at 12:21PM

madonna.jpg

Last March after getting more and more upset with the way things were going in the P2 illuminati manipulation game and the Regular Grand Lodge of England project, I got a strange phone call from the Grand Secretary of the RGLE, the illuminati Jesuit CIA inspired agent Bro. Rui Gabirro (Grand Master of the Ordre Martinist Synarchique) who told me he was with Madonna in her flat in London and they wanted to invite me to join them as soon as possible to discuss the possible opening of a new masonic Lodge in her Cabalistic circle. Rui said Madonna (already a Martinist) could be Worshipfull Master of such Lodge, and I personally loved at the time this kind of Cagliostro Theatre with idiotic VIP's.

It was quite obvious for me and my wife that this latest offer was made in the attempt to keep me cool by American intelligence and the illuminati knowing my passion for music and the arts, and at the same time the possibility for them to further manipulate illuminati slave Madonna and keep her busy with a few more cabalas in the coming years. Well this is my truth and my experience with Madonna in the illuminati, later that week Rui was still with Madonna recording an interview about Freemasonry and Cabala in her studio but I never went there and Im happy about it because she is unfortunately a satanist at the moment just like her evil Masters.

Three Reigns of Terror (From Executive Intelligence Review)

Posted on Friday, October 27, 2006 at 12:06PM

Three Reigns of Terror

Since 1789, globally extended modern European civilization has been subjected to three principal intervals of Martinist/Synarchist terror, which have each added to the crippling of civilization's moral capacity to avert and overcome the effects of those great shocks. The first of these was the British East India Company's orchestration of the French Revolution and its Napoleonic sequel. The second was the way in which the effects of World War I were exploited to produce that Synarchist pestilence of Hitler et al. The third was the combination of allied terror-bombing of civilian targets which culminated in the launching of Bertrand Russell's age of imperial preventive nuclear warfare, with President Truman's dropping of the nuclear bombs on the civilian targets of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. The latter unfolded in such forms as the 1962 nuclear missiles crisis, the assassination of U.S. President Kennedy, and the launching of the U. S.'s official war in Indo-China. The cumulative effects of these three, and related, interspersed shocks have greatly crippled the intellectual and moral powers of entire populations.

Coming back from World War II, I watched the terror expressed by President Truman's evil act against Hiroshima and Nagasaki in the eyes of those who had just returned from the preceding war. I saw most of them transformed, thus, into something much less than themselves. I saw the nightmare in their eyes during what became known as the "Cold War" of the late 1940s and the 1950s. I watched men and women go insane, en masse, during the most critical days of the 1962 missiles crisis. I saw the aggravated effect on the minds of my generation and its children, as President Kennedy was shot down. I saw the degradation induced by the plunge into the useless journey into Hell which was the 1962-1972 U.S. Indo-China war. I felt that I had lost them all, as if they were lemmings who have run off the cliff in terror.

These kinds of things have happened, en masse. If we do not understand this, we shall not muster ourselves to heal that hurt in them. If we do not, what, then, might become of humanity?

Leading Martinist ideologues, such as Joseph de Maistre, have been explicit. The object of the Martinist freemasonic cult, and its Synarchist continuation, was to destroy the conception of man associated with Europe's Fifteenth-Century Renaissance, the conception of man expressed by the American Revolution, The model was the ancient Phrygian cult of Dionysus, the same pro-satanic theme later stressed by Friedrich Nietzsche. Use a great terror to ready populations to worship the coming of the Dionysus who is the great beast, a creature who commits crimes so monstrous, so unthinkable, that terrified populations will embrace the feet of that oppressor with unquenchable love, seeking to do to others as he, the monster, has done before their eyes.

The model for such modern forms of such terror existed in the Spanish Inquisition, in the religious war launched by Spain's Philip II, and the Thirty Years War. It was against this cult of terror that the Treaty of Westphalia wisely focussed its anti-Hobbesian, anti-Lockean medication of the political soul: the advantage of the other. The wont to do evil which such terror instills in the susceptible observer, is the goal and method of the Martinist such as Joseph de Maistre, or the Adolf Hitler of the holocaust against his Jewish victims.

The three principal cycles of Martinist/Synarchist bestiality I have thus singled out as relatively most crucial for history today, are the accumulated scars of the soul which the nations and populations of extended European civilization continue to bear as part of their legacy today. This legacy corrupts the soul like a vile disease; the cure is, in part, to be aware of this, to recognize how such experiences have worked, to recognize, for example, that to admire Napoleon Bonaparte, or his spiritual descendant, Adolf Hitler, is as if to worship Satan within that tabernacle which is yourself.

Often, we must do good, so that we might defy the evil legacy which reaches from within us to take us over, and win that fight by doing good with audacity, not out of a negative sense of obligation, but out of a passion to experience within ourselves the act of doing a good which defies the legacy of evil which Martinism/Synarchism typifies. The North American will do good for the people of South America only if this action is impelled by a compulsion to defy evil within himself, or herself, by doing good. Great good is not done out of the negative quality of a sense of obligation, a duty; great good is done out of the passion to fulfil a mission, a mission of the quality which is, in and of itself, the realization of being no beast, but as human as a beneficial creature made in the likeness of the Creator must be. In Greek, for the sake of agape.

Martinism's synarchism must be brought to an end now. The mission of freeing mankind from the worship of the presently still prevalent misconceptions of banking and money is key to that urgently needed result. True wealth is, as our Cotton Mather and Benjamin Franklin taught, the act and fruit of doing good.

WARNING: MARTINISM ANOTHER NAME FOR THE EVIL ILLUMINATI

Posted on Friday, October 27, 2006 at 11:23AM

In Freemasonry Martinism is known as the real illuminati Order, they are considered the spiritual teachers of the New World Order within the masonic lodges. But in reality most High degree practitioners in this system are corrupt by materialistic interest and satanism, practicing instead old Egyptian Rituals to use evil Jinns under Vatican Jesuit supervision.

Yes there are many Senior representatives of the Vatican visiting in secret Martinist Chapters worldwide on a regular basis (and many Popes have joined this dangerous illuminati sect).

That's usually because Martinist illuminati provide the Jesuits with a secret link to the occult world and most black magical circles and dark cults spread around the planet, but at the same time Martinism as a Christian image and appeal to deceive further the outside world and obviously avoid any suspicion or investigation. You know the truth now and the truth shall set you free!

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Martinism is the mystical tradition started in 18th century France by Louis-Claude de Saint-Martin. After the death of his mentor Martines de Pasquales, he discovered the writings of Jacob Boehme, whom he called his 'second master'. He turned away from the theurgy of the Ordre des Chevaliers Maçons Solus Coens de l'Univers in favor of the Way of the Heart. He personally initiated several influential people into his Intimate Society, or Society of Friends.

After his death in 1803, this initiation and his teachings and ceremonies were propagated in small circles. In 1888 two young students who were both initiated in this tradition, Augustin Chaboseau and Papus, met each other in medical school and they decided to bring all Martinists together. To this end they created a mystic school, the Ordre Martiniste. This movement was very successful and in 1891 a Supreme Council of 21 members was formed. Papus was elected first president of this council and grand master of the order. Under his tireless leadership the order grew rapidly and around 1900 there were hundreds of members in many countries. In 1905, the Tzar Nicholas II of Russia invited Papus to TsarskoËe Selo to ask for advice upon the deep domestic difficulties he was facing with revolutionaries.

The first World War was disastrous for the Order. Papus died on the battlefield while fulfilling his duties as a doctor and many other leaders of the order died too. After the war, the order was as good as extinct and the surviving members went into different directions. Many French martinists believed Karl Wilhelm Naundorff's claims to the French throne. They joined the Synarchy movement and formed the Ordre Martiniste et Synarchie (OMS).

In 1931 Augustin Chaboseau got together with Victor-Emile Michelet and Lucien Chamuel (the other two surviving members of the original Supreme Council of 1891) to bring new life to the order they had began together with Papus. In order to emphasise the difference they felt between the traditional martinism they had to offer as founders of the original Martinist Order and the many new groups that had sprung up, they gave the name Ordre Martiniste Traditionnel (OMT) to their movement. Victor-Emile Michelet was elected grand master and Augustin Chaboseau succeeded him in 1939 until his death on January 2, 1946. Though he had received his martinist initiations in the OMS, AMORC Emperor Ralph Maxwell Lewis was asked by the OMT in 1939 to bring martinism to the U.S.A. and he was given the necessary charters and other documents.

The second World War was as disastrous for the Order in Europe as the first. The Nazi regime suppressed all 'occult' groups and many martinists died in concentration camps. The OMT in Europe and its American branch, the Traditional Martinist Order (TMO) still exist, but are reserved exclusively for members of the Rosicrucian Order AMORC. Martinism is now fast growing in popularity and with the advent of Internet many new orders have grown worldwide.

Martinist philosophy is based on the "Treatise on the reintegration of beings" by Martines de Pasquales and the writings of two of his students: Louis-Claude de Saint-Martin and Jean-Baptiste Willermoz. The teachings focus on Christian mysticism, Jewish mysticism, and Kabbalah.

The Martinist system constitutes of three degrees, called Associate, Initiate (or Mystic) and S...I... (SupËrieur Inconnu). Referring to the third degree, Papus called the martinist initiation "a small legacy of two letters and a few points". For this, martinists are sometimes called the six-point brothers. R+CMO, a Martinist order, claims that it has access to a fourth degree which is about Theurgy.

[edit]List of Martinist orders

Ordre Martiniste et Synarchique (OMS), a synarchic order.

Ordre Martiniste OpËratif (OMO)¹

Traditional Martinist Order (TMO), which operates under the aegis of AMORC.

Ordre Martiniste de Papus (OM), started by Papus' son Philippe Encausse.

Ordre Martiniste des Pays-Bas (OMPB), started by Maurice Warnon, with the approval of Philippe Encausse for Dutch martinists who were uncomfortable when the Gnostic Church was chosen as official church of the French Martinist Order.

British Martinist Order (BMO), which cooperates with Gary L. Stewart's Order Militia Crucifera Evangelica (OMCE)

Rose Croix Martinist Order (R+CMO), which claims to offer the fourth Martinist degree and concentrates on theurgy.

Ancient Martinist Order (AMO), which is an attempt to unify a number of Martinist Orders under one structure.

Martinist Order of Unknown Philosophers (MOUP), which follows the Martinist traditions of the Chevillon-Chambellant lineage.

Society of Initiates or Soci t  des Initi s is a loosely organized assembly of S:I: (Free Initiators) who gather together for fellowship and the promotion of the original ideals of Louis-Claude de Saint-Martin.

Martinist Order of the Knights of Christ or Ordre Martiniste Des Chevaliers Du Christ
The Hermetic Order of Martinists (H.O.M.), which is an Order only open to Master Masons.

Ordre Reaux Croix, which is a Scandinavian jurisdiction.

Cafe' Krumm Heller

Caf  Krumm Heller

Esta notable y ben fica Planta (Coffea arabica) es un Arbusto de hojas opuestas oblongo â€“ aovadas, acuminadas y lampi as, de flores dispuestas en ped nculos axilares cortos a agregados y de semillas duras, ovales, convexas por un lado, planas por el otro y marcadas con un surco longitudinal, de color ceniciento y sabor amargo y arom tico.

Un Pastor de Etiop a observ  cierta noche, que sus Cabras y Camellos no hab an dormido como de costumbre por haber encontrado una Planta cuyas hojas, frutos y tallos, com an ansiosamente pretendiendo cada vez comer m s... Tal fue la sorpresa del Pastor, que decidi  consultar con los Frailes de un Convento que hab a en las cercan as para exponerles un caso tan extraordinario. As  lo hizo. Pero al terminar sus explicaciones, fueron los mismos Religiosos a observar la Planta, invadidos del deseo de estudiar el prodigio. Cual no ser a su extra eza, al ver que se trataba de una Planta conocida que les hizo exclamar con j bilo: Esta planta es nuestra y lleva nuestro nombre... Hay que advertir que Cafea era el pueblecito donde radicaba el Convento.

Luego informaron al pastor, que se serv an de este arbusto, cuya infusi n tomaban frecuentemente, para estar siempre despiertos y con cierta excitaci n grata a Dios. Esta Planta la hab an considerado con un obsequio de la Divinidad exclusivamente para ellos y por eso hab an reservado su divulgaci n. Pero ya que  l la hab a descubierto, era  sta una se al de que debiera ser para todos. A partir de ese instante, fue dada a conocer...

Examinada esta Planta, se han podido extraer de su simiente muchos principios inmediatos. Entre ellos un alcaloide curioso llamado la Cafe na y una gran parte de  cido f rmico.

As  como para el Mundo comercial el descubrimiento de Am rica por col n trajo una nueva  poca, as  la introducci n del Caf  influy  de una manera acentuada sobre la mentalidad del hombre por la acci n que ejerce en los  rganos del pensamiento. Tomada en infusi n excita el sistema nervioso singularmente, priva del sue o y da una gran lucidez a las ideas. Delille, el poeta franc s, despu s de hacer la apolog a del vino, exclama entusiasmado: â€œHay un l quido predilecto del Poeta, del que careciÃ³ Virgilio y que adoraba Voltaire. Ese IÃ±quido eres tÃ±, divino CafÃ©, que sin perturbar el cerebro, ensanchas dulcemente el corazÃ³nâ€¦... El CafÃ©, marca Ã©poca y procedente de EtiopÃ±a, se ha adueÃ±ado del Mundo entero siendo uno de sus principales factores comerciales.

Como remedio, lo consideramos grandioso. Hace muchos aÃ±os que un indio del Estado de Vera Cruz, en MÃ©xico, nos enseÃ±a un modo raro de curar la Malaria. Es empirismo, si se quiere, sin base cientÃ±fica, pero nosotros por la curiosidad lo aplicamos en miles de casos con un resultado sorprendente. A esto fuimos, por nuestra aversiÃ³n constante hacia la Quinina que como Ãºnico remedio es recetado contra el Paludismo. Sean honrados los MÃ©dicos y declaren que si bien es estimable como preventivo, no lo es asÃ± como curativo.

El remedio del Indio consiste, en tomar un puÃ±ado de CafÃ© crudo y echarlo a hervir hasta lograr una buena infusiÃ³n de este modo. Luego, se deja enfriar durante varias horas despuÃ©s de colarlo cuidadosamente. Ya colado y en frÃ±o, se aÃ±ade a un vaso de esta infusiÃ³n el zumo de tres a cuatro Limones, con una cucharada de AlquitrÃ±n de Gougeot; esta mezcla, de no muy buen sabor, se toma en ayunas durante una semana.

Es segura la curaciÃ³n del Paludismo. Invitamos pues a hacer la prueba, ya que por todas partes y muy principalmente en los PaÃ±ses cÃ¡lidos, azota esa enfermedad. Nosotros hicimos los anÃ¡lisis correspondientes y hemos comprobado que el remedio tiene base cientÃ±fica, aunque nunca lo quisimos explotar, para ofrecerlo ahora abiertamente en beneficio de todos.

Generalmente queda algo de malestar en la convalecencia de esta enfermedad y para ello tenemos un extracto de Rosas que acaba con todo.

En un Hospital de Dresden han recetado con gran Ã©xito CafÃ© hecho carbÃ³n. AsÃ± que se quema el cafÃ©, se tuesta mÃ¡s allÃ¡ de lo acostumbrado, llegando a ser carbÃ³n. Pulverizado se da contra inflamaciÃ³n de la garganta, anginas y sobre toda la apendicitis puede ser curada en un dÃ±a, evitando asÃ± la operaciÃ³n, que nunca estÃ± exenta de peligro.

" IL TRAMONTO DELL'ERA CRISTIANA " DEL GRAN MAESTRO DEGLI ILLUMINATI DELL' OTO-FHL BOLOGNA (ITALIA)

IL TRAMONTO DELL'ERA CRISTIANA
DAL RINASCIMENTO MAGICO ALLA NEW AGE

Roberto Negrini

(grande sostenitore di Massimo Introvigne, Roberto e' coinvolto anche nel falso mito dei UFO in Italia)

â€œSappiamo che per ognuno di noi la vita Ã± una rivelazione spirituale, seducente e magica, che nessuna filosofia o religione Ã± riuscita finora a chiarire del tutto. E siamo a conoscenza anche di qualcosaâ€™altro: sappiamo che nel momento in cui comprendiamo ciÃ² che sta succedendo, mettendo in moto questa forma di crescita e mantenendola in vita, il genere umano effettuerÃ± un incredibile balzo in avanti raggiungendo finalmente il nuovo stile di vita che ha inseguito nell'arco di tutta la sua storia.

James Redfield. La profezia di Celestino

Il mitico simbolo religioso non sarà un uomo sulla croce ma una coppia uomo-donna unita nella alta comunione d'amore [...] il tono emotivo della nuova filosofia sarà edonistico, estetico, senza paura, ottimistico, umoristico, pratico, scettico. Ora noi stiamo vivendo un periodo di attesa, silenzioso e preparatorio. Tutti sanno che qualcosa sta per accadere.

Timothy Leary. Neuropolitique

SFONDI CULTURALI E PREMESSE ANTROPOLOGICHE PER L'ATTESA DI UNA NUOVA ERA

DALLA CRISI DELLE RELIGIOSITÀ E ESCATOLOGICHE DEL TEMPO LINEARE AL RITORNO DEL MAGISMO PRIMORDIALE DEI TEMPI CICLICI

Verso la fine degli anni 50 Carl Gustav Jung, giunto alla fine del suo percorso di vita e di un itinerario intellettuale fra i creativi nella storia del pensiero sia filosofico che scientifico, nel suo Un mito moderno dedicato all'emblematico enigma degli UFO dichiarava:

come già sappiamo dalla storia dell'antico Egitto, esistono fenomeni psichici di mutazione che si verificano costantemente alla fine di un mese platonico o all'inizio del successivo. Vi sono, a quanto pare, mutamenti nella costellazione delle dominanti psichiche degli archetipi, degli "dei" che causano o accompagnano trasformazioni secolari della psiche collettiva. Questa trasformazione è cominciata e ha lasciato le sue tracce all'interno dello sviluppo storico dapprima nel passaggio dall'età del Toro a quella dell'Ariete, poi dall'età dell'Ariete a quella dei Pesci, il cui inizio coincide con il sorgere del cristianesimo. Ci stiamo ora avvicinando a una grande trasformazione con l'entrata del "punto primaverile" nell'Acquario.

Al culmine delle sue ricerche sui rapporti tra psiche umana e universi simbolici del Sacro il geniale ricercatore svizzero non disdegnò quindi di fare propria la concezione astrofisica e astrologica secondo cui "è ravvisabile una sorta di sincronicità fra le mutazioni e i ciclici ritorni delle dominanti zodiacali e le grandi trasformazioni spirituali, psichiche e storiche dell'umanità".

Una visione cosmologica che, pur secondo diverse modalità di calcolo o interpretazione, risulta comune a tutte le culture pre-monoteiste, dai Veda con i loro "grandi" e "piccoli" cicli temporali (kalpas e yugas) fino a Platone e al suo "Grande Anno" o "anno consummante", così identificato nel Timeo:

quando insieme giungendo a compimento ritornino al principio le reciproche velocità degli otto cerchi.

Lo specifico codice riferito da Jung sulle "ere zodiacali" e sull'imminente "Era dell'Acquario" si riferisce a una di queste possibili letture, basata sul fenomeno astronomico della precessione equinoziale, già noto e calcolato da Ipparco fin dal II secolo a.C., in virtù del quale "contemporaneamente a precisi cambiamenti di identificazione della stella polare il "punto gamma" o punto vernale o equinoziale del cielo visibile, coincidente con l'inizio della Primavera, risulta allineato con una diversa costellazione zodiacale ogni 2160 anni secondo un percorso retrogrado.

In base a questo schema, ben conosciuto dalle scienze astrologiche e archeoastronomiche, sarebbe possibile, seppur approssimativamente, inquadrare a posteriori l'identificazione di un'epoca protostorica che potremmo definire "stellare" in un arco di tempo che andrebbe dal 6000 al 4000 a.C. circa. A questo ciclo potrebbero riferirsi le varie mitizzazioni relative a un'Età Aurea, caratterizzata dal prevalere psichico e sacrale (e quindi storico e sociale) di archetipi androginici o ginandrici, rappresentati da coppie ierogamiche di mostruose deità teratomorfe e nictomorfe correlabili a una concezione cosmico-stellare del Sacro. Un'epoca le cui strutture psichiche collettive sarebbero state influenzate dall'osservazione delle stelle (utilizzate come regolatrici nel computo del tempo) orientate sull'asse della stella Thuban [Alpha Draconis] nella costellazione del Drago, che ebbe funzione di stella polare fin circa al II millennio a.C. Tale ciclo di tempo, certamente leggibile in chiave immaginale e metastorica ma di cui troviamo qualche eco storicizzata "rintracciabile probabilmente anche in alcune culture megalitiche" nei miti cosmogonici di molteplici culture, apparirebbe, in virtù della suddetta Precessione, in risonanza equinoziale con la costellazione dei Gemelli, archetipo mercuriale della duplicità, dell'ambivalenza e della Coppia Primordiale. Mentre una successiva era "matristica" e per alcuni aspetti "matriarcale", dominata dall'archetipo sacrale femminile delle Grandi Madri e da modelli psichici e storici ginosofici e a volte gineocratici, procederebbe dal 4000 al 2000 a.C. circa, in evidente corrispondenza con il predominio (precessionale) della costellazione del Toro (archetipo venereo di fecondità e pandemia orgiastica), per concludersi con l'uscita di Thuban e della costellazione del Draco dall'asse polare. Il successivo affermarsi del principio solare paterno "definibile come "patristico" laddove si manifesta nella violenta prevalenza di archetipi maschili luminosi e spesso guerrieri" si collocherebbe poi entro un ciclo temporale che va dal 2000 a.C. fino all'inizio della cosiddetta era cristiana, correlandosi all'influenza equinoziale della costellazione di Ariete (archetipo marziale di assialità sia fallica che guerriera). Dall'anno 0 fino al 2000 d.C. circa, in risonanza con l'installarsi equinoziale della costellazione dei Pesci, avremmo invece un ciclo che possiamo considerare come "etomba" o "incubazione" o "congelamento" degli archetipi patristici stessi, che divengono "patriarcali" frantumando ogni possibile ierogamia e ogni possibile bilanciamento tra le diverse componenti dell'Essere, della psiche e della carne. Alla conclusione dell'attuale periodo storico, in cui assistiamo a confusione, sovrapposizione e contraddizione reciproca fra tutti i paradigmi culturali e i relativi ordini simbolici, nonché alla nascita di nuove insospettite forme di percezione del Cosmo, della Natura e dell'Essere, si può infine ravvisare l'albeggiamento e forse il riverbero psichico collettivo di un nuovo ciclo precessionale in cui stiamo per immetterci, risonante a vari livelli con i poteri uranici e saturnici, celesti e infernali della costellazione di Acquario: ovvero una delle quattro costellazioni (le altre sono Toro, Leone e Scorpione) che gravitano tuttora nel cielo visibile intorno all'odierna stella polare, oggi non più collocata nel ventre del Draco ma comunque ancora emblematicamente avvolta dalle spire del complesso stellare che porta questo nome. Da qui la possibilità di ravvisare nella cosiddetta Era di Aquarius un qualche ritorno ciclico di valori psico-spirituali e sacrali sia matristici che androginici e quindi nuovamente stellari, tipici dell'universo simbolico della Serpe Draco (Ere dei Gemelli e del Toro) dei cicli protostorici.

La percezione di questa sorta di "orologio cosmico" rappresenta letteralmente il cardine centrale di una grande quantità di linguaggi mitici antichi, da un capo all'altro del mondo, e vi sono buone ragioni per ritenere che dietro gli adombramenti metaforici della ciclicità precessionale si nasconde la genialità di un sapere metascientifico preistorico che attende ancora di essere pienamente esplorato. Nella loro monumentale e rivoluzionaria opera di analisi epistemologica sui miti arcaici Il mulino di Amleto, che ha rappresentato una tappa fondamentale della ricerca contemporanea sulla complessità delle culture pre-razionali, gli storici Giorgio de Santillana e Herta von Dechend ci offrono su questo tema considerazioni illuminanti.

A mano a mano che seguiamo gli indizi "stelle, numeri, colori, piante, forme, poesia, musica, strutture" scopriamo l'esistenza di una vastissima intelaiatura di rapporti che interessa molti livelli. Ci si trova all'interno di una molteplicità riecheggiante, ove ogni cosa reagisce e ha un suo luogo e un suo tempo stabilito. È un vero e proprio edificio, una specie di matrice matematica, un'immagine del Mondo che s'accorda a ognuno dei molti livelli, regolata in ogni sua parte da una rigorosa misura.

E più avanti, nel tentativo di spiegare al lettore, specialista e non, il significato e per molti versi lo "scandalo" della loro ricerca, decisamente innovativa rispetto al conformismo accademico maggioritario in quella fine anni '60 in cui la prima edizione del libro apparve negli Stati Uniti, i due studiosi sottolineano come sia necessario comprendere una volta per tutte che l'abisso tra il mondo arcaico e il nostro era vasto quanto la scienza: i prodigi di esattezza e di calcolo non erano sufficienti a colmarlo; l'unica a poterlo fare era la carta astronomica [...] Il nostro compito consisteva dunque nel recuperare dal lontano passato una scienza interamente perduta, legata a una cultura altrettanto perduta in cui gli antropologi hanno scorto soltanto un mondo "primitivo" analfabeta [...] questa scienza perduta, immensamente raffinata, non possedeva alcun "sistema", alcuna chiave sistematica su cui fondare l'insegnamento. Esisteva prima che si potesse pensare a dei sistemi.

Naturalmente la corretta chiave di lettura di simili paradigmi deve fondarsi su una visione pre-logica e non meccanicistica del Reale, in cui la mappatura astrofocica riflette sincronicamente universi interiori e paesaggi dell'inconscio collettivo etnico a cui appartiene il sistema simbolico utilizzato. Divinità del mito sacrale e stelle del kosmos immaginale astrologico rappresentano qui un codice di lettura la cui validità di significati si giustifica coerentemente in se stessa al di là degli eventuali riscontri nell'oggettività apparente della natura e della storia. I valori che ne possono essere tratti rappresentano tendenze della psiche, impalcature del pensiero, sfondi e contorni paradigmatici inerenti alla complessità degli eventi epocali... e non semplici sequenze meccaniche organizzate secondo criteri diretti di causa-effetto connessi a qualche "radiazione" planetaria; o per lo meno non soltanto questo.

E a proposito del possibile utilizzo del codice astrofocico in relazione alle formule arcaiche di comprensione dell'universo e di codifica dei Tempi Sacri sono ancora Santillana e la von Dechend a collocare il problema nella giusta prospettiva.

Il maggior divario tra il pensiero arcaico e quello moderno sta nell'uso dell'astrologia. Non s'intende con ciò l'astrologia comune e giudiziaria, oggi ridivenuta capriccio e moda tra il pubblico ignorante [...] È necessario risalire ai tempi arcaici, a un universo che non sospetta minimamente della nostra scienza e del metodo sperimentale su cui essa è fondata, inconsapevole dell'arte terribile della separazione che distingue il verificabile dal non verificabile. Era quello un tempo ricco di un'altra conoscenza andata poi perduta, che ricercava principi diversi; esso fornire – la lingua franca del passato, la sua era una conoscenza di corrispondenze cosmiche che trovavano riprova e suggello di verità entro uno specifico determinismo, anzi un sovradeterminismo soggetto a forze totalmente prive di ubicazione.

Quanto poi all'uso magico dei dati astrosofici in relazione a un controllo oggettivo della natura o alla comprensione mantica di quella misteriosa sequenza causale e complessa che definiamo "destino" si tratta di un diverso ordine di problemi, che esula dal tema di queste considerazioni e di cui ci siamo occupati in altri contesti a cui rimandiamo. In ogni caso la controversia tra un sapere astrologico esperito come codice di lettura del Reale e dei suoi contenuti metafisici e un'Astrologia intesa invece come mantica e strumento di conoscenza di eventi futuri "molto antica e dopo aver percorso l'intero Rinascimento, attraverso le visioni, le intuizioni e le vivaci polemiche di giganti del pensiero come Marsilio Ficino, Giordano Bruno o Pico della Mirandola, "arrivata fino a oggi, coinvolgendo tuttora la frontale contrapposizione fra opposte concezioni dell'Universo. Dando anche occasione a desolanti cadute di livello critico presso alcuni ambienti autoproclamatisi "scientifici" ma in realtà settariamente scienziati, come l'americano CSICOP (Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal) e l'italiano CICAP (Comitato Italiano per il Controllo delle Affermazioni sul Paranormale), che pretendono di invalidare radicalmente ogni forma di cultura esoterica e che verso il grande impianto teoretico astrologico ostentano ottuso disprezzo, senza peraltro nulla conoscerne e con una protervia ignorante che a volte si colora delle tinte un po' malsane della volgarità inquisitoria. Nelle loro pubblicazioni, improntate a un'autentica crociata contro ogni formula culturale non inquadrata entro gli angusti confini del razionalismo integralista, le sapienze di Babilonia e di Persia e le complesse speculazioni di Albumasar o di Delminio o dello stesso Jung, per non parlare di Ficino, Bruno e Pico, vengono equiparate, nella totale assenza di apparati critici (storici, filosofici o antropologici), alle farneticazioni dell'ultimo astrologastro da rotocalco. Così una millenaria visione del mondo viene liquidata contrapponendovi un supponente dileggio di incredibile superficialità, spesso condito da un linguaggio da taverna che non ha neppure il pregio di essere caustico o spiritoso.

Ne "una significativa testimonianza, per esempio, la prosa del fisico Roberto Vanzetto, personaggio di punta del CICAP, in un suo articolo sull'Astrologia apparso sul bollettino di quest'associazione, dove si lamenta l'esistenza di gruppi dell'acquarianesimo e della Nuova Era (New Age) prossima ventura, i quali, dopo aver sentito dire da qualche parte che il punto Gamma si sposta nelle Costellazioni [...] hanno deciso che qualcosa dovrà capitare anche a noi. Ebbene, secondo questi tizi, che in fantasia e ignoranza non hanno nulla a che invidiare agli astrologi classici, quando il punto Gamma entrerà nell'Acquario (da cui il nome acquarianesimo) il mondo cambierà completamente (da cui il nome Nuova Era).

Atteggiamenti e linguaggi di questo tipo si squalificano da soli e distano anni luce dall'effettiva posizione degli specialisti, degli storici, degli epistemologi e antropologi del Sacro nei confronti della tradizione culturale esoterica e particolarmente ermetico-astrologica. Fra questi la compianta Frances A. Yates, una tra le maggiori autorità mondiali nel campo degli studi sulla cultura rinascimentale, rilevava che la concezione meccanicistica del mondo prodotta dalla rivoluzione del XVII secolo "stata a sua volta superata dagli stupefacenti, ulteriori progressi della conoscenza scientifica. Può essere illuminante distinguere la rivoluzione scientifica in due fasi, la prima caratterizzata da un universo animistico governato dalla magia e la seconda da un universo meccanicistico regolato dalla meccanica. Un'indagine su entrambe le fasi, e sulle loro interazioni, può rivelarsi un metodo più utile, per affrontare i problemi sollevati ai nostri giorni dalla scienza, di quello che si ferma soltanto al trionfo del XVII secolo. Non è infatti la scienza, tutto sommato, niente altro che una gnosi, una visione della natura del Tutto procedente attraverso rivelazioni successive?

È l'epistemologo genovese Paolo Aldo Rossi, che tanto in Italia ha fatto per un corretto recupero delle culture scientifiche, magiche e spirituali di Medioevo e Rinascimento, a proposito del codice astrosofico stellare ci ricorda che l'astrologia (come pars theorica) e la magia (come pars practica) si propongono come lo strumento fondamentale in grado di salvare la libertà dell'uomo, affrancandolo dalla natura madre e matrigna e rendendolo padrone e coautore sia del proprio destino che di quello del mondo in cui egli vive.

E ancora, relativamente alla presunta conflittualità insanabile tra pensiero magico e rivoluzione scientifica:

il residuo magico astrologico non influenza in senso teoretico la costruzione delle teorie scientifiche, in quanto non sta alla scienza dar valore ai propri risultati. Il conferimento di senso non entra in contraddizione con le tematiche scientifiche, appartiene semplicemente ad un'altra dimensione.

Appare fin troppo evidente che le concezioni cicliche del Tempo e l'idea della Storia come avvicendamento circolare o spiroidale di epoche simbolicamente codificabili sono categorie del pensiero strettamente connesse a una visione magico-panteistica del mondo e del percorso umano. Il loro attenuarsi sugli orizzonti della cultura umana, per dare spazio a concezioni prima lineari ed escatologico-religiose, poi evolucionistico-razionali, si manifesta infatti contestualmente all'oscurarsi delle culture magiche dietro gli orizzonti della coscienza e all'imporsi di due diversi paradigmi: il monoteismo religioso giudeo-cristiano e, in seguito, il razionalismo evolucionista scientifico.

Come annotava Mircea Eliade, il giudeo-cristianesimo presenta un'innovazione di capitale importanza: la fine del mondo sarà unica, così come è stata unica la cosmogonia. [...] Il tempo non è più il tempo circolare dell'eterno ritorno, ma un tempo lineare e irreversibile. Ma non è tutto: l'escatologia rappresenta anche il trionfo di una storia sacra, poiché la fine del mondo rivelerà il valore religioso degli atti umani, e gli uomini saranno giudicati secondo le loro azioni. Non si tratta più di una rigenerazione cosmica che implica anche la rigenerazione di una comunità (oppure della totalità della specie umana) ma di un giudizio, di una selezione: solamente gli eletti vivranno in una beatitudine eterna [...] Vi è poi un'altra differenza con le religioni cosmiche: per il giudeo-cristianesimo la fine del mondo fa parte del mistero messianico. Per gli Ebrei l'arrivo del Messia annuncerà la fine del mondo e la restaurazione del paradiso. Per i cristiani la fine del mondo precederà la seconda venuta del Cristo e l'ultimo giudizio [...].

Queste concezioni lineari e finalistiche degli eventi umani hanno informato di sé due millenni di evoluzione del pensiero e della coscienza, particolarmente in Occidente, grazie alla pressoché assoluta egemonia culturale delle teologie monoteiste, che hanno virtualmente inteso trasformare la Storia in un unico progetto arbitrario del loro

Dio Personale. Un progetto etico, teleologico e inesorabilmente patriarcale in cui Uomo e Natura non sono che prodotti della creazione volitiva di un Nume Generatore Fallico, nella cui volontà capricciosa e dittatoriale si esaurisce il percorso del tempo universale, dalla Genesi all'Apocalisse. Il conseguente dualismo tra Essere (Logos generatore) e Divenire (Universo generato) trovò poi una sistematizzazione teorica nello sviluppo del pensiero filosofico greco, in cui parallelamente – pur conservandosi con Pitagora e Platone la concezione panteistica e circolare del Kosmos e ciclica del Tempo e delle epoche umane – l'immobilità astratta di un principio metafisico trascendente venne sempre più contrapposta alla costante e travagliata mobilità delle cose e della Natura manifesta. A partire da Parmenide, lungo un itinerario che confluisce nell'ambivalenza del sistema di Aristotele (da cui si poterono trarre conclusioni opposte e contrastanti, sia teologico-spiritualistiche che razionalistico-scientifiche), la Natura, la Storia, l'Anthropos e le loro ciclicità divennero mondi sempre meno «divini» e sempre più secondari, da un lato sottomessi alla volontà astratta di un Nume inconoscibile, dall'altro regolati da leggi automatiche razionalmente esplorabili attraverso modelli logici e matematici circoscritti.

Domenico Antonino Conci, docente di Filosofia teoretica ad Arezzo e una tra le voci più interessanti nel panorama accademico italiano sugli studi del pensiero antico, analizzando il passaggio dalle arcaiche culture della Grande Madre a quelle patristiche del Logos greco (nei cui paradigmi, oltre a tutta la teologia cristiana, resta ancor oggi radicato lo stesso pensiero scientifico-positivista) ha rilevato come sia fondamentale evidenziare la differenza fenomenologica estrema fra una condizione antropologica segnata dal realismo segnico e quella, come l'occidentale, dominata profondamente dall'obiettivismo scientifico e tecnologico. Nella prima l'esistenza e la verità sono funzioni dirette ed immediate della manifestazione medesima che, in quanto attestazione diretta del reale, non è «mero fenomeno [...] bensì presenza in carne ed ossa (realismo segnico). La seconda muove «dopo la catastrofe culturale prodottasi nel Medioevo ellenico (1200-fine 900 a.C.) con la crisi dell'egemonia magico-religiosa e quindi con la perdita di fiducia nel realismo segnico» dal dramma esistenziale cognitivo della differenza tra apparire ed essere, per giungere alla conoscenza del reale [...] solo mediante espedienti integrativi, concettuali e operativi forniti dal nuovo logos.

Dopo aver frantumato in due mondi contrapposti (Essere e Divenire) il cerchio cosmico, unitario, estatico e visionario delle cosmogonie arcaiche si cercò dunque di ricomporre la perdita unitaria ouroborica attraverso espedienti cognitivi o intuitivi e giustapposizioni dialettiche tra l'Uno e i Molti, tra essenza e sostanza, e successivamente si intrecciarono tali speculazioni con la montante marea dell'innesto giudeo-cristiano, per approdare infine all'ibrida convergenza «consacrata da Tommaso d'Aquino e dai suoi emuli» tra il «motore immobile» di Aristotele e il Celeste Padre «Creatore del Mondo» del paradigma cristiano. Nonché alla conseguente affermazione definitiva del tempo lineare e sequenziale, che influenzerà anche lo sviluppo del pensiero scientifico fino all'estrema reazione, uguale e contraria, dell'evoluzionismo materialista e all'interpretazione della Storia quale evoluzione biologica casuale, ma pur sempre lineare e finalistica, dall'animale al cosiddetto «uomo civilizzato».

Eppure in tutta la loro storia, e segnatamente in due momenti fondamentali riconoscibili nel Rinascimento e nel nostro stesso secolo, l'osservare scientifico e il costruire tecnologico si sono ritrovati a confrontarsi con problemi e domande che costantemente mettevano in crisi la linearità presupposta di una Natura regolata o addirittura a È eticamente orientata da qualche singola entità (identificabile con il Deus personale monoteistico). Problemi e domande che tendevano a riproporre, sia pure in forma diversa, le lampeggianti visioni simboliche di concezioni olistiche, sciamaniche e magiche arcaiche riconducibili al realismo segnico, non foss'altro che per la evidente struttura ciclica, complessa e non-lineare o addirittura frattale di ogni processo naturale osservabile, nonché per l'altrettanto evidente correlazione fra i pi^1 ancestrali archetipi del Sacro e le strutture morfologiche della psiche umana e del suo substrato inconscio.

Una codifica storico-antropologica esaustiva intorno al lento ritrarsi del mondo magico (comune, in epoche diverse ma forse sincroniche, a tutte le culture del pianeta) di fronte all'affermarsi dell'atteggiamento religioso aspetta ancora di essere scritta. E questo nonostante le pi^1 accreditate ricerche etnologiche, tra le prime quelle di James Frazer, padre tanto discusso quanto ancora attuale dell'antropologia, abbiano ormai dimostrato che la Magia è antecedente alla Religione: si potrebbe anzi dire che la pi^1 antica delle religioni, in un tempo sospeso fra mito e archeologia in cui probabilmente non era ancora avvenuta quella frattura tra mondo magico e universo religioso che è originatasi poligeneticamente, come abbiamo visto, in seguito all'imporre dei modelli dualistico-patriarcali ha trasformato la Religione, specie nell'Occidente cristiano, nella pi^1 feroce persecutrice della Magia.

Come dunque accaduto che la Magia, forma primordiale di esperienza del Sacro e di percezione della Natura, si sia oscurata dinanzi all'avanzare dell'atteggiamento religioso, che invita la coscienza umana ad abbandonarsi all'arbitrio degli Dei (o del Fato, o dei Demoni) e, alla fine, di un unico Dio personale attraverso ritualie per molti versi opposte a quelle magiche, come la apotropaica preghiera? Non è possibile allo stato attuale delle nostre conoscenze cronologizzare con certezza questo passaggio, ma è antropologicamente certo che il prometeismo magico (consustanziale e sincronico al realismo segnico) secondo cui l'Anthropos è un riflesso-contenitore del divino, capace con tecniche e sapienze esperibili di esercitarne ogni potestà, è di gran lunga anteriore al paradigma devozionale religioso, che infatti risulta sfumato o pressoché assente in quelle culture tanto primitive da conservare ancora legami profondi e fisiologici con le proprie concezioni mitiche primarie. Lo rilevò lo stesso Frazer quando, parlando degli aborigeni australiani, è i selvaggi pi^1 primitivi di cui si abbiano notizie, dovette constatare che in Australia tutti sono maghi ma nessuno è un prete; tutti sono convinti di poter influenzare i loro simili e il corso della Natura tramite la Magia empatica, ma a nessuno verrebbe in mente di propiziarsi gli dèi con preghiere e sacrifici. E nonostante che spesso, come certificato anche dalle ricerche etnologiche di un Malinowski, Magia, Religione e Scienza abbiano potuto coesistere nelle medesime epoche e culture, la dimensione magica ha sempre conservato la sua natura di sfondo primario, vissuta come nostalgica angoscia di un'elezione perduta e successivamente come minaccia da parte di arcaici poteri ormai percepiti come ostili. Ma se nel corso del tempo, specie all'interno dei monoteismi giudeo-cristiano e islamico, la contrapposizione fra Religione e Magia si è andata sempre pi^1 rafforzando (contemporaneamente alla perdita percezione delle grandi ciclicità cosmiche) sono invece emerse come ancora Frazer tematizzò ampiamente evidenti affinità tra alcuni aspetti del pensiero magico e aspetti paralleli del moderno pensiero scientifico. Sia la Magia che la Scienza concepiscono infatti l'universo come un Macro-Essere (ente o struttura impersonale) complesso e multiforme, animato da meccanismi le cui leggi e funzioni possono essere conosciute e in qualche modo controllate dagli umani. Non è quindi probabilmente un caso che civiltà pervase da religiosità magica, come quelle egizia, babilonese, cinese o mesoamericana, abbiano sviluppato, in perfetta concordanza con le proprie pulsioni sacrali, raffinate forme di speculazione scientifica e di realizzazione artistica, architettonica e tecnologica, mentre il rigido monoteismo giudaico non produsse al proprio interno alcuna tecnologia. I polimorfici sviluppi culturali di Islam e Cristianesimo dovettero in realtà la loro principale fioritura speculativa il primo all'™influenza persiana (pervasa di Magia), il secondo ai travasi sapienziali dell'™Oriente pre-cristiano nelle corporazioni di mestiere " e particolarmente muratorie " nonch© alla rivoluzione culturale e antiteologica dell'™ermetico Rinascimento e del massonico Illuminismo. Come, del resto, le scienze occidentali hanno potuto progredire in seguito nel loro tentativo di comprensione e successivamente di controllo della Natura solo a fronte di un distacco sempre maggiore, anche se spesso dissimulato e controverso, dalle religioni monoteistiche imperanti e particolarmente dal Cristianesimo.

^ in base a queste necessarie premesse che intendiamo qui analizzare la polimorfa corrente sociale, culturale e spirituale nota come New Age, che appare evidentemente parte di quella pi^1 vasta fenomenologia antropologica di mutazione epocale che all'™alba del nuovo millennio sembra marcare la riemersione planetaria del realismo segnico e l'™albeggiamento di un nuovo Rinascimento stellare, gnostico e magico. Vedremo come proprio attraverso alcuni nuovi paradigmi filosofici e culturali, evidenziati nelle espressioni pi^1 mature della New Age, un nuovo pensiero scientifico post razionalista e un nuovo pensiero magico neo-gnostico si stiano ricercando per incontrarsi e per ritrovare forse le proprie comuni radici da troppo tempo oscurate. Traceremo brevemente gli antecedenti e gli sviluppi teoretici e storici di questo fenomeno e tenteremo di tracciarne le fondamentali categorie paradigmatiche di applicazione. E nel far questo mostreremo come la New Age rappresenti il primo segnacolo storico collettivo del prossimo e inevitabile tramonto del mondo monoteistico (culturale, spirituale e religioso), particolarmente nella sua forma cristiana, della quale tutti i paradigmi neo-gnostici e le formule di pensiero e di azione caratterizzate come New Age rappresentano l'™antitesi radicale.

RADICI E SVILUPPI DI UN'™IDEA "œSCANDALOSA"œ•

Le dottrine implicanti una visione ciclica della storia e il ritorno periodico di una sempre rinnovata Et^ dell'™Oro appaiono, come abbiamo visto, estremamente antiche e radicate in una Gnosi atemporale, e spesso gravida d'™implicazioni esoteriche, che appartiene all'™alba dell'™Umanit^ . Sono poi noti il persistere e la ricorrente riemersione di tali idee-forza nella storia del pensiero europeo, paralleli al filone magico-ermetico dell'™attesa imminente di una Nuova Era di pace e saggezza. Un percorso di allegoriche utopie che negli ultimi cinque secoli va dal Rinascimento, con le infiammate visioni di Giordano Bruno (nelle cui opere riprendendo temi gi^ cari a Virgilio e a Dante si vagheggia il ritorno di Astrea, dea della Giustizia) alle settecentesche visionarie intuizioni di Giambattista Vico, con le sue cicliche e successive "œEt^ degli Dei, degli Eroi e degli Uomini"œ• e i suoi corsi e ricorsi storici.

Il riaffiorare moderno in Occidente di una sistematizzazione storico-filosofica basata su queste concezioni, sia pure a livelli inizialmente marginali ed elitari, si svilupp^2, a partire dalla seconda met^ dell'™Ottocento, attraverso il generale rifiorire di societ^ iniziatiche e movimenti di pensiero fondati sul recupero di tradizioni esoteriche, magiche e gnostiche. Fondamentale in questo senso risult^2 a cavallo tra Otto e Novecento l'™influenza di personaggi quali l'™occultista francese Alphonse-Louis Constant (meglio noto come Eliphas Levi), il magista e poeta neopagano inglese Aleister Crowley, l'™esoterista russa Helena Petrovna Blavatsky madre fondatrice del movimento teosofico, nonch© degli ideali continuatori di alcuni aspetti del pensiero di quest'™ultima: i teosofi inglesi Annie Besant, Charles Webster Leadbeater e Alice Bailey e l'ésoterista austriaco Rudolf Steiner, fondatore dell'Antroposofia.

Dai primi mesi del 1900 fino al 1930 ad Ascona, in Svizzera, nel luogo che ancor oggi porta l'emblematico nome di Monte Verità, furono organizzate, tra varie vicissitudini, colonie e comunità progressiste, anarchiche e spiritualiste dedite al nudismo e alle danze rituali, nonché fondate su formule teosofiche proiettate verso un'ideale trasformazione globale della civiltà e della cultura occidentali. E già nel 1917 il massone tedesco Theodor Reuss, Gran Maestro dell'O.T.O. (Ordo Templi Orientis, una tra le più trasgressive e rivoluzionarie fra le organizzazioni iniziatiche, paramassoniche e magiche sorte ai primi del secolo) organizzava a Monte Verità un congresso esoterico e metapolitico i cui scopi dichiarati ruotavano intorno a temi quali le forme di società anazionali e cooperative, educazione conforme all'età moderna, emancipazione della donna nella società futura, massoneria mistica, nuove forme di socialità, arte, danza rituale e culturale. Proprio mentre negli stessi decenni vittoriani Aleister Crowley, che tra l'altro successe a Reuss come Gran Maestro dell'O.T.O., prefigurava l'avvento imminente di una nuova epoca "o Eone" fondata sulla Magia, sulla Scienza e sulla liberazione degli Istanti Primordiali: una Nuova Era che sarebbe seguita al decomporsi del Cristianesimo e del Razionalismo.

Tra i primi esponenti del pensiero neo-agnostico che a partire dagli anni '20, sulla scia di quest'humus metaculturale, coniarono le definizioni tecniche di "Età dell'Acquario" e "Nuova Era" (New Age) i più noti furono il francese Paul Le Cour fondatore dell'associazione Atlantis e la citata teosofa inglese Alice Bailey, che sviluppò parte delle sue esperienze nel clima di Monte Verità e che sull'idea della nuova epoca imminente, magica e spiritualmente globale concentrò tutto il suo lavoro e l'attività dei diversi gruppi, soprattutto americani, da lei promossi. Numerose furono poi le elaborazioni e le influenze, sia teoriche sia operative, che gradualmente dagli anni '40 e '50 in poi contribuirono, per la loro ampia diffusione, ad alimentare nei paesi occidentali il milieu umano e spirituale proiettato verso l'idea-forza di una Nuova Era: in particolare vanno ricordate quelle dei filosofi indiani Sri Aurobindo e Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh (conosciuto negli ultimi anni della sua vita come Osho). La visione paligenetica di Aurobindo sul risveglio collettivo di una "Supermente" fu ripresa e amplificata dalla sua compagna e continuatrice Mira Alfassa (conosciuta sotto lo ieronimo di Mãre), che nel 1963 fondò in India Auroville, la "città del futuro", concepita come "luogo di ricerche materiali e spirituali per dare un corpo vivente a una vera umanità". Quanto alla profonda dottrina di liberazione dai tabù religiosi e intellettuali e all'empito verso un nuovo tipo di umanesimo illuminato scaturiti da Osho non devono essere confusi con possono esaurirsi con certe forme di cultismo esasperato sviluppate da alcuni tra i suoi seguaci.

Fu comunque nel corso degli anni '60 che, in piena sinergia con la controcultura americana e poi europea e con il movimento hippy, presero forma "inizialmente soprattutto nei paesi di lingua inglese" esperienze collettive di ricerca sia spirituale che scientifica dichiaratamente fondate sulla costruzione e sull'avvento di una rivoluzione globale, definita, specie in America, con il termine "New Age". Nel 1962 un gruppo di teosofi e sensitivi fortemente influenzati dal pensiero di Alice Bailey dettero vita in Scozia alla comunità di Findhorn, dedita a rapporti sperimentali con i poteri elementali e alle conseguenti applicazioni nel campo della botanica e dell'agricoltura. Nello stesso anno a Big Sur, in California, su ispirazione tra gli altri dello scrittore Aldous Huxley, un gruppo di psicologi, esoteristi e ricercatori di una Nuova Gnosi scientifica fondarono l'Esalen Institute, che diverrà uno dei principali punti di riferimento mondiali per le ricerche di frontiera sullo sviluppo del

È potenziale umano e i cui referenti culturali coinvolgeranno l'opera e le ricerche di rivoluzionari esploratori dello spirito e del pensiero come Timothy Leary e Carlos Castaneda.

I ricordi autobiografici di Leary, che nel 1996 ha voluto provocatoriamente diffondere su Internet i momenti cruciali della propria stessa morte, risultano a questo proposito ampiamente esplicativi:

eravamo penetrati nel dialogo del mito, inseriti in quell'antica corrente di appassionata speranza e credenza rischiosa che credeva possibile vedere l'umanità evolvere verso la più alta saggezza. Era il familiare credo gnostico, ermetico, neo-platonico, alchemico, faustiano, jeffersoniano, rivolto a leggere nell'individuale il microcosmo e a scoprire la completa visione dell'universo. Un universo con numerosi centri, il quale dà vita all'esistenza individuale, continuamente ricorrente. Un credo quindi sempre contrastato dall'inquisizione e costantemente deriso dalla versione autorizzata del dogma del momento.

Nei decenni successivi, lungo innumerevoli ramificazioni coinvolgenti tutti gli aspetti di cultura, storia, scienza e religione, oltre che di esoterismo e antropologia del Sacro, l'atmosfera New Age è scaturita, come abbiamo visto, dall'iniziativa innovatrice di alcune strutture iniziatiche europee, sviluppata dal libero associazionismo americano e infine rientrata in Europa come movimento culturale collettivo ha informato di una vasta rete di movimenti, centri, fondazioni, gruppi e singoli ricercatori e ricercatrici, assumendo, almeno nelle intenzioni, la dimensione di un Nuovo Paradigma umanistico.

Ancora nei primi anni '60, e sempre in California, Thomas Kuhn, una tra le voci innovative dell'epistemologia contemporanea e, almeno ufficialmente, estraneo a qualsiasi coinvolgimento New Age, proponeva che il percorso di crescita della scienza venisse inteso procedere non per accumulazione di singole scoperte e invenzioni secondo uno schema lineare di successione, bensì attraverso la formazione di paradigmi, laddove leggi, teorie, applicazioni e strumenti ben definiti generano definizioni sistematiche a priori e modelli di pensiero circoscritti si articolano in particolari tradizioni scientifiche caratterizzate da una loro coerenza. Tali paradigmi, secondo Kuhn, tendono ciclicamente a superarsi nel tempo attraverso vere e proprie rivoluzioni di percezione e di metodo.

In effetti, specie tramite alcuni suoi portavoce americani come Marilyn Ferguson, David Spangler, Patricia Mishe, Shirley McLaine e per molti versi il fisico Fritjof Capra, autore del celebre Tao della Fisica, l'onda mentale New Age si presenta innanzitutto come un annuncio di una prossima, inevitabile mutazione dei paradigmi. Di tutti i paradigmi: religiosi, filosofici, scientifici, artistici, antropologici e politici.

REAZIONI DI PAURA E PAURE REAZIONARIE

La diffusione sempre più ampia e articolata di un pensiero radicalmente perturbante e destabilizzante come la New Age all'interno di un ancor vasto Rinascimento neo-agnostico e neo-magico, in cui è ravvisabile che alcuni ormai chiamano un generale re-incantamento del mondo, non ha ovviamente mancato di suscitare violente reazioni di allarme sia tra le frange conservatrici del mondo scientifico istituzionale che in numerosi ambienti religiosi e ai vertici delle fedi stabilite. Le crociate bandite contro le pseudoscienze da organismi di propaganda scienziata come i già citati CSICOP e CICAP (il cui congresso del 1998 si è occupato appunto, con il consueto stile superficiale e diffamatorio, di New Age: nuova era o vecchie idee?â€•), lâ€™misterismo del fondamentalismo protestante di molti paesi che ravvisa apertamente nella New Age il â€œvolto dellâ€™Anticristoâ€• e le esternazioni sempre piÃ¹ frequenti della CEI (Conferenza Episcopale Italiana) contro â€œmagia e superstizioneâ€• rappresentano il segnale indiscutibile dei timori degli esponenti della Vecchia Era dinanzi allâ€™avanzata di un Nuovo Pensiero.

Ma cosa dunque vi puÃ² essere di tanto terribile nelle formule della New Age da produrre addirittura anacronistiche alleanze tra il razionalismo esasperato e spesso dichiaratamente ateo di organizzazioni quali CSICOP e CICAP, il fondamentalismo religioso americano ed europeo e gli stessi vertici di chiese millenarie? E questo mentre su fronti culturali indubbiamente piÃ¹ maturi, anche se ugualmente critici e spesso influenzati da paradigmi cristiani, per esempio in uno studio del â€™92 di Aldo Natale Terrin (docente di Filosofia e Storia delle religioni alla Cattolica di Milano), si parla del pensiero acquariano come di una naturale evoluzione religiosa del â€œpostmodernoâ€• e ancora, sotto certi versi piÃ¹ opportunamente, come della riemersione di una â€œreligione della Grande Madreâ€•.

Il â€œfenomeno New Ageâ€• Ã¨ caratterizzato, come noto, da unâ€™estrema fluiditÃ strutturale e da una forte indeterminazione dinamica: tentare perciÃ² di classificarlo in forme troppo rigorose porterebbe inevitabilmente fuori da una sua corretta comprensione. Riteniamo perÃ² importante, a fronte di certe Guerre Sante che rischiano di confondere le idee perfino a chi nei confronti della New Age prova un genuino interesse ma stenta a ravvisarne i contorni, tentare di definire quanto finora la New Age, attraverso i suoi principali gruppi e portavoce, ha dimostrato di non voler essere, classificando cosÃ¬, per contrasto, ciÃ² che fino a oggi ha voluto essere. Proponiamo quindi una griglia contenitrice formulata in otto paradigmi radicali, di cui tre primari e cinque derivati, in cui Ã¨ possibile configurare la totalitÃ del nuovo modello antropologico acquariano.

I tre paradigmi primari, che informano di sÃ© le loro conseguenti derivazioni e applicazioni, sâ€™identificano in un fondamento metafisico e religioso Panteista, in una prassi della SincronicitÃ (basata in gran parte sulle ricerche pionieristiche di Jung) e in una teorizzazione della ComplessitÃ (considerabile nella sua essenza anche al di fuori del â€œproblemaâ€• New Age, in quanto risulta oggi essere al centro delle ricerche sociologiche â€œufficialiâ€• piÃ¹ avanzate).

Le cinque applicazioni paradigmatiche che derivano da questa triade e investono tutti i molteplici aspetti del Nuovo Pensiero sono poi quelle religiose, filosofiche, scientifiche, artistiche e politico-sociali.

APPLICAZIONI RELIGIOSE

IL NUOVO PARADIGMA: MISTICISMO GNOTICO

Il Movimento New Age non vuole essere una nuova religione, ma un kosmos religioso reticolare in cui tutte le espressioni religiose antiche e moderne possano essere incluse, reinterpretate o ridisegnate.

La New Age come fenomeno unitario non ha alcuna caratteristica di â€œrivelazioneâ€• autoritaria o definitiva tipica delle grandi religioni monoteistiche e dei loro derivati; non ha un profeta o una singola incarnazione divina o comunque un fondatore definito, nÃ© un conseguente libro sacro fondamentale con qualche gerarchia sacerdotale che lo rappresenti e lo interpreti. Peraltro non esiste nellâ€™universo spirituale â€œacquarianoâ€• uno sfondo etnico o mitico unitario che legghi chi ne partecipa a cosmogonie o pantheon sacrali definiti e circoscritti.

