FOREWORD

The rare atlases in the National Map Collection, numbering some three hundred volumes, have now been fully catalogued. The present work is the first of a provisional series of catalogues to be published over the next two years which will describe the complete atlas collection, in sections, by country of origin.

A collection of rich antiquarian atlases dating from the sixteenth century offers a rare and justifiable opportunity to extend and enjoy the fine art of cataloguing to its furthest analytical and descriptive limits. To engage in such a task is to become fully aware of the infinite patience and craft inherent in the first great reference works available to man; not least, the cataloguer is in the privileged position of leisurely absorbing the superb artistry that almost invariably accompanied the early atlas maker's approach to revealing terrae incognitae.

It may be that in any collection of early atlases there is an unique work, significant, but unknown in the recorded history of cartography. More likely there will be atlases of which only a few remaining copies are known to exist, and these in widely scattered repositories throughout the world, unavailable to most bibliographers. There will be many instances where a particular copy will be a variant to a known edition. In fact, most copies of an early atlas are unique in some detail of presentation. In any case such works are bound to be marks of international distinction in any cartographical collection. Therefore, it behooves the cataloguer to search out every detail, signature by signature, in order to give full identity and character to every item categorized as a rare atlas. Only by so doing will he be of real assistance to his counterparts in other institutions in creating an adequate basis for comparative and analytical studies in the history of atlas making. Such studies constitute an essential, and probably one of the most scientific approaches to the study of cartography generally.

Only during the last three years has the National Map Collection been able to give proper focus to its rare atlas collection. Mr. Lou Seboek, was given carte blanche to work on the collection, virtually undisturbed, devising his own methods and procedures of analysing, comparing, and describing. The results he has achieved will surely demonstrate the perceptiveness and enthusiasm with which he has carried out his task. Always of course beside him were those canonical reference works of the Library of Congress, by the now famous chroniclers of atlases-Philip Lee Phillips and Clara Egli LeGear. Recently there has been added the magnificent five volume Atlantes Neerlandici by that indefatigable scholar of Utrecht, Dr. Ir. C. Koeman, which to date must be described as the nearest thing to a perfect model available to the bibliographer of atlases. I am bound to say that our scholar has found just enough minor errors in Koeman to keep him happy.

No work of this kind, no matter its standard of excellence, can be produced without expectation of addenda, amenda, and other academia which are the manna of scholars and the delight of critics. Moreover the National Map Collection hopes to exert a little gentle compulsion upon other custodians of atlases in Canada to produce their works for examination in order that arrangements may be made to include all rare atlases held in Canada in a final volume prepared in both English and French.

It is for these reasons that the present work is appearing by sections in provisional form. It may prove, it is hoped, the most convenient way of inducing the co-operation of other institutions and scholars so necessary to a noteworthy Canadian contribution to international bibliography.

In my capacity as Keeper of the Maps in the National Map Collection, it has been my hope for many years that I would have the occasion and privilege of writing a foreword to a catalogue of our atlases. I acknowledge with gratitude the hours of patient toil and the skills which Mr. Seboek has brought to his task. The measure of the job he has done, and his own reward will be fully realized when full and complete entries for all the rare atlases held in Canada have reached their final form of publication.

PRÉFACE

Les quelque trois cents volumes d'atlas rares, se trouvant dans la Collection nationale de cartes et plans, sont aujourd'hui catalogués. Le présent fascicule est le premier d'une série de catalogues provisoires que nous avons l'intention de publier au cours des deux prochaines années dans le but de décrire l'ensemble de la collection d'atlas, par sections et par pays d'origine.

Être en présence d'une collection de riches atlas anciens, dont certains remontent au XVI^e siècle, offre des avantages exceptionnels. On peut alors, et avec raison, considérer le catalogage comme un art, et porter l'analyse et la description des atlas jusqu'au sommet du raffinement. Au fur et à mesure que l'on avance, on découvre quelle patience et quelle ingéniosité il a fallu pour donner à l'humanité ses premiers grands ouvrages de référence. On peut aussi se pénétrer à loisir du souci esthétique que manifestaient sans cesse ou presque les auteurs des premiers atlas lorsqu'ils révélaient à leurs contemporains les terrae incognitae. De par ses fonctions, le catalographe jouit de ces merveilleux privilèges.

Toute collection d'atlas anciens renferme sans doute une pièce unique, particulièrement révélatrice, dont l'histoire officielle de la cartographie ignore encore l'existence. Mais, le plus souvent, une collection contient des atlas dont il ne reste que quelques exemplaires, des exemplaires qui sont disséminés à travers le monde dans divers fonds et qui sont inaccessibles à la majorité des chercheurs et bibliographes. Il arrivera aussi, dans bien des cas, qu'un exemplaire ou l'autre ne soit qu'une variante d'une édition connue. Cependant, presque tous les exemplaires d'un atlas ancien sont précieux et, en un sens, uniques puisque dans chacun d'eux on peut relever des caractéristiques qui lui sont propres. Quoi qu'il en soit, la présence de tels ouvrages dans une collection confère à cette collection une notoriété internationale. Par conséquent, il incombe au catalographe de relever scrupuleusement le moindre détail, cahier par cahier, de sorte à bien identifier et décrire tout ouvrage considéré comme atlas rare. Ce n'est qu'à cette condition que le catalographe apportera à ses collègues des autres institutions une collaboration vraiment pertinente; il jettera ainsi des bases solides sur lesquelles pourront se fonder les études comparatives et analytiques portant sur l'histoire des atlas. Comme on le voit, ces travaux sont essentiels et constituent probablement l'une des méthodes les plus scientifiques pour aborder l'étude de la cartographie en général.

La Collection nationale de cartes et plans n'est en mesure de faire valoir vraiment sa collection d'atlas rares que depuis trois ans. On donna carte blanche à M. Lou Seboek, pour lui permettre de se consacrer exclusivement à la collection, le laissant libre d'élaborer ses propres méthodes et principes d'analyse, de comparaison et de description. Avec quelle intuition et quel enthousiasme il s'est acquitté de sa tâche! Les résultats qu'il a obtenus en témoignent d'une manière évidente. Bien sûr, il gardait toujours à la portée de la main ces livres magistraux que sont les ouvrages de référence de la Bibliothèque du Congrès; on se rappellera qu'ils ont été rédigés par les chroniqueurs d'atlas Philip Lee Phillips et Clara Egli LeGear, qui sont devenus célèbres depuis. A ces ouvrages sont venus s'ajouter les cinq magnifiques volumes de l' "Atlantes Neerlandici" du Docteur Ir. C. Koeman, cet infatigable érudit d'Utrecht; pour tout bibliographe, cet ouvrage représente aujourd'hui l'atlas par excellence. J'ajouterais, cependant, que notre savant a trouvé dans l'oeuvre du Docteur Koeman, de légères erreurs, et en nombre suffisant pour le reconforter.

Il faut admettre qu'aucun ouvrage de cette nature, quel que soit le degré de perfection atteint, n'échappe à ce qui est la pâture des savants et à ce qui fait les délices des critiques : les addenda, les amenda et autres academa. En ce sens, la Collection nationale de cartes et plans espère susciter chez les conservateurs d'atlas au Canada le désir de faire connaître les oeuvres qu'ils possèdent, et obtenir que ces oeuvres soient soumises à son examen; une telle attitude permettrait d'entreprendre des démarches en vue d'inclure éventuellement tous les atlas rares conservés au Canada dans un catalogue définitif, qui serait publié en versions anglaise et française.

