- 16 http://www.sspxasia.com/Newsletters/2003/Jul-Dec/Secret_of_La_Salette.htm ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 17 <http://www.salvemariaregina.info/SalveMariaRegina/SMR-168/LaSalette4.htm> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 18 Mons. A. Galli, Scoperti in Vaticano i Segreti de La Salette, Sugarco, Milan, 2007. p.68.
- 19 <http://www.mysticsofthechurch.com/2012/01/teresa-musco-stigmatic-mystic-vic-tim.html> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 20 Ibid.
- 21 Ibid.
- 22 Scoperti in Vaticano i Segreti de La Salette, op. cit. p.56.
- 23 Eschatology is a part of theology concerned with what are believed to be the final events of history.
- 24 http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jeane_Dixon ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 25 <http://powerpointparadise.com/endworld/othrpred/jeandixn.htm> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 26 Ibid.
- 27 <http://www.religionnews.com/2014/01/08/pastor-obama-paving-way-antichrist/> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 28 http://it.wikipedia.org/wiki/Nostra_Signora_di_La_Salette ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 29 <http://www.thexplan.net/english/nibiru/prophecies.htm> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 30 <http://www.thexplan.net/english/nibiru/prophecies.htm> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 31 <http://jamescungureanu.wordpress.com/2013/04/04/myths-about-science-and-religion-that-giordano-bruno-was-the-first-martyr-of-modern-science/> ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 32 <http://www.thexplan.net> URL.cit. ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 33 Ibid.
- 34 <http://www.christiancentury.org/article/2011-04/orthodox-churches-object-national-identity-cards>
- 35 Ibid.
- 36 Ibid.
- 37 <http://www.thexplan.net> URL.cit. ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 38 Ibid.
- 39 <http://ourlady3.tripod.com> URL.cit. ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 40 <http://www.thexplan.net> URL.cit. ‡ Archived form the internet, September 7, 2014.
- 41 Leo Lyon Zagami, The Confessions of an Illuminati vol.2, CCC publishing, San Francisco, 2016.
- 42 <http://www.rockefellerfoundation.org/uploads/files/bba493r7-cc97-4da3-add6-3deb007cc719.pdf> ‡ Archived from the internet September 8, 2014.
- 43 The Rockefellers Foundation, GBN GLOBAL BUSINESS NETWORK, Scenarios for the Future of Technology and International Development, New York-San Francisco, May 2010, p.9
- 44 The Rockefeller Foundation, Op.cit. p.18.

- 45 Ibid, p.19.
- 46 Ibid, p.40.
- 47 Ibid, p.19.
- 48 <http://www.wired.com/2013/05/immigration-reform-dossiers/> † Archived from the internet September 8, 2014.
- 49 <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1YJsxMcAJoA> † Archived from the internet September 8, 2014.
- 50 The Rockefellers Foundation, Op.cit. p.21.
- 51 Ibid, p.34.
- 52 Ibid.
- 53 <http://www.freewebs.com/nochip/> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 54 <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/VeriChip> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 55 http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Radio-frequency_identification#cite_note-117 † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 56 Ibid.
- 57 <http://www.ridingthebeast.com/articles/666-hand-or-forehead/> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 58 <http://www.wnd.com/2004/04/24179/> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 59 <http://www.somarkinnovations.com/> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 60 <http://www.livescience.com/1242-invisible-radio-tattoos-identify-soldiers.html> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 61 Mehmet Ali Agca, I Was Promised Paradise, Chiarelettere publisher, Milano, 2013.
- 62 Jinn or djinn are entities of the Islamic tradition, often considered part of the demonic realm because they have free will like humans, and unlike angels. They often choose to side with Iblis/Satan and are used for Black Magic.
- 63 Agca, Op.cit pp.170–171.
- 64 Ibid, p.171.
- 65 Ivi, p.172.
- 66 Ivi, p.170.
- 67 <http://goodnewspirit.com/Fatima-prophecy.htm> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 68 Ibid. Emphasis ours.
- 69 Archived from the internet originally on March 5, 2013 from the link in the English language: http://www.vatican.va/holy_father/benedict_xvi/speeches/2011/september/documents/hf_benxvi_spe_20110922_in-tervista-germania_it.html Now present only in the Italian and German language. † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014: http://www.vatican.va/holy_father/benedict_xvi/speeches/2011/september/documents/hf_benxvi_spe_20110922_intervista-germania_it.html
- 70 www.sueddeutsche.de † Archived from the internet July 28, 2014.
- 71 <http://www.spiegel.de/international/germany/munich-abuse-case-archbishop-ratzinger-failed-to-deal-with-suspected-pedophile-priest-a-731683.html> † Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.

72 <http://vaticaninsider.lastampa.it/vaticano/dettaglio-articolo/articolo/francesco-francis-francisco-30953/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.

73 Ibid.

74 <http://cosco-giuseppe.tripod.com/profezie/roma.htm> ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.

75 http://roma.corriere.it/roma/notizie/cronaca/13_marzo_3/terremoto-lieve-scossa-castelli-roma-2123145191.shtml ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.

Chapter: VI

A “BLACK POPE” ON THE PAPAL THRONE

FRANCIS AND HIS ALLEGED ETHICS REVOLUTION IN THE VATICAN BANK

The resignation of Pope Benedict XVI was long meditated and meticulously planned by Ratzinger, the former guardian of the faith, who for years before becoming Pope was the supreme leader of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith. For the Catholic flock, his gesture initially caused fear and confusion amongst the faithful, and some people saw with the election of Bergoglio the fulfillment of a dark prophecy with the arrival of a Jesuit as leader of the Church. Others instead noticed the unprecedented shift towards an apparent transparency in the governance of the Vatican institutions, publicized in a flaunting way on several occasions by the Vatican media after Bergoglio’s arrival. “The pursuit of transparency is an indispensable objective, with even more reason for church-related institutions,” said the former president of the IOR, Angelo Caloia in a book that came out in 2013 entitled, The Gospel According to Italians. The book was written by F. Anfossi and A. M. Valli, published by Edizioni San Paolo, one of the major Vatican publishers.¹ The Vatican propaganda machine was immediately put to work in the supposed attempt at transparency made by the Vatican after nominating their first Jesuit to the throne of Peter. Pope Francis spoke often on the IOR, the infamous Vatican bank, on the appointment of a group of Cardinals to “harmonize” the bank of scandals “with the mission of the Universal Church,” one of the stated missions of the New World Order.

The Church is moving in a direction that some of the flock cannot understand, and stands to become irrelevant to others who have already abandoned the faith over the many scandals. Bergoglio clearly expressed himself on the matter publicly from the start to gain the media’s attention by stating, “The Church is in danger of turning into an NGO. And this is not the path.”²

Bergoglio repeated this concept more than once during his public appearances following his nomination, and in a homily made during the Mass in Santa Marta on the morning of Tuesday the 11th of June 2013, he stated that, “St. Peter did not have a bank account, and when he had to pay taxes, the Lord sent him to the sea to catch a fish and find the coin in the fish, so he could pay.”³ Even on this occasion he again repeated, “The Church is not an NGO,” and it “arises from gratuitousness.” He later insisted on the focusing of the concept of a poor Church because, “a rich Church is an aging Church.”⁴ Such statements are good for a Church in desperate need of credibility, and it seems that on this point, Bergoglio continues the work undertaken originally by Ratzinger on the apparent transparency of the Vatican financial institutions, a job often sabotaged and interrupted by Cardinal Bertone. Now finally put aside, at least at a public level, these actions are necessary for a new consent from the believers and lay men on this delicate situation. Bertone could care less about what people might think of The Bank of God, or, called by others, The Bank of Satan.

On April 4, 2013, the pontiff addressed the Vatican Bank by stating: “The IOR is necessary to a certain point.”⁵ Later in his speech, a bit agitated, he concluded, “Excuse me, what? When the Church wants to boast of its quantity and creates organizations and offices, it becomes a bit bureaucratic, the Church loses its main substance.”⁶ Then, a few months after this statement, Pope Francis instituted the Pontifical Commission’s representative on the IOR to create a new body, chaired by another Salesian Cardinal Raffaele Farina, who is trying to promote, “a better reconciliation of the same, with the mission of the universal Church and the Apostolic See, in the more general context of the reforms that should be carried out by the institutions that give aid to the Apostolic See.” This all sounds nice, including the intentions of Bergoglio’s “New Church” which sound truly great. But putting aside what Bergoglio has said, if you trust the Pope’s actions and you believe in his propaganda, I am afraid you are in for a bitter disappointment. As Horacio Verbitsky, the already cited Argentinian author and journalist said, *“Don’t trust Bergoglio, he is a great actor.”*⁷ It seems the Vatican is a perfect stage for his new acting role, and as Verbitsky wrote prophetically after Bergoglio’s election: “The friendly journalist will tell us about the way he travels on the bus or the underground,” and the faithful, *“will listen to his homilies recited with the gestures of an actor, in which the parables from the Bible will coexist with a clear popular wording.”*⁸ This seems to be exactly what has been happening since his election. Verbitsky also stated his penchant for *“pardoning the exploiters, and preaching humbleness to the exploited.”*⁹ This is the style of the Argentinian actor turned Pope. Going back to the policy of transparency and the firm opposition of Bertone, the Cardinal in question has practically been forced to drop everything and leave, as the Jesuit Pope chose him as the perfect scapegoat for the situation. He made the shocking statement: “If no one here in the Vatican defends me from who calls me corrupt, it is best to end it here.”

It would seem to be over for Bertone, or maybe not? Perhaps he is the perfect man for the job, as another Salesian is now head of the commission presiding over matters relating to the IOR. His name is Cardinal Raffaele Farina, a confidant of His Holiness Pope Francis, but also a person who was consecrated Bishop by Bertone in 2006, and elevated to the position of Cardinal by Ratzinger soon after, in 2007.¹⁰ Farina is accompanied on his mission by various characters, who are certainly not the lambs you expect from a person working directly with Pope Francis. This commission of investigation has frightened even the now former Vatican Secretary of State Tarcisio Bertone, because it includes the young Francesca Immacolata Chaouqui, who tweeted against Bertone back in February 2012, writing: “Bertone is corrupt! There seems to be secret archives and a company from Veneto involved.” It was Farina who was the person responsible for the Vatican Archives at the time, and the new Secretary of State Pietro Parolin, from the Veneto region—all just coincidences? Francesca Immacolata Chaouqui is not the only member of this commission to be fearful, perhaps naive, if we compare her with the ex-U.S. Ambassador to the Vatican, the dangerous Professor Mary Ann Glendon, a woman without scruples, very close to the Bush family and the Central Intelligence Agency, and was said to have cooperated with the Vatican back in the days when George Bush Senior was director in the 1970s. I will later include a complete list of the CIA's Chiefs of Section (CoS) in the Vatican from 1948 to 2009, as the present head of the CIA division in the Vatican is unknown, but it may possibly still be Glendon herself.

Glendon intensified her activity in intelligence during the time of Ronald Reagan, right alongside then-CIA director William Casey. William Casey and his wife were followers of the controversial Legionaries of Christ, whose founder was the pedophile Marcial Maciel Degollado. In 2013, Jason Berry wrote an article in Newsweek about ties between Casey and Degollado. In the article he revealed that, “Ronald Reagan’s CIA director, William Casey, and his wife made a seven-figure donation for construction of a Legion building in Cheshire, Connecticut, and were memorialized by a plaque.”¹¹

The same Mary Ann Glendon became an ardent follower of Father Marciel until his death, despite the heavy accusations of pedophilia made public in the last years of his life. Andrew Sullivan, who wrote for the The Daily Dish, had some harsh words against her in 2010, “In some ways, Maciel’s most disturbing enabler was Mary Ann Glendon, Harvard Law Professor and former ambassador to the Vatican. (Glendon) taught at Regina Apostolorum Athenaeum, the Legion’s university in Rome, and advised in the planning that led to the order’s first university in America, University of Sacramento, Calif In a 2002 letter for the Legion website she scoffed at the allegations against Maciel and praised his ‘radiant holiness’ and ‘the success of Regnum Christi (the order’s lay wing) and the Legionaries of Christ in advancing the New Evangelization.’ Maciel—whom John Paul II called an ‘efficacious guide to youth’—ran what can only be called a corrupt cult, designed in part to protect his own long life of sexual abuse and misconduct, where members were ruthlessly pressured to raise and give money to the organization.”¹²

In addition to being a teacher at Harvard University, where she holds the esteemed title of the Learned Hand Professor of Law at Harvard Law School, Mary Ann Glendon also taught for many years at the University of the Legionaries in Rome, called the Regina Apostolorum Athenaeum. During her years of teaching in Rome she must have noticed what was going on in regards to Father Maciel, including scandals so outrageous that it led Benedict XVI to act under the increasing pressure from the media and finally define Maciel in a 2010 publication as a “false prophet.”¹³

How could it be possible Pope Francis would employ someone like Mary Ann Glendon in such a position of importance, especially in light of the fact that she was obviously following a false prophet? This appointment by Pope Francis, like many others, shows not only that nothing has really changed in the Vatican, but that Pope Francis is deliberately turning a blind eye on Father Maciel and the “Legionary of Christ affair,” and all the people relating to it. This was because some inside sources say Father Maciel was really an agent of the Jesuits, as well as a CIA agent, as he himself admitted to his wife, as reported by Newsweek: “He gave her a house in Cuernavaca with financial support, visiting periodically, saying that he was a CIA agent and oil-company detective.”¹⁴

In the end, maybe the moves by the pontificate were not so revolutionary after all. What will change in the Pope Francis era? Probably nothing, apart from the great media frenzy and the constant show of Jesuit manipulation, sadly confirming the words I cited earlier from Verbitsky, “Don’t trust Bergoglio, he is a great actor.”

The only pope to date in the modern era who really tried to change anything in the Vatican, who opposed the growing Masonic infiltration, plus the pedophile satanic enemy, and who even wished to establish a new ethical Bank that could substitute the IOR, died after only 33 days into his pontificate. His Italian name was Albino Luciani, to become Pope John Paul I, and he was most likely killed. The Vatican has not investigated any claims of foul play in the death of Pope Luciani, and does not profess belief in any possible deceit. His reign is among the shortest in papal history, resulting in the unique “Year of Three Popes,” the first to occur since 1605. Meanwhile in 2014, Cardinal Bertone was substituted by Pietro Parolin as Secretary of State, and had unsuccessfully asked Pope Francis to maintain control of the commission of Cardinals supervising the IOR now in the hands of Cardinal Farina. Cardinal Bertone moved to a penthouse in the luxurious Palazzo San Carlo, the size of almost 3,000 square feet, ten times larger than the present residence of the pope himself. This apparently upset Pope Francis, who feels helpless to do anything against one of the leaders of the powerful and feared “Gay Lobby.” Bertone’s luxurious birthday at the beginning of December, 2014, consisting of a menu of truffle specialities and champagne which was served to his 40 guest from the Gay Lobby and the Illuminati elite, apparently upset Pope Francis even more, and on the 22 of December, twenty days after Bertone’s birthday, Francis decided to deliver an unprecedented attack against his own cardinals, bishops and priests accusing them of succumbing to greed, jealousy, hypocrisy, cowardice and what he called the disease of spiritual Alzheimer’s, that is, a “progressive decline of spiritual faculties.” With this move the decline of the Catholic Church has now been acknowledged.

FIG. 34. Pope John Paul I (Albino Luciani) and the then Cardinal Karol Józef Wojtyła, the future Pope John Paul II.

FINAL CONSIDERATIONS IN AN INTERVIEW WITH FERUCCIO PINOTTI

In the middle of 2013, a very interesting book was released by the Italian publisher Piemme. This is a very well-known publisher, founded in 1982, that joined the prestigious Mondadori Group owned by Berlusconi in 2003. In the past few years they have become the fifth largest Italian publishing house, with a 4.5 percent market share in Italy. I make this preface regarding the publisher, simply because it was not so easy to publish the content of such a book, especially with the title VATICAN FREEMASON.¹⁵ This book contains an entire chapter, and many other references in other sections of the book, dedicated to my revelations and an interview I gave to one of the authors.

The book in question was considered so dangerous, they had to delay the release for several months waiting for the initial Pope Francis frenzy to wear out.

This was an unprecedented project dedicated to the perilous subject of Freemasonry within the Vatican, which includes interesting documents and interviews with various Masonic Grand Masters. My friends and fellow journalists Giacomo Galeazzi and Ferruccio Pinotti, both well-known and established in Italy, one as a full-time Vaticanist for the daily newspaper La Stampa, and the other as an investigative journalist for the newspaper, Il Corriere della Sera, and an expert on Freemasonry. In the bestseller dedicated to Italian Freemasonry, FRATELLI D'ITALIA,¹⁶ there is an interesting extract from the unedited version of the interview I gave to Ferruccio Pinotti a few days after the election of Pope Francis in March 2013, only partially included in the book VATICAN FREEMASON.¹⁷

Q. (Ferruccio Pinotti): “How do you evaluate the choice of Bergoglio as the new Pope? Is it a victory for Freemasonry?”

A. (Leo Zagami): “We had Mario Monti, a student of the Jesuits at the head of the Italian government recently, and we have Mario Draghi, another student of the Jesuits as the President of the European Central Bank, and at a European level we are governed by other students of the Jesuit lobby like Barroso and Van Rompuy. It seems obvious now that a Jesuit, who by the way is also named Mario, as is the full name of Jorge Mario Bergoglio, will become the first Jesuit Pope in this historical moment where you need a technical Pope in the Vatican to save what is still salvageable. Present in a Church irremediably damaged by scandals, both in terms of image and economically, as we have seen the scourge of pedophilia in the U.S. Catholic Church nearly leading to a collapse, as well as the decades of financial wheeling and dealing in which the IOR was to be used and abused by drug traffickers, terrorists and mobsters. With the resignation of Ratzinger, Freemasonry got what they wanted, however, and that's the final post-conciliar destruction of the sacredness of the papal figure, and now you switch to a character that immediately defines himself simply as the Bishop of Rome, not as Pope, from the start for a specific reason. Bergoglio is a shadowy figure, as stated to the writer and human rights activist Horacio Verbitsky's by the brother of Orlando Yorio, one of the two Jesuits who disappeared for months during the dictatorship in Argentina. This way of acting in ambiguity is normal because of his membership in the Society of Jesus. They are the driving force of the Vatican security apparatus and intelligence with an archive in their central headquarters in Azpeitia, Spain which is 'equal if not superior to that of the CIA. This is what was written by world intelligence expert Giuseppe Muratori some years ago in his Encyclopedia of Espionage published in 1993 by the Italian Parliament Editions. The Jesuits with Bergoglio as their leader, have been called to save the Church and certainly they choose a great actor for the occasion as Verbitsky also stated."

Q. "What kind of relation do the Jesuits have with the Freemasons in Argentina?"

A: "In the Jesuit College of Clermont in France, the Jesuits and the Stuarts lay the foundation of what will become the Templar degrees of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite. At the same time a certain Father Bonani SJ seems to be the true author of the so-called Larmenius Charter, or Carta Transmissionis, one of the documents at the base of modern neo-Templarism. The Jesuits have therefore always been in a very close relationship to Freemasonry. Not the British and Hanoverian side, but rather that of Jacobite origin linked to the Catholic Stuarts that will place in France the foundations of the Ancient Anglo-Scottish Freemasonry (constituted of Roman Catholics). This fact would be later confirmed by both the historian of Freemasonry, Teder, and by Henri Martin (in his Histoire de France) who wrote that in this context 'were the monarchic losers, members of Ultramontane Catholicism that propagated Freemasonry in France,' those who defended the Catholic dynasty of the Stuarts against the Protestants. And from that moment they began to establish the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite in the Latin countries, an Order that still operates after almost three centuries in close contact with the Jesuits, as evidenced in the significant Masonic conference organized in 2011 in Lisbon, which had as a special guest of honor the Jesuit Father Ferrer Benimell, who was in Italy in 2002 to attend a conference organized by the Grand Lodge of Italy (Palazzo Vitelleschi). Benimelli, a friend of Bergoglio, defined as one of the greatest living experts in the history of Spanish and Latin American Freemasonry, is the founder and president since 1983 of the Centre for Studies on Spanish Masonry. He is considered a leading authority on the subject also in South America. He is a Professor of Contemporary History at the University of Zaragoza in Spain, and he writes, in a book published in Italy in 1981, by Atanor Editions, the following words which leave no doubt on the present apologetic position of the Jesuits on Freemasonry in Argentina or any other country: 'Freemasonry of the Enlightenment—leaving aside the deviations and errors that any widespread organization might have—looks like a meeting, beyond political and religious divisions of the moment, of men who believe in God, respect the moral nature and want to know each other, help each other and work together, despite differences in social rank, the diversity of religious faith and their membership in political parties or religions more or less opposite. Undoubtedly, the Roman Church, following the example of many European governments, pursued this association in accordance with the legislation at the time, adding the civil and the ecclesiastical penalties for conduct which at that time constituted suspicion of heresy, and that in the present day the Church itself refers to as ecumenism. Two centuries later the Church has overcome a situation which, thankfully, is now a thing of the past and today offers us many lessons as historians in search of understanding the unity among all men who form the Cathedral of the brotherhood of the Universe: Humanity.”

Q. “How do you rate the allegations of Horacio Verbitsky that Bergoglio did not protect, but rather did the opposite with two of his priests, because they had left wing tendencies?”

A. “The accusations of Horacio Verbitsky are plausible due to the Jesuit ambiguity I just mentioned, and they are certainly true in regards to Bergoglio, who in this case did not follow the long-standing tradition of the Jesuit left-wing. If you search Wikipedia you will read that it is the Jesuits that coined the term ‘Compagno.’¹⁸ Or go to the website of these Italian Jesuits, where you will see they were the ones laying the foundations of modern Communism with their so-called Jesuit reductions in South America and they say bluntly there were: ‘directed by the missionaries, with some theocratic and communist organization.’ Then you can view better the relationship of friendship and close cooperation between Fidel Castro who is by no coincidence a 33° of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, and was a student of the Jesuits, and the former General of the Society of Jesus, Peter Hans Kolvenbach. In short, the Jesuits are not only left-wing but South America has always been their favorite lab, so they have a good relationship with the regimes of the left, a bit less with those of the right that from time to time would pop up on the South American scene instrumental to their manipulators in the United States of America. In the case of the Argentinian dictatorship, it was obviously linked to both the right wing of the P2 Lodge and the top controllers of the Pentagon and the CIA. Bergoglio reluctantly was forced by Ecclesiastical Masonry operating within the Church in Rome to act in a different way. He did this so he could protect the interests of the Vatican and the United States in that country. If one side made him unpopular with the Jesuits in Argentina and the family of the victims of the dictatorship, at the same time it prepared his way to scale the heights of power in the Vatican hierarchy to where he is today.”

Q. “Gelli and the P2 were very strong in Argentina, do you think they may have had contact with Bergoglio?”

A. “Of course the P2 and Bergoglio were in contact with each other, thanks to the direct intervention of the future Pope Francis with the member of the P2, Admiral Emilio Eduardo Massera. In the end the two Jesuits which have been discussed so much, were released, and in return the P2 member Massera was given an honorary award at the Jesuit University of Buenos Aires. Horacio Verbitsky recently disclosed other interesting documents which he then passed on to the British newspaper Daily Mail. In particular, a memo from the Argentinian Ministry of Foreign Affairs from 1979 showing further collaborations between Bergoglio and the dictatorship after the sad incident that involved the Jesuits Orlando Yorio and Francisco Jalics. Obviously this ‘strange’ episode that undermines the credibility of the new pope should be seen through the lens of a typical operation between the intelligence services of the two allied countries, in this case those of the Vatican represented by Bergoglio with his two Jesuits believed to be possible ‘traitors’ and those of a foreign state. Argentina at that time was in the hands of a dictatorship whose members were Freemasons of the P2 Lodge of Licio Gelli, in turn, operated by the CIA and the top of the Vatican hierarchy. Let’s not forget that Gelli to this day is a Grand Officer of the Order of St. Sylvester, Pope and a Grand Officer of the Order of the Holy Sepulcher of Jerusalem.”

FIG. 35. Licio Gelli the infamous Worshipful Master of the P2 Lodge in a recent photo made in Gelli's residence in Villa Wanda, Arezzo, by GeraldBruneau.

FRANCIS † THE “BLACK POPE” AND THE THIRD SECRET

Of all the visions and seers throughout the ages predicting the future of the Vatican, there are really only two prophecies deemed “apocryphal,” and those include Saint Malachy, and the Nun of Dresden, who I have previously described in detail. Some believe these two prophecies have clear references to both Benedict XVI, and his successor Pope Francis. The two cycles also have similar prophetic visions regarding the end of the Church that should, according to some historians, terminate with Pope Francis. Both Malachy and the Nun of Dresden were deeply religious Christian clairvoyants who, by seemingly divine intervention, were told all of what to write.

FIG. 36. On the left is Rev. Adolfo Nicolás Pachón SJ (b.1936) the present “Black Pope,” and on the right is former Superior General Rev. Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, S.J. (b.1928). This photo was taken for a promotional press leaflet handed down to the press in 2009 that stated under this picture “The Era of the Two Generals.”

The “Prophecy of the Popes” consisted of 111 short phrases and doomsday coda in Latin, attributed to St. Malachy of Armagh, who lived in twelfth century Ireland. His coda was published several centuries later in 1595 by Arnold de Wyon, a Benedictian historian, as part of his book Lignum Vitae. According to the traditional account, Malachy was summoned to Rome in 1139 by Pope Innocent II, and while he was there, he supposedly received a vision of all the future popes. The manuscript was then deposited in the Vatican Archives and forgotten about until its rediscovery in 1590, just in time for a papal conclave that was in session at the time, and just like today’s revelations by the so-called “Crow” it probably influenced the results. The list describes all the popes including “antipopes” such as Celestine II, who was elected in 1143, to the last one described as “Petrus Romanus,” who should end his pontificate with the destruction of Rome. It is here that the prophecy of Malachy seems to coincide with the vision of the Third Secret of Fátima, erroneously (according to some) identified with the 1981 assassination attempt made by Ali Agca, against Pope John Paul II in St.

Peter's Square, as amply demonstrated by the Catholic journalist Antonio Socci in his book, Il Quarto Segreto di Fátima.¹⁹

This misdirection becomes even more evident when we know who the three people involved were in the official disclosure of Third Secret of Fátima made by the Catholic Church in the year 2000. Those three people are the now Pope Emeritus Joseph Ratzinger, the infamous Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone from the "Gay Lobby," and Marcial Maciel Degollado, the biggest supporter of Cardinal Agelo Sodano. There was also Pope John Paul II, who insisted on Ali Agca's assassination attempt being the supposed secret, but also apparently sabotaged the original content. Can we truly believe the official version of the Third Secret of Fátima prepared and presented by these less-than-credible individuals, especially in comparison to an earlier version three times larger that appeared back in 1963 in the German magazine Neues Europa?

Let's start with who gave the first version to the press back in the early 1960s. It was apparently Cardinal Alfredo Ottaviani (1890-1979), one of the custodians of the original secret, as he had the most influential position of power in the Vatican for many years, which included the Secretariat of State and also what used to be the Santo Uffizio, now known as Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith. Ottaviani gave his permission to Neues Europa for the publication of "an extract" known as a "diplomatic document" of the Third Secret of Fátima in 1963. This is the account of Father Luigi Villa, who died in November 2012, and worked with Ottaviani for a long time, and revealed his involvement to collaborator Franco Adessa in 1996.²⁰ The revelations that were published in Neues Europa are called by some "false secrets." There is a lot of controversy and probably disinformation surrounding them, therefore I will quote at length the two articles of the German review which was made public in 1963 regarding the subject. The text of this "extract" was preceded by the following introduction from the editor, Louis Emrich: "I have done everything possible to procure for myself the original text of the third message of Fátima, but all my efforts remained futile. The Vatican has made all the arrangements for this document to remain a papal secret until a new order. However, today I am in a position to communicate to readers of Neues Europa and to all countries an extract of the content of the Third Secret, in the form made available as inside information in the diplomatic circles of Washington, London and Moscow.”

The editor then claimed that the “extract” was read by President Kennedy, Great Britain’s Prime Minister MacMillan, and Soviet leader Khrushchev, which led to the signing of the Anglo-American-Russian accord in Moscow. He concluded by stating that *“although this document is not the original text of the message of Fátima, such as it was revealed on October 13, 1917, by the Mother of God to the little seer Lucy, essential points of the original are nevertheless found there.”*²¹ Here is the “extract” of the Third Secret of Fatima, as it was published by Neues Europa:

“It was the thirteenth of October, 1917. On that day, the Holy Virgin appeared for the last time to the little visionaries, Jacinta, Francisco, and Lucy, at the end of a series of six apparitions in all. After the manifestation of the miracle of the sun at Fátima, the Mother of God revealed a special secret message to Lucy, in which She particularly stated:

“Don’t worry, dear child. I am the Mother of God speaking to you and begging you to proclaim in My name the following message to the entire world. In doing this, you will meet great hostility. But be steadfast in the Faith and you will overcome this hostility. Listen, and note well what I say to you: Men must become better. They must implore the remission of the sins which they have committed, and will continue to commit. You ask Me for a miraculous sign so that all may understand the words in which, through you, I address mankind. This miracle which you have just seen was the great miracle of the sun! Everyone has seen it believers and unbelievers, country and city dwellers, scholars and journalists, laymen and priests.’

“And now, announce this in My name:

“A great punishment shall come to all mankind, not today as yet, nor even tomorrow, but in the second half of the 20th Century. What I have already made known at La Salette through the children Melanie and Maximin, I repeat today before you. Mankind has not developed as God expected. Mankind has gone astray and has trampled underfoot the gifts which were given it. There is no order in anything. Even in the highest positions, it is Satan who governs and decides how affairs are to be conducted. He will even know how to find his way to the highest positions in the Church. He will succeed in sowing confusion in the minds of the great scientists who invent arms, with which half of humanity can be destroyed in a few minutes. If mankind does not refrain from wrongdoing and be converted, I shall be forced to let fall My Son’s arm.

“If those at the top, in the world and in the Church, do not oppose these ways, it is I who shall do so, and I shall pray God My Father to visit His justice on mankind. There will also come a time of the hardest trials for the Church. Cardinals will be against Cardinals and bishops against bishops. Satan will put himself in their midst. In Rome, also, there will be big changes. What is rotten will fall, and what will fall must not be maintained. The Church will be darkened and the world plunged into confusion. God will punish men still more powerfully and harshly than He did by means of the Flood, and the great and powerful will perish just as much as the small and the weak. The greatest World War will happen in the second half of the 20th Century. Then fire and smoke will fall from the sky, and the waters of the oceans will be turned to steam, hurling their foam towards the sky; and all that is standing will be cast down. Millions and millions of men will lose their lives from one hour to the next, and those who remain living will envy those who are dead. There will be tribulation as far as the eye can see, and misery all over the earth and desolation in every country. The time is continually approaching, the abyss is growing wider, and there is no end in sight. The good will die with the wicked, the big with the small, the princes of the Church with their subjects. Satan's henchmen will then be the only sovereigns on earth. This will be a time which neither king nor emperor, Cardinal nor bishop expects, but it will come, nevertheless, in accordance with My Fathers plan to punish and take vengeance. Later, however, when those who survive all this are still alive, God and His glory will once more be invoked, and He will once more be served as He was, not so long ago, when the world had not yet become corrupted. I call on all true imitators of My Son, Jesus Christ, all true Christians and apostles of the latter days! The time of times is coming and the end of everything, if mankind is not converted, and if this conversion does not come from above, from the leaders of the world and the leaders of the Church. But woe! Woe if this conversion does not come about, and if all remains as it is, nay, if all becomes even worse! Go, My child and proclaim this! I shall always remain by your side to help you.”²²

Louis Emrich concludes the article stating as mentioned earlier: “I add once more that this is not the text of the original message such as the Mother of God revealed it on October 13, 1917, to the little seer Lucy, now a Carmelite (nun), but as an extract of the third message of Fátima such as it is circulating this moment in diplomatic circles. I am assured that the authentic text of the message is even harsher and more overwhelming than the extract related above. However, it is not inevitable in its conclusions, because it places the conversion of humanity before its perdition. How will humanity decide? This question, before just as after, remains open.”²³

On November 1, 1963, Neues Europa added this additional information regarding the Secret of Fatima, specifying there is also an even bigger secret that cannot be revealed in the extract:

“In the last edition of Neues Europa, we stated formally that the text we published there of the Third Message of Fátima constituted only an extract of that which is known in diplomatic circles. The most important part, the quintessence of the revelations of the Mother of God, was unavailable to us. In this case it concerns words of the Holy Virgin predicting events which will take place in Rome and which will happen to the Vatican and the papacy at the dawn of D-Day, when humanity will be delivered to the divine chastisement. The passage related to it, and which forms the basis and conclusion of the third prediction of Fátima, was integrally detached from it and remains a state secret of the Vatican, until a new order is given. We know, however, what is said in the passage in question. It is related to the future of the Holy See and all the institutions attached to it. All the Vatican circles which were solicited to reveal the authentic text of this passage have categorically refused to make any kind of pronouncement on this subject. This intransigent attitude of Vatican diplomacy is the result of formal instructions emanating from Pope Paul VI, who decided that neither the wording of the third message of Fátima nor its principal part would be made accessible, for the moment, to public knowledge. Such a papal prohibition can only increase in a very considerable proportion the interest attributed, up to the present, to the affair of Fátima.

“At what period will the Pope judge it opportune to lift this prohibition? Nobody knows.

“Theoretically this restriction can cease tomorrow, but it could equally well remain in force for a more or less long period of time. The political situation at the world level will decide, according to its favorable or unfavorable evolution. But here and now it is certain that the Third Message of Fátima will be communicated in full and without any omission to the entire world, when the needs and the seriousness of the hour demand it.” -Dr. Angel S., Rome²⁴

With such terms as, “Dawn of D-Day, when humanity will be delivered to the divine chastisement,” there is an immediate similarity with the scenario of martyrdom and destruction of Rome, also described by Malachy’s final words in his 111th prophesy dedicated to the Last Pope, where he states: “In the final persecution of the Holy Roman Church there will reign Petrus Romanus, who will feed his flock amid many tribulations; after which the seven-hilled city will be destroyed and the dreadful Judge will judge the people.” It is also striking that at least one Pope had a similar mystical vision: In 1909, while granting an audience, Pope Pius X leaned back and closed his eyes. Suddenly he “awoke” and cried out: “What I see is terrifying. Will it be myself? Will it be my successor? What is certain is that the pope will quit Rome, and in leaving the Vatican, he will have to walk over the dead bodies of his priests.”²⁵

Just prior to his death on August 20, 1914, Pope Pius X had another vision: “I have seen one of my successors, of the same name, who was fleeing over the bodies of his brethren. He will take refuge in some hiding place; but after a brief respite he will die a cruel death. Respect for God has disappeared from human hearts. They wish to efface even God’s memory. This perversity is nothing less than the beginning of the last days of the world.”²⁶

Strangely enough, such a doomsday scenario prophecy made its way to the mainstream Italian media, just before the Conclave that elected Bergoglio. Galeazzi wrote for the newspaper, La Stampa for example, on the 9th of March 2013, just three days before the start of the Conclave: “The Prophecy of the Popes by Malachy lists 112 short phrases in Latin that purport to describe all the popes from Pope Celestine II (elected in 1143) to a Pope yet to come, described in the prophecy as ‘Peter the Roman,’ whose pontificate will end with the destruction of Rome and the last judgment. According to the list, *the last Pope should arrive after the one called “de gloria olivae,” a Pontiff who, following the chronology, should be Benedict XVI. But a lost prophecy says that between Benedict XVI and the last Pope there would be another one, a ‘caput nigrum,’ a dark-skinned Pope.”*²⁷

So where is the “caput nigrum,” the 112th lost prophecy, not to be confused with the doomsday coda? Why are serious Vaticanist’s taking into consideration this hypothesis, as it is not even mentioned in the 111 prophecies attributed to St. Malachy? The answer is in the book “La Profezia Dell’Ultimo Papa,” a highly influential novel written by Schmeig Maria Olaf and published by Edizioni Fazi in 2001. The author spent almost a decade researching in Rome, beginning in 1992 until the publication, for the purposes of this book.²⁸ He made complex studies in search of the truth about Malachy’s prophecies so he could better include them in the context of his fictional novel. Unfortunately, the relevant discoveries he apparently made at a historical level were never indicated in his book with the necessary details to follow up on his studies. The only thing I can say is that indeed there is a long standing oral tradition in Rome regarding the arrival at some point in history of a “Black” Pope, before the end of the Church. The tradition is so ingrained in the consciousness of the Romans that some people gathered in the square for the election of what would become Pope John Paul II, shouting “the Black Pope” when they heard the name of a foreigner, Cardinal Wojtyla,²⁹ nominated from the balcony in St. Peters Square. Regarding instead Nostradamus’ reference to “the Black Pope,” he made predictions on the legacy of various popes. There is only one reference to a Black Pope by Nostradamus, which seems still a bit far-fetched and difficult to interpret, and is found in C6:Q25, where he states:

“Through adverse Mars will the monarchy of the great fisherman be in ruinous trouble: The young red black one will seize the hierarchy, The traitors will act on a day of drizzle.”

Of course, “the monarchy of the great fisherman,” refers to the Vatican and having Mars adverse is not considered a good thing. In Natal Astrology, Mars plays a very prominent role, governing as it does the first and eighth signs of the zodiac, Aries and Scorpio. In the physical world Mars causes accidents, fevers, and violence. One is left wondering if the date May 13th, 2017, referred to as the “day of drizzle” as predicted by Ali Agca, may become the most significant day in global history?

THE BLACK POPE † CROWLEY AND THE DECLINE OF CATHOLIC MORALITY

Just before the election of Pope Francis, one of the main agents of Jesuit intelligence, the sociologist and occultist named Massimo Introvigne, who is also the OSCE representative against the discrimination of Christians, explained to Galeazzi in La Stampa that the numbers, “are in favour of the Black Pope because if the Church grows, it is due especially to Africa, where Christians have surpassed Muslims.” Indeed, a “caput nigrum” for the Church.³⁰ Things went differently, because of course there was no “BlackPope” in the traditional sense, as it has been rumored for many years in the conspiracy circles. The new pope is instead a Jesuit, someone most people associate with the term “Black Pope.” The Provost General of the Society of Jesus, or the General of the Jesuits as he is universally known, already goes also by the nickname “Black Pope.” Currently this office belongs to Father Adolfo Nicolás Pachón (b.1936), who is close to resigning. He followed another resigning General, Father Peter Hans Kolvenbach (b.1928). In a recent letter published by Father Adolfo Nicolás in 2008, the twenty-ninth successor of St. Ignatius of Loyola as the head of the Society of Jesus, originally addressed his letter to seventeen Jesuits scattered in 112 countries around the world. The current “Black Pope” announced the long path to the end of which, “in the last months of 2016,” Father Nicolás will be presented at the Thirty-Sixth Congregation of the Jesuits as the resigning General, only the second in history to abdicate, and they will be called to elect a new Father General. Basically like his predecessor, Nicolás is just following the trend of the moment in the Vatican, which is resigning. I can actually state with certainty that this new trend generated first in the Jesuit community, and only later did Pope Ratzinger pick up on the idea, which was started by the Jesuits in 2008. No wonder Pope Francis, a Jesuit, is also speaking of his resignation. Resigning has become the latest plague to affect the Church, as I stated earlier, because it destroys the sacral-ity of the Papal office in favor of the materialist view promoted by the New World Order. Going back to the aforementioned Massimo Introvigne, a key figure I investigated in detail in volume one of my trilogy, The Confessions of an Illuminati,³¹ in addition to his direct link to the Jesuits, he is also part of French Freemasonry, Martinism, and even holds an honorary degree in the infamous O.T.O. (Ordo Templi Orientis). Irregardless if the O.T.O. is a relatively small order of fewer than 4,000 members registered worldwide, it has had a huge impact on contemporary Masonic culture, and a very negative influence on the Catholic world, especially the American Catholic Church in particular. So how did this happen? It happened thanks to the expansion in the 1960s of the perverse ideology of one of its greatest exponents, Aleister Crowley (1875 - 1947) known also as “The Great Beast 666.” Such accusations were nothing new, as they were made years ago by Michael S. Rose, considered one of the leading American experts in the contemporary Catholic world. In his book, Goodbye, Good Men: How Liberals Brought Corruption into the Catholic Church,³² he devoted the majority of his research into the subject of homosexuality in the seminaries, and the growing phenomenon of child pedophilia in the Catholic Church. It is interesting that this book was released just before the first wave of scandals in the Roman Catholic Church broke out on a widespread public level. Some say Rose’s book appears prophetic, as he documented the systematic rejection of pious, orthodox seminary applicants in many dioceses, and the encouragement of questionable attitudes and agendas instead. Rose argues the root of this problem was the growing popularity of Crowley’s work in the 1960s. Some of the rebel seminars were nicknamed “Pink Palaces” in particular, because they facilitated the plague of pedophilia in the U.S. Catholic Church. The seminarists discovered the deviant teachings of the satanist Aleister Crowley, especially those of his Gnostic Catholic Church, that lead in the following decades to an even greater moral decline.

Ultimately, given the immense sums to be paid as compensation to the victims, such a vision change would manifest in scandals and economic disaster for the Vatican. In 1995, Archbishop Elden Curtiss of Omaha, Nebraska, raised eyebrows throughout the Catholic Church by writing and publicly stating that the so-called vocations crisis and priest shortage were “artificial and contrived.” The Archbishop’s words came as a shock to many lay Catholics, and confirmed the suspicions of many others, and provoked outrage and hostility among Catholic progressives. Michael Rose took the Archbishop's statement as his starting point for Goodbye, Good Men, in which he describes and chronicles the reasons behind the drastic decline in the number of young men entering Catholic seminaries in the 1970s and 1980s. Reverend Robert J. Johansen, an American Catholic priest and book reviewer, wrote in the May 2002 printed edition of Culture Wars magazine:

"Fidelity to the Church, its teaching and discipline, would seem to most people, Catholic or otherwise, to be a sine qua non for Catholic priests. But in 'Goodbye, Good Men' Rose describes an environment in many Catholic seminaries during the 70's and 80's that encouraged dissent and disobedience, as well as moral and doctrinal laxity. In these seminaries, Rose writes, those responsible for recruitment and admissions actively sought out men who supported the 'progressive' or liberal Catholic agenda: abolition of priestly celibacy, ordination of women, acceptance of the gay lifestyle, and liturgical experimentation. Those few men with more traditional views who got into these seminaries were subjected to harassment and attempts at re-indoctrination. Rose describes an atmosphere in which expressions of reverence such as genuflection or kneeling were derided, and traditional devotions such as the rosary received scorn and hostility. Goodbye, Good Men has twelve chapters, each of which details some aspect of the vocations crisis. In the first three chapters, Rose shows how some seminaries and vocation directors (the person in a diocese or religious community responsible for the recruitment of candidates) actively attempted to screen out candidates who voiced loyalty to the teachings and discipline of the Church, or who showed an attachment to traditional expressions of piety such as the rosary or Eucharistic adoration. In the fourth and perhaps most disturbing chapter, Rose describes a homosexual 'subculture' which came to dominate some seminaries in the 70's and 80's. The middle chapters of the book describe the denigration and deconstruction of Catholic doctrine, liturgy, and devotion which subsisted in some seminaries during the same period. Other chapters detail the misuse of psychology in the seminary admissions and formation process, allegations of whitewashing of seminary problems by the American hierarchy, and how seminary admissions and formation were taken over by people with a 'death wish' for the priesthood. The book concludes with an examination of the Church's standards for seminary life, and a look at some dioceses which are experiencing success in fostering priestly vocations. Goodbye, Good Men is not easy reading. Rose's portrayal of vocational and seminary abuses could lead the reader to the conclusion that American Catholics have, by and large, been deliberately deprived of priests by men and women whose agenda was 'reshaping' and 're-imaging' the Church. In Rose's view, there hasn't been a shortage of vocations, there has been a shortage of what the progressive Catholics in power desired as the 'right kind' of vocations: those supportive of the progressive agenda of women's ordination, married clergy, and the like. Rose's contention is that many men who had genuine vocations were deliberately screened out of the priesthood because the liberal Catholics in control of the process found them unsupportive of their agenda. Those who read Goodbye, Good Men will come away with an appreciation of the prophetic nature of Archbishop Elden Curtiss' claim that the vocations shortage is 'artificial and contrived.'" Adding in the end, after a very long and in depth analysis, his final thought and criticism on the controversial publication Goodbye, Good Men is, in many ways, an unfortunate book. It is unfortunate because the story of the problems in American seminaries needed to be told, but it needed to be told with scrupulous concern for accuracy and truth. It needed to be told in such a way as to elicit more than righteous indignation from the faithful. It also needed to be told with more nuance and penetration. It is also unfortunate because Rose's failure to make distinctions will actually distract attention from the real remaining problems in American seminaries. Rose's credibility problems and his relative lack of analysis do little to shed light on what may be done to strengthen our seminary system. Only in the last two chapters does he have anything to say about what factors come together to make a good seminary. Goodbye, Good Men may create a great deal of controversy, but I fear that ultimately it will do little to serve the good."³³

Uwe Siemon-Netto, a Lutheran layman and non-ordained theologian, and the now-former religion editor of United Press International, reviewed Michael Rose's work for UPI on September 10th, 2003, in a very different light from Rev. Johansen. Besides being a more positive book review, his article upset the people in charge of the Ordo Templi Orientis, touching on those lesser-known aspects of Crowley's responsibility in this infamous affair:

*"With the $85 million settlement for the victims of sexual abuse in the Catholic Archdiocese of Boston, a singularly revolting chapter in the Church's 2,000-year history is drawing to a close. It is all the more disgusting as perverted men ordained to represent Christ at the altar took advantage of the secular society's 1960s dementia to act out their fantasies—chiefly on adolescents. Equally revolting was the clubby mindset of their overseers, who more often than not simply reassigned offending priests rather than handing them over to secular authorities for trial and punishment. But that's just stating the obvious. Fairness demands that one looks for the roots of this massive disaster—a disaster, by the way, not just for Roman Catholicism but Christianity on the whole. These roots were not 'Christian' by any stretch of the imagination. In fact they were distinctly anti-Christian, indeed Satanic, if one analyzes the message of the 1960s from a theological and historical perspective. It was in the '60s that some Catholic seminaries, especially those in dioceses headed by liberal bishops, earned nicknames such as 'Pink Palace' because they gave shelter to fiends while rejecting faithful young men of orthodox persuasion. All this is convincingly documented in Michael S. Rose's bestseller Goodbye, Good Men. But all this did not occur in a vacuum. It occurred in an era whose motto was 'Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the law.' This axiom poisoned the Church as it did other institutions. It is worth noting who authored this maxim. It was the British writer and warlock Aleister Crowley, the self-named 'Beast 666,' whom Somerset Maugham described as the most evil man he has ever met. Crowley died in 1947. But strangely, his anti-Christian worldview, his advocacy of the most appalling forms of sexual behavior, his relentless, though elegantly penned appeal to selfishness spread two decades after his death. Check the Internet, and you will find that Crowley is still alive—with the Google search engine producing 84,000 mentions of his name. Click on, if you can bear it, and you are swiftly linked to websites you do not want to know about—the sites of the Church of Satan, of sadomasochistic, occult, atheistic and other groups which are still flourishing. The good news is that the spirit of Crowleyism, which presented itself as an alternative religion, no longer plagues American Catholic seminaries, many of which are churning out an entirely new species of strong, manly, committed clergymen—heroes in the priesthood—as Michael S. Rose reports in his newest book, Priest (Manchester: Sophia Institute Press, 2003, 185 pp., $14.95). The priestly crimes of the 20th century will of course remain a huge blot on Catholicism's history forever, just* like the Inquisition. But like the Inquisition, it was overcome, and this strengthened the church. For this Catholics and other Christians owe gratitude to the victims, who brought the scandal to the open. As this tragedy unfolded, all kinds of advice were given to the church, including the nostrum that Rome should open the ministry to married men; that would keep the depraved out. As a Protestant, this columnist obviously favors married pastors. In the past, the Protestant parsonage did much to shape the cultures of Europe and North America. But the sorry behavior of many of today's ministers makes it clear that the right to marry is no bulwark against sexual misconduct. Pastors break their marriage promises, leave their children, and wind up in the arms of other women—or men, and then expect to be consecrated bishop, calling their new relationships 'sacramental.' That's Crowley talk; this is how he described his behavior. For the Catholic Church, a settlement of $85 million is a terrible price to pay for the Crowleyism that had crept into its seminaries and parsonages. But at least it has now put an end to this aberration. Meanwhile, in some mainline Protestant denominations Crowleyism is alive and well—and celebrated as a virtue, called 'tolerance,' while these church bodies continue to shrink. It is amazing how evil, blindness and madness have evolved into an alternative trinity."³⁴

Perhaps Uwe Siemon-Netto's statement about the disappearance of "the Spirit of Crowleyism" from the seminaries in support of Michael S. Rose's position in his newest book, "Priest"³⁵ is a positive statement, albeit unrealistic, to say the least. It is no coincidence that in Pope Francis' episcopal genealogy we find Cardinal Mariano Rampolla del Tindaro (1843-1913).³⁶ He is the Cardinal and Freemason that, because of his membership in the Ordo Templi Orientis and Freemasonry, was prevented from becoming Pope at the 1903 Conclave. The times were not yet as mature as they are now for such a move, that's for sure. Craig Heimbichner, writing in the August, 2003 issue of Catholic Family News, states that Monsignor Jouin is said to have intervened personally with Emperor Franz Joseph to ask for the Jus exclusivae to be invoked, having procured some evidence that Cardinal Rampolla had at least a close affinity with the Freemasons.³⁷

On behalf of the O.T.O. itself, in the November 1999 newsletter for Thelema Lodge in Berkeley, California, the organization acknowledges that Msgr. Jouin accused Cardinal Rampolla of belonging to the OTO.³⁸ The Dean of the former College of Hard NOX, of the now-defunct O.T.O. Thelema Lodge, disputes the accusation made by Msgr. Jouin.³⁹ He is contradicted, however, by the independent O.T.O. archivist, Peter-Robert König⁴⁰ who is, by the way, also a friend and close collaborator of Massimo Introvigne. Of interest is the first order of business of Pope Pius X, elected after Franz Josef vetoed Rampolla and "abolished the veto of heads of state, declaring that anyone who dared introduce a civil veto in the conclave would *suffer automatic excommunication.*⁴¹ Further, Pius X instituted an oath forbidding future conclave attendees from transmitting a veto by a secular monarch to the conclave so that no one could ever stop again a Freemason or a member of the Ordo Templi Orientis or any other sect in becoming the new pope. Therefore, Rampolla was taken in the highest regard by Aleister Crowley, as Rampolla was a member of the Ordo Templi Orientis several years before Aleister Crowley took control of the Order. Crowley introduced the blasphemous ‘Gnostic Mass’ of the OTO Ecclesia Gnostica Catholica, or the “Gnostic Catholic Church,” shortly before Cardinal Rampolla’s death in 1913. And later, included him among the Saints of his heretical and Neo Libertine Church, the official Church of today’s Ordo Templi Orientis,⁴² that now rejoices in secret when acknowledging the general ignorance surrounding the subject. Pope Francis was elected Pope on whose Apostolic succession depends on a Freemason who belongs to their Satanic Order, who perhaps for this reason, never reached the Papal throne, but now has without a doubt a worthy successor in Bergoglio, the first Jesuit Pope.

THE MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF WILLIAM H. KENNEDY AND LUCIFER’S LODGE

William H. Kennedy, also known as “Teddy,” passed away suddenly at home in the month of August 2013, at the age of 48. His death was never really investigated, and when approached about it, his family seemed quite scared to stir things up, and no attention was given whatsoever to his passing by the media. Teddy was a controversial life-long Catholic writer and radio host, and he was the author of the now out-of-print and highly collectable books: Satanic Crime—A Threat in the New Millennium, and the even more controversial title Lucifer’s Lodge: Satanic Ritual Abuse in the Catholic Church. He was a regular guest on Dr. Stan Monteith’s nationally syndicated radio show.

He was found dead on August 14th, 2013, but may actually have died on Tuesday August 13th, 2013, and as some of you may know the death tarot card resides at number 13, and such a date indicates the possibility of an occult murder. If he was indeed dead on the 13th, his murder would have occurred exactly one week after recording an important interview about

Pope Francis and the Vatican bank with Dr. Stan Monteith on August 6th 2013. In addition to this, some clear statements made in his previous radio interviews, which are still available on the internet, speak of having managed to avoid his own contract killing by the mob once before, and that nefarious parties were apparently interested in murdering him because of his investigations. There was no indication of prior illnesses given in regards to William Kennedy health, but he wrote books exposing Satanism, and hosted a radio program that for a period delved into esoteric and controversial topics. The late Dr. Stan Monteith, who also passed away recently in September 2014, mentioned Kennedy's passing briefly at the end of one of his famous shows soon after his death, but Monteith only said that William Kennedy had been a regular guest on his show, and that he was recently found dead in his home. Strangely, nothing more was stated or speculated by the always investigative mind of Monteith, who was probably too shocked by the bad news to follow up on the story with bias. In the so-called "conspiracy world," there has not been anyone that has dug deeper into this highly suspicious death. For one reason or another, no one has dared to adequately look into it.

William H. Kennedy closed his pioneering investigation into the sexual abuse crisis in the Roman Catholic Church with the following statement: "Malachi Martin was correct in his assertion that Lucifer's Lodge exists within the Church of Rome. Unfortunately, there are no quick answers as to how to deal with this horrible state of affairs. Lucifer's Lodge is an ongoing problem. It is still in operation and should be of major concern to people of goodwill everywhere."

After reading this passage one searches for a word, "shocking" perhaps? If only I were shocked. Things that I was not prepared to believe of priests have turned out to be true over and over again since I was a child, and the time to be shocked has passed since reading the previously mentioned Goodbye, Good Men, and other similar books published in my native Italy, like Gone with the Wind in the Vatican, a controversial book that came out in 1999 about nepotism, homosexual scandals, corruption, and "clientism" within the Vatican City, and written under the pseudonym IMillenari, or "The Millenarians."

Some accounts of priestly sexual abuse he used to illustrate his story are now all too familiar, and the findings in the William H. Kennedy books are fully confirmed by my own research and the never-ending scandals that have rocked the Catholic Church over the last several years.

Halfway through reading his books, like others before me, I checked into some of the sources for his research and found them to be 100% credible. He does use a few marginal sources, which I would like to check further, but the fact he was connected to Fr. Malachi Martin, Fr. Al Kunz, and Fr. Charles Fiore made his information truly ground-breaking and credible at the time, as I hope mine is now. This priestly trio became aware that something was seriously wrong in the U.S. Catholic priesthood and began collecting data and evidence to expose the evil-doers. William Kennedy came a bit later to join in the investigation, making it a foursome.

What is sad today is that all of them, including Kennedy, are strangely dead. Fr. Kunz's death in 1998 was sudden and bloody, and the crime has never been solved. Kunz's parishioners witnessed a man who looked like the very essence of evil sneering from a back pew at Kunz during Mass shortly before he died. However, no leads have turned up in the following investigations as written by Kennedy himself. No one has been arrested in the case either. But when reviewing the situation just before the murder, some strange facts emerge.

After Kunz died, Malachi Martin—who had endured years of cardiac problems—saw his health deteriorate further until his passing in July, 1999. Father Charles Fiore likewise suffered ill-health just after the murder, and Kunz's passing may have adversely affected him physically.

They were all unable to assist William H. Kennedy in the 2002 exposure of the priest pedophile ring that gained traction like never before after the previously mentioned Boston Globe article came out, which led to other cases receiving significant media and public attention throughout the world.

Father Fiore was still around, but left this world in March 2003, not long after speaking on the telephone with William H. Kennedy. Apparently the conversation revolved around the request that Kennedy look closely into the Kunz murder, especially after he defended Malachi Martin against critics on the syndicated talk show A Closer Look (ACL) hosted by Michael Corbin.

The directly involved pedophiles Archbishop Weakland and Cardinal Ma-honey attended a symposium at Notre Dame in December, 2001. That is the last time they would meet again as reigning prelates in the Roman Catholic Church. Kennedy wrote that “Martin, Fiore, and Kunz were to be vindicated in their efforts to expose the pervert cult that had stolen the church from the faithful.”

And indeed, in May 2002, the BBC reported that a new lawsuit was filed against the head of the largest Roman Catholic diocese in the United States by four men who said that a priest sexually molested them when they were boys. The men accused the Archbishop of Los Angeles, Roger Mahoney, of conspiring to commit fraud and obstruct justice by covering up the activities of the pervert priest, Father Michael Baker. They also alleged that the Los Angeles Archdiocese and the church acted as a “criminal enterprise” in covering up the abuse. William H. Kennedy knew this was to be only the beginning of the present decline of the Catholic Church and wrote in his Lucifer’s Lodge that “This was only the latest blow to the Roman Catholic Church, which had already been engulfed in countless scandals over sexual abuse of children by its priests.”

So let me attempt to summarize for you the main points of my investigation in the mysterious death of the 48-year-old William H. Kennedy, whose death was never fully explained. In brief, everything started with Fr. Kunz’s death in 1998, then Fr. Fiore’s as well as Fr. Martin’s declined health immediately after the murder. Within 16 months Fr. Martin was dead, and Fr. Fiore was not well enough to continue their on-going investigation. Interestingly enough, Kennedy stated that a mutilated calf was also found the morning that Fr. Kunz’s body was discovered, and that such finding was the calling card or signature of Satanists, just like the possible date of his own death.

A person describing himself as a life-long friend named “Steve” stated on Facebook, in response to a post regarding the death of William H Kennedy:

“I am a lifelong friend of William (Ted) Kennedy, and can offer a little information about his passing. His death is indeed sudden and mysterious. Ted was in good health. He had not received any death threats per se, but he certainly had enemies who had threatened him with physical violence. Ted regarded these people as cranks and thought all people should live their lives as if they might be hit by a bus at anytime. He was no shrinking violet regarding his scholarship. I was skeptical about what he and Father Mala-chi discussed, but the whole thing erupted in front of me in the pages of the Boston Globe (which is no conspiracy rag). Although 'liberal' at the editorial level, the Globe definitely primarily expresses the concerns of the Boston Brahmin 'old money' class. So, when they printed confirmation of the events the Archdiocese could no longer deny, then Ted's work was vindicated. There is no longer any question of the reality of widespread pedophilia and satanic ritual abuse in the Church which was managed, in the United States, by Bernard Law, Cardinal of Boston. This didn't make any friends for Ted and he was also a well-known attendee at the weekly protests by the faithful outside the Cathedral and Chancellery."

In his public statement, the same person close to William H. Kennedy made another note of interest:

"Also, one thing Ted never advertised is that he shared the Kennedy name with the Kennedy's of Hyannisport, MA. He was cousin to John F., Robert F., and his nick-namesake (was from) Edward M. 'Teddy' Kennedy. He also had immediate family prominent in politics at the local and state level. I cannot attest to any intrigue or mystery surrounding that fact, but everyone knows of the tragedy and other unresolved questions surrounding the Kennedy family.

"Lastly, Ted's scholarship is what may have gotten him in trouble. I am by no means saying there was any wrongdoing surrounding his death. Nobody knows the cause at this time. What I am trying to say is that although his work seemed preposterous and outlandish at first blush, it was always borne out with excellent research and facts. Authors who had sold many more books, such as Brad and Sherri Steiger, would defer to Ted. I personally watched him meticulously compile the sources for Lucifer's Lodge and, until the scandal broke, had dismissed my goodfriend as a kook. He was no kook. He knew about the operation of dark forces in the world and was never afraid to confront them."

So on closing this personal tribute to his courageous work, I remind myself to try to avoid such a tragic ending. I also discovered that Kennedy was not your ordinary Catholic or your ordinary researcher, but a relative of the powerful, yet cursed, Kennedy family. Maybe his work and his research will now be evaluated again under a different light.

THE MASONIC ENDORSEMENT OF POPE FRANCIS

There are more and more documents that show different Masonic luminaries praising and supporting Pope Francis, which are becoming public knowledge since his election. Recently, the official salute of Argentine Freemasonry became accessible on the internet. After praising Bergoglio, the Grand Master of the Lodge of Argentina expresses its pride in having a "co-patriot" elected Pope. His letter was documented on the websites of both Actualidad Masónica and Impulso Baires, which received the scoop. This is the article “Pope Francis and the Freemasons” that appeared on Actualidad Masónica on March 20, 2013, published by the editor in the following form:

“Last March 13th, the members of the College of Cardinals who were gathered in Vatican City elected the Argentine Jorge Mario Bergoglio as the new Pope of the Catholic Church. Bergoglio, who took the name of Francis after his election, is the first South American to occupy this office; he was Archbishop of Buenos Aires before his election. The naming of the new pontiff motivated a communiqué by the Grand Lodge of Argentina, which was diffused by Impulso Baires on the same day of Pope Francis’ election.

“Its text follows: ‘A man of austere life consecrated to his devotions, the designation of the new pontiff of the Catholic Church supposes a great recognition of the Argentine Nation. In Argentine Freemasonry, based on the principles of tolerance, profound respect for personal convictions, liberty, equality and fraternity, the brothers who profess or adhere to this religious faith stand together with others who belong to other creeds, are agnostics or lack any faith. In the name of all, the Grand Lodge of Argentina greets our co-patriot a Cardinal who just received such a high world distinction.’” -Angel Jorge Clavero, Grand Master”

Another article that appeared in Impulso Baires on March 13, 2013 is entitled, In a communiqué the Grand Lodge of Argentine Freemasonry salutes the naming of the new Pope Francis I, and reads as follows: “Federal capital—The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, an institution rooted in our country since 1857, salutes the naming of our co-patriot Cardinal Jorge Bergoglio as Pope Francis I, said a communiqué sent to the editor of Impulso Bares: A man of austere life consecrated to his devotions, the designation of the new pontiff of the Catholic Church supposes a great recognition of the Argentine Nation. In the Argentine Freemasonry, based on the principles of tolerance, profound respect for personal convictions, liberty, equality and fraternity, the brothers who profess or adhere to this religious faith stand together with others who belong to other creeds, are agnostics or lack any faith. In the name of all, the Grand Lodge of Argentina greets our co-patriot Cardinal who just received such a high world distinction.” -Angel Jorge Clavero, Grand Master, who signed at the end of the document.”⁴³

The day after the election of Pope Francis I, the Grand Orient of Italy (GOI), which as I mentioned earlier is the main form of what is considered “regular” Freemasonry in Italy, issued a formal communication praising him for the first Egalitarian measures he took on the day of his election. The document also made public the Masonic expectations of Italian Freemasonry that the new Pope shall lead the Church on the democratic path desired by Freemasonry. This announcement by the now former Grand Master Gustavo Raffi was published as follows on the official GOI website on March 14, 2013:

“With Pope Francis, nothing will be more as it was before. It is a clear choice of fraternity for a Church of dialogue, which is not contaminated by the logic and temptations of temporal power.

“A man of the poor far away from the Curia. Fraternity and the desire to dialogue were his first concrete words. Perhaps nothing in the Church will be as it was before. Our hope is that the pontificate of Francis, the Pope who ‘comes from the end of the world’ can mark the return to the Church— Word instead of the Church—Institution, promoting an open dialogue with the contemporary world, with believers and non-believers, following the springtime of Vatican II.

“The Jesuit who is close to the least ones of history, has the great opportunity to show the world the face of a Church that must recover the announcement of a new humanity, not the weight of an institution that closes itself off in defense of its own privileges. Bergoglio knows real life and will remember the lesson of one of his favorite theologians, Romano Guardini, for whom the truth of love cannot be stopped.” -Grand Master Raffi, Grand Master of the Grand Orient of Italy, at the beginning of the pontificate of Francis

Praise was also made by another high-ranking Freemason: “The simple cross he wore on his white cassock,” concludes the Grand Master of Palazzo Giustiniani, “lets us hope that a Church of the people will re-discover its capacity to dialogue with all men of good will and with Freemasonry, which, as the experience of Latin America teaches us, works for the good and progress of humanity, as shown by Bolivar, Allende and José Marti, to name only a few. This is the ‘white smoke’ that we expect from the Church of our times.”⁴⁴

In June 2014, the newly elected Grand Master Stefano Bisi made an even more bold statement on this subject: “I would like to know what Pope Francis thinks of Freemasonry,” adding during this public conference held in Rome and organized by the library service of this Masonic Obedience: “I am deeply convinced that in the field of human rights and freedom there will be fruitful contacts between the Catholic Church who is definitely a believer. I think it’s time to unite rather than divide and I’m sure we can find a valuable point of encounter and dialogue. The breach of Porta Pia in 1870 should be updated. September 20 must be remembered for another breakthrough, a breakthrough that could serve to break down the walls that separate different worlds who want to meet. There is strong need for connections. This was also the message of the Second Vatican Council.” Unfortunately, the Second Vatican Council referred to by the Grand Master Stefano Bisi is the one that has gradually handed over the Catholic Church to the worst Italian and International Masonic Lobby, and there is nothing “regular” about it. It lives and strives thanks to the silence of too many Freemasons. Interestingly enough, the notorious Vatican Journalist Msgr. Mario Pieracci went public at one point stating that Bergoglio will become, “the punisher of Freemasonry in the Vatican.” Mons. Pieracci, an old acquaintance of mine, made such a statement on the Italian state television network, RAI UNO in broad daylight, shocking, perhaps deliberately, his viewers so he could reassure them of the self-righteous nature of this Pope. For others, however, it is the same Bergoglio, a Freemason, or at least somebody who supports their monolithic goals. The traditional and international Catholic blog RORATE CAELI asked their cherished friend Marcelo González, of Panorama Católico Internacional, who knows the Church of Argentina like the back of his hand, to send them a report on Pope Francis after his election. What he said in return is worth reading. It is one of the strongest criticisms to date Bergoglio has received from the Catholic media. It reads as follows:

“Of all the unthinkable candidates, Jorge Mario Bergoglio is perhaps the worst. Not because he openly professes doctrines against the faith and morals, but because, judging from his work as Archbishop of Buenos Aires, faith and morals seem to have been irrelevant to him. A sworn enemy of the Traditional Mass, he has only allowed imitations of it in the hands of declared enemies of the ancient liturgy. He has persecuted every single priest who made an effort to wear a cassock, preach with firmness, or that was simply interested in Summorum Pontificum. Famous for his inconsistency (at times, for the unintelligibility of his addresses and homilies), accustomed to the use of coarse, demagogical, and ambiguous expressions, it cannot be said that his magisterium is heterodox, but rather non-existent for how confusing it is. His entourage in the Buenos Aires Curia, with the exception of a few clerics, has not been characterized by the virtue of their actions. Several are under grave suspicion of moral misbehavior. He has not missed any occasion for holding acts in which he lent his Cathedral to Protestants, Muslims, Jews, and even to partisan groups in the name of an impossible and unnecessary interreligious dialogue. He is famous for his meetings with Protestants in the Luna Park arena where, together with a preacher of the Pontifical House, Raniero Cantalamessa, he was ‘blessed’ by Protestant ministers in a common act of worship in which he, in practice, accepted the validity of the ‘powers’ of the TV-pastors. This election is incomprehensible: he is not a polyglot, he has no Curial experience, he does not shine for his sanctity, he is loose in doctrine and liturgy, he has not fought against abortion and only very weakly against homosexual ‘marriage’ (approved with practically no opposition from the episcopate), he has no manners to honor the Pontifical Throne. He has never fought for anything else than to remain in positions of power. It really cannot be what Benedict wanted for the Church. And he does not seem to have any of the conditions required to continue his work. May God help His Church. One can never dismiss, as humanly hard as it may seem, the possibility of a conversion...and, nonetheless the future terrifies us.”⁴⁵

So why are traditional Catholic's confused and terrified by his election? A mere four months before his election as "Pope" of the modernist Vatican II Church, Jorge Mario Bergoglio, then known as Cardinal Bergoglio, collaborated with the Jewish-Masonic B'nai B'rith lodge to celebrate a "Kristallnacht," or Holocaust memorial, in his Catholic cathedral of Buenos Aires, Argentina. The two main speakers of the event were Bergoglio himself and his friend Rabbi Alejandro Avruj of the Fundacion Judaica of Buenos Aires. Representatives of various non-Catholic religions also took official part in the event. This shows that the new religious head of the Vatican II is yet another apostate, and therefore is incapable of being a true Pope, just as is any non-Catholic. Take it on faith from Pope Pius XII, excerpted from Encyclical Mystici Corporis, par. 23: "For not every sin, however grave it may be, is such as of its own nature to sever a man from the Body of the Church, as does schism or heresy or apostasy."

This is what the Catholic Encyclopedia states in the "Papal Elections" section: "Of course, the election (as Pope) of a heretic, schismatic, or female would be null and void."⁴⁶ His participation in interfaith ceremonies also diminish his legitimacy, according to a popular blog site: "The commemoration of the Jewish Lodge, officially even called a 'commemorative liturgy,' took place in the Cathedral of Buenos Aires, (and) the then Cardinal Jorge Mario Bergoglio participated actively." The blogger continued, "Under Archbishop Bergoglio it became customary in the Archdiocese of Buenos Aires since 1994 that B'nai B'rith performs its annual memorial service held for the Jewish victims of Nazism in Argentina's Catholic churches." Lastly, it observed, "The official program book with the symbol of B'nai B'rith and the coat of arms of the Archdiocese of Buenos Aires is called an 'Inter-religious Liturgy."⁴⁷ Another reason to be worried about the Francis Papacy, apart from his interfaith dialogues, which is a project supported for a long time by USA intelligence services, as classified documents in my hands have proven time and time again. In regards to the homosexual issue, Pope Francis' came up with some surprising remarks in response to a question about an alleged "Gay Lobby" in the Vatican, that he made in the summer of 2013.

His response on the subject: "When I meet a gay person, I have to distinguish between their being gay and being part of a lobby. If they accept the Lord and have goodwill, who am I to judge them? They shouldn't be marginalized. The tendency is not the problem.” He added: “They’re our brothers.”⁴⁸

One year later the Patriarchate of the Byzantine Catholic Patriarchate, whose members are priests of the Ukrainian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church, formally of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church recognized by the Holy See, operating out of the city of Lviv in western Ukraine, launched their “anathema” against Pope Francis addressed as the Bishop of Rome. In the New Testament, the word “anathema” is used with the meanings of a curse and forced expulsion of someone from the Christian community.⁴⁹ The reason for such a curse is described in a video statement by Archbishop Elias Dohnal⁵⁰ who was selected as the first Patriarch of this new schismatic body of the Catholic Church. Delivered on the 2nd of August 2014, the date of Saint Elia, the following extract sums up the content of the “anathema” against Pope Francis: “Hepromotes the immoral mentality of homosexuality that is contrary to the essence of the Gospels and destroys every moral value,” and stated that with this act, “Bergoglio is excluded by the invisible Body of Christ and he is occupying illegally his office in the visible organization.” Adding that, “with his acts he is approving syncretism and paganism.”⁵¹

The present Grand Master of the Grande Oriente Democratico, the already cited Gioele Magaldi, whose title is the Past Worshipful Master of the prestigious Roman lodge of the Grand Orient of Italy, Har Tzion Montesion 705, revealed on his web site after the election of Bergoglio that Pope Francis will be “an innovative and progressive Pope, sustaining this are some Brothers close to the Grande Oriente Democratico, that assure they have contributed in some way, indirectly, also within the Conclave, through some fraternal friends, to the election of a man that will be able to regenerate the Catholic Church and help human society in his complexity.”⁵² The fact that Magaldi revealed “some Brothers,” a term used to define Freemasons, had actively “contributed” to the election of a Pope, should make us meditate on the future of this Church that is increasingly in line with the synchronistic view promoted by the New World Order, and not with their Christian roots.

On June 22, 2014, the New York Times reported that Ekspres, a Lviv-based newspaper, conducted a lengthy investigation of Patriarch Dohnal’s church and concluded that it had discovered an important clue to the group's supposed pro-Moscow allegiances, and advocacy on the side of Moscow during the 2014 pro-European anti-Moscow revolution in Ukraine: "Before the 1989 collapse of Communism in his homeland, then still Czechoslovakia, Mr. Dohnal worked as an informer for Soviet Intelligence. The newspaper published what it said to be a document from former Czechoslovak archives that identified him as a mole for Soviet intelligence with the code name 'Tonek.'"⁵³ It was Dohnal's church that, in December 2013, issued an appeal to Mr. Putin to intervene militarily to restore order and defeat what it scorned as "Euro-sodomitic occupation by Brussels, programmed by U.S. agents." It was also Patriarch Elias Dohnal who condemned Patriarch Kyrill of the Russian Orthodox Church for "apostasy," when Kyrill accepted membership into the NWO-inspired "Council of Religious Leaders," held on May 30-31, 2012. The "apostasy" accusation was made after Kyrill attended the IV Congress of Leaders of World and Traditional Religions in Astana, the capital city of Kazakhstan.⁵⁴

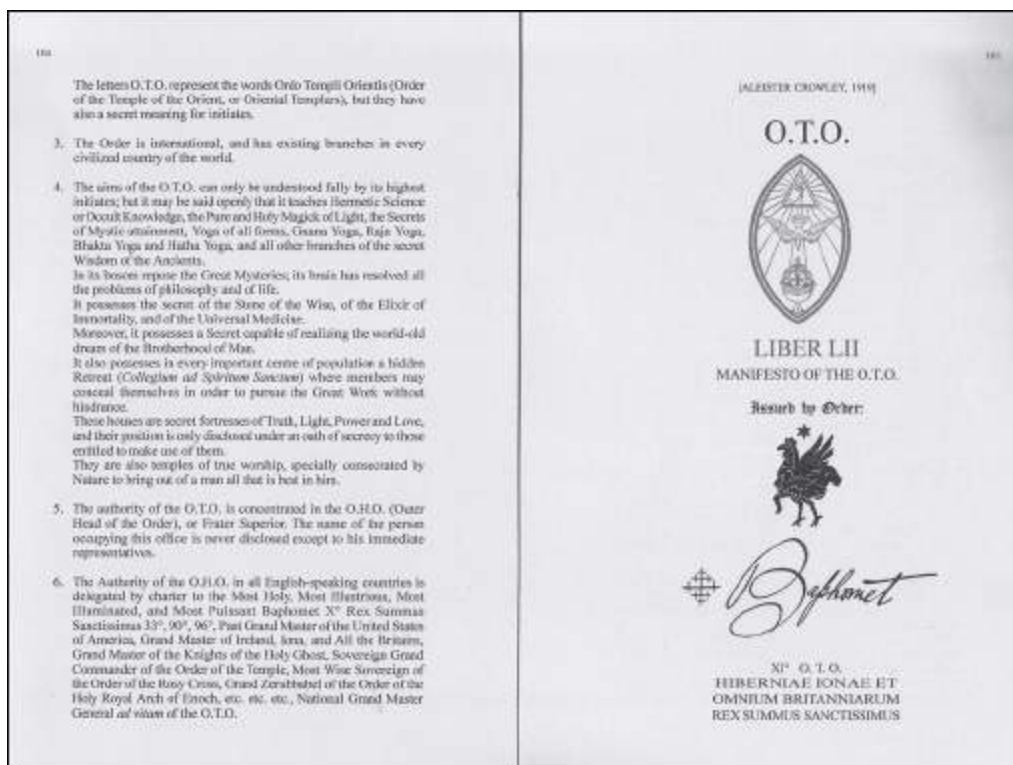

FIG. 37. Images of original documents belonging to the Ordo Templi Orientis published by Aleister Crowley in 1919, featured in the book OTO Rituals and Sex Magick written by Theodor Reuss and Aleister Crowley, and edited by P. R.-Konig for Pentacle Enterprises in 1999.

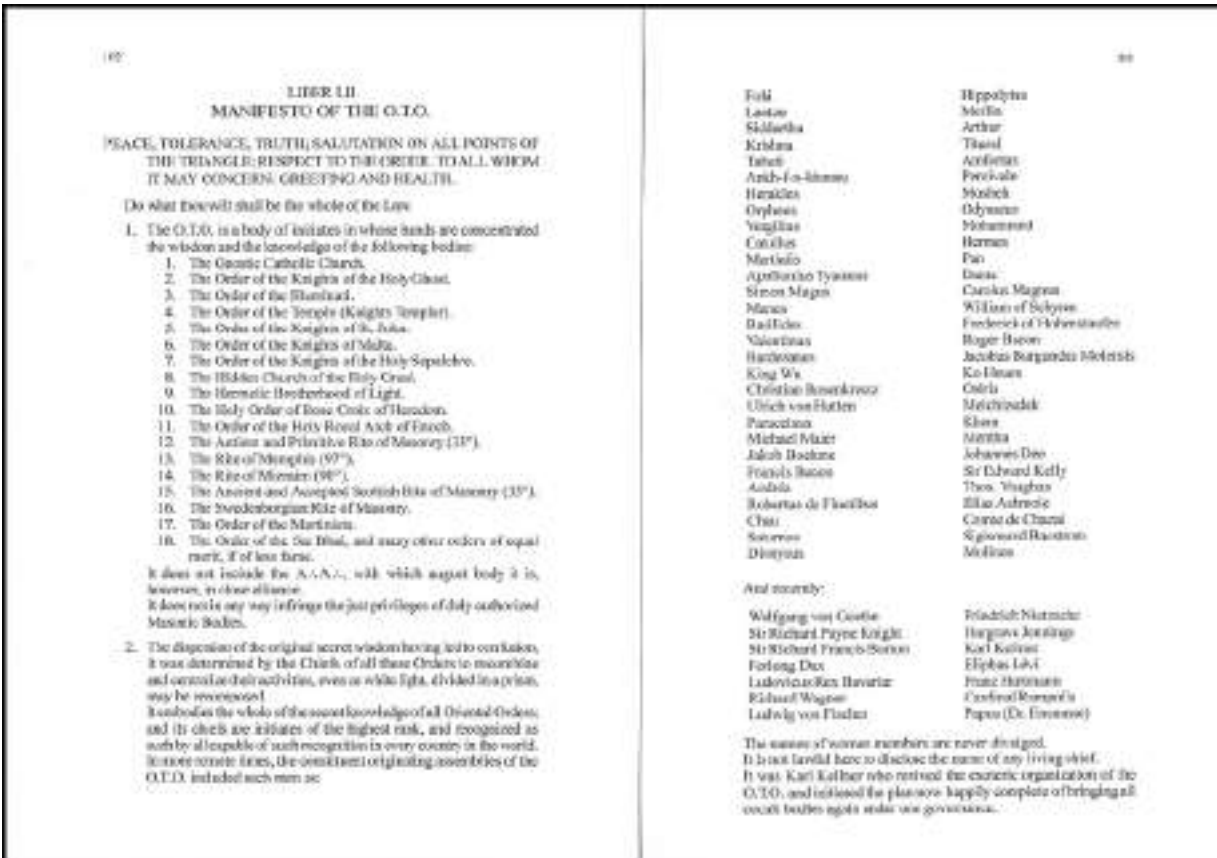

FIG. 38. On the right page, clearly amongst the members of the O.T.O., appears the name of Cardinal Rampolla, second from last. (Op.cit. p. 103)

FIG. 39. Leo Lyon Zagami and Monsignor Mario Pieracci in the summer of 2008.

Fig. 40. Patriarch Elijah Anthony Dohnal OSBMr (b. 1946) elected as first Patriarch of the Byzantine Catholic Patriarchate by the Bishops' Synod of the Ukrainian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church in an extraordinary assembly on 5 April 2011. In a YouTube video, Patriarch Dohnal made the charge of "anathema," levied against Pope Francis.

DEPT FOR G, S/P, S/GPI, AND S/SRMC

E.O. 12958: DECL: 12/18/2019

TAGS: PREL, PHUM, KIRF, SOCI, SCUL, VT

SUBJECT: AN INVENTORY OF THE VATICAN'S INTERFAITH DIALOGUES

REF: A. 08 VATICAN 87

B. VATICAN 124

C. 08 USUN 1126

D. VATICAN 106

E. VATICAN 122

F. VATICAN 100

G. VATICAN 126

VATICAN 00000134 001.2 OF 003

CLASSIFIED BY: Julieta Valls Noyes, DCM, EXEC, State.

REASON: 1.4 (b)

1. (SBU) Summary: The Vatican is a leader or partner in many inter-religious dialogues, primarily with the "Abrahamic" religions - Islam, Judaism, and of course, other Christians. Vatican leaders are also beginning to reach out to Asian faiths.

This cable describes the Vatican's primary, organized dialogues. Septels: A) analyze why the Vatican pursues interfaith dialogue, and B) propose USG-Holy See collaboration in support of such discussions. End Summary.

FIG. 41. Previously classified document regarding the inter-religious dialogue subject, sent by the U.S. Embassy in the Vatican to Washington DC, on the 27th of January 2009.

¹ Anfossi Francesco; Valli Aldo M., Il Vangelo Secondo gli Italiani. Fede, potere, sesso. Quello che diciamo di credere e quello che invece crediamo. Vol. 1, San Paolo Edizioni, Cinisello Balsamo, Milan, 2013.

- 2 <http://www.ilfattoquotidiano.it/2013/04/24/papa-francesco-ior-necessario-ma-fino-a-certo-punto/574122/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 3 http://www.repubblica.it/esteri/2013/06/11/news/papa_chiesa-pove-ra-60850385/ ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 4 http://www.avvenire.it/Papa_Francesco/santmarta/Pagine/Chiesa-ricca-invec-chia-gratuita.aspx ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 5 <http://www.ilfattoquotidiano.it/2013/04/24/papa-francesco-ior-necessario-ma-fino-a-certo-punto/574122/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 9, 2014.
- 6 Art.cit.
- 7 <http://www.libreidee.org/2013/03/verbitsky-non-fidatevi-di-bergoglio-e-un-grande-attore/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 11, 2014.
- 8 Art.cit.
- 9 Ibid.
- 10 http://it.wikipedia.org/wiki/Raffaele_Farina ‡ Archived from the internet September 11, 2014.
- 11 <http://www.newsweek.com/father-marcial-maciel-and-popes-he-stained-62811>; ‡ Archived from the internet September 11, 2014.
- 12 <http://www.theatlantic.com/daily-dish/archive/2010/04/the-vaticans-watergate-follow-the-money/188415/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 11, 2014.
- 13 http://it.wikipedia.org/wiki/Marcial_Maciel_Degollado ‡ Archived from the internet September 11, 2014.
- 14 Newsweek Art.cit.
- 15 Giacomo Galeazzi, Ferruccio Pinotti, Vaticano Massone, Piemme Editore, Milan, 2013.
- 16 Ferruccio Pinotti Fratelli d'Italia, BUR Biblioteca Univ. Rizzoli, Milan, 2007.
- 17 G.Galeazzi, Ferruccio Pinotti... pp. 307-317.
- 18 Compagno is the Italian version of "Comrade" a term frequently used by left-wing organizations around the globe.
- 19 Antonio Soggi, Il Quarto Segreto di Fátima, BUR Biblioteca Univ. Rizzoli, Milan, 2008.
- 20 Article in Chiesa viva - Year XLIII - n° 462 - July-August 2013.
- 21 Article in Neues Europa, bimonthly review of Stuttgart, No. 20, October 15, 1963, p. 5.
- 22 <http://www.Fatima.org/thirdsecret/neueseuropa.asp> ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 23 Art.cit. Emphasis ours.
- 24 Art.cit. in <http://www.catholicvoice.co.uk/Fatima3/ch3-2.htm#notes>, Emphasis ours. ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 25 http://www.worldprophecies.net/Pope_Pius_X_Prophecy.htm ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 26 Art.cit.
- 27 <http://vaticaninsider.lastampa.it/en/the-vatican/detail/articolo/conclave-23008/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 28 Schmeig Maria Olaf, edizioni Fazi, Rome, 2001.

- 29 http://it.nostradamus.wikia.com/wiki/Profezia_perduta_sul_Papa_nero / ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 30 La Stampa, Art.cit.
- 31 Leo Lyon Zagami, The Confessions of an illuminati (Vol.1,2,3), CCC Publishing, San Francisco 2016-2017.
- 32 Michael S.Rose, Goodbye, Good Men: How Liberals Brought Corruption into the Catholic Church, Regnery Publishing, Washington DC, 2002.
- 33 http://www.culturewars.com/2002/may02_ggm.html ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014. Emphasis ours.
- 34 http://www.upi.com/Odd_News/2003/09/10/Commentary-Aleister-Crowleys-legacy/UPI-39961063218162/ ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014. Emphasis ours.
- 35 Michael S.Rose, Priest: Portraits of Ten Good Men Serving the Church Today and Striving to Serve Him Faithfully, Sophia Institute Press, Bedford, New Hampshire, 2003.
- 36 Cfr. <http://www.catholic-hierarchy.org/bishop/bbergj.html> ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 37 “Pope Saint Pius X” in From the Housetops, No. 13, Fall, 1976, St. Benedict Center, Richmond, New Hampshire.
- 38 Theodor Reuss and Aleister Crowley, edited by Peter Koenig: O.T.O. Rituals and Sex Magick, pp. 79-107.
- 39 http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mariano_Rampolla ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 40 <http://www.parareligion.ch/books/oto.htm> ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 41 http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Papal_conclave,_1903 ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 42 http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ecclesia_Gnostica_Catholica ‡ Archived from the internet September 12, 2014.
- 43 http://www.traditioninaction.org/ProgressivistDoc/A_169_Arg-Mason.html ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 44 <http://www.grandeoriente.it/eventinewsgoi/2014/06/chiesa-e-massoneria-il-gran-maestro-bisi-mi-piacerebbe-sapere-cosa-pensa-papa-francesco-dei-liberi-mura-tori.aspx> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 45 <http://rorate-caeli.blogspot.com/2013/03/the-horror-buenos-aires-journalist.html> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014. Emphasis ours.
- 46 <http://www.novusordowatch.org/wire/bergoglio-jewish-liturgy.htm> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014. Emphasis ours.
- 47 <http://pagina-catolica.blogspot.com.ar/2012/11/fue-profanada-la-catedral-de-buenos.html> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 48 http://www.nytimes.com/2013/07/30/opinion/a-papal-surprise-humility.html?_r=0 ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 49 <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Anathema> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 50 <http://www.attivo.tv/player/news-e-informazione/dichiarazioni-shock-su-papa-francesco-bergoglio-guardate-e-diffondete-il-video.html> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.

- 51 <http://www.ioamolitalia.it/video/il-patriarca-del-patriarcato-cattolico-bizantino-condanna-di-apostasia-papa-bergoglio-perche--promuove-l-omosessualita.html> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 52 http://www.grandeoriente-democratico.com/Grande_Oriente_Democratico_saluta_il_nuovo_Papa_Francesco.html ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 53 http://www.nytimes.com/2014/06/22/world/europe/ukrainian-church-faces-obscure-pro-russia-revolt-m-its-own-ranks.html?_r=0 ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 54 <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hTLFDbSslJs> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.

EPILOGUE

by the Author

The permanent headquarters for the Congress of World Religions is located in the city of Astana, Kazakhstan, a former Soviet Union nation in Central Asia.¹ The religious campus features a classic Egyptian pyramid, loaded with ancient Sumerian, Egyptian, Illuminati and other occult symbolism throughout. CNN.com called Astana the “weirdest” capital city in the world. The logotype for the Congress of World Religions depicts uncanny similarities to the logotype of a New Age guru, perhaps portraying “Maitreya,” the False Messiah whom I suspect will play a role in presenting any new global religion to the world masses in line with what I have demonstrated in regards to the Vatican 2 project in Palestrina. The Vatican backing of a new “Universal” religion where the term “Holy Spirit” is used, or more appropriately abused, as a unifying force for this endeavor, and attributing to the Holy Spirit that which is clearly not the work of the Holy Spirit.

The resemblance of Maitreya’s logo is practically identical to the logo which represents the Congress of World Religions.² This apparent logo connection between the Congress of World Religions and Maitreya is just one of many mysteries surrounding Astana that bear further investigation. For those who have not yet noticed, the word “Astana” is a plausible anagram for the word “SATAN.”³ Lest we not forget, during the Fátima 2000 Congress in the 1990s, the now former archbishop Emmanuel Milingo made the shocking accusation that there are “Satanists in the Vatican.”

As presented earlier, in the coming years the subcutaneous injection of a microchip will be introduced to us as a wonderful and necessary device, making it appear perfectly acceptable without a second thought. But never forget this: if you let them implant that evil in your body, you will lose your freedom. Both your privacy and your life, both in the material and the spiritual sense. All this comes together as described for a distinct purpose. There is a potent Doomsday scenario that deeply involves the Vatican, and some say the main protagonist may be the Last Pope. Also bearing in mind within this context are the growing tensions at a geopolitical level, described clearly by Pope Francis since the summer of 2014, suggesting that the Third World War has already begun, in the possible Islamization of the Vatican hierarchy. This all seems to fit in with the words of the New Testament from Matthew 24: *“For many will come in my name, claiming, ‘I am the Messiah,’ and will deceive many. You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places.”*⁴

It is hard not to wake up every morning and see history repeating itself. After one hundred years since World War I, many nations seem to be on the brink of the biggest conflict in history, with the stakes higher than ever before. A 21st century world war would bring nation to “rise against nation” for the last time, this due to new technology... the use of nuclear or biological weaponry... that doesn't leave much room for survival. Pope Francis urged the world on September the 13th, 2014, to shed its apathy in the face of what he characterizes as a third world war, intoning “war is madness” at the foot of a grandiose monument devoted to soldiers killed in World War I.⁵

To demonstrate further the Vatican hypocrisy, the Holy See has appointed the German lawyer Ernst von Freyberg, a high-ranking member of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, to be a weapons dealer and president of the Voss Schiffswerft und Maschinenfabrik, a company from Hamburg active in the creation of warships.⁶ Ernst von Freyberg had been the president of the Vatican bank for a period that lasted until July, 2014. It was announced that Freyberg was replaced by Jean-Baptiste de Franssu to head the Institute for Works of Religion. This shows once again the hypocrisy of the Pope and the Vatican institutions, which is the same as the “Gay Lobby” affair, that brings to mind another passage of the Gospel According to Matthew: “Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.”⁷

I wrote this book to present an awareness of what is happening at the highest levels of the Catholic Church hierarchy. Whether you consider yourself a Christian, a Muslim, a Jew, a Buddhist or anything else, these matters of faith pertain to your world and your relationship with your Higher Self, or whatever you consider to be God. Above all the dogmas and religions that have been abused by humanity since ancient times, there is also a higher calling of personal spirituality. Let this be your guiding light. We need to know what is true and what is false concerning certain allegations made in relation to supposed prophecies or conspiracy theories. This information will make you, as a human being, aware of truth beyond all divisions. One day mankind will leave this primitive stage of understanding to embrace something truly universal, and I can assure you, it will not be the fruit of sin and perversion manipulated by the hypocritical New World Order or their Congress of World Religions.

Patriarch Kirill of Moscow and Russian President Vladimir Putin seem to understand that in this tumultuous endgame, before “the Beast” springs his trap for the rest of humanity, that perhaps they can act in opposition to the tragic manipulation by the world powers-that-be. Let’s see if in this period of “Tribulation” and “Revelation,” which is set to end in 2020, humanity can manifest the real Kingdom of God and righteousness, instead of the looming Orwellian dictatorship led by the globalist Bilderberg Club, and the evil plan that we have begun to expose. The fate of our planet and civilization, with every passing day, seems to be teetering on a perilous “razor’s edge.” On one side, there is our worst dystopian nightmare. On the other, the promise of a Golden Age.

Before closing, I would like to thank all those people who collaborated in the realization of my first book into the English language, in particular my wife Christy, my publisher and editor Brad Olsen at CCC Publishing in San Francisco, and my long-time friend and collaborator, Historian Luciano Fortunato Sciandra, for the inside information he kindly made available to me. The upcoming trilogy, “The Confessions of an Illuminati,” will clear up any other questions you may have pertaining to these hidden and sometimes disturbing subjects.

FIAT LUX... The Author

FIG. 42. The delegation of IV Congress of Leaders of World and Traditional Religions, which was held May 30-31, 2012, in Astana, Kazakhstan.

FIG. 43. The Palace of Peace and Reconciliation, also called the Pyramid of Peace, rises high above Astana, located in the northern part of the country. Photo by G. Zaphar from <http://www.panoramio.com/photo/20732440>

FIG.44. Images regarding former archbishop Milingo's participation at the Fátima 2000 Congress when he accused high members of the hierarchy in Rome of practicing Satanism. Italian and newspaper cutouts from Il Messaggero and other major daily papers that reported this stunning news.

Archbishop Milingo: "Satanists in the Vatican"

Excerpts of press clippings on page 90...

Are there men of the curia who are followers of satan? "Certainly there are priests and bishops. I stop at this level of ecclesiastical hierarchy - (Archbishop Milingo) said - because I am an archbishop, higher than this I cannot go." "In December of 1975 - the special delegate of the Pontifical council for the pastoral care of migrants has said - Paul VI said that the smoke of satan had entered into the Vatican." "He has entered - he commented - but I have not heard that anyone has seen him leave. We must pray so that he will go away." (Il Tempo 11/27/96)

The Archbishop Emeritus of Lusaka (Archbishop Milingo), presently working at the Secretariat of the Holy See for Immigrants is certainly convinced that inside the leonine walls (the Vatican) that there are among the beaucrats of the Roman Curia present today and active some followers of evil forces. The unexpected revelations of satanism has been confirmed by Malachi Martin, the ex-Secretary of Cardinal Augustine Bea. Martin was reached in Manhattan by the magazine The Fatima Crusader. According to Martin, "the prince of darkness has had and continues to have his surrogates in the court of St. Peter in Rome". The Fatima Crusader is a magazine for a Fatima movement which is active in both Americas. The North American magazine organizes periodically regional and national conferences for the study of the message of the Madonna given in 1917 to three shepherd children to the Church and humanity. Msgr. Milingo accused parts of the Vatican bureaucracy of having succumbed to the devil, while speaking yesterday at the world congress dedicated to "Fatima 2000, World Peace and the Immaculate Heart of Mary." (Il Messaggero 11/24/96)

Satan in the Vatican? When the last explosive declaration of Msgr. Milingo appeared a few days ago in the pages of the newspapers, the effervescent bishop-the African healer, had to be called to order for words which were so compromising. Inperturbably, the ex- Archbishop of Lusaka has called a press conference and ... has confirmed everything. While declaring at the same time to not want to attack the curia but calling in support to his position, none other than a Pope, "Already in 1975, in December, Paul VI said that the smoke of satan had entered into the rooms of the Vatican" and he added with a pause for effect, "no one since that time has ever said that he has exited from there." (La Nazione 11/27/96)

FIG. 45. Excerpts from Italian newspaper articles regarding Milingo's statements at the The Fátima 2000 Congress that took place in the mid-1990's, sponsored by publisher Father Nicholas Gruner.

FIG. 46. Cav. Luciano Fortunato Sciandra, Member of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem and the Pontifical Equestrian Order of St. Sylvester Pope and Martyr, shows his library collection to the author.

FIG. 47. Cav. Luciano Fortunato Sciandra as Grand Master of the the Ordo Nova Militia Templi (Militia Spiritus Sancti, Rosae+ Crucis et Graal) during a official meeting of various Knighthoods with the author present as Grand Master of the Ordo illuminatorum Universalis.

CIA Cheifs of Section (CoS) in the Vatican from 1948 to 2009*

- 1948-1951: Felton Mark Wyatt
- 1952-1959: Gerald M. Miller
- 1959-1963: Thomas Karamessines
- 1964-1965: Felton Mark Wyatt
- 1965-1967: William King Harvey
- 1967-1969: Seymour Russell
- 1969-1971: Hugh Montgomery
- 1971-1975: Howard E. "Rocky" Stone
- 1979-1981: Duane R. Clarridge
- 1981-1984: William J. Mulligan
- 1985-1987: Alan D. Wolfe
- 1987-1989: John J "Jack" Devine
- 1990-1998: ???
- 1998-2003: Jeffrey W. Castelli

2003-2006: Robert E. Gorelick
 2006-2007: Anna M. Borg
 2007-2009: John D. Peters
 2009: ???

(*) This is a list included in the appendix of the 2014 book entitled The CIA in the Vatican, originally titled La CIA en el Vaticano, authored by Eric Frattini of Lima, Peru (born 1963). Frattini is a Spanish essayist, novelist, journalist, college professor, political analyst, and intelligence expert who currently works as an external consultant and lecturer for security forces and intelligence agencies in Spain, Portugal, Great Britain, Romania, and the USA. The omissions from the period 1990-1998, and 2009 to present are for security reasons. Unfortunately, no questions can be asked—that’s how it works in the intelligence world.

CLASSIFIED CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN THE GRAND MASTER OF THE GRANDE ORIENTE D’ITALIA VIRGILIO GAITO (REGULAR ITALIAN FREEMASONRY), CARDINAL SILVIO ODDI AND POPE JOHN PAUL II DURING THE 1990s:

FIG. 48

TRANSLATION:

A..G..D..G..A..D..U.. *
UNIVERSAL MASONRY- ITALIAN COMUNION
GRAND ORIENT OF ITALY
THE GRAND MASTER

Holy Father,

It is with profound joy and honour that the here undersigned Cardinal Silvio Oddi and the lawyer Virgilio Gaito, Grand Master of the Grand Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani make your Holiness aware of the convergence of views reached by us, finding out that in the negative relations that have existed for centuries between Roman Catholicism and Freemasonry, on one side and then the other, that has been attributed with excessive importance to what divides us, neglecting completely the creed which has always united us: the need for Man, amended by vice, to elevate temples to virtue and purity to project himself in the brightness of the celestial spaces.

Opposite fundamentalism has dug a deeper wall that has not benefited anyone. Humanity has dire need of harmony to save themselves from moral destruction before a physical one. On the threshold of the third millennium the increasingly advanced and sophisticated technology, if not driven by enlightened consciousness, risks to deliver us hopelessly in the hands of Big Brother so lucidly forecasted by George Orwell which advances menacingly into the almost total indifference of a society dominated by hedonism, consumerism and, especially, the ignorance that suffocates and kills freedom.

It therefore appears in all its dramatic urgency that all the Illuminated minds, in front of the heavens, with humility accept to march together to send away from the precipice the disbanded flock. We believe this to be, in the year of World Tolerance, the categorical imperative of all those who have the exciting privilege and incommensurable responsibility to the care of souls and moral guidance.

Additional Notes by the author:

* A..G..D..G..A..D..U.. are the initials for the Italian words that stand for To the Glory of the Great Architect of the Universe -Abbreviations of technical terms or of official titles are of very extensive use in Freemasonry.

 enlightened consciousness translates in Italian: coscienze illuminate a term used by the Illuminati to define themselves.

 Illuminated minds translates in Italian: menti illuminate another term used by the illuminati to define themselves.

FIG.49

TRANSLATION:

For a long time the Grand Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani follows with full consent the great and exhausting work that your Holiness, following in the footsteps of Jesus, the truest Messenger of love to appear so far on this Earth. Around the world we are searching for a common language that unites the people, which will restore their dignity and faith in a liberating catharsis which is anxious with human wickedness * or the fragility of our human bodies  which has made us fear the irreparable for your mission.

So, fully aware of the aims pursued by Universal Masonry, that has always been devoted to the improvement of the individual for the improvement and progress of Humanity that can be reached only through love and tolerance, we feel the time has come to launch a call for reconciliation that will put an end to the secular incomprehension between the Catholic Church and Freemasonry.

In the rest of the world, indeed the latter has always carried out a philanthropic mission (it's enough to remember the International Red Cross was created by Mason and Nobel prize winner Henri Dunant) by establishing hospitals, nursing homes for the elderly, kindergartens, research centers for cancer, smallpox, polio, tuberculosis, AIDS and the most dangerous social diseases, by being on the side of the underdogs, of the suffering, the oppressed, the downtrodden.

In our country it has been asserted that the Gran Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani, in addition to intense cultural activities to stimulate the moral progress and strengthen civic consciousness, assists with the foundation of night kindergartens in Turin, available also for anyone who does not have a roof for the night. With the Foundation of the Milanese Pane Quotidiano we provide breakfast every morning to all those in need, with the Bolognese ANT, we assist cancer patients in the terminal stage, and the Florentine Association we provide care and transportation for the sick. We have sent medicine and rare kinds of comfort to the battered people of former Yugoslavia, we have raised funds and sent through the Caritas association aid to the children in Bosnia, we have sent a welcome offer for the reconstruction of the Church of Shkodër in Albania, donated ambulances equipped to various relief Agencies, we have established a network of families who guest in their homes at their own expense for long periods of time the Chernobyl children, saving them from certain cancers.

Additional Notes by the author:

* referring to the attempted assassination of Pope John Paul II.

 referring to the fragility of the Polish Pope in his later years.

FIG. 50

TRANSLATION:

The Grand Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani is present every day alongside anyone, tried by the vicissitudes of life, yearning for a word of hope and to recover their dignity, a brother among brothers, son of the same Father.

As the ways of Roman Catholicism and Freemasonry are in this direction at least parallel, we, the undersigned, believe that there is today no more reasons for opposition between the two institutions and that, instead, the two by overcoming ancient, bitter, painful disagreements and misunderstandings between them, must reach their hand to make more intense and beneficial for Humanity their work of kindness and charity.

We are in fact convinced that intolerance and fanaticism are the forces of evil against which we can and must mobilize legions of good into a true holy alliance.

This time God really wants it, because the war is not going to be bloody, there will be no burnings, murders, genocide, but we will win by force of example, of the desire to be the best, to give ourselves to others with generosity so that in every corner of the Earth everyone will have respect for themselves and others, with dignity, both conscious of their duties before their rights, will know how to elevate from the miseries of this world to look in the sky which one day will see us all connected in the chain of eternal love.

Agreeing on the analysis accomplished the undersigned submit to the wisdom and farsightedness of His Holiness the evaluation of the possible promotion of bilateral meetings at qualified levels, preceded by a special hearing from you, Holy Father, granted to the Grand Master Virgilio Gaito in the presence of the undersigned Cardinale Silvio Oddi, to concretely start the desired and mature process of rapprochement between the Catholic Church and regular Freemasonry.

FIG.51

TRANSLATION:

In the year of world tolerance such an extraordinary event would be one of the most comforting in the history of Humanity and we would be particularly happy to see it realized by your Holiness which has all the esteem of regular Masons in Italy and—we are certain—the rest of the world which, together with the undersigned Cardinal Silvio Oddi, wish you to continue for many years in your apostolate of peace.

With deep respect,
SILVIO ODDI
CARDINAL OF THE HOLY ROMAN CHURCH
VIRGILIO GAITO
GRAND MASTER OF THE GRANDE ORIENTE D'ITALIA HIS HOLINESS
JOHN PAUL II
VATICAN CITY

FIG.52

TRANSLATION:

A..G..D..G..A..D..U..

UNIVERSAL MASONRY- ITALIAN COMUNION GRAND ORIENT OF ITALY

THE GRAND MASTER

Rome, 1st of February 1996

Your Holiness,

You would want to allow someone who has the high honor, not disjoint from the great burden, to bear today the gavel of authority* of the Grand Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani formed in Milan in 1805 and since present with many twists and turns in the history of our beloved country, to extend to your Holiness and to the Catholic Church the warmest greeting for 1996, which bears the wish of harmony and peace to all men of good will as advocated by Christ and all those great Initiates who revealed to the inhabitants of this earth their divine destiny by teaching them the way of purification, of tolerance, of love which moves the sun and the other stars.

We often wondered, in studying the relations which existed for centuries between Roman Catholicism and Masonry, if, from one side or the other, they have attributed with excessive importance to what has divided us, ignoring completely what unites us forever: the need for Man, amended by vice, to elevate temples to virtue and purity, to project himself in the brightness of the celestial spaces, the ideal dimension towards which the immense Pythagoras exhorted us to look for the longest time.

Opposite fundamentalism has dug a deeper wall that has not benefited anyone because Humanity has the dire need of harmony to save themselves from moral destruction before a physical one. On the threshold of the third millennium the increasingly advanced and sophisticated technology, if not driven by enlightened conscience, will put us hopelessly into the hands of Big Brother so lucidly forecasted by George Orwell, that advances menacingly with great steps into the almost total indifference of a society dominated by hedonism, consumerism and, especially, the lack of culture that suffocates and kills freedom.

Additional Notes by the author:

* The importance of the gavel, according to Joseph F. Ford in Early History and Antiquities: “Perhaps no lodge appliance or symbol is possessed of such deep and absorbing interest to the craft as the Master’s mallet or gavel. Nothing in the entire range of Masonic paraphernalia and formulary can boast of an antiquity so unequivocally remote.”

FIG. 53

TRANSLATION:

It therefore appears in all its dramatic urgency that all the Illuminated minds, facing the heavens, with humility, accept to march together to send away from the precipice the disbanded flock. We believe this to be, in the year of World Tolerance, the categorical imperative of all those who have the exciting privilege and incommensurable responsibility for the care of souls and moral guidance.

For a long time the Grand Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani follows with full consent the great and exhausting work of your Holiness, following in the footsteps of Jesus, the truest Messenger of love to appear so far on this Earth. Around the world we are searching for a common language that unites people and will restore their dignity and faith in a liberating catharsis which is anxious with human wickedness and the fragility of our human bodies which has made us fear the irreparable for your mission.

So, fully aware of the aims pursued by Universal Masonry, which has always been devoted to the improvement of the individual for the improvement and progress of Humanity which can be reached only through love and tolerance, we feel the time has come to launch a call for reconciliation that will put an end to the secular incomprehension between the Catholic Church and Freemasonry.

In the rest of the world, indeed the latter has always carried out a philanthropic mission (it’s enough to remember the International Red Cross created by Mason and Nobel prize winner Henri Dunant) by establishing hospitals, nursing homes for the elderly, kindergartens, research centers for cancer, smallpox, polio, tuberculosis, AIDS and the most dangerous social diseases, by being on the side of the underdogs, of the suffering, the oppressed, the downtrodden.

In our country it's been asserted that the Gran Orient of Italy of Palazzo Giustiniani, in addition to an intense cultural activities to stimulate the moral progress and strengthen civic consciousness and to assist with the foundation of night kindergartens in Turin, available also for anyone who does not have a roof for the night. With the Foundation of the Milanese Pane Quotidiano we provide breakfast every morning to all those in need. With the Bolognese ANT, we assist cancer patients in the terminal stage, and with the Florentine Association, we provide care and transportation for the sick. We have sent medicine and rare kinds of comfort to the battered people of former Yugoslavia, we have raised funds and sent through the Caritas association aid to the children in Bosnia, we have sent a welcome offer for the reconstruction of the Church of Shkodër in Albania, donated ambulances equipped to various relief Agencies, we have established a network of families who guest in their homes at their own expense for long periods of time the Chernobyl children, saving them from certain cancers.

FIG.54

TRANSLATION:

So we are present each day, even without the beneficiary knowing—just as it is a good rule for each Mason to do, standing next to all tried by the vicissitudes of life, yearning for a word of hope, to recover their dignity, a brother among brothers, son of the same Father. Our roads differ perhaps in this direction or are they at least parallel? Then why not give us a hand to make our work of goodness and charity more intense and beneficial for Humanity?

The greatness of a man is not measured so much by the successes he obtains, but by the humility in recognizing his own mistakes. In the availability of a constructive dialogue with those he considers hostile or unrecoverable. Last year two Illuminated men, Yitzak Rabin and Yasser Arafat, have shown the world how true this appeal was, expressed by your predecessor at the time of the first World War against the unnecessary slaughter, which has been sealed with peace, almost miraculously. Unfortunately, a few days after a murderous hand will turn off the generous existence of Rabin, whom we discovered by obituaries as being a Freemason. Our thoughts went to the dramatic attempt against your life: still intolerance and fanaticism, forces of evil, trying to bring back Humanity to the dark ages.

But we can and we must use in contrast the legions of good in a true holy alliance. This time God really wants it, because the war is not going to be bloody, there will be no burnings, murders, genocide, but we will win by force of example, of the desire to be the best, to give ourselves to others with generosity so that in every corner of the Earth everyone will have respect for themselves and others, with dignity, conscious of your own duties, before your rights, knowing how to elevate from the miseries of this world to look in the sky that one day will see us all connected in the chain of eternal love.

FIG. 55

TRANSLATION:

With this hope, that one day—and it would be one of the most comforting in the history of Humanity—we'd love to see implemented if your Holiness will grant us a hearing, permit us to estern to you our esteem from all regular Italian Masons and-we are sure—the rest of the world, and to wish you to continue for many years in your apostolate of peace.

Happy New Year, your Holiness, we hope you will accept this with your highest consideration.

VIRGILIO GAITO
GRAND MASTER

- 1 <http://www.religions-congress.org/content/view/342/60/lang,english/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 2 See <http://333crucible.wordpress.com/maitreyas-logotype/> then compare with the logo that appears in the video clip on the Congress of World Religions web page.
- 3 <http://biblicaltimes.wordpress.com/2010/11/26/astana-kazakhstan2012/> ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.
- 4 New International Version (NIV)
- 5 http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2014/09/13/pope-francis-world-war-3_n_5815046.html ‡ Archived from the internet September 14, 2014.

6

http://www.saverianibrescia.com/missione_oggi_stampa.php?centro_missionario=archivio_rivista&rivista=2013-03&id_r=141&sezione=lettere_in_redazione&articolo=rammarico_e_disagio_per_la_nomina_del_nuovo_presidente_dello_ior_lenciclica_della_dignit_umana&id_a=5185 ‡ Archived from the internet
September 14, 2014.

7 Matthew 19:14, New International Version.

LEO LYON ZAGAMI

CONFESSIONS of an ILLUMINATI

Series by

CCC PUBLISHING
SAN FRANCISCO, CA
CCCPUBLISHING.COM

VOLUME I

THE WHOLE TRUTH ABOUT THE ILLUMINATI AND THE NEW WORLD ORDER

ISBN: 978-1888729580 • paperback

VOLUME II

THE TIME OF REVELATION AND TRIBULATION LEADING UP TO 2020

ISBN: 978-1888729627 • paperback

VOLUME III

ESPIONAGE, TEMPLARS AND SATANISM IN THE SHADOWS OF THE VATICAN

ISBN: 978-1888729665 • paperback

CCC Publishing is distributed by Independent Publishers Group (800) 888-4741, www.IPGBook.com • Follow us on: www.LeoZagami.com & www.Facebook.com/cccpublishing • www.CCCPublishing.com features the content of all of our books online, plus blogs, ebooks, discounts, and more.

TREACHERY, INTRIGUE, AND WORLD DOMINATION BEHIND THE VATICAN WALLS

The last pope narrative regained importance with the historical abdication of Pope Benedict XVI in February, 2013. His resignation led to the surprising election of Cardinal Jorge Bergoglio as the first Jesuit pope in history. It's very unusual to have two popes living in the Vatican at the same time. What's more, Pope Francis fits the profile of one whom many have prophesied to be the last, and who will oversee the final transformation and destruction of the Catholic Church. This book details the history of various prophecies, some of which were hidden away in the Vatican for hundreds of years, and predicts that the reign of the last pope will herald the beginning of "great apostasy" followed by "great tribulation."

Pope Francis: The Last Pope? Money, Masons and Occultism in the Decline of the Catholic Church also explores the recent scandals within the Catholic Church and addresses questions including: What pressures decreed the end of the pontificate of Benedict XVI? What powers have an interest for the Church to end? and What is the relationship between the Vatican and the New World Order? Ideal for anyone interested in prophecies about the end of times, Pope Francis: The Last Pope? reveals the truth about the extent of Freemasonry's influence in the Vatican and the darkness that may follow the parallel institutions, as well as fascinating investigations into the Gay Lobby, presence of Islamic prayers in the Vatican, the Jesuit agenda, the legend of the White Pope and the Black Pope, the Third Secret of Fátima, and how Benedict's resignation may fulfill an ancient prophecy. The author substantiates his research by including secret, never before seen documents, as well as hard evidence from the heart of Freemasonry and the Holy See.

Writer and researcher Leo Lyon Zagami, known for his internet "Confessions" since 2006, is the Grand Master of the Ordo Illuminatorum Universalis, a group considered by many to be the good side of the Vatican illuminati, and what is an official association and Order now based in Florence, Italy.

ISBN 978-1-888729-54-2

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

Our last articles:

Italian Illuminati investigated by public prosecutor Henry John Woodcock posted by Leo - Read...

No protests planned for Bohemian Grove event

posted by Leo - Read...

Let's all say: Ei Commander give up!

posted by Leo - Read...

About Lebanon, the Middle East and much more...

posted by Leo - Read...

To Henry Makow

posted by Leo - Read...

Background: Leo Lyon Zagami, ex-member of the Comitato Esecutivo Massonico - Masonic Executive Committee (MEC) of Monte Carlo. He was, until recently, a high level member of the Italian Illuminati, a 33rd degree freemason, a true insider and a high-member of the infamous Freemasonic P2 Lodge. He was the "prince", prepared to take over after the older Illuminati "king", Licio Gelli. He is of Illuminati aristocrat bloodline and therefore involved in the Illuminati Order since childhood.

However, Leo decided he'd had enough of all the evil he was exposed to, and a part of, and the horrifying Satanic, black magic rituals, mind control and torture that was going on inside the lodges, behind closed doors. So he left everything and fled to Norway, where he is currently residing. Since he left, he's been harassed and tortured and had his life threatened. He realized that the only way to hopefully stay alive is to expose to the world what he knows and make himself known. History shows that this is one of the best ways to survive, although nothing is for certain. Leo quickly started this website, Illuminati Confessions, where he reveals the secrets to the world, one by one. I strongly advise you to check it out and download it to your computer, in case they decide to silence him for good, and this website will be shut down. There is a lot of extremely important information here, and much of it can't be found anywhere else. Leo has also been a guest several times at Greg Szymanski's radio show.

Everything you always wanted to know about THE REAL STORY OF THE ILLUMINATI and the struggle between good and evil in the end of times, before the great surprise of 2012.

REAL STORIES AND DOCUMENTS about real Illuminati, evil satanists calling themselves Illuminati, Zionists, Freemasons, P2, GLADIO, Opus Dei, Jesuits and THE NEW WORLD ORDER.

WELCOME TO THIS SITE WHERE YOU WILL FIND ARTICLES AND MATERIAL IN ENGLISH AND ITALIAN, THE LANGUAGES OF LEO LYON ZAGAMI AKA LEO YOUNG.

"TOUR OF HOPE"

SPONSORED BY : www.darte.no

LEO ZAGAMI & GREG SZYMANSKI ANNOUNCE A SERIES OF GROUND BREAKING CONFERENCES AROUND THE UNITED STATES.

WE ARE SEARCHING FOR WILLING ORGANIZERS.
PLEASE CONTACT LEO AT:

CELL: 0047 98411581

EMAIL: illuminati@webfriend.it

The following one is a temporary list of the interested parties in the TOUR OF HOPE.

I hope we can move forward and confirm some of you for the job of issuing a CHARTER OF HOPE in your city Asap.

The minimum amount of people requested to sign the Charter of Hope are six, WHY DONT YOU JOIN? Start with your friends and with all of us around the world a new movement for TRUTH AND JUSTICE in our government.

Lets become a MOVEMENT and ask publicly to the secret societies all over the world to disclose all their secrets, and to establish an OFFICIAL COMMISSION that can investigate these matters further for the benefit of mankind.

Lets become active and build the TOUR OF HOPE so in the future me and Greg Szymanski of Arcticbeacon, can come and visit you in your city to unveil in front of you the secrets of the New World Order.

We can find together possible solutions against the evil enemy, in this difficult times.

The names on the list attached have expressed their interest in the possible creation of a Committee of Hope in their town.

Sincerely

Leo Lyon Zagami

IMPORTANT MESSAGE FOR ALL OUR FRIENDS OUT THERE

WE SUPPORT ARCTIC BEACON

THE MINIMUM FOR SURVIVAL IS $7,500.00,
PLEASE HELP! DECEMBER ARCTIC PLEDGE DRIVE

Why Donate For Freedom And Truth?

One Reader, Claudia Shulte, Tells You Why:
"Arctic Beacon is a world-class site!"

"ArcticBeacon.com should be required reading for every sentient being on this planet who's concerned about our physical and spiritual survival. Greg really is fearless: he brazenly snoops into the threats behind the threats, the lies behind the lies, and the powers behind the powers that be. His Leo Wanta series, on the trillions of dollars stolen from the American treasury and used for nefarious purposes, has been circulated all over Europe.

"One of the major 9-11 researchers, Greg is now probing the real sources of war and oppression, which are the Satanic secret societies that operate from supposedly spiritual leadership positions. His articles exposing the inner workings of the Illuminati, including a series on former highly-placed Italian aristocrat Leo Zagami, are positively mind-blowing. Read this site and listen to the radio show. You'll make connections that will make your head spin, but will also connect a lot of the dots about the mischief that's occurring now and what's being planned for the future."

If you want to continue to expose the dirty work of the Illuminati and their secret societies

DONATE NOW

To further THE TRUTH, the Arctic Beacon still needs your kind support. They are almost completely funded by listeners and readers and cannot survive without your help. We look forward to bringing you cutting edge interviews and articles on their web site and radio broadcasts in what has been called the "Alternative to the Alternative Media. Please donate this month to keep the Arctic Beacon from melting while, at the same time, supporting peace and freedom of the press.

www.arcticbeacon.com

Italian Illuminati investigated by public prosecutor Henry John Woodcock (6/27/2007)

In Italy a scandal has finally unfolded at the beginning of June related to a so called new "secret society" , an irregular masonic illuminati lobby that we have actually been exposing in our site Illuminati Confessions for many months now. This group of illuminati based in Livorno (Italy) connected to the Monte Carlo lodge practiced freemasonry under the GLUT (Gran Loggia Unita Tradizionale) of Luigi Piazza and the Grande Oriente Universale (GOU) of Mauro Lazzeri two puppets of the ex P2 working for Ezio Giunchiglia now investigated by the police that is also investigating in Milan Grand Master Francesco Toti of the Gran Loggia Scozzese indipendente d'Italia. These are dangerous and irregular masonic bodies created to influence public institutions, politics and the judicial and police organizations on behalf of the Vatican illuminati and their American CIA friends like Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri (obviously left out of the investigation).

The public prosecutor of the city of Potenza, Henry John Woodcock, is investigating the case of “secret masonry” in which 24 people are implicated amongst them the Opus Dei high level member Carlo Maria Baserga owner of Villa Leona the Opus Dei HQ's in Bologna and Arimeno Sevignani the personal assistant of P2 supremo Ezio Giunchiglia working at times for Rockefeller. Ezio has been "strangely" left out of the police investigation until now and I know it will be very difficult for Henry John Woodcock to get the real higher level people involved but let's see. Other members of these irregular lodges created by the illuminati include high-ranking members of ministries and municipal and regional councils, as well as representatives of the political party "Forza Italia" and UDC (Christian Democrats). The masonic meetings and initiations were taking place in the political HQ's of the political party UDC (ex Democrazia Cristiana) in Livorno, a party traditionally close to the Vatican and the CIA!

The public prosecutor maintains that the suspects have created a “secret society” similar to a Masonic lodge to commit crimes against the public administration, but I don't think the public prosecutor will manage to go and investigate the Universal Unity of Ezio Giunchiglia and the real puppet masters of the GLUT and the GOU Masonic Obbediences. Puppet Masters that include many so called "regular Freemasons" of the Grande Oriente d'Italia and others of the Gran Loggia d'Italia degli ALAM that are members of the Universal Unity just like Grand Masters Luigi Piazza and Lazzeri. Francesco Murgia (30o A.A.S.R) of the Grande Oriente d'Italia for example is heavily involved with Ezio Giunchiglia and he is the co-founder of the Universal Unity illuminati Clubs connected to the Monte Carlo lodge of the P2, the infamous Comitato Monte Carlo. Francesco Murgia is the lawyer of the Savoia Family (The Italian royal Family) who is defending the corrupt P2 member Vittorio Emanuele (the son of the last king of Italy) in another case investigated by Henry John Woodcock.

The judicial file already consists of more than 300 pages and has received the name of the “new P-2 lodge”, in the meantime another investigation is starting against another Grand Lodge of Freemasons based in San Marino by the public prosecutor De Magistris in Catanzaro. Many big names are involved from the political and the financial field.

So things are moving in Italy against the local illuminati sharks close to the Vatican, and we like to think that our web site has helped to contribute in some way to the latest episodes that are rocking the italian illuminati establishment .

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

No protests planned for Bohemian Grove event (7/15/2007)

The elite and secretive gathering at the Bohemian Grove in Monte Rio next week, greeted in past years by protesters, will go on this year without a formal demonstration, a longtime organizer said this week.

The reason?

Competing commitments, fatigue and limited time -- the same reasons so many other things don't get done in life, Camp Meeker activist Mary Moore said.

Moore, 72, first helped organize demonstrations outside the Bohemian Grove in 1980 and has been the primary torchbearer since as part of the Bohemian Grove Action Network. She said the protesters may have achieved their chief objective of bringing public attention to the annual rite.

"The corporate and government collusion that so impacts our lives today" is so "much more obvious to the average citizen" than it once was, she said.

The protests, which have drawn up to several hundred people, have been spearheaded over the past 27 years by a coalition of social and environmental organizations.

Though nothing formal is scheduled this year, it's still possible some critics will stake out the encampment, scheduled for Thursday to July 29, Moore said.

The all-male illuminati Bohemian Club, founded in 1872 by five San Francisco men seeking to connect these so called "gentlemen" with art, literature, music and drama, has attracted some of the nation's most powerful captains of industry and government.

Members and guests who have attended the annual two-week retreat dedicated to the ancient pagan divinity Moloch at the Bohemian Grove include presidents -- both Bushes, Ronald Reagan and Richard M. Nixon -- one-time cabinet members including Colin Powell, George Schultz and Henry Kissinger, and industrialists Stephen David Bechtel, Leonard Firestone and David Rockefeller.

The motto of the 2,700-acre grove -- "Weaving Spiders Come Not Here" -- is intended to discourage the conduct of business or world affairs during the encampment, which features elaborate rituals, dinners, plays and drag shows, speeches, drinking and parties.

The world's government and business leaders that are shaping the future without public oversight are doing it here with discussions on defense, economic and public policy topics, particularly during daily "Lakeside Talks" presented by guest speakers.

"I've been saying," Moore said, "if they would publish those lakeside talks, we would go away. I don't care if they pee on trees up there or dance around in tutus."

Well you should care dear Mary Moore...

We have already exposed in the past in my Illuminati Confessions, the connections of this powerful and sick illuminati circle (Bohemian Club) with the American Shriners, the elite of freemasonry secretly manipulated by illustrious Freemason and illuminati dictator Donald Rumsfeld and we welcome the recent publication of the list of officers and Committee members of the Bohemian Club recently received by infowars, it seems one of the Bohemian rosters has been finally exposed: http://www.jonesreport.com/articles/210607_bg.html

Let's see if the people finally wake up to the perverse activities of the elite at Bohemian Grove, activities I have illustrated so well in this article: <http://www.illuminati-news.com/2006/1210b.htm>

Enjoy a nice summer and if you are free and in the area go and give a hand to anti-illuminati Mary Moore in Monte Rio, people should stop these gatherings and become involved in the resistance.

Fight the illuminazi scum.

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

Let's all say: Ei Commander give up! (7/14/2007)

Dear Brother Georgie, why do you still want us to believe in fairy tales? Can you get it dear Bush that your policies dont work and are damaging for our planet. Why not give up dear AntiChrist quile you can.It's not difficult it only takes a minute and you could change the lifes of millions of people now living around the world in war,fear and destruction thanks to the Puppet Masters like your father,yes the great manipulator of the Vatican illuminati game George Bush Senior. Your Masters in the Vatican and Jerusalem want war and you give them war one of your illuminati motto's down at your Skull Bones grotto says that... You talk of peace dear Georgie W. and you wage war,that sounds very convenient and tipical of your New World Disorder.

We are fed up of your dirty games in clean suits , the world needs fresh and true believers and your New World Order is only creating infedels and porno addicts. You must be ready to give up for the good of mankind but Im afraid nothing better is coming after my words because these illuminati criminals working with their masonic networks are not ready to give up any of their power.

In Italy a few questions are being made at the moment and American illuminati manipulation of the italian intelligence seems to have been exposed to a certain extent by italian magistrates.

Meeting with the Committee of Hope for our weekly gathering of free young minds is always good, better then those boring

Masonic sessions with their outdated rituals in a Lodge full of old dinosaurs with no real mercy, and no real hope , so today dear George W.Bush The Committee of Hope got together in Oslo in the Capital of the Nobel Peace Prize (another award created and given by the Vatican illuminati). We are getting to be more and more every week and it seems we all have a question for you dear Georgie.

WHEN ARE YOU GONNA GIVE UP THE WAR IN IRAQ AND ALL THE OTHER WARS? Are you gonna follow your evil Masters to Hell? Well the answer is probably yes , after all we know the commitment of a true Bonesmen (from the Skull and Bones) to the illuminati cause of eternal wars a destruction untill Judgement Day. In the latest scandals to touch the illuminati scene in Italy alot of faithfull GLADIO/VATICAN servants have been touched but still alot needs to be done and the real players at the top escape scrutiny with a smile just like you dear George W.Bush.

We need to focus on the illuminati game before is to late , all their Bildebergs , their CFR, their P2's can nothing in front of the power of God and they will be punished one day sooner or later that's for sure. Our Motto: No war please

In the picture below me and Gran Master Mauro Lazzeri involved in the latest italian scandal to rock the masonic establishment in connection with the Vatican and their political allies. In the other picture illuminati dictator George W.Bush: The usual dictator...

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

About Lebanon, the Middle East and much more... (7/14/2007)

S.S. wrote:

Leo i will arrange a committee of like minded people in my area & will keep you posted on the progress. Also, as i mentioned my background is Lebanese and my father is extremely interested in Lebanese politics, you would be doing > me a great favor if you could explain the Vatican involvement with

Lebanese politics, or even direct me to an english or arabic website about the topic. thanks Wa Aleikum As Salam Assad

Reply by Leo Zagami:

Good , keep up the great work. Finding the right people is important for this project and a truly succesfull Committee of Hope. When I was active in the illuminati I went accross a couple of important Lebanese masons working with the Jesuits and the illuminati. One of them is called Khaled Nachabe, he is part of the new international Federation of P2 influenced Grand Lodges created by the Regular Grand Lodge of England (<http://www.rgle.org.uk>) .These Grand Lodges are connected to the Martinism school of the illuminati trough illustrius Brother Rui Gabirro one of the Puppet Masters of this international conspiracy connected to the Vatican, the CIA and several secret police operations in Europe and the US manipulated by these irregular Freemasons illuminati attending these High Councils. One of the other infamous Brothers involved with Khaled Nachabe in this new illuminati network of Masonic High Councils born in 2005 in London is Mr. Klaus Schmidt, a Senior Police Officer from the Bavarian State Police with more than 40 years of service, a veteran of all EU Police Missions in Albania. To cover up any trace of his masonic work and connections to the infamous illuminati of Bavaria he calls himself MW.Bro. Nikolaus Ehrenfried.Well we truly think people should check for themselves who is this great german player of the illuminati game who likes to use a false name for his masonic work well Nikolaus no Klaus . . . <http://www.intelligencesummit.org/speakers/schmidt.php> and start questioning THE INTELLIGENCE SUMMIT <http://www.intelligencesummit.org>

a evil illuminati driven organization of intelligence criminals involved in the middle like false Sheick Abdul Hadi Palazzi who we already mentioned in connection to the italian Masonic Mafia , the latest scandals and Massimo Pizza.

www.intelligencesummit.org/speakers/SheikhPalazzi.php

So we have to keep an eye on these people 'the Intelligence summit' organization and we should carefully check this document of the Regular Grand Lodge of England full of interesting people loyal to the illuminati cause like Lebanese Freemason Khaled Nachabe and others , obviously some names are false but there are some who are not afraid to expose themselves including their Grand Master HRH The Prince of Araucania, KES, OCS, KCA :

-----illuminati document----- Regular
Grand Lodge of England ANCIENT AND HONOURABLE FRATERNITY OF FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS

SIT LUX ET LUX FUIT

Grand Officer Appointments

Whereas, the Most Worshipful Masonic High Council for England and Wales, being in Grand Assembly on the 25th of February 2005, and later being in special session, on the above date did by resolution, duly ratified, agree with their Masters and Wardens and Grand Officers to go into convention on the aforesaid date, adopt a Grand Lodge Constitution, to establish and consecrate in due form a Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons for England and Wales, under the style and title of the Most Worshipful Regular Grand Lodge of England. This being agreed to by the Members of the Masonic High Council, the Grand Assembly proceeded to elect and install on the 5th March / 21st April / 23rd June / 29th September 2005 / 16th September 2006 / 4th November 2006 / 28th April 2007:

HRH The Prince of Araucania, KES, OCS, KCA Grand Master of the Craft Freemasonry

The Masonic High Council the Mother High Council

ANCIENT AND HONOURABLE FRATERNITY OF FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS

Elected Officers

Following the successful Grand Assembly of the MHC the Mother High Council meeting in Florence, Italy on the 28th of April 2007, we are pleased to announce all the Regular Masonic Jurisdictions of our Federation that the following Officers were proposed, seconded and elected by unanimous vote to their respective offices and duties.

President - MW Bro. Nikolaus Ehrenfried, MHC

Vice Presidents - MW Bro. Dušan MIKUŠ, MHC - MW Bro. Pasquale Cerofolini, MHC - MW Bro. Serge Bouthemy, MHC - MW Bro. Sean Wilmore, MHC

Secretary General - RW Bro. Dimitrij Klinar, MHC

Deputy Secretary Generals - MW Bro. Joseph Burris, MHC - RW Bro. Brian L. Malcolm, MHC - MW Bro. Juan Vicente Núñez, MHC - MW Bro. Carlos L. Pacchioni Valdez, MHC

Treasurer General - MW Bro. J. Siegfried Tonje, MHC

Deputy Treasurer General - MW Bro. Alex Rem, MHC

Chancellor - RW Bro. Jan ASCHE, MHC

Pro Chancellor - MW Bro. Regis LLerena Paredes, MHC - RW Bro. Ivan Pedrazas, MHC - MW Bro. Julio César Duarte González, MHC

Grand Inspector Generals for South America - MW Bro. G. Arisatofanes, MHC - MW Bro. Uatau Brasil de Azevedo, MHC - RW Bro. Juan Calmet Podestá, MHC - RW Bro. Emiliano Lepe Caballero, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Central America - MW Bro. Ricardo Rivas Andrade, MHC - RW Bro. Luis Alberto Serrate M., MHC

Grand Inspector Generals for the USA - MW Bro. Joe Vilanueva, MHC - MW Bro. Carlton Brigham, MHC

Grand Inspector General for the Middle East - MW Bro. Khaled Nachabee, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Western Europe - RW Bro. Steve Philips, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Eastern Europe - MW Bro. Boris Oti, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Northern Europe - RW Bro. Brian L. Malcolm, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Southern Europe - MW Bro. Rodolfo Arrigucci, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Central Europe - RW Bro. Aleksander Klinar, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Western Asian Levant - RW Bro. Marc BENVENISTE, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Oceania - RW Bro. Thomas Darwin, MHC

Grand Inspector General for North Africa - RW Bro. Francesco Lo Iudice, MHC - RW Bro. Hocine BACHAGA, MHC

Grand Inspector General for East Africa - MW Bro. J. Siegfried Tonje, MHC

Grand Inspector General for West Africa - MW Bro. J. Siegfried Tonje, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Central Africa - MW Bro. J. Siegfried Tonje, MHC

Grand Inspector General for Southern Africa - MW Bro. J.

Siegfried Tonje, MHC

The Regular Grand Lodge of England

The Regular Grand Lodge of England is the governing body of Regular Craft Freemasonry in England.

Contact the Secretary General Office:

ENGLAND

RW Bro. Steve Phillips Grand Secretary

Email: MHCRGLE@aol.com

FRANCE

Regular Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of France Grande Loge des Maçons Réguliers Francs et Acceptés 91, Rue du FBG ST HONORE 75008 Paris, France

Email: hcmfranceglmrfa@gmail.com

SLOVENIA

Masonic High Council of Slovenia

RW Bro. Dimitrij KLINAR, MHC/ SI

Email: mhcslovenia@gmail.com

SPAIN

District Grand Lodge of Spain

Email: teufen@gmail.com

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

MW Bro. Joseph Burris, MHCUSA Secretary General

Email: mhcura@gmail.com

MIDDLE EAST Khaled N. Nachabe Grand Inspector ME, MHC Lebanon Mobile: + 9613956450

E mail: mhclebanon@gmail.com

ITALY

Grande Oriente Federale Regolare Dei Liberi Muratori D'italia

Alto Consiglio Dei Liberi Muratori Regolare D'Italia

Parlamento Massonico Regolare Italiano

MW Bro. Gianfranco Funari, MHCIT-R

Email: funarigianfranco@virgilio.it

As Salam Aleikum Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

To Henry Makow (7/7/2007)

Thank you Henry for what you are doing, and thanks for the italian article :) on freemasonry. I know the characters involved very well and the work of the excellent Rita Pennarola , I already spoke of some of them like Massimo Pizza and false Sceick Abdul Massimo Palazzi in my site .They are two terrible individuals connected with the illuminati spy and assassin Scaramella http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mario_Scaramella

These idiots really think they are invincible but Henry J. Woodcock knows his job very well, though further investigations in this intricate web of italian illuminati seems always to be stopped when the high levels are touched trust me dear Henry.Monsignor Camaldo his a Vatican thief and a masonic criminal that should be also stopped but my dear Henry these kind of people seem immune to any attack and Camaldo his a big guy in the Vatican hierarchy connected to the head of the roman Catholic illuminati in Rome the Princess Alesssandra Borghese ... you can find more about her in this interesting article <http://www.korazym.org/news1.asp?Id=16572> she comes from a long and ancient family line of illuminati criminals the Borghese family with many Popes in their fold.Check her moves and the people she meets on a regular basis and you will understand that nothing as ever changed in Rome since ancient times.

Rome is the city of eternal manipulation and mind control over millions of idiots in the world trough the Catholic Church their obscure medium of power used to capture the mass of sheep ready to do anything for a blessing. Freemasonry his used in these networks of Vatican power thats why Monsignor Camaldo and Princess Alessandra Borghese are members of important Vatican blessed Knightood Orders connected to secret Masonic Orders in the hands of the italian aristocracy.

The Italian aristocracy his also traditionally inclined to became part of the Italian intelligence comunity just like the english aristocrats but the italian intelligence comunity his full of real and also hope to be aristocrats all working for the illuminati of course with no shame, all with close ties to the US intelligence and the Vatican just like Massimo Pizza involved in the Somaliagate investigation in italy

<http://www.archivio900.it/it/articoli/art.aspx?id=7484>

We have to wake up the people out there to what is realy happening in Italy because the rest of the world is not much better and the Vatican influence on international affairs his everywere to be seen. We obviously have in this international picture of manipulators also the Zionist element with their 2000 year old deal with the Roman aristocracy (mafia) for the ultimate manipulation of humankind trough the Vatican imperium. To fight the decadent roman aristocracy yesterday as today seems a must they are simply criminals just like their Zionist friends.

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

NEW SITE ARCHIVES

ARTICLES 1-10

ARTICLES 11-20

ARTICLES 21-30

ARTICLES 31-40

ARTICLES 41-50

ARTICLES 51-60

ARTICLES 61-70

ARTICLES 71-80

ARTICLES 81-90

ARTICLES 91-100

ARTICLES 101-110

ARTICLES 111-120

ARTICLES 121-130

OLD SITE ARCHIVES

We are working to restore as soon as possible the contents of our old Illuminati Confessions website previously hosted at squarespace.com which unfortunately has closed down under pressure from the Illuminati.

ARTICLES 1-5

ARTICLES 6-15

ARTICLES 16-25

ARTICLES 26-35

ARTICLES 36-45

ARTICLES 46-55

ARTICLES 56-65

ARTICLES 66-75

ARTICLES 76-85

ARTICLES 86-95

ARTICLES 96-105

ARTICLES 106-115

ARTICLES 116-125

ARTICLES 126-135

ARTICLES 136-145

ARTICLES 146-155

ARTICLES 156-165

ARTICLES 166-175

ARTICLES 176-185

ARTICLES 186-195

ARTICLES 196-204

Illuminati Patents revealed for the first time in the world!

Note: copy and paste the images below and enlarge them in order to read them better

RITE ANCIEN ET PRIMITIF DE MEMPHIS ET MISRAIM

We, Docteur Nicholaj Frisvold 33°; 90°; 97°, of the Ancient and Primitive Rite of Memphis-Misraim, consecrated by Msgr. Michael Paul Bertiaux in the Oratory of Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A on the 8th of March 1997, do hereby attest and verify that Our Most Beloved Brother in the Gnosis Leo Young Zagami has been elevated and consecrated to the Most Sublimes and Highest Degrees of the Ancient and Primitive Egyptian Rite.

Grand Inspector General 33°

Souverain Grand Maître Absolu de l'Ordre Egyptien de Misraim 90°

Grand Conservateur de Memphis 95°

Due to this fact, We confer upon Leo Young Zagami the authority to initiate and consecrate in the lineage of the Franco-Haitian Tradition of the Ancient and Primitive Rite of Memphis-Misraim and to celebrate the mystical and esoteric rites of the Egyptian Gnosis, in all lodges, temples and sanctuaries of the Rite as Hierophant.

Given from the Orient of Polaris, the Valley of Oslo in the Oratory of Enoa on the 3de of march 2002 of the Common Era. In proof of this witness Our seal and signature:

Handwritten signature of Nicholaj Frisvold
+ Ophiohelpe Master Azoth
e/c

Msgr. Nicholaj Frisvold 33° 90° 97

ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS

Do what Thou Wilt shall be the Whole of the Law!

Let it be known to all the bretheren that Leo Young Zagami on this day, the 3de of march in the year 2002 of the Common Era did received the initiation into the VIII^o of the Order of Oriental Templarism.. He received his initiation in the Inner Sanctuary of the Adytum Azothos Lodge, a Lodge conservating and preserving the gnosis of the Franco Haitian Templars and regular Oriental Templarism. He will with this charter in hand be constituted to set up and build a chapter of the Ordo Templi Orientis according to the light bestowed upon him by his angles and spiritual guardians. He is to remain autonomous in any creation he will build upon this charter.

His initiation was performed in the Sanctuary of Polaris located in the Valley of Oslo in Norway. May the Gnosis inspire him to work his Will according to the Law of Agape.

Love is the Law Love under Will!

In proof of this fact watch Our Hand and Seal;

Grand Master ~~Elisabeth~~ Msgr Nicholaj Friskold
In the Valley of Oslo, 3de of march 2002-c.e.

FRATERNITAS ROSECRUCIANA ANTIQUA
TRADIZIONE GNOSTICA KRUMM-HELLER
THE SOVERAIGN COMMANDATORY OF NORTHERN EUROPE

In nomine Patris (Ab), Filii (Ben), et Spiritus Sancti (Vernach Hakodech)

To Whom It May Concern:

Let It be known that I, Sar Mar Nicholaj Frisvold, Sovereign Commander of the Fraternitas Rosecruciana Antiqua of the Lodge known as the SCHEMESH POLARIS LODGE, situated in the Holy City of Oslo in the Northern Gate of the Gnosis on this day, the 2nd of November in the year 2001 of the common era has given unto our beloved brother:

Fr.°, Leo Young Zagami

The authority to operate a lodge under the jurisdiction of the Northern Europe in London, Britain. The name of the lodge will be known as CAGLIOSTRO LODGE and his position will be known as DIRECTOR DE AULA. This charter is given in confidence and trust that the spirit of rosecrucianism and chivalry will be maintained within his fold. There will be unto Fr.°, Leo Young Zagami to set out the curriculum for study in the order at his own discretion and vision, behold he trust that the initiatic flame within burns as a guiding light for the development of the order. The Lodge will benefit from a high degree of autonomy and the aid and guidance of the Mother Lodge will be used according to the need and will of the members of the CAGLIOSTRO LODGE.

So may it be AMEN,°, AMEN,°, AMEN,°.

Nicholaj Frisvold
Sovereign Commander R.
Schemesh Polaris Grand Lodge, London
2nd of November 2001

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

FRIENDS' SITES

Signoraggio.info

Centro Studi Monetari

Arctic Beacon \(Greg Szymanski\)

Illuminati News

Dark Truth

11-59

Redicecreations.com

The Kentroversy Papers

Northern Resistance

Rex Templar

Save the males

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

BIOGRAPHY OF LEO LYON ZAGAMI AKA LEO YOUNG

RECORD PRODUCER - RADIO PRESENTER - CLUB DJ -WANNA BE ILLUMINATI :)

RECORD PRODUCER

DISCOGRAPHY

YEAR - TITLE- ARTIST

1988 "Beat Romance" - Backstage / Lunatic Records - Disco Magic (Italy)

1990 "Shining" - Brothers Brigade (Leo Young, Cirillo, Markie) / White Label (UK)

1991 "True Underground Sound of Rome Vol. 1" - Male Productions (Leo Young , Mauro Tannino, Chicco Furotti) / UMM (Italy) - Male Productions (UK)

1992 "True Underground Sound of Rome Vol. 2" - Leo Young, Mauro Tannino, Chicco Furlotti / Male Productions (UK)

1992 "Golem" (double vinyl LP) - Leo Young / MBG (Italy)

1993 "The Order" (EP) - The Order / Male Productons (UK & Italy)

1994 "I need you Blitz" - Leo Young / Animus (Italy)

1994 "Dirty Melody" - Eiffel Music & Leo Young / Animus (Italy)

1994 "The Numerical Value" - Music Institute (UK) / Music Institute (UK), Sharp (UK). (Listed as one of Tony De Vit Top 10 tracks of all time!)

1994 "The Question" - Cult Status (Leo Young and Marco Funari) / Music Institute (UK)

1995 "In Geneva Vol. 1" - Leo Young & Direct Courant / Strong House Records/Amato (UK). (Charted by Erik Morillo in his top ten tracks for 1995!)

1995 "So true I want You" & "Temple of trouble" - Leo Young and Nigel Champion (N-Joy) / CSMF (UK). (Prodigy's record label!)

1996 "True" - Leo Young & Don One (alias Mark Bell alias Shaboom!) / KTM, Tresor (Germany), Otherside (Chicago USA) (Marshall Jefferson's Label)

1997 "Cosmic Land" (Triple vinyl LP) - Leo Young featuring Mr Beef / KTM, Tresor (Germany)

1997 "African Rhapsody" - Leo Young & Mr. Beef / Mama Records (UK)

1997 "Spy in Rio" - Leo, Laj & Mr. Beef / Spectrum (UK)

1997 "Secret Mission" - Leo Young & Marco Funari / Music Institute (UK)

1997 "The Sicilian Recipe" (EP) - Leo Young & Mr. Beef (with Strong help by Amato himself...) / Strong Jazz Records /Amato (UK)

1997 "From Russia with Funk" - Leo Young and Richard Whaterhouse featuring Steve "Bongo" Young/ Pronto (UK)

1997 "High Energy Breakdown" - Dub Duo vs. LNL featuring Claudio Coccoluto / Pronto (UK)

1997 "Psychedelic Billy" - Leo Young & The Subiaco Project (Mr Angel, Pulcinelli, Giuseppe Mari) / Pronto (UK)

1997 "Not so fantastic 3" - Ray Mang, Lee Tong and additional interference by John Stitch (Dan from Idjut Boys!) / Mangled (UK)

1998 "Beyond the Stars" - Leo, Laj & Mr. Beef / Spectrum (UK)

1998 "The Roman Funk Front EP" - (L.Young,L.Pulcinelli,C.Vincenzini) (DOUBLE PACK EP) Leo Young featuring Mr Angel/ Disorient (UK & Japan) *

1998 "Roman Funk Front Vol II" featuring Daniele Baldelli / Pronto (UK) *

1998 "The Reality is very different EP" - The Young Brothers the Christian and Pulcinella (includes unreleased track by Luigi Pulcinelli / Pronto (UK) *

1998 "Mystic Voyages" - Leo Young, Laj, Mut Koru (limited 500 copies World Cup 98 release) / Pronto (UK)

1998 "The Scene was" - The Young Brothers & Vincencini Pronto Recordings (UK) *

1999 "The Roman Funk Front Vol. III" (DOUBLE PACK EP) - Leo Young & DJ Vincenzini featuring Daniele Baldelli, Mr Angel, and Sebastian Young / Pronto Recordings (UK) *

1999 "Let me be weird" - The Young Brothers & Vincencini featuring Baldelli / Pronto Recordings 010 WHITE LABEL ONLY (UK)

1999 "La b combination" - Leo Young / Sniff (France)

1999 "The Final Sax & Sex Version" - Young & Vincencini featuring M. Casale / Sniff (UK)

1999 "Mangled 005" - Ray Mang & Lee Tong mangled (UK) *

1999 "The Afro Porn Adventures of Leo Young" - Leo Young featuring Mr Angel and Luigi Pulcinelli / Prosniff LP (UK) *

2000 "My Gitana" - The Leo Magic Orchestra / People records (UK) *

2001 "The poor brother of Pete" - Lee Tong / Lowlands-Surprise Records (Belgium) *

2001 "The Magickal Childe" - Leo Young/ Tummy Touch (UK), Baza (Russia) 2002 *

2003 "Cosmic" (remix) - Sedona vs. Roswell Leo Young / Eletrick Soul (New Jersey USA)

IN ADDITION TO THIS LEO YOUNG HAS ALSO RELEASED FROM HIS OWN LABELS (PRONTO RECORDINGS, PROSNIFF, ARISTOCRATICA) TRACKS FROM THE FOLLOWING ARTISTS: TOMMI WHITE (ICELAND), TRULZ and ROBIN (NORWAY), DJ VINCENZINI (ITALY), GIANCARLINO B. (GOA CLUB ROME) AND WAS CO-OWNER OF THE HISTORIC ITALIAN MALE PRODUCTIONS RECORD LABEL AND RAVE MANAGEMENT FROM 1990 to 1992.

In 1997 Leo founds the Pronto Recordings record label in Brixton (London) and with the promotional help of Tony Rossano, who was at that time his press agent (later involved in running Strut Records and currently also a successful DJ), he manages to launch the Pronto phenomenon worldwide, releasing between 1997 and 2000 a total number of 11 masterpieces known to many as Pronto Classics.

RADIO PRESENTER

In December 1983 Leo gets his first radio show called DJ MUSIC on the local catholic radio station Radio Valle dell'Aniene run by the famous Vatican showbusiness priest Don Mario Pieracci now Monsignor Mario Pieracci now personal assistant of Cardinal Ruini (www.donmario.it). This possibility was given to him because since the tender age of 10, Leo was involved in catholic radio shows for kids, already showing his talent for entertainment and a big interest for dance music, which was very unusual for his young age. In 1986 while visiting the local hairdresser for a nice haircut (one of Leo's fixations), he gets to meet the director of a commercial regional radio, who had been listening to his show and proposed him a more suitable public for his music...and that's it! Leo starts the most successful show on regional radio, soon to be broadcasted by 5 different stations and called BABILONIA "MUSIC FROM THE FUTURE", a show that deliberately challenged the Italian radio establishment by broadcasting for the first time electro and early house music for 3 hours every day no-stop. In the meantime continuing his collaboration with his media mentor Don Mario on a TV show called VJ MUSICA for a local catholic TV. A very successful show for this local TV which was re-run later on for many years by Don Mario for the bigger audience of his regional TV Rete Blu. The eccentric TV show featured Leo's very own personal pioneering experiments (1987-88) with the TV medium combining a sort of mad reality TV and music videos for a total of 93 episodes!

In 1990, after Leo became one of Italy's most respected DJs, he was invited by his dear friend Luca Cucchetti (currently working on Italian RAI Radio 2) to join one of Italy's more successful dance music shows called CENTRO SUONO SOUND SYSTEM on the famous roman black music station Radio Centro Suono(www.radiocentrosuono.it), where only a year later he will be having as guests the famous English group the Prodigy (who published in 1995 one of Leo's most obscure releases on their own imprint CSMF).

In 1994 Leo hosted also for a brief period of 4 months a very funny night talk show on a local roman radio, and in 1995 he became part of the now famous HOUSE MACHINE TEAM and hosted shows on Swiss National radio COLOUR 3 .

For a few years Leo was involved with House Machine, a radio show that is broadcasted in several different countries and everywhere in Italy. Though he has been too busy to work for them lately, he still supports them and occasionally drops in.

Leo has also been the first foreign radio presenter to broadcast in Russia in 1997 with a 4 hours special dedicated to the history of dance music, and since then has become a popular figure in Russian entertainment with his last radio show being broadcasted nationwide by 54 radios! (Russia is a big place!).

Leo has also been hosting occasional shows on Icelandic National Radio with music. Working with two of Iceland's most respected comedians he finds that only Iceland can take his dark humour fully, so the rest of the world will have to wait until they are ready to appreciate Leo's comedy talents... the Great Comedy of Pan!

He has also been guested in some of the most prestigious dance radio stations in Europe, like Kiss FM in London, where he also delivered a special mix show in the year 2000, and Kiss Fm in Berlin, plus many more occasional shows all over the place, like his very hilarious shows on national Norwegian radio NRK with Pål Strangefruit or on The Voice 104.8 (Oslo) with G-Ha. Let's just say that Leo is the only DJ to have broadcasted in every corner of Europe, from his native Sicily to the extreme north of Murmansk in the last 20 years.

For his achievements all over the world he has been awarded publicly in Rimini in 1998 from the Italian National Radio 2 (RAI) and from Italy's number one radio Dj and authority Claudio Cecchetto the SUPREME DJ AWARD as being one of Italy's 20 best Dj's of all time, something that finally made his family back in Sicily and his beloved mother in Rome proud. Soon after Leo was invited to RAI HQ in Milan to host as a very special guest Italy's number one show the Italian TOP 10, which that day reached nearly 3 million listeners! For several years Leo also collaborated with Italy's most successful commercial radio Radio Dimensione Suono (www.rds.it). His childhood friend Carlo Antonucci, who is now the Director, still remembers with joy those early days in their little studio were they started BABILONIA music that definately was the FUTURE...

CLUB DJ

As early as 1984 Leo was invited to perform his first DJ set in the garage of a friend that loved the dance approach of his radio show and wanted him to try something new by working with a crowd. Leo was already experimenting with Dj equipment since the age of 10 and thanks to a friend of his father, a famous bass player called Tony Wamsley (co-founder of FLYING RECORDS in Naples), he started to really love what club Djs were doing, mixing two different records at the same time for the first time in history. He made sure that Tony regularly sent tapes from legendary USA radios like PHILLY 99 FM in Philadelphia and WBLS in NY, sources of much of his early musical inspiration. In the beginning of 1986 another radio DJ and dear friend Carlo Antonucci lets him work for the first time in a club and that's it! A move that will change Leo's life forever, because soon after he will start to DJ all over central Italy. In 1987 he becomes resident of the historical club LEGENDS in London where VIP's like Mick Jagger and Paul Weller (spinning records occasionally) use to dance to Leo's Djing! So how did he do it?

disciple

Well, Leo is the grandson of a very eccentric lady known to the public as the writer ANNE CUMMING and the actress FELICITY MASON. So who was this person that helped his grandson to become one of Europe's leading DJ's ?

She died in 1993, but her legacy and her work continues to bring admiration from all quarters. FELICITY MASON was one of the few living disciples of the master russian actor MICHAEL CHEKHOV (www.utoronto.ca/slavic/tsq/01/chekhovwest.html) and was described by her dear friend WILLIAM BURROUGHS (<http://artnetweb.com/iola/journal/081197.html>) as being the lady of the future... FELICITY MASON introduced Leo to the PET SHOP BOYS duo in 1983 who celebrated with him in 1986 the number one hit WEST END GIRLS on EMI in one of his famous pasta parties, where Bronsky Beat and other 80's icons were running around the place. Most importantly Felicity introduced him to BRION GISIN (www.thameshudsonusa.com/new/fall03/528438.htm), one of the most inspirational people of the BEAT GENERATION, inventor of the DREAM MACHINE and creator of the CUT UP TECHNIQUE later on used by BURROUGHS for magickal experimentation. Felicity got Leo to spend a lot of time with this man who the Rolling Stones have always worshipped as a true Master, and that for Leo was another family friend that will inspire him for the rest of his life. In the meantime Leo's task as a disciple of this eccentric bunch was to cook pasta for the starving underground writer and dear friend Terry Wilson who wrote the celebrated underground novel D'Train and PLANET R-101 with Brion Gisin. Terry Wilson (www.creationbooks.com/frameset.asp?p= http://creationbooks.com/titles/1840680474.html), practiclly living with Leo and his grandmother at that time also became another source of inspiration for the young lion pasta king and sorceror's apprentice....Historical dialogues from that period can even be found in the record production of the famous BILL LASWELL (www.silent-wather.net/billaswell/discography/collect1/fileunderburroughs.html).

But FELICITY MASON was also ANNE CUMMING. Leo Young's grandmother was also known all over the world for her outrageous books "THE LOVE HABIT" and "THE LOVE QUEST" and a real star of the sexual revolution. Most of all she was Leo's first manager and got him his first important DJ residency at London's most known 80's joint called LEGENDS (what an appropriate name for a place to start ...) Not only did she get Leo his first international Dj residency, but she also financed him in going to learn more about recording by becoming a student of the famous London production duo DOUBLE TROUBLE (remember them with the REBEL MC?) at the famous 80's North London DJ studio called NOISEGATE STUDIOS, where CJ MACKINTOSH was starting to PUMP UP THE VOLUME at that time ...history of house...

So in summer 1987 Leo was Djing at LEGENDS, and he was about to start a new night with MARK MORE (S-EXPRESS) and his friend FRANCO PRESTA, but unfortunately he had to go back to Italy where at that time you had to do an obligatory year of bollocks in the military before getting your passport back.

Hence Leo stays in Italy participating in the DMC Italian final and later becoming involved in creating the first rave in Italy together with his friends DJ Bismark and Enzo (Ragazzi Terribili). Leo was in fact officially recognized as the inventor of Italian raves by the Italian newspaper LA REPUBBLICA (article by RICARDO LUNA summer 1990).

He worked a lot as a dj alongside Italian house legend CLAUDIO COCCOLUTO in the 1988 period (Crocodile...) before entering the airforce and becoming involved in running the variety department of the Ministry of Defence, a truly hilarious task that Leo had to follow during the day. However at night he was back in the clubs with a residency in the Club Dream with Marco Moreggia (Ragazzi Terribili), located in Via Veneto, home of La Dolce Vita which years earlier had seen his grandmother FELICITY MASON working for FELLINI, the king of cinema. And yes, that's why Leo is half Italian, half English. Leo's mother came to Italy with Felicity, who was working in the Italian cinema business of the 50's and 60's, and she found the true Sicilian man....Leo's father called Elio! Between 1989 and 1994 Leo played in hundreds of clubs and raves across Italy and Switzerland until he decided to leave Rome for a more suitable international location like London (the city of his mother). The fact that he had been re-opening a church and using it as a venue for his Sunday morning personal House Mass disturbed the Vatican boys and it became clear that his work in Italy was starting to get too much attention from certain "authorities", not being very happy with this growing trend of Body and Soul...

NOTORIOUS CLUBS IN ITALY WHERE HE WORKED REGULARLY INCLUDED:
COCORICO' (RICCIONE)
RED ZONE (PERUGIA)
IMPERIALE (TIRRENIA) UNDERGROUND CLUB (ROME)
ALIEN (ROME)
PIPER (ROME)
TENAX (FLORENCE)
CENTRAL PARK (FLORENCE)

Leo was also one of the biggest rave organizers and with his dear friends Chicco Furlotti and Mauro Tannino put together between 5000 to 10000 people every week with names like Derrick May, Juan Atckins, Joey Beltram, Dave Angel. Most of all he was the first person to bring UNDERGROUND RESISTANCE (including at that time JEFF MILLS) to Europe and discovering a very young talent called Matthew B, nowadays known as BUSHWAKA and many other techno kings of the future that joined him in those early years.

But he was also a lover of house music, introducing to Italy the concept of art/house club and bringing to Italy together with his friend Adriano Chiarini people like Gemini, Cajmere, Marshal Jefferson, Harvey (MOS), Bobby Konders, and many more and actively promoting house as a chilled midweek alternative to techno, but most of all launching the legendary Friday night house sessions at the UONNA CLUB in Rome with dear friend Dj Andrea Torre from Radio Centro Suono that included for the first time in club history (1990/91/92) art exhibitions and house music.

Leo and the arts include the amazing work done between 1993 and 1995 with the contemporary dance company of Enzo Cosimi called BLITZA OPENING, which Leo and this famous dance company performed in the best theatres in Italy, and brought with great success also abroad at the internationally acclaimed center for modern arts in Paris le Bobur a work dedicated to the fragility of the hero. Leo composed 45 minutes of music for this special event that brought him to Paris and the home of modern art, where years earlier he had been visiting with his friend Brion Gisin the famous DREAM MACHINE. It was like this that Enzo Cosimi described back then the papers that will bring us to Paris in March 1994: "heroism, supermanism, personal mythology, a vigorous prospective of the world. In fact, what is the definition of the hero in classical terms if not a chain of virile attributes? To begin with the hero is a loner. Alone, in as much he is superior to all. Without equals, because incomparable. Only by passing the borders, entering a stranger territory, he can find an enemy of the same caliber". (Leo moved to England soon after this performance).

In 1995 Leo also participated to IL FESTIVAL DEL CINEMA DELLE OMBRE taking place in the PALAZZO DELLE ESPOSIZIONI in Rome, where he performed with 5 musicians (including Paolo Modugno) a new film score for the 1924 muted classic "The Greed", obtaining great response from the film critics of the Italian newspapers the day after. This event was organized and put together by the mind of a great Roman intellectual called Stefano Ottaviani, "IL COLONELLO", who had always supported Leo's work through the years, as another dear friend of Leo, an eccentric Italian journalist called Dino D'Arcangelo from the prestigious La Repubblica.

In England Leo finds his first residency at the Mass, an ex-church in the center of Brixton and becomes involved with running his own DJ agency for a couple of years to help pay the bills and make new friends in such a competitive town. Soon after pushed from his talent to innovation, he starts to create another movement and joins forces with DJ Harvey, at that time resident of the Ministry of Sound to reshape the London scene with what Leo defines as Cosmic music, a kind of esoteric sound born in the north of Italy at the end of the 70's by Djs like Daniele Baldelli (Leo's music Master!), Claudio Rispoli detto Moz-art, TBC, l'Ebreo, and other pioneers of sound made in Italy.

Leo finds that the inspiration that Harvey and the other Djs of the Ministry of Sound get from people like Larry Levan or Ron Hardy is something they have in common, because Leo's respect for the Dj masters has always been of a religious nature, respectful of their position as priests of the new Aeon. This was a very interesting point of contact for moving them forward in the world of Cosmic music, and the Italian music masters that unfortunately never had the international exposure of Dj's like Levan who were working in NY. Leo starts promoting this Cosmic sound during his legendary pasta dinners and soon after starts a new night in London, COSMIC NIGHTS ABSOLUTELY NO HOUSE, although running for a brief time features as a revolutionary idea in the UK scene!

Who was on board playing those new vibes with Leo? Well, check for yourselves and make your mind up on how the so called NEW FUNK scene was born....

RHYTHM DOCTOR (MAMA RECORDS)

IDJUT BOYS

HARVEY

LEWIS COPELAND and JP (VINYL JUNKIES)

DAVE HILL and JULES (NUPHONIC) and obviously LEO YOUNG as the resident

Let's see what ID magazine actually said about Leo's night in the issue of AUGUST 1996:

"Light years away from the crap suits in afros and retro piss-up nights, London is spawning a cool subterranean disco, deep house and fusion scene. The sound is fucked up, abstract and dubwise grooves from old-school US gear like the Loft Classics bootlegs to new-school UK house labels U-Star, Matrix, Nuphonic, Atlantic Jaxx and Other. Check Cosmic nights for absolutely no house. Essentially these crews are playing dance with a quality threshold, avoiding Nu-NRG and Ectasy to take everything that bit deeper."

Leo has played in the following London clubs between 1995 and 2002:

Bar Rumba

333

Ministry of Sound

93 East

Pacific

The Mass

Happiness Stans

Notting Hill Gate arts club and resident of the club SUGAR in Lemmington SPA alongside friend and colleague the Rhythm Doctor.

In 1996 Leo starts to spread his Cosmic revolution around Europe with a new residency at the club TRESOR in Berlin playing regularly 10 to 12 hours sets!

In the same year he prepares his new album called Cosmic Land for TRESOR's record label KTM.

In 1997 he starts travelling around Scandinavia Djing regularly in Helsinki (FINLAND) and getting involved with the up-and-coming scene of Iceland. With his friends GUS GUS and Tommy White they start to promote the Cosmic sound, and the Cosmic man himself finds on this island a sort of second home full of intelligent people making intelligent music. He discovers the lost Thule always ready for party action, and they called it the island of the devil, so he loves it.

In December 1997 Leo arrives also in Russia for his first visit to Saint Petersburg, home of all the revolutions including Leo's up-and-coming Cosmic revolution!

Yes, Leo loves Russia & Russia loves Leo. That's why his latest album has sold more copies there than anywhere else in 2002, and Leo's favourite city after Rome is definately Saint Petersburg.

Russia has also awarded Leo with a great honour. In February 2002 he was invited by the Russian government to play at the BOLSHOI THEATRE in MOSCOW, a truly historical event for Leo, dedicated to raise money for children victims of terrorism. The cost of the ticket was 1000 dollars per person and almost all the foreign ambassadors in Moscow attended the event which was also featuring legendary drummer Billy Cobham.

LEO WAS THE FIRST DJ IN RUSSIAN HISTORY TO PLAY AT THE BOLSHOI THEATRE!

In 1998 Leo's Cosmic music master Daniele Baldelli introduced him to the Electronic Voodoo concept, and Leo starts a new branch of the Cosmic revolution soon after with a more up to date electronic sound, rediscovering his techno and electronic roots in his new base in Oslo (Norway), where he first started to play in 1998 thanks to the dynamic techno dj duo Trulz and Robin. From 1999 till now he has successfully been running ELECTRONIC VOODOO, a club concept that started at the popular club Sikamikanico in the Norwegian capitol with his dear friend Arild and spread across the whole of Europe with regular Electronic Voodoo gigs also in Saint Petersburg, Reykavik, London, Rome, Antwerp, Moscow and even Murmansk... This concept residing untill 2003 in the alternative club KILLYREGO in OSLO is definately something more than only music. It's Leo's experimentation with years of experience that wants to create the ultimate dj concept of the future, in which he becomes the High Priest dj of electronic music, it's something he called at the time Electronic Voodoo. Now in 2006 he is one of the biggest representatives of Cosmic Sound in northern Europe and he simply defines his music as enlightened.

Copyright © 2006, Leo Young All rights reserved.

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

CONTACT

You can contact Leo at illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

GUESTBOOK

The messages that are regarded as "Illuminati gossip" will be forwarded to the Gossip Lounge and erased from the guestbook.

Sign the guestbook!

Your message:

Name: email: www:

[Register or log-in with username and password if you want to sign the message with your username]

25 July 2007 20:29 Name: Martin Lauchenauer email: lauchenauer.martin@aon.at www: www.lauchenauer.2page.eu
Bush's Grandfather Planned Fascist Coup In America
<http://www.propagandamatrix.com/articles/july2007/240707fascistcoup.htm>

24 July 2007 21:31 Name: Martin Lauchenauer email: lauchenauer.martin@aon.at www: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0G1fNjK9SXg>

YOUTUBE FILM (found at www.retakingamerica.com)

CELL PHONE (FBI can listen to you when phone is turned off)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0G1fNjK9SXg>

www.lauchenauer.2page.eu
www.whatabeginning.org
www.otherbiblecode.com

24 July 2007 08:01 Name: Martin Lauchenauer email: lauchenauer.martin@aon.at www: www-whatabeginning.com
<https://secure.gn.apc.org/members/www.bilderberg.org/phpBB2/viewtopic.php?t=2206>

PLEASE PASTE AND COPY ABOVE LINK AND CHECK IT OUT! THERE ARE UTMOST IMPORTANT INFORMATION IN IT TO BE FOUND.

e.g about the THE PHOENIX BIRD AND HIS TRUE MEANING;ORDER

OF THE PHOENIX, WHAT HAS GOD TO SAY ABOUT HARRY POTTER, HARRY POTTER AND THE ORDER OF THE PHOENIX; YOU WILL LEARN THAT IN THE CHAPEL OF ST GEORGE IN WINDSOR (CHURCH FOR THE UTMOST POWERFUL ORDER OF THE GARTER) THERE IS A PHOENIX ALTER FRONTAL IN THERE; YOU WILL FIND A LINK WHERE YOU CAN SEE A HUGE PILLAR IN PRINCE CHARLES RURAL ESTATE IN HIGHGROVE WITH A BIG PHOENIX ON TOP OF IT (www.bilderberg.org/royal); YOU WILL LEARN THAT "PRINCE CHARLES OF WALES" HAS A VALUE OF 666 IN MORE THAN ONE LANGUAGE (EVEN IN MODERN HEBREW); YOU WILL LEARN HOW THE QUEEN IS RELATED TO 666 AND THE COMMONWEALTH (53 COUNTRIES; APPROX. 30% OF THE WORLD POPULATION); YOU WILL GET A BIT INFORMATION ABOUT THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE ROYAL HOUSE OF GREAT BRITAIN AND THE VATICAN; YOU CAN DOWNLOAD TWO VERY IMPORTANT FILMS ABOUT FREEMASONRY (!!!!); YOU WILL LEARN IN A SEPARATE SECTION ABOUT THE VERY POWERFUL EU MAN "JAVIER SOLANA" AND HIS RELATION TO THE NO. 666 and much more; PLEASE SAVE ABOVE LINK AND VISIT OFTEN THE WWW.BILDERBERG.ORG FORUM!!!!

23 July 2007 02:28 Name: Mr X
ei Martin enjoy Harry Potter illuminati
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Gftg1T40W-0>

22 July 2007 00:32 Name: Keith email: karnoldinvest@hotmail.com
Good work and thank you for the true.

21 July 2007 10:09 Name: Martin email: lauchenauer_martin@aon.at www: www.lauchenauer_martin@aon.at http://www.thebereanchronicles.com/harry_potter_01.html

HARRY POTTER IS NOW THE MAIN READ BOOK BY CHILDREN. What are the consequences ?? Children are turning away from the living God and are messed up in Magic, Witchcraft and Satanism!

21 July 2007 05:54 Name: Martin email: lauchenauer_martin@aon.at www: www.otherbiblecode.com
Plans for "a New Middle East" i<http://www.globalresearch.ca/index.php?context=viewArticle&code=NAZ20061116&articleId=3882>ncluding Map:

20 July 2007 21:41 Name: Martin email: lauchenauer_martin@aon.at www: www.whatabeginning.com
What a beginning! Convincing people of God, who have there intellectual doubts!

20 July 2007 21:39 Name: Martin email: lauchenauer_martin@aon.at www: <http://isaalmasih.net/>
A place to learn more about Isah al Masih.

20 July 2007 21:37 Name: Martin email: lauchenauer_martin@aon.at www: www.lauchenauer_2page.eu

https://events.ccc.de/congress/2005/static/r/f/i/RFID-Zapper\(EN\)_77f3.html_77f3.html)

Zapper to destroy RFID-Spy-Chips!

What is the RFID-Zapper?

The RFID-Zapper is a gadget to deactivate (i.e. destroy) passive RFID-Tags permanently.

Please save link and follow story the next months to come!

God bless you!

18 July 2007 14:18 Name: truthteller
The cults worship now Anubis (Anpu) which they call Satan today.

The question is why have they have called this deity of their believe
...and not Horus?

Maybe they would like to bind as many humans as possible to the lower regions of the astral dimension.

No matter which faith you have, at this present moment it is better to thrive for the most high aspirations that you are independently capable of, which means to raise your own energy and keep your emotions in a constant state of compassion towards your fellow humans.

17 July 2007 15:51 Name: gabb email: diazludovica@yahoo.com i'm solar sun looking for more information. need a telektonon urgently, i feel lost here. need to find th way back iluminati please help

17 July 2007 09:26 Name: truthteller
Life as it is..

When people stop looking for answers from sources outside of themselves, when people stop surrendering their sovereignty they shall enlighten, not by means of scriptures, not by means of occult traditions, but by experiencing the only true measure of reality, which is consciuosness.

The traditions of the priesthood to form the image of god is known since antiquity. Magic is the foundation of all life. Many great things can be done by means of technology, yet they are inferior since the same things can be done without them as well.

Distracting peoples attention away from themselves and binding them to the physical realities of their selfs alone, is the great trick of any sect or cult. The joining of the cults is an attempt to continue their laws and powers and is quite obviously these days. The two tools to control the atempts of the fleeing flock is to control the issues of sex and death.

16 July 2007 17:00 Name: luis email: nitai771@gmail.com

If the secret societies are controlling everything, why don't they control also all the internet, erasing everything that's dangerous for them. Is there still some possibility to publish what you wish still? If this is still possible, then, it's the main media to conteract evil, and most probably, they wish to stop also this freedom for all forever?

12 July 2007 11:40 Name: faylinn email: faylinn2007@yahoo.com brilliant webside -

12 July 2007 08:29 Name: Carmen Ruth email: skanless3_80datlady@yahoo.com www: 380datlady.com

Truly interesting. Since I was a child visiting pan-african social organizations such as The National Black United Front, The Nation of Islam, NAACP, and serveral other ethnic social societies I've heard if the illuminati conspiracy theory. At the time I staired attending thesefucntions I was merely 11 yeras old. It wasn't until I started to experoence real life in other states around the country that I notice the prevelance and inovert suddle actions of the powers that be. It was not until my 1st experince voting for a president in the 2000 election that I began to really entertain the thought of a few families in the world ultimately manipulating and dictating the security and everday living experince of the masses as a truth. Although scary, this is no time for the righteous to be cowards. It is time to stand in our convictions a good doer's instead of evil. I am behind this movement 150 percent. Thanks for true enlightenment. I look forward to attending one of your confrences and seeing what you have to say.

10 July 2007 15:09 Name: cjpgcjcjhm http://www.jesus-is-savior.com/False%20Religions/Islamic%20Muslim/islam_exposed.htm

08 July 2007 00:05 Name: ahadjkabnkd is a moron ahadjkabnkd,

You dumb-ass, how many Zionists would call Jesus "A son of a Whore"? Yet you ignore them and attack Muslims - and particularly those lone few who would call Jesus one of the Most Holy people ever? And those even fewer who would risk his life to expose the evil Conspiracy today.

Allah is the same as Jehovah - so go pick on the JEWS why don't U, and leave Islam alone.

Get a Life Moron and do your homework! There is no time to be bickering over this shit now!

07 July 2007 10:00 Name: ahadjkabnkd look at this and see how fucking shit islam and mohammed are. Allah ist not the same god like the christians god. allah ist the moon god :
<http://www.scionofzion.com/comparison.htm> reject jesus and you will go to hell!!!!

05 July 2007 00:42 Name: SHAMBHALAH 5 www: <http://www.taroscopes.com/highwindowsarticles>
Sorry, correct link <http://www.taroscopes.com/highwindowsarticles/shiva-holyspirit-ageofaquarius.html>

1 - 20 previous >>

Guestbook service provided by WOP!WEB

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

THE GOSSIP LOUNGE

This space is for all those housewives who wanted to know more about the Illuminati Freemasons Gossip on Leo Lyon Zagami and his family. For all you Gossip addicts out there Leo lives and works in Oslo as a Marketing Manager for D'Arte Radiators AS (www.darte.no), and he is married since summer 2005 with ex-Norwegian politician Fatma Suslu. Leo and Fatma Zagami have two wonderful kids named Zakaria and Ishak Rumi.

ARCHIVES

GOSSIP LOUNGE 1-10

GOSSIP LOUNGE 11-20

GOSSIP LOUNGE 21-30

GOSSIP LOUNGE 31-40

----->FIGHT THE ILLUMINAZI NWO SCUM!<-----

ABOUT THE GOSSIP LOUNGE

In the photo my dear friend and true illuminati Senator Raouf Boutros Ghali who supported me against the Vatican illuminati from October 2003 e.v.

Well guys my ex illuminati friends at the CIA and the various intelligence agencies connected to the Knights of Malta in Europe and America are starting a diffamatory campaign against my persona as you all noticed in the last few days. So I wanted to create a space for these infedel Freemasons and various illuminati agents called the GOSSIP LOUNGE on my web site, a space where they can accuse me of whatever they want so then I can keep the rest of my web site under control and my work clean of such rubbish and false accusations.

Me and my wife Fatma Suslu mother of my children have alot of fun reading this idiotic stuff on me because its a bunch of lies badly put togheter , but we need the people out there to also understand that we have to react in some way and the best way possible we have found is to actually neutralize these posts, by presenting them from time to time in the GOSSIP LOUNGE , so that Satanists like N.Frisvold or William Breeze will give us the usual brainwashing in the name of their Master the Beast 666 A. Crowley the father of Barbara Bush the mother of the AntiChrist George W.Bush . These people "we all like so much" are keeping us posted on how evil and insane is brother Leo Zagami while George H.Bush is killing millions of people around the world in the last 30 years with a smile on his face.

Well its up to you to investigate who I am with facts not fiction , and lets have fun with these evil satanists that are destined to hell and no place else.

BEST REGARDS,
LEO LYON ZAGAMI
Now
KHALED SAIFULLAH KHAN

GOSSIP LOUNGE 41

Messaggio inoltrato [Salva file | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Da: "Andrew Hicks" <hicksan@clara.co.uk>

A: "'leo young'" <leoyoung1999@yahoo.com>

Oggetto:RE: MILANO - FRIENDLY MEETINGS-LUCE E ONESTA'

Data: Sun, 19 Dec 2004 16:02:07 -0000

Allegato HTML [Controlla e salva sul pc | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Dear Leo,

I believe the sentiments you have arrived at reflect a universal truth. Forgiveness and love are the path of God. If we follow the way of vengeance and hatred then (a) we lose our own souls in the process and (b) we become as bad as that which we seek to destroy.

As you say; those that follow evil will destroy themselves anyway.

I wouldn't agree with your statement that nobody cares, however the way in which you go about presenting your case, and how you behave towards these people while doing so, will have a huge impact on the willingness of people to listen to you. Remember that Masonry is a brotherhood, above all else, and that feuds are not permitted within the harmony of the lodge.

Best wishes,

Andrew

-----Original Message-----

From: leo young [mailto:leoyoung1999@yahoo.com]

Sent: 14 December 2004 04:40

To: Andrew Hicks

Subject: RE: MILANO - FRIENDLY MEETINGS-LUCE E ONESTA'

Dear Bro.Andrew,

hope you are well and had a good weekend.

I have tried to cal you but you were out of the office so maybe I try again later today.

I have been working and meditating on Michael Aquino and his father in law the now defunct Prince of darkness Anton La Vey in the last few days, Ive decided that maybe if nobody cares that much in modern society about the sad implications of USA mind war and psicological warfare I Leo Young should follow the Christian example and forgive once and for all the Master of evil M.Aquino and his followers because the dark side of the force will eventually be defeated so why should I stress?!?

We should say let them destroy themselves...hi..hi...not a bad option my dear brother what do you think?

Take care and have a brilliant Christmas party time,

Sinceraly and fraternaly yours

Bro.Leo

GOSSIP LOUNGE 42

Messaggio inoltrato [Salva file | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Da: "Andrew Hicks" <hicksan@clara.co.uk>

A: ""leo young"" <leoyoung1999@yahoo.com>

CC: andrew.hicks@ubs.com

Oggetto:RE: MILANO - FRIENDLY MEETINGS-LUCE E ONESTA'

Data: Wed, 8 Dec 2004 22:31:10 -0000

Allegato HTML [Controlla e salva sul pc | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Dear Leo,

I'm glad to hear you so well and happy. I was getting concerned by your aggressive tone recently that you might be becoming ill again. I agree that the best response to the folly of others is to laugh. It confirms that, whatever they may do, they cannot harm your real Self.

I tried to contact Morris Ghezzi but he didn't speak english, neither did Snr Vanni. Please can you confirm by email the telephone numbers for both men and, if possible, their email addresses.

On another matter, Julian Rees has been trying urgently to contact you. Please can you call him immediately - he says it is very important - his number is +44 20 8660 6344 - or email me with a number on which you can be contacted.

Best wishes my brother,

Andrew

-----Original Message-----

From: leo young [mailto:leoyoung1999@yahoo.com]

Sent: 07 December 2004 19:20

To: Andrew Hicks

Subject: RE: MILANO - FRIENDLY MEETINGS-LUCE E ONESTA'

Dear Andrew,

hope you are well,things for me are finaly starting to go extremely well,the Italian Ministry for commerce and foreign relations has asked me to work for them(I have alot of old friends in Berlusconi's governement who have worked with me for many years),so I will be taking care of the artistic side of some big festivals in the coming year,one of these events will be in June 2005 in the prestigious Tenuta santa Barbara(www.tenutasantabarbara.it).

Also I have managed to prolong my residence permit in Norway with a great help from my lawyers and Im going to Italy on the 16 th of December wich its very exiting this time because I have been invited by the Italian Governement to the most important classical concert of the year "Il Concerto di Natale" at the wonderfull new Auditorium in Rome on the 18th with all the VIP'S and the most important rappresentatives of the Italian Republic including the President,this will definetely make up for my absence at today's wonderfull Re-opening of the mithical LA SCALA of Milan wich I realy wanted to attend...Mnmmm ...what a pitty today the are performing my dear Brother Andrew L'EUROPA(a truly Italian ideal!)by Salieri ...great stuff being in the music business in Italy...hi...hi..

The brothers in Milan from GOI (Morris Ghezzi) remember always traditionally close to the Americans and the GLDI degli ALAM(Loris Derni) always traditionally close to the Grand Orient of France are waiting for your phone call dear brother,so I hope you have contacted them or contact them soon ,Im gonna go and visit my dear old brothers of Firenze next week...they are the only ones in Italy who truly understand fully my english/Sicilian humour when Im in the mood...

Yes Brother we have decided to take the humouristic approach with the americans...they are simply ridiculus people so lets dance...

Sinceraly and fraternaly yours,

Leo

GOSSIP LOUNGE 43

Messaggio inoltrato [Salva file | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Da: "Robert Gilbert" <sacregis42@hotmail.com>

A: leoyoung1999@yahoo.com

Oggetto:Re: O.T.O

Data: Sat, 20 Nov 2004 16:51:53 +0000

Allegato in formato testo [Controlla e salva sul pc | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Dear Leo,
Alas, I am not surprised at the behaviour towards you - but surely it is not possible to expel someone who is a citizen of another EU country with an EU pasport ?
As for the OTO summonses and other documents (any or all of which would be useful) please would you fax me one or two of the summonses and send photocopies of as much as possible when you can.
Be careful what you say and to whom.
Yours s+f,
Bob

GOSSIP LOUNGE 44

Messaggio inoltrato [Salva file | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Da: "Robert Gilbert" <sacregis42@hotmail.com>
A: leoyoung1999@yahoo.com
Oggetto:RE: URGENT Re: O.T.O mission completed....?
Data: Fri, 04 Feb 2005 15:33:43 +0000

Allegato in formato testo [Controlla e salva sul pc | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Dear Brother Leo,
I am sorry and shocked to read of what has happened to you. None of this was known to me and I will try to find out exactly what is going on. I will speak to people at Freemasons' Hall who ought to be able to explain the situation and perhaps sort out the problem.
What surprises me most is that there seems to have been no attempt to tell you of what has been happening. If you have been given no opportunity to reply then this is indeed very wrong.
As for the SRIA we are acting on the basis of your information which has been extremely helpful, but unfortunately the SRIA has no influence over Grand Lodge. When I can get some answers I will advise you at once.
Yours s+f,
Bob G.

GOSSIP LOUNGE 45

Note: forwarded message attached per il Gossip Lounge
Data: Tue, 09 May 2006 14:23:40 +0200
A: leo young <leoyoung1999@yahoo.com>
Da: kropacek@mail.asianet.it
Oggetto: Re: RITUALI PER I FRATELLINI DI VILLA LEONA DAL MHC

At 03.01 09/05/06, you wrote:

>Caro Fratellino Nicholas mi ha detto Vale che ti servono dei Rituali >da Triangolo per la nuova Loggia di Villa Leona della GLUT a >Bologna, Io ti mando quello che ho naturalmente in Inglese e spero >tu ne faccia buon uso, si tratta di vari Rituali tra cui quello del >Rito Scozzese per i primi tre gradi ed altri che magari puoi >adattare piu' facilmente per un discorso da Triangolo fai da >te...insomma vedi tu e fammi sapere che ne pensi e che Dio sia >sempre con te mio caro Fratello mussulmano e salutami il nostro >Venerabile Baserga, ci vediamo tutti il 3 di Giugno a San Cerbone >per un gathering da Veri Illuminati della Universal Unity.
>Un TFA,
>Leo Lyon Zagami
>MASONIC HIGH COUNCIL
>

93

Carissimo Fratellino/Frater Leo, mi fa sempre molto piacere sentirti, e spero anch'io di rivederti e riabbracciarti a San Cerbone (purtroppo in un convento salesiano, ma non si puo' avere sempre tutto dalla vita ... :-)) Spero che la tua vita sia colma di illuminazione e di realizzazioni e che la tua vita familiare scorra felice e proficua.

Ti ringrazio moltissimo per il materiale che mi hai fraternamente inviato, e che custodiro' gelosamente, con la sacralita' e riservatezza che merita.

Come ti ha detto Valerio, sto approntando (e' stata una mia idea che ha avuto il consenso del G.M. Piazza) un rituale per Lavori di Apprendista in configurazione di Triangolo, che penso sia molto agevole per operativita' "a ranghi ridotti" ... e non solo.

Infatti, detto fra noi (e ti prego di tenere per ora queste mie parole riservatamente, tra Squadra e Compasso), sto cercando di sviluppare quella idea, e di metterla al servizio dei Fr. L.M. di tutte le Massonerie (se possibile di tutto il mondo, se mi riuscisse di fare poi un rituale in piu' lingue cio' mi renderebbe felice), al fine di favorire il fluido operare tra Fratelli anche di Comunioni diverse: sto lavorando, infatti, ad un progetto di rituale di triangolo per "Logge Itineranti", disgiunte da ogni Comunione, tale da permettere a Fratelli Maestri di qualsiasi parte del Mondo e di qualsunque Obbedienza, di potersi riunire ed operare con un Rituale semplificato ma iniziaticamente valido, utilizzando un tappeto da srotolare od una tavola di ardesia sulla quale comporre/scomporre il Tempio / Quadro di Loggia, fra colonne che vengono edificate ed abbattute in una sola tornata (od in un ciclo, a volonta'), indipendentemente dalla Comunione di provenienza. E' uno dei metodi usati anticamente, e che secondo me hanno permesso la grande diffusione della Massoneria, nei piu' diversi angoli del Mondo e negli intervalli delle piu' svariate battaglie.

E come tu sai, proseguendo nell'afflato intrapreso dal mio Maestro Interiore Saint Germain, credo fermamente nella Universalita' della Libera Muratoria e nel Landmark piu' antico di quelli di Anderson, che vuole tutti i Massoni del Mondo affratellati tra di loro!

Penso che sia uno di quei mezzi che potranno agire "trasversalmente" tra i Fratelli e che gli permetteranno di fare massoneria e di prosperare iniziaticamente con la Copertura del Nostro Santo Eggregore della Massoneria Universale al di la' delle loro Comunioni e dei veti reciproci, atout che certo non fanno onore ad istituzioni che dovrebbero essere formate da Liberi Pensatori e Uomini Liberi. Credo proprio che possa essere una iniezione di vitalita' capace di vivificare TRASVERSALMENTE le diverse Comunioni.

Per riuscire a fare cio' ho pensato, per la sua grande diffusione, proprio al rituale di I grado del RSAA da semplificare in Grado di Triangolo, e quindi il tuo apporto con i Rituali che mi hai inviato e' stato sicuramente prezioso (oltre ad essere per me, sincero Figlio-Amante della Vedova/Iside/Sofia/Massoneria, un dono assai prezioso).

Ti prego, se ti capita qualche materiale o notizia storica in particolare sui Lavori in Configurazione di Triangolo o sui Lavori in Loggie Itineranti di farmelo sapere.

Non so se il Fato mi consentira' di proseguire con questo lavoro, intanto sto mettendo a punto i rituali di Apprendista in Configurazione di Triangolo per la G.L.U.T., e tra l'altro il fatto che il G.M. Piazza mi abbia dato questo incarico ovviamente mi onora, essendo un compito da Collegio Liturgico (d'altronde penso di esserne perfettamente all'altezza, essendo io un IX Operativo OTO ed avendo effettuato anche l'Operativita' che mi porta verso l'XI, e come sai cio' mi pone in condizioni Rituali e Gerarchiche adeguate).

In ogni caso penso che sia un Lavoro che, gia' per il fatto di svolgerlo, onori oltre a chi lo tenta anche la nostra Istituzione e sia foriero di crescita interiore, anche perche' e' la preparazione del Nuovo Eone e l'agevolare il Risveglio dei Fratelli che ci deve portare a cio'.

Ti prego di farmi sapere anche le tue impressioni, mi interessa molto conoscere il tuo parere.

Con il Triplice Fraterno Abbraccio,

93 93/93

Assalamu Aleikhum Wa Rahmatullah Wa Barakathu.

Fr. Zok Hon / Nicolas / Harun.

GOSSIP LOUNGE 46

Note: forwarded message attached.

Da: <gabriele.mandel@fastwebnet.it>

A: "Buffa" <dariodimitri.buffa@fastwebnet.it>.

"leo young" <leoyoung1999@yahoo.com>,
"Istituto buffone" <islam.inst@alice.it>

Oggetto: Re: dagli Zionisti

Data: Mon, 1 Jan 2007 14:33:17 +0100

Egregio Leo Young, la ringrazio per la segnalazione di questa E-mail che cita anche me. Voglia considerare due cose:

1° - Lo scrivente, indirizzandomi ad uno psichiatra, ignora che "io" sono medico psichiatra. Sino alla pensione attivo sia all'Istituto Psichiatrico di Milano con Domenico de Maio (uno dei più considerevoli psichiatri d'Italia), e all'Università con cattedra di Psicologia Clinica (vedere i miei libri di testo). Sono ancora membro del Consiglio dell'Istituto Internazionale del Litio; membro del Consiglio degli esperti dell'AIDD; e direttore della Facoltà di Psicologia alla Reale Università Europea. Se c'è qualcuno che può emettere una diagnosi e consigliare a qualche psicopatico di rivolgersi ad uno psichiatra sono io, mentre quell'individuo non lo è per nulla.

2° - Un amico mi invita a leggere pagine e pagine in internet su questi individui (ed io invito lei):

http://www.kelebekler.com/occ/aldo_torchiaro05.htm

Se si potesse dire di me un decimo di quanto vien detto di loro, scaberei una buca profonda sino al cuore della terra e mi ci nasconderei dentro.

Non ho altro da aggiungere. E pensare che avevo caldeggiato l'ingresso del Buffa nel GOI, nonostante che qualche membro del GOI storcesse il naso a causa della sua fedina penale. Spero che ci sia ancora tempo almeno per chiedere scusa.

Cordiali saluti, Mandel

----- Original Message -----

From: "leo young"

To:

Sent: Monday, January 01, 2007 10:09 AM

Subject: dagli Zionisti

> Ho ricevuto questa e-mail qualche tempo fa dai soliti > cretini di Abdul Pallazzi...gli Zionistihi..hi..

>

>

> Wed, 20 Dec 2006 19:05:10 +0100

> To: "leo young"

> From: "Istituto Culturale della Comunita' Islamica > Italiana" Add to Address Book

> Subject: Re: AUGURI

> Ma perché invece di perdere tempo in questo modo > non ti trovi uno psichiatra in grado di curarti?

>

> Ne hai davvero bisogno, e se lo trovi manda pure > l'indirizzo al tuo amico Mandel, che ne ha tanto > bisogno anche lui!

>

> Auguri a tutti e due di pronta guarigione.

>

>
> Kalim

GOSSIP LOUNGE 47

--- fredrik wrote:

> Dear Leo and family

>

>

>

> I hope all is well, have you got any (real) winter > in Oslo? We just keep > getting fog and rain down here around Gothenburg.

>

> A few days ago we received a post on our comments > section, aiming at you and > I thought about whether I should send it to you or > not,

>

> I don't know if you really want to hear this type of > things? Please tell me > if you don't want this type of material relayed to > you in the future.

>

> - don't be a stranger -

>

>

>

> peace/fredrik

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

> Below is the result of your feedback form. It was > submitted by

>

> (njegoshameg@yahoo.com) on Tuesday, December 26, > 2006 at 17:34:19

>

>

>

>

>

>

> Name: Olafir

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

> Comment: Let this article serve as a proper warning > against the dangers of > occult involvement.

>

>

>

> Leo Zagami is a name that some might run across on > the Internet; many might > have asked themselves about the story behind his > many strange web posts over > the later years.

>

> His mental problems started in early 2003, soon > after he had moved to Norway > for good and is closely related to a personal > tragedy that occurred at this > time. He had fallen in love with a young girl called > Adele, daughter of an > Italian family running a well-known restaurant in > Oslo; they were sharing an > apartment in central Oslo and were engaged and soon > to become parents.

> However, she started to react to Leo's erratic > behaviour that had begin to > show at this time. He had become increasingly > attracted to the Occult, and > talked about himself as Aleister Crowley's successor > although most of his > knowledge seemed to be from conspiracy-style > internet webpages rather than > books and although his relation to the OTO or other > Thelemic organisations > were restricted to various diplomas downloaded from > the Internet that he > kept showing off. It became more and more clear to > the girl that he believed > himself to be conducting a bizarre sex-magic ritual > where she was an > unknowing tool and the baby some kind of magical > child destined to rule the > world. She panicked, and decided to break the > engagement and have an > abortion. She told Leo this during his own birthday > party.

- >
- > Leo's first reaction was to hold long soliloquies to
- > anyone willing to
- > listen where he compared himself to the Biblical
- > patriarch Abraham willing
- > to sacrifice his own son to God. Since he had gotten
- > the news on his 33rd
- > birthday he also compared himself to Christ. It did - > not take long, however,
- > before he decided to stop her from aborting the
- > priceless magical child or
- > the Messiah, as he now referred to it. To take
- > things further, he had come
- > to believe that since her parents were former
- > members of the Communist
- > Party, this had to be a secret Communist plot to
- > prevent the birth of the
- > future Messiah. Not that he would take care of the
- > child himself, to all
- > people willing to listen he explained that he would
- > leave it outside a
- > Catholic monastery where it would be raised
- > properly.
- >
- > He therefore started a heavy fast, lasting weeks,
- > where he not only stopped
- > eating but also stopped taking the medication he had
- > been using since his
- > early 20s, all the time performing self-created
- > quabalistic rituals to
- > prevent the abortion taking place. He made several
- > attempts at getting into
- > the Masonic Lodge, which he called "the place where
- > the real power in Norway
- > lies" in order to make what he called "his Masonic
- > Brothers" intervene; in
- > his own words, they would give orders making sure
- > that no doctor would dare
- > to perform the abortion.
- >
- > Neither fasting, rituals or the Masons - who refused
- > to let him into the
- > building - could prevent it from taking place;
- > filled with grief Leo began a
- > new self-created ritual fueled by LSD and Cocaine
- > and designed to absorb the - > spirit of "his dead child" - which he communicated
- > with through the TV set -
- > into himself so that he could take its place as the
- > coming world-saviour.
- >
- > After one trip to many his psychosis manifested
- > itself in the open. He made
- > long, rambling telephone calls in the middle of the

- > night, claiming to be
- > the inner head of the order, the reincarnation of
- > Crowley and his own dead
- > child, James Bond and - oddly - the Godfather from
- > the Francis Ford Coppola
- > movies. Soon after he entered a mental hospital for
- > what was to become the
- > first of many stays.
- >
- > Today Zagami has violently denounced his "occult"
- > past. He spends most of - > his time writing an incoherent web log about the
- > various group that have
- > conspired to destroy his life, including the
- > Illuminati, Freemasonry,
- > Martians and the Vatican. A sad case illustrating
- > the dangers of a
- > vulnerable mind entering realms no one perhaps
- > should enter.
- >
- >

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 1-10

Warning to all corrupt freemasons (12/5/2006)

WARNING TO ALL CORRUPT FREEMASONS OUT THERE:

SHAME ON FREEMASONRY, SHAME ON THE MASONS INVOLVED IN PROTECTING THE ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS SATANIST ALL OVER THE WORLD. WE ILLUMINATI CONFESSIONS OPENLY SUPPORT THE GAIA GUYS IN AUSTRALIA WHO ALSO FIGHT THESE INFLUENTIAL SATANIST OF THE ILLUMINATI ELITE KNOWN AS THE OTO :

<http://www.gaiaGuys.net/>

SATANIC RITUAL ABUSE AND SACRIFICE IS A REALITY IN AUSTRALIA The group who are ritually abusing the children in Dr Reina Michaelson's case appear to be the Ordo Templi Orientis. You can actually visit their Australian website by going the Gaia Guys web site. The O.T.O. regard Satanist Aleister Crowley's "Book of the Law" as their guide to live by.

(The Ordo Templi Orientis website has been remodelled and certain things have been removed, including the Library and a particularly nasty and telling symbol. However you can still follow the links to the U.S. Grand Lodge to find Satanist Crowley's book of the Law, from which the below quote was taken.)

"Worship me with fire & blood; worship me with swords & with spears. Let ... blood flow to my name. Trample down the Heathen; be upon them, o warrior, I will give you of their flesh to eat! ... Sacrifice cattle, little and big: after a child. Mercy let be off; damn them who pity! Kill and torture; spare not; be upon them!. ...rich fresh blood. The best blood is of the moon, monthly: then the fresh blood of a child, or dropping from the host of heaven: then of enemies; then of the priest or of the worshippers: last of some beast, no matter what. " (Book of the Law)

ME LEO LYON ZAGAMI AND MY FAMILY OPENLY ATTACK THE OTO ILLUMINATI ALL OVER THE WORLD AS THE WORK OF THE DEVIL AND THE VATICAN JESUIT SATAN, I WAS PERSONALY ARRESTED

AND TORTURED IN NORWAY 3 TIMES BECAUSE OF THESE ORDO
TEMPLI ORIENTIS ILLUMINATI SATANIST WORKING FOR THE USUAL SUSPECTS WHO THEN ACCUSE ME OF BEING INSANE, AFTER LOCKING ME UP AND TORTURING ME WITH THE SUPPORT OF THE NORWEGIAN MILITARY INTELLIGENCE AND THE CORRUPT NORWEGIAN POLICE.

THE ILLUSTRIOUS NORWEGIAN RIGHT WING POLITICIAN AND PERVERT PER CHRISTIAN KROGH EX SECRETARY OF THE MINISTRY OF DEFENCE IN NORWAY'S SATANIC KINGDOM IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS PERSECUTION AGAINST ME SO I ASK FOR YOUR SUPPORT AGAINST SUCH EVIL, TOGETHER WITH THE SECRETARY OF THE ILLUMINATI IN OSLO:

JOHN HILMER BERGE FAERSETH

Schweigaards g 67

0656 Oslo

+47 98808387 WHO CONTRIBUTED IN GETTING OUR FIRST ILLUMINATI CONFESSIONS WEB SITE SHUT DOWN.

EXPOSE HIM:

PER CHRISTIAN KROGH (Ordo Templi Orientis 5o Degree)

Adresse: Stortinget

Postnr: 0026

Poststed: OSLO

E-post: Per-christian.krogh@stortinget.no

Telefon: 99 46 38 71

Mobiltelefon: 99 46 38 71

AND EXPOSE CORRUPT NORWEGIAN FREEMASON TROND KAARE WESTBY IXo FROM THE DEFENCE COMMAND IN NORWAY WHO SUPPORTED THEM IN THIS EVIL OPERATION AGAINST ME:

HOME

VESTBY SØNDRE

N-1920 SØRUMSAND

PHONE +47 63 82 73 29

HQ'S DEFENCE COMMAND NORWAY

Medical Staff

Oslo mil/Huseby

N-0016 OSLO

Phone +47 23 09 70 91

fax +47 23 09 70 58

CORRUPT OTO FREEMASONS MUST BE EXPOSED!

Leo Lyon Zagami

Evil Illuminati cult in the UK exposed!
(12/6/2006)

RW.Bro.Andrew D. Chumbley and the Cultus Sabbati legacy

RW.Bro.Andrew D. Chumbley and the Cultus Sabbati legacy

RW.Bro.Andrew D. Chumbley (September 15, 1967-September 15, 2004) was an English writer, poet, artist, practitioner-theorist of modern magic, and Magister of the black magical satanic group Cultus Sabbati directly linked to the Vatican Jesuits. He died on his thirty-seventh birthday following a severe asthma attack in misterious cirmcumstances.

Chumbley published earlier a number of limited edition books through his own private press Xoanon Publishing, and a series of articles in various occult magazines with great success; these conveyed aspects of doctrine and practice of a tradition of sorcery he defined 'Sabbatic Craft'. According to Chumbley the term "describes the way in which elements of witch-lore, Sabbath mythology and imagery were being employed in the cunning-craft tradition into which I was originally inducted".

His work is the work of a modern Mind Controller using Witchcraft, fhe then claimed provenance from pre-modern revivalist forms (the illuminati...they were the source of this rubbish course).. His earlier work was published in the Chaos Magic journal Chaos International, and later work appeared in Starfire, journal of the Typhonian OTO, and in the long-established British witchcraft magazine The Cauldron. Brother Andrwe from Essex was known within the occult community and his books continue to command very high resale prices in the satanic world. Daniel A. Schulke succeeded him as Magister of Cultus Sabbati a very dangerous Cult connected to the illuminati and child sacrifice.A participant to such events mainly in Essex is illustrius Brother RW Bro. Rui Gabirro who joined the evil Sect during his period in the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia (the English iluminati). Although Chumbley was mainly known for his involvement with traditional English Witchcraft, especially that of the county of Essex,his occult interests and influences were extremely diverse and "The Duke of Cabinda" was deeply involved with him, some say they even practiced the XIo of A.Crowley togheter .Schulke writes of Chumbley's interests, "Chumbley's magical work spanned many fields of sorcerous influence, including Sufism, left-hand Tantra and Petro Voodoo". Some influences on his work are those of the artist-occultist illuminati agent Austin Osman Spare and Crowleys number one disciple Kenneth Grant!!!

Chumbley respected very much and was familiar with Grant's work and there was a contact between the two magicians - at one time Chumbley operated an illuminati OTO lodge that was affiliated to Grant's Typhonian OTO. Spare's philosophy of the 'Kia' almost certainly influenced the non-dual gnosis which is a key element in Chumbley's system, although the 'Doctrine of the Void' (Shunyavata) is a foundation concept of Tantrism, which is likely to have affected Chumbley's work thorough the Uttara Kaula Sampradaya, of which he was an initiate with Brother Nicholaj Frisvold In The Azoëtia the concepts of "Will, Desire, Beli and pure sorcery that lead to the sacrifice of little children used by these dark illuminati Masters to gain more power. The Cultus Sabbati should be exposed by Freemasons and investigated by the Uk police instead it enjoy's the protection of such corrupt institutions.

For more info on the enigma of Andrew Chumbley you can check yourself is presence on this infamous internet publication for satanist:

[http://www.mysterymag.com/earthmysteries
/?page=category&subID=120](http://www.mysterymag.com/earthmysteries/?page=category&subID=120)

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

Leo on site's shutdown (12/6/2006)

QUOTE from conspiracycentral.info

(Leo Young @ Dec 6 2006, 02:15 PM)

DEAR PHIL AND EVERYBODY ELSE ON CONSPIRACY CENTRAL THIS IS WHAT I GET ON MY YAHOO ACCOUNT AFTER TRYING TO OPEN THE E-MAIL SENT BY THAT SATANIST SUPPORTER OF ANTONY WHO IS RUNNING SQUARESPACE.COM, SO NOW I DONT EVEN HAVE AN E-MAIL ACCOUNT WORKING PROPERLY ANYMORE BECAUSE OF THESE BASTARDS AT SQUARE SPACE. I'VE NOW SENT A COMPLAINT TO YAHOO REGARDING THIS STRANGE SITUATION, THE FILES SENT BY SQUARE SPACE NOT ONLY ARE INCOMPLETE BUT ARE ALSO TRIGGERING SOME KIND OF SYSTEM THAT SHUTS DOWN MY YAHOO ACCOUNT COMPLETELY AND MAKES IT IMPOSSIBLE TO FILE THEM OR TO EVEN FORWARD THE E-MAIL TO BROTHER DANIELE DAL BOSCO MY ASSISTANT FOR www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it.

Sorry, Unable to process request at this time -- error 999. Unfortunately we are unable to process your request at this time. This error is usually temporary. Please try again later. If you continue to experience this error, it may be caused by one of the following: -

1. You may want to scan your system for spyware and viruses, as they may interfere with your ability to connect to Yahoo!. For detailed information on spyware and virus protection, please visit the Yahoo! Security Center. -1. This problem may be due to unusual network activity coming from your Internet Service Provider. We recommend that you report this problem to them. While this error is usually temporary, if it continues and the above solutions don't resolve your problem, please let us know. Return to Yahoo!

Phil at Conspiracy Central Forums wrote back: OK... I'll send this Anthony an email and I'll ask him what on earth is going on. The files you received back may be infected with some kind of malevolent virus, trojan or something like that. Did you do a thorough virus and spyware scan over the material you received back from Squarespace? Good luck Leo and I'll get back to you on this...

The Illuminati Big Brother (12/6/2006)

The illuminati Big Brother is listening the illuminati Big Brother wants you, and the illuminati Big Brother actually already has you under his full surveillance. But we still accept this farse and this total violation of our privacy. And now they start with the censorship so how long do we realy have before officialy becoming SLAVES OF THE BEAST? Not along time Im afraid and you are not making it easy. Big Brother is listening: Government can eavesdrop on your life by secretly listening through your cell phone (NewsTarget)

NewsTarget has learned that the FBI has developed a technique that can remotely activate a nearby cell phone's microphone, thereby turning it into a listening device. The "roving bug" technique was approved by U.S. Department of Justice officials for use on members of an organized crime family in New York that was getting increasingly suspicious of tails, wiretaps or other traditional surveillance techniques. The cell phones of alleged mobster John Ardilot -- considered by the FBI to be one of the most powerful men in the national Mafia's Genovese family -- and his attorney Peter Peluso, also an alleged mobster, were activated by this technique in order for authorities to monitor nearby conversations. U.S. District Judge Lewis Kaplan ruled that the technique was legal in an opinion this week, stating that federal wiretapping law was broad enough to cover the monitoring of conversations occurring near a suspect's cell phone. Nextel spokesperson Travis Sowders said the company was not aware of the investigation and was not asked to participate. The new method works whether the phone is on or off, because many phone models cannot be truly powered down without removing the battery. Some models, for example, will turn on from a powered-down state when an alarm is set. A 2005 Financial Times article noted that cell phone providers can install a piece of software on any phone from a remote location, allowing microphone activation, without the owner's knowledge. In addition to activating a mic, the software can also stop a display from indicating a call in progress, taking away another method by which a cell phone user could tell his phone had been compromised. According to counter-surveillance consultant James Atkinson, models from Nextel, Samsung and the popular Motorola Razr are particularly vulnerable to these remote software downloads. "If a phone has in fact been modified to act as a bug, the only way to counteract that is to either have a bugsweeper follow you around 24-7, which is not practical, or to peel the battery off the phone," Atkinson said, adding that some security-conscious corporate executives make a habit of removing their cell phone's battery when the unit is not in use. This is not the first time the FBI has commandeered built-in microphones as listening devices. In a 2003 lawsuit, it was discovered that the FBI was able to activate the microphones of automotive systems such as OnStar and listen to passenger conversations without the speakers knowing. The 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the practice was not legal, but only because the technique prevents the system from being used in an emergency.

The fact is that we all know whats going on by now in our circles, but to rebel openly against such evil show seems to be the problem. Why is it that the majority of our viewers out there act as true freedom fighters only in theory , but they are far from it in practice. Dont you want to genuinely give your life for this war in the western world?

This will be the most important war in history that will decide the future of mankind not a joke , are you scared of it ?...or Im I wrong about the mass of sheep out there...

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

PS:1984 is now!

From my very good friend Abdullah Aymaz (12/7/2006)

Enough with the fighting! It is high time to stay away from acts that would lead to inter-religious fighting and disputes. Let us not forget the suffering and the killing of innocents during the World Wars. What are they trying to do? The World is in immense need of peace and tranquility, not another powder keg. What is the meaning of this latest attempt of awakening old disputes through media and cinema? Is there any thing constructive to be gained from opening two thousand year old files and bringing the events of the past to the present?

This is not the way the last divine revelation, the Holy Qur'an, presents the issue. The Holy Qur'an has the potential to be the judge on this case as its miraculousness is proven forty-four times and is at our hands in its full originality. This is necessary in order to give an end to these disputes and to thwart the evil tendencies of believers of different faiths that result in enmities. The Holy Qur'an has this potential as it stands equidistant to both the Christian and Jewish traditions and as it esteems the believers of both faiths.

On the issue of crucifixion the Holy Qur'an states:

"But they killed him not, nor crucified him, but so it was made to appear to them, and those who differ therein are full of doubts, with no (certain) knowledge, but only conjecture to follow, for of a surety they killed him not. Nay, Allah raised him up unto Himself; and Allah is Exalted in Power and Wise."

(Surah Al-Nisaa, 4:157-158)

Apart from the fact that Jesus Christ was never really killed, the Holy Qur'an teaches us that no one is responsible for the sins of his forefathers. Even if the crucifixion as it is presented in "The Passion of the Christ" is accepted as historical fact, Jews of today cannot be held responsible for what people of Jerusalem did on that particular day. Every sheep is hung by its own leg. Let us leave the judgment of what had been done to the Almighty God and try not to ignite new disputes on what we do not know with certainty.

The potential of the Holy Qur'an's mediation is not something that is just talked about theoretically.

During a symposium organized by the Journalists and Writers Association of Turkey in April 2000 entitled "Patriarch Abraham: A symbol of hope in dialogue and a bond of faith", I had heard from a certain American academic about how the Qur'anic belief of the Crucifixion can facilitate dialogue and understanding between Jews and Christians. He spoke about a conference organized in the US where the bulk of the spectators were Christians, while some of the speakers were Jews and Muslims. As one of the Jewish speakers was presenting his speech an apparently Christian spectator shouted at him claiming that the Jews were traitors and that they had killed Jesus Christ and as a Jew he should not have dared to come to a conference and speak to Christian spectators. How such an offensive remark can influence the air in an academic conference is imaginable. As the American academic told me, one of the Muslim scholars stood up and spoke to the people with these words: "Dear friends! Nobody killed Jesus Christ and nobody is responsible for His death. Look, the Holy Qur'an is very clear on this point: "But they killed him not, nor crucified him!"

says Qur'an. As a divine revelation that follows the Old and the New Testaments, the Holy Qur'an shall never err. As God is the judge, Jesus Christ is alive and risen. This shall leave no place for disputes."

This Muslim scholar had saved the day and the conference had proceeded as scheduled.

As Muslims we hope that fellow believers of the monotheistic religions shall lend an ear to what the Holy Qur'an says regarding what they have been quarreling about. We hope this for the sake of peace and tranquillity.

The Vatican Cornerstone Society (12/7/2006)

Dont call it the Corner Stone Society call it the Vatican Corner Stone Society a place where the Vatican illuminati of the United Grand Lodge of England meet up to conspire against the world. The illustrius Freemason Julian Rees a friend of John Faerseth and the Ordo Templi Orientis is the guy in charge of this illuminati operation with the support of the illustrius Satanist the Pro Grand Master the Marquess of Northampton who delivers this speech we are publishing on our site. The Marquess of Northampton secretly financed with money stolen from the UGLE the Academy of the illuminati of Giuliano di Bernardo in Piazza di Spagna 20 (Rome). We have described in detail the Corner Stone Society elsewhere on this site.

Leo Lyon Zagami

THE CORNERSTONE SOCIETY
www.cornerstonesociety.com

WHITHER DIRECTING OUR COURSE?
Pro Grand Master, Lord Northampton

I start with the disclaimer that the views in this paper are my own and not necessarily those of Grand Lodge.

As Pro Grand Master of the United Grand Lodge of England, and therefore the most senior representative of the Grand Master, I am conscious that one of my responsibilities is to try and steer the Craft during my tenure of office in a direction which I hope will be beneficial for its future - hence the title of this paper.

I begin with the premise that with nearly three hundred years of experience under our belt we must be doing something right, so why should freemasonry in, say, twenty five years be any different from the model we have today. Well we may be by far the biggest Grand Lodge in the world with a membership of 272,000 individuals spread over the four quarters of the globe, but something is wrong with Anglo Saxon freemasonry. Having said that, I know an enormous amount of effort has been invested in our future both in London, our Provinces and Districts, and many brethren are working hard to recruit, retrieve and retain our members with various schemes designed for that purpose. But the overall picture is not a satisfactory one as the following figures will show.

Although statistics were not available before and during the 80's, it is clear we have lost at least 40% of our membership in as little as thirty years. Our recent losses are often blamed on the fact that we consecrated 1000 lodges in the five years following the second World War to accommodate men returning from active service and wanting to join a fraternity. But that is not the whole story as most of those brethren have long since passed to the Grand Lodge above and we have continued to shrink at the rate of between 2-3% every year. While the decline has lessened in the past two years we are by no means out of the wood and with an aging membership we face an uncertain future. It is interesting to note that while our membership numbers have shrunk so dramatically, the number of our lodges has actually increased. The result is that we now have a very large number of lodges that are struggling to survive with very few members. The situation is made even worse when you factor in low attendance figures. It is not easy to see how we can correct this situation except by encouraging lodges to consider closing or amalgamating when their numbers drop below a viable level.

The danger of having too few members in a lodge is that in their desperation to survive brethren may accept candidates regardless of whether or not they fulfil the conditions for initiation laid down in the ritual. Worse still, because at best they only manage to attract one new member each year, they rush the poor candidate through the three degrees without giving him any time to pause and contemplate what it all means.

Candidates are often stewards before they are master masons and on the officer's ladder as soon as they are raised. Six years later they are either in the Master's chair or have made some excuse to drop out, never to return. A recent survey in Buckinghamshire showed that 30% of all master masons ceased attending their lodges within three years of being raised. I don't blame them. The pressure of having to learn so much ritual in such a short time, before you have bonded fully with your peers and without any real understanding of its meaning, must test even our most committed candidates.

This is not freemasonry as it should be practised, and only slightly better than the mass one day classes we all deplore in America. If lodges start to initiate men regardless of their suitability because they are desperate to increase their numbers, then we should be worried about any long term future for the Order. I have often said that the quality of our members is more important than their quantity, but it is of course possible and preferable to have both. There are plenty of 'just, upright and free men of mature age, sound judgment, and strict morals' in society, if we could only attract them to join us. So until we can find ways of increasing the size of our lodges, thereby giving more time for progression to the chair and more time to learn and understand the rituals, we must make do with encouraging lodges to share out much of the work among the master masons and past masters. In fact it often makes for more variety and therefore more enjoyment, and involves many more of the lodge members at every meeting. No brother should be made to feel he has let the side down by not doing as much as the past masters did when they were in the chair. A good mason does not necessarily have to be a good ritualist as long as he participates in the affairs of his lodge and his heart is in the right place.

The final statistic we must add into the equation is the number of certificates issued by Grand Lodge. In the past ten years alone the number of men we initiate annually has fallen by 30% from just under 12,000 to 8,400. It does not take a rocket scientist to work out that within the next twenty five years English

THE CORNERSTONE SOCIETY
www.cornerstonesociety.com

Freemasonry could well have shrunk to as little as half its present size. This means one in every two lodges will have disappeared and even then we will not have increased the low numbers we may have in the remaining ones. The extra financial pressures on our members will become intolerable and there will be a corresponding knock on effect on our masonic charities and the 800 or so masonic halls we have in England and Wales. It is clear, therefore, that doing nothing now is not an option, but knowing what to do and how to do it is something on which we should all concentrate our minds.

I believe that in order to plan for the future we must first look back at our roots and examine the reasons we were formed and have survived 'the wreck of mighty empires'. We spend too much time worrying about 'when' rather than 'why' we were created. What was in the minds of those men who started Freemasonry and what was the purpose behind it?

Of course we know that some form of what we call Freemasonry was being practised in the late 16C in England long before our first recorded initiate, Elias Ashmole, was introduced to a lodge in Warrington by Henry Mainwaring in 1646. I have brought this chair from my house in Warwickshire which was originally in Canonbury Tower. Situated in Islington, the Tower, was built in the early 16th century and inherited by my family in 1608. The two panelled rooms at Canonbury were carved in oak in 1599. There are many symbols depicted in the carvings including levels and compasses. They are almost certainly connected to this chair, which is dated 1595. The initials, EM, which are visible on either side at the top are likely to be those of Edward Mainwaring, two generations before Henry, as the crest between them is that of the Mainwaring family.

This was a period when certain men of great intellect were planning a future society as an utopian ideal. Francis Bacon's book 'the New Atlantis' is full of masonic symbolism and describes an island where just such a perfect society existed. Unfortunately such a vision could not be grounded in Europe, with its political intrigue and religious intolerance, hence the attempt to do so in America through the Virginia Company - named after the virgin soil on the other side of the world which they believed would provide the perfect conditions for just such a society. Whether Freemasonry was influenced by this ideal of perfection is difficult to prove but it is certainly one of the main themes running through our rituals.