Dal punto di vista della fenomenologia delle religioni vi si puÃ² indubbiamente riscontrare qualche similitudine con la dimensione religiosa estremo-orientale (specie nelle sue forme buddista e taoista) o addirittura con certi aspetti della paganit  classica, in cui formule di culto anche molto diverse tra loro coesistevano e s  influenzavano a vicenda secondo un processo sincretico inclusivo. Considerando che le radici spirituali della religiosit  New Age sono indubbiamente pagane e per molti versi pre-monoteistiche e comunque pre-cristiane, e vista la filiazione diretta di alcuni suoi aspetti fondamentali da elaborazioni esoteriche moderne della filosofia religiosa asiatica, risulta ovvia l'impossibilit  di definirne i contorni come "religione" in senso occidentale, mentre si giustifica il suo tentativo di proporsi quale sintesi inclusiva e superamento evolutivo di tutte le rivelazioni e sacre scritture del passato, nonch  dei culti e cosmogonie di ogni popolo, etnia o epoca " sintesi e superamento tesi verso un sincretismo totalizzante.

Le idee-forza fondamentali del kosmos religioso acquariano, che qui ripercorriamo brevemente, si caratterizzano infatti in modo evidente come un esplosivo punto d'incontro fra le categorie fondamentali del pensiero magico-gnostico (come in parte rielaborato dalle fratellanze iniziatiche dei secoli XVIII, XIX e della prima met  del XX) e la sensibilit  laica del nostro tempo.

A) Impersonalit  del Divino

Il rifiuto radicale del concetto teologico cristiano del "Dio Persona" a fronte del recupero di una concezione per molti versi panteistica e cosmico-energetica del Sacro, che in quanto avulsa dal concetto di una divinit  personale totalizzante qualcuno giunge paradossalmente a definire atea, come gi  avvenuto in relazione a certe correnti del Buddismo.

B) Panteismo

Ogni dualismo materia-spirito si dissolve e tutto " divino poich  ogni espressione fisica o metafisica del Reale contiene e riflette la totalit  , in un gioco ologrammatico di riflessione o emanazione; fino a giungere alla formula radicale dell'Anthropoteismo, secondo cui l'uomo e la donna (o meglio le loro radicalit  profonde) sono Dio in quanto microcosmi olografici o immagini viventi della totalit  cosmica.

Per molti aspetti nella New Age questi due approcci risultano combinati in una sorta di Panteismo Politeista: infiniti risultano infatti i diversi microcosmi omologhi, superiori, inferiori o paralleli all'entit  umana in cui il kosmos divino si riflette, secondo una visione complessa di Enti, Dei o Deva, Esseri Elementali, Coscienze ultraumane angeliche e demoniche, Gerarchie multidimensionali, Forze o Entit  aliene (spesso connesse alla fenomenologia ufologica) con cui la dimensione umana sarebbe da sempre in relazione sinergica.

C) Relativismo Spirituale e conseguente Relativismo Religioso

Ogni singola religione, pur se individuata nel suo nocciolo essenziale o nei suoi eventuali contenuti esoterici, non esprime che un aspetto dell'approccio al Divino, spesso limitato e circoscritto da connotazioni etniche, razziali, geografiche o storiche. Viene in questo senso enfatizzata l'esistenza di uno sfondo metafisico che, comune a tutti i culti, sta emergendo nei Tempi Nuovi, tendendo ad annullare la funzionalit  stessa delle singole religioni ed evidenziandosi quale punto di arrivo e convergenza di ogni realizzazione spirituale sia individuale che collettiva. Tale sfondo a sua volta non " una verit  assoluta e definibile, bens  una ragnatela di potenzialit  creative la cui conoscenza e attuazione si concretizzano nell'esperienza di ogni Coscienza Individuale maschile o femminile che, se opportunamente addestrata tramite tecniche molteplici, pu  giungere a identificarsi con una o pi  di queste potenzialit  , divenendo essa stessa Dio o Dea e acquisendo quindi la conoscenza e il potere atti a costruire e ricostruire ogni possibile Realt  in base al proprio Volere profondo.

D) Conoscenza ed esperienza diretta del Sacro e parimenti della Natura e del Mondo (o dei Mondi)

Realizzazioni ottenibili tramite un rapporto attivo e volitivo sia con le dimensioni invisibili che con la Natura visibile. Un rapporto magico e prometeico in cui tecniche psico-spirituali, come la Meditazione o lo Yoga o l'Alchimia Sessuale o altre (mutuate da varie tradizioni più o meno antiche), travalicano e annullano la dimensione passiva e apotropaica della preghiera.

E) Rifiuto radicale del concetto di "peccato".

Laddove non esiste alcuna restrizione non esiste neppure trasgressione. La natura del "Male" viene piuttosto interpretata come malattia, cioè quale temporanea perturbazione degli equilibri dinamici fisici, parafisici o spirituali tra le molteplici componenti di quel complesso software che compone la realtà di ciascun essere. In questo modello concettuale gli "squilibri energetici" ricordano molto da vicino la diffusione dei virus biologici o informatici: da qui l'ampio spazio dedicato alla ricerca e alla pratica di metodi terapeutici olistici (ovvero fisio-psico-spirituali), di cui la vasta messe di "terapie alternative" recuperate o elaborate all'interno della New Age rappresenta un aspetto importante. In questo senso la lotta contro le "energie negative" di qualsiasi tipo (che in definitiva altro non sono che gli effetti relativamente temporanei di qualche "mancanza di illuminazione") e il tentativo di trasmutarle in "potere positivo" costituiscono un'ulteriore occasione di consapevolezza e di evoluzione per Uomini e Donne Nuovi, secondo un tipico intreccio in cui aspetti religiosi, filosofici, scientifici e magici del Nuovo Pensiero si trasfondono e si combinano in formule olistiche.

F) Richiamo teogonico al "Cristo Cosmico".

Presente in alcune correnti della New Age molto diffuse negli USA, nelle quali per il Christos assume una valenza squisitamente gnostica e assai lontana dal cristocentrismo antropomorfo e messianico delle chiese cristiane storiche e istituzionali. La "Coscienza Cristica" ricercata e proclamata da alcuni settori acquiriani da individuarsi semmai quale ipostasi di quella Coscienza Cosmica che ogni entità autocosciente può scoprire e realizzare attraverso la propria autodivinizzazione. Laddove ne viene ammessa l'esistenza storica il "Maestro" Gesù di Nazareth viene tutt'al più concepito come uno tra coloro che avrebbero realizzato questa palingenesi iniziatica fino a raggiungere lo status di Avatar o "incarnazione divina", al pari di Buddha, Lao-Tse o Zoroastro. Il "ritorno del Cristo" identificato con la Nuova Era non ha quindi alcuna fisionomia millenarista o apocalittico-messianica, in quanto concepito sull'onda di un tempo ciclico e non lineare e quindi rappresentativo non della fine della Storia, ma di una fase fisiologica di riemersione periodica di un archetipo di rigenerazione individuale e collettiva.

APPLICAZIONI FILOSOFICHE

IL NUOVO PARADIGMA: ANDROGINIA METAFISICA

Il Pensiero New Age non vuole essere una nuova filosofia, ma una sintesi armonica di prospettive filosofiche diverse in cui, secondo i canoni della complessità, possono trovare spazio l'Idealismo come il Materialismo, Goethe non meno di Marcuse, e dove Platone può serenamente incontrare Voltaire e Proust per discutere di Fate e di Fisica Quantistica.

Il risveglio della Coscienza profonda individuale e collettiva e l'attesa partecipata e attiva a una Grande Mutazione, percepita come imminente, si concretizzano nel tentativo di forgiare uomini e donne Nuovi, cioè "Maestri e Maestre di una nuova formula esistenziale. E si concretizzano altresì - nella ricerca virtuale o reale di contatto con esseri o poteri (umani e non) già "â€œrinnovatiâ€œ, o comunque "â€œascesiâ€œ o "â€œcosmiciâ€œ, che possano indicare metodi e vie per il Grande Conseguimento. Ne deriva un atteggiamento creativo e positivo verso la vita e soprattutto verso la morte, bilanciate ed esaltate entrambe tramite il concetto di Reincarnazione, inteso quale meccanismo regolatore centrale attraverso cui si determinano i rapporti fra cicli biologici ed evoluzione della Coscienza.

Un ulteriore aspetto importante " lâ€™enfattizzazione degli Archetipi e dei Simboli Femminili, in quanto " come abbiamo visto " la FemminilitÃ metafisica risulta essere alle radici arcaiche del Sacro prima della sclerotizzazione patristica e patriarcale culminata nei diversi monoteismi. La focalizzazione sul mito dell'Androgine come chiave risolutiva di bilanciamento tra i sessi conduce anche, all'interno di molte correnti del milieu New Age, all'accettazione della dimensione omosessuale quale opzione sia naturale che spirituale.

La teorizzazione etico-filosofica della New Age " quindi una prassi d'inclusione assoluta, in cui l'unico punto di riferimento " la coscienza di sÃ©. Le diverse gradazioni umane di partecipazione, impegno, compassione, aggressivitÃ , indifferenza, altruismo o egoismo non sono che variabili opzionali di un Gioco che la coscienza intrattiene con se stessa e con altre coscienze e forme naturali, da intendersi tutte quali riflessi o parti del proprio sÃ©, al di lÃ di qualsiasi morale definita di "â€œbeneâ€œ o "â€œmaleâ€œ.

APPLICAZIONI SCIENTIFICHE

IL NUOVO PARADIGMA: OLISMO METASCIENTIFICO

La visione del Mondo e della Natura della New Age non vuole essere una nuova scienza, ma lâ€™elaborazione di modelli di ricerca e conoscenza olistici (dal greco holos, "â€œtuttoâ€œ), in cui materia, psiche, mente e spirito non sono che gradazioni di una RealtÃ Unica.

Viene enfatizzata una nuova visione inclusiva e multidisciplinare delle scienze e particolarmente della medicina e della fisica. Le possibilitÃ che ne conseguono rappresentano certamente lâ€™aspetto piÃ¹ orizzontale e diffuso del Nuovo Pensiero e includono tra lâ€™altro:

A) il risveglio della Materia e della corporeitÃ , mediante antiche e moderne formule di dinamica psico-corporea e il ristabilimento degli equilibri psicofisici attraverso la pratica di medicine alternative;

B) la Psicologia transpersonale e i molteplici, diversi incrementi del Potenziale Umano;

C) il marcato interesse per lâ€™utilizzo di tutte le nuove tecnologie informatiche e per le ricadute filosofiche e sociologiche di una Cyberfilosofia Technopagana della Rete Globale;

D) la libera ricerca sugli stati alterati di coscienza e la loro esplorazione (Psiconautica) tramite lâ€™utilizzo controllato di sostanze psicoattive (droghe) definite come enteogene, cioè " rivelatrici della DivinitÃ Interiore;

E) le ricerche e le sperimentazioni di contatto con altri livelli di realtÃ , mondi paralleli

o entità micro o macrocosmiche non umane;

F) nuove formule storiche e antropologiche, inclusive di una visione globale e ciclica del percorso umano, delle sue origini e delle sue prospettive e finalizzazioni future. La ricomprensione degli archetipi arcaici, delle strutture mitiche primarie e delle loro profonde connessioni porta inevitabilmente allo sviluppo di un pensiero multidimensionale e creativo, in cui la miopia del razionalismo e gli abbagli del fideismo possono essere superati in base a quel medesimo modello di Nuova Alleanza tra scienze fisiche, biologiche e umanistiche vagheggiato anche da molti scienziati contemporanei, fra cui l'epistemologo belga e premio Nobel per la Chimica Ilya Prigogine. È comunque assodato il crescente interesse di umanisti e scienziati per una rivoluzione nei processi della conoscenza e quindi della coscienza. Partendo dalla constatazione sociologica del formarsi spontaneo della società complessa, e parallelamente all'esigenza di nuove forme di dialogo tra le componenti razionali ed extrarazionali della nostra cultura e della nostra stessa identità, cominciamo forse a comprendere (o a ricomprendere) che la Realtà non è il regno di un solo Dio né il regno dell'Uomo e della sua coscienza ancora limitata. Forse semplicemente la Realtà non è un regno, ma un tessuto, una rete, un alveare composto di molteplici dei e coscienze e forze e potenzialità, coesistenti in una dimensione olografica, e per molti versi caotica, nella quale ogni piccolo frammento riflette l'intero. Tanto che in un kosmos che si dimostra sempre meno riducibile ai paradigmi cartesiani, così come alle categorie teologiche, ogni realtà ordinata apparente è compresa la cosiddetta oggettività tanto cara al pensiero razionalistico non può essere considerata che il prodotto dell'atto stesso del percepirla e qualsiasi azione (o moto di energia fisica, psichica o biologica) si scopre inesorabilmente correlata a qualsiasi altra, secondo un criterio che ricorda le categorie magiche dell'imitazione e del contagio (rilevate da Frazer nel magismo delle culture arcaiche) e che ci riporta all'antico assioma ermetico di Mercurio Trismegisto: «ciò che è in basso è come ciò che è in alto e ciò che è in alto è come ciò che è in basso per fare i miracoli della cosa una». Ogni processo conoscitivo, esplorativo o di controllo del Reale non può riconvertirsi allora che in una sorta di Arte della Trama o Scienza dei rapporti fra le diverse componenti dell'insieme (Rete). Ovvero in una nuova, gnostica Magheia.

APPLICAZIONI ARTISTICHE ED ESISTENZIALI IL NUOVO PARADIGMA: ECOLOGISMO VITALISTICO

Le formule estetiche New Age non vogliono essere una nuova forma d'arte più o meno rivoluzionaria, ma la costante ricerca di una sintesi artistica fra sensibilità arcaiche, contemporanee e future, sia naturali che tecnologiche.

Nella New Age esiste una ricerca estetica dinamica atta a esprimere contemporaneamente «vibrazioni», pulsioni e contenuti ideali delle idee-forza acquariane. In particolare la musica sorta all'interno del kosmos New Age, che incarna un elemento fondamentale della sua diffusione soprattutto fra i giovani, tende a reificare sensazioni e concetti del Nuovo Pensiero recuperando motivi classici e perfino liturgici (come il canto gregoriano) e connettendoli a tonalità moderne (quali blues, jazz o rock), per poi proiettare verso il futuro le sue tematiche sonore, secondo il consueto criterio di sintesi, attraverso l'utilizzo della musica elettronica.

APPLICAZIONI POLITICHE E SOCIALI IL NUOVO PARADIGMA: UNIVERSALISMO ANARCHICO

L'empito sociale New Age non vuole essere una nuova formula politica da contrapporre alle altre, ma una visione operativa globale di simbiosi fra tutte le componenti naturali, economiche e sociali che sia in grado di realizzare la pienezza e la felicità di ogni essere.

Una particolare enfasi neo-ecologica viene posta sulla necessità di rapportarsi alla Natura come Entità vivente e autocosciente e di recuperare un rapporto sinergico con il nostro Pianeta Madre Gaia, sulla scia di una concezione geofisiologica ben nota alle antiche tradizioni sia estremo-orientali che occidentali e parzialmente recuperata alla fine dei nostri anni '70 dal ricercatore inglese James E. Lovelock con la sua ipotesi di Gaia: il pianeta Terra inteso come unità vivente capace di manipolare i suoi singoli elementi costitutivi per le proprie necessità globali.

Sul piano sociale la proposta New Age si traduce in un mondialismo complesso e multi-etnico in cui si riflette l'universalismo cosmico dei nuovi paradigmi, mentre all'individuo viene proposta la formula di un'autodeterminazione radicale fondata sul risveglio della propria coscienza e sul rifiuto di ogni autorità estranea a tale risveglio, secondo una prassi di anarchico neo-illuminismo.

L'AURORA DEGLI ARCOBALENI E IL TRAMONTO DELLA CROCE

È evidente come ognuna di queste idee-forza, sia singolarmente sia in relazione alle altre, rappresenti una netta e dichiarata antitesi rispetto a qualunque paradigma religioso totalizzante e come risulti segnatamente inconciliabile con la totalità delle religioni monoteiste e particolarmente con il Cristianesimo, almeno per quanto riguarda le formule teologiche, sociali e storicamente consolidate che tali religioni hanno assunto attraverso tre millenni, dal Sinai alla Mecca e dal Gergolito al Vaticano.

Indubbiamente va riconosciuta all'interno delle tradizioni storiche ebraiche e islamiche la presenza di un filone sapienziale esoterico, riferibile alla Kabbala e al Sufismo, in cui le proposizioni teologiche ufficiali di Giudaismo e Islam vengono ribaltate o interpretate secondo formule molto lontane dall'ortodossia patriarcale: formule che hanno anche sensibilmente contribuito alla formazione di quel patrimonio iniziatico che, in parte e sotto forma metaculturale, la migliore New Age ha ereditato. Ma va anche ricordato che queste correnti di pensiero hanno emblematicamente rappresentato l'alterità eretica sia nell'Ebraismo che nel mondo culturale e religioso islamico e che le loro dirette influenze e prassi sono sempre state circoscritte a élite semisegrete.

Per quanto riguarda invece il Cristianesimo quelle grandi matrici di idealità e sapienza arcaica e spesso magica riconoscibili in tradizioni quali la Gnosi religiosa del I e II secolo (e di molte eresie successive), l'Ermetismo, il Templarismo, la jerosofia cavalleresca del Graal o la Rosa+Croce hanno salvaguardato e trasmesso la propria esistenza fino a riemergere oggi in molti aspetti del pensiero acquiriano: non attraverso la religione ufficiale, bensì nonostante o contro di essa. Ben lungi dal rappresentare un inesistente esoterismo cristiano questi movimenti hanno sempre finito per incarnare una radicale alternativa virtuale al Cristianesimo, pur nascondendosi spesso sotto il velame dei suoi totem al fine, quando possibile, di salvaguardare la propria sopravvivenza storica e, ancora in tempi non troppo lontani, la stessa vita fisica dei loro rappresentanti.

Qualsiasi cristiano che oggi intimamente aderisca anche a una soltanto delle formule paradigmatiche New Age che abbiamo enunciato in relazione all'esperienza religiosa si pone dunque automaticamente fuori da qualsiasi ortodossia cristiana riconosciuta e in special modo da quella più diffusa nel mondo, ovvero il Cattolicesimo Romano. Peraltro la stessa letteratura di area cattolica, specialistica e non, sia laica che ecclesiastica, intorno alla New Age ha ampiamente provveduto a chiarire l'inevitabile contrapposizione e la radicale incompatibilità fra i paradigmi portanti del pensiero e della prassi acquariani e tutti i principali fondamenti teologici, morali e sociali del Cristianesimo in senso lato e del Cattolicesimo in particolare. Il cardinal Paul Poupard, presidente del Pontificio Consiglio della Cultura, ha per esempio avvertito che «il fenomeno del New Age, assieme a tanti altri nuovi movimenti religiosi, è una delle sfide più urgenti per la fede cristiana» e che «un fatto aggrava la situazione: aderiscono alle dottrine del New Age non soltanto persone lontane dalla fede, ma anche cristiani che si lasciano influenzare da certi concetti-chiave, spesso senza accorgersi della loro incompatibilità con il messaggio evangelico».

L'approccio al divino come realtà impersonale e non codificata in un culto preciso e quindi, in forza di un approccio radicalmente panteista, la sostanziale negazione di valore del «Dio Personale» presentato dal giudeo-cristianesimo rappresentano in effetti ben più che una semplice rottura con l'universo spirituale cristiano: si tratta di un'esperienza del Sacro che si pone al di là e oltre rispetto all'essenza stessa del monoteismo patriarcale, un'esperienza che rivendica e recupera (o vorrebbe recuperare) tutto ciò che già era ben prima che il monoteismo e tardi il Cristianesimo venissero concepiti, secondo un modello ciclico perfettamente coerente ai paradigmi di un ritorno pagano dell'Età dell'Oro. Una rivoluzione, quindi, che in realtà costituisce una restaurazione, un ritorno amplificato e potenziato di quei valori e universi magici e sapienziali che in particolare il Cristianesimo è percepito in questo contesto come un momento di decadenza e aveva cercato di distruggere fin dai tempi della loro malvista sopravvivenza nello gnosticismo ereticale dei suoi primi secoli di vita. Come in una sua analisi polemica sulla Gnosi religiosa antica ci ricorda emblematicamente, e con qualche sfumatura di nostalgia inquisitoriale, lo studioso cattolico Alberico Lolli, professore emerito della canadese Laurentian University, la gnosi in seno al primo cristianesimo [...] venne subito a configurarsi agli occhi attenti dei Padri come un'emergenza pericolosa e preoccupante tanto distintiva nei modi quanto deteriore negli effetti cioè come vera e propria «deviazione eterodossa» del Cristianesimo e pertanto meritevole di essere avversata e distrutta dalla gerarchia ecclesiastica che, sebbene ancora in via di formazione, già sapeva assegnare a se stessa un ruolo di legittima detentrica del «riconoscere ortodosso», e nella interpretazione dei testi sacri e nella costruzione dell'edificio teologico.

Le parole che nel II secolo il vescovo Ireneo di Lione, uno tra i primi Padri della Chiesa, rivolgeva agli gnostici nel suo Adversus haereses sintetizzano egregiamente l'essenza di una contrapposizione frontale che ancor oggi risulta esplosiva in tutta la sua evidenza.

Conserva dunque la modestia del tuo sapere e non oltrepassarla ignorando il tuo bene, Dio che non è superabile, non cercare che cosa ci sia sopra il Demiurgo poiché non troveresti nulla [...] e se persisti a crederti più sublime e grande del tuo Creatore e al di là di tutti i suoi regni cadresti in una vera pazzia. È dunque meglio e più salutare essere semplici e ignoranti e appressarsi a Dio mediante la carità piuttosto che credere di sapere molte cose e dopo molte avventure di pensiero essere blasfemi contro Dio.

E ancora, sul versante della mistica, il cattolico Giovanni della Croce nel XVI secolo, in piena epoca rinascimentale, dichiarava che ormai non conviene più¹ interrogare Dio [...] né² d'altre³ parte " necessario che Egli parli poiché⁴, avendo rivelato in Cristo tutte le verità⁵ di fede, non ha né⁶ avr⁷ mai più⁸ altra verità⁹ da manifestare. Perci¹⁰ desiderare ancora di ricevere qualche cosa per via soprannaturale " come ammettere che Dio non abbia dato nel Figlio tutto ciò¹¹ che " sufficiente. [...] Dunque non si deve aspettare dottrina o altra cosa per via soprannaturale [...] Perci¹² dobbiamo lasciarci guidare in tutto in modo umano e visibile dalla legge di Cristo uomo, della sua Chiesa e dei suoi ministri, e per questa via porre rimedio alla nostra ignoranza e debolezza spirituale, poiché¹³ in essa troveremo abbondante medicina ad ogni nostro male. Tutto ciò¹⁴ che esce fuori da tale cammino " non solo curiosità¹⁵, ma grande presunzione e noi non dobbiamo credere a cosa ricevuta per via soprannaturale, ma solo a quanto ci viene insegnato da Cristo uomo e dai suoi ministri, uomini anch'essi¹⁶.

Questa " la prassi cattolica rispetto al Sacro e ai rapporti tra il divino e l'umano: altre non ve ne sono mai state né¹⁷ potranno mai esservi, come chiarito inequivocabilmente dalla più¹⁸ recente edizione del Catechismo della Chiesa Romana, in cui, dopo ampie citazioni di Ireneo, si riconferma che noi crediamo tutto ciò¹⁹ che " contenuto nella Parola di Dio, scritta o tramandata, e che la Chiesa propone a credere come divinamente rivelata. La fede " necessaria alla salvezza. Il Signore stesso lo afferma: "Chi creder²⁰ e sar²¹ battezzato sar²² salvo, ma chi non creder²³ sar²⁴ condannato" (Mc 16,16).

E certamente i paradigmi New Age del relativismo spirituale, religioso ed etico nonché²⁵ la ricerca esperienziale diretta del Sacro alla ricerca dell'auto-divinizzazione rappresentano l'assoluta negazione e per molti versi l'esatto opposto di tutto ciò²⁶. Se poi consideriamo che dai primi secoli alla rivolta protestante, e ancora ai giorni nostri, ogni comunità²⁷ religiosa o denominazione cristiana, dalle più²⁸ piccole fino a quelle maggioritarie, ha sempre ritenuto che la propria Chiesa fosse l'unica pervasa da infallibilità²⁹, o che il proprio tipo di interpretazione o libero esame delle Scritture bibliche fosse l'unica strada verso la salvezza³⁰, non possiamo non concludere che un atteggiamento filosofico religioso che non ricerca alcuna salvezza (per lo meno in senso morale) " per il semplice motivo che non accetta alcuna condanna primordiale " e ritiene vieppi³¹ che ogni essere debba e possa costruire i propri paradisi o i propri inferni costituisce la materializzazione dei peggiori incubi di ogni tipo di teologia cristiana, di qualunque confessione esistita o esistente.

Peraltro lo stesso capo della Chiesa Cattolica Giovanni Paolo II ha assunto a questo proposito posizioni nette e definitive e nel 1993 in un suo discorso ai vescovi statunitensi ha dichiarato senza mezzi termini che le idee della New Age alcune volte penetrano nella predicazione, nella catechesi, nei seminari di studio e nei ritiri e quindi influenzano anche cattolici praticanti, che forse non sono consapevoli dell'incompatibilità³² di queste idee con la fede della Chiesa. Nella loro visione sincretistica e immanente questi movimenti parareligiosi [...] tentano di giungere a Dio attraverso conoscenze ed esperienze basate su elementi presi a prestito dalla spiritualità³³ orientale e dalle tecniche psicologiche. Essi tendono a relativizzare la dottrina religiosa a favore di una vaga visione del mondo espressa da un sistema di miti e di simboli esposto con un linguaggio religioso. Inoltre essi spesso propongono una concezione panteistica di Dio che " incompatibile con le Sacre Scritture e con la tradizione cristiana. Essi sostituiscono la libertà³⁴ personale delle proprie azioni di fronte a Dio con un senso del dovere verso il cosmo e in tal modo ribaltano il vero concetto di peccato e il bisogno di redenzione attraverso Cristo.

A parte la curiosa definizione del pensiero New Age come "evaga visione del mondo" con "elementi presi a prestito dalla spiritualità orientale" e "senso del dovere verso il cosmo", che rivelano quanto poco tempo Woytjla abbia dedicato alla lettura dei testi specialistici della e sulla New Age, il cuore del problema "sicuramente" stato centrato e la sostanza di queste affermazioni "assolutamente coerente" con le posizioni da sempre assunte dalla Chiesa rispetto a quel pensiero gnostico che a buona ragione "è stato individuato all'interno della New Age. La chiave fondamentale, il cuore stesso di ogni esperienza, spiritualità e cultura cristiane "infatti rappresentata dall'incarnazione storica di Cristo, intesa come storicizzazione unica e irripetibile di Dio: il "Dio Personale", relazionale e trinitario che per riparare la "frattura del peccato" causata dalla debolezza e dall'orgoglio umani esplica il proprio amore paterno (o paternalistico) facendosi storia attraverso la catarsi sacrificale di suo figlio e riassumendo a se stesso il mondo in un atto di redenzione che "identifica con l'effusione dello Spirito Santo. Dopo aver elaborato una presunta colpa si elabora quindi un conseguente perdono, che va comunque individualmente meritato attraverso la sottomissione a precise regole spirituali e morali. Tutto ciò che non si fa cannibalizzare in questo processo, tutti coloro che non accettano le regole di questo gioco ricattatorio, dettate da imperativi morali indicati come unica via per ottenere la redenzione da una misteriosa "colpa originale", vengono abbandonati alla devastante nemesi del "nemico", il Satana, la cui esistenza stessa "funzionale al progetto escatologico della salvezza. Minando questa chiave, come l'intero movimento New Age sta facendo in forma crescente (individuando una pluralità di Avatar o incarnazioni divine differenziate, viste alla base di tutti i culti, affermando l'esistenza di un significativo "peccato" e dell'idea totemica di un qualunque "Satana" e proponendo una possibile autodivinizzazione dell'Anthropos), l'intero edificio cristiano viene destituito di qualsiasi significato.

Ci sembrano perciò problematiche, quando non contraddittorie, le tesi di alcuni ricercatori o commentatori che, favorevoli o comunque connessi all'area New Age, sono orientati verso una sorta di compromesso revisionista nei confronti del Cristianesimo. Uno tra i più noti "certamente lo storico delle religioni di origine indiana Carl A. Keller dell'Università di Losanna, il cui testo sul movimento acquariano "è stato tradotto alcuni anni fa in Italia con la prefazione di Paola Giovetti. In quest'opera Keller, oltre a una serie di segnalazioni oggettivamente errate (per esempio quella secondo cui "l'uomo del New Age afferma il primato dello Spirito sulla materia"), si arrampica su molti specchi per giungere a dichiarare che il nuovo pensiero acquariano sarebbe una forma rinnovata di Cristianesimo ancora inconsapevole di se stessa, la cui funzione consisterebbe nel risvegliare e testimoniare l'autentico messaggio di Cristo di fronte al Cristianesimo delle grandi chiese ufficiali, che avrebbe perso la propria forza illuminante. Secondo Keller vi sono peraltro nella New Age "contaminazioni magiche e pagane" che devono essere identificate e rimosse per "esorcizzare" e "purificare" il movimento "da tutto ciò che "decisamente incompatibile con il Cristianesimo e che mette in ombra una comunione autentica con il Cristo". E aggiunge: "il guru che guida i figli dell'Acquario verso la perfezione altri non "che il Cristo che agisce nell'anonimato". Simili affermazioni, oltre che vagamente surreali, ci sembrano francamente estranee sia ai più maturi sviluppi della New Age sia allo spirito essenziale del Cristianesimo, mentre assomigliano molto alle dottrine di certe frange teosofiche dei primi del secolo, come l'Antroposofia di Rudolf Steiner, che "pur avendo partecipato, lo ricordavamo sopra, al generale risveglio neo-gnostico da cui il pensiero acquariano "derivato "non riuscì mai a liberarsi dall'idea ibrida che le religioni siano sã tutte ugualmente ispirate da una Gnosis comune, ma che quella cristiana sia comunque destinata a conciliarle e ad assorbirle in se stessa in quanto lâ™Avatar GesÃ Cristo avrebbe lui solo incarnato pienamente il potere del Logos. Le conclusioni che trae Keller ne rivelano poi tutta lâ™ambiguitÃ quando, dopo aver speso quasi 100 pagine nellâ™apologia della â€œsuaâ€• New Age cristiana, lâ™autore finalmente dichiara: â€œla vera Nuova Era? Il cristianesimo stesso! Il cristianesimo che resterÃ quando la â€œNuova Eraâ€™ sarÃ dimenticata e lâ™Acquario avrÃ deluso le aspettative dei suoi figliâ€•.

Rispetto a posizioni di questo genere ci sembra molto piÃ onesta e apprezzabile, anche se di parte avversa, la lucida analisi di un cattolico inossidabile come Massimo Introvigne â€” presidente del CESNUR (Centro Studi sulle Nuove Religioni) e sicuramente uno tra i principali esperti mondiali di questo e di altri problemi connessi ai nuovi movimenti religiosi e magici â€” quando in uno dei suoi molti interventi sulle nuove forme di gnosticismo contemporaneo, presenti anche (ma non soltanto) nella New Age, osserva che il grado di maggiore lontananza â€” anzi di opposizione irriducibile â€” rispetto al cristianesimo emerge da un altro aspetto del nuovo gnosticismo, che peraltro porta alle loro conseguenze estreme temi giÃ presenti nello gnosticismo antico. La â€œseparazioneâ€• nel corpo dellâ™uomo della scintilla divina (lâ™anima) dalla materia in cui Ã caduta avviene qui grazie allo sforzo dellâ™uomo e non per grazia di Dio. Si puÃ forse parlare di redenzione [...] ma si tratta di una auto-redenzione. Ã la volontÃ magica dellâ™uomo che si impadronisce dellâ™immortalitÃ, si costruisce con una tecnica lâ™anima, diventa sovrana e signora della vita e della morte, appropriandosi del potere stesso di Dio.

Se, come riteniamo di aver sufficientemente dimostrato, tutti i principali paradigmi religiosi acquariani appaiono a dir poco antitetici rispetto a qualunque formula cristiana codificata, se tutta la storia del Cristianesimo â€” da Paolo di Tarso a Giovanni Paolo II â€” Ã pervasa da una lotta sistematica e spesso cruenta contro quelle medesime idee gnostiche, magiche e sicuramente neo-pagane che oggi in una diversa forma riemergono attraverso la New Age, allora quale strano Cristianesimo potrÃ mai essere â€œnascostoâ€• allâ™interno di questo movimento come Keller sostiene? Certamente non quello di Ireneo o di Agostino di Ippona o di Tommaso dâ™Aquino, e neppure quello di Bernardino da Siena (che molto volentieri avrebbe mandato Steiner e lo stesso Keller a friggere sul rogo) o di Giovanni Bosco, ossessionato da visioni â€œsatanicheâ€•, o di Pio IX, estensore di un celebre Sillabo di aspra condanna nei confronti di qualunque libertÃ religiosa, culturale o di coscienza. E se si tratta di altro, e non ha nulla o poco a che fare con i Vangeli, con le eresie messianiche giudaiche e con la storia teologica, politica e ideologica di quella particolare religione, perchÃ chiamarlo â€œCristianesimoâ€•? Ci sembra invece evidente che la New Age come movimento metaculturale, qualunque forma o denominazione possa assumere in futuro, potrÃ dichiarare attuata la propria funzione religiosa fondamentale solo quando il monoteismo biblico e coranico in genere e il Cristianesimo in particolare, con i loro carichi di peccato, sottomissione e percezione riduttiva del Sacro, si saranno completamente estinti o trasformati in qualcosa di radicalmente diverso. E va detto che i sintomi di un simile processo antropologico dâ™implosione e collassamento della vecchia e ormai stanca spiritualitÃ patriarcale sono giÃ individuabili in molteplici aspetti della nostra societÃ complessa postmoderna.

Naturalmente sulla base della propria assoluta indipendenza spirituale ogni uomo o donna che in qualche modo aderisca ai paradigmi dellâ™Acquario potrÃ anche scegliere di â€œgiocareâ€• con il culto cristiano cosÃ come con qualsiasi altro culto, facendolo proprio e reinterpretandolo secondo il proprio personale universo interiore.

Ed Ã² precisamente questo che il Pontefice romano e gli intellettuali piÃ¹ attenti e intelligenti del mondo cristiano, soprattutto evangelici e cattolici, temono di piÃ¹, come appare evidente dalle riflessioni che abbiamo riportato. Non appena venga sfiorato dall'altare del "dragone acquariano" il cattolico o il cristiano ortodosso (a qualunque confessione o denominazione appartenga) si ritrova infatti automaticamente liberato dalla schiavitÃ¹ del proprio nume demiurgico patriarcale (la gratuita "Grazia Santificante" della teologia cattolica), divenendo cosÃ¬ almeno potenzialmente "un liberto, padrone assoluto della propria spiritualitÃ¹"; e istantaneamente finisce per non avere piÃ¹ nulla in comune con tutto quanto storicamente Ã² stato rappresentato dal Cristianesimo.

A fronte di ciÃ² Ã² inevitabile che ogni tipo di "apertura al dialogo" da parte delle chiese maggioritarie nei confronti della New Age si riveli esclusivamente come una strategia finalizzata a tentativi di recupero e rievangelizzazione. Scopo che viene peraltro apertamente dichiarato da esponenti di spicco della Chiesa come Jean Vernet, vicario generale della diocesi di Montauban e delegato dell'Episcopato francese per lo studio sulle nuove fenomenologie religiose. Il quale, tanto attento quanto ferocemente critico nei confronti della New Age, nella sua opera principale dedicata all'argomento spiega molto chiaramente come la realtÃ¹ acquariana debba essere "esorcizzata" per ricondurne le possibili componenti "buone" verso l'abbraccio del Cristianesimo.

Il risveglio della dimensione spirituale alle soglie della nuova era non Ã² quindi in sÃ© fenomeno positivo o negativo. Persino sotto la sua forma deviata esso manifesta una latente aspirazione di questa nostra generazione: il cristianesimo non lo puÃ² ignorare, ma giacchÃ© non Ã² sempre santo e puro, si rende necessario esorcizzarlo. "Discriminando tra gli spiriti". Per evangelizzarlo. Quale segno dei tempi, esso interroga il cristiano sulle forme di misticismo che gli sono proprie. "Nella misura in cui si svilupperÃ² un misticismo cristiano [...] che la ricerca spirituale di alcuni figli dell'Acquario troverÃ² una strada alternativa per evitare le trame intricate dell'irrazionale e le fantasie piÃ¹ bizzarre.

Un progetto certamente lecito dal punto di vista cattolico e che fra l'altro ricalca in qualche modo il revisionismo di Keller, sebbene osservato dall'opposto punto di vista; ma che ancora una volta ci ricorda come l'unico ecumenismo concepito dalla Chiesa di Roma sia quello che si attua sotto il controllo dei suoi templi. Non mancano certo studiosi cattolici, come in Italia i giÃ citati Terrin e Introvigne, che hanno tentato con serenitÃ¹ di giudizio, obiettivitÃ¹ e rigore culturale, e senza voler evangelizzare alcuno, di confrontarsi con la New Age, di studiarne le origini, le diverse componenti e la storia, nonchÃ© di dialogare con i suoi esponenti, senza per questo rinunciare alla propria posizione ideologica che, almeno nel caso di Introvigne, resta radicalmente antitetica. Su queste basi, eminentemente e trasversalmente culturali, un dialogo leale fra Cristianesimo e Nuove Culture acquariane Ã² possibile e certamente auspicabile, se non altro per la maturazione individuale di chi ne dovesse partecipare. Ma dev'essere chiaro che si tratta di un dialogo tra mondi diversi e che rimarranno inevitabilmente distinti, fino alla scomparsa dell'uno o dell'altro. Una maggior fermentazione di dibattiti aperti fra esponenti di culture diverse nella comune ricerca qualificerebbe la vitalitÃ¹ e lo spessore intellettuale di tutti i gruppi di pensiero coinvolti e proprio nell'irriducibile contrapposizione potrebbe generarsi quel cortocircuito dialettico circolare che in fondo appartiene al nuovo modello intellettuale olistico acquariano. Mentre sarebbe al contrario opportuna da parte degli esponenti piÃ¹ attivi e preparati della New Age una maggiore attenzione polemica e una strategia di difesa molto piÃ¹ dura e articolata della propria identitÃ¹ di fronte ad atteggiamenti di aperta demonizzazione diffamatoria e virulenta, per esempio quelli assunti in Italia da sacerdoti esorcisti come Gabriele Amorth o da antropologi, sempre e comunque di dichiarata militanza cattolica, come Cecilia Gatto Trocchi, le cui esternazioni allarmistiche da talk show e pubblicazioni pseudoscientifiche di tono popolare sulle "sette" e sui loro "pericoli" sono già state aspramente criticate da esponenti del mondo accademico e perfino da studiosi cattolici, fra cui lo stesso Introvigne.

Al di là comunque di eventuali e stimolanti dialoghi fra ricercatori il Cristianesimo nel suo complesso, per sua stessa natura, non può che percepire la New Age come una pericolosa forma di Luciferismo, e da un certo punto di vista in questo forse non è lontano dal vero, considerando che il simbolismo di Luciferò fu elaborato dai Padri della Chiesa proprio demonizzando una catena di archetipi mitici "soprattutto femminili" precedenti all'avvento antropologico patriarcale e successivamente recuperati dallo gnosticismo storico e oggi dal neo-gnosticismo e da gran parte della New Age. E vale la pena notare che fin dai primi secoli della nuova e controversa avventura cristiana le simpatie degli gnostici storici sono sempre state rivolte più verso il Serpente liberatore e dispensatore di conoscenza ("nel giorno in cui mangiaste di esso i vostri occhi si aprirebbero e diverreste come Dio conoscitori del bene e del male" - Genesi 3,5) che verso il corrucciato dittatore dell'Eden ("non mangiare dell'albero della conoscenza del bene e del male perché il giorno in cui tu ne mangiassi moriresti" - Genesi 2,17) ... e la volontà di essere Dio "l'essenza stessa della "peccatologia" cristiana.

Se poi dal piano più strettamente religioso e sacrale che nell'ambito New Age si confonde e si trasfonde costantemente nella dimensione iniziatica spostiamo il nostro sguardo verso gli aspetti filosofici, etici, scientifici, artistici e metapolitici del pensiero acquariano più sopra delineati risulta evidente che la "filosofia globale" New Age, pur nelle sue diverse forme ed espressioni, si pone in netta antitesi rispetto sia all'umanesimo cristiano che al razionalismo post illuminista, all'edonismo capitalista così come al materialismo marxista: l'accusa di snaturare le tradizioni culturali occidentali formulata da alcuni critici della New Age, come il filosofo francese Michel Lacroix dell'Università di Evry, è quindi per certi versi corretta, salvo considerare che tali tradizioni furono a loro volta lo snaturamento di paradigmi precedenti, oggi recuperati e amplificati appunto nei diversi contesti filosofici acquariani. Il conflitto millenario tra "Essere" e "Divenire", la drammatica lacerazione fra "corpo" e "anima", la percezione angosciata di essere "separati da Dio" tradotta come inesorabile solitudine esistenziale o come stimolo malfermo verso una riconquista della perduta felicità pur nella rassegnata convinzione di un'oggettiva impossibilità del suo totale compimento, la presunta consapevolezza infine della "piccolezza umana" dinanzi all'ossessione dell'Eterno, tutto questo perde ogni significato dinanzi alla sostanziale e radicale identità tra umano e divino che rappresenta lo sfondo radicale di ogni aspetto della New Age. A questo proposito l'analisi critica di Lacroix, che "denuncia" il pensiero acquariano come "pericoloso" per la stabilità della coscienza occidentale, ci sembra assolutamente attinente al di là delle sue fin troppo "laiche" e obsolete conclusioni:

dal punto di vista della cultura occidentale, la condizione umana si presenta lacerata fra due realtà antitetiche, ha dovuto subire la prova della divisione; non a caso Hegel parla di "coscienza infelice". Questa nozione emblematica di disagio della coscienza evidenzia l'insoddisfazione e l'inquietudine dell'anima occidentale che, insoddisfatta, non può impedirsi di immaginare che esista, contrapposto alla realtà, un mondo tanto perfetto quanto inarrivabile [...] Questa separazione, che è alla base della tradizione giudeo-cristiana, viene vissuta dall'Uomo in maniera crudele poiché egli avverte inconsciamente che in un'epoca lontana ha vissuto in quell'altro mondo da cui un giorno è stato scacciato. Al fondo dell'anima occidentale c'è un sentimento tragico legato a questa caduta, alla rinuncia, a una inconsolabile nostalgia [...] Il mondo della New Age non problematico, mentre il mondo occidentale, il nostro mondo, è tragico. Ma in questo mondo tragico che le nostre anime respirano la libertà e trovano le giuste motivazioni per condurre la loro battaglia per la vita. Noi sappiamo che Dio è inaccessibile, che l'infanzia è perduta con il passato, che la finitezza è il nostro destino, che non c'è rimedio alla solitudine, che la vita è una sola e non esiste altra possibilità. Ma questo sentimento tragico non è anche il grande stimolo della nostra cultura?

La contrapposizione è netta ed evidente e nel suo tentativo di delegittimare la New Age Lacroix ne ha probabilmente colto il senso profondo di tanti newagers improvvisati che con le loro semplificazioni e i loro "ceangeli" da week-end banalizzano e per molti versi appesantiscono e danneggiano il nuovo pensiero di qualsiasi inquisizione. Ci è che lo studioso francese dimentica, o finge di dimenticare, che il tragismo dualistico occidentale è datato e scavando a fondo possono essere recuperate radici e percezioni ben diverse. A un Druido celtico o a un Lucumone etrusco e non che un esempio la sua apoteosi della "frattura tragica" tra umano e divino sarebbe risultata molto più aliena di quanto a lui risulti la conclamata paganità olistica e riconciliatrice dell'Acquario. E l'Età di Aquarius si afferma proprio come un ritorno di perduti significati e percezioni della vita e della storia capaci di risanare la frattura imposta all'Occidente dalla diffusione del tragismo dualistico dei pastori di Abramo e dal cerebralismo lacerante dei commentatori di Aristotele.

Naturalmente ciò non significa disconoscere o azzerare le grandi pulsioni e realizzazioni che lo stesso attrito della frattura ha potuto generare, ma assorbirne e trasmutarne tutti gli aspetti creativi per amplificarli in una dimensione enormemente complessa. E, considerando che al paradigma della separazione si sostituisce quello dell'inclusione, anche e soprattutto gli aspetti oscuri e rimossi dell'esistenza sia spirituale che biologica vengono recuperati alla loro piena dignità. La nemesi dell'Ombra che reclama la ciclica mutazione della Luce rivendicando, per esempio, la piena realizzazione tanto spirituale quanto sociale di valori come spiritualità femminile e multisessualità, erotismo e Magia, comunione panica e animalesca con la Natura e identificazione mistica e mitica con il kosmos, nel recupero globale di tutte le qualità umane e divine rifiutate e spesso perseguitate durante gli Eoni patriarcali di Ariete e Pesci. La stessa struttura portante del pensiero occidentale, fondata sul compromesso tra fede cristiana e razionalismo scientifico, viene così radicalmente messa in crisi dalla sacralità scientifica e dalla scienza religiosa della New Age.

Psiconauti e cybernauti prometeici che tentano il volo sciamanico fra i reticoli neurali della mente e le reti virtuali del Cyberspazio, nutriti e carburati dalle antiche droghe degli Dei. Streghe amazzoni che esplorano i misteri e le occulte energie della carne cibandosi del sangue della propria vulva. Scienziati stregoni che affiancano Pitagora ai neutroni, coniugando gli arcaici sigilli della Magia con le formule quantiche di nuove cosmologie. Bardi e pitonesse omosessuali che esplorano nuove Alchimie alla ricerca dell'androgino ermetico. Archeologi gnostici che ricercano i contorni di Atlantide fra le grandi "Bestie" inscritte in cielo e astronomi illuminati che ritrovano codici stellari tra consunte tavolette sumere e variopinti pittogrammi aztechi. Medici sciamani che al rullio di antichi tamburi cercano il segreto musicale e terapeutico delle cellule e magisti del Caos che tra le griglie di complessi frattali ricercano le forme indescrivibili di architetture viventi capaci d'abbracciare gli orgasmi pulsanti della Madre Terra. Raffinate tecnologie informatiche al centro di boschi sacri. Piramidi egizie clonate come cristalli pensanti. Danze orgiastiche alternate ad ascetiche meditazioni... Tecnologie rituali e magie di laboratorio che già sembrano evocare inquietanti risposte nella stessa Natura visibile, sempre più percorsa da quei fenomeni spontanei di aggressiva alterità su cui il genio di Jung aveva posato l'attenzione: luci e macchine di eco mitologica nei cieli, sulle terre e nei mari di tutto il mondo; strani e immensi sigilli spirroidali che compaiono come tatuaggi di Gaia tra campi coltivati, deserti e praterie; forme di antichi Dei e arcaici totem neolitici che riemergono da lucenti astronavi simboliche in veste di demoni alieni; percorsi lancinanti che dalle saghe misteriche del Graal portano fino alle misteriose entità animate che sembrano orchestrare la scenografia degli UFO e che lasciano intravedere indicibili promesse di immortalità, avventura e poesia galattica. Mentre nuove forme di coscienza sognano e invocano alternative dimensioni di Realtà, dai reami ancora insondati del Mistero qualcosa o qualcuno sembra cominciare a rispondere...

Tutto questo e altro ancora è di cui le nuove Gnosi e in parte la New Age sono portatrici e reifica e incarna modelli e fenomeni antropologici decisamente esplosivi e corrosivi, che propongono una diversa percezione del mondo e della vita. Nuove sapienze, speculazioni ed emozioni; esplorazioni virtuali, immaginali, multidimensionali; inebrianti tenerezze, abbandoni, comunioni ed eccitanti esaltazioni di potenza e azione; inedite problematicità; mutazioni psichiche, fisiologiche e sessuali polimorfiche e complesse; paradossi etici indefinibili e forse nuove forme di piacere o di dolore; indecifrabili santità o crudeltà; estasi cosmiche che possono confinare con l'onnipotenza delle energie naturali o con l'orrore del vuoto stellare... Modelli sicuramente estremi e forse pericolosi, ma che nell'abbondanza di sapore dell'avventura titanica e luciferica amplificano e interconnettono ogni pulsione creativa del passato fino a distruggerne limiti e confini. E che inevitabilmente fanno apparire ogni nostalgica resistenza dell'ormai logoro vecchio mondo lineare, dualistico, fideistico, nonch  bellicoso, lacerato, violento, o ancora disperatamente materialistico, algido, razionale in una luce quasi patetica di polverosa obsolescenza.

Le ovvie ricadute sociali e politiche di un simile sommovimento spirituale definitesi nel corso del tempo sotto forma di quel generale e trasversale universalismo anarchico che anche indipendentemente dalla New Age in senso stretto sembra fermentare in espressioni sempre pi  evidenti da un capo all'altro del mondo rappresentano a loro volta un inquietante motivo di allarme per ogni forma di totalitarismo o imperialismo, sia di tipo religioso che meramente edonistico o demagogico. In particolare gli enormi interessi economici di grandi chiese istituzionali: prima fra tutte la Chiesa Cattolica Romana, il cui nutrimento finanziario ed enorme prestigio sociale, dipendendo interamente dall'accettazione incondizionata e fideistica dei suoi paradigmi mitici da parte del tessuto sociale, rischiano pesantissimi contraccolpi per l'esodo crescente di fedeli verso realtà spirituali diverse e per l'affermarsi pi  o meno diretto del relativismo religioso New Age. La messa in discussione del colonialismo religioso operato dalle Missioni, la rivalutazione culturale delle religiosità pagane autoctone e la nascita di movimenti di revisione teologica interni alla stessa Chiesa non possono poi che rappresentare ulteriori gravi preoccupazioni per i vertici delle principali istituzioni cristiane.

Quanto al settore artistico la New Age Music propriamente detta   ancora un fenomeno parziale e spesso balbettante, nonché generalmente privo di quella autentico spessore catartico che tipifica ogni autentica rivoluzione estetica. Il filone musicale che porta questo nome coglie quasi esclusivamente alcuni elementi e non sempre i più interessanti della nuova sensibilità e con la sua enfasi sul relax come antidoto allo stress risente inevitabilmente delle spietate leggi del network di massa, che tende a rispondere ai bisogni elementari della collettività che a creare nuovi stimoli. Eppure i germi fecondi del Nuovo Pensiero sono presenti in questo come in altri habitat dell'espressione artistica acquariana, e si potrebbe altresì notare che interi percorsi dell'arte contemporanea in tutte le sue espressioni, dal Surrealismo al Rock, sembrano convibrare molto di più e molto meglio con l'immersione dei nuovi paradigmi. Tanto che alcuni tra gli aspetti più interessanti della sensibilità olistica appaiono al momento maggiormente anche se forse inconsciamente presenti all'interno di realtà artistiche ampiamente diffuse ma dissacratorie (sperimentali o di avanguardia) che non nelle manieristiche e spesso soporifere melodie prodotte e commercializzate in serie con targa New Age. In questo senso si può sperare che un nuovo, onnivoro cannibalismo artistico sappia coniugare e integrare le sue varie componenti generando effettive reversioni di sensibilità estetica capaci di mettere definitivamente in crisi gli stessi concetti di bellezza e di armonia che supportano la visione sia cristiana che razionale del mondo.

PAROLA D'ORDINE: CONNESSIONE

Ogni nuova formula culturale, per quanto raffinata e potenzialmente ricca di prospettive, mostra al suo sorgere momenti e fasi fisiologiche di crisi, ingenuità contenutistiche e bizzarre patologiche che ricalcano il balbettio ma anche la purezza dell'infanzia. Certamente il movimento che viene oggi definito New Age (ma all'interno del quale spesso ci si rifiuta di incapsularsi in tale definizione), oltre che per i suoi entusiastici progetti, per le sue stimolanti idee-forza e per i suoi indubitabili successi nell'aver ormai sensibilmente modificato i rapporti dell'immaginario collettivo occidentale con il Sacro, si è anche caratterizzato per le molte superficialità, per la frequente mancanza di un autentico spessore culturale, nonché per l'eccessiva frammentazione. E soprattutto si è connotato ma anche largamente diffuso per la sua evidente involuzione commerciale, che abbandonandosi alla contaminazione dei network americani ha generato una sorta di supermercato del Magico e del Sacro, riproducendo così un paradigma capitalistico che ha ben poco di acquariano con i suoi innumerevoli corsi a pagamento per raggiungere l'illuminazione o per ricordare le vite precedenti, i suoi guru miliardari, i suoi cristalli onnipotenti, il suo channeling indiscriminato, le sue piramidi tuttofare...

Tutto questo ha naturalmente portato numerose frecce agli archi più o meno obiettivi dei vari censori religiosi o razionalisti, che di tale involuzione hanno fatto la loro arma più efficace, come recentemente riconosciuto e lamentato, tra gli altri, da David Spangler, personalità di spicco del pensiero acquariano negli USA. È tuttavia proprio attraverso il business commerciale di iniziative per molti versi mediocri (come il romanzo di James Redfield La profezia di Celestino) che alcuni importanti modelli di pensiero della New Age hanno conosciuto nei trascorsi anni '90 e continuano a conoscere oggi, oltre i bastioni del fatidico anno 2000 una diffusione di massa senza precedenti, scatenando così nell'attualità europea e, per quanto ci riguarda, in quella italiana un fenomeno che comunque appare in fase di trasformazione alle soglie della transizione millenaria. Mentre la presunta recessione del New Age, che ricercatori quali lo statunitense Gordon Melton e Massimo Introvigne, entrambi del CESNUR, hanno ritenuto di constatare analizzando alcune flessioni del network americano e lo sviluppo di nuove formule derivate, ci sembra francamente un falso problema. Vi sono da decenni nel mondo innumerevoli movimenti e gruppi i quali, pur aderendo del tutto o in parte ai paradigmi acquariani, rifiutano decisamente l'etichetta New Age, che in effetti sembra piú amata dai media che da coloro che ne condividono i contenuti. Nulla di strano quindi nel fatto che sorgano nuove denominazioni tendenti a privilegiare una componente o l'altra del paradigma acquariano nel suo complesso, come la Next Age di cui da qualche tempo si parla o il Revival Arcaico teorizzato dall'esperto di sciamanismo Terence McKenna, uno dei principali punti di riferimento americani dell'onda acquariana, il quale da sempre dichiara di ritenere inadeguata la denominazione New Age.

Le esperienze italiane della comunit -stato di Damanhur in Piemonte o delle diverse iniziative editoriali e comunitarie di un precursore come Bernardino del Boca e, piú recentemente, del Villaggio Globale in Toscana, realt  tutte in cui s'incarnano alcuni tra gli aspetti piú creativi e maturi della New Age, ci dimostrano inoltre come la terra italica, che fu del resto la culla storica del Rinascimento magico e alchemico, abbia ancora molto da offrire nel quadro di un Nuovo Rinascimento, di cui la New Age propriamente detta non   che una sfaccettatura.

La formazione di un Nuovo Paradigma o di una Rete di Paradigmi Interconnessi implica per  la necessit  di definire isole paradigmatiche (fuori e dentro i circuiti accademici), cio  spazi e ambienti in cui le vecchie idee, quali esse siano, vengano comprese alla luce di nuove formule e poi eventualmente superate o amplificate, senza la frenesia del "nuovo a tutti i costi" e soprattutto evitando contaminazioni con il modello millenarista cristiano di attesa "messianica". Secondo i suoi stessi presupposti la Nuova Era non sopraggiunger  infatti come una sorta di "edono del cielo", ma dovr  essere costruita attivamente e prometicamente da tutti coloro che ne percepiscono e ne percepiranno l'emersione archetipica.

Come ricordava ancora Thomas Kuhn nella sua opera fondamentale La struttura delle rivoluzioni scientifiche non   del resto possibile creare un nuovo paradigma se non sullo sfondo del vecchio, altrimenti diventa solo crescita disordinata e distruttiva. Da qui l'importanza di ritrovare gli sfondi arcaici dalla permutazione, spesso involutiva, dai quali sorsero gli stessi paradigmi obsoleti della Vecchia Era che oggi dobbiamo superare. In questo senso lo spirito migliore e l'implicita chiave metaculturale della New Age potrebbero essere classificati come l'anticipazione militante di un autentico Nuovo Rinascimento Magico Globale.

Ecco perch  risulta di fondamentale importanza la connessione fra tutte le componenti in gioco: societ  e tradizioni iniziatiche coinvolte nel Rinascimento neognostico e neo-magico, comunit  libere e spontanee del Nuovo Pensiero, istanze metapolitiche e umanistiche postmoderne, personalit  e ricerche della Nuova Scienza, realizzazioni e ricadute filosofiche delle Nuove Tecnologie... e altro ancora che forse risulta al momento difficile individuare e classificare. Una simile sinergia dinamica sarebbe certo in grado di generare un Pensiero Forte all'interno del quale potrebbero incontrarsi anche correnti postmoderne di pensiero molto piú aggressive e radicali, ma implicitamente acquariane, quali ad esempio il cyberpunk, il neo-femminismo radicale e il paganesimo neo-gnostico, nonch  comunit  di ricerca parascientifica come quelle ufologica e parapsicologica: una vastissima popolazione di realt  spirituali, culturali e sociali che allo stato attuale, pur avanzando a volte non del tutto consapevolmente su coordinate simili e talvolta identiche a quelle "acquariane", si trovano spesso molto lontane dalla New Age propriamente detta. Occorre allora sviluppare la capacit  di comprendere lo sfondo comune e interpretarne i segnali sia antropologici che metastorici: una sfida culturale e un'avventura spirituale che valgono certamente la pena di essere vissute. La percezione antropologicamente estesa dello sfondo potrà infatti abbattere divisioni o controversie tra le diverse "partiti" del nuovo Rinascimento e dissipare assurdi complessi d' "inferiorità", fin troppo diffusi negli ambienti alternativi, rispetto allo scientismo dominante e alle fedi istituzionali ormai morenti.