Voilà pourquoi nous procédons d'abord, et par tranches, à une édition provisoire. Nous pensons que c'est là un moyen pratique d'amener d'autres institutions et savants à une coopération dont le Canada a bien besoin s'il veut remplir un rôle valable dans le domaine de la bibliographie internationale.

En ma qualité de conservateur des cartes et plans de la Collection nationale, j'attendais depuis de nombreuses années déjà, le privilège de préfacier un catalogue de nos atlas. J'exprime toute ma reconnaissance et mon admiration à M. Lou Seboek pour l'ardeur qu'il a su mettre à poursuivre son oeuvre, pour la compétence avec laquelle il l'a accomplie, pour les nombreuses heures qu'il a consacrées à son patient labeur. On appréciera pleinement la qualité et la portée de son travail, et cela sera sa juste récompense, lorsque tous les atlas rares conservés au Canada auront été inscrits dans l'édition définitive du catalogue.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I should like to express my appreciation to Mr. H.A. Taylor, Director, Historical Branch, Mr. T.E. Layng, Chief, National Map Collection, Miss J. Bourque, Chief, Archives Library, Mrs. A. McIntyre, Publications, all of the Public Archives of Canada for reading my manuscript and to Miss Lise Thérout and Mr. Robert Hayward for copying the titles of the maps. Also I should like to mention with gratitude the inspiration and assistance I have received from Dr. Ir. C. Koeman whose monumental work of five volumes, the "Atlantes Neerlandici", published at Amsterdam 1967-71, has provided all the basic reference for the present work.

I accept, naturally, full responsibility for whatever shortcomings and inaccuracies this work contains.

Lou Seboek

REMERCIEMENTS

Je désire exprimer ma reconnaissance à M. H. A. Taylor, directeur de la Direction des archives historiques, à M. T. E. Layng, chef de la Collection nationale des cartes et plans, à Mlle J. Bourque, chef de la bibliothèque des Archives, à Mme A. McIntyre de la Division des publications, tous attachés aux Archives publiques du Canada, pour avoir bien voulu lire mon manuscrit, et à Mlle Lise Thérout et M. Robert Hayward pour avoir transcrit les titres des cartes et plans. Enfin, je m'en voudrais de passer sous silence les conseils et l'aide que j'ai reçus de M. Ir. C. Koeman, dont l'ouvrage monumental en cinq volumes, l' "Atlantes Neerlandici", publié à Amsterdam de 1967 à 1971, a été la source de tous les renseignements fondamentaux du présent catalogue.

J'assume, il va sans dire, l'entière responsabilité des lacunes et erreurs qui ont pu se glisser par inadvertance dans mon ouvrage.

Lou Seboek

INTRODUCTION

As a general rule the term "atlas" is understood as a collection of maps and charts bound together. In this sense, atlas production in printed form began in Italy with the 1477 Bologna edition of Ptolemy's "Cosmographia" (2nd century A.D.) followed by the works of Lafreri (1512-1577), Duchetti (?-1585), Forlani (fl. 1562-1576) and the Bertellis (16th century). Soon the centre of atlas production shifted to Antwerp and later to Amsterdam.

Here in the Netherlands began to appear what we may call the first "regularly produced" atlases: collections of maps and charts of uniform size, collected and arranged systematically with or without accompanying texts. Thus Ortelius' (1527-1598) "Theatrum Orbis Terrarum" can be regarded as the world's first regularly produced atlas.

Abraham Ortels, better known under his latinized name Ortelius, was born in Antwerp. Apart from his travels in Germany, France, Italy and his exile in England because of religious persecution, he spent his entire life in this great cultural centre. Though Ortelius published some maps between 1564 and 1570 he was little known as a geographer before his "Theatrum Orbis Terrarum" appeared. This great work, when it was published in 1570, represented an important event in the development of cartography, went through many editions, influenced atlas makers for over a century and established his international reputation. The great success of the "Theatrum", which was subsequently translated into several languages, is attributed to the harmonic unity of text and maps and to the reduction of the best available maps to uniform size and format. Another unique feature of the atlas is the "Catalogus Auctorum", a list of geographers and cartographers whose maps Ortelius used or were known to him.

Realizing the growth of geographical knowledge, between 1573 and 1579 he issued on five occasions smaller collections of maps called "Additamenta" each consisting of 16 to 24 map sheets containing new information which were to replace the outdated or incorrect maps. These supplements were printed so that they could be interpolated into the original atlases. Between 1579 and 1624, eight editions of an atlas of ancient geography, the "Parergon", were added to the "Theatrum". From 1577 on, most of the maps of the folio atlas were reduced and generalized by Philip Galle, then later by the Arsenius brothers and were published in the form of a pocket atlas under such titles as "Epitome", "Spieghel der Werelt" and "Miroir du Monde".

Twenty-five years after Ortelius' great work a new collection of maps (another landmark in the history of cartography) was published which carried for the first time the word "atlas" in its title. Ironically its author, Gerard Mercator (Kremer was his real name which he later latinized), who coined the term "atlas", did not see it in print for he died the year before his work in final form was published under the title "Atlantis pars Altera...."

Mercator was born in 1512 at Ruppelmonde, Flanders and died on 2 December 1594 in Duisburg. After obtaining his "magisterii gradum" in 1532 from the University of Leuven he was engaged in the construction of mathematical instruments, in land surveying and in the construction and sale of globes. In contrast to his friend Ortelius he was recognized as a famous cartographer long before the publication of his atlas, and even today he is best known for his map projection of increasing latitudes which he used for his world map of 1569.

Similarly to the "Theatrum..." Mercator's atlas had seen many editions but in contrast to Ortelius, Mercator's maps in the "Atlas..." were original ones constructed, drawn and partly engraved by himself.

In 1604, ten years after his death, Mercator's plates were purchased by Jodocus Hondius the Elder (1563-1612), a renowned cartographer himself, who published the "Atlas..." with a re-edited text in 1606. At the same time Hondius reduced the original maps of Mercator and in co-operation with his son-in-law, Joannes Janssonius of Amsterdam, (1588-1650?) and Cornelis Claesz (fl. 1580-1609), published them (with some modifications and additions) under the title "Atlas Minor" in 1607. Because of its small size, which rendered the handling of the atlas easier and made it cheaper, it became an immediate success and went through many editions in subsequent years.

Joannes Janssonius of Amsterdam is best known for his "Atlas Novus" in six volumes. Shortly after he entered the partnership with the Hondius family, probably around 1630, Janssonius began to dominate the publishing firm and slowly replaced the imprint of Henricus Hondius with his own until his brother-in-law's name disappeared completely from the imprints after 1644.

But whatever may have been the merits of Mercator, Ortelius, Hondius and Janssonius, their works have been overshadowed by the monumental "Atlas Novus" of the Blaeu family, father and two sons. Although more than 300 years have gone by, its fame has not diminished. Such an eminent scholar as R.V. Tooley regards the achievements of the Blaeus as remarkable and then he adds that the "palm for supremacy in map production in any age must be awarded to the Blaeus". Koeman, the undisputed authority on Dutch atlases, writes, "the magnificent Atlas Major ... unsurpassed in history and in modern time ... gave eternal fame to the name of the Blaeus".