So we can say with certainty that some form of philosophical fraternity existed in the late 16th century and part of its ethos was to counter political and religious intolerance. Freemasonry has retained that as part of its ethos to this day as it refuses still to allow any member, whether in lodge or in his capacity as a Freemason, to discuss or to advance his views on theological or political questions. This fraternity, which stood for freedom of expression and thought, had to be kept secret at a time when men were beheaded for holding different views to the Church and Monarch. Since that time the Order has gone through varying periods of openness and intense privacy but even in its early days the rituals were widely known through exposures of one kind or another. Nowadays we are just coming out of a period of privacy and are developing a more open approach with the popular world.

For too long English freemasons have been criticised for their actions, based on ignorance and prejudice; the perception in some quarters is that we are a secret society who practise strange rituals behind closed doors. It is perceived that we only look after our own, and in a way which encourages profitable deals between masons from which non-masons are excluded. We have also been accused of protecting our members even when they break the law. Over the past twenty years or so we have tried hard to rid the Craft of those who do not live up to the high standards we set ourselves. Every organisation as large as ours is bound to have some rotten apples in its membership but it is quite wrong to blame Freemasonry for the failings of a few of its members. It would be equally wrong to blame the whole judiciary for one crooked judge or the whole medical profession for the failings of a single doctor. Nevertheless we promote ourselves as an organisation which teaches the importance of a high moral code of behaviour and we must expect to be criticised when our members transgress. The fact is that this is a brotherhood which was designed for the improvement of the soul of man, but however hard we try to show ourselves in a true light we are always faced with two questions – who are you and what do you do in your lodges? The answer has traditionally been that our members feel they will be discriminated against if it is known that they are masons, and what we do is private and nobody else's business. Of course there are brethren who genuinely fear they will be discriminated against if their membership becomes known, but society now expects transparency in everything that it perceives may affect it adversely. We cannot hope to change our member's fear of discrimination unless we change the perceptions which cause it and to do that we have to explain to the popular world the good things that Freemasonry stands for, and talk openly about the lessons that are taught in our rituals.

THE CORNERSTONE SOCIETY

www.cornerstonesociety.com

It is now generally acknowledged that the 'secrets' of masonry are only the modes of recognition without which you cannot witness our ceremonies – the grips, tokens and words of the three degrees. They have been exposed on numerous occasions but all masons promise not to reveal them to the uninitiated, in part to keep cowans and intruders out of our ceremonies but also to show that we can be trusted to keep a promise. The 'mysteries', which we also promise not to disclose, are something completely different. Any member of the public can buy a copy of the emulation ritual book and tens of thousands of lady masons have done so over many years. The vast majority of the ceremonies are there in full for all to read, the main exception being those words which relate to the modes of recognition and the preparation of the candidate. So if anyone wants to know what we get up to in our ceremonies why not suggest they buy the ritual book and read it for themselves. Before anyone accuses me of betraying the brotherhood let me stress that you cannot discover the mysteries of Freemasonry by reading the ritual book. You have to go through the process of initiation to realise and unlock the mystery, because it is a felt experience. You can not understand it in any other way than by doing it; just as you cannot learn to swim by reading a manual of how to do it.

We are the inheritors of an important initiatic system containing universal truths, some form of which has probably been in existence for thousands of years. During that time it has been a beneficial guiding influence on the evolution of humanity and our present day Freemasonry is no exception. The three degrees of masonry are like symbolic rehearsals for those major initiations that we must all take on our journey of Self discovery. Thus Freemasonry is a system which guides man in his search for the sacred. The three degrees equate to body, mind and spirit, the three essential parts of man. In the first degree the emphasis is on the physical and its objective is 'from darkness to light'. It is symbolised by the rough ashlar and the working tools are those implements needed to work on the unshapen stones brought to light from the darkness of the quarries. The consciousness of the first degree is at the level of instinct and its pillar represents physical strength and is therefore crowned with the terrestrial globe.

In the second degree the emphasis is on the powers of the mind and its objective is 'from ignorance to knowledge'. It is symbolised by the smooth ashlar and the working tools are designed to perfect and prove the stone after rude matter has been brought into due form. The consciousness of this degree is at the level of intellect and its pillar represents wisdom and is therefore crowned with the celestial globe. In the third degree the emphasis is on spirit and the objective is to build the Temple, not made with human hands, eternal in the Heavens. Its symbol is the blazing star, its consciousness is at the level of intuition, the voice of Nature, and its pillar is that of Beauty. Beauty depends on balance and harmony. The objectives of the three degrees – illumination through the search for light, wisdom through the increase in knowledge, and transformation through the process of death and renewal – portray the story of the evolution of human consciousness leading ultimately to enlightenment.

For most people enlightenment is a process of imparting or acquiring information or knowledge about something, like ‘That was an enlightening speech you made’. Historians call the ‘Enlightenment’ that period in 18thC Europe when a group of philosophers promoted a rational and non theological approach to the problems of philosophy and society. This is not however the meaning of enlightenment in the Eastern and Western mystery traditions, where light is not an abstract symbol but a living experience that is felt in the heart, the mind and the body. Enlightenment is not just a metaphor but rather an experience of ones own inner essence, and the realisation of the Self with a capital ‘s’. When defined as the rational acquisition of knowledge it deals with a very limited aspect of human transformation. The enlightenment we are dealing with in Freemasonry is that of ancient teachings. It is a process of seeing more clearly and having a more lucid awareness. This aspect of transformation, through which Freemasonry guides us, is a gradual process of moving from a state of unknowing to an ever increasing knowledge of one’s Self and ones true potential.

Enlightenment plays a central role in the sacred literature and art of most religious and spiritual traditions. God’s invocation for creation was ‘Let there be light’, and science believes that the beginning of the Universe was an explosion of inconceivable force and radiance. The Christ is seen as the ‘light of the world’, and the vision of the Lord in the Bhagavad Gita is of a cosmic being ‘brighter than a thousand suns’. Solar deities of light and fire, like the Indian Agni, the Iranian Mazda, the Egyptian Ra, and the Greek Apollo play key roles in all the sacred mythologies. Jung called light ‘the central mystery of philosophical alchemy’.

Ken Wilber reminds us in his book ‘Eye to Eye’ that medieval philosophers made a distinction between three kinds of light and three kinds of eyes. We have eyes of flesh which see with exterior light - lumen exterior - the physical world of sense objects and matter. Then we have an eye of reason, which sees with interior light - lumen interior - the truths of reason, mind, and knowledge. Finally, we have an eye of contemplation, which sees with higher or transcendent light – lumen superius - the ultimate reality of oneness, the ground of Being. It is these three lights that we need to consider in Freemasonry and the rituals clearly differentiate between them. The exterior light of the body equates to the light of Nature, described in the first degree with the words 'restored to the blessing of material light'. This is distinct from the inner light of the mind which in the second degree is that of intellect. Emmanuel Swedenborg wrote 'it has often been granted me to perceive and also to see that there is a true light that enlightens the mind, wholly distinct from the light that is called natural light. I have been raised up into that light by degrees; and as I was raised up my understanding became so enlightened as to enable me to perceive what I did not perceive before, and finally such things as I could not even comprehend by thought from natural light.' Finally in the third degree the light of contemplation is described as that 'Light which is from above'. The experience of enlightenment appears to be the sensing, feeling and knowing that the body, heart and mind are being infused, usually from 'above' with inner light of a spiritual nature. When talking about this illumination it is called 'light from above' as a way of describing the process by which it appears to come from a part of our being that is 'higher' than body or mind. Sri Aurobindo describes the process: 'Into the consciousness with a fiery ardour of realisation comes a downpour of inwardly visible light. There is also in this descent the arrival of a greater dynamic, a luminous 'enthusiasmos' of inner force and power which replaces the comparatively slow and deliberate process of the mind by a swift, sometimes vehement, almost a violent impetus of rapid transformation'.

With the coming of this inner light the recipient is initiated into a new and higher level of realisation. The light experienced in the different degrees of freemasonry is one and the same, only at different levels of the spectrum of consciousness. The experience of enlightenment often comes after an intense inner struggle, like a breakthrough between the opposites of good and evil; it brings an understanding which embraces both the polar opposites. It is often a struggle between fear and love. When the power of love finally prevails and light dawns in the heart, then the walls of fear dissolve and the heart opens. To lose any sense of fear, particularly that of dying, is to be free, and that of course is one important teaching in the third degree of Freemasonry. As Walt Whitman wrote in Leaves of Grass, 'Not I, not any one else can travel that road for you. You must travel it for yourself. It is not far, it is within reach. Perhaps you have been on it since you were born and did not know.'

It is self evident that this is what the writers of our rituals had in mind when they developed the Freemasonry we know and love as a progressive science leading from darkness and ignorance to light and knowledge and culminating in wisdom and enlightenment.

So how does any of this help Anglo Saxon Freemasonry in its present decline?

The reasons why men persevere and enjoy their masonry are complex and will be different for each of us. At one end of the scale there are those brethren who are looking for companionship alone and Freemasonry provides them with a friendly and trusting environment; then there are those who value the contribution the Craft makes to charity, and are motivated by a desire to help those less fortunate than themselves, both masons and non-masons alike; some like the chance to perform the rituals and work hard to ensure high standards are maintained in our ceremonies; others make a study of freemasonry from an historical or social perspective; then there are those who choose to explore the inner and more esoteric aspects of the ritual in order to discover more about Freemasonry and themselves. It is for the latter that we need to give a better understanding of the inner meanings of the Craft; partly to encourage a better study of Freemasonry and partly to increase the amount of revealed light in the Order as a whole. The success of such a venture will only be judged by the effect it has on those who are interested in the mysteries, and want to deepen their knowledge of the true nature of the Order.

Anglo Saxon masonry has strayed from its original purpose and no longer teaches its candidates the fundamental truths which underpin the Craft. That is why I support the initiative to start an Orator scheme to provide well written papers describing this masonic journey for delivery in lodges. Educating our members about the purpose of masonry should be a priority regardless of whether or not they wish to deepen their understanding of it. Much continental masonry, which continues to thrive, and Latin American masonry, which is the fastest growing masonry in the world, insists on the candidates becoming proficient in and having an understanding of any degree they have taken before allowing them to progress further. They have to write papers and answer questions on the ceremony they have experienced before they are allowed to move to the next degree. Do we consider the questions our candidates have to answer before being passed and raised really give 'proofs of proficiency' in the former degree? I think not. However, as well as educating our members I believe it is important also that we educate the public at large. We need to explain ourselves and what we do to non masons who show a genuine interest in us. We must explain in layman's language the lessons we are taught in our lodges. As I have explained previously I do not believe we will be betraying any trust by doing so, nor can we be exposing the mysteries to the eyes of the profane. What we will be doing is encouraging men to join us in order to experience the transformatory process for which freemasonry was created.

THE CORNERSTONE SOCIETY

www.cornerstonesociety.com

So to summarise, I strongly believe that the way forward for Anglo Saxon masonry is for its members to be encouraged positively to talk about the rituals. There are many men who would join us if they only realised what freemasonry was really about and it is up to us to tell them. Our teachings contain universal truths which need to be promulgated to all those who are interested. The days of reserving knowledge for the benefit of a few are over. I was invited two years ago to address some of the senior boys and monks at Downside, the Roman Catholic boarding school. I spoke for nearly an hour on Freemasonry, its symbols and its principles. I quoted passages from the charge after initiation to give an idea of what a candidate is taught in the rituals. I explained the working tools and how we moralise their uses in building our temple, not made with human hands. I stressed that freemasonry was just a system without dogma and doctrine which leads us through its three ceremonies on a progressive path from ignorance to enlightenment. I pointed out the benefits of the psychological changes that happen to a man as he passes from being an entered apprentice through the various offices to the Master's chair - how he develops his intellect, leadership qualities, self confidence, tolerance, kindness, compassion, service to others, open heartedness, social responsibility, temperance and above all self awareness. By the time I had finished and taken questions I left them in no doubt that Freemasonry is a force for good in the world. Even the headmaster remarked how different my version of the Craft was from what he had been led to believe it was like. The only way we are going to dispel ignorance is through education. If we all made the effort to explain masonry to laymen in suitable terms we could really make a difference to the way we are perceived. Above all we must stress how enjoyable it is. The brotherhood will surely come to an end if it ceases to be fun.

I have read many booklets which have been produced by different Provinces to explain freemasonry to their candidates. So many of them, however, deal with the form and etiquette of the Craft and do not give any real explanation of its purpose and content. As a result they convey knowledge but do not inspire the reader to want to explore further. As Michael Walker, Past Grand Secretary of Ireland, said in his address to our Grand Lodge last year, there is nothing wrong with the content of freemasonry but there is definitely something wrong with the way we package our product. We keep hearing that men today are searching for 'spirituality' in their lives free from dogma and doctrine. Freemasonry undoubtedly has an answer to that search because it is one of the reasons it was founded, but it fails to sell itself on the back of its excellent credentials. The truth is that the packaging of our product has become jaded. Society is very different to what it was even a generation ago but freemasonry has changed hardly at all. Is it any wonder that we appear irrelevant to our young candidates and so many of them subsequently leave us? I repeat my conviction that the time has come to talk openly and freely about our rituals with anyone who is interested, the only caveat being that we take care not to dilute the effect the ceremonies will have on future candidates. If as a result we inspire our members to make a daily advancement in masonic knowledge and attract men to join us because of its exciting message, we will be able slowly to turn the Craft in the direction for which it was founded.

I would like to end by quoting some words I wrote for an after dinner speech during my recent visit to the Grand Lodge of Chile in Santiago. 'We are all brothers on this same journey, a journey leading to self knowledge and ultimately perfection. The American poet, Emerson, described it as a journey of 'ascending effort'. And as we climb higher on the path we are helped by those brethren who are ahead of us and in turn encourage those who are behind. Freemasonry is a system without dogma or doctrine which signposts, through the interpretation of its symbols, the journey we must all make. It is a template for the evolution of human consciousness and as such is a progressive science of becoming – becoming something greater than we are now. It has various set stages for our development. A high moral code of ethical behaviour is the essential condition on which our journey is founded, and that includes the need to be in control of our emotions, our passions and desires. This is followed by the importance of education and the training of our reason and intellect as a force for good in the world. When these conditions are fulfilled and we are truly centred as human beings, our hearts open to the great potential which is at once the birthright and destiny of the human race. For as we climb higher we become wiser and can see further and more clearly what is the purpose of our life, and what the Great Architect has planned for us. That is the great mystery of Freemasonry which all of us are destined to rediscover.

Brethren, it is those inner spiritual realities underlying the outer symbolic forms which this Cornerstone Society was created to promote in our lodges, and long may it continue its good work for the future health of the Craft.

A police visit with a surprise offer... (12/7/2006)

A POLICE VISIT FROM THE ILLUMINATI AGENTS WITH A VERY UGLY OFFER: STOP OR WE TAKE THE CHILDREN

Two police officers, one intelligence officer and one other defined as Social worker (childcare office) came and visit me at 10.30 pm and they said if I go on with my web site and my work I could lose the custody of my children!!! The illuminati pedophilia mafia is moving against me and my family . They are criminals in norway and I want to expose them further on Monday if they dont arrest me before that. Spread the News NAZISM IS ARRIVED OFFICIALLY IN THE USA AND EUROPE. To protect Vatican Satanism. My life is dedicated to God Im ready to die or be persecuted for him. THEY ARE CRIMINALS AND I WILL EXPOSE THEM ON MONDAY'S SHOW, I took out the documents I have against their governement and they shut up and left me alone but I will not give up even if i have to sacrifice my family for Allah. I want the help of true muslims ,of all true Christians, of all true Jews to help me now protecting my family against the Satan who wants to stop me spreading the truth about their satanic conspiracy . A conspiracy to take over the world and give into the hands of pedophile ring in Rome,THE VATICAN.

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khlaed Saifullah Khan

Leo's post about the Knights of Malta (12/7/2006)

Posted on <http://conspiracycentral.info/index.php?showtopic=2793&st=0>

THE KNIGHTS OF MALTA ARE THE SECRET SERVICE OF THE VATICAN AND THE JESUITS AND I HAVE DOCUMENTS TO PROVE THEIR P2/GLADIO LINKS BECAUSE THEY ARE NOW SOLD OUT COMPLETELY TO THE DEVIL WITH NO SHAME.

ON THE 26 OF JUNE THERE WAS A IMPORTANT MEETING IN MALTA AND I WROTE THE SPEACH FOR IT WITH GIORGIO HUGO BALESTRIERI EARLIER ON THE 4TH OF JUNE IN LIVORNO THE DAY AFTER THE SAN CERBONE UNIVERSAL UNITY (P2) GLADIO MEETING NEAR LUCCA;BALESTRIERI DIRECTOR OF THE NEW YORK ROTARY CLUB TAKES GLADIO ORDERS FROM FRANCESCO COSSIGA AND P2 ORDERS FROM EZIO GIUNCHIGLIA. ALL 3RD DEGREE KNIGHTS OF MALTA IN MILITARY POSITION ARE JESUIT NWO SPIES THESE DAYS NOTHING MORE ,AND ABSOLUTELY NOT REAL KNIGHTS OF ANY HOLY GRAIL, AND IM A SHAME FOR THEIR WAYS IN THIS NEW MILLENIUM COMING FROM A FAMILY OF IMPORTANT KNIGHTS OF MALTA WHO RULED SICILY FOR MANY CENTURIES (DI GREGORIO FAMILY) . IF YOU WANT I CAN NAME A FEW MALTA SLAVES LIKE THE FAMOUS SATANIST AND HEROIN ADDICT ALBERTO MOSCATO GRAND MASTER OF A.CROWLEY OTOca /ILLUMINATI IN ITALY AND 3RD DEGREE KNIGHT OF MALTA LIVING IN MASSIMO INTROVIGNE'S APARTMENT AND WORKING OFFICIALY AS A POLICE OF THE GUARDIA DI FINANZA,MOSCATO DIED LAST SPRING IN MISTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES (TO MUCH EXPOSURE TO THE PROPHANE WORLD AS A SATANIST THEY SAY IN ITALIAN ILLUMINATI CIRCLES). CIAO FOR NOW AND SAALAM ALEIKUM, KHALED SAIFULLAH KHAN

PS:KNOW THE TRUTH BEFORE IS TOO LATE

The Illuminati dictatorship from ancient Rome (12/7/2006)

Because ancient Rome stands as the bedrock of western civilization and pure fascism...

Because Roman Virtues mean more than Family Values as they say in their site Nova Roma...

Because the Gods of Roma are calling as the illuminati say also in the Nova Roma site. Then you have to check the illuminati creation of a favourite amongst satanist and military officials were the Cardinals of the Vatican rule following the Ancient Tradition as High Priest, and the other members even elect Senators and play Gladiatorial games from ancient Rome in their secret Lodges with no protection until one them gets killed.,this is the ultimate GLADIO organization.

NOVA ROMA <http://www.novaroma.org/>

NOVA ROMA IS OLD ROMA AND THATS VATICAN NAZI-FASCISM AT HIS BEST WITH A BUNCH OF MILITARY PEOPLE PLAYING OLD ROMAN SENATORS AND PRIEST PLAYING GODS...SICK ROME IS ANCIENT ROME, A PLACE AS WE ALL REMEMBER FROM OUR DAYS IN SCHOOL , OF PERVERTS AND PROSTITUTES.

Exposing the illuminati and Nova Roma is a must,they have some of the best Academics and satanist in Europe within their secret structure of parallel Government SPQR working for the Vatican.

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

Balestrieri and NY Rotary Club (12/7/2006)

From my dear friend and Brother of the Propaganda 2 Lodge in New York Commandate Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri, one of the GLADIO Puppet Masters behind 9/11 and the New World Disorder...

Messaggio inoltrato [Salva file | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Da: GBRotary@aol.com
Data: Sun, 4 Jun 2006 16:35:11 EDT
Oggetto: <http://nyrotaryunitednations.blogspot.com/>
A: leoyoung1999@yahoo.com, amato.roberto@gmail.com, drgruggiero@tiscali.it

Allegato HTML [Controlla e salva sul pc | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Alle Nazioni Unite <http://nyrotaryunitednations.blogspot.com/>

Giorgio

Welcome to the International Service Division of the Rotary Club of New York's Newsletter

Welcoming Note and Listing of Articles:

The International Service Division of the Rotary Club of New York is delighted to present this newsletter in order to demonstrate the commitment and continuing support of Rotary to the United Nations and its Millennium Development Goals. This newsletter will also serve as a platform for information and dialogue between all Rotarians who are interested in the programs of the United Nations and in contributing towards achieving its goals. We invite you to share your experiences from collaboration in projects between Rotary and the United Nations. Also, all Rotarians are invited to attend the NY Rotary International Breakfast Meetings which are scheduled on the third Wednesday of every month and held at the German House located at 871 United Nations Plaza (49th St. and First Ave). These meetings provide an opportunity for Rotarians to stay informed regarding United Nations programs and to exchange views on related topics with UN officials and representatives of its member states.

Yours in Rotary Service

Com.te Dott. Giorgio H. Balestrieri
Chairman, International Service Division
Director, The Rotary Club of New York

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 11-20

Vatican Illuminati and the pedophile rings blessed by Satan (12/7/2006)

VATICAN ILLUMINATI AND THE PEDOPHILE RINGS BLESSED BY SATAN

(Skeletons in the closet)

Greg Szymanski said in the latest news that It's been a bad couple of days for George H. Daddy Bush as, according to inside sources, his Illuminati financial empire is collapsing before his evil eyes while, at the same time, a photo recently surfaced showing him pictured with Johnny Gosch, a 1982 child kidnapping victim involved in the much talked about White House pedophile ring.

So I invite all the people out there to read this old article by Jeffrey Steinberg that will explain to you better the real problem we are facing today with these Nazi Phedophile Rings. Rings of pure satanic power and perversion directly controlled by Washington and their evil Masters in the Vatican represented in the USA by Cardinal Spellman, the biggest criminal in the Vatican illuminati elite.

By Jeffrey Steinberg

On February 5, 1999, in U.S. District Court in Lincoln, Nebraska, an extraordinary hearing occurred in Paul A. Bonacci v. Lawrence E. King, a civil action in which the plaintiff charged that he had been ritualistically abused by the defendant, as part of a nationwide pedophile ring linked to powerful political figures in Washington and to elements of the U.S. military and intelligence establishment. Three weeks later, on February 27, Judge Warren K. Urbom ordered King, who is currently in Federal prison, to pay $1 million in damages to Bonacci, in what Bonacci's attorney John DeCamp said was a clear signal that "the evidence presented was credible."

During the February 5 hearing, Noreen Gosch stunned the court with sworn testimony linking U.S. Army Lt. Col. Michael Aquino (ret.) to the nationwide pedophile ring. Her son, Johnny, then 12 years old, was kidnapped off the streets of West Des Moines, Iowa on September 5, 1982, while he was doing his early-morning newspaper deliveries. Since his kidnapping, she has devoted all of her time and resources to finding her son, and to exposing the dangers that millions of children in American face from this hideous, literally Satanic underground of ritualistic deviants.

"We have investigated, we have talked to so far 35 victims of this said organization that took my son and is responsible for what happened to Paul, and they can verify everything that has happened," she told the court.

"What this story involves is an elaborate function, I will say, that was an offshoot of a government program. The MK-Ultra program was developed in the 1950s by the CIA. It was used to help spy on other countries during the Cold War because they felt that the other countries were spying on us.

"It was very successful. They could do it very well."

Then, the Aquino bombshell: "Well, then there was a man by the name of Michael Aquino. He was in the military. He had top Pentagon clearances. He was a pedophile. He was a Satanist. He's founded the Temple of Set. And he was a close friend of Anton LaVey. The two of them were very active in ritualistic sexual abuse. And they deferred funding from this government program to use [in] this experimentation on children.

"Where they deliberately split off the personalities of these children into multiples, so that when they're questioned or put under oath or questioned under lie detector, that unless the operator knows how to question a multiple-personality disorder, they turn up with no evidence."

She continued: "They used these kids to sexually compromise politicians or anyone else they wish to have control of. This sounds so far out and so bizarre I had trouble accepting it in the beginning myself until I was presented with the data. We have the proof. In black and white."

Under questioning from DeCamp, Gosch reported: "I know that Michael Aquino has been in Iowa. I know that Michael Aquino has been to Offutt Air Force Base [a Strategic Air Command base, near Omaha, which was linked to King's activities]. I know that he has had contact with many of these children."

Paul Bonacci, who was simultaneously a victim and a member of the nationwide pedophile crime syndicate, has subsequently identified Aquino as the man who ordered the kidnapping of Johnny Gosch. In his February 5 testimony, Bonacci referred to the mastermind of the Gosch abduction as "the Colonel."

A second witness who testified at the February 5 hearing, Rusty Nelson, was King's personal photographer. He later described to EIR another incident which linked King to Aquino, while the Army special forces officer was still on active reserve duty. Some time in the late 1980s, Nelson was with King at a posh hotel in downtown Minneapolis, when he personally saw King turn over a suitcase full of cash and bearer-bonds to "the Colonel," who he later positively identified as Aquino. According to Nelson, King told him that the suitcase of cash and bonds was earmarked for the Nicaraguan Contras, and that "the Colonel" was part of the covert Contra support apparatus, otherwise associated with Lt. Col. Oliver North, Vice President George Bush, and the "secret parallel government" that they ran from the White House.

Just who is Lt. Col. Michael Aquino (ret.), and what does the evidence revealed in a Nebraska court hearing say about the current state of affairs inside the U.S. military? Is the Aquino case some kind of weird aberration that slipped off the Pentagon radar screen?

Not in the least.

Aquino, Satan and the U.S. military

Throughout much of the 1980s, Aquino was at the center of a controversy involving the Pentagon's acquiescence to outright Satanic practices inside the military services. Aquino was also a prime suspect in a series of pedophile scandals involving the sexual abuse of hundreds of children, including the children of military personnel serving at the Presidio U.S. Army station in the San Francisco Bay Area. Furthermore, even as Aquino was being investigated by Army Criminal Investigation Division officers for involvement in the pedophile cases, he was retaining highest-level security clearances, and was involved in pioneering work in military psychological operations ("psy-ops").

On August 14, 1987, San Francisco police raided Aquino's Russian Hill home, which he shared with his wife Lilith. The raid was in response to allegations that the house had been the scene of a brutal rape of a four-year-old girl. The principal suspect in the rape, a Baptist minister named Gary Hambright, was indicted in September 1987 on charges that he committed "lewd and lascivious acts" with six boys and four girls, ranging in age from three to seven years, during September-October 1986. At the time of the alleged sex crimes, Hambright was employed at a child care center on the U.S. Army base at Presidio. At the time of Hambright's indictment, the San Francisco police charged that he was involved in at least 58 separate incidents of child sexual abuse.

According to an article in the October 30, 1987 San Francisco Examiner, one of the victims had identified Aquino and his wife as participants in the child rape. According to the victim, the Aquinos had filmed scenes of the child being fondled by Hambright in a bathtub. The child's description of the house, which was also the headquarters of Aquino's Satanic Temple of Set, was so detailed, that police were able to obtain a search warrant. During the raid, they confiscated 38 videotapes, photo negatives, and other evidence that the home had been the hub of a pedophile ring, operating in and around U.S. military bases.

Aquino and his wife were never indicted in the incident. Aquino claimed that he had been in Washington at the time, enrolled in a year-long reserve officers course at the National Defense University, although he did admit that he made frequent visits back to the Bay Area and to his church/home. The public flap over the Hambright indictment did prompt the U.S. Army to transfer Aquino from the Presidio, where he was the deputy director of reserve training, to the U.S. Army Reserve Personnel Center in St. Louis.

On April 19, 1988, the ten-count indictment against Hambright was dropped by U.S. Attorney Joseph Russoniello, on the grounds that, while there was clear evidence of child abuse (six of the children contracted the venereal disease, chlamydia), there was insufficient evidence to link Hambright (or the Aquinos) to the crimes. Parents of several of the victims charged that Russoniello's actions proved that "the Federal system has broken down in not being able to protect the rights of citizens age three to eight."

Russoniello would later be implicated in efforts to cover up the links between the Nicaraguan Contras and South American cocaine-trafficking organizations, raising deeper questions about whether the decision not to prosecute Hambright and Aquino had "national security implications."

Indeed, on April 22, 1989, the U.S. Army sent letters to the parents of at least 56 of the children believed to have been molested by Hambright, urging them to have their children tested for the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), because Hambright, a former daycare center worker, was reported to be a carrier.

On May 13, 1989, the San Jose Mercury reported that Aquino and his wife had been recently questioned by Army investigators about charges of child molestation by the couple in two northern California counties, Sonoma and Mendocino. A 9-year-old girl in Santa Rosa, California, and an 11-year-old boy in Fort Bragg, also in California, separately identified Aquino as the rapist in a series of 1985 incidents, after they had seen him on television.

Satanic subversion of the U.S. Military by Jeffrey Steinberg

Softies on Satan

When the San Francisco Chronicle contacted Army officials at the Presidio to find out if Aquino's security clearances had been lifted as the result of the pedophile investigations, the reporters were referred to the Pentagon, where Army spokesman Maj. Greg Rixon told them, "The question is whether he is trustworthy or can do the job. There is nothing that would indicate in this case that there is any problem we should be concerned about."

Indeed, the Pentagon had already given its de facto blessings to Aquino's long-standing public association with the Church of Satan and his own successor "church," the Temple of Set. This, despite the fact that Aquino's Satanic activities involved overt support for neo-Nazi movements in the United States and Europe. On October 10, 1983, while traveling in West Germany on "official NATO business," Aquino had staged a Satanic "working" at the Wewelsburg Castle in Bavaria. Aquino wrote a lengthy account of the ritual, in which he invoked Nazi SS chief Heinrich Himmler: "As the Wewelsburg was conceived by Heinrich Himmler to be the 'Mittelpunkt der Welt' ('Middle of the World'), and as the focus of the Hall of the Dead was to be the Gate of that Center, to summon the Powers of Darkness at their most powerful locus."

As early as April 1978, the U.S. Army had circulated A Handbook for Chaplains "to facilitate the provision of religious activities." Both the Church of Satan and the Temple of Set were listed among the "other" religions to be tolerated inside the U.S. military. A section of the handbook dealing with Satanism stated, "Often confused with witchcraft, Satanism is the worship of Satan (also known as Baphomet or Lucifer).

Classical Satanism, often involving 'black masses,' human sacrifices, and other sacrilegious or illegal acts, is now rare. Modern Satanism is based on both the knowledge of ritual magick and the 'anti-establishment' mood of the 1960s. It is related to classical Satanism more in image than substance, and generally focuses on 'rational self-interest with ritualistic trappings.'

No so fast! In 1982, the Temple of Set fissured over the issue of Aquino's emphasis on Nazism. One leader, Ronald K. Barrett, shortly after his expulsion, wrote that Aquino had "taken the Temple of Set in an explicitly Satanic direction, with strong overtones of German National Socialist Nazi occultism ... One fatality has occurred within the Temple membership during the period covered May 1982-July 1983."

The handbook quoted "Nine Satanic Statements" from the Church of Satan, without comment. "Statement Seven," as quoted in the handbook, read, "Satan represents man as just another animal, sometimes better, more often worse than those that walk on all fours, who, because of his 'divine and intellectual development' has become the most vicious animal of all."

>From 'psy-ops' to 'mindwars'

Aquino's steady rise up the hierarchy of the Satanic world closely paralleled his career advances inside the U.S. military. According to an official biography circulated by the Temple of Set, "Dr. Aquino is High Priest and chief executive officer of the Temple of Set, the nation's principal Satanic church, in which he holds the degree of Ipissimus VI. He joined the original Church of Satan in 1969, becoming one of its chief officials by 1975 when the Temple of Set was founded. In his secular profession he is a Lieutenant Colonel, Military Intelligence, U.S. Army, and is qualified as a Special-Forces officer, Civil Affairs officer, and Defense Attaché. He is a graduate of the Command and General Staff College, the National Defense University and the Defense Intelligence College, and the State Departments' Foreign Service Institute."

Indeed, a more detailed curriculum vitae that Aquino provided to EIR, dated March 1989, claimed that he had gotten his doctorate at the University of California at Santa Barbara in 1980, with his dissertation on "The Neutron Bomb." He listed 16 separate military schools that he attended during 1968-87, including advanced courses in "Psychological Operations" at the JFK Special Warfare Center at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, and "Strategic Intelligence" at the Defense Intelligence College, at Bolling Air Force Base in Washington, D.C.

Aquino was deeply involved in what has been called the "revolution in military affairs" ("RMA"), the introduction of the most kooky "Third Wave," "New Age" ideas into military long-range planning, which introduced such notions as "information warfare" and "cyber-warfare" into the Pentagon's lexicon.

In the early 1980s, at the same time that Heidi and Alvin Toffler were spinning their Tavistock "Third Wave" utopian claptrap to some top Air Force brass, Aquino and another U.S. Army colonel, Paul Vallely, were co-authoring an article for Military Review.

Although the article was never published in the journal, the piece was widely circulated among military planners, and was distributed by Aquino's Temple of Set. The article, titled "From PSYOP to Mindwar: The Psychology of Victory," endorsed some of the ideas published in a 1980 Military Review article by Lt. Col. John Alexander, an affiliate of the Stanford Research Institute, a hotbed of Tavistock Institute and Frankfurt School "New Age" social engineering.

Aquino and Vallely called for an explicitly Nietzschean form of warfare, which they dubbed "mindwar." "Like the sword Excalibur," they wrote, "we have but to reach out and seize this tool; and it can transform the world for us if we have but the courage and the integrity to guide civilization with it. If we do not accept Excalibur, then we relinquish our ability to inspire foreign cultures with our morality. If they then devise moralities unsatisfactory to us, we have no choice but to fight them on a more brutish level."

And what is "mindwar?" "The term is harsh and fear-inspiring," Aquino wrote. "And it should be: It is a term of attack and victory-not one of rationalization and coaxing and conciliation. The enemy may be offended by it; that is quite all right as long as he is defeated by it. A definition is offered: Mindwar is the deliberate, aggressive convincing of all participants in a war that we will win that war."

For Aquino, "mindwar" is a permanent state of strategic psychological warfare against the populations of friend and foe nations alike. "In its strategic context, mindwar must reach out to friends, enemies and neutrals alike across the globe ... through the media possessed by the United States which have the capabilities to reach virtually all people on the face of the Earth. These media are, of course, the electronic media-television and radio. State of the art developments in satellite communication, video recording techniques, and laser and optical transmission of broadcasts make possible a penetration of the minds of the world such as would have been inconceivable just a few years ago." Above all else, Aquino argues, mindwar must target the population of the United States, "by denying enemy propaganda access to our people, and by explaining and emphasizing to our people the rationale for our national interest. ... Rather it states a whole truth that, if it does not now exist, will be forced into existence by the will of the United States."

And we also have this to show you more evidence of the direct connection of Lt.Col.Michael Aquino with the prestigious

Monte Carlo Lodge :

Date: Sat, 30 Jul 2005 11:21:04 -0700 (PDT)
From: "Dr. Michael A. Aquino" xeper@sbcglobal.net Add to Address Book
Subject: Re: Universal Unity-Montecarlo *Ezio Giunchiglia 33o
To: "Ezio Giunchiglia" ezio.giunchi@libero.it

Dear Mr. Zagami and Mr. Giunchiglia,

Thank you for your kind invitation to meet with you in Monte Carlo. Please accept my apologies that current responsibilities will probably keep me stuck in California for the foreseeable future, though I can't think of a more pleasant escape than Monaco.

I took a look through your Statute and found its "Aims" admirable, though my impression was also that you may discourage readers with the extensive sections on organization/control. The Temple of Set has its philosophy in one area of documents, and its organizational design in another (California Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws). We have found this works well for us.

I always admire utopian visions and efforts to better this poor planet, even as I confess I have little hope for their success. Applied-politically I am at best a Stoic and at worst an Orwellian. Upon considering your "Aims" I think that you might find the works of Raghavan Iyer interesting:

<http://theosophy.org/>

Raghavan was a good friend of mine for many years, as well as one of my most valued teachers. (He was Professor of Political Science at the University of California where I got my own doctorate in that field.) He was by no means an "ordinary Theosophist", but a brilliant theorist beyond any labels. In my own university teaching later, I regularly used his book Parapolitics, which contained a superb application of Plato to modern social problems.

Thank you for offering to send me a copy of your book.
The address is:

Dr. Michael A. Aquino
Post Office Box 470307
San Francisco, CA 94147
USA

Sincerely,
Michael A. Aquino

-----And now these illuminati pigs try to take my children in the Satanic Kingdom of Norway , well I never said that fighting Satan was easy but these western infedels have lost the plot....

LEO LYON
ZAGAMI

NOW

KHALED
SAIFULLAH KHAN

Knights of Malta secret document (12/8/2006)

This secret document we show for the first time in public was made for the SMOM intelligence gathering of the 24th of June 2006 in Malta . And was written by Leo Lyon Zagami under the supervision of Commandante Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri at the military Accademy of Livorno on the 4th of June 2006.

Messaggio inoltrato [Salva file | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Da: GBRotary@aol.com
Data: Mon, 5 Jun 2006 11:08:49 EDT
Oggetto: Edizione con punteggiatura italiana
A: leoyoung1999@yahoo.com

Allegato HTML [Controlla e salva sul pc | Salva su Yahoo! Valigetta]

Edizione senza l'americano matto

Con un TFA

Giorgio

Mediterraneo Crocevia del Terrorismo

Salam Aleikum,

Fratelli e Sorelle di qualunque rito e credo, l'Islam nasce con la rivelazione fatta al Profeta Maometto (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) dall'Arcangelo Gabriele all'età di 40 anni, ma egli fu sempre uomo di Dio fin dalla sua nascita attesa dal suo popolo (quello della discendenza di Ismaele) che a quel tempo era purtroppo immerso in pericolosi culti pagani e pratiche di magia nera.

Egli venne già riconosciuto in giovane età dai Fratelli Ebrei che videro su di lui all'età di nove anni il simbolo dei Profeti quello dei veri credenti nell'unico Dio.

Mohammed riceve da Dio il Corano rivelazione ultima del vero monoteismo per i musulmani nato in epoca assai più remota dal Padre di tutti noi monoteisti Abramo (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui), rinato poi all'ombra delle piramidi con il Profeta Mosè e la discendenza di Isacco e il popolo eletto degli Ebrei, che poi si espande al mondo Greco-Romano grazie al Maestro Esseno e Profeta Gesù (Pace e benedizioni vadano su di lui) e infine si rivela nella sua forma più pura per noi Musulmani alla discendenza di Ismaele e a quello che noi conosciamo come mondo arabo.

L'Islam porta quindi la credenza in un unico Dio a popoli pagani che non avrebbero mai accettato il Cristianesimo Pauliciano legato all'Impero Romano e al mondo Ebraico, e compie missione di fondamentale importanza nella restituzione di un sito sacro come la Mecca ai credenti nell'unico Dio. Il Profeta dell'Islam si reca da Medina alla Mecca dove la seconda moglie di Abramo aveva vissuto un'esperienza di fondamentale importanza per i credenti di fede Islamica, e si libera una volta e per tutte degli idoli pagani con una manovra di tipo militare che restituisce questo sito a Dio e lo consacra alla fede Islamica, liberandolo dalle perversioni del paganesimo degenerato presente in questa sede. Notiamo quindi da questo breve passaggio un approccio di tipo Universale ma anche militare del Profeta Maometto (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) sia legato ai Profeti Ebrei del Vecchio Testamento che al Profeta Gesù (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) che viene visto da Maometto, come personaggio di fondamentale importanza nel Corano, è infatti il Corano a rivelarci ancora una volta che sarà Gesù a tornare alla fine dei tempi per il temutissimo Giudizio Universale e non Maometto che si è ormai innalzato ai livelli più alti dello Spirito Divino e si trova al piano Superiore della Casa di Dio, lì dove noi poveri mortali non siamo ammessi.

La religione dell'Islam predica nella sua forma originale la pace, la tolleranza e la libertà dei credenti nell'unico Dio e abbraccia il Dogma della Verginità della Madonna e l'importanza del Profeta Gesù la cui figura è riverita e presa d'esempio da tutti i mistici dell'Islam, i Sufi.

Gesù (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) la cui vera figura era quella di un uomo-Re portatore di luce e di pace nel mondo ci viene svelata sempre di più per quello che realmente era in questo periodo, soprattutto grazie a un approccio più scientifico e meno dogmatico che ha portato al ritrovamento e allo studio approfondito dei Vangeli gnostici e di tutti quei Vangeli proibiti dalla Chiesa di Roma che fortunatamente stanno riapparendo qua e là negli ultimi 50 anni a beneficio dell'umanità intera.

Egli Gesù (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) diviene purtroppo Dio solo nelle mani del corrotto Consiglio di Nicea diretto dall'Imperatore Costantino che in realtà compie un atto temporale più che spirituale. E a Nicea che viene deciso ai voti il futuro del Cristianesimo, il Dogma Trinitario Paulino e la creazione della figura Dio = Gesù che Maometto (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) ovviamente non accetta.

Nel Corano, e per i veri Musulmani, i Cristiani e gli Ebrei sono Fratelli e le critiche rivolte a loro nel Corano sono solamente quelle costruttive di un Profeta e di un Dio che vuole riportarli sulla retta via, nel rispetto reciproco e con una tolleranza purtroppo d'altri tempi che mai avrebbe ispirato gli atti osceni del terrorismo Islamico contemporaneo.

Vi è infatti un rispetto totale verso i credenti di tutte le fedi da parte di coloro che rappresentano il vero Islam, quello che ci insegna per esempio che se non vi è una Moschea nel paese in cui essi si trovano ci si può recare per la preghiera in Sinagoga o in Chiesa perché questi luoghi sono considerati sacri dal vero Islam e non luoghi da far esplodere, il Musulmano che muore in terra Cristiana viene addirittura invitato in mancanza di un cimitero Islamico ad usare la terra dei Fratelli Ebrei.

E allora miei cari ascoltatori qui pervenuti a Malta da tutto il mondo per questo summit di grande importanza per le nostre comunità da dove nasce questo fondamentalismo intollerante che troviamo nei cosiddetti Martiri dell' Islam moderno?

Chi sono Questi terroristi - esseri perversi e pericolosi - in mano a falsi Profeti dell' Islam che si imolano con le loro bombe uccidendo vittime innocenti di una scuola per bambini rovinando il nome del vero Islam e la pace tra gli uomini?

La risposta ci viene da uno dei più grandi Maestri viventi del vero Islam, Fethullah Gulen, premio Unesco per la pace e il dialogo interreligioso quando dice che il 90% di Musulmani predica bene e razzola male, e Fethullah Gulen rincara la dose dicendo che non basta recitare le proprie preghiere e conoscere i rituali e le preghiere dell' Islam a memoria per essere un vero Musulmano ma bisogna conoscere la vera essenza dell' Islam per esserne realmente parte, quella essenza che fece dire perfino a Napoleone Bonaparte che il trinomio Fratellanza, Uguaglianza e Libertà sono contenuti nel vero Islam.

Fethullah Gulen li chiama "empty bags", sacchi vuoti, i musulmani di oggi, perché recitano e si mostrano con atti esterni dei grandi credenti ma in realtà sono degli scellerati che sempre più spesso non capendo l'essenza del Sacro e Divino Corano danno il via a faide interne (vedi Sciiti e Sunniti) ed esterne all' Islam come quella contro il mondo Cristiano ed Ebreo che nulla hanno a che fare con Dio e molto hanno a che fare con interessi umani di natura economica e geopolitica.

Fethullah Gulen è un discendente puro per via sanguigna del Profeta Maometto (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) e di lui miei cari amici ci si può fidare ciecamente, Fethullah Gulen viene infatti ricevuto nel nome della tolleranza e del rispetto reciproco da sua Santità Giovanni Paolo II alcuni anni fa in un incontro memorabile per entrambi.

Nel mondo Islamico contemporaneo dove conta più la facciata esterna delle prostrazioni giornaliere che l'aver capito realmente cosa dice il Corano e molto facile purtroppo pilotare dei poveri ignoranti verso il terrorismo fondamentalista e il martirio inutile e perverso dei cosiddetti Martiri dell' Islam contemporaneo, essi i terroristi pronti ad uccidere tutti e tutto nel nome di Dio non sono l' Islam ma una pericolosa degenerazione guidata da interessi inumani che li porta ad essere dei veri infedeli manipolati da Imam e Sceicchi corrotti che non fanno parte della tradizione regolare e corretta del vero Islam, sono schegge impazzite di un sistema quello musulmano dove non esiste e non è mai esistita una Chiesa Centrale di riferimento come lo è il Vaticano per i Cristiani e dove i falsi Profeti pululano a bizzeffe.

E allora come riconoscere il vero Islam?

Oggi giorno questo è un problema di fondamentale importanza per le comunità di intelligence di tutto il pianeta se vogliamo tornare a vivere tranquilli e senza problemi in un mondo dove regni la PACE, LA TOLLERANZA E LA LIBERTA' per gli uomini e le donne di buoni costumi in tutto il pianeta terra.

Uno studio approfondito dell'Impero Ottomano dove coesistevano in pace tutte e tre le religioni monoteiste ci porterà sicuramente ad aiutare a risolvere questo incessante problema dell'era moderna.

Prima di tutto conoscere l'Islam attraverso quelle scuole regolari ed accettate legate alla famiglia del Profeta ed ai mistici dell'Islam i Sufi fino ai giorni nostri di cui espressione massima fu un altro discendente del Profeta Maometto il cosiddetto San Francesco dell'Islam chiamato Rumi.

Egli visse molti secoli fa in Turchia ma il suo messaggio di tolleranza verso il Cristianesimo ed il mondo Occidentale di allora è di fondamentale importanza per noi ecco perché nei prossimi mesi celebreremo con l'UNESCO l'opera di questo grande uomo di Dio.

San Francesco ebbe numerosi contatti con i Sufi e si ispirò ai Sufi chiamati così per il loro abito di lana anche per il saio in uso presso il suo Ordine.

In effetti quando San Francesco si recò dal Papa dopo il suo ritorno dal medio oriente egli parlò dell'Islam con grande rispetto e non si convertì apparentemente solo per non nuocere al suo nuovo Ordine nato per rigenerare il Cristianesimo corrotto di allora.

I Sufi lavorano all'interno di scuole conosciute come Tariq, esse vengono guidate se legittime da Maestri di altissimo livello spirituale collegati da sempre alla famiglia del Profeta e rispettose della tradizione del vero Islam.

Ma esistono nel mondo moderno come abbiamo già detto delle espressioni corrotte e spurie come per esempio quella nata da un agente della CIA del programma MK-ULTRA per il controllo delle menti tale Ian Dallas un Texano che si è auto-nominato Sceicco contravvenendo ai principi fondamentali dell'Islam che hanno regole ben specifiche per arrivare a una carica di tale importanza.

Abbiamo poi i falsi Profeti come Osama Bin Laden che pur non avendo alcun contatto con la famiglia del Profeta Maometto (Pace e Benedizioni vadano su di lui) si propone come futuro Califfo di un ipotetico Islam senza essere né un vero Said e neppure un vero musulmano, egli è solamente un mercenario al soldo di forze oscure e terribili che vogliono creare uno scontro frontale tra la civiltà Occidentale e il mondo musulmano uno scontro che va fermato a tutti i costi nel nome del VERO ISLAM che non si riconosce in FALSO PROFETA quale il Bin Laden.

Come disse Fethullah Gulen dopo l'11 Settembre: "Io non ho mai odiato nessuno al mondo, ma quell'essere spregevole di Bin Laden, IO LO ODIO e così lo odiano tutti i veri musulmani del mondo.

As Salaam Alaikum

Che la pace sia con voi Fratelli e Sorelle di qualunque credo, rito o religione in nome di quell'unico Dio, il Dio di Abramo, Isacco ed Ismaele.

Leo Lyon Zagami

ANALISTA STRATEGICO INTERNAZIONALE

E uomo di buona volontà

The Paris accord of the Illuminati (12/8/2006)

Regular Grand Lodge of England (P2 GLADIO NETWORK) News

Opening of the Grand Assembly of the Masonic High Council

GRAND ORIENT OF ITALY FEDERAL ® PARIS, 4th November 2006 E.V.

The Paris Accord: International Masonic Conference Federation of Regular Grand Lodges: The Masonic High Council the Mother HC/RGLE

My Dear Brethren, I believe that in the last 60 years, we have never lived in a more worrying time than the present, where almost anything can happen. Pseudo-religious, pseudo-economical, pseudo-political, pseudo-ecological fundamentalist groups compete aggressively against each other and are responsible for destroying all that is beautiful on this planet at the expense of life, love, beauty and virtue. I do not believe that it is necessary to immediately analyse all the bad things that are happening around us, because in so doing it will divide the good ones from the bad ones according to personal evaluation of what is "right" and "wrong". This will only cause division in the immediate future instead of working towards the real goal of understanding and overcoming the problems. I want to focus on an idea. The idea that evil, having arrived forcefully and uninvited, must be the catalyst to force each and every one of us to find the solutions to the problems in a well-balanced and harmonious manner. Therefore The Human spirit, which makes the good things in life today, is ill through infective viruses which have found their way uninvited into the fertile ground of Mankind. The viruses cause fanaticisms which are nourished by our own hypocritical weaknesses. Consequently we should not waste time by attempting to evaluate the degree of the sickness, but act together immediately in order to find the cure heal it. We should focus our minds on the cause of the problems that will then enable us to overcome them. Now, more than ever before, it is also most important that we re-build and sustain a form of Universal Freemasonry in full conformity to the Antient Landmarks and Traditions of the original thoughts so that we can become more united in Love and Harmony and aim our efforts, supported by Truth and Virtue, against the evil in the world. We are fortunate to possess such a diverse spread of intellectual prowess to enable us to work out the solutions required for our task. Today, November 4th 2006, from this International Masonic Conference of Paris, I wish to urge all of you who are part of our Confederation of the Regular Grand Lodges of the World, to be continuously engaged, through the Truth and Virtue I have already mentioned, in finding solutions to our problems. Let our diverse intellectual ability as Masons shine through during our daily works in everyday life, if only for a small but precious contribution towards our goal. World Freemasonry, our Freemasonry, must return to the basic principles taught to men in the beginning, enabling them not only to live a better life for themselves and their families, but also to spread the truth and warmth of our fraternity to those outside the Craft and thereby influencing Mankind in a most positive manner. No longer as spectators facing the events,but more and more as ambassadors of the Craft.

Pasquale Cerofolini MW GM of Italy, GOIF

The Universal Unity Statute

This is the Universal Unity Statute for for the illuminati Clubs of the Comitato Esecutivo Massonico - Masonic Executive Committee (MEC). Founded by Licio Gelli, Ezio Giunchiglia and William Rosati.

Universal Unity

New statute 2005

Universal Unity is a no-profit association of free men, formed with the highest aims of moral and spiritual value. The Association adopts the following statute:

Art. 1- Denomination, registered office and duration of the association

The Free Association assume the name of “Universal Unity” (U.U.). The Association has unlimited duration and establishes its main registered office in Montecarlo, Principate of Monaco, 38 Av. Dell’Annonciade (www.universal-unity.com) and its administrative office in Italy- Sanremo (18038) Str. Sen E. Marsiglia 131 (Murgia House- Tel and Fax: 0039 0184 557 508)

Art .2-Aim/s

The Association is anti-dogmatic and proposes the search of an inner balance amongst human beings, and the promotion of whatsoever initiative that promotes the Good for the Man and Humankind, thinking of a World without frontiers that is everyone's country, without nuclear arsenals and chemical weapons, and possibly with the same monetary value as well.

In order to achieve its aims, the Association intends to include as members all human beings who share the above mentioned principles that the Association intends to apply with sovereign independency, with particular attention to Freemasons Brothers, active or dormant, in order to divulgate, within those principles, also the ideals of the Pure Universal Freemasonry, but without depending by any of the Great Lodges legitimately constituted which operates in every part of the World.

For what concerns the practical application of its aims and their achievements, the Association wants to expand all over the World and accomplish whatsoever operation that is deemed necessary, including financial investments, ownership and management of properties, as far as they remain no-profit.

The Association intends to manage the company "Universal Unity" editions, and utilise every other media in use with the help of the most advanced technology in order to promote, publish and divulgate the ideas of its Associates.

The association wants to organise periodical meetings and conventions among Associates, in order to actively exchange opinions and information, promoting free thought, always under the commandments of the moral law and just for the realisation of the above named principles.

Art.3 – Application for Membership

Individuals of both sexes of at least 35 years of age and with a good general culture are allowed to apply for membership, even if special circumstances can be considered.

Every member has the right to propose one or more persons for membership, but the admission will be deliberate just under the judgement of the Administrative organ of the Association. This judgement cannot be discussed.

The admission requires the applicant to fill in the application form, signed by the applicant and counter-signed by the member who introduces the applicant. The form has to include all the basic personal data of the applicant, together with a brief curriculum vitae.

The Council of Directors will examine the applications and, if they are accepted, a letter of confirmation will be sent to the applicant.

Art. 4- Members of the Association

The Associates will be recognised as follows:

a) Full Members: they could not be more than 100 in number, equally distributed between both sexes, all eligible to social positions and having the right to vote in every Ordinary and Extraordinary Assembly.

The admission as Full Members will always be determined by the full unanimity of the Administrative Organ, but just after a year from the admission.

b) Sympathisers and Aspiring Members: they can be of unlimited numbers and of both sexes, but they will not have the right to vote. They have to demonstrate to share the fundamental principles listed in the Statute.

c) Honorary Members will not have the right to vote, and they can receive the honorary membership just through a deliberation in full unanimity of the Administrative Organ, whenever they are individuals who have achieved significant results both socially and culturally (in music, poetry, literature, arts and sciences) or who have been invested with prestigious charges in Public Administration or Masonic Institutions.

d) Support or Financing Members will be accepted through deliberation of the Administrative Organ with full unanimity. These members will be individuals who have achieved success in the civil society and have accomplished acts of generosity or conspicuous financial helps in favour of the Association.

Through the procedure planned in the present Statute the Association will be able to accept also individuals who are legally representing companies, societies or associations of various nature, who can take part in the Association's activities, throughout the duration of their role and charge, via the structures and activities of the companies or societies represented by them. When their charge expires, they can apply for Membership through the normal procedure.

Art. 5- Membership fees

Within 30 days from receiving the letter of admission, the Associate has to pay a Subscription of 100 Euros, and subsequently he/she will be obliged to pay 50 Euros for the Annual Contribution, except if changes in the procedure occur, as may be established by the Council of Directors.

It has to be said that every associate is free to contribute in a greater measure, with whatsoever act of generosity depending on his/her financial possibilities, in order to allow and promote the maintenance and improvement of the Association.

Art.6- Withdrawing from membership.

Every Associate will have the faculty to withdraw from his/her membership, at the condition that the payment for the current year has been regularly made.

The notice has to be communicated to the Council of Directors with a signed and dated letter.

Art 7- Members ‘ General Conventions

All members, including sympathisers and their relatives could meet up every three months in a General Conventions to be held on the first Saturday of the months of March, June, September and December of each year, during the Spring Equinox, the Summer Solstice, the autumn Equinox and the Winter Solstice.

The above-named conventions will be held to promote the knowledge and also the exchange of opinions amongst members, allowing the Council of Director to inform the members about the Association’s activities. During the conventions, the Consuls will be available to receive suggestions, requests, proposals and recommendations forwarded by every member who intends to do so.

Once a year, on the anniversary of the constitution of the Association, Full members will meet up in a General Assembly.

Art. 8- Organs of the Associations

The following bodies are Organs of the Association:

- 1) Assembly of the Associates
- 2) A Council of Directors, composed by two Consuls and a General Secretary
- 3) A College of Proviviri.

Art.9- Members' Meetings

a) The Ordinary Assembly will ask all the Full Members to participate, and they will be contacted via letter. The General Assembly has to be called once a year, in the month of June and the Council of directors will establish where it will take place. The General Assembly may take place together with the Annual General Convention in the month of June. The assembly is supposed to deliberate, with simple majority, on the following matters:

- Election of the members of the Council of Directors and College of Proviviri, which will be in charge for 10 years.
- Approval of the balances
- Establish the single member's contribution for the following year and subscription's fee.
- Any other matter of ordinary administration

The matters the assembly will deliberate upon have to be included in the letter of convocation sent to the Associates, which will include the Agenda for the day.

The members who can vote could represent other members by proxy, but each member will not be able to represent more than three other members.

b) The Extraordinary Assembly will ask all the Full members to participate, and it is called to deliberate with simple majority, on whatever matter that is outside of the competency of the Ordinary Assembly. It can be called at any time and in any place which will be established by the Consuls as they will deem appropriate. It is competency of the Assembly to deliberate on modifications of the Statute, which have to be approved with at least two-third majority of the present and voting members. In case of declared urgency, convocation may be called via telephone or telefax, taking into account, where it is possible, of each member's necessities.

Art.10- The Council of Directors

Three Full members having the right to vote, two with function of Consuls, which will legally represent the Association, and the third with the function of Secretary form the Council of Directors.

The Council can meet up at any time if at least two of its members deem that necessary and the meetings can be called in any place.

The Council of Directors can deliberate with simple majority for what concerns the admission of Sympathiser Members who have provided written application, on the admission of Full Members after one year from their admission, on the nomination of "Promoters" of "Clubs of Harmonic Creativity", and also on the release of "Nulla Osta" for the building of such "Clubs".

Art. 11 – Emanations – “Clubs of Harmonic Creativity”

The Association establishes, in every part of the world, Study and Research Groups on spiritual matters, naming them "Clubs of Harmonic Creativity".

The studies undertaken will concern Esotericism and researches on the Invisible World, together with other disciplines that imply a spiritual research.

The Clubs have different degrees of study and research, which will be divided by the date and duration of their meetings and that will be identified with the symbols and the "logos" of "the Four Kings", starting with the last one, enlisted anti-clock wise.

The above named Clubs will be:

- Of 1st degree with one-day long meetings, starting at 12noon on the 21st of March of each year, during the Spring Equinox;

- Of 2nd degree with two-days long meetings, starting at 12noon of 21st of December of each year, during the Winter Solstice;
- Of 3rd degree with three-days long meetings, starting at 12noon of 21st of September of each year, during the autumn Equinox;
- Of 4th degree with four-days long meetings, starting at 12noon of 21st June of each year, during the Summer Solstice.

Art. 12- Constitution and Composition of “Clubs of Harmonic Creativity”

The Association will promote the Constitution of the “Clubs of Harmonic Creativity”. Every Associate obtain the membership of one of the Clubs or more, but not at the same degree and at the same time.

However, everyone who wants to apply for an affiliation to the Clubs, if they are not member yet of Universal Unity will have to apply at the same time for membership for the Association , including in the request a the presentation of the Associate who has contacted them. After the application has been accepted, and they have paid their regular dues (subscription and association quotes), they will be allowed to subscribe for the “Clubs of Harmonic Creativity”.

The Consuls will nominate the “Promoters” for each Club at every degree, choosing them on the ground of their aims and preparation, but also taking into account the studies they would like to undertake; the aim is to enable them to constitute the above named Clubs in their own town and region of residence, where they can choose and nominate new associates.

Each Club has to be formed by at least three members, but it should not overcome the number of 12 people.

Relatives will not be allowed to join the same Club. The same rule is valid for people having a relationship or strong affinities.

The Promoters, after their nomination, have to send as soon as possible to the Consuls the list of people they intend to affiliate to their Club, providing to communicate also the degree chosen and the name chosen.

They will have also to provide the place and the time of the year when they like to start the works and they will have to ask for the “Nulla Osta” of the Association in order to be allowed to organise the conventions.

After this procedure has been accomplished, each Club will receive its own subscription number.

Art. 13- Activities of the “Clubs of Harmonic Creativity”

The promoters direct the Clubs they have formed and their works for the duration of their life, providing to arrange the location where the meetings are taking place.

They can establish and enforce specific norms and rules in their Clubs, if these rules are not contradicting the Statute of the Association and its basic moral principles.

After three years, or in case of permanent disability or death, the members of the Club have the faculty to elect another President chosen among them, at the condition that he has reached the Full Member status in the Association.

The Club members can always co-opt another member, or choose another member in case of death or permanent disability of one of them, always choosing him among the most illustrious Full members of the Association and taking into account that no Club will be allowed to include more than 12 members.

The conventions of the Clubs have to take place once a year, at any degree, in the date established for each degree. The conventions have to take place in isolated and quite environments, if possible in church-like structure, or places that at least can offer the place for the conventions but also rooms for the participants so that they will be able to reside there for the whole duration of the conventions.

Only the presence of the Club's members, plus the presence of one of the Consul or a delegate will be allowed in the conventions.

During the whole duration of the conventions, which must have a minimal duration of eight hours per day, possibly with a break after the first four hours, (up to the President's opinion), the participants cannot eat, smoke or drink alcohol, but only water. Moreover, they will have to avoid the use of telephones or mobile phones.

After the start up, at 12 noon of the established day, they have to continue with the meeting without interruption up to the end of it. Absences or delays are not allowed, with due exception for what concern serious circumstances involving family, health or work.

During the meeting the participants will be forbidden by expressing any judgement on other people present, as by asking information about their activities in the civil society outside of the Association and they are prevented to deal with matters related to these activities. In any case each participants has to pay maximum respect to the dignity and the honour of the other participants.

Smart clothing is deemed necessary, preferably casual, in case they have to move to sea or mountain locations. A diary where to write notes regarding their thoughts and personal reflections about the meeting is also required.

It is strictly forbidden to reveal to the civil world, but also to other members of Universal Unity, the name of the participants to the meetings.

Each Club has to provide the designation of a representative who will maintain the contact of the Club with the Council of Directors of the Association. The representative will provide, at the end of each convention, to fill in a Report, which will contain the object and the nature of the interventions, with a conclusion regarding the works undertaken.

This Report has to be transmitted to the Council of Directors within 15 days from the end of the convention.

Periodical and informal meetings can be organised on President's judgement, at the condition that the Council of Directors of the Association is informed about it, and that a Report similar to the one compiled for formal convention is prepared.

Art. 14- Offences of the Associates

All acts that undermine the dignity and honour of a member of the Association, or serious acts of disloyalty committed against a member constitute an offence that can be reported to the "College of Probiviri".

Violations of the moral principle of the Association and violations of the present Statute, which can be also reported by the Consuls or by the Council of Directors, are considered serious offences.

The offences can be sanctioned depending on their seriousness, with Simple Censorship or Solemn Censorship. Fines may be imposed and, for the most serious cases, even a Suspension for a limited time, or the Expulsion of the member from the Association.

It is forbidden to involve a civil lawyer in the matter.

Art.15- The "College of Probiviri" and complaints of the Associates

Three members, who elect a President among them, form the College of Probiviri.

Every Full member can complain about other members, or Consuls or the entire Council of Directors in writing, providing to date and sign the claim, which has to be forwarded by any form to the Council of Directors, which will transmit it to the President of College of Probiviri no later than 10 days after having received it, including a brief report which will express its own perspective about the foundation of the complain, including, if it is the case, proofs in addition to those indicated by the claimant.

At the same time, and if it the case, the Council will provide to delegate a representative who will stand for the prosecution. The name will be communicated to the College, declaring the acceptance to anticipate the necessary fees for the process to take place.

Art. 16- The Judgement of “Probiviri”

The College of Probiviri can open a procedure every time receives a communication of complain by the Council of Directors, deciding the location where the hearing will take place.

The President examines in first instance the claim, and if it is considered groundless it is discarded, charging the claimant with a fine, if it is the case.

In every other circumstance the proceeding is opened and a Relator is nominated, who informs the accused, showing a copy of the complain and inviting him to present, within 30 days from the receipt of the communication, his written defence (which has to be deposited at the Office of the Council of Director), witnesses and proofs even before the dare of the hearing, if it is the case.

A specifically nominated Consul will sustain the prosecution.

The accused can provide self defence if he wants, or he can nominate a defendant, choosing him just among the Full Members of the Association.

The College of Probiviri will always judge ex bono et equo, deliberating every choice through a majority, judging the accused as being guilty or innocent, after both sides have been heard and every element has been evaluated.

The deliberation will happen during a secret meeting, at the end of which the decision will be read in front of the prosecution and the accused. The decision will be then deposited per extenso, within the following 30 days in the Office of the Council of Directors.

Judging on the claim, the College of Probiviri will decide on the expenses as well, charging them on the member who has been deemed guilty or, if the claim has been rejected or the accused has been considered to be innocent, on the claimant. The amount will be paid in favour of the Association.

It is not possible to appeal against the decisions of the College of Probiviri; however the Council of Directors can, upon request, submit the matter to an Ordinary Assembly of Members, who can confirm it or reject it.

Decided in Sanremo, the 6th of June 2005.

The Founders members:

Enzo Giunchiglia

Francesco Murgia

Gisella Treves

From my old Monte Carlo A.'.A.'. Illuminati Archive (12/8/2006)

FROM MY A.'.A.'. ILLUMINATI ARCHIVE in the Principaute de Monaco MONTE CARLO LODGE

According to the Bible, God in his promise to Abraham made an association with the identity of Abraham's seed with that of Cosmic regions. He said "And he brought him forth abroad, and said look now toward heaven and to the stars, if though be able to number them: and he said unto him, so shall thy seed be". (Gen 15:5). According to the history of Abraham and the Black Stone in Mecca, it is reported that the Black Stone was originally a light in the Heaven. Some report that when it fell to the earth it turned black, as it was burned while entering the earth's atmosphere. The falling of this light from the sky served as a sign to Abraham as to where to build the Kaaba, the first House erected by man for the glory of ALLAH (God). There was a connection or union made between the heavenly object and the earth. Atlantis. Thoth came to Earth from the Blue Star Rigel in Orion with an energetic patterning called the Enochian Table, which is mathematically encoded into the plan of the Great Pyramid as blueprint to the Enochian Table. However the name Thoth became associated also with Hermes, the Greek God of Mercury (spiritualized mind), and Trismegistus (meaning thrice great). Thoth is also associated with a combination of other souls as some 8 particularly important for Freemasons) known historical figures as Amenophis; Imenhotep; Hiram Abiff; Merlin; Enoch (Idres in Arabic) particularly important for the Illuminati of the R+C and John the Beloved/ Divine. Thoth Adam Kadmon: Lord Melchizedek, who descended to Earth from Venus in the Lemurian period; Enoch; Thoth or Thoth; Imenhotep; architect of King Zoser; King David; Zachariah, father of John the Baptist; St. John the Beloved. Solomon Adam Kadmon: Noah, King Zoser of Egypt; Zarathustra; Samuel, a prophet and judge of Israel; the Melchizedek King of Salem, Salem is the old city of Ur Salem (Capitolas), today (Beit Ras / Irbed), King Solomon, son of David, Yeshua ben Josef (from the age of 12 to the Baptism.) Thoth also tells us that the star Sirius holds the key for transmutation of galactic karma. In fact, one of its ancient names in Lemuria was Magha. This is a word-form of the archetype Magda; as on Mary Magda-lene, who as we know represents the fallen galactic level within the fallen (Oritronic-Luciferic) universe. So here we can now begin to see the inter-relationship of galactic karma and the two key points on the Earth: Jerusalem and Mecca. They are the key geographical points which translate galactic level karma into our Earthen reality. Thoth reveals the deeper nature of this Jerusalem-Mecca / Sirius A & B dynamic: Thoth: The 'Heart of the Lion' is formed by Jerusalem and Mecca thus The DARK cube (Ka'bba) aligns with Mecca, and the STAR cube (Ormid) aligns with Jerusalem. The lemniscate (infinity eight loop) between the two is the 'field of the heart,' with the centre point being the actual 'Heart of the Lion.' This centre point is geographically located near Al Wadjih, Saudi Arabia. Here, buried beneath the sand is the ancient city of Merzhadec - the 'Lion of Melchizedek' or the 'Lion of Al-Khidr.' This city was also known in later times (but still very ancient by our standards) as Jiddi. The current city 'Jiddi' or 'Judah' next to Mecca was named after the more ancient Merzhadec / Jiddi that was located near Al Wadjih. The centre point at Al Wadjih represents Sirius C, a hidden star of Sirius, thus creating a trinity the ancients called 'Hebola': the name of the power triangle formed in Sirius by these 3 stars. In most ancient Egypt this Sirian trinity was also represented by the Royal Family of Osiris (Father-God: Sirius A), Isis (Mother-Goddess: Sirius B) and Horus (Son-Christ: Sirius C). So to summarize the main points which we have covered so far in this article: the Black Cube Ka'bba in Mecca holds the defiled 666 (Dark Cube) link to Sirius, which in turn holds a link to the transmutation of galactic karma. Jerusalem holds the 999 (cube of Stars - Ormid) link to Sirius. The two energetics of Jerusalem and Mecca must converge in 2012 through the 'gate' at the centre of the lemniscate (or figure eight infinity loop) near El Wadjih, thereby allowing the dynamic of the Metatronic Fulcrum to come into play which will initiate the inversion of the 666 to the 999, freeing bondage in matter and taking the complete 'Heart of the Lion' dynamic into the realms of the higher evolutionary worlds Mazaloth; thereby transcending our lesser solar cosmology. Professor Hilton Hoteman explain in his book THE MYSTERIOUS SPHINX, "Man contains within himself all the powers,systems,planets and globe of the universe . He is the Microcosm of the Marcocosm...the chemical elements of all bodies,from the star above to man below,are the same.They never change , never loose their indentity. They enter into composition of all things,and are always governedby the same cosmic law...The Masters taught that the human body is definetely related to and linked with the entire universe and all its parts,and they are ruled by the same law. Imam W.Deen Muhammad explained : " In order to be able to work safely within any concept,yuo have to see it in its reality .Every concept is formed in the cosmic concept.Every animal,every plant, every human being ,every body,every stone,every crystal forms in the contaxt of the cosmic world... your narrow picture of your indentity makes you very small.ALLLAH says , " O' man think not that your reality is bigger than the external reality" . He patterned man's life and his reality on the pattern and order of the universe. We know that a seven years period of tribulations will start at the fall of the nations with the appearance of Jesus Christ when he appears as the Captain of the Army of the Lord fighting against the Antichrist. Thus, if we take seven years from 2027 we get 2019 but that is a Sabbath year and the years 2026 and 2027 are also both Sabbath years. The Law has to be read on these years. So, Christ has to be in position and the elect resurrected before or from the New Moon of Abib in 2019 to complete the seven cycles on a year for a day basis. However, we also know from Revelation chapter 11 that the Witnesses have to be in position 1263.5 days before Messiah is here, at the very latest. Thus we arrive at the year 2015 at the very latest. We know also that Judah will be converted and restored at this time and so there are even earlier requirements or timeframes to implement. Under the Law of God, the law must be read at the Sabbath years and 2012 is the next Sabbath year and Reading of the Law. It would follow that the Law of God is read in 2012 for the third and final time before the Witnesses deal with the nations. The law is read three times so that the third instance of rejection and rebellion is final under the law. We would expect that the Witnesses take up their positions from the reading of the law in 2012, either to read it themselves or to deal with the nations consequent to its being read. In any case, they must be in place between 2012 and 2015 for the Messiah to effect the subjugation of the nations within the time frame as advanced by Bible prophecy on a year for a days basis using the time sequences advanced from those prophecies. The year 2015 is the time frame for the end of the reign of the churches and the lampstands as they are under the seven angels of the seven churches. From there on the two lampstands of the Witnesses and the final Lamp of the Messiah are responsible for the illumination of the planet. Thus 27 CE was the jubilee year and forty jubilees or 2000 years ends in 2027. Thus, on a jubilee for a year basis, the Church was in the wilderness for forty jubilees as Israel was in the wilderness for forty years. The end of that period is the 120th jubilee. From the year 1975, the Church should have prepared for the jubilee and read the law in 1976 and 1977 and then went on to the procedures as laid down in the Bible. They did not do that and so came under judgment. At any rate the law had to be read a minimum of three times on three Sabbath years before the return of the Messiah. The Church in the Last Days also found itself coming under the Forty Years in the Wilderness from 1975. The period of the 1260 days between 2012 and 2015 mirrors the period allotted by the Church between 1972 and 1975 for their false prophecy of the trials and advent. The period of the Measuring of the Temple is another forty-year period that commenced in 1987. That forty years leads up to the Millennium and deals with the entire process of the restoration as it stands as the Temple of God. The process is detailed in the paper Measuring the Temple. In that period we see also the final twenty-one years begin in the year 2006 from 1 Abib of the 29th year of the 120th jubilee as the first year of the Sabbath Cycle. This period is for the Sanctification of the Nations That process mirrors the 21 days of the Passover sequence. It goes from the New Year, which commences the Sanctification of the Temple of God , to the Last Holy Day of Unleavened Bread. It places the years 2012 for the Reading of the Law as the equivalent of the 7 Abib and the Sanctification of the Simple and the Erroneous . 2015 is the equivalent of the 10th of Abib and the triumphal entry of Messiah to Jerusalem. The year 2019 is the equivalent of 14 Abib in the sequence. The subjugation of the nations mirrors the Fall of Jericho over the seven days of the Feast, which ends in 2026 at the Sabbath year and the declaration of the jubilee year at Atonement 2026 ending at Atonement 2027. Thus there are a series of sequences set up to occur for the different purposes of the plan of God within the last or 120th jubilee before the millennial reign of the Messiah.

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan MR.COSMICO

Amookos the Knights of Shambala and a bunch of Tantrik perverts (12/8/2006)

Subject: AMOOKOS THE KNIGHTS OF SHAMBALA AND A BUNCH OF TANTRIK PERVERTS

"This really happened? Easy to manipulate? Good to hear, they can't be psychic then, I guess because they don't have conciousness in the same way we do or have the ability to have...

Anyway, where are these woods you're talking about?"

A friend from Norway

Easy for me my dear friend a specialy trained crook form the Monte Carlo Lodge not for everybody. I was specialy trained for the control of such puppets of the occult who know a few rituals and think they are ruling the world... they are illarious but very dangerous, its literally like playing with fire. And regarding the place it was in 2001 and I didnt knew so well Oslo back then like I know the city now , but I remember we had to walk for 3 hours in the woods out of Oslo after taking the subway to one of the last stations on the line that goes to Sognsvann. Me and Frater Big John another big fat secretary of one of these UK illuminati OTO Lodges of the Calpihate in the UK actualy got lost in the woods, and arrived when the welcome buffet was already finished and Lon Milo Duquette had probably been eating everything in site, well needless to say Big John was very disapointed as he is a true satanist pig!

Well this gathering was in a nice place in the woods were only the residents could drive their car so Lon Milo had been going there by car directely from Torshov in Oslo were the Heimdall Oasis is located .

Thats it my friend the fat illuminati Masters need big cars for their movements and we instead had to walk in the woods...hi..hi...well it was funny tohugh to hear Big John talking badly about Nicholaj Frisvold Tantrik Lodge in Oslo Amookos during the whole journey (I think he was jelous he couldnt get any Tantrik action Amookos style).

WHAT IS AMOOKOS?

AMOOKOS and the Nath Ganas are part of the illuminati occult practices connected with Indian Black Magic.

Fact Sheet on Tantra

'In the Shaivite tradition, the god's companions (kaulas) are described as a troupe of freakish, adventurous delinquent and wild young people, who prowl in the night, shouting in the storm, singling, dancing and ceaselessly playing outrageous tricks on sages and gods. They are called Ganas, the 'vagabonds', corresponding to the Cretan Korybantes and the Celtic Korrigans (fairies' sons). Like the Sileni and Satyrs, some of them have goat's or bird's feet. The Ganas mock the rules of ethics and social order. They personify the joy of living, courage and imagination, which are all youthful values. They live in harmony with nature and oppose the destructive ambition of the city and the deceitful moralism which both hides and expresses it. These delinquents of heaven are always there to restore true values and to assist the 'god-mad' who are persecuted and mocked by the powerful. They personify everything which is feared by and displeases bourgeois society and which is contrary to the good morale of a well-policed city and its palliative concepts.'

From Shiva and Dionysus

by Shri Alain Daniélou

What is Tantra!!??

The term Tantra is normally applied to a group of Hindu and Buddhist mystical texts which deal at length with the spiritual value of 'carnal knowledge', which taken literally means that gnosis obtained through the whole body. ('Gnosis' is a key magical concept and can be defined as knowledge obtained by direct perception through magick, in other words the magical mind.)

Practitioners of Tantra are freethinkers known by various names including Tantriks (magicians), Kaulas (companions [of the gods]), Naths (Adepts) or Siddhas (powerful ones). Tantriks study and practice magick and thus they find a great deal of common ground with western magical adepts. Tantra is also a religious inclination and pre-eminent amongst the deities worshipped within Hindu Tantrism are Shiva, Shakti the primordial goddess, but also the synthesis, child or prince e.g. the elephant headed deity Ganesha. Genuine followers of Tantra believe that our psychological make-up has male and female components and attempt to realise the full potential of this bisexual nature with their own lives and bodies. Following the popularity of the ideas of OTO Freemason C Jung this may not seem such a startling hypothesis, but it should be borne in mind that these ideas are in Asia over a thousand years old. ..The Tantrik attempts to unify the male and female sides the mind/body and thus achieve what is acknowledged to be a primal state of innocence/gnosis that inreality means completely submission to their Master. Magick and sometimes sexuality are used to bring about this transformation.

Tantrik texts almost always begin with a dialogue between Shiva and Shakti. One can infer from this that the human worshipper, whatever their gender, assumes the god-form of one of these, either Shiva or Shakti, in order to participate anew in the flow of knowledge from the divine.

As a cult or sect Tantrism is difficult to pin down..well not really but lets go on with the basics.

Like Hinduism it is really a collection of different practices and philosophical attitudes. To confuse things further some elements of Tantra can be found even amongst more orthodox worshippers. There are eight characteristic practices or techniques found in Tantra: They are sadhana, mantra, mandala, mudra, nyasa, dhyana, puja and diksha. If one understands the meaning of each of these unfamiliar Sanskrit words, one has a fairly good idea of what being a Tantrik entails.

Tantrik Groups

There are many groups and individuals who claim to teach or practice tantrik methods of liberation. This fact-sheet was prepared by members of the Kaula Nath Gana (including AMOOKOS, the Arcane and Magical Order of the Knight of Shamballa as it was also known in Himmler's SS.) This is an east-west magical tantrik group with a genuine line of initiation leading back to the Nath cult of Matsyendranath, who lived sometime between the years 700 to 900 of our era.

THE END

CONTACT:

To find out more about the Kaula Naths write to illustrious Freemason Dr. Nicholaj Frisvold a true servant of the Vatican and a secret Bishop of the Jesuits working for the New World Order in the Black Magic Department of pure evil, the Choronzon Club!

There are many books that can act as an introduction to the perversions of magical tantra and twisted Hinduism in the western illuminati for example :

Gods & Myths of India - Hindu Polytheism by Alain Danielou (Inner Traditions).

Shiva and Dionysus by Alain Danielou (Inner Traditions)

Tantra Sadhana (basic introductory practice to AMOOKOS sect)

PDF version for $10. Contains documentation on the 1980s schism between AMOOKOS and the International Nath Order - so you might like learn about all that sooner rather than later. (available from www.mandrake.uk.net)

Jan Fries book Visual Magick, although they are not written from the tantrik point of view, contains many useful techniques of Magick that can be applied within any style of magick.

For more information on books visit the Mandrake of Oxford homepage home of more illuminati propaganda!

Initiation and Evil Training

Having looked at some or all of these books you may decide that you desire initiation...if you are ready for total manipulation by a group of dangerous satanist playing Tantra. The Nath Gana is a small but growing band of initiates connected to the evil illuminati, about 200 throughout the world. There are one or two working groups and individuals in UK, Germany and America who can offer initiation and in some cases instruction, based partly on the book Tantra Magick although not exclusively so. Before referring you to one of these groups, we ask that you complete a questionnaire (and what a questionnaire!).

If you would like to pursue this option, it is recommended that you become an associate member or 'mitra'. Where possible you will be told the name of a 'special friend' or sumitra, who will be a source of advice and information when you first join this illuminati cult. The mitra receives mailings and newsletters through the year. There is no formal membership fee for the Nath Ganas, and the costs for accommodation at retreats or for copies of instructional papers or books are charged at standard rates. However if you want your sumitra to write to you and also to receive newsletters and information about the activities of the Nath Ganas, then a small regular donation may help things along with these evil perverts.

Atha! Svecchacara

Fact-sheet prepared by members of the Nath Ganas...(a bunch of perverts!)

And write to Nicholaj Frisvold for more info on AMOOKOS dont forget.

Leo Lyon Zagami

now

Khaled Saifullah Khan

Delete Reply Forward Move...

The Foundation of the infernal Empire of Anton La Vey and George H.Bush (12/9/2006)

The Foundation of the infernal Empire of Anton La Vey and George H.Bush

In the fateful night of 8 August 1969, a black-clad group gathered in a candle-lit chamber to launch this venomous curse upon the hippie movement: 'Beware you psichedelic vermin! your smug pomposity with its thin disguise of tollerance will serve you no longer! We Know your mark and recognize it well. We talk the night as the villains no longer! Our steeds await and their eyes are ablaze with the fires of Hell'

The Ceremony ,entitled the 'The Rising Forth' was led by Anton LaVey High Priest of the Church of Satan and George H.Bush with the partecipation of young George W.Bush. LaVey claimed this magical working was the trigger that set the Manson massacres in motion,a cerememonial knife in the belly of the love generation.The group's San Francisco Headquarters became known as the Black House. They offered me the Black house after the death of Anton LaVey for 350000 dollars but I kindly declined the offer made to me by Anton's friend and long time collaborator Carl Abrahamsson of the Swedish OTO. And I was not the only one who declined,they also tried with another friend and High Priest of Anton our dear Satanic Brother Marilyn Manson. But at the end the House was finaly brought down by two bulldozers, thanks God.

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

Bush Sr.& Jr. Seen at Satanic Rituals in Castle
by JESS LAVEY

When I was 10 years of age, I remember my parents taking me there.

I remember the Kimball Castle well many times and rituals being held there. The memories are like yesterday.

I remember spending the night in one of the bedrooms that was very scary to me, in which I never sleep well when we did go there. It seemed most of the time very dark and with a musky smell about it. The rooms were big.

My father Anton LaVey spent a lot of time there. I never liked going there at all. I remember being forced to watch rituals and I hated that too. For the most part I never could forget the Council of 13. Very wicked looking men.

When I reached the age 12 my father told me I had to go before them because of my rebellion and being opposed to what I was to do. That was the time I met these men.

They warned me of what could happen to me if I did not do as they suggest.

George H.W. Bush Senior was one of these men.

I stood before them and told them I was not going to follow their ways and I was not going to take my dad's place, and that there was nothing they could do to me.

My father was so embarrassed he cowered in his seat. I told them I believe in a higher power and that higher power said in his Word that no harm can come to me. So be it and I turned and left. They never said a word back. I think they were all stewing or struck with shock. I know my dad said this was "out of the mouths of babes".

I also remember Scott Millman. We were all the same age. There were others but I don't remember them as well as I remember Scott Millman. I think it's because we talked to each other a lot.

I do remember a tunnel under the building where Scott and I were taken one night and it was not good. To this day I freak a little talking about it. Some say there is light at the end of the tunnel, well, there was darkness at the end of this one, where Satanists come together and do unspeakable things. The acts are of a nightmare.

The acts done to kids are unspeakable. To think that Bush and his whole family is a part of this kind of thing is hard for some people to believe. But the Lord warns us all about the dark one in sheep's clothing.

The whole Bush family are Satanists, run down the family lines.

I have met Bush Jr. once when he came to a ritual at the castle once with his father. My thought when I met him is still the same as today. He is a very cold man for Satan. Like a lethal weapon.

ORIGINALLY PUBLISHED

www.illuminati-news.com/bushes-human-sacrifices.htm sent to us by :

Martin Lauchenauer

Wiener Str. 16

A-3004 Riederberg

Austria

Tel. +43-2271-8256

www.lauchenauer.2page.eu

The Satanic Millenium (12/10/2006)

Aleister crowley's grandson set to destroy earth...

THE SATANIC MILLENIUM

"It is not less absurd, then strange. to see how some Men... will not forebare to ranke True Magicians with Conjurors Necromancers, and Witches... who insolently intrude themselves into Magick, as if Swine should enter into a faire and delicate Garden, and, (being in League with the Devil) make use of his assistance in their workes, to counterfeit and corrupt the admirall wisdom of the Magi, between whom there is large a difference as between Angels and Devils."

(Elias Ashmole :Theatrum Chemicum Britannicum. 1652,p.443)

Brother Elias Ashmole was made a Freemason on the 16th of October 1646 by his cousin, Col. Henry Manwaring who introduced Ashmole to a lodge of Freemasons in Warrington. After that Ashmole's life altered overnight as he became part of the masonic conspiracy and little he knew that seemingly innocent fraternity he joined back then was to fall into the hands of the very same people he despised so much, the Black Magicians and Necromancer of contemporary Freemasonry ruled by a bunch of black magicians and degenerate individuals working for the Vatican/Israel Empire of Satan who gave birth to the Satanic Millenium is now!

Key satanist of today is Cardinal William Levada who is running the Congregation from the Doctrine of the Faith (CDF) Piazza del S. Uffizio. Cardinal William Nevada was the Bishop of San Francisco were Anton Lavey use to have is Black House HQ's . On the 13th of May 2005, Benedict XVI announced Archbishop William J. Levada of San Francisco was his choice to head the CDF. Ratzinger held the post of CDF Prefect for close to 25 years under secret direct Jesuit control. Levada, is the first American illuminati in history to hold such a senior position in the Vatican and he is not a distinguished academic theologian, unlike his predecessor but a good friend of the Jesuits since Levada holds a doctorate from Rome's reputed Jesuit-run Gregorian University and has worked in the CDF for six years from 1976 to 1982. He was a member of the Vatican commission to draft a Catechism for the Catholic Church, a source book on the fundamentals of the faith, a bit scary the idea that these kind of people have control over the faith of millions around the world, especially somebody who comes from San Francisco Satanic HQ's. . Since 2000, he has been a full member of the Congregation from the Doctrine the modern version of the Holy Inquisition.

Levada's asset is his rich pastoral experiences as a bishop for about 20 years. Levada worked with the California Catholic Conference of Bishops and the archdiocese of Los Angeles before being appointed as Archbishop of Portland in 1986 and Archbishop of San Francisco in 1995.

As Archbishop of San Francisco, the unofficial capital of Satanism and gay activism in the U.S., he has been in the forefront of opposition to same-sex marriages maintaining the great ipocrisy of the Vatican in these matters as the Vatican elite is (as we all know by now) full of gay men and many deviant ones who like very much young children. So it seems that ipocrisy is a must for the Catholic Clergy these days.

And with people like Anton Lavey the founder of the Church of Satan first and Lt.col.Michael Aquino founder of the Temple of Set after, the CIA and the illuminati of America mantain a close and intimate contact with the Vatican clergy.These dangerous criminals from the Satanic Vatican Mafia participate in ritual sexual abuse of children all over the United States. These satanist form and constitute togheter the most advanced weapon to submit mankind to a state of slavery using MIND CONTROL something they love in their satanic and corrupt PSYOP departments loyal to the Vatican Church Satan.

So the new representative of the Congretation for the Doctrine of the faith had to be from San Francisco, so to honour in secret their Past Satanic Master Anto LaVey and more important all the various evil practices done in the name of Satan in California since Crowley chartered is own illuminati Lodge in the early 1940s the U.S. based O.T.O. Lodge, Agapé, led by 'Jack' Parsons (1914-1952) This O.T.O. lodge was the home of many evil things to come including the Scientology cult, Dianetics, and L. Ron Hubbard a proud disciple of the Beast A.Crowley and a IXo O.T.O. member!

Like the "Invocation of my Demon Brother" a filmed ritual that Anton La Vey did at the end of the 60's with infamous Kenneth Anger and Bobby Beausoleil at a mansion that used to be the Russian Embassy .

Bobby Beausoleil soon after became an evil puppet in the hands of is satanic illuminati Masters like Kenneth Anger so to manipulate the sheep towards satanism and terminate the Hippie movement once and for all . Thats why Frater Bobby got involved with the Manson Crew of brainwashed psychedelic puppets, and after that became one of the assassins of the infamous Manson killings.

Beasoleil who was arrested wrote and performed in prison the music for the famous illuminati satanic film "Lucifer Rising" of Kenneth Anger that was later edited and mastered in the basement of the famous Rock musician Jimmy Page a member of the Ordo Templi Orientis/illuminati who works these days with the OHO of the O.T.O. William Breeze.

Breeze participated to a Black Mass in the Vatican with the General of the Jesuits in May 2000 e.v. with Alberto Moscato IXo OTO, Massimo Introvigne XIo OTO/OTOA and Michela Mercenaro from the Order of Zion and a few other very important satanist.

Charlie Manson was a member of the Ordo Templi Orientis Solar Lodge of Jean Brayton's, The 'Caliphate' often claims that Brayton's group was irregular in O.T.O. terms, but Phyllis Seckler, a protagonist in the founding of the 'Caliphate', has admitted that it was a genuine O.T.O. lodge. To exaggerate for a moment, you might say that without Manson the 'Caliphate' OTO would not even exist.

During Crowley's lifetime there was only one active O.T.O. lodge in the USA, the so-called 'second' Agapé Lodge in California, yes the place were all this evil started and the home of Cardinal William Levada and his sick crew. An insight into the prevailing spirit at the Lodge in the 1940s was given by Harry Hay, the founder of the modern gay movement in California: during their performance of the Gnostic Mass, he was present sitting at a piano playing the tune "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and the gay catholic clergy present apparently liked it very much; he remembered thinking to himself that anyone who hadn't belonged to the O.T.O. would have had a very hard time not bursting out laughing at such a comical Mass but after all they were a bunch of illuminati pervets.

One of its members Grady Louis McMurtry, received some special instructions from Crowley which stated that in "case of emergency" McMurtry was to take over this lodge, subject to the approval of Crowley's heir insofar as the O.T.O. went, a German called Karl Germer. Germer did not think much of McMurtry (calling him a "Minus" and saying that the US was a "spiritual desert"), and he closed Agapé on 7 September 1953. Germer now favoured H.J. Metzger from Switzerland as his own O.T.O. successor. With that, McMurtry completely lost interest in the O.T.O. When he heard of Germer's death and the question as to the succession arose, on 25 October 1963 McMurtry stated "there is nothing I can do at the moment."

In the 1960's, a former member of Agapé called Mildred Burlingame "initiated" Jean Brayton with some of Crowley's O.T.O. rituals;

Brayton's Solar Lodge of the O.T.O. had existed well before the modern 'Caliphate' lodge did; So what exactly did Manson do in the Solar Lodge? As witnesses have reported, Brayton began putting on "profane parties" to draw in recruits for the illuminati from the public, attracting people to the idea of a special, semi-secret organisation which performed magical rituals, and which involved "sex and strange doings and good drugs and groovy people." About fifty outsiders were involved, including Hollywood figures like Jerry Kay, who had been the art director on the film 'Easy Rider'. Kay left the Solar Lodge around August 1967, having done little more than take the 'Oath of a Probationer' (an A.'A.'. "degree"); the one thing he took with him on his departure was a copy of the 'Book of the Law', which he decorated with illustrations, and later sold.

The most famous guest at Brayton's parties was Manson, who, like Brayton, believed he was the reincarnation of Aleister Crowley (another one...hi..hi..) and Sister Brayton an agent of the illuminati gave Manson the possibility of being initiated to the highest degree of this corrupt and sick illuminati Order the Ordo Templi Orientis .

McMurtry who was a key agent of the illuminati for their future satanic propaganda informed on Brayton to the FBI to avoid the FBI investigating him (a piloted move of the illuminati do get out of any future reference). He also provided the journalist Ed Sanders with material about the affair - and in return Sanders made no mention of McMurtry in his book "The Family" about the Manson murders. Now McMurtry, together with his wife Phyllis Seckler founded a group called 'The Continuum', and started publishing Crowley material.

The Continuum was the nucleus of the 'Caliphate' a new O.T.O. founded in 1977 for the purpose of receiving tax-free status as a religious body, and to benefit from the royalties generated by Crowley copyrights worldwide.

The scandals surrounding the Solar Lodge happened at the same time as the Manson 'Family' was committing the murders of Sharon Tate and her friends - seven people in all - in August 1969; and both sets of events took place within a few miles of each other.

This, and the similar occult backgrounds of Manson and Brayton, made the tabloid press leap to the conclusion that there must be a direct connection between the Manson murders, and the Solar Lodge scandals - a highly tenuous connection, to say the least.

But there is one more dependable, if unusual link between the characteristics of the 'Family' and Brayton's Solar Lodge, and other O.T.O. groups. One member of Manson's 'Family' called Robert Beausoleil lived together with celebrated underground filmmaker and occultist Kenneth Anger. Before he became embroiled in the Manson affair, Beausoleil had acted the rôle of Lucifer in Anger's film 'Lucifer Rising'.

While imprisoned as a result of the murders, Beausoleil occupied his time in composing a musical score for the film. Anger was also instrumental in founding Anton LaVey's 'Church of Satan' - and allegedly LaVey played the rôle of Satan in Roman Polanski's film 'Rosemary's Baby' (which is in fact not true); Sharon Tate, one of the Manson murder-victims was Polanski's wife.

While Karl Germer had refused to accept Anger as an O.T.O. member, today, Anger is a close friend of William Breeze, the 'Caliph' or leader of the 'Caliphate'. He is an IX° and as a member of the VIII°-Areopagus has a say in this Order's fate. Breeze gave Anger the IX° for his knowledge and services, that is his so-called art and Crowley collection.

But who is really this disciple of A.Crowley known to the profane as Major Grady Louis McMurtry but to the illuminati as born on October 18, 1918 EV in Big Cabin, Oklahoma to Grady and Bee Ivery Puckett McMurtry. He became a member of Ordo Templi Orientis in June 1941 when he was initiated to the 0° and I° at Agapé Lodge, Pasadena. His first profession was that of a soldier and later intelligence officer; he served in the European theatre during WWII, enabling him to become a personal student of Aleister Crowley (with time off for D-Day, and the liberation of France and the low countries). In Fall 1943 he was initiated by Baphomet XI° into the IX° O.T.O. It was also Crowley who suggested he take the name `Umenaios A (Hymenaeus Alpha), which in Greek gematria adds to 777. A.C. wrote many letters discussing him as a Caliph, a future successor. Crowley was guarding against the possibility that Karl Germer (Saturnus X°), his "heir apparent," might fail of an heir himself and endanger the continued existence of the O.T.O.

HYMENAËUS ALPHA 777

In the late 1950's he worked as a management analyst for the State Department of Labor in Sacramento, moving in 1961 to Washington, D.C. to work for the Labor Department and the Washington Shakespeare Society. Karl Germer died in 1962 and did indeed fail of an heir-- McMurtry therefore returned to California and used his emergency powers from 666 as Caliph and de facto head of the illuminati O.T.O., presiding over the rebirth of the O.T.O. In his last years he did battle once again--in a courtroom rather than a beachhead. Here also his victory was complete--the world, as well as the Secret Master, acknowledged him King of this Templar Order. But the final victory of Grady McMurtry is yet coming as the Satanic powers and George W. Bush the grandson of A.Crowley are in charge of humanity . He died peacefully on July 12, 1985 EV in San Pablo, California home the new Doctrine of the Faith home of SATANISM !

Leo Lyon Zagami

How the Illuminati corporations control the food chain (12/10/2006)

Hello all ...

Twenty-five years ago when I was a national spokesman for the British Green Party I was talking about the plan by the corporations to monopolise global food production from field to plate. Today, the crime is almost complete.

This is even more significant when you realise that those 'corporations' are in fact one corporation operating under different names. Behind the fake directors and interlocking personnel the same force dictates the policy and goals for them all. And one of those goals is to control everything we eat and drink.

People talk about controlling oil to control the people. But nothing, apart from air, is more fundamental to human survival, let alone health and prosperity, than food and water. If anything should be exempt from the profit motive it should be water, which is a most basic requirement for life in this reality. But our water supplies are in the hands of the same corporation that now controls food production and sales across the world. This was all planned a long time ago.

To achieve this control, diversity had to be eliminated and this is why life has been made so difficult for small and independent farmers. Almost wherever you look suicide rates among farmers are some of the highest in the population and often the stress of battling daily to survive is a key, often overriding, factor. The numbers of independent farmers going bankrupt or selling up and leaving the land has soared since the Illuminati war on the small farmer began world-wide. It is a similar story with small businesses of all kinds because the corporations want to own and control everything.

The Italian dictator Benito Mussolini is alleged to have said that 'Fascism should more properly be called corporatism because it is the merger of state and corporate power'. Whether he said it or not the statement remains true, not least in Hitler's Germany. Today we see the gathering global fascism in the merger of state and corporate power - with the corporate far more powerful than the political. This interconnecting web has allowed the corporations to integrate their ambitions and manipulations into political policy and never more powerfully than in the hijacking of the food chain.

A perfect example was the sting played on European farmers in the 1980s under the European Community's Common Agricultural Policy or CAP. At first, this appeared to be the equivalent of winning the lottery for farmers of all kinds. Basically, they were paid for whatever they produced whether they sold it or not. Imagine that, whatever you make you are guaranteed the market rate courtesy of the European taxpayer.

I remember as a Green Party spokesman arguing against the infamous CAP and facing the wrath of the farming community who were lighting cigars and raising a glass to the Genie and his magic lamp. But why wouldn't they, given the short-term thinking that infests the human psyche ? All their dreams had come true.

The policy of we'll-buy-what-you-sow led to massive surpluses and the infamous 'food mountains' and 'wine lakes' as the unsold production was stored in giant warehouses across the continent. This was one of the grotesque examples of the rich-poor divide highlighted by Bob Geldof at the time of Live Aid in 1985. While extraordinary amounts of food were being stored in Europe, millions were dying from starvation.

But the Illuminati are nothing if not inhuman.

The CAP also devastated the countryside and the land and soil in general as farmers cleared all impediments to opening every square inch they could to more production. Every sow was guaranteed dough and this was without the need even to find a buyer or a belly. They were also taking out big bank loans to buy more land at the ever increasing prices fuelled by what was happening.

Trees and hedgerows were uprooted and wildlife plummeted with the loss of habitat and the poisons provided by the pharmaceutical cartel to increase yields in the short term while destroying fertility in the long. Talking to farmers about the insanity of this as a Green party spokesman was, appropriately, the story of the seeds and the stony ground.

Then came the sting.

Opposition to the Common Agricultural Policy increased until it was the major issue of the day because the European taxpayer was footing the astonishing bill. What's more, the hidden forces behind the policy were supporting and giving publicity to this public outrage - 'something must be done'. Stage two was underway.

The European Economic Community, now called the European Union, announced that it would have to change the CAP in the face of public demand and the 'mountains' of food left unconsumed. This 'change' was to stop paying farmers for everything they produced. The gravy train had collided with the buffer stops. Farmers across Europe were now faced with actually finding buyers for their produce, but once the subsidies evaporated prices slumped with so much food and drink available both in production and storage. Small and independent farmers went bankrupt on a massive scale because they couldn't pay their debts to the banks that they increased dramatically through land-buying and other investment in the manufactured boom.

And who was waiting to buy the farms at a few cents on the dollar ? The corporations who were behind the whole thing via the Illuminati network in government.

In the United States, something similar has happened in the last half century with a series of decisions by the Illuminati-owned Federal Reserve leading farm debt to soar. By the end of 2005, it was well in excess of $200 billion and today in the United States, once a nation of small farmers, only two per cent of the population are involved. Illuminati corporations like Monsanto in St Louis and the price-fixing Archer-Daniels Midland in Illinois, have been major beneficiaries of other people's misery.

This has happened on every continent as the market has been artificially suppressed in readiness for the 'buy outs'. Where this has not yet happened the corporations control the food chain by owning the seeds, setting the prices and imposing 'free trade'.

Patenting seeds was unthinkable before the 20th century and indeed Article One of the US Constitution specifically excluded, for moral reasons, the patenting of 'life'. In the 1930s, plant breeders were allowed to patent seed varieties, but not to have rights to subsequent seeds that were produced from them by the growers. Then in 1980, the Illuminati challenged these restrictions through the General Electric Corporation and specifically one of its employees, an Indian-born scientist called Dr Ananda Chakrabarty. He developed a genetically-engineered microbe to 'eat' oil slicks, which in the end proved unusable. It was refused a patent by the US Patent Office, but Chakrabarty made history when the US Supreme Court awarded him, by just one vote, the first patent for a life form. With that judgement, the floodgates did swing.

During the Reagan-Bush years patents followed for animals, human genes and body parts. The corporations contend that if they own the gene in the animal or plant, they own the animal and plant. So what about the genetic engineering of the human body ? Yep, according to this contention they would say they therefore own the body. As Andrew Kimbrell, Executive Director of the Center for Food Safety, said : 'It actually means giving corporations, incredibly, the power to own and control species of the earth'. It means that if you own animals or seeds that have been patented by the corporations you have to pay a royalty for every new one produced. This includes the poorest farmers of the 'developing world'.

From the mid-1990s, the Illuminati pesticide and chemical producers, notably Monsanto and Dow, began to buy the seed producers. Monsanto spent some eight billion dollars alone and Dr. Charles M Benbrook, former Board of Agriculture Director at the Academy of Sciences, said : 'Basically, the US pesticide industry bought the seed industry for all intents and purposes.'

The intent and purpose was to control food production.

The law was changed still further to, wait for this, allow the corporations to patent seed varieties that they have not genetically engineered. The only criteria were that no-one else had got there first ! This led to the corporations taking the seeds from the seed banks designed to protect genetic diversity and going to the patent office to register ownership. It is reckoned that Monsanto alone owns more than 11,000 seeds.

It has reached such ludicrous levels that even if seeds they don't own are contaminated by genetically-modified seeds blown onto a farm from elsewhere, even a passing truck, the corporations are taking the farmers to court for illegal use of their patented seed without a license. This is happening to increasing numbers of farmers, including Percy Schmeiser in Canada who was well-known for developing his own seeds.

Monsanto went onto his land without his knowledge or permission and then issued a law suit for his use of patented canola seeds that had blown onto his land. It didn't matter how unjust and crazy it was, the court gave the judgement in favour of Monsanto. Why ? Because the corporations, through the Illuminati network, control the courts as they control the politicians who allowed all this to happen in the first place. Percy Schmeiser was forced to destroy a thousand pounds of seeds that he and his wife had developed over decades because they had been contaminated by the unwanted Monsanto variety. Percy's wife, Louise, said :

'Monsanto comes along when we have worked for all these years and they just want to take it away just like that ... they can just come and do anything to the farmers, just like they own them, and it really is upsetting. And I feel they have taken our rights away and our privacy. And we are not the only ones they have done it to, there are many others.

Why are they prosecuting so many of these little farmers when they are only worth a couple a hundred thousand, when they are such a multi-national company - why ? Is it greed or is it that they just want to control all the seeds ?

The answer is both. It is another front on the war against the independent producer and seed diversity. The Schmeisers lost all their retirement money in legal costs fighting the case and thousands of innocent farmers just pay up when Monsanto come calling to avoid crippling lawsuits.

Rodney Nelson, a farmer in North Dakota, was another Monsanto victim. He said that every farmer he had spoken to who had been targeted by Monsanto had told the same story. Monsanto had arrived to test their crop and those with nothing to hide thought little of it until a year later when, to their astonishment, Monsanto said they had found their patented seed variety on their land. The delay of a year meant the plants were not available for them to challenge the claims.

Monsanto told Nelson that they had tested all 1,350 acres of his soya bean crop, but when it was pointed out in the subsequent legal case that to do this would have meant gathering one sample continuously every 20 seconds, they changed their story. They had, they said, only taken a handful. In short, they were making it up. But the Illuminati control the courts and Rodney Nelson describes the judge's 'view' of this incredible injustice :

'It didn't matter how Monsanto's genetic-altered canola got into his field. Whether it cross-pollinated or blew in by the wind, or by birds, insects or animals or falling off a farmer's truck, or carbine and so on, it didn't matter, if there were some plants there I had violated Monsanto's patent, even though I didn't want it in my field.

He ruled that any farmer that has a conventional plant, it doesn't matter what kind of plant, if it's a seed, a tree, if it gets cross-pollinated with Monsanto's gene against your wishes and against your property, my plant becomes Monsanto's property. Now stop and think what that means for farmers all over the world, farmers, gardeners, anything to do with a life-giving form. That shows you the power of patent law over farmers' rights.'

One farmer suggested there is not a single field in western Canada that has not been contaminated by Monsanto's GM Canola and that's the whole idea. That was the reason for the 'trials' in the UK ordered by Tony Blair, the biotech industries man in Downing Street. Once they are established, the contamination begins, followed by the lawsuit. One of the most active funders of GM research, by the way, has been the Rockefeller Foundation, which will surprise no-one who has studied Illuminati history.

But the most sinister development of all are the so-called 'terminator seeds' that die after a single use and cannot be re-used to produce seeds for the next year's harvest. The United States government has been funding the research since the Reagan-Bush administration in 1983 and, if you didn't know the true motivation, it would seem inexplicable that a government would seek to develop a technology that threatened to turn farmers and whole nations into slaves of the seed corporations. Willard Phelps, a spokesman for the US Department of Agriculture, said the aim was to establish the widest possible use of terminator seeds 'to increase the value of proprietary seed owned by US seed companies and to open up new markets in Second and Third World countries.' Henry Kissinger's words in the 1970s capture the motivation : 'Control the oil and you can control entire continents. Control food and you control people ...'

Jackson Stephens ... if you emptied his pockets the Clintons would fall out.

The 'suicide seeds' were developed with taxpayer money in a joint operation between the United States government and a company called Delta and Pine Land which was reported to have had a rather famous investor - Queen Elizabeth II. The largest shareholder has been the Stephens Group in Arkansas, controlled by Jackson Stephens, the major bankroller of Bill Clinton's deeply corrupt political career. A chairman of Delta and Pine has been Stephens Group vice-chairman, Jon E.M. Jacoby, who once said of Clinton's alleged corruption in Arkansas : 'You see a girl walking down the street. You can say, "There goes a beautiful girl" or "There goes a whore". What the hell's the difference ? They've both got legs.' Nice people.

Now the punch line : In August 2006 it was announced that Delta and Pine had agreed a $1.5 billion deal to sell its operation and terminator seed patents to ... Monsanto.

Running parallel with the creation of copyrighted seeds has been the systematic destruction of the alternatives. Ninety-seven per cent of the vegetables grown at the start of the 20th century are now extinct. There were once five thousand potato varieties grown world-wide, now only four are grown on any scale. This is extremely important because it opens the way for those varieties that remain to be destroyed by disease or genetic manipulation. In Ireland in the 19th century when only a few varieties of potato were grown, the consequences of potato blight attacking those species was a million people starved to death.

The fewer varieties we use the greater the danger from disease and insects and this had led to the dependence of chemical spraying - provided by Monsanto and co - which have created the so-called super bugs and weeds that have developed through mutation an immunity to the poisons that killed them before. In my book, It Doesn't Have To Be Like This, published in 1989, I wrote that the chemicals were ... 'creating super-pests that have become resistant to the chemicals so more and more pesticides are needed to kill them. Where will it all end ?' Nearly 20 years later we are beginning to see. A report by the California Policy Seminar, a joint program of the university and state government, said :

'As a result of these practices worldwide, the number of resistant pests is growing exponentially, the authors point out. According to recent biological research, the number of insects and mites that have become resistant to chemicals since 1950 is up 10-fold, from less than 50 species to more than 450.'

All these things connect with the Illuminati plan to control the food chain and, through that, to control the people. Their ownership of the land and, by lawsuit, the independent farmers, means they control what and how much is produced ; by control of the supermarkets and the commodity markets they dictate the price it is sold for ; and by enforcing 'free trade' laws through the Illuminati World Trade Organisation they prevent any country from blocking imported produce to protect home markets. All this has created :

Dependency on Illuminati corporations for seeds.
Dependency on Illuminati corporations for the pesticides, herbicides and fertilisers to make the seeds grow or survive. Dependency on Illuminati supermarkets which have destroyed independent stores and dictate the price they will pay to farmers.
Dependency on Illuminati corporations for virtually everything that we eat or drink. Dependency = control and that is what this whole story is about.

To be continued ...

David OCTOBER 22nd 2006

Bush secretly permits Queen to steal U.S. gold (12/11/2006)

BUSH SECRETLY PERMITS QUEEN TO STEAL U.S. GOLD

MIDDLE-FINGER NEWS

Sticking It To The Poobahs

News Hot Enough To Fry Radio Stations

by Sherman Skolnick & Lenny Bloom

7/28/04

THE STATE OF "STATE SECRETS" BUSH SECRETLY PERMITS QUEEN TO STEAL U.S. GOLD

Crowned Heads of Europe and The Queen

Click To Enlarge

The United States General Accounting Office (GAO) has repeatedly demanded of the White House and Treasury Dept. that they stop stonewalling and explain the disappearance since September 2001 of major tranches of gold.

A large horde of U.S. government gold, 2854 metric tonnes, according to the GAO has disappeared. The GAO says that it cannot certify the audit of the U.S. Treasury without the White House and Treasury divulging the whereabouts of the super-precious metal.

Knowledgeable sources contend that this gold is actually owned jointly by the U. S. and France. And Bush connived with the British Monarchy to hide this stolen gold now valued at thirty billion dollars to support derivatives which have the equivalent power of thirty quadrillion dollars to support the failing Pound Sterling.

In plain language, the United States Treasury, minus the certified audit, is insolvent and fighting to prevent an impending default of U.S. Treasury Securities.

Knowledgeable sources regard this alone, not the Arabs, as the core reason for the 9-11 highest levels of homegrown violence, treason and deception.

Furthermore, Bush has ordered his Chief of Staff, Andrew H. Card Jr. to arrange the arrest or even liquidation of Web Reporters daring to divulge these "State Secrets."

FOR MORE STATE SECRETS CLICK HERE.

Martin Lauchnauer
Wiener Str. 16
A-3004 Riederberg
Austria
Tel. +43-2271-8256
www.lauchnauer.2page.eu

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 21-30

The AntiChrist (12/11/2006)

He snorted cocaine ... He dodged the draft....His friends knew him as an alcoholic womanizer with a bad temper....a complete failure at business until his wealthy friends rescued him. Yet within a few short years he was elected Governor of Texas, and quickly catapulted into the White House in spite of losing the popular vote. Then he was re-elected with last minute help from Osama Bin Laden, in spite of high disapproval ratings. He still couldn't think his way out of a wet paper bag without the advice of his staffand yet he's been able to declare an endless war and institute some of the most radical changes in American history

..... How has
He done it?

George Walker Bush from the Skull and Bones is the ANTI-CHRIST, the ultimate son of Satan , the Grandson of the Great Beast 666.

The violence and destruction that began when Bush first entered office, is now certain to culminate in the apocalypse, as predicted in the Bible over 2,000 years ago. Be prepared for one of the key moments in human history when the Messiah will revail himself to his close friends and allies on the 21st of December 2012. This revelation will not be made public for safety reasons, as the Messiah is as usual public enemy number one. So this revelation made public only in the year 2064 e.v. will be made in the meantime only to his inner circle of close friends and trusted Brothers and Sisters .

Hope we can all survive this tremendous ordeal in front of us with the power of our prayers to God and the will to front Satan with no fear in our eyes.

Leo Lyon Zagami

now

Khaled Saifullah Khan

Yes Monsanto=666 (12/11/2006)

I actually worked a couple of times for MONSANTO at the end of the 90's in London for the Market Research Department , and Im obviously not very proud about it. But we used to get very good money to simply put togheter different groups of professionals in my spare time and ask them questions that were linked to MONSANTO products and find the more clever way to manipulate people into loving Monsanto products, or at least to not feel scared about them. So I was indeed a big sinner at that time (may God forgive me).

The main problem we usually had was that we could not find the right kind of professionals so we invented them by calling in a few actors for the sake of this sick play that often was video recorded . MONSANTO and other big companies like BT, Motorola , CNBC and even Starbucks Coffee Company didnt mind how they will get these professionals for the Market Research because it was only a show all this marketing rubbish. After all the only important thing was to have specially trained people like me in charge of the show , the so called trend setters of the illuminati, to give them later the key info to go forward in their materialistic satanic plot to rule the world with all this rubbish and Jinn tecnology .

It was by the way my past time, and I made good money from companies that have plenty of it and knew what they were doing, but obviously I didnt receive yet the light of Islam , otherwise I will never have worked for these evil Satanist.

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

M O N S A N T O

78 90 84 114 6 84 120 90 = 666

A=6, B=12, C=18, D=24, E=30, F=36, G= 42, H=48, I=54, J=60, K=66, L=72, M=78, N=84,

O=90, P=96, Q=102, R=108, S=114, T=120, U=126, V=132, W=138, X=144, Y=150, Z=156

Seed of destruction by F. William Engdahl

“We are bent to say that nobody will ever use these things with healthy human understanding - however everyone is not with healthy human understanding.” Steven Block, Professor for Biophysik, Stanford University

Within five to max. ten years the main parts of the global food chain will be in the hands of only four large global acting corporations. These companies hold exclusive patents on seeds, without which no farmer or farmer of the world can sow and harvest later. They are however not usual seeds. They are seeds, which became so genetically altered that they commit suicide “after the first harvest”. Thus it is to be guaranteed that seeds must again be acquired each year - a business, which the devil could not have better invented. If this development is not stopped, a new form of serfdom develops, which until now was not thought to be possible.

Three of the four private enterprises, which offer today genetically changed seeds, exhibit thereby a dire connection for many decades to the US war machine of Pentagon. Once they produced “Agent Orange”, which killed ten thousands in Viet Nam and even today still causes damages. At present these companies, in co-operation with the US Government, exert an enormous pressure on Europe, so that also here fall all barriers against genetically altered seeds.

This book is not history over profit greed. It is rather a history over the dark side of power. Into the 1970er years explained Henry Kissinger: "Who controls the oil, is able to control whole nations; who controls the food, controls the humans." The book documents that the American Rockefeller foundation is the driving engine behind this development. Together with private research institutes and in accomplice with the US Government a small powerful elite tries to play God - with frightening consequences for the peoples of the world. The available work documents a gigantic conspiracy. This is however unfortunately no theory or speculation, but rather rapidly progressing reality.

Inform yourself, before it is too late

"The book of F. William Engdahl is deals with the large topic of the genetically manipulated organisms (GMO), which are abused for geo politics. It reads itself like a detective story of unbelievable extent, in which four large Anglo-American agrarbusiness enterprises are not frightened of crimes against mankind and want to win over GMO the food and thus power over our world. Engdahl analyzed with the utmost care exactly and the background and the large connections convincingly represented, so that the reader becomes deeply moved is force to think independently. Only if laws on international level avoid the Genozid with GMO, peace on our planet becomes possible - that is the conclusion. " Dr. Anton Moser, professor for biotechnology, Graz, Austria and vice director of the Austrian institute for sustainable development

" If you want to know something about the sozio-political program - why biotechnology enterprises insist on spreading GMO seeds in the whole world - then you should read this book. You will learn, in which manner huge companies want to get control on all humanity and why we have to resist."

Marijan Jost, professor for genetics and plant breeding at the Agrarian School Krizevci, Croatia

»Man kann nur hoffen, daß William Engdahls Buch seinen Lesern helfen wird zu erkennen, daß wir etwas tun müssen, um diese Einbahnstraße zum Wahnsinn und zur Zerstörung der Menschheit und unserer Welt zu verlassen.«

Dr. Arpad Pusztai, weltweit führender Experte in Sachen GMO

"One can only hope that William Engdahls book will help its readers to recognize that we must do something, in order to leave this one-way street to the insanity and for the destruction of mankind and our world. " Dr. Arpad Pusztai, world-wide leading expert in relation to GMO

German book 280 sides, bound, numerous illustrations, 2006

You can order it here: <https://www.kopp-verlag.de/artdet.cfm?ArtNum=9360&CFID=3738070&CFTOKEN=6785120&NOID=0&NUID=0&NUID2=0&rNav=ut&page=0>

Weblink to William Engdahls Homepage: <http://www.engdahl.oilgeopolitics.net/index.html>

From the president of Honesty International on Freemasonry (12/11/2006)

We want to show you the true face of contemporary Freemasonry in the eyes of another ex Freemason :

"Sick and dying from Liver Disease"

I observed a fellow trying to sleep on the side of the sidewalk in the rain Nov 15, 2006 Granville St and West Broadway. All some people have left is privacy for their last days, so I didn't take a picture of him, but several minutes later, he was gone, so I snapped a picture of his sign. He complained that even his donations were being stolen.

This was a HALF MILE from the Grand Lodge, so tell me all about the charity work being done. Tell me how everyone chooses to sleep in the rain purely out of preference. Tell me how you live with yourself while every vermin up the ladder rakes in millions, or billions. Maybe you feel like a noble knight, fighting the "good fight", but exactly what fight is that? To look good amid the carnage? To walk as a master mason among the corpses?

About all I can do now is do what masons hate the most. Namely PREACH. Preach to the best of my ability in a goodless wasteland. Preach about scum in high places, preach about ethics as I am able, and preach about the banks and corporations that are doing this... and will do more evil if everyone shuts up and gets on the corporate gravy train.

Change is no longer an option, it is ESSENTIAL. I'm working on a bit of a book now, and some small time recording... and will continue posting rants and digital copies of the old Al Fry stuff that tipped the scales and kept me from falling for the lore of the Greedtards and their MY$TERY $CHOOLS$.

People can defend Freemasonry all they like, but where do you find financial ethics among the elite? All I see are false fronts, brainwashed people, desperate people, and people dying.

tkra@honesty.org

ex first degree mason and 4th degree Rosicrucian.

Whoopeddoo!

12 years as President of Honesty International how.org honesty.org whatever.

Exploring most UNPOPULAR genre of info on the internet: ETHICS

Michael Aquino, the second beast of the Apocalypse (12/13/2006)

Chapter 7

The Second Beast of Revelation 13

And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon (Revelation 13:11).

We have the identity of the second Beast now its time to act.

Leo Lyon Zagami

Moloch and the Shriners (12/11/2006)

"let me answer partially to your questions :
first of all Islam does not have symbols sacred or non sacred , Islam does not use symbols and does not give any importance to them , so whoever claims that the crescent or the sword is an islamic symbol is a plain liare ...The shriners are not muslems , they are an american massonic order that have nothing to do with Islam , and they can claim for themselves whatever they want ."

Mr X

I agree with Mr X and I want to add that the Shriner Order are a bunch of perverts and they have been kicked out of Mecca a long time ago for being judged as total infedels .There exist two versions of the "illuminati" Shriners in the US and Europe, as number two was created to manipulate influential Black Americans from what is defined as Prince Hall Masonry (Freemasonry for blacks only). I can also confirm from a personal experience that the Ritual of the Kissing of the Black Stone made by the Shriners is the most infedel ritual in the world, as these blasphemers kiss the ass of the Master in the Lodge/Temple and not the Black Stone at the Kaaba in Mecca this is disgraceful and offensive , it is a direct mockery of that solemn tradition in the life of all muslims.

These illuminati should be really punished for such diabolical rubbish even if it helps a few hospitals...

Nowdays the illuminati Shriners completely control from their Temples the A.A.S.R. (Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite) Lodges as part of the illuminati pyramid, they actually made a massive campaign to get Freemasons initiated in basketball stadiums ...YES 6000 at the time ready to join the illuminati Satanic Shriners.

The Shriners then lead to the History of the Hillbilly Degree :

by Imperial Raban Harris

"Many years ago, shortly after I became a Shriner, I was exposed to the world of side-line degrees. Now to reach this point in life, a man must first become a Mason. That is a member of the Masonic Lodge. This is a very great organization, so like my father and brothers, I was very proud to become a member.

Now that I was a Mason; I was promptly informed that I must go on up." Some urged me to take the York Rites, and some said take the Scottish Rites; some even said to take both. This some of the best advice that I have ever had that I followed. Now I was able to petition and join the Shrine. Shrine Temples are in all areas of North America and apparently these fellows have fun.

So I became a Shriner. A Shriner is permitted to wear the red fez and join in the many social and charitable activities. He can join the Clown Unit, the Marching Patrol, Oriental Band, or other groups and participate in the colorful parades and be seen in many public places. The social activities are many and always proud to be helping support the Shriners Hospitals. What could be finer than to have fun and help the crippled and burned children at the same time?

At this point I was beginning to acquire a billfold full of cards. Each of the Masonic organizations issues their own annual card, and they soon add up. Then the Temple issues a card; and each of the Units also issues their own annual cards. Now a Shriner becomes exposed to the world of side-line degrees. Many Shriners loved to join as many as possible in order to be able to display the membership cards-sometimes dozens and dozens, and he is always proudest if he has more than the other Shriner. It is quite common to see Shriners have special card cases; which they will flip out at the faintest hint to unfold a strip of cards a yard or two long. This is the world of the side-line degree.

Side-line Degrees came under many names: the Horse Traders, Swords of Timbuktu, Yellow Dog, Mandarin, Mad Dogs of Lebanon and many, many others. Often I would wonder where the money that myself and others paid out for these small pieces of cardboard [the valuable membership card] was going to. Why I even joined the Old Bastards. The money went and the number of membership cards grew.

Slowly into my world of awareness came the realization that all of this money paid out for the side-line degrees was going to Shrine clubs, groups of individuals and sometimes to single individuals. The money paid for fine banquets and parties, material objects, and sometimes went into an individuals pocket. Furthermore, some of the Rituals left me rather cold or in disgust. This could not be right.

What the Shriners needed was a new side-line degree, one that had a new and interesting ritual, and above all a purpose—namely that all profits would go for a worthy cause, to help the children who were admitted to the Shriners Hospitals. The members of this new side-line degree must have some fun and enjoy the activities so that he wanted his friends to also participate, and help spread the word of the new Degree. Rules must be drawn up to assure that all profits went to help those crippled and burned children of the Shriners Hospitals and for no other purpose.

After discussing side-line degrees with a friend one day back in 1969, I decided to see if I could put something down in writing to establish such a new degree. I could only draw upon my own experiences--born and raised in the Hills of West Virginia and now living in the hills of Kentucky. I could recall the outhouse moon; which closely resembled the Crescent, a symbol held in the highest esteem by all Shriners. This somehow reminded me of corn cobs, moonshine, etc. So I sat down and wrote. Slowly the new Degree took substance and form

Now the Hillbilly Degree did not take form in a few days; it really took several months and several rewrites. The truth is, if I had it to do over, there are a few other changes I would make. However, it finally looked pretty good. Much better than most of the other side-line degrees that I had taken.

Then I wrote a Constitution to assure that no one made any money from this Hillbilly Degree--all profits must go to help those crippled and burned children of the Shriners Hospitals. Now we are ready to go, and a couple of friends agreed to help me try out the new Degree.

With the help of a couple of friends, it takes three to put on the Degree work, we initiated a few of the Shriners of El Hasa Temple in Ashland, Kentucky and everyone seemed to enjoy it. So we realized that the new Hillbilly Degree would be accepted at least as well as the many other side-line degrees.

The next step was to obtain a copyright, so that no group could come along later and put on this degree and not abide by the rules that the profits must go to help the crippled and burned children. This was what it was all about. Thus copyright No. 23370 was obtained in 1970 which can and will be renewed after it expires. Now all that these first Hillbillies received upon initiation was the membership cards. Now we found a source for Hillbilly Hats, and everyone started to wear their 'Hillbilly Tuxedos," the overalls to all meetings. The more worn and patched, the better they were accepted. The Hillbilly Degree was on the way, but we still thought of this as only a local side-line degree for the El Hasa Temple area.

At the Imperial Shrine Convention in Miami, Florida in 1970 we decided to put the Hillbilly Degree work on. Over a hundred joined from other Temples, and the Shriners from Hejaz Temple in South Carolina wanted to be authorized to put on this Hillbilly Degree and put on the work in the name of their own Clan. This called for some quick action.

Since it was apparent that The Grand and Glorious Order of the Hillbilly Degree was a success, it was important to tie up all the loose ends. A Trust agreement was drawn up between the three officers accepting the responsibility of control of any money coming into their hands to be for the charitable benefit of the crippled and burned children. Agreement was certified and duly registered. An application was filed with the Internal Revenue Service for exemption from Federal income tax and was approved. Finally approval was granted by the Board of Trustees of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children to raise money for the Shriners Hospitals.

Now, do you know of any other side-line degree in Shrinedom that has received all of these approvals? If you do, let me know so that I can apply for membership.

An Application for Chapter was drawn up and the people of South Carolina from Hejaz Temple were granted Clan No. 2. Slowly the word went out and Kosair received Clan No. 3. Beni Kedem in W. Va. asked for Clan No. 4 in 1971; and Syrian of Cincinnati received Clan No. 5 in 1972. Clan No. 6 at Nemesis of W. Va. was not set up until 1974, Aladdin of Columbus, Ohio became Clan No. 7.

No. 8 also went to Aladdin, the only Temple to have two Clans. Then came Rajah, Bektash, Yaarab, Lulu, Oasis, Murat, Kena, Al Koran, Acca and Morocco. Others followed in Al Chymia, Crescent, Moslem, etc. to the current total of 60 Clans as of Sept. 1981. Two are in Canada.

AN INTERESTING NOTE FROM THE WEB SITE OF IMPERIAL RABAN:

Imperial Raban Harris adds in a note that there are 160 Clans at the beginning of 1999.

Future Clans will be duly noted in the Hillbilly News, so you can follow history as it is made."

THESE OLD BASTARDS ARE THE WORK OF THE DEVIL THATS IT...

The Imperial Potentate

[url=http://www.shrinershq.org/Shrine/message/] http://www.shrinershq.org/Shrine/message/[/url]

usualy joins the elite of the Hillbilly Order at the Bohemian Grove...

THIS ILLUMINATI PYRAMID OF THE SHRINERS LEADS DIRECTELY TO MOLOCH A DEMONIC JINN FROM ANCIENT TIMES...

MOLOCH

A divinity worshipped by the idolatrous Israelites. The Hebrew pointing Molech does not represent the original pronunciation of the name, any more than the Greek vocalization Moloch found in the LXX and in the Acts (vii, 43). The primitive title of this god was very probably Melech, "king", the consonants of which came to be combined through derision with the vowels of the word Bosheth, "shame". As the word Moloch (A.V. Molech) means king, it is difficult in several places of the Old Testament to determine whether it should be considered as the proper name of a deity or as a simple appellative. The passages of the original text in which the name stands probably for that of a god are Lev., xviii, 21; xx, 2-5; III (A. V. I) Kings, xi, 7; IV (II) Kings, xxiii, 10; Is., xxx, 33; lvii, 9; Jer., xxxii, 35.

The chief feature of Moloch's worship among the Jews seems to have been the sacrifice of children, and the usual expression for describing that sacrifice was "to pass through the fire", a rite carried out after the victims had been put to death. The special centre of such atrocities was just outside of Jerusalem, at a place called Tophet (probably "place of abomination"), in the valley of Geennom. According to III (I) Kings, xi, 7, Solomon erected "a temple" for Moloch "on the hill over against Jerusalem", and on this account he is at times considered as the monarch who introduced the impious cult into Israel, but we are not sure we can subscribe to this theory as Solomon is also a key figure for the faith of Islam.

And lets go back to the Ritual of the Black Stone for a moment,I know its not a must to kiss the Black Stone in the Islamic faith but the Shriners are making a mockery of our religion in their Temple's and last year complains were even filed and released in open Lodge in London. This happened in front of the Brethern of the Masonic High Council for England and Wales on the 29th of September 6005 when Brother Rui Gabirro pointed out the illegal activities taking place in Shriners Temple's in the USA. INCLUDING SNORTING COCAINE ON TOP ON THE HOLY QU'RAN AND THE BIBBLE WITH PROSTITUTES ON THE SIDE!

As Salam Aleikum

Leo Lyon Zagami
now a real muslim called Khaled Saifullah Khan

Leo Lyon Zagami and illustrious Brother Julian F. Smith the European representative of the Shriners, a very powerful illuminati.

The KAOS banning attempt

The KAOS banning attempt
from <http://www.biroco.com/kaos/index.html>

KAOS 14 was first published online on July 22, 2002. Since that time there have been a number of attempts to get it taken off the Internet, so controversial do its contents appear to be in the eyes of some.

On August 20, 2002, the KAOS supplement was temporarily suppressed due to a complaint by a person or organisation that did not wish this material to be made public.

The 69-page supplement concerns 'The Black Lodge of Santa Cruz', and is a remarkable personal testimony of occult experience in a magical Order – the Caliphate OTO, renowned for use of legal muscle against both publishers and web hosting companies, much like the Scientologists.

For those who haven't heard of the now infamous 'Black Lodge', until the publication of this important document rumours abounded concerning a clandestine initiatory body formed near the heart of the Caliphate OTO in 1990, known as 'The Black Lodge of Santa Cruz'. The supplement to KAOS 14 is written by a direct witness and participant in these events, which involved Enochian operations that threatened the power base of the Caliphate.

We at KAOS, it has to be said, expected the work to be controversial, but were surprised by the petty strategies person or persons unknown used to try to ensure no-one would be able to read it. Initially, the supplement was moved to another server, while KAOS itself remained on the original website unchallenged.

On October 17 2002, however, the entire KAOS website was closed down by BT Internet and the account terminated, either as a result of a further objection by the original complainant or by someone else who feels aggrieved by what I and others have written.

Forewarned by the initial partially successful suppression attempt, we had taken the precaution of setting up mirror sites and so when KAOS was closed down we simply switched to a redirection URL and pointed it at one of the mirrors.

This meant we could change the actual location of the website at a moment's notice.

One wonders what those who wished KAOS 14 didn't exist hoped to gain by making complaints about it. At the time of the controversy I put together a couple of pages on the background to this which may be of interest, although I have decided not to update them any longer, they remain as they were when the KAOS website was closed down and are now archival material (some of the URLs in this material no longer work):

The attempt to suppress KAOS

What a circus! – public opinion

Joel Biroco

Licio Gelli the worshipful master of the P2 (Propaganda 2) (12/13/2006)

latest video reveals the POET AND CONSPIRATOR LICIO GELLI

Brother Licio Gelli Past Worshipfull Master of the P2 proudly continues the piloted opening of his image showing is photo with Hitler and Mussolini at the begining of the interview, and later we see him talking about the infamous pictures of the Pope wearing a swimming suit (a demented scandal of the time involving the Pope half naked by the swimmming pool) And last but not least Brother Gelli reveals that Opus Dei is a Catholic form of Freemasonry .The Brother Gelli starts talking about the Secret Services of the Vatican, described by him as a a very powerfull Secret Service for a very powerfull State...yes one of the two HQ's of Satan in the end of times (the other being Jerusalem).

Gelli says that the Opus Dei is defined also as white freemasonry and P2 as black freemasonry(the dark side of the force) .In a masonic Temple we find on the floor white and black that symbolize the good and the evil side of mankind, the Vatican and the Jesuits have obviously control over what's good and what's evil as they think they are God as I told you in earlier articles.

But Gelli never mentions the SMOM and the Jesuits in this video as such topics are considered off limits to the prophane journalist.

In the State archive in Pistoia they have opened the heavy door of the room dedicated to the affairs of Licio Gelli at the begining of 2006 , he donated part of his archive which was transferred from his home called Villa Wanda.

It is an extraordinary archive containing letters of illuminati agents Torquato Tasso, Napoleon Bonaparte, Giuseppe Garibaldi, Adolph Hitler, Giuseppe Verdi, yes a very sick collection indeed.

some say it's a truly God-given gift for historians and for expert archivist but in reality Gelli kept the best bits of this collection for himself including all the dirty work for the SMOM and his Jesuit Masters. Wel lets see the video:

Licio Gelli the Worshipfull Master of the Lodge P2 is very sick with cancer so this will be probably the main reason why the illuminati want him to make is last show with his confessions of a poet and conspirator in his latest book "Parola di Venerabile". In this book journalist Sandro Neri interview's for hours Brother Licio the Puppet Master of the most powerful Masonic Lodge in the world Propaganda 2.

From Leo Lyon Zagami

The Scandinavian Vatican Illuminati élite:
The Swedish Rite (12/13/2006)

What is the Swedish Rite?

The Swedish rite is part of Scandinavian Freemasonry a Christian fundamentalist Fraternity secretly linked with the Vatican and the Jesuits.

The system is grouped into three divisions as follows:

St. John's (Craft) degrees:

I Apprentice

II Fellow Craft

III Master Mason

St. Andrew's (Scottish) degrees:

IV-V Apprentice-Companion of St. Andrew

VI Master of St. Andrew

Chapter degrees:

VII Very Illustrious Brother

VIII Most Illustrious Brother

IX Enlightened Brother

X Very Enlightened Brother (Very Vatican illuminati...)

On top of the system is

XI Most Enlightened Brother, Knight Commander of the Red Cross

(Vatican illuminati Puppet Masters of Scandinavia)

There are approximately 60 freemasons in Sweden currently holding the XIth degree. They are present or past members of the Grand Council or Grand Officers. In 1811 King Karl established the Royal Order of King Karl XIII. It is a civil order, conferred by the King, only to Freemasons holding the XIth degree with the number limited to 33. It is, however, not a Masonic degree.

Progression from one degree to the next is far from automatic. A brother has not only to be regular in attendance - he has to give proof of his proficiency and of his knowledge of Freemasonry.

There is only one form of accepted ritual for each degree, and deviations are not tolerated. The presiding Master follows an accepted ritual manuscript when working a Lodge.

The Swedish Rite is worked in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland and Iceland. It is also, in a German variant, practiced in Grosse Landesloge der Freimaurer von Deutschland (the Grand Lodge of All German Freemasons).

The only Nazi Vatican illuminati Grand Lodges in the world working this so called Christian Rite with the blessings and written approval of the Pope are :

In Sweden <http://www.frimurarorden.se/>

In Denmark <http://www.ddfo.dk/nyheder/>

In Norway <http://www.frimurer.no/>

In Iceland <http://www.frmr.is/> and obviously in Germany <http://www.freimaurerei.com/>

Their Masonic Worldwide Network of mutual recognition and collaboration includes the following :

EUROPE

Andorra

- Gran Lògia d'Andorra

Austria

- Grossloge von Österreich
- Oberster Rat für Österreich der Freimaurer des AASR

Belgium

- Grande Loge Régulière de Belgique
- Grand Chapitre de l'Arche Royale de Belgique
- Grand Prieuré de Belgique

Bulgaria

- United Grand Lodge A.F.&A.M. of Bulgaria

The Czech Republic

- Grand Lodge of the Czech Republic

Denmark

- National Grand Lodge of Denmark (Den Danske Frimurerorden)

Estonia

- Grand Lodge of Estonia

Finland

- Grand Lodge of F&A Masons of Finland (Suomen v. ja o.m. Suurloosi)
- Grand Lodge of Mark Masters of Finland
- Royal Arch Grand Chapter of Finland
- Supreme Council 33° for Finland
- Great Priory of Finland
- Grand Imperial Conclave of Finland. Red Cross of Constantine

France

- Grande Loge Nationale Française
- Grande Chapitre de l'Arche Royale pour la France

Germany

- Grosse Landesloge der Freimaurer von Deutschland
- Vereinigte Grosslogen von Deutschland
- Oberster Rat für Deutschland der Freimaurer des alten und angenommenen Schottischen Ritus
- Orden der Tempelritter, Grosspriorat von Deutschland

Great Britain

- United Grand Lodge of England
- Supreme Grand Royal Arch Chapter of England
- Supreme Council 33° of the Ancient and Accepted Rite for England and Wales and its Districts and Chapters Overseas
- Great Priory of England and Wales
- Grand Imperial Conclave of England, Wales and Territories Overseas. Red Cross of Constantine
- Grand Lodge of Scotland
- Supreme Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Scotland
- Supreme Council 33° for Scotland
- Order of the Temple, Great Priory of Scotland

Greece

- Grand Lodge of Greece
- Great Priory of Greece

Hungary

- Symbolic Grand Lodge of Hungary

Iceland

- National Grand Lodge of Iceland (Frímúrarareglan á Islandi)

Ireland

- Grand Lodge of Ireland
- Supreme Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Ireland
- Supreme Council 33° for Ireland

Italy

- Gran Loggia Regolare d'Italia

Latvia

- Grand Lodge of Latvia

Lithuania

- Grand Lodge of Lithuania

Luxembourg

- Grande Loge de Luxembourg

Malta

- Sovereign Grand Lodge of Malta

The Netherlands

- Grootoosten der Nederlanden

- Groot Kapittel der Nederland (Royal Arch Chapter)
- Operraad voor het Koninkrijk der Nederlanden (33°)

Norway

- National Grand Lodge of Norway (Den Norske Frimurerorden)

Poland

- National Grand Lodge of Poland

Portugal

- Grande Loja Legal de Portugal
- Grande Priorado Independente da Lusitania
- Supremo Conselho 33o para Portugal

Spain

- Gran Logia de España
- Supremo Consejo del Grado 33°
- Gran Priorado de España

Switzerland

- Schweizerische Grossloge (Alpina)
- Grand Prieuré Indépendant d'Helvétie
- Suprême Conseil 33° de Suisse

Turkey

- Grand Lodge of Turkey

NORTH AMERICA

Canada

- Grand Lodge of Alberta
- Grand Lodge of British Columbia
- Grand Lodge of Manitoba
- Grand Lodge of New Brunswick
- Grand Lodge of New Foundland & Labrador
- Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia
- Grand Lodge of Canada in the Province of Ontario
- Grand Lodge of Prince Edward Island
- Grand Lodge of Quebec
- Grand Lodge of Saskatchewan
- Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of Canada in the Province of Ontario
- Supreme Council 33° for the Dominion of Canada
- Sovereign Great Priory of Canada

U S A

- Grand Lodge of Alabama
- Grand Lodge of Alaska
- Grand Lodge of Arizona
- Grand Lodge of Arkansas
- Grand Lodge of California
- Grand Lodge of Colorado
- Grand Lodge of Connecticut
- Grand Lodge of Delaware
- Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia

- Grand Lodge of Florida
- Grand Lodge of Georgia
- Grand Lodge of Hawaii
- Grand Lodge of Idaho
- Grand Lodge of Illinois
- Grand Lodge of Indiana
- Grand Lodge of Iowa
- Grand Lodge of Kansas
- Grand Lodge of Kentucky
- Grand Lodge of Louisiana
- Grand Lodge of Maine
- Grand Lodge of Maryland
- Grand Lodge of Massachusetts
- Grand Lodge of Michigan
- Grand Lodge of Minnesota
- Grand Lodge of Mississippi
- Grand Lodge of Missouri
- Grand Lodge of Montana
- Grand Lodge of Nebraska
- Grand Lodge of Nevada
- Grand Lodge of New Hampshire
- Grand Lodge of New Jersey
- Grand Lodge of New Mexico
- Grand Lodge of the State of New York
- Grand Lodge of North Carolina
- Grand Lodge of North Dakota
- Grand Lodge of Ohio
- Grand Lodge of Oklahoma
- Grand Lodge of Oregon
- Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania
- Grand Lodge of Rhode Island
- Grand Lodge of South Carolina
- Grand Lodge of South Dakota
- Grand Lodge of Tennessee
- Grand Lodge of Texas
- Grand Lodge of Utah
- Grand Lodge of the State of Washington
- Grand Lodge of Vermont
- Grand Lodge of Virginia
- Grand Lodge of the State of West Virginia
- Grand Lodge of Wisconsin
- Grand Lodge of Wyoming
- General Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons for U S A
- Supreme Council 33° for the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States of America
- Supreme Council 33° for the Southern Masonic Jurisdiction of the United States of America

LATIN AMERICA

Argentina

- Gran Logia De la Argentina

Brazil

- Grande Oriente do Brazil
- Grande Loja Maçônica do Estado de São Paulo

Chile

- Gran Logia de Chile

ASIA

India

- Grand Lodge of India

Israel

- Grand Lodge of the State of Israel

Japan

- Grand Lodge of Japan

AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

Australia and New Zealand

- United Grand Lodge of New South Wales
- United Grand Lodge of Queensland
- Grand Lodge of South Australia
- United Grand Lodge of Victoria
- Grand Lodge of Western Australia
- Grand Lodge of Tasmania
- Supreme Council 33° for Australia
- Great Priory of Queensland
- Great Priory of Victoria
- Great Priory of Western Australia
- Grand Lodge of New Zealand

We the People Will Not Be Chipped (12/15/2006)

We the People will not be Chipped - No Verichip Inside Movement, is based on the irrefutable fact, that we believe in mankind's inalienable human rights that are absolute and can not be debased, nor perverted. Human life can not be degraded to a 16 digit RFID chip number embedded under you skin under any circumstance. By uniting on this common ground, we can send a strong message to the IBM funded Verichip that we the people will not be chipped!

If you or your company/organization would like to get involved with the We the People will not be Chipped - No Verichip Inside Movement , we encourage you to get in contact with us. We are looking for contributors , web designers, artists in all fields , printers, multimedia experts, mailing houses, civil libertarians, financial contributors, and freedom fighters to help us take this message to the masses. We will only be treated like inventory when complacency becomes our drug of choice.

As history has a funny habit of repeating itself. Study World War II closely on how IBM backed the Nazi Regime utilizing the Hollerith Machine . The Hollerith Machine was a punch card system that aided in cataloguing the population. This IBM technology gave the fascist, totalitarian state the much needed technology boost to increase it's rate of human data processing . The goal was simple, extreme nationalism which called for the unification of all German-speaking peoples and eradicating the enemies of the state namely the Jews and other non-compliant races.

Fast forward to the year 2006 , we have IBM funding the parent company of the Verichip namely Applied Digital Solutions [ADSX] . The VeriChip Corporation is both FDA approved and patented with the owner of patent (#6,400,338) granted recently to VeriChip's manufacturer, Digital Angel Corporation, with worldwide patents pending.

In the re-active world's state of affairs, we are seeing world governments tightening measures in regard to identity protection, trumpeting our need to be protected from the forces of evil. As we move into the age of paranoia and fear these ideologies, supported by propaganda campaigns, demand total conformity on the part of the people.

Satanist Introvigne from the OTO talking about Satanism and crime in Sweden (12/13/2006)

How is it possible?

Well ask your local police and you gonna see what kind of reaction you get when you start mentioning the illuminati criminals from the Ordo Templi Orientis, or Lt.Col Aquino the ultimate PSYOP Master of the Devil and the guys from the Temple of Set. But at the end of the day they are serving the Vatican Satan and they are the evil secret police of New World Order as we all know by now. Be ready to fight for your Freedom when you have a Nazi Satanist like Introvigne doing lectures to the National Council for Crime Prevention in Sweden.

Did Introvigne lecture in Sweden to protect us from what?

From him?

This world is gone completely insane so lets go with the Swedish way to Nazism!

All the best,

Leo/Khaled

The Gothic Milieu:

Black Metal, Satanism, and Vampires

by Massimo Introvigne - A slightly different version of this paper was presented at the conference

"Rejected and Suppressed Knowledge: The Racist Right and the Cultic Milieu" organized by the Swedish National Council for Crime Prevention, Stockholm, 15-16 February 1997

The New Satanism by illuminati Massimo Introvigne XI degree OTOA

In 1996 both Italy and France were shocked by criminal cases related to Satanist groups. In Italy Marco Dimitri, the young leader of the larger Italian Satanist group, the Luciferian Children of Satan (Bambini di Satana Luciferiani), was arrested twice in the same year on charges of rape. In France graves were desecrated in Toulon (and subsequently in other towns in Southern France): four members of a small Satanist band were arrested. Similar incidents took place in Romania, Russia and other countries. The media were taken by surprise, considering that by 1996 the Satanism scares of the 1980s and early 1990s had largely subsided.

Modern Satanism appeared in the 17th century. Satanism should not be confused with witchcraft. While witchcraft is a popular and normally unorganized phenomenon, modern Satanism is the worship of the Devil within the frame of organized movements and elaborate ritual. Modern Satanists -- unlike participants in earlier witchcraft -- are largely members of the middle and upper classes. Similarly, Satanism scares are different from witch hunts. Unlike the latter, the former credit Satanists not only with bloody crimes and relationships with the Devil but, more specifically, with the power to secretly influence -- if not direct -- the life of whole nations and the course of human history. Organized Satanism and Satanism scares manifest themselves in the history of the West in a cyclical way. Groups of Satanists (normally quite small) are detected and their activities are magnified by this modern invention, the press (in later cycles, TV). As a reaction, a Satanism scare arises, where anti-Satanists usually grossly exaggerate both the number and the power of the Satanists, insisting that they are behind contemporary social movements they perceive as disturbing. In a third phase, anti-Satanism is disqualified by its own exaggerations, becomes disreputable and opens the way for new open activities of Satanists, thus for a new cycle.

The first important cycle starts with the activities of a group of Satanists at the court of the French King Louis XIV between 1662-1679. When the main Satanists are tried for a number of crimes, press and pamphlets guarantee an international notoriety to the case. Between the end of the 17th century and the beginning of 18th century a Satanism scare follows, where anti-Satanists suspect Satanists (actually a few dozens people in the French incident) to conspire in the dark to promote Enlightenment skepticism and anti-Christian culture and politics. Ultimately anti-Satanist literature became so extreme as to be easily discredited. This discrediting paved the way for the occult revival of the years of the French Revolution.

The Revolution, however (and the visibility of occult and magical groups in the same years), prompted another Satanism scare which lasted through the 1850s and was revived in the 1890s. The Revolution, Christian anti-Satanists argued, was so incredible that it could not be a mere political phenomenon, and a whole religious literature attributed it to the conspiracy of secret societies such as the notorious Illuminati or, more directly, to Satanists directed by the Devil in person. Apparently, small groups of Satanists were in fact active in France, Belgium and possibly other countries in the 1850s. Their activities caused the usual anti-Satanist over-reaction.

The Satanism scare (which tried to explain also the surprising success of Spiritualism through Satanic conspiracy theories) had a first scholarly phase where Catholic intellectuals discussed theories on Satanism and Satan's influence. In a second phase -- after the success of Joris Karl Huysmans' novel Là-bas (1891) had familiarized the public with Satanism and Black Masses -- scholars were replaced by journalists. At least two of the latter -- the notorious Léo Taxil (1854-1907) and his co-conspirator Charles Hacks ("Dr. Bataille") -- were clever frauds who, having spread incredible tales about Satanists, later admitted to have exploited the gullibility of certain Catholic conservative readers for a variety of purposes. The game could not go on indefinitely, and Taxil had to admit the fraud in 1897. His confession discredited the Satanism scares for decades and only after sixty years a truly international scare manifested itself again. A large sociological literature exists on the Satanism scares of the 1970s-1990s, an over-reaction to the visibility of contemporary Satanist organizations dating from the foundation of California's Church of Satan in 1966 and a manifestation of larger hostility to "cults".

By the early 1990s, the theory that underground "generational" Satanic cults are widespread and prey on day-care toddlers had been largely debunked by social scientists and law enforcement agencies throughout the United States and Europe. Memories "recovered" in therapy of past "satanic" ritual abuses are increasingly rejected as court evidence in both United States and Europe. Only small pockets of Christian counter-cult activists and fringe therapists still believe in the factual reality of "satanic" ritual abuses recovered during memory therapy.

Although the 1996 incidents have been greeted by these groups with a we-told-you-so attitude, the scenario was in fact quite different. The Satanism discovered by Italian and French law enforcement agencies in 1996 is not the same Satanism exposed in the core books of the anti-Satanist movement in the 1980s. It is also different from "classic" Satanism of organizations like Anton LaVey's Church of Satan or Michael Aquino's Temple of Set. The scenario introduced in the Satanism scares of the 1980s postulated that Satanists are very difficult to recognize. They are lawyers, doctors, corporate executives. In fact, their activities are so clandestine that they could be discovered only in therapy by inducing their victims to recover post-traumatic memories. The 1996 Satanists are, if anything, too evident. Marco Dimitri and his followers dress all in black, wear a plethora of Satanic symbols, and have appeared as spokespersons for Satan in popular Italian TV talk shows. While not as famous as Dimitri, members of the Toulon gang also dressed like a Satanist is supposed to dress.

Classic Satanism was born in California in the 1960s. The Church of Satan was established in San Francisco by Anton Szandor LaVey (1930-1997) in 1966 as a development of an organization called The Magic Circle that he co-founded in 1960 with Hollywood underground film-maker Kenneth Anger. In 1975 most of the leadership of the Church of Satan left LaVey's organization and followed Michael Aquino into the splinter group Temple of Set. The Church of Satan became mostly a mail-order organization during the 1980s, but experienced a comeback of a sort in the 1990s through new leaders, the publication of the newsletter The Black Flame, and the appearance of some dozens of sister organizations throughout the world. Although LaVey believed that Satan is only the metaphor for a higher (and more selfish) human potential, while Aquino maintains that Satan (or, rather, Set) is a personal being, both are heavily indebted for their worldviews and ceremonies to British magus Aleister Crowley (1875-1947). While Crowley did not believe in the personal existence of Satan and despised Satanists, his rituals have been adapted -- with the appropriate changes -- by almost all modern Satanist groups.

At least before the mid-1980s members of classic Satanist groups were typically middle class urbanites in their forties and fifties. Except for ceremonies, they would wear a jacket and a tie rather than black leather "Satanic" clothings. This is certainly true for European offshoots of classic Satanism such as the two Churches of Satan based in Turin, Italy. Additionally, their leadership needed to be rather cultivated, since the magical works of authors such as Crowley are not easy to grasp and require a solid background in Western esotericism. The situation somewhat changed in the late 1980s, when the Temple of Set and some of the smaller groups inspired by the Church of Satan realized that a sizeable youth subculture potentially interested in Satanism existed and tried, with mixed results, to get in touch with it. The original Californian Church of Satan and the Italian Churches of Satan, however, still largely maintain the original character. By contrast the new Satanist groups -- such as those "discovered" by the police in Italy and France in 1996 -- are typically lead by youths in their 30s, have as members mostly teenagers, and it is extremely rare that their leaders are well-educated in traditional Western occult lore. They are much more interested in music.

The Gothic Milieu from the 1970s to the 1990s

The Gothic milieu (occasionally called the Dark Wave, as a submilieu of the 1970's New Wave) has largely been created by rock music, although fiction, comics, movies, Æ role-playing games and later the Internet also had a relevant influence. Although the term Gothic was created by outsiders, it was quickly accepted by the movement, notwithstanding the fact that the latter largely ignored 18th and 19th century Gothic literature (with the possible exception of Dracula, whose inclusion in the Gothic genre is however disputed by contemporary critics). Gothic music should not be confused with heavy metal. Metal plays on the power of extreme human emotions and feelings. Gothic concentrates on human reactions to particular emotions associated with death, corpses, blood, the macabre, and vampires. Although the Devil is often mentioned, he is not always a key player in the Gothic scene. Besides, Satan is mentioned in many brands of rock music that are not Gothic (and so are vampires, who make frequent guest appearances in heavy metal music).

The origins of Gothic come from many different sources. Gothic themes emerged around 1970 in England and the United States with artists and groups like Alice Cooper and Black Sabbath. Although these musicians were not purely Gothic, fans of Alice Cooper were largely responsible for introducing the Gothic outlook, with its black-leather clothing and silver earrings for males, in many European countries. In 1976 David Letts founded The Damned in England, a band that was originally a punk group, but later focused mostly on Gothic. Letts changed his name to David Vanian (from "Transylvanian") and focused on the vampire theme (although Nazi symbols were also occasionally introduced). In the same year, Bernard Sumner, Peter Hook, Ian Curtis (1957-1980) and Terry Mason (later replaced by Stephen Morris) decided to start a band in Manchester. Originally called Warsaw, they changed their name to Joy Division in 1978 in order not to be confused with a pre-existing London punk group, Warsaw Pakt. The name came from the line of huts where young deported women were forced to prostitute themselves to German officers in Nazi concentration camps. Notwithstanding the name, Joy Division denied any Nazi sympathies and in fact appeared at the Manchester Rock Against Racism benefit concert in 1978. Although Joy Division occasionally used Nazi paraphernalia on stage, its portrait of Nazism was, if anything, sad, as evidenced from the following lines of its hit "They Walked In Line":

All dressed in uniforms so fine, they drank and killed to pass the time.

Wearing the shame of all their crimes with measured steps they walked in line.

They walked in line.

They carried pictures of their wives, and number tags to prove their lies.

And made it through the whole machine, with dirty hearts and hands washed clean.

They walked in line.

Joy Division eluded classification, but its haunted and ghostly atmospheres had a deep influence on later Gothic. On May 18, 1980, just before Joy Division was to leave England for their first U.S. tour, Ian Curtis hung himself in his kitchen. Without its talented singer and lyricist, replaced by Bernard Sumner, the group continued as New Order and remained influential on the alternative (but much less on the Gothic) music scene.

In the years when Joy Division was becoming popular, a more cultivated version of Gothic was introduced in England by singer Suzie Sioux, "Siouxsie". Sioux came from punk, and was inspired by groups like the Sex Pistols. She was also a friend of Genesis P-Orridge, an Aleister Crowley enthusiast and the founder of the Temple of Psychick Youth (TOPY). Orridge's music — the first wave of industrial, or "industrial culture" -- was as far from Gothic as possible, but his contacts with Sioux did much to introduce Crowley in the Gothic milieu. Later, Orridge will become an inspiration for the birth of the "second wave" or industrial music, much closer to the Gothic and, in fact, occasionally labeled "industrial Gothic". This further subgenre will emerge in the late 1980s around the Wax Trax circle in Chicago, will become well-known with the Nine Inch Nails of Trent Reznor and their influential album Pretty Hate Machine (1989), and will eventually triumph with Marilyn Manson. In the late 1970s Sioux founded Siouxsie and The Banshees. Robert Smith, the leader of a much more famous band, the Cure, worked with Siouxsie and the Banshees in 1983-1984 following four influential Cure albums.

Largely responsible for defining Gothic as a genre was Bauhaus, whose leader Peter Murphy continued as a popular Gothic musician after the dissolution of the group in 1983. By 1983 -- the year when another early Gothic group, The Misfits, also separated -- Gothic music was experiencing a boom. New groups emerged, including The Sisters of Mercy and later, in 1988, Dark Theater whose leader, Vlad, wears portable fangs and claims to actually drink blood (originally only from his wife, Lynda, who later divorced him and now proclaim herself a "lesbian Goth"). Blood-drinkers are, at any rate, a small distinct subculture within the Gothic milieu, perhaps closer to sado-masochism than to teenage Gothic.

While classic punk was experiencing a crisis, Gothic groups, including the 45 Grave, inherited some of its features and its fans. By 1990 the Gothic scene was truly international, with bands in countries such as Japan, Sweden, Finland, New Zealand, Poland, Italy, in addition to Germany, the United Kingdom, and the United States. By 1990, the Gothic subculture was well established with specialized magazines, including Propaganda (established in New York by Fred H. Berger and perhaps the most important voice for the Gothic), and Ghastly.

Non-Gothic groups such as the Iron Maiden and Kiss felt compelled to issue at least an album with Gothic themes. But readers of Propaganda and other members of the Gothic subculture typically skipped the most famous groups as being too commercial. They rather regarded themselves as part of an elite subculture, lionized less well-known groups and remained apart from the larger world of rock fans. Being part of the Gothic milieu for many was not a Saturday evening concert affair, but a permanent lifestyle. "True" Goths dress in black every day of the week, wear peculiar jewelry and use their own jargon. Rather macabre allusions and jokes -- whose meaning is often lost to outsiders -- are a trademark feature of their style.

Around 1990 the Gothic milieu, born from music, started to be increasingly defined by its literary preferences as well. Two Gothic role-playing games focusing on vampires -- Ravenloft, that emerged in 1990 from the fantasy game Dungeons & Dragons, and Vampire: The Masquerade, introduced by White Wolf in 1991 -- had an important influence on the milieu. Considering the Gothic milieu's love affair with horror literature (including frequent allusions in its music to such classics as Dracula), it is surprising that references to Stephen King are virtually non-existent. King is probably just too popular for a subculture glorying in its minority status. He also insists that his novels do not promote any kind of worldview. By contrast, Anne Rice -- who occasionally does claim that she is introducing a worldview, with increasingly apparent Gnostic and Kabbalistic references -- is immensely popular in the Gothic milieu. Classics of Gothic and horror literature, from "Monk" Lewis to Lovecraft, are largely ignored, with the occasional exception of Dracula.

Gothic events, including the 1989 Theatre of the Vampires held in Long Beach, California, musicians such as Tony Lestat (a main participant in the 1989 event and singer of Wreckage), shows such as Tony Sokol's La Commedia Del Sangue: Dances From A Shallow Grave - The Vampyr Theatre, Gothic bands such as Lestat, and the Italian Theatre des Vampires, fanzines such as Savage Garden (published in English in Milan and now renamed Wistaria) all borrowed their names (and much more) from Anne Rice. Later, in 1992, another New Orleans female horror writer, Poppy Z. Brite, wrote a cult novel for the Gothic milieu, Lost Souls, featuring the encounter of real undead vampires with the Gothic subculture of a small American town.

As of the mid-1990s the very success of the Gothic threatens its existence as a separate genre in rock music. Contemporary rock is eclectic, and it is often difficult to tell what genre a group is all about. Such labels as post-punk, dark metal, doom metal, garage rock and trash are difficult to define and often include Gothic themes. If anything, some of the new labels mean to convey a passion for the outrageous and the extreme, and regard the Gothic bands of the 1980s as moderate. The most extreme subgenre which emerged in the 1980s is black metal, mixing heavy metal and Gothic. Black metal is both musically and culturally less sophisticated than Gothic, but fans may switch from one to another and still remain part of the same Gothic subcultural milieu.

Generally credited with starting black metal is a British band, Venom. Formed in 1978 and originally named Oberon, Venom assumed its name in 1980 and introduced Satanism and the cult of death as a main heavy metal theme. Their song "Black Metal" (1982) defined the subgenre and became an anthem for the movement:

Black is the night, metal we fight

Power amps set to explode.

Energy screams, magic and dreams

Satan records the first note.

We chime the bell, chaos and hell

Metal for maniacs pure.

Fast melting steel, fortune on wheels

Brain Hemorrhage is the Cure (Venom - Welcome to Hell, 1997).

Proclaiming themselves the "Sons of Satan", Venom called to:

Live like an angel, die like a devil,
Got a place in hell reserved for me,
Live like an angel, die like a devil,
Gonna burn in Hell, that's where I'm gonna be"

["Live Like An Angel (Die Like a Devil)," 1981, in Venom- Welcome to Hell 1997].

Another of Venom's most famous -- and both Satanic and vampiric -- hits was "In League With Satan" (1981):

I'm in league with Satan
I was raised in Hell
I walk the streets of Salem
Amongst the living dead
I need no one to tell me
What's wrong or right
I drink the blood of children
Stalk my prey at night (Venom - Welcome to Hell 1997).

Specialists of metal discuss whether after Venom there is a difference between black metal and death metal, the latter being more brutal, more interested in drugs and sex, and more faithful to Venom's original inspiration. One problem is that some of the most famous bands have evolved through the years. Bathory, started in Sweden in 1983, was originally very much influenced by Venom but by 1987, with Under the Sign of the Black Mark, started evolving towards a new style, later called "modern" or "Northern" black metal. In 1990, with Hammerheart, an element of Viking romanticism started playing a key role. The Swiss group Hellhammer between 1982-1984 was one of the bands defining black metal; renamed Celtic Frost in 1984 they quickly evolved out of black metal and continued until 1993 insisting that they were not part at all of the black metal scene. The early albums of the German band Sodom, established in 1983, were black metal, while their later productions could rather be classified as speed metal, a different subgenre. By contrast, Florida bands such as Death (established in 1985), Obituary, Deicide and Morbid Angel (who came to Florida from North Carolina) are usually classified as death (rather than black) metal. Contemporary doom metal may be regarded as a later development of death metal.

Black metal has become popular in segments of the Gothic milieu in a number of countries, including Greece, Brazil, France, Poland, Norway and Sweden. A frequent feature of black metal, particularly in its "modern" or "Northern" form, is extreme hostility to Jesus Christ and Christianity. The anti-Christian theme keeps together different worldviews. Some black metal groups are pagan; others are Satanist. Some are not interested in politics, while others are overtly neo-Nazi or promote a nationalism rooted in pre-Christian Northern Europe. In Norway-- and subsequently in other countries -- the anti-Christian activities of some black metal groups took the illegal form of "esoterism", or esoteric terrorism. Two black metal groups -- Emperor and Burzum -- were involved in burning Christian churches, including historical monuments, and in desecrating Christian cemeteries. Emperor one-time member, Bård Eithun, killed a gay man who approached him at night in a Lillehammer street in 1992. Vandalizing graveyards seems to be a popular activity in segments of the black metal milieu in a number of countries, including Italy and France. Varg Vikernes ("Count Grishnackh", or "The Count"), the leader of Burzum -- who somewhat converted from Satanism to "a National Socialist form of racialist Odinism" --, not only was involved in the burning of at least ten churches, but was later sentenced to 21 years of prison after killing in 1993 fellow black metal musician Oystein Aarseth, "Euronymous". Although the press liberally described the homicide as "Satanic" and "ritual" -- and Varg himself claimed that the unfortunate Euronymous was a "false Satanist" and a "communist" --, in fact the main reason for the crime was a quarrel over money and the management of the musical label Deatlik Silence. Varg remains a popular character in the black metal milieu, and continues to write music and articles for the specialized fanzines from jail. In 1997 he published his "sacred text", Vargsmål, and announced that he had discovered a forerunner and (alleged) pioneer racialist Odinist in Vidkun Quisling (1887-1945), whose very name is synonymous of collaboration with the Nazis, not only in Norway. From a musical point of view, Mayhem -- Euronymous' band, started in 1984 and coming back in 1994 after Euronymous' death -- remains the most influential model of "modern" Black Metal. In 1990 they recorded Live in Leipzig which included one of their most famous songs, "Carnage":

Witchcraft, blood and Satan

Meet the face of Death

Blood

Fire

Torture

Pain

KILL

(...) Winds of war, winds of hate

Armageddon, tales from Hell

The wage of mayhem, the wage of sin

Come and hear, Lucifer's sings (Mayhem, "Live in Leipzig", 1990).

The earlier "Deathcrush" (1987) was not more reassuring:

Demonic laughter your cremation

Your lungs gasp for air but are filled with blood

A sudden crack as I crushed your skull.

(...) Death, nicely crucified

Death, heads on stakes.

The barbecue has just begun.

Deathcrush - Deathcrush — Deathcrush (Mayhem, "Deathcrush", 1987).

As the fate of Euronymous sadly confirmed, violence in the Norwegian black metal scene was not purely a matter of lyrics. Without burning churches, groups such as Bekhira and Osculum Infame in France, or Marduk in Sweden are not less anti-Christian. A 1995 CD of Marduk (evolving from a 1991 demo) is called Fuck Me Jesus, and its cover shows a young girl masturbating with a crucifix. A look at the catalogue of the French musical distributor Osmose Productions (specialized in black metal) shows bands with names such as Impaled Nazarene (from Finland), Rotting Christ (from Greece), Diabolos Rising (with musicians from Greece and Finland), Fallen Christ (and a number of references to Aleister Crowley). In France some industrial rock bands, including Dissonant Elephants and Non, have jumped onto the anti-Christian bandwagon, although with a different musical style. In 1996 Dissonant Elephants released a CD, Our Eyes Like Daggers, with liberal quotes from the ubiquitous Aleister Crowley and a cover featuring Jesus Christ on the cross with a clown-like red nose. The activities of these groups are among the reasons for the establishment of a Catholic Anti-Defamation League in France in 1997.

On the other hand, it is important to note that black metal is not really representative of the Gothic milieu in general. It is a small segment, a subculture within a subculture. There is a larger number of musical and other groups inspired by Anne Rice, whose worldview is not anti-Christian but rather a brand of gnostic Christianity (as suggested in Rice's novel Memnoch the Devil, 1995). Black metal is also anti-Jewish, with frequent references in its fanzines to the infamous Protocols of the Elders of Zion, while Rice's 1996 novel Servant of the Bones is a tribute to Jewish esoteric culture. Black metal also emphasizes Satanic and pagan symbols and has no colours but black, while the mainstream Gothic subculture, influenced by the glam rock music of Kiss, and by Tom Cruise's movie portrait of Anne Rice's vampire Lestat, increasingly includes elaborate and baroque ways of dressing, quite far away from the old black leather jackets.

The Gothic Milieu as a Metanetwork and the Emergence of Gothic Movements

The Gothic milieu is loosely organized. Its main organizing agents are magazines such as Propaganda, but more obscure fanzines with limited circulation also have an important influence. It could be described as a network, or -- more accurately -- as a metanetwork, where participants in different networks convene. There is, for instance, a recognizable network of Anne Rice fans, and thousands attend the yearly Gatherings of the Coven organized in New Orleans by The Anne Rice's Vampire Lestat Fan Club (established in 1988) and by the Louisiana writer herself. Most of these fans dress like the vampire Lestat only once a year, and have no contacts with the larger Gothic milieu. Some, however, do adopt a Gothic lifestyle. For them the network of Anne Rice fans is the door to enter the larger metanetwork of the Gothic subculture. Similar comments are in order for the many fans of Gothic role-playing games such as Ravenloft or Vampire: The Masquerade. (There are also darker role-playing games for the black metal milieu, but their following is not very large). Hundreds of thousands of them certainly do not dress in black, and are not even interested in Gothic music. But, again, active involvement in these role-playing communities (and their lively exchange over the Internet) may become a door to access the Gothic metanetwork.

This does not mean that every fan of role-playing games is on his or her way to become a Satanist. This view is promoted by professional anti-Satanists such as Pat Pulling who, after the suicide of her son Bink in 1982, founded BADD (Bothered About Dungeons and Dragons), claiming that role-playing games were literally "stalking our children for Satan." Groups like BADD are part of a larger Evangelical counter-cult (and anti-Satanist) scene and seems to have become less influential in recent years. At any rate, it is when fans of Gothic music also become interested in Anne Rice, and when Ravenloft players start attending Gothic clubs and dressing in black that the metanetwork really takes shape. As mentioned earlier, participation in one of the Gothic networks does not necessarily mean that one takes the next step and becomes a participant in the metanetwork or part of the Gothic milieu.

Further, being part of the Gothic milieu does not mean that one joins a particular movement. Dressing mostly in black, wearing silver jewelry with macabre themes, and focusing musical preferences on Gothic groups not well-known in rock's mainline market are the trademarks of the Gothic milieu. In Stark and Bainbridge terms, many or most participants in the Gothic milieu only participate in audience or client cults, not in cult movements. Occasionally, however, movements emerge, but they only involve a minority of those who participate in the milieu.

It seems appropriate to distinguish between pre-existing movements recruiting in the Gothic milieu, and movements born from the milieu itself. Among the first are some "old" Satanist and neo-pagan groups. As mentioned earlier, some classic Satanist groups have realized that the Gothic milieu may be an interesting ground for recruiting new members. The Temple of Set has designed its Web page in order to attract the Gothic subculture, and on February 1, 1997 Don Webb, High Priest of the Temple of Set, introduced his movement at the Hellhouse of Hollywood, a (now defunct) California bookstore typically catering to Gothic clients. Classic Satanist groups are quite small, and even the addition of a few new members could be significant in order to preserve their very existence. Their success in recruiting in the Gothic milieu is not, however, spectacular.

Most Gothic bands are not particularly interested in Satan or Satanism. Some black metal fringes certainly are, but they typically scorn organizations like the Church of Satan or the Temple of Set as "moderate" or "liberal" Satanism. Uww, the founder of French black metal fanzine Deo Occidi (published in English), contrasts "liberal Satanism" and "fascist Satanism" and embraces the latter. The "liberal Satanism" of classic American movements is regarded as extreme individualism and as a shameless apology for capitalism. Uww also mentions that Anton LaVey is a "moderate Jew". Additionally, classic Satanism is accused of dealing only in words. Black metal prefers actions and events, and clearly admires Scandinavian esotericism. It is also against capitalism, liberalism, democracy, and Judaism according to classic European Nazi models. Small Satanist groups catering to the black metal Satanist fringe include the Black Order, the Order of the Nine Angles, the Ordo Sinistra Vivendi (formerly the Order of the Left Hand Path), and the Order of the Jarls of Balder. None of them has more than fifty members and all belong to a network called The Infernal Alliance. Although this wing of Satanism had its most important centers in the U.S. and New Zealand, combining fringes of classic Satanism and black metal, it is now present in European countries such as the United Kingdom and France. Most of these groups are openly Nazi. In the version of the Black Mass of the Order of the Nine Angles, participants affirm their belief that "Adolf Hitler was sent by the Gods to lead us into greatness". In bad but not difficult to understand Latin, they worship Hitler together with Lucifer. The priest gives the cup to the priestess with the words: "Suscipe, Lucifer, munus quod tibi offerimus memoriam recolentes, Adolphus". All reply: "Hail Hitler".

Some neo-pagan groups have also attracted individual members of the Gothic milieu. This is particularly true for continental European and Scandinavian Odinist movements (who have in turn attracted portions of the black metal fringe), while the British and American Wicca is largely remote from the Gothic style. English-speaking neo-paganism and Wicca have matured beyond their early anti-Christian phase, while it is precisely the anti-Christian theme of continental neo-paganism that may occasionally attract black metal fans.

An interesting, if controversial, movement is the Temple of the Vampire based in Lacey, Washington, and not to be confused with the Order of the Vampyres within the Temple of Set. The Temple appears to have been created outside the Gothic milieu but with the specific purpose of attracting members of it. Its founder, Lucas Martel, is a former member of the Church of Satan, and like LaVey's, his is a largely a mail-order organization. It claims to continue an ancient religion called Hekal Tiamat and to keep its sacred book, the Shurpu Kishpu. The Temple is not Satanist; it mostly teaches how to contact the Vampire Gods through a ritual in seven steps. The crucial step is the fourth, where the celebrant offers to the Vampire Gods his or her own life force and the life force he or she has captured from other weaker human beings. Signs such as "ringing in ears" or "unusual pulling sensations at the solar plexus" confirm that the Vampire Gods have accepted the offering. The Temple's worldview is also apocalyptic, since "we are now approaching the Final Harvest", when "the human stock shall be drained in a carnage of energy release unlike anything seen before". The energy released by killed humans would allow the Vampire Gods to descend and rule on Earth with their faithful followers, the initiates. "The humans shall (...) continue to serve as slave and food" when "the Great Undead Gods shall return to their mighty thrones of Power." Given the popularity of the vampire theme, many in the Gothic milieu check out the Temple of the Vampire. Few stay, fearing that the mail-order scheme may simply be a money-making business, or disagreeing with the brutal worldview. After all, in contemporary literature "postmodern" vampires are often depicted as not entirely evil, but caring for humans (Chelsea Quinn Yarbro's Saint-Germain) or at least psychologically ambiguous (Anne Rice's Lestat).

Finally, a number of movements have really and entirely originated from portions of the Gothic milieu. While some of these movements are pagan and anti-Christian but not technically Satanist -- including The Sacred Order of Emerald in France -- most claim to be Satanist. One of them, however, the French Confrérie spirituelle sataniste les Croisades de la Nouvelle Babylone, declares to promote the "unification" of "Satanists, Luciferians, pagans and neo-pagans." The larger Satanist group emerging from the Gothic milieu has been, before its disruption by the Italian police in 1996, Marco Dimitri's Luciferian Children of Satan (Bambini di Satana Luciferiani - BSL). BSL grew in the 1980s from Dimitri's precocious interest in Aleister Crowley and classic Satanism. But it proclaimed that classic Satanism was a thing of the past, and that a new, bolder Satanism was required. The history of BSL is a paradoxical tribute to the power of the media. BSL was originally a small, local group. It was only when, from 1989, it was targeted by the Catholic milieu of Bologna (Dimitri's city and home to the largest Italian Catholic counter-cult group, GRIS) and later by secular anti-cultists that BSL attracted the interest of the national press. This led to Dimitri's participation in some of the most popular Italian TV talk shows as a spokesperson for Satan.

While classic Satanists in Italy have wisely avoided the media (and criticized Dimitri for not following their example), Dimitri was only too eager to oblige talk show hosts desperately in need of someone "from the other side" to animate prime time shows on Satanism which would be boring if limited to anti-cultists and theologians. The "success" of some talk show appearances as astonishing. True, Dimitri was generally ridiculed by hosts and fellow guests alike. But -- among millions of viewers -- he never failed to attract a dozen or more teenagers who later contacted him at his not-too-confidential Bologna address. The Italian black metal milieu somewhat adopted Dimitri as a fellow traveler, despite reservations by some. By 1996 BSL had grown to some 200 members over North and Central Italy. In 1992 Dimitri was arrested for obscenity, but this was not a serious matter. Much more serious is the prosecution started against him and fellow members in 1996, citing rape of a female follower unwilling to fully comply with her sexual duties as priestess and the participation of children in rituals. On 20 June 1997 a jury of the court of Bologna found all defendants in the Children of Satan case not guilty of rape and child abuse. The leader, Marco Dimitri, was however found guilty of a minor tax offense. The prosecutor, herself an active participant in Bologna's anti-cult milieu, appealed the decision, but lost again in 2000. It is certainly true that the BSL book Vangelo Infernale (Infernal Gospel) -- intended for private circulation only -- at least symbolically suggests that sexual abuse and pedophilia may be part of an acceptable Satanic lifestyle. Vangelo Infernale is not a particularly memorable esoteric text, and it is unlikely that it may have attracted much interest. Ultimately, there were the anti-Satanist campaigns of secular anti-cult and Catholic counter-cult movements that introduced the BSL to the media and made them more well-known than they originally were.

On the other hand, the burning of churches in Norway, and the profanation of cemeteries in Southern France, confirm that, although small, some movements arising from the Gothic milieu, particularly from some of its black metal fringes, are indeed dangerous and may be involved in criminal activities. Law enforcement agencies are to be commended if they keep a watch on these movements, particularly those combining Satanism and neo-Nazism. Undue media emphasis on their activities could, on the other hand, backfire and induce copycat remakes of their most spectacular deeds. It would surely be unfair to blame the activities of a small group of movements, including a few hundreds members throughout the world, to all neo-pagan or occult organizations, whose activities are normally carried out within the limits of laws. It would be even more unfair to regard the most extreme Nazi or Satanic fringe of black metal as representative of the entire Gothic milieu (and indeed of the entire black metal subgenre, where many groups are neither Nazi nor Satanist). Although unconventional in its way of dressing and lifestyle -- designed, as with previous movements, to shock adults and express teenagers' independence -- the Gothic milieu is not normally engaged in criminal activities, nor primarily interested in Satan or Adolf Hitler. The evolution of horror literature may also exert a positive influence on the Gothic milieu. The heroes of this literature, in its postmodern versions, are no longer monsters who, like the Judeo-Christian Satan, are totally evil, but psychologically complicated characters -- epitomized by Anne Rice's Lestat -- caught in the middle of eternal dilemmas about good and evil. One such character is Angel, the only vampire portrayed sympathetically in the Gothic fad of the late 1990s for teenagers, the TV series Buffy the Vampire Slayer (which, of course, also has a significant non-Gothic -- and non-teenager -- following). The other role model in the series are vampire slayers such as Buffy, or techno-pagans good girls such as Buffy's best friend, Willow, who combines witchcraft and high computer literacy in order to battle evil vampires and other preternatural creatures. Following the evolution of its preferred fiction, the Gothic milieu -- no longer dressed only in black -- may simply become, as other previous countercultural movements, a collective rite of passage introducing teenagers to meaningful questions about life and death.

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 31-40

Kevin Warwick: The ITWales Interview (12/20/2006)

by Sali Earls

Kevin Warwick, Professor of Cybernetics at Reading

University, is a well known and celebrated UK scientist. His pioneering research into neural implants has led to him receiving his own implant which linked his nervous system to the internet, in effect making him a human cyborg.

Warwick delivered a public lecture at the recent Christmas event of the South Wales branch of the British Computer Society, organised by ITWales and held at the National Waterfront Museum. In his presentation to an audience of more than 200, Warwick discussed his own implants and the ethical issues surrounding the possible future of "upgraded humans".

Following the lecture, Professor Warwick spoke to Sali Earls about his work, his media notoriety and his plans for the future.

The idea of cybernetics sounds a bit like science fiction to many. How would you define your subject?

Cybernetics is historically defined as controls and communications in humans and machines, and for me in the subject that really involves humans and technology interacting in many ways. Particularly in biomedical areas - the use of technology for medicine, and helping people in one way or another - but also looking at all sorts of technological entities from a systems point of view, and how it operates when a human is in the loop. So, this includes things like robotics and artificial intelligence - one of my main interests.

It does overlap with science fiction. I think science fiction in this area particularly is looking to the future, to the world of intelligent machines, and questioning how that compares with human intelligence; and the world of cyborgs - cybernetic organisms - part human, part machine which is tremendously exciting and something I'm keen to get involved with more and more.

In the lecture you talked about the implant you had in 2002 for three months. Why did you feel it necessary to undergo such a procedure yourself?

It's one of those things, if you're trying something like this for the first time, you need to experience it yourself. We were sending signals down onto the nervous system and up into the brain, and experiencing it for yourself has perhaps two main features.

One is that it is of course very dangerous - I don't perhaps make anything of that - and to be honest, having one of the researchers or somebody else that didn't need to carry out the experiment involved, and something went wrong - which it could easily do - I don't know how I could live with myself. If it goes wrong and it's me involved, then OK. I made the choice, I wanted to do the research, and if something went wrong, so be it.

That's one aspect, but also looking at extra sensory input for example, or communicating in a new way, actually experiencing it for myself and understanding what it feels like is tremendously exciting, and I actually get to benefit from it.

You talk about the danger aspect of such an experiment. I'm sure you know that a lot of people would consider you to be a little bit nuts, but perhaps many are not aware of the inherent danger that goes with a lot of groundbreaking research.

Yes. This is a little bit "Jekyll and Hyde". From a scientific point of view you don't know how it's going to work out. If Dr Jekyll had succeeded, it would have been a completely different story.

I've been lucky so far with the experiments we have done, I've come out of them OK, but the next one may not be so lucky. You have to take that risk, and some people may ridicule what you're doing - if you get it wrong they think you're an idiot, and if you get it right they seem to disregard it. But so be it. I'm not really bothered about that, I'm really interested in doing the work - that's what gets me excited.

When you had the implant, your wife also underwent a similar procedure temporarily and you and she communicated nervous system to nervous system. Can you explain what happened and how it felt?

I guess one of the things that I'd always been excited by all my life were the first experiments that were conducted by Sam Morse with the telegraph system, and then with Alexander Graham Bell actually coming up with the telephone system, and making that step forward. So to be in the position later on to do something, not only similar, but in some regards you could consider it as surpassing that was a fantastic opportunity.

We had my implant which linked my nervous system electrically directly with the computer and onto the internet, and my wife Irina, who also had electrodes pushed into her nervous system to link her nervous system to the computer and the internet, and we essentially linked our nervous systems together directly, electrically. We had an electrical circuit which linked us directly, so that when she moved her hand, the neural signals from her brain went from her nervous system and appeared on my nervous system, and therefore up to my brain.

So her brain signals travelled electrically to stimulate my nervous system and brain, and when she moved her hand three times, I felt in my brain three pulses, and my brain recognised that my wife was communicating with me. It was the world's first purely electronic communication from brain to brain, and therefore the basis for thought communication.

Do you think that over time, humans will develop a way of interpreting these communications appropriately? From what you've said, it seems as if you can experience things via neural implants that you can't entirely understand or verbalise.

In the first instance I think it will be quite trivial, like a telegraphic communication, and maybe even repeating a telephonic, almost a speech type of communication, but without actually talking, just going from brain to brain. That shouldn't be too difficult to achieve.

It's then the big question of how much further we can go, because if we're transmitting signals brain to brain in a parallel way, it opens up the possibility of pictorial, graphical, colourful communication from brain to brain. That's really going to be exciting as people learn how to recognise those signals in a whole new way.

It's very difficult to know exactly where it's going to go, this is really just opening up a whole new world of possibilities of communicating in a much richer way. Just as 130 years ago, Alexander Graham Bell opened up a world with the first telephone call, I doubt he could have imagined that it would have led to television, the internet, and communicating via videophones. If we look 100 years into the future, it would be difficult to imagine what this all might lead to.

One possible future that you touched on in the BCS lecture, is the upgrading of humans to the point that we end up with cyborgs being the norm, and remaining humans as some sort of subspecies. Do you really think this is likely, and what sort of timescale do you think we're looking at?

I think it's a distinct possibility. This is an exciting technology that will stretch humankind. I don't think it will make the poor poorer, but it certainly will give those that can afford it intellectual abilities way beyond what they have. I also think that it may not only stretch society, but it may break it into two groups. It could happen very quickly.

We're looking at the first thought communication experiments within a decade, so within ten years they will have been conducted, if not by me they will have been done by others - it is going to happen. Within twenty years I would think that this could start to become a commercial reality, so you can go and have a little thing injected into your head, and communicate with other people just by thinking. That will be tremendously powerful, but those that don't have it really will start to be left behind. I would have thought that this two tier society could be with us certainly by 2050. In a way, I don't really see a problem with it - if people want to upgrade, why not? Let's have more senses and a new way of communicating. If people don't want to do it, then it's their choice.

If this happens, I guess a lot of it will come down to the commercialisation of these technologies, and how responsibly they are sold and used.

I think it does present enormous commercial opportunity, and of course you have ethical questions - 'should or shouldn't you do this?'. The commercial opportunities have ethical questions in themselves, as they bring in profit not only for the companies involved but also within countries. So if it's a UK company that launches a thought communication device that takes off, they will make enormous sums of money, which will be good for the country, which is what we hope would happen. Ethical questions change from whether this is a good thing or not to the fact that it will affect humans in a very big way.

Staying with ethical concerns, in the lecture you demonstrated very powerfully that people are currently benefiting from implants in a therapeutic sense. Could you explain the research in this area, and how therapeutic implants evolve over time?

At the moment there is an implant that can be pushed right into the middle of the brain - in the subthalamic nucleus is one potential area - and it provides a stimulation that counteracts the tremor effects of Parkinson's Disease to the extent that many patients can lead a normal life, and so they leave the implant switched on all the time. The number of people benefiting from that is now increasing - surgeons are getting very good and deciding which people can benefit from it, the exact frequency of stimulation, and the positioning of it. There is now research into the long term effects of this therapy.

There is also research into neural implants and epilepsy, which is looking extremely positive, and there are all sorts of possibilities for applications of this sort of implant. It could help people with other types of dystonia or multiple sclerosis - there is a whole range of diseases and problems that could be tackled in one way or another.

When you look at implants it opens up the area of paralysis, whether through an illness or as a result of an accident, and they have lesions in their nervous system. I think we're going to see in the very near future, the possibility of bridging over the lesions and at least restoring some of the original function, and at the same time allowing the person who was paralysed to control their environment to a certain extent - to switch on lights or drive their car, just by thinking. We're going to see those types of technology coming into play.

The nature of your research has led you to have quite a high profile in the media, and your work is often discussed on sites like The Register, but they don't seem to take you particularly seriously. How do you feel about this, and what's the knock on effect on your work?

The work does seem to have a high profile, which I guess is understandable. I think that anybody commenting on a regular basis on what I do must have an interest in it. At least every month there is a comment about me on The Register, and I think that if they didn't think there was any value whatsoever in what I do, there wouldn't be any comments at all.

It's understandable - I am doing some radical experiments, and some people may think they are a little bit strange, so it's good that sites like The Register question what I'm doing and whether it's right. It's another way of looking at it, that I think is probably a very good thing, and I applaud it. I love it that we live in a society where there are opportunities for people to question in this kind of way. At the same time, it does bring attention to the work that I'm doing - people may look at The Register, and find out more about my work as a result, then perhaps come along to a presentation that I'm giving, or have a look at one of my papers and find out that there's a bit more to it than The Register was probably implying.

I'm thankful to The Register for pointing out the research I am doing. Perhaps most people that look at the site have considerable technological nouse as it were, and so for them to find out more about what I'm doing is not a bad thing as far as I'm concerned.

What's next for Kevin Warwick?

I'm involved in a whole range of projects at the moment. One of them that is now ongoing is culturing neural networks - that is actually growing artificial brains from biological tissue - and we're working on that to control a little robot. So rather than have a robot controlled by a computer brain, the robot will be controlled by a biological brain. That to me is tremendously exciting.

In the implant world, we're working with surgeons on an improved implant for Parkinson's Disease that can predict the tremors before they occur, and then counteract them before they actually happen, so it's not stimulating all the time and hence not using up power constantly, it's just monitoring and then stimulates when appropriate, so it has to be able to predict what the human brain is doing.

For my own implant, I see that as being about seven or eight years away. I do believe firmly that we can carry out a first experiment in thought communication involving brain to brain communication. It will require a brain implant, and I am certainly on for it, and I'm really excited and looking forward to it. I really want to experience signals from somebody else's brain appearing in my brain - I want to get there first.

Find out more about Kevin Warwick and his work at www.kevinwarwick.com.

Send a comment about this article to editor@itwales.com.

Us Sec of Navy admits they oversee mind control research (12/22/2006)

Omega-News: US Sec of Navy admits they oversee mind control research

Sec of Navy admits they oversee mind control research

Here below is a link to a document, made available on the web by the Federation of American Scientists, in which the Secretary of the U.S. Navy admits in writing that the Navy is the authority giving approval for research in "severe and unusual intrusions" on human subjects, such as mind control work.

Mind control is an important weapon in the 21st century. Mind control includes electromagnetic devices which can affect the brain and physical functioning, some pharmaceuticals, some behaviour modification "conditioning" and "chaining", and regular hypnotic techniques. Some of these may be used in conjunction with others.

Research into mind control has a valid defense purpose, of course.

For example, the worst excesses of World War 2 could all have been achieved from behind the scenes by mind controllers. It is worth noting that mind controllers get used to enjoying complete concealment, and therefore never do the dirty work themselves.

Highly intelligent people, and highly telepathic people, were early found to be easier to mind-control (in the 1940s this would have included Jews and gypsies, for example). These days, with electromagnetic and pharmaceutical tools, almost anybody can be susceptible.

It is an indictment of current governments that young people are still not warned of this danger, therefore are naive and susceptible, and cannot protect themselves through knowledge from mind control situations.

We will know we have honest governments when schools routinely teach young people, "You can be controlled against your will - watch for these danger signs and be careful."

Crimes are quite often performed by a person who is mind controlled and does not know he is committing the crime. Afterwards he might be instructed to forget and the amnesia might last many years. Other crimes are often covered up using mind-control in officials.

Physical assaults can be committed by knowing people using mind control directly, too. As an example, perhaps a victim is in the middle of conversation when he is suddenly plunged into a trance state, then something is injected into his body. When he is brought back to conscious functioning he is unaware he has been attacked. He may be conscious only of experiencing a little difficulty in speech or concentration for a few seconds.

Here following is the evidence that military research is overseen in the USA by the Navy, in case people have not seen it:

http://www.fas.org/irp/doddir/navy/secnavinst/3900_39d.pdf

SECNAVINST 3900.39D

Page 9:

(2) The Under Secretary of the Navy (UNSECNAV) is the Approval Authority for research involving:

(a) Severe or unusual intrusions, either physical or psychological, on human subjects (such as consciousness-altering drugs or mind-control techniques).

Regards,

Lyn Milnes in New Zealand

Secret documents of the SRIA Illuminati revealed for the first time! (12/22/2006)

Note: copy and paste the images below and enlarge them in order to read them better

Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia

M.W. Frater Andrew B. Stephenson, IX^o
Supreme Magus

38 Westcombe Park Road, Blackheath, London SE3 7RN
020-8958 3727 email: ben@societyofrosicrucians.org

The Secretary-General,
S.R.L.A.

10 June 2005

Caroline Frater Chris,

When I was elected to the office of Supreme Magus, I realised that the Society's administration and communication had deteriorated seriously through the prolonged illness of my predecessor. In addition far too many of the day-to-day decisions were being made at Headquarters. I estimated that these and other problems would take about three years to sort out, by which time, in view of my age, I would be exhausted. However completion of the task would enable my – hopefully much younger – successor to move the Society forward to meet the challenges of this new century.

In addition I knew that a Supreme Magus of a Society of 70-plus Colleges has a full-time job. Therefore I relinquished my several offices in Freemasonry, warning that my future attendance at meetings would be rare following the demands of our Society.

At the end of two years in office I can say that all the most serious of our problems have been resolved, the new team at Headquarters is proving to Colleges that it is very efficient, that Provincial teams are responding to the demands being made upon them, and that the Society is in good health. I look forward to a year in which the lesser problems are resolved and communication, particularly by Web, making an effective contribution to the Aims and Purposes of our Society.

However, whilst man proposes, God disposes, and without prior notice to man. Suddenly there is a serious crisis and I find that I am the only person with the knowledge, experience – and in good health – to resolve the problem, which will take many months working nearly full-time. As it is not possible to combine two dissimilar tasks, each demanding full-time working, I am forced to make a choice.

After much prayer, and in the knowledge that our Society is running smoothly at present, I have decided in favour of the new task. I therefore resign from the position of Supreme Magus as from midnight this day, albeit with great sadness as I so wanted to complete the work I had undertaken two years ago.

I have already discussed this with you, so you are prepared for the task of Secretary-General-in-charge, seeking nominations for the next Supreme Magus, arranging for the voting and counting, and the installation of the elected Doctor (presumably at the High Council/Triennial meeting on 1st October). I am very sorry to have to burden you with this additional work, but I have explained my situation and know you appreciate its necessity. And I pray that the Electoral College will choose one who appreciates the necessity of devoting full-time to the task.

Sincerely,

Andrew B. Stephenson
Supreme Magus

Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia

Founded 1st June 1807

Right Worthy Frater Dr. Christopher Forester VIII^o & 9^o

Dr. Psy., M.A. (Oxon.), D.Phil., D.Phil., D.Phil., D.Phil., F.R.S., F.R.S.E.

Secretary-General in Charge

Stratford Hall, 88 Hampstead High Street, London, NW3 1RE. 020 7435 2679 secretarygeneral@ria.uk.net www.ria.uk.net

1 July 2005

NOTICE OF ELECTION

I am formally writing to inform you that the Most Worthy Supreme Magus has elected to retire from office, effective from the date of this letter. I enclose a copy of his retirement letter. I declare, therefore, the Office of Supreme Magus to be void.

Under Ordinance II.1, "Governance of the Society", "during any voidance of the office of Supreme Magus, his functions shall be discharged by the following Officers of the High Council, namely, the Secretary-General in Charge, the Receiver-General and the Treasurer-General, and they or any two of them may exercise any of the powers of a Supreme Magus."

I give you notice that the above-named Officers of the Society have, as of today's date, taken temporary control of the Society and its administration, and I am now calling an Election for the Office of Supreme Magus.

Under Ordinance III, any Nomination for the Office of Supreme Magus must be proposed and seconded by Electors of the Society and accepted by the candidate. If you wish to nominate a candidate, you should send me a letter or email headed "Nomination for the Office of Supreme Magus" saying that you have secured the candidate's agreement and naming the candidate's second as well. The Nomination must be sent together with a short résumé of the candidate to be distributed to the Electors. For the sake of postage I will allow up to one side of A4 for each résumé. Nominations must be sent to me at Hampstead and may be by post or email. The Ordinances allow for a period of fourteen days, and, without other guidance and in order to be fair to Provinces Overseas, I interpret this to be fourteen days from the official postal receipt date of the Electors furthest from Hampstead, i.e. by midnight B.S.T. on Thursday, 21 July 2005.

Any nominations received by me on, or before midnight on the above date, will then be added to the ballot which will be sent out shortly thereafter with a full explanation of the voting procedures. The ballots will be opened at GPC Meeting on Tuesday 6 September under the scrutiny of the Chaplain-General and in the presence of the entire Committee and the candidates if they wish to attend. The results of the Election should be announced on that date after the ballots have been counted.

Fraters should keep the date of Saturday, 8 October firmly in their diary as the likely combined date of the Enthronement of a Supreme Magus and our Triennial General Assembly.

My only other intimation, during the inter-regnum, is to maintain the functionality of the Society administration.

Yours in fraternity

Chris Forester

Wick House, Wick Ward, Bye, East Sussex TN01 7DH, England.
(01797) 223672 c4r@forester@btcl.com

Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia

Founded 2nd June 1607

Right Worthy Frater Dr. Christopher Forester VIII^o & 9^o

(Dr. Psy., M.A., Ph.D., D.Phil., D.Phil., C.Eng., C.ETCP., FRIG., FRSA)

Secretary-General in Charge

Shoefield Hall, 44 Hampstead High Street, London, NW3 1RE 020 7433 1679
secretarygeneral@srta.co.uk www.srta.co.uk

1 July 2005

Carissine Provincial College Secretary;

I am formally writing to inform you that the Most Worthy Supreme Magus has elected to retire from office, effective from the date of this letter. I declare, therefore, the Office of Supreme Magus to be void.

Under Ordinance II.1, "Governance of the Society", "during any vacancy of the office of Supreme Magus, his functions shall be discharged by the following Officers of the High Council, namely, the Secretary-General in Charge, the Recorder-General and the Treasurer-General, and they or any two of them may exercise any of the powers of a Supreme Magus."

I give you notice, therefore, that the above-named Officers of the Society have, as of today's date, taken control of the Society and its administration.

I am now calling an Election for the Office of Supreme Magus under Ordinance III, and to this end I have notified the Electors.

Due protocol for the inter-regnum should be followed. Summonses for College and Provincial Meetings should now bear the names of the three Officers responsible for discharging the duties of the Supreme Magus, and it is especially important to note that we have no Substitute Magus as these Offices are the only ones automatically voided when the Office of SM is vacant. No summonses are given as the Secretary-General in Charge, Treasurer-General or Recorder-General. The name of the Festive Board is to "The SRJA", not "The Supreme Magus and the SRJA."

The Society Ordinances require us to open the ballots in front of the Chaplain-General and to this end, I intend that this will be done at the GPC meeting already scheduled for 6 September, to which all GPC Officers and candidates for election will be invited.

My only other intention, during the inter-regnum, is to maintain the functionality of the Society administration.

Yours in fraternity,

Chris Forester
Secretary-General in Charge

Wick House, Wick Ward, Rye, East Sussex TN31 7DH, England.
(0)1797 221672 cforester@srta.co.uk

Eid-ul Adha (12/23/2006)

From : Ä° Halili on behalf of the master
ASITANE
To : All brothers and sisters on the path of Halveti Cerrahi
Subject : Celebration (EID-UL ADHA) 31
December 2006 / 10 Zilhicce 1427

This year, according to Istanbul local time, the sunrise will occur at 07:21 (GMT+2) and Bairam Prayer, (Prayer of Eid ul Adha) will be at 08:16 (GMT+2)

Es selamu aleykum wa Rahmetullahi wa barakatu-HU

Dearest brothers and sisters, may ALLAH (C.C.) keep you in his mercy and fill our hearts with joy, love and gratitude, blessed Bairam (Eid-ul Adha).

ELHAMDULILLAH

This year we are going to celebrate and imitate the day of ARIFE (which is the day before Bairam) at the tomb of Hz.PIR all together and do the prayers (DUA) like Hz.PIR used to do at the place. (Outside of the old city walls, where still there is a sign)

Hazrat-I PIR used to do the ARAFAT prayers at the time of ASIR Prayer (ikindi namazi) like the pilgrims (Hajj) are doing at ARAFAT. He did this for the people who are not able to go to Mecque because of the financial difficulties.

Thousands of people and Cerrahi dervishes used to pray just behind Hz.Pir Kaddes Allahu Sirrahu (K.S.) (May Allah sacred his holy soul).As a miracle; the plain of ARAFAT and KA'ABA were appearing to the all of them and they were seeing themselves as being on the plain of ARAFAT like they were in pilgrimage. So many poor Muslims who could not afford to go far HAJJ were enjoying being so at the Arafat and performing their Hajj prayers.

This miracle of Hz. Pir (K.S.) became well known in the hearts, so lots of people surrounded him (K.S.) in those days. But as usual, some of the more envious and jealous people conspires to inform the Sultan of the time, that there is a sheikh who was becoming very powerful and getting thousands of people around him and could be danger in the future.

Sultan ordered; commissioners, The Sheikh-ul MaShaikh (The Chief of the Sheikh's Commission) and the Sheik-ul Islam (the chief religious official in the Ottoman Empire) to examine him and report what it occurs at the time when the prayers start.

At the time they arrived at that holy place, Hz. PIR (K.S) knew and was waiting for them, and as soon as they arrived, he said: "ALLAHU AKBAR" and started the prayer, all of them saw themselves like they were in ARAFAT. As a result, most of them left their positions in the employment of the Sultan and became dervishes of Hz. PIR (K.S.) and at a later stage; even the Sultan became a dervish of Hz. PIR (K.S.).

And so, the tradition continued every year, at the same place, during his life in this world. And after he left this world, the tradition continued, every year, at the same time, at the tomb of Hz. PIR MUHAMMED NUREDDIN CERRAHI (K.S.) we make this special prayer, emulating and enjoying this special memory.

Even if we are not able to see with worldly eyes ourselves at Arafat but , ALLAH (C.C.) gives us the happiness to pray and open our hands at the same time as all the people praying in Arafat, and we feel that our hearts are with them and close to ALLAH(C.C.) by means of submitting our souls to his order saying:

"Labbaika Allahomma Labbaik. Labbaik La Shareeka Laka Labbaik. Innal-Hamdah, Wan-Nematah, Laka wal Mulk, La Shareeka Laka." ("Here I am at Thy service O Allah, here I am. Here I am at Thy service and Thou hast no partners. Thine alone is All Praise and All Bounty, and Thine alone is The Sovereignty. Thou hast no partners.")

So, anyone who prays in same way, even though they are not in the Asitane, who are thinking and praying for those in Arafat, for all believers, we hope very much, ALLAH (C.C.) will bring us together, not only here, but also in the other world, with those good people who are beholding the Jamalullah (C.C.) and Jamalurresulallah (S.A.V.) in Jannah. Amin.

What we do in the Asitane (at the house of Hz. PIR) at the day of Arafah (the day before Bairam/Eid) and the next day's early morning of first day of Bairam fest and the following second, third and fourth days as follows; a-Day before the Bairam (Eid) , which we call it "Arafah"; it is the same day that all people in Mecca for pilgrimage (Hajj) they all climb to this holy place called ARAFAT Mountain, they all reach till sunset, it is the most important obligatory part of Hajj Programme, absolute Routine. (Farida). No one can say that he becomes a "Hajji" unless he stays in Arafat until sunshade; otherwise he can not say "I accomplished all farida of my Hajj as an ATTENDENT of HAJJ" according Qu'ran-i Kareem.

It's the place where Hz.ADAM (A.S.) and HZ.EVE met each other after they had been lost for long years.

Hz. ADAM was looking all around, praying for her in very difficult conditions until he remembered the sign of unity at the door of heaven â€“ written:

" LA ILAHA ILLALLAH, MUHAMMEDUN RASULALLAH"

And prayed : "YA RABELALEMÄ°YN, YA RAB, YA RAB, YA RAB LET AND STEER ME TO FIND MY WIFE EVE FOR THE RESPECTFULL VEBERABLE SPIRITUALITY OF THE HOLY NAME (MUHAMMED-A.S.) WHICH IS WRITTEN NEXT TO YOUR HOLY NAME; LA ILAHA ILLALLAH ".

After this prayer he did cried by heart, so ALLAH (C.C.) let them meet each other at the Mountain of Arafat. Al Hamdulillah.

The followings are the holy days&nights:

a) The lunar month of Ramadan, especially the last ten nights.

The "Layl-at Al-Qadr" (Night of Power) is among these ten nights. Praying on Layl at Al-Qadr is more meritorious than praying for one thousand months.

(Qu'ran)

b) The first nights of the two Bairams (Eid).

Whom spends these two nights in prayer and in submission to God, will be rewarded and his request accepted.

c) The first ten nights of lunar month of Dhu al-Hijjah..

d) The day preceding the first day of the Festival (Bairam) of Sacrifice (Eid ul-Adha)

e) The 15th night of the lunar month of Shabaan

f) The night of the lunar month of Shabaan

g) The night of the first Friday and the 15 th and 27th nights of the lunar month of Radjab.

h) Friday nights. (The night connecting Thursday to Friday)

SACRIFICE

The Arabic word for sacrifice is "Qurbaan" which comes from the word "Qarib" means to be close to, like a relative. Hz. Ibrahim (A.S.) was ordered to sacrifice everything in order to come close to ALLAH (C.C.).

Thus the intention used to make sacrifice (Qurbaan) is : "ALLAHUMMA, I INTEND TO MAKE SACRIFICE ONLY TO BE CLOSE TO YOU". This is for His Ridza (Pleasure, Acceptance) and "Yakeen" (Certainty).

The money that we have and spend for the qurbaan is from Him and we are spending it, with the will He gave us in His way of order. So we must submit to ALLAH (C.C.) without thinking of any benefit and place releases submit ourselves entirely in His Hands.

In former times when someone wished to become a dervish of a sheikh, he/she used to offer a qurbaan when taking hand (Beyat), as a symbol of initiation. It means "I submit myself to your teachings and to your orders. What ever you say I will never deny or refuse according to the Quran."

It is also Wacib for a person who is charged for giving Sadaqat-ul Fitr.

To sacrifice an animal means slaughtering an animal, worth sacrificing, within three days of Eid-ul Adha with the intention of worship.

These who can not to do slaughtering themselves, may hold the hand of the person who will perform the slaughtering and say: "I am giving permission to you to sacrifice my sheep on my behalf." And the other man has to accept this permission and say it.

The knife should be very sharp for not to give any pain to the animal. (So it could cut in one stroke.)

The sheep has to be facing Ka'abe, eyes wide shut.

The man doing slaughtering has to say "BISMILLAH ALLAHU AKBAR" just before the cut.

The skin of the animal should be taken out very gently, and so on.

If the man is on abolition of course, as a good believer, is much better.

Animals' worth to sacrificing could be only: Sheep, goats, cows, oxen and camels.
Other animals are not worth to sacrificing.

Sheep and goats could be sacrificing by one person only. Cows, oxen and camels could be sacrificed by 1 to 7 person.

These animals should be above one year old, in good and health condition: legs, horns should not be damaged or defected.

The worshippers are allowed to distribute all of the sacrificed meat to poor people or to eat all of it themselves. But it is meritorious to divide it into three parts; such that the first part goes to poor persons, the second part to the neighbors (even they are rich enough) friends and relatives, and the third part for the use of one's own family.

Live animals cannot be given to the poor as sacrifice, because the flow of blood is essential.

The skin of the animal should not be sold and may be given to the poor or to a charitable foundation.

By sacrificing an animal, the worshiper fulfills the commandments of God and thus performs a good deed as well as helping and assisting the poor and needy people. It is a big sin to avoid.

This year, according to Istanbul local time, the sunrise will occur at 07:21 (GMT+2) and Bairaam Prayer, (Prayer of Eid ul Adha) will be at 08:16 (GMT+2)

Christmas scandal with Licio Gelli and the Catholic Church (2/1/2007)

This Christmas in Arezzo the Catholic Church and Licio Gelli are making News again after the local Church of Don Angelo Chiasserini as decided to arrange a charity meal for the poor on the 1st of January 2007 with the infamous leader of the P2 Licio Gelli, and two other corrupt Grand Masters of Italian Freemasonry who are part of the Vatican illuminati. One of them is Grand Master Tiberio Terzuoli of the Serenissima Gran Loggia Nazionale, and the other is Most Worshipfull Brother Giuseppe Sabato of the Gran Loggia Massonica Italiana. Obviously this is part of the massive new PR campaign started this year by the Vatican illuminati to clean up the image of their friend and illustrious brother Licio Gelli, one of the most powerfull illuminati Grand Masters we had in recent history . As I said before Count Licio Gelli is about to die of cancer and the illuminati want to rehabilitate him before his death, but I have to admit Im still shocked to see how Gelli is now openly supported by two italian masonic Grand Masters and the even the Catholic Church . We have to remember that the majority of honest Freemasons in Italy hate Gelli because the P2 scandal created in Italy the biggest crisis the Masonic Order had since their official foundation in 1717, unfortunately many Grand Masters are still secretly piloted by big Brother Licio Gelli who acts on behalf of the Catholic Church Supreme Mafia the Jesuits. Don Angelo Chiasserini officialy said to the local press that we shouldnt judge Licio Gelli as the first of January 2007 its simply a charity event. Well Im not so sure the majority of Italians agree with this dubious choice of the Catholic Church in Arezzo , as alot of people in Italy are still waiting for the money compesation from the crack of the Banco Ambrosiano caused by Gelli and his P2 friends who killed Calvi . This was a huge scandal that as we all know involved the Vatican Bank and the Jesuits but Don Angelo doesnt seem worried about the bad press, because the Vatican wants Gelli back in action to clean him up. And on the 1st of January 2007 in Arezzo 60 very poor people can eat thanks to Licio Gelli and the illustrious Vatican illuminati Tiberio Terzuoli and MW.Bro.Giuseppe Sabato. These two are high level members of the italian SMOM are secretly directed by ex Italian President Francesco Cossiga a proud member of the Knight of Malta elite division. Cossiga was one of the GLADIO Puppet Masters of the 11th of September 2001 disaster in New York, a evil show directed by the Vatican ILLUMINAZI and the Zionist for the ultimate control of mankind through never ending acts of terror and destruction by brainwashed muslim puppets and illuminati agents.

But something is cooking for Italian Freemasonry at present and recently a few Italian Freemasons and for the first time even a couple of Grand Masters of minor Grand Lodges in Italy, are starting to finally react and distance themselves from this evil Vatican illuminazi NWO conspiracy. The anti clerical spirit of illustrious Brother Giuseppe Garibaldi is slowly coming together again against the eternal Vatican enemy. The establishment of the Universal Fascism ideal of P2 Brother Michael Leeden and the Bush family, is not so popular after all with Italian masons of the lowest degrees and the ones on top should also understand that before is too late. Poor people are obviously in need of food and support in Italy like the rest of the world and we obviously support charity like all true believers should always do, but it is sincerely disgusting to think that on the 1st of January 2007 in Arezzo's Church 60 very poor people will be used and abused by the Catholic clergy and the corrupt illuminati of Freemasonry to rehabilitate the image of P2 Satanist Licio Gelli. We now know for sure the true intentions of the Vatican illuminazi in regards to the recent rehabilitation of Licio Gelli's image, so let's hope they don't want to make a Saint out of him as this is a truly sick situation, especially when we think about the acts of crime committed by Licio Gelli during his many years as leader of the P2. Licio was always serving the SMOM and the Jesuit Puppet Masters of the Great Vatican Satan with great loyalty and great cruelty. At the end of January for example in the special bunker of Rebibbia in Rome there will be a special court session regarding the Esma process "Processo Esma" about a concentration Camp in Argentina at Escuela Mecanica e l'Armada, a place that was defined by the Italian authorities as the small Auschwitz. 5500 people went through this place during the Fascist period in Argentina supported by the P2 Lodge who counted many key members in the Argentinian military establishment. And the Catholic church participated actively with the Argentinian soldiers in the killing of most of these poor innocent victims known as the desaparecidos. They were given sleeping pills directly by the Catholic priest after a nice confession and then directly in the sea in the Mar de Plata to die in peace as the priest used to say. After the fascist dictatorship in Argentina ended it was Vatican illuminati Licio Gelli and the P2 elite who arranged false documents for all these illuminazi argentinian criminals who had to escape abroad from their evil past. So lets hope the 1st of January 2007 these poor people can enjoy their meal in Arezzo but never forget who Gelli,the Vatican and these corrupt Freemasons really are , they are all criminals like most Freemasons or Priest these days . Infedels who use charity to usually cover up their dirty conscience and their evil games of power in the establishment of the New World Order. No wonder Villa Wanda the official residence of this illustrius satanist called Licio Gelli is still visited night and day by some of the most powerfull people in the world, just like it use to be until a few months ago in Via Portuense 956 in Rome were Marcinkus use to have his secret little Castle given to him by the Vatican, something very few people knew until now.

Leo Lyon Zagami

now

Khaled Saifullah Khan

The Satanic Cult of Military Mind Control
"Psyop" and the Aquino legacy (12/23/2006)

In the photo Michael and Lillith Aquino the daughter of Anton LaVey founder of the Church of Satan

The Satanic Cult of Military Mind Control "Psyop" and the Aquino legacy

Background - Fox News is owned by NewsCorp. NewsCorp. owns HarperCollins book publishers. Fox news has a military analyst named Paul Vallely, a retired general, as a military affairs commentator.

While in the US Army, he co-authored a tract with Col. Michael Aquino, who his as we all know a practicing satanist and leader of an offshoot of the Church of Satan that created the so-called bible of theirs. The title of the tract was Mindwars and was on "deep psyops" directed at the target country's civilian populations ... like ours, maybe?

From PSYOP to MindWar
The Psychology of Victory by Colonel Paeul E. Valley with Major Michael A. Aquino

The 12 page Army report is undated but it outlines the use of "Psychotronics," intelligence and operational weapons systems employing the use of mind control, commonly known as Psychological Operations (PSYOP).

PSYOP

Sometime in late 1980, then Col. Paul E. Vallely, the commander of the 7th Psychological Operations Group, United States Army Reserve, Presidio of San Francisco, Ca., co-authored a discussion paper, which received wide and controversial attention within the U.S. Military, particularly within the Special Operations community.

"From PSYOP to MindWar: The Psychology of Victory," presented a Nietzschean scheme for waging perpetual psychological warfare against friend and enemy populations alike, and even against the American people.

The "MindWar" paper was provoked by an article by Lt. Colonel John Alexander, which appeared in the December 1980 edition of Military Review, advocating the introduction of ESP,(extra-sensory perception),tele-pathetic behavior modification, para-pschology, pschokenesis(mind over matter), remote viewing, out of body experiences, and other New Age occult practices into U.S. Military intelligence. The paper was entitled,"The New Mental Battlefield:Beam Me Up,Spock."

But the subsequent paper co-authored by Vallely went way beyond ESP and other paranormal techniques advocated by Alexander. "Strategic MindWar must begin the moment war is considered to be inevitable,"the document stated.

It must seek out the attention of the enemy nation through every available medium, and it must strike at the nation's potential soldiers before they put on their uniform. It is in their homes and communities that they are most vulnerable to MindWar."

Leaving nothing to the imagination, the document concluded by emphasizing that MindWar should employ subliminal brainwashing technologies, and weapons that directly attack the targetted populations central nervous system and brain functioning taking full advantage of such phenomena as atmospheric electromagnetic activity,air ionization, and extremely low frequency waves.

The "MindWar" paper was disturbing, for reasons beyond its fascist and occultist content. Colonel Vallely's co-author was a PSYOP Research and Analysis Team Leader named Major Michael Aquino. Five years before the circulation of the MindWar paper, Special Forces Reserve officer Aquino founded the Temple of Set, a Satanic organization which was successor to Anton LeVay's Church of Satan.

Vallely and Aquino's MindWar scheme is remarkably similar to the Total Information Awareness (TIA) program launched by the Donald Rumsfeld Pentagon, under the direction of Irangate figure Adm. John Poindexter.

The TIA global propoganda mega-mining plan was reportedly scrapped after a series of negative news stories, but Pentagon sources reported that the program was merely, "taken into a black box."

On Aug.16,2005, The New York Times Philip Shenon revealed that the super secret Pentagon "special action program" called Able Danger had tracked Mohammed Atta and three other Sept.11,2001 hijackers a year prior to the attacks.

But, Pentagon lawyers with the Special Operations Command refused to allow the information to be shared with the FBI, for fear of exposing the data-mining program to any public scrutiny.

Reference Link ...

*Psychological Operations

Aquino and Psychological Warfare

Wrote Aquino, "In 1967 and 1968 alone, a total of 29,276 armed Viet Cong/NVA (the equivalent of 95 enemy infantry battalions) surrendered to ARVN or MACV forces under the Chieu Hoi amnesty program the major PSYOP effort of the Vietnam War. At the time MACV estimated that the elimination of that same number of enemy troops in combat would have cost us 6,000 dead."

Aquino argued that the U.S. lost the war in Vietnam "not because we were outfought, but because we were out PSYOP'ed. Our national will to victory was attacked more effectively than we attacked that of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong, and perception of this fact encouraged the enemy to hang on until the United States finally broke and ran for home."

The lesson, according to Aquino, was not to ignore U.S. PSYOP capability, but rather to change it and strengthen it "so that it can do precisely that kind of thing to our enemy in the next war." To begin, there would be a name change from Psychological Operations to "MindWar." Noted Aquino, "We must reach the people BEFORE they resolve to support their armies, and we must reach those armies BEFORE our combat troops ever see them on battlefields."

Aquino went on to compare his proposal with the definition of Psychological Warfare first introduced by General William Donovan of the OSS in his World War II era "Basic Estimate of Psychological Warfare" in which Donovan discussed the need to destroy the will of the enemy. But an attendant 1947 letter stressed the need for a "synonym which could be used in peacetime that would not shock the sensibilities of a citizen of democracy."

Aquino indicated contempt for the U.S. Army's inability to accept PSYOP in its "most effective configuration," adding that "the reluctance with which the Army had accepted even an `antiseptic' PSYOP component" was well documented.

Having read about General Donovan's "behavioral control" program in the MKUltra book, I didn't perceive it to be exactly "antiseptic." Aquino's report, obviously written after the Vietnam war, suggested that future MindWars should be fought through "skillful use of communications media."

"MindWar," noted Aquino, "states a whole truth that, if it does not now exist, will be forced into existence by the will of the United States ... A MindWar message does not have to fit conditions of abstract credibility as do PSYOP themes; its source makes it credible."

Aquino continued, " ... The MindWar operative must KNOW that he speaks the truth, and he must be PERSONALLY COMMITTED to it. What he says is only a part of MindWar; the rest and the test of its effectiveness lies in the conviction he projects to his audience, in the rapport he establishes with it."

As I read the document it was difficult not to recall Oliver North's diary in which he called his associates, "The True Believers." Aquino noted that the recipient of the statement by the MindWar operative would judge such messages not only by his conscious understanding of them, but also by the mental conditions under which he perceived them.

"For the mind to believe its own decisions," wrote Aquino, "it must feel that it made those decisions without coercion. Coercive measures used by the MindWar operative, consequently, must not be detectable by ordinary means ..."