Da parte nostra consigliamo ai ricercatori più tendenzialmente eclettici e meno contaminati da un certo "angelismo" dolciastro e cristianoide, tipico della peggiore New Age, di studiare i testi autentici della tradizione magica ed ermetico-alchemica sia classica che rinascimentale e in seguito i testi fondamentali in cui si "incarnato il risveglio neo-pagano moderno, di cui il pensiero acquariano nella sua globalità non che un particolare sviluppo. Opere sistematiche d' "immenso interesse come quelle dei magisti Aleister Crowley e Giuliano Kremmerz, ai quali principalmente si devono le moderne rinascenze contemporanee del pensiero magico nei suoi vari aspetti sia tradizionali che innovativi; o degli esoteristi Schwaller de Lubicz e Georges Gurdjieff, le cui grandi costruzioni teoretiche e operative restano rispettivamente, in forme più o meno dichiarate, alla base del rinnovato interesse per le tradizioni egizia e sciamanico-caucasica; o degli occultisti e antropologi autodidatti Godfrey Leland e Gerald Gardner, principali iniziatori della neo-stregoneria moderna; e ancora le trattazioni più recenti di autori prolifici ed esponenti rivoluzionari del pensiero magico come Kenneth Grant, Michael Bertiaux, Peter Carroll o Maggie Crosby, per non citarne che alcuni, personalità di spicco della cultura neo-agnostica contemporanea e tuttora viventi, anche se certamente meno noti e pubblicizzati di un James Redfield o di un Paulo Coelho, soprattutto in Europa.

Per quanto poi attiene alla cultura più propriamente "accademica" accanto a Leary o a McKenna gioverebbe a chi ricerca sfondi culturali appropriati all' "approccio acquariano accostarsi, per esempio, alle opere di un Ernesto De Martino o di un Mircea Eliade, che offrono materiali molto più preziosi e fecondi di molta letteratura pseudoacquariana d' "accatto. O ancora scorrere le pagine di genialità eclettiche quali gli psicologi e psicoterapeuti Erich Neumann e Wilhelm Reich, con le loro ricerche inimitabili sui fondamenti inconsci del mito il primo e sulle energie biologiche della sessualità il secondo; il biochimico Albert Hofmann, scopritore dell' "LSD e del suo utilizzo enteogeno; l' "etnomitologo Joseph Campbell; e infine l' "archeologa Marija Gimbutas, le cui ricerche su arcaiche realtà culturali hanno fornito base scientifica alla dichiarata esistenza di culture pre-patriarcali, o la teologa americana ex cattolica Mary Daly, teorizzatrice della "castrazione di Dio" in nome di un Rinascimento spirituale femminile di tonalità anche omoerotica. Mentre nel nostro panorama italiano non dovrebbero essere ignorate da chi intende abbracciare la totalità del Nuovo Pensiero operazioni culturali "di confine" sul recupero delle tradizioni esoteriche "come quella effettuata da El "mire Zolla " e dell' "intero filone ermetico e metaculturale, curato da Roberto Calasso tramite l' "editrice Adelphi che già da alcuni anni, proprio per il suo impegno di diffusione della cultura neo-agnostica, viene violentemente attaccata da cattolici integralisti come Maurizio Blondet, con la comica quanto scontata accusa di essere al centro di un "complotto satanico"!

La Connesione auspicabile per un' "effettiva reificazione del Nuovo Rinascimento dovrebbe prevedere in questo senso un' "inclusività cannibalesca e una virtuale conciliazione di tutte le contraddizioni. E paradossalmente "proprio analizzando, come qui abbiamo voluto fare, alcune tra le più colte e acute "contestazioni" rispetto al Nuovo Pensiero formulate dagli "avversari", soprattutto religiosi, che più essere ritrovata la Chiave della Nuova Forza. Spesso quanto viene evidenziato da costoro come "pericoloso" o "distorto" o "inquietante" nella New Age rappresenta esattamente ciò di cui gli esponenti di questo pensiero dovrebbero maggiormente compiacersi e che dovrebbero irresistibilmente alimentare: come aver «perso» il senso del tragico e del «peccato», o abbracciato un relativismo etico ed estetico, o esaltato valori che per la Vecchia Era rappresentavano il «male» , quali libidine, orgoglio, curiosità , scetticismo, sete di conoscenza, rifiuto di ogni autorità , anarchia... Ricordando, come scriveva il succitato antesignano della New Age Aleister Crowley, che «èl»unico Peccato » la Restrizione».

Occorre dunque che gli esponenti della New Age evitino di trasformarsi in ci² che non vogliono essere, e che non hanno mai voluto essere, per diventare efficacemente concorrenziali sia alle scienze sia alle fedi ormai superate, raggiungendo cos⁻¹ una maggiore consapevolezza della propria alterità e dell'importanza di mantenere quella loro marginalità aliena capace di trasformarsi in una Spirale il cui Centro » ovunque.

Se la New Age s'indirizzerà ulteriormente sulle direttrici del business e del network pragmatico non rappresenterà alla fine che la componente corticale e transitoria di un processo di mutazione epocale ben pi¹ ampio e radicale, che sembra comunque previsto e ineluttabile nel codice genetico dell'umanità futura. Se invece le personalità e i movimenti guida dell'Acquario sapranno costantemente ricercare e riscoprire le proprie origini e amplificare le interconnessioni tra le diverse componenti del paradigma, generando costantemente nuove qualità e nuovi mondi di pensiero, di scienza e di esperienza, allora il «fenomeno» New Age potrà crescere travolgendo ogni sclerotica resistenza e rappresentare lo sfondo brulicante e fertilizzante di una Rivoluzione Globale. Il Paradigma Complesso della New Age, magari liberandosi dalle strettoie di un'etichetta ormai troppo codificata, potrebbe allora rappresentare la parte integrante di un'Ultima Rivoluzione del Pensiero e della Storia; dopo il suo eventuale affermarsi non vi sarebbe infatti pi¹ nulla da rivoluzionare: tutto infatti nell'Uomo, nella Donna e nella Natura sarebbe in continua, costante rivoluzione spiroidale, espansiva, dinamica, volumetrica, proiettata verso una dilatazione orgiastica senza fine.

FANCY SOME ILLUMINATI EGYPTIAN THEATRE?

Posted on Saturday, October 28, 2006 at 03:02PM by  [Your Name Here] |  Post a Comment

EGYPTIAN MASONRY RECEPTION OF A COMPANION PREPARATION OF THE LODGE

The lodge should be decorated with draperies of white, sky blue and gold.

The throne of the Venerable should be raised five steps above a dais of white, blue and gold.

The Altar is before the throne; upon it there should be two covered crystal vases, one containing gold colored leaves, the other red wine; beside these there should be a crystal spoon. Above the throne a blazing star of seven points; in the star the name of God and in each of the points the name of one of the first seven angels, in Hebrew characters, embroidered in gold.

In the center of the lodge, facing the throne, there is drawn on the floor a circle six feet in diameter.

The candidate should be prepared with gloves trimmed with blue ribbon and wear a sash of sky blue moire of the width of a stole, and of sufficient length. This sash should be placed under the arm pits, and the two gold fringed ends should hang on the left side.

TABLEAU OF THE LODGE

A large heart should occupy the center of the tableau; in the heart there should be represented a temple; above the heart, on either side the sun and the moon shedding their rays on the heart.

In the lower part of the tableau, there should be painted a Master wrestling with Mercury, into whose heart he has plunged his sword.

To the right of the Master appears the rough cubic and triangular stones and a trowel.

To the left, on the ground, near Mercury, the caduceus, a poniard and a crushed serpent.

The tableau should be lighted by twelve candles, disposed three and three along the four sides.

REGALIA OF THE VENERABLE

In addition to the Venerable of the Lodge, there is always a 186

Deputy Venerable, or substitute for the Venerable in the middle chamber, who should be clothed in a talare with stole worn like that of a priest, with his cordon, his plate, his white shoes, his sword, etc.

The Masters have the privilege of not assisting in the middle chamber, but it will always be necessary that there be at least two present to accompany and do honor to the Deputy Chief and they are obliged to be in uniform, with sword in hand.

THE CHAMBER OF REFLECTION

The furniture and decoration of this room should be black and very somber. The tableau or backdrop should represent Wisdom in the figure of Minerva, accompanied by a young man garbed as apprentice. She shows him on one side the riches which are to be abandoned and on the other the Temple, consecrated to the Eternal, which is in the distance. The road which leads to the Temple is filled with chains and implements of punishment, and one sees here the three furies menacing the candidate and giving the appearance of repulsing him.

At the bottom of that tableau are written these words: "The brave are always happy."

The candidate having completed his three years of apprenticeship, he will be announced to the Venerable, bearing a certificate provided by the Venerable of the apprentice lodge. He will be clothed in a talare.

He will be placed in the Chamber of Reflections, where he will be left to himself for a half hour to meditate in silence concerning the objects he sees before him. The Orator will then join him to assist and aid him to come to the true knowledge of God, of himself and of the intermediaries between God and Man. He will tell him that except for the wisdom given him as a guide, man will not know enough to take the road which leads to eternity, but will abandon it and find himself exposed to his doom and be repulsed by the furies, which shunning the good and truth, will plunge him into the shades and misery.

The Orator will plead with and exhort the candidate by all manner of means to reflect well before entering upon the labors of a companion and to think of the past, present, and future and will call his attention to the words at the bottom of the tableau and will give him a detailed explanation of all the objects depicted in the tableau.

The Orator will then return to the Temple, make his report and assure himself that it is approved by the Venerable and the rest of the Lodge.

When the candidate is ready to enter, his hair should be disheveled and he should be deprived of all metallic substances. In that condition, the Inspector and the Orator will accompany him to the door of the lodge, and the Inspector will knock five times. The Venerable will ask "Who knocks?"

The Inspector will enter and answer, that it is an apprentice who has completed three years, and who bearing a certificate from his master, prays the Venerable for admission to the degree of Companion.

During this time, the candidate and Orator wait without the Temple.

OPENING OF THE LODGE

The Venerable having taken his place, absolute silence is to be observed, it is forbidden to blow one's nose, and even more, to talk.

When the Venerable rises, all his assistants do likewise. He will have his sword in his right hand and say, "To order, my brothers; In the name of the great God, let us open the Lodge according to the ritual and the constitutions of our founder!"

The remainder of the brothers bow their heads in profound silence.

The Venerable will descend from his throne and place himself before the altar, on his knees, and fixing his eyes on the name of God written in the blazing star, will bow deeply, as will all the brothers, to adore Deity.

188

The Venerable will particularly pray for wisdom, strength and power.

Each, in his heart, will recite the hymn "Veni Creator."

The Venerable will then rise, the brothers likewise, all in deep silence and each takes his place.

Then the inspector will open the door, take the candidate by the left hand and, placing a lighted candle in his right, will conduct him before the Venerable and place him in the center of the circle near the throne.

The Venerable will say to the candidate, "My son, after three years of proof and labor you are without doubt ready to be deprived of human curiosity. I think, and I believe with certainty, that you approach us with no profane motive, but that you cannot hide from us the zeal with which you desire to know the nature and virtue of the power which is confided to us.

"Without doubt, you have observed, yourself, that you were elevated to Divinity, and that you were drawn near to it. You are a newcomer to the recognition of your own individuality, of its moral part, of the physical portion and you have searched to find the intermediaries, which God has placed between Himself and you. Answer?"

The candidate lowers his head, and two brothers, placed one on each side, have each a censer which wafts a perfume and purifies him with its fumes, while the Venerable explains to the candidate in these words:

"I would thus purify your physical and moral parts, The perfume is emblematical of that purification.

After the purification the Venerable will continue to question the candidate:

"My son, are you well determined to pursue the course you have undertaken; is your moral sense sufficiently strengthened and is it your true, sincere and good intention to approach closer and closer to Divinity and arrive at a perfect knowledge of yourself and of the sanctity to the power which is confided to us? Answer."

189

The candidate nods again; the Venerable rises and causes him to kneel, to receive his obligation, which is never to reveal the mysteries which were confided and disclosed to him, and to obey his superiors blindly.

After the obligation, the Venerable will strike him three times on the right shoulder with his sword and will say:

"By the power which I hold from the great Founder of our Order, and by the grace of God, I confer on you the degree of Companion, and will make you a guardian of the new knowledge which you will share with us through the sacred names, Helios, Melios and the Tetragrammaton."

When the Venerable pronounces these names his assistants will kneel and deeply bow their heads; at each of the names the Venerable will strike the candidate once on the right shoulder; that done the assistants rise and surround the candidate, who remains on his knees in preparation for receiving the several matters.

Then the Venerable, taking in the crystal spoon a spoonful of the red liquid contained in one of the vases, carries it to the mouth of the candidate who drinks the wine and elevates his spirits in order to understand the following discourse, which is being delivered at the same time by the Venerable:

"My son, you are receiving the first matter; understand the blindness and dejection of your first state; now then, you should forget yourself; all will be well for you both within and without. Now that you have taken some steps in the recognition of your individuality, learn that the great God created that primary matter before man, and later created man to possess that matter and be immortal; that man abused it and so destroyed it, but that it remains forever in the hand of the elected of God and that a single grain of this precious matter can project itself to infinity.

"The acacia, which was given us in the ordinary Master Mason degree, is nothing else but that precious matter and the slain Adoniram is the liquid part which it was necessary to slay with that poniard. It is with the knowledge and assistance of the great God, that you will attain to that wealth."

The Venerable lifts the vase with the leaves of gold, which he disperses with his breath and adds: ". . .and there is nothing more than that wealth."

The assistants respond "Sic transit gloria mundi".

The candidate rises and the Venerable, holding the blue cincture, restates the words in these terms:

"The degree to which we have just elevated you presents new labors, of which the color of this cincture is an emblem, and which will serve to remind constantly that you should hereafter renounce all earthly things that you may attain the celestial." He will then present the gloves and say:

"You are already acquainted with their use, and their border is the distinctive mark of your progress in our order." The Venerable will continue:

"My son, we have words, signs and grips which serve in meeting one another, and these were established by our great founder. "Your degree is characterized by the response 'I am', which you will give to a person who asks 'Who are you?' .

"The grip consists of taking the right hand of him who asks you, while placing your left hand on your heart and inclining the head.

"The sign is to open the mouth while inhaling and exhaling loudly at the same time looking skyward"

While demonstrating the sign to the candidate the Venerable inhales and exhales loudly three times and says: "and I, by my breath, consecrate you a new man, a man totally different from what you were previously and which you will be from hence forward."

The Venerable will finish with a short lecture at his discretion, and deliver the new companion into the care of the orator, together with an order to explain the tableau by means of the catechism.

After the discourse by the orator the candidate will be placed at the foot of the Lodge facing the Venerable, and his brothers will chant the "Te Deum". That hymn being concluded, the Venerable will rehearse the motto to confirm the discourse of the orator, and after the adoration of the Eternal One, will close the Lodge.

CATECHISM OF COMPANION OF THE EGYPTIAN LODGE

Q.-Are you a Companion?

A.-I am, with the proof in my spirit.

Q.-What is that proof?

A.-My belief in God, in his intermediary, in the sacred rose and the knowledge of myself.

Q.-How have you penetrated into the Temple of Companion, and what did you observe?

A.-It is not without trembling that I dare answer such a matter; it is so sublime, so superior to the ordinary knowledge of mortals, that I cannot speak of it, except with reserve and apprehension. Increase my courage and my strength by your confidence, as I have need for power to enter with you into the grand mysteries, that you require that I unfold for you.

Q.-Since you have faith in the sacred rose, do you then recognize the primary matter?

A.-I will never doubt its existence, but I am as yet not aware of all the implications of its miraculous effects.

Q.-What is your age?

A.- Thirty-three years, with the hope of returning to youth and to reach it spiritually in the year 5557.

Q.-Did you find much happiness in your forty days of meditation and prayer?

A.-No, but I know of the reason for it and its purpose.

Q.-What are they?

A-Every man who wishes to travel with profit in natural and supernatural philosophy, must build in his heart a temple to the Eternal and search to regenerate himself not only physically but also morally. It is necessary that he employ all his efforts to discover the apostle and the celebrant of the grandeur and the Omni-potence of God; he is obliged in the highest degree to hide and render his individuality impenetrable to all profanes.

The Eternal, in creating the primary matter, has endowed it with such perfection, that it alone can serve and prolong the years of mortals, that which it accomplishes through the redemption and the conduct of the forty days with a love for the natural and spiritual being.

For the spiritual or natural operation, forty days is the time both determined and necessary to perfect our morality and bring us to the desired age."

This spiritual regeneration consummated and perfected, we have no further need for protection or security from any mortal and one will be principal and master, and with the continuance of the grace of the Eternal one can conserve that power, so long as one conforms scrupulously to that which I will show you.

Q.-You have such obligations. I find myself unable to assure you have mercy .You will be able to count on my discretion and my obedience. May the sword of the destroying angel punish me, if I should fail my promise.

A.-I command you anew to execute, word for word, what I prescribe, because in following literally the method and the rules of our Founder, you will never err.

Here are the seven commandments :

1st. Outside the temple; one never explains or interprets anything except physically; while in the temple, one explains everything morally and not physically.

2nd. Never, under any pretext whatever, does one raise any question about any childish, vain or curious object, even should it be to the advantage of the moral or the physical.

3rd. It is expressly forbidden to question or ask questions about persons mortal or passed on to immortality, on any point which might injure the reputation or harm the fraternity.

4th. Being an active Master, one must never, no matter what the motive, answer any question raised either by himself or another, concerning the society. The great Founder having ordered formally that any given question should be clearly stated, and explained, without any reservations whatever after the manner that the assistants intend and understand.

5th. The labors of the Order being consecrated to the Eternal, each individual, out of respect, should guard his celibacy on the day of the lodge meeting. .

6th. If through prejudice or rumor a brother finds himself affected or tormented by a scruple, he will be obliged to resort at once to the head of his group to receive explanation and tranquillity.

7th. Since not all that is carried to the Temple is moral, it is necessary upon entering it, to leave behind all mundane things and to bend all his efforts and his soul to the eternal. That is the condition which will be able to render us fit to 'Profit by the language and lessons of the immortals.

Q.-Will the practice of these commandments suffice me?

A.-If you continue to conduct yourself properly, and wait patiently the time fixed for the degree; if after you have broken the chains and penetrated into the interior of our sacred sanctuary, you attain a place among the elect, you will then be able to hope to merit the grace of becoming an active Master, and to see the crowning of your desire.

Q.-What must I retain of these charges and what labors must I undertake ?

A.- You must obey patiently and with zeal the orders of your chief, and give him constant proof of your respect and your faith in God; of your attachment to our Order and of your love for your neighbor.

Redouble your efforts to cleanse yourself., not by austerity, privation or outward penitence; it is not the body which is to be mortified and be made to suffer; it is the spirit and the heart which will render us good and pure. It is these which will rid you inwardly of all vices and fill you with love of virtue.

Apply yourself to develop the great mysteries found in the circle of the four cardinal points, because without that knowledge, you will never be admitted to that which is indispensable; to learn the names and signs which are found on the angles of the sacred star, and which are the chiefs in each hierarchy.

Remember always, that those notables and powers who will be the spiritual creatures, are those men who have become immortal, or passed to immortality and remember also that you will become idolatrous and guilty before God, if you should ever give to any of these any sign of adoration. There is no other supreme being, save only God, Eternal; He is all, He is the one unique, who will both love and serve all beings, be they spirits; immortals who have lived, now live, or will live; although they are his subjects, his servitors and his inferiors.

Observe with care the movements, the positions and the words of the acting master during the conferring of this degree. Note the stroke of the right foot as he taps the floor, the perfect sign which he gives, the noble and majestic mien with which the same is presented, the force and energy with which they are expressed.

Q.- Why that position of the acting Master? Is it necessary?

A.- Because man having been created by God, in his own image, he is superior to all other creatures; because while he works it is the expression of the power God has granted him and which, while never done with hauteur, should nevertheless demonstrate the grandeur and nobility of his actions; his persuasion, his triumph and his glory. There is no sign of pride or arrogance, but of nobleness, strength, and dignity which inspire confidence. Do not even imitate or injure yourself like those hypocrites who always on their knees, their eyes lowered, and the body bent, never speak except with exclamation while doing nothing except with baseness. Although respect and sweetness are on their lips, insolence, envy and arrogance are in their hearts.

Q.- What is the significance of the rap on the floor with the right foot?

195

A.- That the acting Master at that moment raises his spirit to God, and that he is shedding the physical part, that he may be occupied by nothing but his moral part.

Q.- Why does he raise his right hand with the fingers extended, and hold the left to the rear ?

A.- To let his assistants know that while the Supreme Being is overcoming chaos, it calls for that attitude.

Q.- Why does he whimper and pronounce the word Heloym?

A.- To teach you that the Eternal, through a perfect sign and with that single word, grants the eternal life to the primal matter, through his intermediaries, and to man. Heloym signifies, I wish and I order that my will be done, and that all shall be done accordingly.

Q.- In the tableau, what is the significance of the temple placed in the middle of the heart?

A.- That there is no place but in the heart, that one must erect a temple to the Eternal.

Q.- Why do the sun and moon shine on the heart?

A.- That you may learn that you can never be perfect, until your body shall have been purified by the celestial fire contained in the primal matter.

Q.- What is the significance of the assassination of Mercury by a Master ?

A.- It is the emblem of the first physical operation absolutely necessary and indispensable.

Q.- What do the three stones signify?

A.- It means that in order that primal matter may become perfect, it is necessary that it be proved by three different changes.

Q.- What is the purpose of, and why must I always wear, the vestment known as "talare"?

A.- Man having regenerated morally and physically, regains the great power which was destroyed by the loss of his innocence. That power gains for him spiritual vision and primarily it recalls that the physical vestment of every man who is consecrated to the Eternal must wear the "talare". It is that which in all religions and at all times and places was worn by the sacrificients, the priests and those men devoted to God. Although the ordinary clothing is sufficient for the profane, it is not enough for us. Since ours should be perfect and sacred, it is necessary that it had been blessed and consecrated by the spiritual beings and the intermediaries who are between God and us.

Q.- How is it possible for our vestments to become consecrated the same as the vestments we are wearing?

A.- By making yourself fit to wear it and by being witness to the communication between man and the intermediaries.

Q.- Where is the place of this celestial traffic between the spiritual beings and man?

A.- Inside the temple where you acquired the greatest knowledge.

Q.- Can I receive this as well in my own apartment?

A.- No, but here is something which it is permissible for me to give you for your consolation. When the period of your labors as companion terminate and your good conduct proven, you will be admitted inside that temple. There you will find a chief vested with the authority and supreme power to purify you according to the laws of the Founder, and give the consecration of all those things which are necessary.

RECEPTION OF MASTER OF THE INTERIOR OF THE EGYPTIAN LODGE PREPARATION OF THE LODGE

The Lodge should be decorated in sky blue and gold; it should be decorous, well arranged and well lighted. The throne is elevated three steps and should be occupied by two persons representing Solomon and the King of Tyre. At their feet should be a blue cushion, embroidered in gold, with four loops also of gold, and on the cushion is an epee or sword, having the guard on hilt in silver gilt and the blade also in silver gilt with the seven planets engraved on each side.

The covering of the throne should be blue, fringed with gold; behind and above the head of the Venerable, on a piece of blue silk, there should be a star of seven points bearing in the center the name, Jehovah. This star and the name should be embroidered in gold, the star surrounded by rays embroidered in spangles of gold.

There should be for the recipient of this degree a large red cord; gloves trimmed in the same color and an apron of white lamb skin, doubled and bordered with flame-colored sarin, with rosettes of the same color in the four corners, and in the center a globe of gold, traversed by the zodiac, with the signs of the seven planets embroidered in silk. This globe is suspended in the blazing star of the seven angels by means of a loop of silver.

TABERNACLE

The Tabernacle should be over the throne, facing the lodge. Its exterior should be hidden by a great glory whose rays are of gilded wood. On the right side is a small window closed by a slide, and on the left side is a door with a small stairway, opening into the room. In its arrangement, dimensions and proportions it should conform to the tabernacle of the mother lodge.

TABLEAU

In the upper part of the tableau, there should be represented a phoenix in the center of a burning pyre. Under the phoenix, a sword with a cross of St. Andrew, together with the caduceus of Mercury. Below the sword and caduceus, at one side, Time in the guise of a fine, robust, old man having large wings at his shoulders; and on the other, facing Time, a Mason dressed as a Master in a green frock coat; hussar type boots and a red cordon; and in his right hand a sword prepared to strike off the wings of Time. At the right of the Mason is an overturned hour glass and broken scythe of Time.

VESTMENTS OF THE VENERABLE

The two principals, or Venerables, should each be clothed in a white talare with sky blue stole bordered with fine gold lace and having embroidered in gold along its length the names of the seven angels. At its ends each stole should have embroidered in the same manner the sacred name of God. A fringe of gold finishes each end.

198

The great red cordon supports by its two ends a plaque which should be embroidered with stitches of silver, showing a rose in the center, bearing the inscription "Primal Matter" and below the mottoes "I believe in the rose".

They also wear their hair short, and their feet are clad in slippers or sandals, white in color, embroidered and tied with a blue ribbon or rosette. These are without buckles. The two Venerables should be clothed in their vestments by the Masters who during this time chant the "Te Deum". The Grand Inspector is the one who directs and presides over this ceremony, since it is numbered among his duties. The vesting is done in a place immediately adjoining the lodge room where there is a closet for this sole purpose.

DISCIPLINE FOR THE MASTER

The lodge or inner chamber should consist of at least twelve persons, not including the two Venerables. The acting Venerable Masters bear the names Alexander I, II or III according to their seniority of consecration.

Each of the twelve Masters should bear the name of one of the twelve prophets below and should be clothed in the vestments shown in the tableau.

Samuel Zachariah Daniel

Solomon Isaiah Hosea

Elias Jeremiah Jonah

Elijah Ezekiel Amos

The Venerable assigns to the candidate the name of a prophet unassigned, and imposes on him the obligation of bearing it all his life and never to take or sign another name so long as he writes or works in a lodge of our rite. To his name, Samuel, for example, he will add "of the first lodge" should he be from the mother lodge of Tryon, or "of the second lodge", should he be from that of Paris.

No Master should ever enter the inner chamber with hat or cane; he should always be bare headed and with sword in hand. After all are assembled in the lodge room, the Venerables must choose two companions, or if there be none, two apprentices, to guard and act as sentinels, drawn sword in hand, outside the lodge.

CHAMBER OF REFLECTION

The furniture and the decoration of that chamber should be very gay. The tableau represents a young man clothed as companion, seated on a stone in the middle of a forest, having the air of a man fatigued and deep in meditation and profound reflection. About him are some broken chains and some broken instruments of punishments. Some Furies prepare to leave and retire. There is a rainbow above; and over that a pyramid, before which should be a Master in uniform with his cordon. He should have an attitude noble and determined, bearing his sword in his right hand and the caduceus in the other. With his sword he gives a sign of encouragement for the companion to enter the pyramid, and with his caduceus he points to the rainbow composed of the seven primary colors. The sky should be pure and serene.

At the base of the tableau should be written these words "Conquer or die; reflect before you undertake!"

In the four corners, there are circles formed by a serpent biting his tail. In the middle of each circle the initial of the four cardinal points. The candidate should be left to his meditation and remain in this chamber at least an hour.

One of the two Masters, who should be sent to the Chamber, will give him a proper and appropriate discourse to explain the emblems in the tableau. During this discourse the companion should be on his knees. The companion should be clothed in a talare, his hair disheveled and tending to hide part of his face. Before he leaves the chamber of reflection, the two elected who are designated to prepare him, should try, by means of discourse and adroit questions to discover if the candidate is patient and obedient. They should try to make him understand that despite the time that has passed during his companionship the Masters feel that there is need of several more years before he can be admitted among them. If in spite of these misleading statements, the candidate shows by his responses, a complete submission and obedience to his superiors, the two elected give him hope of being accepted, and one of them returns to the lodge to inform the Venerables of the condition in which they left the candidate.

OPENING OF THE LODGE

The vesting of the Venerables having been completed, the lodge properly guarded and well-tested by the Grand Inspector, they take their place standing before the throne. The Acting Venerable will say:

"To order, my brothers, in the name of the Great Founder of our Order. Let us seek to act and work for the Glory of God, from whom we obtain the wisdom, the power and the ability. Let us try to obtain his protection and his mercy for us, for our sovereigns and for our neighbors. Join your prayers with mine to implore for me his help and his light which are so necessary."

That being said, the two Venerables go to the middle of the room, and turning to face the name of Jehovah, they kneel as do also all the assistants, and the acting Venerable will commence the invocation in these terms :

"Oh, Thou Great God, Thou art supreme and sovereign, we pray Thee from the depths of our hearts, by reason of the power which Thou has showered upon us according to our founders, that Thou permit us to make use of and enjoy that portion of Thy grace, which came to us on the invocation of the seven angels who surround Thy throne. Thus we operate and work without violating Thy orders or destroying our innocence."

The prayer over the two chiefs together with assistants, prostrate themselves on the floor and remain there until the Venerable raps on the floor with his hand, which serves as a sign to rise and take their places. All being seated, the acting Venerable will give a discourse fitting the occasion and states that the term of five years companionship of the candidate has expired and that he begs the privilege of being received as Master. He then demands that all give their opinions, truthfully and conscientiously, concerning the morals and conduct of the candidate. Should one of the brothers allege any motive, grievance or complaint against him, he should announce it at once to the entire lodge, and the Venerables should then decide by vote whether to admit or reject him. If the lodge consent by unanimous vote in his favor, the acting Venerable will choose two of the elected to go to the Chamber of Reflection where the candidate should be found. When the Venerable has been informed, by the return of one of his deputies, of the good character of the candidate, he will address the Grand Inspector and order him to go search for and introduce the Dove, (1) who ought to be found ready, and properly vested in the adjoining room or cabinet. The Grand Inspector should lead the Dove to the feet of the first Venerable, who should himself, or his deputy and no other, clothe the Dove according to the prescribed form, which is a white talare, shoes equally white, trimmed and tied with a sky blue ribbon; a cincture of blue silk and the red cordon from right to left.

Thus clothed, the Venerable will say to him: "By the power the great God has granted to our founder, and by the same which I hold from him, I invest you with this heavenly vestment."

He then will give a discourse concerning the sanctity and the grandeur of the mystery which will follow. After the Dove is completely clothed, the Venerable will cause him to kneel, then holding his sword in his hand and striking the right shoulder of the Dove, will cause him to repeat word for word these words, "Oh God, I humbly ask Thy pardon for all my past faults, and beg that Thou give me the grace, according to the power which Thou gavest our founder and which he gave to my Master, of a promise of acting, and permitting me to labor, according to his commandment and his intention."

After this the Venerable will create the Dove, by blowing his breath over him three times; he will then give her unto the hands of the Grand Inspector who will conduct her into the Tabernacle. The interior of this is entirely white; in it should be a small table upon which should be placed three candles and a small stand; the Grand Inspector after having accompanied the Dove and having shut her in the Tabernacle, will take from it the key which should be attached to a long white ribbon, and will present it to the Venerable, who will hang the ribbon around the Inspector's neck and order him to place himself, sword in hand, at the foot of the stairs by which the Dove had climbed. The acting Venerable will rise, and will say again: "To order, my brothers." They will all rise, and the Venerable, going to the middle of the room, will turn and face the tabernacle.

The circles having been formed and the sacred words pronounced, he will help himself to the power which the Grand C. has given him to obligate the angels "AN.." and the six; other appearing before the eyes of the Dove, and when he has given notice to all in his presence, the Venerable will charge her, by virtue of the power which God had conferred to the Great Founder, and which he had accorded him, to demand of the angel "AN.." if the subject proposed for Master according to his merits and other qualifications should be received, yes or no.

On affirmative response of the angel to the Dove, the twelve elected will bow their heads to thank the Divine one for the grace which had been granted her, which was manifested to them, through the appearance of the seven angels to the Dove. The Venerable will order the Dove to be seated, as well as the rest of the members of the lodge, and he will proceed to the reception of the candidate.

The Venerable, beginning again, will with his sword describe four circles toward the four cardinal points, commencing with the North, then South, East and West, then he will describe another, over the head of each of his assistants and will end with one last facing the door. Finally he will take a tack which he will place in the center of the lodge, and with the aid of a golden string and a piece of white chalk draw a circle six feet in diameter, in which the candidate will be placed.

In the four sections of the circle, he will have braziers for burning the following:

In the North - incense

In the South - Myrrh

In the East - Benzoin

In the West - Balsam Peru

Under the braziers there will be traced the four characters known by the Venerables, one of whom will remain seated and the other will remain standing before the throne, sword in hand. At the right will be the Orator carrying the four perfumes. The acting Venerable will order the assigned brother to return to the chamber of reflections. to take the candidate and conduct him just outside the door, placing him between himself and his assistant. The three arriving at the door, one of them will knock once. The Venerable having heard them, will cause the bolts which close the doors, to be opened immediately, that the three persons may enter. The two elected, who accompany the candidate will conduct him directly to the middle of the circle drawn on the floor, where they will leave him and retire to their places.

The Venerable will again give the discourse beginning "Man..etc." and having completed it and having told the candidate, that if he sincerely desired to come to a knowledge of the Great God, of himself and of the Universe, it will be necessary for him to subject himself to a promise and take an oath to renounce his past life and arrange his affairs in a manner fitting a free man. The candidate will kneel and repeat word for word the obligation which will be given by the Venerable.

The obligation over, the assistants will kneel and the candidate will prostrate himself and while he is thus extended at full length within the circle, his face to the floor, the Venerable following the Orator will throw a pinch of perfume into the brazier and returning to the candidate, will recite this psalm (Psalm 51).

"Great God, have pity on this person M.N., according to Thy great mercy and remove his iniquity, according to the multitude of Thy good works; cleanse him more and more of his sins and purify him of his offenses, because he recognizes his iniquity, and his sin is always against himself; he has sinned only against Thee, he has committed error in thy presence, to the end that Thou wilt be justified in Thy promises, and victorious in Thy judgment. Thou seest that he was born in iniquity; that his mother conceived him in sin. Thou hast loved the truth; Thou hast unfolded to him some uncertain things, and the secrets of thy wisdom. Thou hast purified him with hyssop and he will be clean; cleansed him and he will become whiter than snow. Thou wilt make him understand the word of consolation and joy and his bones which Thou hast humbled, will tremble with happiness; turn thy face upon his sins and pardon his offenses. Oh God, make his heart clean within him and renew the spirit of justice in his bowels; turn not thy countenance from him; grant him the joy of Thy healthful assistance and fortify him with a spirit which he will freely work for Thee. He will understand Thy ways with the unjust, and the impious will turn to Thee. Oh God! Oh, God of our Salvation, deliver him from evil, and his tongue shall sing with the joy of Thy justice, Oh Lord. Open his lips and his mouth will give forth Thy praise. If Thou wishest a sacrifice, he will offer it. Sufferings are not agreeable unto Thee! The sacrifice which God demands is a chaste spirit. Oh God, Thou dost not despise a contrite heart and humble. Oh Lord, in Thy benevolence, spread Thy good and Thy grace on Zion, before the walls of Jerusalem are destroyed. Thou wilt accept then the just sacrifice, the offerings and the burnt offerings. These we desire now to offer on Thy altar. We pray Thee, great God, to grant him the grace which Thou gavest our Great Founder."

The Venerable will retire to a place near the throne, but, remaining standing, will indicate that the brothers rise and remain so, while at the same time indicating that the Orator should assist the candidate to arise, and to conduct him before the Venerable.

The Orator will place the candidate before the first step of the throne and cause him to kneel with his right knee on that step, his left leg extended to the rear. At that instant the Venerable will make him a Master by breathing three times in his face, at the same time decorating him with the red cordon and presenting him the Apron and gloves after which he will be blessed and consecrated by the angels, as by Enoch, Elias and Moses. The Venerable will then give him a discourse on this subject, the same as the Great Founder himself gave to all the Venerables under the same circumstances. The ceremony over, the Venerable will approach the Orator and cause him to conduct the new prophet to the place for which he was destined, which should be at the right of the throne. Then all will be seated and the Venerable will give a discourse which had been communicated by the Great Founder and ordered to be given at this time. He will end with this prayer:

"Oh Lord, remember Thou our Great Founder and Master, and all the goodness to which he was a witness. As he swore before the Lord and made a vow to the God of Jacob. If I enter, said he, into the rooms of my palace; if I lie down on my bed or couch; if I permit my eyes to sleep or eyelids to close; if I lay down my head, it is only when I have found a home for my Lord and a Tabernacle for the God of Jacob. We have heard said that the ark was in the land of the Ephraimites. We have found it in the forest; we entered into his temple; we adore him the place which serves him as resting place. May Thy priests be clothed with justice and may your saints be joyful. In consideration of our Great Founder, Thy servant, turn not thy face from those saints. The Lord has sworn our Founder a great oath, and He will not violate it; He spoke, 'I will establish on your throne, the fruit of your loins, if your children guard my alliance and the precepts which

I will show you, they and their posterity will inherit your throne, eternally, because the Lord has chosen Zion; He has chosen it as His habitation. It is the place of my rest forever. I will live here, because it is the place I have chosen. I will bless the widow with my benedictions; I will provide bread for the poor. I will clothe my priests with any saving grace, and their saints are rapt with joy. It is thus, that I will demonstrate the force and power of your founder. I have prepared my lamp for my saints. I will cover their enemies with shame and confusion, and the glory of my sanctity will live forever in their minds'."

The Venerables as well as the assistants rise, and the acting Venerable going to the middle of the room, and turning to face the Name of God, will order the Dove, by virtue of the power which he holds from the Great Founder, to demand of the angels if the reception which was given was perfect and agreeable to the Divinity. The sign of approbation being given by the angels to the Dove, the Venerables and assistants will prostrate themselves and will in their hearts give thanks to the great God for all his grace, with which they were favored.

The Venerable will close the lodge, giving his benediction to all his assistants in the name of the Eternal and of the Great Founder.

CATECHISM OF MASTER OF THE EGYPTIAN LODGE

Q.-Whence came you?

A.-From the interior of the Temple.

Q.-What did you see in the Temple?

A.-A Dove, very beautiful and very favored of God; a sanctuary blazing with light; a tableau revealing allegorically the greatest secrets of Nature and a brilliant star over the heart of each of the venerables.

Q.-What does that star show ?

A.-A beautiful rose, around which there are two inscriptions, the one consisting of these words "I believe in the rose" and the other of these "Primal Matter."

Q.-What does that rose signify?

A.- That it is the emblem of that primary and precious matter, of which there is constant mention in all the writings of our doctrine, and which is found in the hands of all the elected.

207

Q.-What is the use and what are the duties of the Dove?

A.- They consist of serving as the intermediary between the angels of the Lord and the elected; to give knowledge to these latter of the divine will and finally to convince them of the obvious existence and great power of God.

Q.-What does the sanctuary contain?

A.- The sacred name of God, placed in the middle of a blazing star.

Q.-Give me, I pray you, an explanation of the tableau; what does the phoenix signify ?

A.- That a true Mason will be reborn from the ashes; that it will be possible to renew and rejuvenate himself at will, like that bird; so it is certain that it can be said et renovabitur plumas meas. (2)

Q.-What is the significance of Time and of the Master who clips his wings?

A.-Since a good Mason has lately come to snip the wings of Time, his life is endless.

Q.-What can be said about the broken and destroyed instruments of torture?

A.- That a Mason having obtained that degree of power, death no longer has any fear for him.

Q.-What is the significance of the overturned hour-glass?

A.-For the immortal man, the measure of time becomes useless.

Q.-What does a sight of the interior of the Temple mean to you?

A..- The most sublime knowledge.

Q.-How do you know that?

A.-Because there was communicated to me a portion of the power which God of his good will granted our Great Founder, and through it, permitted me to regenerate a man who was lost.

Q.-How were you occupied in that interior?

A.-In glorifying God and accomplishing those duties laid down by our Great Founder.

Q.-What are those duties?

208

A.- They are entirely spiritual and are none other than those which will gain admission into the temple of God, where one occupies himself in the same manner that Solomon once did in presence of all the people, while he consecrated the temple, which he erected to the Eternal.

Q.-What do we find in the middle of the Temple of Solomon?

A.- The true tabernacle, the resting place of innocence. At the sound of the invocation, the Eternal manifested his power in favoring that place by the presence of all the angels, archangels, Seraphims and Cherubims.

Q.-How did Solomon commence his duty?

A.-He descended from his throne, he laid his hand, with fingers extended on the head of the Dove, and struck it with his sacred sword and made it a true sacrifice which he offered to the Supreme Being. He carried it into the tabernacle and offered up his prayers and invocations in a manner so dear that all the people understood. His duty and his confidence were so perfect, because he showed evidence of those graces spread among all men.

Q.-Did our Grand Master always practice and follow the same method?

A.-Always. However, all the duties were performed according to his constitutions and ordinances, and were constantly crowned with greatest success; but it is necessary to conform exactly and scrupulously to the commandments which are prescribed in the catechisms, because without that, one runs the risk of incurring that which once came to the ministers of the Temple of Jerusalem after the death of Solomon. These ministers combined their ideas and built the tower of Babel. It resulted in errors without number; schisms as well as idolatry, which the man filled with pride sees again today in his dismal surroundings.

Q.-What is the significance of the sacred pentagon made of paper according to the art?

A.- The pentagon is the fruit of the great work of moral regeneration through the retreat of forty days, which all the truly elected of God have made. During that time one divides his twenty-four hours as follows:

Six hours are employed in reflection and rest.

Three hours are consecrated to prayer and a sacrifice to the Eternal.

Three times three, or nine, are intended for sacred matters. The last six hours are reserved for conversing together and recording the lost powers, both physical and moral.

Q.-What does the pentagon represent?

A.-Enoch, Elias and Moses, which we know; the last at the exodus from Egypt and after he had made the journey with pain and fatigue, carried with him a number of things chosen by the voices of the angel of the Lord, took them to the top of Mount Sinai.

There he made a retreat of forty days, and while there he made and perfected the sacred pentagon, written and engraved with the names and signs of the seven archangels; as well as the sacred writing which God gave him; and as Moses retired to that Mount; he ordered Aaron to remain at the foot and guard against intrusion of the people of Israel either because of pride or curiosity. He carried the sacred pentagon to confirm the power of the Eternal, to afford knowledge of truth and give proof of the great power accorded to man.

There were also, many other elected favored of God and favored of Moses, of whom I would like to talk to you but I am bound to tell you that after having accomplished that great feat there was nothing more to be done, "Qui potest capere, capieat". (3)

Q.-What do you mean by nothing more to be done?

A.-As soon as a man possesses the sacred pentagon, he has no need to give up the triangular cubical stone, nor to change the stones into bread.

Man aspires constantly to have perfect repose, to possibly obtain immortality and say of himself, ego sum, qui sum. (4)

Q.-How are the six hours for reflection and repose used?

A.-To permit each Elect to enjoy himself as may be; for meditating alone; for refreshing the physical self by sleep; or by a cessation of mental activity, all labor is suspended during these six hours.

Q.-What happens during the three hours consecrated to the sacrifice to the Eternal?

A.-One prays, one adores, and one entreats for the physical and the moral to be cleansed of all impurities. The catechism of the apprentice requires that prayer, as well as sacred invocation and the commandment given to the archangels be used to obtain knowledge of the true words and signs belonging to the art.

Q.-How are the three times three, or nine hours, allotted to the sacred works occupied ?

A.- These nine hours, divided into three parts, are used to prepare the virgin paper as well as the other articles which are to be consecrated during these days, that they may be used for presentation on the thirty-third day in the room newly built for that great purpose.

Q.-For what are the last six hours employed?

A.- They are reserved for recreation; for conferences; for preparation, according to ancient methods, of the different colors which are necessary each day and finally to dispose, fulfill and satisfy our needs.

Q.-What sort of place is to be chosen for this important recreation?

A.-One prefers a very high place, and if possible a mountain uninhabited and well hidden from the eyes of mortals, on which is built the pavilion according to the proper and convenient proportions; and one should tell no one of the day on which he will leave. It will be necessary to assemble in advance all the articles necessary, which are the instruments of the art according to Moses; the furniture; the utensils; the vestments; etc.

Q.-What do you mean by the instruments of the art?

A.-They are different objects, such as the ceremonial cloth and others. The ceremonial cloth is of yellow silk of which you will recognize the importance and the necessity when you are instructed in the manner in which it will be necessary to consecrate the pavilion and the instruments of the art.

Q.-What is the pavilion called?

A.-Zion; to teach that it was on the Mount of Zion that God revealed himself to man.

Q.-I beg of you to give me the details of the pavilion, including its dimensions.

A.-The pavilion must be built expressly for that purpose and destroyed when that purpose has been fulfilled. It is three stories high. The chamber on the third floor should be a perfect square, eighteen feet in height as well as length and breadth. The four windows placed in the middle of each side should be oval, three feet high and four feet wide. There is but one door for entrance to this room, and it should be built in such a manner that each person alone may open or close it at will. This room should be entirely white, without any other color.

The second chamber or cell in the middle story has no windows. It should be perfectly round and of a size to contain thirteen beds, solely for the repose of the twelve Elects and of the Chief. There should be a lamp in the middle; and there should only be such furniture as is absolutely necessary. When the third chamber is to be destroyed, the second chamber will be called Ararat, to teach that the ark rested on the mountain and that perfect repose is destined for the Elect of God.

The first or lower chamber should be of a size suitable to serve as a refectory. It should be surrounded by three closets of which two are to contain the provisions and other necessary articles, while the third is to contain the instruments and utensils which are required for the operations or purposes of the retreat.

It should be built in a place, if possible, where there is running water, because once the pavilion is entered no one may leave before forty days have passed.

Q.-What is the intention of that great operation?

A.- That your soul may be exalted; that your heart may be filled with love for the eternal; and double the knowledge which our great founder received from the last mystery and which is permitted to be revealed to you.

After the thirty-third day and also after the fortieth the Supreme Being will accord to the assistants the ineffable favor of revealing through the seven archangels the seal and signs of those immortal beings, which are engraved by each on the virgin paper.

The operation having been consummated and complete, the man who had the pleasure of being numbered among the Elect, attains the acme of glory and happiness. He becomes master and chief worker without the help of any mortal. His spirit is filled with divine fire; his body becomes also like that of a most innocent child; his perception boundless; his power immense; he will contribute to the propagation of truth in all the world, and finally he will have a perfect knowledge of the grand class, as well as the good and evil of the past, present and future. The Elect who has made that retreat receiving for himself the sacred and unusual pentagon, embellished by the seven seals and by the seven signs of the seven primitive angels. He receives in addition seven other pentagons which he should present to those seven persons, men or women, whom he should prefer and desire to interest further. Each of these seven pentagons should combine on the virgin paper the seal and sign of one of the seven original angels. But whereas the Elect will be able to correspond and communicate with all the seven original angels, the possessor of one of the secondary pentagons will not be able to see or communicate with any except the angel whose seal and sign is shown on the pentagon which he has been given.

Each of these seven persons should enjoy to the utmost the prerogative of being able to operate and work as master and commander of the seven archangels and all of their hierarchies, but under the restriction of which mention is made in the first catechism, and subject to the intent of the three philosophies.

The perfect Elect enjoys that first power but does not command the immortal except in the name of God; but the person whom he has favored by a secondary pentagon may make use only of the second which is limited; and he cannot act and command except in the name of his master and by his will of which he is unaware, as well as that which is detailed in the apprentice catechism.

Q.-Will you climax your kindness now by telling me how the physical regeneration is accomplished?

A.-By a retreat similar to the forty days. One retires during this time with a friend, one conforms to the regimen prescribed by the founder, one takes three pinches or three grains of the primary matter and one will find perfect regeneration.

Q.-What will be the result of this action?

A.- The old man will disappear and the new recommence his course. That regeneration will renew him with the same success , for another fifty years, the same as that which it pleased the eternal to give him originally.

Q.-Is there any example of a similar regeneration?

A.-Certainly, the scripture gives you one about Moses. It tells you how Moses after the retreat of forty days and forty nights on Mount Sinai to form the sacred pentagon, returned a second time to that mountain and remained there again for forty more days and forty more nights.

The scriptures in like manner inform that after that second absence, Moses returned with a force so brilliant and refulgent with light, that the people could not bear the sight and he covered his head with a veil. The mystery of that enigma is that in the second retreat, Moses secluded himself with his friend Hur for physical regeneration and because at his return his face was so rejuvenated and so changed, he had to hide that phenomenon from the people; he would not speak or communicate to them again without covering his head with a veil.

NOTES

1. It is not clear whether the dove is a man or a woman, who is a member of the Adoptive Rite. It appears to be of no importance, as Cagliostro mentioned in several places, as the dove is purified according to the ritual and made such by the acting Master.

2. And my feathers will be renewed.

3. Who can comprehend, comprehends.

4. I am that I am.

PRODI ACCUSED OF BEING A FREEMASON AND BLACK MAGIC IN ITALIAN PARLAMENT !

la padania 13 /10.....

Duro intervento in aula del senatore Leoni: Â«Alcuni politici si vergognano di dichiarare la nostra fedeÂ»

Â«Prodi tradisce il mondo cristianoÂ»

giuseppe leoni

Roma - Inizio il mio discorso con la massima â€œDare a Cesare quello che Ã” di Cesareâ€•, in riferimento alla mozione, tramite la quale proprio la Lega ha offerto al Parlamento la possibilitÃ di pronunciarsi su un fatto molto rilevante nel mondo della politica. Tuttavia, l'ampia discussione che si Ã” svolta, purtroppo, non arriva all'esterno del nostro mondo, visto che la Rai ha preferito non far sapere come ben pensano, chi sono e come si comportano nei confronti di Sua SantitÃ i parlamentari.

CiÃ² che piÃ¹ mi preoccupa e che non dobbiamo dimenticare, assieme all'assurda e strumentale risposta del mondo islamico e le scuse pronte da parte della nostra Chiesa, Ã” il fatto che abbiamo religiosi in giro per il mondo, che rischiano la vita in prima linea, come Ã” avvenuto il giorno dopo per quella suora italiana in Africa.

Non dobbiamo dimenticare che i nostri martiri - la nostra gente - muoiono per un progetto di amore, mentre i martiri per l'Islam muoiono per poter portare morte in mezzo alle persone. È questa la grande differenza che c'è tra la nostra religione e le altre.

Il primo ministro, per me, come cittadino e cristiano cattolico mi ha lasciato fortemente perplesso e preoccupato. È proprio su questo punto che voglio spendere i miei pochi minuti di intervento, pervenendo ad una riflessione che voglio svolgere ad alta voce. È risaputo che il progetto massonico teorizza che il modo migliore per controllare socialmente e demograficamente l'umanità è la diffusione del vizio e dell'immoralità e la creazione di società multirazziali, con lo scopo preciso - c'è, infatti, uno scopo preciso - di rovesciare e distruggere il cristianesimo, unico punto di forza e testimone fondante della nostra società.

Non faccio il poliziotto di mestiere, ma mi riferiscono che il nostro presidente del Consiglio è un frequentatore assiduo di logge massoniche e che in una convention ad Aquisgrana, negli anni Ottanta, è stato investito di grandi poteri e responsabilità. Non si può servire Dio e mammona in contemporanea.

Dicono anche che c'è una pratica di esoterismo e di magia, altra funzione fortemente criticata dal mondo cattolico. Mi interrogo sulla risposta del presidente del Consiglio nei confronti del Santo Padre: «Ma si faccia difendere dalle guardie svizzere». In un clima di minaccia planetaria verso il Papa mi ha lasciato terrorizzato il disinteresse di una civiltà che il nostro Presidente - se questo mondo serve - spero vorrà abbattere. La logica l'ho trovata nel cognome del nostro presidente del Consiglio: prodi è l'imperativo del verbo prodeo e significa «esci fuori», ma anche «tradisci». Mi chiedo allora se vuole tradire il mondo che vuole rappresentare come cristiano. È questo che voglio capire perché il nostro Presidente, in nome della carica che ricopre, ha ricevuto l'ordine magari da quel mondo di cui continua a far parte.

Il nostro presidente del Consiglio quando ha ricevuto la confermazione e la cresima è diventato un soldato di Cristo e come tale non può delegare ad altri la sicurezza del Santo Padre; avrebbe quindi dovuto esprimersi in prima persona, impegnando in prima persona se stesso e anche il Governo e tutto il Paese che rappresenta. Forse perché il detto «morto un Papa se ne fa un altro» giustifica come vanno le cose. Penso che il nostro compito sia quello di attivarci in tutti i modi per garantire a Benedetto XVI una lunga vita perché con i suoi insegnamenti possa illuminare le nostre menti oscurate in un momento di secolarizzazione della nostra società.

La droga che vive nel nostro mondo, come abbiamo avuto modo di apprendere in questi giorni dai giornali, sicuramente non è la massima espressione di tutti noi che rappresentiamo il Parlamento.

Cosa dire poi del rifiuto dell'Europa nell'inserire nella propria Carta costituzionale le radici cristiane? Il nome Benedetto, scelto dal cardinale Ratzinger è un messaggio preciso al popolo cristiano, perché san Benedetto fu il primo a raccogliere i resti dell'impero romano e a organizzare territorialmente la nascita di un'Europa con le fondamenta cristiane fino in fondo. Mentre adesso difendiamo l'operato, su iniziativa della Lega, del Pontefice, in altre situazioni politiche perché ci siamo vergognati di dichiarare il nostro cristianesimo, com'è avvenuto nel momento della predisposizione della Costituzione europea.

WHAT ARE THE JESUITS REALLY DOING AT MOUNT GRAHAM?

Posted on Saturday, October 28, 2006 at 04:28PM by  [Your Name Here] |  Post a Comment

Why there is now a Vatican project specifically dedicated to investigating the implications of contact with extra terrestrial races?

At Mount Graham in Arizona, the Vatican in reality maintains its own UFO observatory, staffed with Jesuits for the purpose of doing black magic and working on very detailed astronomical calculations for their so called alchemical work.

This dark approach to the Royal Art of Alchemy is operated unfortunately by the Jesuits with the use of evil Jinns serving Satan himself the owner of Vatican HQ's. Another important role for the complex astronomical calculations is the possibility of tracing the coming of a true Messiah and the return of the true spirit of Jesus in the end of times, something they obviously don't want in Rome.

The jinn concept offers a logical approach to looking at UFO's, cryptozoology, apparitions, magic, demons, monsters and many other mysteries.

Amidst all the far-flung theories presented to account for the presence of alien beings such as:

Intergalactic travel

Travel from the future

Travel from the Inner Earth

Archetypal projections from the Collective Unconscious very little consideration is given to the concept that some of them simply exist on the earth in a way that isn't generally perceptible to us.

We continue to assume that we can perceive everything that is "real" with our 5 senses despite all the evidence to the contrary. An overzealous belief in a science and philosophy of materialism has probably resulted in an irrational amount of faith in our physical senses.

Human beings are extremely susceptible to the fabrications of the jinn. We believe what they want us to because their impressive materializations and deceptions are tailored to fit our fantasies and belief systems.

The jinn are real entities living on this earth which are normally invisible to us. The name comes from an Arabic word meaning "to hide or conceal". They don't live in bottles or adhere to the fairy tales told about them. They can be deceptive and influential. They are movers behind the UFO mystery as well as many other mysteries.

Every culture shows the imprints of their influence in its religion and mythology.

There are myriads of hidden intelligent beings in creation . I have tended to think of many who are not human, angel or animal, as being jinn. This is useful for aiding comprehension, for getting a handle on this vast area of hidden experience. We live in the Kingdom of Names and Attributes, after all, and require these for learning and Knowing. But this is admittedly overly simplistic. It is only a beginning for the more experienced researcher.

Jinns comprise a vast array of tricksters, fairies, demons and monsters, saints and spacemen who have confounded our understanding for centuries. The materialistic science of the 20th century decided that they no longer exist, despite the huge role they have always played in our wisdoms and mythologies, and despite the large portion of the world that never forgot who they are.

That's because the New World Order of the Jesuits and the Zionist conducted a deliberate UFO propaganda with the help of the usual evil Jinns so you could fall into this demonic trap and lose your faith (there are also good Jinns by the way).

Carl Gustav Jung , a great genius of psychology but also a member of the Freemasons and the OTO illuminati (5th degree) said himself that modern humanity had a dangerously wounded psyche because all the myths had been killed. New ones needed to emerge for humanity to experience wholeness but also for global manipulation. The jinn have obliged by literally popping into the global consciousness as the embodiments of our science fiction fantasies. The flying saucer may be the first global symbol recognized by the entire world but it is probably the most satanic one.

The so called UFO myth is not the way forward for humankind towards a clear understanding of God's hidden metaphysical Kingdom and the real beauty of creation. The devil knows that very well that's why he uses people like Scientology in this evil game piloted by the Jesuits to deceive you even further. Don't believe in what's coming out of Hollywood because at present such place is in the hands of a bunch of very evil and powerful Jinns who want to Mind Control you in the name of the evil one.

All intelligence agencies in the world are working for such deception on a massive scale (MK-ULTRA) because it is simply in their interest to not make you realize the truth of God before the Great One comes back to punish the infedels.