Willem Janszoon Blaeu (1571-1638) also called Guilielmus Janssonius (sometimes written with the latinized name Caesius), the founder of the printing house, published his first atlas, the "Atlantis Appendix ...", in 1630. From 1634 on the famous "Atlas Novus" began to appear which carried his name in its imprint for many years, even after his death. Joan (1596-1673), the older son, together with his brother Cornelis (ca. 1610-1645) carried on the business after 1638. From a cartographic point of view Joan is by far the more important. He not only finished the "Atlas Novus" but also produced the famous "Grand Atlas" or the "Cosmographia Blaviana" in twelve folio volumes. In addition to these, he was also the author of the town books of the Netherlands first published in 1649 and of the town books of Italy which appeared in 1663.

Like the Blaeu, Hondius and Janssonius families, the Visschers were a family of renowned map and atlas makers whose activity extended over three generations. The founder of the publishing house, Claes Jansz(oon) Visscher (1587-1652) or N.J. Piscator (his latinized name), is best known for his atlas "Belgium sive Germania inferior". His only son, Nicolaes Visscher I (1618-1679), brought out the "Atlas Contractus" while his son, the grandson of N.J. Piscator, Nicolaes Visscher II (1649-1702), published the "Atlas Minor", that was small but in name.

Frederick de Wit (1630-1706), one of the best known engravers of his time, was also engaged in publishing. Among his publications we find world and sea atlases and town books.

Just like the Visschers, the Dankerts were a great family of atlas makers and printers who for almost a century from ca.1633-1727 published atlases, wall maps and at least one town book. The town book in the National Map Collection (the only copy known) was compiled by Dancker Dankerts (1634-1666), the son of the founding father of the firm Cornelius Dankerts II (1603-1656).

At the beginning of the 19th century a giant cartographic work was published in Brussels, the "Atlas Universel", a world atlas containing 400 maps, whose author Philippe Vander Maelen (1795-1869) completed the enormous work in three years. His work was well received all over the world and brought many honours to Vander Maelen. Unfortunately, both the fame of his atlas and the "Etablissement Géographique", a unique cartographic institute of private enterprise founded and financed by the author, were short-lived.

Although marine charts, rutters (sailing direction), sea atlases and pilot books have a long history and although their production was not confined exclusively to the Netherlands, the Dutch marine hydrographers, especially W.J. Blaeu and his successors, J.A. Colom, H. Doncker, P. Goos, the Jacobsz family, J. Janssonius, J. Van Keulen and L.J. Waghenaeer, played an important role in their publication during the 16th to the 18th centuries. Johannes Van Keulen (1654-1715) was one of the sea atlas publishers whose success and fame rested on his own cartographic ability and on fortunate circumstances. In 1693 he acquired the entire stock-in-trade of another famous chart publisher, Hendrik Doncker (1626-1699), he was able to secure the employment of a gifted mathematician, Claes J. Vooght (died in 1696), who made the calculations for the charts, and he had the co-operation of his son, Gerard, a very talented engraver, who had a good knowledge of mathematics and the science of navigation.

INTRODUCTION

En règle générale, le terme atlas s'entend d'un recueil de cartes et de plans reliés ensemble. Dans cette acception, on peut dire que la production des atlas imprimés commença en Italie avec l'édition de Bologne de 1477 de la "Cosmographie" de Ptolémée (II^e s. apr. J.-C.), suivie des travaux de Lafreri (1512-1577), Duchetti (?-1585), Forlani (fl. 1562-1576) et des Bertellis (XVI^e s.). Mais le centre de production des atlas ne tarda pas à passer à Anvers, puis à Amsterdam.

C'est au Pays-Bas qu'on vit apparaître ce qu'on peut appeler le premier atlas "fait dans les règles": c'est-à-dire, un recueil de cartes et de plans de format uniforme, assemblés et présentés systématiquement avec ou sans texte d'accompagnement. C'est donc de ce point de vue que le "Theatrum Orbis Terrarum" d'Ortelius (1527-1598) peut être considéré comme le premier véritable atlas.

Abraham Ortels, mieux connu sous son nom latin d'Ortelius, est né à Anvers. A part ses voyages en Allemagne, en France et en Italie, et son exil en Angleterre par suite de persécutions religieuses, il passa toute sa vie dans ce grand centre culturel qu'était Anvers. Ortelius avait déjà publié quelques cartes géographiques entre 1564 et 1570, mais il était peu connu comme géographe avant la parution de son "Theatrum Orbis Terrarum". La publication, en 1570, de cette oeuvre magnifique, rééditée plusieurs fois, fut une étape importante du développement de la cartographie. Elle exerça une grande influence sur les cartographes pendant plus d'un siècle et établit la réputation de son auteur sur le plan international. L'immense succès du "Theatrum", qui fut traduit en plusieurs langues, est attribué à l'harmonie qui existe entre le texte et les cartes, et au fait qu'il comporte les meilleures cartes qui existaient à l'époque toutes réduites à un format uniforme. Le "Catalogus Auctorum", répertoire des géographes et cartographes qui avaient dressé les cartes dont il s'est servi, ou qu'il connaissait, est une autre caractéristique originale de cet atlas.

Constatant l'envergure que prenaient les connaissances géographiques, Ortelius publia, entre 1573 et 1579, cinq recueils de cartes géographiques de format plus petit, qu'il nomma "Additamenta". Chacun comprenait de 16 à 24 feuilles de cartes portant de nouveaux renseignements, destinées à remplacer les cartes désuètes ou erronées. Ces suppléments étaient imprimés de façon à s'insérer facilement dans l'atlas original. Entre 1579 et 1624, il ajouta à son "Theatrum" huit éditions d'un ancien recueil de géographie, le "Parergon". A partir de 1577, la plupart des cartes de l'atlas in-folio furent réduites et réunies par Philip Galle, puis par les frères Arsenius, et publiées en format de poche sous les titres généraux d' "Epitome", "Spieghel der Werelt", et "Miroir du Monde".

Vingt-cinq ans après la parution du grand ouvrage d'Ortelius, un autre jalon marqua l'histoire de la cartographie: la publication d'un nouveau recueil où le terme atlas figurait pour la première fois dans le titre. Ironie du sort, son auteur, Gerard Mercator (Kremer était son véritable nom, qu'il avait latinisé), le premier à employer le mot atlas dans ce sens, n'a jamais pu le voir imprimé sur un ouvrage car il est mort un an avant la publication de son oeuvre dans sa forme définitive, sous le titre d' "Atlantis pars Altera...."

Mercator est né en 1512 à Rupelmonde, en Flandre, et est mort le 2 décembre 1594, à Duisburg. Après avoir obtenu un magisterii gradum à l'université de Louvain, en 1532, il travailla à la production d'instruments mathématiques, à l'arpentage, et à la construction et à la vente de globes terrestres. A l'encontre de son ami Ortelius, sa réputation de géographe était établie depuis longtemps quand parut son atlas, et même de nos jours, on le reconnaît plus comme l'auteur du système de projection qu'il utilisa pour dresser sa carte du monde de 1569.

Tout comme le "Theatrum...", l'atlas de Mercator a été réédité plusieurs fois, mais contrairement à Ortelius, Mercator n'avait mis dans son "Atlas ..." que des cartes originales qu'il avait lui-même dressées, dessinées et partiellement gravées.