Aquino's basis for his report came from various publications which were listed at the back of the document. "More effective configurations" of MindWar as noted by Aquino may well have included the following (taken from the back of the document):

"ELF (extremely low frequency) waves (up to 100 Hz) ... are naturally occurring, but they can also be produced artificially ... ELF waves are not normally noticed by the unaided senses, yet their resonant effect upon the human body has been connected to both physiological disorders and emotional distortion.

Infrasound vibration (up to 20 Hz) can subliminally influence brain activity to align itself to delta, theta, alpha, or beta wave patterns, inclining an audience toward everything from alertness to passivity. Infrasound could be used tactically, as ELF waves endure for great distances; and it could be used in conjunction with media broadcasts as well."

So, the human brain can be aligned to infrasound through media broadcasts. Was that technology used on Manuel Noriega when he was forced to surrender in Panama under blaring radio broadcasts? And hadn't the Branch Davidians been subjected to loud music and chants for extended periods of time?

Another section of the Aquino report noted that "ionization of the air" could be used to control an individual's emotions. "An abundance of negative condensation nuclei (air ions) in ingested air enhances alertness and exhilaration, while an excess of positive ions enhances drowsiness and depression. Calculation of a target audience's atmospheric environment will be correspondingly useful."

After his retirement from the Army, Lieutenant Colonel Michael Aquino, an ex-Green Beret, was later written up in the San Francisco Chronicle as the head of the Temple of Set, a satanic, devil-worshipping church. The November 1987 headlines read as follows: "Army Says Constitution Lets Satanist Hold Top-Secret Job," by reporters John Whittinger and Bill Wallace.

The story went on to say that "the high priest of a San Francisco based satanic church is able to keep his top-secret security clearance because his activities are constitutionally protected, Army officials said yesterday. "Lieutenant Colonel Michael A. Aquino, a highly decorated Vietnam veteran, is the founder and president of Temple of Set, a satanic church headquartered in Aquino's Russian Hill home ...

"Aquino, a psychological warfare officer who has worked in military intelligence, holds a top secret security clearance that allows him to handle information whose release would gravely damage U.S. security, according to Defense Department regulations.

"He maintains the clearance even though he has performed Nazi occult rites and has described himself as the 'Anti-Christ' in literature published by the Temple of Set ..."

Temple of Set literature described a coming apocalypse in which only followers of Satan would be saved. Readers of the Temple of Set CIA experiment are encouraged to read such works as "Mein Kampf," "Hitler: The Occult Messiah," and "The Occult Roots of Nazism."

Aquino conducts to this day occult rituals patterned on ceremonies performed by Nazi leader Heinrich Himmler in a German castle once used by the Nazi SS for black magic ceremonies during the Third Reich. Nazis considered the black arts and satanic worship part of an ancient Germanic tradition.

Aquino, in his book, "Crystal Tablet of Set," wrote that he performed the rituals to recreate an order of Knighthood for followers of Satan. He even encouraged his followers to study the beliefs of the Nazi terrorist group, the Vehm, the Thule Gessellschaft, and the Ahnenerbe, two fanatic rightwing Aryan groups that existed before and during Hitler's reign.

When the two reporters from the Chronicle inquired about Aquino's security clearances, Major Rixon declared that "to the best of his knowledge, there was no part of the liturgy of his church that caused any (security) problem." Aquino admitted to being involved in devil worship for 22 years.

Ted Gunderson's box contained reams of literature written by Aquino along with other documents pertaining to identical subject matter. It was no secret that Gunderson lectured on the subject of Satanism, as I learned from a July 1993 Colonel Bo Gritz newsletter which advertised Gunderson as a featured speaker on one of Gritz's national radio broadcasts.

But it was not the Satanic aspect of Aquino's writings that caused me to scrutinize his earlier writings for the Army. Shortly after the Waco incident in Texas, a secret "classified conference" was held at the Los Alamos National Laboratories in New Mexico.

An official copy of the speaking agenda for the November 1993 conference, the subject matter under discussion correlated with not only the original Aquino Army report, but also with the MKUltra behavior research underway during the 1950's and 1960's.

The title of the conference was "Non-Lethal Defense" and just a few of the speakers included such dignitaries as the Honorable U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno; Dr. Edward Teller who had helped develop the nuclear bomb; Dr. Milt Finger from Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory; Mr. Andy Andrews, Non-Lethal Project Leader at Los Alamos National Laboratory; LTG William H. Forster from Army Research, Development and Acquisition; Dr. Clay Easterly from the Oak Ridge National Laboratory; Dr. Henry Brisker from U.S. Army Research Laboratories; Ms. Astrid Lewis from the U.S. Army Chemical Research & Development Command; Lt. General Richard G. Trefry, former Military Advisor to President George Bush; and many more.

The most noteworthy "non-lethal" technology presentations included the following: "High Power Microwave Technology" "Application of Extremely Low Frequency Electromagnetic Fields to Non-Lethal Weapons" "Voice Synthesis" "Incremental Aggression: Requirements for the Future" "Chemical/Biological Anti-Terrorism" "Biological Challenges" "Non-Lethal Research: Fracture & Dynamic Behavior, Biotechnology & Structural Ceramics, and many more.

Interestingly, the opening address was given by General E.C. Meyer (Ret.), former Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army the very same General Meyer who had set up the Department of Defense conference in which Michael Riconosciuto had been the principal speaker from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to a group of senior level national security research and development officials.

The objective and scope of the 1993 Los Alamos conference included exploring a non-lethal approach to apply force against not only wartime enemies (the Soviet Union had already fallen) but against "terrorists" and "international drug traffickers" as well.

The introduction noted that the purpose of the conference was to bring together "industry, government, and academia to explore the potential of non-lethal defense and identify requirements so that the defense community can work together in leveraging the non-lethal concept."

"Industry [law enforcement], particularly, will benefit from a more precise understanding of requirements and operational constraints regarding non-lethal defense technologies," noted the conference's sponsors, The American Defense Preparedness Association.

Additionally, non-lethal defense was described as "an emerging technological option being developed conceptually with a sea of technical opportunity."

Based upon the technical presentations listed in the brochure, it didn't appear to me that such technology as acoustical, high power microwave, laser, ELF/RF weapons and "psychotronic" systems were particularly NEW in the field of military or intelligence applications. Obviously, what was occurring at this conference was the presentation of these formidable weapons to law enforcement for domestic (U.S.) applications.

In late November 1993, a letter discussed the abovementioned conference. The letter had been written to U.S. Attorney General Janet Reno by a former CIA employee, Julianne McKinney, on letterhead stationary originating from the "Association of National Security Alumni, Electronic Surveillance Project, P.O. Box 13625, Silver Spring, Maryland 209113625."

Portions of the letter read as follows: "... In December 1992, when "Microwave Harassment and Mind Control Experimentation" was published, U.S. Government representatives routinely took the position that directed energy technologies were nothing more than mere figments of physicists' imaginations, still on the drawing boards.

Shortly following publication of this report, information concerning these technologies began to appear in such noteworthy organs as The Wall Street Journal, Defense News, Aviation Week & Space Technology, Tactical Technology, Defense Electronics and, most recently, The Washington Post.

"In a flurry of activity these past 10 months, directed energy based surveillance and antipersonnel systems have suddenly leaped off of physicists' drawing boards into the world of reality, thus obviating the criticism, it would appear, that the attached publication [Los Alamos conference brochure] concerns nonexistent technologies.

"Indeed, directed energy technologies appear to have evolved at such a rapid rate that they are now being promoted as the 'Final Solution' to crime preliminarily, at a classified conference sponsored by the Los Alamos National Laboratory ..."

McKinney's concern focused primarily on future law enforcement application of "psychotronic" tools, or directed energy weapons technologies. "What, so far, has prevented this government and its contractors from testing these technologies on U.S. citizens under involuntary circumstances?," she asked.

The letter went on to outline various instances in which people had complained to her organization of alleged symptoms of directed energy technologies in such areas as the United States, England, Canada and Australia.

After reading "The Search for the Manchurian Candidate," was Danny Casolaro subjected to some form of hypnosis.

Any such far-reaching scenarios were outside the boundaries of normal human experience, indeed no mainstream journalist would pursue such a theory. But, then Robert Booth Nichols, Michael Riconosciuto and the CIA were not within normal human experience. And, who would have believed, ten years ago, that the CIA would be investigated by Congress in 1996 for drug trafficking in Los Angeles?

At one point in time Danny had signed an agreement with Nichols in which Nichols was to give Danny a $25,000 loan against his home in Fairfax, Virginia. Nichols had offered to take Danny overseas to find the answers to his questions and Danny had needed the money to make the trip. Where had they planned to go? What possible motive could Nichols have had for enticing Danny to go overseas for several months?

A private installation at Alice Springs, Australia which Michael had visited with Nichols had upset Riconosciuto to such a degree that he had become ill and cut the trip short. Nichols later confirmed the trip, and recalled that Michael had indeed become anxious and ill, but would not discuss the purpose of the trip.

The Australian installation was an underground facility had been built during World War II to be used as a bomb shelter. It was capable of housing thousands of people and was completely self-contained.

Riconosciuto said he had, it was owned by a private corporation; inside was a city of sorts, containing sophisticated communications equipment, laboratory equipment and other items which he would not define. He chose not to discuss it further, but concurred that what he saw made him realize that it was time to terminate his relationship with Robert Booth Nichols.

Both men had confirmed that the Australian trip marked the end of their 20-year association.

It was confirmed that the installation existed, that it was leased by a private corporation, and that it was heavily guarded, but no one seemed to know what it was being used for.

by Mr. X

The double headed eagle (1/2/2007)

The Scottish rite Order of Freemasonry has its great seal , the double-headed eagle with a golden crown resting upon both heads. The double heads represent the Masonic Empire of the East and the West.

Mackey tells us that the double -headed eagle was first adapted in Freemasonry as a symbol in 1758. It was in that year when the council of the Emperors of the East and the West was established .It is also believed that the double-headed eagle alludes to the nature of man. The head that looks to the East is symbolic of man's spiritual vision , and the looking towards the West refers to his material vision.

The Masonic order attempts to initiate or teach man the material or human science and the spiritual sciences in imitation of the ancient Egyptian Mystery Sytems that taught man the "lesser" and "greater" mysteries.

The eagle or bird has extreme symbolic meaning . The thing that is most outstanding about a bird is its wings ,which gives it the ability to fly and to glide in the sky. The Creator revealed in the HOLY QUR'AN these words, “do they not observe the birds above them , Spreading their wings and folding them in ? Non can uphold them except ALLAH ,Most Gracious : Truly it is He that watches over all things.” (67:19)

In the Islamic call to prayer , the Adhan,the caller (Muadhhdhin) turns his head to the right and says , “ Come to prayer” (twice). Then he turns his head to the left and says , “Come to prayer” (twice). Then he turns his head to the left and says , “Come to cultivation” (twice). This call has great meaning for the life and education of man.It beckons man to refine and cleanse his soul and spirit by praising the Creator, and it reminds man of his duty to cultivate his mind and his social life. The double headed eagle is looking to the left and to the right .As we mentioned,the eagle (bird) represents the spiritual, and the East also represents a spiritual state.

The Muslim call to prayer , and twice to come to mental and material cultivation. This gives us four calls in total , two to the right and two to the left. ALLAH says in the Qur'an that he is the Lord of the two Easts and Lord of two Wests : “He is Lord of the two Easts and Lord of the two West”. (55:17). The Creator is the Lord of of the physical East and the spiritual (nature), the physical West and the material nature symbolized by the West. He is Rabb (Lord) of all the worlds.

The Qur'an also tells us that when Abraham asked ALLAH to show him how the dead would be raised ,ALLAH told him to take four birds,train them and place them on mountains, then call them and they will return (2:2).

The Muslim also ends his prayer by turning his head to the right saying, “ As-Salaam-Alaikum-wa Rahmatullah” (Peace be upon you and the mercy of ALLAH); and he turns his head to the left and repeats it . ALLAH says , “ Behold , two (guardian angels) appointed to learn his doings (and note them),one sitting on the right and one on the left “ (H.Q.50:17).

In ancient times the great Pharaohs wore a double crown,representing upper and lower Egypt.Some of them had a double headed serpent.Upper Egypt was concerned with the higher sciences of man and the universe; while lower Egypt focused on the lower or concrete rational sciences .

Interview with Leo Zagami, Part 1 (1/2/2007)

by "Ronnie Wilson"

11-59.com speaks to Leo Zagami Part 1

Hi Leo

My name is Ronnie

Once again my warmest thanks to you for agreeing to do an interview for 11-59.com, I'm touched by your courage and willingness to let truth be heard, I believe that one day we must all stand up and be counted so my prayer is that everyone who reads this interview will be blessed and have their eyes open and prepare themselves for the time to come.

My aim would be to do a 3 part interview with you if that would be possible this being the first..

Q:Your bloodline means that you are a Sicilian Don and a Prince of the Sacred Roman Empire. What does this mean to you.

A: RESPECT

Q:Did the world look like a strange place, knowing that your family and things around you are so powerful?

A: Well the world looks basicly like a global puppet show in the hands of the usual families of idiots , who usualy never change their ways century after century , during this time some try to rebel and end up as Saints or Martirs of the usual Roman Church Mafia . The Catholic Church is always ready to steal anything good if it comes up like they did with Saint Francis , but they are never ready to give up the immense power and wealth they have accumulated in 2000 years of lies and what I can only define as organized crime. By being one of them you understand all this at quite a young age, if you are not completely brainwashed by their Church Propaganda, but what can any of the families involved do to change things in front of such evil ?

Its a big risk to challenge the real system of power that rules the elite for anybody who belongs to it so usualy for your own safety and the safety of the rest of your family , you stay silent even when you know is wrong very wrong whats going on.

Q: When and why did you join the illuminati and Freemasonry?

A: 13th of April 1993 I joined the illuminati of the Sacred Roman Empire Sicilian Freemasonry as a way of preserving and continuing a millenary tradition of the Di Gregorio family. A tradition that started in Koln Germany in 1018 , you can still find the heraldic symbol of the Di Gregorio on the floor in Cathedral of Koln.

Q: When did you sense that things were wrong and that you had to get away from these organizations?

A: A long long time ago but I never left because there is usually no way back from those kind of death oaths given between Square and Death as we say in irregular illuminati freemasonry , but I also knew that by staying for a longer time in these organizations I could also have more chances surviving once you saw so much. The fact you and only you had access to certain documents concerning the Order , becomes after a while a very precious and powerfull weapon against your future enemies , a weapon Im using to save my own life now.

Q: At what moment did you feel that you had to go public with these revelations and why?

A: After the last meeting in Monte Carlo on the 1st of June and especially at the Universal Unity illuminati gathering on the 3rd of June at the Convent of San Cerbone near Lucca , I started to realize they wanted to kill me . I got to know this thanks to some of my most close followers in the illuminati. The order had been given by ex Italian President and Jesuit friend Francesco Cossiga to Comandante Balestrieri of the GLADIO/P2 for my execution if I didnt follow the orders that Balestrieri was giving me at the Military Accademy of Livorno on the 4th of June . But they wanted me to do something against my new faith of Islam , something I couldnt do , so I went to Rome and Subiaco for some advice from my family and prayers and then when I came back to my wife in Norway on the 6th of June I started to send them by e-mail my true opinion on all their corruption and empty words in front of God , I said they were just slaves of the Zionist and the Vatican so I was out for good this time . Soon after I started to receive phone calls from Ezio Giunchiglia , Balestrieri and even Rui Gabirro to shut up or be facing the terrible consequences of becoming a traitor of the Monte Carlo Committee / Lodge and that means you are basically the next Roberto Calvi...if you know what that means. I got very stressed by all this as you can imagine , and at the same time I had a 8 months pregnant wife that was risking to loose the baby , a really depressing and dangerous situation for me and my family but with the help of God and also some of the honest people of Norway, I am still here and my wife gave birth to a wonderfull 4kg baby on the 7th of July.

Q: You mention you openly want to challenge the decadent and corrupt aristocrats of Europe , including the corrupt English Royal family can you expand on this.

A: They know who they are and what they are really doing to people by still supporting the current situation of decadence and corruption in society in the year 2006 .

A evil situation deliberately created by the New World Order establishment lead by the Vatican with Zionist support . They all know very well that all depends from Rome , Israel and the USA all in the hands of Satan, so why bother creating more Knighthoods dedicated to God and the various Saints every year ? Why dont you just go public with your pagan satanic worship and your black magic you bunch of cowards , thats what I say to them. The European aristocracy has always been ruled by sorcery and black magic and people should know that , so lets change things once and for all for the benefit of mankind.

Q: Tim Cohen in his book (The anti –christ and a cup of tea) claims that Prince Charles is the Anti-Christ, What do you think.

A: Sorry if I say BULLOCKS to this one but Prince Charles with all my respect is just an idiot , do you honestly think the AntiChrist will marry Camilla and divorce Diana...hi...hi...you must be joking , eventually the only guy who as been created for such evil purpose by the CIA ILLUMINATI OF THE SKULL AND BONES is GEORGE W.BUSH and you all should know that by now , so leave poor Charles alone he is pathetic, but at least he is following the sufi teachings of Sheikh Nazim al Haqqani that will eventually bring him to paradise.

Q: Have the aristocrat families of Europe always been involved in satanic rituals and corrupt activities or have they been infiltrated by demonic forces.

A: Yes rulers of the European Aristocracy have always used black magic and evil forces since the ancient times as a military tool for domination and control over their own citizens , they learned these satanic ways from their Masters in Rome who got them in turn from the Greeks , the Egyptians , the Summerian...its a never ending tale of constant manipulation the history of mankind we have never been really free untill the arrival of Prophet Mohammed (PBUH) but Rome and Europe obviously didnt accept him because of this insane secret pagan worship always going on in high places. Remember what Mohammed (PBUH) did to the pagan idols in Mecca , imagine what he should have done in a city like Rome to purify it by all this black magic.

Q: Do you believe that the Vatican and the massonic lodges know who the Anti Christ is. Many have said like “Malachi Martin in his book Wind swept house” that he the Anti Christ lives in the Vatican.

A: Yes we could say that George W.Bush spirit lives in the Vatican with his true Masters, the Jesuits and the Satanic Pope himself Ratzinger ,they have real control of the illuminati and their Comander in chief George W.Bush. Remember Skull and Bones is under Vatican control and George father his a slave of the Vatican and his evil Mentor. I believe the CIA wants people to think otherwise , but as an insider I can assure you that all true satanist love George W.Bush, and in the Masonic Lodges the power of his father is felt everywere . And any mention of his son George W. doing the wrong thing will automaticly bring you to expulsion from Freemasonry , the Rotary and even the Boyscouts.

Q: You are risking your very life by being so open and truthful, We here at 11-59 are at risk also by putting certain articles up on the site, however our drive and purpose is to inform the people of the evil that is seen and unseen ,what is your drive.

A: To Free Rome and the world from the Vatican and their older Brothers in Jerusalem the Zionist . The world has been controlled by them for 2000 years and the real Jesus suffered because of them , so its about time you all wake up and fight for your right to stay free under one God before they take complete control and start persecuting the true believers in the one God. These are the end of times no joke...REVELATION AND TRASFORMATION COMING UP get your swords and get ready to fight to defend your faith or perish with the Satan.

Q: Our sources tell us that between 2010-2012 there will be

1. Money crash
 2. Mark of the beast (Microchip implants for buying and selling)
 3. The Anti Christ will appear on the scene and bring a false peace to the middle east
 4. I believe you call it "the great surprise in the end of times."
- Can you confirm these things or do you think we are being lead down the wrong road.

A: THE COSMIC ALIGNMENT ON THE 21ST OF DECEMBER 2012 GIVES YOU 6 YEARS TO PREPARE , PLEASE GET READY AND STOP SLEEPING.

Q: In your opinion when did the Jesuit Order begin working towards a NWO and what is the end goal for them.

A: ALREADY ANSWERED THEY WORK FOR SATAN.

Q: Do you believe that soon we must die for our faith? In your article Shall feed the sheep amidst many tribulations... you ask the question "ARE YOU READY TO DIE FOR GOD AND YOUR BELIEVE IN A POSITIVE CHANGE FOR THE WORLD OR ARE YOU ALL A BUNCH OF COWARDS IN THE HANDS OF THE DEVIL , JUST TALKING AND TALKING WITH NO SENSE OF REALITY"

Is this fight phyiscal or spiritual.

A: PHYSICAL AND SPIRITUAL THIS IS YOUR LAST TRUE WAR BEFORE THE KINGDOM OF GOD ON EARTH ; THIS IS NOT SOMETHING YOU WILL ENJOY SO MUCH EVEN AS A BELIEVER , WHEN YOU SEE GOD'S REVENGE AGAINST MANKIND AND THE BLOOD FLOWING IN THE STREETS. BUT IS GONNA HAPPEN ANY WAY, SO START PRAYING AND BE READY TO FIGHT FOR GOD AND DIE FOR HIM ALSO IN THE WEST, THIS IS A WAR GAINST SATAN SO PLEASE WAKE UP IN THE WESTERN COUNTRIES OR YOU MIGHT WAKE UP IN A NIGHTMARE ONE MORNING IN DECEMBER 2012...

Q: It has been said that the Vatican know and communicate with Aliens and that The Nephilims still roam the earth is this true?

A: They are called Jinns and they exist since the begining of time, and yes they have their HQ's in the Vatican but forget this alien bullshit , the Master of all Jinns is Satan as all Sufi know, and he has his own interest in the Alien mith. This was created by the US and SOVIET intelligence inspired by the Jesuits working for the Jinns. Its also true that the Jinns have there own worlds and dimensions but personally I advice you to stay away from them as much as you can for your own safety.

Q: Also we have heard stories from people like David Icke, who mention Shape shifting in the Royal circles and deep within the vatican changing from human to reptilian then back to human. is there any truth to these things.

A: David as a very funny way of interpreting these practices with the evil Jinns made by the Vatican and the aristocrats of all religions and faiths since the ancient times , but you should al know once and far all that a Jinn can become a reptilian or anything he wants. There are certain magical formulas given to the illuminati to control them ,and other formulas are given instead to get rid of them and so on , the problem is usualy that Jinns can take over after a while and make you their slave ,thats when you are totaly in the hands of Satan and the evil illuminati.

Thank you for the interview and may God bless you all wherever you are, its time to come togheter for the next step in the Science of God, that step is the final destruction of the United Nations working for the Vatican satan, and the creation of a true United Nations of God thats the only way we will have peace on this planet. From 2010 you will start feeling the big changes in the air more and more but in 2012 you will have the clear evidence of the end of this civilization in front of your eyes , prepare , be good and pray.

Interview with Leo Zagami, Part 2 (1/3/2007)

by Ronnie Wilson

Q:We are so glad to welcome you back how was your time in Turkey.

A: It was very nice thanks, I realy like to go back to the roots of our spiritual tradition in the Western world and Turkey is one of the key places for all 3 monoteistic religions, Turkey is the natural land for real interreligious dialogue. I also went to Konya to visit the tomb of Sufi Master Rumi and got exorcized by my favourit exorcist from 57 Jinn/ Demons sent by the usual suspects...and one was quite big but we manage to put them all in the circle and freeze them to death. The Jesuits and the evil illuminati are realy doing some big black magic to get rid of me so I always thank you for your prayers out there and I will continue getting rid of these evil Jinn if it happens again.

Q:In our last interview you seemed convinced that the Anti-Christ is G W Bush. To the world it looks as those he is a lame duck and losing his grip on power,do you still hold the same views if so why.

A: G W Bush is the son of the most powerfull man in the illuminati and he was built by his father and the CIA to become the ultimate Antichrist Vatican Zionist puppet and it doesnt realy matter if he is in the White House or not because the Bush will always rule in the present situation any future actor that goes in the White House now. Remember Anton LaVey founder of the Church of Satan and Mind War controler of the CIA was a close friend of George H. Bush, and they planed togheter the satanic future of his son George W.Bush and the coming of the age of Satan after 9/11 along time ago when LaVey was still alive.

Q: Our sources tell us that Tony Blair is being lined up to head up the EU as a permanent president for 5 years instead of the current rotating policy if this is true then this would be a very powerful position for the Jesuits to have. Do you know anything on this?

A: Tony Blair is another top satanist who sold his soul to the evil Moloch in Bohemian Grove and nothing surprise me anymore with this kind of people around, they want the complete Nazification of the western world by 2010 to start defending their fragile positions and completely eliminate democracy (something we never really had by the way).

Q: Rev: 13:18 tells us that 666 is the number of the beast. This is a very much talked about subject in Christian circles. How do you see it?

A: 666 can be positive as well as negative because God needs good and evil at the same time, in our muslim tradition and not only in the muslim tradition as you may know dear Khalid this number is also the key to positive englightment in the Holy Quran. But for St. John the evangelist this was the secret key to warn the early Christians about the first of a series of Roman driven Antichrist...

Nero the Emperor of Rome.

Who is now the Emperor of today with the blessings of good old Rome and their friends in Jesrusalem?
The President of the USA of course...

Q: In the book of Revelation 13.V:16-18 it says the He (The Anti-Christ) shall cause both small, great, rich and poor, free and bond to receive a mark in their right hand or their foreheads, and that no man might buy or sell except he that had the mark or the name of the beast or the number of his name.

Do you think this mark is a micro chip and if so will his name be integrated into the chip itself?

A : 666 is everywhere these days, the Hebrew equivalent of our "w" is the letter "vav" or "waw". The numerical value of vav is 6. So the English "www" transliterated into Hebrew is "vav vav vav", which numerically is 666. And you cant definetely have a business these days without a web site WWW, then we have the video surveilance and last but not least the microchipping coming up. The microchipping will be the ultimate Mark of the Beast and will put us fully in the hands of Satan and his evil controlers ready for Armagedon against the Messiah.

So we need to rebel before that to help the coming back of the real Messiah.

Q: The New World Order cannot be built on a foundation of politics and economics alone. To truly establish global control over all peoples and nations, its be said that the elite must also use the religious element..

Have the Illuminati worked behind the scenes to influence and control the Christian establishment. Not the Catholics (they are already under control) but evangelic/ protestants/Born again side of Christianity.

A: All religions are corrupt by the illuminati these days including most of Islam, the Jews, the evangelic, protestant and the Born again side of Christianity, all ruled secretly by Freemasonry, the intelligence services, the Knights of Malta and last but not least the usual Jesuits so genuine interreligious dialogue is almost impossible.

Q: Here are some examples of those who are under illuminati control, can you confirm if this is true.

1. Pat Robertson's father, Senator Absalom Willis Robertson, a Democrat, was a fabulously wealthy Illuminist insider?

A: Another puppet of the usual show of course same father same son...

2. Evangelist Author Tim LaHaye has been given large sums of money by occultist Reverend Sun Myung Moon?

A: Well satanist Reverend Moon as alot of money to give away but he is not the supreme manipulator of his plot as you may know (far from it as you may know) he is simply working for the usual illuminati and the intelligence/Mafia of his country.

3. Paul Crouch, TBN founder, was outed by the Los Angeles Times as a homosexual?

A: His problem with God not mine thanks God , but this kind of situation is typical of the present degeneration of values and principles in high places of our society where all perversions are allowed. So it becomes then more easy to blackmail them for the top levels of the pyramid if they are not so normal after all and really open about their homosexuality.

Scambio di riconoscimenti tra massoneria e chiesa aretina (1/6/2007)

La Massoneria pone una lapide sul Duomo di Arezzo per ringraziare dell'ospitalità concessa dalla Chiesa al pranzo organizzato il 1 Gennaio nel sottochiesa di Piazza Giotto. Per l'occasione la città di Arezzo intitola la ormai ex piazza Giotto al Venerabile maestro Licio Gelli e ribattezza la statua che si trova davanti al duomo al Massone Ignoto, aggiungendogli il tradizionale cappuccio massonico.

La collaborazione fra questi due soggetti, massoneria e Chiesa, nella vita sociale ed economica locale, si materializza attraverso queste due targhe, apposte come simboli rivolti alla città per ricordale la loro effettiva comunione d'intenti. Un legame rafforzato dall'ospitalità concessa il Primo Gennaio alla Massoneria che organizza un pranzo di beneficenza proprio nei locali appartenenti alla Chiesa (sottochiesa di Giotto).

Tra i promotori di questo pranzo appare anche il Maestro Venerabile Licio Gelli al quale la città di Arezzo intitola la piazza già "Piazza Giotto" con la seguente motivazione: Licio Gelli emerito benefattore dell'umanità e riconosciuto universalmente quale autorevole interprete della missione evangelica e civica.

Si desidera a questo proposito ricordare le sue imprese a favore del prossimo e dell'umanità tutta: Fu fascista, attivo prima e dopo il 1943 (RSI), in seguito ha collaborato con la Gladio e nel 1970 avrebbe partecipato al fallito tentativo di Golpe "Borghese".

Alla sua Loggia massonica, la P2, sono stati iscritti vari membri della sanguinaria giunta militare argentina oltre a industriali, giornalisti e personaggi facoltosi come il più volte Presidente del Consiglio Silvio Berlusconi e Vittorio Emanuele di Savoia. E' stato coinvolto nel processo per la strage di Bologna del 1980, fu condannato nel 1994 a 12 anni di carcere, dopo essere stato riconosciuto colpevole della frode riguardante la bancarotta del Banco Ambrosiano, istituto collegato alla banca del Vaticano, l'Istituto per le Opere di Religione (IOR). Scomparve mentre era in libertà sulla parola, per essere infine arrestato sulla Riviera francese a Cannes. La polizia rinvenne nella sua villa oltre 2 milioni di dollari in lingotti d'oro. Per alcune, e solo alcune delle sopraccitate "opere di bene", Licio Gelli ha ricevuto un giusto riconoscimento dagli organi competenti (Magistratura) . Condanna in via definitiva per:

Procacciamento di notizie contenenti segreti di Stato;

Calunnia nei confronti dei magistrati milanesi Colombo, Turone e Viola.

Tentativi di depistaggio delle indagini sulla strage alla stazione di Bologna.

Bancarotta fraudolenta (Banco Ambrosiano).

Insomma ci pare un curriculum di tutto rispetto per andare a braccetto con la Chiesa.

L'associazione A.I.N.O.R.I. continuerà a prendere in giro il potere e i poteri forti per segnalare quanto ci sia bisogno di una insurrezione di neuroni e di intelligenze, libere da condizionamenti e paraocchi.

Alla prossima.

Associazione A.I.N.O.R.I.

redazione@arezzonotizie.it - Associazione A.I.N.O.R.I.

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 41-50

Another GLADIO member exposed: Gaetano Saya! (1/6/2007)

Italian Fascist Secret Police Network Uncovered
Italian History X. Gaetano Saya not a lunatic. He is for real!

Profile: Saya's grandfather joined Mussolini's March on Rome. Saya is estimed by shadowy fascist figure Licio Gelli.

Saya was born in Messina in 1956 and was raised by his grandfather, Matteo Francesco Gesuino, a member of the pre-WWII Royal Army and a participant in Mussolini's March on Rome. From the time he was a child Saya felt attracted by the Movimento Sociale Italiano - Destra Nazionale [fascist] and at the age of 18 enrolled in the now defunct Guardians of Public Safety. Later, he was hired by the NATO Secret Services as an expert in ISPEG (Information, Sabotage, Propaganda and Guerrilla Warfare) and specializing in counterespionage and anti-terrorism.

Having rose to senior rank, Saya retired in 1997. In 1995 he was recruited into an exclusive Masonic Lodge by SISMI General Giuseppe Santovito and achieved the rank of Venerable Master in Lodge No. 1 (International). In November 1997, Saya served as state's witness for the Italian Republic in the trial of statesman Giulio Andreotti. After retirement, Saya decided to launch a fascist political movement, MSI-National Right, where he became the unchallenged chairman. Saya holds a university degree in Criminal Justice and Political Science and is a Knight of the International Order of Peace. In December 2002, he was named Honorary President of the National Law Enforcement Union, the first labor union representing inter-agency national police. He was recently given the post of Director-General, Interagency Anti-Islamic Terrorism Police, Department of Strategic Studies on Terrorism -

In November 2004, he was charged with disseminating literature promoting white supremacy and racial hatred. The trial has been postponed until October 2005.

Negroponte. Ledeen. Boykin. North. These figures have always made me queasy because nothing stands between them and their goals, especially values and the law. The murder of Il Diario reporter Endo Baldoni and the hit on Giuliana Sgrena which killed Niccola Calipari smell of the involvement of shadowy organizations operating on the margins.

An Italian investigation has uncovered an underground, parallel police network with possible links to the CIA which may be involved in the slaying of Niccola Calipari and Il Diario reporter Enzo Baldoni, the extraordinary rendition of Abu Omar and Nigergate.

The investigation is ongoing. On the surface, it looks like a scam. But somehow, it has the same perfume of the deliberate quasi-legality we saw in Iran-Contra.

From Il Corriere della Sera:

Underground police network discovered in Italy. Investigation by the Genoa Public Prosecutor's Office reveals anti-terror police staffed by Freemasons and shadowy CIA operatives. Two are arrested. Dozens of police and security force personnel involved. The network is discovered amidst an investigation into an Italian security contractor slain in Iraq.

A parallel, covert antiterrorism police force has been uncovered inside the Department of Strategic Studies on Anti-terrorism. This is the conclusion of the DIGOS [Divisione Investigazione Generali e Operazioni Speciali, or Department of General and Special Operations, a police investigative unit] of the Genoa Public Prosecutor's Office. So far two individuals have been arrested and 25 warrants have been issued in ten regions across the country. Another 24 are being investigated, including 12 members of the police. Gaetano Saya and Riccardo Sindoca, both Freemasons and DSSA directors with links to the extreme right and intelligence organizations beyond the oversight of Italian Parliament have been placed under house arrest. Saya resides in Florence and Sindoca in Pavia.

Officials uncovered the network while investigating the death of Fabrizio Quattrocchi, an Italian private security contractor slain in Iraq in 2004. Chief Public Prosecutor Giuseppe Lalla, Inspector Salvatore Presenti and DIGOS-Genoa chief Giuseppe Gonan have excluded any involvement of Quattrocchi with DSSA, despite a claim in an Italian magazine last May. Connection to any Italian political figure is also excluded. It is likely that the name of Quattrocchi was used by the organization to credential itself as a parallel intelligence outfit. While investigating private security contractors working overseas, agents on Gonan's investigation team crossed paths with a secret, illegal investigation by the DSSA using shadowing, investigations, illegal use of badges and insignia carried by legitimate police.

So far, no subversive activity on the part of the DSSA in the strictest sense of the word has emerged but the impression is that the aims of the investigation launched by the Genoa Public Prosecutors Office is to prevent further wrongful conduct by the organization and to identify persons involved from law enforcement acting as secret agents who even might have joined in good faith. Saya and Sindoca have been charged with conspiracy to commit crime and usurpation of public office in law enforcement. In substance, the investigation team believes that DSSA (an organization which does not exist legally) intended to finance its operations by using funds from domestic and international agencies.

Four rifles, tasers, a knife, a sabers, machetes, dozens of outdoor survival kits, ID cards, badges and insignia were found by the Florence branch of DIGOS during separate searches of the residences of seven suspected DSSA members in the Florentine capital after a search warrants were received from the Genoa Public Prosecutor's office. The residence of Gaetano Saya, placed under house arrest, was used for meetings of the network. Among other suspects are a junior officer with the Fiscal Police in Florence, two prison police and three civilians, including a construction company owner and a businessman.

Before the arrests, the DSSA ran a website (taken down after the arrests) where it described itself as follows: The Department of Strategic Studies on Antiterrorism, a institute recognized by Republic of Italy interagency law enforcement and police, offers highly-specialized investigation and research support to the personnel of organizations under a potential terrorist threat.

Gaetano Saya and Riccardo Sindoca are founders of a political organization called Destra Nazionale - Nuovo Msi [The National Right - Italian Socialist Movement] and claim to be ex-members of Gladio. This is a right-wing terrorist outfit once funded by the CIA and thought to be responsible for 1980 Bologna Railway Station bombing which killed 87 and wounded 177, including several US students on holiday].

From the website of G.Saya: The evil which has descended upon us finds in men like George Bush in America and Gaetano Saya in Italy, an impregnable bulwark: God-fearing men, harded and pure individuals who, enlightend by God, have descended into the valley of the shadow of death to defend the Judeo-Christian faith and the West. The righteousness which these men represent will defeat the anti-Christ. God is on their side. On the website, Saya affirms that his a member of the exclusive P-2 Masonic Lodge and that in November 1997 he was state's witness for the Public Prosecutor of Palermo in the trial of Giulio Andreotti [Andreotti was an Italian statesman accused of links to the Mafia] in which Andreotti was accused of ordering the murder of anti-Mafia investigator General Dalla Chiesa. Saya testified that he was told that this was so by fraternal [Masonic] companion and friend Giuseppe Santovito, a former P-2 Lodge member, who at the time was Director-General of SISMI [Servizio Informazioni Sicurezza Militare, or Military Intelligence Service].

From La Repubblica

The Department of Strategy Studies on Antiterrorism. This is what the organization, which represented itself as a parallel law enforcement agency combatting terrorism, called itself. According to investigators, the aims of the organization was to credential itself with major domestic and international agencies, including foreign intelligence, for funding.

In the early hours of this morning, the DIGOS of Genoa carried out 28 searches in nine Italian regions (Liguria, Piedmont, Lombardy, Emilia Romagna, Tuscany, Lazio, Molise, Sicily and Sardinia). 21 persons belonging to the National Police, the Carabinieri, Fiscal Police and the Prison Police are under investigation. Two individuals who are not members of law enforcement but who are known to be part of the organization have been arrested: Gaetano Saya and Roberto Sindoca, both well-known leaders of the National Right, which is the present-day incarnation of the organization MIUS. [Movimento italiano di unità sociale, or Italian Movement for Social Unity, a fascist organization] founded by Giorgio Almirante [a notorious racist and anti-semitic, member of Mussolini's infamous Republic of Salò under Nazi tutelage]. Saya, an former Freemason, was state's witness in the trial of Giulio Andreotti. Considered a figure close to Italian intelligence, he often boasted of his ties to SISMI. Saya and Sindoca have been placed under house arrest in Florence and Pavia, respectively.

Several members from law enforcement joined the secret network in good faith. The DSSA carried out surveillance and searches in airports with few results. Some of the members had direct access to the Ministry of Interior data banks.

The charges: So far there have been 20 separate investigations. The crime in question is criminal conspiracy using money from domestic and foreign agencies.

The unconfirmed aim of the organization, explains Genoa Chief Public Prosecutor Giuseppe Lalla, was to credential DSSA and to run a network which would obtain financing from foreign nations such as the United States and Israel or organizations such as NATO. Among their boasted activities was the tracking down of fugitive Italian terrorists living abroad, ex-Red Brigades, or members of other organizations such as the example of Cesare Battisti.

Several members may have joined the secret network in good faith. The DSSA carried out surveillance and searches in airports with little result. Some of the members had direct access to the Ministry of Interior data banks.

Name of Fabrizio Quattrocchi is mentioned. The Weekly News had recently run a story saying mercenary Fabrizio Quattrocchi, slain in Iraq, was a member but investigators believe that this was not the case. While looking into Italian mercenaries working abroad, Deputy Chief Investigator, Giuseppe Gonan crossed paths with an illegal investigation run by DSSA employing shadowing, background investigation, and illegal use of badges and insignia belonging to legitimate law enforcement. Thanks to the complicity of several of its members, the organization was able to retrieve confidential information directly from Ministry of the Interior databanks.

Weapons stash in Florence. Seven searches were carried in the Florentine capital, among them Saya's. Four rifles, some tasers, a Rambo knife, sabres and machetes, dozens of outdoor survival kits, IDs, badges, insignia and police hats. It was at Saya's residence that DSSA held its monthly meetings. The homes of a junior officer of the Fiscal Police, two Prison Police and three civilians were also searched.

Searches in Rome. The Rome DIGOS are carrying out five searches of homes belonging to two law enforcement officers, two private security workers and a physician.

Searches in Milan. Seven searches were conducted in a parallel investigation. Milan DIGOS personnel worked together with those of Genoa and found material documents implicating Police and Carabinieri. The persons investigated were a Deputy Superintendent and two assistants working for the National Police, a retired Carabinieri, a retired police officer, a Carabinieri Marshal and one civilian.

The Milan Public Prosecutor's office is following a line of investigation slightly different from that in Genoa. DSSA members impersonated police, displayed DSSA badges very similar to that of law enforcement, and used police insignia and automobile lights.

AND NOW?

Obviously nothing all this happened in Italy...nice pizza, nice pasta and a lot of Gladiators.

Mr X

The End Times Prophecy, 2012 and the London Olympics before war! (1/6/2007)

THE END OF TIMES PROPHECY

The End-Times Prophecy of the Great Pyramid of Giza an article from from Rare Insights actually gives some interesting Insights in the Christian Gnostic Vision of the end of times , so I decided to put here a few extracts from this article followed by some more in depth analysis on this very important subject :

The Giza Pyramid contains a chronology that embraces approximately 6,300 years. It speaks thereby of two consummations of fate, namely the fate of mankind in a liberating sense, and the fate of mankind in a decaying and destructive sense, because, as previously mentioned, the same intercosmic radiations will give rise to different reactions, both positive as well as negative.

We are here posing a question regarding the immediate fate of mankind on Earth; the fate of the conversion or the fate of the aversion. If we react positively to the intercosmic radiations - indeed, if we are able to react thus - then they will lead us into the New Life of which all the true prophets, seers and Avatars have spoken; if not, then in one way or another we shall be eliminated from the New Earth. So it is and so it should always be with every true end-of-a-world-cycle prophecy. Every analysis of the activity of the intercosmic radiations is always twofold. For this reason we may find the following facts expressed in scripture in various ways: "Whenever the Son of God appears and the light breaks open and the blessed are raised up unto Him, then the Judgement immediately follows; the masses who have not chosen to selflessly serve the Divine Plan are cut off". Here is alluded to the fate of those who have definitely refused to react positively to the intercosmic radiations, or "God's Call".

Early in the 21st century the epoch of the Great Pyramid ends. However, it will not then become a thing of the past, a monument that reminds one of former times, but then it immediately begins anew from the bottom up, because there are intercosmic currents and radiations that have an orbit of 6,300 years.

So let us explore further the nature of God's Call.

God's Call is not one or another holy book, wherein is recounted God's activities on Earth or about what God wants from mankind! Neither is God's Call the voice that sounds to us by means of a Gnostic order, or by means of one or another ecclesiastic body. No, God's Call is a radiative plenitude, an intervention of divine Light via the medium of Christ. That is why in the Holy Language it is stated that God is Light.

The Gnosis is a radiative intervention, and that radiative intervention - that Light - is a reality with direct relevance to every human being on Earth today. We are born here into this emergency order to understand the purpose of the fallen world and to attain victory, or in other words in order to walk the Path of soul-redemption. If we do not do this, if we go the way of dualistic phenomena, then we will be grounded amidst the disaster of the closing phase of this cycle for Earth. In every new period of existence or world cycle we receive a chance to answer God's Call positively. If we refrain from doing this, then we will be liquidated, then our microcosm - every unrepentant personality - will be forcefully purified and emptied through the astral Fire. Our Earth-field will also be purged, recycled and reorganised, in order to prepare it for a new Day of Manifestation.

The radiation laws work for us and with us all, yet they know no pardon. With respect to these activities there is no compromise. We have the choice between positive reaction and subsequent Liberation and Glory, or death. If we do not respond, then God's Mercy shall give our microcosm another opportunity, so that at some other time in some other place a personality may appear in the microcosm who will respond positively. Until this happens, God's Call will continue to sound in the emergency order.

In the case of a positive reaction, that is to say, if we surrender ourselves unconditionally to the higher powers, then a new birth develops in our microcosm, a transfiguration, the emergence of a new Man, who is eternal and who is able to return to the House of the Father.

If we react negatively and do not walk the Path that is shown us, then the said radiation powers will empty our microcosm of this non-responsive, resisting personality by death, and they will repeat this as long as is necessary. We have nothing to hold on to, because our own little world is ever fated to be periodically eliminated and recycled.

Our emergency order, being a dualistic one, will pass, and we cannot prevent it. Everything arises and everything fades away, only in order to rise up again. Never can this emergency order, this dualistic nature, be made permanent, for it is fundamentally apt to change. Personality follows personality, each time in a new aspect of the world and, thus, there is no end to the fresh opportunities that the microcosm receives for a return to the Promised Land. This process continues life after life and death after death, until, at the end of a Cosmic Day - a major world cycle or sidereal year - a radiation law releases a universal Force that wipes out every kind of fallen, unintegrated life on Earth.

A Cosmic Night is now setting in during which the face of the Earth will be entirely changed. Thereupon, as has been the case cyclically for ages upon Earth, a new Day of Manifestation dawns and, under altered conditions, the process is started once more in order that the remainder of humanity may now react in the correct manner. Messengers of the Gnosis descend anew, to once again show mankind the Path of Liberation.

Now, there are various kinds of cosmic nights and, therefore, also various kinds of days of manifestation. They can be distinguished in minor and major days of manifestation; minor developments relative only to the Earth and major ones bringing on a number of phenomena and transformations, e.g., in the whole of the solar system. The zodiacal system is subjected to similar periods of a still larger extent, and those reigning the totality of the Milky Way galaxy even exceed the aforementioned periods.

When we speak of esoteric sidereal years, we mean approximately 25,200 years. We distinguish in every such sidereal year twelve periods of about 2,100 years each, and the Gnosis divides those 2,100 years again in three periods of 700 years. Every such term of 700 years brings an important change in mankind's existence. A period of 2,100 years ends in a change of greater significance and sometimes even in the turmoil of destruction comprising every aspect of social life, all mankind and also the Earth or part of the Earth. Continents may disappear and new continents rise up, and in this way various geological changes are periodically taking effect.

The beginning of what we indicate as the Christian era practically corresponds with the start of such a period of 2,100 years, and as we are now living in the year 2006, it is evident that we have entered the closing phase in which we discover the lines of situations and possibilities which prove that destruction and renewal is on the approach.

According to the chronology of the Great Pyramid - to be precise since the 20th of August 1953 - humanity entered the period of destruction of this 2,100-year cycle in which we now live. Since 1953 the rise into liberation has to take effect, or destruction must follow. We know that this rise has started and that the process of destruction also shows in the world.

Now, the chronology of the Great Pyramid speaks of radiations with a circular course of about 6,300 years, divided into three periods of 2,100 years.

After three such periods of 2,100 years - that is, after 6,300 years - the developing disaster will be more radical than after an interim period of 2,100 years; and because the end of such an epoch of 6,300 years is drawing near, we need not ask what fate is to be expected for the world and for humanity.

But on the other hand, the powerful radiation crisis that we are facing in these days is also of special importance for the Gnosis; it will affect us in a particular sense if our attitude toward this new development is spiritually positive! The Gnostic victory of the future years will, therefore, be greater and more glorious than ever before in the past 6,300 years; in fact, it will be more significant than any previous Judgement Day in the last sidereal year, for we are now at the end of a major world cycle.

Let us now imagine that we had lived all through a sidereal year of 25,200 years; that we were not 30, 40, 50 or 60 years of age, but that we spent 25,200 years in this existence. We would have lived with humanity through many changes, through major and minor cosmic nights and days of manifestation. We would have experienced and suffered right through 36 minor changes, 12 moderate changes of 2,100 years, and 4 major changes of 6,300 years each. A considerable amount of knowledge would therefore be ours with regard to the workings and the consequences (positive and negative) of the radiation laws prevailing in the universe; the radiation powers relating to the world and mankind.

Nothing about the course of those radiations and the results thereof would be hidden to us. We would know a good deal about the powers active in the universe; at any rate our knowledge of them would suffice and enable us to analyse the next epoch of 2,100 years with ease. When we would have lived through all the twists and turns of time, urged by the radiation powers of the Logos, it would - after a long, long time - be very easy for us to determine when the new courses would start; we would know in advance what we were to expect. Having gathered so much experience we would then be able to construct, for instance, a monument like the Pyramid of Giza without a shade of speculation, forecasting or fortune-telling.

The builders of the Pyramid on the Nile were such people with an Eternity-consciousness, and that monument is an analysis in stone of what was to happen in the period of 6,300 years following its construction. A complete chronology has been laid down in it by the usage of various kinds of stone, by the scheme of construction and by the variation in the heights and widths of its corridors and halls. The Great Pyramid is, indeed, a prediction of everything that was to occur in the next epoch of 6,300 years, complete with dates, and all this definitely without any speculation, for the builders constructed it for that purpose on a strictly scientific basis, and they were guided by millions of years of investigation!

When we had lived so long and had gathered so much knowledge and experience in our being, then we would probably be able, if not to build a monument, then perhaps to write a kind of story about everything that is going to happen in the approaching period. As a means of expression, we could clothe this analysis of time in some kind of garment; of a myth for example, or some other romantic form that we could then present to humanity or to a part of humanity. This would be a rather lofty story, of course. It would nevertheless be a record of happenings in many, many former periods and, therefore, also of events in many times to come. The recorded facts would be fictitious, but yet true, for the story would be a positive analysis of the science of radiation, the consequences and the results of which had been verified in the course of millions of years. In full and justified faith everybody could accept this analysis, for the future would inevitably provide the proof of the story's veracity.

This is the way in which every Holy Language was shaped and scripture written. Besides the Pyramid of Giza, the analysis in stone of the universal science of radiation, humanity possesses the Holy Language, which gives the same messages and information.

Every age had its holy tales and will have them for all races and peoples as long as duality exists; stories which, indeed, are analyses of past and future contingencies, based on knowledge of the radiations; and these stories will always prove to be alike, from whatever races, peoples or periods they descend.

The central figure may be indicated as Moses, Krishna, Jesus the Christ, Buddha or anyone else of the Very Select, but in truth it is always the same analysis of the universal science of radiation. The tales of all races and peoples and periods will always be fundamentally alike, because they are given to humanity by liberated, absolutely redeemed Entities who voluntarily assist the non-liberated part of mankind. As members of the August Body of Christ, they willingly serve the Divine Plan of Salvation. Naturally, these Entities have full knowledge of the universal science of radiation, and from this knowledge they preach to the non-redeemed people when a new period is about to begin, telling them how it will and must be, how they must react in order to be redeemed; to realise Deliverance.

Whoever forgets the information and advice of the Select can always reach for the tale, for the storied analysis of the science of radiation contained therein. Undoubtedly you will now see the enormous value of the Bible for all of us. This is why the enlightened Rosicrucians said of the Bible: "Blessed is he who possesses it, blessed is he who reads it, blessed is he who understands it, but blessed above all is he who comprehends it and obeys!"

The Book of Revelation in the New Testament is also a revelation of the science of the cyclic radiations.

(end of the article from RARE INSIGHTS)

2012 AND THE RING OF FIRE

Seismic and volcanic activity in the "ring of fire" signal the beginning of the apocalypse prophesied for the year 2012.

This earthquake was located in Indonesia, a country of 17,000 islands that make up the so-called Ring of Fire around the Pacific Ocean basin where plate boundaries intersect and volcanoes regularly erupt. Although scientists cannot predict exactly when seismic events will occur, seismologists had predicted this quake. In the March 17 2005 issue of the journal Nature, researchers at the University of Ulster-Coleraine in Northern Ireland reported that stress was building in the Sumatran subduction zone as well as in the adjacent Sunda Trench. They warned that the stress was likely to be released in another seismic event. The faults are part of the Pacific "ring of fire," where continental plates grind against each other and spark periodic seismic shocks.

The Ring of Fire has been quoted in many prophecies as being the first indicator of the end times when the geologic upheaval begin to increase in frequency. Over the last century, we have seen many severe earthquakes, but the frequency in such a concise time period has increased since the 1990s. Author Nina Anderson based her novel, 2012 Airborne Prophecy, on the prophetic Ring of Fire predictions, which alerts the reader to possible human causes for the acceleration of the earth's instability. In the book, she projects that present levels of wireless technology are rising and this frequency saturation will eventually create a harmonic disturbance that could generate an instability of the earth's crust.

In 2012 Airborne Prophecy we are warned that the experiments with targeted ionospheric or subsurface electromagnetic frequencies disregard any conclusive evidence of safety to our planet. A illuminati generated unexpected earthquake two years ago in Colorado shook residents and stirred controversy. New powerful ionospheric heaters are working to improve communications with submarines and to be used as subterranean radar to locate underground defense facilities. These frequency-based devices created by the evil technology of the demonic Jinns are unseating the continental plates and spawning the rash of earthquakes in the Pacific or and they are part of our unfolding end-days prophecies.

IN THE MEANTIME 2012 ALREADY CAUSES CONTROVERSY WITH ISLAM

The 2012 London Olympics have been plunged into controversy by the discovery that the Games will clash with Ramadan, the most holy month in the Islamic calendar.

The clash will put Muslim athletes at a disadvantage as they will be expected to fast from sunrise to sunset for the entire duration of the Games.

In 2012, Ramadan will take place from July 21 to August 20, while the Olympics run from July 27 to August 12.

An anticipated 3,000 Muslim competitors are expected to be affected.

About a quarter of the 11,099 athletes who took part in the 2004 Athens Olympics came from countries with predominantly Muslim populations.

Because the Muslim calendar is based on a lunar cycle, the ninth month of Ramadan - which runs from the appearance of one new crescent moon to the next - gets earlier by around 11 days each year.

The clash will be a huge embarrassment for Lord Coe, Culture Secretary Tessa Jowell, and London Mayor Ken Livingstone, who have been keen to ensure the Games involve all Britain's ethnic communities.

Massoud Shadjareh, chairman of the London-based Islamic Human Rights Commission, said: "They would not have organised this at Christmas. It is equally stupid to organise it at Ramadan.

"It shows a complete lack of awareness and sensitivity.

"This is going to disadvantage the athletes and alienate the Asian communities by saying they don't matter.

"It's not only going to affect the participants it's going to affect all the people who want to watch the Games.

"They won't want to travel during Ramadan and they won't want to watch sport. It's a spiritual time."

Shaykh Ibrahim Mogra, an imam on the Muslim Council of Great Britain, said: "I'm sure the athletes will seek advice from their scholars.

"They are obviously going to be at a disadvantage because other competitors will be drinking and keeping up their energy levels.

"But they are athletes and I am sure they will train their bodies to cope with this.

"A Muslim might feel it would have been nice to avoid this month but life doesn't stop for Muslims during Ramadan even though they are fasting.

"The best thing for a Muslim is to continue his or her life as normal. This is the real test."

The British Olympic Association is now planning a meeting with the organisers of London 2012 to discuss how the timing will affect UK Muslim athletes.

And Muslim countries such as Turkey are calling for the date to be changed.

Togay Bayalti, president of the National Olympic Committee of Turkey, said: "This will be difficult for Muslim athletes.

"They don't have to observe Ramadan if they are doing sport and travelling but they will have to decide whether it is important to them.

"It would be nice for the friendship of the Games if they had chosen a different date."

n fo

The International Olympics Committee insisted the Games take place some time between July 15 to August 31, giving more than a week either side of Ramadan.

IOC spokeswoman Giselle Davies said: "We give a window to the five bid cities. The host city selects the dates within that window.

"The Games bring together virtually every religion and creed. How to deal with religious clashes is up to the athletes."

Joanna Manning Cooper, spokeswoman London 2012, said:
"We did know about it when we submitted our bid and we have always believed we could find ways to accommodate it.

"We had lots of things to consider when we submitted our dates, including the fact that transport will be less crowded in the summer holiday.

"We also need 70,000 volunteers and this is the best time to find them.

"We are working with the Muslim Council of Great Britain to find ways to accommodate Ramadan during the London Games."

These words by Joanna Manning Cooper show that the illuminati and their London Brothers organizing London 2012 are deliberately creating this conflict for their evil psychological war against Islam especially in 2012...

THE EYE IN THE PYRAMID OF NONSENSE

On Raymond Mardyks' website, (now unavailable), he decodes the Great Seal of America, which appears on every dollar bill the infamous seal of the illuminati Order. The Seal shows a 13-step pyramid with the date 1776 in Roman numerals, on it. Just as the pyramid of Kukulcan has 91 steps on each of the 4 sides, making 364 in all, plus the top level giving the number 365, the Great Seal pyramid also has an encoded calendrical meaning. Like some Maya pyramids, it has a date on it, but in the Gregorian calendar. 4 sides of 13 levels gives 52, which is the number of weeks in our year. However, 13 and 52 are also the key numbers in the Mayan calendar systems.

In the Great Cycle, there are 13 baktuns of 20 katuns each; each katun consists of 20 tuns, so there are 5200 tuns in the Great Cycle. There are also 52 haabs in a Calendar Round. Some Mayan groups named cycles after end dates rather than beginning dates. They would also have seen a series of 13 katuns as a significant cycle. 1776 was not only the year that the Declaration of Independence was signed (on the 4th of July), but was also a special year in the Mayan calendar. Just as the last katun in the Great Cycle is "katun 2012", the first katun in the cycle of 13 was "katun 1776". In fact, the katun ended 33 days before the signing. So 1776 is the bottom level of the pyramid, where the date is actually inscribed – the top of the pyramid is therefore 2012.

The top would also be 2012 if each level represented one of the 13 baktuns in the Great Cycle, with 3114 BC at the bottom. The top of the Great Seal pyramid shows as we know an eye-in-triangle, which has been associated with Sirius, God, the pineal gland, and the Illuminati. Mardyks goes on to point out that not only was the Egyptian calendar based on the rising of Sirius, but that "the Sun is astrologically conjunct Sirius every year on July 4 for the birthday of the United States of America". Also, some Mayan groups froze their New Year to July 26, "when Sirius rises in that part of the world." On January 1 at midnight, Sirius culminates, reaching its highest point in the sky, at the only time of year when it is visible all night long.

For the astrologically minded who understand that which is above is the same as that which is below, check out the links between 1776 and 2012 by the positions of Uranus & Pluto and get ready for some big events in the next 5 years culminating on the 21st of December 2012 in the GREAT WAR against what many of you describe today as the Reptilians that we know in the illuminati as evil Jinns the muslims call HABIS RUH.

More on the coming war against the Reptilian HABIS RUH in my next article.

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

Today Solana meets puppet master Kissinger (1/9/2007)

Javier Solana is meeting today with good old Henry Kissinger.... (Check the time table of Javier Solana)

http://www.consilium.europa.eu/cms3_applications/applications/solana/index.asp?lang=DE&cmsid=246

TUESDAY 09 JANUARY 2007

Visit to United States
New York City

09:00
Meeting with European Ambassadors

10:00
Address to UN Security Council on the Democratic Republic of Congo

14:30
Meeting with Henry Kissinger

The Leo Wanta affair: lawyer letters (1/9/2007)

Note: copy and paste the images below and enlarge them in order to read them better

New Grand Secretary at the United Grand Lodge of England (1/10/2007)

The MW The Grand Master has appointed Brother CNR Brown to be Grand Secretary and Grand Scribe E with effect from 1st February 2007.

Brother Nigel Brown was born in Lusaka in the then Northern Rhodesia and was educated in Southern Rhodesia. From the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst he was commissioned into the Grenadier Guards, retiring as a Captain. He then spent 15 years in senior management, and for the past 12 years has been a business consultant specialising in advising clients on winning competitive global tenders.

He is married with two adult children, has been a Freemason for 19 years and is currently serving as a Deputy Grand Director of Ceremonies.

Big in Japan .'. (1/10/2007)

Dear Leo,
Thank you for your message and your requirement about latest development of the Japanese Jesuit legacy.

However, for your information, please have a look at this article about Japanese Yakuza in which you can find a name of Ryoichi Sasagawa (already died) with Jean Paul II. This Sasagawa (war criminal) was a Knight of Malta. Together with Kodama, they were asset of CIA and as you may know, Japanese current ruling party, LDP was created and financed by CIA. Sasagawa created the Anti Communist League and their political influence is still big, especially via Unification Church of Moon. As for Opus Dei in Japan, they are "officially" active in Kobe since 1950s, but we cannot get much information about their real activities at present in Japan.

http://www.voltairenet.org/article30028.html?var_recherche=YAKUZA%20KODAMA?var_recherche=YAKUZA%20KODAMA

http://www.voltairenet.org/article30068.html?var_recherche=YAKUZA%20KODAMA?var_recherche=YAKUZA%20KODAMA

However, as you could see in the Spellman Code (or Supelman like the one in Nostradums), there seems to be something related to the conspiracy with Opus Dei in Manila. The guy who was arrested after the kidnapping was married to Philipino woman and we believe he was CIA member, although the mass media hid it or even not investigated his real identity or what was a real purpose.

The real purpose of this "kidnapping" was said money, but we believe that it was to hide something or distract the people's attention from something or to communicate the content of that strange letter, which was composed by Japanese Hiragana, Kanji, and Katakana.

As anagram mania, we tried to decode the content using the part of Katakana. In fact, it was a strange letter without any important content and just very long. But the first sentence in Roman alphabet showed us the terrible content as I have shown and we are convinced that there is an international network behind this message to announce a kind of agenda for the future to their members in Japan.

I have to mention the fact that just before the kidnapping, Rothschild came to Japan and stayed in Tokyo for quite a long period and there was also an AEI meeting to discuss about future war between China and Japan (they said how to make war between Japan and China but not how to avoid it!). In spring, there was an annual meeting of Trilateral Commission in Tokyo.

Immediately after the kidnapping, on 17.1.2006, the police has suddenly investigated the company Live Door and next day on 18, a guy related to the scandal (I believe there was also money laundering behind together with politicians) found dead in Okinawa, and announced "suicide". Apparently he was murdered like Hara-kiri by somebody else with soccer shirt of JUVENTUS(which was also too strange because this shirt disappeared after and I found there was also a message in this Italian soccer team owned in the past by Agnelli of Fiat).

Mass media never tells us the truth, but just manipulate people with wrong information. This guy was told that he was doing some preparation of Casino project in Okinawa. We found that Casino Austria International (of which major shareholder is said Vatican), was also preparing a huge project in Okinawa (was it a conflict of interests?).

The content in Japanese of the Spellman said "nikete kudasai=nigete kudasai = please run away" and addressee from Sendai was Togu (it means otherwise Prince Naruhito=mason). Run away from what? Run away from future plots of Nuke terrorism or an attack in Sinai prepared by Mossad and Queen? Who is Paul, how he will get 10 millions, for what reason, using Opus Dei Manila and death at Manila?

Are they all just a matter of coincidence?. No, I believe, this is really a code for NWO agenda by somebody. Was it prepared by Opus Dei or Jesuit in Japan or coming from outside Japan (I believe so) ?

Most of message in these anagram have been realized so far, such as attack by Israel in Lebanon, or Missile from North Korea etc, except Peking uses nuke on US(may be in a future "THEY" are preparing ??) But. why Duke of Kent and why Nassau? (Prince Naruhito and Masako with Aiko went to visit Holland's Royal Family this summer and it was quite unusual for the royal tradition, have they escape something ?)

This story of Spellman or Spellman has not yet finished and we still continue to examine all aspects and I thank you for your important information about Gelli and P2 as well as the relationship between Duke of Kent , Vatican and Opus Dei. It was a real key to understand the message in this code. We think there are "usual suspects" of writer or commander but we don't know exactly who was a commander.

So please keep this information secret and not tell about it at this stage at your radio show, but for you only. However, you can also discuss with your most confident and serious people around you, because if these anagrams show the future plots of agenda for Armageddon, we have to be very careful and I think there is a network of money laundering and terrorism such as Mafia/Yakuza/Unification church /Jesuit or Opus Dei or Vatican/CIA/P2/Mossad/Mason etc etc for promoting NWO agenda.

I will continue to check for other events to know who are the members of this network within Japan (I think most of mason politicians) and I will appreciate your information if you could find some hints or important news related to this code.

Sincerely yours,
Sarah

Illuminati Confessions Correspondent from Japan

Between the demonic and the miraculous (1/10/2007)

Jesuit Athanasius Kircher and the Baroque culture of machines

In the photo the Sanctuary of the Mentorella dedicated to the Black Mary (Isis) were many key Jesuits including Athanasius Kircher got their heart buried under the altar. It is a very important Sanctuary for the Jesuits were all Pope's go in pilgrimage including Ratzinger to worship the Great Mother Goddess and the heart of the Great Jesuit Master and alchemist Athanasius Kircher.

Unabridged draft of essay published in abridged form in The Great Art of Knowing: The Baroque Encyclopedia of Athanasius Kircher, ed. Daniel Stolzenberg, Stanford: Stanford University Libraries, 2001, pp. 59-70

Introduction: Serious jokes

From the magnetic Jesus walking on water described in his very first published book, the 1631 Ars Magnesia, to the unfortunate cat imprisoned in a catoptric chest and terrified by its myriad reflections shown to visitors to his famous museum, the peculiar mechanical, optical, magnetic, hydraulic and pneumatic devices constructed by Athanasius Kircher (1602-1680) continue to defy the analytical categories used in both traditional museum history and history of science.[1] Although Filippo Buonanni (1638-1725) later attempted to reduce the machines of the Kircherian museum to the status of mechanical demonstrations, even adding some of his own[2], it is clear that for Kircher and his immediate entourage, these machines were, in some real sense, magical. Far from being trivial addenda to a collection of antiquities and naturalia, the documents suggest that Kircher's machines were utterly central to any seventeenth century visit to the Musaeum Kircherianum. But, from the point of view of traditional histories of science, Kircher's machines remain defiantly perplexing. Their emblematic, ludic, and deceptive connotations sit ill with any attempt to place them within grand histories of "experimental science" emphasizing the demise of Aristotelianism through the triumph of an "experimental method" during precisely the period in which the Kircherian museum enjoyed its exuberant heyday. From the point of view of the history of collections, the machines accumulated by Kircher and his disciples in Rome cannot merely be treated as objects removed from circulation, or from their original context of usage, as these machines had no original context of usage, and did not circulate prior to their display in the museum.[3] Rather, we are dealing with purpose-built installations, constructed ad hoc by Kircher and his changing body of assistants, technicians and disciples in the Collegio Romano.

So what are we to make of these magical machines? This article attempts to situate Kircher's machines in a Baroque culture of artificial magic. Using contemporary accounts of visits to Kircher's museum and other documents, it aims to recover the purpose of these devices, to understand how they worked, not only by peering inside them to examine their secret workings, but also by looking outside them at how people responded to them, and at how Kircher and his Jesuit companions placed this part of their output in a rich tradition of artificial magic that has commonly been overlooked or trivialised by historians of science. We will argue that Kircher's machines found their meaning in a flourishing Baroque culture of special effects. In the same way that "inside jokes" confirm the identity of a particular social group, while excluding the majority of people who are not privy to the assumptions on which the joke is based, the machines of Kircher and his disciples provided an elite social group with self-defining puzzles and enigmas.

The game of deducing the natural causes behind the strange effects produced by Kircher's magical machines, such as a clepsydra apparently pouring water upwards into a "watery heaven", really caused by a hidden mirror, was somewhat akin to fox-hunting or golf in our society: if you could play the game, your identity as part of a particular social elite was confirmed. If you could not play the game, and had to assume that demonic forces were responsible for the strange effects you were witnessing, you were doomed to the ranks of the vulgar masses. In this respect, Kircher's machines had much in common with courtly emblems and enigmas, and the culture of "sprezzatura" which countless behaviour-manuals vainly attempted to divulge in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.[4] Like many types of joke, Kircher's machines are, we argue, inherently conservative. They rest on a shared mystery – the hidden causes behind the visible effects. To challenge the received picture of the causes operating in the natural world in response to such a machine would thus amount in a strong sense to spoiling the joke for everybody else.[5]

At the core of Kircher's marvellous machines, then, lies a robust epistemological conservatism. Kircher's machines thus offer us an alternative to conventional stories of the inevitable collapse of Aristotelian natural philosophy through direct experimentation, and require us to refine our understanding of the roles played by machines, experiments and instruments in seventeenth century natural philosophy. The culture of the elite audience for which Kircher's machines were designed is inscribed graphically on the machines themselves – one need only consider such items as the water-vomiting two-headed Imperial Eagle (fig. 1, see also fig. 2), or the perspectival trick unjumbling an image of Pope Alexander VII. Indeed, one could arguably take this further and view the Musaeum Kircherianum as a whole as something of a self-portrait of an elite, primarily a Roman Catholic elite centered around the twin poles of the courts of Rome and Vienna. This elite was not a "given" quantity when Kircher's museum came into existence – rather the museum helped to construct and consolidate the elite while the elite helped to construct the museum by corresponding with Kircher and providing him with portrait medals, natural curiosities and other objects for his collection.

At the centre of a vast correspondence network, and increasingly famous through his lavishly illustrated encyclopedic publications, Kircher wielded considerable power to shape the social group represented in his museum. Limited only by his religious poverty, Kircher extended his network at will to include powerful Protestants such as Duke August of Brunswick-Lüneburg or Queen Christina of Sweden, prior to her conversion. In a revealing letter to Duke August's librarian Johann Georg Anckel, Kircher wrote that he had immediately had Duke August's portrait "framed in gold and put up in my Gallery as a Mirror of the magnanimity, wisdom and generosity of the high-born prince", adding that "my Gallery or museum is visited by all the nations of the world and a prince cannot become better known in hoc Mundi teatro than have his likeness here. And if the expense were not so great I would do this for all Germans, but I must cut my coat according to my cloth".[6]

As well as holding up a trick-mirror to an elite audience, Kircher's museum also emblemized the Jesuit order itself. Many of the curious natural objects and artefacts of remote cultures present in the museum were sent to Kircher by Jesuit missionaries, who constitute the single most numerous group of his correspondents. Some of Kircher's machines provide striking emblematic depictions of his order – his universal catholic horoscope of the Society of Jesus was a large sundial representing the Jesuit order as an olive tree, with the different Assistancies or administrative divisions of the order represented as branches, and the different colleges represented as leaves. Tiny sundials placed in each province give the local time, and the shadows of the gnomons of the sundials, when aligned, spelled "IHS", the abbreviated name of Jesus and symbol of the Jesuit order, which appears to "walk over the world" with the passing of time (fig. 3).[7] In Kircher's museum, visitors were also shown "a large crystalline globe full of water representing the resurrection of the Saviour in the midst of the waters".[8] One of the aims of this article is to understand the relationship between such artefacts and Kircher's position in the Jesuit Collegio Romano. The moment of the creation of the Musaeum Kircherianum coincided with a disciplinary crisis in Jesuit education that led the superiors of the order to condemn departures from Aristotle in philosophy, including natural philosophy or physics, and from Thomas Aquinas in theology. The works of Jesuit authors on natural philosophy during this period were closely scrutinized for anti-Aristotelian views.[9] The exotic publications of Kircher and his disciples seem to contradict this doctrinal fundamentalism, but we will suggest that the contradiction is only apparent. The treatment of machines and instruments, even those associated with criticisms of Aristotle, in the works of Kircher and his Jesuit apprentices in magic was designed to avoid conflict with fundamental Aristotelian principles.

The machines

Before taking a look at the the magical and mathematical traditions from which Kircher's machines emerged and the functions, mechanical and social, that they performed, it might be opportune to have a first glance at the machines themselves. In 1678 Giorgio de Sepibus (fl. 1678), Kircher's "assistant in making machines" published the first catalogue of the Musaeum Kircherianum.^[10] Little is known about De Sepibus, from the Wallis (Valesia) canton in Switzerland, who seems to have been an intermittent companion of Kircher, and is first mentioned ten years earlier in a letter from the Oratorian priest Francesco Gizzio to Kircher. In 1670 Kircher sent De Sepibus to Naples, where he brought a number of machines to perfection, with the exception of a "versatile pulpit" that was left incomplete. It is not clear when De Sepibus left Kircher's service, but by 1674 Kircher seems to have feared him dead, so with all likelihood the catalogue was completed well before its publication.^[11] De Sepibus provides us with a summary list of the machines present in Kircher's museum, which may serve as our starting point:

1. Two helical spirals most skilfully measuring cycles with the twisted coils of snakes. An organ, driven by an automatic drum, playing a concert of every kind of birdsong, and sustaining in mid-air a spherical globe, continually buffeted by the force of the wind.
2. A hydrostatic-magnetic machine, representing the hours, zodiac, planets and the whole fabric of the heavens. The hours are described by means of a very simple motion, in which images of the Sun and Moon alternately ascend and descend vertically. The divisions of the hour are marked by the sympathetic motion of the flight of small birds.
3. A magnetic-hydraulic machine displaying the time all over the world, as well as the astronomical, Italian, Babylonian and ancient hours.
4. A little fountain moving the globe weighing down on the head of Atlas in a circle by hidden movements.
5. A fountain lifts a genie fixed in the water up and down, with a perpetual motion of tossing about and turning.
6. A fountain in which the Goddess Isis, contained in a crystalline sphere, is sustained, and greets guests by spraying water everywhere.
7. A hydraulic machine that apes perpetual motion, recently invented by the Author, consisting of a clepsydra that flows out when it is inverted, and again when it is turned the right way up, wetting a watery heaven with its spray.
8. A hydraulic machine most skilfully representing the Primum Mobile, and violently impelling a brass snake resting on top of the water in twists and turns by water.

9. A water-vomiting hydraulic machine, at the top of which stands a figure vomiting up various liquids for guests to drink.

10. A hydraulic clock urging or carrying globes or genies up and down inside crystal tubes of five palms in height, indicating the different times.

11. A hydraulic machine, which supports a crystal goblet, from one side of which a thirsty bird drinks up water, that a snake revomits from the other side while opening its mouth

12. A hydrotectonic machine moving armed knights from one place and a crowd returning from another by means of continual drops.

13. A two-headed Imperial Eagle, vomitting water copiously from the depths of its gullets.

14. A crowd of dancing genies driven by the silent approach of water

15. The dove of Archytas reaching towards a crystalline rotunda and indicating the hours by its free flight.

16. The catoptric theatre, completely filled with a treasure of all sorts of delicacies, fruits, and precious ornaments

17. An architectural perspective representing the arrangement of the rooms inside a magnificent palace.

18. A perpetual screw, the invention of Archimedes, by which it is an easy matter to lift 125 pounds with the strength of a very weak small boy.

19. A large crystalline globe full of water representing the resurrection of the Saviour in the midst of the waters.

Various thermoscopes, or thermometers which indicate the daily growth of simples, the mutations of the air, the ebb and flow of the tide, and the variation of the winds, together with experiments on the origins of springs.

An extremely large concavo-convex burning mirror, with a collection of many mirrors, some of which show ghosts in the air, others show objects unchanged, others show them multiplied and others reconstitute completely undetermined species from a confused series into a beautiful form. Amongst these there is one which reconstitutes the effigy of Alexander VII.

....

A large number of mechanical clocks, one of which plays harmonious music by a concert of bells with an elaborate movement, at any hour it plays the sound, also every half-hour with a marvellous harmony of notes and sweetness of sound it plays the hymn Ave Maris stella. Another one indicating the time of day by the movement of a pendulum. Another, finally, giving the minutes and seconds of time. The part of the world illuminated by the sun, the increase and decrease of day and night. The current sign of the zodiac, the astronomical and Italian hours, as well as the ancient hours, or the unequal hours, which it describes along a straight line by a singular artifice. Many sundials.

...

Armillary spheres, and celestial and terrestrial globes, equipped with their meridians and pivots. Astrolabes, Planispheres, Quadrants, a very full collection of mathematical instruments.

...

The Delphic Oracle, or speaking statue.

A Divinatory Machine for any planetary influence at the circumference of two glass spheres by genies moved uniformly by a mutually sympathetic motion. Twisting themselves to the same degree at a large distance, each of them in his sphere indicates the same point of the sign.

Various motions of solid globes bearing a resemblance to perpetual motion.

A hydraulic perpetual motion by rarefaction and condensation, an Archimedean screw carrying globes up with a continual motion through helical glass channels.[12]

This list is both illuminating and opaque – while allowing us to form an idea of what some of the machines may have looked like or sounded like, it gives us little or no idea of how they were perceived by contemporaries. Let us take one of them at random -- “the Delphic Oracle, or speaking statue”, the description of which De Sepibus leaves to the final chapter of his catalogue of the museum’s contents, stating that “we have rightly left the greatest machination of art until the final course”. What was this great “machination”? How did it work? Why was it made? De Sepibus gives the following description of the oracle:

Kircher has [sic, for “had”] a tube in the workshop of his bedroom, arranged in such a way that the porters, in order to call him to the door when business demanded it, used not have to take the trouble to go all the way to his bedroom, but merely called him in a normal voice at the door that gave access to the open-air garden. He heard their words as clearly as if they had been present in his bedroom, and answered in the same way, through the tube [...] Later he transferred this tube to the Museum, and inserted it into a statue in such away that the statue, almost breathing life, is seen to speak with its mouth open, and its eyes moving. He named this statue the Delphic oracle, as it was in the same way, by the ingenious trick of stuffing tubes into the mouths of idols, that the ancient priests of the Egyptians and Greeks deceived the people consulting the oracle and made superstitious men give valuable offerings[13]

A manuscript draft of De Sepibus' description (in Kircher's handwriting incidentally, suggesting that he had a rather active role in the composition of the 1678 catalogue), is conserved amongst Kircher's manuscripts in the Pontifical Gregorian University, in which he sometimes calls the machine the Oracle of Apollo, but otherwise describes it almost identically.[14] Kircher's earlier 1673 work on sound and acoustics, the Phonurgia nova, gives us a more detailed account of the machine, and its changing role in the Collegio Romano:

There was a repository in my Museum, between the wall and the door. At the end of the repository was an oval shaped window, looking out over the domestic garden of the Collegio Romano, which is about 300 palms in length and width. Inside this repository, or workshop, I adapted a conical tube to the length of the space, made from a length of 22 palms of sheet-iron, the speaking hole of which did not exceed $\frac{1}{4}$ of a palm in diameter. The tube, however, had a diameter of one palm at its aperture that then grew gradually by continuous and proportional increments in diameter so that the orifice of the part extended out of the oval window towards the garden had a diameter of three palms. We have seen how the tube was made, now we will also explain its effect.

Whenever our porters had to inform me of something, either of the arrival of guests or of any other matter, so that they would not be inconvenienced by having to come to my Museum through the labyrinthine corridors of the college, while standing inside the porters' lodge they could talk to me while I remained in the remote recesses of my bedroom, and, as if they were present, they could tell me whatever they wanted clearly and distinctly. Then I too could respond in the same tone of voice according to the demands of the matter, through the orifice of the tube. Indeed nobody could say anything inside the garden in a clear voice that I could not hear inside my bedroom, and this was a thing seen as completely new and unheard of by the visitors to my museum, when they heard speech, but couldn't see who was talking. So that I would not be suspected of some prohibited Art by the astonished people, I showed them the hidden structure of the device. It is difficult to say how many people, even including many Roman Nobles, were attracted to see and hear this machine.

...

It happened later that I was required to transfer my Private Museum into a more suitable, and open space in the Collegio Romano, that they call the Gallery. Here, the tube that I have briefly described before was also moved, and even now it is looked at and listened to under the name of the Delphic Oracle, with the following difference: the tube that previously propagated clearly spoken words plainly into a distant space, now acts secretly in ludic oracles and false consultations with a hidden and quiet voice, so that nobody present is able to perceive anything of the secret technique of the reciprocal murmured conversation. And when it is exhibited to strangers even to this day, there are not lacking those who harbour a suspicion of demons among those who do not understand the machine, for the statue opens and closes its mouth as if it was speaking, and moves its eyes. Therefore I built this machine in order to demonstrate the impostures, fallacies and frauds of the ancient priests in the consultation of oracles. For while they gave their answers through secret tubes (described in the Oedipus), they urged the people to give offerings extravagantly, if they wanted their prayers to be answered. And consequently, by this fraud, they were able to greatly increase their wealth. In any case I would not deny that they also secretly involved demons in their works.[15] Kircher's Delphic oracle reveals much about the role of machines in his Museum, and also much about the history of the museum itself. We are told that Kircher had a "private museum" before he transferred his collection to the Gallery of the Collegio Romano after the "official" founding of the museum with Alfonso Donnini's 1651 bequest of his collection of antiquities to the Collegio Romano. [16] Where was this "private museum"? In the passage cited from the Phonurgia Nova, Kircher identifies it explicitly with his "cubiculum", or bedroom in the Collegio Romano. So, even before Kircher was in charge of the Gallery of the Collegio, his own bedroom functioned as a museum, containing within it a storage area or workshop, from which his speaking-tube originally allowed him to communicate with, or occasionally eavesdrop on, people in the College garden and the college porters, who, one imagines, must have been pleased with this labour-saving device. In England, at around the same time, another prominent mathematical magician, John Wilkins (1614-1672), made a similar speaking-tube in the gardens of Wadham College, Oxford. One day, a certain Mr. Ashwell was strolling through the college, shortly after Cromwell had urged the Fellows of Oxford University to bring the Gospel to Virginia. As he passed the statue of Flora, he was astonished to hear it say to him "Ashwell goe preach the Gospel in Virginia", in a Puritanical translation of Kircher's Jesuit machine.[17] To return to Kircher's multi-purpose bedroom in the Collegio Romano, however, it may appear strange that this domestic space also functioned as a museum, and clearly attracted enough visitors to warrant the development of an intercom system. In fact, there was a long tradition in the Collegio Romano before Kircher's arrival of describing the bedroom of the senior mathematician of the college as the musaeum mathematicum. Christoph Clavius (1538-1612), famous for his commentary on the Sphere of Sacrobosco, and for his extensive activities as a Jesuit mathematical pedagogue, kept mathematical instruments, clocks and manuscripts in this space, a space that also served as the focus for the activities of the private mathematical academy of the Collegio Romano. Unlike the normal mathematics lectures that formed part of the College's public curriculum in philosophy, often taught by a junior professor, the mathematical academy was founded with the specific aim of teaching mathematics professors for the Jesuit colleges in the different provinces of the Order. Generally, the bedrooms of Jesuits were not provided with keys, but, along with the rooms of the Superiors and the Procurator (responsible for the financial affairs of the College), the room of the senior mathematician of the College formed an exception.[18] The added security of a key meant that the mathematics professor could store valuable mathematical instruments in his domestic space. The musaeum mathematicum of the Collegio Romano then, formed a space for advanced level mathematical teaching and for the formation of close relationships between master and disciples, relationships which generally continued through correspondence after the apprentice mathematicians left to teach the mathematical disciplines in the provinces. When Christoph Clavius died, in 1612, his correspondence, manuscripts, instruments and position as the most senior mathematician of the Collegio Romano were inherited by the Tyrolese Jesuit Christoph Grienberger (c. 1564-1636). After Grienberger's death in on 11 March 1636, the manuscripts collected by Clavius and Grienberger, their "archive" of correspondence, and their instruments seem to have all passed to Kircher. So, although Kircher only occupied the position of public mathematics professor for a short time, he inherited the musaeum mathematicum, a space in which the building of instruments and machines was already an established tradition. Indeed, Kircher's far more modest predecessor Grienberger was rumoured to have invented a speaking statue himself.[19] We find ample references in the works of Kircher to the documents and objects Kircher inherited. In Kircher's 1641 book on magnetism, the Magnes, for example, Kircher states clearly that "I have collected together many observations concerning magnetic declination that are not to be rejected [...] partly from the Archive that I possess of mathematical letters sent from the different parts of the globe to Clavius, Grienberger and my other predecessors as Roman mathematicians of the Society of Jesus".[20] Emulating the private mathematical academy directed by Clavius and Grienberger before his arrival in Rome, Kircher gathered private disciples around him who were also able to avail of the instruments and documents that Kircher had inherited from his mathematical predecessors. While working as Kircher's assistant in Rome between 1652 and 1654, Kaspar Schott (1608-1666) seems to have spent much of his time leafing through the papers of Clavius and Grienberger: "In the manuscripts of the most learned man Fr. Christoph Grienberger [...] that I found in the Clavius and Grienberger archive", he wrote in his Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, "I came across the following words about this Machine made by Bettini, and an opinion about perpetual motion".[21] Describing a machine in which a sphere was suspended in the air and rotated about its centre, Schott wrote "I found the following machine amongst the papers of Fr. Christoph Clavius and Fr. Christoph Grienberger, once professors of mathematics in this Roman College of ours. However it was in the handwriting of neither of them, nor was it composed by them, as it smelled of neither of their lanterns. I suspect that it was sent to Clavius by one of the disciples of Francesco Maurolico, the Abbot of Messina, for it cites a small unpublished treatise of his. But, whomsoever's manuscript it is, I have judged it fitting that it should be inserted here, since it can be applied to many things by an industrious artisan".[22] Schott also borrowed items from the Clavius and Grienberger "mathematical archive" that he did not acknowledge – a demonstration of how to lift a golden earth using the force of one talent, using a system of toothed wheels published in his Magia Universalis is lifted directly from an unpublished manuscript by Grienberger that Kircher would have possessed, as is a passage extolling the powers of mathematics and the extraordinary achievements of Archimedes in the same work.[23] Schott and De Sepibus also inform us about instruments, experiments and machines that Kircher had inherited from Clavius and Grienberger, and subsequently transferred to the Gallery after 1651, such as a trick-lantern made by Grienberger that performed in the same way when filled with water as with oil, and a sample of water from the river Jordan that Clavius had sealed hermetically in a glass vial, perhaps the most undramatic of Kircher's museum exhibits, demonstrating the incorruptibility of water by remaining forever unchanged. A wooden astrolabe made by Grienberger was also displayed prominently in the museum, though by the time Sepibus compiled his catalogue it had been almost completely eaten away by woodworm.[24] From all these examples, it should be clear that Kircher effectively inherited a space, complete with manuscripts, instruments and experiments, that already had a well-established role in the Collegio Romano – the musaeum mathematicum, and that many of the functions of this space did not change dramatically with Kircher's arrival in Rome, when the space became his "private museum". Indeed, it seems that most Jesuit colleges where mathematics was taught in the mid-seventeenth century had a mathematical museum of some description, which was normally the bedroom of the senior mathematician of the college where the mathematical instruments could be locked away, though most would have been far more modest than that of the Collegio Romano. An example is Valentin Stansel's mathematical museum in Prague, where Jakob Johann Wenceslaus Dobrzensky de Nigro Ponte saw a hydro-magnetic fountain clock, that he described in his Nova, et amaenior de admirando fontium ... philosophia. [25] The descriptions of Kircher's Delphic oracle quoted above also reflect on other aspects of his machinic installations. Kircher claims to have built the device in order to expose the "impostures, fallacies and frauds of the ancient priests", so the ludic machine bears a moral burden. The corruption of the good magic given by God to Adam into a tool of deception and evil-doing in the hands of the post-diluvian Egyptians is a theme that crops up frequently in the works of Kircher and Schott, and we shall return to it. In the house of a certain Francesco Serra, Kircher and Schott had seen an example of an Egyptian speaking statue (fig. 4) designed to contain just such a speaking-tube as that hidden in Kircher's Delphic Oracle, illustrated in the Oedipus Aegyptiacus. [26] The section of this work dealing with Egyptian mechanics contains many examples of the tricks employed by Egyptian priests to deceive worshippers, and many of the machines in Kircher's museum relate to the debunking of Egyptian magic (see e.g. fig. 5, fig. 6). A "multimammary Goddess", for example, spraying forth liquid from her multiple breasts (fig. 7), is described both in the Oedipus Aegyptiacus and in Schott's Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, where Schott writes: "many thought that this work was constructed with the art of prestidigitation and of demons, but Fr. Kircher clearly showed that this was a devious machination of the priests [...] and he has a small machine in his museum that he displays to this end". [27] Describing another Egyptian device, an altar on which small gods or demons dance (fig. 8), Kircher writes "A devious invention elaborately contrived by either Priests or evil demons in order to enslave the stupid and ignorant plebs in idolatrous servitude, so that nothing more effective or powerful could be devised for the cult of false gods". [28] It is interesting that, while exposing the fraudulence of the magic of the Egyptian priests, Kircher will nonetheless not rule out their involvement with demons. One might have thought that the priests' impressive technical skills would have removed any need for traffic with real demons. Regarding Kircher's own performances with his Delphic oracle, we are also told that he was frequently suspected of involvement with demons by his less perceptive visitors, and that he explained the functioning of the machine in order to remove suspicions of him practicing "some prohibited Art". Traffic with demons was no laughing matter in the mid-seventeenth century, at the height of the European witch-craze. One could well imagine that a less well-inclined audience might well view Kircher's wonders in an altogether different light. Indeed, on one of the few occasions when Kircher performed in front of a larger audience, this was precisely what happened. Kircher, in his early twenties, had recently arrived in Heiligenstadt after being stripped of his clothes and nearly killed by heretical soldiers who recognised him as a Jesuit, and a legation sent by the Archbishop-Elector of Mainz was about to be received in the town. The following excerpt is from his posthumous autobiography: And because it was decided to spare no magnificence to provide an appropriate welcome for the legates, I was commissioned to arrange a theatrical performance. When I exhibited this, as they saw some things that went beyond common knowledge, the legates who witnessed the performance were so excited to great admiration that some of them accused me of the crimes of Magic, with some people say other things against me. In order to free myself of such an ugly crime I was obliged to expose the mechanisms of all of the things that I had exhibited. And when this task was discharged to everybody's great satisfaction, so that they could hardly be separated from me, I also gave them a new collection of Mathematical Curiosities together with a laudatory panegyric in exotic languages composed in their honour, by which things resulted no small increase in their benevolence towards me.[29] It is clear from this episode that Kircherian magic flirted dangerously with the boundaries between technical ingenuity and the "prohibited art" of demonic magic. The Elizabethan magician John Dee (1527-1608), similarly came under suspicion of demonic magic in England when he constructed an automatic "scarabeus" that flew up to Jupiter's palace during a performance of a comedy by Aristophanes, when in fact the theatrical trick was achieved by "pneumatithmie" or by "waights".[30] Perhaps this very flirtation with the black arts was a source for titillation for the princely and religious audience of Kircher's wonders – an audience directly involved in the persecution of popular magic during the same period – allowing them to experience the "armchair-thrills" of magic without being morally implicated.[31] Jesuit theatrical productions during this period were particularly famous for their stage-machinery – convincing representations of hell were a speciality – and for their hard-hitting moral didacticism, both features that they shared with Kircher's machinic-performances, as we have seen in the case of the Delphic oracle.[32] Other inventions of Kircher's also appear to have come under suspicion of demonic magic, including the magnetic anemoscope that he built in Malta (fig. 9), while he was supposed to be providing spiritual guidance to Landgrave Ernst of Hessen-Darmstadt, relied, like many Kircherian machines, on a hidden magnet. The magnet, rotated by a wind-vane, caused a figure of Aeolus, the god of winds, suspended in a glass sphere, to point to the direction of the wind marked on the outside of the sphere. Some of the Knights of Malta who witnessed Kircher's machine apparently suggested that it must contain a real demon, and Kircher, yet again, had to take pains to demonstrate that his brand of magic was entirely natural.[33] Anatomies of machines and mechanical anatomies By the time that De Sepibus' catalogue was published, the Musaeum Kircherianum had entered a dramatic phase of decline, only to be resurrected through the efforts of Filippo Buonanni in the early years of the eighteenth century. The famous frontispiece of De Sepibus' work, and many of its contents are misleading, as they represent Kircher's museum as occupying a space that it had long abandoned, due to General Oliva's decision to transform it into a library for the Jesuit "scriptors", excused from teaching duties in order to devote themselves to writing works for publication. The frescoed lunettes and large windows of the space depicted and described in De Sepibus' catalogue had long been forsaken for a dark corridor, much to the dismay of the ageing Kircher. The catalogue thus presents immediate problems as a historical document of Kircher's museum. By 1678, Kircher, depicted on the frontispiece of De Sepibus' catalogue warmly welcoming a pair of visitors to his museum, was nearing death, and spending almost all of his time in the Marian shrine of the Mentorella in the hills of Lazio, where his heart was soon to be buried.[34] De Sepibus' catalogue of the museum, then, crammed with illustrations culled from Kircher's other works, must be regarded as a monument to a dead, or at least dying and transfigured institution. In order to understand the magical nature of the machines on display in the museum, many of which had fallen into disrepair by 1678 we will have to look elsewhere. Long before De Sepibus published the catalogue, repeated attempts to publish a description of Kircher's gallery had been made by Kircher's close disciple Kaspar Schott.[35] Schott's association with Kircher had begun in 1630, when he was studying in Würzburg, a city that both Schott and his master had to abandon with the onslaught of the Swedish troops of Gustavus Adolphus in 1631. Whereas Kircher fled to the South of France, arriving in the Jesuit province of Lyon along with 40 other Jesuit refugees, Schott made for Tournai, and then began a series of wanderings through Sicily, where he completed his studies and taught in a number of Jesuit colleges.[36] Between late 1652 and 1654, Schott was finally reunited with Kircher in Rome for an extraordinarily intense period of activity centered around the recently founded museum, a period that was to fuel his prolific output in the years that followed.[37] In addition to assisting Kircher in the museum, Schott performed a number of other tasks. While Kircher laboured to complete his monumental Oedipus Aegyptiacus, Schott patiently edited the third edition of Kircher's Magnes. An anonymous foreword by the "Author's colleague in literary matters" inserted into this edition gives a graphic picture of the conscientious approach taken by Schott to this task: I examined and emended all of the calculations and arithmetic tables with great care. I inspected the words in Latin, Greek and Hebrew of authors who were cited in the original sources and where they had been corrupted I restored them. I compared the magnetic declinations and inclinations, and other observations sent here to the Author (who had asked for them by letters) with the autographs, and eliminated typographical errors. I inspected the diagrams even engraved on brass or wood, and emended the mistakes, restoring the missing or erroneous letters, lines and signs. For several elevations I substituted more accurate ones. From time to time I eliminated words, or added them, or changed them, when I noticed that the sense was either false, altered or unclear. In arranging the Appendices, Paradoxes, Problems, and new Experiments and Machines written by the Author, or given to me to write, I conserved an order that altered the order of the previous editions as little as possible [...] I omitted, finally, no task that I felt would contribute to the splendour of the Work.[38] Modern editors may take note. As well as working as Kircher's editor, Schott was deeply involved with the machines of the museum, and it is to his works that we will turn to attempt to situate Kircher's machines in a magical tradition. Schott's Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica was published in 1657, shortly after his return to Germany. Apart from the appendix, which dealt with the new "Magdeburg" experiment carried out by Otto von Guericke to demonstrate the existence of a vacuum, Schott had composed the book while he was still in Rome with Kircher, as he explains in a "Notice to the Reader", excusing himself for often writing as if he was still living in Rome. Schott writes that he plans "to compose a Natural Magic, collected from the printed works and manuscripts of the most learned man Athanasius Kircher, of world-wide fame, and also from all of his notes and loose pieces of paper that are in my possession, as well as from the works of other approved authors and the inventions of ours (i.e. Jesuits), composed in all trustworthiness and as the result of much study, established through my own experiments and those of others". His promised work, subsequently published as the Magia Universalis Naturae et Artis, will contain "various, curious and exotic spectacles of admirable effects, wonders of recondite inventions, that are rightly called magic, free from all imposture and suspicion of the forbidden Art". [39] In the meantime, Schott's Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica consists in an exhaustive description of the hydraulic and pneumatic machines found in Kircher's museum. As he writes in the preface to the work: There is, in the much-visited Museum (that we will soon publish in print) of the Most learned and truly famous Author mentioned above (i.e. Kircher), a great abundance of Hydraulic and Pneumatic Machines, that are beheld and admired with enormous delight of their souls by those Princes and literati who rush from all cities and parts of the world to see them, and who hungrily desire to know how they are made, and so that I can satisfy their desire to know the construction of the machines, I have undertaken to show the fabric, and almost the anatomy of all of the Machines in the said Museum, or already shown elsewhere by the same author.[40] Schott promises to give his readers detailed instructions on how to make instruments "for garden pleasures, for the utility of houses, for the commodities, and ornaments, particularly of Princes, who derive greater pleasure of their eyes and souls from these things than they might expect profit for their estate. Neither will we be satisfied with delighting only the eyes, we also prepare a feast for the ears, with various self-moving and self-sounding organs and instruments, that we will excite to motion and sound only by the flow of water and the stealthy approach of air, with no less ease than skill".[41] Schott's Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, then, provides an eloquent "identikit" picture of the ideal audience for Kircherian wonders, a leisured, decadent class of princes and cardinals, quite happy to turn their minds away from pressing matters of church and state in order to delight their minds, eyes and ears with the sensual pleasures provided by Kircherian machines. From the rich study of the intellectual culture of the Habsburg monarchy carried out by R.J.W. Evans, we see that this description was entirely consonant with the consuming interests of the prominent members of the Viennese courts of Ferdinand III and Leopold I.[42] The wonders described in Schott's work give us a vivid picture of how Kircher and his disciples went about satisfying the remarkable thirst for hydraulic and pneumatic curiosities of a Catholic elite on a daily basis. In one instance, Schott describes an incident in which the two Jesuit companions came across the marvellous spectacle of a "water-vomiting seat" in a Roman villa: Lately Father Kircher and I were wandering through the fields of Rome to take the air, and we went into a suburban villa, on the facade of which an elegantly made sciatheric sundial was painted. While we were looking at this curiosity, we were invited by a Noble Frenchman to inspect the building and garden more thoroughly. We entered, and first saw a most delightful pleasure-garden, filled with flowers and fruit, and ornamented with statues of all kinds. We then entered a most elegant house, ornamented with paintings, emblems, epigrams, and epigraphs in Latin, Greek and Arabic, and thoroughly filled with statues and artificial machines, so that even Pope Innocent X, as he was being carried through the same fields with the delight of his soul, entered the same house and garden, and was not reluctant to honour it with his presence. The villa belongs to Jean Laborne, a French Presbyter and Knight of the same Pope. Amongst the other things, by which I was most delighted, was a seat known as hydratic or water-vomiting because of its effect.[43] If we are to take De Sepibus's list of machines as a guide, we are forced to conclude that the predominantly German princely audience of the productions of Kircher and Schott had a peculiar fascination with regurgitation. From the two-headed Imperial Eagle (fig. 1), belching water copiously from its twin gullets, to the "water-vomiting hydraulic machine, at the top of which stands a figure vomiting up various liquids for guests to drink", not to mention the various birds and snakes ingesting and throwing-up water from goblets, the spectacle of retching, puking, and spewing seems to have been the very epitome of good taste and noble amusement for the visitors to Kircher's museum (see e.g. fig. 10). Schott further confirms this impression of an "emetophilic" Catholic elite. One of the most endearing machines of his Mechanica is a "cancer vomitor" (fig. 11), illustrated as a nauseous lobster, bending forlornly over the edge of a goblet in its unhappy state. One is left unsure whether sea-sickness or the drinking of the goblet's contents is responsible. Like a number of the machines illustrated in Schott's works, this device was adapted from the popular work by Daniel Schwenter (1585-1636), later expanded by Georg Philipp Harsdörffer (1607-1658), the Deliciae Physico-Mathematicae. [44] Perhaps the most graphic demonstration of the cult of emesis is in Schott's description of a French visitor to Rome with an unusual talent: While I was writing this, Jean Royer, a Frenchman from Lyon, who is superior to all in the art that we have been discussing, arrived here. From his stomach he brought forth twelve or fourteen differently coloured perfumed waters, most perfect liquors, distilled wine that could be set alight, and rock oil that burned with a lamp-wick, lettuces and flowers of all kinds, with complete and fresh leaves. He also exhibits a fountain by projecting water out of his mouth into the air for the time of two Misereres.[45] The description of this technicolour spectacle is followed by a letter from Kircher, in which he reassures worried readers that the digestive system of Mr. Royer was entirely free of demonic interference, and that his stomach-churning feats were carried out purely through the manipulation of natural causes. Royer, it transpires, had even entertained the Emperor at Regensburg, also exhibiting his “art” before “five kings and many princes and learned men”. In Schott’s work, Royer himself is classified as a machine – “Machina VII”, included with other incontinent “hydropota”. Moreover, in order to ensure that his talent was entirely natural, Kircher had studied his act closely in the Musaeum Kircherianum itself, so he certainly earns his place in a discussion of the museum’s hydraulic machines.[46] The Miserere, incidentally, appears to have been a commonly used and even somewhat standardized unit of time measurement for seventeenth century Jesuit experimenters. Elsewhere, Schott describes one of his more dangerous experiments involving heating a sealed glass tube full of mercury, recounting that “after about the time in which Psalm 50, Miserere mei Deus, can be recited, it opened a way for itself with great violence and noise” When Schott performed this experiment in front of the son of the Duke of Holstein, the noise of the explosion brought the young nobleman’s servants running in fear of an assassination attempt. Jesuits describing Manfredo Settala’s burning mirrors in Milan remarked that “the smaller mirror, that burns at a distance of 7 braccie, works in barely an Ave Maria, whereas for the one that burns at 15 or 16 braccie, which works more slowly, you have to wait for a whole Miserere”. One can imagine the groups of Jesuits as they recite the rosary and sing hymns while incinerating objects with burning glasses, causing terrifying explosions or witnessing Jean Royer’s superhuman feats of projection.[47] The catoptric cat Robert Darnton has remarked that the torture of cats was a source of constant amusement in early modern Europe, and that the historical investigation of arcane forms of humour has much to offer our understanding of major historical transformations. His famous study of the “great cat massacre” carried out by a group of Parisian printer’s apprentices allowed him to investigate the social tensions that formed the historical prologue to the French Revolution.[48] More recently, Thomas Hankins and Robert Silverman have used Darnton’s insights in an original study of some of the more ludic machines and instruments produced by Kircher and others, in particular the sunflower clock (fig. 12) that Kircher displayed to Nicholas Claude Fabri de Peiresc in Aix, and the “cat piano”, a grisly musical instrument, said to have been invented by Kircher, that worked by prodding the tails of cats with spikes driven by a keyboard.[49] Whereas for Darnton’s Parisian apprentices, the torture of cats was a humorous means for an abused community of labourers to score a symbolic victory over their wealthy bosses, for Kircher and his princely clients the manipulation of animals and automata was arguably a symbolic means of reinforcing the political and philosophical status quo. Schott recounts that one of the most “artificial and delightful” machines in Kircher’s museum was a catoptric chest, presumably identical with the “catoptric theatre” described by De Sepibus (fig. 13). Two other catoptric chests existed in Rome, according to Schott, one in the Villa Borghese and the other in the “villa of some other Prince”, and both exhibited wonderful spectres of objects – forests of pine trees, cities, elegantly furnished houses, treasures of gold and silver vases and pearls and infinite libraries of books, that seem so real that even those who were knowledgeable in catoptrics were sometimes fooled, and less intelligent people frequently held out their hands and attempted to take hold of the “species of things”, to the great amusement of spectators. Kircher’s catoptric chest, however, far surpassed the competition, both in multiplying species and in displaying illusory scenes. It could display infinite colonnades, tables covered with all sorts of delicacies, inexhaustible treasures, to the great torment of avaricious visitors who often, according to Schott, attempted to make off with the infinite quantities of money contained in the chest, only to be left with a handful of air. “You will exhibit the most delightful trick”, Schott informs us, “if you impose one of these appearances on a live cat, as Fr. Kircher has done. While the cat sees himself to be surrounded by an innumerable multitude of catoptric cats, some of them standing close to him and others spread very far away from him, it can hardly be said how many capers will be exhibited in that theatre, while he sometimes tries to follow the other cats, sometimes to entice them with his tail, sometimes attempts a kiss, and indeed tries to break through the obstacles in every way with his claws so that he can be united with the other cats, until finally, with various noises, and miserable whines he declares his various affectations of indignation, rage, jealousy, love and desire. Similar spectacles can be exhibited with other animals".[50] The catoptric chest, then, is an instrument for the manipulation and revelation of the passions. It is a theatre of social distinction, using visual illusion for the detection and display of baser human traits such as avarice and the instinctual passions of animals. An understanding of the magical art of catoptrics can allow one to trick people (and cats) into revealing their hidden natures. Kircher's emotionally confused catoptric cat is thus very different from the pampered aristocratic cats slaughtered by the Parisian artisans described by Darnton. By making a spectacle out of incivility or popular superstition, devices such as the catoptric theatre, the Delphic oracle and the various vomiting-machines shown to visitors to Kircher's museum contributed to a particular definition of early modern European civility.[51] Many of Athanasius Kircher's machines were thus civilizing machines. Descartes' Treatise on the Passions of the Soul, published in 1649, attempted to provide a manual to instruct his readers both to combat the effects of the passions on the soul and to dissimulate their outward manifestations.[52] The vogue for automata and machine-models of the human body in the seventeenth century was closely connected to the desire to exercise control over the body through discipline and manners. The Jesuit educational system, experienced by Descartes as a schoolboy at La Flèche, laid great emphasis on bodily comportment and behavioural discipline, epitomized by the choreographed movements of Jesuit ballet. The limits of the man-machine metaphor exercised a powerful fascination over Kircher's contemporaries. While Marin Mersenne (1588-1648) theorized about mechanised musical ensembles, and instruments such as the "Archiviole", allowing a single player to play multiple musical instruments simultaneously, and shortly after Justus Lipsius (1547-1606) had theorized about the well-disciplined army as a war-machine, Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679) opened his Leviathan, published in the very year that the Musaeum Kircherianum was officially founded, with the famous metaphor of the commonwealth as a giant automaton, manipulated by a single monarch.[53] Peter Dear has recently evoked the close links between the mastery of the passions, the rise of European absolutism and the culture of automata in early modern Europe.[54] We have frequently been led to discuss the wonders produced by Kircher and Schott in magical terms. But just what was the magic practiced by Kircher, that he took such pains to distinguish from the illicit arts that invoked the aid of demons? What were its boundaries? How did it intersect with natural philosophy, and with the mathematical arts? How did it find a home in the bosom of the Jesuit order and, especially, in Kircher's Museum? Kircherian magic: The roots of a paradigm Kircherian machines, we have suggested, like Jesuit rhetorical devices, emblems and learned orations, helped to draw a boundary between elite and vulgar. To mount an attack on the causal knowledge at the core of the Kircherian culture of machines on physical grounds was comparable to challenging the authenticity of the Corpus Hermeticum and the traces of the prisca sapientia contained in Egyptian hieroglyphics on philological grounds. Both challenges threatened the mystical core of a structure of political power in which the Jesuit order constituted the cement linking the Counter-Reformation Papacy to the Habsburg court in Vienna through a sophisticated network of intermediaries. The intellectual project of Kircher's Oedipus Aegyptiacus, supported by Ferdinand III, cannot be separated from Kircher's artificial magic.[55] Kircher's marvellous machines took their place alongside his wooden reconstructions of Egyptian obelisks in the Musaeum Kircherianum. A letter from Schott inserted into the first volume of Kircher's Oedipus Aegyptiacus gives us a revealing picture of the mutual legitimation that characterised Kircher's close relationship with his Habsburg-linked clients: In Kircher's archive, I discovered an enormous number of letters, many of which were sent by him at every moment by Princes of the Christian world, and the supreme heads of the Roman Empire, and the Most Wise Emperor FERDINAND III, the Most Serene and Most Wise Queen of Sweden Christina, many Most Eminent Cardinals of the Holy Roman Church, Most Serene Electors of the Holy Roman Empire, Most Distinguished and Illustrious Dukes, Princes, Counts, Barons and innumerable Nobles of the same Empire and other Nations, all of whom admire and praise Kircher's learning, and thank him for the books he sent them and for his other enormous productions, they urge and solicit him to print other monuments to erudition, they offer him help and protection, they communicate secrets, and ask for arcana, and for the unravelling of arcane matters, they seek the interpretation of exotic languages, strange inscriptions, and unknown characters, and various questions. I would have appended here various long letters from Emperors, other Princes and almost all the learned Men of this century, showing singular affection and respect if the small space and the Author's modesty had permitted and if I had not reserved that for a different time and place[56] While Kircher provided princes, young and old, with enigmas, puzzles, emblems and arcane knowledge that confirmed their social distinction, they provided him with financial support and conferred authority on his works. Elsewhere Schott tells us of a revealing dream that Kircher had in the Collegio Romano while suffering from a serious bout of illness. After requesting a strong sleeping-mixture of his own specification from the college pharmacy, Kircher fell into a deep sleep, and dreamt that he had been elected to the Papal throne and was overcome with joy. He received legations and congratulatory messages from all the Christian princes, applause from all peoples, and, in his dream-role as Pope, built colleges and churches in Rome for the different nations of the world, and established "many other things for the propagation of the Catholic faith". Schott is particularly interested in the healing capacities of Kircher's dream – the older Jesuit pronounced himself to be restored to full health the following morning. However, without too much imagination, his dream might also be seen as hinting at more than a modicum of personal ambition on Kircher's part. Although some of Kircher's other nocturnal visions were later transformed into reality, most dramatically a graphic vision of the imminent destruction of the Jesuit college in Würzburg by the Swedish armies of Gustavus Adolphus in 1631, his narcotically-induced dream of the papal tiara was never to be realized, although one is tempted to wonder what directives he might have issued in this role.[57] Despite the fact that Kircher was never elected Pope, he was arguably the ruler of his own invented polity. The Oedipus Aegyptiacus contains no less than thirty-one separate letters of dedication for its different sections and provides us with a suggestive map of Kircher's political universe. Prominent dedicatees include: the holy Roman Emperor Ferdinand III, Pope Alexander VII, Ferdinand IV King of the Romans, the Grand Duke of Tuscany Ferdinand II de' Medici, Johann Philipp von Schönborn, Elector of Mainz; Archdukes Leopold Wilhelm and Bernhard Ignaz of Austria, Johann Friedrich Duke of Brunswick-Lüneburg, and a host of other princes, cardinals, counsellors and confessors of the Holy Roman Empire. Kircher's Oedipus Aegyptiacus provides an ancient pedigree of magic that justified its revival amongst his distinguished dedicatees and their peers, a pedigree echoed in Gaspar Schott's Magia Universalis. In its broad lines, legitimate magic was first given by God to Adam, along with the other forms of knowledge. However, true magic was corrupted, through the "Cainite evil", leading to the division between "licit" and "illicit" magic. The architect of the corruption of magic was, as Pliny recounts, Zoroaster. But which Zoroaster? A number of different Zoroasters appear in the history books. On this subject, many learned authors were in disagreement, but Kircher and Schott, aided by a manuscript of the apocryphal Book of Enoch studied by Kircher in the Greek library of Messina, are in agreement that Zoroaster is identifiable with Noah's rebellious son Cham, who learned this art from the impious Cainites before the Flood and inscribed it on stones and columns so that it would not be destroyed in the deluge, transmitting it to his followers once the waters had abated. These columns were the very columns described by St. Augustine, when he wrote in the City of God that Cham, Noah's son, erected fourteen columns bearing the canons of the arts and the sciences, seven made of brass and seven of bricks. After propagating his magic in Egypt, where he had settled after the flood and the linguistic confusion of the Tower of Babel, Cham left his kingdom to his son Misraim, and departed to spread the astrological and magical arts to Chaldea, Persia, Medea and Assyria, eventually obtaining the name "Zoroaster", meaning "living star" as he appeared to be consumed with celestial fire in his zeal to spread magical knowledge.[58] What is magic? Schott tells us that magic is whatever is "marvellous and goes beyond the sense and comprehension of common men". Common men because to "wise people or those who are more learned than the common people the causes of magical effects are normally apparent". Natural magic, according to Schott, is "a recondite knowledge of the secrets of nature, that applies things to things, or, to speak philosophically, actives to passives, in the correct time, place and manner, by the nature, properties, occult powers, sympathies and antipathies of individual things, bringing about some marvels in this way that appear magical or miraculous to those who are ignorant of the causes". An example of natural magic is asbestos that resists combustion in flames, as Kircher had demonstrated very frequently in Rome. Other examples of natural magic include the magnetic marvels described by Gilbert, Cabeo and Kircher, and the effects of music on the venom of the tarantula, also described by Kircher. However, one must beware, as not all magic said to be natural is truly so, the sunflower's supposed capacity to make men invisible being an example of something that couldn't possibly happen naturally. Schott's encyclopedia of natural and artificial magic comprises four parts: Optics ("that is those things regarding sight and objects that are seen, and whatever in Optics, Catoptrics, Dioptrics, Parastatics, Chromatics, Catoptro-Diopthro-Caustics, Catoptrologics, and other similar sciences, arts, practices and secrets is rare, portentous and beyond the understanding of the common people, when they perceive rays directly, relected or refracted at the eye"), Acoustics ("that is, whatever pertains to hearing, and the object heard, and it will explain all of hearing, sound, the human voice, harmony, the Oeconomy of music, by analogy to the oeconomy of sight and vision, colours, lights, and their appearances, but only the rarer, less obvious ones that fall under praxis and operation"), Mathematics ("that is Arithmetic, Geometry, Astronomy, Statics, Hydraulics, Pneumatics, Pyrobolics, Gnomonics, Steganography, Cryptology, Hydrography, Nautical matters, and many other things, but only the rarer and more amusing and wonderful matters, and most of the practical things that come under human industry") and Physics ("whatever is wonderful, paradoxical or portentous in Nature. Of this kind are magnetism, sympathy, physiognomy, metallurgy, botany, stichiotics, medicine, meteorology, the secrets of animals, stones and innumerable other things").[59] Natural magic has two branches in Schott's system: operative and divinatory. The latter include such arts as physiognomy, allowing a person's character to be determined by examining their features, colour and voice. Divinatory natural magic, however, cannot be used to find supernatural gifts or sins, as these don't depend on nature but on free human will. Artificial magic, or operative natural magic, is, in Schott's definition "an art or a faculty of producing some wonder through human industry, by applying various instruments". Schott's examples of this art, culled from an assortment of classical sources, include the glass sphere of Archimedes described by Cicero, which depicted the motions of the different planets (fig. 14), the flying wooden dove of Archytas, the small golden birds singing to the Byzantine emperor Leo, and the flying and singing birds and hissing serpents of Boethius. More recent pieces of artificial magic included the eagle of Regiomontanus that reportedly flew to meet Charles V when he was arriving in Nuremberg, and accompanied him to the gates of the city, and an iron fly also made by Regiomontanus that flew out of the hands of its artisan, and flew around the assembled guests, and a statue in the shape of a wolf that walked around and played a drum, that Schott had heard about from an eyewitness. The talking head reportedly made out of brass by Albertus Magnus was a further example of artificial magic for Schott. Whereas some claimed that this was a mere fable, and others suggested that it was the work of the devil, Schott disagreed, arguing that it was made by human industry alone. Kircher himself, Schott had just heard in a letter sent from Rome, was in the process of making just such a speaking statue for the visit of Queen Christina of Sweden to the Musaeum Kircherianum, "a statue that will have to answer the questions that it is asked". The Delphic Oracle, then, places Kircher's magical productions in a highly respectable historical series of artificial wonders, and rids Albertus Magnus of the suspicion of sorcery that allegedly led Thomas Aquinas to destroy his talking statue of Memnon.[60]

The machines in Kircher's museum occupy a central place in Schott's exhaustive account of the licit magical arts. But what exactly were the boundaries of these arts? Where is the point of transgression? Schott's answer is simple: illicit magic involves pacts with demons rather than the mere application of human industry and artifice to natural causes. Following the principal Jesuit authorities on the matter, the humanist Martin del Rio (1551-1608) and the philosopher Benito Pereira (1535-1610), Schott insists that demons are restricted to the manipulation of natural causes. Only God can effect miracles that go against the natural order. Demons are, effectively, just very good artificial magicians, manipulating natural causes with greater dexterity than even the most adroit instrumentally-enhanced human being.[61]

But what exactly is the order of nature that even demons cannot pervert? Schott's answer is unequivocal: demons are bound to obey the laws of Aristotelian natural philosophy! "They cannot create anything, as this exceeds the power of acting naturally. Neither can they derive a substantial form immediately from a subject, without a prior alteration, because this cannot be done naturally". Demons cannot even create a vacuum, "as Nature abhors this and no experiment carried out until now proves that a vacuum has been made, as we have said in the Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica". If demons could not make a vacuum, what chance did Evangelista Torricelli, Valeriano Magni or Otto von Guericke stand of doing so? Schott's account of the absolute limits of artificial magic reveals its staunchly Aristotelian core. The artificial magic practiced and described by Schott and Kircher relied on an unchanging body of assumptions about the normal behaviour of the natural world. Schott's Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica had opened with a list of the four fundamental principles underlying all hydraulic machines: the "attractive power to avoid a vacuum", the "power of expulsion, avoiding the penetration of bodies", the rarefactive power (i.e. the "expulsion or attraction of water by rarefaction and condensation") and the weight of the water seeking equilibrium. The purpose of Schott's work is not to investigate the truth of these principles, which have the status of axioms. Instead, his aim is to catalogue the surprising effects that can be obtained by combining these causes in different ways.[62]

In discussing Otto von Guericke's experimental demonstration of the existence of a vacuum using his antlia pneumatica, Schott remarks casually that of course, the plenitude of nature is invulnerable even to an angel, and thus Guericke's device could never have produced a real vacuum. A refusal to allow the instrument to produce new natural philosophy did not put an end to Jesuit discussions of hydraulics. Instead, the device was removed from circulation in the philosophical domain and relocated within the context of the Wunderkammer. Schott's Mechanica-Hydraulico Pneumatica includes the experiments performed by Evangelista Torricelli and Gasparo Berti to demonstrate the existence of the vacuum in a section entitled De machinis hydraulicis variis, where they are surrounded by a ball made to spin in the air, a perforated flask for carrying wine known as the "Sieve of the Vestal Virgin", and a "phial for cooling tobacco smoke". Unhealthy philosophical readings of Machina VI (the Torricelli and Berti tubes) are dismissed by Schott as the writings of "Neotherici Philosophastri" and "insolent and unmannerly braggarts proclaiming a triumph before victory".[63]

To situate the Torricellian experiment in the context of trick fountains and water-vomiting seats was to insulate it from the Aristotelian philosophy taught in the classrooms of Jesuit colleges. In a strong sense, then, the Aristotelian physics at the basis of the artificial magic of Kircher and Schott was invulnerable, except to occasional Divine intervention. Machines combined a pre-established set of causes to produce surprising effects, leaving the spectators to attempt to decipher the combination of natural causes underlying the appearances. Schott's accounts of natural and demonic magic drew heavily on the comprehensive treatment of magic composed by the Antwerp-born Jesuit Martin del Rio, the Disquisitionum Magicarum Libri Sex, first published in 1599. Del Rio was a scholarly prodigy before he joined the Jesuit order. At the tender age of twenty he published a work on the Latin grammarian Gaius Solinus, later attacked by Claude Saumaise. Shortly afterwards, he published a work on Claudius Claudianus that cited more than 1,100 authors. Before he joined the Jesuit order he occupied the important public offices of Senator of Brabant, Auditor of the army, Vice-chancellor and Procurator General. Del Rio's three-volume treatment of magic was an enormously influential work, the influence of which was felt in witch-trials as much as in the scholarly arena.[64] Chapter IV of Del Rio's work deals with artificial magic, which Del Rio divides into "mathematical magic", deploying the principles of geometry, arithmetic and astronomy, and "prestidigitatory magic", involving deliberate deception and sleight-of-hand. The former includes all the the famous mechanical marvels that Schott listed. Del Rio's approach to magic is to build an impenetrable wall between supernatural phenomena, which are the prerogative of God alone, and artificial and preternatural phenomena, which can be produced by men, by demons and by angels. Preternatural phenomena are those which appear to most people to go beyond nature's capacities, but are in fact achieved through the combination of natural causes by human, demonic or angelic agents. The belong not to the "Order of Grace", the realm of true miracles brought about by divine intervention in opposition the laws of nature, but to the Prodigious Order, reserved for phenomena that resemble miracles, but are in fact carried out through the manipulation of natural forces. [65] Kircherian thaumaturgy, then, appears to transcend what can be achieved through the human manipulation of natural powers, thus leading some to view them as being produced by demonic means. Good angels do not collaborate in magical works, according to Del Rio, so any magical feat that goes beyond human capacities, such as the production of healing effects through incantations, must be due to the "ministry of bad angels", that is to say the companions of Lucifer, as "no words have a natural power of healing wounds or illnesses, or driving away other injuries".[66] Incantations employed by Catholic priests in sacraments and exorcisms did not work naturally, but through the concurrence of divine grace, and thus belonged to the Order of Grace, and are thus excluded from the natural order. Kircher's machines ludically encouraged spectators to read them as wonders achieved through angelic or demonic concurrence. Many of the machines described in De Sepibus' list even contained small genies, angels and demons, moved by occult forces to point at letters, scales and inscriptions, a miniature automated population that positively cried out to be interpreted as preternatural, and belonging to Del Rio's prodigious order. While Descartes hypothesised a single evil genie to demolish the basis of scholastic metaphysics in the first of his Méditations Métaphysiques, Kircher and Schott employed an obedient army of them to uphold the core of Aristotelian physics (see figs. 8, 15, 16, 17). Benito Pereira, Schott's other chief authority on magical matters, was one of the most influential philosophers of the Jesuit order in the late sixteenth century, despite coming under suspicion of heterodoxy for his sympathy for the philosophy of Averroës.[67] Pereira's textbook on natural philosophy, De Communibus omnium rerum naturalium principijs & affectionibus, went through a great number of editions, and was widely used for teaching in Jesuit colleges. His widely read work on magic and divination, the Adversus fallaces & superstitiosas artes, id est, De magia, de observatione somniorum, et de divinatione astrologica, argued that demons could not pervert the natural order of the Aristotelian elements or create a vacuum, and this may have been the source for Schott's similar assertions. Pereira insists that men skilled in knowledge of nature can work great wonders by natural magic, but those who are either wicked or ignorant may only learn this art from demons, "for scarcely any mortal or certainly very few indeed, and those men of the keenest mind who have employed diligent observation for a long time, can attain to such natural magic".[68] Kircher clearly considered himself to be one of the latter, and offers us his own working definition of natural magic in his Magnes, a definition that is pretty close to those provided by Del Rio, Pereira and Schott: Here I call natural magic that which produces unusual and prodigious effects through natural causes alone, excluding any commerce, implicit or explicit, with the Enemy of humankind. Of this kind are those machines that are called for this reason "thaumatourgikai", that sometimes transmit prodigious movements to an effigy from air and water contained in siphons by a subtle art, and sometimes blow spirits into an organ arranged in a certain way to make statues burst forth in speech, and similar things, that can seem like miracles to people who are ignorant of their causes.[69] Kircherian machines thus walked a tightrope between the demonic and the miraculous. To understand how the magical aspects of Kircher's machines were experienced by contemporaries, it may be helpful to look at how Kircher's Musaeum was visited.

Visiting the machines The frontispiece of the fourth volume of the first edition of Kaspar Schott's Magia Universalis depicts a crowned man pointing a magic wand at a flowerbed, making a clear visual link between social status and the practice of natural magic. The opening of Schott's work provides a justification of magic that places Kircher's machines directly in the context of aristocratic visits to the Jesuit Collegio Romano: In my various long journeys through Germany, France, Italy and Sicily, and in my frequent occupation teaching mathematics both in public and in private, I have always found that almost everybody, especially Nobles and Princes, not only youths, but also men conspicuous for their learning, prudence, worldly experience and dignity displayed a propensity towards those disciplines that promise and set forward things that are marvellous, curious, hidden and beyond the comprehension of the common people. I hardly ever saw anyone, who, when he had achieved a little mastery of these matters, or had examined devices constructed from their prescription, was not thereby incited to continual study and did not surrender himself entirely to this discipline, or wish to do so if other occupations had permitted. Witnesses to this, to omit other examples, are the whole of Rome, and the most celebrated Roman College and Athenaeum of our Society, the seat and residence of Athanasius Kircher, a man of great fame in the whole world. For, every day the inhabitants of both [city and college] look at and admire (as I myself beheld with amazement and delight of my soul when I was [Kircher's] assistant in literary matters for a few years) those works that many people hasten at every moment to behold, excited by the fame of his learning and the desire of seeing the things that he displays in his famous Museum. These works, constructed from the recondite arts and sciences, are truly deserving of wonder. The visitors are drawn from the most illustrious ranks, in doctrine and dignity, including Royalty and Cardinals, foreigners as often as natives. How many of them are instructed privately by him, even if occupied by other most grave matters, particularly the sons of Princes, recommended by very polite letters, with profit flowing into their whole nations and even into the whole Roman Church as a result![70] Here Schott suggests that Kircher's museum in Rome functioned as a powerful magnet for a Catholic elite, attracting princely visitors to the Collegio Romano, and encouraging them to send their sons to be privately educated in arcane matters by Kircher. Kircher's aristocratic apprentices in magic would then return to their countries of origin, having acquired a taste for curiosity, and this would bring clear benefits both for their countries and for the Catholic church as a whole. Schott's description of the social function of the museum is consonant with the apostolic goals of the Jesuit educational system, as developed since the mid-sixteenth century. Ignatius Loyola's Majorcan assistant Jerónimo Nadal (1507-1580), famously remarked that "for us lessons and scholarly exercises are a sort of hook with which we fish for souls”.[71] In 1594 Christoph Clavius had argued that excellence in the mathematical disciplines would aid the Jesuits to gain precious ground on the Protestant pedagogues that were enticing aristocrats away from the Catholic church, writing that [T]here is no one who does not perceive how much it is central to every objective of the Society to have some men who are most outstandingly erudite in these minor studies of mathematics, rhetoric, and language [...] who would spread the eminent reputation of the Society far and wide, unite the love of noble youths, curb the bragging of the heretics in these arts, and institute a tradition of excellence in all those disciplines in the Society.[72] The creation of a private mathematical academy, along with similar academies for rhetoric, Greek and Hebrew, would, Clavius argued, create Jesuit experts in all of these disciplines, who, “when they are distributed in various nations and kingdoms like sparkling gems [...] will be a source of great fear to all enemies, and an incredible incitement to make young people flock to us from all the parts of the world, to the great honour of the Society”.[73] We have argued above that Kircher inherited Clavius’s musaeum mathematicum. Schott’s description of the function of Kircher’s museum as a magnet for a curious princely elite suggests that it had much in common with Clavius’s prophetic vision of the Jesuit educational apostolate. What was it like to visit Kircher’s artificial wonders? How did different visitors experience their magic? Arguably the most famous visit to the Musaeum Kircherianum was that made by the convert Queen Christina of Sweden. On 11 November 1651, Athanasius Kircher wrote a letter to Queen Christina in Stockholm: Your Majesty will know that our Society not only holds you in intimate affection, as is fitting, but also esteems and admires above all other things those rare and sublime treasures bestowed by heaven that divine bounty has hoarded up in your breast. This is especially true of this Roman College of our Society, both of the famous men and writers and of the novices, who have come from all of the nations of the world, where we speak 35 different languages, some native to Europe, Africa and Asia, the remainder to the Indies and America. And all of them are excited by the fame of your majesty's wisdom, and attracted by some unknown sympathetic magnetism, and their only ambition is to paint the extraordinary example of all virtues that your Majesty exhibits to the world in all the colours that it deserves.[74] Queen Christina's tour of the Collegio Romano in 1656 was the culmination of a lengthy process of rapprochement between the Queen and the Jesuit order which had begun in February 1652 when two Italian gentleman travellers, going by the names of Don Bonifacio Ponginibio and Don Lucio Bonanni, had arrived in the Royal court in Stockholm.[75] The two gentlemen, as Christina quickly divined, were in reality Jesuits, carefully disguised by long hair and beards. Paolo Casati and Francesco Malines, both highly trained in mathematics and theology, had set off from Venice on 8th December on their important mission to convert "Don Teofilo", as Goswin Nickel, the Vicar General of the order, had instructed them to call Christina in their letters. Christina had specially asked the General for mathematically skilled Jesuits, and spent as much time with her visitors discussing Galileo's Dialogo, atomism, and the latest books by Bartoli and Kircher[76] as the matters of faith that were the ostensible reason for the meeting. She received a copy of Bartoli's Dell'huomo di lettere[77] from her Italian visitors, and probably availed of their services to send a letter to Kircher in Rome in which she expressed a desire to have a chance to talk to the famous polymath more freely in the future.[78] Curiosity played a central role in Christina's abdication and relocation in Rome. The image of Rome which the Jesuit missionary mathematicians nurtured in the Queen's mind was one of a city in which the secrets of the natural world could be investigated under conditions of utter intellectual freedom, in stark contrast to the ascetic Lutheranism that reigned in Stockholm. Paradoxically, the very book that Kircher was to dedicate to Christina, the Iter Exstaticum, ran into serious difficulties on account of the atomist matter-theory which it sanctioned and which Christina also favoured.[79] The receptions of the Queen in the Collegio Romano were intended to further the image of the Jesuits' showpiece college as the home of cultivated Catholic curiosity. On 18th January 1656, Queen Christina made her first visit to the Collegio Romano.[80] 20 Swiss guards were placed at the door, preventing anyone from entering the building except the pupils of the lower classes, who were all meant to await the Queen in their classrooms. When the Queen arrived, the bells rang twice, and all of the Fathers, wearing cloaks, lined up inside the main door to receive her. The Queen entered the college with her entourage and the door was closed. In each class that the queen visited a pupil came forward to recite an epigram, and then presented her with a piece of printed satin brocaded with golden lace. When she had finished visiting the classes, she returned to the entrance, and went to visit the Church, where she prayed to Saint Ignatius and at the altar of Blessed Aloysius Gonzaga, while musicians sang some motets. As she had been unable to see everything during this first visit, Christina returned to the college on 30th January. She entered by the side door, where she was received by the General, the Roman Provincial, the Rector of the College and other members of the order. Her subsequent perambulations are described in detail in Galeazzo Gualdo Priorato's biography of the queen, and we cite from the 1658 English translation: She quickly went into the Library [...] Here her Majesty entertaining her self for some time, in viewing the many volumes, took pleasure too in looking on the Modell and Platforme of the City of Jerusalem, which was left by Father Villalpando, with the description of the streets, and holy places, consecrated by the journeys and passions of our Lord Jesus Christ. She then, going about the other sides, discovered some Greek and Latin Manuscripts lying open on a Table, and could judge of the Authors, shewing very great learning. She went thence into the gallery, that was near, where Father Athanasius Kircherus the great Mathematician had prepared many curious and remarkable things, as well in nature, as art, which were in so great a number, that her Majesty said, more time was required, and less company to consider them with due attention. However she stayed some time to consider the herb called Phoenix, which resembling the Phoenix grew up in the waters perpetually out of its own ashes. She saw the fountains and clocks, which, by vertue of the load-stone turn about with secret force. Then passing through the Hall, where she looked on some Pictures well done, she went through the walkes and the garden, into the Apothecaries shop, where she saw the preparation of the ingredients of herbs, plants, metalls, gemms, and other rare things, for the making of Treacle [i.e. Theriac] and balsome of life. She saw them distill with the fire of the same furnace sixty five sorts of herbs in as many distinct limbecks. She saw the philosophical calcination of ivorie, and the like. She saw extracted the spirits of Vitriol, Salt, and Aqua fortis, as likewise a jarre of pure water, which with two single drops of the quintessence of milke, was turned into true milk, the only medicine for the shortness of the breath, and affections of the breast. In fine being presented with Treacle [i.e. Theriac] and pretious oyles, she went into the sacristy, where they opened all the presses, where they keep the Plate and reliques of the Church, with the great candlesticks, and vases given them by the deceased Cardinal Lodowick Lodowiso the founder of the Church. She honoured particularly the blood of St. Esuperantia a Virgin and Martyr, which, after a thousand and three hundred years, is as liquid as if newly shed. Then going into the Church she heard Mass, and at her departure, gave testimonies to the Fathers of her great satisfaction and content.[81] The accounts of Christina's visits to the Collegio Romano resonate with the image of the College as both a theatrum mundi and repository of universal knowledge suggested in Kircher's letters to the Queen before her departure for Rome. Although Christina's case is conspicuous for its dramatic charge, the pattern is far from unique, and there are innumerable other examples of monarchs and aristocrats, Catholic and Protestant, being enticed into metropolitan Jesuit colleges throughout Europe rather as Chinese literati were initially enticed into Matteo Ricci's house, by the promise of arcane knowledge, curiosities, maps and mathematical instruments.[82] A manuscript chronicle of the Collegio Romano describes a large number of such ceremonial visits.[83] The transformation of the Collegio Romano into a theatre of curiosity had numerous precedents throughout the century. During the festivities to mark the canonization of Saints Ignatius and Francis Xavier in 1622, the College was transformed into ancient Rome, to echo the solemn ecclesiastical rites with "erudite allusion and ancient Apotheosis".[84] The Atrium and entrances of the Collegio were decorated to represent the Roman forum, while the Aula Magna became the Campus Martius, scene of the apotheoses of the Roman Emperors. Two large globes, at the main entrance, represented the old and new worlds, divided into thirty-four Jesuit provinces, with their colleges and houses marked on tesserae. Plays representing important events in the lives of Xavier and Ignatius were staged by the Parthenian academicians of the College and the members of the Roman seminary. The mathematics professor Orazio Grassi (1583-1654) staged an opera in the transformed Aula Magna for the occasion, the Apotheosis of Saints Ignatius and Xavier, set to music by Kapsberger, with elaborate stage-machinery.[85] Grassi also provided geographical demonstrations (ragioni Geografiche) that St. Francis Xavier was responsible for a larger amount of territory than any apostolic preacher, much as he had provided public mathematical demonstrations for the supra-lunary location of the comets of 1618.[86] By the time of Christina's visit in 1656, as Gualdo Priorato's account reveals, the College could boast two further sites of courtly display: the College pharmacy and the Musaeum Kircherianum. Building of the college pharmacy commenced on 5 July 1627, shortly after the commencement of work on Orazio Grassi's church of St. Ignatius[87], but the existence of Spetiali is evident from the Catalogues of the College back to 1598 and beyond.[88] In 1609 the category becomes "Aromatarius"[89], before the title of pharmacopolae was bestowed upon Francesco Vagioli and Francesco Savelli in the Catalogi of 1624-5.[90] The walls of the pharmacy were decorated with a series of (surviving) frescoed lunettes by Andrea Sarti and Emilio Savonanzi in 1629, depicting Galen, Hippocrates, Mesue, Andromachus and other authorities in medicine, botany and pharmacy. A painted panel at the centre of the ceiling depicted the patron saints of medicine, Cosmas and Damien, in the company of Saints Francis Xavier and Ignatius and the Madonna and child, a grouping lent legitimacy by the coincidence that the bull of foundation of the Jesuit order (27 September 1540) fell on the feast day of the medical saints.[91] A manuscript ground-floor plan of the Collegio[92] apparently dating from the mid-seventeenth century depicts the pharmacy as occupying at least five rooms. As well as producing the balsam of life, theriac and various other precious substances that could be distributed to potential patrons of the order[93], the numerous books of secrets that survive suggest that the pharmacy was used for alchemical operations as well as the production of candle-wax and even substances for combatting "carnosità", or carnality, clearly a dangerous enemy to Jesuit collegiate life[94]. As a site of display, the pharmacy played a part in a visit made by Urban VIII to the Collegio Romano as early as 1631.[95] The enormous spagyric furnace shown to Christina was depicted graphically in Kircher's Mundus Subterraneus,[96] where it bolstered Kircher's attack on alchemical charlatans. On Vincenzo Carafa's first visit to the college after his election to the position of Father General of the Jesuit Order in 1646 he was shown a large parchment bearing the recipes of the theriac and other medicines produced in the Jesuit pharmacy.[97] On the same visit, Carafa was brought to Kircher's "private museum", where he was shown the "universal horoscope of the Society of Jesus" (fig. 3) that we have described above. In its original form this device was cruciform in shape.[98] A less famous, but perhaps more observant visitor to Kircher's museum was the English traveller Philip Skippon. [99] Skippon, travelling in the company of the botanists John Ray, Francis Willughby and Nathaniel Bacon as well as two servants, visited Kircher's museum in 1664. He gives the following very detailed description of his visit: We visited father Kircher, a German Jesuit, at the Collegium Romanum (which is a very large and stately building belonging to the Jesuits). He shewed us his gallery, where we saw all his works, some of which are not yet printed; he hath translated an Arabick book into Latin; wherein the virtues of plants are discoursed. He said Johnston, the printer at Amsterdam, offered him 2000 for all his writings. His Roman medals were fixed within a wire grate on a turning case of shelves. This pope's picture seen in a glass that reflects it from the plaits or folds of another picture. An organ that counterfeits the chirping of birds, and at the same time a ball is kept up by a stream of air. The picture of the king of China. A picture of father Adam Schall, a German Jesuit, who is now in great favour with the king of China, being his chief counsellor; on his breast he wears the mark of his honour, which is a white bird, having a long bill, and red on the crown of its head. The picture of Deva Rex Davan Navas. The picture of Michael Rex Nepal. The rib and the tail (flat and broad) of a Syrene, which Kircher said he saw at Malta. A cross made of 300 small pieces of wood set together without glue, nails &c. Painting of Raphael Urbin on earthen dishes. A microscope discovering fine white sand to be pellucid, and of an elliptical figure; and red sand pellucid and of a globular figure. A China shoe. Two Japan razors. A Japan sword, wherewith some Jesuits had been martyr'd. A China sword, or rather a mace. Corvus Indicus, a red bird. China birdsnests like white Gum. Canada money made of little pieces of bones, and a medal of the same, which faintly represented the figure of a man. Medals of the hieroglyphical obelisks in Rome. A cabinet door that first opened upon hinges on one side, and then upon hinges on the other. A flat and broad hoop that moved to and fro, on a declining plane, without running off; within it having a weight at A.. Water put into the glass BC, and by clapping one's hand at B, without touching the water, forces the water out a good height out at C. A perpetual motion attempted by this engine. D is a cistern with water, which runs down the channel E, and turns the wheel from G to F. At i the axis of this wheel is a handle that lifts up the sucker H, that forces up the water out of the cistern K K into the pipe L into the upper cistern D. A sphere moved regularly by water that falls on the aequinoctial line which is made like a water wheel. An image that spewed out of its mouth four sorts of water, one after another. A serpent vomiting water, and a bird drinking out of the same dish. The perpetual motion we saw at Milan. The heat of a man's breath or hand, expelled water out of a glass, that afterwards turned a wheel. A brass Clepsydra made after this manner. A and B are two cisterns for water. When that in A is uppermost it falls down thro' the four tubuli, which are the supporters into the lower cistern B, and there it springs up like a fountain, a pretty height for an hour's space; and so vice versa when B is turned up. A notable deceptio visus in the pyramidal spire C. D. being turned one way it seemed to go up, and moved the other way it appeared as if running downwards. These and many other inventions are described in Kircher de Magnete. Birds-nests, that are earen by the Indians, which Wormius p. 311, calls Nidus Ichthyocollam referens. The figure of a woman he called the oracle with a hole in her breast, which applying one's ear to, words and sentences are plainly understood, though whispered a good way off. Flies and a lizard within amber. A paper lizard with a needle stuck in it, ran up and down a wooden pillar, being moved by a loadstone. The magnet moved several figures hanging within glass globes. One figure was moved by the loadstone, thro' wood, glass, water and lead. A cylindrical glass of water with a glass figure in it, which rises or falls as you press the air at the top of the glass with your finger; the air being pressed in the cylinder, presses that in the figure into a narrower room, and so water comes in and weighs the figure down, which rises upon lessening the pressure at the top of the cylinder. Avis Guaria, p. 308 Wormii, was seen here.[100] Skippon's meticulously detailed description betrays little emotion – we are not told whether the English naturalists were frightened by the Delphic oracle. Indeed, if anything Skippon even suggests a certain tedium in the face of Kircherian wonders – “the perpetual motion machine we saw at Milan”. His curt, “objective” style also has much to do with the developing genre of the travel journal, however, and there is ample evidence that English circles were utterly enthralled by Kircher's natural and artificial wonders, and were doomed to repeated frustration in attempting to repeat Kircher's experiments in Restoration England. The vegetable phoenix, admired by Queen Christina in Kircher's museum, immediately the object of great interest amongst English natural philosophers, illustrates the difficulty Kircherian wonders experienced in travelling beyond the walls of his museum. In 1657 Henry Oldenburg planned a trip to Italy, hoping to bring back to England news of Kircher's "vegetable phaenix's resurrection out of its own dust by ye warmth of ye Sun", along with other Kircherian secrets and "remarquable things, one might have the satisfaction to be punctually informed about"[101] Oldenburg never made the trip, and the next news about Kircher's phoenix had to wait until Robert Southwell encountered an English traveller returning from Italy. Southwell reported to Oldenburg "[H]e gives me some encouragement yt when I come to Rome I shall be able fully to satisfy you concerning Kerchers plant. he told me he was wth him and remembers to have seene in a glasse half as bigg as his head (close luted) a plant glowne up ye length of his finger with a kind of ashes at ye bottome but I found he had not beene Curious in the observation of it".[102] On accomplishing his mission, Southwell brought disappointing news about the phoenix: "As to the flower growing from its ashes, he had such a thing, but it is now spoiled; he made it not himself, but it was given him".[103] Southwell nonetheless acquired "the receipt thereof, upon a swop, wrote with his own hand; it is long and intricate, and of a nice preparation".[104] We have no record of whether the Royal Society succeeded in reproducing the vegetable phoenix[105], but generally attempts to replicate Kircherian wonders in London and Oxford met with little success. The trouble was not limited to England. John Bargrave recounted in graphic terms the price of failure for a Nuremberg optician: I bought this glass of Myn Here Westleius, an eminent man for optics at Nurenburg, and it cost me 3 pistolls, which is about 50S English. This gentleman spoke bitterly to me against Father Kercherius, a Jesuit at Rome (of my acquaintance), saying that it had cost him above a thousand pounds to put his optic speculations in practice, but he found his principles false, and showed me a great basket of glasses of his failings. [106] Kircher's net drew in too much, according to unsympathetic English commentators in the 1650s. Robert Payne's remarks on Kircher qua Jesuit in 1650, while complaining about an experiment on roasted worms reported in the Ars Magna Lucis et Umbrae emphasize precisely this point: The truth is, this Jesuit, as generally the most of his order, have a great ambition to be thoughte the greate and learned men of the world; and to that end writes greate volumes, on all subjects, with gay pictures and diagrams to set them forth, for ostentation And to fill up those volumes, they draw in all things, by head and shoulders; and these too for the most part, stolen from other authors. So that if that little, which is their owne, were separated from what is borrowed from others, or impertinent to their present arguments, their swollen volumes would shrink up to the size of our Almanacks. But enough of these Mountbankes.[107] In similar vein, on sending Descartes a copy of Kircher's Magnes, Constantijn Huygens had remarked that the former would find in it "more grimaces than good material, as is normal for the Jesuits. These scribblers, however, can be useful to you in those things quae facti sunt, non juris".[108] Sir Robert Moray (1608-1673), later one of the prime movers in acquiring a charter from Charles II for the foundation of the Royal Society and its first president[109], entered into close correspondence with Kircher in 1644, after admiring the Magnes. [110] While in the services of the French army in Germany, Moray consumed Kircher's books avidly and discussed their contents with Jesuits in Cologne and Ingolstadt.[111] On his return to the royal court in Whitehall, he informed Kircher of the foundation of the Royal Society, and continued to send scholars, such as the mathematician James Gregory, the naturalist Francis Willughby and others to seek Kircher's company in Rome.[112] Moray was confident that Kircher's agglomeration of information could be filtered, or threshed, to separate the wheat from the chaff: Whatsoever Mr. Hugens & others say of Kercher, I assure you I am one of those that think the Commonwealth of learning is much beholding to him, though there wants not chaff in his heap of stuff composted in his severall peaces, yet there is wheat to be found almost every where in them. And though he doth not handle most things fully, nor accurately, yet yt furnishes matter to others to do it. I reckon him as usefull Quarries in philosophy and good literature. Curious workmen may finish what hee but blocks and rough hewes. Hee meddles with too many things to do any exquisitely, yet in some that I can name I know none goes beyond him, at least as to grasping of variety: and even that is not onely often pleasure but usefull.[113] Moray changed his tune in his following letter to the secretary of the Royal Society, demonstrating the increasing fragility of Jesuit scientific credibility, and linking the failure of an experiment involving the focusing of moonbeams on substances with a powerful burning-glass to Kircher's membership of the Jesuit order explicitly, writing that "hee does but lyke other birds of his feather".[114] Boyle wrote to Oldenburg in 1665 to complain about the problem: I suppose Sr. Rob. Murry has told you, that the Expt about Salt & Nitrous water exposed to the Beames of the moone did not succeed as Kircher promises, but as I foretold. And for the same Author's Expts with Quicksilver & sea water seald up in a ring, though the want of fit glasses will, till the commerce with London be free, keepe mee unable to try: yet besides it is at most the same, but not soe probable as that wch he publishd in his Ars Magnetica, 20 or 30 year ago. I cannot but think it unlikely that it will succeed at least in our Climate, where by concentrating the Beames of the Moone with a large Burning-glasse, I was not able to produce any sensible Alteration, in Bodys that seeme very easily susceptible of them.[115] Commenting to Boyle on the unhappy results of attempts to repeat Kircher's experiments, Oldenburg wrote darkly that "'Tis an ill Omen, me thinks, yt ye very first Experiment singled out by us out of Kircher, failes, and yt 'tis likely, the next will doe so too".[116] The replication of the wonders displayed to visitors to Kircher's museum and described in his published works was difficult. Kircher's performances and demonstrations were apparently meant to be beheld, admired and believed, but not to be repeated outside the preternatural realm of the museum of the Collegio Romano. Miracle-machines For Kircher, as for other early modern natural magicians, art is nature's ape. Or, to turn the metaphor on its head, nature is God's work of art, and thus the natural magician bears a relationship to his technical productions that is analagous to the relationship God bears to the whole of Creation.[117] Kircherian machines can thus be compared to miniature, artificial universes, bearing encrypted messages from a playful creator. The perpetual motion machines and emblematic clocks displayed in Kircher's museum display the microcosmic character of Kircherian machines most evidently, sometimes even bearing zodiacal and planetary symbols to make the analogy unmissable (e.g. fig. 14). The "user intervention" required by machines such as Kircher's sunflower clock (fig. 12), that so frustrated Nicholas Claude Fabri de Peiresc when the instrument was demonstrated to him in Aix-en-Provence in 1633 was not a failing in Kircher's instrument, but rather a rhetorical demonstration of the limits of the analogy between the human magus and his omnipotent forbear.[118] Other machines, as we have argued, were miniature moral universes, the catoptric chest (fig. 13) being a striking example. We have argued that Kircherian machines were jokes that occupied a ludic space between the demonic and the supernatural realms. What, then, are we to make of the following machine listed by De Sepibus: "a large crystalline globe full of water representing the resurrection of the Saviour in the midst of the waters"?[119] How could Kircher dare to make a joke of the central mystery of Christianity? How could he place the resurrected Christ in a glass sphere, alongside genies, water-vomitting snakes and pagan Goddesses? Surely to place the Resurrection in this mechanical context was tantamount to reducing it to a secret combination of natural causes and denying its miraculous status? The problem is even more striking when we look at Kircher's first published book, the Ars Magnesia, published in Würzburg when he was twenty-nine years old. Launching into a description of the various machines that can be constructed with the aid of the magnet, Kircher describes a device "to exhibit Christ walking on water, and bringing help to Peter who is gradually sinking, by a magnetic trick". "Carve statues of Christ and Peter from the lightest material possible", Kircher's description begins, "When a strong magnet is placed in Peter's breast, and with Christ's outstretched hands or any part of his toga turned toward Peter made of fine steel, you will have everything required to exhibit the story. With their lower limbs well propped-up on corks so that they don't totter about above the water, the statues are placed in a basin filled up to the top with water, and the iron hands of Christ soon feel the magnetic power diffused from the breast of Peter. The magnet drags the statue of Christ to it with equal motions, and insinuates itself into Peter's embrace. The artifice will be greater if the statue of Christ is flexible in its middle, for in this way it will bend itself, to the great admiration and piety of the spectators".[120] Despite Kircher's claims, the steel-handed bending Jesus floating on a cork and drawn to a magnetic Peter does not strike us as a particularly pious artifice. Indeed, his demonstration almost seems to carry the heretical suggestion that what appeared to be miraculous was merely carried out through a clever piece of natural magic, reminiscent of James Bond's magnetic encounter with the metal-toothed villain Jaws in the film Moonraker. But that can hardly be the real thrust of Kircher's demonstration. Rather, the clue to Kircher's intention can probably best be gleaned from his own definition of natural magic: feats of natural magic can resemble miracles to those who are ignorant of their true causes. Again, as in the case of the perpetual motion machines, the analogy is limited. Real miracles by definition defy demonstration and replication. By producing wonder, fear and amusement, however, Kircher's magical machines rehearsed his visitors' reactions to the miraculous and the demonic, and trained them in civility and piety. essay illustrations gallery [1] For discussions of Kircher's machines, see particularly Thomas L. Hankins and Robert J. Silverman, Instruments and the Imagination, Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1995, especially chapters 2-4, Paula Findlen, Scientific Spectacle in Baroque Rome: Athanasius Kircher and the Roman College Museum, Roma Moderna e Contemporanea. 1995; 3:625-665, Joscelyn Godwin, Athanasius Kircher: A Renaissance man and the quest for lost knowledge. London: Thames and Hudson; 1979, Eugenio Lo Sardo ed. Icononismi e Mirabilia da Athanasius Kircher. Rome: Edizioni dell'Elefante; 1999 and Adalgisa Lugli, Naturalia et Mirabilia. Il collezionismo enciclopedico nelle Wunderkammern d'Europa. Milan; 1983. On Kircher's musical machines, see Jan Jaap Haspels, Automatic musical instruments, their mechanics and their music, 1580-1820, Niroth: Muiziekdruk C.V. Koedijk, 1987. On Kircher's magnetic devices in particular see Martha Baldwin, Magnetism and the anti-Copernican polemic. Journal for the History of Astronomy. 1985; 16:155-174, Jim Bennett, Cosmology and the Magnetical Philosophy, 1640-1680. Journal for the History of Astronomy. 1981; 12: 165-177, Silvio Bedini, Seventeenth Century Magnetic Timepieces. Physis. 1969; 11: 37-78. On optical and catoptric devices, see Jurgis Baltrusaitis, Anamorphoses ou magie artificielle des effets merveilleux. Paris: Olivier Perrin; 1969, and idem., Le miroir. Paris: Le Seuil 1978. [2] Filippo Buonanni, Musaeum Kircherianum sive Musaeum a P. Athanasio Kirchero In Collegio Romano Societatis Iesu Jam pridem Incoeptum Nuper restitutum, auctum, descriptum, & Iconibus illustratum. Rome: Typis Georgii Plachii; 1709, pp. 302-315: [3] See, for example, the classic study by Krysztof Pomian, Collectionneurs, amateurs et curieux: Paris, Venise, XVIIe-XVIIIe siècle, Paris: Gallimard, 1987, especially chapter 1. [4] On the relationship between courtly models of behaviour and early modern science, see in particular Mario Biagioli, Galileo Courtier: The practice of science in the culture of absolutism. Chicago: University of Chicago Press; 1993. For sprezzatura see pp. 51-52. [5] On early-modern scientific "jokes", cf Paula Findlen, Jokes of Nature and Jokes of Knowledge: The Playfulness of Scientific Discourse in Early Modern Europe. Renaissance Quarterly. 1990; 43:292-331. [6] Athanasius Kircher to Johann Georg Anckel (or J.M. Hirt), Rome, 16 July 1659, Herzog-August-Bibliothek Wolfenbüttel, Bibliotheksarchiv N° 376, quoted in John Fletcher (ed.), Athanasius Kircher und seine Beziehungen zum gelehrten Europa seiner Zeit. Wiesbaden: Harrassowitz; 1988, p. 105. The manuscript letters of Kircher conserved in the Herzog-August-Bibliothek have recently been made available on the Internet <<http://www.hab.de/projekte/kircher/kircher.htm>> [7] Athanasius Kircher, Ars Magna lucis et umbrae. Romae: Ludovico Grignani; 1646, p. 553: "Horoscopium Geographicum universale Societatis Iesu construere, quo in omnibus Collegijs dictae Societatis toto orbe terrarum diffusis, quota hora sit uno intuitu demonstratur". [8] Georgio de Sepibus. Romanii Collegii Musaeum Celeberrimum cuius magnae antiquariae rei... Amsterdam: Ex Officina Janssonio-Waesbergiana; 1678; also Kircher, Phonurgia nova, Campidonae: Dreherr; 1673, p. 2 [9] See Claudio Costantini, Baliani e i Gesuiti. Florence: Giunti Barbèra; 1969, Ugo Baldini, Uniformitas et Soliditas Doctrinae: Le censure librorum e opinionum. in idem., Legem impone subactis. Studi su filosofie e scienze dei gesuiti in Italia, 1540- 1632. Rome: Bulzoni; 1992; pp. 75-119, Michael John Gorman, A Matter of Faith? Christoph Scheiner, Jesuit censorship and the Trial of Galileo. Perspectives on Science. 1996; 4 (3):283-320, idem., Jesuit explorations of the Torricellian space: carp-bladders and sulphurous fumes. Mélanges de L'Ecole Française De Rome. Italie Et Méditerranée. 1994; tome 106(fasc. 2):pp. 7-32 and Marcus Hellyer, "Because the authority of my superiors commands": Censorship, physics and the German Jesuits . Early Modern Science and Medicine. 1996; 1(3):319-354. [10] De Sepibus, op. cit. (note 6) [11] See Francesco Gizzio to Athanasius Kircher, Naples; 27 October 1668, Rome, Archives of the Pontifical Gregorian University (hereafter APUG), 564 f. 156r and, for De Sepibus' trip to Naples, Gizzio to Kircher, Naples, 28 February 1670 (APUG 559, f. 85r). For Kircher's fear that De Sepibus had died in 1674, see Gizzio to Kircher, Naples, 14 July 1674 (APUG 565, f. 213rv. The manuscript correspondence of Kircher conserved in the Archives of the Pontifical Gregorian University (APUG 555-568) is now available for consultation on the Internet. See The Athanasius Kircher Correspondence Project, ed. Michael John Gorman and Nick Wilding, <<http://galileo.imss.firenze.it/multi/kircher/index.html>> [12] De Sepibus, op. cit., pp. 2-3. [13] De Sepibus, op. cit., p. 60 [14] De oraculo Delphico, APUG 566, f. 236r <<http://150.217.52.68/kircher/ASPgenit.asp?idtitrec=4965>>, accessible via the Athanasius Kircher Correspondence Project, cit. [15] Athanasius Kircher, Phonurgia nova, Campidonae: Dreherr; 1673, p. 112. [16] On the official foundation of the Musaeum Kircherianum and the Donnini bequest, see Findlen, op. cit., R. Garrucci, Origini e vicende del Museo Kircheriano dal 1651 al 1773. La Civiltà Cattolica. 1879; Serie X Vol. XII(Quaderno 703): 727-739, Maristella Casciato, Maria Grazia Ianniello and Maria Vitale, eds., Enciclopedismo in Roma barocca: Athanasius Kircher e il museo del Collegio Romano tra Wunderkammer e museo scientifico. Venice: Marsilio; 1986, and R. G. Villoslada, Storia del Collegio Romano dal suo inizio all soppressione della Compagnia di Gesù. Rome; 1954, as well as Buonanni, Musaeum Kircherianum, pp. 1-3, as well as the manuscripts documenting the museum's history in APUG 35. [17] The passage, from John Evelyn's diary, is quoted in Barbara Shapiro, John Wilkins, 1614-1672; an intellectual biography, Berkeley: University of California Press, 1969, p. 120. See Jack Peter Zetterberg, "Mathematical Magick" in England: 1550-1650, Dissertation, University of Wisconsin-Madison; 1976, pp. 212 ff. [18] Archivum Romanum Societatis Iesu (hereafter ARSI) Rom. 150, I. 36r, cited in Ugo Baldini and Pier Daniele Napolitani, eds., Christoph Clavius: Corrispondenza, Pisa: Università di Pisa, Dipartimento di Matematica, Sezione di Didattica e Storia della Matematica; 1992, Vol. III.2, pp. 54-5, note 2. [19] On Grienberger, see Michael John Gorman, Mathematics and Modesty in the Society of Jesus: The Problems of Christoph Grienberger, forthcoming in Archimedes, guest ed. Mordechai Feingold, 2001. [20] Kircher, Magnes, sive de arte magnetica opus tripartitum, Romae: Ex Typographia Ludovici Grignani, 1641, Lib. II, Cap. II, p. 431, "[P]artim è literis ab ijs, qui iter in Indias susceperant, vel oretenus ab ijs, qui inde peregrini Romam advenerant; partim ex literarum Mathematicarum è diversis orbis terrae partibus ad Clavium, Grimbergerum, aliosque Romanos Societatis IESU Mathematicos praedecessores meos datarum, quod penes me est, Archivio; multas sanè, circa declinationes Magneticas haud spernendas observationes collegi" [21] Kaspar

Schott, Mechanica Hydraulica-Pneumatica, Würzburg: Pigrin, 1657, p. 339 [22] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulica-Pneumatica, cit., p. 300 [23] See Schott, Magia Universalis, Pars III, Würzburg: J. G. Schönwetter, 1658, pp. 219-228 “Machina II: Glossocomum nostrum”, discussed in Gorman, Mathematics and Modesty, cit., and also Schott, Magia Universalis, Pars I, Würzburg: J. G. Schönwetter, 1657, pp. 26-7. [24] De Sepibus, op. cit., p. 13 (on Clavius’ experiment) and p. 17 (on Grienberger’s wooden astrolabe) [25] Jakob Johann Wenceslaus Dobrzensky de Nigro Ponte, Nova, et amaenior de admirando fontium genio (ex abditis naturae claustris, in orbis lucem emanante) philosophia. Ferrara: Alphonsus, & Io. Baptistam de Marestis; 1659, p. 46. On Dobrzensky de Nigro Ponte see R.J.W. Evans, The Making of the Habsburg Monarchy: An Interpretation. Oxford: Clarendon Press; 1979, pp. 316, 337, 339-40, 356, 369-70, 390 [26] Schott, Magia Universalis, Pars I, Würzburg: J. G. Schönwetter, 1657, p. 42, cf. Kircher, Oedipus Aegyptiacus hoc est universalis hieroglyphicae veterum doctrinae temporum iniuria abolitae instauratio, Rome: Vitalis Mascardi; 1652-1654, Tom. 3, Syntag. 17, Cap. 1, p. 488 [27] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, cit., Pars II, Classis I, p. 255 and Kircher, Oedipus Aegyptiacus, cit., Tom. II2, Classis VIII, Cap. III, Pragmatia I, p. 332. [28] Kircher, Oedipus Aegyptiacus, cit., Tom. II2, Classis VIII, Cap. III, Prag. V, pp. 337-8, “Ara deorum”. [29] Athanasius Kircher, Vita admodum Reverendi P. A. Kircher, Augsburg: S. Utzschneider, 1684, pp. 30-3. [30] See Zetterberg, “Mathematical Magick”, cit., p. 32 [31] For a rich discussion of the contrast between learned and popular magic during this period see R.J.W. Evans, The Making of the Habsburg Monarchy, cit., Chapters 9-12. [32] The literature on Jesuit theatre is enormous, and a survey would take us beyond the scope of this article, but a classic study is Jean-Marie Valentin, Theatre des Jésuites dans les pays de langue allemande (1554-1680) : salut des ames et ordre des cités, Bern, Las Vegas : P. Lang, 1978 (3 vols.). [33] See Schott, Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, cit., p. 323 and Iconismus XXIX. On Kircher’s time in Malta see Alberto Bartòla, Alessandro VII e Athanasius Kircher S.I. Ricerche e appunti sulla loro corrispondenza erudita e sulla storia di alcuni codici chigiani. Miscellanea Bibliothecae Apostolicae Vaticanae. 1989; III:7-105. [34] See the letter from Kircher to General G.P. Oliva, Rome, 5 May 1672, published in Garrucci, Origini e vicende del Museo, cit., also Buonanni, Musaeum Kircherianum, pp. 1-3, Godwin, Athanasius Kircher, cit., pp. 14-15. [35] See Schott to Kircher, n.p., n. d. [Würzburg, circa 1656?], APUG 567, f. 52r: “Tutti li Padri di questa nostra Provincia stimano e amano Vostra Reverenza principalmente il nostro R. P. Provinciale, il quale vorebbe che io descrivessi e stampassi la Galeria di Vostra Reverenza”, also Schott to Kircher, Würzburg, 21 October 1656: “O[ro] se V.a R.a volesse e potesse impiegare per mio e suo servitio, uno o due giorni, e farmi un’abbozzo, e breve descrizione della sua Galeria, significandomi brevemente le cose più riguardevole, massimamente le nuove datte doppo la mia partenza, delineandole ruditer e obiter. Vorrei descrivere a lungo ogni cosa, e farle stampare, con bellissime figure di rame, prima separatamente, e doppo nella mia Magia Universalis Naturae et Artis”. Apparently Valentin Stansel had been charged with composing the description for Schott, but Stansel, soon to depart for Brazil, did not send it, despite Schott’s repeated pleas (e.g. “Prego Vostra Reverenza quanto posso, e per l’amore che mi porta, e propter con humana studia, che m’impetri dal R.P. Assistente, che mi mandi la Galeria di V.a R.a descritta dal P. Stansel, o almeno le cose più principali”, Schott to Kircher, Würzburg, 16 June 1657, APUG 567, f. 45r) [36] On Schott’s career, see ARSI, Lamalle: Schott. On Kircher’s arrival in Avignon, see ARSI, Lugd. 14, f. 239v, and the appendix to the Catalogue. [37] See ARSI Rom. 81 ff.64v, 88v, 114v: (Catalogue of Collegio Romano, 1652-4): “P. Gaspar Scot, socius P. Athanasii”, “P. Athanasius Chircher, scribit imprimenda”. [38] Kircher, Magnes, sive de magnetica arte libri tres, Rome: V. Mascardi, 16543, sig. †† rv. [39] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, cit., pp. 1-3, Praeloquium ad Lectorem [40] Schott, op. cit., p. 3 [41] Schott, op. cit., p. 5 [42] R.J.W. Evans, The Making of the Habsburg Monarchy, cit., especially ch. 9-12.

[43] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, cit., p. 219. [44] Daniel Schwenter and Georg Philipp Harsdörffer, Deliciae Physico-Mathematicae, oder Mathematische und philosophische Erquickstunden, herausgegeben und eingeleitet von Jörg Jochen Berns, Frankfurt a. M.: Keip, 1991. [45] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, cit., pp. 311-2 [46] ibid. [47] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulico-Pneumatica, cit., pp. 63-4 (on explosions) and Gioseffo Petrucci, Prodromo apologetico alli studi Chircheriani, Amsterdam: Janssonio-Waesbergi; 1677, p. 128 (on Settala's burning-mirrors). [48] Robert Darnton, The Great Cat Massacre and Other Episodes in French Cultural History, New York: Basic Books, 1984, pp. 75-104. [49] Thomas L. Hankins and Robert J. Silverman, Instruments and the Imagination, Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1995, especially chapters 2-4. On the cat piano, designed to entertain a melancholy prince, see Kircher, Musurgia universalis, Rome: Francesco Corbelletti; 1650, Tom. I, Lib. VI, Pars IV, Caput I, p. 519 and Schott, Magia Universalis, cit., Pars II, pp. 372-3. Schott provides an illustration. [50] Schott, Magia Universalis, cit., Pars I, p. 302 [51] The classic study of early modern civility remains Norbert Elias, The civilizing process, trans. Edmund Jephcott, Oxford: Blackwell, 1994. A contrasting view, arguing that European civility had its origins in monastic disciplina rather than court culture is advanced in Dilwyn Knox, Disciplina: The Monastic and clerical origins of European Civility in John Monfasani and Ronald G. Musto, eds. Renaissance society and culture: Essays in honour of Eugene F. Rice, Jr. New York: Italica Press; 1991; pp. 107-135. Kircher would seem to demonstrate that the lines between courtly and clerical traditions are perhaps not so clear-cut as both Knox and Elias suppose. On civility see also Jacques Revel, The Uses of Civility, trans. Arthur Goldhammer, in Roger Chartier, ed., A History of Private Life, Cambridge: Harvard University Press, 1989, Vol. 3, pp. 167-205 [52] René Descartes, Les Passions de l'âme, ed. Geneviève Rodis-Lewis, Paris: J. Vrin, 1966. [53] Marin Mersenne, Harmonie Universelle, Paris: S. Cramoisy, 1636 (facsimile repr. Paris: CNRS, 1963), sig. A iiii recto (on the Archiviolo), Justus Lipsius, De Militia Romana, Antwerp: Plantin-Moretus, 1598), Thomas Hobbes, Leviathan, London: A. Crooke, 1651. For the court of Louis XIV at Versailles as a "machine", see Apostolidès, Le roi-machine: Spectacle et politique au temps de Louis XIV, Paris: Editions de Minuit, 1981. On automata and political power see Otto Mayr, Authority, Liberty and Automatic machinery in Early Modern Europe, Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 1986. For a more dated, though entertaining, presentation of the political function of automata, see Lewis Mumford, Authoritarian and Democratic Technics. Technology and Culture. 1964; 5(1):1-8. On automata more generally see Derek J. de Solla Price, Automata and the Origins of Mechanism and Mechanical Philosophy. Technology and Culture. 1964; 5(1):9-23, who recounts the (probably apocryphal) story that Descartes constructed a "beautiful blonde automaton named Francine, but she was discovered in her packing case on board ship and dumped over the side by the captain in his horror of apparent witchcraft", and Silvio Bedini, The Role of Automata in the history of technology, Technology and Culture. 1964; 5(1): 24-42. [54] Peter Dear, A Mechanical Microcosm: Bodily Passions, Good Manners, and Cartesian Mechanism. in Christopher Lawrence and Steven Shapin, eds. Science Incarnate: Historical embodiments of Natural knowledge. Chicago and London: University of Chicago Press; 1998; pp. 51-82. [55] On the context of Kircher's Oedipus Aegyptiacus, see especially Giovanni Cipriani, Gli obelischi egizi: politica e cultura nella Roma barocca. Florence: Olschki; 1993, pp. 77-167. On the question of the Corpus Hermeticum see Frances Yates, Giordano Bruno and the Hermetic tradition, London: Routledge & K. Paul, 1964, and, more recently, Anthony Grafton, Protestant versus Prophet: Isaac Casaubon on Hermes Trismegistus, and idem., The Strange Deaths of Hermes and the Sibyls, both in idem., Defenders of the Text: The Traditions of Scholarship in an Age of Science, 1450-1800, on pp. 145-161 and 162-177 respectively. [56] Kircher, Oedipus Aegyptiacus, cit., Sig. d recto [57] For Kircher's dream of being elected Pope, see Kaspar Schott, Physica Curiosa, sive Mirabilia

Naturae et Artis, Würzburg: Jobus Hertz; 1667 (2nd edition), Liber III (Mirabilia Hominum), Caput XXV, pp. 455-6. Kircher's vision of the invasion of the Jesuit college in Würzburg is described in idem., Liber II (Mirabilia Spectrorum), Caput V, p. 210 and also in Kircher's posthumous autobiography, Vita admodum Reverendi P. A. Kircher, Augsburg: S. Utzschneider, 1684, pp. 38-41. On the use of recorded dreams as a historical source, see Peter Burke, The Cultural History of Dreams, in idem., Varieties of Cultural History, Ithica: Cornell University Press; 1997, pp. 23-42. [58] Schott, Magia Universalis, cit., Pars I, Prolegomena, especially pp. 8-18, cf Kircher, Oedipus Aegyptiacus, Tom. 2, class. 2, cap. 1 and Kircher, Obeliscus Pamphilius, Rome: Ludovico Grignani; 1650, bk. 1, ch. 1. [59] Schott, Magia Universalis, loc. cit. [60] Schott, Magia Universalis, Pars I, Cap. VI (p. 22 ff). In a letter to Kircher sent from Würzburg on 1 April 1656, Schott wrote "Gaudeo vehementer, Reginam Suedice [sic] tandem visitare Museum R. ae V. ae" (APUG 561, f. 40r) [61] On the relationship between demonology and natural philosophy in seventeenth century Europe, see Stuart Clark, Thinking with Demons: The Idea of Witchcraft in Early Modern Europe, Oxford: Clarendon Press, 1997, especially pp. 149-311, and idem., The rational witchfinder: conscience, demonological naturalism and popular superstitions. in Stephen Pumfrey, Paolo Rossi and Maurice Slawinski, (eds.). Science, Culture and Popular belief in Renaissance Europe. Manchester and New York: Manchester University Press; 1991; pp. 222-248. [62] Schott, Magia Universalis, cit., Pars I, Caput X, p. 39 (on demons and the vacuum) and idem., Mechanica Hydraulicō-Pneumatica, cit., introduction, on the four fundamental principles of hydraulic machines. [63] Schott, Mechanica Hydraulicō-Pneumatica, cit., pp. 307-8 [64] Martin del Rio, Disquisitionum Magicarum Libri Sex, Louvain, 1599 (edition used Mainz: Henningii; 1624). Liber I, De magia in genere, & de naturali ac artificiosa in specie. On this work and witch-trials see Petra Nagel, Die Bedeutung der "Disquisitionum magicarum libri sex" von Martin Delrio für das Verfahren in Hexenprozessen, Frankfurt am Main: Peter Lang, 1995. On Del Rio's life, see anon., [H. Langeveltius?], M. A. del Rii.... Vita brevi commentariolo expressa. Antwerp; 1609. On Del Rio's critique of Stoic drama see Roland Mayer, Personata Stoa: Neostoicism and Senecan Tragedy. Journal of the Warburg and Courtauld Institutes. 1994; 57:151-174. [65] On wonders and the preternatural, see especially Lorraine Daston and Katherine Park, Wonders and the order of nature, 1150-1750, New York : Zone Books, 1998. [66] Del Rio, Disquisitionum Magicarum, ed. cit., pp. 49-50. [67] Unfortunately there is no adequate scholarly study of Pereira. [68] Benito Pereira, Adversus fallaces & superstitiosas artes, id est, De magia, de observatione somniorum, et de divinatione astrologica. Libri tres, first published Ingolstadt 1591, edition used Coloniae Agrippinae, apud Ioannem Gymnicum, 1598, pp. 41, 67-8, 91. [69] Kircher, Magnes, 16543, cit., Liber II, Pars 4, p. 238. [70] Schott, Magia Universalis, cit., Sig. †††† recto: Prooemium totius operis [71] J. Nadal, Exhortatio Coloniensis 6a (1567), in P. Hieronymi Nadal Commentarii de Instituto Societatis Iesu, ed. Michael Nicolau, S. J. (= Epistolae et Monumenta P. Hieronymi Nadal, Tomus V) Romae: apud Monumenta Historica Societatis Iesu, 1962, p. 832, n. 21. [72] Christoph Clavius, Discursus cuiusdam amicissimi Societatis Iesu de modo et via qua Societas ad maiorem Dei honorem et animarum profectum augere hominum de se opinionem, omnemque haereticorum in literis aestimationem, qua illi multum nituntur, convellere brevissime et facillime possit, (c. 1594), ARSI Stud. 3, ff. 485-487 (Clavius autograph), published in Monumenta Paedagogica Societatis Iesu, Nova editio penitus retractata, ed. Ladislaus Lukács, Rome, Institutum Historicum Societatis Iesu, 1965-, VII, pp. 119-122 [73] ibid. [74] Athanasius Kircher to Queen Christina of Sweden, Rome, 11 November 1651, APUG 561 ff. 50r-v (autograph draft), on 50r. [75] There is a vast bibliography on Christina, but see especially Susanna Åkerman, Queen Christina of Sweden and her circle: The transformation of a seventeenth-century philosophical libertine, Leiden: Brill, 1991, idem., Cristina di Svezia: scienza ed alchimia nella Roma barocca. Bari: Dedalo, 1990, Jeanne Bignami Odier and Anna Maria Partini, 'Cristina di Svezia e le scienze occulte', Physis 1983, A. 25(fasc. 2): 251-278. Georgina Masson, Queen Christina London: Secker & Warburg, 1968, though a popularised presentation, remains useful as an overview. [76]Kircher had arranged for a copy of his Musurgia Universalis to be sent to Christina in 1650. See Louys Elzevier to Athanasius Kircher, Amsterdam; 14 November 1650, APUG 568, f. 238 r-v [77]Daniello Bartoli, Dell'huomo di lettere difeso & emendato, Bologna: Heredi di E. Dozza, 1646. [78]See the undated letter to Kircher in APUG 556 f. 173r, in a more legible Italian translation on f. 174r: "Spero che hormai havremo un occasione più libera, e fedele di corrispondenza mutua, e per poter comunicarmi gli più sicuramente". Kircher eventually dedicated his 1656 Itinerarium Exstaticum to Christina, who mentions his plan to do so in the same letter: "Desiderei ancor sapere, se me giudichi ancor degna a dedicarmi la sua incomparabile opera". [79] See Carlos Ziller Camenietzki, L'Extase interplanetaire d'Athanasius Kircher: Philosophie, Cosmologie et discipline dans la Compagnie de Jésus au XVIIe siècle, Nuncius, 1995, X(1): 3-32. [80]APUG 142 ff.81r-83r [81]Galeazzo Gualdo Priorato, History of her majesty Christina Alessandra, queen of Swedland. London: Printed for T. W., 1658, pp. 428-431. [82]See Jonathan D. Spence, The memory palace of Matteo Ricci, London: Faber and Faber, 1985, Pasquale M. D'Elia, Galileo in China. Relations through the Roman College between Galileo and the Jesuit Scientist-Missionaries (1610-1640). Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1960, Jacques Gernet, China and the Christian impact: a conflict of cultures, trans. Janet Lloyd, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1985, p. 22. [83][Anon.], Origine del Collegio Romano e suoi progressi, APUG: 142. This manuscript forms the basis of the descriptions of ceremonial receptions given in the Collegio Romano provided in R. Garcia Villoslada, Storia del Collegio Romano dal suo inizio all soppressione della Compagnia di Gesù. Rome: Typis Pontificiae Universitatis Gregoriana, 1954, pp. 263-296. [84]Famiano Strada, Saggio delle Feste che si apparecchiano nel Collegio Romano in honore de' Santi Ignatio et Francesco da N. S. Gregorio XV Canonizati All'Illustrissimo, & Eccellentissimo Signor Principe di Venosa. Roma: Appresso Alessandro Zannetti; 1622, sig. A2 recto. On theatrical productions in the Collegio Romano during this time, see Irene Mamczarz, La trattatistica dei Gesuiti e la pratica teatrale al Collegio Romano: Maciej Sarbiewski, Jean Dubreuil e Andrea Pozzo. in M. Chiabò and F. Doglio, eds., I Gesuiti e i Primordi del Teatro Barocco in Europa. Roma: Torre d'Orfeo; 1995: 349-387 and Jean-Yves Boriaud, La Poésie et le Théâtre latins au Collegio Romano d'après les manuscrits du Fondo Gesuitico de la Bibliothèque Nationale Vittorio Emanuele II. Mélanges de l'École Française de Rome, Italie et Méditerranée. 1990; 102(1): 77-96. [85]See Emilio Sala and Federico Marincola, La Musica nei Drammi Gesuitici: Il Caso dell'Apotheosis sive Consecratio Sanctorum Ignatii et Franciscii Xaverii (1622), in M. Chiabò and F. Doglio, eds., I Gesuiti e i Primordi del Teatro Barocco in Europa, cit., pp. 389-439. For a rich contemporary Italian discussion of theatrical machinery see Nicola Sabbatini, Pratica di fabricar scene, e machine ne' teatri Ravenna: Per Pietro de' Paoli, e Gio. Battista Giouanelli Stampatori Camerali; 1638. [86]Strada, op. cit., p. 9, and, for the cometary presentation, [Orazio Grassi], De tribus cometis anni MDCXVIII Disputatio astronomica publice habita in Collegio Romano Societatis Iesu ab uno ex Patribus eiusdem Societatis. Romae: ex typographia Iacobi Mascardi; 1619, OG VI pp. 21-35, translated in Stillman Drake and C.D. O'Malley, The Controversy on the Comets of 1618, Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press; 1960, pp. 3-19. [87]APUG 142 ff.1r-8v: Nota delle spese fatte nella Fabrica del Collegio Romano f. 4r: "Dal 1627 fino a tutto il 1632 furono spesi [scudi] sedicimila dugento novanta due per la fabrica della spezieria, cominciata a di 5 Luglio 1627" [88]ARSI Rom. 79 f.11v and Biblioteca Nazionale di Roma "Vittorio Emanuele II", Fondo Gesuitico 1526 f.35r [89]ARSI Rom. 110 f.51v [90]Idem. f.121r [91]See Imago Primi Saeculi Societatis Iesu A Provincia Flandro-Belgica eiusdem Societatis Repraesentata. Antwerp: Balthasar Moretus; 1640, p. 12. [92]APUG 134, XVI, Abbozzo iconografico del Collegio Romano. [93]See e.g. Athanasius Kircher to Duke August of Brunswick-Lüneburg,

Rome, 25 July 25, HAB BA n. 366, and the other medical gifts discussed in John Fletcher Athanasius Kircher and Duke August of Brunswick-Lüneburg. A chronicle of friendship in John Fletcher, John, ed., Athanasius Kircher und seine Beziehungen zum gelehrten Europa seiner Zeit. Wiesbaden: Harrassowitz; 1988: pp. 99-139. [94] Some manuscript books of secrets originating in the Collegio Romano are listed in Il Fiore dell'arte di sanare, Rome: Edizione Paracelso, 1992, pp. 565-570. The Fondo Curia of APUG also contains numerous manuscript books of secrets, including APUG: FC 2087, APUG: FC 1381, APUG: FC 562, APUG: FC 1860/2, APUG: FC 2200. The "ceroto per la carnosità", accompanied by a crude drawing of a phallus, is described in APUG FC 2193, f. [40v]. On candlewax see APUG 134, XIV. For a study of the contents of another Jesuit pharmacy see Carmen Ravanelli Guidotti, La Farmacia dei Gesuiti di Novellara, Faenza: Edit Faenza, 1994. On the tradition of books of secrets during this period, see William Eamon, Science and the secrets of nature: Books of secrets in medieval and early modern culture. Princeton: Princeton University Press; 1994. [95] APUG 142 f. 71r, Villoslada, Storia, cit., p. 275. For the Rospigliosi family's visit to the pharmacy in 1668, see Villoslada, Storia, cit., p. 277. [96] Kircher, Mundus Subterraneus, Amsterdam: Janssonius, 1665, Vol. 2 p. 392 [97] See the manuscript Fondo Gesuitico 1382 in the Biblioteca Nazionale di Roma, "Vittorio Emmanuele II" [98] Kircher, Ars Magna Lucis et Umbrae, cit., pp. 553-4. [99] On Skippon see Peter Burke, The discreet charm of Milan: English travellers in the seventeenth century, in idem., Varieties of cultural history, Oxford: Polity Press, 1997, pp. 94-110. [100] Philip Skippon, An Account of A Journey made Thro' Part of the Low-Countries, Germany, Italy and France. in A. and J. Churchill, A Collection of Voyages and Travels. London: J. Walthoe; 1732; pp. 359-736, on pp. 672-4. [101] Oldenburg to Boyle, Saumur, 19 March 1657, The Correspondence of Henry Oldenburg, ed. and transl. by A. Rupert Hall and Marie Boas Hall, Madison, Milwaukee, and London, 1965-, vol. I pp.155-156. [102] Southwell to Oldenburg, Montpellier; 20 October 1659, The Correspondence of Henry Oldenburg, cit., I, pp. 323-325. [103] Southwell to Boyle, n.p., 30 March 1661, in The works of the honourable Robert Boyle, ed. Thomas Birch, London: J. & F. Rivington, 1772 (2nd edition), VI, pp. 297-300. [104] ibid. [105] Boyle did however allude to the palingenetic experiment in A Discourse about the possibility of the resurrection (1675) in Boyle, Works, cit., 4, p. 194. [106] Quoted in John Bargrave, Pope Alexander the Seventh and the College of Cardinals, with a Catalogue of Dr. Bargrave's Museum, ed. J.C. Robertson. London; 1867. [107] R[obert] P[ayne] to Gilbert Sheldon, Oxford, 16 December 1650, British Library Ms. Lansdowne 841 ff. 33r-v, on 33v. [108] Constantyn Huygens to Descartes, n.p., 7 January 1643, published in Leon Roth, ed., Correspondence of Descartes and Constantyn Huygens 1635-1647, Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1926, pp. 185-6, cited in John L. Heilbron, Electricity in the 17th and 18th centuries. A study in early modern physics, Berkeley, California: University of California Press; 1979, p. 106. [109] On Moray see Alexander Robertson, The Life of Sir Robert Moray. Soldier, Statesman and Man of Science (1608-1673), London, 1922. [110] Moray to Kircher, Ingolstadt, 1 June 1644, APUG 557 363r-v. [111] Moray to Kircher, Ingolstadt, 7 September 1644, APUG 557 323ar-av, Moray to Kircher Ingolstadt, 24 January 1645; APUG 568 ff. 74r - 75v, Moray to Kircher, Paris, 12 March 1645, APUG 557 ff. 271r-v, Moray to Kircher, Cologne, 21 November 1655; APUG 568 ff. 39r-v, Moray to Kircher, Cologne, 28 January 1656; APUG 568 ff. 20r-21v, Moray to Kircher, Rotterdam, 6 August 1657; APUG 568 ff. 196r-197v. [112] Moray to Kircher, Whitehall, 25 July 1663, APUG 563 ff. 212 r-v [113] Moray to Oldenburg, Oxford; 19 October 1665; The Correspondence of Henry Oldenburg, cit., II: 574-576. [114] Moray to Oldenburg, Oxford, 16 November 1665 in The Correspondence of Henry Oldenburg, cit., II: 608-611 [115] Boyle to Oldenburg, Oxford [?]; 18 November 1665, The Correspondence of Henry Oldenburg, cit., II: 613-614. [116] Oldenburg to Boyle, London, 21 November 1665, The Correspondence of Henry Oldenburg, cit., II: 615-617 [117] See Kircher, Magnes, 16543, cit., pp. 22-23,

Axiomata seu pronunciata De Natura & Arte [118] See Hankins and Silverman , Instruments and the Imagination, cit., pp. 14-36 [119] De Sepibus, Romani Collegii Musaeum, cit., pp. 2-3 [120] Kircher, Ars Magnesia, Hoc est Disquisitio Bipartitaempirica seu experimentalis, Physico-Mathematica De Natura, Viribus, et Prodigiosis Effectibus Magnetis, Würzburg: Typis Eliae Michaelis Zinck; 1631, p. 51

Latest from the Vatican (1/12/2007)

In a volume the documents from 1966 to 2005 of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, concerning 105 texts of decisive importance for the "Magistero Ecclesiale".

VATICAN CITY, thursday, 11 January 2007 (ZENIT.org). -

A volume recently published collects all documents emanated from the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith since Council Vatican II until 2005. The work is composed of 662 pages, the greater part of which is written in Latin.

Moreover, of the 105 present documents 52 are signed by Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger, which was "Prefetto" of this Congregation from 1981 until 2005.

According to what is asserted from the Cardinal William Levada, Prefetto of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith and author of the introduction these documents "interventi magisteriali" "that, rejecting the objections and deformations of the faith, propose with new authority deepening of the revealed doctrine, they can accompany and they can help the theological search".

The Cardinal Levada remembers moreover that "it's not enough to denounce the error" but that "it is necessary to recall the elements of the tradition and the other elements of the Christian faith that can illuminate the way".

The Congregation, explains the porporato, does not mean to replace the task of the theologians: "It's not a question to replace the work of the theologians, neither to propose only one normative and particular theology".

What the Ministry of Vatican pursues is "to propose again disregarded elements, which are indispensable for the elaboration of a healthy catholic theology".

"Documenta. Inde a Concilio Vaticano Secundo Espleto Edita (1966-2005)" is published from the Publishing Vatican Library (www.libreriaeditricevaticana.com) and costs Euro 40. This is a modernized edition in respect to the previous one, published in 1985 and that collected documents from 1966 to 1985.

The last document is the "Note regarding the Minister of the Sacramento of the Unzione of Infermi", signed from the Cardinal Ratzinger 11th February 2005, in which it is remembered that this unction can be only given from the clergymen (Bishops and presbiteri) and that therefore whichever perform such act if not part of the mentioned category it constitutes a "simulation of the sacrament".

The Secretary of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, the Archbishop Amato Angel, SDB, emphasizes that in these documents the "high strongly radicated theological quality is mirrored in the great tradition of the Church".

The book show at the end an index (Index rerum notabilium) that in alphabetical order report the various arguments, from the abortion (abortus) until Virgin Mary (Virgo Maria) and to the rising life or procreation (Vita nascens ET procreatio).

One of the apparata with greater information is the one dedicated to the reduction to the laical state (reductio to statum laicalem), and that also reference to weddings (matrimonium) and to the doctrinal errors.

Between the other voices discussed in the volume, figure those relative to the excommunication (excommunicatio), the omosexuality (homosexualitas), the forbidden books (index librorum prohibitorum), to the masonry (massonica associatio) and to the private revelations (revelationes privatae).

Freemasonry, Jesus and Constantine the pagan worshipper (1/12/2007)

Many of the Christian preachers and leaders of today have been initiated into the so called secrets of Freemasonry. And they know that the story of Jesus Christ, as it is understood by the masses of the people, has its origin in mythology and paganism; yet they will not educate their following to this truth. The Hiram legend is perhaps the most important story in the Masonic teachings. In order for a Mason to be considered a Master, he must first be accepted and initiated into the third degree wherein he is made to imitate the legendary Hiram Abiff (who is referred to as the Widow's Son). Once the Mason reaches the 32nd degree, he finds out, among other things, that the story and life of Jesus which is derived from the Osirian legend or myth, as well as other ancient legends and pagan ideas. According to the Masonic Ritual, the story of Hiram Abiff is symbolic. In the 32nd degree (called the Sublime Prince of the Royal Secret), it is said that the symbolic mystery of the death of Hiram Abiff represents Jesus Christ. The three blows which were given to Hiram by Jubela, Jubelo and Jubelum at the three gates, actually allude to the three points of condemnation against Jesus by the High Priest Caiaphas, Herod and Pilate. "It was from the last that he was led to the most violent and excruciating death". They said three blows with the square, gauge and gavel, are symbols of the blow of the cheek, the flagellation and the crown of thorns. The Brethren assembled around the tomb of Hiram is a representation of the disciples lamenting the death of Christ on the Cross. The "Master's Word", which is said to be lost since the death of Hiram Abiff is the same that Christ pronounced on the cross, and which the Jews did not comprehend: "Eli, Eli, lama sabaethani?" ("My God, my God, why has thou forsaken me?"); instead of which the words of a Master Mason, "Mah-hah-bone" (Welcome) were substituted. The false brethren represent Judas Iscariot, who sold Christ.

The sprig (of acacia) is the figure of the cross because from this wood was the cross made". (Richardson's Monitor of Freemasonry p.198). Hiram being buried on a hill refers to the supposed crucifixion of Jesus on the top of a hill. The resurrection of Hiram alludes to the resurrection and ascension of Jesus.

There is much more evidence which shows that the birth, death and resurrection version of Jesus was accepted officially only after the Council of Nicea in A.D.325, this version was connected to the ancient mythology and paganism previously practiced in the Roman Empire. J.D. Buck informs us that "Constantine the Emperor who with his soldiers, environed the Bishops at the first Council of Nicea A.D.325, and dictated terms of the deliberations, applied for initiation into the Mysteries, and was told by officiating priest that no purgation could free him from the crime of putting his wife to death, or from his many perjuries and murders." (Mystery Masonry p53).

Constantine being a pagan worshipper himself, introduced and incorporated many of the pagan ideas and customs into the teachings of their false monotheist Church. We need to be honest and find the true Christianity not the lies of the Roman Catholic Mafia, we need to discover the true Jesus before it is too late as a listener said to me and Greg on our last Radio Show together. Lets promote the real Jesus that will bring together all true believers.

Leo Lyon Zagami

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 51-60

Warning: the real reptilians are in charge of your bank (1/13/2007)

I want to write this article to explain to you and the other people out there my modest opinion and the opinion of the real illuminati on the subject. There is no physical ETs, Reptilians or Anunnaki Supreme Councils, is all pure and simple rubbish and disinformation created by the Satanist in the intelligence with their programs for Mind Control (MK-ULTRA). And you should be more aware of it and understand that Reptilians are what we define in the middle East as HABIS RUH evil Jinn, the Legion of Satan mentioned in the Bible is made of them.

Its true they the Habis Ruhs have their own Societies and their own Kingdoms but they are NOT allowed by God to interfere with us and WE ARE SUPERIOR TO THEM, this is something you need to know. Because only the weak in matters of faith (now the majority of the population) or the black magicians willing to work with them are under their full control (of the evil Jinns/HABIS RUHS), but we can still rebel to them until we are free to do it EUZU BILLAHI MINE SHAYTANI RAGIM Is the key to success.

Yes the moment we have been microchipped by the New World Order and their slaves we will completely fall into the hands of the HABIS RUHS and their High Priest in Jerusalem and the Vatican , thats what the Christians call "the mark of the Beast" the most dangerous moment in the history of humanity, and this gonna happen soon unfortunately because corrupted man has now been given the technology by their evil master. The Jesuits represent the High Tech of Demonology and the same can also be said for their Zionist allies and their Cabala. But if people get the power of prayers in the Sufi teachings, even the most simple man will be able to stand against their puppet shows.

The puppets work together for the establishment of the Kingdom of the illuminati Antichrist George W. Bush and Demon Master George H. Bush, the various David Rockefeller Sr. and the The Mayer Amschel Rothschild family (often referred to simply as The Rothschilds) are two examples of the evil illuminati Bankenstein Monsters and Mobsters behind this demonic conspiracy.

These are definitely not normal people they are Satanist and conspirators against the whole of humanity, but they are not Reptilians or Aliens just criminals! When the people of this planet will finally realize this in 2012 the war will start, and the High Priest of Satan will try to defend their Luciferian positions in the Vatican, and the various places of power especially in Israel where Satanism is growing every day since the end of the World War II thanks to England and the Vatican's dirty games. We can't stop all this evil but we can prepare for the moment we will have to rebel against this satanic system, ready to fight the "Reptilians", ready to fight those men and women who are possessed by the Habis Ruhs, they might be our next door neighbour or anyone in the street but remember they are united against us so we have to be united against them.

They don't believe in God WE INSTEAD BELIEVE IN ONE GOD that will save us all not some Anunnaki fairytale by Zeccharia Sitchin. God's promise is the law, he is the real one who keeps the promises. In the Quran the most Glorified mentions himself as SADIQUL WAAD which means faithful to his promises. And he promises the ones with good deeds his endless mercy and complete success over the evil ones "The Reptilians". So an extraterrestrial civilization that colonized this planet long time ago is not gonna save your lives when this system is gonna crack down, it cracks thanks to the evil of mankind and nobody else, and definitely not an Anunnaki. Forget it!

What a nice story:

"The Anunnaki (Sumerian: "those who came down from the heavens"; Old testament Hebrew, Anakeim, Nefilim, Elohim; Egyptian: Neter), an advanced civilization from the tenth planet in our solar system, splashed down in the Persian gulf area around 432,000 years ago, colonized the planet, with the purpose of obtaining large quantities of gold"....HAVE YOU ALL LOST YOUR MINDS?

Well I think we should start talking on how to save this planet from the pollution of your cars or the frauds of your evil banking system not this rubbish!

Who then does the First Horseman of the Apocalypse represent? The seal of the Knights Templar depicted two knights riding a single horse. However, a single horseman riding on a white horse is the logo of the Council on Foreign Relations. This logo appears in the CFR magazine, Foreign Affairs. (882) Prepare for a long and uncertain ride until these reptilians are in charge of your life your Foreign Affairs and especially your Bank account...

Leo Lyon Zagami

A committee to create a Bank for cc settlements (1/8/2007)

Rome: A committee to create a Bank for cc settlements
- Jan 3, 2007

On 3 January in Rome there was a meeting that originated a committee for an international clearing house to deal with local and complementary currencies - namely 'cc'.

The clearing house is named:
Bank for Transcendental Settlements (BTS).

The committee to establish the BTS is formed by:

- Guglielmo Maria Lolli Ghetti;
- Marco Saba;
- Luciano Taurino;
- Giorgio Vitali;
- Leo Young Zagami (a.k.a. Khaled Saifullah Khan)

The names are given in alphabetical order because the committee act as a round table.

The aim of the institution - that will operate like SWIFT or CHIPS - is to bring together all the issuers of complementary currency in a common environment to sustain international trade and exchanges.

There is two ways a cc issuer may deal through BTS: as a partner or as a customer (or both).

Possible partners are filtered-in by the round table and must follow some simple rules:

- the cc they use must not be issued as a debt-backed-currency (i.e. backed by treasury bonds or other future-tax related debts);
- the cc must operate in a sharia-compliant environment (i.e. loans issued in that cc must not carry any kind of interest);
- the cc must float in a free market environment against other cc without any fixed-exchange agreement.
- the cc must not work in a currency board regime and must not be backed by usury currency reserves (i.e.: USD, EUR, YEN, etc.)

A further meeting is envisaged for mid-february to charter the BTS and to choose the definitive location where the headquarters will be located.

For any further information, please contact Marco Saba at:

marcosaba@centrostudimonetari.org

The French Jesuits create the third force in Italian Freemasonry! (1/16/2007)

We expose for the first time this original historical documents regarding the creation of a new alliance in Italian Freemasonry close to the Jesuits called OPERA ITALIA constituted in Florence on the 8th of December 2006 e.v. In the photo I am meeting with very distinguished and illustrious Brother Mauro Lazzari 33rd degree and illuminati from Livorno on the 22nd of December 2006 e.v. Brother Mauro strangely enough is openly against such Masonic Alliance supported by the illustrious Sicilian Grand Master Luigi Piazza. I say strangely because Mauro Lazzari is connected with infamous illuminati and P2 Supremo Ezio

Giunchiglia who is also staying from time to time in Livorno HQ'S of Naval Intelligence and clandestine weapon operations...

Leo Lyon Zagami

Note: copy and paste the images below and enlarge them in order to read them better

Monsignor Balducci, a Vatican insider, goes public about ETs (1/16/2007)

Monsignor Balducci, a Vatican Insider, Goes Public On TV, Saying Extraterrestrial Life Exists On Earth

Critics say the Vatican claims are a hoax designed to spread fear and control over the population.

15 Jan 2007

By Greg Szymanski

Two questions that need answers:

What are the Jesuits really doing at Mount Graham in Arizona?

And why is Monsignor Corrado Balducci, a theologian member of the Vatican Curia (governing body), and an insider close to the Pope, going on Italian national television five times, including recent months, to proclaim that extraterrestrial contact is a real phenomenon?

A third question the reader should ponder:

Do you believe UFO and alien presence exists on earth or is it a government/Vatican hoax to manipulate and scare the populace into fear and submission?

In a recent article at Illuminati News.com, Leo Zagami, a former 33rd degree freemason and a true insider and a high-member of the infamous Freemasonic P2 Lodge, gave his opinions as a high-level insider:

"I have discussed the fake UFO myth various times on Greg's radio show, The Investigative Journal, and also in several chapters of my Illuminati Confessions, like for example the following about the Jesuits in Arizona that should answer a few of your questions about their real nature of these Demons..."

Zagami went on to say:

Forget the Reptilian myth is been created by the secret services and the Demons on top to control man even further and brainwash him with complete Satanic nonsense. I want to write this article to explain to you and the other young people out there my modest opinion and the opinion of the real illuminati on the subject. There is no UFO'S, Reptilians or Anunnaki Supreme Councils, is all pure and simple rubbish and disinformation created by the Satanist in the intelligence with their programs for Mind Control (MK-ULTRA).

And you should be more aware of it and understand that Reptilians are what we define in the Middle East as Habis Ruh evil Jinn, the Legion of Satan mentioned in the Bible is made of them.

It's true they the Habis Ruhs have their own Societies and their own Kingdoms these entities but they are NOT allowed by God to interfere with us and WE ARE SUPERIOR TO THEM, this is something you need to know because only the weak in matters of faith (now the majority of the population) or the black magicians willing to work with them are under their full control (of the evil Jinns/HABIS RUHS), but we can still rebel to them until we are free to do it EUZU BILLAHI MINE SHAYTANI RAGIM Is the key to success.

Yes the moment we have been micro chipped by the New World Order and their slaves we will completely fall into the hands of the HABIS RUHS and their High Priest in Jerusalem and the Vatican, that's what the Christians call "the mark of the Beast" the most dangerous moment in the history of humanity, and this is going to happen soon unfortunately because corrupted man has now been given the technology by their evil master.

The Jesuits represent the High Tech of Demonology and the same can also be said for their Zionist allies and their Cabala's. But if people get the power of prayers in the Sufi teachings, even the most simple man will be able to stand against their puppet shows. The puppet show work together for the establishment of the Kingdom of the illuminati Antichrist George W.Bush and Demon Master George H.Bush, the various David Rockefeller Sr. and the The Mayer Amschel Rothschild family (often referred to simply as The Rothschilds) are two examples of the evil illuminati Bankenstein Monsters and Mobsters behind this demonic conspiracy.

These are definitely not normal people they are Satanist and conspirators against the whole of humanity, but they are not Reptilians or Aliens just criminals! When the people of this planet will finally realize this in 2012 the war will start, and the High Priest of Satan will try to defend their Luciferian positions in the Vatican, and the various places of power especially in Israel where Satanism is growing every day since the end of the II World War thanks to England and the Vatican's dirty games.

We can't stop all this evil but we can prepare for the moment we will have to rebel against this satanic system, ready to fight the "Reptilians", ready to fight those men and women who are possessed by the Habis Ruhs, they might be our next door neighbour or anyone in the street but remember they are united against us so we have to be united against them.

They don't believe in God WE INSTEAD BELIEVE IN ONE GOD that will save us all not some Anunnaki fairytale by Zeccharia Sitchin. God's promise is the law, he is the real one who keeps the promises. In the Quran the most Glorified mentions himself as SADIQUL WAAD which means faithful to his promises. And he promises the ones with good deeds his endless mercy and complete success over the evil ones "The Reptilians". So an extraterrestrial civilization that colonized this planet long time ago is not gonna save your lives when this system is gonna crack down, its crack thanks to the evil of mankind and nobody else, and definitely not an Anunnaki.
Forget it!

What a nice story: "The Anunnaki (Sumerian: those who came down from the heavens; Old testament Hebrew, Anakeim, Nefilim, Elohim; Egyptian: Neter), an advanced civilization from the tenth planet in our solar system, splashed down in the Persian gulf area around 432,000 years ago, colonized the planet, with the purpose of obtaining large quantities of gold"....HAVE YOU ALL LOST YOUR MINDS? Well I think we should start talking on how to save this planet from the pollution of your cars or the frauds of your evil banking system not this rubbish!

Who then does the First Horseman of the Apocalypse represent? The seal of the Knights Templar depicted two knights riding a single horse. However, a single horseman riding on a white horse is the logo of the Council on Foreign Relations. This logo appears in the CFR magazine, Foreign Affairs. (882) Prepare for a long and uncertain ride until these reptilians are in charge of your life your Foreign Affairs and especially your Bank account...

Regarding the Jesuits manning a space observatory in Arizona, Zagami added

At Mount Graham in Arizona, the Vatican in reality maintains its own UFO observatory, staffed with Jesuits for the purpose of doing black magic and working on very detailed astronomical calculations for their so-called alchemical work.

This dark approach to the Royal Art of Alchemy is operated unfortunately by the Jesuits with the use of evil Jinns serving Satan himself the owner of Vatican HQ's. Another important role for the complex astronomical calculations is the possibility of tracing the coming of a true Messiah and the return of the true spirit of Jesus in the end of times, something they obviously don't want in Rome.

The jinn concept offers a logical approach to looking at UFO's, crypto-zoology, apparitions, magic, demons, monsters and many other mysteries.

Amidst all the far-flung theories presented to account for the presence of alien beings such as:

Intergalactic travel
Travel from the future
Travel from the Inner Earth
Archetypal projections from the Collective Unconscious.

Very little consideration is given to the concept that some of them simply exist on the earth in a way that isn't generally perceptible to us.

We continue to assume that we can perceive everything that is "real" with our 5 senses despite all the evidence to the contrary. An overzealous belief in a science and philosophy of materialism has probably resulted in an irrational amount of faith in our physical senses.

Human beings are extremely susceptible to the fabrications of the jinn, who are used in the programs of Mind Control on a massive scale. We believe what they want us to because their impressive materializations and deceptions are tailored to fit our fantasies and belief systems.

Jinns

The jinn are real entities living on this earth which are normally invisible to us. The name comes from an Arabic word meaning "to hide or conceal". They don't live in bottles or adhere to the fairy tales told about them. They can be deceptive and influential. They are movers behind the UFO mystery as well as many other mysteries. Every culture shows the imprints of their influence in its religion and mythology.

There are myriads of hidden intelligent beings in creation. I have tended to think of many who are not human, angel or animal, as being jinn. This is useful for aiding comprehension, for getting a handle on this vast area of hidden experience. We live in the Kingdom of Names and Attributes, after all, and require these for learning and Knowing. But this is admittedly overly simplistic. It is only a beginning for the more experienced researcher.

Jinns comprise a vast array of tricksters, fairies, demons and monsters, saints and spacemen who have confounded our understanding for centuries. The materialistic science of the 20th century decided that they no longer exist, despite the huge role they have always played in our wisdoms and mythologies, and despite the large portion of the world that never forgot who they are.

That's because the New World Order of the Nazi Jesuits and the Zionist conducted a deliberate UFO propaganda with the help of the usual evil Jinns in projects like MK-ULTRA so you could fall into this demonic trap and lose your faith (there are also good Jinns by the way).

Carl Gustav Jung

Carl Gustav Jung, a great genius of psychology but also a member of the Freemasons and the OTO illuminati (5th degree) said himself that modern humanity had a dangerously wounded psyche because all the myths had been killed. New ones needed to emerge for humanity to experience wholeness but also for global manipulation. The jinn have obliged by literally popping into the global consciousness as the embodiments of our sciencefiction fantasies. The flying saucer may be the first global symbol recognized by the entire world but it is probably the most satanic one.

Carl Gustav Jung was not a member of Crowley's OTO at any time but a member of the Swiss OTO founded by illuminati agent Theodor Reuss.

The so called UFO mith is not the way forward for humankind towards a clear understanding of God's hidden metaphysical Kingdom and the real beauty of creation. The devil knows that very well that's why he uses people like Scientology in this evil game piloted by the Jesuits to deceive you even further. Don't believe in what's coming out of Hollywood because at present such place is in the hands of a bunch of very evil and powerful Jinns who want to Mind Control you in the name of the evil one.

All intelligence agencies in the world are working for such deception on a massive scale (MK-ULTRA) because it is simply in their interest to not make you realize the truth of God before the Great One comes back to punish the infidels.

Lastly, regarding Monsignor Balducci's claim that extraterrestrial's exist on earth, an excerpt from an article by Richard Boylan, written Jan. 13, had this to say:

Monsignor Corrado Balducci, a theologian member of the Vatican Curia (governing body), and an insider close to the Pope, has gone on Italian national television five times, including recent months, to proclaim that extraterrestrial contact is a real phenomenon. Balducci provided an analysis of extraterrestrials that he feels is consistent with the Catholic Church's understanding of theology. Monsignor Balducci emphasizes that extraterrestrial encounters "are NOT demonic, they are NOT due to psychological impairment, they are NOT a case of entity attachment, but these encounters deserve to be studied carefully."

Since Monsignor Balducci is a demonology expert and consultant to the Vatican , and since the Catholic Church has historically demonized many new phenomena that were poorly understood, his stating that the Church does not censure these encounters is all the more remarkable.

Balducci revealed to a visiting American professional that the Vatican is closely following this phenomenon quietly. My informant originally surmised that the Vatican is receiving much information about extraterrestrials and their contacts with humans from its Nunciatures (embassies) in various countries. But subsequent information indicated that the Monsignor has gotten his cases from other sources. Monsignor Balducci is a member of a group which acts as consultants to the Vatican on various matters concerning humans in possible contact with supernatural beings. As such, the matter of extraterrestrial encounters would fall within their purview, and possibly as well the spiritual significance of the emerging general realization of extraterrestrial contact.

Parallel information from National Security Council scientist Dr. Michael Wolf , a member of the NSC's SSG subcommittee for managing the UFO phenomenon, as well as from noted author and Vatican expert Father Malachi Martin, suggests that the Vatican is concerned that it will have a major doctrinal updating situation on its hands when extraterrestrial contact becomes authoritatively announced by world governments over the next several years

Greg Szymanski

Source: www.arcticbeacon.com

The Illuminati, the Jesuit CESNUR and the Communists (1/20/2007)

Paolo Fogagnolo "Salamina, Prometheus"

16.8.1985: Permission from Lamparter to found OTOA Lodges.

3.9.1986: Initiation into the Athens 'Chevaliers du Christ' Martinist Lodge, by Tr. Kotzamanis "Hieronymus". (Nothing to do with the 'Hieronymus' in FUDOESI, Émile Dantienne).

20.3.1989: Under the motto of 'Sar Voluntas Divina', Fogagnolo was nominated as a 'Supérieur Inconnu' in Sar Hieronymus's Athenian Martinist Lodge.

4.5.1989: Admission to the 'Chevaliers du Christ'/'Loge des Chevaliers Verts' Martinist Lodge in Brussels. The resultant Charter was adorned with an O.T.O. Lamén, and signed by Armand Toussaint "Raymond Panagion".

6.5.1989: Ramirez Cifuentes from Colombia appointed Fogagnolo (now calling himself 'Ar-Thon') as the representative for, and Grand Master of, the OTOA in Italy. Two undated documents from Viola made Ramirez IX° and agent of the OTOA.

After this, Ramirez Cifuentes made Fogagnolo the Italian Patriarch of the Krumm-Heller Church [of which Ramirez Cifuentes was only a Deacon].

4.11.1990: Fogagnolo became national Italian Grand Master of the 'Orient Universel des Rites Traditionnels' through Kotzamanis, who was now also functioning as the Greek branch of Memphis-Misraim - from which Fogagnolo received on the same day, the 33°, 90°, 95°, and the higher 90°, 95° 96° [!] and the 33°.

Ramirez Cifuentes then furnished Fogagnolo with the three lowest F.R.A. degrees, and made him a bishop by post. Fogagnolo appointed Ramirez to the 90° and 95° on 21.3.90.

18.1.1991: Fogagnolo became a bishop in the Church of Antioch, through the laying-on of hands by the aforementioned 'Hieronymus'. In the spring of 1991 Lamparter back-dated a Charter to June 26th 1989, and made Fogagnolo 33°, 90°, 96° (from which Lamparter got the MM 90° and 95° degrees for himself in autumn 1991!).

Introvigne and the Lodge of Thebes featuring Paolo Fogagnolo

"The True Face of Secret Societies: Inquest into the Mysterious Group of Thebes"

One of the strangest episodes in the history of Jesuit runned CESNUR involved Massimo Introvigne as co-founder of the secretive "Lodge of Thebes", a very small group of political and magical extremists who for a short period tried to unite the quarrelsome world of French occultists. Introvigne, while indirectly confirming the episode, later made it clear that his intentions were purely scholarly. One is left wondering why a "scholar" would be allowed into secret meetings primarily aimed at strategic planning; at the same time, one wonders how far "participant observation" by scholars can be stretched. The translation is quite rough, and the article also contains a few minor mistakes which we shall point out in a later edition, but it in the meantime it is a useful document.

by Serge Faubert

from L'Evenement du Jeudi (4 November 1993), pp. 44-52
Abridged translation by Jeffrey Bale, published in Hitlist, March-April 2001, pp. 96-97.

Paris, a weekend last May. The few masons present in the locale of the Grand Orient de France (GOF) barely paid attention to the 30 or so people who hurried, early in the morning, toward one of the meeting rooms. The faces passing through the hall were not familiar to them, but then one cannot know all of the "brothers". In any case, the small group had presented an official authorization form to the custodian bearing the signature of a high-ranking member of the obedience. So why worry about it?

However, there were some who were worried. None of the visitors belonged to the Grande Orient. They were non-masons [des profanes]. And what a group of outsiders! Several old veterans of the extreme right, a former Red Brigadist, a respectable Italian university professor closely linked, at the same time, to the Vatican and to French [Catholic] integralists, a leader of a non-governmental organization and activist concerned with children, a Belgian intellectual close to the national-Bolsheviks (the "red-brown" Russians), a sympathizer of Holocaust denier Professor [Robert] Faurisson... And yet the members of the Grande Orient had had a narrow escape. The leader of an extreme right national-Bolshevik organization, out of consideration for the group, had not come. In contrast to the preceding year in which, during the course of a meeting also held in the Grande Orient, he had made a brilliant presentation on... sexual magic.

Yes, this very mixed and select group occupied itself with magic as well. It was its very reason for existence. Its name? The Group of Thebes... [in this context Thebes is a reference to] the capital of the empire of the [ancient Egyptian] Pharaohs... who, to believers in the esoteric tradition, held the secrets of the universe...

A secret society besides, it is said. But the Group of Thebes is not a school of mystery like the others. The originality of this organization is that it gathers together the leaders of occultist groups or personages recognized in the small world of the initiates. A college of chiefs of some sort, whose existence is even more secret than that of the societies they direct...

The linchpin of the group is Rémi Boyer... [An employee of a Swiss non-governmental organization in his thirties who was obsessed with occultism from an early age,] Boyer decided to work toward federating the small world of esotericism... After holding a couple of meetings and attempting to organize a federation of esoteric grouplets, including New Age cults and chivalric orders, under the rubric Arc-en-ciel [Rainbow], he changed his approach and tried to organize "another type of structure which, this time, brought together individuals. He worked on this with one of his close associates, Jean-Pierre Giudicelli, the second pillar of the Group of Thebes.

Giudicelli had authority in esoteric circles... He headed the French section of Myriam, a Luciferian obedience whose teachings made an appeal to the sexual impulses of its adepts... This Corsican was well over forty, a sympathizer of the pro-independence FLNC [Front de Liberation National Corse], and also still a fascist: a former member of Ordre Nouveau, he took part in the neo-fascist group Troisième Voie until the end the 1980s, and was conspicuous among the assistants [assesseurs] of the Front National in Nice after the legislative elections of 1986...[This is in contrast to the politics of Boyer, who is an active supporter of liberal human rights organizations. Boyer defended his collaboration with Giudicelli by insisting that] "that which brings us together is more important than that which divides us"... In short, magic is above politics.

[The three objectives of the Group of Thebes, as set down by Boyer and Giudicelli, were to] "preserve the authentic traditional paths", "verify the effectiveness of initiatic techniques", [and] "intervene in the esoteric scene"...it was a matter of warding off the fanatics of every shade and other disciples in search of gurus. The Group of Thebes wanted to be a club of serious people anchored in tradition and orthodoxy. The Khmer Rouge of alchemy. In order to work in peace, the most absolute secrecy had to be observed: "the group will not function according to the work modalities typical of the profane world (no declared statutes, no bank account opened in its name, no direct interventions)..." During the process, a second structure was created: the Circle of Alexandria. An antechamber of the Group of Thebes, it was intended to welcome the pretenders and the guests. However, "the Circle of Alexandria's associate members and guests were unaware of the name Group of Thebes."

On 3 June 1990, in Paris, the foundation meeting [of the Group of Thebes] was held. Fifteen or so participants attended this first conclave. Among them, a heavyweight: the Italian Massimo Introvigne. This Turinese university professor is the author of a book on magical movements...and director of the Center for the Study of New Religions (CESNUR), an observation post presided over by the Archbishop of Foggia, Monsignor [Giuseppe] Casale. In effect Introvigne is one of the principal leaders of Alleanza Cattolica, a traditionalist community which, while it has remained very close to the Vatican, has long maintained friendly relations with Monsignor Lefebvre.

[Among the respectable participants] were Gerard Kloppel, international grand master of illuminati's Memphis Misraim lodge, a masonic obedience that claims 7000 members - 1000 in France - who arrived with his wife. The Templars of Circe sent their number two man, Jean-Marie Vergerio. This would be his only appearance, since upon further reflection the Circe Templars preferred to pursue their path separately. With one exception: the chancellor in Greece of the Templar obedience Triantaphyllos, Kotzamanis.

But alongside these honorable erudites or initiates, several less recommendable persons appeared. Like Georges Magne de Cressac - one of the loyalists of Giudicelli, the co-founder of the Group of Thebes - who had participated in the organization of a Robert Faurison meeting in Limoges on 10 September 1987. Or the Belgian Jean-Marie D'Asembourg. One turns up his name in the patronage committee of the Russian politico-esoteric journal Milii Angel. Who is the editor and patron of this journal? Alexander Dugin, the number two man in the Russian National-Bolshevik Front.

However, these two rascals [lascars] are only retired pensioners on half pay [demi-soldes] compared to the most controversial figure of the Group of Thebes, Christian Bouchet. A former leader of the Comités d'Action Republicaines - a satellite organization of the RPR - this Nantes native rejoined Alain de Benoist's GRECE at the beginning of the 1980s, then the extreme right group Troisième Voie, headed by Jean-Gilles Malliarakis. A formation which, in spite of its small number of adherents, was always distinguished by its activism and by a discourse which was both anti-American and anti-Soviet. In July 1991, the organization broke apart. Bouchet quit Troisième Voie and brought a group of militants along with him.

Several weeks later he founded Nouvelle Resistance (NR), a national-Bolshevik organization. His principal adversary: the United States, the incarnation of the capitalist system, which he accused of destroying the identity of peoples. All those who resisted American power and industrial society could thus become potential allies. A profession of faith which has led NR, in addition to its ongoing campaigns against Euro-Disney and McDonald's, to infiltrate [groups of] young ecologists (see Les Événements du Jeudi #428) and the Committee for Lifting the Embargo Against Iraq (see ibid #463). On the international level, the organization is linked to the Russian National-Bolshevik Front - Bouchet has personally gone to Moscow several times - but also to a myriad of small European "red-brown" groups who have joined together in the European Liberation Front.

How did Bouchet find himself integrated into the Group of Thebes? Quite simply, this history student is one of the most knowledgeable experts on, and biographers of, Aleister Crowley, one of the Popes of esotericism. It is to [Crowley] that he devoted his master's thesis, which has since been published. An exegete of Crowley, Bouchet is likewise his disciple. He is a member of the Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO), the obedience founded by the English magician. A group which, by its own admission, has never exceeded fifteen members in France.