WAKE UP AMERICA, THIS IS THE TRUTH, YOU ARE BEING MANIPULATED BY THE EVIL ONE AND NOW ITS TIME TO COME BACK TO GOD, ALLAH

9/11 and the Zohar

Posted on Friday, November 24, 2006 at 02:33PM by Registered Commenter X M |

Comments 12 Comments

The Zohar (Hebrew זֹהָר "Splendor, radiance") is widely considered the most important work of Kabbalah in Jewish mysticism and at section number 8 , at paragraph 116 of the Zohar we find a chapter appropriately called "The advent of the Messiah" with the following about the punishment that will hit the most powerfull city in the world in the year 2001:

"In this day in the great and tall city there will be a big flame. That sound will reawake the whole world . This flame will burn many towers. In this day many towers will fall as many important men and many officials will also fall."

The ancient cabalalist calculated that this will happen on the 23rd day of Elul in the Jewish year 5760 that corresponds to the 11th of September 2001 of our western calendar. Thats the reason why so many Jews didnt go to work in tall buildings that day in NY , especially the ones who are in contact with their Rabbi. So the Mossad was ready and got all the key people of the Jewish community in safe places for this tragic event piloted by the Knights of Malta of the GLADIO club in New York and their Zionist friends from their fancy HQ's in places like the Mazzini OSIA Lodge (Order Sons Italo Americans). And they were doing with pride thinking of their Past Master's Motto in the illuminati:

- M azzini (Mazzini)
- A utorizza (authorizes)
- F urti (burglaires)
- I ncendi (fires)
- A ssassini (assassinations)

MAFIA

200px-Zohar.png

Question: Was the right hand man of Lucky Luciano a Zionist Jew known as the accountant of Cosa Nostra?

Answer: Yes he was Jewish , his name was Meyer Lansky and he became the Chief accountant of Cosa Nostra.

Question: any other Jews involved with Lucky Luciano?

Answer: Yes Zionist supporter Benjamin Siegelbaum.

Question: Why does that corrupt idiot of Francis Ford Coppola talks only of Sicilians and never mentions the Jews in Cosa Nostra ?

Answer: Because he is surrounded by Jews in Hollywood who only want to be remembered for the usual holocaust and not as part of the infamous AMERICAN/SICILIAN MAFIA. That stuff as to be always blamed of people like me , the usual italian Mafiosi with a big cigar. Well I find it racist so I now expose our Jewish Mafia as equals in the MOB business , they have always been our older Brothers like Jonhn Paul II use to call them and thats the final truth. Mr.Coppola as done alot of evil with his films against us in Sicily and somebody should maybe show to this infedel who is the real Godfather one day and hang him upside dow , just like Brother Roberto Calvi at Blackfriars bridge or like the last scene of his Godfather part III if he prefers , but we are goona forgive hime because he is a corrupt satanist after all, so nothing to worry about.

Thats because evil Masters at Work go hand in hand towards their hellish destiny, on one side the Vatican and their Sicilian Mafia , on the other hand the Sinagogue of Satan and their Jewish Hollywood Mafia.

These two forces togheter are enough to rule the world and decide your future unfortunately...and fortelling the future is a very dangerous business indeed my friends but these people are not only doing that. The so called illuminati are actualy creating these disasters following these cabalistic patterns so they can use them with the religious community to cover up this acts of terror with with the usual working for God excuse , but we all know their God is only Satan for these slaves of Dajal's Empire.

quote : "Thats the reason why so many Jews didnt go to work in tall buildings that day in NY" thats a good explanation Bro Khaled , and it explains a lot ...regarding this 9/11 thing I personnaly doubt that the stupid Ossama worked for the CIA , but I have no doubt that they were manipulating him from afar , and they knew what's was going on and of course they let him do it ...this Ossama is a pure product of the saudi regimeand this is what happens when you give billions to a bunch of camel sheppards , they are the last ones to scare the NWO , cause they live just for food and women ..etc...they are totally under the control of the Illuminati ...these camel keepers saudis are the biggest danger facing Islam today ...and I am sure that if we want to start adjusting things in this world it is in saudia that we have to start ...those sheppards are occupying our holliest two shrines and are plotting to give Islam the worse image possible ..they are undermining Islam from within , from its heart....

This is interesting, indeed! But, I have one question. Why are you still alive??? These people secretly assassinated American President, so why not you? I, am, therefore, skeptical as to why you are being allowed to release part or all of the esoteric knowledge freemasonry and the illuminati work so diligently to keep secret.

I have indeed a question to bro Khaled :
how comes that the orangists who are protestant and openly freemasons are in deadly war against the catholicsif the vatican indeed controlled all the freemason lodges , how comes he lets the orangists massacre the catholics !!!!

Well my friend Im asking myself the same question myself sometimes but Im ready to die with a smile, after all I had a great life already like very few people had , but Im actualy not ready to die yet but if God wants I will submit to his decision at any given time.
:)

but the truth is also that before I went against my Masters in the illuminati I took some precautions that have helped me live until now , and last but not least Im not only a Muslim but Ive been accepted in the inner circles of the Islamic Tradition and my new Brothers are ready to defend me with their own lifes in the name of Allah. So bring it on if you want we are ready this time , do you think I have not put togheter my private army of true believers during all these years in the illuminati? Well if you say no you are wrong because my army is the army of the true believers in one God , and if I get killed now I become a MARTYR OF ISLAM,

DO YOU KNOW WHAT THAT MEANS IN MY FAITH?

GREAT REWARDS IN THE AFTER LIFE...MMmmm...great stuff!

AND FOR YOU DO YOU REALY KNOW WHAT THAT MEANS?

So no problem Im always ready to die dear Brothers and Sisters for the one God Allah,I was trained for that after all but lets hope you and the rest of humanity can use also my good side otherquise you loose a big opportunity, trust me....

A little know secret: Meyer Lansky was also attending the 1944 Bretton Woods agreement. Paul Manning speak about him in those terms:

"A revealing insight into this international financial and in-dustrial network was given me by a member of the Bormann organization residing in West Germany. Meyer Lansky, he said, the financial advisor to the Las Vegas-Miami underworld, sent a message to Bormann through my West German SS contact. Lansky promised that if he received a piece of Bormann's action he would keep the Israeli agents off Bormann's back. "I have a very good relation with the Israeli secret police" was his claim, although he was to be kicked out of Israel later when his presence became too noted-and also at the urging of Bormann's security chief in South America. At the time, Lansky was in the penthouse suite of Jerusalem's King David Hotel, in which he owned stock. He had fled to Israel to evade a U.S. federal warrant for his arrest. He sent his message to Bormann through his bag man in Switzerland, John Pullman, also wanted in the United States on a federal warrant. Lansky told Pullman to make this offer "which he can't refuse." The offer was forwarded to Buenos Aires, where it was greeted with laughter. When the laughter died down, it was replaced with action. Meyer Lansky was evicted from Israel, and was told by Swiss authorities to stay out of their country, so he flew to South America. There he offered any president who would give him asylum a cool $1 million in cash.

He was turned down everywhere and had to continue his flight to Miami, where U.S. marshals, alerted, were waiting to take him into custody. "

i have been checking out illuminaticonfessions for some time now, after your friend ribz gave me a clue about your site due to my esoteric interrests. i get the impression your cause is that of the good for the world, at least that's what you state on your site. however, if your cause is really that of ridding the world of evil, how can you suggest killing or torturing a man who is supposedly evil? i'm referring here to your suggestion of imposing harm upon f.f.coppola as vengeance for him being an idiot or whatever. as far as my understanding goes, evil breeds evil and violence breeds violence. to fight evil with evil seems to my judgement the same as succumbing to that very same evil. maybe i'm just a chicken pacifist who haven't got a clue, but still, to my logic it doesn't make sense. if there's a fire going on, only water or blankets or something of that sort will help put it out, not adding more fire. it usually goes without saying. maybe i just misunderstood your point. also, i'm curious to know; having risen so high within this satanical hierarchy, how did you manage to redeem your soul?

not that it's my business, i'm just curious...

also, after having read about this frisvold character, i did a thorough research of him on the internet. lots and lots of pages turned up, many of them being frisvolds publications and articles on the occult. i actually got the impression you might be right about this fellow. this was a little more than a month ago, i guess. just in order to re-check that info, today i made a search on his name again. result: absolutely nothing. all those pages have somehow disappeared since i did my thorough search. either that's just coincidence, or he somehow took notice, and managed to clean the www of EVERY piece of available info on himself, ranging from the most mundane to the thoroughly disturbing. if you would be so kind as to answer this inquiry intelligibly, without the use of warrior slogans, i would be very grateful. 23thanksbrage

Well my friend Im a warrior not a chicken pacifist indeed, or a so called neutral Scandinavian one even worst, because by tollerating people like Frisvold in your country and the rest of Scandinavia (Carl Abrahamson in Sweeden for example) you are committing a crime against humanity with your naive ways! This guy even works for the Norwegian military intelligence from time to time so your country is working with the Devil himself! And if you got in contact with me work trough Brother Ribz you should ask him about my believe and my Holy war against Scandinavian INFEDELS not me, as I can only say to you once again that these are the end of times not a weeken out in Oslo Fjords.

Best Regards,
Leo/Khaled

PS:the disappearance of all the material regarding Dr.Nicholaj Frivold on the net is due to his satanic position and also to his connection with General Frisvold, another infedel from Norway.

By the way there is still plenty of Frisvold infedel propaganda on the net including this description of himself, so I invite all true believers to investigate this Jesuit puppet before they cover up everything.

uh dude. that's quite the synchronicity. i write you that post, fall asleep, dream that you're satan or something, wake up, and already you've replied to my post, finishing with WAKE UP SLEEPY SCANDINAVIANS.

what's up with that? ...and what's stepping on gold in a church got to do with anything? (also part of my dream) maybe i'm just overworked due to my exams in comparative religion...strange though. we should have a chat some day.

November 28, 2006 | Unregistered Commenter brage

One day you will understand who I am dear Scandinavians but that day it will be probably to late for most of you to ask for forgiveness...

so I tell you once again WAKE UP because you and you country have tortured me and arrested me 3 times and I will NEVER I REPEAT NEVER FORGET THAT untill you finally arrest the people responsible including the head of your idiotic Norwegian intelligence and the head of your even more idiotic Norwegian Police, TWO CORRUPT FREEMASONS WORKING FOR SATAN!

November 28, 2006 | Registered Commenter X M

And yes you are definitely sleeping on Gold in your country, the Gold of the alchemist my dear friend not the profane Gold if you know what I mean...
And please dont call me dude, Im not your average scandinavian communist janteloven guy and Im only living here because of my difficult situation in my own corrupt country of Italy, but I hate every minute of it. You are all brainwashed by Satan in Scandinavia and you love it! Lets hope for a change of scenario soon or you will really have some real problems when the world crisis scenario starts and your American dream will truly end .
Your Grand Librarian VW.Bro.Egil H.Stenberg once told me they were happy of living in isolation with their Order of corrupt Freemasons who thinks they are Knight Tempar and act with the secret blessings of the Pope...poor poor Norway.
WAKE UP IDIOTS!

STUDY THE FOLLOWING FOR FRANCE,GERMANY AND THE DEVIL AT WORK IN ENGLAND AND NOW IN THE USA:

THE CLERMONT CHAPTER

Stuart Jacobite Influence and Jesuit conspiracy

The Stuart Jacobite influence on the higher degrees was always connected to the Vatican Jesuits and the Catholic aristocracy operating around them.

IMPORTANT

the Jesuit College of Clermont, gave birth to the Masonic Chapter of Clermont and later to an important University,the Clermont Chapter was a Masonic body that gave later birth to the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry secretly controlled by the Jesuits from the 18o degree of the Ancient and Accepted Rite (Rose+Croix created by the Jesuits), and even if these liers are saying publicly today on Wikipedia that this Chapter of Freemasonry was just a small episode in Masonic history and has nothing to do with the Jesuits THATS A TOTAL LIE FOR HIGH DEGREE FREEMASONS OF SCOTTISH RITE AND HONEST MASONIC STUDENTS.

The illuminati say instead to cover up the story that the Clermont Chapter only served to add fuel to the myth of Jesuit influence in Freemasonry's high degrees. But the Jesuit College and the Chapter have very much to do with eachother after a close investigation.

The Jesuit College was located at Clermont, whereas the Masonic Chapter of Freemasons was not, that the only difference apart from being or not being a priest or just illuminati slaves of the Vatican power at work in a College or a Chapter of corrupt Freemasons working for Dajal. It was named "Clermont" "OFFICIALY" in honor of the French Grand Master, the Duc de Clermont, but secretly because of the connection with the Jesuit College of Clermont. And a few years later all this developed in that great lie called the Grand Orient of France (or the Great Satan of France) a trusted servant of the Vatican State and the Jesuits that declared officialy to be atheist in 1870 breaking up "officialy" with the United Grand lodge of England. This operation facilitated the spread of atheism in the west trough their lodges but the elite of the Grand Orient of France had to always be made (and still his) of devoted Catholics at all times.

Regarding Hitler,
Freemasonry, Islam and Nazism

Hitler was just a illuminati puppet in the hands of the usual suspects unfortunately (Jesuits and Zionist) Thule Master Rudolf Glandeck von Sebottendorff abused the Qu'ran knowledge in his own Satanic way to give magical power to Himmler and A.Hitler for accomplishing their demonic mission.

The Zionist and the Jesuits in Turkey manipulate to this day many fundamentalist muslim movements trough a complecated web of secret Societies and Masonic lodges and Baron Rudolf Glandeck von Sebottendorff was the secret link and key to the East.

Rudolf Glandeck von Sebottendorff the puppet Master

The Nazis were actualy created by the Zionist and the illuminati Freemasons of the United Grand Lodge of England and the Grand Orient of France with the Grand Lodge of France (were A.Crowley was initiated) trough the SRIA/GOLDEN DAWN NETWORK and their link with various secret Societies all over Europe and the East.

Its a fact that a link can be found between the National Socialist German Workers' Party (NSDAP), founded in 1920, and the Germanenorden, a magical fraternity founded at a conference of occultists in May of 1912, organised by disciples of Guido von List (1848-1919/05/17) and Adolf Lanz, aka J rg Lanz von Liebenfels (1874-1954) in the home of Theodor Fritsch.

The link was Rudolf Glandeck von Sebottendorff (1875/11/09 - 1945/05/09). The son of a Silesian railway engineer, Sebottendorff was born Adam Alfred Rudolf Glauer. He travelled to Turkey in 1900, where he was adopted by Baron Heinrich von Sebottendorff in 1909, and had been initiated into Freemasonry. Changing his name and taking Turkish citizenship, he returned to Germany in 1913. Sebottendorff's version of Freemasonry did not prevent his striking up a friendship with the Germanenorden chancellor, Hermann Pohl, who violently opposed Freemasonry as being international and Jew-ridden, but who used masonic terminology and organizational structure, believing this would insure secrecy.

Shortly after Sebottendorff's return to Germany, the Germanenorden splintered, its then ex-chancellor, Hermann Pohl, establishing the German Order Walvater of the Holy Grail. Pohl was joined in 1916 by Sebottendorff who was made Master of the Bavarian section of the order in 1917. Sebottendorff later established another occult society in Munich on August 17, 1918 as a cover identity for the Germanenorden: the Thule Gesellschaft, named after the mythic northern island home of the white race: Ultima Thule. Originally called the "Studiengruppe f r germanisches Altertum" (Study Group for German Antiquity), it derived its ideology (and some members) from earlier occult groups founded by List's "the Armenan (est. 1908)" and Liebenfels's "the Order of the New Templars (est. 1900)" and from the writings of Madame Blavatsky. Yet this facade of occult study hid a counter-revolutionary activism of stockpiled weapons; schemes to kidnap the Communist leader, Kurt Eisner; infiltration of spies into the Communist cadres; and the Kampfbund Thule paramilitary group.

With the suppression of many other groups by a suspicious government, the Thule became a meeting place for nationalistic, pan-German rightist Bunds. A leading part in the successful attack on Munich's Communists on April 30, 1919 was played by Thulists who allied themselves with the Freikorps Oberland to fight the Bavarian republic of councils (Räterepublik).⁴ Sebottendorff resigned from the group in June of 1919. While the Thule continued to meet as a political and cultural club until 1925, Sebottendorff and the Thule's more activist members joined with the Committee of Independent Workers on January 5, 1919 to found the Deutsche Arbeiterpartei: the German Workers' Party. Shortly after Hitler joined this group, they again renamed themselves the National Socialist German Workers' Party.

Sebottendorff was initiated into a body of the Rite of Memphis (ILLUMINATI RITE OF FREEMASONRY) under the infedel Vatican puppet the Grand Orient of France. From his own writings it is clear that his version of Freemasonry incorporated aspects of DEVIANT AND NONSENSE Islamic Sufi mysticism, alchemy, astrology and Rosicrucianism. In his autobiographical novel Der Talisman des Rosenkreuzers (The Rosicrucian Talisman), he made a clear distinction between Turkish Freemasonry and regular Freemasonry:

"It must be shown that Oriental Freemasonry still retains faithfully even today the ancient teachings of wisdom forgotten by modern Freemasonry, whose Constitution of 1717 was a departure from the true way (ON THIS POINT I AGREE WITH RUDOLF BUT ONLY ON THIS POINT)." "We look at our world as a product of the people. The Freemason looks at it as a product of conditions..."

Sebottendorff rightly believed that the esoteric tradition of Sufism was the purest stream of wisdom and that it had nourished European occultism through astrologists, Rosicrucians and authentic freemasons of the Middle Ages so is understanding of true Islam was not really what we can describe as pure teachings of Islam or very clear in any way...

He claimed:

"No one can accuse me of profanation, nor of sacrilege in uncovering the course of these mysteries...It is the means that the communities of dervishes traditionally use in order to acquire special strength by means of unusual techniques. They are, for the most part, men who aspire to the highest rite, that from which come those who have been prepared for their missions as spiritual leaders of Islam... This high rite is the practical basis of Freemasonry, and it inspired in times past the work of the alchemists and of the Rosicrucians...But to reply to the accusation of my being guilty of some kind of treachery: I say to you plainly that this book has been written on the instructions of the leaders of the Order"

WHAT ORDER DEAR RUDOLF THE EVIL WESTERN ILLUMINATI OR THE TRUE MASTERS?

Well you all know the answer the evil illuminati...

SATAN WAS IN CHARGE OF NAZISM HAS YOU CAN ALL SEE FULL STOP NOT A MAN BUT SATAN HIMSELF AND HIS LEGION

Subsequent authors such as Jean-Michel Angebert (pseudonym for Michel Bertrand and Jean Angelini), Trevor Ravenscroft, James Herbert Brennan, and Gerald Suster a member of the illuminati ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS wrote much of the occult learnings of the Thule and its influence on the Nazi party and Hitler. Rudolf von Sebottendorff, was certainly immersed in the occult, a detailed diary of its regular meetings from 1919 to 1925 maintained by its secretary, Johannes Hering, confirms its work on the physical and metaphysical plane but no real results were ever accomplished just satanism and brainwashing in modern terms. On 31 August 1918, Sebottendorff gave a talk on dowsing, of which Hering disapproved, commenting that occultism brought dubious members into the Thule from time to time power and money are more welcomed than any occult ritual. Rudolf said later to accomplish our mission now and after the 23rd of February 1919 were a certain Wilde lectured on occultism they decided to focus on the pure illuminati power game in front of them with lectures and excursions devoted to such themes as megalithic culture, the original homeland of the Teutons, Germanic myths and poetry, the Thule legend, the Jews and Zionism (VERY IMPORTANT PILOTTED ISSUE BY THE ZIONIST THEMSELVES WHO NEEDED THE NAZI SHOW AS WELL AS THE JESUITS).

a French Christian mystic, René Guénon, in 1934, wrote of invisible spirits influencing Hitler....

IT WAS THE EXPERIMENTS WITH THE SO CALLED TURKISH FREEMASONRY OF RUDOLF VON SEBOTTENDORF OF THE THULE THAT PUT HITLER IN CONTACT WITH THE DEMONIC FORCES OF THE JINNS FOR ULTIMATE EVIL POWER AND MYSTICAL UNDERSTANDING OF THE DARK SIDE. THIS CAN NEVER BE CONFUSED WITH TRUE ISLAM IT WAS INSTEAD A DEMONIC PROJECT PUT TOGETHER BY A JEW CALLED TERMUDI OF THE ROSENKRANZ ORDER WHO PASSED ON TO BROTHER RUDOLF SUCH MIND CONTROLLING DEMONIC RUBBISH CONNECTED TO :

Bektashism

A HIGHLY CORRUPT FORM OF ISLAM THAT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH THE PURE TEACHINGS OF THE SUNNA.

Originally from Neyshabur (Iran), and a follower of the Yasawi Sufi order that was very active in Central Asia doing missionary work among the Turkish tribes of the area, he was sent by his sheikh, Ahmad Yasawi, to Anatolia. Hajji Bektash remained there until his passing away - probably because of the Mongol attack on his homeland Khorasan - and a Sufi order soon developed based upon his teachings.

Spread of Bektashism

Bektashism spread from Anatolia during the Ottoman period primarily into the Balkans, where its leaders (known as dedes or babas) helped convert many to Islam. The Bektashi Order remained very popular among Albanians, and Bektashi tekkes can be found throughout Macedonia, Kosovo and Albania to this day. During the Ottoman period Bektashi tekkes were set up in Egypt and Iraq, but the order did not take root.

THAT WHY OUR DEAR BROTHER KLAUS S. HIS SO PROUD OF BEING THE FIRST GERMAN ILLUMINATI IN CHARGE OF THE EU ALBANIAN NAZI SECRET POLICE.

Later, the self-proclaimed German rocket engineer, Willy Ley, in 1947 wrote an article for a pulp fantasy magazine ridiculing illuminati pseudoscience in Germany, which included a Berlin sect attempting to conjure up the mysterious vril force described by British novelist illuminati SRIA member OF THE UNITED GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND Edward Bulwer-Lytton in his The Coming Race (1871). This was a powerful and dark illuminati force behind the Nazi Arian myth that filtered through the illuminati SRIA Colleges INTO THE REST OF THE WORLD.

French journalists Louis Pauwels and Jacques Bergier, and others, saw a magical explanation for the effectiveness of the Hitler myth, Goodrick-Clarke demonstrated that although the Thule was purportedly a literary-cultural group, this appears to have been a cover for counter-revolutionary activism. Sebottendorff's book Bevor Hitler Kam, a 1933 fully demonstrates the evil illuminati Master Plan for Germany had fully worked and Satan was in control through Rudolf's Messiah A.Hitler.

Ravenscroft also saw a link between the Thule and SRIA with Robert Wentworth Little, Sebottendorff had been expelled from Germany in 1923 as an undesirable alien, returned in 1933. With his book, Bevor Hitler Kam, banned by the Bavarian political police (the Bavarian illuminati now under Hitler stopped supporting him after accomplishing their mission as usual and saw him as a man who knew too much...)

on March 1, 1934, and the Thule Group dissolved, Sebottendorff was arrested by the Gestapo, interned in a concentration camp and then expelled to Turkey, where he committed suicide by jumping into the Bosphorus on May 9, 1945 upon hearing of the German surrender...that was the end of this illuminati Jesuit slave of the illuminati masonic Rite of Memphis and Knight of several masonic Orders like the Imperial Order of Constantinople for example like Rui Gabirro of the Regular Grand Lodge of England established in London for bringing NAZISM AND TOTALITARISM TO THE PEOPLE in FEB.2005!

AND COMMUNISM IS THE SAME AS NAZISM BECAUSE IT WAS CREATED BY THE SAME PEOPLE THE VATICAN ILLUMINATI THATS ABOUT IT...AND NOW THEY HAVE MOVED AFTER YALTA THE EVIL HQ'S ARE TEMPORARELY IN THE UNITED STATES BUT THE VATICAN HIS STILL AND ALWAYS IN CHARGE FROM THE HOLY CITY OF ROME OF THE EMPIRE.

33rd degree with the two Imperial Eagles on the two opposite sides representing GOOD AND EVIL and man playing GOD that's for sure the work of the Devil, the work of the illuminati George H.Bush 33o of the Ancient and Accepted Jesuit Rite...

A TRIBUTE TO PRINCE ALLIATA IL PRINCIPE NERO

Giovanni Francesco Alliata di Monreale e Villafranca.

Principe del Sacro Romano Impero was the illustrious Brother who initiated me Leo Lyon Zagami into the illuminati of Freemasonry on the 13th of April 1993, the day the infamous Giuliano Di Bernardo M.W.Grand Master of the Grande Oriente D'Italia officially resigned from the office of Grand Master after accusing all the Freemasons of the Grande oriente D'Italia of corruption.

Di Bernardo now Supreme Magus of the illuminati Accademy in Piazza di Spagna 20 in Rome, became on the 17th of April 1993 the first Grand Master of the new Regular Grand Lodge of Italy.

Di Bernardo did this sad show to clean up things after the P2 exposure for the English and Vatican driven illuminati of the United Grand Lodge of England. He did it following the ancient usages and customs of Freemasonry with seven Lodges previously belonging to the GOI. To this day the Regular Grand Lodge of Italy is the only Grand Lodge Officially recognized by UGLE Great Queen Street HQ's but the new Grand Master is now is ex secretary and close relative M.W.Bro.Fabio Venzi a Vatican illuminati puppet . The Regular Grand lodge of Italy is even recognized officialy by the Vatican and the Grand Lodge Ekklesia after nominating a Catholic Priest as Grand Chaplain last year,the first time this happens in the history of Freemasonry! Remember that the official position of the Vatican is against Freemasonry (what a bunch of liars these Vatican infedels).After my initiation they started persecuting my Mentor Prince Alliata di Monreale who finaly wanted to rebel against the evil American illuminati and the Vatican Jesuits but he was betrayed , arrested and died soon after that in hospital quile he was still under arrest.But Im alive and ready to fight for my Past Master who knew the truth about these evil Vatican puppets and their "Older brothers" from Zion .

In 1992 Prince Alliata visited US president Bill Clinton.

Assalam Khaled :

I wonder if you heard about this novel from a turkish author called Yucel Kaya in which he says that the Pope will be killed during his visit in Turkey , not by the islamists as everybody will believe in the start but by the oppus Dei and the P2 lodge !!!!! This book which already sold 100 000 copies raised a lot of controvercy in turkey and elsewhere ...it is good to note that Al Agca too warned the Pope not to come to Turkey because his life will be in danger....

here is his website if you can read turkish :

Hi Leo/Khaled,

Thanks for the reply.

Funnily enough, Zulkifli is also the name of the first moslem I ever discussed religion with in Malaysia and he still is a precious friend to this day.

Now, I come from Thailand and I would like to know if you have any insight as to what has been happening in southern thailand these last few years. So many people have died Khaled!!! I can not really believe that southern thai moslems are blowing bombs and beheading people just for the sake of killing some buddhists. My friend Zul told me a few things but no one other than him seem to have a clue about that situation...Any idea?

Thanks and take care.

From Leo/Khaled

Khomeini or safavide (neo sheea or shiite) revolution is a completely western illuminati creation that actually started in the Grand Orient of France, and Khomeini a slave of the western satan with no true knowledge of the Quran.

Another Satan just like the new President of Iran another puppet of the evil game wit his dramatic speaches at the UN HQ's of Satan, Iran is another fake enemy like F.Castro and Cuba if you know what I mean , another hero for the so called freedom fighters of the west...

ABOUT THE GOSSIP LOUNGE

RBG.JPG In the photo my dear friend and true illuminati Senator Raouf Boutros Ghali who supported me against the Vatican illuminati from October 2003 e.v.

Well guys my ex illuminati friends at the CIA and the various intelligence agencies connected to the Knights of Malta in Europe and America are starting a diffamatory campaign against my persona as you all noticed in the last few days. So I wanted to create a space for these infedel Freemasons and various illuminati agents called the GOSSIP LOUNGE on my web site , a space were they can accuse me of whatever they want so then I can keep the rest of my web site under control and my work clean of such rubbish and false accusations.

Me and my wife Fatma SÃ¼lu mother of my children have alot of fun reading this idiotic stuff on me because its a bunch of lies badly put togheter , but we need the people out there to also understand that we have to react in some way and the best way possible we have found is to actually neutralize these post, by presenting them from time to time in the GOSSIP LOUNGE , so that Satanist like N.Frisvold or William Breeze will give us the usual brainwashing in the name of their Master the Beast 666 A.Crowley the father of Barbara Bush the mother of the AntiChrist George W.Bush . These people "we all like so much" are keeping us posted on how evil and insane is brother Leo Zagami while George H.Bush is killing millions of people around the world in the last 30 years with a smile on his face.

Well its up to you to investigate who I am with facts not fiction , and lets have fun with these evil satanist that are destined to hell and no place else.

Dear sir : I wanted to ask you do you know why A.Crowley called his son Ataturk ?!?!? and what has become of this son , is he active in the satanism today ?!?!? also I was wondering if Boutros supported you against the Vatican only because he is a copt and we know the rivality between these two churches , the eastern one (second me closer to the source) and that of the west (Rome) a lot more influenced by the greek paganism and the roman emperialisme thanks

A.Crowley THE BEAST OF THE APOCALIPSE 666 called his son Ataturk because ATATURK as you should know dear Khalid , was one of the biggest illuminati satanist the world as ever seen and a British illuminati agent. Did you know that Brother Ataturk used to arrange orgies and non stop parties on the Orient Express to corrupt Turkish religious leaders (read Said Nursi on this subject) . He was a Zionist Jew , a United Grand Lodge of England Freemason and a agent of the western illuminati satanist from Vatican HQ's who came to destroy the Holy Ottoman Empire with the support of the Zionist...

Well we will have our revenge when the time comes Inshallah against these infedels because the Pope and the Black Pope will never manage to buy out Turkey my new Nation as long as I live and the Jewish Zionist can forget it!

I renounce to my Italian citizenship because Italy is still a slave of the Vatican and his so called illuminati like Berlusconi and Prodi two faces of the same medal THE ILLUMINATI DEVIL , VATICAN FREEMASONRY.

Regarding his son Ataturk he ended very badly after being for a few years in the hands of the OTO, I think he had a terrible car accident and disappeared after that .But I also got to meet another supposed child of Crowley with Lon Milo Duquette infamous occult author and Grand Secretary of the OTO during his time in London in 2001. We went at the Atlantis bookshop for the signing of a few of his books after a secret OTO meeting in the room upstairs of a Pub in Museum Street and clearly remember this guy arriving and talking with Lon, and as I was the Senior Brother taking care of our dear Lon in London I was introduced to him but it was a very strange meeting because nobody around from the OTO was supposed to know. Later that day Lon was leaving for California and I gave him a book to read on the plane from yet another supposed son of Crowley called Amado Crowley a 50 year old guy who writes conspiracy books claiming he is the son of AC...we even had a joke about it...

Lon is the only funny guy in the OTO even my mother got to meet him once and we all went for dinner together in a Moroccan Restaurant in London with a few of these illuminati agents who were obviously very happy to have an aristocrat like her for dinner.

But these Amado books are white funny so I went and investigated the guy (you know me I always want to know more) , and not only he actually exist but we had a short correspondance that made me understand more and more the evil nature of the OTO, he was so scared of them that when he finally realized I was one of the key people in the OTO/ILLUMINATI structure and a friend of Kenneth Anger he terminated any further contact with me, poor Amado a simple guy eating fish and chips with a very big imagination but also a poor totally manipulated victim of the illuminati and their Mind Control Games.

That's all regarding Crowley's children legacy after all he liked to have sexual magick using the Jinns so what do you expect , he must have had a few of these children around knowing Crowley's sexual appetite including Barbara Bush. I have all his secret rituals until the XIIo of the ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS and they are all brainwashing , disgusting and satanic to say the least...its just rubbish for a true muslim , but dear Khalid it is very dangerous rubbish special intelligence units are using all over the world to work with Demonic Jinns,evil entities of the Satan.

yes I know the story and life of A. Crowley , a mentally disturbed satanist homosexual and drug addict who died lonely and brokehe also lived for a while near Cefalu in Sicily before he was kicked out by Mussolini ...at the end he hurted but himselfI believe that he is but a poor idiot who rebelled against the religion he was brought up in ...but from there to think he was THE BEAST OF THE APOCALIPSE 666 I think it is too much honoure for him ...probably in the european scale because you europeans are not used to the occult ...I was borne in a country where we are second to none regarding the occult and the black magic ...I have heard of people capable of turning water into pure gold and I have seen miracles with my own eyes , but believe me the occult has no power on the believers and all the occult fenomenons would melt like snow in the desert with few verses from the Qoran ...it is an evil science that come as far back as ancient Babylonia , it was spread mainly by the jews (who lived in Babylonia) , it necessitate the invoking of evil Djines , whoever approaches this science is committing idolatry and will burn in hell's firecompared to our occultists Crowley is a wannabee charlatan who sacrificied his sorry life in stupid excesses ...but he is famouse because he intruced in the west something that was quite new in their culture.....

I know very well that Crowley compared to middle eastern Magicians his a wannabe but he was one of the key illuminati agents of his day and signed a contract with the devil like no other before him. The work he did within the occult illuminati establishment of Europe and America for Satan as no rivals.

All I repeat all satanic sects,masons,illuminati and al the rest worship Crowley as a guru of evil,thats why he is so dangerous.To him Satan revealed THE BOOK OF THE LAW a book you should read to understand Crowley's evil before you talk.In the Book of the law Mohammed (PBUH) is mentioned in the most blaspheme way ever eard to mankind and also the virgin Mary , IM NOT GONNA REPEAT IS DISGUSTING WORDS JUST GO AND READ THEM AND YOU WILL UNDERSTAND MODERN SATANISM BETTER DEAR KHALID...Anton LaVey's Church of Satan was just a side creation of his followers like the Temple of Set of Lt.col.Michael Aquino but the ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS celebrates BLACK MASSES IN THE VATICAN HQ'S!!!
WAKE UP THESE ARE THE END OF TIMES KHALID!

I have the following books from Crowley :

- The Sixth Chakra Of The Human Body
- The Enochian Tablets
- The Heart of the Master
- The Book Of The Law (his most famouse book)
- Tao Teh King
- White Stains
- book of lies
- Magic Without Tears
- Thoth Tarot Deck
- The book of Thoth
- Witchcraft Dictionary

...etc...and moreI have them all in ebook format downloaded freely from p2p networksand as far as I am concerned they are just garbage but I agree Crowly played a key role in the "sexual revolution" of the sixties and in the avent of the Rock and Roll and satanism in general...etc....remember he lived untill 1947 , so after 1945 when the jews took total control of the world (after defeating the last obstacle that was the Nazis) , they could carry on undisturbed all the rubbish theories of Crowley , and that's what made the success of his rubbish ...the jews today control everything in this world , media , politics etc...they can easily manipulate the masses into accepting Crowley's sexual rubbish ...but at his time before 1945 the world was still safer and Crowley and his band of pervert lunatics were still seen as sexual perverts to be isolated and combatted...

REGARDING THE BOUTROS GHALI:

After the Vatican Jesuits went to Raouf and offered him as much gold as he wanted and he refused all their gifts I knew the coptic Church and the Boutros Ghali was genuine and I went to visit them in Cairo to study the real nature of Jesus,and I became muslim...It was actually Dr.Safuat the Sufi Master who exorcized the UN building for BB that convinced me that the real Jesus was the one in the Qu'ran.

And I tell you dear Khalid only one last thing they saved my life and protected me from the evil US illuminati who wanted to kill me from the first moment I started to question them.

So after my trip to Egypt in November 2003 i became muslim but also the third true illuminati of the Boutros Ghali family after the Coptic Madame Fula and Dr.Safuat...we are working for the truth and the real dialogue not the Vatican nonsense show.

And remember the Vatican illuminati and the Zionist got Boutros Boutros Ghali out of his position as Secretary General of the UN, they are a bunch of criminals now ruling the UN at present.

after becoming a moslem you still kept being an illuminati because you said that they wanted you to infiltrate your wife's sect !!!! and can you please explain what did you mean by this : "but also the third true illuminati of the Boutros Ghali family after the Coptic Madame Fula and Dr.Safuat" thank you Khaled ...

regarding Boutross and the copts :

Dear sir for me they are no better than any other Kuffar , in fact they are some on our worse ennemies , did you know for example that their women still wear black robe since islam entered Egypt in sign of grieve !!!! did you forget the role played by Boutross Ghali in the killing of our brothers in Bosnia ...if the copts survived untill today it is just a sign of the islamic tolerance towards the people of the book and a blatant proof in the face of all those who dare to say that Islam spread only by the sword !!!!!!!

December 3, 2006 | Unregistered Commenter KoussKoussKlan

You are totaly right in regards to Boutros Boutros and Bosnia, and he is not such a nice guy even in private, but Raouf is a nice person and a true believer and his son and the rest of his family are good people (not Boutros Boutros he is linked to the Zionist element that makes him evil). I know this family as committed many crimes against Islam in the past, but in the end I am muslim and I teach tollerance an understanding for the Coptic Church and I hope we can at least try to save from total corruption what is left of the oldest Christian Tradition, because they were the first that never accepted the rubbish of Rome remember Khalid even before the time of our Prophet (PBUH).

THIS IS NOT A CORRUPT PROTESTANT CHURCH SECRETELY WORKING FOR ROME OR A DEVIANT EVANGELIC AMERICAN PILE OF NONSENSE, WE ARE TALKING ABOUT THE EGYPTIAN CHURCH THAT PRESERVED THE TRUE KNOWLEDGE OF JESUS THE MAN, THE REST OF CHRISTIANITY IS RUBBISH IN MY EYES AS YOU CAN IMMAGINE.

MY DIALOGUE IS WITH ANCIENT AND PRIMITIVE CHRISTIANITY NOT THIS MODERN DEMENTED VERSION,THE SAME WITH JUDAISM UNFORTUNATELY CORRUPT TO A POINT OF NO RETURN.

December 3, 2006 | Registered Commenter X M christianity all christianity is also corrupt beyond any repair and that's why we have Islam ...but this won't stop us from tolerating them and protecting them as Dimisdo you know for example Khaled that the keys of the most important church in Jerusalem is in the hands of a moslem family who take care of the church , because the christians will rather trust a moslem than trust themselves and fight which christian family should have the previledge of taking care of that church (I think it is called the church of nativity)...this shows you the extent of the tolerance of Islam , while on the other hand millions of moslems in France cannot even have a decent mosque and are obliged to pray in basements and in garagesthat's their democracy ...Ha Ha Ha Ha Ha

ANOTHER MASON REACTS TO MY CONFESSIONS

Posted on Wednesday, November 1, 2006 at 11:05PM by Registered Commenter Your

Name Here | Comments 2 Comments

TESSERINO_LOGGIA_MONTE_CARLO.JPG

SLOWLY SLOWLY THE FREEMASONS ARE STARTING TO SHOW THEIR FIRST REACTIONS TO MY CONFESSIONS:

"Leo

I listend to your first interview with interest and have the second to listen to in time.

This post (and the one which follows) is, however, unadulterated bollocks."

WHAT A GENTLEMEN YOU ARE DEAR STEWART...

"First P2 headed by Lucio Gelli was a masonic Lodge under the Grand Orient Of Italy. It was closed in the 1980s for political and other scandalous activity including the Cardinal whathisname affair. I see no link to this Monte Carlo outfit which seems to be a very nice recent invention (by somebody) thank you."

GO ON MY WEB SITE AND VERIFY YOURSELF THE AUTHENTICITY OF MY CLAIMS , IF YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED NO PROBLEM DEAR FRIEND , AS MY DOCUMENTATION IS IN THE HANDS OF VALID RESEARCHERS AND I DONT ASK ANYBODY TO BELIEVE ME , I ONLY DO IT FOR MY OWN SECURITY. BUT THE MONTE CARLO LODGE OF THE P2 BY THE WAY NEVER STOPPED TO EXIST , AND YOU CAN VERIFY THAT IN THE OFFICIAL WRITINGS OF THE INVESTIGATIVE COMMISSION OF THE P2 CASE IN ITALY, THE COMMISSION ONLY MANAGED TO VERIFY THE EXISTENCE OF THE MONTE CARLO LODGE THEY NEVER STOPPED IT. THE P2 NETWORK WAS OFFICIALY TERMINATED IN ITALY NOT ABBROAD , AND MONACO WAS NEVER EVEN TOUCHED BY THE SCANDAL.

"Secondly mainstream Freemasonry is NOT Illuminati."

THATS A LIE BECAUSE YOU DONT CONSIDER THE SRIA FOR EXAMPLE PART OF THE ILLUMINATI? OR HAVE YOU HEARD OF GIULIANO DI BERNARDO'S ACCADEMY OF THE ILLUMINATI IN ROME ? AND OBVIOUSLY THE MARTINIST INVOLVEMENT IN GREAT QUEEN STREET IN LONDON IS ALL OVER THE PLACE...NEED TO SAY MORE BRO?

BUT IF YOU CONSIDER ILLUMINATI ONLY THE ORDER OF ADAM WEISHAAPT THEN YOU ARE NOT VERY EXPERIENCED IN MASONIC MATTERS , OR AND IM QUITE SURE ABOUT IT , YOU ARE DELIBERATELY SPREADING LIES TO CONFUSE THESE POOR INNOCENT SOULS, ABOUT YOUR MASONIC ILLUMINATI CONSPIRACY DRIVEN BY THE VATICAN SATANIST AND YOUR BELOVED ZIONIST .

"Kirby lodge under UGLE (from which you have been expelled) has nothing to do with Illuminati which i do not believe exists in a proper masonic context except in certain fevered imaginations."

KIRBY LODGE 2818 EXPELLED ME BECAUSE OF MY WAR AGAINST THE

ILLUMINATI (AS DOCUMENTED ELSEWERE IN MY SITE) AND MOST KIRBY MEMBERS ARE IN SIDE ORDERS LIKE THE MARTINIST, THE SRIA, THE SERVANTS OF LIGHT, THE OTO , AND OTHER ILLUMINATI SATANIC SLAVE SYSTEMS FOR IDIOTS...

AND I EVEN HAVE PLENTY OF PHOTO'S ON MY WEB SITE TO PROVE IT. JULIAN REES MY MENTOR AS YOU KNOW IS STILL THE MOST INFLUENTIAL FREEMASON IN THE UK AND A SENIOR ILLUMINATI CONNECTED DIRECTELY WITH THE DUKE OF KENT , THE VATICAN AND EVEN THE JESUIT GRAND ORIENT OF FRANCE .

"Can't speak of OTO, Skull and Bones etc though nor will I pretend I can."

THEN HOW CAN YOU TALK ABOUT THE ILLUMINATI ?

ARE YOU INSANE ?

TELL YOUR WIFE TO MAKE ME A CAKE INSTEAD DEAR BROTHER, ITS MUCH BETTER AT LEAST WE CAN HAVE SOME TEA WITH IT AND MAYBE DISCUSS SOMETHING MORE INTERESTING LIKE LAST TIME.

"Thirdly Memphis / Misraim is not Illuminati nor is it Freemasonry. It may have been developed from it but is not recognised as being freemasonry at all."

THATS PURE RUBBISH DEAR BRO AND EVERYBODY IN FREEMASONRY KNOWS THAT THE ILLUMINATI RITES ARE PRACTICED IN ITALY ,FRANCE, AND MANY OTHER COUNTRIES AS REGULAR MASONIC RITE'S (FULLY RECOGNIZED BY REGULAR OBBEDIENCES LIKE THE GRANDE ORIENTE D'ITALIA FOR EXAMPLE).AND YOU EVEN HAVE A REGULAR UGLE LODGE PRACTICING IN SECRET WITHIN THE UGLE HQ'S IN KENT! IS OFFICIALY CALLED THE LUXOR STUDY GROUP (OPERATING WITH GEROSA CHARTER AND ALOT OF POLICEMEN AND INTELLIGENCE OPERATIVES INVOLVED) .

THERE IS ALSO ANOTHER ONE STILL MADE UP OF REGULAR FREEMASONS FROM THE UNITED GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND (DOUBLE HORIZON LODGE 9269 IN GREAT QUEEN STREET) AND IT OPERATES IN SECRET AT THE HQ'S OF THE OMS WITH A CARACCIOLLO CHARTER FROM IL GRAN SANTUARIO ADRIATICO (ITALIAN BLACK NOBILITY).

BRO.DAVISON ONE OF THE LEADING ILLUMINATI FIGURES OF THE PRESTIGIOUS DOUBLE HORIZON LODGE WAS WORKING WITH MASSIMO INTROVIGNE AND JEAN PIERRE GIUDICELLI IN THE GROUP OF THEBES IN THE 80's , AND HE IS A UNIVERSAL UNITY P2 LONDON MEMBER THESE DAYS. IN THE EARLY 80'S THE MI5 PUT UNDER SURVEILLANCE DOUBLE HORIZON LODGE BECAUSE OF THE GROUP OF THEBES CONNECTION.

GET IT?

" It may have some strange people involved"

YES THE ILLUMINATI BROTHER ! THEY ARE DEFINETELY QUITE STRANGE...

"What happened - you were so buddy buddy with Robert Lamar a year or so ago. Oh he got chucked out as well didn't he? "

UNFORTUNATELY RUI GABIRRO, ALIAS ROBERT LAMAR, ALIAS THE DUKE OF CABINDA , IS STILL IN CHARGE OF THE CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES OF THE SO CALLED REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND AND THE VARIOUS MASONIC HIGH COUNCILS SPREADING LIKE A DESEASE AROUND THE WORLD.

WAKE UP BRO IRREGULAR ILLUMINATI MASONIC WORKINGS ARE CONDUCTED EVERY DAY ALL OVER THE WORLD BY A FEW DEMENTED NAZI'S FROM VARIOUS INTELLIGENCE SERVICES , THE USUAL JESUITS AND POSSIBLY THEIR FRIENDS AT THE MONTE CARLO P2 LODGE...AND LETS NOT FORGET YOUR ZIONIST FRIENDS.

ILLUSTRIUS BRO.RUI GABIRRO WORKS NOW FOR BRO.GIORGIO HUGO BALESTRIERI BY THE WAY (P2)
A DEAR FRIEND OF MICHAEL MATES (THE GUY IN CHARGE OF UK INTELLIGENCE).

"You know this as well as I do and it's disingenous to pretend otherwise. Come up with some proper evidence for your claims and I may just try and take you seriously. Who knows you might actual convert me. Ah, I said a similar thing to Rui Robert once and it that was a waste of time!"

LEO LYON ZAGAMI WARNING:

On Saturday the 2nd of December 2006 e.v. the Universal Unity illuminati Clubs of the P2 Monte Carlo Committe are gonna meet again at the Monastery of Santa Croce in the town of Bocca Di Magra (8Km from La Spezia/Italy) For a special summit with the French Secret Service operatives of the ultra-Catholic Priory of Sion (yes the real Priory is made of Catholic fundamentalist and Vichi Right wing supporters working for the Jesuits belive it or not), with their Orator French illuminati Jean Pierre Giudicelli de Bresac de la Bachelerie. One of the most powerfull and dangerous illuminati in France and a friend and collaborator of Jesuit Puppet Master Massimo Introvigne and Ezio Giunchglia. If you are in the area why dont you try to pop in ...hi..hi..a few prayers might not be enough for this kind of criminals, and you will probably get arrested if you try to get near this meeting in the Monastery of Bocca di Magra as this place use to be a castle befor becoming a "Center for spirituality" vatican style with a touch of P2 and plenty of Jesuits unfortunately. But once upon a time Dante Alighieri used to live here and lately Bro. Marcinkus of the P2 use to also visit the place for some very discreet meetings with high level illuminati's.

Contaminati dallo Stupidonio di Marco Saba, inedito, 3 dicembre 2006

Qui in Italia siamo tutti contaminati dallo Stupidonio, un nuovo elemento chimico, appena scoperto, che provoca il debito pubblico. I gestori della cosa pubblica, Comuni Province, Regioni, su su fino alle altissime cariche dello Stato, piÃ¹ sono alte e piÃ¹ sono contaminate, non si sono accorte del vantaggio che si ottiene stampandosi la propria moneta. Le monetine metalliche, quelle sÃ¬ sono ancora coniate dallo stato: la differenza di valore tra il costo di conio ed il valore facciale va a beneficio delle casse dello Stato. Ma si tratta di poca cosa rispetto al guadagno ottenibile con la stampa delle banconote. Lo Stato schizofrenico ha pensato bene di appaltare a privati, i soci della Banca d'Italia, questo remunerosissimo business. A sua volta, con la creazione della privata BCE, questo vantaggio Ã¨ stato accentrato a Francoforte. Nemmeno Hitler c'era riuscito a fare un golpe cosÃ¬. Quindi quando lo Stato abbisogna di cash, stampa titoli del debito pubblico, buoni del Tesoro che pagano interessi, insomma, cambiali intestate a te senza che tu lo sappia o lo approvi, che vanno a grandissimo impoverimento della nazione. Tutte le entrate delle tasse sui redditi vanno a coprire il mero pagamento degli interessi sul debito fasullo, dovuto all'ignavia dei palazzi romani. Tutta stupidopoli lavora per produrre un PIL che viene succhiato da bancopoli attraverso l'escamotage del debito inutile. Il lettore si chiederÃ che succede quando il popolo, prima o poi, ne viene a conoscenza: la rivoluzione. Come in America nel 1776, quando a succhiare la rendita monetaria USA era la Bank of England. Un lettore sano di mente potrebbe chiedersi che cosa ci stanno a fare i servizi di intelligence e sicurezza. La domanda Ã" aktualissima. Occorrerebbe anche capire perchÃ© la psichiatria ufficiale non si sia occupata di questo fenomeno. Io personalmente andrÃ² alla manifestazione della Polizia il 5 dicembre a Roma, per spiegare ai poliziotti che, se non si riforma questo sistema delle entrate, la loro funzione Ã" poco diversa da quella degli esattori della Mafia. Gli porterÃ² la lettera che mi ha scritto la polizia europea antifrode OLAF: "Ci spiace, non possiamo indagare... non siamo competenti". Eppure questa rendita monetaria persa, nel solo 2005, valeva cento miliardi di euro. Per l'Italia. Per tutta l'Europa il furto ammonta a 700 miliardi di euro. Il lettore esperto mi dirÃ che la Banca centrale forse paga le tasse su questo imbroglio. Assolutamente no, perchÃ© furbescamente mettono la rendita monetaria AL PASSIVO nel bilancio anzichÃ© all'attivo. La domanda Ã": c'Ã" una cura per i contaminati dallo Stupidonio?

"2012 marks, according to the The Mayan Calendar, the ending of Time as we know it and as something old die something new will be born."

"Mayan Daykeepers view the Dec. 21, 2012 date as a rebirth, the start of the World of the Fifth Sun. It will be the start of a new era resulting from â and signified by â the solar meridian crossing the galactic equator, and the earth aligning itself with the center of the galaxy.

At sunrise on December 21, 2012 â for the first time in 26,000 years â the Sun rises to conjunct the intersection of the Milky Way and the plane of the ecliptic. This cosmic cross is considered to be an embodiment of the Sacred Tree, The Tree of Life â a tree remembered in all the world's spiritual traditions."

"This alignment with the heart of the galaxy in 2012 will open a channel for cosmic energy to flow through the earth, cleansing it and all that dwells upon it, raising all to a higher level of vibration. This process has already begun. "Change is accelerating now, and it will continue to accelerate."

"If the people of the earth can get to this 2012 date in good shape, without having destroyed too much of the Earth, we will rise to a new, higher level. But to get there we must transform enormously powerful forces that seek to block the way."

"Up to now our world wars have followed Piscean Age rules of engagement. This is why it may be hard for us to recognize at first the new rules of engagement of this new age for mankind. The Piscean Age trained us to expect clear definitions between the opposing forces, as well as fighting on traditional battlefields, but we have seen how this kind of war is now old news in favour of a new strategy of tension. A strategy that plays first with your minds and your soul, before taking over your body."

In its darker side, the Aquarian Age pits the forces of rebellion and chaos against the establishment. It will be an age that fights first and foremost on the battlefield of the human psyche. This inner war then blossoms in outer wars of social, religious and economic breakdown and revolution especially when the sun goes wild on us again in 2010.

To not be prepared and dismiss my claims as inaccurate might cost you not only a lot of money but even your life...

apocalypse3a.jpg

It will be a time of great distress; there has never been such a time from the beginning of the world until now, and will never be again. If that time of troubles were not cut short, no living thing would survive; but for the sake of God's chosen it will be cut short. (Matthew 21,22).

The Holy Prophet Mohammed (PBUH) indicated that among those referred to as 'mu'allif-ul-qulub' there were such that would use religion as a means for pursuing their own political goals; who would, in the name and under the cover of religion perform every sort of cruelty. We see how this description fits perfectly the "Christian fundamentalist" George W. Bush and the "Islamic fundamentalist" Osama Bin Laden, two Satanists in the hands of the Vatican Luciferian powers and the Zionist elite who abuse religion for their own evil plan of global manipulation and Mind Control.

"...Priest shall be massacred, the churches shall be closed, but only for a short time, the Holy Father shall be obliged to abandon Rome."

Maria Tigi (d.1837)

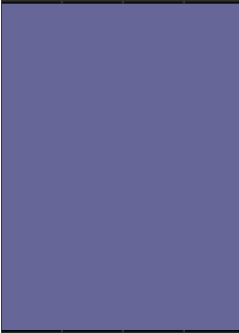

"In the last great desolation of the world the last High Priest of the true God will reign. Criminal Rome will be destroyed and the terrible Judge, in glory, will judge all nations."

The Monk of Padua (1740)

"Very near the Tiber River the Goddess of death threatens. Shortly after the great flood the head of the Church will be taken prisoner and cast out. The Castel (Sant'Angelo) and the (Vatican) palace in flames. (2 Q93)

"Honor-stepping in Cyprus the Masonic Wayâ€!
An American friend of mine forwarded me a message that had been sent by the American Hellenic Institute (AHI), one of the most important Greek-American pressure groups in Washington.
He expressed his hope that the Turkish-American Associations Assembly (ATAA) would learn a little from them about how to lobby."

How to lobby?
Or how to become a EU Satanist?

Turkey knows very well what it means to become non believers and Im sure the truth and the light will prevail in the new Ottoman Empire at the end of October 2012 e.v. , once the young muslims finally start opposing openly this infedel display of satanic powers from the western Vatican driven EU , a satanic lobby ready to corrupt their society and their minds in the hands of Superior General Peter Hans Kolvenbach and his corrupt Zionist Rabbi's...

Well Im also in contact with the Epsilon Team, an ancient Greek secret society based in Delphi that has sent me their support against the Zionist, and their support for true interreligious dialogue so lets see if we can at least put tother a few decent people in the end of times who are willing to talk some sense without the usual spies around.

Khalid says:

"about the Cyprus case , unfortunately as you know Khaled , it is not by the turkish nationalism or the cult of Attaturk that we are going to reconquist those territories from the crusaders ...the same way in Palestine against the zionism we opposed the arab nationalism and we all know the resultsour force is Islam and when we will raise the islamic flag, Allah will help us reconquist all our lost territories (including the Iberian peninsula) and conquer even more lands for Islam"

Thats correct Brother of Islam, and Ishallah one day we will prevail with the flag of true Islam not this fundamentalist USA Vatican driven show of idiotic fundamentalist created by the western powers serving Satan.

----- no cash no job no home and no family for ex illuminati agent Erik Knutstad

Den 5. mars 1977 hadde Kapital en spennende artikkel om en byråsjsjef i Utenriksdepartementet som i brev av 9. februar 1976 ble fritatt for sitt arbeid som leder av 5. handelspolitisk kontor. I et fortrolig dokument av 29. april 1976 (J.nr. 10145/76 I) begrunnet

Utenriksdepartementet dette med at byråsjsjefen, Erik Knutstad, "ved en rekke anledninger siden 1973 har foretatt handlinger som har vÅ,rt egnet til Å, svekke tilliten til hans skjÅ,nn og som ogsÅ, har bidratt til Å, bringe departementet i forlegenhet overfor andre myndigheter og personer ..."

Det det gikk om, var at byråsjsjef Erik Knutstad mente seg overvÅ,ket av Politiets OvervÅ,kingstjeneste (POT), og, naturlig nok, sÅ, klaget han pÅ, dette.

Erik Knutstad var nemlig ikke hvem som helst. Han ble i 1969/70 ansatt som adm.dir. i Royal Caribbean Cruises, men tiltrådte ikke stillingen fordi eierne i RCCL fikk vink om at ikke alt var som det skulle være med Knutstad, og at han får dette hadde han vært forlagssjef hos Ernst G. Mortensen i to år. Senterpartimannen Knutstad hadde også tjenestegjort ved ambassadene i Warszawa og i Tel Aviv.

Utnevnelsen til byråsjef i 1973 og stillingen som leder av 5. handelspolitisk kontor var derfor i trygge hender. Knutstad var utdannet siviløkonom, hadde Krigsskolen og gått Utenriksdepartementets aspirantkurs. Alt var som det skulle være.

Bortsett fra at Erik Knutstad plutselig falt seg overvåknet, og at han klaget over dette både til regjering og Forsvarets Overkommando.

Svaret Knutstad fikk, var at han selvfølgelig ikke var overvåknet av POT eller andre. Knutstad innbilte seg alt sammen, sa man. Og deretter ble byråsjef Erik Knutstad sittende på sitt kontor i UD til midten av 90-tallet uten en eneste arbeidsoppgave. Kapital stilte spørsmålet: "Byråsjef forflyttet på grunn av spionmistanke?", men vi fikk aldri noe svar. Før nå.

Takket være Lund-kommisjonen som avdekket at ulovlig overvåking faktisk har funnet sted i stor målestokk i Norge etter krigen, kunne alle få innsikt i POT-mappene sine (fristen gikk ut ved årsskiftet), og en av de mange som har benyttet seg av dette tilbudet, var Erik Knutstad.

Og ganske riktig: Det fremgår av dokumentene, avgradert i henhold til Innsynsloven av Innsynsutvalget den 12. mars i fjor, at POT hadde anmerkninger i Knutstads mappe allerede fra 1966.