En 1604, dix ans après la mort de Mercator, ses planches furent achetées par Jodocus Hondius l'Ancien (1563-1612), autre cartographe de renom, qui, en 1606, publia l' "Atlas ..." avec un texte revu et corrigé. Hondius réduisit aussi les cartes originales de Mercator et, en collaboration avec son gendre, Joannes Janssonius d'Amsterdam (1588-1650?), et Cornelis Claesz (fl. 1580-1609), il les publia en 1607, avec quelques modifications et additions, sous le titre d' "Atlas Minor". A cause de son petit format, qui le rendait plus maniable et moins cher, l'atlas eut un véritable succès et fut réédité plusieurs fois au cours des années qui suivirent.

Joannes Janssonius d'Amsterdam est connu surtout comme l'auteur de l' "Atlas Novus" en six volumes. Peu de temps après s'être associé à la famille Hondius, probablement vers 1630, Janssonius ne tarda pas à dominer l'imprimerie et à mettre petit à petit son nom à la place de celui d'Henricus Hondius dans l'adresse bibliographique, pour arriver finalement en 1644 à y faire disparaître jusqu'au nom de son beau-frère.

Mais quels qu'aient été les mérites de Mercator, d'Ortelius, d'Hondius et de Janssonius, leurs ouvrages ont été éclipsés par le monumental "Atlas Novus" de la famille Blaeu, père et fils. Même après trois cents ans, cet ouvrage n'a rien perdu de sa renommée. Un savant comme R. V. Tooley considère qu'en matière de cartographie, et pour toutes les époques, la palme revient sans contredit à la famille Blaeu. Koeman, le plus grand spécialiste des atlas hollandais, écrit: "le magnifique 'Atlas Major...' insurpassable dans le passé et dans les temps modernes... conféra une renommée éternelle à la famille Blaeu".

Willem Janszoon Blaeu (1571-1638), connu aussi sous le nom de Guilielmus Janssonius (accompagné parfois du nom latin Gaesius), fondateur de l'imprimerie Blaeu, publia son premier atlas, intitulé "Atlantis Appendix ...", en 1630. Il commença en 1634 la publication de son célèbre "Atlas Novus", et son nom figura sur la page-titre pendant de nombreuses années, même après sa mort. Ses deux fils, Joan (1596-1673), l'aîné, et Cornelis (v. 1610-1645) continuèrent l'entreprise après 1638. Joan est sans contredit le plus important des deux en ce qui concerne la cartographie. Il a non seulement terminé l' "Atlas Novus" mais a aussi dressé le célèbre "Grand Atlas", ou "Cosmographia Blaviana", en douze volumes in-folio. Il est, en plus, l'auteur des recueils de plans des villes (town book) des Pays-Bas, dont la première publication remonte à 1649, et des recueils de plans des villes de l'Italie, qui furent publiés en 1663.

Tout comme les familles Blaeu, Hondius et Janssonius, les Visschers étaient une famille de cartographes et d'auteurs d'atlas célèbres dont l'activité s'est poursuivie pendant trois générations. Le fondateur de l'imprimerie, Claes Jansz(oon) Visscher (1587-1652) ou (en latin) N.J. Piscator est surtout connu pour son atlas "Belgium sive Germania inferior". Son fils unique, Nicolaes Visscher I (1618-1679), publia l' "Atlas Contractus", et son petit-fils, Nicolaes Visscher II (1649-1702), publia l' "Atlas Minor", mineur de nom seulement.

Frederick de Wit (1630-1706), un des meilleurs graveurs de son époque, publiait aussi des tableaux des mers mondiales et des recueils de plans de villes.

Comme les Visschers, les Dankerts étaient, eux aussi, une famille célèbre de cartographes et d'imprimeurs qui, pendant près d'un siècle, de 1633 environ à 1727, publièrent des atlas, des cartes murales et au moins un recueil de plans de villes. Le recueil de plans de villes qui se trouve dans la Collection nationale des cartes et plans - le seul exemplaire connu - a été dressé par Dancker Dankerts (1634-1666), le fils de Cornelius Dankerts II (1603-1656), fondateur de l'entreprise.

Au début du XIX^e siècle, un gigantesque ouvrage cartographique paraissait à Bruxelles, l' "Atlas Universel". L'auteur, Philippe Vander Maelen (1795-1869) mit trois ans à terminer cet énorme atlas mondial comportant 400 cartes. Son ouvrage reçut un accueil favorable partout dans le monde et le rendit célèbre. Malheureusement, le succès de l'atlas et l'existence de l' "Etablissement Géographique", institut cartographique privé, unique en son genre, que l'auteur avait fondé et financé, furent tous deux éphémères.

La confection des cartes marines, des portulans, des tableaux des mers mondiales et des cartes de navigation était déjà une tradition très ancienne et n'était pas exclusive aux Pays-Bas, mais les hydrographes marins hollandais, en particulier W.J. Blaeu et ses successeurs, J. A. Colom, H. Doncker, P. Goos, la famille Jacobsz, J. Janssonius, J. Von Keulen et L. J. Waghenauer, jouèrent un rôle très important dans la publication de ces documents du XVI^e au XVIII^e siècles. Johannes Van Keulen (1654-1715) fut un éditeur de tableaux des mers mondiales dont le succès et la renommée reposaient sur ses propres aptitudes cartographiques et une heureuse conjoncture. En 1613, il achetait tout le fonds de commerce d'un autre célèbre éditeur cartographique, Hendrik Doncker (1626-1699), et avait la bonne fortune de s'assurer les services d'un mathématicien doué, Claes Vooght (mort en 1696), qui fit tous les calculs pour les tableaux, et la collaboration de son fils, Gerard, graveur de grand talent, qui connaissait bien les mathématiques et les sciences de la navigation.

COLLATION

52 x 35.5 cm., 572 p., including 120 maps. Signatures: a, a2, , 2, , 2, *. A-Y; Aa-Cc; A-Z; Aaa-Zzz; Aaaa-Dddd; A-Z; Aa-Zz. Foliation numbers: 1-28; 1-78, and 1-47.

CONTENTS

- Allegoric title-page as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- "Av Lectevr, Salut." Preface, dated the first of May 1642, signed I. Blaeu. 4 p.
- "Introdvction A La Cosmographie." 10 p.
- 296 p. of text, including the 2 indexes, 120 maps (239 p.), 20 blank pages and the allegoric title-page as above. 556 p.

NOTES

All maps are coloured and printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages in most cases. One map, "Zvtphania Comitatus", occupies half a page only. Only three maps, nos. 12(1614), 16(1613) and 30(1628), are dated. Both indexes are identical with the atlas. The typographic title of the second part is printed on two slips of paper and pasted in the proper space on the allegoric title page. Six maps, nos. 5, 11, 82, 87, 110 and 114 have blank and/or unfinished cartouches and/or shields. There are some errors in the foliation numbers. In the first sequence the number 25 has been repeated. In the second sequence one leaf has a double number: 8-9. In the third sequence foliation number 5 has been left out and the number 47 repeated.