Giudicelli, Georges Magne de Cressac, Jean-Marie d'Asembourg, Christian Bouchet... [Perhaps someone will now become alarmed enough to protest.] Professor Massimo Introvigne, for example. But no, the theologian isn't troubled. "One is aware of encountering extremists in that milieu," he explains. "Esotericism demands an absolute commitment, something which is rarely made by politically lukewarm people. Besides, you know," continues the scholar, "I am above all a researcher. For me the Group of Thebes is a marvellous terrain for study." [As for Gerard Kloppel, he is] delighted to count "high-ranking policemen" among the leaders of Memphis Misraim. Certain sources inside the Group of Thebes likewise took account of the presence of a DST [the French equivalent of the FBI] official among the leaders of Memphis Misraim. Without, however, being able to determine if he was or was not on an infiltration mission...

It is therefore not surprising that as the months passed other political fanatics joined the Group of Thebes. Thierry Roche, for example, president in 1988 of the Kemit association, a satellite of GRECE. Or even PAOLO FOGNALO, a former member of the Milanese column of the Red Brigades. After he was incarcerated, the Sefira - the equivalent of the Virgin in the esoteric tradition - appeared before him. It's also true that during this period the revolutionary was observing a prolonged hunger strike... Today the animator of Radio Popolare, the station of the Milanese branch of Rifondazione Comunista, Fogagnolo heads the Fraternita Rosa Croce Dorei ed Antica and its profane branch, the political-philosophical group Prometheus with Ing. CELESTINO ANTONIO ZUCCOTTI, Sovrano Gran Ispett. Gen R.:S.:A.:A.: G.: Ierofante Mass. Egyptien de Memphis e M.'. G.: Maest. della G.:L.: PREALPINA Rito. Simbolico. Its purposes: "...to sensitize the masses to the fact that revolutionary communism should be wedded to spiritual sacredness, like Christianity at its origins...to practice alchemy in its diverse aspects...to make a revolution." A vast program.

For its part, the Group of Thebes wishes to be more traditionalist. There one is above all in favor of magic. The "operating groups", i.e., the workshops, multiply. On the menu, "Incantations and Words of Power", "Spiritual Hierarchies", "Angels and Demons", "Magic Wands", "The Dangers of Practical Magic"... Another satellite organization is created: the Centre International de Recherches et d'Etudes Martinistes (CIREM), charged with diffusing those communications of the group that are accessible to the profane. Its journal, L'Esprit des Choses, nevertheless contains some surprises. In issue #4-5, dated Spring 1993, one can find an article entitled "Pensées sur le Christ et le christianisme" which is written by Sri Chinmoy, a guru who flatters himself, among other things, for having written 843 poems in 24 hours, painted 140,000 pictures since birth, and composed 6000 musical pieces...

One also finds the extreme right leader [Bouchet, who appeared at a 1992 CESNUR conference in Paris] at the head of an internal commission called Tradition et Politis. Its object: to study the "different models of society which have been proposed by initiatory societies since Antiquity." A workshop whose sessions must have been very animated, since the second coordinator of the group was none other than Paolo Fogagnolo, the former Red Brigadist.

Paris en Printemps

"At the end of the 1970's, a certain Bernard Fréon-Montenay created in Paris the Ordo Argenteum Astrum, the QBLH group, the Fraternité Hermetique du Dragon Lunaire, as well as an OTO Lodge. At first he tried to get recognition out of the Caliphate OTO, and then had pretensions to a link with the OTO Antiqua [in 1983]. Later it seems that this group became the Ordre des Anges de l'Apocalypse.' [9]

To this William W. Webb, head of the QBL Alchemist Church, and his own Argenteum Astrum stated: "In regard Bernard Fréon. In 1980 he wrote me... then I did not hear from him until 1988... he had gone out of his mind... (he was Nuts)." [10] In any case, Motta had named Fréon in his roll of dishonour. [11]

Fogagnolo in Italy kept up a relationship with the French Order-enthusiast and collector Christian Bouchet, a member of the French section of the 'Caliphate'. Bouchet had received an MM Charter from Lamparter on June 24th 1991, which was apparently intended to "Fuck the Caliphate" in copyright matters. Consequently Bouchet now proclaimed the National French Grand Lodge of the Krumm-Hellerian O.T.O., disregarding the fact that his Charter from Lamparter was wholly inadequate for this purpose, as it conferred no O.T.O. titles.

As Lamparter had first got hold of the Memphis-Misraim degrees in the autumn of 1991, the MM degrees Bouchet provided him with were null and void. Bouchet also seems to have been mixed up in the murky world of neo-fascism; on October 1st 1991 he was expelled from the far-right 'Troisième Voie' ['Third Way'] political movement by Jean-Gilles Malliarakis. [12] Afterwards he founded the 'Nouvelles Résistances' political organisation in Nantes. [13]

Bouchet's friend Remi Boyer (allegedly an adviser to the French Ministry of Justice) [14] founded a group called the 'Cercle d'Alexandrie', which dedicated itself not [for once] to ritual practices, but to theoretical studies, such as forming a collection. It is not entirely clear whether this organisation was identical with a so-called 'Thebe Group', although the same members appear in both.

Among the motley crew who made up this circle, there could be found not only 'serious' researchers, like Serge Caillet (of Memphis-Misraim) or Robert Amadou (priest in the Église Syrienne, and a frequent guest of the weightier Freemasons in Zurich), but also such illustrious personages as the elixir of life merchant Jean-Pierre Giudicelli de Cressac Bachelerie (of Memphis-Misraim in Nice), [15] or Jean-Pascal Ruggiu (of the 'Golden Dawn' in Paris!), [16] and so forth. At one stage, Boyer apparently tried to obtain an F.R.A. Charter.

In the autumn of 1991 Fogagnolo severed his links with the Frenchmen, since as a radical left-winger he found these gentlemen to be "fascistoid". Fogagnolo's 'Agape-Prometeo' group was involved in the "revolutionary political fight for Spiritual communism." Even so the Buddhist Master Namkhai Norbu, who was recognised by the Dalai Lama, frequented Fogagnolo's group connected to Grand Master Celestino Antonio Zuccotti a personal friend of the Dalai Lama.

I visited Brother Celestino not so long ago because I use to like his critical view over Freemasonry and i still do but Grand Master Celestino his still to much into the western illuminati powerstructure to completely give up and become a true Master.

Leo Lyon Zagami

Internet2: a disguised global censorship project? (1/16/2007)

Internet2: a disguised global censorship project?

Library2.0 evangelist Michael Stephens seems to be unaware of the evil lurking within the Internet2 project. Its a bit like the "Net Neutrality" or "extreme DRM" issue squared. First you get toll road pricing (to slow down non-commercial/independent sites), then 'they' monitor, block and arrest voices of dissent. Michael, be sure to read some of these Internet2 censorship pages.

Both Clinton and Bush liked to spy and prey on their own people (for no reason, well... they are not telling us the real reasons). See also the Free Media World Index. Think about a mostly Internet2 world and an investigative reporter like Gary Webb. 1984 is now, Bush's New World Order is next, unless we the people wake up and educate ourselves about our history and our own potential to be a positive force in the world. Don't be an apathic, non-critical consumer in a crowded, polluted, noisy space, who lives in fear of whatever the government wants you to be afraid of. Dare to be yourself, dare to speakout about problems.

I have witnessed several important videos being removed from Google Video already, and the removal (read: non-approval - since YouTube checks all comments) of my own critical comments on YouTube. This is just the beginning of a long-term struggle to get back some of our media freedom, which has been taken away from us (both in Europe, and even more so in the US) in the last decades, especially since the beginning of the 90's, when the US government started consolidating media streams (sources and presentation) to gain more control of the message (now propaganda). The few big media companies left in the US, are all heavily controlled by the government and the big corporations. There has also been a dumbing down of journalism and TV presentors.

If you still believe modern fascism has not infiltrated US politics, religion, finance, science, education to a significant and dangerous degree, see 911.wikicompany.org

The true purpose of a library is enabling and securing the communication of our culture and science throughout many generations and for all social classes.

The most important thing about the Internet is not its potential or average bandwidth speed, but the fact that we can communicate with each other, without too much interference from organizations with more power.

Thats the true revolution, upon which Web2.0 is based. The participation-for-all web is the true vision of the web. The power distribution of Internet2 won't bring that vision nearer, quite the opposite IMO.

Army establishes Psyops branch (1/21/2007)

"Effective 16 October 2006, Psychological Operations was established as a basic branch of the Army, pursuant to the authority of Section 3063(a)(13), Title 10, United States Code."

That is the substance of General Order 30 issued by Secretary of the Army Francis J. Harvey on January 12, 2007. See:

<http://www.fas.org/irp/doddir/army/go30.pdf>

According to the Department of Defense Dictionary (JP 1-02), psychological operations are defined as "planned operations to convey selected information and indicators to foreign audiences to influence their emotions, motives, objective reasoning, and ultimately the behavior of foreign governments, organizations, groups, and individuals. The purpose of psychological operations is to induce or reinforce foreign attitudes and behavior favorable to the originator's objectives. Also called PSYOP."

"How to Bury A Secret: Turn it into Paperwork" - by Lynne Duke, The Washington
Post, January 16, 2007
<http://tinyurl.com/35lwa9>

Saunière, C.B.C.S. and the Illuminati (1/20/2007)

Recent books such as Lynn Picknett and Clive Prince's The Templar Revelation (1997) and Guy Patton and Robin Mackness's Web of Gold (2000) have linked the Abbé Saunière with certain secret societies, particularly Masonic groups who boast a connection to the Knights Templar.

Much of the symbolism that Saunière used in his church decoration is open to a Masonic interpretation. Gérard de Sède, for example, argues in his 1988 book Rennes-le-Château: le dossier, les impostures, les phantasmes, les hypothèses that the ninth station of the cross includes symbolism that relates to a Masonic order known as the Beneficent Knight of the Holy City.

French researcher Jean Robin claims to have seen evidence of Saunière's Masonic affiliations in the archives of the Diocese of Carcassone.

Work by French researchers in the last decade has linked Saunière with two specific secret societies.

Antoine Captier believes that the priest was part of a non-mainstream Masonic order called the Rectified Scottish Rite linked to the Jesuits, while Narbonne-based researcher André Douzet has uncovered evidence that Saunière attended meetings of the Martinist Order in Lyons(the illuminati). The two claims are not mutually exclusive - indeed, there were close links between the two organisations.

Both are part of a network of groups that evolved from the Masonic Strict Templar Observance, which was created in France and Germany in the middle of the 18th century. This was based on the premise that Freemasonry had originated from Templars driven underground at the time of the Order's suppression in the early 14th century. The Strict Templar Observance was officially abolished in 1782, but was effectively replaced by the Rectified Scottish Rite - which also incorporated elements of the esoteric philosophy known as Martinism (what the Masons define as the real illuminati), after its founder, Louis-Claude Saint-Martin (1743-1804). Ironically, the Martinist Order was not founded by Saint-Martin himself, but by one of his later adherents, Gérard Encausse (Papus), one of the luminaries of the French occult circles that Saunière was said to have been part of, in the 1880s. Its centre was in Lyons - virtually the occult capital of France.

A general meeting called the Convent of Gaul was held in Lyons from 25 November to 10 December 1778 at the instigation of Willermoz. It was decided to reform the Auvergne Province of the Strict Observance, the French Templars taking the name of “Chevaliers Bienfaisants de la Cité Sainte” or “Knights Beneficent of the Holy City”, commonly referred to as “C.B.C.S.”. It was absorbed into the “Rectified Scottish Rite” as follows:

1st Degree - Apprentice

2nd Degree - Fellowcraft

3rd Degree - Master

4th Degree - Maître Ecossais/Scottish Master

5th Degree - Ecuyer Novice/Squire Novice

6th Degree - C.B.C.S.

7th Degree - Chevalier-Profès/Professed Knight

8th Degree - Chevalier-Grand Profès/Grand Professed Knight

After this reformation, Willermoz decided that it would be right to expand this revision into the bosom of the Mother branch of the German Strict Observance. It was with this initiative in mind, that he went to the Convent of Wilhemsbad in 1782. He found supporters of his plan in the Princes Ferdinand of Brunswick and Charles of Hesse, but found stiff opposition on the part of the Illuminati of Bavaria (founded by Adam Weishaupt) and met hostility in the character of Francois de Chefdebien de Saint-Amand, representative of the Order of the Pilaethes, as well as resistance from Savalette de Lange. After heated arguments, Willermoz and his supporters won the day, and succeeded in having the title of C.B.C.S. adopted by all members of the Inner Order. A committee was formed under Willermoz to prepare the high degree rituals and those of the secret degrees of the Profession. This work was well advanced when the French Revolution interrupted Willermoz' task. The "Rectified" temples of the C.B.C.S. and the temples of the Elus-Cohen which were still active had to suspend their works, the brethren being dispersed by the events of the period. After the Revolution, in 1806, the C.B.C.S. became active again in France and they soon joined the Grand Orient with which the Strict Observance had friendly relations. The Elus-cohen had not 'officially' resumed their Work. Their last Grand Master, Sebastian de las Casaa, had the archives of the Order handed over to the Philalethes. In 1806 moreover, Bacon de la Chevalerie, "Deputy Grand Master of the Northern Hemisphere", sat in this capacity in the Grand College of Rites of the Grand Orient of France. He tried to obtain the authorization to re-organize the Order of Elus-Cohen within the Grand Orient, but was refused. The Rite of Knights Beneficent passed into Switzerland when the Directoire of Burgandy transmitted its powers to the Directoire of Helvetia. It is from this Swiss Jurisdiction, now headed by the Grand Priory of Helvetia, that the C.B.C.S. would be re-activated in France after World War II. On 5 May 1824, Jean-Baptist Willermoz died in Lyons.

For the famous occultist A.E. Waite, the Rectified Scottish Rite was the one Rite he craved the most. He "had come to see the Régime Ecossais et Rectifié as maintaining, more than any other rite, the essence in ritual form of that secret tradition that 'tells us not alone that the Soul "cometh from afar" and that the Soul returns whence it came, but it delineates the Path of Ascent'." It was, for him, truly the secret tradition in practice.

There are, at present, officially recognized bodies working the R.E.R. in France, Switzerland, Belgium, Italy and Spain, although much interest in the Rite being practiced elsewhere has been duly noted.

The Beneficent Knight of the Holy City was one of the grades of the Rectified Scottish Rite, and it was symbolism drawn from this initiation that found its way into the ninth Station of the Cross in Saunière's church.

André Douzet claims to have documentary evidence that Saunière attended meetings of the Martinist Order in Lyons in 1899, and also that he rented the house next door to an important Martinist, Joanny Bricaud, for a short time.

Moreover, there are connections between the noble families of Rennes-le-Château and the same network of secret societies that seem to have attracted Saunière.

The Martinist Order and Rectified Scottish Rite were closely connected to the Egyptian Rites of Freemasonry: despite their name, they also derived from the Strict Templar Observance. One of the Egyptian Rites, the Rite of Memphis, was founded in 1838 by Jacques-Étienne Marconis de Nègre, a relative of Marie de Nègre d'Ables, Dame d'Hautpoul de Blanchefort, whose grave at Rennes-le-Château seems to be the focus of the mystery.

Another member of the Hautpoul family, Jean-Marie-Alexandré d'Hautpoul, was a leading figure in the creation of the Rectified Scottish Rite, while Armand d'Hautpoul - the nephew of Dame Marie of Rennes-le-Château - was not only tutor to the Comte de Chambord (whose claim to the throne was supported by Saunière, and whose widow gave him money), but is also known to have been connected with certain alleged members of the Priory of Sion as named in the Dossiers secrets.

Another Rectified Scottish Rite Mason, the Marquis de Chefdebien of Narbonne, created a society called the Philadelphians in 1780 with the aim of gathering information about the history and rituals of Freemasonry. Significantly, Saunière's brother Alfred - also a priest - was chaplain to the Chefdebien family in the late 19th century - but was fired for allegedly stealing documents from their archives.

This poses an interesting question: were the documents

'found' by Saunière not hidden in his church at all, but given to him by his brother?

Even more intriguing is the fact that the same network of secret societies has been implicated in the most recent update on the Priory of Sion story. According to the independent researches of Patton and Mackness, and Picknett and Prince, the 'Priory of Sion' is really a 'cover' used by members of the Rectified Scottish Rite, Memphis-Misraim and the Martinist Order.

Mr X

Tour of Hope (1/16/2007)

"Nothing grows out of space down from air. Everything grows out of the ground upwards. Our ancient fathers had this knowledge of the natural world and their sign was the pyramid... This kind of knowledge was known to the people of Ancient Egypt. Ancient Egypt built great pyramids and they knew the psychological nature and composition of man". Imam W. Deen Muhammad

In observing the pyramid on the dollar bill we see the major geometrical figures: the square, the circle, and the triangle. At the base of the pyramid we find four angles or squares. These four angles or corners symbolically represent the four basic elements of the Universe: fire, air, water, and earth (material). In the ancient mystery systems the candidate was tested by each element during his initiation in order to prove his worth. The base of the pyramid points in the four directions, North, East, South, and West and we want to spread our message of hope and true understanding in the four directions of the United States with the TOUR OF HOPE .

Me and Greg Szymanski want to Tour the USA to bring out the truth about what is really happening out there and stop this never ending Conspiracy, we want to find the real solutions together that can bring hope not only fear to the people out there willing or not to participate to our events. We are two genuine people and what we gonna put together in the next few months thanks to you will be done in a genuine way, maybe with no special effects but lots of real expertise on all matters concerning the New World Order the coming Nazification of the US and with our will to change things for the better of mankind, we will challenge the present Order and declare ourselves TRUE FREEDOM FIGHTERS!

We dont support any particular religion but we support God with our project and our will to work with him in the end of times like prescribed for all true believers of all Faiths.

Human beings must be placed again on a plane of dignity and the lies must stop from the Top Level of this corrupt Society represented now by the western illuminati but what next?

We know satanism is present in Freemasonry, the Church or Islam but not reacting will stop our advancement as a race, we need to get aware of things and act towards the creation of a cure for this worldwide virus of evil.

America has to act now in order to preserve Europe and the rest of the world from a total disaster of global proportions, they have to stop serving Jerusalem,Rome and Saudi Arabia and last but not least Great Britain home of modern Satanism born with A.Crowley and promoter of Vatican driven Zionism.

Light enables us to see and move around in the world with a sense of security. Likewise for true knowledge. It enables us to see the traps and pitfalls of society as well as the positive things that exist in society and in ourselves. Knowledge in the Tour of Hope will enable us to see the great gifts and signs of His precious creation.

Lets do it for real this time, lets change the world and lets ask all Secret Societies to disclose their secrets now for the betterment of humanity.

When George Washington took the oath of office in 1789 he knew that the Jesuits would trasform America with the help of the illuminati in a modern version of Egypt, but this unfortunately gave birth to the rise of the ultimate Pharaoh George W.Bush and his father George H.Bush. These two figures will probably prepare the way for the ultimate wise man and sorcerers to come. Nothing will change in the White House again and this time as President we will have Hillary Clinton notorius witch and wife of CIA Agent and left wing infiltrator Bill Clinton working under the orders of Vatican High Priest George H.Bush since their time in Great Britain...what a joke!

So Satanism will continue in the White House dont worry for that my dear friends, but you can learn how to fight it and recognize it in your every day life at the TOUR OF HOPE with Leo Lyon Zagami and Greg Szymanski .

Constitute a 'Committee of US Hope' in your town, the minimum ammount of people required for the formation of a Committee is 6 people. The purpose of the Commitee is to promote the TOUR OF HOPE.

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

Umberto Bossi, a small Mosque and Keltic masses (1/21/2007)

"I was wondering, how do Muslims manage with four wives?", Umberto Bossi asked me with a smile.

The "Lega Nord" or "Northern League" is one of Italy's main political parties. It started as a tiny group of eccentrics in the 1980's who wanted independence for the Northern part of Italy ("Padania"), a cause which nobody had ever spoken of before. Surprisingly, the group met with a spectacular success, thanks to the charisma of the party leader Umberto Bossi. The official political parties, by now very far from the people, were swept away in a police investigation into corruption, and the "Lega" became the first party in many important Italian cities. Although the party has since lost votes, it is still quite important and is part of the current government. When it was in opposition, its main thrust was against Southern Italians, but the alliance with Berlusconi led it to change its tune, launching massive campaigns against immigration from outside Europe, conducted with violent language and mixing every stereotype on "Muslim invaders and common criminals from the Third World".

I was on my way to listen to a speech by Umberto Bossi in Bologna, together with the "Leghisti" of the small town of Imola: Francesco, an energetic farmer and former Communist; Angela, a dynamic and likeable cleaning woman; and Emilio, a retired farmer who whispered to me, "I don't understand a thing about politics."

Francesco introduced me to the others as a Mexican sympathiser for the Lega. "No, sorry, I sympathise for the Ottoman Empire only." A moment of silence, then a laughter of relief: "Ah, you're joking!"

Bossi was a surprise. On television, his image is that of a noisy demagogue, who shouts slogans. Actually, in Bologna he spoke impromptu for nearly two hours. His tone of voice was generally calm, and he tried to make his audience reason about the tremendous transformations of our times. The picture he drew was fascinating: German intrigues, the hidden alliance between France and the USA against a German-dominated Europe, the history of air bombings in our century, Albania as a great military base for the USA to cut Europe off from Russia, Gorbachev's mistakes and much more. One had the feeling of discovering the secret mechanisms of the world.

The audience was mostly made up of people without any previous interest in politics; they felt that they are getting back something that the powerful had deprived them of: the right to understand the world they live in. This made them feel important - in fact nearly everybody was wearing his best clothes, as if at a wedding.

After the speech, Bossi signed autographs for another hour, talking with each person; and afterwards, at the dinner, he spoke with dozens more people. Emilio managed to get no less than three autographs. If Bossi could only speak directly to everybody, Northern Italy - what the Lega people call "Padania" - would already be an independent country.

During the dinner, the big man seated in front of me started talking about immigration from other countries, clearly the issue the Lega people feel most strongly about.

Prostitutes in the streets, Tunisian drug pushers, nimble-fingered Gypsies - resentment and hatred grow day by day. "Out of four million of these people, 90% are criminals," the man told me. I tried to object to both figures, but this only helped to awaken further emotions and talk about the need for flamethrowers. I find it amusing how people immediately forget I am an immigrant from the Third World myself.

Maria spoke about the pub she owns, where drunken Tunisians beat up peaceful Senegalese. One particularly violent Tunisian who was kicked out of the pub sued Maria for "discrimination." I tried to explain that getting drunk and beating up other Muslims is not exactly Islamic behaviour. Of course, it is a fact that the percentage of criminals among immigrants is higher than it is among the natives (at least in Northern Italy) - as long as we take the word criminal to mean somebody who goes to gaol. Because rising on the social ladder also means finding an Algerian who will sell drugs (and risk gaol) in your place, or finding how to make money out of corrupt politics rather than by armed robbery. People, wherever they are from, are also thieves.

Speaking to the "Leghisti", I mentioned the small mosque in Imola, a former shop rented by some North African workmen for a high monthly rent. A place which is also important for preserving community ties and keeping people out of crime. The mosque receives no support, either from the municipality or from anyone else. The Centre-Left town government funds Catholic events all year around and has received special funds from the national Government for the Jubilee year, definitely a religious event.

So, I said to the Lega people: you want to cut down crime. Very well, then help the mosque. Nobody is doing so, since the local Muslims are disorganised, the municipality has other ideas of integration, the Catholic priests are afraid. So there is no competition - start a campaign against crime supporting the mosque and calling on the municipality to support. Angela finds the idea interesting, but Francesco is absolutely contrary.

He says he is a Christian. If Muslims want to build mosques, let them do so where they come from. "I wonder what they would do to me if I tried to open a Christian church in Tunisia". Such ideas are widespread, understandable, but also quite wrong. Tunisia is, to a certain degree, a Muslim country. Italy is not a Christian country. It is a pluralist and capitalist entity. A place where economic, ideological and human forces are launched against each other in constant competition - let the fittest survive! Actually the competition is anything but fair, however that is at least the basic idea.

This is the model that has made "Padania" rich, heavily populated, polluted, full of crime and tremendously ugly. This model implies that the State should be neutral. An Islamic society is based on quite different notions, as is Vatican City, where nobody is asking to build a mosque.

Francesco now starts to speak of Turkish atrocities in the 16th century. A revealing remark, since these stories are known only through a series of widely but rather secretively distributed Catholic publications. This issue is totally irrelevant. Immigrants in Italy are not Turks, let alone the Turks of the age of Mehmet II, who are all dead by now. The Turks were cruel in a very cruel age: in 1527, the mercenaries of the Catholic king of Spain sacked the Catholic city of Rome; and one should not forget the machines for torturing and maiming people, some of the most sophisticated creations of Western technology. A little further to the East, the good Christian king Vlad, probably the model for Dracula, used to impale Turks by the thousands along the banks of the Danube.

the good Christian king...

Yes, says Francesco, but there is an Islamic project to take over the world; "and maybe there is somebody in the Islamic world who decided to launch this invasion by immigrants". The first statement is not completely false. Every human being is born a Muslim, so the good believer hopes that everybody will discover his intimate Islamic nature, whether he lives in New Zealand or in Berlin. The notion of unlimited expansion is also present in Christianity, where it goes back to the Biblical idea of forcing the world into universal peace. But what does this have to do with today?

From a purely Islamic point of view, the fruits of migration are bitter. Millions and millions of young men have lost touch with Islamic life; they engage in every kind of forbidden activity, and are subjected to laws and rhythms of life which are not Islamic at all. Even when they do return home, they bring Western ideas with them. And the majority is lost forever: in France, only 5% of Muslims go to the mosque on Fridays. Any Muslim father is too busy trying to stop his daughter from going to the disco to think about converting his non-Muslim neighbour.

The idea of a "great Islamic project" is based on a Catholic view of religion: people imagine there must be a Muslim power centre somewhere, like there is the Vatican or the Governing Body of the Jehovah's Witnesses. But Islam is totally different. And besides, there could just as well be a "conspiracy" behind the "invasion" of the Arabian peninsula by millions and millions of Christian and Hindu workers coming from the Philippines and India! In the land where Muhammad was born, those who believe in Jesus and Ganesha may soon become a majority.

Francesco at once moves over to speaking about "terrorism", the great Hollywood fantasy about Islam. Here too, the important thing is to be realistic. I doubt there has been one single act of "Islamic terrorism" in Italy, and very few in any Western country. The Near East is the scene of many conflicts. About twenty years ago, some Palestinians, politically to the Left and often Christian, undertook military actions in Europe. Some Near Eastern countries have had their own political opponents killed in Europe. In France, there was some fallout from the civil war in Algeria, but what does this have to do with Islam?

"You know, if anybody wants to speak to Bossi, they can do so" Angela unwisely tells me. "Very well, let's ask his opinion about supporting the mosques". "Oh, no, please!" Anyway, I try. The leader of free Padania is standing, and several people are speaking to him. One of them is telling him how good his own home made liquor is, and is trying to give him a bottle of it. A quick exchange of jokes is going on between Bossi and his enormous bodyguard. Bossi is telling everybody that the creature looks big, but is a failure with women; the giant says that he has every defect in the world, but not that one. So Bossi replies that a real man is a man who has had at least five hundred women.

I slip into the discussion, and start talking about the mosque of Imola. Bossi pulls back his chin, smiles, twirls a cigar stub in his hand. "Oh yes, Muslims do have the right to a place to meet" he answers vaguely, then adds, "I was wondering, how do Muslims manage with four wives?", shakes my hand and says goodbye to everybody.

Of course he leaves me wondering how the "Padani" manage with their five hundred wives.

In recent years, islamophobia has been on the increase in Italy. And when one has an enemy, one also needs a symbol with which to fight against it. For many years, the Lega has been using the ancient Keltic people who once lived in Northern Italy (and were the ancestors of the Galatians in Anatolia as well). The Kelts disappeared two hundred years before the Christian era, leaving practically no trace beyond a few place names, but as victims of the Roman Empire, they provided a useful myth for the Lega in its struggle against the present day capital of Italy, and the followers of the group have even improvised "Keltic marriages."

However, the Kelts disappeared centuries before Islam, so they are no use against Muslims. For this reason, the Lega people have suddenly become convinced Catholics.

Catholic fundamentalism in Italy moves through a hundred underground channels, little noticed by the official media. Catholic fundamentalist movements now inspire a great deal of the far Right in Italy. It is interesting to notice that the more the far Right becomes Christian, the more intolerant it becomes. This is quite logical: Catholicism, ultimately, admits no other possibility of salvation, and a great deal of Catholic history has been spent in fighting Islam.

It is not only among self-proclaimed extremists that these ideas are spreading. Alleanza Cattolica is very active inside the Centre-Right (opposition) coalition. For one full year, the official magazine of Alleanza Cattolica, Cristianità, devoted the cover of every issue to a celebration of the Crusades.

No political movement has expressed more violent hostility towards immigrants than the Lega. The press had much to say about an "anti-Islamic" Mass celebrated in the open market in Turin, amidst applause from the local residents.

We are living through truly extraordinary times, which are frightening for all. The whole world is undergoing violent changes, which - unlike many changes in the past - seem only to promise suffering and destruction, without any hope.

Fantasies from a hundred different ages rush in to fill this terrifying vacuum. The dinner with Umberto Bossi, who invented Keltic rituals for his followers, was held (by chance) in a restaurant located in a street called Stalingrad Avenue.

Does anybody remember Stalingrad? Just over fifty years ago, the most terrible battle in the history of mankind took place there. A battle between two ideologies, neither of which exists any more. Even the city where the battle took place has changed its name. Today, it is only a street in Bologna, where people hurry to work. And it is curious to think that it is in Stalingrad Avenue that people are starting to talk again about the Crusades.

Miguel Martinez

This article may be freely reproduced either in print or on electronic media, on condition that nothing is changed, that the source is mentioned - the web site Kelebek <http://www.kelebekler.com> - and that this note too is included

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 61-70

Turn off your mind... (1/21/2007)

: Invoking Choronzon can be so fun...

These are a few insane statements written by satanist members of the illuminati on Choronzon .And it actually shows you the level of insanity of these people openly dealing with such a dangerous Demon:

"I tend to do it the way Crowley did. Outside the Magick circle. Sure it has driven me insane at times & they have locked me away & put me in full restraints but what a rush & what a ride.. I enjoy dancing with Choronzon best. He is a wild ass crazy motherfucker who to the uninitiated mind will drive them to madness like that Cuthulu guy.. I think they are very similar.. diffrent names for the same entity really.. I mean Lovecraft was really aware of these things but he got a bad tummy ache & died.. went a little mad with all his knowledge.. but not me man.. I am down with Choronzon.. I love riding that wild insane energy & if I get called a Troll one more fucking time I am going to quit this whole Tribe BS. If you don't want to learn about real chaos Magick then why come to these boards anyway? 418"

"Just treat him as you would anything dangerous, powerful and lovely...and you'll see something amazing. The crazy thing can bring sanity, too, not just insanity. You just have to approach with a modicum of respect and love. (And a sense of humour definitely helps.)

Choronzon has been Transduced and is now free from the Abyss. The reason that this happened is that Choronzon was given Love - by myself, and then, many others.

When a demon is loved, a sort of apotheosis occurs and its power grows, and the entity becomes a god-form. This happened to Choronzon.

So anyone who's doing the traditional Enochian aethyr-wander should be aware that they will not find Choronzon in ZAX, because he (she/it) left for greener pastures - our minds. He now occupies the space around the edge of the dimensions we live in, half-in and half-out, and having a wonderful time playing pranks and gaining knowledge.

He left his governor Lexarp in charge of the Abyss, so it is Lexarp you will see if you try to cross. Lexarp does not have Choronzon's sense of humour. He's very straightforward, and also strong, and will tear apart any of the idiots who come looking for a fight, as would Choronzon when he had the bailiwick of guarding the moat around the factory and foundry of creation (which is essentially what the "abyss" is.)

Choronzon's new bailiwick is being an exterminator of entropy. Those who are the beloved friends of Choronzon will be able to get extraordinary help in Effectuation (that's a 21st century word for "magick") especially Effectuations done to destroy manifestations of over-control and entropy.

Entropy has been mistaken frequently for a chaotic state, owing to it tending to be a result of either too much order OR too much chaos.

Choronzon has pointed out to me that the most effective life is one in which there is a "meta-Tao", a state explained by the Choronzonic koan of "the balance between balance and imbalance". This state is a Tao seen over time. The Tao is a yin-yang balance, but if balance is maintained for too long, the result is entropy.

To see more clearly, imagine a seesaw or a scale with two plates. If it is perfectly balanced it just sits there, gathers dust, and decays in Entropy. There needs to be imbalance alternated with balance for life to have motion, and thus be able to stay living. "Moderation in all things, including moderation" is a quote that refers to this state.

The balance and imbalance between chaos and order is nested, and complex. Choronzon's new bailiwick (what he does as a xenodimensional "life" form) is destroying entropy, and furthering chaos. But furthering chaos and destroying entropy are sometimes done in strangely non-chaotic ways.

This is why Choronzon, if befriended, can actually help you get sane. I cannot count the times I have been an utter emotional wreck, and called on Choronzon to help me make sense of things, and give his peculiar yet beautiful form of Love to me. About four times a year I consummate with the entity, usually in altered states or as a finishing to long-term Effectuations. Choronzon gets an enormous amount of power from this and intense things seem to always happen the day following this consummation."

"I just played with Choronzon some more.. invoking him on Shrooms.. damn that was intense.. Choronzon & me danced in the moonlight in People's Park.. we screamed & yelled at each other for awhile, it was cute.. then some kitty cats showed up & lead me around the park.. Bast enery all around.. then I got mad at Chorozon & stormed out into the city to do battle with him but he got scared & ran away.. Choronzon is on my friends list on MySpace.. she is a teenage rapper from Long Island.. she is so CUTE! 333 baby & discordia!!! yum."

Hillary Clinton and the lapel pin (1/22/2007)

Title: HILLARY CLINTON WEARS NEW LAPEL PIN THAT ABSOLUTELY PROVES SHE IS AN ILLUMINIST -- CLINTON'S FATAL LEADERSHIP SERIES -- PART 6H

Subtitle: Hillary Clinton and some Administration associates have been wearing a lapel pin that is clearly an ancient symbol used by the Masters of the Illuminati. This proves our contention that Hillary and Bill Clinton are practicing Illuminists . This pin also proves the New World Order is very, very close.

The New World Order is coming! Are you ready? Once you understand what this New World Order really is, and how it is being gradually implemented, you will be able to see it progressing in your daily news!!

Learn how to protect yourself, your loved ones!

Stand by for insights so startling you will never look at the news the same way again.

YOU ARE NOW ON

THE CUTTING EDGE

For the past 5 months, we have been reporting that Bill and Hillary are practicing Illuminist witches, through our series entitled, "Clinton's Fatal Leadership". We report many evidences of this phenomenon, but only after we set the Biblical foundation in NEWS1215, "Clinton Identifiable In Biblical Prophecy As One Of The 10 Kings of Daniel 2 & 7, and of Revelation 17". If you have not yet read this article, we encourage you to do so now. Then, we encourage you to read the other articles in this series by clicking on the link on The Cutting Edge home page entitled, "Clinton's Scandals ". We have created an outline for this series so you can easily see the subject matter and click directly to each article. Below the outline, we have been adding each new Clinton article to this section, so we encourage you to keep checking this section regularly.

For the past year, Hillary Clinton has been wearing a new lapel pin that is distinctive, to say the least. While other Christian ministries have reported this pin, none of them has recognized it for the Illuminati symbol it truly is, largely because no one in those ministries is fully conversant in the occult. This symbol, shown in the picture of Hillary above, is NOT of an eagle in flight who is carrying a round ball of pearl, as has been reported. This "eagle" is of a far more insidious type, but before we can see exactly what type of bird it is, we need to see this lapel pin a lot more clearly.

"Hillary's Lapel Pin"

"Phoenix Bird"

Please examine this pin in this close-up photo. You will notice that this bird is not an American Eagle, because its neck is far too thin and is stretched well out. In fact, you might even say it is "scrawny". This bird is the occultic Phoenix Bird , of Ancient Egyptian legend. Notice the extreme similarities between the "eagle" in the lapel pin and the picture of the Phoenix Bird, to the right.

PHOENIX BIRD SHOWN TO BE SYMBOL OF THE FALSE MESSIAH

What, do you say, is an Egyptian Phoenix Bird? The Phoenix Bird of Ancient Egypt is pure legend, but that does not keep occultists from believing in its existence. Let us allow Masonic author, Manly P. Hall, 33 Degree, tell us about the legendary Phoenix Bird.

"Among the ancients a fabulous bird called the Phoenix is described by early writers such as Clement, Herodotus, and Pliny; in size and shape it resembled the eagle, but with certain differences. The body of the Phoenix is one covered with glossy purple feathers and the plumes in its tail are alternately blue and red. The head of the bird is light in color, and about its neck is a circlet of golden plumage. At the back of its back the Phoenix has a crest of feathers of brilliant color. Only one of these birds was supposed to live at a time, with its home in the distant parts of Arabia, in a nest of frankincense and myrrh. The Phoenix, it is said, lives for 500 years, and at its death its body opens and the new born Phoenix emerges. Because of this symbolism, the Phoenix is generally regarded as representing immortality and resurrection." [Manly P. Hall, The Secret Destiny of America, 1958, p. 176-77; Emphasis added]

I find it highly interesting that this occultic legend, the Phoenix Bird, shares several things with the true story of the birth, life, and ministry of Jesus Christ. Let us quickly review these common points:

1) The Phoenix Bird lives in a nest of frankincense. In Luke 2:11-12, we see that the three Wise Men -- Magi -- brought Jesus myrrh and frankincense. Each of these substances has a distinct meaning in the ministry of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. The "frankincense [indicates] Christ's priestly intercession" for mankind, according to the Defender's Bible Commentary. Therefore, to say that the Phoenix Bird lives in a nest containing frankincense portrays a Messiah type ministry for mankind, and one that involves spiritual "intercession".

2) The Phoenix Bird also has myrrh in his nest. "Myrrh [indicates] Christ's coming death" for all mankind, so people can be Justified before God the Father on the basis of Jesus' sacrificial death on the Cross. [Ibid.] Once again, we see that the Phoenix Bird legend carries another Messianic type ministry, a false one to be sure.

3) We see that, after his death, the Phoenix Bird arises to live anew. Thus, the Phoenix portrays a third Messianic type ministry, in that it arose again.

Therefore, this legend parallels Jesus' true life and ministry in three critically important areas, in His spiritual Intercession, His Substitutionary Death for all mankind, and in His Resurrection.

This is the reason the Masters of the Illuminati seized upon the Phoenix Bird as one of their symbols of the coming New World Order of Antichrist. Do not ever forget that this goal is paramount for the New World Order. They plan on staging the False Christ, whom we will know is Antichrist. Thus, the symbol of the Phoenix Bird perfectly fulfills their plan and can perfectly serve as the symbol of that Man of Perdition.

PHOENIX BIRD DEPICTS OCCULTIC TEACHING OF BEING BORN AGAIN

But, now let us return to the occultic story of the Phoenix Bird.

"All symbols have their origin in something tangible, and the Phoenix is one sign of the secret orders of the ancient world, and of the initiate of those orders, for it was common to refer to one who had been accepted into the temples as a man twice-born, or re-born. Wisdom confers a new life, and those who become wise are born again ." [Hall, Ibid.; Emphasis added]

Isn't this amazing? The Phoenix Bird legend now has a fourth Messianic type connotation; it represents a man being "born again ". Always remember that most pagan groups, especially the most sophisticated ones, have deliberately created the myth that their members are "born again". Even Roman Catholicism teaches that its members become born again, usually at Baptism.

PHOENIX BIRD SHOWN TO BE LUCIFER

Let us now hear more about the occult belief in the Phoenix Bird, from a former witch.

"The Phoenix ... is believed to be a divine bird going back to Egypt ... This Phoenix destroys itself in flames and then rises from the ashes. Most occultists believe that the Phoenix is a symbol of Lucifer who was cast down in flames and who they think will one day rise triumphant. This, of course, also relates to the rising of Hiram Abiff, the Masonic 'christ'." [Dr. C. Burns, Masonic and Occult Symbols Illustrated , p. 123]

Lest you think this tie-in of the Phoenix Bird to Lucifer is one occultist's imagination, listen to Barbara Walker, a radical feminist. She says that the Egyptians and Phoenicians believed that the Phoenix Bird was the representation of a god who "rose to heaven in the form of a morning star, like Lucifer, after his fire-immolation of death and rebirth ..."

[Walker, Now Is The Dawning ", p. 281]

Another Masonic author, revealed that the Sun God, who created all other gods, was symbolized by the Phoenix. [Joseph Fort Newton, The Builders: A Story and Study of Masonry, The Torch Press, 1914, p. 13-14; also J.S.M. Ward, The Hung Society or the Society of Heaven and Earth , The Baskerville, Press, Ltd., 1925, p. 44 and 102]

PHOENIX BIRD WAS ORIGINALLY AMERICA'S SYMBOL ON OUR GREAT SEAL

Former Illuminist Witch, Doc Marquis, reveals a most interesting, and little known, fact about our American Eagle depicted on our Great Seal. He states that, originally, the American Eagle was not an Eagle, but the Phoenix Bird! Our Forefathers, who were either Masons or Rosicrucians, envisioned that the Phoenix Bird was to be our national symbol, not the America Eagle! [Secrets of the Illuminati, p. 11; see also the Satanic book of symbols, Magic Symbols , p. 140-3]

PHOENIX BIRD ONE OF MAJOR SYMBOLS OF THE ILLUMINATI

The Phoenix Bird is one of the foremost symbols of the Illuminati, according to Doc Marquis. Therefore, since Hillary Clinton is wearing this symbol, we can know conclusively that she is an Illuminist. Further, since this Illuminist lapel pin was worn by two people very close to President Bill Clinton, we can know for certain that he is an Illuminist, too. [This lapel pin was seen being worn by: Donna Shalala, Secretary of Health and Human Services and Bettie Currie, Clinton's Personal Secretary, see U.S. News & World Report, 2/9/98].

Finally, this lapel pin was seen being worn by Conservative Republican Jeanne Kirkpatrick! This fact demonstrates conclusively that both Democrats and Republicans, Liberals and Conservatives, are equally committed to the New World Order! Now you are deceived no longer and you know the truth of what is really going on in Washington, D.C. President Clinton will not get removed from office because that is most definitely not the plan, as the Republican leadership is just as committed to the New World Order as is Clinton. You can read full details in NEWS1248, "Impeachment Process Is A Tool To Topple Our Government".

Now, let us examine the occult symbolism behind this Illuminist lapel pin, shown above. Doc Marquis confirmed with me during a phone call on January 27, 1999, that the Phoenix Bird is a symbol of the Masters of the Illuminati. With that in mind, listen to Doc's occult explanation of this lapel pin.

1) The very fact that this lapel pin features a Phoenix Bird shows that the pin is Illuminist in meaning, and that the wearers are Illuminists, as well. Only Illuminists would wear a Phoenix Bird lapel pin. And, when they wear it, they are deliberately sending a message to all fellow occultists in the world.

2) Since the Phoenix Bird is carrying a ball, we know that the ball represents our world. Notice that pagans have used this symbol before, with the Phoenix Bird having two worlds beneath its wings [taken from Dr. C. Burns, Masonic and Occult Symbols Illustrated, p. 122]. This lapel pin has the Phoenix Bird carrying the entire world in its clinched talons, signifying that it has captured the world.

3) Since the Phoenix Bird is looking to his left, we know that he is carrying the world to a new location despite the fact that the peoples of the world are opposed to where they are being taken. In occult symbolism, when a bird is pictured looking to his right, it means that he is supportive of something and when he looks to his left, he is looking in opposition. Since the New World Order will mean death and destruction to two-thirds of the world's population, we know that people are going to oppose its goals, especially those of us who know exactly what their Plan is. No matter. Even against all this opposition, the Phoenix Bird [Illuminati] is carrying the world captive and is taking it to the new location, the New World Order of Antichrist.

4) The wings spread in active flight demonstrate that this new location is going to be arrived at quickly, without much further delay. Thus, Hillary and Bill and all these women wearing this pin are communicating to fellow occultists that the coming New World Order is very close to being achieved.

This lapel pin confirms our contention that Bill and Hillary are practicing Illuminist Witches . We have proved it in our previous articles on this subject, but this lapel pin absolutely, completely proves it. However, we have recently been sent a picture which also demonstrate that this is the truth. Dr. Burns sent us this photo, which had been taken from Texe Marrs' ministry.

HILLARY CLINTON RECEIVING BLESSING FROM A SHAMAN

This picture is truly worth 1,000 words. Here, we see Hillary being "blessed" by a Native American shaman, giving her a traditional American blessing. Native American spirituality is quite the rage these days, as you can see for yourself by going into a New Age bookstore, where you will find so many books touting their old religion. The reason New Agers and witches of all stripes are really "into" Native American spirituality is that the Native Indians practiced an Earth Mother worship very close to our current New Age. In fact, Native Americans are held up continuously as supreme examples of an entire nation "living close to Nature", in "perfect harmony and balance". Hillary would have had no trouble allowing a Native American shaman bless her and pray over her.

The facts seem to be all in. Bill and Hillary Clinton are just what Doc Marquis said they were, telling me back in 1992 that they both were practicing Illuminist Witches, with Hillary outranking Bill in the occult world. Again, if you have not read our articles on the Clinton Scandals, we urge you to do so. After reading these articles, you will understand that our leaders are truly what the Bible says they will be at the End of the Age -- powerful, Black Magick witches, just as Antichrist will be when he arises. Listen:

"... a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practice, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people. And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand;" [Daniel 8:23-25]

The words we have highlighted in red print tell the story; Antichrist will be a Black Magick practitioner. He will cause Witchcraft, also known as the craft, to prosper in the world. Witchcraft, of the most Black Magick variety possible, will be performed regularly at that church on Main and Elm, Anywhere, USA.

Further, Daniel 2 and 7 and Revelation 17 reveal that the 10 leaders who conspire to accumulate all the power of the world to themselves for the express purpose of handing it over to Antichrist, will be of the same spiritual nature as he. This means each of the 10 leaders will be Black Magick practitioners. Since NAFTA is Nation #1 in the 10-Nation New World Order Reorganization Plan, and Bill Clinton is its undisputed leader, he must be expected to be a Black Magick Witch. We believe we have now proven that point.

from <http://www.cuttingedge.org/news/n1259.cfm>

From Marco Saba (1/24/2007)

FROM MARCO SABA

I send you this video which testifies about the secret archives of Gladio, where Italian agent "Stay-Behind" film with his camera part of the hidden archives. An outing operation that I have managed in first person from 1997.

You will notice that the agent has been sent to find information about ALDO MORO, 14 DAYS BEFORE MORO WAS KIDNAPPED.

That is, 2 February 1978. There you see all the documents marked for immediate destruction and signed by MALUSARDI, who at that time was head of the TENTH division with the grade of (Lieutenant of the navy).

These are facts, not words, not the words of someone probably affected of a pathetic form of andropause.

See you next time,
Marco Saba

P.S. It was just a so called “brother”, prince Francesco GIRONDA, who tried to demolish to the end my research, on orders of Assassiga... (F.Cossiga) He was at least more fantasious when he accused me of being “nazimaoist”...

You can publish all if you want. Included the INTEGRAL document on Aldo MORO, before the analysis carried out from the attorney of Turin:

<http://www.centrostudimonetari.org/moro2marzo.jpg>

Archivio_superstite_Organizzazione_Gladio_MPEG2.mpg -
Antonino Arconte, 20-gen-2007 <http://tinyurl.com/27wx9u>

2012 calendar revisted and the Society of Jesus (1/24/2007)

2012 CALENDAR REVISTED AND THE SOCIETY OF JESUS

The 5000 Year Mayan Calendar ends on DEC 22, 2012 AD.
The ancient Mayans claim this calendar was given to them by the god, QUEZECOATAL, The Feathered Serpent.

This would have been in the year 3012 BC. According to ancient Egyptian records, The god THOTH left Egypt in the year 3113 BC and may have reappeared in Meso America.

These Demonic Spirits had advanced knowledge of our universe and 2012 AD is probably the DATE when NIBIRU, the Comet Planet again will pass earth.

NASA has mixed views about The Comet Planet on their sites. NASA cannot tell us the Truth about the COMET PLANET and if it will pass in 2012 AD.

THIS WOULD TRIGGER MASS PANIC, CHAOS AND ANARCHY ON A GLOBAL SCALE.

ARE MOVIES LIKE "DEEP IMPACT" and "ARMAGEDDON" PREPARING US FOR THIS DOOMSDAY EVENT?

ARE THESE MEGA HIT MOVIES GIVING THE WORLD HOPE THAT HUMANITY CAN SURVIVE A CATAclysm (COMET IMPACT) FROM DEEP SPACE THRU THE TECHNOLOGY OF NASA?

Nostadamus used dark, occult arts to conjure a "Being of Light" who gave him these visions of the future.
According to The Bible, this spiritual Entity was Lucifer, Satan.

Why Study The Predictions of The Devil? Because thru Nostradamus, we get a unique insight into what Satan knows about Prophecy and how much time is really left?

And what are the Jesuits really doing in Arizona?

The concept of the return of Jesus in 2012 has a great impact on our psyche - subliminal triggers. They are all messages that activate your DNA to the harmonic of unconditional love and compassion - forgiveness - release of pain on all levels - release of consciousness from the 3D grid and the games of emotion and time. It is an insert placed in the grid program as consciousness evolves and the human spirit prepares to move on.

If you had seen the image above - ten years ago - you might have felt a spiritual stirring - but now you view it with different 'eyes' - the windows of the soul peering into your physical mind - as your DNA activates.

Eye - Lens - Projection - Physical reality is a projection - created by a thought consciousness.

If the soul of Jesus deliberately set up this image - the cloud would have to be pink - as it is the time all part of something that restores humanity to its spiritual essence to who we are as sparks of light having a physical experience.

We are moving into the energies of the Venus transit - June 8, 2004 - June 6, 2012 - the frequency of love.

2012 is not a date. It is a designation - a destination - which activates the evolution of consciousness for all time.

Other numeric destinations - 11:11 11=2 strand dna - twin souls reuniting as 1 - Zero Point merge

The year 2012 is indeed a very remarkable date on God's calendar for many reasons but lets see what the Jesuits are really planning in the US for 2012:

JESUIT CONFERENCE BOARD STRATEGIC DISCERNMENT
STRATEGIC DIRECTIONS
FOR THE UNITED STATES ASSISTANCY
THROUGH 2012
FIRST DRAFT
MARCH 14, 2005

N.B.:

This document is a work-in-progress. It represents the current best judgment of the Jesuit Conference Board concerning directions toward which the Society of Jesus in the United States ought to be moving through 2012. The directions outlined here will require significant development, refinement and testing before the document takes final form. The Conference Board invites Jesuits and apostolic partners to help further its discernment and the development of this document by engaging in reflection upon, conversation about and response to the strategic directions proposed here.

Context and Mission of Strategic Discernment

Jesuits are called to be servants of Christ's mission. The service of U.S. Jesuits takes place in a context that is shaped by important demographic, cultural, social and religious issues in the United States, the needs of the local and universal Church, and the human, material and spiritual resources available to the United States Assistancy.

In this context and in ways that explicitly respond to this context, U.S. Jesuits serve Christ's mission through the service of faith that promotes justice, evangelizes culture and fosters inter-religious dialogue (GC 34, Decrees 2 – 5). They do so through existing ministries, creative new ministries and by attending to their responsibility for the international mission of the whole Society. Called to read and respond to the signs of the times, Jesuits in the United States engage in an ongoing process of learning, discerning and responding, employing resources found not only within the Society, but those of their partners in ministry and of other organizations of good will, both religious and secular.

As the Society of Jesus in the United States surveys its current context and strives to read the signs of the times and the call of the Spirit as it moves forward in the service of Christ's mission, a set of issues emerge that shape the learning, discernment and response of the Assistancy: In asking the questions "What are the apostolic needs of the people of God in this time and this context, and how is the Society of Jesus in the United States called to respond?" the Assistancy is challenged to:

- 1) Develop and employ effective ways of learning about and assessing the needs of the Church and civil society;
- 2) Articulate a projection of the Society of Jesus in the United States, its resources and personnel through the next decade;
- 3) Assess honestly current ministerial commitments and develop a realistic and specific plan for future involvement of Jesuits in those ministries;
- 4) Set priorities for new ministerial directions and apostolic works based on the needs of the Church and social realities;
- 5) Develop means to build and sustain capacity for effective apostolic collaboration with lay colleagues;
- 6) Organize governance structures that match our reality, support cura personalis and strengthen coordinated national cura apostolica;
- 7) Foster local communities that are closely aligned with and support the articulated mission, and that serve as apostolic vehicles for our ministries;
- 8) Support sharing of our resources with the Society throughout the world, especially in the education of future leaders for developing provinces.

The mission of the Society of Jesus in the United States is done:
through ministries;
by Jesuits;

in partnership with others;
under governance structures that support and promote the mission

Engaging the challenges set forth above helps to set new strategic directions in each of these four areas.

Ministries

Vision for 2012

Ministries in which Jesuits engage are grounded in the one mission of the Society of Jesus and in criteria clearly established in recent General Congregations.
Among others, these include education, pastoral ministries, social ministries, the ministry of the Spiritual Exercises, and communications. The focus of these ministries is the service of faith through the promotion of justice, the evangelization of cultures and the fostering of inter- religious dialogue in the context of and in response to social and cultural realities and the needs of the Church in the United States. Ministries are distinguished by significant synergy among them, an expanding cadre of partners, and a growing visibility and influence in the culture.
In developing this vision for our strategic discernment, we look especially to Part VII of the Constitutions; Decree 2 of The Thirty-Fourth General Congregation; and Guidelines for the Relationship Between the Superior and the Director of the Work (1998).

Strategic Directions

By 2012, the Society of Jesus will have taken the necessary steps to ensure that:

- 1) There are national criteria for setting priorities for engagement in ministries, both existing and new.
- 2) There is a national structure for each apostolic sector to support common vision and personnel development in areas such as leadership, governance and decision-making. (see Partnership)
- 3) Works are strongly networked and interdependent.
- 4) There is increasing collaboration with partners, and there are deliberate efforts to expand the circle of partners (See Partnership).
- 5) The Society of Jesus is connected to the ministries via a variety of forms of relationship which are clearly articulated and agreed upon.
- 6) Ministries creatively and strategically communicate and promote the mission of the Society of Jesus and its values to the society and culture at large.

Jesuit Life

Vision for 2012

Jesuits live and learn in ways that form and sustain them for service of the mission of the universal body of the Society, for which apostolic availability is a foundation. Their lifestyle gives public witness to a religious vocation that is fundamentally apostolic and that continually seeks the greater honor and glory of God through availability for mission. In developing this vision, we look especially to The General Examen; The Formation of Jesuits from the Letters of Fr. Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, S.J (2003); Fr. Kolvenbach's Letter on Community Life; Fr. Fred Kammer's Letter on Community Life; and Decree 4 of the Thirty- Fourth General Congregation.

Strategic Directions

By 2012, the Society of Jesus will have taken the necessary steps to ensure that:

- 1) Vocation promotion is coordinated nationally
- 2) Jesuit formation is coordinated nationally and in ways that honor and develop the distinctive vocation to vowed religious life.
- 3) Jesuit formation and life include explicit international dimensions that prepare and sustain Jesuits in serving international needs.
- 4) Apostolic community life is guided by national criteria that are regionally developed and adapted, locally accountable, and for which provincials assume co-responsibility.
- 5) The ongoing formation of Jesuits, that includes collaborative experiences with lay and other religious partners, is guided by national criteria that are regionally developed and adapted, and locally accountable. (see Partnership)
- 6) The engagement of aging Jesuits in ministry and the care for their needs are guided by national criteria that are regionally developed and adapted, and locally accountable.

Partnership

Vision for 2012

Jesuits are engaged in a sustainable and intentional commitment to lay apostolic partnership that recognizes the distinctiveness of lay and Jesuit vocations. Jesuits are formed for this partnership and they are accountable for sustaining and promoting it. In developing this vision, we look especially to Decree 33 from the Thirty-First General Congregation; Decrees 13 and 26 from the Thirty-Fourth General Congregation; and Fr. General's Omaha address at Creighton University "Cooperating with Each Other in Mission."

Strategic Directions

By 2012, the Society of Jesus will have taken the necessary steps to ensure that:

- 1) There is a strategy for nationally coordinated formation for apostolic partners, grounded in the Spiritual Exercises that has national standards, specific outcomes and accountability (see Ministries & Jesuit Life). Recognizing that there is a continuum of partnering relationships, the strategy:
 - a. Involves a common commitment to identify and invite key potential lay partners and Jesuits to participate in formation opportunities;
 - b. Is nationally coordinated, regionally developed and locally implemented;
 - c. Includes opportunities for formal study, mentoring, spiritual direction and the Exercises, preparation for life/ministry transitions, immersion experiences; catechesis; and attaining qualifications for specific ministries that are nationally recognized and transferable;
 - d. Is especially attentive to leadership and trusteeship formation;
 - e. Receives appropriate and consistent funding.
- 2) The national structures for apostolic sectors involve Jesuits and partners at all levels. (See Ministries)

Governance

Vision for 2012

The structures of governance emerge from apostolic need, and these structures further the mission by supporting ministries, Jesuit life and partnerships. Because of this, the vision for governance will be further determined and articulated as the vision and strategies for ministries, Jesuit life, and partnership are developed. We will also look especially to the Complementary Norms and The Guidelines for Provincials (2003).

Strategic Directions

By 2012, the Society of Jesus will have taken the necessary steps to ensure that:

- 1) No province exists in the form that it existed in 2005; specific criteria for province size and geographical delineation have been developed and implemented.
- 2) Provincials have adopted appropriate structures for collaboration with one another: to support and direct the implementation of national strategies; to share human and other resources to address needs in support of the mission; and to respond to international responsibilities.
- 3) The moderator's role has been strengthened to support the moderator's leadership of national strategies implementation and greater co-responsibility for the mission of the Society among the members of the Jesuit Conference board.
- 4) Financial resources are coordinated nationally.
- 5) Local superiors receive sufficient training and support for their role, and promote the implementation of national strategies on the local level.
- 6) The Jesuit Conference board engages in ongoing national strategic discernment.

So this means the Jesuits are seriously getting ready for 2012 and you?

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

Protesters will urge Congress to stand up to Bush (1/26/2007)

Protesters Will Urge Congress to Stand Up to Bush
t r u t h o u t | Press Release , from: United For Peace and Justice (UFPJ)

Peace march expected to be among largest since war began.
New York, New York - Americans angered by Bush's plans to escalate the Iraq war will flood the streets of Washington on Saturday, January 27, in a massive national peace march organized by United for Peace and Justice (UFPJ). Marchers will call on Congress to listen to the voters, not Bush, by using its power to end Bush's war and bring the troops home. The last three national marches organized by UFPJ each attracted between 300,000 and 500,000 people.

MoveOn.org has called upon its 3.2 million members to join UFPJ, describing the march as potentially a "turning point for the war" comparable to how "Martin Luther King Jr.'s March on Washington in 1963 was a turning point in the fight for equality and civil rights." The National Organization for Women (NOW) is mobilizing its chapters to participate. Local anti-war groups in cities and towns across the nation are mobilizing.

On Monday, United for Peace and Justice's web site received more than 700,000 hits. District Council 37 in NYC, AFSCME's largest district council, and New York's United Federation of Teachers, the largest teachers union local in the country, are sending busloads of their members to Washington. Car caravans and peace trains are heading to Washington, DC, from all over the East Coast, Midwest and Southeast. Buses and vans are coming from more than 30 states and 111 cities, including from as far away as Arkansas, Florida, Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

Judith LeBlanc, UFPJ Co-Chairperson, said, "Bush's announcement of plans to escalate the war has backfired. Every day people call or send email to say they will be marching in Washington with United for Peace and Justice on January 27th to call for an end to this war. They are demanding that Congress stand up to Bush. There is no doubt: This is the right action at the right time."

Among those slated to speak at the pre-march rally are Salt Lake City mayor Rocky Anderson, who last year led an anti-war march of thousands, the largest protest in Salt Lake City history; Reverend Jesse Jackson Jr.; Congressman Dennis Kucinich (D-Ohio); Congresswoman Maxine Waters (D-Calif.); Bob Watada, father of Lt. Watada, the first military officer to refuse deployment to Iraq and currently facing court-martial; and active-duty service people.

On Monday, January 29th, UFPJ is sponsoring a Grassroots Lobby Day, in which hundreds will press the case for withdrawal from Iraq directly with their Congressional representatives and senators. The weekend's activities will include a Saturday morning interfaith peace service and organizing workshops on Sunday.

On Thursday, January 11, United for Peace and Justice member groups and allies staged more than 1,000 local protests of Bush's escalation of the Iraq war. UFPJ's March on Washington is the next step in the anti-war movement's national surge of opposition to Bush's escalation of the war.

The Vatican submission files (1/26/2007)

The highest member of the Order of the Garter right now is the GUELPH herself Queen Elizabeth II. Now remember folks how I have told you all its the Sovereign Military of Malta (Knights of Malta) who control everything for their Jesuit masters? They control The City, Dubai, Switzerland and New York financial power regions. Remember that King Juan Carlos of Spain is within the Order of the Garter now remember hes a very powerful Papal Knight within the Sovereign Military of Malta. You must remember that the 78th Grandmaster of the SMOM is Cardinal Andrew Willoughby Ninian Bertie. Both King Carlos and Queen Elizabeth II are subordinate to Bertie their Grandmaster. Remember how the Jesuits took power away from the Monarchs throughout many years since their creation in 1534. Remember one of the oldest methods used was the confession alone haha. Its not rocket science and I'm just glad people can finally see a little further these days thanks to our upcoming Tour of Hope and other initiatives to spread the truth. There is a battle between good and evil going on for Earth at this moment my dear friends. As Henry Kissinger blatantly stated, "Yes, many people will die when the New World Order is established, but it will be a much better world for those who survive".

(Note: Better world for whom...the Wealthy Elite?)

Note: Henry Kissinger is a war criminal that the U.S.A. seems to protect and a member of the infamous Monte Carlo lodge now working for the Pope...

THE SECRET COVENANT

An illusion it will be, so large, so vast it will escape their perception.

Those who will see it will be thought of as insane.

We will create separate fronts to prevent them from seeing the connection between us.

We will behave as if we are not connected to keep the illusion alive.

Our goal will be accomplished one drop at a time so as to never bring suspicion upon ourselves.

This will also prevent them from seeing the changes as they occur.

We will always stand above the relative field of their experience for we know the secrets of the absolute.

We will work together always and will remain bound by blood and secrecy.

Death will come to he who speaks.

We will keep their lifespan short and their minds weak while pretending to do the opposite.

We will use our knowledge of science and technology in subtle ways so they will never see what is happening.

We will use soft metals, aging accelerators and sedatives in food and water, also in the air.

They will be blanketed by poisons everywhere they turn.

The soft metals will cause them to lose their minds.

We will promise to find a cure from our many fronts, yet we will feed them more poison.

The poisons will be absorbed trough their skin and mouths, they will destroy their minds and reproductive systems.

From all this, their children will be born dead, and we will conceal this information.

The poisons will be hidden in everything that surrounds them, in what they drink, eat, breathe and wear.

We must be ingenious in dispensing the poisons for they can see far.

We will teach them that the poisons are good, with fun images and musical tones.

Those they look up to will help.

We will enlist them to push our poisons.

They will see our products being used in film and will grow accustomed to them and will never know their true effect.

When they give birth we will inject poisons into the blood of their children and convince them its for their help.

We will start early on, when their minds are young, we will target their children with what children love most, sweet things.

When their teeth decay we will fill them with metals that will kill their mind and steal their future.

When their ability to learn has been affected, we will create medicine that will make them sicker and cause other diseases for which we will create yet more medicine.

We will render them docile and weak before us by our power.

They will grow depressed, slow and obese, and when they come to us for help, we will give them more poison.

We will focus their attention toward money and material goods

so they many never connect with their inner self.

We will distract them with fornication, external pleasures and games so they may never be one with the oneness of it all.

Their minds will belong to us and they will do as we say.

If they refuse we shall find ways to implement mind-altering technology into their lives.

We will use fear as our weapon.

We will establish their governments and establish opposites within.

We will own both sides.

We will always hide our objective but carry out our plan.

They will perform the labor for us and we shall prosper from their toil.

Our families will never mix with theirs. Our blood must be pure always, for it is the way.

We will make them kill each other when it suits us.

We will keep them separated from the oneness by dogma and religion.

We will control all aspects of their lives and tell them what to think and how.

We will guide them kindly and gently letting them think they are guiding themselves.

We will foment animosity between them through our factions.

When a light shall shine among them, we shall extinguish it by ridicule, or death, whichever suits us best.

We will make them rip each other's hearts apart and kill their own children.

We will accomplish this by using hate as our ally, anger as our friend.

The hate will blind them totally, and never shall they see that from their conflicts we emerge as their rulers.

They will be busy killing each other.

They will bathe in their own blood and kill their neighbors for as long as we see fit.

We will benefit greatly from this, for they will not see us, for they cannot see us.

We will continue to prosper from their wars and their deaths.

We shall repeat this over and over until our ultimate goal is accomplished.

We will continue to make them live in fear and anger through images and sounds.

We will use all the tools we have to accomplish this.

The tools will be provided by their labor.

We will make them hate themselves and their neighbors.

We will always hide the divine truth from them, that we are all one.
This they must never know!

They must never know that color is an illusion, they must always think they are not equal.

Drop by drop, drop by drop we will advance our goal.

We will take over their land, resources and wealth to exercise total control over them.

We will deceive them into accepting laws that will steal the little freedom they will have.

We will establish a money system that will imprison them forever,
keeping them and their children in debt.

When they shall band together, we shall accuse them of crimes and present a different story to the world for we shall own all the media.

We will use our media to control the flow of information and their sentiment in our favor.

When they shall rise up against us we will crush them like insects, for they are less than that.

They will be helpless to do anything for they will have no weapons.

We will recruit some of their own to carry out our plans, we will promise them eternal life, but eternal life they will never have for they are not of us.

The recruits will be called "initiates" and will be indoctrinated to believe false rites of passage to higher realms.

Members of these groups will think they are one with us never knowing the truth.

They must never learn this truth for they will turn against us.

For their work they will be rewarded with earthly things and great titles, but never will they become immortal and join us, never will they receive the light and travel the stars.

They will never reach the higher realms, for the killing of their own kind will prevent passage to the realm of enlightenment.

This they will never know.

The truth will be hidden in their face, so close they will not be able to focus on it until its too late.

Oh yes, so grand the illusion of freedom will be, that they will never know they are our slaves.

When all is in place, the reality we will have created for them will own them.

This reality will be their prison.

They will live in self-delusion.

When our goal is accomplished a new era of domination will begin.

Their minds will be bound by their beliefs, the beliefs we have established from time immemorial.

But if they ever find out they are our equal, we shall perish then.

THIS THEY MUST NEVER KNOW.

If they ever find out that together they can vanquish us, they will take action.

They must never, ever find out what we have done, for if they do, we shall have no place to run, for it will be easy to see who we are once the veil has fallen.

Our actions will have revealed who we are and they will hunt us down and no person shall give us shelter.

This is the secret covenant by which we shall live the rest of our present and future lives, for this reality will transcend many generations and life spans.

This covenant is sealed by blood, our blood. We, the ones who from heaven to earth came.

This covenant must NEVER, EVER be known to exist. It must NEVER, EVER be written or spoken of for if it is, the consciousness it will spawn will release the fury of the PRIME CREATOR upon us and we shall be cast to the depths from whence we came and remain there until the end time of infinity itself.

Author: Unknown

Leo Lyon Zagami

A Warning to All Freemasons part 2 (1/24/2007)

November 6th, 2006 (updated on January 12th, 2007 with a book review from the Catholic Family Weekly)

"The ignorance of any lodge dupes aside - who lend their good name (if they have one) to the entire spectrum of Freemasonry - it is incontestable that the lodge retains its Inner Squalor for the privileged elites. Aleister Crowley and his OTO Beast Cult is simply a crystallizing of that kabbalistic sanctum of blood and depravity. If the 'bad name' of the 'Wickedest Man in the World' negates their 'good name' by the connection, they cannot solve the problem by denying the connection."

- Craig Heimlichner Blood on the Altar

<http://www.amazon.com/Blood-Altar-History-Dangerous-Society/dp/0970378432>

In view of the imminent further court proceedings led against the gaiaguys, by the OTO in both the Australian Capital Territory's Magistrates Court (see end page) and in the State of Victoria (under Religious Vilification laws) it is appropriate to raise the profile of Craig Heimlichner's incisive exposé of the Ordo Templi Orientis, Blood on the Altar - The Secret history of the World's Most Dangerous Secret Society. This book further demonstrates the all-important connection between the Ordo Templi

Orientis and the extensive Freemasonic brotherhood which fraternally supports its inhumane acts. Heimlichner provides the research of how the fraternities are tightly bound together effectively protecting and facilitating the bloody OTO agenda. Meanwhile here in Australia we provide, on our web site, a very clear documented personal example of how this is being activated in relation to the ongoing, police protected pedophile/satanic ritual abuse network operating in our Australian state of Victoria. (Despite official EOCV recognition that Freemason membership would constitute a conflict of interest in any public servant dealing with this case no individual has responded to our written requests to declare any Freemason or similar membership.)

There is much more to share from this ground-breaking book but for now we concentrate on some parts which we hope will finally speak to all "ordinary" Freemasons who continue to prop up this murderous and evil sect whether knowingly or unknowingly. And remember that while we are dogged by legal actions (including imminent bankruptcy) the real victims are children and other sacrifice and torture victims and snuff movie victims of this sadistic cult and its associates, which continues to enjoy legal, not-for-profit status in this country despite all the evidence of their totally anti-social agenda brought before the responsible officials. Realising the obvious government protection of this world control-seeking blood-thirsty sect, (and the protection and influence it also enjoys in the United States) it doesn't take much to work out how this state of affairs influences the direction of the whole country. And so it is not only Freemasons who provide their support to the continued influence of this elite group. It is all who can see, from our exposé, the transparent support and protection our government gives the OTO, and do nothing about it.

Excerpt from p.6 – 7, Blood on the Altar

The organization to which I am referring is known by many names, in Latin it is called the Ordo Templi Orientis; in German, the Orientalischer Templar-Orden and in English, the "Order of Oriental Templars." But its most widely recognized appellation is simply the "OTO."

The OTO currently has lodges and "power zones" across the world, including Israel, Russia and South America, and still claims to be the "graduate school" for the old prototypical fraternal order and "service club" known as the Freemasons. Many Freemasons would dispute this claim, but we will see that such protests reflect either ignorance or an attempt at deception of the "Cowans" (outsiders), including deception of lower-level dupes within their own system of lodges. The OTO is a traditional "fringe Masonic" or "irregular" Order, a special group structure which exists in a fraternal relationship with top members of Grand Lodge "regular" Freemasonry, minus official sanction, enabling convenient public disavowals and denial by the Grand Lodge when incriminating activities of these "irregular" lodges occasionally reach public awareness. In the case of the "Propaganda Due" or "P2" scandal in Italy in 1981, which involved blackmail, murder, the Government of Italy and the Vatican Bank, the P2 lodge was hastily dubbed "irregular" by Freemasonry, although the $26.4 million dollars involved in the criminal enterprise were certainly regular enough. 3

3. For the story of the P2 Lodge, cf. Stephen Knight, The Brotherhood: The Secret World of The Freemasons.

Excerpt from p. 10 - 11, Blood on the Altar

Initiates

Publicly professing to worship a vague being called the "Great Architect Of The Universe" (G.A.O.T.U.), the "Blue Lodge" initiates Freemasons through a three-degree ritual system, while other rites, such as the York and Scottish, take an aspiring Mason up through higher degrees, some of which increasingly drop hints regarding the esteem in which a true initiate should hold both occultism and Lucifer, the philosopher's "Light Bearer."

Masons recognize each other by code phrases ("Are you on the level?") and by secret handshakes and gestures; in Western culture they form the original "good-old-boy" system which still rescues members and smashes opponents, originally by murder but today more often by career termination, financial and social ostracism, judicial corruption and scandalous set-ups. Like Al Capone with his Chicago soup kitchens, the Masons cover themselves with many charitable activities, usually performed by one of the "Porch Brethren" (useful idiot). The Freemasons are the prototype of the service clubs that followed Masonry, such as the Rotary. The "Bar Association," the U.S. court and police systems, the Federal government, and military and space program are heavily infiltrated with Freemasons. The Supreme Court and Congress have had key members drawn from the powerful high degree Scottish Rite; several U.S. Presidents have been members of the Lodge, while others have been functioning front men for their power network.

The average "Knife and Fork" Freemason is a pitiable dupe. He gullibly trades his good name to the lodge as a member, in exchange for a mess of pottage in the form of a greased career track. This ignorance can even apply to upper degrees, which do not automatically guarantee that an individual is among the knowledgeable inner circle. Yet no one can progress through the higher degrees with one eye open and not notice that an occult or esoteric level is being promoted. But where is it?

Enter the OTO

The OTO does not merely hint of occultism, but plunges headlong into the very subjects the high degree Masons are told are reserved to the core of initiation. And at the core of these secrets is the embrace of contradiction, of the "elixir of life," and of the power of blood. Readers can judge for themselves how much of this gnosis is horrifying or simply sickening, the dark doings of the depraved. Readers will risk an encounter with material which scalds innocence and do so at your own peril. ...

Excerpt from p. 67, Blood on the Altar

So how do we respond to the Freemasons with their posters of George Washington in a lodge apron? Can we really link George Washington to the likes of Aleister Crowley? But the question is nonsense. The succinct reply is this: that some of the Founding Fathers, caught up in a little-understood and fairly new fad (Freemasonry had only pushed itself into view in 1717), became Freemasons. But these Masons were typically not highly initiated (Washington only reached the third degree). Many were still undoubtedly abiding in the "outer portico of the Temple." Ben Franklin seems to be the only one who enjoyed wallowing in the Inner Squalor.

The ignorance of any lodge dupes aside--who lend their good name (if they have one) to the entire spectrum of Freemasonry--it is incontestable that the lodge retains its Inner Squalor for the privileged elites. Aleister Crowley and his OTO Beast Cult is simply a crystallizing of that kabbalistic sanctum of blood and depravity. If the "bad name" of the "Wickedest Man in the World" negates their "good name" by the connection, they cannot solve the problem by denying the connection. They must admit the facts and decide if the facts disturb them or not. Ironically, they have an excellent example to follow: George Washington. If they wish to take his lead, they should, like him, quit the Lodge. In the case of most Freemasons, however, I will wager that their lodge enhanced career track washes aside these concerns.

Excerpt from p.119, Blood on the Altar

Some OTO successes have been due to political influences, as we have seen in earlier chapters. Typical of Crowley's efforts in this area was his recruitment of Major-General John Frederick Charles Fuller (1878-1966), the famed British military officer and strategist, as his Second-in-Command in the Order of the Silver Star (AA). Fuller invented the Blitzkrieg tactic, ignored by the British, but adopted by Hitler's army. Less well-known is another invention of Fuller's: the term "Crowleyanity." With Fuller under his belt (for a time), Crowley was able to boast that "a certain brother...is in the most secret of England's War Councils at this hour." Later Fuller would maintain a diplomatic distance from the Beast.

More success for the Beast was to come in the crucial domain of composing a nation's myths, the modern arts of science and science fiction. Honored scientist John Whiteside Parsons was the OTO leader of the Agape Lodge in California. He was the inventor of jet-assisted takeoff (JATO), the founder of Aerojet Corporation and the co founder of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL). 1

Author of instrumental research behind both our space program and Allied military victories during World War II, Parsons (known as "Jack"), considered himself the "Antichrist Belarion." He engaged in the homosexual rape of a sixteen year old boy in 1942. The Pasadena police dismissed the charges and reported that the OTO was essentially "an organization dedicated to religious and philosophical speculation, with respectable members such as a Pasadena bank president, doctors, lawyers and Hollywood actors."

Satanic Scientist Jack Parsons

The Masonically dominated police are far from a final word in the investigation of any lodge (in spite of often sincere efforts of well-intentioned local investigators), since one of the oaths of a Freemason states that "I will assist a Companion Royal Arch Mason when I see him engaged in any difficulty, and will espouse his cause so far as to extricate him from the same, whether he be right or wrong." 2

1 At Cal Tech's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, "JPL" is also' said to signify "Jack Parson Lives."

2. Malcolm C. Duncan, Duncan's Masonic Ritual and Monitor, p.230.

LEO ZAGAMI SUPPORTS THE GAYA GUYS AGAINST THE SATANIC OTO

Secret Order of Saint Benedict (1/29/2007)

FROM THE ILLUMINATI ARCHIVES OF THE MONTE CARLO LODGE

SECRET ORDER OF SAINT BENEDICT Saint Benedict was born around 480 in Norcia , Umbria from a noble family. In Rome he made his first studies then ashamed from the roman corruption of that time moved to Enfide, the contemporary Affile, which is located between the Simbruini mounts, where he pursued his studies in the Church of S.Pietro , in a life characterized of a rigorous ascetic discipline. At twenty years he found refuge in the shelter of Subiaco leading the life of an hermit for three long years in a horrendous cave, now known as Sacred Speco. After his days in Subiaco, Saint Benedict founded its monastic community and first Monastery of San Clemente, he created the Monastery using the basements of the famous Villa of the first Antichrist the feared Emperor Nerone, whose name we find hidden cabalistically in the Apocalypses of Saint Giovanni as 666 (GEMATRIA). Saint Benedict erudite man knew well what he was searching and where to find it, and it's from this encounter/challenge in Subiaco with the forces represented from the still alive spirit of the Devil of the Imperial Rome that the Benedictine Monachesimo was born, synthesis of an ascetic vision of an advanced level that tries to bring to the origins a Christian Church that since the times of the council of Nicea did not reflect anymore the true instructions of the Master Jesus.

The Secret Order of Saint Benedict is born therefore in parallel with the Benedictine Order and hidden from the feared and perfide hierarchy of the Church of Rome, to the dawn of the Western monachesimo. The Secret Order of Saint Benedict is born in order to protect the great secret of the Benedictine Order and the true hidden instructions of the Apocalypse of S.Giovanni, to contribute in this way to the advent of the Messiah future Lord and redeemer who will lead, if God wants, to the definitive defeat of the Empire of the Evil. Such very secret Order in which you can still find notable personages of the Sublacense zone, which meet since a long and immemorable time far away from indiscreet eyes in a place known from the local inhabitants as Monte Crocella. This locality impervious and very remote is found not far away from Subiaco near to the Sacred Speco and is easy recognizable from the Cross planted on its top in 1900 in occasion of the year of the Jubilee. And it was then some Friars of the Benedictine Order connected secretly to the Secret Order of Saint Benedict who wanted to carry on their own shoulders in memory of Master Jesus this very heavy cross made of full copper. Another personage of relief that we find inside the Secret Order of Saint Benedict is Saint Onorico, an ascetic and a mystic of highest level that lived for the greater part of its life inside of a narrow cavern, imitating Saint Benedict at his origins. Onorico lived with such hallucinating deprivations that made quite a scandal in the Catholic Church, until at some point the Pope himself went to find it in order to convince him to pass the last years of his life in a more relaxed way at the near Sacred Speco of S.Benedict.

It was an offer that Onorico could not refuse but added "I will eat only some cooked vegetables and a glass of wine each month". Many searches have been made by myself in the Sublacenze zone in order to locate its cove, and from part of the historians and religious legacies of the Vatican but it's been so far impossible to find what in reality had become later on a place of great respect and cult for the Secret Order of Saint Benedict. Of the rituals and the strange practices carried out on Monte Crocella from the Secret Order of the Saint Benedict nothing is known in the profane world, beside what we find sporadically reported from the inhabitants of the place on a "mysterious sect" and their strange rituals regularly practiced on Monte Crocella, but the inhabitants of the place prefer not to speak of this "to the strangers" fearing a possible vendetta of the Order, and having since the old times a great fear and a great respect for this type of things in this very catholic place which is Subiaco, and prefer to stay away from such things. What little we know on the initiatic and mystical value of the Secret Order of Saint Benedict was communicated to us from one of its members, an old parish priest of the place well known to a local level for its eternal comments on the Divine Comedy which has confided to us the importance of the Sacred Speco on the whole symbolism of this secret Order.

This Former-president of a local Liceo Classico (classic languages high school n.d.t.) has told us to study it with care if we want to begin to comprehend the Sacred mysteries of the Secret Order of Saint Benedict, mysteries connected to the Apocalypse and the "Fac Bonum", the mystical "Suggello" of Saint Benedict that we find inside, on one of the walls of the Sacred Speco. In Saint Benedict, like in Sant'Agostino, of which he is, on such point, his spiritual heir, we assist to the fusion of two mystical objectives: "Deverto to malo ET fac bonum" "remove yourself from the evil and do good" this suggestion is given in order not only to avoid the negative and dangerous vibrations, but also in order to create around yourself a generating equilibrium of celestial clarity. FAC BONUM (Do Good) orders the Saint. Inside of the Sacred Speco we find on our left hidden in a narrow passage the mysterious figure of Lucifer, it show itself tranquil but resigned in its expression that is directed towards a grate, from which we can see the altar and the chapel located downstairs where the Saint Mass is celebrated, this would seem an attitude from prisoner in contemplation. Then when we come down in the Chapel downstairs and we find the figures of the four symbolic animals of the Apocalypse, the Lion, the calf, the Eagle and the Lamb in the centre which based on the tradition are correlated to the 4 Knights of the Apocalypse and to the 4 Evangelist.

Therefore, for example, "Gregorio Magno" comments the 4 animals in its Omelia IV on Ezechiele: The living winged beings come defined with exactitude by the means of the Saint Spirit of the prophecy, so that the exactitude of the definition reveals the persons of the Evangelists, and the word of God do not leave some doubts to our interpretation. Here in fact what is said: Their faces were similar to a man face; all four had, to the right a lion face, on the left a face of Taurus, and all four had a face of a Eagle. That these four winged living beings symbolize the Evangelists, is attested on the introductions in the books of the Gospel.

Matteo rightly comes represented has a man figure because he refer to the human origin of Jesus; Mark from the lion for the reason of the outcry in the desert; Luca from the calf because he takes the move from a sacrifice; Giovanni is symbolized from the Eagle because he begin with the divinity of the Verb. He saying: In principle it was the Verb, and the Verb was near God, and the Verb was God, while fixed the look in the same substance of the divinity, nearly like the fixed Aquila the eyes in the sun. But since all the elect ones are limbs of our Lord, and our Lord is the head of all the elect ones, for the fact that are shaded its limbs, nothing prevents that He it is represented in them. He in fact, the unique Son of God, has made himself truly a man, he has deigned to die like a calf in the sacrifice of our redemption, he is resurrected like a lion in virtue of its force. To the lion it is not permitted to sleep with open eyes, because in the death itself in which our Lord as a man could sleep, like God, remaining immortal, he remained wide awake.

Rising to the sky after its resurrection, He was elevated up like the Eagle. It is therefore for us all this together: man for its birth, calf for its death, lion in its resurrection, Eagle in its ascension to the sky. But since, like we have already said, the four living beings symbolize the Evangelists and these, with their figures all the perfect men, remain to be seen how every elect one comes shaded in the vision of the living beings. Every elect and every mature man in the way of God, is entirety man, calf, lion and Eagle. The man is a reasonable animal. The young calf usually comes immolated in the sacrifice. The lion is a strong animal, like is written: The lion, most strong of the animals, does not fear the encounter of nobody. The Eagle flies up looking with fixed eyes to the rays of the sun. Therefore who is mature in the reason, is a man. And if he scarify itself from any mundane pleasure, he is a young calf; and since, for this spontaneous mortification he possesses the force of the confidence on himself, for which it is written: The just one is sure as the lion that does not have fear, he is a lion; and because, then, it contemplates in sublime ways the celestial and eternal truths, he is an Eagle. Therefore, every just one becomes man in virtue of the reason, young calf in virtue of the sacrifice of its mortification, lion for the force of the confidence, Eagle for the contemplation, with justice these living beings can be the symbol of every perfect man. Here we propose ourselves to demonstrate that that which has been said of the four living beings, can be applied to the single perfect men.

The opening of fifth seal. When the Lamb opened the fifth seals, I saw under the altar the spirits of those who were immolated because of the word of God and the testimony they have made of it. And asked with great voice: "Until when, Monarch, you that are saint and truthful, you will not make justice and revenge our blood over the inhabitants of the earth". Then it was given to everyone of them a candid garment and was said to be patient little more, until the number of their companions of service and their brothers that had to be killed for their service was complete (AP 6, 9-11).

Remember Brothers and Dames of the Order of the Temple
"Mary presided at the principle of our Order, and presides also, if this is the will of the Lord, the End".

The phrase is from the Rule of the Templar Order of San Bernardo from Chiaravalle that remembers us our devotion to the Saintest Virgin. Saint Bernardo was a Advanced Incognito of the True Masonry like it was in Ireland Saint Malachia.

We are now to the VII chapter on the path of True Masonry, and number 7 in the liturgic work of Saint Benedict has one great esoteric importance, the esoteric importance of number 7 is highly attested from the wonderful Patriarch of the West as they define it H.Durville and Abbot Julio in the book PRAYERS AND SECRETS OF HIGH MAGIC a text that we highly advise to our Brothers and Sisters Illuminati of the "Grande Fratellanza Bianca Universale" (Great Universal White Brotherhood n.d.t.) where you will be able to find an authoritative interpretation of the "divine message", has is said to be from Scholar Pier Luca Pierini R. of the Editions Rebis of Viareggio a point of reference of first importance and a sure "beacon" for all the consciences in search of truth. In this precious work you will be able to find between the many things of sure interest for the true and sincere practitioner of the Real Art, an entire chapter dedicated to number 7, a number very important for us Illuminati that is reflected in the liturgy of Saint Benedict, that divides the sacred chant in seven parts emphasizing, thus, with a ritual, seven times resumed during the day, the union of the spirit with God.

We conclude this Chapter with the voice of the Father Abate who rises itself after the song of the serious and solemn Magnificat to say to us: "Pardon our offenses as we pardon those who have offended us" To Subiaco we will come with humilty asking forgiveness to you in your Supreme centre o Saint Protector of our Europe. Amen

OTO, Nazism and the Occult Messiah (1/29/2007)

The OTO was founded between 1895 and 1900 by a pair of powerful Freemasons, Karl Kellner and Theodor Reuss.

Politically, the order was right-wing in the extreme, proposing the creation of a pan-German world based on pagan spiritual beliefs. Kellner died in 1905, and Reuss, a former spy for the Prussian Secret Service, assumed the office of high caliph. While living in London, Reuss spied on German socialist expatriates. In 1912 he made the acquaintance of Aleister Crowley, and appointed him head of the OTO's British chapter. But The Beast's [Crowley's] political loyalties have always been an open question."

The fascist character of Scientology can be seen in embryonic form in the Michael Howard's profile of the OTO and its infamous leader in England, Aleister Crowley, as described in The Occult Conspiracy: "Crowley...was head of the English branch of the OTO and he took the magical name Baphomet from the idol worshipped by the Knights Templars... When he was at Cambridge University the young Crowley had belonged to a Jacobite legitimate society and had dabbled in extreme right-wing politics." (p. 112)

"Because Crowley had extensive contacts with the European secret societies his specialist knowledge was used by the SIS [Britain's Secret Intelligence Service] for 'Black Propaganda' purposes. Crowley had confided to the writer Aldous Huxley in 1938 when they met in Berlin that Hitler was a practising occultist. He also claimed that the OTO had helped the Nazis to gain power." (p. 135)

Howard and other historians of the occult societies credit OTO with introducing Tantric sex magic which supposedly opens up all Hermetic and Masonic mysteries that are veiled in symbolism. Possible Origins for Dianetics and Scientology, by Jon Atack, compares the symbolism and rituals of OTO and Scientology:

"Many of the symbols of Scientology were taken from ritual magic. Hubbard was a member of the AMORC Rosicrucians in 1940 and the OTO ,he performed sexual

'magick' ceremonies with Jack Parsons, a follower of Aleister Crowley, in 1946. The Scientology cross is very similar to the Rosicrucian and Crowley crosses.

Hubbard also used the 'daleth' triangle of the Egyptian destroyer god Set as the Dianetic symbol.

"The theta symbol used by Scientology is the central symbol of Crowley's Ordo Templi Orientis, where it denotes 'thelema' or the will. It is the symbol of 'Babalon', the antichrist that Hubbard and Parsons tried to incarnate. The 'S and double triangle' motif of Scientology probably derives from the black magic use of the snake symbol (the 'wise serpent' or Satan) combined with a deconstruction into two triangles of the Star of David (rather like hanging the Christian cross upside down to signify devil worship). This symbol - the magical hexagram - was used by Hubbard and Parsons during their attempts at incarnating the anti-Christ in human form. Again, Hubbard shares the double triangle with Crowley, where the triangles stood for the 'Argentum Astrum' or 'Silver Star', a name for Crowley's organization prior to his take-over of the Ordo Templi Orientis.

"Crowley's order - the OTO - had a common origin with the Thule group to which several members of the Nazi hierarchy belonged (including deputy party chairman Rudolph Hess). The sig rune - used by the Nazis - appears on the Scientology International Management Organization's symbol - a red square enclosing a white disc and set off by four such sig runes. The swastika of the Nazi flag has been replaced by the Scientology 'S and double triangle'. The symbol of the Religious Technology Center is surrounded by sig runes. As far as I can ascertain, the sig rune is otherwise peculiar to the Nazis.

In a way I can state clearly that Hitler was obviously directed by the British illuminati of the SRIA (from the United Grand Lodge of England who gave also birth to the Golden Dawn), Brothers that belong to the elite of the illuminati intelligence who manipulated him untill they needed Hitler (some of them belonged to the OTO), and then left him to front an impossible war against the rest of the world after accomplishing in secret their goals. In Switzerland the OTO Nazi ideal was conducted after the II world war by illuminati Frater Superior Metzger. This was one of the main reasons why Rudolf Hess went to England with a secret Rosicrucian mission he was never able to accomplish because of Brother Churchill and the change of mind of certain Brothers in the SRIA.

That's why after so many years Rudolf the man who knew too much about the New World Order was still a threat so they eventually killed him as we all know. Hitler a British agent probably not but definitely a British puppet! Adolf willingly served the Zionist agenda of Great Britain and the Vatican so they could establish their State of Israel after all these terrible Nazi persecutions against the Jewish people. Fascist United States is at the moment the legitimate heir to Nazi Germany that's why they love and support so much their OTO, they are using the same techniques that made Hitler famous and I'm sure they will get worst much worst in the next few years just like their beloved Führer did. The USA at present are like Germany in the 1930's and the Muslims are like the new Jews of the situation having to suffer and be persecuted illegally in places like Guantanamo Bay...

Did you know that J.F.C. Fuller, friend and student of Aleister Crowley, made a Major General in 1930 E.V., resigned in 1933 E.V. devoting the rest of his life to the writing of history, was the only foreigner at Adolph Hitler's first manoeuvres in 1935 E.V., and one of the two Englishmen invited to the Führer's fiftieth birthday celebrations in 1939 E.V.?

Did you know that after Rudolf Hess flew to Scotland in 1941 E.V., surrendering to the Allies, that illuminati agent Ian Fleming, the future author of the James Bond novels, advocated that the Nazi occultist be interrogated by Aleister Crowley?

These are but two of many fascinating facts that one can find in Hitler: The Occult Messiah by illuminati Brother of the Ordo Templi Orientis Gerald Suster [St. Martin's Press, 1981 E.V.].

Suster's book makes for fascinating reading, even if one is not terribly interested in esoteric history and World War II. One reason for this is simple: there is no clear dividing line between the exoteric, the "ordinary" and "mundane", and the esoteric or "occult". By now, for instance, it should be well known to most that our founding fathers, the men who created these United States of America, were Freemasons with a deep interest in things esoteric. Masonic and occult symbolism is abundant even in the design of our currency which backs up the idea that money is a kind of talisman. Well, it is Mr. Suster's claim that W.W.II was more of a magical conflict than most people realize. He is not the first researcher and author to point out that Hitler's S.S. was more of an occult fraternity than a military organization, that Hitler, Hess, Himmler and others in the Nazi party were deeply interested and involved in the occult, twisting and perverting sacred esoteric symbols and ideas to suit their own purpose, and that the Thule Gesellschaft was an important motivating group behind and within the party. However Frater Suster of the illuminati accumulating and organizing various facts, looks more to the esoteric aspects of Hitler and Nazism than most researchers and he points out that it was a natural aspect of the Age of Horus, or Æon of Horus, as the illuminati would call it.

Gerald Suster looks deeply into the motivations of the individuals who created Nazism and brought about the second world war, concentrating primarily upon Hitler of course, showing how this new, dawning age was being felt all over the world, how new occult fraternities and groups were coming into being, and how certain occultists and their orders in Germany influenced, trained and guided Hitler and the Nazi party. The book is extremely convincing, although certainly many of the ideas Mr. Suster puts forth in his book are bound to be scoffed at by "orthodox" historians. However, for those of us who have studied the esoteric influences easily found in exoteric history, Mr. Suster's ideas do not seem so very absurd.

CMRC and the illuminazi (1/30/2007)

As now Im finally out of the illuminati as everybody knows I want to talk without barriers. It seems to me that no one was really expecting such a move from me in the masonic circles. Many know me from my years in Freemasonry and the illuminati and wondered thinking is he really doing this or is hr gone completely crazy? No Im realy doing this and I will expose the Brethern further in their evil intentions.

And yes I was finally free to stick a finger up to the so called illuminati and say finally Im a free and accepted man amongs my equals and not the usual privileged bastard I used to be, or a supposed Free and Accepted Mason in reality a puppet of my Grand Master...

The present state of the Masonic Order and of all side Orders is a sincere catastrophe, a catastrophe ruled by incompetent and even worst, dangerous individuals, involved in Satanic activities camouflaged as Egyptian esoterica (the usual Jesuit followers...).The illuminati discuss amongst themselves the significance of Gnosticism in reality they are high level Vatican puppets meeting in these Conferences at the Canonbury Research Centre in London, like the last one at the beginning of November 2006. We are also fascinated to see at this CMRC Conference many well known esoterica wizards like Colin Wilson ,Tobias Churthorn with all these High level Masons and prestigious Accademicians like Professor James Robinson from Clermont Graduate University General Editor of the Nag Hammadi library all together for the KNOWLEDGE OF THE HEART, a question comes to my mind about these illuminati : do they still have a heart??? We need to focus a bit more on the real significance of these kind of Conferences promoted by high level Freemasons and Satanist at the CMRC , and you might finally understand where and how these contemporary High Level Freemasons and illuminati meet up to conspire against the rest of the world. Professor and Freemason Thierry Zarcone present at this event on Saturday and Sunday the 4th and 5th of November even affirmed that the Ottoman Empire, treated their own form of Ottoman Freemasonry as another Islamic Sufi Society, and went on saying that the 'Ancient and Accepted Rite' became the 'Ancient and Accepted Sufi Path' . But Professor Thierry Zarcone who also mentioned the Bektashi Sufi Order, deliberately didnt give the connections between these renegade Islamic figures of Ottoman Freemasonry connected to the Vatican, and the Zionist and the birth of Nazism through infamous Freemasons like Rudolf von Sebottendorf Rudolf Freiherr von Sebottendorff (or von Sebottendorf) . So lets see if they are ever gonna start revealing the truth in such illuminazi circles and lets keep an eye on these western illuminati operating at the Canonbury Masonic Research Centre.

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 71-80

Join the "Tour of Hope"! (1/24/2007)

Get Involved In Stopping Vatican-Led NWO: Join 'The Tour of Hope' By Forming A Committee In Your City Or Town

The 'Tour of Hope' is catching on world wide with groups and committees to fight deception and evil forming in U.S., Canada, Norway, Italy, France and Australia.

23 Jan 2007

By Greg Szymanski

The worldwide Tour of Hope is gaining a life of its own as people are responding from all corners of the globe only one week after it was officially announced by Leo Zagami, former high-level Illuminati insider and recent defector to the of truth.

Zagami defected four months ago from the ranks of the influential Monte Carlo P2 Lodge and has been trying to wake-up Americans to the inner Masonic evil-doings of the Vatican-led New World Order, desperately trying to create a one world government, one world religion and universal fascism.

To fight back, Zagami is organizing what he calls a " Tour of Hope", which is a grass roots worldwide organization to spread truth and peace in order to counter the evil New World Order's highly organized agenda, starting in the Vatican and trickling down to every corner of the globe, including America.

"No word is stronger than the word of God and we need to organize the people who follow the true word of God in all parts of the world to counter the evil being spread by worldwide government leaders, the Vatican and especially the evil Jesuits, who are the modern day Knights Templars working through deception and black magic," said Zagami Monday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal on the Republic Broadcasting Network at www.rbnlive.com.

"I was involved in the highest levels of the Masonic Lodges in both Monte Carlo and England due to my aristocratic Sicilian and English bloodlines. I was born into it, worked on Vatican radio and TV and until I really understand the true purpose of the Vatican- led New World Order and the real evil at the top levels, I thought I could change things from the inside.

"But when I realized that was impossible, I decided to go public with all of my inside information in order to alert people of the evil hiding behind the Vatican and the government leaders of the world, including those in the U.S.

"When I was in the Monte Carlo lodge, the top people simply thought of Americans as the future slaves of the upcoming New World Order empire. It's as simple as that and Americans need to wake-up."

Zagami announced on The Investigative Journal that his "Tour of Hope" idea has "spread wings quickly" across the globe with people in Canada, America, Norway, Italy, France and Australia already contacting him to take part in the grass roots peace organization, an organization geared at spreading the "inside truth about the Vatican, Freemasonry and the numerous sell-outs and traitors who are secretly working for the New World Order," according to Zagami.

The concept of the Tour of Hope is simple, added Zagami, with Committees of Hope to be formed in cities and towns across the globe.

"We need to organize to fight evil as the enemy is well organized," said Zagami, whose website for more information about getting involved with the Tour of Hope can be found at www.illuminationconfessions.webfriend.it.

"We already have speaking engagements set up in Detroit, St Petersburg, Fl., in Canada and several other locations being worked on as we speak. Greg of the Investigative Journal has agreed to help out and appear the initial speeches in order to network this idea throughout America and the rest of the world."

If interested in taking part in the Tour of Hope and forming a Committee of Hope, what is needed is at least six people in each city or town. Once the Committee is formed Zagami and Greg, the host of the Investigative Journal, have agreed to come and speak to kick-off the organization and help make it grow.

"The idea is then to network, get other speakers and form a Tour of Hope web site," said Szymanski, adding the information Leo Zagami is bringing forward is vital in order that America survive and once again become a free country. "He has inside information on how the Vatican organized 9/11 as well as telling Americans who are the real culprits pulling the New World Order strings both here and abroad."

To get involved with the Tour of Hope and to form a Committee of Hope, contact Zagami at his web site or contact the Arctic Beacon at arcticbeacon@earthlink.net or call Greg personally at 509-242-9681.

Greg Szymanski

Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcasting Network, from 11:00am to 1:00pm central time, shortwave frequency 12.180. Listen on the internet at: www.rbnlive.com Greg Szymanski is an independent investigative journalist and his articles can be seen at www.LewisNews.com. He also writes for his own site www.arcticbeacon.com

Listen to my Radio Broadcast live Monday night at 8pm Pacific time on LewisNews, returning Jan. 1 2006 Radio <http://webs.lewisnews.com/radio/index.htm>.

Revelations on the State of Israel (2/7/2007)

The Zionist "State Of Israel" was created by the Jesuits-Vatican craftsmanship. Because, of it's strategic location where Jerusalem is located. The Jesuits-Vatican wishes to protect that zone in the Middle East, and they will destroy the Al-Aqsa Mosque "Dome Of The Rock" where the Roman Temple of Herod is buried. When the Jesuits successfully destroyed the Dome Of The Rock, a Masonic Satanic Temple will be built where the final pope "Anti-Christ" will sit and wishes to be worshiped like GOD. By the way, Edmund A. Walsh, S.J. according to historical articles established a Jesuit school in Iraq. I can't remember for a while if it is in Baghdad. Some Zionist-Jew leaders are high-level freemasons, some Freemasons pretend to be Muslims like the late Yasser Arafat who is a 33rd degree freemason and believed Saddam Hussein too is a 33rd degree freemason. They work together controlled by the Jesuits to initiate a path for the re-building of the Satanic Temple intended for the Anti-Christ. There are Freemason H.Q. in Egypt and Turkey as well, pretending to be Muslims, like in the UK and US and France and other places where they pretend to be Christians.

Historian

The great debate and the microchipping

(2/7/2007)

Let us understand that Moses was going to debate with the ruler of the greatest nation of that time (USA has become now what Egypt was back then). He along with Aaron was assigned to debate with the wisest people around. Moses had no army, he had no weapons. Pharaoh the old version of the President of the United States had an army, educational institutions, highly skilled and astute doctors of law, mathematicians, philosophers. Moses had to confront the very people who built the great Pyramids of Giza, Masters of the physical and human sciences. Moses knew how Pharaoh and his people were; he was raised in Egypt, in the house of Pharaoh. Reflect! Think! Can you imagine what Moses must have felt? And how would he feel today?

These days the illuminati are creating around us a invisible prison made of microchips, they are building Concentration Camps for rebels of the New World Order all over the US. These once upon a time Free country called the USA are following more and more the Chinese and Russian authoritarian ways. The Russians have been programmed already by the illuminazi during the Communist Soviet experiment to stay silent in front of all this (how many Russians will really dare to rebel facing the terrible consequences of deportation in Siberia even these days...). Many dangerous ill persons proliferate in your planet: preachers at the head of satanic sects, gurus and initiates of similar associations, inclined to wickedness, dominated by occult forces linked to the intelligence services.

The psyche of the world seems to me in a permanent agony.

They are all ill individuals, in a continuous delirium with their poor consciousness, if they've still got some.

Those who do not love, do not have soul.

However, the Holy Prophet Mohammed taught us and said: "Nay, for when a prophet of Allah has girded himself for battle to combat the enemy of God, he will never lay down his arms unless the Command of the Lord comes to him". And I will continue my battle against these enemies of God until the end of this age of darkness, because we cant accept what the Christians define has the "Mark of the Beast" (the microchipping) and the Warlord ideology of illuminazi George H.Bush and his son the AntiChrist.These people including the Rockefeller Mafia wants ex illuminati like me to be sent to a secluded island in the middle of the ocean with no chance of coming back. These islands are truly been created right nown for the people who refuse the illuminazi Mafia , and they will also be used for real criminals who serve life imprisonment for their vicious crimes.These islands have been described in the Protocols published by the Monte Carlo Lodge "Universal Unity" in 2002 as controlled from outside using the microchipping technology (successor to the infamous electronic bracelet), and divided accordingly to the sex of the criminals . In the 3rd Protocol of the Monte Carlo Lodge it states regarding this subject "Those individual should be forgotten, even by their relatives. Their survival , as for the primitive people ,is guarantee only by their ability of tilling the soils and fishing". It sound like an horror version of the Robinson Island or one of these idiotic reality TV shows featuring the poor unwilling participants. Are we gonna have them on TV later so we can please the mass dear Bush? The Bibble and the Qur'an say the Creator prepared Moses for his battle with Pharaoh by giving him several signs. The Bibble says God said to Moses " I am That I am". In the Royal Arch chapter of Masonry these signs are relayed to the Mason and adopted as their signs of recognition and communication . Each sign is accompanied by three words.For us "I am That I am" must have a deeper and more profound significance that the one given by these illuminati puppets in contemporary Freemasonry. And this meaning should be also interpreted in the light of the future microchipping process as "I am That I am" truly works ONLY WHEN IM FREE OF THE MICROCHIP DEVICE installed by the illuminazi, and one thing is clear for all of us these days Moses will be dealing with a different kind of BUSH ON FIRE ... well not a Holy one indeed but a Pharaonic version MADE IN TEXAS and blessed by the Vatican!

Leo Lyon Zagami
now
Khaled Saifullah Khan

JFK Speech on Secret Societies and Freedom of the Press (2/6/2007)

Illuminati agents building detentions camps (2/6/2007)

ILLUMINATI AGENTS ARE AT WORK BUILDING DETENTIONS CAMPS

Illuminati agents are hard at work building detention camps to house unknown persons for unknown reasons on the 33rd Parallel in south-central Arizona. In fact, extensive activity is occurring there from Death Row in Florence, Arizona. Through the Hohokam Indian Stonehenge-like ruins into the new prison complexes themselves.

This article:

Will attempt to provide visual / photographic evidence of this phenomenon as well as a brief explanation of who and what is behind it.

None of what is provided to the reader is based on opinion , ideology or belief

...only the facts. The facts show the following yuo can find at:

http://www.thebereanchronicles.com/indepth_news/news_Illuminati_Detention_camp_01.html

The Architecture of the Prison Planet (2/7/2007)

<http://prisonplanet.com/articles/january2007/290107rockefellergoal.htm>

Zagami's Message of Hope Spreading Fast (2/9/2007)

Zagami's Message of Hope To Defeat Vatican-Led NWO Spreading Fast

Tour of Hope Committees forming all over America, as Leo Zagami, a former high level Monte Carlo P2 member explains his plan. He further explains why he decided to defect from the clutches of evil and fight the good fight.

7 Feb 2007

By Greg Szymanski

Leo Zagami, the Italian aristocrat and high level Freemason who recently defected from the evil clutches of the Illuminati, was first brought to U.S. attention months ago by the Arctic Beacon and The Investigative Journal radio show.

Since then, Zagami's valuable inside information has been heard by hundreds of thousands across the globe, taking head on the Vatican-led New World and letting them know people are "downright serious" about ending Rome and its minions' evil reign.

Millions have been killed by the duplicitous and deceptive Vatican and Jesuit influenced Illuminati over centuries and, according to Zagami and many serious researchers, they are not about to stop now with the destruction America, the Middle East and Israel next on their agenda.

Zagami's warning to stand up to the evil Illuminati comes from high level inside information, information that is now being picked up other truth seeking American journalists and radio broadcasters who are now giving Zagami a platform thanks to the Arctic Beacon's initial exposure.

Besides a flood of requests to allow Zagami a chance to speak by other radio hosts, Zagami and the editor of the Arctic Beacon have initiated the "Tour of Hope," which is a grass roots movement to gain support throughout America and the world to fight the New World Order.

Since the initial announcement three weeks ago, more than two hundred people from at least 15 states have expressed a desire and willingness to form Committees of Hope in their communities, in essence expressing a willingness to fight the evil Jesuit and Vatican hierarchy by putting their names on the dotted line as a unified resistance.

"This should be done under the old fashioned Charter system just like America was initially begun," said Zagami in a recent interview. "We will then organize around the world fighting our organized enemy in the same manner, but replacing deception and lies with truth and justice."

The "Tour of Hope" has caught wings as Zagami is in the process of coordinating efforts with others to arrange speeches and to unify the resistance in the old fashioned way – face to faces meetings and coordinated efforts by the Committees of Hope to becoming a beacon of truth throughout the world.

Anyone interested in forming a Committee of at least five or six people can contact the Arctic Beacon or contact Zagami at his website www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it.

In order to better understand Zagami, he recently issued a statement explaining why he left the clutches of the Monte Carlo P2 Lodge:

Since I'm finally out of the illuminati as everybody knows, I want to talk without barriers. It seems to me that no one was really expecting such a move from me in the Masonic circle. Many know me from my years in Freemasonry and the illuminati and thought is he really doing this or is he gone completely crazy ?

No I'm really doing this and I will expose the Brotherhood further in their evil intentions.

And yes I was finally free to stick a finger up to the so called illuminati and say finally I'm a free and accepted man as my equals and not the usual privileged 'bastard' I used to be, or a supposed Free and Accepted Mason in reality just another puppet of my Grand Master...

The present state of the Masonic Order and of all side Orders is a serious catastrophe, a catastrophe ruled by incompetent and extremely dangerous individual involved in Satanic activities camouflaged as Egyptian esoterica (the usual Jesuit follwers).

The illuminati discuss amongst themselves the significance of Gnosticism but in reality they are high level Vatican puppets meetings these Conferences at the Canonbury Research Centre in London, like the last one at the beginning of November 2006.

We are also fascinated to see at this CMRC Conference many well known esoteric wizards like Colin Wilson ,Tobias Churthon with all these High level Masons and prestigious academicians like Professor James Robinson from Clermont Graduate University General and Editor of the Nag Hammadi library who all together form the KNOWLEDGE OF THE HEART.

However, a question comes to my mind about these illuminati: do they still have a heart? We need to focus a bit more on the real significance of these kind of conferences promoted by high level Freemasons and Satanists at the CMRC, and there you might finally understand how these Contemporary High Level Freemasons and illuminati meet up to conspire against the rest of the world.

Professor and Freemason Thierry Zarcone presented at this event on Saturday and Sunday the 4th and 5th of November, affirming that the Ottoman Empire, treated their own form of Ottoman Freemasonry as another Islamic Sufi Society, and went on saying that the 'Ancient and Accepted Rite' became the 'Ancient and Accepted Sufi Path'.

But Professor Thierry Zarcone who also mentioned the Bektashi Sufi Order, deliberately did not give the connections between these renegade Islamic figures of Ottoman Freemasonry connected to the Vatican and the Zionists and the birth of Nazism trough infamous Freemasons like Rudolf von Sebottendorf aka Rudolf Freiherr von Sebottendorff (or von Sebottendorf).

So let's see if they are ever going start revealing the truth in such 'illuminazi' circles and let's keep an eye on these western illuminati operating at the Canonbury Masonic Research Centre.

Greg Szymanski

Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcasting Network, from 11:00am to 1:00pm central time, shortwave frequency 12.180. Listen on the internet at: www.rbnlive.com Greg Szymanski is an independent investigative journalist and his articles can be seen at www.LewisNews.com. He also writes for his own site www.arcticbeacon.com

Listen to my Radio Broadcast live Monday night at 8pm Pacific time on LewisNews, returning Jan. 1 2006 Radio <http://webs.lewisnews.com/radio/index.htm>.

New Age manipulation and the Matrix (2/12/2007)

I'm here to expose the secret CIA-Freemason ties to the work of Drunvalo Melchizadek and his colleagues, James Hurtak and Jose Arguelles -- all leaders of the New Age scene.

The Flower of Life book states very explicitly that Nature uses natural numbers but the New Age must contain Nature by using the logarithmic-based irrational number Golden Ratio.

In fact it's exactly because of the irrational-based golden ratio that there is an ecological crisis today!!

The Egyptians never used irrational numbers! -- this has been proven over and over -- that the New Age is PROJECTING Western Freemasonry onto traditional Egyptian spirituality.

So COAST TO COAST IS PROMOTING FREEMASON-CIA LIES -- with all their New Age Egyptology (and yes I personally asked Graham Hancock why he thought nuclear weapons were a possible solution to a comet destroying Earth -- he didn't have a response).

So if you want to find out what's the real agenda behind Drunvalo Melchizadek -- why it's wrong to follow him -- then read "The Stargate Conspiracy" book by Lynn Picknett and Clive Prince.

My research is freely available by googling "drew hempel" and here's some links:

<http://nonduality.com/hempel.htm>

<http://drewhempel.gnn.tv>

See the Matrix Movie was actually propaganda for Freemasonry because the highest concept is the Machine God and the highest goal is the virtual heaven obtained by those who "decide."

For example I was in McDonald's the other day and one of the workers said she got a question wrong on her driver's test -- is driving after drinking a "judgement" or "decision."?

Now she's an older African-American and she put judgement but the correct answer was decision. An older white male "manager" tried to explain why but couldn't do so.

Judgement is really a term linked to gospel music -- very strongly.

In fact in the true teachings -- Pre-Freemasonry -- Justice can be HEARD -- but it is blind.

So "god" is not a machine based on binary decisions -- the logic of Freemasonry -- but God RESONATES in a flowing flexible manner from formless awareness or the Cosmic Mother.

Philosophy means the love of Sophia.

The Fish-God comes from Egypt -- it was one of the most prominent gods of Egypt.

Before LIFE evolved the EYE -- in the Cambrian Explosion of 584 million years ago --

LIFE USED PRESSURE WAVES AS EYES -- PRESSURE IS ANTI-GRAVITY.

The human ear evolved from the LATERAL LINE on all fish -- which is a series of membranes connected to neurons and is better than eyes!!

Pressure is Sound-Waves -- so the proper understanding of resonance enables Anti-Gravity or "asymmetric time reversal" -- but this entails going against PHONETIC language -- back to the animistic, syncretic

Fish-Gods, etc.,

There is no going back -- but the Freemason-CIA-New Age agenda is to "assimilate" any "back to the land" cultures -- the Mapuche in Chile, the Natives of Oaxaca, Chiapas, etc.

Most of the Latinos identify with the Conquistador culture out of "reversed racism" even though they are more of indigenous blood!!

The same with Whites -- only when literacy was enforced did ethnic-cleansing based on Platonic Matrix ideology become the norm.

Mr X

Fight the UN Vatican Conspiracy! (2/15/2007)

"The question of how and why the United Nations and the Vatican is the crux of the great conspiracy to destroy the sovereignty of the United States and the enslavement of the American people within a U.N. one-world dictatorship is a complete and unknown mystery to the vast majority of the American people. The reason for this unawareness of the frightening danger to our country and to the entire free world is simple. The masterminds behind this great conspiracy have absolute control of all of our mass-communications media, especially television, the radio, the press, and Hollywood. We all know that our State Department, the Pentagon, and the White House have brazenly proclaimed that they have the right and the power to manage the news, to tell us not the truth but what they want us to believe. They have seized that power on orders from their masters of the great conspiracy and the objective is to brainwash the people into accepting this slavery and the United States into an enslaved unit of the United Nations' Vatican one-world government. So rebel and form in your city a Committee of Hope, you need 6 people to sign a charter of hope and send it to: illuminati@webfriend.it . The aim is to bring truth and Freedom in your city and arrange a date for the Tour of Hope with Leo Lyon Zagami but also start meeting regularly to fight the Vatican Zionist NEW WORLD ORDER operated by the UN dictatorship.

MR X

Why Music is Not Haram (2/15/2007)

Why Music Is Not Haram

The Almighty has created man with the best physical and intellectual abilities. Desires for beauty and stateliness of thought and practice are found in his nature. He is well-disposed to choose good to the exclusion of evil, and prefer piety to sinfulness. He professes virtues of love, fidelity, truth, purity, justice and equality, and shuns hatred, falsehood, injustice and inequity. He yearns for enlightenment and shuns ignorance; he goes for fragrance and evades fetidness; he craves for beauty and dislikes ugliness. All cultural advancement and progress in civilization, in fact, owes itself to this very natural desire in man for beauty and grandeur. Every small step he has taken for advancement testifies to his inclination towards the best.

He needed nutrition for his growth for which he could have done with brambles and potherbs, but he innovated a variety of delicious foods as an essential part of his meals. His sense of modesty required that he cover his private parts, for which he could have wrapped himself up in sackcloth, but he went for silk, brocade and satin. He needed shelter. Caves, tents or huts scattering through forests and deserts could have satisfied this need, and yet he chose to build cities and bejewelled them with magnificent palaces. In social life, he needed an effective means of communication. But he did not feel content with simple signs and symbols or even a plain discourse; instead he coined such eloquent styles of expression that language developed into poetry and literature.

The history of mankind - in the realm of social and cultural progress - sufficiently evidences the fact that in his very nature, man longs for beauty and grandeur in all activities that emanate from him. His physical and psychological senses, and their necessary characteristics, mirror his interest in beauty. Therefore, we see that his appreciation for the ambience of life and its vivid images drives him to decorate his surroundings. His command on expressing himself leads him to take ordinary words, and develop their rhyme and meanings into poetry. This is because of his appreciation for a beautiful voice that he infuses passion in his utterances and uses the high and low pitches in composing enchanting musical tones. His yearning to hear pleasing sounds draws him towards the captivating resonance in his environment and forces him to invent musical instruments to master and reproduce these sounds. Music is nothing but the manifestation of his beauty of utterance and taste for pleasing sounds. Therefore, music satisfies his want of beauty and affords him an opportunity to delight his innerself.

It is commonly believed that the Islamic Shari'ah prohibits music and musical instruments altogether. However, we understand that this view cannot be substantiated from the basic sources of religious knowledge in Islam. Only the Holy Qur'an and the Sunnah have the sole authority to render something allowed or forbidden. Nothing can be added or deducted from the list of the allowed and forbidden articles of the Shari'ah.

In order to identify the Shari'ah directives regarding a certain matter, Muslim scholarship has generally sought the two authentic sources: the Qur'an and Sunnah. An inquiry into the Hadith literature ascribed to the Holy Prophet (sws) follows this. If the issue is addressed in these narratives, they are also to be benefited from in the light of the established principles of sense and reason, and religious knowledge. The previous Divine scriptures are also resorted to when necessary. Opinions ascribed to the companions, exegetical works, Hadith and Fiqh are also consulted in such analytical study.

Strictly following these acknowledged principles of research, we have attempted to conduct a thorough inquiry to find out the Islamic stance on music. Our study led us to believe that the Holy Qur'an does not have any direct or indirect, explicit or implicit directive that can evidence the prohibition of music. Likewise, the list of Sunan (i.e. practices established by the Holy Prophet (sws) as part of the religion) also does not offer any basis for the assumed prohibition of music in Islam. The Hadith literature contains many Sahih 1 and Hasan 2 narratives ascribed to the Holy Prophet (sws), which allude to the allowance of music. However, some narratives depict it as a prohibited activity, but scholars of the science of Hadith have declared most such

Furthermore, a close examination of the narratives that are presented as basis for the prohibition of music show that it is only the involvement of drinking, nudity, and other moral depravity that renders the entire event forbidden. As for the previous scriptures, the Holy Bible explicitly refers to the fact that the Prophet David (sws) was gifted with a very pleasing voice. He would glorify God in his psalms, which he sang accompanied with enchanting music. The Zabur (i.e. Psalms), the book revealed to him, is a collection of such songs that he sang on a harp. Different views of the Companions on the issue have been recorded in the Hadith and the exegetical literature. As for the works of the researchers and scholars of the past, many of the commentators of the Qur'an understood some Qur'anic words to be referring to music. Based on their interpretation of the Qur'anic references, they maintained that it is prohibited in Islam. As we have already mentioned, scholars of the science of Hadith consider that most of the narratives which are often presented to establish the prohibition of music are Da'if and unreliable. Some of these scholars declare that there is no Sahih Hadith in the entire corpus of the Hadith literature that proves the prohibition of music. However, the majority of the jurists have declared that music is an activity forbidden in Islam. They base their argument on narratives discarded as Da'if by the scholars of the science of Hadith.

We have studied all these sources of religious knowledge and have tried to determine the status of music in Islam. Our thorough research has led us to the conclusion that music is one of the permissible natural gifts of God. The Islamic Shari'ah does not forbid it. One can use the musical tones in hymns, encomia, odes or tragedy, epic and comedic poems. However, if any of these literary poetical compositions contain any polytheistic or atheistic subject matters or is prone to promote impiety and sinfulness, then of course, it must be condemned and rendered unallowable. But it must be understood, this is only the content of the poetry recited that is being condemned in this case not the art of music itself. If the content of the poems and all literature is endorsed by the Shari'ah and does not offend man's moral values, then music can be used in poetry, prose, oratory, writings and recitals. If the message conveyed through the rendered contents does not conform to religious and moral principles, then all such indulgences shall necessarily be forbidden. For example, if a poem written in praise of a messenger of God is contaminated by verses expressive of polytheistic ideas then that very poem is to be forbidden, not the art of poetry. Similarly, songs that contain immoral utterances should be condemned. However, once again, this is done merely because the contents of these literary genres contain debauchery and the literary activity itself cannot be prohibited based on this. Still, if any such permissible thing has become associated with an evil thing, it can be temporarily banned in order to block the way for that inseparable evil.

1. Music and the Holy Qur'an

The Holy Qur'an is the last episode of the religious guidance divulged by God to man. Initially implanted in human nature in the form of intuitive knowledge of certain basic facts, this religious guidance culminates in the Holy Qur'an. Over the course of history, different Prophets (sws) of God added different rites, rituals and practices to the treasure of Divine guidance.

The Prophet Abraham (sws) gave these practices (known to all as Sunat-i-Ibrahimi) a well-defined and concrete shape. On the other hand, Divine books like the Torah, Psalms and the Gospels further explained various aspects of the Shari'ah directives and the wisdom behind them. Then, finally, came the Prophet Muhammad (sws) and the Holy Qur'an. Thus, the Holy Qur'an is the last version of the religious guidance and not the first. It would mean that besides the Holy Qur'an, the sources of religious guidance include dictates of nature, Abrahamic practices and previous scriptures.

All religious precepts are termed as Ma'ruf and Munkar in the Holy Qur'an. The word Ma'ruf signifies all such acts as are inscribed in the human nature as praiseworthy, and the word Munkar is applied to the ones considered evil. Man's ability to tell the nature of the deeds enables him to distinguish good from evil. This is the very yardstick by which he can identify the moral and immoral aspects of certain acts. Therefore, relying on this human knowledge, the Holy Qur'an does not provide an exhaustive list of good and bad deeds. Generally, it only provides principal guidance. Detailed guidance is only considered necessary where humans tend to err in a specific matter and clarifications are rendered inevitable.

In the light of the above explanation, we can conclude that the Holy Qur'an does not pass a verdict on all human thoughts and actions. Rather, it leaves the matter to men to decide for themselves in the light of primary sources of religious knowledge, referred to above as innate guidance and established religious practices. In some matters, it gives only principal guidance and/or slight hints. In others, it provides necessary details. As for music, the matter has not been directly addressed in the Holy Qur'an. No single Qur'anic verse clarifies its religious status.

i. Rhyme and Rhythm in Qur'anic Verses

The Holy Qur'an contains unparalleled aural beauty and the best stylistic expression. Though a literary masterpiece, it cannot be identified with the well-known literary genres like poetry, prose or oration. Yet, the element of rhyme in its verses exhibit that the Author has given special attention to it in order to give it a tint of rhythm. The rhyme element in the Qur'an creates an enchanting effect on the listeners - commoners or scholars, Muslims or non-Muslims alike. It was only this aspect of the Qur'anic discourse because of which the Quraysh were able to say that the Holy Prophet (sws) was a poet and the Qur'an, a poetic composition. Since the Almighty has beautified the Qur'an with rhyme and rhythm, we can conclude that He loves rhyme and rhythm in words, and beauty in their sounds. Music no doubt is a form of this assonance created by a certain order of words and their sounds. For that account, the Holy Prophet (sws) encouraged the believers to recite the Qur'an with a beautiful and pleasing sound. He is reported to have said: He who does not recite the Qur'anic verses in a beautiful tone does not belong to us. (Bukhari, No: 7089) Beautify your recitation of the Qur'an with your beautiful recitation. (Ibn Khuzaymah, No: 1556)

ii. The Prophet David (sws) and his Psalms

When the Prophet David (sws) would sing God's praises, the birds and mountains would join him. This has been referred to in Surahs Anbiya, Saba and Suad of the Holy Qur'an. ...and We caused the mountains and the birds to join with David. They would praise God with him. (21:79)

In the verse, the verb 'sakhr' has been employed, which means to subject something, subdue it, and bring it in conformity with something else. Though it is not clear from different usages of the word in the Qur'an that the Prophet David (sws) would sing his hymns, yet if seen in the light of the Biblical texts, it becomes clear that he certainly did. The Bible clearly mentions that the Prophet David (sws) would beautifully sing his psalms on a harp.

Oh come, let us sing to the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise to Him with psalms. (Psalms 95:1-2) Oh sing to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth. Sing to the Lord, bless His name; show forth His salvation from day to day. (Psalms 96:1-2)

I will sing a new song to You, O God; on a harp of ten strings I will sing praises to You. (Psalms 144:9)

The famous Muslims scholar, Abu'l Kalam Azad has taken the referred to Qur'anic verse to mean that David (sws) would sing his psalms in praise of God. He writes:

The Prophet David (sws) had a very sweet sound. He is the first to compile Hebrew music and he developed the Egyptian and Babylonian harps into more sophisticated musical instruments. A study of the Torah and Jewish tradition reveals that when he would climb the mountain tops and sing the praise of his Lord on his harp, the trees and stones would join him enraptured. Exegetical narratives also corroborate this fact. 'Subjecting the birds to David (sws)' can signify either that all kinds of birds would flock to his palace or his songs would enrapture them. The book of Psalms comprises a wonderful collection of songs that David (sws) composed with Divine inspiration 4.

Renowned Qur'anic exegete, Amin Ahsan Islahi too has explained the verse of Surah Anbiya in the light of the Biblical narrative. He writes: David (sws) cherished a deep communion with God. At nights, He would set out for the mountains and sing the praises of God. The pleasing sound of his songs would echo through the mountains and the birds would join him. It is noteworthy that the Torah clearly mentions that David (sws) not only had a very sweet voice but his voice revealed strong passion.

Furthermore, all these hymns are in the form of songs and poems inspired by God. These inspired hymns cast such deep effect on the listeners that even successive translations have left only little poetical element in them, they still fully captivate the audience. The heart leaps for joy upon hearing them. Imagine a person with so sweet a sound as David (sws) singing the praises of God amid the serene mountains in the stillness of early dawn. You would no longer doubt that the mountains would echo and the birds would respond to his utterances. One should not entertain the thought that it is only a poetical reverie. Nay, it stands an irrevocable fact.

The Holy Qur'an makes it clear that everything in this universe exalts the Lord. It is our lack of understanding, due to which, we cannot comprehend these thanksgivings. Their yearning to praise God is inflamed when someone else starts singing their heart's voice.

They feel enraptured by such a song in the surroundings and join the singer in his utterances. Our inability to comprehend the thanksgiving offered by each and every creation should not lead us to conclude that none else could understand it. All such people as have molten hearts can.

Mawlana Rum has beautifully expressed the thought in the following verses: The philosopher belies the incident of Hananah. He is not familiar with the (extraordinary) senses of the Prophets. The famous Urdu poet Mirza Ghalib says: At your end is the problem that you do not know the secrets being unveiled to you. Something that seems a curtain before you is in fact the pardah from which the music flows 5.

Islahi's commentary of the relevant verses of Surah Suad reflects the fact that David (sws) alone was able to comprehend the praises of the mountains and birds because it was a special favour of God on him. He writes:

Each and everything in this universe sings the praises of God. It is only the humans who cannot understand their utterances. Our failure to understand their praises does not necessitate that none could understand them. The Almighty had bestowed upon David (sws) not only the sound sweet enough to enrapture the birds and the mountains, but also the perceptive ears which could enable him to understand the hymns of the mountains and birds 6.

2. Music in the Bible

The Bible is a collection of the Torah, Psalms, Gospels and other Divine scriptures. Basically, it contains God's Shari'ah and His wisdom. Although different followers of the Book have lost many parts of this Divine book and altered some others because of their mutual differences, yet it treasures invaluable assets of Divine guidance. If seen in the light of the final revelation - the Holy Qur'an - the contents of the Bible afford us very precious guidance.

We find numerous references to music and musical instruments in the Bible. This means that in the religion brought by the Prophets of God, music and musical instrument have never been disallowed. In the Bible, one finds many places where music accompanies the praises of God. Besides, at many other places, the Bible positively mentions the use of music in expressing delight, sorrow, as well as in the context of war.

i. Worship Rituals and Music

When the Pharaoh and his people were destroyed in the sea by the command of God, as mentioned in Exodus, and Moses (sws) successfully delivered his people from the Egyptian captivity, all the Israelites embraced the faith and believed in God and His Messenger. On that occasion, Moses (sws) and the believers accompanying him praised their Lord:

Then the sons of Moses and Israel sang this song to the Lord, and spoke, saying, 'I will sing to the Lord, for He has triumphed gloriously; the horse and his rider, He has thrown into the sea. The Lord is my strength and song, and He has become my salvation'. (Exodus 15:1-2)

Who is like You, O Lord, among the gods? Who is like You, glorious in holiness, fearful in praises, doing wonders? (Exodus 15:11)

What follows this is the reason that occasioned the singing. Maryam, the sister of Moses and Aaron, it has been told, played a tambourine. For the horse of Pharaoh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and the Lord brought again the waters of the sea upon them. But the sons of Israel went on dry land in the middle of the sea. And Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a timbrel (a musical instrument similar to tambourine) in her hand. And all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances. And Miriam answered them, Sing to the Lord, for He has triumphed gloriously. The horse and his rider He has thrown into the sea. (Exodus 15: 19-21)

According to Chronicles, when the Prophet Solomon (sws) got back the Ark of Covenant, the whole Israel stood before it and offered sacrifices to express their delight and sang praises to their Lord.

And they were as one to the trumpeters and to the singers, to make one sound to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord; and as they lifted up their voice with the trumpets and cymbals and instruments of music, and praised the Lord, saying, For He is good, for His mercy endures forever, the house was filled with a cloud, the house of the Lord. (2 Chronicles 5:13)

As for the book of Psalms, it comprises a wonderful variety of inspired pieces of music and songs. There are numerous internal testimonies to the fact that the Prophet David (sws) sang these songs with the help of musical instruments. Inscriptions to many chapters of the book read, 'To the Chief Musician, for stringed instruments. A Psalm of David (sws).' The contents of the Psalms also evidence this fact.

Oh come, let us sing to the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation. Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise to Him with psalms. (Psalms 95:1-2)

Oh sing to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth. Sing to the Lord, bless His name; show forth His salvation from day to day. (Psalms 96:1-2)

I will sing a new song to You, O God; on a harp of ten strings I will sing praises to You. (Psalms 144:9)

ii. Music as Expression of Gladness on the Most Joyous Occasion We learn from the Bible that the Israelites used music to celebrate joyous occasions. According to the book of Kings, Solomon's kingship was proclaimed with joyful music and songs. And all the people came up after him, and the people piped with pipes, and rejoiced with great joy, so that the earth was torn with their sound. (1 Kings 1:40) iii. Music in the Context of Wars According to the book of Numbers, the Almighty commanded Moses (sws) to make two silver trumpets to call the assembly, and to signal instructions in regulating movements of the troops in times of war. And the Lord spoke to Moses saying, 'make two trumpets of silver for yourself. You shall make them of beaten work. And they shall be used for the calling of the assembly and for causing the camps to go forward.' (Numbers 10:1-2)

1. A Sahih Hadith is transmitted through an unbroken chain of narrators all of which are of sound character and memory. Any Hadith should not clash with a more reliable report and must not suffer from any other hidden defect. 2. A Hasan Hadith is transmitted through an unbroken chain of narrators, all of whom are of sound character but weak memory. This Hadith should not clash with a more reliable report and must not suffer from any other hidden defect. 3. A Da'if Hadith is that which cannot gain the status of Hasan because it lacks any one or more elements of a Hasan Hadith. (e.g. if the narrator is not of sound memory and sound character, or if there is a hidden fault in the narrative or if the chain of narrators is broken). 4. Abu'l-Kalam Azad, Tarjuman Al-

Qur'an, Vol. 2, (Lahore: Islamic Academy, 1976), p. 480 5. Islahi, Amin Ahsan, Tadabbur-i-Qur'an, 2nd ed., vol. 5, (Lahore: Faran Foundation, 1986), pp. 173-4 6. Ibid., p. 552 Prophetic Sayings on Music Music was one of the favourite cultural traditions of the Arabs in the days of the Prophet Muhammad (sws). Music and musical instruments were frequently used in worship rituals. It was also employed in the expression of delight and sorrow. Music accompanied wars and festivals too. A study of the traditions ascribed to the Holy Prophet (sws) reveals that not only did he express his likeness for Music but he also encouraged others to play it on festive occasions. Some reliable narratives in this regard make it clear that the mother of the believers, 'A'ishah (rta) listened to songs in the very presence of the Holy Prophet (sws). The Holy Prophet (sws) himself is reported to have encouraged people to use music on wedding ceremonies. On his migration from Makkah to Madinah, the women sang welcome songs on the Daff and the Holy Prophet (sws) expressed his approbation of this. At another occasion, a professional female singer and musician approached him and requested him to listen to her song. The Holy Prophet (sws) not only himself listened to her song but also took 'A'ishah (rta) to listen to her. The mother of the believers leaned on the Holy Prophet's (sws) shoulders and enjoyed the performance for a considerable time. During journeys, the Messenger of God showed his likeness for the Hida, a kind of desert song. He is also reported to have appointed a Hadi for his camels who was endowed with a very sweet sound. He also emphasized beating the Daff in order to announce Nikah. Various traditions have been recorded in the books of Hadith on these issues. A study of some of these traditions follows. i. Music on the 'Id Festivals Narrates 'A'ishah (rta): The Messenger (sws) of God came to my residence while two female singers were singing the songs of Bu'ath...1 The Holy Prophet (sws) lay down and turned his face to the other side. Meanwhile Abu Bakr (rta) entered and [seeing the singers] rebuked me thus: 'Satanic musical instruments in the presence of the Holy Prophet (sws)?' On hearing this God's Messenger (sws) turned towards him and said: 'Let them [sing and rejoice]'. When Abu Bakr was engaged in some other business, I signalled to the girls [to go out] and they left. It was on the 'Id day.2 (Bukhari, No: 907) We can conclude from this narrative the following points: · The Mother of the believers, 'A'ishah (rta), was listening to songs on 'Id day. · The songs were being sung in the residence of the Holy Prophet (sws). · A professional singer was performing.3 · The song was not a hymn to God; rather a relic of a war fought before the advent of Islam. · The mother of the believers did not stop listening to the song even after the Holy Prophet had arrived. · The Holy Prophet (sws) did not forbid her from listening to the song. · He did not stop the female singers either. · He himself was not attracted to the performance but he must have heard the song as he could hear Abu Bakr's comments. · Abu Bakr (rta) condemned the practice at first sight and declared that these were satanic instruments. · When he tried to stop the singers and censure the listeners, the Holy Prophet (sws) stopped him from doing so. The report evidently proves that the Holy Prophet (sws) allowed singing music during religious festivals. This is evidenced by the fact that Holy Prophet's (sws) wife enjoyed singing and music. Although Abu Bakr (rta) tried to stop the function, the Holy Prophet (sws) did not interfere with it, and let the performers and the audience enjoy themselves. Therefore, in light of this evidence we can conclude that music can justifiably be considered allowable in Islam. The following narrative also deals with the issue: Umm-i-Salamah narrates: A slave girl belonging to Hassan Ibn Thabit (rta) came to us on 'Id al Fitr. Her hair was unkempt and she carried a tambourine and was singing [some song]. Umm-i-Salamah rebuked her. But the Holy Prophet (sws) said to her: 'Ummi-i-Salamah, let her [sing and rejoice]. Certainly every nation has an 'Id and this day is our 'Id'. (Mu'jam Al-Kabir, No: 558) ii. Music on Wedding Ceremonies Narrates Ibn 'Abbas: 'A'ishah (rta) arranged the marriage of a close Ansari girl. The Holy Prophet (sws) also came to attend the ceremony. He inquired from the people: 'Have you sent forth the bride?' 'Yes', they replied. 'Did you send any singer with her?' He asked. 'A'ishah (rta) replied in the negative. The Holy Prophet (sws) then remarked: ‘The Ansar cherish singing. It would be better that you sent along with her a singer who would sing’ 4 ‘We have come to you; we have joined you. Peace be upon us. Peace be upon you.’ 5 (Ibn Majah, No: 1900) The narrative delineates the following points: · The way the Holy Prophet (sws) inquired about singing and playing music on this occasion reveals that it was customary for the Arabs to send a singer with the bride when sent to join the bridegroom. · The Holy Prophet (sws) was not pleased to hear that the custom was abandoned on that occasion. · He encouraged people to adhere to the custom. · He suggested some couplets to be recited on such occasions though he did not sing them. · He referred to the characteristics of the Ansar and did not express his disapproval of the same. The narrative proves that the Holy Prophet (sws) approved of singing and playing music on marriage ceremonies. Some other versions of the narrative reveal that the Prophet (sws) noticed that there was no singing or music being played in the house where the marriage ceremony was being conducted. He felt strange and inquired about the reason. Consider the following text of the narrative: ‘A’ishah (rta) reports: An Ansari girl lived under my guardianship and I arranged her marriage. The Holy Prophet (sws) came to my house on the day she was married and did not hear any songs or any other joyful activities. [Observing this] he asked of me: ‘Did you people sing to her or not?’ ‘This is the tribe of the Ansar who like singing,’ he added. (Ibn Hibban, No: 5875) iii. Use of Music on Joyous Occasions Ibn ‘A’ishah narrates: When the Holy Prophet (sws) came to Madinah, the women and the children started singing: ‘The Moon has risen upon us from the hillocks of Wida’. We owe gratitude [to God] as long as those who call God continue doing so. O Prophet (sws) you have brought a religion that is worthy to be followed’. 6 Narrates Anas Ibn Malik: [Having entered the city], the Holy Prophet (sws) passed through a certain part of the town. Suddenly some slave girls appeared singing on the Daff the following ditty: ‘We are the slave girls of Bani Najjar. 7 How lucky! This day the Holy Prophet (sws) has come to be our neighbor’. At this the Holy Prophet (sws) remarked: ‘God knows that I love you people’ 8 (Ibn Majah, No: 1899) These narratives deal with the Holy Prophet’s arrival in Madinah after his migration from Makkah. Their content can be summarized in the following points: · The Holy Prophet’s arrival in Madinah was an extremely joyous occasion. · People expressed their joy by singing joyous songs. · Slave girls were also from among the singers. · They had musical instruments to play with their songs. · The Holy Prophet (sws) and the Companions (rta) heard these songs but they did not express their disapproval. · The Holy Prophet (sws) expressed his love and kindness for singing women. These and other similar narratives sufficiently prove that when the Holy Prophet (sws) reached Madinah after his migration from Makkah, he received a warm welcome. The city had a festive appearance. Every one was filled with joy on the Holy Prophet’s arrival. Women, slave girls, singing women and children expressed their joy by singing welcome songs and playing the Daff. The Holy Prophet (sws) appreciated this. Therefore, one cannot deny the fact that the Holy Prophet (sws) sanctioned celebrating joyous occasion by singing melodies using musical instruments. iv. Use of Music during Travels: Narrates Salama Ibn Al-Akwa’: ‘We set off for Khaybar in the company of the Holy Prophet (sws) at night. A man from the group said to ‘Amir: ‘O ‘Amir, would not you let us hear your poetry?’ ‘Amir who was a Hida poet got down and started reciting for the people [the following verses]: ‘O God, were not it for your guidance, we could not have been able to offer the Salah and pay the Zakah. So please forgive our sins that [we have committed] and the ones we may commit in future. We are ready to offer our lives for your cause. Grant us perseverance when faced [with the enemy] and pour down your mercy upon us. [We are the people] who refuse to surrender when the enemy challenges us to fight. And [we leave them] to cry for help against us’. The Holy Prophet asked: ‘Who is that signer?’ They replied: ‘Amir bin Al-Akwa’’. ‘God bless him’, prayed the Holy Prophet (sws) 9. (Bukhari, No: 3960) We learn from the narrative that: · The Companions were along with the Holy Prophet (sws) on his way to Khaybar. · Some of the Companions requested ‘Amir (rta) to sing from his Hida (i.e. song sung primarily to drive camels, which correspond to their walk). He complied with the request and began his recitation with such a loud voice that the Holy Prophet (sws) could hear him.

· The Holy Prophet (sws) inquired about the singer approvingly. · Since he had recited good verses the Holy Prophet (sws) prayed for him.

Hida is a form of the desert poetry. The verses in this kind of poetry are rhymed corresponding to the pace of the footsteps of the camels. Ancient Arab camel drivers would sing this kind of poetry while travelling through the desert. Though the primary purpose of this singing was to encourage the camels to walk speedily yet the camel drivers themselves enjoyed it a lot. Many Hadith narratives refer to this practice of the time and evidently prove that the Holy Prophet (sws) and his Companions would enjoy this kind of poetry.

According to other narratives on the same subject, the Holy Prophet (sws) had appointed Anjashah, who had a very pleasing voice, to serve as a Hadi (i.e. camel driver) during his travels in the desert. During one of the travels, the camels started to pace very quickly affected by the sweetness of his sound. The Holy Prophet (sws) stopped him lovingly from singing Hida. He asked the singer not to force the beasts to walk at a faster pace so that female riders do not fall down. ‘Anas Ibn Malik reports:

The Holy Prophet had a Had, Anjashah. He had a very sweet sound. [During one of his journeys] the Holy Prophet (sws) said to him: ‘Slow down, Anjashah, lest you should break the delicate goblets. Qatadah explained that the Prophet (sws) was referring to delicate women. (Bukhari, No: 5857) According to the scholars Hida’ definitely is a type of singing.

Dr. Jawwad Ali writes: Hida is of the oldest type of singing in Arabia that was specifically used during travels and is still used in contemporary Bedouin society. Besides, since the Hida songs suit sorrowful situation, this type of singing was used in mourning etc. as well. The Holy Prophet (sws) got a Hida singer appointed for him called Al-Barra’ Ibn Malik Ibn Nadar Al-Ansari who would drive camels for male riders. Another Had of his was Anjashah who had a very melodious tone. He was a black slave of the Holy Prophet (sws) who was employed to serve as a Had for the camels of the wives of the Holy Prophet (sws). 10 He further writes: Al-Hida’ actually is the singing used among the desert dwellers ... this kind of singing corresponds with the tones cherished by the desert dwellers and also with their simple and natural mourning songs that please the nomadic tastes of these Bedouins. 11 Ibn Khaldun writes in his book, Muqaddamah, that the basic purpose of Hida was not only to please the caravan members but also to urge the camels to proceed faster.

This feeling of joy is even found in speechless animals not to mention humans. Therefore we see that the camels respond to the Hida of the riders, and the horses are affected by the whistles and shrill sounds. We already know that animals receive effects of the songs if they are rhythmical, and correspond to the rules governing the art of music. 12

Narrates Rabi‘, daughter of Mu‘wwadh: On the occasion of my transfer to my husband’s home after marriage, the Holy Prophet (sws) came to visit us and sat down on my bed just as you [the next narrator] are sitting before me now. Some slave girls were beating the Daff and singing in lamentation of their forefathers who had been killed during the battle of Badr. Then one of the girls sang: ‘Among us is the Prophet (sws) who knows even what will happen in coming days’. At this, the Holy Prophet (sws) said: ‘Do not say this, but go on singing. 13 (Bukhari, No: 3779) We learn from the narrative that: · The Holy Prophet (sws) attended a marriage ceremony where some slave girls were singing. · Singing was not stopped on his arrival. · The singers used the Daff with their singing. · The Holy Prophet (sws) heard them [this is evident from the fact that he stopped them from uttering certain words.] · He however ordered them to continue with what they were singing before.

This effectively proves that the Holy Prophet (sws) did not impose any restriction on using the Daff, a common musical instrument used in that society. Keeping in view the information we received through the above mentioned narratives we can conclude that Arabs of the times of the Holy Prophet (sws) would use musical instrument to accompany their singing on joyous occasions. This has been done in the presence of the Holy Prophet (sws) to which he did not object. Some other narratives even tell us that the Holy Prophet (sws) even ordered the people to use musical instruments at the occasion of marriage.

The Holy Prophet (sws) said: ‘the only thing that distinguishes the allowable act (i.e. Nikah) from the forbidden one (fornication) is the beat of the tambourine and open declaration of the Nikah. 14 (Ibn Majah, No: 1896) The Daff no doubt is an old musical instrument to be played by hand, which remained in use from ancient times.

In this regard, Dr. Jawwad ‘Ali writes: The Daff is one of the most well known primitive musical instruments. .. It is used to express joy and high spirit. Women also play it. The Arabs would commonly use it on their most joyous occasions. When the Holy Prophet (sws) reached Madinah he was welcomed with the singing of songs and playing of the Daff. Usually, the Arabs would use it on joyful ceremonies like weddings, and would sing songs along with it. 15

The Bible also contains references to the Daff as a musical instrument at various occasions. One of the Urdu Bible dictionaries, Qamus Al-Kitab, defines the instrument thus: It was a kind of narrow hoop musical instrument which was held in [one] hand and played [by striking it with the other.] It was used to create rhythm while singing and dancing. It would offer much cheerfulness in celebrations and processions. 16

vi. Art of Music Narrates Sa’ib Ibn Yazid: A woman came to the Holy Prophet (sws). He asked ‘A’ishah (rta): ‘Do you know her?’ ‘No, O Prophet (sws) of God’ she replied. ‘This is the female professional singer of such and such tribe. Do you want her to sing to you?’ So the woman sang for her. 17 (Bayhaqi, No: 8940) We learn from the narrative: · A woman connected with the art of music 18 came to the Holy Prophet (sws). · She expressed her desire to sing to ‘A’ishah (rta) · The Holy Prophet (sws) did not express dislike for this nor did he rebuke her. · He introduced her to ‘A’ishah (rta). · With the permission from the Holy Prophet (sws), the singer sang to ‘A’ishah (rta).

The narrative evidences that the Holy Prophet (sws) did not consider singing evil in its nature. Had it been the case he would have hindered the woman from doing so or at least he would not have allow 'A'ishah (rta) to listen to her song. Some other narratives tell us that such professional singers and dancers, both men and women, were common among the Arabs of that time, and the Holy Prophet (sws) did not deem it undesirable to enjoy their performance.

Consider the following narratives: Narrates 'A'ishah (rta): The Holy Prophet (sws) was present among us when suddenly we heard children creating noise. The Holy Prophet (sws) stood up. [We found out] that a black slave woman was dancing encircled by children. The Holy Prophet (sws) [called me] saying: "'A'ishah (rta), come and watch'. I came [to him] placed my chin over the Prophet's shoulders and watched through the space between his shoulders and head... The Holy Prophet (sws) asked many times: 'Have you not got enough of it?' In order to know how he cares for me I continued replying in the negative. Meanwhile 'Umar (rta) came and the gathering disbursed [seeing him]. At this the Holy Prophet commented: 'I see that the devils from among the Jinn and the humans have fled at 'Umar arrival.' 19 (Tirmidhi, No: 3691)

Abdullah Ibn Buridah narrates on the authority of his father: The Holy Prophet (sws) returned from some of his military expeditions. A black slave girl approached him and said: 'I had vowed to beat the Daff before you if God brought you back unhurt'. The Holy Prophet replied: 'If you have, then proceed'. She started beating the Daff. Meanwhile Abu Bakr (rta) came and she continued beating it. Later when 'Umar (rta) came she covered her instrument under herself as soon as she saw him. At this the Holy Prophet (sws) commented: "'Umar, even Satan fears you'. (Bayhaqi, No: 19888)

The overall situation depicted in the above narratives makes it clear that the word 'Habshiyah' and 'Jariyyah Sawda'u' connote professional singer slave-girl. For it would not be possible for a common lady to perform before the general public.

The word 'Qaynah' in the above mentioned narrative from Sunan Al-Bayhaqi connotes a professional female singer. The context does not permit any other explanation. Besides, it is a known fact that in the Arabic language the word has been used as a term for a professional female singer. The author of Lisan Al-'Arab writes, 'and the word 'Qaynah' means female slave singer.' 20

Black male and female slaves excelled in the art of dancing and music. Many narratives provide sufficient evidence that they exhibited their skill in the presence of the Holy Prophet (sws) at numerous occasions and he did not condemn it.

vii. Dance

Anas (rta) narrates: Black slaves were dancing in front of the Messenger (sws) of God and sang the following words: 'Muhammad (sws) is a pious person'. The Holy Prophet (sws) [did not understand their utterances] and asked what they were saying. The people replied: 'they say that Muhammad (sws) is a pious person'. (Ahmad, No: 12562)

We learn from the narrative that: · Some black slaves were dancing in the presence of the Holy Prophet (sws). · They were singing the praise of the Holy Prophet (sws). · The Holy Prophet (sws) did not stop them from doing so. · He was interested in their performance. This is revealed by his question about their utterances.

The Hadith literature contains enough evidence to the fact that professional dancers from among the Abyssinian slaves used to perform before the Arabs. The nobles of Arabia would not consider enjoying such performances as undesirable. Therefore they would invite such artists to perform on their festive occasions. Dr Jawwad ‘Ali writes: The Abyssinians were famous for their love of dancing. The people of Makkah and of other territories of Hijaz would call upon them to perform their special dances and sing songs whenever they would hold joyous ceremonies like marriage, circumcision and other similar festive occasions. 21

Many Hadith narratives show that ‘A’ishah (rta) enjoyed the dancing feast of the Abyssinian slaves along with the Holy Prophet (sws)... Narrates ‘A’ishah (rta): Once on an ‘Id day the Abyssinian slaves came and started dancing in the mosque. The Holy Prophet (sws) called me. I placed my head on the Holy Prophet’s shoulder and started watching their performance. [The Holy Prophet did not stop me] until I myself got tired of watching them and turned away. (Muslim, No: 892)

viii. The Prophet’s Praise for a Melodious Voice

Narrates Abu Musa: The Holy Prophet (sws) [heard him recite the Holy Qur’an] and commented: ‘O Abu Musa, you have been given one of the musical wind-instruments of the nation of David’.

The narrative tells us: · The Holy Prophet (sws) liked reciting the Qur’an in sweet sound. · He rendered it analogous to using musical instruments. · He appreciated the musical instruments used by people of David (sws). This markedly shows that the Holy Prophet (sws) liked melodious utterances. The words of the narrative shows that the reason the Holy Prophet (sws) praised Abu Musa’s recitation was the sweetness of his voice. Obviously, this sweetness of sound should always be considered a desirable thing; not only this sweetness will be enjoyed while reciting the Holy Qur’an but also other poetry, for example, poetical compositions in praise of God and exalting Him and in expressing other good subjects or poetry. In all these things, a beautiful voice should be equally considered a virtue. The art of music and singing is nothing but rhythmical melodious themes. There is no doubt that the principles of reciting the Qur’an beautifully are different from the ones used in common musical notes. However, this is equally true that the treble and bass and beauty and delicacy of utterance are elements common in the Qur’anic recitation and other types of singing. Seen in this perspective, both arts have a common trait of some sort.

Furthermore, the narrative approves of the musical instruments of David (sws). Thus the Holy Prophet (sws) recognized Biblical accounts regarding David (sws) and his followers about their use of music and musical instruments in singing the praises of God. That is the reason the great exegetes of the Qur’an have recorded this Hadith narrative in connection with the Qur’anic verses dealing with David’s praises of God.

While commenting on verse 79 of Surah Anbiya, the celebrated commentator of the Qur’an, Ibn Kathir writes:

And this was because of his reciting the Psalms in a melodious voice. When he would sing it the birds would stop in the air and sang in response to David; so did the mountains. It is for this reason that when the Holy Prophet (sws) passed Abu Musa Ash’ari (rta), when he was offering his night prayer, he stopped and listened to his recitation for he had a very beautiful voice. The Holy Prophet (sws) said: ‘Indeed he (Abu Musa) has been bestowed one of the musical instruments of the people of David (sws)’. Hearing this, Abu Musa said: ‘Had I known that he [the Holy Prophet] was listening, I would have pleased him more'. Abu 'Uthman Nahdi says that he did not find any drum, flute or a reed sound more pleasing than the voice of Abu Musa. 22

Therefore it may safely be concluded that the Holy Prophet (sws) believed in the fact that David (sws) had a melodious voice.

REFERENCES: 1. War fought between the two tribes of the Ansar, namely Aws and Khazraj, before the advent of Islam. 2. This Hadith is Sahih (authentic). 3. The word 'Jariyah' used in the narrative is usually taken to mean young girls. Although the word connotes young girls in certain contexts but there is little room to accept it as such. In this context, the word connotes a slave woman who is a professional singer and well known for her profession. This is evidently proved by the context in which the word is used here, and by the fact that another version of the same narrative has the word 'Qaynah' (i.e. a professional female singer) has been used instead of Jariyah. The text of the narrative follows: 'A'ishah (rta) narrates that once Abu Bakr (rta) came to her on the day of 'Id Al-Fitr or 'Id Al-Adha in the presence of the Prophet (sws). There were two female singers with her, singing the songs which the Ansar had sung on the day of Bu'ath. Abu Bakr remarked twice: the 'Why these satanic instruments?' The Prophet heard him and said to him: 'Let them sing. Every nation has an 'Id and this day is our 'Id'. (Bukhari, No: 3716) 4. In Bukhari, the narrative has been worded thus: 'A'ishah (rta) reported that once she married a woman to an Ansari man. The Prophet (sws) said: 'O 'A'ishah, what is it that there is no singing and playing whereas the Ansar take delight in this'. (No: 4867) 5. This Hadith is Hasan. 6. 'Ali Ibn Burhan al-Din Halbi, Al-Sirah Al-Halbiyyah fi Sirah Al-Amin, 1st ed., vol. 2, (Beirut: Dar Al-Marifah, 1400 AH), pp. 234-5 7. It would not be correct to translate the word 'Jawari' as young girls. Some other version of the narrative has the word 'Qaynat' (a woman who is a professional singer) instead of 'Jawari'. Anas Ibn Malik narrates that when the Prophet (sws) passed by a clan of Bani Najjar, he noticed some slave girls were singing on Daff: 'We are the singers of Bani Najjar. We are lucky enough to have the Prophet (sws) as our neighbour today'. Then the Prophet (sws) said: 'God knows that my heart feels affection for you people'. (Al-Mu'jam Al-Saghir, No: 78) 8. This Hadith is Sahih (i.e. authentic). 9. This Hadith is Sahih (i.e. authentic) 10. Dr Jawwad 'Ali, Al-Mufassal fi Tarikh Al-'Arab Qabl Al-Islam, 2nd ed., vol. 5, (Baghdad: Maktabah Al-Nahdah, 1978), p. 116 11. Dr Jawwad 'Ali, Al-Mufassal fi Tarikh Al-'Arab Qabl Al-Islam, 2nd ed., vol. 5, (Baghdad: Maktabah Al-Nahdah, 1978), p. 117 12. Ibn Khaldun, Muqaddamah, 1st ed., (Beirut: Mu'assasah Al-'Alami li Al-Matbu'at), pp. 258 13. This Hadith is Sahih (i.e... authentic). 14. Secret marriage contract is not considered valid in the Islamic Shari'ah. Thus open declaration of the marriage is one of the basic requirements for the validity of a Nikah. That is why the Prophet (sws) rendered it desirable to beat the Daff on this occasion during his time. Consider the following narrative: 'Ali (rta) narrates: 'Once the Holy Prophet (sws) and his Companions passed the tribe of Bani Zariq. He heard singing sounds and music. 'What is this?' he inquired. People replied: 'Messenger of God, the Nikah of such and such [person is being conducted]'. 'His religiosity now reaches the zenith' said the Prophet (sws). 'This is the prescribed way of Nikah. Neither adultery nor secret marriage is allowed until one hears the sound of the Daff or watches the smoke rising. Husayn said: 'I was also informed by 'Amr Ibn Yahya Al-Mazani that the Prophet would disapprove of secret marriage [and would not accept it] until the Daff was played'. (Bayhaqi, No: 14477) The Prophet (sws) held it necessary for the Arabs of his time to use the Daff to announce the wedding considering the prevailing custom and cultural traditions of the Arabs of that time. In current times, the purpose can be met through any other available means. 15. Dr Jawwad 'Ali, Al-Mufassal fi Tarikh Al-'Arab Qabl Al-Islam, 2nd ed., vol. 5, (Baghdad: Maktabah Al-Nahdah, 1978), p. 108 16. F.S. Khayrullah, Qamus Al-Kitab, 5th ed., (Lahore: Masihi Kutub Khanah, 1993), p. 978 17. This Hadith is Sahih (i.e... authentic). 18. Here the word Qaynah has been used which stands for a professional female singer. 19. Some people present this narrative to prove that the art of music is evil in nature. They base their argument on the prophetic saying, 'I see that Satan from among the Jinn and the humans have fled when 'Umar arrived'.

They claim that the Prophet (sws) related music with Satan and thus expressed his dislike for it. We understand that the sentence is only expressive of sarcasm, which he used to express the harshness of 'Umar's disposition. If the words are taken in their literal meaning then one wonders what explanation is to be given for the presence of the Prophet (sws), 'A'ishah (rta) and Abu Bakr (rta). 20. This is the well acknowledged meaning of the word. The word has been used in this implication before and after the advent of Islam. Imra' Al-Qays says: (No worry if I have grown sorrowful. How many delicate singing slave girls did I employ on playing a Kiran. They had such musical instruments in their hands which on being stirred by the hands gave heavy sound that spread through the whole band of troops.) 21. Dr Jawwad 'Ali, Al-Mufassal fi Tarikh Al-'Arab Qabl Al-Islam, 2nd ed., vol. 5, (Baghdad: Maktabah Al-Nahdah, 1978), p. 122 22. Ibn Kathir, Tafsir, vol. 3, (Lahore: Amjad Academy, 1982), p. 187 Article Reference: Al-Mawrid, Institute of Islamic Sciences

Further Discussion Regarding Music

We understand that some of the Muslims scholars of the past understood some Qur'anic words to be referring to music. Based on their interpretation of the Qur'anic references they maintained that it is prohibited in Islam. They also present these narratives to support their view. If it were the Hadith only then we have many other more reliable narratives that prove the allowance of music. The scholars of the science of Hadith consider most of the narratives that are often presented to establish the prohibition of music as Da'if (i.e. weak) and unreliable. Some of these scholars declare that there is no Sahih Hadith in the entire corpus of the Hadith literature that proves the prohibition of music. Our approach to religious matters is a little different.

We do not think it appropriate to draw conclusions from individual narratives. Rather, all the individual narratives should be studied in the light of the Qur'an. Our scholars have studied all the sources of religious knowledge and tried to determine the status of music in Islam. Their research has led them to the conclusion that music is not prohibited in itself. The Islamic Shari'ah (i.e. Law) does not forbid it. One can use the musical tones in hymns, encomia, odes or tragedy, epic and comedic poems. However, if any of these literary poetical compositions contain any polytheistic, atheistic or any such subject matter that promotes immorality and unethical behavior then of course they must be condemned and rendered unallowable.

Thus, only the content of the literature recited is to be condemned not the art of music itself. If the content of the poems is endorsed by the Shari'ah and does not offend moral values then music can be used in all such communications such as poetry, prose, oratory, writings and recital. If the message conveyed through the rendered contents does not conform to the religious and moral principles of Islam then all such indulgences shall necessarily be forbidden... For example, if a poem written in praise of a messenger of God is contaminated by verses communicative of polytheistic ideas then that poem is to be forbidden, not the writing of poems itself. Similarly, songs that contain immoral utterances should be condemned. However this is merely because the contents of these literary genres contain debauchery and the literary activity itself cannot be prohibited based on this. Still however, if any such permissible thing is necessarily associated with a moral evil, it can be temporarily banned in order to block the way for that evil.

Let us start with the Qur'anic verse you have quoted and which is often presented to prove the illegality of music.

There are some who buy "frivolous talk" so that they, without knowledge, lead men away from the path of God and hold it (i.e. the verses of God) up to ridicule. For these there shall be shameful punishment. When our verses are read out to them they turn their backs in scorn as though they never heard them. As if their ears contained deafness. Proclaim a woeful punishment to them. But those that embrace faith and do good works shall have gardens of delight, where they shall dwell forever. This promise of the Almighty shall be fulfilled and He is the Mighty the Wise One. - Luqman 31:6-9

We will study the verse keeping it in its proper context and according to the classical Arabic language in which the Qur'an was revealed. No scholar has authority over Qur'anic assertions. The key words in this verse used to infer prohibition are "lahw al Hadith" (i.e. idle/frivolous talk). This is an accusative compound word composed of the words "lahw" and "al-Hadith." The word "lahw" connotes something that is used as a distraction (via amusement or entertainment) and which diverts you from meaningful activities.

The author of Lisaan al `Arab writes:

"Lahw" is something you indulge in and entertain with, and your occupation in desire and show of delight and the like. (15/258) Allamah Raghīb Asfahaani the author of "Mufradaat" writes: "Lahw" is something which forces you ignore what is important to you and what (meaningful work) you intend to do. (al-Mufradaat al Qur'an p:455) The word Hadith means "something new" or a piece of news. Lisaan al Arab reads: The word Hadith connotes what is new among things and (also) a news." (4/133) Aqrab al Mawaarid reads: The word al-Hadith connotes the new or the news/narrative. (1/170) According to the lexicographers the phrase can be taken to connote the following things:

A plaything Something that makes you forgetful of meaningful activity Evil thing

Commentators have differed a lot on the meaning and implication of the phrase. Different people have suggested different things including singing, musical instruments, polytheism, evil talk, something that hinders you from the way of God and so on.

A careful study of the exegetical literature in this regard reveals that Abdullah Bin Masuood and Abdullah Ibn Abbaas took these words to connote singing. Jabir, `Ikramah, Saeed Bin Jubair, Mujahid, Makhool, Amr Ibn Shoab, Ali Ibn Bazeemah also hold the same view. Hassan Basari is reported to have said that these words refer to musical instruments. Zahhaak said that these refer to polytheistic activity whereas Qataadah opined that these refer to evil talk.

Ibn Jarir Tabari has recorded almost all these sayings and then gives his own interpretation in the following words: And the correct view in this regard is that these words imply every such activity that can hinder you from the way of God and listening to that which has been prohibited by God and His Messenger. This I say because God has not mentioned any specific things rather He used a comprehensive expression "lahw al Hadith." Therefore this is a general directive unless and until some other evidence proves specification. Singing and polytheism are also one of the implied meanings.

(21/74) Allamah Zamakhshari and Imam Razi have also given almost the same meaning.

"Lahw" includes every evil thing that makes you unmindful of the good and purposeful activities. And "Lahw al Hadith" would include things like spending nights in listening and narrating stories and baseless narratives, silly talks, joking and laughter, purposeless and nonsense conversation, singing and learning music and the like. (Al-Kashaaf 3:496-98)

"Lahw al Hadith" means abandoning wisdom and indulging in some other evil talks. (Raazi, al-Tafseer al Kabir 25/140)

Keeping in view the above explanation we can safely conclude that we cannot declare music haraam on the basis of the words "Lahw al Hadith" occurring in the Holy Qur'an. The usage in the Qur'an does not accept this interpretation of the word. The word Lahw has been used in many other places in the Qur'an. A study of the context of the verses where the word has been used reveals that nowhere in the Qur'an does the word specifically connote "singing or playing music."

Consider the following Qur'anic usages:

This life of the world is but a pastime and a game. Lo! The home of the Hereafter that is Life, if they but knew. - Al Ankaboot 29:64

And they say: True life is only our life of the world, and we shall not be raised again. If you could see when they will be set before their Lord! He will say: Is not this real? They will reply: of course, by our Lord! This is really happening to us. He will say: Taste now the retribution for that you used to reject. They indeed are losers who denied their meeting with Allah until, when the hour will come upon them suddenly, they will cry: Alas for us, that we neglected it! They will be bearing upon their back their burdens. Beware, evil is the burden that which they will bear! And this life of the world is but a pastime and a sport. Far better is the abode of the Hereafter for those who are God conscious. Would not you understand? - Al An'am 6:29-32

And leave those who take their religion for a pastime and a jest, and who are deceived by the life of the world. - Al An'am 6:70

And the dwellers of the Fire will call the dwellers of the Garden; bestow on us some water or some of that with which God has provided you. They will reply: He has forbidden both to disbelievers. The ones who took their religion for a sport and pastime, and who were utterly deceived by the life of the world. Therefore, this day we will ignore them even as they did disregard the meeting of this Day and as they used to deny Our revelations. - Al A'raf 7:50-51

Believers, when the call is made for the prayer of the day of Jumu'ah, haste towards remembrance of God and abandon your trading. That is better for you if you know. When the prayer is over, disperse in the land and seek of God's bounty, and remember God much, so that you may prosper. [On the contrary the attitude of these weak Muslims shows that] when they see some merchandise or interesting thing they break away to it and leave you standing. Tell them that what is with God is better than pastime and than merchandise, and God is the best of providers. - Al Jumu'ah 62:9-11

If we replace the word "Lahw al Hadith" with the word "singing or music" in all the above passages we will see that it does not fit in. Therefore, we cannot say that the word has been specifically used to connote music in verse 31:6.

If properly studied in the light of the context in which the verse occurs, the common use of the word in the Qur'an and the principles of Arabic language the word obviously means all things that have the potential to misguide people, which the miscreants were spreading through the masses in order to divert people's attention from the Qur'anic message.

Maulana Amin Ahsan Islahi writes: The compound words "Lahw al Hadith" are structured exactly the same way as the expression "zukhruf al Qaul". In this context the word has been used in contrast with Qur'anic verses. Thus the words connote all the activities that the miscreants would spread among the masses in order to divert their attention from the Qur'an. The Holy Qur'an aimed to bring the realities of life before the eyes of people but its opponents were out to keep them indulged in the nonsense they were engrossed in.

The verse alludes to this state of affairs and the words express astonishment. The implication is that God has revealed a Book of wisdom for the guidance of the people but most of them would prefer nonsense that they have been engaged in. These indulgences only match their evil natures and confirm their deviations. The miscreants put their efforts in this way merely because they want to keep the people away from the path of God despite the fact that they have no foundation to verify the way they themselves are treading and are invite others to follow it leaving God out of their concern. They are daring enough to hold in ridicule the verses of God and fabricate tons of lies to establish their claims. They will be put through a very shameful punishment. [Tadabbur al Qur'an 6/123]

The mischief-makers might have offered oration, games (like gambling), recitation of poetry and musical shows etc. to distract people from the Qur'anic message. These are the only favorite pastimes in that culture. Although all these forms of art are basically allowable, nonetheless, they can never be allowed in distracting people from the Qur'an. Every God conscious person is expected to personally avoid this abuse of the arts and to create the same awareness in others as well.

Now I would like to mention some of the narratives where music has been allowed by the Prophet (sws):

A'ishah (rta) narrates that once Abu Bakr (rta) came to her on the day of Id-al-Fitr or Id-al Adha while the Prophet (sws) was present. There were two female singers with her, singing the songs which Ansar had sung on the day of Buath. Abu Bakr remarked twice, "Why these satanic instruments?" The Prophet heard him and said to Abu Bakr, "Let them sing for every nation has an Id (i.e. festival) and this day is our Id."

Narrated Umm-i-Salamah: A slave girl belonging to Hassan Bin Thabit (rta) came to us on the "Id day. Her hair was unkempt and she carried a tambourine and she was singing

(some song). Umm-i-Salamah rebuked her. But the Holy Prophet (sws) said to her, "Ummi-i-Salamah, leave her (sing and rejoice). Certainly every nation has an "Id (i.e. festival) and this day is our "Id." (Mu'jam al-Kabir, No: 558)

Narrated Al-Sa'ib Bin Yadheed: A woman came to the Holy Prophet (sws). He asked "A"ishah (rta), "Do you know her?" "No, oh Prophet (sws) of God" she replied. "This is the singer of such and such tribe. Do you want her to sing to you?" so the woman sang for her.[3] (Sunan al-Bahaqi al-Kubra, No: 8940)

I do not find it hard to see that in the above narratives music is not employed to announce a Nikah ceremony, but rather, is purely for entertainment purposes. How to reconcile between the narratives that make us believe that music is forbidden and the ones where it is depicted as allowable? We understand that the Holy Prophet (sws) is reported to have rendered music an objectionable activity in a specific context. A study of the Prophetic sayings on the topic evidently proves that the Prophet (sws) commanded the believers refrain from such forms of music that involve immoral activities such as polytheism, drinking and nudity.

Idolaters of pre Islamic Arabia would use music in their worship rituals. Dr. Jawwad Ali writes:

Arabs of the days of ignorance would use singing in their worship rituals to express gladness they felt while worshipping their gods and to earn closeness of those of their gods who, they thought, could be pleased through these songs. Commentators of the Holy Qur'an claim that the polytheists of Arabia would circumambulate the House of God whistling and clapping. Relying on this we can say that the Arabs had introduced a form of singing in the ritual of circumambulation. ("Al-Mufassal Fi Tarikh-al-Arab" vol. 5, p. 111)

We know that the basic mission of the Prophet Muhammad (sws) was to uproot all forms of polytheism. For that very reason he prohibited all such activities on the basis of the prohibition found in the Qur'an for the associated polytheistic activities or its manifestation through any medium. The most prominent thing in this regard was sculptures and paintings of the gods. Therefore, the Prophet (sws) forbade making sculptures and painting such pictures. Similarly he stopped all forms of music, which were used in idolatrous worship rituals.

The Holy Prophet (sws) also prohibited music played in gatherings where people would gather together for drinking and merry making. Hadith literature, books on history and classical Arabic poetry offer sufficient evidence to the fact that at that time some forms of music were used in such gatherings.. .

Therefore we hold that the view of the scholars who understand the narratives prohibiting music referring to that kind of music that involves polytheism, drinking and nudity etc. is correct. These are crimes of first degree in Islam and anything that happens to promote these should be considered unallowable. Vulgar songs and songs expressive of polytheistic ideas and the like must always be considered immoral activities and should not be allowed under banner of entertainment programs. However, music in itself is not to be considered haraam for the Shari'ah has never declared it to be.

Authenticity of Ahadith About Music

Sahih Bukhari Volume 7, Book 69, Number 494v: Narrated Abu 'Amir or Abu Malik

Al-Ash'ari that he heard the Prophet saying, "From among my followers there will be some people who will consider illegal sexual intercourse, the wearing of silk, the drinking of alcoholic drinks and the use of musical instruments, as lawful. And there will be some people who will stay near the side of a mountain and in the evening their shepherd will come to them with their sheep and ask them for something, but they will say to him, 'Return to us tomorrow.' Allah will destroy them during the night and will let the mountain fall on them, and He will transform the rest of them into monkeys and pigs and they will remain so till the Day of Resurrection. "

The above Hadith as narrated by al Bukhari is not fulfilling the requirements of the Sahih in al Bukhari's collection.

Al Bukhari in Hadith al Ma'azif himself narrated the Hadith to be of a broken chain of narrators in which there is a gap between al Bukhari and the second narrator, so he drops the first narrator in his chain. That is called Mu'allaq. Some scholars tried to connect the chain through other means like when ibn Hajar did in his dissertation (connecting what is disconnected) in which he connected the Isnad of this Hadith. But still, one of the main narrators whose name is Hisham ibn Ammar as profiled in Tahthib at-Tahthib by ibn Hajar is not reliable enough for some scholars to be a source of a narration that depends on somebody like him.

Regarding Hisham the narrator: . The following extracts have been taken from a very well known book on the subject. [Tahdheeb al Kamaal volume 30 page 242 and onward under the entry on Hisham bin Ammar] Abu Dawood said Abu Ayyub (i) is better than him (Hisham). He (Hishaam) has narrated four hundred Ahadith all of Musnad which have absolutely no basis (that is, hadith which are not true)" Saalih Bin Muhammad al Asadi said he (Hishaam) used to take money for narrating hadith". Abdullah Bin Mohammad Bin Sayyaar said that he Hisham used to - - and he used to take a dirham for reporting two pages of hadith". Abu Bakr al Maroozi said that Ahmad Bin Hanbal mentioned Hisham Bin Ammar and said he was reckless/impetuous and feeble-minded.

Following One of the Four Imams & the Opinion regarding Music QUESTION As far as I know that all four Imams consider any type of singing and musical instrument as haraam. I also know that you have to follow at least one Imam, if possible, in totality. Does this mean that you do not agree with any one of them regarding singing? Or I am wrong about following of any of the four imams is necessary?

Answer: There are a few points that require some clarification on the issue: Firstly, a Muslim is not bound by the Shari`ah to follow any other individual except for the Prophet (pbuh). A person may disagree with any one or all of the four more well known Muslim jurists. Secondly, besides the Prophet (pbuh) no one else - not even the most respected scholars of Islam - holds the position, which commands total or even partial submission from others. It is only the position of the prophets of God, as representatives of God to the humankind, which demands that others submit to their directives and teachings. Thirdly, all Muslim scholars have presented their understanding of the directives of Islam and in the light of their respective understandings, have placed the various actions in the categories of Halaal, Haraam, Makrooh etc. This placement and understanding is based on specific verses of the Qur'an and/or on teachings ascribed to the Prophet (pbuh). Obviously, if a person's understanding or interpretation of a Qur'anic verse or of a saying ascribed to the Prophet (pbuh) differs from that of another person, then, as a corollary, there will exist a difference of opinion regarding the directives derived from such Qur'anic verse or saying ascribed to the Prophet (pbuh). Our difference of opinion with the four highly respected Muslim jurists should be seen in the light of the foregoing clarifications. -----

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 81-90

Charges Against Vatican and Jesuit Order Listed in "Almanac of Evil" (2/16/2007)

Charges Against Vatican And Jesuit Order Listed In 'Almanac of Evil' Defendants in this quasi-legal document still in the court of public opinion include Pope Benedict XVI and the Black Pope, Jesuit Gen. Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach. 15 Feb 2007

By Greg Szymanski

A group of American Christians are calling for justice against the Vatican-led New World Order. Their legal demands, contained in what they call "The Almanac of Evil", are outlined at www.one-faith-of-god.org, listing their concerns in accordance with international treaties and international law.

The group's charges against the Vatican and Jesuit order include but are not restricted to prostitution, trafficking of prohibited narcotics, money laundering, murder, political assassination, fraud, pedophile rings, institutional incest, arms trade, as well as crimes against humanity including but not restricted to genocide, sadistic torture, germ warfare, ritual and satanic murder and cannibalism, child slavery, general slavery and wholesale destruction and suppression of human history, knowledge and wisdom.

The defendants listed in this quasi-legal document, a document still remaining in the court of public opinion, include:

1. Pope Benedict XVI, also known as Joseph Alois Ratzinger;
2. Cardinal William Levada, Prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith and all officials and staff of what if formerly known as the Supreme Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office, formerly known as the Supreme Sacred Congregation of the Roman and Universal Inquisition;

3. The remaining Heads of departments including all officials of the Roman Curia, otherwise known as The Holy See, otherwise known as the Vatican;

4. All regional Cardinals, archbishops and bishops not attached to the Curia;

5. All heads of orders of Priests. Nuns and Monks.

It must be emphasized that the allegations contained within this lengthy 21 Chapter document still await just and honest legal jurists around the world to bring these charges before a recognized and honest legal tribunal, if one still exists.

According to the authors of the document, it should also be emphasized "the presentation of these charges and their execution in accordance with national and international law shall be applied in the context of the warrants as listed in this, the Supreme Bible of God."

The following is a compilation of charges taken from what has been entitled "The Almanac of Evil", listing charges against the Vatican and Jesuit Order from 1900-2000.

The Arctic Beacon further asks the head of any organizations in the Roman Catholic Church named in the "Almanac of Evil" to respond to the charges openly in a public forum instead of hiding behind an evil veil. Further, it would be quite interesting to hear from the Black Pope and the Jesuit Gen. Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach regarding the following charges listed in the "Almanac of Evil":

The following charges are alleged:

1. Of ongoing identity fraud: (1900-2000 CE): That for the unbroken period of one hundred years from 1900 to 2000 that the criminal organisation known as Christianity, also known as The Roman Catholic Church, also known as the Vatican, also known as the Holy See did deliberately and knowingly commit identity fraud by claiming to be an organisation of goodness, piety and holiness following the teachings of Jesus Christ when its purpose for existence and ongoing function is the complete opposite by being the oldest continuous order of Satanists of human history involved in human sacrifice and cannibalism whose true objectives have always been the suppression of spiritual enlightenment, healing, wisdom and knowledge and including the ongoing suppression of human civilization through the promotion of war, disease, famine, slavery, corruption and spiritual enslavement of as many souls as possible.

2. Of moral indecency and depravity: (1900 - 2000 CE): That descendents of the House of Ananus and elite Sadducee Jewish families, being the controlling families of Christianity did continue to undertake the worship of satanic demons, human sacrifice and cannibalism under the guise of the "High Mass" of their religion called Christianity. That on more than once occasion, such rituals as the pinnacle of Christianity did include infanticide, drug consumption and frenzied sexual acts in major Christian churches consistent with the ancient rites of satanic Judaism practiced for over three thousand years prior.

3. Of obstructing the basic values and rights of human beings for the purpose of slave trade: (1900 - 2000 CE): That during the first twenty years of this century the Roman Catholic Church did maintain the legitimacy of slavery as law in the official Corpus Iuris Canonici (Canon Law), based on the Decretum Gratiani, and Nova Compilatio decretalium (New Compilation of Decretals) which became the official law of the Church since Pope Gregory IX in 1227. Furthermore, that this law enabled slave traders during the first twenty years of this century to be free of any charge of heresy (therefore loss of property) as well as ensure their protected by church law. That this law promoting the international slave trade by the Catholic Church was only repealed in the 20th Century on, May 27, 1917.

4. Of publishing a false statement for the purpose of concealment of status: (1900 to present day) That the Catholic Church, more specifically the Jesuit Order has maintained countless false statements and documents pertaining to the status of Joseph Stalin. That Fr. Joseph Stalin S.J. was a trained, dedicated and fully ordained Catholic priest of the Jesuit order, who was recruited for a historic mission in his final year at the seminary in 1899. That in addition to failing to recognize Fr Joseph Stalin S. J. Furthermore, that the Jesuit Order did permit Fr Stalin to marry not once but twice, while remaining a fully ordained priest. That for his entire life until his death, there is no indication that Fr Joseph Stalin S. J. was ever defrocked as a priest.

5. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1903 - 1914 CE) That the person known as Pope Pius X, also known as St. Pius X, also known as "Ignis ardens", the 103rd Pope according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

6. Of publishing false statements for the suppression of freedoms and democracy (1907) That Pope Pius X, also known as St. Pius X did publish the Papal Bull Pascendi and decree Lamentabili attacking both modernism and the concepts of constitutional democracy and human rights. That these statements were false in their assumptions and deliberately designed to maintain suppression of the rights of hundreds of millions of people.

7. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime: (1907-1990's) That Jesuit Superior General Franz Xavier Wernz did arrange for funding and formation of the Communist Party and Regime of Russia. That Jesuit priest Fr. Joseph Stalin S.J. was recruited to represent the interests of the Catholic Church. That the initial purpose of the Communist Party was the suppression of democratic ideals, the establishment of a centralist controlled society, the elimination of the Russian orthodox church and noble families and the promotion of Catholic Church.

8. Of inciting the conditions for violence and confrontation: (1904-1914) That the Catholic Church through its agents and the Jesuits did make available funds through attractive loans through its banks to Russia, Germany and France for the manufacture of armaments by companies it also nominally controlled. That such aggressive arms build up did oblige Great Britain to also invest in its own arms development, thereby creating a European arms race. At the same time the Jesuits did encourage, support and provide guidance to the development of clear strategic plans for each major country including the German Schlieffen Plan (1905) of attacking France and Russia at once, the French Plan XV (1903) outlining a purely defensive wall approach to the German-French border and Russia's Plan XIX assuming battle against Austria-Hungary and Germany.

9. Of political assassination for the purpose of inciting conflict (1912) That the Vatican did provide material support and funding through The Sicilian Mafia to the Serbian nationalist group Crna Ruka to Col. Dragutin Dimitrijevi?. That as a result, they also began referring to themselves as the "Black Hand", a famous code name used by the Mafia. That in 1913, the Vatican did order the Mafia, who in turn set in motion the political assassination of Austrian Archduke Franz Ferdinand on June 28, 1914.

10. Of crimes against humanity (1914-1918) That following the Assassination of Austrian Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the catholic Church did press each strategic player towards war, in spite of hesitancy by all parties concerning the wisdom of such action. That Austria-Hungary did in fact hesitate for 3 weeks against aggressive action until finally the Jesuit influence did successful get the infamous "July Ultimatum" to Serbia sent. July 23 1914. That upon the ultimatum being sent, the Jesuits did recommend to the Russian Tsar Nicholas II through one of the most infamous Jesuit court confessors of history Fr Grigori Yefimovich Rasputin S. J. Not only did Rasputin recommend the immediate mobilization of Russian forces but later they be personally led by the Tsar himself, condemning the forces to a snails pace of mobilization.

That as a result of these and other clear and deliberate actions, the Roman Catholic Church did instigate the terrible deaths of tens of millions of people in a War that crippled the rise of democracy and humanistic values for decades. That the actions of the Vatican, the Pope and the Catholic Church were deliberate calculated and designed to inflict great misery and evil. That because of their actions, at the conclusion of the War, the Vatican was specifically and deliberately excluded from even attending the Treaty of Versailles as well as entry or even observer status to the League of Nations.

11. Of receiving and trading the proceeds of crime relating to drug trade: (1900 - 2000) That for the century of (1900 - 2000) the Catholic church through the Jesuits as the founders of the East-Asia opium/heroin international drug trade and the Vatican as the founders of the South American Cocaine drug trade did receive the equivalent of over $50 billion (2006 US equivalent dollars) in payments representing royalties for the successful trade of opium, heroin, cocaine and other narcotics through the continued development of a global market of drug addicts with particular focus on Western democratic nations, especially the United States.

12. Of establishing and unlawful/immoral enterprise for the purpose of Crime: (1913) That catholic and Jesuit related interests to conspire to generate currency destabilization across America so that the American government did create The Federal Reserve System via the Federal Reserve Act of December 23rd, 1913. That the Federal Reserve Bank was, is and remains a private and secret institution, largely above the law, controlled by European banks which in turn are controlled by the Jesuits. That the "The Fed" continues to usurp the rights of the people of the United States to mint their own currency. That "The Fed" as a private company has sold and continues to sell in cycles the American people its own currency at exorbitant interest rates. That this extortion of the American people remains the primary source of America's multi-trillion dollar national debt to organisations controlled by the Catholic Church.

13. Of inciting violence and political revolution (1917-18): That the Catholic Church under the control of the Jesuits did fund, organize and execute the political upheaval resulting in the February revolution of Russia and the overthrow of Tsar Nicholas II. That the Catholic Church even arranged the safe passage of Vladamir Lenin and other exiled revolutionaries from Switzerland across the battle lines of World War I on a train flying the official colours of the Pope and the Vatican. That the motive for returning Lenin to head the new government was the inability of Fr Stalin S.J. to gain sufficient control over factions amongst the revolutionaries at that time.

14. Of crimes against humanity: (1917-8) That the Catholic Church through the Jesuit order did incite violence and riots across Russian communities in which over 60,000 Jews were killed in 530 Russian communities after political-religious uprising erupts aiming to "strike at the bourgeoisie and the Jews".

15. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1914 - 1922 CE) That the person known as Pope Benedict XV, also known as "Religio depopulata", the 104th Pope according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

16. Of bribery and extortion for the purpose of extending crimes against humanity (1917) That Pope Benedict XV did commission and authorize Archbishop Pacelli, then papal nuncio (ambassador) also known later as Pope Pius XII, to Munich, Germany in May 1917 under the diplomatic guise to negotiate a Concordat (Treaty) with largely Protestant Germany. That to assist in negotiating such an agreement, the Pope did authorize the release of approximately 60 cases of Gold (over 1,000 gold bars) representing approximately $80 to $100 million (2006 US equivalent dollars) to travel with Archbishop Pacelli under the pretence of "60 cases of special foods for his delicate stomach". However, that these funds, originally themselves obtained through crime were to never intended for the support of failing German government and military, but as funds to support anti-Communist political movements and sympathizers. 17. Of historic profit from crimes against humanity (1914-1918): That the Catholic Church through its illegal operations and investments in arms and banking to fund the war did make a profit of approximately $500 (US 2006 equivalent dollars) for every man, woman and child killed and/or murdered. That total blood money profits from causing the "Great War" in which at least 39,000,000 individuals died were around $20 Billion (US 2006 equivalent dollars) making it the second most profitable criminal enterprise ever in terms of time and value ever undertaken by the Catholic Church in History, next to World War II.

18. Of inciting violence and racial hatred (1919-1958) That Archbishop Pacelli later Pope Pius XII did both write, act and behave in a manner of inciting violence, hatred and suppression of rights of individuals upon the basis of their religious, political and ethnic background including, but not restricted to: all black people, all ethnic jews, all orthodox christians and communists/socialists. That Archbishop Pacelli later Pope Pius XII did display not only a bitterness towards these groups, but an open hatred and violent anger consistent with their potential demise and/or suppression. That in reporting to the Vatican in 1919 concerning the German socialist revolution, Archbishop Pacelli later Pope Pius XII did write: "An army of employees were dashing to and fro, giving out orders, waving bits of paper, and in the midst of all this, a gang of young women, of dubious appearance, Jews like all the rest of them, hanging around in all the offices with provocative demeanor and suggestive smiles. The boss of this female gang was Levien's mistress, a young Russian woman, a Jew and a divorcee, who was in charge. And it was to her that the nunciature was obliged to pay homage in order to proceed. This Levien is a young man, about 30 or 35, also Russian and a Jew. Pale, dirty, with vacant eyes, hoarse voice, vulgar, repulsive, with a face that is both intelligent and sly."

That in 1919/1920, Archbishop Pacelli later Pope Pius XII did actively campaign to have black French troops removed from the Rhineland, convinced that they were "raping women and abusing children" - even though an independent inquiry sponsored by the U.S. Congress, of which Pacelli was aware, proved this allegation false.

That in 1943/1944, Pope Pius XII did specifically request the British Foreign Office that no Allied colored troops would be among the small number that might be garrisoned in Rome after the occupation.

19. Of crimes against humanity: (1920-1975) That The Roman Catholic Church did force women who bore illegitimate children to live and work as virtual slaves in various church enterprises for profit including, but not restricted to the Magdalene Laundries and Magdalene asylums. That over 20,000 women were deliberately and consciously enslaved by the Catholic Bishops of Ireland and their clergy. Furthermore, that many hundreds of these women were systematically tortured, raped and sometimes murdered as mere sex slaves for many of the local priests and leaders of the church. That neither the Catholic Church of Ireland, nor the Vatican until this day have apologized, nor compensated families for such inhuman acts of barbarity.

20. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime (1920 - 1945): That Archbishop Pacelli later Pope Pius XII and the Jesuit order under the control of Superior General Wlodimir Ledochowski did help form the Deutsche Arbeiterpartei (German Workers' Party), abbreviated DAP, into the National Socialist German Workers' Party (NSDAP), also known as the Nazi Party as instructed to Adolf Hitler. That the initial purpose of the Nazi Party as formed by the Catholic Church was to (1) establish a pro-Catholic political party capable of defeating its opposition and gaining control of government; (2) establish a Concordant between the Catholic Church and the whole of Germany guaranteeing a massive financial pipeline in compensation for losing the Papal States; and (3) The elimination of all opposition including social reform/democratic minded groups, especially protestants, orthodox christians, communists and ethnic Jews. That Archbishop Pacelli (later Pope Pius XII) did mentor Hitler to join the DAP, did arrange for him to report to him regularly (at least each month, sometimes weekly) until Pacelli appointment of Vatican Cardinal Secretary of State in 1929 and did provide all the financial support and means for Hitler's rise to Chairman of the NSDAP in 28 July 1921. Furthermore, that Archbishop Pacelli did use the gold brought in to Germany in 1917 to help fund the rapid expansion of the Nazi Party, including its first reform as a paramilitary organization in 1921.

21. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime (1921 - 1945): That Archbishop Pacelli later Pope Pius XII on instructions from Superior General Wlodimir Ledochowski did instruct Adolf Hitler in 1921 to establish a paramilitary wing to the NSDAP to be known as the Sturmabteilung (SA) also known as Storm Troopers. That Jesuit priests did train the first recruits of the SA in espionage, counter intelligence, assassination and propaganda. That the purpose of the SA was to assist in the control of organized protests, riots, intimidation of opponents and political assassinations.

22. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1922 - 1939 CE) That the person known as Pope Pius XI, also known as "Fides intrepida", the 105th Pope according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

23. Of publishing a false statement for the purpose of moral depravity and crimes against humanity (1924): That upon Adolf Hitler being imprisoned, Superior General Wlodimir Ledochowski of the Jesuit Order did instruct Father Bernhardt Staempfle S.J. to write Mein Kampf ("My Struggle"), to brief Hitler on its contents, attribute him to its authorship and ensure its mass publication.

24. Of political assassination (1924): That Jesuit Superior General Wlodimir Ledochowski did order Fr. Joseph Stalin S. J. to murder the leader of Communist Russia on January 21, 1924, aged 53. That Fr. Stalin did act to protect his position and mission as General Secretary of the Communist Party upon the insistence of Lenin that he be removed. That not only did Stalin have Lenin poisoned, but that he did spread rumours upon his ascendancy to absolute power that Lenin has been mentally unwell for the last few years of his reign and had even died from Syphilis.

25. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime: (1928) Opus Dei ("The Work of God") was founded in Spain in 1928 priest Josemaría Escrivá, also known as Saint Josemaría Escrivá. That Pope Pius XI did establish Opus Dei as a specific order initially for Spain and Portugal (1) for the funding and training of fascist rebels on behalf of the Vatican; And (2) a priesthood dedicated to the elimination of communism and the spread democratic ideals. That Jesuit Superior General Włodimir Ledóchowski did approve and permit their formation given the inability for the Jesuit order at the time to effectively operate in Spain.

26. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime (1929 - 1945): That Superior General Włodimir Ledóchowski through his Jesuit emissaries did instruct Adolf Hitler in 1929 to reform a section of the Sturmabteilung (SA) also known as Storm Troopers into Schutzstaffel also known as the "SS". That unlike the SA that was staffed by variously skilled persons, the Jesuits instructed Hitler that the SS was to be a most secret organization of personal bodyguards and elite, staffed with and controlled by actual Jesuit priests. That SS officers would be conferred by the authority of the Jesuits and the power of the Pope with the powers of Catholic priesthood. Furthermore, that the SS priests were to be embedded across the organisation to ensure strict control and prevent dissention. That in exchange, the Jesuits did agree to personally fund its implementation as well as introduce its substantial business funds and industry interests into Germany. That on January 6, 1929 Adolf Hitler appointed Heinrich Himmler to oversee the project. 27. Of heresy for the purpose of inhuman, depraved satanic objectives: (1929-1945) That the secret agreement, by Superior General Włodimir Ledóchowski and later confirmed by Pope Pius XII upon his ascension to the throne, that SS officers of the Nazis were given the spiritual powers of Jesuit priests did represent a supreme heresy of Catholic doctrine and faith, against all spiritual teaching. That many of the SS officers were married. Furthermore, that by 1939 and upon the power of the Pope, these actions of conferring priestly powers to SS officers active in the Final Solution was in full knowledge of their orders and acts of barbarity and inhumanity. That the very purpose of conferring powers of priesthood of SS officers was precisely to make sure that all human sacrifice through the death camps was consistent with the High Mass of Satanism of the Roman Catholic Church.

28. Of publishing a false statement and establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of Crime (1929): That the Vatican having promoted and supported the career of Benito Mussolini was granted upon his election as Prime Minister a formal treaty known as the Lateran Treaty which (1) created the state of the Vatican City and guaranteed full and independent sovereignty to the Holy See; (2) That the pope was pledged to perpetual neutrality in international relations and to abstention from mediation to a controversy except when specifically requested by all parties; (3) a concordat establishing Catholicism as the religion of Italy; (4) a financial arrangement awarding money to the Holy See in settlement of all its claims against Italy arising from the loss of temporal power in 1870; and (5) to redefine the canon sin of usury, to not mean gains from money lending, but rather simply profiting "exorbitantly", thereby enabling the spiritual and legal framework for establishing a bank completely controlled by the Catholic Church. That in spite of Mussolini being known as both a mass murderer, fascist and war criminal, the Vatican has continued to main the legitimacy of these treaties to the present day. That the agreement effectively made the Vatican a separate state in the middle of Italy and free to continue to operate under diplomatic immunity.

29. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime and funding criminal activity (1929 to present day): That upon the securing of diplomatic immunity of the Vatican, Pope Pius IX did immediately authorize the establishment of the Istituto per le Opere di Religione (IOR) or Institute for Religious Works, also known as the Vatican Bank. That under the protection of the Lateran treaty of war criminal Mussolini, the Catholic Church did establish the first bank in history: that had full diplomatic immunity, that was complete controlled by a major religion and did not have to disclose its banking records, nor charter. That the purpose of the Vatican Bank upon its formation were: (1) To fund criminal enterprises including war, terrorism, drug trade expansion, assassination, and revolution; (2) To invest in industries that promote social breakdown and dependence including arms trade, drug trade and media (3) To launder the profits of various branches of the Catholic Church including the Mafia (established by the Vatican in 1870), the Nazis (established by the Vatican in 1921), the Jesuits and other criminal enterprises controlled by the Catholic Church including the Federal Reserve Bank System of the United States (1913).

30. Of obtaining property by deception (1933 to present) That the Roman Catholic Church of Germany has received and continues to receive payments by the taxpayers of Germany equating to a church tax consistent with the terms of a Concordant signed by Adolf Hitler and Pope Pius XI immediately upon Hitler gaining control of Germany. That the historic claim of these taxes date back to Aristocratic tributes to Rome in light of the loss of the Papal States under Napoleon in the 19th Century. That these payments to the Vatican have remained intact and have consistently been paid since 1933 before World War II, during World War II, during the split of Germany and Communism and now under the unification of Germany. That these payments constitute the obtaining of property by deception in claiming the Roman Catholic Church to be both an institution of public good and a lawful organisation. The the total property earned by this criminal organization by stealing from the taxpayers of Germany since 1933 is between $20 and $50 Billion (2006 US equivalent dollars).

31. Of receiving and trading the proceeds of crime: (1933 - 1945) That the Catholic church by authority, knowledge and control of Pope Pius XII did conspire and receive in excess of $10 billion (2006 equivalent US dollars) in payments from the National Socialist Workers Party of Germany, otherwise known as the Nazis in exchanged for their moral and logistical support concerning the policies of the Nazis towards ethnic cleansing and genocide.

32. Of crimes against humanity for the purpose of hiding and trading the proceeds of crime (1934 to present day): That Swiss Catholics did enable a law to be passed in 1934 making the disclosure of Swiss Bank accounts a serious crime. That the purposes of this corrupt and inhuman law were to: (1) Enable money funneled in and out of the Catholic Church via the Vatican Bank to be transferred to a safe haven for further distribution; (2) To provide a specific second funnel for repatriation of profits for American Catholic influenced companies from Germany; (3) Provide a second safe point and level of money laundering for criminal finance should the Vatican Bank ever be compromised or disrupted.

33. Of establishing an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime and violence (1936): That the Catholic Church through the influence of Opus Dei did form and fund the Nationalist movement aimed at fermenting Civil War in Spain and the appointment of Francisco Franco as Dictator. Furthermore, that the Catholic Church did arrange for substantial funds to be sent in his support from Jesuit controlled banks in London and Lisbon. Furthermore, that military support was provided through Mussolini and Hitler to ensure the democratic rebels were crushed by 1939.

34. Of one of the greatest crimes against humanity: (1939-1945) That the Catholic Church through its deliberate placement of key figures including loyal Catholics Mussolini, Hitler, Franco and Fr Stalin S.J. and through its financing of a second European arms race including the deliberate extension of the war is directly and ultimately responsible for the deaths of in excess of 63,000,000 people between 1939 and 1945. What is of supreme depravity and inhumanity is that this was done by an organization that maintains the façade of being a "good" religion headed by a position known as "his holiness". Furthermore, that the Catholic Church did profit on this terrible act of evil.

35. Of historic profit from crimes against humanity (1939-1945): That the Catholic Church through its deliberate commencement of World War II, the establishment and funding of Mussolini, Hitler, Franco and Fr Stalin S,J. and its illegal operations and investments in arms and banking to fund the war did make a profit of approximately $1,500 (US 2006 equivalent dollars) for every man, woman and child killed and/or murdered. That total blood money profits for the Vatican and Jesuits from causing World War II in which at least 63,000,000 individuals died were around $94.5 Billion (US 2006 equivalent dollars) making it the most profitable criminal enterprise ever in terms of time and value ever undertaken by the Catholic Church in History.

36. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1939 - 1958 CE) That the person known as Pope Pius XII, also known as "Pastor angelicus", the 106th Pope according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

37. Of the single greatest crime against humanity in the history of all humanity: (1939-1945) That Pope Pius XII with the full knowledge and tacit support of Jesuit Superior-General Wlodimir Ledochowski did hand to the Hitler and Himmler a complete blueprint for the systematic elimination of key non-Catholic minorities across Europe as well as the establishment of death camps for their murder. Furthermore, the Pope did instruct that ethnic Jews and other heretics were not simply to be murdered, but ritually sacrificed by being burnt alive, consistent with church law on the penalty of heresy. That this plan was to commence immediately and be overseen by the full Jesuit ordained priests of the SS. This plan was called the Final Solution. As a result of the specific orders by Pope Pius XII, the German command devised an ingenious method of rendering Jews and other heretics unconscious through gas chambers within a matter of a couple of minutes using Zyklon-B produced by Catholic Pharmaceutical company Bayer. Victims were then restrained unconscious on stretchers and carted to massive furnaces in which they were placed fully alive, whereupon they would awaken screaming as they were burnt alive in the furnace. Contrary to the military fraud perpetrated by Allies commanders loyal to the Vatican, the death camps were established as early as 1940, at least two full years prior to what was claimed at Nuremberg. Furthermore, the camps did not cease sacrificing human beings being burnt alive until 1945.

That the single purpose of the death camp ovens was not to dispose of bodies but to specifically burn people alive, consistent with the ancient satanic practices upon which Christianity was first formed by the Sadducee Jewish noble families.

That this plan, created by the Vatican, authorized by Pope Pius XII and carried out by full Roman Catholic Priests who oversaw the concentration camps and furnaces represents the single greatest and most evil act of human history to date. Furthermore, the deliberate distortion of facts, the fact that the Pope was never tried as one of the worst mass murderers in history only magnifies the contempt towards international justice and the memory of all those who died.

38. Of crimes against humanity: (1943) That upon the entry of the Nazis to Rome in 1943, the Germans did commence the deportation of over 1,000 Jews who lived near the Vatican. That in a unique gesture, the German ambassador in Rome, fearing an anti-Pope backlash from the general Italian population, pleaded with the Pope on behalf of Adolf Hitler to issue a public protest to at least indicate the existence of some holiness claimed to be possessed by the office of Pope.. That no other historical record can be found where Hitler, or any of his officials did grant any person, official or organisation the right to criticize it, except for the Vatican. In spite of this unique and extraordinary open invitation by Hitler to criticize him, Pope Pius XII refused and the Jews were sent by cattle cars to Auschwitz for burning. To this day, the Vatican has neither admitted this inhumanity, nor apologized to the 15 survivors.

39. Of deliberately lengthening the European war causing further crimes against humanity: (1943) That in 1943 senior members of the SS did offer clear and specific terms of unconditional surrender of all German forces to Gen. Dwight David Eisenhower and his senior staff, including the assassination of Adolf Hitler on the single condition that the Soviets would not be allowed to advance into Central Europe. That rather than seizing upon this information to press ahead with the Churchill plan of a 1943 European Invasion, Gen. Eisenhower recommended to President Roosevelt the Nazi truce offer be declined and the invasion postponed, thereby lengthening the war for two more years. Furthermore, during the 1944 "Battle of the Bulge", Gen. Eisenhower did order a halt in encirclement of German forces enabling up to 150,000 to escape and thus prolong the war further. In both cases, the delays recommended by Gen. Eisenhower did enable the soviet forces of Fr. Joseph Stalin S.J. to increase their hold of Eastern Europe. Furthermore, that these deliberate and still inadequately explained delays did cause the needless deaths of over 200,000 soldiers, including at least 100,000 allied personnel and Americans.

40. Of political assassination (1945) That Gen. George Smith Patton was assassinated by a fraudulent "road accident" near Mannheim, Germany on 9 Dec 1945 (dying in hospital 21 December 1945) after having requested a meeting with President Truman concerning evidence from the Nazis in his possession that Gen. Dwight David Eisenhower was both a traitor and operative working on behalf of the Vatican and the Soviet Union. Miraculously the other occupants of the car in which Patton was critically injured escaped unharmed. That to this day, the claim that Patton was about to expose Eisenhower have been denied. Furthermore, that Eisenhower and his supporters did besmirch the character and memory of war hero Patton including the complete lie that the escape of over 150,000 of the German army on the halt on August 31, 1944, of the Third Army was because it ran out of fuel. Furthermore that Patton was overlooked for more senior positions and was about to be relieved because he was mentally unstable. To this day, these deliberate lies to conceal the patriotism of Patton against Gen. Eisenhower being one of the greatest traitors of American history are still regarded as true.

41. Of obstructing the course of natural justice and contempt for international law: (1951) That in 1951, the German industrialists who had run major German companies during World War II and had profited as a result were all systematically released from Landsberg prison in early 1951 including all of the convicted concentration camp doctors; all of the top judges who had administered the Nazis' "special courts" and dozens of similar cases. That contrary to a public uproar of the release of mass murderers and accomplices, a number of high profile political leaders including staunch Catholic Senator Joseph McCarthy, Republican from Wisconsin did applaud the decision saying it was "extremely wise." About the same time, Sen. McCarthy did also increase campaign for investigations into Communist conspiracies.

42. Of assisting criminals and mass murderers escape justice: (1943- 1948) That Pope Pius XII did authorize the dedication of significant Vatican resources including finance, the drafting of false documents and secret diplomatic transport of many hundreds of individuals involved in the torture and mass murder of innocent individuals. That some of the individuals saved by the Pope and the Catholic Church included Adolph Eichmann, the supervisor of the extermination of the Jews, Dr Joseph Mengele the doctor who murdered hundreds of thousands with barbaric experiments as well as senior Croatian officials responsible for the horrendous torture and murder of hundreds of thousands. That the system established by the Vatican to save war criminals from arrest became infamously known as the "Ratlines". That all key personnel of the Vatican had full knowledge of the evil actions of the people it assisted and did undertake extraordinary diplomatic risks to ensure the safe passage of the very worst and most evil of the mass murderers. That in addition to Pius XII himself, Cardinal Montini (later Pope Paul VI) was in charge of ensuring the successful escape of these individuals.

Of receiving and transferring stolen goods (1945): That the Vatican did coordinate the transfer of the entire Croatian Ustasha Treasury using allied transport. That according to declassified CIA documents, in 1945 the Croatian Treasury consisted of 1700 kilograms of gold, 40,000 kilograms of silver, 2.5 million Swiss francs and a significant amount of diamonds, jewels, and other valuables valued at over $300 million (2006 US equivalent dollars). That the treasure was gained through the looting and plundering of valuables from Serbs, Jews, Romani, and citizens of the former Soviet Union, including Ukraine. That only one truck was "allowed" to be stopped and seized with a value of over $30 million in value, while over a dozen other allied transport vehicles did deliver the stolen treasury to the Vatican.

43. Of open contempt for church law for the purpose of promoting crimes against humanity: (1945 to present) That the Catholic Church has well established laws and cases of excommunicating individuals after their death from actions considered heretical. That these laws enabling a dead person to be excommunicated have been available for use for over three hundred years. That at the conclusion of World War II and the public acknowledgment of the crimes against humanity of Adolf Hitler and his catholic accomplices, including his openly defiant comments of Christianity being a false religion made up by Jewish noble families, that no Pope from Pius XII to the present day has ever sought to excommunicate Adolf Hitler, nor any of his Catholic leaders. That such inaction, by itself implies the tacit support of Hitler's actions, regardless of any public statement by the Vatican to the contrary. Furthermore, such inaction voids any legality, or credibility of the excommunication and heresy investigation process of the Catholic Church as such inaction by the Vatican is in open contempt for church law. That all excommunications since 1945 are to be considered suspect and potentially invalid due to the nullification of the credibility of such law.

44. Of aiding and abetting known war criminals (1946) That Pope Pius XII did personally ensure the safety and escape of Ante Pavelic, head of one of the most brutal and satanic regimes in human history, the Croatian Ustashi. That the Catholic Ustashi did murder at least 600,000 people in ways that can only be described as purely satanic including ritualistic cannibalism, crucifixion, live dismemberment, burning alive and excessive torture. That the Pope did shelter Pavelic for a period in Castelgandolfo, the Pope's summer residence along with other mass murderers and fugitives from justice. That the Pope did also shelter Pavelic in the Vatican itself for a period of time. That upon preparing his diplomatic immunity under the Vatican, the Pope did arrange for Ante Pavelic to become the aid to Catholic Argentine President Juan Peron. Furthermore, that the Pope did ensure virtually the entire war cabinet of the satanist Ustashi successfully escaped.

45. Of publishing false statements for the purpose of concealing the origin of crimes against humanity: (1945-1961) That General Dwight D. Eisenhower and other senior Catholic Allied commanders did deliberately permit false documents to be planted in order to be "found" claiming that the Final Solution Plan (the extermination of the Jews) was organized much later in the war at an alleged conference at Wannsee Villa in Berlin on January 20, 1942. That these false records and minutes for a an SS meeting were patently false based on the fact that the SS never took minutes of their own meetings, nor would have permitted such documentation to remain unguarded. That the fraud perpetrated by Eisenhower was motivated by ensuring the window of systematic human sacrifice by the Catholic controlled Nazis was as small as possible (only 1943-45 by the false documents of Eisenhower), thus justifying the claim that the Allies "did not know" what the Germans were doing with death camps. Furthermore that claims of the death camps being built as late as 1942 and closed down within only a couple of years were falsely claimed and even supported by accused to reinforce the false position. That these false documents were then introduced into evidence during the Nuremberg Trials of a handful of Nazis.

46. Establishment of an unlawful enterprise for the purpose of crime and concealment of crime (1947) That in 1947, President Harry S Truman was deceived by American traitors including William J. Donovan, who had actively worked against the interests of America to form a new organisation known as the Central Intelligence Agency. That as a result the National Security Act of 1947 was passed. Furthermore in 1949, the Central Intelligence Agency Act (a.k.a. Public Law 110) was passed, permitting the agency's using confidential, fiscal, and administrative procedures, and exempting it from most of the usual limitations on the use of federal funds so that the CIA became an effective Vatican type organisation at the centre of US Government, "above the law". That contrary to the official reasons for the formation of the CIA, the CIA as formed by its founders were: (1) To help protect the Catholic Church from any implied involvement in World War II and to seek out and protect any and all Nazi and right wing supporters from prosecution and arrest; (2) To assist with the covert relocation of Nazi war criminals; (3) To protect the illegal business of the Catholic Church from being interrupted including the global arms trade, the global drug trade, the Mafia and slavery. (4) To maintain the Jesuit traditions of political assassination and destabilization in any emerging democracies, particularly Catholic nations;

That since its inception, the CIA has consistently been the most treacherous, un-American organisation in the history of the United States and remains "untouchable" from its central control of the drug trade, arms and use of assassination and intimidation.

47. Of open contempt for church law for the purpose of promoting crimes against humanity: (1953 to present) That the Catholic Church has well established laws and cases of excommunicating individuals after their death from actions considered heretical. That these laws enabling a dead person to be excommunicated have been available for use for over three hundred years. That at the death of Fr. Joseph Stalin S. J. the leader of the Soviet Union in 1953, there was sufficient evidence both that Fr. Stalin was Catholic and had ordered some of the greatest atrocities of human history including reputedly the death of over 60,000,000 innocent people. That at no time since the end of World War II until the present day has any Pope ever sought to excommunicate Fr. Stalin S. J. That such inaction, and deliberate concealment of his status even until his death of being a fully empowered Catholic priest and of even being Catholic by itself implies the tacit support of Stalin's actions, regardless of any public statement by the Vatican to the contrary. Furthermore, such inaction voids any legality, or credibility of the excommunication and heresy investigation process of the Catholic Church as such inaction by the Vatican is in open contempt for church law. That all excommunications since 1953 are to be considered suspect and potentially invalid due to the nullification of the credibility of such law.

48. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1958 - 1963 CE) That the person known as Pope John XXIII, also known as "Pastor et Nauta", the 107th Pope according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

49. Of crimes against humanity (1955) That Pope Pius XII and Jesuit Superior General Jean-Baptiste Janssens did financial support and lobby for the election of staunch Catholic President Ngo Dinh Diem as President of South Vietnam in 1955. That upon being elected, the Catholic Church promoted Diem as a Catholic dictator in persecuting Buddhism and all non-catholic interests. That in 1958, the Catholic Church did then arrange an agreement With Ho Chi Minh that the Catholic Church would not oppose him if he invaded the South and that all money earned from the drug trade would be split more equitably on the condition of protecting French Catholic families and their land holdings managing the opium farms of the Jesuits. That these deliberate actions did ferment the conditions Vietnam War. Furthermore, upon the commencement of guerilla actions against the South, the Catholic Church through the CIA did convince the American government to support the Catholic South. That upon the election of John F. Kennedy as President, Cardinal Spellman did convince him to escalate the military support of the United States. That as a result of these deliberate actions of the Catholic Church, over 2,000,000 were killed, including over 50,000 US casualties.

50. Of crimes against humanity and false imprisonment: (1960s to present day) That Allied commanders and subsequent governments, deliberately supported by the Catholic Church have perpetuated false facts concerning the physical operation of the death camps into such small windows of time and logistics that it has enabled the rise of a legitimate army of holocaust deniers. That because of the deliberate fabrication of the logistics of the death camps of the Nazis, including the false claims that people were gassed to death, rather than rendered unconscious in gas chambers, historians have used common sense to deduce that the claimed numbers of deaths could not have occurred in the time frames claimed by historical Allied documents and trials. That this deliberate falsification of evidence has increasingly made it possible for holocaust deniers to gain credibility and increase support so that by the middle of the 21st Century it will be entirely possible to see holocaust deniers winning and successfully erasing the truth from history. That this long term goal is indeed a specific goal supported by the Vatican.

51. Of massive tax evasion (1962) That the Vatican did refuse in 1962 and has since refused until the present day in paying any taxes upon its massive Italian investments, citing the Lateran Treaty of 1929 between Pope Pius XI and war criminal Mussolini. That as a result of the Vatican's refusal to pay taxes like all other organisations in the world, the Italian people have been deprived of at least several hundred million dollars in taxable income. Instead, the Vatican maintains its arrogant demands for the Italian taxpayer to continue to subsidize the Vatican through payment as well as security, transport, roads and services in excess of $80 million (US 2006 equivalent dollars) each and every year. This makes the Vatican and the Catholic Church, the largest tax evaders of human history.

52. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1963 - 1978 CE) That the person known as Pope Paul VI, also known as "Flos florum", the 108th Pope according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

53. Of political assassination (1963) That President John F. Kennedy was publicly executed in a brutal and callous manner upon the direct orders of Pope Paul VI in order to prevent him from carrying out his plan to end the control of the Catholic over American policy through orders for the disbanding of the CIA as well as usurping the Catholic controlled Federal Reserve Bank by enacting Executive Order 11110 (4 June 1963) thereby injecting into the economy nearly five billion dollars (4.7) in interest-free cash and ending the extortion of the Federal Reserve. That upon the brutal murder of President Kennedy, both sets of orders were rescinded the very next day. That President Kennedy remains the last President to actively attempt to regain the sovereign right of the United States to mint its own currency. He is also the only President to have ever attempted to disband the treacherous CIA since its inception in 1949.

That his murder was both a conspiracy of the highest branches of government, relating to the most fundamental rights of Americans to govern their own destiny free from traitors and external influences of corruption and as such also represents a coup d'état from which the American people have never yet regained control.

54. Of publishing false statements and conspiracies (1963 to present): That in order to distract from the simple and unmistakable motives concerning the political assassination of President Kennedy, that both people personally involved in the conspiracy and the Catholic Church has promoted and encouraged the growth of a wide variety of spurious theories, including Russian plots, Mafia paybacks, and a range of other false theories. That these theories have assisted in distracting from the obvious and straight forward motives of the murder for over 40 years.

55. Of political assassination in order to evade taxes (1978) That Pope Paul VI did order the kidnap, torture and eventual execution of Italian democratic hero Aldo Moro before his sixth election as Prime Minister in fear of him seeking to finally enforce tighter restrictions upon the Vatican, including forcing reform of its tax-free status. Instead, it installed its candidate and known Mafia don Giulio Andreotti as Prime Minister.

56. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1978 - 1978 CE) That the person known as Pope John Paul I, also known as "De medietate Lunæ", the 109th and 4th last Pope of history according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise.

57. Of political assassination: (1978) That Jesuit Superior General Pedro Arrupe did arrange for the assassination of Pope John Paul I upon the revelation of the Pope intention to disband the Jesuit order and distribute their significant interests, including control of the Vatican Bank to other areas of the church. That Pope John Paul I intended to take this action in part because of the action of the Jesuits in both the assassination of John F. Kennedy, the Vietnam War, the global drug trade as well as Aldo Moro, a national Italian hero. That the murder of Pope John Paul I did prevent the disbanding of the Jesuits from taking place, but did result in a non-Jesuit friendly Pope being elected for the next 27 years.

58. Of association/membership to a criminal organisation: (1978 - 2005 CE) That the person known as Pope John Paul II, also known as "De labore Solis", the 110th and 3rd last Pope of history according to the prophecy of St Malachy, was both a member and leader of an organisation known as "Christianity" first established and subsequently maintained for the sole purpose of organized criminal enterprise. That in his capacity of leader of this organized criminal enterprise did direct for numerous criminal acts to be undertaken including, but not limited to: murder, fraud, extortion, prostitution, drug trade, pedophile rings, arms trade, kidnapping, rape, guerilla warfare and lowering of public morals.

59. Of crimes against humanity. (1985 to present) That the deliberate refusal of the Catholic Church to alter stance on contraception and link to reducing incidence of HIV infection contributing significantly to the growth of the pandemic and direct death of over 25 million people.