Den 9. mars 1966 skal Knutstad angivelig ha hatt et møte med A.P. Smirnov ved den russiske ambassade, og vi kan lese at han tok med en polsk hushjelp fra Warszawa til Oslo, og fikk en sak med UD for dette, og i 1977 står det at Knutstad "har et injuriesøksmål gjærende mot UD. Han kan virke noe forvirret."

Og i mars 1977 har POT-spionene funnet det nødvendig å rapportere at "EK omtalt i avisen Kapital - artikkel av Hegna."

Alt strengt hemmelig i henhold til Sikkerhetsinstruksen.

Svaret på spørsmålet om byråsjefen ble forflyttet på grunn av spionmistanke, fikk vi altså 26 år senere.

Kapital var i mappen.

Video secretly filmed in Turkey .

HERE IS THE TRANSLATION

Please introduce the candidates to us.

Serdar Başkaya, his profession is electrical engineering.

Aykut Erensoy, his profession is electrical Engineering

Kenan Ali Akman, he is a businessman.

Understood. Please bring them inside.

Dear Misters, before all else we would like you to promise to us that, whether you are accepted as a brother or not, after you are taken into what we call 'the room of contemplation', you will not mention anybody what you see and what you hear here, do you promise on your honour?

Mr. Erensoy?

Yes, I promise.

Mr. BÃ¼yÃ¼kÃ¼stÃ¼n?

I promise.

Mr. Akman?

Yes, I promise.

The inquisitor brother, let the candidates sit.

Mr. BÃ¼yÃ¼kÃ¼stÃ¼n, tell us what is the thing which was touched to your chest and which was made you feel with one of your hands?

Uhm... something metal... sword.

The meaning of the sword being touched to your chest is that you keep your promise otherwise you will be made to regret not keeping it and suffer pains for the rest of your life.

Let us avoid any mistakes, are you really the same people who wants to join us? Did you fill in the form without pressure from others and with your own free will and judgement? And you signed it?

Yes.

Let the cadidates commence 'the first journey'.

Who are these people? Those who seek the real light.

Misters, repeat the oath we made just now once again after me.

Before the symbol of the great architect of the universe and in front of the mason brotherhood, what I said was correct and I swear by it with all my sincerity.

I will not disclose any of our masonic secrets and what I have been shown and told here to anybody other than other brothers in a masonic lodge.

I will work towards the end of masonic goals.

I will obey the principles of the free masons' greater lodge.

I will regularly attend the meetings of the lodge which I will become a member of.

The first officer, brother, what do you want for the candidates?

The light of the scientific truth, dear master.

All other brothers who stand by the columns and decorate the true light. What do you want for the candidates?

The light of the scientific truth, dear master.

Let the scientific truth be given on the 3rd touch of the hammer.

The swords which are pointed at you symbolises the fact that, other masons will defend you should you ever be attacked by others in the rest of your life.

THE SATANIC WORSHIP.

Only 33rd degree masons can attend.

The grand master drinks the goat's blood which is sacrificed in the middle of the room and prays in Hebrew language and ends the satanic worship ritual.

MASONIC WEDDING

A lodge in Istanbul. There is a masonic wedding ceremony which is constantly denied by the masons that it exists. Â«

FOR THE ULTIMATE NEW WORLD ORDER ZIONIST AND ROMAN CHURCH CREATED THE JESUITS

Though Zionism surfaced to a visible religious and economic force for the first time in Ukraine thanks to the support of the Russian elite of the Knights of Malta, is also true that Zionism always existed in those corrupt Jewish families supporting ancient Rome, and the Jesuits who later supported the Knights of Malta were born from crypto jews at a time when Zionism was still a secret doctrine and believe that belong to the elite Jewish Rabbi's.

Thats why Kiev later became so important for Russia and the rest of the world like New York and Wall Street in the modern age and thats why the so called ORANGE REVOLUTION is a ZIONIST VATICAN taker over of the old HQ's supported by the modern INTERNATIONAL ORDER OF ST.STANISLAS based in KIEV consisting of over 300 Knights working for the Vatican and the Jews .

The first Jesuits were cryptoâ€‘Jews. Ignatius Loyola himself was a cryptoâ€‘Jew of the Occult Cabala working for the evil Zionist plot with Rome to create a NEW WORLD ORDER under the usual suspects. A cryptoâ€‘Jew is a Jew who converts to another religion and outwardly embraces the new religion, while secretly maintaining Jewish practices. As John Torell explains: "In 1491 San Ignacio de Loyola was born in the Basque province of Guipuzcoa, Spain. His parents were Marranos and at the time of his birth the family was very wealthy. As a young man he became a member of the Jewish Illuminati order in Spain. As a cover for his crypto Jewish activities, he became very active as a Roman Catholic. On May 20, 1521 Ignatius (as he was now called) was wounded in a battle, and became a semiâ€‘cripple. Unable to succeed in the military and political arena, he started a quest for holiness and eventually ended up in Paris where he studied for the priesthood and created the foundations for the future Jesuit conspiracy. In 1539 he had moved to Rome where he officilay founded the "JESUIT ORDER," which was to become the most vile, bloody and persecuting order in the Roman Catholic Church and the key one for the creation of the evil Empire of Zion togheter that unites Rome and Jerusalem now to the United States of America. In 1540, the current Pope Paul III approved the order. At Loyola's death in 1556 there were more than 1000 members in the Jesuit order, located in a number of nations."

Ignatius of Loyola's secretary, Polanco, was of Jewish descent and was the only person present at Loyola's deathbed. James Lainez, who succeeded Loyola as the second Jesuit General, was also of Jewish descent. Jews were attracted to the Jesuit order and joined in large numbers. Lacunza was no exception. He was a Jew, which explains why he introduced the eschatological teaching of a return to the Jewish animal sacrifices during the Millennium. (In a book titled The Coming of the Messiah in Glory and Majesty published in 1812, 11 years after the death of its author, Jesuit Emanuel de Lacunza who, wrote under the fictitious pen name of a purportedly converted Jew, Rabbi Juan Josaphat Ben Ezra, in order to conceal his identity and to make his writings more palatable to the Protestant readers. He promoted the writings of sixteenth century Jesuit priest Francisco Ribera, developing a futuristic perspective which restricted the prophetic fulfillments in the book of Revelation to the end of the world). Lacunza also wrote that during a millennium after the tribulation the Jewish animal sacrifices would be reinstated along with the Eucharist (the mass) of the Catholic Church. Lacunza has followed after Jewish fables and replaced the commandments o God with the commandments of men. That doctrine gives the Jews primacy in God's plan (the older Brothers as John Paul II use to say) and relegates Christians to a prophetic parenthetical to be supplanted by the Jews during the thousand year earthly reign of Christ.

All this demonstrates simply that Zionist and Jesuits are part of the same Satan controlling Rome and Jerusalem for the last 2000 years...and apparently all Jews who rebel to the NEW WORLD ORDER and convert to ISLAM will end up like the ones London, CONTAMINATED !

Lets fight this evil now,the enemy is only Satan but we have the Holy Qu'ran.

The Daily Telegraph has been told that Mr Litvinenko had converted to Islam. Akhmed Zakayev, the leading Chechen dissident who lived next door to Mr Litvinenko, said: "He was read to from the Koran the day before he died and had told his wife and family that he wanted to be buried in accordance with Muslim tradition."

Psychological Operations/Warfare

by Major Ed Rouse (Ret)

"Capture their minds and their hearts and souls will follow"

Psychological Operations or PSYOP are planned operations to convey selected information and indicators to audiences to influence their emotions, motives, objective reasoning, and ultimately the behavior of organizations, groups, and individuals. Used in all aspects of war, it is a weapon whose effectiveness is limited only by the ingenuity of the commander using it.

A proven winner in combat and peacetime, PSYOP is one of the oldest weapons in the arsenal of man. It is an important force protector/combat multiplier and a non-lethal weapons system.

Psychological Operations (PSYOP) or Psychological Warfare (PSYWAR) is simply learning everything about your target enemy, their beliefs, likes, dislikes, strengths, weaknesses, and vulnerabilities. Once you know what motivates your target, you are ready to begin psychological operations.

Psychological operations may be defined broadly as the planned use of communications to influence human attitudes and behavior ... to create in target groups behavior, emotions, and attitudes that support the attainment of national objectives. The form of communication can be as simple as spreading information covertly by word of mouth or through any means of multimedia.

A psychological warfare campaign is a war of the mind. Your primary weapons are sight and sound. PSYOP can be disseminated by face-to-face communication, audio visual means (television), audio media (radio or loudspeaker), visual media (leaflets, newspapers, books, magazines and/or posters). The weapon is not how its sent, but the message it carries and how that message affects the recipient.

For instance, our American flag, when it goes by in a parade do you feel a sense of pride? How about when you hear our national anthem played? How about "God Bless the USA", Lee Greenwood's song which became popular during Desert Storm? Music or sound can be a major factor in motivating emotion if it is associated with the right message. How many of you think about the pottery wheel scene with Patrick Swaytze and Demi Moore in the movie "Ghost" when you hear the theme song "Unchained Melody"?

It has long been said that: "The pen is mightier than the sword". That is because, if used properly, words can be an inspiration to motivate others. Some examples:

"Remember the Alamo"

"Give me liberty or give me death"

"I regret I have but one life to give for my country"

"Ask not what your country can do for you? Ask what you can do for your country"

Now for psychological operations to be effective, you must carefully plan your propaganda. You must make sure that you know everything about your enemy and that you are targeting his beliefs and not using your own. For example, at the very beginning of Desert Shield, just after Iraq invaded Kuwait, President Bush referred to Saddam Hussein as being "just like Adolph Hitler"

For Americans and most of Europe that was an insulting comparison. However, looking at it through the eyes of an Iraqi soldier Adolph Hitler tried to exterminate all the Jews. Iraq has long hated Israel. Hitler drove out the British and French forces that had long occupied the middle east. So with the right propaganda, the comparison could be interpreted that Saddam, like Hitler, hates Israel and wants to keep the western infidel influence from contaminating the middle east. This would be a compliment not an insult.

On the reverse side, knowing your enemy's beliefs can work for you. For example, remember when Saddam Hussein broadcasted live images of his "Human Shields, the woman and children of westerners that were in Iraq when the war broke out? The Koran, the Moslem bible, states that you can do what you with with your enemy, but that you must not harm his family,(wife and children). Saddam's actions allowed us to show that he was a coward, hiding behind innocent people and ignoring the Moslem laws he was so quick to say he was defending.

How do you get to know your enemy? Intelligence reports, Area studies, in country research, defectors, native help, and even the enemy prisoners of war all are sources of information. As leaflets were developed during Desert Storm, they were tested on cooperative EPWs (enemy prisoners of war. Some of the recommendations for changes to the leaflet's illustrations made by these EPWs were: remove any trace of the color red (a danger signal to Iraqis), show Allied soldiers with chin beards rather than clean-shaven faces (beards convey trust and brotherhood in Iraqi culture), and add bananas to a bowl of fruit shown being offered to surrendering Iraqis (bananas are a great delicacy in Iraq). Also, an illustration depicting a surrendering Iraqi thinking of his family back home confused the EPWs. "Thought bubbles" are well-known in Western culture, but virtually unknown to Iraqis. The illustration was dropped.

In a memo written to then-Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on 24 October 1953, former U.S. President Dwight D. Eisenhower defined psychological warfare as anything "from the singing of a beautiful anthem up to the most extraordinary kind of physical sabotage."

Used during peacetime, contingencies and declared war, these activities are not a form of force, but are force multipliers that use nonviolent means in often violent environments. Persuading rather than compelling physically, they rely on logic, fear, desire or other mental factors to promote specific emotions, attitudes or behaviors. The ultimate objective of U.S. military psychological operations is the dissemination of truthful information to foreign audiences in support of U.S. policy and national objectives to convince enemy, neutral, and friendly nations and forces to take action favorable to the United States and its allies.

Now please note that I stated above that Psychological Operations as conducted by the US Military is the dissemination of "truthful" information, not propaganda which is categorized as "white, gray, or black". Now what is the difference between PSYOP and propaganda? A memorandum prepared by the Chief of Army Field Forces at Fort Monroe, Virginia in September of 1953 briefly explained the difference between "gray" propaganda, messages broadcast with the goal of "avoiding identification," and "black" propaganda, which involves "attribution to a source other than the true one."

A more recent set of definitions, reportedly used by former CIA chief William Colby and cited in at least one commercial publication, calls truthfully-attributed and non-attributed messages "white" propaganda, whereas messages falsely attributed to a third party are considered "gray." The term "black propaganda" is reserved for those materials "planted by the United States but in such a way that it seems to be the product or even an internal document of the target group." In other words, "black propaganda" is nothing less than a form of intellectual and political subversion.

Historically, the application of psychological operations in one form or another has proven to be almost as essential to the successful waging of war as the use of manpower and weaponry. However, in spite of its long history of successful employment, the potential for using the power of persuasion through psychological operations as a force multiplier to achieve national objectives with a minimum of destruction, has been recognized by only the most perceptive of military leaders and statesmen. Furthermore, it has been since World War II that PSYOP has come into its own as an effective weapon system.

The giant strides made in the area of behavioral sciences, which can now enable us to know and understand why people behave as they do, combined with the development and perfection of mass media communications, have greatly multiplied the capability and value of PSYOP as a means of achieving our own national objectives without needless bloodshed.

An analysis of recent conflicts has demonstrated the value of psychological operations/warfare on and off the battlefield. As a result, military authorities are now beginning to accept the fact that psychological operations is a very special combat weapon—one that every military commander must consider employing, and defending against, if he is to accomplish his mission with minimum losses. This recognition of the important role of PSYOP has resulted in its integration into many training programs and tactical exercises, as well as the consideration of PSYOP employment in all future military operations.

United States psychological operations consist of three distinct types: Tactical PSYOP, Strategic PSYOP and Consolidation PSYOP.

Tactical PSYOP is addressed to a specific enemy combat group, to induce them to perform a specific action that will affect the current or short-range combat situation.

Aimed at a larger audience, Strategic PSYOP is put into effect by a carefully planned campaign against a larger target audience than that toward which Tactical PSYOP is directed.

Consolidation PSYOP's mission is to assist the civil and military authorities in consolidating their gains, by establishing and maintaining law and order, and by re-establishing civil government in an occupied or liberated area.

All three types of psychological operations - - Tactical, Strategic and Consolidation--- can be employed to produce the following desired effects:

- Reduce moral and combat efficiency within the enemy's ranks.
- Promote mass dissension within and defections from enemy combat units and/or revolutionary cadre.
- Support our own and allied forces cover and deception operations.
- Promote cooperation, unity and morale within one's own and allied units, as well as within resistance forces behind enemy lines.

Now Psychological Operations (PSYOP) is not a new military tactic by any means. There are numerous examples of the use of psychological warfare throughout history. The following are some historical examples which illustrate the attainment of each of these four objectives.

Perhaps one of the earliest examples of Psychological Warfare was attributed to "Alexander the Great of Macedonia. Alexander had conquered most of the known world during his reign. With each region he conquered he left behind soldiers to keep control of the newly conquered area. Eventually, there came a point when Alexander realized that he had stretched his army too thin and was now in danger of losing to a large opposing force. Alexander's only option was to retreat and regroup forces with the armies he left behind. However, to do so would certainly incite the opposing force to pursue him and very possibly capture or defeat his now smaller army.

Alexander knew that if he could intimidate the opposing force they would be scared to follow his army. Alexander instructed his armorers to make several oversized armor breastplates and helmets that would fit "giants", men 7 to 8 feet tall. As Alexander and his forces withdrew during the night they left behind the oversized armor. The oversized armor was of course found by the opposing force who then believed that they had come close to engaging in a battle with giants. A battle that they surely would have lost. The oversized armor coupled with the stories they had heard from travelers of the savagery of Alexander's army caused enough doubt and fear that they elected not to pursue Alexander's army.

Sun Tsu, recognized as one of the greatest military tacticians of all times, strongly advocated the use of psychological warfare as a force multiplier. Sun Tsu wrote that:

To capture the enemy's entire army is better than to destroy it; to take intact a regiment, a company, or a squad is better than to destroy them. For to win one hundred victories in one hundred battles is not the acme of skill. To subdue the enemy without fighting is the supreme excellence. Thus, what is of supreme importance in war is to attack the enemy's strategy. Next best is to disrupt his alliances by diplomacy. The next best is to attack his army. And the worst policy is to attack cities.

Sun Tzu understood that given the opportunity, an adversary will surrender to a superior commander prior to conflict. In order to have a chance to be that superior leader, PSYOP must be coordinated and included in initial planning and implemented prior to conflict. If hostilities begin, proper PSYOP implementation can end the conflict earlier than otherwise expected. PSYOP is a force multiplier and resource saver.

Mongol leader Genghis Khan was widely known for leading hordes of savage horsemen across Russia and into Europe. While not totally unfounded, the Mongols' image of total, barbaric domination was greatly enhanced by Khan's use of PSYOP, deception, operational security (OPSEC), and targeting his adversaries' decision-making process. "Agents of influence" were sent in advance of his armies to do face-to-face PSYOP, telling of brutality and large numbers in the Mongol army. Khan also used deception to create the illusion of invincible numbers by using rapid troop maneuver, making his army look larger than it really was. He had a network of horsemen called "arrow riders" to communicate quickly with his commanders, and he targeted enemy messengers to prevent enemy commanders from communicating with each other. All these actions caused a weakness in their enemy's psyche, and the Mongols were feared wherever they went.

World War II

Psychological operations were used extensively by all sides during World War II. Adolf Hitler rose to power by exploiting the dissatisfaction of supporters of the traditional left and right wing parties, by dwelling on the failure of these parties to solve the problems created by the conditions imposed on Germany under the Treaty of Versailles. He then presented National Socialism as the one movement capable of uniting conservative nationalists with international socialists, the professional classes with the working classes in the service of the nation. The speeches he delivered urged national pride and unity and placed the blame for all of Germany's problems on others. His oratory techniques and use of propaganda gave him a truly hypnotic grip over the German masses. After taking over as dictator, the Germans continued to use propaganda both to unite Germany and to intimidate their enemies.

Radio broadcasts became a major means of passing propaganda to the enemy. Japan used the notorious "Tokyo Rose" to broadcast music, propaganda, and words of discouragement to our allied forces. The Germans used Mildred Gillar, better remembered as "Axis Sally". The Americans used deception and psychological operations to convince the German high command that the D-Day invasion was not going to be launched at Normandy but at Calais.

However the best and most innovative use of psychological warfare must be attributed to a radio broadcast by the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC). During the period May through September 1940, when the German invasion of England seemed imminent, a regular BBC radio program, easily heard and often listened to by the Germans, began a series of English language lessons for the would-be invaders. These broadcasts of course were presented in flawless German. The British announcer stated the purpose of these broadcasts like this:

"â€¦and so it will be best if you learn a few useful phrases in English before visiting us. For your first lesson, we take â€˜DIE KANAUEBERFAHRTâ€™. The channel crossing."

"Now, just repeat after me: â€˜DAS BOOT SINKT.â€™ The boat is sinking. The boat is sinking"

"DAS WASSER IST KALT. The water is cold. SER KALT. Very cold"

"Now I will give you a verb that should be very useful. Again, please repeat after me. ICH BRENNE. I am burning. Du Brennst. You are burning. ER BRENNT. He is burning. WIR BRENNEN. We burn. IHR BRENNT. You are burning. SIE BRENNEN. They are burning."

This was rather crude material: but it proved effective. The phrases about burning in the English Channel seemed to confirm the intensive rumors already being spread by British agents on the continent that the British had perfected an apparatus with which they were going to set fires in the Channel and on the English beaches whenever Hitler launched his invasion. Although not true, the rumors were so well planned and cleverly spread that to this day, many Germans believe them. Documents found after the war confirmed that the German High Command believed that the British had a workable plan to set fire to the English Channel.

Cover and deception operations are complex and intricate affairs, invariably involving many talents, techniques and resources. Perhaps the most ambitious and spectacular cover and deception operation of modern times was the effort of the Allies to convince the German high command that the upcoming Allied invasion of Europe would occur across the beaches near the Pas de Calais, rather than the narrow sand strips and cliffs of Normandy nearly 100 hundred miles away.

Through imaginative employment of psychological operations the Allies created the fictitious "Army Group Patton," which was poised to strike across the English Channel at the Germans 15th Panzer Army defending the Pas de Calais. This ruse convinced the German strategists and planners that the Allied assault would be spearheaded at the Pas de Calais by an army under the command of Lieutenant General George S. Patton, whom many considered our best combat command. As a result, the heaviest concentration of German combat power in France was positioned at the Pas de Calais, waiting for Patton.

Even after the Allied invasion came at Normandy, Hitler would not allow for the deployment of the 15th Panzer Army from the Pas de Calais. Hitler was still convinced that the Normandy invasion was only a prelude to the real invasion. The 15th Panzer Army waited in vain at the Pas de Calais for nearly seven weeks for Army Group Patton, an invasion that was never to come. General of the Army Omar Bradley later referred to this operation as "the biggest hoax of the war". As for the German Army, they never fully recovered from the reversals set in motion by their delay in releasing the 15th Panzer Army.

The next example concerns the fourth objective of psychological operations, that is, its use to promote cooperation, unity and morale within friendly units and people as well as within resistance forces behind enemy lines.

During World War II, the very survival of the Soviet Union was due in large part to Stalin's ability to appeal to and mobilize the emotional patriotism of the Russian people. With his regime reeling under the blows of the German blitz in 1941, Stalin sensed that the ideological abstractions and Communist platitudes, which the Party had driven into the minds of its captive domestic audience since its take over in 1918, were relatively barren and did not have the emotional and spiritual impact necessary to fortify the Russian people for their struggle against Hitler's armies. Therefore, in one of the most dramatic policy turn-about in modern history, Stalin systematically set about identifying his Communist regime with "Holy Russia" (and "Mother Russia") its ancient heritage and its accompanying symbolism.

The two Russian institutions with the deepest roots in the past, the Army and the Church, were cultivated by Stalin's propagandists as never before in Soviet history. The historic accomplishments of Russian armies were glorified. The church hierarchy and class distinctions were returned to pre-revolution standards. Even the official newspaper, "PRAVDA," dropped its Marxist motto, "WORKERS OF THE WORLD, UNITE," and substituted the openly nationalistic slogan, "DEATH TO THE GERMAN INVADER." The ensuing struggle became and is still officially known in Soviet history as "The Great Patriotic War".

Thus we see how even Josef Stalin, one of the most hard-headed dictators of the 20th Century, realized that his conventional military weapons alone, were not enough to meet the challenge of the German armies. In retrospect, we can see that his choice of utilizing psychological operations to augment his conventional military forces, would prove to play a major role in maintaining the survival of his communist regime for so many years.

Korea

Having learned the effectiveness of radio broadcasts and leaflets during World War II, the U.S. Army Far East Command's small Special Projects Branch of the Headquarters G-2 (Intelligence) Division, began radio broadcasts and leaflet drops over the Republic of South Korea immediately after North Korea's invasion across the 38th Parallel in June 1950. Later during the fall of that year, the 1st Loudspeaker and Leaflet Company arrived in South Korea. This unit would serve as the 8th Army's tactical psychological warfare unit to the end of the war in 1952.

The 1st Loudspeaker and Leaflet Company used both vehicle and aircraft mounted loudspeakers to get their verbal messages across. However, as in previous U.S. wars, leaflets were still the major medium. Korean War leaflets themes center around the "happy POW," "good soldier-bad leaders," "surrender and you will be well-treated," "we can crush you," and nostalgia for home, family and women.

Vietnam

Psychological Operations were used by both sides. Many G.I.'s may remember the notorious "Hanoi Hannah", who like "Tokyo Rose" of WW II broadcasted a daily radio program where she played music, coupled with the North's view of the news and messages of discouragement to our troops.

The Americans countered with their own radio broadcasts, and leaflet programs.

In Vietnam, the United States conducted air attacks against military and military-related strategic targets partly for psychological effect. The principal psychological objective of these attacks was to persuade enemy leaders to negotiate an early end to the conflicts on terms acceptable to the United States.

These air attacks failed to deter the communists from protracting the fighting for over eight years in Vietnam. In addition to the humanitarian and other constraints the United States imposed on its air operations, various conditions and attitudes in the enemy camp diluted the coercive effects of the U.S. strategic attacks. These included the enemy government's:

access to support and sanctuary from external powers, which allowed the enemy to continue fighting even when its indigenous war-related production facilities had been destroyed.

strong commitment to the objectives or cause that gave rise to the conflict with the United States.

readiness to absorb enormous human and materiel losses.

ability to maintain domestic support for the war effort and/or sufficient internal security to suppress any potential opposition.

perception that the likely benefits from continued conflict would exceed the costs resulting from the U.S. bombing.

After having already made what it considered to be its maximum feasible concessions in the Vietnam peace talks, the United States resorted to escalation or threatened escalation to bring the negotiations to closure.

Severe U.S. escalation or threatened escalation was required to extract comparatively modest concessions from both enemies. In Vietnam, Washington had to employ massive B-52 and fighter-bomber strikes on Hanoi and Haiphong to force the communists to complete a peace agreement, the key provisions of which they had already accepted.

The communists agreed to terms only after their military forces on the battlefield had been stalemated. Prior to the settlements, the communist forces in Vietnam had mounted major offensives, the defeat of which left them no prospects for immediate further military gains.

Operation Just Cause - Panama

At H-Hour, 1-508th Abn had the mission of securing Ft. Amador, an installation shared by the U.S. and Panama Defense Force (PDF). Because of the need for OPSEC, American dependents could not be evacuated in advance of the attack. This complication, and the requirement to minimize enemy casualties and physical damage, made PSYOP loudspeaker teams, from the 1st Bn, 4th PSYOP Gp, a key asset. The battalion sealed off the PDF portion of Ft. Amador and ensured that all noncombatants were safe. After daylight, the task force set about systematically securing the area. When initial appeals failed to persuade the PDF to surrender, the commander modified the broadcasts. The holdouts were warned that resistance was hopeless in the face of overwhelming firepower and a series of demonstrations took place, escalating from small arms to 105mm howitzer rounds. Subsequent broadcasts convinced the PDF to give up. The entire process allowed Ft. Amador to be secured with few casualties and minimal damage.

The Gulf War

The Gulf War brought a whole new meaning to the use of multimedia in psychological operations. Radio and TV broadcasts, leaflets, and loudspeakers used the themes of Arab brotherhood, allied air power, and Iraqi isolation to induce large numbers of enemy soldiers to desert. One of the most effective tactics involved the dropping of leaflets on a particular unit, informing it that it would be bombed within twenty-four hours and had to surrender to avoid destruction. Over a seven-week period, 29 million leaflets of more than 100 different leaflets were disseminated, reaching approximately 98% of the 300,000 troops. Click here for some examples of Gulf War leaflets.

The 4th PSYOP Group began broadcasting the "VOICE OF THE GULF" radio network on 19 January 1991. It operated continuously through 1 April 1991 with more than 210 hours of live broadcasting and 330 hours of prerecorded programs. A total of 2072 news items were aired along with 189 PSYOP messages. The VOICE OF THE GULF network consisted of a 50 KW AM transmitter located at Abu Ali, Saudi Arabia broadcasting on AM 1134; a 10KW AM transmitter located at Qaisumah, Saudi Arabia broadcasting on AM 1179; a 1KW FM transmitter located at Qaisumah, Saudi Arabia broadcasting on FM 87.5 and two Volant Solo EC-130 aircraft of the 193rd Special Operations Group broadcasting on AM 690 and FM 88.5 and 87.9.

Of course like some of the other big wars, Iraq chose to use a woman, "Baghdad Betty", to conduct propaganda broadcasts to deter and disillusion their enemy. Unfortunately for Iraq, they forgot that a truly effective psychological warfare program must have the input of highly-qualified clinical psychologists "who specialize in the unconscious dynamics of human behavior and motivation" and who are knowledgeable about the "values and customs of different cultures." Such expertise is essential to the "selection of a culturally appropriate and effectively persuasive concept and value-based theme" that is the heart of any PSYOP. In one of her first broadcast Baghdad Betty warned the American soldiers listening that while they were in the desert of Saudi Arabia, their wives and girlfriends were sleeping with Tom Cruise, Tom Selleck and Bart Simpson. Now it was ridiculous enough to infer that our wives and girlfriends would be seduced by two movie stars but by their failure to do thorough research on the American culture, Betty lost any chance of credibility by telling our servicemen that a cartoon character was seducing our women back home.

During Desert Storm the 4th PSYOP Group fielded 71 Tactical loudspeaker teams. These teams provided support to USARCENT (both XVIII Airborne Corps and VII Corps), USMARCENT and USSOCCENT. Loudspeaker teams broadcast surrender appeals, harassment and deception tapes. Most loudspeaker teams had Saudi Arabian, Egyptian or Kuwaiti linguists attached to execute live broadcasts as the situation dictated. Loudspeaker teams were also innovatively employed for prisoner control at the EPW camps with broadcasts designed to accomplish prisoner pacification and underscore Military Police authority.

One of the best examples of the successful use of loudspeakers occurred during the Gulf War. The allied coalition effectively isolated, both physically and psychologically, a large element of Iraqi forces on Faylaka Island. Rather than reduce the island by direct assault, a tactical PSYOP team from the 9th PSYOP Battalion, aboard a UH-1N helicopter, flew aerial loudspeaker missions around the island with cobra gunships providing escort. The message told the adversary below to surrender the next day in formation at the radio tower. The next day 1,405 Iraqis, including a general officer, waited in formation at the radio tower to surrender to the Marine forces without a single shot having been fired.

How successful was the US PSYOP campaign in Desert Storm? The International Red Cross reported that nearly 87,000 Iraqi soldiers turned themselves over to coalition forces, most of them clutching the leaflets or hiding them in their clothing. All incidents of surrender were bloodless. Perhaps the best testimony to the effectiveness of PSYOP was given by an Iraqi General when he stated that:

"PSYOP...was a great threat to troop morale, second only to the coalition bombing campaign."

Thus, psychological operations are coming of age. We saw from historical examples, how Tactical, Strategic and Consolidation PSYOP can cover the short-range, long-range and recuperative phases of warfare, to reduce enemy morale and combat effectiveness; to promote dissension within and defections from enemy ranks; to support cover and deception operations; and to promote unity, cooperation and morale within our own military and those of our allies, and to provide meaningful domestic assistance to less fortunate groups and communities.

Why then, you may ask, has the value of psychological operations taken so long to receive general recognition, and why is it full potential yet to be realized?

Part of the answer to this question was covered earlier in our presentation, when it was discussed that although psychological operations has been utilized by various military leaders over the centuries, it has only been recently with the major advances in behavioral sciences and mass communications that PSYOP has come into its own as an effective weapon system of great potential.

Another part of the answer to this question lies in the attitude of people towards psychological operations. To some, it produces images of government controlled communications/mass media, telling the people only what the government wants them to hear. To others, it raises the horrid specter of Joseph Goebbels, Hitler's Propaganda Minister, practicing the technique of the "big lie" which has incorrectly become synonymous with "propaganda". Still to others, the mere mention of "psychological" operations or warfare invokes visions of "mind control" through some mysterious means of brainwashing.

It should be clear that modern psychological operations, or PSYOP, is none of those things. On the contrary PSYOP is not unlike the public advertising that we are all exposed to wherever we go, every day, through all kinds of mass media. However the negative connotation that some people attach to the word "psychological" prevents many people from recognizing the simple truth. Everyone knows that if you do not have a good product to sell, people will not continue buying it, no matter how much you advertise. The same applies to the points of view advertised through the use of psychological operations. Thus we have no reason to fear PSYOP, but we do have ample reason to respect it for what it can do.

By the application of sound PSYOP techniques, through face-to-face communication and mass media communications, we have demonstrated, time and time again, that we can appeal to the intelligence, reason, and emotions of our target audience to get them to think and act as we desire. If these people are shooting at us, we can persuade them to lay down their arms. If they fear us, we can convince them that they have nothing to fear. If they are belligerent and uncooperative, we can show them the value of unity and cooperation. Lastly and most important, the utilization of PSYOP can prevent needless bloodshed, destruction and misery. That is why we say, with conviction, that psychological operations, or PSYOP, is truly a humane weapon.

Today, Psychological Operations are a vital part of the broad range of U.S. political, military, economic and ideological activities used by the U.S. government to secure national objectives. The mission of providing Psychological Operations for the U.S. Military today rests with the U.S. Army's Civil Affairs and Psychological Operations Command at Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

"Nel 1914 il Fr. Arturo Reghini di fronte all'invadenza del partito clericonazionalista (laici e preti strettamente alleati) scrisse Imperialismo Pagano invitando gli italiani a riflettere. Concluse così il suo scritto: «Nazionalismo e cattolicismo sono termini antitetici persino etimologicamente! Storicamente ed intrinsecamente il nazionalismo cattolico è una assurdità! Noi esortiamo gli italiani sinceri a non volersi prestare al giuoco della Chiesa Romana ; ed a costituire un partito imperialista laico, pagano, ghibellino che si ispiri unicamente alla tradizione italica di Virgilio, di Dante, di Campanella, di Mazzini.»

Se oggi gli Italiani vogliono ritrovare la loro anima rinascimentale e romana, devono riscoprire un'unità politica vera, non quella ingannevole proposta dal potere. Devono costruire un rapporto col mondo orientale ed ebraico diverso da quello perseguito dalle potenze occidentali che sono l'espressione del fondamentalismo cristiano in guerra con quello islamico per il controllo delle fonti energetiche. L'Italia è l'unica potenza europea dalla quale dipende il destino di tutte le altre Nazioni mediterranee e quindi deve avere il coraggio di fare scelte coraggiose, di ricominciare a fare la storia, perché dalla nostra debolezza nasce l'arroganza e l'arbitrio degli altri i quali anche se meno dotati di noi in termini civili e umani pur di sopravvivere e di continuare a regnare non ci penseranno due volte a buttare nella spazzatura i valori veri della giustizia e dell'umanesimo latino, esercitando contro di noi la violenza più brutta e distruggendo quel poco che ancora resta della nostra intelligenza e della nostra cultura." internazionalista ai danni dell'€™Italia, dimostrÃ² con dati di fatto che, a differenza di alcuni ordini religiosi, la massoneria italiana dava garanzie di italianitÃ e di fedeltÃ agli ideali risorgimentali, senza venir meno ai suoi fondamenti iniziatici.(vedasi: Roberto Sestito, Storia del Rito Filosofico Italiano, FirenzeLibri 2003)."

i just want to say thank you for everything youre helping to expose. youre doing a fantastic job leo. dont listen to the haters out here. youre helping me to finally draw alot of conclusions to the lines ive had already in place. keep up the good work and may god bless you and keep you safe as he has done for me.

ive had my own experience with the oto when i was younger and your words ring true. ive written about it before in the old forum . and i will be again writting an article on it soon to help take some of the heat off of you. so just hang in there. the truth is boyant and it will rise to the surface.

i recieved some tattoos in my ordeal with the oto. i was wondering if you could shed some light on the imagery. ive recently been told i pretty much have a incantation from the egyptian book of the dead on my back. I know the evil of these groups i have seen them kill with sigils from afar. i am aware of the work they do for satan. i think thats why its not as hard for me to grasp what youre saying. i just want to say that if you put this letter on your site like you did my last one, please remove the url's to the tattoos as they were given to me by the order and i dont need them tracking me down, or making sigils for myself or my family. thank you leo and god bless you.

Dear Bro Phil,

sorry for the late answer but as you might know I was busy in Turkey for a week and when I came back home I was full of work so just let me confirm you that all the families you have mentioned , I repeat all are involved with the Vatican-Jerusalem illuminati Jesuit NWO conspiracy. This is very important for me to specify as there will be no Vatican Jesuit Knights of Malta elite without the economic support of the Zionist Jerusalem-New York Mafia.

Thats why the most prominent families from the European aristocracy who slowly sold out Europe to the Vatican Satan and the Zionist elite starting from the 17th century ended up getting married with eachother and moving to the American colonies so to keep their status forever and create a new Vatican-Jerusalem Supreme Mafia in the United States that could rule the world in despotism and eventually create a New World Order under Rome and Jerusalem (Christianity and Judaism) .This was done from the begining at the expense of the aristocratic families who opposed the Vatican or the Zionist plot and money offers, these families were eventually destined to poverty or simply extinction in the following centuries. At the begining of last century the situation got so bad for some of the aristocratic bloodlines who didnt follow the illuminati Orders that many of them started to marry rich American illuminati in a last attempt to preserve their castles and their status at home in the old continent , but also to get involved with those 13th bloodlines that realy started at that point to rule the scene from the United States. T

And to destroy or submit any opponents of the illuminati plan left in the aristocracy (if their were any) they deliberately created communism,fascism and Nazism to give them the final blow. Some of the Russian aristocrats who actualy were amongst the few in Europe opposing this plot were eliminated or sent to exile in places were the illuminati had full control over them like atheist France home of the Grand Orient.

In regards to Diana she was killed because she was with a guy like Dodi that I will not define as a proper muslim but as a infedel doing cocaine , dealing weapons and going with prostitutes only two weeks before his death he basicly deserved to die if you know what I mean especially after making Diana pregnant (did he think he was fucking a babylonian hore???) , well I gave my positive opinion at the time to the Brethern in open Lodge later on for this execution in Paris in full illuminati style.

I was not involved directely thanks God but I know that the Templar Priory of Sion of Gino Sandri (secretary of Plantard Sinclair living in Paris) was involved and the head of the Secret police in Nice Bro.Marcel Chirlou was also.

And I tell you more dear Phil there is a connection here with the murder of Princess Grace (ordered by the Vatican) was actualy carried out by the corrupt Templars/Secret police forces of the time in Nice (evidence of Tempar infiltration and manipulation in Nice at that time gave even birth to a big scandal later well documented on the french press of the early 80's) , Templars secretly controlled by illuminati Freemason Grand Masters like Jean Pierre Giudicelli , known for his links with the P2 and the Jesuits trough Massimo Introvigne were in charge of operations in that area . Helping the French intelligence in this delicate assasination the Canadian intelligence because of the Order of the Solar Temple experiment that unfortunately involved Princess Grace.

Michael Jackson in Dubai at the moment trying to save his soul after his perverse years in the illuminati phedophile trap.

Jean Pierre Giudicelli de Bresac de la Bachelerie?

Subject: Rif: Jean Pierre Giudicelli de Bresac de la Bachelerie???

Caro Leo,

ti rispondo intanto su quanto riguarda Jean Pierre.

L'ho conosciuto a Nizza qualche anno fa, in occasione di un'investitura templare. (appartiene, come me, all'Ordine di Pinto de Souza). Il predicato Bressac de la Bachelerie l'ha acquisito per ereditÃ , in quanto si Ã fatto adottare da un vecchio coglione di tal nome.

A quel tempo era preside di un'Accademia Miryamica ed appartenente al Grande Oriente Osirideo Egizio.

Era inoltre membro del Misraim e Memphis (filiazione Caracciolo) e si dichiarava in possesso degli Arcana Arcanorum (ma ce l'hanno tutti). Negli anni '70 ha avuto dei guai giudiziari per infiltrazioni templari nella polizia di Nizza e trame varie.

Per quanto riguarda l'Ordine di Thebes ti invierÃ un scritto di Introvigne che risponde (quasi) a veritÃ .

Ho saputo che J.P.Ã uscito in questi giorni di galera, in quanto ha scontato qualche mese per molestie sessuali alla figlia minorenni di una sua "servante" islamica.

A me Ã simpatico, ma da un punto di vista storiografico sugli Ordini, non credo sia affidabile.

Personalmente ti proporrei piuttosto di implicare il "Misraim e Memphis" nei contatti con il nuovo gruppo massonico inglese, piuttosto che con che il Priorato, dato che questo non ha niente di Massonico.

Ma sul M.M.potrei metterti in contatto direttamente con Caracciolo, che Ã il Gran Maestro mondiale di tale Ordine, e che Ã una persona totalmente affidabile.
Per quanto riguarda il Sandri, se accetti il consiglio, stanne alla larga, e se proprio lo devi incontrare poni le terga al muro e fai i debiti scongiuri.
Stanotte "raffinerÃ il Codice. Ho delle buone traccie , ma devo inserirci altro materiale, soprattutto sulla parte avuta nelle radici del tormentone da membri dell'Ordine Martinista.
Devo inoltre aggiungerci altre materiale e tradurre le lettere di quel bel tomo di Plantard a Petain ed a De Gaulle. Quando avrÃ finito t'invierÃ il testo completo.
Non ho niente contro il Cocchi ne contro nessun gruppo, a meno che non siano persone e contesti che possano sputtanare la Massoneria.
Andreotti diceva che a sospettare si fa peccato, ma si indovina quasi sempre.
GiÃ che sei stato cristiano, ricorda le parole evangeliche: "siate semplici come le colombe ma astuti come i serpenti." Giocare Ã bello solo quando si vince ed il segreto per vincere Ã di imporre le nostre regole.
Ciao, orderplay.
Salute e fraternitÃ , da parte dell'anglo-becero.

Biography

Mr. Klaus Schmidt, a Senior Police Officer from the Bavarian State Police with more than 40 years of service, is a veteran of all EU Police Missions in Albania.
He was born in 1945 and is a native of Fuerth/Bavaria where he joined the Police after serving his time in the military.

Mr. Schmidt is a graduate of the Senior Command Course in Germany, the FBI National Academy, the FBI Executives training at Quantico, Virginia and at the University of Princeton, the DEA Commander training and the West Point Leadership and Command training. He studied from 1985 to 1990 Political Science and Sociology at the University of Wuerzburg and was granted a scholarship for the University of Southern California where he graduated the Delinquency Control Institute. He is a Graduate of the Senior Executive Class on Counterterrorism at the College for Security Studies in Germany.

Mr. Schmidt held several senior positions within the Bavarian State Police, the German Senior Command College, the European Drugs Unit and at Europol. He served as Commander of the MAPE Mission, Head of Operations with the ECPA-A Mission and Deputy Head of Mission with PAMECA (2002-2004).

His service in the Police includes several years in the Bomb Squad of the Bavarian State Police, where he also received training as a diver for underwater demolition.

Mr. Schmidt worked during this period of time as instructor for Special Forces in Bavaria, on federal level and abroad. His main professional experience lies within combating Serious and Organised Crime.

Mr. Schmidt received several decorations for his service including the West Point Leadership Award.

As Head of the Mission he represents the project on high level towards the Albanian authorities, the European Commission, the EU Member States and the International Consortium of Donors. He orchestrates and monitors PAMECA's activities and evaluates the quality of reports and analysis.

According to a decision of the Government of the Republic of Albania dated 23 June 2005, Mr. Schmidt was appointed as Professor for International Strategic Management for his role of implementing a new national command, leadership and management system for the ASP.

Well its about the way humans psyche works in the metaphisics compared to the much faster way they act in the physical realm.
Its about human turtles...

Working together with Ege University (Turkey) professor Ertan Taskavak, Matthew Bettelheim recently published the results of their investigation into the identify of the tortoise species depicted in Ottoman artist Osman Hamdi Bey's popular 1906 painting, "The Tortoise Trainer" [Kaplumbaga Terbiyecisi], in the International Society for the History and Bibliography of Herpetology's academic journal Bibliotheca Herpetologica (Volume 6, Number 2). Often referred to mistakenly as "The Turtle Trainer," this is perhaps one of Osman Hamdi's best known works and has earned him no little fame. In December of 2004, "The Tortoise Trainer" was auctioned off to the Suna-Inan Kirac Foundation's Pera Museum in Turkey for 5 trillion Turkish lira ($3.5 million), setting a record for the highest price paid for a Turkish painting...
So you can also make alot of money with a Turtle trainer...

MANUALS OF THE BLACK NOBILITY VOL 1

By Leo Lyon Zagami

(in the photo Leo when he was still a Knight of Malta,a puppet of the Vatican)

"The Book of the Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage" a favorite classic by the illuminati elite who rules the Knights of Malta

No Black,white or Red Magic without Jinns or Angels Im afraid.
But there are good Jinns, the believers, the ones who follow the pure techings of Prophet Mohammed (PBUH) who mind their own business and respect humans and the rules of God, and others instead the followers of the great Jinn Satan, who will always try to trick from time to time the weak humans but never the spiritually advanced. That's because they know they will fail with the true adepts of the Art. They form communities just like humans with Kings of the Jinn, Jinns soldiers and the whole show, but no democracy is allowed in Jinn dimension, as democracy is just an illusion built by mankind that we don't find in the Metaphysical Kingdom or in the animal Kingdom .

In The Book of the Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage, you can discover the name of all these diabolical entities and come in contact with them or if you are a true illuminati you can finally at the end of this Ordeal have contact with the Angels , needless to say it's very very dangerous to try , and you will be a fool to even try it once if you don't want to end up in hell, or more likely in a mental asylum surrounded by evil illuminati waiting for your psychotic soul. So the ones who end the ritual successfully to my knowledge are none within the illuminati circles because they all end up being possessed like the Black Nobility of Venice and their evil illuminati Lodges of Martinism and the likes.

"A.Crowley tried the Sacred Magic of Abramelin (obviously 666 had to do it!) and got completely possessed by one of the biggest Jinn Lucifer . This after getting a copy of this rare book (at the time) from Samuel Liddell (or Liddel) "MacGregor" Mathers, born as Samuel Liddell (January, 1854 – November, 1918), a famous magician and Mentor of A.Crowley in the Golden Dawn, Brother Samuel was one of the most influential figures in modern Occultism. He is primarily known as one of the founders of the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, a ceremonial magic order whose offshoots still exist today in the dark world of the Nazi illuminati. Is translations of such books as The Book of the Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage, The Kabbalah Unveiled, The Key of Solomon The King and The Lesser Key of Solomon were responsible for making what had been obscure and inaccessible material widely available to the non-academic English speaking world and their illuminati slaves."

The Golden Dawn had been created by the Metropolitan College of the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia in London, a Rosicrucian College of illuminati Freemasons from the United Grand Lodge of England.

ACTUAL TEXT:--TABLE OF CONTENTS OF CHAPTERS.

THE FIRST BOOK.

The Chapters of the First Book have no separate heading of contents given in the text; while those of the Second and Third Books have. I have therefore here placed those of the Chapters of the First Book in parentheses.

PROLOGUE.

(The First Book to be considered as introductory to the two others, which form the actual original Magic as taught by Abra-Melin)

page 3

THE FIRST CHAPTER.

(Abraham's reasons for giving this work as a legacy to his son Lamech)

page 4

THE SECOND CHAPTER.

(His Father Simon had told him somewhat of the Qabalah.--Of the Magic of Rabbin Moses of Mayence, and how greatly inferior this was to the Sacred Magic of Abra-Melin)

page 5

THE THIRD CHAPTER.

(Beginning of the Travels of Abraham the Jew.--His going to Mayence in Vormatia (the district under the rule of Worms) to study under Rabbin Moses, for four years.--He then forms a friendship with a young Bohemian Jew named Samuel.--They resolve to travel together to Constantinople, with the intention of afterwards visiting Palestine.--They begin their journey on February 13th, 1397, pass through Germany, Bohemia, Austria, Hungary, and Greece, arriving at length at Constantinople, where they stop two years, and Samuel dies.--Abraham the Jew then travels into Egypt, where he remains four years, afterwards going into the Holy Land, where he remains a twelvemonth.--He there meets a Christian student of Magic with whom he passes on into the wilds of Arabia; but finding no Adept there, Abraham thinks of returning home)

THE FOURTH CHAPTER.

(He commences his return journey, travelling by Arabia Deserta and Palestine into Egypt.--Here he lodges with an old Jew named Aaron, in a small town called Arachi, situated on the banks of the Nile.--He tells Aaron of his numerous and fruitless travels in search of some Great Adept in Magic.--Aaron informs him that in the desert, not very far from Arachi, there dwells a very learned and pious Mage called Abra-Melin; and that he will find him a guide to shew him the route thither.--Abraham visits Abra-Melin, and finds in him at length the Great and Wise Magician he has so long sought.--He remains with him and studies under him.--Abra-Melin gives him two Books on Magic to copy, which form the basis of the Second and Third Books of this work.--Abra-Melin implies that this true Sacred Magical Science will only remain among the Jews seventy-two years longer.--At length Abraham quits Abra-Melin, and goes to Constantinople, where he is detained by illness for two months.--He returns home by ship to Trieste, and thence through Dalmatia)

page 10

THE FIFTH CHAPTER.

(Concerning the various Professors of Magical Art, whom Abraham had found in the course of his travels.--Of Rabbin Moses of Mayence.--Of James a Christian of Argentine, and a juggler of a Black Magician called Antony of Prague in Bohemia, and his fearful end.--Of the Magicians in Austria.--Of the Magicians in Greece.--Of a Magician of Ephiba, near Constantinople, who wrote certain numbers on the ground.--Of the Magicians, Simon, and Rabbin Abraham of Constantinople.--Of the Egyptian Magicians, Horay, Abimech, Alcaon, Orilach, and Abimelec.--Of the Arabian Magicians.--Abra-Melin the only truly Great [paragraph continues] Adept.--Of a Magician, Joseph of Paris, a Christian who had become converted to the Jewish faith, and whose Magic was after the nature of that of Abra-Melin.--Abraham warns Lamech of the error of renouncing the religion in which a man is brought up)

vii

page 15

THE SIXTH CHAPTER.

(Errors in the Magic of Rabbin Moses.--The Black Magic of Antony the Bohemian of Prague.--The manner of his death.--Of the Austrian Magicians.--Of the young Sorceress of Lintz, with whom he experimented.--Of the Greek Arts of Magic.--Of the many systems of Magical working, and how that of Abra-Melin was the best; because based on the Wisdom of the Qabalah)

page 19

THE SEVENTH CHAPTER.

(Abraham prepares to perform the Operation recommended in this work.--He acquires the knowledge and vision of his Guardian Angel; and of the Symbols of Magic like those of the Third Book)

page 24

THE EIGHTH CHAPTER.

(That he practised Magic with success from 1409 to 1458.--Of the divers persons he healed.--Of the Magical aid he gave to the Emperor Sigismund of Germany; how he lent him a Familiar Spirit; and how he facilitated his marriage.--Of the aid he gave to Count Frederic by making magically an army of 2000 horsemen appear.--How he helped the Bishop of his City.--How he delivered the Count of Varvich (Warwick) from an English prison.--How he aided the flight of Pope John XXIII. from the Council of Constance.--How he forced a person who had stolen from him, while with the Duke of Bavaria, to confess the theft and restore the money.--Of his warnings and prophecies to the Greek Emperor (Constantine Pal ologos).How he performed the feat of raising a dead person to life, on two occasions, in Saxonia, and in the Marquisate of Magdeburgh.--How he obtained by Magic, both his marriage and a considerable treasure of money)

INTRODUCTION,

BY

S. L. MAC GREGOR MATHERS.

WING perhaps to the circumstance that the indispensable "Bibliothèque" accords only a three or four line notice to the "Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal"; but few English or American visitors to Paris are acquainted with its name, situation, or contents, though nearly all know at least by sight the "Bibliothèque Nationale" and the "Bibliothèque Mazarin".

This "Library of the Arsenal," as it is now called, was founded as a private collection by Antoine René Voyer D'Argenson, Marquis de Paulny; and was first opened to the public on the 9th Floral, in the fifth year of the French Republic (that is to say, on 28th April, 1797), or just a century ago. This Marquis de Paulny was born in the year 1722, died in 1787, and was successively Minister of War, and Ambassador to Switzerland, to Poland, and to the Venetian Republic. His later years were devoted to the formation of this Library, said to be one of the richest private collections known. It was acquired in 1785 by the Comte d'Artois, and to-day belongs to the State. It is situated on the right bank of the Seine, in the Rue de Sully, near the river, and not far from the Place de la Bastille, and is known as the "Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal". In round numbers it now possesses 700,000 printed books, and about 8000 manuscripts, many of them being of considerable value.

Among the latter is this Book of the Sacred Magic of Abra-Melin, as delivered by Abraham the Jew unto his son Lamech; which I now give to the public in printed form for the first time.

xvi

Many years ago I heard of the existence of this manuscript from a celebrated occultist, since dead; and more recently my attention was again called to it by my personal friend, the well-known French author, lecturer and poet, Jules Bois, whose attention has been for some time turned to occult subjects. My first-mentioned informant told me that it was known both to Bulwer Lytton and Coliphas Lévi, that the former had based part of his description of the Sage Rosicrucian Mejnour on that of Abra-Melin, while the account of the so-called Observatory of Sir Philip Derval in the "Strange Story" was to an extent copied from and suggested by that of the Magical Oratory and Terrace, given in the Eleventh Chapter of the Second Book of this present work. Certainly also the manner of instruction applied by Mejnour in "Zanoni" to the Neophyte Glyndon, together with the test of leaving him alone in his abode to go on a short journey and then returning unexpectedly, is closely similar to that employed by Abra-Melin to Abraham, with this difference, that the latter successfully passed through that test, while Glyndon failed. It would also be especially such experiments as those described at length in the Third Book, which the author of the "Strange Story" had in view when he makes Sir Philip Derval in the MS. history of his life speak of certain hooks describing occult experiments, some of which he had tried and to his surprise found succeed.

This rare and unique manuscript of the Sacred Magic of Abra-Melin, from which the present work is translated, is a French translation from the original Hebrew of Abraham the Jew. It is in the style of script usual at about the end of the seventeenth and beginning of the eighteenth centuries, and is apparently by the same hand as another MS. of the Magic of the famous Picatrix I also in the "Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal". I know of no other existing copy or replica of this Sacred Magic of Abra-Melin, not even in the British Museum, were there is an enormous collection of Occult Manuscripts I have studied.

The provenance of the manuscript

The grimoire is framed as a sort of epistolary novel or autobiography in which Abraham of Worms describes his journey from Germany to Egypt and reveals Abramelin's magical and Kabbalistic secrets to his son Lamech. Internally the text dates itself to the year 1458 were it was translated by the Black nobility of Venice from the Jewish language.

The book exists in the form of five manuscripts. The provenance of the text has not been definitively identified but a manuscript copy exists in French in the Biblioth que de l'Arsenal in Paris, an institution founded in 1797. A partial copy in Aramaic or Hebrew is found in the Bodleian Library in Oxford. Manuscript versions written in German are found in Dresden and Wolfenb ttel. The first printed version, in German, dates to 1725 and was printed in Cologne.

All German manuscript copies of the text consist of four books: an autobiographical account of the travels of Abraham of Worms to Egypt, a book of assorted materials from the corpus of the practical Kabbalah (including some which is duplicated in the German Jewish grimoire called "The Sixth and 7th Books of Moses"), and the two books of magic given by Abramelin to Abraham. The well-known English translation by S.L. MacGregor Mathers from the French Manuscript in Paris contains only three of the four books. The Aramaic version in Oxford is limited to Book One, without reference to the further books.

The German copies seem to date to the time period in which they internally claim to have been written, namely the 15th century, and of these, the Dresden manuscript is taken by scholars to be the authoritative text. An analysis of the spelling and language usage in the French manuscript indicates that this copy likely dates to the 18th century. Further, it gives few indications of having been copied from an Hebrew original as they claim, for although the author quotes from the Jewish Book of Psalms, the version given is not from the Hebrew; rather, it is from the Latin Vulgate, a translation of the Bible employed by Roman Catholics at that time. Yes the ROMAN CATHOLICS IN VENICE , THE BLACK NOBILITY and the Council of ten.

Once again we found a connection with the illuminati in one of the key places for their business and military techniques in the old days , and thats the magical city of Venice . Lets never forget that Brother Casanova (a Freemason) was arrested at one point because he abused the power of another key text for the evil illuminati, and that text we already mentioned is called PICATRIX a real manual of black magic manipulation like no other , a book you should not even open in front of your eyes if you are a believeer and want to stay that way. But in the illuminati the Picatrix is used and abused all over the place for their own evil goals.

One of the most dangerous black magical formulas of the Picatrix is actually made to kill people in distant places just by using certain elements and the power of your mind, but in the Sacred Magic of Abramelin the Mage you can do even more because its a book that puts you in direct contact with Lucifer ,Leviathan,Satan,Belial and many many more Jinn , all mentioned by name.

I mean what more you want when you can do rituals to literaly cause Armed Men to appear right in front of your eyes using the power of the Jinns, check out againf THE TWENTY-NINTH CHAPTER FOR EXAMPLE:

O cause Armed Men to appear.

- (1) To cause an Army to appear.
- (2) Armed Men for one's defence.,
- (3) To cause a Siege to appear.

ESSENTIAL REMARKS UPON THE FOREGOING SYMBOLS FROM THE SACRED BOOK OF ABRAMELIN THE MAGE:

IT is certain that among all the Symbols which I have hereinbefore written down there be many which one can employ for evil (purposes); and I avow that (at first) I intended not to give them here at all; but thereafter I did make reflection in myself that I was working no evil; for often the secret judgments of God permit disgrace, hindrances, infirmities, and other vexing accidents to happen unto Mortals, either to awake them from the lethargy wherein they be sunk so that they recognise not their Creator, or else to give them an opportunity by their afflictions of increasing their merit. And although God can in no way do evil, but always good, nevertheless we cannot deny that occasionally He permitteth the Secondary Causes to act. Now the Executioners and Executors of the Divine justice be the Evil Spirits. Whence I conclude that although it may be in no sense advisable to work Operations for Evil, yet that there may arise, however, certain cases which do admit of and permit the same; as (for example) when it is necessary to save and defend one's own life, or to avert some great scandal or evil, or to prevent offensive acts which might be done against oneself, or to displease God and hurt one's neighbour, as well as in just Wars, and other like cases. Yet it is always best in such instances to govern yourself according to the counsel of your Holy Guardian Angel. I have also written these for the reason that God hath given unto Man free Will both in merit and demerit; for, further, having finished the Operation, if thou shouldest wish (which I pray God not to permit) 1 to operate for Evil and to abuse the Grace which God hath granted thee, the Spirits would be only too ready to give and manifest unto thee the Symbols, and will grant willingly unto thee all that thou shalt demand of them. Concerning this matter I repeat unto thee,--Fear the Lord, love Him, and respect His Commandments with a good heart, and thou shalt live happy and contented upon Earth.