Comparison. Koeman, B1 19E. N.M.C. title is identical with Koeman but N.M.C. has 84 + 36 maps in contrast to Koeman who has 84 + 35 maps only. It is impossible to trace the one additional map in N.M.C. atlas because Koeman does not list the titles of the maps. The two copies seem to be identical except for the following:

- a.) In Koeman's copy map no. 15 "Taurica Chersonesus" is the same as that in the 1647 edition with French text [B1 19 C]; in N.M.C. atlas map no. 15 was taken from the 1635 edition with German text [B1 6].
- b.) In Koeman's copy map no. 19 "Prussiae Nova Tabula" is the same as that in the 1630 edition of the "Atlantis Appendix" [B1 1]; in N.M.C. atlas map no. 19 "Prussia accurate ..." was borrowed from the 1635 edition with Dutch text [B1 9].
- c.) In Koeman's copy map no. 50 "Silesia Inferior ..." is identical with the map in the [1640?] edition of the "Appendice" [B1 15]; in N.M.C. copy map no. 50 "Silesia Inferior, Sereniss. ac Celsiss ..." was taken from the 1642 edition with Dutch text [B1 26A].

COLLATION

52 x 36.5 cm., 428 p., including 91 maps. Signatures: A-Z; Aa-Zz; Aaa-Lll; A-Q; A-V. Foliation numbers: 1-62; 1-17; 1-16; 1-20.

- Illustrated title-page, as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- 239 p. of text, 91 double-page maps, 1 illustrated title-page of the second part and 4 blank pages. 426 p.

NOTES

All maps are coloured and printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages in most cases. Only three maps, 43(1627), 67(1634) and 71(1629), are dated. The typographic titles and the imprints are printed on a slip of paper and pasted in the proper space on the illustrated title-pages. Across the top of the first illustrated title-page is printed, "Dvo Protegit Vnvs" and across the top of the second one, "Non Vnvs Sufficit Orbis". Maps 2, 8, 21, 41,

53 and 86 have blank and/or unfinished cartouches and/or shields. The text, "China Veteribus" and the text "Le Royaume de Navarre" and the map "Aragonia et Navarra" are missing from the atlas. Errors in signatures. In the 4th sequence K is between M and N; in the fifth sequence E2 has been inserted incorrectly and F and G left out. Errors in foliation numbers. In the second sequence the foliation numbers run as 10, 12, 13, 11 and 14. In the second sequence foliation number 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ is inserted after the number 5 and numbers 6 and 7 have been left out completely.

Comparison. Koeman, B1 18E. N.M.C. title is identical with Koeman but N.M.C. has 48 + 44 maps in contrast to Koeman who has 48 + 43 maps only. It is impossible to trace the one additional map in N.M.C. copy because Koeman does not list the titles. Koeman's map "Novus Brasiliae typus." was taken from the 1630 edition of the "Atlantis Appendix" [B1 1]; the map in N.M.C. copy "Brasilia" is that of the 1642 edition with Dutch text [B1 28].

CONTENTS

- "Premier Indice & Ordre ..." pasted on the verso of a blank page. 2 p.
- Title-page, without title; verso blank. 2 p.
- Text, maps, blank pages + 1 large map + title page. 422 p.
- "Seconde Indice & Ordre ..." verso blank. 2 p.

NOTES

All maps are black and white and are printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages except the map of "Lemovicvm ..." which has text on the first outer page while the second one is blank. There are many pages with text on which the old signatures have been erased and the new ones were added by hand. The maps with unfinished or blank cartouches are the same as in the coloured edition. Though the title-page of the first part is present, the title and the printer's imprint are missing in N.M.C. copy. These were taken from the 1645 edition with French text [B1 18 C].

Comparison. N.M.C. copy seems to be identical with Koeman's B1 18 C except for the map of "...Cambray" which is still without dedication as in the 1640 edition with French text.

VOLUME THREE

A Amsterdam, Chez Iean Blaeu. C1D1DCL

COLLATION

51.7 x 30 cm., 366 p., including 62 maps. Signatures: A-Z; Aa-Zz; Aaa-Zzz; Aaaa-Vvvv; A-H. Foliation numbers: 1-115 and 1-10.

- Allegoric title-page in colour, as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- 236 p. of text, 117 p. of maps and 9 blank pages. 362 p.
- Index; verso blank.

NOTES

All maps are coloured. Numbers 9, 44 and 57 are half-page maps, and no. 21 occupies a single page; the rest are printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages in most cases. None are dated. The typographic title is printed on a slip of paper and pasted in the proper space on the allegoric title-page. The maps of "Grande Bretagne & Irlande", "Angleterre", "Escosse" and "Irlande" are listed in the index but are missing from the atlas. Maps 3, 14, 23, 33, 35, 51 and 62 have blank and/or unfinished cartouches and/or shields. There are some irregularities in foliation numbers. In the first sequence the number 42 has been left out, 46 should be 66, and 27 should be 72. Comparison. Koeman, Bl 35H. The two copies seem to be very similar.

C L'Angleterre

(60) Anglia Regnum

5E Le Royavme D'Irlande

(61) Hibernia Regnum Vulgo Ireland.

This supplement is the same, including pagination and signatures, as that in the 1640 edition with French text [B1 35D]. The text "Le Royaume D'Escosse" and the map "Scotia Regnum" are missing and on the text "L'Angleterre ..." the original signature has been erased and was changed to C by hand.

VOLUME FOUR

[Illustrated title-page in colour] *Le Theatre Dv Monde, ou
Novvel Atlas, Mis en lumiere par Gvillavme & Iean Blaeu.
Quatrieme Partie.*

Amsterdami, Apud Iohannem Blaeu. CIIDCXLVIII

COLLATION

51.7 x 36 cm., 508 p., including 58 maps. Signatures: A-Nnnnnn.
 Pagination numbers: 1-380.

- Illustrated title-page as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- Dedication to princess Henriette-Marie, the queen of Great Britain, by Iean Blaeu; verso blank. 2 p.
- "Iehan Blaeu Av Lector." Dated, October 1, 1645. 1 p.
- "Gvillavme Cambden Av Lector." 4 p.
- "La Grande Bretagne." A poem. 1 p.
- 373 p. of text, 58 maps and 8 blank pages. 496 p.
- "Indice des Cartes ..."; verso blank. 2 p.

NOTES

All maps are coloured. Map no. 56 occupies the verso of a leaf with text on recto; the rest of the maps are printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages, except nos. 1, 3, 23 and 36 whose outer pages are blank. There are also 3 half-page coloured prints in the atlas. In the upper centre of the illustrated title-page the inscript reads, "Honi Soit Qvi Mal Y Pense". The typographic title is printed on a slip of paper and pasted in the proper space on the illustrated title-page. The index is identical with the atlas. Maps 4-9, 12, 15, 17b, 20-35, 37, 42, 46, 48-50, 52, 53, 55 and 57 have blank and/or unfinished cartouches and/or shields. Errors in signatures. T3 should be T2 and S2 should be Ss2. Errors in pagination. Page number 50 is followed by 61, 79 by 70, 75 by 86, 92 by 87, 87 by 94, 116 by 111, 163 and 164 are repeated; the second 164 is followed by 166; 107 should be 207; 250 is followed by 245, 246 by 153, 156 by 257, 167 by 264, 279 by 268, 284 by 291, and 371 by 373.

Comparison. Koeman, Bl 42C. The title-page and the number of maps are identical with N.M.C. copy. It seems that in Koeman's copy the map "Wallia Principatvs Vulgo Wales" is without dedication in contrast to the map in N.M.C. atlas which is dedicated to "Carolo Magnae Britanniae Principi".

ANOTHER COPY

This copy is very difficult to identify, because of the absence of a title-page and its peculiar internal structure. Though in many respects similar to the copy above, it shows many differences.