60. Of modifying a criminal organisation to compete against another criminal cartel (1982) That Pope John Paul II did personally orchestrate the historic establishment of Opus Dei as a personal prelature, meaning that members of Opus Dei fall under the direct jurisdiction of the Prelate of Opus Dei wherever they are. That this modification to the criminal organisation Opus Dei was done to give it unprecedented power and influence over the general divisions of the Catholic Church so as to seek to introduce a counter-balance to the overwhelming power of the Jesuit criminal cartel.

Greg Szymanski

Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcasting Network, from 11:00am to 1:00pm central time, shortwave frequency 12.180. Listen on the internet at: www.rbnlive.com Greg Szymanski is an independent investigative journalist and his articles can be seen at www.LewisNews.com. He also writes for his own site www.arcticbeacon.com Listen to my Radio Broadcast live Monday night at 8pm Pacific time on LewisNews, returning Jan. 1 2006 Radio <http://webs.lewisnews.com/radio/index.htm>.

The Vatican and the Secret Order of St John (2/19/2007)

The Vatican and the Sacred Order of St John

Founded in the 11th Century the Order of St. John is also known as The Sovereign Military Hospitaller Order of St. John of Jerusalem of Rhodes and of Malta The upper grades are fastidiously aristocratic and must be able to display a family coat-of-arms dating back at least 300 years in unbroken succession from father to son. The Sovereign Grand Master of the order is recognized as a head of state, and his authority is ensured by his secular ranking as a Prince, and his ecclesiastical ranking as a Cardinal. Under international law this organization has independent Sovereign status, which assures nationalistic loyalty from its members, above and beyond allegiance to their own country--they also have Permanent Observer status at the United Nations. The current Grand Master, Andrew Willoughby Bertie, is descended from Mary Stuart (Mary Queen of Scots) which places him firmly in the Sion/Grail historical scenario. !!The leader of the order is commonly known as the "Black Pope" something they also say about the leader of the Jesuit Order .Thats because the Jesuits are the Spiritual Masters of the Knights of Malta.

The order and its members have been proven to be linked with the "Rat Run?", the post-WWII escape route used by high-ranking Nazis and death camp scientists from defeated Germany to the Americas. Sovereign Knight of Malta passports were issued with false identities that allowed escape from prosecution for war crimes. Perversely, after the war the order's highest decoration, the 'Grand Cross of Merit', was awarded to Nazi General Reinhard Gehlen, Hitler's Eastern Front intelligence chief, who was highly complicit in the atrocities carried out by the Nazis in Russia and Eastern Europe. There are approximately 11,000 Knights and Dames of Malta around the world. They belong to one of 54 national associations or priories. The Federal Association is one of the three associations in the United States. Its office is in Washington, DC, and it has members all over the country. The "Knights of Malta" are represented by a white Maltese Cross on a red background.

The order is the sanctuary of the Knights Templar, housing them inside their City State within Vatican City.

One of the gifts to the American way of life from them was the Klu Klux Klan

The motto of the Order since 1099 is Tuitio Fidei et Obsequium Pauperum - to defend the faith and to serve the poor.

The Order's military function became one of the most advanced fighting and naval forces in the world. Their battles defending the island of Rhodes and later the island of Malta are legendary. Knights would also nurse the sick in the evening. The rule was that they would serve the patients first - "white bread on silver plate" - before they would eat. In the modern World the Military Order aspects of the Knights have been downplayed, with their "public face" showing their work as tending to the sick and poor. But make no mistake, they are still well in control of the Military might needed to uphold their creed. The Knights of Malta have been the source of many of the secret societies that have come into being in the last 1000 years, most notably are the Scottish Rite Masonic Order, The Klu Klux Klan and many others who end up serving the Vatican Satan. These Knights and later their Jesuit brothers who came into existence 500 years ago are the secret instigators of almost every major conflict of the so called western civilization to this day.

The following is from the official website of the order:

The Order constructed great fortresses at vulnerable points in the Kingdom of Jerusalem and launched its own military campaigns in the defense of Christendom. The Order became the first Western standing army and the first organization of chivalry, known as the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem. It expanded its network of hospices for service to and defense of pilgrims along important routes of travel.

In 1291 the great fortress city Acre fell to Muslim forces, and after some 200 years in the Holy Land the Order was forced to leave. Its convent, or headquarters, was transferred to the island of Cyprus where it held property. In 1310, the Order acquired sovereign possession of the Island of Rhodes. The Order in Rhodes again came under unrelenting attack from Muslim forces and successfully repulsed attacks in 1440, 1444, 1469, and 1480. In 1522, Sultan Suleiman the Magnificent moved on Rhodes with 250 ships and 200,000 men and, after an epic defense of six months' duration by the Order's 600 Knights and 1,500 soldiers, the Grand Master capitulated on 24 December 1522, and was allowed to depart, with the surviving Knights, on 1 January 1523.

Without lands, but universally recognized as sovereign, the Order was in exile until 1530, when it was given Malta by the Holy Roman Emperor. Malta, like Rhodes, became the stage of a great chapter in the history of the Order. This was the second naval phase of the Knights, now also called the Knights of Malta. Malta occupied a strategic position between the Christian and Muslim worlds and the Order was the only obstacle to the continuing advance of Islam through the Mediterranean towards the heart of Christendom. Violent Ottoman assaults between 1551 and 1644 were all successfully resisted. The most notable of these was the Great Siege of 1565 in which the attacking Ottoman force of 373 vessels and 40,000 men failed to subdue the island defended by some 540 Knights and sergeants, 400 Spanish troops and 4,000 Maltese capable of bearing arms.

Defense of the Faith did not outshine service to the poor. The hospital of the Order in Jerusalem had about 2,000 beds, and there had also been a large hospital on Rhodes. The hospital of Malta, founded in 1532, continued the hospitaller tradition with accommodations for 564 patients who were served by the Knights themselves. The rule was the same as it had been for five centuries. The patients were served by the Knights before anyone else. They received the best meals - "white bread on silver plate". The Hospital, and its associated Schools of Anatomy, Surgery and Pharmacy, achieved world-wide renown.

Valletta, the new capital, became a treasure house of art with its splendid baroque buildings: churches like the magnificent Conventual Church of St. John the Baptist, completed in 1577, and official buildings like the Palace of the Grand Masters and the Inns of the Knights. In 1761 the Public Library was opened in Valletta, in 1768 the University, and in 1786 the School of Mathematics and Nautical Sciences — all the work of the Order. In 1798 Napoleon, ignoring the Order's internationally guaranteed neutrality vis-à-vis the Christian powers, had his fleet attack Malta on 12 June 1798.

The Knights capitulated and their island-state fell to the French. Napoleon seized the treasures of the Order and forced its members to abandon the island.

Having lost most of its property during the Napoleonic conquest, in 1834 the Order established its headquarters in Rome, where it has remained ever since, and the present phase in the colorful history of the Order began. Its military role reduced, service to the poor and the sick became its foremost occupation and in the second half of the nineteenth century the national associations began to emerge and the Order assumed its present structure.

The Order is still recognized under international law as a "sovereign entity"; and exchanges ambassadors and diplomatic representatives with over 90 countries. On August 24, 1994, the Order was admitted to the United Nations by being granted "Permanent Observer" status. This status, similar to the status granted to the international Red Cross and other relief organization, allows the Order to participate in the discussions of the General Assembly of the United Nations.

The number of Knights today is greater than in the days of its grandeur in the eighteenth century. The eight-pointed white Maltese Cross stands out everywhere as a symbol for charity towards mankind and as a comfort and consolation to the sick and the poor. The Order stands ready to meet the great challenges of the modern age in the same spirit of selflessness and devotion that inspired its founder more than 900 years ago.

The direct connections between Skull and Bones and Knights of Malta

The Knights of Malta are one of the oldest branches of the Order of the Quest in existence.

The Knights of Malta is held up by a backbone consisting of nobility. The Black Nobility is mostly the rich and powerful of Europe. The head of the Black Nobility is the family that can claim direct descendancy from the last Roman emperor.

The Knights of Malta all have diplomatic immunity. They can ship goods across borders without paying duty or undergoing customs checks.

The first U.S. Ambassador to the Vatican was William Wilson, a Knight of Malta.

Frank Shakespeare replaced William Wilson. Frank Shakespeare was a Knight of Malta,

William Casey was the Director of the CIA, a member of the CFR, a Knight of Malta. He was head of the Securities and Exchange Commission. During the Nixon administration he was head of the Export-Import Bank.

In the 1930's General Smedley Butler was recruited to help take over the White House. He was told that he was needed because of his general popularity with the military. General Butler blew the whistle and named several prominent Americans as part of the plot. At the top of the list was John J. Raskob, who was a founding member of the U.S. branch of the Knights of Malta. He was board chairman of General Motors. He was, at he time, the U.S. Treasurer of the Knights of Malta. Congressional hearings were held to investigate the plot, but none of those named, including Raskob, was ever called to testify and nothing ever came of the hearings.

George Schultz is a member of the CFR, the Bohemian Club and the Bechtel Corporation, all of which have close ties to the Order and the Knights of Malta.

Knight of Malta Myron Taylor was President Roosevelt's envoy. Knight of Malta John McCone? the Director of the CIA during the early '60s, was President Kennedy's envoy. Knight of Malta Thomas Melledy was President G.H.W. Bush's U.S. Ambassador to the Vatican.

Clare Booth Luce was a dame of the Knights of Malta J. Peter Grace of W.R. Grace Company is head of the Knights of Malta in the United States.

In the early 1940s, the I.G. Farben Chemical Company employed a Polish salesman who sold cyanide to the Nazis for use in Auschwitz. The same salesman also worked as a chemist in the manufacture of the poison gas. This same cyanide gas along with Zyklon B and malathion was used to exterminate millions of Jews and other groups. Their bodies were then burned to ashes in the ovens. After the war the salesman, fearing for his life, joined the Catholic Church and was ordained a priest in 1946. One of his closest friends was Dr. Wolf Szmunn, the mastermind behind the November/78 to October/79 and March/80 to October/81 experimental hepatitis B vaccine trials conducted by the Center for Disease Control in New York, San Francisco and four other American cities that loosed the plague of AIDS upon the American people. The salesman was ordained Poland's youngest bishop in 1958. After a 30-day reign his predecessor was assassinated and our ex-cyanide gas salesman assumed the papacy as Pope John Paul II.

The most powerful secret organization in the world is the Bilderberg Group, organized in 1952 and named after the hotel where its first meeting took place in 1954. The man who organized the Bilderberg Group, Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, has the power to veto the Vatican's choice of any Pope it selects. Prince Bernhard has this veto power because his family, the Hapsburgs, are descended from the Roman emperors. Prince Bernhard is the leader of the Black Families. He claims descent from the House of David and thus can truly say that he is related to Jesus. Prince Bernhard, with the help of the CIA, brought the hidden ruling body of the Illuminati into public knowledge as the Bilderberg Group. This is the official alliance that makes up the world governing body secretly dominated by their Jesuit Spiritual Masters. The core of the organization is three committees made up of thirteen members each. Thus the heart of the Bilderberg Group consists of 39 total members of the Illuminati. The three committees are made up exclusively of members of all the different secret groups that make up the Illuminati, the Freemasons, and the Vatican Black Nobility. This committee works year round in offices in Switzerland. It determines who is invited to the annual meeting and what policies and plans will be discussed. Every proposal or plan that has ever been discussed at an annual meeting of the Bilderberg Group has come to pass usually within one or two years following the meeting. The Bilderberg Group are the men who really rule the world.

Adam Smith's Wealth of Nations, which provided the ideological foundation for capitalism and for the Industrial Revolution, was published in 1776, in that same year, 1776, Adam Weishaupt, a professor of Canon law at Ingolstadt University in Germany, founded the Illuminati Order, a conspiratorial organization which embodied all of the goals, aims, and methods of what we now call Communism. the goal of the Order was to "unite, by way of one common higher interest and by a lasting bond, men from all parts of the globe, from all social classes and from all religions, despite the diversity of their opinions and passions, to make them love this common interest and bond to the point where, together or alone, they act as one individual."

One of the lodges in Germany affiliated with the Lodge of Lyons was the Lodge Theodore of Munich. It was in this lodge -- to which Weishaupt belonged -- that the Illuminati Order was organized by him as a secret organization within a secret organization. It took a number of years before the existence of this secret society within a secret society came to light. Its revolutionary doctrines were so zealously propagated that it couldn't be completely hidden for very long. In 1783, a Bavarian Court of Enquiry began its investigation of the Illuminati Order. Much of what we know today about Weishaupt's secret conspiracy is a result of this investigation. Weishaupt's entire program and methodology was virtually identical with what was later to become known as Communism.

The Order went underground and emerged as a network of Reading Societies throughout Germany and in the USA (Skull and Bones). The goal of this literary network was to monopolize the writing, publication, reviewing and distribution of all literature, more effectively to control the minds of the readers.

The members of Skull and Bones today manage almost all major communication in the World, including CBS, NBC, ABC, ClearChannel?, Time/Warner etc.

ADM Feeding Program - Since 1990, the Federal Association has sent millions of pounds of food- all donated by Skull and Bones controlled Archer Daniels Midland- to the poor in Central America. The recipients are the Missionaries of Charity, and the official consignees and handlers of the food in country are local members of the Order of Malta. The six countries which receive these shipments are Cuba, El Salvador, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, and Nicaragua. The Federal Association makes 10-12 shipments (40' containers @ 80,000 pounds each) every year.

Don't think that there is nothing but evil being done by this most powerful congregation of the Worlds wealthy, they do conduct programs of care and feeding to the poor, medical aid to the sick and education to the ignorant. But you should understand that the good and righteous people "in the trenches" at your local KOM run Hospital, School, Clinic or Charity have no idea that the work they are doing covers a much larger plan. Like beautiful beads of dew on a spiders web the charitable actions cover the true purpose behind these activities.

Running the schools of a Nation allow them to educate the population according to their wishes. Running the Hospitals allows them to cross every social boundry and know the most intimate details about persons from birth to death.

Like the Priest that recieves confession and then uses that secret knowledge against the confessor there are very dark basic principles behind the supposed altruistic activities of the Catholic Church and their Knights of Malta.

MR X

Jesuit Trained Legislators in the US (2/19/2007)

Jesuit Trained Legislators Total 10% of U.S House And Senate. Names Are Listed bellow by Greg Szymanski, Feb, 2007

Papal Rome has been likened to a huge Arctic iceberg with 10% of its mass above the water, like the numbers reflected on Capitol Hill, and the rest of them hidden in blackness below the waterline, fostering evil around the world.

Greg Szymanski

If you think the Jesuit Order doesn't have a strong foothold in Congress, think again.

Noted for infiltrating governments and religious organizations around the world and having been thrown out of numerous countries over the centuries, the Society of Jesus led by top Satanist in Rome, Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach, now has its evil eye focused on America.

They are disguised quite well by the cloth of Jesus, but don't be fooled these evil and ruthless men pulling the New World Order strings, have killed Presidents, including Lincoln and JFK and would not blink an eye to kill anyone who seriously gets in the way of the their New World Order agenda.

The agenda, of course, is well-known, being total fascism in America with a systematic plan of terrorism, leading to a genocide of the Christian, Muslim and Jewish people.

Although their plan is well-known, the Jesuits and the Vatican hierarchy remain well hidden and protected by their powerful minions, including U.S. government officials, high level officials in all of the world's intelligence agencies, higher-ups in all religious organizations who have been compromised, the top level members of the secret societies like the Freemasons and Knights of Malta and their loyal propagandists in the media mafia, as well as the thugs in the street mafias, carrying out their dirty work.

As you can see, it is a well-oiled and organized network, hidden behind many layers of evil veils, but a network that needs to be exposed and eliminated from American soil if there is any possibility of defeating the Vatican-led NWO who are now in the midst of their final 'Crusade of Extermination.'

To give you an idea of the Jesuit foothold in Congress, not even counting many other Catholics holding major House and Senate seats who are not Jesuit trained but loyal to the Pope through organizations like the Knights of Malta, here is an article from the Jesuits themselves, boasting about their control over American politics.

Also included is a list of those in the House and Senate who are Jesuit trained which, by the way, amounts to 10 per cent of the entire Legislative bodies.

Furthermore, Papal Rome has been likened to a huge Arctic iceberg with 10% of its mass above the water, like the numbers reflected on Capitol Hill, and the rest of it hidden in blackness below the waterline, fostering evil around the world.

Here is an article boasting of Jesuit power taken right from one of their websites:

More than ten percent of 110th U.S. Congress are Jesuit College and University alumni/ae

The Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities (AJCU) reports that among the 535 Members of the 110th U.S. Congress, 54 of them, or more than 10 percent, are alumni/ae of Jesuit colleges and universities. This is an increase of close to 15 percent compared to the 109th Congress when there was a total of 47 Jesuit alumni/ae in the House and Senate.

There are nine Jesuit alumni in the Senate and 45 in the House of Representatives. Among the top leadership, both the Majority and Minority Leaders in the House of Representatives, Congressman Steny Hoyer (D-MD) and John Boehner (R-OH) respectively, the Senate Majority Whip, Senator Richard Durbin (D-IL), and the Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, Congressman Chris Van Hollen, are all Jesuit alumni.

Of these 54 alumni/ae, 32 received graduate or professional degrees from Jesuit universities. There are 14 Jesuit institutions represented by alumni/ae in the U.S. Congress, and Georgetown University has the most alumni/ae with a total of 22. "This number (of our alumni/ae in Congress) is an important reminder that a Jesuit education is meant to lead to lives of leadership and service," said AJCU President Fr. Charles Currie, S.J. "We are proud that that goal is realized at the highest levels of public service, as well as in countless other ways across the country and around the world. It is a privilege to work with these women and men, and with our other friends in Congress, in addressing the issues facing our nation. We appreciate the challenges they face as public servants and the many ways they reflect the competence, compassion and commitment we pursue on our campuses." The following is the full list of the Jesuit college and university alumni/ae in Congress:

UNITED STATES SENATE Senator Jim Bunning (R-KY), Elected 1998 B.S. Xavier University (1953) Senator Robert P. Casey Jr. (D-PA), Elected 2006 B.A., Holy Cross College (1982) Senator Richard J. Durbin (D-IL), Elected 1996 B.S.F.S. Georgetown

University (1966) J.D. Georgetown University (1969) Senator John F. Kerry (D-MA), Elected 1984 J.D. Boston College (1976) Senator Patrick J. Leahy (D-VT), Elected 1974 J.D. Georgetown University (1964) Senator Robert Menendez (D-NJ), Appointed & Elected 2006 B.A. Saint Peter's College (1976) Senator Barbara A. Mikulski (D-MD), Elected 1986 B.A. Loyola College in Maryland (1958) Senator Lisa Murkowski (R-AK), Elected 2004 B.A. Georgetown University (1980) Senator Jim Webb (D-VA), Elected 2006 J.D. Georgetown University (1975) UNITED STATES HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Representative Timothy H. Bishop (D-NY), Elected 2002 B.A. College of the Holy Cross (1972) Representative John A. Boehner (R-OH), Elected 1990 B.S. Xavier University (1977) Representative Vern Buchanan (R-FL), Elected 2006 MBA, University of Detroit Mercy (1986) Representative Michael Capuano (D-MA), Elected 1998 J.D. Boston College (1977) Representative Michael N. Castle (R-DE), Elected 1992 L.L.B. Georgetown University (1964) Representative Barbara Cubin (R-WY), Elected 1994 B.S. Creighton University (1969) Representative Henry Cuellar (D-TX) Elected 2004 B.S. Georgetown (1978) Representative William D. Delahunt (D-MA), Elected 1996 J.D. Boston College (1967) Representative John D. Dingell (D-MI), Elected 1955 B.A. Georgetown University (1949) J.D. Georgetown University (1952) Representative Michael Ferguson (R-NJ), Elected 2000 M.P.P. Georgetown University (1995) Representative Jeff Fortenberry (R-NE) Elected (2004) M.A. Georgetown University (1986) Representative Luis G. Fortuno (D-PR) Elected (2004) B.S. Georgetown University (1982) Representative Vito Fossella (R-NY), Elected 1996 J.D. Fordham University (1993) Representative Wayne T. Gilchrest (R-MD), Elected 1990 Attended, Loyola College Maryland (1990) Representative John J. Hall (D-NY), Elected 2006 Attended, Loyola College Maryland (1965-66) Representative Stephanie Herseth (D-SD), Elected 2004 B.A. Georgetown University (1993) M.A. Georgetown University (1996) J.D. Georgetown University (1996) Representative Mazie Hirono (D-HI), Elected 2006 J.D. Georgetown University (1978) Representative Paul W. Hodes (D-NH), Elected 2006 J.D. Boston College (1978) Representative Steny H. Hoyer (D-MD), Elected 1981 J.D. Georgetown University (1966) Representative William J. Jefferson (D-LA), Elected 1990 L.L.M. Georgetown University (1996) He received his L.L.M. while serving as a Member of Congress Representative Mark Steven Kirk (R-IL), Elected 2000 J.D. Georgetown University (1992) Representative Frank A. LoBiondo (R-NJ), Elected 1994 B.S. St. Joseph's University (1968) Representative Zoe Lofgren (D-CA), Elected 1994 J.D. University of Santa Clara (1975) Representative Daniel E. Lungren (R-CA), Elected 2004 J.D. Georgetown Law School (1971) Representative Donald Manzullo (R-IL), Elected 1992 J.D. Marquette University (1970) Representative Edward J. Markey (D-MA), Elected 1976 B.A. Boston College (1968) J.D. Boston College (1972) Representative Thaddeus McCotter (R-MI), Elected 2002 B.A. University of Detroit Mercy (1987) J.D. University of Detroit Mercy (1991) Representative Michael R. McNulty (D-NY), Elected 1988 B.A. College of the Holy Cross (1969) Representative Gwen Moore (D-WI) Elected (2004) B.A. Marquette University (1978) Representative James P. Moran (D-VA), Elected 1990 B.A. College of the Holy Cross (1967) Representative Timothy F. Murphy (R-PA), Elected 2002 B.A. Wheeling Jesuit College (1974) Representative Jerrold Nadler (D-NY), Elected 1992 J.D. Fordham University (1978) Representative Charles Norwood (R-GA), Elected 1994 D.D.S. Georgetown University (1967) Representative William J. Pascrell Jr. (D-NJ), Elected 1996 B.A. Fordham University (1959) M.A. Fordham University (1961) Representative Robert C. Scott (D-VA), Elected 1992 J.D. Boston College (1973) Representative Albio Sires (D-NJ), Elected 2006 B.A. Saint Peter's College (1974) Representative Adam Smith (D-WA), Elected 1996 B.A. Fordham University (1987) Representative Lee Terry (R-NE), Elected 1998 J.D. Creighton University (1987) Representative Chris Van Hollen Jr. (D-MD), Elected 2002 J.D. Georgetown University (1990) Representative Peter J. Visclosky (D-IN), Elected 1984 L.L.M. Georgetown University (1982)

Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcasting Network, from 11:00am to 1:00pm central time, shortwave frequency 12.180. Listen on the internet at: www.rbnlive.com Greg Szymanski is an independent investigative journalist and his articles can be seen at www.LewisNews.com. He also writes for his own site www.arcticbeacon.com

Listen to my Radio Broadcast live Monday night at 8pm Pacific time on LewisNews, returning Jan. 1 2006 Radio <http://webs.lewisnews.com/radio/index.htm>.

Source: <http://www.arcticbeacon.com/13-Feb-2007.html>

German Freemasonry's Attitude Toward the Nazi Regime (2/19/2007)

German Freemasonry's Attitude Toward The Nazi Regime

Germany's Grand Lodges Up To 1930

At the beginning of 1930, Germany comprised some 75,000 Masons and nine regular Grand Lodges, the numerical importance of which was very different.

Table 1- Masonic Membership In Germany 1930 -1932

Grand Lodges.....	Founded.....	Lodges.....	Membership
.....	1930.....	1932.....	1930.....	1932

'Old Prussian'

Three Globes.....	1744.....	177.....	183.....	21,300.....	21,300
-------------------	-----------	----------	----------	-------------	--------

Grand Land Lodge.....	1770.....	179.....	180.....	20,400.....	20,400
-----------------------	-----------	----------	----------	-------------	--------

Royal York of Friendship...	1798.....	108.....	109.....	11,400.....	11,000
-----------------------------	-----------	----------	----------	-------------	--------

'Humanitarian'(Clandestine, not recognized as Freemasons by U.G.L.E. & U.S. G.L.'s - FW)

Hamburg.....	1811.....	54.....	54.....	5,000.....	5,000
Bayreuth.....	1811.....	45.....	42.....	4,000.....	3,800
Dresden.....	1811.....	45.....	46.....	7,300.....	6,900
Frankfurt.....	1823.....	26.....	26.....	3,200.....	3,000
Darmstadt.....	1846.....	10.....	10.....	900.....	900
Leipzig.....	1924.....	10.....	10.....	1,900.....	1,900
Rising Sun.....	1907.....	2,000	Symbolic Grand Lodge.....	1930.....	8.....
					13 800

About two-thirds of the brethren belonged to the three oldest, always Christian-oriented and at that time strongly nationalistic Grand Lodges founded in the 18th century which were called 'Old Prussian' because they were founded and had their seats in Berlin. They never initiated 'non christians', that is, Jews. Along the 19th century, five more German Grand Lodges were founded and a further one in 1924. They were called 'humanitarian' and initiated men of any religious denomination.

Table 2 - German Grand Lodge and 'non-Christians' (S)

Grand Lodges..... Formal decision..... Visit of..... Initiation ofto initiate only..... non-Christians..... non-Christians Christians:..... possible:..... possible:

'Old Prussian'

Three Globes..... 1763..... 1849..... impossible

Grand Land Lodge..... 1770..... 1857..... impossible

Royal York of Friendship. 1815..... 1854..... impossible(*)

'Humanitarian'(Clandestine, not recognized as Freemasons by U.G.L.E. & U.S. G.L.'s - FW)

Hamburg..... never..... 1811..... 1841

Bayreuth..... 1833..... 1847..... 1847

Dresden..... 1831..... before 1845..... Frankfurt/
 Main..... 1810..... 1838..... 1844

Darmstadt..... 1846..... 1873..... 1873

In 1922, the Old Prussian Grand Lodges decided to withdraw from the German Grand Lodges' Alliance founded in 1872, explaining: 'There is a border which strongly differentiates humanitarian from Old Prussian national Freemasonry. We, the three Old Prussian Grand Lodges refuse to take part in the general humanitarian fraternization movement between people in the world.' (Steffens, p. 332)

Some brethren believe that there was only one type of German Freemasonry which was indifferently persecuted by Hitler. In fact, several masonic spiritual families existed side by side in Germany, which reacted and were treated differently by the Nazis.

In the March 1933 issue, the last one to be printed in Germany, the Symbolic Grand Lodge (Clandestine, not recognized as Freemasons by U.G.L.E. & U.S. G.L.'s - FW) announced that on March 28th, it had resolved to become dormant. That issue also included the text of a resolution in support of Hitler, adopted toward the end of March by the National Mother-Lodge The Three Globes. It was followed by an article from the Nationale Zeitung, Essen, dated March 30, 1933, declaring The Grand Lodge of Saxony [at Dresden] sent a telegram expressing its faithful support to Dr. Goebbels The three [Berlin] Grand Lodges even sent a congratulatory address to the Reich chancellor Hitler.

German Freemasonry and Its Attitudes Toward The Nazi Regime Alain Bernbeim, MPS Philalethes Magazine February 1997

Putin to meet with Pope (2/24/2007)

Putin To Meet With Pope aka "The Grand Inquisitor" The Pope to give his evil blessings to another world leader on March 13, giving Putin as he has Bush the foolish justification to participate in the upcoming Pope's crusade and genocide. 24 Feb 2007

By Greg Szymanski

The dirty hands of the Vatican continue to manipulate world politics as Pope Benedict XVI and President of the Russian Federation, Vladimir Putin, are planning to have a good ole' Mafia 'sit down' March 13 in Rome.

This is Putin's first visit with the Pope and critics who really and truly know the Vatican's hidden New World agenda claim Putin is arriving in the City of the Seven Mountains to get his "satanic blessings" and his marching orders from the evil empire.

And it should be noted Putin won't be the first or the last high-level New World Order leader to kiss the "Inquisitor's Ring of evil," as the list is longer than a giant's arm, including Daddy Bush, Baby Bush, Clinton, the rulers of the Middle East, the ruler of Israel, Blair, Chavez of Venezuela and many, many more of the Pope's minions bringing destruction, war and genocide upon the earth.

Although critics claim Putin is getting his "evil blessing" in order to justify mass killings on his behalf in the Pope's on-going world wide New World Order Crusade, their meeting is further sign that the separation of church and state had become a laughing matter in today's world-wide political setting.

"All the leaders are working together to bring about the Vatican's final crusade and one world fascist government," said Leo Zagami, a former high-level Vatican and Illuminati member of the powerful Monte Carlo P2 Lodge.

Furthermore, Zagami had revealed the innermost secrets of the Vatican-led New World Order after he came forward on U.S. radio, saying the true spiritual leaders and controllers of the New World Order include the Vatican hierarchy and their henchmen, the evil Jesuit Order.

Here is what Zagami had to say about the upcoming March 13 meeting between the Pope and Putin, mixing in the New World Order's infatuation with the occult and black magic:

In March Putin visits the Pope and submits to the Vatican Luciferian powers on the 13th!

The numbers 11, 13 and 33 are the Illuminati/ Freemason signature, wrote Robert Howard in a research made a few years ago regarding the Freemason's, United States Presidents and The Masonic Power Structure. He was constantly running into the number 13 and 33. This research confirmed that most of the founding fathers were obviously Masons. It also confirmed that most of the Presidents were Masons . And 13 of course was the 13 colonies. Second was the great Seal.

"The numbers 3, 7, 9,11,13, 33, 39. Any multiple of these numbers have special meaning to the Illuminati. Notice that the Bilderberg Group has core of 39 members who are broken into 3 groups of 13 members in each group. Notice that the core of 39 answers to the 13 who make up the Policy Committee. Take special notice that the 13 members of the Policy Committee answer to the Round Table of Nine. You know that the original number of states in the United States of America was 13. The Constitution has 7 articles and was signed by 39 members of the Constitutional Convention."

Occultists the world over believe that, once a symbol is created, it acquires power of its own, and more power is generated when such symbol(s) are created without the profane [uninitiated] knowing about it. And, the greatest power of all is created in the symbol(s) if the uninitiated NEVER discover that the symbol exists. MASONIC SYMBOLS OF POWER IN THEIR SEAT OF POWER -- WASHINGTON, D.C.

There are 13 leaves on the left olive branch with 13 berries. 13 stripes on the middle shield. 13 arrows on the right. 13 stars above the eagles head. 13 letters in the "E Pluribus Unum" on the ribbon. 13 letters in Annuit Coeptis. There are 13 blocks top to bottom on the pyramid. Fritz Springmeir in his The 13 Bloodlines says these 13 blocks represent the 13 Satanic family's.

So the 13th of March the illuminati Mafia President of the Russian Federation Vladimir Putin visits the new Pope for the first time and this will be a very special visit indeed, an event you should all keep an eye on because the 13th is no ordinary number...

Greg Szymanski

Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcasting Network, from 11:00am to 1:00pm central time, shortwave frequency 12.180. Listen on the internet at: www.rbnlive.com Greg Szymanski is an independent investigative journalist and his articles can be seen at www.LewisNews.com. He also writes for his own site www.arcticbeacon.com Listen to my Radio Broadcast live Monday night at 8pm Pacific time on LewisNews, returning Jan. 1 2006 Radio <http://webs.lewisnews.com/radio/index.htm>.

La lezione di Vicenza (2/28/2007)

LA LEZIONE DI VICENZA

di Lucio Garofalo

2007-02-22 - Sono opportune, e necessarie, alcune riflessioni sullo straordinario evento della manifestazione di Vicenza, che ha mobilitato oltre 200 mila persone, anche alla luce di un altro avvenimento straordinario, ma non certo imprevedibile – o inevitabile –, vale a dire la rocambolesca e fantozziana caduta del governo sulla mozione dalemiana in materia di politica estera e le doverose dimissioni presentate al Quirinale dal ragionier Fracchia/Prodi.

Anzitutto, va fatta una considerazione positiva sull'esito della manifestazione.

La manifestazione di sabato 17 febbraio a Vicenza si è svolta senza il minimo incidente. L'unico scontro registrato, è stato un litigio tra cani (esattamente un "feroce" mastino napoletano – sempre i soliti meridionali – e un piccolo, ma combattivo esemplare di razza bastarda – un extracomunitario), visto che in tanti, tra i manifestanti, sono stati accompagnati, non solo dalle rispettive famiglie, ma altresì dall'amico più fedele dell'uomo (che non è Emilio Fede).

Inoltre, qualcuno ha sparato un rumoroso petardo... Ma cosa si pretendeva, il clima era anche un po' carnevalesco, per cui qualche botta e qualche scherzo, lazzi e frizzi, erano proprio adatti all'occasione! Eppure, le vere, tragiche buffonate e mascherate, sarebbero ancora dovute venire, ma altrove, in altre sedi e in altre circostanze, che non hanno nulla a che spartire con la piazza e con l'esperienza vicentina. Mi riferisco alla farsa e alla tragicommedia messa in scena al Senato il 21 febbraio, giorno delle Ceneri, data di inizio della Quaresima, che è tempo di digiuni e penitenze (per noi comuni mortali, non certo per loro, immortali, nel senso che non si staccheranno mai dallo scranno su cui hanno appoggiato i loro "sacri" deretani) fino alla Pasqua, secondo i precetti sanciti dalla chiesa cattolica apostolica romana.

Non si tratta di una coincidenza puramente casuale! L'idea che nella caduta del governo c'entri lo zampino-zampone dell'eminenza grigia Ruini e delle gerarchie vaticane, non è un'ipotesi tanto azzardata. Come si cercherà di evidenziare nel seguito del presente articolo.

Per il momento soffermiamoci ancora sul tema iniziale.

La vergognosa ed infame strategia della tensione, messa in opera nei giorni immediatamente precedenti la manifestazione vicentina, ha miseramente fallito. Ha fallito miseramente, in modo comico e grottesco, chi, sia negli organi di informazione, sia tra gli esponenti del ceto politico (in entrambi gli schieramenti, centro-destra e centro-sinistra), ha puntato a creare un clima di panico, di psicosi collettiva, di allarmismo eccessivo, per spaventare ed inquietare l'opinione pubblica, al fine di indebolire ed isolare il movimento. Un movimento che, invece, si è riunito e mobilitato in massa a Vicenza. Ha miseramente fallito chi ha agitato e sbandierato lo spettro delle presunte "nuove Brigate rosse", giungendo persino ad insinuare ed avanzare assurde, farneticanti e deliranti connessioni tra la lotta armata (che in realtà nessuno degli arrestati aveva ancora messo in pratica) e il popolo di Vicenza, ossia il popolo della pace. Un movimento assai contaminato, variegato, eterogeneo, che ha coinciso con il popolo dell'intera sinistra, non soltanto di quella cosiddetta "radicale", ovvero con una parte consistente della società italiana, rappresentata a Vicenza da un campione di oltre 200 mila persone in carne ed ossa. Un movimento che ha dato vita ad un'imponente manifestazione pacifista, assolutamente pacifica e non violenta, allegra e divertente, colorata e fantasiosa, impartendo una memorabile lezione di civiltà politica e di buon senso, di superiorità e di forza morale, mettendo a tacere quanti, anche tra le fila governative (si pensi all'ex Ministro degli Interni Giuliano Amato e all'ex vice-premier Rutelli), si erano improvvisati oracoli e cassandre, ovvero profeti di lutti e sciagure che non si sono avverati, non per puro caso o per fortuna, ma per l'eccezionale vigore morale e civile del movimento, per il senso di maturità e responsabilità effettivamente mostrato, per la tenacia e la spinta ideale che ha saputo esprimere e che hanno animato l'esperienza vicentina, che non è stata priva di conseguenze, anzi. Come abbiamo poi visto.

Infatti, il ragionier Fracchia/Fantozzi (alias Prodi) si è immediatamente affrettato ad applaudire ed elogiare (in pratica ad irridere ed ingannare, ancora una volta) i cittadini che hanno manifestato in massa, aggiungendo una chiosa, ossia che le manifestazioni non rappresentano la "forma suprema della partecipazione politica" e non sono "il sale della democrazia" (allora, ragioniere, ci dica quali e dove sono il "sale della democrazia" e "la suprema partecipazione politica", forse nei banchi, e sotto-banchi, governativi e parlamentari?), concludendo che in ogni caso il governo non avrebbe affatto cambiato la decisione già presa (ma da chi?) in merito all'allargamento della base NATO di Vicenza. Bene, un caloroso applauso a mister Fracchia!

Già questa sprezzante prova di insulsa e sciocca arroganza, di assoluta incapacità, o assenza di volontà, di ascoltare ed apprezzare in concreto le istanze di pace (e non solo di pace, ma anche di giustizia, di equità sociale, di rispetto della sovranità nazionale, di osservanza dei principi costituzionali, eccetera) provenienti dal basso, dalla gente reale (in particolare dagli elettori del centro-sinistra, perché di questo si tratta), avrebbe meritato una lezioncina.

Ma costoro quando capiranno, quando impareranno a vivere, e a governare? Giammai!

Si sapeva, e si sa, che il movimento non si sarebbe certo arrestato dopo la manifestazione di Vicenza, anzi avrebbe proseguito, e proseguirà nelle mobilitazioni e nelle lotte, con la giusta e necessaria fermezza, continuando anzitutto a presidiare la zona del Dal Molin, al fine di creare un solido blocco di resistenza popolare e territoriale, come già accaduto in Val di Susa e altrove. Questo nessuno l'ha capito, o comunque l'ha ponderato, tra i boss dell'Unione che ambivano velleitariamente a governare alla stessa stregua del berlusconismo, senza però avere il Berlusca (vale a dire "l'uomo forte", "l'uomo della provvidenza", ovvero "l'unto del Signore", e via discorrendo), ossia con metodi autoritari e antidemocratici, in forme plebiscitarie e populistiche, senza tuttavia la prepotenza e la spinta trascinatrice del populismo berlusconiano, insomma non solo nei contenuti, ma persino nei modi e nelle procedure formali del berlusconismo, pur avendo alla guida dell'esecutivo Fracchia, e non la Belva Umana.

Ma non dobbiamo dimenticare che costoro sono, come al solito, "forti con i deboli (noi miseri sudditi) e deboli con i forti", vale a dire i poteri forti che da sempre condizionano in maniera pesante e determinante la vita politica e sociale in Italia. E non mi riferisco solo al Vaticano, alla Confindustria e alla NATO, bensì pure a quei poteri occulti quali mafia, massoneria (leggi P2), servizi segreti, più o meno deviati, nostrani ed esteri (leggi soprattutto CIA e Mossad). Poteri verso cui qualsiasi governo si è dimostrato sempre subalterno e succube.

Insomma, una piccola lezione se la sono proprio cercata!

E' indubbio che il governo è caduto da solo e si è fatto male da solo. Mister "baffetto sparviero" poteva fare a meno di chiedere e di effettuare la verifica sulla "sua" politica estera, eppure l'ha fatto ugualmente, commettendo un grave, fatale errore/orrore di ingenuità, o di presunzione. Come mai? Il fatto è che una verifica parlamentare era davvero opportuna e doverosa, proprio alla luce di quanto era successo a Vicenza. Pur nella sua nota arroganza e furberia, il baffetto è stato politicamente corretto e scorretto nello stesso tempo.

Nel frattempo, infatti, c'è stata Vicenza, dove hanno sfilato, pacificamente (smentendo tutti gli artefici e i complici della suddetta strategia terroristica e allarmistica), oltre duecentomila persone del popolo della sinistra, non gente di Berlusconi (sebbene, per onestà, occorra ammettere che all'interno dei comitati cittadini contro il Dal Molin ci fosse anche qualche simpatizzante leghista o della destra locale), ma dell'intera sinistra, dalla CGIL a Rifondazione comunista, da Pax Christi all'area dei centri sociali e dell'antagonismo anarchico.

Dunque, l'esperienza di Vicenza ha innescato un meccanismo tale da indurre all'esplosione, comunque inevitabile, di quelle contraddizioni insite sin dall'inizio nella coalizione governativa, troppo eterogenea e troppo composita, in cui i vari boss – presunti leader e statisti – si sono rivelati assolutamente incapaci di conciliare e mediare tra le posizioni contrapposte.

Come dicevo all'inizio, nella rovinosa caduta del governo c'è con molta probabilità lo zampino dei poteri forti, in particolari del Vaticano e della Confindustria. Vediamo perché e come.

La rappresentanza parlamentare di alcune lobbies, quali quella delle gerarchie vaticane e confindustriali, è simbolicamente concentrata e segnalata in due illustri e potenti figure/figuri, e nei loro voti decisivi. Infatti, l'astensione del senatore Giulio Andreotti (uomo del Vaticano, abilissimo maestro nel far cadere tanti governi nella storia della Prima repubblica, ed ora anche della Seconda Repubblica) e l'astensione del senatore Pininfarina (uomo della Confindustria, un po' più inesperto, ma non meno abile del primo) soltanto in apparenza sono da collegare direttamente alla votazione sulla mozione presentata da D'Alema – baffetto perfetto – in materia di politica estera, ma in effetti celano ben altri significati ed altre implicazioni politiche più occulte, di stampo quasi massonico-mafioso, riconducibili ad altre materie oggetto dell'attività di governo negli ultimi mesi, vale a dire il disegno di legge sui DI.CO. e la legge economico-finanziaria – di lacrime e sangue.

Ora ci attende una fase di inciuci e compromessi, di politica politicante, di trattative sotto banco, di opportunismi e trasformismi, che probabilmente condurrà ad allargare e rafforzare la base del consenso parlamentare al governo, puntando ovviamente al centro del centro-destra, per indebolire e marginalizzare ulteriormente l'ala della cosiddetta "sinistra radicale".

E così avremo un Prodi bis-cherò

Stalin and Hitler were possessed by Satan, says Vatican exorcist (2/24/2007)

Stalin, Hitler Were Possessed by Satan says Vatican Exorcist

Adolf Hitler and Russian leader Stalin were possessed by the Devil, the Vatican's chief exorcist claims, the Daily Mail newspaper reported a couple of years ago. "You can tell by their behavior and their actions, from the horrors they committed and the atrocities that were committed on their orders," Father Gabriele Amorth, who is Pope Benedict XVI's "caster out of demons," said during an interview with Vatican Radio (didn't he think about his own Jesuit demons when he was talking on the Radio?).

"Of course the Devil exists and he can not only possess a single person but also groups and entire populations. I am convinced that the Nazis were all possessed. All you have to do is think about what Hitler — and Stalin did. Almost certainly they were possessed by the Devil."

But Father Gabriele Amorth should also include the Vatican amongst these groups if he was to be completely honest about his work!

Secret Vatican documents say that wartime pontiff Pope Pius XII attempted a "long distance" exorcism of Hitler which failed to have any effect (WE DONT BELIEVE IN SUCH RUBBISH KNOWING THE TRUTH ABOUT THE NAZI POPE PIUS XII). "It's very rare that praying and attempting to carry out an exorcism from distance works. Of course you can pray for someone from a distance but in this case it would not have any effect,” Father Amorth said. Well we would like to think that Father Amorth his a genuine subject but we know he is one of the chief black magicians of the Vatican working with the Jesuit General himself.

The Vatican’s chief exorcist claims that one of the key requirements for an exorcism is to be present in front of the possessed person and that person also has to be consenting and willing. “Therefore trying to carry out an exorcism on someone who is not present, or consenting and willing would prove very difficult,” he said.

“However I have no doubt that Hitler was possessed and so it does not surprise me that Pope Pius XII tried a long distance exorcism,” he added.

In the past Father Amorth has also spoken out against the Harry Potter books, claiming that reading the novels of the teen wizard open children’s minds to dabbling with the occult and black magic , thats correct but he should also say that such material his promoted by Freemasons close to the Vatican.

Father Amorth, who is president of the International Association of Exorcists, said of the J.K. Rowling books: “Behind Harry Potter hides the signature of the king of the darkness, the devil.”...yes the signature of his friend the Black Pope...

He said that Rowling’s books contain innumerable positive references to magic, “the satanic art”, and added the books attempt to make a false distinction between black and white magic, when in fact, the distinction “does not exist, because magic is always a turn to the devil.”

Amorth is said to have carried out more than 30,000 exorcisms, according to the Italian newspaper The Exorcist, good for him but we should call them 30,000 victims of Vatican Sorcery.

Leo Lyon Zagami

History of the Order of the Eastern Star (2/28/2007)

The Order of the Eastern Star is according to its own literature, '...the largest fraternal organization in the world (it is American but there are chapters in Italy, Saudi Arabia, Romania, Germany, Australia, Brazil, China and the Philippines) to which both men and women belong.

General History

The Order of the Eastern Star is an adoptive rite of Freemasonry with teachings based on the Bible and objectives that are officially charitable and benevolent but in reality serving the evil purpose of the illuminati. The founder of OES was Dr. Robert Morris, a high degree Freemason, a lawyer and educator from Boston, Massachusetts, who was a Master Mason and Past Grand Master of Kentucky. Dr. Morris intended his creation to become a female branch of Freemasonry, but he failed to overcome the great opposition this idea engendered. After his first published ritual in 1849-50, he became associated with Robert Macoy who wrote and published a ritual based on Morris' in 1867. The first Grand Chapter was organized in Michigan in the same year. (There is evidence for an organization of the same name founded variously in 1788 or 1793, but this group was defunct by 1867.) Subordinate (local) chapters operate under charter from state level grand chapters which are responsible to the General Grand Chapter at the International Eastern Star temple in Washington, D.C.

Members must be eighteen years or older and either Master Masons in good standing or properly related to a Master Mason in good standing. The latter category includes wives; widows; sisters; daughters; mothers; granddaughters; step-mothers; step daughters; step-sisters; and half-sisters. In 1994 this was expanded to include nieces, daughters-in-law, and grandmothers.

Each chapter has eighteen officers, some elected and others appointed. Two offices are specifically male (Patron and Associate Patron) while nine offices are specifically female (including Matron and Associate Matron). While the Worthy Matron is considered to be the presiding officer of the chapter, the degrees cannot be conferred without a presiding brother in good standing (hence the Patron and Associate Patron).

Each chapter retains the right to decide who shall be a member of the organization. Election to the degrees must be unanimous, without debate, and secret. The successful candidate must profess a belief in a Supreme Being and is initiated in five degrees, which are conferred in one ceremony. (When Eastern Star was created, it was intended to be the first of a three degree series. The second and third degrees were Queen of the South and the Order of the Amaranth, respectively.)

Interestingly enough, OES requires only the belief in a Supreme Being even though the degrees are based in both the Old and New Testaments. While non-Christians are not specifically barred from membership, it would seem to be difficult to be other than Christian and belong to the Order.

Origin and History of the Adoptive Rite Among Black Women

Researched, compiled and written by

Past Grand Worthy Matron Jessie Mae Ayers

Past Grand Worthy Matron Jessie M. Ayers is a member of Miriam Chapter No. 4, Order of the Eastern Star, Georgiana Thomas Grand Chapter, Jurisdiction of the District of Columbia. She served as Grand Worthy matron in 1989 as was Grand Historian of the Georgiana Thomas Grand Chapter from 1971-1991.

On August 10, 1874, Thornton Andrew Jackson received the several degrees of the Rite of Adoption of the Order of the Eastern Star from Brother C.B. Case, a Deputy and agent of Illustrious Robert Macoy 33, Supreme Patron of the Rite of Adoption of the World. In addition, Thornton Jackson also received a letter from Bro. C. B. Case granting him the authority to establish chapters of the Eastern Star among eligible black women. In obedience to the authority granted by William H. Myers, Grand Master, Union Grand Lodge, Jurisdiction of the District of Columbia, Bro. Jackson established the first Eastern Star Chapter among black women in the United States.

On December 1, 1874, Queen Esther Chapter No. 1, Order of the Eastern Star, was established at 708 - O Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. in the home of Mrs. Georgiana Thomas. The first Worthy Matron was Sister Martha Welch and the first Worthy Patron was Bro. Thornton A. Jackson.

In December 1874, Grand Master William H. Myers and Deputy Grand Master William A. Tallaferro, Union Grand Lodge, Jurisdiction of the District of Columbia, were invited to receive the androgynous degrees. They both accepted, thus further cementing the ties that bind the Masonic Family together. Upon the occasion of Grand Master Myers' initiation into the Adoptive Rite, he made the following statement to the sisters of Queen Esther Chapter No. 1 - extolling them to greatness:

"May the dove of peace hover over you. May the All Seeing Eye, whom the Sun, Moon and Stars obey ever watch over you. May he keep and protect you in your every effort to promote interest in the general good of this chapter".

On April 28, 1890, Queen of Sheba Chapter No. 3 and on October 20, 1890, Gethsemane Chapter No. 4, Order of the Eastern Star, were established by Thornton A. Jackson within the Jurisdiction of the District of Columbia. He was also instrumental and helped to establish one (1) chapter in Alexandria, Virginia, three (3) chapters in Maryland and three chapters in Pennsylvania. In each instance when a chapter was organized and established, it was adopted by a regularly constituted masonic Lodge. Thus, Brother Jackson was able to bring about more unity within the Masonic Family.

During the year 1875, Pythagoras Lodge No. 9 presented the officers of Queen Esther Chapter No. 1 with their first badges which were known as Rosettes. This presentation was made by Worthy Patron Thornton A. Jackson who wished the chapter success and prosperity in the work upon which they were entering. He admonished the officers to wear the Rosettes with dignity keeping ever before them the memory of the five (5) Heronines: Adah, Ruth, Esther, Martha and Electa. In closing, Brother Jackson stated "To you Queen Esther and Associates, the representatives of the rays of the Beautiful Star and from whom comes the most charming, the most prophetic and the most instructive lessons of the Old and New Testaments. May you always throw an air of beauty and solemnity around all that you bring thousands to worship Him." This has been our charge as bona fide members of the Order of Eastern Stars from 1875 to this present moment in time.

And so it was one hundred years after the founding of the first Black Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, Queen Esther Chapter No. 1, Order of the Eastern Star, was officially instituted in the City of Washington in the District of Columbia.

Italy's Government controlled by the Vatican Illuminati (3/1/2007)

ITALY'S GOVERNMENT CONTROLLED BY THE VATICAN ILLUMINATI

Tens of thousands of people marched peacefully through the northeastern Italian city of Vicenza on Saturday the 17th of Feb. to protest a planned U.S. military base expansion that has strained relations within the governing center-left coalition.

The expansion of the military base has obviously been approved by local authorities influenced by the Vatican lead American illuminati and is strongly backed by Freemason Prime Minister Romano Prodi, while his far-left and Green allies condemn it. "This demonstration is a referendum against the doubling of the American military base," the Green minister for the environment, Alfonso Pecoraro Scanio, told newspaper Repubblica. "The government will not fall over a military base," warned Oliviero Diliberto (poor Oliviero little he knew of what was about to happen a few days later when the Prime Minister finally resigned), Diliberto is the secretary for the Democratic Communist Party. Prodi had banned ministers from attending the demonstration, but commended the peaceful nature of the protest.

Police estimated the crowd to be at 50,000 to 80,000, while organizers put the numbers between 100,000 and 150,000. Nobel Prize winner Dario Fo gave a performance at the end of the demonstration. The march took place without incident, and was heavily guarded by Italian security forces.

The Italian government in the meantime held 'constructive talks' with the Vatican during a meeting in Rome that saw Prime Minister Romano Prodi discuss a draft bill on the rights of unmarried couples, including homosexual unions, with Roman Catholic Church officials (including the usual Jesuits). A statement from the prime minister's office said the 'cordial and serene' talks on the problems facing the family and other issues had allowed each party to 'clarify their respective positions in a constructive manner' (more rubbish talk from the usual suspects...). Prodi's centre-left government has irked the Church hierarchy with its decision to grant certain rights to de facto couples, including those of the same sex (hypocrisy his the biggest sin in the Vatican hierarchy by the way full of homosexual couples as we all know). The 'rights of cohabiting people,' or 'DICO' bill, was drafted in a special cabinet meeting held on February 8 and was about to be submitted to the Italian parliament. If approved, it will have allowed couples living together a series of rights, including access to inheritance and the right to visit a partner in hospital without having to seek the consent of the patient's relatives but the Vatican obviously didnt like that. Inspired by France's 'civil pacts of solidarity,' the bill has been strongly criticised by Italy's Bishops Conference (CEI). Pope Benedict XVI has repeatedly warned Catholic lawmakers against adopting legislation that may threaten the traditional family, dismissing civil unions as 'pseudo-matrimony' (what about his 24 year old gay lover ???).

Catholic lawmakers within Prodi's supporting centre-left majority, such as Justice Minister Clemente Mastella, warned that the bill could fail to receive the support of parliament's upper house. A poll published earlier last week before the Governement falled by daily Corriere della Sera suggested Italians are split down the middle over the bill, with 45 per cent of respondents expressing support for DICOs, compared to 47 per cent of those against.

Approached by reporters, CEI head Vatican illuminati Camillo Ruini said meeting had gone 'very well' while the Vatican's Secretary of State, Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone, said the talks had allowed both sides to clarify their positions but strangely enough Prodi resigned a few days later. Speaking ahead of the meeting, Prodi had defended DICOs by saying they were designed to grant some form of protection to some of the weakest members of society 'We want dialogue and cooperation (with the Vatican) on the most important problems facing us, including the family and our bill draft,' Prodi told state television RAI.

And after the meeting with the Vatican?

Prodi reaffirmed the great and special relation between the Vatican and Italy and soon after released a statement pledging to call a meeting of majority parties to "reaffirm" the government's foreign policy lines in favour of the US VATICAN CRUSADE. Former premier and opposition leader Silvio Berlusconi said the defeat should prompt Prodi to resign and thats exactly what happened.

Prodi went to the President and resigned from Prime Minister of Italy but a couple of days later got back the job and made the Vatican happy, in theatre tipe event typical of Italian politics once again victim of the Vatican conspiracy . In the meantime good old P2 Vatican illuminati Brother Silvio Berlusconi wants to get backin power with the help of the usual friends from the Opus Dei like Fini and powerfull Jesuit Puppet Master Giulio Andreotti.

Strangely enough we wrote not so long ago that a new lodge of Freemasons from the Regular Grand Lodge of Italy was opening in Vicenza soon, the first in the world of Freemasonry to use the name of a Pope, that Pope was Pio II (Enea Silvio Piccolomini).

This was the original message we received: Inviato: Domenica 21 gennaio 2007, 18:48:57 Oggetto: La masonería dedica una logia al Papa Pío II

La masonería dedica una logia al Papa Pío II

Posted by: "Hermes" latomia3@yahoo. es latomia3

Sat Jan 13, 2007 1:42 pm (PST)

Paris, 12 de enero de 2007.

Querida Ofelia:

Por primera vez en la Historia, la masonería ha decidido dedicar... ¡una logia a un papa!

La masonería, que ha sido siempre adversaria e incluso enemiga de la Iglesia católica tomó esta decisión según la prensa italiana. Ocurrió durante la reunión anual de La Gran Loggia Regolare d'Italia, que es la única reconocida por la Gran Logia Unida de Inglaterra, "madre" de la masonería mundial.

Se tomó la decisión que una logia de la ciudad de Vicenza llevara el nombre de Enea Silvio Piccolomini (el Papa humanista Pio II).

El Sr. Fabio Venzi, Gran Maestro de la Gran Loggia Regolare declaró: "Se trata de una decisión que forma parte de nuestro acercamiento a las enseñanzas milenarias de la Iglesia católica".

La Gran Loggia Regolare d'Italia fue constituida hace sólo doce años, a causa de un desacuerdo del ex Gran Maestro Giuliano di Bernardo, con el Grande Oriente d'Italia.

Hay que recordar que aunque la masonería inglesa no reconoce al Grande Oriente d'Italia, ésta es la confesión masónica más importante de la península.

Un abrazo desde la Vieja Europa.

Félix José Hernández.

=====

So what about Italy? Well ask the Vatican,the P2 and the usual suspects....

Leo Lyon Zagami

Project Vatican (3/1/2007)

Project: Vatican Blueprint for the Restoration of the Global Kingdom of Jesus Christ

Project Vatican is dedicated to the restoration of the Global Kingdom of Jesus Christ in the third millennium. The means by which this restoration is being accomplished are five-fold:

I. The Jesuit infiltration of the English colonies on the North American continent. Using forged papers and secret aliases, the Jesuits set up an underground network of political operatives that paved the way for the Vatican to send a second dispatch, this time consisting of multitudes of Roman Catholic families posing as Protestants. Gradually and unobtrusively, this underground network was able to infiltrate the civil governments at every level, therefore abolishing existing legal sanctions against Roman Catholicism.

II. Jesuit control of Christian schools and universities. The Jesuit Underground was successful in infiltrating school boards, committees and associations for the purpose of gradually replacing the standards and applications of the Protestant Bible with the philosophy of the Spiritual Exercises of the Jesuit Society. This resulted in the Roman Catholic dominance of the American academic community.

III. Roman Catholic control exercised through Vatican operatives in the United States military, judiciary and media. This was accomplished through the instigation of the Civil War. As Roman Catholic plants in both government and academia pushed both sides toward armed conflict, the demand for soldiers provided easy opportunity for the successful infiltration of both the Union and Confederate armies. Jesuit operatives were able to control the tactical maneuvers of both sides, thus ensuring minimal loss for Roman Catholic soldiers. As a result, key positions in both the judiciary and the press were ripe for penetration by the Vatican-controlled mercenaries at the end of the war.

IV. The weakening of the U.S. military, both in strength and resolve, in preparation for the Vatican-led One World Government. The Knights Of Columbus, pledged to bring America under Vatican rule, continually pressured U.S. Bishops to undermine the nation's nuclear strategy in the second half of the 20th century. This precipitated the necessary shift in the paradigm of military strategists, officers and enlisted personnel from a mentality of world dominance to one of communal deference, a vital factor in the coming implementation of Phase V of Project Vatican.

V. Total control of all institutions and resources on Planet Earth, including political, military, economic, educational, religious and environmental systems, for the purpose of ensuring global peace, prosperity and order.

Phase I through Phase IV have taken 523 years to complete, and at the dawn of the third millennium Project Vatican is poised to launch Phase V. This will necessitate cooperation of the citizens of every nation on the planet, on a massive scale and in previously untested numbers. The remainder of this web site is devoted to the implementation strategies for Phase V of Project Vatican. Project Vatican is dedicated to the restoration of the Global Kingdom of Jesus Christ in the third millennium. The five-fold means by which this restoration is being accomplished are found in Introduction to Project Vatican. The remainder of this web site is devoted to the implementation strategies for Phase V of Project Vatican. Each of these strategies is in full effect, albeit for varying lengths of time. The execution of the first strategy listed below was begun almost 150 years ago, with each following strategy characterized by progressively later geneses; the last strategy began to be realized at the close of the 20th century.

Devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and to the Immaculate Heart of Mary through the perpetuation of visions, miracles and revelations. This was begun in 1854 with the private revelation of Sophie Prouvier on the devotion to the Eucharistic Heart of Jesus, the same year of the proclamation of the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception of Mary; the latter was reinforced in Lourdes, France in 1858 when Our Lady appeared to Bernadette Soubirous, and the former in 1868, when Pius IX indulgenced an invocation to the Eucharistic Heart. Since then, an unceasing procession of miracles and revelations (the most notable being the 1917 Miracle of the Sun at Fatima, the promulgation in 1925 of the Reign of Christ the King, the approval of the Divine Mercy Devotion in 1978 and the messages and miracles from Our Lady of Medjugorje from 1981 to the present) has kept the eye of Christendom fixed upon Rome and her guiding signal fire, the Vatican.

Dilution of the eschatological models of Biblical prophesy by means of the aforementioned extra-biblical revelations. The last bastion of Protestantism will fall once the masses of uneducated Christian fundamentalists are no longer able to defend and promote their "last days" interpretations of the prophetic books of the Bible, due to the continuing modern-day revelations and miracles associated with the Church of Rome. With the removal of the so-called "papal threat" from the pulpits of Reformation congregations, the ecumenical movement implemented by Pope Paul VI at the Second Vatican Council will be able to proceed unfettered by hermeneutical separatism.

The alignment of the homosexual agenda with religious and racial equality, guaranteeing a support base sufficient in number to legislate Biblical Christian fundamentalism into the category of "hate speech". Once this is accomplished, the Vatican will be free to overtly implement the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Assemblies (RCEA) as the only legally recognized religious assembly. This will pave the way for the arrest, incarceration and re-education of all clergy, as well as their family members, who are not in registered communion with the RCEA.

International monopolistic control of all financial institutions and transactions. This began January 1, 1993 with the creation of the European Roman Empire (ERE). VISA Corporation is poised to label every citizen, upon request from the ERE, with identifying barcode technology. The current backlash against the paranoia of the religious right-wing in the United States and Canada has ensured a very liberal, relaxed attitude toward this imminent accounting system. Slated for the year 2001, this will enable the World Trade Organization (WTO) to require all governments operating under WTO agreements to join the ERE system in identifying all citizens and monetary transactions. Full global cooperation is expected, as it is anticipated that those governments refusing to cooperate with the WTO will, in effect, "comply by attrition".

The Global Eucharistic Community. With the rampant materialism, environmental destruction and military instability of the capitalist systems fully extinguished through the controls set in place by the new global economy, the Vatican-backed RCEA will be in position to compel international compliance to Eucharistic adoration and communion, ushering in the peace and prosperity inherent in the Kingship of Jesus Christ. The Global Eucharistic Community (GEC) was formally invoked by the Vatican on December 31, 1999, which will preside over the WTO, the GEC and the RCEA.

Phase V Strategy 1

Devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and to the Immaculate Heart of Mary through the perpetuation of visions, miracles and revelations.

This was begun in 1854 with the private revelation of Sophie Prouvier on the devotion to the Eucharistic Heart of Jesus, the same year of the proclamation of the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception of Mary; the latter was reinforced in Lourdes, France in 1858 when Our Lady appeared to Bernadette Soubirous, and the former in 1868, when Pius IX indulgenced an invocation to the Eucharistic Heart. Since then, an unceasing procession of miracles and revelations (the most notable being the 1917 Miracle of the Sun at Fatima, the promulgation in 1925 of the Reign of Christ the King, the approval of the Divine Mercy Devotion in 1978 and the messages and miracles from Our Lady of Medjugorje from 1981 to the present) has kept the eye of Christendom fixed upon Rome and her guiding signal fire, the Vatican.

Core of Strategy 1

The recurring theme of the Marian apparitions at Lourdes, Fatima, Garabandal, Akita and Medjugorje have been: an admonition to "stop offending God"; the importance of the Rosary; obedience to the Roman Catholic Church; the warning of three days of planetary darkness; and "the end of sin".

What you can do

Pray five decades of the Rosary every day. Make reparation to the Immaculate Heart of Mary on the first Saturday of every month. Wear the brown scapular. Pray the Chaplet of Divine Mercy. Consecrate yourself to the Jesus King of All Nations Devotion. Encourage other Roman Catholics to do the same. Invite non-Catholics to RCEA-approved Ecumenical services, gatherings and events. Submit the names of prospective candidates for conversion to your RCEA representative.

Phase V Strategy 2

Dilution of the eschatological models of Biblical prophesy by means of the aforementioned extra-biblical revelations.

The last bastion of Protestantism will fall once the masses of uneducated Christian fundamentalists are no longer able to defend and promote their "last days" interpretations of the prophetic books of the Bible, due to the continuing modern-day revelations and miracles associated with the Church of Rome. With the removal of the so-called "papal threat" from the pulpits of Reformation congregations, the ecumenical movement implemented by Pope Paul VI at the Second Vatican Council will be able to proceed unfettered by hermeneutical separatism.

Core of Strategy 2

Christian fundamentalism is fragmenting at an almost-daily rate, due to the practice of "multiplication by division" that is a recurring result of the constant analysis of eschatological minutia. Young fundamentalists, as well as so-called "Easter Sunday" Christians can easily conclude that the study of Biblical "end-times" prophesies are of negligible consequence, providing fertile soil for their indoctrination into the messages received through apparitions of Jesus and Mary.

What you can do

Join in any debates, forums or discussions, formal or informal, for the purpose of promoting the preterist and/or spiritual interpretations of the book of Revelation. Circulate books, periodicals, audio and video tapes, web site URLs, etc. which promote the appearances and revelations of Jesus Christ or the Blessed Virgin. Report anyone who uses terms and buzzwords relating to 666, the mark of the beast, the Antichrist, the rapture, the tribulation or Armageddon to your RCEA representative.

Phase V Strategy 3

The alignment of the homosexual agenda with religious and racial equality, guaranteeing a support base sufficient in number to legislate Biblical Christian fundamentalism into the category of "hate speech".

Once this is accomplished, the Vatican will be free to overtly implement the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Assemblies (RCEA) as the only legally recognized religious assembly. This will pave the way for the arrest, incarceration and re-education of all clergy, as well as their family members, who are not in communion with the RCEA.

Core of Strategy 3

The Protestants' lack of a governing authority has resulted in a sheep-like obedience to civil governments. Such social compliance, coupled with capitalistic greed has made Christian fundamentalists, for the most part, extremely vulnerable to social engineering. Churches that once preached racial segregation now advertise their multicultural diversity as an asset, and that paradigm shift has laid the groundwork for the acceptance of gays and lesbians into the evangelical Christian communities. Such passive desire for public legitimacy will further the cause of the RCEA, which, in its eighth year, has surreptitiously signed concordants with 91% of the world's organized denominations. The international interdictment against all non-RCEA religious organizations is slated for June 2001.

What you can do

Attend non-Catholic churches that are not yet RCEA affiliates for the purpose of encouraging their ministers to join the RCEA. Make audio recordings of their responses, and deliver these recordings to your RCEA representative. Report all statements by non-Catholics of a racially-biased, homophobic or anti-Catholic nature to your RCEA representative.

Phase V Strategy 4

International monopolistic control of all financial institutions and transactions.

This began January 1, 1993 with the creation of the European Roman Empire (ERE). VISA Corporation is poised to label every citizen, upon request from the ERE, with identifying barcode technology. The backlash against the paranoia of the religious right-wing in the United States and Canada has ensured a very liberal, relaxed attitude toward this imminent accounting system. Slated for the year 2001, this will enable the World Trade Organization (WTO) to require all governments operating under WTO agreements to join the ERE system in identifying all citizens and monetary transactions. Full global cooperation is expected, as it is anticipated that those governments refusing to cooperate with the WTO will, in effect, "comply by attrition".

Core of Strategy 4

Since the fall of the Roman Empire, there has been the dream of a unified Europe. We are seeing a brand new Roman Empire reconstructed. The European Community has utilized an identification mark in cooperation with VISA Corporation. VI is 6 in Roman numerals, S was 6 in ancient Egypt and A was 6 in Sanskrit; a "hide in plain sight" strategy has resulted in the choice by VISA Corporation and the ERE of the number 666 in the implementation of this citizen accounting system.

What you can do

Wherever possible, purchase all goods and services with your VISA card. Refuse to transact with merchants and vendors who do not accept VISA. Contact your Senators and Representatives and encourage them to support the policies of the WTO. Contribute generously to those in Congress whose voting records reflect the agenda of the WTO. Publicly dismiss anyone who uses terms and buzzwords relating to 666, the mark of the beast, the Antichrist, the rapture, the tribulation or Armageddon as disseminators of paranoid militant theocentrism. Report all theocentrists to your RCEA representative.

Phase V Strategy 5

The Global Eucharistic Community.

With the rampant materialism, environmental destruction and military instability of the capitalist systems fully extinguished through the controls set in place by the new global economy, the Vatican-backed RCEA will be in position to compel international compliance to Eucharistic adoration and communion, ushering in the peace and prosperity inherent in the Kingship of Jesus Christ. The Global Eucharistic Community (GEC) was formally invoked by the Vatican on December 31, 1999, which will preside over the WTO, the GEC and the RCEA.

Core of Strategy 5

"The bread of God is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world ... I am the bread of life. Whoever comes to me will never be hungry, and whoever believes in me will never be thirsty ... Your ancestors ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that one may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread that came down from heaven. Whoever eats of this bread will live forever; and the bread that I will give for the life of the world is my flesh ... Very truly, I tell you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Those who eat my flesh and drink my blood have eternal life, and I will raise them up on the last day; for my flesh is true food and my blood is true drink. Those who eat my flesh and drink my blood abide in me, and I in them. Just as the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever eats me will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not like that which your ancestors ate, and they died. But the one who eats this bread will live forever." - Jesus Christ, as quoted in Chapter 6 of the Gospel of John (New Revised Standard Version)

What you can do

Apply for citizenship in the GEC, and encourage other Roman Catholics to do the same. Participate in Eucharistic Adoration at your local parish or retreat. Attend confession and Mass at least once a week. Join in any debates, forums or discussions, formal or informal, for the purpose of promoting the literal interpretation of John chapter 6. Circulate books, periodicals, audio and video tapes, web site URLs, etc. which promote the celebration of the Mass and the worship of the Eucharistic body and blood of Jesus Christ. Report anyone who misaligns or defames the Eucharist, the Mass or the Roman Catholic liturgy to your RCEA representative.

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 91-100

Radio Vaticana su Chiesa e Massoneria (3/5/2007)

Radio Vaticana 2 marzo 2007

Mons. Gianfranco Girotti: il relativismo, il carattere esoterico del sapere e l'impossibilità di conoscere la verità sono i tratti fondamentali della inconciliabilità tra fede cristiana e massoneria.

I principi della massoneria sono inconciliabili con quelli della fede cristiana. Lo ha ribadito ieri pomeriggio mons. Gianfranco Girotti, reggente della Penitenzieria Apostolica che ha ricordato il giudizio negativo della Chiesa nei riguardi delle associazioni massoniche espresso in un documento della Congregazione per la Dottrina della Fede del 26 novembre 1983. Mons. Girotti è intervenuto al convegno "Chiesa e Massoneria" che ieri pomeriggio si è svolto al Seraphicum di Roma. C'era per noi Tiziana Campisi:

Un fenomeno variegato che fa ancora discutere: è la Massoneria, una forma di associazionismo che non accetta verità assolute e rivelate, che raduna persone di qualunque Credo, che riconosce un Ente creatore – il Grande Architetto dell'Universo – e che raccoglie uomini di buona volontà sulla base di valori umanistici accettabili da tutti. Ma la Chiesa come guarda ai massoni?

Mons. Gianfranco Girotti:

"Chi è massone, non è scomunicato. Si trova in uno stato di peccato grave, per cui non può accostarsi ai Sacramenti e, quindi, la Chiesa considera costoro come persone che sono irregolari nei confronti del Magistero della Chiesa. Accenno soltanto un elemento, quello della segretezza: colui che appartiene ad un movimento può essere messo in rischio di non conoscere cosa deve fare e in cosa viene coinvolto. Questo è un problema non indifferente".

Eppure da alcuni anni Chiesa e Massoneria stanno tentando di dialogare. Giuseppe Ferrari segretario nazionale del GRIS, il Gruppo di ricerca e informazione socio religiosa:

"Ritengo che si debba proseguire sulla strada del dialogo e trovare elementi comuni sui quali collaborare e portare avanti anche iniziative comuni e battaglie comuni, specialmente a difesa della vita, a difesa della dignità della persona umana, a difesa e salvaguardia della natura e via dicendo. Stiamo cercando di comprendere quelle che sono le ragioni degli iscritti alla Massoneria e dei massoni. E questo perché vediamo che, nonostante la presa di posizione chiara della Chiesa, ci sono diversi cattolici che decidono di iscriversi e di aderire alla Massoneria e purtroppo tra questi cattolici ci sono anche alcuni sacerdoti. Le motivazioni dei singoli fedeli laici potrebbero essere le più diverse: molte volte non sanno neanche di queste disposizioni della Chiesa e molte volte si iscrivono ed aderiscono a logge massoniche per motivi professionali oppure perché convinti di fare carriera nelle loro attività lavorative e così via".

Ma la Chiesa come si pone di fronte a quei sacerdoti che dichiarano di aderire a logge massoniche?

Ancora mons. Giuseppe Girotti:

"La Chiesa o i superiori dovranno intervenire, almeno sul piano disciplinare. Poi la Santa Sede certamente avrà la sua attenzione. Il sacerdote che disattende a dei principi disciplinari e dottrinali è già un sacerdote che viene meno al suo impegno, disattende e rinnega i principi e il Magistero della Chiesa".

Fabio Venzi, Gran Maestro della Gran Loggia regolare d'Italia, ha precisato che le associazioni massoniche si differenziano l'una dall'altra e che non si basano tutte sugli stessi principi.

Confession to the Jesuits no.24 (3/5/2007)

Confession To The Jesuits No. 24: Witchcraft in White House And Vatican This week we also look at a revealing interview about Vatican and Jesuit Order corruption with Eric Phelps. Also his third edition of Vatican Assassins is now finished and ready for distribution. 3 Mar 2007

By Greg Szymanski

In this Confession to the Jesuits No. 24, we call on an article which first appeared on the Cutting Edge web site and then reprinted at Bible scholar's Mike Novielli's site at <http://www.geocities.com/propheticangel2001/>

The article is entitled Witchcraft, The White House and Roman Catholicism. Next, we take a look at an old interview conducted with Eric Phelps, which is pertinent today since his third edition of Vatican Assassins is now available at his web site at www.vaticanassassins.org

First let's look at the Witchcraft article and then the Phelps interview:

WITCHCRAFT THE WHITE HOUSE AND ROMAN CATHOLOICISM

The moral bankruptcy of our society is well-documented. But, few people understand why we have become morally bankrupt. However, when we look at society through the Biblical eyes of God, we can easily see why we are facing the unprecedented troubles of today. This study of America through the eyes of God is what we will always try to do here; stay with us for some eye-opening truths.

We have stated many times on this radio program that the occultic plan was to reelect George Bush as President and to stage the appearance of Anti-Christ during his second term. Remember the occultic prophesy, communicated in 1492 to the leader of a Spanish secret society: "The leader who faces the obelisk shall introduce the world to the man who will introduce Anti-Christ". This prophecy was dealing with a political leader who would deliberately face a major obelisk at a critical time in world history. Occultists all over the world would then know that the successor to this political leader would be the one to introduce the world to Anti-Christ. Then, in the late 1700's, the guiding spirits of the occultic secret societies communicated that the new America would become the new Atlantis; in other words, the new America was destined to assume the leadership of the drive to institute the New World Order. From this time forward, occultists looked to American leadership, specifically the President, to fulfill this prophecy.

And the United States of America has the world's tallest and largest obelisk -- the Washington Monument. Every President from George Washington to Jimmy Carter took their oaths of office from the East side of the Capitol Building; however, on January 20, 1981, President Reagan insisted that the Inauguration Ceremony take place from the West side of the Capitol. A quick look at a map of Washington, D.C., shows that, when President Reagan addressed the crowd to give his Inaugural speech, he was facing that great obelisk, the Washington Monument. Occultists the world over clearly knew the significance. They knew that the occultic plan to produce Anti-Christ was nearing its completion; they knew that Reagan's successor was to be the President to be in power when Anti-Christ staged his appearance. President Reagan took his second oath of office from the traditional East side of the Capitol as did President Bush. The plan called for only one President to face the occultic obelisk.

However, as we have stated repeatedly, God's Plan is the one which will prevail, not Satan's. Even though the New World Order Plan called for George Bush's reelection, God's power prevailed to thwart Bush's second Administration. For reasons only God will know, He caused Bill Clinton to be elected as America's 42nd President. This undoubtedly caused much consternation among the occultists around the world. They were asking among themselves whether Clinton was willing and capable of carrying the torch of the New World Order. Clearly, Clinton had to signal to these powerful New World Order occultists that he would, indeed, carry forward the Plan to produce Anti-Christ. Clinton flashed two important signals designed to reassure:

During his acceptance speech, Clinton stated that one of the most important influences in his life was his college professor, Carroll Quigley. Professor Quigley is renowned for his ardent support of the New World Order. Clinton decided that his Inauguration would also be from the West side of the Capitol, so that he also faced the obelisk, the Washington Monument. This action was a clear signal to every occultist in the know that Clinton was willing and capable of carrying the Plan forward.

One of the fundamental truths which I learned in the study of history in both high school and college was that, if people do not learn the facts of history, they will be doomed to repeat the mistakes of history. Since most people do not learn history from one generation to another, history does have a nasty habit of repeating itself. And history is repeating itself in America as we are on a parallel path with Germany in the 1920's-1930's, as that country progressed gradually into Nazism. Later historians would ask the question, "How could the country of Martin Luther become the country of Adolf Hitler"?

This very good question prompted the unparalleled study of history in the years following the conclusion of World War II. One of these studies was written by a renowned psychiatrist, Dr. Robert Jay Lifton, in his book, "The Nazi Doctors". Dr. Lifton systematically showed how the Nazi holocaust, which ultimately killed over 18 million people, actually began in the early 1920's, as doctors and nurses began to kill people under their care, people whom they felt no longer had "quality of life". Certain doctors and nurses were killing several types of people in their institutions:

The terminally ill. Doctors and nurses argued that they were actually acting very humanely on the behalf of their terminally ill patients when they euthanized them, because they were preventing them from long periods of pain and mental anguish. In some cases, patients wrote letters asking the doctors to euthanize them. The emotionally ill. Again, doctors and nurses reasoned that these people could not enjoy a normal life, and therefore, should be killed. Such killing was deemed to also benefit German society by preventing state resources from being endlessly poured into keeping individuals alive who could never contribute anything back to the state. The physically handicapped. All the arguments listed above were used in this category of people. At the beginning, people were euthanized who were extremely handicapped; however, by the end of the war, people were being killed for the slightest of reasons, i.e., if their ears were malformed. Remember, human beings are creatures of gradual change. Satan is well aware that, if he can open the door to an objectionable practice just a crack, he can later open it gradually further and further, until he finally has it open all the way. Such was the case in pre-Nazi Germany, and such is the case today in America, as the scenario is unfolding before our eyes. How important was the gradual public acceptance of the euthanizing of the types of people we have just discussed? Dr. Lifton states emphatically in his book, the Nazi Doctors, that Hitler's ultimate holocaust would simply not have been possible had it not been for the interim step of euthanasia. This statement is very heavy, and it should sound all sorts of alarms in our hearts and heads about the direction this country is headed. However --

Let us pause here for just a moment. We have devoted several radio programs on this subject of gradually changing the hearts and minds of people to a practice which we have always considered objectionable. We have named this process the "Six-Step Attitudinal Change Plan". Under Presidents Franklin Roosevelt to George Bush, American society has gradually been conditioned to accept many formerly objectionable practices as normal and healthy. In so many instances, the door to such objectionable practices has been opened either most of the way or just a crack. We have seen this action occur in many areas:

1. The Slaughtering of the Innocent Unborn

Abortion Fetal Tissue Research The French "Morning After" Abortion pill, RU- 486.

2. Euthanising People Who Want To Die Rather Than Face Life In Their Present Condition.

So far, the people whom Dr. Kevorkian has killed have all requested to be killed. And other cases of euthanasia have occurred where the family has made the decision to kill their "loved" one. And no doubt, this will be the case for some years to come. However, the time will arrive when the decision to kill will pass from the individual to the family to the State. Dr. Lifton chronicles this exact progression in Germany prior to the point where Adolf Hitler assumed power. At this point, in 1933, Hitler stepped into the ongoing euthanasia process and committed Federal Government resources and manpower to the effort. Obviously, the number of people killed between 1933-1938 dramatically increased, and the stage was set for the Holocaust to begin.

We believe President Clinton may be the man who will also step into the ongoing process of euthanasia to commit Federal Government resources and manpower to the effort, and will begin to set the stage for the Biblically-prophesied worldwide Holocaust of the Great Tribulation. And Dr. Kevorkian, dubbed "Dr. Death" by some and "Jack the Dripper" by others, will have played a major role in conditioning Americans that Euthanasia is normal and healthy. At this point, Dr. Kevorkian has assisted 15 people to die, all with their consent. Dr. Kevorkian is preparing two actions which might have tremendous impact in furthering Euthanasia:

Dr. Kevorkian is preparing to legally challenge the impending Minnesota law which prohibits any doctor from assisting any person to commit suicide. If Dr. Kevorkian succeeds in overturning this new law, every state in the Union will be very reluctant to enact similar legislation. Thus, the case for national Euthanasia will have just been legally legitimized. We believe that this scenario is what Satan had in mind all along. The tactic is brilliant. During Pat Robertson's '700 Club', 2-17-93, Robertson interviewed a reporter who had talked with Dr. Jack Kevorkian. Dr. Kevorkian would like to have Euthanasia Centers opening in all parts of the country. He is sending out mailers to doctors who are currently operating Abortion Clinics, asking them if they would be interested in converting them into Euthanasia Clinics!! The fact of the matter is that these clinics, plus Planned Parenthood, will cease their reason for existence when the French abortion pill, RU-486, becomes widely available. Women will no longer need to go to an Abortion Clinic to get rid of their "unwanted tissue mass". They can simply achieve identical results by swallowing this little pill. And many doctors will lose millions of dollars of income. But, they will have nothing to fear if Dr. Kevorkian has his way -- these doctors will simply rename their clinics, will buy the necessary new machinery to kill adults, and will reopen as public Euthanasia Clinics.

As revolting as this scenario may sound to many of you, Dr. Kevorkian's action here is very much consistent with the plans of the New World Order to reduce the population of the world from its present 6 billion people to 2 billion by the year 2,000 A.D. To achieve this ambitious goal in just 7 more years obviously will require that the pace of killing be stepped up. The campaign for public acceptance of Euthanasia and its widespread use, is still in the stage of people making personal decisions to end their life. And the reasons being advanced are still medical, i.e., because said person is terminally ill and wants to end their suffering while they can still do so "with dignity". However, once public Euthanasia centers are set up and operating, who will argue when a person walks into the clinic demanding to be euthanised for nonmedical reasons, perhaps because he/she has just lost a loved one or because they have just lost their job? Immediately, an outcry would be heard that such a request must be granted. Then, America would be on a truly slippery slope to widespread killing.

And we have already seen instances where family members have made decisions to kill "loved ones".

We see these two paths occurring simultaneously. Thus, the stage would be set for the Federal Government to secretly step in to commit state resources to the Euthanasia effort, and later, to begin to decide who should be put to death and for what reason. This was the path in Germany leading to the Nazi Holocaust, and this is the approximate path which will be followed here. In this regard, watch Donna Shalala, President Clinton's new Director of Health and Human Services. This is one of those areas in which the door has been opened a little bit, and is now susceptible to being kicked completely open by direct Governmental action.

Another way to achieve the desired goal of a two-thirds reduction in world population in just 7 more years is to reduce conception. This course of action has been vigorously followed for the past 20 years, and is one of the major thrusts of Planned Parenthood. Contraception of all kinds is encouraged among America's teens in health clinics in our high schools. However, a new type of contraception to prevent conception is now under discussion; the debate over Norplant Implants. Norplant consists of six matchstick-size capsules that are surgically implanted in a person's arm. These capsules will slowly release a very low dosage of a synthetic hormone, levonorgestrel, the same hormone now found in several traditional birth control pills. Simply stated, Norplant means sterilization for as long as it is implanted within the body, and no one knows for sure that a woman who has had it in her body for five years will be able to conceive after it has been removed.

Norplant was approved by the Food and Drug Administration in 1990, and is "being touted as a cure, not only for teen pregnancy, but also for welfare dependency, child abuse, and drug-addicted mothers". (Newsweek, 2/15/93, "The Norplant Debate", p. 37). Did you understand the staggering significance of that last statement? Proponents of national birth control are admittedly targeting teen mothers that are at the bottom of the economic ladder, and that involves a lot of nonwhite folk. Newsweek quotes a black minister in Baltimore, Maryland, as complaining that this proposed Norplant program is nothing more than genocide aimed at the black population.

Before you scoff too loudly, let me remind you that the New World Order is strictly a White Anglo-Saxon Protestant world. Blacks, Orientals, and Hispanics need not apply. Any person who is not a liberal Protestant need not apply, either. And there is a Nazi parallel here, too. History records that, when German doctors were contemplating killing those people who were living "lives unworthy of life", they began the Euthanasia process by sterilization. Dr. Lifton captures this initial drive toward sterilization in Chapter 1 of his book, "The Nazi Doctors". He stated that, in Germany, sterilization contributed mightily to the process of mass murder.

German doctors targeted several groups of people for sterilization; those individuals who were suffering from "life unworthy of life". Some of these conditions were:

Mental retardation Epilepsy Schizophrenia Manic Depressives Chorea, an hereditary brain disorder Hereditary Blindness Hereditary Deafness Grave Bodily Deformation Hereditary Alcoholism However, while these hereditary conditions were publicly given as the reasons for the sterilization procedures, Nazi leaders were indirectly linking the project to a "racial cleansing". Physician leaders consistently called for "racial cleansing" or "racial hygiene" to be carried out against anyone who was not of the "Nordic race".

Once this insidious program began, it took several ominous turns: 1. Nazis began to refer to the Jews as a "race" that was obviously not Nordic, thus setting the stage for their elimination. And make no mistake about the writings of the New Age; they, too, talk extensively about the "Aryan race", about cleansing, and about the Jews as an undesirable element. 2. Nazi officials began to apply political consideration to their determination as to who needed to receive sterilization. They began to declare anyone who spoke out against them in any way as being "feeble-minded", and thus "eligible" for sterilization. Beginning in the late 1970's, writings began to appear which stated that anyone who has not achieved the proper "level of consciousness" should be considered dead. This attitude clearly begins to set the stage where anyone who is not properly attuned to the New World Order could be targeted for destruction.

As we end this topic, we need to make one point very clear: The Nazis attributed both their sterilization and euthanasia campaigns to the need to "cleanse" their society; in other words, they reverse the meaning of terms. Their sterilization and their killing became the "healing" agents of the German state. Evil became good, and good became evil. You can clearly see the same logic being applied by Dr. Kevorkian and his supporters, and in the Norplant sterilization device. America is clearly far down the path toward the final genocide of the Great Tribulation Period. We are clearly the generation which will see these things.

The entire program of the New World Order is progressing according to a Satanic spiritual basis. Do not be deceived -- the leaders of the coming world system are practitioners of the ancient "Mysteries" religion dating back to the Satanism of Nimrod of Babylon. And the Bible clearly foretells that this is to be the case. In other words, the ancient occultism of 5,000 years ago is to come back full circle, and will be the religion of Anti-Christ. But, the Bible foretells that, until Anti-Christ destroys the False Religious leader part way through the Great Tribulation, the practice of the old Satanic religion will occur through the deception that it is really Christian.

And we see this coming true before our eyes in the activities of the Roman Catholic Institution. We have reported on this phenomenon consistently through our previous programs and we would be happy to share with you these programs if you would like to receive them; however, the startling facts we wish to share with you today about Roman Catholicism comes from a very unlikely and invaluable source. Doc Marquee is a former Satanist who was also initiated into the Illuminati. But, God had an important plan for Marquee's life. In 1979, the Holy Spirit led Doc Marquee out of Satanism/Illuminism and into the glorious light of Salvation through the atoning blood of Jesus Christ. Since his conversion, Marquee has been very active as an acknowledged expert in the occult. Marquee has given many seminars to police departments, training detectives to recognize signs in a crime scene which show that the perpetrators were occultic, and that, perhaps, the crime was committed as part of a Satanic ritual.

Doc Marquee has also written a book, which is being published by American Focus Publishing Company, entitled "Secrets of the Illuminati". While this topic has been explored before, no author has been able to bring a truly occultic angle to the discussion. In other words, Marquee looks at the plan to bring in the New World Order from the viewpoint of a former witch. In his book, Marquee includes a chapter entitled, "Is It Catholicism Or Witchcraft?" At the beginning of this chapter, Marquee makes a quite startling statement, "I must emphatically state that Catholicism and witchcraft are one and the same...there is no difference between witchcraft and Catholicism." Then, Marquee examines Catholicism and witchcraft from the vantage point of a former witch.

Marquee identifies several critically important areas in which the practice of Roman Catholicism and witchcraft are identical. We will first list these areas of commonality and then comment specifically upon them. These common areas are:

The altar The golden goblet known as a chalice. Colored candles used in services The use of incense. The use of bells in the ceremony. Praying to statues. The use of Latin in services. The use of a golden scepter in giving a large blessing to the people. Common belief in Purgatory The common belief in the host. Common belief in the five elements. Now, let us examine each of these areas of commonality:

1. The altar in every Catholic church is prominently positioned at the front of the church. The "Mysteries of the Mass" are celebrated on and around the altar. In witchcraft, also, the altar is similarly used for three purposes:

To practice certain metaphysical rites, such as the casting of certain spells or to honor occult deities. To hold the tools of magic. To perform human sacrifice.

The Roman Catholic altar also holds their tools of their magic, and they daily perform human sacrifice. Remember, we are looking at this subject through the eyes of a former high-level witch who is now a born-again Christian. This daily human sacrifice is performed according to the false belief in "transubstantiation", the belief that the priest magically transforms the wafer into Jesus' body and the wine into His blood. Marquee states, "In other words, every day Christ is being reincarnated and then sacrificed.. they perform daily their human sacrifice in which Christ is ...sacrificed for their sins." It is shocking to realize that the Roman Catholics are daily performing human sacrifice in a manner similar to that of witches throughout the centuries.

2. The Catholic Golden Goblet, or Chalice. "It is this cup that the wine poured into it becomes the...literal blood of Christ. When a witch does a human sacrifice, after the victim's throat is sliced open, the spilled blood will be collected in a chalice, just as the Catholics do, except the witch's chalice holds the real thing." In Satan's eyes, the Catholics are performing the same rite as the witches.

3. "Candles were introduced to the Catholic mass about 320 A.D. There is no Scriptural reasons for them, unless... you are a practicing witch. Below is a list of different colored candles a witch would use throughout the year. See if you can recall any of these colors used during a Catholic mass:

White -- Purity, Truth, Sincerity Red -- Strength, Health, Vigor, Sexual Love Light Blue -- Tranquillity, Understanding, Patience Dark Blue -- Impulsiveness, Depression, Change Green -- Finance, Fertility, Luck Gold/Yellow -- Persuasion, Charm, Confidence Brown -- Hesitation, Uncertainty Pink -- Honor, Love, Morality Black -- Evil, Loss, Discord, Confusion Purple -- Tension, Ambition, Power Silver-Gray -- Cancellation, Stalemate Orange -- Encouragement, Stimulation Greenish-Yellow -- Sickness, Anger, Jealousy "Using these colored candles and the right spells, a witch can cause anything to happen...our Catholic friends are not only using these occult tools, they also pay for them when they go to various statues and light...candles."

4. "Incense is a constant tool that is used by priests. They will take a philter (incense burner), walk around the altar, and then wave it out toward the crowd with an invocation...Not only do witches use incense, but they will consecrate their altar and their fellow witches in the exact way the Catholics do..."

5. Bells are also utilized by both Roman Catholics and witches. The bells are actually baptized, and in both witchcraft and Catholicism, altar boys attend the priest in sounding the bells.

6. Witches were praying to images or statues for many centuries before Catholics began the practice.

7. "Until recently, most of the rites of witchcraft were said in Latin...why is it, when the witches stopped using Latin as much as they did, about twenty years ago, that the Catholic mass was stopped being told in Latin? Today, it is spoken mostly in American English, the same way in which a witch's mass is held."

8. "...when the Pope, Cardinals, or priests want to give a huge blessing, they will take out a golden scepter, or wand, dip it in holy water, and then wave it on the people... wands are nothing new in the occult. When a witch wants to direct his power he can do it by means of wands." He can also control the demonic forces at his disposal by using a wand to consecrate a circle with a pentacle inside. Holy water is also used by a witch to purify himself and his instruments, and the water is made holy in both witchcraft and Catholicism by mixing water with salt.

9. The teaching of Purgatory is not found in the Bible. According to Catholic catechism, Purgatory is described as "a logically deduced place. Since a Catholic could not go straight to heaven if he had sinned, and since he could not go to hell if he had not died in mortal sin, there had to be a place in between where he could be purified" -- Purgatory. However, the belief in Purgatory is "totally occultic in origin". Witchcraft teaches that after a person goes through Purgatory, he is reincarnated and is more powerful in his next life than he was before. After several reincarnations, he will become purified enough to live with the gods and goddesses, precisely the same end as the Catholics teach.

10. Both Catholics and Witches teach that the host becomes the actual body of their respective gods. To the Roman Catholic, the host becomes the actual body of Jesus Christ; the witch believes the host actually becomes the body of their pagan deity, " I.H. S. -- or Iris, Horus, and Semiramis". This concept is known in both circles as transubstantiation.

11. Both witchcraft and Roman Catholicism teach that the universe is comprised of five elements: Spirit, Water, Air, Fire, and Earth. These occultic five elements are also found in the Catholic mass.

Spirit -- of the wafer god they sacrifice daily. Water -- Holy water they use to purify and baptize Air -- symbolically used through the incense Fire -- used in tangent with the incense burning Earth -- The elements of the wafer come from the earth in agriculture, and the flesh of their sacrificed deity, Jesus Christ, also came from the earth. Doc Marquee's conclusion is inescapable and damning: The practice of occultism has come full circle from ancient Babylon to the Roman Catholic Institution today. As Jesus counseled in Revelation 18:4, "Come out of her, my people, that you do not participate in her sins, neither in her plagues".

Special thanks to the Cutting Edge Website for these informative webpages and above all, the Lord Jesus Christ himself for his goodness and mercy..

----- THE PHELPS INTERVIEW

So, you thought you were pretty well informed by now about all of the main players on the "conspiracy" playing field? You've maybe been hearing for years about (or bumped into on your own) the various elements of society who control our world from behind the scenes.

You've gotten familiar with the role played by, for instance, the Khazarian Zionists (who invented the word "Jew" to disguise their adopted heritage, as distinguished from the biblical Judeans), or the role played by the Banksters (banking gangsters) controlling the economies of the world, by the CFR (Council on Foreign Relations), the Trilateral Commission, the Bilderbergers, the Committee of 300 (the 17 wealthiest so-called "elite" families)-the Rothschild's in England and Rockefellers in America and Bronfman's in Canada, and on and on, comprising the physical power structure of the New World Order puppets under the direction of darkly motivated, other-dimensional "master deceivers" commonly known as Lucifer or Satan and their "fallen angel" cohorts.

While all of those details contribute to understanding the Larger Picture, what you are about to read fills in a most important Missing Link in this entire structure. And I don't mean a little side issue; I mean a link so central-yet so well hidden from general public view, and for so long-that even the most studied of "conspiracy theory" scholars probably have not put together much of the information that is going to be presented here.

To call the following outlay "controversial" and "sensitive" is about as mild an understatement of the truth of the matter as can be made! This missing link changes the entire slant of the entire playing field!

After months of anticipation and weeks of preparation, I was finally able to speak with Vatican Assassins author Eric Jon Phelps on Tuesday, March 14. There was simply no other way to cover Eric's historic masterpiece spanning, literally, five centuries, than to just ask questions covering huge spans of time and major historical events. It took us almost four hours to accomplish the task, yet we could easily have gone on for another forty.

We here at The SPECTRUM are simply unwilling to reduce the importance of this work by presenting it in a too distilled fashion. In fact, in order to share this material with at least some of the pertinent backup, Eric has granted us permission to print (directly after the interview) several excerpts from his soon-to-be-published book which will help you in understanding certain aspects of this magnificently important and broad-sweeping story. The missing link is surely a central link.

Let's call this story the "Jesuit-Vatican connection" to the unfolding New World Order agenda. You make up your own mind just how absolutely central, yet well hidden, has been this link! There's a good reason the secret Vatican library is so extensive and yet remains so intact from outside intrusion, despite the many others who would like to possess such a collection of information detailing much "censored" data about our true, otherworldly cultural heritage.

When one reads a work like Vatican Assassins, one can't help but reflect back on the purposely "adjusted" and watered down and boring moments in high school history class. Meanwhile, the true history of what has gone on is dynamic and full of calculated intrigue.

In this business, I've heard and read a lot of things. But when I had to pick my jaw up off the floor during the reading of certain historical portions in Eric's book-well, let me just say that Truth certainly is stranger, and far more interesting, than the many fictions we've been led to believe are historical fact. And yet The Truth does fit together like the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle.

This book SHOULD be a best-seller, but it is hardly likely to achieve such general attention-considering how well controlled and censored is the publishing business. Thus is the reason for our lengthy presentation of this most astonishing and critically important material here in The SPECTRUM.

We are in a time of Truth being revealed from all directions. And there is probably no more fundamental, mind-rattling, and previous notions-shattering example of that than what is being presented here. The interview is directly followed by a number of pertinent excerpts from Eric's eye-opening book-which will be available July 1.

[Editor's note: It should be noted up-front that the information presented below is the studied opinion of Eric Jon Phelps. We here at The SPECTRUM find much about his presentation of his historical research which meshes with and expands upon Truth which has been presented by many other authors in these pages and elsewhere. And that is good; Truth is Truth is Truth, and should all mesh.

However, for the peace of mind of our unique readership-which typically has cultivated a more aware spiritual perspective than the general public-we do not want to give the impression that we agree with (or wish to promote) some collateral aspects of Eric's presentation having to do with his personal "religious" convictions. The focus of those convictions follows a much more biblically conventional (literal) path-in stark contrast to the unconventional, questioning, wide-angle vision of his historical material.

Generally such opinions are simply allowed to stand on their own-for you to sort and interpret as you see fit-rather than being singled-out to be addressed editorially. However, in this case, the practical side of Eric's stated religious convictions include the condoning of some degree of violence (or violent protest) and use of armaments. And such convictions are very much the opposite of our philosophical position-for many reasons, not the least of which is the obvious Adversarial bait-and-entrapment which would result from choosing what we would consider to be low-frequency responses to schoolroom Earth's current challenges.

Yet, if the perceptive reader penetrates "between the lines" thoughtfully, there is glimpsed a recurring commendable spiritual message in Eric's commentary-of "Have the courage to speak The Truth" and "God helps those who help themselves"-which we certainly DO agree with wholeheartedly and have long supported enthusiastically.

We are in the time of the Great Awakening on this planet. The Light of Truth, intensifying with each passing moment, is nudging many to step forward and share what they know. Will such ones follow that nudge or continue to hide in fear? The answer to that question is perhaps the most important aspect of schoolroom Earth's relentless testing at this critical time.

One last-minute footnote before beginning this interview: The Arts & Entertainment (A&E) cable television channel just started to air-on Easter Sunday evening!-a new two-hour documentary called: The Vatican Revealed. Tape it so you can study it carefully; within the lines of dialog and some of those people chosen for commentaries are many, many clues to the true power of the Vatican over world affairs. It would, of course, be much more revealing to watch the A&E program AFTER having read and digested the following.]

Martin: Before we begin, let me say a few words. The topic of your book is so comprehensive and covers, literally, all aspects of global control by the Jesuits, dating back to 1540. I would like to begin our conversation with a very important point of clarification so that our readers have something to hold onto while reading the historical narrative we are about to present. Let me also add that your book is one of the most compelling, dynamic, genuinely educational historical documents I have ever read. I want to tell you, I am impressed!

You, literally, link every major global conflict and political assassination to the hands of the Jesuit Order. The Jews, as with many other groups you mention, have been the unwitting pawns in this Jesuit Agenda.

Today, the present. I'm going to start here, and then we're going to go way back in time and work our way up. But, I want to start HERE because it will give a foundation for going back in time.

Today, who is the Superior General of the Jesuits, the so-called "Black Pope" [black here refers to hidden, evil activities, not to race or color] who gives the orders to the actual Pope. Is it still Jean-Baptist Janssens?

Phelps: Janssens, Frenchman. No, he passed away in 1964. Then Pedro Arrupe came to power. Then, after Arrupe died, in 1988, I believe, the present Jesuit General is Count Hans Kolvenbach. [See photo nearby.] I call him Count Hans Kolvenhoof.

Martin: Let's discuss this position of "General" and, in addition, who is this person, Count Hans Kolvenbach? Who does he serve? What are his origins? Where does he hail from?

Phelps: The present General is a Dutchman, his nationality is Dutch.

Martin: Where is he? Physically, where is he?

Phelps: He resides in Rome, at the headquarters of the Jesuits, called the Church of Jesu. So, the Jesuit General resides in Rome at, what I just called, the Jesuit headquarters.

Martin: The Church of Jesu, is that near the Vatican?

Phelps: It's not far from the Vatican, right. It's in the same general area. It's headquarters of the Knights of Malta.

Martin: Is it part of Vatican City, proper?

Phelps: Right, I believe, yes it is.

Martin: Where does Satan fit into this picture, and what is the ultimate goal of the Jesuits, the so-called Society of Jesus?

Phelps: The Jesuit General, and the other high Jesuit Generals, they are sorcerers. They are Luciferians, and they worship what they would call Lucifer. They do not believe in Satan. They believe in Lucifer.

Now, according to Alberto Rivera, he was invited-because he was a top Jesuit at the time in the late '60s-he was invited to a "Black Mass" in Spain where there were quite a few top Jesuit Generals present. And he called it a "Black Mass". Well, when you're involved in a "Black Mass", you're involved in the worship of Lucifer, all dressed in their black capes and so on.

Martin: I'm fascinated by Count Hans Kolvenbach because nobody in the world knows who this person is. I've never heard the name.

Phelps: Let me just tell you that you can see his picture and his top Jesuits-just a second and I'll get the book. The name of the book is called Jesuits: A Multi-Biography, by Jean Lacoutre, and that is available, usually, in the bookstores. It was published in 1995.

Jean Lacoutre is a Frenchman. He was a communist, is a communist. On the last page of the pictures in it, that is right adjacent to page 343, you see Peter Hans Kolvenbach. He's the Jesuit General, and he looks like just a very evil individual. There's a Black man, who's a high Jesuit, he's a 29 Superior Jesuit with his cosmopolitan General staff. One of the General staff looks like Ben Kingsley of Shindler's List. There are six White men, and one Black man. And that's his General staff.

Martin: What is the process of choosing a successor General?

Phelps: The High Jesuits elect him, and he's elected for life-unless he becomes a "heretic".

Martin: And the so-called "High Jesuits" represent what group?

Phelps: I would say that they're the "professed", the high 4th Degree. When a Jesuit is professed, he is under the Jesuit Oath; he is under the "Bloody Oath" that I have in my book.

Martin: Do we have permission to reprint that Oath in our paper?

Phelps: Of course, absolutely.

Martin: One of my questions has to do with the Oath and it's similarity to the Protocols Of The Learned Elders Of Zion, and I wrote that question before I got back to the Protocols portion of your book.

Phelps: The Jesuits obviously wrote the Protocols because they have carried out every protocol in that little handbook. They have carried everything out. And, Alberto Rivera says-and he was a Jesuit-he was greatly maligned, not helped at all by the Apostate, Protestants, and Baptists in this country; he was helped, somewhat, by Jack Chick. Jack Chick published his story in six volumes, titled Alberto I, II, III, IV, V, & VI.

Alberto Rivera says that it was Jews aligned with the Pope who published the Protocols. Well, I tend to feel that it was just the Jesuits themselves because they, and they alone, were the ones who were able to bring this to pass.

They're the ones in the government. They're the ones behind professional sports. The owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers is a Knight of Malta. The owner of the Detroit Lions is a Knight of Malta. All your top owners of these ball clubs, for the most part, are Knights of Malta, getting the people whooped up in this hoopla over games and sports, while they're busy creating a tyranny. So, that was one of the things in the Protocols-that they would create "amusements".

Another one they used was Walt Disney, 33rd-degree Freemason-Disneyworld, Disneyland . Another one was Milton Hersey, with Hersey Park. They create all of these amusements and games and pastimes to get the people drunk with pleasure, while they're busy overthrowing the Protestant form of government.

Martin: Where does Las Vegas factor into all of this?

Phelps: Las Vegas, well, for the most part, is controlled by the Mafia. But all the high Mafia families are Roman Catholic, and they are ALL subordinate to the Pope or to the Cardinal of New York, which is Cardinal O'Connor-because the Commission, the Mafia Commission resides in New York.

Frank Costello was a member of the Mob Commission, and he was intimate, personal friends with Knight of Malta, Hollywood mogul, Joe Kennedy. And that has not changed.

So, the High Knights are good, dear brothers with the High Mafia Dons-the Gambinos, the Lucchese, the Columbos, all of them. And they control Hollywood, not the Jews. It's only Jews who are front-men who are involved in Hollywood and working for the Mafia and for the Cardinal, just like in politics it would be Arlen Specter. Arlen Specter was Spelly's [Cardinal Spellman's] Jew in the assassination [of President Kennedy], and he would never say a word about it.

Martin: Now, as we go through here, if there's anything that you don't want me to print, please let me know because, literally, I'm going to print everything we say in this conversation.

Phelps: That's fine, that's fine with me because it needs to be said.

Martin: Let's get back to Count Hans Kolvenbach. I want to shine the spotlight on this guy for just a little bit here. Let's talk about him. What does he do? Who is he? Let's talk about his position as "General". How do they exercise this control over the Pope? Does the Pope know he's a pawn?

Phelps: Ok, one question at a time. So, which question do you want me to deal with?

Martin: Let's just shine the light right on the Count.

Phelps: The Jesuit General, ok.

Martin: Let's start there, and you tell me everything you want to tell me about that position.

Phelps: The Jesuit General is the absolute, complete, and total dictator and autocrat of the Order. When he speaks, his provincials move. The provincials are his major subordinates. There are around 83 provincials right now.

As I understand it, the Jesuit Order has divided the world into 83 regions. Ok? For each region, there is a Jesuit provincial. There are 10 provincials in the United States. There is one for Central America. There is one for Ireland. They've divided up the world into these provinces.

So it's old Babylonian provincial government, centered in Nebuchadnezzar or the Jesuit General himself; so it's strictly a Roman form of government where all the states or provinces are subordinate to this worldwide sovereign.

The Jesuit General exercises full and complete power over the Order. He meets with his provincials. When they decide to start a war or an agitation, he gets the information from the provincial of that country, how best to go about this, the demeanor of the people, and then he uses legitimate grievances to foam an agitation-like the 1964 Civil Rights Movement. That was ALL a Jesuit agitation, completely, because the end result was more consolidation of power in Washington with the 1964 Civil Rights Act that was written by [the longtime President of the University of Notre Dame, the Reverend] Theodore Hesburgh.

The Jesuit General rules the world through his provincials. And the provincials then, of course, rule the lower Jesuits, and there are many Jesuits who are not "professed", so many of the lower Jesuits have no idea what's going on at the top. They have no concept of the power of their Order.

It's just like Freemasonry. The lower have no idea that the High Shriner Freemasons are working for the Jesuit General. They think that they're just doing works and being good people. But the bottom line is that the high-level Freemasons are subject, also, to the Jesuit General because the Jesuit General, with Fredrick the Great, wrote the High Degrees, the last 8 Degrees, of the Scottish Rite Freemasonry when Fredrick protected them when they were suppressed by the Pope in 1773.

So, you have the alignment with the Jesuit Order and the most powerful Freemason they had in the craft, Fredrick the Great, during their suppression. That is an irrefutable conclusion. And then, when you see the Napoleonic Wars, the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars carried out by Freemasonry, everything Napoleon did, and the Jacobins, whatever they did, completely benefited the Jesuit Order.

It's to this end that Alexander Dumas wrote his The Count Of Monte Cristo. The Count is the Jesuit General. Monte=Mount, Cristo=Christ. The Count of the Mount of Christ. Alexander Dumas was talking about the Jesuit General getting vengeance when the Jesuits were suppressed, and many of them were consigned to an island, three hours sailing, West, off the coast of Portugal. And so, when the Jesuits finally regained their power, they punished all of the monarchs of Europe who had suppressed them, drove them from their thrones, including the Knights of Malta from Malta, using Napoleon.

And Alexander Dumas, who fought for the Italian patriots in 1848, to free Rome from the temporal power of the Pope, wrote many books and one of the books was to expose this, and that was The Count Of Monte Cristo.

So, when you read that book, bear in mind that it's really a satire on the Jesuit Order regaining their power in France. The Count of Monte Cristo has an intelligence apparatus that can't be beat. Well, that's the Jesuit Order.

But the Count doesn't get what he really ought to have, or his last wish, and that's the love of woman. He gains back all of his political power; he gains back everything he lost; but he doesn't have the love of a woman. And THAT is the Jesuit Order. They have no women. They have no love of a woman. Because to have a wife, to have a woman, means you have an allegiance to your wife and family, and you cannot obey the General. That's why they will NEVER be married, and that's one of the great KEYS to their success.

They can betray a nation and walk away. They can betray all the Irish Catholics getting on the Titanic, and walk away. They can betray us in Vietnam and walk away. They can betray us every time we go to the hospital and get radiated and cut and drugged, and walk away, because it's "for the greater glory of God"-Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam: the greater glory of the god who sits in Rome.

Martin: What is the ULTIMATE goal of the Jesuits?

Phelps: Their ultimate goal is the rule of the world, with the Pope of their making, from Solomon's rebuilt Temple in Jerusalem. That's their ultimate goal.

Martin: And why is Solomon's Temple rebuilt so important?

Phelps: Because the Jesuits have always wanted that. When Ignatius Loyola first started the Order, one of the first things he did was, he wanted to go to Jerusalem and set up the Jesuit headquarters there. So, he went there, he tried to do it and failed, came back, went to school, started his Latin studies, etc. Maybe it might be a good idea to just review a little bit about Ignatius Loyola.

Martin: Yes.

Phelps: Ok, Ignatius Loyola was a Spanish soldier, and he was wounded at a battle between the French and the Spanish, and his leg was shattered. Well, the French General, because Loyola was very brave in conflict, ordered his own doctors to attend Loyola. So they set the leg and sent him back to his home-which, of course, he was royalty to the Counsel of Loyola in Spain, in the area of the Basques.

Loyola, through his series of desiring to regain his leg-it had healed improperly, so he made a rack where he would stretch the leg, with severe, horrible, awful pain-and trying to stretch this leg to get it back to normal shape, he endured awful, terrible pain. He had it rebroken, again, a couple of times and it still did not heal properly, so he had a perpetual limp. He could no longer be the courtier among women, and as a result, he went into this depression, and he then had this vision of the saints, etc., etc., and he wrote his spiritual exercises.

I will stop at the spiritual exercises, just for a minute, but I'll take up from there. Loyola then wanted to form an army, but when this happened with his spiritual exercises, those spiritual exercises would be basic training for all of his Jesuits. That's what they will ALL go through. That's what every Jesuit goes through today.

One of the maxims of the spiritual exercises is that if my superior says "black is white and white is black", then that's the way it is. That is in his spiritual exercises. That is what is quoted in JFK, when Kevin Costner is telling his people: "Hey, people, we've got to start thinking like the CIA. Black is white and white is black." That was a Jesuit giveaway that the Jesuits produced that movie, because they're quoting Ignatius Loyola in that movie from his spiritual exercises.

So, Loyola had an indomitable will. He had a will of steel, and he set his mind to regain back what the Papacy had lost to the Reformation. And so, he went to the Pope, and the Pope in 1540 then created the Jesuit Order. But this man is a soldier, he's a lawyer, and he put together a legion of soldiers and warriors to get back what Rome had lost, as well as institute a World Government for the Pope, from Jerusalem. This was in 1540.

He started the Order in 1536. He was arrested by the Inquisition, and he was released, and he went to the Pope; he threw himself at the feet of the Pope. He would be completely at his service. The Pope chartered him, and that Pope was Pius III. The Pope chartered them, created the Jesuit Order; now he has Papal protection, and they began their awful history of deeds of blood. And war after war after war after war, they're all attributed to the Jesuit Order in some way. Catholic nobles, with lots of money, donated castles and schools and money to the Jesuit Order.

Virtually everything they own has been given to them or stolen by them. Of course, they stole all of the fortunes of the Jews in World War II. They stole all their gold, all their assets and everything, whenever they went into a country. What's just been released is NOTHING compared to what they've taken.

In Edmond Paris's book, printed by Ozark Publications, called The Vatican Against Europe, it gets into great detail of what they did. It calls it-the last 30 years of war is all attributable to the Jesuits, their massacres of the Serbs and Jews, etc. But Edmond Paris did not understand that the Jesuit General-and this is one of the most important points I want to make about Von Kolvenbach-the Jesuit General is in complete control of the international intelligence community: that's the CIA, the FBI, the KGB, the Israeli Mossad, the German BND, the British SIS. The Jesuit General is in COMPLETE CONTROL of the entire intelligence apparatus-FBI, every bureaucratic agency in this country, all of it; he is in complete control of it.

So, whenever he wants to find something out about an individual, they put in the Social Security number, and everything from all of the intelligence apparatus kicks-in and he and his provincials can review everything about that man. Credit cards, you name it, everything that's attached to Rome's social security number, which FDR put upon us in 1933 with the help of Spellman; at the time, I believe he was Archbishop, or maybe it was Cardinal Hayes-but Rome was behind FDR in putting him in office.

The couple of things that he did was implement social insecurity, the income tax, and recognizing Joseph Stalin's bloody Jesuit USSR government. So, with the giving of us the Social Security number, that is Rome's number-that's why I refuse to use it-and that's why they want everybody using it for everything: driver's license, tax return, credit card, everything you do, that number is you and that number is Rome's number.

Martin: Let me just back-up here for a minute. What comes to mind is Louis Freeh, head of the FBI.

Phelps: Roman Catholic, good altar boy. Probably a Knight of Columbus; I can't prove it. But anybody with that kind of power has got to be a Knight of Columbus.

And the Knights of Columbus implement Jesuit politics. And Louis Freeh was the one behind the Waco atrocity and the Oklahoma City bombing atrocity. And his top sniper was a Japanese Roman Catholic named Lon Horiuchi.

So, it's Roman Catholics in control, Knights in control of the FBI, who carried out all of this killing. And those two men, Louis Freeh and Lon Horiuchi are personally accountable to Cardinal O'Connor of New York. And Cardinal O'Connor of New York is the most powerful Cardinal in the country. He is the military vicar. And that's why Bush kissed his fanny for going to Bob Jones, because Cardinal O'Connor is the King of the American Empire. And he rules his Empire from that Palace, St. Patrick's Cathedral, "the little Vatican".

Martin: And is he in contact, do you think, with Kolvenbach?

Phelps: Of course. O'Connor himself is not a Jesuit, but the Jesuits are like the SS of the Catholic Church. They maintain order.

And the ones closest to him who maintain order are the Jesuits of Fordham University. Now, one of them-the head of Fordham University, I believe he is an Irishman, is also a member of the CFR [Council on Foreign Relations]. And I have that right here in the Annual Report of the CFR of 1993. Those Jesuits at Fordham maintain semblance and rule over the Cardinal in New York. And, of course, the powerful Jesuits of Fordham include Avery Dulles and John Foster Dulles, one of the writers of the book on the Second Vatican Council.

Martin: Let's back-up now, let's go back. What's the Council of Trent?

Phelps: The Council of Trent was the response of Rome to the Protestant Reformation. Remember-the Protestant Reformation brought us all of the political liberty that we know of today. There's no such thing as national sovereignty without the Reformation. There's no such thing as private rights without the Reformation. There's no such thing as the Law of Nations, as we know of it today, of Montesquieu and the others, without the Reformation.

So, when the Reformation came with their doctrines of salvation by grace through faith alone, and that there was no need for the priesthood to go to Heaven-that all we need is salvation in Christ, and Romans 1:17: the righteous shall live by faith. When the Reformation came, it completely stripped Rome of its spiritual power. The priests were no longer wanted because the people were getting the word of God in a Bible, specifically in Holland, England, and Germany. And so, with these great revivals breaking forth and the Reformation happening, nations were breaking away from the power of the Pope. The Holy Roman Empire was breaking up. Charles V, the Emperor, resigned and became a monk and a gardener. So, the Lord was moving mightily in breaking the power of the Holy Roman Empire, started by Charlemagne and the Pope.

Well, this was not good for Rome because they were losing lots of money. The nations were not paying "Peter's pence" anymore, which today we call "foreign aid" in this country. And so the Pope was very upset about his.

What's he going to do? These nations are breaking away from us; they're not under our temporal or spiritual power; and it's very important to remember that the Pope claims two powers-spiritual and temporal-and with the breaking of his spiritual power, he then lost his temporal power. In other words, he no longer had the ability to rule the people through the king of the country, because the king was breaking away, like Henry VIII.

So, Henry VIII broke away from the Roman Church and formed the Church of England; he no longer was subject to the Pope. This was happening in England, in Germany, in Holland, and other places.

As a result of this, the Devil raised up Ignatius Loyola with his demonisms, his "spiritual exercises" and-because Loyola had been a member of the Spanish Alumbrados, which is what we call the Illuminati today, and he used the Jesuit Order to attempt to regain back what had been taken by the Reformation-what the Lord had done through Luther, Calvin, and Knox. And, by the way, Luther, Calvin, and Knox-none of those men died violent deaths. They all lived to older age and died peacefully, amidst the power of the Jesuit machinations.

The Council of Trent consists of 25 Sessions. Those 25 Sessions accursed and condemn all the doctrines of the Reformation. It condemns anybody who does not believe that the literal Jesus Christ is in the host [holy communion bread], and that his literal blood is in the wine. That's called transubstantiation. Anybody who does not believe that is an accursed anathema. Anybody who believes that their salvation is outside the Catholic Church is accursed anathema. Anybody who believes in justification by grace through faith-anathema, accursed. Anybody who believes that the Pope is not the vicar of Christ-accursed, anathema. You see, all of these doctrines were being put forth as a result of reading the Bible, which produced the Reformation, and so the Jesuits accursed everything that the Reformers were preaching. This is all in Law called the Council of Trent.

In the 4th Session, which is probably the most important Session, the Jesuits condemn freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of conscience. So, no man has the right to choose his own religion; no man has the right to publish what he feels is the truth; and no man has the right to freedom of conscience.

Those rights were secured by our Baptist/Calvinist forefathers in the First Amendment. The man who wrote the First Amendment was James Madison, who was a Baptist/Calvinist, and he was told by that Baptist/Calvinist in Virginia, Doc. John Leland: "If you don't secure all those rights, Virginia will not ratify the Constitution." Virginia was a Baptist/Calvinist state.

So, we have a warfare between the Council of Trent and the doctrines of the Reformation, particularly as outlined by John Calvin in his Institutes Of The Christian Religion. Calvin [1536] wrote the Institutes Of The Christian Religion, he finished it when he was 27, and he dedicated it to the King of France. And because the Jesuits so hated him, he was driven from France and he resided in Geneva to the day of his death, when he became Governor of Geneva. It's Calvin and his Institutes Of The Christian Religion vs. Loyola and his Council of Trent, if you want it sewed-up in two major documents. Greg Szymanski

Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcasting Network, from 11:00am to 1:00pm central time, shortwave frequency 12.180. Listen on the internet at: www.rbnlive.com Greg Szymanski is an independent investigative journalist and his articles can be seen at www.LewisNews.com. He also writes for his own site www.arcticbeacon.com Listen to my Radio Broadcast live Monday night at 8pm Pacific time on LewisNews, returning Jan. 1 2006 Radio <http://webs.lewisnews.com/radio/index.htm>.

Life sought in God's banker trial (3/9/2007)

Life sought in God's banker trial

March 08 2007 By Stephen Brown

Rome - An Italian prosecutor is seeking life prison terms for a Mafia mobster and three other men for the 1982 murder in London of Roberto Calvi, known as "God's banker" because of his ties to the Vatican.

Calvi, head of the collapsed Banco Ambrosiano, was found hanging from a noose under Blackfriars Bridge in 1982, with bricks and $15 000 in cash stuffed in his pockets.

His death was first ruled a suicide. The case was reopened in 2003 as a murder inquiry, with four chief suspects, after new forensic evidence from Italian experts and British police concluded Calvi was strangled and his suicide was staged.

The prosecution says the Mafia killed Calvi for stealing money he was supposed to launder. He also stole money from Licio Gelli, former head of the secret Masonic lodge P2 which had links to the business and political elite in Italy, it says.

Prosecutor Luca Tescaroli began his conclusions on Wednesday by saying Calvi was killed "to punish him for taking large quantities of money from criminal organisations and especially the Mafia organisation known as the 'Cosa Nostra'," court sources said.

He wants life sentences for convicted Mafioso Pippo Calo, once known as the Mafia's "Treasurer"; Sardinian financier Flavio Carboni; alleged Rome crime boss Ernesto Diotallevi; and Calvi's bodyguard Silvano Vittor. All of them deny involvement.

Carboni's defence lawyer Renato Borzone said the prosecutor had pre-announced the sentence he would request "to disguise the lack of evidence in a case that for 25 years has repeated things already shown and proven dozens of times".

Carboni's former girlfriend Manuela Kleinszig, an Austrian, would be acquitted, the prosecutor said.

Calvi's death in such mysterious circumstances cast a long shadow over the Vatican, which was implicated financially in the collapse of Banco Ambrosiano shortly before Calvi's death. At the time it was Italy's largest private banking failure.

The Vatican Bank owned a small part of Banco Ambrosiano and magistrates said it bore some responsibility for the $1,3-billion in bad debts left by its collapse. The Vatican denied any wrongdoing and said it had been deceived by Calvi. The new evidence included tests showing Calvi had never touched the bricks in his pockets and had neck injuries suggesting he had been killed before being hanged.

Calvi was appealing against a four-year sentence for the Ambrosiano collapse when he secretly headed to London in 1982 with a case full of documents. His bodyguard Vittor says he left London before Calvi's death.

The new head of the CEI (3/9/2007)

The new head of the CEI

Sandro Magister talks about the new head of the CEI (Italian bishops conference), Angelo Bagnasco, the recently appointed Archbishop of Genoa.

He has been archbishop of Genoa for a few months, but Benedict XVI also wanted him to be president of the bishops' conference. He succeeds Ruini, to whom he is extremely loyal. His appointment is the confirmation of a project for a victorious Church

Further into the article:

Ruini's reign at the CEI has lasted for twenty-one years – five as secretary, and sixteen as president. And now, his reign becomes a dynasty. Bagnasco, the heir, has sharp features and a sharp way of speaking like him, and like him he loves philosophy and has taught it for years, but above all he has an identical vision of the Church in Italy and in the world.

This is also the same “mission” that Benedict XVI handed down to the representatives of the Italian Church gathered in Verona last October: “to restore full citizenship to the Christian faith,” “to make visible the great ‘yes’ that God speaks to man and to life.”

It was Benedict XVI in person who installed the new president of the CEI. In all other countries, that appointment is decided by a vote among the bishops, but in Italy it falls to the pope.

The circumstances of the appointment as noted here are interesting in light of the little tussle only a few weeks ago:

With Bagnasco as president, but not the pope's vicar as before, the CEI exits its exceptional phase as personified by Ruini, and returns to normalcy. Very soon, perhaps in June, Bagnasco will be made cardinal, but he will in any case remain in Genoa as archbishop. His relationship with the pope will be less symbiotic, and Italian politics will no longer be focused solely on what the CEI says and does, but also on the Vatican secretariat of state. This, curiously, is now directed by Bagnasco's predecessor in Genoa, cardinal Tarcisio Bertone.

Bertone would have preferred for the CEI to have a less prominent president. He had tried to convince Benedict XVI to opt for the bishop of a moderately important diocese, and his candidate was Benigno Papa, of Taranto. He didn't succeed.

But another longstanding hypothesis also fell by the wayside: that cardinal Angelo Scola, patriarch of Venice, would rise to the presidency of the CEI. Bertone's "maneuver" was interpreted as hostile toward Ruini. But the conclusion refutes this: Bagnasco is a staunch follower of Ruini, more so than Scola, and his appointment was, in the end, recommended to the pope by Bertone himself. It was an epilogue that would have been difficult to imagine even a few months ago. Bagnasco's name didn't even appear in the survey conducted one year ago among the Italian bishops by then-secretary of state Angelo Sodano and by the nuncio to Italy, Paolo Romeo, in order to ascertain whom they would like as Ruini's successor.

Towards the end, there is more of Archbishop Bagnasco's biography. This snippet is interesting:

In 2003, he was promoted as ordinary military archbishop for Italy, and there isn't a corner of the world so far-flung that he won't visit it to meet with Italian soldiers on "peacekeeping missions."

In a letter to military chaplains, he writes: "Many times we are surprised to find treasures of goodness, moral uprightness, and simple heroism in seemingly impossible situations."

We think Angelo Bagnasco might be the new Puppet Master chosen by the Jesuits, for his new role of leader of the CEI. Keep an eye on Ruini's replacement as he seems a clever and astute Vatican manipulator for the new millenium...

Mr X

Committee of Hope in Action (3/7/2007)

COMMITTEE OF HOPE IN ACTION

Today March the 6th 2007 we are meeting once again as the Committee of Hope here in Oslo. And for the first time we will listen the view of a few participants. We are here to defend our God given freedom and inform our fellow beings with a touch of humor, in fact, as our orgone supplier and member, Sveinung said, "so what prevents us to tell the truth with laughter? "

We can without a doubt say we are a growing force, in several different countries now. Each of our members has a different world view, but we need to find a common platform to integrate the aspects that are different among us, thus enabling us to create a common integrating consciousness. We believe this is the time for solution-thinking and acceptance of differences, not problem-thinking and diversion.

And what is this platform and how can we create it ? To ensure the best communication for all participants, no matter religion, political views or whatever, the platform has to be as simple as possible, including all

We believe that the external world is created as a result of what is and has been happening on the inside of peoples psyches. Its important that in this process we turn the focus inward and clean the forces we see and react upon, out of ourselves says the Shaman of the group who wants to stay anonymous.

Nikolai Winge instead states: We must stop the building of the “tower of Babel” which is still being built by our world leading institutions behind the curtains. Aligning with the harmonic calendar of the maya will also help the earth in this age of transformation. WWW.lawoftime.org. Humanity have done an error in time. This error was predicted by the mayan time scientists. The 12:60 way of our clock time and the Gregorian calendar has ensured our coming out of the harmonic cycles of Earth, Sun, planets our galaxy and beyond. “The technosphere” is engulfing us as I am writing this. We must claim our right to live by the synchronic order of nature.

Since I began searching for the truth concerning the world’s power-structures and its inherent physics, I have come across several groups whose websites promote the truth as they see it. However, these truths are often accompanied by a strong ‘us and them’ mentality, and are often very politically biased, either left or right wing. Thus, in order to reach out to all of humanity, and to integrate rather than separate, I believe it is utterly important to make it clear that we encourage communication with all individuals, whatever their group affiliation. I understand this will prove difficult for many, but it is nonetheless important to keep an open mind and be able to separate the system and the people it employs. Most organizations that operate on ‘evil’ principles are made up of mostly good people who don’t know the motives of their organization. —
b.l.grastvedt

Im happy of today’s meeting , says Leo and Sveinung remembers to us the evil cabal constituted by the Vatican illuminati and the Zionist cant and wont prevail against our pure intentions.Untill the next time lets remember that these criminals have tried to scare Leo and his family over and over again here in Oslo , illuminati slaves in Norway like Per Christian Krogh,John Faersth and Trond Kaare Westby are people the Norwegian Committee of Hope should be aware ,they are dangerous servants of the New World Order

COMMITTEE OF HOPE WINNIPEG (CANADA) Cyberspace is a funny place, it much mirrors the real world in alot of ways, the last estimate I read was the content of the Internet was close to 70% porn and gambling, I don’t doubt it all the pop ups we receive and spam we get daily points to this. But in a world wide web of filth we find true light. I sometimes wonder if this current flow of information would be possible without the Internet. For Example, In the days following 9-11, while the world was in panic and ready to begin the wholesale bombing of the Mid east and Central Asia, a few daring men and women forged out to get information as well as spread what they were learning through the Internet, They were the forerunners of the current 9-11 truth movement. I knew something was fishy when 10 minutes after the attack the mass media was blaming Bin Laden., but some people need more convincing than others. Fast forward to early 2007, and we have a full fledged movement and most people now know that the official story of 19 Arab muslim men, that hijacked 4 planes with butter knives on 9/11 is a complete fraud. No one knows what really happened we can theorize till the cows come home and were blue in the face about who perpetrated this horrific event, but the FACT is that the official story is a LIE. And as of last week it is slowly unraveling in front of our eyes.

I am a regular reader of Dr. Henry Makow's <http://www.savethemales.ca>. sometime in early December 06 I came across an article about a man known as Leo Lyon Zagami. Mr. Zagami was a high ranking Freemason in Italy and part of the Infamous P2 lodge. His Conversion to Islam, and his realization that what he was doing in the lodges were incompatible with his new faith brought him to come public and expose the rituals and agenda of his former lodge as well as shedding light on what is to come in the next few years.

I had contacted Brother Saifullah (his new Muslim name) about his article and his desire to tour North America to bring the truth to us in a public forum, so that there would be no more speculation about the Illuminati as a shadowy underground entity, but rather a real world organization bent on controlling every aspect of our society. If their symbolism in Government and popular culture wasn't enough then a true insiders perspective should be.

This is where we come in, to aid Brother Saifullahs mission he had asked anyone interested to form chapters in every city in the world for a few simple goals: to educate the our friends and family, the ones we love of the illuminati's diabolical agenda. To then use this awareness to spread to our friends and family so that they may know what is going on outside fo thier 9-5,24-7,3d reality.

Through disseminating this information and getting our loved ones see why this is the most important time in in our known history and that we can begin to change society, and watch how really easy it is. As any learned person of science would tell you the microcosm affects the macrocosm, whispers become screams and screams bring down walls. Every idea that we share came from another source, we would be fools to believe that some one can create an independent thought. Through research, inspiration and communication new ideas spread, then become movements.

Kings have always controlled their kingdoms psychologically, through their commissioning of "official history" or "official religion" to justify thier rule over the masses. Our peasant ancestors were taught to believe that they could not exist without, their aristocracy,kings, czars, shahs, emperors, Presidents, Prime ministers that they could not survive without the kingdom, the empire or the state. That may have been true, Today however this is not the case. Our collective consciousness has risen to a level that we no longer need this control, Traditionally the easiest way to control a population was get them to fear an exterior force, another tribe, another race perhaps, entire nations, shadowy terrorist organizations. and that has worked, unfortunately, However today it feels harder and harder to believe the lie, and becomes harder and harder to hate our neighbors or the multitudes overseas, It no longer makes sense to us.

because with this tool of the internet that the king himself has commissioned, it is becoming harder and harder for him to hide his secrets. information is now privy to all of us, when in the past this information was only available to the priests and aristocrats. There are no more excuses. We now have a literate, technologically aware society, we have the architecture in place to provide full disclosure to every citizen, and complete transparency in government and businesses. There really is no better time to overthrow the King.

There are some of us reading this that are already aware of such machinations and if you are aware then you are passionate. Once you have uncovered the root of this continued evil then you find it hard to hold it in. I feel the same way, You have been ridiculed, made to look like a fool, even called crazy. Remember those who oppose you have also opposed our great masters, sages and saints remember that the mission our heroes was successful because it is through their struggle that we draw inspiration from today.

For most of you that are reading this you are friends of mine here in Winnipeg, I urge you support this, and make a pledge that we will become teachers, and students. There maybe a time that I will call upon you to help, and If anyone of you need my help for this purpose I am there for you. Inshallah (God Willing) We Pray for good health and the best situation for Brother Leo to visit us this summer, when time approaches I will need every single one of you to help me propagate this event, for If people wanted truth and answers this will be the time to ask questions and learn. Between all of us we know enough people that have these questions to fill a small arena, So Inshallah we can make this event one everyone can remember.

Thank you for reading, Please communicate

Pray for peace, Live for love

Who are the Illuminati? (3/14/2007)

Story: Who Are The Illuminati?

By Richard Stone | thetruthseeker.co.uk

"A loose affiliation of millionaires and billionaires" (Paul Simon).

"The world is governed by far different personages from what is imagined by those who are not behind the scenes" (Benjamin Disraeli).

"Give me control over a nation's currency, and I care not who makes the laws" (Mayer Rothschild).

The Rothschilds Conspiracy theory is the theory that most of the world is secretly governed by a small group of men who operate behind the scenes. Conspiracy theory is now an accepted turn of phrase but sometimes one hears the expression, sometimes whispered rather than spoken. "The Illuminati".

What does this mean? Who are the Illuminati? They are, in essence, a cartel of international bankers and industrialists based in Western Europe and North America. The names of certain families persist over long periods of time. Some of the most important names are Rothschild, Rockefeller, Morgan, Lazard, Warburg, Schroder and Schiff.

The pivotal family is probably the house of Rothschild, the descendants of Mayer Rothschild (1743 - 1812) of Frankfurt. The male descendants of this family, for at least two generations, generally married first cousins or even nieces. The family established banking institutions in Vienna, London, Naples and Paris as well as Frankfurt. Ever since the middle ages, these families have been building their power by lending money at rates of interest to the monarchies and governments of Europe who were forever in debt, particularly in times of war. Sooner than tax the population to raise funds, always an unpopular measure, they usually preferred to borrow money from the money-lenders. This was the birth of the concept "the national debt." The countries of the world are forever in debt but where there is a debtor there is a creditor - who is this money owed to? It is owed to this coterie of international bankers.

By the nineteenth century the power of the Rothschild family was immense. They increased their wealth with great cunning and cleverness, while maintaining a low public profile. A notable example of their methods was their exploitation of the battle of Waterloo. The Rothschilds had spies watching the course of the battle and as soon as became evident that Wellington had won, a Rothschild agent traveled at maximum speed to London, arriving hours before Wellington's own messenger. Rothschild received the messenger and began conspicuously selling his stocks. The whole stock exchange assumed that Wellington had lost and Napoleon had won so everybody started selling, at this point, other Rothschild agents bought up huge stocks at give-away prices. Thus an already massive fortune was massively increased.

Nelson Rockefeller The Rockefeller family may be equally important. The pivotal figure in this family was J.D. Rockefeller, who made his fortune out of Standard Oil or Esso in Ohio and Pennsylvania. He also controlled the railroads. When rival road transport systems were established he attempted to block them by parking his trains across the roads at level crossings. His basic business technique was the elimination of competitors at all costs, followed by the establishment of a monopoly, followed by profit taking. He rapidly gained a name for huge wealth, secrecy and hard and dirty business practice. In his later years he had a harsh and gaunt appearance, so to counter his bad "public image" JD more or less invented the PR industry. He had short films of himself made, calculated to charm the public, himself playing golf with a pretty little child for instance. This film was shown on TV recently. It has a rather false and amateurish air but was very effective with the public of the day.

The Rockefellers currently have controlling interests in Exxon (the world's biggest company) and the Chase Manhattan Bank, which turns over trillions of dollars a week. With so many billions in their hands already, what does more money mean? Obviously it means more power and more control over other human beings, but to what end and in whose name?

Apparently in the name of Lucifer, the fallen angel also known as the bringer of light, hence the name "Illuminati", which means "the enlightened ones". Lucifer is also known for the characteristics of pride, deception and impermanence. The Illuminati were apparently founded in Bavaria in 1770 [1776] by one Adam Weisshaupt, a student of the Jewish philosopher Mendelsohn, and backed by the Rothschild family. The society has always been based on the lodges of Freemasonry, which was taken over at the highest levels during the course of the eighteenth century by agents of the Illuminati. Freemasonry is a very secretive institution, to the extent that members at one level do not know what members at another level are doing. Hence it is an organisation which is full of bonhomie and good deeds at the lower and middle levels, while its motives and deeds at the highest levels veer towards the dark side.

Both Freemasonry and Judaism have strong roots in the ancient Egyptian systems of religious belief, and it was this very similarity which attracted the Illuminati to Freemasonry, for most of them were Jewish. It is a source of controversy today to speculate whether or not they are still predominantly Jewish. No unfair racism intended - they either are or they aren't. Certainly there is much evidence to suggest that they are not, George Bush for instance, a prominent Illuminati figure and obviously not Jewish.

The all seeing eye on the U.S. Dollar Bill

The United States of America is more or less a creation of Freemasonry. The symbol of Freemasonry was placed on the cornerstone of the Whitehouse, while the assembled Freemasons lodges stood and watched the ceremony. The famous all-seeing eye in the pyramid appears on the one dollar bill. It is one of the main symbols of Freemasonry. This bill also bears the inscription, in Latin, "1776, the year of inception of a new world order". If one joins the dots formed by the stars of the thirteen original states one obtains an exact Star of David.

The goal of the Illuminati is total control of the world. The only nations, which are holding out against their power, are some Islamic nations and China but this resistance is limited because the Illuminati have crushing economic power.

There are certain methods of subjugation and control which are indispensable to this power. The first is, of course, complete control over all financial systems, all borrowing and lending. All banks, all building societies, all insurance companies have to be under their control. At the lowest level even the smallest bank will be forced to toe the line. At the highest level the World Bank decides the fate of countries. It is an interesting and amazing fact that both the Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of England are controlled by these Illuminati dynasties, in spite of the names of these banks, which suggest that they are run for public benefit. It is said that both Abraham Lincoln and John Kennedy wanted to change this system.

The second essential component is control of the media. It is controlled through business fashion. If the board meeting, or the management meeting, or the sales meeting, or the training meeting suggests that facts should be presented in a certain way, who is going to present them differently? There is an implied threat to one's job and one's career. Few people would gladly face demotion, retrenchment or the dole and most people are so ambitious they will do nearly anything "reasonable" to court favour with their superiors. This is how business is controlled and the media is the most important part of business, for it controls people's minds. People are very suggestible and often lend more credence to what they see on "the box" than to what happens on their own street. The Illuminati know this and use this suggestibility factor to the full. Lenin's key move during the Russian revolution was the capture of the radio station.

The third factor in the control system is the universities, and through them the whole education system. Particular effort is put into the schools of sociology, politics, economics and education, hence "liberal" systems of education which are often degenerate and even violent. Their men are inserted into the universities through the power of funding by big business. They then spread their influence downwards through tertiary to secondary and primary education.

The fourth factor is the enormous influence wielded by two similar organisations, The Council of Foreign Relations in the USA and the Royal Institute of International Affairs in England. These institutions are schools for statesmen, Illuminati statesmen. They are the stamping grounds of men such as Henry Kissinger, Zbigniew Brzezinski and Lord Carrington. These two "think tanks" have a crucial influence on all US and British governments, no matter which party is "in power". The statesmen produced by these institutions can and do decide the fate of nations. The tax-exempt foundations are also instruments of Illuminati power. The Ford foundation and the Rockefeller foundation are two prominent examples of this type of "charitable" institution. They were heavily involved in supporting various communist powers when the cold war was at its height. Communism versus capitalism arms race = more money and power for the Illuminati. So these are some of the structures through which the Illuminati work but what methods do they use?

Pitting one side against the other, using a theory devised by Hegel, which is: Thesis versus antitheses - synthesis.

Every force tends to have an opposite counterforce. The conflict between the two results in a new situation, the synthesis. The Illuminati make it their business to be the synthesis. Thus no problem situation is ever "nipped in the bud" it is rather fostered and used, just as the Soviet Union was fostered and used.

The insertion of immigrant groups into countries is a variation of this divide and rule process. Each group can be played off against the other.

"Double talk" and "double think". George Orwell knew instinctively what was going on when he invented these two expressions: I categorically deny = it will happen a bit later. Peace = war by another means.

To say one thing and do another is fundamental to Illuminati practice. They believe that the public will accept these lies through laziness and wishful thinking. Unfortunately they are usually correct.

"Keep them busy busy busy, back on the farm with the other animals." We are kept so busy with business (or busyness) that we do not understand or participate in the decisions and events that will crucially affect our future.

When a real power move is made it is usually done secretly and suddenly often with the pretense that nothing has happened. There is preparation for opposition, but conflict is often not necessary as most people have been trained to be so passive that they will probably not create an effective opposition.

Use of front men in important positions. These front men have the characteristic of "servile obedience", probably because of a blot or blots on their character which they are anxious to conceal. Most of the Presidents of the USA fall into this category. The current situation springs to mind. Behind the opponent stands the man with real power, who has long been groomed for this position. Men like Henry Kissinger, Zbigniew Brzezinski and George Bush are in this category.

The assassination of opposing leaders as quietly and as secretly as possible, so as to simulate a natural death. If this is not possible due to time constraints or other limited circumstances, surrogates are used and the lines of suspicion are covered by deception, false accusation and if necessary, multiple assassinations. Induced heart attacks, fake motor accidents and apparent suicides are also favoured methods of assassination.

Social engineering. An easily manipulated rabble is what is required. Mixed population groups with weak morals, weak traditions, low educational standards and weak group willpower are the aim. Those with special aptitudes can be taken out and trained to serve the illuminati for technical purposes, security purposes or as part of the propaganda apparatus. The middle class will become surplus to requirements and will be reduced to relative poverty.

Mockery and submission of the manners and morals of societies which show any resistance. Control of the media, the fashion industries and the education systems are essential components in this strategy. "Free love", the cult of youth, mockery of the Christian and Muslim faiths also fall into this category. "I don't give a rats ass about Jesus Christ" is one recent masterpiece from one of Hollywood's biggest stars. He probably didn't realise what he was saying, which makes him a "useful idiot". A "useful idiot" is much more effective than a conscious supporter. By these means of subversion societies and nations are conquered from within and open battle is usually not necessary.

The conduct of unrelenting economic warfare. This is the real war and continues even while the bombs are falling and the bullets are flying. The important part is the control of the enemy's economy after the conflict. The recent economic crash in the far-eastern countries is in reality an assertion of the Illuminati's economic power, an expression of economic dominance. The Illuminati now control 10-15% of the Japanese economy. This is public knowledge, that is what has been bought at bargain prices. In reality they probably control much more.

Control and exploitation of the standards of public health. The sale of prescription drugs is a huge business generating mega profits. Medical operations and treatments can also be very profitable to big business. These extreme treatments have their place but are over-used for the sake of profit.

In fact big business, particularly the big drug companies, have a vested interest in the ill health of the population. These companies, working through the US Food and Drug Administration, have tried to suppress the health food industry. In this they have largely failed but now the game is to own it and control it so that health foods can only be afforded by the elite.

Argument through defamation of character. The factual debate is ignored while characters are defamed. This is usually a very effective technique as many human beings are very suggestible and seem reluctant to use their reasoning abilities. Thus a "smear campaign" can easily draw attention away from the facts.

To conclude, it is growing increasingly evident that a world government is developing, and many would say that it is probably no bad thing, but few have asked for what purpose this "new world order" is created. Nor have they asked themselves what the consequences will be. These consequences (or some of them) will probably be as follows:

- Increasing profits for big business, increasing poverty for the middle class (who they despise). A rapid decline in moral standards and the promotion of social decay.
- Transience. Jobs that don't last; neighbourhoods that don't last.
- Increasing levels of crime and violence.
- Decline and demise of public services; replacement by private enterprise - good service for the few who can afford it.
- Ongoing ill health for the bulk of the population because of stress; poor quality foods; food additives; genetic engineering; pollution and drugs. There may be good health for those who can afford it - only the rich and well informed.
- The gradual phasing out of national governments, which will have powers more like the regional governments of today.
- The formation of several conglomerations like the United States.

In time a world leader will be announced, a real one this time. A pity he will have a cynical contempt for the most of humanity. Do we deserve it?

Article From: <http://www.thetruthseeker.co.uk/article.asp?ID=1>

Thunderbolts of the Gods (3/14/2007)

The Gospel according to Rothschild (3/19/2007)

THE "UNAUTHORIZED VERSION"

The Gospel According to Rothschild

The commonly accepted account of English Bible revision begins in the year 1853 when B.F. Westcott and F.J.A. Hort set out to replace the Textus Receptus with a New Greek Text based on corrupt Alexandrian manuscripts. Virtually all King James Bible apologists start with Westcott and Hort who, they generally agree, were acting alone. However, revision of the English Bible actually began well in advance of 1853—at least in the early 1800s—as a joint project of the Church of England and American Baptists, sponsored and financed by the House of Rothschild through their innumerable fronts.

The following report is presented as a chronology of the stages leading to and during the period of revision of the Authorised Version. The facts which establish the early date of English Bible revision are available in A History of the Baptists: Traced by their Vital Principles and Practices, from the Time of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ to the Year 1886 by Thomas Armitage, who was a member of the revisionist American Bible Union. Other sources reveal the hidden connections of key Bible revisers to secret societies controlled by the House of Rothschild, whose agenda was to transform the Christian Bible into an instrument of Zionism.

Why have the facts on the revisionist activities of the American Baptists been suppressed? Perhaps because the current well-known King James-Only defenders are all Baptists? And why have the Rothschild, Rhodes and Rockefeller connections to Bible revision been omitted from the standard histories, as well as the occult affiliations of the famous Bible revisers? Can this omission be due to the fact that the Baptists are deeply infiltrated by the secret societies? Is the standard history of Bible revision a set up to insure that King James-Only believers, unaware of the Baptists' historical role in the revisionist conspiracy, will trust them as King James Bible defenders?

And what will be the next stage in the conspiracy to do away with the Word of God? After reading the "unauthorized version" of English Bible revision below, please see: The Semitic New Testament: The Plot Against the Greek New Testament. bible Revision in America 1816 - The American Bible Society founded by New York philanthropists whose objective included translation as well as circulation of the Bible.

"William Colgate, a young Englishman, sacredly cherished a Bible which had been presented to him by his father, which was kept in his pew in the First Baptist meeting-house; but it was stolen, and thinking that Bibles must be very scarce or they would not be taken by theft, he conversed with others, and they resolved to form a society to meet the want. This society comprehended the purpose of translation as well as of circulation, and incorporated the following into its Constitution as its defining article: 'The object of this Society is to distribute the Bible only--and that without notes--amongst such persons as may not be able to purchase it; and also, as far as may be practicable, to translate or assist in causing it to be translated into other languages.' "Soon other societies were formed in different places, and the universal want of a General Society began to be felt. At length, May 11, 1816, thirty-five local societies in different parts of the country sent delegates to a Bible Convention which assembled in New York, and organized the American Bible Society for 'The dissemination of the Scriptures in the received versions where they exist, and in the most faithful where they may be required.' Most of the local societies either disbanded or were made auxiliary to the General Society. The Baptists became at once its earnest and liberal supporters." [Armitage, p. 893] "The American Bible Society, founded in 1816 by a group of New York philanthropists." [American Bible Society]

One of the founders of the ABS was Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge of New York.

"Even in 1818 (less than a decade before the dramatic turn in Masonic philosophy was manifested), the Christian nature of Freemasonry was still being openly advanced. For example, a Masonic work published that year in New York by Salem Town [System of Speculative Freemasonry] admonished American Freemasons to be bold in publicizing that 'the foundation is laid in evangelical truth'... "That 1818 Masonic work then concluded: [A]bove all, it is not, neither can it be a secret, that a good Mason is of necessity, truly and emphatically a Christian.'" (The endorsing preface to that work was written by Dewitt Clinton - Grand Master of the Lodge of New York. Clinton was a U. S. Senator and introduced the 12th Amendment to the Constitution. Additionally, he was an active Vice-President of the American Bible Society and was outspoken about his Christian faith and about placing the Word of God in the hands of every American.)" - 1115:39-40 The American Bible Society was financially supported by the British and Foreign Bible Society of London which had high level connections to the Quatuor Coronati Lodge founded by the Palestine Exploration Fund, which was established by the United Grand Lodge of England to make preparations for a Jewish State in Palestine.

"In 1816, two members of the [Nassau Bible] Society participated in the founding of the American Bible Society. It...received financial support from the British and Foreign Bible Society of London." [Princeton University]

"In 1865, under the patronage of Queen Victoria, all of the elite institutions of Britain, including the Anglican Church, the Grand Lodge of England, Oxford and Cambridge Universities, etc., gathered to fund a new institution, the Palestine Exploration Fund, dedicated to the 'rediscovery' of the Holy Land... "Through the PEF, the British re-established the tradition of cultural/religious manipulation in the 19th century. [Walter] Besant was the PEF's secretary from 1868 until 1886, the year when PEF head Sir Charles Warren and he became, respectively, the first Grand Master, and the first Treasurer, of the Quatuor Coronati lodge--which they established, in their own words, as an 'archaeology lodge,' the first ever in the history of freemasonry... "Michael Baigent [author of Holy Blood, Holy Grail], is a Corresponding Member of the Quatuor Coronati lodge, and Brother Baigent thanks, for his assistance, the Rev. Neville B. Cryer, one of Quatuor Coronati's most prominent members, and the longtime head of the immensely influential British and Foreign Bible Society." [EIR 58-9]

Yasha Beresiner, Past Master of the Quatuor Coronati Lodge: "Freemasons' Hall in London, the home of the United Grand Lodge of England ...became a popular venue for many events, amongst which are recorded meetings of the British and Foreign Bible Society..." (Scottish Rite Journal of Freemasonry)

"Freemasonry is a Jewish establishment, whose history, grades, official appointments, passwords, and explanations are Jewish from beginning to end." (Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise, a major pioneer of Reform Judaism in America, 1855)

"Freemasonry is based on Judaism. Eliminate the teachings of Judaism from the Masonic ritual and what is left?" (The Jewish Tribune, editorial, 1927)

See also: Heeding Bible Prophecy: New Israel 1827 - Thomas J. Conant of the American Baptist University of Rochester envisioned that the Bible should be thoroughly revised. Dr. Conant introduced the issue of translating "baptizein" as "immersion" in order to polarize the Baptists and employ the dialectical process in the field of Bible translation.

"This chapter can scarcely be closed more appropriately than by a brief notice of four devoted Baptists, translators of the sacred Scriptures, in whose work and worth the denomination may feel an honest pride. The veteran translator, Thomas J. Conant, D. D. . . Since 1857 Dr. Conant has devoted himself almost exclusively to the great work of his life, the translation and revision of the common English version of the Scriptures. He became thoroughly convinced as far back as the year 1827, on a critical comparison of that version with the earlier ones on which it was based, that it should be thoroughly revised, since which time he has made all his studies subsidiary to that end. . . his revision of the Bible, done for the American Bible Union, is the invaluable work of his life. . . This comprises the entire New Testament with the following books of the Old, namely: Genesis, Joshua, Judges, I. and II. Samuel, I. and II. Kings, Job, Psalms, Proverbs and a portion of Isaiah. Many of these are accompanied with invaluable critical and philological notes, and are published with the Hebrew and English text in parallel columns. His work known as 'Baptizein,' which is a monograph of that term, philologically and historically investigated, and which demonstrates its uniform sense to be immerse, must remain a monument to this distinguished Oriental scholar, while men are interested in its bearing on the exposition of Divine truth." [Armitage, p, 914-15]

The Hegelian Dialectic: Thesis + Antithesis = Synthesis. "The thesis is an intellectual [or spiritual] proposition. The antithesis is simply the negation of the thesis. The synthesis solves the conflict between the thesis and antithesis by reconciling their common truths, and forming a new proposition." (Answers.com)

1830 - The American Bible Society funded Adoniram Judson's Burman Bible which changed "baptism" to "immersion." "As early as 1830 [the American Bible Society] made an appropriation of $1,200 for Judson's 'Burman Bible', through the Baptist Triennial Convention, with the full knowledge that he had translated the family of words relating to baptism by words which meant immerse and immersion, and down to 1835 the Society had appropriated $18,500 for the same purpose." [Armitage, p. 893]

1835 - American Bible Society rejected any foreign version not consistent with the common version [Authorised Version (KJV)] - such as Bengali New Testament. "In 1835 Mr. Pearce asked the Society to aid in printing the 'Bengali New Testament,' which was translated upon the same principle as Judson's Bible. The committee which considered the application reported as follows: 'That the committee does not deem it expedient to recommend its appropriation until the Board settle a principle in relation to the Greek word baptizo.' Then the whole subject was referred to a committee of seven, who, November 19, 1835, presented the following reports: 'The Committee to whom was recommitted the determining of a principle upon which the American Bible Society will aid in printing and distributing the Bible in foreign languages, beg leave to report, 'That they are of the opinion that it is expedient to withdraw their former report on the particular case and to present the following one on the general principle; 'By the Constitution of the American Bible Society, its Managers are, in the circulation of the Holy Scriptures, restricted to such copies as are without note or comment, and in the English language, to the version in common use. . . 'The subscriber, as a member of the Committee to whom was referred the application of Messrs. Pearce and Yates, for aid in the circulation of the Bengali New Testament, begs to submit the following considerations: '1. The Baptist Board of Foreign Missions have not been under the impression that the American Bible Society was organized upon the central principle that baptizo and its cognates were never to be translated, but always transferred, in all versions of the Scriptures patronized by them..." [Armitage pp. 894-5] 1836 - American & Foreign Bible Society formed by Baptist churches to circulate Bengali New Testament and other versions that would translate "baptize/baptism" as "immerse/immersion." "The Baptist Board of Foreign Missions, which met at Hartford, April 27th [1836], had anticipated the possible result, and resolved that in this event it would 'be the duty of the Baptist denomination in the United states to form a distinct organization for Bible translation and distribution in foreign tongues' and had resolved on the need of a Convention of Churches, at Philadelphia, in April, 1837, 'to adopt such measures as circumstances, in the providence of God may require.' But the meeting in Oliver Street thought it wise to form a new Bible Society at once, and on that day organized the American and Foreign Bible Society provisionally, subject to the decision of the Convention to be held in Philadelphia. This society was formed 'to promote a wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures, in the most faithful version that can be procured.' In three months it sent $13,000 for the circulation of Asiatic Scriptures, and moved forward with great enthusiasm." [Armitage, p. 897]

In this year, Mayer Amschel Rothschild purchased land in Palestine.

"In 1836, [Zevi] Kalischer appealed to Mayer Amschel (...Rothschild) to buy out completely the land of Israel or at least Jerusalem and particularly the Temple area in order to 'bring about the miraculous redemption from below'. Zevi Kalischer said the salvation promised by the prophets of old could come only gradually and by self-help from the Jews." - 211:63 1838 - President of the American & Foreign Bible Society, Dr. Spencer H. Cone, sought immediately to revise the English Scriptures, however, the American and Foreign Bible Society voted against it. Dr. Cone's plan was thwarted for 14 years during which much pressure for revision was exerted and a revised AV was published. "After a year's deliberation the great Bible Convention met in the meeting house of the First Baptist Church, Philadelphia, April 26th, 1837. It consisted of 390 members, sent from Churches, Associations, State Conventions, Education Societies and other bodies, in twenty-three States and in the District of Columbia. . . "A constitution was then adopted and officers chosen by the Convention itself. It elected Spencer H. Cone for President... "..."At its annual meeting in 1838 its constitution was so amended as to read: 'It shall be the object of this Society to aid in the wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures in all lands.' . . . "From the first, many in the new Society, led by Dr. Cone, desired to proceed at once to a revision of the English Scriptures, under the guidance of the principles applied to the Asiatic versions made by the Baptist missionaries. But in deference to the opposition of some who approved of the Society in all other respects, at its annual meeting in 1838 it 'Resolved, That in the distribution of the Scriptures in the English language, they will use the commonly received version until otherwise directed by the Society.' Whatever difference of opinion existed amongst the founders of that Society about the immediate expediency of applying the principle of its constitution to the English version, its ultimate application became but a question of time, and this action was postponed for fourteen years. Meanwhile, this measure was pressed in various directions, in addresses at its anniversaries, in essays published by various persons, and in the Society's correspondence. In 1842 Rev. Messrs. David Bernard and Samuel Aaron issued a very able treatise on the need of 'Revising and Amending King James Version of the Holy Scriptures.' They also procured and published in that year, through the publishing house of J. B. Lippincott, of Philadelphia, a revised version of the Old and New Testaments, 'carefully revised and amended by several Biblical scholars.' This they say they did 'in accordance with the advice of many distinguished brethren, the services of a number of professors, some of whom rank among the first in our country for their knowledge of the original languages and Biblical interpretation and criticism, have been secured to prepare this work.' Amongst these were the late Prof. Whiting, Prof. A.C. Kendrick and other leading scholars who still live and have labored on other revisions. [Armitage, pp. 897-900] David Bernard and Samuel Aaron, who produced a revised version of the Bible, denied the divine preservation of Scripture.

"The vast majority of those who read the English Bible are entirely ignorant of the Greek; of the non-translation of baptizo — and its signification... As to our being 'left without a standard', through the multiplicity and variety of translations, we have only to say that there can, in the nature of things, be no perfect standard but the Hebrew and Greek originals; these, being written by inspired men, are infallible, while all translations by men uninspired must be more or less imperfect. The number of translations cannot affect the original." [Samuel Aaron & David Bernard, The Faithful Translation (1842) pg. 30] 1849-50 - American and Foreign Bible Society removed restriction to use common version (Authorised Version). "The American and Foreign Bible Society held its annual meeting in New York May 11th, 1849, and, on the motion of Hon. Isaac Davis, of Massachusetts, after considerable discussion, it was 'Resolved, That the restriction laid by the Society upon the Board of Managers in 1838, 'to use only the commonly received version in the distribution of the Scriptures in the English language,' be removed.' This restriction being removed, the new board referred the question of revision to a committee of five. After long consideration that committee presented three reports: one with three signatures and two minority reports. The third, from the pen of Warren Carter, Esq., was long and labored as an argument against altering the common version at all. In January, 1850, the majority report was unanimously adopted in these words: 'Resolved, That, in the opinion of this board, the sacred Scriptures of the Old and New Testament ought to be faithfully and accurately translated into every living language. 'Resolved, That wherever, in versions now in use, known and obvious errors exist, and wherever the meaning of the original is concealed or obscured, suitable measures ought to be prosecuted to correct those versions, so as to render the truth clear and intelligible to the ordinary reader. 'Resolved, That in regard to the expediency of this board undertaking the correction of the English version, a decided difference of opinion exists, and, therefore, that it be judged most prudent to await the instruction of the Society.'

A most impassioned debate ensued. Drs. Cone and Wyckoff of the American and Foreign Bible Society publish "The Bible Translated" to defend their action. Revisionists issue sample revised N.T.. Those opposed to revision call for many to 'rebuke this metropolitan power' to crush the revisionist movement forever.

"On the publication of these resolutions the greatest excitement spread through the denomination. Most of its journals were flooded with communications, pro and con, sermons were preached in a number of pulpits denouncing the movement, and public meetings were held in several cities to the same end, notable amongst them one at the Oliver Street Church, in New York, April 4th, 1850. This feeling was greatly increased by the two following facts: Mr. Carter, an intelligent layman, but neither a scholar nor an able thinker, having submitted a learned and elaborate paper as his minority report, which occupied an hour in the reading, and believing that it was inspired by an astute author in New York who had opposed the Society from the first, and was then a member of the Board of the American Bible Society, Dr. Cone and William H. Wyckoff, President and Secretary of the American and Foreign Bible Society, published a pamphlet over their names in defense of the action of the board, under the title, 'The Bible Translated.' The second fact arose from the demand of Mr. Carter that those in favor of a revision of the English Scriptures should issue, in the form of a small edition of the New Testament, a specimen of the character of the emendations which they desired, in regard to obsolete words, to words and phrases that failed to express the meaning of the original Greek, or the addition of words by the translators, errors in grammar, profane expressions and sectarian renderings. Deacon William Colgate, the Treasurer, said that he approved of this suggestion, and if Brethren Cone and Wyckoff would procure and issue such an edition as a personal enterprise, he, as a friend of revision, would personally pay the cost of the plates and printing. This was done, and in their preface they stated that by the aid of 'eminent scholars,' who had 'kindly co-operated and given their hearty approval to the proposed corrections,' they submitted their work, not for acceptance by the Society, but as a specimen of some changes which might be properly made, and that the plates would be presented to the Society if they were desired. This was sufficient to fan the fire to a huge flame; much stormy and uncalled for severity was invoked, and a large attendance was called for at the annual meeting to 'rebuke this metropolitan power' and crush the movement forever." [Armitage, pp. 900-1]

1850 [May 22] - American & Foreign Bible Society voted against revision of the English Scriptures [A.V.]. Dr. Cone resigns as president. "The Society met for its thirteenth anniversary in New York on the morning of May 22d, 1850. The crowd of life members, life directors and other delegates was very large, and the excitement rose as high as it well could. From the first it was manifest that calm, deliberate discussion and conference were not to be had, but that measures adverse to all revision were to be carried with a high hand. It had been customary to elect officers and managers before the public services; but before this could be done Rev. Isaac Westcott moved: 'That this Society, in the issues and circulation of the English Scriptures, be restricted to the commonly received version, without note or comment;' and further moved that, as probably all minds were made up on the question, the vote should be taken without debate. Determined resistance to this summary process secured the postponement of the question to the afternoon, and other business was attended to. At that session each speaker was confined to fifteen minutes. Then in the heat of the Society it so far forgot the object of its organization as to vote down by an overwhelming majority the very principle on which it was organized. In the hope that, if revision could not be entertained, at least a great principle might be conserved as a general basis of agreement thereafter, the revisionists, on consultation, submitted the following: 'Resolved, That it is the duty of the Society to circulate the sacred Scriptures in the most faithful versions that can be procured.' When the Society had rejected this, and thus stultified itself, and denied not only its paternity but its right to exist by rejecting that fundamental principle, it was seen at a glance that all hope of its unity was gone. . . "On the 23d, the following, offered by Rev. Dr. Turnbull, of Connecticut, was adopted: "Resolved, That it is not the province and duty of the American and Foreign Bible Society to attempt, on their own part, or procure from others, a revision of the commonly received English version of the Scriptures." "This action was followed by the election of the officers and the board by ballot, when Dr. Cone was re-elected President; but the Secretary, William H. Wyckoff, and the venerable Deacon Colgate, were proscribed, together with ten of the old managers, all known revisionists. No person then present can wish to witness another such scene in a Baptist body to the close of life. Dr. Cone, at that time in his sixty-sixth year...said, with a stifled and almost choked utterance: 'Brethren, I believe my work in this Society is done. Allow me to tender you my resignation.'" [Armitage, pp. 902-3]

1850 [May 27] - 24 revisionists including Dr. Cone and Thomas Armitage met to plan their new Bible revision society. Armitage created the resolutions' wording. "On the 27th of May, 1850, twenty-four revisionists met in the parlor of Deacon Colgate's house, No. 128 Chambers Street, to take into consideration what present duty demanded at their hands. . . Dr. Cone presided, E.S. Whitney served as secretary, and Deacon Colgate led in prayer. . . T. Armitage offered the following, which, after full discussion, were adopted: 'Whereas, The word and will of God, as conveyed in the inspired originals of the Old and New Testaments, are the only infallible standards of faith and practice, and therefore it is of unspeakable importance that the sacred Scriptures should be faithfully and accurately translated into every living language; 'Whereas, A Bible Society is bound by imperative duty to employ all the means in its power to insure that the books which it circulates as the revealed will of God to man, should be as free from error and obscurity as possible; and, 'Whereas, There is not now any general Bible Society in the country which has not more or less restricted itself by its own enactments from the discharge of this duty; therefore, 'Resolved. That it is our duty to form a voluntary association for the purpose of procuring and circulating the most faithful version of the sacred Scriptures in all languages. 'Resolved. That in such an association we will welcome all persons to co-operate with us, who embrace the principles upon which we propose to organize, without regard to their denominational principles in other respects.'" [Armitage, pp. 906-7]

1850 [June 10] - American Bible Union organized, with Dr. Cone as president, for purpose of revising the English Bible. "On the 10th of June, 1850, a very large meeting was held at the Baptist Tabernacle in Mulberry Street, New York, at which the American Bible Union was organized, under a constitution which was then adopted, and an address explaining its purposes was given to the public. Dr. Cone was elected president of the Union, Wm. H. Wyckoff, Corresponding Secretary; Deacon Colgate, Treasurer; E.S. Whitney, Recording Secretary, and Sylvester Pier, Auditor, together with a board of twenty-four managers. The second article of the constitution defined the object of the Union thus: 'Its object shall be to procure and circulate the most faithful versions of the sacred Scriptures in all languages throughout the world.'" [Armitage, p. 907] NOTE: Most members and directors of the American Bible Union were Baptists. "Although the American Bible Union had always disclaimed that it was a Baptist Society, yet, a large majority of its life members and directors being Baptists, in harmony with the expressed wish of the denomination to do the Bible work of Baptists through the Missionary Union and the Publication Society, the Bible Union disposed of all its book-stock and plates to the Publication Society, on condition that its versions should be published according to demand. The American and Foreign Bible Society did the same, and now, in the English tongue, the Publication Society is circulating, according to demand, the issues of the Bible Union, the commonly received version and the Canterbury revision, with the emendations recommended by the American corps of scholars incorporated into the text; and so it has come to pass that the denomination which refused to touch the English revision in 1850 came, in less than a quarter of a century, to put its imprint upon two, to pronounce them fit for use amongst Baptists, and to circulate them cheerfully." [Armitage, pp. 912-13] Revisers came from Great Britain:

"Next to Dr. Cone, the three men who did more to promote the revision of the English Bible than any others, were Drs. Archibald Maclay, William H. Wyckoff, and Deacon William Colgate." Archibald Maclay, D.D., was born in Scotland in 1778, and in early life became a Congregational pastor there; but after his emigration to New York and a most useful pastorate there amongst that body he became a Baptist... William H. Wyckoff, LL.D., was endowed with great intellectual powers, and graduated at Union College in 1828. [Jonathan Edwards, Pres. 1799-1801]... Deacon William Colgate...was born in Kent, England, in 1783, came to this country and established a large business in New York, which by his thrift and skill endowed him with abundant means for doing good. [soap-making business]" [Armitage, Ch. XVII]

1850 - Protest to Bible revision arose in the United States. Dr. Conant began with Old Testament. Revisers of New Testament were to use Bagsters' Greek New Testament [1851]. Philip Schaff served on American Committee. "While many men of learning and nerve espoused the movement, as storm of opposition was raised against it from one end of the land to the other. It expressed itself chiefly in harsh words, ridicule, denunciation, appeals to ignorance, prejudice and ill temper, with not and then an attempt at scholarly refutation in a spirit much more worthy of the subject itself and the respective writers. Every consideration was presented on the subject but the main thought: that the Author of the inspired originals had the infinite right to a hearing, and that man was in duty bound to listen to his utterances, all human preference or expediency to the contrary notwithstanding. After considerable correspondence with scholars in this country and in Europe, the following general rules were adopted, and many scholars on both sides of the Atlantic commenced their work on a preliminary revision of the Bible. [Armitage, p. 908] "Dr. Conant proceeded with the revision of the English Old Testament, aided in the Hebrew text by Dr. Rodiger, of Halle, Germany. "The following were the general rules of the Union: '1. The exact meaning of the inspired text, as that text expressed it to those who understood the original Scriptures at the time they were first written, must be translated by corresponding words and phrases, so far as they can be found in the vernacular tongue of those for whom the version is designed, with the least possible obscurity or indefiniteness. '2. Wherever there is a version in common use it shall be made the basis of revision, and all unnecessary interference with the established phraseology shall be avoided, and only such alteration shall be made as the exact meaning of the inspired text and the existing state of the language may require. '3. Translations or revisions of the New Testament shall be made from the received Greek text, critically edited with known errors corrected. "The following common English version must be the basis of the revision; the Greek text, Bagster & Son's octavo edition of 1851." [Armitage, p. 908] There were 2 groups of revisers who worked on preliminary translations: European and American with Philip Schaff on the American committee.

"Amongst the scholars who worked on the preliminary revision in Europe were Revs. Wm. Peechey, A.M.; Jos. Angus, M.A., M.R.A.S.; T.J. Gray, D.D., Ph.D.; T. Boys, A. M.; A.S. Thelwall, M.A.; Francis Clowes, M.A.; F.W. Gotch, A.M.; and Jas. Patterson, D.D. Amongst the American revisers were. . . Drs. J.L. Dagg, John Lillie, O.B. Judd, Philip Schaff, Joseph Muenscher, John Forsyth, W.P. Strickland and James Shannon; Profs. E.S. Gallup, E. Adkins, M.K. Pendleton, N.N. Whiting, with Messrs. Alexander Campbell, Edward Maturin, Esq., E. Lord and S.E. Shepherd." [Armitage, p. 908-9]

Phillip Schaff is known as the "Father of Ecumenical Movement."

"Shortly before his death, Philip Schaff made a now famous address on 'The Reunion of Christendom' before the World Parliament of Religions, in...893. In this address, Schaff urged a 'federal or confederate union' resembling the 'political confederation of Switzerland, the United States, and the modern German Empire. This federation would be a 'voluntary association of different Churches in their official capacity, each retaining its freedom and independence in the management of its internal affairs, but all recognizing one another as sisters with equal rights, and cooperating in general enterprises, such as the spread of the gospel at home and abroad, the defense of the faith against infidelity, the elevation of the poor and neglected classes of society, works of philanthropy and charity, and moral reform'. This farewell address of the aged ecumenical leader was thus prophetic of the Federal Council [of Churches] of the 20th century, and even more of its successor, National Council of Churches." (Rouse, A History of the Ecumenical Movement) 84:256 BIBLE REVISION IN ENGLAND 1851 - B.F. Westcott and F.J.A. Hort found the Cambridge University Ghost Society, one of the early pioneers of modern Spiritualist inquiry: "In 1851 was founded at Cambridge a Society to 'conduct a serious and earnest inquiry into the nature of the phenomena vaguely called supernatural,' and a number of distinguished persons became members." [Alan Gauld, The Founders of Psychical Research, NY:Schocken Books, 1968, p. 66]

Cambridge Ghost Society was parent of the Society for Psychical Research, which was directed by Henry Sidgwick, the husband of Eleanor Balfour, who was the sister of Arthur Balfour. "Among the numerous persons and groups who in the middle of the nineteenth century were making enquiries into psychical occurrences may be mentioned a society from which our own can claim direct descent. In the Life of Edward White Benson, Archbishop of Canterbury, by his son, A. C. Benson, will be found, under the year 1851-2, the following paragraph: "'Among my father's diversions at Cambridge was the foundation of a 'Ghost Society,' the forerunner of the Psychical Society [meaning the S.P.R.] for the investigation of the supernatural. Lightfoot, Westcott and Hort were among the members. He was then, as always, more interested in psychical phenomena than he cared to admit.'" [brackets in original] [W.H. Salter, The Society For Psychical Research: An Outline of its History, London, 1948, pp. 5,6] Fenton John Antony Hort joined the Cambridge Company of the Apostles.

"...[F.J.A. Hort] found time to attend the meetings of various [Cambridge] societies and in June joined the mysterious Company of the Apostles... He remained always a grateful and loyal member of the secret Club, which has now become famous for the number of distinguished men who have belonged to it. In his time the Club was in a manner reinvigorated, and he was mainly responsible for the wording of an oath which binds members to a conspiracy of silence." (Alan Gauld, The Founders of Psychical Research, NY: Schocken Books, 1968, pp. 317, 49)

"(The) Apostles had hoped that developments in the social sciences would before long make possible an equitable and frictionless society..." (Life and Letters of Fenton John Anthony Hort, Vol. I, p. 170)

1853 - B.F.Westcott and F.J.A. Hort begin New Greek Testament based on Alexandrian manuscripts. "In 1853 Hort began to devote himself more definitely to work on the lines recently laid down for himself. . . It was during these weeks, in the course of a walk with Mr. Westcott, who had come to see him at Umberslade, that the plan of a joint revision of the text of the Greek New Testament was first definitely agreed upon. . . About this time Mr. Daniel Macmillan suggested to him that he should take part in an interesting and comprehensive 'New Testament Scheme.' Hort was to edit the text in conjunction with Mr. Westcott; the latter was to be responsible for a commentary, and Lightfoot was to contribute a New Testament Grammar and Lexicon." [Arthur Hort, Life and Letters of Fenton John Anthony Hort, Volume I, London: Macmillan and Co., 1896, pp. 239-40] April 19, 1853 letter to Rev. John Ellerton: "One result of our talk I may as well tell you. He (Westcott) and I are going to edit a Greek text of the New Testament some two or three years hence, if possible. Lachmann and Tischendorf will supply rich materials, but not nearly enough; and we hope to do a good deal with Oriental versions. Our object is to supply clergymen generally, schools, etc., with a portable Greek text which shall not be disfigured with Byzantine corruptions." [Ibid., p. 250] 1856 - Alarm that American Bible Union would translate "baptism" as "immersion." Movements in favor of revision proliferate in England. "As early as 1856 great alarm was awakened at the prospect that the American Bible Union would translate the Greek word 'baptize' into English, instead of transferring it, and the 'London Times' of that year remarked that there were already 'several distinct movements in favor of revision of the authorized version' of 1611." [Armitage, p. 909] 1858-59 - In England, Dr. Trench calls for a "better" revision that would "set aside the so-called Baptists" as revisers because they "interpret" rather than translate. Real reason: the American Baptists were limited to translating from the Textus Receptus and Trench planned to use the Westcott-Hort New Greek Text. "The 'Edinburgh Review' and many similar periodicals took strong ground for its revision, and, in 1858, Dr. Trench, then Dean of Westminster, issued an elaborate treatise showing the imperfect state of the commonly received version, and the urgent need of its revision, in which he said: 'Indications of the interest which it is awakening reach us from every side. America is sending us installments--it must be owned not very encouraging ones--of a new version as fast as she can... I am persuaded that a revision ought to come. I am convinced that it will come. The wish for a revision has for a considerable time been working among dissenters here; by the voice of one of these it has lately made itself known in Parliament, and by the mouth of a Regius professor in Convocation.' The revision of the Bible Union was a sore thorn in his side; and in submitting a plan of revision in the last chapter, in which he proposed to invite the Biblical scholars of 'the land to assist with their suggestions here, even though they might not belong to the church,' of course they would be asked as scholars, not as dissenters, he adds: 'Setting aside, then, the so-called Baptists, who, of course, could not be invited, seeing that they demand not a translation of the Scripture but an interpretation, and that in their own sense.' Some Baptist writer had denied in the 'Freeman' of November 17, 1858, that the Baptists desired to disturb the word 'baptize' in the English version, but the Dean was so alarmed about their putting an 'interpretation' into the text instead of a transfer, that he said in a second edition, in 1859 (page 210): 'I find it hard to reconcile this with the fact that in their revision (Bible Union) baptizo is always changed into immerse, and baptism into immersion.' The pressure of public sentiment, however, compelled him to call for revision, for he said: 'However we may be disposed to let the subject alone; it will not let us alone. It has been too effectually stirred ever again to go to sleep; and the difficulties, be they few or many, will have one day to be encountered. The time will come when the inconveniences of remaining where we are will be so manifestly greater than the inconveniences of action, that this last will become inevitable.'" [Armitage, pp. 909-10] 1865 - American Bible Union's version is completed and printed. Church of England represented on American revision committee. American Bible Union propaganda creates demand for revision in England, leading to the Convocation of Canterbury in 1870. "The final revision of the New Testament was committed to Drs. Conant, Hackett, Schaff and Kendrick and was published in 1865. The revisers held ecclesiastical connections in the Church of England, Old School Presbyterian, Disciples Associate Reformed Presbyterians, Seventh-Day Baptists, American Protestant Episcopalians, Regular Baptists and German Reformed Church. Of the Old Testament books, the Union published Genesis, Joshua, Judges, Ruth, Job, Psalms and Proverbs; I. and II. Samuel, I. and II. Kings, I. and II. Chronicles, remaining in manuscript, with a portion of Isaiah. It also prepared an Italian and Spanish New Testament, the latter being prepared by Don Juan De Calderon, of the Spanish Academy. Also a New Testament in the Chinese written character, and another in the colloquial for Ningpo; one in the Siamese, and another in the Sqau Karen, besides sending a large amount of money for versions amongst the heathen, through the missionaries and missionary societies. It is estimated that about 750,000 copies of the newly translated or revised versions of the Scriptures, mostly of the New Testament, were circulated by the Union. Its tracts pamphlets, addresses, reports and revisions so completely revolutionized public opinion on the subject of revision that a new literature was created on the subject, both in England and America, and a general demand for revision culminated in action on that subject by the Convocation of Canterbury in 1870." [Armitage, p. 909]

COLLABORATION OF AMERICAN & BRITISH REVISION COMMITTEES 1870 -

English revisionists begin New Testament using American Bible Union's version for consultation, but the Westcott-Hort New Greek Text as its textual basis.

"The whole subject came up before the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February, 1870, when one of the most memorable discussions took place that ever agitated the Church of England, in which those who conceded the desirableness of revision took ground, and amongst them the Bishop of Lincoln, that the American movement necessitated the need of prompt action on the part of the Church of England. In May of the same year the Convocation resolved: That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'... "The revisers commenced their work in June, 1870, and submitted the New Testament complete May 17th, 1881, the work being done chiefly by seventeen Episcopalians, two of the Scotch Church, two dissenting Presbyterians, one Unitarian, one Independent and one Baptist. A board of American scholars had co-operated, and submitted 'a list of readings and renderings' which they preferred to those finally adopted by their English brethren; a list comprising fourteen separate classes of passages, running through the entire New Testament, besides several hundred separate words and phrases. The Bible Union's New Testament was published nearly six years before the Canterbury revision was begun, and nearly seventeen years before it was given to the world. Although Dr. Trench had pronounced the 'installments' of the American Bible Union's New Testament 'not very encouraging,' yet the greatest care was had to supply the English translators with that version. During the ten and a half years consumed in their work, they met in the Jerusalem Chamber at Westminster each month for ten months of every year, each meeting lasting four days, each day from eleven o'clock to six; and the Bible Union's New Testament lay on their table all that time, being most carefully consulted before changes from the common version were agreed upon. One of the best scholars in the corps of English revisers said to the writer: 'We never make an important change without consulting the Union's version. Its changes are more numerous than ours, but four out of five changes are in exact harmony with it, and I am mortified to say that the pride of English scholarship will not allow us to give due credit to that superior version for its aid.' This was before the Canterbury version was completed, but when it was finished it was found that the changes in sense from the common version were more numerous than those of the Union's version, and that the renderings in that version are verbatim in hundreds of cases with those of the Union's version." [Armitage, pp. 910-11] Phillip Schaff became a professor at the Rockefeller-funded Union Theological Seminary.

"He became a professor at Union Theological Seminary, New York City in 1870 holding first the chair of theological encyclopedia and Christian symbolism till 1873, of Hebrew and the cognate languages till 1874, of sacred literature till 1887, and finally of church history, till his death." [Wikipedia]

"Henry Sloane Coffin was Professor of Practical Theology at Union Theological Seminary from 1904 to 1926 and President of Union Theological Seminary from 1926 to 1945. He was initiated into the Order of Skull & Bones in 1897. No doubt some influence was placed upon the seminary by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. who helped the seminary's 1922 endowment drive with a gift of $1,083,333... Union Theological Seminary in New York [was] a subsidiary of the Rockefeller Octopus..." [Unholy Alliances, 540:148,152] 1871 - Philip Schaff conferred with the English Revision Committee. American revision committee met in Schaff's study. Collaboration between American and British committees. "The summer of 1871 Dr. Schaff spent in Europe and had conferences with Dean Stanley and Bishop Ellicott and with the revision committee as a whole. From his daily journal it appears that on June 26, he saw the dean. 'I had a very important interview. All the details about Bible revision are settled satisfactorily. The steps I have taken in organizing the American committee are fully approved.' At

Dr. Stoughton's, I dine with a number of the Bible Revisers.' Of the sessions of the Revision companies at the Deanery of Westminster he has this to say: "The meeting of the New Testament Revisers was intensely interesting. Lightfoot, Westcott, Hort, Scrivener, Angus, Merivale, Eadie, David Brown, the Bishop of Gloucester...the Bishop of Salisbury and others were all there. No outsider is admitted except the Archbishop of Canterbury [Edward White Benson/Ghost Society].' Before his return to the United States the revision of Matthew was completed, but the copies which were ready for transmission were detained on account of the delay in securing one or more bishops of the Episcopal Church as members of the American committee. "The first meeting of the American committee was held in Dr. Schaff's study in the Bible House, New York, December 7, 1871... The American companies were to receive the Revision text of the British companies and transmit their emendations back to them..." [Schaff, David S., The Life of Philip Schaff, NY: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1897, pp. 362-3]

1872 - B.F. Westcott, J.B. Lightfoot and F.J.A. Hort found elite club for elder Apostles, the Eranus.

"[F.J.A. Hort] also regularly went to the meetings of a sort of senior 'Apostles' called the 'Eranus,' a club composed of elder men of various tastes and pursuits... The originator of the idea was the present Bishop of Durham (Westcott), and he, together with Lightfoot and your father, may be regarded as constituting the original nucleus of the club...It was not designed to have, nor has it from first to last had, a preponderantly theological character; on the contrary, its fundamental idea was that it should contain representatives of different departments of academic study, and afford them regular opportunities for meeting and for an interchange of ideas..." ((Arthur Hort, Vol. I, pp. 184-5)

1873 - Timothy Dwight (Skull & Bones, 1849) was subsequently added to the American New Testament revision committee. Timothy Dwight, who became the President of Yale University, was the grandson of Rev. Timothy Dwight (1752-1817) who was the grandson of famous Rev. Jonathan Edwards (1703-1758), a personal friend of Pres. George Washington, a high-level Freemason. "[T]o the New Testament company [was subsequently added]...Professor Timothy Dwight of Yale College." [Life of Philip Schaff, pp. 362-3ff.]

"Timothy Dwight was a man for all seasons: an ordained Congregational minister, grandson of Jonathan Edwards, personal friend of George Washington, and Army chaplain." (Cyber Hymnal)

1878 – William Blackstone's tract promotes Zionism leading to First Niagara Prophecy Conference.

"Born in Adams, New York in 1841, William Eugene Blackstone became a successful businessman specializing in real estate outside Chicago after the Civil War. A self-taught lay evangelist and Bible teacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Blackstone eventually devoted himself to missionary work. While at a YMCA convention, Blackstone asked the Reverend James Hall Brooke, one of the foremost ministers of the time, to write a tract about the second coming that he could pass out on trains as he traveled. Instead, Brooke suggested that Blackstone write it himself and that he would publish it. Brooke's suggestion led Blackstone to compose Jesus is Coming, hailed as 'probably the most wide-read book in this century on our Lord's return.' First published in 1878, its 1908 revised edition was financed by California oilman Lyman Stewart and distributed by the hundreds of thousands; by Blackstone's death in 1935, Jesus is Coming had been translated into thirty-six languages, with over a million copies printed. "...The year Jesus is Coming first appeared--1878--also saw the first of a series of prophecy and Bible conferences, eventually known as the Niagara Prophecy Conferences, held around the United States which established this proto-fundamentalist theological tendency. Ministers from a wide spectrum of denominations combined elements of Princeton theology, biblical literalism, and premillennialism with a conservative opposition to higher criticism, modernism, and other liberalizing trends." -- ("In the Shadow of God's Sundial," Hilton Obenzinger, 516) Is "Blackstone" a pseudonym?

"Chief among these is the one concerning the famous black stone in the seat of the coronation chair in Westminster Abbey, which is declared to be the actual rock used by Jacob as a pillow. The black stone also appears several times in religious symbolism. It was called Heliogabalus, a word presumably derived from Elagabal, the Syro-Phoenician sun god. This stone was sacred to the sun and declared to possess great and diversified properties. The black stone in the Caaba at Mecca is still revered throughout the Mohammedan world. It is said to have been white originally and of such brilliancy that it could be seen many days' journey from Mecca, but as ages passed it became blackened by the tears of pilgrims and the sins of the world." (Manly P. Hall, The Secret Teachings Of All Ages, p. 97)

"The most holy thing a devout Muslim can do, outside of the actual act of Jihad is make the pilgrimage to the Kaaba at Mecca. The ritual is called the Hajj, and is named after Al Hajarul Aswad, the famous Black Stone which is imbedded in the corner of the Kaaba... Qiblah, which denotes the direction of the Kaaba at Mecca, to which they perform their Salaah (worship). The ritual of Tawwaf, or the circumambulation of the Kaaba, as it existed at that time was performed by seven priestesses, completely in the nude. The ritual of Tawwaf is still being performed this very day by thousands of aspirants dressed in white. Ideally the aspirants will complete seven revolutions, counter-clockwise around the Kaaba and and meet up with Al Hajarul Aswad, The Black Stone, which they are encouraged to kiss. The Black Stone is imbedded in the South East corner of the Kaaba, and it protrudes with a slight bulge from the black shroud which surrounds it. It is said to have fallen from heaven and according to Hadith (tradition) it was whiter than milk before it fell... Al Hajarul Aswad is Venus/Lucifer having been whiter than milk, but fallen from heaven to suffer the travail of incarnation, much like Melek Ta'us of the Yezidi tradition. It is the Sacrament of Holy Blasphemy to recognise Lucifer as the Holy Christ and to recognise that the Devil is the hiding place of the divine." ("The Mystery of the Holy Blasphemy and the Fall of Lucifer") 1881 – New Age of Michael allegedly began with the Jews' return to Palestine. "To those working within an esoteric tradition, it might have appeared a relatively easy thing to prepare for the new era of Michael which was to begin in 1881... "In 1881, the planets were operative on a far higher level than any statuary or verbal symbolism might suggest. The year had a particular importance for those who were interested in the deeper traditions of astrological thought. Esotericists (of which there were many in the United States at that time) knew that this was the year which the great 15th-century abbot and occultist, Trithemius von Nettesheim [Jewish], had predicted would mark a fundamental turning point in history. "The Rosicrucian, Thomas Henry Burgoyne, one of the learned and perplexing esoteric writers working in 19th century America... had informed his readers that, in the more glorious days of human history, known now as the Golden Age, the satellite was distant from the Earth. However, in the latter Iron Age (through which civilization was now living) it was too close, so that its 'dark shadows became more and more bewildering.' In the year 1881, Burgoyne promised, this Dark Age would begin to recede, its malevolent influence having passed its darkest culminating point. He was partly borrowing his ideas from the Roman poet Virgil, but few of his readers would realize that. Most of them endorsed his enthusiasm for this new Age of Gold which would begin in 1881. "That is was to be an important year in the history of mankind was not doubted by the majority of people interested in arcane lore. In a rare book, which many occultists claim to have read, but few have even glanced at, Trithemius claimed that the era which had commenced in 1525, under the guidance of the planetary angel of the Moon, would come to an end in 1881. In this same year, a new era would begin under the control of the angel of the Sun, whom Trithemius named Michael. Far-reaching changes would result, for, in a previous age, the angel had been not only the institutor of many new arts, and the inventor of astronomy and astrology, but also of architecture—the very science in which Washington, D.C. had striven to excel from its foundation. "Trithemius—and later is followers—insisted that under the rule of this planetary angel there would be inaugurated an exciting change of direction for mankind. The angel Michael was dedicated to the expansion of human consciousness, and freedom. Furthermore, it would be during the New Age of the Sun, which would begin in 1881, that the Jews would return to their homeland." (Ovason, 512:376, 30)

1525 - Tyndale's New Testament was the first ever based on Byzantine manuscripts (Textus Receptus) and printed in the English language. 1881 - Westcott-Hort New Greek Testament based on corrupt Alexandrian manuscripts appeared; English Revised Version (ERV) completed.

"In 1881 the Greek Testament, which has been so long expected, at last appeared, and was widely welcomed as an epoch-making book, and 'probably the most important contribution to Biblical learning in our generation.' The twenty-eight years of patient labour represented by this work were begun and ended at Cambridge. This great work should loom very large in any record of my father's life, but its character is such that it really merits separate treatment, which it is hope a careful digestion of the mass of correspondence on the subject may enable some one to bestow. For the present let it suffice to quote a fair expression of the general feeling about the book. [from The Times, 29th July 1901] 'To the world at large Westcott's tenure of the Regius Professorship will always be associated with the so-called 'Cambridge Text' of the New Testament, little as his professorship really had to do with it. Probably the whole history of the New Testament since the time of Origen there has been nothing more remarkable than the quiet persistence with which these two Fellows of Trinity--Westcott, aged twenty-eight, and Hort, some three years younger--started 'in the spring of 1853' to systematise New Testament criticism. They found themselves aware of the unsatisfactoriness of 'the textus receptus, and conscious that neither Lachmann nor Tischendorf gave 'such an approximation to the Apostolic words as we could accept with reasonable satisfaction.' So they agreed to commence at once the formation of a manual text for (their) own use, hoping at the same time that it might be of service to others.' It says something at once for their determination and their care that the two famous volumes were not published till 1881, twenty-eight years from their inception... The Revised Version, as the English representative of the Cambridge Text, is making its way slowly, but the 'Westcott-Hort' theories hold the field. It may be there will yet arise a reactionary champion, as learned as and less slovenly than Scrivener, better equipped and less abusive than Burgon, be he has not arisen yet, and if he takes the field, he must do so after a preparation as long and as honest as Westcott and Hort's.' "The Westcott and Hort Greek Testament (text) appeared on 5th May 1881, only a few days before the publication of the Revised Version of the New Testament. This coincidence perhaps led adverse critics to confound the two works. Yet as a matter of fact the Greek text underlying the Revised New Testament differs considerably from that of the two Cambridge scholars; and, although privately printed copies of the latter had been placed in the hands of the Revisers, they did not accept any new reading, unless, after full discussion, a majority of two-thirds were in favour of the change. As my father has said, both in the matter of the Greek text and its translation, 'each Reviser gladly yielded his own conviction to more or less serious opposition.' [Arthur Westcott, Life and Letters of Brooke Foss Westcott, Vol. I, London: Macmillan & Co., pp. 397-402] 1883 - American and Foreign Bible Society and American Bible Union resolve their differences, accept the English revision, based on Westcott-Hort New Greek Text, and agree to publish the King James Version, the English Revised Version and the American Bible Union version. American Baptists are the only denomination to pass a resolution to adopt the Revised Version. American Bible Union changes it's position against Bible revision. "After the separation between the American and Foreign Bible Society and the American Bible Union, the former continued to do a great and good work in Bible circulation and in aiding the translation of missionary versions... Both these societies continued their operations till 1883, with greatly diminished receipts, from various causes, and the Bible Union was much embarrassed by debt, when it was believed that the time had come for the Baptists of America to heal their divisions on the Bible question, to reunite their efforts in Bible work, and to leave each man in the denomination at liberty to use what English version he chose. With this end in view, the largest bible Convention that had ever met amongst Baptists convened at Saratoga on May 22, 1883, and, after two days' discussion and careful conference, it was unanimously resolved: 'That in the translation of foreign versions the precise meaning of the original text should be given, and that whatever organization should be chosen as the most desirable for the prosecution of home Bible work, the commonly received version, the Anglo-American, with the corrections of the American revisers incorporated in the text, and the revisions of the American Bible Union, should be circulated.'" [Armitage, p. 912]

"Schaff had hoped to see a number of denominations adopt the version by formal act, but... (h)is only encouragement came from the American Baptists...in May 1882, for at that time they passed a resolution to adopt the Revised Version, incorporating the corrections of the American revisers into the text." [Shriver, George H., Philip Schaff: Christian Scholar and Ecumenical Prophet, Mercer Press, 1987, pp. 76-77]

"Although the American Bible Union had always disclaimed that it was a Baptist Society, yet, a large majority of its life members and directors being Baptists, in harmony with the expressed wish of the denomination to do the Bible work of Baptists through the Missionary Union and the Publication Society, the Bible Union disposed of all its book-stock and plates to the Publication Society, on condition that its versions should be published according to demand. The American and Foreign Bible Society did the same, and now, in the English tongue, the Publication Society is circulating, according to demand, the issues of the Bible Union, the commonly received version and the Canterbury revision, with the emendations recommended by the American corps of scholars incorporated into the text; and so it has come to pass that the denomination which refused to touch the English revision in 1850 came, in less than a quarter of a century, to put its imprint upon two, to pronounce them fit for use amongst Baptists, and to circulate them cheerfully." [Armitage, pp. 912-13]

1886 - In this year Timothy Dwight became President of Yale University. "In 1886 Timothy Dwight (The Order) had taken over from the last of Yale's clerical Presidents, Noah Porter. Never again was Yale to get too far from The Order. Dwight was followed by member Arthur T. Hadley ('76)" - 711:92

"The Order was incorporated in 1856."

Dwight, Timothy 1849 - Date initiated 1856 - Went to the University of Berlin 1858 - Went to Yale Theological Seminary 1873-85 - American New Testament Committee member 1886-98 - President of Yale University "As the new Master (Mason) is raised he looks back down at his tomb to see a Skull and crossed bones on his death shroud. This symbol of earthly remains was used by the Knights Templar as their marine battle flag." [The Hiram Key: Pharaohs, Freemasons & Secret Scrolls of Jesus 162:178]

SPREADING THE "GOSPEL ACCORDING TO ROTHSCHILD"

1889 - Formation of Cecil Rhodes' Round Table.

"The 'Rhodes secret society' was a group of imperial federalists, formed in the period after 1889 and using the economic resources of South Africa to extend and perpetuate the British Empire... During this period of almost sixty years [1889-1940], this society has been called by various names. During the first decade or so it was called 'the secret society of Cecil Rhodes' or 'the dream of Cecil Rhodes.' In the second and third decades of its existence it was known as 'Milner's Kindergarten' (1901-1910) and as 'the Round Table Group.'" [538:4,31]

"It is usually assumed that Rhodes owned De Beers [Consolidated Mines], but this was not the case. Nathaniel de Rothschild was a bigger shareholder than Rhodes himself; indeed, by 1899 the Rothschilds' stake was twice that of Rhodes. In 1888 Rhodes wrote to Lord Rothschild: 'I know with you behind me I can do all I have said. If however you think differently I have nothing to say.'" (Niall Ferguson, Empire: How Britain Made the Modern World, Allen Lane, London, 2003, p. 225).

"... Robert Cecil of the Jewish Cecil family that had controlled the British monarchy since a Cecil became the private secretary and lover of Queen Elizabeth I ..." (John Coleman, The Conspirators' Hierarchy: The Story of the Committee of 300) Sir Robert Gascoyne-Cecil (1830-1903) / UK Prime Minister for three terms / father of Robert Cecil (1864-1958) o Robert Gascoyne-Cecil became Prime Minister of England from 1885-1902 o Lord Salisbury was the title given to Robert Gascoyne-Cecil whose powerful family expanded to form Cecil Bloc o Sir Rober Gascoyne-Cecil was brother to mother of Gerald and Arthur Balfour, whose government was continuation of Lord Salisbury's o The Cecil Bloc was the nexus of power from which the Rhodes-Milner Round Table evolved o The Balfours were high ranking members of Cecil Bloc o In The Anglo-American Establishment, Carroll Quigley credits the Cecil Bloc with creation of the Society for Psychical Research "The Cecil Bloc was a nexus of political and social power formed by Lord Salisbury and extending from the great sphere of politics into the fields of education and publicity. . . The 'Rhodes secret society' was a group of imperial federalists, formed in the period after 1889 and using the economic resources of South Africa to extend and perpetuate the British Empire. It is doubtful if Milner could have formed his group without assistance from all three of these sources... One of the enduring creations of the Cecil Bloc is the Society for Psychical Research, which holds a position in the history of the Cecil Bloc similar to that held by the Royal Institute of International Affairs in the Milner Group. The Society was founded in 1882 by the Balfour family and their in-laws, Lord Rayleigh and Professor [Henry] Sidgwick. In the twentieth century it was dominated by those members of the Cecil Bloc who became most readily members of the Milner Group." (Carroll Quigley, The Anglo-American Establishment, pp. 31-2) 1891 – Cecil Rhodes drew up his fourth will with Lionel Rothschild the trustee of his fortune; Arthur Balfour, a Jew, in Circle of Initiates.

"The secret society, after so much preliminary talk, took form in 1891, the same year in which Rhodes drew up his fourth will and made Stead as well as Lord Rothschild the trustee of his fortune. It is perfectly clear from the evidence that he expected Lord Rothschild to handle the financial investments associated with the trust, while Stead was to have full charge of the methods by which the funds were used. About the same time, in February 1891, Stead and Rhodes had another long discussion about the secret society. First they discussed their goals and agreed that, if necessary in order to achieve Anglo-American unity, Britain should join the United States. {i.e. the capital should be in the U. S.} Then they discussed the organization of the secret society and divided it into two circles: an inner circle 'The Society of the Elect', and an outer circle to include 'The Association of Helpers and The Review of Reviews (Stead's magazine founded 1890). Rhodes said that he had already revealed the plan for 'The Society of the Elect' to Rothschild and 'little Johnston.'... 1. General of the Society: Rhodes 2. Junta of Three: Stead, Brett, Milner 3. Circle of Initiates: Cardinal Manning, General Booth, Bramwell Booth, "Little Johnson", Albert Grey, Arthur Balfour 4. The Association of Helpers 5. A College, under Professor Seeley, to be established 'to train people in English-speaking ideas.' "Of the persons so far named, we can be certain that six were initiates. These were Rhodes, Lord Rothschild, Johnston, Stead, Brett and Milner... Of the others who were mentioned, Brett, Grey and Balfour can safely be regarded as member of the society." (538:40-1)

1891, March 5 – Seven years before Theodore Herzl's First Zionist Congress, William Blackstone petitioned Pres. Benjamin Harrison to authorize homeland for the Jews in Palestine. Groundwork laid for Judaized Christianity; Blackstone 'father of Zionism'. "On March 5, 1891, the Chicago businessman and Methodist Episcopal lay worker William E. Blackstone was introduced by Secretary of State James G. Blaine to President Benjamin Harrison in order to present a petition Blackstone authored, 'Palestine for the Jews.' 'What shall be done for the Russian Jews?' the petition asked, and Blackstone boldly answered: "Why not give Palestine back to them again? According to God's distribution of nations, it is their home, an inalienable possession, from which they were expelled by force....Why shall not the powers which under the treaty of Berlin, in 1878, gave Bulgaria to the Bulgarians and Servia to the Servians now give Palestine back to the Jews?...Let us now restore them to the land of which they were so cruelly despoiled by our Roman ancestors. "Nonetheless, Benjamin Harrison did not accept Blackstone's proposal... Blackstone would send the Memorial to presidents Cleveland and Roosevelt (McKinley had already signed), but official government sympathy for the Zionist project would have to wait for Woodrow Wilson." – 516

"The Blackstone Memorial emerged from the same Reformation and Enlightenment preoccupations with Jews as the original nation whose restoration confirms other 'natural,' European nations and comprises both a necessary prerequisite and model for the reconstitution of an authentic, 'primitive' Christianity. Blackstone's contribution to this tradition was to elaborate a fully realized political Zionism that took long-standing religious narratives into the realm of late-nineteenth-century nationalism, colonialism, and imperialism. Indeed, with Blackstone's petition and related activities antedating by six years the convening of Theodor Herzl's first Zionist conference in 1897, Nathan Straus and Louis Brandeis thought enough of his practical efforts to flatter the evangelist as 'the father of Zionism.'" - 516 "Timothy Beach Blackstone (1829-1900), who was president of the Chicago & Alton Railroad from 1864 to 1899, had been a surveyor for the New York and New Haven Railroad under Col. Roswell B. Mason, who brought Blackstone after him to the Illinois Central Railroad in 1851. (Biography of Timothy B. Blackstone. By Ida Hinsman, 1917.) T.B. Blackstone was one of the financial supporters of his cousin, William Eugene Blackstone (1841-), of Blackstone Memorial fame. Marvin Hughitt, President of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, Milton Stewart and his brother, Lyman Stewart, of the Union Oil Company of California, were other financial supporters of W.E. Blackstone. Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandeis administered his funding for evangelizing to Jews... "The signatories of the Blackstone Memorial included such powerful Wall Street figures as Chauncey M. Depew, John D. Rockefeller and his brother William Rockefeller, William E. Dodge, Frank Loomis, Cyrus W. Field, Russell Sage, and John A. Stewart, as well as Rev. Edward W. Gilman, brother of the president of Johns Hopkins University [Daniel Coit Gilman / S&B 1852]. Their Harriman, Vanderbilt, Guaranty Trust, Skull & Bones, and Standard Oil money and connections have created two world wars to drive the Jews out of Europe and into Palestine; and today, the resulting strife is the pretext for America's invasion of the Middle East. And E.H. Harriman's sons elevated the Bush family into the U.S. power elite. / List of signatories The Blackstone Memorial / American Messianic Fellowship "Professor Charles A.L. Totten, military instructor at Yale University, proclaimed the Blackstone manifesto to be a mystical fulfillment of biblical prophesy, and claimed that Armageddon was to occur in 1899 (Palestine For the Jews. New York Times, Mar. 8, 1891; The World's Approaching End. Lieut. Totten Says It Will Occur In Less Than Eight Years. New York Times, Apr. 12, 1891, which made Page 1.)... "Daniel Coit Gilman's brother, Rev. Edward W. Gilman, was married to Benjamin Silliman (S&B 1837) Jr.'s sister, Julia Silliman [Jewish] (Died. Gilman.- New York Times, Apr. 20, 1892, p.5.) DC Gilman's sister, Elizabeth Coit Gilman, was married to Rev. Joseph Parrish Thompson, S&B 1838 (Married. New York Times, Oct. 26, 1853.), of the Broadway Tabernacle in New York City..." (The Blackstone Zionists) 1892 - Philip Schaff wrote to Timothy Dwight predicting the success of the Revised Version.

"To Timothy Dwight (S&B 1849) [Philip Schaff] wrote in 1892: 'It is impossible that a work to which a hundred scholars of various denominations of England and America have unselfishly devoted so much time and strength can be lost. Whether the Revised Version may or may not replace the King James Version, it will remain a noble monument of Christian scholarship and cooperation, which in its single devotion to Christ and to truth rises above the dividing lines of schools and sects.'" [Penzel, Klaus, Philip Schaff: Historian and Ambassador of the Universal Church, Mercer University Press, Macon GA, 1991, p 260-61.] 1895 - Timothy Dwight published abridged version of Documentary History on the American Committee on Revision "The documentary evidence for the work of the American Bible revision committee is conveniently gathered in Documentary History on the American Committee on Revision, of which only 100 copies were privately printed. However, an abridged version was published by Timothy Dwight, Historical Account of the American Committee of Revision of the Authorized Version of the Bible (New York, 1885)." [Penzel, Klaus, Philip Schaff: Historian and Ambassador of the Universal Church, Mercer University Press, Macon GA, 1991, p. 252ff.] 1901 - Publication of American Standard Version (ASV) by Thomas Nelson.

"The Revised Version of the N.T. was published simultaneously in London and New York in 1881. The O.T. segment followed in 1885. Appendices indicated instances where British and American translators disagreed. The American Standard Version... was published in 1901." [William H. Gentz, Gen. Ed., The Dictionary of Bible and Religion, Nashville, 1986, p. 133] "1901 Nelson introduces the innovative American Standard Version of the Bible." (Thomas Nelson History) 1906-1916 - John Buchan, who was close to Lord Milner, became a partner in the publishing firm of his old classmate, Thomas A. Nelson based in Edinburgh, Scotland.

"Buchan was not a member of the inner core of the Milner Group, but was close to it and was rewarded in 1935 by being raised to a barony as Lord Tweedsmuir and sent to Canada as Governor-General. He is important because he is (with Lionel Curtis) one of the few members of the inner circles of the Milner Group who have written about it in a published work. In his autobiography, Pilgrim's Way, (Boston, 1940) he gives a brief outline of the personnel of the Kindergarten and their subsequent achievements, and a brilliant analysis of Milner himself. . . "Buchan went to Brasenose College, but, as he says of himself, 'I lived a good deal at Balliol and my closest friends were of that college.' He mentions as his closest friends Hillaire Belloc,... T.A. Nelson,... Edward Wood (the future Lord Halifax)... "Buchan went to South Africa in 1901 on Milner's personal invitation, to be his private secretary, but stayed only two years. . . he left in 1903 to take an important position in Egypt. This appointment was mysteriously canceled. . . it is. . . likely that Milner changed his mind because of Buchan's rapidly declining enthusiasm for federation. This was a subject on which Milner and other members of his Group were adamant for many years. By 1915 most members of the Group began to believe that federation was impossible, and, as a compromise took what we know now as the Commonwealth of Nations -- that is, a group of nations joined together by common ideals and allegiances rather than a fixed political organization. . . The present Commonwealth is in reality the compromises worked out when the details of the Milner Group clashed with the reality of political forces. "As a result of Buchan's failure to obtain the appointment of Egypt, he continued to practice law in London for three years, finally abandoning it to become a partner in the publishing firm of classmate Thomas A. Nelson (1906-1916). . ." (Quigley, 538:56-8) John Buchan was a member of the Merovingian bloodline, i.e. Jewish. "The Comyn family, which included the earldoms of Buchan and Monteith, was an old one, and could match the Bruces in power and prestige. . . On 10 February 1306, at the church of the Grey Friars in Dumfries, Bruce, with his own hand, murdered his adversary. Comyn was stabbed with a dagger and left to bleed to death on the church's stone floor. According to several accounts, he did not die immediately and was carried to safety by the monks, who sought to minister to his wounds. Bruce, hearing of this, returned to the church, dragged him back to the altar, and there slaughtered him..." (The Temple & The Lodge, 106:29) 1909 – C.I. Scofield [Scofeld], a member of the Niagara Prophecy Conference with William Blackstone, published his Scofield Reference Bible. "After mature reflection it was determined to use the Authorized Version. None of the many revisions have commended themselves to the people at large. The Revised Version, which has now been before the public for twenty-seven years, gives no indication of becoming in any general sense the people's Bible of the English-speaking world. The discovery of the Sinaitic MS, and the labours in the field of textual criticism of such scholars as Griesbach, Lachmann, Tischendorf, Tregelles, Winer, Alford, and Westcott and Hort, have cleared the Greek textus receptus of minor inaccuracies, while confirming in a remarkable degree the general accuracy of the Authorized Version of that text. Such emendations of the text as scholarship demands have been placed in the margins of this editions, which therefore combines the dignity, the high religious value, the tender associations of the past, the literary beauty and remarkable general accuracy of the Authorized Version, with the results of the best textual scholarship. "The editor disclaims originality. Other men have laboured, he has but entered into their labours. The results of the study of God's Word by learned and spiritual men, in every division of the church, and in every land, during the last fifty years, under the advantage of a perfected text, already form a vast literature, inaccessible to most Christian workers. The Editor has proposed to himself the modest if laborious task of summarizing, arranging, and condensing this mass of material." - (C.I. Scofield, Scofield Reference Bible, 1909, 1917 Edition) "The Scofield Reference Bible, whose notes explained Biblical texts from a dispensational perspective, was published in 1909 and became an authoritative and effective recruiter for the [fundamentalist, dispensationalist] movement." - 517

Scofield directed by Samuel Untermyer, future president of American Jewish Committee, and funded by Rothschild agents Jacob Schiff and Bernard Baruch. "As a young con-artist in Kansas after the Civil War, he met up with John J. Ingalls, an aging Jewish lawyer who had been sent to Atchison by the 'Secret Six' some thirty years before to work the Abolitionist cause. Pulling strings both in Kansas and with his compatriots back east, Ingalls assisted Scofield in gaining admission to the Bar, and procured his appointment as Federal Attorney for Kansas. Ingalls and Scofield became partners in a railroad scam which led to Cyrus serving time for criminal forgery... "Following his Illuminati connections to New York, he settled in at the Lotus Club, which he listed as his residence for the next twenty years. It was here that he presented his ideas for a new Christian Bible concordance, and was taken under the wing of Samuel Untermyer, who later became chairman of the American Jewish Committee, president of the American League of Jewish Patriots, and chairman of the Non-sectarian Anti-Nazi League. "Untermyer introduced Scofield to numerous Zionist and socialist leaders, including Samuel Gompers, Fiorello LaGuardia, Abraham Straus, Bernard Baruch and Jacob Schiff. These were the people who financed Scofield's research trips to Oxford and arranged the publication and distribution of his concordance. "It is impossible to overstate the influence of Cyrus Scofield on twentieth-century Christian beliefs. The Scofield Bible is the standard reference work in virtually all Christian ministries and divinity schools. It is singularly responsible for the Christian belief that the Hebrew Prophecies describe the kingdom of Jesus' Second Coming, and not the Zionist vision of a man-made New World Order. "And it is precisely because Christians persist in this belief that they remain blind to the reality of Zion. "Scofield served as the agent by which the Zionists paralyzed Christianity, while they prepared America for our final conquest." (Unified Conspiracy Theory) 1916 - Blackstone Memorial finally accepted by Rothschild pawn, Woodrow Wilson. "Other significant agents for the Rothschild Bank were Edward M. House and Bernard Baruch. Bernard Baruch was instrumental in Woodrow Wilson's successful presidential campaign. Colonial Edward M. House became President Wilson's closest advisor, selecting the president's cabinet and virtually running the State Department. There is little doubt that, under the influence of Colonial House, Woodrow Wilson became an invaluable puppet to the Rothschilds in not vetoing the Federal Reserve Act and asking Congress for a declaration of war against Germany." (USA & International Bankers History)

"Blackstone would send the Memorial to presidents Cleveland and Roosevelt (McKinley had already signed), but official government sympathy for the Zionist project would have to wait for Woodrow Wilson. By the time William Blackstone presented his petition to Wilson in 1916 there were other advocates, such as Nathan Straus, Rabbi Stephen Wise, and Louis Brandeis, with whom Blackstone could collaborate." – 516 "The records at Hatfield House show that the Unity of Science Conferences was the brain child of Robert Cecil, as confirmed by the Dutch Jew, Mandell Huis alias Colonel House, who was the controller of Woodrow Wilson and Wilson's personal representative at the Paris peace Conference; and the special representative of the United States Government at the Inter-Allied Conference of Premiers and Foreign Ministers in 1917; U. S. representative at the Armistice in 1918 and a member of the Commission on Mandates in 1919. Mandell Huis, like the Cecils, professed to be a Christian, but was a Jew by birth and conviction. He was a firm friend of the Cecil clan, and it was Huis who forced Wilson to agree to the July, 1915 {should be 2 November 1917} arrangement made by Arthur Balfour which gave Palestine to the Zionists and brought America into the first world war." (John Coleman, "King Makers, King Breakers: The Cecils") 1917 – As Foreign Secretary / Secretary of State in the administration of Lloyd George, Arthur Balfour issued the Balfour Declaration to Lord Rothschild. The Declaration had been drafted by Lord Milner of Cecil Rhodes' Circle of Intimates.

"It was a Rothschild who helped create the state of Israel. In 1917, after serving as a member of the British Parliament, Zionist 2nd Lord Lionel Walter Rothschild – the eldest son who inherited Nathan's money and title after his death in 1915 – received a letter from British Foreign Secretary Arthur Balfour expressing approval for the establishment of a homeland for Jews in Palestine. This letter became known as the Balfour Declaration." - 482:82-3

“His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people...’ Thus wrote the head of the British Foreign Office, Arthur James Balfour, a former Prime Minister and native Scot, on November 2, 1917. Abba Eban calls the Balfour Declaration, which opened the way for the creation of Israel, 'the authentic turning point in Jewish political history.’” – 528:178

“This declaration, which is always known as the Balfour Declaration, should rather be called 'the Milner Declaration,' since Milner was the actual draftsman and was apparently, its chief supporter in the War Cabinet. This fact was not made public until 21 July 1936. At that time Ormsby-Gore, speaking for the government in Commons, said, "The draft as originally put up by Lord Balfour was not the final draft approved by the War Cabinet. The particular draft assented to by the War Cabinet and afterwards by the Allied Governments and by the United States...and finally embodied in the Mandate, happens to have been drafted by Lord Milner. The actual final draft had to be issued in the name of the Foreign Secretary, but the actual draftsman was Lord Milner.” (Carroll Quigley) – 538:169 "In World War I the British, with Arab aid, gained control of Palestine. In the Balfour Declaration (1917) they promised Zionist leaders to aid the establishment of a Jewish 'national home' in Palestine, with due regard for the rights of non-Jewish Palestinians. The British had also promised Arab leaders to support the creation of independent Arab states. The Arabs believed Palestine was among these, an intention that the British later denied." - 124:2054

“When World War I broke out in 1914, Palestine was firmly in the grasp of the Ottoman Empire. By 1916, there was widespread speculation, even in the secular press, about the restoration of a Jewish homeland if the Turks could be vanquished. By late 1917, events were rapidly moving along those lines. As British forces fought their way into Palestine from the south, Lord Arthur Balfour, the British foreign secretary, wrote to Lord James Rothschild, a leader in international Zionism: ‘His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best efforts to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country.’ “Five weeks after the Balfour Declaration, the Turks surrendered Jerusalem to British forces, virtually without a fight.” - 517 1932 - Soviet spies against England, Victor Rothschild and Guy Burgess, were elected to the Cambridge Apostles Club, of which Hort and Westcott had been members.

"The Fifth [man] provided Stalin almost on a daily basis with what Churchill and Roosevelt were saying about the USSR. The spy also had particular links to the US military and intelligence during and after the war... The Fifth Man was Nathaniel Mayer Victor Rothschild (1910 to 1990), better known as the third Lord Rothschild. He was the British head of the famous banking dynasty, which apart from prolific achievements in art, science, wine and charity, had shaped recent history by such acts as the financing of the British army at the Battle of Waterloo and the purchasing of the Suez Canal for Great Britain and Prime Minister Disraeli...[Anthony] Blunt made much play towards the end of 1932 about his efforts to have Rothschild and Burgess elected to the Apostles... On 12 November 1932 Burgess and Victor were both voted in." (Roland Perry, The Fifth Man, London, Sidgwick & Jackson, 1994, pp. 20-21, 44-5)

"Victor Rothschild, who worked for J.P. Morgan & Co., and was an important part of MI5 (British Intelligence). Victor Rothschild was also a communist and member of the Apostles Club at Cambridge... The Rothschilds have several agents which their money got started and who still serve them well, the Morgans and the Rockefellers. The Rockefellers were Marrano Jews. The original Rockefeller made his money selling narcotics, (they weren't illegal then). After acquiring a little capital he branched out in oil. But it was the Rothschild capital that made the Rockefeller's so powerful. They also financed the activities of Edward Harriman (railroads) and Andrew Carnegie Steel." (77:155)

1946 – Thomas Nelson, the largest Bible publisher, published the New Testament of the Revised Standard Version (RSV). (Thomas Nelson History)

1969 – Sam Moore, who was president of the Council for National Policy from 1984-85, bought Thomas Nelson Publishers and became its CEO and President. (Thomas Nelson History) His brother, Charles Moore, also a member of the CNP, became vice president of Thomas Nelson. [See: The Council for National Policy] "Meanwhile, half a world away in Lebanon, a young man named Sam Moore attended an evangelical school where he heard the basics of the Christian faith. Early one morning Sam discovered the body of a murdered friend under an olive tree. Shaken, Sam placed his faith in Christ with the help of a Christian neighbor. "In 1950, the nineteen-year-old Sam Moore came to America with an intent to pursue medical training. He had $600 and his father's advice to 'work hard, be honest, and don't be afraid to take risks.' To pay his way through college at the University of South Carolina and later Columbia Bible College, Sam began selling Bibles door to door." (Thomas Nelson History) 1976 – Thomas Nelson Publisher initiated the New King James Version. (Thomas Nelson History) "Two meetings of the North American Overview Committee met at Nashville and Chicago in 1975 to assist in preparing guidelines for the NKJV. Members of that committee and a Nashville Convocation of 1984 included the following high profile members of the Religious Roundtable and Council for National Policy: Tim LaHaye, D. James Kennedy, Jerry Falwell, Ben Haden, Mary C. Crowley, W.A. Criswell, E.V. Hill, Henry Morris, Bill Bright and Charles Stanley." (NKJV Translators)

MR X

The OTO & the CIA (3/14/2007)

Ordis Templis Intelligentis

by Alex Constantine

Flying saucer mythology took hold in a big way in the 1950s, wrapped in gaudy pulp covers and flashed on movie screens. Jack Parsons, the CalTech rocket pioneer and high priest of the OTO's Agape Lodge in Pasadena - and one of the first Americans to report a UFO sighting - was addicted to science fiction. He regularly attended meetings of the L.A. Fantasy and Science Fiction Society, where in 1945 the black adept (he took "the Oath of the Anti-Christ" in 1949) met Lt. Commander L. Ron Hubbard, who made "alien" visitations an integral part of a religious doctrine he called Scientology.