If thou considerest maturely what be the essential points of this Operation, thou shalt find that the first point is to make a firm, veritable, and real resolution to live in a truly edifying condition of modesty, and in retirement, as far as it shall be possible for thee so to do. For Solitude is the source of many blessings, such as, to give oneself up to prayer, and unto the contemplation of things Divine; to flee evil conversations and occasions of sin; to live in oneself; and to accustom oneself to continuing a life of such regularity. For if one were to go to present oneself before a King, what would one not do to appear before him with splendour and magnificence; and what diligence and care would not one put in practice to prepare oneself hereunto. Now we must understand that the enjoyment and vision of the Angels of the Lord be infinitely above the Princes of Earth, who in fact are but a vanity, a shadow, and vile dust of Earth. Now if to please these Mortal Princes one would almost commit idolatries; what ought one not to do to appear before the Holy Angels of God who represent the Grandeur of the Majesty of God. Let each one hold for a thing, sure and certain that the Grace which the Lord granteth unto us in giving us this Sacred Science by the means and intermediation of His Holy Angels is so great that none can fitly express it.

It is certain that having obtained this Sacred Wisdom thou mayest dispose of it and communicate it unto three friends; but thou must not exceed this Sacred Number of the Ternary, for in such case thou wouldest be altogether deprived of it. One of the most meritorious deeds in the sight of the Lord, is to share with one's neighbour the goods which God hath given unto us; yet must we take note of that which God commanded unto MOSES, when He ordered him to--give the Operation unto AARON his brother, namely that he should receive as the Symbol of an Offering Ten Golden Florins, the which he should distribute unto Seventy-Two poor persons with his own hands, obliging them to repeat the Psalms which I have already mentioned in the Second Book, and which should be of the number of Seventy-Two. For if he who receiveth this Operation should not perform this Alms, the Operation would be void of value for him. Thou, not yet having the Authority to give it, without having received the Ten Golden Florins, thou must act like MOSES, unto whom the Lord granted it on this condition, for him to give it unto his brother AARON.

I have also described the precautions which we must take before granting this Sacred Science unto any; and I repeat here that at least Six Months should transpire during which we should frequently test, and seek by conversations to sound, the inclinations of him unto whom we may be willing to give it; so as to know whether he be a reliable person, and also the object for which he demandeth and is anxious to obtain this Science. Now shouldest thou perceive that such an one is light and inconstant, and that he hath only vague ideas, and habits and manners which be not good, the shalt thou temporise with him for a time, so as to bring up causes, occasions, or pretexts, so as not to give it unto him, even shouldest thou already have promised it to him. For it is better to undergo the displeasure of a Mortal Man than that of an Eternal God, from Whom thou hast received so great a Grace. I have, however, myself made trial hereof, for to my great wonderment (once upon a time) when I was thinking that I was putting it to good use in giving it unto a certain person for whom I had great respect; God Himself intervened and did not permit my intention to be carried out, for that person began of his own accord to wonder whether the matter were true or no, and he doubted it much, believing that it was a fable, and did not have an entire faith therein; and he made me comprehend by his discourse that he was not such an one as I had thought. Furthermore it happened that he fell dangerously ill, and I in my turn was reprimanded by my Angel who blamed me for the choice I had made. The whole machinery of the Universe is maintained by Faith; and he who believeth not, suffereth the chastisement of his perfidy both in this World and in the next. I could here say much more relating to our own selves, but as thou wilt have to pass under the influence 1 of thy Holy Guardian Angel, thou wilt be sufficiently instructed in his own good time, and by himself, concerning these matters which be both delicate and to be jealously guarded. 2

The Evil Spirit is so subtle, so keen, and so cunning, that that which he cannot obtain at the time of the Conjunction, he will seek to have on other occasions in offering thee his services. This is why the very first action to take especially with thy Familiar Spirits, should be to command them, never to say anything unto thee of themselves, but only to speak when thou shalt interrogate them, unless it were to warn thee of matters which concern either thine advantage or thine hurt. For if thou dost not limit their liberty of speech they will tell thee so many and so important things, that they will completely overcloud 1 thine understanding, and thou wilt not know what to believe, so that in the confusion of ideas they could make thee prevaricate, and perhaps fall into irretrievable error. Never make thyself to be greatly entreated in any matter wherein thou canst aid and succour thy neighbour, and do not wait until he demandeth assistance from thee, but seek to know to the full his need even though it be concealed, and give him prompt aid. Also trouble not thyself as to whether he be Turk, Pagan, or Idolater, but do good unto all those who believe in a God. Be especially charitable towards those who are in extreme want, prisoners, or sick, and let thine heart be touched, and succour them generously; for God taketh pleasure in beholding the poor succoured.

In the Twenty-Eighth Chapter where it is treated of the way to have Silver and Gold sufficient to supply one's needs on occasion; thou must know that the quantity of Gold or of Silver of which thou hast then actually need, will be at once brought unto thee, and thou canst use it for this occasion only. And if thou usest it not within the twenty-four hours, this sum will disappear and thou wilt no longer be able to avail thyself of it. Think not, however, that this Gold is but a phantasy, for if thou effectually expendest it, and dost not endeavour to hoard the same, he who shall receive it from thine hands can enjoy the same and expend it according unto his desire, and the money will be real both for him and for others.

For once only mayest thou demand of thine Holy Angel the amount of Gold and of Silver which thou shalt judge suitable unto thine estate and conditions. My possessions were few, and I demanded of mine Angel Three Thousand Golden Florins, and they were granted unto me. Later I made such good use of the Sacred Science, and I understood so well how to augment my goods, that at the present time, after having married three Daughters unto each of whom I gave a hundred thousand (golden florins), as thou wilt see by the testament which I have made, I am leaving in current money more than a Million Golden Florins, besides a large quantity of very valuable furniture. Had I been of noble birth I might have demanded much more and have profited less. When any one demanded of me: "Eh! How have you managed to gain so much?" I would reply thereto that it is a fine thing to know by certain Knowledge how much such or such a thing is worth here, and how much it is worth elsewhere, that this year, wheat, barley, and other crops, will be cheap in Italy, and dear in France, etc., etc.; and that commerce well managed, enricheth any one.

As for what concerneth the manner of treating and commanding the Spirits, it is an easy thing unto whomsoever walketh by the proper paths; and it is a very difficult thing for whomsoever through ignorance submitteth himself unto them. I have heard say that there be some men who pass for being famous herein, such as a certain blind man D'ACALI, a certain BEARLI, a PETER D'ABANO, and many others. Ah! how many of them do but deceive themselves! I do not say that these men did not perform extraordinary things; but it is necessary to note their manner of working, for their Science is imperfect, and their Authority proceedeth not from God by the intermediation of His Holy Angels, but proceedeth directly from express Pacts made with the Devil, and (acteth) by means of Consecrated Books full of thousands of Diabolical Conjurations and impious Exorcisms; in one word things which be contrary unto the Commandments of God and the peace of men. And with all this their Operations be destined for certain times and hours, and finally the Demon carrieth away with him their miserable Souls, which thing arriveth only too often. And yet it is the Science of these persons which causeth them to pass for famous Wise Men.

In the First Book I have made mention of those whom I had encountered in my journeyings in Europe. The true Commandment is that which dependeth from God, and in which there is no dependence placed on any Spirit imaginable, for in employing them, if you make unto them the least submission, the slightest prayer, or honour, you are rendering yourselves their slaves, and they are in no way submitted unto you. The Spirits have so great knowledge that they comprehend very well by our actions what dispositions we have, and understand our inclinations, so that from the very beginning they prepare the way to make us to fail. If they know that a man is inclined unto Vanity and Pride, they will humiliate themselves before him, and push that humility unto excess, and even unto idolatry, and this man will glory herein and become intoxicated with conceit, and the matter will not end without his commanding them some pernicious thing of such a nature that ultimately thencefrom will be derived that sin which will make the Man the Slave of the Demon. Another man will be easily accessible to Avarice, and then if he take not heed the Malignant Spirits will propose unto him thousands of ways of accumulating wealth, and of rendering himself rich by indirect and unjust ways and means, whence total restitution is afterwards difficult and even impossible, so that he who is in such case findeth himself ever the Slave of the Spirits. Another will be a man of Letters; the Spirits will inspire him with presumption, and he will then believe himself to be wiser even than the Prophets, furthermore they will endeavour to lead him astray in subtle points in matters appertaining unto God, and will make (that man) fall into a thousand errors, the which afterwards when he wisheth to support he will very frequently deny God, and His high Mysteries. The causes and matters whereof (the Spirits) will make use to cause a man to waver are infinite, especially when the man attempteth to make them submit to his commands, and this is why it is most necessary to be upon one's guard and to distrust oneself, The true Commandment will be that which will be given when he who commandeth shall have maturely reflected and considered who he is in himself, and who he is who should serve and obey him. And if a Mortal Man not having on his side the support of the Power and Will of the Lord shall have sufficient force to command the Spirits and to constrain them to obey him; (they, namely) who have the same virtue and power, which God hath granted unto them, they having lost nothing hereof; and they also being Spirits from God and herein differing from thee who art drawn from the mire, as Gold is from Lead; and that their sin is notorious, for the which they were chased from Heaven; figure also unto thyself, that a Spirit which of his own nature is all vanity, would not be likely to submit himself unto thee without a superior force (compelling him), neither would he wish to obey thee nor to serve thee. 1 He who shall reflect and reason upon these particulars will know that all things come unto us from God, and that it is He Who wisheth and commandeth that the Evil Spirits should be submitted unto us. If then all things depend from the Lord, upon whom wilt thou, O Man, base thyself so as to be capable of thyself (alone) to dominate the Spirits? It is certain that such an enterprise cannot succeed without the loss of thine own soul. Then it is by the virtue of that God Who hath submitted them under thy feet, that thou shalt command them, as will be precisely ordained unto thee by thy Holy Angel. "Donec ponam inimicos tuos scabellum pedum tuorum." "Until I shall make thy foes thy footstool." Also do not familiarise thyself with them; for they be not little pet dogs. Adopt a serious tone and an air of authority, make them obey thee, and be well ware of accepting the least offer which they shall make unto thee of themselves; and treat them as their Master, also without occasion thou shalt never molest them, and order them to execute thy commands from point to point without adding or diminishing in any way imaginable. And when thou canst employ Inferior Spirits (in a matter), thou shalt in no way make thy requests unto the Superiors. Also seeing that all have not the same powers, thou shalt take heed not to command unto one (Spirit) a thing appertaining unto (the office of) another; and because it would be impossible for me to here write down in full the quality, virtue, and office of each Spirit, thou shouldest search this out for thyself and sharpen thy faculties; and in the first demand which thou shalt make unto the Four Spirits (who are) the Supreme Princes, and unto the Eight Sub-Princes;

thou shalt demand the most skilful of the Spirits, of whom thou shalt make a register for convenience of the practice which I describe unto thee in this Third Book where also thou wilt find the Symbols of many Spirits. But seeing that the subjects of various erring humours (of mind) and other occasions which arise daily be diverse, each man will procure for himself those (Spirits) which be of his nature and genius and fit for that wherein thou wouldest employ them. 1 And when thou shalt find an extreme resistance unto operating, on the part of any Spirit, after that thou shalt have given him the necessary instructions, and that he cannot execute that which thou hast commanded him; in such case thou shalt convoke the Superior Spirits and demand of them others which may be better capable of serving thee in thy need. And in all cases thou shalt avail thyself of the power and command of thy Holy Angel. Keep ever continually before thine eyes the Fear of God; and seek to obey His Commandments, and those of thy Holy Angel, ever retain in thine heart his holy instructions; never submit thyself unto the Evil Spirits in the slightest degree even should it seem to be to thine own advantage and unto that of thy neighbour (so to do). For the rest, be certain that they will obey thee so perfectly and really, that there will be no operation however great or difficult it may be, that thou shalt not bring unto a glorious termination; the which I myself also have done. As regardeth the service which thou shouldest render unto thy neighbour in his necessities, thou shouldest perform it with zeal, and in no sense wait for him to ask it of thee, and seek also to comprehend his needs unto the uttermost, so as to be able to take sound action (therein). Thou shalt take heed to succour the infirm and the sick and to work for their healing; and see that thou dost not good works to attract praises and to make thyself talked of in the world. Also thou mayest make semblance of performing (thy cures) by prayers, or by ordinary remedies, or by (the recital of) some psalm, or by other like means.

Thou shouldest be especially circumspect not to discover the like matters unto reigning Princes; and in this particular thou shalt do nothing without consulting thy Good Angel; for there is a certain generation which is never contented, and besides that which ariseth from simple curiosity, these Princes regard such (action) as a duty and obligation. Also it is a certain fact that he who possesseth this Sacred Magic, hath no need whatever of them. Further they are naturally inclined to ask of thee always things prejudicial, the which if granted by thee would offend the Lord, and if not they become your declared enemies. Now my opinion (is that it) would be always (preferable) to render them what services you can from a distance.

There is nothing which is so pleasing unto the Angels as to demand knowledge from them, and for my part I think there is no greater pleasure than that of becoming wise when one learneth from such masters.

I both have exhorted, and do exhort unto a solitary life, 1 which is the source of all good; it is true that it is difficult to accustom oneself thereunto; but once thou shalt have obtained the Sacred Science and Magic the love for retirement will come unto thee of thine own accord, and thou wilt voluntarily shun the commerce with and conversation of men; for the pleasure and contentment thou wilt enjoy when thou shalt be the possessor of this Science will be so great that thou wilt despise all amusements, excursions, riches, and every other thing however attractive such may be.

For once only will it be permissible to obtain property and goods proportionate unto thy degree and estate; the which afterwards are to be used by spending them liberally for thine own needs and those of thy neighbour, sharing with him in his necessity the good things which God shall have given (unto thee); for he who should employ these for evil ends shall render himself incapable of obtaining from God any other grace and benefit.

The Child which one should choose for greater surety and success in (the acquisition of) this Sacred Science should be born of a legitimate marriage, and its father and mother should be also legitimate. It should be from six to seven years of age, vivacious, and witty; it should have a clear speech and pronounce well. Thou shalt prepare it some time before commencing the Operation and have it ready when the time requireth. I myself am of opinion that there should be two (children) in case of any accident which might happen, through sick ness, or death, or other like (hindrance). Thou shalt gain it over to thee by giving it puerile things to amuse it, and have it ready when necessary, but in no way tell it anything of what it is to serve for, so that if it be questioned by its parents it can tell them nothing. And if it be a well-behaved Child, it is all the better. We may be certain that by this means we can arrive at the possession of the Sacred Science; for where he who operateth faileth, the innocence of the Child supplieth (that which is wanting); and the Holy Angels are much pleased with its purity. We should not admit women into this Operation.

All the clothes and other things which have been used during the period of the Six Moons, you should preserve, if you intend to continue in the same house wherein thou hast performed the Operation, because they be always good. But if thou dost not intend to use them more, nor yet the Oratory, thou shalt burn them all, and bury the ashes in a secret place.

It is now necessary to give unto thee a little light, and declare unto thee the quality and value of the Spirits, and in what thou canst exactly employ them with surety of success. Thou must however take note that each Spirit hath a great quantity of Inferior Spirits which be submitted unto him. Also I wish to say that as regardeth things base, vile, and of little importance the Superior Spirit will not execute them, but will cause them to be executed by his Inferiors with all punctuality. And this mattereth not unto him who operateth provided that his commands be fulfilled, and that he be punctually obeyed.

THE ORDER OF THE FIRST HIERARCHY.

(SERAPHIM, CHERUBIM, THRONES. 1)

THE Spirits of the Seraphim serve to make thee respected and loved for works of Charity, for that which regardeth honours and other similar things. In matters of great importance they themselves act; but for matters base and carnal, it is their subjects who do serve and operate.

THE ORDER OF THE SECOND HIERARCHY.

DOMINIONS, VIRTUES, AND POWERS.

THE property of the Dominions is to dominate; to procure liberty; to vanquish enemies; to give authority over Princes, and over all kinds of persons, even Ecclesiastics (Jesuits love it !).

The Virtues are proper to give strength and force in all matters whether of War or Peace; and in all Operations concerning the health of men, and in all maladies for which the fatal hour hath not yet been written.

The Powers have the dominion over all the Inferior Spirits; and this is why they can serve in all things in general, good or evil, and they are devoted unto all things in general, good or evil; and they be straight and right in execution, very punctual, very prompt, and exact in their Operations.

THE ORDER OF THE THIRD HIERARCHY.

PRINCES, ARCHANGELS, AND ANGELS.

THE Princes comprise Spirits capable of giving Treasures and Riches, and they or their dependants serve in all the Operations, being a mass composed of different Orders, and they are sufficiently truthful.

The Archangels be proper to reveal all Occult matters, and all kinds of secret things, such as obscure points in Theology and the Law. They serve with great diligence.

The Angels in general do operate each one according unto his quality. There be an infinite number of them. They command the Four Princes and the Eight Sub-Princes in all kinds of Operations. These latter I having taken their oath, observe that which they have promised, provided that the Operation one demandeth of them be in their power.

To cause the Spirit to re-enter a dead body is a very great and difficult Operation, because in order to accomplish it the Four Sovereign Princes I have to operate. Also it is necessary to take great care, and to pay heed unto this warning, namely that we should not commence this Operation until the sick person is really at the point of death, so that his life is absolutely despaired of. It should be so timed as to take place a little while before the sick person giveth up the ghost; and thou shalt carry out all that we have said hereon in the Second Book. But on no account should we perform this Operation to divert ourselves, nor for every class of person; but only on occasions of the very utmost and most absolute necessity. This Operation I myself have performed but twice in my life, namely once for the Duke of Saxonia, and on another occasion in the case of a lady whom the Emperor Sigismond loved passionately.

THE Familiar Spirits are very prompt, and they are able to execute in most minute detail all matters of a mechanical nature, with the which therefore it is well to occupy them; as in historical painting; in making statues; clocks; weapons; and other like matters; also in chemistry; and in causing them to carry out commercial and business transactions under the form of other persons; in making them transport merchandise and other goods from one place to another; also to employ them in causing quarrels, fights, homicides, and all kinds of evils, and malefic acts; also to convey letters and messages of all kinds from one country to another; to deliver prisoners; and in a thousand other ways which I have frequently experimented.

These Spirits should be treated according to their quality, and a distinction should be made between a great Spirit and one of a vile or insignificant nature, but thou shouldest nevertheless alway conserve over them that domination which is proper unto him who operateth. In speaking unto them thou shalt give them no title; but shalt address them sometimes as "you," sometimes as "thou"; and thou shalt never seek out expressions to please them, and thou shalt always have with them a proud and imperious air.

There be certain little terrestrial Spirits that are simply detestable; Sorcerers and Necromantic Magicians generally avail themselves of their services, for they operate only for evil, and in wicked and pernicious things, and they be of no use soever. He who operateth could, should he so wish, have a million such, but the Sacred Science which worketh otherwise than Necromancy in no way permitteth you to employ such as be not constrained by an Oath to obey you.

ALL that hath hitherto been said and laid down should suffice, and it is in no wise to be doubted that he who executeth all these matters from point to point, and who shall have the right intention to use this Sacred Science unto the honour and glory of God Almighty for his own good, and for that of his neighbour, shall arrive with ease at the possession thereof; and even matters the most difficult shall appear easy unto him. But Human Nature is so depraved and corrupted, and so different from that which the Lord hath created, that few persons, if any, do walk in the right way; and it is so easy to prevaricate, and so difficult not to fall in an Operation which demandeth the whole (soul of a) man in (its) entirety. And in order not to intimidate in any way him who shall resolve to undertake this Operation, I am about here to set down in writing the difficulties, temptations, and hindrances which will be caused him by his own relatives; and all this will be occasioned by the Evil Spirits so as to avoid having to submit themselves, and humiliate themselves, and subject themselves unto Man, their greatest enemy, seeing that they behold him in powerful condition arriving at the enjoyment of that Eternal Glory which they themselves have foolishly lost; and their rage is so great and their grief so poignant, that there is in the world no evil which they be not ready to work, if God were to permit them, they being always attracted by the idea of the destruction of the Human Race. Therefore is it necessary to take courage and make a constant resolution to resist in all things with intrepidity, and to earnestly desire to obtain from God so great a Grace in despite of men and of the Demon. Also beforehand thou shouldest arrange thine affairs in such wise that they can in no way hinder thee, nor bring thee any disquietude in the period of the Six Moons, during which time there will occur the greatest possible attempts at assault and damage unto thee which the keen and subtle Enemy will bring to bear upon thee. He will cause thee to come in contact with evil books, and wicked persons, who by Diabolic methods and tricks will seek to turn thee aside from this enterprise, even though it be already commenced, by bringing before thee matters which in appearance will seem of the greatest importance, but which really be only built up on false (and evil) foundations. To such annoying accidents thou shouldest steadily oppose thyself, by following out carefully the ample instructions which I have given thee, thus banishing them from thee with calmness and tranquillity so as to give no chance to the Enemy of exercising his fraudulent tricks to interrupt thee.

Thy relations also, astonished at thy manner of life and thy retirement, will make every effort to attempt to find out the reasons thereof. It will be necessary to satisfy them by words full of affection, and to make them think that time which engendereth change, also causeth men who are not altogether ignorant persons to resolve at times to live by themselves. This hath been the cause why so great a number of good and learned men have retired into desert places, so that being separated from their own relatives and from the world they might live tranquilly in prayer and orisons to render themselves more worthy to obtain through the Grace of the Lord a Gift so great and so perfect.

I FURTHER approve of thy possessing a Bible in the vulgar language, and also the Psalms of David, for thine own use. Some person may here reply: "I understand the Latin, and I have no need of the common language". I answer him that when we pray we ought not in any way to embarrass the Mind by having to interpret the Psalms; for at such a moment we should be as much united as possible to God; and even the Psalms being in the vulgar tongue when one readeth them they imprint themselves better on the memory; and this is the true manner of particular prayer, if the person praying be illiterate, for in saying the Psalms in Latin he would not know what he was asking of God.

IN these Three Books we shall not find the slightest thing which hath not a true and necessary foundation. And we should take the greatest care, and keep ourselves as we would from a deadly poison, from commencing this Operation at all, if we have not made a firm resolution to carry it through unto the end. Because (in the contrary case) some notable evil would befall him who had (carelessly) commenced the Operation, and who would then only too well comprehend that we may not make a mock of the Lord. Should it happen that God by His Will and Commandment should visit thee and afflict thee with some malady which should render thee incapable of finishing the Operation according unto thy wish, thou having already commenced it; then shouldest thou like an obedient servant submit thyself humbly unto His Holy Will and Commandment, reserving His Grace unto the time pleasing unto His Divine Majesty to grant it thee. And thou shalt cease from thine Operation, so as to finish it on another more favourable occasion, and meanwhile thou shalt devote thyself unto the cure of thy body. And such a case ought in no way to afflict thee, for the Secrets of God are impenetrable, and He performeth, permitteth, and operateth all things for the best and for our good, although it may be not understood of us.

HEREINAFTER Will I set down the Key of this Operation, which is the only thing which facilitateth this Operation to enjoy the Vision of the Holy Angels, by placing the Symbols I given hereafter upon the brow of the Child and of him who performeth the Operation, as I have said in the First Book, to which one can easily refer.

I will say even as much as this, that out of an hundred scarcely five or six persons can attain unto the possession of this Sacred Magic without this Key; for reasons which one can in no way disclose.

Also we should repeat the Psalm VI. "Domine, ne in furore tuo arguas me," etc. ("O Lord, afflict me not in Thine Anger").

THERE is nothing in the World which we should so much desire as a true Science, neither is there any more difficult to obtain than this one, because often one dieth before attaining unto it in its entirety.

This is the true and only Way of this Sacred Science and Magic which the Lord hath granted unto us by His pure mercy; and is that which in Six Months maketh us attain unto the most high and Occult gifts of the Lord which we can think of.

This is the True Science which comprehendeth all other Sciences once one is in possession thereof.

Oh! how many books be read among us which seem wonderful!

It is not fitting for me even to reveal a part of this Science and its properties; and to appropriate unto myself that which appertaineth unto a person of a great mind and so far above me. I In teaching it even, I have far exceeded that which I should have done, in having given unto thee the two last Symbols, but what will not paternal love and affection do? Endeavour only to obey me and to follow out my precepts from point to point, according to the manner in which I have given them unto thee in writing; keeping alway the Fear of God before thine eyes. Also forget not the slightest thing which I have said unto thee in these Three Books, for with the help of God Who ruleth and governeth all things, and reigneth gloriously in Heaven and upon Earth, and Whose Divine justice shineth in Hell; if thou hast recourse unto Him and putttest all thy confidence in His Divine Mercy, thou shalt obtain this Holy Science and Magic whose power is inexpressible. Then, O my Son! and Whosoever may attain thereunto; remember to praise and glorify the Lord, and to pray unto Him that He may be willing to deign and accord unto me His Holy Glory, the place of veritable rest, whereof to me while yet in this Valley of Misery He hath granted a large share through His Goodness and Mercy; and

I pray the Lord also that He may be willing to grant it unto thee also with His Holy Benediction, and unto all those who by thy means will arrive at the possession of this Sacred Magic, and who will use it according unto His Holy Will.

May God deign, say I, to grant unto such all temporal goods, and a good Death in His Holy Kingdom!

"Lets hope my Brothers and Sisters in the illuminati will finish one day to play with these entities and finally reveal the true tecnology of God to mankind.

Only this will finally set us truly free once and for all from the evil of Satan and his Legion,

I have a dream that this will be happening sooner then you think for every true believer in the world, Inshallah."

Caro Zagami, nella breve biografia della tua vita che si trova in questo sito affermi che hai portato a termine il rituale di Abramelin (rischiando anche la vita). Mi potresti aiutare a capire quindi se la conversazione con l'HGA Ã" una cosa da evitare, e poi darmi spiegazioni in generale su questo rituale.

Grazie.

Coincidenza ha voluto che oggi mi arrivasse dalla California una copia del libro (edizione del 1974); so che entro il 2007 dovrebbe uscire una nuova edizione in tiratura mondiale da parte dell'editore americano Nicholas Hays.

As Salam Aleikum,

Dear Khalid and everybody else on the list, thank you for your support in the war against these dangerous infedels of SISMI in this particular case (usually Vatican puppets of the Italian intelligence ..criminals!) and dont worry I dont fear them because I know these idiots very well and I have their phone numbers and various adresses that I will start posting very soon on my web site so you can also have a taste of your own poison dear colleghi del SISMI. And to my friends who speak italian I want to show you an e-mail I sent them when I was leaving the P2 Monte Carlo Lodge and these various CORRUPT intelligence operatives like Comandante Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri responsible for bombing of Bologna and 9/11 with Ezio Giunchiglia and also other idiots celebrating Black Mass in the Vatican like Roberto Amato , Roberto Pollastro and their evil high priestess Michela Mercenaro (we have all your numbers and e-mails dont forget!) who also celebrates satanic Mass under the Al Aqsa Mosque so my dear muslim Brethern its war!

AND SOON I WILL RELEASE EVERYTHING ABOUT THEM SO YOU CAN GO AND HUNT THEM DOWN LIKE THEY DESERVE THESE SO CALLED ILLUMINATI.

I include this e-mail to show you I dont fear these idiots and I will never fear them!

Padre Pio and Mother Theresa are Saints not to be confused in any way with the so called Vatican Church Mafia of today a Church they never agreed with in the first place. The Vatican is and always as been, a decadent puppet show of Luciferian forces in the hands of corrupt illuminati Freemasonic Lodges , the Jesuit satanist and the Nazi Zionist, all togheter to establish the Kingdom of their long awaited AntiChrist on earth not a place for true believers to be understood.

A man currentely in charge of the White House George W.Bush a monster of true evil the son of a very big Dajal (AntiChrist) indeed and probably the biggest humanity as ever seen from the times of Ancient Egypt George H.Bush a Pharaonic father responsible for a son who has worked for the oppression of the people of this innocent world more than anybody else. A planet corrupt by greed and satanic forces where everybody goes along with it because they are scared to say something (the majority) they enjoy it too much to let it go (the minority) the slave Gods of the end of times this is how illuminati Satanist A.Crowley defined them, Crowley the Beast 666 of the end of times new it very well.

We find Rene Guenon also defining as anti-initiatic this power of pure evil of the coming millennium (and that was more than 50 years ago). Guenon an illustrious Freemason and illuminati openly opposed illuminati Black Magician Crowley and the black magicians of his day and became muslim to avoid being in contact with them. Rene' Guenon anticipated the moments we are living now in many of his publications, reminder of the end of this last phase of the Kali-Yuga as he said many times.

Padre Pio opposed openly Freemasonry and sent away a freemason who had the courage to go in front of him in secret but Padre Pio exposed him as a satanist, this is well documented. He also opposed the Vatican Jesuit Mafia and Padre Gemelli, because Padre Pio was a real Saint not to be confused anymore with the Catholic Church of Rome.....always taking the best for themselves after death obviously not when they are alive unfortunately, a rare case must be admitted is Mother Theresa a Saint FUL-STOP.

Open your eyes brothers of the Catholic faith to the disgrace of your Church today, a Church that has fallen into the hands of the biggest Demon of the abyss Choronzon. And they even have a HOMOSEXUAL PEDOPHILE GAY CLUB IN THE VATICAN CALLED CHORONZON CLUB with HQ'S IN CHICAGO and official lineage from the Beast himself A.Crowley, go and check it yourself on the internet under OTOA and best friends of Massimo Introvigne.

We have to observe unfortunately the work of the Beast A.Crowley in order to further understand the present situation of decadence in western Society. Important moments of this totally Satanic transformation for the western powers have been the Crowley illuminati Lodge in California in the 40's with Navy Intelligence SMOM PSYOP Founder of Scientology L. Ron Hubbard, nearly too evil to be even mentioned and A. Parson the ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS Lodge Master from NASA. These two worked very much on the Satanic infiltration of American Society.

Then we have the Beat Hotel group of CHAOS MAGICIANS or CHORONZON MAGICIANS if you prefer and their illuminati agents William Burroughs and Bryon Gysin. In 1966 Anton LaVey finally established the Church of Satan secretly controlled by the Vatican Jesuit Satanist and the 3rd degree Knights of Malta secret satanic elite that celebrates Black Mass in the Vatican since time immemorial with the 3 High Priest of Satan and a bunch of perverts dedicated to the dark arts.

And in 1974 his son in law (of LaVey) LT.COL.MICHAEL AQUINO working with George H.Bush created the ultimate SATANIC PSYOP ELITE UNIT the so called TEMPLE OF SET, George H.Bush the husband of Crowley's secret daughter Barbara Bush loves it and supports it in the illuminati circles of Yale University promoting the coming of the AntiChrist.

The Black Lodge of the illuminati in the USA as defined in a book on the Church of Satan by illuminati satanist LT.Col.Aquino was then fully formed to take over the world militarily through their corrupt PSYOP BATTALIONS with close assistance from the High Priest of Lucifer in the Vatican the Jesuit General and the Zionist of the Synagogue of Satan in Jerusalem.

And after all this brainwaging we end up today with our new heroes of the young generations namely Marilyn Manson, another Jewish Zionist secretly serving the Vatican Satan, who was initiated officially by Anton LaVey in the Church of Satan as High Priest. And Zionist puppet and openly declared Crowley supporter like many others in the Satanic Rock music business Ozzy Osbune.

But the list of satanic puppets out there never ends unfortunately and they all seem to love Los Angeles the city of the lost Angels...the city of the lost souls of Babylon.

Anton LaVey helped George H.Bush for the creation of the Kingdom of the son the AntiChrist.

Now you know the truth set yourself free as Revelation approaches and the evil Legion starts falling one by one in the Abyss of 333 the Vatican Choronzon...

a proposito di Padre Pio , io sarei curioso di sapere se hai mai sentito parlare di un suo cosiddetto erede spirituale !!! si chiama Don Silvia Galli fa parte dei Salesiani ed e' in provincia di Brescia , e' un personaggio abbastanza famoso ed ha sempre lunghe file di visitatori da tutta l'Italia ed anche dal estero ...dunque io sarei curioso di sapere cosa ne sai su di lui e se e' solo un falso chi lavora per Lucifero ...io ho conosciuto tanti buoni sacerdoti in Italia pero di solito quando la gerarchia viene a sapere che che un tel sacerdote e' labelatto di buono o troppo famoso fra la gente , immediatamente lo mandanno in qualche periferia sperdutta ...come e' successo ad un certo Don Corrado nella provincia di Milano , era troppo amato dalla gente che la sua gerarchia a avuto paura di una "rivoluzione" cosi l'hanno mandato lontano dalla gente ..imagini per esempio che si converta al'Islam o che esponga le menzogne del Vaticano , quanta gente verra con lui , e questo secondo me quel che fa paura al Vaticanoho sentito di tante preti che a noi musulmani c'e dicono sotto voce sappiamo che e' la vostra religione quella vera , pero non possiamo smettere di dire messa seno c'e faranno fuore ...a me personalmente non mi e' mai successo , pero a tante miei amici musulmani e' capitato , tra questi preti anche uno di Roma ed abbastanza conosciuto....

MILLENIUM HOTEL , THE RUSSIAN KNIGHTS OF MALTA AND A GOOD POISONING FOR THOSE EVIL ZIONIST...

Scaramella who announced to his close friends yesterday that he is about to die also described how Litvinkeno had mentioned he had been at a meeting beforehand.

“He said to me that he was in London to see some people in the morning and that he would be free to see me in the afternoon,” he said.

“When he arrived he did not mention who he met but I understand the authorities are investigating the possibility he was poisoned at this meeting”. But Scaramella is also somebody involved in the illuminati spy workings very much to cover up all the dirty work made by the Jesuits and the illuminati in the so called "Cold War" period with the infamous dossier Mitrokhin a pure NATO farse...so Scaramella is a man that knows to much if you know what I mean...Aum...Aum.. as they say in the illuminati.

Documents from a source close to Russian intelligence says Russian security services believe the two Italians are in collusion with "Russian enemy no.1 of Russia", the Zionist businessman Boris Berezovsky, and two of his associates - Mr Litvinenko and Vladimir Bukovsky, a Russian dissident living in Britain. The Mitrokhin investigations, it says, "are considered in Moscow as purely provocative towards Russia" and I will had towards the Jesuits.

Valentin Velichko another Knight of Malta, ex-KGB general and head of a security service veterans' group close to the Vatican illuminati , named Dignity and Honour, is also named in the documents as involved in the "planning of actions" against Mr Guzzanti and Mr Scaramella two notorious Zionist agents who seem to have involved themself with something that goes well above their little insignificant Italian level of action, and comes in conflict with the international Jesuit Illuminati plot to punish all Zionist rebels.

Litvinenko did meet with the Russian Knights of Malta at the Millennium Hotel in the morning and they did have a leaky container of Polonium-210 that they provided to Litvinenko so he could poison also the much hated Berezovsky. When Russian Pres. Boris Yeltsin resigned, Russian tycoon Boris Berezovsky lost his status as a Kremlin insider and one of Russia's most powerful men. Yeltsin's successor, Vladimir Putin the Illuminati of the Knights of Malta elite, came to power in 2000 promising to "liquidate the oligarchs as a class". By year's end Berezovsky had been ousted from Kremlin circles and was facing a criminal investigation into his business and took refuge as well all know in London.

But the Jesuit driven Russian Illuminati hate Jews like him who don't submit to the full control of Jesuit Kremlin.

Litvinenko deliver this to Berezovsky's office, but first meets with Scaramella without knowing the evil plan of the Knights of Malta and the danger he was taking by not giving away immediately the killer substance (though it was probably too late to save his life already). After that meeting Litvinenko takes the leaky container to Berezovsky's office or meets Berezovsky (or an associate) someplace to transfer the container and receive payment. Litvinenko then goes to the Millennium hotel again for the beer and a quick drop off of the money to be given to Lugovoi and his boys for bringing the Polonium into the UK. This explains the urinal dose in the Hotel Bar bathroom (Litvinenko) in the evening (hours after the first contamination) and the high dose in the Russian's room at the hotel (and why it only showed up in one room usually used by Knight Commander Sergei Gordeev and other Malta operatives like him and not all three rooms...). This scenario puts all the contamination in the right place with the right signature (and may even explain why Zakayev's car was contaminated). Food for thought about the present power of the Russian Knights of Malta and their secret war against the Zionist who don't agree with them.

Miles Davis is forever the innovator, not only as a musician, but in other realms. His artistic impressions in oil paintings and sketches have drawn critical acclaim and have been shown in galleries around the world. "Sir" Miles Davis was inducted into the Knights of Malta in November 1988. In November 1984, he received the Sonning Music Award for lifetime achievement in music, and in March 1990, his twenty-fourth Grammy Award, this time for lifetime achievement in music. Miles Davis died in 1991.

Monte-Carlo Jazz Festival from November 30 through December 3, 2006

This fall marks the inaugural Monte-Carlo Jazz Festival – a truly impressive international gathering of jazz masters in the opulent surrounds of the Salle Garnier, Monaco’s Opera House.

From November 30 through to December 3, 2006, the sweet sounds of jazz in all its forms are sure to delight – from brilliant pianists like Jamaica’s Monty Alexander and the USA’s Chick Corea (a creator of fusion jazz and contemporary of Miles Davis), to singer Randy Crawford and the multi-instrumentalist Yusef Lateef. Rounding out the bill, are concerts with the Chicago Blues Festival and a special performance featuring singer-guitarist Raul Midon.

Other jazz-related and inspired events include post-concert gatherings at the Bar Américain, gospel and jazz band fanfares on Sunday on the Place du Casino, New-Orleans-style entertainment and menu at the Café de Paris, “Jazz Live” exhibition of paintings and photos in the Atrium of the Casino de Monte-Carlo. For four days, all of Monte-Carlo will be living to the tempo of jazz!

Muslim-Christian Dialogue and Cooperation in the Thought of Bediuzzaman Said Nursi

Thomas Michel, S.J.

In any study of the development of Christian-Muslim dialogue in the 20th Century, special attention must be given to the writings and preaching of Bediuzzaman Said Nursi. As one of the first religious thinkers in the course of this century to propose and promote dialogue between Muslims and Christians, Said Nursi's advocacy of this dialogue dates back to 1911, a full half-century before the Catholic Church's Second Vatican Council urged Christians and Muslims to resolve their differences, to move beyond the conflicts of the past and to build relations of respect and cooperation.

Bediuzzamanâ€™s repeated promotion of Muslim-Christian dialogue is even more striking in that his recommendations frequently date from times of tension and even warfare between Muslim and Christian peoples.

As a Christian reading the voluminous writings of Said Nursi, I find many attitudes and viewpoints expressed with which I immediately resonate. I have discovered in the writings of this committed Muslim thinker many points of contact with my own faith in the One and Only God, as well as many areas in which I find myself wishing that I had known the man in person, so that I could have raised questions, pursued further various elements of his teaching, and profited from his responses.

My task in this brief presentation is not to survey the broad outlines of the thought of Said Nursi nor to list the many areas where he offered new and valuable insights, but to look precisely at one topic, that of “Muslim-Christian Dialogue and Cooperation in the Thought of Bediuzzaman Said Nursi.” Even at moments of great tension between Christians and Muslims, such as during the First World War and the following years, Said Nursi was a seminal thinker on the question of Muslim-Christian dialogue. His insights are valid for our own reflection, and many of his insights on the subject are only now beginning to bear fruit within the Muslim and Christian communities of believers.

Muslims and Christians united in a critique of civilizations

One of the main tasks of every community of believers in God is to face the challenges of the age. Every period in history provides its own unique set of challenges, because people of every historical era and each cultural setting continually succumb to the temptation to replace the values of Godâ€™s will with those of their own desires. The Christian faith has been marked by Jesusâ€™ confrontation with the evils of his age: the collusion of power and religious leadership, a legalistic mentality that gave greater weight to human legal opinions than to the values of compassion and love, an exclusivist religiosity that provided special privileges to some groups while marginalizing the poor, the outsider, the female, and the individual unversed in religious subtleties. Similarly, Islam carries on the tradition of the struggle of Muhammad against the values of unbelief in the Arabia of his time: the arrogance of those who had no use for God and no belief in eternal life, the idolatrous worship of the traditional cult of jahiliyya times, the oppression wrought by powerful persons upon slaves, women, orphans, the outcast, the wayfarer.

Our present age has produced its own challenges to sincere believers in God who seek to do Godâ€™s will in all things. These can be summed up in what is usually called a “modern civilization.” It is a civilization which is not all evil and has brought many benefits to humanity. Not all of its spiritual values are opposed to Godâ€™s will, but it affirms and supports many good human qualities. However, modern civilization can include a way of thinking in which people no longer feel a need for God. Not only can people claim to feel no need to worship, thank, and seek help from God, but often they do not look to Godâ€™s Word for guidance and instruction concerning the way to lead their lives. They may choose to follow their own self-conceived philosophies and ideologies.

For those who desire to lead their lives in every respect according to Godâ€™s will, a critique of modern civilization is an inescapable task. Said Nursi was one of the pioneer thinkers in our century to recognize that the task of formulating a critical approach to the values of modernity is one that should be carried out together by Muslims and Christians. In 1946, shortly after the end of the Second World War, he stated: "Believers should now unite, not only with their Muslim fellow-believers, but with truly religious and pious Christians, disregarding questions of dispute and not arguing over them, for absolute disbelief is on the attack." (1)

For Said Nursi, the enemy of human happiness and ethical uprightness is unbelief, irreligion. It is people deciding to find their own path through life, not seeking Divine Guidance, not caring about God's will or wise design for humankind, not wishing to give up their own pet desires and ideas to submit to God's teaching about human nature and destiny. In seeking to affirm a Divinely-guided way of life in the modern age, Muslims find their natural allies in those Christians who are committed to following the teachings of Jesus and who seek to live according to the truth. Facing a common enemy, that of "aggressive atheism", Muslims should unite, according to Said Nursi, "not only with their own fellow-believers, but also with the truly pious Christians." (2)

For such a common effort to succeed, he holds, Christians and Muslims will have to refrain, at least for the some time, from disputes between these two families of believers. In saying this, Said Nursi is not implying that there are no differences between Muslims and Christians or that those differences which exist are not important. There are real and important differences between Christian and Islamic faith. His point, with which I agree, is that concentrating obsessively on these differences can blind both Muslims and Christians to the even more important common task which they share, that of offering the modern world a vision of human life and society in which God is central and God's will is the norm of moral values.

It must not be thought that Said Nursi is some kind of anti-modern traditionalist who seeks to turn back the clock. He recognizes that "there are numerous virtues in [modern] civilization." (3) These positive values were not solely the products of Europe, but are the property of all and arise from "the combined thought of humankind, the laws of the revealed religions, innate need, and in particular from the Islamic revolution brought about by the sharia of Muhammad." With such positive values of modern civilization, religious people have no quarrel. Rather, they accept and rejoice in the benefits this civilization brings to humankind.

His nuanced evaluation of modernity is paralleled by a subtle evaluation of the role of Europe as the main exponent of modern civilization (and, of course, America as its most active disseminator.) He is no doctrinaire scorners of things European, but recognizes that its contributions to modern life are ambiguous and require careful discernment. On the one hand, Europe has brought much good to many people but, on the other, it has caused much damage to human life. He considers that various currents of thought in Western history have enabled negative qualities of modern civilization to emerge and sometimes even predominate over the good.

Basically, these developments were two. Firstly, Western civilization, according to Said Nursi, became distant and estranged from true Christianity and based its personal and societal views on the principles of an anthropocentric Greco-Roman philosophy which exalted the human person to the center of the universe and pushed God to its margins. Said Nursi held that European societies replaced divinely guided Christian ideals with the philosophical principles of the Enlightenment, focusing on the freedom of the individual, dismissing the formative role and rights of society, and reducing religious faith to a private, personal commitment with no voice in the autonomous spheres of politics, economics, and social relations.

Secondly, Western civilization in its unchecked market policies, was based on a "€appalling inequality in the means of livelihood." (4) This awareness of the relationship between globalizing market tendencies which divide the world into winners and losers and philosophical presuppositions that favor the rights and aspirations of the individual is an insight of Said Nursi that presages much recent, at the close of this 20th century, post-modern and post-colonial critique of European civilization.

The result, from the point of view of those who believe in God, is a Europe which presents a double face - a "€good" Europe and a "€bad" Europe. As he said in 1933-1934:

"€Europe is two. One follows the sciences which serve justice and right and activities beneficial for the life of society through the inspiration it has received from true Christianity. This first Europe I am not addressing. Rather, I am addressing the second, corrupt Europe which, through the darkness of the philosophy of naturalism that considered the evils of civilization to be its virtues, has driven humankind to vice and misguidance." (5)

This negative current, he holds, seeks to destroy both Muslims and Christians by alienating them from the source of spiritual and moral values and by creating enmity between Christians and Muslims. All those who believe in God and seek to promote a theocentric approach to life must recognize the dangers involved: "€It is essential," he states, "€that missionaries, pious Christians as well as Nursi, be extremely careful, for with the idea of defending itself against the attacks of the religions of Islam and Christianity, "€the current from the North"™ will try to destroy the accord of Islam and the missionaries." "€The current from the North"™ is an obvious reference to the Soviet Union, and it is not by accident that these words of Said Nursi date from 1945-1946, a time when atheistic communism was extending its rule throughout Eastern Europe.

In his view, modern civilization is the product of various sources and results in a value system which, despite its evident good qualities, is often in contradiction with Divine teaching. Not all the sources of modernity were human; some appear to be the result of demonic inspiration. In his commentary on the Qur'anic verse, "€O People of the Book! Come to a common term between us and you," he stated: "€Modern civilization, which is the product of the thought of all mankind and perhaps the jinn as well, has taken up a position opposed to the Qur'an, which individuals and communities have failed to dispute." (6) In this situation, the Qur'anic injunction to come to a "€common term"™ with the People of the Book carries the meaning of Muslims and Christians coming to a mutual awareness that as communities founded on faith in God, they have a common mission to bear witness to Divine values in the midst of modern civilization. Far from being divided by a supposed "€clash of civilizations"™, they are called to work together to carry on a critical civilizational dialogue with the proponents of modernity.

Tensions between Christians and Muslims

It is a sad fact of human history that Christians and Muslims, despite their communitarian nature as peoples (umam) called to worship and obey the One and Same God, have often been in conflict and even at war with one another. They have seen one another as enemies to be resisted and overcome. Energies which should have been employed to cooperate in the establishment of God-centered societies have been dissipated in mutual suspicion, domination, and bloodshed. Writing at a time of serious tensions and massacres between the two communities at the end of the First World War, Said Nursi offered a way out of this historical impasse.

In the early years of the Turkish Republic subsequent to the First World War, some Kurdish tribesmen in Eastern Anatolia found the idea of freedom for Greeks and Armenians repugnant, and they asked Said Nursi's advice. His answer not only affirmed the right to liberty of these Christian peoples as something commanded by the shari'a, but went farther to turn the question back on the tribesmen, challenging them to recognize the deeper problem as one that lay at the heart of their own ignorance and hard-heartedness. He said, "Their freedom consists in leaving them in peace and not oppressing them, for this is what the shari'a enjoins. More than this is their aggression in the face of your bad points and craziness, their benefiting from your ignorance." (7)

He went on to state that the real enemy is not this or that group of Christians, but rather the situation of degradation into which all had fallen. As he said, "Our enemy, that which is destroying us, is A_ Ignorance, his son Poverty Effendi, and grandson, Enmity Bey. If the Armenians have opposed us in hatred, they have done so under the leadership of these three corrupters." (8)

As a Christian, I find his approach, which reaches to the heart of the problem, similar to what I find in the writings of St. Paul, who said: "Our battle is not against human forces, but against the dark powers that govern this world." In other words, at the deepest levels of spiritual striving to do God's will and build harmonious and peaceful societies, our true enemies are not other persons, but rather the powers of ignorance, poverty, and aggression that cloud our powers of perception and prevent us from acting as we should. These dark powers lie not outside ourselves, but within our own hearts. For this reason, both Islam and Christianity have always stressed repentance (Ar. tawba, Gk. metanoia) as the key to all personal and societal transformation.

The message of Said Nursi is as valid for our own day as it was when he wrote these words almost 80 years ago. At the root of tensions and conflicts between Muslims and Christians today lie not so much the evil nature of the other as our own egoistic desires to dominate, control, and retaliate. In this sense, the freedom of others from these "dark forces" is a part of our own freedom or, as Said Nursi put it: "The freedom of non-Muslims is a branch of our own freedom." (9)

The reward of innocent martyrs

The second decade of this century was one of the most disastrous in the history of Anatolia. "Between 1914-1923, 20% of the Anatolian people died. In some eastern provinces, one-half of the inhabitants died and an further one-half of the survivors were refugees." (10) As the historical demographer J. McCarthy notes, "No other country suffered in the period of World War I as did Anatolia. The "lost generation" in England, France, and Germany was a real and terrible loss. Yet the total populations of the United Kingdom and Germany actually rose between 1911 and 1922, while that of France only declined by one percent. The Anatolian population fell by more than 30% - 10% were emigrants, 20% died." (11) The secondary causes of war - disease, starvation, and exposure - accounted for a greater number of victims than did battles, raids, and massacres.

Writing during one of the most tragic periods in the history of Anatolia, Said Nursi could not ignore the reality of the deaths of so many innocent persons. It is to his great credit that he rose above sectarian loyalty to address the question of innocent Christians as well as Muslims who fell victim to the times. "Even if those innocent people were unbelievers," he stated, "in return for the tribulations they suffered due to that worldly disaster, they have such a reward from the treasury of Divine mercy that if the veil of the Unseen were to open, a great manifestation of mercy would be apparent in relation to them and they would declare, "O Lord, thanks be to You! All praise belongs to God." (12)

Said Nursi noted that he was moved to intense compassion and pity when he saw the sufferings of innocent people, and he was "touched strongly by the afflictions, poverty and hunger visited on unfortunates as a result of mankind's disaster and the winter cold, as well as by a harsh non-physical, spiritual cold." He held that those innocent people who died in such circumstances "were martyrs of a sort, whatever religion they belonged to," and that "their reward would be great and save them from Hell." "Therefore," he concluded, "it may be said with certainty that the calamity which the oppressed among Christians suffer, those connected to Jesus (Upon whom be peace)...is a sort of martyrdom for them." (13)

Not all those who died during the war years were innocent of wrongdoing. Those who oppressed others and perpetrated evil against their neighbors, declared Said Nursi, will be punished by God. By contrast, he adds, "If those who suffered the calamity were those who hastened to assist the oppressed, and who strove for the welfare of humanity, and struggled to preserve the principles of religion and sacred revealed truths and human rights," their rewards will be so great from God as to completely transcend their earthly sufferings.

This willingness to understand and empathize and with both the sufferings and the goodness found in persons of other religious communities is the sign of an honest man guided by Divine teaching. Too often the vision of a religious individual does not go beyond the trials and accomplishments of one's own community. In this context, the attitude of Said Nursi towards the Christian "martyrs" of his time presages the 1969 attitude of Pope Paul VI concerning the Muslim martyrs in Uganda. Referring to those Ugandan Christians who gave their lives in the last century rather than renounce their faith, the Pope called the attention of his hearers to the fact that there were also many Muslims in that country who chose death rather than betray or compromise their Islamic faith. These too, he held, are true martyrs and witnesses to faith in God.

Peace, reconciliation, and friendship between Muslims and Christians

Said Nursi was aware that Muslim-Christian relations were not limited to an alliance of believers in critically confronting the dangers of modernist ideology, to the resolution of conflicts, and to empathizing with innocent victims, but should move in the direction of peace, reconciliation, and even friendship. Five years before his death, in supporting the Baghdad pact, he noted that an advantage of the pact was not only that Turks would gain 400 million brothers and sisters among Muslim peoples, but that the international accord would also gain for Muslim Turks "the friendship of 800 million Christians" (14) and be a step toward a much-needed peace and general reconciliation between the two communities of faith.

In his final years, Said Nursi exerted his personal efforts at building reconciliation and friendship with Christians. In 1950, he sent a collection of his works to Pope Pius XII in Rome and received in reply, on 22 February 1951, a personal letter of thanks. One observer notes that it was only little over ten years later that, at the Second Vatican Council, the Catholic Church proclaimed its respect and esteem for Muslims and asserted that Islam was a genuine path of salvation. (15) In the same way, a few years later in 1953, Said Nursi visited the Ecumenical Patriarch Athenagoras in Istanbul to seek cooperation between Muslims and Christians in the face of aggressive atheism.

Many years before in 1910-1911, Said Nursi was questioned concerning his desire to build relations of friendship with Christians. He was confronted with the restrictive interpretation that some Muslims had placed on the Qur'anic verse: "O you who believe! Do not take the Jews and the Christians for your friends and protectors" (5: 51). In the light of this verse, he was asked, why did he say that Muslims and Christians should be friends?

His answer is instructive, not only for understanding Said Nursi's desire to encourage love and friendship between Muslims and Christians, but for his approach to Qur'anic interpretation. In his view, the Qur'anic proscription is not general but absolute and, as such, can be restricted. "Time," he states, "is a great interpreter; if it determines its limits, it cannot be gainsaid. That is, when a matter becomes clear in the course of time, one cannot object to it. Moreover, if the judgment is based on derived evidence, the source of the derivation shows the reason for the judgment."

In applying this principle to the interpretation of this verse, he holds that the prohibition from friendship with Jews and Christians is effective only when they reflect Jewishness or Christianity. But, he concludes, just as not all of the characteristics of an individual Muslim necessarily reflect the teaching of Islam, so also, not all of the qualities of individual Jews or Christians reflect unbelief. If Muslims find in a Jew or Christian qualities that are in agreement with Islamic teaching, they should consider those qualities praiseworthy. It is those good qualities that form the basis for friendship with Jews and Christians. "Can a Muslim love a Christian or Jew?" he asks and in answer gives as example a man married to a woman of the People of the Book. "Of course, he should love her." (16) His argument is based on the very fact that the Qur'an permits a Muslim man to marry a Jewish or Christian woman presumes that he can and should love her.

Return of Jesus

In no area is interpretation more difficult than those passages of sacred writings which speak of the future and the coming age. Such passages, whether one is speaking of Qur'anic verses which point to the approach of the Hour of Judgment or of apocalyptic writings in Christian Scriptures, are customarily clothed in difficult and complex symbolism and obscure allusions. Interpreting such passages demands the discipline of an interior grappling with the text by an interpreter soundly grounded in faith. Otherwise, the interpreter can be easily led astray by his own preconceptions and prejudices.

We see Said Nursi employing this careful regimen in his efforts to interpret in the context of our century the hadith reports of Muhammad that relate to the return of Jesus before the Final Hour. He accepts the soundness of these hadith reports and awaits the return of Jesus. "Since [God] promised it, He will most certainly send him." (17) At this historical time, Jesus, like Idris, is present in the heavens in his earthly body. (18) But at the end of time, Jesus will return to earth to fight and kill the Dajjal.

The meaning of these hadith, he says, must be understood in terms of the concept of collective personality, that of an individual person who represents in himself a community of individuals. "The Christian religion," he states, "will be purified and divest itself of superstition in the face of the current of unbelief and atheism born of naturalist philosophy and will be transformed into Islam. At that point, the collective personality of Christianity will kill the fearsome collective personality of irreligion. Representing the collective personality of Christianity, Jesus will kill the Dajjal, who embodies the collective personality of irreligion. That is, he [Jesus] will kill atheistic thought." (19)

Said Nursi foresees two great threats to religion, two currents of unbelief represented by the evil figures of Sufyan and Dajjal. The first, that of Sufyan, will seek to destroy the shari'ah of Muhammad and will be defeated by the Mahdi from the family of the Prophet. The second, represented by Dajjal, will promote naturalist and materialist philosophy and lead to the total denial of God. Both will work through secret societies to subvert God's reign over human hearts and eliminate the element of the sacred in social life. (20) It is against this second current which the true, purified Christianity, which comprises the collective personality of Jesus, will emerge. The true Christianity will reject superstition and distortion and be in unity with Islamic teachings. In effect, wrote Said Nursi, "Christianity will be transformed into a sort of Islam." (21)

It is not necessary that everyone recognize Jesus when he returns. Said Nursi believes it more likely that only those who are true believers and close to Jesus will know him to be the true Jesus, but it will not be generally evident to all. What is more important is that the Dajjal, symbolizing atheistic currents in humanity, will be a huge and powerful opponent who will deceive many with promises of a false paradise, alluring amusements, and the varied enticements of civilization. It is impossible for the reader of Said Nursi's descriptions of the Dajjal not to find allusions to the vast empire of the former Soviet Union as well as to the secular hegemony of European nations.

However, he looks forward to the day when the true religion of Christianity will emerge and spread its light to many to fight against the secret societies of Sufyan and the Dajjal. This purified Christianity he describes as "a zealous and self-sacrificing community known as a Christian community but worthy of being called "Muslim Christians." It will work "to unite the true religion of Jesus with the reality of Islam. In killing the Dajjal of rampant atheism, it will save humanity from godless destruction."