- a.) The text has been reset, and the text "La Principavté De Trente" was rewritten completely and is longer than in the coloured edition.
- b.) The index of "Grande Bretagne" lists the maps in this supplement without the pagination numbers.
- c.) Map no. 15 "Mantva Dvcatvs" was borrowed from the 1631 edition of the "Appendix Theatre ..." with Latin text [Bl. 3]. The accompanying text has the title "Le Dvché De Mantove" and carries the manuscript signature Y; the original signature R(?) has been erased almost completely.
- d.) "Territorio Padovano" is without dedication and was taken from the 1640 edition with Latin text [Bl 36A].
- e.) "Territorio Di Trento" is without the decorative figures and was taken either from the 1635 edition of the "Novus Atlas" with German text [Bl 5] or (less probably) from the 1631 edition of the "Appendix Theatri" with Latin text.
- f.) On the text "Le Doché De Mantve" (in the coloured ed.: "Doché de Mantove") the original signature has been erased and corrected by hand to Y. The map "Mantva Dvcatvs" is the same as that in the 1630 edition of the "Atlantis Appentix ..." with Latin text (Bl. 1).

Although the index indicates the four maps of the supplement entitled "Grande Bretagne" these are not in this atlas.

VOLUME FIVE

Amsteledaemi Apud Ioannem Blaeu MDCLIV.

COLLATION

51.7 x 36 cm., 366 p., including 55 maps. Signatures: *, , , A-Z; Aa-Zz; Aaa-Zzz; Aaaa; A-T. Pagination numbers: 1-181 and 1-58.

- Allegoric title-page, as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- "Preface De Jean Blaeu Aux Lecteurs." 5 p.
- "A Monseigneur Jean Scot, Baron De Scottis-Tarvet ..." dated Jan. 24, 1648 and signed by I[acobus] G[ordonius]. 2 p.
- "Privilegium Caesareum." Privilege, dated August 11, 1654 and signed by Joannes Walderode. 2 p.
- "Privilegie." Dated, June 10, 1654 and signed by B. Van Gent Vt. [for Hollandt en West-Vrieslandt] and signed by Herb. t. van Beaumont. 1 p.
- 219 p. of text, 55 maps (109 p.) and 24 blank pages. 352 p.
- "Indice & Ordre Des Cartes ..."; verso blank. 2 p.

NOTES

All maps are coloured and printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages except nos. 6, 9, 10, 13, 15, 16, 18-23, 34, 44 and 45 which have one blank outer page. Map no. 53 occupies the recto of one page. The index is identical with the atlas. The typographic title is printed on a slip of paper and pasted in its proper place on the title-page. "Est Nobilis Ira Leonis" is printed on the middle of the title-page, while the top centre part carries the inscript, "In defence". Robert Gordon is the author of the "Remarques Svr L'Antiqvite Des Escossois ...", "Dissertation Touchant l'Isle de Thule" and "Remarques Sur La Carte de l'Ancienne Escosse", while the "Briefve Description Du Royaume D'Escosse" is taken from George Buchanan. Maps 25, 27, 37-38 have blank/or unfinished cartouches and/or shields. Errors in signatures. In the second sequence the second Xx should be Yy; after Zzz of the third sequence Aaaa is interpolated. Errors in pagination numbers. In the first sequence the first 34 should be 32 and 35 should be 33. Comparison. Koeman, B1 50. The two copies seem to be identical.

- "Privilegium Caesareum". Privilege, dated January 7, 1655 and signed by Joannes Walderode, followed by "Svmma Privilegii" dated March 20, 1655. 3 p.
- 292 p. of text, 34 p. of maps and 34 blank pages. 360 p.

NOTES

All maps are undated, coloured and printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with blank outer pages. Each map bears the privilege "Cum privilegio Sacrae Caesareae Majestatis & Ordinum Belgicae Foederatae". On the allegoric title-page an open door is shown bearing the inscript, "Novus Atlas Sinensis, A Martino Martinio Soc. Iesu Descripto Et Serenissimo Archidvci Leopoldo Gvilielmo Avstriaco Dedicatus. Cum privilegio S.C. Maj. et Ordd. Foed. Belg." Above the person holding the door is another inscript, "Clausa Recludo". On the page on which the "Svmma Privilegii" is printed, W. Ripperda's signature is pasted over with a slip of paper which bears the following signatures and dates: "...XX Martii W. Ripperda V.t.", "...XI Maji J. Cats vt.", "...J. Spronssen", and "Herb. t. van Beaumont". Errors in pagination. The number 125 should be 225 and 128 should be 228.

Comparison. Koeman, Bl 54. The two copies are very similar with the following exceptions: a.) N.M.C., [Title-page] "Le Theatre Du Monde, ou Nouvel Atlas, Mis en lumiere par Jean Blaeu. Sixiesme Partie." Koeman, [Title-page] "(Le Theatre du Monde, ou Nouvel Atlas de Iean Blaeu. Sixiesme Partie. Amstelaedami Apud Ioannem Blaeu. MDCLV.)" b.) N.M.C. copy, the "Privilegium Caesarium" occupies 3 pages while in Koeman only 2. c.) In contrast to Koeman, N.M.C. copy contains the "Addition Dv Royavme De Cotay Par Jacques Gool Av Lector".

NOTES

All maps are black and white and printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with blank outer pages. Three maps, nos. 37(1617), 39(1617) and 50(1645), are dated. There is an indication on map no. 39 that the date was changed. Map no. 21 bears plate number 26. The manuscript title-page, with the printed vignette, has been inserted later. Map no. 35, "Praelium Navale Inter Belgas Et Suecos. Ao. 1658", was published in the name of C.J. Visscher who died in 1652. This contradiction is explained by Maria Simon who, quoting F. Muller, writes that "this plate was probably used earlier for a different scene".

Comparison. Koeman, Dan 6. He notes: "Of his town-book, only one copy is known and that is in the Dominion Archives, Ottawa".

COLLATION

1 v., 54 x 34.5 cm., 532 p., including 104 maps. Signatures run very irregularly from A to Rrr. Pagination numbers are few and erratic.

- Illustrated title-page, as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- 313 p. of text, 104 maps (207 p.), title-page of the second part (after Bbbb), 8 blank pages. 528 p.
- "Index Seu Ordo Tabularum Tertii Tomi." 2 p.

NOTES

The black and white maps are printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with text on their outer pages, except no. 40, where both outer pages are blank, and nos. 20, 24, 45, and 52, where only the last outer page is blank. Map no. 26 occupies only half a page with the text below. All maps are undated. On verso of Ggg2, the kings of Sicily are listed. Although the title-page is present in N.M.C. copy, the proper place for the title itself is left blank. The title was taken from Koeman. The title of the second part is printed on a slip of paper and pasted in its proper place. The index is identical with the atlas.

Comparison. Koeman, Me 59. N.M.C. copy is without date in contrast to Koeman where both title-pages are dated 1647. The following are the main differences:

Map no. 1. N.M.C. is undated. K. is dated 1641. On N.M.C. map the imprint of Hondius is imperfectly erased.

Map no. 14. N.M.C. is undated. K. There is an indication that the map carries the date 1644.

CONTENTS

- 20 large maps.

NOTES

Because of the absence of a title-page and printed index, the small number of maps and the lack of text, the identification of the atlas is very difficult. It is either a collection of charts not listed by Koeman in the "Various Collections Of Chartes Assembled into atlas", or it is one of the original atlases of van Keulen with many missing maps.