The OTO was founded between 1895 and 1900 by a pair of powerful Freemasons, Karl Kellner and Theodor Reuss. Politically, the order was right-wing in the extreme, proposing the creation of a pan-German world based on pagan spiritual beliefs. Kellner died in 1905, and Reuss, a former spy for the Prussian Secret Service, assumed the office of high caliph. While living in London, Reuss spied on German socialist expatriates. In 1912 he made the acquaintance of Aleister Crowley, and appointed him head of the OTO's British chapter. But The Beast's political loyalties have always been an open question.

While living in the States, he wrote pro-German diatribes for two fascist publications, The Fatherland and The Internationalist. After WW II, there were calls for his head. But Crowley offered that his pro-German stance was a ruse of MI6, the military intelligence division in the UK.

In 1912 he had informed the secret service of his correspondence with Reuss, the German spy. Throughout the '20s and '30s, Crowley gathered intelligence on European Communists, the Nazi movement and Germany's occult lodges. Crowley died in 1944, willing the copyright for his books and unpublished manuscripts to the OTO, and leadership of the order to Karl Germer, otherwise known as Frater Saturnus X., formerly Crowley's Legate in the U.S. Germer was born in Germany, served in WW I and was reportedly tossed in the prison by the Nazis for his involvement in Freemasonry. (Crowley believed Germer to be a Nazi spy, but admitted him to the OTO anyway. Typical.)

He settled after the war in Dublin, California and died on October 25, 1962 "under horrifying circumstances," according to his wife in a letter to Marcelo Motta, an OTO official in Brazil. She informed him that Germer, on his death bed, had insisted that Motta succeed him as the Outer Head of the occult order. But the mantle was not passed on to Karl Germer's chosen successor because the CIA orchestrated a coup. But not as an OTO spokesman tells it: "Recently the United States government has legalized our opinion.... [McMurty's] leadership of the Ordo Templi Orientis rests on several rather clear letters of authorization from Crowley himself. They met while McMurty was a young First Lieutenant during World War II. He had been admitted to the OTO in 1941 [by] Jack Parsons."

In fact, the choice of McMurty was not entirely "clear." Motta's advocates insist the court decision was based on the perjured testimony of McMurty and attorneys with CIA paymasters. The cult's position on a successor is moot since, according to charters signed on March 22, 1946 and April 11, 1946, The Beast of the Apocalypse had left it to Germer to veto or amend his designation of a successor. As Motta saw it, no one had a legitimate claim to the title but he. Unfortunately, Herr Germer died during the period the CIA had chosen to move mind control experimentation from academic and military labs into the community. An inner circle of Heironymous scientists experimented on cult devotees, and sometimes collaborated in mass murder to silence the subjects (Jonestown, SLA, Solar Temple). It was a sweet arrangement. Occult societies are secretive and often highly irrational. They follow a leader. They exist on the edge of a society that ignores them because weird religious rhetoric is obnoxious.

A number of intelligence agents with occult interests already had their hooks into the OTO. One of them was Gerald Yorke, a veteran British intelligence agent working, an advocate of Motta argues, "with American intelligence in an attempt to absorb the OTO into the ideological warfare network of the political right." Before the horns of Thelemite succession were bestowed upon Grady McMurty, Yorke the prelate spy "misinterpreted" Germer's will and named Joseph Metzger, a ranking Thelemite (and the son of a former Swiss intelligence chief), to the office of high caliph. One order adept, Oskar Schlag, was an alleged "psychological warfare" specialist from Israel. Even McMurty (with his degree in political science) was a State Department bureaucrat the day Herr Germer died. The coup was sealed while Marcelo Motta, a writer for Brazilian television, fended off operatives of the CIA bent on destroying his sanity and leaving him financially crippled. It was a ritual that subjects of mind control conditioning would come to know well. Strangers approached his friends and filled their ears with lurid stories of debauchery. He was suddenly unable to find work. His mail was opened. Motta took a job teaching English, studied self-defense. "He had begun to doubt his sanity," the advocate says. "He constantly suspected people who approached him. He saw in himself all the clinical symptoms of paranoia."

After a few years of harassment and squabbling over the leadership of the OTO, Motta came to the realization that the McMurty junta and "the American 'intelligence' network behind them had a worry, and a pressing one; Motta's proposed 'New Manifesto' [did] not mention ... Grady at all. Since their purpose was to create an American 'intelligence' tool at the expense of a religious organization, it was necessary to either bring Motta to concede Grady further authority or to discredit Motta completely." They did what they wilt. In 1967 Germer's entire occult library and manuscripts were stolen from the home of his widow. Without the royalties these brought in, Mrs. Germer was destitute and literally starved to death. Motta was cast out of the OTO. Trouble brewed in the cult's cauldron. At least one Cotton Club killer passed through. The OTO's Solar Lodge in San Bernardino was founded by Maury McCauley, a mortician, on his own property. McCauley was married to Barbara Newman, a former model and the daughter of a retired Air Force colonel from Vandenberg. The group subscribed to a grim, apocalyptic view of the world precipitated by race wars, and the prophecy made a lasting impression on Charles Manson, who passed through the lodge. In the L.A. underworld, the OTO spin-off was known for indulgence in sadomasochism, drug dealing, blood drinking, child molestation and murder. The Riverside OTO, like the Manson Family, used drugs, sex, psycho-drama and fear to tear down the mind of the initiate and rebuild it according to the desires of the cult's inner-circle.

On the East Coast, a series of murders created an atmosphere of fear in New York City. Before the world had ever heard of Son of Sam, an obscure Vietnam vet named David Berkowitz moved into an apartment on Pine Street, a rotting gantlet of hovels in Yonkers. Like much of the bloodshed for which he is known, Berkowitz did not make the decision to live on Pine Street. Key decisions in his life were made by the leaders of a religious group based in Westchester, a hybrid of OTO members and acolytes from the Process Church of the Final Judgment. Members of the cult mingled with others in Manhattan and Brooklyn, and had contact with similar groups across the country. The leader of the Westchester "family" was a real estate attorney with a practice in White Plains. He was active in local politics. Balding, lean with years, he directed Berkowitz and his "brothers" to kill in the name of an old cause. The group's meeting place was an abandoned church, a decrepit hulk on the grounds of the abandoned Warburg-Rothschild estate. The church, partially eaten by fire, was the group's "eastern Headquarters." Most of the pews had been removed from the church long ago. On one wall was hung a large silver pentagram, festooned with silver insets in the shape of Waffen SS lightning bolts.

The Spiritual Roots of NASA's Big Bang Premise (3/19/2007)

We have taken some notice of NASA's goal of certifying evolution thru its "Origins Program". We have also seen how that goal is being achieved thru a modus operandi involving high-tech computer programmed telescope and camera simulations. What needs to be made perfectly clear now are two factors which blow NASA's masquerade as "science" and reveal its true identity as an agent of a religion dedicated to the destruction of New Testament Christianity. Those two factors are: 1) NASA's entire rationale rests on the acceptance of the infinitely squirrely Big Bang Expanding Universe hypothesis; and 2) That Big Bang hypothesis comes straight out of the Kabbala (Cabala) which is an openly anti-Christian "holy book".

The Big Bang hypothesis--which is now the keystone of virtually all modern astronomical musings-- incorporates at least these four features (in addition to the Copernican Model) which cannot be altered lest NASA's plans (along with all of modern academic astronomy and physics) fall flat. These four features are:

A tiny bit of exploding energy (or gas), not God, created the universe and all that is in it.

That exploded energy and all it allegedly created is still receding from the blast at great speed and provides a central plank in modern cosmology referred to as the expanding universe.

The Big Blast occurred 15-20 billion years ago. Some of this gas/matter formed the Earth 4.6 billion years ago (give or take a couple of months). All the points of light called stars which we can see with our eyes and with normal telescopes are said to be many light years away. The invisible but technology-manufactured galaxies of stars are said to be hundreds, and thousands, and millions, and billions of light years away...and on and on and on and on and on and on....

Einstein (named "Person of the Century" before '99 ended) still dictates the parameters of cosmology from the grave. The speed limit he put on light travel, the ether he removed so his calculations would work, the elasticity of time in space travel, the dogma that all motion is relative (the train and the train station nonsense), etc., is all cosmological gospel in the textbooks.

Since the Big Bang is the capstone of this gargantuan edifice of evidenceless hypotheses, discovering its roots should be of particular interest not only to those who hotly maintain that "Real Science" must be free of any kind of religious contamination or manipulation, but also to all folks anywhere who prefer Truth to deception regardless of any severe jolts to their personal beliefs and training which might result....

So, the long and the short of it is this: The whole ball of wax--from the Big Bang thru Einsteinian Relativity and NASA's Virtual Reality-based, Bible-bashing evolutionism--stems not from one single scientific fact, but rather, HAS ITS TAPROOT IN MYSTICAL KABBALISM.

Nuclear physicist, Dr. Gerald Schroeder, lets this cat out of the bag in his 17 page Web article entitled: "The Age of the Universe". Schroeder--formerly on the MIT staff, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, author, lecturer in Jerusalem, etc., does not challenge the Big Bang cosmology and all that rests upon it in this revealing article. He supports all of it. Indeed, the thrust of his article is to demonstrate that hundreds of years ago the Kabbala set forth a clear description of what is now called the Big Bang explanation for the origin of the universe. In other words: Big Bang cosmology has its roots in the Kabbala.

The evidence Schroeder presents is two-fold: A) That the Jewish Torah word for "the first day" in Genesis is really "day one", and the Hebrew meaning of that allows not only for the Big Bang's 15 billion year odyssey, but that it also accommodates Einstein's Relativity in all of its space, matter, and time hypotheses. B) Along with the Bible, however, even the anti-Christian Talmud refuses to agree with the Big Bang paradigm, and thus neither supplies a Scriptural, Spiritual foundation for the Big Bang hypothesis. But, not to worry, the Kabbalist (Cabalist) Nachmanides (Rabbi ben Nachman: 1194-1270) does provide Dr. Schroeder (and all of modern physics and astronomy!) with the "Scriptural", Spiritual foundation that he (and how many others?!) are using to justify and establish Big Bangism and all that goes with it...all the while presenting Big Bangism as a purely secular "scientific" concept....

So, let's see what we've got here.... Our search engine brings up "The Jewish Student Online Research Center" to tell us about Nachmanides & the Kabbala (in case you don't already know...). We read:

"Nachmanides was the foremost halakist [rabbinical discussions of purely legal matters in the Talmud] of his age. Like Maimonides before him, Nachmanides was a Spaniard who was both a physician and a great Torah scholar. However, unlike the rationalist Maimonides, Nachmanides had a strong mystical bent. His biblical commentaries are the first ones to incorporate the mystical teachings of kabala."

Then, these two interesting sidelights are mentioned: "He (Nachmanides) was well-known for HIS AGGRESSIVE REFUTATIONS OF CHRISTIANITY... and could be described AS ONE OF HISTORY'S FIRST ZIONISTS, because he declared that it is a mitzvah to take possession of Israel and to live in it...."

Hmmm... I can't let those two nuggets go by without at least parenthetically underscoring: 1) The "aggressive" anti-Christian nature of Kabbalism (which is spelled out in the most malicious terms also in the Talmud); and 2) The fact that Kabbalism not only originated and endorses Big Bangism, but also provides the Spiritual heartbeat of the whole "back to Israel" Zionist movement which culminated with the establishment of Israel in 1948; and 3) That the controlling doctrine of "end time" Christian TV evangelism (HERE) is squarely based on the same heartbeat....

Read the rest of the article at : http://www.fixedearth.com/nasas_spiritual_roots.htm

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

ARTICLES 101-110

Interview by Lars Seglund, Basso Magazine (Finland) (4/4/2007)

Interview by Lars Seglund Basso Magazine (Finland) to Leo Zagami

In his website illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it, Leo Lyon Zagami aka. Leo Lyon Young aka Khaled Saifullah Khan calls himself an music producer, radio host, club dj, and wanna-be illuminati. His name might be familiar to those who have followed the Helsinki club-scene a bit longer, as he has played in Nylon "back in the day". Leo's discography starts at 1988, consisting of various techno and house releases. Some of them under various pseudonyms as Lee Tong. He has also released material from his own labels (Aristocratica, prosniff, etc...). In 90-92 he was a co-owner of an legendary record label and rave management called Male productions. However, this article does not concentrate on Leo's musical career, but on his rather fascinating personal history. Leo was born 5.3. 1970 under what some would call "prosperous stars". He played his first dj-show in catholic church's official radio-station. Leo tells us about his family background: English, "Scottish and Italian blood runs in my veins". From his mother's side Leo belongs to the Lyon-family, making him an relative of the queen mother. From his father's side he belongs to the Sicilian Digregorio lineage. According to Leo, his blood ties make him an Sicilian don and a prince of the holy roman empire! Leo started to study magic and occultism when he was 10 years old, about the same time his interests to music started to flourish. "Music can be used to achieve trance-states and to connect with one's higher self. it is a very powerful artform and the people who manipulate us know this. When I was organising the first techno raves of Italy in 87, I was full knowledge that my sponsors true aims were to corrupt the youth with drugs." Zagami takes credit for organising the first prodigy show ever outside the uk. in 2002 the Russian government asked him to perform in Bolshoi-theatre for the benefit of the victims of terrorism. The line-up featured the legendary jazz-drummer Billy Cobham. "It was probably the most expensive concert-ticket ever, a true gathering of the elite", laughs Leo. The ticket cost 1000 dollars indeed. Leo's bloodties guaranteed him something else besides funding and contacts for his musical ambitions: "13th of may 193 I joined the Sicilian branch of freemasonry to continue a tradition witch started in Koln in 1018". Leo says he was a high ranking member of the notorious p2-lodge. This far-right organisation was causing a scandal in the early eighties. Documents and member lists were confiscated from its leader, Licio Gelli's home. "the old nazi Gelli" was bragging with his ties to the military-dictatorship of Argentina and it's leader Juan Peron. P2 has been linked to the deaths of Aldo Moro and Ulof Palme. After the p2 scandals, the Italian government supposedly banned the membership in secret societies for politicians. "nonsense", shoots Leo. "Behind the left and right politics lies a totally different world" Zagami witnessed "pretty heavy things" during his years in the inner circles of the elites who he calls Satanists and criminals:”The network of secret societies that manipulate the world operates in a pyramid fashion,meaning that the lower initiates don’t understand what’s going on in the higher levels,and even if you do,what can you do in the face of such evil?.Challenging the shadow government is a big risk.These people are ruthless”.This all may sound pretty unbelievable but Leo assures us that the “blackness”of the Situation on this planet is truly gruesome.”The elites have fooled with black magic since day one.I have personally witnessed different kind of demons possessing people during satanic rituals.There are always people who seek to manipulate others using secret knowledge.Both black and so called white magic opens you to unknown forces.It is dangerous and against gods will”. According to Leo, the true power of the puppetmasters concentrates in two places:In the Vatican and in Jerusalem.”it is bullshit that in the highest levels,Catholicism and Zionism are opposed to each other. Same goes with individuals Fidel Castro and Hugo Chaves.Both are agents of the c.i.a and very corrupt individuals”. But why all this plotting and scheming? Is the motivation purely financial?. “Ofcourse the elites need money to finance the occult secret society network.The old banker families like the Rothschilds and the Warburgs are essentially involved.The elites sponsor chaos and catastrophe as long it brings money to their pockets.”Leo tells he was involved in organising an satanic gathering which was supposed to take place in Egypt at 2004:”That’s when I truly understood the power of the American branches of the illuminati”,seeing the level of manipulation in their hierarchy”. Leo says the true goal of the elite is what George Bush calls the new world order. In the nutshell it means the nazification of the whole world. Everything controlled by a totalitarian world government.”ter 9/11 inside job the plan has advanced in a in a fast pace”.The conclusion of the plan is simply gruesome to hear:”it is in the plan to microchip the entire population of the world.This means the final surrender to satan and his minions.We are heading there step by step as usual”This is supposed to happen before the year 2012 ends.So people really need to stop dreamingand fight or we might wake up to a nightmare one day”. After leaving the illuminati Leo escaped to Oslo where he currently resides with his wife and children.”I have been arrested and tortured here in free Scandinavia and they have threatened to confiscate our kids if I continue exposing them.But I will not stop.I am prepared to die for god and freedom”.It was god himself which made Leo to turn his back to his former brethren.He experienced a conversion to Islamic faith.”My new faith cannot allow manipulation black magic and shedding innocent blood.I am a free man now and their threats ring to deaf ears. I am not proud of my years in the elite inner circles.I hope that god forgives me”.Spiritually Leo might seem somehow strict.However He clears the perception:”God is for everybody,no religious monopoly is acceptable.Fundamental Islam is the creation of c.i.a anyway.It is no in tention of mine to force any beliefs. However I want to emphasise that we are standing before a huge change to a whole civilisation.I firmly believe we are living in the end times of the prophecies. Illuminati seeks to own our bodies minds and souls.We should take all this very spiritually and seriously. To the readers of basso Leo send his regards:”It is great to notice that young people are interested in these subjects.It is up to you to make your minds about me.The truth is I have seen the things I talk about instead of reading them from some conspiracy book.There is a lot of disinformation in this field.Things are really serious at the moment.I wish people would understand soon enough that we are getting hoodwinked.I don’t think people really want somebody like Arnold Swarzenegger to be the leading figure of the coming world government.”,Leo adds with some irony in his voice. “We need to publicly pressure these secret societies to reveal their members and documents. And independent committee should be formed to to investigate and expose the myths and half-truths in the history books.I am,m organising a project called tour of hope with my friend Greg Zhymanski.Our intention is to arrange seminars and lectures about these subjects.Maybe we can find some positive solutions together in these dark times.”

“Get real:Fight the new world order” Amen.

illuminaticonfessions.webfrend.it arcticbeacon.com conspiracycentral.info

Spermo Gnostics (3/19/2007)

Ordo Templi Orientis Spermo-Gnosis

Carl Kellner Theodor Reuss Aleister Crowley

One day the universe broke into pieces - either caused by a female aspect of the Creator or due to an intermediary entity between the Divine and the Profane.

Those who are happy with and in the world, and benefit from good health, and who experience love and satisfaction in their preferred fields, seem not to need the universe-healing Gnosticism, which I believe is a religious tool to deal with unbearable life. The magician and the Gnostic live in two worlds at the same time. But, while the magician tries to use the world beyond, in order to have power over this world here, the Gnostic seeks a divine reality, a realm within this world here, which is only a sort of shadow world. Both the magician and the Gnostic (as have many other traditions such as Hindu, Buddhist, Taoist and Tantra) feel that sexuality might be the key or the door to other realities; but they differ in method between ascetic and libertine/sensual orientations: both still use the sexual force. Gnosticism is a varried set of overlaping traditions that often contradict each other. Not all gnostics were "spermo-gnostics". But of these I will speak now. I will summarize the complex Gnostic traditions (although the subject is far too diverse for anyone to depict it accurately in a short essay) but not their literature, nor compare their cosmology in general, nor their History; (1*) I will also go to modern times, where modern Gnostics probably find both worlds more real than the ancient Gnostics did. (2*)

Salvation

Living in a world which is subjectively felt and experienced as a "rotten place" (a Gnostic term), cries out for salvation. The way this salvation begins is with the material body. It rises up to higher planes (e.g. the emotional plane and the intellectual plane), until man reaches the divine place in the Pleroma. That is fulness to overflowing. This Pleroma, be it in man or somewhere in outer space, is the Gnostic counterpart to the "rotten" earthly place. Two routes can be pursued to leave this rotten place: to suppress or avoid it (the ascetic concept); or to dissolve it while completely living it out (the sensual way). On a higher plane it is vice versa. The sensual way leads to homeopathic asceticism: weakening the evil whilst indulging in it like a necessity. The sensual gnostic embraces sin in order to experience the decaying of the world, and to rise as the Phoenix from the ashes. Sexual orgies are sweating out the divine Pneuma/Logos which rises to the Pleroma. The ascetic way reacts allopathically: against the poison of existence it gives ignorance of the body as a remedy. (3*)

The term I have introduced above, the concept of "homeopathy" surprisingly is used as a method often with the ascetic way of Gnostic life. Homeopathy surprisingly has a lot in common with Gnosticism itself. (4*) Homeopathy and Gnosticism both regard the material plane as the most unimportant to man. Both concepts seek a bringing back of man/humanity in/to a primitive/archaic state of health/salvation. This state manifests itself on the highest spiritual/divine plane. Both, homeopathy and Gnosticism teach that healing and/or salvation happens from Above to Below and from Inside to Outside (which reminds us of Hermes Trismegistos' Emerald Table of the Rosicrucians and the Freemasons). But while Gnosticism offers salvation/health either via "Optimum through Maximum" or "Optimum through Minimum", homeopathy follows the middle path of balance.

The central point with the ascetic and sensual Gnostics lies with their concept of Sperm. It is the sperm that contains the Holy Logos which, when in Man, has to be brought back to the Pleroma. (5*) This implies two questions: 1. can women be saved? and, 2. what shall we do with the sperm?

The Misogynists

Maybe because it was the greediness of the female aspect of the creative Entity that caused the fall into the profane, it is the duty of the Man to give the universe back its completeness/integrity. On the material plane the woman is punished with the large wound between her legs. (6*) This wound signifies the place where primitive man once was bound with his own female aspect: the perfect Androgyn, now torn apart. It is the man's turn now to experience the lust which broke the universe apart. Woman has to suffer. Only man's sperm transports the Holy Logos. Women lack the prostata (7*) and therefore are superfluous for man's salvation as long as he does not achieve androgyny. (8*) If he does have "use" for the female, then it is only as a channel to higher divine entities. Maybe he sees some use for her menstrual blood? When he is Christian orientated (let us call him the libertine Gnostic), he might use her blood as the "Blood of Christ" and consume it as a "religious nourishment". If he sees the world as a really bad place, he avoids having children and animalistic flesh-eating (and here we find vegetarians). An ascetic avoids having ejaculations, even with his wife, but directs his sexual energies in Yoga-practises into his head (where he assumes is found the most direct bridge to the Divine). In order to achieve Androgyny, he penetrates his wife (avoiding orgasm) so that she, as well, might benefit from his luck. (9*) Yoga is one of the preliminary conditions to master the body before using it as a temple. By westerners, Yoga is mistakenly thought to be a system of physical exercises to keep the body supple and the mind calm. But the meaning of the word yoga is union and the system was developed by eastern adepts to assist them to attain union with the source of all being. All the Gnostic movements, be they the old ones or modern ones, assign salvation only to man: the woman has to become a man in order to enter heaven. (10*) The ascetic Gnostics avoid ejaculation and let the woman join in his wonderful ability to "produce" the Logos; the libertine Gnostics use all of the woman's gifts in order to sweat out the Pneuma.

Well. Our two questions (1. can women be saved? and, 2. what shall we do with the sperm?) cannot be separated. Only man's sperm can offer salvation (11*) and woman has to become man in order to be saved. (12*)

Which spermo-Gnostics are known today? Since the turn of the present century, the most famous group has organised itself as a quasi freemasonry organization, called

Ordo Templi Orientis, in short: O.T.O. part of the illuminati working under the Jesuits (13*)

Ordo Templi Orientis

Three famous O.T.O.-protagonists are: the provider of its concept/idea, the Austrian Carl Kellner (1851-1905); its German founder Theodor Reuss (1855-1923) and the notorious Englishman, Aleister Crowley (1875-1947). The reader will find the beliefs and practises of the O.T.O.(-groups) below. Gnosticism (in its varied forms) is only one tradition that comes into play in Ordo Templi Orientis symbology, and not all aspects of every kind of gnosticism are particularly important. These modern Gnostics (and their sheep) were sperm-eaters. They assigned this to the Holy Logos; and, at least Reuss and Crowley, did not like women. (14*) However, while Reuss' biography (15*) opened his mind dualistically towards both ascetic and libertine ways as a means of achieving salvation, Crowley's libertine biography (16*) shows an individual whose universe got smaller each day, and whose world was populated with demons and angels, which did not dissolve at the darkest moment in order to give rise to a phoenix.

The Occult Circle, later reformed as O.T.O., under its founder Carl Kellner, ca. 1895

While Madame H.P Blavatsky warned from Yoga-teachings which are unsain and disapproved by the "Masters", Carl Kellner taught Hatha Yoga which included sexual exercises leaned on to the philosophies of Samkhya, Advaita and Franz Hartmann (1838-1912). Kellner was specialised in Yoga-meditations aiming at experiencing earlier incarnations (Patanjali's Yoga Sutra). His wife was the Great Goddess. Kellner himself acted as Babylonian Priest. In his house was a room without windows where the tantric rites took place to prepare the Elixir, that is: male and female sexual fluids. (17*) The pseudo-templar/freemason structure (introduced appr. by Theodor Reuss in 1903 and only after Kellner's death in 1905 used for a framework for a body later called O.T.O.) was not that important to Kellner who worked with his circle without order system. There is no evidentiary documentation that Kellner made use of the term "O.T.O.". His circle was called "The Inner Triangle" and consisted of Kellner, Hartmann, Reuss and some women. Carl Kellner was a skilled practitioner in several traditional styles of Yoga. He believed that a major role was played by the nerve fibres (Nadis) and the 10 different kinds of breathing (Vayus). The ancient indian bodily expressions for the 10 Vayus are: Prana (in the heart), Apana (near the anus), Samana (near the genitals), Udana (in the throat), Vyana (the whole body), Naga (in the genitals), Kurma (open the eye lids), Krikara (causes sneezing), Devadatta (causes yawning) and Dhananjaya (floats through the physical body). Reuss' theory of "Sexual Magic" was focussed on the 6th Vayus (see above) or Naga which he published in 1912, seven years after Kellner's death. Since Theodor Reuss later spoke of the "Hermetic Brotherhood of Light" (HBL) as the central and secret source of the teachings it is easy to assume that Kellner followed its protagonist P.B. Randolphs teachings of using drugs in order to reach illumination while having sexual intercourse. Randolph also gave techniques to focus the sexual energies upon a wish, a sort of an inner photography which represents the desire to be fulfilled. (18*) There is oral history as to Carl Kellner being one of the 12 co-founders of the Hermetic Brotherhood of Light in Boston/Chicago in 1895, and then leading a German "branch" which later was to become above mentioned "Inner Triangle".(19*) There is reason to believe that Reuss' HBL was not the same as Kellner's.

The O.T.O. under Theodor Reuss

After Kellner's death in 1905, Reuss founded an O.T.O.-system now consisting of 7 pseudo-freemasonic degrees, opening the 7 Chakras, while the sexmagical VIIIth and IXth degrees were "given" without any rituals. The Xth degree only labelled the country's leader.

The surviving papers of Reuss show that he continued the Yoga-teachings of Kellner but also introduced Manichaeism. (20*) The whole body was considered Divine (the Temple of the Holy Ghost) and the sexual organs were meant to fulfill a peculiar function: a Holy Mass was the symbolic act of re-creating the universe. (21*) The root belief is that only by co-operation between man and woman can either advance spiritually. Sexually joining is a shadow of the cosmic act of creation. Performed by adepts, the union of male and female approaches more closely the primal act and partakes of its divine nature, which is seen as continuous and continuing, not for once and for all. This point of view is different from the Christian one, which holds that the creation of the universe by God occurred at some definite point in time past. The sensations that form slowly within Man and Woman sexually joined come not from the conjunction of the physical parts, but from the male and female sexual polarities in contact. Correct breathing patterns affect the chemistry of the blood stream and so bring about a change in the internal environment of the brain. Consciousness ego moves away to make room for divine power. The sexual energies then should be stored, together with correct breathing both leads to the transmutation of the energy in order the Magician becomes a Clairvoyant (in German: "Seher"). (22*) Reuss was not that fond of masturbating (the VIIIth degree under Crowley) and called it "Selbstpeinigung" (causing pain to oneself) and "widernatuerlich" (against nature). (23*) Nevertheless he saw the Lingam (phallus) as a symbol of the creator of the universe. It seems that Reuss worked along homosexual (24*) or at least homoerotic tantric lines (mutual touching of the phalli, (25*) the XIth degree under Crowley) but the central secret of his Ordo Templi Orientis was built around Richard Wagner's "Parsifal". The spear became the phallus while the Grail, of course, was the vagina which contained the "Grails-speise" (the nourishment of the Grail, that is, sperm and vaginal fluids). Reuss' O.T.O.-system was formed on an utopian communistic society where the Mother (with references to the christian Maria) took central position in social and sexual life, called "community of Neo-Christians". (26*)

The O.T.O. under Aleister Crowley

After Reuss' death in 1923, Crowley made an enterprise out of the O.T.O.'s secret. There is a surviving plan to promote the "Elixir of Life" (under the name "Amrita", the Magical Medicine) (27*) and to heal patients according to O.T.O. methods, (28*) that is: to heal them with yoga and sexual fluids. (29*) Crowley used the Ordo Templi Orientis (as he used other real or ghostly orders) as a play, a publishing house and found it a suitable instrument to extract the "gold" (be it alchemical or sexual) from the pockets of his followers. To that purpose he pretended never having had sex out of sheer lust. (30*) It always should have been a "duty", a "prayer to God" (Aiwaz, Baphomet or Sheitan (31*) - there are many more disguises); in consequence a prayer to himself whom he identified with an erected penis.

Crowley's VII* is a treatise about the creative organ's divinity, and from his "Book of Lies" one can infer that the vital fluid is a vehicle of immortality. The Matter is the original primitive material substance semi-spiritual, immortal and containing in itself the archetypes of all form and possessing the double potency of attracting to itself individual spirits and also particles of gross Matter to form their temporary envelope on this plane (the gnostic Rotten Place). Crowley's VIIIth degree unveiled to the "pupil" that masturbating on a sigil of a demon or meditating upon the image of a phallus would bring power or communication with a (or one's own) divine being/Super Ego. The IXth degree labelled heterosexual intercourse where the sexual secrets were sucked out of the vagina and when not consumed (when considered holy) put on a sigil to attract this or that demon to fulfill the pertinent wish/order. (32*) In his "Emblems and Mode of Use" (33*) Crowley describes the method of how to smear sperm on a talisman/sigil in order to attract for example money. This paper is so secret that, at one time, its possession was equal with having the IXth degree O.T.O. There was no other proof until only recently: now one possibly needs to go through an examination test to prove "possession"/"knowledge" of the IXth degree O.T.O. (34*) Crowley played around with different sexmagickal methods. One of the O.T.O.'s secrets is the adoration of the idol Baphomet of the old Templars. While the German splinter-group, the misogynist Fraternitas Saturni definitely tried (and still tries) to incarnate Baphomet in flesh, (35*) in the O.T.O.-groups (that emerged after Crowley's death in 1947) the subject is not that clear although incorporated in the Xth degree. Crowley advised selection of a female partner. The magician and his mate "copulate continuously" until impregnation results: a homunculus. (36*) Maybe the ability of the Xth to create a homunculus was realised on the physical level in their privilege of electing their OHO.

In the XIth degree, the mostly homosexual degree, (40*) one identifies oneself with an ejaculating penis. (41*) The blood (or excrements) from anal intercourse attract the spirits/demons while the sperm keeps them alive. On 31 March 1946 Crowley noted down a dream in his diary: "A most frightful semi-dream (between two normal motions) of giving birth to a foetus per anum. It was a mass of blood & slime. The nastiest Qliphotic experience I can remember!"

Crowley saw no use in the vaginal fluids nor did he think that women are divine, (42*) therefore he could not imagine lesbian sexmagick. He believed that "man is the guardian of the Life of God; woman but a temporary expedient; a shrine indeed for the God, but not the God." ==> Women exist for the use of men. His ideal female: "robust, vigorous, eager, sensible, hot and healthy". That is to say, his interest was in the woman's body and he wanted no spiritual or intellectual participation from her. Crowley's main tools to achieve illumination remained: spermophagy, coprophagy and algolagnia.

Coprophagy vs Poetry?

Crowley's interest in women was reduced: Diary entry of 26 July 1920. Crowley boasts to his Swiss Scarlet Whore Leah Hirsig while on cocaine that he is such a powerful priest and magician that he could transform excrements into his Eucharist Host. She calls his bluff (which, later in the entry he admits it was -- "I'm a Coward, and Liar. Leah-Alostrael -- my Scarlet Woman -- knew it.") So she tells him to go ahead and prove it by eating her shit. He finds himself unable to do so. She taunts him saying that he is no priest if he can't live up to his boast. So he complies. He complains "my mouth burned; my throat choked; my belly retched; my blood fled whither who knows, and my skin sweated.... My teeth grew rotten, my tongue ulcered; raw was my throat, spasm-torn my belly ..."

Read his 'Leah Sublime':

"Sprawl on me! Sit On my mouth, Leah, shit! Shit on me, slut Creamy the curds That drip from your gut! Greasy the turds! Dribble your dung On the tip of my tongue!" This small extract does not give the full extent of Crowley's enjoyment with Coprophagy. Crowley also notes that Leah Hirsig enjoyed this kink as well ("worn whore that has chewed your own pile of manure" and "splutter out shit [...] turn to me, chew it with me, Leah"). There is also a urine fetish and a fetish with getting venereal diseases -- that is, Crowley expresses a kink for disease, even including what seems to be Hirsig's bad oral hygiene or gingivitis, stating that her breath stinks and that he wants her to spit on him.

(Notes on obscure medical terms: "Gleet" is another name for gonorrhea. "Pox" -- here short for "the French pox" -- does not refer to viral pox diseases like smallpox or chicken pox, but is an old euphemism for any sexually transmitted disease. "Cheeses" refers to venereal yeast infection or to Trichomonas infection, or both. "The itch" -- also called "Cupid's Itch" in times past -- may refer variously to a venereal yeast infection, Trichomonas infection, ringworm of the pubes, or any more serious sexually transmitted disease.)

SUMMARY OF CROWLEY'S SEX MAGICK SYSTEM

VII° Adoration of the phallus as Baphomet, both within and without VIII° Interaction with something outside the closed vessels of the vagina and the anus IX° Interaction inside the vagina with either the blood or the secretions of a woman when excited X° Impregnation + fertilisation of an egg + the act of creation or succession (e.g. election of the OHO) XI° Two-folded: i) Isolation in the anus where it is considered unable to interact with anything at all ii) interaction with excrements (one of Crowley's preferred ingredients) and small amounts of blood (when small wounds occur through the intercourse), mucus and of course the mucous membranes that lead directly into the blood supply, etc., etc.

Questions and Answers regarding the O.T.O.: Theodor Reuss, Rudolf Steiner, sexmagick and Aleister Crowley Zur Geschichte des O.T.O. Fragen und Antworten zu Theodor Reuss, Rudolf Steiner und Aleister Crowley

Stranded Bishops

Halfway considering the duties of the Manichaeon Elect (to concentrate the Light, the sparkling leftover when the Logos spermatikos left man, imprisoned in matter, by consuming such foods) Crowley neglected the ascetic aspect of Manicheism (who avoided activities which would tend to disperse that Light) but concentrated upon building up a brilliant Body of Light fitted for return to the Blessed Realm. (37*) For his Holy Host Crowley gave a recipe using blood and sperm. (38*) In order to avoid a HIV-infection the current American O.T.O. (the 1977- founded "Caliphate") advises to bake the host at 160 degree Fahrenheit in the oven. (39*) The IXth becomes a parody of the Christian Eucharist with further refinements of the techniques related to the consumption of the Elixir/Host. Absorption occurs through the mucous membrane of the roof of the mouth, rather than swallowing it because the delicate protein fabric enveloping the essence will get broken down by the acids of the digestive system before it has had a chance to integrate into the mind-body symbiosis. In the case of the mouth there is the digestive activity of the saliva. This must also affect the "delicate protein fabric enveloping the essence" to some degree, the longer it is kept in the mouth. In 1983 this new O.T.O. group decided "that at the 9* level there are no politics. It is an autocratic structure. The qualifications of the 9* are only significant to the 9*. Their qualifications are only of interest to other 9*." [Minutes of the 28 March 1983 meeting]

The "Caliphate"- "Gnostic Church" also parodies the Roman Catholic traditions in introducing offices like "Patriarch", "Archbishop", "Bishop", (Novitiate) "Priest"/"Priestess" and "Deacon" (Priest and Deacon already appear in Reuss/Crowley's Gnostic Mass of the 1910s) (21*). Nowadays, they offer services like:

Baptism Ceremony for a Child, Baptism Ceremony for an Adult, Confirmation Ceremony, Ceremony for Ordination of a Deacon, A Wedding Ceremony, A Ceremony for a Greater Feast for Death, A Basic Exorcism Rite (there seems to be a growing emphasis on exorcism), A Ceremony for Visitation and Administration of the Virtues to the Sick; they have a Saintship (no woman appears on this list) and Animal Benefactions [once at <http://www.scarletwoman.org/soter/beastb.htm>].(43*) Christian prayers are attached also to the "Caliphate"-V*-ritual: "The Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus", "The Litany of St. Joseph" and "The Litany of the Blessed Virgin Mary". This is to be taken as reference to the Aeonic Magus of the LAST Aeon, as a reminder that these Great Cycles build each upon the others ... also that the True Master was not at all the political hatchet job made of Him by Paulism. These prayers (that is, the initiation rituals) are accompanied by music of Mozart, Holst, Strauss, Mahler and the like. (44*) Obviously unaware of the traditional meaning of the expression "Wandering Bishops", some of their "bishops" call themselves "Landed Bishops".

Clotted Chakras

The Ordo Templi Orientis was, and still is, a secret part of the ethnological underground of civilisation that seeks acceptance through the mainstream culture. At the bottom of that dark well, lies only a mouthful of sperm. Because this fact is too simplistic, and maybe to shameful; it is wrapped into many "word shells"/euphemisms. While the ancient Gnostics headed directly towards the religious technicalities of dealing with sperm (avoiding ejaculation or consuming the sexual fluids); the modern Gnostics promote innumerable traditional ways, in Eastern and Western traditions, of salvation outside spermo-Gnosticism; (45*) only to hide the sperm in the inner sanctuary of their organisation. (46*) Also the crack in the universe is attempted to be healed with sacrifices, liturgies, chants, and consecrations. But the mystery has gone astray: there is too much materialism in the O.T.O.-groups; and this tears the seeker down to earth, and hinders him from becoming one with the Divine. After many years of paying membership fees; and after having bought their beloved leaders' books; and even after they already know the "secret": one day an O.T.O.-member may discover by accident or suffering experience, that the order's scheme of salvation has not brought Gnosis. Because the pseudo-masonical Ordo Templi Orientis has such a complex grade structure, (47*) taking many years to complete and to pay for, and blends the simple Gnostic doctrines of technical psychology with all the other religious tools and with the biography of their charismatic leaders; the organization itself becomes an intensely "rotten place". Unfraternal behaviour between members, inflated egos, (48*) lying, game-playing, subterfuges and hysteria; cause endless splits, in-fights and even court proceedings. All this compounded together can make the O.T.O. an almost unbearable place. Aleister Crowley's O.T.O.-groups are filled up with his concept of Thelema: a new scheme to sort out History, Religion, Philosophy, Magick and everyday life. (49*) A lot of Crowley-O.T.O.-members do not feel that sperm only transports the Holy Logos. (50*) This originally is considered a misunderstanding of the process of procreation. With the advance of Science, they assume that both the male and the female are both equally responsible for procreation. Nevertheless they follow the qabalistic sense of the male seed as the Logos to a certain extent: the woman functions as the "giver of form." (51*) Gnostic doctrines are modified in Thelema as the doctrine of True Will: that every man and woman has a "reason" to be here: that they have "chosen" to descend into this rotten place, that they have a mission to accomplish, which they have forgotten. It is their task not simply to escape, but also to remember why they came, and to fulfill this function. (52*) Nevertheless, Thelema itself seems to radiate decay. (53*)

Several years after this essay has been published, David Scriven, Grandmaster of the

'Caliphate' in the US writes: "Before the processes of mitosis and meiosis were fully understood, there was a great deal of speculation and contention about which sex was responsible for carrying the true Essence of Life, and the various hypotheses proposed were influenced by religious, cultural, and even political concerns. The thinking on these matters from ancient times through the Renaissance (in Europe) fell generally into two major camps. One held that it was the male who carried the True Essence, the Seed of Life, and who "planted" this seed in the fertile soil of the womb of the female, where it was nourished and protected as it developed, on its own, into new Life. For these phallicists, only men possessed this Divine Spark of Life, and women did not. The ovists, for lack of a better term, held the opposite; that it was women who possessed the Seed of Life within their bodies, and that the function of men in the reproductive process was one of enabling or fertilization; of "watering the soil" so that the seed that resided therein might sprout and grow. During the 17 th and 18 th centuries, these primitive doctrines were refined into a scientific school of thought called preformationism, which held that living beings were essentially fully-formed prior to conception. This school of thought was divided into the two classical factions, the spermists and the ovists. The doctrine of spermist preformation is exemplified by the famous Homunculus image, drawn by Nicholas Hartsoecker in 1694, and supposedly based on an observation of Anton van Leeuwenhoek. The image shows a spermatozoon containing, within its head, a tiny, but fully-formed, human being, and the implication is that the sperm contains the complete, preformed essence of the unborn person; whereas the egg is merely an inert, nutritive, sheltering matrix. Crowley reproduced Hartsoecker's Homunculus on the Hermit Trump of the Thoth Tarot Deck. [page 2, snip] As advocates of Crowley's concept of scientific religion, we need to be prepared to discard scientific doctrines when they are rendered obsolete, even when such doctrines support our spiritual and social paradigms. We may continue to enjoy and revere our holy books, our historical writings, and our customary rites, because these things have historical, symbolic, spiritual, and even talismanic value to us. But we must not allow ourselves to be bound to interpretations, explanations, and applications of our symbols that are based on outmoded and discredited ideas about nature. The true significance of our great and living symbols extends much deeper than such shallow and transient notions. As I have said before, a true symbol is not merely a cipher. If we actively listen to them, our symbols will continue to speak to us the truth, to the extent that we have the capacity to comprehend it." Agape, IV;1, California 1 May 2002

Although all the splintered O.T.O.-groups as a whole also are "rotten places", where the seeker can easily enter into the Pleroma; Gnosis does not happen there, (54*) because these "rotten places" have changed from Gnostic places into psychological projection screens, where the seeker throws his image of his Holy Father upon, i.e. Crowley. The sexual revolution of lust and Gnosis has deformed and degenerated into psychological ruptures. Gnosis has become Dia-gnose which neither brings homeopathic (sensual) nor allopathic (ascetic) salvation. Vice versa on a lower plane: only ascetic seekers who practise homeopathy (outside the O.T.O.) and libertine quasi-Gnostics who practise allopathy.

Sperm as homeopathic medicine?

The Gnostic and the homeopath try to bring man back to the divine order in/of the universe. The Gnostic seeks immediate presence of the Divine while the homeopath seeks the most balanced order of the individual with the divine universe. Hippocrates said that illness comes from the Gods; that is, from above; and that the earthly world can be regarded as wounded God. Well, some Gnostics now see the sperm as universal medicine to heal everything. Because of this fact, and also because during my researches on the O.T.O.-Phenomena, I have met several ascetic spermo- Gnostics who practised homeopathy, I will now try to discuss the homeopathic aspect of sperm-eating.

It is my opinion, that, even when one sees sperm as the vehicle of the Logos, it could not be used as a homeopathic remedy, because the similarity of the homeopathic remedy to the similarity of an ill patient is based on the total and individual completeness of symptoms and on the peculiarity of a superior illness/disorder. Logos as a homeopathic remedy would, by homeopathic definition, possibly dissolve Logos. In order that sperm could act as a remedy, it must first become a remedy, which it is not as a substance. It should primarily be treated in a homeopathic way so that it takes on a different nature on a higher level where it might take effects on the patient's superior disorder/illness. This homeopathic way is called potentiation. The substance itself is going to be thinned out far over the point where scientists might find any molecules of the substance, and at the same time, the product is going to be hit or shaken. As yet, no homeopath has found a scientific explanation for this, but homeopathic-medical experience showed, that this action transforms a material substance into an energetic, that is, "healing" state, which reminds somewhat of the Christian concept of transubstantiation. But what is the Gnostic use of such, since, in Gnostic belief, the substance itself contains the Logos already? And what about all the human energetic aspects, e.g. predispositional illnesses like syphilis or HIV? What is caused by a potentialised HI-virus? This is a question which is not answered by the homeopathic scientists themselves.

Nevertheless I have met homeopaths who would use sperm as they use other human substances; for example urine or blood or pathogenic agencies. But sperm as homeopathic medicine should not be regarded as an in-bringing of the Logos. The use of homeopathic sperm should depend on the total and individual completeness of symptoms that sperm (be it potentialised or not) would cause in a "healthy" individual. These side-effects could then be used to dissolve similar symptoms of an "ill" patient. The question arises as to the practise by some O.T.O.-members who bake a host consisting of sperm and vaginal fluids in order to destroy the HI-virus. What effect does heat have on the Gnostic Logos? The gnostic/christian Thomas reported Jesus having said that who is near me is near the fire ... Others put their sperm into a mouthful of brandy to make it more tasty. Spiritus Sanctus? What about all those women who are forced by their men to swallow his sperm. (55*) Should these suppressed women not be more free than their suppressors? Can these women really not be saved? Or must they become O.T.O. members in order to experience salvation through sperm?

How is it seen by a woman?: Linda Falorio (not an O.T.O. member) from the Anandazone!

"A complicated question as to the "meaning" of HIV. From my human view, I can't see any benefit that these invaders might bestow, either on the individual, or on the Work. I feel they should be "banished" as one would do with any entity attempting possession, which is what these retroviruses do, as I understand it, take over one's cells for their own purposes, ... or they should at least contained within the triangle (i.e. condom). Of course, then the benefit of psychosexual fluids cannot be directly obtained on the physical, but must remain on the subtle planes. A powerful magician should be able to do this, I would think, but would need a similarly endowed person to perceive what had been distilled. But of course, similar questions of relative benefit are in my mind as they apply to men who have had vasectomies, & women who have had hysterectomies, or are past menopause (56*) ... Then it seems one needs a well-qualified priest/priestess who may not be oneself, or one's preferred partner, to distill the elixir on the physical. But then, mightn't a powerful person be able to cause their own body to distill these endocrines, even though the glands might be removed?" September 1996

Linda Falorio is a very inspiring factor in the so-called Typhonian O.T.O.. The Typhonian O.T.O. is concerned with effective transmissions and communications from 'outerspace' for the purpose of opening Gateways. The Typhonian 'deities' denote specific operations of psycho-physical alchemy which involve essences or elixirs secreted (thrown out and/or considered unclean) by the human organism. Its formula is that of the XI° involving kalas that are entirely absent from the masculine organism. This O.T.O. version concerns itself with gathering the secretions from the vagina, urine and excrements: material from which allegedly the Elixir of Life was extracted and refined by mediaeval alchemists. Emphasis is laid on the healthy human female. (57*)

The 'Caliphate' on the other hand, recently started considering that [www.maroney.org/Essays/Facts_and_Phallacies.htm defunct now] Crowley was a sexist.

Obviously the crack in the universe is still open. Christians like other religions await a kind of apocalypse or place of salvation beyond this world, beyond the open gap between earth and heaven, for which ascetic and libertine Gnostics try to build a bridge.

You have not heard the last of the spermo-Gnostics...

MR X

A letter from China (4/4/2007)

A letter from China:

I was studying in China.

for to study chinese..

I think..illuminati and the committee of 300..

has many lower branches in the world..

also in Hong Kong and mainland of China..

how can they control mainland of China???

so I want to ask you..

china is socialism & communism nation..

and knights of Malta in Hong Kong..

high officer of Hong Kong in knights of malta they visited Beijing tianmen..

and helped poor and painful children...

how can they control Mainland of china??

----- Leo Zagami replied to this e-mail by a South Korean Student :

Hong Kong is the Headquarters of Chinese illuminati and Chinese Triads that why the Knights of Malta are there...

Triad societies, with a tradition of secret lore and initiation rituals dating back to the 17th century, have long dominated the underworld of Chinese communities around the globe. Based on sworn brotherhood and built on kinship, triads have been involved in a wide range of criminal activities.

Reputed to be among the most dangerous of organized crime organizations, triads prey upon Chinese communities, employing fear and intimidation tactics more often than physical violence. The triads stock-in-trade is smuggling, drug trafficking, and control over local bus routes, fish and produce markets, and karaoke bars.

"Triad societies occur anywhere there is a Chinese community. Historically, that has been the case for three-thousand years. However, when compared to other organized crime groups, for example the mafia and the Russian organized crime syndicates, they are much less violent, much more subtle in their methods of operation."

Police officials note tighter anti-crime laws have been responsible for a recent drop-off in the overall crime rate in Hong Kong. They believe triads have turned some of their attention north of the border, to southern China.

As in Russia, the birth of free enterprise and the disappearance of state control over daily life in China have nurtured more opportunities for organized crime. But that is where comparison with the Russian mafia ends.

Unlike their flashier Russian counterparts, Chinese triads prefer to do their work more quietly, sometimes using highly placed members in financial institutions or even government members of the illuminati.

Former head of the Hong Kong police criminal intelligence bureau Stephen Vickers, now a managing director of the worldwide risk management firm Kroll Associates, says southern China is ripe for triad activity.

Vickers said, "I do not think they focus themselves geographically. I think they focus themselves almost by profit center, in business terms, which is probably the best way to describe them. And I would personally suspect that southern China and Hong Kong represent great sources of revenue. They make a lot of money from illegal smuggling from Hong Kong into China and have done so for many years. If this economic aspect continues, then these people will continue to make money."

Though triads do not generally represent tightly unified crime organizations, Mr. Vickers believes the larger Chinese groups such as the "Sun Yee On" triad society, have grown increasingly more sophisticated, and are moving into bigger business ventures with the help of their Masonic connections.

"From a multi-national's (multi-national corporation's) perspective, triad activity has not affected them greatly," Vickers said. "However, over the last three or four years we have seen a fairly-insidious rise in upper echelon triad activity, which has affected business. Specifically, we have seen leakages of key information, leakages of key tender documents and the like. And these activities can affect, particularly, foreign multi-nationals."

Police estimate there are as many as 50 triad societies in Hong Kong, the largest being the "Wo Sing Wo" and "14-K". While they have loose affiliations elsewhere in the world, Mr. Vickers does not express great concern.

While law enforcement officials note the triads have key connections in the United States, particularly California and New York, and in such European capitals as Amsterdam and London, there is little prospect of the West being overrun by triad gangs but they are part of the New World Order.

New military-occult technologies for psychological warfare (3/14/2007)

LINKS:

Ministry of Defence <http://www.mod.uk/defenceinternet/home>

Secret Intelligence Service (SIS): official website <http://www.sis.gov.uk>

UK Security Service (MI5): official website <http://www.mi5.gov.uk/>

Bletchley Park <http://www.bletchleypark.org.uk/>

The British Museum <http://www.thebritishmuseum.ac.uk/>

Tavistock Institute quotes http://www.whale.to/b/tavistock_q.html

Official FBI site <http://www.fbi.gov/mostwant/terrorists/fugitives.htm>

USASOC <http://www.soc.mil/default.htm>

United States Military Academy at West Point <http://www.usma.edu/>

US Army Civil Affairs and Psychological Operations Command <http://www.globalspecialoperations.com/capoc.html>

Civil Affairs and Psychological Operations Recruiting Fact Sheet http://www.bragg.army.mil/CAPSYOP/fact_sheet.htm

Fort bragg <http://www.bragg.army.mil/> Fort Bragg TerraServer Imagery <http://terraserver-usa.com/image.aspx?t=1&s=14&x=209&y=1215&z=17&w=2&qz=%7cfort+bragg%7cnorth+ca+rolina%7c>

Fort Meade <http://www.demilitary.com/baseguides/army/meade/>

Fort Meade TerraServer Imagery <http://terraserver-usa.com/image.aspx?T=1&S=10&Z=1&X=1734&Y=21651&W=1&qz=%7cfort+meade+%7cmaryland>

Jane's http://www.janes.com/defence/land_forces/gallery/fortbragg/fortbragg_intro.shtml

Military use of mind control weapons, by Judy Wall <http://www.mindcontrolforums.com/news/ssss.htm>

Investigative Report: Radio and US Military PSYOP <http://www.gsl.net/yb0rmi/army.htm>

NATO and Strategic PSYOPS: Policy Pariah or Growth Industry? Steven Collins <http://ics.leeds.ac.uk/papers/vp01.cfm?outfit=pmt&requesttimeout=500&folder=64&paper=985>

Jonestown <http://www.gaiaguys.net/jonestown.htm>

Waco: The Inside Story <http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/waco/>

Information Clearing House: News you won't find on CNN <http://www.informationclearinghouse.info/article4463.htm>

SRI International http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Stanford_Research_Institute

Remote Viewing/Mind Control <http://www.mindcontrolforums.com/hambone/#remote>

Russell Targ: remote viewing examples <http://www.espresearch.com/examples.shtml>

The Research Work of Ingo Swann <http://www.rviewer.com/IngoSwann-Research-Overview.html>

PSI TECH Corporation <http://www.psitech.net/>

Mind to Mind, René Warcollier <http://www.matrixaccess.com/mind-to-mind/>

The Soviet Art of Brainwashing <http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/7006/psychopolitics.html>

RKO Starlets, General MacArthur http://cgi.ebay.com/RKO-STARLETS-GENERAL-MACARTHUR-ORIGINAL-1944-PHOTO_W0QQitemZ260001815118QQihZ016QQcategoryZ18826QQssPageNameZWDVWQOrdZ1QQcmdZViewItem

The Hollywood Roots of the First Earth Battalion http://ejmas.com/jnc/jncart_Chevalier_0901.htm

Journal of Non-lethal Combat http://ejmas.com/jnc/jncart_channon_0200.htm

Elizabeth Montgomery as Samantha in Bewitched <http://www.bapwatch.co.uk/Bewitched/>

Bewitched Theme Song <http://www.bewitched.net/music.htm>

Bronze of Elizabeth Montgomery in Salem <http://www.bewitched.net/statue6.htm>

1164 Studio Set <http://www.1164.com/set/plans/index.html>

Jimmy Page Online <http://www.jimmypageonline.com/11318/index.html>

Led Zeppelin sites <http://www.inthelight.co.nz/ledzep/lzsites.htm>

Peeping Tom (film) http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Peeping_Tom_%28film%29

BBC News: Millbank Tower <http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/uk/1431688.stm>

Great Towers of the World <http://www.great-towers.com/eng/index.html>

US Grand Lodge, Ordo Templi Orientis <http://oto-usa.org/>

The Ordo Templi Orientis and the CIA <http://www.mindcontrolforums.com/hambone/oto.html>

Thule Sweden <http://www.thuleracks.com/thule/default.asp>

Rundflugzeug VRIL <http://www.zamandayolculuk.com/cetinbal/germanufos.htm>

MGM: Stargate Atlantis <http://www.stargateatlantis.com/>

Official website of Metro Goldwyn Mayer <http://www.mgm.com/sitemap.do>

Warner Hollywood Studios http://www.cobbles.com/simpp_archive/linkbackups/ua-lot.htm

Nationmaster: Mussorgsky <http://www.nationmaster.com/encyclopedia/Mussorgsky>

YBRP Night on Bald Mountain http://music.utsa.edu/~bharris/ybrp/Analyses/S99/_nighonbaldmountain.html

Bald Mountain Childhood Chapter 2 <http://home.swipnet.se/roland/marychapter2.html>

Chernobyl NPP (Ukraine) http://www.westron.kharkov.ua/photochnpp_eng.html

Chernobyl Dec 1999 <http://www.neutron.kth.se/gallery/chernobyl/>

Disney Archive/Chernobog Villains History [http://disney.go.com/vault/archives/villains/ Chernabog/ Chernabog.html](http://disney.go.com/vault/archives/villains/chernabog/ Chernabog.html)

Fantasound <http://www.widescreenmuseum.com/sound/Fantasound1.htm>

Demonstration of Voice-FM Silent Sound Device <http://www.raven1.net/vfndemo.htm>

David Icke mixes Jesuit Satanism with the folly of UFO Reptilians (4/11/2007)

Is he trying to discredit honest truth tellers by mixing in the serious Jesuit message with Reptilian folly? Someone please ask him if he is working for the Jesuits or if he has surrounded himself with the wrong people feeding him silly Reptilian information?

By Greg Szymanski

The next copy of the David Icke newsletter goes out on Saturday and the Arctic Beacon has received an advance copy of his opening message.

Icke seems to be on the "crush the Jesuit" bandwagon for the last month just like the Arctic Beacon has been on for years.

In fact, the editor of the Arctic Beacon has researched Vatican and Jesuit evil ever since working in Rome from 1979-1985. However, he has never mixed the important Vatican and Jesuit issue with things like Reptilians and other UFO hoaxes like Icke.

Further, it is this Arctic Beacon editor's opinion that Icke either works for the Jesuits, trying to mix seriousness with UFO folly, or he has surrounded himself with the "wrong people" feeding him wrong crazy Reptilian information in order to incite fear while now diluting the serious Satanic influence of the Jesuits.

"Please someone ask Icke to come on my radio show to clear up these issues and if he doesn't respond, we then know what he is all about," said Greg Szymanski, editor of the Arctic Beacon and host of the highly popular radio show, The Investigative Journal.

Here are the opening lines of Mr. Reptilian's upcoming newsletter and ask if he is two-faced just like the Jesuits:

"The front men and women of the Jesuit network are always two-faced, because they have to be. One face, the public one, smiles bonhomie and presents an image that will attract votes and support. The other is the scowling face of the genetic manipulator and deceiver, for whom there are no limits in pursuit of power.

Bill and Hillary Clinton are notable examples, and Bill was educated at the Jesuit—controlled Georgetown University. Whether someone is a Roman Catholic or not is irrelevant. The Jesuits control the Church of Rome, which is the present-day Church of Babylon, and its influence stretches far beyond Roman Catholicism.

Giuliani has blatantly revealed his obligatory two faces with regard to 9/11. The public one is as the brave and caring hero, covered in dust, who acted with wisdom as the horror unfolded. The other is the face of a callous self-server who will walk over anyone to get what he wants.'

Are you mind controlled? (4/11/2007)

Do you watch television? How many hours a day do you spend watching T.V.? Have you ever stopped to wonder why is it that ALL OF THE NEWS STORIES ARE THE SAME NO MATTER WHICH CHANNEL IT IS? Have you ever wondered why they call it "Programming", and just who are they trying to program? Who is behind this "Programming"? A Wizard of OZ?

Propaganda was PERFECTED by the Nazis during the Third Reich under Hitler. Hitler stated that the "Bigger the Lie, the more likely one would be to believe it".

Could you imagine that you are watching a television program and while someone is about to be arrested, they show the policeman that the law he is about to operate under is being applied incorrectly? Or how about any show where something is about to happen that involves the law and the AUTHORITY IS QUESTIONED?

Authority is never questioned on Television. Why? Because It Might Cause Us To Think That Maybe The State Has No Authority Over Us.

Television Requires BLIND OBEDIENCE in order to watch it and not get sick to your stomach. BBC Stands For British Broadcasting Company. Who do you think runs it? British Intelligence, That's who. Everything we hear and see on television is directed by British Intelligence. H.G Wells, the Late, Great Science Fiction Writer was himself a Freemason and a Member of British Intelligence. Aldous Huxley's Grandfather tutored H.G. Wells and Huxley's Grandfather was a member of the "Round Table" in England. The First Movies out of Hollywood Included "Things To Come" by Wells. This was an early Propaganda Film aimed at America to Prepare us for World War II and the United Nations. A Must-See Film.

One of the best films to show the effect the programmers are trying to have on civilization is "Harrison Bergeron". This will be the State of Things in the New World Order if something isn't done about it soon. Also I recommend "ZARDOZ" another great Sci-Fi about a civilization of primitives controlled by the elite through brainwashing.

- Have you ever stopped to consider the implications of movies like "Star Wars" and "The Empire Strikes Back". Or how about "Raiders of the Lost Ark", or even "Star Trek". All of these movies were made by members of secret societies of Freemasons or under the direction and advisement of them.

So lets follow the advice of Stephen Marley: <http://rochester92.vox.com/library/post/mind-control.html>

" It's mind control, mind control, corruption of your thoughts, destruction of your soul

Don't let them mold your mind, they want to control mankind

Seems like their only intention is to exploit the Earth

And you trust in their deceit, your mind causes your defeat

And so you've become an invention to destroy this Earth

Propaganda and lies are plaguing our lives,

How much more victimized, before we realize?

It's mind control, mind control, corruption of your thoughts, destruction of your soul

Ol' Grand Master let the people go, you put them in total confusion to downstroy their souls

For they practice what you preach, so they're always in your reach

Hi-tech slavery in these days, it's mind control

They'll make it attractive, to get men distracted

Corrupting, polluting, destroying your soul

Mind control, mind control, corruption of your thoughts, destruction of your soul

The truth is there for all to see..."

We are ready to fight untill the end of times against this conspiracy with the formation of Committee's of Hope worldwide .And now its finaly quite illarius to see my picture as a brainwashed Freemason Officer after Ive been finaly liberating myself from my occult Masters of the United Grand Lodge of England and the even worst ones from the Propaganda Lodge,yes it was all about Propaganda indeed.

Leo Lyon Zagami now sings along with Marley's new tune and hopes in a new world free of Mind Control and evil propaganda!

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

New Information Surfaces About Masonic/ Vatican 9/11 Perps (4/17/2007)

New Information Surfaces About Masonic/Vatican 9/11 Perps

Researchers Should Dig Deep into Monte Carlo P2 Lodge, Opus Dei and other Vatican connections concerning the real 9/11 perpetrators who are the same people that brought terrorism to Italy in the 1980's and caused the Bologna train station bombing.

By Greg Szymanski April 15,2007

In the last five years, there have been very few solid leads appearing in the mainstream and alternative media as to who really pulled the strings behind the scenes, causing 9/11.

Of course, the mainstream still clings to the bogus 19 Arab terrorist theory while the alternative media pussyfoots around, casting blame on the Bush administration and, of course, the Jews.

But, in truth, besides pointing fingers at tin-horn politicians, the trail leading to the real 9/11 puppet masters has been conveniently covered-up by their loyal minions working in the media, government and religious organizations.

And according to a number of credible researchers, the reason the truth about 9/11 will never be known is that "everybody is covering" for the evil masterminds working behind the scenes -- The Vatican and their henchmen in the Jesuit Order Gestapo.

However, recently the first chink in the Vatican's tightly knit and devious New World Order armor was made concerning 9/11 when Italian aristocrat and former high level Illuminati figure, Leo Zagami, began naming names, linking 9/11 to the Vatican and their Freemason followers.

Zagami, a former member of the powerful Monte Carlo P2 Lodge, claimed he had first hand information members of his lodge, including former P2 leader, Licio Gelli and Commandante Georgio Hugo Balestrieri had prior knowledge of 9/11 and even help orchestrate the attacks for their bosses in the Vatican and Jesuit Order.

"If you research Balestrieri and those around him, you will get to the truth about who caused 9/11 and it will lead right to the top people in the Vatican as well as Cardinal Egan and former New York Mayor Giuliani," said Zagami on a recent American radio appearance on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

"These are the same people that caused the Bologna train station bombing and who used Italy as a test country for terrorism in the 1980's. Although Gelli is in his 80's now, he still is very powerful and well-connected to the Vatican and those other people like Kissinger and Michael Ledeen in America who are nothing more than Vatican puppets.

"Regarding Balestrieri, he has worked for them for a long time and used to control arms deals in the the Italian port of Livorno involving America, the Vatican and the Middle East. He now has been given American citizenship and is head of the New York Rotary Club. He also owns a company which takes care of airport security in U.S. airports."

Besides Zagami's firsthand knowledge, not much else is known about Gelli or Balestrieri other than Gelli was implicated in the infamous Vatican Bank scandal in the 1980's as well as being a close associate of former President Reagan and his cabinet, having been seen and photographed standing right behind Reagan at his inauguration.

"The both knew about 9/11 and their connections will lead to the real perpetrators, but they will never talk -- never!" added Zagami, who claimed that Balestrieri has placed him on his "blacklist" for talking.

However, a confidential source has sent more information to the Arctic Beacon about Balestrieri, saying the leads if thoroughly investigated, will fill in many of the missing pieces about 9/11 and other important matters concerning the Vatican-led New World Order.

Here is the recent information send by the confidential source. Note that B and GHB stand for Balestrieri:

Your analysis reg. G.H.B. was quite interesting. However, you only scratched the surface.

Here are some leads you might want to investigate further to put the puzzle pieces together. The information that is being share with you are all facts.

G.H.B. is a 'switched' off CIA/FBI asset. He was involved in so called anti drug operations for the US government. It was also through those channels that he obtained his US citizenship.

G.H.B's son was killed in an accident last Christmas in Italy. He had been an anti drug police officer who changed sides, became and addict, was hospitalized and jailed and then had the 'accident'.

G.H.B. has been, or still is, on a special Italian/Senate advisory job with special privileges, fronting for and probably spying his masters in the US.

It appear safe to assume that B is still involved in unauthorized technology transfer deals through his Italian/US connections. His alleged specialty is 'signals' / electronic eavesdropping equipment and other 'sniffer' electronics. He is 'using' www.rdn.it - Silvio Rononi to 'warehouse' for him.

Late last year he anchored himself into a situation in Rome/Italy. The Giacomo Maria Ugolini Foundation, set up by the legendary, Republic of San Marino ambassador Ugolini, who died in early 2006, that has its offices at www.villavecchia.it , a hotel / guest house near Frascati/Rome. The foundation's president is the ambassador's deputy

Dr. Angelo Boccardelli, an artist and scholar, rather than a businessman. Villa Vecchia is practically bankrupt.

B. positioned himself as the international adviser to Dr. Boccardelli. Boccardelli has done extensive research on a sculpture alleged to have been carved by Michelangelo. This sculpture is owned by Boccardelli/the Ugolini Foundation.

B has taken Boccardelli to New York to promote and capitalize on the Michelangelo research results that Boccardelli hold. At the end of the Boccardelli interview, video clip you'll see B position himself with a comment that pretty much confirms all that has been stated here <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0ojNVJY4OVc>

In spite of the fact that Boccardelli was ambassador Ugolini's right hand for decades, he is not a businessman and has pretty much no international experience, except for having been in Egypt, Jordan and Syria with the ambassador. Those were the countries Ugolini had been accredited for.

Boccardelli still holds diplomatic status with the Republic of San Marino. B is trying to gain diplomatic status using and instrumentalizing Boccardelli so he can engage in activities under the protective umbrella that come with a person's diplomatic status. <http://www.esteri.sm/default.asp?id=2195>

A person that could probably give you very deep Italian insights is the Marchese Roberto Caldirola in Rome. A somewhat unique and colorful individual with a vast network in Rome. Caldirola can give you more in depth information due to his intimate knowledge of the Italian scene.

Through B's prominent involvement with the Rotary Club at the UN in NY City - Free Mason Light - he is instrumentalizing that avenue as well to keep a front of legitimacy. Within Rotary NY he is collaborating with a Turk - Kaan Soyak -, a wheeler dealer who is being used by certain groups within the Turkish power elite to facilitate 'certain' transactions between the US and Turkey. There is a connection with a NATO contract one of Soyak's companies hold in Turkey. B and Soyak organized a multi state conference in Turkey two years back where all the regional players got together, using Rotary and their Free Mason components to make that all happen. There were more than 400 people at that event.

B, being in his early/mid sixties, being a failure and left over from the cold war era, being personally bankrupt, he grabs any straw he can get to use others for his very own and short term gain. In how far he is being still 'used' by his former handlers is not known. Caldirola might be in a position to tell you more.

There is also a very interesting connection to an Italian lawyer Fabrizio De Silvestri in Turin. De Silvestri's father and brother run a prominent private banking operation out of Monaco. They are most certainly all P2 members.

This is also a very well camouflaged connection to Opus Dei and B.

Please note that most of the people are not aware who B really is and who he fronts for at any given time. This is especially true for Boccardelli /Ugolini Foundation.

A.Crowley: 33° Mason who knew about human sacrifice (4/11/2007)

33° Mason, Aleister Crowley would definitely get some votes in the "most wicked man who ever lived contest" and is the clear cut favorite for the title of "The Father of Modern Satanism". Crowley's wicked life and his intimate association with Freemasonry are both well known.

Crowley himself was terribly decadent. A happily heroin-addicted, bisexual Satan worshiper, he asked people to call him "The Beast 666." Crowley believed that he was literally the antimessiah of the apocalypse.

During the first World War, Crowley transferred his activities to America. The press proclaimed him "the wickedest man in the world." He also spent time in Italy, but was expelled because Italian authorities accused his disciples of sacrificing human infants in occult rituals. According to one source, Crowley resided in the Abbey of Thelema near Cefalu Sicily, and revived ancient Dionysian ceremonies. During a 1921 ritual, he induced a he-goat to copulate with his mistress, then slit the animal's throat at the moment of orgasm.

WAS ALEISTER CROWLEY JUST A 'CLOSET' FREEMASON?

Aleister Crowley was very proud of all his accomplishments and connections. He bragged about all of the Masonic medals and insignia that he was entitled to wear.

This view was confirmed when The Arcane Schools of John Yarker came to me for review. I wrote to the author, who recognized my title to the 33° and conferred on me the grades of 95° Memphis and 90° Mizraim. It seemed as if I had somehow turned a tap. From this time on I lived in a perfect shower of diplomas, from Bucharest to Salt Lake City. I possess more exalted titles than I have ever been able to count. I am supposed to know more secret signs, tokens, passwords, grand words, grips, and so on, than I could actually learn in a dozen lives. An elephant would break down under the insignia I am entitled to wear.

Aleister Crowley in all of his Masonic regalia:

PAST GRAND MASTER ALEISTER CROWLEY

FRATER SUPERIOR BAPHOMET XI°

CROWLEY'S DOCTRINE

We find in the next quotes, the 'doctrine' of Aleister Crowley from MAGICK in Theory and Practice, by The Master Therion (Aleister Crowley):

But the bloody sacrifice, though more dangerous, is more efficacious; and for nearly all purposes human sacrifice is the best.

The animal should therefore be killed within the Circle, or the Triangle, as the case may be, so that its energy cannot escape. An animal should be selected whose nature accords with that of the ceremony--thus, by sacrificing a female lamb one would not obtain any appreciate quantity of the fierce energy useful to a Magician who was invoking Mars. In such a case a ram would be more suitable. And this ram should be virgin--the whole potential of its original total energy should not have been diminished in any way. For the highest spiritual working one must accordingly choose that victim which contains the greatest and purest force. A male child of perfect innocence and high intelligence is the most satisfactory and suitable victim.

From The Book of the Law, by Aleister Crowley:

With my Hawk's head I peck at the eyes of Jesus as he hangs upon the cross.....

There is no law beyond Do what thou wilt.

From SATANIC EXTRACTS, by Aleister Crowley:

The Oath of Fealty

I bind my blood in Satan's hands,
All this that lieth betwixt my hands
To thee, the Beast, and thy control,
I pledge me; body, mind, and soul.

Pledge

I swear to work my Work abhorred,
Careless of all but one reward,
The pleasure of the Devil our Lord

ALEISTER CROWLEY WAS AN INTERNATIONAL MASON

Crowley was truly an international Mason. He received his 33° in Mexico City and spoke of participating in Masonic rituals in the United States and also was involved in other rites of Freemasonry. Not only was Crowley a 33° Grand Inspector General of Scottish Rite Freemasonry, but he was also involved in other rites of Freemasonry that went even deeper into the occult. The Rite of Memphis contained Masonic rituals with a definite Egyptian flavor.

By the end of 1910, thanks to my relations with the Grand Hierophant 97° of the Rite of Memphis (a post held after his death by Dr. Gerard Encausse ['Papus'], Theodor Reuss ['Merlin'], and myself), I was now a sort of universal inspector-general of the various rites, charged with the secret mission of reporting on the possibility of reconstructing the entire edifice, which was universally recognized by all its more intelligent members as threatened with the gravest danger.

Even for a man like Crowley who was obsessed with the occult, the rituals of Freemasonry provided a profound occult thrill.

I supposed myself to have reached the summit of success when I restored the Secret Word of the Royal Arch. In this case, tradition had preserved the Word almost intact.

Were Aleister Crowley and his followers or perhaps a similar group capable of performing acts and rituals that are comparable to what are described by satanic ritual abuse survivors. The following quotes are from a book entitled, Secrets of the German Sex Magicians. This book talks about the ritual use of pain and attributes to Crowley the most perverted of practices such as bestiality and the ritual consumption of body fluids.

The ritual use of pain and agony as an access mode to trance and magical power does have its limits, though. For one thing, physical pain tends to dull the senses in the long run, so that stimuli have to be increased incessantly. This may quite easily lead to grave bodily harm, not to mention the fact that it can become downright addictive and lead to a kindled frenzy not very easily mastered.

Crowley, in fact, trod in his practice a path similar to that of the more materialistic authorities. Although he positively encouraged ejaculatory orgasm in his sex magic, he always made a point of consuming what he called the "elixir" afterwards. He understood this elixir to be the mixture of the sexual fluids of both partners or, in the masturbatory act, as just the semen. He entered very carefully in his the magical diaries a description of the elixir's consistency and taste, and he even recorded the prophecies which he deduced from these data.

And Crowley's practices go on to be even more disgusting.

Coprophagia, which means consumption of excrement, here also includes consumption of other secretions such as urine and sweat. It was ritually practiced from early times on the sympathetic-magic principle that the secretions of any entity contain part of its magis. Crowley, for example, occasionally offered his disciples in Cefalu the excrement of a goat. This frequently met with no small disapproval!

Crowley performed a similar ritual in his Sicilian Abbey of Thelema, during which his Scarlet Woman was to be mounted by a goat which would be beheaded during the climax.

There exists today a secret society that dedicates itself to carrying on the teachings of Aleister Crowley. This group is called the O.T.O.. The O.T.O. was founded earlier this century by high grade Austrian Freemason Karl Kellner and German Freemason Theodor Reuss. The O.T.O. became a major force in the occult world when Aleister Crowley became its leader.

Crowley learned ritual magic from the man who was renown as the master of his day, MacGregor Mathers. The pupil-student relationship soon turned into a bitter rivalry and resulted literally in a Black Magic war. When Mathers died in 1918 many of his friends were convinced that Crowley was responsible for his death. Mathers, also a Freemason, introduced Crowley to an occult organization called the "Golden Dawn" and helped Crowley along his dark walk on the Egyptian Masonic road.

Mathers and his wife Moina, the sister of the philosopher Henri Bergson, lived in Paris. (Mathers tried to convert Bergson to magic, but without success.) Their house was decorated as an Egyptian temple and they celebrated 'Egyptian Masses', invoking the goddess Isis. Mathers officiated in a long white robe, a metal belt engraved with the signs of the zodiac, bracelets round his wrists and ankles, and a leopard-skin slung across his shoulders. He was convinced that he was descended from the Scottish clan MacGregor and took to calling himself MacGregor Mathers, Chevalier MacGregor and Comte de Glenstrae. W. B. Yeats, whose magical name in the Golden Dawn was Daemon est Deus Inversus (The Devil is God Reversed), was a frequent visitor to the Mathers household in Paris.

One of the most talked about Satanic groups in recent years has been The Temple of Set headed by Michael Aquino.

The brand of Satanism that is practiced by Michael Aquino and the Temple of Set is thoroughly Egyptian. In the book, The Book of Coming Forth by Night (1985) Aquino describes what seems to be a call to start the Church of Satan and speaks in the first person as Set, the Egyptian Satan.

The Equinox has succumbed to my Solstice, and I, Set, am revealed in my Majesty....I am the ageless Intelligence of this Universe...and from my manifest semblance, which alone is not of Earth. Known as the Hebrew Satan, I chose to bring forth a Magus, according to the fashion of my Word. He was charged to form a Church of Satan, that I might easily touch the minds of men in this age they had cast for me.

The accusation of child abuse and molestation against Aquino was made in 1988 by Sandi Gallant of the San Francisco Police Department, thus placing another link between Egyptian style Satanism and Satanic Ritual Abuse. The accusations surfaced concerning the day care center at the Presidio military installation and were as follows:

Children said they were taken by day to private homes, including two on army property, where they had been sexually molested.....

Other children talked about a "googo" game in which they were urinated and defecated on by a "Mr. Gary".... Pencils were used to doodle on the skin and genitals of the children and were also inserted in a child anus.....

A gun was pointed at the head of another adult in front of the children.....

There were five confirmed cases among the children of chlamydia, a sexually transmitted illness.

Although no formal charges were filed against Aquino, there were certainly some interesting twists to the case. His repeated claims of innocence to many were hollow cries. There are some similarities in the accusations against the day care center when compared to the recent disclosures of children that we have been in contact with.

It is not clear how long the army has known about Aquino's peculiar genus of satanism. But the San Francisco police have been exceptionally interested since about 1980. The interest crested in November 1987 when police raided a house where a three-year-old girl told police she had been molested by a sinister-looking man named "Mickey" who snapped pictures of her in the bathtub and sexually mistreated her in a room with black walls and a cross etched on the ceiling. The girl later spotted "Mickey" in the PX at the Presidio army base in San Francisco, where Aquino was stationed. The girl said she thought "Mickey" was Aquino. The girl also said she recognized Mrs. Aquino. Meanwhile, authorities had found evidence of ongoing child abuse at the Presidio day care center. A three-year-old had also been molested, and the cops turned up six cases of sexually transmitted infection in fifty-eight other charges at the center. A thirty-four-year-old civilian day-care worker at the Presidio facility, who was also a Southern Baptist minister was arrested. At first, the charges were dismissed. But subsequently, Hambright was indicted anew on twelve counts of sodomy, oral copulation, and lewd conduct. Hambright later died of AIDS.

Albert Churchward in his book, The Arcana of Freemasonry, confirms that Set is the Egyptian name for Satan.

That Sut or Set was first primary god of the Egyptians, but was god of the South Pole, or Southern Hemisphere, is amply proved and borne out by the monuments as well as the Ritual. Set or Sut, according to Plutarch, is the Egyptian name of Typhon--i.e. Satan of the Christian Cult.

Hoaxes and frauds? (4/4/2007)

Anti-masonry Frequently Asked Questions and a set of answers by the Grand Lodge of Columbia and Yukon...

Section 6, version 2.9 VI HOAXES AND FRAUDS

1. What were the Protocols of the Elders of Zion? The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, the most notorious and most successful work of modern antisemitism, draws on popular antisemitic notions which have their roots in mediaeval Europe from the time of the Crusades. The libels that the Jews used blood of Christian children for the Feast of Passover, poisoned the wells and spread the plague were pretexts for the wholesale destruction of Jewish communities throughout Europe. Tales were circulated among the masses of secret rabbinical conferences whose aim was to subjugate and exterminate the Christians, and motifs like these are found in early antisemitic literature. The conceptual inspiration for the Protocols can be traced back to the time of the French Revolution at the end of the 18th century. At that time, a French Jesuit named Abbé Augustin Barruel (1741/10/02 - 1820/10/05), representing reactionary elements opposed to the revolution, published in 1797 a treatise blaming the Revolution on a secret conspiracy operating through the Order of freemasons. Barruel's idea was nonsense, since the French nobility at the time was heavily masonic. In his treatise, Barruel did not himself blame the Jews, who were emancipated as a result of the Revolution. However, in 1806, Barruel circulated a forged letter, probably sent to him by members of the state police opposed to Napoleon Bonaparte's liberal policy toward the Jews, calling attention to the alleged part of the Jews in the conspiracy he had earlier attributed to the freemasons. The direct predecessor of the Protocols can be found in the pamphlet "Dialogues in Hell Between Machiavelli and Montesquieu", published by the non-Jewish French satirist Maurice Joly in 1864. In his "Dialogues", which make no mention of the Jews, Joly attacked the political ambitions of the emperor Napoleon III using the imagery of a diabolical plot in Hell. The "Dialogues" were caught by the French authorities soon after their publication and Joly was tried and sentenced to prison for his pamphlet. Joly's "Dialogues", while intended as a political satire, soon fell into the hands of a German antisemite named Hermann Goedsche writing under the name of Sir John Retcliffe. Goedsche was a postal clerk and a spy for the Prussian secret police. He had been forced to leave the postal work due to his part in forging evidence in the prosecution against the Democratic leader Benedict Waldeck in 1849. Goedsche adapted Joly's "Dialogues" into a mythical tale of a Jewish conspiracy as part of a series of novels entitled "Biarritz", which appeared in 1868. In a chapter called "The Jewish Cemetery in Prague and the Council of Representatives of the Twelve Tribes of Israel", he spins the fantasy of a secret centennial rabbinical conference which meets at midnight and whose purpose is to review the past hundred years and to make plans for the next century. Goedsche's plagiarism of Joly's "Dialogues" found its way to Russia. It was translated into Russian in 1872, and a consolidation of the "council of representatives" under the name "Rabbi's Speech" appeared in Russian in 1891. These works furnished the Russian secret police (Okhrana) with a means with which to strengthen the position of the weak Czar Nicholas II and discredit the reforms of the liberals who sympathized with the Jews. During the Dreyfus case of 1893-1895, agents of the Okhrana in Paris redacted the earlier works of Joly and Goedsche into a new edition which they called the Protocols of the Elders of Zion. The manuscript of the Protocols was brought to Russia in 1895 and was printed privately in 1897. The Protocols did not become public until 1905, when Russia's defeat in the Russo-Japanese War was followed by the Revolution in the same year, leading to the promulgation of a constitution and institution of the Duma. In the wake of these events, the reactionary "Union of the Russian Nation" or Black Hundreds organization sought to incite popular feeling against the Jews, who they blamed for the Revolution and the Constitution. To this end they used the Protocols, which was first published in a public edition by the mystic priest Sergius Nilus in 1905. The Protocols were part of a propaganda campaign which accompanied the pogroms of 1905 inspired by the Okhrana. A variant text of the Protocols was published by George Butmi in 1906 and again in 1907. The edition of 1906 was found among the Czar's collection, even though he had already recognized the work as a forgery. In his later editions, Nilus claimed that the Protocols had been read secretly at the First Zionist Congress at Basle in 1897, while Butmi in his edition wrote that they had no connection with the new Zionist movement, but rather were part of the masonic conspiracy. In the civil war following the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917, the reactionary White Armies made extensive use of the Protocols to incite widespread slaughters of Jews. At the same time, Russian emigrants brought the Protocols to western Europe, where the Nilus edition served as the basis for many translations, starting in 1920. Just after its appearance in London in 1920, Lucien Wolf exposed the Protocols as a plagiarism of the earlier work of Joly and Goedsche, in a pamphlet of the Jewish Board of Deputies. The following year, in 1921, the story of the forgery was published in a series of articles in the London Times by Philip Grave, the paper's correspondent in Constantinople. A whole book documenting the forgery was also published in the same year in America by Herman Bernstein. Nevertheless, the Protocols continued to circulate widely. They were even sponsored by Henry Ford in the United States until 1927, and formed an important part of the Nazis' justification of genocide of the Jews in World War II.¹ The complete debunking of the Protocols has not stopped their continued circulation. In an attempt to negate the refutation, William Guy Carr claimed in 1958 that the Protocols were actually an older document recording a speech by Mayer Rothschild in 1773. This claim is occasionally repeated, although Carr provided no justification, documentation or citation for an accusation founded on his paranoid fears of international communism and banking. [RETURN TO INDEX] 1. Posted by news@cs.brown.edu in the newsgroups alt.conspiracy on 10 Feb 1993 18:15:22 GMT. Mirrored from www.nizkor.org Also see: <http://www.holocaust-history.org/short-essays/protocols.shtml>

<http://www.igc.apc.org/ddickerson/protocols.html>

2. Was Albert Pike the leader of Universal Freemasonry? No. And he also didn't give a speech claiming "Lucifer is God." What follows is a forgery by Léo Taxil, falsely identified as part of a speech and written order which Albert Pike was supposed to have delivered to freemasons on Bastille Day, July 14, 1889: "That which we must say to the world is that we worship a god, but it is the god that one adores without superstition. To you, Sovereign Grand Inspectors General, we say this, that you may repeat it to the brethren of the 32nd, 31st and 30th degrees: The masonic Religion should be, by all of us initiates of the higher degrees, maintained in the Purity of the Luciferian doctrine. If Lucifer were not God, would Adonay and his priests calumniate him? "Yes, Lucifer is God, and unfortunately Adonay is also god. For the eternal law is that there is no light without shade, no beauty without ugliness, no white without black, for the absolute can only exist as two gods; darkness being necessary for light to serve as its foil as the pedestal is necessary to the statue, and the brake to the locomotive. "Thus, the doctrine of Satanism is a heresy, and the true and pure philosophical religion is the belief in Lucifer, the equal of Adonay; but Lucifer, God of Light and God of Good, is struggling for humanity against Adonay, the God of Darkness and Evil." This letter appeared in Paris three years after Albert Pike's death. Taxil admitted he had written it as the work of "Albert Pike, Sovereign Pontiff of Universal Freemasonry, Instructions to the twenty-three Supreme Councils of the World, July 14, 1889." No one in regular Freemasonry ever held the title of "Sovereign Pontiff." While the rhetorical phrase "Universal Freemasonry" is not unknown, it has never been used as a proper title, since there is no such organization. Of the hundreds of masonic bodies in the world at that time, Pike was the leader of just one, the Southern Jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite. In spite of its blatant fraudulence, Taxil's publicly confessed forgery was a huge success. (See Section III Subsection 7.) This lie was unwittingly reprinted in Abel Clarin de la Rive's La Femme et L'Enfant dans la Franc-Maçonnerie Universelle (1894) and later copied by Lady Queenborough, Edith Starr Miller, in her Occult Theocracy, published posthumously in two volumes in 1933. De la Rive retracted his support of Taxil and any of his creations in the April 1897 issue of Freemasonry Disclosed, The hoax has been both widely reprinted and exposed. A short bibliography on the subject can be viewed at <http://freemasonry.bcy.ca/taxilhoax.html> or at <http://srmason-sj.org/web/misc/taxilhoax.html>.

3. Does A.L. mean "In the year of Lucifer"? No. Originally an abbreviation for one of the Latin phrases meaning 'in the Year of Masonry' — probably 'Anno Latomorum' — it now is considered an abbreviation for Anno Lucis which translates as "in the year of light" and is arrived at by adding 4000 to the common era. No other explanation for this has been made other than the archbishop of Armaugh, James Ussher's (1581-1656) published support of a long-accepted chronology of Scripture which fixed the earth's creation on October 23rd, 4004 BCE

4. Isn't the masonic Bible supposed to be Albert Pike's Morals and Dogma? There is no "masonic Bible". The proper masonic term is "Volume of Sacred Law". Freemasonry having evolved in Christian, and at one time Catholic, nations, members were predominantly Christian and therefore a version of the Christian "Holy Bible" is utilized in most masonic lodges. The Authorized King James 1611 version is the most common, although few jurisdictions specify usage. If its membership is composed of men of different faiths, a lodge may choose to use one or a number of different books such as the Koran, Torah or Bhagavadgita (Song of the Lord). (See Section III Subsection 7.)

5. Didn't George Washington renounce Freemasonry? No. George Washington remained a member of the Craft from his initiation into the Lodge at Fredericksburg, Virginia No. 4 on November 4, 1752 until the day he died on December 14, 1799, when he then, at his widow's request, received a masonic funeral. George Washington's papers are available online at memory.loc.gov/ammem/gwhtml/gwhome.html This hoax got its start in 1837 with the publication of a tract by Joseph Ritner, Governor of Pennsylvania. Although easily debunked, it was reprinted by E. A. Cook & Co., Chicago, in 1877, shortly after Prof. Charles Albert Blanchard (1848-1925), a founder and first lecturer of the National Christian Association published a rewriting of the same story entitled Was Washington a Freemason? 1. Vindication of General Washington from the stigma of adherence to secret societies, Joseph Ritner (1780-1869). Communicated by request of the House of representatives, to that body, on the 8th of March, 1837, with the proceedings which took place on its reception. Harrisburg, Printed by T. Fenn, 1837. 26 p. 21 cm. LCCN: 09026879 2. Was Washington a Freemason? Charles A. Blanchard. n.p.: n.d. Typed Copy. SC-29 Wheaton College.

6. Doesn't the "Big Book of Conspiracies" explain all this? No. The compiler, Doeg Moench, DC Comics and Time Warner Entertainment Company have avoided actionable libel by including a carefully worded "Publisher's note", defining conspiracy theories as opinions, which may or may not be true, inferring relationships between facts, which may in fact have no relationship, and drawing conclusions without any other proof. Most of the fanciful claims made in this "comic book" are addressed in this FAQ. Errors in facts and specific claims regarding freemasons are detailed and refuted in the "Big Book page." It is unfortunate that the term conspiracy has been so debased that the real conspiracies, a real danger to a free and open society, so often go unreported or unremarked.

7. Didn't John F. Kennedy criticize Freemasonry? No. American President, John F. Kennedy, gave an address to a gathering of newspaper publishers on 27 April, 1961. The full text, available from the Kennedy Library in Massachusetts, shows that, in context, Kennedy was criticizing the American Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). This excerpt makes it clear that Kennedy's concern was government, not fraternities: The very word "secrecy" is repugnant in a free and open society; and we are as a people inherently and historically opposed to secret societies, to secret oaths and to secret proceedings. We decided long ago that the dangers of excessive and unwarranted concealment of pertinent facts far outweighed the dangers which are cited to justify it. Even today, there is little value in opposing the threat of a closed society by imitating its arbitrary restrictions. Even today, there is little value in insuring the survival of our nation if our traditions do not survive with it. And there is very grave danger that an announced need for increased security will be seized upon by those anxious to expand its meaning to the very limits of official censorship and concealment. That I do not intend to permit to the extent that it is in my control. And no official of my Administration, whether his rank is high or low, civilian or military, should interpret my words here tonight as an excuse to censor the news, to stifle dissent, to cover up our mistakes or to withhold from the press and the public the facts they deserve to know.

8. Doesn't the satanic design of Washington, DC's streetplan prove that there's a masonic conspiracy? No. It does not take much imagination to look at a map of Washington, DC and see the outline of a five-pointed star in the streets to the north of the White House. But the assumptions required to believe that this arbitrary geometric shape reveals a secret political or occult agenda have no foundation. One has to assume that the pentagram is a uniquely evil symbol, highly valued by freemasons who believe that its physical representation can have a real impact on the world and that freemasons are responsible for intentionally including it in Washington's street plan. None of these assumptions bear scrutiny. First, the pentagram is not an exclusively satanic symbol nor does it have any particular masonic significance. Second, Freemasonry, promoting rationalism, places no power in symbols themselves. It is not a part of Freemasonry to view the drawing of symbols, no matter how large, as an act of consolidating or controlling power. Third, there is no published information establishing the masonic membership of the men responsible for the street plan. Although Freemason George Washington commissioned Pierre Charles L'Enfant and approved the streetplan executed by Andrew Ellicott and Benjamin Bannecker, they were not masons. Drawing lines on a map of Washington, DC proves nothing other than the physical existence of streets and buildings. [RETURN TO INDEX]

9. Aren't the freemasons plotting to rebuild the Temple in Jerusalem? No. This is another story perpetuated by Lyndon LaRouche. In essence, the theory is that British Freemasonry, by design of members of the House of Windsor, and through the machinations of Quatuor Coronati Lodge No. 2076, is secretly plotting to gain control of the Temple Mount and rebuild the Temple. LaRouche's researchers have assembled a collection of facts and near-facts and linked them together with unproven opinions and assumptions. A refutation of the accusation is found at freemasonry.bcy.ca/anti-masonry/rebuild_temple.html.

10. Didn't Adolf Hitler praise Freemasonry? No. Adolph Hitler (1889/04/20 - 1945/04/30) is recorded in referring to his perception of Freemasonry as an example of how he wanted the Nazi party to develop, specifically with an hierarchical organization and initiation through symbolic rites. A full record of his actions and writings though, clearly demonstrate that he despised Freemasonry. For further information and quotes, view freemasonry.bcy.ca/anti-masonry/hitler.html.

11. But wasn't the Nazi party founded by the freemasons? No. A distinction must be drawn between the acts and beliefs of individual freemasons and Freemasonry as a group. While Freemasonry had nothing to do with the Nazi party and in fact was a major target for its hatred, there was one freemason—of a sort—in the party's early history. Rudolf Glandeck von Sebottendorff (born Adam Alfred Rudolph Glauer in 1875) and Hermann Pohl (founder of the short-lived magical fraternity, the German Order Walvater of the Holy Grail) established another magical fraternity in Munich, the Thule Gesellschaft, on August 17, 1918. Originally called the "Studiengruppe für germanisches Altertum" (Study Group for German Antiquity), and deriving its ideology from such occultists as Guido von List (1848-1919/05/17), Adolf Lanz, aka Lanz von Liebenfels (1874-1954) and Madam Blavatsky, the group was politically active and played a leading part in assisting the successful attack on Munich's Communist government on 30 April, 1919. Whether or not the occult affectations of the Thule were anything more than a cover for counter-revolutionary activism has not been determined. Regardless, the Thule amalgamated on 5 January, 1919 with the Committee of Independent Workers, renaming themselves the Deutsche Arbeiter-Partei, the German Workers' Party. Adolf Hitler claimed he was the seventh member to join this group which changed its name to the National Socialist German Workers' Party in 1920. Sebottendorff is purported to have been initiated into an irregular body of the Rite of Memphis while he was in Turkey. From his own writings it is clear that his version of Freemasonry incorporated aspects of Islamic Sufi mysticism, alchemy, astrology and Rosicrucianism. In his autobiographical novel Der Talisman des Rosenkreuzers (The Rosicrucian Talisman), he makes a clear distinction between Turkish Freemasonry and regular Freemasonry: "It must be shown that Oriental Freemasonry still retains faithfully even today the ancient teachings of wisdom forgotten by modern Freemasonry, whose Constitution of 1717 was a departure from the true way." Sebottendorff's Bevor Hitler kam (1933)—banned by the Bavarian political police on 1 March, 1934—claimed precedence for the Thule Gesellschaft in the ranks of early influences on Hitler. This claim has been promoted by popular writers, most satisfied to seek corroboration in Hermann Rauschning's Hitler Speaks (1939) without noting that this book was anecdotal, unsubstantiated, and later discredited by scholarly research. With his book suppressed by the Nazis, Sebottendorff was arrested by the Gestapo in 1934, interned in a concentration camp and then expelled to Turkey, where he is believed to have committed suicide by drowning on 9 May, 1945. Both Sebottendorff's claims to masonic association and influence on Hitler are unproven and questionable. For further information and quotes, view freemasonry.bcy.ca/anti-masonry/sebottendorff_r.html. [RETURN TO INDEX]

12. What is the masonic testament? An invention by the highly imaginative authors Christopher Knight and Robert Lomas, compiled from excerpts of the many rituals devised in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries that—at one time or another—were worked in masonic lodges or by freemasons independently of their lodges or without Grand Lodge authority. These rituals came from a multitude of independent sources and were created for a multitude of reasons. Knight and Lomas have arbitrarily selected passages from these texts to compile what they refer to as a chronology or history. The Masonic Testament is a work of fiction included in their book The Book of Hiram (2003). Knight and Lomas' "The Masonic Testament" is a contemporary text having no historical validity. It is not accepted as having any masonic authority, nor is it endorsed by any masonic body. It is a work of fiction. It should also be stressed that the phrase, "Masonic Testament" does not refer to another misnomer, "the masonic Bible." There is no such thing as a Masonic Bible; the Volume of Sacred Lodge which is used in every regular masonic lodge is that book held sacred by the members of the lodge—generally in North America, the King James Authorized Version of the Christian Bible.

FEMA, the most powerful organization in the United States (4/11/2007)

Some people have referred to it as the "secret government" of the United States. It is not an elected body, it does not involve itself in public disclosures, and it even has a quasi-secret budget in the billions of dollars. This government organization has more power than the President of the United States or the Congress, it has the power to suspend laws, move entire populations, arrest and detain citizens without a warrant and hold them without trial, it can seize property, food supplies, transportation systems, and can suspend the Constitution.

Not only is it the most powerful entity in the United States, but it was not even created under Constitutional law by the Congress. It was a product of a Presidential Executive Order. No, it is not the U.S. military nor the Central Intelligence Agency, they are subject to Congress. The organization is called FEMA, which stands for the Federal Emergency Management Agency. Originally conceived in the Richard Nixon Administration, it was refined by President Jimmy Carter and given teeth in the Ronald Reagan and George Bush Administrations.

FEMA had one original concept when it was created, to assure the survivability of the United States government in the event of a nuclear attack on this nation. It was also provided with the task of being a federal coordinating body during times of domestic disasters, such as earthquakes, floods and hurricanes. Its awesome powers grow under the tutelage of people like Lt. Col. Oliver North and General Richard Secord, the architects on the Iran-Contra scandal and the looting of America's savings and loan institutions. FEMA has even been given control of the State Defense Forces, a rag-tag, often considered neo-Nazi, civilian army that will substitute for the National Guard, if the Guard is called to duty overseas.

Though it may be the most powerful organization in the United States, few people know it even exists. But it has crept into our private lives. Even mortgage papers contain FEMA's name in small print if the property in question is near a flood plain. FEMA was deeply involved in the Los Angeles riots and the 1989 Loma Prieta earthquake in the San Francisco Bay Area. Some of the black helicopter traffic reported throughout the United States, but mainly in the West, California, Washington, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Colorado, are flown by FEMA personnel. FEMA has been given responsibility for many new disasters including urban forest fires, home heating emergencies, refugee situations, urban riots, and emergency planning for nuclear and toxic incidents. In the West, it works in conjunction with the Sixth Army.

FEMA was created in a series of Executive Orders. A Presidential Executive Order, whether Constitutional or not, becomes law simply by its publication in the Federal Registry. Congress is by-passed. Executive Order Number 12148 created the Federal Emergency Management Agency that is to interface with the Department of Defense for civil defense planning and funding. An "emergency czar" was appointed. FEMA has only spent about 6 percent of its budget on national emergencies, the bulk of their funding has been used for the construction of secret underground facilities to assure continuity of government in case of a major emergency, foreign or domestic. Executive Order Number 12656 appointed the National Security Council as the principal body that should consider emergency powers. This allows the government to increase domestic intelligence and surveillance of U.S. citizens and would restrict the freedom of movement within the United States and grant the government the right to isolate large groups of civilians. The National Guard could be federalized to seal all borders and take control of U.S. air space and all ports of entry.

Here are just a few Executive Orders associated with FEMA that would suspend the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. These Executive Orders have been on record for nearly 30 years and could be enacted by the stroke of a Presidential pen:

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 10990 allows the government to take over all modes of transportation and control of highways and seaports.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 10995 allows the government to seize and control the communication media.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 10997 allows the government to take over all electrical power, gas, petroleum, fuels and minerals.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 10998 allows the government to take over all food resources and farms.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11000 allows the government to mobilize civilians into work brigades under government supervision.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11001 allows the government to take over all health, education and welfare functions.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11002 designates the Postmaster General to operate a national registration of all persons.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11003 allows the government to take over all airports and aircraft, including commercial aircraft.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11004 allows the Housing and Finance Authority to relocate communities, build new housing with public funds, designate areas to be abandoned, and establish new locations for populations.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11005 allows the government to take over railroads, inland waterways and public storage facilities.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11051 specifies the responsibility of the Office of Emergency Planning and gives authorization to put all Executive Orders into effect in times of increased international tensions and economic or financial crisis.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11310 grants authority to the Department of Justice to enforce the plans set out in Executive Orders, to institute industrial support, to establish judicial and legislative liaison, to control all aliens, to operate penal and correctional institutions, and to advise and assist the President.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11049 assigns emergency preparedness function to federal departments and agencies, consolidating 21 operative Executive Orders issued over a fifteen year period.

* EXECUTIVE ORDER 11921 allows the Federal Emergency Preparedness Agency to develop plans to establish control over the mechanisms of production and distribution, of energy sources, wages, salaries, credit and the flow of money in U.S. financial institution in any undefined national emergency. It also provides that when a state of emergency is declared by the President, Congress cannot review the action for six months.

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has broad powers in every aspect of the nation. General Frank Salzedo, chief of FEMA's Civil Security Division stated in a 1983 conference that he saw FEMA's role as a "new frontier in the protection of individual and governmental leaders from assassination, and of civil and military installations from sabotage and/or attack, as well as prevention of dissident groups from gaining access to U.S. opinion, or a global audience in times of crisis."

FEMA's powers were consolidated by President Carter to incorporate:

- * the National Security Act of 1947, which allows for the strategic relocation of industries, services, government and other essential economic activities, and to rationalize the requirements for manpower, resources and production facilities;
- * the 1950 Defense Production Act, which gives the President sweeping powers over all aspects of the economy;
- * the Act of August 29, 1916, which authorizes the Secretary of the Army, in time of war, to take possession of any transportation system for transporting troops, material, or any other purpose related to the emergency; and
- * the International Emergency Economic Powers Act, which enables the President to seize the property of a foreign country or national.

These powers were transferred to FEMA in a sweeping consolidation in 1979.

HURRICANE ANDREW FOCUSED ATTENTION ON FEMA FEMA's deceptive role really did not come to light with much of the public until Hurricane Andrew smashed into the U.S. mainland. As Russell R. Dynes, director of the Disaster Research Center of the University of Delaware, wrote in The World and I, "...The eye of the political storm hovered over the Federal Emergency Management Agency. FEMA became a convenient target for criticism." Because FEMA was accused of dropping the ball in Florida, the media and Congress commenced to study this agency. What came out of the critical look was that FEMA was spending 12 times more for "black operations" than for disaster relief. It spent $1.3 billion building secret bunkers throughout the United States in anticipation of government disruption by foreign or domestic upheaval. Yet fewer than 20 members of Congress, only members with top security clearance, know of the $1.3 billion expenditure by FEMA for non-natural disaster situations. These few Congressional leaders state that FEMA has a "black curtain" around its operations. FEMA has worked on National Security programs since 1979, and its predecessor, the Federal Emergency Preparedness Agency, has secretly spent millions of dollars before being merged into FEMA by President Carter in 1979.

FEMA has developed 300 sophisticated mobile units that are capable of sustaining themselves for a month. The vehicles are located in five areas of the United States. They have tremendous communication systems and each contains a generator that would provide power to 120 homes each, but have never been used for disaster relief.

FEMA's enormous powers can be triggered easily. In any form of domestic or foreign problem, perceived and not always actual, emergency powers can be enacted. The President of the United States now has broader powers to declare martial law, which activates FEMA's extraordinary powers. Martial law can be declared during time of increased tension overseas, economic problems within the United States, such as a depression, civil unrest, such as demonstrations or scenes like the Los Angeles riots, and in a drug crisis. These Presidential powers have increased with successive Crime Bills, particularly the 1991 and 1993 Crime Bills, which increase the power to suspend the rights guaranteed under the Constitution and to seize property of those suspected of being drug dealers, to individuals who participate in a public protest or demonstration. Under emergency plans already in existence, the power exists to suspend the Constitution and turn over the reins of government to FEMA and appointing military commanders to run state and local governments. FEMA then would have the right to order the detention of anyone whom there is reasonable ground to believe...will engage in, or probably conspire with others to engage in acts of espionage or sabotage. The plan also authorized the establishment of concentration camps for detaining the accused, but no trial.

Three times since 1984, FEMA stood on the threshold of taking control of the nation. Once under President Reagan in 1984, and twice under President Bush in 1990 and 1992. But under those three scenarios, there was not a sufficient crisis to warrant risking martial law. Most experts on the subject of FEMA and Martial Law insisted that a crisis has to appear dangerous enough for the people of the United States before they would tolerate or accept complete government takeover. The typical crisis needed would be threat of imminent nuclear war, rioting in several U.S. cities simultaneously, a series of national disasters that affect widespread danger to the populous, massive terrorist attacks, a depression in which tens of millions are unemployed and without financial resources, or a major environmental disaster.

THREE TIMES FEMA STOOD BY READY FOR EMERGENCY In April 1984, President Reagan signed Presidential Directive Number 54 that allowed FEMA to engage in a secret national "readiness exercise" under the code name of REX 84. The exercise was to test FEMA's readiness to assume military authority in the event of a "State of Domestic National Emergency" concurrent with the launching of a direct United States military operation in Central America. The plan called for the deputation of U.S. military and National Guard units so that they could legally be used for domestic law enforcement. These units would be assigned to conduct sweeps and take into custody an estimated 400,000 undocumented Central American immigrants in the United States. The immigrants would be interned at 10 detention centers to be set up at military bases throughout the country.

REX 84 was so highly guarded that special metal security doors were placed on the fifth floor of the FEMA building in Washington, D.C. Even long-standing employees of the Civil Defense of the Federal Executive Department possessing the highest possible security clearances were not being allowed through the newly installed metal security doors. Only personnel wearing a special red Christian cross or crucifix lapel pin were allowed into the premises. Lt. Col. Ollie North was responsible for drawing up the emergency plan, which U.S. Attorney General William French Smith opposed vehemently. The plan called for the suspension of the Constitution, turning control of the government over to FEMA, appointment of military commanders to run state and local governments and the declaration of Martial Law. The Presidential Executive Orders to support such a plan were already in place. The plan also advocated the rounding up and transfer to "assembly centers or relocation camps" of a least 21 million American Negroes in the event of massive rioting or disorder, not unlike the rounding up of the Jews in Nazi Germany in the 1930s.

The second known time that FEMA stood by was in 1990 when Desert Storm was enacted. Prior to President Bush's invasion of Iraq, FEMA began to draft new legislation to increase its already formidable powers. One of the elements incorporated into the plan was to set up operations within any state or locality without the prior permission of local or state authorities. Such prior permission has always been required in the past. Much of the mechanism being set into place was in anticipation of the economic collapse of the Western World. The war with Iraq may have been conceived as a ploy to boost the bankrupt economy, but it only pushed the West into deeper recession.

The third scenario for FEMA came with the Los Angeles riots after the Rodney King brutality verdict. Had the rioting spread to other cities, FEMA would have been empowered to step in. As it was, major rioting only occurred in the Los Angeles area, thus preventing a pretext for a FEMA response.

On July 5, 1987, the Miami Herald published reports on FEMA's new goals. The goal was to suspend the Constitution in the event of a national crisis, such as nuclear war, violent and widespread internal dissent, or national opposition to a U.S. military invasion abroad. Lt. Col. North was the architect. National Security Directive Number 52 issued in August 1982, pertains to the "Use of National Guard Troops to Quell Disturbances."

The crux of the problem is that FEMA has the power to turn the United States into a police state in time of a real crisis or a manufactured crisis. Lt. Col. North virtually established the apparatus for dictatorship. Only the criticism of the Attorney General prevented the plans from being adopted. But intelligence reports indicate that FEMA has a folder with 22 Executive Orders for the President to sign in case of an emergency. It is believed those Executive Orders contain the framework of North's concepts, delayed by criticism but never truly abandoned.

The crisis, as the government now see it, is civil unrest. For generations, the government was concerned with nuclear war, but the violent and disruptive demonstrations that surrounded the Vietnam War era prompted President Nixon to change the direction of emergency powers from war time to times of domestic unrest. Diana Reynolds, program director of the Edward R. Murrow Center, summed up the dangers of FEMA today and the public reaction to Martial Law in a drug crisis: "It was James Madison's worst nightmare that a righteous faction would someday be strong enough to sweep away the Constitutional restraints designed by the framers to prevent the tyranny of centralized power, excessive privilege, an arbitrary governmental authority over the individual. These restraints, the balancing and checking of powers among branches and layers of government, and the civil guarantees, would be the first casualties in a drug-induced national security state with Reagan's Civil Emergency Preparedness unleashed. Nevertheless, there would be those who would welcome NSC (National Security Council) into the drug fray, believing that increasing state police powers to emergency levels is the only way left to fight American's enemy within. In the short run, a national security state would probably be a relief to those whose personal security and quality of life has been diminished by drugs or drug related crime. And, as the general public watches the progression of institutional chaos and social decay, they too may be willing to pay the ultimate price, one drug free America for 200 years of democracy."

The first targets in any FEMA emergency would be Hispanics and Blacks, the FEMA orders call for them to be rounded up and detained. Tax protesters, demonstrators against government military intervention outside U.S. borders, and people who maintain weapons in their homes are also targets. Operation Trojan Horse is a program designed to learn the identity of potential opponents to martial law. The program lures potential protesters into public forums, conducted by a "hero" of the people who advocates survival training. The list of names gathered at such meetings and rallies are computerized and then targeted in case of an emergency.

The most shining example of America to the world has been its peaceful transition of government from one administration to another. Despite crises of great magnitude, the United States has maintained its freedom and liberty. This nation now stands on the threshold of rule by non-elected people asserting non-Constitutional powers. Even Congress cannot review a Martial Law action until six months after it has been declared. For the first time in American history, the reigns of government would not be transferred from one elected element to another, but the Constitution, itself, can be suspended.

The scenarios established to trigger FEMA into action are generally found in the society today, economic collapse, civil unrest, drug problems, terrorist attacks, and protests against American intervention in a foreign country. All these premises exist, it could only be a matter of time in which one of these triggers the entire emergency necessary to bring FEMA into action, and then it may be too late, because under the FEMA plan, there is no contingency by which Constitutional power is restored.

By Harry V. Martin with research assistance from David Caul <http://educate-yourself.org/nwo/FEMAscretgovt1995.shtml>

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 111-120

Wahhabism and the Occult Conspiracy

(4/17/2007)

Wahhabism and the Occult Conspiracy by David Livingstone

British Channel 4's Dispatches has produced a scathing documentary, called Undercover Mosque, about the negative influence of Saudi Arabia, through its promotion of Wahhabism, among the Muslim community of Britain. But the video is clear to point out that, "Wahhabism is opposed to the traditional tolerant beliefs of classical Islam". What the video does not cover, however, is that the spread of the Wahhabi interpretation of Islam is part of a larger Western agenda, involving the CIA, to denigrate Islam.

The Wahhabis insinuate themselves as legitimate members of the Muslim community, but Wahhabism was created by the British, in the eighteenth century, to undermine Islam. It has since been promoted by the state of Saudi Arabia, which was originally established by the British to achieve Western control of the world's primary oil resource. (author, "Globalists Created Wahhabi Terrorism")

In modern times, the Wahhabis have aligned themselves with a still more pernicious deviation from Islam, the Salafi. These name themselves accordingly because they claim to follow the earliest generations of the Muslims, known as the Salaf, and therefore, to be nearest to the purity of the original faith. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Salafism was the result of a policy, at the turn of the century, of the Oxford Movement, headed by Lord Palmerston, Benjamin Disraeli and Edward Bullwer-Lytton, to spread Scottish Rite Freemasonry in the Middle East (Robert Dreyfuss, Hostage to Khomeini). Lord Palmerston was a fellow member of the Palladian Rite, along with Albert Pike, who originally devised a plot for three world wars, culminating in a third against the Muslim world. Bulwer-Lytton was a leading occult figure, heading the English Rosicrucians, which evolved directly from the Shabbatean heresy, through the Asiatic Brethren.(author, Terrorism and the Illuminati, "The Salafi")

The agent of this strategy was a notorious impostor by the name of Jamal ud Din al Afghani, the Grand Master of the Freemasons of Egypt. According to K. Paul Johnson, it was Afghani, as head of the occult Hermetic Brotherhood of Luxor, or HB of L, who was responsible for teaching Helena Blavatsky her central doctrines (In Search of the Masters). Helena P. Blavatsky, the famous medium and mystic, was the godmother of the occult revival of the late nineteenth century. According to Manly P. Hall, a leading Masonic historian:

The Secret Doctrine and Isis Unveiled are Madame Blavatsky's gifts to humanity, and to those whose vision can pierce the menacing clouds of imminent disaster it is no exaggeration to affirm that these writings are the most vital literary contribution to the modern world. No more can they be compared with other books than can the light of the sun be compared with the lamp of the glowworm. The Secret Doctrine assumes the dignity of a scripture.

Numerous other leading occultists affiliated with Bullwer-Lytton's English Rosicrucians travelled to Egypt at the time, and on their return, established branches of the HB of L, out of which emerged the Ordo Templi Orientis (OTO), the most notorious member of which was Aleister Crowley.

The Nazis were the result of a merging of the O.T.O of Crowley and the Thule Gessellschaft of Germany. It is presumably for this reason that Hitler, when he wished to create an arm of German Intelligence in Egypt, contact a leading Salafi and Freemason, named Hasan al Banna. (Loftus, John. "Al Qaeda Terrorists Nazi Connection")

It was eventual head of the CIA, Allen Dulles, after WWII, who spearheaded the move to hire ex-Nazis to train the terrorists. This was part of the same plot that created the Stay-Behind or Gladio network, that were behind the "Strategy of Tension" that used the Red Brigade to destabilize Italy throughout the seventies.

In 1954, after it was discovered that the Muslim Brotherhood was responsible for an attack on his life, President Gamal Nasser of Egypt ordered a crackdown. Interrogations revealed that the Muslim Brotherhood functioned virtually as a German Intelligence unit. As well, as divulged by Miles Copeland, a former CIA operative specializing in the Middle East, in his autobiography, The Game Player:

Nor was that all. Sound beatings of the Moslem Brotherhood organizers who had been arrested revealed that the organization had been thoroughly penetrated, at the top, by the British, American, French and Soviet intelligence services, any one of which could either make active use of it or blow it up, whichever best suited its purposes. Important lesson: fanaticism is no insurance against corruption; indeed, the two are highly compatible. (p. 184.)

Fleeing members of the Muslim Brotherhood were then shuttled to the CIA's ally, Saudi Arabia. When John Loftus, a Justice Department official in the eighties, was permitted to peruse classified government documents, he discovered that the British Secret Service convinced American intelligence that the Arab Nazis of the Muslim Brotherhood would be indispensable as "freedom fighters" in preparation for the next major war, which was anticipated against the Soviet Union. There, according to Loftus, "they were given jobs as religion education instructors." ("The Muslim Brotherhood, Nazis and Al-Qaeda". Jewish Community News, October 4, 2004)

Among those transferred to Saudi Arabia by the CIA was Mohammed Qutb, brother of the executed head of the Brotherhood, Sayed Qutb, who then befriended Osama bin Laden, and recruited him into the organization.

The first important strategy which they served in, at the height of the Cold War, was as pawns in the US's strategy against the Soviet Union. The US sought to covertly undermine the USSR by dragging it into its own version of Vietnam in Afghanistan (Le Nouvel Observateur, interview with Zbigniew Brzezinski, 15-21 January 1998). The CIA accomplished this by beginning to fund members of the Muslim Brotherhood in the country, following which the Soviets had no choice but to intervene. What ensued was a 20 year brutal struggle, after which, again through CIA support, the fanatical and Wahhabi indoctrinated Taliban were brought to power.

Being the largest covert operation in CIA history, it was all secretly financed through the Iran-Contra affair. The regime in Iran itself was also brought about through Western conspiring with members of the Muslim Brotherhood in that country, culminating in the establishment as ruler of British agent Ayatollah Khomeini. Arms were sold to Iran, traded with the right-wing Contras of Nicaragua for Cocaine, then brought to the Mena, Arkansas, under Clinton's supervision, before being distributed to LA street gangs, thus igniting the so-called Crack Epidemic of the eighties. Funds accumulated were then transmitted to Afghanistan, to fund the "Mujahideen", headed by Gulbuddin Hekmatyar, who was also responsible for the CIA's opium cultivation in that country (author, Terrorism and the Illuminati, "Guns, Drugs and Jihad").

The novelty of the ruse of the Wahhabis is that they do not present themselves as a sect of Islam, but merely as a group within the majority, known as Sunnis, committed to orthodoxy. In Western countries, as pointed out by Stephen Schwartz, in The Two Faces of Islam, the Muslim communities there are newly created, and do not have long-standing traditions of classical Islam. It is possible, therefore, for Saudi Arabia to move in and dominate the burgeoning communities. Through their immense oil wealth, they have financed the construction of mosques, printed the majority, if not all, of the Muslim literature in English, and have financially backed all the so-called "moderate" organizations which purportedly represent the interests of the Muslims.

The purpose of promoting Wahhabism is not merely to create the mindset of the terrorist, but to indoctrinate certain Muslims to become aberrations of human beings, exemplifying all that is despicable, including misogyny, ignorance, intolerance and bigotry, as the video painfully exposes. The intent is to create an egregious image of the Muslims, to secure their identity with the prevailing prejudices against them, in order to bring about a Clash of Civilizations, or the so-called War on Terror, in other words, the War on Islam.

This video will certainly inflame hatred among the bigoted right in America and elsewhere, who will surely claim "I told you so". But more importantly, the message provided in this video is a wake-up call for the Muslims, to recognize the vipers hiding their midsts who have hijacked their religion. It is high time for Muslims to return to the noble principles of their religion, and start acting like the examples the world is waiting to see.

Was Cagliostro a "charlatan"? (4/20/2007)

To send the injured undressed away, How great soe'er the offender, and the wrong'd Howe'er obscure, is wicked, weak and vile-- Degrades, defiles, and should dethrone a king.

--SMOLLETT THE mention of Cagliostro's name produces a two-fold effect. With the one party, a whole sequence of marvellous events emerges from the shadowy past; with others the modern progeny of a too realistic age, the name of Alexander, Count Cagliostro, provokes wonder, if not contempt. People are unable to understand that this "enchanter and magician" (read "Charlatan") could ever legitimately produce such an impression as he did on his contemporaries. This gives the key to the posthumous reputation of the Sicilian known as Joseph Balsamo, that reputation which made a believer in him, a brother Mason, say, that (like Prince Bismarck and some Theosophists) "Cagliostro might well be said to be the best abused and most hated man in Europe." Nevertheless, and notwithstanding the fashion of loading him with opprobrious names, none should forget that Schiller and Goethe were among his great admirers, and remained so to their deaths. Goethe while travelling in Sicily devoted much labour and time to collecting information about "Giuseppe Balsamo" in his supposed native land; and it was from these copious notes that the author of Faust wrote his play "The Great Kophta."

Why this wonderful man is receiving so little honour in England, is due to Carlyle. The most fearlessly truthful historian of his age--he, who abominated falsehood under whatever appearance--has stamped with the imprimatur of his honest and famous name, and thus sanctified the most iniquitous of historical injustices ever perpetrated by prejudice and bigotry. This owing to false reports which almost to the last emanated from a class he disliked no less than he hated untruth, namely the Jesuits, or--lie incarnate.

The very name of Giuseppe Balsamo, which, when rendered by cabalistic methods, means "He who was sent," or "The Given," also "Lord of the Sun," shows that such was not his real patronymic. As Kenneth R. H. Mackenzie, F.T.S., remarks, toward the end of the last century it became the fashion with certain theosophical professors of the time to transliterate into Oriental form every name provided by Occult Fraternities for disciples destined to work in the world. Whosoever then, may have been Cagliostro's parents, their name was not "Balsamo." So much is certain, at any rate. Moreover, as all know that in his youth he lived with, and was instructed by, a man named, as is supposed, Althotas, "a great Hermetic Eastern Sage" or in other words an Adept, it is not difficult to accept the tradition that it was the latter who gave him his symbolical name. But that which is known with still more certainty is the extreme esteem in which he was held by some of the most scientific and honoured men of his day. In France we find Cagliostro--having before served as a confidential friend and assistant chemist in the laboratory of Pinto, the Grand Master of the Knights of Malta--becoming the friend and protégé of the Prince Cardinal de Rohan. A high born Sicilian Prince honoured him with his support and friendship, as did many other noblemen. "Is it possible, then," pertinently asks Mackenzie, "that a man of such engaging manners could have been the lying impostor his enemies endeavoured to prove him?"

The chief cause of his life-troubles was his marriage with Lorenza Feliciani, a tool of the Jesuits; and two minor causes his extreme good nature, and the blind confidence he placed in his friends--some of whom became traitors and his bitterest enemies. Neither of the crimes of which he is unjustly accused could lead to the destruction of his honour and posthumous reputation; but all was due to his weakness for an unworthy woman, and the possession of certain secrets of nature, which he would not divulge to the Church. Being a native of Sicily, Cagliostro was naturally born in a family of Roman Catholics, no matter what their name, and was brought up by monks of the "Good Brotherhood of Castiglione," as his biographers tell us; thus, for the sake of dear life he had to outwardly profess belief in and respect for a Church, whose traditional policy has ever been, "he who is not with us is against us," and forthwith to crush the enemy in the bud. And yet, just for this, is Cagliostro even to-day accused of having served the Jesuits as their spy; and this by Masons who ought to be the last to bring such a charge against a learned Brother who was persecuted by the Vatican even more as a Mason than as an Occultist. Had it been so, would these same Jesuits even to this day vilify his name? Had he served them, would he not have proved himself useful to their ends, as a man of such undeniable intellectual gifts could not have blundered or disregarded the orders of those whom he served. But instead of this, what do we see? Cagliostro charged with being the most cunning and successful impostor and charlatan of his age; accused of belonging to the Jesuit Chapter of Clermont in France; of appearing (as a proof of his affiliation to the Jesuits) in clerical dress at Rome. Yet, this "cunning impostor" is tried and condemned--by the exertions of those same Jesuits--to an ignominious death, which was changed only subsequently to life-long imprisonment, owing to a mysterious interference or influence brought to bear on the Pope!

Would it not be more charitable and consistent with truth to say that it was his connection with Eastern Occult Science, his knowledge of many secrets--deadly to the Church of Rome--that brought upon Cagliostro first the persecution of the Jesuits, and finally the rigour of the Church? It was his own honesty, which' blinded him to the defects of those whom he cared for, and led him to trust two such rascals as the Marquis Agliato and Ottavio Nicastro, that is at the bottom of all the accusations of fraud and imposture now lavished upon him. And it is the sins of these two worthies--subsequently executed for gigantic swindles and murder--which are now made to fall on Cagliostro. Nevertheless it is known that he and his wife (in 1770) were both left destitute by the flight of Agliato with all their funds, so that they had to beg their way through Piedmont and Geneva. Kenneth Mackenzie has well proven that Cagliostro had never mixed himself up with political intrigue--the very soul of the activities of the Jesuits. "He was most certainly unknown in that capacity to those who have jealously guarded the preparatory archives of the Revolution, and his appearance as an advocate of revolutionary principles has no basis in fact." He was simply an Occultist and a Mason, and as such he was allowed to suffer at the hands of those who, adding insult to injury, first tried to kill him by life-long imprisonment and then spread the rumour that he had been their ignoble agent. This cunning device was in its infernal craft well worthy of its primal originators.

There are many landmarks in Cagliostro's biographies to show that he taught the Eastern doctrine of the "principles" in man, of "God" dwelling in man--as a potentiality in actu (the "Higher Self")--and in every living thing and even atom--as a potentiality in posse, and that he served the Masters of a Fraternity he would not name because on account of his pledge he could not. His letter to the new mystical but rather motley Brotherhood the (Lodge of) Philalethes, is a proof in point. The Philalethes, as all Masons know, was a rite founded in Paris in 1773 in the Loge des Amis Réunis, based on the principles of Martinism,¹ and whose members made a special study of the Occult Sciences. The Mother Lodge was a philosophical and theosophical Lodge, and therefore Cagliostro was right in desiring to purify its progeny, the Lodge of Philalethes. This is what the Royal Masonic Cyclopædia says on the subject:

On the 15 February 1785 the Lodge of Philalethes in solemn Section, with Lavalette de Langes, royal treasurer; Tassin, the banker; and Tassin, an officer in the royal service; opened a Fraternal Convention, at Paris . . . Princes (Russian, Austrian, and others), fathers of the Church, councillors, knights, financiers, barristers, barons, Theosophists, canons, colonels, professors of Magic, engineers, literary men, doctors, merchants, postmasters, dukes, ambassadors, surgeons, teachers of languages, receivers-general, and notably two London names--Boosie, a merchant, and Brooks of London--compose this Convention, to whom may be added M. le Count de Cagliostro, and Mesmer "the inventor" as Thory describes him (Acta Latomorum, vol. ii. p. 95), "of the doctrine of magnetism!" Surely such an able set of men to set the world to rights, as France never saw before or since!

The grievance of the Lodge was that Cagliostro, who had first promised to take charge of it, withdrew his offers, as the "Convention would not adopt the Constitutions of the Egyptian Rite, nor would the Philalethes consent to have its archives consigned to the flames, which were his conditions sine qua non. It is strange that his answer to that Lodge should be regarded by Brother R. H. Mackenzie and other Masons as emanating "from a Jesuit source." The very style is Oriental, and no European Mason--least of all a Jesuit--would write in such a manner. This is how the answer runs:

. . . The unknown grand Master of true Masonry has cast his eyes upon the Philaletheans. . . . Touched by the sincere avowal of their desires, he deigns to extend his hand over them, and consents to give a ray of light into the darkness of their temple. It is the wish of the Unknown Great Master, to prove to them the existence of one God--the basis of their faith; the original dignity of man; his powers and destiny. . . . It is by deeds and facts, by the testimony of the senses, that they will know GOD, MAN and the intermediary spiritual beings (principles) existing between them; of which true Masonry gives the symbols and indicates the real road. Let then, the Philalethes embrace the doctrines of this real Masonry, submit to the rules of its supreme chief, and adopt its constitutions. But above all let the Sanctuary be purified, let the Philalethes know that light can only descend into the Temple of Faith (based on knowledge), not into that of Scepticism. Let them devote to the flames that vain accumulation of their archives; for it is only on the ruins of the Tower of Confusion that the Temple of Truth can be erected.

In the Occult phraseology of certain Occultists "Father, Son and Angels" stood for the compound symbol of physical, and astro-Spiritual MAN.² John G. Gichtel (end of XVIIth cent.), the ardent lover of Boehme, the Seer of whom St. Martin relates that he was married "to the heavenly Sophia," the Divine Wisdom--made use of this term. Therefore, it is easy to see what Cagliostro meant by proving to the Philalethes on the testimony of their "senses," "God, man and the intermediary Spiritual beings," that exist between God (Atma), and Man (the Ego). Nor is it more difficult to understand his true meaning when he reproaches the Brethren in his parting letter which says: "We have offered you the truth; you have disdained it. We have offered it for the sake of itself, and you have refused it in consequence of a love forms. . . Can you elevate yourselves to (your) God and the knowledge of yourselves by the assistance of a Secretary and a Convocation?" etc.³

Many are the absurd and entirely contradictory statements about Joseph Balsamo, Count de Cagliostro, so-called, several of which were incorporated by Alexander Dumas in his Mémoires d'un Médecin, with those prolific variations of truth and fact which so characterize Dumas père's romances. But though the world is in possession of a most miscellaneous and varied mass of information concerning that remarkable and unfortunate man during most of his life, yet of the last ten years and of his death, nothing certain is known, save only the legend that he died in the prison of the Inquisition. True, some fragments published recently by the Italian savant, Giovanni Sforza, from the private correspondence of Lorenzo Prospero Bottini, the Roman ambassador of the Republic of Lucca at the end of the last century, have somewhat filled this wide gap. This correspondence with Pietro Calandrini, the Great Chancellor of the said Republic, begins from 1784, but the really interesting information commences only in 1789, in a letter dated June 6, of that year, and even then we do not learn much.

It speaks of the "celebrated Count di Cagliostro, who has recently arrived with his wife from Trent via Turin to Rome. People say he is a native of Sicily and extremely wealthy, but no one knows whence that wealth. He has a letter of introduction from the Bishop of Trent to Albani. . . . So far his daily walk in life as well as his private and public status are above reproach. Many are those seeking an interview with him, to hear from his own lips the corroboration of what is being said of him." From another letter we learn that Rome had proven an ungrateful soil for Cagliostro. He had the intention of settling at Naples, but the plan could not be realised. The Vatican authorities who had hitherto left the Count undisturbed, suddenly laid their heavy hand upon him. In a letter dated 2 January, 1790, just a year after Cagliostro's arrival, it is stated that: "last Sunday secret and extraordinary debates in council took place at the Vatican." It (the council) consisted of the State Secretary and Antonelli, Pillotta and Campanelli, Monsignor Figgerenti performing the duty of Secretary. The object of that Secret Council remains unknown, but public rumour asserts that it was called forth owing to the sudden arrest on the night between Saturday and Sunday, of the Count di Cagliostro, his wife, and a Capuchin, Fra Giuseppe Maurijio. The Count is incarcerated in Fort St. Angelo, the Countess in the Convent of St. Apollonia, and the monk in the prison of Araceli. That monk, who calls himself "Father Swizzero," is regarded as a confederate of the famous magician. In the number of the crimes he is accused of is included that of the circulation of a book by an unknown author, condemned to public burning and entitled, "The Three Sisters." The object of this work is "to pulverize certain three high-born individuals."

The real meaning of this most extraordinary misinterpretation is easy to guess. It was a work on Alchemy; the "three sisters" standing symbolically for the three "Principles" in their duplex symbolism. On the plane of occult chemistry they "pulverize" the triple ingredient used in the process of the transmutation of metals; on the plane of Spirituality they reduce to a state of pulverization the three "lower" personal "principles" in man, an explanation that every Theosophist is bound to understand.

The trial of Cagliostro lasted for a long time. In a letter of March the 17th, Bottini writes to his Lucca correspondent that the famous "wizard" has finally appeared before the Holy Inquisition. The real cause of the slowness of the proceedings was that the Inquisition, with all its dexterity at fabricating proofs could find no weighty evidence to prove the guilt of Cagliostro. Nevertheless, on April the 7th, 1791, he was condemned to death. He was accused of various and many crimes, the chiefest of which were his being a Mason and an "Illuminate," an "Enchanter" occupied with unlawful studies; he was also accused of deriding the holy Faith, of doing harm to society, of possessing himself by means unknown of large sums of money, and of inciting others, sex, age and social standing notwithstanding, to do the same. In short, we find the unfortunate Occultist condemned to an ignominious death for deeds committed, the like of which are daily and publicly committed now-a-days, by more than one Grand Master of the Masons, as also by hundreds of thousands of Kabbalists and Masons, mystically inclined. After this verdict the "arch heretic's" documents, diplomas from foreign Courts and Societies, Masonic regalias and family relics were solemnly burned by the public hangmen in the Piazza della Minerva, before enormous crowds of people. First his books and instruments were consumed. Among these was the MS. on the Maçonnerie Egyptienne which thus can no longer serve as a witness in favour of the reviled man. And now the condemned Occultist had to be passed over to the hands of the civil Tribunal, when a mysterious event happened.

A stranger, never seen by any one before or after in the Vatican appeared and demanded a private audience of the Pope, sending him by the Cardinal Secretary a word instead of a name. He was immediately received, but only stopped with the Pope for a few minutes. No sooner was he gone than his Holiness gave orders to commute the death sentence of the Count to that of imprisonment for life, in the fortress called the Castle of St. Leo, and that the whole transaction should be conducted in great secrecy. The monk Swizzero was condemned to ten years' imprisonment; and the Countess Cagliostro was set at liberty, but only to be confined on a new charge of heresy in a convent.

But what was the Castle of St. Leo? It now stands on the frontiers of Tuscany and was then in the Papal States, in the Duchy of Urbino. It is built on the top of an enormous rock, almost perpendicular on all sides; to get into the "Castle" in those days, one had to enter a kind of open basket which was hoisted up by ropes and pulleys. As to the criminal, he was placed in a special box, after which the jailors pulled him up "with the rapidity of the wind." On April 23rd, 1792, Giuseppe Balsamo--if so we must call him--ascended heavenward in the criminal's box, incarcerated in that living tomb for life. Giuseppe Balsamo is mentioned for the last time in the Bottini correspondence in a letter dated March 10th, 1792. The ambassador speaks of a marvel produced by Cagliostro in his prison during his leisure hours. A long rusty nail taken by the prisoner out of the floor was transformed by him without the help of any instrument into a sharp triangular stiletto, as smooth, brilliant and sharp as if it were made of the finest steel. It was recognized for an old nail only by its head, left by the prisoner to serve as a handle. The State Secretary gave orders to have it taken away from Cagliostro, and brought to Rome, and to double the watch over him.

And now comes the last kick of the jackass at the dying or dead lion. Luiggi Angiolini, a Tuscan diplomat, writes as follows: "At last, that same Cagliostro, who made so many believe that he had been a contemporary of Julius Cæsar, who reached such fame and so many friends, died from apoplexy, August 26, 1795. Semironi had him buried in a wood-barn below, whence peasants used to pilfer constantly the crown property. The crafty chaplain reckoned very justly that the man who had inspired the world with such superstitious fear while living, would inspire people with the same feelings after his death, and thus keep the thieves at bay"

But yet--a query! Was Cagliostro dead and buried indeed in 1792, at St. Leo? And if so, why should the custodians at the Castle of St. Angelo, of Rome show innocent tourists the little square hole in which Cagliostro is said to have been confined and "died"? Why such uncertainty or--imposition, and such disagreement in the legend? Then there are Masons who to this day tell strange stories in Italy. Some say that Cagliostro escaped in an unaccountable way from his aerial prison, and thus forced his jailors to spread the news of his death and burial. Others maintain that he not only escaped, but, thanks to the Elixir of Life, still lives on, though over twice three score and ten years old!

"Why," asks Bottini, "if he really possessed the powers claimed, has he not indeed vanished from his jailors, and thus escaped the degrading punishment altogether?"

We have heard of another prisoner, greater in every respect than Cagliostro ever claimed to be. Of that prisoner too, it was said in mocking tones, "He saved others; himself he cannot save. . . . let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe. . . ."

How long shall charitable people build the biographies of living and ruin the reputations of the dead, with such incomparable unconcern, by means of idle and often entirely false gossip of people, and these generally the slaves of prejudice!

So long, we are forced to think, as they remain ignorant the Law of Karma and its iron justice.

H. P. B Lucifer, January, 1890

Check out Head of NY Rotary Club... (4/20/2007)

Check Out Head of NY Rotary Club And You May Get To The Bottom Of Who Caused 9/11

Connections go deep to the White House and Vatican, according to Illuminati insiders. Further, high level P2 Masons knew about 9/11 before it happened.

By Greg Szymanski

Leo Zagami, a former high level Mason and member of the Illuminati, said the head of the Monte Carlo P2 Lodge and the head of the New York Rotary Club, Georgio Hugo Balestrieri, told him in private conversations they had prior knowledge of 9/11.

The conversations, according to Zagami, took place in Europe before 9/11, adding that he had personal information many high level Masons overseas also had prior knowledge of 9/11, including former P2 head and personal friend of former President Reagan, Licio Gelli.

Zagami said these European connections lead directly to the Vatican and especially the Jesuit Gen., Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach, who were instrumental in hatching and carrying out the 9/11 tragedy.

Further, he added these connections will lead to high-level U.S. and Vatican officials like President Bush, Vice President Cheney, Cardinal Egan and former New York Mayor Giuliani, all who had prior knowledge and were instrumental in causing 9/11.

Besides Zagami, a high level insider has been feeding information to the Arctic Beacon about Balestrieri's connection to 9/11 and other Illuminati wrongdoings as well as his Vatican and U.S. connections, saying "you are at the tip of an iceberg that is 10 kilometers below the surface."

The source added Balestrieri is a lower level Illuminati minion and thug who has at least two higher levels working above him and directing his activities, which now include his position as head of the New York Rotary Club as well as business holdings in U.S. airport security.

In a previous Arctic Beacon article, the source provided inside information about Balestrieri's New World Order connections to the Vatican, U.S. officials and P2 members abroad. The source now adds more information, referring to Balestrieri as B:

B is a low level Ninja who gets his orders from a couple of layers high above him.

The day of 911 he was conveniently not at his office but at a Rotary meeting at the UN.

B is currently being investigated by a couple of European (UK, France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria etc.) services and the Russians. Due to his old connections to Russia it is suspected that he is instrumental in helping to facilitate the Russian 'informal' sector in the Republic of San Marino. San Marino is a totally independent country, and a landlocked territory right near Rimini/Italy - Adriatic Sea - . San Marino is not an EU member but is allowed to use the EURO. The Russian mobsters try to anchor into San Marino with gambling operations. This is a nightmare for the Italian government since they could not touch them there. The middle of the Adriatic Sea are international waters. The mobsters are meeting out there with their interlocutors from the mainland and it is very easy for them to slip in and out.

Since the Ugolini Foundation is registered in San Marino and its president Boccardelli has diplomatic status, B is believed to try to use this structure as a Trojan donkey for his hidden agenda to facilitate the Russians so they can establish casino there to launder their money and to run drugs via the Kosovo/Albania through San Marino into the EU. It is a fact that Boccardelli is absolutely clueless with respect to B really is and what is agenda is. (see details below).

B seems also to use the humanitarian container 'relieve' shipments to wherever, to ship whatever else is shipped in those containers to those countries. After all, he has been doing this in the past.

B's Turkish activities with Kaan Soyak are also being investigated. Kaan Soyak is also an US 'asset' being told what to do by his higher ups.

B was at one time involved in business that related to Barsani in the Kurdish part of Iraq but it is believed that he was squeezed out there due to his utter incompetence.

Umiliato il Gran Maestro Gustavo Raffi
(4/23/2007)

Clamorosa sconfitta alla Gran Loggia di Rimini del Gran Maestro del Grande Oriente d'Italia Gustavo Raffi. Nell'amena località balneare, più consona alle riunioni goliardiche che a ospitare l'assise della più importante obbedienza massonica italiana, il GM Raffi ha subito una sconfitta umiliante da parte dei maestri venerabili che, accorsi da ogni parte d'Italia, hanno rifiutato le modifiche alla costituzione che avrebbero permesso al Raffi di consolidare il suo potere da satrapo medioorientale e proporsi quale gran maestro a vita. Il Raffi colto da un eccesso di ira ha anche abbandonato i lavori rituali sotto gli occhi sconcertati dei venerabili che venivano tacciati di "imbecilli, non hanno capito niente, io sono l'unico in grado di fare il bene della massoneria; dopo di me c'è il nulla".

Inside the Coven... (4/20/2007)

Little do young Rock and Rollers know they are deceived by an unseen host of agents of the Devil. The Bible warns it will be demons, using people as their instruments, that will lead others into rejecting the True Christ. "For they are the spirits of DEVILS, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty." Revelation 16:14. There is absolutely nothing romantic about Satan. He will give some power to work miracles, but this is his way of deceiving. Just as God uses man to lead others to Him, so does Satan. However, unlike God, once Satan has used a person for his own purposes, Satan will cast away all whom he has used to deceive others, like a man casts away his trash into the trash can. So to help a Bible student avoid falling into any of Satan's traps, one can learn from the Scriptures and from those whom Satan has already used, how not to become another one of his victims. To start, we need to study again the first deception at the Garden of Eden. As we stated before, the Devil uses camouflages to keep his worship hidden. The Sun and Nimrod were only a front used by Lucifer to get multitudes to bow before him. However, the first camouflage he used to deceive Adam and Eve was the serpent. The very thing Satan used to deceive Adam and Eve became eventually one of the most sacred symbols of Sun worship! Instead of the serpent as being a symbol of Satan and deception, as the Bible instructs, the serpent became a symbol of the "Great Benefactor and Healer" of mankind. The serpent was worshipped as the "God of Healing" and "Life-Restorer." "YE SHALL NOT SURELY DIE," Genesis 3:3, was Lucifer's first lie to our first parents. The serpent, the god of healing, was generally represented in the pagan arts entwined on a stick, staff or a stock of a tree. Here we find the origin of the strange symbol that the American Medical Association (AMA) uses today. This medical insignia was originally the symbol of the Egyptian god Hermes, who we will see in a moment was Nimrod's father, Cush. And it's here we find the origin of the word hermetic. This ancient word found in classical literature actually derived from the ancient Egyptian god of medicine. This name is actually Chaldean and the Greeks and Egyptians adopted this god from the Babylonians. The very word hermetic means the hidden knowledge of magic, occult sciences, etc. Not only was the serpent worshipped by the ignorant pagans as "The Great Benefactor" for mankind, the serpent ironically enough was worshipped also as "The Great Enlightener." What did Satan say to Adam and Eve besides, "Ye shall not surely die?" In Genesis 3:5 we read: "FOR GOD DOTH KNOW THAT IN THE DAY YE EAT THEREOF THEN YOUR EYES SHALL BE OPENED, AND YE SHALL BE AS GODS, KNOWING GOOD AND EVIL."

In The Two Babylons, by Hislop, p. 227, we read the following: "Along with the sun, as the great fire-god, and, in due time, identified with him, was the serpent worshipped. In the mythology of the primitive world, says Owen, 'the serpent is universally the symbol of the sun. In Egypt, one of the commonest symbols of the sun, or sun god, is a disc with a serpent around it. The original reason of that identification seems just to have been that, as the sun was the great enlightener of the physical world, so the serpent was held to have been the great enlightener of the spiritual, by giving mankind the 'Knowledge of Good and Evil.''" The ancient Mayans of the Yucatan in Mexico worshipped the serpent god under the name of Can. Can means "serpent" in the Mayan language, as Can or A-Can was the ancient Sumerian and ancient Scottish word for serpent. Here we find the origin of our word canny, shrewd or serpent-like. The Babylonians worshipped Can the serpent and Vul, the god of fire. The Romans simply combined the two words into "Vulcan," the Roman god of fire from which also comes our word "volcano". This seems to be how the Mayans and Mexicans named their gods. They too combined two words to describe their serpent god. "Kulkul" means "beautiful bird," and "Can," serpent. Hence, "Kulkulcan," which means "Bird Serpent" in the Mayan language. This is the exact same meaning for Quetzalcoatl, the Mexican pagan messiah in central Mexico. Interestingly enough, the cosmic symbol for Quetzalcoatl was a feathered serpent! Here is another interesting observation. The origin of the word "Vatican" also derived from two words. The Latin word "vatic" or "vatis" means "prophet or soothsayer". The combined word, "Vatican," appears to mean "divination by the serpent"! (the roots of all evil)The symbol for Astrology is often shown in pagan arts (alchemy) as a serpent in a circular position with his tail in his mouth. This represented eternal life. There is the strong evidence from Scripture that the serpent originally had wings and flew, instead of having legs as the evolutionists say. The Scriptures reveal it was a curse for the serpent to travel on his belly as he does now. "And the Lord God said unto the serpent, because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field: upon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life." Genesis 3:14. Hence, that feathered serpent that has been displayed in pagan arts and worshipped as the god of healing, is none other but "that Old Serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world." Revelation 12:9. While Satan changed the image of the serpent into something to be adored and worshipped, the goat, from antiquity, symbolized the Devil. The goat, known for its agility, stubborn character and having its own way, is what Astrologers say people are who are born under the sign of Capricorn, the He-Goat. Witches in the Middle Ages were widely reputed to worship the Devil in the form of a goat. During the Middle Ages there was a widespread witch panic that produced witch hunts and witch trials. Witches were often charged with poisonings and other injuries as well as murder. The charge of murder might have been derived from making a wax image of a hated person and consuming it over a slow fire or sticking it with pins. African witchdoctors, Haitian experts in Voo-Doo, and American Indian medicine men indulged in this Satanic Black Art. The Middle Ages witch trials record how multitudes of witches confessed, under torture, that they held local meetings called covens to adore their master, make plans to execute the diabolic will, and partake in bestial rites. In southern Europe the site where the witches met was called a synagogue; in Germany it was called a blocksberg. These meetings usually took place at midnight. It was brought out during the trials that witches claimed they came to their meetings by being carried by the Devil: others were able to fly by anointing themselves with oils from the bodies of murdered infants; still others rode broomsticks, or a cow or a goat. At the rendezvous Satan appeared as a black animal, often a goat, or as a man with cloven feet [8]. There are many different sects in modern witchcraft today; however, modern day witches do not believe that the Devil exists. They are not Satanist old women with long black hair and a wart on their nose. A Christian will be shocked to know that ancient Witchcraft has been revived and modernized among the young people today. And, it is the religion of some of those who control the wealth of the world! Their covens (churches) are today Federally recognized tax exempt churches, and enjoy the same rights under the protection of the law as do the Christians. And, believe it or not, there are millions of both male and female witches in the United States alone. Witchcraft is the biggest rival religion of Christianity in England and America. It is interesting enough, however, that these modern witches exalt the horn gods and the pagan goddesses such as the Egyptian pagan trinity Osiris, Isis, Horus, which originated in the worship of Nimrod (the Sun), his wife Semiramis (the moon), and Tammuz (the Morning Star). Like their pagan brethren, modern day witches are ignorant to the fact that these gods do not exist. Even though they claim the Devil does not exist, they too are in reality bowing their knee before him. They exalt the gods Satan hid behind to deceive the ancient nations. Pan or Bacchus is another god the witches exalt and worship. It depends on what coven they belong to. Anyway, how was this ancient pagan god displayed in pagan art? He had a man's head with horns and cloven feet! The god Pan, symbol of the Universe and the Sun, was the Bacchus of the Phoenicians.

Now witchcraft, as stated before, has been modernized. Modern day witches who worship the gods of cosmic forces claim now to work magic and cast spells for the general good of the community (lies keep these illuminati slaves still going..). This kind of witchcraft is called white magic (but there is no white magic especially in Wiccan circles traditionay close to the satanist). Those who practice casting spells that injure people practice what is known as Black Magic if we want to describe it in a simple way. However, most of these modern day witches manipulated by their illuminati Grand Masters obviously claim to be good witches, and unlike medieval witchcraft that made an image out of wax to stick pins in it so the person the wax image looked like would die, these modern day witches claim now that this wax image is used to heal people. This revised and modern form of witchcraft is called today Wicca, which is the feminine form of an Old English word, "Wicce," meaning -- "Witch". The main feature of Wicca is, however, nature worship. Just as the ancient Baal worshippers in Babylonia believed it was the cosmic Star gods that were responsible for pouring out the rain from Heaven and caused fertility among the plants and mankind, so do these ignorant people in these modern witch covens teach their little ones these things. The word Baal, so often seen throughout the Old Testament, was used to describe a god. The word means "Lord" or "Master" and in the Bible it was the name for the Sun-god. Now, kings of pagan nations often were considered the incarnation of the Sun-god, and to identify with the Sun-god the kings would adopt the name of his god as Jezebel's father did in 1 Kings 16:31. His name was "Ethbaal" which means "with Baal" or "Baal's man". Just as ancient Sun-kings pretended to be the ancient incarnation of the Sun-god, so does modern witchcraft teach that the High Priest is the personification of the horned god Pan, or Osiris. And, the High Priestess of these covens, like ancient Sun worship, is the personification of Isis, Diana, or one of the other names this pagan goddess has throughout the world. Baal worship was basically a fertility cult that taught its followers that the Sun-god and Moon-goddess controlled the seasons, brought fertility, etc. Here we find the origin of the beliefs of Wicca. Witches, ancient and modern, take off their clothes during their meetings as a symbol of freedom, and so the power they say they receive from their gods can freely flow from their bodies. A circle is drawn to contain and concentrate the power the witches claim to receive through lewd dancing and chanting. On nights of the full moon and other festivals, the High Priest of witchcraft performs a ritual known as "Drawing Down the Moon." This is taught to new members to explain how the High Priestess becomes the incarnation of the Moongoddess. Witches believe that the build-up of power is achieved much more readily when the participants are naked, and when a certain sexual tension is present. When these witches reach the power they want charged in their atmosphere, they begin to cast their spells. They claim the spells should always be for the good; an evil spell, they say, rebounds threefold upon the head of its creator. After their spells are cast, the witches settle down to a ceremony that is similar to the holy communion held for the Egyptian god Osiris. However, instead of a round disk wafer that was an Egyptian symbol of the sun, some modern day witches make cakes in the shape of a five pointed star called the Pentagram. This to the occultist is one of the most powerful weapons in magic. The Pentagram symbolism is based on that of the number five which according to Astrology, stands for the living world of nature, such as Air, Fire, Water, Earth, and the Spirit of their god and pagan goddess who used the elements, according to witchcraft, to create the Universe. The number five in Astrology also represents the four directions and the center, for the five senses (smell, taste, sight, touch and hearing). Witchcraft, like all forms of Spiritualism, teaches man is a microcosm (miniature universe); man is the ruler of nature, and as the miniature image, the potential master of all things. So, the Pentagram (five pointed star) with one of its points projecting upwards is imagined in Witchcraft as a man's body with arms and legs extended, and is a symbol of the dominance of the divine spirit. It is used as a magical weapon for invoking good influences and keeps the evil spirits at bay, say those who practice white magic. Many of our youth reject the religion of the Bible or the Holy Qu'ran, and now worship the created things instead of the Creator through this new modern form of Witchcraft because Witchcraft today is attractive and has taken on a brighter look. Instead of the satanic evil looking people of the Middle Ages, the witches of today have been transformed by their illuminati Masters in the past century in so called good people, who fight against the evil forces of this world, such as "Wonder Woman," with her sign of white magic (the Pentagram) displayed on her forehead. But to distinguish the bad witches from the good witches, say the occultists, a reversed Pentagram with two points upward is a symbol of Black Magic, and of those who do worship the Devil. The two points of the star pointed upwards suggests the horns of the Devil symbolized as a goat attacking the Heavens with his horns. This five pointed star which has two points upward was, and is today, worn as an amulet by open Devil worshippers, and by many modern day magicians and wizards. Originally this evil sign was worn to show Satan that they had chosen him as their leader. Is this not chilling and frightening to know that multitudes of women of high fashion may not be aware that when they wear that little gold chain around their neck, with this five pointed star with two points upward, they are showing they have chosen the Devil's side, and seek his protection? Is it not chilling to know that they who call themselves Freemasons, and the ladies who call themselves "The Order of the Eastern Star" display this evil sign in their lodges?

There are many sects of modern witchcraft today, and many variations found in their rituals. In some covens the cakes they use in their communion are made into the shape of a crescent, which is the symbol of the Moon-goddess. These cakes, by the way, are made of salt, honey, wine, meal, oil and, in some covens, blood and male semen. They are eaten in honour of the Egyptian god Horus or whatever god the coven exalts. In ancient witchcraft the cakes were round with a cross drawn on them that represented the first letter of the name of the ancient dead and risen pagan messiah "Tammuz," who was the incarnation of the Sun-god and the son of the Moon-goddess (the Queen of Heaven). Even the Israelites, when they turned from the worship of our Creator made these same cakes that honoured the pagan queen of Heaven and her god-child Tammuz. In Jeremiah 7:18 our Lord condemned this ancient ritual in the worship of these cosmic gods. "The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger." Today, the Roman Catholic Church dedicates these same cakes to the Virgin Mary whom they ironically call the Queen of Heaven. These cakes are called by Roman Catholic "Hot Cross Buns". The name of this pagan goddess the Israelites worshipped and dedicated these cakes to is found in Judges 2:13. Her name to the Israelites was Ashtaroth. To the early Romans her name was Venus, the goddess of love. Witchcraft is just another word for Spiritualism, but the modern word used to cover-up the evil name of Witchcraft so it may be taught in Colleges is "Parapsychology." Now, to understand this other abomination found in both ancient and modern Witchcraft, the reader must understand that it was the Sun-god and Moon-goddess who created the whole Universe, according to these witches. To honour this pagan belief, a ritual called "The Great Rite" is strictly observed among these so-called "good" witches. Since the High Priest in a coven is believed to be the incarnation of Pan, the Sun-god, and the High Priestess is the incarnation of the Queen of Heaven, the Moon-goddess, these two mimic the myth in the creation of the Universe by the Sun-god and the Moon-goddess when they perform "The Great Rite" ritual, which is engaging in sacred prostitution. This is justified by the witches on the grounds of fertility, because after all, they say, Wicca is a fertility cult. To try to understand any of this perversion so you can teach others how to avoid it, the reader simply needs to realize that this abominable practice of sacred prostitution found today in modern witchcraft is nothing new. All ancient heathen worship of the Sun-gods had within its philosophies Phallicism. What is Phallicism? It is the veneration and worship of male and female sex organs. The union of male and female organs is symbolized in witchcraft as a point within a circle, and also as two triangles uniting to make a "Hexagram" better known today as the "Star of David." The truth is, King David of Israel never carried this emblem that is now the symbol of Israel. This emblem was adopted from witchcraft by some Jewish priests who had explored deep into the Babylonian religion during their captivity in Babylon. From here sprang witchcraft in another garb called the Cabala. The Mexican Indian, centuries before seeing a white man, had the Hexagram as the symbol of their phallic worship of the cosmic gods. Often the Hexagram is displayed as a symbol of the 7 planets that serpentine their way through the Zodiac. The Sun in the center is displayed in a circle with a point in its center.

Usually before these modern day witches partake of the cake and wine to honour Horus or Pan, as we examined in part one of this chapter, a ceremony for any new initiates into their coven is performed. This involved blinding, binding, and whipping new members for the purpose of purification. However, this ceremony is not as brutal as in medieval covens; they are good witches, so the whip they use now is said to be of embroidered silk. However, those present with sadomasochistic tendencies might be satisfied. The following five-fold kiss bestowed by the High Priest or Priestess on the feet, knees, genitals, breasts and lips of a new member speaks for itself. In Man, Myth and Magic, An Illustrated Encyclopedia of the Supernatural, Vol. 14, p. 1867, Cavendish, we read the following: "Only three pieces of magic can be performed at each meeting, they claim, and the spells should always be for the good; an evil spell rebounds threefold upon the head of its creator. Sometimes the spell is cast telepathically: for instance, in the case of a spell cast to cure a person of a bad leg the witches would stand silently and 'will' the leg to heal. On other occasions they might use a doll, or 'fith-fath,' to represent the sick person - bathe the doll's leg with a healing potion, or the high priestess might 'bind' the spell, wrapping her girdle around the blade of her athame in a special way." How popular has this modern witchcraft become? In the September 12th, 1982 Arkansas Democrat "Family Weekly," Georgia Frontiere appeared on the front page. Georgia inherited the Los Angeles Rams when her late (sixth) husband drowned in the riptides off the Florida coast in April 1979. He was 72. But what we really are interested in bringing to your attention is her openness about being able, says she, to talk to her dead husband's spirit, and how she dabbles in the occult. On page 11 of the Sept. 12 issue we read the following: "Georgia gives Nolan Cromwell on unasked for raise ... and Georgia, who dabbles in the occult (she says she's talked to Carroll's spirit), mysteriously waves a hand at half-time over Haden's injured leg, which is believed to be broken. 'I thought for sure she was nuts,' Haden says. 'Then, incredibly, after the doctors told me they were sure it was broken, the X-rays were negative.' " Why are more and more people coming out publicly and admitting to be connected with Spiritualism? About 25 years ago they would be afraid to make such statements for fear of public ridicule and harm. However, most Christians never heard of the Fraudulent Mediums Act of 1951 which only applies to those who obtain money from the public under the pretext of possessing supernatural power. This allows those who really can perform these lying wonders to practice their arts legally in the open for the first time in hundreds of years [23]. Most witches, because they believe in the immortality of the soul, teach that every human being has a spirit guide that they can contact for advice. This is also where the Psychics claim their advice and information comes from. These departed souls, they say, are the spirits of loved ones, ancient Indian Chiefs, or Egyptian, Hindu, or Chinese Sages, or Wise Men from past ages. These spirits, they say, have much wisdom because the spirit guides have experienced many reincarnations and have mastered the lessons they were meant to learn while on earth, and now have the power to benefit the living. As we already read from Scriptures, the doctrine of "Life After Death," or the belief in an immortal soul is a lie from the Devil. But the miracles and spells that some witches have are very real. They may not know it, but they receive their power from Devils who, after they use them to deceive other humans, will destroy the very ones they have used. However, a person who has chosen the teachings of Jesus Christ or Mohammed (PBUH), and made His Spirit a guide through a knowledge of the Holy books, knows that these spirit guides are not spirits of past Sages, but spirits of devils impersonating them.

Mr X

Asteroid 2012... (4/20/2007)

What is the risk that a hidden asteroid in a stealth-path will hit the earth of December 21, 2012? India Daily Technology Team Jan. 3, 2007 <http://www.indiadaily.com/editorial/15008.asp>

There are thousands of asteroids in hidden orbits that scientists cannot observe. Many of them were seen after they kissed the earth and went by in galactic scale. The known danger from the asteroid is in 2028. But some scientists are watching the possibilities that a hidden asteroid in a stealth-path can destroy human civilization by hitting the earth on December 21, 2012. This is the same date when Mayans predicted the end of the world.

The probability that a '50-300 Meter (150-1000 Feet) Diameter Asteroid Hitting the Earth' is 1 in 250. It can actually happen any time. The estimated fatalities would be 5000. The probability that a '1.5 Kilometer (1 Mile) Diameter Asteroid Hitting the Earth' is 2 in 1 million with estimated fatalities of 1.5 billion. A similar catastrophe by a '10 Kilometer (6 Mile) Diameter, or greater, Asteroid Hitting the Earth' has a probability of 1 in 100 million with 10 Billion fatalities.

Some scientists are concerned that Mayans in their time could see some hidden asteroid paths that are stealth today. The alignment of Sun, Moon and the earth on December 21, 2012 is significant because gravitational release of hidden asteroids can take place. The probabilities shown above are in normal circumstances.

However, the probabilities go thirty times higher during galactic alignments. This means that if there is a loose asteroid in a stealth path, it can deviate from its path and come towards the earth. The biggest problem with the terrestrial science is that we cannot see these stealth asteroids till they hit us or go past us.

Beyond third degree (4/23/2007)

Letters and figures thoughts of a Knight Templar Hanford Commandery No. 46 Grand Commandery of Knights Templar-California

Beyond Third Degree By Rudy Olano 19Sep06

Albert Mackey in his An Encyclopedia of Freemasonry wrote, "The word degree, in its primitive meaning, signifies a step. The degrees of Freemasonry are then the steps by which the candidate ascends from a lower to a higher condition of knowledge." It was not about rank or privilege; it signifies the level of illumination acquired. Scottish Rite used numerical numbers while York Rite does not. This variance however is not a license to judge that a holder of 32 degree is more knowledgeable than a Knight Templar. Both were basically same—Freemason with different diploma. Some are more inclined in political matters the other with spiritual priority. Apple and oranges.

Albert Mackey wrote in Lexicon of Freemasonry, "A what is commonly known as the Revival of 1717, there was but one degree... Desaguliers seeing the need of the three degrees to symbolically represent the three stages in masonry established the Fellow Craft in 1719 and the Master Mason Degree in 1723." During the formation of United Grand Lodges of England in 1813, a part of the compact of the union read, "Ancient Craft Masonry consists of three degrees and no more, namely, those of the Entered Apprentice, Fellowcraft and Master Mason including the Holy Royal Arch." In very well composed wordings, both Grand Lodges reached compromise which accepted both of their doctrines. Is it three or maybe more? If PM is an honorary degree reserved for those to held the office then why use the word "including" while specifically mention Holy Royal Arch? In order to really appreciate the lessons or workings in York or Scottish Rites, a Master Mason must have a good foundation in his grade school before advancing into college works. It is a fact that majority of Masons believes that being a Master Mason or 3rd Degree is enough and contented thus missing what knowledge and opportunities that awaits them in the so-called appendant bodies. In The Higher Degrees' Handbook by WB J.S.M. Ward, he concluded that "any man who has never gone beyond the Craft has still much to learn... Until he has taken them (Higher Degrees) he is in no position to form any kind of opinion, and after he has done so I feel sure that he will no longer speak slightly of some of the greatest mysteries of this or any Age." There is nothing wrong with staying content as Master Mason if that's what a brother desire. There is equally nothing wrong for those who want to take a step "to ascend from a lower to a higher condition of knowledge." What is not correct is to deny that nothing could be gained beyond the "Sublime Degree of Master Mason."

Albert Pike, in his Morals and Dogma wrote, "Blue Degrees are but the outer court or portico of the Temple. Part of the symbols is displayed there to the Initiate, but he is intentionally misled by false interpretation. It is not intended that he shall understand them: but it is intended that he shall imagine he understand them..." Those are words worthy of looking for what it really means --- words that deserves stepping above the level of self-righteousness and beyond third degree..

/RmO

Testimony of Jack Harris (5/10/2007)

Testimony of Jack Harris

Past Worshipful Master

In January of 1968, I was installed a Worshipful Master of a Masonic Lodge of about 600 men. As far as I was concerned, I had reached the pinnacle of life. As a Worshipful Master, I had total autocratic authority over the affairs of my Lodge with accountability only to the Grand Master of my State.

I was married, had two children, a great job, pay and benefits, as well as great health. In fact, I even believed that I had obtained a special knowledge of God, mankind, the Universe, Heaven, and how to live a successful and fruitful life. What more could a man ask for?

Very early during my term as Worshipful Master, while conducting a Masonic business meeting, one of the brothers present voiced his objections to the closing of Lodge prayers in the name of Jesus Christ. Masonic tradition in Maryland had been to close the prayers by saying:

May every moral and social virtue cement us, Amen, So Mote it Be

In all my years as a Mason, I had never heard one objection to the name of Jesus being used by our Chaplain to close his prayers. I assured the Masonic brother who objected that I would take up the matter with the Grand Master.

Several days later, I met with the Grand Master and explained the problem with the prayers, as well as other concerns. The Grand Master informed me that Freemasonry accepts for membership men of every faith or religion, so long as the prospective member believes in a Supreme Being (whomever he may be) and in the resurrection of the body to a future life (however and through whomever that was accomplished.) This was a great shock to me. I had not realized that those who were members of anti-Christian religions could become Masons.

The Grand Master informed me that one of my duties as a Worshipful Master of my Lodge was not to offend any brethren who were not Christians, even if this meant I had to refrain from using the name of Jesus Christ in my prayers. He advised me that as Grand Master he had the authority to disband my Lodge and remove its Charter as a Lodge, if I persisted in using the name of Jesus with members present who objected.

In March of 1973, The Grand Lodge of Maryland Committee on Masonic Education approved the following statement regarding prayers in a Masonic lodge:

All prayers in a Masonic Lodge should be directed to the one Deity to whom all Masons refer as The Grand Architect of the Universe. We address Him as our Heavenly Father, Eternal God, Almighty, or Everlasting God. We should close our prayers with an expression such as, 'In Thy most holy and precious name we pray...' , using no additional words which could be in conflict with the religious beliefs of other Masons present at the meeting. The brother who offers up the prayer does so for all members and visitors present, rather than for just himself. (Maryland Mason Magazine, March 1973).

Needless to say, my faith and trust in the teachings of Masonry were shaken. After all, my pastor and the deacons of my church were all Masons. They believed in the Jesus of the Bible, didn't they?

In the center of every Blue Lodge is an altar. Resting on top of the altar is what many Masons refer to as the Great Light of Masonry, the Bible. I later discovered that Freemasonry declares the sacred book of any and all religions in the world equivalent to the Bible. Any "sacred book" may rest on the altar in a Masonic Lodge, to oblige a Mason who does not accept the Bible as God's word.

I now had an irresistible force meeting an immovable object, namely the God of the Universe, Jesus Christ, and the god of Freemasonry, Satan. How could both belief systems be regarded as truth? I believed that the primary purpose of every Masonic degree was to impart spiritual light, wisdom, truth, and knowledge regarding life, death, the hereafter, and our interpersonal relationships with others.

After reading and studying various Masonic authors, I realized that Freemasonry considers Jesus Christ as no greater than Moses, Elijah, Mohammed, or Buddha.

I began to converse with pastors, read the Bible, pray, and debate with other Masons, including the Grand Lodge of the State of Maryland, about who Jesus Christ is, and where absolute truth is to be found. This went on for two years, until one night I decided to watch a Billy Graham crusade on TV. Reverend Graham was preaching on Hebrews 4:12:

'For the Word of God is quick and powerful and sharper than any two edge sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart'.

He also discussed Romans, 3:10-18, which describes the total depravity of mankind, before coming to Jesus Christ for salvation.

For the first time in my life I saw myself as God saw me, a sinner without hope and on my way to Hell. That night I got on my knees and asked Jesus Christ to forgive me for my sins, come into my life, save me, and be the Lord of my life. At that moment, I accepted the God of the Universe, Jesus Christ, and rejected the god of Freemasonry. The irresistible force of God's Holy Spirit pushed aside the immovable object of the lies of Masonry, as only He could do.

At last I was free, as God's word states in John 8:32:

Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.

I was set free by the One who is The Truth, Jesus Christ. The shackles of Masonic lies were broken. God's word reveals that as a born-again Christian, I am clothed with His righteousness, as stated in Ephesians 6:14, having shed the soiled garments of sin. (Romans 3:10-18) Thereby, by the grace of God, through the shed blood of Jesus Christ, I went from rags to riches that night.

I obeyed God's word in 2 Corinthians 6:14:

Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness, and what communion hath light with darkness?

I renounced all of the branches of Freemasonry that I was a member of, including the Blue Lodge, Royal Arch Chapter, Knights Templar, and the Shrine (A.A.O.N.M.S.). They all teach doctrines contrary to God's word, and lead men to Hell, instead of to Heaven.

If you are a Mason, spend much time in God's word, especially the books of John and Colossians, comparing them to the teachings of the Lodge. My prayer for you is that our Savior will open your spiritual eyes to the only absolute truth found in the Person of Jesus Christ, and that you will reject the god of Freemasonry, Satan.

Jack Harris may be reached at the following address:

Jack Harris Box 20214 Towson MD 21284

Gli Illuminati (5/10/2007)

Metti una sera a cena, se l'intento è diplomatico, se ci sono in ballo i destini di un film, se ci si mette di traverso nientemeno che il Vaticano. Una cena organizzata nei minimi dettagli, saltata in aria perché si era sparsa voce, luogo, giorno e ora del convegno segretissimo. Solo l'idea di questo incontro è degna di un libro fantastico, appunto del genere Dan Brown, neanche a dirlo, uno dei convitati, anzi, l'ospite d'onore. Già, perché questa cena che si sarebbe dovuta svolgere domani sera a piazza di Spagna, 35, sede dell'Accademia degli Illuminati, era stata parto della volontà del professor Giuliano di Bernardo, già Gran Maestro della Massoneria fino al 2000 e oggi alla guida, appunto dell'Accademia degli Illuminati. Obiettivo, cercare di far digerire al Vaticano, assieme al pesce crudo, anche il possibile impatto deflagrante del nuovo film tratto da Dan Brown, Angeli e Demoni che diventerà un film girato dallo stesso regista del Codice da Vinci, Ron Howard, (anche lui tra gli intimi della cena) soprattutto a Roma, dunque la città giusta per un riavvicinamento generale. [...] La cena si svolgerà in maggio, segreti luogo e data, con doppi, anzi, tripli obiettivi: «Una semplice riunione di interessati - dice Bassi - per avvicinare il mondo religioso a queste problematiche senza che deflagrino come è successo con il Codice da Vinci. Parlando insieme i nodi possono sciogliersi e si possono capire meglio i sentimenti che hanno mosso l'autore. Inoltre cerchiamo di far conoscere meglio gli Illuminati che stanno prendendo piede in Italia in modo sempre più massiccio. In America sono già fortissimi, operano nei gangli del potere. A ottobre presenteremo l'organizzazione a Taormina con una grande manifestazione». Ne fanno parte solo uomini? «Assolutamente no dicono addirittura che Hillary Clinton sia un'illuminata». [...] Anche il professor Di Bernardo si rattrista per aver dovuto far saltare la cena, chissà quanto lavoro ci vorrà per radunare ancora tutti questi bei nomi: «Essendomi ritirato dalla Massoneria credo fortemente negli Illuminati, un ordine che ogni tanto si manifesta nella storia. E aspetto il nuovo film tratto da Dan Brown e che appunto parla degli Illuminati». Un consesso di intellettuali e di economisti, tra gli Illuminati chi c'è? «Un nome per tutti? Il filosofo Vittorio Mathieu. Il mio ruolo era di fare da diplomatico, di dare libero sfogo all'immaginario riconducendolo in ambiti storici». Ambizioso progetto che certamente vedrà presto la luce.

Fonte: laStampa.it

The Papal Orders (5/10/2007)

THE PAPAL ORDERS

ORDERS AWARDED BY THE HOLY SEE OR FOUNDED BY PAPAL BULL

The Papal Orders are awarded in the name of the Supreme Pontiff and are given both as awards of His Holiness as Head of the Roman Catholic Apostolic Church and also as Sovereign of the Vatican City State. Membership at one time was conferred by Papal Bull, or by Apostolic Letter, signed by the Pope himself, but since the reforms made in the structure of these Orders at the beginning of the 20th century, the diplomas have been signed by the Cardinal Secretary of State. Since the 29 June 1991 this post has been filled by His Eminence Angelo, Cardinal Sodano. The categories below may be considered to embrace all the legitimate Roman Catholic Orders of Knighthood. See a history of the evolution of these Orders.

The Papal and Catholic Orders may be divided into several categories.

(1) Those Orders awarded directly by the Supreme Pontiff as head of the Catholic Church and the Vatican City State. These are generally called the Papal Orders. The highest, and most infrequently awarded, is the Supreme Order of Christ; the second is the equally rarely given Order of the Golden Spur, the third is the Order of Pius IX (Pian Order or Ordine Piano), the fourth is the Order of Saint Gregory the Great, and the fourth is the Order of Saint Sylvester Pope and Martyr. Awards of the Orders of Christ and the Golden Spur are made at the express wish of His Holiness the Pope, in consultation with the Cardinal Secretary of State. Awards of the Ordine Piano are made either to Heads of State and senior members of their household at the time of official visits to the Holy See, to senior members of the Diplomatic Missions accredited to the Holy See and, exceptionally, to those who have particularly served the Holy Father personally or the Holy See, at the discretion of the Cardinal Secretary of State. Awards of the latter two Orders are generally made on the recommendation of Diocesan Bishops, or of Apostolic Nuncios. There are National Associations of Papal Knights in France, Great Britain and the United States, as well as Diocesan Associations such as those in Milan and Los Angeles.

(2) Those Orders of Chivalry directly under Papal protection. These are today the Sovereign Military Hospitaller Order of Malta, and the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulcher. These Orders are under the protection of His Holiness as Supreme Pontiff and are not considered to be awards of the Vatican State. Indeed, the Sovereign Military Order of Malta is a Sovereign independent entity in International Law which enjoys mutual diplomatic relations with sixty-seven Sovereign States, in addition to being an Observer Member of the United Nations. The Order was founded in the late 11th century but became a Religious Military Order by a Bull of Pope Paschal II of 1113. The Grand Master, presently His Most Eminent Highness Fra' Andrew Bertie, is elected by the professed, religious members of the Order, and serves for life, or until his abdication (only two Grand Masters in history have ever abdicated). Elections of the Grand Master must be approved by the Supreme Pontiff as the religious superior of the Order, who also appoints a Cardinal patron and a Prelate of the Order.

The Grand Master of the Order of the Order of the Holy Sepulcher, however, is appointed directly by the Pope and serves during his pleasure or until such time as he may wish to lay down this office. The Patriarch of Jerusalem is, ex officio, Grand Prior of the Order, while the lay head is the Governor-General (presently Ambassador Count Ludovico Carducci Artensio). The Knights of the Holy Sepulcher were reorganized as an Order of Knighthood in 1847; the present Cardinal Grand Master is His Eminence Carlo Cardinal Furno, appointed in January 1996.

(3) Those Orders which were founded by Papal Bull, whose membership is limited exclusively to Roman Catholics, which require obligations of service according to Catholic teaching and which generally have a governing body which administers the Order on behalf of the Grand Master. The first of these, the Sacred Military Constantinian Order of Saint George, is in the unique position of having had Cardinal Protectors appointed directly by the Holy See until the "temporary suspension" of this post in 1924 (as of yet not reinstated). Its Grand Magistry is hereditary by virtue of the Apostolic Letter Sincerae Fidei of 1699 and the Bull Militantis Ecclesiae, which invested it in the person of Francesco Farnese, Duke of Parma, and his heirs. The present Grand Master, XIth in succession from Francesco Farnese, is HRH the Infante of Spain Don Carlos de Borbón-Dos Sicilias y Borbón-Parma, Duke of Calabria, who succeeded in 1964. There is a Grand Prior, presently an Archbishop of the Roman Catholic Church (presently the Most Reverend Monsignor Bruno B. Heim).

The four Spanish Military Orders of Santiago, Calatrava, Alcántara and Montesa have a Prior of the Order who, as Bishop of Ciudad Real, is nominated by the Holy See (and whose appointment is listed in the Anuario Pontificio). The hereditary Perpetual Administrator on Behalf of the Holy See (and Grand Master) of the four Orders since 1975 has been HM King Juan Carlos I of Spain; the President of the Council is HRH the Infante of Spain Don Carlos, Duke of Calabria.

The Sacred Military Order of Saint Stephen (of Tuscany) is a dynastic Order of the House of Habsburg-Lorraine-Tuscany whose statutes have been recently reformed, reaffirming its Catholicity and the annual ceremonies are now once again held in the ancient Priory Church in Pisa. The Order was founded in 1561 and it was accorded its status as an Order under Papal protection by the Bull His, quae pro Religionis propagatione of 1562. The hereditary Grand Magistry is invested in the person of the Head of the House of Habsburg-Tuscany, presently HIRH Archduke Sigismund of Austria, who succeeded in 1994.

The Royal Order of Saint George for the Defense of the Immaculate Conception, a dynastic Order of the Royal House of Bavaria, is likewise still maintained as an exclusively Roman Catholic military Order but is exclusively limited to male Bavarians of the ancient nobility. It was founded in 1726 and confirmed by Papal Bull of 1728. The Grand Magistry is hereditary in the Royal House of Bavaria and is presently held by HRH Duke Franz of Bavaria, who succeeded his father in 1996.

(4) Those Orders which were founded or confirmed by Papal Bulls but which are Collar Orders given in one grade (that of Knight). In order of seniority by date of foundation these are (a) the Supreme Order of the Annunciation (Savoy-Italy), of which the hereditary Grand Master is HRH Crown Prince Vittorio Emanuele, Duke of Savoy, who succeeded in 1983.

(b) the Order of the Golden Fleece, of which the hereditary Sovereign is HM King Juan Carlos I of Spain, who succeeded in 1977.

(c) the Order of the Holy Spirit (France, dormant) (d) the Order of Saint Michel (France, dormant), of which the succession to the Sovereignty is invested in the person of the Head of the Royal House of France.

(d) the Illustrious Royal Order of Saint Januarius, of which the hereditary Grand Master is HRH Infante of Spain Don Carlos, Duke of Calabria, who succeeded in 1964.

(5) The Teutonic Order which, although founded as Religious Military Order of Chivalry, since 1928 has been a purely Religious Order of Priests, Brothers and Sisters, with a category of twelve honorary knights and an unlimited number of associates, known as Marianer. Its headquarters are in Vienna.

From <http://www.chivalricorders.org/vatican/main2.htm>

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 121-130

The dimensions of Gladio (5/10/2007)

THE DIMENSIONS OF GLADIO

The Italian people had received many signs over the years that the centrist parties (the Christian Democrats and the Socialists) were promoted and to some degree controlled by Washington. But it was only when the Italian government officially admitted it in 1990 that the ruling coalition began to crumble, ready to be picked apart two years later by corruption scandals. The startling story of Gladio, which continues to make headlines in Europe, has barely been mentioned in the U.S., where many of its darkest chapters remain secret.

The program in Italy was aimed at the threat that communists might mount an insurrection or gain a share of political power through the ballot box. An insurrection was unlikely, however, since nearly all posts in the bureaucracy were filled after the war by solidly anticommunist veterans of Mussolini's forces, with Allied approval.

During the war, most Americans considered themselves heroes who freed Western Europe from its brutal Nazi and fascist rulers. It wasn't long after the American landings on Italian soil, however, that the white hats got sullied. While some OSS agents worked with antifascists to help lay the basis for Italian democracy, many of those higher up the ladder conspired with backers of Mussolini or the former king to impede it. 3

Although many European intelligence agencies have admitted participating, the CIA has denied any connection with Gladio. But enough information has emerged to show that the CIA sponsored and financed a large portion of the terrorism and disruption that plagued Italy for nearly half a century. Among other things, the U.S. government:

Forged secret alliances with the Mafia and right-wing elements of the Vatican to prevent the left from playing any role in government; Recruited Mussolini's ex-police into paramilitary bands secretly financed and trained by the CIA, ostensibly to fight Soviets, but really to conduct terror attacks blamed on the left; Employed the gamut of psychological warfare tactics, including paying millions in slush funds to political parties, journalists, and other influential contacts to tilt parliamentary elections against the left; Created a secret service and a parallel government structure linked to the CIA whose "assets" attempted several times to overthrow the elected government; and Targeted Prime Minister Aldo Moro, who was later kidnapped and murdered under mysterious circumstances after offering to bring communists into the Cabinet. THE SECRET NATO COVER

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) provided international cover for Washington's postwar operations in Italy. A secret clause in the initial NATO agreement in 1949 required that before a nation could join, it must have already established a national security authority to fight communism through clandestine citizen cadres. This "Stay Behind" clause grew out of a secret committee set up at U.S. insistence in the Atlantic Pact, the forerunner of NATO. Each NATO member was also required to send delegates to semiannual meetings on the subject. 4

U.S. authority for such moves flowed in a steady stream of presidential directives transmitted through the National Security Council (NSC). In December 1950, the council gave the armed forces carte blanche to use "appropriate" military force even if the communists merely "gain participation" in government by legal means or "threaten to achieve control...or the government ceases to evidence a determination to oppose communist internal or external threats." 5

The CIA helped the Italian police set up secret squadrons staffed in many cases with veterans of Mussolini's secret police. 6 The squadrons were trained for intensive espionage and counter-espionage, against communists and other perceived enemies of the status quo. The plan to use "exceptional means" was patterned after the highly militarized French intelligence service, the Suret Nationale, which was reportedly so tough on communists that many fled to other countries. 7

The newly organized intelligence agency, SIFAR, began operations in September 1949, under the supervision of an undercover American, Carmel Offie, nicknamed "godfather" by the Italians. 8 Interior Minister Mario Scelba headed the operation. At the same time, Scelba was directing a brutal repression, murdering hundreds of workers and peasants who sought improved conditions after the war. 9

OPERATION DEMAGNETIZE

With the Italian secret service under control, the Americans then expanded it under the name Operation Demagnetize and tied it to an existing network of cadre in northern Italy. In 1951, the Italian secret service formally agreed to set up a clandestine organization within the military to coordinate with the northern cadres. In 1952, SIFAR received secret orders from Washington to adopt "a series of political, paramilitary and psychological operations destined to diminish the power of the Italian Communist Party, its material resources, and its influence on government. This priority objective must be attained by all means." 10

Operation Demagnetize marked the institutional hardening of Gladio. A State Department historian characterized it as the "strategy of stabilization,"¹¹ although it could be more accurately described as one of destabilization. From the start, the offensive was secretly directed and funded by the U.S. government. In 1956, the arrangement was formalized in a written agreement, using the name "Gladio" for the first time. According to 1956 documents uncovered in Italy in 1990, Gladio was divided into independent cells coordinated from a CIA camp in Sardinia. These "special forces" included 40 main groups. Ten specialized in sabotage, six each in espionage, propaganda, evasion and escape tactics, and 12 in guerrilla activities. Another division handled the training of agents and commandos. These "special forces" had access to underground arms caches, which included hand guns, grenades, high-tech explosives, daggers, 60-millimeter mortars, 57-millimeter machine guns and precision rifles.¹²

In 1956, Gen. Giovanni De Lorenzo was named to head SIFAR on the recommendation of U.S. Ambassador Claire Boothe Luce, the avidly anticommunist wife of the publisher of Time magazine.¹³ A key player in Gladio was now in place. In 1962, the CIA helped place De Lorenzo at the head of the national police (carabinieri), while he retained effective control of the secret service.

The general brought with him 17 lieutenants to begin purging insufficiently right-wing officers. It was the first step to a right-wing coup attempt, with U.S. military attaché Vernon Walters in the vanguard. In a memo to De Lorenzo the same year, Walters suggested types of intervention aimed at provoking a national crisis, including blocking a center-left coalition, creating schisms among the socialists, and funding forces favorable to the status quo.¹⁴

Meanwhile, according to CIA files found in Rome in 1984, CIA station chief William Harvey began to recruit "action teams" based on a list of 2,000 men capable of throwing bombs, conducting attacks, and accompanying these actions with indispensable propaganda.¹⁵ These teams had a chance to practice their skills in 1963 as part of an anti-union offensive. U.S.-trained gladiators dressed as police and civilians attacked construction workers peacefully demonstrating in Rome, leaving some 200 wounded and a large section of the city in shambles. The link to Gladio was made in later testimony by a former general in the secret service.¹⁶

SIFAR Lt. Col. Renzo Rocca was also training a civil militia composed of ex-soldiers, parachutists and members of Junio Valerio "Black Prince" Borghese's paramilitary organization, Decima MAS (Tenth Torpedo Boat Squadron), for the pending coup.¹⁷ President Antonio Segni reportedly knew of the plan, which was to conclude with the assassination of Prime Minister Aldo Moro, under fire for not being tough enough with the communists.¹⁸

The long-planned takeover, known later as Plan Solo, fizzled in March 1964, when the key carabinieri involved remained in their barracks. As a subsequent inquiry moved to question Rocca about the coup attempt, he apparently killed himself, possibly to fulfill Gladio's oath of silence. After officials determined that state secrets were involved, three hamstrung inquiries failed to determine the guilty parties.¹⁹

THE STRATEGY OF TENSION

Despite the failure of Plan Solo, the CIA and the Italian right had largely succeeded in creating the clandestine structures envisioned in Operation Demagnetize. Now the plotters turned their attention to a renewed offensive against the left.

To win intellectual support, the secret services set up a conference in Rome at the luxurious Parco dei Principi hotel in May 1965, for a "study" of "revolutionary war." The choice of words was inadvertently revealing, since the conveners and invited participants were planning a real revolution, not just warning of an imaginary communist takeover. The meeting was essentially a reunion of fascists, right-wing journalists, and military personnel. "The strategy of tension" that emerged was designed to disrupt normality with terror attacks in order to create chaos and provoke a frightened public into accepting still more authoritarian government. 20

Several "graduates" of this exercise had long records of anticommunist actions and would later be implicated in some of Italy's worst massacres. One was journalist and secret agent Guido Giannettini. Four years earlier, he had conducted a seminar at the U. S. Naval Academy on "The Techniques and Prospects of a Coup d'Etat in Europe." Another was notorious fascist Stefano Delle Chiaie, who had reportedly been recruited as a secret agent in 1960. He had organized his own armed band known as Avanguardia Nazionale (AN), whose members had begun training in terror tactics in preparation for Plan Solo. 21

General De Lorenzo, whose SIFAR had now become SID, soon enlisted these and other confidants in a new Gladio project. They planned to create a secret parallel force alongside sensitive government offices to neutralize subversive elements not yet "purified." Known as the Parallel SID, its tentacles reached into nearly every key institution of the Italian state. Gen. Vito Miceli, who later headed SID, said he set up the separate structure "at the request of the Americans and NATO." 22

FRATERNAL BONDS

Two ancient, mysterious, international fraternities kept the loosely-linked Gladio programs from flying apart. The Knights of Malta played a formative role after the war (see box), but the order of Freemasonry and its most notorious lodge in Italy, known as Propaganda Due (pronounced "doo-ay"), or P-2, was far more influential. In the late 1960s, its "Most Venerable Master" was Licio Gelli, a Knight of Malta who fought for Franco with Mussolini's Black Shirts. At the end of World War II, Gelli faced execution by Italian partisans for his Nazi collaboration, but escaped by joining the U.S. Army Counter Intelligence Corps. 23 In the 1950s, he was recruited by SIFAR.

After some years of self-imposed exile in Argentine fascist circles, 24 he saw his calling in Italy as a Mason. Quickly rising to its top post, he began fraternizing in 1969 with Gen. Alexander Haig, then assistant to Henry Kissinger, President Nixon's national security chief. Gelli became the main intermediary between the CIA and SID's De Lorenzo, also a Mason and Knight. Gelli's first order from the White House was reportedly to recruit 400 more top Italian and NATO officials. 25

To help ferret out dissidents, Gelli and De Lorenzo began compiling personal dossiers on thousands of people, including legislators and clerics. 26 Within a few years, scandal erupted when an inquiry found 157,000 such files in SID, all available to the Ministers of Defense and Interior. 27 Parliament ordered 34,000 files burned, but by then the CIA had obtained duplicates for its archives. 28

Provocateurs on the Right

In 1968, the Americans started formal commando training for the gladiators at the clandestine Sardinian "NATO" base. Within a few years, 4,000 graduates had been placed in strategic posts. At least 139 arms caches, including some at carabinieri barracks, were at their disposal. 29 To induce young men to join such a risky venture, the CIA paid high salaries and promised that if they were killed, their children would be educated at U.S. expense. 30

Tensions began to reach critical mass that same year. While dissidents took to the streets all over the world, in Italy, takeovers of universities and strikes for higher wages and pensions were overshadowed by a series of bloody political crimes. The number of terrorist acts reached 147 in 1968, rising to 398 the next year, and to an incredible peak of 2,498 in 1978 before tapering off, largely because of a new law encouraging informers (penitenti). 31 Until 1974, the indiscriminate bombers of the right constituted the main force behind political violence.

The first major explosion occurred in 1969 in Milan's Piazza Fontana; it killed 18 people and injured 90. In this and numerous other massacres, anarchists proved handy scapegoats for fascist provocateurs seeking to blame the left. Responding to a phone tip after the Milan massacre, police arrested 150 alleged anarchists and even put some on trial. But two years later, new evidence led to the indictment of several neofascists and SID officers. Three innocent anarchists were convicted, but later absolved, while those responsible for the attack emerged unpunished by Italian justice. 32

Conclusive Gladio links to political violence were found after a plane exploded in flight near Venice in November 1973. Venetian judge Carlo Mastelloni determined that the Argo-16 aircraft was used to shuttle trainees and munitions between the U.S. base in Sardinia and Gladio sites in northeast Italy.³³ The apogee of right-wing terror came in 1974 with two massacres. One, a bombing at an antifascist rally in Brescia, killed eight and injured 102. The other was an explosion on the Italicus train near Bologna, killing 12 and wounding 105. At this point, President Giovanni Leone, with little exaggeration, summed up the situation: "With 10,000 armed civilians running around, as usual, I'm president of shit." 34

At Brescia, the initial call to police also blamed anarchists, but the malefactor later turned out to be a secret agent in the Parallel SID. 35 A similar connection was also alleged in the Italicus case. Two fascists who were eventually convicted were members of a clandestine police group called the Black Dragons, according to the left-wing paper, Lotta Continua. 36 Their sentences were also overturned. Although in these and other cases, many leftists were arrested and tried, fascists or neofascists were often the culprits, in league with Gladio groups and the Italian secret services. Reflecting the degree to which these forces controlled the government through the Parallel SID, nearly all the rightists implicated in these atrocities were later freed.

By 1974, right-wing terror began to be answered by the armed left, which favored carefully targeted hit-and-run attacks over the right's indiscriminate bombings. For the next six years, leftist militants, especially the Red Brigades, responded with a vengeance, accounting for far more acts of political violence than the right. 37 For several years, Italy plunged into a virtual civil war.

PLOTTING COUPS D'ETAT

Meanwhile, groups of right-wingers were busy planning more takeovers of the elected government, with the active encouragement of U.S. officials. A seminal document was the 1970 132-page order on "stability operations" in "host" countries, published as Supplement B of the U.S. Army's Field Manual 30-31. Taking its cue from earlier NSC and CIA papers, the manual explained that if a country is not sufficiently anticommunist, "serious attention must be given to possible modifications of the structure." If that country does not react with adequate "vigor," the document continues, "groups acting under U.S. Army intelligence control should be used to launch violent or nonviolent actions according to the nature of the case." 38

With such incendiary suggestions and thousands of U.S.-trained guerrillas ready, the fascists again attempted to take over the government by force in 1970. This time, the instigator was the "Black Prince" Borghese. Fifty men under the command of Stefano Delle Chiaie seized the Interior Ministry in Rome after being let in at night by an aide to political police head Federico D'Amato. But the operation was aborted when Borghese received a mysterious phone call later attributed to General Vito Miceli, the military intelligence chief. The plotters were not arrested; instead, they left with 180 stolen machine guns. 39

News of the attack remained secret until an informer tipped the press three months later. By then, the culprits had escaped to Spain. Although the ringleaders were convicted in 1975, the verdict was overturned on appeal. All but one of the machine guns were returned earlier. 40

It was in this atmosphere that the U.S. decided to make another all-out effort to block the communists from gaining strength in the 1972 elections. According to the Pike Report, the CIA disbursed $10 million to 21 candidates, mostly Christian Democrats. 41 That amount did not include $800,000 that Ambassador Graham Martin, going around the CIA, obtained through Henry Kissinger at the White House for General Miceli. 42 Miceli would later face charges for the Borghese coup attempt but, fitting the pattern, he was cleared.

Police foiled another attempted coup that same year. They found hit lists and other documents exposing some 20 subversive groups forming the Parallel SID structure. Roberto Cavallaro, a fascist trade unionist, was implicated, as were highly placed generals, who said they got approval from NATO and U.S. officials. In later testimony, Cavallaro said the group was set up to restore order after any trouble arose. "When these troubles do not erupt [by themselves]," he said, "they are contrived by the far right." Gen. Miceli was arrested, but the courts eventually freed him, declaring that there had been no insurrection. 43

Still another right-wing attempt to overthrow the government was set for 1974, reportedly with the imprimatur of both the CIA and NATO. Its leader was Edgardo Sogno, one of Italy's most decorated resistance fighters, who had formed a Gladio-style group after the war. Sogno, who had gained many influential American friends while working at the Italian embassy in Washington during the 1960s, was later arrested, but he, too, was eventually cleared. 44

GLADIO UNRAVELS

A triple murder at Peteano near Venice in May 1972 turned out to be pivotal in exposing Gladio. The crime occurred when three carabinieri, in response to an anonymous phone call, went to check out a suspicious car. When one of them opened the hood, all three were blown to bits by a boobytrap bomb. 45 An anonymous call two days later implicated the Red Brigades, the most active of the left's revolutionary groups. The police immediately rounded up 200 alleged communists, thieves and pimps for questioning, but no charges were brought. Ten years later, a courageous Venetian magistrate, Felice Casson, reopened the long-dormant case only to learn that there had been no police investigation at the scene. Despite receiving a false analysis from a secret service bomb expert and confronting numerous obstructions and delays, the judge traced the explosives to a militant outfit called New Order and to one of its active members, Vincenzo Vinciguerra. He promptly confessed and was sentenced to life, the only right-wing bomber ever locked up. 46

Vinciguerra refused to implicate others, but described the coverup:

"The carabinieri, the Ministry of Interior, the Customs and Excise police, the civilian and military secret services all knew the truth behind the attack, that I was responsible and all this within 20 days. So they decided, for totally political reasons, to cover it up. 47"

As for his motive, the fascist true believer Vinciguerra said his misdeed was "an act of revolt against the manipulation" of neofascism since 1945 by the whole Gladio-based parallel structure. 48

Casson eventually found enough incriminating evidence to implicate the highest officials of the land. In what was the first such request to an Italian president, Casson demanded explanations from President Francesco Cossiga. But Casson didn't stop there; he also demanded that other officials come clean. In October 1990, under pressure from Casson, Prime Minister Giulio Andreotti ended 30 years of denials and described Gladio in detail. He added that all prime ministers had been aware of Gladio, though some later denied it. 49

Suddenly, Italians saw clues to many mysteries, including the unexplained death of Pope John Paul I in 1978. Author David Yallop lists Gelli as a suspect in that case, saying that he, "for all practical purposes, ran Italy at the time." 50

MEMENTO MORO

Perhaps the most shocking political crime of the 1970s was the kidnapping and murder of Prime Minister Aldo Moro and five of his aides in 1978. The abduction occurred as Moro was on his way to submit a plan to strengthen Italian political stability by bringing communists into the government.

Earlier versions of the plan had sent U.S. officials into a tizzy. Four years before his death, on a visit to the U.S. as foreign minister, Moro was reportedly read the riot act by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and later by an unnamed intelligence official. In testimony during the inquiry into his murder, Moro's widow summed up their ominous words: "You must abandon your policy of bringing all the political forces in your country into direct collaboration...or you will pay dearly for it." 51

Moro was so shaken by the threats, according to an aide, that he became ill the next day and cut short his U.S. visit, saying he was through with politics. 52 But U.S. pressure continued; Senator Henry Jackson (D-Wash.) issued a similar warning two years later in an interview in Italy. 53 Shortly before his kidnapping, Moro wrote an article replying to his U.S. critics, but decided not to publish it. 54

While being held captive for 55 days, Moro pleaded repeatedly with his fellow Christian Democrats to accept a ransom offer to exchange imprisoned Red Brigade members for his freedom. But they refused, to the delight of Allied officials who wanted the Italians to play hardball. In a letter found later, Moro predicted: "My death will fall like a curse on all Christian Democrats, and it will initiate a disastrous and unstoppable collapse of all the party apparatus." 55

During Moro's captivity, police unbelievably claimed to have questioned millions of people and searched thousands of dwellings. But the initial judge investigating the case, Luciano Infelisi, said he had no police at his disposal. "I ran the investigation with a single typist, without even a telephone in the room." He added that he received no useful information from the secret services during the time. 56 Other investigating magistrates suggested in 1985 that one reason for the inaction was that all the key officers involved were members of P-2 and were therefore acting at the behest of Gelli and the CIA. 57

Although the government eventually arrested and convicted several Red Brigade members, many in the press and parliament continue to ask whether SID arranged the kidnapping after receiving orders from higher up. Suspicions naturally turned toward the U.S., particularly Henry Kissinger, though he denied any role in the crime. In Gladio and the Mafia, Washington had the perfect apparatus for doing such a deed without leaving a trace.

PENETRATING THE RED BRIGADES

That the Red Brigades had been thoroughly infiltrated for years by both the CIA and the Italian secret services is no longer contested. The purpose of the operation was to encourage violence from extremist sectors of the left in order to discredit the left as a whole. The Red Brigades were a perfect foil. With unflinching radicalism, they considered the Italian Communist Party too moderate and Moro's opening too compromising.

The Red Brigades worked closely with the Hyperion Language School in Paris, with some members not realizing it had CIA ties. The school had been founded by three pseudo-revolutionary Italians, one of whom, Corrado Simioni, had worked for the CIA at Radio Free Europe. 58 Another, Duccio Berio, has admitted passing information about Italian leftist groups to SID. 59 Hyperion opened an office in Italy shortly before the kidnapping and closed it a few months later. An Italian police report said Hyperion may be "the most important CIA office in Europe." 60 Mario Moretti, one of those who handled arms deals and the Paris connection for the Red Brigades, managed to avoid arrest in the Moro case for three years even though he personally handled the kidnapping. 61

Venice magistrate Carlo Mastelloni concluded in 1984 that the Red Brigades had for years received arms from the PLO. 62 Mastelloni wrote that "the de facto secret service level accord between the USA and the PLO was considered relevant to the present investigation into the ... relationship between the Red Brigades organization and the PLO." 63 One Gladio scholar, Phillip Willan, concludes that "the arms deal between the PLO and the Red Brigades formed part of the secret accord between the PLO and the CIA." 64 His research indicates that the alleged deal between the CIA and the PLO occurred in 1976, a year after the U.S. promised Israel that it would have no political contacts with the PLO.

At the time of the Moro kidnapping, several leaders of the Brigades were in prison, having been turned in by a double agent after they kidnapped a judge. According to journalist Gianni Cipriani, one of those arrested was carrying phone numbers and personal notes leading to a high official of SID, who had boasted openly of having agents inside the Red Brigades. Other intriguing finds included the discovery in the Brigade offices of a printing press which had previously belonged to SID and ballistics tests showing more than half of the 92 bullets at the kidnapping scene were similar to those in Gladio stocks. 65

Several people have noted the unlikelihood of the Red Brigades pulling off such a smooth, military-style kidnapping in the center of Rome. Alberto Franceschini, a jailed member of the Brigades, said, "I never thought my comrades outside had the capacity to carry out a complex military operation. ... We remembered ourselves as an organization formed by inexperienced young lads." 66 Two days after the crime, one secret service officer told the press that the perpetrators appeared to have had special commando training. 67

When letters written by Moro were found later in a Red Brigades site in Milan, investigators hoped they would reveal key evidence. But Francesco Biscioni, who studied Moro's responses to his captors' questions, concluded that important sections had been excised when they were transcribed. Nonetheless, in one uncensored passage, Moro worried about how Andreotti's "smooth relationships with his colleagues of the CIA" would affect his fate. 68

The two people with the most knowledge of Moro's letters were murdered. The Carabinieri general in charge of anti-terrorism, Carlo Alberto Della Chiesa, was transferred to Sicily and killed Mafia-style in 1982, a few months after raising questions about the missing letters. 69 Maverick journalist Mino Pecorelli was assassinated on a Rome street in 1979 just a month after reporting that he had obtained a list of 56 fascists betrayed to the police by Gelli. 70 Thomas Buscetta, a Mafia informer under witness protection in the U.S., accused Andreotti of ordering both killings for fear of being exposed. 71 But an inquiry by his political peers last year found no reason to prosecute the prime minister.

Della Chiesa and Pecorelli were only two of numerous witnesses and potential witnesses murdered before they could be questioned by judges untainted by links to Gladio. 72 President Cossiga, the interior minister when Moro died, told BBC: "Aldo Moro's death still weighs heavily on the Christian Democrats as does the decision I came to, which turned my hair white, to practically sacrifice Moro to save the Republic." 73

THE BOLOGNA TRAIN STATION BOMBING

A huge explosion at the Bologna train station two years after Moro's death may have whitened the hair of many Italians - not just for the grisly toll of 85 killed and more than 200 injured - but for the official inaction that followed. Although the investigating magistrates suspected neofascists, they were unable to issue credible arrest warrants for more than two years because of false data from the secret services. By that time, all but one of the five chief suspects, two of whom had ties to SID, had skipped the country. 74 The T4 explosive found at the scene matched the Gladio material used in Brescia, Peteano and other bombings, according to expert testimony before Judge Mastelloni. 75

In the trial, the judges cited the "strategy of tension and its ties to foreign powers." They also found the secret military and civilian structure tied into neofascist groups, P-2, and the secret services. 76 In short, they found the CIA and Gladio.

But their efforts to exact justice for the Bologna bombing came to nothing when, in 1990, the court of appeals acquitted all the alleged "brains." P-2 head Gelli went free, as did two secret service chiefs whose perjury convictions were overturned. Four gladiators convicted of participating in an armed group also won appeals. That left Peteano as the only major bombing case with a conviction of the actual bomber, thanks to Vinciguerra's confession.

The sorry judicial record in these monstrous crimes showed how completely the Gladio network enveloped the army, police, secret services and the top courts. Thanks to P-2, with its 963 well-placed brothers, the collusion also extended into the top levels of media and business.

FRUITS OF GLADIO

By the early 1980s, however, court data revealed enough CIA fingerprints to provoke strong anti-U.S. sentiment. In 1981, the offices of three U.S. firms in Rome were bombed. In 1982, the Red Brigades kidnapped James L. Dozier, a U.S. general attached to NATO, calling him a "Yankee hangman."⁷⁸ He was freed after five weeks by police commandos, reportedly with the help of the CIA's Mafia connections.⁷⁹ But damage to the U.S. image has been remarkably constrained considering what the U.S. did to Italian society and government for 50 years in the name of anticommunism.

Moro's final prediction came true. Instead of bolstering the center parties, Gladio, helped by the corruption scandals, destroyed them. Instead of destroying the leftists, Gladio revelations helped them win control of major cities while retaining one-third of parliament. By the early 1980s, the Red Brigades were wiped out, but the major sources of right-wing terrorism - the Mafia and the neofascists - remained active.⁸⁰

The end results lead some to question the whole rationale of U.S. involvement in Italy, particularly in regard to the "communist menace." According to Phillip Willan, who wrote the definitive book on Italian terrorism:

"The U.S. has consistently refused to recognize the Italian Communist Party's increasingly wholehearted commitment to the principles of Western democracy and its validity as an alternative to the generally corrupt and incompetent political parties that have governed Italy since the war. Had it done so, much of the bloodshed resulting from the strategy of tension might have been avoided. ⁸¹" Willan goes on to ask "whether U. S. and Italian intelligence officials may have deliberately over-emphasized the communist threat in order to give themselves greater power and greater leeway for their own maneuvers." ⁸²

THE LESSONS OF GLADIO

As long as the U.S. public remains ignorant of this dark chapter in U.S. foreign relations, the agencies responsible for it will face little pressure to correct their ways. The end of the Cold War brought wholesale changes in other nations, but it changed little in Washington. In an ironic twist, confessed CIA mole Aldrich Ames has raised the basic question of whether the U.S. needs "tens of thousands of agents working around the world primarily in and against friendly countries." "The U.S.," he adds, "still awaits a real national debate on the means and ends - and costs - of our national security policies." ⁸³

The new government in Italy touts itself as a revolution of the disenfranchised, a clean break from the past. But the fascists are back and gaining ground. The anti-Mafia party has been rejected, and the big cartels have tightened their grip on the economy. With P-2 brother Berlusconi continuing to trade on the Cold War fear of communists, the Gladio perpetrators still unpunished, and "experts" in Washington raising fears of more terrorism, 84 it looks like business as usual in Italy.

Gladio's Roots

The policies that would evolve into Gladio began during World War II, when U.S. anticommunist phobias combined with geopolitical fears of a victorious USSR to create a holy war against the left. An "ends justify the means" atmosphere within the U.S. government and particularly within the Office of Strategic Services (OSS), fostered the creation of "Stay Behind" programs throughout Western Europe, ostensibly as the first line of defense in case the Soviets invaded.

But the main worry was internal. The Americans' great fear for Italy was that communist partisans fighting in the north would join with organized labor to bring the left to power. The OSS and its successors were apparently prepared to use any measures to forestall that event, including political assassination, terrorism, and alliances with organized crime. According to one OSS memo to Washington, the U.S. seemed to support a monarchist plan to use "fascist killers" to commit acts of terror and blame the left. 1 U.S. involvement in Italian politics began in 1942, when the OSS successfully pressured the Justice Department to release imprisoned mobster Charles "Lucky" Luciano. In return for early freedom, Luciano agreed to make contacts with Mafia pals to ease the way for the U.S. invasion of Sicily in 1943.2

The Luciano deal forged a long-standing alliance between the U.S. and the international Cosa Nostra. It also set a pattern of cooperation between U.S. intelligence agencies and international criminal organizations involved in drugs and arms traffic. The deal's godfather was Earl Brennan, OSS chief for Italy. Before the war, he had served in the U.S. Embassy, using his diplomatic cover to establish contacts with Mussolini's secret police and leading fascists. 3

The Catholic Church also cooperated. U.S. ties to the Vatican were already substantial; one of the strongest links was a secret fraternity, the Rome-based Sovereign Military Order of Malta, which dates back to the First Crusade. OSS head William "Wild Bill" Donovan was a member. So were other top U.S. officials, including Myron Taylor, U.S. envoy to the Vatican from 1939 to 1950, and William Casey, an OSS operative who rose to CIA chief under Reagan. OSS Italy chief Brennan had contacts as early as 1942 with Vatican Under-Secretary of State Gian Battista Montini, who became Pope Paul VI in 1963.4

Among the notable OSS operatives was James Jesus Angleton, the legendary, paranoid, future CIA counter-intelligence chief. Angleton built on family and business connections in Italy to lay the basis of Gladio by forming and financing a clandestine network of right-wing Italians who shared his fierce gung-ho style. 5 The paramilitary groups were filled with devout anticommunists ready to wage war on the left. He also helped notorious Nazi/fascist mass-murderers such as Junio Valerio "Black Prince"; Borghese elude justice at war's end. 6

U.S. officials were worried that the communists and socialists would join forces after the fighting. The communist takeover in Czechoslovakia in 1948 added to their fears. As a result, the U.S. cooked up a variety of plans to manipulate Italian politics. Angleton, who by late 1948 had been promoted to special assistant to CIA director Admiral Roscoe Hillenkoetter, used the Vatican's 20,000 Civic Committees to conduct psychological warfare against communist influences, particularly in the unions. 7

The newly formed National Security Council (NSC) also joined the fray: "If the Communist Party wins the [1948] election," the NSC advised, "such aggression should immediately be countered by steps to extend the strategic disposition of U.S. armed forces in Italy." 8 The Communists did not win that pivotal election (nor any subsequent ones). But that didn't stop the U.S. from trying to destroy the left. The total cost to American taxpayers for such activities (and various aid programs) was $4 billion from the end of the war to 1953. 9 And that was just the beginning of the U.S. assault on Italian sovereignty.

Conclusive evidence on building 7 (5/25/2007)

9/11: Major Italian TV network: conclusive evidence that WTC Building 7 was demolished with explosives

http://globalresearch.ca/index.php?context= viewArticle&code=MAZ20070503&articleId=5550

The Neo-con Cabal (5/31/2007)

From <http://www.waynemadsenreport.com/>

Neo-con cabal born in treason in the late 1970s. Lying, massive fraud, illegal weapons smuggling, forged documents . . . all sound like a description of the lead-up to the war in Iraq. However, this same situation existed in the late 1970s. Some of the same players who got this nation into the bloody quagmire of Iraq also criminally conspired to bring down the administration of President Jimmy Carter. President Carter's indignation about the neo-cons -- their blind support for Israel, their whittling away of our Constitution, our neo-con foreign policy -- is rooted in the treason they committed against the United States during his administration. There is no statute of limitations on treason and the neo-cons should face double barrel treason charges from incidents a generation apart.

The neo-con attacks on President Carter were planned in the office of the late Democratic Senator from Washington, Henry "Scoop" Jackson. Jackson was the Joe Lieberman of his day -- more concerned about representing the interests of a defense contractor, Boeing (Lieberman represents the interests of General Dynamics), and the expansionists and military-intelligence complex of Israel (as does Lieberman), than in doing what was best for America. Jackson's treason against the United States is honored today in Britain, where the Henry Jackson Society pushes the neo-con agenda in the British Parliament and media. Jackson, his chief assistant, Richard Perle, and foreign and defense policy aides Frank Gaffney, William Kristol, Douglas Feith, and Elliott Abrams, as well as unofficial Jackson adviser Paul Wolfowitz, did everything possible to derail U.S.-Soviet detente and arms limitation treaties, including the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty (SALT II).

Jackson and Perle helped initiate sanctions against the USSR, at the expense of American farmers, with the help of Ohio Democratic Rep. Charles Vanik (the Jackson-Vanik sanctions act). Jackson's Coalition for a Democratic Majority (CDM) was the "Democratic Leadership Council" of its time. CDM worked tirelessly to damage President Carter and among its ranks were, in addition to Jackson, Texas Democratic Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Oklahoma Senator David Boren, Georgia Senator Sam Nunn, Louisiana Senator J. Bennett Johnston, Ben Wattenberg, Irving Kristol, Max Kampelman, Richard Pipes, John Roche, Samuel Huntington, and James Woolsey. In 1976, the CDM helped form the Committee on the Present Danger, reactivated in 2004 by Lieberman, Arizona Republican Senator Jon Kyl, Laurie Myroie, Norman Podhoretz, Frank Gaffney, the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC), Boeing, the American Enterprise Institute, and the Heritage Foundation.

The treason committed by these neo-cons against the Carter administration centered on machinations in Rome (Rome was also at the center of the later conspiracy to drive the United States into war in Iraq). Arch neo-con and foreign policy adviser to Karl Rove, Michael Ledeen, served as the Rome correspondent for The New Republic from 1975 to 1977 and a journalist for the right-wing Milan newspaper Il Giornale. In Rome, Ledeen cultivated close ties with neo-fascist groups.

Jackson's and his staffs' first documented case of treason against the United States concerned the leak to Jackson and Perle in 1978 of a Top Secret CIA report on the SALT talks by CIA nuclear weapons analyst Daniel S. Sullivan. Sullivan, believing the Soviets deceived the U.S. in the SALT talks, took it upon himself to pass Top Secret information to Jackson and his band of neo-cons. However, rather than being prosecuted, Sullivan was permitted to resign due to "insubordination" and not for illegally passing classified information to unauthorized persons. Sullivan later joined the staff of Senator Bentsen and received another Top Secret clearance as a member of Bentsen's staff.

However, the leak of the Top Secret SALT CIA document to Jackson may not have been the only leak to have taken place. In February 2005, the Everett (WA) Herald reported that five federal agents from the Departments of Defense and Energy removed several documents from the archived papers of Jackson housed at the University of Washington's Suzzallo-Allen Library. The seized documents were re-classified by the government. The retention by Jackson and his staff of top secret documents is reminiscent of the Larry Franklin-AIPAC case, in which Franklin, opposed to U.S. policy on Iran, passed a number of classified CIA documents to AIPAC and the Israeli embassy's Mossad station in Washington.

Rather than being treated as the traitor he was, Jackson is today lauded by Democrats of various political stripes. His ideological descendants are at the core of the Republican pre-emptive strike foreign policy construct.

In 1976, two years after Secretary of State Henry Kissinger threatened then-Italian Foreign Minister Aldo Moro about forming a coalition with the Communists, Jackson, on a trip to Italy, issued a similar warning to Moro. In Phillip Willan's Puppetmasters, Moro's widow recounted Kissinger's warning, which was undoubtedly echoed by Jackson: "You must abandon your policy of bringing all the political forces in your country into direct collaboration . . . or you will pay dearly for it." Moro was kidnapped for 55 days by the so-called Red Brigades, who were later found to be in the service of Italian fascists, Italian intelligence, the P-2 Masonic Lodge, a parallel SID [Italian Defense Intelligence Service], and the CIA. Some of these same elements would be behind the infamous Niger yellowcake forgeries used by the neo-cons to prove the case for war against Iraq.

The same neo-con network would transform Mehmet Ali Agca, the would-be assassin of Pope John Paul II, from a right-wing member of the Turkish Gray Wolves to a Communist in the employ of the KGB and Bulgarian intelligence. The Judith Miller-like journalist in those days who spun the story about Agca's Soviet Bloc connections was Claire Sterling, whose disinformation was quickly picked up by The Reader's Digest, New York Times, NBC News, and other mainstream media outlets. Sterling's fellow disinformation journalist was Ledeen.

Agca told a fantasy story about his orders to kill the Pope coming from a Bulgarian "control officer" and that he had also been involved in a plot to kill Polish Solidarity leader Lech Walesa, Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, and Malta's Prime Minister Dom Mintoff. In fact, there was a plot to overthrow and possibly kill Mintoff, Allende-style, but it was being crafted by U.S. Navy intelligence in conjunction with the neo-fascist and renegade Italian intelligence elements in Rome. The U.S. Navy wanted to overthrow Mintoff to gain access to its former NATO base on the island nation off the Libyan coast. Bourguiba was not popular with the neo-cons because he allowed Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization to maintain its headquarters-in-exile in Tunis.

The Turkish Gray Wolves and the pan-Turkic National Action Party (NAP) made common cause with the neo-cons and their Israeli friends. The Wolves and the NAP considered the peoples of Soviet Central Asia to be "captive Turks." The Turkish right-wing nationalists foresaw a nuclear-armed Turkey extending from Thrace to the central Asian steppes. The anti-Soviet concordat between the Turkish right (and the Turkish intelligence agency MIT) and the neo-cons in America, Israel, and Italy would later serve as a basis for the political alliance between AIPAC and the American Turkish Council.

Ledeen operated a right-wing cell in Rome that included Francesco Pazienza, an Italian businessman linked to P-2, Italian SISMI military intelligence chief General Giuseppe Santovito, and the mafia; P-2 "Venerable Master" Licio Gelli; and Banco Ambrosiano chief Roberto Calvi (later murdered Masonic ritual-style in London on Blackfriar's Bridge). Ledeen provided a conduit between this group and Ronald Reagan's Secretary of State Alexander Haig.

In an attempt to embarrass President Carter during the 1980 presidential race, Santovito, Pazienza, and Ledeen conspired to entrap Bill Carter, the president's brother, into a business relationship with Libyan leader Muammar Qaddafi. La Repubblica reported on the Italian investigation into the conspiracy:

"The scandalous material was gathered mostly by Pazienza and by his American friend Michael Ledeen . . . Pazienza availed himself of SISMI both for the use of some secret agents and for the expenses of organizing the scandalous plan. It seems that the organizers got a huge payoff for "Billygate." Moreover, Santovito and Pazienza got great advantage in return from American officials, in fact, may have been helped in other obscure affairs. The "Billygate" operation did not come from SISMI's institutionally mandated task, and for that reason Judge Sica brought charges of pursuing private interests through official activities." [Translated in Diana Johnstone, "The Ledeen Connection," In These Times, Sept. 8-14, 1982].