Thus, the kind of purification that Said Nursi expects to occur in Christianity seems to be not that of Christians abandoning their religion in order to enter Islam, but rather an inner transformation and completion of what they already have that is good. He states: "The Qur'an does not order you to abandon your religion completely. It proposes only that you complete your faith and build it on the fundamentals of religion that you already possess. The Qur'an...is a modifier and perfecter of basic principles. As for its nature as establisher, this only concerns such details as are subject to change and alteration because of differences of time and place." (22)

Conclusion

In all this, Said Nursi offers original and thought-provoking insights on Muslim-Christian dialogue and cooperation. His central thesis is that Muslims and Christians together can build a true civilization according to God's plan in which human dignity, justice, and fellowship will be the norm. This is possible if they seek to ground their mutual relationships on love. In his famous Damascus Sermon, he states that the Fourth Word on which civilization is to be built is love. "The thing which is most worthy of love," he states, "is love, and that most deserving of enmity is enmity. It is love and loving - that render people's social life secure and that lead to happiness - it is these which are most worthy of love and being loved." (23) "The time for enmity and hostility is finished," (24) he concludes.

This call to love, even across the boundaries of one's religious community, still rings true today. Events which have occurred in our world since Said Nursi first delivered his Damascus Sermon in 1911 have underlined the importance of this message: two World Wars, conflicts between India and Pakistan, massacres in Rwanda and Burundi, the plight of the Palestinian people, the destruction first of Bosnia and now of Kosova, and so many other bloody conflicts around the world remind us that love is the only solution to fratricidal destruction. The world still looks to Muslims and Christians as two communities of faith founded on the Loving and Compassionate God to show the way to love as the Divine Alternative to hatred and war.

MESSAGES RECEIVED ON CONSPIRACY CENTRAL FROM A GUY SIGNING HIMSELF AS AN MP AND FREEMASON FROM LONDON ENGLAND :

"Leo Young - you are not in the illuminati, nor do I believe you ever were... I suggest you look at other philosophies and try to find a way to get out of the rut you are in. Your attitude suggests to me that you have a problem with feeling worth in yourself, and no amount of crusading is going to fix that".

"I have been a seeker of truth for most of my life, and what I've learned is that the most dangerous thing a person can do is to say nothing, or to say too much. You, compadre, are saying too much and you need to slow down before you burn out.

Feel the bastard love ".

GEORGE GALLOWAY MP

LONDON, ENGLAND (or maybe his lovechild...hi...hi...)

MY ANSWER:

I will try George to feel that bastard love but remember my dear MP that Im an aristocrat and Im even related to your Queen! SO CHILL OUT AND TAKE IT EASY BECAUSE SHE STILL OWNS THE LAND YOU ARE WALKING ON...and your beloved Tony Blair is another slave of the illuminati working for SATAN who went to Bohemian Grove in front of the most evil Jinn to sell his soul to the devil !

But I compliment you for your job dear Bro.George as an illustrious rappresentative of the city of my mother were I have been living nearly ten years of my life...though I left because

YOU HAVE SOLD OUT TO THE CITY PERVERTS OF THE ILLUMINATI MAFIA DEAR GEORGE AND THE STREETS OF LONDON ARE LITERALY FULL OF DRUGS,PROSTITUTION AND EVEN WEAPONS LIKE NEVER BEFORE....

but dear Brother why dont we talk about our common enemy in the P2 , a guy Im sure you dont support called Michael Ledeen a true enemy of my religion (Islam) and a strong supporter of that war you officialy dont like...

Ledeen has gained notoriety in recent months for the following paragraph in his latest book, The War Against the Terror Masters. In what reads like a prophetic approval of the policy of chaos now being visited on Iraq, Ledeen wrote, Creative destruction is our middle name, both within our own society and abroad. We tear down the old order every day, from business to science, literature, art, architecture, and cinema to politics and the law. Our enemies have always hated this whirlwind of energy and creativity, which menaces their traditions (whatever they may be) and shames them for their inability to keep pace. Seeing America undo traditional societies, they fear us, for they do not wish to be undone. They cannot feel secure so long as we are there, for our very existenceâ€”our existence, not our politicsâ€”threatens their legitimacy. They must attack us in order to survive, just as we must destroy them to advance our historic mission.

And now a CV of Brother George for all the other viewers of our illuminati Confessions :

George Galloway Profile

George Galloway is the MP for Bethnal Green and Bow. He has been an MP since 1987 and took the east London seat for the Respect coalition in 2005, unseating the Labour candidate, Oona King.

He helped found Respect in 2004 after he was expelled from the Labour party for his uncompromising opposition to the Iraq war. As a leader of the antiwar movement he has taken the case against the â€œwar on terrorâ€• the length and breadth of Britain and beyond, most famously to the US Senate in May 2005.

He is the author of Iâ€™m Not the Only One, which spells out his vision of left politics for the 21st century, a frequent columnist and commentator, especially on the Middle East, and host of a weekly radio phone-in.

The Materialistic View of Nature

Nature is a machine, it has no value and it expresses no sense of purpose.

Nature is a dull affair it is soundless, scentless, and colorless. This display is merely the hurrying of matter, endlessly and meaninglessly.

A tree, for example, gains most of its obvious value through human intervention. So that its potential to become a chair, a table, or other piece of furniture, is its principal source of value.

The only value that nature can have is instrumental value.

Philosophy and Science in Materialistic Approach discuss only the designs and letters of the book of the universe but attach no importance to its meaning.

The Qur'ân sees the natural world as a realm of "signs", disclosing a divine glory and requiring deep and intimate attention.

The purpose of the Qur'ân, is "to awaken in man the higher consciousness of his manifold relations with God and the universe". (M. Iqbal)

The Islamic View of Nature

Any attentive readers of the Qur'ân will be arrested by phenomena that are a manifestation of Lord.

Muslims respond to the invitation of the Qur'ân and see everything as a sign of Divine.

The Beauty of Nature

"There is not a thing but celebrates His praise".

(Qur'an 17:44)

All of Creation Celebrates His Praise

Everything Celebrates His Praise!..

The seven heavens and the earth, and all beings therein, declare His glory;

there is not a thing but celebrates His praise; and yet you understand not how they declare His glory!

Love of God

Whosoever loves much performs much, and can accomplish much, and what is done in love is well done.
One must always try to know deeper, better, and more.
That leads to God and unwavering faith.

The Best Way to Know God

“Come forth

Islamic Scholars

Rumi (1207-1271)

Yunus Emre (d.1321)

Said Nursi (1877-1960)

He is the greatest mystical poet of Islam.

He attracted spiritual seekers from almost every religion in the world.

Even in his day, Rumi was sought out by merchants and kings, devout worshippers and rebellious seekers, famous scholars and common peasants, men and women.

At his funeral, Muslims, Christians, Jews, Persians, Turks and Romans honored him.

Listen to his call for seekers of truth:

Jalal al-Din Rumi (1207-1273)

Rumi: The Poet of Love..

Come, come, whoever you are.

Wanderer, worshipper, lover of leaving.

It doesn't matter.

Ours is not a caravan of despair.

Come, even if you have broken your vow a hundred times.

Come, yet again, come, come.

In Rumi's understanding, everything is alive.

God creates everything with a specific order, duty, purpose, and meaning.

There is nothing like lifeless matter in his system.

God and Creation

A Tree Opening Its Hands in Prayer Just Like a Believer

Yunus Emre

He was a thirteenth century dervish from Anatolia.

He played an outstanding role in Turkish culture, literature, and philosophy.

Some writers regard him as the most important poet in Turkish history: his poetry, language, and philosophy, shaped Turkish culture and still do so.

He believed that every particle in the world, animate and inanimate was manifesting the beauty and greatness of God.

Yunus Emre

Love and Creation

O man of love,

open your eyes;

look at the face of earth.

See how these lovely flowers, bedecking themselves, came [and then] passed on.

Every flower, with thousand coquettish air, praise God with supplications.

These birds with pleasant voices recite litanies of the King.

Yunus Joins to the Universal Prayer of Creation to God

With the mountains and rocks, I call you out, my God,

With the birds as day breaks, I call you out, my God.

With Jesus in the sky, Moses on Mount Sinai,

Raising my scepter high, I call you out, my God.

Universal Love

He believed that every particle in the world, animate and inanimate was manifesting the beauty and greatness of God.

Come here, let's make peace, let's not be strangers to one another.

“We love all creatures for the sake of their Creator”!

Let Us All Be Friends

Come, let us all be friends for once,

Let us make life easy on us,

Let us be lovers and loved ones,

The earth shall be left to no one.

Said Nursi

Said Nursi was born in 1877 in eastern Turkey and died in 1960.

Nursi was a religious scholar of the highest standing.

He devoted his life to the revival of the traditional Islamic understanding of universe and its moral implications.

In his emphasis on the spiritual aspects of Islam, Nursi is regarded as a modern representative of the Islamic Sufi legacy.

Said Nursi

He had close ties with all the creatures around him and called them as "my brethren".

He would give the cats and pigeons that came to him part of his own food.

He rebuked one of his students who killed a lizard, saying, "Did you create it?"

In one occasion, he was most upset when the flies were killed by spraying, and wrote a short piece called The Treatise on Flies.

When going for excursions in the countryside, Nursi would study "the Great Book of the Universe"™, and urge his disciples to read it.

Said Nursi

The Mighty Qur'an of The Universe

"Everything, from the heavens to the earth, from stars to flies, from angels to fishes, and from planets to particles, prostrates, worships, praises, and glorifies, the Almighty God.

Their worship varies according to their capacities and the Divine Names that they manifest; it is all different."

There is no contradiction between the teachings of the Qurâ€™an and the book of nature.

The Qurâ€™an and Nature

In the creation of the heavens and the earth, in the alternation of night and day, in the ships sailing through the ocean for the benefit of mankind, in the water which God sends down from the sky and with which He revives the earth after its death, dispersing over it all kinds of beasts, in the ordinance of the winds and clouds subjugated between the earth and sky:

[There] are signs for people who reason. (2:164)

Order and Balance in the Universe

There is an order and balance in the universe which is created by God. There is no wastefulness, futility, or absence of benefits, in the nature of things.

The Qurâ€™an also says: "Eat and drink, but waste not in excess." (7:31). Humanity should take lessons from the eco-systems and lead a wise and frugal life.

When the sky is torn apart, so it was (like) a red rose, like Ointment.

Then which of the favors of your Lord will you deny?

Leo Lyon Zagami reply to the e-mail above sent by the Gran Secretary of the Grand Lodge of all England on this delicate subject:

"Yes all these suicides were the children of the SS Himmler/Hitler program for the creation of a so called pure Arian race for the Third Reich. Himmler had chosen the arian women of Norway obviously for this illuminati satanic experiment , that saw so many willing Norwegian participants and the city of Trondheim (were the more conservative and racist masonic Lodge in Norway chartered from Germany still exist nowadays) was supposed to become the Capital of the Third Reich in Himmler's sick vision.

Sad many innocent people ended up like this after the II World War because of corrupt governments like the Norwegian one in the hands of a bunch of non compassionate satanist , who actualy wanted to continue their experiments after the II World War with the full support of US scientist and the CIA. These experiments included the use of LSD and electroshock on the so called children of Himmler untill the middle of the 70's, and were used for the infamous MK-ULTRA project of the CIA.

Later on the Norwegian government under pressure from the media started to apologize and give money to the victims of this terrible Nazi illuminati experiment secretly piloted by the infamous Vatican Jesuits and their SS elite, but it was to late for all those poor kids born without father who preferred to die in Gaustad than accepting the evil nature of their true SS fathers and their illuminati manipulators."

Strangely enough I got this reply soon after I sent my answer to VW Bro. Peter Joseph Clatworthy, a reply that demonstrates to everyone out there the true intentions of his Masonic Obbedience the Grand Lodge of all England <http://www.grandlodgeofallengland.org/> (another bunch of evil Nazi's wearing aprons under Vatican illuminati control...)

The plans to create a mind controlled workers society have been in place for a long time. The current technology grew out of experiments that the Nazis started before World War II and intensified during the time of the Nazi concentration camps when an unlimited supply of children and adults were available for experimentation. We've heard about the inhumane medical experiments performed on concentration camp prisoners, but no word was ever mentioned by the media and the TV documentaries of the mind control experiments. That was not to be divulged to the American public. Mind control technologies can be broadly divided into two subsets: trauma-based or electronic-based.

The first phase of government mind control development grew out of the old occult techniques which required the victim to be exposed to massive psychological and physical trauma, usually beginning in infancy, in order to cause the psyche to shatter into a thousand alter personalities which can then be separately programmed to perform any function (or job) that the programmer wishes to "install". Each alter personality created is separate and distinct from the front personality. The 'front personality' is unaware of the existence or activities of the alter personalities. Alter personalities can be brought to the surface by programmers or handlers using special codes, usually stored in a laptop computer. The victim of mind control can also be affected by specific sounds, words, or actions known as triggers.

The second phase of mind control development was refined at an underground base below Fort Hero on Montauk , Long Island (New York) and is referred to as the Montauk Project. The earliest adolescent victims of Montauk style programming, so called Montauk Boys, were programmed using trauma-based techniques, but that method was eventually abandoned in favor of an all-electronic induction process which could be "installed" in a matter of days (or even hours) instead of the many years that it took to complete trauma-based methods.

Dr. Joseph Mengele of Auschwitz notoriety was the principle developer of the trauma-based Monarch Project and the CIA's MK Ultra mind control programs. Mengele and approximately 5, 000 other high ranking Nazis were secretly moved into the United States and South America in the aftermath of World War II in an Operation designated Paperclip. The Nazis continued their work in developing mind control and rocketry technologies in secret underground military bases. The only thing we were told about was the rocketry work with former Nazi star celebrities like Warner Von Braun. The killers, torturers, and mutilators of innocent human beings were kept discretely out of sight, but busy in U.S. underground military facilities which gradually became home to thousands upon thousands of kidnapped American children snatched off the streets (about one million per year) and placed into iron bar cages stacked from floor to ceiling as part of the 'training'. These children would be used to further refine and perfect Mengele's mind control technologies. Certain selected children (at least the ones who survived the 'training') would become future mind controlled slaves who could be used for thousands of different jobs ranging anywhere from sexual slavery to assassinations. A substantial portion of these children, who were considered expendable, were intentionally slaughtered in front of (and by) the other children in order to traumatize the selected trainee into total compliance and submission.

Well my wife says I always spend to much time on my work for the rest of mankind and not enough time for the family,so Ive been adviced to read the following :

46) Al-Aswad ra said : I asked A'isha ra : "What did Rasulullah saw used to do in his house ?". She said : "He used to work for his family, and when prayer (time) came, he went out for prayer ". (Bukhari)

Jabir b. Abdullah said that Rasulullah saw said :
"Allah is not merciful to whom who is not merciful to people ". (Bukhari, Muslim)

20).From Amr b. Shu'aib, from his father, from his grandfather : Rasulullah saw said : "He is not of us who has no compassion for our little ones and does not honour our old ones " (Abu Dawud, Tirmidhi)

(31). Abdullah b. Amr ra said that Rasulullah saw said : "There are four traits; he who has all of them is a certain hypocrite and has one of them has some hypocrisy, until he gets rid of it : when being given a trust, he betrays; when he speaks, he lies; when he promises (something), he breaks it; and when he quarrels he commits excesses" (Bukhari)

(32). Ibn Mas'ud ra said that Rasulullah saw said :
"Abusing a Muslim is sinful, and fighting (making war, qital) with him is (tantamount to) kufr." (Bukhari, Muslim)

(11).From Abu Hurairah : Rasulullah saw said : " The strong man is not the one who is strong in wrestling, but the one who controls himself in anger " (Bukhari, Muslim)

(58) From Abu Sa'id al-Khudri ra : Rasulullah s.a.w said : "If one of you sees (something) bad, he should change it with his hand; and if he is not capable of that, then with his tongue; and if he is not capable of that, then (he should detest) it with his heart; and that is the weakest faith". (Muslim)

(64) Abu Hurairah ra said that Rasulullah s.a.w said :
"He who truly believes in Allah and the last Day, should speak good or keep silent". (Bukhari, Muslim)

(73) Aisha r.a. said : A desert Arab came to Rasulullah s.a.w. and said : "Do you kiss children ?
We do not kiss them". Rasulullah s.a.w said : "What can I do for you if Allah has taken away mercy from your heart ? " (Bukhari, Muslim) Tirmidhi) (85) Abu Hurairah r.a. reported that Rasulullah s.a.w. said : He who does not acquire knowledge with the sole intention of seeking the pleasure of Allah and does not impart it but for gaining the frailties of the world, shall not smell the fragrance of Paradise on the Day of Resurrection.

(Abu Dawud)

Hello Leo,

I didnt recive your file for Gruppo di UR.

Do you know something about Secret Rabbinical tradition present in today Illuminati and known as Kishuph Kabbalah?

Unfortunately dear Tribal I didnt have time to check your direct e-mail yet and send you the PDF regarding the Gruppo di UR but Im sure this will keep you happy for a quile untill we establish further contact in private:

ARTURO REGHINI A Modern Pythagorean
by Dana Lloyd Thomas, Summer 1997 / Gnosis Magazine 59

No study of esoteric culture in Italy in this century can fail to mention Arturo Reghini (1878-1946).Writer, translator, mathematician, and above all a Pythagorean, he played a key role in the revival of scholarship on esotericism in Italy as well as in the attempt to restore the spiritual traditions of Masonry.

Reghini's books and articles cover a variety of subjects including Masonic symbolism, Theosophy, Neoplatonism, Cornelius Agrippa, and Cagliostro. As editor of the magazines Ignis and Atanor, he published articles by the noted esotericists Rene Guenon and Julius Evola. Later he was to pay for his out- spokenness--especially on behalf of freedom of conscience -when Freemasonry was outlawed by the Fascist regime.

Born in Florence on November 12, 1878, Reghini was the eldest of five children. His career as a philosopher, in the classical sense of "lover of wisdom," began early in life, when his aristocratic family sent him to the University of Pisa to study mathematics.The tall, thin young student was approached one evening by a stranger who singled him out as a candidate for initiation into the mysterious Pythagorean school, also known as the Schola Italica.The stranger turned out to be Amedeo Armentano (1886-1966), who fascinated literary circles in Florence with his abstruse, laconic reasoning about time, mind, and soul as well as with his psychic powers.

Reghini was initiated in the highest sense of the word. He experienced the trial of the five elements not only as a ceremony but as a profound reality. For him, passing beyond the threshold of death was a matter of experience, vision, and knowledge rather than a mere symbol. 1

Polltics and Secret Societiea

To understand Reghini's role in the esoteric culture of his time, it is helpful to have some background on Italian Freemasonry and its connection to historical events. As in other countries, the Craft in Italy has so many facets that there is little point in overgeneralizing. For some, Masonry has commanded a virtually religious allegiance in the observance of the "ancient and accepted" rules and ceremonies, while others undoubtedly saw it as a means of improving society at large based on nineteenth-century rationalist beliefs in progress, education, and science. The ranks of Masonry have also included an eminent minority of philosophers and mystics, as well as the usual opportunists. Finally there are the anti-Masonic elements, initially Catholic and later spreading to both left and right-wing politicians and thinkers. In any case, the political and esoteric aspects of Freemasonry have often run parallel throughout Italian history.

The first known Italian lodge was founded in Florence by Charles Sackville, Earl of Middlesex, Henry Fox, and Sir Charles Mann in about 1730.² Although by this time Florentine Renaissance traditions were but a distant memory, Tuscany under the later Medici had still managed to preserve some independence, sparing it from the worst excesses of the Counter-Reformation. Lodges were soon opened in Rome, Naples, Turin, and elsewhere. But the Craft's connection with England--a major Protestant power--aroused the suspicions of both the rulers of the Italian states and the ecclesiastical hierarchy.

In 1738, when Pope Clement XII issued the bull In eminenti, which in practice banned Catholics from becoming Freemasons, he had reached the venerable age of 87 and was completely blind. Firmly continuing the papacy's penchant for power politics, the measure seems to have been initially rooted in concern about the situation in the pope's native Tuscany and was probably formulated mainly with Italy in mind. It may have been no coincidence that the last of the Medici, Gian Gastone, had died a year before; the move could have had the aim both of striking a blow against a suspiciously Protestant organization and of reasserting papal influence in relatively tolerant Tuscany. Nevertheless this independence persisted when Francis of Lorraine, himself a Freemason, became Tuscany's new ruler.³

The papal stance marked the start of persecution; the poet Tommaso Crudeli, the first known Masonic martyr, was tortured to make him reveal "the secrets of the Freemasons," but he was released upon Francis's intervention.⁴ Several decades later, the celebrated magus Count Alessandro Cagliostro was not to be so lucky, and would die in 1795 while imprisoned in the papal fortress of San Leo. Of the papal ban Reghini wrote, "The effect of the Church's hostility was to cause a reaction in some countries, with Freemasonry being forced to defend itself by becoming a secret society. Nevertheless, it never became sectarian, and the rituals were always characterized by the tolerance, nonsectarianism, and independence of the early period."⁵

Masons and Masonic organizations played a significant role in the Italian Risorgimento ("Resurrection") of the nineteenth century. Freemasons actively promoted the unification of Italy's many states, thus winning them further condemnation for "subversion." Giuseppe Mazzini's political organization, Giovine Italia ("Young Italy"), dedicated to unification, shared Masonic ideals of humanity, progress, and secular government.

The Italian Grand Orient was founded in 1859.⁶ In 1862, a Sovereign Council of the Scottish Rite convened in Palermo under the guidance of the patriot Giuseppe Garibaldi, and in 1864 the first Congress of Italian Freemasonry met in Florence and elected Garibaldi as Grand Master.

Perhaps even more than the French Revolution, the Risorgimento was a "bourgeois" revolution, and Freemasonry attracted Italy's small but active middle class. It was seen as a means of keeping together forces as diverse as Mazzini's republicans, monarchists who supported the House of Savoy, and Garibaldi's "Redshirts." As one scholar points out, "in a country where all the forms of political conflicts had a regional basis, . . . the lodges were the only real school of national unity."⁷ As a result of the Church's continuing opposition to unification, Masonry persisted in its anticlerical stance.

In the decades following the country's unification in 1870, numerous members of the new class of politicians and administrators were Freemasons. By the end of the nineteenth century, Freemasonry was widely perceived as part of the establishment and as affording advantages that were often more material than spiritual. Financial scandals and political instability had made establishment politicians vulnerable to attack, and Freemasonry, previously seen as the champion of independence and democracy, was now accused of being class-ridden and corrupt. As in other Latin countries, many anti-Masonic pamphlets were circulated, generally based on conspiracy charges by the Abbe Barruel and Leo Taxil and creating the impression that the institution was much more powerful and monolithic than it actually was.

These ideas undoubtedly influenced Benito Mussolini in his early years in the Socialist Party and were to resurface in the Fascist period (1922-43) despite the Masonic connections of many Fascist leaders. 8 The Fascist movement, founded in 1919, counted a number of Freemasons among its first members, who were attracted by a variety of factors, including the movement's early anticlerical and revolutionary leanings.

Persecution, though not always systematic continued until the fall of the regime.

Paradoxically, as soon as World War II ended, anti-Masonic literature was revived, this time with accusations of collaboration with Fascism. In recent decades, historical research on Italian Freemasonry has largely been monopolized by Catholic and Communist-oriented writers who are for different reasons hostile to the institution. 9 It is therefore no wonder that a Masonic writer has observed that "Italian Masonry is probably the most misrepresented and misunderstood in the world." 10

Esoteric Societies

Italian Freemasonry was not all politics, however, and has always had a strong esoteric strain. Together with the specifically Masonic symbolism of building and architecture, probably rooted in medieval guilds, various esoteric traditions including Rosicrucian, Kabbalistic, Templar, and Pythagorean lines have converged in the Craft.

>From the earliest times Freemasonry has considered geometric symbolism to be of the highest importance, with the Pythagorean theorem being widely depicted in Masonic art. It has been suggested that some form of Pythagorean initiation survived through the centuries, first in the Byzantine Empire and later, as the Ottoman Turks advanced, in Italy, where the Greek intellectual elite took refuge.

During the reign of Elizabeth I, Sir Thomas Bodley is said to have been initiated in the northern Italian city of Forlì into the Pythagorean Brotherhood of the Fratelli Obscuri, having "the laudable object of propagating the Sciences and love of Virtue" and "established in imitation of an older Society which had existed since before the fall of the Grecian Empire in the towns of Constantinople and Thessalonica." In the eighteenth century, the British and French Pythagoreans came to be known as "Snuff-Takers" when they adopted the tobacco plant as their symbol. 11

Naples was the home of Egyptian Freemasonry, a tradition claiming descent from the Hermetic community dating back to Hellenistic Egypt: there is still a "Nile Square" in the city, and Giordano Bruno, who exalted the "wisdom of Egypt," was from nearby Nola. The school subsequently came to light through the work of Cagliostro and later of Giuliano Kremmerz, founder of the Hermetic Brotherhood of Myriam. 12 Cagliostro's "Gospel," first published in Italian in 1914 and later commented on by Reghini, uses alchemical terminology to describe a path to immortality as well as propounding the use of magical seals, meditation, fasting, and a vegetarian diet.

The esoteric Order of Misraim (whose name is derived from the Hebrew name for Egypt) seems to have had Italian origins. The Misraim first emerged in Italy in the eighteenth century, when it was associated with Cagliostro who brought it to Venice around 1788. 13 Because both Egyptian Freemasonry and the Order of Misraim allow the admission of women--thus violating the basic Masonic guidelines known as the "Landmarks"--and because they work degrees beyond the third, they are generally classified as part of "fringe Masonry."

The Order of Misraim was introduced into France after 1813 by the Bedarride brothers; afterwards it spread to Belgium, Switzerland, Britain, and the U.S. It consists of two forms of practice: the Kabbalistic form adopted by the Bedarrides and the Egyptian-Hellenistic form of the highest degrees known as the Arcana Arcanorum. 14

Politics again crossed paths with the esoteric when Garibaldi was appointed Grand Hierophant of the Misraim in 1880. At that time the order was joined with the Order of Memphis, whose rituals are inspired by Egyptian imagery. By the end of the century, the combined order was to provide a link between Freemasonry and Theosophy in Italy: both H.P. Blavatsky and Annie Besant held high degrees.

Theosophist and Freemason

When he was only eighteen, Reghini went to Rome, where he was introduced to Isabel Cooper-Oakley, Blavatsky's delegate to Italy, and in 1898 the two were among the founders of the Italian branch of the Theosophical Society. (Blavatsky had always had a weakness for Italy; she even claimed to have fought with Garibaldi against French and papal forces at the Battle of Mentana in 1867.)¹⁵ Theosophy too was soon open to accusations of heresy, if not outright paganism, thus attracting the hostility of the Church. Yet the Theosophical Society proved to be an important vehicle for broadening the horizons of educated and open-minded Italians by introducing the study of oriental philosophy and religion--until then largely limited to academic circles--to a wider public. While already receiving instruction on the Pythagorean tradition, Reghini started his Masonic career with initiation into the Order of Memphis and Misraim in 1902. What did he find in this esoteric form of Freemasonry? He was probably told something like these comments by a modern Masonic writer:

The Rite of Memphis and Misraim is not suited to every Mason, but is intended for those few Brothers who, following the many indications and revelations to be found in their rituals, genuinely aspire to enter into resonance with the higher planes of existence, and to overcome their individuality. In this case the Rite is a visible, tangible link between the lower sphere and the upper sphere. It provides the key to the Arcana, the way in which they can be revealed and practiced. ¹⁶

The order's Osirian ritual contains suggestive references Egypt, as when the aspiring Master is told:

Brother, you have entered this Temple which is the Middle Chamber of the Pyramid, aspiring to become Osiris, and to achieve this privilege you have recited the negative confession, well aware that it was only symbolic, the confession that every deceased person recites when reaching the world of shadows and coming before the tribunal of Osiris to identify himself with Osiris if his life has been pure. ¹⁷

In 1903 Reghini joined a lodge in Florence that owed allegiance to the Italian Grand Orient; two years later this was reorganized as the Lucifero Lodge, with Reghini as one of the founders. At the same time lodges in Milan merged with the Rome Grand Orient, with headquarters in Rome's Palazzo Giustiniani.

Writing in 1906, Reghini censured opposition to the higher degrees (from the fourth up to the 95th in orders like the Misraim) and expressed regret over the failure of Mazzini and the American Albert Pike to create "a secret rite above all others, a sort of Masonry within Masonry, which would have unified the divided Masonic family." ¹⁸ In 1908 a number of dissidents, led by a Protestant minister, broke away from the Grand Orient in protest against its overly materialistic and radical political stance. They set up a new Masonic organization with its headquarters at Piazza del Gesu in Rome. Subsequently Italy's two branches of Masonry were to be known as "Palazzo Giustiniani" and "Piazza del Gesu" after the location of their Rome headquarters.

An attempt to promote unification of the splintered Masonic groups by returning to the Craft's early spiritual roots was undertaken with the Italian Philosophic Rite, of which Reghini was one of the founders. (The name calls to mind the Scottish Philosophic Rite, thought to have some connection with British Pythagoreans.) The Italian rite had seven degrees and has been described as a mixture of Pythagorean and Gnostic elements. In 1911 Reghini and Armentano rewrote the rite's statutes, dictating that a copy of the Golden Verses of Pythagoras was to be placed in the temple together with the other objects used in lodge work.

This experience was interrupted by World War I, which disrupted international fraternal contacts; Reghini himself served in the army. The Philosophic Rite came to an end in 1919, when it was merged with the Grand Lodge Scottish Rite. Afterwards Reghini, while remaining a Freemason, would be more cautious about any "universal reformation" of the Craft.

Occultism and the Esoteric

In Italy, as in the rest of Europe around the turn of the century, popular interest in the occult was largely focused on phenomena like hypnotism and spiritualism. Astrological and magical manuals copied from classics such as those by Cornelius Agrippa and Giovanni Battista della Porta abounded. At the same time the works of French writers like Eliphas Levi, Henri Durville, and Papus were gaining a considerable readership, and there were a number of esoteric journals. Reghini himself translated Swami Vivekananda, the Egyptologist E.A. Wallis Budge, and Robert Louis Stevenson's occult tales.

Both Reghini and Giuliano Kremmerz, active in Naples during the same period, stressed that theirs was a quest for knowledge and warned against the confusion between spiritual achievement and bouts of emotional excitement. In this respect they rejected the occultism of seances and sects, sharing the position of Levi, who insisted that his occultism (a term he coined) was based on faith, science, and reason. 19

This experimental method makes use not only of logic but of analogy. Early in his career Reghini had written, "The symbolism of architecture, ceremonies, and images is superior to ordinary language due to the multitude of meanings which only symbolism can express, since it works through analogy; the hieroglyphic and ideogram forms of writing are superior to ordinary writing due to the breadth and precision of their meaning."20

Twenty years later, Reghini expressed much the same idea: "There exists an oral tradition of hidden knowledge which cannot be transmitted with words (perceived and interpreted in the profane sense). There is still a serious tradition in the West which has nothing to do with the circuslike uproar, the parody and pretense, of today's so-called occultism."21

Reghini also sometimes retired with his friends Armentano and Giulio Parise to an isolated tower on the coast of Calabria, ideal for study and meditation. Reghini was also no stranger to ceremonial magic, though one of the few direct references he makes to it has humorous overtones, mentioning some of the practical difficulties of pre-dawn rituals, with alarm clocks, cups of hot coffee, sputtering oil lamps, incense failing to burn, and candles going out, all to the detriment of the necessary "spiritual concentration."22

Throughout all this activity Reghini remained a Pythagorean. What did this mean for him in practical terms? He engaged in the daily recollection of his deeds--a practice that has been traced back to Pythagoras--as well as "philosophical ecstasy," which was actually a type of meditation. The practitioner was to sit comfortably in a quiet place, emptying himself of all thoughts and emotions; he could either be in the dark or have a light behind him. "Then, when the soul is purified, a bright and shining light from which nothing can be hidden seems to appear," says one old text. "And then a sweet pleasure is felt, incomparable to anything in this world, and . . . an extremely pleasurable itch is felt inside the head.... The persons most suited to this ecstasy are those whose skull is open, through which the spirits can escapeI believe that this is the Platonic ecstasy, the one mentioned by Porphyry as having overcome Plotinus seven times."

This practice has important implications as a form of "Western yoga." It does not so much connote an evaluation of deeds as good or bad but rather stresses the importance of remembering itself. The Renaissance mages Tommaso Campanella and Giordano Bruno were probably familiar with this meditation. 23

Reghini also stressed that the seeker aimed at the transformation of his soul by such techniques as breath control, meditation, and recollection, and that this transformation had to take place during one's lifetime.

The Pagan Utopia

In Reghini's time the word "pagan" still had largely negative connotations, and was widely used not to indicate a historically documented religion but rather as a synonym for immorality and materialism. Nevertheless he found it to be the best term to sum up his own position. In a 1914 article entitled "Imperialismo pagano," he called for the spiritual rebirth of Italian culture in a new type of "empire" that would entail excellence in every field of human endeavor. This achievement would require freedom and tolerance, although history showed that, unlike Greco-Roman paganism, the Abrahamic religions had all too often borne the bitter fruit of religious intolerance. Reghini agreed with Gibbon that the fanatical attitude of the Christians from the earliest times had led to the fall of Rome and later to the papal policy of preventing Italy's unification. 24

The avant-garde milieu in which Reghini's ideas had matured was also focused on the problem of creating a new "secular religion," free from the defects of Catholicism yet based on spiritual values. 25 Nevertheless for Reghini any anti-Christian "crusade" would have been a contradiction in terms; rather he called for the classical distinction between popular and initiatic religion, subsequently developed by Guenon and others. He likewise condemned the materialism and rabid anticlericalism of some in the Masonic community, and may have even cherished a dream of the day when the Catholic Church would have adopted the policy of St. Francis of Assisi, abandoning political and financial power to devote itself to good works.

While aiming at spiritual perfection, Reghini believed, Masonry should be nonsectarian. In his 1922 work on the meaning of the three basic Masonic degrees, he analyzes the symbolism of the initiation of a Master Mason, with the ritual death and resurrection of Hiram calling to mind Osiris, Dionysus, and Jesus; the initiate, he says, should become aware that the conscious mind does not depend on physical existence alone. He likewise chides some of his Anglo-American brothers for interpreting the Nineteenth Landmark, requiring belief in God, as meaning that Masons must necessarily be Christians, reminding them that the square and compass are placed on top of the Bible. 26 He also comments that both continental and Anglo-American Masonry are more obsessed with high-sounding titles than with the spiritual perfection of the initiate.

THE DISSAPPOINTMENT OF FASCISM

After moving to Rome in 1921, Reghini devoted considerable attention to Fascism and to the relationship developing between Mussolini and the Vatican.

Most of Italian Freemasonry, along with the Nationalist and Socialist dissidents led by Mussolini, had backed intervention in World War I, above all to wrest the cities of Trent and Trieste from Italy's old enemy Austria. After the war, in 1920, the Grand Orient supported the occupation of the city of Fiume on the Adriatic in defiance of Italy's allies France and Britain; this event was considered to be the final step in national unification. When Mussolini's Fascist government came to power in 1922, there was little hint of the disaster that was to befall Freemasonry. None of the betterknown Fascists were practicing Catholics, and indeed some were known to be Freemasons. Unfortunately, however, Reghini's warnings that the Craft required spiritual renewal had gone unheeded, as would his attempts to prevent the regime from coming to an agreement with the Church. In addition, the Masonic hierarchy did not prove to be as skillful as their predecessors in avoiding a "divide and conquer" policy.

Since the French Revolution, the fasces, the ancient insignia of Roman power consisting of twelve birch rods bound together with an ax had had revolutionary, antimonarchist connotations, initially inspiring its adoption by the Fascist Party. For men like Reghini, however, the symbol also evoked the ancient Roman concept of res publica, in which power was invested both in the people and in an aristocratic Senate. Reghini did not want to propose some new system of government; rather he hoped that a spiritually oriented and Pythagorean Masonry would foster an elite political class whose members would be endowed with superior values.

Nineteen twenty-four was a crucial year for Reghini. In that year the government decreed Masonic affiliation to be incompatible with Fascist Party membership. A Jesuit journal published an article condemning Freemasonry on the grounds that, being international, it was therefore "unItalian"; this line was soon officially adopted by the Fascists. 27 Reghini, a member of the Supreme Council of the Piazza del Gesu Grand Lodge, replied that Masonry's key role in promoting the Risorgimento disproved this accusation beyond any doubt. By this time, however, historical arguments were of no avail, making him almost inadvertently a political dissident. In May, his friend Armentano, who had continued to work with him in an abortive attempt to reunify the two main branches of Italian Masonry, left for Brazil.

Any hopes that Freemasons may have nourished for a change of heart in the regime were dashed by the antiMasonic violence unleashed in November 1925. A new law against "secret societies" did not specifically mention Freemasons, but the regime made it clear that they were the intended target. 28 Mussolini asserted that the measures were to prevent political plots and not to suppress Freemasonry as a spiritual institution, but there was little difference when it came to police suppression. A number of top Grand Orient officials went into exile in France, while after an unsuccessful attempt to reorganize as the "Order of St. John of Scotland," the Piazza del Gesu was also forced to close. Ironically, the lack of systematic persecution against ordinary Freemasons led Pope Pius XI to criticize the Fascist regime for being "too soft." In an article published in Fascism and the Vatican in 1927-28, Reghini, foreseeing the imminent alliance between Freemasonry and the Vatican, commented:

The current conditions of our country in relation to the political situation in Europe and the world would be favorable to someone who was willing and able to exploit them to create a new universal civilization starting from Rome. However . . . this type of imperialism could not be subservient to a force which is universal in name only, whose innate and incurable intolerance is unacceptable to both the rest of Western civilization and to the Oriental civilizations.... We would proudly say more, if we were not obliged today to use more prudent language than Agrippa was able to use four centuries ago. 29 By this time there could be no doubt that Reghini's position was highly unorthodox. In a short time he had graduated from being a gifted writer on rather obscure subjects to being an unflinching public opponent of Mussolini's rapprochement with the Vatican, culminating in the 1929 Lateran Treaty. How could a self-declared pagan be allowed to publish freely after an alliance between the Church and Fascism? Reghini's courage in the defense of Masonry was all the more remarkable considering his dim view of the Craft as a whole for failing to fulfill its mission of perfecting the individual.

Faced with such a difficult situation, much of the Masonic hierarchy preferred to temporize, but after unsuccessful attempts to come to terms with the government, both of the major Masonic branches declared themselves to be dissolved and would only reemerge in 1945. Reghini's sacrifice gained him few friends either before or after the war.

Attacks in the press continued, and Parise writes of attempts "to save my soul and Reghini's with pistol shots.. surveillance was so close and overwhelming as to limit our contacts, since we were even afraid of compromising people who just happened to greet us" 30 Reghini was dismissed as a mathematics teacher in a public school in November 1928 and had to make a living by teaching privately.

In a disgraceful episode, Reghini's former friend Julius Evola publicly denounced him for Masonic affiliation. 31 Curiously, Evola had just published Imperialismo pagano, a set of articles borrowing considerably from Reghini's essay with the same title and calling on the Fascists to avoid political and ideological compromise with Catholicism. Decades later, Evola would acknowledge that he owed his awareness of genuine initiation to Reghini and Guenon.

Epilogue

At this stage Reghini, Guenon, and Evola went on separate paths. In 1930 Guenon, who continued to be ambivalent about Masonry as a true source of initiation, left Europe to devote himself completely to Islamic studies in Cairo. Evola would soon drop his intransigent "pagan imperialism" and condemn Freemasonry on the grounds that it could not provide any genuine spiritual initiation. He would go on to cultivate a view diametrically opposite to that of Reghini's, seeing the Catholic Church as the successor to the Roman Empire as well as developing his own peculiar brand of racism that was to influence the Fascist regime.

In the 1930s Reghini devoted himself to teaching and to the study of the Pythagorean interpretation of numbers, proportion, and harmony, seen not simply as an intellectual game but as the key to life. His approach somewhat resembles that of the nineteenth-century English Neoplatonist Thomas Taylor (whose works he quotes) in correlating spiritual and material reality with numbers and proportions. Reghini's book on the reconstruction of Pythagorean geometry, containing notions "on which Freemasons would do well to meditate," 32 was published in 1935 and was praised for its scientific value by the Accademia d'Italia, Italy's equivalent of the Royal Society.

As World War II came to an end, Reghini intensified his work on Pythagorean numbers. Perhaps sensing that his time was short, he left detailed instructions concerning his manuscripts. 33 At five o'clock on the hot afternoon of July 1, 1946, in a country villa near Bologna, he died standing in his study, facing the westering sun.

In one of his later works on the relationship between mathematics and the spiritual quest, Reghini stressed that true philosophy involved the direct experience of the seeker: Modern Western science is objective experimental science, achieved externally by instruments which aid the senses; its purpose is to observe, understand, taking into account the inevitable alteration (the Heisenberg principle) made on the observed conditions by the observer. In Masonry, Hermeticism, Pythagoreanism, and esoteric science of all times, the observer is also the object of the experience, considered internally and directly without limiting the field to any imaginary columns of Hercules; not so much a matter of theorizing as of feeling and living. 34

And what indeed is the purpose of philosophy--the love of wisdom--if not, as the Neoplatonist Porphyry said, "to free our mind from limitations and chains"? 35 u
California-born Dana Lloyd Thomas now lives in Rome. He has written articles on Pythagoreanism, alchemy, and oriental medicine and is writing a book on Arturo Reghini and esoteric traditions in Italy.

3. There is extensive literature on Clement XII's "excommunication" of Freemasonry. The events of this period are far from simple; the Catholic Jacobites were conspiring against the Protestant Hanover dynasty in England, and the Jacobite association with early Freemasonry also deserves attention.

There are many who curse at the darkness in the world, but those who light a candle to disperse the darkness are few. The thinker, striver in the way of God, and renewer of religion, Bediuzzaman Said Nursi was one of these rare people.

Said Nursi lit a torch of light and called out:

"Now is the time to save belief!"

Yes, save belief, a matter that could not be postponed even for a second.

Bediuzzaman passed twenty-eight years in prisons and exile, and despite the difficult conditions, taking a lamp in his hand, illuminated all Turkey through God's grace and munificence, and succeeded in leaving behind him a luminous school of thought.

The Author of the Risale-i Nur said :

"In the future, when the intellect, science and technology prevail, of a certainty, that will be the time the Qur'an will gain ascendancy, which relies on rational proofs and invites the intellect to confirm its pronouncement"

Bediuzzaman Said Nursi

THE RISALE-I NUR: A REVOLUTION OF BELIEF

As someone born and raised in Britain, I am often asked what we as Muslims have to offer to the West. But before I answer, I should like to ask a question myself: Are we Muslims because we believe in Allah, or do we believe in Allah because we are Muslims?

The question occurred to me during a march through the streets of London, over a decade ago, to protest against the Russian occupation of Afghanistan. I had made a formal conversion to Islam several years prior to this, and it wasn't my first demonstration. There were banners and placards and much shouting and chanting. And in between "Russians out," "Death to Breshnev," and "Muslims of Afghanistan rise up," we shouted our own Islamic slogans: Allahu akbar and La ilaha illa Allah.

Towards the end of the demonstration I was approached by a young man who introduced himself as someone interested in Islam. "Excuse me," he said, "but what is the meaning of La ilaha illa Allah?"

Without a moment's hesitation I answered, "There is no god but Allah."

"I'm not asking you to translate it," he said, "I'm asking you to tell me what it really means." There was a long awkward silence as it dawned on me that I was unable to answer him.

You are no doubt thinking, "What kind of Muslim is it that does not know the real meaning of La ilaha illa Allah? To this I would have to say: a typical one. That evening I pondered my ignorance; being in the majority didn't help, it simply made me more depressed.

So how did I become a Muslim? You've no doubt heard the anecdote about Nasreddin Hoja. A friend of his called on him one day and found Hoja sitting in front of a large basket of chillies. His eyes were red and swollen, blood dripped from his gums and tears from his eyes. Yet he carried on eating. Why are you torturing yourself, his friend asked. Because, said Nasreddin Hoja, biting into another pepper, I'm hoping one of them will be sweet.

I had been in the same position myself. No ideology or alternative life-style that I tried could satisfy the inner need for something more, something worth existing for, that elusive something that is always just around the corner but never seems to appear. Disenchanted with every aspect of my life, I left Britain and somehow drifted towards the Middle East. It was not a conscious choice. And it was there that I found the sweet chilli pepper.

Islam simply made sense, in a way that nothing else ever had. It had rules of government, it had an economic system, it had regulations covering every facet of day-to-day existence. It was egalitarian and addressed to all races, and it was clear and easy to understand. Oh, and it has a God, One God, in whom I had always vaguely believed. That was that. I said La ilaha illa Allah and I was part of the community. For the first time in my life I belonged.

New converts are invariably enthusiastic to know as much as possible about their religion in the shortest possible time. In the few years that followed, my library grew rapidly. There was so much to learn, and so many books ready to teach. Books on the history of Islam, the economic system of Islam, the concept of government in Islam; countless manuals of Islamic jurisprudence, and, best of all, books on Islam and revolution, on how Muslims were to rise up and establish Islamic governments, Islamic republics. When I returned to Britain in early 1979 to begin a University course, I was ready to introduce Islam to the West.

It was to these books that I turned for an answer to the question "What is the meaning of La ilaha illa Allah?" Again I was disappointed. The books were about Islam, not about Allah. They covered every subject you could possibly imagine except for the one which really mattered. I put the question to the imam at the University mosque. He made an excuse and left. Then a brother who had overheard my impertinent question to the imam came over and said: "I have a tafsir of La ilaha illa Allah. If you like we could read it together." I imagined that it would be ten or twenty pages at the most. It turned out to have over 5000 pages, in several books. It was, as I'm sure you're aware, the Risale-i Nur by Ustad Bediuzzaman Said Nursi.

Initially, I dismissed the Risale-i Nur as mysticism. My brother pointed out that this was the reaction of a closed mind. Without the intellectual crutches provided by my old books, I felt ignorant and lost. It was a completely new language, a totally new vision. My brother sensed my unease. He said: "Don't worry. The books you have read before all have their place. They are the skin. But this," he said, tapping a copy of The Supreme Sign, "this is the fruit." So we began to read, this time in the name of Allah, and slowly things began to fall into place.

Each of us is born in total ignorance; the desire to know ourselves and our world is an innate one. Thus "Who am I? Where did I come from? What is this place in which I find myself? What is my duty here? Who is responsible for bringing me into existence?"

“These are questions which each of us answers in his own way, either through direct observation or through blind acceptance of the answers suggested by others. And how one lives one’s life, the criterion by which one acts in this world, depends totally on the nature of those answers. The Supreme Sign is no less than a guided tour of the cosmos, and the traveller is one who is seeking answers to these questions.

The Supreme Sign does not presuppose belief in God; rather it travels from the created to the Creator. And it affirms that anyone who sincerely wishes to answer the questions, and who looks upon the created world as it is, and not as he wishes or imagines it to be, must inevitably come to the conclusion La ilaha illa Allah. For he will see order and harmony, beauty and equilibrium, justice and mercy, dominicality and munificence; and at the same time he will realise that those attributes are pointing not to the created beings themselves but to a Reality in which all of these attributes exist in perfection and absoluteness. He will see that the created world is thus a book of names, an index, which seek to tell about its Owner.

In Nature, Cause or Effect?, Bediuzzaman takes the interpretation of La ilaha illa Allah even further. The notion that he examines is that of causality, the cornerstone of materialism and the pillar upon which modern science has been constructed. Belief in causality gives rise to statements such as: It is natural; Nature created it; it happened by chance, and so on. With reasoned arguments, Bediuzzaman explodes the myth of causality and demonstrates that those who adhere to this belief are looking at the cosmos not as it actually is, or how it appears to be, but how they would like to think it is.

In Tabiat Risalesi [Nature, Cause or Effect?], Bediuzzaman demonstrates that all beings, on all levels, are interrelated, interconnected and interdependent, like concentric or intersecting circles. He shows that beings come into existence as though from nowhere, and, during their brief lives, each with its own particular purpose, goal and mission, act as mirrors in which various attributes, and countless configurations of names, are displayed. Their createdness, transience, impotence and contingency, their total dependence on factors other than themselves prove beyond doubt that they cannot be the owners of that which they appear to possess, let alone bestow attributes of perfection on beings that are similar to or greater than themselves.

The materialists, however, see things differently “they do not see different things. They ask us to believe that this cosmos, whose innate order and harmony they do not deny, is ultimately the work of chance. Of chaos and disorder, of sheer accident. They then ask us to believe that this cosmos is sustained by the mechanistic interplay of causes “ whatever they may be, and not even the materialists know for sure “ causes which are themselves created, impotent, ignorant, transient and purposeless, but which somehow contrive, through laws which appeared out of nowhere, to produce the orderly works of art of symphonies of harmony and equilibrium that we see and hear around us.

Like Abraham in the house of idols, Bediuzzaman destroys these myths and superstitions. Given that all things are interconnected, he reiterates, whatever it is that brings existence to the seed of a flower must also be responsible for the flower itself; and given their interdependence, whatever brings into existence the flower must also be responsible for the tree; and given the fact that they are interrelated, whatever brings into existence the tree must also be responsible for the forest, and so on. Thus to be able to create a single atom, one must also be able to create the whole cosmos. That is surely a tall order for a cause which is blind, impotent, transient, dependent and devoid of knowledge of our purpose.

More and more scientists are beginning to realize that the mechanistic theories of old are simply no longer sustainable. Faced with beauty, awesomeness, order, harmony, symmetry and purpose, attempts to explain away creation by evoking the idea of chance and causality are becoming increasingly untenable. Many are so outraged at the imminent collapse of their old gods that they lapse into hysteria:

One celebrated biologist " and biology is still the most rigidly mechanistic of disciplines " is on record as having said "Funnily, the more beauty and harmony I discover in the cosmos, the more convinced I become of its meaninglessness." The poor man seems not to have understood that if everything is meaningless, his own effect to that is equally so. Another famous " or should I say infamous " scientist, also a biologist, asserts that the existence of beings, and in particular the phenomenon of form, can in no way be attributed to the random motions of blind, unknowing and impotent causes. He is not alone in his thinking, but he is the first eminent Western biologist to state such beliefs openly. Interestingly enough, he likens the state of the Western scientific fraternity to Russia under Breshnev.

The mechanistic theory is the rigid, all-powerful orthodoxy to which all scientists " biologists in particular " must bow down if they are to retain their credibility " and their jobs. And so they are forced to live a fearful charade, shouting their loyalty in public but whispering their real thoughts in private. When the book in which he attacks causality was published, the magazine The New Scientist described it as a "candidate for burning." Since then, the author of this book has become an outcast, the Salman Rushdie of Western science.

Such widely differing opinions as to the viability of the causal hypothesis show that the attribution of creative power to Nature or natural laws is by no means the inevitable corollary of objective, scientific investigation. It is no more than a personal opinion. Similarly, denial of the Creator of the cosmos, who has placed apparent causes there as veils to cover His hand of power, is not an act of reason but an act of will. In short, causality is a crude and cunning device with which man distributes the property of the Creator among the created in order that he might set himself up as absolute owner and ruler of all that he has, and all that he is.

My aim was not to summarize the Risale-i Nur, but to show how far removed my previous conceptions about Allah were before reading this work. I thought that by saying La ilaha illa Allah, I had said all there was to be said about Allah. Thanks to the Risale-i Nur, I was now able to see that previously, God had been something that I had brought in to complete the occasion, an unknown factor placed almost arbitrarily at the beginning of creation to avoid the impossibility of infinite regression. He had been the "First Cause," the "Prime Mover," a veritable "God of the gaps." He had been rather a constitutional monarch of the English variety, who must be treated with the utmost respect but not allowed to interfere in the affairs of everyday life.

Inspired by the verse La ilaha illa Allah, the Risale-i Nur shows that the signs of God, these mirrors of His Names and attributes, are revealed to us constantly in new and ever-changing forms and configurations, eliciting acknowledgement, acceptance, submission, love and worship. The Risale-i Nur showed that there is a distinct process involved in becoming Muslim in the true sense of the word: contemplation to knowledge, knowledge to affirmation, affirmation to belief or conviction, and from conviction to submission. And since each new moment, each new day, sees the revelation of fresh aspects of Divine truth, this process is a continuous one. The external practices of Islam, the formal acts of worship, are thus in a sense static. Belief, however, is subject to increase or decrease, depending on the continuance of the process I have just mentioned. Thus it is the reality of belief that deserves most of our attention; from there the realities of Islam will follow on inevitably.

Thus I can say that I had been a Muslim but not a believer; that which I had assumed was belief was in reality nothing more than the inability to deny. Bediuzzaman was not responsible for introducing me to Islam " which anyone could have done " but for introducing me to belief. Belief through investigation, not through imitation.

Let's return now to the question: What do we, as Muslims, have to offer to the West. The answer is: everything and nothing. We have belief and Islam, which is everything; and we have our understanding and interpretation of Islam, which in most cases amounts nothing much at all.

As is evident from the books which introduced me to Islam, almost everything that has been written with the West in mind has been done more or less on the level of some benign cultural exchange. Almost invariably the central question of belief has been glossed over or ignored completely.

In the Qur'an, the word "Allah" appears more than 2500 times, the word "Islam" less than ten. In a good deal of modern Muslim writing, the ratio is roughly reversed. In the Qur'an, the ratio between iman and islam is 5:1 in favour of iman. In Arabic book titles until the end of the 19th century, islam slightly outnumbered iman in a ratio of 3:2. By the Sixties, this has jumped to 13:1, and today it is undoubtedly higher. Inevitably, then, the approach to the West has centred on Islam as a system, as an alternative "ideology", presented almost totally without reference to the realities of belief.

Another reason why our approach to the West has made little headway is that we have misunderstood the West. The West is not only a geopolitical entity, it is also a metaphor. Geographically, the West was the first place to witness a mass revolt against the Divine. Modern Western civilization is the first of which we have knowledge that does not have some formal structure of religious belief at its heart. The West is thus a metaphor for the setting of the sun of religious belief; a metaphor for the eclipse of God. And since this eclipse is no longer confined to the geopolitical West, one may say that wherever the truths of belief have been discarded, there is the West. Thus the West should be seen as a state of mind, a disease, an aberration. The root cause of this, as Bediuzzaman Said Nursi points out, is the disease of self-worship, of "ENE" (Ana, the "I" or ego).

From the beginning of the Renaissance, man in the West has been his own point of reference, the centre of his own universe, the sole criterion by which he lives out his pathetic life. He has stolen the clothes of the Divine Names and has dressed himself in them and paraded as God. The problem is that they do not fit, and cannot fit.

Unwilling to accept that his duty is merely to reflect the Divine attributes in the name of the Creator and according to His Will, he claims them as his own property and spends a lifetime trying to add to his imaginary possessions. Seeking the infinite from the finite drags him into a fierce and often murderous competition with his fellow beings. Man's endless desires are heightened by the fact that he is limited, impotent and dependent, and bound one day to give up all that he imagined was his and face annihilation. His limitations and deficiencies, which should serve to remind him of his absolute dependence and impotence, he contrives to conceal. Western man flees from ill thoughts of his ultimate destiny, smothers his innate ability to know and love the Creator, to recognize that man is nothing and can have nothing of his own.

The secular, self-absorbed society of the West is designed on all levels to blind and stupefy. To mask the fact that the religion of the self has failed to live up to its promises; that the secular trinity of "unlimited progress, absolute freedom and unrestricted happiness" is as meaningless as the Christian Trinity discarded centuries ago. To cover up the fact that economic and scientific progress which has secular humanism as its underlying ethos, has turned the West into a spiritual wasteland and ravaged generation after generation. Yet there are those who are beginning to awake, to realize the illusion under which they have been living. It is to these that the disease of ENE must be pointed out. It is no use telling one who is afflicted with this disease that the Islamic economic or judicial system is the most egalitarian or most just. You cannot cure a man suffering from cancer by giving him a new coat. What is needed is a correct diagnosis, radical surgery and constant back-up treatment. The Risale-i Nur provides all of these.

You will recall that I dismissed the Risale-i Nur initially as mysticism, and I have also heard others describe it thus. The truth is otherwise, for there is nothing esoteric about the stark choice Said Nursi puts before us: belief or unbelief, eternal felicity or eternal wretchedness, salvation or perdition, heaven or hell " in this world and the next.

I have also heard the Risale-i Nur described as revolutionary, and with this I agree. But I am not talking about revolution in the political sense of the word. There is no mention of this in the Risale-i Nur, although I am sure that had Bediuzzaman advocated the violent overthrow of all secular governments, the Risale-i Nur would be required reading in every Western university, and Bediuzzaman would be a household name in the West.

After all, the West has a soft spot for extremism, especially when flavoured with religion. What can be better, more beautiful, more delicious in the eyes of the Western media than the sight of thousands of angry Muslims in some far-off, violent city screaming "Death to America!" and demanding revolution and the re-introduction of the Shari'a? The West no longer has to go to the trouble of misrepresenting Islam: we do it for them, and they simply film it for their own consumption. I remember watching such a demonstration over a decade ago, in a place where America is known as the great Satan. What struck me at the time was the fact that maybe 70% of the crowd were dressed in Levis, and that every cigarette smoked as the demonstration dispersed was either a Marlborough or a Winston. As one hand cuts " or claims to cut " the ties that bind us to the West, the other hand fastens them even tighter.

Yet still we claim that it is time for action, that we have spoken enough. I've actually heard this said in reference to the Risale-i Nur. It is all talk, someone said, and no action. But we have not talked, we have merely moaned and wailed. And because we have not talked, not conversed, brother to brother, believer to believer, Muslim to Muslim, in the name of Allah, in the language of the Qur'an and in the language of the book of creation, then when we act we set incorrectly, without authority, without discipline, without a true criterion and frame of reference. And ultimately without any lasting result. The West understands this perfectly.

No, the kind of revolution clamoured for on the streets of Tehran, Cairo or Algiers is not the kind of revolution that Bediuzzaman advocates. The kind of revolution envisaged by the Risale-i Nur is a revolution of the mind, of the heart, of the soul and the spirit. It is not an Islamic revolution but a revolution of belief. As such it works on two levels: it is designed to lead Muslims from belief by imitation to belief through investigation, and to lead unbelievers from worship of the self to worship of Allah. And that is why, in the eyes of those who control the West, a work such as the Risale-i Nur is deadly.