- "Nascentes morimur finisque ab origine pendet." Allegoric print, black and white representing the three fates. 1 p.
- 508 p. of text, 152 maps and 7 blank pages. 667 p.

NOTES

All maps are black and white, are undated and bear texts on their backs except nos. 21, 33, 39, 124, 125, 127 and 152 whose backs are blank. The alphabetical index is identical with the atlas, except the seven maps of the "Veteris Geographiae ..." which are not listed in the index. There are also three partial indexes in the atlas, "Index Tabvlarvm Galliae" (Bb iij), "Index Tabvlarvm Belgii Inferioris" (Nn iv) and "Catalogvs Tabvlarvm Germaniae" (Vvij). All these indexes are identical with the corresponding parts of the atlas. On verso of leaf Bbb iij bearing an indication of map no. 81, "Waldek Comit", the name of the Iodocus Moers a Corbach is mentioned as author and publisher. In the introduction to "Veteris Geographiae ..." (Mmmm), Hondius mentions that the six maps of this section of the atlas were added by himself. N.M.C. copy has seven maps.

Comparison. 1.) Koeman, Me 186. The two copies are very similar except that "Lyonnois Forest et Beaujolois" and "Rugia" listed by Koeman as nos. 58 and 95 respectively are not in N.M.C. copy. On the other hand, N.M.C. no. 39, "Varduloru sive Guipuscoae Regionis Typus", and no. 152, "Aeneae Troiani Navigatio", are not listed in Koeman. 2.) Phillips, 423. Preliminaries and the number of maps are the same as in N.M.C. copy. However, because of incomplete listing, further comparison is not possible.

- 508 p. of text and 145 maps. 653 p.

NOTES

The maps are black and white and bear texts on their backs. The titles of the maps are engraved titles; at the top of each map is another printed title in connection with the text. The three partial indexes are identical with the corresponding parts of the atlas. On verso of leaf B3 iij, bearing an indication of map no. 78, "Waldek", the name of Iodocus Moers a Corbach is mentioned as author and publisher. In the introduction to "Quelques Tables De La Vieille Geografie ...", Hondius mentions that the six maps of this section were added to the atlas by himself. On verso of the map, "Alexandri Magni Expeditio", there are 69 lines of the "Profectio Aeneae Ex Virgilio,..." In contrast to the Latin edition the allegoric title-page, the preface, "In usum Tabularum", the "Index Tabularum ..." and seven maps, nos. 21, 33, 39, 124, 125, 127 and 152 - maps with blank backs in the Latin edition - are not in the atlas. Otherwise, the plates bearing maps in the Latin edition were used without alterations including the Latin titles, in this edition too, with the exception of the following amended plates:

Title of the maps	Latin edition	French edition
"Brabantia"	Lake, in lower right, is without name.	The lake's name "Die Peel" is printed on the correct place.
"Zeelandia"	Without "S. Geertruyde berge" in the N.E. part of the inlet.	The name is printed on the map.
"Austria archiduc."	Without the name of Goding, in upper right corner.	With "Goding."
"Stiria"	In the lower right corner "Copranitz" appears instead of Toplouen.	Mistake is corrected.

Title of the maps	Latin edition	French edition
"Bohemia"	"Voylandie Pars" in upper left. Name of Tirnow" is missing near the right border.	Corrected to "Voytl-andie Pars." Mistake has been corrected.
"China"	"Siano" in upper left corner.	Corrected to "Sinao."

Comparison. Koeman, Me 187. Because of the absence of preliminaries in N.M.C. copy, comparison is restricted to the maps which are the same in both copies except that no. 146 "Aeneae Navigatio", is not in N.M.C. copy. There is an indication in Koeman, that his nos. 101, 103 and 127 have engraved French titles. Koeman's 121 bears the title "Marocci Regnum" in contrast to the map in N.M.C. copy whose title is "Fessae Regnum". The title of the atlas in Koeman is given as "Atlas Minor de Guerard Mercator Traduict de Latin en François par le Sieur de la Popelinierre Gentilhomme François Anno 1608. Amsterodami Excusum in aedibus Iudoci Hondij. veneunt etiam apud Ioannem Janssoniu Arnhemii".

NOTES ON VOLUME ONE

All maps are black and white and undated with the following exceptions: 1(1630), 2(1631), 5(1631), 12(1632), 30(1627), 35(1631), 49(1610), 59(1630), 60(1632), 68(1627) and 69(1630). Both the index and the order of sheets are identical with the atlas. "The Preface To The Reader" was written by Hexham alone. Errors in signatures. The following sheets with irregular signatures were either interpolated after the atlas was in type or not allowed for in assigning work to different composers: Y2, Z Ff2, 4A2. Nevertheless they are listed in the "Order of sheads." Errors in pagination. The numbers 65 and 66 have been repeated; 85 and 86 should be 67 and 68; 57 and 76 are interpolated between 78 and 79; 163 and 164 have been repeated. Comparison. 1.) Facsimile atlas (T.O.T. Series 4, vol. I.) is very similar to N.M.C. copy. The main differences are : a.) In contrast to the T.O.T. copy whose illustrated title-page of vol. I reads, "Gerardi Mercatoris Et I. Hondii. Atlas Or A Geographicke description of the Regions, Countries and Kingdomes of the world, through Europe, Asia, Africa and America, represented by new & exact Maps. Translated by Henry Hexham, Quarter-maister to the Regiment of Colonell Goring. Printed at Amsterdam, By Henry Hondius, And Iohn Iohnson. Anno 1636", N.M.C. copy has no illustrated title-page only a typographic half-title. b.) The following maps have been differently inserted or have different titles: on verso of p. 169, "Palatinatus Bavariae" (N.M.C.), "Bavariae ... nova descriptio" (T.O.T.); on verso of p. 187, "Bavariae ... nova descriptio" (N.M.C.), "Palatinatus Bavariae" (T.O.T.). 2.) Koeman, Me 41A. This copy has the same illustrated title-page as T.O.T. above.

CONTENTS OF VOLUME TWO

- 115 maps (230 p.), 261 p. of text and one blank page. 492 p.
- "A Register...." Table of contents. 2 p.
- "The order of the sheads...." 2 p.

NOTES ON VOLUME TWO

All maps are black and white and undated except the following:
 1(1631), 2(1629), 8(1629), 15(1629), 16(1629), 17(1629)
 18(1629), 23(1632), 24(1628), 28(1631), 33(1630), 35(1630),
 53(1627), 57(1631), 61(1606), 62(1606), 71(1631), 84(1631), 96(1631) and 101(1631). The folded sheets have either text on all four pages or text on the outer pages and maps on the inner openings. Both the index and the order of sheets are identical with volume II. Errors in signatures. The following sheets with irregular signatures were either interpolated after the atlas was in type or not allowed for in assigning work to different compositors: 5H2, 5R2, 5V2, 5V3, 6B2, 9L2. Nevertheless they are listed in the order of sheets. Errors in pagination. The numbers 227 and 228 are repeated twice; 245, 246, 251 and 252 are repeated; 383 should be 283; 384 should be 284; 427 and 428 are repeated; 396 should be 434; 441 and 442 are repeated.