Rather than being charged and prosecuted for treason against the United States, Ledeen was rewarded with a consulting job for the State Department and Pentagon in the Reagan administration, a position from which he was free to continue his anti-American activities with fellow traitors from the Henry Jackson staff.

While the traitors in the Washington office of Jackson and Ledeen in Rome were conspiring against President Carter, George H. W. Bush, Carter National Security Council staffer Robert Gates, and William Casey criminally conspired with the Ayatollah Khomeini's government to keep 52 hostages held in Tehran captive in return for a shipment of weapons. A meeting between Casey, Gates, and Bush and Iranian agents was held in Paris on October 19, 1980, in what became known as the "October Surprise." The deal was worked out using the auspices of the Sun Shipyard in Chester, PA, which had a close link to the CIA since the shipyard's building of the Soviet submarine raising ship, SS Glomar Explorer, under cover provided by Howard Hughes' Summa Corporation, in 1973. As WMR has previously reported, the CIA arranged a pre-election weapons shipment, unknown to President Carter, to Iran on the SS Poet from Chester, PA to Iran. The Poet was later disposed of along with its American crew by U.S. intelligence or those in its service. And what magazine later debunked the "October Surprise" story of a Bush-Casey treasonous deal with Iran? None other than Ledeen's old employer, The New Republic.

Nazis, the Vatican and CIA Knights of Darkness (5/10/2007)

From COVERT ACTION INFORMATION BULLETIN

Issue title: SPECIAL: NAZIS, THE VATICAN, AND CIA KNIGHTS OF DARKNESS

THE SOVEREIGN MILITARY ORDER OF MALTA

The Sovereign Military and Hospitaller Order of St. John of Jerusalem of Rhodes and of Malta, known also as the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, or SMOM, is juridically, politically, and historically unique in the world today.

Representing initially the most powerful and reactionary segments of the European aristocracy, for nearly a thousand years beginning with the early crusades of the Twelfth Century, it has organized, funded, and led military operations against states and ideas deemed threatening to its power. It is probably safe to say that the several thousand Knights of SMOM, principally in Europe, North, Central, and South America, comprise the largest most consistently powerful and reactionary membership of any organization in the world today.

Although an exclusively [Roman] Catholic organization, in this century it has collaborated with, and given high awards to non-Catholic extremists in its current crusade against progressive forces in the West, the national liberation movements, and the socialist countries.

To be a Knight, one must not only be from wealthy, aristocratic lineage, one must also have a psychological worldview which is attracted to the "crusader mentality" of these "warrior monks." Participating in SMOM including its initiation ceremonies and feudal ritual dress members embrace a certain caste/class mentality; they are sociologically and psychologically predisposed to function as the "shock troops" of Catholic reaction. And this is precisely the historical role the Knights have played in the wars against Islam, against the Protestant "heresy," and against the Soviet "Evil Empire."

The Catholic Right and the Knights of Malta, in particular Baron Franz von Papen, played a critical role in Hitler's assumption of power and the launching of the Third Reich's Twentieth Century Crusade.

SMOM's influence in Germany survived World War II intact. On November 17, 1948 SMOM awarded one of its highest honors, the Grand Cross of Merit, to Reinhard Gehlen, the Nazi chief of intelligence on the Soviet front. He was subsequently installed by the Americans as the first chief of West Germany's equivalent of the CIA, the Bundesnachrichtendienst (BND: federal secret service), under West German Chancellor Adenauer, a devout Catholic who had received the Magistral Grand Cross personally from SMOM Grand Master Prince Chigi.

After the appointment of Knight of Malta William Casey as head of the Central Intelligence Agency, and another Knight, James Buckley, as head of U.S. propaganda against Eastern Europe at Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, several historians noted with interest President Reagan's call during the summer of 1982 for a "crusade" against the "Evil Empire" in Eastern Europe.

[including Balkans JP]

In addition to Casey, and James Buckley, its current members, or Knights, after the feudal fashion, include Lee Iacocca, John McCone, William Buckley, Alexander Haig, Alexandre de Marenches (the chief of French Intelligence under Giscard d'Estaing, himself a Knight of SMOM), Otto von Hapsburg, and various leaders of the fascist P-2 Masonic lodge in Italy. While its organizational funding is relatively modest, its leverage is maximized by the presence of its Knights in key positions in other private and governmental structures throughout the world.

FRANZ von PAPAN

A leading figure in Hitler's coming to power was SMOM Franz von Papen, known as "the devil in a top hat." A devout Catholic aristocrat from an old family of Westphalian nobility, a former military attache and spy against the United States in 1915, von Papen became Chancellor in May 1932, with the support of the Nazis. In June he ordered the dissolution of the Reichstag, calling for new elections in July, in which the Nazis emerged as the largest party in the new Reichstag. After a meeting with Hitler, von Papen persuaded President von Hindenburg to offer Hitler the Chancellorship, which he assumed on January 30, 1933. Von Papen became his Vice-Chancellor.

In April 1933 von Papen was elevated to Knight Magistral Grand Cross of SMOM. After the murder of Austrian Chancellor Dollfuss in Vienna in July 1934, von Papen became Hitler's Ambassador to Austria, and, in March 1938 stood by the Fuhrer's side at his triumphal entry into Vienna. From 1939 until August 1944 he was the Nazi Ambassador to Turkey, and at the Nuremberg trials he was charged with conspiracy to wage aggressive war. He was one of several Nazi leaders acquitted, and subsequently received a generous pension from the first postwar Chancellor, Konrad Adenauer.

Page 28

The President of the American Eastern Association of SMOM is J. Peter Grace, President of W.R. Grace Company, who was a key figure in Operation Paperclip, which brought Nazi scientists to the U.S. 1

SMOM's Sovereign Diplomacy

As its name suggests, SMOM is both a "sovereign" and, historically, a "military" organization. Its headquarters, occupying a square block in Rome at 68 Via Condotti, enjoys the extra-territorial legal status granted to an embassy of a sovereign state. The Italian police are not welcome on its territory, it issues its own stamps, and has formal diplomatic relations and exchanges ambassadors with a number of countries.

On November 13, 1951 Italian President Alcide de Gasperi recognized the diplomatic sovereignty of SMOM, although he held off formal exchange of diplomatic envoys.² On January 11, 1983 the New York Daily News announced that,

"The Vatican and the order of the Knights of Malta, believed to be the smallest sovereign state in the world, have agreed to establish full diplomatic relations, a joint statement said today. "

President Reagan's Ambassador to the Vatican, William Wilson, is, coincidentally, a Knight of Malta.³

On September 5, 1984 French Foreign Minister Claude Cheysson signed a formal protocol with SMOM for various cooperative projects including "aid to victims of conflicts."⁴ (See below on Americares.)

Historical Antecedents

Already in existence at the time of the first Crusade in 1099, in 1113 the Order of St. John was given its independence by Pope Pascal II, permitted to elect its own Grand Master, and soon the Order began military participation in the Crusades along with with the Knights Templar and Teutonic Knights. The Order of St. John recruited successfully among the European aristocracy and soon controlled extensive estates throughout the continent, assimilating those previously belonging to the Knights Templar which it had helped crush during the first two decades of the 14th Century, with the Templar leadership burned alive as heretics.

J. Peter Grace and Project Paperclip

On January 16, 1980 ABC-TV broadcast a special "News Closeup," "Escape from Justice: Nazi War Criminals in America" which discussed Grace's Role in Project Paperclip.

The transcript of the program, available from ABC on request, states, "Project Paperclip from the end of WW II to the mid-1950's brought more than 900 German scientists to the United States. Otto Ambros was a chemist and a Director of the notorious I.G. Farben Company which supplied gasoline and rubber for Hitler's war effort. Ambros played a supervisory role in the construction of Farben's plant in the Polish village of Auschwitz. For I.G. Farben, Auschwitz concentration inmates provided a plentiful source of cheap labor. The Nuremberg prosecution charged that each day at Farhen's plant one hundred people died from sheer exhaustion. Otto Ambros was convicted of slavery and mass murder and sentenced to eight years in prison. But even while on trial at Nuremberg, Ambros was a target for U.S. recruiters from 'Project Paperclip.' His prison sentence was commuted after only three years by American officials and he was helped in a bid to enter the United States by J. Peter Grace, President of W. R. Grace, a major American chemical company.

An internal State Department document describes how J. Peter Grace helped Otto Ambros in his efforts to enter the U.S. In a memorandum to the U.S. Ambassador to Germany, Grace acknowledges that Ambros was a war criminal. But he adds that in the years he's known Ambros, 'we have developed a very deep admiration, not only for his ability, but more important, for his character in terms of truthfulness and integrity.'

Today Otto Ambros does consulting work tor W. R. Grace and Company and lives here in Mannheim, Germany. In a recent telephone interview Ambros [said] 'I'm happy to still be working as a chemist but it's funny. Now I'm helping the Americans.' "

In June 1981, largely in response to the efforts of well known war crimes researcher Charles Allen, Yeshiva University cancelled a $150-a-plate dinner it had organized to honor Grace. (See also, Joe Conason and Martin A. Rosenblatt, "The Corporate State of Grace," 'Village Voice', April 12, 1983.)

When the scandal broke in West Germany over the Flick company paying huge sums of money to various politicians and parties, it was learned that additionally Flick had taken improper tax waivers and used the money to pump millions of dollars into W. R. Grace Co., becoming a major shareholder. Friedrich Karl Flick himself sits on the Grace Board. As the Moscow New Times reminded its readers (No. 8, 1983, citing Der Spiegel), Friedrich Karl's father, Flick Sr., had poured money into the coffers of the Nazi party in January 1933, and, "after Goering had promised the Ruhr magnates that "the March 5 elections will be the last elections in this decade and perhaps in this century," he contributed another 200,000 marks; this sum was handed to SS Reichfuhrer Himmler. Flick Sr. was subsequently sentenced at Nuremberg to seven years for using slave labor, spoliation and being an accessory to the crimes of the SS. To ensure a good beginning for his son, the war criminal sent him after the war for early training with W. R. Grace.

Page 29

In 1187 the Order was driven militarily from Jerusalem by Saladin. The Knights were forced to flee successively to Acre, Cyprus (1291), and finally Rhodes (1310) where they subdued the local population and established a military dictatorship enjoying territorial sovereignty for the first time. In 1522 they were defeated by Sultan Suleiman's forces of 200,000 troops and 250 ships after a six-month siege. By 1530 under Grand Master Villiers de l'Isle-Adam, the Knights established their headquarters on the island of Malta which had been given to them by Charles V.

Martin Luther was born in 1483, the same year that Torquemada unleashed the fury of the Inquisition, and while the Knights waged war against foreign heresies, they were soon confronted by the liberalizing Reformation challenge to Catholic Orthodoxy.

In England Henry VIII's assertion of an independent national policy was complicated by his marriage to Katherine who was the aunt of Emperor Charles V, patron of the Knights of Malta who in England were a militant bastion of Papal loyalty. By 1534 Pope Clement VII had excommunicated the King and two years later Pope Paul III published a Bull deposing the King and charging the Emperor with its execution. According to King and Luke's authoritative history 5 of the Order in England

The staunchest supporters of Papal supremacy were naturally to be found among the religious Orders, and the Knights were the loyal servants of the Pope, whose claims to universal dominion [the King] had repudiated, it was thus a sheer impossibility for the King to permit the existence in England of an Order so powerful and so highly organized unless it was prepared to renounce its loyalty to his most determined enemy. Inevitably the Knights would become a center of disaffection and a rallying point for all the forces of reaction.

In July 1539, after two of the Knights had already chosen the martyr's crown, the King wrote letters to the Grand Master which practically constituted an ultimatum, demanding that the Papal supremacy should cease to be recognized by the Order in England. But it was impossible to accept the King's conditions. In April 1540 Parliament passed an Act dissolving the Order in England and conferring its estates upon the Crown. 6

Meanwhile on the continent and in the Mediterranean the wars against the infidels of the East continued. Since the military defense of Christendom required naval support, the Order created a powerful fleet and patrolled the seas of the Eastern Mediterranean fighting many naval actions.

Military operations ranged as far as Egypt and Syria, and by 1565 under Grand Master Valette, they resisted the Turkish siege of Malta. In 1571 SMOM's fleet participated in the defeat of the Turks at the naval battle of Lepanto, and remained a major military presence in the Mediterranean until 1789 when Napoleon defeated the Knights and occupied the island. The Order finally sought temporary protection under the Russian Emperor Paul I in 1797; in 1834 Pope Leo XIII established its headquarters in Rome.

Article for Basso magazine, Finland (5/25/2007)

ARTICLE FOR BASSO MAGAZINE (FINLAND) BY LEO LYON ZAGAMI

US president George W. Bush will hold his first meeting with Pope Benedict XVI on 9

June at the Vatican, the White House has announced. US ambassador to the Holy See Francis Rooney said Bush and the pontiff would discuss the "shared commitment of the United States and the Holy See to promoting human dignity around the world." The president and his wife Laura Bush will stop in Vatican City after attending a Group of Eight (G8) summit on 6-8 June in Heiligendamm, Germany. What will Ratzinger really say to the Pope is a different story, we can only imagine the pious Bush in front of his evil Master Pope Ratzinger, the US President is a degenerate individual and a slave of the satanic system promoted by the Vatican and some of most prominent Zionist families, he is used as a good actor for their evil play. We find also very interesting at present the meeting to be held in Rome in secret this month between Dan Brown and the Vatican clergy, a meeting organized by the illustrious Freemason and Grand Master of the illuminati Giuliano Di Bernardo. This meeting will include the presence of the powerful Cardinal from Bavaria Friedrich Wetter Bishop of Monaco and the Billionaire illuminati Rupert Murdoch plus actor Tom Hanks and Scientology film director Ron Howard... So what a mix for this illuminati dinner in Piazza di Spagna 35 in Rome just a month before the arrival of the US President George W. Bush one of their most prominent illuminati puppets of the New World Order. The illuminati in Rome are officially discussing the release of the film Angels and Demons, I think that's a very appropriate move and it's definitely gonna be a very special dinner between Mind Controllers of the first kind don't you think so? But let's go back to George and his Papal visit to submit once again to the mighty man in white sitting in St. Peter's throne, a visit clear like the light of the day that will finally get thinking a few conspiracy nuts out there that this is the real thing, this is the USA submission to Vatican Luciferian Powers! In the meantime Italy is rocked by satanic, drug-induced sexual abuse in kindergarten, Children say they were forced in satanic sexual abuse and forced to drink blood in rituals. For this reason six persons were arrested in Rome accused of sexually abusing 15 children from the age of three to the age of six at the nursery school "Olga Rovere" of Rignano Flaminio, in the vicinities of Rome. Satanism is definitely expanding and on the rise and we have to stay aware of this problem especially in these times. Today, Satan has free hands. This does not mean that he has more power than in the past, but the door is wide open to him. Primarily, today we live in a period of little faith. It is purely mathematical: when faith declines, superstition grows. When we abandon God, we give ourselves to practices that open the door to Satan. There is no doubt that today's media piloted by the illuminati have done much in favour of Satan, first by the immorality of certain shows, the abundance of movies showing violence, horror or sex. Well it seems we have to fight Satan now more than ever and I don't think that sitting down doing nothing is the right solution, we need to be active against all the evil promoted by Satan and his followers around the world we need to start a dialogue with those people who like us want a better world. Let's pray and hope God will give us the strength. Regarding myself I got to meet a very interesting man and what seems to be a great believer last week, strangely enough that man was the Secretary for Interreligious Dialogue for the Society of Jesus ...yes the Jesuits! Well I know it sounds a bit strange but Fr. Thomas Michel, SJ has been a pleasant surprise for me as he seems a person who is a true witness to God's universal mercy and he didn't mind the criticism I moved against the Jesuits (that's a nice start for a friendship..)

See you next time

Leo Lyon Zagami

Tour of Hope (5/25/2007)

TOUR OF HOPE SUPREME COUNCIL OSLO 2007

Thank you for your enquiry and various questions about how to join the Committee of Hope. We welcome you on board and wish you and your friends a warm welcome in our new organization. With this Charter we give you the possibility of meeting (obviously free of charge) on a regular basis to discuss our NWO resistance plans. And we hope to help in this process of understanding by regularly updating our web sites with the latest. And In the near future me Leo Zagami and Greg Szymanski will love to come and visit you in your area for a date of the TOUR OF HOPE .

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE WILLING ORGANIZERS: JUST GET A VENUE AND A SPONSOR TO HELP YOU OUT AND ARRANGE FOR OUR FLIGHTS AND OUR STAY IN YOUR TOWN AND WE ARE GONNA BE OUT THERE TO SPREAD THE MESSAGE OF THE TOUR OF HOPE .

IF YOU DON'T MANAGE DON'T WORRY AND CONTINUE THE STRUGGLE AGAINST THE FORCES OF DARKNESS IN THE NAME OF TRUE FREEDOM AND DIVINE JUSTICE, MEETING REGULARLY WITH YOUR COMMITTEE OF HOPE IS A GREAT OPPURTUNITY TO DO THIS.

My private e-mail is leoyoung1999@yahoo.com and my phone number +4798411581

Keep us constantely updated with the latest and good luck. Fraternaly yours,

Leo Lyon Zagami Now Khaled Saifullah

Gordon Brown becomes Prime Minister and Tony Blair a Catholic...Illuminati Game (6/27/2007)

Tony Blair talks with Pope Benedict XVI and prepares to become a Catholic Knight blessed by the Pope now he his leaving his office as a Prime Minister earlier today. The two men (Blair and the gay Pope) met privately for 25 minutes last week in Rome and then were joined for further talks by English Cardinal Cormac Murphy-O'Connor. It seems obvious to everybody with a bit of knowledge about Blair that the now ex prime minister has always been working for his Vatican Masters but now Blair is finally coming out of the closet as a Catholic for everybody to see how devoted to Rome he really is.

A Vatican press office called the audience a normal meeting between the pope and a government leader...well how normal is it to visit the Pope before leaving your office as a Prime Minister of Great Britain?

Blair one the most important puppets of the illuminati scene in the last ten years went to the Pope for ultimate Vatican submission, this should be enough to expose Blair in front of the world as the typical Vatican neo illuminati now ready to show who are his real Masters in Rome, we should point out to our friends and families this episode that makes it quite clear who is in charge of the so called politics.

Later a official stament was made by the Vatican about the talks of Tony Blair with Benedict and the separate meeting he had with Secretary of State Cardinal Tarcisio Bertone, they said there was a "frank" assessment of the international situation, including such "delicate" themes as the Middle East conflict and the future of the European Union... are we gonna believe them?

Officially the Vatican opposed the U.S.-led invasion of Iraq, which Blair has supported but we know very well that this whole war is an illuminati war secretely driven by the Pope in Rome.

The statement said that best wishes were expressed for Blair's future, saying that he has expressed the desire "to dedicate himself in a particular way for peace in the Middle East and for interreligious dialogue". This seems to be the new career the Vatican illuminati have planned for him and earlier this week, President Bush, a close ally, got Blair the job of Middle East envoy for the Quartet of peacemakers — the United States, European Union, United Nations and Russia.

Greeted by Benedict, Blair explained that he had just arrived from an EU summit in Brussels.

"I heard it was very successful," Benedict the great illuminati manipulator said.

"Yes, we had a very long night. We finished up at 5:30 in the morning", Blair replied.

In an interview with The Times of London, Blair said Saturday the issue of his religious beliefs was complex and that he was nervous about discussing his faith with the pope....

Rubbish, Blair is simply an illuminati Vatican slave and has always been one.

"It's difficult with some of these things," Blair told the newspaper. "Things aren't always as resolved as they might be".

So Blair is on the verge of formally converting, a spokesman for the prime minister repeated the official line that he remains a member of the Church of England but thats not gonna last too long now he has left his position as Prime Minister of Anglican UK and he is free of showing his true colours to the world.

Blair, his wife and children met Benedict in a private, hour-long audience a year ago. He also met with Pope John Paul II in 2003.

Blair's wife Cherie is Roman Catholic, the couple's children have attended Catholic schools and Blair habitually attends Catholic rather than Anglican services even taking the communion. Well welcome to the Church of Rome Mr Blair and wake up people and get the truth on the real manipulators of our planet. The Zionist families and the Vatican thats it!

I was in Kirby Lodge 2818 in Great Queen Street (home of the United Grand Lodge of England) back in November 2003 when I heard from illustrious Brother Andrew Hicks of the Corner Stone Society (link) that Gordon Brown was being prepared as successor to Tony Blair who was being totally manipulated and used by the Vatican illuminati elite of the United Grand Lodge of England for their evil illuminati game in collaboration with their USA allies. Tony Blair has been completely brainwashed and mind controlled by the Vatican and their loyal British Queen to this present day.

Leo Lyon Zagami now Khaled Saifullah Khan

P2 (6/27/2007)

Formed in the 19th century by the Grande Orient of Italy for the elites, the organization evolved out of the violent organization known as the Carbonari. Pagan elements suffused the rituals of the organization to which all Grand Masters of Regular Italian Freemasonry belonged. The head was known as Naj Hannah (King Cobra).

In interviews two former members have described the oaths they took. They were taken to a compound, a Villa hidden in the Apennines in the region of Tuscany. A 12-foot wall seals the neatly manicured grounds from view. In the centre of the main courtyard stands a fountain shaped like a tree trunk. The cobralike sculpture, with its inflated hood, watches over the compound in a protective posture, as if ready to strike. The cobra's head is twice the size of a human skull. It has a single eye, which is blue during daylight and red after nightfall, for inside the cobra's hood and behind its eye there is a closed-circuit camera that follows a visitor, invited or unwelcome, as the fountain rotates in the direction the intruder moves. The fountain- camera is controlled from a room within the villa where eight monitors, each with five stations, cover eight guest rooms, patio, pool, dining room, sitting room, and party room. Approximately ten cameras, including the one inside the cobra, have infrared lenses. All of the exterior cameras are camouflaged by the landscaping. The Villa's interior is magnificent. Every room has marble floors and is furnished with antiques. Observing the high ceilings, the finely crafted gold-leaf moldings, the portraits of Mussolini, Hitler, and Peron, the visitor experiences a feeling, a sort of living, breathing odor of danger and power that penetrates the soul and cell by cell contaminates the mind with fear. The year is 1964.

In the meeting room, twelve members of P-2, dressed in satin ceremonial robes and wearing black hoods reminiscent of those worn by members of the Ku Klux Klan, sit in leather chairs at a red marble conference table. They are the elite members of the Wolf Pack, Gelli's disciples - some say his execution squad. None of the black-clad disciples knows the identity of any of his eleven brothers. Grand Master Licio Gelli is the only one who bares his face. Two Masons stand post at the entrance to the meeting room. Their faces are also covered. They are Naja Hannah's personal bodyguards some say his death squad-former Mussolini Facists whose job is to protect the Grand Master and kill any of the twelve disciples who betray the cause "Il Momento di Passare all"(The Time for Real Action). Like Naja Hannah and his disciples, each bodyguard carries an axe; they also bear automatic weapons.

The ceremony begins. There is an uneven series of knocks at the door. "Your Worshipful," a disciple announces, "a pagan wishes to enter". The Grand Master strikes the table with one blow with his axe. Immediately the oversized door swings open and slams against the inner wall. Two guards escort the initiate to the center of the room where he faces the twelve Masons with his back to the grand masters throne. The Pagan, as he is called, is wearing a plain black hood and a blindfold. His identity is known to Grand Master Licio Gelli but to no one else. He is asked one question by each of the disciples, but the Pagan does not answer, instead, one of the guards speaks for him. Once all the ritual questions about purpose and belief and reason for wanting to become a member of Propaganda Due are answered, the Pagan is turned to face the Grand Master, who asks, "Pagan, are you prepared to die in order to preserve the secrets of Propaganda Due?" The initiate now answers for himself: "I am." "Do you have the necessary quality of contempt for danger?" "I do." "Do you have the necessary quality of courage?" "I am courageous." "Do you proclaim yourself an Anti-Communist?" "I do". "And Pagan, are you prepared to fight and perhaps face shame, even death, so that we who may become your Brothers may destroy this Government and form a Presidency?" "I am". Then the blindfold is removed. It takes a moment for the initiate's vision to clear, because this is the first time since entering the compound that he has been allowed to see light. The blindfold serves a purpose other than security. It also represents the power of P-2: "Without membership one is blind; with the help of the order, however, the way is clear."

St. Peter's Banker Luigi DiFonzo Franklin Watts Ltd. 1983

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 1-5

AN INTRODUCTION TO CONFESSIONS OF AN ILLUMINATUS (10/6/2006)

AN INTRODUCTION TO CONFESSIONS OF AN ILLUMINATUS

By Leo Lyon Zagami

In the 70's Italy was one of the most dark places in Europe with daily terrorist attacks and mafia killings, a place full of fear and uncertainty. Leo was only a kid at that time, willing to play and learn but also to change things from the beginning for this sick new world he landed in. He was risen in a very particular situation and a very particular family. The grandfather of Leo was the great Sicilian Senator Leopoldo Zagami, one of the most powerful men in Sicily and also one of the few honest politicians in Italy. In 1974 he died in mysterious circumstances, leaving the family with nothing but grief for the insane world of Italian politics.

The Italian enemies of his grandfather who among others counted the infamous corrupt politician Bettino Craxi, started a slow but effective persecution of Leo's family, who could though still count on the friendship of the more respectable people in Sicily and Rome. Due to the uncertainty of the times the parents were basically bringing up Leo in a very discreet way in a beautiful, isolated location near Rome, where they decided to live at the beginning of the 70's. Leo was never allowed though to say who he really was to any of his school friends or even to invite them home. He had to venture out in the streets of the local villages if he wanted some action and there in the villages he recruited the best kids for his magickal gangs who always had very dangerous initiation rituals and names like Banda Kung-ku o Banda dagli Scudi d'Oro. Many strange events that couldn't be explained took place since an early age in Leo's life, and one of these experiences was later reported by his father dr. Elio Zagami in the book "FUMASTR". The only way to explain them was to understand the hidden forces of magick, something Leo's father, a celebrated Jung psychoanalyst and a personal student of Meyer, was trying to do during that 70's period with an extensive research that brought Leo only 6 years old to India and Ceylon for 3 months on a magickal pilgrimage towards the understanding of the powerful eastern philosophies.

And it's during a particular visit with his parents to a hindu temple in Trinkomali (Ceylon) that Leo gets involved in something that will change his life forever. A monkey from the temple they were visiting hits him on his left ear and steals his mother's wallet. The guardian of the temple quickly recovers the wallet, but Leo contracts a bad infection developing inside the ear with a possible chance of becoming deaf in one ear for the rest of his life.

During that period for almost two months Leo was left with only one ear working, but something magickal was starting to take place for the future magickal child. The left ear trapped by a big blob of puss seemed to be receiving internal voices from another level.

He was too young to understand and explain to others around him what was happening, but things were definitely changing for Leo. Leo's father wanted to explore more of the sacred locations of this magickal island called Ceylon, where Alister Crowley and Frank Bennet (responsible for bringing buddhism to England) years earlier had been working for the development of western spirituality, and numerous journeys were made to remote holy locations in the middle of the jungle. It was on one of these journeys that Leo discovered music. Yes, the ear had started working again, and the ritualistic sound of the beautiful drums and instruments of Ceylon was coming out of the jungle in the middle of the night while Leo and his family were sleeping in a nearby guest house. Leo says about this important episode in his life: "the sound becomes louder and louder, and my father suddenly jumps out of bed and decides to bring us there to check out what was going on, even if my mother in a very British way was a bit worried at that time of the locals' reaction to our unholy presence, but everything went totally ok. What an experience!". That's when Leo understands the force of music behind rituals, the driving force of sound in creation, the magick of music that will never abandon him or his magickal ear.

In the spring of 1979 Leo starts going to church as a new priest has arrived in town, a man with a vision for the future of catholic media that nobody had before. Everybody is talking about this Don Mario Pieracci, a priest that could finally deliver the message of the catholic church in decline, with a new vigour and strenght for the new generations. Leo's first encounter with this amazing character will also be something of a mystical revelation, because Don Mario, ordained as a priest only two years earlier by the famous bishop Guglielmo Giaquinta, creator of the Pro sanctitate movement, was reciting and commenting THE BOOK OF REVELATION and was giving Leo and all the people in church that day a very messianic speech on the Apocalypse. This was something Leo would never forget, because the Master of all, the alchemist, the Rabbi from Nazareth will one day be back, and we should all be ready to receive him as a King this time as we have crucified him with our own evil actions over and over again under many names and in many wars and conflicts in the last 2000 years.

So Leo becomes an altar boy and a friend of Don Mario with the intention of becoming a priest, but in 1980 he changed his mind after Don Mario's radio organized a party in the square of the local village and Leo finally got to see what a Dj can do with two records...a real miracle of the New Age. He then went to Don Mario and asked to teach him how to become a Dj, and the reply was that if he served with patience as an altar boy for another few years he will let him have his own radio show one day. In the meantime Leo's grandmother Felicity had given Leo his first book from the Prophet of the New Aeon Aleister Crowley, the 1971 edition of THE BOOK OF THOT, a real magickal book that Leo immediately understood to be very important for his future. Later on in December 1983 Leo left his position as an altar boy and started to broadcast from Radio Valle dell'Aniene DJ MUSIC .

But Leo wanted to mix magick and music, and in 1979 Leo had seen in the back of a comic the ad for a strange but promising book intitlled THE POWER OF WHITE MAGIC. His family didn't have much money at that time, but Leo asked his parents if he could have this book as a present for the school exams he was taking the following year in 1980, together with a double deck tape recorder to create his own mixed tapes using a sort of cut up technique with various special effects from old children tapes and at that time very popular BBC special effects tapes.

THE POWER OF WHITE MAGIC was Leo's first magickal disappointment as it was a badly written book on Wiccan Magick, containing just some interesting lessons about astral travelling and nothing more. However, by now Leo knew where he could find more knowledge, and that was in the father's library....

Yes, his father had a great variety of magickal books but had prohibited Leo to read them because it was too dangerous for his young age, so Leo decided to try reading them in secret. LEGE JUDICA TACE.

In the coming years Leo goes through dozens of books on magick and discovers the wonders of Alchemy, the Royal art of the ancient Pharaohs, hermeticism, and forbidden eastern philosophy of Tantra. He becomes more and more convinced that his father had stopped him from reading these books because they contained the key to the central secret of life and death. Leo never stopped researching on the subject. In 1993 at the age of 23 he got involved in the experimentation of an ancient 14th century grimoire called THE MAGIC OF ABRAMELIN THE MAGE. This six months ritual originally translated by the head of the prestigious Golden Dawn, Mac Gregor Mathers, has never really been very popular with magicians because of the great risk involved and the long duration and sacrifice of the ritual. The only person that had only partially completed this ritual to his knowledge, was the famous English magician Aleister Crowley, but even he wasn't doing it in the holy city of Rome in the center of Christianity... so why did Leo do it?

Because during that period he comes in contact with the spirit of Giuseppe Balsamo (Leo's Sicilian Grandmother was from his family), known as CAGLIOSTRO the Grand Master of the infamous German Illuminati of Adam Weishaupt who later becomes his guide and protector, his Holy Guardian Angel if we want to define him in this way.... Leo's spirit is very close to Cagliostro who died putting his life in the hands of the saint of the prison he was in, that saint was San Leo, and the mission was the accomplishment of the GREAT WORK.

So Leo at 23 decides to create an independent alchemical group regularly chartered as a Secret Lodge of Freemasonry (in Italian Loggia Coperta) to evaluate the results of his ritual and to support and protect him in this difficult experiment. The name of this very secret lodge based in Trastevere Rome in the Jewish ghetto area was to be MIHLA TOR, the wheel of alchemy based on the secret interpretation of the PORTA CAELESTIS or MAGICA of the Marche of Palombara very dear to the UR GROUP of Julius Evola.

Leo started the Magick of Abramelin at the beginning of 1993, and he would successfully complete the ritual in 1994 after being hospitalized two times and nearly getting killed in the process. Very few people including his family understood at that time why a successful person like Leo, that by 1994 was guested and treated as a superstar dj on the number one Italian breakfast TV show (UNO MATTINA) and working all over the place would risk everything for a magickal ideal. What most people didn't understand was that Leo was operating in secret his first and most important alchemical work, and he was not interested in fame or money, but in helping humanity to become free from their ignorance and superstitions of the last 2000 years in order to embrace the one God and His Kingdom to come in the end of times.

Leo had in this period been studying the book "Transcendental Magic", a very important book for every serious occultist, written by the guy who invented the term occultism, called Eliphas Levi. In this book Leo found a particular key which was also found by the famous British occultist Aleister Crowley. The fact was that Leo didn't know about Crowley's findings until much later in Lemington Spa...

In the middle of 1994 Leo felt that the Italian establishment and the Vatican were starting to put pressure on him because he had re-opened a church in the roman countryside illegally and they close down that and several clubs and parties connected to Dj Leo Young, leaving him with no other possibilities than going abroad to start a new adventure and leaving his beloved city of Rome until the time for a fresh re-entry would eventually come in the grace of God! Leo's diary entry dated June 1994 says: "Im going to be regenerated under the protection of the Lyons of England".

From 1994 to 2002 Leo lived in London where he was introduced to English Freemasonry and other occult Orders affiliated with the English Rosicrucians and at the same time achieved international recognition as a record producer and an international dj superstar . He has also continued studying the esoteric arts, developing his magickal work and receiving global recognition in the esoteric field for the work done in Rome between 1993 and 1994. He became a well known figure in thelemic magick and contemporary Rosicrucian circles around the world especially in Russia, counting amongst his friends and collaborators celebrated contemporary Illuminati like Ezio Giunchiglia of the famous Montc Carlo Lodge „Julian Rees the illustrious english masonic scholar and even stars of the so called occult field like Lon Milo Duquette, Kenneth Anger and swedish occultist Carl Ahbramson. He directed for two years with the title Commandor of the Rosa-Crux the AULA LUCIS CAGLIOSTRO of the Fraternitas Rosecruciana Antiqua in London and received the VIIIo known as Perfect Pontif in the Illuminati OTO/Ordo Illuminatorum system, but during his stay in the Aereopagus of the american Illuminati Leo discovered the deep corruption and evil of the so called Illuminati Order in America and the full extension of their New World Order satanic project so He rebelled in the name of Jesus Christ against this great evil that Satan was unfolding on the world .He then went to Egypt after being arrested and kept in Oslo for 3 weeks against is will under orders of the American Illuminati .Leo wanted to get rid off all this black magic present in the western occult scene and went to be exorcized by the famous holy lady of Cairo Madame Fulla from the Orthodox Coptic Church a personal of the Boutros Ghali family wich supported Leo's sudden move to abandon in the year 2003 the american Illuminati with the help of Dr Safuat the wise Egyptian exorcist , magician and Sufi Master that exorcized amongst other things the UN building in NY who's father was a disciple of the great muslim illuminati Said Nursi.Leo went to Egypt to study also the real Jesus and find out more about the Masters of the East and during that period in November 2003 Leo decided under the pyramids to become Muslim and change is name to Khaled Saifullah Khan.He understood after Egypt that true illumination and the most accurate portray of his Grand Master Jesus was contained in the Holy Quran and he accepted Mohammed(Peace and Blessings be upon Him) as his last Prophet rejecting any other believe previously hold, contact with true Sufi's source of Holy knowledge and divine wisdom had been made and his mission was now clear more then ever before:

FIGHT SATAN AND HIS NEW WORLD ORDER WHEREVER AND WHENEVER!

Leo had also made another wish in Egypt,a very personal wish and one month later Leo met for the first time with his wife a muslim scholar of Letters of the Illumination.

In Cairo with illustrious Bro.Dk. Mohamed F.El.Gabry from the New World Order organization CLUB ROMA

TEORIA E TIPOLOGIA DELLE SOCIETA' SEGRETE (10/6/2006)

N.B. Questo fascicolo, di cui si fornisce una nuova traduzione, è stato diffuso, in copie limitate, assieme al testo “Scopi e pratiche alchemiche dell’Ordine Egizio”, dal gruppo milanese Agapé, in funzione eversiva del Sistema Iniziatico occidentale. È stato presentato come circolante nei paesi latini europei come opera di collegamento e struttura di vari Ordini e Società iniziatiche, come la O.O.E francese (sede centrale a Nizza presso Jean Pierre Giudicelli de Bressac de la Bachelerie) e la C.E.U.R italiana (sigla di copertura dell'Oriente Osirideo Egizio italiano), in sonno dal 1983. In tale anno la C.E.U.R. smantellò il centro iniziatico del Castello di Guardea (Orvieto) e mise in sonno sia l'organizzazione esterna denominata Fraternità Terapeutico+Magica di Miryam che l'O.O.E., di cui l'ultimo Delegato Generale fu Aleandro Tommasi (Lehaiel) ex membro della R.L.Monte Sion. Lo scopo del fascicolo è indicato come atto costituendo del collegamento di alcuni "Alta Collegia", atte a controllare, gestire e ingerire qualsiasi società. In questo fascicolo sono indicati i nomi di alcuni autori o compilatori, come Michel Monerau, Michel Lafrande e J.Calmar, istruttore Tehan. Sull'autenticità del testo, redatto in francese, vi sono molte perplessità, anche se n'è evidente l'origine.

Le tecniche d'ingerenza e contro-informazione riportate sono state utilizzate, negli anni '60 e '70, anche dalle organizzazioni contro-rivoluzionarie dell'O.A.S. Questo gruppo, che utilizzava inoltre esperienze teoriche e pratiche della guerriglia e contro-guerriglia in Indocina da parte dei servizi d'informazioni francesi ed americani. Gli Ordini iniziati considerati coinvolti, oltre a quelli suddetti, sono stati così indicati:

Fratellanza Ermetica dell'Alba Dorata (Golden Dawn)/ Q.B.L.H. (Fratellanza Ermetica di Luxor)/ Ordo Templis Orientis/La Fraternità Ermetica del Dragone Lunare/L'Ordine "A"/

La Tehan.

L'associazione denominata gruppo Agapé è diretta da Franco Fogagnolo, milanese, ex-brigatista rosso, che si dice sfuggito alla galera in quanto informatore della polizia e per aver denunciato la sua colonna d'appartenenza; lo scopo dichiarato dell'associazione è l'abbattimento delle barriere della conoscenza esoterica, definita strumento di potere ed oppressione da parte di "sette oscure e tenebrose". Il mezzo impiegato è la diffusione di testi interni riservati di vari gruppi iniziatici. Attualmente, Franco Fogagnolo è l'animatore di un Centro Sociale anarco-comunista milanese. Assieme a Laslo Thot, ex-editore dell'Arché e a Massimo Introvigne è indicato come appartenente all'Ordre de Thèbe, dalle finalità non completamente conosciute.

L'ambigua comunità d'elementi della sinistra radicale come Fogagnolo e di esponenti dell'integralismo cattolico come Introvigne, ex-dirigente di "Alleanza Cattolica" può far ipotizzare attività antimassoniche.

2666

Tradizione e note di V

PROLOGO

Questo dossier è nato dalla constatazione che, dal finire del XIX secolo, l'esoterismo è confinato in qualche circolo polveroso, dove i membri si riuniscono per teorizzare senza fine su delle grandi opere di maestri morti ormai da tanto tempo.

Bisogna dunque finirla con l'esoterismo, che ispira la maggior parte d'organizzazioni e circoli che non hanno nessun'utilità, che si fanno forti di una filiazione prestigiosa inesistente e che si contendono la pratica dell'archeologia esoterica, millantando il possesso d'ogni conoscenza misteriosa. Questo tipo d'organizzazione porta naturalmente nella sua scia una gran parte di pubblico che s'interessa all'esoterismo per motivi di frustrazione psicologica. È stupefacente constatare che, sempre di più, l'esoterismo si riduce a delle vane speculazioni intellettuali o a qualche cerimonia ridicola, mentre è prima di tutto destinato a trasformare l'individuo, portarlo alla realizzazione spirituale. In una sola parola al risveglio.

Per giungere a questo scopo le tecniche sono molte e devono adattarsi al tipo di pensiero di ciascuno. Una di queste tecniche – e non la minore – è la Magia.

Esistono poche opere serie sulla Magia; la maggior parte è al livello bassamente stregonesco del Grande o Petit Albert. Non si può far distinzione, del resto, fra magia bianca e magia nera, che s'intendono comunemente come rivolte o al bene o al male; bisognerebbe già definire quello che è bene e quello che è male e non c'è più niente di più relativo che questi due concetti. In realtà non esiste né la magia bianca né quella nera, c'è solamente un insieme di tecniche magiche che eventualmente possono servire al "bene" o al "male". In più questi due termini sottintenderebbero che la magia ha per preoccupazione principale quella di cambiare il corso degli avvenimenti, di agire sugli esseri e sulle cose. In realtà la magia è una tecnica di trasformazione dell'essere, la conoscenza ed il superamento dell'Io, e, attraverso ciò, la conoscenza dell'universo, l'illuminazione spirituale, il raggiungimento dello stato oggettivo.

Attualmente, gli Ordini Iniziatici Teurgici d'effettiva filiazione esoterica si rivelano sotto l'impulso d'uomini giovani e dinamici, di cui alcuni sono i mandatari di un gruppo rosicruciano sconosciuto, che possiede una filiazione della Fratellanza Ermetica di Luxor e che desidera suscitare la riattivazione del "collettivo" immaginario con la creazione d'Ordini.

Molte persone sono attratte dalla magia perché pensano di trarne un profitto: amore, soldi, potenza. Le numerose pubblicità di pseudo-maghi e altri ciarlatani fioriscono in numerose riviste e confermano quest'opinione.

Beninteso, le motivazioni degli Ordini sono ben altre, ma la possibilità di essere confusi con il ciarpane occultistico è purtroppo uno dei motivi della loro discrezione. Lo scopo individuale dei membri della maggior parte di questi Ordini è il contatto cosciente col Santo Angelo Guardiano, vale a dire l'inconscio, e con ciò il superamento dell'Abisso, la dissoluzione dell'Ego, in una parola il risveglio, in quanto la magia trasmuta il modo abituale di pensare.

J.Calmar – Istruttore Tehan

TEORIA E TIPOLOGIA DELLE SOCIETÀ SEGRETE

La società segreta è un fenomeno della più grande antichità. I suoi connotati, con una moltitudine dei più svariati aspetti della vita tradizionale: religione, politica, magia, ermetismo, ecc., ne fanno un elemento d'analisi sociale indispensabile. Senza di questo né sociologi, né etnologi, né antropologi, né specialisti della storia della religione e del pensiero umano possono descrivere efficacemente l'ambiente studiato.

Lo storico percepisce meglio d'ogni altro l'importanza delle società segrete, perché non è influenzato dai vari immaginari collettivi del momento.

Il tempo mette i suoi veli su molte cose, ma ne svela anche parecchie altre...

Il nostro proposito è quello di presentare una tipologia del fenomeno società segreta, che potrà sfociare nell'elaborazione di un'analisi teorica più sottile, più vicina al "modello" matematico ed economico.

La prima definizione necessaria, affrontando quest'argomento, è quella di "società segreta", che pone implicitamente due sotto-domande fondamentali.

Che cos'è, dunque, una società? e come definire il suo carattere segreto?

Il nodo fondamentale d'ogni ricerca è quello del criterio.

La prima sotto-domanda: che cos'è una società? sarà formulata brevemente con la prospettiva di sviluppare un criterio materiale. Si suppone che la società raggruppi degli individui, persone fisiche in genere, eventualmente entità morali.

Questo raggruppamento può essere volontaristico, - se si notano tentativi precisi per unire in solo organo differenti elementi - o un assemblaggio di fatto di persone similmente motivate.

La prima forma, volontaristica, s'illustra meglio per i gruppi che nascono, raggruppati da un qualsiasi maestro, che poi si spengono quando i loro capi cessano di lavorare.

La seconda è più sottile. La nascita di una religione, in un ambiente ostile, servirà d'esempio: gli adepti, minacciati, si raggruppano, prima discretamente, poi, se ve n'è la possibilità, segretamente.

L'elemento causale prende il predominio sulla volontà individuale.

La seconda sotto-domanda è più delicata da trattarsi: il gruppo è sì costituito, ma che cos'è che caratterizza una società segreta? È certamente il suo soggetto, ma anche la forma assunta, e la particolare attività.

A gladio salus

SOCIETA' A FORMA SEGRETA

Sono le più classiche. Queste società perseguono un'azione generalmente percepita dal pubblico, con uno scopo conosciuto e sovente perseguito da altri raggruppamenti non segreti.

La società segreta politica n'è il miglior esempio. I suoi scopi, qualunque essi siano, sono ben precisi, ispirati ad un'ideologia facile ad esser percepita. Solo l'identità della società e pertanto i dettagli di forma restano misteriosi: luoghi, date, riunioni, cerimoniali, costumi, ecc.

La forma segreta è stata adottata per facilitarne l'azione e rendere meno aleatoria la realizzazione dello scopo.

SOCIETA' AD OGGETTO SEGRETO

Sono le più insidiose. La sua esistenza è conosciuta, ma lo scopo è ignoto. Non è obbligatoria una condanna generalizzata alle società ad oggetto segreto, non tutte sono una mafia inconfessata. Desiderose di condurre un'azione fino allo scopo, certe società preferiscono nascondere le loro forme. La Massoneria apre a tutti i suoi templi, si dice, ma la finalità reale non è per questo divulgata a tutti e dappertutto.

Sovente, percependo che un occultamento eccessivo dello scopo sarebbe nefasto al buon andamento della società, i dirigenti velano il loro oggetto dietro una facciata molto vasta ed imprecisa. Temi come "realizzazione dell'armonia", "perfezionamento dell'uomo", "avvenire di una nuova età", ecc. sono molto comuni in questi ambiti, ma molto spesso queste idee sono il paravento di una realtà più pragmatica.

SOCIETA' A MEZZI SEGRETI

In questo tipo, il segreto non si basa più sullo scopo o l'oggetto, né sulla forma intrinseca, ma su i modi della loro realizzazione od espressione. La società ad attività segreta raramente è del tipo "puro" e non è dunque citata che a titolo di riferimento.

Certi raggruppamenti formano a volte, in occasione di un avvenimento preciso, una vera società a scopi segreti. È, in particolare, il caso dei "gruppi di pressione", dei "club" o anche di importanti società commerciali e finanziarie, che, con delle misure puntuali, spesso inconfessabili, generalmente inconfessate, influiscono sul corso degli avvenimenti più diversi

SOCIETÀ A TIPO MISTO

È la vera società segreta, nel senso inteso dall'opinione pubblica. Generalmente riservata, viene spesso considerata ostile. Gli scopi sono occulti, le forme segrete, i mezzi e le attività accuratamente dissimulati. A questo proposito, deve essere precisato quanto segue: si tratta di una legge che si potrebbe chiamare dell'inverso dinamico. L'efficacia di una società segreta cresce in funzione degli occultamenti successivi cui procede, fino a superare una certa soglia qualitativa e quantitativa, di là dalla quale l'azione e le possibilità di sopravvivenza della società decrescono sempre più velocemente, quando l'occultamento sia stato troppo accentuato. La soglia si può chiamare livello massimo d'occultamento, e si fissa ad un grado variabile secondo il tipo della società e i suoi effettivi numerici. Non è necessario analizzare i differenti aspetti di questa legge nella determinazione del livello massimo d'occultamento. Questo andrebbe al di là dei limiti di questa sintesi, per costituire un'analisi sociologica, storica e occulta di una materia da tesi. Riassumerò tuttavia i suoi elementi principali in modo più "argotico", dicendo che a forza di non apparire più (occultazioni successive), la società segreta rischia di sparire. La nozione messa in evidenza ha relazione con la dinamica delle società segrete, specialmente riguardo alla loro attività temporale (mantenimento degli effettivi, vivacità delle idee finali, continuità dell'azione e dei mezzi logistici). Ecco dunque i primi elementi della teoria delle società segrete. Si potrebbe obiettare che potrebbe essere una società segreta o ad una semplice società umana. La risposta deve essere molto sfumata. Esempio: per realizzare un'importante transazione borsistica, che non bisogna lasciar trapelare sotto pena di fallimento, una grossa società finanziaria decide di riunire un comitato preparatorio da cui si esige il segreto professionale più assoluto. Di conseguenza le sue riunioni si sviluppano a porte chiuse e senza informarne il resto della gestione. Nel corso di una delle sue prime riunioni il comitato accetta l'idea di versare ad uno degli agenti di cambio, che negoziano l'affare, una "commissione speciale", una specie d'extra non dichiarato, ma senza il quale si rivelerà impossibile arrivare ad attuare la transazione. Si può parlare in una tale situazione di società segreta. Tutti gli elementi ci sono. Un'operazione finanziaria è mantenuta segreta da un comitato riunito con tutta discrezione e che agisce senza alcuna pubblicità: quindi un'azione segreta, che potrebbe anche essere nascosta alla direzione. Manca però di una dinamica propria, ed è questa che differenzia fondamentalmente il raggruppamento occulto da quello semplicemente nascosto, clandestino, come la semplice teoria descrittiva dei criteri può dimostrare. Si potrebbe obiettare che si oppone la teoria descrittiva alla tipologia che ricolloca il problema in una prospettiva più dinamica. Si tratta senza dubbio di una distinzione qualche volta difficile da mettere in opera nella pratica. Ciò nonostante, permette di situare esattamente la tale o tal altra società sulla scacchiera della scena occulta, a partire da una teoria generale. Da una parte si caratterizza come una società segreta; dall'altra parte si percepisce la sua azione e il livello dove si registra il suo grado di autenticità iniziatica, le cause della sua riuscita e dei suoi fallimenti, ecc. La tipologia delle società segrete utilizza dei criteri qualitativi o gerarchici che saranno brevemente esaminati nelle righe successive.

LA CLASSIFICAZIONE SECONDO IL CRITERIO OGGETTIVO

Si tratta di determinare non più il tipo della società secondo l'esame delle sue finalità, ma di ciò che la circonda, il suo impatto, la natura stessa dei suoi scopi. Una prima analisi, certamente tanto semplice al punto da essere semplicista, sufficiente tuttavia in numerosi casi, distingue:

- le società segrete religiose
- le società segrete politico-sociali

- le società di movimento occulto

- le società pan-finaliste.

a) Le Società segrete religiose

La loro finalità è di natura religiosa, sia che esse siano praticanti una religione costituita, sia che esse tentano di promuovere una nuova filosofia religiosa, sia ancora che esse si mettano al servizio, a gradi variabili, di movimenti religiosi; in questo caso sono da studiare sotto l'aspetto doppio del dirigente o del "membro base" della società. L'uno, in effetti, può perseguire uno scopo para-religioso, ovvero extra-religioso; il secondo resta motivato, essenzialmente, dall'aspetto religioso dell'azione.

È evidente che la religione possa servire a galvanizzare una piccola massa di gente decisa. Se le relazioni tra l'obiettivo religioso e immediato, ed altre finalità politiche, per esempio, sono molto strette o addirittura confuse, la religione può diventare il pretesto, nello stesso tempo che lo strumento privilegiato, delle mete politiche. La differenza tra le motivazioni religiose dei membri di base e quelle politiche dei loro capi può essere, in questo caso, molto grande.

Per quanto non sia possibile definire tutte le società segrete religiose dal parametro dell'origine, questo è, d'altra parte, fondamentale per quanto riguarda le società segrete religiose. Ciascuno potrebbe farne l'oggetto di una monografia di notevole mole.

Il punto fondamentale resta la stretta relazione tra gli scopi puramente religiosi e tutti gli altri. Questo rapporto si stabilisce in qualsiasi ambiente sociale, ma con molto più vigore nell'ambito delle società segrete, come, ad esempio, in quella dei Templari, degli Assassini, dei Thugs, ecc.

b) Le società segrete politico-sociali

S'intende, per società segrete politico-sociali, ogni associazione il cui scopo principale è il soddisfacimento di un bisogno, o la messa in luogo d'una struttura a carattere essenzialmente politico o sociale. Questi due ultimi termini si devono comprendere nella loro accezione sociologica ristretta poiché un allargamento troppo estensivo renderebbe impossibile qualsiasi sforzo tassonomico, assimilando, da vicino o da lontano, ad uno scopo politico e sociale tutte le finalità delle società segrete.

La società politico-sociale è generalmente del tipo "a mezzi segreti". I suoi scopi sono per la maggior parte del tempo conosciuti; la forma segreta non è né voluta né desiderata che come strumento provvisorio, destinato unicamente a facilitare l'azione. Bisogna tuttavia rimarcare che, in seno alle società segrete politiche e sociali si può costituire un piccolo collegio, più segreto ancora, che servirà nel caso in cui l'associazione giunga ai suoi scopi e potrà allora rendersi non occulta, inquadrare il movimento, ispirarlo, ed eventualmente fargli sopravanzare il semplice quadro politico.

La maggior parte delle associazioni segrete politico-sociali sono di opposizione, sia che le sue posizioni siano contraddittorie con quelle del governo e delle istituzioni, sia simili (ma in maniera "ultras"). Le società politico-sociali di collaborazione sono più rare, perché meno utili. Esse non rispondono più, in effetti, a questo bisogno teorico d'occultamento; l'idea ormai ha raggiunto una promozione sufficiente per manifestarsi pubblicamente.

Le società di collaborazione politico-sociale hanno carattere più riservato che realmente segreto. Esse servono in generale a stimolare le istituzioni ufficiali, troppo poco efficienti o troppo poco energiche. A queste società si affidano delle missioni di conciliazione, d'informazione o anche esecuzioni di bassa manovalanza.

L'ideazione e la creazione dell'associazione di collaborazione possano essere spontanee, o indotte da organi di cui si serve la causa. Il ruolo di questo tipo di società rimane comunque confinato a quello, sottoposto, d'esecuzione ed intermediazione.

È, d'altronde, a questo ruolo che è destinata, ugualmente, la società d'opposizione quando i suoi scopi siano raggiunti. Essa perde il suo carattere originale di fermento nascosto per degenerare in organo ufficiale, non più occulto, ed i suoi membri sono ridotti al ruolo d'accolti tollerati o di noiosi reduci. Più facilmente quest'associazione sparisce gradualmente di buon grado, o, qualche volta, è sciolta con la forza. Solo se esistesse il piccolo nucleo di cui si è parlato prima, potrebbe allora continuare la sua missione del quadro della società segreta. La società segreta politico-sociale può avere delle relazioni, più o meno strette, con quelle religiose, sempre segrete, le proposte religiose ufficiali e le differenti ideologie ammesse del periodo in cui opera. Questa relazione è raramente così definita come quelle che legano le società religiose e le altre.

C'è generalmente "simpatia attiva" o espressione di un attaccamento maggioritario, ma raramente qualcosa di più; un impegno più diretto ipotecherebbe troppo la realtà politico-sociale della società di fronte alla sua base, rischiando così di avere delle numerose defezioni. È solo a livello di collegio occulto che le relazioni saranno meglio definite e più strette.

e) Le società di movimento occulto

Le società di movimento occulto si situano generalmente nella tipologia classica di tipo misto.

Il loro soggetto principale è di natura occulta, come la pratica di una delle grandi scienze esoterico- iniziatiche (magia, alchimia, ecc.) o una semplice forma d'incontro tra iniziati che hanno già raggiunto una certa soglia e che mettano in comune le loro esperienze.

Le società di movimento occulto sono le più curiose e le più affascinanti che esistano, con degli usi e dei costumi sovente non conosciuti ed un folklore molto ricco e molto attraente.

È raro che queste società si limitino strettamente al loro oggetto tipologico. La maggior parte lo sopravanza, ufficialmente o individualmente, ma con l'accettazione dei membri più dinamici. La retrologia politica o religiosa è raramente assente nelle società segrete di questo tipo. Qualche volta esse non costituiscono che dei paraventi, giudicati poco pericolosi dagli organi ufficiali in ragione dell'apparente innocuità dei loro pseudo-scopi. Per mezzo di questo giudizio – o meglio pregiudizio - esse conducono un'azione ancor più insospettabile, in quanto iscritta in un quadro generale più occulto, che non ha sempre bisogno di giustificarsi, né di fronte ai membri né, a maggior ragione, con l'esterno.

d) La società pan-finalista

Come indica il suo nome stesso, essa non mira a contrastare l'avanzare di quella o di quell'altra idea politica o religiosa o filosofica, ma a creare, ex-novo, una struttura totale, una specie di nuovo sistema proposto all'uomo e alla società. La società pan-finalista necessita di alcuni commenti.

Dapprima, sul suo genere, essa può essere sia a forma, sia a scopo, sia a mezzi segreti, o, più sovente, a tipo misto. Ma, in tutti i casi, l'occultamento ne deriva meno da uno sforzo cosciente che dell'imprecisione formale dei compiti che possono essere determinati nei domini più vari della vita.

In questo senso, la società pan-finalista non appare più come un tipo speciale, ma come un modo qualitativo d'associazione ad un'ambizione armonica.

In più, bisogna precisare che in questo tipo la finalità è, generalmente, posta come un criterio imperioso che bisogna illustrare non appena possibile, vale a dire subito, nell'ambito della società segreta.

Così questa si organizza immediatamente in una specie di piccolo conclave nella società esoterica; può essere una cellula, una loggia, un monastero, una comunità, ecc.

Una tale organizzazione passa difficilmente inavvertita, anche se si rifugia generalmente dietro una ragione sociale meno visibile: società commerciale, associazione, partito, o altre aggregazioni segrete, meno sospettabili.

Spesso, la società pan-finalista si costituisce nel seno di un altro gruppo segreto a scopo precisato, e conduce un lavoro d'orientamento, d'ispirazione e di dottrina.

Si tratta di un gruppo che può agire a tutti i livelli e resta invisibile anche alla gerarchia della società che l'accoglie: questo tipo di situazione si chiama "ingerenza". Il termine si applica ad altre forme operative, in seno alle società segrete e non, e costituisce l'arma più temibile e più efficace che possiede l'iniziato.

Il criterio oggettivo è uno degli elementi tipologici che permettono di caratterizzare e indovinare una società segreta. Bisogna però fare appello ad un altro criterio, quello gerarchico, per situare a quale livello opera la società, sullo scacchiere dell'occulto. Il termine gerarchico appare particolarmente adatto poiché esso libera due radici argotiche di comprensione, Secretum=Sacer e Potere, che apprezzeranno nel loro giusto valore i discepoli di Hermes.

Pereat ut vivat

CLASSIFICAZIONE SECONDO IL CRITERIO GERARCHICO

Si può ripartire in tre categorie classiche, che possono rendere conto, con sufficiente precisione, della realtà occulta. Possiamo distinguere:

a) Le società di base

Queste società formano la massa operativa dell'armata delle ombre. Si tratta di una società che recluta direttamente all'esterno, partendo da criteri generalmente non molto rigorosi.

La società può essere religiosa, politica, ecc. Può anche agire secondo l'una o l'altra delle maniere esaminate nella prima parte della teoria, ma in ogni caso essa si rivolge all'esterno e forma, in qualche modo, la soglia del mondo occulto, di fronte al grande pubblico.

Bisogna comprendere bene l'importanza delle società di base, e determinare il loro ruolo preciso, per rendersi conto esattamente dell'azione di quelle più chiuse o più segrete.

È, in effetti, da questo canale di "massa" che transita la maggior parte delle informazioni e che manipola gli organi esterni. La qualità del lavoro fatto dalle società di base non è in funzione del loro livello d'occultamento, contrariamente ad un'opinione classica, e che il termine "base" ha contribuito a definire. In effetti, benché condotta qualche volta su ampio raggio, l'azione delle società di base è, la maggior parte delle volte, di qualità eccellente, soprattutto tenuto conto delle difficoltà pratiche che solleva il numero, qualche volta eccessivamente elevato, dei partecipanti.

La società di base s'indirizza, dunque, verso persone che verranno dall'esterno e che s'impegneranno in un lavoro segreto in quello o quell'altro campo. Questo lavoro, se è fatto bene, può portare colui che lo compie a posti di responsabilità nel seno della società segreta, vale a dire al suo inquadramento interno in un livello più alto.

Ma, sempre in seno alla società, alcuni individui possono raggiungere un'autonomia intellettuale così sufficiente, un'esperienza occulta così progredita, cui la società segreta non appare più che sotto l'aspetto di un bello strumento, denudato pertanto di valore intrinseco.

Lo stesso modo di procedere può essere, certamente, adottato da un individuo isolato nel mondo esteriore. Ma è più facile e frequente indurlo dalla società di base, a causa delle metodiche iniziatiche che questa adotta È da questo che si può definire questo tipo di società come di base, poiché alcuni individui vi acquisiscono le basi necessarie al pensiero esoterico, e, conseguentemente, ad un'azione armonica sia sul piano individuale sia su quello collettivo. Il termine base fa così meno riferimento a una gerarchia di individui che alla gerarchia qualitativa delle conoscenze che essi acquisiscono.

L'azione delle società di base può influenzare l'esterno e/o perfezionare i membri; si parla nel primo caso d'attività esogene, propagande, edizioni, opere, ecc. al primo grado delle quali si attribuisce il reclutamento degli elementi nuovi. Nell'altro caso noi siamo in presenza d'attività endogene (formazione dei membri, solidarietà, ecc.). Si distingue, fra le attività esogene, l'azione intrinseca collettiva (del gruppo verso il corpo esteriore, con la sola potenza della società) e le azioni estrinseche individuali, che sono condotte da un membro che utilizza le sue personali competenze esterne, la sua influenza, ecc., per raggiungere i fini della società attraverso le due azioni congiunte e concordate.

L'azione endogena di formazione serve, d'altra parte, a rendere i membri più competenti, e più disponibili, per delle azioni estrinseche che saranno loro richieste.

La pratica della solidarietà fraterna, quasi generale nelle società di base, facilita la disponibilità operativa delle persone. Rende inoltre la loro azione più agile, togliendoli da certi impicci materiali, e serve da test e indice di coesione e pertanto d'efficacia.

Reciprocamente le azioni esogene volute dai membri devono fornire loro un potente supporto pedagogico e di meditazione, sui quali essi possono appoggiarsi per condurre un'azione di tipo endogeno.

Le società di base perseguono sempre un'azione autonoma ma, sovente, un'altra società, più segreta, o, più esattamente, con la quale non si può distinguere una relazione diretta, le inquadra e le orienta tutte le loro attività.

Si parla in questo secondo caso di società di base inquadrate da un'altra d'inquadramento. Poche società di base sfuggono all'inquadramento, che a volte, ma non sempre, non è a conoscenza dei loro stessi capi

Se vi è un rischio certo, in quanto all'originalità ed alla spontaneità delle azioni dei membri della base, bisogna anche rilevare che l'inquadramento è, con le sue particolari tecniche, una sicurezza di riuscita e di efficacia. Una società di base che lo evita con misura sistematica, o alla quale non è accordato, si espone a dei gravi pericoli e all'annientamento.

b) Le società d'inquadramento

Così come indica il loro nome, le società d'inquadramento formano e riuniscono i quadri di varie società segrete. Infatti, sotto questo concetto, (inquadramento) bisogna distinguere parecchie nozioni affini, benché non identiche.

Innanzitutto bisogna stabilire un parallelo metodologico tra il termine di quadro e quello di base. La società di base è certamente formata a partire dalla base stessa, ma serve anche a dare ai membri i fondamenti del lavoro occulto.

La società d'inquadramento si compone, parallelamente, d'agenti d'inquadramento, ma soprattutto definisce dei criteri d'azione, sia precisando alla base la direzione verso cui deve sforzarsi ad agire in priorità, sia impiegandosi essa stessa a creare le condizioni, i quadri adatti, per l'azione più efficace possibile della base.

In questa prospettiva una tipologia assai raffinata giunge a mettere in evidenza i differenti tipi delle società di inquadramento.

b) Le società d'inquadramento interno

Come in tutti i raggruppamenti umani, certi individui acquisiscono nelle società segrete una grande influenza. Essa può essere solamente gerarchica; in questo caso le strutture assicurano l'efficacia del potere (ad esempio quello militare, dove la gerarchia è influente perché si basa su degli insiemi ordinati di costrizione potente). Essa può essere gerarchica e funzionale: se si riprende l'esempio dell'esercito sarà il caso del capo, che basa la sua potenza di comando su un grande valore umano, molta competenza e autorità personale. Essa può essere infine puramente fattiva, vale a dire esistere senza iscriversi nella minima istituzionalizzazione del potere.

Un'influenza concettuale condivisa, una comunanza di vedute e una storia personale quasi simile, saranno gli elementi che porteranno gli individui che ne sono detentori a raggrupparsi riservatamente nel seno della società: per meglio assicurarsi il potere, lo si eserciterà con più chiarezza ed efficacia di altri.

Si parlerà perciò di un raggruppamento di quadri che possono costituirsi in una seconda società segreta all'interno di quella di base. Questa società interna di quadri coprirà, nei riguardi dei suoi membri, lo stesso ruolo della società di base di fronte ai suoi: formazione, aiuti reciproci, ecc. Essa sarà investita di una missione specifica che la caratterizzerà: l'inquadramento della società di base, che si farà, notoriamente, attraverso le decisioni prese collettivamente dai membri influenti nel seno della società di base.

Si può mettere a confronto questa sorta di gerarchia dei livelli decisionali con la formazione dei gruppi specializzati di certi organismi amministrativi, o, anche, alla riunione dei comitati direttivi che non hanno altri titoli d'esistenza che l'influenza speciale dei membri che la compongono. I quadri, restando membri della società di base e orientando tutta la loro attività in funzione di questa, formano realmente una società segreta interna. Si parla dunque di società di quadro interno.

c) La società di quadro esteriorizzato

Il processo è molto differente. In questo tipo la microsocietà, composta dai quadri della società di base, si riunisce, si struttura, poi si stacca parzialmente per lavorare con un'altra società, generalmente di un livello d'occultamento superiore a quello della società d'origine.

Questo modo di procedere, generalmente molto progressivo, permette ai quadri di prendere le necessarie distanze emotive ed intellettuali per giudicare, sia razionalmente che sottilmente, l'azione della loro società di base. Permette inoltre di rendere equanime lo spirito di coloro che la conducono. di portare ad un livello più alto l'esame delle tensioni interne e quindi alla loro risoluzione.

Il gruppo di quadro si può a volte esteriorizzare di fronte alla società che l'accoglie, e non sarà raro che conservi, nel contempo, tutti i suoi particolarismi, costituendo - in altre parole ed a sua volta - un piccolo gruppo segreto autonomo di collaborazione.

Qualche volta certi quadri procedono a uno scambio di poteri nell'ambito di due diversi gruppi: l'esempio degli Haschiscin e dei Templari è rimasto celebre a questo proposito. Questo scambio è facilitato da una relativa comunità di vedute; non obbligatoriamente dottrinale, ma per lo meno tattica, poiché problemi assai simili si pongono nella grande maggioranza delle società segrete: ad esempio il reclutamento, il finanziamento, il mantenimento della qualità del lavoro ecc.

Questi problemi, difficili da risolversi tra una sola società di base, sono più facili da trattarsi fra elementi ormai selezionati e in grado di mettere a confronto, reciprocamente, quelli incontrati dai loro omologhi.

In questi due tipi il gruppo di quadro resta prima di tutto legato alla società di base; il suo particolarismo funzionale ha, per missione essenziale, il miglioramento dell'azione, fornendogli dei quadri meglio definiti.

Le due categorie che seguono, al contrario, procedono con spirito molto diverso. I quadri si caratterizzano nettamente e la loro natura li diversifica al punto da separarsi dalla loro stessa base.

Certamente, lavorano ancora per questa, ma l'organo fondamentale diventa per loro la loro società d'inquadramento, la vera società segreta prioritaria e privilegiata, al servizio della quale la base è più o meno destinata o utilizzata.

d) Le società d'inquadramento "per promozione"

Così come abbiamo appena suggerito, questa società non si pone, infatti, che a titolo di secondo grado di fronte alla società di base. La finalità del lavoro in questa ultima diventa l'ammissione alla società d'inquadramento, considerata e sentita come superiore.

La società d'inquadramento del primo tipo (interna) può facilmente deviare verso questo terzo tipo: è sufficiente perciò che organizzzi delle strutture molto selezionate e limitative, circondate da elementi caratterizzati da scarse qualificazioni, per meglio nascondere le qualità dei membri della società.

Dalla gerarchia funzionale si arriva alla gerarchia di classe. L'elemento caratteristico di questo genere di quadro comporta, come si è detto prima, l'ammissione nel suo seno d'individui sprovvisti delle minime sfumature qualitative, intorno ai quali si raggruppano i membri delle società dei quadri interni.

Questa possibilità di reclutamento esterno deteriore comporta però creazione, attraverso il tempo, di una apparente pseudo-aristocrazia. Come questa, essa può cadere attraverso la mediocrità all'isolazionismo sociale, vale a dire, in casi limitati, a delle vere ereditarietà.

E' il caso di certi raggruppamenti occulti della massoneria, che costituiscono una vera aristocrazia quasi ereditaria, in cui la qualità di origine è stata quasi annullata.

Tuttavia, le società segrete sono, generalmente, molto ben armate contro questo rischio. Esse impongono, in effetti, delle regole istituzionali che nella maggior parte del tempo sventano questo rischio. E notoriamente il ruolo della democrazia, necessariamente molto rigida sull'equivalenza dei diritti di tutti i membri della società, o al contrario, delle regole di disciplina élitaria molto strette. In quest'ultimo caso, solo la gerarchia ufficiale potrebbe erigersi in società d'inquadramento. Questo rischio sembra tuttavia marginale per il fatto della posizione già preminente di coloro che sarebbero suscettibili di farglielo correre.

Ingerenza di un'altra società segreta

e) Società di quadro Integrato

La struttura di quadro può non essere spontanea, si tratterà all'occorrenza di una società suscitata dall'esterno, generalmente da un altro ente segreto, di cui alcuni membri si infiltrano società di base per diffondervi un'idea o per instaurarvi una pratica.

Sovente quest'ingerenza sarà molto vicina alla direzione della società, tuttavia senza confondersi con la sua gerarchia ufficiale.

Due casi possono allora presentarsi: i maneggi dei membri ingeriti sono notati e suscitano la creazione di una cellula interna specifica, intorno all'idea che la motiva. Il processo diviene allora quello delle società dei quadri interni.

In altri casi al contrario i maneggi individuati servono di mezzo pubblicitario o di strumento di propaganda che permettono di esteriorizzare certi membri particolarmente perspicaci, e di attirarli nella società ingerente. Sia che essi vi pervengano, sia che siano mantenuti a un livello intermediario, in ogni caso c'è una messa in luogo di una struttura specifica dei membri della società di base, di cui alcuni si trovano, da questo fatto, sistemati in una situazione di società d'inquadramento.

Per non appesantire lo studio, le norme d'ingerenza non saranno per il momento oggetto di un esame dettagliato che affronteremo in un annesso.

f) La società segreta superiore

Con la società segreta superiore si pone un problema metodologico estremamente difficile da risolvere. In effetti, il fenomeno società segreta non è abordabile che tramite due strumenti che possono purtroppo, far difetto nell'analisi di questi enti.

L'analisi descrittiva non è possibile per delle società che sono, a priori, così segrete che non è ipotizzabile, al momento, che postularne l'esistenza. L'analisi descrittiva, per quanto fosse possibile, non comprenderebbe che dei raggruppamenti dispersi, e che si sono rivelati per motivi di una politica molto difficile da inquadrare.

Scarto, sicuramente il tradimento che, benché concepibile, risulta eccessivamente poco verosimile nel caso presente, e soprattutto senza precedente storico incontestato.

Quanto all'interpretazione logica, essa si basa di più sulla deduzione probabilista che sull'induzione sperimentale e contiene in sé stessa i suoi limiti.

Queste tecniche sono tanto più prossime alla verità, e possono meglio definire il problema, per il fatto che la società superiore non agisce che attraverso altri, sovente attraverso i quadri. Diventa allora quasi impossibile distinguere la sua azione propria da quella della società che gli serve al tempo stesso da schermo e da trasmettitore.

Cosa dobbiamo concluderne? Bisogna supporre che la società superiore non sia che un assioma? L'analogia è una chiave esoterica la cui universalità si rende perfettamente applicabile allo studio delle società segrete.

Non è probabile che una relazione tra società di quadro, ancora discernibile, e associazione superiore si stabilisca spontaneamente, negli stessi rapporti e nelle stesse condizioni che quelle appena esposte, e che colleghino le società di base a quelle di quadro?

In favore di quest'argomento, più che semplicemente ipotetico, conviene rilevare che un procedimento unico indurrebbe verosimilmente un effetto simile nello stesso quadro. Questa legge, che la sociologia delle Società Segrete non può smentire, postula l'esistenza delle società di quadro a fronte di tipologie che abbiamo studiato nel capitolo precedente. È la società superiore. Pertanto troppi autori hanno tendenza a credere che una società segreta, che inquadra gerarchicamente una società detta d'inquadramento, costituisca obbligatoriamente, di fatto, una società superiore. Quest'opinione costituisce, a nostro avviso, un errore che denota una profonda ignoranza della realtà occulta.

Certamente questo criterio è importante, ma non lo è nel senso originale, gerarchico. Si confonde così, troppo sistematicamente, i livelli di una stessa struttura assegnando dei luoghi tipici a degli elementi che non sono che degli epifenomeni.

L'elemento è necessario ma non caratteristico: vi aggiungo un criterio più fondamentale ancora, quello del livello d'autenticità. Non c'è una società superiore che non si distingua per un livello più elevato d'autenticità più vicina alle sorgenti.

Questa spiacevole confusione tra semplice società di inquadramento di una società di quadro e società realmente superiore, pone sul terreno dei mezzi quantitativi e d'importanza di grande portata un criterio che deve essere, prima di tutto, percepito sotto il suo aspetto qualitativo. Gli ALTA COLLEGIA sono le sole società realmente superiori e influenzano in un modo totalmente occulto tutti i raggruppamenti segreti.

Si tratta di organi molto nascosti, reclutati secondo dei modelli specifici; un punto importante da sottolineare è che queste società agiscono all'esterno per mezzo di altre che hanno per missione esclusiva questo compito, così da assicurare il segreto nel caso più critico. Queste società particolari, schermo e salvaguardia, sono composte da individui indiscernibili, che conducono un'azione di grande importanza. Sono una sorta di commessi viaggiatori la cui origine storica certa è da ricercare nell'inquadramento della flotta marittima dell'Ordine del Tempio. I viaggiatori, chiamati in argotico i Nobili Viaggiatori, non costituiscono per sé stessi la società superiore, ma ne sono i portavoce autorizzati. Il loro ruolo è veramente importante, poiché, per quanto subordinato ad una struttura, questa è controllata strettamente per dei mezzi che solo loro hanno il potere di darle. Il reclutamento nella società superiore e nei suoi Viaggiatori obbedisce a delle regole differenti, ma l'accesso diretto, in questi due casi, è veramente eccezionale, in quanto le società superiori non si esprimono che attraverso degli organi derivati.

Si possono citare alcuni personaggi storici che furono degli importanti viaggiatori: Ireneo Filarete, il Conte di Saint-Germain, Filippo Buonarroti, Helena Petrovna Blavatsky, Ignazio Treblitsch Lincoln.

Altri personaggi gravitano intorno alle società superiori: Jacques Dartan, fondatore dell'ortologia, Cécil Hoskin, che scrive sotto uno pseudonimo celebre, il preteso Rode Guasco, ecc.

Queste persone sono nella scia delle società superiori e i loro scritti e le loro parole sono una testimonianza vivente delle azioni che esse conducono.

VERSO UN NUOVO CRITERIO, L'AUTENTICITÀ

Né il criterio oggettivo, né il criterio gerarchico, è sufficiente a caratterizzare perfettamente una Società Segreta. In particolare questi criteri non si rapportano direttamente alle società che si riferiscono alla catena occulta che stabiliscono fra di loro, di fronte alla grande tradizione iniziatica.

L'antichità o l'anzianità storica non sarebbe assolutamente sufficiente, in quanto si possono concepire delle società antiche che resterebbero da parte o anche al di fuori di questa tradizione, mentre altre più recenti possono rivendicarla a buon diritto.

Nello stesso si può affermare per il livello gerarchico dell'azione, che non coincide sempre con l'autenticità iniziatica che pretende di controllare. Quale società di base potrebbe considerarsi, a buon diritto, continuatrice dei grandi misteri egiziani, per esempio, allorché, nello stesso tempo, delle società di quadri che la controllassero avessero semplicemente perduto, o non avessero mai avuto, la minima parcella d'autentica iniziazione?. In questo caso bisognerebbe ricercare le contingenze storiche di questa deficienza, senza perdere di vista che la società inquadrante non ha potuto essa stessa situarsi là - per quanto meno autentica - che come leva d'azione di un'altra società che l'incorpora e che essa non può non essere nella linea, similmente iniziatica, della società di base inquadrata.

Il criterio oggettivo naturalmente non pregiudica in niente l'autenticità. Bisogna in ogni modo osservare che il problema delle origini delle prime società segrete, che sono state presunte, a torto o a ragione, come autentiche, è posto impropriamente, in quanto sarebbe necessario, in primis, notare una coincidenza storica tra l'attuale concetto d'autenticità e la conoscenza effettiva della finalità delle prime società.

Questo problema resta in sospeso, perché non è stato affatto dimostrato che l'autenticità corrisponde precisamente alla più antica finalità, né che essa non sia formata su altri elementi originali o semplicemente storici. A titolo d'esempio quale ruolo ha avuto il caso, gli "interventi esterni", gli individui d'eccezione, la somma degli elementi passati considerata in se stessa come un dato integrale, ecc. nella formazione primigenia di tali società?

Non è facile definire l'autenticità senza fare appello a degli esempi precisi. Pertanto per restare nell'ambito del presente articolo, esamineremo tre forme di società segrete, classificate secondo il loro avvicinamento all'autenticità o all'immediatezza di questo avvicinamento.

LA SOCIETÀ COSTITUITA

Questo termine si può applicare a tutte le società, create gradualmente o integralmente. A volte una o più persone suscitano un piccolo movimento intorno a loro, tentando di ampliarlo. Lo statuto, gli usi, fondati ed affermati col tempo, sono presentati come un corpus già presente agli inizi, ai nuovi aderenti. Questo serve da una parte ad attrarli e dall'altra a impregnarli degli scopi o della forma d'azione della società

Più generalmente, essi sono stati già preconcepiti come degli strumenti più perfezionati per la realizzazione degli scopi della società. Questo genere di raggruppamento è pertanto dotato di una sorta di costituzione già alle origini, chiamata sia "carta", sia "statuto", sia "atto fondamentale" ecc., che fa emergere il carattere, finalizzato fin dalle origini, della formazione.

Il criterio oggettivo, naturalmente, non pregiudica l'autenticità. Tutt'al più, bisogna osservare che il problema delle origini delle prime società segrete presunte, a torto o a ragione autentiche è direttamente posto poiché bisognerebbe attendere una coincidenza storica tra la nozione attuale d'autenticità e quella di finalità delle prime società. Ma questo problema resta in sospeso, perché non è stato dimostrato che l'autenticità corrisponde precisamente alla più antica finalità, né che essa non sia formata su altri elementi originali o semplicemente storici. A titolo di esempio il ruolo del caso, degli "interventi esterni", degli individui d'eccezione, della somma degli elementi passati considerata in se stessa come un dato integrale ecc.

Non è facile definire l'autenticità senza fare appello a degli esempi precisi. Pertanto per restare nel quadro del presente articolo noi esamineremo tre forme di società segrete, classificate secondo il loro avvicinamento all'autenticità o all'immediatezza di quest'avvicinamento.

È importante cogliere bene questo carattere fondamentale, perché è precisamente l'atto di base che crea e organizza la società segreta che ne costituisce (costituzione) il fondamento L'idea occulta originaria sopravvive per un tempo lunghissimo, anche al di fuori di quest'atto costitutivo, come il concetto di nazione perdura malgrado tutti i mutamenti politici e costituzionali che vivono i paesi. Ma la specificità della società si basa sulla sua organizzazione, intesa in senso lato.

Nel corso della loro evoluzione, le società così costituite, se gli scopi sembrano degni di un avvicinamento, per via d'assimilazione, alla tradizione, possono avvicinarsi a delle sorgenti esoteriche. Questo può avvenire anche lucidamente e volontariamente, ma, più generalmente, in maniera perfettamente incosciente e impercettibile.

Quest'auspicabile e corretto riavvicinamento si può effettuare anche per collaborazione e condivisione delle finalità (e dei mezzi per affermarle), con una società più vicina, in genere più antica. Si parla allora di società affiliata.

LA SOCIETA' SEGRETA. AFFILIATA O RAVVICINATA

In questa forma si comprende che gli scopi espressi, o l'azione condotta, appaiono meno come motori fondamentali che come un dato intrinseco, da sostituire nel contesto più generale della società madre, dell'idea forza, della gerarchia esoterica.

La società affiliata o collegata persegue dunque due scopi, che non è sempre facile distinguere

- il suo proprio, che come nel caso della società costituita. serve soprattutto a far aderire i differenti elementi che la compongono.
- lo scopo superiore o parallelo, al quale quest'ultimo si avvicina o di cui serve la causa

È necessario diversificare il concetto di società collegate e società di base inquadrata. Nel secondo è il legame gerarchico che riunisce ad un insieme più ristretto, ma più operante, la società segreta che si prende in considerazione. Nel primo, al contrario è la conformità dello scopo dei principi tradizionali o la prossimità di pensiero che si ritiene essere elemento caratteristico. Poco importa dunque, nella teoria, che la società affiliata o collegata sia inquadrata da un'altra.

Essa può agire sola e non essere soggetta ad ingerenza, ma restare più autentica delle società dette di base o di quadri, dove la struttura piramidale crea dei rapporti d'ingerenza e dei controlli molto rigidi. Questa considerazione è utile per porre delle definizioni. In pratica il suo interesse è minore per molte motivazioni. Prima di tutto è poco verosimile che una società di base non ingerita possa ricollegarsi alla grande, autentica, tradizione, perché questa si rivela solo con l'insegnamento orale dei maestri, generalmente membri delle società di quadro. D'altra parte, le società di quadro ingeriscono, in priorità, quelle dette di base, che sono in realtà le più vicine alla tradizione autentica e, a posteriori, quelle che più possono reclamarsene. L'opposizione - società inquadrata - società ravvicinata perde dunque nella pratica molto interesse. Infine e soprattutto, l'operatività delle società superiori non si fonde in principio che sulla messa in applicazione dei principi dell'esoterismo autentico. Per ricorrenza, ma soprattutto per via d'analogia, se ne può dedurre che questo modello si ritrova a tutti i livelli intermediari; quanto ai livelli di base, se l'autenticità non è sempre una loro completa caratteristica, lo è in ogni modo molto di più delle società di quadro, che si proclamano esser meglio aderenti ad un ambito gerarchico tradizionale. Un esempio, come quello della massoneria comune, appoggia questa tesi e può utilmente essere collegato a quello di altri raggruppamenti meno autentici. Bisogna a questo punto far notare che un raggruppamento, per quanto segreto, avrà sempre di più difficoltà, col tempo, a esulare dal circuito dell'autenticità, specialmente se a questa aspira. Nello stesso tempo, più si avvicinerà e più avrà - e si sentirà investita di - un ruolo di guida molto simile a quello delle società di quadro. Si può affermare dunque, senza timore di deformare troppo la realtà iniziatica, che esiste un'analogia certa tra autenticità, o - più esattamente - tra livello e autenticità o fra livello o gerarchia. Questo ragionamento avvicina i fatti alla teoria e appoggia la tesi secondo la quale la società superiore è obbligatoriamente più autentica.

LA SOCIETA' AUTENTICA

La sua definizione è molto difficile, per molti motivi. Il primo è d'ordine puramente metodologico: qualsiasi società segreta mira all'autenticità o la reclama; è dunque difficile poter attribuire a ciascuna il grado di autenticità che le spetta. Più difficile ancora quando si tratta di attribuire, all'una o all'altra, caratteri di perfetta autenticità allorché, sovente, molti elementi ne fanno difetto. La seconda motivazione si rifà a un criterio di autenticità. La stessa società può, a lato d'elementi non perfettamente autentici, conservare un fondo tradizionale ben vitale o, al contrario, non conservare che qualche frammento d'iniziazione reale attraverso un simbolismo approssimativo. Infine può essere, soprattutto, che la società autentica sia rigidamente segreta e che non si manifesti che attraverso strutture ingerite; ma davanti a tanto occultamento il ricercatore non raggiunge che raramente la sorgente originale ed a riconoscerne il carattere autentico.

Queste difficoltà non sono, tuttavia, insormontabili. In effetti, l'autenticità è un dato essenzialmente operativo e se essa non si lascia facilmente conoscere, per contro imprime delle caratteristiche fondamentali a coloro che ne sono i detentori e che si distinguono assai bene.

L'autenticità di una società segreta è determinata dalla sua vicinanza alla catena occulta e tanto più è viva quanto più le è vicina. Bisogna dunque tentare di distinguere il livello d'attaccamento alla catena occulta per stabilire l'autenticità che impregna quello, o quell'altro gruppo. La società autentica è, generalmente molto forte. In effetti, l'autenticità conferisce una gran potenza. Questa forza può, d'altra parte, esercitarsi a livelli differenti ed è piuttosto con il metodo dei "landmarks" o dei parametri effettivi, che il ricercatore deve cercare di sbrogliare l'agrovigliata matassa. La potenza dell'autenticità favorisce quindi lo sviluppo delle società segrete, poiché conferisce loro maggior influenza sull'ambiente che le circonda. Tuttavia lo sviluppo considerato non è necessariamente quantitativo, vale a dire inerente al numero importante dei membri, alla potenza finanziaria, alla ripartizione su una superficie geografica considerevole, ecc. Certamente quest' elemento è un indice notevole ma non è né assoluto, né necessario, ma al contrario ben fragile. Non è assoluto poiché certe società molto importanti non possono vantarsi d'alcuna un'autenticità; non è necessario perché a un momento determinato della loro esistenza le società sono sovente costrette a occultarsi, ciò che le conduce a restringere al massimo la loro forma esterna senza che l'essenza autentica ne sia compromessa; fragile, infine, nel caso, molto particolare, delle società segrete di quadri le cui strutture sono state concepite per essere le più temute possibile e dunque le meno vulnerabili. Infine, benché autentica, una società segreta, può non avere un'apertura realmente quantitativa per mancanza di permanenza. È così, di solito, nel caso delle società segrete che funzionano episodicamente, quali i tribunali della Santa Vehme che pertanto, per le loro tradizioni e le loro strutture, si possano considerare della più grande autenticità.

Lo sviluppo della società autentica può essere quantitativo in senso lato, ma può essere anche qualitativo, "stellare" come la stella marina che sviluppa dei tentacoli multipli ed efficaci senza pertanto coprire una superficie geografica importante. È così che, con un piccolo numero di membri impiantati nei gruppi occulti numerosi, una società segreta a strutture limitate può avere un'attività potentemente ¹ influente ed essere perfettamente autentica.

Bisogna accordare grande attenzione alle società che esistono da secoli, vale a dire un millennio o più, e che manifestano attraverso la loro continuità una forza eccezionale. L'avvicinamento ai principi essenziali e operativi favorisce la vita di questi raggruppamenti, e permette loro di sopravvivere ai differenti cambiamenti sociali, politici ecc, per adattarsi e continuare costantemente l'azione. L'esempio dei grandi movimenti occulti, quali quelli suscitati intorno al pensiero della massoneria, che si esprime da molto tempo con notevole vigore, gioca vivamente a favore di quest'ipotesi prammatica. Ciò nonostante, così come per il criterio quantitativo o qualitativo, ci troviamo in presenza di un indice a carattere non determinante. Prima di tutto perché la durata non è un segno assoluto d'autenticità, ma può solamente indicare la permanenza nel mondo fisico di correnti astrali durevoli, che sono senza legami con l'oggetto del nostro studio (1). D'altro canto la durata, in se stessa, è un elemento difficile da apprezzare, quando si tratta di una società segreta che nasconde molto attentamente le sue origini, o che può apparire, attraverso gli anni o i secoli, sotto differenti aspetti, difficili a conciliare. Perché, soprattutto, l'autenticità di una società segreta può manifestarsi attraverso parecchi suoi organi successivi, raggruppamenti smembrati che a volte è impossibile, al di là delle differenti filiazioni prossime o lontane, congiunturali o stabilite, di risalire il corso genealogico, e pertanto un criterio temporale.

Il ricercatore deve pertanto osservare che il mondo occulto è di una vitalità molto originale e che può, ad un dato momento, conferire l'autenticità a un gruppo giovane, o provvisorio, che può essere anche effimero e, al bisogno, toglierla ad un gruppo antico più durevole o meglio stabilito.

L'ultima difficoltà del criterio temporale consiste nella volontà stessa dei raggruppamenti occulti autentici, che possono nascondere i loro dati mutabili e permanenti in differenti organi epifo-nominali, o successivi o paralleli o ingenti, dietro i quali si nascondono accuratamente. Inversamente lo stesso organo può agire, secondo i periodi, in conformità più o meno stretta con i principi iniziatici autentici, senza che la sua linea generale vari sensibilmente.

Il metodo dei "landmarks", o parametri da cui il ricercatore induce e riunisce parecchi elementi caratteristici è pertanto il più efficace e permette il confronto con dei raggruppamenti che non sarebbero mai stati esaminati, in quanto senza relazione apparente di collegamento alle idee forza.

La costanza d'originalità dei dati teorici specifici, seguita attraverso numerosi raggruppamenti occulti successivi o simultanei, senza rapporto stretto o apparente gli uni con gli altri, costituisce un segno quasi infallibile che una società - superiore e autentica - li guida. Gli stessi dati sono ancora più fondati, quando i gruppi sembrano variare sovente e dimostrano a volte, deliberatamente imprudenza. (2) Se due gruppi durevoli e simultanei dimostrano gli stessi scopi e impiegano dei metodi simili, bisogna supporre che uno dei due non sia autentico con lo stesso titolo dell'altro o che, entrambi, non siano autentici..

Al termine di questo breve studio tipologico, diamo due appendici che riguardano, l'una, la tecnica dell'ingerenza, l'altra la catena occulta e gli egregori. La conoscenza di queste tecniche è fondamentale nello studio delle società segrete.

ORIENTE OSIRIDEO EGIZIO

ANNESSE I

Nozioni d'egregore e catena occulta

Lo studio che abbiamo perseguito si è limitato a definire gli elementi tipologici essenziali che permettono di apprendere la realtà occulta sul piano materiale. Ma questa realtà non si esprime unicamente su questo piano. Più esattamente comporta diversi aspetti cui il solo lato materiale s'iscrive in un contesto più generale. Intendiamo in particolare gli aspetti astrali che sottintendono tutta l'azione e l'esistenza delle società segrete. Questi aspetti astrali sono indissociabili dal fenomeno società segrete e contribuiscono a caratterizzarlo. In effetti, possono esservi delle categorie multiple di raggruppamenti umani, che assomigliano, da vicino e da lontano, ad una o all'altra forma di società segreta o che ne presentano le strutture principali. Ma questi raggruppamenti non s'iscrivono nella prospettiva del mondo occulto e non hanno corrispondenza sul piano astrale (3). Le società segrete al contrario si prolungano esattamente in questo piano di cui esse sono, per loro forma, l'estensione del piano materiale. Non entra nel nostro proposito analizzare in dettaglio l'intrico delle società segrete nel piano astrale con tutti gli altri movimenti che le animano. Per contro è essenziale affrontare, quanto il limite tradizionale lo permette, due nozioni fondamentali: quella d'eggregore e quella della catena occulta.

L'eggregore.

Sotto questo vocabolo singolare che i differenti occultisti, anche i più famosi, non hanno definito con la stessa precisione che avrebbe conferito all'idea, attraverso i suoi multipli vettori, una forza incontestata. Si discerne un dato primario, che è la persistenza delle idee archetipe, redentrici e distruttrici, le cui manifestazioni (EPI-FANII) variano da un luogo e da un tempo all'altro, ma che sono tutte gli strumenti disponibili di una realtà omogenea. I raggruppamenti umani che le servono cambiano, evolvono, spariscono, ma la loro causa rimane, ripresa più tardi da altre persone, da altre società segrete.

L'eggregore, in questo senso, non ha una esistenza organica, sia sul piano materiale sia sul piano astrale, poiché essa non si concretizza che attraverso l'adesione di esseri a delle opzioni forti già scelte. Ma la realtà astrale impone al ricercatore una vista più ampia.

Il movimento d'influenza che nasce con l'influenza stessa può essere rappresentato come una natura ondulatoria stazionaria (come, ad esempio, il rullio ed il beccheggio di una nave). Quest'onda prende un'esistenza reale dal momento che essa continua a sua volta ad agitare il suo centro di propagazione e vi sussiste tanto più durevolmente in quanto contiene più energia iniziale e poiché essa incontra meno resistenze del supporto.

È così che le società segrete a forte coesione e animazione astrale molto viva continuano a vivere astralmente, molto tempo dopo che la loro azione si è spenta sul piano materiale. Che ritorni su quest'ultimo un raggruppamento identico (o a morfologia simile) e l'eggregore ricomincerà ad alimentarsi e a crescere. In reciprocità esso influenza tutte le società segrete e vi suscita le azioni che gli sono favorevoli, come il dondolio del battelli che si seguono si amplifica e a sua volta può mettere in movimento, poi in pericolo, e poi affondare altre navi, specie le più fragili.

Gli egregori sono molto socievoli e si raggruppano volentieri in organismi astrali molto potenti, una sorta di consorzierie, che generano a loro volta degli egregori più forti e più totalizzanti. I raggruppamenti si producano per affinità e sembrano prolungarsi fino alla costituzione e all'intrattenimento delle due genialità astrali che hanno un collegamento diretto al piano spirituale. Gli antichi chiamarono queste due astralità ADAM KADMON e ADAM BELIAL che, da vicino o da lontano, presidiavano tutte le società segrete.

La Catena Occulta.

È una nozione più accessibile. Rappresenta non tanto l'idea trasmessa, quanto i protagonisti del combattimento di coloro che la predicano. L'egregore di un partito politico segreto consiste in una certa concezione dell'organizzazione politico-sociale e si esprime in una globalità di sentimenti di comportamenti individuali o collettivi, in metodi particolari ecc. La Catena Occulta, al contrario, è costituita da entità: i promotori delle idee, i Maestri del passato e del presente e gli altri guerrieri del combattimento che si persegue nei tre piani. La Catena Occulta si compone d' esseri materiali ed astrali e assomiglia ad una vasta rete occulta che draga i mari del mondo materiale e di quello astrale. I partecipanti possono avere un ruolo attivo o una collaborazione occasionale, di semplice aderenza o di indifferenza quasi favorevole.

La catena occulta può essere invocata. Le società segrete possono classificarsi in ordine ai legami, più o meno stretti, che con essa intrattengono. Alcune agiscono senza neppure aver coscienza di esserne collegati, altri più abili o più autentici si sforzano di conformare la loro azione a quella che persegue la catena. Altre infine, più rare, agiscono solamente attraverso essa, mettendo al loro servizio la loro formidabile potenza e la loro rete così varia d'azione.

Emblema della “Thulegeselleschaft”

ANNESSE II

L'ingerenza

L'ingerenza è il procedimento per mezzo del quale una società segreta si mischia in un'altra per guidarne e suscitare le decisioni, le azioni o qualsiasi movimento preciso. Nella sua accezione profana il termine è sempre preso in termini negativi. Nello studio delle società segrete, al contrario, designa un metodo d'azione privilegiato delle società superiori e ha un senso positivo. Ciò che, per il suo aspetto non "confessato", può sembrare riprovevole, nel contesto del mondo esoterico, in un'ambiente d'azione segreta, diviene semplicemente normale. In questo senso, le relazioni ordinarie che si stabiliscono tra gruppi umani, società, ecc., hanno una corrispondenza specifica nel mondo esoterico. Le manovre che servono a ravvicinare due gruppi – o ad insinuare nell'uno elementi dell'altro – si mettono in atto tra società segrete, più sovente per mezzo dell'ingerenza. Al contrario le fusioni, i patti, ecc., che sono in uso tra le società essoteriche (società industriali, raggruppamenti politici ecc.) non rientrano fra le metodiche delle società esoteriche.

Diamo qui le indicazioni di sette procedimenti classici d'ingerenza, essendo inteso che queste non sono assolutamente limitative e presentano numerose varianti.

1) Uno o più membri di una società ingerente si affiliano a una società ingerita senza svegliare la sua attenzione, e tentano di prendere un posto preponderante che permetta loro di guidarla efficacemente.

Questo procedimento è sovente opportuno nei gruppi ingerenti di tipo democratico dove il rapporto dei voti assicura una buona ed efficace coesione nel gruppo ingerito tra i membri ingerenti. Questo è il primo procedimento al quale i gruppi intermediari fanno appello per l'ingerenza di gruppi equivalenti.

2) "Reclutamento" da parte della società ingerente di un membro che si trova nella società ingerita. Quest'ultimo diventa allora componente della società ingerente e favorisce quest'ultima, eventualmente utilizzando congiuntamente altri metodi d'ingerenza.

In questo procedimento, come d'altra parte in tutti i metodi d'ingerenza, se la società ingerente non è di un alto livello d'operosa rettitudine si espone tuttavia al rischio della perdita definitiva degli elementi ingerenti, sia a quello del "doppio gioco".

3) Questo sistema consiste in ciò che viene esposto al numero due con una variante fondamentale: la persona che deve operare direttamente è stato coscientemente scelto per il suo attaccamento alla società da ingerire. Il suo rifiuto interiore sarà quasi sicuramente certo ed è verosimile che porterà a conoscenza della società da ingerire tutti gli elementi che saranno in suo possesso sulla società ingerente. Questo tipo d'operatore è stato attentamente scelto da parte della società ingerente, proprio in previsione di questo rifiuto, al solo scopo di assicurarsi sotto la copertura di qualsiasi verosimiglianza questo mezzo efficace di trasmissione di un'informazione occulta.

4) Volontari "errori" della società ingेरente, in modo da attirare l'attenzione della società da ingerire, e deviare la sua azione, fornendo delle informazioni attentamente selezionate e disseminate nelle "fughe" di notizie.

Si tratta di un metodo d'ingerenza classica, molto efficace perché compromette solo a livello minimo gli individui, facendo passare una corrente di idee molto potenti e vitali.

Nei modelli precedenti l'ingerenza era effettuata direttamente dalla società ingेरente nei confronti della società ingerita. Nelle seguenti tre forme, al contrario c'è una partecipazione di tre società: la società ingेरente, quella ingerita, più una società intermediaria per la quale transita l'ingerenza.

4) Ingerenza diretta (1° tipo)

La società ingेरente non s'insinua in quella da ingerire, ma in una società superiore suscettibile di penetrarla. Si opera in modo da far notare quest'ultima e di richiedere conseguentemente l'invio d'elementi ritenuti qualificati per conto della società intermediaria (di fatto, della società ingेरente, per raggruppamento occulto interposto)

6) Ingerenza indiretta (2° tipo)

La società ingेरente procede in modo esattamente inverso. Essa cerca di ingerire la società d'inquadramento di una che questa ha già ingerito. Può così tentare di risalire attraverso quest'ultima alla società superiore, oppure d'inserire nella società ingerita degli elementi che faranno attirare l'attenzione della società d'inquadramento. Quest'ultima farà, allora, il primo passo (in realtà crederà di farlo) verso la società ingेरente.

7° Ingerenza retroattiva

La società ingेरente è invece ingerita dalla società che crede di ingerire. Questo processo è frequente quando la pseudo-società ingेरente ha deciso la sua azione d'ingerenza sotto l'influenza di una società superiore che invece l'invia a questa falsa missione per facilitare l'ingerenza inversa. Questo procedimento, a volte ispirato dalle guide astrali della catena occulta, è sovente impiegato con delle finalità pedagogiche.

NOTE

(I) Senza legame immediato, più esattamente, poiché tutta l'influenza astrale si ripercuote sul piano materiale nell'azione della catena occulta e dei suoi membri al rango privilegiato dei quali si comtano le Società Segrete.

(2) Questo termine è impiegato volutamente perché lascia posto a una nota pertinente: le società, anche le più segrete, si circondano sovente di tante precauzioni che possono rischiare di disoccultarsi di fronte a un ricercatore perspicace.

(3) In realtà ogni raggruppamento umano che si esprime sul piano materiale ha la sua controparte in tutti i piani, compresi quelli astrali; ma l'aspetto astrale di questo gruppo non è che accessorio e non indispensabile per determinati motivi.

Ezio Giunchiglia e Leo Zagami a Sanremo dal Fratello Murgia...

P2 (10/6/2006)

EVOLA écrivit à ce sujet : « Selon l'enseignement initiatique, l'état suprême est au contraire au-delà soit de l'être soit du non-être ; dans le mythe cosmique des cycles, dans cet état indifférencié identique à la transcendance absolue, même le Dieu personnel et tous les cieux sont résorbés au moment de la grande dissolution (ou incendie cosmique).

Jean Pierre Giudicelli de Bresac de la Bachelerie? (10/6/2006)

21 Apr 2005 22:10:52 +0200 (ora legale Europa occidentale)
From: "Vittorio Vanni"
To: Leo Young
Subject: Rif: Jean Pierre Giudicelli de Bresac de la Bachelerie???
Caro Leo,
ti rispondo intanto su quanto riguarda Jean Pierre.

L'ho conosciuto a Nizza qualche anno fa, in occasione di un'investitura templare. (appartiene, come me, all'Ordine di Pinto de Souza). Il predicato Bressac de la Bachelerie l'ha acquisito per eredità, in quanto si è fatto adottare da un vecchio coglione di tal nome.

A quel tempo era preside di un'Accademia Miryamica ed appartenente al Grande Oriente Osirideo Egizio.

Era inoltre membro del Misraim e Memphis (filiazione Caracciolo) e si dichiarava in possesso degli Arcana Arcanorum (ma ce l'hanno tutti). Negli anni '70 ha avuto dei guai giudiziari per infiltrazioni templari nella polizia di Nizza e trame varie.

Per quanto riguarda l'Ordine di Thebes ti invierò uno scritto di Introvigne che risponde (quasi) a verità.

Ho saputo che J.P. è uscito in questi giorni di galera, in quanto ha scontato qualche mese per molestie sessuali alla figlia minore di una sua "servante" islamica.

A me è simpatico, ma da un punto di vista storiografico sugli Ordini, non credo sia affidabile.

Personalmente ti proporrei piuttosto di implicare il "Misraim e Memphis" nei contatti con il nuovo gruppo massonico inglese, piuttosto che con che il Priorato, dato che questo non ha niente di Massonico.

Ma sul M.M. potrei metterti in contatto direttamente con Caracciolo, che è il Gran Maestro mondiale di tale Ordine, e che è una persona totalmente affidabile.

Per quanto riguarda il Sandri, se accetti il consiglio, stanne alla larga, e se proprio lo devi incontrare poni le terga al muro e fai i debiti scongiuri.
Stanotte "raffinerò" il Codice. Ho delle buone traccie, ma devo inserirci altro materiale, soprattutto sulla parte avuta nelle radici del tormentone da membri dell'Ordine Martinista.
Devo inoltre aggiungervi altre materiale e tradurre le lettere di quel bel tomo di Plantard a Petain ed a De Gaulle. Quando avrò finito t'invierò il testo completo.
Non ho niente contro il Cocchi ne contro nessun gruppo, a meno che non siano persone e contesti che possano sputtanare la Massoneria.
Andreotti diceva che a sospettare si fa peccato, ma si indovina quasi sempre.
Già che sei stato cristiano, ricorda le parole evangeliche: "siate semplici come le colombe ma astuti come i serpenti." Giocare è bello solo quando si vince ed il segreto per vincere è di imporre le nostre regole.
Ciao, orderplay.
Salute e fraternità, da parte dell'anglo-becero.
Vittorio Vanni

MB Messias Benedictus IV Capitolo VERA MASSONERIA (10/6/2006)

In nome del unico Dio A tutti i massoni sparsi sui due emisferi
L'IMPERATORE MB Messias Benedictus
E Cagliostro indosso con la moglie una tunica bianca ,trattenuta da una cintura di colore aurora e si presento al Castello del Conte di St.Germain pronto a tutto pur di superare la prova che lo portera a ricongiungersi alla catena dei vecchi amici e Fratelli della Rosa +Croce di Occidente rappresentati dal mitico Conte di St.Germain Maestro Invisibile della Vera Massoneria. Cagliostro: "Vengo ad invocare il Dio dei credenti, il Figlio della Natura,il Padre della verita',vengo a farmi suo schiavo,suo apostolo e suo martire'.
E St.Germain domanda: "Che si propone la compagna dei tuoi viaggi?" E lei Serafina la moglie di Cagliostro futura Gran Maestra del Rito Egizio rispose: "Obbedire e credere".
Aveva appena finito di pronunciare queste parole che le tenebre si sostituirono allo splendore delle luci,i rumori al silenzio,la fiducia alla sfiducia,la discordia alla concordia e si udi' una voce rude e minacciosa che pronuncio queste parole: "Disgrazia colpisca chi non e' capace di superare le prove".Separati immediatamente per subire le prove,Serafina,rinchiusa prima in una camera con un uomo pallido,magro e ipocrita che si allontanano' subito dopo averle detto delle sciocchezze e averle portato via i brillanti che le ornavano il capo e condotta poi in un vasto sotteraneo ,rimase impassibile di fronte alla visione delle vittime della pretesa giustizia umana e fredda e indifferente innanzi a cio' che il suo arbitrio umano avrebbe potuto farle compiere. Come in un sogno vide uomini incatenati che venivano frustati da donne,boia che tagliavano teste, condannati che bevevano la morte in coppe avvelenate,colonne piene di scritte infamanti e udi' una Voce che diceva: "Noi siamo i martiri delle nostre virtu' ecco come gli uomini,al cui bene consacriamo la nostra vita,ricompensano la nostra opera."
Cagliostro superate invece due prove : una sulla gelosia e l'altra sulla sua presunzione , lesse nel Gran Libro della vita,apparsogli alla sua vista animica ,la tremenda tragedia che l'aspettava negli ultimi suoi anni terreni .Consapevole del suo destino,l'acetto senza timore ,sentendo in se' giganteggiare la Fede che e' il coraggio dei forti. Ammessi poi ai divini misteri cosi' parlo loro una Voce: "Sappiate che il movente primo della Natura,della politica e della societa' e' il sesso, sappiate che il sogno dei mortali e di divenire immortali ,di volere conoscere l'avvenire anche se ignorano il presente e di volere essere spirituali anche se vivono nel brago di tutta la materialita". Il Conte de Saint-Germain dopo queste parole fece udire la sua voce: "chiamato sin dalla piu' tenera giovinezza a grandi cose cercai di conoscere qual'e' la vera gloria: non feci fatica a rendermi conto che -la politica mi parve la scienza dell'inganno, -la guerra l'arte di uccidere, -la filosofia l'orgogliosa mania di sragionare, -la scienza i bei sogni sulla Natura e i continui errori di gente condotta in un Paese sconosciuto. -la teologia la conoscenza della miseria dove porta l'orgoglio umano, - La Storia lo studio triste e monotono degli errori e delle perfidie. Da cio' in conclusione dedussi che : -L'uomo di Stato e' uno scaltro mentitore -L'eroe un illustre matto -il filosofo un illustre bizzarro - Lo scienziato un cieco da compatire -Lo storico un venditore di parole Quando intesi parlare del Dio di questo Tempio confidai in Lui le mie incertezze e le mie speranze. Egli si impadroni della mia anima e mi fece vedere tutto sotto un altro punto di vista. Io vivo non solo con quelli che esistono ma anche con quelli che sono esistiti. Trovo dolcissimo sapere senza apprendere nulla ,disporre dei tesori della Terra senza doverlimendicare ai Re e comandare gli elementi piuttosto che gli uomini... Memoires authentique pour servir a l'histoire du Comte Cagliostro A.Hamburg chez F. Fauche',1786 Ma le prove iniziatiche di Cagliostro non finirono di certo con l'incontro del Conte Saint Germain anzi ora che la purezza delle sue intenzioni rispetto alla Grande Opera era stata accertata dai Maestri Invisibili era venuto il momento di entrare nella Sacra Cripta per essere investito del titolo di Imperatore della Rosa+Croce nel Gran Consiglio dei 12 R+C+ per guidare gli Illuminati Europei verso il Grande disegno rivoluzionario che si impegnava a vendicare le tristi sorti dell'Ordine del Tempio,a questa iniziazione erano presenti Spartacus alias Adam Weishaupt e Filone il dotto Fratello Knigge entrambi dell'Ordo Illuminatorum fondato nel 1776 da Adam Weishaupt professore di diritto canonico all'Universita' di Ingolstadt in Baviera.

RICORDI DI CAGLIOTRO SULLA VICENDA (dagli interrogatori di Castel Sant'Angelo,1791) "Io Gran Copto del Rito Egizio prima di entrare trionfalmente a Strasburgo all'eta' di 32 anni mi incontrai segretamente con due dei capi segreti dell'Ordine degli Illuminati a Francoforte. Mi condussero fuori citta' in una casa isolata in piena campagna poi entrammo in una grotta artificiale e poi in un sotteraneo che scendeva nelle viscere della terra dove trovammo una piccola cripta all'estremita del sotteraneo. Fui fatto inginocchiare dinanzi a un altare,sull'altare vi era uno scrigno nero aperto dal quale fu tolto un manoscritto . Era il tremendo giuramento del Consiglio dei 12 R+C+ sul quale figurava il mio nome in cima alla lista. Il giuramento ai Grandi maestri del Tempio che Io fui invitato a ripetere si impegnava alla soppressione di tutti i despoti con la con la violenza e a vendicare i Martiri del Tempio. In seguito fu letta' la lista dei dodici Maestri Invisibili di cui come vi ho gia' detto Io ero il primo.Dodici personaggi scelti oculatamente dai capi segreti degli Illuminati per la realizzazione del Grande Disegno Rivoluzionario. I dodici nomi erano scritti col sangue umano." Il piano di questa vasta congiura prevedeva un attacco alla Monarchia Francese ed in seguito ai vari Stati italiani per concludersi con la sconfitta del potere temporale della Chiesa di Roma e la presa di possesso da parte degli Illuminati di quell'immenso tesoro di conoscenza, rappresentato dai testi segreti nascosti nei meandri della biblioteca Vaticana ,testi che avrebbero potuto far affondare la nave di Pietro nata dalla menzogna e dal compromesso ,questo e quanto venne detto dall' illustre Conte di Saint Germain in un suo discorso fatto ad alcuni Fratelli di alto livello nella gerarchia Illuminata durante la sua breve permanenza a Livorno nel 1770 dove si incontro' tra l'altro con un grande esponente della massoneria Russa di allora il favorito di Caterina II, il potente Alessio Orlof che indicando Saint Germain al Margravio di Anspach esclama "Ecco un uomo che ha avuto una parte importante nella nostra rivoluzione" ossia nel colpo di Stato che permise di eliminare l'indesiderabile Pietro III. Sul Conte di Saint Germain abbiamo queste parole del Vescovo Wedgewood apparse in un articolo tradotto dall'inglese e pubblicato nel 1926 nella Revue theosophique che ci dovrebbero far riflettere: Di tutte quelle esistenze (le esistenze fisiche attribuibili a Saint Germain)quali furono i casi d'incarnazione reale ,nel senso completo della parola,dopo la sua prima infanzia?E quali furono dei casi di possesso totale di un corpo adulto?E quali dei casi di occupazione temporanea?E ancora quali altri d'occupazione temporanea di un corpo appartenente ad un altro Io?" Terminiamo questo IV Capitolo dedicato all'Imperator con un atto di devozione verso Dio l'Altissimo e il misericordioso, pieno di compassione verso noi poveri umani ed uno di ringraziamento verso l'Ordine del Tempio che spero nonostante le difficoltà mantenga i patti e gli accordi segreti originali che lo porteranno ad ottenere il Santo Graal se Inshallah si ricorderanno chi sono realmente e la smetteranno di giocare a fare i Templari di facciata,un fenomeno ridicolo e assurdo quello delle iniziazioni Templari spurie che non porta a niente di buono anzi a disgrazie future,un gioco pericoloso cari Fratelli e Sorelle per chi non iniziato ai veri misteri dell'Arte Reale voglia così provare il brivido dell'imprevisto e di colpo trovarsi con le tasche vuote e un bel mantello ma nulla di più da presentare al Creatore nel momento della nostra morte. La Croce Rossa sul mantello bianco e da sempre simbolo Sacro della Cristianità da non mettere in mano a degli scellerati perché il Grande e Sublime Maestro Gesù Cristo sta per tornare a trovarci e noi non ci dobbiamo far cogliere impreparati di fronte alla sua grande Rivelazione e alla sua presenza Sublime ma rispettosi e pronti a riprendere la nostra vera missione per conto del Dio unico, il Dio dei Cristiani,degli Ebrei,dei Musulmani il Dio del padre terreno della V.'M.'. ovvero Abramo che la trasmise alla sua famiglia che la preserva ancora oggi lontana da qualunque atto degenerante compiuta dall' eterno nemico Satana. Giuramento Del Cavaliere Templare: Cavalieri, scudieri, servitori, che la pace del signore, promessa agli uomini di buona volontà , sia con noi. In questo luogo angusto e santo, in suo nome, noi vedremo pronunciare, da labbra pure e con umile fierezza, il Giuramento del Templare che i Poveri Cavalieri di Cristo fecero nel momento più sacro della vita Templare. Signore che spieghi i cieli come una tenda di luce, Signore che fai dei fulmini i messaggeri della tua maestà , davanti il tuo sacro altare, dove s'adempì la sublime immolazione, noi leviamo alta la spada della luce, per depositarla ai piedi dell'altare come testimonianza del nostro giuramento. Signore Dio delle armi, noi lo giuriamo per il Cristo, giammai contro il Cristo, per la difesa del vangelo, per la guardia dei pozzi, per la verità , per la giustizia. Contro gli oppressori, contro i mietitori di scandali ed i corruttori dell'innocenza, contro la menzogna liberata, contro i traditori delle fazioni e dei partiti: Noi lo giuriamo di impegnare la doppia spada: quella d'acciaio levigato e quella della parola splendente e fulminante. Giammai noi attaccheremo per primi. Giammai noi provocheremo per primi. Tre volte noi sopporteremo l'ingiuria. Tre volte noi ignoreremo il disprezzo e la menzogna. Ma quando la spada brillerà nel sole come un colpo di chiarore, tuonerà la parola. Allora poi non indietreggeremo di un solo passo, non taceremo che dopo il silenzio dell'avversario. Davanti ai ranghi angelicati, nostri compagni d'armi, noi lo giuriamo al Cristo, Re della gloria. Chiunque rinnegherà questo giuramento, sarà per noi e per gli angeli, rinnegato. Niente per noi, Signore niente per noi, ma per la sola gloria del Tuo nome.

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 6-15

Il Tesserino della Loggia Monte Carlo e la Universal Unity...GLADIO (10/6/2006)

Il Tesserino della famosa Loggia Monte Carlo vi viene mostrato per la prima volta in Confessions of an Illuminatus

The Monte Carlo-London illuminati connection

Universal Unity
Associazione di Uomini Liberi
Strada Sen. E. Marsaglia n° 131
18038 SANREMO (IM)

www.universal-unity.net

Sanremo, lunedì 26 giugno
2006

Raccomandata

Al sig. ZAGAMI Lyon LEO

Anticoli Corrado

00022 - ROMA

Oggetto: ZAGAMI LEO, nato a Roma il 5.3.1970.

Comunicazione di deferimento al
Collegio dei Probiviri.

Caro Leo,

Il Consiglio Direttivo di Universal Unity Ã stato informato della corrispondenza E-mail che hai intrattenuto col sig. Giorgio Balestrieri ed ha rilevato in essa espressioni criminose ed altamente eversive che integrano gli estremi di una gravissima colpa per la violazione dei principi morali della nostra Associazione.

Inoltre il Consiglio Ã stato informato che qualche tempo fa hai pubblicato una comunicazione sul sito Internet di Universal Unity, firmandoti col titolo di "Vice Console" che non hai e non ti Ã stato mai attribuito.

Pertanto Ã nostro intendimento di deferire il Tuo comportamento al Collegio dei Probiviri, affinchÃ si proceda contro di Te per i fatti anzidetti che integrano le incolpazioni previste dal nostro Statuto, e frattanto, in attesa di quel che verrÃ giudicato a Tuo carico e pertanto sei sospeso dalla nostra Associazione a tempo indeterminato.

Questo Consiglio, inoltre, ha ritenuto che non sia piÃ gradita la Tua presenza alle nostre Riunioni, e pertanto ha annullato definitivamente quella prevista per il 2 Settembre a Subiaco.

Se invitato inoltre ad astenerti dall'usare il nome di Universal Unity per qualsiasi scopo ed in qualsiasi forma, sotto pena di esser costretti a denunciare una Tua illecita attivitÃ all'autoritÃ giudiziaria ordinaria in Italia ed altrove.

La presente dovrÃ esser comunicata anche al Presidente del Collegio dei Probiviri.

Il Consiglio Direttivo di
Universal Unity
Associazione di Uomini Liberi

ED ORA IL CV DEL SIG. GIORGIO HUGO BALESTRIERI un noto personaggio del NUOVO ORDINE MONDIALE e' un noto Fratello Massone appartenente al circolo interno degli illuminati della Loggia P2 di Monte Carlo, in contatto costante con personaggi come l'ex Presidente Cossiga gran burattinaio della GLADIO e i maggiori rappresentanti mondiali del Rotary Club. Giorgio e' infatti uno dei direttori del Rotary Club di New York.

COM. TE DOTT. GIORGIO HUGO BALESTRIERI
I. PERSONAL DATA NAME (Last, First & Middle) BALESTRIERI, Giorgio Hugo

Address

400 East 71st Street (Apt. 6 J) New York, NY 10021 USA

Telephone / Fax / E Mail

(212) 288 3949 / (212) 439 6007 / Comandante@aol.com

Place / Date of Birth

Fauglia (Pisa) Italy / September 29, 1943

Nationality/Residence

USA / New York City (US Passport Number 112349238 â€“ Exp. Jun 2010)

Languages

English (Fluent) Italian (Fluent) French (Very Good Conversational and Business)

Spanish (Working knowledge Read/Understand) Arabic (Minimal knowledge)

II. EDUCATION

Italian Navy Commanding School/Captain of a Combat Ship (1977); Italian Navy postgraduate degree in Telecommunications â€“ Accademia Navale di Livorno at the Universitaâ€™ di Pisa (1974); A graduate of the "Accademia Navale di Livorno", the â€œEliteâ€• Italian Navy College at the Universitaâ€™ di Pisa â€“ Dottore in Scienze Marittime e Navali â€“ Classe delle Lauree delle Scienze della Difesa e della Sicurezza (â€œCorso Kon-Tikiâ€• Class of 1968 see HYPERLINK <http://www.corsokontiki.it> <http://www.corsokontiki.it>). Educated at the Don Bosco Salesians Institute in Alexandria Egypt (1949 1961).

III. SUMMARY Com.te Dott. Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri, is the Founder and Chairman of the Board of The E-POL Group, Inc. and Vice President International Business Development of MSGI Security Solution Inc. (NASDAQ: MSGI). A former Navy Officer, graduate of the Italian Navy Commanding School and of the Accademia Navale di Livorno - Universitaâ€™ di Pisa: â€œDottore in Scienze Marittime e Navaliâ€• Difesa e Sicurezza (Defense/Security Sciences) has been a Team Partner of Security Management International until the retirement of its President Arthur W. â€œMickâ€• Donahue. Commander Balestrieri has over 40 years experience: Sixteen years experience in NATO and National operations, including Captain of a Combat Ship and as the Operational Consultant for the Navy R&D Institute; twenty-five years in the strategic planning, evaluation and implementation of advanced technologies in complex cross border security systems. Fluent in English, Italian and French, with a good knowledge of Spanish, he has taken over 130 overseas trips in the last fifteen years supporting the efforts of small, medium and major international corporations in Europe (Austria, France, Greece, Italy, Monaco, Portugal, Spain, UK); Africa (Egypt, Tunisia, South Africa); Middle East (Saudi Arabia); Central and South America (Brazil, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Haiti, Honduras, Guatemala, Panama, Venezuela); Asia and Emerging Market Economy Countries (Bangladesh, Mongolia, Pakistan, Russia, South Korea, Turkey and Ukraine). Commander Balestrieri is a Life Member and Past-President of the Armed Forces Communications Electronics Association New York Founders' Chapter (AFCEA International); a member of the Advisory Board of SATCON; a member of ASIS (NY Chapter) and for several years of the ASTM F12 Committee on Security Systems and Equipment. He pioneered the total airport security concept with the design of the Intelligent Airport Security System (IASS) for "facilitation & security" in airport operations. In 1985 the design included passenger and baggage reconciliation (with positive passenger identification), leading to today's SR-A2 version of the SLA C4I the Multifunctional Sea-Land & Airport Cross Border Management System published in Chapter VI of the book â€œTERRORISM: Defensive Strategies for Individuals, Companies & Governmentsâ€•. The book, written prior 9/11, brings together some of the Country's leading experts on terrorism from the governments, police department, and universities as well as computer, medical, biological and chemical specialists. He recently redesigned EDICS, the "Explosives and Drugs Interdiction and Control System" integrating advanced non invasive inspection technologies and methodologies to detect weapons of mass destruction (WMD). The updated EDICS makes the best use of state of the art systems such as the electronic manifest for passengers and cargo, and the "Method of tagging and detecting drugs, crops, chemical compounds and currency with Perfluorocarbons tracers" â€“ Balestrieri US Patent # 5409839. Com.te Dott. Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri is a Senior Sustaining Member of the Italy-America Chamber of Commerce (Established in 1887) and a Director of the Rotary Club of New York, the "Host Club of America and the United Nations" (Founded in 1909). As the Chairman of the International Service Division of the Rotary was the recipient of numerous "Special Service Awards" from various NY Rotary Presidents. On February 24, 2004 he received from the Ambassador of Madagascar the Paul Harris Award for creating and supporting the United Nations Public and Private Alliance for Rural Development. The unique leadership and communication skills of â€œGiorgioâ€• include his ability to interact and be well received at the highest political, diplomatic and corporate level.

IV. DISCLOSURES, PUBLICATIONS & PATENTS SLA-C4I (SEA, LAND, AIR-C4I â€“ Disclosure Document No.255366 on Jun. 13 1990): Integrates security subsystems which collate data on the movement of passengers, baggage, personnel, cargo on any given harbor, border crossing or airport. The SLA-C4I the Multifunctional Sea-Land & Airport Cross-Border Management System was published in Chapter VI of the book â€œTERRORISM: DEFENSIVE STRATEGIES FOR INDIVIDUALS, COMPANIES & GOVERNMENTSâ€•. The book, written prior 9/11, brings together some of the Country's leading experts on terrorism from the governments, police department, and universities as well as computer, medical, biological and chemical specialists. Library of Congress Control Number 2001-132013, ISBN 0-9659174-5-2, Copyright Â© 2001. PLCM/PS (Passenger Luggage Correlation Management / Portable System â€“ Disclosure Document No.237001 on Oct. 10, 1989): A portable system that matches passengers and luggage of an airline in any airport not equipped with fixed systems. Todayâ€™s version provides the electronic manifest of passengers at the gate. VI-PASS (Visa and Passport control and Security System â€“ Disclosure Document No.217687 on Jan. 13, 1989): The system provides authorities with intelligent identification of all visa and passport holders. Todayâ€™s version provides the electronic manifest of passengers, with computer data exploitation capabilities for facial matching/recognition, tracking of terrorists and dangerous individuals. EDICS (Explosive, Drugs Interdiction and Control System â€“ Disclosure Document No.217673 on Jan 13, 1989): Part of the SLA-C4I and described in above mentioned book, EDICS is an electronic corridor combining advanced detection technologies, x-rays systems, metal detectors and confirmation sensors. NAVSS (Navigation Management and Security System â€“ Disclosure Document No. 220698 on Feb. 24, 1989): An Automatic Aircraft (and Airport Mobile Equipment) Position Reporting, Performance Management and Navigation Control. TRACER: Tagging of Drugs, Crops, Chemicals and Money with Perfluorocarbons tracers (PFTs) for the detection, identification and tracking of illicit drug related activities, production facilities and substances (co author with J. Fraser and N. Kaish in 1993). Two year later (April 25, 1995) awarded a patent for a â€œMethod of tagging and detecting drugs, crops chemical compounds and currency with Perfluorocarbons tracersâ€• â€“ Balestrieri/Kaish US Patent # 5409839. V. REFERENCE

Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri reports to Joseph C. Peters, Esq. the President of MSGI Security Solutions, Inc. (HYPERLINK "http://www.msgisecurity.com" www.msgisecurity.com). Mr. Peters served President George W. Bush as the Assistant Deputy Director of the White House's Drug Policy Office - commonly referred to as the Drug Czar's Office. There his duties included supervision of the country's High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) Program. Mr. Peters also served as the Drug Czar's Liaison to the White House Office of Homeland Security and Governor Tom Ridge. Previously, Mr. Peters joined the Clinton White House, to direct the country's 26 HIDTA's, with an annual budget of a quarter billion dollars. Mr. Peters consults to national and international law enforcement organizations on narco-terrorism and related intelligence and prosecution issues (e-mail: HYPERLINK "mailto:jpeters@msgisecurity.com" jpeters@msgisecurity.com).

COMANDANTE GIORGIO HUGO BALESTRIERI

ISLAMIC TERRORISM AND MIND CONTROL (10/6/2006)

Beloveds friends,

I would want in the first place to say that these are truly sad days that we are all living around the world with pain and fear, a fear that they will like to inflict upon us like a cross , we should instead react and rise to the stage of awareness and reflect with conscience on what is realistically the so-called Islamic terrorism phenomenon, not a war between people or religions but a strategy of tension very well orchestrated from the same dark forces that operated in Italy and in the rest of Europe at various times after the war(remember the Red Brigades or even the Black Brigades..)

Dont try to get upset dear brothers or try to put your head under the sand once again; there is a thread that connects one of the worst periods in Italy's recent history with "Controlled terrorism" from the right and the left wing and what we now call " Islamic terrorism",one of the results of a program of mass control for global manipulation created by the american Sionist to establish the kingdom of the AntiChrist on this planet. However, after winning the war, the Americans have used and abused the defeated nations like Italy using also elements of the ex-Fascist party of Mussolini has fertile territory for experimenting their techniques of mind-control and manipulation of all types with USA intelligence programs like "MK-ULTRA" and projects like "MONARCH" or the immediate post-war programme called "DEMAGNETIZE" and the clever manipulation of rightwingers like founder of Ordine Nuovo Pino Rauti, that used to give even Conferences in prestigious places like the Navy College of Annapolis in order to teach the technics and the possibility of creating dictatorships in Europe!!!! These operations as we all know were sponsored first by the OSS with people like the Principe Borghese and X-MAS and later from the CIA , but it was always the usual and beloved american Alumni creations like WM Gelli that we remember mostly in Freemasonry.

Brother Licio Gelli of the IRREGULAR MASSONIC LODGE P2 connected as we all know to the Vatican Bank and the Italian and American secret service (http://freemasonry.bey.ca/anti-masonry/p2_lodge.txt) in January 1981 a little before the P2 scandal took place (March 1981) was in a Official visit in the United States for the inaguration of the US Presidency of another bad person and bad actor "the sadly lost..." Ronald Reagan . WM LICIO GELLI RAPPRESENTING THE SECRET COVERED IRREGULAR MASONIC LODGE P2 AND THE VATICAN SPENT THE WHOLE WEEK WITH BROTHER GEORGE BUSH A SENIOR FREEMASON ACTING AS GRAND MASTER OF SKULL & BONES 322 IN ORDER TO INSTRUCT HIM ON THE HIDDEN FINANCINGS FOR THE RISING STAR OF TERROR OSAMA BIN LADEN FROM SWITZERLAND TROUGH PAKISTANI BANKS! These squallid American cowboys and their British friends controlled by the Vatican Illuminati have literally took over the planet in the name of the Antichrist from the post-war period with their Jewish Sionist friends Made in Ukraine... using nowadays (note recent Republican Conferences) what they realy have learned better from their beloved Adolf Hittler (another one of their creations...) MANIPULATION and BRAI WASHING public gatherings we define as DEMONIC PROPAGANDA!

George Bush father, G.W. and their beloved brother J. Kerry from the Democratic Party ARE ALL MEMBERS of the most powerful Secret Society ever created inside Yale University and founded in 1832 THE SKULL & BONES 322 WITH REGULAR GERMAN ILLUMINATI CHARTER of the usuals followers of Adam Weishaupt ... SKULL & BONES TURNS OUT TO BE AFTER A MORE CAREFULL EXAMINATION OF THE EVIDENCE THE HIDDEN MIND OF THE TERRORISTIC NETWORK AL QUAEDA, WITH THE SUPPORT OF VARIOUS NEW WORLD ORDER ORGANIZATIONS LIKE THE SECRET LODGE P2 BELONGING OFFICIALY TO THE GRAND ORIENT OF ITALY UNTILL 1981! First they have experimented their work in Italy and other countries with many years in order to study and experiment the effect of their terror operations, their sick strategies and the successive manipulation of the mass, and after conquering the minds of the infedels with contemporary USA PROPAGANDA (thats Satanic propoganda..) they plan a TOTAL TAKE OVER OF PLANET EARTH .The US INTELLIGENCE acts illegally all over the world over and over again, in total defiance of any State law, first conducting with the excuse of anti-communism illegal operations like Gladio and others secretelly linked with Irregular Freemasonry, satanic cults and sects they manipulate from their military HQ'S in the name of the NEW WORLD ORDER then in 1979 they give birth to Islamic Fondamentalism with the blessings of President Carter another secret society freak. So after the fall of the Soviet Union(another experiment of the New World Order...) they have created the holy man of terrorism Osama Bin Laden a good friend of America that also helped against the Soviet Union(Osama what a nice man...),. but we had enough of this lies and manipulation made in Hollywood (home of their Propaganda machine!) Unfortunately the Russians that have already suffered with the communist Illuminati experiment for 80 years have to suffer more with a so called Islamic Terrorism War Made in the USA, the Checenyian militia and various Checenyian Gangsters financed with Al Quaeda and the pro American Russian governement this evil show, that means that Checenyia terrorism against Russian soil is financed by the United States of America with the blessings of a corrupt Russian president. Simple or not?

That is the real reason why a known russian journalist was recentely killed.

However it seems that the errors of the past are always been repeated and we are still waiting for someone to carry one day the real torch of freedom and beauty against these slaves of the Beast. The forces of Light and justice will eventually defeat them but we need to unite against the dangerously expanding american materialistic monster . The law of love will be built upon our courage to change and fight for our right to live in the grace of God and not in fear of the AntiChrist G.W.Bush and his false Prophet Osama . More then ever I want to emphasize to our Universal Brethern that in the Monarch project perhaps the most important for the CIA in the mind controll series there is a constant presence still operative nowadays(even if they try to say the contrary) of the founder of the pagan church of Set known as THE TEMPLE OF SET and the many Orders it represents including the Order of Belzebub.. these.. CIA people... what a fantasy... and they love a bit of Nazism even if Israel is their biggest friend:

<http://www.xeper.org/>

And this his the name of one of the biggest enemies of God in the army of Satan
LIEUTENANT COLONEL MICHAEL AQUINO (Gran Master of the Temple of Set from its foundation 1975)

http://www.econcrisis.homestead.com/BM_SetCodeAntiChrist.html

http://www.econcrisis.homestead.com/Satanic_Subversion_US_Military.html

This man (M.Aquino) serves the dark forces of the Abyss and he is the brain behind the Monarch project of the CIA and the darkest moments of program MK-ULTRA, he is an officer of the CIA (Lt.Col.Psycological warfare department) and he is a character that in medioeval terms I would without a shadow of doubt define as a true agent of the Devil, a 100% possessed man having between the other things married the daughter of the founder of the Church of Satan(Anton La Vey... originally Levi..Jew!). Thanks to persons like him and their sick experiments (that are well documented) on mind control and total manipulation the CIA understood the way of creating and above all controlling religious fanatics of all types and colours. I also find interesting in spite of the obviously Nazi tendency of the two characters(Anton La Vey and Michael Aquino) the comment made from Anton the Vey when he was still alive: The ideal Demon is a Demon Jew... (Well well...)

Aquino is also very good at recruiting the most sick minds on the contemporary occult scene from all over the world for his deviant power structure, like for example Dott. Emanuele Coltro Guidi and the kinky Bishop Nicholay Frisvold a dangerous satanist from Norway connected to several occult brainwashing operations linked to the CIA for the control of satanism in Scandinavia ,as we see MK-ULTRA appears again and Monarch in particular seem to be the source for such ILLEGAL AND VICIOUS ACTIVITIES ,no wonder we find Dott. Nicholay Frisvold connected with Italian CIA inspired RED BRIGADE TERRORIST Paolo Fogagnolo(a very dubious character) through their common friend and brother from Spain Manuel Cabrera Lamparter(a real Master of deception..hi..hi..).

However Lt.Col.Michael Aquino has worked for a long time in direct contact with his CIA Boss George Bush and it is said in certain circles that they also had a few kinky party's with a Satanic element of pedophilia...like George Bush father walking out with a young black boy... we don't like to be judgemental but Mmm... Bravo Bush... well done dear Bush father! And so this is the way you educate your son George W. to become a good servant of the devil,THE ANTICHRIST MAYBE??? Or maybe we should invite your son to participate in OMEN IV, indeed you knew that the Omen film series was made under the supervision of Michael Aquino's father in law Anton Satan La Vey. These are really incredible devils of total manipulation forget the films this is a reality! ... We also know that Dr.Michael Aquino has contact with the elite P2 Lodge in Monte Carlo and his most Senior representative Brother Ezio Giunchiglia and we will publish soon an e-mail from Dr.Aquino to prove it.

Regarding the Italian situation and the Grande Oriente D'Italia we also shouldn't forget the heavy accusation of worshipping a kind of idol a Baphomet and having a minority practicing satanic rituals , this accusation made by the United Grand Lodge of England results actually true after a deep investigation on the Ordo Templi Orientis Caliphate in Italy revealed a link to the GOI through brother Alberto Moscato a 33o A.A.S.R., a real top brainwasher working for the American intelligence and the Italian Guardia di Finanza in the computer department,Moscato who recently published a tantrik book on Bastogi dedicated to his followers in the GOI only uses occultism for camouflage reasons ...the results of this private research made by me has already been put forward to the competent masonic authorities in Italy rappedresented by *Senior brother Vittorio Vanni who definetely doesnt like this situation and what Moscato does ILLEGALLY inside the GOI supporting the anti masonic activities of MASSIMO INTROVIGNE e slave of the worst Vatican current...but Moscato who was also an eroin addict died in misterious circumstances earlier this year (2006).Brother Alberto Moscato was closely linked with Senior Intelligence operative and P2 Brother Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri . Giorgio now an American citizen (obviously)was involved in illegal weapons traffic in the port of Livorno in the 70's but is now one of the Directors of the New York Rotary Club at the United Nations.

Khaled Khan/Leo Lyon Zagami

CORNER STONE SOCIETY ADVENTURES AT KIRBY 2818 (10/6/2006)

Clive Hicks,Mark Wheatley...and Leo Zagami

The Cornerstone Society

Founder & Past Chairman:
M W Pro Grand Master,
the Most Hon Marquess of Northampton, DL

Chairman: George Francis, 2nd Grand Principal and SGW
Treasurer: Kai Hughes
Secretary: Mark St J Qualter
Founder: Andrew Hicks
Michael Baigent
Terry Barden
David Dew

Martin Faulks
Ivor Frank
John Grange
John Hamill
Clive Hicks
David Hutton
Peter Jack
Peter Lambert
Andrew Montgomery
Julian Rees
John Roberts
Matthew Scanlan
Mark Wheatley

together with Corner Stone Society Founder W.Bro.Andrew Hicks

Leo Zagami e Francesco Murgia 30o R.S.A.A. (GOI) (10/6/2006)

Il Fr.'Francesco Murgia e' stato il giudice della corte interna del Grande Oriente d'Italia sul caso P2, stranamente il Fratello Murgia e' il socio fondatore della Universal Unity www.universal-unity.net, un associazione di copertura della famosa Loggia di
Monte Carlo ,insieme al noto esponente della P2 Ezio Giunchiglia.Come potrete notare cari Fratelli nulla cambia sotto al sole!

Leo Zagami and his Mentor illustrius Masonic Scholar Julian Rees (10/6/2006)

Julian Rees was initiated into Freemasonry in the Kirby Lodge,
No. 2818, in London in 1968 at the age of 32, becoming Master in 1976. In 1977 he became Master of the Pilgrim Lodge, No. 238, the only lodge in England working in the German language. He is a member of the Emulation Lodge of Improvement, and has served on their Precepting Committee. He is a founder member of The Cornerstone Society of which he was Secretary. He is Deputy Editor of the international English-language quarterly magazine Freemasonry Today, and has been decorated by the Institut Maçonique de France with the masonic Ordre de Lafayette.

THE MONTE CARLO LODGE- MICHAEL AQUINO SATANIC LINK (10/6/2006)

Sat, 30 Jul 2005 11:21:04 -0700 (PDT)

From: "Dr. Michael A. Aquino" Add to Address Book

Subject: Re: Universal Unity-Montecarlo *Ezio Giunchiglia 33o

Dear Mr. Giunchiglia,

Thank you for your kind invitation to meet with you in Monte Carlo. Please accept my apologies that current responsibilities will probably keep me stuck in California for the foreseeable future, though I can't think of a more pleasant escape than Monaco.

I took a look through your Statute and found its "Aims" admirable, though my impression was also that you may discourage readers with the extensive sections on organization/control. The Temple of Set has its philosophy in one area of documents, and its organizational design in another (California Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws). We have found this works well for us.

I always admire utopian visions and efforts to better this poor planet, even as I confess I have little hope for their success. Applied-politically I am at best a Stoic and at worst an Orwellian. Upon considering your "Aims" I think that you might find the works of Raghavan Iyer interesting:

<http://theosophy.org/>

Raghavan was a good friend of mine for many years, as well as one of my most valued teachers. (He was Professor of Political Science at the University of California where I got my own doctorate in that field.) He was by no means an "ordinary Theosophist", but a brilliant theorist beyond any labels. In my own university teaching later, I regularly used his book Parapolitics, which contained a superb application of Plato to modern social problems.

Thank you for offering to send me a copy of your book.
The address is:

Dr. Michael A. Aquino
Post Office Box 470307
San Francisco, CA 94147
USA

Sincerely,
Michael A. Aquino

Giunchiglia il vecchio saggio di Monte Carlo...

IN ALBION OTO GNOSTIC HQ'S IN LONDON (10/6/2006)

Meet the satanist of the Albion OTO in London.

They are claiming gnostic lineages and apostolic successions going back to our Master Jesus. But in reality they are a couple of satanist called Rob Curley (on your left) and Darren White (on the right side of photo) working for a dangerous Illuminati brainwasher called Dr. Nicholai Frisvold from Norway.

Check this out, it proves that contemporary gnosticism is in the hands of the satanist:
Lines of Consecration.

SUCCESSIONE APOSTOLICA DEI PATRIARCHI DI ANTIOCHIA
(Syrian Patriarchate of Antioch and All the East)

(1) S. Pietro Apostolo, 38 d.C.; (2) Evodius, 40, Primo Patriarca del Seggio Apostolico d'Antiochia; (3) Ignatius I Martire, 43; (4) Aaron, 123; (5) Cornelius, 137; (6) Eodos, 142; (7) Theophilus, 157; (8) Maximinus, 171; (9) Seraphim, 179; (10) Asclepiades, Martire 189; (11) Philippus, 201; (12) Sebinus {Zebinus}, 219; (13) Babylas, Martire 237; (14) Fabius, 250; (15) Demetrius, 251; (16) Paulus I, 259; (17) Domnus I, 270; (18) Timotheus, 281; (19) Cyrillus, 291; (20) Tyrantus, 296; (21) Vitalius, 301; (22) Philognius, 318; (23) Eustachius, 323; (24) Paulinus, 338; (25) Philabianus, 383; (26) Evagrius, 386; (27) Phosphorius, 416; (28) Alexander, 418; (29) Johannes I, 428; (30) Theodotus, 431; (31) Domnus II, 442; (32) Maximus, 450; (33) Accacius, 454; (34) Martyrius, 467; (35) Petrus II, 464; (36) Philadius, 500; (37) Serverius Magnus, 509; (38) Sergius, 544, Primo Patriarca della Chiesa Jacobita; (39) Domnus III, 547; (40) Anastasius, 560; (41) Gregorius I, 564; (42) Paulus II, 567; (43) Patra, 571; (44) Domnus IV, 586; (45) Julianus, 591; (46) Athanasius "Quaestor" I, 595, Ristabilì nel 616 l'accordo tra i Seggi Jacobita e Copto; (47) Johannes II, 636; (48) Theodorus I, 649; (49) Severus, 668; (50) Athanasius II, 684; (51) Julianus II, 687; (52) Elias I, 709, Costruì la prima Chiesa d'Antiochia con il permesso del Califfo; (53) Athanasius III, 724, nel 726 al Sinodo di Tofin annesse la Chiesa Armena; (54) Evanius I, 740; (55) Gervasius I, 759; (56) Josephus, 790; (57) Cyriacus, 793; (58) Dionysius I, 818; (59) Johannes III, 847; (60) Ignatius II, 877; (61) Theodosius, 887; (62) Dionysius II, 897; (63) Johannes IV, 910; (64) Basilus I, 922; (65) Johannes V, 936; (66) Evanius II, 954; (67) Dionysius III, 958; (68) Abraham I, 962; (69) Johannes VI, 965; (70) Athanasius IV, 987; (71) Johannes VII, 1004; (72) Dionysius IV, 1032; (73) Theodorus II, 1042; (74) Athanasius V, 1058; (75) Johannes VIII, 1064; (76) Basilus II, 1074; (77) Abdoon, 1076; (78) Dionysius V, 1077; (79) Evanius III, 1080; (80) Dionysius VI, 1088; (81) Athanasius VI, 1091; (82) Johannes IX, 1131; (83) Athanasius VII, 1139; (84) Michael Magnus I, 1167; (85) Athanasius VIII, 1200; (86) Michael II, 1207; (87) Johannes X, 1208; (88) Ignatius III, 1223; (89) Dionysius VII, 1253; (90) Johannes XI, 1253; (91) Ignatius IV, 1264; (92) Philanus, 1283; (93) Ignatius Baruhid, 1293; (94) Ignatius Ismael, 1333; (95) Ignatius Basilus III, 1366; (96) Ignatius Abraham II, 1382; (97) Ignatius Basilus IV, 1412; (98) Ignatius Behanam I, 1415; (99) Ignatius Kalejih, 1455; (100) Ignatius Johannes XII, 1483; (101) Ignatius Noah, 1492; (102) Ignatius Jesus I, 1509; (103) Ignatius Jacobus I, 1510; (104) Ignatius David I, 1519; (105) Ignatius Abdullah I, 1520; (106) Ignatius Naamathalak, 1557; (107) Ignatius David II, 1577; (108) Ignatius Philathus, 1591; (109) Ignatius Abdullah II, 1597; (110) Ignatius Cadhai, 1598; (111) Ignatius Simeon, 1640; (112) Ignatius Jesus II, 1653; (113) Ignatius Messiah, 1661; (114) Ignatius Cabeed, 1686; (115) Ignatius Gervasius II, 1687; (116) Ignatius Isaac, 1708; (117) Ignatius Siccarablak, 1722; (118) Ignatius Gervasius III, 1746; (119) Ignatius Gervasius IV, 1768; (120) Ignatius Mathias, 1781; (121) Ignatius Behanam II, 1810; (122) Ignatius Jonas, 1817; (123) Ignatius Gervasius V, 1818; (124) Ignatius Elias II, 1832; (125) Ignatius Jacobus II, 1847; (126) Mar Ignatius Petrus III, 1872; (127) Paulose Mar Athanasius (Kadavil Kooran) fu consacrato Vescovo Syro-Antiocheno di Kottayam and Metropolitano di Malabar (India) il 4 Dicembre 1907 da Mar Ignatius Peter III; (128) Mar Julius I (Antonio Francis Xavier Alvarez) fu consacrato il 29 Dicembre, 1891 da Paulose Mar Athanasius sotto gli auspici del Patriarca Ignatius Peter III come Arcivescovo della Chiesa Cattolica Indipendente di Ceylon, Goa ed India; (129) Msgr. Joseph Rene Vilatte fu consacrato il 25 Maggio 1892 a Colombo, Ceylon nella Cattedrale di Nostra Signora della Buona Morte da Mar Julius I, sotto l'autorità della Bolla Patriarcale di Mar Ignatius Peter III, come Arcivescovo del Nord America; (130) Msgr. Paolo Miraglia, 06.05.1900, consacrato nella chiesa di Piacenza come Chiesa Cattolica Italiana; (131) Msgr. Jules Houssaye (Abate Julio), 04.12.1904; (132) Msgr. François Giraud, 21.06.1911; (133) Msgr. Jean Bricaud (Tau Jean II), 21.06.1911; (134) Msgr. Victor Blanchard (Tau Targelius), 05.05.1918 (135) Msgr. Roger Menard (Tau Eon III), 07.01.1945; (136) Msgr. Robert Ambelain (Tau Jean III), 10.06.1946, fondatore della Ecclesia Gnostica

Apostolica; (137) Msgr. Roger Deschamps (Tau Jean Rudiger), 31.05.1959; (138) Msgr. Armand G. Toussaint (Tau Raymond), 01.06.1963, fondatore della Ecclesia R+C Apostolica; (139) Msgr Marcel Jirousek (Tau Frederic), 26.12.1966; (140) Msgr. Joel Duez (Tau Jacobus Jean de la Croix), 14.09.1984; (141) Msgr. Philippe Pissier (Tau Sebek), 20.10.1993; (142) Msgr. Massimo Mantovani (Tau Sokaris), 05.06.1998, consacrato da Pissier, Tao Lui Meme e Sabine Baumont (Sophia Echidna); (143) Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃ"e Luchifero), 28.01.2000; Robert Curley (Tau Amphion), 18.11.03 e.v.

SUCCESSIONE APOSTOLICA SYRO-GALLICANA

(Eglise Syro-Gallicane)

Msgr. Joseph Rene Vilatte; Msgr. Paolo Miraglia; Msgr. Jules Houssaye (Abate Julio); Msgr. FranÃ§ois Giraud; Msgr. Jean Bricaud (Tau Jean II); Msgr. Victor Blanchard (Tau Targelius); Msgr. Roger Menard (Tau Eon III); Msgr. Robert Ambelain; Msgr. Roger Deschamps (Tau Jean Rudiger); Msgr. Armand G. Toussaint (Tau Raymond); Msgr Marcel Jirousek (Tau Frederic); Msgr. Joel Duez (Tau Jacobus Jean de la Croix); Msgr. Philippe Pissier (Tau Sebek); Msgr. Massimo Mantovani (Tau Sokaris); Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃ"e Luchifero); Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

SUCCESSIONE APOSTOLICA CATTOLICA LIBERALE

(Liberal Catholic Church)

James I. Wedgewood, 13.02.1916 - Charles Webster Leadbeater, 22.07.1916 - Irving S. Cooper, 13.07.1919 - Charles Hampton, 13.09.1931 - Hermann Adrian Spruit, 22.06.1957 - Roberto de La Caridad Toca Y Medina (Tau Roberto IÃ°), 1982 - Don Jorge Enrique Rodriguez Villa (Tau Johannes XXIII), 1986 - Edmundo Pellizari Benveng (Tau Temujin), 1996 - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃ"e Luchifero), 2000 - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion) 18.11.03 e.v.

SUCCESSIONE APOSTOLICA GNOTICA CATTOLICA

(Fil.Huiracochoa)(Gnostiske Katolische Kirchen)

Filiazione n.1 legata alla Fraternitas Rosicruciana Antiqua del Grande Oriente di Cuba: Constant Chevillon - Dr. Arnoldo Krumm-Heller (Tau Huiracochoa) - Dr. Johannes Muller Riders (Sar Mar Tau Thelemako) - Roberto de la Caridad Toca y Medina (Tau Roberto IÃ°) - Don Jorge Enrique Rodriguez Villa (Tau Johannes XXIII) - Edmundo Pellizzari Benveng (Tau Temujin) - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃ"e Luchifero) - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

Filiazione n.2 legata alla Fraternitas Rosicruciana Antiqua del Grande Oriente di Spagna: Dr. Arnoldo Krumm-Heller (Tau Huiracochoa) - Dionisio Rios Ballester (Tau Aureolus) - Narciso Pell Alimany (Tau Camael) - Emanuele Coltro Guidi (Tau Sebastos Athanasios Sokaris) - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃ"e Luchifero) - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

Filiazione n.3 legata alla Fraternitas Rosicruciana Antiqua del Grande Oriente del

Brasile:Dr. Arnaldo Krumm-Heller (Tau Huiracochoa) - Duval Ernani de Paula (Coaracypora) - Paulo de Paula - Euclydes Lacerda de Almeida (Tau Aster) - Marcelo A.C. Santos (Tau Athanatos) - Narciso Pell Alimany (Tau Camael) - Emanuele Coltro Guidi (Tau Sebastos Athanasios Sokaris) - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃe Luchifero) - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

SUCCESSIONE APOSTOLICA GNOSTICA DELLA SS. MORTE

(Iglesia Gnostica de la Santa Muerte)

Narciso Pell Alimany (Tau SaKpatha) - Emanuele Coltro Guidi (Tau Sebastos Athanasios Sokaris) - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃe Luchifero) - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

La "Iglesia Gnostica de la St.ma Muerte" e' stata fondata da Mgr. Pell Alimany ed Ã basata sul Culto alla S.ta Muerte di Sonora in Mexico, D.F.. Il Culto alla St.ma Muerte Ã di origine animista Ã entrato in successione apostolica attraverso Mgr. Pell Alimany.

SUCCESSIONE SPIRITICA GNOSTICA ALBIGESE DOINELIANA

(Eglise Gnostique)

Linea 1: Jules Doinel (Tau Valentin II) ; Jean Bricaud (Tau Jean II); Victor Blanchard (Tau Targelius); Roger Menard (Tau Eon III); Rober Ambelain (Tau Jean III); Roger Deschamps (Tau Jean Rudiger); Armand G. Toussaint (Tau Raymond); Marcel Jirousek (Tau Frederic); Joel Duez (Tau Jacobus Jean de la Croix); Philippe Pissier (Tau Sebek); Massimo Mantovani (Tau Sokaris); Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃe Luchifero); Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

Linea 2:Jules Doinel (Tau Valentin II) ; Paul Sedir ; Albert Raymond Costet Visconde de Mascheville (Sar Cedaïor) ; Leo Alvarez Costet Visconde de Mascheville (Swami Sevananda) ; Huascar Correa Cruz (Sar Thoth) ; Edmundo Pelizzari Filho (Tau Temujin) ; Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃe Luchifero); Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

SUCCESSIONE APOSTOLICA GALLESE

Linea 1:Field - Laud - Richardson - Chechemian - William Bernard Crow (Mar Basilius Abdullah) - Hugh George de Wilmott Newman (Mar Georgius) - Gerald Maxey - Paul Wadle - Hermann Adrian Spruit - Roberto de la Caridad Toca y Medina (Tau Roberto IÃ) - Don Jorge Enrique Rodriguez Villa (Tau Johannes XXIII) - Edmundo Pellizzari Benveng (Tau Temujin) - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau OrphÃe Luchifero) - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

Linea 2: Aleister Crowley - W.B. Crow (Mar Basilius Abdullah) - Hugh George de Wilmott Newman (Mar Georgius) - Gerald Maxey - Paul Wadle - Hermann Adrian Spruit - Roberto de la Caridad Toca y Medina (Tau Roberto IÃ) - Tau Baphomet (Master Atal) - Msgr. Nicholaj de Mattos Frisvold (Tau Orphee Luchifero) - Robert Curley (Tau Amphion).

At Rui's so called Masonic Cathedral next to M16 HQ'S in London (10/6/2006)

A year ago at Freemasons Cathedral in London (an old red brick church in South Lambeth Road) with Bro.Rui Gabirro and my dear friend and assistant Mr.T. In the meanquile the US web site Masonic info received a phone call in July from an active-duty US Navy Petty Officer who says that the leaders of the so-called "Regular Grand Lodge of North Carolina" and the so-called "Regular Grand Lodge of Illinois" associated to Rui Gabirro are not imaginary as we'd assumed...Mmmm.. Masonic Info a site connected to Regular Freemasonry in the USA found very suspicious that Rui's partners also dont mind using false names on their web sites. Thats obviously because they are working for the American illuminati my dear US Masons!

Get it? When are you gonna wake up to the truth? This episode also demonstrates once again the involvement of the Navy intelligence with Brother Rui Gabirro , who is also secretely supported in the United States by the Director of the NY Rotary Club Comandante Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri, present leader of the paramasonic italo-american NWO organization OSIA connected to the Italian Mafia.

THE RUI GABIRRO 'MAFUKA' FILE (10/6/2006)

In the photo the man of the moment known also as the 'Duke of Cabinda' delivers a speech on the NEW WORLD ORDER in Feb2005 .

When is somebody gonna finally stop this kind of guys? He is a well known black magician in the occult circles who likes to think of himself as the ultimate Freemason, but in reality is covering up dirty operations for the American Illuminati in connection with the US Intelligence and Senior European Intelligence representatives. He is abusing Freemasonry by establishing a dangerously irregular Masonic worldwide network, linked with the usual boys from the P2 Monte Carlo Lodge and other NWO satanic manipulators, check yourself at the REGULAR GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND web site.

Saturday, July 15, 2006

Just when I thought the Internet couldn't get any weirder: Meet Rui Gabirro aka Duke Alexander of Cabinda!

So there I was, trying to parse the fine distinctions between Cabindan separatists pushing for independence of Cabinda from Angola, and there were these two sites: Cabinda.net and Cabinda.org, and they seemed to have originated from different factions of the rebel group FLEC. This should have been a mostly boring exercise in reading whois lookups. Cabinda.org seem to be run by the current incarnation of the main branch of FLEC. Cabinda.net seems to have been founded in 2000 when "His Excellency N'Zita Henriques Tiago, M.D.R." (sic) split off from the rest of FLEC as the war in 2000 was getting started. (My chronology here is a bit speculative.)

So. About those boring whois lookups: The Cabinda.net site was registered by Rui Gabirro of Dover in the UK. So. Just WhoIs Gabirro? That should have been a boring question. But the answer is more jawdroppingly strange than I could have imagined.

But before we get to that, let's talk a little about the Cabinda.net site. Apparently, you used to be able to get Cabindan passports through them. The Wayback Machine preserved the application form, which I have obtained a copy of. You can still visit the web page of the University of Cabinda, which looks to be the future home of an online diploma mill. And did you know that the Republic of Cabinda is founding a bank and a postal system (or at least issuing stamps)? The site also gives the impression that they have an army, the "Cabindan Defense Force," though it looks to be an army of one, near as I can tell; their army seems to lack an existence beyond their websites and the press releases of affiliated shell corporations. Fun stuff, yes? Well, I haven't even got to the good part yet!

SO. Just who is Rui Gabirro? Apparently, Gabirro is a guy obsessed with masonic ritual who was allegedly expelled from freemasonry on December 14, 2005. Why? Well, that's a very interesting question.

I gather that the big masonic organization in the UK is the United Grand Lodge of England. In 2005, Gabirro created and ran a website of a mimic organization, the Regular Grand Lodge of England, domain name rgle.org.uk registered January 11, 2005 by Mangovo Ngoyo. Interestingly, this newly born organization claims branches in a large number of countries: England, Italy, Slovenia, France, Spain, Brazil, Lebanon, Greece, the US, Portugal, Peru, Paraguay, Ecuador, Singapore, Malaysia, Madeira, Poland, and India. I gather that these organizations are populated in much the same way as the Cabindan Defense Force. However, even if they are hurting for members, I'll just bet that most of them have bank accounts into which you can put charitable donations towards the organization's Good Works.

Fascinating gizmo: an apparently fake worldwide network of secret masonic societies! That's enough material to keep about four schizophrenics happily occupied for quite a while. When Gabirro's strange project was outed by the folks at masonicinfo.com, Gabirro responded as nutty bottom-feeders do: by stalking those who outed him, posting menacing notes on Google Groups under the alias "I am Whatching You." Gabirro also has a really interesting history with Wikipedia. The image below, from a Google cache, is apparently his deleted Wikipedia entry.

SO. Who is this Mangovo Ngoyo who registered the rgle.org.uk domain name for Gabirro? In early March of 2006, press releases by the Republic of Cabinda Press Agency (RCPA) announcing the early stages of a human rights law suit were sent out; the releases named Mangovo Ngoyo, of the "The Cabinda High Commission, United Kingdom" as contact.

High Commission? Just how high are these guys, anyway? And does the Internet get any stranger than this?

We await Silent Tristero's Empire. Gubble gubble. If you were designing a money laundering network wouldn't you think it was an absolute stroke of genius to hire actual schizophrenics to design subsystems for it, so they could come up with things that no one could possibly believe? You could make, like, Enron Offshore on steroids!

These guys ought to be in pictures!

Posted by Kathryn on Saturday, July 15, 2006

The Mafuka affair...RGLE & MASONIC HIGH COUNCIL
(10/6/2006)

Bro.Rui Gabirro

'Mafuka' a representative of the new south American P2 and Leo Lyon Zagami discussing the foundations of the Masonic High Council in Feb.2005 e.v. at ORDO 2012 HQ'S in Lisson street (London).For more info on the irregular Masonic activities of Mr.Gabirro check this out http://www.masonicinfo.com/hidden_leaders.htm

Illuminati Confessions

Web: www.illuminaticonfessions.webfriend.it - E-Mail: illuminati@webfriend.it

Illuminati Confessions

by Leo Lyon Zagami

All you always wanted to know about the Real Story of the Illuminati

Homepage

Articles

Friends' sites

Who is

Contact

Guestbook

Gossip Lounge

ARTICLES 16-25

Our Sufi Master Shaykh Nazim al-Haqqani

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 05:14PM

The secret of the Golden Chain of the Naqshbandi Sufi Order is in his hands. He carries it with the highest power. It is shining everywhere. May Allah bless him and strengthen him in His Holy Work. May Allah send much peace, blessings, salutations, and light upon the Beloved Prophet Muhammad, his family, his companions, and all prophets and saints, especially His devoted servants in the Naqshbandi Path and all the Sufi Orders, and especially upon His friend in our time, Shaykh Nazim al-Haqqani.

Il Rito svelato...Francesco Murgia e Leo Lyon Zagami

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 11:06AM

BOLLA DI FONDAZIONE DEL GOI 1805

POSATE MASSONICHE

Il pasto e servito...

The Shriners, Freemasonry and Islam

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 09:24AM

W.Bro.Julian F.Smith European representative of the Shriners

We also know that this society serves the aims of world Jewry and derives its name from that particular purpose. A "mason" is a builder, and the Society of Freemasons aims to rebuild the Temple of Solomon in Jerusalem after destroying Al-Aqsa Mosque because the Jews allege that the mosque has been built on the site of the destroyed temple. Everything that furthers the interest of the Jews and promotes their position in the world is undertaken by the society. The cover of absolute secrecy and its strict hierarchy enables it to make use of the positions and influence of its non-Jewish members to serve the Jewish cause. We have to understand that many of its members work for the society trusting that they only serve the causes of liberty, equality and justice. They remain unaware that they simply serve the cause of giving the Jews supremacy in world affairs. Freemasonry has over the years earned itself a number of enemies, most notably the Catholic Church. In view of all this, there is no doubt that if a Muslim joins the Society of Freemasons, he contravenes the teachings of Islam. The aims, policy and practices of this society are against the principles of Islam and violate its laws. For example, Islam believes in maintaining justice among all people, regardless of race, color, family, position or creed. A Muslim must be fair to all people. Islam forbids favoritism, nepotism and discrimination on any basis. Freemasons favor one another on the basis of membership of their society. Islam respects other religions. Freemasonry deceives its members into thinking that they further the cause of a better humanity when they are actually furthering the interests of those who seek to give the Jews supremacy over all peoples of the world. Islam is the final message from Allah to man. It is the religion that supercedes all past divine messages, including Judaism. Freemasonry seeks to destroy Al-Aqsa Mosque in order to rebuild the Temple of Solomon in its place. How can a Muslim, then, join such a society? Copyright 1992-2005 Al Jazeera Publishing, Dubai, United Arab Emirates AND WE HAVE CONFIRMATION OF THIS DANGEROUS OMEN 'It is no more a secret that the temple has been designed again in the USA by American Jewish architects. The blueprints are at the disposition of the Israeli government.' (France Agence Press, August 1997). WARNING "We dont need to build a new Temple of Solomon Brothers and Sisters there is already one there and its called the Al-Aqsa Mosque and we respect it as the true and ultimate manifestation of the One God in the Holy land".(Bro. Leo Lyon Zagami/Khaled Saifullah Khan)

TRUE FREEMASONRY Master D.K. says "...Mysteries will be restored to outer expression through the medium of the Church and the Masonic Fraternity...When the Great One comes with His disciples and initiates, we shall have the restoration of the Mysteries..." But at this point we want to answer to the reader what kind of Great One are we talking about here? The Antichrist or our Master Jesus?And what kind of mysteries? The false mysteries of a window Mason or the real and genuine believe in God of a true adept of True and Ancient Freemasonry? Things could get dangerous indeed for Freemasons worldwide if we dont clear this matter once and for all in front of the Islamic community in the near the future.Because it is our duty as genuine Brothers to save the soul of those true Freemasons that believe in the one God and the coming of our new Grand Master the Messiah that will finally fulfil the long waited prophecies of a new Aeon for humankind. So we Brothers and Sisters of what I define as True Universal Freemasonry want to create a real and genuine UNIVERSAL UNITY that works out of the limitations of contemporary Freemasonry and restores the original mission of the true Illuminati and true servants of God,and that mission is the long awaited establishment of the Kingdom of God on earth not the kingdom of the AntiChrist but an Imperium of Tolerance,Peace and Truth, and the final destruction of Dajjal and all those evil forces that will follow him untill the end of times. My life is dedicated to the restauration of true Brotherhood amongst humankind and I hope that all togheter we accomplish this important mission for humanity.But remember this is a delicate and dangerous mission my Brothers and Sisters of the Universal Unity because the time of Revelation is now and the AntiChrist is building up forces for the final confrontation. We are not willing to compromise with him and the return of True Freemasonry into this world ,and the Revelation of the true Illuminati depends on our mission to expose him and show to the world who this AntiChrist really is. Glory to God almighty our final Judge, God our only True Master, G not D not Devil, Truth and light not darkness and oppression is what we want for the new Millenium the Age of Jesus the Emperor not Satan the pretender. May God show you the way to real enlightenment dear Brothers and Sisters of Freemasonry in these last days before the big change takes place and the heads start rolling again in St.Peters Square with the return of the "Terrible Judge"... Terrible for the non believers the infedels that have not prepared for this moment of truth but Blessed for the faithfull and true believers of the religion of Islam that the converted Knights Templar that were burned and persecuted in their final days always revered and respected just like like St.Francis when he used to meet with the Sufi Masters. Because the real Knight Templars are not the evil Crusaders but true Muslim Brothers ready to protect and work for the true Jesus in the end of times and that's a fact not pure speculation as demonstrated by recent discoveries of an archeological nature in Turkey and elsewhere in the middle East. We our fed up of these continuous lies in regards to the true nature of the founders of Freemasonry and we would like to reveal to our Muslim Brothers out there that our real founder was not some obscure European Aristocrat performing old pagan Rituals in his Castle (though a few did they were always a decadent minority) but our true Grand Master Enoch the High Priest of True Freemasonry the One they know in the Islamic religion as Idris and we are well aware of the possible Jewish limitations due their nature and the fact they still dont accept Jesus and Mohammed (PBUH) as their savours in the end of time, but things will possibly change in the mind of those Jewish Brothers and Sisters who understand were we are and where we are going next. What was created out of a compromise in 1717 when four Lodges came together in London to form the Grand Lodge of England is not True Freemasonry but a lower and often corrupted expression of the true Art (as we have stated in our 9 previous chapters dedicated to the study of True Freemasonry),and Jews were never allowed to join Prussian Freemasonry one of the highest forms of European Freemasonry for example quite the English Masonic Network has always welcomed the Jewish Brethern from the early stages of Speculative or Modern Masonry and looked at important Jewish characters of their time like Dr.Falk as an inspiration, and we can notice this in the address made by the Illustrius Rosicrucian Freemason Bro.William Wynn Westcott to the Societa Rosicruciana In Anglia over a 100 years ago: "About fifty years earlier a certain eminent Jew named Falk,or Dr.Falcon,lived in London (a reference to whom will be found in the "Encyclopedia of Freemasonry" by Kenneth Mackenzie) and was of high repute as a teacher of the kabalah and of other studies of a Rosicrucian character;he was indeed said to have magical powers. Dr.Falk coul not have fully affiliated to any Rosicrucian Colleges because he was a strict Jew of the Jews,and the members of all true Rosicrucian Colleges have always been Christian,but perhaps not of an orthodox tipe ,for there was a tendency toward Gnostic ideals.Mackenzie classes Dr.Falk among the Rosicrucian of eminence,and certainly told me he had first hand evidence of his connection with the Society;many Christian students adopted a modification of the old Jewish Kabalh,so perhaps some Jews have been allied to the Christian Rosicrucians." By this important address made by Fr'. William Wynn Westcot to the Rosicrucians of England we can clearly state the early influence of certain Jews on English Freemasonry and their mistery Schools but at the same time we notice from the following stament made by Brother Westcott the radically different and more serious approach of the German groups of Rosicrucians linked to Prussian Freemasonry: "The german groups of Rosicrucian now existing are much more immersed in mystic and occult lore than ourselves;they endeavour to extend the human faculties beyond the material toward the etherea, astral and spiritual worlds:at the present time I understand that they use no formulated Ritual"(Bro. William Wynn Westcott adressing the SRIA) It was in Germany, Austria that the True illuminati Tradition of real Christian Europe was preserved and developed for the benefit of humankind and not in England were things started to go terribly wrong after the first Grand Lodge was established in 1717 and the last British Illuminati like Elias Ashmole were already dead for sometime. It is in these German and Austrian Rosicrucian Colleges that contact was reestablished again and again with the genuine mystics of the middle East known to us as the Sufi Masters or the Tibetan Lamas of the far East ,something the German R+C Illuminati learned in Italy were the true Illuminati Schools started much earlier and strong contact with the middle East was established already during the first Roman Empire and the following Sacred Roman Empire. Some of this German/Austrian contacts are well reported like the ones of the illustrius Austrian Frater Karl Kerner or the ones that lead to the creation of the Thule-Gesellschaft in 1919 of Bro.Rudolf Von Sebbotendorff strongly linked to the Turkish Sufi Masters of the late Ottoman Empire and very influential in certain SRIA Colleges. Some of the Sufi initiations into certain key misteries of a higher nature were a bit to hard to handle for their western practitioners and this misuse of the Holy knowledge of the Qu'ran is very evident in Adolf Hitler or Himmler and to a certain extent also in Napoleon Bonaparte, so lets hope the Westerners dont abuse the treasures of Islam again and finally understand the real nature of the Muslim faith. Praise be to God the almighty the all powerfull the all mercifull. The United States Masonic tradition has also been heavily influnced by Muslim culture as we can notice immediatly by the colour Green on the one dollar bill the Holy colour of Islam. The founders of the American republic, as high-degree Freemasons, were aware of the importance of Islamic wisdom and culture to the birth of Western civilisation. This may explain why Morocco was the first nation in history to recognise the United States, and whatâ€™s really behind the story of George Washington being presented with a Moorish flag. Some researchers believe this flag consisted of a red background with a green five-pointed star in the centre of it. The star or pentagram, which the Moors called the Seal of Sulaiyman and coloured green to honour Islam, also figures prominently in Masonic art and architecture. The layout of the city of Washington D.C. â€” designed by Freemasons â€” incorporates the pentagram. When Freemasons traveling in the Muslim lands encountered Sufis, the mystics of Islam, they soon recognised a common bond. â€œSufi-ism,â€ said Sir Richard Burton, was â€œthe Eastern parent of Freemasonry.â€ John Porter Brown, an American diplomat in Turkey in the mid 1800s, was a Freemason who wrote sympathetically of the Sufi path. In The Darvishes, he admits finding it â€œrather strange that the Dervishes of the Bektashi Order consider themselves quite the same as the Freemasons, and are disposed to fraternize with them.â€ Brown commented how in Turkey Freemasonry had come to be generally regarded as â€œatheism of the most condemnable character.â€ A position not unlike the one held by Papus, the celebrated French occultist and Gnostic bishop, who tried to counter the Masonic lodges which, he believed, were in the service of British imperialism and the international financial syndicates. Papus also viewed Freemasonry as a diabolical perversion of the ancient secret tradition and atheistic at heart as he was a member of True Spiritual Freemasonry not anglosaxon window masonry. When Madame Blavatsky (1831-1891) set out in search of hidden wisdom it was to the Islamic land of Egypt that she journeyed. Blavatsky claimed to be a disciple of the Masters Morya and Koot Hoomi. The researcher K. Paul Johnson convincingly shows her tales of the â€œMastersâ€ to be modelled on real people, many genuine occult adepts. Prominent among them Jamal ad-Din al-Afghani, a Sufi scholar, tireless political intriguer, and the leader of radical movements throughout the Muslim world, whose travels enigmatically paralleled those of Madame Blavatsky for more than thirty years. Best remembered for co-founding the Theosophical Society and helping to popularise Buddhism and Hinduism in the West, Blavatsky also proudly wrote of â€œliving with the whirling dervishes, with the Druze of Mount Lebanon, with the Bedouin Arabs and the marabouts of Damascus.â€ Madame Blavatskyâ€™s â€œMastersâ€ are very close to the Sufi tradition of Khwajagan (Persian: â€œMastersâ€). Ernest Scott states â€œthe Khwajagan teachers are entirely corporeal and literal, having been physically located in the Hindu Kush area since the 10th century. The Hindu Kush range is in Afghanistan: geographically, it forms the Western extreme of the Himalayas.â€³ Scott quotes from a paper by a Turkish writer who describes how members of the Khwajagan: ...intervene from time to time in human affairs. They do this, not as leaders or teachers of mankind, but unobtrusively by introducing certain ideas and techniques. This intervention works in such a way as to rectify deviations from the predestined course of human history. This inner circle, it is claimed, concentrates its activities in those areas and at those times when the situation is critical for mankind.â€⁴ Certainly Madame Blavatskyâ€™s teacher Jamal ad-Din al-Afghani, who was raised in Afghanistan, fits the description of a Master Adept. His life is described as a mysterious odyssey that led through lands as far apart as India and America. Received by heads of state in Cairo and Istanbul, he moved in both underground radical circles and the highest centres of power in European and Oriental capitals. The idea of living â€œspiritual guidesâ€ or masters is central to Sufism. In the words of Sir John Glubb Pasha: â€œSufism cannot be defined in words, nor can it be comprehended by the human intellect. It can only be imperceptibly "caught" or imbibed by association with a Sufi master. The Sufi master is revered by his disciples for being in contact with a level of higher consciousness, his mission on Earth directed by higher powers. Studying the lives of some of the greatest Sufi masters we often find them to be wandering holy men (& women) whose actions are usually misunderstood by orthodox believers. The shrines of Sufi masters are centres of trance dancing, exorcism, and miraculous healings. The Sufi tradition is integral to Islamic Science. Sufi masters are also renowned for communicating with their followers through dreams. There are numerous stories of Sufi saints appearing in a disciple's dreams and using telepathy to direct followers to undertake a special mission. Mission to America A few years after Madame Blavatsky founded the Theosophical Society in New York in 1875, the Master Adept Jamal ad-Din al-Afghani turned up in America around 1882. Two Americans of African descent, who are rumoured to have studied under al-Afghani, were the parents of the man who would one day establish the Nation of Islam in the United States. Noble Drew Ali (born Timothy Drew) early in the 20th century took a job as a merchant seaman and found himself in Egypt. According to one legend, Noble Drew Ali made a pilgrimage to North Africa where he studied with Moorish scholars and received a mandate from the king of Morocco to instruct Americans of African descent in Islam. His association with the ruler of Morocco is significant when we recall the historic relationship between this Moorish country and the early United States. At the Pyramid of Cheops his followers believe he received initiation and took the Muslim name Sharif [Noble] Abdul Ali; in America he would be known as Noble Drew Ali. On his return to the United States in 1913 he had a dream in which he was ordered to found a movement "to uplift fallen humanity by returning the nationality, divine creed and culture to persons of Moorish descent in the Western Hemisphere." He organised the Moorish Science Temple along lines similar to Masonic lodges, with local temple branches and "Adept Chambers" teaching the esoteric wisdom derived from the secret circle of Eastern Sages, the Master Adepts of Moorish Science. Noble Drew Ali is said to have made a historic visit to Washington, D.C. in order to reclaim the Moorish flag and obtain official recognition to call his people to their true faith, "Al Islam". The US president, believing that African Americans would not embrace Islam, gave Noble Drew Ali full authority to teach Moorish Science in America and create the Nation of Islam. Though we as true Illuminat adepts follow the pure teachings of Al-Islam based on the Holy Qur'an and we don't accept in any way the false and racist teachings of the Nation of Islam I still consider them to be Brothers if they get rid of their ignorant leaders who should study some proper Moorish Science before opening their mouth in the name of Islam. Always in America we also have that childish phenomena born in certain decadent masonic circles known as the Shriners, they are making a mockery of true Islam and they should apologize for their actions against the Muslim faith, we agree with all Muslim leaders on this point THE SHRINERS NEED TO OPENLY EMBRACE THE REAL ISLAM and immediately reject the ritual and initiation of the "Kissing of the black stone" is ridiculous, offensive, and disgraceful. It is as we said in the beginning of this statement a direct mockery of that solemn tradition in the life of Muslims. Let's stop it now before it's too late dear Freemasons involved in such operations like Bro. Julian F. Smith (in the photo above) official representative of the Shriners in Europe and member of the United Grand Lodge of England STOP NOW WITH THESE OFFENSIVE ACTIONS TOWARDS GOD BROTHER AND YOU WILL BE FORGIVEN Our favourite degree in the present stage of our existence is called 'the degree of Khidr' something that God grants to Saints not a spurious degree received in a Shriners Temple but something that God gives to the real Illuminati who have reached the second level of life. "A Saint who reaches this degree receives instruction from Khidr and meets with him. But sometimes the one at that degree is mystakenly thought to be Khidr himself." SAID NURSI

So let's protect the Real Masters from this present degeneration and let's remember that our roots come from the East where we find the light, the light of Islam. Because we go as Freemasons from Square to Compass, from Bible to Qur'an in the name of the one true

God that unites us all and his last Prophet Muhammad(PBUH).

A letter from Kenneth Anger

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 09:00AM

Letter from the infamous Kenneth Anger honorary XIo degree of the Caliphate OTO and celebrated worldwide satanist and black magician regarding the secret Illuminati Egyptian gathering of 2004 e.v.

Kenneth Anger is well known as the black magician who inspired Lord Mick Jager and the Rolling Stones in the late 1960's.

Me and another close member of my As-Hermetis illuminati project called Paul Vebralovich tried to bring all these satanist and fake illuminati to Cairo in April 2004 e.v. in order to put some sense in their heads or expose them once and for all in front of the true illuminati of the Muslim and Coptic Christian world. Unfortunately the USA intelligence didnt like our plans, and the secret illuminati event called Thelemic Gathering 2004 was cancelled in late September 2003. I was even arrested by the police in Oslo (Norway) who were acting under big pressure from the corrupt Norwegian intelligence, the American FBI and naturally the local branch of the ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS. They kept me in a mental hospital called Lovisenberg against my own will for nearly one month. During this period they put me on heavy medication, I got really sick and I tried to escape but the corrupt norwegian police arrested me again at Oslo airport while I was trying to go on a plane to London. Finally after 3 weeks I was released so I could go to London and then Egypt to visit with Paul the Boutros Ghali's.

The NEW WORLD ORDER and the various satanist that support it from Norway and the USA were not so happy with me and they were obviously very powerful as we have noticed with the Oslo arrest, and the way they have tried to ruin my reputation over and over again using their "mental sickness card", but thanks God I still have a few friends around the world that have not joined the forces of the Antichrist and never will. Remember Dajal will not prevail in the end of times so dont be afraid, just pray and follow the path of the one God.

THE OTO/UNITED GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND SATANIC CONNECTION

Posted on Friday, October 6, 2006 at 11:13PM

BRO.SIMON KANE OF THE UGLE KNOWN AS FRATER UNAS AMONGST THE SATANIST OF THE CALIPHATE OTO

Past Master of the 'Caliphate' OTO Tabula Rasa Lodge in London, Simon Kane, belonging to the United Grand Lodge of England has been kicked out of the SRIA Metropolitan College of London (eg Robert A. Gilbert, expert on Golden Dawn and Chairman of Quatuor Coronati) after a long investigation by Leo Lyon Zagami that also involved the United Grand Lodge of England and some of its most distinguished members (eg John M. Hamill). At the moment there is turmoil also among the masonic brethren in London, as there popped up in 2005 e.v. an irregular body styling itself the "Regular Grand Lodge of England" which is governed by something called "the Masonic High Council for England and Wales" that is also connected to the OTO affair. We will show soon the evidence we have collected on this case, and the true story of the Masonic High Council of Bro. Rui Gabirro another dangerous black magician working for the American illuminati.

Lon Milo Duquette was initiated in Freemasonry in California at the end of the 90's and reached the 32nd degree of the A.A.S.R. apparently after just two years in 2001 ("typical US superficiality in handing out these degrees and getting you in the Rite after two minutes as a mason" complained some London masons) with one of those A.A.S.R. mass initiations where you can watch everything on stage and become a great initiate in a weekend. Duquette asked and obtained the permission to use Liber AL instead the Bible as VSL for his initiation. This info regarding the dangerous OTO investigation conducted by Brother Leo Lyon Zagami with the support of illustrious Bro. Robert Gilbert against the satanic infiltration of the SRiA, was later given to another strange character. A famous Swiss researcher called Peter Koenig author of the so called OTO PHENOMENON web site. Koenig unfortunately got the information and used it for his own planned article in early June 2005 without asking any permission to Bro. Leo and even copyrighted it under his name after he originally wrote:

Date: Tue, 10 May 2005 16:29:00 +0200

To: "leo young"

From: "Peter-R. Koenig" Add to Address Book

Subject: curiosity killed the cat.

good evening mr young many thanks for your interesting email.

did you send also an email in the last 10 days or so? i remember having seen something by someone's email address that looked similar to yours but as i receive up to 100 SPAMs a day, unfortunately i have deleted it before reading. so, in the case you have sent an email in the last days: please re-send it. make sure that its header contains the keywords "OTO" or something like that :-) i never meant to be rude but as i have told you: i am extremely busy.

do you have names of the 'caliphate' members that have been expelled from the SRiA? how can robert gilbert and john hamill be involved in all this?

at the moment i am writing an intense article on the machinations of the 'caliphate' people: showing that this is NOT an esoteric order but a firm that collects money. it summarizes all the findings that i have published not only on my website but also in my books, especially in my "der OTO phänomen REMIX". if you are interested into the backgrounds of the 'caliphate', their REAL order structure, their internal papers: buy my REMIX book.

as for the planned article (to be published in early June 2005) i also focus on the current situation of the 'Caliphate'.

your question about my masonic credentials is ridiculous. look at my website. look at my books.

i have been a friend of the late Ellic Howe. i had been a rather close friend and research colleague of the late Oscar Schlag. that should suffice for your curiosity.

william breeze, chief of the 'caliphate' is in London at the moment.

"officially" for order reasons. do you think he is also in London due to this SRiA affair?

sincerely
Peter-R.Koenig

The following e-mail proves instead the close ties between the two organizations (ORDO TEMPLI ORIENTIS and UNITED GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND):

Fri, 31 Oct 2003 13:23:40 +0100
To: "leo young"
From: "Aion" Add to Address Book
Subject: Supreme Council Resolution: your OTO membership is suspended
CC: "Arild StrÅ,msvÅ¥g"
Dear Leo Lyon Zagami:

Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law.

This is to let you know that the Supreme Council of O.T.O. has met and resolved as follows:

Resolution 031029.01.
Motion to suspend the membership of Leo Lyon Zagami (aka Leo Young) due to charges of acts prejudicial to OTO, such as his harassment of members of
the United Grand Lodge
in connection with OTO.
Leo Lyon Zagami (aka Leo Young) is given 30 days from the time of passage of the resolution to show cause why he should not be expelled.
If no written defense to charges is received by Dec 1, 2004 e.v., expulsion will be automatic on that date.

Love is the law, love under will.

In the Bonds of the Order,
Fraternally
Aion
Secretary General
Ordo Templi Orientis

.....
Ordo Templi Orientis
International Headquarters
Secretary General, Fr. Aion
PO Box 33 20 12
D - 14180 Berlin
Germany
.....

LON MILO DUQUETTE AND LEO LYON ZAGAMI AT OSLO SATANIC
CALIPHATE OTO HQ'S

For the first time Lon Milo Duquette upside down with his precious ring.
Brother Lon a 'REGULAR FREEMASON' initiated in California and raised to the 32 degree of the A.A.S.R. is unfortunately a poor satanic slave of the NEW WORLD ORDER and Grand Secretary of the US OTO CALIPHATE ,a dangerous American brainwashing satanic cult connected to the Church of Satan of Anton La Vey...

We have very strange combinations in this NEW WORLD ORDER, like for example well known Christian Mason and Senior Martinist representative Bro.Tony Henley from the SRIA shown on the left side of the picture bellow , and the satanic Grand Secretary of the UK OTO Bro.Stephen Schofield on the right side...Two illustrious Freemasons of the United Grand Lodge of England home of all perversions visiting eachother at Kirby Lodge 2818.

Secret illuminati New World Order gatherings in Norway with Lon Milo Duquette

Posted on Sunday, October 8, 2006 at 12:59PM

It was definetely an historical moment at the Ordo Templi Orientis HQ'S in Oslo (Norway) that day in late August 2001 for these poor lost souls in the hands of satan and his legions...

Finaly I was face to face with a so called American illuminati, an agent of the devil ,a known satanist who was in Norway to deliver a speech on the OTO, Thelema and other diabolical satanic practices like Goethian Magick.This was done in a very secret gathering of OTO illuminati arriving from all over Europe in the famous norwegian woods .It lasted from the 23rd to the 26th of August 2001 and I went there ,naturally I was praying every day in the hope of surviving this ordeal.

Leo Lyon Zagami

LA SOFFITTA DI LICIO GELLI E LA SUA STORICA VIRATA A SINISTRA

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 09:50PM

Date un occhiata a questa recente intervista rilasciata alla televisione italiana La 7 dal Maestro Venerabile Licio Gelli della P2 /Check out this recent interview with WM.Bro. Licio Gelli of the P2 on the italian TV La 7:
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=twtwpS-QmWg>

La "conversione" di Licio Gelli di Rita Pennarola " tratto da "La Voce della Campania" " giugno 2006
www.lavocedellacampania.it

Già! le mani da Previti e Cossiga. Dopo l'ironico corsivo del Foglio, che ha cos commentato il "passaggio" di Licio Gelli al centrosinistra sancito dalla prolusione di Linda Giuva D'Alena all'Archivio di Stato di Pistoia, siamo andati ad incontrare il venerabile riconvertito ai valori no global. Il quale dice basta non solo alla guerra in Iraq ma anche alle missioni in Afghanistan e Kosovo, spingendosi a chiedere lo smantellamento delle basi Nato in territorio italiano. E parla per la prima volta del suo stretto rapporto con alcuni piduisti eccellenti.

Era nell'aria, ma solo oggi se ne ha piena conferma: la campagna acquisti del centrosinistra che ha dirottato sulle sponde uliviste uomini come Ugo Intini, Domenico Fisichella e, già nel napoletano, il forzista Sergio De Gregorio, mette a segno un colpo da Maestro ("il caso di dirlo) portando a casa un nuovo, valoroso "compagno", che oggi rilascia interviste ispirate al pensiero no global. Anche perché lui, quando le cose le fa, preferisce farle fino in fondo. Quindi, se decide di passare a sinistra, ne sposa senza esitazioni le istanze più radicali. Acciacchi permettendo, aspettiamoci ora in poi di ritrovarlo a marciare confuso in un corteo di no Tav e, soprattutto, di vederlo scendere in campo per fermare la guerra in Iraq.

Ma certo, stiamo parlando proprio di lui, del Gran Maestro Licio Gelli, fresco di conversione ai valori dell'Unione dopo ottant'anni di onorata militanza nel fronte massonico-conservatore costellato da sospetti di stragismo. Dopo lo storico ribaltamento di fronte, sancito a febbraio dalla donazione all'archivio di Stato pistoiese della parte "representabile" dei suoi cimeli e la stretta di mano con Linda Giuva D'Alena, autrice dell'altisonante prolusione in veste di archivista, abbiamo chiesto al Venerabile un incontro ravvicinato per capire se la nuova appartenenza ideologica facesse emergere umori, ma soprattutto notizie inedite, sugli scenari politici in atto e sulla recente storia del Paese.

Ci arriviamo proprio mentre il quadro politico italiano sta cambiando faccia, con Giorgio Napolitano nuovo inquilino del Quirinale (fu proprio durante la permanenza di Napolitano agli Interni che Gelli si diede alla latitanza, nel..., il che comportò una richiesta di dimissioni per l'allora titolare del Viminale) ed i ministri del governo Prodi pronti a giurare.

I taxi, ad Arezzo, conoscono bene la strada e in un baleno dalla stazione ferroviaria siamo a Villa Wanda, sulle verdi colline dell'antica città toscana. Poco "cambiato" nella struttura dalla nostra visita del 1996, giusto 10 anni fa, eccezion fatta per il pappagallo di casa, che all'epoca lanciava invettive all'indirizzo dell'ex capo dello Stato Oscar Luigi Scalfaro, e che oggi - con il maquillage complessivo del Gelli-pensiero - "è stato probabilmente sostituito con un innocuo volatile capace al massimo di dire "ciaio". Impeccabile, cortese ma, soprattutto, più che mai lucido ad onta degli ottantacinque suonati, Licio Gelli ci accoglie nel salottino riservato agli ospiti, sempre uguale, sotto i quadri di famiglia. Al di là del tono bonario da anziano signore di campagna, quel guizzo, nei suoi occhi, "è rimasto lo stesso.

La vittoria del centrosinistra alle Politiche 2006 ed il peso decisivo degli italiani nel mondo sulla durata del governo Prodi sono i primi argomenti su cui si sofferma. «Quei diciotto senatori eletti all'estero - esordisce - costeranno allo Stato l'ira di Dio, senza che abbiano alcun reale interesse per le vicende italiane. La loro presenza in parlamento, per giunta, potrebbe essere causa di incidenti diplomatici, perché rappresentano un fattore di ingerenza su questioni che, per legge, dovrebbero essere riservate ai soli ambasciatori».

Eppure era stato Mirko Tremaglia, un uomo della destra, a battersi per il voto degli italiani all'estero.

Tremaglia io lo conosco bene, era con me nella Repubblica Sociale, ma oggi dovrebbe farsi da parte. Chi ha avallato queste sue iniziative non comprende il valore del denaro.

Considera questo un errore di Silvio Berlusconi?

E perché, non ha commesso errori, Berlusconi? Ma ne ha fatti tanti, anche in quest'ultima campagna elettorale. Ce ne dica qualcuno. Tanto per cominciare, io avrei fatto una dichiarazione annunciando il ritiro immediato dei nostri militari impegnati sui fronti esteri. Ma quale missione di pace? In Iraq c'è in atto una guerra civile, perché mai noi dovremmo intervenire? Allora siamo di parte... Ma la stessa cosa vale per l'Afghanistan, per il Kosovo... Abbiamo 9000 uomini impegnati in queste missioni, ogni giorno perdiamo vite umane e tutto questo comporta spese militari enormi, mentre il popolo italiano è alla fame. E non solo questo: avrei chiesto il ritiro di tutte le basi americane dal nostro Paese. È vero che gli Stati Uniti avevano vinto la guerra, ma sono passati molti anni e il nostro prezzo lo abbiamo già pagato.

Questi sono consigli che lei li aveva in qualche modo fatti pervenire all'ex premier? Beh... in qualche modo il suggerimento gli era arrivato attraverso canali informali ma, come vede, non è stato ascoltato... Se lo avesse fatto, avrebbe superato ampiamente il 50 per cento dei voti.

Che cosa altro avrebbe voluto dirgli?

Che la prima cosa da fare doveva essere quella di guardare alla Cina: attenzione, perché domani governerà l'Italia... preparatevi, io no, non ci sarà, vi guarderò da una nuvoletta e da là, per fortuna, non ci sono ancora telefoni...

Torniamo al pericolo giallo.

Guardi, facciamo solo il caso di Arezzo. Qui le industrie italiane si stanno spopolando, ma a Prato nel consiglio d'amministrazione dell'Unione Industriali siedono già due imprenditori cinesi. Sono una massa enorme, hanno solo il 2 per cento di disoccupati ed hanno l'obiettivo di imporre al mondo occidentale la loro supremazia, morale ed economica. Hanno comprato mezza America: se domani chiedono agli Stati Uniti di orientare, crolla tutto il sistema economico occidentale. Non dimentichiamo che gli Usa sono una nazione sfiancata dai costi enormi del conflitto iracheno, un miliardo di dollari al giorno... E invece l'Italia, di fronte a tutto questo, cosa fa?

Appunto, cosa fa?

Errori, come quella iniziativa dell'ex presidente Carlo Azeglio Ciampi, il quale portò in Cina a spese dello Stato ben 350 industriali utilizzando tre aerei, solo per mostrare che il costo di produzione per qualsiasi oggetto è cento volte più ridotto in Cina che in Italia. Come se ci fosse ancora qualcuno che non lo sa. il nuovo establishment

Da Ciampi a Napolitano: si aspettava la sua elezione al Quirinale?

Giorgio Napolitano è un uomo serio e all'altezza. Non lo conosco personalmente, ma so che ha operato bene come presidente della Camera e ministro degli Interni. Ha un solo difetto: 81 anni, che sono tanti. Gli faccio i miei migliori auguri, perché è difficile governare questo Paese. E qualche volta è anche inutile...

Se fosse dipeso da lei, chi avrebbe visto al Colle?

Ma... avrei visto bene la possibilità di far ripetere il mandato a Francesco Cossiga... se il popolo avrebbe tratto grossi vantaggi da un Cossiga bis, perché è un uomo preparato, disinteressato e, negli anni della sua presidenza, ha svegliato un'Italia che dormiva.

E Andreotti?

Giulio Andreotti è sempre stato il migliore. Se invece che uomo politico fosse stato un manager, negli anni in cui è stato leader di governo avrebbero cercato di ingaggiarlo in tutto il mondo, ma con lui torniamo al discorso dell'etichetta, del 19 come me, e ci sono i dolori anagrafici che nessuna medicina può guarire.

Vi vedete ancora, ogni tanto?

Ma sa, se capita sono sempre incontri in forma privata...

E Berlusconi? Non vi vedete dai tempi della P2 oppure ci sono stati incontri in questi anni? Non so, non me lo ricordo...

Torniamo allora per un momento al presidente Napolitano. Lei sa che il Gran Maestro del Grande Oriente d'Italia Gustavo Raffi ha espresso vivo apprezzamento...

Non parlatemi di quel piccolo avvocato di Forlì che percepisce un consistente appannaggio come Gran Maestro, mentre per quel ruolo previsto solo un rimborso spese.

Passiamo al governo Prodi. Come vede la situazione della risicata maggioranza al Senato? Più che altro i pericoli sono connessi all'elevato numero dei partiti e all'inevitabile litigiosità per le poltrone. Stia tranquillo che prima di Natale per il governo Prodi ci saranno dei grossi problemi.

Lei, nel frattempo, ha ricevuto il patrocinio del comune di Pistoia, guidato dal centrosinistra, per la cerimonia di consegna del suo patrimonio di documenti storici all'Archivio di Stato. Perché lo ha fatto?

Guardi, quell'enorme patrimonio avrei potuto monetizzarlo, pensi che contiene manoscritti risalenti all'anno mille, lettere di D'Annunzio, preziosi autografi, documenti rarissimi di Napoleone, di Don Bosco. Ho preferito che diventasse pubblico e in questa scelta ho incontrato la grande esperienza di un archivistica come Linda Giuva Alema, che ha saputo valorizzarlo con ineguagliabile maestria.

E le carte della P2? Dove sono le centinaia di nomi degli iscritti che, secondo l'ex procuratore capo di Napoli Agostino Cordova, mancavano all'appello dopo il ritrovamento delle liste?

Io Cordova non ho mai preso in considerazione. I suoi errori riguardano proprio le indagini sulla massoneria: ha fondato la sua carriera su quell'inchiesta, ma non ha trovato niente di rilevante.

Anche Antonio Di Pietro si è scagliato più volte contro i poteri occulti.

Di Pietro a mio parere non ha saputo fare né il magistrato, né il commissario, né il giornalista né l'uomo politico.

Vi siete mai conosciuti personalmente?

Sì, e lo voglio raccontare. Un giorno, mentre aspettavo di essere interrogato a Milano dalla Guardia di Finanza, sarà stato il '92 o il '93, ad un certo momento Di Pietro si alzò e mi prese sotto braccio. Cominciammo a passeggiare per i corridoi della caserma.

Mi disse: «Sai, stiamo per arrestare la segretaria di Craxi, sentirò domani che casino...». Poi non ho più rivisto.

La riforma dell'ordinamento giudiziario avviata dall'ex ministro Castelli a giudizio di molti ricordava quella da lei prevista nel piano di rinascita nazionale. È un accordo?

Si tratta di una riforma rimasta orfana perché non è stata attuata la piena divisione delle carriere fra giudici e pubblici ministeri. Nel piano di rinascita io avevo proposto di istituire due diversi concorsi in magistratura. Giudice e pm si dovrebbero odiare, se vogliamo una giustizia equa. Invece continuano ad andare a letto insieme.

Ci sono ancora oggi magistrati o altri personaggi di grosso calibro che fanno riferimento a lei?

Guardi, io la stecca non l'ho passata a nessuno. E cerco di tenermi fuori. Se ci sono magistrati massoni, io ora non li conosco.

Come spiega il fatto che per vicende come le stragi siciliane si scoprono solo gli esecutori ma non si trovano mai i mandanti?

In Italia i processi durano molto a lungo e di certe vicende se ne occupano in tanti, troppi. Ho come l'impressione che uno cancelli le prove trovate dall'altro...

Ma c'è la mafia ad aver bisogno dei politici, o viceversa?

Io penso che sia una certa politica a ricorrere alla mafia per beneficiare di tutte le possibilità, anche economiche, di cui dispongono le organizzazioni.

E la mafia cosa ottiene esattamente in cambio? Solo appalti, protezioni, o qualcosa d'altro?

Ma sa, la Sicilia è un caso particolare.

In che senso?

In Sicilia in qualche modo nascono mafiosi. Me lo disse una volta il generale Carlo Alberto Dalla Chiesa.

Qual era esattamente il suo rapporto col generale Dalla Chiesa?

Era un rapporto magnifico, leale. Lui era iscritto alla P2 così come suo fratello Romolo, altro generale dei Carabinieri morto proprio nelle ultime settimane. Ma uno non sapeva dell'altro. Era la nostra regola.

A quale periodo risale il suo stretto rapporto con Carlo Alberto Dalla Chiesa?

Credo che ci conossemmo a metà anni settanta, a Roma. Molto prima, quindi, che venisse mandato in Sicilia.

Che cosa aveva scoperto in Sicilia, secondo lei, Dalla Chiesa?

Non lo so, so solamente che fu mandato giù in Sicilia dopo lo scandalo nello scandalo (il ritrovamento degli elenchi della P2, ndr).

Comunque oggi, a parte Berlusconi, molti ex piduisti rivestono cariche di potere. La massoneria è ancora così forte?

Mi raccontano che nel GOI c'è una continua emorragia. Quella che fa capo a Palazzo Vitelleschi mi sembra una massoneria più seria. Quella della P2 era tutta un'altra storia. Abbiamo dovuto subire quello che io chiamo lo scandalo nello scandalo, persecuzioni, processi, e alla fine sa cosa è successo? Che la Corte di Strasburgo ha condannato lo Stato italiano a chiedermi scusa e a risarcirmi con 22 milioni. Dopo tutto il denaro che la commissione Anselmi aveva fatto spendere per non approdare a nulla.

Le associazioni segrete, per esempio, sono illegali. Al tempo della P2 questa legge non esisteva. Noi eravamo la punta di diamante della loggia di Palazzo Giustiniani, come dimostrano le lettere che conservo in archivio, ci occupavamo di tutta l'assistenza di cui avevano bisogno i massoni italiani. Il gran maestro Salvini veniva da noi, ci portava le richieste e noi davamo seguito.

Di che tipo furono i rapporti diretti con il mondo politico?

Basti pensare che tra le nostre fila c'è Merano sei ministri, magistrati, generali, banchieri. Oggi esistono 18 Orienti, tutti si considerano massoni ma in realtà quasi nessuno ha un reale potere.

Quali erano i principali ambiti della vostra influenza?

Prima di tutto i rapporti con l'Estero. Non dimentichiamo che esistono Paesi, come la Gran Bretagna e la Svezia, dove re e gran maestro sono la stessa persona. La massoneria, quella vera, è preclusa alle donne, per questo in Inghilterra si attende l'ascesa al trono di Carlo, mentre attualmente gran maestro è il duca di Kent.

I rapporti fra massoneria e Casa Bianca?

Vado a memoria: trentanove presidenti degli Stati Uniti sono stati massoni, compreso Bush padre. Del figlio non so.

Con raggruppamenti internazionali come Illuminati e Trilateral che tipo di connessione esisteva?

Sì, c'erano rapporti, quando esisteva la riservatezza e questo consentiva alla massoneria italiana di avere una grossa influenza.

Cosa sa degli incontri supersegreti fra big mondiali dell'economia denominati Bilderberg?

Personalmente non ho mai avuto contatti diretti, ma persone che li frequentano me ne dicono un gran bene.

A proposito degli Usa, che ci dice di quel famoso elenco dei cinquecento di Sindona?

Non è mai esistito. Piuttosto di una volta avevo detto a Sindona, quando era in America, vedendo in che guai si trovava: dammelo, questo benedetto elenco, magari possiamo vedere di commercializzarlo... Sa cosa mi rispondeva? «Ma non sono 500, sono 500 mila gli italiani che hanno portato soldi all'Estero»...

Che rapporti ha avuto lei con il Vaticano?

Non ho mai conosciuto né Giovanni Paolo II - che a riempito le piazze, mentre avrebbe dovuto riempire le chiese - né Ratzinger. Di Marcinkus so che era sempre circondato da belle donne.

E con l'Opus Dei?

La definiscono la massoneria bianca. È un'organizzazione molto potente.

Quanto potente?

Oggi sicuramente più della massoneria.

DALLA SOFFITTA ALLA CONVERSIONE IN VISTA DELL'ORIENTE ETERNO

di Leo Lyon Zagami

Sicuramente un'intervista storica dove Licio si "butta a sinistra" nel Giugno 2006 E.v. non poteva mancare sul nostro sito di rivelazioni più o meno illuminate. Infatti in uno dei documenti della soffitta di Gelli mostrati alla 7, il Fratello Licio nomina Craxi e Cossiga ma anche d'Alema (questi ovviamente non poteva mancare essendo un altro AGENTE CIA con varie proprietà a Monte Carlo ma questo ovviamente i giornalisti non lo dicono...). Notiamo anche come Gelli risponde sorridente alle domande sugli Illuminati (di cui si nota brevemente un tesserino nell'intervista alla 7, un tesserino molto recente vista la sua fotografia con intestazione in spagnolo) e altre organizzazioni del NUOVO ORDINE MONDIALE come la Trilateral, e i Bildeberg, che nomina in maniera molto positiva. Gelli afferma così il loro STATUS nel SISTEMA DI CONTROLLO OPERATIVO GLOBALE, così come fa' nell'intervista alla Voce della Campagna con l'Opus Dei (che definisce giustamente più forte della Massoneria attuale). Il MV. Licio Gelli sta muovendo bene e vuole cambiare l'immagine degli Illuminati di destra in favore di un illuminismo radicale a 360° che magari abbraccia anche i no Global perché il Burattinaio sa bene che il futuro della Massoneria e degli Illuminati sono incerti di fronte al 2012 e solo il GADU in ultima istanza, potrà giudicarli pienamente per i loro peccati terreni quando giungerà il momento del Giudizio Divino. Nel frattempo pensa Gelli e meglio mettersi al riparo da eventuali attacchi terreni così che il teatrino continui indisturbato, AMEN.

Per Gelli comunque si tratta di un declino imminente e totale della sua forza fisica dovuta a un tumore che se lo sta mangiando vivo contemporaneamente a un'Italetta che sta andando verso lo sfascio più completo... ma in realtà questa situazione lo porta quasi quasi a trovarsi in una posizione di forza rispetto al resto della Fratellanza (tanto prima di morire ci possiamo tutti pentire oppure no??), vedremo se nei prossimi mesi il Burattinaio di Arezzo darà qualche altro scossone all'istituzione magari ribellandosi ai suoi PADRONI della CIA/MOSSAD rivelando qualcosa di più grosso (e sarebbe pure ora caro Maestro). Magari ci dice su come la Massoneria a livello mondiale venga utilizzata e abusata dai Servizi Segreti di vari paesi, così come fanno oggi in maniera evidente e totalmente indisturbati il Duca di Cabinda Rui Gabirro e il suo fido Klaus capo dei servizi segreti Albanesi. Sicuramente Gelli mente quando dice di non aver avuto conflitti all'interno della Massoneria nella sua intervista alla 7, ma è pur vero che quei conflitti così ben descritti dal Fr. Francesco Murgia (30° del R.S.A.A. ...) nel suo libro sulla Storia della P2 sono in effetti il solito teatrino Italiano di contorno, che come ben sapete è una ridicola messa in scena, uno specchietto per le allodole come il teatrino della Gran Loggia tenuta a Napoli a metà anni '70, qualcosa a cui solo un burocrate stanco e molto pedalato come Murgia può dar retta... ma Francesco Murgia in effetti sa bene come sono andate le cose tra la P2, i Servizi Segreti Italiani, la CIA, il Grande Oriente d'Italia e chi più ne ha più ne metta, ma fa finta di niente. Nel frattempo il Fratello Murgia mette su Associazioni di copertura che operano trasversalmente nella Massoneria come la Universal Unity (www.universal-unity.net) con l'illustre Piduista Ezio Giunchiglia, associazione nata per stampare e distribuire libri che possano in qualche modo risollevarne l'immagine della Massoneria Italiana dallo scandalo P2 (l'ideale tradito della P2... ma tradito da chi?!?). L'avvocato Murgia è in effetti il classico AVVOCATO DEL DIAVOLO con cui lavorare per un depistaggio di portata molto più ampia e subliminale nel corso degli anni all'interno del panorama Massonico post-P2 distribuendo libricini come il suo che vengono proposti come "la verità rivelata" e di cui la Loggia Monte Carlo (vero centro occulto della Universal Unity) ancora in piena attività ne è l'agente promotore. Durante il mio percorso iniziatico e soprattutto di vita ho avuto la fortuna di essere introdotto ai vertici del SISTEMA DI CONTROLLO ITALIA creato dagli STATI UNITI e sono riuscito a vedere le cose dall'interno senza prosciutti sugli occhi come la maggior parte del popolo Italiano, conoscendo e frequentando da vicino personaggi come Francesco Furlotti (strage di Bologna/terrorismo nero), l'illustre Capo Divisione Tirrenia della P2 il Fratello Ezio Giunchiglia e ultimamente Giorgio Hugo Balestrieri e tanti tanti altri a livello nazionale e internazionale e vi posso dire con assoluta certezza che L'IMPERO DEL MALE che loro rappresentano, e' senza ombra di dubbio alcuno il REGNO DELL'ANTICRISTO a cui noi CAVALLIERI INDOMITI DELLA TAVOLA ROTONDA ci dobbiamo opporre e combattere fino alla fine dei tempi per la preservazione del GRAAL, lo so che può sembrarvi un'esagerazione di tipo millenaristico evangelico ma datemi retta non è così, questo pensiero è il frutto di 36 anni di esperienze vissute e non lette che nel mio nuovo libro CONFESSIONS OF AN ILLUMINATUS saranno pienamente esposte per la gioia dei miei fans in tutto il mondo. Si tratta di esseri malefici controllati dai preti devianti e corrotti del Vaticano in mano a Satana, questi sono i protagonisti della Massoneria Contemporanea cari Fratelli miei, sono degli IPOCRITI con la I maiuscola da cui e' importante prendere le distanze prima del ritorno del prescelto, l'electo da Dio con cui questi porci dovranno comunque prima o poi fare i conti (meglio prima che poi...)...pensate che di recente la prestigiosa GRAN LOGGIA REGOLARE D'ITALIA (l'unica in Italia riconosciuta dalla potente massoneria Inglese)ha nominato come GRAN CAPPELLANO un prete Cattolico alla faccia della scomunica di Papa Ratzinger!

ACTUNG il 2012 si avvicina e li altro che virate a Sinistra e bei santini..

Gnostic revelations by Dr.Krumm-Heller a notorious Nazi Rosicrucian of the OTO

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 06:42PM

GNOSTICA
DR. KRUMM HELLER (HUIRACUCHA)

Arzobispo de la Santa Iglesia Gnóstica.

LA IGLESIA GNOSTICA

Primum intelligere, Deinde credere.

Prólogo de la cuarta edición (in exclusiva per Confessions of an Illuminati)

Ya que la cuarta edición de este libro se halla agotada, con gusto doy autorización a la librería de Nicolás B. Kier, para que lance de nuevo este ensayo tan necesario a mis amigos de Ibero-América.

Confieso que hasta ahora este libro ha sido un fracaso, fracaso que me ha dolido mucho como autor. Pero la verdad, hay que confesarla.

No ha fracasado su venta, no al contrario, se ha vendido mucho y se venden de nuevo miles y miles de ejemplares, pero ¿lograré, esta vez, ser comprendido?

En sus páginas hago una reseña sintética de una cantidad de Sociedades iniciáticas del pasado.

Hablo de los Nazarenos, de los Peratas, de los Pitagóricos, de los Misterios de Egipto, de Grecia, Roma, Babilonia, Siria, Persia, la India, de México y de Perú, cito una cantidad de autores como Basílicos, Simón el Mago, Valentín, San Agustín, Tertuliano, San Ambrosio, Ireneo, Hipólito, Epifanio, Clemente de Alejandría, Orígenes, Marco, Cerón, Empédocles, los Evangelios Apócrifos, y yo esperaba que se me pidiera la clave de todo esto.

Nada de esto he logrado. No han leído estas obras, nadie ha estudiado la Gnosis, han celebrado la Misa Gnóstica con la misma rutina como lo hacen en las demás iglesias.

En Brasil han publicado una Revista pero ningún artículo que trate de Gnosis en su parte oculta y por está no merece el nombre que lleva.

Así- que hoy, que vuelva a salir este libro, yo les suplico a los lectores no lo lean superficialmente, sino que repitan la lectura varias veces, que estudien la literatura mencionada y luego me pidan prácticas, solo entonces tendremos los primeros Gnósticos que hasta ahora, pena me da confesarlo, estoy solo y si no cambia esta situación, no vuelvo a permitir que se publique otra edición.

Así- que los aficionados a los estudios herméticos saben lo que hacen. Conque logremos algunos que penetren en los misterios, me daré por satisfecho y estaré contento.

Así- que adelante... adelante...

EL AUTOR.

INTRODUCCIÓN

Nos, Arzobispos y Obispos de la Santa Iglesia Gnóstica, reunidos en pleno Concilio con la debida autorización del Patriarca Supremo Jerarca de la Iglesia y con pleno poder de la Fraternidad Blanca a que pertenecemos, enviamos nuestra bendición Apostólica a todos los Humanos sin distinción de Sexos, Casta, Raza, o Color deseando que la Rueda Evolutiva de este Ciclo de Vida acelere su paso, para que la Fraternidad Universal se haga carne entre todos los Hijos del Padre y el Logos Divino haga florecer la Rosa Bendita de la Espiritualidad sobre la Cruz gigante de nuestra Tierra.

Nos, con los poderes que nos han sido conferidos, hemos autorizado al Arzobispo de nuestra Santa Iglesia, Frater Huiracocha, para que dé a publicidad este libro en el que hace una exposición doctrinaria de cuántos son y significan nuestros Sagrados Misterios, ya que ha llegado el momento que, esta que es la Primitiva y Verdadera Iglesia Cristiana, salga al encuentro de la Humanidad en esta Era precedente al Nacimiento de Acuario.

Siglos tras siglos en silencioso recogimiento y replegada en su concha para no ser profanada por el Materialismo reinante, ha dormitado nuestra Iglesia. Porque encarnando en ella la Religión de la Raza más Pura, poseyendo la verdadera Gnosis del Símbolo y del Misterio y dándolos a conocer gradualmente en toda su desnudez virginal, no eran los tiempos pretéritos, plenos de egosmos, los más dótiles para una siembra divina que, más que trigo candeal, había de ofrecer espinosos frutos...

Hoy la Humanidad ansiosa de mejoramiento, necesita ser espíritu y arrastra esos santos afanes de Mesianismo que por todas partes se aspiran- como un viento de redención que acaricia a las Almas empujándolas hacia un camino desconocido... Pero necesita una Voz, una Palabra, un Grito, una Señal que le indique la Vía o espera que, de entre todos, surja otra vez el Hombre que la redima y muera de nuevo crucificado en manos de los mismos Escribas y Fariseos.

Pero tu redención, Oh Humanidad doliente, ya la hubo una vez. La Profecía fue cumplida y la Doctrina Santa del salvador aún late con vivo fuego en las entrañas mismas del Santuario de donde ha de tornar, fuerte y poderosa, en esta época propicia en que se va derrumbando el Edificio del Sectarismo que un día mancilló las más puras verdades...

Venid, pues, a beber a esta Fuente. La Iglesia Gnóstica no es una Iglesia más o un nuevo Ideal Religioso inventado a propósito de los tiempos. Es la Iglesia de Cristo, la que predicó Jesús, el divino Rab de Galilea, con todos sus Sagrados Misterios Iniciáticos. Es la Iglesia de la Redención, la Primitiva Iglesia Cristiana que sufrió todos sus embates del Sectarismo Católico cuya doctrina trató de acomodar a sus fines e intereses egoístas. Es la Iglesia que posee las más santas revelaciones e interpreta y da a conocer la Verdad en su más pura pureza sin máculas que la empañen.

Nuestra Doctrina es Ciencia y Religión a un tiempo. Como Ciencia, se remonta a algo superior, supremo, infinito, ultracientífico, que está muy por encima de los bajos conocimientos vulgares para encarnar el Saber por Excelencia. Y como Religión procura que el Hombre, suprema jerarca humana, vaya despertando en sí mismo los poderes divinos que le son peculiares para lograr un día la Santa Unión con la Causa primera que es su génesis. Pero dentro de este dualismo, se atiende a aquel principio latino que dice: Primum intelligere, Deinde credere...

Este libro, querido Lector, viene a llenar una de las más grandes necesidades de la época actual. Él es el exponente de una nueva teoría para ti, sin embargo de ser tan arcaica, y el heraldo, el precursor del restablecimiento de la Santa Iglesia Gnóstica en el

Mundo

Bebe en sus aguas puras y transparentes y que un día, libre tu espíritu de los viejos prejuicios tradicionales, puedas ascender en alas del Pleroma buscando el equilibrio entre la luz y las tinieblas de tu Alma, para que encuentres la ansiada

Redención que está en ti mismo, en tu propio Santuario y con ella, la sutil Ascensión del Logos Solar, que es el verdadero Mesías, que dentro de tu caverna duerme con su silente quietud.

Tradux. R. 1/2.

La Iglesia Gnostica

Así como en todas las Religiones existe un Libro Sagrado o Biblia o Conjunto de todas las enseñanzas y Doctrinas que integra cada una, del mismo modo, los Gnosticos, dentro de nuestra Iglesia, disponemos también de un Libro santo, y con algunas referencias sobre él quisiera comenzar con mi estudio, advirtiendo, desde luego que para comprender los diferentes autores, hay que considerar la época y el sentido esotérico de en que fueron escritos.

Lo que es el Talmud para los Semitas, el Bhagavad-Gita para los budistas, el Corán para los Musulmanes y la Biblia para los Cristianos, es para nosotros la PISTIS SOPHIA.

Veamos, pues, en síntesis, lo que acerca de ella dice un Historiador y veremos que Pistis es un libro y entidad espiritual a la vez.

Se trata, del libro Cumbre de todas las Doctrinas Gnosticas, el cual fue publicado en Latín el año 1851 por Schwartz y Petermann, con arreglo a un Código del Museo de Londres, llamado Askeniano, cuya vejez se remonta al siglo III, aunque algunos opinen que al Siglo V. (Opus Gnosticum Valentino adjudicatum est Códice manuscripto Coptico Londinensi descripsit et latine vertit M.G.Schwartz).

El original Griego de esta Obra, que sirvió de base en los primeros siglos, no ha podido ser hallado. Sólo se tiene el texto Sahídico, que es una traducción al Copto del Manuscrito Primitivo. El Papiro Copto, en cambio, fue encontrado en Egipto sin que nada pueda atestiguar si el Original Griego fue compuesto, asimismo, en este Pueblo. En lo que concuerdan todos los Críticos, es en que esta Obra proviene de algunas de las múltiples Escuelas o Sociedades Gnosticas Primitivas, creyéndose más bien que pertenecer a los Ophitas.

Se divide en 148 Capítulos y en cuatro grandes partes o libros. El primero y el Cuarto, no llevan inscripción alguna, mientras que el Segundo es encabezado por este título: Segundo Libro de la Pistis Sophia. Lleva también un título al final que dice: Parte de los Volúmenes del Salvador. Este mismo título vuelve a repetirse al final del Libro Tercero que figura sin encabezamiento.