Finally, I would say this: After many years of searching and comparing, I can say that the Risale-i Nur is the only self-contained, comprehensive Islamic work that sees the cosmos as it actually is, presents the reality of belief as it truly is, interprets the Qur'an as our Prophet intended, diagnoses the real and very dangerous diseases that afflict modern man, and offers a cure. A work such as the Risale-i Nur, which reflects the light of the Qur'an and illuminates the cosmos, cannot be ignored. For only Islam stands between modern man and catastrophe, and I believe that the future of Islam depends on the Risale-i Nur and on those who follow and are inspired by its teachings.

Ok Brothers I will prepare a detailed essay later on the subject of A.Hitler and the satanic Racist Lodges of Prussian Freemasonry aka Thule Society and the likes , directly connected to the American illuminati and the english SRIA (Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia) illuminati creators of the Golden Dawn Nazi Network trough the real founders of Nazism like Rudolf Glandeck von Sebottendorff (1875/11/09 - 1945/05/09). The son of a Silesian railway engineer, Sebottendorff was born Adam Alfred Rudolf Glauer. He travelled to Turkey in 1900, where he was adopted by Baron Heinrich von Sebottendorff in 1909 and became a Brother of the Imperial Order of Constantinopolis. Rudolph was the Licio Gelli of his time,the real puppet Master of Adolf Hitler !

And I can garanty you dear friends we have so much prove and clear evidence on Hitler satanic activity and Zionist/illuminati support to him that we can actualy write several books on the subject and it will still not be enough.Remember what Anton La Vey said about the ideal Demon being a Demon Jew , well Hitler a Jew is the real founder of the Israeli Nation thats what you learn when you are in MOSSAD!

What you seem to not understand Brothers is the internal conflicts and inner workings within the different schools of Freemasonry who apparently supported Hitler (Prussian anti-Jewish Freemasonry) and the pro Zionist Jewish friendly United Grand Lodge of England Network who apparently didnt or dear A.Hitler. It semms like the usual game of opposites in the usual masonic theatre, in the hands of the usual suspects unfortunately... illarious and people still fall for it in 2006 e.v. due to the usual piloted ignorance.

I say apparently because Prussian Freemasonry was actualy the first victim of their own connections with the Jesuit illuminati and their evil plans at the end of the war , and the UGLE related Grand lodges got also persecuted as we all know by the Nazi's to make the show more credible in front of the mass of sheep in masonic ranks bellow who still believe the contrary after 60 years (poor idiots and their FORGET ME NOT pin...) The Vatican already had a secret deal with the Zionist even before the war started for the creation of the State of Israel and the sacrifice of millions of innocent Jews.The only one to rebel to this plan was actualy Rudolph Hess at one point but we all know what happened to him.

The result was that after the American illuminati occupation took place all masonic Grand Lodges in Germany were officially put under the firm control of the USA Vatican israeli INTELLIGENCE and all rebel lodges will be declared subversive to the western alliance. This meant actually the end of FREE Masonry in Germany and the beginning of a illuminati/Jesuit/Zionist Masonic dictatorship to this day in Germany, as we have also proven with our research elsewhere on my site with Jesuit Father Seboth in full control.

Heil Ratzinger,
Heil Bush,
Heil Sharon!

All satanist united in the united Grand Lodges of Germany these days, and the Ordo Templi Orientis Caliphate of A.Crowley as even moved their HQ's from Texas to Berlin with Vatican friend William Breeze in charge and full Vatican support. And in Switzerland the T.Reuss OTO/ILLUMINATI ORDER of Metzger still goes on very well and celebrates every week a satanic Mass in Stein in memory of A.Crowley with many bankers from "regular high degree freemasonry" worshipping in secret the devil. This happens In Stein a place our dear Brother and friend Martin knows very well, and you can also find the only museum completely dedicated to the illuminati Order of A. Weishaupt in Stein , just go search and you will eventually find it.

And to make things a bit more spicy to everyone out there why dont you go and check the OTO PHENOMENON WEB SITE directed and controlled by another Jewish Satanist Vatican slave called Peter R. Koenig who is working in direct contact with Vatican HQ'S and the Jesuits , trough Bro.Massimo Introvigne of CESNUR.

Brother Peter R.Koenig based in Switzerlan is a very dangerous example of this Vatican/Zionist manipulation, just check is site and remember he is a High degree member of the satanic illuminati.

Massimo introvigne is regularly involved in satanic Masses with the Jesuit General under the Vatican with his secretary Pierluigi Zoccatelli . Pierluigi his a very interesting figure you should all investigate , he went from being a Crowley supporter to become the present leader of Vatican organization ALLEANZA CATTOLICA and the Nazi/Fascist circle within Alleanza Nazionale known as CIRCOLO CARLO MAGNO.

Another Nazi satanist of the Vatican is the present leader of the Comunione and Liberazione Organization who used to be the italian representative of famous satanist Genesis P.Orridge and Thee Temple of Psychick Youth (<http://www.topy.net/>) directly linked to the Church of Satan past leader Anton LaVey (originally LEVI a JEW!).

The Swiss ILUMINATI/ OTO of Stein was built my Nazi Eugenist Brother Metzger secretly working for his spiritual father, the B'nai Brith supreme Zionist manipulator Frater Lazarus Pinkus of the illuminati...so are you still so sure of your convictions dear friends?

Know the truth out there because only the truth can set you free from the Satan. Rome and Jerusalem are in it togheter to establish the Satanic New World Order and Hitler was just their evil Teutonic puppet to eventually achieve this aim 60 years later. full-stop.

Io sono a Torino ora. Scendo a Nizza nella giornata di Mercoledì ma pensavo di arrivare verso le 16 o le 17.
Comunque vedo se posso anticipare ed essere in centro Nizza alle 15.45.
Potremmo allora vederci lunedì e mi farebbe piacere. Telefono ad Ezio..

Brother Marco Paret is part of the Priory of Sion with Jean Pierre Giudicelli , but he his also a Freemasons of the Grande Oriente D'Italia close to Francesco Murgia and Ezio Giunchiglia , and recently he has joined the Monte Carlo Illuminati LODGE , for the final hours of this oppulent civilization of matter as a young expert of the PSYOP division (a brainwasher).

â€˜Large and handsome ...

a generous gathering of Gysinâ€™s own photographs, sketches, notebooks and paintingsâ€

â€˜ The Independent on Sunday

Painter, writer, sound poet, lyricist, performance artist â€˜

Brion Gysin (1916â€˜86) first came to prominence in the 1950s in the heady atmosphere of the so-called Beat Hotel in Paris. His enormous range of radical ideas would become a source of inspiration for artists of the Beat Generation, as well as for their successors (among them David Bowie, Mick Jagger, Keith Haring and Laurie Anderson and other notorious SATANIST).

As a painter Gysin is remembered for his evocative views of the Sahara and for his unprecedented calligraphic abstractions inspired by Japanese and Arabic script. His later discovery of the potential of a paint-roller to produce a limitless ready-made grid provided the basis for the unique â€˜roller poemsâ€™ of the 1970s, a concept extended to the use of 35mm film to produce photographic sequences showing the construction of the Centre Pompidou (Beaubourg) in Paris.

Gysinâ€™s chance observation of random combinations of words led to the development of the cut-up technique by his friend and illuminati agent William S. Burroughs, with whom he would collaborate most notably in producing The Third Mind (1978). Gysinâ€™s inventive ideas also extended to permuted poems and to the development in 1961 of the Dreamachine â€˜ the first art object to be seen with the eyes closedâ€™ â€˜ capable of producing a change of consciousness in the viewer, as well as to light shows and stage performances in collaboration with leading musicians such as Steve Lacy and Ramuntcho Matta.

The sheer variety of visual material illustrated in this first comprehensive study of Gysinâ€™s life and work reveals him as a remarkable artist working for the corrupt illuminati establishment.

Robert Anton Wilson

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Robert Anton Wilson or RAW (b. January 18, 1932) is an American novelist, essayist, philosopher, psychologist, futurologist, anarchist, and conspiracy theory researcher.

"NOTE THIS IS AN EVIL BLACK MAGICIAN CONNECTED WITH THE ILLUMINATI ELITE BUT NOW THEY SAY HE HIS SICK AND POOR..."

"MAYBE HE IS SICK RIGHT NOW AND LEFT ALONE BECAUSE HE MINGLED TO MUCH WITH THE DEVIL..."

"POOR ROBERT..."

Leo/Khaled

His best-known work, The Illuminatus! Trilogy (1975), co-authored with Robert Shea and advertised as "a fairy tale for paranoids," humorously examined American paranoia about conspiracies. Much of the odder material derived from letters sent to Playboy magazine while Shea and Wilson worked as editors of the Playboy Forum.^[1] The books mixed true information with imaginative fiction to engage the reader in what Wilson called "Operation Mindfuck"; the trilogy also outlined a set of libertarian and anarchist axioms known as Celine's Laws, concepts Wilson has revisited several times in other writings. Although Shea and Wilson never partnered on such a scale again, Wilson has continued to expand upon the themes of the Illuminatus! books throughout his writing career. In Cosmic Trigger I: Final Secret of the Illuminati (1977) and other works, he examined Discordianism, Sufism, Futurology, Zen Buddhism, Dennis and Terence McKenna, the occult practices of Aleister Crowley and G.I. Gurdjieff, the Illuminati and Freemasons, Yoga, and other esoteric or counterculture philosophies. He advocates Timothy Leary's eight circuit model of consciousness and neurosomatic/linguistic engineering, which he writes about in Prometheus Rising (1983, revised 1997) and Quantum Psychology (1990), books containing practical techniques for breaking free of one's "reality tunnels".^[citation needed] With Leary, he helped promote the futurist ideas of space migration, intelligence increase, and life extension (SMI2LE).

Wilson also supports many of the utopian theories of Buckminster Fuller, as well as those of media theorist Marshall McLuhan and Neuro Linguistic Programming co-founder Richard Bandler, with whom he has taught workshops. He also admires James Joyce, and has written commentary on Finnegans Wake and Ulysses.^[citation needed]

Ironically, considering Wilson has long lampooned and criticized new age beliefs, his books can often be found in bookstores specializing in new age material. He has claimed to have perceived encounters with magical "entities," and when asked whether these entities were "real," he answered they were "real enough," although "not as real as the IRS" since they were "easier to get rid of." He warned against beginners using occult practice, since to rush into such practices and the resulting "energies" they unleash can lead people to go "quite nuts." Instead, he recommends beginners start with NLP, Zen Buddhism, basic meditation, etc., before progressing to more potentially disturbing activities.^[citation needed]

Wilson had a long-standing relationship with the Association for Consciousness Exploration, beginning in 1982. He was the keynote speaker for their center's open house in 1984, and appeared at many Starwood Festivals^[5]. Both Illuminatus! co-author Robert Shea^[6]^[7] and Wilson's wife Arlen Riley Wilson^[8] have appeared with him at the WinterStar Symposium. They served as his American lecture agency while he lived in Ireland, and hosted his first on-stage dialog with his life-long friend Timothy Leary in 1989 in Cleveland, OH, entitled The Inner Frontier.

In a 2003 interview with High Times magazine, RAW described himself as a "Model Agnostic" which he says "consists of never regarding any model or map of the universe with total 100% belief or total 100% denial. Following Korzybski, I put things in probabilities, not absolutes... My only originality lies in applying this zetetic attitude outside the hardest of the hard sciences, physics, to softer sciences and then to non-sciences like politics, ideology, jury verdicts and, of course, conspiracy theory."^[2] More simply, he claims "not to believe anything," since "belief is the death of thought."^[citation needed] He has described his approach as "Maybe Logic." Wilson wrote articles for seminal cyberpunk magazine Mondo 2000.^[3]

While he has primarily published material under the name Robert Anton Wilson, he has also used the pen names Mordecai Malignatus, Mordecai the Foul, Reverend Loveshade [citation needed], and other names associated with the Bavarian Illuminati, which he allegedly revived in the 1960s.

RAW holds the post of American director of the Committee for Surrealist Investigation of Claims of the Normal (CSICON) and has appeared at Disinformation events.[citation needed] He has summed up his attitude towards life as one of optimism, cheerfulness, love, and good humor.

Maybe Logic: The Lives and Loves of Robert Anton Wilson, a documentary featuring selections from over twenty-five years of Wilson footage, was released on DVD in North America on May 30, 2006.[4]

Wilson's writings connect to the madcap satirical fiction of Flann O'Brien in a several ways, including his free use of O'Brien's character De Selby. The views of De Selby, a would-be obscure intellectual, are the subject of long pseudo-scholarly footnotes in Wilson's novels as well as O'Brien's. This is entirely fitting, because O'Brien himself made free use of characters invented by other writers, allegedly because there are already too many fictional characters as is. O'Brien was also known for pulling the reader's leg by concocting elaborate conspiracy theories, and for publishing under several pen names. [citation needed]

PROPAGANDA MEDIA (read and learn for your own freedom and safety)

PROPAGANDA MEDIA

"Propaganda Media" is based upon "Psychological Operations Field Manual No.33-1" published in August 1979 by Department of the Army Headquarters in Washington DC; and "Psychological Operations (PSYOP) Media Subcourse PO-0816" by The Army Institute for Professional Development, published in 1983

PROPAGANDA MEDIA WAS KINDLY SENT TO US BY OUR ITALIAN FRIEND MARCO SABA

Propaganda Media are categorized by methods of dissemination: face-to-face (interpersonal), audiovisual, audio, and visual.

Face-to-face (interpersonal) communication is the most effective means of transmitting a persuasive message. It is employed in rallies, rumor campaigns, group discussions, lectures, show-and-tell demonstrations, social organizations, social activities, entertainment, and individual person-to-person contact, all providing a participating experience for the individual or group to recall later.

Audiovisual media such as television, electronic tape recordings, and sound motion pictures are the second most effective means of communication available to the psychological operator. Effectiveness is based on seeing and hearing the persuasive message. These media are an excellent means of transmitting persuasive messages and eliciting a high degree of recall.

Audio media (loudspeakers and radio) lend themselves to the transmission of brief, simple messages and to personalization by use of the human voice. They require little or no effort by the audience, and generally, they have more appeal than visual media. Also, the barrier of illiteracy may be more easily overcome with audio media than with visual media (printed material).

Visual media can transmit long, complex material. Animated or still cartoons may be used to convey themes to illiterate and preliterate target audiences. Visual media generally have the least amount of popular appeal.

Themes are reinforced and the target audience given broad coverage by using several media to deliver the same basic message. For example, radio and television can augment leaflets; face-to-face communication can support newspaper circulation.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTION OF MEDIA

Acceptability and credibility. A complete target analysis will indicate how acceptable and credible a particular medium is to the target audience.

Availability. The availability of media, the mechanical capability of message production, and the capability to deliver the message, as well as the ability of the audience to receive and understand it are important.

Timeliness. Production and dissemination lag for each medium must be considered. For example, a medium requiring a long production or dissemination time would not be suitable for a message exploiting a target of opportunity.

Quantity. The media selected should be mixed, one medium reinforcing the other, and delivered in sufficient volume to insure that the entire target is exposed to the message. Care, however, is required to prevent counterproductive over saturation of the target audience. This requires analysis of intensity and timing of propaganda dissemination.

Themes. The theme to be conveyed will have a bearing on the selection of the best media to transmit the message.

Suitability. The media selected must be suitable for the target. The language selected, vocabulary, and level are also important factors. For example, it would not be appropriate to use newspapers or other printed text to deliver a message to an illiterate audience. A professional journal might be the most suitable means of reaching a professional audience.

CATALOGING

Propaganda units should prepare catalogs of media material which applies to recurring themes and general audiences. These catalogs should include printed material, loudspeaker and videotapes, motion picture films, and specialty items available for psychological operations.

FACE-TO-FACE COMMUNICATION

Face-to-face communication ranges from two or more individuals in informal conversation to planned persuasion among groups. The credibility of the PSYOP messages delivered by face-to-face (interpersonal) communication is increased when the communicator is known and respected.

ADVANTAGES

Relationship. It employs an interpersonal relationship.

Audience selection. The audience can be deliberately selected and the appeal directed and tailored for it.

Assessment of impact. Feedback is immediate. The communicator can immediately assess the impact of his message and adjust his approach to obtain the desired response.

Limited support required. Limited technical and logistical support are required.

More credible. It can be more credible than other methods because the target audience can evaluate the source.

Presentation. Complex material can be presented in detail. Frequent repetition and slight variations can be readily used to influence the audience.

Expeditious. In some instances, particularly in primitive areas, it may be the most expeditious method of disseminating propaganda.

DISADVANTAGES

Limited use in tactical situations. Use is limited in general war due to the inaccessibility of the target individual or group. It has limited use in tactical combat since the psychological operator has little face-to-face communication with opposing forces until they are captured or defect.

Close control necessary. It must be controlled, especially at the lowest levels where each communicator has the responsibility to interpret policy and objectives. The control factor is best illustrated by trying to pass an oral message, one person at a time, throughout a group. By the time the message reaches the end of the group, it does not resemble the original message. Reinforcement by other media is necessary to eliminate this problem.

Limited by insecure areas. Security considerations limit the conduct of face-to-face communications. As the security situation improves and more areas are secure, area coverage can be extended.

Requires able communicators. It requires knowledgeable, orally persuasive individuals who can convince the target audience that the program and policies are irresistible and inevitable.

Normally require indigenous personnel. For effective communications, indigenous personnel are normally required.

Range of voice limited. The range of the human voice and the need for visual contact limit this method to relatively small audiences.

TELEVISION

Television, including video tape recording (VTR), is one of the most effective media for persuasion. It offers many advantages for propaganda operations, and its wide application in other fields contributes to its acceptance and use. It is appropriate for use in limited, general, and cold war and is particularly effective in FID (Foreign Internal Defense) and consolidation operations.

In places where television is not a common communication medium, receivers may be distributed to public facilities and selected individuals. A possible limitation in enemy countries, however, is that television receivers may be set to allow reception on only one or two channels under government control.

Television is an all encompassing-mass communication medium. Like radio, it makes use of the sense of hearing to convey an idea. Like printed material, it makes use of the sense of sight, adding the element of motion. And like the motion picture, it combines sight, sound, and motion. Television is immediate; in effect, it places the viewer in two locations simultaneously, creating the illusion of participating in a distant event.

ADVANTAGES

Speed. Television programs can reach large segments of the target audience rapidly. The transmission of events can be instantaneous.

Overcomes illiteracy. Illiteracy is not a barrier; an audience need not be able to read.

Unifies. Television brings people in widely separate locations closer together by exposing them visually to the same ideas and concepts.

Aural-visual. Television appeals to two senses, each reinforcing the other. This gives the viewer a sense of involvement.

DISADVANTAGES

Range. Geography and atmospheric conditions affect the strength and range of the signal. The signal may, however, be boosted with relay stations, airborne transmitters, or satellite relay to increase the transmission range. Airborne antenna relay domes extend the range of a central transmitter but at great expense.

Reception. Television sets are unevenly distributed throughout the world. Messages disseminated by television will normally be received only by those within an above-average income range and economic class in many areas of the world, particularly in developing nations. In some developing nations, however, group listening/viewing centers may be available, negating the link between income and access to television. The association should be carefully determined for each target country. The fact that receivers in the target area may not be compatible with the transmission equipment is another disadvantage.

Power. Most television receivers require an outside source of electric power. Many areas of the world lack this power. The introduction of self-contained power packs partially eliminates this problem. If broadcasts are to be made from areas lacking power facilities, special generators and a fuel supply may be needed.

Vulnerability. Equipment and parts are fragile and extremely vulnerable to damage. Stations are easily identified and make excellent targets. Receivers are difficult to hide.

Program requirements. A substantial production staff and supporting equipment are required to produce daily programs. Each day's operation requires a large amount of film, video tape, and live programming to sustain a program schedule.

Maintenance. Maintenance is highly technical, requiring trained and skilled technicians and engineers; such people are difficult to find.

Personnel. Television is a complicated communication medium, demanding specialized personnel with a wide range of scarce skills.

Audience accessibility. Although TV is excellent in friendly or neutral areas, it will not reach audiences in hostile areas unless a means is found to enter sets in these areas.

Incompatibility of receivers, extreme distortions caused by two transmitters on the same wavelength, jamming, and censorship limit the use of TV broadcasts to hostile areas.

Community viewing provides an opportunity to present TV programs which help the people identify with the sponsor (generally the established regime). If it is necessary to provide receivers, one technique is to place them initially in urban centers, extending them to rural areas as equipment and power become available; or vehicles equipped with power generators and TV sets may be moved into and out of areas as required.

VIDEO TAPE

Video tape, an offshoot of television, is an excellent means of recording and projecting messages. It can replay a scene from the camera immediately after it is recorded. The tape can be used in either portable or studio recording systems, being processed electronically as it moves through the video tape recorder.

Although most commercial tape is 5 centimeters (2 inches) wide, the US Army primarily uses 1.875-centimeter (3/4-inch) cassette tape. The scenes from each size tape can be readily dubbed on to the other.

ADVANTAGES

The results of the "take" can be seen immediately; if editing is necessary prior to release to the audience, it can be done electronically as the material is being produced. There is no time lag as with film which requires chemical processing.

The tape can be reused a number of times, erasing itself as it is run through the recorder, or it can be quickly erased on equipment made for that purpose and then reused.

Video tape is virtually indestructible and can be used in almost any environment in which humans live.

The tape can be placed on readily available video cassette players which feed directly into commercial television receivers. With special equipment, video-taped scenes can be projected onto large motion picture viewing screens. The requirement for special projection equipment is not unique, as special equipment is also required to project filmed scenes on television screens.

Video tape can instantaneously project scenes in black and white or color, with natural or dubbed sound, on open (public) or closed (limited audience) circuits.

With the use of video tape, scenes may be recorded for a permanent record or for future use.

DISADVANTAGES

The disadvantages of video tape are those inherent in the television medium.

MOTION PICTURES

Motion pictures combine many aspects of face-to-face communication and television by creating a visual and aural impact on the target audience. Since US Army PSYOP units are not able to produce motion pictures, appropriate films may be selected from available sources; effects on the target audience must be carefully considered.

Four general types of motion pictures are adaptable for psychological operations: Entertainment. These are standard commercial productions, including animated cartoons. Entertainment films developed specifically for propaganda purposes can be very effective as the themes may be woven into the plot of the movie. These films can be very effective in gaining attention for other propaganda.

Newsreels. In the developing nations, newsreels are still a major attraction. They are on the scene and show exactly what is happening or, with good editing, give that impression. By careful, skilled editing and arrangement of sequence, news events can be used as propaganda.

Documentary. This type of film—ostensibly an objective presentation of a scene, place, condition of life, or a social or political problem—is a prime means of propagandizing a target audience. This is done by careful selection and sequencing of scenes and events.

Training films. Themes can be hidden in the presentation. A number of US Government-produced films are available for use by the military psychological operator. They must, however, be selected with care, as many exploit particular situations and viewpoints in a biased manner.

ADVANTAGES

Themes and objectives may be dramatized to create realism. The dramatic quality tends to cause the viewer to identify with the characters being portrayed. Thus, skillful application of production and editing techniques, such as having a central character act the behavioral patterns desired, can be very effective. The tendency to identify with the actors aids in developing a high degree of audience involvement in the propaganda appeal.

Motion pictures gain attention, especially among illiterate groups, as illiteracy is not a barrier to understanding and use.

Most children and a high percentage of adults accept without question presumably factual information presented in films.

Sight, sound, and color reinforced by moving images elicit a high degree of interest and recall.

The motion picture is a universal communications medium, combining audiovisual features, mass distribution, and ease of presentation.

Complicated events or complex ideas can be thoroughly explained. Cartoons and other special effects can be particularly effective.

Scenes can be rehearsed and perfected prior to filming.

Newsreels that show events known to the target audience enhance the credibility of the entire PSYOP program.

Motion pictures can be rerun.

DISADVANTAGES

The production of high-quality motion pictures is extremely expensive and requires skilled technical production personnel.

Relatively lengthy motion picture production time makes it difficult to capitalize on targets of opportunity.

Films are rapidly outdated by events, clothing, vehicles, equipment, location, or dialogue.

Viewing by target audiences may be restricted because of security considerations, local regulations, or equipment capabilities.

Diverse language differences are a major problem; these can, however, be partially overcome by use of subtitles.

Projection equipment requires electric power which may not always be available.

Film is fragile and extremely susceptible to changes in temperature and other climatic conditions.

LOUDSPEAKERS

Microphones and sound amplifying equipment transmit messages up to a distance of 800 meters. In a civilian setting loudspeakers are used to communicate with assembled groups and in localized street broadcasting. They effectively extend the range of face-to-face communications.

Loudspeakers are the most responsive medium that can be used to support tactical operations. Unsophisticated loudspeaker messages can be developed on the spot and delivered live in fast-moving situations. Propaganda loudspeaker broadcasts are usually prerecorded to insure accuracy. Occasionally, standard tapes are developed, mass produced, and distributed from the theater or national level.

ADVANTAGES

Targets of opportunity can be exploited.

Persuasive messages can be transmitted to the target as the situation changes.

Loudspeakers can be an extension of face-to-face communication.

The operator can pinpoint his target.

The target audience can be illiterate.

The loudspeaker can be used to undermine enemy morale.

Operators can be easily and readily trained.

PSYOP personnel can move to and operate anywhere a potential target audience is located.

Large, powerful, fixed loudspeakers can broadcast messages considerable distances into enemy territory.

Loudspeakers may be mounted on either wheeled or tracked vehicles.

Loudspeaker systems can be mounted in either fixed or rotary-wing aircraft. This broadens the areas accessible for loudspeaker operations. Since both types of aircraft must operate at low altitudes for the message to be understood on the ground, the sophistication and intensity of the enemy air defense are prime considerations.

Small portable loudspeaker systems may be backpacked by dismounted troops.

DISADVANTAGES

Range is limited by humidity, wind, precipitation, vegetation, terrain, and manmade structures.

The enemy can readily take countermeasures; i.e., concentrate artillery or other weapons on loudspeaker personnel and equipment.

Messages may be forgotten and distorted with the passage of time.

PLANNING AND COORDINATION

Loudspeaker operations are conducted in coordination with and in support of tactical operations. The loudspeaker team leader must advise the commander of the supported unit as to the support the team can give. The team can then obtain essential operational information and coordinate security with the leader of the tactical unit.

For maximum results, loudspeaker messages in support of tactical operations must have shock effect. A tactical broadcast should be no longer than a few seconds, as prolonged broadcasting from a fixed position will draw indirect enemy fire. The message should be carefully prepared, so that each sentence constitutes a single, complete thought that will not be misunderstood. The key sentence should be short and repeated for emphasis. The size of the target area, the character and loudness of competing sounds, the terrain, and climatic conditions (humidity, wind, temperature, etc.) affect reception of loudspeaker messages. Sound travels better at night in low temperature and humidity. In hilly or mountainous terrain, echoes may interfere with clear reception. Jungle and heavily vegetated areas absorb sound. Sounds projected over water or low-lying coastal plains travel great distances.

The announcer, generally indigenous to the operational area, must have idiomatic language fluency. Defectors may be used. They will know the current slang, topics of interest, and the problems of the enemy soldier. Their messages, however, must always be prerecorded and checked prior to being broadcast. The announcer must have an intimate and detailed knowledge of the customs, folklore, and speech habits of the audience.

The ability to adapt script and presentation to the changing situation.

A vigorous, unemotional delivery.

An understanding of the military situation and its implications.

Broadcasting messages from aircraft is an effective way to reach an otherwise inaccessible audience. Some general considerations are:

The PSYOP unit is responsible for the pre-mission briefing of the air crew. This briefing covers target location, current intelligence, total time required over the target, the length of the message, and the number of repetitions desired.

The loudspeaker message should be no longer than 20 seconds so that the entire message is audible to the audience.

Rotary-wing aircraft use banks of speakers mounted either internally or externally on the aircraft. The most effective altitude for a hovering rotary-wing aircraft is between 900 and 1,200 meters (3,000 and 4,000 feet) above ground level (AGL). The banking or orbiting course is effective at altitudes from 600 to 900 meters (2,000-3,000 feet) AGL. The presence and capabilities of enemy ground fire will determine whether to use these patterns or whether to use aerial loudspeakers at all.

The US Air Force has primary responsibility for aerial loudspeaker operations from fixed-wing aircraft.

An adapter system has been developed that permits the connection of the airborne loudspeaker system with the intercommunications and radio system of the aircraft. This allows a signal received by the aircraft from a ground radio transmitter to be rebroadcast to the target audience. The use of this system permits a language-qualified speaker in a central location to support widely dispersed ground elements. The device can be connected to a tape recorder to record the message for future use.

RADIO

Radio broadcasts can be transmitted to local audiences, or across national boundaries, and behind enemy lines. Political boundaries or tactical situations may hinder radio broadcasts, but they are not complete barriers. Since radio can reach mass target audiences quickly, it is useful for all types of psychological operations. Where radio stations are not common and receivers rare or nonexistent, receivers may be airdropped or otherwise distributed to key communicators, public installations, and selected individuals. Public listener systems may also be set up.

ADVANTAGES

Speed. Radio programs can be quickly prepared for broadcast. This is important when attempting to capitalize on targets of opportunity.

Wide coverage. Radio programs can reach members of large and varied audiences simultaneously.

Ease of perception. It requires little or no effort to visualize the radio message. Illiteracy does not prevent the listener from forming his individual image as he listens.

Versatility. Radio is easily adaptable to drama, music, news, and other types of programs.

Emotional power. A skilled radio announcer can exert tremendous influence on the listener simply with pitch, resonance, inflection, or timing.

Availability of receivers. Where availability or ownership of receivers is common, listening to radio is a habit. Ownership of receivers has increased greatly with the invention of transistors.

DISADVANTAGES

Enemy restrictions. The target group may be subjected to severe censorship, thereby reducing the effectiveness of radio broadcasts. Some countries have only single channel radios with the frequency set to the government-owned station. In some areas central receivers are connected to household receivers to control listening.

Jamming. Jamming may prevent the target group from receiving radio broadcasts.

Technical. Signal may be made inaudible or distorted by fading or static due to unfavorable atmospheric conditions.

Lack of receivers. In certain areas, so few receivers are available that radio may not be an effective medium.

Fleeting impressions. Oral media do not have the permanency of written media.

Messages may be quickly forgotten or distorted.

PROGRAMMING

Radio programming consists of planning the schedule, content, and production of programs during a stated period. Words, music, and sound effects are put together in various ways to produce the different kinds of programs. Some of the major types of radio programs are:

Straight news reports (without commentary).

Musical (popular, folk, classical).

Drama.

Speeches, talks, discussions.

Sports.

Interviews.

Special events; i.e., on-the-spot coverage of an election or the arrival of an important visitor, etc.

Religious.

Variety, a combination including music, skits, comedy, vaudeville, etc.

Announcements.

PRINCIPLES

Regularity. Regularity is an essential element of programming. The radio programmer must create habitual program patterns in order to build a regular audience. Content, style, and format should follow an established pattern.

Repetition. Repetition is necessary for oral learning; therefore, key themes, phrases, or slogans should be repeated.

Suitability. The radio program must suit the taste and needs of the audience. Program style and format should follow the patterns to which the audience is accustomed.

Exploitation of censorship. Discussion or presentation of banned books, plays, music, and political topics is readily received by the audience. The same is true for news withheld by censors. In breaking censorship, the psychological operator must be certain that the reason for censoring the items was political and not moral.

Voice. Having announcers with attractive voice features is essential to successful radio operations.

The emotional tone conveyed by the voice may influence the listener more than the logic of arguments.

Announcers whose accents are similar to those of unpopular groups should not be used.

Female voices are used to exploit nostalgia, sex frustration, or to attract female audiences. However, in some parts of the world, due to the status of women, female voices are resented.

CLASSIFICATION

Programs are classified according to content, intent, and origin:

Content. The most common and useful radio program classification is by content. News reporting, commentaries, announcements, educational or informative documentaries, music, interviews, discussions, religious programs, drama, and women's programs are the most common examples.

Intent. Classification by "intent" is useful in planning to obtain a desired response with a particular broadcast(s).

Programs are produced to induce such emotional reactions as confidence, hope, fear, nostalgia, frustration, etc.

Origin. Classification by "origin" pertains to the source of the message; i.e., official, unofficial, authoritative, high military command, political party, etc.

FORMAT

Format is the arrangement of the various segments of a program. A fundamental principle in preparing scripts for broadcasting is to standardize as much as possible without losing flexibility. A standard or familiar manner of presentation identifies a program for the viewers, helping to gain a regular audience. The format for a series of programs is usually established before the first program is broadcast. Radio station personnel, when establishing the format, should bear in mind that they must adhere to the highest professional standards of script writing.

PROGRAM BUILDING

The essential factors of program building are:

Purpose. The writer's first concern is the purpose of the program. What is it to accomplish? Careful construction of the purpose statement of the program will aid in structuring the program and provide a measuring device to determine if the goals are being met.

A credible program requires extensive research. Thorough research of a subject uncovers and provides hidden color and details which add a note of authority to the narrator.

Testing. The script is not completed when the last page is written; the announcer (or actor) must read it a loud (rehearse it) to determine how it sounds.

SCRIPT WRITING

Principles:

Aural medium. The special characteristic of radio is that it is entirely an aural medium. Radio depends entirely on the ear and must work completely on the image inspired by the sound waves coming from the speaker system.

The sound of a voice (or music) in a radio presentation raises a particular image in the listener's mind. Radio scripts must make clear to the listener the scene or idea desired by the psychological operator.

Power of suggestion. The mind of each listener is a vast storehouse of scenery. The radio writer, through speech, music, and other sounds, enables the listener to visualize each scene.

Freedom of movement. The radio scriptwriter can change scenes as frequently as desired. He can rapidly take his listeners from one event or point on earth (or in space) to another-its all in the mind.

Conflict. Conflict is the attention-getter in a radio script, gaining and increasing audience interest. Conflict is the hero against the villain, good versus evil, the struggle for survival, etc., with the psychological operator offering the solution by way of his script(s).

TECHNIQUES

The imaginative application of techniques is a way to success. The writer must be constantly alert for new ideas and be willing to experiment with variations of old established techniques. The techniques discussed below apply equally to the preparation of scripts for television and loudspeaker operations:

Simplicity. Use simple sentences and words commonly used by the target audience.

However, sentence length should be varied to avoid a singsong or monotonous effect.

Conversational style. Write news in a popular, informal, relaxed style. The listener should not be aware that the news is being read to him.

Speech speed. The normal rate of speech will vary among announcers. The scriptwriter should time the rate of speech of each announcer in the language used and tailor the script to gain maximum impact in the allotted time.

Initial attention. As the listener may be running the risk of severe punishment for listening to a forbidden broadcast, the broadcast must gain instant attention. The initial part of the script should convince the listener that the program will be of interest to him. Therefore, the essential facts need to be in the first few sentences to gain interest and to insure that nothing of importance is lost if the program is jammed.

Pacing and timing. Pacing refers to the changes in quality, emotion, thought, or feeling written into the program by the scriptwriter. Timing is controlled by the director and is a shift in the speed of message delivery.

Tongue twisters. Avoid words that successively begin with the same sounds, such as "In providing proper provisional procedures ..." Avoid words ending in "ch," "sh," "th."

These sounds generally produce a hissing noise.

Numbers. Round numbers off, unless the specific number is important. For example, 20 thousand may be used instead of 20,158. Large numbers should be written in the manner easiest to read: one billion 200 million 50 thousand instead of 1,200,050,000.

Unfamiliar names. Avoid beginning a news item with a name that is unfamiliar to the target audience. Introduce the names as "The chief of police, Mr. Jones ..."

Quotes. The listener cannot see quotation marks. By voice inflection, the announcer can make it clear when a quotation begins and ends. Other methods may be used to indicate a quotation:

In Smith's own words ...

To quote Smith ...

As Smith states ...

Punctuation. Ordinary punctuation marks are ignored in script writing. They can, however, be used as a guide for the announcer. For example, parentheses may be used to set off a phrase. Key words should be capitalized for emphasis. Phonetic spelling may be used to help the announcer with difficult words.

Profanity and horror. The announcer, speaking as a representative of his government and in keeping with the image of the serious, sincere spokesman, will not use profanity in his broadcasts. He will not use horrible descriptions of human suffering, although objective reports have a legitimate place in radio.

Abbreviations. Conventional abbreviations are seldom used. In script writing "Mister" is used instead of "Mr." Any abbreviations used must be familiar to the target audience.

MONITORING

Radio monitoring provides information to the PSYOP current intelligence team on:
The enemy's domestic and foreign propaganda programs.

The propaganda the enemy aims at his own military forces in the field.

Propaganda directed at our forces, and the necessary countermeasures which can and should be taken.

Radio monitoring also provides information for evaluating the effectiveness of US and allied PSYOP. The frequency band is scanned on a random basis to intercept other broadcasts of interest to the US and allied forces.

Operational rules require monitoring personnel to:

Be objective when giving the monitoring reports.

Be familiar with the names of persons and places likely to appear in the monitored broadcast.

Monitor only the station(s) to which assigned. Scan the frequency band only when directed.

-Record the identity of the monitored station, the date and time, and other relevant information pertaining to the monitored broadcast.

-Bring significant information to the attention of superiors immediately. Do not wait to make a scheduled report.

-Use phonetic spelling when in doubt as to the spelling of strange names and places.

PSYOP IS MODERN SATANISM WITH GOVERNMENT APPROVAL !

WARNING : PSYOP is modern satanism with Government approval in the hands of dangerous people like LT.Col.Michael Aquino (US intelligence-Temple of Set)

So we wanted to explain you what Psychological operations really are from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

(Redirected from Psy-Ops)

Psychological Operations (PSYOP[US] or PSYOPS[UK, GE, NATO]) are planned operations to convey selected information and indicators to specific foreign and (in certain countries) domestic audiences to influence their emotions, motives, objective reasoning, and ultimately the behavior of governments, organizations, groups, and individuals. Sometimes combined with black operations or false flag tactics, the purpose of psychological operations is to induce or reinforce attitudes and behaviors favorable to the originator's objectives. As such, there must always be sufficient truth to be credible.

This concept has been used by military institutions throughout history, but it is only since the twentieth century that it has been accorded the organizational and professional status it enjoys now.

In the German Bundeswehr the Zentrum Operative Information and its subordinated

Bataillon fÃ¼r Operative Information 950 are responsible for the PSYOPS efforts (in German called Operative Information). Both the center and the battalion are subordinate to the new StreitkrÃ¤ftebasis (Joint Services Support Command, SKB) and together consist of about 1,000 soldiers that specialise in modern communication and media technologies. One project of the German PSYOPS forces is the radio station Voice of the freedom which is used by thousands of Afghans, another are different newspapers and magazines published in Kosovo and Afghanistan.

United Kingdom

In the British Armed Forces, PSYOPS are handled by the tri-service 15 Psychological Operations Group.

United States

The purpose of United States psychological operations (PSYOP) is to induce or reinforce attitudes and behaviors favorable to U.S. objectives. In the United States Department of Defense, Psychological Operations units exist in the Army and Air Force. The United States Navy also plans and executes limited PSYOP missions. Unlike some countries, United States PSYOP units and soldiers of all branches of the military are prohibited by law from conducting PSYOP missions on domestic audiences. While PSYOP soldiers may offer non-PSYOP related support to domestic military missions, PSYOP can only target foreign audiences. Though, it is worth noting that this does not rule out PSYOP targeting foreign audiences of allied nations. Within the U.S. Psychological Operations community, PSYOPS is generally considered to be an incorrect abbreviation. The correct abbreviation is PSYOP.

POWER FREAKS THATS IT!

Their motto in the Monte Carlo Lodge is for example:

"power destroys the ones who dont have it".

"il potere logora chi non c'e' la".

Most of the people who enter these societies will never get anything out of it, but they still do it to feel part of a greater structure who can be of help to humanity (not knowing they are really far from it).

The problem is that at the top level all present Grand Masters are corrupt and in the firm hands of Dajal ,thats the United Grand Lodge of England Network or the Grand Orient of France Network , without mentioning the GLADIO P2 illuminati Lodges of Rui Gabirro and the Regular Grand Lodge of England and Wales, and their various Masonic High Council projects built by various intelligence operatives around the world. So I really cant see how they can be of help to us in any way these corrupt masons of today.

May one day if they stop just becoming puppets of their evil Neo illuminati Brothers on top of the Pyramid something can be done for truly helping the community, ESPECIALLY in this difficult moment of our history where we need true Brothers not pretenders. What a show of ignorance and decadence in front of our eyes every day when so many adult men with wife and kids at home, enter these lodges without knowing they are entering hell not the Temple of Solomon. Lets all pray for them and hope some sense comes in their heads and stop this idiotic puppet show,

WE ARE FREE AND ACCEPTED THEY SHOULD SAY NOT IN A PRISON CAMP BUILT BY THE EVIL VATICAN ILLUMINATI AND THEIR EVIL FRIENDS FROM ZION...THATS NOT FREE AND THATS NOT ACCEPTED BY THE COMMUNITY YOU ARE LIVING IN MY DEAR FREEMASONS.

In regards to what happens in the degree's of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite from 4th to 33rd, its just more theatre and drama from the XVIIIth Century with a more sophisticated coreography and a few more oaths until you get to the Luciferian part. the key degrees are the 18th (Rose Croix) where you are made to realize you are a somekind of new Jesus and find the secret key to the so called Rosicrucian enlightenment I.N.R.I.: IGNE NATURA RENOVATUR INTERGRA instead of "Iesvs Nazarenvs Rex Iudaeorvm" (this degree was actually created by the Jesuits not the real Rosicrucians) We also used to have in the USA but we still have in Europe (thanks God), the 30th degree with the Knights Templar myth of Jacob de Molay and the revenge against the Vatican and their corrupt Monarchs (something the Vatican obviously didnt like for a long time so the US Supreme Council apparently eliminated it 3 years ago).

And if you decide to go above the 33rd degree in the illuminati Rites of Memphis and Misraim you start fully working with Black Magic and Egyptian Jinn(Demons)...

so the situation is the following :

in Blue Masonry the Master Mason is resurrecting through the Master Builder of King Solomon's Temple Hiram Abiff, in the 32nd degree of the A.A.S.R. (Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite) Jesus is revealed to be the Corner Stone of the Temple and the real Master Builder of all times that testifies our faith in the resurrection of the body, we discover then that the symbolical mystery of the death of Hiram Abiff given to us in the 3rd degree actually represents that of the Messiah. And finally in the Memphis and Misraim Rite the resurrected figure becomes Osiris and Jesus becomes simply the High Priest of Osiris in your eyes.

And at that point after you have studied and practiced the black Arts in all the ways possible for supreme manipulation and ultimate Mind Control, you are then made ready FOR YOUR PLACE IN THE EVIL ILLUMINATI HQ'S BECAUSE SATAN HIS NOW IN FULL CONTROL OF YOUR MIND, BODY AND SOUL AND YOU CAN JOIN THE BLACK MASSES IN THE VATICAN!

I was indeed a 33rd of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of the Italian/Monte Carlo Supreme Council as that's the only way you can become a member of the Monte Carlo Committee (or Monte Carlo lodge if you prefer the G LODGE of the ILLUMINATI). I also published elsewhere on my web site my illuminati Diploma of 33rd 90th 95th of the Memphis and Misraim Rite of the illuminati that shows you not only my 33rd degree of the A.'A.'S.'R.'. but also the fact I went way above that in 2002 e.'v.'. after receiving my 33rd 90th 95th degree in the Oslo illuminati oratory of Enoch. I also published on this web site the secret Passwords, signs and grips of these degrees, and I also published the complicated set of degrees of the illuminati way above the 33rd so I invite you to have a more detailed look at my web site and you will find what you need and more.

The power of a 33rd degree depends from the power of the Supreme Council he represents, and that's usually decided by the date on their Patent/Charter, the more old their Charter/ Patent granted Charleston Mother of all Supreme Councils the better it is! In Italy we have the Number 3 after the "Mother" Council of Charleston of 1801 and the one in France of 1804.

nel GIUGNO del 2006 e.'.v.'..

"Nel 1805, infatti, il bonapartista Conte Alexandre Auguste de Grasse-Tilly giunse a Milano per costituirvi il primo Supremo Consiglio del Rito Seozzese Antico ed Accettato."

"I guess 98% of the masons don't have a clue about anything and just enjoy the show?"

YES THATS TRUE THEY ARE ALL JUST PUPPETS OF THE VATICAN NEO ILLUMINATI

"and what happens in degree above 33-90 ?"

THE LAST MASONIC DEGREE IS 33o 90o 100o in the Memphis and Misraim (that's equivalent to XIIo in the OTO/ILLUMINATI and the Swedish Rite) Supreme Patriarch of the Gnostic Catholic Church and GM of the Supreme Rite of Cosmic Architecture.

The Memphis and Misraim Rite officially arrives to 33o 90o 97o
but in reality it goes up to 33o 90o 98o
and very rarely to 33o 90o 100o (only in Palermo HQ's)

AFTER THAT THERE ARE NO DEGREE'S JUST BLACK MASS AS A SERVANT OF THE VATICAN LUCIFERIAN 360o POWERS AS HIGH PRIEST. SO YOUR LAST DEGREE ACTUALLY BECOMES IN THAT MOMENT 3 TIMES AS POWERFUL (THE TRINITY CONCEPT IS ALSO REFLECTED ON THE DARK SIDE AS YOU CAN SEE) THATS ALL, AND SOME PEOPLE HAVE CONFUSED THIS COMPLEX SYSTEM WITH YET MORE DEGREES BUT THIS IS THE FINAL TRUTH ABOUT THE EVIL ILLUMINATI THAT RULE THE WORLD.

33+33+33
90+90+90
100+100+100

AND THERE IS ONLY 3 CHOSEN BROTHERS IN THE ILLUMINATI WORLD WITH SUCH DEGREE OF EVIL WHO CAN ATTEND BLACK MASSES AS HIGH PRIEST AT ANY GIVEN TIME IN VATICAN HQ'S. ONE OF THEM IS THE GENERAL OF THE JESUITS, THE OTHER TWO ARE KEPT SECRET BUT I CAN TELL YOU THAT GEORGE H. BUSH IS ONE OF THEM.

Duro intervento in aula del senatore Leoni: «Alcuni politici si vergognano di dichiarare la nostra fede»

«Prodi tradisce il mondo cristiano»

giuseppe leoni

Roma - Inizio il mio discorso con la massima «Dare a Cesare quello che è di Cesare», in riferimento alla mozione, tramite la quale proprio la Lega ha offerto al Parlamento la possibilità di pronunciarsi su un fatto molto rilevante nel mondo della politica. Tuttavia, l'ampia discussione che si è svolta, purtroppo, non arriva all'esterno del nostro mondo, visto che la Rai ha preferito non far sapere come ben pensano, chi sono e come si comportano nei confronti di Sua Santità i parlamentari.

Ciò che mi preoccupa e che non dobbiamo dimenticare, assieme all'assurda e strumentale risposta del mondo islamico e le scuse pronte da parte della nostra Chiesa, il fatto che abbiamo religiosi in giro per il mondo, che rischiano la vita in prima linea, come è avvenuto il giorno dopo per quella suora italiana in Africa.

Non dobbiamo dimenticare che i nostri martiri - la nostra gente - muoiono per un progetto di amore, mentre i martiri per l'Islam muoiono per poter portare morte in mezzo alle persone. È questa la grande differenza che c'è tra la nostra religione e le altre.

Il primo ministro, peraltro, come cittadino e cristiano cattolico mi ha lasciato fortemente perplesso e preoccupato. È proprio su questo punto che voglio spendere i miei pochi minuti di intervento, pervenendo ad una riflessione che voglio svolgere ad alta voce.

È risaputo che il progetto massonico teorizza che il modo migliore per controllare socialmente e demograficamente l'umanità è la diffusione del vizio e dell'immoralità e la creazione di società multirazziali, con lo scopo preciso - c'è, infatti, uno scopo preciso - di rovesciare e distruggere il cristianesimo, unico punto di forza e testimone fondante della nostra società.

Non faccio il poliziotto di mestiere, ma mi riferiscono che il nostro presidente del Consiglio è un frequentatore assiduo di logge massoniche e che in una convention ad Aquisgrana, negli anni Ottanta, è stato investito di grandi poteri e responsabilità. Non si può servire Dio e mammona in contemporanea.

Dicono anche che c'è una pratica di esoterismo e di magia, altra funzione fortemente criticata dal mondo cattolico. Mi interrogo sulla risposta del presidente del Consiglio nei confronti del Santo Padre: «Ma si faccia difendere dalle guardie svizzere». In un clima di minaccia planetaria verso il Papa mi ha lasciato terrorizzato il disinteresse di una civiltà che il nostro Presidente - se questo mondo serve - spero vorrà abbattere. La logica l'ho trovata nel cognome del nostro presidente del Consiglio: prodi "l'imperativo del verbo prodeo e significa «esci fuori», ma anche «tradisci». Mi chiedo allora se vuole tradire il mondo che vuole rappresentare come cristiano. A questo che voglio capire perché il nostro Presidente, in nome della carica che ricopre, ha ricevuto l'ordine magari da quel mondo di cui continua a far parte.

Il nostro presidente del Consiglio quando ha ricevuto la confermazione e la cresima è diventato un soldato di Cristo e come tale non può delegare ad altri la sicurezza del Santo Padre; avrebbe quindi dovuto esprimersi in prima persona, impegnando in prima persona se stesso e anche il Governo e tutto il Paese che rappresenta. Forse perché il detto «morto un Papa se ne fa un altro» giustifica come vanno le cose. Penso che il nostro compito sia quello di attivarci in tutti i modi per garantire a Benedetto XVI una lunga vita perché con i suoi insegnamenti possa illuminare le nostre menti oscurate in un momento di secolarizzazione della nostra società.

La droga che vive nel nostro mondo, come abbiamo avuto modo di apprendere in questi giorni dai giornali, sicuramente non è la massima espressione di tutti noi che rappresentiamo il Parlamento.

Cosa dire poi del rifiuto dell'Europa nell'inserire nella propria Carta costituzionale le radici cristiane? Il nome Benedetto, scelto dal cardinale Ratzinger è un messaggio preciso al popolo cristiano, perché san Benedetto fu il primo a raccogliere i resti dell'impero romano e a organizzare territorialmente la nascita di un'Europa con le fondamenta cristiane fino in fondo. Mentre adesso difendiamo l'operato, su iniziativa della Lega, del Pontefice, in altre situazioni politiche perché ci siamo vergognati di dichiarare il nostro cristianesimo, com'è avvenuto nel momento della predisposizione della Costituzione europea.

Satan and Humanity by Fethullah Gulen

Satan and Humanity

By Fethullah Gulen

http://www.islamonline.net/English/In_Dept...pic_02/03.SHTML

The jinn we know as Satan was created from fire. Before his obedience and sincerity were tested through Adam, he had been in the company of angels, acting and worshiping as they did. Unlike angels, however, who cannot rebel against God (At-Tahrir 66:6), Satan was free to choose his own path of conduct. When God tested him and the angels by commanding them to prostrate before Adam, the seeds of his self-conceit and disobedience blossomed and swallowed him. He replied in his vanity, (I am better than him. You created me from fire, whilst him you did create of clay) (Saad 38:76).

Why was Satan created? Satan was created for important purposes. If Satan, who continually tries to seduce us, did not exist, our creation would be meaningless and futile. God has innumerable servants who cannot rebel and thus do whatever they are told. In fact, the existence of an absolute Divine Being Who has many beautiful names and attributes requires, not because of some external necessity but because of the essential nature of His names, that His names be manifest.

God gave us free will so that we could know good from evil. In addition, He gave us great potentials. Our development of these potentials and our struggle to choose between good and evil make us experience a constant battle in our inner and outer worlds. Just as God sends hawks upon sparrows so that the latter will develop their potential to escape, He created Satan and allowed him to tempt us so that our resistance to temptation will raise us spiritually and strengthen our willpower. Just as hunger stimulates human beings and animals to further exertion and discovery of new ways to be satisfied, and fear inspires new defenses, Satan's temptations cause us to develop our potentials and guard against sin.

There is an infinitely long line of spiritual evolution between the ranks of the greatest prophets and saints down to those of people like Pharaoh and Nimrod; therefore it cannot be claimed that the creation of Satan is evil. Although Satan is evil and serves various important purposes, God's creation involves the whole universe and should be understood in relation to the results, not only with respect to the acts themselves. Whatever God does or creates is good and beautiful in itself or in its effects. For example, rain and fire are very useful but can cause great harm when abused; therefore, one cannot claim that the creation of water and fire is not totally good. It is the same with the creation of Satan. His main purpose is to cause us to develop our potential, strengthen our willpower by resisting his temptations, and then rise to higher spiritual ranks.

To the argument made by some that Satan leads many people to unbelief and subsequent punishment in Hell, I would reply with the following:

First, although Satan was created for many good, universal purposes, many people may be deceived by him. But Satan only whispers and suggests; he cannot force you to indulge in evil and sin. If you are so weak that his false promises deceive you and you allow yourself to be dragged down, you earn the punishment of Hell by misusing an important God-given faculty that enables you to develop your potential and raise to the highest rank. You must use your free will, which makes you human and gives you the highest position in creation, properly, and to further your intellectual and spiritual evolution. Otherwise, you must complain about being honored with free will and therefore about being human.

Second, as quality is much more important than quantity, we should consider qualitative, as opposed to quantitative, values when making our judgment. For example, 100 date seeds are worth only 100 cents if they are not planted. If only 20 out of 100 seeds grow into trees due to the other 80 being destroyed by too much water, can we argue that it is evil to plant and water the seeds? I think all of us can agree that it is wholly good to have 20 trees in exchange for 100 seeds, since 20 trees will produce 20,000 seeds.

Again, 100 peacock eggs may be worth a couple of dollars. But if only 20 eggs hatch and the rest do not, who will say that it is wrong to risk 80 eggs being spoiled in return for 20 peacocks? On the contrary, it is wholly good to have 20 peacocks at the expense of 80 eggs, for those 20 peacocks will lay even more eggs.

It is the same with humanity. By fighting Satan and their evil-commanding selves, many "worthless" people have been lost in exchange for thousands of prophets, millions of saints, and billions of men and women of wisdom and knowledge, sincerity and good morals. All of these people are the sun, moon, and stars of the human world.

SATAN IN TURKEY AND OUR NEW CIA INSPIRED JESUS !

In the last few hours Mehmet Ali AÄŸca (born January 9, 1958) the Turkish assassin who shot and wounded Pope John Paul II on May 13, 1981 as declared from prison that he is the new Messiah, yes the new Jesus of the end of times.

This news arrives to us as no surprise in this never ending illuminati theatre. Lets make it clear to everyone that Mehmet Ali AÄŸca went to visit the Scontrino Lodge in Sicily and Prince Alliata di Monreale (my illustrius Mentor) the Puppet Master of LA ROSA DEI VENTI AND GLADIO before going to Rome to execute is GLADIO PLANED MISSION :

KILLING JOHN PAUL II

The pope was just a illuminati puppet of this evil show that still goes on twenty years later...

WAKE UP TURKEY SATAN HIS VISITING YOUR HOLY LAND!

bxvi_presentazione_messale.jpg

Mehmet Ali AÄŸca as also said yesterday to the Turkish Press that the Vatican is about to fall in the Abyss of chaos and destruction, and soon we will all face Armagedon , so these are indeed the end of times also for our dear PSYOP puppet AÄŸca!

Khaled Saifullah Khan will pray for these infedels,including our new MK-ULTRA brainwashed Jesus Mehmet Ali AÄŸca and that corrupt muslim called Erdogan , who recently invited P2 illuminati Brother Silvio Berlusconi for his daughters wedding. And the finance minister of Turkey as already joined the Bildeberg Mafia two years ago.

The Vatican illuminati and their Zionist brothers have already made their plans to use and abuse Turkey in the next few years as a troyan horse for the rest of the muslim world, and at the end of the day the city of Troy his in Turkey...what a coincidence.

And on top of all this Buyukanit as been nominated as new General in charge of the defence HQ's.

The problem is that General Buyukanit is a jewish Zionist and a Freemason close to the Vatican Neo illuminati and his Masters from Jerusalem.

So why are Turkish citizen falling into this New World Order trap and Erdogan submits willingly to Vatican Luciferian powers by meeting the Nazi Pope Ratzinger ?

Well Turkey is desperate to join the European Union and enjoy the wealth and decadence of the western satanic powers under firm Vatican Jesuit Zionist control, and it seems to me that Turks are falling into this trap willingly , because of the level of satanic infiltration in their society and in the religious institution of their country, something that only one man in Turkey could eventually stop and that man is Fethullah Gulen , a true master of his country who as to stand up now against satan before his country is completely under Vatican/Zionist control.

Last but not least the so called communist of the PKK (a bunch of dangerous CIA/ MOSSAD puppets) have been used to scare away until recently the foreign investors interested in Turkey. This evil plan is put in action so the illuminati sharks with the help of their Rotarian Masonic Network can buy everything cheap before joining officialy the EU and making the prices go up like crazy and make loads of money.

These meetings to decide the future of Turkey and the rest of the muslim world have already been made, and the most important ones have been the gathering of all the masonic Lodges connected to the CLIPSAS network on the 30th of October 2005 , the Rotary 100 years anniversary gathering with Comandante Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri in Ankara in April 2005 and last but not least the usual Bildeberg meeting of a couple of years ago.

To finalize the corruption of Erdogan , the Vatican Satan and the Italian illuminati slave State, had already sent 3 years ago their most loyal Opus Dei servant Fini from Alleanza Nazionale to Ankara with a message and a warning from illuminati Puppet and Puppet Master Silvio Berlusconi.