Comparison. 1.) Facsimile atlas (T.O.T. Series 4, vol. II). On the verso of p. 353, "1606 Andalusiae Nova Descript. I. Hondius." In the upper left of the cartouche, Mercator makes a remark about the relationship of meridians and parallels (N.M.C.). "Andalusia continens Sevilam et Cordubam" is without the date and Mercator's remark. Also the cartouche has been changed (T.O.T.). On verso of p. 355, "Regni Valentiae Typus". The map is without compass rose (N.M.C.) "Valentia Regnum. Cotestani. Ptol. Edestani Plin." New cartouche and decorations; partly simplified lettering; with compass rose (T.O.T.). The T.O.T. copy has an illustrated title-page which reads, "Gerardi Mercatoris Atlas Or A Geographicke description, of the Regions, Countries and Kingdomes of the World, through Europe, Asia, Africa & America, represented by new and exact Maps. The second Volume. Translated by Henry Hexham. Quarter-master to the Regiment of Colonel Goring. Editio Vltima Sumptibus & typis aeneis Henrici Hondij. Amsterodami 1636". N.M.C. second volume has neither an illustrated title-page nor a half-title. 2.) Koeman, 41A. This copy has the same illustrated title-page as T.O.T. above.

NOTES

All maps are black and white and printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets. The first of the outer pages bears text, the second one is blank. No. 72, "Thvsciae descripto ...", and 73, "Pervsim Agri ...", are not listed in the index of the "Theatrum". The index of the Parergon, printed on its title-page, is identical with the atlas. Although according to the preface, almost all maps were engraved by Franciscus Hogenberg, only three maps, nos. 1, 36 and 48 bear his signature. Errors in pagination. The second 19 should be 27. There is an indication on map no. 18 that the date 1584, at least the last numeral, was changed. The imprint on map no. 42 has been changed. Again on map no. 45b the date 1584, at least the last numeral, was changed. On map no. 53 the original title, engraved in a semicircle, is imperfectly erased and reengraved in horizontal setting. On map no. 87 the date 1584, at least the last numeral, was changed. On map no. 93 the date 1584, at least the last numeral, was changed. Comparison. Koeman, Ort. 21. The colophon in N.M.C. copy includes the place of publication too.

NOTES

All maps are coloured, printed on recto of leaves with text on verso. The titles of the maps are engraved titles; at the top of each map is another printed title in connection with the text. Only one map, 49 (1561), is dated. The preface is that of the second edition although the title states that this is the third edition with French text. Four maps, nos. 8, 14, 65 and 89 are missing from N.M.C. copy.

Comparison. This copy seems to be identical with Phillips'

- Title-page, as above, verso blank.	2 p.
- Index map with blank outer pages.	4 p.
- 77 maps (154 p.) and 154 blank pages.	308 p.

NOTES

Almost all of the maps are coloured, printed on the inner opening of the folded sheets and have an average size of 43 x 51 cm. The index is identical with the atlas. Map nos. 42, 43, 45, 48, 50, and 51 are dated 1825. Nos. 4, 11, 19, 20, 30, 47, 57 bis and 74 bear text called "Note..." whose editor is indicated as A. Delavault. The text on map no. 60 was written by A. van Humboldt. Statistical tables are found on map nos. 29, 61, and 76. Seven maps (nos. 8, 12, 14, 46, 52, 69 and 70) bear coloured cross sections. All those maps that were engraved by Vandermaelen himself, show marked differences in map numbering. On map no. 12 the numbering of longitude should be reversed, i.e. it should be from east to west 10-30 instead of 30-10.

COLLATION

54.7 x 40.5 cm., 186 p. including 45 maps. Maps and text are numbered, 1-4, 4 bis, 5-16, 16, 17-27, 18, 29-43.

- Typographic title-page as above; verso blank. 2 p.
- Index map (2 p.) with 2 blank pages. 4 p.
- 45 maps (90 p.) and 90 blank pages. 180 p.

NOTES

Almost all of the maps are coloured; they are printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets. The index is identical with the atlas. Maps, 4 bis, 13, 29, 32, 37, 39, 41 and 42 bear text. Delavault is indicated as the editor of text on map no. 4 bis. Two maps, with the same number 16 and the same title "Partie Du Brèsil" are found in the atlas. Apart from representing approximately the same area, the two maps are completely different both in typography and in cartographic content.

[No title-page]

COLLATION

1 v., 49.8 x 34.5 cm.; 150 p. including 34 maps. Neither signatures nor pagination numbers.

NOTES

The folded sheets have maps on their inner openings while their backs are blank. Nos. 15, 21, 26, 27, 32 and 34 are black and white, the rest are coloured. The maps are identical with those in the index, except the last one, which is listed in the index as "Barbary & E. Indies" in contrast to the title of the map which reads "Nigritarum Regnum". The absence of a title-page or dated imprint renders the identification of the atlas very difficult. The most recent date found on the maps is 1669 and so it can be assumed that the atlas was not published prior to that date. According to Tiele, as quoted by Phillips in his title 2830, Joh. Munter was the mayor of Amsterdam between 1670 and 1680. N.M.C. map no. 12 is dedicated to him indicating that the atlas was not published before 1760. N.M.C. map no. 29, "Novi Belgii Novaeque Angliae nec non partis Virginiae tabula multis in locis emendata a Nicolao Joannes Viisschero" is without Philadelphia and Pennsylvania. Again, Asher states, as quoted by Phillips in his title 506, that about "1690 Nicolas Viisscher retouched the old plate of N.J. Viisscher. He has added all the emendations of Montanus and Allardt, and also the city of Philadelphia and the name of the state of Pennsylvania" and changed the title. This sets the most recent date prior to "about 1690". If it is correct that Koeman's Wit 3 was published in or about 1680 and nos. 16 and 18 of his list are identical with the maps that bear the same engraved numbers in N.M.C. atlas, the date of the copy can be set somewhere between "around 1680" and 1690. Furthermore, if it is taken into consideration that, according to Koeman, Viisscher II obtained his "privilegium" in 1682 and that all his maps in N.M.C. copy are without "cum privilegio" it may be concluded that the atlas was published between "around 1680" and 1682.

WIT, FREDERICK DE

[No title-page]

COLLATION

1 v., 53.5 x 34 cm., 70 p., including 17 maps; neither pagination nor signatures.

CONTENTS

- "Index Ofte Aenwysing. [Followed by the listing of the contents] Amstelodami, Apud Fredericum De Wit, in Platea Vitulina vulgo de Kalver-straet, sub signo de Witte Pascaert."; verso blank. 2 p.
- 17 maps (34 p.) and 34 p. of blank leaves. 68 p.

NOTES

All maps are black and white, printed on the inner openings of the folded sheets with blank outer pages. Only one map, no. 14(1688), is dated. The plates are numbered irregularly from 1 to 26; some numbers have been altered, others were written on the map by hand in an obvious attempt to make the numbering of the index and that of the maps identical. Map no. 6 of the index, "Hispania", is missing from the atlas; on the other hand, no. 9 in the atlas, "Totius Fluminis Rheni ...", is not called for in the index. No. 14, "Regni Hungariae ... Novissima Delineatio", is an altered plate. Wit either added the "Cum Privilegio", when it was granted in 1689, to the original map without changing the date, or if the map was published in 1688 he simply substituted his own imprint without changing the title.

Comparison. Koeman, Wit 1. There is an indication in Koeman that by the description of this atlas he refers to the N.M.C. copy. If it is true then it should be noted that his description does not fit completely N.M.C. copy. The main differences are: a.) N.M.C. copy has no title, b.) not all maps are listed in the printed index and c.) the imprint on N.M.C. copy is different.