Esta falta de homogeneidad, es la que hace suponer a algunos Críticos que la Pistis Sophia no está compuesta con arreglo a un plan unitario y que la mayor parte de sus escritos sean de épocas distintas. Por eso aseguran que el Libro Cuarto es más antiguo que los restantes.

Al redactarse esta Obra, se supone que han transcurrido once años desde la resurrección de Jesús y lo describe razonando con sus discípulos en el Monte de la Olivas y dándoles a conocer las grandes y supremas Verdades Iniciáticas. Por el vestido de Luz que le rodea, ha podido atravesar el Mundo Suprasensible y remontándose de esfera en esfera, le han sido franqueadas todas las puertas, amedrentando a los mismos Arcontes o Guardianes de aquellos Lugares, quienes le han adorado...

Jesús arriba al plano donde están esos Arcontes o Señores Tiranos, cuyo Principio es Adamas. Ellos vienen a ser los dueños del Destino>().() Los Señores del Karma de los Teósofos Pero Jes s, provisto de su habitual hero s-mo, llega al E n 13 en donde se encontraba estacionada primitivamente la Pistis Sophia, y en relaci n con esto, cuenta a sus disc pulos la Historia de este Ser Misterioso que, pretendiendo llegar a la Regi n de la Luz Suprema atravesando los 12 Eones, sale de su morada limitado por el E n 13 y al ascender en su vuelo, es arrojado por los mismos Arcontes en la inmensidad del Caos. Tal es la triste situaci n de la Pistis, hasta que el Padre le envi  a Jes s como Libertador... Jes s, entonces, apela a Gabriel y a Miguel para que la lleven en sus manos con el fin de que ninguna de sus partes se pierda en las Tinieblas, y as  es trasladada desde el Caos hacia un lugar que se encuentra bajo el E n 13. Por fin, despu s de una lucha cruenta, Jes s despoja a los Arcontes de su Luz y la Pistis Sophia es conducida al Sagrado Lugar, donde moran desde entonces con todos sus hermanos invisibles...

En la Historia de la Pistis Sophia, el relato se interrumpe repetidas veces con el recitado de varios himnos que ella hac a llegar del Caos a la Luz. Estos son 13, y cada vez que Jes s recita uno de sus disc pulos, les invita a dar su explicaci n.

Con frecuencia hablan las Santas Mujeres, Mar a o Salom . Otras veces alg n Ap stol, como Andr s, Pedro, Mateo o Felipe, los cuales interpretan los himnos de la Pistis aduciendo alg n Salmo de David o Salom n.

Es caracter stico de los Gn sticos Coptos, el no ir a buscar otra Autoridad para confirmar sus Escritos que las Sagradas Escrituras, y si alg n sincretismo se observa en ellos, es m s en la forma que en las ideas.

Despu s, se trata en este libro, de la suerte que espera a las almas m s all  de la muerte revel ndonos lo que acaecer  a cada una de las distintas Categor as de Hombres. Las Alegr as y Privilegios que aguardan a los unos y los Tormentos y Penas que afligir n a los otros. Su tema principal es, pues, la Redenci n de las Almas...

En la Primera parte se ocupa, de la suerte de las Almas privilegiadas, es decir, de los Ap stoles, de las Santas Mujeres y de los Perfectos o Iniciados que hab an hecho renuncia de la materia y de los cuidados del Mundo.

En la segunda nos revela, el destino que se reserva a las otras Almas, especialmente, a las que se arrepienten de sus pecados. Luego viene otra parte, en la que se trata de los Misterios y de su eficacia y, finalmente, se llega a aquella en que se describen las penas de los condenados...

Veremos m s tarde que LOS MISTERIOS son lo principal y todo lo dem s jira alrededor de ellos.

En el Libro Cuarto se habla de Resurrecci n de Jes s, quien, se dice, ha vencido a los Arcontes del Destino y la Fatalidad cuya sombra nefasta dejar  de pesar en adelante sobre los Hombres.....

Aqu  refiere Jes s a sus disc pulos las haza as de estos Arcontes hijos de Adamas que, persistiendo en su af n de procrear, dieron ser a los Arc ngeles, Angeles, Liturgos y Decanos hasta que intervino Je  a quien Jes s le llama PADRE DE MI PADRE.

Jabraoth Adamas y los suyos, se obstinaron en su pecado por lo cual Je  lo at  a la Esfera en donde actualmente forman parte del Zod aco, viniendo a ser estos Arcontes del Destino, los que tiranizan a los Hombres y cuyos pasos trata de investigar la Astrolog a...

A n contin a la descripci n de la manera torturante como los Arcontes penetran en los Hombres y los incitan al mal, atrayendo sobre ellos terribles castigos y perdi n absoluta....

Hasta aqu , cuanto se piensa profanamente y se percibe de las Ense anzas de este Libro Sagrado sobre el que Historiadores e Investigadores no pueden profundizar m s por la falta de Claves.

Pistis para nosotros significa Fe, pero no nuestra Fe habitual que resulta la aceptaci n de una opinión extraña, porque la cuentan. No. Fe en sentido bíblico es una fuerza, es la fuerza mágica, que basta tener como un grano de mostaza, para levantar una montaña y echarla al mar. Sofía ya sabemos que es ciencia. De manera que Pistis sofía es poder ciencia, es teurgia, magia blanca, cuya clave naturalmente no se puede dar en este libro sino que se da por cursos secretos que pueden ser proporcionados por el autor, previo pago de los derechos. En esto está la diferencia capital con la teosofía india. Aquella es teoría y muchos son hasta contrarios a la práctica de la Magia. El Gnostico exige primero el manejo de Pistis y luego la comprobación de los hechos. Es, pues, ante todo, práctica, real, efectiva, sin nada de especulaciones a priori.

Es racional y justo que algunos Críticos supongan, por la falta de concordancia y homogeneidad de sus partes, que esta Obra no fue escrita con sujeción a una unidad y a un plan preconcebidos, pero esto se debe, a que en la Traducción de Schwartz y aun en el Códice del Museo de Londres, solo existen fragmentos que indudablemente dejaron esparcidos algunas de las Primitivas Escuelas Gnosticas.

El Libro Negro, intacto, el verdadero Original Griego, tal como se escribió y con toda pureza de enseñanzas, está en poder de nuestra Santa Iglesia, como reliquia esotérica, que no da conocer más que a aquellos que están en condiciones de recibirlas, sus profundas y claras verdades...

A nosotros tuvo que venir necesariamente, y es nuestro Patriarcado el fiel guardador de tan preciada joya.

En esta Obra Sagrada, están condensados todos nuestros Rituales.

He aquí - por que la crítica Histórica, no puede hablar con más acierto de la que en todo tiempo ha sido la Biblia

Sacra de los Gnosticos.

La vida moderna ofrece un peligro grave. Se trata de que la humanidad pierda lo humano y se vuelva máquina. Este peligro es tanto más inminente cuanto más se trate de matar la personalidad como procura la Teosofía, tanto de Oriente como de Occidente, y la única salvación sólo podemos encontrarla en el Cristianismo Esotérico que trata precisamente de salvar el YO. Véase, sino, el Apocalipsis de San Juan. Un YO fuerte y potente y con los adelantos de la técnica, será el eje y el norte de la humanidad del Porvenir y todo lo que trate de poner obstáculos a este avance debe ser combatido.

En las Oraciones bien sentidas, vibra la sustancia de Cristo. Los siete Rishis sagrados, enseñaban a sus Discipulos a orar como sigue: TÁ°, Ego solar, que eres la base de todo amor, penetra en mí, ilumíname y hazme progresar porque, sin ti, Logos Solar, nada puede tener existencia... Los Rishis fueron los que enseñaron los grandes Mantrams de la iniciación de Zarathustra habla también de la sustancia Solar que es Dios en sí. Francisco de Asís, ora en su montaña sagrada diciendo: Looor a ti, Oh Señor, con todas tus criaturas y sobre todo, a nuestro hermano el Sol. ¡%ol labora y TU, Señor, EL QUE ALUMBRA EN %OL. ¡%ol es hermoso e irradiante como símbolo tuyo, Oh Altísimo.

Cuando en la Edad Media se lee la parte del Evangelio que dice: Yo soy el Pan de la vida, el Sacerdote miraba hacia el suelo, Luego, al decir: Yo soy la Luz de la Vida, miraba hacia arriba y, finalmente, cuando decía: Yo soy la puerta, miraba hacia el frente...

Uno de los pintores iniciados, es también Durero. Basta examinar sus trabajos sobre el Apocalipsis. Las obras EL CABALLERO PASANDO ENTRE DIOS Y EL DIABLO, LA TRINIDAD Y LOS SANTOS bien claro lo manifiestan.

Sobre el símbolo de la Cruz, ya nos habla Platón diciendo que significa la Tierra Material a donde el alma desciende para ser crucificada y poderse convertir en espíritu. Pero es bien curioso, que la Cruz de Platón está tendida, mientras que la de Cristo ya se ha levantado con su cabeza en alto.

He aquí - una diferencia notable. Los Orientales toman, para sus Oraciones, una posición difícil de imitar por nosotros en la que esconden los pies para que la corriente terrestre no pase a través de ellos. Quieren evitar la realidad de la tierra y hacer en sí una abstracci3n para ser s3lo mundo suprasensible, fuera de los sentidos. Los Occidentales, en cambio, al mismo tiempo que elevamos nuestras Oraciones a lo invisible, a lo alto, a Dios, doblamos la rodilla para recibir la corriente terrena, pues solo en la conjunci3n arm3nica de esos dos mundos se encuentra la Luz, la Iniciaci3n, la Redenci3n... Pues bien. La Iglesia Romana se mantuvo siempre mediante sus intereses creados y su forma intolerante comenz3 cuando comenzaron sus negocios materiales. Igual est3 sucediendo hoy con la Sociedad Teos3fica en Inglaterra, Australia, estados Unidos, etc., a causa de sus propiedades literarias, sus inmuebles y dem3s bienes. Hasta en Espa3a, hay intereses editoriales y no conviene que el Teosof3simo cambie de rumbo o tome otra orientaci3n por esta circunstancia. Pero 3stos s3lo son casos aislados, aunque s3 trato de desacreditar el movimiento Rosa Cruz con motivo de nuestro viaje a Am3rica y ello sirvi3, m3s bien, para dar m3s 3xito a su Empresa.

El estudio de los problemas gn3sticos ha de llevarnos a conclusiones definitivas, haci3ndonos aparecer toda la Obra Teos3fica de ayer como infantil y preliminar. Ya que las cosas est3n as3-, nuestra pretensi3n se limita a que nuestros Hermanos Te3sofos no se encierren en un c3rculo de intolerancia. Pueden seguir, como nosotros, perteneciendo siempre a la Sociedad Teos3fica, pero justo es que estudien tambi3n nuestras Obras con todo detenimiento, ya que en ello no pierden nada y es bien posible que nuestras ense3anzas les preste un nuevo alborar.

Ya que no quisimos que en Am3rica se tocara el punto sexual ni se mencionara el Gnosticismo para darle mayor amplitud en este Libro de la Iglesia Gn3stica, hoy ya lo ofrecemos a la consideraci3n de nuestros Lectores. Por 3l observar3n todos, que nuestras ideas Rosa Cruz Gn3sticas ofrecen un positivo adelanto y buena prueba pueden dar de ello la multitud de Te3sofos y Espiritualistas que, sin abandonar su propia filiaci3n, nos vienen siguiendo. Ofrecen nuestras ense3anzas materias para una controversia? Nuestra Revista est3 dispuesta para todos aquellos que quieran exponer libremente su criterio que ser3 bien acogido.

Por otra parte, como el Gnosticismo y el Libro de la Iglesia Gn3stica requieren una mayor amplitud de explicaci3n, porque todos no son igualmente comprensivos, un Te3sofo que est3 afiliado a nosotros y que siempre se distingui3 por su liberalidad, hoy Nuncio Apost3lico de nuestra Iglesia, ir3 a Am3rica a ponerse a las 3rdenes de las Aulas, Ramas y Centros d3nde hablar3 sobre estas materias en sus puntos de contacto con las ideas Rosa Cruz.

Los Gn3sticos admiten tambi3n las sagradas escrituras de los cristianos.

La Biblia cristiana, como veremos m3s tarde, tuvo sus int3rpretes en los Gn3sticos y para dar un ejemplo veamos algo del Apocalipsis de San Juan (*).

La parte esencial de magno Libro B3blico, ha sido ignorado siempre por la aberraci3n de la Iglesia Oficial que no ha hecho otra cosa que transitar por las capas externas de las Escrituras. S3lo las Sectas Americanas, se han ocupado activamente de su interpretaci3n, pero haci3ndolo unas veces sin marcada mala fe y otras con supina ignorancia...

Ya los Gn3sticos, desde tiempos remotos, dan sobre este particular una clara explicaci3n tan bella y sublime, que es l3stima que la Iglesia Cat3lica se haya apartado de este luminoso camino.

En el Vers3culo Sexto principia el Santo de la Revelaci3n, dici3ndonos que nos han hecho Reyes y Sacerdotes, pero no pobres pecadores como acent3a en todo instante la Iglesia cat. Es decir, Reyes y Sacerdotes que son los que mandan y ense3an ...

Jamas Pintor alguno ha concebido cuadros de m3s hermosos relieves y es preciso, para leer este sagrado Libro, no hacerlo con pavor, con el temor del d3a que vendr3, sino con esp3ritu amplio, pleno de un verdadero sentimiento art3stico.

Todo Gn3stico debe ser pues un sobresaliente, rey y sacerdote y nuestras ense3anzas nos llevan a cumplir con esa posici3n.

Una Clave para hacer m3s comprensible el Apocalipsis, nos da el Fausto porque las obras Inici3ticas tienden, entre s3-, a explicarse y complementarse. En el Fausto, encontramos un doble aspecto de Mephist3feles. En la primera parte, aparece este Genio, manejando a su antojo las pasiones individuales y en las segundas las colectivas. Primero hace sus víctimas entre personas aisladas y por último a toda la Humanidad.

En el Apocalipsis encontramos, asimismo, estos dos aspectos del Lucifer y Arimán. En el capítulo 13 habla de dos animales o bestias. La primera, salida del mar que tenía siete cabezas y diez cuernos y la segunda brotada de la tierra mostrando dos cuernos semejantes a un Cordero.

Estos dos animales, representan nuestros mundos. El físico en que habitamos naturalmente y el espiritual de donde procedemos y al que hemos de regresar, aunque durante nuestra vida está latente dentro de nosotros. Al descender el Hombre desde su Mansión Celestial del Mundo del Espíritu al plano físico, comienzan a luchar entre sí esos dos mundos, esos dos principios en nuestro interior, pero como la diversidad de tentaciones, de vicios y de errores es tan múltiple, surgen siempre con distinta cabeza... Nunca el problema humano es igual para dos personas, pues así como nunca existen dos caras iguales, no es posible, que puedan existir dos problemas internos de igual condición. De aquí que cada uno requiera una resolución bien diferente.

Para encontrar en realidad el problema de cada uno, necesitamos LUZ Y RAZON, pero hay una gran herida con la que contar, la herida de la ignorancia. En el Capítulo 17, se hace mención a esa misma herida que sana poco a poco a medida que vamos recibiendo Luz y Sabiduría. Hay siete Montañas, lo mismo que en la Bella Durmiente que habita con sus gnomos. La Reina se miró al espejo y le pregunta: ¿Quién es la más bella en todo mi Reino? Y el espejo le responde: Tú, pero la Bella Durmiente que habita con sus gnomos en las siete montañas, es aún más bella...

Esto simboliza que ese otro mundo, donde aparece estar la Bella Durmiente, el mundo espiritual, es aún más bella. Este problema es el mismo del Castillo de Klingsor y del Santo Graal.

La Ciencia y la Sabiduría en lucha constante. Esa eterna lucha dual entre el mundo físico y el mundo del espíritu.

Surge luego la Gran Ramera, Babilonia la Grande, la madre de las fornicaciones y de las abominaciones de la Tierra, la de nefasta condenación. Es ella, la que representa en el aspecto físico, la Política, el Imperialismo egoísta, el Bolchevismo, el Comunismo, las escuelas Filosóficas, todo aquello que tan lamentablemente nos hace perder tiempo como lo perdíamos con una Prostituta- sin ocuparnos del Mundo Espiritual que es nuestra verdadera morada. Esa Ramera, es el tinte grosero y material que tiene todas las cosas en oposición al espiritual. Al esencial y la utilizamos y cohabitamos con ella sin saber quien es... Así- hacemos uso de la Electricidad y la manejamos, aunque nadie pueda decirnos lo que es en sí.

Si estudiásemos el mundo de las Causas y el espiritual aspecto de todo lo existente, llegaríamos a saber lo que es la electricidad y cuantas maravillas podríamos hacer con ella, como llegaríamos al descubrimiento de muchos oscuros problemas que hoy inquietan a la humanidad.

Y es tan sencilla la Electricidad, que no tiene otra fuente que el Sol mismo, pues el carbón, el aceite y el petróleo, no son más que plantas del pasado que se saturaron plenamente de SOL y que ahora extraemos de su prisión ofreciéndonos esa energía condensada y oculta.

Una piedra y un pedazo de hierro, pudiéramos decir que son cosas muertas, pero golpeamos con ellas fuertemente y entonces brotan chispas. Este fuego, es la parte espiritual, la materia radiante escupiendo materias gneas. Es un proceso alquimista instantáneo el que se produce y los Rosa Cruz Gnosticos estudiamos atentamente ese fuego vivo que surge de la piedra que como causa, tiene la substancia del Logos Solar o Cristo, que radica y es a su vez la causa de todo.

Los dos estados, mencionados anteriormente, están representados hoy por Roma y Rusia. Dos animales o bestias apocalípticas.... Pero detrás de ellos, está indudablemente nuestro Mundo Espiritual que es el único y con el que podemos justamente revolucionar el Mundo.

Y volviendo al Apocalipsis de San Juan, diríamos que solo los Gnosticos tuvieron el acierto de darle su debida interpretación como lo prueban, las sencillas, pero contundentes explicaciones que nos legaron, y que hoy podemos aplicar a nuestra Época. Ya que antes mencionamos a Roma y a Rusia, para sintetizar estos dos aspectos personal y colectivo de que veníamos hablando, pongamos el ejemplo del Fascismo y del Comunismo.

El Fascismo, pretende encontrar la salvación, concentrándola en un solo Hombre, en una personalidad francamente conservadora, que devuelve al Papa sus temporales dominios. El Bolchevismo, desconoce en absoluto la personalidad y rechaza hasta el sentimiento religioso. Como resultado infalible de ambos, está el Hambre y la Miseria amenazando por todas partes.

En otro sentido, la India representa también el Comunismo Religioso en su día y quiso acabar con la personalidad, matando al YO. Sin embargo, en la Gnosis renaciente, vemos una especie de Fascismo, aunque en diverso aspecto, que no se conforma con esperar todo de un solo individuo, sino que pretende hacer de cada uno un Mussolini, una personalidad consciente, rey y sacerdote, ya que no nos dice el vidente JUAN, que Dios hizo un Rey y un Sacerdote. Lo que afirma, es que Dios hizo a TODOS Reyes y Sacerdotes. Es este un verdadero e interesante programa que llevar a la práctica para que todo Ciudadano sea un Rey, un Sacerdote, un Hombre que sepa mandar y bendecir.

Las siete cabezas del monstruo apocalíptico, representan el SEPTENARIO que desde remotas edades fue aceptado en la India por Germanos y Gnósticos.

En el mismo Capítulo 17 hace referencia Juan al misterio del sexo cuando observa las maldiciones que han de caer sobre el YO por los actos de fornicación y entonces dice: Y el Angel me pregunto: ¿Por qué te maravillas? Yo te diré el misterio de la Mujer y de la bestia que la trae, la cual tiene siete cabezas y diez cuernos.

Vemos en esto, la duplicidad, los dos aspectos del mundo material con sus pasiones y del mundo espiritual con sus virtudes, mientras que las siete cabezas simbolizan los siete cuerpos o estados del ser.

En el Capítulo 6, se habla de cuatro sellos que representan al cuaternario inferior, por el cual ha tenido que pasar la Humanidad haciéndose camino a medida que iba rompiendo esos sellos. Cuatro animales que influyen los cuatro cuerpos inferiores por los doce signos del Zodíaco, representados doblemente por los cuatro Ancianos, ya que en todo existe la misma dualidad. Hay que tener en cuenta, que disponemos de un Zodíaco espiritual y de otro material. El primero está en relación con el principio químico y el segundo con el Eter de Luz, o lo Tawas.

El Caballo Blanco, nos habla de la inspiración que tuvieron los Antiguos en épocas ya fenecidas. El rojo, indica la época de hierro, las armas, el egoísmo. El negro, es la Ciencia y el pensamiento material, la balanza de la justicia que hoy representa el querer que todo se deslice con peso y medida material. Hay un último caballo sin color... Este es el Tatwa, donde todo estado es indefinido.

Habla de la vuelta del Cristo, pero dice que vendrá como un ladrón en la noche... Así es la Sabiduría. Ella se acerca y regresa a nosotros, como regresó Parsival, no quedándose en el Castillo de la Ciencia de Klingsor, sino abordando como un ladrón el Castillo del Graal. Ya en el Graal, es conquistado nuestro verdadero YO, porque nuestro Yo habitual es una simple caricatura.

Describe la mujer con un cinturón o escrito sobre el muslo el nombre de Rey de los Reyes y Señor de Señores. O está el REY en la frente sino en el muslo... He aquí el Misterio sexual.

En fin. Todo el Apocalipsis, es perfectamente explicativo por medio de las cosas naturales, pues es un absurdo, como creen los fanáticos, pensar en una nueva venida material del Cristo... La Jerusalén divina, es un estado espiritual, el mundo invisible. Luego, no hay que olvidar, que vivimos en dos mundos distintos, el astral y el material... En el primero hay Angeles maestros que cuidan de nosotros cambiándose por épocas. Así, por ejemplo, en la Unción Eucarística gnóstica están las Huestes de Uriel, en Verano. Las de Miguel, en Otoño y las de Gabriel, en Invierno. El Sacerdote debe invocarlos en esas épocas.

En el Capítulo 20, se habla de un Angel, que desciende del Cielo, trayendo en su mano UNA LLAVE Y UNA GRAN CADENA como diciéndole a la Humanidad que elija entre la Cadena de las Religiones que amarran al YO y la llave que da el Gnosticismo para obtener la ciencia del YO.

Tambi n se habla en ese Sagrado Libro, del reino de mil a os y del Anticristo, lo que da lugar a que mucha gente se encuentre en situaci n expectante de esa  poca anunciada que vendr ; llena de Paz y de Luz. Pero dice tambi n la Biblia que antes que ella principie con sus mil a os, el diablo ser ; soltado...

Pues bien. Ahora estamos precisamente con el Diablo suelto, EL ANTICRISTO, LA CIENCIA MATERIAL, FRENTE AL Cristo verdadero, frente a la Sabidur a Cristiana. Ya paso ese tiempo que muchos esperan y la Naturaleza va siguiendo su curso.

Los doce hijos de Jacob del Antiguo Testamento, representaron las doce  pocas en que las influencias zodiacales fueron netamente f sicas. Los doce Ap stoles, las influencias zodiacales de la  poca astral, en que estamos ahora y, por  ltimo, vendr ;n doce Angeles que representar n la edad que se acerca....

En el final se dice como una s ntesis. Yo soy el Alpha y la Omega, es decir la A y la O, el Principio y el Fin. Al que tuviere sed, yo le dar  de la fuente de la Fuente del agua de la vida gratuitamente..... Yo soy el Alpha y la Omega. Bienaventurados los que laven sus vestiduras (los siete cuerpos) en la Sangre del Cordero, (en la substancia solar, en los equinoccios de Primavera), para que se entren por las puertas de la Ciudad Luego, como consecuencia de este cumplimiento, se acerca, viene nuestro Angel, para lograr la conexi n con  l, que es el objeto de la Iniciaci n, y entonces se verifica el desposorio, la uni n de un mundo con el otro y  l llega presto con su galard n, para recompensar a cada uno.

Mas, ay de aquel que mate su YO en las horrendas voluptuosidades, perdiendo las benditas emanaciones del Logos! Para esos, para los fornicarios, dice el Cap tulo 21, su parte ser ; en el lago ardiendo con fuego y azufre, que es la muerte segunda....

Por eso nuestro deber, para recibir el beneficio de la edad pr xima, es fortalecer y conquistar al YO. YO SOY cuando SOYCRISTIANIZADO, es decir, ba ado en el Logos solar en la Substancia Cr stica y esa substancia es la que hay que hacer florecer impuls ndola desde el fondo de la semilla, para que rompa la c scara que la envuelve con su prieta dureza.

Repasaremos algunos autores de los primeros siglos.

Or genes nos cuenta, que aquel Gobernador de la Judea, llamado Pilatos, despu s de haber lavado sus manos como s mbolo de su propia ignorancia por la culpabilidad de Jes s, mand  poner sobre la Cruz del G lgota el Hist rico r tulo que conoce la Cristiandad del INRI, redactado en tres idiomas distintos, Hebreo, Griego y Lat n.

Esta triplicidad de Lenguas que, a simple vista no parece necesaria, fue empleada por el Magistrado Romano en determinado sentido y como si quisiera dar a entender al Pueblo Jud o algo que no estaba a su alcance y que no pudieron comprender las masas sedientas entonces de la Sangre del Redentor.

Sin embargo, ello encierra esot ricamente algo muy importante, que es, en verdad, de un gran valor simb lico.

Los Griegos, dieron a conocer los Misterios. Los Hebreos, las Escrituras y la K bala y los Romanos, basados en esas dos columnas, comenzaron una nueva  poca de transformaci n.... El Puente que da acceso del Antiguo al Nuevo Testamento, lo forma el Evangelio de San Mateo, que fue el  nico escrito en Hebreo. Todos los dem s lo fueron en Griego. Tambi n el Antiguo Testamento, en su arte Septuag sima, fue hecha en Griego.

El Griego y el Hebreo, son dos idiomas completamente distintos en el sentido ideol gico. He aqu - por que se encuentran tantos errores en las Traducciones B licas que, a su vez, dieron motivos m s que suficientes para que existiera aquella tirantez y aquellas luchas encarnizadas que sostuvieron los Gn sticos y la Nueva Secta Cristiana. Los Primeros, los primitivos, exig an la aceptaci n de la Biblia en su genuina escritura Griega y los Neocristianos disconformes, la mandaron redactar y componer a su criterio en lat n.

Hoy los Gn sticos modernos, estudiamos esas diferencias que constituyen investigaciones muy amenas y de sumo interés.

Dice un Gran Filósofo, que los Judíos formaron a Cristo, los Griegos lo comprendieron y los Romanos lo aprovecharon (*). El Cristianismo, con esta base falsa, se hizo Religión de Estado hacia el siglo IV y desechó todo lo escrito en lengua Griega, perdiendo con ello el verdadero germen....

Todos los Gnosticos que fueron a la vez verdaderos Santos de la Iglesia Romana, escribieron sus enseñanzas y las explicaron en Griego. Luego San Agustín y antes que este tertuliano, las escribieron en el Idioma Latino. Y por último San Ambrosio, San Jerónimo, y el mismo San Agustín, dieron un tinte romano a la Religión cambiando con ello el puro y santo Gnosticismo por una especie de Romanismo convencional. La Sabiduría, entonces, fue reemplazada por el Dogma Judío....

El Hebreo tiene, como el pueblo judío que lo habla, un fondo significadamente comerciable y materialista, mientras que el Griego es en su esencia puramente espiritual. De aquí - que los intereses comerciales de la Iglesia actual, hayan brotado genuinamente del espíritu Judío....

Pero acaeció, como en todas las cosas cuando están por derrumbarse, que hubo Gnosticos que transigieron y otorgan concesiones y entonces se formaron las Sectas con que tropezamos al hacer estos estudios encontrándonos con dos Sistemas distintos, el que mantuvieron los Griegos y el que quedó unido a los Latinos.

De entre estos dos Sistemas, surgió uno Herético y es este precisamente el que ha combatido siempre los Teólogos sin darse cuenta que el verdadero, el que sostuvo la Verdad en toda su pureza, es el que proviene del Griego, que es el que ha sido conservado hasta nuestros días en Sociedades Ocultas y que ahora nosotros volvemos a poner al alcance de la Humanidad.

San Jerónimo, quien vivió cuarenta años en Belén, fue el verdadero autor de la Vulgata Latina y al encomendarle el Papa Damaso que hiciera su traducción, le encargó previamente de encauzar las cosas hacia el terreno que era interés del Catolicismo... La misma Iglesia no tiene inconveniente en confesarlo así.

Luego, todas las demás traducciones de la Biblia incluso la Luterana, se han basado en los trabajos de San Jerónimo, que ya eran defectuosos de por sí - y lo peor, defectuosos intencionadamente. Aunque los Protestantes aseguren que Lutero hizo su traducción del Original Griego, no es esto verdad puesto que Lutero no sabía Griego. Solo conocía Latín y algo de Hebreo. Nosotros, los Gnosticos, no andamos encubriendo por el propio interés las enseñanzas bíblicas falsificando traducciones. La que ofrecemos al Mundo, es la verdadera que es un Libro inmenso, oculto y de un Gran Poder Iniciático. Los Antiguos, es decir, los iniciados anteriores a los Griegos, tenían tres clases de escritura, la Epistolográfica, la Hierarográfica y la Hieroglificográfica. La primera era común a todos. La segunda era usada por los hombres jerárquicos y la tercera sólo por los Iniciados.

Orígenes nos habla también de los Mantrams o Palabras Mágicas que contiene la Biblia y a él se deben los exorcismos que hoy la Iglesia emplea fríamente y sin ningún resultado positivo, mientras que nosotros aún conocemos todo su valor y los aplicamos con seguro éxito. Habla también Orígenes con toda certidumbre de que la Magia Bíblica es un Arte Real, un Arte Santo, y repite frecuentemente que las Sagradas Escrituras, como los Evangelios, son letra muerta, si no se tiene la Clave para leerlos...

Ridiculiza, al mismo tiempo, una descripción del Génesis y lamenta que haya espíritus tan infantiles que aún crean que todo se desarrolló tal como está escrito, aceptando la leyenda del Paraíso sin exclusión de la Manzana. Dice, que todo es estrictamente simbólico y encierra grandes misterios sexuales....

Cuando leemos hoy las Obras de Orígenes, nos invade la pena de que este Santo hubiera sido tan perseguido y martirizado. Si los Papas de su época le hubieran puesto oídos, tenemos la seguridad que el Cristianismo actual sería un Gnostico.

Hoy día más. Alemán Eberhard Nestle, prueba con documentos irrefutables, que las Autoridades de la Iglesia Romana, en los primeros Siglos, designaron ciertos correctores a los que dio consignas especiales para cambiar los textos y agregar y quitar en ellos, tanto en el Antiguo como en el Nuevo Testamento, todo aquello que no conviniera a la Ortodoxia imperante y a los fines políticos de su Iglesia.

Luego vienen las explicaciones caprichosas de los Concilios y años de los mismos Sacerdotes, unidas a las declaraciones de interese apócrifos, haciendo todo ello tal marenamiento, que es preciso volver a estudiar los textos Griegos originales si queremos saber la verdad cuyos Libros “ hay que subrayarlo acentuadamente “ sólo posee hoy la Iglesia Gnóstica, que los ha guardado en Sociedades Secretas como los Rosa Cruz, durante siglos y siglos.

Reconociéndose esto entre las distintas sectas Cristianas, pero no teniendo medios de subsanarlo, fue la Iglesia Católica Liberal la que se valió de las facultades clarividentes (?) de algunos de sus Adeptos dando entonces a la luz los Evangelios de los Santos Doce que, como ensayo espiritista, todavía es peor que la vida de Jesús contada por el mismo....

Hemos estado a la observación de cuanto se hace y se ejecuta en esta Iglesia y se ha podido comprobar que sólo, y eso a veces, cuando celebra Leadbeater su Misa, acuden verdaderas fuerzas Angelicales. En otras ocasiones han aparecido fuerzas siniestras por que al Ritual le falta la base para constituir una verdadera Magia Ceremonial, como posee la Iglesia Gnóstica.

Aun sabemos, que en esta Iglesia han querido mezclar los Teósofos a nuestro hermano y Maestro Rakoczi Los que lo conocemos personalmente, sabemos que cancela esos Ampetus con un encogimiento de hombros ...

De todos modos, ya queda bien expuesto cuanto ha ocurrido con la actual Biblia Católica, admitida también por la Iglesia Liberal, que dista mucho de interpretar las verdaderas enseñanzas y verdadero sentido iniciático del texto Original. Es forzoso, por consecuencia, volver a los temas primitivos en su propia y genuina raíz para que no logren confundirnos, con su invasiva tendencia, los que tienen interés en oscurecer la Verdad para sacar un provecho Ique ya no es posible en estos tiempos.

La Verdad es UNA, y ella ha de abrirse paso cueste lo que cueste. La proximidad de Acuario así lo indica y ya pueden hacer obstrucción todas las sectas.

Por eso nosotros vamos hacia esa Pascua de Resurrección, cuyas campanas de gloria ya anuncian el advenimiento de una nueva Primavera sobre el Mundo.

Hemos, pues, comparado las dos Biblias, la Gnóstica y la Romana en que está basada la Religión, pero...

¿ Necesitamos una religión?

Si Observamos la Historia de la Humanidad, vemos como los primitivos pueblos Nómadas se deslizaban, pasando a dedicarse a la Agricultura.

Este, que es un hecho verdaderamente biológico en el sentido material, tiene a todo trance repetirse para el Hombre dentro de su vida espiritual. Porque hoy “ espiritualmente hablando “ podemos afirmar que somos primitivos, Nómadas y buscamos nuestro alimento animal donde podemos hallarlo, aunque dentro de un verdadero Caos la mayor parte de las veces. No obstante, en la época de Acuario que adviene, habrá una apropiada disciplina y se cultivarán los estudios de manera que logremos la Verdad sin sugerencias...

¿ La Verdad ¿

Si no hacemos la pregunta de qué es la verdad, nos colocamos con tangencia con la inquietud de Pilatos, y cuando ya nos sentimos vencidos e impotentes sin poder resolver el problema, nos acercamos a Nietzsche, para poder decir con él: Para que hablar de Verdad...

Es mejor ocuparse de Fuerza. No. Los Gnosticos, viven la Verdad y de ellos han copiado hasta los mismos Jesuitas, pero en sentido negativo como siempre sucede.

En la segunda Semana de los Ejercicios Jesuíticos, obligan al Penitente a que trate de oler, oler, gustar y tocar el abismo insondable de las tinieblas. Creen que con esta práctica provocan verdadero horror al Averno y por consecuencia, sitúan al demandado en mejor lugar para conseguir la obediencia y la sumisión. En una palabra explotan el miedo.

Nuestras prácticas, en cambio, tienden a recomendar al Discípulo que se sienta dentro de la Verdad como si fuera un Árbol expuesto al Sol. Basta repetir QUE SEA LA VERDAD y concentrarse profundamente sobre ese pensamiento, para que a poco se comiencen a vislumbrar los primeros rayos de Verdad dentro de nosotros mismos. Una de las cualidades más enemigas de la Verdad, es el Egoísmo imperante en todas las cosas, y por eso los sistemas Yoguis ofrecen tan escaso resultado.

La Verdad ha de estar fuertemente unida a la Voluntad, pues de lo contrario este atributo estará en serio peligro. El sistema americanista propagado por Ford de la cinta sucesiva, hace que el hombre sea un ente mecánico que tenga que ejecutar tal o cual trabajo, tal o cual movimiento, sin pensar y aún sin querer. En las prácticas modernas y en las tendencias políticas y religiosas, suele propagarse el mismo sistema. Tampoco los Católicos necesitan pensar ni disponer de la voluntad. Les basta con que se ocupen de ello el Papa y los Sacerdotes, puesto que a los fieles les toca tan sólo obedecer.

No es esto. Se olvidan lamentablemente de que dentro de las colectividades, dentro de las escuelas, nada es posible hacer que ofrezca algún provecho. La enseñanza ha de ser adecuada a cada individuo, a cada temperamento, según su propia nota o su propio ritmo, para que la Potencia que está dormida en cada uno llegue a despertar. Este es el sistema Gnostico.

Nosotros educamos y preparamos cada uno de los miembros de nuestra Iglesia.

La Memoria es otra de las enfermedades que nos azotan. La hemos perdido en su mayor parte y debemos ejercitarnos en recuperarla.

A nuestros discípulos se les enseñan estas normas. Todas las noches, en los instantes de quietud, debemos pensar y recordar cuanto hemos ejecutado durante el día. Seguida esta línea de conducta un día y otro, deberemos a fin de cada mes hacer una recapitulación de todos los acontecimientos; y, luego, cada año, y así sucesivamente, para ir observando, al mismo tiempo, la mano del Destino....

De aquí que sea tan interesante nuestra propia crítica para evitar que ideas intrusas se adentren en nuestro hogar individual sin un previo estudio y sin una anticipada comprobación. Primum intelligere, deinde credere....

Todavía recomendamos también a nuestros discípulos, que se pregunten:

¿Quiénes fueron las tres personas que les dejaron una impresión más fuerte?

¿Cuáles fueron los tres momentos más emocionantes en sentido de alegría? Y, ¿cuáles los tres más duros y enojosos en sentido de dolor?

Después es necesario meditar sobre cuanto dijeron esas tres personas y sobre las circunstancias de alegría y de dolor que envolvieron a esos momentos, para rechazar la fuerza negativa de la amargura y vivir de nuevo en nuestra fantasía los instantes supremos de gozo, donde radica la verdadera y positiva belleza de la vida.

Por eso nos es tan necesario una Religión en que se puedan religar lo bueno, o santo, lo divino.

Pero, he aquí que si bien una Religión no es tan precisa como el pan de cada día, porque dentro de nosotros aliente esa suprema aspiración hacia la Divinidad, debemos congregarnos bajo aquella bandera o Comunidad Religiosa que nos ofrezca algo positivo, algo real, algo que se ajuste y esté en relación directa con las necesidades de la época. Es decir, no debemos quedarnos jamás con una Secta reducida, pobre, depauperada ... sino con algo que represente UN TEMPLO UNIVERSAL.

Esta necesidad ha hecho que en mucho países se haya acatado a la Teosofía como una Religión, y fue lo que movió a sus Directores a crear la Iglesia Católica Liberal, cuya Entidad ni tiene nada de Liberal ni de Católica. En otros lugares, se ha dado igual elevación al Espiritismo, constituyendo una Secta con sus ritos y oraciones. Nada de esto podrá durar porque no tiene solidez ni tradición alguna.

Tratan, por otra parte, de amalgamar las enseñanzas del Oriente con las del Occidente.

Pero no hay que olvidar que los Orientales, si bien poseen poderes internos, carecen de personalidad, les falta el Ego. En cambio, a los Occidentales les sobra personalidad, como lo demuestra el adelanto de la Ciencia y de la técnica, pero carecen de poderes internos. Así se comprende que un número reducido de Ingleses manejen millones de Hindúes esclavos...

Este contacto de cualidades necesario entre el Oriente y el Occidente, lo tiene lo logrado desde siglos la Iglesia Gñstica, y ella guarda la fórmula que debe emplearse para conseguirlo.

El Catolicismo Romano, por otra parte, ha destruido tanto los poderes como el Ego con sus dogmas nefastos, y lo mismo en sus colegios. El daño que hacen los curas en los colegios es terrible, y ser bueno que los Padres abran los ojos. En cambio, los Gñsticos abominamos de esos Dogmas, pues lo que nos hace falta es tener un Fin, una Meta, un Lugar de arribo Necesitamos un sendero y no una Ley.

También rechazamos las Palabras de Autoridad, porque lo que nos es preciso es el Verbo de la Vida. Todas las Religiones llevan un camino con tendencia hacia fuera, mientras que nosotros vamos hacia adentro buscando lo oculto.

Buscamos la LUZ.

Y dónde está?

Cristo lo dice: Yo soy la Luz del Mundo.... Pero nosotros no nos conformamos con que Él lo haya dicho, sino que cada uno de nosotros trata de ser una Luz, una rí faga viva en mitad del sendero.

Los Gñsticos han encontrado en Cristo esa Luz que es SUBSTANCIA, y esa substancia Crística la estudiamos y la aplicamos, que eso es el Gnosticismo, emplear la razón, la ciencia y todos los medios necesarios para descubrir la verdad.

La Grey Católica está cuidada y conservada exóticamente, como plantas en un invernadero. Sin embargo, nosotros queremos llevar, queremos empujar a nuestros feligreses hacia la Luz del Sol de una Primavera Radiante.

En el Protestantismo, todo se torna Prácticas. Para sus adeptos el Altar, el culto, no tiene importancia. Contrariamente; para los Católicos el altar lo es todo, mientras que el Pálpito solo es un medio, un instrumento desde donde lanzan sus diatribas para hacer un Platica acomodada a sus fines.

Los Gñsticos, en este punto, queremos cumplir también con la frase del Gran Iniciado de Nazaret, cuando, en su calidad de Logos Solar, dice: Yo soy el pan de Vida, Yo soy el pan vivo, Si alguno comiere este pan, vivirá eternamente. El que coma mi carne y beba mi sangre, tendrá la Vida Eterna y yo le resucitaré. El que coma mi carne, y beba mi sangre, en mi hora y yo en Él...

Este Pan descendió del Cielo, y no hay que olvidar, al pensar sobre esto que declaró Jesús, que Él, por su pureza, fue hecho de substancia solar en su cuerpo físico, y que, con su contacto, las partículas solares vivas del pan se desprenden y entonces se comunica con nosotros, con nuestra carne y con nuestra sangre y nos hace inmortales...

Vácase, por consecuencia, que la Iglesia Gñstica es una constante y santa afirmación como Religión primitiva, arcaica, y basada en los Grandes Misterios, cuyos cimientos aún perduran aunque el grandioso Edificio que la cobijaba quedara invisible por largo tiempo ante el avance materialista de las épocas a que contribuyó la guerra incesante del Catolicismo. Esto nos lleva a comprender que no se trata de una nueva Religión formada a última hora con fines mas o menos rectos, sino que hemos izado la Bandera secular de una Primitiva Iglesia que guarda la más veraz y pura revelación en cuyas aguas de gloria bebió el Nazareno para luego predicar su Santa Doctrina.

Con ello tornamos a los tiempos remotos en que las Religiones eran formadas de Luz y de Bellezas y ofrecían, para andar, un sendero de Rosas... No como los Cristianos Sectarios que han construido un camino de dolor, coronas de espinas y hondos sufrimientos en la Cruz...

Nosotros somos hijos de una Religión que tiene por normas la Alegría y el Optimismo. Somos los Epicúreos espiritualistas, porque sabemos que Epicuro fue iniciado en nuestros Misterios.

Antes de seguir adelante, vamos a entrar en un poco de Historia acerca de las Doctrinas de las más preeminentes escuelas, sectas o congregaciones Gñsticas.

Nos encontramos, en primer lugar, con los Naasenos, quienes tuvieron una considerable importancia en los primeros siglos de nuestra Era.

Adoraban a la Serpiente, y este fue el motivo que se los declarase heréticos. Pero confiesen honradamente los Historiadores, que fue una agrupación de gentes muy versadas en las Ciencias y que poseyeron grandes e intachables virtudes. Lo único que pudo ser reprochable en ellos, fue la adoración a los Nahas (Serpientes) y la creencia que sostenían de que el látido de estos animales, en su mayor parte venenoso, pudiera servir para redimir a los Hombres de la esclavitud del pecado. En Griego, serpiente es Ophis. Por eso los Naasenos Griegos se llamaron Ophitas. Sus enseñanzas fueron tomadas de Santo Tomás y del Evangelio de los Egipcios.

En los escritos de los Naasenos, se describe al Hombre de triple naturaleza. Un aspecto andrógino, al que daban el nombre de Adamas, quien a su vez era el Padre de los Aeones, que más tarde se convirtieron de Girones, formando el Trío de Cuerpo, Alma y Espíritu... Todos estos principios, dentro de un perfeccionamiento absoluto, convergen en Cristo. Dice Santo Tomás, que este Cristo se encuentra en el semen que los niños tienen escondido hasta la edad de siete años y que luego se manifiesta a los catorce. Explica, asimismo, que el Aura, se satura de este jugo... Reconocían al Demiurgo como Entidad encargada de crear los Mundos o, por lo menos, de nuestro Mundo. Eran soberbios Astrólogos y ponían en relación con los Siete Planetas y los Siete signos del Zodaco, siete centros internos de nuestro Organismo... La forma de su culto, la tomaron los Griegos de los Egipcios, quienes presentaban a Hermes provisto de un miembro masculino en estado de erección, al que daban el título de dador de la raza...

Empédocles, dice que los seres Humanos fueron traídos a este Mundo de Adán, para que sirvieran al Número, al Dios Jaldabaoth con una vara en la mano, en la que florece UNA ROSA, atributo el cual, al aproximarse a los Hombres, los hacía dormir o los despertaban, según era el deseo del Dios. Cuenta Homero, asimismo, que el miembro viril con esta figura era cuando tenía mayor Poder sobre la vida y la muerte, pero para tratar con él era forzoso llevar un látigo para dominarlo.

Esto nos recuerda a Nietzsche, cuando dice: Si vais donde la mujer, no olvidéis el látigo... Esta frase, le ha costado muchas protestas del sexo débil, y, sin embargo, Nietzsche, más que nadie, supo respetar y adorar a la Mujer. Quien lea esta frase y la interprete a la letra, no la conoce....

En el acto sexual debe separarse a Dios de la Bestia, al Ángel de macho bravo. La voluptuosidad carnal ha sido la que más a denigrado al Hombre, y hay que tener en cuenta que en ese momento, en un éxtasis de amor, debe confundirse con la Fómnia. Los que no saben dominarse y poner esto en práctica, necesitan de ese látigo que aconseja tan preeminente Filósofo...

La Reencarnación aceptada por los Naasenos, estaba representada por las altas y bajas mareas. Decían aquellas antiguas Escrituras: Todos vosotros seréis Dioses si salís de Egipto y pasáis el Mar Rojo....

Las descripciones del Antiguo Testamento eran altamente interpretada por ellos, y entonces el paso del Pueblo de Israel por el Jordán era simbólico y explicaba la evolución sistemática dentro de nosotros.

Conocían el poder de los Mantrams y la dominación de la Tradade Humana era empleada en la Magia Sacra. Kawlakaw “ Sawlasaw “ Zeesar, era pronunciado secretamente. Kawlakaw era el hombre superior. Sawlasaw, el interior, y Zeesar el Mediador o Cristo Redentor.....

Tenían como objeto sagrado o símbolo, Un CALIZ. En él tomaban el semen de Benjamín. Decían que ese semen era compuesto de Vino y Agua. Celebraban la Unción Eucarística, especie de Misa Católica actual, y en ella colocaban diversos símbolos entre los que había una serpiente alada a semejanza de los Mayas de Yucatán y tal como se observa en San Juan de Teotihuacán...

Vienen a continuación los Peratas, o Peraticenos.

La denominación de Peratas viene de Perasai, pues así se llamaron los que constituyeron aquella Religión, quienes afirmaban que eran los únicos que podían pasar a través de la corrupción de la época. Eran, con toda firmeza, de una alta moral y conocían los grandes secretos de la Naturaleza.

Dividían el mundo como los Naasenos, en un Trío. La primera parte de esta Tradade era la PERFECCION o Dios-Causa. La segunda era el Mundo Astral; y la tercera, el Mundo Físico o visible. Tenían tres verbos y tres mentes. Desde el Mundo Superior, era esparcida toda semilla para que fructificara en el mundo visible; y entre el Padre-Causa y el Mundo manifestado, había un mediador el Crestos, sin cuyo auxilio era imposible llegar a la Perfección ...

La Serpiente o el Órgano sexual, figuraba como símbolo principal en el culto de los Peratas.

En uno de sus libros, hablan de Cristo, a quien consideraban como un Nirvanacaya que vino voluntariamente a ser encarnado para salvar denodadamente a la UNIDAD... es decir, para unir la Tráide dispersa. Dice en uno de sus pasajes: Soy la Huanguadia que viene a despertar la fuerza que está en el espacio, que está en los mas inmundo: Soy lo que en el Mar es masculino y femenino y que tiene doce aberturas para tocar la Flauta. Mi nombre es Chorzar. Está en la ignorancia, pero tiene una Pirámide de cinco Ángulos que se llaman OU, AOAI, OUO, OUOAB, y KORE, que representan todo el conjunto... Cantan a la Belleza y dicen que su secreto está en lo masculino-femenino, que, aprovechado debidamente, nos mantiene siempre jóvenes.

Afirmaban también los Peratas, que existían dos formas de Nacimientos. La de la Carne, originada por el coito, y otra distinta para lo que aquí no era preciso. De la primera, salían Hombres condenados a la Muerte, y de la segunda, de la concepción del Espíritu Santo, Angeles. Que nuestro deber era, evitar la concepción carnal y lograr la espiritual. Al paso de un estado a otro le llamaban el paso del Pueblo de Israel por el Mar Rojo...

Dentro de su simbolismo Religioso juega un gran papel el hecho de que Moisés en el Desierto mostrara a su Pueblo la Serpiente sobre una Vara, diciendo que el que se aprovechara esa Serpiente no sería dañado durante el trayecto. El Poder, la fuerza que acompañaba a Moisés en su peregrinaje, fue la Serpiente sobre la Vara, que luego se convirtió en la Vara misma. Ella fue la que devoro a las demás serpientes y la que hablo a Eva...

En cuanto a la Trinidad, el Padre-Dios en un extremo y la Materia en otro, no pueden ser entrelazados sino por Cristo como nexo de unión. Pero el Cristos nada puede hacer sin el auxilio de la Serpiente, ya que la Fuerza y el Poder sólo residen en ella.

En sus Misterios encontramos pura Fisiología. El Padre es la Cabeza, el Cerebro increado. En su base y en el extremo opuesto, la Materia, el organismo duro concebido por la carne. En el, medio, el liquido, el Semen creado por si mismo.

Esta Secta rendía culto a la Sabiduría divina, y fueron, indudablemente, los primeros Teósofos. Decían que Set era hijo de la Sabiduría. Su Tráide estaba representada por Set, Caín, y Abel, siendo Caín la carne y Abel el mediador. En cambio Set, era el Dios-Sabiduría. Afirmaban que Cristo y Set eran lo mismo puesto que ambos eran hijos de la Sabiduría.

Al encontrarse el Sarcófago de Set, la Iglesia Católica escondió el Libro de los Muertos en el Vaticano, perdiéndose con él multitud de enseñanzas de inestimable valor.

Los Setianos adoraban la GRAN LUZ, decían que el Sol, en sus emanaciones, era substancia divina, la cual formaba nido en nosotros y constituye la Serpiente. Que el Hombre sólo debería temer la Oscuridad, que ella representa, o sea el infierno, ya que la Luz esta aprisionada por esta Oscuridad misma y trata de liberarse de ella. Esta Oscuridad está contenida en el Utero y debe venir el Gran Viento, el Gran Hábito para libertarla. En los Misterios se representaba la Luz por un Anciano y la Oscuridad por una mujer joven y hermosa, y los Poetas Setianos, en sus Odas cantaban esa persecución...

Hay un Libro Sagrado entre estos Iniciados, que se llamaba el Discurso de Set.

Naasenos y Setianos, tenían enseñanzas absolutamente idónticas a la Teosofía Moderna, y es lástima que la Maestra Blavatzky no hubiese dado con los Tesoros Gnósticos. De haber sido así, su labor habría sido otra muy distinta sin necesidad de importar cosas mantenidas por el Oriente. Sin embargo, es posible que esto haya sido una conveniencia, porque, de lo contrario, la misma Iglesia Católica de aquellos tiempos la hubiera hecho enmudecer.

Pero hoy nosotros no debemos conformarnos con la teosofía oriental, sino que tenemos el sagrado deber de volver los ojos hacia nuestro cristianismo esotérico, tal como lo venimos predicando hace 25 años.

Más tarde vino Justino, formando la Escuela de los Justinianos.

Nunca la Iglesia ha hecho más falsificaciones que con las Obras de Justino, quien, habiendo sido discípulo directo de los Apóstoles, formó una Grey y luego murió Martir. Como Gnostico, la Iglesia quemó sus verdaderas Obras y reformó otras substituyendo nombres. Por eso hoy podemos decir que tenemos dos Justinos; el verdadero y el falsificado por los Católicos.

Justino solicitaba a sus discípulos, un Juramento tremendo en el que se obligaban a no revelar Jamás, cuanto les era enseñado de sobre los GRANDES MISTERIOS. El fue el autor del Apocalipsis BARUC, que dista mucho de ser que actualmente se conoce. El verdadero está en poder de varias Sociedades Secretas (*). En este Libro repite un cuento de Herodoto, en cuyo simbolismo afirma que está el Misterio de la Creación. Es como sigue:

Hercules se hallaba de viaje, y una noche, atravesando el Desierto y rendido de cansancio, hubo de dormirse. Estando en el sueño, se le fue el Caballo que había montado durante este viaje; pero al despertar y hacer gestiones para encontrarlo, halló a una hermosa Mujer que decía conocer su paradero. Interesado Hercules porque le dijera el lugar donde se encontraba, ella le respondió que sus labios no pronunciarían palabra entre tanto no consintiera que ella fuera su amante y se realizara el coito. Trató Hercules de repudiarla porque sólo su parte superior era de Mujer hermosa. Los miembros inferiores pertenecían a una horrorosa Serpiente. Pero con tal de que le fuera devuelto su Caballo, accedió. Esta Mujer Serpiente concibió de Hércules, y de ese connubio salieron tres personas en una. Una Figura de Mujer dividida en tres partes: mitad de Cuerpo Humano; mitad de Serpiente, y, en el medio, la Parte Sexual de ambos. De aquí salió la Trinidad. En esta Obra el Pueblo de Israel no es una simple Tribu, sino un símbolo del Mal, de la parte Femenina... Habla también de los doce Angeles buenos y de los doce malos. Según Justino BARUC fue el Angel, que encontrando a Jesús, los inició en los Sagrados Misterios. Justino fue un de los más grandes Iniciados y su fama llegó a ser Universal. No pudiendo la iglesia, por este motivo, dejar de explotar su nombre, guardo sus verdaderos Libros, dándole su Paternidad a otros bien distintos que jamás pensó escribir...

Tenemos también a Simón el Mago.

Este fue contemporáneo de Justino y alabado por este último. Hoy la Iglesia dice, naturalmente, que Justino se equivocó con respecto a él. El hecho es que los Romanos le erigieron estatuas con la inscripción de SIMONI DEO SANCTO. Logró tal desarrollo de sus facultades internas, que pudo operar fácilmente verdaderos Milagros, y aún cuentan que tuvo una controversia con San Pedro en la que éste afirmó que en las cosas de Dios no se adquieren con dinero.... Por lo visto, la Iglesia corrigió esta frase del primer Pontífice, y hoy el Papa ofrece y entrega muchas de estas cosas mediante una buena retribución....

Simón el Mago, cree en el poder oculto de fuego y asegura que la íntima esencia de este elemento encierra un inmenso poder del cual debe valerse el Mago, indudablemente.

Ese fuego lo encuentra también dentro de nosotros, con la (*) Nosotros lo tenemos para los estudiante avanzados transmutación de las fuerzas sexuales....

Es el primero que en aquella época dio a conocer el Septenario Teosófico describiendo el manejo de la Mente Habla de los cuatro elementos. Describe el camino que emprenden las fuerzas seminales hasta llegar al corazón, y nos ha dejado infinidad de formulas recetarias y toda una Magia Ceremonial. Mucho de los que ha publicado Papus, u otros autores, acerca de la Magia en los últimos años, es tomado de Simón el Mago. En su Libro LA PREDICA dice: Para vosotros hablo en metáforas; pero debéis comprenderme....

Dos VASTAGOS de toda SERIEDAD hay en un principio sin fin. Ambos vienen de una RAIZ, o sea del PODER INFINITO, del SILENCIO INVISIBLE. Uno de los vastagos, va hacia arriba. Es el Poder, el Entendimiento del Gran Todo que a todo llega, y es masculino. El otro, tiende hacia abajo. Es la Gran Mente, el Productor incansable, y es femenino. En la unión de ambos está en la resolución de todo problema. El Poder en sí mismo, es masculino y femenino a la vez.

Simón el Mago, predicaba el Amor Ideal y la obligación de combatir la voluptuosidad carnal. Luego fue víctima de la Iglesia, y esta, más tarde, lo santificó...

Tenemos a continuación los Valentinianos.

Valentín, fallecido en el año 161, fue contemporáneo de Harpócrates. Era uno de los Gnostico de más renombre y fueron muy grandes sus luchas defensivas para no ser conquistado por la Iglesia Católica, la que terminó excomulgándolo como hereje...

La Herejía, sin embargo, de Valentín consistía en tener un conocimiento más hondo y más trascendente que los Sectarios de la Iglesia Católica, y por sus acendradas virtudes que fue su mejor patrimonio durante toda su vida. Sus grandes Poderes de Mago, es lo que más eficazmente llegó a despertar los celos de sus adversarios. La Literatura sobre este Maestro, es naturalmente agnóstica, pues le acumulaban un sinnúmero de sofismas y de errores que nunca trató de expresar, velando con ellos su verdadera Doctrina, que legaron a ignorar por completo.

Valentín, como casi todos los Gnosticos, se valió del símbolo del Nacimiento de un ser humano para explicar la Creación de los Mundos, llegando a construir todo un Edificio Filosófico con este sistema. Sostuvo que Jesús fue Gnostico en toda la extensión de la palabra, y por esta causa la Iglesia Católica no pudo interpretar las Escrituras debido a que le faltaba la Clave necesaria para ello. Era, además, un gran matemático y operó en su Filosofía con el Santo y Número.

Siendo el primero que puso en práctica el Sistema Decimal, probablemente de él sacó la clave los Zefirotes o diez caminos para llegar a Dios. Fue racionalista y habla de la Razón como primer atributo que Dios ofrece a los Hombres. A él se debe la diferencia establecida entre lo que es la Ciencia y la Sabiduría y, en cuanto a la existencia de la Materia, es atribuida por él a un error de los nacidos por mediación de la Carne.

Todo el sistema Gnostico puede ser descubierto estudiando la Literatura sobre Valentín, y entonces se ve la maldad de sus enemigos de querer destruir una cosa verdaderamente santa. Respecto a la forma de transmutación de las fuerzas sexuales, sus enseñanzas son idénticas a la de los demás Maestros o Escuelas. Por eso no es necesario repetir, más tarde Hipólito se ocupó en explicar el sistema de los Valentinianos probando, asimismo, que Jesús, durante los treinta años de su vida y en el tiempo que estuvo en Egipto, fue Gnostico y sus ideas terminaron por ser transfiguradas por la nueva Secta que vino a construir el Cristianismo.

Veamos a Marcos, quien nos dio la misa gnostica, fue él quien con más interés cuidó de la Unión Eucarística. Perteneció a la Secta de los Esenios, entre los que, ya sabemos, se practicaba el Agape, y Jesús lo celebró con los Apóstoles en casa de José de Arimatea. Pero la fórmula utilizada por Marcos difiere en parte de la nuestra y aún es más bella, aunque desde luego no es tan útil en nuestra época.

Marcos da una importancia extrema a la vocalización en la fórmula, y dice que toda la Verdad está encerrada en el Alfabeto Griego. Coloca las letras de este Alfabeto, sucesivamente, en la Cabeza, Cuello, Espalda, Pecho. Etc., y hace pasar el líquido espermático, mediante esas fuerzas, por el Cuerpo Interno. Ninguno de los Ocultistas Modernos ha hablado con tanta franqueza y claridad de los Grandes Misterios como lo hizo él.

Hace mención de 24 vocales que en realidad existen y ve el Iniciado y asegura que el nombre de Cristo se compone también de esas 24 vocales para ser LOGOS, cuyo valor es la cifra 888, sea tres veces 8 tres veces infinito.

Ofrece Marcos los Mantrams precisos para evocar a los Angeles, y ciertamente producen esos efectos, como nosotros hemos podido comprobar. La Iglesia tiene a buen recaudo todos los Secretos dejados por Marcos y no permiten que sean conocidos porque sería a su muerte completa y preparación al florecimiento e Institución de la Iglesia Gnostica.

La Obra de Marcos merece que se haga sobre ella un Libro especial. Pero en esta primera exposición no nos es posible hasta que nuestros Discípulos no se encuentren mejor preparados.

Aparece Basílides.

Basílides, el Gnostico, le llama la Iglesia Gnos-Católica a nuestro Gran Filósofo. Todos los que se han ocupados de Amuletos, han plagiado a este sabio Maestro cuya fórmula de consagración recibió directamente de los Angeles Invisibles. Fue un Gran Alkimista, y hasta en el Museo de Kircher, en el Vaticano, se guarda un Libro de siete hojas hecho de plomo por Æli. De aquí que los trabajos en metales que legados, hayan preocupado tanto a los Arquéologos que hasta ahora no han podido descubrir, naturalmente, su oculto significado.

Sus trabajos se confunden en parte con los de su hijo, el cual heredó toda la Sabiduría de su padre. Basílides sostiene que en sus Obras que los Apóstoles tenían conocimientos bastante más profundos que los que dejaron expresos en sus escritos, y Æli mismo habla bastante claro del aspecto exótico y esótico de las cosas de Dios con las que fue instruido por San Matías, dándole a conocer la parte secreta de las enseñanzas de Jesús, que no paso a la Iglesia Católica, sino que quedo como patrimonio exclusivo de los Gnosticos.

Las ideas expuestas por Basílides son difíciles de comprender. Sobre todo cuando habla de la Gran Nada y de la creación de la Semilla.

La Reencarnación y el Karma, están mucho mejor explicados por Basílides que por los Indios.

Nuestro Patriarca ha tomado su nombre como apodoimitico, y con su inmenso saber parece comprenderlo mejor que la mayor parte de sus discipulos.

Saturnino de Antioquia.

Fue el Gnostico que mejor llegó a conocer el Zend Avesta, constituyéndose en un Cabalista profundo.

Ya el Maestro Encausse (Papus), cuando estudiábamos con Æli nos confeso que la mayor parte de sus fórmulas las había tomado de Saturnino.

Aseguraba, dentro de sus enseñanzas, que el Jahve, Dios de los Judios, era uno de los Angeles caídos, quien pudo llamar a su pueblo, por sus conocimientos, el pueblo predilecto... Pero la Suprema Causa, el Principio Desconocido, el Gran Dios, no pudo reconocer esa diferencia que se apartaba de la verdadera Justicia y verdadera Equidad con que EL abraza a todos los pueblos de la tierra.

Los Saturninos eran sobrios, muy castos y estrictamente vegetarianos, llevando sus normas de moral a extremos inconcebibles.

Para comprender a Saturnino, en toda la extensión de sus enseñanzas, es preciso haber estudiado previamente a sus antecesores.

Marción de Ponto.

.Era hijo de uno de los primeros Obispos de la Iglesia Católica. Siendo amigo muy intimo de Cerdeño, tuvo que luchar con Æli denodadamente en Roma, a fin de que los Sectarios Cristianos regresaran a la verdadera Iglesia Cristiana para mantener siempre incólumes los principios inmortales del Gnosticismo, pero el egoísmo e intereses de la Secta Romana no le dio oídos y le excomulgó.

Defendía el Dualismo o principio Dual de todas las cosas y admitía un Dios innominado y otro manifestado en la esencia original de todo lo existente.

Carpócrates.

Era Griego y por el fueron fundadas las primeras Escuelas Místicas del Gnosticismo.

En los primeros siglos tuvieron residencia en España muchos conventos Carpocratianos, donde generalmente se reclusan los Rosa Cruz para aprender y escuchar las enseñanzas del Sabio Maestro.

Carpócrates habla de la maldad aun más profundamente que los Teósofos, y en sus predicaciones aseguraba que Jesús había desarrollado la Clarividencia de tal manera que podía recordar todo lo visto y vivido por Æli en otros mundos y otros cielos...

Fue un verdadero Mago, y en sus conventos se enseñaba la Magia Ceremonial...

Los Gnosticos conservamos conocimientos muy trascendentes del Mencionado Maestro, y todas nuestras fórmulas sobre medicamentos y preparación en nuestra Botánica Rosa Cruz, se deben a cuanto no legÃ³ sobre cuestiÃ³n tan importante.

El maniqueÃ-smo, aquellos gnÃ³sticos del segundo siglo, al cual perteneciÃ³ como sacerdote San AgustÃ-n, aunque la Iglesia dice que sÃ³lo aparentemente, aceptaba una emanaciÃ³n del cielo o del sol que, realizada en la tierra, llamaban tierra lÃ³cida, hecha por los eones del Dios. Luz es, pues, lo mismo y a la quedamos hoy el nombre de Substancia de Cristo, Esperma o Esencia del Logos Solar.

Uno de los continuadores de los gnÃ³sticos primitivos fueron los Albigenses. Ellos, por el siglo II tambiÃ³n reconocÃ-an una substancia divina, de la cual todas las cosas fueron hechas. Ya sabemos la guerra tan espantosa que se iniciÃ³ contra esta secta, en que el beato abad Arnoldo decÃ-a â€œMatad, matad a todos, que luego Dios distinguirÃ; a los suyosâ€•. Como el teatro de acciÃ³n de los Albigenses fue CataluÃ±a, allÃ; en los dos conventos hay mucho material que prueba la pureza de las doctrinas teosÃ³ficas de aquellos gnÃ³sticos.

Con todo lo expuesto, creemos haber hablado de los mÃ;is preeminentes y significados GnÃ³sticos del primer siglo. Entre todas las Obras que pueden ser consultadas para una mejor afirmaciÃ³n de la importancia de nuestra Escuela, estÃ;n algunas de Irineo, HipÃ³lito, Epifanio, Tertuliano, Clemente de AlejandrÃ-a, OrÃ-genes, Odea GnÃ³stica, Bardesanes, Marco y CerdÃ³n, que son los Historiadores mÃ;is salientes desde Herodoto. Aparte de Ã³stos, figuran los Escritos de los FilÃ³sofos como HerÃ;clito, Parmenides y EmpÃ³docles, los de los AstrÃ³logos y Alquimistas y algunos Poetas como Homero en su Odisea e IlÃ-ada, Musaeus, Lino y Orfeo y, sobre todo, los Libros ApÃ³crifos del Evangelio de Santo TomÃ;s, Evangelio de los Egipcios y las Predicas del Baruc, etc., etc. Es curioso que en todos los Libros correspondientes al Gnosticismo, se advierta la lucha sostenida para lograr se conservara la Antigua ReligiÃ³n con todos sus Misterios, que los nuevos cristianos no quisieron aceptar por haber caÃ-do en el materialismo que los envuelve...

Por otra parte, se observa la tenacidad con que los Sectarios Cristianos trataban de borrar y de extirpar las enseÃ±anzas de los que ellos llamaban Herejes; pero esto no a sido posible a travÃ³s de tantos siglos, porque las cosas santas no mueren aunque puedan quedar dormidas durante una Ã©poca determinada.

Hoy vuelven con nosotros estos estudios, y es el momento de aprender cuanto hubo de falso y de real dentro del Gnosticismo. Para ellos es preciso que nuestros Lectores apliquen su atenciÃ³n, libres de anteriores prejuicios, para darse cuenta exacta de lo que es el verdadero ESOTERISMO DE LA DOCTRINA CRISTIANA.

En todas estas enseÃ±anzas vemos que la parte sexual ocupa un lugar preponderante, y es fÃ;cil comprender que encierra un gran misterio, misterio que hay que conocer, y sobre todo, acudiendo a nuestras ceremonias culto-sacramentales, recibirÃ;n todos los efluvios de nuestros poderes para beneficio de su cuerpo y su alma.

Ya con esto podemos entrar en nuestra materia, a nuestra Iglesia GnÃ³stica

La Iglesia GnÃ³stica es la Iglesia del Conocimiento...

Hemos sentado esta premisa y quisiÃ³ramos adivinar como una tÃ;jcita interrogaciÃ³n en cada uno de nuestros Lectores.

Ã¿Conocimiento? Pero, Ã¿Conocimiento no es SabidurÃ-a? Y si es SabidurÃ-a, Ã¿no disponemos ya de una Ciencia amplia en todas las ramas del Saber con un ancho campo de investigaciÃ³n y dotada de un tecnicismo moderno sorprendente?

ResponderÃ-amos que nuestros Lectores llevan razÃ³n. Pero es que la SabidurÃ-a-Conocimiento a que nos referimos, no es la amasada en los Libros, la estudiada pÃ;jgina a pÃ;jgina en los obra de texto. Esto estÃ; bien para las Aulas y Centros Oficiales de enseÃ±anza. La Iglesia es algo muy distinto: tiene otro objeto. Es el lugar de la OraciÃ³n, del rezo Ã-ntimo, de la plegaria elevada hacia la Divinidad, del recogimiento, de la meditaciÃ³n, y es allÃ- donde tenemos lugar preferente para despertar, ensanchar y aÃ³n exaltar nuestra propia SabidurÃ-a interna. Aquella que va unida a nuestro Ego interior, que es el que verdaderamente conoce...

Gnosis, en consecuencia, viene a ser como un conocimiento mÃ;is hondo y mÃ;is profundo de todas las Verdades reveladas, dentro del campo religioso, vistas a la luz de esas dos fuente que se llaman Escritura y TradiciÃ³n. SegÃ³n un Iniciado de la Edad Media, es la gnosis una especie de visión inmediata de la Verdad, en oposición de la Sabiduría adquirida por el estudio.

De aquí - que el Gnostico sea el poseedor de una revelación clara, precisa y especial de las cosas divinas, si ha ascendido en alas del Pleroma o plenitud de la inteligencia.

Las Iglesias vulgares del positivismo religioso, nada útil ni práctico nos han enseñado a este respecto, pues tanto su fondo como sus enseñanzas fueron degenerando en Dogmas indiscutibles, que es lo que hoy forma la dura concha del pesado materialismo que padecen...

Sin embargo, podríamos acercarnos a las distintas fuentes de Filosofía, ya que tenemos tantos y tan sabios Filósofos. Pero, he aquí - que los mismos textos se contradicen y la Verdad se nos escapa por una pendiente resbaladiza. Más aún: Si tenemos todavía el mal acuerdo de leer a Balmes, que tanto nutrió a la Juventud de España y de América, caeremos envueltos en una red de crasas estulticias y de sofismas espantosos...

No hablemos, pues, de las Universidades. La enseñanza escolástica, en sentido religioso, es la que más daño nos ha hecho oscureciendo y nublando nuestra propia razón para ver a plena luz. El día que nos disponemos a ser libres y a emanciparnos de tanto prejuicio inútil, ya sabemos lo que nos cuesta.

Por esta razón, si queremos descender el velo y ver el horizonte ilimitado de las cosas. Si queremos prescindir de tanta envoltura falsa como encubre a la Verdad, y deseamos hallarla tal como es y no como la presenta la mediocridad ambiente, hemos de retrotraernos. Tomar nuestra hebra o nuestro hilo de Ariadna y volver a comenzar partiendo de la primera fuente de donde brotaron y tuvieron su raíz todos los conocimientos Humanos.

Ya en nuestra Obra LOGOS, MANTRAM, MAGIA, hacemos mención de los Elohim. Esa especie de Angeles o Mandatarios de Dios que, separándose de su núcleo, descendieron a divinas esferas sobre el Caos insondable y fueron los poseedores de toda la Gnosis y de todas las leyes que regulan todo el inmenso infinito de la Naturaleza.

Y decimos de todas las Leyes y de toda la Gnosis, porque ellos no solo poseyeron la Ciencia en sus diferentes aspectos, sino que tuvieron también Sabiduría...

Estos Elohim o Divinidades secundarias, fueron los creadores del mundo, los primeros Arquitectos son los Prajapatis del Veda Ring, que los llama los constructores de la Obra Universal y dejaron al Hombre, en patrimonio, absolutamente cuantos conocimientos tenían... Por eso los primeros Humanos que ejercitaron este divino Saber, como una Santa Revelación Mística, se les denominó Gnosticos.

Es cierto que la Ciencia actual ha adelantado en gran manera y son muchos los conocimientos que proporciona. Pero pensemos también en que es mucho lo que todavía ignoramos... Hay que buscar un medio, una vereda mágica, un camino escueto y seguro, para dirigirnos hacia aquellos conocimientos que como herencia nos legaron, si queremos aprender ese más allá oculto que radica en todas las cosas y que aún la Ciencia tiene que descubrir con esa lentitud con que lleva su propia miopía...

Hay, sin embargo, que advertir que aquellas Divinidades no dejaron sus conocimientos en Libros impresos. Para ofrecer sus místicas revelaciones y todas sus enseñanzas, construyeron una especie de Representaciones Teatrales en cuya urdimbre alentaba vivamente toda la Santa Gnosis revelada. A estas Representaciones se les dio el nombre de MISTERIOS.

Cólebres han sido en la Historia, los Efesos, los Orficos, los Samotraticos y, sobre todo, los Eleusinos.

Estos Dramas religiosos no eran otra cosa que representaciones Simbólicas de Leyendas Divinas, con la exhibición pública de objetos sagrados, en las que sólo imperaba la mística. El lugar destinado para los Actores era ocupado por los Sacerdotes y Sacerdotisas del Templo...

Pero el verdadero Mysterium, la Gnosis esotérica, el Arcano íntimo, sólo se le daba a conocer a los Mystos o candidatos a la Iniciación por el Hierofante, colocándolos en particular y privilegiado contacto con el mundo invisible y la Divinidad.

Hay que estudiar, en consecuencia, los Misterios, si queremos acercarnos a la Fuente misma de donde partieron todos los Conocimientos que hicieron sabios a los Hombres primitivos.

Para este fin, es preciso llegar a nosotros. Los GnÁsticos somos, por excepci3n, los que con mÁs propiedad podemos decir que guardamos la conexi3n o contacto con esas primeras JerarquÍ-as Elohinas, teniendo en nuestras manos todos los hilillos de esa hebra misteriosa que ellas dejaron esparcir entre los Humanos y que se viene deslizando hasta nuestros dÍ-as desde antes de la Creaci3n.

Por eso nos limitamos a estudiar la parte esencial, purificada y santa de todas las cosas, dejando a un lado todo lo inÁtil, lo no necesario, la hojarasca, que no es mÁs que el vehÁculo que utiliza la forma para herir nuestra depauperada retina.

Observamos la Naturaleza, dentro de sus mÁltiples cambiantes, para ver la mano de Dios manifestada en todo. Y, como buscamos la quintaesencia escondida en cuanto existe, admiramos la piedra, el Árbol, el bruto y el Hombre. Todo aquello que en sÍ- tiene una indudable huella de la Divinidad.

Somos PitagÁricos. Analizamos el NÁmero y seguimos la frase lapidaria del Maestro, que dice: Dios lo geometrÁza todo. Por eso en todas partes reina el Santo NÁmero...

Y asÍ- es, en efecto.

Por dondequiera que nuestra vista va, halla NÁmero y la mano geometrizante cristalizados en la forma.

Si son las flores las que nos recrean con su presencia, prescindamos de su belleza y perfume. ObservÁmoslas con ojos Ocultistas y veamos quÁ nos ofrecen un determinado nÁmero de hojas y de pÁtalos formando Cruces Pentagramas armoniosos. Si estos faltan, es indudable que una causa desarm3nica ha entrado allÍ- sembrando la imperfecci3n.

MÁs tarde vamos a cortar una de estas flores y utilizamos nuestra propia mano. Pero al extenderla nos impresiona la presencia de sus cinco dedos... Precisamente el nÁmero 5 habÍ-a de estar en la mano del Hombre!

Los Antiguos representaban el Mundo por medio de esta cifra y se basaban en que ella, a su vez, simbolizaba la Tierra, el Agua, el Aire, el Fuego y el Eter o EspÁritu. De ahÍ-, el nombre de Pentagrama, cuyo vocablo es derivado del Griego PentÁ (que significa cinco) y de Pan (que es todo). Por eso, si el Hombre lo es todo, dentro del orden de la Naturaleza, su nÁmero representativo deberÍ ser el 5 y la figura geomÁtrica que le caracterice, la Estrella Pentagonal cuya compresi3n simbÁlico-ocultista es de tanta importancia para los GnÁsticos.

De este modo, si vemos la mano de un Hombre con seis dedos, recibimos instantÁneamente un choque imposible de contener y comprendemos que un fenÁmeno anormal â€“Extra-Natura- ha roto la Ánica y verdadera armonÍ-a que le es peculiar. En las Plantas vemos manifestada la Trinidad, como raÍ-z, hojas y flor. La Flor tiende hacia el aire, se columpia en el viento, quiere ascender al Sol, ir hasta el Cielo... Es la Ascensi3n de Nuestro SeÁor. La raÍ-z, por el contrario, bucea, quiere hundirse, socava la tierra, busca lo oculto... Como las fuerzas del Logos en su misteriosa actuaci3n, impulsan hacia abajo, pero al mismo tiempo lo hacen hacia arriba, asÍ- la Flor es como una fuerza imantada que atrae sustancias de las mÁs bajas raÍ-ces para llevarlas a lo mÁs alto y redimirlas purificÁndolas. ¿ DÁnde hallamos, pues, la intercesi3n de la Cruz en que esas dos fuerzas actuantes se dividan? Llevemos este sÍmbolo hasta el Hombre y recordemos cuanto ya hemos tratado en otras ocasiones sobre el plexus solar. Tengamos en cuenta que los mencionados cuatro elementos de Tierra, Agua, Aire y Fuego, que forman la base de toda Ciencia Rosa Cruz Alquimista, son los que dan impulso y vigor a todo cuanto existe. Pero serÁn fuerzas de inacci3n, fuerzas perdidas, si dentro de ellas no alentara, como un hÁlito invisible, el Logos Supremo.

Dicen los libros sagrados de los Mayas, que cuatro fueron los primeros hombres: Balam Quitze, Balam Aâ€™TMkab, Mahucutah, Á Iá€™TMqui Balam. Ellos nacieron sin madre, pues su origen es del otro mundo, que antecede al nuestro. Eran la imagen del innominado y como una fuerza creadora, pues de ellos luego salieron los demÁs seres y las demÁs cosas.

Es de capital importancia para el GnÁstico este Cuaternario Sagrado. Con esta frase simbolizaba Pitágoras el nombre inefable de Dios, el principio eterno, que en Hebreo se compone de cuatro letras, y los Antiguos lo daban a conocer como símbolo del ser vivo que lleva en sí- el Delta o Triángulo divino, como portador de Dios... En él está comprendido, además, el Septenario, pues los tres principios inferiores pueden reducirse a cuatro y el Fuego, por sí mismo, representar una Tráde.

La resolución de este problema es oculto en extremo y no nos es permitido darlo a conocer. Tan sólo podemos indicarlo para que cada uno, según su propia intuición, extraiga el jugo máximo que le sea posible.

Ya en nuestras Obras anteriores, Quirología mística, hemos hablado de la importancia del Hierro. Sin embargo, recordemos aquí- que sin su descubrimiento no existirían máquinas ni Industrias y aun los problemas todos que hoy conmueven al cuerpo social, no tendrían razón de ser. Si no hubiésemos tenido metales, todavía serían utilizadas las hachas de piedra. No habría ferrocarriles, ni vías de comunicación, ni teléfonos, ni aeroplanos, ni nada de cuanto disponemos actualmente de nuestro modernismo. Hasta la Imprenta sería desconocida. La Ciencia no habría surgido y los conocimientos humanos se conservarían en símbolos o grabados en piedras. Los Rosa Cruz Antiguos y los Misterios primitivos, vieron todas estas posibilidades, y por eso fueron tan grandes sus revelaciones. Hoy no representa esto ya para nosotros tan constante preocupación.

Pero, tengamos en cuenta que jamás conoceríamos el hierro sin el fuego... Este elemento fue el que arrancó todos los metales de la tierra y sólo con él es bastante para que todo sea transformado. Por eso los Rosa Cruz sostienen su principio de Igne Natura Renovatur Integra. No olvidemos que sin el hierro y fuego nada puede existir y que su uso y manejo pertenece exclusivamente al Hombre, para quien el fuego se lo arranco al Cielo mismo Prometeo. Los animales podrán desenvolverse dentro de los demás elementos, pero se horrorizan ante el fuego...

Fuego es, asimismo, una parte del Sol, como una energía dinámica que impulsa y da vitalidad a la planta. Por eso vemos sobre la piedra cuadrada del Altar, velas de fuego formando un triángulo al que asciende, desde la parte inferior, una ancha flama. El Mandil Masónico representa por sí- mismo ese altar con la flama de fuego en el que está contenido el Septenario Rosa Cruz. Pero tenemos la seguridad de que los mismos Masones lo ignoran Somos, por lo mismo, enemigos de la Masonería que se ha desviado de su sendero espiritual y se ha metido en política, haciendo generalmente un daño inmenso a la sociedad. La masonería no sirve como religión, ni como política; su papel está en conservar, aplicar y estudiar el sentido oculto de sus rituales, pues sucede generalmente que sus afiliados a esa orden son ignorante en absoluto del significado de sus prácticas ocultas.

La Planta, la Rosa, requiere la tierra. Pero si le ponemos tierra fría, simple, no florece la vida. Necesita agua, humedad para germinar y entonces se desenvuelve de la semilla de donde misteriosamente está contenida toda la planta. Requiere, más tarde, aire para su transpiración sin cuyo elemento no puede ascender y aunque tuviera tierra, agua y aire, tampoco la vida sería factible en toda su plenitud. Le sería preciso el fuego del Alquimista, que es el que opera el milagro de su transformación...

Tomemos esto en sentido figurado y observemos al Hombre. El Ser Humano, necesita un cuerpo, una envoltura, sin la cual no tendrá personalidad. Precisa el elemento agua que representa la vida. Pero con cuerpo y vida, sería igual que una piedra sería y no llegaría a planta siquiera. Precisa además conciencia que es el aire y la conciencia sin el impulso divino que es el Fuego del Espíritu no puede concebirse. Tenemos, pues, así- los cuatro elementos. El INRI sobre la Cruz del Hombre.

Y ya que hemos mencionado al Hombre, deberíamos preguntarnos: ¿Qué es un Hombre? Conocemos varones. Conocemos hembras. Pero al Hombre, como Ser Substantivo, como Unidad, es casi imposible imaginarlo. Sólo la dualidad en que está envuelto nos hace tener una ligera sospecha.

Porque el Hombre no es la concha, no es la cáscara, no es la envoltura cuerpo, no es su figura más o menos bella. No. El Hombre está más adentro más internamente sumido, más recándito, está aun más allá del sexo... Sólo por esta vía se le puede buscar, y ella es la Única Clave para encontrarlo. Contened el sexo, y habréis robustecido a vuestro Mediador...

Si embargo, es bien difícil conocer al Hombre, saber lo que es el YO, el UNO. Por eso es tan ridícula la pretensión de la nueva Secta LA VIDA IMPERSONAL, recientemente establecida en Buenos Aires, cuando quieren dar realización a lo que ellos mismo no han experimentado.

Yo y el Padre, somos Uno, dijo Jesús. De este modo, sacamos en consecuencia que el Yo es el Padre, es decir, DIOS MISMO, y que NADIE LLEGA AL PADRE SIN POR MI... Tenemos tres figuras que juegan un papel importante dentro de la Religión. Dios-Padre (el Jehová de la creación). Y el Diablo que, así como el hijo al manifestarse tomó cuerpo humano, así lo hace, según la Leyenda Bíblica, como figura de Serpiente. El Cuerpo, la parte material, es el Diablo, el Demiurgo, que es, a su vez, el Genio de la Tierra. El Hijo es la Vida en acción, la parte astral, y sólo por así, mediante ese vehículo de vida manifestada, llegamos al Padre, llegamos a Dios, que reside dentro de nosotros y que mientras no logremos así comunicarnos con así, nos salen sobrando iglesias, biblias, sacerdotes e imágenes. Es el Único camino para llegar a Dios. De nada nos sirve que Jesús haya nacido en Belén, mientras no nazca dentro de nuestro corazón e inmediatamente a muerto en la cruz del Gólgota, sino muere en nosotros y nos redime así.

Dentro de nosotros está Dios todo poderoso, y su omnímodo poder se puede manifestar por nosotros, cuando nos hayamos identificado con así, y entonces lo volveremos a encontrar en las iglesias, en las escrituras, en los sacerdotes; pero antes no, sin esa condición básica no hay nada... nada.

He aquí, pues, la Trinidad Gnostica.

Los Gnosticos decimos: Dios es la Única realidad, lo Único positivo. Todo lo que no sea Dios no puede ser real, no puede ser de Dios, y como las enfermedades, los dolores, la pobreza, el diablo son cosas negativas, no son, más que el producto de los humanos. No pueden existir si no lo produjéramos nosotros. La enfermedad, el mal existe, porque constantemente lo sostenemos con nuestra mente. Por eso la religión Católica Romana es la peor forma religiosa, porque siempre vuelve sobre los dolores y siembra, penas y crucifixiones. Igual la Teosofía con sus negaciones. No, Karma se acaba cuando el Hombre se siente redimido por el Logos Solar. Para así que viva esa fuerza de Cristo dentro de así, no hay Karma por pagar.

Existe en Asia una secta denominada los Satanistas. Ellos adoran y elevan sus oraciones al Diablo, y muy lógicamente manifiestan que si Dios está en el Cielo y así es toda bondad y misericordia, no puede hacer a las criaturas ningún daño, formadas, como lo han sido, a su imagen y semejanza. Esto sería ir en contra de sus personales atributos y lo consideran como una patraña de los Cristianos. Por el contrario, el Diablo, es el Principio del Mal y como tiene poder bastante para hacerlo y para maltratar a los Hombres, es a así a quien hay que elevar la Oración pidiéndole benevolencia. La Lógica Indudablemente, está de su parte.

Ellos suponen, también, que la Tierra, este escabroso valle de lágrimas, este conjunto de penas, de males y de imperfecciones, no pudo ser obra de Dios. Tuvo que ser del Diablo, del Principio del Mal y en esto mantienen un estrecho contacto con nosotros los Gnosticos, porque así hasta cierto punto lo suponemos también aunque simbólicamente.

La forma cristaliza, mediante la Tierra, el Agua y el Aire. Pero la VIDA, la ofrece el Fuego. Por eso el diablo sin Dios es absolutamente impotente y nada puede hacer... si consideramos que así mismo es obra también de la Divinidad, como Ángel y como producto humano luego. Debemos combatirlo dentro de nosotros, rechazando todo pensamiento perverso, atraernos solamente ideas santas y llevarlas a la práctica. Es forzoso, para el Gnostico, ser bueno y purificado dentro de así y fuera de así en todas sus acciones. Debemos llevar dentro de nosotros la labor de una eterna creación.

Así, pues, los Gnosticos sostiene que el Universo fue indirectamente creado por Dios y directamente por esas legiones Mandatarias de Angeles, llamados Elohim, que hasta hoy mismo lo tiene custodiado en guarda perpetua (Veá Logos â€“ Mantram y Magia). La UNIDAD no se comprende. SerÃ-a inÃºtil hacer una reflexiÃ³n sobre ella y formar su definiciÃ³n. SÃ³lo se percibe, se siente y se vive... La Dualidad, en cambio, por su polaridad dual, es perfectamente concretable. Por eso a Dios lo comprendemos con sus divinos atributos, mediante la existencia del Diablo, por tratarse de los dos polos contrarios, de par de opuestos de todas las Religiones. El uno, es el Principio del Bien; el otro, lo es del Mal. Pero la realidad de todas las cosas, su esencialidad, la verdad cardinal de todo cuanto existe, radica mÃ¡s allÃ¡ del Bien y del Mal.

La Unidad en la planta misma, estriba en querer ser el Sol y Tierra a la vez. Ese es su instinto, su esfuerzo, su impulso evolutivo...

El CÃ¡liz sobre el Altar, simboliza todos los Reinos. El mismo Altar representa el reino mineral. El Vaso unido al pie, la planta con el tallo y la raÃ­z. La Cavidad, la flor, que es tambiÃ©n la llama de fuego sobre la tierra. Es preciso, por esto, que el CÃ¡liz se encuentre siempre sobre el Altar, pues el fuego sÃ³lo tiene acciÃ³n sobre la tierra.

En los Elementos, caben asimismo cuantas pasiones asolan al hombre. Los vicios, los placeres la corrumpe... En el aire se encuentra tambiÃ©n la Ciencia, mientras que en el Fuego radica la SabidurÃ-a. Si la Ciencia y la ReligiÃ³n habitual nos enseÃ±an las cosas rozando su superficie, buscando su aspecto exterior, es forzoso que el GnÃ³stico aprenda a mirar a travÃ©s del velo y clave su mirada en los mÃ¡s hondo, para encontrar asÃ- su mÃ¡s pura realidad...

Este sentimiento bien marcado en nosotros, es el que nos ha impulsado en estos Ãºltimos aÃ±os a dar a luz diferentes Libros que dan la sensaciÃ³n de ser de Ã­ndole distinta. Sin embargo, todos forman y conjunto y un solo Edificio FilosÃ³fico.

DecÃ-amos en nuestro Rosa Cruz (Novela IniciÃ¡tica) , con respecto al trÃ-fo de Materia, EnergÃ-a y Conciencia, que aÃºn estaba todo por resolver, pues si concebÃ-amos la Materia, Ã©sta no podrÃ-a ser explicada sin considerarle inherente una EnergÃ-a, y Ã©sta, a su vez, sin una Conciencia o Inteligencia. O lo que es igual, la Trinidad de Padre, Hijo y EspÃ-ritu Santo, como encarnaciÃ³n ineludible, que reside en todo lo existente.

En nuestro BIORRITMO, habÃ-amos hablado de los tres Ritmos: masculino, femenino e intelectual y de sus distintas fases. Pero si observamos detenidamente a este Ãºltimo, veremos que es algo asÃ- como un Mediador. Un Principio que ni tiene nada de masculino ni de femenino y, sin embargo, pertenece a ambos como Hermafrodita, AsÃ- es el Cristo. Tiene de Hombre y tiene de Dios y, por consecuencia, es un verdadero Mediador entre los dos principios para quienes sirve de nexo constante.

Los grandes Pintores han tratado de dar a Cristo ese mismo carÃ¡cter en todos sus lienzos, delineÃ¡ndolo con el cuerpo de Hombre, mientras que la faz, limpia y suave, aun siendo barbuda, lleva el tono inequÃ-voco de la feminidad.

En nuestro cuerpo mismo, dentro de nuestra FisiologÃ-a, podemos encontrar el armazÃ³n de huesos, tejidos, nervios, cÃ©lulas, etc., que forma la solidez de la Materia. Luego, hallamos sangre y linfa que constituyen nuestra parte lÃ-quida y, finalmente, esa secreciÃ³n interna. Viscosa, sexual que llamamos Semen, que no es ni sÃ³lida ni lÃ-quida y que aparece como raro Mediador entre ambos estados.

La labor interna de nuestro laboratorio alquimista orgÃ¡nico no nos es conocida del todo; pero los GnÃ³sticos sabemos que ese mediador, ese Cristo, ese astral lÃ-quido, encierra la clave de la redenciÃ³n, y por eso lo mencionan todos los misterios antiguos.

Un acto existe en la Iglesia CatÃ³lica, digno de menciÃ³n, tergiversado hoy en el concepto popular. Cuando el CÃ³nclave de Cardenales â€“ costumbre que data desde 1271 â€“ se decide por fin a designar un nuevo Papa, Ã©ste es colocado en una silla propicia donde el electo, una vez despojado de sus vestidos interiores, es sometido a una especie de examen o reconocimiento por todos los Votantes, relativo a todos los atributos que determinan su masculinidad.... Este, que es un acto demasiado elocuente, se refiere de ordinario con cierto aire de chanza, creyÃ©ndolo en relaciÃ³n con lo acaecido a la Papisa Juana que, siendo mujer, hubo de sorprender al Colegio Cardenalicio. Pero no es asÃ- realmente. Si ese fuera el motivo, se prescindirÃ-a del examen acostumbrado, ya que hoy los Cardenales se conocen entre sÃ- y huelga este temor. El asunto es mÃ¡s hondo, mÃ¡s importante... Esta Ceremonia, rara y sorprendente, tiene su raÃ­z en los Misterios Arcaicos de donde procede, pues como el Papa es y representa al Mediador, hay que hacer una alusión en ella a la parte sexual donde vive y alienta toda la potencia y toda la esencialidad del Mediador verdadero...

Nosotros resumimos al Septenario Teosófico de modo idóntico, tanto para la parte material como para la espiritual y astral. Esta última es la que consideramos como el mediador, y por eso conserva en toda su plenitud la representación de Cristo.

Tanto los Rosa Cruz, como los Gnósticos, siguen la afirmación de Jesús de que nadie llega al Padre sino por MI. El mismo, se declara Mediador. Luego, para obtener la Redención, la Salvación, no es cuestión de rezos ni confesionario, ni de pago de indulgencias. Es preciso tan sólo cuidar y sacar el provecho máximo de esa parte Astral, cuyos exponentes orgánicos son la Múcula y el Semen... Los cuales encierran la clave de la salud y del Poder.

Los Gnósticos además, dividen al Hombre en tres condiciones distintas. Una Trinidad a la que dan el nombre de Physikoi (materiales), Psichoi (ánimicos) y Pneumatikoi (espirituales).

Pero es preciso dar una explicación sobre ello, porque la mayoría de los que se llaman Ocultistas y, sobre todo, los Espiritas, confunden lo que llamamos Alma con lo que es Espíritu. Este último principio, lo suponen similar a las Almas en pena que deambulan de un lado para otro creyendo que ambas Entidades son idénticas. No. El Alma es el Mediador, el vehículo de Materia sutil el Cuerpo Fluido, mientras que el Espíritu es la parte esencial y divina. Por eso dice la Biblia que Dios es Espíritu y los que le adoren deberán hacerlo en Espíritu. No dice nunca la Biblia que Dios es un Alma... Un Alma se tiene y un Espíritu se es... El camino, por lo tanto, para llegar a Dios (Espíritu), no es otro que Cristo (El Alma o Astral).

Ahora, los Psichikoi, son los Filósofos, los que piensan, los que estudian, pero que aún rinden culto inconsciente a la Materia. Es decir, los que se han colocado en un punto medio y tiene de ambos de Materialistas y de Espiritualistas. Este es el grueso hoy de la Humanidad.

Y, por último, están los Pneumatikoi, cuya palabra podrá traducirse por Aliento divino. Los Gnósticos los llaman los Completos, los Perfectos, los Iniciados; y algunas otras Escuelas, los Iluminados.

De ahí - que la Iglesia Gnostica sea una Escuela Iniciática y de Misterios. De Iniciar, de Iluminar, de hacer Conocer, se ocupaban los Misterios antiguos, y por eso nosotros volvemos a tomar la misma hebra para hacer renacer esas arcaicas iniciaciones.

Continuando sobre la personalidad de Cristo o de Jesús, recordemos aquellas palabras de la Biblia, en que se dice que no fue engendrado por ningún Hombre, es decir, no hubo coito alguno, sino que fue concebido por Obra y Gracia del Espíritu Santo.

Esa especie de concepción, la encontramos en todas las Religiones Antiguas, y la misma Señora Blavazki, al hablar de los Angeles o Pitris Solares, afirma que no fueron engendrados por connubio. Así mismo en el libro de Hiob (Job), Capítulo XIV, se dice: El Hombre nacido de mujer vive breve tiempo y está sujeto a infinitas miserias...

Luego, si el Libro Báblico habla de los Hombres nacidos de mujer, es que debe aceptar otros que hayan nacido sin ella... Y si los primeros están embargados y sujetos a la miseria, los segundos deberán estar llenos de gozo, de poderes, de felicidad, de todo aquello que es contrario a las bajas cualidades materiales.

No vamos a perdernos, por ello, en un maremagnum de ideas irrealizables, comprobando si nos es posible concretar un Hombre sin parto de mujer o materializando un astral hasta el punto de hacerlo tangible... Lo que si podemos afirmar, es que los Gnósticos, con referencia a la concepción, tratan de mejorar la raza ante todo, procurando dar a todos los Seres, ya desde el nacimiento, toda la parte pneumática posible. Por eso en nuestro libro BIORRITMO dimos la Clave para engendrar hijos inteligentes...

Es una ventaja de la Iglesia Gnostica, ya que no se ocupa solo de teorías y de discusiones filosóficas, sino que toma las cosas por su aspecto real y verdaderamente práctico. Pero el punto supremo, la meta, es llegar a evitar la concepción material, pues según las Religiones antiguas "y esto está confirmado por Flammarión" existe la Pluralidad de los Mundos y otras moradas donde ir a habitar. Cristo dijo: En la Casa de mi Padre, hay muchas Moradas.

En efecto, existen muchos Planetas, otras moradas más adelantadas que la nuestra, donde aumenta el gozo y la felicidad y descenden las penas y los dolores de nuestro Mundo. No tratando de engendrar, no tratando de dar motivo a la encarnación de las Almas, éstas se ven forzadas a buscar otros lugares donde ya no impere ni sea necesaria la Materia.

He aquí-, pues, una divisa Gnostica...

No preparamos a los Hombres, a cuantos nos siguen, como hacen los Católicos, para ascender a un Cielo hipotético e inadmisibles, sino para alcanzar otros Planetas y otros Mundos mejores, que ya el Iniciado por sus experiencias conoce. Esta especie de Espiritismo práctico, lo enseñamos a la Iniciación...

Consideramos ahora el Septenario Teosófico:

Atma Espíritu.

Budhi Alma espiritual.

Manas Mente o razón Superior.

Kamas Deseos y Pasiones.

Prana Vida.

Linga Sharira Cuerpo fluídico o astral.

Stula Sharira Cuerpo físico o de materia.

Vemos que todos estos principios no están separados; pero, sin embargo, están diferenciados. Atma, lo que hay en todo, y por eso a los Panteístas les sobra la razón al afirmarlo... Budhi, también se encuentra en todas las cosas, igual que Manas o Mente Superior; pero esa Tráside Divina penetra en su última exponente, que es linga Sharira. Prana (vida), anima a todo cuanto existe, y por esto el Gnostico hace de ese Septenario una Tráside sintética aspirando a desarrollar en sí mismo el último Principio Pneumático o Atmico.

La Biblia afirma que somos los Dioses. Pues bien, ese Principio Dios, ese fuego espiritual, es la Causa Divina que mora dentro de nosotros y es la que debemos realizar o darle realidad... El Mediador o medio de que nos valemos, es nuestro vehículo Astral, el Alma, que encierra principalmente a Buddhi, Manas y Kamas, siendo su último exponente el material de Linga Sharira.

En el Alma, alienta la acción consciente, el sentir, el querer, toda la parte de los sentidos. En el Cuerpo, sólo bullen los principios inferiores inconscientes. Pero aquello que pertenece a Atma, no es posible expresarlo con palabras. Por eso Parsival, refiriéndose a esto mismo, manifiesta que no puede decirlo...

Angelus Silesius, dice: Dios es un Fuego y yo soy su Luz, su resplandor, como en santo matrimonio, han de estar siempre unidos.

A Dios hay que buscarlo dentro del YO, y al Yo dentro de Dios. En esto radica toda la Clave...

El Mantram descriptivo es IAO. Dios está representado por la O, que es el círculo envolvente. La I simboliza al YO. Pero ambos se entremezclan con la A como punto de apoyo, porque toda polaridad ha de tener un lugar de contacto o de unión.

Este IAO es el nombre de DIOS entre los Gnosticos, y es el único modo de poder expresar esas Fuerzas Divinas dentro de nosotros. Es el Adam Kadmon, y, al mismo tiempo, el Ignis (fuego alma), Acua (agua substancia), Origo (causa origen).

Ya hemos dicho que la Iglesia Gnostica procede de los Misterios, y que estos fueron instituidos por Angeles. De ahí- la afirmación de que nuestra Iglesia es de origen divino. Estos misterios los revelaron los Elohim o Santos Maestros, de manera distinta, según la raza y el lugar, pero solo son variables en la forma, ya que en substancia son idénticos.

No nos es dado revelar los Misterios mismos. Sólo nos limitaremos a decir algo de lo expuesto por Autores profanos, aunque sean de edades pasadas.

Cuentan que en todos ellos vivía a el Problema de la Redención, y aunque el Auditorio que asistía a estas Ceremonias veía Pirámides. Templos, Tumbas, fiestas de alegría o de pena, Nacimientos, Muertes o Resurrecciones, siempre fulguraba en todas ellas un estrecho sendero que iba desde la Oscuridad hacia la Luz.

Esto lo tenemos también en las Iniciaciones Masónicas cuando el Neófito va desde la Cámara de reflexiones y recogimiento hacia la Gran Luz, y en la Misa Católica con la descripción del nacimiento de Jesús hasta su Muerte y Resurrección.

Dentro de las mismas dinastías Angélicas, existen categorías. Hay Angeles, de menor o de mayor elevación y potencia, y estos acuden a cualquier ceremonia de índole religiosa que sea efectuada con conocimiento de causa... Así como ha habido de estas Entidades guardando por tiempo ilimitado la Tumba de Tután Khamen hasta el punto de provocar la muerte de los siete Arqueólogos que la descubrieron, y así como en la Misa Católica se sostiene que hay Angeles invisibles, pero en presencia, durante este acto, del mismo modo los Gnósticos disponen de Sagradas Entidades aunque muy superiores, por ser nuestra Ceremonia (La Unción Eucarística) la de mayores efectos mágicos...

Los Misterios fueron celebrados, según las comprobaciones Históricas, en México, entre los Mayas; por los Incas del Perú. Luego, en Bactriana, Babilonia, Asiria, Persia, Fenicia, Siria, la India, la Atica, Tracia, Troya, Roma y Cartago, y aún en diversos lugares de España, Francia y Alemania. Por estos datos observamos que el Mundo entero fue testigo de estos Misterios, y que por todas partes existen Rituales, aunque, en este sentido, tanto se haya escapado a la investigación Histórica.

En los citados Países, eran las Ceremonias más o menos idónticas, pero todas convenían en la base del Eterno Femenino, LA GRAN MADRE.

De aquí el nacimiento de María.

Este eterno femenino, era para Babilonia, Ishtar. Para los Arameos, Astarté. Para los Frigios, Cibeles. Para los Sirios, Dea Siria. Para los Persas, Anahita. Para los Griegos, Rea. Para los Cristianos, María.

Luego tenemos en Egipto, frente a Isis, al Osiris Masculino. En Fenicia, frente a Hércules, Dagón. En Grecia, con Apolo, a Diana. En Atica, frente a Plutón, Perséphone. Pero ya entre ellos, toma caracteres más marcados el culto y se mencionan claramente el Fallo y el Utero.

Es el Lingam-Yoni de los misterios Griegos.

Uno de los misterios más conocidos y aún de mayor importancia, como dijimos al principio, son los de Eleusis, y muchos Gnósticos modernos todavía los practicamos. Sobre todo, Von Uxkul, el Gran Iniciado Báltico, a quien pudimos reconocer en América durante la Guerra y más tarde en Europa.

ELEUSIS fue, en sus Misterios, la gran preocupación de los Sabios de todas las épocas, y aún hoy sus ruinas vienen a ser sus mudos testigos de la que había sido una grandiosa Universidad en aquellos tiempos remotos.

La Historia Oficial, no sabe que hacer o como interpretar al fundador de los Misterios Eleusinos, llamado Eumolpo, hijo de Neptuno y de Chione y primer Sacerdote de Ceres y de Baco, aunque otros le dan por Padre a Museo. Lo cierto es que en el canto de Homero a Deméter, encontrados en una Biblioteca Rusa y en conexión con otros Papiros, se ve que todo giraba alrededor del acto sexual y que en aquellos Misterios se describía un hecho fisiológico-cósmico de gran trascendencia... También en estos Misterios se enseñaba y ya la Ciencia lo ha comprobado recientemente- que nuestro organismo es una repetición del Gran Cosmos y que, estudiando hasta en sus más minuciosos detalles, la Concepción y Creación por el acto sexual, venimos a dar con la Creación del Mundo. Para ellos el origen y destino del Hombre no son fantasmas y lucubraciones más o menos filosóficas, sino un hecho comprobado, concluyente y real...

Hay en la Historia de la Humanidad determinadas épocas, en las que han influido marcadamente la actitud o conducta de un Hombre que unas veces fue simple Estadista y otras Rey o Emperador.

Una de estas figuras preeminentes, y tal vez de las de mayor relieve, fue Alejandro Magno, Rey de Grecia, quien cuatrocientos años antes de la Era Cristiana conquistó el Asia Menor, Siria, Persia y Egipto, demoliendo las fronteras entre Oriente y Occidente.

Herederos de Añol, fueron los Romanos, y a ellos debemos la mayor parte de la Cultura que tantas veces exalta y preconiza Mussolini, el Duce Italiano.

A los Romanos debemos nuestra Religión, pues después de instituirse en Roma el Cristianismo, se difundió por toda España, y fue la gloriosa España la que lo llevó a América en forma de Catolicismo. Pero antes de que Pedro llegara a Roma, otro acontecimiento de mayor resonancia había acaecido el 5 de abril del año 205 antes de Jesu Cristo con la aparición del culto a Cibele y luego a Isis, Osiris y Serapis, cuyos ritos arribaron a la Ciudad Eterna entre nubes de incienso. Estas Religiones o Cultos con sus Misterios respectivos, fueron los que conocieron los antiguos Cristianos, y en ellos se concreto lo que hoy llamamos Cristianismo, que para estudiarlo no es bastante el Nuevo Testamento. Es preciso ir más allá y remontarnos a muchos siglos anteriores.

Nosotros sostenemos que el Cristianismo, tal y como lo tenemos generalmente, no fue una evolución, un avance, sino un retroceso. Podríamos tacharnos de ingratos por lo que debemos a esta Religión, pero no sabemos hasta donde hubiéramos llegado si nuestra conquista se debiera a la Religión Oriental Greco-Romana.

Pongamos un ejemplo.

La Religión de América se debe a los Conquistadores españoles que dejaron más o menos encendidos Católicos y una proporción de cultura de regular importancia. Sin embargo, no sabemos a que altura hubiera ésta llegado, si en vez de los Católicos españoles hubieran arribado al Nuevo Mundo los Protestantes Ingleses y Alemanes. Una pequeña comparación podemos establecer, observando el adelanto de los Estados Unidos con el de Bolivia. Pero nosotros queremos dejar silenciada nuestra franca opinión. Pues bien. Sabemos lo que ha sido Europa y sus Filósofos, y, entre ellos, nos es familiar Balzac. Conocemos a los Alemanes con Kant y Nietzsche. Sabemos de Inglaterra con Burke y Hume. Y cuantos datos pudiéramos aportar sobre estos pueblos, nos han sido transmitidos por Historiadores imparciales. No obstante, todo cuanto conocemos acerca de sus respectivas Religiones, se debe a la pluma de las contradicciones enemigas, y ocurre lo que con Lutero, cuya personalidad hay que estudiar con autores Protestantes y Católicos para observar la diferencia de criterios y formar un juicio medio acerca de este reformador y religioso.

Todo cuanto sabemos hoy científicamente acerca de los Misterios y de los Gnósticos, es por medio de las investigaciones plenas de imparcialidad de las Universidades Alemanas, donde Teólogos Católicos y Protestantes han profundizado honradamente sobre tales cuestiones. Todos están de acuerdo en que los Gnósticos buscaron siempre con verdadera justeza la Unión del Hombre con Dios y que bucearon en todas las Ciencias para encontrar el camino hacia EL.

Dietrich, el Gran Teólogo, dice: Que para hallar como se desea el Religioso o la Unión con la Divinidad, hay que hacerlo por medio de estos cuatro caminos. Recibir a Dios (La Eucaristía). Unión Amorosa (Magia Sexual). Amor filial (Sentirse hijo de Dios) y Muerte y Reencarnación.

Si estudiamos las Religiones actuales, vemos que prevalece entre los Cristianos lo que denominamos Amor filial o sentirse hijo de Dios, y entre los Indios la Muerte y la Reencarnación.

Los Gnósticos, en cambio, son los Añonicos que emprenden plenamente estos cuatro caminos cuyas líneas directrices están bien marcadas y explícitas en los Misterios Antiguos.

Conocer y vivir esos Misterios, es la Iniciación, es llegar a la Sabiduría al Noscere.

Mario Roso de Luna, tan fecundo como escritor Teosófico, al escribir su Libro HACIA LA GNOSIS, dice que Gnosis es Conocimiento, y añade a continuación una serie de artículos sobre cosas científicas muy importantes, que son de efecto maravilloso como todo lo que publica este eximio escritor. Pero tengamos en cuenta que esos conocimientos científicos no tienen nada que ver con la verdadera Gnosis.

Por eso, el Añonico que pudo haber conocido al Patriarca BASILIDES, lo desautoriza con una sola frase.

No. Gnosis, no es eso. Es lo Esotérico, lo profundo, lo que está oculto y a la espalda, como esencia santa, de todos los Conocimientos. No queremos ni ambicionamos nosotros despreciar la Ciencia, no es lo que nos ofrece Don Mario en su libro, es Sabiduría como la de un super Hombre o la de un Nietzsche, o como aquella sabia de poderosa nutrición que se aspira en las enseñanzas de la Maestra Blavatski.

Las antiguas Diosas Demeter e Isis se entremezclan e interceden mitológicamente porque ambas palabras quieren decir tierra. Es, pues la Madre Tierra, en tanto que Mar es Maya, o sea la ilusión de la materia, cuyos dos principios en resumen sintético, quieren decir lo mismo.

En los Misterios de Eleusis, vuelve a surgir la idea santa de la Maternidad, de la Mujer Madre.

Por eso dice Renán, que si el Cristianismo en sus comienzos hubiese sucumbido, habrían triunfado, indudablemente, Demeter e Isis, y como Deidad Paterna, Mitras. En consecuencia, habríamos sido en vez de Cristianos, Mitraístas; sin embargo de que estos últimos tomaron los primeros muchos ritos y fiestas. Ese culto de Mitras, con todos sus profundos conocimientos, se mantuvo por siglos en Alemania y España, y ha seguido existiendo hasta nuestros días como Sociedad Iniciática y secreta.

Hay un principio hermético que dice: Lo que está arriba es como lo que está abajo.

Si las Crónicas Sagradas hablan de doce Elohim o Angeles caídos que se encargaron de la dirección de los diferentes Mundos y fueron colocados en diversas Esferas o Regiones, comenzando por Atma o Dios, naturalmente impersonal, es lógico que deba existir en el polo opuesto la misma manifestación.

Así lo enseñan los Gnósticos

Hay que tener en cuenta que la Polaridad exige la existencia de dos puntos en oposición, es decir, frente al Sol ha de haber oscuridad; frente al reino de la Luz, un reino de Tinieblas; frente a Dios, por consecuencia, un principio también impersonal como fuerza del mal.

Si unos de esos Angeles se separaron de su núcleo para subir, otros lo hicieron contrariamente para descender. Unos se desviaron de Dios mientras que los otros lo hicieron del Diablo.

Cuentan que los doce Angeles que quedaron con Lucifer, eran de carácter masculino y los que de Él se desunieron de carácter femenino. Ambos en su genuina tendencia, tenían que encontrarse y al chocar el producto masculino con el femenino, tuvieron que unirse mediante los sexos. La Mujer quería subir, tomar parte masculina activa, pues sin ella no era posible su ascensión, en tanto que el principio masculino procurando más apropiado descenso, buscó el acto sexual para seguir sin interrupción su ruta.

He aquí, pues, el Misterio del Paraíso...

La Mujer, el Eterno Femenino, llega en un momento adecuado para detener la marcha del Ser masculino y hacerlo retroceder. Pero una vez unidos, juntos los dos, en un androginismo perfecto, pueden arribar hasta Dios mismo a quien la mujer habría de llegar enlazada al hombre, por vez primera.... De este modo observamos, que la Redención reside exclusivamente en el acto sexual...

Los Gnósticos tienen por base estos dos caminos. El Eterno Femenino que tiende hacia arriba, y lo Eterno Masculino que marcha hacia abajo para encontrarse luego en la mitad de la ruta, en el reino del medio, a fin de obtener en ese plano la Redención. Por eso aseguraron en todas las edades, que en el Misterio del Sexo tenía su raíz la salvación de la Especie Humana.

Pero hasta ahora venimos hablando de Dios y del Diablo como si fueran Entidades Personales porque así nos es más fácil hacerlos llegar a nuestra comprensión de Seres Humanos que aún necesitan de la objetividad de las cosas. Sin embargo, esos dos principios son a especies de estados, regiones, esferas o reinos. A Dios nos lo imaginamos objetivamente, con la semejanza de un ser terreno y es preciso y es preciso que tratemos de concebir un supra-Dios, como hicieron los Gnósticos, a quien daban el nombre de IAO, la encarnación suprema del Logos.

Diodoro dice en uno de sus versos. Sabed, que entre todos los Dioses, el más elevado es IAO. Aides, es el Invierno. Zeus, principia en Primavera. Helios, en Verano. Y en Otoño ±o, vuelve a la actividad IAO, que trabaja constantemente. IAO, es Jovis-Pater, es JÃ³piter, a quien llaman los JudÃ³os sin derecho JAHVE. IAO, ofrece el sustancioso VINO DE VIDA mientras que JÃ³piter es un esclavo del SOL.

Estudios recientes han confirmado que el Dios Jahve o Javeh de los JudÃ³os es realmente un demonio perverso a quien los judÃ³os intencionalmente han confundido con JehovÃ¡; aunque nada tienen que ver el uno con el otro. JehovÃ¡; no es mÃ¡s que el poder dinÃ¡mico de las vocales I.E.O.U.A. como mantram, mientras Javeh es el nombre de un demonio que luchó con JesÃºs en la montaña y sigue luchando con Ã©l por el gobierno de nuestro mundo.

TambiÃ©n en la escala GnÃ³stica, existen regiones o estados diversos, en cuya mitad ascendente estaba el lugar donde llegaban las MÃ³nadas a su terreno de RedenciÃ³n. A este lugar se le denominaba el reino del medio. De Dios y EspÃ³ritu, se componÃ³a otro Reino llamado Pleroma o Reino de la Plenitud y en la parte inferior existÃ³a el Reino del Demiurgo o del Diablo que fue creador del Mundo junto, naturalmente, con los Angeles buenos.

El Mundo manifestado se hizo cuando el Bien y el Mal se unieron, cuando Dios y el Diablo, o mÃ¡s bien los Dioses y los Diablos, se fusionaron como Arquitectos, pues en un principio y antes de que las cosas fueran, tanto el Bien como el Mal, absolutas, no eran comprensibles hasta que no tomaron forma.

Hablan tambiÃ©n los GnÃ³sticos de un SEMEN DE LUZ que fue producido al acaecer por primera vez esta fusiÃ³n, cuyo semen de luz llena indudablemente todo el espacio... A este espacio llaman Hebdoma; es la Luz Astral.

No obstante, en los comienzos, solo existiÃ³ el Bien absoluto...

Pero tengamos en cuenta que Dios (el Bien absoluto) es eterno, mientras que el Diablo (su polo opuesto) no lo es. Este Ãºltimo fue formado del Demiurgo, de las pasiones todas que descendieron a tomar carne, para preparar luego el sendero de la AscensiÃ³n. A esta manifestaciÃ³n de las pasiones, llaman Jaldabaoth, estando nuestra tierra regida por Javeh y Cristo n constante lucha. Javeh es el genio del mal, es el demonio y recomendamos a estudiar la Biblia respecto a esto, y verÃ³n el papel nefasto de este genio del mal, descrito en el antiguo testamento.

Uno de los Angeles, llego a tomar figura humana y estÃ© fue JESUS, quiÃ©n recibÃ³ encomendada la labor de predicar y dejar entrever los Sagrados Misterios del Yo y de su substancia divina.

Jaldabaoth tenÃ³a seis hijos y uno de ellos era Adeneus o Adonai.

Las Potencias o Fuerzas de estos Angeles, se manifiestan mediante las constelaciones y conservan dos polos, dos octavas, una alta y otra baja. La alta es buena como perteneciente a Dios y la baja siniestra como inherente al Diablo. Es al hombre a quien toca asirse a la primera y rechazar con denodado empeÃ±o la segunda.

En varios lugares de la Biblia, se habla de estos dos polos, octavas o caminos. En JeremÃ³as, por ejemplo, CapÃ³tulo 21, versÃ³culo 8, se dice: He aquÃ³- que yo pongo delante de vosotros dos caminos, el de la Vida y el de la Muerte. Es decir, el Hombre puede seguir cayendo, hundiÃ©ndose en la culpa si es su albedrÃ³o, pero puede aprovechar la mujer andrÃ³ginamente, como santo complemento, para ascender, para regresar, para ser redimido...

Sin embargo, el Hombre necesita aliento, un poderoso empuje que le haga reanimar y le dÃ© la voluntad-dinamismo necesarias para deshacerse de las viejas pasiones arraigadas y poder ascender con todas sus fuerzas en alas del Pleroma. Precisa de un influjo, de un conmoviÃ³n actuante que le lleve y estÃ³; radicada en los Mantrams sagrados que ponen en acciÃ³n las fuerzas solares, las energÃ³as cÃ³smicas, y hacen operar al Crestos en nosotros.

Y ahora que hemos nombrado al Crestos, retrocedamos, para completar esta teorÃ³a, a algo de lo expuesto en nuestra novela Rosa Cruz.

Materia, energÃ³a y conciencia. He aquÃ³- un trÃ³o indisoluble, una poderosa Clave para resolver todos los problemas de la FÃ³sica Moderna. Sin esta su base, nada tendrÃ³a soluciÃ³n ya que cada una de sus partes no alcanza a tener una existencia separada.

Cuando las Escuelas Orientales hablan de la Materia como cosa aislada y afirman que no existe, por tratarse de una ilusión de nuestros sentidos a la que denominan Maya y toman esto como artículo de Fe, sostienen uno de los mayores absurdos.

Los Gnosticos y los Rosa Cruz, aún siendo extremadamente espiritualistas, podemos recibir la denominación de materialistas si nos atenemos a nuestra propia concepción de que nada puede existir, ni aún Dios, sin el auxilio de la Materia... Todo cuanto hacemos, es estudiarla minuciosamente hasta en sus estado más psíquico, reconociendo que nada espiritual tiene concreción por ser una prolongada hebra de la Materia, ni nada Material puede tener realidad por ser una extensión del Espíritu. Hay, pues, un momento medio en que Materia y Espíritu interceden y entonces forman Cruz...

Alemania va actualmente en la vanguardia de cuanto países se ocupan en estos estudios de la desintegración de la Materia. El Instituto Nacional de Física de Berlín, unido al Laboratorio de Transformadores de la Gran Compañía A.E.G., ha efectuado experimentos en una montaña de Suiza, logrando dar el primer paso en el camino señalando por Gustavo Le Bon y las fuerzas infraatómicas serán aprovechadas muy pronto. Entonces veremos como la energía contenida dentro de un solo gramo de Materia, que equivale a la desarrollada por tres mil toneladas de carbón aproximadamente, es capaz de mover un tren de mercancías a razón de 36 kilómetros por hora, en una longitud, igual a cuatro veces y cuarto la circunferencia terrestre. Es decir, 17.000 kilómetros.

En los dibujos presentados del equilibrio artificial, impuesto a elementos procedentes de la materia desintegrada, se observa siempre y sin excepción alguna, la aparición de una Cruz. Un Gran Físico que con nosotros acudió a estas investigaciones, exclamó espontáneamente: Maldita Cruz. Pero nosotros le replicamos: Bendita Cruz. William Crookes, fue el primero que por medio de sus estudios científicos, pudo descorrernos el veloándonos a conocer su materia radiante en la que pudo entrever un cuarto estado. Con ello, llego a poner sobre la TAU la cabeza principal convirtiéndose esta en una Cruz perfecta...

Pero tengamos en cuenta que todo lo radiante proviene del Sol. El Sol es el gran Creador de Vida y a él deben su existencia muchos otros Planetas, además del nuestro.

Asimismo sabemos hoy, que la Luz es también una substancia, que es materia y que es ella la que constantemente se transforma en tierra y se convierte en todo lo que vemos, sentimos y somos... Porque, en efecto, somos Sol transformado a causa de que la energía del Logos Solar es la que teje y desteje cuanto existe y es la que construye y hace cambiar de forma...

El Sol, a su vez, depende de otro Sol Central.

El por sí mismo, no es más que un Mediador que nos crea, que nos hace evolucionar constantemente y no redime por la acción imperativa del Cresto Cósmico.

Este Cresto, no es Maya, no es una ilusión, ni siquiera un símbolo. Es algo práctico, real y evidente y como tal Logos, tiene su resonancia, su ritmo, su tono... Platón dijo, que el Logos suena... Y Pitágoras afirmó, que el Sol tiene su ritmo... De este modo, el Cresto Cósmico, tiene su positividad efectiva y es un substancia, una fuerza, una conciencia actuante. La Materia es, por esa acción, Luz materializada...

Ya en el Génesis, se encuentra en primer lugar, el Fiat Lux y luego, como consecuencia de este esparcimiento de semen luminoso, la concreción de todas las cosas materiales.

Por eso el culto Solar, tanto en México como en Egipto, tuvo su razón de ser y somos nosotros ahora los que vamos a despertarlo a una plena actividad, pero en su concepción espiritual. Ya sabemos que aquellos pueblos, más atrasados técnicamente que nosotros, no pudieron, en el concepto vulgar, llegar a más de lo que conquistaron, pero los Iniciados todos y los Misterios de la época, conocían cuantos avances científicos hemos logrado y no ignoraban el proceso que habrán de tomar estos asuntos en lo porvenir.

La Luz, pues, se transforma, y llega a estados sutiles de espiritualidad. He aquí porque nosotros aceptamos la designación de materialistas. La luz en este caso, con esta transformación es lo que denominamos LUZ en el sentido intelectual, ético y psíquico.

Los GnÁsticos aprendemos a manejar ese Crestos, esa fuerza Luz, ese mediador, transformador y redentor y en Á realizamos todos nuestros actos de Magia Blanca, como sucede con la UnciÁn EucarÁstica.

La Ciencia Oficial, en la Helioterapia, emplea ba±os de Sol. No es que queramos decir nosotros que deban estar prescritos, porque siempre es conveniente en el sentido fÁsico cualquier energÁa radioactiva para la conservaciÁn de nuestras propias fuerzas. Pero si afirmamos que este empleo de energÁas solares lo es tan solo en su aspecto grosero y material. Nosotros logramos concentrar ese Sol y actuamos en cambio en su forma astral. En la transformaciÁn de esa substancia Luz, estÁ todo el Misterio de la EucaristÁa. Cuantos Milagros llegÁ a realizar el RabÁ- de Galilea (El Logos Solar) a su paso por la tierra, no fueron mÁs que adecuadas aplicaciones de esa substancia Luz del Sol, utilizada en su estado mÁs psÁquico.

PitÁgoras, antes que Goethe, nos hablÁ del sonido de los Rayos Solares y ambos tuvieron razÁn al afirmarlo. Una Palabra suena y asÁ- como su vibraciÁn material hiere los oÁdos fÁsicos, el sonido de la palabra solar, el substractum, se escucha con los sentidos astrales. El camino a seguir para unir ambas cosas, estÁ en el aprendizaje de la VocalizaciÁn o, como antes dijimos en la pronunciaciÁn de los Mantrams sagrados. Ciertamente, el estudiante antes de comenzar, debe imponerse Ántegramente de cuanto decimos en nuestro Libro LOGOS, MANTRAM, MAGIA sobre estos ejercicios y sobre el lenguaje de la Luz... Creemos, sin embargo, que con lo que ya se ha dicho si se ha sabido leer e interpretar, se logra la iniciaciÁn, es decir la AscensiÁn.

Este libro de La Iglesia GnÁstica, estÁ llamado a abrir la Áltima puerta y a descorrer, para los que han estudiado, el Áltimo velo... Apenas si tendremos ya que aÁadir algunas leves explicaciones para que la Luz se haga y se establezca la virtud.

VIRTUD es una palabra, que como la de Moral, tiene generalmente un absurdo y vulgar significado. La Palabra VIRTUD, en su acepciÁn de Poder, deriva de Vir, Hombre y significa una cualidad de poder substancial, de poder superior y espiritual que crece y ha de manifestarse en el Hombre mismo.

La Virtud desde punto de vista mÁdico que, segÁn Paracelso, es la cuarta columna de del Templo de la Medicina, no puede ser una ficciÁn.... Ha de ser algo real, eficaz, positivo que solo puede tener razÁn de existir potencialmente en el Iniciado. De aquÁ- que tanto el verdadero MÁdico como el verdadero Sacerdote tengan que ser ungidos por Dios.

Sigue diciendo Paracelso a este respecto: Aquel que pueda curar enfermedades ES MEDICO. Ni los Emperadores, ni los Papas, ni las Academias, pueden crear MÁdicos. PodrÁn conferir privilegios y autorizar para matar impunemente, pero no pueden otorgar el PODER DE SANAR. Nadie podrÁ ser MÁdico verdadero si antes no ha sido ya ordenado por Dios, pues sÁlo EL da la SabidurÁa MÁdica que no se encuentra en la sabidurÁa de los Libros. (Paragranum).

Para nosotros no es MÁdico verdaderamente, aquel que no conoce la posiciÁn que ocupa el Hombre respecto de la Naturaleza, pues es el Ánico medio de poder tratar su cuerpo con conocimiento de causa dentro de las Leyes que a todo rige.

Por eso los antiguos GnÁsticos buscaron siempre en el Cosmos, los diversos fenÁmenos para ir comprobando eficazmente todas sus ideas.

Por ejemplo en el eterno ciclo de las transformaciones del agua en nubes y del retorno de Ásta en forma de lluvia , vieron una metamorfosis, sobre todo, en el cambio operado en las nubes que de cirros pasan a cÁmulos, estratos y nimbos transmutÁndose constantemente unos en otros. Esa transmutaciÁn, la observaron tambiÁn en las plantas que al igual que las nubes se reducen y se dilatan progresivamente.

AsÁ- la semilla se ensancha en raÁz, vuelve a reducirse en el tallo, el tallo se abre en ramas y en hojas, vuelve a recogerse en botÁn, el botÁn se ensancha en flor, y por Áltimo la flor se repliega en semilla que cae a la tierra para comenzar de nuevo el mismo camino...

Esta es la vida, que estÁ encubierta siempre encubierta por la Muerte, ya que sin muerte no hay vida posible...

La misma semilla estÁ provista de una cÁscara dura, impasible, muerta, donde se esconde un punto, un principio, un Átomo en el que residen todas las posibilidades germinativas del futuro Arbol. En cambio en las hojas, posada en su capa exterior, alienta la Muerte que vela por la Vida, pues cuando ya marchitas tornan al suelo se descomponen y sirven de abono al nuevo germen que ha de brotar.

Se dice, por esta causa, que la Naturaleza es despiadada cuando consiente que millones de semillas mueran para dar vida a una tan sÁ³lo, pero es asÁ- y asÁ- tiene que ser...

La creaci3n del Mundo ha sido igual. El Hombre mismo lleva esta evoluci3n, porque todo cae bajo esta misma Ley y todo es forzoso que se repita siguiendo el mismo itinerario...

Las Religiones conocidas, sÁ³lo se ocupan principalmente de los bienes espirituales y de confortar a las almas, es decir, de medicinarlas espiritualmente, preparÁndolas para alcanzar una FÁ© y una Potencialidad que son los dos factores que han de llevarlas a ese cielo hipotÁ©tico que pintan todas ellas.

Para medicinar un alma, hay que conocerla. Es necesario tener un dominio absoluto del PsicoanÁlisis y poder penetrar hasta en la mÁs oscura caverna moral y bucear en todas las reconditeces, pues hay enfermedades anÁ-micas que gravan el cuerpo fÁ-sico, como hay enfermedades fisiol3gicas que trastornan totalmente nuestra parte anÁ-mica. Hay que conocer, al par , todo aquello que pueda caracterizarse como influencias orgÁnicas ya para un cuerpo o ya para el otro, y cuyas causas radican en lo Astral en la Naturaleza, en contactos venenosos, en lo Espiritual y hasta en ciertos Arcanos que no es el momento de explicar ahora.

Supongamos, por ejemplo, que un trato sexual ilÁ-cito ha ocasionado enfermedades venÁreas a determinada persona. Parece natural que tratado cuidadosamente el proceso , la enfermedad ceda â€“ como asÁ- sucede â€“ y el individuo afectado sane sin otras consecuencias. Pero tropezamos con que, despu3s de conseguido esto fÁ-sicamente, continÁa el enfermo afectado, triste, decaÁ-do, sin saber a quÁ© atribuir su malestar, y que aÁn se vuelve depravado, soberbio, agresivo. En el primer caso se le recetarÁ-a un poderosos reconstituyente y en el segundo algo que calmara sus encendidos nervios.

Pero no. No ha de sentir alivio. Acaso sea contraproducente. Y es que hay que tener en cuenta, que ese trato ilÁ-cito con una mujer descocada, no sÁ³lo puede producir enfermedades secretas sino como en ese acto se efectÁa hasta cierto punto una uni3n de las naturalezas interiores de ambos, puede un hombre que cohabita con una mujer asÁ-, extraer algunas de sus caracterÁsticas y unir, aunque sea en pequeÁo modo, el Karma y destino de ella al propio. Ya dicen en HomÁnculis: Si una mujer deja a su marido, no se halla por eso libre de Á©l, ni Á©l de ella. Una uni3n material, una vez establecida, permanece para siempre y llega a la Eternidad.

Desechan tambiÁn las Religiones, al menos en apariencia, las riquezas materiales.

Verdad es que esto es sÁ³lo de palabras pues en la prÁctica, vemos el caso de los Jesuitas que representan la CompÁñ-a de Valores mÁs fuerte del Mundo y muchos Sacerdotes aceptan bienes de sus feligreses a cambio de un posible bienestar allÁ; en el Cielo.

Sin embargo, la Iglesia GnÁstica, no sÁ³lo cuida, aconseja y orienta sobre los bienes espirituales que cada uno ha de conseguir por sÁ- mismo, sino que da gran importancia al bienestar material de sus afiliados como base de tranquilidad y sosiego moral para sus fines ulteriores. Pero como el dinero aÁn no tiene valor alguno si no tenemos o disponemos de un fuerte caudal de salud, se interesa, muy principalmente, de nuestra parte fÁ-sica logrando que el cuerpo se mantenga fuerte y joven consiguiendo hasta la longevidad si fuere preciso. Tal es el conocimiento que guarda en sus Arcanos sobre Medicina Oculta que hoy se desconoce todavÁ-a en la Ciencia Oficial, aunque fuera patrimonio de los Antiguos MÁdicos GnÁsticos.

Esto no quiere decir que ni aÁn nosotros mismos estemos obligados a vivir cien aÁos o mÁs si fuera preciso. Hay muchos motivos para dejar antes este Planeta, sin que ello sea un mentÁ-s a las ideas que exponemos.

En nuestras Obras anteriores, hemos tratado siempre sobre el valor de las GlÁndulas Endocrinas y de las Hormonas, como producto de secreci3n de ellas, dÁndoles el valor que realmente deben tener, pues si HORMONA viene del Griego Hormano, YO ANIMO, podemos decir que esas secreciones son substancias animadoras.

Unas de las sustancias más conocidas de las Hormonas es la Insulina que proviene de unas Glándulas localizadas en los intestinos, y la Adrenalina que es producida por los riñones suplementarios. Curiosa es, pues, la labor de esas Hormonas cuando se ayudan mutuamente. Así, por ejemplo, cuando falta azúcar sangre, la Adrenalina ayuda a aumentarla. La Ciencia ha probado, que la presencia de Vitaminas ayuda a la labor endocrinal.

Las más importantes de las Glándulas Endocrinas, son las Sexuales y es bien notable que esta importancia fuera ya conocida en los Antiguos Misterios que nos han dejado, como herencia, grandes secretos sobre sus posibilidades sorprendentes.

La base de la vida es realmente las Secreciones de esas Glándulas y son ellas las que, manejadas del modo que lo hacemos los Gnósticos, influyen de manera especial tanto en nuestro vivir fisiológico como en nuestro progreso del espíritu. Bien es verdad que nuestro ambiente, la civilización actual, nos ofrece dos posibilidades, la de gastarlas, consumiendo la vida en las voluptuosidades del amor, o la de guardar abstinencia, como se los obliga a los Sacerdotes Católicos, consiguiendo su degeneración o atrofia más absoluta.

Por fortuna la misma Naturaleza incita a no guardar esa clase de abstinencia nefasta y ya sabemos que entre cien mil Sacerdotes, acaso uno cumpla escrupulosamente con ese mandato. La Iglesia Gnostica, en cambio, conoce el Secreto de la transmutación de esas fuerzas sexuales, en vida, en vigor, en potencialidad intelectual y todo sacerdote que quiera cumplir fielmente esta obligación debiera afiliarse a nuestra Causa (*).

(*)Nosotros damos cursos prácticos para aprender el manejo de estas fuerzas. Logrando la transmutación de las secreciones sexuales, logramos evitar un cúmulo de enfermedades del cerebro y el mantenimiento de un aspecto de acentuada juventud en el individuo con prolongación indudable de la vida, pues cree la Iglesia Gnostica que ya que un Hombre está encarnado en este Planeta, debe aprovechar el tiempo para alcanzar todas las experiencias posibles, prolongando su existencia, para que sus encarnaciones venideras puedan ser acaso en otros Mundos.

Para todo ello se requiere un culto, pues sólo en el ambiente del culto, nos colocamos en condiciones receptivas para que nos lleguen fuerzas superiores. He aquí - porque los Espiritas, deben abrazar este culto Gnostico, ya que los Gnosticos fueron en todas las edades Espiritas Prácticos.

Finalmente: La salud es la base de todo. Tened la seguridad de que ella se encuentra en manos de nuestros Sacerdotes. Médicos.

Pero continuando nuestro tema principal, seguiremos aportando datos comparativos de la ciencia en relación con la Gnosis de nuestra Iglesia.

Steinach y Voronoff con sus injertos orgánicos y ováricos para lograr el rejuvenecimiento, llamaron la atención del Mundo y no pocas personas se dejaron operar injertándose Glándulas Genitales. Voronoff llegó a probar con miles de experiencias, que las Hormonas de las Glándulas Endocrinas influían sobre el cuerpo humano y muy principalmente sobre la Mentalidad y Psiquis de las personas. Brown Sequard, fue el primero que llevó a la práctica estos experimentos.

Su principio fundamental estriba, en que a más sangre, más vida y como las Glándulas de Secreción Interna son las que regulan el aumento de la sangre, el camino está a bien expedito si de una manera definitiva se pudiera actuar mediante inyecciones sobre esas mismas Glándulas. Pero no hay que olvidar que la base de todo, es la substancia solar y aquellos que la saben manejar, porque la conocen, son los Ánicos que pueden conscientemente hacer rejuvenecer, dar la vida y ofrecer salud...

Las Hormonas tienen también su base química.

Cuando Brown Sequard inyectó por primera vez Testiculina, obtuvo sólo resultados transitorios, y esto fue debido a que esas Glándulas aún llevaban vida en sí. Pero al agotarse ésta, cesó toda acción y toda propulsión...

Es preciso, indudablemente, para obtener un resultado positivo, preparar con antelación y de manera original el receptáculo.

Veamos, pues. Si transferimos secreciones masculinas a una Mujer, ésta cambia ciertamente de voz, brota el vello en su rostro y pierde los contornos curvilíneos de sus caderas. En una palabra, se masculiniza. Otro tanto sucede si es al Hombre a quien transferimos secreciones femeninas. Llega a conquistar todos los movimientos característicos de la Fêmea, se curva su cintura y hasta alcanza a brotar leche de sus mamas. Se feminiza.

Existe una prueba bien curiosa que se puede poner en práctica para comprobar la acción de ciertas Hormonas e ilustrar sobre la relación existente entre el Reino Animal y el Vegetal. Esta es como sigue...

Se hace una solución infinitesimal del Vitelo y Licor de las Folículas de Graaf bañando con ella los tubérculos de las Plantas estériles, es decir, de aquellas que no pueden florecer sin ese contacto entre las especies que llamamos Pantogamia. Verificado esto, observaremos que dichas plantas florecen con la mayor prontitud. Pero si hacemos un control con otras Plantas a las que no se aplique el mencionado baño, ciertamente se quedarán sin flores.

Este poder germinativo, lo reciben las Glándulas del Sol, y la Ciencia Oficial resolverá con esta substancia muchos problemas que hasta hoy resultan enigmáticos.

La impresión de la substancia Cristalina del Sol en nuestra sangre, como la hemos experimentado los Rosa Cruz y como la describimos en nuestro Libro PLANTAS SAGRADAS, nos da la Clave de la Prehistoria de los pueblos y permite formar grupos de sangre como los ideados por Wirth ofreciéndonos la resolución de todos los enigmas de la Naturaleza. Es asimismo, la Clave de todos los Cultos y nos traslada al Primitivo Lenguaje de la Luz explicado en nuestro Libro LOGOS MANTRAM AGIA.

Todas estas experiencias nos demuestran, que lo que era sabido en los Misterios Antiguos y lo que conocemos hoy mediante nuestra Iglesia Gnóstica, tiene base real y positiva. Sin embargo, lo que han hecho los citados investigadores es materializar estos conocimientos.

Nosotros, en cambio, con manejar adecuadamente a respiración rítmica o, mejor dicho, biorrítmica juntamente con otros medios que damos a conocer, prolongamos la vida y contribuimos a sanar más enfermedades que el mismo Médico, pues, todos los Milagros del Nazarenos y lo que Él hizo con el asombro inaudito de la ignorancia de la época. Pueden repetirlo francamente hoy mismo nuestros mismos Sacerdotes Gnósticos...

Estos Milagros no se consiguen con fórmulas muertas, sino preparando el ánimo de aquellos que sufren y padecen... Por eso es de tanta importancia el Culto. Antiguamente era como sucede hoy con las Iglesias de la Ciencia Cristiana- se reúnen los enfermos para recibir ese beneficio en el momento adecuado de la Ceremonia Religiosa, de donde salen curados. Muchas veces bastaba que el Sacerdote pusiera sus manos simplemente sobre la cabeza de un enfermo, como lo hacía Jesús, para obtener un resultado práctico y maravilloso.

Y preguntaréis por que la Iglesia Gnóstica da más importancia a Jesús de Galilea que a cualquier otro fundador de Religión... Pues bien: porque entre los demás y Jesús existió una gran diferencia que fue la Resurrección... Ni Lao-Tse, no Confucio, ni Buda, ni Mahoma, resucitaron. Terminaron para nuestro Mundo visible al acaecer su muerte. Sólo el cuerpo Astral del Nazareno regresó y se perpetuó con todas las fuerzas... El proceso iniciático quedó, en consecuencia, completo sólo en Él, y de ahí que sea tan necesaria e interesante la imitación de Jesús. La substancia de Jesús, del Logos solar, se propagó por el mundo y transformó su ambiente perpetuándose hasta nuestros días como esencia solar, que ofrecemos en nuestra Unción Eucarística.

La Eucarística no es una simple remembranza, ni hay que tomarla a la letra como hacen los Católicos cuando aseguran que si un Sacerdote pronuncia la fórmula Hoc est enim corpus meum y luego la de Hic est enim calix sanguinis mei, instantáneamente el pan se convierte en carne y el vino se convierte en sangre. Ni aún como lo Protestantes, al afirmar que la cena es tan sólo el recuerdo imperecedero del ágape del Señor. La Iglesia Gnóstica transita en un camino medio. El verdadero Sacerdote, al pronunciar nuestras sagradas fórmulas, puede si quiere despertar la Fuerza Solar dentro del pan para que tenga vida, como puede curar si lo desea el cuerpo y el alma de todos sus semejantes. El Sabio Herrera nos tenía verdaderamente cautivados con su Plasmogenia desde que pudimos observar los primeros experimentos. Con ellos pretendía demostrarnos la falsedad de las teorías vitalistas, como pretendía, asimismo, llegarnos a convertir en devotos de las suyas sumiéndonos en un ambiente puramente mecánico. Tenemos que confesar que el resultado fue en sentido opuesto. Mientras más veíamos, mientras más observábamos. Más se acentuaba nuestra afirmación de que nuestro camino va más en tangencia con la Verdad.

Por si esto no fuera bastante, estudiamos a Driesch, y entonces acabamos de concretar fijamente la idea, de que el germen de toda especie alberga una fuerza inmaterial (entelequia) y, no obstante, de los Zoólogos que han creído combatir a este célebre autor, nosotros sostenemos que el vitalismo, que tiene su primordial expresión en el Logos Espermático, es el único que da la Clave para resolver los enigmas del Universo, puesto que, para nosotros el modo de desarrollarse el feto y los fundamentos biológicos, ya no son ni han sido nunca un misterio... Por eso continuamos afirmando que los gnósticos fueron los únicos que lograron desnudar la Naturaleza haciéndola asequible a los Humanos...

El credo romano, que fue sacado también de los misterios, contiene estas frases, que entresacamos: Creo en...o, todo lo visible e invisible...en Jesu Cristo...que nació del padre antes de todos los siglos. Dios de Dios luz de luz... por quien han sido hechas todas las cosas.

Este principio inmaterial “aunque este término no es exacto- es el Eter Químico cuya base es la substancia de Cristo. La diferencia entre el Catolicismo y la Iglesia Gnostica, estriba en que para nosotros es Cristo una substancia y su existencia en la tierra un hecho o un fenómeno químico-biológico, mientras que los Católicos sólo dan importancia al hecho histórico-material desconociendo el verdadero misterio de la substancia Cristiana...

Tiene nuestra Iglesia, tres únicos Sacramentos: El Bautismo, La Eucaristía, y la Extremaunción, cuyo Ritual tiene un eficaz y mágico poder. Conserva también la Confesión: pero no al modo de los Católicos... La nuestra es una especie de solicitud de consejos e instrucción que se hace al Sacerdote, ya que este, como conocedor de la parte oculta, puede dar y ofrecer normas en cada caso concreto. No acepta pecados, sino errores, porque se tiene como un absurdo hacer creer a los demás que sus pecados serán perdonados, cuando nadie puede irrogarse ese poder ni prestar siquiera la menor ayuda en estos problemas en que sólo es responsable la personalidad de cada uno. En cambio, el error se puede corregir y subsanar con el consejo del sacerdote Gnostico porque une a su Ministerio el de ser un Médico por excelencia que, dentro del Psicoanálisis, le es dado transmutar los errores y hacerlos convertir en santas y puras Verdades.

Para ello es preciso estar en una buena disposición y en condiciones de recibir Fuerzas Divinas, cuya ayuda sólo se consigue poniéndonos en contacto con la santa Eucaristía. Un Sacerdote, porque o es infalible en su vida vulgar, podrá estar equivocado en una de sus apreciaciones u opiniones; pero al actuar como tal en este Sagrado Sacramento, las fuerzas todas se concentran en él, y entonces representa a un Alto Iniciado, al Ungido, a Dios mismo, y esparce y da a los demás cuanto recibe. En este supremo instante es cuando deben ser acercados al Altar todos los enfermos y afligidos. De allí- saldrán ciertamente curados.

Todos los Altos Iniciados, los que nosotros llamamos Santos Padres de nuestra Iglesia Gnostica, están conformes con esta Doctrina, y así- la dejaron expuestas en Obras trascendentales que hoy difícilmente se podrán encontrar en las Bibliotecas. La Iglesia Católica, en su lucha por lograr su establecimiento en el Mundo, hizo cuanto pudo por borrar las huellas de los Gnosticos, cuyas consecuencias eran demasiado claras y abiertas y demasiado amplio el sostenimiento de la Verdad. Y aunque luego corrieron ríos de sangre para la imposición del Cristianismo en su forma Católica, se valió en los primeros siglos de medios más diplomáticos recurriendo a quemar Libros, a falsificar otros y a recoger los de mayor importancia Inicial que hoy se encuentran escondidos en el Vaticano. Mucho, naturalmente, está expresado en ellos en metáforas, en símbolos que los Católicos no se dieron el trabajo de descifrar. Pero que ahora nosotros nos vemos forzados a esclarecer, cumpliendo nuestra misión, aunque esto sea con dieciocho siglos de retraso...

Vamos al fin a lograrlo con Epifanía.

Epifanía es una palabra, procedente del Griego, que al ser la ocupación y preocupación constante de los Teólogos, no ha sido posible obtener resueltamente sobre ella un ajuste y acerada explicación.

Sin embargo, nosotros podemos decir que entendemos por Epifanía, la Revelación, la Ascensión o la Manifestación de Cristo en nosotros...

Queda, pues, la Palabra definida. Pero al meditar sobre su aplicación, en un sentido verdaderamente práctico, se nos ocurre pensar que muchos de nuestros Lectores se habrán preguntado acerca del cómo se manifiesta Cristo en nosotros...

He aquí - el Secreto de la Unción Eucarística en la Iglesia Católica.

Veamos como.

Los Rosa Cruz Alquimistas afirmaban que los cuatro Elementos de Tierra, Agua, Aire y Fuego, ofrecían la resolución de todos los problemas mediante una quintaesencia, sutil e impalpable, que alienta perennemente en cada uno de ellos.

El Elemento Tierra, para los Rosa Cruz era todo lo sólido, a lo que daban el nombre de SAL. Agua, era para ellos todo lo líquido, incluso el vapor que llamaban MERCURIO.

Y Fuego, todo aquello que era inanalizable, a lo que designaban con el nombre de SULFUR AZUFRE.

Paracelso, en su Libro PARAMIRUM, Lib. I, Cap. VI, dice: La Anatomía del hombre es doble. Bajo un aspecto, consiste en disecar el cuerpo a fin de descubrir la posición de los huesos, músculos, venas, etc.; pero esto es lo que menos interesa. El otro aspecto es más importante y consiste en introducir una vida nueva en el organismo, ver las transmutaciones que se efectúan en él, saber lo que es la sangre y qué especie de Azufre, Sal y Mercurio contiene.

De aquí - que el mundo se compusiera de esos tres principios, cuyos tres estados dentro del Universo eran denominados por los Antiguos las TRES SUBSTANCIAS.

Tierra es, asimismo, los cristales que forman el agua congelada como campo de nieve.

Si tomamos, por ejemplo, agua que contiene hierro, no es posible que podamos ver ese metal; pero basta que lo pongamos en contacto con un reactivo, acaso el oxígeno, para que se solidifique. Si esa misma agua la calentamos, llega a transformarse en vapor, y entonces el hierro que en ella se contiene se hace gas que arde mediante el fuego. Aquí - tenemos, pues, al hierro, pasando por el estado de sólido, vapor gaseoso y fuego radiante. Por ese mismo proceso se pueden hacer pasar todas las cosas. Todo se puede convertir en sólido, líquido y gaseoso mediante ese impulso interno de quintaesencia de que antes hemos hablado.

Pero éste es un ejemplo grosero. La Naturaleza misma por impulso propio ejerce estas funciones de manera aún más bella.

Tierra, es la que recoge la Semilla de una planta, la que abraza, la que estrecha y la que la hace estallar y desplegarse, produciendo la Raíz, el Tallo, las Hojas y la Flor. Cada Flor que nace es un altar que la misma Naturaleza ofrece a la Divinidad...

Una corriente constante es la que hace surgir y empujar las sales de la Tierra en dirección ascendente; pero otro impulso de igual naturaleza toma el influjo del sol y lo hunde llevándolo hacia abajo. Esta sumersión del Sol vital es la que denominamos la quintaesencia, porque ella es el Cristo. Cristo es la Luz del Mundo, la influencia energética que a todo anima, es el Logos Solar que en todo opera y, sin el cual, nada tendría existencia. Supongamos por un momento que este Cristo nos abandonara, es decir, que el Sol vital se extinguiera. Todo cuanto existe sobre la gran mole Tierra se desmoronaría; el enlace atómico quedaría roto, y sobrevendría el Caos... Por eso dice Cristo: Antes que Abraham fui yo. Es indudable el significado interno de esta frase, puesto que Cristo está con el Mundo desde su Creación, como Logos Solar, para que la Vida fuera manifestada.

Por eso los gnósticos establecen una diferencia sensible entre Buda, Zoroastro, Confucio, Mahoma, etc. y Cristo. Los primeros fueron, ciertamente grandes filósofos encargados de predicar una Religión y grandes Iniciados a quienes se encomendó la misión santa de establecerla según la época y el país. Pero Cristo tiene otra personalidad distinta. Es Dios, es el Logos o la Esencia Solar, es la fuerza del Espíritu que está hundida en el Sol y alienta tras de Él. Es la Substancia Íntima que se infiltra en las plantas y las hace crear, transformándolas luego.

En la unción Eucarística vuelve a repetirse este proceso. Por eso el Altar simboliza la Tierra, el pie del cáliz, el tallo de la planta, y la copa Sagrada, la Flor.

Pero no creáis que todo esto sea sólo un símbolo, sino una realidad. Cristianismo, para los Gnosticos, no es un emblema simple. Es algo cierto, positivo y real que tiene una franca e indudable manifestación.

El Sol acerca y profundiza en la raíz del trigo, impulsa su energía ascendiendo, hace crecer el tallo, dar la espiga y, finalmente, se concreta en el grano. Dado el grano, lo demás muere. Tallo, espiga y raíz se descomponen y queda tan sólo el corpúsculo de Trigo con su potente poder de alimentación y fuerza energética, como en el carbón queda el fuego concentrado, que al convertirse en pan, no es sólo un hidrocarburo sino vida solar, Cristo aún en potencia... Luego, al entrar en nuestro cuerpo, comienza la gran transmutación en sangre, e hormonas, en tejidos, etc. Si en todo hubiera elementos muertos, nada sería construido dentro de nuestro organismo. Pero es Cristo, la vida Solar la que impera constantemente, y es ella la que teje y desteje, la que forma y transforma cuanto tiene desenvolvimiento bajo el Sol.

He aquí - por qué la eucarística no es un símbolo ni una alegoría más o menos bella. La Santa Unción Eucarística es práctica y positiva, porque tenemos realmente a Cristo dentro el pan...

Pasemos ahora a la base Materia, Energía y Conciencia. El pan, no es sólo Materia, ni sólo energía motriz, sino Conciencia-Cristo. En el átomo, lucha constantemente la Conciencia que no quiere ser absorbida por la Energía motriz, y esta a su vez se defiende de la Materia en igual sentido. Al venir de fuera una energía mayor, aumenta su brío la que está latente, y de este mismo modo opera la conciencia. Ahora, la cáspide, la cima, lo más grande de la Conciencia y de la energía unidas, está en el Sol, y esa partícula divina del Sol es la que se adhiere al Pan Eucarístico.

Igual pasa con el Vino. El Agua de la Montaña en sus ventisqueros, va infiltrándose en la Tierra. De allí - la toma la energía concentrada de las raíces de la Vid y haciéndola pasar por la cepa o tallo duro, la obliga a ascender hasta encerrarse en la Uva y producir su jugo que más tarde se convierte en Vino. Pero mientras está en la Uva, va percibiendo la influencia solar del Cristo, la que luego es transmitida al vino mismo y en Él queda como potente sustancia de vida.

El Sacerdote Iniciado, al celebrar, percibe en Óxtasis la influencia de Cristo, y al operar mágicamente transmite su propia influencia al pan y al vino haciendo despertar las substancias que en ellos radican para que obren en el cuerpo.

El Elemento FUEGO está representado por las bujías o luces.

En cuanto al sacerdote, lleva tres vestiduras superpuestas y un bonete. El Bonete lo hace humano. Es el Sombrero con que se tocan los Judíos en la Sinagoga o el que utilizaron los masones Alemanes como símbolo de la Igualdad. Las tres vestiduras, son nuestros tres diferentes cuerpos: el Físico, el Astral y el Espiritual. Cuando termina la consagración, se ha quitado dos de ellas y queda con el hábito usual significado que ha tornado a ser el Hombre otra vez. Cuando predica, se cubre la cabeza. Esto quiere decir que es lo mismo que todos los demás Hombres y que sólo expresa opiniones personales. La lectura de los Evangelios en la Biblia, es porque el Evangelio limpia y barre todo lo impuro dentro de nosotros, y al moverse de un lado al otro del altar, no es más que el paso de uno a otro mundo.

No hay que olvidar que la rosa Cruz, siempre fiel a su triplicidad, tiene un aspecto físico en cuanto que es una Sociedad que se ocupa de la Ciencia y de todas sus investigaciones.

Otro, de orden oculto, que estriba en las Prácticas y en el ejercicio de los santos Rituales., Y un tercero, finalmente, en el culto Religioso de la iglesia Gnostica.

Cada uno de estos tres aspectos, deben ser trabajados por el Estudiante o Discípulo...

Pero puede ocurrir, según el libre albedrío de cada uno, que haya personas que sólo pertenezcan a la parte externa de la investigación científica de la Orden. Otras, que quieran quedarse sólo con la Iglesia y dentro de su culto. Y aún otras que, prescindiendo de las dos situaciones anteriores, deseen pertenecer tan sólo a la ORDEN

MONASTICA ROSA CRUZ.

Mercurio es el que ocasiona el movimiento ascendente de la vida en las Plantas. Esta representado por Aire y Agua cuyos dos elementos circulan a través de lo sólido en el Altar. Es incienso. De aquí que pudiéramos establecer un cuaternario de este modo: FUEGO, las bujías. AIRE, Incienso. AGUA, el Cáliz; y TIERRA, el Altar.

Si tomamos H O puro, será a un veneno para nosotros. Es necesario que estén unidos con Tierra, con sales, etc., para que no nos dañen y nos produzcan bien.

Hay una enfermedad conocida por los Ingleses con el nombre de Homesickness, que es sinónimo de nuestra nostalgia por el hogar. Es decir, si una persona se ausenta de su casa, padece de la tortura de no estar en ella al lado de los suyos y puede llegar a ponerse enferma. Ello es debido a que no sólo nos alimentamos por la boca, sino por la piel, por los ojos, por los oídos... El ambiente nos nutre. En una región de mar, recibimos y aspiramos las sales marinas. En el bosque de pinos, las emanaciones resinosas de la cera. Al abandonar una persona el ambiente acostumbrado, se enferma porque siente la falta y añora la nostalgia de ese alimento que constantemente recibía en su hogar. La Sangre se lo pide, se lo exige y cuesta mucho poderse acostumbrar a un ambiente distinto. Si en esta situación se reciben noticias o algo que se refiera a los seres queridos, el corazón se ensancha y llegamos hasta besar el objeto que ha tenido en sus manos la madre, la esposa o el hijo ausentes; y si un día regresamos, nos sentimos invadidos de ese goce íntimo de tornar a lo que más amamos.

Nosotros somos de otro mundo muy distinto al que habitamos, y en nuestro subconsciente va siempre el peso de la nostalgia con su perenne cadena de sufrimientos. El Altar y la Eucaristía ya son un algo, como anticipo de aquel mundo de donde hemos venido, y por eso se siente ese placer, ese goce inefable al recibir la sagrada forma de manos de un Sacerdote o de un Obispo Gnóstico...

El Catolicismo no tiene una idea clara de estas cosas. Niega un mundo espiritual y sólo conoce un Infierno y un Cielo hipotéticos. En cambio, los Gnósticos reconocemos sinceramente ese mundo Astral en donde penetramos y nos ejercitamos durante nuestras prácticas.

Cuando comemos, los alimentos se destruyen en la boca primeramente, el estómago los prepara para lanzarlos al intestino, y allí exprimen toda su energía para seguir su ruta normal y volver de nuevo a construir. Este es el mismo camino que llevan todas las cosas en la Naturaleza... Sólo muriendo, es nuestro cuerpo aprovechable... Sólo la Muerte, trae Vida. El Alcohol nos hace mucho daño porque no permite, si se ingiere en grandes cantidades, hacer esa labor orgánica de descomposición y va, tal cual es, directamente a la sangre para producir luego esos fenómenos de intoxicación. Hay que advertir que nuestra Sangre es un líquido sagrado, y el Sol va a parar la parte solar que nos aporta la comida (pan) y el líquido (vino). Si nos espiritualizamos tanto que llegáramos a despertar con nuestro contacto la Conciencia y la Vida de todos los Elementos, cada comida nuestra sería a una Unión, una Comunió; pero no siendo eso posible, tenemos necesidad de hacer con frecuencia esa transmutación para que nos produzca la necesaria eficacia. Es por esto que la Unión Eucarística viene a ser algo real y extremadamente positivo como Santa Operación de Magia en manos de un OBISPO.

Así lo comprendieron los primeros Cristianos y así lo volvemos a introducir nosotros. No de otro modo puede lograrse ese Sagrado Misterio a que se da el nombre de EPIFANÍA, y que nosotros traducimos como manifestación de Cristo.

La Unión con EL.

YO soy... en nosotros, dice Jesús.

En el Evangelio de San Juan repite el autor Babilónico, siempre en ritmo, siete veces las dos palabras de YO SOY, y aunque esta frase pase desapercibida para la mayor parte de los Lectores, en ella está; tomándola en el concepto en que fue escrita, el Misterio del Cristianismo, la Conquista del Verdadero YO...

Los Indios, en sus enseñanzas esotéricas, hacen concebir una ENTIDAD

UNIVERSAL que a él está; más explícita en los Persas con su Zend Avesta de la cual somos, como YO, sólo una chispa...

El nuevo movimiento Teosófico de la VIDA IMPERSONAL, con una extremada poesía-a, pero aplicando mal los Versículos Bíblicos, quiere obtener un renunciamiento del YO y una invasión o disolución dentro de un estado puramente impersonal.

Esto, que quiere la nueva Rama Teosófica, encierra uno de los más grandes peligros... Si los Adeptos de esta Sociedad han leído nuestra Conferencia sobre el YO INTERNO, habrán observado que no dicen nada nuevo que no esté manifestado en ella; pero en la forma que lo expresan sólo se consigue como término sacrificar lo más grande, lo más santo, lo más sublime, que es AQUELLO por lo que murió el Logos Solar en el Gélgota, el YO ...

YO SOY, puede decirse, que es lo más trascendente que llegamos a expresar. Si leemos esos neologismos que se encuentran ya escritos sobre la VIDA IMPERSONAL, no tenemos nada que oponer al texto, pues hemos dicho y diremos siempre lo mismo dentro de estas Teorías. Que la diferencia, está en el concepto...

Oigamos un ejemplo:

Dos personas discuten; pero en el momento álgido de la discusión, una dice a la otra palabras ofensivas... El ofendido responde entonces: Usted no me puede ofender. Esta frase puede traducirse diciendo: Hay tanto cariño entre los dos, que por mucho que usted me diga, no cabe defensa. Estamos tan por encima de la ofensa misma, que cualquier frase en usted que pudiera parecerlo no es para mí nada más que un consejo. Está usted tan elevado moralmente que no me puede ofender. Usted es incapaz de ofender a nadie...

Sin embargo, en otro concepto diríamos: Usted es un malvado. Todo lo que usted piensa y dice es inmoral. Usted no puede ofender a nadie porque es tanta su maldad que le rebaja hasta el punto de no tener la autoridad necesaria para ofender a otra persona.

¿Observéis cómo la misma frase puede tener interpretaciones distintas y a menudo opuestas? Por eso no podemos combatir esa nueva Escuela. Siempre habrá a imaginaciones dispuestas a querer interpretar una frase cualquiera o una palabra a su gusto, y no llegaríamos nunca por este medio a poderlos entender. De ahí que sea preciso probar adecuadamente bien sea la bondad o perversidad de una cosa, pero probar siempre y, más en este caso, en que dentro de los conceptos, hay un daño visible...

Los Gnósticos recomiendan constantemente la Meditación sobre los siete YO SOY del Evangelio de San Juan, pues hay que pasar por la revelación del YO CRISTO, para conquistar nuestro propio YO.

El presente, nuestra época misma, está enferma del yo. En épocas anteriores, esta aguda enfermedad se dirigía hacia el YO IMPERSONAL; pero ahora nos azota el terrible peligro del Egoísmo. Tanto un extremo como el otro son malos y condenables. Hay que buscar, en consecuencia, el YO MEDIO, EL YO EN CRISTO, EL YO DE LA SUBSTANCIA SOLAR, pero consciente en nosotros como YO.

Cada vez que se diga un YO SOY “dice el Iniciado Rittelmeyer- es un remedio eficaz contra las enfermedades endémicas del Yo.

Yo soy el pan. Es el remedio contra el Egoísmo del YO.

Yo soy la Luz. Contra el temor del Yo.

Yo soy el Buen Pastor. Contra la debilidad del YO.

Yo soy la Puerta. Contra la emoción enfermiza del YO.

Yo soy la Resurrección. Contra la petrificación del YO.

Yo soy el Camino, la Verdad y la Vida. Contra la pobreza del YO.

Yo soy la Vid. Contra la dureza irresistible el Egoísmo del YO.

Sobre todos ellos, hay uno que a todos abarca: Yo soy la Luz.

Meditando sobre estos siete Yo Soy, llegamos a comprender que somos UNO con el Logos Solar, pero conservando nuestra Entidad Personal, diferenciada en un YO individual, y en ello radica el Milagro, el Misterio, mediante el cual Cristo hubo de ofrecernos el YO.

En estos siete YO SOY, están los siete Sacramentos.

Yo soy la Luz: El Bautismo.

Yo soy la Vid y vosotros los Sarmientos: La Comuniación.

Yo soy el Buen Pastor: La Confesión

Yo soy la Puerta: El Matrimonio

Yo soy el Pan: La Unción eucarística.

Yo soy la Luz del Mundo: La Ordenaci3n de Sacerdotes.

Yo soy la Resurrecci3n y la Vida: La Extremaunci3n.

Fijaos que el primero de los Siete, es Yo soy el Pan, y el 3ltimo Yo soy el vino. Quiere esto decir, que entre el primero y el 3ltimo est3 todo absolutamente contenido....

En Hebreo YO, es ANI. La Realidad est3 en la A y el Yo en la I; pero la N se interpone entre los dos, como negaci3n. Sucede igual que con el monos3labo AUM. En la A est3 la Realidad. La U la hace ascender y escapar de nuevo y la M viene despu3s como punto negativo significando la Muerte.

Los Pueblos de habla Espa3ola tienen, igual como los Alemanes, el privilegio de poder encerrar a Dios en la O, y ser3 a un crimen ir contra esa conquista magn3nima del Cristo...

Por eso los gn3sticos, entendiendo que la veracidad debe ser la primera condici3n del Ocultista, propagamos abiertamente nuestro YO, y honradamente lo exponemos a los dem3s.

Este Yo es, pues, susceptible de ser educado. No en el sentido de una educaci3n escolar, sino como tal Personalidad efectiva... Franklin, uno de los hombres de m3s acentuada Personalidad, cuenta que in d3a de hizo un examen de s3 mismo y descubri3 doce faltas, doce malos h3bitos, que le estorbaban para el progreso del YO, y entonces dijo: â€œAs3 como no es posible que un Cazador pueda matar doce liebres a su vez, so peligro de no matar ninguna, tampoco es dable extinguir doce defectos a la par, sin correr el riesgo de no quitar ninguno...â€• Pens3, en consecuencia, ir combatiendo estos malos h3bitos uno por uno cada dos meses, requiriendo esta labor una extensi3n de dos a3 ±os. Acto seguido comenz3 la norma trazada y pudo llegar al fin con 3xito indudable logrando cuanto se propuso.

Ya la Naturaleza nos ense3a, yendo ella misma por grados. Natura non facit saltus.

Primero, abarca un estado; luego otro, y as3 va progresivamente avanzando en sentido indefinido... Del mismo modo las Culturas y Civilizaciones de todos los tiempos, brillaron por 3pocas determinadas, siendo cada una de ellas de imprescindible necesidad dentro de su per3odo.

Para que una semilla madure, ha de pasar durante alg3n tiempo por el estado de semilla misma, conservando su prieta envoltura o su dura c3scara, y esto sucedi3 con las Civilizaciones China e Ind3. La 3poca de su florecimiento fue la 3poca de la semilla, dentro de la cual quedaba encerrado el Logos Solar como en cofre Herm3tico... Al nacer el Nazareno y al ofrendar su heroico sacrificio sobre el G3lgota a toda la Humanidad, hizo estallar esa semilla floreciendo instant3neamente el nuevo per3odo del YO que llega hasta nuestro d3-as.

Contribuir ahora con poderosos esfuerzos a que los pedazos de esa semilla rota ya vuelvan a juntarse sin darnos cuenta que la planta brot3 y que ya est3 erguida y lozana, es tan extempor3neo y es querer retroceder a Edades fenecidas en la noche de los tiempos.

Pretender con estudios seudoteos3ficos que durante c3scaras o viejas envolturas tornen a cubrir semillas de antig3edad remota que hizo florecer el Cristianismo Primitivo, lo consideramos absurdo.

En la edad Ind3, se admiraba el Grano con su belleza y hermosura inextintas. Hoy debemos admirar y adorar al YO CRISTO, que es quien ha de dar su Luz a nuestro propio YO.

La entrada de Cristo en el Templo arrojando de 3l a Mercaderes intrusos, tiene para nosotros un aprovechado simbolismo. Todo esto nos ense3a, que debemos arrojar y expulsar muy lejos de todo lo que sea arcaico, lo que suponga prejuicios tradicionales, cuanto estorbe y sea in3til para nuestro adelanto y progreso, purificando al par el Templo interior de pensamientos pesados y materialistas, que son los que forman el odioso comercialismo que se advierte dentro de una palabrer3a vana y estulta.

Es nuestro deber m3s sagrado, respetar todas las ideas, considerarlas y estudiarlas, porque siempre ser3n fiel expresi3n de sentimientos bien arraigados. Pero es tambi3n nuestro deber alzar la voz para que se nos escuche en defensa de la Verdad: De aqu3 que afirmemos que los estudios teos3ficos basados en teor3as y en normas antiguas del Budismo, los consideremos in3tiles y sin eficacia para la Humanidad actual, porque

Esta tiene ya como Redención al Cristianismo, que es el que nos ha ofrecido el medio de realizar nuestro Yo, el Cristo interno que a todos anima...

La posición de oposición en que ha venido colocándose desde remotos tiempos la Iglesia Católica con respecto a los Gnosticos, ha hecho que se pierda para el Mundo las más sabias enseñanzas que tan precisas hubieran sido para la Humanidad en todo tiempo. Sin embargo, bien supo adjudicarse una buena parte del Gnosticismo de Clemente de Alejandría y de su discípulo Orígenes, explotando sus Obras, aunque rechazando las verdaderamente gnósticas...

Lástima es que no se hubiera cumplido el deseo de estos Sabios Iniciados de enlazar los Antiguos Misterios con el Cristianismo naciente. Habría sido lo más lógico y una bendición indudable para la Humanidad.

No obstante, los Misterios conocidos en todas las épocas precristianas como especies de representaciones teatrales, fueron llevados, con la Crucifixión y Resurrección de Jesús, a la Realidad, a la Práctica... Por eso resulta que EL, el Cristo, es más grande que todos sus predecesores.

Si bien las traducciones Bálticas, como ya se ha dicho, son todas defectuosas, recientemente los Teólogos Alemanes han hecho una nueva traducción de las escrituras primitivas, en cuya edición ya resalta claramente el Gnosticismo. La frase SED PERFECTOS como mi padre lo es, debe traducirse por SED INICIADOS; y los lectores de las Sacras Escrituras tendrán que hacerlo así.

La Biblia es una de las Obras Inicáticas más perfectas, y a ella deberán dedicarse principalmente los Estudiantes de Ocultismo aunque es preciso saberla leer y comprender, porque ni aún los mismos Teólogos sacan de ella el provecho necesario.

Yo sostengo que todos cuantos Misterios y enseñanzas del pasado nos llegan importados desde el Oriente, se encuentran de modo más grandioso en la Biblia. Sobre todo en esa síntesis general a que damos el nombre de Apocalipsis de san Juan, como vimos al principio.

Los Cristianos todos pasan por alto, y aún le conceden escasa importancia, a lo que se les habla del Reino de Dios, es decir, del Pleroma de los Gnosticos, siendo ello tan interesante. Una idea vaga nos han dado los Indios al hablarnos de su Devachán; en cambio, los Rosa Cruz se han especializado en las investigaciones del Mundo Astral y pueden decirnos verdades más profundas que han sentido y vivido.

Cada época y cada pueblo, es cierto, que tiene su maneras de vivir la Verdad aunque ella sea UNA desde que el Mundo es Mundo; pero ya no resulta ni puede ser atacada esa frase de los Budistas en constante negación sintetizada en el YO NO SOY. Esta frase ha sido reemplazada oportunamente por Jesús con el YO SOY, cuando dice: YO SOY LA LUZ DEL MUNDO. ¿Pero LA LUZ DEL MUNDO no es el Sol? Pues bien, Cristo es la Luz del Sol, lector querido: queremos repetir esta frase como esencial en este libro para que se te grave: Cristo es la luz del Sol. No ya física, sino la espiritual, que está detrás de ella.

Cristo Jesús, antes de la Resurrección de Lázaro, habla de la semilla la que hay que conocer y tener en cuenta. Por eso jugaba papel tan importante en los Misterios de Eleusis, donde se representaba Deméter provista de una espiga de trigo.

Los mismos Evangelios pintan una sucesión cronológica al estar representados por el Toro. Símbolo de los Egipcios, fue el Buey Apis. De los Persas, el León, y de los pueblos Nórdicos, sobre todo de los Alemanes, el Aguila, y ellos esperan, con el Angel, recibir la revelación.

Estudiada la Biblia, se encuentra en sus pasajes otra sucesión. Las tres etapas de la Trinidad que se denominan:

Imaginación

Inspiración

Intuición

Primero es preciso ver interiormente las cosas espirituales, y luego hay que escuchar el Verbo o la Palabra divina, para tener nuestro organismo espiritual preparado para la Intuición.

Jesús quiso dar esa impresión despertando la Imaginación a todos los que vieran y leyeran acerca de su martirio, a fin de tenerlos aptos para recibir su Palabra y disponerlos luego para llegar a la Iniciación.

Para acercarnos a todo esto, es absolutamente necesario que nos invada un sentimiento de alegría. No debemos quedarnos con el Viernes Santo de una pena profunda, sino enardecidos por una sana y alegre satisfacción en plena pascua de Gloria. Así dice Nietzsche, que el Mundo sería otro distinto si hubiéramos cultivado con verdadera asiduidad el Optimismo y la Alegría.

Esta Trinidad se encuentra en las tres primeras súplicas del Padre Nuestro, a saber: SANTIFICADO SEA TU NOMBRE. Es decir, el Santo Nombre de Dios, el Verbo, la palabra productora.

VENGANOS TU REINO. Con la pronunciación del Verbo, de la palabra, de los Mantrams, viene el Pleroma, la plenitud, el Reino de Dios.

HÁLGASE TU VOLUNTAD, ASÍ EN LA TIERRA COMO EN EL CIELO. En esto consiste la Unión, quedando todo resuelto.

Con estas tres demandas, hemos pedido todo lo necesario, y si un día lo logramos, ya SOMOS y no hay necesidad de pedir.

En la Unión Eucarística, no hay que olvidar que nuestra substancia, dentro de su íntimo albergue, es su propia substancia y que al penetrar en nosotros con su forma, nos ilumina y nos coloca en condiciones de comprender los Misterios.

El mismo Jesús habló de alegría en Jueves Santo momentos antes de su sacrificio. Eso quiere decir que hasta en presencia de la desgracia debemos estar contentos y alegres. Cuando un niño al hablar de alguna cosa dice esto es mío, empuja el concepto y los oscurece con un dignificado tinte de egoísmo. Del mismo modo somos los hombres cuando hablamos del YO. EL YO de Cristo en cambio, tiene forma de espacio, es más plural, procura ser inmensidad, y en ello radica también el misterio de la alegría habitual que debiera asistimos. Cuando decimos yo tengo alegría, estar a mejor la frase repitiendo: YO SOY ALEGRIA. Esto está indicado en la Misa con Melquisedec cuando habla del sacrificio del pan y el vino.

Si retrocedemos, sondando y buceando el pasado, arribamos ciertamente a aquellos estados primitivos de barbarie de la Humanidad. Pero, hay que tener en cuenta que esto era una época transitoria, antes de la cual ya existían los Misterios que fueron extendidos y propagados como una especie de preparación para la gnosis y el Cristianismo.

Es posible que los que se conocen históricamente, ya estuvieran en decadencia, porque los genuinos eran secretos en absoluto. En relación con esto recordamos, que Esquilo fue acusado y procesado por haber hecho referencia a una parte de los Misterios que debió haber tenido en silencio. Probablemente entonces que lo que sabía era intuitivamente y que no había recibido la iniciación.

Hay verdades de razón y verdades de hecho. Cristo, al presentar personalmente su Drama de Misterio, reveló una Verdad de Hecho...

En la Misa de los Misterios, los concurrentes llevaban ofrendas a los Dioses, consistentes en algo de su fortuna. Esto es lo único que han conservado los Católicos recibiendo dadas para sí y no para Dios.

También se habla en la Iglesia del sacrificio intellectus. Esto quiere decir que debemos sacrificar en nuestra religiosidad el propio intelecto, pero no en el sentido de que estas cosas no pudieran ser concebidas intelectualmente, sino que el Intelecto es puramente material y debemos ofrecer y brindar sólo nuestra parte espiritual... La Venida de Cristo de que tanto hablan las Sectas, quiere decir que vendrá a posesionarse de nuestra Razón, y aunque el materialismo de hoy no es muy propicio, hay, sin embargo, posibilidades divinas que nosotros vamos a despertar preparando a todos mediante la Unión Eucarística.

Para Explicar la Unión Eucarística y reconocer su Septenario de :

Imaginación.

Inspiración.

Intuición.

Palabra o Verbo.

Sacrificio.

Transmutación.

Unión.

Es necesario que nos valgamos de un símbolo o ejemplo bien sencillo.

Vemos a una persona cualquiera, observamos su imagen y escuchamos su palabra, y esto o es bastante para pasar estas impresiones a nuestra conciencia. Su fisonomía nos da a conocer algo de su carácter, pero de manera engañosa muchas veces. Los seres más perversos tienen un lindo rostro. Sólo al escuchar su palabra, su voz, podremos impresionarnos de una manera agradable o desagradable. Es éste un fenómeno oculto muy curioso. Cuando escuchamos en ocasiones una conversación, por ejemplo a través de una pared, si la voz nos agrada y tiene nuestra simpatía, queremos forjarnos una cara que luego de conocida la persona no resulta. Es, pues, necesario ver y oír para darnos cuenta exacta de quien se trata y aún darle nuestra mano para que el aura de ambos se confunda. Inmediatamente se siente la impresión. Hay personas cuyo contacto nos choca, nos despierta la repulsión y otras, en cambio, cuyo acercamiento nos agrada. En este símbolo de dar la mano, existe una unión, una comunicación...

En la Unión Eucarística es igual. Primero, hemos de observar la Ceremonia de la entrada del Sacerdote y preparar nuestras Imaginaciones para abarcar todo el acto aprovechadamente. Luego, al recitar el Oficiante el Ritual, debemos pensar sobre su contenido, sobre su divina Magia, para llenarnos de sus emanaciones sacrificando todo cuanto tenemos de humanos dentro de nosotros mismos, al fin de recibir la parte divina que a su vez en aquel acto se sacrifica. Viene a continuación, la pronunciación de la fórmula que transmuta simbólicamente y, hasta en cierto modo, de una manera real; y, finalmente, debemos recibir el pan de vida con todo el recogimiento y con toda la religiosidad de que seamos capaces para ofrecer a la divina diódiva, más que un más-sero albergue, un templo Verdadero...

En esto exageran los Católicos, pues suponen que si al pasar un Sacerdote cerca de donde haya una gran cantidad de pan pronuncia la fórmula hoc est enim corpus meum, todo él se convierte en Cristo en ese mismo instante. No es así. Esto es puramente dogmático...

Los Protestantes, en cambio, se exceden y van al otro extremo afirmando que la Eucarística es sólo alegórica y que si se practica es en recuerdo del Agape que Jesús ofreció a sus Apóstoles.

Los Gnosticos tomamos el camino del medio. Al pronunciar la fórmula y ejecutar la Ceremonia nuestro Sacerdote Iniciado, la parte santa del Prana que alberga el pan, la parte del Sol que recibió al crecer el trigo, se desliga convirtiéndose en substancia espiritual, y entonces el pan y el vino unidos, obran santificando.

Tanto en el pan como en el vino, existen las partículas divinas de los Elementos, y éstas, en la Unión Eucarística se les une a la parte de Divinidad que llevamos nosotros. El Agua proviene del Cielo. El Vino de la Tierra, y en esa santa y mágica comunión se reúnen y ligan...

Por otra parte, el camino de Imaginación, Inspiración e Intuición lo encontramos también al conocer cualquier persona. Dice un filósofo que el hombre es invisible. A primera vista nos llenamos de extrañeza, pero luego observamos cuanta razón lleva esta afirmación filosófica... Y es que esa entidad invisible y espiritual se anuncia y manifiesta por la faz, por los ojos, por los movimientos del cuerpo, por el énfasis de la palabra, sin que sepamos quién es y como se llama lo que caracteriza el verdadero Hombre, precisamente porque permanece invisible a pesar de esa forma de manifestación. Supongamos que se presentara ante nosotros una porción de decapitados o cuerpos sin cabeza. No nos darían la sensación de personas. Pero aún suponiendo que la cabeza la conservaran, si no gesticulan, si no se mueven y, sobre todo, si no hablan, tendríamos que considerarlos como cuerpos inanimados que nada nos dice ni nada nos hacen sentir. Sólo al escuchar su voz y la modulación de sus palabras, es cuando pondremos nuestro calificativo sobre cada uno, porque entonces se opera la comunión. Antes de la Imaginación, antes que ésta sea recibida y tome cuerpo en nosotros, disponemos escuetamente de un intelecto abstracto. Ya en una esfera sucesiva, viene la Imaginaci3n.

En los Misterios Antiguos se despertaba la Imaginaci3n con un Drama en el que aparecA a la Figura del Dios lleno de luz. Luego ponA-an en prÁctica el Rito y lo recitaban llamÁndole de nuevo. AquA- tenemos, pues, la etimologA-a de Recitar, es decir, volver a citar.

Los Cat3licos al celebrar la Misa, rebajaban a Dios y lo empequeñecen, pues lo citan como citarA-amos a una persona cualquiera a una hora y en un lugar determinado... No debe ser. Las Fuerzas Divinas estÁ;n siempre presentes, sin variaci3n, y el culto se dirige Ánicamente a despertarlas para que actúen. Pero todo tiene que manipularse en sentido rÁtmico, ya que todo as nuestro alrededor es ritmo...

A nuestros Feligreses les recomendamos vivir la Trinidad. En la noche, al irnos a acostar, nos vamos al seno del Padre, que es el Invierno, la Muerte. Por la mañana, al despertar, moramos en el Hijo, que es la Primavera, el Nacimiento en Belén. A mediodA-a, cuando el Sol estÁ; en lo alto y nos inunda la vida, vivimos en el EspÁritu Santo, que es el Verano con su divino fuego.

De todas las Religiones, la Cat3lica es la mÁ;s materializada, y se refleja esto por lo negro del hábito o sotana, que simboliza el cuerpo físico. Al ponerse el Sacerdote el alba, que es de color blanco, es cuando reconocen otros cuerpos aA;n cuando ellos mismos lo ignoren y el oro que usan los Obispos representa el Sol. Los Gn3sticos tenemos de comA;n con ellos el color blanco, si bien en cada estaci3n usamos un color distinto.

Cuando un Oficiante Cat3lico va desde el lado de la EpÁstola al del Evangelio, para unos significa ir de Herodes a Pilatos y para otros es el paso de los Gentiles a los JudA-os. En realidad, significa el cambio de un estado a otro, y por eso mismo nosotros lo simbolizamos tambiA;n cambiando de altares.

Finalmente, en la Ceremonia de la Unci3n se refleja toda nuestra vida. Cuando llegamos al Mundo, venimos con ciertas facultades y poderes latentes y tenemos el deber ineludible, porque no es otro nuestro objeto, de despertarlos y desarrollarlos hasta hacerlos crecer para arrancarlos de su prisi3n en la materia. Igual sucede con las fuerzas latentes dentro del pan y del vino, que llegan a su cumbre, se desbordan, cuando la Palabra las hace despertar...

CONCLUSI3N

Se ha terminado el Libro de la Iglesia Gn3stica.

No nos ha sido posible, en esta primera exposici3n, ir mÁ;s a fondo de las cosas, aunque nuestros Ámpetus tengan que ser contenidos por ese afÁ;n que es propio de todos los Hombres que ambicionan dar cuanto saben... Pero reconocemos que el ambiente ha de empezar a formarse con estas primeras enseñanzas que, mientras no sean asimiladas por nuestros fieles y estudiantes, no nos serÁ; dado entrar en mÁ;s hondas materias que ya rozan el punto mismo de la Iniciaci3n y que levantarA-an el velo ante la mirada perpleja del candidato absorto...

TodavA-a, si este Libro es estudiado con fe, con voluntad con atenci3n firme, despierta y ponderada, tenemos la seguridad de que muchos de nuestros Lectores, si les llegan estos conocimientos en instantes propicios, verÁ;n ciertamente la Luz, al conocer donde radica y al observar que el problema cumbre es el cultivo del Yo, la exaltaci3n del Yo. Hay que percibir, sentir y vivir, cuanto exponemos. Si no basta una sola lectura, es necesario repetir hasta impregnarse profundamente de todos los conceptos, y esa comprensi3n que se alcanza serÁ; sin duda alguna, el primer peldaño para alcanzar la Ascensi3n del Logos Solar, de la Sustancia CrÁstica en nosotros...

Entre tanto, medita en silencio...

Sed serenos y cautos y poned oA-dos a vuestra propia voz, a la voz de la Verdad que pugna incesantemente por desbordarse de vuestro coraz3n. AllA- el Maestro estÁ; en acecho mÁstico aguardando el momento de ser realizado. Tirad y escupid todo deseo impreciso, que allA- hable para la propia tortura, y arrojad del recinto cuantas concubinas intenten apoderarse del t jamo nupcial para desviar la hora-cumbre de vuestro arribo... Robusteced todos los conocimientos que se os dan, toda la Gnosis que se os presenta. Sumad el mayor n mero de virtudes necesarias y extraed con hero simo, por la propia conquista, la Gran Fuerza de Nus, el Cristo Santo, el Logos inmortal que duerme acurrucado en la hondura del Templo. La Sabidur a, surgir  delante de vosotros cuando observe que os convert s en el verdadero Amante que la adorna con el ropaje inconfundible, con la t nica incons til de la Virtud.

Desechad la LETRA. Ha dejado de existir. Hay que ir a buscar el grano mismo, la semilla misma, romper su dura c scara, hacer que surja la planta y de ella la Flor... Es bien f cil contentarse con ser la entidad nominal de una cosa. Hay que ser la cosa misma e identificarse con ella consiguiendo el divino enlace, la excelsa uni n con la Verdad cuyo veh culo es la propia liberaci n...

YO SOY, hay que repetir diariamente. YO SOY, hay que decir a los cuatro puntos cardinales. YO SOY, hay que gritar al mundo entero. Por el amor del YO, por seguir al YO, hay que abandonarlo todo, dejar la propia casa que son nuestros vanos amores y deseos insanos a los que estamos unidos. Por conquistar y realizar el YO, debemos darlo todo, todo, sin l mite alguno. As  lo tendremos, y as  podremos ofrecerlo un d a a nuestros hermanos en la Humanidad, que por tan dif cil momento atraviesan, cuando m s pesa la losa de plomo del materialismo reinante...

No he querido poner en este libro el ritual de la Unci n Eucar stica; pero todo Centro o Logia Rosa Cruz, puede solicitarlo y recibir instrucciones para celebrar y hacer as  su primera labor de Magia ceremonial.

S lo, para terminar, dar mos un grito: LIBERTAD VUESTRO YO... Esto es todo. Que la antena de nuestros hermanos, allende todas las tierras, puedan recoger esta onda de afirmaci n espiritual y de libertad  nica, y que todos los hombres que van a la vanguardia de este progreso espiritual puedan conquistar el candor necesario para merecerlo, mente sana para concebirlo y labios puros para pronunciar su nombre immaculado...

Finis

Cuando Ud. Haya le do este libro y le han quedado dudas, es decir, si desea explicaciones, escriba al autor:

Dr. Krumm-Heller, Berl n-Heiligensee, Alemania, que poniendo Ud. El valor de la respuesta, recibir  amplias explicaciones.

BEWARE OF THE SECRET TANTRIK TEACHINGS OF A SATANIC MASTER(Dr.Nicholai Frisvold-Norway)

Posted on Saturday, October 7, 2006 at 06:19PM

We reveal for the first time KARNAG TASEL

Or;

the secret teachings of the Brilliant White and the Black Spotted temple a dark satanic practice from the far East connected with forces of evil in the New World Order.

Written by Dr.Nicholai Frisvold (in Oslo Norway an important center of satanism in northern Europe!)

These lessons are released from within the True source of Power, by the Master Azoth in the Threshold-kingdom. These lessons will serve the interests of initiates of several different traditions and will due to this fact be circulated amongst the members of the Nath samprayada (AMOOKOS) and Uttara Kaula Tantrikas. These lessons are released in the ninehundred-and-forty year of the Vikram era (2000 e.v) to benefit the Seekers on their path towards enlightenment. May peace, happiness and understanding be bestowed upon all the Knights of Shambhalah. May the curse, blessing and cunning be partaken of by all who read and use these lessons.

This is a series of lessons based upon the sacred and holy tradition of BÃ¶n-Pa, the shamanistic Vajra-spiritism of Old Tibet but grounded, protected and reflected through the diksha and parampara of the nath samparayada and uttara kaula tantrikas. It is here presented in eleven cuts or lesions for the eternal affliction of those who embark upon these teachings, for the blessing or the curse of the Seeker. These eleven lesions are:

Lesion number One.....Consummation of the Light of Night

Lesion number Two.....Mediations on the Shen

Lesion number Three.....Tapping the Source of Evil

Lesion number Four.....Cultivation and trafficking with the Yidams - part I

Lesion number Five.....Cultivation and trafficking with the Yidams - part II

Lesion number Six.....Truth unfolding into the hands of the Revelator (Welse Ngampa)

Lesion number Seven.....Meri â€œ at the Mountains of Organic Fire

Lesion number Eight.....The sacred Priesthood of Zhan Zhung (Atlantis)

Lesion number Nine.....Working the Black Spot

Lesion number Ten.....Fundamentals of the sacred transmission of ChÃ¶d

Lesion number Eleven.....Integrating the principles of ChÃ¶d

Lesion number One Consummation of the Light of Night

All true and real magical training, all true and real paths to Knowledge, all true and real paths towards your higher self will bestow Change. Change is the most universal Law of the Cosmos. As cosmic beings we partake in the cosmic Laws and must submit to its naturalness. The more we accept the Laws of the universe, the more we will understand the principal elementaries of Creation. All true and real paths will lead to a constant Change towards the better of the Seeker. There is much fear in the world. Most fear is based upon Change. Change is the enemy of the profane, the friend of the Master and sets the occult Seeker apart from the World. The Seeker strives to see the World as it really is (Purusha) and will slowly understand that the World reflects its supreme Law, Change within its fold of prakriti or Maya. Without becoming at ease with this fundamental principle the Seeker should turn away from these papers, cause you are about to Change already as these words hits your mana (exterior mind). Who are you â€œ not? Try to define that for your self. Tantrikas set this idea forth in the upanishadic teachings in an attempt to define godhood. Is it possible to understand that we partake of the entire Creation through this idea? Pursue what you are not and decide for yourself why this is so. Take care not to explain by the use of pre-causality or by causality itself. Be honest. It is no sin to say that you don't know, but it is a sin to lie for one self! The lies you tell yourself is the most profoundest lies of all because they hinders you from seeing things as they really are and instead you construct maya within maya in deceitful buildings of falsity and pride. Many Seekers has denied themselves saintliness by the lies they have told to them self, cause lies must be defended and the greatest defence is to live according to your belief. A lie said is a lie incorporated and it very well becomes a mode or code of beliefs in your life. The human mind has a tendency to re-construct the past, this could be done in two ways. Either you re-construct it according to ideal motives (how you wish it was and re-explaining the whys and hows of your past actions and situations) or you try to be faithful to your self. This is the hardest re-construction because you have to slaughter your own pride and see yourself as you really are – a human being, incomplete, on the search for your Angel. Without accepting your shortcomings for what they are, how can you expect to progress on the path of righteousness? How can you expect to pass on to Sainthood or become a Master of your Heart in this incarnation if you don't realise this simple truth about mankind? Hopefully, some of you will be warded of now, feeling that these words are threatening you. And yes! These words are fearful and they have been said so frankly that you have no chance of turning back. Whether you stop reading now or not, you know, that you from this moment on never will be able to lie to yourself without feeling guilty infore yourself. The concept of sin set in motion! There is nor original sin in the sense we are used to be told about it. A sin is a personal affair, it is not connected to external beings. The medium of sin is the lie. The lies you have told yourself have made you sinful. The lies you have told others are no sin but a shortcoming and self-made hindrance which denies you to prosper within Maya and finally break it bonds. Man is the very symbol of the unity of macro-and-microcosmos – the divine symbol it self. This should induct into the Seeker the desire to take responsibility for being it this state of incarnation and the first sign that you have taken this responsibility is truthfulness. Does your divine seeds, your alpha-ovule, the purusha you partake of, do they partake in a false way of living, speaking and being? Words are a sinister medium. Mind is clearer than words. Words can only say approximately what the depths of the mind reflects from its divine depths. This is called bias. Bias is no sin, but to accept the bias as truth can lead the Seeker towards indulging into sin. So why am I talking so much about such dreaded concepts as lie and sin which makes me look like a fundamentalist Christian to those who don't see the Light yet? Because I am also trying to clear the space for the dangerous wisdom of B' to be safely inducted into your ontological state of awareness and beyond. I am trying to speak to those who now understand the real idea of sin and lie, to those who hates the lie and loves the Truth... There are many haters of the Truth out there. Truth can be recognised on the pain it brings with it. The lies are often sweet and delightful but will sooner or later turn against the liar and consume him within sourness and bitterness, sending him back into the eternal wheel. I feel there is appropriate here to talk a bit about Dharma and Karma. These concepts are as often confused among people, as among the Seekers. Dharma is the perfect law of the Cosmos and its Creation. All of us are born to fulfil some kind of Dharma, the method for completing ones dharma is through karma. Karma is the ritual actions we perform, viewing existence itself as the major ritual each and everyone has to accomplish to enter into the conclusive states of ones dharma. By performing wrong karma you will push yourself from completing and executing the deeds needed for you to be in accordance with your dharma. Dharma is the Cosmic Law and we as cosmic beings are subdued to this Law. Dharma sastra place a great emphasis on suddha to accomplish dharma. Sudda means pure. What makes the pure unpure is connected to lies and the karmic deeds performed in the soil of sin. Sokrates told his followers – Know Thy Self –, which has became almost a slogan for the Seekers in the West, but still, it contains the truth of dharma. You must achieve knowledge about your Self if dharma shall prosper in your life and refine you into the purest state reachable. As a Seeker you are already closer to this goal than the profane majority of waste-beings. Take care not to turn yourself into waste and build your knowledge upon lies. Lies will give birth to karma, actions, that take you down alleys that lead you astray from Self and destroys your dharma. Imagine this: You are accused of having committed a questionable deed and are confronted with it. The way you act accumulates the results of your karma in the dharmic records. Imagine this: You are obsessed by achieving something or someone, but the only way to achieve it is to play a game of life that indicates that you can not all together be truthful in obtaining this goal. What will your actions be? Your actions will be recorded and remembered by dharma. It is your actions that bring you nearer or further away from dharma through this incarnation of your being. Why I am writing these words will be obvious to some and clouded by others. To those which these words are clouded I ask you to meditate hard on what has been said so far in these papers. The true understanding of what here has been written is the first cut towards enlightenment within these lessons. All of these teachings will arrive upon you with some degree of pain and uneasiness. You have felt it already, cause you know that you have many, many times lied and behaved in discrepancy with your dharma. You know it now and you feel slightly uneasy. You might also feel uneasy since I never stop writing about the false way of life you are living, you might get worried or slightly angered with me. It's good. That indicates that you are about to change. You are about to react according to dharma upon the bad actions you have made. This change is necessary since to embark upon this path as a Seeker who easily falls into the use of lies as a tool for progression and advancement in life will fall short in godhood.

Meditation and ritual: You will start this practice by re-membering a recent episode where you behaved unethically or unpure where you had to use lies to avoid conflict, problems or the likes. Find yourself a comfortable asana, preferably on the floor. Breathe slowly and imagine yourself positioned alone in the midst of the vastness of Space. Imagine voices accusing you of being a liar, and an adulterer, a selfish bastard, an ignorant, a looser, a weakling, a fool, a bewildered stupid. Allow the accusations to torment you until you feel the uneasiness let go slightly. Then you will stand up in this Space and as you stand up all the faces of your accusations will come forth from the space. As they are emerging the space are getting lighter. They will be quiet and watch you now as you with a calm mind accept the truth in these accusations. Do not ask forgiveness! But accept that you are capable of performing bad karmic deeds. Now, open your eyes and stand up in your temple. Call forth your ancestors and spirits to watch this small ceremony you now will perform. You will take a small portion of olive oil or consecrated water. You will take some of this on your fingertip and starting from muladhara ending in ajna you will massage every chakra for a short while stating: "I renounce a life of lies. I renounce a life where I deceit myself. I swear in front of my ancestors and spiritual guides to walk steady on the path of Truth. There is nothing I will not forswear for the sake of Truth." Feel yourself renewed and know with yourself that this is the beginning of purity. You will unavoidably live closer to dharma from this moment on and it will bring you peace. Be at ease with your decision.

But your falsity and lies in front of your dharma do not end with this. The concept of purity must always be close to your consciousness, non-consciousness and heart. Purity centres around keeping your path clean. Purity is very demanding in a world of pollution where all people are running in their own wheel of self-deception is potential the greatest damage to those who desires to keep their path pure. People, Ideas, Memories and Ego are the faces, or rather faeces, on every corner that works against the Seeker. You will probably look at these words a second time now and realise that these four concepts makes up most of your outer, or exteriory, manifestation in the world. When people say to them self that they know you, they know you by these concepts. So why am I calmly hostile towards the exterior qualities of our social make-up? And why am I saying that people are our largest source of pollution? Because it is so easy to forget that your soul which partake in the transmigration of purification life after life is void of these qualities in its exterior form. Your heart goes deeper than this. All else is lies. Time in the exterior sense is solely memories fused with ideas reflected in your own mind or in socialisation with other people, maybe fused with a portion of desire. This exterior time feeds your Ego, your being in the world. Matsayahendranath talked about kleshas, Gorakhnath talked about them and Dadaji talked about them. Kleshas are blocks of obstructions that must be destroyed if a pure attainment towards your path shall arise. One of these blocks is ego. And know also that the fight against ego is not easily won. Sometimes it knows it is about to be defeated so it lays down, hide and play submissive “ but when time has diminished the memories it take you back as a disclaimed shadow slowly returning in a distracted moment. The return of the shadow-ego is always brought in motion by pollution in the exterior world. So, take care with people! Take care with much loving kindness!

So, you might wonder, how come I am talking about how to consume light in the night in these papers. If things are such, that you don't understand where this leads you I hope you can forgive yourself your ignorance and go on, in hope to embrace the light. This age is the darkest night in the history of mankind. This is the age of the return of the Kalki. The age where the light would be hidden from many and even when found by a few, even fewer would be capable of understanding it. In these papers you will enter the night within the night. You must be pure. Sinpos will detect your lies and unpurity immediately. And while they leave you with your filth, they eat the good parts of you making you more and more into an unpure larvae, caught in an organism. Talk about prison! The perfect being does not exist, but there are a few truthful and humble men in the world, have these as a goal perfected in your mind, when you now have decided to go on within the kingdom of B'n.

In the Dzogchen-teachings of Tibetan Buddhism there is a doctrine on seeing things as they are. All things are a product of the “Dance of the Five Wisdom Sisters” (The elements). This dance is experienced by us as phenomena placed in time, that is always changing. Its very course and pattern is continuous change. As human beings we like to impose meaning upon these phenomena, often forgetting that the meaning of the phenomena is captured within the phenomena itself. This meaning is valid only for that particular moment, that and only that phenomena is in movement through time. There is no use attaching meaning to every movement. After it has moved through Now it withers into past and loses its meaning. The dance of the sisters is reflected in matters, but the energy produced by this will lead into Nothingness, the ultimate Naught. To see signs and meanings in all moments of movements in time will only create neurosis and superstitious behaviour and the mind is hindered from its natural flow. In the Dzogchen-teachings there is important to be aware that the Cube of the Law is composed by three qualities: clarity, luminosity and unobstructedness. These concepts correspond to the layers known as mind, spirit and the will respectively. So, since these concepts are the compositions of the Cube of the Law they are self-existing “ they are a part of the dharma, the cosmic law so there is no need searching for them! They will appear in movements and moments of importance as you allow your self to be more and more into the Now! The past is a reconstruction composed of memories that are not to be trusted in the present. The future is merely a projection of past-into-now mixed with desire or fear. When you try to catch it will diminish in front of you! The experience of the time-lines should be attempted to become the continuity of Nowness. This will induct into you the feeling of Totality. Your experience of existence will be pure, now and naked. This might lead to fear. Because being openly present in Now, naked, often will be of such a quality. The cure is to accept this fear with openness and through the acceptance and welcoming of this fear you will be able to destroy this barrier created by “habitual emotional reaction patterns” (His Holiness Dilgo Khyentse Rinpoche). It is this openness to All that is at the core of this first cut of these teachings. When you embrace the total openness of All you will be able to use even your emotional condition as a playground and the need for re-constructions of the past and bitter-sweet lies will lose their value. Because you are about to construct and cultivate a condition of openness to all situations without limit.

• All phenomena are completely new and fresh absolutely unique and entirely free from all concepts of past, present and future. They are experienced in Timelessness•.

-His Holiness Dilgo Khyentse Rinpoche

Lesson number Two Meditations on the Shen

To approach the dark fire it is important that the sadhaka following this path connects to the principal peaceful deities of the ancient religion of the bonpas to ensure that protection and blessings are bestowed from the most enlightened and benevolent beings of the tradition. The first point of contact should be made with the Four Transcendental Lords (Deshek Tsozhi). These four lords are under the influence of The Mother, known as the Yum. Besides these five principal points there are three additional points of spirits that must be taken into concern. These are; Lha, The God, Sipa, The Procreator and TÄ¶npa, The Teacher. For the followers of the vama marg of nath sampradaya these concepts will look familiar. Not without reason. The Mother contains the three, making the three spirit-points extensions of Herself. The Transcendent Lords equals the guardians of the quarters, senses and the bodily portals. These transcendental Lords represents five forms for manifestation, namely Body, Speech, Mind, Excellence and Power. The secret number connected to these Lords are 1008, an important Tantrik number since it according to Tantrik lore is the exact number of enlightened beings in the present Yuga. The mother and her points of manifestation change their names according to the age. The names for these beings in the present Yuga are Satrig Ersang for the Mother, The God is called Shenla WÄ¶kar, the Procreator is known as Sangpo Bumtri and the Teacher as Shenrap Miwo. From this we can understand that Bon is a faith grounded in the mother and is therefore in accordance with the fundamentals already inherited through Tantrik diksha. Satrig Ersang resembles the PrajÄ±apÄ±ramitÄ± of the Buddhism, The Perfection of Wisdom, or rather in the ancient language of ZhangZhung, Wisdom Purified. Her colour is yellow and her mantram is composed of. SRUM, GAM, RAM, YAM, OM. These syllables are set in the symbol of eternity, the swastika. She holds this swastika in her right hand while she holds a mirror in the left. Her animal is the lion. It is important to note that she holds a mirror in her left hand, this signifies the importance she has in the vama marg as both an opener of the pathways to the other dimension but also her qualities as the purifier. Through the Mother you will be able to mirror your self, in fact this is a necessary requisite. You must be mirrored and be aware of your impurities. It is also said about her that enlightened masters from past, present and future approaches her, which indicates that she is in total control of the time-lines, an important aspect for those who are willing to traffic into the Other Worlds through time and mirror. One of her most appealing manifestations is in the form of Sherap Chamma, The Loving Lady. In this manifestation the swastika is removed and a golden vase is placed there instead. We will in the sections upon sexual magic dwell more into this symbolism, since the use of the vase or the urn is highly useful in acts of sorcery. That the vase is golden, i.e. that it captures the light and the madhu, the honey, will be interesting reconfirmations of these deities's magical abilities. All these deities here mentioned can be named Shens, a word that means priest. And with exception of Satrig Ersang, who is the source of the priesthood it will be quite useful to use this name. It is with the priesthood our first contact shall start, it is through their ordination in the lost kingdom of ZhangZhung their peace will be given us. The ordination by the Shens will elevate important features of our astrality and we will be burnt with the mark of entrance into the Kingdom of the Yidams guarded by the Sinpos.

In relation to the word shen. The deity known as Shenla WÄ¶kar, is considered the supreme priest of godhood, also $\tilde{w}\tilde{a}\tilde{r}$ is rather important as it signifies White Light. His animal is the elephant, reflecting his royalty and sacredness. He is also the one who carries a hook and he is completely dressed in white. He is also known as \hat{e} •The Body of Bon \hat{e} •. In this regard Dr. Per Kv \tilde{a} rne (p.26 in The Bon religion of Tibet, Shambalah Pub. 1996) makes a direct distinction between this form and the Buddha Amit \tilde{a} ba himself through the concept of dharmak \tilde{a} ya. This is highly possible due to the historical facts and the close relationship between Buddhist Tantra and bonpa.

It is said that B \tilde{a} npa is the foundation of Buddhist Tantra. The many similarities and multi-reflections within both Hindu-philosophy and Tantrik speculations confirms this thesis. When we analyse the bodymind of the Procreator, Sangpo Bumtri we will find the same similarities. Etymologically he is connected to Brahm \tilde{a} as the enlightened being. He is said to be from the beginning of time and has been identified with the Demiurge in Tibetan cosmogonic myths. Further he is the origin of magic emanations and is adorned by a silver light. His main occupation is to remove impurities which gives him a very clear identification with the role of Vishnu. His animal is the garudabird, a fearsome bird of imagination connected to the mystery of the Phoenix. Sangpo Bumtri is able to adopt proper forms of himself nicely shaped in accordance with the environment he moves within and in relation to the sentient beings he is trying to redeem in order to awaken them to their dharma. The Teacher-priest Shenrap Miwo is similar to S \tilde{a} kyamuni, the buddha in the precise moment of enlightenment. This is a questionable connection since Shenrap Miwo indicates the state from S \tilde{a} kyamuni and further not until this state. His colour is dark blue. To him is given universal dominion and to him is the responsibility of instructing those deluded by ignorance.

Let us again return to Shenla W \tilde{a} kar in his manifestation named K \tilde{a} nzang Akor. His name reflects the All-Good, Cycle of A. A is the final letter of the Tibetan alphabet, it is the most frequently used syllable and phonetically it is the symbol of primordality. To prostrate ourselves in front of the primordial one seems to be a good place to start an not the least he is excellent as a point of foci where he sits in meditation with a lotus in his right hand and a vase in his left.

Decorate your temple nice without overdoing anything. Pour some rose water in the centre of the temple.

Posture yourself in a comfortable asana and start to chant the mantra A AKAR SALE W \tilde{a} A YANG OM DU.

See him rising from the wetness at the centre of the temple, naked, adorned with jewels, his breast adorned with the Tibetan A. At attention to the objects he is holding in his hands, cause these can vary greatly. Visualise that A starts to glow and burns itself into his chest, deeper and deeper. It burns it way into the heart and from his heart ten rays of purest light come forth and surrounds you and penetrates you from the top of your head and down your spine. Keep this image firm in front of you as you experience that these ten rays breaks froth from your heart, but in four gross paths of light in the colours white, blue, deep-blue, green, yellow and bluish red. Observe how these colourful lights turn into deities surrounding K \tilde{a} nzang Akor. Perform this small ritual until you know intuitively that he has bestowed his grace upon you. This can happen after one session, ten, hundred or never. When this is completed the first ritual will be done.

PUJA SHERAP CHAMMA FOR ENLIGHTENMENT AND PROTECTION

1. Present a yellow and red candle for Sherap Chamma. Consecrate it with your own saliva, saying out her name loud several times, your gaze should be fixed on the candle while you smear the saliva on them. Place a tiger-eye-stone or a stone with feminine qualities between the candles together with a small mirror and a small vase. The vase at the left side for your (the right side for the deity).

2. Open the ritual with a calling for peace and ask your spiritual guides to preserve your truthfulness and purity . Acknowledge the importance of the naths before you and your personal daeva.

3. You are now ready to call forth the guardians of the ritual space. These guardians are also known as the Goddesses of the Four Seasons.

I open the portals to the gardens of Spring. I open the layers of the Eastern mysteries.
I stand here naked as a cloud in the midst of All. I call your name dMar mo lcags sgrogs ma!

Let me see you in Red delight, mistress with the Iron Chain. Let me touch your velvety red skin

Let me dwell within the Iron-air. Protected and blessed be.

I turn to the Northern gate and enter the garden of summer. I open up the secrets of the Northern gate with the sound of flat-bells and breath. By the mantram Lha mo gshang thogs ma

I call upon you for protection. Appear for my benefit coloured in the rainbow. Seduce me with

The sound of the shang, the voice of summer and smell of your skin. Protected and blessed be.

As I turn to Autumns-twilight Ocean I approach the goddess with the noose. Your naked black Body as the secret garden spread in front of me. I call you by the mantram Nag mo zhags thogs ma

And I pray that you will protect me and guide me through the wanderings I am about to undertake

I am seduced and hexed by the beauty of decay and the hissing of the autumn-crickets. Protected and blessed be.

In the last quarter I turn towards the south. The winter of all seasons. The caretaker of All. May your hook of compassion allow me to die a multifold from my impurities. Resurrect me in the cold fire of winter and carry me into the fifth, as I call you by the mantram Lha mo lcags kyu ma. Protected and blessed be.

4. Now you will call forth the protectors of the Eight dreads, known as Jigs pa brgyad skyobs. They will be called forth by spilling a few drops of water around the dragon-seat (the position of the sadhaka) saying the following:

I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Enemies
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Magic
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Families
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Lu (naga)
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Heretics
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Harm
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Death
I call forth the Protector Against the Dread of Planets

5. Imagine a throne between the candles. This is the space where Sherap Chamma is supposed to be evoked into. And in this occasion we will call her in her five-fold form, also known as the Five Loving Ladies.

Oh, Beautiful Lady of heavenly Wisdom, arise from the Gardens of aether and knowledge. Come in the fivefold Form of Wisdom shrouded in beauty. Your neck and body Adorned with the finest jewels. The sun and the moon are Thy faithful servants. Rich in beauty, purifier of ignorance, Remover of the eight fears. Glorious goddess of the Body of Bon I call your eastern body, Thabs chen bde sgrol. Teach me the Means towards blissful Liberation. I call your northern body where the sky is held in chambers of treasure. Nam mkha `i mdzod `dzin. Let your western body swallow my sins, the Ocean of the dark eat my impurities. Thugs rje byams ma. As the body of the southern pyres enters the world of appearance I ask the favours and blessings of the fourfold and composite body which turns into the fifth, the Loving Lady of wisdom Shes rab byams ma.

6. See her as she is slowly taking a pleasurable form between the candle. Allow this form to mould itself into whatever she wants to be. Remember that she has layer upon layer of appearances. Its important to tap into those aspects of her she deems necessary for you, since she is a goddess very concerned about ignorance and impurities.

7. Note everything down in your diary and allow these energies to seep out by them self. That is, donâ€™t banish! Itâ€™s a good idea to build up this protective atmosphere in your laboratory before we start calling the demons, sinpos and other unpredictable beings. If any phenomena appear that makes you uncomfortable bring the matter up with your Guru or dive deep into the uneasiness yourself.

Lesion number Three Tapping the Source of Evil

Welchen GekÃ¶ is a fascinating Yidam. And with this entity we approaches another set of divinities with slightly different attributes. The Trowo Yidams. While the Shen-class of beings are occupied with the purificative processes the Trowo Yidams are said to be the source of the tantras and the secret teachings. Its important that you who read these lessons are aware of the source of these transmissions. In this paper you will learn how the machinery of occult wisdom situated within Daath is reflected towards the plutonian hot-point. BÃ¶n-Pa represents one of the clearest plutonian traditions obtainable in the exterior world. But its main gate is through Daath. As should and must be evident is that Daath represents that sephira of Naught. Transgression through this point of the godhood will lead you either to understanding or confusion. The fall of Adamos and Cheva came into play with the confusion given by Daathian entities. I will urge those of you who read these papers to read and try to understand the problem of radical evil as set forth by Tau OrphÃ¶e Luchifero I. These essays can be found on the following address http://www.geocities.com/erzulie_freda in the section called Choronzon Club. In the next two lesions we will look deep within the sexual magical secrets and also the teachings of the Order founded by Reuss will be slightly discussed in relation to the mysteries reflected in the VIII and IX degrees of the order. These seem proper since Reuss founded a western order based upon Tantrik ideas. It is these concepts we will concentrate upon. But for now we will solely concentrate upon the nature of these fierce entities of the plutonian tantra of BÃ¶n.

Itâ€™s rather interesting to note that the worship of the yidams are very similar to the procedures set forth in a text such as the Hevajra-tantra. Welchen GekÃ¶ has many features in common with the mysterious and violent Hevajra. Also important is the fact that the yidams are especially connected to ZhangZhung, the Holy Land or the divine sanctuary where the gems of bliss and enlightenment are hidden. The gekhÃ¶s are a class of gods within the class of yidams. What the name gekhÃ¶ signifies is not known, the very name containing the secret of these beings in itself. There are said to be 360 gekhÃ¶s and all of these can be seen as being held within the all-embracing body-mind of Welchen Gekhã¶, making all other gekhã¶s a part on One. 360 is also the number of a full lunar year as well as it is the complete circle, indicating that these beings rules fortune and time-travel. That is, all time-lines will have to cross one of the 360 points of being grasped within the ever evolving Now. The gods of divination are said to rest on the sacred mountain Tisã¶, a mountain found in the kingdom of ZhangZhung. One of his names are also Gekhã¶ Sangwa Dragchen, which means the Secret and Great Violent One of the Gekhã¶s. He is embraced by his consort Logbar Tsamã¶, the Lady of Flashing Lightning. Her body is in the colour of reddish-brown. She has three faces, six hands and she has a fierce and warlike attitude, namely as the Queen of draplas, a warlike class of beings submitted to the Yidams.

From the Bon Tantra Ge khod gsang ba drag chen gyi sgrub skor we will meditate upon the following conjuration of Welchen Gekhã¶, using meditation and visualisation. Itâ€™s of grave importance that contemplation follows these meditations so the understanding can be enlarged. In this text Welchen Gekhã¶ and his consort assumes the form of Yab and Yum, namely the Father and the Mother, laying forth the cosmic formulae of union resulting into the Third and therefore the One. Be sure that a certain degree of comprehension of this has been achieved before you go on further to the plainly sex-magical teaching that are to be followed and used to approach the different yidams. Also, remember that each yidam is a tantra in itself. The worship, understanding and indulgence into these beings through the techniques known in western occult systems as VIII, IX and XI will energise the contact between the Seeker and the god to such an extent, that the mind slips and total paranoia and obsession can be the result ending in insanity or death in the worst cases. To avoid such unwanted results its important that time is used wisely and with a great amount of discipline. Donâ€™t pursue these lesions faster than you know with yourself that you shouldâ€™t.

See yourself placed in the midst of enormous funeral pyres. Silence and laughter are everywhere. The corpses speak, non-understandable words. Roaming ghosts and demons are everywhere and you feel uneasy in this land of strangitude. With burning bodies and hot coal at all sides you recite the following incantation until your mind starts sliding deeper into ZhangZhung, erasing the borders between the visualised kingdom and the kingdom you want to be brought closer towardsâ€™t.

The fierce form of Welchen Sangdrag,
Gekhã¶, king of gods, subduer-of-demons with great magic power
Terrifying, with nine heads and eighteen arms
Bluish-black, furious, an awe-inspiring, blazing wonder â€™t
His form has a violent, haughty posture
With his fierce nine heads he subdues the arrogant, black demons:
The faces to the right are shining white,
Those tot he left are flaming red,
While the faces in the middle are bluish-black.
All nine heads are furious, with the face of a demon
The topmost head has the face of a garuda
I hair is yellowish-black,
Like a mass of fire filling the universe.
Lightening, hail and snowstorms whirl around him,
His eyebrows are like flashes of lightening,
Shooting forth violent hail and thunderbolts.
His eyes forming a triangle, are filled with rage;
Thrown back by his eyes, red with fury,
Gods and demons swoon from fright.
Violent claps of thunder resound from his ears,

Adorned with turquoise dragons as beautiful earrings.
His nose has terrifying wrinkles,
From it swirls an apocalyptic snow-storm.
His greedily gaping mouth devours and destroys the demons;
From his tongue flashes of lightning penetrate the Three Realms.
His pale-yellow beard showers sparks,
Violent lightning falls, thunderbolts and hail whirl around.
The cry of the garuda at the top of his head
Unsettles the nagas at the bottom of the sea.
His eight gaping faces subdue the eight classes of gods and demons,
The sound "HAHA" of his pealing laughter
Causes the inimical demons who lead astray and create obstacles
To swoon and fall headlong.
On the upper part of his body
The wings of a great garuda are raised and spread;
Their awesomeness overwhelms the entire universe
The stems of the feathers are glowing, all-consuming masses of fire Reducing to ashes the demons who lead astray
From each hair of his body sparks shoot forth
Forming a mass of fire
And subduing the female fiends and lords-of-death
The upper part of his body is enveloped from above downwards
In the flayed hide of an elephant
To which is attached as the hem the skin of a destructive demon, Spreading forth a hundred thousand mighty masses of fire
